

MICROFILMED 1997

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES AND RECORDS MANAGEMENT

DAILY ORANGE

Funding for the filming of the Syracuse Daily Orange is provided by the New York State Program for the Conservation and Preservation of Library Research Materials.

DAILY ORANGE

COPYRIGHT

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, UNITED STATES CODE) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgement, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Archives and Records Managernesit Syracuse University

Title: Daily Orange.Published: Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY.Holdings: Vol. 1, no. 1 (September 15, 1903) - .Continues: Syracuse Daily Orange.Notes: Funding for the microfilming of the Syracuse Daily $<$ Prange is provided by the New York State Program for the Conservation and Preservation of Library Research Materials.Microfilm no. 4854.Location: Syracuse University Archives, Syracuse, NY.

MICROFILMED BY CHALLENGE INDCJSTIREES ITHACA, NY

Film Size: $\quad 35$ mam microfilm Image Placement: IIB Reduction Ratio: 20:1 Date Filming Began: $\dot{j}-6.97$ Camera Operator: 2mbed

The inconsistent assignment of volume, number, and date makes it difficult to accurately collate the Daily Orange and ascertain missing issues, therefore, this title has been filmed as is.

REEL NO. 59

REEL CONTENTS

Vol. 8no. 57 - no. 112

January 15, 1979 - April 19, 1979

JANUARY

Bowled over

Annid the meavy enowriati

 Syracure experierneed during the sempester brenkik worker continued to seler down $71-$ rear-otd Archbold Stedhurn. Demolition it expected to be finished by the end of Mereh.
The Daily Orange  Vol. 8 No. 57 Syracuse. N. Y.

Attorney files suit to block stadium

By Jacqui Salmon A Syracuse lawyor has fled a lawsuit mgainst the Syracuse Planning Cowmission. on behalf of three university area remidents. claiming that- the cornmission acted arbitrarily when it tipproved plans for construction of $s$ domed ntadinm:
Attorney Alexander Fersha anid the tawsuit slaims the commasaion did not consider problemis such as crowding. eraffic. air quality and emergency access to hospitals When it approved the stadium. He said he is asting the New York State Sugreme Court to set aside the commission cul. ing allowing conttraction of the stadipm.

The comimiesion raled Derhat exinting zoning in the that exiating zoning in the charged to accommodate the changed to accommodate the inger etadium on the Ax chbold stadium site.
But the ruling. Hermha anid. has upset many area residentia because they believe the 50,000 -eat stadium will be different from Archbold, which anly had five or eix football game during the year. The new stadium is expected to hold up to 50 events a year when it is completed in 1980.

Commitye to suggest undergrad tuition hike

By Scott Rohrer
As expected. it's going to cont-studenter more money to attend Syracnus University nex flall. The Univergity Senate Cominittee on Budget and Fiscul Afrify-ieprobably going to recommend to the Seriate on-Jan. 24 that undergraduate tuition be raised about 8.6 percent and room and board about 4.5 percent.
Committee chairperson Nahrnin Horwitz and Chancellor Melvin A. Egers refuse to disclose the specific amounts of the proposed increase until after the committee presents its recommendations to the Sennte. But Horwitz said the committee is going to recommend that the increases be the maximum allowed under President Jimmy Carter's wage and price guildelinea.
Under Carter's suidelines, wate increases should not exceed 7 percent and price hikes should be himited to one-half of i percent below the averate annual price increade during 1976 77.

According to thi formula, undergraduate tuition would be about $$ 4,506$ next year, up from $$ 4,150$ this year. Room and board would increace about 4.5 percent. Faculty salaries would creace about 4.5 perc Eggers said itis again necesasary to raise taition because of innation, which is running about 9 percent this yeaz. To maintain operation with increased costs we have to increase revenues," he said. Tuition accounts for about 70 percent of the university's revenues.
Horwitz and Eggers refused to comment on whether they would have been in favor of rais ing tirition more if the guidelines did not rxist. ${ }^{2}$ Althodgh the guidelines are voluntary, we feel it is appropriate to reapect the sresident's feel it is appropriate to reapect the Fresident's guidelines, Horwitz said. Under the wage and price guidelines, SU couid lose gover racts if the guidelines are ignored.
In the budget process, the Senate and the SU administration prenent budget proposals to the executive council of the board of truatees. The board then dexides on the actual budget. Horwity said the Senate committee and the ad ministration are pretty mach in agreement on the budget thit year.
The budget committee is meeting today to finalize its budget recommendations. Lant year the committee was eplit on what to recomment.
Dale Tussing, a member of the budget com mittee and a cupporter last year for bigher faculty salaries, said he is not pleased this year faculty salaries, said he is not plesased this year (Consumer Price index) is now more than 9 (Consuma Price Index) is now more than 9 percent, which we're not happy about becau everyone is falliag further behind," he said.
veryone is falling further behind," he said.
Tuition has elimbed steadily in the past fiv years from $$ 3,030$ in 1974 to $$ 4,150$ in 1978 .

Guide profiles spring courses

By Jacqui Salmon
Taking wild guesses isn't the best way to pick your cournera, but for many students it seems to be the only way
The Time Schedule of Classes provides the cotrae title and meeting time and place of a class. And the course catalog, if you could find one, doeen't add much more information.
Buthis semeater; stosents have a more complete guide. The Senate Committee on Instruc tion has assembled descriptions of most of the 600 courses being taught the apring semester.
Professor Stephen P. Koff, chairperson of the committoe, said the course profiles are deaigned to heip atudents find out more about a course before aigning up for it.

It's our hope that any student can get a better idea of what is going on." he said. The profiles are located at the reference deak of Bird Library and at many college offices. Aside from providing easential information. such as the course title and the professor teaching the course, the profile also lists prere-ausises, whether any papert are required, what kind of testa are given and whether a graduate madstant is teaching the course. The profiles also describe the contents and objectives of the courae and the number of required texts.
For example, A.AS 400 turns ont to be a course in Caribbean Literature. There are no prerequisites, the teste are esay and three papers and a class presentation are required. The courge is being taught in a lecture-discussion students are required to read about 10 to 12 novels.
Mike Connolley, dtudent member of the Senate committee, said the profilee originated becanse of student complaints about the course catalogs, "which cell you virtually nothing about a course.
The Senate passed a recommendation last spring sugtesting some kind of courte description and the Senate committee spent the fiall sementer drawing up a form that professors could fill out. The forms were diatributed by the Senate committee, the Student Atgociation

TAKE A SHOT AT IT

 Apply for editor of The Daily Orange
Submit a letter of intent to Tom Coffey at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St., by 4 p.m. Tuesday Jan. 23.

Good-bye to the Vale of Onondaga.
$\square$

Where the Vale of Opondaga Meets the Eastern $S k y$ Proudly stands our Alma Mater On hilltop high. . . .

We will need a new Alma Mater by 1880. The Vale of Onondaga will soon meet a new management school, a new brick shoebox perSched "on a hilltop high."

The new management school will be construoted on the ridge overlooking Onondaga Valley, next to the Einest L. White College 5 of law.
FThere is a need for new quarters for the overcrowded classes and spestitered offices of the ह management school; but once that building is complete, the Hill, as it y used to be known, will be comFipletely walled in.
${ }^{2}$ It will be another quiet loss that subtly affects the way we feel about the oniversity. But those making the decisions don't deal with subtle physical attributes and accidents that make us feel the way we do about a place. They are proudly pragmatic.

The management achool building is just another in a geries of decisions by the administration that works against the campus.

The gutting of HL, the walling in of the Physics Building and that huge dome that will cast its shadow over everything are monuments to those few making the decisions.

The middle states evaluation report, a few years ago, criticized the administration. A clique of administrators make all the important decisions, it said. And the latest round of construction on campus is physical proof. In the old division ketween those concerned with "dollizers and centa" and those concerried with communtiy and aegthetices, there is never any doubt as to whon has the final say.

As mancla as we have said the campuas belongs to all of us-adminstir ators; faculty and etudentes-the cinder blocks on the Physices Emilding speak-the truth. Before mayone realized, they were tearimg zet, the building. City residerats cain say the ame about how quickiy the domed stadium was rammed through without environmental impact hearings and other niceties of government.

Photo by Joah streldion

It would seem to be an obvious thing to say that single buildinge do not make a compus-just putting a new one up here and there.

It is the interelationship between them that is important how they go together to tell a story.

When the new management. achool goes up, it will crowd out Crouse College-a nationallyregistered hiatoric landmark that is visible all the way across the Valley. The important thing about Crouse, whether you like the architecture or not, is that it is an idea, it has something to say. What will the latest pile of red brick have to say?

In a few years, when the season's first football game is played, students will walk past a valley walled in by hospitals and university buildings to the new stadium. Before the kick-off they will rise to look at the domed ceiling and sing, "Where the Vale of Onondaga. .."

No one will be singing very Loudly.
Hoivard Mansfield for The Deily Orange.

The Global Village
If the world were a global village village's entire income were $$ 1,000$. of 100 people, 70 of them would be each American would have $$ 83.33$; unable to read, and onlyone would all the others would have $5.32) have a college education. More each.
than 50 ,would suffer from malnut. How would the wealthy six live rition, and more than 80 would live "in peace" with their neighbors? in what we call substandard Surely they would be driven to arm housing-If the world were a global village of 100 regidents, six of them would be: Americans. These six would have half of the village's entire income, and the other 94 would exist on-the other half. (If the

 2314

Scheduling goof

By Kevin Haynes

So, you returned to Syracuse University yesterday because the desk calendar you bought at the bookstore indicated registration begins today. If you're an undergraduate atudent, you also got a brochure last summer from the Parents Office that said the same thing. There's only one problem.

Registration starts tomorrow.
Carole A. Barone, university registrar, said the mistake was the reault of a revision made about one year ago in the academic calendar. Barone explained the original registration dates were part of SU's fiveyear calendar, which was established in 1975. However, last year the university decided to push back the registration period and set aside one day today - for atudents preparing to settle back into the today - for atud
Yet, this change was made after some items - like the bookstore calendar and the Parents Office brochure - were sent out to print. Although the error might inconvenience and surprise a few unsuspecting SU students, Joan Zifchock, assistant to the director of the Parents Office, said the long lapse of time since the mistake was made shouldn't cause too much of a problem. Zifchock said listing the incorrect dates at a later time last semester "would have been worse than listing them wrong early."

Barone said all university material printed since the official calendar, including the Time Schedule of Classes for this semester, list the correct registration Classes for this semester, ist the correct registration days.
"Everything sent out since then indicates regis"Everything sent out since then indicates regi

So if you were deceived by one of the erroneous listings and came back a day early because of it, look at the bright side: classes now start a day later, on Thursday.

Registration info

By Kevin Haynes

Registration for spring zemester courses will be tomorrow for seniors and sophomores and Wednesday for juniors and freshmen in Archbold Gymmasium:
Students who need to meet with their academic ad viser should do so today.
All students must register even if they preregistered with their school or college in the fall.

Before entering the gym to register, students must pick up their registration packets at their primary schools or collegea and have their DOS cards approved and signed by their adviserf. Students who have not completed all financial arrangements with Syracuse University should go to the Bursars Office in the Women's Building where they can gettle theis in the women's Buiding where they accounts and pick up their packets.
Food Service will have a temporar
Food Service will have a temporary office set up in the main lobby of the William B. Heroy Geology Laboratory tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Wednesiday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The parking office will be in Slocum Hall and will be open both days of registration.

Some department tables will be relocated in the gym, but the most noticeable change will be the split in the English department. Cards for all freshmen English courses will be available in the northeast corner of the gym, while all other undergraduate course cards will be distributed from the familiar location in the northwestern corner.
Anyone who misses both registration days will have to pay a $$ 30$ service fee for late registration, which also begins on Thursday.
Complete registration information can be found in the Time Schedule of Classes, which is available in college and school offices.

Jab faces cutbacks

By Thomas Coffey

 Jabberwocky, the student-run nightclub at 311Waverly Ave, appears to be lowing more ground in its battle to etay open.

Jab lost approximately $$ 10,000$ last semester, said Ulysees J. Connor, director of the Office of Student Activities. Connor said Jab is supposed to be a break. even operation.
In order to reduce Jab's losses, the student activities office wants to close Jab on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and possibly on Thursday nights. Jab will remain open Friday and Saturday nights. Steven K. Gauly, associate director of atudent activities, said the cutbacks are necessary because "nobody cames in."
However, Gauly said the cutbacks are not final until Jab manager Deairee Day makes a final decision.

Day was ont of town and could not be reached for comment

Both Connor and Gauly expressed reservations about Jab's future: "I don't know how attractive Jab is to students any more." Connor saij. "Times have changed." Jab opened eight years agoand has had a reputation of a gathering place for the counterculture.

Gauly said Friday's Happy Hour is Jab's most popular time. "Almost half the business comes during that Friday Happy Hour," he said. Happy Hour's popularity has doubled during the past two years, he added.

Connor and Gauly said Jab is going to be made available to student groups for private parties-
Some students have criticized the Office of Student Aotivities for cutting back Jab'shours, but not reducing the Student Center's hours. However, Connor said he expects the Student Center to break even by the end of the academic year.

WE NEED YOUR USED BOOKS

AND WE ARE PAYING CASH

* FASTER SERVICE  * NO LONG LINES

Bring in all your books  Tomorrow thru Friday for Top Dollars.

SU chooses stadium officials

Syracuse University named a managing director and hired a construetion manager last month for its new stadium.
Thomas $F$. Benzel, former SU director of stúdent data svstems. was named managing director of the stadium inge. 14 by Chancellor Melvin $A_{\text {a }}$ Egerw. Benzel will be rewA. Engers. benzel booking all ponsible for booking all stadium events and will be ex;stadium events and will be exprected to schedule enough ateractions to meet theoperating tractions to meet theoperating cost of the stadium. The coset of the stadium. The university hopes to book about 55 preaentations a year, such as concerts, irade shows. conventions and SU sports

cames.

Benzel will report directly to Clifford L. Winters Jr., vice chancellor for administrative operations. An advisory group of six other SU administrators will work with Benzel, Winters naid. They are Carol H. Heagerty, vice president for inatitutional services; Joseph institutional services; Joseph public affairs: Harvey H . public affairs: Harvey H. facilities administration: Melvin C. Mounts. vice president for student affairs: comptroller Louis G. Marcoccia and athletic director John Crouthamel.

SU also signed contracts Dec. 14 with a construction manager, Huber, Hunt and Nichols Inc. the Urban Development Corp., and the New York office of Parks and Recreation.
The construction manager is responsible for hiring subcontractors to build the 50,000 contractors to build the 50,0 the seat stadrum and keeping the cost within $$ 26.850 .000$. cost Within $$ 26.850,000$.
Huber. Hunt and Nichols, of Huber. Hunt and Nichols, of Indianapolig. Ind. have comIndianapolis. Ind. have completed projects such as the iouisiana Superdome in New Orieans and football stadiums for the University of Kentuciky and Indiana University.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

Open House January 15 16, 1979 9 A.M.-5 P.M.   Free Coffee   Free Coffee and Donuts

 and Donuts}121

Graduate Student Organization Tilden Cottage 103 College Place

Dale chooses SA VPs

Student Aseociation President-elect Jordan Dale has selected his choices for the four. SA vice presidencies. which must be approved by the assembly before the vice assembly before the vice pre

Sophomore Dan Keefe, wan selected as vice president for academic. affaim; iunior Dave

LSAT/GMAT  Test for a Lifetime Be Prepared  John Sexton'e LsAT AGMAT Coursea

Impr mat simintit - Tomen matruction by o enpatior facuity.

- Prestico event:

Cournention

E Entreminiall itumy motoriads

- Exave Haty numione

How informition ewt

Cleary was selected for ad. ministrative operations; sophomore Larry Beer was selected for univer: Fity/community relations; and chosen for student programs. nosen for atudent programak.
Dale said 16 persons applied for the positions. "It was not an easy selection process," he anid.

> If your ' picture ain't in the yearbook, your Mama's gonna kick your butt.

Buti you can save pour thide. An of inghe
now. thave ha no wivior portrall of rou daing
 SANOM SNodet hor Your EMERGENCT antome.

Call $422-9228$ For your EMERGENCY SENIOR PORTRAIT.

Welcome Bachl

Party at PI Kappa Alpha

Tues. Nite 8:30 p.m. 'till?

405 Comstock
(Across from Haven)

Beer, Punch for everyone!

PREPARE FOR

MCAT•DAT

Small Classes - Voluminous Home Study Makerials Permanent Centers Open Days, Evenings & Weakends Complete Tape Facilities for Review of Class Lessons and Study of Supplernentary Materials InterBranch Transfers Low Hourly Cost

> Stanleyt
> EDUCATIONAL
> CENTER. LTD

Liverpool, N.Y. 13088 315-461-2970

Classes Beginning in February Enroll Now!

Visit our centers and see for yourself why we make the difference AND HOURS

 William Slivers

He taught coursea in design and helped to organize a prearchitecture course for precollege students, taught at SU the summer of 1977.
He worked-for MacKnightKrimmse Architects from 1967 to 1978 and then left in September to start his own firm, Slivera Associates Architects.
He was in a plane owned by the Northeast Cellulose Corp., the Northeast Cellulose Corp., for whom he was

He is survived by his'wife.

Alice, a daughter. Jennifer: and a acn, Witiam Adam.
Contributions can be made to the William J. Sliverg Architectural Scholarehip Fund at SU.

A memorial service will be held Friday for English profesheld Friay. or Englush profesmor Donald A. Dike.
Dike, 58 , was a member of the SU faculty since.1946. He taight 19th and 20th century literature, literary criticism and fiction writing. He also es tablished the Engliah department's graduate program in creative writing in 1972 and directed the program until 1975.
He is survived by his wife. novelist Sally Daniels, who is a lecturer in the English Department, and two children, Sarah and Gregor.
Among Dike's stadents was novelist Joyce Carol Oates, who graduated from SU in Who graduated from SU in Shuddering Fall,' is dedicated Shuddering Fall,' is dedicated to Dike. Theme held at $4: 30$ p.m. in Heñdricks held at 4

So you wanna be an RA?

Yes, you too can-become a resident adviger.

Simply attend one of the four information seasions, complete the application packet plete the application packet, retura it to the Ofrice of return it to the Ofnce of Residential Life and find out if Residential Life and find out if you are an RA kind of pergon. you are an RA kind of person.
You have nothing to loseand the gala experience of your college career to gain. Just thintiof the satisfaction you'll get when your floor stops having live bluegrass sessions at 4 a.m.; discover the joy of brealking up a fight between a drunken defensive lineman

GO  SOMEPLACE ABROAD THMS SUMMER

FLEXIBLE PROGRAMS
and a petite soccer player. And much, much more!

To get in on the fun youmust attend one of the following information sessions: tomorrow in the Flint Hall atudy lounge; Wednesday in the Shaw maltifunction room and at Skybarn Thursday in the Boland Hall lounge; and Truesday, Jan. 23. in the Haven Hall, main lounge. You maust atterad one of these meetings if you intend to apply. All ueasions start at 7 p.m.
"What does being an RA really mean?" It means you're a full-time student who acts as an adviser to individuals and student groups. You'll also asgist in the management of the siat in the manggement of the you live. Of course, there's you ive. Or course, theres some responsibility attached to the position. For example, you'll have a hand in programing activities, maintainence, security problems. ad: ministrative duties and developing a sense of community.
"Okay, sure, but what's in it for me?'
Good question.
In return for your 20 hours of work cach week you'll get free room and board. ORL will also pay part of your telephone bill. Hard to believe? It shouldn't be. Just go to one of the rour sessions for moreinformation, fill out the forms and the title of RA' could soon be yours.
All applications are due Wednesday, Feb, 7 at ORL, 202 Steele Hall.

For more information, contact Paula Kosin. coordinator of student and staff programe, At 423-3637.

SMRACUSE UNTVERSITRY

offers travel and study opportunitiés in 21 summer programs abroad.

LONDON:

Shakespeare, Filmmaking. History of Costume, Masterpieces of the Visual Arts, Studio Art, Visual Communications, Photography. Law, Transportation & Distribution Management.

FLORENCE:

Architecture. Studio Art & Synaesthetic Ed.. Humanism Bk the Arts in Renaissance tialy. Psychotogy.

VIENNA:

Architecture, Music., German Language. Culture & History.
AMSTERDAM:
Biology. Law & Public Policy.

YUGOSLAVLA:

Organization & Management in a Worker-Owned Economy.

EAST AFRICA:

History & Evolution of the Kenyan Nation.

GREECE:

Classical Geology

 Ave. Syracuse, W.Y-13210, tet (315) 423-3471.

'Old-time' reappears at SU - but quietly

By Walecia Konrad It isn't a revolution, but rather a gradual awakening. Students have slowly become more interested in spiritual activities on campus. And while Syracuse University students are following a national trend loward more participation in ipstitutional religion, this explang rejection.
"There's a gamut of 100 reasons why people come to church," said John H. McCombe, dean of Hendricks Chapel. "Students are finding ways to re-examine their religious vaiues. It'sno longer quite as chic to pass religion off asi it used to be."

During the Vietnam conflict protests, students also severely criticized and denounced the church. Attendance at worship and other piritual activities decreased drastically in the early 70s at SU, McCombe said.
Now religion is undergoing a rediscovery in contemporary forms, McCombe said. He explained there has only been a skight increase in worship attendance but activities suck as speeches and diacusaion groups on religious topics has risen significantly. McCombe stressed that this rediscovery has taken place very gradually. Jean Baum, director of Community Howse also feels, "a rumble of religious interest" She said more students probably want to become involved in various activities but they don't know where to atart because "religion has been unpopular for so long."

Comimunity house, 71.1 Comstock Ave., is a center for interreligious understanding, Wirich sponsors meetings after lumines and other activities.

Baum said institutional religion came underfire during the war because like. all institutions, students believed the church wasin't helping enough in the world. However, students did use. Hendricks Chapel as a meeting place to discuss anti-war issues, Baum eizplained.

The police chief said ifHendricks Chapel weren't open the campus would have beenmore violent than it was during that time:" Baum said.

After the war, students started adopting an attitude of professionalism, McCombe paid. They feel no inmate love for America, yet they don't totally reject the system either. McCombe said the lack of patriotism partially explains why students are turning to religion.

"We're in the middle of a 'me" generation," Baum.said, "and I don't think that's enough for students. That's why they're becoming interested in spiritual things."
McCombe also said students are searching for a, sense of community through religious activities.
Reverend Monsignor Charles L. Borgognoni explained the increase stems from people's fear of science and advanced technology.
"People have to see more to life; they're wary of science. We're worried if we're desWere worried if werre destroying ourselves," troying out orgognoni said.
Borgor

Not all religious groups, however, have noticed a rise in attendance. Rabbi Milton Elefant said he did not see any. "great turn towards religion on campus."
Elefant explained that Hillel membership slightly fluctuates year to year probably because of student leadership or the Jewish student population.

WHEN THE MUNCHIES STRIKE HIT THE GOOD FOOD STORE

for

Snacks that taste like nature meant them to tastel

Nor-Profiz prices on:

- Dried Fruits Pure Fruit Juices - Nuts Yogurt
- Cookieat Peanut Butter. - Herb Teas Natural Cheesa
- Honey Ice Gream & More

THEGOOD FOOD STORE SELLS FLAVOR, NOT CHEMICALS

The Daily Orange

Out there in the Attantic Ocean on a sunshime beach there's going to be an outbreak of revelry this vacation oreak. And after the sun goes down... Wel, You know the hope it won't be a full moon.
Because from Jan. 13 through Aprij 21 we're opening Nassau and Paradse isiand to a wave of American col lege studants. We have reason to believe that wave may $$ 269$ including alr fare and 7 nights hotel.
So there it is, young America. We guarantae you the best of dancing on the beach, water sports and a roaring party. Beyond that, you're invited to improvise. And since your talent for good timing is legendary, we've made preparations for you. We're going to be ready.
With open arms.

NASSAU&PARADISE ISLAND.

 BAHAMAS COLLEGE WEEK.
FATCATS NEED NOT APPLY

The S.U. Community Internship Program can help you by providing solid professional experience in your chosen field.
If you're undecided about a career, why not get a glimpse of what to expect in one or two areas that might interest you? Use your elective credit selectivelycomplement your course work with practical experience. We're taking applications now for Spring semester:

Call 423-4261 or 4271. or stop by our office f at 787 Ostrom Ave.

S:U. Community Internship Program

A&S screens dean applicants

Community Darkrooms

SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . $$ 45$ includes
All chemicals and equipment for b/w processing and printing plus color slide development.

Darkrooms Open

Friday, January 19th

ROBERT FLICK EXHIBITION
Cah or-stop by for a friendly wisit - Open Evarnday 316 Waverly Ave.. Syracuep; M.Y. 315-423-2450

More than 100 applicants for the position of dean of the College of Arts and Science have gone through preliminary screening by the college's search committee.
The 13 -member committee, made up of faculty and ing to look for a new A&S dean ing to Deak for annew A&s Gean rich resigned to become rich resigned to become provost of Gniversity. Gershon Vincow, vice president for research and graduate affairs, is acting dean of A&S for 1978-79.

The committee is now beginning a second screening to narrow down the number of applicants to 10 or 15 people, according to Professor Sidney Thomas, committee chairperson. From that group, at least three people will be invited to Syracuse University in late February or early March for interviews. and meetings with

A&S faculty, students and administrators.
In late March, the name of one nominee will be submitted. for approval at a meeting of . the A&S faculty; Thomas said. To be recommended for ap:. pointment, a candidate needs. approval by at least 60 percent: of those at the meeting.
If the candidate is approved, the faculty would then recommend appointroent of the candidate to John J. Prucha, vice chancellor for academic affairs, who has: basic responsibility for the appointruent. Final approval must then come from SU's affirmative action office and the board of trustees.

Faculty looks

at bargaining

 question againCards that ask the Syracuse University faculty whether it Wants to be represented by the American Association of University Profesisors are expected to be mailed early this week, said Professor A. Dale Tussing, SU AAUP chapter president.

If 30 percent of the 821 SU faculty members indicate on the cards that they want to be represented by the AAUP in collective bargaining. the AAUP Would ask the National Labor Relations Board to conduct an election.

Faculty Assembly delegates voted last month to distribute the cards. The assembly is the legislative branch of the SU AAUP chapter.

Tussing said the cards and the AAUP platform will be mailed to all SG. faculty members at their homes.

This is the second time such a vote has been taken at $$ U$. In 1973, the faculty voted 362 to 324 against making the AAUP its negotiator. At the. same its negotiator. At the, same time the faculty of the College of Law chose the College of of Law choge the College of bargaining agent. and sample problems. J Just key-in the program you need and you can put it to work right away. TI-58, onl $$ 125.00^{\circ}$.
Get a 510,00 rebate when you buy a T1-59.
Extra savings on the most adyanced handheld programmable calculator ever made. Up to 960 program steps or up to 100 data memories. You can store the Texas Instruments technology-bringing affordable electronics to your fingertips.

TEXAS INSTRUMENTS
 4562 programs yod write on handy magnetic cards. Additional ready-to-use programs are available through Ti's Professional Program. Exchange (PPX-59). TI-59.
$$ 30000^{-}$ $$ 300.00^{\circ}$

The Ti-58 and 59 are versatile. computer-like tools specifically designed for solving complex problens. They can get you into programming quickly and easily find the solutions. Both feature Solid State Software ${ }^{\text {IW }}$ libraries with plug-in modutes containing up to 5000 steps of prewritten programs. The Master Library is steps of prewritten programs. The Master Library is 25 programs in key areas. Twelve optional libraries are avaitable.
See the Ti-58 and 59 at your dealer today and take advantage of one of these limited time ofters.

-U.S. supgested retan pros
ISpecuaty Paketés co not include pliur in modules or magnetic cards.

TI Programimable 59

Mam

CHARGE IT:
SU BOOKSTORE CHARCE HASTEACHARGE visa.

REGULAR STORE HOURS: MON-FRI 9:00-5:30 SAT 10:00-5:30

Hendricks project receives donation

By Kevin HIaymes
E.. Jances Strates, president of tive James E. Strates Shows carraival. which has appeared at the New York State Fair for more than 30 yeari. apparentiy believes there's more to life than fun and games.

The Rey. John KI. McCombe, dean of Syracuse University's Hendriclss Chapel, announced last Wednesday- that Strates had donated nearly $$ 30,000$ for the chapel's renovation.

McCombe said he was "gratefal" for the gift and said the donation by Strates was important in aidingthe divine work of the chapel, as well as Work of the chaper, as its phyaical renovation.

Strates, a 1954 SU graduate whose, carmival has been featured at county and state faire throughout the East. made the donation in memory of his parents. His father, James E: Stratew, started the family's carnival tradition 61 years ago when he and mfriend staged a traveling - sports abow.
The gift will be used to buy furniture for the Noble Room, the chapel's popular gathering spot for the Sy community and gueste. Refurbishing the room is the first step in the es timated $$ 395,800$ renovation which McCombe daid would be completed by August 1980 . in time for the chapel's inbilee celebration.
The chapel renovation will include structural repairs. repainting and electrical work, as well as repairs to the heating and ventilation systems and organ, restored and refuriahed pews, new lighting and the inatallation of a seat elevator for the handicapped. Approximately $$ 6,000$ had been raised for the renovation by the end of last semester.

Forestry faculty votes to keep same union

By Jacqui Salmon
Faculty and professional ptaff of the State University of New York College of Environmental Seience and Foreatry were among 11,315 SUNY employees who voted last month to stay with the union now representing them.

United University Professional (UUP). currently representing the SUNY staff representing collective bargaining. teceived 6,067 - or 53 percent -of the votes cast The New York Teachers Association. which wanted to take over representation of the emplpixien. Eathered 4,092- or 36 percent - of the vote. Ten percent - or 1,156 - voted for abandonment of any union representation.
In order to win, one of the uniona had to receive 50 percent of the vote. About percent of the vote. About 16,200 SUNY cmployees were 16,200 SUNY eligible to vote.
The elgction came about because the NYEA, anaffiliate of the National Education Asoociation, autccessfully petitioned for bargaining rights this summer. This meant that 30 -percent of SUNY's UUP members signed petitions calling for an election.
James Mathews, area Eield representative for the UUP/NYSUT, said he is pleased with the resulta of the election in spite of the narrow margin. "It's very difficult to get 50 percent plus one when you have threa choices on the ballot - so from that point of view it was a manashing victory" he said.
Thomas F. Reagan, president of the forestry school's UUP chapter, said it ig impossible to tell how staff at the foreitry school voted because there was no school-by-gchool breakdown of the results. He said more than 60 percent of the 192 faculty and professional staff at ESF are UUP members.

University VP resigns

Joseph A. Tatusko, vice mankagement, has resigned from Syracuae Iniversity, effective Feb. 1, to retorn'to a private public acoounting practice. Tatuako's res ponsibilities will be allocated to other vice presidente, said Clifford L. Winters Jr., vice chancellor for administrative operations.
An SU employe since October 1972. Tatuako will remain in. Syracuse and will open a publicaccounting office in Presidential Plaza.

Tatuako's resignation swill result in the elimination of his position.

SHNE THO ONF OF TRE MOST COMDLEE SFIVKIKS IN
GENESEE 1 HR. DRY CLEANERS & LAUNDRY

THE HEREW CTVESTTY of ferasailem 7978/79 PROGRANS FOR AMERICAN STUDENTS Courses twught in both Finbrew ond Enyfint.
 BA and B.Sc degress.
 Crumbet programs.
Culsumate Cobleses-piven in English

- PLEAGE CTECX OESIRED PROORAM

For Apoliceation and Intomation, wite:
Office of Acidemic Aftatr,
Otfice of Acridemic Attals

TRADIIONS COMMISSION PRESENTS

THE  FRESHMAN PARTY!!

WHEN: FRIDAY JAN. 19 9:00-? WHERE: DRUMLINS COUNTRY CLUB WHY: WHY NOT?

BEER AND LIQUOR WILL ABOUND

YOU NAME IT WEVE GOT IT

FREE BUSES EVERY 20 MINUTES FROM - Sadler

- Watson Theatre
- Brewster/Boland
- Sims

Comennued from pege one At least some people feel it is a very significant problern Hersha said. "It's almost as if we're building it first and planning it later."
The three plaintiffs are $N$. Richard Shepard of Cometock Avenue, Sharon Bleb of vicAvenue, Sharon Blace and Christine Rickett of Bristol Place. But Hersha claimed they represent Hersha claimed they represe
"There are hundreds. These are just three people of many," he said.

Clifford L. Winters Jr., vice chancellor for administrative operations called the action a nuisance auit.
"It's-I don't think-a auit with any merit," he said. "You always get some people who want to get their names in the paper."
He said the lawsuit will not stop progress on the new stadium. Demolition of Archbold began Dec. 8 and is expected to be completed by March 31. Conetruction of the new stadium is expected to begin when the ground thaws.

Richard Wiles, chairperson of the City Planning Com mission, refused comment on the lawsuit saying he was served with the papers late Friday and has not had time to look at them.
Hersha said the basic argument in the lawsuit is that the commission gave no consideration to the impact of the project on the entire area.
"I can't aay they (the plaintiffs) are upset with the university," he gaid, adding that his clients believe the commission "pushed" through approval of the project, perhaps because it was an election year.

He said the lawsuit is the firgt phase of an attack challenging the stadium's construction. The second phase would challenge the Urphase Development Corp.'s decision that the stadium did decision that the stadium did impact statement or public impact st
The UDC is the state agency administering the $$ 15$ million in state funds $S U$ received for the stadium.
The State Supreme Court will hear arguments on the case Feb. 27.
The lawsuit reflects some of the concerns that many area residents have been voicing the last month. Many have said they felt left out of the whole project. They maintain that a 50,000 -seat stadium holding as many as 50 eveñtsa year would lead to parking problems, crowding and a lack of emergency access to the three area hospitals.
The 600 -member Southeast University Neighborhood AsSociation met last month with sociation met last month with Joseph J. Julian, su vice par-press its concerns. As a result two members of the at sociation are now on thd special task force that is developing a traffic-flow plan for the area.
Bui Judy McMullen, president of the association, said the -lawsuit has - "abs solutely nothing" to do with her organization
"I have no idea who these people are," she said.
She said her organization voted not to take legal action against the planning commission because it felt that would take away from its work with the task force.
The task force, formed by the University Hill Corp., includes representatives from area hospitals, government agencies involved in the project and the planining commission.
Michael Quigley, vic president of the corporation said the task force is working with a traffic consultant to develop a plan for mass transit, parking and emergency sit, parking and emergency access for the area. He said the group has had an organizational meeting and plan"developed in six months.

Bookstore will get advisory council

A bookstore advisory council will be established next month, said Carol H. Heagerty, vice president for nstitutional services.
"The chancellor asked me to provide recommendations for names sometime in February," Heagerty said.
"So far, I've taken minimal action," she said. "I'm seeking action," she said. I'm seeking advice from. people in the university community.
The formation of a council to advise the bookstore was an outgrowth of April's bookstore boycott by Syracuse University students. Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers agreed to establish the council at the University Senate Open Forum in October.
Bookstore Director Diann Straus said she has no objecStraus said she has no objec tion to the council. "I don't know what the parameters of the committee will be," she said. "Hopefully, it will be a sensible, reasonable coym mittee with a well-defined area of concern."
Heagerty said she was confident the council will be successful. "I have no reason to think otherwise," she said:

$\star$ Course profiles

Continued from page one Assembly and through the Registrar's Office late last spring.
Koff said reaction from the faculty had been "very positive," and that he hopes the course profiles will be completed each semester.
He also hopes the profiles will cut down on the number of drop-adds because students will know more about a course before they register. Koff said he expects the profiles to help students who want to take courbes in a college outside their own.
"This should helpget people in the right courses," Koffsiad.

SEMORS E

CRIDMTSIDENTS A new Graduate Profile Center has been estublished to provide a esiublished to provide a
PROF/LE SCANN/NG PROF/LE SCANNING
SYSTEA IOr com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter - Your profile into the System and expand your carear opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.

Address

Cit
$2 i p$
Mail to:
Grodurite Profile Canter
c/o O'Brien 8 O'Brien
Buffilo. M.Y., 14221

General Admission Tickets on sale soon

Tickets: 6:50 in advance, $\mathbf{$ 7 . 5 0}$ day of show Available at: Discount Records - Syracuse, Williard Straight Hall - Cornell.

<table id="tabular" data-type="subtable">
<tbody>
<tr style="border-top: none !important; border-bottom: none !important;">
<td style="text-align: left; border-left: none !important; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">321</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">HARMON, RICK</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: double !important; border-right-width: 3px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom: none !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; " class="_empty"></td>
</tr>
<tr style="border-top: none !important; border-bottom: none !important;">
<td style="text-align: left; border-left: none !important; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">RAYTON, RON</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">0</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">1</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">2</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">2</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">1</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">1</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: double !important; border-right-width: 3px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">2</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">0</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">0</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">0</td>
<td style="text-align: left; border-right-style: solid !important; border-right-width: 1px !important; border-bottom-style: solid !important; border-bottom-width: 1px !important; border-top: none !important; width: auto; vertical-align: middle; ">0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
<table-markdown style="display: none">| 321 | HARMON, RICK |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| RAYTON, RON | 0 | 1 | 2 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |</table-markdown>

The bone of consention tor tha frostumen wee playing time, or the leck of it it emme to ahend tifier the iminois Stwet geme fobeve) when Hammon and Peyton combhed tof eeven mintite of piay mad Gooding did not pley mi mill.

Syracuse's missing freshmen highlight a hectic vacation

67-43.- But Syracuse then pressed and Kentucky crumbled, the Orangemen outscoring the Wildcats $38-18$ to draw within four with two minutes to play. However, a threepoint play by Lavon Williams ended the SU rally and Kentucky held on to win 94-87.
"We'll benefit more than get hurt by losing these two games," asid guard Marty Headd, whose 21 pointa against Kentucky erased the memories of a dis' mal performance againat Illinois. Dale Shackleford, another tanderachiever againat the Illini, led $S U$ with 24 points against Kentucky while Louis Orr added 16, the same total he had as the leading scorer against Dlinois.
The Kentucky tournament was such a close thing," Syrracuge coach undefeated but we nearly beat them. If we had I feel sure we would have won the tournament and then we'd be No. 1 the tournament and then we or 2 in the country right now.
But that honor belonged to Illinois, which beat Texás A & M $71-57$ to take the title. The Ilini put three men on the all-tournament team, Syracuse no one. Déc. 29 - Manley, sweet Manley-or so it seemed.
Illinois State, an NIT team last season and 7-1 in 1978, played well thronghout against Syracuae, trailing by one point at halfime and by only two at 60.58 with 10 minater to play in the game. However, Shackieford then hotyred a 12 -4 rally to give Syracuse a 10 point lead which SU was able to nurse point lad which Shackleford 'finished, with 22 points- 18 in the second half-while Orr added 19 and Headd 10 . But after not who did.
Immediately after entering the locker room the three freshmen on the Syracuse roster-Rich Harmon, Ron Payton and Ed Gooding-got into a 15minute conference with Boeheim to air their grievances.
"We all had our different thoughts," Cooding said later of the meeting, when asked if the three all had the wame complaints. "For wne the main thing was to know now (about his playing time) so I wouldn't have to sit outall of next year. I told Coach Boeheim Saturday that I was leaving and I"r planning to talk to Coach (Jim) Valvano (of Iora) as soon as I can."
For Gooding, a 6 -foot-7 forward from New York City, playing tirae, or the lack of it, was clearly the issue. During Syracuac's first nine games Gooding Syracuaces first mine games Grooding played in only three, snd scored only nine points. When he returned the next nime points. When he returned the next day with the other freshmen to confer further with Boeheim, he him the idea to transfer.
"I started thinking about it (transferring) almost a month ago"'Gooding said later. "I have no hard feelinga: the hardest thing is having to sit out a year."

Payton also felt he bpent too much time on the bench. Harmon, who had started two games at forward for SU because of Louis Orr's injury, wanted to play guard, his position in high school.

During Saturday's imeeting the freshmen further aired their gxipes to the coaches, but came to no agreement. Dissatiafied and disillusioned, they decided to go home, with the permission of the coaching staff.
"What people don't realize a bout this Mitastion," Boeheim maid later, "is that the freahmen were 85 or 90 percent certhe freshmen were 85 or 90 percent certain they were leaving gchool. You don't pack up all your belonginge and take them along if you're plamning to come back. After two days of talking we were able to get them down to where We were able to get them down to where they were 50 percent gure they were gothey were 50 percent.
ing to leave school."
"I think it's unfortunate because the freshmen had been picking it up the last few practices," Shackleford said. "And when conch told us what happened Monday he said he had been planning to give them more time because of the way they were producing in practice. I guess they just weren't patient enough.

Jan. 2 - Harmon and Payton retarned to New Jersey, Harmon to Wildwood and Payton to Tremton, to decide about their futures at SU .
"I just talked about many of the things I felt unpure of with my parents and everything eventually worked out all right," Payton said. "It was pretty much a communications gap between coach and myself-1 shouldn't say 'myself.' I should say all three of the freshmen."
"T'd Eay that was pretty much it," Harmon agreed. "Coach told us certain thinge and I guess we just took them thinge and 1 guess we just took them the wrong way. I taiked itover with my parents, Boo (basketball camp director Boo Pergament) and my uncle John and we came to a decision.
Which was to return to Syracuse.
"We've talked to them today and as far as we know, they're coming back," Bocheim said at that time. The great escape was almost over. "They won't be punished because of the extenuating circumbtances. We said they. could go home."
Yet there was one more twist to the story. The two players were expected to meet the team in Ithaca the next night where SU was scheduled to play Cornell.
They never showed up.
Jan. 3.- Syracuse took nine playera through the snow to play improved Cornell. The small squad was little help to Correll coach Ben Bluitt, who saw Bouie score 20 points to lead a 78 52 win.
"Actaally, the absence of the freshmen hurt ta because all hine of their people were experienced," Bluitt said. These nine provide exceptional competition.'
Yet the prospect of trying to finish the season with only nine players was enough to start Boeheim on a search for new talent.

I don't know," he mused after the Cornell win. "Maybe next gatme Ill bring my meakers. And there's a girl at SU, Martha Mogiah, whe could help

Jan. 4 - "Eight o'clock. that's the first time I saw them," Boeheim said. them that we were glad to have them back."
And with that the freshmen returned. The concern of whether they would be aocepted by their teammates was also solved as they were greeted by the other Syracuse players with handshakes.
"I hope people didn"t misunderatand what we did," Payton said. "I enjoyed the school, the people here have been great to me. It'a just that the only thing that wan bothering us was that basket ball wasn't going right.

You have to feel a bit skeptical com ing back." Harmon said. "But I'm sure things will be different now. I just hope they will be."

Jan. 6 - The freshmen gituation slowly dissolved into the background as Syracuse faced a Pitt team which had upset SU a year ago. This seapon, however, SU ubed an aggressive man toman defense to rout the Panthers 100-74.
"They kicked our butta good," was the impression of Pitt coach Tim Grgurich as SU shut down every Panther except Sam Clancy, who had 21 points.

Orr led Syracuse with 18 pointa and Bouie added 14 as the Orangemen in creased their record to 9-2.

Jan. 8. - And to 10-2 two nights later againat a decent (8-4) American University team. Syracuse opened up a 56-33 halftime lead and was never threatened afterward, winning 103-73. Although Bovie led SU with 17 points, the real atar was guard Eddie Moss. Moss, a starter aince the Cornell game. was spectacular leading the SU fast break, stealing the ball four times and handing out 10 assista.

Jan. 10 - ${ }^{\text {SThat." Boeheirn declared }}$ after SU had beaten Penn State 85-70, was not basketball
The Nittany Liona dueled with Syracuse with bruibing man-to-man defenses, but the Orangemen were quicker on the draw. Three Lion starters fouled out and another-Jim Solic-was ejected for a classic Matt Millen-type tackle of a driving Mark Cubit. Both coaches also got called for technical fouls.

Bouie again led Syracuse with 20 points in the wild game, a fitting end to the wild Christmas break.

Wrestiers improve to 10-3

The Syracuse wresting team defeated Wilkes 27 . 15 and Boston University $31-6$ Saturday aftermoon at Manley Field House to munits seagon's record to 10-3. Gene Mills, the nation's No. 1 118-pound Wrestler, remained undefeated for the season, pinning Billy Dodge of Wilkes and outpointing Cary Abbot of BU.

In another key match. Syracuse's Tim Catalfo avenged a 1978 loss which knocked him out of the NCAA tournament. The 142 -pound Catalfo pinned previously undefeated Casper Tortella of Wilkes to run his record to $10-3$ for the season

Syracuse split its two most important matehes Over the Christriss break, defeating defending Eagtern Champion Frinceton (SU was second) and dropping a clase 23.16 decision to 10 th-ranked Louisiana State University at Manley. SU travels to Ithaca tomorrow to meet Cornell.

Men, women swimmers win

Both the men's and women's swim teams were winners Saturday at the Orange Pool over teams from St. John's. The men (now 2-3) used a win in the final event of the day, the 400 -yard relay, to down the Redmen 62-51. Ed Lalor anchored the winning relay leam to victory as well as winning winning relay team to victory as well as winning individual honore in the Liz Vilbert won three evente to lead the 3-1 Orangewomen over their St. John's counterparts. Robin Bintler and Patay Klotz added double vic torien for Syracing.

Syracutp; 142 -pound wreatior Tim Catalto (bot tom) was able to eot off the met Saturday and pin his fong time edvernery. Cexper Tortelle of Wrikes.

Monk. Matthews victorious

SU halfback Art Monk and Eddie Matthews were the only winners for SU Saturday in Ithaca, N.Y. during the Cornell Invitational track tournatpent. Monk won the 60 -yard high hurdle event while Matthews was victorious in the 400 -yard run. No team totals were kept in the meet.

Student tickets

Students with athletic activity cards must pick up their tickets today to Wednesday's home baskethall game against Siena. Ticket windows at both Manley Field House and Archbold Gym will be.open today from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Those transfor b/ues

The transfer of Syracuse's Ed Gooding and the near-transfer of his teammates Rick Harmon and Ron Payton could still have a merious effect
"Losing three freshmen like we could have, could have been a very damaging thing to the program," said SU conach Jim Boeheim. "I don't think it will, because it hasn't changed to way our recruits look at the program."
Yet despite the optimism of Boeheim, it is likely that at least for a while prospectiveSU players will take the attitude of 6 foot 9 "blue chip" prospect Sidney Green of Brooklyn, N.Y, who was watching Satarday's UConn game. He said he hadn't narrowed his choice of achools down to just a few, but rowed his choice or schools down to just a few, but adred, sonth carolina is still in it. But not an strong as they were. Th

- 0 tuEsDAY WWEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

IIIR:CNODBAB

SCHOLARSHIP  AVAILABLE

SOPHOMORE, DID YOU KNOW . . . the professor of Aerospace Studies, SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY, is authorized to award one scholarship to a qualified individual majoring in a technical area. This scholership pays for full tuition, books, lab teas, and provides the recipient with $$ 100.00$ per month, tax free.

INTERESTED: Contact Air Force ROTC at 476-9272 or visit the Detachment located in Archbold Gymnasium, Rim 200 and find out more information on how you can defray the cost of your education and prepare yourself for an exciting future as an officer in the UNITED STATES AIR FORCE.

ROTC

Gatewoy to agreat woy of hle.

GIMME SHELTER AITERACTS' GUIDE TO OFF.CAMPUS HOUSING

AVAILABLE AT THE FOLIOUING LOCATIONS:

AlTERACTS

Student Lagal Services 910 Irwing Ava. Syracute, NY 13210

Orientation information, coffer and doughnuts.

TOMORROW

GSO will hoid an open house tomorrow from 9 a.m. 5 g g.m. at 103 comorrow from 9 a.m. S gm. Bi ia3 College place. Oripntation informetion, cotfee and doughnuts.
Auditions for university chorale and madrigal singers will be held tomorrow and Wednesday. Details at 402 Crouse.

NOTICES

Earn oxpariance credit. NYPIRG is offering spring internship in communications. pre-law. consumer and environmental issues; Stop by 104 E. Adems St. or call 476-8384
for datails. for details Postry end fiction conteses spionsored by the Graduare Writing Poetry and oponto all SU students. Poetry and prose entrias must be-typerd in triplicate sind submithodrby jan. 30 to Professor George Eltiot, 300-8 Archbold Gym. Prizes are: Loring Williams Memorial Prize ( 51001 for the best poem(s) by a istante student Whilfen Prize (S25) for best, poem, by inn undergraduate; Delmore Sehwarta Prize. ($35) for best poem by Prize- (836) for best poem. by undergraduate or gractuate student: Peter Neapoe Prize ( 850 ) for best short storyby an undergraduate; and Stephen Crane Prize for Fiction(S5O) for best short story by a graduate student.
NOTICES FOR HERE: THERE EVERY'VHERE are due at The Daily Orsnge. 1101 E. Adams Sl., by noon two davs before publication. Limit announcements to 20 words. Name and telfephone number of sendermust be included. Sorry, we cant accept announcements over ihe phone

We Buy, Soll & Trade

 Usod LP's, 45's, Rock MagrainesEring your records to us for cash
Colfections bought House Calls by appointrment
1,OOO's of records in stock most LP's only s2-s3 AH records guersintecd 6 We speciafize in out-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS

S. Campus Mall. 730 5. Crouse

M-Set 11-6 (472-3236)

JOSTENS  College Jewelers WELCOME STUDENTS WE MISSED YOU  Syracuse and Forestry Class fings-and Pins

475-7837
FIVE WEEK DELIVERY
729 5. Crouse, ngxt door to University Post Office

144 Ball Circle
(next to Danzers on Ainsley)

TEXAS INSTRUMENTS
Educationai and Protossional Dlecounts

Classified ads

Wanted

 hour, call Sig Ep 475-6773
Two houseperson's wanted- waiter - distrwashing and potclaaning. Resgansibilities. Free Boart. Call Sig Ep 475-6773.

For rent

72 cubic foot refrigerators for rent Call Tayor Remal Cemter,478-0957 On PETS. Lease 446.7183 after 5 p.m.

Specious five room flat within five minutes drive of campus. $$ 165$, mo and utilities, call Rick 476300 evenings or 473-5170 days

2 bedroom apt. for rent sublease 3300 with vitilities 104-3GA luy Aldge Rd. 472-6224.

One of two roommates needed to subiet apanment second semester with fall option. Luxury housing two blocks from campus. $422 \cdot 7110$ days. 422-3862 evenings.
Rooms available singles and doubtes S500 $$ 525$ per semester. Call Sig Ep 475 - 773 .

Services

MCAT DAT Classes, will begin early Feb. at Syractas. Tc enroll: call 451. 2970
Low on money and records that aren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECOROS. Bring them infor instant cssh Top prices pindit DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse -472-3235. Mon-Set. 11 -6.

TEACHERS - Hundreds of openings. Universal Teachers. Box 8966, Porliand, Ora. 97209 .

Teacher with Master's degree in Teacher with Mastor s oegree in theory relered akills. Harmomy, earm training. orchestration. Feasonable training. orchestration. Aassonabie 469-1806.

COUNSELORS: CAMP WAZIYATAH FOR GIRLS. HARRISON MAINE. Tenais (Varsity or stilted players): Swimming (WSi). Boating. Canoeing. Saling: Weterskimg: Gymnastics; Archery. Feam Sports; Photogriephy for Yasbook: Secretary: Season: Jume 20 to August 21 Write (ENCLOSE DETAILS AS TOYOUR SKILLS, ETC. Director, Box 153 , Grear Neck, N,Y. 11022, Telephone: $516-482-4323$ Faculty Inquirien Invited re SUPERVISORY Positions.

Hope you had a pleasant vacation - Remember

Abe's

 Donuts Supreme 1570 Erie B1val. E. 172.9200for good, fresh - and mangy times hot - donits at 10 p.m. Opan: 9:30.p.m. (all night) until 5 p.m. (next day) - . small discount on quantity

EVERGREEN

MCATIDAT REVIEW COURSE
We prepare more students nationwide than any other review course

ㄹCleses hotd within whiling diftince of SU campua Call of write for our free 12 page bookfot: "Praparing for the MCAT/DAT"
Evergrean MCAT/DAT Review Course 8049 Eamm Hollow Rd., Clay. N.Y., 13041 CALL: 699-2015 (evenings)

Drivers Wanted

The Nest Time You Register, It could Be In Europe or Mesico.

Find out how you can spand next Fall with Syracuse University in Mexico, Italy. the Netherlands, England. France or Spain.

Choose from course offerings in Geography, Political Science, Management, Public Communications, Language & Literature, Studio Art, Architecture; Drama, Education, Human Development, Social Work, History, just to mention a few.

Come see us for more information:
The Division of International Programs Abroad 335 Comstock Ave. (corner of E. Adams) Tel. 423-3471

Young Huskies not fresh enough for SU

By Mike Stanton
NEW HAVEN, Conn. - In 1975, when a group of treshmen the House's aeniority tacked the House's eeniority system they were shocking symtem winners
Saturday night, before a sellout crowd of 9,372 in the New Haven Coliseum, a trio of equally stanning freshmen led Connecticut against the experienced, nationally-ranked Syracuse Orangemen. This time, however, youth was served only with a $74-60$ defeat at the hande of the venerable, 12-2 Orangemen.
It was perhaps ironic that less than a week after he had solved The Case Of The Misconfronted with a game that proved his point that freshmen should, as a rule, be seen and not heard.
"This was a game of experience versus inexperience," perience versus inexperience, way in the world you can put way in the worla you can pul three freshmen on the floor against three upperclassmen and expect them to win. and expect them to winbut they're only freshmen."

Only freshmen" may seem a rude way of deacribing Connecticut's sensational center-forward Corny Thompson, who has averaged 20. points and 10 rebounds a game, or forward Mike McKay. who is scoring 16 points a game and added 20 against Syracuse.

But together with another freshman starter, guard Clay Mohnson, Thompaon and Mckay combined to commit 17 of the Huskies 26 turnovers, 10 Orangemen's stingy defense brangemen s stingy defer treak open a sloppy game-Leading only $32-30$ at th half, Syracuse's pressure defense forced the Huskies now 10-3) into a poor 41 percent shooting performance in the second half while the Orange offense shot 58 percent from the field.
Led by center. Roosevelt Bouie, who dominated the final half with 15 of his gamehigh 21 points, Syracuse outscored Connecticut 18-5 during an 8 -minute stretch to take an insurmountable 62.45 lead with seven minutes remaining in the game.
"We managed to get inside more in the second half and we rebounded well," Boeheim said. "We also made those ump ahots we had to make in the aecond half in order to get inside.'

The key jumpers were tupplied by the starting baciccourt duo of Eddie Moss and Marty Headd, who together ahot 10 for 17 and scored 22 points. Supplementing Bouie's innide scoring was forward Louis Orf, who had 12 points andon defense held Thompsion (who outscored Rutgers James Bailey 27-11 last week) to eight points.
If Connecticut lost because its freshmen played like freshmen, the Orangemen almost' blew the game in the firt half by playing likeinrst graders.

We were making a lōt of turnovers and bad plays that we usually don't make.' Boeheim said of an underwhelming first half in which Headd firing a pass intended for Hal Cohen to a pretty UConn cheerleader was all-too-typical.
In addition to making 10 tur. hovers and commiting- 11

Back in step After abreak which was auroly no vecition phe Subuskeaball After a brask which was auraly no vacation, ge Syisazkezan taam. Led by Lowis Orr (E5) and Rooso fouls, many about as intelligent aa when Moss ran into forward John Delagrange from behind, SU shot anumimprom behind, 44 percent and, dur. presaive 44 percent and, during one $5 / \mathrm{m}$-minute gtretch, was outacored $10-0$ by the Huskies.
Leading that streak were Leat freshmen McKay and Johmeon, who scored four points each before a Delagrange layup gave Connecticut a $26-18$ lead with 6:43 remaining in the half.
'For a while there I didn' think our defense would be able to hold them," Boeheim said. "Their zone and (center Jēff Carr (12 poiñits) were bothering us.
Losing by eight points to a team with a ninegame winning streak, the last two victories in overtime over Rutgers and Boston University Boeheim resorted to a full court press and banked on his Court press and banked on
The strategy succeeded as. after the two teams exchanged baskets. Syracuse outscored the Huskies 12.0 during the en suing $5: 45$, taking the lead for good, 30-28, on an Orr jumper that followed the first of two consecutive steals by new cocaptain Mark Cubit.
"I think our full court pres sure when we were in troubl turned the game nround, Boeheim observed. "The preas forced them out of what they were doing.'
Then, as he stood watching Syracuse players file outside into the rainy night, Boeheim returned to his "experienced versus inexperienced" theme.
"Tonight was a really tough road game," he noted. "With all of the changing defenses and all, tonight wasn't agood time to throw the freahmen in Tonight was not a good night for freshmen.'
After unaucceasfully challenging SU's seniority Miker. Corny, sity of Connecticut basketball team probably couldn't agree team

Another
Orange crush

| Syracuse | FG | FT | P |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Moss | 4.5 |  | 8 |
| Headd | 6-12 | 2 | 14 |
| Shackleford | 3 H | 0 | 6 |
| Boule | $8-13$ | 5 | 21 |
| Orr | 4-10 | 4 | 12 |
| Cohen | 1.2 | 2 | 4 |
| Schayes | 2.5 | 0 | 4 |
| Payton | 0.0 | 2 | 2 |
| Cubit | 13 | 1 | 3 |
| Harmon | 0.0 | 0 | -0 |
| Totals | 29-58 | 16 | 74 |
| Connecticut | FG | FT | TP |
| McKay | 9.20 | 2 | 20 |
| Johnson | 4.9 | 2 | 10 |
| Lavigne | 24 | 0 | 4 |
| Carr | $5-7$ | 2 | 12 |
| Thompron | 3-12 | 2 | 8 |
| Delagranke | 2-2 | 2 | 6 |
| Sullivan | 00 | 0 | 0. |
| Fearon | $0-0$ | 0 | 0 |
| Johnson | 0.1 | 0 | 0 |
| Totals | 25-56 | 10 | 60 |

Headd
Shackleford
Bouse
Ort
Schayes
Payton
Cubit
Totale
Connecticut
McKiy
Johnson
Carr
Delagrange
Sullivan
Johnson
Toting
$25-85$

Freshmen? What freshmen?

 I thought they were with you...
By Joel Stashenko

Junior, what did you get for Christmas?
"Well. I got a trairz set and a bicycle, and a Battlester Galactica game and six pairs of underwear." Very good, very good: Now Rick and Ron. what did you get for the holiday?
"Well, first we got real mad at Coach Boeheirr for not playing us. Then we got in a car and went to New fersey for about five days to see allourold f-ipnds dersey for about five days to see al our old fiven to and our fam illes. Then we watched Edak transfer to and Thejoined the team. It wasa Christmas we ll never and rejo
The Syxacuse basketball team and its vagabond freshmen got a lot of things during an anything-butrelaxing breat from classes. The tale of their adventures is as bizarre as any which Dickens could concoct. But like all good Christinas stories, this one must start at the beginnings...

Dec. 22 snd 23 - Everyone conceded it was a shame that one of the four teamsin the Kentucky Invitational Tournament in Lexington, Ky., would have to lose two gamen. After all, all four teams came into the game ranked in the Top 20 , with Syracuse the highest at eighth in The Associated Press poll.
Shame or no shame, Syracuae went home with the $0-2$ record.

In the opening round the Orangemen played sluggishly against an nlinois team which was about sluggishly against an ilinois team which was about to emerge as the surprise of the Bish-i9 collegiate scoring of Eddie Johngön, the Illini upset SU 64-61 to put Illinois into the finals against Texas A & M, which later would upeet Kentucky.
The long awaited SU-Kentucky matchup was on, and after 27 minutes of play it appeared to be off. Roosevelt Bouie had fouled out and the Wildcats led combinund on pege trivtern

The Daily Orange

Donations contribute $$ 2$ million to stadium

By Mickey Mercier
Syracuse University's fundraising efforts have brought in more than $$ 2$ million, or about 20 percent of the $$ 11$ million SU must contribute towards building the domed stadium.

New York state is providing the remaining money for the $$ 26,850,000$ project.

Michael O. Sawyer, vice chancellor for university relations and a-fund-raising coordinator, said the fund raising is going well and that the ing is going well and that the $11 million through donations, rather than from university rather.

No plans have been maide to ask SU students for donations, he gaid.

T think that many atudents are more interested in a gtudent union building than the stadium." he said.
The "name donor," the donor after whom the new stadium will be named, has not yet been chosen, Sawyer said. A number of donors who have given substantial amounts are in contention for the honor.

Snowstorm stymies students' registration

By Kevin Haynes... The main concern right now for some Syracute University studentin, frome the Midwest is not batting the lines at registration, but getting here.
Thanks to the storms that have dumped about 30 inches of snow in the Midwest in less than a week, SU students from thiat area- are digging themselves from the drifts and may not get back to SU before registration ends today
Normally, missing both days of registration would mean paying a $$ 30$ gervice fee Carole A. Barone, nniversity

Although the amount of the contribution is the primary factor in choosing the name donor, "dedication to SU and Central New York" will also be considered, Sawyer said.
In addition to donations from alumni and private donors, the university is also raising money from corporation and foundation pranation a number of corprations have already porations have already University employees have been asked to contribute through a preferential seating plan that will allow them reserved seats in the new stadium.
Thomas F. Benzel, the recently hired director for the new gtadium, is already at work planning programs and events, Sawyer said, adding ball gome event may be scheduled ball games, may be scheduled in many as "You can't build the stadium first and plan it later,' Sawyer said.
registrarpanid-her of "make" arrangements" Ior those atudents who arrive in those students who arrive in time to register tomorrow, the firat day of late regiatration and of classes.
and of classes. are having difficulty and we'll make arrangements for them.

She said some students have called their college or the registrar to say the weather has detained them. Their* regis tration packets have already been pulled and they will be able to register upon arrival. Another alternative, Barone said, is to have a friend register for the snowbound etudent.

Lining up

Seniors and sophomores jammed Arehbold gymnaziurn yesterday for the first day of registration. Juniors and freshmion register todey, as some 11.000 undergraduates pass through the $9 y m$ 's doors during the two days.

- . . .

connmetres MEATLE 青胃OLI

By-Kevin Haynee

The selection committee for the Chancellor's Citation for Exceptional Academic Achievement is seeking nominations from the Syracuse University community. The awards are designed to honor outstanding contributions to "the life of the mind" at SU

Jim Naughton, Student Association vice president for academic affairs, said it is important that everyone at SU get involved by submitting nominations.
"I think we've got a really great thing going here" Naughton said. "But it's only great if people take advantage of it."
He gaid nominations can be made by "gnyone in the entire community" and should include "a well thought-out'explanation" of why that person deserves the honor.
Naughton said the committee has not determined the number of citations to be number but that careful conaideration will be given to each sideration wimbe given wo en
"I can see the number going under 10 eārily," he said. "I can't see it going over 15.
The-program for awarding the citations was developed last semester by Naughton and John J. Prucha, vice chancellor for academic affairs.
The committee mailed letters detailing the nomination' procedure to all deans, directors, department

Continued on page five

SU to pay new minimum wage

By Kevin Haynes

Consistent with guidelines aet by the federal government last year, Syracuse University will pay the new minimum wage of $$ 2.90$ an hour.
The increase, which went into effect on Jan. 1 will be paid to all work study students and university employees who were earning the previous minimum wage of $$ 2.65$ an hour.
Last year thé minimum wage became atopic of controversy at $S U$ when the university asid it would continue to pay work-study employees the 1977 minimum wage of $$ 2.30$ rather than comply with the 1978 rate of $$ 2.65$.
However, SU decided to pay the increased wage after several campus organizations, including Student Association, expressed dissatisfaction with the decision and asked that the minimum wage guidelines be met.

By-Scot French
Univeraity Union TV may have to battle the networks for viewers when the studentrun cable atation resumes operation on Jan. 29.

Because UUTV uses regular television siets that algo offer network programming, the station has found itself in direct competition with ABC, CBS, and NBC.
"Theire used to be a belief around here that students would watch us because we're students," said Hal Schlenger, UUTV general manager. "That's not true. People watch what they like."
However; many students are not able to watch UUTV's programiming because others who watch the network-affiliated atations usually decide what to watch, Schlenger said. In the dorm lounges where UU tv is offered, the majority of viewers usually choose to watch network productions.
"We just want people to realize that that's the only place you can watch UUTV. The monitors are there for UUTV. UUTV monitors are located in E.S. Bird Library, the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Come munications, Jabberwocky and every major munications, Jabberwocky and every major dorm except Shaw. Syracuse University Schlenger conceded that all student Schlenger conceded that all students should be allowed to use the sets, but said he would like atudents to watch network shows elsewhere, if possible, when someone wants to watch UUTV.
UUTV was without funds-last semester and was forced to offer minimal gervices.

However, the station was given $$ 8,000$ 파응 Student Association's contingency fund in December. This semester, UUTV plans to provide 15 hours of programming each week provice 9 p.m. to midnight.

Schlenger hopes to attract viewers by offering shows with high student appeal. $A$ survey conducted by the American Marketing Association should be completed thia spring: he said, that will give UUTV a good idea of where students' interests lie.

He said the key to UUTV's success could be its localized programming. "It will be geared more to the students," he said.

UUTV will schedule programs with the network affiliates in mind, Schlenger said. For example, UUTV might offer a comedy at a time when the network affiliates are offer: a time when the network gaff ing the local new, he said.
"If people are willing to give un a chance they should find something they like. And if they don't, I hope they'll let ua- know,' Schlenger aaid.
UUTV is still trying to acquire more television sets through the Residential Life Advisory Council, but Schlenger said the process is complicated and time-consuming. He plans to approach the council with a propoal within the next few weeks.

UUTV does not plan to sell air time for commercials, Schlenger said.
"Would you advertise on here if you didn't know anyone was watching? I can't see anyone advertising yet. I don't think students want to see advertising either."

Wanted.

Classified ads person needed. Paid position.
Must be available from approximately 11:30-2:30 Mon. thru Fri., typing important. Call 423-2315.

[^0]Tonight, Jan. 17
HAPPY HOUR 7-9 OPEN MIKE NIGHT
" you've got any hind of act - show it off at the jab tonigin - sign up at jab fram 6 ams. Friday, Jan. 19 HÁPPY HOUR 4-8 jab presents THE MUSIC OF THE BEATLES 8-2

Thursday, Jan. 18
HAPPY HOUR 7-9
DISCO . . . . AGAIN! 10-2
500, with SU !.D.
Saturday, Jan. 20
OUT OF THE BLUE 10-2
A shot and a draft
50c all night long

TAKE A SHOT AT IT

Apply for editor  of The Daily Orange

Submit a letter of intent to Tom Coffey at the DO,1101 E. Adams St.,by 4 p.m. Tuesday

Technology and human freedom

Is technology an emancipator or an ppressor of the human spirit? Our generation in the United States is the first aince the Civil War to ask that question. Jefferson worried long ago about the social impact that technological industrialization might have; and the plantation aociety of the Old South echoed his fears. But they were drowned or crushed by the seemingly boundiess blossoming of the world's most sophisticated, richest and most powerful economy. It gave us an ever increasint standard of living; shorter working days and longer vacations, machines to do our work

Guest Comment:

Peter Marsh
and even our thinking, longer life, a pill or every pain, and, in the 1960 s , the noon.

But its costs have begun to worry and oppress us. Modern medicine may. be able to work miracles; butit does so at a price which makes the prospect of a stay in hospital financially terrifying. The medical professions insistence upon using its sophisticated machinery for the prolonging of human life encroaches upon the freedom of the patient to die a simple death. A technology-intengive economy makes slack demands on the labor market, and so makes it harder for young people to find a job and for Id people to keep working ifthey wish. Far from feeling liberated by laboranving devices, by machines to satisfy each need and by drugs to natiafy each farther- have felt frugtrated by the university computer's refural to do what weask and by the inaistence what we do must meet the computer's demands?

In the late 1960 s and early " 70 s , when these doubts began to nag. many students turned away from the technologically intensified rat race by technologically intensified rat race by adopting freez life styles and leaving crowded city atreets and offices for the unspoiled countryside and communes. But the freedom to do so requires underpinning by a prosperoug economy. The recession of the mid-1970s have forced students to take with deadly eeriousness the task of equipping themselves to find work. No more convinced as their older brothers and sisters that technology leads to heaven, undergraduates yet feel obligated to place a higher priority on the acquisition of technical akills than upon mind expansion.

These are the kind of tensions with which the Honors Convocation on January 29 and 30 is concerned. Senator Moynihan, some of the most distinguished members of the SUJ faculty-Alan Robinson from C.I.S. faculty-Alan Robinaon from C.I.S., Margaret Early from education, Tibor Palfai from psychology, Walter Beattie from aocial work, two leading mambers of the Upatate Medical faculty, David Fromm in Surgery and Thomas Szasz in Psychiatry, and four fellows of the National Humanities Institute at the University of Chicago, will address these issues from their paxticular van tage points. Come and hear them talls to them and turn their questions over. The questions are of pressing importance to us all.

Peter Marsh is a professor of History and director of the University Honors Program. This is the first of several guest comments we will pressent or questions to be addressed at the honors convocation.

Give me that old-time inflation

Bicentennial minute: When chancellor William P. Tolley was forced to raise tuition in 1952, he apologized to the studerat body: It was a $$ 25$ a semester increase.

Chancellor Melvin Eggers awoke ne morning to find that it was 1952 outside. He was auite disoriented and lay in his bed for some time, looking about his room. On his night table Life Magazine was lying face down. A black and white cover showed Marilyn Monroe, "The Talk of Hollywood:" on the back, an ad boasted "the smoothest Lucky Strike yet, L.S.M.F.T. neans flavor."

Quite disoriented, he shuffled into the living room to look out the window, the way a small child will run to look for a first snowfall. There in the driveway was his shining new ' 52 Studebaker Starliner with its "Commander V-8" engine and its green two-tome paint finish. He looked down the street, shaded by a canopy of 100 -year-old Dutch Elmp. The color of the sky was even that funny brownish tint that early Kodachrome pictures of your parents have. "Oh dear, this must be post-war prosperity," he said.
"Well, then, I must get on with the day;" he gighed. He checked his official chancellor's calen-dar-which all chancellors are required to have. Today was the day he had to announce a $$ 25$ tuition in. crease. At first he thought it must be a mistake; it must be $$ 250$, at least (or else why bother?), but a call to his secretary showed it was right. "No problem," he thought this is an awfully small matter for me to deal with. Why, we raised the athletic activity card $$ 15$ in two years and never said a word." But the day's Daily Orange caught his eve and reminded him it was 1952. a big headline screamed "Skitch Henderson to Play at Senior Ball, Theme: 'I Can See It Snow:'

All day long, after he announced the increase, the chancellor was barraged with questions: "Is Syracuse worth the $$ 650$ a year in tuition?" "Can't you hold down costs?" The unexpected opposition made the chancellor grow furious.
"Look," he almost told one group "when your children are in college in the 1970s, we will raise tuition almost $$ 1500$ in four years. It will so up 113 percent in 10 years. Be thankful. It's all a matter of what you're used to." But the 1970s were still a mythical time to these students.
Soon regaining his calm, he fell back on a familiar argument: "This is a national thing, no one really nnderstands inflation: Costa are just going up. It coista more just to stay at the level we are at. There is nothing we can do; if we cut anyth-

The Daily Orange

> Thomas Coffoy
> Thomes Gridit
> Grege Chatterto Paxti Sehuidenfrei Howard Mantilitd Sy Montpornery Jecqui Salmon Marita Eppolito Kovir Haynes Scott Rohmer
> Brent Marchant
oditor in chief manaliging edfitor production maniger layout director copy editor ditorial edtitor editorial editor mpwese editior agst. newn editor aept. newe editer esipt. mewn editor Focul editor

| Rached Finkel Maria Riccardil |
| :---: |
| Joel Steshariko |
| Mike Stanton |
| Irwin Fisch |
| Magaty Olivero |
| Eecky Uexan |
| Richard Folkers |
| Sosh Shation |
| George Musal |
| Inimy Petry |
| Maliseen Katurnan |

mast. Focus editor aports edttor t. aports editior. upplement editor upplemment editor art director photo editor photo editior business manager duvartiaing direetor aset. edv. director ing we endanger this institution's fine reputation ..." And on and on. The chancellor was pleased to see this 27-yedr-old argument wor king so well. And at the end he would add, "But we are sorry . . . ."
After being interviewed on a WAER call-in show at 10 p.m., the exhausted chancellor slunk down into bed. Over an editorial entitled, "Should Alaska and Hawaii be States?" he was falling asleep. when he opened his eyes and stared at the ceiling. He started to amile. Tomorrow it would be 1979 outside, and he and the board of trustees could raise taition 8.6 percent if they wanted to; a $$ 400$ increase that would be almost as much as the total tuition bill in 1952

And he wouldn't have to apologize. He wouldn't even have to say a word. It would be accepted.

Howard Manstiold for The Daily Orange

All hiveals of feople buy booles at Holb's

THAT'S MUSIC TO MY EARS, BOB.

Bandit Bob's Orange Student Bookstore is a different sort of place. Sure we've got all of the textbooks - new and used-you'll need as a student at SU. We have supplies and leisure reading, free credit cards, too.

But I think the most important thing you'll find at the Orange Student Bookstore is a lot of friendly people. Syracuse University is a huge place-we're a lot smaller. Come in and talk, ask questions. We'll answer.

While you're in the store. keep an eye out for familiar faces. Some of the most interesting people drop by to visit. l've got theirpictures on the walls.

Come and see us. The Orange Student Bookstore is located at 175 Marshall St. on campus, at the corner of University Ave: Look for an orange outside and a friendly inside.

-Bob Bandier

Fill out this form for an Orange Student Bookstore Credit Card. Mals it to me, or bring it in when you arrive on campus.

Orange Student Bookstore
175 Marshall Street
Syracuse, New York 13210
Name (please print)
Birth Date
Home Address
Campus Address (if known)
$\square$ Bill Home Address $\square$ Bill Campus Address
I assume all reieponsibility for iterns charged on my account at the Orange Student Booketore, Inc.a and guaramte prompt payment when due.

Parent's or Legal Guardian's 'Signature'

Orange Student Bookstore

Convocation approaches

By Debloy Waldunain
Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan coming Honors Convocation on Jan. 29 and 30.

Moynihan will introance the convocation theme, Technology and Haman Freedom, on opening night, Jan. 29.

The following day, the human freedom theme will be broken down into five sections, led by two faculty naembers from either Syracuse University. Upstate Medical Center or a representative from the National Humanities Institute at the University of Chicago. Each section will bechaired by a senior in the Honors Program.
Peter Marsh, Honore Program director. said Moynihan was selected because of his involvernent with the question concerning the government's impact on human freediom. The senator is a former United States representative to the United Nations and an SU professor of aociology.
Marsh added that he feels the con vocation is the intelec tual highpoint of the $y$ rear.
The five subjects to be discussed on Jan. 30 are: The Impact of Technology on Medical pact of Technology on Medical Caxe; Unemployment-EArly Retirement and Aging; Computers: Our Servants or Our Masters?; The Psychological Pressures and Releases Produced by Technology; and Ediucational Priorities in Technological Society.

The Honors Convocation was re-instated three years ago. aflem it Program beran in 1964 ionor Program bexan in 1964
"Originally; the program was only for Arts and Sciencea atudentes," Marsh said. "Under Bill Hall, the immediate past director of the program, it became an all-university program."
Marsh said- part of the reason for the change was because not all potential honor students are in Arts and Sciences.
The purpose of the Honors Prograrn, according to Marsh, is to put "brigitt and enter: is to put "bright and enter: prising stucients in touch what collegea they are in or what collegea they are
"We are trying to bring these stadentas together with the bea of the academic resources and the beat faculty members,' Marsh aíid.
In order to be a participant in the Honore Frogram ana freshman, a student must have a score of at least 1.050 on Scholastic Aptitude Tests and in the top 10 percent of his high school praduating class.
However, if a student secures a 3.2 grade point average, he may enter the average, he may enter the Honors Program. The grade point average required may or college.

Freshman and sophomore honors atudents are put into honors seminars, which are led by faculty members and senior honors atudents. Theere seminars, worth two credits are part of lower division honors. According to Marsh. no more than 20 students are in each seminar.
Lower diviaion honors is primarily for freshmen and sophomore honor students. Upper division is for juniors and seniors.
It is difficult for a student to enter the Honors Program in his senior year, Marsh said.
The goal of an upper division honors student is to work on and complete a threecredit: honors thesis. The thesis, Marsh said, can be either a paper or project.
"It is a mini-masterwork. It is what the honors student does to say. 'Here's my debut. this is an indication of what i can do." Marah said.
*A stadent could do a project like this on his own, but we're there to give them guidance," Marsh said.
Jane Pickett, program coordinator. for the Honors Program, anid the honors thesia is the culminating activity for seniors in the program.

- Manay reflected back upo have honors thesis and said thet honors thesial and said that working on the project was the most rewarding experience of their, undergraduate study here," she said.

Manager to decide Jab hours

By Thomas Coffey
Jabberwocky manager Desiree Day has not yet'made afinal decision on whether to close Jab two more nights a week.
decision probably make a decision in February and let January roll," Day said. "For now, I'm going to be open Wedneaday through Satur day."

Both Ulysses' J. Connor, director of atudent activities, and Steven K. Gauly, masociate director of stodent activities, have said they want to close Jab on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Jab lost apday nights, Jab iost appromester, according to Connor.
"Jab is doing really poorly business-wise," Day said. "I'll cut back as far as I can to break even Day-said she will make Jab

$\star$ Awards

 chairpersons and fulltime faculty.The letter explaina that the citations could be awarded to homor a broad range of acadernic accomplishments, auch as teaching, reaearch, professional service outside the univeraity, ereative inter nal administration. counseling, editixag or "whatever stimulates and digplays intellectual achieveront among ue.'
Naughton admite that faculty stand a better chance of winning; but said he believes that "stodents have chances in moretraique wayn." Pousible stadent recipients could be teenching zimiotants who exemplify the quality of graduate atudent teaching and studentes who worix with protesaors in course deaign, Naughton said.
available for partiea held by student organizations "Fraternities and sororities have already inquired about using Jab," she said. "r'd like to work in that vein.
Day sarid some- of Jab'e prograrning ideas haven't been working. "Open mike juat died last semester," she said.
"Bands aren't working," she added. "It's pretty consisten that live bands don't draw well. The Flash Cubes are the only local band that will draw outrageouslv_"
However, Day said other programing ideas: have programing froms Friday worked. Aside from Eriday afternoon's Happy Hour, Thursday night's disco programing and playing albums on Friday nights seem to work, according to Day
"I kept hopping around in programing last semester to gee what would work." Day said.
To drum up binoineas for Jab Day said she will rely mainly on different advertising ideas 'I really don't have any ex citing, outrageous ideas," she said.
The Student Center, which, like Jab, is under the juris diction of the studentactivities office, also lost money last semester. according to manager Debra Dodds. "Our costs have met our income. she said, "but our overhead is murder."

Dodds said she does not know how much the Student Center lost because figures for December are not available yet. She said she will know the amount of the deficit in about two weeke.

Dodds said she hopes to make up the deficit this semester by using more advertising. She maid she is confident the deficit: would be erased.
"Yoú have to be optimistic about things like this," she said.

In an effort to cut its losses, the Student Center closed on Satardaya lant semester because very few people went. "But Monday through Friday is pretty solid,". Dodds said.

MALE SUBJECTS NEEDED FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING

The Psychological Research Laboratory of the Upstate Medical Center nieeds subjects for their current studies.

Qualifications:
Male 18-30 years old with at least a high school education.
Testing will be one session of 2 hours answering questionnaires.
If interested Call: 473 - 5775 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.. Monday Through Friday
Payment is $$ 2.50$ per hour

Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan

HOLLYWOOD
RT 11 454-0321
NITELY 788:30
SAT.- SUN.
1:45. 4:15. $7.9: 30$

Due to resignation, the poshtion of  Vice President of Graduate Student Organization   Is vecent

   Is vecent}An election will te held at the Innuary 25; 1979 meeting of G.S.O. (7:30 p.m., Maxwell Auditorium) to fill this position. The tarm runs through May 15, 1979 and offers a scholarship of $500. Intormation and/or nomination forms ara available at the G.S.O. Office. Tilden Cottage, 103 College Piace.

Syracuse University Union and Calliope Products present  Live from N.Y.C. and Long /sfond The  "BONLIE PAREER BANT"

with special guest ist concert of the new semester
Wednesday, Jan. 24th
two shows 8 p.m. Er 11 p.m. Jabberwocky - $2.50

25c Drafts

Tickets on sale at Jab, Spectrum, Record Theater, Discount Records, S.L. Bookstore.

By Dave Stern

Trying to convince prospec tive stadents that the $$ 7,000$ price tag to attend Syracure University is worthwhile falls on the ahoulder of the Admisgions Office.

Thomas F. Cummings Jr., director of admissions, and his staff of more than 20 persons face the task of "marketing" SU.

The admissions catalog is the most effective tool that ad. misaion employs, Cummings said. "It's a clear catalog with no b.s." he maid. "We don't gloms over anything."
Cumming thumbed through a copy of the catalog and pointed to a photograph of a winter scene. "See," he said, "we even show pictures of snow and gloom."
The weather may be one concern of prospective freshman, but Cummingessid he believes there are other factors they consider before choosing SU.

Their first consideration is the atrength of the academic program," Cumminge said. "Then they also are concerned with the acope of the courses and the degree to which the and the degree to which th courses are cateer-related."
SU is a diverse univeraity with 11 schools and approximately 200 major programs. Cummings aaid this diveraity is one of SU's greatest attractions.
What other factore are considered by studenta and their

SYZACLSE LNIVERGTY BOOKSTORES

THE DIFFERENT COLLEGE RINGS

 Now you have a choice

Women's fashion
collection

Say a lot about yourself without saying a word.
This new. distinctive ArtCarved collection gives yout the choice beyond the traditional. Select styles. stones and options that make your ring distinctively yours. Ench of these different college rings says something different. Choose the one that speaks for you.
ARTCARVED
date: WED. JAN. 17
THURS. JAN. 18
FRI. JAN. 19
place: suncuse
Enversity
EOOKSTOFES
303 University Place
parenta?
"We look for educational facilities and living quarters," said Ruth Mastey, a parent Baid Rath Mastrey, a parent from Schenectady who wan from Schenectady who wad participating in an admissions participating in an admisaione tour in Noveraber.

Bill Howard, a high schoolsenior from Elmira, also sadd facilities are a primary concern. "The setap on the campue is aleo important, as Well as the neamess of clasaes and the wense of friendinesn. I like this touring system. At Cornell, they send you on your own. I mm impressed with OWn. E Em
Irving La
Irving levitt, a parent from Dover. Del., touched upon a genaitive ares in maxy stedents' minds when he ques tioned the tour leader about Syracume's lack of a student union.
"Moat clabs and things like the radio station and organizations are usually in the student* union," said Levitt. "Where are they here?"

GSO looks

 to elect VPA search has begun for a new Graduate Student Organization vice president. following the resignation of Vice President Jim McNamara on Jam. 1.
GSO President Ned Harris said notices have been sent to all graduate departments and advertisements of the opening will appear in the campus media.
An election to fill the vacaney will be hwd at the Jan. 25 GSO Sehate meeting. Harrim aaid.

But Cumamings said the lack of atadent anion is "no factor" as far as adminsions is concerned. He said, however, that the domed stadium has had a "very positive effect.". had a "very positive effect." Cumemings, "approximately 30 percent of prospective students first heard, of Syracuse from 'gports ink.' We have a Division I schedule with high vísibility and it makes my job easier," he said.
Cummings and his staff participate in college fairs all over the East Coast and their recruitment efforts span the natinn. efrorts span the 47 states and 106 foreign coun47 statek and 106 foreign countries," Cummings anid. Snapping his fingers he commented that his office is "still working on Alaska."
Although the Syracuise weather may be cornfortable for Alaskans, almost half of the SU students come from New York State. SU almo gets many atudenta from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Jergey Phans Pena Massachusettas.
Massachusetta.
In its recruit
In its recruitanent, the Admissions office looks for a certain type of student.

We are looling for a etudent with a clear perception of what he wants," Cummings said. "We glso look at the types of courses he has taken and how well he has done. Stanlard test resulte are albo nsed as indicators."

Cummings added that a prospect's maturity and independence is also concidered. "There are a lot of opporfunities to screw up here and we want to make sure they can handle the rigorous academic environment," he said.

1979-80

GSO Budget Requests Due on

February 1, 1979

Three copies of each request arerequired and should be sent to GSO Office. Procedures for submitting budgets and further information are available from the Graduate Student Organization, 103 College Place, 4233739.

SU appeals to foreign students

By Joyce Mirablle "The education abroad is good, butit's not as good as it is in the United States."

That's stating more than just the opinion of Mohammed Zubair Qureshi, a Pakistani earning his graduate degree in business administration at Syracuse University.
An increasing number of foreign students like Qureshi are flocking to colleges and are flocking to colleges and States in recent years, for, as States in recent years, for, as he deacribed "the beat possible he deacribed

Nearly nine percent of approximately 15,000 undergraduate and graduate students at SU are foreign students.
The number of foreign students at SU has jumped from 752 undergraduate and graduate students in 1972 to about 1,300 in 1978 , an increased of almost 100 percent in the last five years. It also representse at 10 to 12 percent increase each year since 1971 increase each year gince ine undergraduate level.
During those years, the number of foreign students admitted to SU as freshmen increased steadily from about 125 a year to about 175 last fall, Thomas $F$ : Cummings Jr., director of admissions at SU', said.

While the majority of international students on campus are from Iran, India, Taiwan, Canadí. Nigeria and Malaysia, more than 106 cou tries are represerited at SU.

Theae students are more than welcome by American institutions, according to Cummings. He asid the university wants "an international mix of etudents" and has been demonstrating this desire Bince 1971. Since then, he said, there has been a significantincrease in the number of foreign applicants and admiasions to. SU.
Cummings said the universtationed in Europe who encouraged American students studying abroad to retarn to the United States and attend SU. However, the increasing number of. foreigniers number of foreignera demonstrating an interest in SU gave the correspondent the SU gave the correspondent the additional responsibility of recruiting them.

- SU also has a foreign recruitment arm that operates out of Lubin House, an. international student recruiting center in New York City. "Over the past six years, the university has been putting forth an extra effort to provide the embassies and consolates with extra materials and clarify admission standards," Cummings said.

It was in 1971 that the university started taking an active interest in foreign admissions, according to Virginia Torelli, director-of international student affairs.

Cummings said that "since then there's been a coordinated effort on the undergraduate level to develop admission practices with more traditional or fequired subjects traditional or fequired subjects to attract students who are farTher away."
The School of Engineering enrolls the largest percentage of foreign students, according to Cummings. "The demand for engineers abroad is high," he explained. "Every one of the May 1978 graduates from that school found employment-in engineering."
The next largest nunber of foreign students at SU is in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, followed by the School of Visual and Performing Arts, School of Computer and Information Science and College of Arts and Sciences, according to Cum. Sciences, according to Cummings.:
"Foreign students take an interest in career related and publicly related studies," he said. He added that many of

LSAT/GMAT Test for alifetime Be Prepared  John Sexton's LSAT & GMAT Conrees    -wortegres in propering for them  oll imporserne crits  - enar, mont racint muteriels  - Subetintive eurrituld  (net futituming)  -Team intitruction by a  Prectice feculty  Councelling  "Char" inatuetion  (not lues eapae I  Encturntiel ethedy imaterinte  - Extre - Molpe semione  - lsatignalat cimen now.  Comparr foin Sukton Course selvanteger wich others, then  for information ear

TEST PREPARATION CENTERS
Powelson Building 4000 Moñtgomery Street
Syracuse, N.Y. 13202
them return home to work after graduation. He cited the motive bf engineering students, for instance, to return home to help develop return home to help Accorrding to Cumminge, it's' sometimes difficult for foreign students to adjust to a "high consumer-oriented society like ours." Occassionally, he said, ours. Occassionally, he said, if parents have been 80 imprudent as to give the whole year's allowance to a student and the student depletes the money too quickly, we end up figuring out a way to help.And it's a real can of worms," he continued.

Financial aid for foreign students, Cummings said, for students, Cummings said, for the most part is unavailable to the most part is unavailable to them since American students "receive top priority." He said there were only six SU loans awarded to students from abroad for the 1978-79 academic year.

He said the university will be embarking on a major English language learning program starting this fall for foreign students. A student will be required to take six or nine credits dealing with the English language for one semester. No other coturae work will be done during that - Bemester.
"We demand a good command of the Engligh language" Cummincs said. The students are the elite people from their perspective countries."

- Cummings said the impact of the rising number of foreign jotudents at $\mathbf{S U}$. has altered somewhat the professors' "acadernic preparation and perspective." Foreigners are now a consideration in classroom lecture, discussion and seminars, he added.
Torelli said the dropout rate is "very low." This is not to say that foreign students haven't had problems adjusting to the academic life at SU, according to Torelli.

According to Cummings, the number of foreign admisaions at $S U$ will remain at about 9 percent despite the growing pool of foreign students. "The capability of foreign countries to educate international students will increase one way or another. It will happen for most countries except for the underdeveloped third world countries.'

3rd.floor - Art Dept.

Art Students

Welcome Back Sale

Veiuable Coupon

(redeem at rear art counter)
C-THRU LETTERING
List Price $$ \mathbf{3 . 0 0}$ Selected Sheets $\mathbf{$ 2 . 2 5}$ with this coupon 3 sheets for $$ 6.00$ expirse $1 / 24 / 79$
Valuable Coupon
(redeem at rear art counter)

PICKETT

 DRAWING BOARDSplain with metal edge
$-18 \times 24,23 \times 31,24 \times 36$ $20 \%$ OFF with this coupon expires $1 / 30 / 79$
Special Store Hours
Mon-Wed.. Jan. 16-179 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Thurs. 8\% Fri., Jan. 18 & 19.9 a.m.-8 p.m
Mon., Jan. 229 a.m- 8 p.m charge itt
SU Bookstore Charge. VISA, MasterCharge

IFC forms judicial board

The InterFraternity Council is forming a judicial board to handle violations of its rules. The six-member board will deal with such problems as rush infractions and disputes between houses, according to Doug Brenner, one of the board's organizers. He added the board will not deal with Greek members who violate university rules. The University Judicial Board will handle those cases.
The IFC judicial board will have the authority to hand out sentences ranging "from a slap on the wrist or to go as far as having a charter revoked" Brenner said.

Brenner said the IFC voted in December to form the judicial board to make disciplinary procedures more fair and representative of all houses.

Previously the IFC president and vice president handled violations. IFC regulates rush - the period when fraternities ask students to pledge their houses - and organizes achovities for Greeks:
Brenner said the judicial board selection committee IFC's executive council and faculty adviser - are accepting applications for the five available positions. The vice president of the IFC is president of the the

We Need Your Used Books

 We Pay Cash on the Spot
Up to $\mathbf{5 0 \%}$ of new list price for titles

 that we need.Bring in all your books now for top dollar!

Store Hours Today 9-5:30
Tomarrow, Friday & Monday 'til 8 p.m.
Open every Saturday 10-5:30

Women's Studies seeks A&S cluster status

By Stacy Schneider The new Standard Plan for the College of Arts and Sciences may be a boon for women interested in atudying about women.

Wornen's Studies provides a forum where women and men can study about and collaborate on women'sisaues, said Professor Susan Wadley, a member of the program's ateering committee. She said it also provides an opportumity king to become a "cluster" in for intereated people to gain an awareness of the accomplishments of other women.

Currently, Women's Studies is an informal program, according to Mark A. Brown, assiatant A&cS dean. "It is neither a major program nor a concentration," he said.

But. Women's Studies is wor-would mean that Plan. This would mean that students courses relating to womer. courses of the courges that deal Some of the courses that deal with women include CrossNational Issues: Women, and Women in Literature.
Brown said it is easier to establish a clustar than to establish a major. A cluster is concentrated unon in the first two years of study, while most courses in a student's major are taken in the last two years. "Clustera are not a aubatitute for majora," Brown said.
A major part of Women's Studies is the Women's In formal Research Seminars, which give those who complete research on women a chance to present their findings, said Janet Bogdan, last year's seminar coordinator.

SYRACLSE UNIVERGTY BOOKSTORES All-star lineup.

Performance and price are the keys in choosing a calculator. One of these Texas Instruments slide-rules is right for you.

Capability. Quality. Value. The right combination can help you make short combination can help you make short work of problems in fields like math. work of probiems in tields like math. engineering. Science and business statistics and give you more time for statistics and give you more time for other important things. Choose the TI calculator that's right for you and get ahead of the game.
TH-55. Advanced silde-ruif functions with statistics, programmabitity and valuabia statistics, programmability and
The versatile Ti-55 calculating system is packed with the features and functions you need to handie almost any mathematical operation, from logarithms and trigonometry to advanced statistical problems. Thirty-two steps of programmability add new dimensions of áccuracy, speed and ease to performing repetitive calculations and Tl-55 a series of operations and it performs those steps for you.

For more help in rmaking quantitative decisions, the TI-55 comes with the Calculator Decision - Making Sourcebook, a$5.00 value. The book. 140 pages of easy-topages of easy-tounderstand, real-shows you how to use the power of statistics, financial math and programmability in analyẓing relationships in data, verifying quality and performance, measuring change, forecasting trends and projecting returns... in short, how to make better decisions. today and tomorrow. Calculator and book combination, only $$ 50.00$.

Slimline T1-50. A powerful, stylish sidie-iule with new Constant Memory ${ }^{\text {th }}$ faature.
The pocket-portable Slimline Ti-50 is today's most powerful liquid crystal ofisplay (LCD) slide-rule calculator. It has 60 functions including commoñ and natural logarithms and six trigonometric operations that can be performed in three angular modes (degrees, radians or grads).

Seven built-in statistical functions make it easy to "boil down" large amounts of data so you can perform accurate analyses and draw reliable conclusions.

Two constant memories retain their contents even when the calculator is turned off. so frequently used constants and other basic values are at your fingertips when you need them.
Two miniature batteries provide over 1000 hours of operation in normal use: TI's APD ${ }^{\text {rm }}$ automatic power down feature helps prevent accidental battery drain by turning off the calculator after approximately 10 minutes ol non-use. With imitation leather wallet. \$40.00*.

Slimilne T-25. Stide-rule pawer at a zmall price.
Economy and value-go hand-in-hand with the Slimline Tl-25, a pocketportable LCD scientific calculator that has what it takes to handle advanced math. It provides the most-needed slide-rule functions. Trigonometry in degrees, radians or grads. Pius basic statistical power, too: Mean, Variance. Standard Deviation.

Three levels of parentheses can handle up to three pending operations to make your work easier. Fout-key memary allows you to store and recall values, add-to memory contents and exchange stored and displayed exchange

The Th-25 goes far on a pair of miniature batteries - includes APD ${ }^{\text {Th }}$ circuitry. Vinyl wallet included. $\$ 33.00$.

See the complete lineup of Texas Instruments slide-rule cajculators at your dealer today. There's one exactly right for the work you're doing.

Texas /nstruments techinology - bringing affordable electronics to your fingertips.

TEXAS INSTRUMENTS  INCORPORATED

-U.S. augnested rutal price

CHARGE IT:
SU BOOKSTORE CHARGE MASTERCHARGE
MASYERCHARGE
BANKAMERICARD

NEGULAR STORE HOURS:
MON-FRI 9:00-5:30
SAT 10:00-5:30

Research is presented mainly -by faculty and graduate students. Subjects presented at the seminars include topics such as Women in India and I9th Century Women in Architecture.
Amy Doherty, this year's coordinator, said sthe seminars furnish role models for women."
This semester á seminarwas held each Friday for five weeks. Attendance consisted of moatly faculty, staff and graduate students, although some undergraduates attended, Doherty said.
The average turnout is 25 to 30 persons a week, Wadley said. But, Doherty added that attendance varies depending on the subject.

A&S presently offers courses on women in all of the social sciences. However, Wadley said she would like to establish more introductory courses on the subject.
Wadley said she would like Women's Studies to be more recognized and better accepted. "There is atill a feeling that women who spend their time atudying women are not spending it properly,".she said.

Women's Studies publishes a newsletter containing original reaearch, conferences that are held and other items of interest to women, Wadley said. The newsletters are distributed to about 100 people, including Syracuse Univergity administrators, and both women and men who have expressed an interest in the program.
Funding consists of $$ 100$ from the Graduate Student Organization. "This is enough to pay for the newsletter and postage,". Wadley waid. She said that Women's Studies. should be funded through the : general A&S budget, but it is not.
But Daniel S. Wilett, assistant dean of A&S, said a concentration does not need a lot of money. There are paid faculty to teach women's courses and the seminiars are presented voluntarily, he explained.

The program has no director and only nine members, of which only three or four are students, said Wadley. It has existed since 3971 and was of existed since 1971 and was officially recogn program in 1977 .
programin in 1977.
Wormen's Stud
Women's Studies has no building of its own and works through the office of Foreign and Comparative Studies, 119 Collere Place.

sEMORSE  GRAD STUDENTS

A new Graduate Profite Center has been eslublished to provide a PROF/LE SCANNING SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter your profife into the System and expend your career opportuinities.
Sand for free brochure Bnd Entry Form.

Addre:

City
2ip
Minil zo:
Grachute Profile Cember

PO Box 277.
Buftala; N.Y., 14221

Thorogood ranks among greats

By Mike Maypard
Who comes to mind when you think of the world's best rock guitarists? Names like Clapton, Hendrix, Page, Beck and Garcia immediately come to mind. However, a new name must now be added to that list: George Thorogood.
If you're scratching your head and wondering who George Thorogood is and what puts him in the same class as the aforementioned names, you're not alone. Few people outside New York City. Boston and Wilmington, Del. (Thorogood's home town) have ever heard his name before, much less have ever heard him play. Over the next few years, though, you may hear a lot more of him.
Together with his band, the Destroyers, Thorogood plays a Destroyers, Thorogood playsa tasty blend of good-time tasty blend of good-tirne rock'n'roll, blues and country and western. On his recently on Ouer, Thorogood does

Extended housing ends

By Stacy Schneider This year's extended housing has ended. Students living in dorm lounges and in triples in dorm lounges and in been moved out, said Susan Decker, housing coorSusan Decker, housing coordinator for the Office of dinator for the
She said rooms became available as students moved to fraternities and sororities and went abroad.

In the beginning of the fall semester, 447 students were living in triples or in lounges covers of tunes by, among others, Chuck Berry, blues man Willie Dizon and"Johnny man Wilise Dixon and Johnny Cash, showing that he can shift easily and at will from one musical style to another.
Thorogood, moreover, plays a mean guitar on "Move it on Over" and demonatrates that he deserves to be included among the elite class of rock guitarists.
Fans of bands like the Yardbirds, the Animals and the Rolling Stones will in particular be drawn to Thorogood and Move it on Ouer. On songs like the title cut (an old Hank Williams number), Berry's "It Wasn't Me" and Elmore James "New Hawniter James ", New Hawaiian Boogie." Thorogood and the Destroyers capture the musical energy and intensity musical energy

Thorogood's gruff, raw vocals are a perfect complement to his devastating guitar playing, especially on numbers like' "So Much Trouble" and "Who Do You Love." At the same time, he is capableof singing in a smooth, capabio singing in a amooth, melodic style when he wants to. The bluea number "TheSky is. Crying"is one of the album's high points because Thorogood deftly tailors his vocals in auch a way as to best guit his wailing, soaring guitar solos.

Move it on Over really has no weak songs on it, it is conaistently fine throughout. Dixon's "That Same Thing" is nothing less than terrific. "I'm Just Your Good Thing" is trikingly reminiscent of the Stones hit "Heart of Stone" Thorogood goes absolutely bersert on slide absolutely "Baby please Se guitar on in 00 . best doing makes trie song the best cut on the album. Cash's amusing and lively "Cocaine
For rounds out the album.
For devotees of old time rock'n'roll and raunchy blues, Thorogood couldn't have come along at a better time. In this age of disco and packaged, slicked-up music, it's comforting to see that George Thorogood and the Destroyers have been able to put the blues and hard-driving rock'n'roll back on the map again.

EVERGREEN

MCAT/DAT REVIEY COURSE
We prepare; more students nationwide than any other review course
M Material Updatod for 79
228 hr . Clase work/practica exam
FCiseses held withim walking distince of SU campus Call or wrie for our treo 12 page booklot:
"Propering for the MCAT/DAT"
Evergreen MCAT/DAT Review Course 8049 Bamm Hollow Rd., Clay, N.Y., 13041 CALL: 699-2015 (evenings)

because of the unexpectedly large freshman class. Decker said Flint and Booth halls had the largest number of students in extended housing.

A spokesperson for Flint Hall reported that all its extended housing residents had been moved except for residents of one triple who wanted to stay in the same room.
A spokesperson for Booth Hall said the laststudent in extended housing was to move out today.

TONIGHT 8 TOMORROW

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Lopince ion } \\
& \text { Illicepodian } \end{aligned}
$$

Our fabric. hand printed on cotton, can be used in endless ways. It can be "framed like a picture. stuffed like a pillow. hung like draperies, and sewn like a dress."
FABRIC BARN also carries a complete line of all types of new and unusual fabrics; also, basic tailoring supplies and notions for your dressmaking needs.
105 Brooklea Drive. Fayetteville
2blocica past Fville Mall - in Limeatone Plaza, 9-5:30 Mon-Sat.

DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD PARTY SUMMERSTYLE at deltá tau delta: 801 WALNUT AVE. THURSDAY, JAN. 18 9:OO P.M.

FREE LEI AT THE DOOR

If your picture ain't in the yearbook, your Mama's gonna kick your butt.

Buti You con sodve your hide. An of right now, there th no nenior portrati of you gin now, there ta no nenior portrath of you going Giro the variboak Act NOW end edil SENIOR PORTRAIT. The number is litied if your coil If you call right now, wetl make sure the rearbook atoff getts your pormah.

Call 422-9228 For your EMERGENCY SENIOR PORTRAIT.

To get into Medical School you probably read over 2,000,000 words. Read just 112 more and you may get a full Scholarship.
The Armed Forces need physicians. And we're willing to pay for them. Full tuition. Books. Fees, Necessary equipment. And S400 a month tax free. Once selected for a Health Professions Scholarship - available from the Army. Navy or Air Force - you are commissioned a second lieutenant or ensign in the Reserve. Serve a 45 -day active duty period annually. And agree to serve on active duty. for a period dependent on the duration of your participation in the scholarship program.
As a fully commissioned officer you receive excellent salary and benefits. More importantly. you get the opportunity to work and learn beside dedicated professionals.
For more information merely mail in the coupon below.
ARMED FORCES

Armeo Forcia Scholar mips. P.O. Box 177B, Valley Forge. PA 19481
Yes, Imp intoruated in Armed Forces rdealth Professions Seholarahig opportunities.

| OArmy | TPryskich | $\square$ velerinar ${ }^{\text {a }}$ | - Optometry |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| $\square$ Neny | OPsychology (PhD) ${ }^{\text {- }}$ | $\square$ Podiatry |  |

OAirforce
gitease prixix
Nemp. Address City DPsychotogy (PhD) $\square$ Podiatry cotease pratis

Enrolled at

Potorinary and Podititry not vilable in Navy Program:

Here, there & everywhere

TODAY

Mow forelon Ftudents ere irvited to in Imternetional Sudent Ansocianion reception Pom Hom. Hetrict chay in the Chep su orchuntre eudthionn will bo from 10 a.m.-noon and 2-4 p.m. today and tomorrow in 2.7 Crouse. poimment

Univoritty chorife end medrime shoners will budition toder. Deseille at 402 Crouso.

Lemt dey to eudition for SU Wrad Encernble is today. Detalis at 402 Crouse.

TOMORROW

Chest Ciub meets at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in 336 Smith. New mernbers welcome regerdiens of ability.

Undergirndunte peogrephy mejors should mout at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in 306 HEC for di*cutsion of careers. कchoiarships. Deography undergrad club, parties, speakers, Society , errition pist the tonors advisary committes.

NOTHCES

Nonviotent Conmict ind Change courses, mini+courses pand

Nows reporter's

 meetingFriday, 3 p.m.

TRADITIONS COMMISSION PRESENTS

1.00

FREE BUSES EVERY 20 MINUTES FROM:

- Sadler
- Watson Theatre
- Brewster/Boland
_ Sims

MUSIC BY MASQUERADE ADMISSION $$ 1.00$

Affairs in the Time Seredule ot Clasters and futfill group requirements in tociet tcionce.
Slon-up dandlymet for worrien's bunkertholil. coned wolleptall and wkiling impamurela sire Jan. 22 ar 139 from tast semester must be pickad up by Jan. 26. For dethils, call Karen et $423-2808$.

Delly Mate at Henctricke Chapel at noon.
Mectien metuderte: N.Y. Reqents Prytician Shortwoe Seholarthiple for $1979-80$ ere open. Appticartions and information gre evilabia from the Hiater and Profespionat Education Triting Cutrurat Educstion Cemer, Jeming, Cuthural Educetion Center
Albany, N.Y. 12230 . Desdime Miey 1. Must be Now York resident.

Eart mxpecterve eredit. NYPIRG a offering spring sementer intornahips in communications. pre town. consumer and envirommentiol isw ies. Stop by 1004 E. Adams St or cell $476-8384$.
NOTICES FOR MERE, THERE E EVERYWMERE are due at The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adamp Se., by noon annourvcemente to 20 words. Name and telephone number of sender and telephone number of sender. nouncements are taken ower the phone.

FAST BREAK DELI

534 Westcott St. 475-5195

SUPER

SANDWICHES

Roast Beef. Turicey; Ham. Corned Beet. Paztrami, Chease. Chicken Salad, and Vegetarimn. A Big, Big Sandwich at a Low, Low Price.

WE DELIVER

7 p.m. to closing. 7 nights a weak. New Dotivery Rates:
1 whole sandurictu 61.00
2 whole sandwiches 754
3 whole sandwiches 500
4 whole sandwiches 25 c
5 or more sandwiches FREE

PARTY TRAYS

We make sliced meat trays; including bread, cherse & pickles, For all occasions. Delivery is FREE.

SUPER SUDS

Singlet, Six Pack or by the Ciste at Low. Low Prices:

Molson $$ 1.99$
Miller $$ 1.79$
Qud et. 79
Bud et. 79
Labluat's $$ 1.79$
Michelob $$ 2.00$

Classified ads

For sale

For Sale: Futh line of nail and skin care items, discount prices. ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPPLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave., naxt to Post Office $475-9289$.

ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza 8 Hot Subs with Lots of Morzarelia Cheese socri.

CAR INSURANCE: All Students Qualify. Low Payments. Days 474 . 4507 Eve. 676-7622 Clancy's insurance. 466 Westcott St., near campus.
T Pair Lange Pro Ski Boots size 7N used - excellent cond. $45. Terry 476-1817.
MOVING SALE Bean-bag chair. metal office desk, twin bed, aquariult tables. curtains. clocks, visit garage alala-1219 Teall Avenue Sat Sun 11 AM. 3 PM.

FREEI Size 9 Nordics ski Boots! Poles fiberglass Daiwa Skis Cubco bindings. 81.30 an inchl Negotiable. Joel 476-5785.

For rent

Private rooms furnished, share kit chen, bath and living room, Clean. walking distance - 474-1303 - or 472-0154.
Rooms available singles. and doubles. $$ 500$. $$ 525$ per semester. Call Sig Ep 475-6773.
2 bedroom apt for rent sublease $$ 300$, with utilities. 104-36A. Ivy Ridge Rd. $472-6224$ /.

Spacious five room flat within five minutes drive of campus. $$ 165$, mo. evénings or 473-5170 days.
House for rent: $3 \mathrm{br} .11 / 2$ bath, garage quiet neighborhood in university Area; Available Jan. $\$ 325.00$ plus utilities. Call 479-7368 Leave mes comper

ON CANPUS, 6 rooms, firepiace furniahed, 176.00 mo. NO UTILTIES OR PETS. Lease. 446-7183 after 5 p.m.

Large Remodelied House avail. immed. Lancaster Ave. $450. oer month. Plus utilities. Sac, Dep. Call Mr. Roth 422-0409.
Apt. for rent: Ivy Ridge - Immediate occupancy 132,50 includes all utilities: Parking - call 422-7845 Philip.
Parking spaces available/Excettent location. Very rassonable rates. Call Lerry at 478-9015 or 423-2665.
Room, 112 Comstock, Clean, Warm, Fully Stocked Kitchen; Facilities Evenings.

Personals

RUBY- Have the best birthday everl it's great to share it with yout 1 love you, Hildi:
Lazar Diamond, and Fuchs. Thirteen weeks to go. Oh Boy Lets go for it Love and kisses CRIPPO, Karen, Happy Birthday- I wented to buy you shoes, but didn't know size. Love Litrlefeet.

Services

LET US DOYOUR TYPING. quick - Et ficient - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big - none 200 small. Call Vicki Meadows 471-5503.
Typing service; thesis and dissertation experience. 60 C double space BM Selectric: after E. 457-7846 Mrs. Jones.

Sewing: Will sew anything from Sewing: Wilt sew anything from Reasonable rates. Call Terry 476 1817.

Wanted

Two houseperson's wanted- waiter distrwashing and potcleaning. Res ponsibinities. Frae Board. call Sig Ep. 475-6773.

Low on money and records that aren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECOROS. Brlng them in for instant cash. Top prices paidi DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouss 472-3235 Mon-Sat. 11-6.,
One or two roommates needed to sublet apartment second semester With fall option. Luxury housing two blocks from campus. $422-7110$ days, 422-3852 evenings.

Kitchen help needed ut fraternity house: Great food; Free board or wages paid in axchange 478-9015 Mike or Larry.
Roommate wented: Beautiful apt. conveniently located Weatcort ares Mature grad student. female proferred. Call 476-7235.

Cocktell waitress, Bartenders. Doormen needed. For Disco opening soon. Call. Steve 637-3579 Mor nings.
PART TIME JOB-Dependsblo person to clean new home for Faculty lamily 6-35 hours weekly. Someone who can prowide own transportanion to Eastern suburbs preforred Call 637-5B25 or 423-2210. .
-

號號

$$
\begin{aligned} & \text { } \\
& \text { } \\
& \hline
\end{aligned}
$$

| We Bury, Sell & Trade  Used LP's, 45's, Rock Maganiness  Bring your recordsi to us for cash  Collections bought House calls by appointment  1.000's of records in stock ©. Most LP's only s2-s3 © All records guaranteed e' We specializé in out-of-print records.  DESERTSHORE RECORDS  S. Campua Mall. 730 5. Crouse M-Saz. 11-8 (472-3235) |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Drivers Wanted

Part time.

Flexible hours and days. Must be able to work weekends. Must have use of own car. Must be at least 18.
$$ 2.90$ an hour to sta. 4
Plus commissions and tibs.
*3.40 an hour gueranteed,
plus mitesge expensas.
Apply in person between: 4:30 and B:00 P.M. 1501 Erie Blva. E.

Starry, starry night

Dave Bing, Syracuae's all-time leading scorer, returns to Manley Fiald House tonight in a Syracube uniform.

Bing, along with several other former SU stars, will play in a contest of "Odd-Year Alumni" against "Even-Year Alumni" beginning at 6 p.m. The exhibition game will serve as the preliminary to the SU-Siena matchup.
Bing (class of ' 66 and a former NBA all-pro with the Detroit Pistons) will be joined by Dennis DuVal (class of '74), Greg Kohls (class of '72) and Kevin King (class of "76) among others. The odd-year team will be led by Mark Wadach and Mike Lee (both class of "73) and Jimmy Lee (class of '75).

Former Syracuse emptain Dave Bing (loft) snd prazent Orange captain Wark Cubit (right) will both be in action tonight at Maniey Fietd Howse.

Captain Cubit

During the height of the celebrated Case Of The Missing Freshmen, SU coach Jim Boeheim named senior guard Mark Cubit second captain of the 1978-79 Orange team along with Dale Shackleford. Cubit, who transferred to SU in 1977 from the University of Vermont; has received considerably more playing time for the Orangemen this season because of a kamikazelike effort in the team's practices.

Being named a co-captain was a nice experience, something ITl always appreciate," Cubit said. He added that sitting on the bench as he did for most of the 1977-78 season forced him to grow up" and he became a "better person for it."

Rutgers tickets

Students with athletic activity cards can pick up their tickets for Monday night's SU-Rutgers game tomorrow and Friday. Ticket windows at both Manley Field House and Archbold Gym will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for ticket exchanges.

With Niagmra Falle in the backyround and a warm thn bemting down, the tuture wase bright for miagera's phil gedffidi at the start of the maraon.

Scaffidi stricken

It wad discovered recently that Phil Scaffidi, a four-year starter for the Niagara University basketball team, has cancer. Scaffid, a G-foot guard who was captain of this season's Purple Eagle team, has played well againsit Syracuse the past three years, eapecially in last season's 69-68 SU win.

During surgery Scaffidi had 60 percent of his liver, one kidney and an adrenal gland removed. Preliminary reports in dicated that Scaffidi has a rare type of muscle cancer, which may or may not be treatable.
"His physical condition is coming around very fine and the ie in great eppirita," said Niagara coach Dan Raskin.
Demoralized physically and enotionally, the Purple Eaglea are 2-11 this seasion.

Will Orange spell Siena W-I-N

By Mike Stanton
How do you spell rout?
You could spell it W-H-I-T-T-I-ER. OT COR-N-ELLL But for tonight, at least, the proper spelling should be S-I-E-N-A. with the ' $I$ ' before ' $E$ ' and probably a 30 -point spread to proot.
Actually -the Siena squad that visits Manley Field House tonight at 8 p.m. Wo face the 12 2 nationilly-ranked action tonight egaint sianim.

Photioi by Joah Shetdon Sophomore cemter Danny Schayde (center) inere firud

Orangernen (12th in AP, 15th in UPI) itn't as hapless as other Syracuse creampuffa have been.
The Indians, $7-5$ in their third -year of Division I competition, are currently ninth in the nation in team field goal shooting percentage ( 52.9 percent) and boast four starters who are gunning 52 startera who are Siena, a achool of 3,200 out-ride of Albany, is led by 6-foot6 Scaward Rod Owens, a junior cransfer from Davidson College who is shooting 58 percent from the, field, and averaging 18 points and eight rebounds.
At Davidson, Owens, whois also an All-American Academic. Team candidate with a 3.5 average in the clasoroom, etarted every game as a freahman, averaging 10.7 points and was mamed to the All-Southern Converence freahman team.
The other members of Siena's "Five Litale Indians". starting lineup are forward Jeff Dowdye ( 52 percent;-14.4 points per same) aind guards Michael Catino. (52. percent, 16.4 points) and Rich Fury ( 54 percent, il . 1 points).
Siena is probably weakestat center, where a sometimesawluward freshman, 6-foot-8 Vernon Asquitch, averages 5.5 points and six rebounds a game and has blocked 13 shots. Overall. she shorter Siena playere are poor of the defensive boards, where the Orangemen should dominate.
The Indians are also suaceptible to committing turnovers at an alarming rate and could crumble-under $S U^{\prime}$ pressing. manito-man defenae. Defenaively, Siena relies modty on a 1-3-1 zone.
Intensity was the key to Siena's most recent game, an 88.75 road win over $S t$. Peter"s, a team thatowns victories over Rutgera and Holy Cross this geason.

After going 9-15 two years ago, in their Division I debut the Indians were $13-10$ last year, with one of their logses to Syracue, 100-73, at Minaley.

Leading the Oramge apeling bee of R-O-U-T will be menior co-captain Dale Shackleford, who's 20-point ecoring average has dipped to 16.6 points, and center Roosevelt Bouie, who has raised hin average to $15: 2$ points, leading SU in scoring in its last three games.
Other double-figure acorers for the Orangemen are forward Lovis OTr ( 11.8 points a Eame) and guard Marty Headd ( 10.9 points per garne). Starter Ecidie Moss leads the team in assists winh 66

The Daily Orange

Athletic card cost may be cut

Syracuse Univeraity Athletic: Director Jake Crouthamel said-he will recommend reducing the price of the Athietic Activity Card for next year because there will be no home football games.

Crouthamel will make his recommendation at next month's Athletic Policy Board meeting, but he refused toray how much of a reduction he will ask for

The card, which was established in 1970 at a cost of $$ 15$, allows studersts who buy it to receive student tickets for all regular athletic everts. This year the card costs $$ 40$.

Becavise of the construction of thenew stadium, expected to begin this spring, no-home football games will be held at SU this fall. Instead, they' will be played at the Meadowlarids in East Rutherford, Nal. Rich Stadium in Orchand Park and Cornell's Schoel Eopf Field.

The board-is prepared to discusa the card when there is a clear notion of the future, said David H Bennett, chairperson of the board. This is an ex traordinary aituation for a major university to be ded carefe
The board is made up of SU administrators athletic-department officials, and student representatives who made recommendations on SU's policy dealing with men's athletics to Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers. Exgers will male the final decision.

On Oct. 23, Student Association passed a resolution requesting otudent input in the decision on the activity card. "We have tried to receive assurance that well be involved in the process from an early point." SA Preaident-elect Jordan Dale baid.
Kathy Courtney, vice president for student

Iranian students march in protest  By Seot French

Nearly 50 demónstratore at Syracuse Univexsity withstood the bitter cold and heavy snow yesterday to protest Iranian Shah Mohamamed Reza Pahilavi's expected exile to the United Statee.
The demonstratore gathered on the steps outside Hendricks Chapel at 11 a.m., ainging sorigs and shouting chanta against allowing the shah into the country. Most wrere members of the Iranian Student Organization.
"Letting him atay here, I think it is a shame," said Masoud Ohadi, a spokesperson for the group."Heis a criminal. He is a bymbiol of repression.
The group carried signs and shouted, "Death to the Shah!" among other. slogans and oongs. The demionatrators marched around the Quad, Btopping in front of Archbold Gym where class registration was being held, before moving on.
They marched for 45 minutee and concluded with a song at the top of the Hendricks Chapel stepa. Many said they were happy that the shah left Iran Tueaday, but were dismayed that he might be allowed to remain in exile in the United States.

However, neither that posaibility nor the snow could dampen their spirits.
"I amampeif there is an Iranian in Alaska, he is enjoying it," said Ali Ghadrboland, an Iranian whoisa teaching assistant at SU.
The country was recently turned over to a civilian government led by Premier Shahpour Bakhtiar, although many doubt his regime will last becanse of opposition from the shah's leading religious enemy. Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. Bakhtiar's cabinet was approved by the Iranian Parliament earlier this week-
Ohadi said the group is opposed to the Bakhtiar's civilian government because it was approved by the ohah, whom he ralled a dictator. "Anything related to the shah is subject to hatred, "he said.

Lait semester, the SU College for Human Development proposed an honorary degree for the mhah's wife, Empress Farah Diba. However, the proposal was indefinitely withdrawn after it met with protest by members of the Iranian Student Organization. They claimed the Empress was direc tly involved with the shah and his alleged denial of human rights in Iran

Ghadrboland and Ohadi axid they no longer fear SAVAK, Iranian secret police, as a source of retaliation against anti-shah sympathizers. The now. Iranian government has promised to abolioh SAVAK
"For four years I have lived here, and now I can asy who I am. Forme, thisis my birth day," Ghadrboland who I am. Forme, this is my birthday.' Ghadrboland said Ohadi don't have to wear masks anymore," said Ohadi.

Ghadrboland has not spoken with his family in Iran in six months and does not know their fate "I would be proud if my brother wers hilled because he did it for his country, because what he did will allow

Continued on pepe two

New SA vice presidents lay groundwork for term

Incoming Student Association vice presidents are establishing the which begins Feb. 1.
Incoming Vice Preqident for̀ Academic:Affairs Dan Keefe aaid he hoper to publish a course evaluation catalog by the end of the sermester.
The catalog will preaent an evaluation of a teacher's performance in as many clasess as poisible.

It's important to. get a course evaluation out," Keefe said. "Most of

mad

Keefe also gaid he wrill look into incoxporating pluaes and minuses into Syracuse University's grading system. Other aciademic affairs plans include an evaluation of terching asaistanta and a Eurvey of overcrowded classes and dorms, Keefe enid.
Student programs will work toward reducing the number of regietration packets withheld because of unpaid bills, said incoming Vico: President

Frank Slazer
The bursar's office is entirely too picky with what they withhold," Slazer said. "There's a lack of communication between the bursiar and the reat of the administration."

Slazer said he also hopes to implement a meal plan that includes only lunch and dinner, along with making the commuter plan available to on-campis residents.
Other plansfor student programs include working. to establish one-bemester univergity houting contracta and evaluating. Syracuse University's financial aid program.

Siversity/community relations nominee Larry Beer said he hopes to secure a standardized lease for all off-campus residents.

We want to ensure uniform trieatment," Beer said. "The lease would malce the temants and the landicirds more responsible."

Beer said healso wants to change the Continued on pege four

Page 2

It's easy to apply for Daily Orange editor in chiel. Just mail or bring a letter of intent to Tom Coffey at the DO, 1101 E . Adams St, by next Tuesday at 4 p.m. All candidates will be interviewed.

Welcome Back

THE STUDENT CENTER offers you a little of the home you left behind:

FOOD
all day long, with breakfast from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m., we serve lunch and dinner until 7:45 p.m. each weekday.

BEVERAGE

coffee, hot chocolate with lots of whipped cream, a full liquor bar open all day, MondayFriday.

COMFORT

relax in our elegant surroundings and warm your toes in front of the crackling fireplace. Meeting rooms are also available for small groups, give us a call.

and something your mother never gave you!  HAPPY HOUR

from 9 to 11 p.m., Monday through Friday. Take a break from studying and fill your cup with good cheerl

All this and more at 310 WALNUT

The Student Center 423-1302
Open 9 a.m. to midnight M-W, 'til 1 a.m. Th. E F

$\star$ Iranians protest at Hendricks

Statew, Ghadrboland does not iee a happy future for him. "I'm aure whexever he goes mintil he is dead theae people will be after him."

Ohsidi aid that although the U.S. govermment has thown support for the shan, he said he belfeves the Annerican people snpport the resistance.
"I think the people of the United States do care about the people of Iran. They know that they have been auffering. However, the American tovernment, for many zeasons, really doesn't care about them." Ohadi cited corporate interests in Iran an a possible reason for the U.S. governanent's pro-shah stance.

Ohadi said he does not expect any foreign powers to be successful in exerting infivence on a new Iranian government. He said the Soviet Union is nota threat becanae the Iranian people "are against any represaive government"

* Reduction of card cost possible

Cominuod from pege one programe, was surprised the recommendation was going to be made. "We, were not consulted," she said. "I am concerned about the price. I would like to see it at about $$ 20 .{ }^{*}$
The card's future after next year will eventually be discussed by the Athletic Policy Board. The possibilities inciude separating the price of football and bagketball tickets or eliminating the card altogether, according to Crouthamel.
"This is only in the diecussion stage," he adided.
Other large mnivergitiem around the country have different athletic activity card policies. Penn State Univeraity and the University of Notre Dame havea mandatory student athletic fee and then hold a lottery to determine who will get tickets. But this syatem would moly worle at a sehool where the demand exceeded the aupply.
Other schools, such as Maryland, have a policy eimilar to SU's. The University of Kentucly, which has a atrong athletic tradition, has no policy and no card, forcing its students to fight with everyone else for tickets.

Photo by Richard Fownerst

The Daily Orange Corp. 1101 E. Adams St., Syracuse, N.Y. 13210 , publisfoes The Daity Orenge weehday of the acadernic year. Editorinl (316) 423-2127. businest (315)423-2314.

Honoring excellence

The way we honor professors at tional Academic Achievement to SU is if they're any good, we don't fire them until they're 65 .

And for administrators, excellence is perceived as not making too many people mad.

As for students, well, if your grades are decent, maybe you'll get a good job - shouldn't that be enough.recognition?

Individual academic achievement is one of the quiet miraclea that are largely unrecognized at SU. The construction of the new management building, the renovation of HIL, the fund-raising drive for the stadium - these are the events to spout forth when one asks what's happening at SU. But these are physical changes, talk of the body of the university. Its true energy and impetus lies in the life of its mind.

Honoring outstanding conon this campus will bring to light the university's hidden assets its outstanding professors, administrators and students.

The long-overdue program for honoring academic excellence was finally developed last semesterJim Naughton, SA vice president for academic affairs; and John J. Prucha, vice chancellor for academic affairs, created the Chancellor's Citation for Excep-homor "whatever stimulates and achievement:" exceptional teach ing research and any of the myriad of achievements in the sharing and creation of knowledge.
But who to honor? The citation selection committee is seeking suggestions for the 10 to 15 examplea of excellence to receive the award. Professors, administrators and students are invited to submit nominations. Here is where we can go beyond the quiet thank-you's after class, or the computer's tiny $\mathbf{A}$ in the right-hand column of a grade report. Submit the name of someone who helped you learn, who inspired you to think, and tell the committee why the person deserves the award.

Subroit your nominations to: J. Allan Robinson in the computer science department; Peter Marsh, director of the Honors Program; Sylvia Wyckoff in visual and perforrning arts; or Thomas Green in cultural foundations; or send them to the students on the selection committee, Loni Morrison, Robin Severino or Jim Naughton.

Your nominations will help uncover the , university's hidden quality. -

Sy Montgomery for The Daily Orange

An argum

There seems to be an absence of any reasoriable articulate viewpoint emerging in support of investiment in Soluth. Affica here on the SU campus. I am opposed TV apartheid and any other measures of discrimination that exists in any nation; I am a card-carrying liberal American who supports the concept of human rights and the concepta of the U.S. Constitution. Thus, the very reason that ine support Constitution. Thus, the very reason that I support investment in South Africaisbecause Iamgenuinely concerned with the welfare of the citizens of the Union of South Africa-citizens of the Union of South Africafor divestiture, I disagree with the means they choose to attain them. If those who advocate divestiture are successful, then they would find that their objectives would not be achieved. Divestiture would not improve the quality of life of the "exploited majority." but would result in the worsening of their situation both economically and politically.

Comment: Paul W. Ploener

Let us examine the scenario of an embattled and isolated South Africa:
All foreign investment has been liquidated and the nation has plummeted into a deep recession or depression. The gross national product has been decreasing rapidly and joblessness, especially among blacks, has reached epidemic proportions. Wealthy white South Africans are leaving the country and are taking with them vast sums of fmoney which compose the foundation of the nation's capital base. The economic crisis has heightened racial texsion, jobless blacks have begun to riot in areas like Soweto. The government has become more deferasive and reactionary and-sends troops to bring order.

The result is bloodshed and violence.
This hypothetical situation is a re-enactment of the course of events that have occurred throughout Africa when. whites and blacks have been unable to rica when. Whites and blacks hise been unabie to Rhodesia, Angola, and Mozambique should cause us to take a more cautious and moderate approach to this issure. The aensible course of action would be to use whatever economic leverage we have to promote peaceful change. Any radical solution such as dives titure would result in the marked decline of the standard of living of South African blacks.

A growing and stable economy would be beneficial to blacks as well as to whites. Therehave been studies done that forecast that blacks will have to fill an indone that forecast that blacks will have to fill an increasing number of white-collar and skilled jobsif the economy grows, because there are not enough whites available in the labor force. The increasing economic equality gained by blacks would help to improve their social and political standing as well. Divestiture would only serve to worsen the lot of blacks in South A frica and therefore would not constitute a constructive course of action.

Department of Strange Phenomena

In-depth reporting award of the month:

Cleveland:  Alive and Well, ThankYou

Recruiting

By Marilyn 塭ariks
While many Syracuse Univeraity stridemts know too well that Syraceve biea on the edge of Central Now Yorx's innfamous snow belt, they may not know that the city is also at the center of the Iroquois Confederacy-

Partly because of the proximity of Native American reservations in the area, $S U$ hss been recruitin.
American stradents.
American stadents.
The amiversity be
The univertity began to ac tively recruit Native American students about two yeara aso, said David Smith, assiocisite director of admispions, and Douglas George, Native American Society apoleaper-

"We want to make SU an ideal place for Native American studente, George said. "Becaume of its central locstion GU is one of the beet piares in the country for this?" Thate are. 62 full-time undaere are. 62 fuin-time Native Ammerican atudenta enrolled at STU Wighteen wors en mitted with September 1978 ! mitted with september 1978.s rashman clasb, compared wrevious frituman clase th previous freshman chases. Alth may geern Bmail, Smith maintains the improvementhas been impreagive. "If there were any Native Americans here at all five years ago," he said, "they camae at the words of the lac rosuac coach. Today the great majority are here for academic reazone.

A major part of the recruitment program involves SU

Native

 viaitint visitin: Americam - fudentsnearby meservations fing at the Seneca, Mohswt and Omondara zemervations.Although the program's impact is hard to measure, Smith said he believes it has been succestul A George's virite a proup of 18 Georges virita, a cxoup or 18 stadents came to visit the SU campus last April.
campuat last April.
We introduced them not only to SU, but to the idea of what a univermity is,* Sraith Mrich of the program's success is due to the active role SU's Native American students play. Smith explained that the decision toinvolve students was "predicated on the arrpposition that for me to lumber out to the reapgrations would be insensitive.*

The SU administration has been receptive to the rec ruitment program, according to Smith and Creorge. But Smith said the pargram will not involve any great changes in admiasions approaches or policy.
were not interested in a cevolutionary epproach to br ing tons of students unless we're prepared for their specisal needs," Smith explained, adding that the preaent approach will "continue actively and

$\star$ Incoming

Onondagr
County voting code to allow voter regietration for $$ \mathrm{U}$ students. In addition, he hopes to build a strong SU' lobbying effort in social igeves such nestha Pqual Rirgks Amendmort.
"SSU has been lax in social consciouspess," Beer said. conscionsiness, Beer said. ${ }^{\text {"Tt's SA' }}$ ' University/commannity. relations will also be working on a bus gurvey to determing on a bus survey 20 decermine where improvement is meeded and will contimue gtudent union building megotiations with Chancellor Melvin A.
aggreenivaly," Sroith and five involved- tudants are developing : an andiovirmal preaentation to forthur aid their appromeh on repervations.
In mddition to recrniting atudents, George eaid the program aims for consimtency. He cited a large dropmont of Native American students. Attrition jates, however. are mavailable.
George pointed to the need for a center for Native Amexrican criture and studies As one anowers to this problem.
Smith said, "As we begin to have more Native American atudents here, we can clevelop programs to reflect their cultures. We muat make acceptances to our own cultural values, recognize the differencers: tecognize the ( Crocge, ti Mohawt said he thinics that SU is the place. "Whan you come hete" he said, "you won"tloee your iden-hity-Native Americans at Harvard, Yale or Dartmontb lost contact with the people they are supposed to represent. They loet their culture, their pride"

Wtell stadents there's potential here; there's room for people to work and tirn dreatms into reality; he con tinued. "GU his room for Native Americans to grow."

SA VPs

Egerers.
Acministrative operations nominee Dave Cleary maid he wants to make SA representatives more responifible to their constituents :

We have to let the etadente cnow what staden covernment can do for them: Cleary said. can do for them,
Along with commonicetion. Cleary said he plans to work on constitutionsil reform, elecon constitmiona reiorm, eiec tion procedures and an eff tive credentals committee.
The incoming vice presidentur will beamproved at presidenter will be approwed at the SA: Assembly meeting on Mondisy.

Toxins at Niagara Falls area Tead NYPIRG to investigate

By Jeriy Zremski

Becauna of recent discoveries of additional deadly toxins buried in the Niagara Falla aren, the Syracuae University chapter of the New York Public Interest Research Group is calling for extensive government action on pollution problems in the area.

Limited texting by the New York State Department of Health in Decermber revealed the presence of dioxin, one of the deadliest toxins known, at the Love Canal and Hyde Park landfill sites in Niagara Falls.

About 135 pounds of dioxin aré buried at Love Canal, and nearly one half-ton. was discovered at Hyde Park.

NYPIRG is urging the health department and the Environmental Protection Agency to conduct extensive teists throughout the Niagara Fallis area to discover if the contamination is spreading said-Joe Salvo, NYPIRG regional coordinator for the Syracuse tarea.

In November, NYPIRG said it believed dioxin was present at Love Canal.

At that time, Robert Halmi Jr., a NYPIRG staff member learned from officials at Hooker Chemical and Plastics Corp. that the company had buried 200 tons of $2,4,5 \mathrm{~T}$ at the site.

- By Mark Goldatein

Students, who break windows and empty fire extinguishers not, only have to pay for the, damage, but muat alao-appear before the Residence Hall Judicial Board.

The student-run board deals with complainta of vandaliam, whorti-falise fire -alarms and other matters involving undergraduate university housing.

Mike Daley, chief justice of the RHJB, said the board should be considered "as a last-resort board."

Conflicts should be resolved by the students involved or, if necessary, by Resident Adnecessary, by Resident AdJisers Daley said.

The RHJB was atarted in 1975 by the Office of Residen. 1975 by the Office of Reminconsistencies in dorm consistencies in dorm regulations. Before the board was set up, dorm courts hanwas set up, dorm courts handled the cases, which meant

Vandals' trail ends at RHJB

Dioxin forms from 2,4,5T as part of a chemical reaction. 2,4.5T was used as a defoliant during the Vietnam war.
Exposure to small amounts of dioxin can result in death, genetic disorders or long-term effecta on the nervous system. Short-term effects include strin diaorders and impotence.
NYPIRG is concerned about the danger of dioxin leaking from the landfill sites into residentiad areas and water supplies. Several families that live_near Love Canal have complained of health problems possibly related to toxins, and 54 families have asked to be moved.
Last August, 200 residents of the Love Canal area were evacuated when a number of evacuated when a number of toxins were discovered to be causing health problems there. So far, 83 toxins have been found in Hooker dumpsites NYPIRG is urging the state to move the families, but Marvin Nailor, director of communications for the health depiartment, has said no further evacuation is planned.

NYPIRG is also concerned about the danger of dioxin about the danger of dioxin leaking into the water supplies. Hyde Parkis next to consistent from dorm to dorm, Daley said.

The board consista of five full-time voting members and two alternates. Its decisions are only recommendations to ORL, but Daley said the board has received full cooperation from ORL and its decisions have been npheld 100 percent.

It can recommend a number of different actions, such as an official reprimand, which is a letter warning a student that his behaviorigintolerable. The his behaviorisintolerable. The dormitory probation. This dormitory probation. This meather residence hall and warned that if hee hall and warned that if he misbehaves again, hē could be thrown out The final course of The final course of action is expulsion from univeraity housing, Daley anid.

Apparently RHJB is well known, because groups from other schools have come to SU to study the board, Daley said. He said representatives from plant, and employees of the plant have asid the water they are processing is contaminated. No new filtration systems will be installed at the plant, however.
Also, NYPIRG fears the wells drilled by Hyde Park residents for water may .become contaminated. One area family is suffering fron an nnidentifiable iung condition, which NYPIRG thinks may be caused by toxins.

NYPIRG is also urging the state to sue Hooker for liabilities for its polluted dumpaites. Salvo said the state has spent between $$ 15$ million and 520 million on Hooker landfills.
Salvo.said the state will probably not sue Hooker because of "Governor Carey's affiliation" with Occidental Petroleum Corp., Hooker's parent company. "Occidental preaident Amiand Hammer was one of the biggest contributors, to Goverior Carey'a re-election campaign," Salvo said.
The incident in-Niagara Falls is not the first case of dioxin. contamination. In Seveso, Italy, in 1976, between one and 11 pounds of dioxin was released into the Was released into the atmosphere Antion of the area remain quarantined.

Trenton State, Trenton, N.J.

 were here inat fall 'RENB is nationally known and very reputable," he said. There have been very few cases so far this year, he said: "We've only had five cases 80 far," he said. "Usually by this time there have been $35^{\prime \prime}$Daley attributed the lighter case load partly to the new Damage Control Boards ret up in' each dorm which are responsible for finding and punishing residents who destroy dorm property.

News reporter's meeting

Friday, 3 p.m.

FILM FORUM Tiftora TONIGHT All: ADODAB

 All: ADODAB}

WAFIKIN - WALK OUT WITH A PARTY

-The 99*er SCHMIDTS 1202 nr botites
BEER, TİGERHEAD ALE, OCTOBERFEST & BOCK 6/99*
-PABST $1 / 2$ KEGS $$ 21.95$ & dep.
1/4 KEGS $13.25 & dep.

Plainville Turkey Breast $\mathbf{$ 2 . 6 9}$ lb. Imported Hard Candy French Mimolette $ 2.99 ib. Irish Blarney Cheese $$ 2.79 \mathrm{ib}$. Colby Longhorn Cheese $$ 2.19 \mathrm{lb}$.

- All varieties $5961 / 2 \mathrm{lb}$. Whole Bean Decaffeinated Columbian Coffee \$ 3.99 lb .

TODAY
Chess Cluby meats at 6:30 tontghe in 336 Smith. New players wolcome. regardless of ability.
Undergiradurate geography majors should meet bt 4:30 p.m. soday in 308 HBC tor discussion of cereers ceholarahlps. oeogrepthy undergrad club. parties, apeakers. advising, Srandard Plan, honorrs sociaty, reertiting and the deam's advisory commitree.

Intramurnilmansagers will meet at 6 tonight in the aturnin tounge. Women's Buidirg.
from 10 arm-moon will hold auditions

Why you should buy your ring now!

1. You deserve it You've accomplished a tot.
2. Save $$ 15$ on any toK gold or Siladium ring instead of the $5 \%$ or $$ 10$ you might get from any other company.
3. Different Rings! The largest setection to choose from

Over 20 different ring designs! See traditional and con temporary men's designs and beautiful fashion rings for women.

REBATE CERTIFICATE
GET A 515 REBATE ON AMY ARTCARVED COLLEGE RING WITH THIS CERTIFICATE Valid on any ring in the Ancarved Collection (even gold). Choose from a wide variety of traditional, contemporary, or fastion rings, custom made to your individuai taste.

How bo pit youe 815 rabatio by crell ghtior purenawe.

1. This coupon mussi be presanted with your order.
2. Otion valid only on ings ordered durng ithas sale.
3. Aebatescan ce issued only ather tinal payment on your ump

An ArtCerved Representatue mito
WED., JAN. 17
THURS., JAN. 18
FRI., JAN. 19
soday in 207 Crouse. Can 492-1080 or 472-5i48 for appointment
Traditiona Comminalow will hold - reception for new students from 7 . 9 tonight at Chancellor Eggers home, 701 Walnut Ave

TOMORFIOY

Chomistry colloquiurry; Dr. Allien MacDiarmid from the University of Pennsylvania will speek on Metallic Covalent Polymars and Thetr Derivativest at 3:30 p.m. The Bombuberter in Chapel basement has Handricke wins on Fridays from 8.30 and midnight.

Univeralty Union Cinema Boand will maer at $30 . \mathrm{m}$. tomorrow in the Studemi Canter conference room. Call 423-2724 for details.
Photoviatons Galiary in Hencver Square. 130 E . Goneser St, will have a reception for its new exhibit. "Photographics." from 7.9 p.m. tomorrow. The axhibit will be open through February, Mondays-Fridave

HAVE A PLANT SHOW IN YOUR DORMITORY. FRATERNITY OR SORORITY HOUSE and earn money for your organization.

Call us at 458-8030
Hudson Creek House Plants 106 Castle Road N. Syracusg, NY 13212

11 a.m-1 p.m. Saturdays 11 a.m. 4 o.m

NOTICES

Emrn expenience credit. NYPIRG offers internships in communications. pre-law. consumer and emvronmemalimeues. Stop by 1004 E. Aciems Se or cent 478-8384.

UU Cinemim Board needs people to put up postars. Call 423-2724. Clarintetisth Emophonlmta, and Mumpicat Starien neteded for SU MPromisee Promises.. Call Kan 423-8226. Sign-up basketball oradines for women bking intramurats ars jan. 22 at 139 Womer's Buitding. All fortait foes from last semaster mbst be pieked up by Jan. 26. For details, cal Karen at 423-2508.
Poptry end fiction contents are open to all SU studenta. Erveras must be typed in triplicate and submitted bry Jan. 30 to Professor Grizes are: Loring willisms Momorial Prize (s100) for best poemis) by a graduste student Whiffen Prlze ( 825 for best poem by on undergraduate. Defmere Schwartiz Prize ( 535 ) for bet poem by an undergraduate or gractuate student, ard Stephen Crane Frize for Fiction ( 550 ) for bast short story by a graduate student.
Medical ttudents: M.Y. Regen Physician Shortage Scholarshipsfor 1979-80 are open. Applications and intormation bre avaibibio from the State Eduction Dept., Bureas of Higher and Professionwl Education Testing, Cuitural Education Center. Must be New York residert NOTICES FOR HEAR THERE & EVEFVWHERE are due at The Dally Orange, 1101 E, Adams St. by noon manouncemants to 20 words. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. No announeements are taken over the phone.

Wanted.

Classified ads person needed. Paid position.
Must be available from approximately 11:30-2:30 Mon. thru Fri., typing important. Call 423-2315.

Yonere overdire

 Our head librarian invites you to stop in, dance, drink, evgn read.At the Botel Syracuse Library in Hotel Syracuse.
All drinks - $$ 1.00$ and free hors d'oeuvres 4:30.7:30 Monday-Friday. Free dance lessons on Tuesdays. No card required - except Friday. No denim, please. Jackets preferred.

HolelSyracise"    132

Otfer Editionsi E Earbizion Plapa Library. New York, NY D The Eank Library, Pitisburgn. PA $\square$ The Pharr Library. Atlantm, GA

Classified ads

2 eubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Tayior Rental Center. 478-0957. Large Ramedelfed Houme avall. month plus urtilitias Sec- Dep. Car Mr. Roth 422-0709.
Roommate wanted; to share $f=$ bedroom apartmant nicely firnished. wall io wall carpeting. 4788-1684.

Apt. for rent; Jvy Ridge- Immediate Apt. for rant; Jvy Ridge- immediate ocupancy 132. EO includes all utilities; Parking - cail 422-7845 Philip
One bedroom apt. neser S.U. and hospitals. $140. Off atreet parking included. 422-81 19.
$21 / 2$ University Ave. near Adams $5 t$. s775. or 8160 . With ceretaker functions furnished. Call $471-0723$.
Furnished single room for rent. 108.33 per month & utilities. V /fireplace. driveway. 478-4625: 422-7845.

Maid wanted 3 days a week #3. per hour. call Sip Ep 475-6773.

PART TIME JOB-Dependable person to clean now home for Someone who anjoys children has experience and can provide own transportation to Eastern suburbs preferred. Call 637-5825 or 4232210.

Guitarist looking for Rock Bandl Forming Band Brent 422-3969 7-9 PM
Poommste wamed to share apt. on S. Crouse. $$ 105 /$ mo. Heat incl. Fully furnished. Call Lee 471-1282

Countalors: Adirondack Boys Camp: 74/ wha; A460-8550; Swim ming, Salling, Cenoeing, Campcraft. trping). Ruiery Softoall, Trip Lesding 39 Mill Velley Road Pittaford. NY 14534.

Personals

Debbie, No longer contributing to the delinguency of o minor. Happy Blrhdayl H.D.
Me excuse Jane. Aprille, Donna. be a smesthing good nime. We can steal posteards, drink chiliged wine ala bus, and pley dots on a raincoart. Maybe even soe an, un. oo la la. Cheerio. Teddy.

Lost & found

Loat: 1/15. Jack. Irish Setter woaring fiea and choke collar. Call 4240930.

Services

LET US DO YOUR TYPING. Quick Efficient - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big - none too si
MCAT DAT students: Sign up for course now, study during vacationl Stanley Kaplan Education center LTD. Syracuse 451-2970.
Low on money and records that aren't warted? WE BUY. USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash. Top prices paidl DESERT-Mon-Set 11-6 Mon-Sat. 11-6. training Learn atcilng tetanify end communicstions akillis. Full lift pase for emire mepsion 40 . Every Sundey at Song Mountain. deft 696-5711.

PARALIEL AND EEYONDI FOR UPDER Ieval akiatars onty. Mopul Bustin' Nastar Training Mountain Cruisin; Two hours instruction by fully CERTIFIED instructors only, plus full lift psss for TAIN. $40. JoH 896-6711.

MENI WOMENI JOES. CRUISE SHiPS" FAEIGHTERS. No experience. High payl See Europe, Winteri Surtmerl Sond 3.85 for info. to SEAMORLD EH, Box B1036, Secto. Co. 95860.

Daily Orange Cimsified Ad Insertion Procedure: Derdiline, 2 Businget days before the linue you wish the ad to appear by 2 p.m. Chargee; 51.65 min. cherge (16 worde or hasa) capitals.

For Your Convenience SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Is Open

-0 FILM तFORUM

"THE OXIY '35MW' SERIES ON CAWPIUS"

SPRIMG SCHEDULE 1979

GIFFORD AUDITORIUM

san. 16-18
Ruchard Arcate's harroutn $789: 15$ Richard Arook's harrowing; powerful fifm of Judith Russner's grisiv socio-sexual thrifler. The cension between Brook "s blurtress And Disne beator's instinceual dejtcacy proKeaton's instinctual delicacy produces the idest cheqistry for this tales. Tour de force perforninnce by Diane keaton.

ARTMAL PEWM APPEARALEE
Jan. 22-25 (Hon.-Thurs.) 7a9
A retrospective shoring or Arthur penn's filots with a personal appenn's filts with a personal appearance foll lowing showing of NICHI WivE. See schedule on bock cover.

COMIMS ŚAME

Jan. 30-Feb. 1 , 3 :9 The first mainline hollymood film to deal serfouslyy with the Vretnom Har. Award - MTnining roies by Jotin voight lume einemanda and gruce Derm plus the of Haskell wexler. and aumber of very ef fective =oments in Hal Asht ection. A powerful fin!

nabiue rosa

Feb. 13-15 A Finnting litetie canadian film Benner. We shomed ehis by last fall and have had repeated last fall since. This. is another Kimests of Hince: This is another Kims of

NEZI IEALA

Feb. 20-22 . . $7 \times 9: 30$ Kurasaina's genius is still apparent In this firsi filis since 1970 made in pussis about the story of friin Russia shout the story of fris-endship oetoeen turn of century
Russian exnlorer and his siterian quide. Extruordinary cinesatography evokes mood of siberitin editure.

usma flota akl Me Tis myspancs

 Feb. 27-Mar. 1 as thealiv think of Brazilisn filma Is a light - hatarted. eol orfull rome ters. Exiting localas and charac- Tives this

THE HELISTS

SNAIT EYES
Mar. 20-22 by Wiguen the prize - winning play ver its ifintations, is one of the ever its most graphic tations, is one of tridghtening the counts of pris tory of Amerisom fife in the hifstranscript op atrocity hiolant huan dimension oives the fioland and brutai events of the film an ansbrutal events of the filmant and and thetic form and moril interpretathetic torm and moral interpret tion. The acting is excel lent.

CLASSICS WEEK

Mar. 27-29
7. 9

Tuesday - BICYaLE THifef '49. Potgnant tradition hy in the neo-realist Resnafs. The IHIRD MiN $: 49$.

tint felerios

Swiss finlugker Claude Goratte"s fil is one of the most haunting romenes of recent years. Tells of the ill fated love afficir betweren an miknard bougropis student ond an and intallectual di*tinctions: Dosinated by isabelle.

meal ans cilecolate

Apr. 17-19
Franco Brusati's poignant comedy about an itz 11 grates to Switzerland in search of calm and order and finds thate he can netither fit in nor give up bis rative identity. in one of the yperr's

- mit. xIEM

Apr. 24-26
 Who fluys peintings from Jews who der appreciated film got to play off in this country, An tmportant fifin because it shows the holocaust is unfiversal experience.

IUYASIIN DF TAE BARY SMATCMEAS (135t May 1-3

See the this classic by Don Siegeit and en sare: In the fifties this was a contemporary problers of elinina

PUBLIC WELCOME

Orange scalp Siena, 144-92

By J.T. Brady
With 21 beconde rempining, the Sour Sitrua Societyband struck up "Amen," the traditional victory anthem, to signal yet another Syracuse win. This time, however, there was one difference-it was still the first half.

Syracuse had amassed a $66-36$ lead over hapleas Siena College, and while the game was, for all intents and purpoaes, over, the fun was not. The Manley crowd of 8,650 watched the Orangemen continue the onglaught in the second half enroute to $\mathrm{B} 144-92$ romp, the highest point total ever for an SU team.

We have to play teams like Syracuse to improve our program; we can't avoid them forever," baid Stema conch hot?"

The Indians remained cool at the start, trailing by only 17-14 after six minutes of play. Instead of closing thergap, however, Siena fell apart when forward Rich Furr coasted in for an unconteated layupand somehow managed to misa the basket entirely. SU applied the heat witha $26-6$ tear and be basket entirely, SU applied the heat with a $26-6$ before long things had reached the boiling point.
efore long things had reached the boiling point.
Siena was as cold as Syracuse was hot, bhooting 40.6 percent from the floor. The Indians entered the game ranked ninth in the nation in Geld goal percentage with a 53 percent average. A owarming SU press, however, sparked largely by reserves, stopped the Indian attack and forced 35 turnovers.

Even Siena's atar forward, Rod Owens ( 25 points) was often stymaied by the Orange defense. At one point Owens took a pass under the basket, feinted, jumped and had his shot rejected by three SU players.

The Orangemen obwiously did more than play defense, as Hal Cohen ( 25 points), Rick Harmon and Louis Orr (17 each) led an SU bitz that broke the old sconing mark (12, points in 1964 ) with $3: 22$ remaining. Eight playera frished in double Eiguree for the Orange, including Frarmon'a fellow freshman Ron Payton, who tossed in 12. The frosh duo also received some of the playing time they hand duo also received some of the playing time they had Coach Jim Boeheim cleared his bench.
"This was a good opportunity for eome gays to get game experience, and it's nice to do it before 8,000 people." Boeheim aaid. "That large a lead madeit uncomfortable for me à coach - I was criticized once this year for running up thescore, but that critic was never at Manley Field House.?

| Slenat (92) | FG | F"T | TP |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Furr | 1-4 | 00 | 2 | Syr (144) | FG | FTI | TP |
| Catino | 3-7 | 6.8 | 12 | Shack | 89 | 1-2 | 17 |
| Asquith | 3-7 | 4.6 | 10 | Ort | 4.5 | 5-6 | 13 |
| Dowdye | $0-2$ | $4 \times 4$ | 4 | Bruie | 5-8 - | 6-6 | 16 |
| Owens | 8-15 | 9.9 | 25 | Moss | 2-4 | 1-1 | 5 |
| Terwillinge | ex 3-5 | 1.2 | 7 | Hersed | 6-11 | $2-4$ | 14 |
| MeGraw | -1-6 | 34 | 5 | Cohen | 11-17 | 3.3 | 25 |
| Sibe | $0-2$ | 6.6 | 6 | Cubit | 25 | 0-0 | 4 |
| Mahoney | 23 | $2 \cdot 3$ | 6 | Schayes | 37 | 6-6 | 12 |
| Daniels | 23 | 2.2 | 6 | Payton | 5.9 | 2.4 | 12 |
| Murray | 23 | 0.1 | 4 | Harmon | 6.12 | 5-6 | 17 |
| Babcock | 0.3 | 1-2 | 1 | Jerebko | 3-4 | 3-4 | ? |
| Keating | $1-3$ | $2 \cdot 2$ | 4 | Totals | 58-90 | 34-42 | 144 |
| Totals 2 | $26-64$ | 40-49 | 92 |  |  |  |  |

Syracupe'a Merty Hoedd (what bell) finiahed whth 14 polnts two of thoee points on foul shots after Siva's Rich Fury londed on the sti suard.

Fomer SU great Dave Bing' (left) onloyed taugha with friends and former teammates at Mantey Field House last night. Here Bing and former fraternity brother Bernie Fine (an SU coach) find the ection appealing.

Time doesn't dim memories for former Syracuse stars

By Geoff Hobson

On the way to last night's alumni game at Manley Field Houge, the editor told the reporter to take a different reporter to take a different, angle toward the old timers' Btory. None of They Came said.

The reporter could have noted how the old timers were about as sharp as the snow, or how they wheezed up and fired the ball up to the basket as fast as you could say "Billy Drew."

But there was only one real angle to take: All 18 "old timers" came from across the country in a blizzard to rekindle old friendshipes, drink Bome time while returning to the place they played their college place they
"Hey Rat Man - you sot a buzz on yet?" kidded the aecond-leading scorer in SU DuVal's vietim was the man whe jump shot Syracuse into the final four in 1975, Jimmy Lee, now a teacher and coach Lee, now a teacher and coach at Bishop-Grimes High School.
"We're here to see some guys said Lee. "We'll play hard, but the main thing is to havefun."
"You guys are going to need more than one ball out there," laughed SU's head coach Jim Boeheim. a member of the 1964-668quads. His needle was directed toward his former roomrnate and teammate on those teams, Dave Bing. Who all-tinine leading scorer.
"That"s oksy," smiled Bing. "It's the battle of the oid lege va. the young legs, but we got the bombraquand."
Yem, betwoen the jokem and friendly insult about height, wigight and age, there was a game played latet night and the odd-year grads dereated the ovex year cradis $92-87$ behind the thooting of the fahied Leo brothers (Jimmy and Millo):

Despite the score, the man of the hour was Bing. enjoying his first year of retirement from his brilliant 12-year career in the NBA. The All-Pxo took some bad shots, made some bad pasees and even missed a few lay-ups. But when you got it-you sofit and Bing showed the Manley crowd he still has that grace poipta.
I play once a weel with a bunch of achoolteachers from Detroit," Bing said after a sip of Budweiser. "It hasn't been a tough adjustment to retirement becauge I've prepared for it.*
At Manley, many who were probably drinking from baby bottles when Bing scored his 1,983 collexian points gave him a loud ovation when his name was announced. When Bing arrived in 1962, Syracuse was one of the worst teaims in the nation (2-22). When he left in 1966 , he single-handedily led the team to an NCAA tourney bid, and established SU as a national power.
"Dave Bing started everythiag at Syracuae," Boeheim said. "And guys like the Lee brothers kept it going.
'm very pleased with the success of the program," Bing said. The 1966 team was the forerunner of it and we're proud that Jim has had no much success. Even when he was playing. we knew he would be a coach. He was a very heady player.
DuVal, considered to be the smootheat player to ever wear a Syracuse uniform, teamed with Bing for the even gquad and scored 20 points while the other threeguys tried not to get in the way.
"Everytime
I come back here, I remember all of my four years, not just one thing," said DuVal ("74), now a policeman in Syracuse. DaVal tharilled tha crowd with his explowive offengivemovea, especiallywhen ho dxibbled out of a crowd on a fast break.
Milo Lea, eaptain of the 1972-73 team, Erinhed with 17 prints for the odd ypars toam.

Lee, the junior varsity coach at LeMoyne, rums the Fast Break Deli on Westcott Street with his brother.
Jimmy atill looks-like he could 80 out and upeet North Carolina with a $k 5$-foot jumper with three seconds left, like he did in the 1975 NCAA tourney. "That bas to be my No. 1 memory, going to the finatfour." Lee aaid, who hit three jumpers in a row in the Recond half to apoil the Bing Show.
John Suder, who new in from Florida for the game, will always: be remembered for throwing a-ball into the rafters at St. John's in 1970. He was impresised with the new Manley.
"It's quite a change from the old days," Suder asid. "But you know', the first thing eomehody asked mat when I got into town yesterday was about throwing the ball into the rafters. I don't think I'1 evex live it down."

EI liked the old Manley, with all the dust and dirt, it gave us, a real home court advantage," said Greg Kohis ("72), SU's fifth leading scorer. Kohls played for the opponents of the Harlem Globetratters for three years and is now a promoter for Converse. "I love my job and I'm still in sports.
The oldest player (i.e., you could count the hairs on hit head was Rechard Dunfy, class of 1961. The Daxien, Conn., resident gave the crowid a scare when he aprained his ankle late in the game and liraped off the conrt. "Gee, and 1 just bougint these gneakere too,". said Duffy shaking his head.
Mark Meadors, an SŪ assistant coach and Mark Wadach (73) and Steve Shaw (76) all hit double Another mamber of the ' 66 Another member of the 66 team, Fich Cornwell, who still Llays in the Continantial League; hit thrse ney jumpers o preaerve his teumiz victory. But no one cared witho wron or loet. "You looked crood ouf there" equieone toid DuVal Therik"" he miled sligitily. But it ie gare roing to burt tomorrow."

The Daily Orange

Tuition hike part of new budget plan

By David Bander
A. twition increaste of 8.4 percent, and a 75 percent hike in room and board costa will be recommended on Ja.
Undergraduates would pay $$ 4,4588$ forraduates would pay $$ 343$ from the $1978-79$ cost of $$ 348$ from the $$ 4,150$ in Budget and Fiscal Affairs' recomanendations are Appiroved Graduate tuition wourd increase 7.1 percent fromn $$ 140$ per credit houn to frome.

$$ 150$. | 1150. |
| :--- |
| In |

In the proposed budget. facalty salaries would increase 7 percent, in contrast to the ammualinflation rate of between 8 and 9 percent, according to the committee's report,
The budget alao recommends etiminating 35 positions, of which eight or wine would be faculty. The other positions the committee recommends eliminating would also be included under Academic Affairs, and include secretaries and ad. ministrators.
There will be no actual layoffs, according to A. Dale Tussiag, a budget committee senator. Positions that become open will not be filled until some time in the future, he siaid:

The tuition and room and board increases are the maximum allowed under President Jimmy Carter's wage and price guidelines, according to committee chairperson Nahim Horwitz.
"We have been atraining to achieve the president's guridelines, said Clifford" $L$ Winters Jr., vice chancellor for maministrative operations "because we think it's important to join in the fight portant to join in Carter's guidelines, which are voluntary, auggent keeping wageincreases below 7 percent and limiting price hikes to onehalf of one percent below the average anmual price increase Althg 1976-77.
Although the guidelines are voluntary, SU could lose government contracts for its ailure to comply.
Winters said that even without the guidelines, the tuition increase would not have been higher.
"If we couldn't have added more in revenue through tuition, how could we have added more in expenses?, he asked.
He said students will not notice a change in services at the univeraity' even though

Contanued on opgo olverun

| 7 |
| :--- |
| $79-$ |
| 780 |
| $78-$ |
| 79 |
| $777-$ |
| 78 |
| $76-$ |
| 777 |
| $75-$ |
| 76 |

| TUITIOT |
| :---: |
| $4498 |
| $4150, |
| 33900 |
| \% 3650 |
| 53340 |

R $O O O^{9}$
'985-1365
$s 870-1270$
820-1190
s780-1100

5770-990

BOARDD
*774-1259
5720-1172
$5644-1100$
$620-1050
$590-1000

Man accused in assault cases  female SU atudent, but left without harming

A former By Mark Goldstein yesterday morning in Onondaga County Court on charges stemming from assaults on three Syracuse University women last fall.
Clarence fobingon, 30 , was arrested on charges of first degree attempted rape, first charges of harst degree attempted rape, first degree sextwal counts of second degree robbery, robbery. two counts of second degree robbery, counts of second degree degree buinglary, two counts of second degree of third degree assault.

The charges were in connection with three assaults that occurred within 36 hours in September. The first two attacks occurred Sept. 11 when a man robbed and attempted to rape a woman on the second floor of Marion Hall. The same man then apparently entered the Sherbrooke Apartments at 604 Walnut Ave. minutes later and robber $$ 100$ from another her. The third attack occurred the next morning when a woman was robbed and forced to commit sodomy in the Lawrineon parking garage.
Syracuse Police Chief Thomän J. Sardino and District Attorney Richard Hennessey said at a press conference yesterday that Robinson was being held in jail in Mineola, Lomg Island under an aseumed name on unrelated charges.
Robinson's whereabouts were unknown until investigatore learned he had been jailed.
Robinson was brought to Onondaga County last Wednesday and charged.
According to Lt. John Walsh of the CID police are still investigating and more charges might be filed against Robinson in connection with other unsolved attacks against SU students.
Robinson has been ordered held without bail until a pre-teail hearing Jan. 24.

Mechanical failure hampers bookstore

By Virginiu Doyle Textbooks are finally filling the empty shelves of the Syracuse Univeraity Bookstore- Diann Straus, bookstore director, said about bookgtore director, gaid about 10 percent of the books are not 10 perc in yet.
She added that this rate is about normal.
On Wednesday, about 20 percent of the books had not yet arrived. Straus said this was due to a mechanical breakdown of the hookstore's computer three or four wreeks ago. As a result, bookgtore employees had to resort to a manual system of ordering books, which Straus called "very time consuming." She added that the remaining booke should be in by Mondey. Straus said another reason for the book delays was because of late requests by faculty members. The ookstore asks for requests by Oct. 20 but received only 20 percent of them by that date. "I don't foresee a horrendous problem," Strave aaid. "I cealize there is xa delay," but it should becleared up after the weekend, she anid.

Empty shelves at the Syracuse University Bookstore greeted many students earlier this weak.

Photai by Richand Fotkers

There isn't much time

Our country enffers from a condition I think of as aturation politica. Until a few yearw ago, if someth ing was done by the Government that upaet a lot of people, we would organize a demonthtration. Within a month or so we could bring 100,000 to 500,000 persons to Wrehington to protest. Well, muddenly Euch crises begran to hit um about once a week; as we began to organize a protept, the next crisial hit us, and then the next, and then the next. After several years of that, we ended with m numbed, dazed, punch-drunk public. incapable of further reepopse.
That condition ie beginning to involve the whole human race. All or humanity now suffers from a series of exceedingly threatening new developmenta,

Guest Comment:

all coming to a bead at about the anme time - close to the year 2000. I am one of thome scientists who, try ain we will, hope as we do, that somethimg in our view of things is wrong, otill find it difiscult to gee how the human race will get itself much paet the year 2000. So there ien't much tirme.
We live in a highly lechal occiety. No society in human history has cultivated the technology of killing and destruction an hat Weatern mociety under all humanity and much of the rept of life on Earth. The stoclrpiles of muclear weapons in the United Stutes and the Soviet Union aeveral years ago reached the explosive equivalent of ten to fifteen tons of TMT for every man, woman, and child on the planet.

It is not only ntomic bombs we need to fear. Nuclear power, that enticing prompect, in all its present forme threatem our future as a civilization and an people, in three differmat ways. Perhape the least important threat ninimately is the posaibility that many of us worry about most, the popsibility of major accidenta in nucienr power inatallationa Depending upon location, one such accident could kill hundreds of thomands of persons, and devastate and contaminatu a huge area - my atmte of Massachusets. tarninakt a h for example.

The eecond threat arieen from the fact that every nuclear reactor of any type now at worli producea as a by-product plutonium 239 , probably the mont toxic rabotance known. One milligram inhaled is enough to till a person within hotrriby bma moive fibrosia of the lungis. One microgram is likely eveatually to cause lang or bon cancer. Furtherrnore, this it the mont coavenient material out of which to male fuaion bombs. The "trigeter quantity". the amount of platonium 239 with which one can malke an atom bomb, if two kilograriz; you conld cerry that amount in a brown paper erocery bag. A plutonium 239 bomb of the explofive force of a bomb that leveled Ifirobhimsa and hilled one hundred thousand personn that into e mix to severi cillograme You'chave to put in into a hoppung bag. The minanard meactorm now in unt prodmos mongh plutaminum an a by-product every yeat to make dorens of fismion bombe. And anyome who mows this bugineganderitand that the accounta kept of the prodaction of plitionimm 239 pilowe tecalo of leakact that minken the to

The third danger in nuclear power in that no ons hnow how to flose the wrette products, which will rumpin drageroule for half a million yepra.

If you can inambine any pimes on the aurface of the Pimith or mender the tevet to morre that hind of thing with wome aspurance that it will mey pat for $20,000 y$ yerw, 50,000 yearm, 100,000 yeern, you begin to teve the mroblern.
Thiaris on eppecially frighteming part of the wider problan of indubtrial pollution. Let me cite an excamples ita photo ingurein periormed by planta, which part, not on the wurface of the land but in the uppermost leyout of the ocemin. About three years ago ex. perte at the Wood Hola Ocomocrraphic Iratitution on Cape Cod. where I do my mumaner reeenurch, entimpted that by then the oil rodinued flowsing in the timuted that by then the cal monimen floating in the photcomythmetie organiwith No ont kinow

After photosynthesis had put oxygen into our at mosphere, sthin layer of ozone formed bigh in the at mopphere. That exceedingly delicate layer of oxome filters out of the aunlight reaching the Earth the shortwave radiation which would otherwise kill all forms of life exposed to it. Before that ozone Layer formed, life on Exarth had to remain under water. Now we are told that the propellant in mont of those convenient aeromol therepropensint in mont of thome convenient aterowol mpray canamattachage the oxone chicoron uoromethames, often with the carcinogenic charon choromethanes, often with the carcide our at mosphere in ever-increasing quantitien. As they rise mospaere in everincreasing quansituere, uhortwave graduaily into the high atmoapheme. mant which radiation from the ann inderaten their chorine, when ozone. If in outimated that if we were to miop all wee of ozone. Is in cand. we will already have lomit about 10 per cent of the orone layer. If we go on mach longer, per cent of the ozone

The automobile, of course, is a major hiller of healthy persons. In the United Statea, the workplacee are at leant an biar a hiller. We reginter about 22,000 are at least an biat a miler. We regnter about 22,00 deatho by induetrial secident every grear, and 2.2 milion digabling inurite the but thonestatioticu dont moch the low haling: the black lung of the coal mines, the brown lung which in produced by expontare to the dant of cotton, hemp, and flax in the textile mille, the milicouia, asbeatomis, and uraniom poisoning, and the variety of cancers amoocated with thees conditions. Such etatirtics are hard to come by. becange indumtry fights tooth and nail to keep them concealed. The reason is obvious: Every attempt to make the workplaces eafer increawen the copt of production; evecy alleged woriz injury reprementa an morrance or cotppensation cowt.
We are often told that the famine already in progreas in increasing parte of the Third World, and hunger mont the poor in eome developed countriea, in comehow the fialt of the hungry, Thie is the fauniliar tactic of blaming the victimn. It is frequantly said that the poor ahould not have so many children. that they are poor becauce they have too many thaildren. All of poo should realize by now that mist the ether way sorcund: Peopile have too momy children becatuse they are poor. Having many children is a otrategy for survival among the very poor, they need to have many children no that one or two may survive to feed them in their old age and bury them when they dic. The only way to got the poor to have fewer children is to give them some assurance that the children they have will survive. Once that is achieved, they will be glad to have smaller families. What are we to do? It is eany to say what is wrong, but how do we make it right? We scientists have one anawer all prepared: Do research. If people are hungry, set up a well funded project on hunger. If our world is coming to an end, set up a well-fanded Project Apocalypae. It'e a way of life; one can live well on "ome yeare ago, "There are now more people living on cancer then dying from cancer.
I am a researcher, and I believe research is a gne thing. We never know enough about anything. But research must not be allowed to become a trap, an excuse for endieanly putting off hetion. Al too ofien duntrial diseames, pollution, tobacco smoling, and cancer, and moat recently with the aerosol tpray-cans Cancer, andmoatrecenky with the acrosol opray-cans and the ozone layer. We are told that ${ }^{\text {and }}$ all the facts are not yet in - but all the facta are never in. Each of not yet in" - but all the facts are never in. Each of these situations Chamges as one studien it. Let us, by all meand, have more re

Clhough wre already know enough to cope with all our major problemw, however, I don't lnow one of those major problems that we can begin to cope with while marimizing profits. And a nociety like our own. whick pate the maximization of profite sbove all other considerationa, is therefore heading for destruction.

How are we to get that change in dizection? I hoped until recently that a democracy wuch as we are told we have in the United States could vofe ithelf a mocial revolution. But with all the mesno of mass communication and all the machinery of eociall controi in the hands of the power elite, it is not at all clear that this is even poatibie. Oar recent political experiences are not encouraging. Still, the only solutions for the problems I hatve mentioned are political. They must be expressed in the form of political power exereised by an arouted people who finsiat on talcing their lives back into their own handa.
In what we fondly call the "free world" - that phrame zated to trouble me untir I realized that it meant thoge natione which get their armaments free frown the United Staten - the governments are in reality not the masters but the servante. Then who are the mantern? I believe our co-called free world in now wholly controlled by such moltimationa Euperenterpinses as Gemerni Motors, Exxon, she Chase Maninattan Bank, Mi, Dutch Shell, and British Petnoleum.

It is no acotient that we lack a politice that might change our wociety. Odx politics is controlled like chaxige our bociety. Our politics is controlled ince every other butimese in America, and by the tame people - a trmall elite in which is comoentrated more powrer and wealth than ever before in human hintory. and which by now acts eswentimlly in collugion in ita world-wide operations. At the other end of the socini acale is a Ereat, faceleas mars of workets, in Creasingly urban and hence increaningly dependent on their employment. In betwoan io the middle clage to which wro onmelves belong. It incinies an to which wo ourbelves belomg. It incindes all Eovernmedt officials, bigh and lowri all military and police oficinls; professors, jowxnotists, and clergymen; phypiciampand lavyyeru. The role inid out for it is to nodiste between the power witte and the worlding magees - to keep the aymiem rumning, if posrible amoothly, but to keop it ranning at all covtw; to ratignthitur its contradictionn; to fouter it meceptance thropgh edzadtion, indoctrination, and religiows exhortation; to fregument and dilute any oppopition, and in theevent of eerious challemge to comtroll or crath ic.
Concervably such a sybtem could work to social ad. vantage; at simes and places in the part it may have done to. But in recsit hietory it paie turned dee tractive. It is leading our eociety rapidly towrard difapter. In an obeestive pureait of mort-tery profit and power, it bhreatern to bring an end to the homan enterpeiee. And our role at the middle dyset, the role for which we are dearned, trained, ermployed, and mocth the way to that difernter
But we do not have to wocept that nole. We have a choice. We cam opt for Ife rather than death. Rather than serve the power elite in its prevent plunge toward dentruction, we can turn the other way and serve the people.

George Wald in Hisering professor of biology at HarGari Uriverity and 1968 Nobel prize winnter in phypiology and madicine. Thil article farst eppeared permisetion.

I...find it difficult to see how the human race

Interdependence Did the marionettes lie?

The marionettes danced on the stage. "Oh - it's -a-great-big - beacitiful - tomorrow ..." they sang, making stilted marionette motions by tilting their heads to mark every word; "a-great - big beautiful - tomorrow!

Millions saw that show at the '64 '65 N:Y. World's Fair. A family of life-sized marionettes start out in a turn-of-the-century' house and many scenes later end up in the future. With every acene their appliances get newer as they delicately age. The wood-burning stove becomes the gas range, elec tric-range, microwave oven. Or they progress to the tantalizing magic of the future, dangling in front of the audience with the implication this progress will continue infinitely; progress through consumption; progress by chang ing the outer uniform of our daily lives, not it's inner purpose. It was a religion of materialism for a "people of plenty."
In a few years, the same audience was increasingly confronted with pictures in their newspapers that at first seemed to be anomalies of our progress; oil spills, dead fish floating in the water. . but these were exceptions, acciaents, or at the most the necessary by-product to support our high standard of living "Earth or it. Was thought. Then. impact that the media likes to report: pollution, endangered species, chemicals, problems. a : all a new voculabary for one word: waste. What had gone wrong? Had the marionettes lied?

They hadn't lied, they were just dancing to an old song. From the time of the American Revolution when Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, we have eagerly associated ourselves with the words "independence" and "self-reliance." It is from that and gelf-reliance. It is from that

During the "energy. crisis" of 1973, we reacted in anger, as if it was overnight that we had become "dependent" on Mid-east oil. The call went out for legislation that would make us "independent."

But, it is not a matter of independence and dependence. It is a question of interdependence. The best way to protect our freedom is no longer to go our own way, ignor ing the consequences in the environment and in other countries.

Interdependence-should be our Interdependence-should be our new definition of progress. $A$ realization of the world outside the marionettes house. The old American dream that hard work combined with unlimited resources would give us that "great big beautiful tomorrow" is outmoded. Everyone knows by now that our resources are not unlimited and that those in pporer countries are not for the taking.

We are at a changing point in American history. For the first time bigger is not necesgarily better, and blind growth does not go unquestioned. Our actions affect too many millions, and "independence" is not enough.

We are being asked to change the way we think The environmental movement taught us that the world is limited. We are part of the web of life, one as delicate as a spider's web. Touching it affects the rest of the web in ways we never forsee. The atomic bomb France tests off the coast of Australia will show up in the milk Wisconsin school children will drink.

As the now-forgotten space program showed us, we are all on one planet surrounded by a thin light blue envelope that sets it off from the enveloping blackness of space. That thin space is all we have, and it is a smaller planet than it ever was.

The idea that progress needs to be redefined is just now being explored. This is what the article by George Wald on the facing pageand the article below on the Love Canal discuss: In our drive for increasing complexity, we have become extremely fragile.

The marionettes are still dancing in Orlando Florida at Disney World. Today they will dance for thousands, and in a yeär millions who see that show won't question who see that show won't question the marionettes siren call of progress.

Poor marionettes, unaware that it is up to our generation to write a "Declaration of Interdependence" and set America on a new course for its next 200 years. Other genérations have perceived fulfilled them, but seldom has the task been so urgent.

Howard Mansfield  for The Daily Orange

Love Cana

 the Love Canal site in Niagara Falls was fonnd to be contaminated with. them suspectad carcinogens. At the time, the New York state health com--missioner called the site "an extremely serious threat and danger to the health serious threat and danger to the health Sind safety of those living near it." Surae then, part of the area has beenquarantined, houses on the site have been boarded up, families have moved out (pregnant womenand infants of up to two years of age were instructed to leave the area immediately), the school built on the aito has been closed, and a lean-up has begun:

Rich Admur

It is anti-climatic that dioxin, one of the moxt toxic aubstances known to man, is now thought to be on the sitein substantial quantities. The damage has aiready been done and it is following a logical course towards the worst possible scenario. This almost comes as no surprise.

It's too easy to resign oneself to the increase of these nightmarish occurences. It is often thought that this is the price to be paid for the benefits of modern technology, but this is too convenient a rationalization of legitimate dangers. Nevertheless, when the facts in a case like this point towards real negligence and nearsightedness regarding the consequences; one almost cannot help being persuaded to accept the futility of it all. The Hooker Chemical Company used this site as a dumping ground from 1947 nntil 1952. During this time, thousands of drums were dropped directly into the water or buried in the canal's banks. It wasn't until 1976 , after six yeara of abnormally heavy rains, that the chemical started seeping upward through the soil. Hooker was lucky enough to benefit from lax government regulation of waste dis posal. But that is still a feeble excuse considering that they. must have known the waste's potential danger The sale of the land to the Niagrer. Fallis Board of Education for $$ 1$ make thin obvious. Wenhing their hands of the matter at the expense of the board's foolishners smacks of the lack of foolishnews smacks of the lack of concern and emphasis on short term congiderations that lead to so many tragedies in our mociety. These cañonly

[^1]come back to haunt us, and indeed they da.
The recent admission by Hooker officials that they buried in the canal 200 tons of they buried in the canal 200 defoliant from which dioxin forms, beara this out even further. The American military was forced to stop using this defoliant in Vietnam becanse people feared the implication for humans. Tests showed dioxin's debilitating effects on animal fetusee In 1976, an explosion at a chemica plant in Seveso, Italy created a chemica plant in seveso, Italy created a cloud o dreds in less then two weels by the hun wreas evacuated and is atill uninhebited Was evacuated and is atill uninhabited. Mendrick Harrington, lant October's Hendricita Chapel spaaker, said If there is technological advance without Bocial advance, there is almost automatically an increase in human misery." While we are well aware of the physical threate pooed by high-paced technological progrees, perhape more problematic are the attituden townard these developments. If we are to suf-

"I never knew being editor could be so much fun!"

Apply for Daily Orange

Editor in Chief

Blues highlights Doobies' alburn

By Rob'Hoerburger In recent years, the Doobie Brothers have been widening their range of musical material to include jazz. rhythm and blues elemente and the goodtime rock ' $n$ ' roll that was originally their trademark. On their last releate, Livin' On The Fault Line, they continued this transition, combining musical styles while also achieving a distinctive sound.

Their newest release, Minute By Minute, marks the completion of this transition While the group remaing While the group remains primanily a rock' $n$ 'roll band, it is unlikely that their album will appear on either the soul or jazz charts. The jazz and rhythm and blues elements on Livin' On The Fault Line are brought to the forefront on Minute By Minute.

The album also represents original band member Tom Johnston's withdrawal from the group. Johnston was instrumental to the early development of the group. He development of the group. He wrote most of the material on the first albums and it was his driving, guitar-based arrangementa that characterized the Doobies sound. Yet on Livin On The Fault Lane and Takin' It To The Streets; Johnston became almoat a background figure and has since left the band to pursue a solo career.

The title cut on Minute By Minute features Michael McDonald on lead vocals and electric piano, and an appeal ing title chorus. The song is flled with catchy hooks and is a strong candidate for a future aingle release.
${ }^{1}$ "Here To Love You" and "Dependin' On You" both feature horns to create a jazzrock flavor, On "Here To Love You," an uptempo rocker, Ben Cauley's trumpet and the Doobies' harmony combine to sound like a refined version of Earth, Wind and Fire. On "Dependin' On You," that same combination is reminiscent of Chicago's best midtempo ballads.
"Sweet Fallin";
Fallad, dominated" is anothe ballad, dominated by acoustic guitars and congas. Patrick Simmons delivers a sincere lead vocal and the song is further enhanced by the harmony vocals of Nicolette Larson.

Of all the cuts on the album, "Don't Stop To Watch The Wheels" most resembles the high energy rock sound of the early Doobie albums (appropriately enough, Tom Johniton appears on background vocals). Electric guitars and pounding percue guitars and pounaing percue lead vocal while the Doobies hormony praks in Dobies harmony peaks in tradeoffe with Siramons' lead. A level of intensity is reached on the song that parallels thaf of such Doobie classics "Long Train Runnin'" and "China Grove.", Lyrically, most of the songs deal with dependence upon love relationships, but there are. also a few social statements. "What A Fool Believes," written by McDonald and Kenny Laggins, points out how people can losesight of reality when it becomes necessary ("What seems to be, Binga McDonald. "is always better than nothing"). "Open Your Eyes" points out the importance of being aware of the truth ("Let's not let what never was bring us down").

By far the most powerful tune, musically and lyrically on the album is "How Do The Foola Survive. written by McDonald and Carole Bayer Sager. While the song is not as biting as 'Takin' It To The Streets," ita message of soulsearching still serves as a highly effective social commentary: "It shines from within/ You make your own day/You make your own dighthand sometimes youn nighi/And sometimes you through." the Doobies add a forceful, almost hurried accompaniment to the lyric that develops into a studio jam sesgion, highlighted by Andrew Love's sax solo.

Hiowever, the album is not devoid of weaknesbes; "Steamer Lane Breakdown." an instrumental, soands like

Fauity cables cause campus power outace

By Carl Johnson Problems with a NiagaraMohawk electrical relay gtation caused a power ahortage to much of the univergity area for $11 / 4$ houra yesterday. according to Physical Plant Director John Sala

Two faulty electrical cables from the relay station which feeds power to many caunpus buildings were blamed for the problem, Sala said.
Slocum Hall, the Newhouse Communications Center and the health center were among the 15 buildinge without power or heat from approximately 11:45 anm. to 1 p.m. Four dormitories, Watson, Lewripson, Booth and Dell PIain, were also affected.

Sala said occupants of the buildinga complained the most about the loas of heat in the brildinge. Althourk the electricity was of for little mare than an hour, Sala seid it took extra time to "gear the ateam station back up."

otfention

PERM SPECIAL
2700 including: STYLE, CUT AND CONDITION $$ 40.00$ Value Offer Excludes Johm and Tony huave it to the: professionals it what the Marshall Tucker Band would probably play ata aquare dance. While McDonald s gruff vocale refiect a small degree of sout on most of the cuts, his voice doesn't come close to measuring up to recent interpretations of his songs by such artista as Carly, Simon and Kenny Logeins.

Yet, it is to the credit of producer Ted Templeman that the Doobie Brothers have succesafully weathered personnel and style without secrificing the quality that has come to be expected of them.

Doobie fans who were hoping for a return to the earlier Doobie sound will have to wait for Tom Johnston's fortheoming solo album. But for those who liked Livin' On The Fault Line, Minute By Minute, will bie pure listening pleasure.

HEAR  KARLGOLDBERG

on the
MESSIANIC HOUR

WMHR.FM 102.9 M.C. Saturdeys 1:45 p.m.

For Gems From The Jewish Bible
Phone 472-1647

Wanted.

Classified ads person needed.

Paid position.

Must be available from approximately 11:30-2:30

Mon. thru Fri., typing important. Call 423-2315.

Easy Wash

Complete Sell Service Laundromat or Try Our Wash, Dry & Fold Service 4463 East Genesee St. 446-9850

We Buy, Sell 8 Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Megarinas

Bring your recordz to ulifor cash Collections tought © House calls by appointment

 1.000 's of records in stack - Most LP's onty $32-33$ - All records guaramteod - Wo spacialize in out-of-primt records.
DESERTSHORE RECORDS

s. Campur Mall. 730 s. Croust

M-Set 11-6 (472-3235)

TEP

Tau Epsiton Phi Fraternity cordially invites you to attend their 57th Anmiversary Party held at the Hilton Inn on Saturday January 20th drinks and dance from 9:30 p.m. til 2a.m. Music provided by Souncis Unimited
HILTON PARTY

For Your Convenience SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Is Open Until

Tonight

Syracuse University Union Concert Board

invites you to a

Rock 'n Roll Party with

The J. GEILS BAND
and

SOUTHSIDE JOHNNY and the ASBURY JUKES

Saturday, February 3rd. - 8 p.m. Landmark Theatre

 Reserved Seats $7.50 & $7.00
SU says Steelers over Cowboys in Super Bowi

By Jon Rabiroff
The Super Bowl is almost apon 48 and once again it is time for America's axmehair quarterbacks to down beer and make predictions for the "big game." Syracuse University students and administrators are no exception.
Many 'dorms and frater. nities plan to start tapping kegs around noon, after which all of those who are still relatively sober will huddle around the best television they around the best television they Fitteburgh Steelers and Dallas Cowboys attack each other.
Cowboys attack each other.
Plenty of money will be on the line since almost everyone believes they know more than Jimmy the, Greek and his friends in Las Vegas when it comes to football.

Will "Lynn Swain confuse the Dallai secondary? Will Roger Staubach be able to avoid the ruah of the awresome Pittaburgh line? Will "Hollywood" Henderson's ego be big enough-to carry the Cowboys to victory?
Melvin Mounts, vice Mresident for student affairs proudly predicts Pittsburgh proudly predicts pitesburgh will win by mint apread.
point apread. southwest Pennmylvania, and lived through the Steelera' dry years. They have the more potent defense; and an explosive offense." Mounts said.

John Zrebiec director of safety and security, also goes with Pittsburgh in a cliffhanger.
"I feel Pittsburgh has the better offense and defense. Dallas has been too much of a roller caaster this year and they looked bad in their first playoff game," Zrebiec said.

Chancellor Mel Eggers is more concise in his prediction. ${ }^{\text {at }}$ I believe Fittshurgh will win by six. But it is just a hunch." he said. Football coach Frank Maloney picks Pittsburgh by less than a touchdown.
-"I like their defense which is the most important thing in big games," Maloney asid.

The only diasenter of the administrators polled was Chifford Winters, vice chancellor for administrative operations who believes Dallas will win by three to seven points.
Whether you're drinking, munching, or partying, Sunjoyable for all. Watehing the joyable for all. Watching the game is a worthwhile way to noon-evenif your predictions aren't.cosrect.

Transcript cost to rise

Seniors will have to pay more to get a transcript of their riadem from the Central Records Office this semester.
The transcript fee has been hiked from $1 to $3. In ad dition, the charge for each additional transcript has been rinibed fiom"$1 to $1.50.
Franik Slazer otudent senator on the Semate Budget Cpmmittee, said his compoittoe recommended the increase to the administration when it was looking for waya to get extra money.

This seemed to be the least painful way of doing it."'Slazer aaid.

The incrèasie is expectod to generate $$ 23,000$ in tixtra revenae this semester. ac cording to Slazex.

You, too, can be editor

Letters of intent are now be ing accepted for the position of Daily Orange editor in chief.
The editor in chief is the chief officer of The Daily Orange Corp. and is res ponsible for the DO's editorial and administrative policies. The : new editor in chief will take office Feb. 19.
The application deadline for editor in chief is Tuesday at 4 p.m. Letters of intent can be brought to the DO office at 1101 E. Adams St. Applicanta will be interviewed by a committee composed of Thomas Coffey, outgoing editor in chief, and the seniors on the editorial staff.
"I don't have the energy to do it again," Coffey said. "I had a lot of fun, and I'm going to mise it a lot.
As of yeaterday, only one person had applied. Coffey urged anyone interested in the position to apply. If necessary. the deadline will be extended to encourage more applications:

727 S. Crouse - Undiar tha Post Office 20 S. Crouse - Nndar ha Post Orice

Many SU administretors and studente alike will spend Sunday watching the Super Bowl with provisions of beer and munchles ctose by.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Prepare for MCAT-DAT classes for April exam starting in February in the Syracuse area. Flexible program $&$ hours.

305 Vine Street Liverpool, New York 13088 (315) 451-2970

Dimher guest wiliam Detweilier. (Bill Molesky, lett) greets host Eob Phillips (Mark Mckee, righty in one of eeveral zany scenas from "How The Other Half Loves," tonight at Selt City Playhouse.

British play explores love

"How The Other Half Loves," playing at the Salt City Center for the Performing Arts. 601 S. Crouse Ave, tonight and Saturday at 8:15 p.m., andSunday at 7:30 p.m. Also playing next weekend, Friday and Saturday, 8:15 p.rn., and Sunday, $7: 30$ p.m. For ticket information. call the Sait City box office at 474-1122 or 474 0124.

By Rachel Finkel
The complicated, absurd lives of three couples will be portrayed in Salt City Center's current production of "How. The Other Half Loves," tonight at 8:15.

Stage

The Eritiah comedy by Alan Ayckbowrne deals with the buginess and love affairg the three couples ghare. Boh Philips, (Mark Mckee, and Wiliam Detweiller, (Bill Molesky, work for the Wealthy businesaman, Frank Foster, together, the mon have secret affairs with one another's wives.
The stage is set up so that the action and dialogue of two households takes place simultaneously. The viewer may witness the bizarte conversations and incidents of all the characters at once Ayckbourne, who is often referred to as the Britist Nell Simon, is noted for his unusual staging techniquet. In How the Other Half Loves, he auccessfully im plements actors and props of opposite enwironments on one set. The Fosters live in an affluent home while the Phillips household is impoverished
"How The Other Half Loves," is directed by Hirschoff, who also plays the major role of Frank Foster, an abeent minded, eccentric busineasman.

Other cast menbers include Garol Fiegal, who portrays Foster's benevolent wife, Fiona, Diane Gayrex, who plays Theresa Phillips, and Ellen McCauley as Mary Detweiller.

Singer Chapin to perform at SALT tomorrow night

After two previous sell-out shows at the Landmark Theater, Harry Chapin will perform there again tomorrow night at 8 .
Chapin donated $$ 8,000$ from his first concert in October 1977 to help save Loew's 'Theater.

Happenings

The singer/songwriter devotes most of his time to public services. As co-fonnder of World Hunger Year, he persuaded aenators, congressmen and President Carter to create a government commission on world hunger.
A particular intereat of Chapin's is the Performing Arts Foundation. Appearin with Robert Redford and Peter, Paul and Mary, the singer raised thousainds of dollars to help American theater-

Tickets are available at all Gerber Music stores. Wilson's Jewelers or the Landmark Theater Box Office, 362 S Salima St. For further information call 475-7979.

Harry Chapin.

Bizarre brothers bring

By Kevin Haymes
Briefcuse Full of Blues, the bad-asaed debut by the Blues Brothera, the strangest siblings in Rock Island, Ill, is nastier. than a gunshot wound, tougher than nails and the best collection of classic blues numbers to be released in this decade of acid-laced, sugar-coated pop songs.
Joliet Jake Blues' vision of ahowing the musically narrow-minded that the blues are more than a hockey team in St. Louis can now be seen and heard by all who care, and rammed down the throats of thoae who don't.

Along with his brother Elwood, whose harmonica playing swings from the soul.

Sounds

and a band that kicks more ass than a couple of southern sheriffs, Jake presents each song with a bitching passion that, unlike his anti-perspirant, never quits.

From the fired-up comical funk of Floyd Dickson's "Hey Bartender" to the down-and-out "Shot Gun Blues," the Bluea Brothers combine for a soul-ghaking sound more threatening than their G-men outfite.
The album, recorded live at the Universal Amphitheater in Los Angeles, completely captures the terror of serious blues men degeribed on the baek cover by Miami Mitch Glazer as "one scary soul band as mean and righteous as a figt": 'Itre horn

Iranian journalist chil

By John Iriwh
Reza Baraheni, ordered ixidnapped five years ago by SAVAK. the Iranian government's aecret police, has -bitter memories of Shah Mohammed-Rizs Fahlevi's rule. But his emotiones do not prevent him from accurately describing the true incidents of repression in his revealing book, "The Crowned Cannibals: Writings on Repression in Iran."
Baraheni was the Eirst Iranian jourgalist to chronicle the secret tortures of the Iramian government. His, chronicles along withother "eubveraive" political ac tivines, lea him to be imprisoned ror 102 days. Most of his time was spent in a win dowless_four-by-eight foot cell.

During his imprisonment, he was repeatedly tortured and beaten in an attempt to make him confess to political treason. Through the efforts of Jerzy for the Righte of Man -he wan releasedin

Words

December 1973 and now lives in exile in New York.
"The Crowned Cańnibals" graphically describes a wide range of tortures inflicted by the Shah's government. Baraheni contends the Shan mush abco cate his titl as military dictator, or auffer severeconse quences.
Iran's past, he says, is a historical showcase of ralers alleged as divinely or dained, who subvert the next generation into utter helplessness. The picture Barabeni paints in the chapter Mas culine Inatory illmotrate the lack of in 570 B.C.

- Medes, who wished to see hie grandson Cyrus , Who wished to see hie grandson Cyrus was betrayed by one of his Animisters who asved the Young boy s life. Angered, Medes invited the minister to dine with him at the court. At the right woment, "hae king clapped his hands, and a gold pot was presented. The lid was raised and "lyinde in the pot was the head of the minister's eon." The hody had been cooked to specified court cuisine, and "fed to the father."
Baraheni believes there is a "myrthical quality" ascribed to auch truculence: $n$ "Masculine History" of the conntey is fi of rulers who claim "theythersern ${ }^{\circ}$

The enicle, barbieric cumeorimotshent rult mra deplcted in Reze Demrmtionits

GSOPE

giback bad-ass blues

section, led by.Tom "Triple Scale" Scott (of the L A Express) and Tom "Bones" Malone, retuins the compliment by pun-

Extras Brothers

ching out sorae gritty blues blasts in tunes like "Almost"'and "I Don't Know."
Jake barks out his rage best in the raucous "Messin' With the Kid" while Elwood temporarily breaks his self-imposed code of silence to do the fast-paced nonsense lead vocal in "Rubber Biscuit."
However, the band is tighteat during the most popular song from the album, their remake of Soul Man. during which Jake's hot, convincing vocal is outdone lead guitar, which drips with a twangy fillet of-soul.

Amidst all the music, these two characters, wifo hide menacingly behind a pair of cold, dark shades, know fate and fortune have been kind to them. With the help of people like Saturday Night Live's Dan Aykroyd and John Belushi, they've been able to make their dream as real as the soul patch below their lower lips; and as attrinable as th

Looking into Briefcase Full of Blues brings about a rediscovery of a lost art in which about a rediscovery of a iost art in into the beat of the muisic. Unlike punkinto the beat of the music. Unlike punk rock, Which is therapy for lobotomy patients, and disco, which is a trite excuse lor a ifestyle even if it is no excuse for sitivity to life, and a reflection of the soul.

The Blues Brothers may be dirty characters, but their music comes out clean.

inicles shah's cruelty

Zoroaster, Mohammed or Ali," in dreams Or reatity, As a youth, the present Shah-moned Riza Pahlevi': Theecrowned Can-

and above the heads o  others. No one else

 Baraheni vividly discloses the prisons method of torture. One prisoner had the soles of his feet whipped 75 times with piano wire until they were a "bloody and swollen mass of flesh," while an innocent victi out.Baraheni was not excluded from these tortures. After exhaustive interrogation his hands were beaten with an oak stick. Then "Dr." Azudi, a fictional namein the book, threatened to rape Baraheni's wife and daughter until he confegsed to what Baraheni called "undescribed" treason committed while teaching English literature in the United States. When Baraheni refused, Azudi wamed that former Hitler SS' leader "Dr." Ahmiad would inject air bubbles into the author's bloodstream resulting in certain death.
Especially gruesome is the "Hot Table." Similar to a bed frame covered with iron "toaster," and persons are strapped to it until it becomes red hot.
Women are not. only-tortured in the prisons but are treated with disrespect in the kingdom. "All Iranian women assert that at gome time in their lives, they have been assaulted, raped or nearly raped by men," Baraheni says. In the homés, men are known to call women "old shoes" or just, "hey you." At his disposal, the Shah has several mistresses, whom he uses surreptitiously.
Even more appalling to Baraheni is the Shah's violation of the "Fundamental Laws of Iran," which say there must be freedom of the press, speech and conscience. Barahnei's friends were reluctant to give his manuscripts sanctuary for fear of reprisal by SAVAK, and he was constantly looking over his shoulder for SAVAK policemen trailing him while he lived in Iran.
Baraheni also claims the Shah is purging the Persian language of all that is Arabic and Turkish. "Forty percent of the Persian vocabularly is being eliminated," he says. He compares this to removing Groek and Latin influences from English. Ironically, the Shah speaks Peraian "very badly, and is more at home with French and Enclish

Burt Roynolds and Kris Kristofferson both love Jill Clayburgh in
"Somit Jough.". a raunchy portrayal of professional football
'Semi-Tough': movie fails to capture book's charm

By Thomas Coffey
Several years ago Dan Jenkins, an ex tremely clever Sporta Illustrated 'writer, wrote an equally clever book called "Semi Tough." This book was a delightfully raunchy;account of the lives of some fictional football players. For example, the night before the Super Bowl the heroes of the atory get stoned and drunk and laid. The-next day, suitably prepared, they win the game:
Sounds like a great idea for a movie right? Well; it was. Unfortunately, the dea was botched in the execution. As a result, "Semi-Tough,"' is a boring, pointless miovie that is embarrassing in its attempt to be funny.
It's easy to pinpoint where director Michae! Ritchie ("Prime Cat," "Smile." MThe Bad News Bears') went wroigis he chose to use the book's title and ignore its content. The names of the main characters are the same, but their qualities and situations they encounter are different.

Film

In the written version, Jenkins stages a Super Bowl pitting the New York Giants against their rivals, the Jets. Given the recent records of these two teams, auch a contest seems'as likely as a Syracuse heat wave in January. And to add to this absurdity, the game between these two New York teams takes place in, of all places Los Angeles. Ritchie changed the team's locations to, Miami and Dallas for no apparent reason, thus eliminating the element of absurdity.
Part of the book's appeal was in how the two main characters, football players Billy Clyde Puckett and Shake Tiller, two naive country boys, fall prey to the wicked temptation of the Big Apple.. In themovie however, they live in Miami, in a sterile world of beautiful people and catered barbeques.
Then, to end any possibility that the movie could achieve the book's auccess, Ritchie decided to change the focus of the movie's humor. The book poked fun at how we idolize football players by showing how hedonistic they are: In the book, Billy Clyde -and Shake were more than scoring pointa
The movie's humor, however, concerns tself with a love triangle between the film's three main characters: Billy Clyde. Shake, and Barbara Jane Bookman (Jill Clayburgh), daughter of their team's owner. Ritchie uries ansuccessfully to make the situation funns, but basically 't's the same trite plot thoosands of movies have followed over the years.
Another plot device "Semi-Tough" tries to get too much mileage out of is the proliferation of questionable self-kelp movernents like TM and est. In one sequence, Billy Clyde and Barbara Jane spend a weekend attending a seminar for spend a weekend attending a seminar for Howifher, this sequence is so long, and so lacking in humor, that it seems like the lacking in humor, that it seems like the well cast as. Billy Clyde and Shake. wowever, Clayburgh looks like she'd rather be "An Unmarried Woman." However, Clayburgh looks like she'd rather be "An Unmarried Woman." Robert P'reston as Barbara Jane's daday, Big Ed Bookman, looks embarassed by this entire exercise in pointlessness. Bert Convy, as the leader of the self-help group, is so shallow in therole it's easy to see why he'll be a gameshow host for the rest of his life.
Dan Jenking' "Semi-Tough" had a point and made it by being funny. However, the movie has the book's title, but any other resemblance is, as they say, purely coinresemblat.

Weekend cinema

Fri., Jan. 19 By steven Titch See Review Union Cinema Two, 7 and 9:30 p.m. and midnight, Gifford Auditorium, The Wild One Marlon Brando in excellent as a motorcycle hood whoee gang terrorize a amall American wown. The $\quad \mathrm{mm}$ made black to the middle-clase values of the '50s.
. University Union Cinems One, 7 and 10 p.m., Kittredge Auditorium, si.

One of Charlif Chaplin's greatest achievements and truly one of the classaics in aocial natire, thin flm finds Chaplin's hapleses tramp taking on the complexities of industrializntion. Shown with Nixon's Checkers Speach, a document that, if it had checriers ipeach, a document that, in it had
"Seturday Night Live" sketch
NVS FFlmgs, 7, 9, and 11 p.m., Grant Auditorium, $$ 1.50$
Sat., Jan. 20
Geantifallyme Shelter
A beautifolly crafted documentary that follows the Rhaling Stones' 1969 tour from heir Altamph at Madison Squarg Garden to he Atamont, Cal., rock featival, an event the history of a generation
Nickelodeon Filma, 7 and 9 p.rn., Gifford Auditorium $$ 1.50$
Gan. Jan. 21
Take the Money and Rum
Woody Allen's first film is a "documencary on an inept crook. Itis quito funny sind as Allern'a involvement in an eacape by an entire chain gang.
University Union Woody Allen Cinema, 6

UNIVERSITY UNION events calendar

U.U. Concert Board Presents ROCK 'N ROLL PARTY WITH THEE J. GEILS BAND and

SOUTHSIDE JOHNNY and the ASBURY JUKES

SATURDAY, FEB. 3rd - 8:00 p.m. at
THE LANDMARK THEATRE, RESERVED SEAT: $$ 7.50$ & $$ 7.00$
Tickets on sele today at Spectrum Sundries. Discount Records. The Panhander and all Gerber Music Stores.
Special Events Board Presents

JOHN KOLICH

THE WORLD'S FASTEST HYPNOTIST INTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED MENTALIST
HE'LL HYPNOTIZE 20 OR MORE PEOPLE FROM THE AUDIENCE.
MANY IN LESS THAN 10 SECONDS.
THURSDAY, FEB. 1
9:00 p.m.
GRANT AUDITORIUM $$ 1.50$

University Union Cinemas

S.U. ID REQUIRED - SHOWS NOT OPEN TO PUBLIC

Evacuation caused by fire in Day

About 425 Day Mall residerits evacuated their dorm last night after resident adviser.Gianinne Stump smelled smolce on the top three floors. Dorm director Rick Mreriault said the fire began on the sixth floorbut burned itself out by the time fire of fcials arrived.
"Someone probably dropped a cigrarettie causing a paperi to catchi fire," Theriault said. Smole roae to the eighth floor, where-Stump, an eighth-floor RA, detected it and called dorm officiale.

Residents evacuàted the

Memorials

Memorial service will-be held today for Syracuse University English profespor Donald A. Dike at 4:30 p.m. in Hendricks Chapel.

Dike, 58, died in his home Deci 14 after a long illness. He Dec 14 after a long inness. He had been a member

A memorial service will also be held for William J. Slivers, assistant professor of ar chitecture, Jan. 22 in Hen dricks Chapel.
Shvers; 34, died in a plane crash Jan. 11.

* Budget

Conxinuad from page one bưdrets will be cut.

Despite the tuition-increase the committee's budget report coincladed that "the cost to students, measured in real purchasing, power will not change," Winters explained thin is because the trition increase is leas than the inflation level.
'Jordan Dale, student assoifintion president-elect, anid, "That statement is economically sound when youra dealing generally with themendent body. But it doesn't apply to those individuals who won't. be able to get enough money to come to the university."
"We recognize there is inflation, but we wonder iftheincrease has to be that much," Drease said.

However, SA has yet to decide how it will approach the decide how it wili Tussing said he is not happy with the faculty s's nolary in, 'with the faculty"s salary int crease. hits a real "We"re falling comes at asid. Were falling behind at a faster rate than professors in other schools." professors in other schools."

Tusowever, acknowledged that there is not minch-the faculty can do about it: "It's all been talcen out of our hands.by. the Carter guidelines."

building at 7:45.p.m. and "not that Beriotw.". Ningasareturned at 8 p.ma. Mohawk Power Corp. will District Fire Chief Richard check the building, according Byrne said the incident was - to Theriant.

GIFT CERTIEICATE

 WHEN: TONIGHT JAN. 19 9:00-? WHERE: DRUMLINS COUNTRY CLUB WHY: WHY NOT?

BEER AND LIQUOR WILL ABOUND

1.00

75 .50

FREE BUSES EVERY 20 MINUTES FROM:

- Sadler
- Watson Theatre
- Brewster/Boland
- Sims

MUSIC BY MASQUERADE ADMISSION $1.00

Sunday - 10:30 a.m. Hendricks Chapel Worship  Hendricks Chapel Choir  Dean John MeCombe: Preaching A*st. Dean Darrell Fawehing and John Quimby: Presiding  Childeare provided bertwoen 10 a.m. -12 noon

We Are Now Renting  Cross

 mussal shops

Country Ski Equipment

DEWITT 6820 E. Genssee st. 445-0880 FAIRMOUNT 3652 W . Ganases St. $4 \mathrm{BB}-3208$ LIVERPODL 107 First St. 457-5800

Welcome Back

THE  STUDENT CENTER offers you a little of the home you left behind:

FOOD

all day long. with breakfast from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m., we serve lunch and dinner until 7:45 p.m. each weekday.

BEVERAGE

coffee, hot chocolate with lots of whipped crearn, a full liquor bar open all day, MondayFriday.

COMFORT

relax in our elegant surroundings and warm your toes in front of the crackling fireplace. Meeting rooms are also available for small groups, give us a call.

and something your mother never gave you!

HAPPY HOUR

from 9 to 11 p.m., Monday through Friday. Take a break from studying and fill your cup with good cheer!

A/I this and more at 310 WALNUT

The Student Conter 423-1302
Open 9 am. to midnight M-W, "til a.m. Th & F

No, this isn"t an out-twke from a Geritol commerical - it's a seene from Jame Wagnar's boring new tilm, "htoment by Moment."

'Moment by Moment': mindless

FIKM OFF CAMPUS: "Moment by Mongent." now showing at the Shoppingtown II Cinema, Erie Blvd. East, DeWitt. Call 446-0320 for showtimes and ticket information.

By Brent Marehant "Moment by Moment,", the recently released stoxy of love and romanee billed as one of Hollywood's most touching new films, is a boring melee, Which has more problemas than Heinz has varieties.
"Moment by Monnent" employs the standard "boy meets gixl - boy gete girl - boyIoaes gixl - boy geta girl back" plot. Set in aunny Califormia, this splendidly trite storyline is executed through the eyes of an oversexed beachcomber

FAST  BREAK DELI

534 Westcott St. 475-5195

SUPER

SANDWICHES

ABig. Big Sandwich at a Low. Low Price.

WE ## DELIVER

7 p.m. to closing. 7 nights a week. Now Delivery Rates: 1 whole sandwich 81.00 2 whole sanctwiches 75C 3 whole sanct wicher 500 4 whole sanchwichws 256 5 or more sandwiches FREE

PARTY  TRAYS

We make sliced meat trays. including bread, chense s picDelivery is FREE.
SUPER SUDS
Singlet, Six Pack or by the Case at Low, Low Prices:

Molson $$ 1,99$ Lsbbaty's 81.79 Milter 11.79 Michetob t209 Bud 81.79 Rolling Fock 81.69

OPEN

Mon-Therr Fri Est  Mon-Therr Fri B set

1-7 17 p.m.
named Strip (Jolne Travolta) and a middle-aged rieh bitch named Trisha (Lily Tomlin), who is meparsted from her hasband. Together, this pseudio-Renaissance mam and ingecture bourgeois housevwife share a meaningfal relationohip filled with Erich Segal metapkorb and good old-fanhioned beartache.
This. weal storyline is the film's downfall; there is nothing to hold it together. Writardirector Jane Wagner has taken aseorted glimpuas of the two characters' lifestyiles. and boand them together by countless sex acenes and appy lines about love.
Irrelevant and nonsensica] dialogue further weakens the Alm. In one scene, while Triaha and Strip share a romantic moment in a whirlpool bath, Trisha responds to her lover's question of Do you love me?" With the line, "Let's amoke some pot". Another fault of the film is ita umoriginal cinematography, During one sequence when Tribha goes in bearch of Strip after a lover"a quarrel, director Wagzer has apliced in several ahots of Trisha's feet as she walks in step to the beat of canned backgronnd music. This photographic device is idenDical in nature to the opening Fequence of "Saturday Night Fetrer." Pip-offs of such cinemake devices at thas ond occur throughout tire fim, proving that director Wagner lacks not only talent,...but creativity.
Further compounding the Elm's problems is theabysmal acting of the two leadixis characters. Tomlin spealcs in monotone throughout and shows more emotion for her pet dog than she does for her lover. Travolta follows suif and proves once agrin, zifhenanion his past two starring roles, that he is not cut out for find work.
Critics have been mercileas in cutting this film to shreads - and rightrinly so. Such cinemakic rath is better off in the waste can than on the movie acreen.

News reporter's meeting Today, 3p.m.

Also presenting a barrier to the cheerleaders' success are other people's attitudes - the stereulypes and disregard some squad
In spite of the notorious Dallas Cowgirls, for instance, Donna Amaral, a vivacious threeyeiar veteran of the SUsquad, adamantly opposes the sex-aymbol atereotype.
"I hate it"" Amaral exclained. 'T'm not like that. I'm here for the pure pleasure of it, not as a sexx aymbol. It s just backgrounds or athletes - not everyone is like that. We all have different personalities and ideas."
In contrast, sexual bias againit male cheerleaders seems to beless prevalent than might be expected. While Bearss thinks an unfair " quearsie image" of male queerie image of male cheerleaders still exists to an extent, cheerieader co-captain finally paid that stage - at finally past least here. agreed general attitudes toward the cheerleaders are improving, but cited one more source of cheerleader discontent: the SU adminiatration.
"We're overlooked a great deal," bhe claimed. "The administration wants us to be part of all the activities, but they're not willing to give, only take. It shouid be $50-50$."
Specifically, Amaral referred to the adminiatration's refusal to grant. the cheerleaders an academic credit for thair work, auch as is given to the Orangettes, who perfotm during football halfperfes. "What we do is just as exhasustive," Amaral said. "I think we deserve a credit." Ulyases J. Connor, director of would activities, said he would try to get the cheerleaders a credit, Amaral said, but so materialized. the credit from coming through is not clear. "We'regoinf to make an effort because of the amount of time thatis required for them to commit," Connor said. "It is my peraonal reflection that they deserve to get the credit, but I don't make the decisions. I was not going to give assurances that they were going to get it, only that I would make every effort."
The requeat for credit, Connor said, would be dizected through the department of health, recreation and department's chair. Ban Peter Cataldi, said while the Peter "popis up every several years"" no formal request for credit has been made yet.
has been made yet. point," Cataldi said. "The exis ting academic policy is that only sanctioned intercollegiate programa are allowed credit. Checrieading isn't a sanctioned intercollegiate program, but we're willing to explore it."
Despite the cheerleaders' gripes, however; it is obvious their morale is far from low. "I really enjoy it," Amaral said. "I give 100 percent and I get back 100 percent. I love what I'm doing."
This enthusiasm is evident as the cheerleaders shake their pompoms and excute their dance routines in perfect unison. But the real atandout is pint-sized Karen Moody, the 8-year-old daughter of as

* Pitino's Terriers

Continued from pege abxteon

yogal, thati the home crowd and 'the Pound" gounded like $a_{\text {H }}$ dorm during finals week compared to the Manley Zoo, "defense" was the persistent chant at Case Center last Thursday.

The Terriers played superb team defonse in the first half to takm a aranse in lesed and shat down the Husicies, heralded down the Hisicies heraided Thompson and Mike Mekny. But, in the second half, the two But, in the second haif, the two freshmen came to life to spark Comnecticut to a geven-point. lead.

Behind the play of Wright and John. Teague (By's blue chip freshman who hits crucial jumpahots and calls reporters "sir) the Texriers fought back and tied the game at 54 to force an overtime.
The Hunldes seemed to have it wrapped up at. 61-56 with 1:50 lefit in the overtime, but Wright and Teagrie atzain ex. celled to close the gap. With eigint aecondr left, Channel had a chance to pull off the Enseland, but he thought he had less time than he actually didisnd his hurried juraper two dribbles over half court bounced off the rim. UConn prevailed, 63-62.

Pitino immediately had a closed-door team meeting after the loss, but back on the court, there was praise for him and his team.
"He'sian excellent coach." gaid Jimuny Myers, sports broadcaster for WBZ-TV in Boston. "Hemixed up defenses well and had UConn confused. He never quit on them when they were down twice. a change," at BU and I can see a change," Myers continued. "Look at what the man did-he recruited a high school band and high school cheerleaders to conne in. In a few years.
people are going to be breaking their necks to get involved in this program.
"He gives us inspiration." Teague said softly after the meeting. *He told us he was gtill proud of us and we're proud of him."
Pitino politely mingled with the Fast Break Club above the gym after the game even though his mind was no doubt atill on the Huskies. *Sorry we couldr't win one for youi, he arid to a reporter.
That's olkay coach. It was the beat show in town and nobody got cold.
sociate Engliah profeesor Patkicia Moody.
With her tiny orange jumper and impish blond hair, Karen has added an extra touch of appeal to the squad for about three yearg. "She"s got a lot of spank and catches on really quickly," Bearss said. "She knows most of the dances the Eirle know,"

But or this night Karen was tired ani ranly, and not even the gentiy persusisive efforts of her fellow cheerleaders conld coax her to join the cheering.

But while cheering up a cranky 8-year-old is certainly an accomplishment, the cheerleaders must hope their spirit is contagious enough to catch on through the rest of the university. Who knows - with their hopes and plans for expansion; they

If your picture ain'tin the yearbook, your Mama's gonna kick your butt.

BuTi vou can acreve vour hide. Aa of ripht now, there is no eentor portrait of veu poing info the yarrbook Alet NOW and call Varden Studlen for Your EMERGENCY Varden Studion for your EMERGENCY below. If you call yoorbeak ancft geta wour portcolt.

Call 422-9228 For your EMERGENCY SENIOR PORTRAIT.

Free Downtown Shuttle Bus

Freeshutits service between S.U. and Downtown every $1 / 2$ hour 10 a.m. 105 p.m. Every Saturday thrin the semester at theae

TODAY

Univerwity Unten Cinemine Bown will meer at 3 p.m. today in the, Student Canter conference room. Call 423-2724 for detaits.

Photovtatona Gellery in Hanover Square. 130 E. Gerresee St. will have a reception for its new exhibit. "Photographics.". fram 7.9 tonight. The exhibit will be open through Februery. Mondays-Fridays 11 a.m.- 11 p.m. Saturdeys 11 a.m. -4 p.m. p.m.: Saturdeys $$ 1$ a.m. -4 p.m.

Chemistry eolloquiurn: Dr. Allen MacDisrmid from the Univeritity of Pennsyivenie will spesk on "Mezallic Derivativer. 3.30 m.m todey in 303 Bowne. $3: 30$ min, loday in 303 Bowne.
Chapel basementer in Hendricks wine on fridays from B 30 pusic and night.
THE WEEKEND
Sour Sitrum Sociaty will rehearse as 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the ski lodge.

UU Concert Boand wila hold a mandatory meating at $7: 30$ p.m.
Sundey in Wetson Theatre.,
Maeting for Jwwish -worien interestad in. self-exploration'and planning for a new group will meet from 3-6:30 p.m. Sunday at the Beyle 113 Concord Place, Good food and drink, too.
Speculative Fietion Society will meer at $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sunday in $9-10 \mathrm{HBC}$. Upcomirng convention will be discussed. Call $47 \mathrm{E}-3709$ for detalis.
Internetional Folk Dencerim Beginnemfs Night will be theld fram 7:30 p.m. Sumfay at. Skybarn Dances taught.

WAER Black Expressions Weok meoting for those black students interested in newsgathering and music-announcing for the week and Sunday in 391 Newhouse Il.

Schoia Cinvtorum of Syracurs will audition men's voices for its chamber chorus singing medieval and Renalesence music from $1-4$ D.m. tomoryow and Sundiay at St. Paul episcopal Churef. Fall 479 6854.

Mass schedute: 7 p.m. tomorrow n Grant Auditorium. Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. in Crouse Auditorium and 1 p.m. in Skybarn.,

NOTICES

Neod to add an interasting course? How about PAF 400. Issues irs the Middle East (two credits, 3 4:45 p.m. Mondays) or PAF 400. History of American Communes and Cooperatives lone credit 4-5:45 Call 423-3870 for detaits. Earn expervence cradit. NYPIRG offers internstims in communications, preflays, consumer and envirommental issuies. Stop by 1004 E. Adams St. orcall 476.8384 . UU Cinems Board needs people to put up posters. Call 423-2724.
Cliarinetigts, Hixoptioniste, and trumpetert are needed for 30 Musical Stage's production of "promises. Promises.*. Call Ken at 423-8226.
Sign-up dendlimes for women's basketbast, coed volleyball and sking intramurals are Jan. 22 bt 139 Women's Building. Ail forieit fees up by Jan. 26. For details, call Karen up 423-2508.

Poetry and fiction contests are open to all SU students. Ensries must be typed in triplicate and submitted by Jan 30 to Professor Georen Elliot. -300-9 Archbold Gym. Prizes are: Loring Williams Memorial Prize ( $$ 100$ ) for best poemis) by a graduate studernt. Whiffen Pirize (825) for best poem by an undergraduate. Detriore Schwartz Prize (635) for best poem Schwartz Prize (635) for best poem by an undergradubse of gradupte by an undengradubie of gradupte studant and Stephan Crane Prize for Fiction ($50) for best short story by a graduate student.
Medicil studerata: NY. Regent Physician Shortage Scholarships for 1979-80 are open. Applications and information are available from the Stafe Education Dept., Bureau of Higherr and Professional Education Testing. Cultural Education Center, Albany 12230 . Desdime May i Must be New York resident.
NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE & EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orange, 1 l01E. Adams St, by noon two davs belore publicstion. Limit announcements to 20 words. Name must be included No esinmust be Laciuded, Nov, the phonce.

Correction

[^2]
Classified ads

For sale

AIro piks a combs. ORANGE TONSORLAL & SUPFLY. 727 S. Crouse Avo., next to S.t. Post Office 475-9289.
FREET Size 9 Nordics ski Bootsi Poles - with purchase of $70^{\circ}$ pair fiberglass Daiwe. Skis Cubco bindings. $\$ 7.30$ an inchl Negotiable. Joel 476-5785.

CAR INSURANCE: Alt Students Qualify. Low Payments. Days 474-4507 Eve. 676-7622 Clancy's insurance campus.

VW Superbeetle 1971, angine ex cellent and reconditioned. Body Fair New Radial Tires. Reliable. $$ 600$. Firm 472-0238

Goalie hockey equipment for saie Baver suprerne skates: Jopa wired mask: GM 12 glove/stick-hand Rérsonable. Call Don 423-8162:

MOVING SALE Bean-bag chair. metal office desk, win bed, acquarium. tables., curtains, clocks. etc.: call $472-48805: 30$ - $8: 30$ or visit garage sale- 1219 Teall Avenue Sat. Sun. 11 A.M. 3 P.M.

SALEII SALEII SALEI Introductory offer. One week only. U.S. A my Wwil wool and summer kahki pants SECOND HAND fROSE. 713 S . SECOND MAND fOSE. 713 S.
Crouse Ave.

NEW ARRNAIS at SECOND HAND ROSE: WWII U.S. Army wool coats. 713 S. Crouse Ave.
SALEt Winter Clearance fup to 50\% off) SECONO HAND ROSE. 713 S. Crouse Ave. Vintage clothing 1900 s-1940's.

Mens $21{ }^{*}$ Bribgestone 10 speed bicycle. Red brand new ridden twice 130.00 orbest offer. Keith 478-7603 Leave message.
Ereftinaw root rack. $3^{+} \times 3$ aiready ossembled. $\$ 20.00$ Call 474-8030.

MENI WOMENT JOBS: CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High payl See Europe, Hawaii. Australia, So Americs. Winter, Summerl Send 83 America. fo. to SEAWORL BH Box 61035 fo. to SEAWORLD BH. Box 61035.
Sacto, Ca. 95860.

AM-FM stereo by Panasonic with AM-FM stereo by Panasonic with Gerrard turntable- model 630 (Audio-Techmica cartridge). Real walnut cabinats. Piced to sell. Call Qut at 471-9159.

Services

LEI USDO YOUR TYPING. quick-Efficient - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big- nome 200 small. Call Vicki Mesdows 47.1-5603.
MCAT DAT students: Sipn up for course now, study during vecation Sunniey Kamian Education center ITD. Syracuse 45 1-2970.:

Support your stomachl Westcotz Cute Spocirl Benefit Dinners. Janugry 19-23. 6-8 pm. For menu info. 424-9725. info
ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI All STEREO brands. Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check arouind. then call 478 -8667.

For rent  Private roome fumished, share bischen, bath and living room. Clam. watking diatamee - 474-1303 - or 472-0154.Rooms axaliable singles and doubles: 5500 - 525 per semester. Call Sig Ep 475-6773.

2 bedroom apt for rent sublease $$ 300$. with utilities. $104-364$. Ivy Ridge Rd, 472-6224.
ON CAMPUS, 6 rooms, fireplace furmished, 175.00 mo. NO UTHITIES OR PETS. Lease, 446-7183 atter 5 p.m.

Large Remodilled House avall. immed. Lancaster Ave. $$ 450$. per month. Plus utilities. Sec. Dep. Call Mr. Fath 422-0709:
Room in Apt very close to campus. Nice place-people Kitchen big- living room. washer/dryer call 422-1750 Ellen.

1 bedroom, furmishad. Sec. dep. & tases. $4230.437-6285$.

Roommate wanted; to shara 3-tied-room apartment nicely furnished. room apartment micely furnished $\$ 113 / \mathrm{Mo}$. And Utilities $47 \mathrm{~s}-1684$.
Best deal in town $\mathbf{\$ 9 0 0}$ Room and Board. 907 Walnut Avenue, Limited space. First come, first serve $\times 2648$; $475-3484$.
Furnished single room for remt. tos.33 per month & utilitites. W/fireptace. driveway. 479-8027; 422-7845.
Foom: 813 Euclid Ave. $630 . / \mathrm{wk}$. Lease untid May 31, all utitities, camDus bus. Call Joe 475-8772.
$21 / 2$ University Ave. near Adams St . f175. or $$ 150$. wizh carstake functions furnished. Call 471 -0723

Houser 4-5 bedroom. Lancaster Avanue 450 zone bedrom apt. E. Genesee $$ 140$ inctuding alectric 422.5983 . 422-5983.
Ona bedroom apt. near S.U. and hospitals. $$ 140$. Off street parking iniluded. 422-8119.
Crose large. private clean room: Stharing living room, kitchen. etc. 685-3233.

Apt for rent: furnished Ivy Ridge apt. Rent 132.50 Includes all utilities. Call 422-7B45 Philip Roommato warited to share apt on S. Crouse $$ 105 / \mathrm{mo}$. heat incl. Fully fumishad. Cell Lee 471-1282.

Personals

JEWISH WOMEN- exploration of ourselvest Come be part of usl Sunday 3:00-5:30. 113 Concord Place.
3OEY. You've inalty gomen your porsomit. Too bed they coutidn't print it on PiNK PAPER. Hopo this ammaster's Tha Benti't - your

Aagel, happy belated birthdayl Hope this 22nd is the best one over. All my love. LHS

We're one year old and you're invited to a birthday celebration at Alpha Epsillon Pi. Band party tonight free sulvon Pi. Band party tonight free bewr. 9 titl ? 40: Comstock Avenue.

MANDATORY CONCERT BOARD MEETING
This Sunday, Jan. 21 7:30 p.m. - Watson Theatre A/I Atterrf

ala grode

Two housaperson's wanted- waiterdisthwashing and poteleaning. Responaibilities. Free Bowrd. call Sig Ep. 475-6773.
Maid wanted 3 days a woek $$ 3.00$ per hour Call Sig Ep 475-6773.
Kitchen help neerded at fraternity house; Great tood; Free board or wages paid in exchange 478-9015 Mike or Larry.

PART TIME JOB- Dependable person to clean new home for Fsculty femity $5-15$ hours whekiy. Someone who enjoys chidirem, has experience ard can provide awn transporsation to Easwern suburbe preforred. Call 637-5825 or 423-2210.
Low on money and recards that aren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash. Top prices paidl DESERT-SHORE 730 S. Crouse -472-3235 Mon-Sat. 11-6.
One or two toommates needed to sublet apartment second semester blocks from campus. $422-7110$ days, 422-3962 evemings.
Guitarist looking for Rock BandI Forming Band Brent 422-3961 7-9 PM

Houseboys wanted in exchange for meals at a Comstock sorority: Call Deirdre or Sheron at.478-9142 or $\times$ --4204.
Counselors: Adirondack Boys Camp: $71 / 2$ wks.: $3450-5550$-Swimming. Sailing. Canoeing, Campcraft, Archery: Craft, Tennis, Oriver. Office thpinfl. Rifièry Sofrban, Trip Leading. 39 "Mill Valley Road.

The Home of the SOFT ICR CREAM

We also carry hard ice cream in a wide variety Open Daily 'til 9:00 p.m. Nottingham Plaza

Syracuse University Union and Caliiope Productions present Live from N.Y.C. and Lorig Island The "BONNE PARKER BAND" with special guest
1 st concert of the new semester
Wednesday, Jan. 24th
two shows 8 p.m. & 11 p.m. Jabberwocky - $2.50

25C Dratts

Tickets on sale at Jab, Spectrum. Record Theater. Discount Records, S.U. Bookstore.

Get ready to be rocked like you'vo never been rocked before.

Ladies,  PI KAPPA ALPHA  Invites you to Little Sister Rush  -a semi-formal wine & cheese partySaturday, Jan. 20,8s30 p.m.  405 Comśtock  (Across from Haven)

乌VACLISE LNIVERSTY EOOKSTORES

We Need Your Used Books We Pay Cash on the Spot

Up to $\mathbf{5 0 \%}$ of new list price for titles that we need.
Bring in all your books now for top dollarl

Tonight, Jan. 18

HAPPY HOUR 4-8

jat pressants

THE MUSIC OF THE

BEATLES 8-2

Chmmintiry eollequilum: Dr. Alen MacDiarmid from the University of Connsyivenis will wpeak on "Metthic Coverit Foly 3.30 and ineir 303 Bowne.
The Bornbsheiter in Hendricks Chapel basement has music and wine on Fridays from 8:30 p.m.-midnight.
THE WEEKEND
Sour Strus Society will rohearse at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the ski lodge.

A shot and a draft
50 c all night long

TODAY

Univerrity Union Cinderne Doard will meet ot 3 p.m. toder in the Student Center Conference room. Cull 423-2724 for detaits.
Photovisiona Gallery in Hamover Square, 130 E. Genesee St.. will have a reception for its new exhibit, Photographics. Irom $7-9$ ionight. ruary. MondayamFrideys 11 a.m-11 ruary, Mondayawfideys 17 a.m. p.m.; Saturdays 11 a.m. -4 p.m.

$\square$

GMPACLSE LNIVERGTTY EOOKSTORES

Performance and price are the keys in choosing a calculator. One of these Texas Instruments slide-rules is right for you.

Capability. Ouality. Value. The righ: combination can help you make short work of problems in tields like math. engineering: science and business statistics and give you more time for other important things. Choose the TI calculator that's right for you and get ahead of the game.
Tr-s5. Advanced slide-rule functions with statistics, programmability and valuable problem-solving applications book.
The versatile Ti-55 calculating system is packed with the features and functions you need to handte almost any mathematical operation. from logarithms and trigonometry to advanced statistical problems. Thirty-two steps of programmability add new dimensions of accuracy, speed and ease to periorming repetitive calculations and "what-it" anatyses. You just teach the TI-55 a series of operations and it performs those steps for you.
For more help in making quantita tive decisions, the T1-55 comes with the Calculator Decision - Making Saurcebook, a$5.00 value. The book, 140 pages of easy-tounderstand, reallife applications shows you how to use the power of statistics, financial math and programmability in analyzing relationships in data. verifying quality and performance, measuring change, forecast ing trends and projecting returns...in short. how to make better decisions today and tomorrow. Catculator and book combination. only $$ 50.00^{\circ}$.
sumine T1-50. A powertul. stylish slide-rute wth new Constant Nemory ${ }^{\text {th }}$ feature.
The pocket-portable similine T1-50 is today's most powertul liquia erystal display (LCD) slide-rule_calculator. It has 60 functions-including common and natural logarithms and six trigonometric operations that can be performed in three angular modes (degrees, radians or grads).
Seven buiftin statistical functions make it easy to "boil down" large amounts of data so you can perform accurate analyses and draw reliable conclusions.
Two constant memories retäm" their contents even when the calculator is turned off: so frequently used constants and other basic values are a your tingertips when you noed them.

Two miniature batteries provide over 1000 hours of operation in normal use: II's APD ${ }^{\text {rM }}$ automatic power down teature helps prevent accidental bat tery drain by turning off the catculator after approximately $10^{\circ}$ minutes of non-use. With imitation leather wallet. \$40.00.

Stmiline 7-25. Slise-rule power at a small pitce.
Economy and value go hand-in-hand with the Slimline Ti-25, a pocketportable LCD scientific calculator that has what it takes to handle advanced has what it takes to hande advanced math. It provides the most-needed slide-rule functions. Trigonometry in degrees, radians or grads. Plus basic statistical power, too: Mean, Variance. statistical power, to Standard Deviation.
Tandard Deviation.
Three levels of parentheses can nandle up to three panding operations to make your work easier. Four-key memory allows you to store and recall values. add-to memory contents and exchange stored and displayed numbers.
The $71-25$ goes far on a pair of minature batteries-includes APD ${ }^{\text {mi }}$ eircuitry. Vinyi wallet included, $\$ 33.00^{\circ}$.
See the complete lineup of Texas Instruments slide-rule calculators at your dealer today. There's one exactly right for the work you're doing.

Texas Instrumënts tecknology-bringing affordable electronics to your fingertips.
TEXAS INSTRUMENTS
U.E. suggresiod mail grict

NCORPORATED

CHARGE IT:
SU BOOKSTORE CHARGE
mastercharge
BANKAMERICARD

REGULAR STORE HOURS:
HON-FRI $9=00-5=30$
SAT $10=00-5=30$

Sincise
Miversior
Bookstores

UU Conceart Board will hold a mandatory mevting at 7:30 p.m.
Meeting tor Jawish woriten interested in self-axploration' and planning for a new group will meat from 3i5:30.p.m. Sunday at the Bayit, it 3 Concord Place. Good food and drink, too.
Speculative Fiction Socinty will heat a 7 pm Sunday in 9-10 HBC Upcoming comvention will be discuesed. Call 478-3709 for details.
International Folk Dancer: International Falk Dancerk 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Skybern. Dancest taught.

WAEFT Black Empressions: Werk merting for those black students interosted in newsogathering and music-announcing for the week and in the future will be held at 8 p.m. Sundey in 391 Newhouse il.

Sehote Cientorum of Syracuse will sudition men's waices for its chamber chorus singing medieval and Renaiseance music from $1-4$ P.m. tomorrow and Sunday at St. Peurs Episcopal Church, Fayette and Monteomery Streets. Call 479 .
6854

Mase schedule: 7 p.m. tomorrow in Grant Auditorium, Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. in Crouso Auditorium and 1 p.m. in Skybarn.

NOTICES

Nead to add an interesting course? How about PAF 400 . Issues ith the Middle East (two credits, 3$4: 45$ p.m. Mondays or PAF 400 , His tory of American Communes and Cooperatives conp credit, 4-5:45 D.m. Wednescays. Call 473-3870 for details

Eam expenence eredit. NYPIRG offers internships in comm municasions, pre-fow. consumar and envirommental lssues. Stop by 1004 E. Adams Stio or cali $476-8384$.

Ut Cinems Board needs people to put up posters. Call $423-2724$. Clanmbtists, sixopbonizta, and Musical Stage's production of "Promises, Promises.". Call Ken ar 423-8226.

Sign-up deadtines for women's baskethall, coed volleytball and sking intramurals are Jan. 22 ot 139 Women's Building. All forfeiz fees from last seme For details call Karen up ty Jan. 26 .

Poetry and fiction contesta are open to all SU students. Entriesmust be typed in wiplicate end submitzed by Jan. 30 to Professor George Eltiot. 300-9 Archbold Gym. Prizes are: Loring Williams Memorial Prize ( 5100 ) for best poem(s) by a graduate sudent, Whiffen Prize ( $\mathbf{$ 2 5}$ ) for best poem by an undergraduata. Delmore Schwartz Prize (E35) for best poern by an undergraduate or graduake studemt and Stephan Crene Prize to Fiction ( 850 ) for best short story by graduate student.

Medicel students: N.Y. Regent Physician Shortage Setwlarships for 1979.80 ave oppen. Applicotions anc: information are avaitable from the State Education Dept., Bureau of Higher and Professional Education Testing. Cultural Education Center. Must be New York resident.

NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE E NOTIC Orange, 1101 E. Adarns St. by noon Orange, 1101 E, Adams St, by noon announcements to 20 wards. Name and relephome number of sender muse be tncluded: No: nouncomants are trken evist the phoria.

Correction

The etory on page ontersidex day's Dialy Orapye aborthty comines Student ${ }^{1}$ morityontro Beyrrater

Classified ads

For sale

Afro pike * combs. ORANGE TONSORUAL E SUPPLY. 727 S. Crouse Ave.. naxt to S.U. Post Office 475-9289.

FREE1 Size9 Nordics ski Boots! Poles Fiberth purchase of $70^{\circ}$, pair fiberglass Daiwn. Skis Cubco bindings. 1.30 en inchl Negotiable. - toel $476-5785$.

CAR INSURANCE: AII Students Qualify. Low Payments. Davs insurance. 466 Westicott Si, neat campus.
VW Superbeetle 1971, engine excellent and reconditioned. Body Fair. Now Redial Tires. Reliable. $$ 600$. Firm 472-0238
Goalie hockey equipment for sate. Batuer supreme skates: Jopa wired mask: GM 12 glove/stilk-hand Reasonable. Call Don 423-8162:

MOVING SALE Bean-bag chair. metal office desk, twin bect. acquarium, tables, curtains. clocks, etc.; call $472-48805: 30-8: 30$ or visit garage sale- 1218 Trall Avenue Sat. Sars. 11 AM. 3 PM.

SALEIII SALEI! SALEI Introductory offer. One week only. U.S. A my Whil wool and summer kakki pants
Regular $$ 12.00$ now $$ 10.00$ Regular $$ 12.00$ now $$ 10.00$
SECOND HAND ROSE: 713 S SECOND HAN
Crouse Ave.

NEW ARPIVALS at SECOND HAND FOSE: WWI USS. Army wool coats. 713 S. Crouse Ave.
SALEI Winter Clearance up to 50\% Off SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave. Vintage clothing 1900 's 1940 's.

Mens 21" Bridgestone 10 speed bicycle. Red brand neve ridden twice 130.00 or best offer. Keith $478+7603$ Leave message.
Brand new roof rack. 3. $\times 3$ milready assembled. \$20.00 call 474-8030.

MEN: WOMENI JOBS: CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High payt See Europe. Hawaii. Australia, So. America. Winter Summerl Send $$ 3.85$ for info. to SEAWORLD BH. Box E 1035.
Sacto, Ca. 95860.

AM-FM stereo by Panasonic with Gerrard stereo by Panasonie with (Austio-Technica cartridge). Reel wainut cebinets. Piced to sell, Catil Bill at 471-9159.

Services

LET US OO YOUR TYPING. quick-Efficient - E VERY ECONOMICALII No iob too big- norne too smett. Call Vaci Mandowis 471-6503

MCAT OAT sudentes: Sign emp for coursa now, study during vacmionl Staniey Kaplan Education. center

Support your stomacht Wenticot: Celo Special Eenctit Dinnofs. tanciary 19-23. 3.8 pm. For menu info. i24-9725.
ACTION AUOLO iS EACKI AII STERES brends. Wholesste prices. Fully quaranteed. Check arouind.
then call $478-8667$.

For rent
Private room furnished, share kitchern, beth and living room, Clean, welking distarroe - 474-1303 - ot 472-0154.
Rooms ayailable singies and doubles. 8 FiOO - $$ 525$ per semester. Cali. Sig Ep 475-6773.
2 bedroom ept for remt sublesse 2 bedroom ept for rent sublesse $$ 300$. with witities. $104-36 A$. Ivy Pidge Rd. 472-6224.
ON CAMPUS. 6 rooms. fireplace. furnished. 175.00 mo. NOUTLLITIES OM PETS. Lease. 446-7183 after 5 p.m. ${ }^{\prime}$

Lerge Remodelled Houso avail. immed. Lancaster Ave. $450., per month. Plus utilifies. Sec. Dep. Call Mr. Roth 4220709 !
Room in Apt very close to campus. Nice place-people Kitchen big- living room, washer/dryer call 422-1750 Emen
1 bedroom, furnished. Sec. dep. A tenase. A230. 437-6285 foommate wanted to shate 3-biedroom apartment nicely furnished, wall to wall earpeting. fireplace. 81 I3/Mo. And Uzilities 478-1684.
Bost deal in town $$ 900$ Roon and Bowrd. 907 Walnut Avenue, Limited $475-3484$ corne, first sorve $x-2648$.

Furnished single room for rent. ios.33 per month & in utilitites. W/fireolace. driveway. 479-8027. 422-7845.
Room: 813 Euclid Ave. $$ 30 . \overline{\mathrm{wk}}$. Lease until May 31 , all utilities, campus bus. Call Joe 475-8772.
$21 / 2$ University Ave. near Adams Sit. $175. or $150. with caretaker furnctions furnished. Call 471-0723.

House: 4-5 bedroom. Lancestar House: $4-5$ bedroom, Lancester Genesee $$ 140$ inctuding electric 422-5983.
One bedroom apt near S.U, and hospitals. 140 . Off atreet parking iniluded, 422-8119.
Close targe. private, clean room: Sharing living room, kitchen, etc.
$885-3233$.

Apz for rent: furnishedivy Ridge apt. Apt for rent furnistod ivy Ridge apt.
Rent 132.50 Includes all utilities. Catl 422-7845 Philip foommate wanted to share ept on S. Crouse $$ 105 / m 0$. hear incl. Fully furnished. Call Lee 471-1282.

Personals

JEVHISH WOMEN- exploration of ourselvest Come be pari of usi Sun divy 3:00-5:30. 113 goneord Place.
JOEY. You ve finally gotten your per sonal. Too bead they couldin't print it or PINK PAPERL. Hope on Pink PAPERE. Mope thit favorito panda.

Bapel, happy belated blethciayl Hope this 22 nd is the best one over. All my love. LHS
Were ona year ofd and you reinvited ts obirthdaycelobration at Alphafpsition Pi. Barnd party tonights free beer. 9 zils ? 401 Comstock Avenue.

MANDATORY

 CONCERT BOARD MEETINGThis Sunday, Jan. 21 7:30 p.m. - Watson Theatre All Atterict

ala mode dishwouseperston's werted- waiterpentionitites free Eoterdicall Sig Ep. 475-6773.

Maid wanted 3 day a week 83.00 per hour Call Sig Ep 476-6773.
Kitchen help needed at fraternity house; Great food: Free board or wages paid in exchange 478.9015
Mike or Larry.

PART TIME 1OB-Dependable per:son to clegn new home for Ficulty tamily 6.15 hours weekly. Someone who enjoys childrem, has experience and can provide own transportation to Eastarn suburbs preferred. Call 637-5825 or 423-2210.
Low on money and records that aren't wanted? WE BLY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cagh. TOP prices paid!
OESERT. SHORE 730 S. Crouse 472-3235 Mon-Sat 11 -6.

One or two roommates needed to sublet apartment second semester with fall option. Luxury housing two blocks from campus. 422-7110 deys, $\mathbf{4 2 2 - 3 8 6 2}$ evanings.
Guitarist looking for Rock Band Forming Band Brent 422-39617-9 PM Houseboys wanted in exchange for meals at a Comstock sorority: Cal Deirdre or Sharon at 478-9142 or x
-4204 .

Counselors: -Adirondack Bays Camp: $71 / 2$ wiks.; $$ 450-5550$, 5 wimming, Sailing. Canoeing, Camperatt. Archory. Csaft, Tenmis. Driver, Office (typing). Riflory. Softball. Trip Leading. 39'Mill Valley Road. Pitsford, NY 14534.

The Home of the

 SOPT ICR CREAMWe also carry hard ice cream In a wide varlety Open Daily, 'til 9:00 p.m. Nottingham Plaza

Syracuse University Union and Calliope Productions present

 Live from N.Y.C. and Lorig island The"BONNIE PARKER BAND"; with special guest 1 st concert of the new semester Wednesday, Jan. 24th two shows 8 p.m. & 11 p.m. Jabberwocky - $2.50

-25c Drafts

Tickets on sale at Jab. Spectrum, Record Theater, Discount Records, S.U. Elookstore.

Get ready to be rocked like you've never been rocked before.

Ladiés,  PI KAPPA ALPHA  Invites you to Little Sister Rush  -a semi-formal wine & cheese partySaturday, Jan. 20,8z30 p.m.  405 Comstock (Across from Haven)

SYAACUSE ENIVERSTY BOOKSTORES   We Need Your Used Books   We Need Your Used Books We Pay Cash on the Spot

 We Pay Cash on the Spot}
Up to $\mathbf{5 0 \%}$ of new list price for titles that we need.

Bring in all your books now for top dollar!

Open tonight 'til 8 p.m.

Rocesvelt Bouis (left) and the reat of the Syracuse tearn had littie trouble with tra Siens opposition Wednetiay night in SU's 144-92 wipeout of the indians. Safurday night": garme against Chnikits, figuraz to be t tougher tast. however. The game Geging at 8 p.
WAER-FM BS.

Griffs could be golden vs. SU

For the fourth time this season, college basketball returns to the Buffalo Memorial Auditorium Lomorrow night, as Syracuse (13-2) tangles with upatate rival Canisius at 8 p.m. three, including a $100-59$, win in Manley a year ago.

The Golden Griffins, kieaded by second-year coach Nick Macarchuk, raised their record to $8-8$ (they hosted Scranton last night) after defeatixag St. Francis (Pa.) 90-74 Monday night. The eight wins are already more than last year's entire total, and point out that the Grifis shouldn't be taken too lightiy.

They are playing well right now," Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim said. "We have to improveour pressure defense a tittle more to stop their scoring."
Leading the point production for Canistus is senior captain Fon Peaks. Peaks, who will be firting with the 1000 -point mark in tomorrow's game, rauks 9th in the East in aconing (23.9), and 10 th in rebounding (10.2).

Peaks is an outetanding offensive player," Boeneim said "He is as good a forward as we will play against all year."

Ron is no doubt the heart of our team," Macarchnik said Our opponents know that to beat us, you must etop him Peaks).
Joining Peaks in the Griff's starting lineup are forward Doug Worthington (who is shootiog 46 percent, and averages 10.3 points), guards Duke Richardson ( 50 percent and 12.9 10.3 points), guards Duke Richardson ( 50 percent and 12.9
points) and Chnck Ciement ( 50 percent, and 4.1 points), and center Herb Billape ( 46 percent and 11.1 pointa)
"Ous starting five is mcoring well right now," Macarchuk said. "And to stop Syracuse they will have to play their best catme of the seamon both offensiyely and defennively."
For the Orange, coming off their recond-bhattering performance. Wednemday night agdinst Siena, playing on the road presents a more difficult challenge.
our fift , any ratad game is tough," Boeheim said. "It wim be or for game in 11 days, and we have to keep playing well." Monday night's battle with Esatern rival Ratgers?
"I don't think any of the guys look ahead to wpecific games," Boaheim anid. "Whey know it's a lot harder playing on the Boaheim forid. now we are thinking about Canimius in Buffalo road, 00 for now
And at the same time, the Orange are also thinking about win number 14.
Today is the lant day for students with athletic activity carde to pick ap their ticlsets to Monday night's SU-Rutgeras barketbail game. Tycked windows at Manley Field House and Archbold Gym will be open from 9:30 am. to 4:30 p-m. for ticker exchangers.

Pitino makes Terriers bark

BOSTON-The Ecorebotird Hon home of the Boston University baske Center, read UCONN the gamenN 48 BU 46 with $5: 56$ remgining in Wright last Thursday night. As BU atar Steve Wright attempted to cut the lead to one with a free throw, his corach, Rick Pitino, turned to a cheerleader and told her to tell the enthusiastic band to stop playing during BU's foul shots.
Hold it right there. This can't be a basketball game at Boaton Univeraity. Cheerleaders? A band? Enthusiam? Only a twoppint deficit to the second-bent team in New England with six minutes to play?

BU is supposed to be the home of the power play and the slap shot, the Bymbol of Eastern hockey's collegiate supremacy. A baskethall game? That's just a place to warm the toes between the New England hockey wars.
But it is different in Boston with this fellow Fitino. around. In his first year as head coach of the Terriers, Pitino, the man who brought you Louis Orr, Eddie Moss and Rick Harmon as an SU assistant coach the last two seasons, is making people notice the puckless sport in college hockey's capital.
After surviving an early-geason achedule that was easy as finding an " $\tau$ " in Boaton, BU's record stands at 6.5 and there are whispers of ECAC tourney talk on Babcock Street.

In an eight-day stretch in December, the Terriers played four of New England's top teams:
Maine, Connecticut Holy Cross and Massachusetts. For the first time in 19 years, BU best Pitino's alma mater, UMass, at Amherst while losing to the other three by no more than nine points.

BU beat Fairfield in Fairfield in overtime and then defeated Farleigh-Dickinson to climb to fifth in the New England rankings for the first time since the Tea Party

We have a motto," said Pitino, stylishly dreased in a brown striped three-piece suit an he watched his team go through a shooting prac tice a few hours before the rematch with UConn "We call ourselves the hardest working team around: We went through double sessions on Thanksgiving Day."
The 26-year-old coach has been working over time and on holidays in an effort to turn the basketball program around. He has established the Fast Break Club that has raised more than 10 times the money the team raised last year. He has scoured the dorms in an attempt to form a Manley-ike zoo section called Tie pound imum 15 full scholarghips to work with.
"I wasn't here last year," said BU captain

Tom Channel, a Jim Ricelook-alike who Pitino calls the bert guard in the East. "But from what can tell, the gtadents and faculty are getting more involved in the program.
Unlike Syracuse. Pitino cannot rely on tradition to build hia program. "You have to get a great schedale, you must play good teame and you have to show recruits that the program is on the rise," Fitino said.
The Long Island native has done exactly that, acheduling South Carolina and Notre Dame in the next few years. Old friend Syracuae will be a home and home affair in the next two seasons, and the Terriers will play in nex year's Carrier Creseic Pitino will also take hi team to the prestigious Lobo Invitational in New Mexico in the near future
Pitino, who set assist records at UMass, made hil mark at Syracuse as the director of rec ruiting and as the defensive coordinator from 1976 through last season.

This school has a tremendous potential to recruit" Pitino said. "Boston is the college mecea of the nation. I still take an active interest in recruitiag, but that is, the res ponsibility of my assistant coaches.
Pitino does not restrict his recruiting to any region of the country. His starting five last Thursday night consisted of players from Oregon, Indiana, Maryland, Illinois and New York.
The jump from assistant to head man does not bother the personable Pitino, who was an interim head coach at the University of Hawai at the tender age of 24

An a head conch, you take winning and losing harder. Before, I concentrated mostly on defense, but now I'm getting into both offense and defense," Pitino said
But he has gone from a basketball power at SU to a struggling aituation at BU.

Every game here is a war," Pitino said. "A little facet of fundamentals could decide any ballgame. At Syracuse, there were only six wars a year. It's more of a challenge here.
"We don't have a facility like Manley." Pitino continued. "We've got the bert facility in Booton, but that's not saying much. There is justno room for a Manley Fiseld House.
No matter where he has been, a trademark of Pitino's coaching is a fierce desire to atop the op position from scoring. "We like to run as much as we can while playing the best posaible defense." Pitino said. "We like to get the acore in the high 70's and low 80's. We don't play in the $40^{\circ} \mathrm{s}$ and $50^{\circ} \mathrm{e}$ like Dartmouth and Princeton."

Even though the UConn rooters were more Gominued on pege mirseen

Terror of ## the Terriers

Always . known for his extberence white at syracuse, new Eloston U. haad coach Rick Pitino (left) hisicontinued thet personelity in Boston. Pitino has beer succersiul so far. in $\cdot$ whipping sorrse enthu indim inte the iethergic Ier rier program. On the coust his tean het become winner

Swimming leads busy weekend

The Syracuse University men's awim team will meet at Colgate tomorrow for what head conach John Burzserd predicta will be "a close cnach but on burzard predicked for."
The women's team will alno face Colgate, but at home. They will take on their rivals at 2 p.m. at the Orange pool in Archbold Gymnasium.
During their stayin Florida during the winter break, the men's and women'a teame had their hariest worirouts of the season. Burzaird mentioned that the "change of atwouphere and the break in training rigidity boosted the team's morale."
Overall, Buzzard said the seam is performing up to achedule. Some nwimmers, like John Eoyeton, a frehman from Fairfiald, Conn. have performed beyoud expectiation, he addied.

As a result of their outstanding win over St . John's lart welkend, the Orangemen's witament necerd is 2 and 4, while the women et ma at $8-2$

The Syracuse wreatlert, fresh from a rout of Cornell, will try to improve their record to 13-3 tomorrow night at Manley Field House against St. Lawrence. The match begins at 7:30 p.m.

The indoor track team will also be in action tomorrow at Manley, hosting East Stroudeburg State beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The Syracano hocicey cinb save its record drop to 4-3 overall Wedinesday night as: the Orangemen dropped a non-confersince; 121 deciaion to Kobart in Gemeva, N.Y Syracuse. bowever, in utill ondefeated in Finger-1/ace Leagrie plisy, with a 30 xucori. Thr:Oringe retripn to conference pliny tomornow night begin ning mt 9.16 pm . agraint Broomi CormtyCommonity Collore, t the Now Yorkigtite Puniry Cocide Arena.

The Daily Orange

Bookstore prices drop from previous year's levels

By Carolyn Beyrau
Syracuse University Bookstore prices have décreased an average of 11 cents an item from last year, according to a survey conducted by The Daily Orange.

Thesurvey alsoindicated that SUB's prices are an average of 22 cents an item lower than those of Burnett's Pharmacy, 720 S: Crouse Ave. The bookstore's prices are also lower than Siegel's, 101 Marshall St., by an average of three cents an item.

The lower prices are due to a new SUB product supplier, according to SUB Inirector Diann Straus.

'After the big to-do last apring, we were prompted to look around for a supplier with better prices," Straus said.
Last April, Student Association organized a bookstore boycott and presented SUB with four proposala for better service. The proposalg were an acrose-theboard decrease in prices, a check-cashing service, "positive changes" in the bookstore's buy-back policy and locker atorage space.

However, Straus denied that the boycott, which lasted until the end of the semester, had an effect on the gearch for a new suppliex.
"I didn't say it was the boycott," Straus asid. We heard of gome conversations about dissatisfaction with our prices. Over the sumnaer we were able to look around for lower prices and we found them."

But Kathy Courtney, SA vice president for student programs, baid the boycott had a real effect on the price decrease.
"I'm convinced the boycott had a ma or impact," Courtney said. "All the boycott participants should know that their effort was not in vain."

Concerning SA's other proposals, Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers gave his approval in November for a check cashing merivice and a bookstore ad visory council. Both Bhould be im plemented in thie near futrare, Courtney Baid.
Frank Slazer, incoming SA vice president for atudent programs, said the bookstore's buy-back policy will be one of the firat isaues tackled by the adviéory council.
Lockers were installed at the beginning of last aemester, but Straus had agreed to that proposal before the boycott took place.

Man faces 14 charges

Two more charges were filèd Friday against Clarence Robinson, a-formet Syracuse resident who bas already charged in connection wh Syracube University area
Robinson, 30 , pleaded innocent to charges of-first-degree sodomy and Eirst-degree unlawful imprisonment when he was arraigned before Judge James R. Anderson.

The judge set bail at $$ 15,000$ pending c court reappearance Wednesday.
The two new charges stèm from an ncident Auc 31.1977 when an forced a 23 -year-old woman to commit corcen in the basament of her Walnut Avenue apartment: avenue apartment dentified from a pharged after he was identified from a police lineup by the Noman.
The new charges bring to 14 the number of chargea brought agains Robinson since he was arrested Thura day in connection with attacks agains women in the SU area last fall.
The charges, isted in a grand jury indictment, are first-degree attempted rape, first-degree sexual abuse, two counts of first-degree robbery, two counts of second-degree robbery, two counts of second-degree burglary, two counts of second-degree assault and two counits of third-degree assiault.
The charges atem from two attacka on Sept. 11 againgt SU women and another against a woman on Sept 25.

On Sept. 11, an SU studentin Marion Hall fought off a man who tried unsuccesafully to rape her. The man then took $$ 50$ from her and left the dorm.

Comtrumad on pege five

A suit challenging Syracuse Univeraity"s campus ticketing and towing practices was unanimoualy rejected Saturday by the New York State Supreme Court Appellate Divizion.
The suit was brought by Howard Birmbach, a third-year SU College of Law student
The decision upheld an earlier deciaion last April by State Supreme Court Justice Thomas J. Murphy.
Birnbach, who represented himbelf in the case, initiated the zuit after SU ticketed and towed his car Sept. 13, 1977. Birnbach claimed that. SU authorized itself to ticket and tow -ith no atatritory antionity Healso argued that Tamblin's Garage, the univer: sity's towing company, has no right to charge students a fee before returning their cars.

But Justice Murphy ruled the university has an "inherent right" to ticket in order to prevent chaos on campus, and a common law right to tow

Birnbach said yeatarday "the chancen are great" he will appeal.

Students and Chaplains will tead  LAUDS: MORNIING PRAYER  IN THE CHRISTIAN TRADITION

WEEKDAYS 8:45A.M.
Dean't Office. Herndricks Chaped
A hatt-hour of prayer, allem mectitation, chaming of paalms. remding of Scripture and mutulal wharing and encourepement in the life of Chriatian faith.
Coordinated by Dean. MeCombe and Aamt. Dean Fasching. Sponsored by Herndricice Chapel.

Due to resignation, the position of

Vice President of Graduate Student Organization

is vacant

An election will be held at the January 25.1979 meeting of G.S.O. (7:30 p.m., Maxwell Auditoriurr) to fill this position. The term runs through May 16, 1979 and offers a scholership of a600. Information and/or nomination forms are available at the G.S.O. Office, Tilden Cottage. 103 College Place.

We Buy, Seli gi Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magarinas

Aring your recorids to us for camh Collections bought © House calle by appointment 1,000's of raconds in stock © Most LP's onty 52 - 53 - A/I records gumrumteed © We specialize in out-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
S. Carnplts Mall. 730 S. Crouse

M-Sot. 11-6 (472-3236)

FILM FORUM sitford Aud.  ARTHUR PENN RETROSPECTIVE

A retrospective showing of Arthur Penn's films appearance folfowing showing of NIGHT MOVIES.

TonightTuesday 9 pm Mickey OneWodnesday 7 pm Mismouri GreaksThurseday 7 pm Litue Big Min7 prw Night Moves9 pm Fenn Apperance

WHAT'SAN NSACAREER? It'sdifferent things to different people.

Of course. most of the employees at the National Security Agency have certain things in common: they are civilians employed by the Department of Defense: they are engaged in projects vital to our country's communications security and intelligence production: and they all enfoy the benefits that accompany Federal employment. However, the differences between our career opportunties are just as interesting as their similerities. For example. . TO THE ELECTRONIC ENGINEER (BS/MS): An NSA career means delving into unique projects which can span every phase of the R&D cycle. An engineer may design, develop, test and manage contracts on communications. recording, and information storage devices and systems whose capacities and speeds are still considered futuristic in most quarters. TO THE COMPUTER SCIENTIST (BS/MS): It means applying his or her knowledge in a wide-range of sub-disciplines such as systems design. systems programming. operating systems. computer applications analysis, and retrieval systems.
TO THE MATHEMATICIAN (MS): A career means defining. formulating, and solving complex communi-cations-related problems. Statistical mathematics. matrix algebra and combinatorial analysis are just a few of the tools applied by the NSA mathematician. TO.THE LINGUIST (BA/MA/D): A career cansists of transcribing, translating, and perhaps conducting analysis and dacumentation projects. Slavic. Midanalysis and dacumentation projects. Slavic. Mid-Eastern. and Asian language majors can expect challenging assignments and continuing self-development. Interested in learning more about the difference in an NSA career? Schedule an interview with us-through your Student Placement Office today.
U.S. Citizenship is required.

Bus swerves, runs into car on icy road

By Mifkey Mercier
A Centro bus skidded on an icy hill on Lambreth Lane at Skytop Saturday night iand struck an unoceupied parked slammed into another parked car.
Neither the bus driver nor the seven passengers on the bus were injured. Damage to the vehicles was slight.
The bus, on Centro's South Campus Via Weatcott run, Campus made its $9: 36$ p.m. stop at Slocum Heights terminal and was running several minutes late. It was heading north and late. it was heading north and downill when it hit the cars downhill when it hit the cars near the intersection of Laun breth

Centro driver Louise Grady aaid she swerved and braked the bus to a void a parked white Volkswagex bus that was protruding into the left side of the road.
When she braked, the Centro bus skidded to the right, striking a Chevrolet Nova that belongs to Linda Keithan, 175 Lambreth Lane.
The Chevrolet spun partially around and alammed into a car that belongs to Phillip Gurin, 401 Van Buren St.

Town meeting to include talk on Middle East

The Middle East will be the topic of a town meeting to be held Feb. 7 at 7 p.m. at Unitarian Society May Memorial Church, 3800 E. Genesee St

The meeting. sponsored by Onondaga Community College and the U. S. Department of Stater, will feature Robert A. Flaten, deputy assiatant secretary of state for consressional affairs.
The town meetings are designed to inform Americans about foreign policy and to gather citizen feedback on foreign prlicy Similar meetinge on international topics are held around New Yoris State as part of a program between New York community colleges and the State Department.

Religion dept.  to hold meeting on ritual theory

The religion department is sponaoring a colloquitum on ritual, which will take place from Jan 25 to Jan. 27.
The department has invited three profespors from other universities to tale part in the colloquibu. They are Ron Grimes from Wilfred Lavirier University, Jack Stanley from Lawrence University and Evan Zeuss from Case Western University. Grimes has worled with expeximental. theater, Stanley has exramined South Indian rituals, and Tenss has stadied ritual theory and rituals of Africa.

Three adsesions. have been planned and will be held in the Lawrinaon Penthouse.

The first will be on Theradiay. Jan. 25, from 8 to $10: 30$ p. fa the topic will bo "tive Natare of Eftral." Me. pecond ecirogion will be on Frecond eeraion way, Jan. 26, and will be devoted to The Study of Ritmal." The third and final Ebation will be on Gaturdiay, one or

Letters

In Defense of Bill Goettel

fo the editor:
Ifelt the article written in the DO's Dec. 13. isaue concerning, the residnation of head soccer coach Bill residnation of head soccercoach bind Goettel was uniair, onesided a Firet of all. I thought the article Fascleverly stashed in the lastissue of the semester so that a rebuttal such as this would have much less impact coming ont more than a month later. The DO reporting staff was not quite on top of this story as Goettel resigned Nov. 17. Thiv was notreported in the DO until Dec. 13.

Bill Goettel's record at Syracuse is really quite impreserive. He inherited a program which had never had a winning beason in over 20 years. He secorded three winning seasons out of four. Goettel also served the longest tenure to this date as a Syracuse soccer coach, even though t was only through four campaigns Goettel attained the first soccer scholarship for an SU player in 1976. State ranking was achieved 1976. State rank this was achon.

Bill Goettel was not just a successful coach, but an incredible successiul coach, but an incredible fund-raiser for the soccer program. He apent many long hours in the ocal archives establishing an alumni list. He formed a local booster club for the soccer team. His list of fund-raiging achievements is endless, including getting up at $5: 30$ anm. for an entire summer to chop Irewood to sell it entirely for the nirewo tean.
The head soccer coaching position that Goettel held was supposed to be a part-time position. He runs the VD clinic at the health center as his full time occupation. The demands of the growing soccer program were too gieat for a part-time employee which is what prompted his resignation. He received a mert $$ 3,000$ a year for his work, which was comparable to full-time programs such as Cornell's Colgate's and Hartwick's, whose coaches make 立ve to geven times as much. Assistant Athletic Director Dick Gibney told ma that they are now soing to bire a full-time coach contrary to what was reported in the DO article. The coach will be the head soccer coach, an assistant lac rosse coach and a physical education teacher. This is now a full time position, but with too many dis tractions to be a full-time soccer coach. Gibney said of Goettel, "H had his etrong and weak points, but was an excellent promotions man fund-raiser and organizer. Goette admitted-his technique in casching was weak. Overall he did a commen dable job." Gibney also seid the DO's article was "unfair and had many errors.

Goettel's fellow health center employees have nothing but praige for bis work. They said he worked day andnight on both his health centex woric and boccer. They all agreed the article was outrageous Goettel has never claimed to be an excellent soccer tactician. "IfI was a full-time coach I wouldn't feel competent," Goettel said. "I never competent, Goettel said. I never clamed to be a great coach. Itried to the thanks I got." Goettel let aides the thanks I got." Goettel let aides Jape Shattuck, Steve Albert and Dan Moore teach the club technique and influemce his critical game decisions. Not al
The limits on scholarhisips, funThe limits on scholarheips, funding, gcouting expenses and being part time seemied too much of a demand to dehvex a competer can it be said that the man has no soccer lenowledge? Paul Kina, president of the booster club, maid, "The program came a long w̄y wnder Bill Coettel.?"

There were many erroneous statements in the DO article. The time Bill Goettel spent on manufacturing his soccer product was epare time, what little he had. It had nothing to do with hiz soccer or clinic tine. He did plenty of unacicounted favors for team members, but none of them gave him highlighted books as zeported. "That was a total lie," Goettel said. Fe established his own soccer library to expand his soccer libs
Bill Goettel is content now. He has received numerous letters from alumni stating their diapppointment with his resignation and best wishes for the future. "The letters from alumni were enough lettars from alumanat for me that really don't care about the other things," Goettel aid.
Keith Nichols
Keith Nichols was public address announcer' during the SU Boccer season.

a fine employee

To the editor,
I would like to comment about the Daily Orange article of December 13, 1978 concerning the regignation of William Goettel as SU soccer coach. Because the article seems so strongly biased tow ard thenegative, strongly biaged tow ard thenegative, it is only faiz that eomeone ghould it is only faiv that eomeone should add positive info Goettel has worked at the Student Health Center for two years. During that time, I have seen a great deal of Goettel'a activity as soceer coach. Although the position of soccer coah at SU in listed as part-time, it is obvions to anyone who knows Goettel that he has worked full time and beyond to develop and improve the anccer mrogram. In my opinion, the upgrading and success of the program muat be attributed directly to Goettel's dedicated, individual eforts and to no one else. I am dirturbed with superficial dissatisfactions about a man's alleged ignorance of soccer, when I can aee that there might not have been any soccer program of mexit at all without Goettel.
The health center is fully corfident and satisfied with Goettel's performance. Consequently, he will performance. Consequentiy, he win become a full-time staf member. In this case, the athetic departme loas is the health center gain. g. D.
Vincent Lamperalla is Meclical Director of the SU Health Service.

The Daily Orange welcomes all letters to the editor. They should be typed ard double spaced. Send them to the Daily Orange at 1101 E. Adams St. Due to space limitations we regret we cammot publish all Letters. The Daily Orange reserves the right to edit for clarity and space.

The SU budget: The Knife isquicker than the eye

Ten years from now, the grad from the class of 1979 returns to campus. He is impressed by the sight. The domed stadium. they talked about building when he was a senior is there. It's the only a senior is there. it's the only and it's impressive as hell, A short distance away is the new School of Management building. This new structure graces the pages of all the university's brochures and catalogs. And, wonder of wonders, there is a student union building. The building all the stiedents rallied for wher he was a student has finally been built, even though the university was upset because it lost some parking spaces.

The alumnus is satisfied with the progress his alma mater has made. progress his almamater has made.
From its outward appearance,

The Daily Orange

acitor in chiaf manerying editor moductioning minditor layoul director your director coditor copy editor editorial editor oditorial editor new editor asert. nows aditor sast. new editior asset. newn edito Focus editor

Rechel Finkel Maria Riccardi Joel Stushenko Irvin FEBCh Magaly Olivero Backy Uczen Richard Folkers Joah Sheldon George Muse Lerry Petry Moliase Kateman
asst. Focus editor atst. Focus editor Focus edtion asst. sports editior uppplement edito supplemtent editor art direetor art director photo editor businese manager businesis manager tast ady. dlrector orse

Syracuse University is growing, even thriving.

The grad decides to retiurn to the site of many of his classes, Maxwell Auditorium Something strikes him as wrong. The auditorium is empty, as is the building. The noisy students are gone, replaced by silence. Suddenly, he spies a janitor sweeping the floor.
"Where have thestudents and the "teachers gone?" he asks the janitor.
"There are none anymore," the janitor replies. "All the teachers were laid off during the past 10 years, so they didn't need students anymore. All SU has left are ad. ministrators and custodians.

The university's budget for the 1979-80 academic year is the first step toward making the scene described above a reality. The budget calle for an 8.4 percent tuition increase and a 7.5 percent hike in room and board costs. This is par for the course as budgets go.

The surprise in this year's budget comes from a recommendation made by the University Senate Committee on Budget and Fiscal Affairs. If the committee gets its way. 35 positions will be eliminated. All these positions would be from the academic affairs office, and eight or nine would be faculty. The rest would include secretaries and administrators.

This cutback in academic services comes at a time when the university is proudly proclaiming its desire to expand. We will have more academic buildings, a new football stadium and a student union building. The only area we will reduce is education.

The budget committee seems to be following the New York City on essential services and leave the fat in the budget.

Why weren't other areas cut? Academics are - or, at least, Academics are - or, at least, university. However, the budget committee saw fit to make the bureaucratic side of SU, administrative operations, more important. The committee owes the university community more of an explanation.
The committee's recommendation appears to be uninformed. In fact, the committee wrote at one point in its presentation of the budget: "The Budget Committee does not wish to leave the impression that it understands the pro forma budget in depth. Indeed, there are important areas where we and the entire university community need to be betterinformed"

This is one point where we couldn't agree more with the committee.

Thomas Coffey for

SMRACMIE LNVCRETY EOOKSTORES  FOOD DEPARTMENT SALE!

 Snacks1 lb. PREMIUM SALTINES $75^{*}$
OREO Cookles or OREO Swiss Cookies Beverages*
Pepsi-Diet Pepsi 2 liter bottle $95^{*}$
*Available at Mt. O Bookstore & SkyShop only.

Gain Prestige

Rush
Zeta 鲃ii IFraternity
Rush dates:
Mon., Tues., Thurs. & Sat.
Jan. 22 - Feb. 8
727 Comstock Ave. between Shaw and DellPlain

TAKE A SHOT AT IT

Apply for editor of The Daily Orange

Submit a letter of intent to Tom Coffey at the DO,
1101 E. Adams St.,
by 4 p.m. Tuesday

About $200,000 hat been raised wo far for the trenovation of Syracuse Stage.

SU seeks to renovate Regent

By Andrea Abrahams

Syracuse University has applied for a half theseats in the back of the theater addin $160,000 matching grant from the National En- a balcony and new lighting and sound systems. dowment for the Arts to renovate Regent Such changes will make the theater more con Theater, according to Jim Clark, managing ducive for enjoying a performance, Clark said irector for Syracues Stare Thector for Syracuse Stage.
The total cost of renovating the Regent department productions, but-after renovation Theater, the largest of three theaters within the are completed in October, it will be used for the SU-owned Syracuse Stage complex,- 820 E. stage's professional company, Clark said. Genesee St., is expected to be $$ 800,000$, Clark said. To date, about $$ 220,000$ has been raised for CO the complex's Experimental Theater, which for Clark said is, more intimate and comfortable, pected to come from corporations and in- Only thí drama department's final produc dividuals in the Syracuse area, as well as one rion in April will be affected by the renovation major donor after whom the complex will be siaid Clark, which will be relocated in the lab renamed, he added.
Clark said he thinics, there is a good chance drama department.
the NEA will approve the matching grant, par- Syracuse: Stage currently:hae 6,000 season ticularly since more than that has already been ticket subacribers to ite professional company. raised. . It hopes to attract between 15,000 and 20,000 Clark said Regent Theater "right now is too subacriptions a year with the renovated barnlike for really good theater productionis." facilities.

SU Press observes expansion of culture in communist China

By Myra R. Aronson
Signs that the People's Republic of China is expanding its interests were noted by the Syracuse University Press when the Chinese recently purchased books on topics they had never ordered before. SU Press belleves that che change is the resuit of an easing of the policies in that country.

Thomas Lavoie, promotion manager for SU Press, said, '"Previously, the Chinese had only ordered highly technical books on tópics of ecientific nature such as Wood Structure and Idertification and 'Water and Wood.' "Now the Chinese have purchased books. on varying topics such sas "Arab Edncation in Iarael," "French Education Since Napoleon," "Geography" of New York State? and "Tradition and Change in Jewiah Experience," Lavoie said.
"China's hunger for a wide variety of material has had a direct impact on our sale of

A, Attresers

Continued from page ane
About 20 minutes later, a man attacked and robbed $$ 157$ from a woman in Sherbrooke Apartments nt 604 Walnut Ave.
On Sept. 25 a woman (not an SU student) was attacked by a man with a ateak knife a Walnut-Place and Marahall Street. He punched her in the head before fleeing. police books," said Arpena Mesrobian, director and editor of SU Press. Don Traynor. of Feffer and Simons, a book export house that represents SU press, gaid "We fee the order for SU's bookn an the biggest potential for the biggest potential for thre
"Since these. books are written in English, it is not likely that they will be big sellers in China,"_said Mesrobian. Lavoie added jokingly that "perkapethis change will open the job market for English-Chinese translators." August L. Freundlich, dean of the College of Visual and Perfer college of wian and Cerrorming Arts, who visited China last August, said, the Chinese to do comme by the Chinese to do commerce ding, "they want to exchange students and ideas.

 HMEARY 3ssto 100010
-
mink te veve equmat agetemvative.
OFFER ENDS AKM. 15

Eppetrium toves
Eapl Untworaity

For Your Convenience SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Is Open  Toniǵht

 Until

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

BOOK

 EXCHANGE -Used Books For LessWhy Pay More?Located in Watson Conference Room Jan. 19 & 22-26 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

Orange broadcasts

For those who cannot get into tonight's soldout RutgersSyracuse basketball game at Manley Field House, the game will be telecast on WSYR-TV3 beginning at 8:00 p.rn. The game will also be broadcast on WSYR-AM 570 and WAER-FM 88.

SU wrestlers triumph

The Syracuse wrestling team tied a record for most wring in a season Saturday at Manley Field House in a 26-16 win over previously unbeaten St. Lawrence. It was the 134 win of the year for SU against three losses, tying records set in 1976 anc 1977.

Women face Vaniór

The Syracuse Univerraity women's baskethall team has had a recent rise in prominence around the East coast which coin cides with its rise in prominence around the StI campus.
The Orangewomen, now $5-0$, were recently first in defense in the East by Eastern Basketbill Newsletter as SU's defense has been giving up just 39.8 points per game. Martha Mogish, U's leading scorer, came in third in the East with her fine hooting-percentage of 63.9 percent.
The Orangewomen will meet Vanier College of Canada onight at 5:45 p.m. in the first women's-men's basketball doubleheader ever at SU. The gamepreceeds the Syracusekutgery matchup which begins ats.
The game is a atep in the right direction for the women's program, according to Orange coach Barbara Jacoba.
"If we got equal billing the doubleheader would be good, but

Gymnasts best ever

Another record better Satwiday was the SU gymnastice tearn, which beat Cornell 205.05 to 176.50 . The point total was he highest in SU history. Mickey Kiefe- led the Orange (4-1) wing the high bar with a 9.10 score.

Vanier should provide the Orangewomen oniy slight competition. It is the frovitime Vanier College has traveled out of Ontario to meet an opponent.
The upcoming weeks, however, should prove to be mach more challenging for Syracuse. SU will have its first meaningful showdown on Jan. 31 when 12th-ranked Penn Gat virite Manley
Before looking ahead to Penn State though, the Orangewomen will start the month-long Manufacturers fanover Invitationsal tournament which will de Syracuge mete Buffelo State in Buffato
Syractrse neets Bunfor stave in in which ts Saturday in the inget round of the toumament, in which 16 teams, eigh row upetat area, compete. The winner will be decided at Iona Collegre on Feb. 28.

- Glen Udine

Howard leads indoor track

Freshman Wallie Howard led the SU indoor track team to : 10036 win over East Stroudsburg Saturday afternoon a Manley. Howard won the high jump and the triplejump while Joe Morris tied his own Maniey Field Honee record in the 50 meter dash. Syracuse raised its record to 1-1 in dual meets.

Swiminiers swamp Colgate

The SU men's awimming team capped off a winning weokend for all Syracuse toams with a $60-53$ win over Colyate in Hamiltom. IF all came down to the 400 -yard freestyle relay again for SU al the Syracuse-team of Mike Kriley, Pete Garofalo. Bob Yokota and Bob Hayes won in a time of 214.469. Syriocua in now 33.

SU wromtier Jop Coolican and the reat of the Orangemen record to 13-3.

The East's best game tonight will be plame at. Maniey Field Houtlo when tho Scation Knights of Autgers play Syracuse. The im tamarms have split games the past Me oamons and the question tonight is if if wi. se the dunk or juak for the Knights.

(xatern
While ming SUfatuderits settle into their the Syracuree bagketban tarm will face a sichedule that is, innlike past weeks; hardls academici tonight at 8 pm. Rutgers could provide the 14-2.Orangemen with one of their sternest home contests of the season. On Wednesday; in Phifadelphia for rikey Fsistern matchup with the high-figing Temple Owis, who ghould give SU its etiffest road test since that forgettable-weelkend in Kentucky.
In the Scarlet Knights, the Orangemen will face a traditional Eastern Hival that as fallen on hard times but, with the explosive James Bailey, has the potential to upset a nationally-ranked team.-
Rutgers is a-disappointing $9-5$ this eason, a Besson in which it was supposed 0 challenge Syracuse for Eastern o challenge Syracuse for Eastern owns of a menio aepressive.
Early in the geason, struggling with no et starting linenp, the Scarlet Knights pat home gamaes to the likes of Lafayotte nd St. Peter's.
But on the final weekend in December, Coach Tom-Young finally decided on a pset Ohio State (which had upset Duke) 87.96 in triple overtime to win the ECAC Holiday Featival.
Rutgers lost to UCLA, $78-57$, in a Pavillion Jan. 6, yet Young afil thinks laying in Manley Field House will be a Cnights.
"I believe'that Manley (where SU has won a nation-leading 39 straight games on its homé court) is the toughest place in Knights to joust with the country to play," Young obwerved. "Ror Byracuse, plasing, in Manley is like having two Bounies."

The Orangemen's other Bouie, 6-100t-11 Fooedvelt, is plasing well enough right now to perhaps make only one Bovie necessary for an SU victory tonight In the heralded Bailey, however, who is the country', Bouie bees "the mosit intimidating player I have ever faced."

Bailey, however, has been the victim of frequent double and triple coverage this season and conseqiuently is averaging.
slightly fewer points (18.9) a game than last year (23.5).

According to Young, the extra attontion opponents have paid Bailey has paid off for atarting guard Daryl StrickIand (12.1 points a game) and forward Kelvin Troy .9 points).
"Our strength has been more halanced scoring, with-Bailey inside and Troy (a sive boards,"Young noted.

Rutgers' other starting forward, senior Abdel Anderson, adds balance with 11.9 points and 6.9 rebounds a game, winile genior point guard Tom Brown runs the offense and leads the team in assists with guards from the bench, freshman defensive speedster Darius Grifin, who made a Oig steal that enabled Rutgers to force tranafer Bill Clark.

For Syracuse, guard Eddie Moss is a questionable starter because of a bruised Canisius game. If Moss doesn't atart, Hal Cohen will.

As for the Heralded Bourie-Bailey matchup. Young said he doesn't see it as a critical factor nniess one center gots into foul trouble and has to spend a lot of time on the bench.
"I think Roosevelt and Baileyr will neutralize each other like they have the past fev years," Syracuse co-captain Dale other player will decide the game.'
If tonight's game does come down to "some other player" Syracuse, with the home court and deeper bench, could make victory over the Scarlet Knights an victory over the Scar academic achievernent.

| Height | 6-foot-9 |
| :---: | :---: |
| Weirght $\therefore$ - | 230168. |
| 1978-'79 scoring average | . 18.9 |
| 1977-78 acoring avernae | 23.6 |
| 1978-79 rebounding avg. | 9.2 |
| 1977-78 rebounding avg. | 9.4 |
| blocked shots (1977-78) | 242 |
| dunks (1977-79) | 204 |

- Bailey is a cómplete player who led his team last season in field coals, field goal percentage, free throws, rebounds, total points, fcoring average, steals, bloclred shots and dunks.
most doley in without question the don't think anyone can stop him completely," said SU coach Jim Boeheim. shot. Bailey's fann now wear T-ahirts which read "Baileyr'g My Name" on the front and "Dunking's MY Game" - St John's coach Loe Carnesecca On the probable pro career of Bailoy: him."
- Compiled by Mark Gáfiń

"Ouniking't rmy game" is what James Bafioy's fans procinion, and the'll bring his spechalty with hirn tonight against Rooselveft. Bouis and $S U$. Orange outclasses upstart Griffs

By Ion Stanhenko
BUFFALO-Every day for the past Year Canisius basketball coach Mick Macarchuk used to gaze at a press clip

Orange wave bye-bye to Griffs boldy elaimed the words-and so it had been after Syracuse's 100-59 slaughter of Macarchulc's Golden Griffins last séason at Manley Field House:-
Late Saturday, night Macarchuk reaurrected the clipping.
"It reminded me of how far we had"to go," Macarchuk said. "Tonight we came part of the way. We're getting there."
"Getting there" to Macarchuly and the rebuilding Griffs meant a 103-92 loss Saturday night at the Buffalo War Mernorial Auditorium to Syracuse. But the Griffe, whose program has long been as diamal-as the city in which they play. seem to be on their way to being Golden.

- "I can't say enough for-the job Nick Macarchuk has donehere," said SU coach couldn't compete against us in any way. couldn't compete against us in any way. better than anybody we play against."

Saturday Syractiae found out just how pótent the Griffis could be, since at times Canisius was as slick as the icy roads outside the Buffalo Auditorium.
Off the opening tap Canisus guard Duke Richardson streaked down the left gideline and cutin for a layup. On the next Cohen' and was fouled while ahooting. After Louis Orr and Ron Peaks traded hoope Richardison hit again. The Griffins, peyched up and playing before 8,215 people, led 8-2.
"I was so psyched up," Richardson said. "I just wanted to run and run."
But Syracuse, which had seen ample evidence that the Griffe (now 8-9) were no longer stiffs, managed to settle down. The Orange were playing without point gased and defanaive ace Edic Moss, who bruiped an ankle against Siena. Instead Hal-Cohen started and ran the Syracuse aftpres.

But it grew little more in the second half. Canigius, a team of Peaks and valleys, hit its star forward often and effectively in the second half (Peaks had 21 points in the final 20 minutea) to draw within $64-60$
"That was the game there," Boeheim recalled of the $8-2$ Canisius lead. "We were playing without our regular point guard and that was the kind of situation we could have collapsed. But Hal Cohen could have collapsed. But Hal

With four Syracuse starters ecoring and the fifth (Dale Shackleford) passing, Syracuse was able to use its better outside shooting and inside strength against the Griffs. SU outscored Canisius 23-7 over the next 5:30 to take a 23-15 lead, which grew to $54-42$ at halfime.
'Syracuse is an unforgiving team...
If they give you an opportunity and you don't capitalize
you pay for it.'
with 14:05 to play in the game. But then three turnovers and two.bad shots halted the Canisius rally.
"Syracuse is än unforgiving team," Macarchuk gaid.-"If they give you an opportunity and you don't capitalize you pay for it."

And the Griffs eventually payed with their ninth loes of the season (they have from 8). With Marty Headd suddenly hot Iovis Otr befuddling the mmaller Canimius team under the hoop Syracuse scored 10 of the next 12 points to take a $74-62$ lead. The Grifis could get no closer than nine the rest of the way:
"Deep down I though we had a chance to beat them," Macarchuk said. "But during the game Inever really thought we werein at the final score I realized we really were in it."

It was on defense where the Griffs were out of it all night. In order to try to cover the big Syracuse front line, Macarchuls had to uncover someone.
"We tried to cheat (not cover as closely) on Shack and Orr in order to stop the big - Euy." Macarchuk said. "We didn't do too well on two out of three." The game was the best scoring for threc. Syrag in players-Headd (23 points), Orr and Bovie (27 each). Shackleford had only four points, but was able to accumulate nine assiats on passes from the high post. assiats on passes from the high post.
"You just can't make a mistake against racuse," Peaks said. "I wish I had Syracuse," Peaks said. "I wrish I had also a lot better under the hoop. He's going to the basiketmore. It used to be he just shot, everything.

For Macarchulk, the dance with the bear of the imposing SU basketball program had one more bright apot.
"Look at that attendance," he said Proudly. "8,215-that's more than we beat them in something."

SYRACUSE (103)
Shacldeford 2-6 0-0 4 , Orr 12-163-3 27, Bouie $10.147-927$, Cohen 7-11 2.3 16, Headd -1278 103.

CANISIUS (92)
Peake 9-19 14-1732, Worthington, 6-14 2-4 14. Clement $1-5002, \mathrm{Krystofiak} 0-4000$, Young 2 .
$40-00$. Mull $5-50010$. Totale $34-7324-9492$.

The

Student Arro Americar Socicty

Presents

Black Professional Week

 Jantiary 22-28TODAY, JANUARY 22:
Business Engineering 5:00-8:00 - Newhouse Lounge

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23:
COMMUNICATIONS
3:00-7:00 - Newhouse Lounge
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24:
Discussion:
"Professionals; Where do we stand?"
3:00-5:00-203 Marshall St.
THURSDAY, JANUARY 25:
Law
3:00-7:00 - E.I. White Hall (Law School) Rm. 0021
FRIDAY, JANUARY 26:
Social Work
10:00-1:00 - Newhouse Lounge

Education

3:00-7:00 - Founders Room (Maxwell Hall)

SUNDAY, JANUARY 28

Medical

2:30-5:00 - Cómstock Community House

By Patti Schuldenfirei
Harry Chapin ran down the aisle of the Landmark Theatre, thirew his coat and flight bags down on the atage, motioned for his guitar, and started ginging Finally.
Chapin's unusual entrance was the start of a muchdelayed but thoroughly enjoyable evening of enter: tainment by SYrracuse's favarite storyteller. Forced to fly out of New York two hours late. because of bad weather, Chapin literally stepped off the plane and onto the stage, tuning up and adjumting the sound as he went along.
But- even the hour-and-twenty-minute delay didn't dim the spirit of the concert dim the spinit of the concert once it got started Chapins ability to blend moying ability to blend moving musical moods with just the right touch of harmiless raunch kept the audience alternately teaiful and laughing. Seated alone onstage; his friendly chatter and regular-guy appeal established an informal atmosphere that kept the ihow unspectacular, but definitely fun.
fin keeping with his phitiosophy that "a good concert is like a good date-it leads up to a climax.," Chapin opened the show with new sonigs and saved the old favorites for last. "Get On Witi It," a minuet style battle of the sexes, set the scene-for the slightly risque humor that kept the fans rolling all night.
The "spooky guitar riffs" of "The Day They Clased The Factory Down" and the Factory Down and the mechanical repetition of "Flowers Are Red" from the Livirg Room Suite album provided striking musical arranigements on what Chapin has so aptly nicknamed his has so aptly nicknamed his "sifistring orchestra." Erom thefo, he went back to a more fasifiliar tune, "Mr. Tanner," aided by two audience volinipteers who provided im-promptu-but súrprisingly successful - background successf captivating motical segment was mistranger With Melodies," a haunting, classic Melodies, a haunting, classic Chapin-style ballad about an aging musician. This number led the way into one of Chapin's best known songs, "Ciat's in the Cradle," whose effectiveness was not at all dulled, but heightened, by the audience's participation on the nursery-rhyme chorus.

Another

Chapin's a capella "MailOrder Annie" from Short Order Annie from Short Stories was touchingly earnest, but the singer's voice lacked the power and tomal quality needed to carry off the song on its own. Chapin made up.for this, though, with his beautiful renditions' of 'Love

Chapin pleases despite delay

Song," "Dreams Go By," and "A Better Place To Be", and his'artful but not-quite-serious filling in of echos and mackg in of echos and background vocals in The si The silly-but-fun "30,000 Pounds of Bananas," by far the most requested song of the night, came with a special treat: four endings, in place of the original three, and the transformation: of the andience into the "Syracuse Memorial Shit-Kickin' Country Choir.? Finally, Chapin closed the show with his classic "Taxi," with the soprano part filled in unexpectedly by a chestra beats.
Before coming back-to perform "Circle," Chapin was awarded a plaque for the money he raised for the World Hunger Year organization at a concert in Newark, N. Y. Chapin, who is chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Outreach of the Preaident's Commisaion on World Hunger, Commesion on World Hunger, will return to Newark, about 15 another benefit concert this summer. In addition, at least $$ 8,000$ of the money from Saturday night's concert will go to World Hunger Year.

Interested in fraternities?
Come to

Fiji Rush

and see what a fraternity is really like.
Come see us, party a little, and then decide who is best.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10 p.m.
Free Beer

Campus Wide Victory

 PARI at Drumilins C.C.
After the Rutgers S.U. game

 TONIGHT - 9830-1830FREE ADMISSION
Ice Cold Draft Beer 50* Mixed Drinks Only a Buck

Free bus from Manley after the game. Sims & Sadier ratt of the nite.

- All kinds of good tunes -

Party with a winning crowd at Drumlins

Harry Fig

Sherman's Quest

by Peter Wallace

Here, there $&$ every where

ToDAY

Enproy fiametren momimar on will be theldi at 4 pm. todey in 355 Link

Lecture: Chitistiane Klapischzuber of tha Ecole dass Hatutes Etuden en Science Socialas: in Puriz will spestc en "Italian Popular Marriboe Rituals and Their Contral by the Church at the End of ithe Middle Apes" at 4 p.m. todey in the 1916 Room, Bird Library.
Mondey wight-Moode, a discussion on the development of wisdom, worship and community, will meority Housen, 711 comsigitat Community houser, 711 Comstoek Ave. to discuss Housewnifery.
$7.30-9$ Kindini Yoga class meets from H:30-9 toright at Community sign-up by todey for asakethall, coed voltooball amd ing intremurats at 139 Women Building.

TOMORROW

Outing Club meets at $7: 30$ p.m zomorrow tat Jabberwocky. 311 up for cross country ski trio this weakend.

NvPifer will lioted its firge gonerat meating sud local boand dections from 7-9. p.m. tomarrow in the members welcompe. Oid and new Gay men'e moetel is held Zevery Tevesday from 8 p.m.-midnight at the Gay Students Astodciation:- 103 College Place. Dont tions requested. Whe, cheese, beer. sode.

MOTICES

"Arnt-semintom: in's Not History." t unique retrast sponsored ov Hilfel, will be treid Fot. 23-25. Apply by Jan. 29 at the Hillel office Stere and stage crew are needed for SU Musical Stegeves production of "Promise, Promiset." Call Chuck at 423-7652.
Syracuse Rawinw is accepting applications for editor-in-chief, ficion editor and staff positions in art. olion, proetry and photograpny. ApCollege Place, or cell 423.1407.

Nowd to add an unteresting courep 7 Mow nbout PAF 400: issues in the Middle East. (wwo crectits, 3-

FRATERNITY RUSH Check us out!

Fraternities

1. Acacia
2. Alpha Chi Rho
3. Beta Theta Pi
4. Delta Kappa Epsilon
5. Delta Tau Delta
6. Kappa Phi Delta
7. Lambda Chi Alpha
8. Phi Delta Theta
9. Phi Gamma Delta
10. Phi Kappa Psi
11. Pi Kappa Alpha
12. Pi Lafnbda Phi
13. Psi Upsilon
14. Sigma Alpha Mu
15. Sigma Phi Epsilon
16. Sigma Chi
17. Tau Delta Phi
18. Tau Epsilon Phi
19. Theta Chi
20. Zeta Beta Tau
21. Zeta Psi
22. Delta Upsilon
23. Theta Tau
24. Alpha Epsilon Pi

Rush Nights

Mon., Jan. 22
Tues., Jan. 23
7-10p.m.
Thurs.; Jan. 25
Sat.; Jan. 27
1-4 p.m.
Mon., Jan. 29
Tues., Jan. 30
7-10 p.m.
Thurs., Feb. 1

4:45 p.rn. Mondays) or PAF 400 . History of American Commumes and Coporativas (ont credit, $4-5: 45$ Cooperativas (ano cradit, 4-5:45 p.m. Wednesdays. seven weeks). P.m. Wednesdars. seven Call $423-3870$ for details.

Correction

An article on Page 7 of Friday's DO was incorrect. The cost of obtaining a transcript will increase from $$ 1$ to $$ 2$, and it will cost $$ 1.50$ for each additional transcript req each additional tramscript The new charges will go into feffect May 1 .

SENIORS &  GRAD STUDENTS

A new Graduate Profile
Center has been eslublished to provide a PROFILE SCANNIIG SYSTEA for com-mission-Ires Placement Consuitants throughout the : U.S. Enter your profile into the System and expand your carear opportunities:
Send for.free brochure and Entry Morra:

Addreses

city St
Z解 Gradursw Promite contiee
c/o OrBrta 5 O'Brion

Butfalo. N.Y. 14221

Classified ads

For sale

 Cornpleto Une of PANTENE Products Now in Stoct ORANGE TONSORIALA SUPPLY 727 S: Crouse Ave next © SUPPLY727.5: Crouse Avs. to.S.U. Powt Office, $475-9289$. TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: ASSORTED SWEATEAS $10. HOODED SWEATSHIRTS $9.פ8. JOGGING SNEAKERS 10. IVY HALL. 738 S . CROUSE AVE., 478-3304.
CAR INSURANCE: All Students Quatify. Low Paymernts. Days 474 - 4507 Eve. $\mathbf{~ B 7 6 - 7 6 2 2}$ Clancy's. in sorance. 446 Westcott St.. naar campus.
WW Suparbeste 1871 engine excettent and reconditioned, Bodyfair Firm 472-0238.
SALEI SALEI SANEI Introductory offer, One week only. U.S. Army Regular $$ 1200$ now kahki pants Regular $12.00 now $10.00
 NEW ARADVALS at SECOND HAND ROSE: WWIUS. Amry wool coses 713 S. Crotere Ave.

SAlEWWinter Ciomance tup to $50 \%$ off) SECOND HANO ROSE 713 S Crouse Ave.
Brand new roof rack. $3 \times 3$. Alroady Erand new roof rack assembled. 820.00 call 474 - 8030 . Pabst 1/2 keg-621.95, Bud $1 / 2$ keg \$26. Pabst $1 / / \mathrm{keq} \$ 13.25,50 / 12 \mathrm{oz}$. cups 89 at the Party Source 446 8281.

Goalie hockey equlipment for sate Eamer supreme stcktes; Jopah wired mask: GM12 glovéstick-harnd MeDonaid turntable, Crelg 8-tract, Pioneer seceiver. two utility speeskers. $$ 100$ or b/o. Must sell 423-6841.

Wanted

Mature fermale oraduate student wanted to share artractive 2 bedroom apartment with same or working woman. Near Vincent Apartments. Availuble immediately. Call-472-1150

Sebysitier near university. Tues-Fri. day $2: 30-5: 30$ for 3 kids. ages 8-12. after 5 .

Potwasher and/our dishwasher to work in traternity for free board. Job ppen for Spring 79. Contact fraternity of Phi-Gamma Delta at 475 9245 or 3-282e.
Guitarist looking for Rock Eand For ming Band Brent 422-3961 7-9PM Counselors: Adirondack Boys Cermp: 7V whe; $450-$550; Swimming: Salline, Canoolne, Cemprath. Arctiory, Craft tennig, Driver, Office typing) Riflery Softrall Trip Leading 39 Nill Valley Road.

Houseboys wanted in exchange for meals at a Comstock Sorority. Call Deirdre or Sharon at $478-9142$ or $x$ - 4204.

Personals

Add prestige $\%$ your iffestyic. Rush ZETA PSI fraternity. Mon. Tues Thurs. ond Ste., Jifn, 22 to Feb. 8
727 Comstock Ave

Today is the EIG DAY! The first big day of FLl RUSH. Be a port of it. 732 vitdmen you cari Wandlel 7.10

After we BEAT Rutgers tonight, celebrete with beer at Zota Pas fraternity- 727 Comstoek Ave.

Support your Etomechl. Wesscott Cafe tapeciol bencfit dimners. Jenuary 19-23, 6-8 pin. For mens.
info 424-9725. 1/22/79 EOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: DUO interoranizational restructuring. a intororganizational restructuring, a of the Syracusen University Undergraduate body. Our warmest Glansberg, who has proven himself of wibtmanship; and from this day forward will be known as WILDMAN GEITUS in the all powerful end disRepioned bect of the wildmen. Widmen Dboner 8 Mercus.

Lost & found

information about stoten barbar pole-Reward-Orange Tonsorial Ser

For rent

Calltic foot refrigerators for rent Calltavor P (
Eerpe pemodelled House avail immed Lancaster Ave. $450. per month Plus utitities. Sec. Dep. Cal Mr. Roth 422-0709.
One bedroom apt, nears.U. and hos pitals. 8140 . Off street parking in 19.

ON CAMPUS, 6 rooms. fireplace furnishend, 275.00 mo. NO UTHLITIES OR PETS. Lease. 446-7183 after 5

Private tooms furnished, share kit* chen, bath and tiving room. Clean walking distance- 474-1303- of 472-0154.
Room: 813 Euclid Ave. $530 / \mathrm{wk}$ Lease until Mey 31, all utitities, campus bus. Call Joe 475-8772
Close: large, private ciean room, Close iarge, private ciean room, sharing fiviry room, kitchen. elc.
G月5-3233.

House 4-5 bedroom. Lancaster Avenue. $$ 450$, one bedroom apt. E. Genase $$ 140$ including electric $422-5983$. $422-5983$.
Furnished iwo bedroom apartment sillo month includes heat hot water, of street pathing. Catl 440
 Single reom for rent. Meat plan. available. Actecia fratarnity 476-m $9149 \times-2120$. Ask for Jim. $9149 \times-2120$. Ask for Jim.
Room: large, 3 blocks to library. private house, $$ 125$ utilities included. Share kitchen/dinetre; bath. living room. 479-5246, 423.

Services

LET USDO YOUR TYPING. QuFk Efficient - 8 VERY ECONOMICA1.II Nojob too big - none 600 small. Call

Low on money Ead racordit that Arent wanted WE BuY USED RECOROS. Bring them in for ingtart Cash. Top prices paidi DESERT-SHOAE 730 . Crouse -472.3235 Mon-Smt 11-6.
MENI WOMENI IOBSCRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No EXperiance. High payl Soe Europe. Winteri Summert Send 83.85 for info. to SEAWORLD 8 BH , Box 61035 . Sacto. Ca. 95880.
Teacher with Mosterrs ofegree in Music is avaifeble for tutoring in theory related skilits, Harmony, ear Rayes Eit DiCosimo $492-6532.1$ 469-1806 ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALI. STEREO brands. Wholessele prices. Fully gusranteed: Check around, then call $478-8 \mathrm{~g} 67$.

VOLKSWACENS ONLY

Expert
Repais
No RpOfty

478-1106

144 Ball Circle

(nqxt to Dainzert on Ainsiay)

Syracuse University Union Concert Board invites you to a

Rock 'n' Roll-Party with

The J. Geils Band and

Southside Johnny nad Asbury Jukes

Saturday, February 3rd 8:00 p:m. Landmark Theatre

Reserved Seats $7.50, $7.00
Tickets are now on sale at Landmark Box Office, Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records, The Panhandier and all Gerber Music Stores.

Shoplifting

One of America's fastest-growing crimes

By Maria Riccardi

Many people know the feeling. That coat, wrist watch or album catches your eye every time you're shopping. next week, either.
FBI statistics show that one out of every 15 Amexican shoppers will rip off the item. Few will ever get caught.
Shoplifting, now one of the fastestgrowing crimes in the nafion, has increased 50 percent in the past five years. Stores lose more than $$ 20$ million a day or $$ 8$ billion a year to a variety of professional and amateur thieves, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce.
Despite increased efforts by local retailers to deter shoplifters, the situation in Syracuale is no exception. Last year, police handled about 600 cases and as one store manager said, that number does not reflect the severity of the problem.
"We prosecute everyone-we apprehend. You can't imagine, though, how many must get away with it, he battle."

Uncertain enemies

Still, store owners and employees aren't quite sure whom they're fighting. The Mass Retailing Institute shows that 58 percent of apprehended shoplifters are female, while 53 percent are less than 18 years old. However, merchants agree. "the thief can be anybody...a bum or an executive, male or female."

The thief can be anybody...a bum  or an executive, male or female.

"It'g gotten so we watch everyone", a Lerner's saleswoman admitted. caught a six-year-old girl helping her mother rip off a dress and an eighty-year-old woman taking presents for her grandchildren-
Yet, most shoplifters can afford to pay for what they have stolen. "I find that these aren't impoverished people," said Richard Basilone, vice president of

The thrill of it all
There is the middle to upper-middie class woman who is bored with her existence as a housewife. So she goes on stealing sprees for the thril and ex citament." For example, a Liverpool doctor's wife was recently apprehended for ghoplifting an $$ 8$ blouse from a gmall boutique, after purchasing more than $$ 250$ worth of clothing.
Basilone classifies these shoplifters as "amateurs."
"It's the pros that give us the headaches; they never get caught," Basilone added.
Nineteen-year-old Eileen considers herself a pro. At 13, ahe began pocket-ing small itema auch as candy and ing small, items such as candy and cosmetics. Gradually, she gained more confidence and now, prideq heraelf in being able to steal just about anything. wallzed out of a Iong Island shopping wall with $$ 3,000$ worth of merchandise, incinding stereo equipment, jewelry and a winter wardrobe.
"I a won't foel grailty in the least," she laughed, putting on a new grey angora sweater. TRell me that what I take really makea a difference. It's my litule way of beating the symem.'

Eileen has turned her "talents" into a money-making operation. She sometimes returns mexchandise for a cash refund.
"I also take orders from friends. If they like something I take it and sellit for half the price or less. Good idea, isn't it?" ahe said throwing her long blonde hair over her shoulder. There is blonde hair over her shoulde

- Other teenagers steal for the attention. A fourteen-y sariold Syracuse girl told police, "Now my father will have to come get me."
Shoplifting techniques are as different as the shoplifters themselves.

Gter.

 However. - deapite imaginative techniques used by shoplifters, stores are instituting sophisticated preventive measures in hopes of catching them-even the pros.
Downtown and local mall. stores have increased both uniformed and undercover security. Smaller stores or discount houres such as $F$. W. Woolworth and K-Mart encourage employees to have constant eye contact with the customers.
Another common device is the convex mirror, which gives employees a wide angle view of the store.
cording to a Univerisity of Wyoming/University of Utah- study, less than one-quarter of shoppers who see someone shoplifting will report it to store personnel:
People figure, wby bother. Proeccution can be a long proceas and don't, want to get involved," the manager of a local record store claimed. "They don't realize how it affecta them."
Merchants, once hesitant to prosecute since it gives the store a "bad. image," now prosecute in almost every case. Several years ago, a prominent New York City department store only prosecuted 25 percent of those apprehended.

We can't do that anymore. The store then gets the reputation of being an easy target," according to an executive. It's not easy to arrest a semios hungry," the mamager of a suburban supermarket said. "But, no more warnings."

Tell me what I

take really makes a difference.

It's my little way

of 'beating the system.'

Stiff penalties

In New York state, if a person shoplifts less than $$ 250$ worth of merchandise it is considered petit larceny, and punishable by a $$ 1,000$ fine and a year in jail. A larger theft is grand larceny and "that's Attica," police warn.
Since penalties are stiff, "you have to be damn sure about what you're doing. You'can't grab anyone," Jim said. Local merchants tell the story of a Syracuse department-store sued on a false arrest claim. The atore is believed to have paid $$ 700,000$ in darnages to the imjured complainant.

Convicted shoplifters face more than fines and imprisonment. They have been denied admission to universities been denied gamission to universines and professional schools, passed over for state and gover refuned credit cards. my heart falls in to my apply for a job, fided a recent college graduate. "Because of an $$ 18$ ahirt I took from the place I worked, I have a criminal record."?

Employee thefts account for hatf of all shoplifting losses, according to The State Conncil of Retail Merchants. Em: ployees are familiar with store procedures and work with non-eri ployee friends. Often, clerks will charge accomplices $$ 5$ for. a $$ 50$ item and gift-wrappers will, wrap noer; chandise that has not been paid for. TDishonest employees: arp-nuyd to apot," one merchant said. "Especially. during the holiday geason when-we hire more help. It's the worgt time of year for us.
Both shoplifters and ahopliftingemployees agree on one thing.
"They make money all the time," Eileen snapped. "I wish mora people could get away with what I do. She pauged a moment. and emiled paused a moviouly. Maybe IMi start training chem.":

The Daily Orange

Lawrinson residents try Commuter plan

By Canolyn Beyran
Iuniore and seniora living in Lawrinson Hall are eligible for the Commater meal plan this a program institutedby Food Service.
The program, atharted after a request from Student Association last semester, marlas the first time on-campus residents will be fillowed to nise the plan.

Four atudents só far have exercised the option. Lawrinson was chosen because it has morejuniorsand seniors than other dormes, said Dennis Koehler, food service director.
"We thought it would be nice to offer studente more flexibrility in their meal plans" said Frank Shazar, incoming programs.

The Commuter plan is normally open to all off-campus wesidents, however, the al onfringon trial program will not theffect sophomores or freshmien.
"We think that juiniors and seniors have more of anneed for a less expenaive meai plan than sophomores," Koebler said.
Currantly the least experisive plan avainable to all down residents in the OnilaoCo plan. It coets $$ 380$ and containg 318 punches, while the Cominuter

New treasurer assumes University Union post

cort $$ 236$ for 195 pinnchet
In enmpus dining halls, brealafastreguze one punch, lunch couta two pan ches and dinner requirea firee punChe the trial program is succeseful, it might be instituted on a campus-wide basis next semester, Koenler said. However. he would not elaborate on what wonld constitate a "eluccessful experiment."
"We will diacuas that with SA after the rewults are in:"-Koehler added.
SA reguested the experiment to determine if a demand exists for the com mater plan in the dorma.

Dorm residents have not been ehigible for the Commuter plan in the past because of a concern that students would cook in their rooma to make up for the reduction in availiable meals, Koehler said.
Food Service will be woxiningwith the Office of Residential Life ixa an attempt to make sure studeits on the trial plan do not use their rooms as an kitchen.

Hopeftully the RA's andi dorm direc tours will check on these etudents, Koehler gaid Food Service if notifying all juniox and aenicr Lixwinton residiente of the tritil prograta: The deadline for choosing the corninuter plan is Itan. 26.

James Vallone

American film director c Rutgera Law School Dean and SU

By Siteven Mitela
Whether it is a mann bouncing betwieen Indian and winite culture in the 18708 a group of young Bohemians in the ' 60 , or a pair of bank robbers in he 300 , the farares in Axthur Penn's Hilmes are alienated from the norms of ar socisety.
Peinm, one of America's beet silm cirectors, will visit Syractuee Univerrity thia Wednewday and. Thureday, Itan. 24-25. His schedulo includes visita to warious film and drama clasaes as wen as a pablic appearance in the Noble- Room in Hendricks Chapel immediately following hil flm "Nizht Moves" in Cifford Aruditoxium Thers dimy night.
Iwo other public sppentamcas are alleo scheduled: ome Wemnetry night in 254 Newhonge II ater an screaning of ding morracle Workers and on Thurs-

Cool
Nervbere of Dette Keppen Epailon treternity and Aiphu Gammin Delze eorority willingly endthred the virter cald to conatrict in ice chapeifrom moer than idve torp of ce. The

SAS Professional Week highlights black careers

Focusing on careers for black students, Black Professional Week, spansored by the Student Af: roAmerican Society, Continues through Sonday.
Discuasions will feature professionals from various fields apeaking on the "practical parts of their careers," according to Gregory Rolle, SAS internocording to gregory koll
"Our main focus is to get people prepared for the professional fielda, Rolle enid. "We want to malice people awave of what the professions are eally like.
Rolle atressed that the program does not incinde specific job-hanting opMortumities.
Most of the speakems are.Syracuse Uni vernity professors or profenmionala from the Syracuma area: However.
lounge.
Penn is one of the few American directors who has total artistic control over his films. He attained this night after the success of his three biggest fims, "Bonnie and Clyde" (1967). "Alice's Restaurans" (1969) and "Iittle Big Man" (1970).
In Penn's flims, the main characters are often alienated. They temd to becomo part of surrogate families becante they ciannot fit into normal social structares. In "Little Big Man," orphaned Jack Crabbe is adopted by Indians; in "Alice's Restaurant," the young people, who have rejected their own familiem, form a large gxoup; and in "Bomnie and Clyde"" the Barrow gang bonds the group of outlaw/outcamta.
Perhaps Penn's interreat in thames of alienation and aurrogato ramilies the legal profession. Week is:

- Tuesday, Jan. 23: Communications, from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the Newhovae Lounge.
- Wedneeday, Jan. 24: A discuasion on the "state of black profesaionals," from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. at 203 Marnhall St. Thursday, Jan 25: Law, from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. in E.I. White Hall, room 0021 .
- Friday, Jam, 28: Social Work, from 10:00 a.m. to $1: 00$ p.m in the Newhouse 10:00 am. to $1: 00$ p.m in the Newhonve Lounge. Education, from 3:00 to $7: 00$ Lounge. Education, from 3:00 to 7:00 p-m. in Maxwell Hall's Founder' Rran. in
- Sunday, Ian, 28: Medicino, from 2.30 to $5: 00$ p.in. in the Community Honse.
Patey, Angtin, SAS Educational Affairs Chairperson. planned the program. were divorced when he was a child and he moved frequently, living with different relativea.
In the early ${ }^{1} 50$, Pem began worKing in televition under producer Frod Coe Penn'e firat success was "Mhe Mirmade Worizer" for CBS's "Playhouse 90 .* In 1960 , he directed the Broaduray stage version as well. Pemn has coninned his stage carcer over the yearw, directing tuch plays an Lillian Henman's "Toje in the Attic" and recently, "Colda," a biography of former israeli Prime Miniater Golda Meir.
Pemn'a beat medinm, however, is Bim. His firyt feature was Whe Lef: Handed Gin" (1958), a western fock: ing on Billy the Ekd Thoxem the stadio changed the encing and the mim wat not well-received in -America, "Tha Left-Handed Grun* was praieed in

-amy  spectrum  trawel gudes

DAYTONA

 BEACH resort hotel.
Price includes transfer to and from the Orlando airport.

MAKE YOUR RESERVATIONS NOW!
Deadline for reservations & payment is Feb. 1.

exs Univerelty Ave.

A division of your student store. partially subsidized by the undergraduate student fee.

OR Tilden Cottege (103 College Pi.) Tues. & Wed. 12:30-4.p.m.
For Information Cafl - Garry 422-4387 or Danny 422-3091

Deposit of $\mathbf{$ 2 5}$ required
LIMITED SPACE
SIGN UP EARLY
SUSKE TO STOWEI

Located in Watson Conference Room Jan. 19 8 22-26 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

for a better understanding of the Palestinian: people. The Arab Student Organization is sponsoring the following events:

1. Wed.. Jan. 24

A PALESTINIAN LUNCH at I.L.C.
11:30-1:00
II. Thur. 8 Fri.; Jan. 25 & 26

INFORMATION 8 DISPLAYS
-about the Palestinians, at Slocum basement 10:00-4:00
III. Sat.. Jan. 27
an evening with FAWAZ TUFIKI. Palestinian writer and inteltectual also ZEINAB SMAATH, accompanying herself on the guitar at skybarn (skytop) admission free 7:00-10:00
IV. Sun., Jan. 28
a film "THE PALESTINIAN" with VENESSA REDGRAVE two shows 3:00 and 7:00 at Grant Aud. (Law School). admission $$ 1.50$ students $$ 3.00$ others. Tickets avaitable at King David, E.S.O. & door.

The computer's rising star: our servant or master?

Whether the computer is used to serve us or to control us is a political question. Who is going to have it, and what will they do with it, and to whom? The computer is, after all, only a tool. Itis other people who are actually or potentially our masters. The toola they employ are merely the means by which they achieve their ends. The

Guest comment:
J. A. Robinson
power which a computergivesi its user is, in itself, a negtral, general-purpose power that can beapplied towards both good ends and bad.
What, then, is the computer, what can be done with it?
The computer is the quintersential ser-vant-machine. It will do exactily what you tell it to do, no more and no less, provided that it is not damaged or playsically malfunctioning. We must add another proviso, which is far more important. The computer will do exactly what you tell it to do provided that you know how to do the telling. Aye - there's the rub!

To tell the computer to do something you must compose or canme to be composed a set of instructiong (a program), which the computer is to execute precisely as written. In writing such a program, you must abide by the repertory of elementary actions which the computer is denigned to carry out. It is up to you (the programmer) to. figure out the It is up to you (the programmer) to ingure out the appropriate combinations of thobe elementary actions which will accomplish the overall effect that you want to get.
The popalar image of the computer is quite misleadiag on this point: Many people have been led to think of the computer as a mygterious magic box, which will accompliah whatever -its owner desires 'The vital role of the programmer is desires. The vital role of the programmer is scarcely if ever mentioned. Clasinc cases of computer foul-ups (electric bills for zero dallaxs and zero cents along with a threat to send in the zero cents aiong with a threat to send in the bill-collectors, and so forth) are cited as things the computer did. Sometimes this misconcaption computer did. Sometimes this misconception provides a cover story for the managers of providea a cover story for the managers of organizations. "Sorry, we can't do it that way, the computer won't permit it;" "Boryy about losing your order, the computer sent it to someone else."

It is the manager and his programmera who thould be blamed for whatever the orgrinization's computer does (and praised if what it does is praiseworthyl).
A computer with no program of ingtructions in, side it ia just an expensive and dead piece of microsculpture. With clever programing, however, it can be turned into a fair imitation of that mysterious magic box. People have written programe which enable the computer to play expert chess; to prove mathemstical theorems; to simulate the weather; to guide a space vehicle to Venus and conduct its research experiments there; to supervise the vital signs of intensive-care patients. Impressed? Praise the programmere, not patients: Impr
The art of programing is a deep and difficult art. In order to program momething for a computer to In order to program momething for a computer to do, one must morntand that thing most thoronghly in a apecial, complete kind of way. The tharoughy in a apecial, complete kind of way. The main problem Tro underatand aome really intereating tank -
To underatand some really intereating tank - ing people"f faces, or composing decent fugues, or preparing summaries of newspaper articles -is a really major undertaking calling for a profound analyais of the tark. The intellectual challefge in volved is enormous and success - if it comes - is due to much more than patient, induetrious deployment of routine motholology. It comes rather from having made one or more "break throughs" - Eenuine creative discovexies about the task. Such discoveries can't just be made to order: you need some exceedingly bright people to think hard and get lucky.

1. The beautiful, tantalizing role of the computer today is's to gtand as ac challenge to us to understand. We are being challenged to look ipward as never before, to try to underatand ourselves and our own capabilities well enough to program models of ourselves on the computer. We are being challenged to understand language, its use and its acquisition; to moderstand knowledge, memoyy, penception, emotion, purpose, and all the rest of what makee up the human mind and personality. We are challenged to understand undergtanding itself.
It is this intellectual role of the computer - not ite more mundane role as general factotum and workhorse - which seems to me to be its chief gignificance in th 3 history of ideas. We may have created not just a mervant, but an actual replica of ouraelves, an entity capable of reagoning and acting.

Wemay have. Werhall navex know unleas we get out there and do some really great programingJohn Allen Robinsort is a professor of computer and information acience. He will apeak on the above topic at the Honor's Convocation on Jan.
$29-30$. 29-30.

Crossing class lines

The professor waited for the last atraggler to be sented before he began to eppeak. Heopened the book and read a thort parsage, and when he loolsed up his eyee were glowing. For bin hour he bpolve and quertionse, reard and probed, Fraking the atradents minds for netw idean. The students scribhled notes fuxiously, angwered timidly under encouragement, and inwardly vowed to "re-read that passage; "so that was what the author was trying to say?"
The hour ended too soon. It seemed there was much more to talk about. But when the class ended, it was as if the When the class ended, it was as if the lights went out. Class was over. They Would resume being was over. They when they entered the next classroom. The time in between, walking acroses bo.

The students left theclass silently, as the profeseor stuffed his books into a briefcage.
One rindent tatayed bohind. As ahe pretended to struggle with her gloves the planned the rpeoch out. "Professor; I really onjoyed today's elase" (what arm-I. a coddam apeech critic, she thought.) EI hadn't realiaed the text was 80 autobiographical." (He"d be shocked at my stupidity.) Or maybe she's ask a simple question; just to show she was interested (Fe probably already explained it and he'd think I wasn't listening ...)
She stuffed her gloves in her pocket and left.

Many of us are scared of our profes sort. An much as we tall about them,

The Daily Orange

Thomas Coffey - editoor in chief
The Daily Orenge Corp.. 1101 E. Adarms St. Syricuse, N.Y. 13210 , publithee The Detily Opare wentiday of the acedontic yemr. Editorial (315) 23-2127. business (31E) 23-2314.
we seldom tall to them. Back in high behool, it was ealled brown-nosing Anyone cmaght talling to a teacher whos juth rumning up ertra pointe. And though you bnow you're not brownnosing, what about the rest of the people in Ascollege students, we mhonid know better. Now you think whatever you aay to yowr profeasor will probably soundincredibly stupid. Your professor will think you are brain-damaged and give you a $C$ in the clame. What could you posisibly say to somneone who is teaching you that could be remotely worthwhile?
We are somewhat in awe of our professors, and so, sadly, the most interesting ones to tall to are often avoided. We don't atop by their offices because aurely someone so brilliant has something better to do. And if you do peek inside yon'll probably see them reading or typing or grading papers. Which they probably just bronght in to have something to do while waiting for any stadents who would like to drop in.
Not all grofessors are languishing away in lonely officen waiting for a etudent to viait. Profemeort are busy people. But they wouldn't be professors if they thought etudents weran't worth talling to.
Yox never hear a profeasor say, "Ienjoyed lecturing in front of all thoee people." If you ever do gather up the covrage to talls to a profeator, what he whil probably aayisthat the beat partor students.
One of the beat parts of being in college is getting to know your professorn.
Most professors announce their of fice hours on the first day of class, and include this information on the syllabus. The invitation has been offered.
. Those who accept the invitation are usually surprised. You start out talking about Voltaire and an hour later you're talling about horsea, God and the basketball seagon Perhaps it will come as no surprise when you leave, your professor will probably asy, "I'm glad you came by. I really enjoyed talling to you."

Sy Montgonery for
The Dathy Orenge

Quick! Name 4 restaurants in the city specialize in feasting, drinking and good company.

FLM FORUM Sithe ind :

ARTHUR PENN RETROSPECTIVE

A reirospactive thowing of Arthur Penn's films with a personal oppearance following showing of N/GHT MOVIES.

| Tonight  Wednesday | 7 pm Bonnio and Ctyd |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | 9 pm Alice't Restarmpent |
|  | 7 pm Missousi Breakz |
|  | 9 pm Litite' Big Mian |
| Thureday | 7 pm Night Mowes |
|  | 9 pm Ponn Appoarance |

$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Tonight } & 7 \mathrm{pm} \text { Bonnip and Ctyde } \\ \text { Wednesday } & 9 \mathrm{pm} \text { Alice' Resteurant }\end{array}$
9 prn Litio' Beg Mian
7 pm Night Moves
9 pm Ponn Appeara
9 pm Ponn Appearance

This TDK casisette storage cabinet is FREE with the purchase of either 5 AD-90 cassettes or 4 C-90 cassettes. ALSO a fashionable TDK T-shirt is part of the deal if you hurry on down to Spectrum Records 823 University Ave.
open M-F 10-6 SAT 11-6 SUN 12-5

SA's big offer: free Pig Books

By Mickey Mercier
ine Beatise too many copies of the 1978-79. Orange Aid Student Dixectory were printed, Student Association is giving them away, SA Comptroller Carl Kleidman said

The publication, also known as the Pig Bools contains photographs of members of this year's freshman class as well as articlea about the university.

Despite the mupplus of more than 1,300 books, slightly leas than half of the 3,000 that were printed, SA is iust $$ 300$ ahort of maling back the $$ 10,000$ itcost to publish the book.
Kleidman said this year'先 Pio Book has done better financially then past editions Inanciall than part edion and that SA will pay the $$ 300$ deffeit.

Kleidman blamed the aurplas on the publisher SA conpracted, SU student-Steve Bortner. Bortner was paid $$ 1,500$ plus expenses to work on the book last summer, Kleidman said.

Kleidman claimed Bortmer overestimated dernand for the book and did not fulfill his contract to diatribute it.

Eleidman said it is the publisher's responsibility under the contract to distribute the book and claimed SA' only responsilibility is to pay the project's deficit.
"We had a hasisle with Bortner," Kleidman said. "He came and said it wasn'thia rea came and sarditwasn this res There's not much we can do nherer now."

However, Bortner eaid, "Whether I said that or not doesn't matter, because the fact is, I did distribute the book:"

Pennto

Fi, Continuect from pege one Frurope and influenced the frinew-wave": cinema in 'France, Miracle worlner" film, "The Miracle Worker" (1962). wom bire an Oscar nomipation. "The Miracle. Worker" was followed by two leserer known works, "Mickey One" (1965) and "The Chase" (1966). "Mickey One"* a dark, Kafian" esque tale of a nightclub comic (Warren Beatty) purstued by nnderworld figures he neither Bortner anid he ordered the press rum of 3,000 even thotigh press rum of 3,000 even though he suapected there would be a surplus becatise he wanted the book to be attractive to adver. tisers. "The cost of printing an extra 1,000 copies was minimal," he added.

Bortner pointed out that he came closer to putting the Pig Book in the black han pant publishers, while selling-it for $2-half of lat year's SA price.

Kleidman baid there has been no set procedure for dis been no set procedure for aistributing the book during patst years. This year, anberiptions yeara. mina year, mabscr were solicited by mail.

Forms were muiled to the homes of incoming freshmen and transfer students durink the summer, asking if they wanted to buy a spot for thei photographsin the book for $$ 2$ They would then receive a free copy. Bortmer gaid that aboul 1,300 atudenta reeponcied.

Subacribers were to come to SA's office to pick up copies. SA. bought advertisernents in The Dasiy Orange to let people know the books were antilable, Kleidman said.

Inaddition, Bortner said he sold and distributed books to subscribers on the equad and in geverat dining holls during the first week of echool.

Hesaid herold only about 30 copies to nomsubscribers during that week. "I got zero cooperation from SA, Bortner said. He elaimed that Kleidman refused to loan him avan. tables and personmel with which to distribute boolts.

Kleidman maid-SA plans to save the extra books until 1982 save the extra books until 1982 when this year's freshumen when this year's thesinoks graduste Ho hopes the books will sell as mostalgia items by then-

visit SU

knows nor underistands, is now recognized on a classic: "The Chase'. was Henn's only major disaster despite the presenceof atars Marlon Brando and Jane Fonda.
"Bonnie and Clyde" waa followed by "Alice"s Rebtaurant" and "Hitile Eis Men."

Penn's two most recent films have been "Night Moves" (1975) With Gene Haclman and "The Missouri Breaks" (1976) with Marion Brando.

Students and Chaplains will lead LAUDS: MORNING PRAYER IN THE CHRISTIAN TRADITION

WEEKDAYS B: 45 A.M.

Dean': Office, Hondricke Chapel
A half-hour of prover, silent meditiation, chaeming of peaims. reading of Seripture and mutual wharing and encoursemment in the iffe of Chriatian taith.
Coordinated by Dean McCombe and Amet. Dawn Feaching. Sponsored by Hendrick Chaped.

TEXAS'INSTRUMENTS
Educational and Professional Discounts
 Ti-59 Card Progmmbl.* 24.95 TI-50 Sim ScifConstant 32.95 Th-s. Card Prombl. $\begin{array}{lllll}\text { PCicoc Printer } & \mathbf{1 4 9 . 9 5} & \text { MBA Ady. Financlal } & 56.95 \\ \text { Modules } 58 / 59 & 29.65 & \text { BUSANIISim Financlal } & 36.95\end{array}$ 149.05 MBA Ady. Financla PROGRMR Hexadeclmal 47.85 EUS-AN FInanclal Simlar discounts on all TI catculators

* Two free pakettet from TI, coupon enclosed.
- $10 rebate from TI, coupon enclosed.

PLUS 15\% DISCOUNT On HEL HEWLETT-PACKAND Catculatore.
GENESEEG8: R2? PENA CAMMALI PAMACE STATS TOMORBOH! FOR ONE WEEK ONLV Hundreds of Einips and planest lose formyer. Some say It's UFO's. Others say if's a lost civilizalfor You may decide it's both.

 RFA1/11

SUNN CLASSAC PASSES ONLY.

Letters of intent

are now being accepted for

Assistant Comptroller  and Student Association Finance Board

positions.
They will be due on Fri., Jan. 26 at 5 p.m. Any questions call Dale Cohen X-2650.

STUDENT ASSOGIATION

031 UNIVERATY AVENUE ISYRACUSE NEW YOAKK 13210 I 1315/423-2030

+ Vallone

Continued from page one
the job," he asaid.
The position of studerat treaisurer was created last: semester to eliminate conflicting analyses of UU'曾 Encting analal ataras sivein by its twonchai hataz Eivera by its hag a $$ 1,500$ whpend.
haga 31,500 whpend. to the UTJ coruncil in December iby a aelection committer Fach Consisted of Sheinesm, Finchs, UU Bxternial Chairper. Erson Larry Schalsinger, UYY RRobert Diamnond, and SA Treasurer Dale Cohen.

Sherman'sQuest
byPeter Wallace
Somenes GriknI Haphnoticipute HGER IEFT:

by ChuckWing

Consumer Protection & Student Action.

New York Publlc Interest Research Group is DOING something for everyone. LOCAL BOARD ELECTIONS
General Meeting - Tues., Jan. 23, 7:30 p.m. Newhouse I Lounge.

Information'about NYPiRG Internships and Volunteer work - New members welcome - Bring a friend.

NYPIPG we can do it together

Campus Casuals

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE!

SAVE 30\% OFF THE REGULAR PRICR ON THE FOLLOWING SELECTED ITEMS!

MINS $M$ LADIIS

- SWEATERS
- SHIRTS
- KNIT TOPS
- JEANS
- CORDUROY SLACKS
- CORDUROY SKIRTS

Here, there

$&$ everywhere

TODAY
Outing Chut moets at 7:30 toright at Jabberwoeky. 311 up for cross country ski trio thit wevernd.
*YPARE will twot its first general meeting and loeal board ebections memt 7 -9 tonight in the Newhoust i townge. Ofd trad fow members whlcome.

Cey men's socient is heid. every Tuesday from 8 p:m. -midnight ot thd College Place. Donstions requested. Wirve, cheege, beer, soda.

TOMORROW

Pmbentinian lunch will be huld from noon-1 p.m. tomorrow at the International Student Office. 230 Euclid Ave. 1.50.
WJJPZ will hold a recruitment meeting at 7 p.m. comorrow in the Newholse founge. Those interested in broadcast news. announcing. sales or anyotherphases of radio ara invited.

Newnien Chodr will rohement at 8 p.m. tomorrow in 211 Crousp. New members welcome.
Notices
"Anti-Smmitiom: 1t"有 Net Hisbory," I retreet wponsored by Hithot. will be treld Feb. 23-26. Acply by Jen. 29 as the Hifal otfice, Mendifics Chepel.
8tagre managere, photoprapher. and atage Crow are nexded for SU Musical Stege; "Promises. Promises." CallChuck at 423-7652, Syracuse Review is accepting applications for editor-im-chief, fiction editor and staff positions in art fiction poditor and staff pors and photography. Apfiction, poetry and photography. Apply by Friday at the third foor, 103 NOTICES FOR HERE. THERE A NOTICESFOR HERE, THERER Daily Orange. 1101 E . Adama St.. by Daily Orange. 1701 E. Adams two days before publication. noon two days before publication. Nomin anrouncements to 20 worts same and telepione nust be inciuded. No announcements ate tiken ovet the phone.

IT'S A BOTTLE !!! ...a green botlle. 310 WALNUT annownces ils nemed arival: MOLSON GOLDEN ALE at the Student Center
Special introductory offer this week on/y 75* a bottle
Only at:
the Student Center, 310 Walnut PI.
food service coupons, Mastercharge and Viso gladly accopiedt.

- U The  Student Afro Americim Society Presents  Black Professional Week

TODAY, JAN. 23

Communications

3:00-7:00
Newhouse Lounge

Tousire  overciue to visit our discotheque. Our head Hbrarlan invites you to stop

In, dance, drink, even read.
At the Hotel Syracuse llorary in.
All drinks - 5100 and hors d'oeuvres 4:30-7:30 Monday-Fridey.
Free dance lessons on Tuesdays. No cantim, please. Jackets preferred.

Otrey Editions Q-Barbizon Fiaza Library, New York, NY DThe Epnk Library, Pitaburgh, PA D The Pharr Library, CMARCE TT:

su moonstone chanoe mastenchance
visa
mentian syone mouna:
mon-
at rearenct

Classified ads

For sale

FuIt line VIDAL SASSOON & sulation. ORANGE. TONSORIAL & SUPPPLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave. noxt to s.u. Pomi Office, 475-92e9.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: INTODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: INSULATED FANNEL SHIATS E8.98. PLAERMAL UNDERWHEAR © 4.98 .98 IVY HALLL 738 S. CROUSE AVE., 4783304.

McDonstd turntable, Craig 8-track

 Pioneer receiver. zwo uxility gpeakers. 6100 or b/O. Must sell. 423-6841:Pabst $1 / 2 k \log -521.95$. Bud $1 / 2$ keg 326 . Pabst $\%$ keg $813.25 .50 / 1202$ eups B9C at the Party Source 448-8281.
WHY RENTT Sanyo dorm sixe ret. rigerator for sale. Hardty used 870.00 . 476-2092.

King Tompo nickel-plated Cornot. Like now. Normally 6310. Asking only $\begin{gathered}150 \text {. Also Unisonic calcultior } \\ \text { wit }\end{gathered}$ caltent burs. Aick $x-2661$.

HOCKEY SKATES. CCEM Super Tacks. sixe $83 /$. One vear sld. Mus: sell e 75.00 478-2092.
So you want to be a rock and roill starl1 40 electric quitar needs naw owner and amplifitiar. Brand now strings. Neqotiable. Joal 478-5785.

- For sale: 3 cushion couch ald matching ehair. Call 472-5124. Keep trying.
SALEI SALEI SALES Introduetory offer. One weok ontp. U.S. Ammy WWII wool and summer kanki pants Regular $$ 12.00$ now $$ 10.00$ SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.
NEW ARRIVALS IT SECOND HAND ROSE: WVI US. Army wool costs. 713 S. Crowse A.
SALEE Winter Clearzince up to 50 percant oft SECOND HAND ROSE. gerstsicrouse Ave Vintargecloming 1900's-1940's.

Wanted

Winnted: cuttomera No experionce necessary ORANEE TONSORIAL SERVICE, 727 S. Crouse Avo.. next to post office, 475-9289.
Potwastrer: ond/or distwastwer to work in fraternity for frese board. Job open for Spring 79. Contact fraternity of Phi Gamma Delts at 475 - 9245 or $3-2828$. 9245, or 3-2828.
Two houseperson': wanted-waiter: dishwashing end potcleaning. Responsibitities. Free Bosid. Coll Sio Ep. 475-6773.
Low on money and records that eren't wanted? WE BUY USED HECOROS. Bring them in fer instent cash. Top prices paid! DESERT: SHORE 730 S. Crouse - 472-3235 Mon-Sar 11-6.
GREAT SUMMER JOBS Oveirmight summer camp on Surneca Lake weoks Two reaponaible ctuderte who enfory Worting with kuts. Counawlors, waterfornt, rature, pooi, salling, arts Cand crafts, muaic ponitions availalbe. Call 471-3641, owentrogs far opplication.
Counsefors: Actionedack Boys Counstiors: Aditomedack, Boys ming, Sailing, Canowing. Csmpearft Archety, Craft, Tennis, Driver, Office Atvoingl, tiflery. Softesall, Trip Leading 39 Mitl Valley Road, Pittsford. NY 14534.

Personals

Pushti-The brothers of Semmy eordially linvite you to an open thouse tonight. $7: 30-10=30$.corper of Os. trom arne E.Adams.
Add premzige to your lifestyle. Aush ZETA PSI fraternity Mon. Tues 727 . Comper Set. Jarn 22 to Feb. B. 727. Comperack Ave.

RUSHI The brothert of Sammy cordially immito volu to an open houre tonight $7: 30-10: 30$-coerner of 05 trom end E. Ademin.

Everyone Interewted in a bus to Song Mountrin for itw rext four woeks (Eig). plaese coms to medting orcall Garry at 422.4387 Garry at 422-4387.
Dear Fumpkinhead. Here's to a great 19791 Are you cold' "Layover to Roality" "t'e only movie. Love. Welato.

Second day of FLII-RUSH. If YOU missed last might, come on over tonight 732 Comstock. All the beet you cen drink. 7-10.

Since when did Alan and Elvse gat a Eurail pass? لust don't ask* listen, if you see my jeans walkirng chown the streest plesese send them home. Smashing rincost Teddy. oo-ke-lel Pige dripping much? Ereak the record for being stood up by the bloeks? Would yout like a white hotdog or. kidraby pie? Wat1, pottas take my first shower in months so later for vơu.

For rent

Foom: larges. 3 blocks to nibiary. private house, $$ 125$ utilities inclueded. Sharekizehen/dinette. bath. living room. 479-5246.
Single room for rent. Mesi plan twatiable. Acacis fraternity 475 $9149 \times 2120$. Ask for Jim.
Furnished two bedroorn apartinent $t10 month includes hest, hot water. Off street parking. Call 4465791.

ON CAMPUS. 6 rooms fireplace furnished, 175.00 rooms. NOUTILITIES OR PETS. Lease. 446-7183 after 5 p.m.

Private roóms furnished, share kitchan. bath and living room. Clean. walking distance- 474-1303- or $472-0154$.
foom in Apt very ciose to eampus. Nies place- peoplo Kitchen big - living room. Washerforyer call 422 1750 Ellen.
Large Remodilled House wail. immed. Lancester Ave. 3450 . per month Plug utilities. Sec. Dep. Call
Mr. Foth $422-0709$. Mr. Foth 422-0709.
2 bedroom wuite in $5.5 \mathbf{b d r o o m}$ recently retinished Victorian thouse. Fult use of fireplace, backyard, poreh, garage. den, drivewary, kitchewn, livingroom, diningroom, attic. 486 Fent $\$ 110 /$ month. Call 473 4862 Mike.

Westcott areas 3 bedroom $200/plus util Bob 478-6959. 228 Comstrock. 1 -bedroom $$ 125 /$ plus Comstock. utitities walking distance downtown Univ. Energy siover. Bob 478-6959.
"2 cubtc foot refrigervtors for rent. Chiflayior Rental Conters.478-0957.

Services

LET US DO YOUR TYPING.quick-EFfieions - E VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big- none too small. Call Vicki Masclows 471-6503.

SKI INSTMUCTORS? Apprentice and raining, Leorn sking tearhing and communteations akitits. Full ift pass plus two hours if grebt. Instruction et Sorirg Mountain. Jeff 696-5711.
PARALLEL AND BEYONDI For upper learelskiters onty, Mooul Bustin Ninstar Training Mountain Cruisin; Two hpurs instruction by fulty CERTIFIED instructors only. plus full lift pase for overy SUNDAY at SONG MOUN. Tally. 840. Jeff 696-571t:

Interested in fraternities?
Come to

Fiji Rush

and see what a fraternity is really like.
Come see us, party a litttle, and then decide wbo is best.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10 p.m.

Free Beer

$\rightarrow$ JOIN STUDENT GOVERNMENT $\boldsymbol{*}$  The following seats are now vacant in the S.A.:  1 Booth 1 Brewster/Boland 1 DellPlain  1 Flint - 1 Kimmel - Marion 2 Sadler  1 Watson 3 South Campus 7 Off-Campus  5 Greeks Plus 5 Campus-wide

CALL 423-2650 FOR DETAILS

Syracuse is 'Number One'-but barely

By Joel Btanhenko They chanted "We"re
Number One" during the final seconds of last pight's Rutgers-Syracuse banketball came. But it wain't Eaid with any particular grato or determination. Syracuse was number one, at least for the Orangemen barely survived Rutgers 71-65.

It was the 15 th win of the year for SU, which increased its national ratings before the game to 11th in the AP poll and 13 in UPI. Rutgers suffered its sixth loss of the season against nine wins.
But the crowd of 8,710 and a local television audience were Mreated to a fine game at Manley Field House, and aurely the beat farst half of memory, as the home streak reached 40.
A sign read "N.J. hates Rutgerg" in the student section, but the Scarlet Knighta sure loved New York for much of the first half last night. A vicious slam dunk by James Bailey atarted the early Ratgers Burge as the Knight Ratgerg burge as the Knight front line of Bailey, Abdel Anderson and Kelvin Troy bewilderied SU with a series of lay ups and breathtaking alam dunks. Rutgers led $18-5$ aian der seven minutes.
${ }^{\text {'T I }}$ don't think I've ever seen a Syracuse team come out that flat at a game here," gaid Syracuse coach Jim Bocheim Whohas atill not loat agameat Manley Field House. "It took a Manley Field House "It tooks us a long time to get going," begran to rally, drawing within began to rally, drawing $\quad$.

But Ratgers would not fold as Bailey'a 16 first half points allowed the Knights to retakea ten-poins lead minuten Iater. Syracuse suard Marty Headd and a pramare defense by tine and a pramsure defense by tine saved the gume.

Heada accounted for 10 pointa in the ginal three minutea of the half to est Syracuse within one, 44-43 at halftime.
"II was psyched up," Headd said. Feck, my whole home on tv. The wituation called for on tv. The bituation called for someone to hit and I was hot."
The momentum Headd gave SU at the end of the half especially on his 15 foot jumper with four seconda to go halifas Syracuse took and held halfan Syracube took and held the lead for the rest of the cheme. With much of the Manley crowd on its feet Headd hit two more shots to give Syracuse its first lead of the game at 47-44.
But Bailey was still dangerous, having been all over the court antil SU finally found the right combination to halt the 6 foot- 9 center - fouls. With $17: 38$ to play Bailey picked up his fourth of the night, and wasn't really a factor thereafier.
"The officiating was coagracerul," said Rutgers coach rom Young. whey (SU) complain they can't get anyone to come up here and play - this is why. We just play Th this is why. We just our beat players are sitting on our beat players are sitting on the beneh. They talk about as-ing threerefs - theyshould go ing thre

With Bailay, Troy and atarting fuard Daryi Striciland all sitting on the bench for Rutg the second half, lead, although they tiod the score twice. But with Rooeevelt Bouie dominating nnderneath SU was able to freexe the ball for most of the last ten minutes of the game.

introdincing

 ruards Eddie Moss and Hal Cohen handling the ball SU forced Rutgers to foul the guards - and began a march to the foul line, where the Orange iced the victoryCohen hit five shots from the line to put the Knights away but they didn't really die until there were 17 geconds left and the band could finally play Arnen.
The tame was hardly a apiritual experience to Young however, who epent much of the evening stomping up and down in front of the Ratger's bench in anger over whistles.
"(Referee Henry) Nichols is all right, but the other guy -" (Umpire Gerald Donaghey)," Young said with a emirk after the game. "I never saw him before and, I hope I never see himagain.
Boeheim, however, dikagreed.
"Officiating did not decide this game," Bocheim said. "If it was anything it was the four or five blocked shota by Rosie down the stretch.
Bouie, wholooked bad on the first two stuffs by Bailey, rebounded strongly in the pecond haif to finish with 13 points and game-high totals of nime rebounds and sir shots. Bailey scored 24 points as the Bouie-Bailey matchup finally materialized.

Every year he (Bailey) comes out with something new," Bonie said. "Tonight he had a jump ahot Last year he blocked everything and the year before he was tough, too:" The officiating. however. Egrain dominated the match upi with Bailey this time getting the shoit end of the whistles he said officiating was crazy," he said solemnly after the gaybe the retimes - I think maybe the referees are afraid because if they did they might not get a_chayce to leave."

SU survives

RUTCERRS (60)

Anderion 8-12-1317 Stricklands. $80-28$ Beiley $11-1522244$ Browri 1-$70-027$ Trof 3 -102-48 McDaniwili 3 . $21-17$ Grimn 00000 Marlinger 1.2 1. TOTALS 29-69 7-15 3s.

SYRACUBE (71)
Shacklearord 4-113-6110rr4e70-08 Bouie $5-63-7 \quad 13$ Cohen 14678
Headd 9162320 Moge 23228 Hearmog-16 2.320 Moss 232.26 Schayen 0-1 000. TOTALS 27 52 17-2771.

In what proved to be one of the key plays of the game SU center Roosevelt Boute (fight) fit foulad on the arm try Rutcorfe James Batioy: The foul wes the fourth for Belloy and zubetued tho corrter's ecoring show againet the Orange.

Syracuse

women drop Vanier

By Glen Udine
Like a company of actors accused of being unable to play their role, the SU women's basketball team was finally discovered by a packed atudent section as Manley Field House last night, when they defeated Vanier College 81-51.
Though the discovery was coincidental, as the anxious fans were awaiting the SURutgers showdown, and the turnoverplagued game (45 first half turnovers) quichly turned off the restless fans, the Orangewornen still played blow out Vanier early.

The Orangewomen jumped to an 8-2 lead and never lost that decisive edge. Vanier, which traveled from Quebec to take on the undefeated Orangewomen (6-0), were outmurcled and outrun as the Orangewomen took a $32-13$ lead midway through the first half.

From then on it was purely incidental as SU rolled to a 43 25 halftime lead. Vanier was obviously outmanned by the taller Orangewomen.
"In coming to Manley I was disappointed that we hadn't been sent any information on the SU players," commented Alex Sidorenko, Vanier coach: -We heard Martha Mogish was good but that's all we knew."
If the Orangewomen were a company of actors they lost the audience completely by the second act. The intensified mormer in the crowd was obviously in anticipation of the 8 p.m. premier, and by the half way mark of the second half SU had a 6932 lead.
Althongh the Orangewomen did win by a more than come fortable margin of 30 points, the game was marred by more than 65 turnovers.

Women's Athletic Director Doris Soladay was proased with the fan appreciation though.
"We were glad to have the fanilhere, and we hope to have them continue to eupport un," the commented.
The Orange was led by Sue Scholl with 16 points, and Pat MeEachern and Vichi Sraith; who accred 13 apigce. SU's high acorer this geasson Martha Mogish, added 11.
The Orangewormen's next home game is next Wednesday egrainat nationally-ranked Penn State

Orange overpower Warriors in indoor track

By Rob Harleston
The SU indoor track team had no trouble running, throwing and jumping over East Stroudmburg State College in its dual meet at Manley Field House Saturday afternoon. The Orangemen ontscored the Warriors 100-36.

There was never any doubt about the ovitcome of the meet as SUplaced fratini 12 of the 16 eventm. The Orangemen alto showed plenty of depth as they captured 10 eoconds and eight thirds. They also swept the 1,500 metera, the 300 meters and the triple jump.

Shot putter Craig Wolfley was the first Orangeman to score, winning his event writh a toss of 51 . Myron Comstock of East Stroadsburg Cane Alamin finished third with a toss of $44^{\prime} 7^{\prime \prime \prime}$.

SU's first sweep came in the 1,500 metert, writh Mark Stanffer Mike Kohlbrenner, and Rich Wojtowict finighed well in front. Stauffer winning time waa 4:01.8. Stauffer was out most of last eeason with a broken leg, but showed no bad effecte from the limyofe.

SU football ranning backa acconnted for two more first place Fnishee in Saturdays meet. Art brigh hurdled while freshman 100 Morin eprinted to a 5.8 second win in the 50 -meter dash That time equaled Morrie" previous team and Manley Field House records. Morris and Monk later combined with sophomore defensive back Doug Smith to sweep the 300 -meter dash. Smith won the event with a time of 35.4 seconds.

East Stroudsburg made an impresaive rally, taking firsts in the 400 and 600 meter dashes and oweeping the pole vault.
George Newman of Eagt Stroudabure won the 400 meter dahh in 51 seconds over Warren Matthews meter damh in 31 seconds over Warren Matzhewn caught Walter Scott at the wire to win the 600 meter caught Waiter Warrior Yaulter Dave Strein set a new-Mantey recond with aijump of 15 feet, brealing the 1 -year-old record of 1471/2". Teammates Ed Patterson and Sam Niedbala completed the day's only aweep by the Warrior.

Ken Heinrich got the Orangemen back on track with an easy 155.5 second victory in the 800 meter ran.
Charlie Revier and Bill Scarbrough took first and second for Syracuse in the 1,000 meter ran. The two Orangemen traded the leas several times duriag the ract, but Eleviere 2-28.8 not only won him the race, but also qualiniod him for the ICAA Championship ob boheld in March.
SU' Neil Rowablad toole the lead trom the gtart and won the 5,000 moter rum. Romenblad's ciopeat Orange froet WYallio Howant needed only a $6^{\prime} 4^{\prime \prime}$ leap to win the high jump. Second place went to SU transfer and newlywed Tom Schulz. Schuiz wias married Friday, but withdrew fromi his honeymaon to jump in this meet. Head conch Andy Jugrn called it an excellent example of the jverall commitment our boys have to the program here at Syracube." SU boys have to the program here at Syracupe. both the 400 and $4 \times 800$ meter relays.
Onty five inchen separated the topthree finishers in the long jump as John McFarland of East Stroudsburg leaped past SU's John White and Wallie Howard. McFarland"s $222^{\prime 2} / 2^{\prime \prime}$ jumapwas 21/4 arther than White's and $\mathrm{S}^{\circ}$ longer than Howardia.
SU's final sweep came in the day' B " last event SU's final sweep came in the day's'last event when frosh trio Wallic Howard, Pat DaCoasta and When frosh trio Wallic How ard, Pat DaCosta and John White captured the top spots in the triplejump competition. Howard wion the conteat withajump of compet
$45^{6} 64^{\prime}$
Having won theirfirst dual meet of the season, the Orangemen face a tough meet this Friday at 7 p.m. when they take on Penn State and Dartmouth at the Gedd house. Penn State, im ranked an one of the nation's top dual meet mack and fiela tamm by Track and Gield Nows Magazine. Dartmonth cranhed the Orange lent year in a dual moet at Mmnloy. Jugan-is expecting a tough night, etill he cemain ogpiniatic.
"I foal we're better this yerar thun last, bo denid. Wha just have to go out thewe and givait our best

The Daily Orange

4 SA referendums to appear on ballot

By Mickey Mercier
Student Association plann to place four referendioms on the University Senate election ballot in March. Two of the referendums, if passed, would raise the student activity fee by a total of $$ 4$ - from its

The firat referendum wowld ask studente if they want the etudent activity fee raised by student activity defeated last semester by a niarrow margin of 16 votes, appeart on the ballot again, howaviar, the referendum mun̂t. get SA Assembly approval. SA greanic $\because$ A second referendum will an etuaconts if they want to pry another \$1 to support the Daily Orange. The DO currenty recei ves $\$ 1$ a year from each student.
A third referendum will ank atudents if they want to comtinue allacating $$ 3$ of their gtudemt activity fee to the New York Pahlic Intereas Roearch York Pahlic Interest Roaearch Group. Currently. the $$ 3$ Gllocation, goes directly to NYPIRG. However, students may request-a refund throngh NYPLRG.
 sak stadonte if they want the DAle Constitution Tewritten, Donetitution is inaccarate, outdited and riddled with omisdated and riddied with omio-sions. sions. He blamed the problem partially on the fact that the consititution is retyped each year by amateur typists who eometimes take liberties with content. Dale asid Assembly approval of this referendum will be a major obstacle.

SA Comptrollerelect Dale Cohen said he believes-pasCohen said he believes-passage of the feehike referend um sage of the feenhikereferendum is crucial. Without, he said, is crucial. Without, he said, allocations to stadent organizations could be inflation.
Both Cohen and incumbent SA Comptroller Carl Kleidman said they forease general belt-tightening among fandinizations that recerve SA funding.
Cohen asid he hopes allocitiona to allocations to SA-funded overly affected if the fee hike referendum is defeated.
Yet, if that does happen, the badgeta of groupa that are most beneficial to the campuas will be maintained, he said, cit ing Univeraity Union and SA. funded publications as examples However, "Eorne minor groupe may have to be cut," Cohen warmed.
The foe hike referendum would-add about $$ 30,000$ to SA's yearly budget of ap proximately $440,000, Kleidman paid

The fee hilve would not affect this: serviester's programs because SA's fiscal year runa from July to Junc. Therefore, programs during the $1979-80$ programs durin

Jonestown lawyer

 to speak on campus
By Scot French

Mark Lane, former attornaey for the late Rev. Jim Jones of the People s Temple, will speak p.m. The event is sponsored by Univerwity Union.
The 52 yeax-old attorney will spealy "n "The Horsor at Jonestown." in which Rep. Leo. J. Ryan (DCalif) was murdered and more than 900 People's Temple membera died in an apparent ruass suicide. Lane accomparied Ryan on his misgion to investigate neports that were being held against their will.

Lane has done invertigative work on the assasaination of

Senate agenda

The proposed 1979-80 budget will be the main topic, at meeting at 4:16 p.ma. in Stolkin uditorium.
The budget, calle for an 8.4 percent tuition increane and a 7.5 percant hike in room and board conts. Facnlty. ealariee would rime 7 percent
Also on the agendin is an arpendmemt to the Semate bylaw that would allow reap portionment of facolity eante.

Preaident John F. Kennedy and civil righta leader Martin Lather King Jr. He is author of several books based on his findinge.
According to Dan Barochoff, UU Speakers Board chairman Lane will be paid $$ 2,700$. Borcchoff said he had no dif ficulty arranging the event despite the recent publicity surrounding Lane.
"Mark Lane's a speaker When the incident happened, I inquired to mee if he was available to speak on this and. of cotrge, he was," Borochof said.

Admianion is free to anyone with an SU ID. The cost is ${ }^{\text {sil }}$ for anyone else.

That big hole at the corner of Univerity Avo. and East Adams Streot will soon be filled - et Lant. Soe Page 6.

SU plans autumn orientations

By David Bander
A fall orientation program for freshmen will likely become a reality before the 1980 achool year, accoxding to Ulyases J. Connor, director of student activities.
However, the current summer orientation program, which has drawn criticiem from freshmen unable to attend because of distance and coit, will probably continue as is next summer.
Connor said orgenization problems will present the neve program from starting this year but, It is onrir intention to have it implemented by 1980.
There is a belief within the administration that we should malke an effort to provide orientation for all incoming ztudents," Connor said. With the present program, we have not been able to do it. ${ }^{\text {" }}$
A fall orientation program would taike place right before school opens in September.
At orientation; incoming stadents spend tharee days-living in campus dormitories, getting to know the university and getting advice on their first-semester clasges.
The difficultes with the proponed fall orientation that must be worked out include housing, faculty and parent involvement and conflicts with the Empire State Games.
The office of Student Affairs is preparing a report outlining the problems and auggeating ways to deall with them.
Still to be deternined is whether the program will be a replacement of ot an addition to sumner orientation. Onceimplemented, the fall semaion is expected to be popular.
Kathy Courtney, SA vice president for student-programs, said, "I think they want to keep the summer session and add an extra one seep the gummer session and add an extra one compromiser"
Tina Foley, orientation program director, cited some problems that may arise if the fall seasion is popular. "We may have to develop seme incentives for people to do it-in the summer."

Foley confirmed the likelihood that the program. will remain the same this year, although "we may make some interim changea."

Courtmey said she bas been working on the orientation problem for about a year, after eome diasatiataction pras brought to her attention.

ESF council has $$ 5,497$ deficit

ByJohn Rosemberry A shortage in revenues due to slumping enrollinent has left the Student Council of the State University of New York College of Enviromarontal 35,497 budget deficit.
The council's budget for this academic year was based on an anticipated income of amount to only $$ 29,000$, Treasurer Conior Shea told the council at a meeting Monday. council at a meeting Monday. errollment and Exident fee enrollment and Exdent fee revenue levels were less than the projected figures uged to prepure the budget, Shea said.

Actual enrollment was about 90 less than anticipated students pay a $$ 10$ student fee each semester.
Shea said he hopes to increase revenues and reduce spending so that the council runs abouta $$ 2,500$ deficit this year and carries the remainder of the debt over to next year. Trying to eliminate the entire deficit in one year would "really cripple clubs and activition," he said.
Possible ways to eliminate the debt implude cutting corners when club budgets are revised during spring reallocations and raising ticket prices to upcorning events, Shea said.

Budget revisions and reallocations will be planned by the Finance and Supply Committee and will be aubmitted to the council for approval, he said.

In other action, council members difecussed theirattendance at a recent studentleadership conference at leadership conference The Lemoyne College. The conforence stresised com conferemes atrented comm mumication training and ac tivity planning and diacunged tivity planning and aiscubsed ting expenditures.

In Short

Sorority ruśh

By Pamela Golden

Syracuse Univernity ding Thuraday and Friday instead of the neual formal Iush.
Sororition decided to follow the Panfollonic Arociation cuidelines eet last year elimingting epring sementer

Classes added

formal ruah, abid Mariann Samenko, PanHel president. Interested women may still rush a orority by wisiting the house of their choice.
Fraternity rush has also altered somewhat. The IntraFraternity Council decided not to provide campres toure of fraternity houses this mamester, inaid Dick Dadey, IEC president However, houges will be opers for interested men.

New sections of two English courmes have been arranged for those students who were closed out at registration.

A fourth section of ENG 336 Thakeapeare - will meet Tueedays and Thuradays from 1:15 to 2:40 p.m. in Rooxm 113 Phymics Building. It will be Theines.

A mecond section of ENG 386
Amarican Proee Fiction

1930 to the Prement - will meet Mondays, Wedneadays and Fidays from 11:45 em to $12: 40$ p.m. It will be tanght by Profesear Thorntion H. Par sons in Room 241 Archbold.
In addition, some sectiona of ENG 315 - Expository Writ. ing - are open to qualified sophomorea.
Studente wishing to enroll in any of the courseen should add/drop ht the Fingliakn office,

We knew we were in trouble when we firgt saw the Time Schedule for Classes last semester. We're both juniors. One of us is affectionately known to the university as 034-45-2901. The other is referred to in university circles as $067-56-6606$. Therefore, we both regimered Wednesday, the second and last day of

Off the wall:
Tom Coffey and Dave Stern registration, at 5:15 p.m., the final time possible to enter the gym.

The inevitable happened. We were closed out of every course, except for the following.
CFS 389: Inhuman Seruality - This course traces the development of auch topica as bondage, usage of whipe, spiked heels, chains and leather. Lab fee required.

FIN 862 : Financial Mismanagement - This courge discusses the history and technique of bankruptcy, Anancial ruin and budget deficits. Guestecfureld trip to Cleveland has also been planned.
SWK 527: Principles of Street Fighting-Prof. Hernandez will instruct students on the basics of gang warfare. The use of tire irons, broken bottles, bicycle chains, switchblades and zip guns will be examined. Films will include "West Side Story"" qRebe Without a Cause" and "Saturday Night Fever. quisite: FIN 362 . This courge will deal with the methods employed by our publicofficials in fattening their salaries. The uses of bribes, kickbacks and their salaries. The uses of bribes, kickbacks and payoffs will be studied. Some local Republican Party payoffs will be studied. Some local Republican Party officials will conduct a specis tor for "required" course fee.

TVR 361: Television as an Art Form - An examination of televiaion as an expreasion of American arts and culture. The course will feature an indepth view of such programs as "The Gong Show," "Laverne and Shirley," "The Dallas Cowboys, Cheerleaders Movie," and "Bowling for Dollars." This Bemester's term paper topic Will be My Mothe Contribution to American Culture.'

MST 322: Napalm and You - This is for the student who has a burning desire to find out why those little bombs make each a bige bang. The beneficial usea of napalm are discussed, including its contribution to the financial success of the Dow Chemical Corp. Guest lecturers include Gens William Weatmoreland and Curtis LeMay, as well as Sen. Barry Goldwater. Field trip to DaNang has been tentatively acheduled.
PBI 342: Howard, Fine, Howard - This three part course will examine the metaphysical ideass of Moe, Larry and Curly. The symbolic meaning of eye poling and face-slapping, along with the theoretical foundation of pie-throvving, will be the focus of this courge.
ENG 999: Disaertation, Drugg in Literature This course will be concerned with the many works of contemporary fiction produced under the influence of mind-expanding drugs. Students in the course will read works by Ken Kesey, Hunter Thompson, Jerry portunities will be granted. A courge fee of $$ 40$ an ounce is required.
PEDIO1: Wrestling as a Profession - We had to petition to get in this course because you have to have below a 1.0 GPA in order to register for it.) Prerequisite DRA 101. This courae will examine the posquibilities of earming a livelihood in thia well-respected profession. It will focus on methods of turnbuckle eating, hair pulling, eye gouging and absorbing little eating, hair pulling, eye gouging and absorbing yittle to no pain. (You mean you didnt know it was rake?) checkers, and then having our IDs validated, we were checkers, and then having our IDs yalidated, we were satisfied. that the $$ 3,500$ we'll be spending this aemester will be well worth it. To get a head start on our rigorous schedules, we immediately went to ther bookstore, but could only find a couple of books for and "Clevelaind on Two Dollars a Day-"

Letters

SU budget: tightening belts

To the editor:
The growing costs of running a university have mandated yet quother tuition increase. I have no angered at the administration for the apparent method of determining the amount of the increase.
SU will be conforming to Preaident Carter's wage and price guidelines, raising tuition to the maximum allowable. Vice Chancellor Winters aays that SU is "straining to achieve" the guidelines, yet he says that the increase would not have been higher even without the guidelines. The ambiguity here is astounding. If the tuition increase would have been migher without the guidelines, then sounds to melike the administration is trying to squeeze every cent they can out of the students while not jeopardizing their government con-

Why does the increase have to be the maximum allowable? If the administration is so concerned about fighting inflation, why doessit it tighten aome belts and leasen the increase? I'm sure there are plenty of places it can cut expenses and still maintain the quality of education here. Gouging the student body is no way to fight inflation. It's difficult enough to afford SU as it is. I awitched meal plans this semester to save my parents the $$ 100$ or so. I won't eat as well, but I'Ll get by; I might even lose bome weight. The administration should try to trim some of the fat off its budget (pun intended).
I urge that the Senate send the matter of the increase back to committee for reevaluation. It is the responsibility of the administration to keep the costs to the student body as low as poasible.

Campus Conveniences cut costs

To the editor:
We at Campus Conveniences read your January 22 article about Syracuse University Bookstore prices with great interest. Since C.C. is the only area store both student owned, and operated, we felt studemte might be interested in how somie: of our: prices compare with S.U.B., Burnett's, and Siegel's. Bounce 10 sheets
Flicker razor
Head and Shoulders shampoo Kodak 12620 exposure Eaton's corrasable typing paper-medium weight Scope mouthwash ( 12 oz .)

Aika-seltzer
Vick's Formula
Vaseline Intensive Cane
aseline Intensive Cane $\quad 1.59$
We feel certain that your failure to include uain your article was just an unfortunate oversight, one wd are pore tham happy to help correct Any time you want to write another article companing area prices; we'l be equally as willing to supply the information.

Mhomas Bradley
Mare Orchant Thamas Bradley is mianager of Spectrum Sundries. Marc Orchant is manager of Spectrurt Suppliea.

Recognizing Iran's problems

To the editor:
No people have greater reason to protest against injustices in their country than the Iranian people. Anyone who heard the newf about Iran tix or geven years ago would know there were many acts of aggression against its citizens. The framian demonstration. here last Thursday was a peaceful attempt to solve the problems in Iran.

If indeed these Iranian atudenta have reason to protest, they must be fully informed of what they are proteating againet.
Iranians who protested againgt the shah's Eovernment are now protesting againat the new Bakhtiar government. These students who wanted the shah to leaye, calling him a sign of repression, want him to go back to Iran now to face trial. These Iranians support the institution of. a new goyernment under the ultra-religious Moelem leader Kolinimi. If their efforts are realized, however, they will create a rebirth of the Middle Ages.

- Obviously, these Iranian students who protested last Thursday have every right to believe what they don't like about the shah and their country. But, indeed, who sent them country. But, indeer, whoselves? Do they realize that the shah has they realize that the shah hai brought their country from a mation of beggars to the necon largest cil-producing nation in the the shah has developed one of the the shah has developed one of the protecting them from the corm munist agicresgion at their borcers Bo the ranian woran hore at the ing viln or tast lito ing veaig or treated tice reprocessed portac

The shah has helped the people in inmumerable ways politically, socially, ec ancationaly The ahah, like many other rulers has used aggression to get his programs across. The SAVAK was obviously known to keep people in order. And, there must be other things wrong that the Iranian students can point out and justifiably so. Th'o Iramian students here probably know more what here probably know more what happens in their country people of the free worid.
But, of-course, have not the But, of course, have not the Britian, French, Chinese, Kussian and Latin American governments used the same npproachea shah in the past if not now?

The Iranian students have ever right to protest - and of this they have taken fall advantage, as they showed with the ahah's 90 -year-old mother in California a few weeks ago. If the Iranians are protesting for an unreagonable cause which does not solve their problems, the rest of the world will not fully understand their problems.
If these students still protest with an unreasonable cause, they will certainly not be attentive to the actual problems in Eran today - a declin. ing economic situation, an increasing international and national debt, political chaos, military umrest religious upheaval, Communist infiltrations. and other problema.
-If they do not look at what is actually happening now and do something aboutit, they will simply repeat their history. More importantly, these erudents might poosibly not abe th the free world.

The three evil B's of Syracuse

"Beimg grown-up is haviag to apend time in places you won't necesearily hike," we are told when we are are by withering awry in places where, in Ftusell Batier s definition; one hour on the clock, equals four Boter of "real timen"- how long it actually seenph we are therie. At Syracnse these places are Bird; Bugger Kreing and the bant. The three evil "b' $s$ " of our daily King and the bank. ine three evi obe of our dang wora.:"

Bird Library
It is forever' 2 a.m. in Bird Library. No matter what time of day you walkin, you are always greeted by the White haze-of florescent light: As though you are walling through a heavier gravity, you feel aluggish. Some say this is because there is no oxyigen in the building due to the gealed windows. The air on the fifth flooris vintige 1972. People who are not talking in the ibrary walk around like lobotomy outpatients. Library, but umlike the weather, people do something about it: assault copy machines, do- extra-curricular about ti: assault copy machines, do exettra- take home all the pretty pictures from the May-June 1963 Newsweek you want. The librainy does not bring out the beat in us.

There are two kinds of people who use copying nifchinese thotse who think copying is a contact sport and those who want to make the Fortune 500 list Ása publishing housé in one afternoon. Once you see all troseanickel rolls cracked open on the machine, you know, as the commentatore say, "Hè's corne to play."

People think the copying machines are conspiring against them. "I hate these machines," one student "said as his whiteknuckled fists clobbered the metal. "They never work."
"Oh, I used a Canadian coin." he said, and then gave the machine a dirty look, giving it full blame. People will hate anything given half a chance.
Trying to copy an article, of course, requires a grand tour of all the floors to find an available machine. Butgetting lothenext liooxis the mostirus trating part of the bbrary. The well intentioned builders of the library realized that the shortest dis tance between two points is a straight ine and took elevator shatts to be it
So you spond most of your time waiting for the magic white or red light, so you can go up one floor. Worse than trying to find the one apot where you can see all six elevators is atanding in them. There are very strict aocial stapdards: you must remain silent, face fowward and. watch the floor numbers. (If someone talks, the cables could break:)
The interior of the building has received rave reviews. One prospective student on a campus tour once said "turn it off." Over the yearastudents have followed his advice, by toning down the carmivial purples and festive orgngei with a nice veneer of ashes ond coffee stains.

- Of course it wonld't bea biglibrary if they didn't have your book. They have a million-and-a-half volumes and you walk down the aiale trying to find your book, and then there is that singing feeling when your eyes get ahead of you. You know it isn't there. But it in better than finding one of those wooden blocks - "what, are they playing with my mind?" you think.
If it is a magazine that is misoing, it is at the bindery. They are all at the bindery. You would think they are trying to bind together every magazine ever made, all in one book. It will be impressive when it's finished.

And don't bother trying to look for a fiction book. As a librarian reported in 1894 , "the crying reedis for book. ${ }^{\text {. }}$

Actually, the Library is a case of successful planning - they got just what they wanted; "We wanted - a warehouse type of etructure," a member of the planning committee wrote. And they were not short on praise for this now, endeavort "the new Ermest Stevenson Bird Iibraiy stands as a witness to this worthy past and aymbol of hope for the future:. .

Where studentis can work "among bright, pleasant, comfortable sixronndings. This is what atudents will find at the library both now And in years to come.
The most accurate atatement at the library's opening was made by Chancellor EgEers, which we will quote out of context: "Who wants this new library at Syracuge? ${ }^{\prime}$
If you bee a rather trim gentleman with what they call distinguished cray hair walking around the library, don't bother him about the excesaive noige, smoling, messy bathrooms and lounge. Heis Donald C. Anthony, director of $$ \mathrm{SU}$ librariés.

He has to worry about the building sinking.

Burger King

One night in front of Burger King, the manager is standing on the sidewalk looking in the window. He is watching them put in new seating.
"We're taking out all the group seating," he explains to a passerby, "and putting in all single seating."
He looks back at the store, as though he was addressing it: "We'll be able to turn that lunch crowd over three times. - three times - that's what it's all about.'
Burger King is about money, not food. When you're eating at Burger King, you know you are trying to save money. And you're probably eating by yourself at a safe distance from anyone else. It looks like a bad picture from a sociology textbook.
Everything in Burger King is carefully calculated to be cheery: The yellow lighting on the fire engine red seats, the rustic wood siding, the "thank yous" on the garbage cans and the muzak that complimente the rat-tat-tat of cash registers. But it all falls short, like the personal touch of the Burger King Birthday Club list where the Burger King himself wishes "the following members of his court" a Happy Birthday and there follow the namea, on a computer print-out.
Packaging is the hallmark of a Burger King "dinner". During that long journey to your seat, your meal is hidden in a bas, wrapped peparately with a sheet of paper and at least two napkins, and Whree sugar containers.

Several high chaire, for the campus toddlers, etand in the corners with their trays wrapped for aurgicai cleanliness. An upsido-down cupand platic bibwin the King himself on it sit as a still life under the plat When you order, the girl will look right through youi as if you are not there and once you've paid, ahe'll clear the cash regiater as though returning a typewriter carriage, and atare blanily aboud:-Nex-
As Robert Mein has said, everythingis madein one machinie in the back and it all smells the arme - even your change. And after you leave you alvays have that funny doughy buxp. It is a meal fit to be topped. with a candy bar.
Eehind the counter at all Burger Kinge, there is always a drill-aergeant mamager, with a very merions and nexvops look on his face. He is always dis patching employees with great urgency to fill the mapkin holders. He looks as if he were a French cominanderion the Maginot fine in its final hours. He has a senge of urgency, but how much can he do?
As you leave, a givl is dispatched to wipe your finger prints off the glass door.

If you-ever want to be insulted go to Marine Midlaríd and you won't be disappointed.

Of couree what mater Marine Midland the "4. evil "B" are the lines. The average wait is 20 minutes, sompetimes 45 minutes; bring a book, bag a lunch, tign all the checks you'll need for the next two years; Or you can play name-that-tune with the Muzak. Even if you go early in the morning you'll have to wait, because there are usually only two tellers there.

Everyone loves being herded through the maze of those ropes, standing with at least three people you didn't want to run into that week.
This method of herding is an innovation. "Things were blow down there until we pat in those Speed Lines" one bank official said. Calling them "Speed limes" is an example of humoxist Jean Shepherd's "Law of 180 degrees Diametrical Opposition to the Truth of 180 degrees Diametrical Opposition to the they're not. If they were clean there wouldn't be a theyre not. If need to gay it.

The other thing they've done to speed up service is install a "Moneymatic Machine" known as a Money install a "Moneymatic Machine" known as a Money Monger Machine on carmpus becaupe it is always Monger Machine on campua because it is always breaking down-They are pretty ficke machines that breaking down-They are pretty fickle machines that can communicate with aome 78 different responses can communicate with some 78 different responses that's more words than most of us use in one week. Usually it swallows your precious plastic and gives you a " 29 " - "finamially impotent" But it is the bugiest machine in the state.
The only thing they haven't tried is more tellers The university branch is one of their two busiest branches and yet it has a small number of tellers. The downtown branch, about a 20 -minutewalk away, has three times the number of tellers and, except for peak times of the month, Beldom more than 10 people waiting.

Could it be that stadenits can wait?
Howard Mantifid for
The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange

Thomes Cotify Thormat Gradic Chuck Bualines Greprg Chatitartion, Petai Schuldivitred Sy Mrontoponary Sy Mortpontiry Wequil Emimon Karaha Eppoltto Scott Riohner Brent Morchant
ditor in chiet maneging eidito production manager Leyourt dilatertor copy ecilto edittopritial edititor enterial editior iest. nows edifici met. newne editico eset inows edtrow Focus edition

Fachel Finicol Maris Riccaldi Mowts Stanhery Mrwin Fient Maghty Olver Bocky liczan Richind Folkers Joek sheldon George Mupal Lury Ppery Melieep Katzman
asert. Focus editor
asst. Foculy editor Focur editor sports editow sesti sportan editar upppierrent editor ert directer phote editer photo exitor business manery dvertising director asser adv. dirnetor

Dept. of Strange Phenomena

If King Tuit died today, they'd bury him in a sneaker.
-Newsday

How could a 27-year-old homemaker, a biochemaiatry major atC. W. Port, expect to succeed in the cannibalistic atmosphere of the pop music world?
-Newsday.

Cost-cutting measures are Funny youshould ask that.

THE BIGE: BICKidonis Bigk

The Sounds Great Backroom: Demonstrators, one-of-a-kinds and"goodies" from the Backrooms of famous manufacturers. Come save real money.

The Backroom is bigger. With more of what you been thinking about buying in electronic entertainment - except these prices are lower in price than usual. Because they include one-of-a-kinds, demonstrators and products from manuto come back to Sounds Graat. Because the Backroom's Back

TAPE DECKS

|  |  | NNTADV | 5 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |  |
|  | 5 |  |  |
|  | SUAERSCOECD310 |  | - |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |
|  | , |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |
|  | ract |  |  |
| UF | ANTABLES |  |  |
|  |  |  | SNE |
|  | DARECT DRNE SENHATTO |  | $8500 |
|  |  |  | $47 \%$ |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  | 500 |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  | NO

By. David Eander
Chanchlior: Melvin A. Eggens discursed the new budget and other isanes with about 15 undergraduate univerwity cenators at Monday evaning'a Senate Coplition meeting.
Led by budget committee members Frank Slazer and Morrie Levine, some students complained about not getting enough information on the budget to actively quertion it.

Egetern eaid there was mome information the university was not at liberty to distribute "Just because you're a member of the Senate budget committee doesn't open up all ac counts," he said.

Eggers also maid that in the past many committee pambers were not gecure with the information they were civern.
criver.
The motion that accerss to all accounts is needed for effective performance on the budget committee is one I wonld have to deny: It perverts what I think is a constructive role of the budget committee - Giving ad vice to the Senate on all fib-cal matters affecting the cal matters affecting the anivers added.

Egrers also atked for more cirect studentinpet on campus concerns. "There are many matters I would like to hear about : through the grass roote," Egeers said. "I get my information through three or four filters and mometimes 1 don't know whether to believe Ho
However, when Levine alked Eggers hov more thadents could get involved in the Senate, Eggerw Eaid he didn't think more atudent in volvement was called for

It's not coneistent orith the notion of the Senate as a representative body" Egrears said. "It's not thought of as an opea meeting."
Eggers also questioned whether enough students syere really that interested in the Senate, pointing ort that tome senators wine elected with only one or two votes.
In response to a quiestion from David Clo a question SA vice president for ening ministrative president for ad ministrative operations enrollment mioned declining enroliment. mandatory retirement and residence hall living as issues students should be actively addreasing-"Changes in enrollment are soing to catuse declimea in tome chools and increanes in others," Eggers said "To what extent frgers sain mources be noved from one area to the other? This is an issue of very othar? This is an Althongh he wann't aure Altiongh he wann't aure what action students could take, Eggers anlued for their feélingz on mandatory retirement for faculty nember.
${ }^{\text {an }}$ If you have a pacticularly effective profeator who you don't want to aee retire just becatite he's 65, let us know, Bgerer said.

Conoerinime cempun houning. Eggert aid, "I get a lot of etatic from parents on such things an remidential life I want to krow whether students think the university is up to tetandards on tuch thing ta resident halle and security."
The over crowding of the courbe catalogae also drew Eggers' attention.
"We add new coursea all the time but we don't have the procedure for dropping them We have to develop a aystem for eliminating courses that aren't being aged."

Teachers turn to book center

By Carl Johneon
While students last year resorted to protegts and boycotts to expreas their diosatiafaction with the Syxacuse University Fookstore, some SU teachers have a more subSU teachers have a more subtle way of expressing their tle way of ex unhappiness.

More thain three dozen More than three dozen teachers have ordered texts for teachers have ordered texts for their classes through the Syracube Book Center, 113. Marshall St.

Achilles Nickles, owner of the Syractase Book Center, said he ordered more textbooks this semester than in previous years.
English Professor Panl Theimer zaid he started ordering books for his conrses through Nickles' store last semester. He said the SU Bookstore had "mixed up a couple of orders" in the past.

IInever buy anything in the bookstore if $I$ can help it." Theiner said. "I hate waiting in thelines." He said he chose Syracuse Book Center for its Syracube Boolc Cente fast, eficient pervice.

Frederick Marquardt, an ansistant professor of history. said he began ordering through the book center in 1977. He maid the book center's order deadint is much later order ceadint is much later than the SU Bookstore' 8 , not ing that hun Bookskire, not. ing that he can order texts inst ive or six weeke. before the semester and theyll be there.

Marquardit also said that the book center's commumications arebetter with probleans such as late books.
Michael Musler, araduate assistant in tociology, said he has had ""a number of problems with the bookstore." "I invariably had trouble finding out very late that books were late," he said, adding that the book center is "more perronal; it's doing business with people I like to do business with."
Associate Professor of drama Beverly.mluem, maid the dramin dopartinent has been doing business with Nic: kles' store for-meveral years.
 noting th
Nickles maid it remains to be eeen whether he will expand

Report and write news.
Call Jacqui at 423-2127
his text business, but "that'sa possibility." He said he thought teachers were coming to him inatead of the SU Bookitore becauale his store is Bookatore gecauke his store is of what's coming in, what'sgoof what's, comingin, whategoing out." He-said he always notifies teachers if a book is notifies teachers if a book is late, not arriving or out of late, $n$ itock addition to accommodiating teachers' meeds, Nickles' store is close to campus and offers various charge plans
"We ty to run as good a ber vice as we can," Nickela asid.

HAVE A.PLANT SHON IN YOUR DORMITOFY, FrA. TERNITY OR SORORITY HOUSE . . and anm money for Your orgenkeation.

素额

 458-8030Hucison Creat House Plamt M. Syricued MY 13212

ATTEENTION ARTISTS

and anyone interested in

 EXHIBTING ARTWORKin the new display case
NOBLE ROOM, HENDRICKS CHAPEL
Call 423-290t or bring Your work to the Dien'm office, bemement Hendrick: Chapel. eponsored by Hendrictes Chapel

FLLM FORUM 81.50  ARTMUR PISNN RETROSPICTIVE

4 retrospective showing of Arthiur Penn's Iilms with a personat appearance tollowing showing of NIGHT MOVIES.

TONIGHT

7 p.m. Missouri Breaks
9 p.m. Little Big Man
TOMORROW
7 p.m. Night Moves
9 p.m. Penn Appearance

KODAK Color Enlargements Order three, one is free!

Beauttlul KODAK Color Entargements of your favortas znapshets, instant prints, color silides, or KODACOLOR negatives make graat giths, or decorative accents for your horne or office.
And now be the tirne to order them. Beceetse when you order threa, you pay for only two. The trird one is free? Stop in tor complete chetails, but hurry. this epecial offer encls Mareh 14.

```
erunerin: mantoncrinay
``` veat

Only at:
the Sturdert Center, 310 Wilnut PI.
Food service coiponta mestorchinge end Vike ghody ecceptod

\title{
Plaza to be erected near bank
}

By Jerry Zremaki: That huge hole next to the Marine Midland bank, 1004 E . Adama St, may boon by a thing of the past.
The long-delayed Univeraity Plaza project, a new shopping and office complex for the Syracuse University area, is scheduled to open for the fall semester.

Retail busincases and office space will be included in the plaza. The vacant lots next to Marine Midland and Burnett Pharmacy, at the corner of E . Adams St. and S. Crouse Ave. are the sites for the two-building complex.
The plaza was scheduled to open a year ago. "Obtaining zoning permita for the area was more time-consuming than we anticipated," said Guy Easter, spokesperson for ship, the project's developers.

\section*{Letters of intent}
are now being accepted for

\section*{Assistant Comptroller and}

Student Association Finance Board
positions.
They will be due on Fri., Feb. 2 at 5 p.m. Any questions call Dale Cohen X-2650.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The complex will include ,000 sq. ft. of floor mpace for retail busineskes. Butinesses already committed to the plaza inciude MeDonald's, CVS Drug* and a cielicatesaen Between two and four more businesses will be included. We will try to lease the space to a kind of business not already existing in the area, such as a dreas ihop." Easter said.

The plazs will aloo include \(6,000 \mathrm{sq}\). At of office space.
The outer bhells of the two buildinge will be erieted within the next fow weelcs, Easter said. "The project miy be corapleted as acon as-May. but-September is the much more Tikely opening date," Easter baid.
Cleaverly Associates" of Syracuse will build the complex.

\section*{Iran: one professor's trip}
- By Fran Lepper

On Sept. 8, Paul Eickman, professor in the school of Visual and Performing Arts, stepped off a plane into a county he had already visited forr tunes - Iran.
This visit, however, was a unique experience. Eickman said he felt as if he were visit ang "andther country," an Iran charkcterized by corifusion and a desire for immediate political change.
It was alan an Iran that was not a welcome place for Americans. Americans entering Iran last fall found themselves in the middle of a political struggle that some Iranians blamed on foreigners.
As a result, Eickman's and his wife's two-month stay was far from a touriat's dream. tar things did get rough for foreigners in general. but Especianan said.
Their Iranian friends warned them to avoid res taurants, because a number of restaurants had been bombed. Any restaurant Americans frequented would be a target

Syracuse University Union Concert Board invites you to a Rock 'n' Roll Party with

and

\title{
Southside Johnny Asbury Jukes
}

\section*{Saturday, February 3rd-8:00 p.m.} Landmark Theatre - Reserved Seats \($ 7.50, $ 7.00\) for retaliation," Helen Eickman_raid.
But American communities were not necessarily any mafer than restanarate as concitions in Iran deterionated during the Eickrman's stay.
Eickman said many Iranimps geemed "puziled. frightened and confused, more so than the Americans," over the political turmoil.
The Eickmans arfived the day martivl law was impobed with military forces in full with military ronces in full enicence, curfew was enforced early curfew was entorced, Which Iramian citizens felt was hesaid.
As discontent with martial aw and the with markia Eickmann said he noticed Eicknamin said he noticed a mariked change in the Granian people. Previously, he said, "I didnt aee that willingmess to agcrifice yourgelif for the canse. This time it was a real change. People seemed less intimidated. There were a number of different factions and they seamed willing to come together to get rid of the shah."
Govermment opposition btruck in many directions if an effort to bring rowow the ahah. For the Eicimana, getting out of Iran became a tough problem. "You didn't know from one day to the next what would be fanctioning," Mre. Elickman said.

Leavixig the country meant not only booking a flight, but also getting cash to pay for it provided the airlinest wrere mot on atrike and fuel : was available for the planes.

With anch problema plaguing the cotumtry, bribery became \(a\) way of life it sometimes became "the oniy way to get thinga done," Mrs. Eickman said.
"I don't know how we would have gotten out of the country without Persian- help," Eichman said.

Eicirman was in Iran to work on a project for the company he worice for. Iran was jubt one stop on a tour of several counties he visited on his businets. trip.

\section*{SENIORS &}

GRAD STUDENTS
A nev Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFIE SEAMNING SYSTEA for com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S: Enter your profle into the System and expend your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry-Form.

\section*{Addrene}

CItr , \(\therefore\) st.
zip
Find to:
Gradurite Profing Center

PO Bex 271
Berfite. MiY: \(14241^{\ldots}\)

\section*{Elvis Costello's latest effort}

By David Bauder After the release of his first album, Elvis Costello'declared in a magarine interview "I don't want to be around to witneew my artastic decint rather kill myself first.".
With the relense of his third album, Armed Forces, Costello should keep him lease on life. for a few more months at least. The British-based rocker is far from' an artistic decline; instead he's shown a remarkable degree of growth as a musician in the fifteen months since he burst onto the musical scene.
Armed Forces is easily Costello's most accesaible record, and will undoubtedly become his strongest seller. The songs fit more cleanly into the mainstream rock market, yet sacrifice nothing in urgency and cleverness of pation." Costello will probably Eation," Costello will probably songwriters around todiay. songwriters around today.
As on his first two albuma As on his frst two albums Comaing the opposite sex; you remains the opposite sex; you don't hear any dreamy love gongs from ithns guy, But the bitterness is more subtle here, not the straghtiorway of This Year's Model. of This Year's Model.
In "Chemistry Clases," Costello reduces a love affair to a chemical reaction. Are you ready for the final solution ? he agks an aggreasive clasamate.
"Green Shirt" is the most haunting song on the album. The bitterness in the lyrics is contrasted with bayocque-like keyboards, ayntheaizer and one of Costello's finest vocal performances.

Costello doesn't direct all of his bitterness towards women, however, as there's always plenty ..to apread arcund. "Setrioz Service" attacks the lack of proper conditions for Sonior citizens and "Gron guad rim Costello working Class system Costello was born into.
With the aid of his backup band, the Attractions, and producer Nick Lowe, Costello has taken-a step forward muaically The gritar dominated My Aim is True was supplemented with a murky sounditig organ on Thia Year's Model. Keyboards dominate Armed Forces. The only straight guitar-oriented cut as a Lowe compossition. "What's so Fonny Boat Peace, Love and Underatanding:* The intraduction of new instruments does a great deal for the depth of his music. Those who knew Costello only from his frat album will besurprised by the change.
Though the idea might disgugt him, it appears Costello may have a few potenCial hit simales. "Party Chrl." a tial hit simgles. "Party Carl, a very much like a Beatlee song, very much lice a Eeatlempong, "Oliver's continy", also monnds "Oliver's Ariny" also sonnds Elvis Costello and the Attractions" now LP, "Arrned Forcess," features a variety of musical mtyles and is the most acceasible Blbum by this Englifin overnight Fuccose Ftory-

Beatles coraposition, and has a reat hook in the choris.
Therein lie onerof Costello's strengths as a composer. Most of his songe contain appealing hooks, which give them a tendency to stick in your mind. The same formula spelled goldmine for guch artibts as the Beatles and Bee Gees. The jury is still out on whethex Costello can come close to their success.
"Peace, Love and Underatanding" has been selected an the first single from this package. It features some mearing guitar wark and an unrestrained vocal, but may rock too hard for the masts market.

Even with the obvious nod to mass consumption. Armed Forces (Costello originally Forces (Costello onginally Wanted to title the recorra cmotiona peascism but collinia necor it) contivea talked him out of it) containa enough of the farosyncracies Which endear him to his fans. The front cover looks like a finger painting by a colorful arst grader, and ano back depicts a herd of atampeding cophantm. Unforiunately:
include a Iyric sheet, even though his song are more clever than abotit \(95 \%\) of ihe an tista who do.

An extra: bonus in the pac kage is a threesong EP featuring Costello and the At tractions "Live at Hollywood High" (of all places). A mellow Costello, accorapanied by only a piano, sings "Accidents Will Happen' and a stunning version of "Alison," which supposedly convinced Linda Ronetadt, out in the audience. to record the song for her latest album. The flip- side is a regrae-flavored "Watching reggae-lavored."
Elvis Costello has been drawing hosannas from the critica ever singe the release of My Airn is True. Armed Forces should continue that streak. Though itremains to be seen if Costello can match his immense crifical success with commercial acceptability, it is clear he has established himaelf as one of the beat rock aongwriters to emerge in the pabt few yeara.

The Hendricks Chapel Choir has

\section*{IMMEDIATE OPENINGS FOR TWO TENORS}

Those interested must be available for the choir'w crose-country tour May 13 - Sune 3.

To audition call choirmanter,
Wintion Stephens. 423-2901
sponsored by Hendricks Chapel

\section*{We Buryr Sell Et Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magarines}

\section*{Bring your recouds to ut for cath}

Cotiections bought e House calls by appointment
1.000 's of records in stock * Most LP's only 52 - \(533^{\circ}\) All records guarantead - We specialize in out-of-print records.
DESERTSHORE RECORDS
$. Cmmpur Moti, 730 s . Crouse
M-5me. 11-8 (472.3235)

\section*{HEWLETY.PACKARD}

Educatlonal & Professional Dlecoun.

Syracuse University Union and Calliope. Productions present Live from N. Y.C. and Long Island

The
"BONTIE PARTKER BAND" with special gueat
ist concert of the now semester TONIGHT.
two shows 8 p.m. & 11 p.m. Jabberwocky - $2.50

25c Drafts
Tickets on sale at Jab, Spectrum, Record Theater, Discount Records, S.U. Bookstore.

Get rithcy to de roeked ifke you've nevar been rocked betore.

Student Association presents the 1st annual Save-the-Jab party on Saturday, January 27th; beginning at 9 p.m.

\author{
$2.00 Admission- open bar all night
}

\section*{Salt City play presents evening of lifestyles, loves, and laughs}

THEATER OFF CAMPUS: "How The Other Half Loves," playing at the Salt City Canterfor the Performing Arta, 601 S. Crouse Ave, next Friday and Saturday. For ticket information, call tho Salt City box office at $74-1122 or 474-0124.

By Mary Arn Wood
A unique stage setting and an abisurd plot make salt City's current production of Alan Ayckbourn's, "How' The Other Half Loves, wn entertaining, enjoyable show. Despite a few weak performances, pite a few weak performances, the casit successfully captured the cast Buccesafully captured throughout most of the show.

The play, originally perof confusion which ífvolves three married couples and a baby whom is never seen because he is always hurling pans against the kitchen wall. or dumping prunes over his head. The husbands are employed by the same company and as a reanit of real and imaginary love affairs with each other's wives, the lives of all six become inextricably entancled. A few etretegically placed \(A\) fow phone calle paick trate chops to the neck quick bitafthashin the neek the fin the floor eventunily Etraightens out matters for the Couplew. couples.
All this chaos takes place in the respective living rooms of a conple, Fyank and Fiona Foster (Rick Hirachoff, Carol Fiegel), and a beer-guzzling working-class couple, Bob and Terry Phillips (Mark McKee, Diane Gaytrex).
The twist is that both their homes are on the aame set the couches face each other and the dining room tables are connected. Yet each couple is oblivious of the other. This gives the audience insights of which the couples are unaware. The set also allows the viewer to notice immediately the radica tyles of the couples.
In a particularly bizzare scene, action takes place in the couple's homes on two separate evenings. A third couple, the rather frumpy William Detweiler (Bill Moles \(k y\) ) and his socially inept wife Mary (Ellen McCauley), is eat ing dinner in the Fosters' home on Thursday. and in the Phillips: home on Friday. Yet on stage this takem place innultaneoualy. By eimply tuxning ineit. heads. the Detweilers are transported from one night to thenext, and from one home to the other.

Though the action in each home in inderpendent of the other. Ayckbourn manages to have the converaations interweave so that question in one home receive seemingly appropriate, though frequen ty ladicrous replies from the oth lacicrous reples from the Salt City's theater-imehe round Cis suenceriant is round seating axrangement is effective in capturing the audiences actendon. The far thest seat is less than ten feet from the stage.
In addition to effective stage techniques, the play also shone in its creative dialogues Hirschoff's superb directing and outstanding per: formances by Hirschoff and McCauley.
To the audience's delight Hirschoff absentmindedly flies from one thought to the next while mastering the knack for timing so indispensable to the comic. McCanley's wonderfully sensitive and realistic portrayal of a bluahiag. quivering wallflower is quivering engasing, and keeps smiles on engaging, and keeps smile.
Despite excellent acting by Hirachoff and McCauley, performances by the rest of the formances by the rest of the cast were weak. Clever dialogue and oxiginal comic lines are weakened b delivery by the actors.
delivery by the actors.
However, this does not entirely mpoil the original humor of the script. Theater-goers of "How The Other Half Loves," will find it a worthwhile ex. perience.

\section*{New GEO courses offered}

> Visiting speakers from seven universities will highlight a special course offered by the geography department this aemester.
> "The Contemporary City in Historical Perspective \({ }^{\text {" }}\) is avainable on both the levels.

> According to the course outline, GEO 400 is "deaigned

\section*{Cornell Concert Commission and} John Scher in cooperation with WVBR FM \section*{proudly present}

\section*{HEART}

\title{ with special guest, THE GOOD RATS In Concert at Cornell Barton Hall
}

\title{
Sunday, Jan. 28 - 8 p.m.
}

\author{
General Admission
}
" • Tickets: 6:50 in advance, 67.60 day of show
Available at: Discount Records - Syracuse, Wilhard Straight Hall - Cornell.
to introduce undergraduates to the course and consequences of the historical evolution of the city." Among the-topics to be discusged are: the origins of ux banisan, the problems of \(20 t h\) Century suburbanization, and a world without nonurban place or space.
GEO GDO is a gerninay which will consider "a wide range of reaearch questionis associated with the study of the contemporary city and its portecedents."

The visiting spealcers range from - Brian J.L. Berry; Wrom - Brian J.L. Berry; Williams profewsor of caty and regional planning at Harvard regional planning at Harvard Univeraity, to James E. Vance, Geography profemar at the University of Califormia at Berkeley. Each of the seven guest lectnrans will discuss piojects they are worlcing on as well as provide mitiquen of other approaches to the study of arbaninm and urbanitation:

GEO 400 will meet on Tues; day and Thursday from 11:40 am to 1:05p.m. in Newhousei (A1) GEO 600 meets oin
Wednesdiny from \(3: 00\) to \(6: 00\) pim. in HBC, ROOm 304 .

\section*{The Gator Bowl Punch hangover}
(Editor's note The recent dismissal of Ohio State eoaching legend Woody Hayes hat forced many in and outside the game of college football to at least take a hard look at themselves and the win-at-all. cost ethic which perrneates the game Some aspocigted with the oport have not lined what they have seen.)

By Alan Fectean
By Alan Fectean
GATOR BOWL PUNCH: Ingreatients ... one eough loses, one angry coach, one fiat Mix allofally with the presemre to liberally with the presemure to win in bif-time college foos. be ready within a few minutes. By, alugging a Clemson Univeraity football player dur ing the 1978 Gator Bowl in Jackisonville, Fla former Ohio State foothan conch Woody Hayes showed a national television autience that he is troly the sorent lower in intercollegiate, athetica today.
"It's the first time I've ever heard of a coach hitting an op: posing player in any sport"" director at the Univeraity of Michigran, affer the infamoun Machigran, atterk the Clemaon defenaive linemain Charlie Baumian had intercopted an Ohio Stato pasa with little time remaining in the contest, apparently aealing Ohio Stateis 17-15 lose. After being tackled near the OSU aideline, Bauman was as saulted by Hayes.

There is not a university or athletic conference in the country that would permit a coach to physically assanlt an opposing player," aaid OSU nouncing the firing of Hayes.
Butactually, the Gator Bowl Punch was the latht in a succession of violent episodes that engulfed Hayes' final decade of coaching.
©OM Nov. 21, 1971. Hayea ran onto the field to proteatan official's ruling late in Michigan'a. 10-7 victory agamat anio State. Hayes in-conduct peaalty and had to be reatrained by nome of his players and cosches from at tacking the official. After retarning to the sideline, Hayem broke a yard marker over hia knee and shredded a first down marker Grat Cown marker.
Southern Can. 1.1973 , prior to Sornia's 4217 romp agrinat OSU in the Rose into the face pushed a camers Times photographer. "Thgeitl take care of you, you son of \(a\) taine care of you, you son of a photographer, who later pressed misdemeanor battery preased misdemeanor batte charges againat khe coach.
On Nov. 19, 1977; ifter an Ohio State fumble wailled a Ohio State fumble killed a drive late in a 14-6 loas to Michigan. Hayem took a arring at an ABC cameraman on the aideline. Hayes was placed on oneyear's prohation by the Big Ten for the incident.

Hayes has frequontiy tormed out of preat conforences, anipping at reporters, whom he recently termed "nogy pipoqueake" What prodrces Woody Hayes' regrettable reactions to losing? It would be aimple to attach it all to Hayes, to say he was aping and losing control. But "ore loser" nctions like But sues and the Gator Bowl Punch also reavit from the increasing pressure on coaches to win in big-time college football.
Win. Win at all costa. Win ning is everything. It is the result that counts, not how you played the game. "I think there is one thing you abould take into conaideration:" aaid Michigan coach Bo Schembechler to reporters after the punch. "And that is the enormity- of presmure in coaching today. With all the pressure you're under. you sometimes do things you wish you wouldn't have done."
Pressure? Pressure to make money. Losses cut revenues.
Sure. Ohio State had a 7-4-1 record this year. Many teams would be happy with that But and they lost their bowl game.

So, in the eyes of collarconncious USU trustees, they were not wrinners, but a bunch of logerg. Despite hia winning record, OSU saw Hayes an an ecomomic liability because of his "dimmal" 7-4-1 mark. Yes, there were reports that Hayes would have been let go, whether he hisd punched anyone or not. Haye wias to ioin the Univerrity of Colorado's Bill Mallory in the ranks of colleriate coachea camned thile winter after winning seabons.

A winning coach record wise (205-61-10), Hayes bowed out like an ordinary more loser. But it is likely the mounting pres sure of big-time football did him in during his final years.
"What happened to Woody Hayee was the logical outcome of a wim-ert-all-conts attituide," asid Univeraity of Nebranka Coasch Tom Osborne after the incident. "College football in incident college football in ing more than winning at all conta."

But as lang as foothall remains the major revenueproducing sport at top universities, the win-at-all-costes at titude will prevail. And college football may end up the biggest lower of all, if more violent actions like the Gator Bowl Pumch restalt.

Fomorrow, writer Geoff Mobson will look at the reaction to the Hayes incident by tion to the Hayes incident by Syracuse University footbal officials, many of whom either played, were recruited by or conched against the legendary and controversial coach).

Salos and Service
- 204 Union Place

SALE ON ALL
UNCLAIMED SETS
Btack & White
Portables \($ 39^{n}\)

\section*{Color Sets}

Portables. Table $95*- 395

\section*{guaranmeed 422-7509 471-3433}

\section*{TEXAS INSTRUMENTS}

\section*{Educational and Profosasional Dlecounta}

 Ti-59 Cand Pryimbi.* 219.05 T-25 Slim Scient PGio0c Printer 149.85 MBA Adv. Financlal \begin{tabular}{ll|l}
Modutes \(58 / 50\) & 20.95 & BUSANII SHm Finan \\
PROGRNR Hexidecimal & 47.95 & BUS-AN Financlal \end{tabular} similar discounta on als ti calculators.
-Two tree pakettes from TI, coupon anclosed. "sto rebate from Ti, coupon enclosed.
PLUS \(15 \%\) DISCOUNT On all HEWLETT-PACKAAD Cakcumatore Checks, mperey ondere, or VSAl WO wisup. dato accepeped. Add \($ 3,001\) unit for atippinoin Pa acid \(6 \%\) tex. Units new in factory bowes with etandard mecessiofies and year werranty.
We lioner the first 14 days of warranty. For orders of Information send to:
UNLIMITED PROGRABMABLE MACMINES
2201 Aldrnare Avernve (215) 387-2244
Droxil Hill, PA 19028

\section*{INTRODUCING}

Career Opportamities for giradurating students
Over 50 companies are coming to town to talk to you about working for them. Here is how your can plan to be there.
If you want to know what companies in the Boston area and across the country have key positions available now in your field. then this is the opportunity you have been waling for.

Over 50 comparies. both local and nationaly based. each with atd nationatly based each with looking to tilinow, are corrirg to melor hotid in Bosson Fetruary 23. 1979 These compantus are 23. 1979. These companies are bosking to find and nire qualified groduaring studemst for positions mengineering, butinest, mankge ment. sales. and electronic data processing
And now you con meet these eompenies youtself. There ate tellers of introduction to write. Tellers of introduetion to write.
You will go ihrough no agency. You will 90 through no agency
And you wht not waste your valuable tume on any job searct tuchnique you have uled -, and found locking -in the pass.
At this meting (ealled a Lemdman College Conifriencolty you will hear companies hove to offer you your field. Then, you can pouth the -companics you are interested in tathing to. You will mett those companits face to-face bolort yo chrice to fewn more shout th company, the posistort. your company. Are peninont. your whating entronment: all the imets that make your deciston aboun the that make your diecisto opening the fight one.

Yow can expect in depth interviews with theses companies they corne stalfed and prepared to trievilew and nc jotiale with youl. In one and nc Jotiate with yout. In one day, you can learn about. and stan day, you can learn about. and stan the batt rolling on move fob opportunties than you would nomatly terd in months of looking normatly thed :
on your owr.

How can we make this offer to you? - The strmple fact ts that compansies Ply us to orgonve these progrant We work to bring compainies and sudenis tike yourreft together in and let you take over it is this method - allowing you to ini whth the companies you are Literested in and have tallied to yourseif - that makes these conferences so successful.
Asifor results. tast-year alone 2789 people found the opening they wanked whthity compeny th wanted through Lendman wanted through Lembinan
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & 61HO \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{SHOULD ATIEND:} \\
\hline & Positions will be ausilable tor \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{indurduods in the fotiowing areas:} \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{interex and retum the ad} \\
\hline & wah your resume). \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{ERIGMIEETHNG} \\
\hline & Demericat Ofndusi \\ \hline & CElectrontic 0 \\
\hline & DMectronical DCivil \\
\hline & DChemical \({ }^{\text {a }}\) Oithet \\
\hline & \(\square\) Qualty Aswuranc \\
\hline & \(\square\) Techinical Sakrs \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{EDSunits} \\
\hline & CMinrheting DPersonn \\
\hline & \(\square\) Accounting 50 \\
\hline & \(\square\) Produrtion Supervision \\
\hline & \(\square\) Finance (MEA preferred) \\ \hline & D Soles \\
\hline &  \\
\hline & \(\square\) Progiemming \\
\hline & \(\square\) Armlysis \\
\hline & DDP Mansgernemt \\
\hline & OBusiness Appitition \\
\hline & \(\square\) Setentilic Applications \\
\hline & C] Systems Englimering. \\ \hline & \(\square\) Other \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Ot arm aiso interested in} \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{\multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l} atrendiats the tyrrial \\ affirmative action conlerence
\end{tabular}}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{\multirow[t]{4}{*}{(same fayl designed to matroduce quatided minointies and iemales to paricipating}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular} growing every year. and now you can be part of it.
There ts one other mongortant point your yhould knork. Thete mentioned above. the companters thal atiend poy the fult cost of this conterence. You need pay oniy conier ente. You need paty only

Why not prove ta yourself how eflective your job hearch can be lalking with over 50 companies you knew have positions to offer Bou Apply foday to attend this Boston Conterence. There is no better way to folty evphaste and compare she many tmportant prositions you strould krown about hny yout farld.
APPLYTOBAYR To be comsidered for your plact in this copy of your resturne along whe thensed with your area of interest
ctreched to the WHO stovio ctweched tex the Whr ATTEND block) 10

Mer. \(\mathbf{k}\) (ems Otime

P.O. Max 748

Febool iromea Fink
When we receive your restume. you wil get a repty in writing comecersing the tirne it searts, and of direction. The time a soarts. and you need to attend.
Or. lor additional information, call Mr. OHtara at \(\{20113797621\)
Monday Inrough Friday. 8.31 AM Monday inroug to 6 sig

\section*{Harry Fig}
by Peter Wallace

Sherman's Quest

by Chuck Wing

\section*{Any new student organization} interested in applying for a student fee allocation should come to the Student Association offiçes to

Wednesday, Jan. 24-Saturday, Jan: 27
10-70\% OFF books, novels, paperbacks, tins, mugs, stationery, gifts, select single cards, posters, calendars. Bibles, music, children's books and lots more.

Don't miss it, cause it won't happen again in 1979.
*Single cards a candles excluded.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{Today}

Paleatiniton tunch will bo peld from noonit p.m. today ap the international Stuctonz Office, 230 Euelid Ave. 1.60
Newannan Choir will rethearae at 8 mingh it 211 Crouse. New nembers welcome
Sochal Work GSO mowns from 6 7:30 tonight at the Sruderic Centerto Ascuas the sporing sgencto.
Al withons for The Fantarticka' Will be hotd fonight and Thursday at the Regent therestre. 820 E. Gen Hillal frote tunch will be held a 11:45 s.m. today in the Hitfet office. Mendricks Chapel.

\section*{TOMORROW}

Hillal mernberahip will meet at 7.30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hitiel oftice, Hendricks Chepel. to discuss reform propossils.

Elology marninar: Or. Gordon Hntmmes from Cornell will spatak on Structure and Mechenism of a Multienzyra Complex Pyruvat Debydrogenase" at 4 p.m, tomorrow in ilt Lyman.
South Cempus . Neighborthood Group will meet from 9:30 - 11:30 A, mi. Tomporfow asthe Skilodge. Sewing derrionstration, baby-sitting and refreshmemts provided.
foformat entiv: SU prafessor Williarn Hall will speak on HAfter Liberalisti, What?* at 8 p,m. tomor row 到 the Nowman Center.

Bleck Commiunications Sociaty urgenall studente plomning to antend Howard Universlty's com munications comfarence to pick up registration forms at the deari's of. Fice. Newtoruse t, or at Cultura Center 104 Walnut Place. BCS Culturat Center 104 Walnut Place Chowa Club meets at 6:30 p.m. monorrow in 330 Sminh. New meility ability

Dele
Defze Nu Alpha. hational ranspontazion fraternity. Will thold a cocktail party from \(7: 30-9: 30\) p.m. tomorrew it the Fatuity Center. Speaker.

Revelation and Future Events is the ropic of this semester's Cam pus Bible Fellowship meetings a

WE PRINT OR COPY RESUMES AND THESES
*Copies While You Welt 31 $0. Sanne St.
474-4222
across fram Syr. Mall

7:30 p.m. Thurnders in therubrary room, Community. House, 7.1 Comstock Ave, sigme Delts Chi, wociony of profesithonal journoliste, will memet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the 1934 Floom. Newtroute UUTV apores produktion erow reeteting will be Meld at 8:30"p.m. tomorrew in Wetson Threstre All Women. in Cad
Wom - in Communiertional. tic., wil meetat 5 p.m. tomorrew in the Newhouste I lournge to plan this semester's programs: New membert welcome.

\section*{NOTICES}

Thie cersions of pre-marwiage intrivuetion will be offered Jan 30 . Feb. \(B\) and Fob. 13 at the Nowmen Center at 7 p.m.
Tutory are needed at" the Academic Support Center in all subjects. Call 423-2005 by Jan 31.
ASc tutore: Come by the ASC office, \(240 A\) HBC to pick up your spring sernestes memo.
Live nowe parody needs production peeple, Cati423-32i3 for Jonn or UUTV:

Handricks Chapel Ctioir has immediate openings for two tenors. Must be avaitable for choir'a cross-country tout May 13 Jund'3: Call Wintion Stephens, 423-290i:-for audition.
Aryone interetertiod in displibving ertwerti in the Notble foom disptay case, should eall Hendicks Chapel. 423-2901, or bring your work to the ceanis pifice in the basement.
Jude Club meets Tuesdays.
Nednesdeys, and Thursors at 7 Wednesdeys, and Thursodays at 7 p.m. in Archbold Gym-CEAl Doug at 472-7172.
Produedion needs composers; film/videomaker:s, mimbators, dancers and mimes, computer graphics and photographers. Call Lynn at 424-9523 as socn as passible.
Ansi-Semidsm: it's Not Miatory.e A. Hillel-retreat will beheld Feb. 23-25. Apply by Jan. 29iet the Anis, office, Handricks Chape?
Stage maragers, photographer and stape erww are needed for SU Musical Stage's production of "Promises. Promises." CallChuck at Promises.
\(423-7652\).

Syracuse Revituw is accepting applicstions for editor-in-chief, fiction editor and sraff positions in art lic. tion. poerty and photomraphy. Apply by Friday at the third floor. 103 College Places, or call 423-1401.

NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE EVERYWHERE are due as The Daity Orange: 1101 E , Adams St; by. noon two days before publicstion: Limit announcembents to 20 words. Name and tolephone number of sernde nouncements are raken -over the phouncernents are tak over phore.

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

NEW HENNALUCENT Hp-3 CORditioning Shmrrpoo and Conotifioner On sate at OFANGE TONSOALAL A S.U.Post Office. 475-928s.

TODAY ONHY WITH THIS AD: SNORKELPARKAS $19.9B. DOWNLOOK COATS $19.98. 14.02
DENHM JEANS &1O. MHALC 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478-3304.

CAR INSUPRANCE: Alt Students CAR INSURANCE: AI Students Qualify. Eve 678 Pyments. Clancy's insurance, 463 Westcott St., near campus.
SALE: SAL_EI SALEI Introductory offor. One wook only. U.S. Army WWII wool and summericanki pants Regular \($ 12.00\) now \($ 10.00\) SECONO HAND ROSE. 713 S. Crouse Ave.

NEW ARRIVALS at SECOND HAND ROSE: WWII U.S. Army wool colts. 713 S. Croume Ave.
SALEI Winter Clearance (up to \(50 \%\) off SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouge Ave. Vintage clathing
1900 -1940's.

Febst \(1 / 2\) kog- 21.95 . \(8401 / 2\) keg E28, Pabat v/heg ki3.25,50/12 az cups 896 at the Party Saurce 446 8281.

King Tompo nickel-plated Cornet. Like now. Normally $310. Asking only \($ 150\). Also Unisonic calculator cellent buys. Rick \(x-266\) ?.
74 Fiat 4-coor Eutomatic trunsmission, mectaruicalty excellem. 90,000 miles, AM/FM radio, rims, & smows. st 150 . Call 637-9664 or 457-0700.
For sale-3 cughion couch and matching chair, Coll \(472-5124\) Keep erying.
1973 Pinto Engirse good, Some rust. Noeds tirest. asking $550. Cill 474 9030 after 5 p.m.

BICYCLES. three spaed. one man's and one women's. 840 . onch. Also offer. 478 -0432

Wondering how to spend that Chrisemas money? Call 479-7973 for the lowest delivered prices on major brand stereo equipment.
SKIERS - EtUE AND ORANGE NOADICA SIZE YV/ EDOTS. MUST BE SEEN. CHEAP. ALSO K2 COMPACT 170 CM SKIS WITH SALOMON 444 BINDINGS. FOR A GREAT DEAA CALL KENT AT X-G592 OR 478 - 9644.

\section*{For rent}

Hoom in Apt very cloes to carnpus. Nice place - people Kizchen big-living room, washer/dryer call 422-1750 Ellen. Ellen.

2 cutic foot refrigermtors for rent. Call Taylor RentalCenter, 478-0957. Lerge Fernocielleat House svail. immed. isncaster Avs. 3450 . per month Plus utilities. Sec. Dep. Call Mr. Flath 422-0709.

Private rooms furnished. share kitchan, beth' and living room. Clean. 472-0154.
Fumished two bodroom opartmant 310 morth includes fest hot water. off strest parking. Call 446 6791.

Singla room for rent. Neal plan axelitable. Acacis. towternity 476 \(9149 x-2120\). Alik for Jim.
Roorm: large, 3 blocks to library. private house, \($ 125\) utilities included. Share kiehen/dinolio, bath. /4., room. 479-524.4. 423-3023-
Westeont area: 3 bedroom \($ 200\) plus Ht. Bob 478.6959. 228 Comstock I bedroom \($ 125\) phus un. Walling distance. Downtown Univ. Energy asver Eob 478-6959:
One bedroorn zupt. neer S.U. and hos. pitals. 8140 . OH streot parting inctuded. 422-8119 foom avaitoble from March ist. Excolh avisioble from March ist. Excelhent location femble Call \(422-0758\) ovenimgs.
Apartments larnistued, walkirng dis tance. Ons mornthe security, no leaste, immediate oceupancy. 6376550.

\section*{Wanted}

Potwasher arnd/or distiwasher to work in fratemity for free board. Job opon tor Spring 79. Contact fraternity of Phi Gemme Delta at 475-9245 or \(3-2828\) 9245 or \(3-2828\).

Low on morsey and recorder that arant wamted?, WE" BUY USED RECORDS. Bring tham in for instant Cash. Top prices paid! DESERT-
SHORE 730 S . Crouse - \(472-3235\) Mon.-Sal 11-6. Crouse - 472-3235

GREAT SUAMMER JOBS. Overnight summer camp on Serneca Lake segks responsible stuctents who enjoy workiryg with kids. Counselors. waterfront, nature, pool, Eailing, arts and erafts, misaic positions available. Call 471-354: evenings for application.
Mazure femele graduate student wanted to share artractive 2 bedroom apertment with same or wor king woman. Near Vincent Apartments. Avaitablo tmmediately Call 472-1150.
Coumselors: Adirondsck Eloys. Camp: \(71 / 2\) wha: \(9500-600\) Swimming. Sailing, Carveling, Camperaft. Archery, Cratt, Tenniw, Driver, Office (typing). Riflery. Softball. Trip Leading. 39 Mill Valley fosd Pittsford, NY 14534.

Kitchen help wanted at Chi Ormeg* For dataits call 475-7736. ask for Meggie' Wanted: Kischen Boy. Free board. 902 Walnut Aven Boy. Frehind Bird Library. 471-7555 or 423-2648 Esk for Bill or Gary.

\section*{Personals}

Everyone interested in a bus to Song Mourtain for the next four weeks ($16). plansa corme to meeting or call Gsiry st 422-4387.
RAMBt- We cant mork it out cen't we? I'll Wait Forever. Love, Kent.
SHERI, Happy 24 . Make vour drwems cotmt You're one hell of \(a\) alster end best friend. Love. Lori.
Sisters of AGD. Youmay thinicyou're cool. We think you sizzte. Hert Stuff. Thanks, from the brothers who are stitl on fire. Zete Pesi.
Dear Nors of Camada. Thanks for the concem last friday nipht, grostly sppreciated it. Love, PIEfful Expression ATTENTION gentlemenllt Mary Ann D. is 21 legal yemrs of goe. Happy Birthdeyl Send romes NOWII
Rush PHI DEETA THETA Monday. Tuesfay, and Thursday 7:00-10:00 For a night of southern sivie fun, don'z miss out on Delta Tau Delta's COUNTRY NIGFT 8:00 tonight, 801

To the giff who doesn't know what she's petting into: The weekerv was beéuliful and so are youl Looking forward to more. Love, the guy who doesn't know either.

\section*{Lost & found}

REWARD: buragndy leather wallet lost Phi Detta Theta ourty Saturday. found contact - Botbi 476-3602

\section*{Services}

LET US DO YOUR TYPING. Ouick Efficient - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too bif - none too small. Call Vieiki Meadows 471-5503.
MENI WOMENI, JOBS. CAUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experibnce. High pay! Soe Europe. Hawaii, Australia. So. America; Winterl Surnmeri Servd 63.85 for Into. so SEANORLD EH, Box 61035 , Sacto.
Ca. 95860 . Ca. 95860.

ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brancls. Wholesale prices. Fully guarantered. Check arourd. then call \(478: 8687\).
Daity Orange Classifiad Ad Inswrtion Procedure: Dadiline, 2 Businest days before the issue you wish the ed to eppear by 2 p.m. Cherges: \($ 1.65 \mathrm{~min}\) charge ( 15 woress or loss) 5 c en word thereafter. 5 c word in capitals.

MAIN FLOOR

\section*{SALE! SALE! SALE!}

Your Cholce coke tab SPRITE

6-pac can:
Reg. 1.60

\section*{CHARGE IT:}

SU: BOOKSTORE CHAREE
REGULAR STOHE HOURS:
MON-FRI 9.00-5:30
SAT: 10:00-5:30
switert A Thio
Stucient Afro American Society Presionts Biac:le Professional Week

TODAY, JAN. 24
DISCUSSION: "PROFESSIONS: WHERE DO WE STANDT*
3:00-6:30 203 Marahall st.

\section*{ALPHA PHI OMEGA}

BOOK EXCHANGE
-Used Books For LessWhy Pay More?

\author{
Located in Watson Conference Room Jan. 19 & 22-26 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.
}

Out there in the Asfintic Depart on a sunthine beach there*e goling to be th outivenk of revelry thll vactiton effect that moonlipht has on calebration. We ean onty hope it wron't be a full moon.
Epeause from Jan. 13 through April 21 wire opening jeqe students. We heve rand to a wave of American cof reqe stucente. We have reason to believe that wave may \($ 269\) including mir fare arnd 7 nightit hotel.
So there if te, young America. We gumantes you the best of durncing on the beach, whiter zports mend moering perty. Beyond thet, you"re invitied to lmprovite. And since your talent for good timing lat iegendery, we've made preparttions for you. Wr're going to be rendy.
with open armi.

NASSAU&PARADISE IGLAND. BAHAMAS COLIEGE WEEK.

Mondiy night at Meniey was not the night for the Krights or for Rutger coach Fom Young (tebove) who spent mukh of the evening raving art the officials and wiving his farmous townel. The night was alsoo one of excitement for the filns, who were treated to a memoratie bandetball exhibition by \(\mathbf{S U}\) '象 Roosenett Bouiv fright. bbout to be regected by dames Balleyl and Rutgers conter Balley whose but thet wast atwo his lept. a somer a dink late in the game. SU oventually wors the tough contest \(71-66\) but camot reat on conteat \(71-66\) but cannot reat on its laurelis tre tonight to mest Tomple.

\section*{Will SU pray at Temple?}

By J.T. Brady
W.C. Fielda once predicted that the inecription on his gravestone would inecription on his Eravestone would Philadelphia."
Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim and his 15-2 Orangernen might not go that far. but they would certainly rather be in Manley Field House than at the Philadelphin Palestra, where SU meets the Temple Owls tonight in a battle for Eastern bagkethall mapremacy.
"The Palestra's beengood to us in the past," Bocheim asid, "But it's alwaysa tough place to play.:
- It ahoula be eaprecially tough tonight, at Temple ( \(15-1\) ) puts its national ranking (15th in UPI, 16th in AP) on the line against the battle-weary Orangemen. With memories of last year's \(91-66\) loss at Manley still haunting them, the Owls will give more than a hoot about tonight's battle.
"They just had a bad same against us last year," Boeheim asid. "But that won't have any bearing on this year. If anything, it will help get them up."

One would think both teams would need little impetus to "get up" for what is probably the bisgest Eastern matchup so far this season, but Boeheim voiced concern that hia Orange may have run out of juice.
"We won't be able to be at an emotional peak." Boehein said. "We put a lot of emotion into the last two games. We wouldn't have won if we didn't. The key factor will be our ability to come back.'
SU must come back against a team that lista Nevada-Lat Verges, Wake Forest, St. John's and Baylor among its victims, all on the road. The Owls feature a balanced attack, paced by feature a balanced attack paced by senior co-captaing fruck fered (14.9 pointe).
"They'veplayed as wellas anyone in the East this year," Boeheim said. "But there are four or five.good teamain the East. Nothing is going to be decided until the end of the year.

Temple Coach Don Casey agneed, but he added that the- Owlay will enjoy a decisive advantage in their Palestra nest in contrast so last year's plucking at Manley.

Hell, any place is better than Manley." Casey abid. "Even Greenland; there's about she same amount of snow there, isn't there?"
Viewers of last Saturday's ECAC Game of the Week between Georgetown and Pennoylvania at the Palestra saw a barrage of debris thrown on the court

\section*{Ernie Davis enters football Hall of Fame}

By Mike Stanton
Ernie Davia, the legendary Syracuse University running back whose name became synonymous with tragedy as with greatness, has been elected to the National Football Foundation's College Foothall Hall of Fame.

Davis was elected to the Hall of Fame, in Kings Mills, Ohio, on the strengths of his 6.6 yards per carry rushing average, his 2,386 collegiate yards in 360 carries, and his contritrution to Syracuse University's 1959 national championship team.

But Davis, the first black and the only SU football player ever to win the Heisman Trophy, is man who will not just be remembered for his brilliant rushing atatistics.

In 1963, at the age of 24, Davia died of leukemia, which prevented him from realizing him lifetime goal - playing professional foothall. He had been drafted in- 1952 by the Cleyeland Browna, who planned to team him with earlier Syracuse etar Jim Brown in the backfield.

During his three varsity seasons at Syracuse (1959-61). Davis ran for 2386 yarda to take over the lead from Brown as SU'salltime leading rusher. Davis* record bias aince been eclipsed by Liarry Csonka and by Floyd Little, who was moved so deeply by Davis' death that he decifed to attend Syracuse.

Davis began his varsity career with the Orangemen by helping the 1969 team win the axtional chmmpionship with a 23 . 14 win over Texas in the 1960 Cotton Bowl, agrame Daviu earned the most valuable player award. In 1961, be won the Heisman Trophy.

Davia joins the Late Jow Alecander and Vic Hammon astio only Syriacuse members of the Hall of Fame.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{ORL, Food Service form one department}

Food Service and the Office of Residential Life merged yesterday to form the Office of Residence and Dining Services, said Carol H. Heagarty, vice president for ingtitational aervices. alames i. Morgan, director of ORL until the change was \(n\) has been choser to head the new department.
Das been chosex to head the new department, (now Residence Services,) will assume many of Morgan's responsibilities. Noother hierachical changes witl be made, Morgsp aaid. He added that no one will be hired or laid off because of the new get-up.
The new department was created to relieve Fieagarty of additional duties she was given when Joseph. A. Tatuiso, vice president for business management, resigned and his position was eliminated:-
Besides her duties of overseeing ORL, Food Service and Drumling, among others, she was recently given responsibility for the Syracuse University Boolcstores. The bookstore had come under Tatusko's jurisdiction. Tatinsko's other duties were divided simping the other vice prestidents.
Heagrarty said she had not planned to institute the change until a later date. However, she said, "the cranch of time came down on me." She said Tatus-ko's resignation had some effection her decision to make the change now.
Clifford 'L. Winters Jr., vice chancellor for administrative operations, said the restructuring was Heagarty's idea. 'I agreed to ithut Il left thetiming up Heagarty's idea. " to her," he added.
Morgan was informed of the change abont. 10 days ago, he said. He has not yet talked with many of the people he will be supervising, and therefore, he has not planned any changes, Morgan said.
Winters said that \(F\). Dennis Koeller, director of Food Service (now Dining Servicea) "will be reportin, to and working with Mr. Morgan." He added, "I don" think this means any real difference in Mr. Koehler's responsibilities. Instead of bringing his day-today problems to Caral Heagarty, he will bring them to Jim Morkan.
It'a basically to give vice president Heagarty a little more time to pay more attention toother parts of her responáibitities. It does mean a hittle more reporting responaibilities for Mr. Morgan," Winters said.
Koehler said he had no information on a changein departmental hierarchy or whether his duties have been diminished. "ORL and Food Service are service organizations for atudents and should work together to make life best for students."

Heagarty described the move as "cutting red tape. There are only so many houra you can spend in every area." She said the restracturing could reault in area. She said thutrestracturing could resul in benefita such as mutual housekeeping services and new programming opportumities, inving/learning programs could include, more.- Siding/earning centers, auch as Shaw Hail, she said. However, the living/learning concept has been criticized since its inception.
Koehler said he felt the university would also benefit financially from the merger. He said benefits could reault from the aharing of services in areas which were separate under the old system. He called it "the best utilization of people."

The trangition period could laigt until this summer, Morgan said. He added that he will analyze the new department and look for feedlback during that time.

Morgan said the change occurred now becaube "it takes a couple years to go ahead and do anything in any organization." He had only been at SU three years and any earlier change would have been dif ficult, Morgan said. He added thrat he had to get used to ORL's operation before any changes could be made.

Heagarty added that raany universities have combined the two departments succeasfully.

\section*{Assistant dean of AErS resigns effective- Feb. 1}

\section*{By Mark Goldstein}

Daniel S. Willet has resigned as assistant dean of the College of Art and-Scrences to become Syracuse University's absociate director' of corporate and foundation programs \begin{tabular}{l} cofporate and \\ effective \(F\) eb. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
In his new position; Willet will help solicit doniations from cor porations for SU.
Willet, who has been assistant dean since 1974 , said he took his new dean since 1974 , said he took his new jobbecause I cancontributemost to high-quality programs at Syracuse And it is time for a change.
And it is time for a change.", Willet was responsible for student academic programs in the college. He was alse director of academic counseling from 1971 to 1974.
His successor should be named today.

Daniel S. Willet

\section*{Budget brings frowns}

By David Bander
Nobody seemed particularly happy with the \(1979-80\) budget presented at yesterday's Univeraity Serate meeting, butin the end most realized there was little they could do about it.

Students were unhappy with the 8.4 percent tuition hiko and &ivoom 8.4 percent tuition hileo and ando0m and lioard increase of 7.5 percent and faculty members were upset With the 7 percent salary increase. But, because of, President Jimmy Carter's wage and price controls, nothing much conld be changed.
The Senate listened to the Committee on Budget and Fiscal Affairs report and did not recommend any changes. The board of trustees will vote on the budget proposals at its Feb. 2 meeting.
"We:all should be profoundly dieturbed with this budget," said A. Dale Tussing, faculty senator on the budget committee. "It does not provide adequately for the faculty."
Morrie Levine, chairman of the Senate Student Coalition, Baid, "We understand the necessity of a tuition increase in light of the consunner price index, but we wonder about the university's lack of concern for those individugals who won't be able to come back to school because of this." Faculty. Senator Joshua N. Goldberg made a motion proposing that 1 percent of the administrative operations allocation be moved to academic affairs. Some senators acad the academaic affaira budget naud the academic affair
"Mhe academic prograin of the university is beginning to decline," Goldberg said. "This budget means a further contraction in scholarly work"

Fearing the conasquences of hasty action, the Senate rejected the motion by a large margin.
"It would be irresponsible of the Senate to undexwrite this action so quicldy when we have a budget committee whose function in to study everything in depth," gaid Mark A. Brown, assistant Arts and Sciences dean.

Continued on pege five

\section*{SU student organizations to throw party to save Jab}

The Save-the-Jab campaign by atudentorganizations will begin in fall swing this Saturday at 9 pro. With a party and open har at Jabberwocky.
Carl Kleidman, Student Association comptroller, Eaid "We want to starttuxning things around for Jab. It has a lot to offer and we don't want to see it closed."
In early Decamber, representatives of WAER-FM, University Union, SA and Jab met with other atudents to discuss possible methods to help Jab in its atruggle to stay open, Kleidman said. He added that the party was one of the suggestions mentioned at the meeting.
Kleidman said SA is sponsoring the event because it has the most money of any of the student organizations invalved.
He also said that future concerts at Jab by noniregional talent will be sponsored by SA UU, WAEMRFM and Jab sored by SA, Un Wttempt to increase atudent tur in an Kleidman said, "If we can't furn the situation around, we will have to pat political pregsure on the adninistration to keep Jab open.
He added that SA will not do this as long as the administration does not threaten to reduce the number of days Jab is open.
Deairee Day, Jab manager, aaid yesterday, "If we break even every month I will be very happy. We had a great week last week and we have a great weel so far."
Kleidman said, "It is important to get more students into Jab for the first time."
A \($ 2\) admisasion will be charged to Syracuge University students with ia valid ID. Each etudent can bring one gueet, who will also be charged \($ 2\).
Jab, located under Kimmel Dining Hall, had a reported \($ 10,000\) loss last semester. The administration has said in recent montha that if the loas is not in recent montha that if the loas is not curtanied, sab might be closed an a
In in An two or three nights a wab's hours were reduced In Angust, Jab's hours were reduced and it is now open from Wednesday to and it is now open from Wedneaday to Saturday. Jab had previously been open every night.

It'll be hoppinger than ever when Z形 brings back the '50 s & '60s with a Rock 'n Roll

Saturday 10:30 'til...

> ZETA BETA TAU FRATERNITY 300 Euclid Ave.
T Shirts \(&\) leather requested

The Hidy Ochiai 'Karate Club will be meeting tonight at 6:00 p.m. New members walcome.

We will be meeting: Mon. 6-7 p.m., Thurs. 6-7 p.m. and Sun. 2:30-3:30 p.m. All meetings will be in the Dance Studio of the Women's Building.

\section*{La Casa Latinoamericana presents}

\section*{OPEN HOUSE III}

Bienvenidos
Everyone Welcome
Friday, Jan 26 203 Marshall St. 423-4099

7 p.m. - ?
your stucent fee at work

\section*{ALPHA PHI OMEGA}

-Used Books For LessWhy Pay More?

\author{
Located in Watson Conference Room Jan. 19 & 22-26 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.
}

\section*{Anniversary/Winter} SALE:

\section*{EVERYTHING 10-70\% OFF}

Wednesday, Jan. 24-Saturday, Jan. 27
\(10-70 \%\) OFF books, novels, paperbacks, tins, mugs. stationery, gifts, select single cards, posters, calendars. Bibles, music. children's books and lots more.

Don't miss it, "cause it won't happen again in 1979.
*Single cards 8 candles excluded.

JEWISH IDENTITY WEEK
Jan. 26 -Feb. 3
Jewish roots - past. pressent a future
JAN. 26. FRIDAY NIGHT:
SHABBAT DIÑER - Hillel Lounge. 5:45 p.m.
CREATVE SERVICE - Noble Room, 7:45 p.m.
JAN. 27. SATURDAY MORNING:
TRADITIONAL SHABBAT MORNING SERVICE Hillel Lounpe, 10:00 a.m. followed by SHABBAT LUNCH - Noble Room. 12:30 p.m. AND WORKSHOP - Prof. Zuess; "Roots: Return to Ritua!" - Noble Roomi, 1:30 p.m.

SATURDAY NIGHT:
MOVIE - "Hester Street" - Gifford Aud., 7:15, 9:00 & 10:45. 67 members, \($ 1.50\) non-member. JAN. 28, SUNDAYMORNING:

GRAD. HILEL LOX & BAGEL BRUNCH - featiring Terry Goodman Hillel Lounge, 11:00 a.m. --
SUNDAY NIGHT:
SPECIAL ISRAELIDANCING with Molly Schafer -7:30

\section*{Environmental controls are good for business}

F "A billion here and a billion there, and prettiy a00n fou're talking about real money." the late Sepator Everett Diricsen once said. Inithe mane way the price tag for envinonweptal protection if adding up; from 1973 to 1982 we will spend \($ 325\) billion.'My own EnYironmental Protection Agency regional office overseres a budget in excess of \(1 / 2\) billion dollars.
There are some people who have justinably wondersed aloud if it is wise to malue such enormons outlays for environmental upgrading and protection. EPA has often been accuged of economic villanies. Accused of creating unemployment. Accused of creating inflation. Arcused of forcing companies to make non-productive economic ounlays. We have often stood indicted of these crimes, but we have yet to be convicted. I feel that valid reasoms exist which explain why our accusers have never made their phain whyes etier.

The accusation most comamoniy heard is that enGuest comment:
Eckardt C. Beck
virommental concerne ran directly against the graun of the best interests of industry

Take the Boeing Company, for instance. It is traly one of the giante of American business. Boeing, you may recall. once lout a bonecrunching battle withenvornmentalists to build apet project- the anpersonic transport jetcraft. But that was seven years aigo. Today, through its manufacture of solid-wasterecycling fixtures and other pollution-control equipment, sales in the company's environmontal and energy division are expected to climb to \($ 100\) million this year, with environmental products directly ac counting for about 30 percent.
This is not an isolated event. More than 600 American companies including some notorious pollutera - are now cashing in on the environmental movernent. In other words, these companies once viewed environmental concerns as a scourge againat profits. Today, the same environmental concerns are being viewed as a rich source of profits.
Which brings me to the accusation that EPA programs create unemployiment. For therecord, since 1971 roughly 22000 jobs have been lost because of factors. Many of these plants, however, were old, poorly managed, and fated to cloge anyway. But 75,000 jobs have been craated nationally in this mewly eatablinhed pollation-control industry. In addition, EPA's multi-billion-dollax program for waste water treatment plant comstruction has already created 95,000 jobs mation wide. And many more will continue to be added as the program expands.
The construction-grants program also creates thousands of secondary jobs thaugh the subcontracting and support services it requires. In-all, the President's Council on Environmental Quality es timates that as many as 700,000 environmentally-related jobs now exist. When one compares 22,000 obe lost againat 700,000 jobs created in a still-growar marliet, the sccusation that environmental rotection elimanatéa jobe mont be dimmissed.

Instead, environmentaliste find themselvea* attacked on another flank. This time, the charge is that tacked on another fanc. This ime, thechargeisthat cording to the leading macrooconomic forecanting Grm Chace Econometrics, EPA regulations add oniy 3 to .4 percent to the annual Consumer Price Index.
Secondly, the Consumer Price Index - like the Groes National Product - faile to take into account any benefits prodnced by EPA regulations. These benefita include improved pnblic herith, reduced property damage, increaged crop yields, improved recreational activities and many other immeasurabie praing. As long as environmental outlays yield benefits at least equal to their coste, the wimple rule of thumb is that they canmpt be regarded as inflationary.

Of publice expenditures, for instance, we might not think of a police department's rape-prevention program as inflationary. Or cancer research. Or the building of a cultural facility auch as Lincoin Center.
Why, then, has environmental protection been singled out for this dubions distinction? This meems especially unfair since - as I have tried to point ont environmental policies in this country are now crea environmental policies in this country are now crand
In conclusion, I would lilce to lesve you with an on conclusion, I would Like to leave you with an observation of America made back in 1835 by De Tocqueville. The quote, of course, repregents a. Frenquevile. The quots, of course, repregents a Fren, chman's view of the New World. Among his mowtly chman's view of the New World. Among his montly lattering ixnpressions of life in this nation, De koc queville swote, "I know of no country, indeed, where affections of men.
How much truth is in this, I don't know. But I do know that the politics of realiam call on us to accept the fact that the profit motive will always be an integral agpect of American life. For environmentalists to succeed, we must capitalize on the fact that economic and environmental goals are not only compatible, but in many cases can feed and grow off of one another.
Eckardi C. Beck is a regional administrator for the Environmental Protection Agency. This article és exeerpted from a apeech with his permisaion.

\section*{Show your support. Save the Jab.}

Remuember what it was like to ro to Jabberwocky may aftermoon during the sweek to git around and casually jut down a fow cold-beers with good friends?

And remember what it was like to go to the Jab on Truesdays for open-mike night to see hoardea of amateur enterof cackling their best to keep the mastree of cackling. beer-btaine

And then remamber what it wan like to go to the Jab almost any night of the week to see a variety of live entertainment?

Brt, most of all, remember what it was like to go to the Jab to see it filled with people having a good time?
If these attractions sompd forrign to you, it's becanae all of them have virtually disappeared. Only the memories remain as thing once-popular cauppus nightepot slipa into obscurity. And ane cannot help but ask, "Why?
A. number of reasons have been offered concerning the clab's downfall. To begin with, the Jab has not received the support it needs from the uni veraity administration. To account for the ciub s financial lobses, the adclub's daytime hours and close it three nightrs a weele (which may be extended to firwe nights a week if the situation do fue nights a week if the situation cut its opperian programing. And yeit cut its 害peral programing. And yeve when the clab also severn yeare mop, when the chab anco cuts were made. One has to ponder, why the andden crackdown?

In adidition, the university administration seema to have singled oat the \($\) ab for itw problems. The Student Center, another university-run eafrimancial.los last incurest beat ite operations seem to have been relatively undafected. One mint wonder why the unafiected. One mant wonder why the administration has chosen to pick on all, shouldn't what's good for one be all, Bhouldn' good for all? The limiting of Jab's advertining to day-of-event ads han also hiort the cinb. How are people expected to attend the cinb's apecial events if they don't know what's going on there?

Fimally, the decline in the club's attendance has alaohurt the Jab. Some might attribute. this to apathy or changing taster. Considering the elimination of hours and programing. why bhould anyone go there if itue club has little or nothing to offer? The lack of advertising has also contributed to the decine in attendance.
As it stands now, Jab faces an uncertain future. If Jab is closed, another alternative mighttime entertainment would lose to the disco beat of places Moud iose to me
This Saturday evening at 9, Stadent Apsociation will sponeror a epecial party to help save the Jab. A \($ 2\) ad mission charge at the door will entitle everyone to an open bar. Recorded thusic will be provided. Proceeds from the avent Support the" Sava the Jab" party and buing all yoar friends. Otherwise. there may soon be noJab to support. and no fond memories to look back upon.

Brent Marchant

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\author{
Thomse Cotfoy Chuck Eadllato Grtge Chattierton Howzed Marsefield Sy Montgorristy Merequi-smhnon Meraha Eppolito Scovin Heynew Breat Miarchent
}
editor in chim ruanaging edizer production manager layout director copy editor ectisertill edtuor editoriml editor asst. newve editior asse. now editor asat. newrw editor esst. new editor

Reetral Finicel
Mantia Ricemardi Moe Statikenka Irwin Fiach Magety Ollvero Beciky Uexent Richard Folker Josh Shicldon George Muse! Larry Patry este. Focul edito esse. Focus edicon sportw editior esst. pporte editor supplerment editor upplement editor art clinsctor photo editor
photo editor businteroto editor buaintes mienager actuertiaing cilinector sert adv. director

\section*{Letters}

\section*{Poverty preferred to apartheid}

To the editor:
Paul W. Ploener's "Argument against divesting in South Africa" needs anome form of reply leat a lot of people, uninformed and misinformed about the gitation im South Africa, be taken in by auch liberal views. The crux of bis argament is that "diventiture wotald mot improve the quality of life of the explaited majority, but would reault in the worsening of their situation both economically and politically." This is an apology for inhumanity.

Ploener seems to taice the term quality of iffe, only in a materialistic respect. I don't lnow how apartheid can ever improve the quality of life of ita victims
The spirit behind the atruggle iv Soweto (which Mr. Ploener terma riot) is not for morejobs but to regain human dignity. Firing againgt exploitation, oppresision and inhumanity pays whether it is on the moon, or in Mozambique, Angola, Guinea Biasau, Algeria, Iran of the U.S. Tho majority of blacks in South Africa will survive if there is an indefinite boycott of South Africa. They would prefer poverty to Blavery on their own soil. poverty to slavery on their own soil. is the hamanity of man that mattecs, not wealth.

Tamure Ojaide

\section*{WANTED}

The Community Internship Program is growing and needs a new staff member: a freshman, sophomore, or first semester junior, with the qualifications to be the CIP Internship Coordiriator of placements in the Arts and Environmental Science. The Arts: and Environmental Science Coondinator is responsible for developing and evaluating placements; placing students in field settings complementary to their ecademic studies, interests, and needs; talking to campus groups about CIP; and working as pain of a team of coordinators. Applicants must be able to work cooperatively with faculty members and protessionals in the field. Pick up an application at 787 Ostrom Avenue (across from Shew), or telephone 423-4261/71 for more information.
S.U. Community Internship Program

HUSTLE DANCE CLASSES

offered every SATURDAY 1-3 P.m.
Starting January 27, 1979
sponsored by the
LATIN HUSTLE DANCE TROUPE 203 Marshall St. 423-4099

FEE: \($ 12.00\) for the semestor SUBSIDIEED BY THE STUDENT FEE

\section*{Spring into Sorority -}

\section*{Chi Omega, Delta Phi Epsilon} Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Epsilon Phí

REGISTER: Thursday and Friday between 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
AT: Slocum, HBC, Newhouse Lobby, or call the Greek Council office x-3690
Registration fee \(\mathbf{1 . 0 0}\)

\section*{By Marilyn Marks}

The itsun of diventiture came op. again Tueaday when the newly formed Committee to Stop Apartheid met to diecuse "more 'dramatic" ways to bring the issue to the attention of Syracuse University:
"Our major goal right now is to get mare people," said Joe Clapper, an organizer of the group, "go we can agitate and persuade the administration to change its views."

After discussing ideas such as demonstrations and ait-ins, the nine people at the meeting agreed their first tank would be to educate the university com manity on diveaziture.
SU owns stock in eight companies with South African intereats, representing an investment of about \($ 6.9\) million, according to William O'Brien, portfolio manager in the treasurer's office.
The university holds stoct only in compenies that subscribe to the Sullivan Prin-

\section*{* Senate}

Spealing about the problem of extended housing, incoming SA president Jordan Dale wondered if the university, by expecting the same number of students next fall, is endorsing a "perpetual problem of severe extended housing."
Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers said next year the mablem won't be as bad but wo would expect a little bit of tightness,"
He explained the necessity of extended housing because of the attrition rate. Without some extended housing in the fall, there would be too many empty rooms in the spring, Eggers said.
ciples, which ask companice doing butiness in Sorth Africs to prees for Eair, employment practicea.
The Sullivan Principles adopted by the \(\mathbf{S U}\) board of trusteea last apring, request a commitment to such goals as no tegregation in all eating. comfort, and work facilities: equal employment practices and an improved quality of em ployees' lives outside of work:

However, members of the committee pointed out that the Sullivan Principles are just symbolic becauge they are illegal in Sonth Africa
"It's as unrealistic as in 1850 asking for social becurity for America's alaves." one student at the meeting said.
We should start with something with a -high visibility, so people can see what is going on in South Af rica" gsid Jennifer Papin CSA organizer and a tanchin asaistant in the Nonviolent Student senator Frank Slazer wondered if the univer aity will do anything to help studenta who won't be able to come back to school because of the tuition increase.

Epgers responded. "If analysis shows additional need as a resultof the incrasse. then arrangements will made." Clifford L. Winiters Jr., vice chancellor for administratiye operations, said "There will probably be more sources for federal funds available for students in the next fiscal year than before. The president's cuts don'taffectnext academic year."

Confict and Change protrann. She suggeoted the sroup hold a symbolic fast in a vimible place, or do other thinge that small groupp can do that are fairly dramatic." The froup aleo discusesed the insicceraibility of the SU maccetribility of the sumbers. It considered having trusteers. It considered having "meveral visible action on campus" during the few weeks before the trustees meet in Apnil.
SU holdastock in eight companies operating in South Africa: Citicorp, Excron. Federal Mogul, General Electric, IBM, Mobil On, A.C. Nielaon, and Norton Simon. The univeraity has sold its stocles in tovo conepanies which have refused to ign the Sullivan Principlea.
```

WE PRINTT OR COPY RESUMES AND THESES

```
"Copices whilo You whale" 13150 . Sally St.
474-4222 across from Syt. Mall

Add Prestige to your Lifestyle Rush tonight

\section*{Zeta 7 Psi \(\mathbf{y}\) raternity}

727 Comstock Ave.
between Shaw and DellPlain

\section*{The \\ Student Afro Americin Sociaty Presents \\ Black Profeissionil VVeelk}

TODAY, JAN. 25
LAW: 3:00-7:00
E.I. White Hall (Law School) Rm. 0021

\section*{Sigma Chi IFraternity}

\section*{RUSH DATES}

Thurs. Jan. 25
Tues. Jan. 30
Thurs. Feb. 1
7-10
737 Comstock Ave.
"more than a degree"

\section*{\(\Rightarrow \quad \Longrightarrow\)}

\section*{Campus Casuals}

\title{
JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE!
}

SAVE 30\% OFF THE REGULAR PRICE ON THEE FOLLOWING SEEECTED ITEMS!

\section*{MENS (2, LADIES}
- SWEATERS
- SHIRTS
- KNIT TOPS
- JEANS

\section*{- CORDUROY SLACKS \\ - CORDUROY SKIRTS}
charbef:
SU BOOKSTORE CMAROE
mastercmarce vesa

Hequan srowe mouns:
wow-rw \(2: 00-6: 30\)
Eat 1000-8:50

Page 8

Harry Fig

ChuckWing
Sherman's Quest
by Peter Wallace

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

TODAY
Hittul meets at 7:30 tonight in the Hiltel office, Handricks Chspel, to dizeutas reform proposalis.

Giology semintar: Or. Gordon Harmmes from Cornell will speak on Structure and Mectranism of a Dehydrogenase" as 4 p.m. today in 117 qyman.
South Campu* Neighborhood Group wilt meet from 9:30-1 1:30 this morning at the skilodge. Sewing demonstration. beby-sitting and retreshmenta provided.

Informal tellk: SU professor Witliatn Hall will spaak on "After Liberalism, What \({ }^{-1}\) at 8 tonight at the Nowman Cemter.
Bimck Communicationt Society urges those plennimg to anend Hownard University's commumardions conference to pick up munications conference to pick up registration forms at the dapris office. Newhouse I, or at the Culturat Center, 104 Wolnut Place. BCS meats at 7:30 tonight at the Culturat Center.

171 mars company

\section*{Surface Offers You a Future GRADUATING ENGINEEERING STUDENTS}

\section*{Who are we?}

Surface Division, Midland-Ross Corporation, Perhaps you will recognize us more quickly by our previous name - Surface Combustion.
Who art wa?
We are one of the nation's leading manufacturers of industrial furnace and heat treating equipment. Who buys our products?
Almost any manufacturer who applies heat to their product during the manufacturing process.
Where ere we going?
Surface is in the forefront of the heat processing industry in developing new technofogy, new products and new markets
Who are we looking for?
We are seeking highly motivated, self-starters interested in hands-on engineering work.
What are we leoking for?
Graduating engineers with bachelor degrees in Civit, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.
Who can il talk to?
Mr. Grant Barnes, our Division Personnel Manager, will be plad to tellyoumore about Surface, our employeas and our career opportunities.
Whare can we mest?
At the University Placement Office on February 2. 1979.
SURFACE DIVISION MIDLAND-ROSS CORPORATION
2375 Doff Street, Toledo. Ohio 43607
MINORTTIES AND FEMALES ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMPLOYER M/F

Chess Club mects at 6:30 tonighit in 336 Smith. New members weleorne.
Obfta Nu Aipha. national cocktail party from \(7: 30-9: 30\) tonigt \(e\) cocktail party from 7:30-9:30 tonight
: The Faculty Convor. $peaker.
\(s\) the topic of this semester's Campus Bible Fellowship meetings: at 7:30 p.m. Thursdaysmin the library room, Community House. 711
Comstock Ave.
Sigma Delta Cht, society of professionsl loumalists, meets as 7 tonight in the 1934 Roorm. Newhouse II.
UUTV aports production Crww merting will be hold ax \(6: 30\) tonight Watson Thearre. Mandesory.
Women in Communicatons, inc.. meats at 5 tonight in the Newhouse 1 lounge to plan this semester's programs. New members welcome.
Teldnt for TV: UUTV neers hosts. MC and general talemt tor weekly shows and speciats. Meet at 7 tonight in Warson Thesire or call 423-2041 or 423-2503.
PRSSA meess at 8:30 tonight in the Newhouse 1 lounge. Now members welcome.
Women \(s\) lacrose meating, wil be held at 7 tonight in 103 Barclay Cottage. New members welcome Cottege. New members welcome. gercmarn: who worked with Albert Einstein in the 1930 s, will describe "Physics and Geometry" at 4:15 p.m. today in Stolkin Auditorium, Physics Euilding. to observe the 100th anniversary of Einstein's birth.

TOMORROW
Amnesty Intermational will meet Bt 8 p.m. tomorrow in 313 Maxwell. Now Yomr"F Eve Once Aggth with the Todid Hobin Band from 9 pm. the Fodd Hobin Eland fom 9 p.m. Tickets on saie st Surtern and Do Hall main desk end at door

The Bombsheftipr has music and wine Fridays frem a:30 p.m,-midnight in the basement of Hendricks Chapel.
Chemistry colloquinm: ör Wirtiem \(R_{n}\) Moomaw from Williams College will speak or "Excited Elec tronic Sxaros of Hydrogen Bonded Heterocycles at \(3: 30\) p.m. somarrow in 303 Bowno.
Sald at \(5: 45\) mom. held at \(5: 45\) p.m. tomorrow in the Sign up wh Hillel lourge.

\section*{NOTICES}

Connmunity Darkrooms Courses and memberships are open. Firs black-and-white course will begin Feb. 5 on Mondays, Wednesuday and Thursdays from 6:30-8:30 p.m. No experience. Course fee. Lirnited onrollment Stop by 316 Waverly Ave.

Tutofe are needed at the Academic Support Center in ati subjects. Call 423-200s by Jan, 31 .
at the ASC office 240A HBC.
Apply by tombrrow to be Syracuse Review editor-inathief. fiction editor or syaff member in brs, fiction. pootry or phatography. Call \(423-1401\) or stop by the third thoor 103 College fiece.

\section*{RUSH} Phi Delta Theta

703 Walnut Ave. Monday-Tuesday-Thursday

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

REDKEN AMINO PON. JELLASHEEN AND ESSTURE Shmmpoo ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPPLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave, next to S.U. Post Office. 475-9289.
TOQAY ONLY WITH THIS AD:
FATIGUE PANTS \($ 10\). PRO KED SNEAKERS & 10 . ASSORTED
TURYENECKS E4.98. TV HALI TURHENECKS EA.98. IVY HALI
728 S. CROUSE AVE., \(478-3304\).

CAR INSURANCE. All. Students Qualify. Low Payments. Days 474 4507 Eve. 676-7622. Clancy's Insursoce, 466 W Wistcont St natar campus.
For Sale - Bolex camera 16 mm EBM Electrie with \(16-100 \mathrm{~mm}\) lens. Call Mike. \(422-0692\).
For sale: 74 Fiat 4 -foor a utomatic transmission. mechanically excellent. 90,000 rfilless. AM/FM radio. rims, and snows. 51150 . Call 637 , 9694 or \(457-070\) 9e64 or \(457-0700\).

Durst M-301 photographic enlarger. Like new. Suited for all negative sizes. Sixty dollart or b/o. Call Rick Irish Setter pups. 6 weoks. with irish setier pups, \($ 65\) each. 682-8030.

1972 Vego Hatchbock: dependable, pood tires. Leaving aras, must set immatiately \(479-7368\) evenings.

WHY WAIT SNOW-MOBILE Auto for sale. Vega in great condition ready and waiting to take you new parts. Call Bob 423-7679

NOW: FANTASTIC deal on size-9 70" fiberplass SKIS, bindinps. beots poies. EEST REASONABLE OFFERI Joel 476-5785 ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed.
then call 478-8667.
1973 Pinto. Englne good. Somerust. Needs vires, asking 8550 . Cull 474 9030 after 5 p.mi.
Extre Christmas money? Call 479 \(7973{ }^{\circ}\) for the lowest DELIVERED prices on major brend stereo equipment.
Pabst \(k_{1}\) keg- \($ 21.95\). Bud \(1 / 2\) keg \($ 26\), Pabst \(1 / \mathrm{keg}\) s 13.25 , \(50 / 42\) ox cups

SALE! SALE: SALE Introductory offor. One weik only. U'S. Army Regular \($ 12.00\) now \($ 10.00\) SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.
NEW ARRIVALS at SECOND HAND ROSE: WWII U.S. Army wool coats. 713 S. Crouse Ave.
SALEI Winter Clearance tup to 50 percent off SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S. Crouse Ave. Vintoge chothing 1900 's-1940's.

\section*{For rent}

Room: large, 3 blocks to library. private house, \($ 125\) utilities included, Share kitchen/dinette, bath. living room. \(479-5246\).

Single room for rent. Meal plan available. Acacis fraternity 475 \(9149 \times 2120\). Asta for Jim.

Furnisthed two bedroom apartment stio month includes heaz, hot . 7791 .
Private rooms furnished, share kit chan, beth and tiving room. Clean, walkigg distance -474 -1303 - or

Room in Apt very close to cempus. Nice place - people Kitchen big - ijving room, wastrer/dryer call 422 1760 Elfen.
Large Remodelled House avail. immed. Lincaster Ave. $450. per month Plus utilities. Sec. Dep. Call
Mr. Aoth 422-0709.

Watt cots. Eren: 3 bedroom
\($ 200\) /plus urit. Bob 478 . 6959228 $200/plus utit. Bob 478-6959. 228 Comstock. 1 -bedroom \($ 125\),plus Univ. Energy savar. Eot 478-6959.

Wusicolt Arem - 2 bedroom burnished 446 igt.
Euclid and Meadowbrook Erea House for rent. 4 bedrooms. \(11 / 2\) beths, dishwasther, washer-dryer firpplace. \(400 /\) mo. On busline 486-8927
"2 cubic foot refrigerstors for zant Call Taylof Rentil Center. 478 -0967

Room and boord ayailable in Walaut Perk sorority. Graat location for Sue or Merg.

SINGLE ROOM at Shertrooke Apts 920 Madison St. Apt 5 Rent 3129.00 furnished including utilities Phone: 422-1750.

Apertrients furnisthed. waiking dis tance. One months security. no lease, immediate occupancy. 637.
6550 . 6550.

2 room swite (for one person) in 5 . bedroam recently refinished Vic torian house. Full USe of fireplace backyard, porch, garape, cen driveway, kitchen, livingroom, din th. Cell 473-4862 Mike.

\section*{Wanted}

Counselors: Adirondacik Boys Camp: 71/2 wks: \($ 450-$ 550\); Swim ming, Sailing. Conoeing, Campcraft Archery, Craft. Tennis. Driver, Office (typingl. riflery, Sottbals. Trip Leadirg. 33-Mill Vallay Road, Plasford, NY 14534.

Potwasher and/ar dishwasher to work in fraternity for free board. Job open for Spring 79. Contact 475-9245 or 3-2828
Low on money and records that Low on money and records that RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash Top prices paidl DESERT. CHORE 730 S. Crousa - \(472-3235\) Mon.-Sat. 1 1-6.
CONTACT Crisis Counseling seeks part time Youth Program Assistent to promote Crisis Prevention Program in area jumior and senior high schools. Requires Bachelors of Arts in Communications or equivalent exparience. exceallent speaking skills and car. Hours flexible. Pease send TEsumbe and fetar to CONTACT. 13224 by January 31 .

If vou have vour own van or a covered 4-wheel dive, we have a part time position availeble, making deliveries in the Syracuse area. Call 471-1101.
Help wanted: part time evenings 5 \(\mathrm{pm}-10 \mathrm{pm}\) Monday-Fridey. Sat. 9 am-9 pm Must have car. Be neax appearing. To arrange a personal interview, call 471-1102 after 6 pm .
DELIOR BAKERY CLERK: Part time. Application now being trken. Super Duper. 2922E. Genesee St. at office. GREAT SUMMER JOAS. Overnight summar camp on Seneca Lake seeks responsible students who enjoy working with kids. Counselors. waterfromt, nature, poot, suiting, arts. atwicrefts, music positions aveliable. Call 471-3541 evenings for ap* plication.
Babysition avaliable in my home (Slocum Heighus) any time. Rellable loving care. Please call 446-6638
Ask for Sheila.
BOARDERS: Good food and Friendly people await you at Hefts Co-op. weekiy, Call Kathy or Elly et \(\times-2197\) or 478-9175.

Waitress or Waiter wamted on carnpus in exchange for meals: Clean worki Calt Don at 478-9554
Wanted: Kitchen Boy. Free board. 907 Walnuk Avenua- behind Bird Library. 471-7555 or 423-2648 agk for Bill or Gary.
PHOTO MODELS wanted. sparetime posing near school. Experience not necessary. Recent photo in confidence, returnabie, to: TEMPCO Eax fidence, returnabie, to: TEMPCO
S$4. Sehendetact: NY 12301

Kitchen help wanted at Chi Orrege For derails call 475-7736. Ask for Magoie

\section*{Personals}

JoAnn- You haven*z forgotten me. And vice versa. You will tire of his child. Be mine.

OUERIDA SPEEDSTEA - Though the newness may heve dwimdled. the love is better and stronger than to be Mrs. Fly. do you?
J.B. Sacred are the ties that love entrusts to us. Even if they fray before they bind. And I'm afraid I never did you justice, so 1 'm going to feel my love a linte stronger, make it lase a lit tie loneer next time. When will the next tirme be? LW.
Come meet Dog, Mingo, Surndence. Ho. ArtMajor, SomeDoms. Diseo E Woltpack, Bis Georve, Littie Georgt, Thadeus. ard oifers. Whare? The SAMMY HOUSE: eorner of Ostrom Fraternity.

Time is running out. Only five mights eft for "wil RuSth. 732 Comstock. Al the beer you can atrink, 7-10.
PARTY: Skybarn, tomorrow Jan. 26. 52 cover. Beer 9-1 Buses will be run antill 1:30 from Sims. Buy your ticketa now at Day mein desk or at Skyshopl
J.B. I can still recell when we said that our love was forever, sall the plans we made for the future tha looked so bripht. And inderstand ati ine reasons you eave me for ieaving ing alone each night. L.W.
You mav be pleasentify amazed by our fraternity. Geir sorrie pressige, rush ZETA PSI fraternity. TONIGHI Thurs. Jan. 29 to Feb. E. 727 Comstóck Ave.
Fush PHI DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesciay, and Thursday 7:00-10:00

\section*{Lost & found}

Lost: young gray male cat, near Madison arnd Walmut. Thick fur and green eves. 474-1474.
REWARD: burgandy leather wallet losi Phi Delta Theta party saturday. If found contact-Bobbi 476-3502

\section*{Services}

LET USDOYOUR TYPING. quick-Etficient - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big-none too small. Call Vicki Mepdows 477-5503.

Make your SKIS like brard new Professional Hot Waxing by Elfee Wexing Company. Call 423 -0916 or bring skis to 908 Lawrinson. Evenings.
House cleaning. reliabte. responsible, with references. University area only. Call iee 47z-8089 evenings.
Girls: We can cut in Orampe Tonsoriat s Supply. 727 S. Crouse Ave No eppointment necessary.

\section*{Wanma be a part of} something special
Rush Tau Eprsilon Phi
TONIGHT FROM 8-11 P.M.
907 Withut Ave. (thelingl Birct)

\section*{IT'S A BOTTLE !!! ... a green bollle.}

\section*{310 WALNUT}
annovnces ifs nemed astival:

\section*{MOLSON GOLDEN ALE} at the Student Center

\section*{Special introductory offer this week only} 75* a bottle
Only at:
the Studiant, Center. 310 Walnut P1.
Food servica coupons, Mastercharge and Visa glady accoptod.

Extra Color Prints or Slides...
(NO NEGAIVE NEEDED)

\section*{Pay for 3... Get 1 Free!}

If you've ever wanted slides of your favorite instant prints or conven-tonal color prints, now the time to get them. No need for negatives. Just bring in your tavorite prints with this coupon, and for every tifees you order from your same-size instant o conventional color prints yodak will make you a fourth copy free
Bring this coupon in today tor full detalls.
hurry this ofter ends
March 1

\section*{Cohen}

By Mike Btanton
PHILADELPHIA - After acoring four of hi* germehigh 24 points in a dramatic oveftime to boost Syracuse over Temple \(78-76\) last night Hal Cohen joked that he inn't a starter becawse \({ }^{4}\) Coach is Eaving me for the NCAA's."
But in the oppressive heat of the 51-year-old, crambling Paleatra, before 6, 319 howling fane, it was Cohen who baved the Orangemen (16-2) with two free throws in the final five seconds of overtime and 10 -for. 16 shooting from the field.
It was a game in which a lond clap of thunder that shook the Paleatra in the Eirst half was nothing compared to the din of the crowd as it watched the Owlo open up a \(48-39\) lead less than two minutes into the second half. Temple, now 14-2, led by eix at the half, 43-37, behind the combined 21 -point effort of guards Ricky Fleed and Keith Parham.
But bharpshooters Headd and Cohen countered by bombing away from the outride for 20 first-half pointe, on 9 -for- 14 shooting, that kept Syracuge were succesafully collapaing on Louis Orr and Roosevelt Bouie. who together could score only seven firat-half pointis.
In the second half, SU's outside shooting boosted the ghow inside. Orr who played with a stomach virus and diar. zhea, Bickened Temple by ecoring eight-straight points that ing eight-straight points that led a two-minute, \(10-2\) led a two-minute, \(10-2\)
Syracuse surge that brought 15:32 left in the reguletion.
Reed, Parham and Walt Montford then scored consecutive baskets to build a seven-point cushion before the Orangemen charged back once more behind Cohen and Orr. who tossed in 12 points during the next \(71 / 2\), minutes as Syracuse ontscored the Owls Syrac \(17-8\).

During that crushing Orange tear, Cohen's 22-footer from the right corner gave SU its first lead of the came, 64-62, with \(7: 45\) left in regulation. hie two teams of one another down the stretch as there were four ties and three lead changes.

SU'g gecond-half comeback was keyed defensively as Cohen and Headd played further avesy from Reed and Parhaxis, making it morre difficult for thern to penetrnte the lane and forcing them to tale the oufaide ahot.

Forced outbide, Temple's guaxds loet the patience for Which they have become renowned and forced their outside shots unsuccessfully. Syramuse, on the other hand, displayed patience and composure in the wild safroundings, despite the momentum Cohen feels Temple carried into overtime.
"They had the momentum going into the overtime because they tied us," Cohen gaid. "I was just thinking that I strould have made that foul ahot (with \(2: 47\) remaining and SU leading \(70-68\) on Bouie's layup offa Shackleford ahot)." After Syracuse took its final lead in regulation and Montford tied the score at 70 with 50 ecconds on the clocis. the game was forced into overtime when the final buzzer beat Shackleford's tap in of an offtrarget Headd jumper from he left corner.
The Orangemen outscored Pemple \(8-6\) in the fiveminute overtime period and never trailed. Both teams played batiently and with a zone defense that kept things footejumper with 3:05 remaining. Bouie's layup and two Headd free throws preceeded Cohen's final pair of free throwa which gave Syracuse a \(78-74\) lead before Ron Wister scored a meaningless layup at the buzzer.
For the Orangemen, it was their loth straight victory in the Palestra, \(n\) hostile basketGield pit that makes Maniey Freld House look like a quiet hospital zone. But, as Botie haid in the cramped locker with a lot of class here put With a lot of class here, but there is no place like home."

SYRACUSE (78)
Schackleford 6-130-012, Bouies130112 , Orr \(6-132-314\), Cohen \(10-\) \(0-00\), Schayes \(0-2000\), Cubit 0-00 0 o. Harmon \(0-0\) 0-0 0 . "TOTALS 34-68 10-13 78.
TPMPIE (76)
Reed 8-14 \(1-217\). Harrold 3-9 22 8. Parham 8-11 1-2 17, Montford 6-12 4-4 16, McCullough 3-5 2-2 8 .
Robinson \(2-7004\), Wizter \(2-5226\). TOTALS \(32-63\) 12-1476.
over Temple in overtime

 IIght in the Palertre be he keybet the Orenpes to a 78.76 win over Termple. Cohven teored 24 polnte-including the clinching tred throwe to dowin the Owht.

\section*{Syracuse officials still respect Woody Hayes}

The Woody Hy Hes Feorr Eridentduring
The Woody Hayes Incident during the Gator Bowl has left a Etamp on America's aports conscience. The film of Hayes hitting a Clemmon player in Ohio State's 17-15 loss has become the most watched videotepe aince Carlton Fisk'e home run in the '76 crid Series.
But in Woody Hayem the crazed villain in this story or the tragic character done in by eociety's flawn?

Those at Syracuse Univeraity who coached and played againit Fiayes, or were recruited by him, do not condemn him. Thoy feel the ex-Buckeye coach wan a victim of the pressures applied by big-time college football.
"I wann't exrprised at what happened," asid SU astimtant foothall coach Dave Zuccarelli, who playod under a Fiayes protege, Bo Schembechler, at the University of Michigen in the early 70s.
"I guess you could see it coming," Zuccarelli added "The older you get, the tougherit is to heep up with the prestaxe of winning."
"He was under intense preasure to wrin," said another SU assiatiant, Demaic, Fititigerald. Fitzerald played at OSUPa Big Ten rival, Michigan, in the late 50 a and conched there in the 60 m.

pronighment for momeone who has done so much good far solong, "Fitegerald added. "Heis a fair and jost man and I Etill respect his coaching ability and etance on values."
Andy Gisainger, Syracuse's sophomore center from Parma, Ohio, who was recruited for a time by Ohio State, has apent his entire life playing football in Hayes football kingdom of Ohio.
the overall consensms in Ohio is that he should have retired a few years ago," Cisginger maid. "Peopla thought the prearare was getting to him and he was becoming eanile and egotistic. But he wanted to so ont on top.

Perhapa the most antoniahing arpect of Hayes* career, besides hid win-loas record, is the number of stwnts he ezeruted (hitting fais. reporters, photogxaphers, oven his own players) while hanging around for three decadea.
"Ohio is a lot different than New York," Gisaningex said. Hverybody backs foothall there, and as long aige won he was on a pedestal no matter what he did."
"Anytime you win, people pat up with anything." Zuccarelli said.

Perhaps more famons than his 205 wina and barrels of Big 'Fen titles axe'Hayes' zun-ine with the media. But Fitzererald believes the aubject is a twoway atreet.
Thuere are times and places when a team mugt have privacy, and Woody guancied that right jealousiy, Fitegerald aaid. "I think mome roporters took that as a challenge, and they ahould do some self-analysis. Bit when a oportawriter was in wood-analysig. But when a eporitawriter was in Woody':
\({ }^{4}\) He juat couldn't stand anyone who interfered with football," Giatinger said. "Anyone who did was wrong.
Between the temper tantrums and crushed Fixutdown markers, people still praise the ex-coach.
"He worked his kids to death," Zrocaralli said. Wut he bhowed hi appreciation and would do anything for his kids. Fie would help them if there was tragedy in their family.
"If you talk to his former players, I don't chink one Fould aay anything disreapectinal about him," Fitzgerald said. "He js just lilie everyone else - he has strengths and weaknesaess,
"I've read stuff in the Cleveland papers about him," Gisainger said. "Like how he visits hoepitals. I read one time he beard a portenviter be barely knew was dying and he helped his family,"

Woody Hayes is a complex persom and there will never be a clear portrayal of the man. But from the reactions of people who earme in contact with him. one thing is clear. Woody Hayed is an American tragedy. Ite was a great but overzealoud talent who was destroyed by the American pressure:colier of wports. While he what deteriorating, he wras tolerrated because he filled the American demiend of winning. And that in our tratredy jast an mueh an it is Woody Raye.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Waterlogged}

SU students are starting the now semester with a splash. eresult of the rather unusual weather besieging Central New York this wook.

\section*{Water surge floods Skytop \\ A surge of pregsure in a South Campus water line} caused flooding in at least 10 apartments in the Winding Ridge and Chinook areas Wednesday night.
Fohn Sala, physical plant auperintendent, said the increased water pressure resulted when the Niagara Mohawk Gorp. "threw the power back on" after repairing a problem on some local electrical highlines. The sudden surge of power then "blew some release valven on hot water heatera" allowing water to flood the apartments, Sala explained.
Although damage was reported to be minimal, Mike Hull, 520 Winding Ridge Rd, Eaid he calculated more than 200 gallons of water saturated his apartment.
Thomas J. Goonan, housekeeping supervisor, said he reaponded to the emergency by bending two men to the affected apartments that night to assess the extent of the flooding. He said he expected all apartments to be sufficiently cleaned by 5:30 p.m. yesterday.
Pam Werby, 433 Winding Ridge Rd, said she wais studying when, at about 9 p.m.; "water started apreading throughout the carpet:" Her roommate, Berbara Mass, gdded, "The whole apartment was about antle deep in water."
Hull amid hewas watching the Syracuse Univeraity basketball game on television when he "noticed water crawling scross the floor." Within minutes. "the whole place was flooded with about an inch of water," he clairned.
However, Hull said he considered himself fortunate
Continuad on pagt tweh

\section*{at War Memorial} pay for added security officers. Lagislature Chairpay for added security officers. Legislature Chair-man-Michael J. Bragman recomraended adding security officers in a H. Mulroy yesterday.
H. Mulroy yesterday. be advised law enforcement officials will be requested to cancel a performance and/or clear the arena" without the county assuming financial liability should the director decide that security measures were ineffective.
If the bill"s proponents "think they can stop a concert attended by 10,000 people, rd like to Bee them do it," Napier sad.
- Mulroy agreed that enforcement of the regulation would be "impossible." "The people who are promulgating this are totally uninformed," he said. Iromulgating this are totally uninformed, he said. According to Mulroy, the numbers of arrests and damage at the actions proposed.

\section*{Financial aid forms}

The deadline for applying for financial aid is Wedneaday, Jan. 31. Students who wish to apply for financial aid must completer a Financial Aid Form, and mail it to College Scholership Service, Princeton, N.J. by this date. The forms are available at the Financial Aid Office in the basement of the Women's Building.
Stadente may also apply for the Basic Etucente may also apply for the Basic form.

\section*{not social issues} paralleled with the undergronnd yointh of the " 60 es The two were viewed as anti-mocial entities and hated by the establishment for their failure to conform.
Lile "Boanie and Clyde," many of Penn"s firmas are set in the part. *We can see aomething in the patit we didn't oxiginally when we view it with the present in mind," hes said. Penn alan finds it easier to expreme at titudes.and feelinge of our tinne through the events of another era.
When malcing movies, Penn encourages his entire crew to become involved in the creative procesas. He often takes suggestions from, his photographore, editors and actors. He believes they are craftamen and have the capability of being artists.
Penn especially enjoys worging with Marlon Brando, with whom he has made "The Chase" and "The Misgouri Brealics."
"Brando in an inventive, gifted actor who is much maligned." Pemn said.
Other actors with whom Penn has worked include Warren Beatty ("Mickey One," "Bonnie and Clyde") and Jacl Nicholson ("The Missouri Brealcs").
In comaparing the actors" different personalities, Pemn avid, "Warren likes a lot of direction. He wanta tomn maid, whiren behind the camera. Brando wants you to Lo see me behind tho carmera. Erando wants you to have fun with him. Nicholson is in between- When hof etmaight he whate to be toned he vante to have fun.

Pricto by Gien Stubly
Arthur Penn, one af Ameries's most distingatihad ettitudes throwgh the eventi of mother decade.

1 - PRYAEF PLOICI COURSE in cluding imptant rision NO unporrionce reguited - To moplimit. 2 Certicela coman- 10 mvenings. 2 inginne cartificion eourvo-using (cowrer qugty by fan certitied

For Doteine 5877 7833
INTERESTED
INFGYING??
GROUNO SCHOOLS SFARTTME SOON STIARNME SOON SCHONG ECHORL -

The Onondagan is on wale at Holden Observatory, weekdays \(9-5\). for \($ 15.00\) oir a s8.00 deposit with belance dise May 1.1979.
Underciaksman, watch for your sitting times for yadrbook portraits. soon.

Theta Chi Fraternity

> 127 COLLEGE PL., ACROSS FROM SIMS FREE BEER - 25* MIXED DRINKS

\section*{On the outside}

Cormplled by \section*{John Rosenbery} Editor"s note: Starting today On the Outside will run every Friday and feature important workd, national, end- local eventis.

Presidential plans In Warhington, Preaident Jimmy Carter delivered his budget and State of the Union messages to Congreas thil week. Carter called on Congress to help build "a new foundation" for the future by controlling inflation, atrengthening peace through a with the Soviet Union and streasing efficient, trustwor. thys government.
The budget, labeled "lean and auatere" by the ad. ministration, conkairs no new domestic sact on back on many exishing ones. It anbstantial increpses in military and foreign aid in military and foreign aid spending. It was received with little enthusiasm by the Congresenthugiasm by the Congressional leadership and is ex. pected to undergo close ecrutiny before earning Congressional approval.

\section*{In Iran}

Exiled Iranian Moslem leader Ayatullah Ruhollah Khomeini, who has pledged to establish an Islamic republic to replace the monarchy in Iran, delayed his return from Iran, delayed his return from Paris until at least Sunday. He Paris until at least Sunday. He had olanned to arrive in Iran had planned to arrive inIran today. However, Prime Minigter Shahpur Bakhtiar. appointed by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi promised to allow free elecpromised to allow free elec- gailon tions if Khomeini would delay year.

\section*{Copies and Rapid Duplicating \\ Copies and Rapid Duplicating \\ -Cleanest copies in town \\ Fast \\ -Reductions \\ -Large documents \\ -Volume discounts and -Competitive prices \\ Sat \(10 \mathrm{am}-4 \mathrm{pm}\)}

Tonight, Jan. 26
Airport

Saturday, Jam. 27

\section*{Student Associátion Presems} open bar all nighr starts 9 p.m.
his return three weels. Ine shah is currently visiting Morocco as part of an extended racation Egyptian sources reported the shah acceppted an invitation from Etraptian tare up take up redidence in Cairo after hil Morocean visit.

\section*{Football}

Championship
In Miami, quarterback Terry Bradshaw's record-breaking performance led ine Pittsburgh Steelers to a 35-81 rimaph over the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl XIII. Bradshaw passed for four couchdowns and a careerhigh 318 yards, both Super Eowl records. The Steelers became he Erirt team to win the Super Bowl three-times.

\section*{Also ...}

The Supreme Court agreed to hear a case involving the federal governiment's authority to ban the use of Laetrile. Laetrile is a conroversial substance which its cancer cancer \(\because\). The Shate Uniwer gity of New Yorkis fgating a oo Hugh L. Carey would like to Gee enacted ... Former Treasury Secretary John Connally announced his candidacy for the 1980 Republican Presideatial nomination.

Gavernment statistics released this week show the average American will consume 22.4 gallons of beer, 1.85 os of wine, and two

\section*{Money may talk, but what does it say?}

Ernie Davis. Just the mention of his name evokes a kaleidoscope of memories: Memories of athleticex-cellence, of quiet graciousiness, and of the pain of an early death.

Davis was the first black to win the Heisman Trophy and the only Syracuse University footbal ing his marvelous collegiate career, he amashed 10 of Jim Brown's he smashed 10 of wim Browna force in - securing Syracuse's national football recognition.
The College Football Hall of Fame in Kings Mills, Ohio recognized Davis' feats this past week as they named him a member of the Hall of Fame on Tuesday.

What has Syracuse University, the place to which Davis gave the last and best years of his life, done to honor the man who stimulated national sentiment in his courageous battle against leukemia? All it has managed to do in the 15 years since his death is hang an oil painting over his fabled-1962 Heisman Trophy in the lobby of Manley Field House.
The university now has the opportunity to honor Davis, by naming SU's new domed stadium "Ernie Davis Stadium."
But Syracuse University, this bureaucracy we call home, has laid down a sickening edict. The new stadium will be named after the person who forks over a couple of million dollars for construction of million dolla in thie bank accounts, Ernie Davis didn't contribute a dime to SU compared to the Archbolds and the Newhouses. But try and tell that to his college coach, Ben Schwartzwalder, who still must fight. back emotion when he remembers that "Ernie Davis was an exceptional human being. It was as if he had a halo around his head.'

Try and tell that to the fathers who remember Davis in his prime and ask them why they drag their children over to his portrait in Manley and tell his story, as father and son stare in awe at his commanding presence.

Try and tell that to the man who drafted him out of college, Cleveland Brown owner Art Modell, who remernbers the last time he saw him. "I remember thinking he was absolutely the most courageous human being I had ever met."

Ernie Davis transcended the regular athletic hero image. He was a special human being who was admired and reapected by everybody who knew him.

He didn't give Syracuse University endowments, buildings or a bulging bank account. He gave this place style, dignity, grace and most of all - class.

Those things don't look like much on a bankroll - but they look pretty good on the front of a stadium.

Geoff Hobson for
The Daily Orange

Although he wiss one of tha greatest college football players of all time, The human qualities of Emie Davis will linger longer than his success on the fiold.

\section*{The coming of age of age}

The acing of populations is a 20thcentury phenomenon.
Between the years 1970 and 2000 , it is anticipated thiat persons of all ages will increase by 75 percent while those 60 and over will increase by 91 percent. and the very old, that is those 80 and over, by nearly 119 percent.
This triumph of increased human longevity is intimately related to improved technologies in agriculture and environmental protection, in public health and in medical care. However, it and values. Une may ask: survival for what? What is the purpose of old acrein societies which are essentially youth oriented? Are the traditional virtues and values associated with old age obsolete?

\section*{Guest comment: \\ Walter-Beattie}

As more persons survive longer, the pláce of work in the life gpan is decreasing, as are other traditional functions, such as child rearing for women. In fact, in the United States through the mid- to late 18 th century, men survived women due to high maternal mortality rates. In the modern world women survive men by about 6 to 8 years, especially in the developed world. Indeed, women can anticipate spending approximately 40 years of life beyond the more traditional child-care and parenting roles. In old age, women are more likely to live alone or with adult children due to having outlived their spouses, to be economically the poorest segment of the population regardless of age, and to be overrepresented in care institutions. Despite increased longevity, labor force participation is declining rapidly for persons over age 55, especially for men. More individuals are going on Social Security before age 65 with Social Security before age 65 with reduced benefits, than at age 65 with fuil fenefits. Wornen, however, have in recent years increased their participation in the labor force at alr ages up to age 55, after which it is somewhat childbearing ages are employed outside the home.
These trends, increased longevity into_the 7th and 8th decades of life as an expectation for most in the society, earlier ages of withdrawal from the labir force, and increased paroutside the home, all have implications for the future
For individuals, they raise the question of lifetime planning and the reallocation of tima between work, family, community roles and unstructured time- open time- sometimes euphemistically called leisure time.
One of the central issues confronting older persons is the lack of socially approved roles and identities which both they and others can value. We find in the classical literature of many cultures a view of older persons as wise

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ oditor in chios}

Thomes Colfey
Thomes GradieChuck Eladitho Gregg Chattertion
Pati Schuldenifel Hownard Manstiold Sy Moritponsery Jacgut Salmon Marahe Eppolito Keivin Haynes Scott Prohrtir Brent Manchant
maluging editor Inyout dinactor eppy editor ecitorial editer ectitorial ectitor neway editor aset new editor aste newre edizer eset never: ealtor Focus nadito
Forer

\section*{Rachal Finkel} Joel Stemardio MEke Stinton Irwin Fimeh Magaly Olivero Becky Leran Richerd Folkers Jowh Sholdon Goorge Mutal Lerry Pietry Mmilite Katernen

\section*{entet. Focus editor \\ mest. Focus editor} epprtse editor asst- aporte oditor upplement editor supplennent editor art diractor photo editor photo editior bueineaz maneper edvertising director as=et- edv. dirmetion 2374

and venerable. In today"s world of rapid technological change, knowledge explosions, and increasing social change, it is difficult to ba a wise and venerable figure in old age if you don't have a continuing right to contribute and participate in pocial life and to have access to new knowledge and information.
Throughout the world, it is my belief, older persons are increasingly viewed as socially obsolete because they have become informationally obsolete. In the past, when societies changed little from gencration to generation, older persons were the storers and retrievert of knowledge and information. An adage, I believe from Ghama, states When an old man dies, a library is des: troyed.
Modern societies with formal educational systems have identified the purpose of such education as that of socializing the young to the valuas and identities of the society, and prepering the young for occupations and vocations. With the aging of popalation. With the aging of popnat of apid informational the conterct of rappid informational and cocial change, there is need for continuput life-span - edncation.
Knowlecige is power. In etable, slow-changing societies, elders were seen as powerful. Today they are vulnerable, without access to new and emerging information and knowledge.
Policymarers, community leaders and the professions have not demonstrated, for the most part, an awareness of theimplications of the aging of their populationa and the need for institutional responses to this change. Minch as education must be rethought in regard to its place over the life span, economic institutions must reconsidex the place of work and the right to work, as well as the right to retire, within the broad context of labor force participation.
Other institutional changes are required in the organization and delivery of modical, health and nocial services, as well as in the aress of housing and environmental needs of older persions.

There is acarcely an area of social life which is not affected by the afing of life which is not afrected by the aging of popilations and which does not need to be addreseed.

Professor Walter M. Beattie Jr. is dinector of the SU Gerontology Certer. FIe will speak on the above subject Tuesday at \(1: 30 \mathrm{pm}\). in the Maswell Foussiers Roont as part of the Homors Foundert Roo

\section*{Brockuady Cinemer presents}

Fime furmury seansor tweotins witherm youn cimeck lre for a milititt ant The mitcr

Jan. 26, 27 6,8,10,12
\($ 1.25\) w/S.U. ID under Brockway Dining Hall Brewster/Boland

\section*{PLUS: Bugs Bunny cartoon}

\section*{IF YOU LIKE US ON THE OUTSIDE, YOU'LL LOVE US ON THE INSIDE.}

PSI UPSLLON FRATERNITY 101 College Place.

You've seen our house on your way back from class. Maybe you've considered what it would be like to be a Greek: what it would be like to feel part of a brotherhood-something thaz will stick with you long after graduation. We all considered it: We made an excellent decision - PSI UPSILON - 103 years on the hill.

It's time you stopped looking at us. Insteach, learn about us.

\section*{RUSH:}

Jan. 27, 29, 30, & Feb. 1

\section*{Budget restrictions stall ID card plans}

By Pani Franco Plans for an all-purpose ID caud for Syracuase University students sarestalled bacause of budget restrictions.
However, the ID officeis still making plans to replace the current ID card with a more durable and better-looling card, which could eventually become the new card.
Anthony Esposito, manager and information systems consultant for Dining Service, said money to implement the new ID card system has taken secondary importance to construction of the new stadium.
Everyone's eyen have turned toward the stadium," he said, "and opending money has become questionable."
Under the new Bystem, students would be isaued one card when they entered SU. The card would take the place of the ID, athetic activity, bookstore charge and library cards.
The ID office wants to replace the present cards because they give poor picture production and don't last long enough. Also, the equipment

\section*{Theiner appointed English chairperson}

By Andrea Abrahams Paul F. Theiner, director of graduate atudies in the Syracuse University English department, has been appointed chairpersion of that pointed chairperson of that Theiner will replace Arthur
W. Hoffiman who is resigning as chairperson for personal as chairperaon for personal reasons. Hoarman would hike to do more teaching at finish writing a book.
"I see Professor Theiner as used for making the 1 Ds is deteriorating.
Esperaito said reserach into implementing the syetem has implementing the syratem has which would cost about \($ 55,000\) has been sessembled. However, Dining Service which has been putting the proposal to een puting the proposal together, has not If upon it.
If the new all-purpose card is ingtituted, the aravings could be between \($ 25,000\) and \($ 50,000\), Esponito claimed.
He taid 200 meal cards, costing \($ 5\) cach, are usually lost each semester. Exic Stedelman, ID office manager, aaid 1.000 1D carda which also cost \($ 5\) each, were lost last year.
Stedelman said the new proposal, which he was 95 percent sure would be approved by the vaiversity apministration in two or three weeks, would be implernented either during summer orientation or next fall.
"All we would have to do is emboss or print the bookstore charge card number on the card." he said very well-suited to meet the challenge of the new undergraduate structure, Hoffrman said. He added that Theiner's 'experience as direc tor of gradunte etudies will ag tor of the continued strength of our graduate program."
Theiner, 41, who joined the faculty in 1969, said mome im poxtant problems facing the Englieh department include increasing the number of full time faculty while decreating the number of part-time instructors.
"We are hoping to reduce the number of part time people in the department gradually, Theiner said. He added that this does not necessarily mean these instructors will be laid off: "A number of part-time instructors in any year will choose to resign," Theiner said, and they would probably not be replaced. The depariment is working on- a program to "attract at least a gmall number of teaching as Bistants from graduate atudents and programs other than English" to make up for the loss of part-time instruc tors.

Theiner said other areas or concern are implementing the Standard Plan and the need to continue improving the levels of undergraduate and graduate education.

No. thase people aran't watehing television-they're air traffic controllers trying to discover the whereabouts of two missing airliners in Steve Spielberg's film masterpiace: "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

\section*{Viewer enicounters upbeat film}

FILM ON CAMPUS: "Close Encounters of the Third Find tonight at \(7,9: 30\) p.m. and mid. night, and Sunday at 6, 8:30 and 11 p.m., Univereity Union Cinemias.

\section*{By Steven Titch}
"Close Encounters of the Third Kind" overwhelms the emotions. Throughout this film about extra-terrestrials visiting earth, the tone is upbeat and optimistic, anticipating the meeting of two worlds.
, Director Steven Sipielberg is doing the sarae thing here as he did in "Jaws" in 1974 conveying a feeling to the audience. While in "Jaws". that feeling was fear,in "Close Encounters" that feeling is exciternent and the eagerness to discover something new.
\%Children play an important role in the film. Early in the movie, in the home of 5-yearold rarry Guiler (Cary Guffey), the electric toys and appliances suddenly turn on because of electromagnetism caused by nearby UFOs. With a broad, innocent smile on his face, he runs outside into the summer evening without hesitation, gleefully shouting, "Helló.

Spielberg, through young Barry, is requesting his barry, is "requesting his children," to shed their preconceptions and open their minds to the possibility of the existence of possibility of extreterrestrial life this transition. Roy Neary (excellently played by Richard Dreyfugs is an ordinary, bluecollar, family man. When he suddenly begins seeing UFOs and experiencing telepathic phenomena, he is incapable of phenomena, he incapable or forsakes his adult rational he forsakes his adult rationale for It is no coincidence that French filmmaker Francois Truffaut is cast as Lacombe, the man leading the team to contact the extra-terrestrials. Truffaut, in many of his films, has identified himself with children.

The remainder of the cast is also excellent. Melinda Dillon plays Barry's puzzled mother and Teri Garr is Neary's panicky, disbelieving wife.

The special effects, all designed by Douglas Trumball, who worked on "2001," are pure wizardry. The starships in "Close Encounters," unlike those in "Star Wars"" are less defined. More is left to the imagination. In "Star Wars,'" a spaceship looked like one would imagine it: streamlined with an antenna at one end. Descriptions of the \(\mathrm{UFO}_{8}\) in "Close Encounters" can range from flying chandeliers to whirling gumdrops. Young Barry even describes one cribes one as looking like an Overall, "Close Encounters" captures the imagination. Upon leaving the theater, the viewer finds his sensibilities heightened - and = cynicism dulled. He also might take a few glimpses at the sky.

\section*{It'll be hoppinger than ever when} Z䄧 brings back the 50 s & '60s with a \section*{Rock 'n Roll}

Saturday 10:30 'til...

Rush Party
Mixed Drinks 50 f
Beer 254

\section*{T Shirts & leather requested \\ ZETA BETA TAU \\ FRATERNITY \\ 300 Euclid Ave.}
DAY HALL COUNCIL
AND

\title{
THEREIS A DIFFERENCE
} Prepare for MCAT-DAT classes for April exam starting in February in the Syracuse area. Flexible program \(\mathcal{G}\) hours.

EDUCATIONAL CENTER, LTD

\author{
305 Vine Street Liverpool, New York 13088 (315) 451-2970
}

\title{
PERM SPECIAL \\ 2700 \\ Including: STYLE, CUT AND CONDITON \($ 40.00 \cdot\) Value \\ Offer Exciudes John and Tony \\ (씰 1 \\ 446-4810
}

\section*{Placement}

By Bryan Donnelly A. new placement and alumni center has been created for the School of Management. The center was started because of "increased en-. rollment and a continued favorable employment outlook for our graduntes," said Rumesell gradihasilton. management placement direc tor.
In the past, the management placement program was coordinated with the unizergitywide services at 123 College Place

Hamilton said the center will coordinatejob recruitment for students in management-oriented fielda, set up internghips and organize alumni activities for the school.
Campus recruitment has beem increasing ateadily through the 19708 and "bar." ring a sudden economic decline", the trend ehould continue, Hamilton said.
Job interviews will be open to all intereated students, not just those in the School of Management. Hamilton Manas
Despite the predicted decrease in the number of college atudents in the 1980s Hamilton believes the School of Management enrollment will remain stable through 1990.

Hamilton predicted an increase in the number of older students on campus, and a stronger interest in the careerorientod management fiel.

An internship program is presently being set up for graduate management students. Hopefully Hamilton said, it will eventrailly become available to undergraduntes. available to undergradumtas. for su's create visibility Management students in of corporate world , Hants in the corporate world. Hamilton

An
An alumni newsletter will be publiahed by the new office. Alumni will also be provided with placement and counseling services.

Hamilton wanea to. get alumni involved in guest speaking at the school. He will alao seek their assistance in corporate - necruiting, by encouraging an alumni's company to come to the university.
In the future Hamilton asid he would like to see a workshop or course sponsored by the School of Management concerning placement and career planning.
your student feg at work
 ㄴ

\section*{AT: Slocum, HBC, Newhouse Lobby, or call the Greek Council office x-3690}

Registration fee \({ }^{\boldsymbol{s} .00}\)

\author{
REGISTER: Thursday and Friday between 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
}

\section*{Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Epsilon Phit} rean

Smoke bombs disrupt

Arab group exhibit

By Carolyn Beyiran
Two smoke bombs digrapted a display sponsored by a Syracuse University Arab organization in Slocum Hall basement yesterday.

Approximately 50 people were attending the diaplay at about \(3: 30\) p.m. when two smoke bombs were thrown from the stairs inside Slocum, landing about gix feet from the diaplay area. The event was part of Palestinian Week, procram sponsored by the Arob Students Oreaniration Arab Stucents Organization.
"We thoaghe it was a bomb*" said Nasaib Habayeb, preaident. "Someone-was trying to scare us. It wais definitely a terrorist act.":

However, Harold Boyle. Syracube University Safety and Security administrator, called the incident a called thisance. If they wanted to hurt gomeone this wasn't the hurt someone this wasn t way to do it." Boyle aaid.

After the amoke bombs were thrown, they immediately began emitting green smoke . and a sulfur odor, Habayeb

\section*{Newhouse dean appoints TVR instructor to post}

Peter K. Moller has beenappointed acting assistant dean of the television-radio-film department of the S.I. Newhouse Sehool of Public Communications, replmeing Professor Walter \(L\) L Olesen.
Olesen resigned late last. week in order to return to fulltime teaching. "Being a dean time teaching. Being a dean was taking up too much of kie time I wanted to spend stucients, Olasen said.
Moller, assistant professor of TVR, assumed Olesen's duties yesterday, after he was appointed by Dean Heniy F. Schulte on Tuesday.
Oniversity in Septerntracuse University in September. Me (aid.
"We went to the wall on the opposite side." Habayeb aaid. He said he then extinguished the smoke bombs by stepping on them.

Membera of the Syracuse fire department and SUY security arrived in about two or three minutea, Habayeb said.

John Zrebiec; SU security director, said his department will investigate the incident.
"We'll turn the matter over to the fire marshall's office and the Syracmae bomb squad,* Zrebiec said.

In a related incident; the ASO has received anonymous calls threatening to disrupt cals the organization's showing of the organization's showing of "ThePamentary fim called "The Paleatiniann' on Sunday in Grant Auditorium.
"People have called us to say, Expect 200 demonstrators outaide the door*" Habayeb asid. *They say they don't know what they will do. bomb or not let people in."
Habayeb said the film will still be shown.
was formerty manager of cor porate advertising and promotion for the Xerox Corporation.

Moller, 36, joined the SU faculty in 1974 after teaching at Beaver College in Glenside, Pa. He graduated from SU in 1965 and received his master's degree from the University of Pennaylvania.
Because of the change, Moller will no longer teach Moller will no longer teach TVR 445 . Dramatic Writing Seminar. That coxure will not be tanar. Gy by Professors Marbe taught by Proiegsors Martin Fads and loring Mandel. However, Moller win atuli teach basic televiaion production.

> Write news. Call Jacqui, Kevin, Marsha or Scott at 423-2127.

Express yourself. Write for editorial.

\section*{Call Howard or Sy at 423-2127}

\section*{7th}

\section*{Anniversary/Winter}

\section*{SALE:}

\section*{Last Day is Tomorrow!}

\section*{EVERYTHING 10-70\% OFF \(\star\)}

\section*{Wednesday, Jan. 24-Saturday, Jan. 27}
\(10-70 \%\) OFF books, novels, paperbacks, tins, mugs, stationery, gifts, select single cards, posters, calendars. Bibles, music, children's books and lots more.

Don't miss it, 'cause it won't happen again in 1979.
-Single cards & candles excluded.

745 South
Cruese Ave Crucise Ave

Sure you've been working hard for a challenging career all these years. And we ve been waiting for you.
With a 70 year track record in manufacturing experience. Smith Corona has become Number One in the electric portable typewriter market. And that's unique.
That's the same way we feel about our people.each person is unique. The combination of unique skills from each person within our company gives us the opportunity to make an outstanding product.
We're waiting to give you an opportunity to demonstrate your outstanding skilis. No matter what your career specialy is-engineering, data processing. accounting-we ve got a challenging job for you.
So you like challenge? We challenge you to discover a rewarding career and progress in a unique way. You may not have to look farther than your fingertips.
We invite you to visit with our Employment Recruiter on campus February 5. Or send your resume to Employee Development Department, Smith.Corona Operations. Route 13. Cortland, New York 13045.

Etm.
SMITH-CDRONA
10 N
AN EQUAL OPDORTUNITV EMPLOYER WH
\(\qquad\)

The Synchromism axhibit at the Everson Museum of Apt displeys a wide range of oil and tendiscepes.

\section*{'Synchromism' exhibit shows rhythm of color \\ \\ By Rachel Finkel \\ \\ By Rachel Finkel \\ shadows," Russell said in a book about}

A pink and turquoiae sky frames rows of tiny houses with bright chimneys. Lime clouds whirl over rooftops and sprinkle kgatinto diamond-ahaped windows, Half-painted valleys look like drizzles of color left after a soft rain.
"California Landscape," an oil painting by American artiat Stanton MacdonaldWright, portrays the type of setting one may imagine in dreams. Yet itie part of a arger dream - a collection of about 40 pictures designed by artists MacdonaldWright and Morgan Russell. The exhibit. featuring the works of the painters, is called Synchromism and American Color Abstraction - 1910-1925." It will be held at the Everson Museum of Art until Jamuary 28. The exhibit was brought over from the Whitney Museum, New York Whitney owned by Gertrude Vanderbilt Russell for seven years while he developed his art in Paris.

\section*{Art}
In addition to Russell's and Wright's paintings, the works of American artists Sheeler, Patrick Henry Bruce, and An* drew Dasburg, and French artista Robert and Sonia Delaunay are also included in he show.
Symchromism, meaning "with color," is a term conceived in the early 1900 's by Rusgell. The art is the first American Rusgell. The art is the first American avant-garde painting to attract attention avant-garde paintiag to attract attention in Europe, and is chaxacterized by abstract shapes and colors. Color is used depth of apace.

The works of Rubsell and Wright range from still-life oil paintings to portraits to studies of works by artists auch as Picasno, Michelangelo and Cezanne. But the most striking paintings are those entitled "Syachromies" in orange Brilliant color schemes combine in dots and dashes, swiris and moon shapes. Depending on the shades, the Synchromy paintings range from solid overt deaigns, to subtie shapes that eeem to emerge from a mist The darker-tinted paintings create optical illusions.
Although the titles of the Synchnomy paintings refer to a specific color, the pictures io not exclugively convey that shade. Macdonald-Wright's "Aeroplane: equal proportions of blue and white.

Ruseell shares Macdonald-Wright's views in explaining the nse of color. II do not consider the sun to be yellow. I mote that the great amount ofliwhtcreate in as a semsation of yellow, which is as mnch of a subjective illution as the violets in

Synchromism

Wright's paintings deal witheensations rather than concrete ideas. Instead of trying to paint complex subjects, the artist Each color of hives a different as a color Each color gives a different aenaat from the feeling of motion to sound.
The organization of color on canvas produces a sense of music in the artist's works. Ingtead of randomly placing color on the paper, the shades are arranged to create a feeling of rhythm. Macdonald Wright's "Trumpet Flowera" seems to burat with sound. Purple curves and striped lines extend from the center of the painting. The shapea are surrounded by irregular patterns that beem like ruahes of Mir.

Macdonald-Wright believes the energy generated by paintinge is more important than depicting the subject. He sedvised ar lists "to forget the object entirely and hink only of planes, lines, colors. . Keep the music at all cost - the palpitation or in his notebook in 1912 .
Alhough Rugsell and MacdonaldWright were founders of Synchromism, Wright were founders of Synchromimm, influenced by the art and experimented with color abstractions. Andrew Dagburg and Konrad Cramer conveyed circulax motion in their "Improvisation" painmolion in thear improvisation painWright and Fussell, are marked by forceful colora and Bweping arches.
Patricis Henry Bruce displayed even bolder patterns in "Composition." Yet the conglomeration of equares, rectangles. and triangles is too chaotic and make the painting aggravating to view after a long period.
Yet not all paintings in the exhibit depict geometric patterns. Charles Sheeler's abstract version of a tree looks fike a page out of a fairytale book- Large royal blue and fugcia blocks surround an orange tree. A pastel square near the tree resembles Pandora's box

Thomas liart Benton displayed a large, navy landscape of ocean and clouds, enMitled "Serben with an Abstract Sea red-orange shades in the corner of the pedorange shades in the corner of the painting give the impression of calmanese. The psantings of French artista Robert and Sonia Delaumay are also included in range from bright abmitract deaigns to posters that convey words as images. It is the integration of rhythme and emotion that mak the Symchromists' paintinges unique. The uise of color evolkes a limitiess encergy. At Thomas Hart Ben ton deperibed his firwt impresion of Syachremisen, "Ition an explowion of rain-

\section*{Superman soarsin}

FILM OFF. CAMPUS: "Superman - The Movie." now showing at Cinema. East, Erie howtimes and ticket information.

By Brent Marchant
Out of the imaginations of cartoonists Jerry Siegel and Joe Shus of cartoonisis years ago came a character that would menduring legendary fires - the Super man. Firgt praised through the medium of man. First praised through the medium of television, this altruistic man of steel has at last come to the movie acreen in one of Hollywood's moat dymamic and most expensive productions ever-- "Superman The Movie." And while this clittering ex travaganza of superhuman deeds presents no earth-shattering revelations about the man of steel or his ciesire to protect truth, juatice and the American way, the film nonetheless provides another entertaining chapter in this great American folk hero.

\section*{Film}
this great American folk hero.
As the film opens, director Richard Donner gives the audience yet another reinterpretation of Superman Earth journey to Earth after the destruction of his home planet Krypton. Beginning -with the graceful. hopeful farewell of Superman's natural parenta (Marlon Branda, Susan nah York), the man of ateel embarikn for earth in a miniature space capsule, ma hie home planet burses into a Upon his arrival on earth, the young traveller is adopted by a humble farming (Glenn Ford, Phyllis Thaxter) who raise their new son Clark and help him to dis cover his superhuman powers. After passing through a difficult adolescence, a period in which Clark is taunted by haughty earthlings and anffers the lose of big adopted father, Clark goes off to tho Planet and to fulfill his task as a protector of juatice.

Throughout the remainder of the film, Superman (Chrigtopher Reeve) fights archenemies such as the evil Lex Luthor (Gene Hackman) who kmows the man of steel'a only weakness, and discovers his love for a young reporter named Lois Lane

After forty yoars of emutation in print and ons Superman, the men of steel. hes finally ha

\section*{KALEIDC}

\section*{Picture discs make Ll}

By Norm Meyer and
Chuck. Obuchowski
As the recording industry charges into the new year after a gensationnd 1978 season, it eagerly awaits the fate of two overlooked products: picture discs and overlooked products:
Picture discs and colored vinyl records Picture discs and colored vinyl records have been available since 1949 , but last year more of thebe albumns were released Whether the previous 28 years combined. fad or become a trend will be determined by sales during 1979 .

\section*{Sounds}
After some success in October and November, bales in Syracuse area stores have dropped off. The three Gerber Music Co. stores and Walt's Fecord Shop report slow sales. A fooded market and high prices (picture discs list at \($ 15.98\), colored vinyl at \($ 12.98\) ) were cited as reasions for the decline.
Record stores near the univernity have had mixed results with the new products; In early December the picture disca and colortd vinyl records were selling rapidly at Ducount hecords. The the holiday ragh, but although males at Discount have slowed, they remain at Dieady

Beth Owens, manager of Spectrum Records, said although sales of picture Records, said although saies of picture She maid Spectrum sella more of the less expensive colored vinyl records. Spectrum will increace ite stock of both typen of LP when they are available, according to Owens.

Fensord Theatre has had little success selling the albuma Manager Charley Rob bins said the poor salen aredue to the over saturated maricet. Becavee of the lack of interest in the albums, Record. Theatre will discontinue selling both picture disce and colored vinyl reoocris. "We're sending them all back after inveritory on Sunday, Elobbipm said

When picture disca and colored vinyl cecords first entered the market 28 years ago, there was no fear of ovensaituration copies.
In 1949 Vogue Records produced ciear

Only time witan if picturetomes and \section*{ite the seventies} argot Kidder). And through it all, there variety ofinteresting twists and turns feep the spectator on the edge of his feep the spectator on the edge of his it. jcreenwriters Mario Puzo ("The 'Godher'), Robert Benton and David and slie Newman have composed an inslie Newman have composed an inguing script that effectively fuses the guing script that effectively fuses the issic Superman legend with the perhero's modern-day crime-fighting ploits. While the screenplay tends to get slodramatic at times, this crew of dio and television. 1e it to- the movie

\section*{writers has still put together a credible} piece of fantasy.
Credibility can also be lent to director Doinner, who never lets the fantasy get out of control. Unlike last year's spaced-out fantasy, "Star Wars," Donner keeps the Superman storyline believable almost throughout.
In terms of technical aspects, the film alao has many assets to its credit. Produc tion deaigner John Barry has done an ex cellent job with the special effecte, making the hero's vaulting of buildings, fying and bullet-catching look realigtic. Tribute must also be paid to musical ecorer John Williams for another triumphant Boundtrack and to the film editors for a fine job in-splicing the sequences (par Only the action shots) together.
One problem with the film, however, is that several characterizations seem to be caught in a time-warp. Some characters have been updated, such as Lois Lane, who comes across as a self-sufficient woman of the world. Jithers, however: such as cub reporter Jimmy Olson and newapaper editor Perry White (Jackie Cooper), have not changed
Another problem with the film is the lack of consistency in the acting. Several performances, such as those of Kidder performances, such an those of Kidder, Hackman, and molerie pre outstanding. Several other pérformers, however, take Seteral other performers, however, take their roles much too seriously, pardeaths with so much grace it's sickening. Still other performers are deadpan and boring, such as Reeve, who is disgustingly boring, suct.
However; despite these weaknesses, "Superman - The Movie" is still a fun, entertaining fantasy. And after some 40 odd years, it is apparent the man who moves faster than a speeding bullet has still not lost his appeal.

\section*{SCOPE}

\section*{s worth looking into} rpm records with picture inserts. The me year RCA pressed some 458 in ored vinyl, featuring light classical terial. In the early 60 s, some amotional and limited-edition rock ' \(n\) ' \({ }^{2}\) singles were produced on colored vinyl, including records by Bob Dylan and the Beatles. Since 1968, more than 150 different colored and picture LPs and 12" singles havébeen released. That number ncreases daily.
Early in 1978, picture discs were made only for promotional use. By late June a limited edition of Heart's Magazine on Mushroom Records appeared on the market. It was the first long playing pic ure disc available to the public What began as a promotional gimmick is now being tested as a possible in-store money maker. But whether or not the pic money maker. But whether or not the pic ure disca wint be sold as anything more than collector's items (Gerber's even sells wall irames for them) probably depends on their sound quality, which-previously has been poor.
ture diacs if a waste of time to collect pic ture discs if you're into records for the music. you're going to hear lots of cliciss and such, Alam Braun, manager of Duasert Shore hecords, said. The low clude a quality disclaimer on the album covers, such ass: "Sound quality may not be comparable to conventional edition."' However, a new process has been developed that could improve sound quality. Tom Schieno, head of Alberti Record Manufacturers, said the good surface and durability of the picture discs made by his company will make it unnecessary to carry a quality disclaimer. The sound quality of colored vinyl records is about equivalent to - and sometimes better than - that of black inyl records. Robbing taid Some Girls which was pressed in Europe, sounds better than the regular black vinyl edition With good-sound quality, picture dises and colored vinyl records will be around for a long time as collector's items and steady sellers. Whether they become huge sellers and big mioneymakers depends on the consumar's ability (or desire) to payat least \($ 10\) for colored vinyl and \($ 12\) for \(a\)

Cosmic Candy this year"s nawest tantalizing taste sensation it Orawings by Albert Soak exploding in popularity arnong SU students suffering from the \section*{dreaded diseate, temminal sweet tooth. \\ (2)Cosmic Candy: fun with fizzles \\ fun \\ to know that people around you will}

I really wasn't interested in trying it," Jack eaid while meticulously opening the amal foilined pack containing the tiny crystals of precious powder. But then all of my friends started getting into it. They dangerous like some people said it was." He slowly poured the granules into the palm of his hand until they formed a smal mound, like sand at the bottom of an hourglass.

\section*{Buylines}

Well, I guess 1 trusted them," he continued, his eyes still fixed on the fresh powder. "I mean, they are my friends. So tried it and I really got off on it. It was Wifferent. I do it all the time now.
With that, he lowered his head to his outstretched palm and carefully slid his congue over the powder until it had all been absorbed. Almost immediately, his mouth began exploding in sweet, swzeling ecstasy.

Jack is a Cosmic Candy junkie
And although he may be one of the first Manufactured by the las Manufactured by the General Foods Corporation, Cosmic Candy is a New Wave sweet sensation that's a far cry from establishment-type treats such as Tootsie Rolls and Jawbreakers. It requires much less effort to consume: you don't chew it suck on it or lick it more than once. Just let it sit on your tongue while it fizzes away, occasionally bouncing off the roof of your action inside your mouth, it might be fun realize you're eating it because the fizzing makes your head sound like it's picking up static from an AM radio.

Although some people were succinct in their analysis of this kinetic Kool-Aid, others were a bit more graphicin their des criptions.
t' \(s\) like dragging your mouth around the parking lot at the town beach," one person said after sampling a healthy dose.
"It's almost as good as library paste," another addict added. "know

While someone elae claimed Commic Canye Cosmic Candy was like "a really bad hangover in the roof of your mouth, others
"How would this stuff be if \(y\) a it \({ }^{\text {a reformed arug user asked after his }}\) first candy acid experience affectas actually worried about the after affects," another cadet confided. "But fident that the chances of brain damage fident fairly the chances of brain damage Maybe.

A remarkable, though unproven, rumor has it that Cosmic Candy, which is processed with carbon dioxide to provide proceased with carbon dioxide to "One kid downed a whole package of it then drank a Coke," the story goes. "He literally fizzed to death.

Although the makers of Cosmic Candy suggest you "have fun" with their three celestial cherry and orbital orange, the 25cent cost for each package reminds you time ago in a candy store far, far away.

\section*{Weekend cinema}

Mri., Jan. 26
By Steven Titch
Close Encounters of the Third Kind A stunning film with magnificent specia effects concerring a visit to Earth by extra texrestrial-life. Excellent performances by Richard Dreyfuss, Francois Truffaut and University Union Cinema Two, Gifford Auditorium, \(7_{5}\) 9:30 p.m. and midnight, \($ 1.50\).

A Day at the Races
The Marx Brothers go to the race track and wreak their usual havoc. Groucho cited his role in this film (as horse doctor Hugo \(Z\). Hackenbush) as his favorite. The movie features the-famous "Tootsie Fruitale" ice Uneam acene.
Auditorium, 7 and Cinema One, Kittredge The Rite
This film is a zany farce aet in a gay New York bathhouse that has a CJeveland gar bageman (Jack weston) hiding out from his "The Ritz" also features Rita Moreno as the hilarious Googie Gomez, the bathhouse's resident entertainer.
Brom, 6, 8 , and 10 ma, Brockway Evente Room, 6, 8, and 10 D.m. and midnight, \($ 1.25\) Sat., Jan. 27

Viridiama
Viridiana is a saintly young woman who turne her late uncle's eatate into a home for turne her late uncle's estate into a home for director Luis Bunuel comments on Chris director Luis Bunued comments on Christianity and the modern world. The film was made im Spsin but banned by Franco after ts release.

Nickelodeon Filme, Kittredge
Auditorium, 7 and 9 pim., \($ 1.50\)
Joan Micklin Silver's humorous and touching film focuses on a young couple that has emigrated from Russia, the man coming assimilated faster, and finds that modern women in New York can be much more enchanting.
Chanting.
Fillel, Gifford Auditorium, \(7: 15,9\) and \(10: 45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\)., members \($ 1\), others \($ 1.50\).

Brewster McCloud
Robert Altman's wacky, imaginative, and surreal film is made up of characters who boy (Bud Cort) who wants to fly away and his sexy, dewinged angel godmother (Sally Kellerman).
University Union Saturday Night Cinema, Grant Auditorium, 9 and 11 p.m., \($ 1.50\).

The Ritz
See Friday's listing.
Brockway Cinema, Brocikway Events Room, 6, 8, and Close Fncounters of the Third Kind See Friday's listing.
University Union Cinema Infinity, Gifford Auditorium, 6, 8:30, and 11 p.min., \($ 1.50\). The Palestinian Vanessa Redgravestars in thisfilmabout uprooted Palestinians and their hope of someday returning to the dle East crisis.
Arab Studant Organization, Grant Auditorium, 3 and \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\)., atudents \($ 1.50\), othere \($ 3\).
,
. ,
1
 .

C
+

\title{
UNIVERSITY UNION events calendar
}
U.U. Concert Board Presents ROCK 'N ROLL PARTY WITH THE J. GELLS BAND

SATURDAY,
FEB. 3 ra 8:00 p.m.
and
SOUTHSIDE JOHNNY and the ASBURY JUKES
Tickets on aple today pt Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records. The Panhandter and all Gerber Music Stores.

\section*{Special Events Board Presents}

THE WORLD'S FASTEST HYPNOT/ST INTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED MENTALIST
JOHN KOLISGH

HE'LL HYPNOTIZE 20 OR MORE PEOPLE FROM. THE AUDIENCE. MANY IN LESS THAN 10 SECONDS.
THURSDAY, FEB. 1-9:00 p.m. -GRANT AUD. $1.50

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\section*{MARK LANE}
"THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN"
A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE
SUNDAY, FEB. 4-8:00 p.m. , HENDRICKS CHAPEL
FREE WITH S.U. ID - OTHER $1.00

\section*{Write}

Focus．
Call Brent， Rachel or

Maria at \(423-2127\).

IT＇S A BOTTLE I！！ \(\ldots\) a gien botlle． 310 WALNUT annovences ifs necmest arrival： MOLSON GOLDEN ALE at the Student Center
Special introductory offer this week only \(75^{\circ}\) a bottle

\section*{SUNDAYS 10：30 A：M．}

Ecumenical Protestant Worship
Preaching：Prof．T．William Hall
Presiding：Dean John McCombe
Assisting：Ted Schueler，Chaplain Asst．
HENDRICKS CHAPEL
Childcare provided between 10－12 noon．

HAVE A DEGREE IN SCIENCE OR ENGINEERING？

If so，pur that degres to work in the United States At Force． The Alr Forice has job openings for scierice and englneering officers in many professional areas．Find out if one of them is yours．Then askabout that excellent Atr Forcessatary ．．．the encecuthe expertence．．the worduwibe assignirnants．．．Hv－ ing quarters ．． 30 days of paid vaeation a year．．．．medical and dental care ．．．and many other Air Fonce bernelits．It＇s one of the finest opportumities to the nation．For information． contact SSot Michmet M．Corke，USAF Recruiting Office 100 State St．Rochestar，N．Y， 14614
Phone： \(716-283-5792\)（collect）

团号

\section*{WANTED}

The Community Internship Program is growing and needs a new staff member: a treshman, sophomore; or first semester junior, with the qualifications to be the CIP Internship Coordinator of placements in the Arts and Environmental Science. The Arts and Environmental Science Coordinator is responsible for cleveloping and evaluatirag placements: placing students in field settings complementary to their academic studies, interests, and needs; talking to campus groups about CIP; and working as part of a team of coordinators. Applicants must be able to work cooperatively with faculty members and professionals in the field. Pick up an application at 787 Ostrom Avenue (across from Shaw), or telephone 423-4261/71 for more information.

\section*{S.U. Community Internship Program}

\title{
COLLEGE TIIGHT
}

\section*{FREE Admission With College I.D.} \($ 1.00\) Without

\section*{EVERY} MONDAY yncitis

WATKKIN - WATEK OUY WHYE A PARTY

Block Ice - Bulk
Snacks Syracuse's largest selection of cheese and beer at discount prices. Party Platters and Bulk Cheeses. 15 Different Beers By The Keg.
Returnables at everyday low prices.

Groups co-sponson Palestinian events

\section*{By Kevin Haymes}

In an attempt to increase the awareneas of the Syracuve Univeraity commanity to the plight of the Palestinian people, The Arab Student Organization and the ArabAmerican Associstion of Syracuse are co-sponsoring Palestine Week.
The event, which will run until Sunday, will. feature cultural events. including a poetry reading by Fawaz Turki. a Palestinian poet.
"We hope to get everyone to understand we are a people without any human rights and to acknowledge that Pales tinimns do exist and are fighting for a cause," said Nasaib Habayab. ASO president.
On Sunday, The Pales. tinian." a documentary nar rated by British actress Vancasa Redgrave, will be shown in Grant Auditorium at 3 and 7 p.m. The film deals

\section*{\(\star\)}

\section*{Skytop}

\section*{\(O Q\)}
that more extengive damage didn't occur. "If I wasn't here when it happened the damage would have been incredible," he said. explaining that he moved about 300 record alluxns that other wise would have been roined. "It turned out really good. I just hope it doesn't happen again."
However, Goonan said no such guarantee can be made since the releane vaives on the water heaters are "a Bafety feature that will cive way unciex these conditions.
"It'm an occupational hazard," Goonan explained. "Eut the alternative of not having that safety feature is far more dangerous."

\section*{ZOYロA'S PIZZA}
-The Best in Town-
and Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese \(\begin{array}{lc}\text { WE DELIVER } \quad 7 \text { days a week } \\ 472-5075 & 5 \text { p.m.-2 a.m. }\end{array}\)

\section*{The \\ Student Afro American Society Presents \\ Black Professional Week}

\section*{TODAY:}

SOCIAL WORK - 10:00-1:00, Newhouse Lounge.
EDUCATION - 3:00-7:00. Founders Rm.
(Maxwell Hall)
SUNDAY:
MEDICAL - 2:30-5:00, Comstock Community House

\section*{ALPHAPHI OMEGA}

BOOK县 EXCHANGE

\section*{Used Books For LessWhy Pay More?}

Located in Watson Coinference Room Jan. 19 & 22-26 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

\section*{Week to \\ By Marilyin Marks} Discussions, movies, dancing and a speech by author Sara Davidson will trace Jewish roots and culture back to, the late 1800 s during Syracuse University's Jewish Identity Week, Jan. 26 through Feb. 3.
"Jews and non-Jews alike can experience our roots-how our grandparents got settled here," said Lauren Hochatat, chairperson of the B'nai-B'rith Hillel Foundation committee, which coordinated the program.
".At this time, everybody has heard of the Holocaust," Hochstat added. "We want to go beyond that."
Jewish Identity Week begins Friday evening at \(5: 45\) with a Friday evening at \(5: 45\) with a Sabbath Eve dinner and Sabbath Eve creative service. 10 the morning. Hillel will hold a traditional millel will hold a traditional morning service followed by ploring the realtionship between the Jewish com munities in Europe and those in the United States.
This theme will be explored further in the movie "Hester

\section*{}

Street" at \(7: 15,9\) and \(10: 45 p\) m.m. feature an \(11: 45\) free lunch
Saturday in Gifford with Beth Randall of theAntiSaturday in Gifford Auditorium. Admiasion is \($ 1\) for Hillel members and \($ 1.50\) for non-members.

On Jan. 23 at 7:30 p.m., Molly Schafer will teach Israeli dancing. Schafer is an Israeli dance instructor in Rochester.
SU profebsor Gary Spencer will discuss "The Im-migrants-Early Roots" at a freelunch Jan. 29, 11:45 a.m. in the Hillel Lounge in Hendricks Chapel.
The next afternion Glenn Richter, director of the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, will speak on "refuseniks," Soviet speak on reruseniks, Soviet jews who have been denied permission to leave the country, That evening at \(7: 30\) in Hendricks Chapel's Noble Room, Richter will discuss Soviet Jewry in relation to the 1980 Moscow Olympics.

Professor Murray Miron will speaik on "Roots and Cults" at a free lunch in the Hillel Lounge at 11:45 a.m. Jan. 31. That evening at 7:30 in the Noble Room, Arthur Kurzwell will discuss Jewish geneology-
The program on Feb. 1 will with Beth Randall of the AntiDeffamation League apeaking on. extremist groups That night at \(7: 30\), Hillel will show the movie "Lies My Father Told Me \({ }^{\text {*F }}\) in Grant Auditorium

Fillel wili hold special services the following day at 7:45 p.m. in the chapel, and Saturday morning at 10. A coffeehouse in the Commons followa a Havdalah aervice Saturday night at 8:30.

Finally, Sara Davidson, the author of "Loose Change," will author of Looser Change, "Return to Roots" in Grant Auditorium on Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.an.
"Loose Change" déscribes the 1960 s through the recollections of three young women. Thens of three young women. Thenovelinas sold well, andan eight-hour television special to be shown on NBC in Febto be

\title{
Easy Wash \\ Complete Self Sorvice \\ Laundromat or Try Our \\ Wash, Dry & Fold Service \\ 4463 East Genesee St. 446-5850
}

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) incfudes \(^{\text {in }}\)
All chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and printing plus color slide developmént.

\section*{BEW Course \\ Begins Feb. 5}

Call or stop by for a friendly visit - Opan Everyday 316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. 31 5-423-2450

\section*{The Arab Student Organization Presents}

THE INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS MOVIE GTHE PATDESTINLAN's - starring VANESSA REDGRAVE
a film that is pari poetic, part art, part epic.

AT SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY,
GRANT AUD. (Law School)
SUN., JAN. 28, 1979 - 3 p.m., 7 p.m.
Adrniasion: $1.60 studonts, $3 others

\section*{CMM}

Prownts The Joffrey II Dancers

Civic Conter Jon. 30 8:30 P.M. CIVIC MORNING MUSICALS PHoNet 422-8915

\section*{We Bury, Sell &r Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Megacines}

\section*{Bring your records to us for eash} Collections bought Houre calls by appointrment

\title{
AEII Presents: Casino Night
}

Saturday, Jan. 27 9:30-?
Beer, Dancing and Prizes Neat Dress Required

\section*{ALPHA EPSILON PI} Fraternity

401 Comstock Ave.
"Even better than our Band Party"

\section*{GO \\ SOMEPLACE ABROAD \\ THIS \\ SUMMER}

\section*{SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY} offers travel and study opportunities in 21 summer programs abroad.
LONDON:
Shakespeare. Filmmaking, History of Costume. Masterpieces of the Visual Arts, Studio Art, Visual Communications, Photography, Law. Transportation & Distribution Management:
FLORENCE:
Architecture, Studio Art & Synaesthetic Ed., Humanism & the Arts in Penaissance Italy, Psychology.
VIENNA:
- Architecture, Music, German Language, Culture & History.

AMSTERDAM:
Biology, Law & Public Policy.
YUGOSLAVIA:
Organization & Management in a Worker-Owned Economy.
EAST-AFRICA:
History & Evolution of the Kenyan Nation.

\section*{GREECE: \\ Classical Geology}

All courses offer six zemester credits for undergraduates. graduates 8 practicing professionals. For more information please contact Syracuse Univerzity, Divislon of Internationat Progrtams Abromed, 335 Comstock Ave., Syrncuse, N.Y.. 13210, tel (316) 423-3471.

Harry Fig IN THE CORT (I AM HDNOEDTOHVESUXH SOXGHINTER OF KNG EMBEOS GUESTS IN ALOEELUUS... EVENIFONE

Sherman's Quest
bÿ Peter Wallace

\section*{by Peter Wallace}
by Chück Wing
AT THE MOMENT I HANE SCOUTS BOKNG
ATO HBE SAFEST RXNE TO ESTORT BOTH Nof You TOVELBERIA S

\section*{TODAY}

Aminesty Intermational ments at 8 tonight in 313 Mskwefl.
Now Your" Eve Onge Aprin with the Todd Hobin EAnd from 9 pm. -1 am. at Skybarn. B2. Tickets on sale DiSkybarr, Day M dion.
The Bornbshotter has music and night in the Hendricks Chapel basement.
Chemistry colloquium: Wilisern R. Moomaw from Wilisms College will speak on Excited Etectronic
States of Hydrogen Bonded States of Hydrogen Eonded
Heterocycies: ax \(3: 30\) p.m. today in Heserocycies 303 日owne.

Sabbeth evening dinner will be hold at \(5: 45\) tonight in the fillel up in the Hiltel tourge. University Union Cin meets at \(3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). zoday in the Siuden Center, Call 423-2724 for details.
Muslim Fridmy preyers will be held from 1-1:30 p.m. today in the Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel.

\section*{THE WEEKEND}

Museuler dyatrophy dence marathon programing board will meen at 8 p.m. Sunday at 821 University welcome.
Black Artiete Leppue Auditions will be held from 2.5 p.m. tomortow and Sunday in the Haven farnily room. Actors, singers, technicians. stagehands. make-up crew and others needed. Ering voar cinss schedule. Performances in February, Marchand April. Call Mike Brown, 423-8038

1 p.m. Sundernimiasion will meet all members must attend or Theatre. Ex. pect a long meeting.
Minority Graduate Student Association will hold a potuck supper and meating at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Culturat Centef. 104 Walnut Place. For details. call 423-1001.
Newmon folk group rehearse's at 10 a.mn. tomorrow as ine Newman Center. New mambers sing or play ingtremene.
Mess schedule: 7 pm
Giess &chedule: 7 p.m. tomorrow and 11 a.m. in Crousa Auditorium and 1 p.m. at Skytbarn.
Incermational Folk Oamcers meet from 7:30-10:30 p.m. every Sunday at Skybarn. Dances taugh. All welcome. Retreshments.
Free beerl UCTTV is shooting on location in A-1 Newhouse 1 and 6 p.m. tomorrow. Be an extra and split keg-Iaraeti dancing will be held from 2-4 p.m. Sunday in the dance studio.
Women's Building. UU Concert-Band meets at 6 p.m. Sunday in Watson Thieatre: Pease oring 2 for party.
Tratitionst smbbeth firviet will be hald at 10 a.m. tomortow in Hendricke Chapel.

Sablbeth lunch will be triek at 12:30 p.m: tomorrow in the Hillel ounge, Hondricks chape.

Grad Hillal lox and taged brurxch Hillel lounge. Hendricks Chropel. $1 members, \($ 1,50\) non-members.

\section*{Norices}

Community Derkroom: coursesand memberships are open. First black-znd-white courso will begin Feb. 5 on Mondsys; Wednesdays. End Thtissdavs trom 8:30-8:30 p.m. enrollment. Stop by 316 waverly Ave.
Studant lameder applicimtions for Se Summer Otientation Frogram we at Holden Observatory. \(F 120\) board compensation. room and program. June 27-Aug. 7. Must have 2.7 GPA anci dean's approvat.

Orange Plaee in Community House, 711 -Constock Ave., is opetr from \(11: 30-\mathrm{s}, \mathrm{m}-1: 30\) sandwichaa, homemode soups ard fresh bread served weelchavs. Seniors and juniors aligit $1,500 fellowship from Szate farm Companies Foundation must stop by Honors Office, 300-1 Afchbold Gym. wiore Feb. 6. Following fields are applicable: finance, accounting. aconomics. computer seience. pre awn. business administration. in marace. itmestments, mariceting. businees-lated studies Tytars ere nesdea Acadomic Support Cented in at subjects. Call 423-2005 by Jan. 31
ASC tutors should pick up memos at the ASC office, \(240 A\) HBC.
Hendrickz Chapal Choir has openings for two tenors. Must be available for choir's cross-country cour May 13 -June 3. Call 423-2901 for eudition.

Anti-Sernitism: 1t'm Not Hizsory." \({ }^{3}\) Hilfol fetreat, will be hold Fob. \(23-25\). Applyby Monday at the Fillal office. Hpply by Monday at the Three eferiont of prestazri instruction will be offered Jan. 30 . Fob. 6 and Feb, 13 at the Newmen Center at 7 p.m.
NOTICES FOR MERE, THERE E EVEGVWHERE are due th The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adsmas St. by noon announcements to 20 words. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. So one nouncements are taken ovar the phone.

\section*{Wurzburger (Lt & Dí)} Grolsch Krak is Carisberg (Dk & Elephant) Prior Dark

Pilsner Urquell

\section*{GENESEE & SCHMIDTS BOCK BEERS}

AMERICAN COLLECTORS BEER CAN SERIES

COLD

\section*{tUBORG}

PEPSI reg. or diet

SCHMIDT'S
6/12 ox. NRS Beer or Ale

\section*{GENESEE}

Beer. Lite, Cream Ale

\section*{Yes, we have:}
\(1 / 2\) & \(1 / 4\) Kegs Block & Cube Ice Bulk Chips 8. Pretzels Plastic Cups - Super Selection
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{SAT., JAN. 27 9:30 p.m.} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{FRIDAY \\ NIGHTS}

The best DISCO PARTY in Central New York

SATURDAY NIGHTS

The lively sounds. of Syracuse University's AIRPORT

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

JEROME ALEXANDER shampoo. corditioner, and hair brushes now in tock and discounted. ORANGE TONSORLAL 8 SUPPLY. 7275. Crouse Ave., naxt to S.U. Post Office 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: ASSORTED WESTERN SHIRTS $6.98 SIO OFF ALL FRY BOOTS. AS SOREED SWEATEAS SV. W7 MALL.
3304.

Pabst \(1 / 2\) keg- \($ 21.95\). Bud \(1 / 2 \mathrm{keg}\) $26. Pabst \% keg si3.25.50/1202 ups 896 at the Party Source 446 . 8281.

1972 Vega Hstchback: dependtable. good tires. Lesving area, must seth immedistely \(479-7368\) evenings.

Irish Setter pups, 6 weeks, with papers; ready to go to good homes. \($ 65\) each. 682-8030.

Zarbe's got great pizze and hot'subs with mozra rella cheese - we deliver 5-2 e.m. 7 deys - 472-5075
SKIERS - BLUE ANDORANGE NORDICA SIZE 91/2 BOOTS. MUST BE SEEN. CHEAP. ALSO K2 COMPACT 170 CM SKIS WITH SALOMON \(4 A 4\) BINDINGS. FOR A GREAT OEAL.
CALL KENT AT \(X-6592\) Of 478. 9644.

BICYCLES. three speed, one man's BICYCLES, three speed, one man and one woman's. \($ 40\), each. Alsp and one woman's. 540 , bach. Alsp offer. 476-0432

Extra Christmas monev? Call 479 7973 for the lowíst DELIVERED equipment.

Carpet for saie. \(6^{\prime} \times 6^{\prime}\) good con dition. Call Debbie at \(x-2680\).

SALEA SALEI SALEI Introductory offer. Orem wete only. U.S. Army WWhl wool and summer kahki pants Regitier $32.00 now 610.00
SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S. Crouse Ave.
NEW ARRIVALS at SECOND HAND ROSE: WWIU.S. Army wool coars 713 S. Crouse Ave.

SALEI Winter Clearance (up to \(50 \%\) off) SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S Crouse Ave. Vintage cfothing 1973 Pinto. Engine good. Somerust. 1973 Pinto. Engine good. Some rust. 9030 after 5 p.m.

For sate - 3 eushion couch and matching chair. Call 472-5124 Keep efying.

\section*{For rent}

Room in Apt very close to campus Hice place - people Kitchenbig-livimg room, washer/dryer call 422-1750 Ellen.
Westcott area: 3 bedroom 6200 plus ut. Bob \(478.69 $ 9\) : 226 Comstock pedroom \($ 125\) plus ut. Walking dis Bance, Downrown Univ, Energy sevar Bot \(478-6959\).
2 cubic foot retrigarators for rent. Call Taylor femtal Conter/478-0957.

Large: Rernodalled House nvail. mmed. Lancaster Ave. 4 . po. per month Plus utilities. Sec. Dop. Cal Mr. Roth 422-0709.

Private rooms furnished, share skixchen, bath and living room. Clean walking distance - 474-1303 - or 472-0154.

Furnished two bedrcom apartmant \($ 110\) manth, includes heat hot Wher, aff street perking. Call 446 5791.

Single room for rent. Meal plan available. Acecia frsternity 475 \(9149 \times-2120 . A s k\) \(9149 \times-2120\). Ask for Jim.
SINGLEROOM at Sherbrooke Apis 920 Madison St Apt. 5 Rent: 5129.00 Furnistied including uLilitips Phona: 422=1750.

BOARDERS: Goed food and Friendly people await you. at Halts Co-op. 8150 seven meats, 30021 meals wepkly. Call Kathy or Elly at \(\mathrm{X}-2197\) or 478-9175.

2 foom Suite (for one person) in 5 . bedroom' recently refinished Vic torimn houtes: Full use of fireplace backyard, porch. garage, den driveway, kitchen, livingroom, din ingroom, stic, utc. Pent \($ 110 /\) mon th. Call 473-4862 Mike.
Apartments furnished, walking disance. One months security. no 6550 immeriate occupancy. 637 6550.

\section*{Wanted}

Porwasher and/or distiwasher to work in fraternity for free board. Job open for Spring 79 . Contact frater. nity of Fhi Gamma Delta at 475 5245 or 3.2828

Low on money and records that aren't wanted? WE BUY USED nECORDS. Bring them in for instamt cesh. Top prices paid! DESERT-\(S H O A E T 30 \mathrm{~S}\) Crouse \(\mathbf{4 7 2 . 3 2 3 5}\) SHOAE 730 S. Crouse - 472-3235 Man. -Sat. ti-6.
GREAT SUMMER JOBS. Ovarnignt summer camp on Seneca Lake seeks responsibte students who enioy working with kids. Counselors, watertronk. nature. poits music positions available. Call 74 . 3541 puening for plication.

CONTAET Crisis Counselima saeks CONTAET Crisis Counseling Seneks part teme Youth ProgramAssistant to promote Crisis Pravention Program in area funior and senior high in area junior and senior high sehools. Reauires Bachabris of Ans perience, excellent speaking skills and car. Hours llexibla. Please send resurne and leter io CONTACT, 3049 E , Genases St. Svracuse, NY 13224 by January 31.
GAEAT SUNMER JOES. Overnight summer camp on Sencea Lake seeks tesponsible students whe enjoy working with kids. Counselors. wate riront, natures. pool, sailing, arts and erafts. music positions avallable. Call 471-3541 evenings for application.
If you have your own van or a covered 4 -wheet arive. we have a part time position available, making feliveries in the Syracuse area. Cal
\(471-1101\). 471-1101
Hetp wanted: part time evenings 5 prm-10 pm Monday-Friday. Sat. 9 an-9 pm Must have car. Be neat ppearing. To arrange a personal PHOTO MODELS wanted, spareMima posing near sencots Ex periendee nat necessary. Recen photo in confidence. returnable, to: TEMPCO Box 564, Schenectady, NY 12307

Mature famale graduate studen wanted to share attractiva 2 bed room apertment with same or working woman. Near Vincent Apartments. Available immediately: CsH 472-1 150 .
Kitchern help wented at chi Omegs For detaits call'475-7736. ask for Maggie.

Wanted: Kitchen Boy. Free board. 907 Walnut Avenue behind biret hib rary. 471-7555 or 423-2648. Ask fo Bill or Gary.

Counselors: Adiroradack Boys Camp: Counselors: Adiroradack Boys Camp:
\(7 \%\) wks;- \(500-600\) Swimming. Sailing. Canoeing. Campcraft. Archery, Craft. Tennis. Driver. Otfice (typing). Riffery. Softhall. Trip Leading. 39 , Mill Valley Roed. Pittsford, NY 14534.

\section*{Personals}

PARTY; Tonight Skybarn. Beor. 9-1. \($ 2\) cover. Buses will be rurining until 1:30 from Sims. Buy your yickats now at Skyshop or at the doorl See you there

Kinn, Happy birthday to a SUPER guy and a GREAT friend. Steve and Eddie. Hoy Amigo get tacos and tequita at Deite Tau Delta's SOUTH OF THE Deita Tau Delta's SOUTH OF THE BORDER SPECIAL \(9: 30.801\) Welout BoRDER SPECIAL 9:30. 801 Walnut Ave.
Tomorrow what could be better than a winter cookout? Delta Tau Delta's BLIZZARD BARBEOUE. FFEe betr. 1:30-7:00. B01 Walnut Ave.
Why Rush? Join QuA Mul Inquire within.
CHUCK BADLATO: Happy birthday from Joel end claudia.
Dear Guada, Happy 21 st. We realize you'd rather be tangoing with your sweetheart in Guadta, but as long as you'ze here, we 11 ty andmake toxiay the happiest day for you. Wo want you to know that we lova and care for you wery much. Hope today. and every birthoy to come, is filied with deserve. We and happiness you those thimps you choose to foreet. Love shways Debbie Mark Wendy. and Steven nd St teven.

When was the last time you were pood friends with everybody you live with? Check out BROTHERHOOD at ZEfA FS! fratarnity. Rush Sat. \(7-4\) \begin{tabular}{l}
ZEfA \\
D.m. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Chi Omega sisters, tonights tho nightl see ya then, the brothers of Zeta Psi.
Nevin: Were STLL interested. DobBie.
Rush PHi DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesdav. and Thursday 7:00-10:00
J.B. Sooner or tater I don't know whentimgoing to get youbsek in my arms again. L.W.
Join the Oxmen as our bacchanal Winter freeze play on Sat. 1127

\section*{Lost & found}

AEWARD: burgundy leather wallet ost Phi Detta Theta party Saturday. It found contect - Bobbi 476-3502

\section*{Services}

LET US DO YOUR TYPING. Quick Efficient -- & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big - none too small. Call Vicki Meadows 471-5503.

MENI WOMENI JOES. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High mayl See Europe, Hawaii. Australia. So. America: Winter Summer Send s3.ES for info. to SEAVOORLD BH, Box 61035 , Sacto. Ca. 95860.
ACDION AUDIO IS BACKI: All STEREO broncis. Wholesale prices Fully gusranteed. Check around. then call \(478-8667\).
How to write and sell ertictes. Booklex $1.DO. Wemic, Dept. Dol, box 29, Bridgepon. Cz. 06601.
MCAI DAT studants: Sign up for colvse now, shudy dering vacation Stanley Kzplan Education center
TD. Syracuse 451-2970. .

Application and passport photographs 3 for 37.00 . 6 for \($ 10.00\) Hi-Lite Studio. 127 世. Water \(\mathrm{St}-471-5204.\).

WE PRINT OR COPY
RESUMES
AND THESES
Copies While You Waix 131 So. Salina St.
\(474-4222\)
scross from Syr. Mall

Yos Virginia, there are still pósitions open on this Spring'in thate of the Syracarme Heview, but today it the deadYine for applying. So just darwe on down to our officas at 103 College Piace mndilateve note with your mame and number, and you may well whice up Monday morning to find youraeff the editor-in-chief of this, the classiegt magazine on campus. As weil as editor-in-chiof, tharo are opertings for the following ponitions also: Fiction editor; aspistent editore in art. fiction, photogrephy and poetry; Art Direction: and Advertising.

Why be a mhlub when you can be part of the most delicious torment known to mam: the editing of magezine. Don"t take our word for it; listen to H.L. Mencken, the grend curmudgeon, inteletter to Wiltians Saroyen: "I note what you say about your appiration to edit a magazine. I am sending you by this minit asix-chambered revolvor, Load it and fire overy one into your heind. You will thank me after You get so Hell and learn from other editors how drestiful their job wres on earth.

Mancken, of course, walk kidding. But we're not. Soif you have to hire a dogsiod, get to our offices by \(5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). this afternoon, or call us at 423-1401. It will change your life.

\section*{The Deity Orange}

By Greg Luckenbarigh
During a halftime intermission at a high school basketball ganne some 54 years ago, a group of gymnaats from the Syracuse Boys' Club took the floor to give an exhibition. In a balcony overlooking the court sat 10-yearold Paul Romeo. When those gymnasts took the floor, Romeo found himself engulfed in a world that stili enthralls him.
"That was my first exposure to gymnastics," recalled Romeo who will end his, 32-year career as Syracuse gymnastics coach this season. "Heck, I knew I loved what they were doing (the knew Iloved what they were doing the pommel horse), and I went to see Romeo has been the gymnastics coach at SU since 1947. "When I came here, I was originally hired as an instructor, with a background in gymnastics," he said. "SU had no gymnastics team. I started a gym club with a bunch of GIs in 1945, and that team.'

Before arriving at SU, Romeo served as director of physical education in Lawrence, Mass. However, the decision which embedded him in gymnastics came in 1937.
"I had been with the German American Turners (anationwide group that specializes in gymnastics) of Syracuse since I was 16, when I got a scholarship offer to go to the Normal College of American Gymnastics University, a branch of Indiana University located in Indianapolis,': declined it because it was during the depression years and I couldn't afford the trip."
But romieo quickly changed his mind I \(I\) was offered a ree ride at IU, of it while I could," he said. "I headed Weat with five dollars in my pocket and as it turned out, it was a good move."

Although Romeo enjoyed moderate success as a gymnast at Normal College, it wasn't until he came to SU successes

Until I came here, there weren't any gymmastics programs at \(S U\), or in the entire state of New York as far as high school and college go," he recalled. "We (the SU team) put on exhibitions all across New York state, my players graduated and began teaching in schools, and soon gym spread across the state. While in the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnartics league (EIGL), Syracuse won the title twice during Romeo's reign. His teams also finished third in the nation twice.

We've had a lot of great performers over the years," Romeo said. "Corky Voas was the Syracuse University Athlete of the Year in 1963. Heck, that was some accomplishment, conbidering we were competing,"
"However, the beat athlete I ever coached was Joel Baba from' 48 to' 52 ," into the ' 48 Olympics, and was a sixevent performer, which is something, considering today's specislization in gymnastics?
Despite the glory years of the ' 50 's and the exceptional athletes Romeo has coached, there were also lean years.
The bottom fell out in '64,' Romeo said. 1964 was the year SU dropped all schol arships for all sports except football and basketball. "It was tough competing in the EIGL when the other It was had scholarships and wedidn't. years, but we're still alive todgy those years, but were still alive today, so I gresently sueded.
imum amount of achonjoys the maximum amount of acholarships allowed by the NCAA, and Romeo says that the level of performance Throughout Romeo's lifetime, success has been his constant companion. Perhaps the majority of his success can be traced to his abilities to create and innovate. Aside from inTroducing Bymnastics to SU and New York atate, Romeo has helped produce several gymnastics films, many of which were the first of their kind.
"I realized in the ' 50 's that if the country was to learn about gymnastics, they'd have to be exposed to it," Romeo observed. "It was this realization that gave me the idea to produce films."
We had great success with them (eight in all)," he added. "Schools from as far away as South Africa and England bought them, and they really helped gymnastics mushroom in the U.S. But then of course, we couldn't fail. There was only one previous film on gyminastics, and that was made in 192.

Romeo, who was named Coach of the Year in 1963 in the East, is presentiy the oldest gymnastics coach in the country at 64 .
I've seen a lot ofi good once," Romeo said, "and now I'm even seeing those good ones' kids. Abe Grossfeld, the present coach of Southern Connecticut, was even a performer under me in 1959."

In July of this year, Romeo must retire. "I can't really say I'm glad to eapecially when I especially when I see all of these people growing up around me. I still think could coach, but family pressure i. could coach
"I would definitely say all the years have been worth it," Romeo concl uded. "I like to think I had a little to do with getting the ball rolling for gymnastics in the U.S. Thanks to added exposure. especially from TV, the quality and caliber of gymnasts has skyrockeced since I first began.'
Once Romeo retires, he admits hìs own ambitions are fuzzy. "I haven't really thought about life after retirement," he said. "I might officiate or substitute teach, and I really would like to get away from the snow and go south - if I can talk my wifeinto it," he said with a laugh.
As he leaned back in his swivel chair, the smile faded from his face. "Yep, I'm really going to miss it when it's gone.
However, .the world of gymnastics will also sorely miss the presence of the creaneo the innovator, Paulifomeo helped nurture modern gymnastica.

Mickey Kiefer (Iert), one of Syracuge Univarsity's top gymnasts, will land the 74th-ranked Oramgernen against the atways-tough Southern Connecticut abwaya-tougn Southern Connecuc tieut which is ranied ehird in themesion sicut which is ranked inirdin then East witl invede Ar at 1 For vateran Svracuso coach Paul at 1. For voteran Syacuse coach Paul Romeo (above). it will be the last opportunity to upset Southern Coninec thia seasoingfter 32 years coaching the Orangernen.

By Drew Schwartz Manhattan College may be the closest thing to a real-life Bears" in basketball unifows Bears" in basketball uniforms. After the 3-13 Jaspers lost both games at the Connecticut Mutual Classic in late December, they earned a waterford crystal trophy for waterford crystal trop their last-place finish.

Ron Scott, a junior forward who, according to Manhattan's sports information office, has poor hands, couldn't handle the trophy either and dropped it in the locker room. The incident was all too typical of the Jaspers' shattered geason.

Playing a schedule that includes the likes of Georgetown, Rutgers, Rhode Island and Mahoney bis somehow managed an average loming margin of only 1.7 points. This is despite the fact that the Jaspers- were without Jo Jo Walters, their best ballplayer, Waitera, their beat balplayer, for five games because of an ancle injury sustained against Temple.
Walters has averaged 22 points a game and is their most potent scoring threat. The aenior co-captain teams with suard Tom Courtney; who is more noted for passing than acoring, in the backcourt. Sergio Bardaji, who acored 24 points against St. John's, shares the second guard spot with co-captain Courtney.
Rounding out the starting five for the Jaspers are forwards Mike Bruno (15 points per game) and Brinton Higgins. Scott or 6-foot-6 Vinnie Harris will replace starting center Karl Luechau, who broke his nose, for the eighth time, in the first half of the St . Iohn's game.
This lineup should absorb more than 47 times its weight in excess basketball tension suffered during the Orangemen's past ithee Grangemen's past three Boeheim said it is very likely Boeheim said it is very likely and will therefore be able to rest his injured ankle.
"We should be able to give a little more playing time to our bench," Boeheimg aid. He said bench, Boeneima gaid. He said the starters are tired. "Thestion about that."
Mahoney's team may be Mahoneys team may be more than tired when their contest with ther 16-2 Orangemen ends. "Syracuse is just awesome" said the firstyear coach, who may feel as if he has coached for a lifetime at the end of this season.
"They can beat you inside. and as they showed against Temple, they can beat. you outside as well.'
The Orangemen's offensive tactics probably won't matter in Manley Field House, their invisible sixth man. "We've had enough troubles on our home court," Mahoney said of the new Draddy Gym where his team has lost seven of nine games.
"It"would be bad enough having to play them there, but we have to play them at Manley, which is probably one of the better pits in America." Despite playing a better team at a site where it has won 40 consecutive games. Mahoney would have it no Mahoney

"It's a good schedule and we're_not going to change it," Mahoney said. "A lot of teams would like to play the teams we do.
Brian Mahoney would like even more to win as often as many of his opponents.
NOTES - Today, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., is the last chance for Syracuse University students with athletic activity cards-to pick up their tickets at the Archbold Gym ticket window for Monday night's Weat Virginia game. The game begins at 8 p.m. in Manley. . . The Oraingemen were granted a well-deberved day off from practice yenterday after playing three grueling games in the lant five days (wins over Canisius, Rotgers and-Temple).

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{SUB cuts services, lays off employees}

By Walecis Komrad
The Syiracuse University Bookstore is cutting services because of increasing finan cial strains. Cuts include lay ing off about 13 work-study employees, salid Diann Straus bookstore director.
Straus said that after every peak period the bookstore reviews its budget "to see where we can tighten our belte."
She explained the post January rush and. the mivimura wage increase from \($ 2.65\) to \($ 2.90\) were major casone for the layoffe. She he sand the firbtsix mon the bookstore's peak businers months. The lose of business during the second half of the year forces budget cutbacks, Straus said.

The layoffis included 10, 11 or 13 work-study studenis, that's off the top of my head. We still employ 30 to 40 work study people," Straus said. "This isn't anything that hann't happened before - this happens every January."
Some permanent bookstore employees might also be laid off, Straus added.
Straus said two or three Sork-study students at Skyshop, the bookstore at Stytop, were released becaube the store's hours were xeduced. Skyshop hours, which were fromn \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). to 8 p.m., have been cut to 11 a.mi tó 7:30 p.m. But Carolyn Bernstein, a continued on poge zevert

\section*{James Morgan}

\section*{Food service, ORL arrange new merger}

By Scot French
Although several reasons have been offered as to why Food Service and the Office of Residential Life have consolidated, it appears no plans have been finalized except a change in top-level management.
ORL and Food Service Merged Wednesday to form the Office of Residence and Dining Services. The two services are now under the supervision of onedirector, James L. Morgan, former ORL director.
Carol H. Heagarty, vice president for institutional services, had been in charge of overseeing ORL and Food Service. However, ahe will now relinquish most of those day-to-day datien to Morgan, who will report to her.
Heagarty said she chose Morgan to become director of the new department because his duties with ORL made him more actively involved with students than did those of \(F\). Dennis Koehler, director of Food Service (now Dining Ser vices).
She said housing is a " 24 hour-aday process" that deals only with stadents, whereas Food Service is offered on a limited basis to the entire campus community.

Duxing the Empire State Games held at Syracuse Univeraity last nummer Morgan was in charge of the Olympic Village \({ }^{*}\) concept of housing and feeding the par ticipants, Heagarty said. This experience was a factor in Morgan's selection to head

ORDS, ahe added.
David \(R\) Kohr, associate director of \(O R L\) (now residence services), will assume many o Morgan's duties under the new get-up, Morgan said. However Kohr said he does not know ex actly how his duties will be affected.
"I don't really know yet," Kohr said. "The whole thing has happened so quickly. Jim (Morgan) and I haven't really had a chance to sit down and talk about it. For me, I don't see a significant change. Our reaponsibilities have been very similar over the time we've warked together.
"I think it's going to be a while before any noticeable changes take place, before any plans are made." he added.

However, Heagarty haa proposed several possible advantagea that will result from the merger. The change may streamline the process of exemption requests from room and board contracts, she said Those requests are currentl handled sequests are currentily
The change will also provide more opportunities for dining hall managers and reaidence hall directors to work together on programing events, she said
No plans have been made to put the two services in a single office, Hepgarty said. They will continue toroperate as in dividual services with separate budget allocations she said. However, they will now have a single director to coordinate their activities.

SU atudents learn a uitle about Onondaga

Scot French, a junior in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, has been gelected as-editor in chief of The Daily Orange.
French was picked by a committee of eight genior DO staff members and Thomas Coffey. outgoing editor in chief.
"I'm excited about our decision," Coffey said. "I think Scot has the potential to do a preitr jobr Lfo's \(^{2}\) deninitely quatified and fie had the beat ideas for the paper.
French said heplans to work clogely with the Syracuse Univeraity community to get more ideas that will wrengthen the \(\mathrm{DO}^{\prime}\) 's coverage and make it more interesting to its readers.
new considering, starting a plained. 'It wont, he ex Section the would be a Luding ticles about health, nutrition drugs and anything else that deals with the self and the body."
The 19-year-old native of Boylstion Mass., is a magantie major in Newhouse, He completing his freshman year at Quingigmond Community College in Worgcester, Mass.

While riding in the internationally known Hotline Cab

with George Triquet, the "Taxi Mlan."

\section*{Talk and travel:Taking a ride with the Taxi Man}

\section*{By Marcia Meermans}
"I was supposed to be dead so many times," George "Taxi Man" Triquet recalled while driving his blue and gold "Hot Line Cab" around Syracuse one evening. But Fate could not keep up with hirn.
Triquet Was a World War II Bergeant who aurvived the Battle of the Bulgein Belgium. However. the strain resulted in complete memory loss and four years on Ward 7 of the Veterans's Hospital, four years on Wa here in Syracuse. "When I hit the street, I only knew who I was "cause they told me," he agid. That was about 20 years ago Today, at 56, Triquet owiss and operates Syracuse's internationally acclaimed cab company called Taxi Man and Taxi Mam. His more memorable passengers include the Harlem Globetrotters; state Sen. Joseph L. Galiber, of the 31st District; Mrs. Irving McKesson, one of the ination's wealthiest women; and an armed convict wanted in over 20 atates for passing bad checks and fraudulent identification. Triquet helped to ap prehend him in 1969.
Triquet preserves memories of his passengers in two white vinyl scraphooks filled with letters of gratitude from around the wortd newspaper clippings, calling cards, photographs and a Japaneas paper folder used in tea ceremonies.
Closer to home, Triquet is popular with college students, especially at Syracuse Univeraity, as he charges discount cab fares on bookings made 24 hours in advance to Hancock Airport and the ailroad station.
The "Taxi Man" said he eapecially enjoys dealing with SU students: "I act like a big papa to 'em," he said, and noted that ifastudent passenger has an early flight or train to catch, he will telephone to rouse him or her from bed. Thenonce a passenger is in the car, he will talk... and talk. And when one thinks he is through, the man will talk some more.
He knows a lot.
He might discuss his fanaily, which consists of two dogs named Prince and Lady; and two cats, Din-Din and Tippy Toe,
Or the Long Island native might tell you he was the original chef at The Castaways in Syracuse and proceed to give his recipe for Baked Alaska; or that he was a fife and drum and bugle instructor; and that he shined shoes; and drove cars after hours that he cleaned in a used car lot during the day.
watch me, you won't pay.
Triquet operates out of his kitchen from a home in Mattydale. His phone number and adra hare protect him from other independent cab drivers who are not too receptive to his discount fares. His number can be obtained from previous customers.
He gaid his cabs have been pierced with ice picks, and hia drivers have been harassed. He claimed independent cab drivers at the airport were behind the misdeeds.
Triquet does all rouking and driving himself, using one of two former state trooper automobiles he purchased at anctions. - During the holidays, however, Triquet said he calls in a few other speedy, reliable cab drivers to assist.
Triquet's history would not be complete without mention of his friendship with the Onondaga Indian Nation.
"You are no longer in the United States," he said as he drove under the sign at the entrance to the Nation. The Onondaga Indians are not U. S. citizens, as they never surrendered to the government. There are 1,500 residents on 7,000 aquare acres of land that he termed "a nation within a nation."

In our technological society, we have come to rely on atience as our method of exploration and toat for truth. Burt science is like a esarchlight scanning the zky and nn our iochnological thero is much we miss:

\section*{An ancient myth and a modern fear}

Daedalus was admired for his creativity and cleverness. Kings called on him to solve their most difficult problems. He was an inventor and an arOne of his houses was the labyrinth built to be a prison. Around Crete he was particularly well-known for making his statues dance. To the Greeks, in their mythology, he represented the best of human imagination and the dangers of our own creativity.

Daedalus's dancing statues were taking the first steps of our technology; his first dancing statue was the first robot. Today, we have robots of transportation, robots of war, robots who think and robots who heal. What the Greeks imnagined in their mythology, we have achieved in our technology. We have dreamed the dreams of Daedalus and now we are trapped in the dance of Daedalus. As the tempo of invention has ac
It has been said that the purest American art form has been our technology. The steana engine is cited as the earliest original American art form. A moving statue, in which form speaks to the function. Before that, in our buildings and tools we borrowed from other civilizations. The same is said about skyscrapers; with the invention of cast iron and elevators around the turn of the century, American architecture came into its own.
From the steam engine we have raced on to the splitting of the atom, our most creative invention, which now threatens our existence. This "Dance of Daedalus" may be our "Dance of Death," Michael Harrington has said. It will have taken all our creativity to destroy ourselves.
This dance, the pace of technological innovation, is what people fear the most, when they discuss "future in time to the consequences of technology.

The Honors Convocation, today and tomorrow, will examine those congequences. The discussion will go beyond whether "technology is good or bad" to the ways in which our lives are being changed. Two of whys in which our thes are being changed. our increasing reliance on experts - what could be called creasing reliance on experts - Wh

\section*{I. The Loss Of Vision.}

Every civilization comes to be dominated by one truth. In our age, the truth science sees has eclipsed all other values. What is tangible, empirical and phygical is deemed to be more real than matters of spirit and religion.

The methods of science have become the final teist in areas for which they were never intended to be used. And the application of science - technology has become the highest goal.

One philosopher has likened science to a searchlight gcanning a night aky, "far from lighting up the entire sky, it illumines but an arc within it," Professor Huston Smith has written. In order to be recorded, the object must be in that narrow apace.

The rest of the sky is forgotten. But there are other truths to be seen, and the most fundamental of those are our needs for the "Forgotten Truths" Hug piration. These are the Forgotten Truths Huston Smith says are most important, the truths of values, meanings and quality in ine. it is the vision philosophers have dreamed, ' Smatics hates.

This need for transcendence, Theodore Roszak says, explains the dedication of those at Jonestown. Denied any spiritual aspirations in society, they clung to the firgt commitment they could believe in strongly.

The intellectual life of modern society is an ethical vacuum created out of doctrinaire skepticism and relativistic philosophy." Roszak says. "Since the Age of Reason, the western world's most gifted talents have most often served the proposition that nothing is absolute, nothing is sacred, that knowledge is bounded by numbers and empirical face," he says.
"This exquisite culture of doubt and despair," Roszak says, has caused us to turn ourselvea into "religious illiterates as a matter of principle." We deny "the transcendent longings which are a deep and natural need of our kind." he says.
"Today's great minds believe we live in the eclipge of God, where the purposeless gyrations of subatomic of God, where the pur poseless gyrations of subatomic particles are counted more rea, more fasinating than the ideals and teachings towa

We have become so caught up in the "Dance of Daedalus" become so caught up in the "Danget we can "march to the beat of Daedalus" that we forget, the different drummer."
Many argue the case for Daedalus, by saying that technology is just an extension of our imagination and does not deny our spiritual qualities. Tomorrow, Professor Manfred Stanley will make this case.

\section*{II. The Cat in the Hat.}

When they dig up the chemicals buried at the Love Canal, where will they put those chemicals? When they bulldiozed under all those cans of tuna poisoned with mercury, where did those poisons go? How do you dispose of obsolete World War II gas? All those poisons are still in the system. It is like Dr. Seuss children's story, "The Cat In the Hat Comes Back." In the story, the spot goes from one thing to another from the bathtub, to shoes, to the snow, but it is still from the bathtub, to shoes, to the snow, but it is stil there. It may be asilly place to take al it is a leason we haven't learned yet.

The only thing that gets rid of the spot is the magic of the Cat-In-The-Hat. In the same way, we call upon of the Cat-in-The-Hat. In the same way, we call upon the magic of technology to heal our problems. We need solutions as technologically advanced as the problem. Big business advertises that we need them for a "solution" and Roazak calls it the need for themselves at a grass-rootalevel to beexperts because the complexity of our problems leaves the allution to those who have the money, he says.

And there we are caught in Daedalus' most famous invention: the maze. Will more technology free us or get us even more lost? We have been led into the maze by experts and now they sell themselves as trail blazers to lead us out.

Daedalus built his maze to house the evil Minotaur. a man with the head of a bull. King Minos used to entertain himself and his court by sacrificing his prisoners to the darkness of the maze. They would wander uatil the Minotaur devoured them. No one every eacaped - until Daedalus, who was locked up for offending the King.

Locked into the maze with his son Icarus, he was determined to escape. By fashioning feathers, wax and reeds, Daedalus made wings for himaelf and for his zoen.
"He turned his thinking toward unknown arts, changing the laws of nature."
"As we fly over the sea," he told his son, "do not fly

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Thomins Coffoy oditor in chiof
The Datly Orange Corp.. 1101 E. Adams St., Syracuse, N.Y. 13210 , publishes The Daily Orange weokdays of the acadermic year. Editorial (3i5) 423-2127. business (315) 423-2314.

\section*{Convocation calendar}

Monday, January 29, 8 p.m. Hendricks Chapel Speech by Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan on Technology and Human Freedom

Tuesday, January 30 - Honors Colloquia 9:30 to 1i:00 a.m., Bird Library, 1916 Room Computers: Our Servants Or Our Masters? Computers: Our Ser
Dr. J. Alan Robinson
Professor of Computer and Information Science Professor of Compute
Dr. J. Patrick Dobel
Dr. J. Patrick Dobel
Assistant Professor of Political Science
University of Michigan, Dearborn
1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Maxwell School, Founders Room Unemployment, Early Retirement and Ag: ing Prof. Walter M. Beattie, Jr.
Director
SU Gerontology Center
4:00 to 6:00 p.m., Maxwell Founder's Room
The Impact of Technology on Medical Care Dr. David Froman
Chairman and Professor of Surgery
Dr. Patricia Fauser
Prof. of Philosophy
Illinois Benedictine College
7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Maxwell Founder's Room
The Psychological Pressuries and Relcases
Producted by Technology
Dr. Ribor Palfai
Prof. of Psychology
Dr. Thomas Szaz
Prof of Psychiatry
Upstate Medical Center
7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Bird Library, 1916 Room
Educational Priorities in Technological Society
Dr. Margaret Early
Assoc. Dean and Prof. of Education
Dr. Edward Daub
Prof. Eingineering
University of Wisconsin
Al! student, faculty and administrators are welcomed by the Honors Program to Attend.
too low or you will be drenched by the spray and your wings will clog and do no fly too high, for if you go near the sun, he will melt you. Keep the middle way."
They astonished the people of Crete as they rose from the maze; ploughman and firhermen looked skyward in awe. Soan Daedalus and his son were only dots on the horizon.

But Icarus did not listen to his father and soon became excited with flight, soaring and dipping until rising too high, his winge melted and Icarus fell like a stone into the bea.
"And fcarus cried out 'Father!. Father!' until the blue sea hushed him and Daedulus aaw the wings on the waves and cursed his talents."

Daedalus escaped from the maze. It took all his creativity and a new invention - a new technology creativity and a new invention anew technologyto escape from the invention that heldhing n gaining his freedom, he lost his son.
We meek today to find some balance
We seek today to find some balance between our invention and our freedom. Are we more clever than Daedalus? The Honors Convocation over the mezt Daedalus? The Honors Convocation over the mezt two days will explore the congequences of teckinology on human freedom. Some of the leaders in the colloquia will pride themselves on being as clever as Daedalus in getting us out of our maze.

We will be left to decide if we will follow.
Howard Mianstield tor The Daily Oremge

\section*{SU Bookstore: Laying off responsibility}

\section*{For a short time it aeemed as though} For a short time it seemed as After last apring's bookstore boycott. several policy changes were made. Prices were lowered (albeit seciretly), plans for a bookstore advisory council plans for a bookstore advisory council were begun and the univeraity agreed were begun and the university agreed

But then, on Friday, Syracuse
niversity Bookstores laid off 10 or 12 University Bookstores laid off " 10 or 12 cording to its director, Diann Straus.

Straus said these lay-offa were normal, that the bookstore always lays off ernployees after the January rush. She also claimed the recent hike in the mimimum wage forced SUB to fre some work-study students in order to some wor
"The fact that someone has been with us for two years isn't really relevant because they are rehired each semester," Stravis said. This means that Carolym Bernstein, who has been an SUB employee for \(21 / 2\) years, does not have a job anymore.
Straus asid only two or three workstudy employees were laid off at SUB's Skyahop. However, one former Slcyshop worker said five or six were ac tually fired. Straus could not pinpoint the actual number of employees ahe let go. She guessed "off the top of my head," that anywhere from 10 . to 13 SUB workers were laid off. One must wonder if she knows how many workers were laid off, or if she cares.
For all its tough-minded management, the bookstors's move makes little sense financially. Half of all work-study students salaries are paid by the federal government. Also, the minimum wage.

Straus claimed the recent minimum wage hike contributed to the lay-offe. However, the hike was not that great and the bookstore has not laid off any of its full-time employees, even though they make more than work-btudy students. If the bookstore were really interested in saving money, it would not fire work-study employees before everyone elae.
But the bottora line, as businessmen like to say, is not good. There are about a dozen work-study students withcut jobe. These students need financial help in order to attend Syracuse University, or else they would not be on work-study. This leads to a question of prioritiea. What is more important: the bookstore's financial safety or these students' ability to afford SU?
This situation offers a test for incoming Student Association President:

Jordan Dale. There is a possibility the bookestore will be discuased at tonight's SA Assembly meeting. The assembly should put its weight behind the fired work-ntudy workers.
The -SU administration should guarantee that the laid-off bookstore employeen, who were fired for no fault of their own, get comparable jobs somewhere in the university. More importantly, the bookstore sbould atop its insensitive policy of saving money at the expense of atudents who need their the expense of wort.
"Zerobaised budgeting" means atarting from scratch on every budget, justifying, every dollar you are going to apend Good financial managers like to follow' this technique. Unfortunately, the bookstore doean't seera to believe in it, but in zero-based thinking.
Thorias Coffoy and Sy Montgomery for The Dally. Orang

\section*{Midnight madness and mundane mornings}

After midnight, when the neighborhood shope close and all is dark and starlit, a strange and mystifying phenomenon takes place outside my apartment at South Crouse Avenue Motorcycle. Mania. Brown leather jacketa and beer-crazied crowds: It's "The Orange" Roundup.
Under white, beaming street lampa,

\section*{Rachel Finkel} earth, they stagger, to that almighty haven. The tiny, smoky bar with its hanging iridescent sign, "The Orange.'
Cars screech.- Horns blow wildly. Anonymous voices yell animal sounds in the night. A girl wearing tight jeans and a short white jacket rums to greet her friends at the end of the block. A brown Triumph glows and inches backwards as three men poke out their heads tostudy the girls.

Amazing; the energy drawn from a small, Beemingly ingignificant street onner. .he street comes to hife in a playground of shattered botties, shouts and cop cars. A teacher could turn blue encouraging students to speak and show signs of life all semester, while all long The Orange held the key.
Even after closing, the bar draws crowds. People hiding underneath hooded parkas huddle in a circle, jumping up and down to keep warm. Jungle cries and appliuse sound as two men throw each other on the hood of a Camaro.
Conversations become less coherent but louder.
"Hey, who's goin' to Abe's? Long as I'm not driving. Where the hell is the car anyway?
Finally, someone from a nearby building yells, "Hey, assholes, shut up." But the only response is laughter and a hearty mound of "Fuck you". No one bothers to pursue the friendly ex change. It's too dark to see who you're talking to anyway.

In the morning, men carry cartons of bread from the Wonderbread truck parked outside Brad's grocery atore. A mailman whistles and walks briskly across the street while a middle-aged woman carrying a container of coffee hurries out of the bakery.

There are no traces of the night's madness. No litter or cop cars. Beer cans seem to be buried beneath sinowpolished streets. Drunken crowds are replaced by students, cradling texts and notebooks People barely acknowledge one another as they walk to classes. No bumping elbows. No excess nóise Friends greet one another casually and plan to meet for a quick lunch at Burger Plant
The Orange is as distinctive as the Dry Cleaners next door.
But just, wait. Wait till the sky darkens and the books are returned to their shelves. The motorcycles will refuel. It will start all over again.

\section*{Letters}

\section*{To the editor:}

Tanure Ojaide's reply to a recent comment (which argued againgt divestiture in South Africa) was a strong statement against what has become a rapidly spreading philosophy of bonurgeois humanism. 1 was moved to reply to another recent apology forinhumanity-Jeffrey Axler's not-ao-cogent appeal to the common sense of the Iranian people.
Like 80 many Americans, who

\section*{Iran: stability or dignity?} have exchanged their heritage for 20th-century practical politics, Axler has establiahed priorities based on governmental rather than human needs. Both Iravians and Americaps value economic, political, military and religious polability. Americans live free and stability. Americans the mide of such stability. Stability in Iran has come at the Stability in Iran has come a expense of the Iranian people.
Axler would have us view the struggle for elemental dignity.
respect and freedom of expression as "an unreasonable cause." What can be more reasonable? Humans did not evolve in order to subjugate not evolve in order to subjugate themselves to huge, irresponsible organizational machines. Individuala strive towards full selfdividuals strive towards fult selfdevelopment and may naturally bearch out leaders-but not gamSiers. Each person was born to live.
When we are no longer able to reach When we are no longer able to and grasp, we die from within.

Charles Hathaway

\section*{Melting racial coldness}

To the editor:
have, had a myriad of educational and other. exposures which have resulted in a wealth of positive sharing experiences with persons of nearly every race, class and religion from every part of the United States and the globe. I am impelled to write becaube, as a black senior at Northwestern University, I have seen little of this type of shar ing and interaction in my three years as a student there.

I have aeen, and continue to see black and white students divided into two campa which mutually ignore each othsr. I see studenta making assessments of persons as members of a particular group rather than as individuals. 1 see ratuderta so involved in getting grades they. pay little attention to grades they. pay litcle attention to fullest, most mature human beings they can be.
I blame no one for the situation at Northwestern. But I have come to the conclusion that conditions may be the same throughout thenation's institutions of higher learning. I decided to do something about it.
I am aware that thereare reasona for the coldness between racial and religious groupe. But mem.bers of the acad anic communities 1 am addressing axe intelligent enough to tactfully discuss and work out cultural differences. But work out complish little or nothing by complish little or nothing separating ourselves into campa. will be easy. Blacks will encounter some hostile and patronizing some hoatile and patronizang whites; whites will encomnter some hostile and Uncle Thomag-type blaclas All will encomoter those within their own groups who are opposed to efforts to develop healthy relationships with those of other groups.
But let us make our assessments and judgements of persons on an individual basis and from personal experience. Acknowledge the fact that in any group of people one will en. counter some rude, irresponsible, inconsiderate, Belfigh people. And in any group one will encounter those why group one will encounter those courteous and fair. It is the latter courteous and fair. It is the latter relationnhips with its members, that relationahips with its members, that whwhile. Brenda A. Eatman

Northwestern University Editor's note: The author has forwarded this tetter of appeal to 54 universities and colleges for publication.

\section*{HENDRICKS CHAPEL & COMMUNITY HOUSE - SPRING 1979}

\section*{HORSHIP}

HENDRICKS CHAPEL ECUMENICAL PROTESTANT HORSHIP
Sundays 10:30 a.m. Hendricks Chapel (child care provided)
EPISCOPAL HOLY COHTHUMON
Saturdays 5:00 p.m. Third Floor, Comunity House
Sundays 10:30 a.m. Third Floor, Community House
Hednesdays 12:00 noon Third Floor, Community House
EVANGELICAL SUNDAY SCHOOL AND HORSHIP
Sundays 10:00 a.fir. Living Room, Comunity House
JEWISH SABBATH PRAYER
Fridays \(\quad 7: 30\) p.m. Hendricks Chapel
Saturdays 10:00 a.m. South Lounge, Hendricks Chapel
LUTHERAN COHUUNION
Sundays 9:30 a.m. Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel
Wednesdays 5:05 p.m. Hendricks Chapel
WSLIM PRAYER
Fridays \(1: 00 \mathrm{p}\).
Saturdays 7:00 p.m. Grant Auditorium, white Hall
Sundays - 9:30 a,m. Auditorium, Crouse College 11:00 a.m. Auditorium, Crouse College 1:00 p.m. Skybarn Keekdays 12:05 p.m. Hendricks Chapel \({ }^{\circ}\)
LAUDS: MORNIMG PRAYER IN THE CHRISTIAN TRADITION
Heekdays 8:45 a.m. Dean's Office, Hendricks Chapel
Prayer, silent meditation, chanting of psalms, and reading of seripture.' Coordinated by Dean McCombe and Assistant Dean Fasching.
CHAPEL FOR PRIVATE PRAYER
On the third floor of Community House there is a small chapel made avallable by the Episcopal Church for anyone who desires a quiet place to pray.
meditation room
"Ho En Zendo", on the second floor of Community House, is avallable for use by groups and individuals practicing Eastern forms of meditation.
ZEN MEDITAILON Ho En Zendo, Community House
Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays . 7:30-8:45 a.m
Hednesdays
Second Sunday of Every Month 7:00-8:30 a.m.

2EN MEDITATION AND OISCUSSIO
Mondays and Wednesdays Ho En Zendo 6:30-8:30 p.m.
Led by Chaplain Nordstrom.

\section*{haHDICAPPED?}

Our facilities are presently not accessible to many handicapped students. If you are interested in attending one or more of our programs but unable to attend due to the location of the program, please call the Dean's Office at 423-2901 and we will try to make special arrangements.

\section*{IN SEARCH OF WISDOM AND KNOMLEDGE}

SCRIPTURES STUDIES: PAUL'S LETTER TO THE RONANS A six-week exploration and discussion of the cospel as understood by Paul and reflected through his letter to the Romans, with an emphasis on contemporary religious and ethical implications. Led by Chaplain Jones in cooperation with Dean McCombe, Assistant Dean Fasching and Chaplain Schiess. Tuesdays in the Noble Room, basement of Hendricks Chapel, at 12:00 noon, beginning January 30.

THE MONK IN THE HORLO:
BUODHIST ANO CHRISTIAN PERSPECTIVES ON THOWAS MERTON A four-week series exploring both Buddhist and Christian evaluations of the life and teachings of Thomas Merton, Trappist Monk. Topics: '(1) the two conversions of Thomas Merton; (2) the journey east; (3) the contemplative in the modern technological world; and (4) the monk in the world--from mysticism to ethics. Co-led by Chaplain for non-Western religions Lou Nordstrom and Assistant Dean Darrell Fasching, beginning Thursday, February 1 at \(7: 30\) p.m., at Comunity House.

FIRESIDE DiAlocues
During the semester a number of dialogues with faculty and visiting speakers are held on topics of contemporary religious and ethical concern. Watch the 0.0. for the announcements of these dialogues, which are held in the Living Room of Community House.

\section*{EXPLORING ETHICAL ISSUES}

MORAL MAN AND IMMOPAL SOCIETY:
THE PROBLEMS OF CONSCIENCE IN THE THENTIETH CENTURY A series exploring the key ethical issues of our time and the ways in which they might be addressed. Speakers this semester will include Manfred Stanley, author of The Technological Conscience: Survival and Dignity in an Age of Expertise, on Wednesday, February 7 at 8 p.m., and William Sloane Coffin, Senior Minister of Riverside Church in New York city and former Yale chaplain, currently active in issues of disarmament, on Thursday, March B at 8 p.m.

\section*{HERE I STAND}

A series of noon-time discussions in which faculty and other members of the academic conmunity are invited to take a position on a particular ethical issue. Thursdays at 12 noon in the Noble Room, basement of the Chapel, beginining February 1. Coordinated by Laine Hawxhurst.

HOMEN, THEOLOGY AND POLITICS
A series of evening discussions which will identify the biblical and theological imperatives which call for political activity on behalf of women. Issues of current public interest and concert and strategies of political action will be explored. Led by Chaolains Betty Bone Schiess and Laine Hawxhurst. Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m., beginning January 30 at Comunity House.

\section*{COWWNTTY}

HENDRICKS CHAPEL CHRISTIAN COWUNITY
Students, faculty and friends who worship together every Sunday and meet after worship for lunch, discussion and social activities. Also provides a mid-week prayer and study group for those interested in nurturing their growth in the life of Christian faith Led by Dean Hiccombe and assisted by Ted Schueler.
T.G.1,F. ("THANK GOD, IT'S FRIOAY!")

A social gathering for students' and faculty every Friday between 4 and 6 p.m. Students and faculty are asked to invite each other to this event of casual conversation and light refreshments around the fireplace. At Comunity House beginning January 26.

\section*{PEOPLE'S PLACE}

A student-run snack bar in the basement of the Chapel, open weekdays from 8 a.m. to \(10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).

ORANGE PLACE
Home-style cooking at Community House. Delicious
"from scratch" soup, our own baked goods, salads, make-your-own sandwiches, casseroles, beverages, yogurt, etc. A friendly place. \(11: 30-1: 30\) Non. Fri .

\section*{BOHBSHELTER}

A coffee-house on Fridays at 9 p.m., in the Noble Roon (basement of the Chapel), featuring free student entertainment. People's Place sponsors Bombshelter and serves wine and cheese.
hendricks chapel choir
Provides musicic for Hendricks Chapel Morship, presents concerts each senester, and tours annually in the spring. Call Choimaster Stephens for an audition.
BLACK CELESTIAL CHORAL ENSEMBLE
A student-directed Black choir. Call Chaplain Jones for information.

JOHN H. McCOMBE, DEAN
423-2901
DARRELL J. FASCHING, ASSISTAHT DEAN

\section*{}

Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, (D.N.Y.), will Moynihan" (D-N.Y.), Will speak on "Technology and speak on "Technology and Human Freedom at 8 tonght in Hendriciss Chapel. Mne apeech is part of Syracmase apeech is part of Syracmase Univeraity" Honors ConUniveraity" Honors Convocation and is free and open voeation and vo the public.

Moynihan, a former SU jrofessor of sociology, is a former Urited States ambassador to the United Nations and India.

The twoday Honors Convocation comtinuing Tuesday, will explore "how technology affects freedom and dignity," said Peter T. Marah. Honors Program director.

Five colloquia on the topic will be held Tuesday. Scholars will be hela GY Ind fration will dimerse probleme cangen will a loner proberns caused by a longer hife fopan, the ethics of artificially prolonging life and early retirement.
The colloquia begins at 9:30 anm. Tuesday in the 1916 Room of E.s. Bird Library, when "Computers: Our Servants or Our Mastert?" will be debated. 'Unemployment. Early Retirement and Aging" will be discureed at \(1: 30\) p.m. in the Maxwell Founders Room. At 4 Maxwell Founders Room. At 4 prm in the Foundern Room pact of Technology on Medical pact of "Whe Psychological Presmures and Releames Produced by Technology will be Feumders Poom P . Foumders Roomn. The final dis cuasion, "Educational Priorities in Technological Society," will also be held at 7:30 p.m. in the 1916 Room, E.S. Bird Library.

\section*{Dale plans to expand cabinet}

By Carolyn Beyran
Jordan Dale, incoming Student Association president, will expand his cabinet to include representatives from campus organizations.
Also, at tonight's Asgembly Alfo, at tonight Assembly meeting Dale will acek Aarembly approval of Kathy Courtney, current SA vice president for student programs, as a special assistant to the president. If ap proved, Courtney would also serve in the cabinet.
The cabinets of past SA presidents have consisted of \section*{GSO post}

By John Rosenberry
The Graduate Student Organization Senate elected Organization Senate elected Harvey Strum vice president Thursday. The cost had been Thursday. The post had been vacant aince the Jan 1 regignation of Jim Mcivamara.

Strum, a doctoral candidate in history, defeated Thomas \(R\). Steinback from the School of Managemext and Bill Sobotor, pdoctoral candidate in human development. A run-off between Steinback and Strum determined the winner.
Strum said his long association with Syracuse University qualified him for their vice presidents and the SA comptroller. However, Dale said his cabinet also will in-clude-about 25 at-large nembers.
The at-largemenbers will be drawn from various campua organizations, euch as Student Organizationa, auchas Suadent ArroAmerican Society, Greek Conveniences, and serve an advieory function Dale said advisory functill Dale said Week. The at-large members will not receive a atipend, nor do they have to be approved by \section*{filled}

the job-he has been an SU student since 1966. He said he would work with the Senate to make it more effective. Strum also stressed the importance of greater graduate student involvement in GSO.
In other businass, the Senate allócated \($ 1,400\) in tpecial programming funds. The museology department received \($ 700\) to sponsor an exhibit. in West African sculpture. The graduate developrinental psychology department received \($ 500\) to co-sponsor a series of mpeakera, and \($ 200\) was allocated to coaponsor childrem's programing at Skybarn.
the Assembly.
The Assembly will alao vote tonight on a resolution recommending that Syracuse University's proposed domed stadium be mamed after the late Ernie Davis, SU's only Heisman trophy winner.

144 Ball Circle
(next to Danzers on Ainsley)

478-9713

Presents - KNIGHTS OF THE WEEK
Here we go, let's give 'em what they want
MONDAY: Sir Sedgewick Speedrack presents the noble Sir Solitary Shot, who for the humble remittance of bix bits ( 754 ), will the humble remittance of sin bits (6e); wing door at 2 a.m.; alas blisefully crashing. hopefully outside our doors, into oblivion.

Check out our knights every day in the Classifieds column.

Building Your Body Beautiful at Syracuse Sports Conditioners.

Now ONLY during the Month of February 2 peopre can get in shape for the price of 1
Women as well as men can: enjoy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program which features significant reduction of body fat while developing strength and flexibility. Only two 45 minute sessions a week are required to maintain that slim trim look.
call Steva or Bob to make an appointment for your FREE TRLAL 476-2274
- Syracuse Sports Conditioners

716 East Washington St.

\section*{SYRACLSE LNIVERGITY BOOKSTORES}

FIRST FLOOR - General Book Dept.

\title{
FINAL JANUARY BOOK \\ CLEARANCE SALE!
} 20\% OFF All Sale Books

\author{
Right now you will save up to 80\% on our Sale Table Books.
}
\(\star\) ART \(\quad \star\) HISTORY \(\star\) ENCYCLOPEDIAS \(\star\) CRAFTS \(\star\) FICTION \(\star\) GARDENING \(\star\) HOBBIES \(\star\) SPORTS \(\star\) BIOGRAPHIES * AND MORE...

\section*{January 29 thru February 3 only No Refunds - No Exchanges}

CHARGE TT:
SU BOOKSTORE CHARGE
9 -ancis
BANKAMERICARD
sar. \(\therefore\) 19000-6:30

\section*{Women, Theology and Politics}

\section*{Tues., Jan. 30-7:30 p.m. Community House \\ 711 Comstock Ave.}

A series of evening discussions which will identify the biblical and theological imperatives which call for political activity on behalf of women. Issues of current public interest and strategies of political action will be explored.

Led by Chaplain Betty Bone Schiess and Chaplain-Intern Laina Hawxhurst.

A program of Hendricks Chapel

\section*{JEWISH IDENTITY WEEK}

Jan. 26 - Feb. 3
JEWISH ROOTS - PAST. PRESENT & FUTURE MONDAY, JAN. 29
Free Lunch: Prof. Gary Spencer on The Immigrants Eariy Roots" Hillel Lounge, 11:45 a.m. TUESDAY, JAN. 30
Free Lunch: Glenn Richter, Director of Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, on "Refusniks." Hillel Lounge, \(11: 45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\).
Glenn Richter: "Olympics-1980 in Russia. What can we do about it?." Noble Room. Hendricks Chapel, 7:30.p.m.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 31
Free Lunch: Prof. Murray Miron on "Jewish Roots and Cults and their affects." Hillel Lounge, 11:45 a.m.

Arthur Kurzweil on "Jewish Geneology." Noble Room. Hendricks Chapel, 7:30 p.m.
THURSDAY, FEB. 1
Free Lunch: Dr. Alan Berger on "A. D. L.-Extremist Groups7" Hillel Lounge. Hendricks Chapel, \(11: 45\) a.m.

Movie: "Lies My'Father Told Me." Kittridge Aud.. 7:30.p.m.- Free.
FRIDAY, FEB. 2
Sabbeth Evening Service with readings on Jewish Roots. Hendricks Chapel, 7:45 p.m.
SATURDAY, FEB. 3
Sabbath Morning Trad. Service. Hillel Lounge. 10:00 a.m.
Havdalah (NFTY) Service led, by Reform Student Leaders. Commons, Slocum Hall, 8:30 p.m.
Coffeehouse with Israelii Cafe-featuring N.J. Duo: Jon & Debbie. Coymmons, Slocum Hall, 9 p.m. \($ 1\).

\section*{Syracuse track team overrun}

The Syracuse Indoor track team took a double defeat in Manley Field House Friday, losing in a triangular meet with Penn State (112), Dartmouth (43) and SU (34). Kim Gillogly was the only Syracuase winner as he took the pole vault competition with a vault of 14 -feet- \(5 \%\). See tomorrow's Daily Orange for all the details.

\section*{Swimming team drowns}

The Syracuse men's gwim team had an equally tough time Saturday as it fell to Bucknell \(72-41\) in Lewisburg. Penn. SU, now 3-3, had two double winners despite the. loss, Ed Lalor in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle competition while Rick Bolstad won the one and three-meter diving competition. SU meets Cornell Wednesday in Ithaca.

The Syracuse women's basketball tearn remained undefeated with a \(92-65\) win over Buffalo State Friday night in the opening round of the Now York State Wornen's College Basketball Tournament. The 8-O Orangewormen were led by guard Therease Quitry ( 21 above), who acored 16 points, and cantor Martha Mogish, who also scored 16 points. This Wednesday night. the Orangewornen face their biggest home terst of the season whan they put their undefeated record on the line against nationally-ranked Penn State in Mantey Field House. ranked Penn State in Mantey Field Howse.

\section*{From the sid}

Syracuse gyrniamice sean captain Hickey Kierfor lod the nation': third-ranked Sourhern Connecticut still prevailed.

\section*{Wrestlers set record as Buffalo mangled}

Six SU By David Okun binations with stunning precision as the Orangemen defeated the University of Buffalo 36-18. The victory, SU's 14th this season against three losses, made the 1978-79 Aquad the winningest in SU vregtling history.
The meet began in familiar fashion as the nation's top-ranked 118-pounder Gene Mills, pinned Buffalo co-captain Tom Jacoutot. Mills opened the match slowly, Burrendering the first two points to Jacoutot on a takedown. Milis quickiy took control, however, escaping and tur ning a takedown into a near fall to lead 6-2 as the first period ended.

Nills began tife second period in the top position and rode Jacoutot for a minute, finally forcing him onto his back and get ting the pin With 1:41 left in the period. onacoutot is tough, Milssaid. Had. close 109 decision with him in this year's Colgate toumament. But from here on all the matches get tough.
My next four opponents are all undefeated," he added. "When we meet, someone has to lose and it's not going to be me."
Two of Mill's upeoming opponents are Eatstern fival Mitch Vance or Temple and Joe Gonzalez of California-Bakersineld. Last year at Manley, Vance piled up the points early and then held on for a draw "This year I really want him," Mills said "He's always been tough for me. My record against him in collegiate competition is 1-1-1.
On Feb. 7 Mills travels to Corvallis, Ore for the East-West All Star wrestling mat ch. Mills' expected opponent is Gonzalez the No. 2ranked 118 pounder in the coun try. "Ive never wreatled him but I've eseen him-in action and he's really quick. He hasn't had a close match all yeax," Mills. said.

After Syracuse freshman Jeff Zona wa: pinned by Buffalo senior Ed Tyrrell, Mari DeMeo, Tim Catalfo and benior co-captaiu Ron Grobaugh pinmed theiropponents for Syracuse. Catalfo, who SU coach E. Carlin says is "well on his way to a top on or two seeding in this years Easten Championships." was particularly" it preanive while raising his record to 13 with a first-period pin.
At 158 and 167. pounds, SU'2 hampered by injuries with frontliner. Tom Harvey and Joe Mayo sidelined Carlin substituted freshmen Joe Coolicar and Mark Davis, and inexperience showed as both lost decisions:
At 177 pounds, \(\mathcal{S U}\) freshmain Ralp Spinola recorded a methodical and mu cular win over Buffalo's John Benton Spinola jumped all over Benson, Erainimy takedown, reversal and two meazifal Leading 13-0, Spinola put Bensontout his misery witin a third-period pin:
In the heavier weight clasape, Mil Ponzo ( 190 pounds), last year's fifh-pigid outwrestling Buffalo freshman Johr O'Sullivan.- Ponzo had a 5-0 adrantag before pinning O'Sullivan.
At heavyweight, SU's Mike Rotandin last year's third-place winner in the Eastern's, could not handle Buffalo' senior co-captain Paul Curka. Cwrka buit, up a big lead and Rotunda was ninally disqualified after repesated warnings for stalling. "Mike has not wrestled well this year," Carlin agid.
The SU grapplers travel to Philadelphia niext Saturday for a méet with highly regarded Temple.

\section*{lines}

\section*{Owl's tumble Syracuse}

\section*{By J. T. Brady}

The 14th-ranhed SU gymunatica team twinted, leaped and vavited to their second-higheat point total ever Saturday. berond in the end the Orangemen tumbled, laning 213.95-205.30 to powrerful Southerm Comnecticut.
\({ }^{4}\) Southern Connecticat is quite a rood team,". said Orange menior Hich Roberta. 'We weren't reaily expecting to win. We knew we had to hit and they had to mise for \(u\) to have a chance.
About the only thing the Owls (6-1) missed was the giternoon'a TV programs, as the visitors ived up io their repntation as the best in the East and one of the top Gve aquade in the cotuntry. The sehool that gave America Olympic bronze-meda winner Peter Kormann unleashed Mario Michutcheon and Wallace Miller, a brilliant all-around duothat gave the Ar chbold andience an impressive gymmas tics clinic.
Those concentrating on Southern's performance, however, might have overlooked another fine showing by the Orange (4-2). Barry Gropper gave SU a moment of glory on the pommel horse, a he upset defending Eastern champion Tony Williams. Gropper was the Orange's only individual winner of the day, but Roberts, Ron Tibett and Jon Bean capptured seconds and Ed Saundera, Bol Hauser and Captain Mickey Kiefer al took thirds.

The Orange, however, fought a futile battle, a conteat between the nouvea proved its the handed gencry. SU has in proved having braiken theape and barries never having broken the 200-point bacrier until this year, but the defending Eastern champion to the throne px eherthers its dominamce With a state-of-the art performance on the Owets acost event, the high bar, as four 10 pointe Kiefer, with a sparling 9.1 toutine conld finish nobetter than fourth rouine, could fing expect from Syracuse in thene couple of years," said Southern coach Abe Couple of years, said southern coach Abe Inastifom the acore today Td have to rate them next in line behind us and Pann State in the Fest Not toc many tepme are brealing 200 that easily ." \(^{\prime \prime}\).
"I think we have the ability to hit 210 this year." said SU Coact Panal Romeo. "I was very pleaged with our boys today.

Southern Conmecticnt is great, what can I bay? Just the fact that we beat them on the ponmel horse is a feather in our cap. We've cot a young team, and the program is on the way up.
The crowd that watched the meet may be another indication of the program'simprovement. A packed bleacher aection, while no threat to the Manley Zoo, provided strong vocal aupport for the Orangemen.
"The crowd definitely makes a difference," said Roberts: "When you walk out there to face the judges, then look up to

Berry Gropper rode tall in the saddile whentse ecorted un upset vein on the horse for SU'

When I firat came here, it wasp't reaily "Ce being on a tearn," Roberts added. tegm nrownd, morgle-wiae. There's a lot more enthatiasm; it's a good feeling to be on the team now."

DISMOUNTS-Miller and MeCutcheon finished first and second, respectively, in the all-around competition. They are only two of six current Owl gymnasts who have sraduated from DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx. .., Kormann is now assistant coach and a physical

\section*{Rankled wrestler}

Su wrotilng All-American Gene milis* fece thow the mony of victory Seturdity es ho and tive Orangmint tomped to 30 18 win over Buffato. Athouph he appear to be on the ioging end of the strugge, Milite eventually won Soturclay to ralse his permonid record to 17-0. The road aheed becomet rockier, however, es Milis' naxt four opponente are curmentiy undefented.

\section*{Orange skin Manhattan}

By Drew Schwartz "We were the sacrificial lamb," said Manhattan coach Brian Mahoney of his team's night at Manley Field House.
From the start, the game's tcome was as certain as the esult of a James Bailey dunk. The 17-2 Orangemen coasted to their 41 st consecutive home victory before a crowd of 8,849 .
"We were really sharp," said SU coach Jim Boeheim of the knife that his team used for the sactificial rites. Not only did the Orangemen overpower Manhattan offensively, but defenaively as well, conpercent field-goal shooting.
"We did a real good job of playing their men," Boeheim said. "Everytime aomebody got beat there was always another man there to help."
Offensively, Marty Headd didn't miss a shot (he attempted geven) the whole game as he continued his torrid outside shooting with 16 pointe.
"We were moving the ball," said Boeheim of his team's 63percent success from the field. "and making the game of basketball looic very easy. Nobody looked to force anyth. ing and we got the ball to the open man."
The 3-14 Jaspers didn't have to worry about finding the open main in the firgt few ball across the mid-court line was a more gerious challenge. Dale Shackleford's steal began a barrage of Manhattan turnovers that sparked the Orangemen to a \(23-6\) lead.
SU's-fullicourt-préss and aggresaive man-to-man defense stifled Manhattan's offense so effectively that their offense so enfectively that their first shot taken by Jo Jo Wrat shot, Laken by Jo Jo han than two minutes into the game. Although Mahoney Wasn't stirprised by the fullcourt pressure, he said it pame plan ame plan.
"We figured they'd hold the ball if they weren't pressured so we made them tum it over." asid Boeheim of the strategy hat led to 18 firet half tur hovers and many easy Orange baskets "Dale made a couple of big steals and when he's ac ive he's very tough to play against.'
After Boehein removed his entire starting lineup with about nine minutes left in the half, the reserves went on a 23 4 scoring splurge that more than tripled Manhattan's point production. Ron Payton scored eight of his nine points during the impressive seven minute span of team basket ball. Two picture-perfect passes from Rick Harmon and Chris Jerebko gave Payton two consecutive easy basketa Payton's free throw with 46 geconds left in the half gave SU a 57.24 halftime lead.
Danny Schayes, who Ginished with game high totals of 23 points and 12 rebounds also benefited from the crisp passing as he had several first alf layupe.
Schayes's fine performance prompted Mahoney to rave about SU's depth. "Schayes could be astarter at many fine teams in the East and maybe throughout the country." Mahoney said.

Things didn't get much better for Manhattan after the intermission Bs SU surged to an 82-47 lead with 8:33 left. At an \(82-47\) lead with Bis3 let. At for Hal Cohen, his only starter on the court, and the reserves played the rest of the garine.
played the rest of the game. ting for the pair of walk-ons, ting for the pair of walk-ons, When a Davis Dan Boyle. When a Davis layup hurtied the orange past the loo-point mark for the sixth time this season, the crowd roaredinaploudly when Boyle basketion a goaltending call) with three a goaitending cail) with three seconds left gave SU its final points. Those two incidents werethe only time the underdogs Mahoney, whose team lost to Georgetown' (a possible SU opGeorgetown (a poasible playoffa) ponent in the ECAC playorra) anid Syracuee could have an advantage if the Eastern advantage if the Eastern powers play. They're both very fine teams, but Syracuse has more power in the center position," Mahoney explained. Gackupetown doesn't have a backup center that is offen sively equal to Schayes," he added. And Syracuse might be a little deeper.'
Manhattan (68)
Bruno 1-82.24 Huggins 4-11 4-5 12 Scott 450-2 8 Walters 7-20 6-1020 \begin{tabular}{llll}
Ward 1.1 \(2-2\) & 4 & Bardaji 27 & \(3-4\) \\
Leonard & \(1-8\) & 7 \\
\hline
\end{tabular} \begin{tabular}{llllll}
Leonard \\
Courtney \\
\(1-2\) & \(0-0\) & 2 & Baez & \(1-3\) & 1.23 \\
\hline
\end{tabular} Courtney 1-2 0-0 2 Brown 1-1 0.02 Dineen 3168
3168
Syracuse (113)
Syracuge (113)
Shackleford 3-6 \(0-06\) Orr 4.50 .08 Shack ford 3-6 0-0 6 Orr 4.50 .08
Bauie \(3-3\) 5-9 11 Cohen \(3-50.06\) Bouie 3-3 5-9 11 Cohen 3-5 0.0 6
Headd 7-72.2 16 Schayes 6-9 11-12 Heada 7-7 2-2 16 Schayes 6-9 11-12 9 Cubit 3-6 0-0 6 Jerebko \(5-72.312\) Davis 2-4 0-0 4 Boyle \(1-4002\).
Totals \(43-6827-34112\)

Syracuape backup comter Danny Schavei (44) led SU's blitz of Manhettan siturdey with 23 poimtis and 12 rebounds.

The West Virginia Mountaineers, a teem which hea always givep Syracuse trouble in basketbali, plays at Mantey. Fiold Hotite, tonight at B. WVU beat Syracuse two seasont ago and fast year lost by only a point to the Orange.

\section*{Mounties to meet Manley madness \\ By Dave Stern}

Manley Field House is about 400 miles from the coal mises of Morgantown, West Virginia. That is not a very pleasing thought for Coach Gale Catlett and his Mountaineer basketball squad, which will bring its \(10-6\) record to Syracuse tonight (8 at Manley).
The road has not been a friendly place for the surprising Weat Virginia team which has won nine of its ten victories in its dazzling 14,000 seat Coliseum.
The Mountaineers have only played four away games this season and have lost three times; inciuding a crucial loss to league rival Villanova, 99 . 58, last Friday.

Catlett, who is in his first year at West Virginia, took over a team that finished the 1977.78 season with a \(12-16\) record. Catlett anid before the season he-didn't think his season held have as fine a record at this point in the recason as they now possess.
We have gotten some breaks," Catlett said. Things have come together, we ve won and we have had a favorable and we ha

Another reason for the succeas of the Mountaineers is the performance of 6-foot-1 guard, Lowes Moore. Moore, Who netted 20 points during the thriling 74-73 Syracuse victory in Morgantown last aeason, has been averaging over 18 points per game over 18 points per game.
"West Vizginia is very tough." said Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim. "They played us, tough down there last year. Lowes Moore is as good a guard as we'll play against all year--However, we won't do anything special to defend againat him."
During the month of January, Moore has had points. The Mountaineers boast one of the biggest froint courts that the Orangemen have faced all season. Forwards Greg Nance (6-foot8).and Dennis Hosey (6-foot-6) are not scoring threats, but 6 -foot-11 Junius Lewis could cause some trouble for Roosevelt Bouie.
Lewis, who averages over 10 points and seven rebounds a game, has contributad significantly to the improved West Virginia defense.
"Lewis has improved a great deal since last year," Boeheim deal since last year, Boeheim offensively."
Another weapon that Catle"tt employs is Dana Permo, a \(6-\) foot-2 guard who has averaged more than 10 points coming off the bench.
The Orangemen (17-2) will be Eearching for their 42nd consecutive win under the dome.
Tonight's match will be the fifth game for the Orange in the past nine dayz. After the Saturday Booheimation on Saturday, Boeheinn said, We need a couple of days rest: We just have to get ready for one more game and then well have time to rest."

\title{
JACK FIFIELD'S \\ \\ вig m \\ \\ вig m \\ 512 WESTCOTT STREET, SYRACUSE 8 AM - 10 PM 7 DAYS A WEEK
}

Interested in fraternities?
Come check out

\title{
Fiji Rush \\ and see what we } are really like Come see us, party a little and then you will know who is best. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10

\section*{Sunday 1-4}

Phi Gamma Delta
732 Comstock Ave. FREE BEER

Sorority sponsors events for Sickle Cell Awareness Week

By Gail Campleil
Syracuse Univeraity studente may be caryying the incurable disease sicide cell anemia and not know it, or not know what to do once they become dware of it. Delta Sigma Theta sorority is appnsoring a variety of fund-raiging acti vitien this week to raise student awareness of the disease.
According to Elaine flogborongh, chairperson of Sickle Cell Anemia Week, the purpose of the program is to raise consciousness and inform people about the symptoms and the dangers of the disease. \({ }^{4}\) What good is treatment if people don't become aware of people don't decome aware of Rosborough asiked.
Sickle cell amemia ia an inherited blood disorder posgessed by one in every 600 blacks in the United States. One in 12 blacks carries the trait.
Since the disease is a direct genetic adjustment to malaria, it in not reatricted to the black population. Cases of sicicle cell anemia have been discovered in areas where there is a high incidence of malaria. Persons of Mediterranean. Native American, Puerto Rican and African descent can also contract the disease.

Those born with sickle cell anemai enfrer frequent painful attacks accompanied by high fever, dehydration and infection. Theace symptomb ultimately meault in the death of the victim.
Althoagh treatpnente help ease pain, they only olighty prolong the life of sickle cell victims. The life expectancy of most patients is about 40 yost

Syracuse has a genetic counseling clinic, where couples seek advice. about

\section*{FRATERNITY RUSH Check us out!}

\section*{Fraternities}
1. Acacia
2. Alpha Chi Rho
3. Beta Theta Pi
4. Delta Kappa Epsilon
5. Delta Tau Delta
6. Kappa Phi Delta
7. Lambda Chi Alpha
8. Phi Delta Theta
9. Phi Gamma Delta
10. Phi Kappa Psi
11. Pi Kappa Alpha
12. Pi Lambda Phi
13. Psi Upsilon
14. Sigma Alpha Mu
15. Sigma Phi Epsilon
16. Sigma Chi
17. Tau Delta Phi
18. Tau Epsilon Phi
19. Theta Chi
20. Zeta Beta Tau
21. Zeta Psi
22. Delta Upsilon
23. Theta Tau
24. Alpha Epsilon Pi

\section*{Rush Nights}

Last Three Days of Rush

Mon., Jari. 29
Tues , Jan. 30
7-10 p.m.
Thurs.. Feb. 1
children who inherit the children Who inherit the ciseare. However, there are no other infofmation centers-in Syratuse anemia.

\section*{anemia.}
"We want to provide the proper channela before it's too late," Fonborough maid.
The proceeds from the fund raisizg week will so to research for the disease and to establish a screeming center to detect the aickle cell trait for Syrectue rexidente.

Fosborough hopes to attract the attention of other service groups in broadening people's awareneas of the disease.

The achedule for Sickle Cell Awarencss Week is as followa: Today, Jan. 29, 9 am. 4 p.m., Maxwell lobby.
Display booth on sickle cell anemia. Delta Sigma Theta gisters will distribute butions and pamphiets about the disease. (Display runs all week 9 a.m. -4 pam. Friday 9 a.m. noom.)
Wednesday, Jam. 31, 7:15 P. En

Buke eale at Brewater/ Boland halls.
"Heading East," WAER will feature Delta Sigma Theta Friday.
Friday, Feb. 2. 6 p.m. 7 it p.m., the Student Center.

Sorority members will ceremonics for the movie.
9 p.m. 1 a.m. Brockway Dining Hall. "A Werm December," siarring Sianey Potier, followed by a disco. Donation: \($ 1.50\).
Saturday. Feb. 3, 10 p.m.-2 a.m... LeMoyne Manor, Liverpool.
"The Delta Sigma Theta "Charity' Ball" for sickle cell anemin. Open to priblic. \($ 7\) in advance, \($ 7.50\) at the doar. All procoeds go to sickle ,icell, Sunday
Sunday, Feb. 4, 11am-4pm. breakfagt at the Aluma bounge women Donation: 75 cents

\section*{FAST \\ BREAK \\ DELI}

534 Westcott St. 475-5195 SUPER SANDWICHES A Big. Big Sandwich at a Low,
WE DELIVER 7 p.m. to closing. 7 nights a week. New Delivery Rates:
1 whole sandwich 2 whole
2 whole sandwiehes 75C
3 whole sandwichess 50 c
4 whole sandwichess 25 c .
SUPER-
NUMBER
We are distributing over
5,000 numbered liyers throughout the University area that will be worth Free Sandwiches, Beer and Cash; is when your Super Number is posted in this ad.

\section*{SUPER SUDS}

Singles, Six Pack or by the Case at Low, Low Prices:
Molson \($ 1.99\) Labbatt's 81.79 Miller $1.79 . Nichelob \($ 2.09\) Bud $1.79 Folling Rock $1.49

OPEN

\section*{Omni hopes for enterprise}

By J.T. Brady
Spawned from the wave of ecience fiction interest that has washed over America recently, Omni magazine has emerged as a general interest magarine within the boundaties of science and acience fiction.

Omni, with its fifth issue currently on the racks, attempta to look at the world of science in a more colorful way thain technical publicatione, such as Scientific American.

People have begun to realize that acience is exciting and dramatic, not just a bunch of men in white coate working under neon lights," asid as gociate editor Kathleen Stein "We want to reveal the excitement, the wonder and the beauty of science to a general audience.

Omni attempts to accomplish this task with a slic kly-packaged ayntheais of profiles, fictional pieces, visionary essays and reports of new developments in the field. As it title suggests, Onnis confronts the reader with many thinge at once.
"It's move of an overview, and less microscopic than Scientific American," said Stein. "Scientimts have agreed that you don't have to get quite as complex as Scientific American to explain a par ticular problem.
"We try to include both science fact and science fiction," Stein added. "The two tion, Stein added. you might are cloger than you might line between them gets line be
The January issue of Otmni, for example, contained Eive purely fictional pieces, but also included a "UFO Update," articles on building the firststar-- bhip - and anti-gravity machine, the first color photographe of an atom, and even a review of the technical aspects of the film "Super man."
"We're not going to be nax rowed into a particular focus," Stein said. "We don't want to fall into a pattern, a hackney sort of situation in which we're covering the whole subject in a particular area."
In trying to a void a narrow focus, however Omai will have to deal with the problems inherent in any overview: disorganization lack of any focus at all, and expeanively focus at all, and exceas pitant tovice For portanit whoto of exampie, hailed as an exclusive in a Onfol mangaine tooks at the worte of echences and science tiction in a colorf ul, non-technical manner.

cover headline, is ac- artwork is enough to give a companied by onily a short ax- reader nightmares after readcicle that leaves thenort wenting to how more about this potentially fascinating subject.
There is another problem, however, that Stein feels looms as a larger threat to the magarine's credibility.
"We're trying to avoid the" UFO senuationaliam busineas she said. "That and psychic phenomena are vexy tempting from a monetary aspect. It'm a huge potential readership, but we could fall into a situation where we lose our scientific credibility by not researching properly.
For all the problems that go with a new publication however Omni has many strong points. The magazine io able to enlighten readers who have an sctive intereat in acience but are tymed off by thence, blexity of other onien the complezity of magazines.

Moreover, Omni's layout make the monthly an attractive package. The magazine's most stunning graphic feature is the use of color photographs. The highlight of the Jannary igsue is easily a photo easay by Fritz Goro, who spent 30 years ass a staff photographer for Life. Goro's sciencerelated photos are remarkable, whowing the crat and hair of a true artiat.

Even in its layout aspect, however. Omni has problemb. The redundancy of surreal ing just one issue.
"Avt is one of our big problems," Stein esid. "Our ant director likes murreal pietures, heads coming up out of the primordial ooze and ail thaim Personally, I'dike to see more charta and graphan:" charta and grapha*"

Deapite the garish art, a eeries of cartoons that do not belong in the magavine, and a genuinely ugly logo, Omni's graphics are aesthetically appealing. In fact, m carefal qbeerver might notice that some of the layout and type faces are the same as those used in. Penthoune magazine-hardly a coincidence, since both publications are published by Bob Guccione, a "universal. type man," according to Stein.

Stein said Ommi's sdver. lising rate haw increassed since the firat issue, and plank have been to increase the prese rum. Obvionily, Guccione believes Omni will more likely boar like a starahip than suddenly disappear like one of those mysterious UFOs.
\(\qquad\)

PREPARE FOR

\section*{MCAT-DAT}

Small Classes - Voluminous Home Study Materials - Permanent Centers Open Days, Evenings & Weekends Complete Tape Facilities for Review of Class Lessons and Study of Supplementary Materials - InterBranch Transfars - Low Hourly Cost

305 Vine \(5 t\) Liverpoof, N.Y. 13088

315-451-2970

\section*{Classes Beginning in February}

Enroll Now!

Visit our centers and see for yourself why we make the difference

FLEXIBLE PROGRAMS AND HOURS !

Express yourself. Write for editorial. Call Howard or Sy at 423-2127.

\section*{We Buy, Sell Er Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magerines \\ Ne Buy, Sen & Trade}

Bring your records to us for cash
Collections bought \(\theta\) House cillis by appointinent
1.000's of records in srock e Most LP's onty \(52-530\) 4II records gurarsmeted © We speciofite in out-of-print racords.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
S. Camptris Midi. 730 5. Crouse M-St. \(11+8\) (472-3235)

\section*{THE RLTERNATIVE}

If you are realily an individual, chances are vou've probubly elimingted freternity life from your list of possible living situlations on cempus.

\section*{SO HAVE WE}

We're the people who live in the green housse or Comstock Ave. We're the friends and brothers of Pi Lembda Phi. And if you've read this far we'd like to meet you. Coms see us.

\section*{Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity}

736 Comstock Ave.
RUSH-Mon., Tues. & Thur. 7-IO p.m.
 ALPHA CHI RHO

\section*{Harry Fig}

BUThH SHoun II PITS 50

 HASLES OF HE DORLD YET.
KHYCANTIUSTLLERE?

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TOOAY}

WJJPZ recruitmant rimeting will be held bit \(B: 30\) tonight in the Newhouise I lounge.
Sporte club meiting will be held at 4:30 p.m. today at the Student Center conference room. Budgets discussed. Alt clubs must be represented.
Anthropology Sociaty meets at 5 p.m. today at 500 University Place. All majors, minors and interested students welcome.

Foul shoot toumamant sign-up deadthe is 3 p.m. today. Tournament will be held in a week in the Women's Buitding gym.
Want to practice Dutch. meet people and have fun? Come to Cammurity House. 711 Comstock Ave.. from 2-3 p.m.
Free lunch featuros Professor Gary Spencer speaking on "The lma.m. in the Hiltel lounge. Hendricks Chapel.
"Anti-Semitism: is it History?" a unique retreat sponsored by Hillel Feb. 23-25. has a sign-up deadline Chapet.
Commitxee to Stop Apartheid with meet at 7 tonight in Com
Studant Nurses Orgenization meets at \(3 p \mathrm{~m}\). today in the School of meets at 3 p.m. today in the School Nursing lounge. All weicome.
"Health Maintenance Organizations" will be the topic for the protessional nursing night at Women's Building.
Ballat Club offers classes at the intermediate level Monday nights ing Studio.

\section*{TOMORROW}

Free lunch sponsored by Hillel realures Glenn Richter, director of Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, speak tomorrow in the Hillel lounge a.m. tomorrow in the Hillel lounge Hendricks Chapel.
"Olympics 1980 in Russia: What an We Do About tt?" featuring Glenn Richter, Open discussion. the Noble Room. Hendricks Chapel Graduate biology student sominar: Cart Pratz witf'speak on -The Role of Mineral Nutrition in the Structure and Organization of an Old Field Plant Community* at 4 p.m. somorrow in 117 Lyman.
A six-wesk discuassion of the Gospel as undersiood by Paul with religious and ethical. implications begins at noon tomorrow in the Noble Room, Hêndricks Chapel.
A series of evening discussions on the Biblical and theological for women begins at \(7: 30\) p.m. tomorrow at Community House, 711 Comstock Ave.

Israel Prograrna on Campus will meet at B:30 p.m. tomorrow iñ itio Haven lounge. Short film on Jarusalem.
AMA will sponsor a cocktail party at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Alumni Lounge, Women's Euilding. All members, non-members and faculty are invited.
Flying Club will meet at 8 p.m. lomorrow in DellPlain main lounge.
Gay men's social is held from 8 P.m.-midnight every Tuesday at Gay Pluce. Bear, soda, wine and cheese Donations requested.
Representative from Foote. Cone and Boiding Advertising will. Holiday Inn on East Genesee Street Any Newhouse students interested in advertising are welcome.
Pre-marriago class will be held at 7 prem. tomorrow at the. Newman 7 p.m. tomorrow at the-Newman Deadline for poetry and fiction contests is tornorrow. Entries must be typed in triplicate and submitted to professor George Elliot, 300-9ArWilliams Mernorial Prize is100) for best poem(s) by a graduatéstudent, Whiffon Prize ( \(\mathbf{6} 25\) ) for best paemby an undergraduate, Delmore Schwartz Prize (s35) for best paem by an undergraduate or graduate student, and Stephen Crane Prize for Fietion ($50) for best short story by a graduate student.

\section*{NOTICES}

Judo Club meets Tuesidays. Wednesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.mi at Archbold Gym. Call Doug at Federal Summer Internship ap: pications are due Feb. 23 at Placement Services, 123 College students may be eligible.

Maragament Etudent adviser apMaragement siudant advisarap-plications are available. for: next year. Apply in 107 Slocum. Curtent advisers must reapply.
-Student Leader applications for 1979 Summer Orientation Program are available at Holden Observatory. \($ 120\) weekly compensation. room and board for training week and have 2.7 GPA and dean's approval.
Seniors and juniors may be Seniors and juniors may elibible for \($ 1.500\) fellowship from State Farm Companies Foundation for finance. accounting, economics, computer science; pre-faw, business administration, insurance. investments, marketing, math. by the Honors Oifice. 300-1 Archbold Gym. before Feb. 6.
Anyone interested in displaying artwork in the Noble Room should bring work to the dean's office in the basement.
NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE & EVERYWHERE are due at The Daity Orange, 1101 E. Adams St., by noon two days before publication. Lirmit announcernents to 20 words. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. No ainnouncerments are taken over the phone.

\section*{SENIORS 8}

\section*{GRAD STEDENTS}

A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANN/NG SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultents ihroughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the System and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.

\footnotetext{
Address:
City St.
zip
Mail to:
Graduate Profile Center cfo O'Brien ETO'Bripn
PO Box 271
Buffalo, N.Y.g 14221
}

\section*{FOR S.U. STUDENTS ONLY}

\section*{KEEP YOUR}

\section*{GOING ALL WINTER}

Only at

\section*{WOLF HOLLOW RACQUET CLUB}
- Mernbership at Wolf Hollow
- Indoor Bniturf Courts, Locker Rooms, Stunts and Showers
Llessons Available Frors Our U.S.T.P.A. Tenris Profeseional
Convenient Locetion Next To Drumlins On The CENTRO Bus Line
* 10 "Play Tonnís Coupors"

Eseh Coupon Entitles Individual To 1 Hour Of Singles Or Two Hours Of Doublezt
-Futare "Piey Tennib Coupon" Discounts
ceod through Jivise 1. 1979

DETACH ÄND MAlL COUPON TO: Wolf Hallow Racquet Club 800 Nottingham Road
DaWitt, New York 13224

\section*{Name}
S.U. Addrêss

Home City
State.......................
| Enclosed is \($ 50.70\) for | membership and 10 Play
Tennis Coupons.
Master Charge and VISA accepted.

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

WIL'LIAMAS & PANTENE boar bristle hoir brushes with beautifu! wood SOR1AL & SUPPLY, 727 S . Crouse Ave next io 54 Pocroffice. 475 9289. :

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: DENIM VEST G10. WRANGLEF CORDUROYS \($ 12.98\). HOODED SWEATSHIRTS 59.98 . IVY HALL 728 S. CROUSE AVE., 478-3304.
ZOREA'S Has Great Pizza & Hot Subs with Lots of Morzarella Cheese and Greek Taste! We Deliverl 472 5075.

NEW WINTER WQOLIES at SECOND HAND ROSE. WWUL wool ermy cobts \($ 15.00\) arriy wool and kakhi pants \($ 12.00713\) Si Crouse Ave.

CAR INSURANCE. All Students Qualify. Low Payments. Days 4744507 Eve. \(676-7622\) Clancy's inpus.

SALEIWinter clearance tup to 50\% ffi SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing (1900's-1940's) 713 S . Crouse Ave.

For sale - Hart Freestyie skis \($ 75 \mathrm{~cm}\) Brand new. 8120 . 422-1715

WHY WATT SNOW MOBULE AUTO for sale. Vega in grast condition through the worst wirmers. Many new parts. Call Eob 423-7679.

Durst M-301 photographic enlarger. Like mew. Suited for all negative \($\) izes. Sixty dollars or \($ / 0\). Call Rick at 475 -8883.
For Sale. Bolex camer 16 mm EBM Electric with \(16-100 \mathrm{~mm}\) ters. Call Mike. 422-0692

For sale: 74 Fiat 4 -door entomatic transmission. mechanically exfims, and snows. 81150 Call 637 . 9664 or 457-0700.

ACTION AUDIO IS BACK ALL STEREO brands Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check around, then call 478-8667.

Pabst \(1 / 2 k e g-$ 21.95\). Bud \(1 / 2 k e g $ 26\), Pabst \(1 /\) ked \(513.25,50 / 12 \mathrm{oz}\) cups 896 at the Party Source 446-8281.

\section*{For rent}

Private rooms furnighed, share kitchen, bath and living room. Clean. walking distence - 474-1303 - o 472-0154.

Room in Apt very close to campus. Nice place-people Kitchen big - living room. w

Large Remodelled House tvail. month plus urilties. Sec. Dep: Call Mr. Roth 422-0709.
Terrific room: in house. Westcott area. \(570 /\) plus uthities. Greaz location, fun roommates. 472-1224.
Eucid and Meadowbrook areaHouse for rent. 4 bedrooms. it \(1 / 2\) baths. dishwasher. washer-dryer, firepiace. 8400 /mo. On bustine.
\(466-8927\). 466-8927.
Westcots Area- 2 bedroom un+ furnished flat: si75/mo. On busline. 446-8927 \(\because 2\) cubic foot refrigerators for remt Calf Fayior Rental Center, 478-0957.

Apartments furnished, walkimg dis. fance. One monkhs security no lease. immediate occupancy. 637. 6550.

\section*{Wanted}

Counselors: Adirondack Boys* Comp: \(71 / 2\) whs; \($ 450-$ 550\); Swirtming, Sailing. Canoeing. Camperaft. Archery. Craft. Tennis. Driver. Officg (ryping. riflery. Softball, Thip Pittsford, NY 14534.

NEED EXTRA CASH7 Work at your convenience. Call Patti evenings or weekends. 463-4024.
Waitress or Waiter warnted on carmpus in exchange for meals. Clean worki Call Don at 478-9554.
DELIOR BAKERY CLERK: Pati time. Applications now being zaken. Super Duper, 2922 E. Genesee St. atoffice.
MENI WOMENI JOBS CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High pryi See Europe, Hawail. Australia. So: Americs: Winterl SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035 , Sacto. Ca. 95860 .

Wanted: Kitchen Boy. Frese board. 907 Walnut Avenue behind Bird Library 471-7555 or 423-2648 ask for Eill or Gary.
Low on money and records ithet Aren't wantedy WE EUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instan cash. TOP prices paidt DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse - 472-3235
Mon. Sait. 11.6

\section*{Personals}

First Roundabout Culture Cooking Club demonstration: eggrali. Serve with fried rice and eggdrop soup. On Thurs. Feb. 1. in Community House at \(5: 15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). For reservation call 422 6512 evening time. \($ 2.00\) nonmember. s \($ .25\) member.

\section*{Scripture Studies:} Paul's Letter to the Romans

Tues., Jan 30-12 noon Noble Rm., Hendricks Chapel

Begin a six-week exploration and discussion of the Gospel as understood by Paul and reflected through his letter to the Romans. Emphasis is on contemporary religious and ethical implications.

Led by Chaplain John D. Jones in cooperation with Dean John MicCombe, Assz. Dann Darrall Fasthing and Chaplain Betty Bone Schiest

Even if there's no such thing as a free lunch, you can have some FREE QEER at Thete Chi, 127 College PI. (across from Simsi mon.. Tues. Thurs.. 7-10.
A.R. GRAHAM-HAPPY 20:h BIRTHDAYI The drinks are on us. Loss of love. Kethy. Anne. Denise. Kitty, Mike. Tim, Don. Oavid.
Why Rush? Join Qua Mu. Inquire within.

Brothers And Sisters- Iollow the Bromers whe Sisters- lollow the Greeks, were off to the Sun- Puerto Rico- March braak. \($ 299\) inclusive. 478-0745.471-8359.

Friends: Robin. Karen, Evelyn, Mike, Pepgy, Salfy. Anne and specia people unmentigned: In a difficul time, whose cause is NAMELESS. (sorry, unavoidable pum), you were there and hepiping. All my tove. Lithren and Betsy.
Chuck: Happy Birthday. We have a surprise for you - we're going to give you another gapll Now that you've hir the big two-0, your hair wilf furn hangovers will last fonger love and hances. Marsha and Scot love and Check in out before it's too late. The time is nowit for you to see what Phi Gamma Delz is all about. Be a part of if. All the beer and bonzo Fill wildmen you can handle. Mon.. Tues., Thur., \(7-10\). Sat. 1-4. 732 Comstock Ave. Frue beer.

Tonight after wa BEAT West Virginis stop in for a few victory beers az ZETA PSI.
Chuck: Happy 20th Eirthdayl Much fun, happiness - and $uccess this vear. Open your eves. it's within your mate's sister

\section*{Lost & found}

Lost- Brown wallet Tues. \(1 / 23\). Slocurn. Hall vicimity. Many irreplaceable items. Pleese call Dennis 474 -9928 or mail to 168 Lambroin Lane. Syracuse, NY 13210

\section*{Services}

LEET US DO YOUA TYPIRG. quick-efficient - 8 VERY ECONOMICALII No job too be none too small. Call Vicki Meadows 471-5503.
House clraning. raliable. res. ponsibie with references. University area only. . Call Lee 472-8099 overtings.
Make your SKis like brand newl Professional Hot Waxing by Elice Waxing Company. Call 423-0916, or bring skis to 908 Lawrinson. Evenifes.

\section*{Happy \\ Birthday \\ Laurie, \\ Love Rich} THE PROBLEM: Dry, fly-away hair, loaded with electricity... THE SOLUTION: UNICURE SHAMPOO & CONDITIONER

\section*{* We strongly recommend} these fine products for your hair
On sale the week at \(20^{\circ}\) off \(\star\)

\section*{Orange}

Tonsorial & Supply
727 Sourth Crouse Ave. (next to the S. U. Post Office)

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\title{
MARK LANE
}
"THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN"

\author{
A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE
}

Sunday, Feb. 4 8 p.m. Hendricks Chapel

\section*{Good times on the Hill}

\section*{Mount Set for Olympic Competition \\ By Eileen Daspin \\ the evening.}

Although Zeus might recognize Day and Flint Hails, version of the Greek Olympic Games, he probably would be amased by the unorthodox nature of the Mount Olympics, which began this weekend and will continue through Feb. 10

Instead of the ancient contests in marathon running, poetry and music, Day and Flint Hall residents competed in such challenging events as fooseball, hulahooping and crab soceer.

One of the. program's organizers, Dave Price predicts that at least 600 residents will participate in the 37 events scheduled for the Mount Olympics. Althaugh participation is restricted to Mount residents, spectators are welcome.

According to Mark Mitsch, co-ordinator of Flint Hall's efforts, the Olympics "provide students with the chance to get envolved, and to meet people on other floars. Here is an activity other than regular floor parties which gets people together for a good time.

The Olympics began Friday at six p.m. in front of Graham Dining Hall. As the Olympic therne blared over Mount Olympus, torch runner Bob "Shu" Shumeyko jogged around the circular driveway to initiate the games.

A Tug-of-Wax contest was the first event of

In addition to the Tug-of War game, Olympics co-ordinators have devised a number of interesting contests for the upcoming \(1 / 2\) weeks. Included among them is a slow bicycle race where participants are required to ride a bicycle between two lines as slowly as possible without touching the ground from start to finish:-Also included is a relay race which involves filling a glass with water carried in a spoon from another point A complete listing of events is posted in the Iobbies of Day-and Flint Halla.

The competitions will conclude with a closed party for Mount residents in Graham Dining Hall, at which the winners will be announced. The floor that wins the most contests will have its name engraved on a pliaque in its dormitory's lounge. The residence halp that totals the most victories overall will receive a trophy.

Noting the success of the Mount Olympicsin the past, the program's organizers are confident that the competition will continue in the future. Mitach said, "There have been other attempts to imitate the Mount Olympics, but none have been as'good."
The concensus on the Mount seems to be, often imitated, never Iuplicated. Even Zeus would be proud.

Schedule of events
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Monday, Jan. 29. 6:30-9:30 p.m. & Foobball Pinball Monopoly Backgammon \\
\hline Tuesday. Jan. 30, 6:30-9:30 p.m. & Monopoly Backgammon Foosbuall Pinball \\ \hline Wednesday, Jan. 31, 6:30-9:30 p.m. & \begin{tabular}{l}
. Ping Pong \\
Risk \\
Checkers \\
Foosball \\
Hackgammon \\ Monopoly
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Thuraday, Feb. 1, 6:30-9:30 p.m. &  \\
\hline Hridey, Feb, 2, 6:30-9:30 p.m. & Chess Scrabble Risk Monopoly \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Saturday, Feb. 3, 10 a.m. -2 p.m.
Swimming Sunday, Feb. 5 a Wediesday, Feb. 9.

Finals in board games
Thuraday, Feb- 10
Closing Ceremonien

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Band mernbers were forced to march in windbreakers thily

\section*{year because there were not enough uniforms to go around.}

\section*{Funding problems cause strain for musical groups on campus}

Ey Debby Waldman When Tom Kelly joined the Syracuse- Univeresity mairching band four years ago, he marched in a "full uniform," conaisting of a hat, jacket trouserg and a white overlay, with-"Syracuse University" printed on it that fit over his jacket
But when Kelly marchedin the "pride of the Orange" this year, tie wore blue trousers and an orange wind breaker.

I think it's ridiculous," be gaid. "They're building a nev stadium and they're building up the prograyn. But what is a new stadium with a lousy-looking band?

According to-Norbert J. Buakey, director of bands at 3U, the band didn't wear ariforms this year because there weren't enough to go around. Four yeaps ago there were 96 people in the band. This year there were 178 , he ssid.
"When I got here five years Bugh, thera, were 86 uniforms;" Buskey said. "Over the years, the number of uniforme has been reduced due to wear and tear. Some were lost or atolen. As of now we don't have more than 70 complete uniforme. This year we wore orange windbreakers isgued at band camp in August, along with

\section*{3 landlords receive housing summonses}

By Mike Grogan
Three Syracuse Universityarea landlords have been summoned to court for failure to correct housing violations in their houses.
According to David Young, director of the Syracuse Department of Building and Property Rehabilitation, the landlords own property at 141-143 Miles St., 145 Miles St. and 312 Westcott 5 t.

According to the Syracuse Deparnan Arsessment, Ed 312 Westcott own the house F. Hubel and Michael G. Semerain jointly own property Semeranijointly own property at the Miles Street addresses.
Most landlords in thè university area who were cited in September for violations have made progress in Yliminating those violations, Young said.
Forty-geven owners of multiple residence houses were cited as "fire hazards" in September, including violations such as lack of a second-exit-for upper-level residents, lack of proper fireretardant material in the hallways and cellar ceilings, and inadequate electrical ser-
The owners were given 30 days, upon notification, to make corrections or negotiate a compliance sehedule with the city. But Young said only 14 ewners did so. Twenty-five showed an "ingignificant effort to correct the violations."
In December, the department filed Final Order A's against the 25 owners who failed to correct the violations.
Final Order A's give the owners 10 working days to make significant corrections or to work out an acceptable schedule with the city

Young said 15 of the owners who received the final arders have shown "marked progress"- in correcting violationa and one owner has reached a compliance schedule with the city.
Two other owners have been aummoned to appear in court, and another is in the process of being aumanoned, Youniz saiai. - The building department must reinspect three properaes. Young said hera prine the inspection ofone property. The other two properties could not be inspected at the end of the 10-day period Final Order A's give them because their residents, SU students, were on vacation.

Two owners did not respond to Final Order A's, Young said. They will now receive summonses from the Syracuse City Police.

\section*{Residents' meeting baffles SU officials}

Photo by Richard Folkers
trousers," he said. "We had enough trousers for the instrumentalists because of the addition of used tux trousers."
The cost-for one complete uniform, Buskey said, is etween \($ 150\) and \($ 200\).
But the SU marching band is not the only musical groap on campue:-with-financial tronbles:
In the past the marching band was funded out of the \($ 20,000\) band budget in the College of Visual and Per forming Arts. The money was also used to fund the \(S U\) Symphonic band and the wind enaemble.
But the money was trangerred to the Office of Student Affairs in July. Ac this was hecause the marching band is an "athletic support program." During the last two years other "athletic support programs," such as the Sour Sitrus Society and the SU cheerleaders have come under the jurisdiction of the student affairs office.

Continued on bege five

By Annette Licitra. Syracuse University ficials have not yet decided whether to send a representative to a meeting of residents concerned about the domed stadium because of conflicting versions of what the meeting will entail.
Joseph V. Julian, vice president for public affairs, aaid he has been invited to an "information-gathering" sesnewly formed Home Owners Mobilized for Environmental Safety.

However, he said he has not decided whether to attend because yesterday's Post-Standard quoted HOMES president Marjorie Orkin as saying the meeting was to "question" officials about the stadium. Orhin was also quoted ais asiying the meeting was to recruit new members and to raise money for an upcoming lawsuit contesting the Syracuae Plarining Commission's decision to allow construction of the stadium.

I'd be pleased toparticipate in a true information-tharing session," Julian said. understandif, in fact thie meet ing scheduled for Wedneaday night is deaigned to be just night is deagn suaded that a rally is the most appropriate form for a rational discuasion and free exchange of viewpoints on the atadium. Julian said he would decide today whether to attend.
HOMES was-formed two weeks ago by university-area residents who are protesting the location of the stadium. The 100 -member group is raising money for a lawsuit against the commission filed by three residents.
Also expected to attend the meeting are the three plaintiffs in the lawsuit, N. Richard Shepard, Sharon Blev and Christine Rickett, and their lawyer, Alexander. Heraha.

HOMES has raised \($ 2,000\) of the \($ 10,000\) Orkin extimates the lawnuit will cost. The money came from "Iocal residents, individually, by go ing door-to-door," she saic
Members of the group are apprehensive about parizing problems, acceas of emergency vehicles, accurity against crime, treapassing and danger to childer because of the in creased traffic around the stadiúm.
HOMES members sire ailso unsatisfied with the existing tank force which is drawing up traffic flow plans for the aran.
The task force is made.up of \section*{Documentary nets \($ 1000\) for Palestinian refugees}

By Myra R. Aronson Sunday's ehowing. of the documentary The Palestinian" netted the Arab Student Organization about \($ 1,000\); which will be sent to Palestinian refugee campes in Lebanon, according to Nassib Habayeb, ASO president.

The film was shown as part of Palestinian Week, a seriea of events co-sponsored by ASO and the Arab American Association of Syracuse to increase awareness of the Palestinian people.
ASO's shouring of protested ASO's showing of the film, \section*{which discusses the die} placement of Arabs from their homeland. The protesters claimed the film did not present a halanced view of the Palestinian problem.

However, Habayebsaid "the film is not prejudiced in any way."

Other events during. Pales tinian Week inclpded at concert by guest singer Zeinab Shaath and a poepry reading by Pales tinian writer Fawaz Turki.
"Four hundred people showed up and Turki brought some Palestinians to tears." Habayeb said.

\section*{Steele Hall gets exhaust system}

\section*{By Rob Harieston}

Construction-is almost complete on a new exhaust system in the basement of Steele Hall to prevent noxious fumes from lingering in the air.

Students in the School of Visual and Performing Arts complained last sernester about the furnes in the work areas of a print-rinaking laboratory. Complaints were also made about work areas in Smith Hall.
A "MakeUp Air System" was installed and will remove polluted air from the basement while circulating fresh, heated air from the outside, said Robert Heaphy, Benior from the outside, said Robert Heaphy, sen

Heaphy said the project should be finished within two weeks. The duct work is almost complete, but minor complicptions within the damper system are delaying fingl completioñ Exact cost of the project will not be available until the system is finished, he added.
Don Cortese, a printmaling professor who Facilities in Steele Hall, said, Space and Continued on pege fhe problem for Studenta working in Steele Hall will soon be able to brearthe eastior.

PARTTIME JOBS: Excellent pay...work whenover you heve time...no obligntion. Write: SUM. CHOICE, Box 630, Stete College, Pa. 16801 ...End btart earning nmxt woek.

\section*{You're \\ overalue} to visit our discotheque. Our head librarian invites you to stop in, dance, drink, even read. At the Hotel Syracuse Library in Hotel Syracuse.
All đrinks - \($ 1.00\) and free hors d'oeuvres 4:30-7:30 Monday-Friday. Free dance lessons pn Tuesdays. Nocard required -except Friday. No denim, please, Jackets preferred.

Other Editions: \(\square\) Barbizon Plaza Library, Nittsburgh, PA \(\square\) The Pharr Library, Pitsturgh, PA ADta, GA Pharr Library

\section*{\(\star\) Dome}

Cominuts from roge one repreacntativen of \(S\), the area hospitale and city, county kind btate offcialis. It is worling with a trafific consultant and expects to develop in six months a parking plan, mass transit and emergency vehicle ait and However, Orkin ia upset that the trafice plan will be com- stadium has started at the end of March.
The 300-member Southeart University Neighborhood Asoociation is aupporting HOMES's aims and purposes, but it is not funding the but it is not funding the Judy McMallen said the group Judy McMnilen said the group in not prepared to bacome a anivernaty.
"We're not convinced that's the tack we wrant to take," the gaid. SEUNA members mex Bar ving an mernbers of the tank force developing the trafte flow plan.
"Wre"re trying to cooperate with the university." MicMullen said. "We. have cooperative work to do in the cooperative work to futare on the tarly force."

\section*{RUSH ALPHA PHI OMEGA} national service fraternity

Sponsors of Book Exchanges, Blood Drive, Children's Christmas Party, Boy Scout Swim Day, Christmas Tree Lighting.

Tuesday & Wednesday Jan. 30 & 31
7 p.m. - 10 p.m. A \(\boldsymbol{\Phi} \boldsymbol{\Omega}\) Office Third Floor, Arehbold Gymnasium (Registration Entrance).

\section*{Great selection of fine meats The best deli in town Save money on our low prices}

2922 East Genesee St.
(minutos from Carmpus)

FRESH SALADS - SMOKED FISH - LOX HERRING & VARIOUS OTHER APPETIZERS TO COMPLETE YOUR SMORGASBORD.

\section*{IF YOU'RE LONESOME} FOR JEWISH FOOD HOT CORNED BEEF - PAS.
TRAMI AT ALL-TIMES.
UNDER STRICT RABBINICAL SUPERVISION.

Accomodations at the Sheraton Daytona Shores resort hotel.
Price includes transfer to and from the Orlando airport.

Building Your Body Beautiful at

\section*{Syracuse} Sports Conditioners

Now ONLY during the Month of February 2 people can get in shape for the price of 1
Women as well as men can enjoy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program whith features significant reduction of body fat while develop:ing strength and flexibility. Only two 45 minute sessions a week are required to maintain that slim trim look.
call Steve or Bab to make an appointment for your., . .
FREE TRIAL 476-2274
Syracuse Sports Conditioners 716 East Washington St.

\section*{Does God still touch our lives?}
"Religion and politics," observed the martest socialite, "are topics never to discuss." It was not proper to distarb the secure superficiality of the cockial party with questions of resurrection or party with questions of resurrection or recession, for you were sure to offend recersion, Eventually
pain It fashionable again. It was beceme matter of information was more a pretation. Politics provided a chance to show off knowledge, at a time when be ing well-informed was admired. But not so with religion. Except for the ministers and shopping-mall evangelists, religion made dis nervous. Religion was a matter of heart-a subject so persomal, so intense, that we were afraid to salk about it. And sometimes, even to think abert it.

Since the "God is Dead" movement of the 1960 s, religion, for some of us, has become somewhat embarassing. How ailly to think we were created by an allpowerful being when Darwin proved we desceñed from prehistoric apes! How illogical to believe in a god dwelling in heaven when apacesinips have probed the skies and found nobody ciful power when thousands suffer and die unjustly all over the world? Many of us became confused with the Erguments. After all, religion was the Cause of the Children's Crasndes of the Midde Ages, When children were chlisted and slaughtered in an army caut fought for the mightiegt ing Moslems. Religion is the reason why children atarve in India while cows roam frealy in the streets. And when 900 people poisoned themselves Gind four Americans were shot in Grayama this fall, it was all becaute of religion. Perhaps some of us abaninglorious tradition. inglorious tradition.
Or perhape our gods have simply changed. Safer gods could be tucked imto a briefcase or wallet, applied with a make-up brash, squeezed out of a tube of toothpaste. Money añad power and beauty became gods that offencted no one, impressed all. Besides, these one, impressed all. Besides, these new improved goda conid be seen and touched, and needed little maintenance; these gods demanded no stacrifices, or even prayers!

But soon we fonnd that these were false gods. The true test of a god is how inconvenient he makes life for us. The cod of any religion asks us to do the im posgible: strive always to be good. He pgice qe to do the painful: look within ourselves. He asks us to do the semplesa: to trast and love momeone we've never even seen.

Do ne really need to do these things? Do we really need a god?
Early man thought so. An* thropologiets and archpologists tell us that almost as soon as man could think, he thought about god. The firgt. primitive gods were thought to dwell in the skies, a thought reiterated in mast modern religions. Later, early man exmonded his concept of holiness to inpanded his concept of holiness to inm clude animals, plants, the Boi, the were the things to which he owed his living; he viewed them with wonder and awe; he did not understand them, they were sacred.
Now, our science and technology derides that child-like wonder. The aun is but a burning ball, winds are caused by different air pregsures, and the by different air pressures, and the ocean is \(a\) handy sewer. These forces ocean is a hanay sewer. Iheae forces are not holy, for we understand them; they are tools in our handa. We livenot iney are tools in our handa, we hivenot in god'e kingdom, for we have become in god's kingdom, for we have become as powerful as nature: we may encan damage the ozone layer with our aerosol sprayn.

Have we become so swelled with power that we have outgrown our gods? A being more powerful than o ursel ves was alwayg thought to be our creator, who formed the skies, the earth and all that dwells therein. Now we are told that we are living on the result of a giant cosmic explosion, that we emerged from olime in the ocean, that all life'on thisplanet is:jugt apointless accident. We have replicated the primordial soup in our laboratories; we have performed conception in our test tubea
Yet what is the chemical formula that unites lifelesa molecules into living organisma? What mathematical theorem can chart those electrical impulses we call thought?
Man can newer answer these questions through his technology. Neither can science andwer the most obvious question: Why? Why are we xoamin question: Why? Why are we roaming impulkes charging our brains?
Orly religion claims to answer these questions. Religion tells us that a god created us bearwae helavedus. We have a purpose here, which, like the creator, is to love and create.
Those of us who embrace religion embrace that which instruments cannot meagure, which neither microscope nor measure, which neither microscopenor telescope can see. For science deals telescope can see. Fox science deals With "fact" and religion deals with "truth." Whether we call it God, Allah, Yahweh, Brahman, Jesus, or simply love, this is the truth that transcencis phygical existence, the energy that quella our aimieasnesa.
- Our religions, unlike our gods, are admittedly imperfect. Religion is our human, imperfect expreasion of a super-human, perfect god. But ruligion acknowledges perfection, even if it cannot be found within ourselves. Science only acknowledges aymmetry, allows only limited logic, ixhiloreligiós chlows man a soul.
The rehigiors: of man Derhapernz body the deepeit truths tof oif existence, for they teach of niot onily our gods, but of ourselves. In the next several issues, we will present a series of comments on some of the major world religions. We hope that, as Dr: Darrell Fasching once wrote, in passing over into other religions and cultures we will come back with new insight into our own, creating the bonds of spirit between peoples.

Sy Montgomery for.
The Daily Orange

\section*{Social science:-exploring our humanity}

Is social science the handriaiden of technocracy?
It is no secret that intellectual and moral tensionsexist between partisans of the social sciences and the humanities. There are many reasons for this. One of these ressonty beacs upon the Honors Convocation on technology and Bumanity. A rather large number of Weatern Gumanigtic

\section*{Guest comment:}

Manfred Stanley
intellectuals believe that, in ergence, the very idea of a science of human behavior refiects a technocratic mentality. The chargeis not thatindividual social scientiste are technocratic by intention. The culprit is the idect that intention. The culprit is the ideat that human behavior can be atudied scien. human behavior can be atudied scientifically at all (as opposed to philosophically, artistically, biographically, and morally).

All such humanistic criticism can be reduced to four related charges. These chorges appear related by a cingle from extending the pcientific deter minist way of thinking into all possible meaninge of four concepts. These concepts are: the mocial world, " "goals, "probiems, and "khowledge." Humanists believe that is regarded as the only acceptable one, the vision of humans as capable of effective iree will is cdoomed to ex tinction and, with it, the entire Weatern conception of human dignity. Let us gee how thin argument croes.
1. For purposes of scientific inguiry, social scientints view the social vorld "lawn object with its own "laws" (or "law-like regularities"). Because of these scientificintentions, social scientints conduct their inguiries with tints conduct their inguirien with minimal refercence to the creative agency of peraons. inmanistic agency of persons. ATmmanitstic criticism implies that when deter criticiam implies that when deterministic asmumptions and the predic cion-control tuitis of serientinc trath dis place all other ways of interpreting naman expexience, then culture in in the maling.
2. In science, "coals" are conceived quettioni that take the form of specified and operational statements

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Thomel Caftey oditor in chiet
The Daily Orange Corp., 1101 E. Adama St. Symeure, N.Y. 13210 , publishea The Daily Orangee wopledimy of the ecaclomic year. Editorial (316) 423-2127. butinese (315) 423-2314 about measurable phenomena. At least in principle scientific methods stress the virtues of technologically clear ateps of inquiry. When this conception of goals is carried over into all domains coals are thought of as reducible to technological means of address. Critics regand auch an assmmption as profoun diy techniciat.
3. To-the extent that science addreases the notion of problems at all, it tends to regard them in principle as nolvable Probleme are seanmod to arise from the operation of knowable laws of nature. These operations aye such as, for whatever reason, to affect ue in waya that we find distresning or perhaps threatening to our aurvivil. A mcientific approach to problems entailt manipulating laws so as to remove or alter the canses of these problems. The relations betwreen the biochemical mciences and medical technology are paradigmatic of thia orientation Humsnimtic criticiem implie that the word "problems" also applies to axperiences that are not entirely conctivable, and cortainly not alwayt solvable, in this technological manner in appaling of these extra-ecientific menses of problems, critics ume phraeen like "problems of living," deriving from "the buman condition" that cannot be defined precisely or technologically zesolved Such problemat, can only "lived through in action." To forget this point is to have a technocratic conception of the meaning of human problem.
4. Scientific knowledge is presumed capable of generating technical expertise. In principle, this expertise can be used technologically to redesign parts of the world within the confines of known natural lawn. Pushed to the limit, this would make policy implementrition synonymous with applied science Stinnerian proposals for societal redesign policien through mass applications of behavior modification applications of behavior modamation techaiques are an extreme example of what much an orientation isinke Crics bolieve that total restriction of the notion of "knowing to a atrictiy scien tific.conception of knowledge renders all ather ways of knowing illegitimate "e. fated to be regarded an "myatical, So long as the notion of reason is of ficially limited to the concept of scientific expertise, many humanists believe, the Weatern loyalty to reason in human affairs will result in the en thronement of techniocracy.
Can a humanaift critique of technicism stop shout of a total rejec tion of the very idea of social science? The only wry to draw ench a line in to interpurt science itmelf as paxt of the history of human fieediom. In may recent book I bave tried to take aome techmical stepe in this direction. But the tank remonins unfirighed and shall long constitute a challence to all who atill care about whether perion and fumetion can be arafely joined in a singlo htman moul.
Marafred Stamiey il a profeamar int the sociolory departmerat.

\section*{Get your head out of the sand.}

The Daily Orange is accepting letters of intent for managing editor. Applications should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E.
Adams St., by 5 p.m. Friday.

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\section*{MARK LANE}
"THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN" A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE

Sunday, Feb. 4
8 p.m. - Hendricks Chapel
Free with S.U. ID, $1.00 others:

BECAUSE OF THE OVERWHELMINGRE. SPONSE AND DEMAND FROM LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S. PERFORMANCE THE JABBERWOCKY IS PROUD TO PRESENT THE RETURN OF THE BONNIE PARKER BAND
IN CONCERT
TONIGHT, JAN. 30 9 P.M. TIL 2 A.M.

JABBERWOCKY $2 ADMISSION

\section*{RUSH ON OVER TO PHI DELT!}

Phi Delta Theta Fraternity Rush Monday, Tuesday & Thúsday 7-10 p.m.

\section*{t Band}

Comitrued trom ange ano Becavia the loand budget it now in the office of Stadent Af fidiw, the iturnogh has been earwariced poledy for the mar ching band, Comor anid. I But Brakey ana M. Dourgian Soyars, asmistant dean of VPA, tay thit morns there is no money left for the gymphonic band and the wind ensemble.
"Normally, we eppind eeveral hundred dollars to buy now music (for then coneert bandin)." Buakey said. Thifis year we will be asing mosic that is cutrently in the mosic libracy, or that I can .. get from prabliaher and compowers.* publuner and compowert. However, not everyone feels that way. Soyrars said. IMad requested watstudent Afiairs split the money. I have nothing to Fur the concert band with. I don't kroov if weere EOing to cetchore or mot.

Fio adied, "gtivient Afrnirs may have been able to give more money to the murehing band. Obvionaly they wanted all of the aport bandiender theme"
"For the echool of music, it hasi't worlved at all. The facmity here doesm't wrant to Fee music talven away from un. There are no musician in the Office of Stzident Affirive"
While VPA officials wonder where they can get the money for new mbitic the SU maxching band is waiting for the unoney to bay mew uniforms.

Connor gaid the acquisition of new uniforms is a capital cont that cinnotbe falcen out of the band's operatine buderet. To ountit the marchints bend we need approximately $40,000.* Compor maid. Hre said 25,000 win sadded to the band's opertaing bredget thit yeary, but the morpey connot be thed to buy new nemiforme.

Connor said the monoy vill mainly cover the band'in travel expewsen for nemat year's fooit hall season. Slince pone of the bome garmea will be played in Syracuse becuuse of construc tion of SU's new atadium, the band will have to travel to all be games.
Berides travel expenter, the operating budget coverw ine cost of a oneweel band camap. equipment and several mev matrument and naiforme.
Cominor said he expecta to get funds for the uniforms through contributiona.
\({ }^{\text {"4'm }}\) 'mot anying that we will, but I think it looks good that Fell be able to purchase new uniform in time for the op coming atadernic year." Connot said.

Page
probahly will nat bogin matil thia mumnoer, suid Ainctio Burice, atndio arta ehnirperren in VPA. Orentlicher added that until then, minintemance of the prement cystem ahould be anficient, altherigh all the probleme will not be solved antil summer.
Burlie, who hat an uftice above the photography lab in Emith Hail complained that the acetic acid fumes that meep up through the floor gometimet minice him foel lightheaded. Fis matin concern is the healtheind: well-bunte of his stndents, he adided.

Students haye become so accutomed to tha pollution in the emviromment thot thoy are either undware of the danger or mo lopmer affected by the Or no lopirer affected by the said.

SYGAMLSE UNVERGTY EOOKETORES
ART DEPT.

Reg \($ 2.75\) per sheet
3 sheets for $6
- ariocted ehoetz only
- while quentitias inst - otfer axpires \(2 / 23 / 79\)

Redeem at \(\qquad\) onuroe n:

montarone crancos matrencumat
coukin trowe nours:
cat \(+\infty=0-20\)

SUB coupon
SUB.

\section*{C-THRU SELECTED SHEETS with this coupon}

3 sheets \($ 6.00\)
Reg. 52.75 per sheet
Pay at rear art counter
SUB
Coupon expires 2/23/79

\section*{Ballot for Hillel Elections}

Feb. 14 & 15
1. Positions Available:
posident
Socian
Yice-Prenident
Roligion
Traseurer
Progrernming
Membership

Petitions puailabie Thùr. Feb. 1. Hillel Office. Hendricks Chapel. Rerurn petitions by Wed. Fab. 7. Any Hillel mernber eligible to run.
II. Amendment to the Constitution:

For Fefomm Action Chairmien. Propoped is pasasad by Hitlal Executive Board Jen. 25. 1979.
We hereby propose to amend the constitution to add on additionat chairmanship to be filled by any student. His or her duties will be to develog progremming-social relipious and cultural-of interest to the Raform student body and to Jowish students in all. The purpose of this amendment is to promote more active mambership in Hillel and to

To be passed. Amemdment newds \(2 / 3\) mujority of all membert who

\title{
The Oeth Orente
}

\section*{-}

\section*{Contrined tron peoe one} years." He added, however that aince a report way made about two monthe ago by an environmental hyrienist from the Occupationnal Safety and Frealth Administration, Space and Facilitiea has been responivive to the problem.
Cortere waid that as more information about the daugerm of noxious fumes become availablo, people will realize the meed 4 or proper ventilation syaternin.
While atudenta in Steile Hall will #oon be breathink endisr art studenta in Smith Nall mugt atill deal with the problem. John Orentlicher, an emocieto profeesici in'.VPA said the vemtilation problem in Smith Hell is throrimort the entire building rather then

\title{
The Brothers of BETA THETA PI
}
cordially invite you to

\section*{Rush:}

\section*{Tonight, Jan. 30 - Pizza Party Thurs., Feb. 1 - Open House}

\section*{208 Walnut PI.}
(the red. whise a blue houte behind Eird Library)

Weire looking for men who want the chance to grow and be leaders Give BETA your best shot: maké it tidhat Flights leave from & return to Kenmedy Intermational Airport on Eastern Airlines.

Accomodations at the Coral Island Mrotel.
 40 sunats axuatimbla

Sherman's Quest

by Chuck Wing

What's the Rush? Don't Hurry Stop by TEP and meet Bird, Fish, the Dancing Bear and other animals and assorted party nuts. Tonight from \(\delta^{3}-l l\)

TAU EPSILON PHI 907 Walnut Ave. (Behind Bird'

HAVE A PLANT SHOW IN YOUR OORMITORY, FRA. TERNITY OR SORORITY HOUSE and earn money for your organization.

458-8030
Hudson Creek House Piants N. Syracuse NY 132 N. Syracuse. AY 13212

(whth en minkminm of 30 seats boolcef)
49 evate maximany per tris departing 5:30 Friday from campus returning approx. 10:00PM Sunday Cost per person \($ 79.00\)
A hot gand wilk on arrival and brealikast and-dinner at the hoovil mre lmeladed dinliy.
Fromes will be triple and untind only.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TODAY}

Artado Cfub mests कt 7 tonight in Archbold Gym.
Free funch sponsortad by Hillel feblures Gienn Richmer. director of Student Struggle for Sowiat Jewry. speaking a.m. in the Miliel lounge. Hendrick Chapel. "Olympics 19 ao in Aussiat What Con wio Do Abourt to '- featur ing Glenn Rienter, open discetsition, will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Noble Room, Hendricks Chepel.
Greduete biology etcident aeminar: Carl Pratt will speak on peminar: Carl Pratt will speak on The Role of Minefal Nuttition in the Structure and Organization of an old Fiald Flant Community" at 4 pm. toFiald Plamt Commun day in 117 Lyman.
day in ix-weok discussion of the Gospell as understood by Paul with an emphasis on contemporary religious ars exhical implicalions Room, Mendricks Chapel. Evon, Mendricks Chapel.
Evening ditcustiont on the Biblical and theological concerns for begin at \(7: 30\) tonight at Community House, 711 Comstock Ave.
izraet Programs on Campus meets at 8:30 tonight in the Haven lounge. Short tilm on Jerusatem. AMA cockreil party will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Alumni founge. Women's Buitiding, All members.
Fiving Cluts and faculty welcome. Flying Club meers at 8 tonight in Ge Dellplain main lounge.
Gay man's social is held from 8 p.m.-midnight every Tuwsday at 103 College Place. Beer, soda, wine cheese. Donations requesied.
Pra-marriage class will be hald at 7 tonight in the Newman Center Represpantetive from Footo Cone and Belding Advertising will speak ax 7:30 tonignt as the Holliday Inn on East Genesee Streat. Any Newhouse students interested in odverdsing are welcome.
Destint for poetry ind fiction conterret in toduy. Entrias must be' typed in triplicate and given ind: Proleswor George Elliot, 300.9 Ah Williems Memorial Prive \(i 6100\) to best oomere) by e praduete studens. Whiffen Prize (425ifor best poem try. en undergratuate. Dotmore. Schwart Prize ( \($ 35\) ) for best, poern by an underpraduste or graduate. student. and Stephen Crane Prizéfor Fiction ( \($ 50\) ) for best short story by a greduate student.

\section*{TOMORROW}

AAFSU will meet at B:30 p.m tomorrow in the 1934 Room Nowhouse II. New members weicorne. Otd members please ateend.
Anthropology colloquium: D.G Cochrene. A. Bharzi. M. Barkun and A. Porterferd will discuss Jonestown: Paraduse Lost? at 8 Bird Library.
Free lunch sponsored by Hilles features Profassor Murray Miron speaking "Jewish Rooss and Cults and Their Effects" at 11:45 a.m. tomorrow in the Hiliel lounge. Hendricks Chepet.
Arthur Kurawell wilt spesk on Jowish Genaolony at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hiflet tounge, Hendricks Chapet.
Architecture fecture: Susana Torte, visiting critic. will speak on Arthitectura benveen Forma! Autonomy and Social Concern p.m. \({ }^{\text {Went to proctice Gemman. meet }}\) Ger Went to prectice German. meet people and have fun? Come to Com from 2-3 tomorrow Nigerian lunch will be held at the Intemationst Siudent Office. 230 Euclid Ave., at moon tomorrow. S 1.50.

\section*{Scripture Studies:}

\section*{Paul's Letter to the Romans}

Today -Noon Noble Rm., Hendricks Chapel

Begin a six-week exploration and discussion of the Cospel as understood by Paul and reflected through his letter to the Romans. Emphasis is on.contemporary relfgious and ethical implications.

Led by Chaplain John D. Jones in cooparation with Dean John McCombe. Asst. Dean Darroll Fasching and Chaplain Betty Borve Sehiess

A Program of Hendricks Chapel

\section*{Sigma \(\mathbb{C h i}\) Ifraternity}

\section*{RUSH DATES}

Tues. Jan. 30
Thurs. Feb. 1
7-10
737 Comstock Ave.
"mare thin a degree"

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale} Complete Line of PANTENE Products NOW In Stock ORANGE TONSORLAL t SUPPLY 7275 . Crouse Ave. next to S. U. Pomt Office. 475-9289. TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: ASSORTED SWEATERS \(10^{\circ}\) JOGGING SNEAKEAS &10 5 . U. JACKETS *9.98. IW HALI 738 S . CROUSEAVE. \(478=3304\)
zorta's gor grent pizze smd hot wotss with morcarolls cheerse - we deliver \(5-2\) o.m. 7 dovs - 472-5075
Pabst \(1 / 2 \mathrm{ken}\) - 21.95 . Bud \(1 / 2 \mathrm{keg}\) 925, Pabst t/k keg B13.25.50/1202. cups 89 c at the Party Source 4468281.

For Sate.- Harr Froentyie akitil 1.75 For Brand Now. \($ 120.422-1715\) NEW WINTER WOOLIES at SECOND HAND ROSE. WWII Woolarmy coats HAND ROSE. Wool wold kakhi pants $15.0. . 713 S . Crouse Ave.
\($ 12.00\). 713 S . SI2.00. Winter clearance fup to \(50 \%\) SALE Winter clearance lup to 50\% Off) SECOND HANO ROSE Vintage Clothing (1500's-1940's)
72 Opotwegon. Cioan. Needss some 72 Opolwagon. Cioan. Needs some work. 162
Would \(85^{\circ}\) and sunny bother you? 11 not, follow the crowd to Puerto Rico. not. follow the crowd to Puerro Rico.
March breek. \($ 299\) inclusive. 478 . 0745.4718359 .
0745. 47.8359 . Durst M-301 phctographic entarger.
Like new. Suited for all negative Like now. Suited for all negative sizes. Sixy dollars or b/o. Call Rick sizes.
at 475 -8883

\section*{Personals}

Rush PHI DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesday, and Thursday 7:00-10:00 Rock - vour love has made this the happiest yr bling your pringesy An niversan darling. Your princess. First Roundabout Cutiture Cooking Club demonstrition: eggoll. Serve With iried rice and eggadicp soup. On Thurs.. Fob. T. in Community House \(422-6512\) everring time. \($ 2.00\) nonmember, s 1.25 member Even if ther's nd such ining as a froe sunch. you can have some FREE (ocross from Sims) Mon.. Tues. \begin{tabular}{l} facross \\
Thurs., 7 trom \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
Jona, , 7 er 10 have a go at gering Brt flail passes which are worthless. By the way do you know where Oueensway is? Kneehead AKA Wanna tall on the ice. in Amsterdem egain. This time No. 2 may happen. John Trevolta.
Donna why did you hide behind the ruins when you saw trie? in be wail ing for vou. Love Vitro.
Check it out before in's too tate. The time is nowlitor you to sete what Phi Lamma Delta is all mbout. Be a part of it. All the beer and bonko Fill Wildmen you can nandle. Mon.. Fues., Thur, 7-10. Set., i-4. 732 Comstock Ave. Free bear.
IRA BEFKKOWITZ from Lon Gisland Happy Birthday, we tove youl Lo and Hap FFo.
Join the campua feadera: Rush Sigms Alohe Mu Fratarnity. Tonight tram and \(E\), Adams

A more colurty gentlaman you will not find than Prince Miller Triplefist who cordially tends to your needs this evening with throe athort fitiends. atl for the ebsurdy tow prites of one ong gragnback doltar. Rudimentary oxplanation: 3 Miller shorts 1.00 . Erothertiood. Friendship. Lendership. Scholarship. Character. Social suature. Find them at SAM MY. Rush tonight through Friday.

\section*{For rent}

Room in Apt very ciose to campus. Nice place - peoplo Kitchen big - living room, washer/dryer call 422 . 1750 Ellen.
Private rooms furnished, share kitChen, bath and living room. Cleann, walking distance - 474-1303 - or 472 -0154.
Apartments furnished, walking dis. tame. One month's security, no fesse, immediste occupsncy- 637. 6SSO, Terrific room: in house. Westcott area. 70 /plus utilitios. Graat area. \(70 /\) plus utilities.
Grasat focation, fum roommates. 472-1224 One room- sik bedroom house- 932 Ackerman, thry May or Sept. Nice people. Gary \(476-1621\)
For Rent: Eticiency apartment. Walling distance. Avaiteble Fob. \($ 130\) morith includers utilities. 478 2675 . 2675 .
Single room in furnished 3 bedroam house. Washer, on/off street parking. on bus line. Westcort SL. \($ 110\) utilities. Call 473-3336.

\section*{Wanted}

Low on money and reeords that eren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECOROS. Bring theminf for instant. cash. Top prices paidi \(472 \cdot 3235\) Mon.-Sat. 11 -6.

Wanted: Kitchen Boy. Froe bourd 907 Walout Avenve bohind Dird Library. 471-7655 or 423-2648. Atk for Bill or Gary.
Counsahors: Adirondack Boys Cemp: 7/2 wks: \(8500-600\) Swirnming, Sail ing Canoeing. Cimperaft Arehery Craft. Tonnis, Drivar. Mill Vation Rew piesstorng wy Min Vatiey Road. Pitsiford. Ny 1453.4

NEED EXTRA CASH7 Work ar your convenience. Call Patti ovenings or weokends. 483-4024
Students seek roommate. Euclid Ave. 600's. 395 per momth. 471 1618. Al or keren.

\section*{Lost & found}

Lost - Brown wallet Tues. \(1 / 23\). Slocum Hall vicinity. Many imeplaceable isems. Please canDennis 474 -9928 or mail to \($ 68\) Lambreth Lane. Syracuse, NY 13210. Reward: 1978 Adlai E. Stevenson High Semool rimg. Lost in 3rd floor Hothroom Simg Halt. Contact: bahroon Sims Hall.
James Johnson \(x-3-2023\).

\section*{Services}

LET US DO YOUR TYPANG. Quick Efficiant - & VERY ECONOMICALII No job too big - none too small. Call Vicki Meadows 471-5503.
MEN WOMENI IOBS CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHFERS. Ngexperience. High payl See Europe, Hawaii, Austrailia. So. America: Winterl Summert Send \($ 3.85\) for info. to SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035. Sacto. Ca. 95860 .
ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands. Wholesale pricesFully guaranteed. Cmeck around. then call 478.8667 .

Gifford Aud.
7 8. 9. §1.50
TONIGHT TOMORROW & THURSDAY

The firft mahnimellolitywood tilus to demi cerioumy with the Vietnary Dern plus the cinmmatography of Haekell Wexisp and a number of Derr plus the cinemntography of Maskell Wexior and enumber of

\section*{ZOYDA'S PIZZA}
-The Best in Townand Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese
WE DELIVER
7. days a weok
472-5075
5 p.m.-2 a.m.

\section*{Women, Theology and Politics}

\section*{Tonight - 7:30 p.m. Community House 711 Commock Ave.}

A series of evening discussions which will identify the biblical and theological imperatives which call for political activity on behaif of women. issues of current public interest and strategies of political action wilt be explored.

Led by Chaplin Betty Bone Schiest and Chaplain-Intern Lieine Hawxhurst.
A program of Hendricks Chapel

Interested in fraternities?
Come check out

\section*{푸를 \\ and see what we} are really-like
Come see us,
party a little and then you will know who is best. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10
Sunday 1-4

Phi Gamma Delta
732 Comstock Ave. FREE BEER

Syracuse captain D ale Shackloford (33) broke out of a mild tcoring slump last night as he canned 27 points against West Virginia. Here Shack purts in two over Mountaineer Dave Allars (40). Dave Allars (40).

\section*{SU overpowers Mounties \\ successful on 11 consecutive ahots, including}

By Dave Stern
When last night's starting lineupa were announced Marty Headd could tell that something was "goofy."

Weat Virsinia coach Gale Catlett tried a special strategy to beat Syracuse, but it wasn't quite goofy enough as the Orangemen outsmarted and out muscled the Mountaineers 90-74, in front of 8,167 fans at Manley Field House.
The win, SU's 12 th in a yow and 42 nd straight at Manley, gives the Orange an 18 -2 record. The Orange alao moved up to eighth in the UPI poll which will be released today.

The Mountaineers' record fell to \(10-7\) as they continue to have difficulty winning on the road.

Catiett started a lineup which included sixth man Dana Perno, a 6-foot-2 guard, glong with Euards Lowes Moore and Joe Fryz, center Junius Lewis and forward Noah Moore. The strategy behind the defenae they played (which is called a "triangle and two") is to apply pressure on a team with two outstanding guards.

Catlett's plan was only partially súccessful. While it held Headd and Hal Cohen to a combination of orily 12 points, the Syracuse front line bination of orily 12 points, the Syracuse front line Obused the strategy as Dale Shackleford, Louis prints respectively.
"We tried to make Headd and Cohen change their rhythm," Catlett said, "and we wanted to make their forwards handle the ball more than they are used to "

However, (SU coach) Jim (Boeheim) had the forwards in the right place," Catlett added. "They adjusted very well to the strategy:"
The Syracuse performance in the furst half was a clearindication that the strategy was going to fail.
The front line connected for four of the first five field goals to give Syracuse a \(10-5\) lead. A Bouie layup between four Headd baskets gave the Orange a \(20-11\) advantage midway through the first half.
Headd's four hoops in four attempts made him seven against-Manhattan Saturday night: "I'm starting to get my confidence," Headd asid. "I feel good abont taling my shotes."
With the Orange leading \(36-29\) and about two minutes to go in the first half. Shackleford and Bouie each tallied a basket and two fonl shots to give Syracuse a 44 - 33 halftime lead.
Syracuse connected on almost 70 percent of its shots from the fioor before intermission. "We hit almost every shot we wanted to in the first half," Boeheim said.
Orr helped grease the Syracuse offense as he dished out eight of his record-tying 13 assists in the first half. "Louis was very effective tonight," Boeheim said. "He was making some quick decisions out there that led to some important decisions out there that led to some important points." Orr also led all rebounders with nine.
Boeheim felt the Mountaineers could have won the game in the second half. After the Orange took a \(70-52\) lead with nine minutes remaining, Wes, Virginia outscored them \(16-5\) before Lewis fouled out.
From that point ( \(3: 50\) left to play) on it was all Syracuse once more as the Orangernen outscored Weat Virginia 15 -G to ice the game.
'It seemed like Weat Virginia didn't play to win the game," Boeheim observed. "They played to the game, Boeheirn observed. They played to the ball when the score got close.'
Boeheirr did not think Catlett's strategy was a wise way to defense the Orange.
"That's the type of defense to use against guys like (Pete) Maravich, Oscar Robertson or Dave Bing. Inever thought any teams would worry more about Headd and Cohen than Shack, Bouie and Orr."
Orr wanted to make sure that opposing coaches worried about him-and all the Syracuse players-as he ended the game with a soaring slam dunk. The dunk was a reassurance that the Orangemen can score on any defense, regardless of how goofy it'is.

Bucknell
swims past
Orange

By Myra R . Aronson A matter of seconds was all that kept the SU men's swim team from beating Bucknell in before the Bisons ended up on top, \(72-41\).
aecond to could have added a have won" Covent we would Buzzard Baid: Buzzard partially attributed the loss to the team's not "pulling throurh in the close events as through in the close events as they,
First places were won for \(S U\) by freahman Ed Lalor in both the 500 -yard freestyle and the the 500 -yard freestyle and the 200-yard freestyle. events, while Herman Perez took second in the 200 -yard buttersecond in the 200 -yard butterfly with his best time of the season.
Rick Lasbury achieved his best time in the 200 -yard backstroke, finishing third, while the medley relay was led by Guy Gunderson, who performed Diver Rick Bolstad placed first in the 1-and 3-meter diving events, but SU loat diving points because of the absence of Steve Russell, who was of Steve Russen, who was sufrering from a rupthred ear will not "hold him back." and he said he "will be competing your way or a stepping stone" he said he "will be competing, again before the season ends."
In recent weeks, the \(3-4\) Orángernen have auffered from the loss of several key performers who have quit the team for personal reasona, and others who have been out tem The losses leave the team with The losses leave the only 11 competitors.
Buzzard refuses to call the misfortune "bad luck." referring to it instead as "an unusual coming of events for the team."
however. "A rock is worried, however. "A rock is either in your way or a stepping stone," he observed. "Problems are, a challenge or an excuse. I'm glad to see the team taking it as a challenge."

With four meets in the next 12 days, the Orangemen face \(a\). future of mainy challenges. Wedneaday night they meet Cornellin Ithaca, then Sunday face Canadars Waterloo at

Though the team has a losing record, Buzrard confidently predicted that "the team will have more wing than leases by the end of the вeabon."

\section*{Track takes double defeat}

By Rob Harleston
The only real contest in Friday's triangular track and field meet at Manley Field House matched SU againgt Dartmouth. Penn State crushed them both with a score of 112 points, while Dartmouth finished second with 43 points and the Orangemen followed with 34 points.

An unusiially large crowd was on hand for the meet at Maniley Field House, but an one State comes to town you'll always get a crowd no matter what the get a c highlighted theken recorda highigighted the evening. SU pole vaulter Kim Gillogly shattered his own team record of \(14^{\prime} 1^{\prime \prime}\), with a vault of \(14^{\prime} 53^{\prime \prime}\). Although his first two attempts at the height were. close, Gillogly needed all three tries to break the record and win the pole vault competition in the process.

Three broken
I took off" he good jumps when I took off," he said. "But I had never jumped that high before never jumped that high before and the technique I needed to get over the bar was new to me."

Nittany Lion miler Larry Mangan, aggreasively recruited by SU last year, came back to haunt the Orangemen as he won the 1500 meters and broke the field house record with a time of 3:44.0. That mark converts to a 4:02 mile which is two seconds faster than the previous record set by Bruce Kidd of Canada in 1962. SU'B Charlie Bevier finished thind in \(3: 50.8\), his fastest 1500 meters this season.
The top four finishers in the 50 meter, high hurdles erased Art Monk's Manley Field House Monirs Manley Field Houre record of 7.2 as Paul Lankford of Penn State won the event in 6.6 seconds. Monktook second with a time of 6.8 seconde while Bill Austin and Paul Pollack finished third and fourth reapectively, with a time of 6.9 for both of them. with a time of 6.9 for both of them.
Orange frosh Joe Morris equalled his Manley 50 -meter dash record of 5.8 seconds along with two other competitors. Judges at the wire gave the race to Mike Cartwright of Penn State with Morris eecond. Nittany Lion Phil Hooker captured third in front of teammate and fourthplace finisher Aaron Singleton. Singleton completed the race onetenth of a second off the pace with a time of 5.9 seconds.
Pemn State's Tom Mitchell and Brad Samargya matched the Manley record of \(6^{\prime \prime} 8^{\prime \prime}\) currently held by Orangeman Doug O'Brien to take first and second. respectively, in the high jump. O'Brien, in his first meet since he njured the tendons in his left knee several weeks ago, finished the competition in third with a leap of \(6^{\prime} 6^{\prime \prime}\). SU's Wallie Howard took fourth at 6'4"'

If Dartmouth had not swept the hammer throw and all 11 points that went with that event, the Orangemen would have nipped Dartmouth by two pointa, 34-32. Last year Dartmouth beat SU by Last year Dartmouth beat over 60 points in a tri-moet with St, Lawrence in Manley. SU half-miler Ken Heinrich is impressed with the improvement.
- "I feel that our showing today is a credit to the coaches and the athletes," he said. "I know we"ll be able to do better against teams like Penn State in the near future"
Heinrich's point is well taken. The Orangemen fielded no seniors on Friday, while up 20 of the Orange's 34 . points. SU's next contest comes this Sunday when a group of the Orangemen travel to New Jersey for the Princeton Relays.

Although Syracuse lost its indoor track meet with Penn State and Dartmouth. it was not a complete loss for the Orange or for Ken Heinrich (above).

\section*{Senate committee on buidget files complaints \\ Wintera added.}

\section*{By David Bauder}

Members of the University Senate Committee on Budget and Fiscal Affairs have complained that the administration is not inverested in in king out the university budget.
"I am not persuaded that the administration really demires that our committee exist," said Nahmin Horwitz committee chairman. "They prefer to be free to develop the budget without faculty, student or staff involvement."

Clifford Wincers Jr., vice chancellor for adminiatrative operations, disagrees. "I don't think that's true at dill." He said the administration has provided the committee with all the inprovided the committee with formation it has anked for.

The budget commistee goes over the budget every year and presents a report to the Senate.

Winters said the committee fills an advimory role for the adminiatration. "They provide us with information on what they consider to be priorities.

They also perform as a watchdog to make sure we have achieved everyth ing we said we would,: he added.
However, committee membera have a different idea of their role. They believe they should have a more active role in they budget formulation.
"If we ask any guestions, we were given answers," Horwitz gaid. "We can't claim that we asked for incan't claim that we asked fo

But the undiveraity could do much more to educate usif they really wanted us to participate. Our committee should play a significant role in the budget." Winters asid, "Maybe they have a higher expectation of what they can do than is reasonable To get involved with every detail is expecting too much. That's really what administratore are supposed to do," he added.
"I understand their frustration. They don't feel they understand the little things," Winters continued. "But it takes a while - I'm still learning and I've been doing thia for 23 years.:

Morrie Levine, atudent senator on the committee, said, "We should have more of an advisory role. Right now we must review what is presented to us." we would be capable of making constructive criticissme instead of just saying yes orno," Levine added.
However. Winters claimed he has been as helpful as possible.
"I meet with them whenever they want me to." he said. "I don't know what I can do to be more reaponsive."
"For a university-wide committee to look at anything other than the broad look a anything other than the broad allocations is expecting too much.

Horwitz anid another reason more committee involvement is needed is becauge administrative decimions are largely political. "Different people have different feelings an to which areas of activity are more important than others," he maid. "These judgemen allocated.
"We wonder whose prejudices are going to determine the budget - the faculty, staff and otudents or the administration," Horwitz said.

Neither side is sure how the committee can be more directly involved. mittee can be more directly invoived "Even if all agree the committee ahould play in the budget procesa, execution will be difficult., Horwity aaid in his will be difficult," Horwitr said in his committee report. "We have no pat answers, but do have faith that direct answers, but do have faith that direct faculty, atadent, and ataffinvolveraent facuity, atudent, a will be valuable."

\section*{Moynihan speaks, favors technology}

Government can and ahonid advance technology as a condition of social justice, Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-N.Y.) said Monday night. "No one could deny that technology has vastiy advanced human freedom."

Moynihan, a former Syracuae Univeraity assistant professor of political science and United sistant professor of political science and United States ambessador to the United Nations and India, gave the opening speech for SU's Honors Condia, &ave the opening apeech for SU s Honors Convocation in Hendricte Chapel. The twoday convocation in Hendricis quappl. The twoday convocation-explored the question of technology and vocation-explone

Freedom is choice, and technology vastly enhances choice," Moynihan said He said government must encourage technological advances because they are essential to the vitality of vances because they are essential to the vitality of democratic political forms. "The relationship Continued on poge ten

Ptoto by Gien Stubbe
Daniel P. Moynihan

\section*{Dome-site opponents plan to meet tonight}

\section*{By Jacqui Salmon}

Dempite conflicting versions of what will happen at tonight's meeting of residents concerned about the new domed stadium, Syracuse University has agreed to aend a representative.
Joseph V.Julian. SU vice president for public affairs, naid he received telephone calls from members of Home Owners Mobilized for Environmental Safety, the group aponsoring the meeting, aseuring him the meeting will be a "rational discussion" of problems.
HOMES was formed two weelea ago by 100 reaidents in the university area who oppose the location of SU's new stadium on the site of Arehbola Stadidipo: The group ciaimes stadium plans do not include arrangements for parking, access of emergency vehicles, trespassing and do not take into account the canger traffic.

Cominumes on page ter

\section*{When snow comes, workers hit streets} By Buanan Perry
Snow is fun to play in, slide in and ski in. But while Syracuse University students are playing in the snow, some people at SU have to work.
With an everage yearly snowfall of 137 inches, Syracuse needs an efficient snow removal system. For the campus area, John Sala, Phytical Plant director, must respond.

From November until April, Sala's staff is busy operating snow removal tools ranging from giant \(24 /\) ton trucks to snow blowere and shovels. The workers begin with the heavy machinery at 2 a.m. and work until 10:30 a.m. The shovelers from the Physical Plant's grounds crew begin work at 6 am.
"We"ve tried many other combinations of shifta, whese seem to work best," Sala said.
When a blizzard sets in, the men work around the clock. Shifts may run as long as 12 hours, ae cording to Sala. On Christmas morning, after a heavy snowfall the night before, work began at Sala has a suppervisor and foreman, but if there is a stom, Sala comes to work when it breakch even if he isn't scheduled. He makes sure things are coordinated and decides whether to call in an outside contractor to help with the anow removal. On Christmas day, for example, an outside contractior was to be called because Manley Field House had to be plowed quickly for the Dec. 29 basketball game.

Sale said that every worker who attends to snow removal has cleaning priorities. "The prioritiea are Kenneth wount of snow dictates." Sala said.
Kenneth Worden, night foreman for Phyrical Plant's anow removal crew, aaid, "We clean out the on dorm lots to make them presentable for parking

Luckily. this year there was no large snowiall

Getting the romde cieared of snow is more than a 9 to 5 job-us a Daily Orange reporterf found out. See story pige 9.

\section*{63v 141 Hinduism: the wealth in India's people}

Long ago, people to the west of the Indus River (whence the India) mispronounced its name and time "Hinduism" came to be used for their beliefs and practices.
Strictly speaking. Hinduism is an ethnic religion like Judaism-one should be born a Hindu to be one in the full and orthodox sense. Its ideas, on the other hand, have become world-wide in their in fluence-the Beatles pilgrimage to India in the 1960 s pointed this up dramatically. Schopenhauer wrote that the Upanishads were the consolation of his life, and Thoreau credited the Bhagavad-Gita with being one of the two books that shaped his outlook.
The PBS world religions series ("The Long Search"") that ran on WCNY-TV last fali titled its program on Hinduism " 330 Million Gods," but Hinduism is not polytheistic. Its myriad deities are simply the endles
Another misunderstanding derives from Hinduism's conviction that there is more to life than we usually suppose. Its stress on this "more" is so strong and neglecting our practical, work-a-day world-lnand neglecting our practical, work-a-day world-ln ticularly vnbecoming when it comes from a West that got much of the capital it needed for industrial takeoff by draining an estimated \($ 250\) million a year from India during 200 years of colonialization
It is gratifying to find that an SU student, Robert Carle, who was in India last fall on independent etudy, saw through this Western stereotype of a "lifedenying India." The following extract from the report he wrote Bound a neglected and much-needed note. Huston Smith is a professor of Religion and an adjunct professor of Philosophy.

IN DEFENSE OF INDIA
The India America hears from media personnel is a subcontinent of impoverished people and bizarrecustoms. We learn that cows wander freely, that people live in the atreets of bustling cities, that gutters serve as both washbasins and sewers, and that labor leaders fast in order to force their employers to change certain policies. Western tourist talk about the dramatic aspects of their 10-day visit: how they were depressed by the poverty, how they were been in India, I feel none of these things. I feel a deep beense of respect for a very great people and a desire to sense of respect for a very great people and a
India is one of the pooreat countries on earth. Therefore, to comment on its poverty would be of little. value. Hundreds of tourists and newsmen have told us of the horrors they observed. I saw all the horrors too: the crowded back to back brown shacks. the disorderly clutter of people, animals, and filth; entire families eating and slseping on the atreets; broken alleyways with hack elime in the ditches. But I saw more. I saw how remarkably well the Indians do with what they have. There was the beggar child in playfully flung him over my shoulder. There was the family of pavement dwellers in Mysore who rose to cook their morning meal, so high-spirited and united in love that private walls may just as well have enin love that private walls may just as well have encloned them. It is not their poverty, but newsmen's cameran and wealthy tourist If Inctia is the poorest country on earth, she is, in many ways, the freest. A Westerner cannot help but feel a sense of admiration, and perhaps even envy, for Narayan's Painter of Signs.
I met such a man in Cochin, a magazine vendor. Two weeks later I met the same person a thousand miles away in Bangalore. He leads the itinerant life, going wherever the season and business prospects are best, always sleeping on the streets. He told are best, always sleeping on the streets. He told me that as soon as it warms upin New Delhi, he would go there. I took down his address in New Delhi, "the diplomatic enclave," where he, with his fine array of international magazines, can be found vending on the streets every spring.
A sizable proportion of India's population earn their keep by entertaining crowds on city streets, making every turn of the corner an adventure. In and I quickly became part of a gathering crowd. The boy proceeded to spread his mat over the slimy sidewalk and, on top of it, he twisted himself into a dozen incredible yogic postures. After the act, he rose, rolled up his mat, and delivered a second speech. The paisa coins. Then there was the old man in Ootacamund who eats red hot coals for a living and the man in Bangalore who swallowed 15 large nails and then coughed them up to impress passers-by. And there were more acts, dozens more, all of which roll back the limits of possiblity. This feeling, that possibilitics are limitless, is what I love about India so much.

The people of India are as interesting as the environment in which they are reared. India produces human development, a pride and elegance, which is unique. In no other country do people command as stately, and erect. Nowhere do they offer their friendship as completely or with euch confidence. As V.S. Naipal wrote after returning from South Asis "To know Indians was to take a delight in people as people, every encounter was an adventure.

In India, even the beggars are a source of entertainment. In the streets and on the trains they can be heard singing lovely native oongs to attract atter tion. I relished their voices, but must admit that thert tion. I relished their voices, but must admit that thert, were times at which my attention didn't want to be at tracted-like in Ootacamund where, at 5:30 A.M. a small boy began singing a tearful Tamil tune right outside my bedroom window.
From a zoological perspective, India is, of course, the land of the freely wandering cows. On no other point does the country seem.to be better known or more severly criticized than on her protection of these holy animala. "So, don't you think they should kill cows in India?" is a question dozens of friends have asked me. These people have a very limited view of the utilitarian value of the animal in that culture. In dians use patties of dried manure for building material and for coal. The importance of this com modity struck me upon my arrival in Calcutta. I visited the city immediately after the floods, when it was suffering from a cow shortage. Children were mobbing every train which pulled into Howrah station to scrape the cinders from beneath the locomotives. Evidentally, cirders are used as fuel as a last resort, when manure is inaccessible.
Another important commodity that cows supply is milk. Since refrigeration is inadequate, milk distribution must take place very close to the consumer. Therefore, there are stables scattered through the slums of nearly every city. I was told that Banaras alone houses 15,000 cows. The owners don't feed these animals, that would be too costly. They allow them to wander freely and scrounge for their food. Since cotws are symbols of all that is good in life, people enjoy having them around, and oftern feed thern

Respect for the cow begins to grow on the im pressionable traveler. One can only admire the peaceful, serene qualities that the animal displays. Once, while sitting in the cool shade of a Banyan tree me and rested his head on my lap. Somehow, a juicy

Drawing by Becky Ucren
ateak suddenly became as unappealing as a platter of dog flegh.
At this point a question must be raised. How is it that the poverty, beggars, and filth don't depress me? I guess that these things faik to depress me because they force me to look at life and at our own culture from a whole new angle. Anyone who goes to India and judges the country and the lives of the people by Western standards will have a very unpleasant journey. Most people who have known wealth and iuxury could not live happily in the streets or in poor villages. But, many Indians have never known these things and are quite content with what they have, and if there were a way to measure the collective human happiness of a civilization, I doubt if India would rank below the West. Once I recognized this, I could come to grips with the poverty. I could rise in the morning, greet my neighborhood beggar, and give him some loose change, confident that he will derive as much pleasure from buying his daily meal as I will from any of my day's accompliahments.

Another recurrent question from friends is: 'Isn'tit dangerous to travel all alone thrqugh a poor country like India?" In proportion to the poverty, there is surprisingly little crime or violence. This is what I admire most about the country. At no time and in no place is it unsafe to walk the streets. I doubt, if the people of any other country could bear the hardships that Indians bear as peacefully or with as much restraint. This left a much greater impression on me than the human suffering I observed

It is not that suffering does not matter to me; it matters very much. But the calmness and lack of dispair with which people accept their auffering matters more.

This is the first of \(\alpha\) series exploring world religions and the spiritual adventure of aur time.

O Gods! All your names (and forms) are to be revered, saluted and adored; all of you who have sprung from heaven, and earth, listen here to my invocation.
-Rig-Veda X, 63,2.

We are members.

\section*{of one another} "Religion" is basically an invention of western European civilization mince the 17 th century. At least this is the contention of the history of religions scholar Wilfrod Cantwell Smith. He suggesta that the word "religion," used as a moun to refer to a sociological enas a moun to refer to a sociological entity characterized by specific behaviors and belieff, cannot be found in the hisand belieff, cannot be found in the history of religions before this time. Tracing the term back to the firat century Latin "religio" Smith contendis religion originally meant a feeling of obligation to perform certain acts in relation to sacred powers. For most of Weatern history it was used primarily an an adjective rather than a noun; religion. Was not something one had, but a quality of one's acts.

If we understand "religion" as a noun rather than an aidjective. we nour rather than an adjective, We belonge to a religion, but it is quite pos sible that everyone is religions - that everyone feels strongly that some things or causes are sacred and that one ought to act in epecific ways in "religious" always implies an ethic.
One might plausibly argue that whenever being religious itself whenever being religious itself becomes the object of one's ultimate commitment, it is inherently demaonic. it becomea seli-serving, a--form of wedige between people. It categorizes people simplistically as either saved" or 'damned." In this aenge religiousness is the source of all stereotypes and prejudices. It permits individuals to exclude or treat individuals to exclude or treat inh their self-image.

In our centiury, both the peychology of self-realization at an individual level and various political ideologiee at the social level have served this function The narcissimm of "melf-realization" has fragmentod the aocial faloric of our community life; politicization of the problems of social justice has redived our civilization to a network of intergronp power atrugglea, and "peace"' is reduced to a balance of power. Today the religiour fanaticiscos of our gecular life far outweigh the of our secular life far outweigh the religious idyosyncrasies of our religious idyosyncrasies of onr traditional religious commanities. The Belf-defeating.
Being religious ia, I believe, inescapable. It is an essential component of our payches. Butitis a classical insight of our great religious traditions that our inherent religious impulse can be relativized and transcended. When Jesus insisted that human beings were not made for the Sabbath but the Sabbath for human beings, he was simply affroming the prophetic element in Pharaisaic Judaism. This prophetic Pharaisaic Judaism. This prophetic ought not dominate our lives, but lead us to an ultimate commitment to God alone. In this commitment our made subservient to our individual mace Eubservient to our indiviaul helonge to the other since weall ghare bel onge to the other, since we all share members of one another.

That is a profoundly different kind of religious ethic grounded in an essential selfinessness. By quite a different route it peems, Gautama the Buddha also called for the transcendence of religiousmess by the dissolution of the egocentric self. The reanit, at least according, to some Buddhist interpretations, is a life of compassion.
At the heart of the great religious transiond one's religiousness as a selfabsorbing narcisnism, is order to recoyer it as an aid to theservice of the myptery our deatinies are mutually mybied and our lives find fulfilment, butonly to the degree that wreare com mitted to caring for each other. Dr. Darrell Fasching is Assistan Dean of Hendficks ChapeL.

\section*{A corporate friend}

To'the editor
Help is on the way.
That's the measage from the Central Region president of Marine they have to writ too long to tranthoy have to wait too long to transace.
"Mhe Univeraity Office is one of our buaiegt. We have plans in the worlcs to matice life earier for otudent worlics to mate lif Customers there. comment came from Robert \(E\). Wehrle, regional president of the bank.

A recerit Daily Orange story with a touch of humor commented on long waitest the bank office. Wehrle noted that among plans for the of fice are the addition of a second 24 hour a day MoneyMatic machine.
Construction of a second unit have already began. It's expected to be operational anmetime in Marcin.

In addition, the bank plans the installation of an automated teller unit inside the office to helpalleviate long lines there. This unit wonld function dinfing regular banining Woura.
Wehrle noted that if traffic war rants it, additional units would be added ixa tirae.
In rewponse to criticism that the preaent MonoyMatic machine ex periences numerous breakdowns breardowns are due to abuse of the breakdowns are due to

In still gnother step to improve service of the machine, Wehrle said the bank has established new procedwres to apeed up repair of the unit when it does not function unit whe properly.
Wehrle
Wehrie noted that "some studenta appear to feal that the bank is an antagonist when, in fact, our intention is to be a corporate friend. Our motive is to retain present studentis as cuatomers, even after they leave school. That being the care, it woald be foolhardy for us to offer therrn anything other than the best poss sible service.

Marine Midiand Bank

\section*{The unique gift of Ernie Davis}

To the editor,
Like most atudents on this campus, 1 never had the privilege to see Ernie Davis play a football game for Davis became the only Syracuse Davis became the only Syracuse player to ever win the coveted Heisman Trophy
Nonetheless, over the years I have read and heard from those who remernber with a faint glown man who was somehow special-both as a football player and as a person.
A. man who gave this university his best and last years on the Sudiron, leadisg ine ony mational championshio.

But more importantly, a man who courageously battled leukemia at the young age of 24 and was cut short of the most important geal of ghort of the moet important his life-to play pro foothall.

And now today, as I watch old Archbold Stadium. being torn away and in the near future a domed stadium erected, I see a university casting to one gide ita chance to A DO editorial (Jan 26) mites
A DO editorial (Jan. 26) managed to put into true perapective this aniversity's preference and ignorance concerning the naming of the new facility.
It seens that Syracume University has failed to uncover that unique fift Davis made to his alma mater. It momew has been buried in SU's corrent monetary thoughts for the upcoming stadium.
SUJ will probably never again posmess this prime opportunity to extend such a deserving honor to the former great Nonetheless, SU is currently passing up that chance in search of a donor who will \({ }^{*}\) buy" His name in lights.

And that will be a shame.
Joe Grande

\section*{- Learning from the living mistake of}

Live and learn. Today, the terms eem to be mutually exclusive In 1971, the Maxwell Graduate Students Association made a propoisal to convert Shaw Hall into a facility as well as environmental capacity by as well as environmental capacity by bringing together students (graduate and undergraduate) whose major and undergraduate) whoso major interests lie in the Marwall professors - all of whom will be learning from each other while they live.
This proposal was hailed as being comparable to systems in existence at comparable to systems in existence at across the nation, and as a chance for SU to "finally show some innovation." The plan was for 50 instructors to live with nearly 300 etudents in an environment conducive to the free exchange of ideas. Shaw Hall was going to be a place where students could work and live with pexsons who could give them insight into the problems of modern technology. It would have given them a place to live with poets and artists - who have expressed themselves to the world and are willing to show students their ideas known.
But between MGSA's proposal and the beginning of the living/learning programin 1974 , some drantic changes were made. Some elements that were whe very essence of the proposal were the very essence of the proposal we Shà Hallis still called a living/lear* aing center, but if falls far short of the original proposal. The concept of coms munity is nothing more than a glorified system of floor activities. Also, Shaw is predominantly composed of underTAss. One resident teacher represents TAs. One residen.

the entire faculty.
Students who are not really interested in the program manage to slip through the ocreening process, deriring Shaw becanse of its closeness to the Quad. Or they are just arbitarily some, the only experience they getout of Shaw's special-intereat group program is partying experience. Those who don't want to participate can easily a void gronp activities.
No one knows or is willing to say just what happened to the living/learning program between conception and im. plementation. Fromi ita actions, the university showed it didn't want to bear the trouble or expense of making. 50 single rooms available for faculty membera or to open up areas to uise as tudy lounges:
The original plan called for both andergraciuates and graduate studenta move out after their sophomore year. What graduate student wants tolive in a dorm?
Obvioualy, Shaw's current program of special-interest groups led by

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Thomes Coffoy editor in chiet
The Polly Orange Corp, 1101 E. Adams Si., Syracyan, N.Y. 13210 . publinhea The Dilly Orange monikiays of the acmanomic year. Editowial (316) 423-2127. businiess (315) 423-2314.
resident advigers is easier and less expensive for the university than the better?

What happens to the atudent who is looking for deeper motivation, strongex commitment to the potential exhappens to the interested atedent who happens to the interested atudent who could contribute bo much to ing/learning environment?
Nothing. Nothing happens because when the final plans for the Shaw Hall prograng were drawn up, a question of academics vs. economics arose. Nothing happens bocause SU is a bureaucratic university and academics lose again.
What was deaigned to be an porary topicanversation in conternhas been redus of modern technology to use an example of one mpecial: interest croup'ej activity. When atudents could be learning how to express their own idean and creativity to others, they are \(x l u i n g\) string to a wall. expressing aomeone elme's ideas. Ifistening to a speech by a Soviet Jew may have been a wrarthwhile activity, but why not let tudents live with one? If this is as cloop ais living and learning can come to being one entity; the concert of the univertaty it a failure unit along the limes of the Mere. Gnit aloag the Lues of the Marweil proposal should be constructed gon propotal should. be constructed soon, before academics become a baccrground element of tho universityShat Hall's facilities ace not adequate tos the program. When azthor Harlan EIllison war invited to eppeak to Shaw residents, he tools one look at the room he was to btay in and stormed ont of the building. But SU atill owns cotof the building. But SU still owns cottarien whexe auch a program could work. In a cotiage, a fonge of com-

\section*{Shaw Hall} munity and involvement could be developed; a cottage conld be called home by students and teachers alize. But the university seerna to prefer tearing down wooden houses to reinforcing ing down wooden houses to reinforcing them with the fung such an idea work.
The uriversity haf to be willing to apend the money and Ehow fome initiative to bring learning and living together again.
for The Daxty Orsenge

Cen memoternics llve in the atmoephere of em dorm?

\section*{NYPIRG \\ By Jerry Zremalci}

When you finish reading riobably toss it a watecan The naper will then be hauled to a landfill with tons of other to a Landfil with toms of oth Thaed material and buried. Thap Syracuse University Chapter of the New York Gublic Interest Research Group thinks there is a better way to get rid of old newspapers. The group is g :
ing to come up with a

\title{ works to revive newsp
}
newspaper recycling plain for the city.
Last July, the Syracuse Department of Public Works instituted an experimental recycling program covering about onethird of the city. The moject ended Dec. 17 because project ended Dec. 17 beca

Under the program, citizens Under the program, citizens placed buncied newspapers at curbs on regular collection papers and delivered them to \(a\)

The city could not get a high enough price for the bundled papers to break even on the project, said Rualph Willmer, NYPLRG spolzesperson Willmer asid NYPIRG is try. ing to come up with alternative recycling plang that will be economically feasible for the city.
NYPIRG is working on a plan in which a private company would collect the papers \section*{and pay the} Willmer anid.

Another possiblealternative would, be to build recycling centers where people comld leave their newspapers. This would eliminate the cost of collecting the papers, Willmer said.
Money was not the only problem with the old program. One major problem with the old program was that the city's garbage trucks were not garbage trucks were not handle equipped

NYPIRG
NFIRGBelieves that a new trail program must cover more than onethird of the city. State aid may be available for new equipment and technical assistance in establishing the progaram.
Willmer said a recycling program can be formed in Syracuse. "Source separation (newspaper recycling) has worked successfully in such municipatities as Portland and Seattle," Willmer said.
A survey conducted lant May by the League of Woinen Voters found that 86 percent of Onondaga County residents - would be willing to participate in a recycling program by placin a recycling programby piacthe curb for collection.

\section*{The Monk in the World:}

Buddhist and Christian
Perspectives on
Thomas Merton

THURS. FEB. 1-7:30 PM.
Community House - 711 Comstock Ave.
A four-week series exploring both Buddhist and Christian evaluations of the life and teachings of Thomas Merton, Trappist Monk.

Co-led by Chaplain Louis Nardstrom and Asst. Dean Darrell Fasching. A Program of Hendricks Chapel

\section*{1979-80 \\ GSO Budget Requests Due on}

February 1, 1979
Three copies of each request are required and should be sent to GSO Office. Procedures for submitting budgets and further information are available from the Graduate Student Organization, 103 College Place, 4233739.

Requests submitted at other times during the vear-will not be considered.

\section*{University Union Film Forume 8 Elhe School of Visual and Performing Arts present}

13th Anmual Independorat Filmmalkers' $xpo
Eriday-Sumiday February \(2-4\) Thunes: 7 ande. Pri. and Sat. 7 pan only stimolay Kituredge Rurditorimum Aidm. \($ 1.50\) per show 5.00 serfies

Tickets on sale in advance ent the UU Offices in Wasson Theatre.

\section*{Assembly}

By lexry Zreman lif The Stadent Association Assembly approved president mesidential choices at Monday night'* well Auditorium.
Approved were Frank Slazer for student programs, Dave Cleary, for adroinistrative Cleary for adrainistrative operations. Larry Beer for operations, Larry Beer for maiversity/ commanity reLations and Dan Keefe for Lations and Dan

Kathy Courtney was also approved as mpecial prosidential asgistant

Dale"a administration will assume office tomorrow.

In other business, the Assembly approved a resolution opposimg the proposed ban on arnoling and drinking in the Onondaga County War Memoxial.

The resolntion anid the ban "would ixapose an extraordinayy burden upon law enforcement personnel" and "endanger the future of hive popular music in Syracuse."

The Assembly also referred to committee a proposal to join the American Stadents AnBociation, a newly-forme nationwide student group.
Last fall, SA dropped out of the United Stateg Student Atsociation, a national etudent lobbying \(k\) roup, because it felt the USSA did not represent Syracuse University student Syracuse University student interests. The ASA isamplinter interests. The ASA is group of the USSA.

In other assembly action, Kathy Courtney, Wolsky's vice president for student programa, discussed last week's layoff af 17 SU Bookstore work-study em-

\section*{Library gets equipment}

By Paul Franco
A new compriter system called the Character Reader Temminal will be instituted at E.S. Bird Library Feb. 15 on a trial basis, according to Gregory N. Bullard, assistant director for technical and automated aervices.

Bullard said CETs will be a "vast improvernerit" over the present aystem need at Bird to check out boolce which is "technologically out of date.".
Mhe present mystem is designed to collect data only," Bullard said. "The CRT not only collects data, butis a data questioning terminal that interacte with the ibrary file"

The CRTa will allow the operator to put information into the computer in order to determine the availability of books, place certain volumes on holdand also correcterrorn.

If the operatormalies a mistake, the computer gystem vill take, the computer aygtem will said.

Bullard said the cost of implementing the new byatcm

\section*{Get all those add forms in}

Tomorrow is the last day for students to add a course to their spring semester class echedule.
Students wiahing to add a course should go to their college office, fil out an adby their professor eollege dann and adviser, if necensary Compleke instructions for the Compleze instructions for the add/drop proced une are in the add/drop procedure are in

After tomorrow, students will only be able to add a courae by petitioning for it.
The deadline for dropping a courae with a turition refund is next Thxueday, Feb. 8 . will be "extremely mimimal" since it will utilize the same equipment currently being ased. However, he added thet seven new terminals costing seven new terminais cosin.
Bullard epeculated that if the syrdem proves to be the system proves to be capability, which provides for two-way communication, may be available to any terminal on campus within a year.

\section*{new VPs}
ployers, calling it a-* Friday thernoon massacre.
Although she said the layoffe were jubtified, Courtney was upeet over the inamaifive manner in which they were handled. "It won't happen in this manner a onin happen in this manner again, act," she said. Dole mid Dale said additional worketudy positions are available at the financial aid office for the SUB employees who were aid off.
Also during the meeting, outgoing officers gave their final report to the asgenibly. Wolsky delivered a *State of the Student Armociation" meesage. "For the first time, stindents were talling bbout campus isanes." Wolaicy suid.

Wolsky cited improvements in bookstore services, housing. Food Service and academics as His adminiatration's major achievements.

Dale Cohen, Wolsky"s vice president for administrative operations, and Courtney said they felt they had a positive year in office.
"The accomplishiments of our administration are obvious," said Jim Naughton, vice president for academic affairs.

But Bob Fart, Wolaky's vice president for univer sity/commumity relations, said his committee had "dismal results."
"We may never aee a union building, but that's no reason to stop trying:" Farr anid.
In other business, the Assembly approved 14 new members. There are now five open assembly seats.

\section*{UU invites you to an evening of ROCK 'N' ROL}

\section*{"JONESTOWN} PARADISE LOST?"

\section*{A Dialogue on Cults}
- MICHAEL BARKUN, political science*

WDTI P AGEHANANDA BHARATI, anthropology - D. GLYNN COCHRANE, anihropology - AMANDA PORTERFIELD. religion

WMEBRES 1916 Room, Bird Library
WMES \(\rightarrow\) Wed., January 31 , at 8 pm .
Presented Byy The Anthropology society

Incoming Student Almoriation mooming student Ansociation cusese this plens for his term in cffice es Nionder's Asembly mesting bondey a Aceanbly meeting. Deie s mominitration tekes over Fob. 1.

\section*{We Are Now Renting}

\section*{Cross}

Country Ski Equipment

DEWITT 6820 E. Gonezee St. 445-08B0 © FAIPMOUNT 3552 W . Genasea St. 488-3208 © LIVERPOOL 107 First St. 451-5600

\section*{Hypnotist to appear at Grant}

By- Brent Marchant
John Kolisch, reputed to be the world's fantest hypnotist, will give a performance of his dynamic powers tomorrow night at 9 -in Grant Auditorium.
Kolisch's three-hour stage performance features audience participation in practical demonstrationa of hypnosis, mases hypnosia (which includes up to 20 audience volunteers), post-hypnotic auggestion, extrasensory perception and mentalism.
The Vienna-born hypnotist first became interested in the phenomena of hypnosia and

WATK MN - WATMK OUT WIYEI A PARTY

Block Ice - Bulk Snacks Syracuse's largest selection of cheese and beer at discount prices. Party Platters and Bulk Cheeses. 15 Different Beers By The Keg.
- Returnables at everyday low prices.

Molson Golden Ale, Beer or Ale 24 12- oz. n.r. bottles \($ 7.19\) case
- Coke 16 oz. 6-pack
\(896+\) Dep.
- Pepsi 2 liter bottle, Reg. & Diet
.......696
- Piel's 24 12-oz. cans
\($ 3.99 /\) case
- Norwegian Jarlsberg
\($ 2.69 \mathrm{lb}\).
- Rondele
\($ 3.49 \mathrm{lb}\).
- Finnish Swiss
\($ 2.69 \mathrm{lb}\).

ESP while he was a student at the Univeraity of Vienna. Today, Kolizch is recognized as an cutstanding nuthorityin the field of hypnotism with more than 25 years of experience as a lecturer, entertainer and professional conaultant. Currently a mernber of the Arsociation to Advance Ethical Hypnosis, Kolisch has used his powers to assist in the treatment of paychosomatic ailments. He has also gided dentists in the use of hypnosie for painiess dental work.
Tickets for tomorrow nights show go on sale today at the University Union office (next to Watson Theater) and at to Watann Sheater) and at are \($ 1.50\) in advance and \($ 2\) at are \($ 1.50\) in advanceand \($ 2\) at the door. For more inthe door. For more inUnion Specinl Events Boardat Union Sp \(423-2344\) -

Hypnetist John Kolisch will bring hif stege khow of prychic phenomena to Grant Au* ditorium tomorrow night at 9 .

\section*{Shoot for the DO. call \(x-2127\)}

\section*{TONIGHT & TOMORROW \\ The first moinlina Holbwood film zo doal soriously with the Vitinam War. Award-winning rolos by John Voight, Jane Fonda and Bruce Dern plus the cinematography of Haskell Woxfor and a number of very effective moments in Hel Ashby's direction. A powestel film!}

> What's the Rush? Don't Hurry Stop by TEP and meet Bird. Fish. the Dancing Bear and other animals and assoried party nuts. Thoight from S-ll TAL EPSTLON PHI Wormar Ave. Behind Bird;

\section*{Don't Blow It!}

The Daily Orange is accepting letters of intent for all staff applications. Applications should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St. Application deadline for managing editor is Friday at 5 p.m. Deadline for all other positions is Monday at 5 p.m.

Positions are available in production, layout, copy, editorial, news, Focus (features and culture), Living, sports, supplement, art, and photo.

The new Living department will deal with issues directly affecting the self or the body such as health, nutrition, drugs, human sexuality. birth control, and counseling-

HAVE A PLANT SHOW IN YOUR DORMITORY. FRATERNITY OR SORORITY HOUSE -. and earn money for your organization.

Call
us at 458-8030

Hudson Creek House Planta 106 Castle Read N. Syraculse, WY 13212

\section*{Write}

\section*{news} call Jacqui
x-2127

\section*{SENIORS &}

GRAD STUDENTS
A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the System and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.

\section*{Nome}

Addrons
City
Zip

\section*{Mall to:}

Grwdume Pronlie Ceriter c/oo'Brimen 0 O.enten PO Box 271
Euffalo, N.Y., 14221

\section*{We Bury, Sell 8 Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magarines}

Bring your records to us for cash
Collections bought © House catis by appointment
1.000's of records in stock - Most LP's onty s2-53 - All records guaranteed - We specislize in out-of-print racords.

\section*{DESERTSHORE RECORDS}
s. Campue Mall. 730 s. Crou*o

M-Swt. 11-8 (472-3235)

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{WATCH FOR THE HUGHES \\ RECRUITER VISITING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMPLOYER M/F

Extra Color Prints or Slides...
(NO NEGATIVE NEEDED)

If you've ever wanted extra color prints or color slides of your favorite instant prints or conventional color prints, now is the time to get them. No need for negatives. Just bring in your favorite pounson. and for three color prints or slides you order from your same-size instant or convonttonal color prints kodak will make you a fourth copy free Bring this coupon in today for tull details. But hurry, this offer sids

Groups to hold ecology forum

By Drew Schwartx
Industry. goveroment and Indistry, goveromeni and envirommental experts wiy put aside their difierences Satir-day to dibcuss environmental day to discuss environmental legislation Auditorium.

Auditorium.
The confexence-is tponitoried by- the Environmental Law Society of the Syracage Univeraity College of Law. Niagars Moluawls Power Corp. and the regional chapter of the Sierra Club.

This is the first conference in the Northeart and the frit in the East to devote an entire conference to environmental mediation-negotiation," Baid conference coordinator Mark Mariner.

The main purpose of the conference, a relatively new idea, is to keep environmental cases out of court to dave taxpayeret money, Marizer explained.
\({ }^{44}\) Conservationists hav ahed their red and bleck ahed their red and black Woodsman zacketa-ine-
Johnny Applesed image, Johnny Appleseed image" said Mariner, a 1978 SU law graduate "Now they wear three-piece sxits and are going to the courts to preas their case for environmental protertion. The project hopes to avoid cootly court disputes by getting both sides to agree to regulation through lesislation."
The conference, entitled "Negotiation and Mediation:" Alternatives to Traditional Methods of Envirommental Dispute Resolution," will present the latemt techniques in solving environmental disputes. Methods used by the putes. Methods used by the (National Coal Policy Project (NCPP), a group that of conal for energy, will be of cozal for energy, will be debated.

Larxy Moss, former national president of the Sierra Club, and MaCauley Whiting, director of Dow Chemical Co., will be the featured speakers during the first Beasion which begins at 9 a.m. NCPP director Frank Murrary will moderate the debate concerning the coal policy project's recommendations.

The increasing une of environmental mediation will be the focus of the afternoon program. Robert. Golten, th torney for the National Wildife Federation in Bovider Colo David O'ConBoulcongultant for the Emerrs norrconsultant for the Energy Exchange in Boston, and Columbia University law professor Abraham Sofaer will discuss solutions to environmental disputes.

Lunch will be served at the conference and student admission is free. Others will be charged $5. Reservations and additional information about the conference can be obtained by calling Barbara Brown. SU College of Law, at \(\mathbf{1 2 3 - 4 1 1 3 .}\)

\section*{School fills \\ vacant post}
- Peter A. Stace, director of admiasions and recordis in the College of Arta \(&\) Sciences, has been named asbiatant dean for A 85 until July 31,1979 .

Stace replaces Daniel 5 . Willett, who in reaigning to become associate director of corporate and foundation programe at SU.
According to Gershop Vincow, acting dean of AdS, a permanent successor to Willett will not be anght until new AseS dean is aelected, erpected to be in late March.

Stace will also keep his job at Advisting and Pecords, Vincow said. He said Jerry Feist, director of academic counseling. will also have more dinties because of Willett"s reaignation.

\section*{Heavy metàl rendezvous}

By Busan Perry
I stood akivering in the cold moonlight waiting for a 2 a.m. rendezvous. Juat an the wind chill factor was about to convince me to neturn to bed, my vince me to return to bed, my Syracuie University Physical Plant truck. Tonight wes the night I would ride a mow plow. night iwould ride a snow plow. foreman for Physical plant's foreman for Physical Plant's snow removal team, laughed When i said i wanted to ride a gnow plow for lack to bed.
and then go banutes
"Well, first we have to examinie the area, and see what amine the area, and see what needs to be done most," needs to be Physical Plant, he explained, is responsible for clearing the campusarea. This includes outlying parts of the university such as the Continental Can Building. Regent Theatre"s parking lot and the area around University College.

Worden and his 12 -man night crew check the anea and decide. which parts need to be salted down and which ones have to be plowed. For large parking lots, they uae a huge plow with a front blade and elongated side blade called an. oskgosh. It takes two people to operate it, Worden said, and I soon discovered he was right.

Aftor we patrolled the area, Worden offered to let me ride a small jeep with a blade in front- A little disappointed, I asked if there were any lavger plows out that night.
Wordien said there were, but since they took two men to operate, I would have to ride the wing.

We found the large plow by listening for it. It was enormous and its operating noise mous and its operating in discovered that \(a\) wing is the giant aide blade on an giant si Gkgosh.
Worden
Worden flagged down the oskgosh and spoke to the driver, while making several inestures and shaking his head n my direction.
Driver Robert Morgan "is really great with these things (the plow )" Worden said, as be gestured me out of the little truck.
A man clambered down over the rods that hold the wing to the side of the vehicle. Trying to be as graceful and confident as he was. I worked my way up over the slippery rodis and slid into the passenger seat immediately, I was confronted with four long levers. The plow began to move Morgan, the driver of the bumping, clumsymachine, did not talk much in the beginnot Laik. Much of this lack of ming. Much of this lacic of conversation had to deafening roar of the plow. But as we approached the first parking lot in South Campus. parking lot in South Campus. he began to talk.
Thoae lamp posts are miserable to plow around. Just can't get clote to them. The same with parked cars. We have to keep our heads away from that window. If we hit something with the blade, it'll swing you right around."
Morgan continued, "Ive been doing this kind of driving since I was 16. Started young. I'm Eetting tired of it now. I'm retiring in a couple of years when \(I\) turn 62 . You need a good back for this. I used to have a good back, but not anymore."
Soon I was competent in lifting the bladea when the plow rammed into anow banks, and in lowering them when we began a new run across a parking lot.
"Can you drive a car?" Morgain asked suddenly.

Sure" I answered, but I had a funny feeling in my stornach. "Standard?" he asked.
Feeling relief set in, I said no, but that did not throw Morgan off.
"Stide over, I'll show you," he said.

The overaized steering wheel was hard to operate, and my first experience with a clutch made the ride a little bumpy, but after a while I had it under control. It was fun. I maneuvered the plow in the parking lot, around treacheous lamp posts and guided the blades by making aure they lined up with theradiator cap on the front of the plow.
Morgan then laughed and said, "I thought F'd retire before I worlsed with a girl." He drove me back to Worden, and then Morgan and the huge plow drove off for their 4 a.m. break until Continued from page one Shlasistmas, best. But, it's rough becauseuntil Christmas, Sala weather is so unpredictable." like that which occurred last Week causes bigger problems. Because the temperature crope at night, the salt does not always work well. And, if it does, there is a water problem because the snow melts and floods the area when ice blocks the drains," Sala said. He estimates that Phyraical Plant uses 200 tons of salt a season.
* Snow removal at SU
However, some people com. plain about Physical Plant's \({ }^{\prime}\) anow-removal service. As far as parking lots 80 , they are fairly well plowed, but, the sidewalks are horrible,", said Donna Nimec, a Skytop resident.

Kathy Fofi, a commuter who parks at Manley, anid, "Spacea are kept clean, but eometimes they can be pretty careless plowing. One Wedneaday before a basketball game they must have plowed too fast because ice and littie stones were imbedded on the hood of my caŕ."
Others hiave no complaints about SU's snow removal.

Marc Paolella, a junior who uses Booth Garage, aaid, "They clean out the parking They clean out the parking garage space in no time. I even brought 160 pounds of rock brought 160 pounds of rock salt. but, 1 haven't realisy. salt but I haven't realy needed it." said, "We do our Worden sain

\section*{STRASBOURG, MADRID FLORENCE & AMSTERDAM}

SYRACZSE LNIVERGTY BOOKGTORES
RUBBER CEMENT SPECIAL
Bring in any 8 oz. container and we will fill it for \($ 1.00\).

Offer expires 2/16/79-Must be paid for at rear art counter.

CHARGE IT: SU BOOKSTORE CHARAE HASTEACMARGE
visa

RECULAR ETONE HOUNE: mon-Fin e:00-5:30 EAT 10:00-5:50

EnHCRSTMV 303 Uniwertiry Piace

\section*{Special Events Board Presents}

THE WORLD'S FASTEST HYPNOTIST
/NTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED MENTAL/ST

\section*{JOHN KOLISCH}

HE'LL HYPNOTIZE 20 OR MORE PEOPLE FROM THE AUDIENCE. MANY IN LESS THAN 10 SECONDS.

> THURSDAY, FEB. 1 9:00 p.m. GRANT AUD. \($ 1.50\)

\section*{DIVISION OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS ABROAD OPEN HOUSE 7:30 TONIGHT}

SYRACLSE LNIVERGTY BOOKSTORES

\section*{ART DEPT.}

\section*{DRAWING BOARD SALE! 30\% OFF with coupon}

\section*{SIZE}

DESCRIPTION
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
\(24 \times 36\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
\(24 \times 36\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(24 \times 36\) Adjustible, wooden Adjustible, wooden Wooden without metal edge

Wooden without metal edge Wooden without metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Indestructible itwt. plastic

Reg. Price SALE PRICE
\begin{tabular}{lc}
\($ 7.50\) & \($ 5.25\) \\
13.50 & 9.45 \\
22.50 & 15.75 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
17.00 & 11.90 \\
20.00 & 14.00 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
20.00 & 14.00 \\
32.50 & 22.75
\end{tabular}

Must be paid for at rear art counter. Sate ends Feb.
23. 1979

\section*{30\% off all Drawing Boards in stock}

\section*{Art Dept.}

\section*{* Moynihan spoaks}

\section*{Cortinued from poge orw} between technology and democracy is intimate." he added.
Poised and relaxed, Moynihan etressed this point to a quiet and attentive audience of about 300 .
He explained the United State is in a period of antitechnological sentiment "I hope this sentiment will subgide," he continued. "Human freedom haa been weakerned by a weazening of ".
technological condition. ing condition is especially felt in Neí Yorle state. He anid in Net Yoric state. He aaid the heart of New York City's the heart of New Anomic decline.

As a result, NYC"has lostits power of aelfigovermment. Now A succession of boarda, not elected officials, tun the city. People who can't get their technology together or pay. their way lose their freedom," Moynihan said.
He said the most succesaful period of technological

\section*{\(\star\) Stadium}

Continued from proge one
Julian has been hexitant about attending the meeting because of articles in the Syracuse newspapera quowing organizers as sayng the meetruit new members, question officials and maiee money for the lawsuit three area residents are launching to halt stadium construction.

On Monday, Julian said he had been invited to an "in-formation-gathering" seasion and expressed reluctance to and expressed reluctance to attend a raliy which, he aaid, would not be the "most apwould not be the "most apdiacussion of the stadium iosue.
But he said yesterday he had beer ansured by members of HOMES that his impression development took place in America after the Russians Launched the Sputnick satelite in 1957.
This spurred an ergphasis in more government eupport and education for technological advance he aaid. Moynihan explained that in the late 1960 s this emphasis turned to aocial programs.
Moynihan suggested the focus should return toward more rovernmentinvolvernent and pophisticsted study in techmolotical advance.
Moynihan said society has Moynihan said society has come to the point where technological instability is a prelude to total Atagnation. "I want to remolve this problem," want to reisolve this problem, we said.
Moynihan concluded, "The greateat pleasure of being out of acadernia is being able to retumn from time to time to say to friends, honor students, and especially the faculty and students of the Maxwell school, this is a problem. I would very much appreciate your a olving:"
the mecting vould be a rally Was an "error on their part." Julian said Robert Wolfson, a HOMES, member told him he was confident there would bea "rational discuasion and free exchange of ideas."
However. Maxiorie O-xin HOMES president, agid yester: day she had not talked to day she had not talked to Julian and ingigted the format of the

She said the purpose of the meeting is atill to recruit new members, raise money and to question officials on the tadiam construction.
Orkin eaid city, county and state officials will also attend the meeting, to be held at \(7: 30\) p.m. at Erwin Methodist Church, 920 Euclid Ave.
"Are your teachers going to strike?"
A discussion on the UNIONIZATION OF S.U. FACULTY begins "Here 1 Stand," a series of noontime digcussions with faculty and others of the academic community on ethical issues.

THURS. FEB. 1-12 noon
Dale Tussing (Prof. of Econ.): ProUnionization
Robert McClure (Asst. Prof. of Pol. Sci.): Con Unionization

> NOBLE ROOM, HENDRICKS CHAPEL

Coordinated by Chaplain-intern Laine Hawxhurst
A. Program of Hiendricks Chapel

Vibraphone plàer Gary Eurtorn is still experimenting with iaxz sounds on his latest album. "Times Square."

\section*{New LP gives off great jazz 'vibes'}

By Cinisck Obuchowbli Times Sqware, Vibraphone player Gary Rurton's latest LP, is a refreahing change from the jarzman's past efforth Burton, who revalutionized vibea. playing by uning four mallets inetead tof the traditional two, has feceived world-wide acclaim sid hee his first recording as a baíă leader in 1967. Two membets of his original - quartet-bassist Steve Swallow and/drummer Roy Haynea-are yith him on Timez Square.
However, the/guitar seat, originally hela by Latry Coryell, is varant for the first time in one/bf Burton's combos. In its flace is a trampet player, 48 -year-old Toru 'Tiger" ckoshi.
The sifitch to a horn player has Eifen Burton's quartet a more' traditional iazz sound How fyer Burton has always How forer, Burton has always morpical styma vaniety of mpobably continue to ex P/eriment in the future.
Oroshi's playing is generally laid-back, althoukh

Discussion set on Jonestown

By David Bauder
A discussion about the religions cult of Jonestown Guyana and the mass suicide of more than 900 of ite members will be held at 8 tonight at E.S. Bird.Library. Pomestown: Paxadise Lost?" is the title of the colloquiuk epponsored by the Society. It wrill be held in the Society. It will be held in the 1916 room on the sixth floor of the iibrasy.
Faculty panelista for the diacusaion are Michael Barkum of the political acience department. Amanda-Porterfield of religion and Glymn Cochrane and Agehamanda Bharti of anthropology.

We're interested in looking at the Jonestown event from severral different contexts," said Linda Hallmaric, spokemperson for the An: thropology Society. "The incident can be viewed with both historical anid religious points of view."
"We wanted to have something dramatic that would appeal to i lot of people for our first public presentation," she said.
e cuts loose on the opening cut "Semblence" with wrild cut Sembience with wild, Miles Davis' early style.
Miles Davis early gtyle.
on the album's longest and on the albumis longest and moat excitipg tune, "Como en Vietnam." Okoshi accents this graceful flowing melodies.
"Como en Vietnam" was composed by Steve Swallow. as were four other songs on the LP. Swallaw's compositione are extremely melodic, yet they are-grent vehicles for im provisation, which has alwaye been central to Burton's banda.
Swallow's electric bass and Haynea' drums and cymbal are a fiery complement to bur ton's lyrical leads. The two trio numbers on Times Square showcase their interaction "Midnight" is haunting and other-worldly while "Radio" swings, but both share an intelligent blend of-tones and textures.

The two-minute drum solo on "True or Falge" may bea little long for most listeners but excluding that, this album should delight all who appreciate modern jazz without funk trappings.

\section*{-Letters of intent}
are now being accepted for

\section*{Assistant Comptroller and}

Student Association Finance Board positions.
They will be due on Fri., Feb. 2 at 5 p.m. Any questions call Dale Cohen X-2650.

STUDENT ASSOCCIATION

\section*{Student Afro-American Society presents}

Brilliantly constructed
... it stands as a vital record of a man of oun time" \(\quad\) MDITH chist

\section*{.}

\title{
MOVIE
}

Wed., Jan 31

9:45 p.m.
(Take So. Campus bus)
Admission-FREE

\section*{U:U. Speakers Board Presents}

\title{
MARK LANE "THEHORROR OF JONESTOWN" \\ A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE析
}

\section*{Sunday, Feb. 4 8 p.m. - Hendricks Chapel}

Free with S.U. ID, $1.00 others

\section*{By Betay Nieayn}

Plans to fund and choose a site for a new Newman Center chapel have bein delayed for cording to the Rev. Megr. Charles L. Borgognoni.
"We have yet to finalize our plans," Borgognoni said. "A decision on a mite won't be made until we get more money."

Borgognoni said fundraising for the chapel has stopped because of his heavy
Two sites are under consideration, Borgognomi aaid. One is at 110 Walnut Place, adjacent to the prement chapel. and the other is a lot between 107 and 113 Collage Place.
Borgognoni said building at the College Place gite would mean constructing two buildings, which would increase the coat by about \($ 1\) mapse
A proposed design for the new chapel has been mubmitted by Hueber Hares Glavin, a local architectural firm. The deaign includes a 400 -beat chapel that could be converted into a lecture or banquet room, a permanent altar, a kitchen, a mmall chapel for private worship, baptismal rooms and a confessional.
The Newroan Center has about \($ 200,000\) in its buiding fund. Most of this bas been raised through alumni kifts, annual shows and the Newman Center Foundetion, an organizaton of about 200 business and profeasional people who pay annual dues.
The decision to build a new chapel was made last summer becauise the present chapel carn Beat only about 100 people, holds mase itr Crouse College, holdas mboutiry Crouse College, since about 1,000 people often attend Sunday mass. attend Sunday mass.
"Crouse remains a hall": Borgognoni said. "Súre, God can be worahipped anywhere, but the church is much more conducive to worship.'

\section*{FOR S.U. STUDENTS ONLY}

\section*{KEEP YOUR}

Only at
WOLF HOLLOW RACQUET CLUB
"Mernbership at Woif Hollow
- 4 Indoor Uniturf Courts, Loeker Rooms, Saunas and Showers
-Lessons Available From Our U.S.T.P.A. Tennis Professional
-Convenient Location Next To Drumtins On The CENTRO Bus Line
"10 "Play Tenniz Coupons"
Ench Coupon Entives Individual To 1 Hour O4 Singles Or Two Hours Of Doublas
"Future "Ploy Tennis Coupon" Discounts
-Good through June 1. 1979

DETACH AND MALL CUUPON TO: Wolf Hallow Racquet Club
800 Nottingham Road
DeWitt, New York 13224
Name
I S.U. Address
I Home City
Home City . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
State. . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Zip
1 Enclosed is \($ 50.70\) for membership and 10 Play Tennis Coupons.
Master Charge and VISA accepted.

Valentine's Day is only

2 weeks away.
Feb. 14

Don't forget
to put your Valentine's Day
personal in the DO.

\title{
JEWISH IDENTITY WEEK
}

Jan. 26-Feb. 3
JEWISH ROOTS - PAST, PRESENT & FUTURE

\section*{TODAY, JAN. 31}

Free Lunch: Prof. Murray Miron on "Jewish Roots and Cults and their effects." Hillel Lounge, 11:45 a.m.

Arthur Kurzweil on "Jewish Geneology." Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel. 7:30 p.m.

\section*{THURSDAY, FEB. 1}

Free Lunch: Dr. Alan Berger on "A.D.L.Extremist Groups?" Hillel Lounge, Hendricks Chapal, 11:45-a.m.

Movie: "Lies My Father Told Me." Kittridge Aud., 7:30 p.m.-Free.

\section*{FRIDAY, FEB. 2}

Sabbath Evening Service with readings on Jewish Roots. Hendricks Chapel, 7:45 p.m.

\section*{SATURDAY, FEB. 3}

Sabbath Morning Trad. Service. Hillel Lounge. 10:00 a.m.

Havdalah Service led by Reform (NFTY) Student Leaders. Commons, Slocum Hall. 8:30 p.m.

Coffeehouse with Israeli Cafe-featuring N. J. Duo: Jon & Debbie. Commons, Slocum Hall, 9 p.m. \($ 1\).

\section*{Service \\ By Remee Turai}

The fory faces looked up quickly at the girl who entered ng their eyes. Someone moved his chair claser into the circle.
Chert there wala grilence.
Chuck lit hilis third cigaurette. I waw always good in Emgligh but numbers were never my thing." he oaid. "I thought I could blow fremhman year away. My brother never woriced his fixat year and he cradaated from a good achool."
Maxy matirmed in her eat and mailed anyly. "Is's not that I don't understand my homework" she anid moftly "but I just can't read it all in time. It takes me twice as long to read everything.

Chuck Alicked sithes onto the carpet by hisfeet. "I never had trouble with my graden.* he gaid. "Now they tell me if my maricn don't improve, I'll have to leave echool." to leave echool."
Academic probation. Failing to manke a 20 grade point average ia a reality for onefourth of the otadents at Syracuse University. The mafreshmen, aocording to Jon Nachinon, a graduate ase Academic Connacling Service. He added, however. that 25 percent of the atudents at any university are on probation.
"Probation cannot be atopped." he said, "but - a Through the Counseling Service, I am trying to reach probation studentes and give them support"

The College of Arts and ing Service, on the third floor of Archbold Gym, providee students with information and students with inicrmation and coungeling. Nachison, worcoungeling, mpecializes in the ceds of probation students.
To aly these students are said "Probation is the rearult of suid. "Probation is the result something more involved.
"College is a complex e ironment much like a city" Vironment much lice a city' Nachison continued. in ad* unubugl for people to fail in cer trusubl for people to failincer. tain ways. This is not to nay. failures."
A common fallacy is the beiser that if perwon does not operate wrell in a college en vironment, he will not function well anywhere.
"This just is not trae." Nachison asid. "Many people who do not do well in school are extremely tuccestrul in jobs or other pareuits. College if narrow proce
"菐know how you feel.*
Nachigon was a probation
he feeis he has a pergonna understanding of theare tudents.
"I had twro yenrs of just not going to clabeen," he said. This gives me a common around to share with probation atudenta, I can relate to their noeds;
When the grades come in at the end of each sempemter, the adminiatrators hold academic meetings to determine and dimcuss probation cases. According to Jene Hyde, coor. cinator of student personnel aervices, each tudent'a record is considered individumlly.
"Stipulations regarding the type of probation vary from college to college sind from strudent to etudent," Hyde smid. Hotex a wtudent can how that his grades muffered becanse of unumbal cix cumatances, wach as and illneas."
Hyde said the probation process begint with aletter in forming the etvident of "unfarmance:" Counemplic prat formance: Counmeling it Academic Couneling is Anggested. If by the end of the next semester the ar udent's G.P.A. is not better, he receiven a second letter recommending a leave of aboence.

Hyde said the student can then appeal to remain at SU. If granted, he is placed on one term trial in which his wort is cloeely monitored-for one semester. If the mtudent tinill does not meet the acmdernic requirements. Hyde said he is dropped from the univeraity and cannot regiater.

Many atndenta accumulate a macnber of these probintion notices while their probation noceive copies an well. Joe, a receive copies an well. Joe, a probation student, said be thinks the university bhould not simply send out letters when a student's grades decline-
"Last semeater my gracles "Darted going up." he aaid Did they send mealetter aly fort? No, they just write me fort? No, they jutst write me

At present, Nachison said he
At present, Nachimon said he is drafting auch a "thank-you Nackisoin made a special note to get the letter finished.

Rough tramaition Nachison pointe to high schoor at the sounte of many ereshmen probation cases. He said atudenta often have difficolty andinetinen have difhighly adjuatang trom tiae mighy achool to the undefined migh achool to the undenned envivernity.
"In high school, the bywtem reepa thendente in conctant check," be anid. "Meir actions are regitiated by their parenta, attendance record in clamees and report candin. Once at college, ther in no one bat

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DON'T GRADUATE} without talking to the Hughe Recruiter visiting your campus soon.

\section*{Contact your placement office} for Interview diates.

\section*{HUGHES}
thomacives to tell them to get up in the morning and so to Clate.
Nachiaon added that otudente must learn quichiy to adapt to the lack of atructurein their dinily Ivers.
"Studenta need to learn to devalop their own resourcee and take responsibility," he nid. "You are not born know ing this. Probation reavits not in the failure of the etadent but of rigidity in the college environment.

Nachifon eaid high mehool. in its present form, cannot prepare btuclents for the quick change. Ideally, he would in part like to return to the feudal ayptem of apprenticeer and masters. He said the student would be educated more gradually, withomt the almupt change in environment that the current system inval ves.

When freshmen first arrive at eollege, Nachison said. they are usunily energetic and involved with all the activities of opening week. Once the routine begins, however, he said the energy breaks down. Eaid, "etudents put aside res said, atudenta put aside respontibility. Ihey start to feel Kuil feelings which can clinical-depression. They avoid teachers and find other avoid toachers and things to docupy thembelvea.
"Over the years" Nachison continued, "this can become so bad that their totality of life suffers and they lose their self-wait until the ntuctent seeke ug out before we can help." Nachiton said. "I'd like to make connaeling a reguirement."

\section*{Ielp is on the way}

At registration, the coumseling service offered probation atucients an exhibit thowing the worlchiope and coumseling aervicen Academic Comnseling ofiers. About 160 atudents vimited the exhibit according to Nachison, fand 100 of those mudente responded for coumseling.
Nachiten's program consists of about 15 student counselorsw, all "rigoroudy trained," who work with the atudeats on a one-to-one basis. The counselors also teach workshaps in otudy skills, as well as working at Academic Connseling's information deak.
"I think it helpe the otudents to have a concerned personn bis woller a per coung baid ruch feel tremendoun pressure from enteem. They feel that no one their own friends."
Lonnie Finmie, a madent coumselor, Eaid the thinlas the profestors could do mory to aelp studenta.
"Ihe profeamor knowe before anyone if a stmient'a work is declinitag;" she eaid. "Iney could try to tanlin to the student about his work or recommand the counseling mervice."

For Nachison "eupport" is the key word. He holds aupport Eronp: where probition stedents come together to tall about their problems and help each other bolve them.
"Support, makes all the difference," Nachisen suid. -By coming to the group every week, we can all work tomether to maintain that initial energy through the entire year.
nomes a student becomes aware of what it is that is hindering hie work, be can attempt to overcome it. However, he can not do this on his own-he neede expport," Nachison hat many thinge worling agetinst hie prograw. He said he in running a choe tring operation." He waid he would hike more funde but it in up to the students to vote for z bigger allotment.
Also. a more open location woald help un reach more Btadents." Nachison oidid. looking at an empty chair in his Support Group last week.
Many probation studente, ashamed or afraid to come in for counseling. He said probation has an unpopular stigman astociated with it.

\section*{Mary empobtion studer} agreed with Nimchison.
ar med to lie to my friend about being on probation," she abid. When I firat came to the support group, two of my best friende were chere. Once we were bonest about it everyth ing was ao much better. Now ing was eom much better. Now probation.* Joe, another probation strident. Credited Nachison With his improved average last Bemester.
you really made my marks go up last ermester," he said. "No," replied Nachison with a smile, "you did it youraelf." Nachison said the Groupe beconge very close with time. At a eession lant wreek etudents shared past ex periences and exchanged phone mumbers.
"Ihis semeter I'm going to do it, said Joe. "I'm going to go in there and show them my go in there tan
3.0 on papert

SYAACLSE UNVERSTY EOOKGTORES

\section*{Finest Sable Lovers Special:}

\section*{The one and only Winsor & Newton Series 7 Sable Brushes ON SALE NOW!}
\(\mathbf{2 5 \%}\) off any series 7 Brushes with this coupon. Sale ends 2/16/79.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

TODAY
AAFSE medts at 8:30 tonight in the 1934 Roorn, Newhouse II. New members welcorre. Old mernbers please attend.
Anthropolegy collequivm: D.G. Cochrane, A. Bharesti, M. Barkun ond A. Porterfield will discuss "Jomestown: Paradise Lost?"' at 8 tonight in the 1918 Room, Bird Library.
Froe lunch sponsored by Hillel fentures Professor Murrby Miron Theakirg oft atewish Rocts and the Hillellounge Hentricks Chapel Arther kurn il "Jewish Geneology" at 7.30 ronigh in the Hillel. Lounge. Hendricks Chapel.
Architecture lecture: Susana Torre, visiting critic, speaks on "Architecture Between Fofma Ausonomy and Social Concern" at 8 tonight in \(1: 17\) Lyman.

Want to practice Gemman. meot people and have fun? Cöme to Community House. 711 Comstock Ave.. from 2-3p.m. foday
International Student Otice at the International Student Office, 230 Etuclid Ave.. at noon today. \($ 1.50\). works al \(B\) ronight in the Founders fooms baxwell Sponsored by the Graduate Writing Program.
Interwited in grams pnd froning? Play wamen's rugbyl Practices are Wedressday and Thuraday from 4:30-6 p.m. at Gym B, Women's Builing. or cat 471-8939 Outing Club meets at \(7: 30\) tonigh in Jabberwocky. Cross country ski trip and ice climbing this weakend.

TOMORROW
Flirt roumdebout Culture Cooning Ctub dernoristration on egg roll served with tried fice and egp drop soup will be held at s:is p.m. iomorn Comstock Ave. For reservations call Comstoek Ave. For reservations call \(422-6512\) evenings. 62 non members, 51.25 far members. infompl telk by poet Carolyn Wright will focus on "Cosmic Scholarship: The Pootry of Ex. perience:" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Newrrson Cemter.

MOTICES
Nowrian Center party to celob rate Mardi Gras. Si. Patrick's Day and St. Joserph's Day needs halpers Call 423-2600. Party will be hek March 2.
Federal Summer internthlp applicietiont are due Féb. 23 ..a Placement Services, 123 College Place. Juriors, seniors and gradues students may be eligible.

Advertising editor nemded for next veay's Onondagan. Call 423 . for detaits and poplicarion Prodtuction neate ara

Pos. photographers and partors with knowledge of music. Call Robin s: 478-2487.

Maragement studentedviser applicationt art available at . 107 Slocum for next vear. Current ad visers must reapply.
Student leader epplicantions for 1979 Summer Orientatiom Program are available at Holden Observatory. 5120 weekly compensation, room and board wor trammo week and a 2.7 GPA and dean's approval.

NOTICES FOR HERE, THERER EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orenge, 1101 E. Adams St., by noon two deys before publication. Limit anmouncements to 20 words. Name and tetephone number of sender must be included. No announcements are taken over the phone.

\section*{Correction}

It was incorrectiy stated in last. Friday's Daily. Orange that the School of Management's placement center is not coordinated with the university placement services, 123 College Place.

\section*{Orange Place}

Community House - 711 Comstock Ave.
Will be serving hot sandwiches, casseroles and other hot dishes in addition to homemade gourmet soups and fresh baking. STARTING THURS. FEB. 1 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.
Sponsered by Hendricks Chapet

INTERESTED
IN FIYMGM?
GAOUND SCHOOLS GAOUNO SCHOOLS CHITRENANGO WHOH ECHOOL-
1. PANATE PHIOICOUASE (ineluding mirplane ridel NO (x polvionge requirwd. no nop limit. Cortificast course- TO owonings. 2 - INSTRUCTICN PAATING simplamp cerrificate course - uming cliulf FAA vestl ursa teught by FAA flight instruetar
For Deteile: \(687+7833\)

Trinity College Summer Program Cassis, France Lnemane and Civization July 2-August 10

Proi:Sontix Lere
toctern Lingtages Departmen
Trinity Collese Hartford, CT 06106

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

Profestional Hair brushes - All brands. All bristles, All discounted.
ORANGE TONSOMIAL. E SUPPLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave., next to S.U. Post Office. 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: INSULATED RUBEER BOOTS ©9.9日 ASSORTED TURTEENECKS 8.98 CORDUROY SHIRTS 12.98 NY HALL 728 S. CROUSE AVE. 478 - 3304
ZORBA'S Has Great Pixza & Hot Subs wisth Lots of Moztarella Cheest and Greek Tastel We Deliverl 472 - 5075 .
NEWWINTER WOOLIES aTSECOND
HAND ROSE. WWII wool army coats $15.00, afmy wool and kethit pants \($ 12.00713 \mathrm{~S}\). Crouse Ave.

ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALI STEREO brands Whotesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check oroung.
then cull 478 - 8667 .

Pabst 1/4keg- 21.95 , Bud 1/2keg \($ 26\), Pabtt V/keg \($ 13.25,50 / 12\) oz cups 896 at the Party Source \(446-8281\).

72 Opeiwagon. Clean. Noeds some work. First \($ 175\) drives it away. 492 9163.

Peavy 400 series bass amp. 210 watts. \(2-15^{\prime}\) in cab with covers. s250. Steve 476-5587.
SALEI Winter clearance (up to 50\% aff SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing (1900's-1940's) 713 s . Crouse Avie.

For sale - Hart Freestyle skis 175 cm . Brand new. $120. 422-1715.
Martin D-18 Guitar w/Case. Excellent condition. Call Pat 479-7403. \(\mathbf{$ 4 0 0}\) or best offer.

\section*{For rent}

Private rooms furnished, share kitchern ben'erxt tiving roorm. Clem. walking distance - 474-1303 = or

Room in Apt very close ta campus. Nice place people Kitchen big - liv-ime room, wesher/dryer call 422 ing room, wesher/dryer call 422-1750 Ellen.

Aparments furnished. walking distance. One months security. no lease. immediate occupancy. 637 - 6550 . 6550.

Roommate wanted: Own badroom: large kitchen and livingroom. 10 line walk to campus or campus bus

Need two females to share 3 bedfoom apertnent. good location. \($ 100\) a month each. furnished.
Available March 1 . No lease. Call Available March 1- No lease. Call \(422-0758\).
Interested in fraternities?
Come check out
Fiji Rush
and see what we are really like
Come see us,
party a little and then you will know who is best. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10

\section*{Sunday}
1-4
Phi Gamma Delta
732 Cornstock Ave. FREE BEER

One room-six bedroom house-932 Ackarman. thry May or Sept. Nice

For Rent Efficiency apartment. Waiking distance. Avaitable Fob. 2675.

Shego hom in furnishad 3 bedroom ring. Washer, gh/oft street par

1 be lease and tea dep. \($ 230.437\).

Stay only four doors from the ocesan Apartments at only \($ 12\) night per person. Call 305-462-5767 far eservations. Sefe va in the spring?

Private furnished room, share large Nive inving room, kitchon, etc.
people. very close. 685-3233.

\section*{Wanted}

Counselgrs: Adirondack Boys Camp: 71/2 wks: \(5450-5550\) : SwimArchery, Craft, Tennis, Driver, Office (typing). ritlery, Softball. Trip Leading. 39 Mill Vatley Road, NEED EXTRA CASH? Work bt your convenience. Call Pari evenings or weekends. 463-4024.

MENI WOMENI JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTEAS. No experience.
High pay! See Europe. Hawait. Aus. High pay! Soe Europe. Hawaib. Australia. So. Americe: Winter: Summert Sernd \($ 3.85\) for info. to SEAWORLDBH, Box 61035, Sacto. Ca. 95860.

Low on money and records that RECORDS. Bring ihem in for instant caah. Top prices paid!
beSERTSHORE \(730 $\). Crouse 472-3235 Man. Sat. 11-6

Roommate wanted - to share 3 bed room apt. w/fireptace. Near Ar chbeld. 478-8188

Students seek toommate. Euclid
Ave. 600 's. \($ 95\) per month, 471 teis. Al or karen.

\section*{Personals}

Even if thare's no such thing as a free lanch, you can have some FREE
GEER at Thota Chi. 127 Collage Fi BEER at Thata Chi. 127 College Fi (acfoss from Sims) mon. Tues. (acioss from Sims) mon., Tues.
Thurs.. 7 -io.

Scot, nice going. It's gonna be great having just three guys in the suite, roommazes.

Rush PHI DELTA THETA Monday Tuesday. and Thursday 7:00-10:00

Check it out belore it's too late. The time is now for you to seo whas Phi Gamma Deltan is all abour. Bea part of it. All the beer and bonzo FIJI Tues.. Thur.. \(7-10\). Sat.s \(1-4.732\) Comstock Ave, Free beer.
AMM: Congratulations. Enjov vour NEW NECKLACE. He's a lucky guy. We're going to miss you bve.
SCOT FRENCH - WE KNEW You'd do it. Congratudations and best of luck as the new Editor-in-Chiet. Love. Art and Stave.
Good tiries, Brotherhood and Presrige. Rush ZETA PSI fraternity. You'll be piessminty amazed. Tonight and Thursday. 727 Comstock.
SAINT MAARTEN IS COMINGI SAINT MAAARTEN IS COMING: Waten this peper or call Bruee 4257376 for detaits.
The panaces of the masses is spotlighted by Duke Michelob of Busch who appears to us courtesy of our fruiencly suppler for cover charge of 2 bits \((250)\).

Dear Debbie. Wendy. Sieven. Cindi Robby. Marc, and evervone else. thanks for making this birthday the best one vet. Debbie and Wendy. thanks for caring. I love you both -Karen.
MING - What better day than today? Mappy 21 sti Ooes that mean my butt ehecks and P.D.A are now legar? You know that wouldnt stop your best buddy - life long pal. SCOTTIE.

Chi Omega sisters, Good times have Chi Omega sisters, Good times have never been so great. Thanks for a tantastic TGIF. Love Zera Psi.

Bets: Another surprisel But this time it is two days tate instead of a week Eanty. Mappy bintrdayll Here's to the best semesterl We love you. Susie and Randall.
RUSHI Alpha Phi Omega-National Servico Fraternity. Third floor Arehbold gym 7-10 tongibe. Our goals Come see what were all about.

WE PRINT OR COPY RESUMES AND THESES

Copies whife You wiat"
131 So. Salina St.
474-4222 across from Svr. Mall

Dear Sturon and Sue. Thanks so Dear Sheron and SUE, Thanks so Saturday night Love, Tom. Firsa Roundabout Culture Cooking Clibt demonstration: egproll. Serve with fried rice and eggdrop soup. On Thurs. Feb. I. in Community call \(422-6512\) evening time. \($ 2.00\) non-member, 1.25 member.

To alf SAINT MAARTEN alumni Thanks for making this past trio so wonderful. As the tanbegins to fade. think about doing it again in March. Bruce.
ISLAND: Thanks for spilling your beans sse. Keep your weall down and t'tl pur gas in my motorboar. Yau know what you are in my book. Love. no point of reference.

Scot: Congratulations. Wa know you'll do your best to breek Murphy's Law. Love, Marsha and Chück.

Penclope - I met you at the Student Center last night. 1 think lm in love. Todd Todd-Wha do you love, me or the Student Center? Penelope.

\section*{Lost & found}

REWAGD: For the roitirn of jack Daniols. 8 mos. Irish Setter. Lost Univar ares. Wearing tourauoize color bandana and 1.0. brocolet choke collar. Really mismed. Any info please call 477-7645

Found Jan. \(25^{\circ}\) on Waverly Ave. 1 Pair of corey framed square glesses in case from Northternd Opticil. Cell Rewsto: 1978 Aditil E. Stevenson High school ring. Lost in 3 rel floor buthroom Sima Hall. Contact James tohnson-x-3-2023.

\section*{Services}

LET US DO YOURTYPING. quick-afficient - 8 VEAY ECONOMICALII No job too big - nornatoo small. Call

MEN-WOMENI JOBS ON SHIPSI Amarican. Foreign. No experience American. Forelgn.. No expariance necessary. Exceliort phy. Woridwide travel. Surnimer jots or career, Send \($ 3\) for info. SEAFAX, Dept. i-B, Box \(\mathbf{2 0 4 9}\). Port Angeles. Washington,

\section*{SWEATERS}

Buy One At The Regular Price, Get Second One

FREE

10\% - 50\%
OFF
WINTER JACKETS AND VESTS

10\% OFF ALL HERMAN & TIMBERLAND SHOES & BOOTS

OPEN 9.9
efo bernet DeJulfo's
4798170

\section*{Women's hoop}

\section*{Will SU pick the Nits?}

\section*{By Glén Udine}

The biggest game ever played by the Syracuse women's basketball team was their first, in September 1969. But this afternoon at 4 p.m., nearly a decade later, the Orangewomen will play a game with more significance when nationally ranked Penn State brings big-time women's basketball to Manley Field House.
For the Orangewomen, 8-0 but unheralded because of their weak schedule, 12thranked Penn State ( \(11-4\) ) represents SU's first chance to step into the national step into the national apotlight. While a Syracuese apotight. While a Syracuae national recognition, a defeat also would not result in any also would not result in any great setback for Syracuse. in fact, coach Barbara Jacobs fact, coach Barbara Jacobs views her squad as the underviews
"Penn State is a top contender and this game will just tell us where we gtand," just tell us where we stand," \(J a c o b s\) said. "They are very, Jacobs said. "They are very, very tough and much stronger very tough and much stronger than any team we play. I would consideritan upget if we won."
Penn State has a potent threeguard offense. The trio of Jen Bednarek, Sue Martin and Penn State's 79 points per game, and together a verage 50 percent field goal shooting with many of their shota from 20 feet or more away.

Kuhl also averages more than six assists - per game while center Mary Donavan grabs 9.2 rebounds and blocks three shots a game.

The Orangewomen will try to offiset Penn State's powerful offense with a defense that was rated first in the East by Eastern Basketbalı Newsletter, allowing only 39.8 points per game.

We have to make it as hard as possible for thern to shoot from the outside since they shoot with uncanny consistency from \(20-25\) feet," said Jacobs. SU plans to mix defenses in hopes of confusing Penn State.
"We will play our 3-1 defense (an ageressive 3-1-1 trapping (an aggressive i-1-1 trapping zone which double teams the player-to-player defense our player-to-player defense and yes, we will press also," The Orangew.
The Orangewomen come into today's contest averaging 79 points per game, with sophomores Sue Scholl 12.5 points) and Martha Mogish (12.7 points) leading a balanced scoring attack. Six other SU players are acoring about seven points per game. including junior Pat McEachern, who leads the shooting 55 percent. The two-player show of Mogish-Scholl also leads the team in rebour. ding, 15.9 per game.
The undefeated Orangewomen, like any team atruggling towards the top, are plagued by an easy schedule and this could cause Penn State to take the Syracuse game lightly.
'I don't know anything about them (SU); we didn't scout them and I just hope we can play our game," noted Penn State coach Patricia Meiser. "I'm looking forward to playing in the much-talkedabout Manley Field House."
Penn State's achedule has several nationally ranked teams, its four losses corning from Texas (Becond), Tennessee (fifth), Rutger: (11th), and UCLA ( 16 th ).

The media picke up on this ranking stuff. It did stiralot of interest around this campus, and I'm hopeful that we can Create the same rivairy wilh suth.
said. today's game is free with an athletic card and an SU ID, $1 for anyone else . . SU ad vanced to the second round of the New York State Cham pionship with a \(92-65\) victory over Buffalo State last Friday̆. Second round will be Feb. 5 at Manley in that staggered upstate vs. metro tourney.

The defensive and scoring ability of center Martha Mogish (44) and the rest of the Syracuse women's basketball team will be pitted against nationally ranked Penn State at \(4 \mathrm{pm} . \mathrm{m}\). today in Manley Field House.

\section*{SU's Cubit rises from bench obscurity to co-captain} \section*{"This year}

he just came back and I really didn't have any plans for him at all"
-Syracuse head coach
Jim Boeheim.

By Joe Grande
With four starters and a tric of promising freshmen, Syracuse appeared blessed with an abundance of basket ball talent for the 1978 -79 season and had little room or playing time for senior guard Mark Cubit.
But hard work and sacrifice were the key ingredients for the newly chosen SU co-captain.
"It's a nice feeling to get when you see a guy who really pays the price and really works hard; sometimes those guys still don't make it," coach Jim Boeheim said.
And even Cubit himself might have wondered what role he would play as an Orangeman, since he spent much of his junior year on the bench. In the 1977.78 season, he played in only 11 of SU's 28 contests.
A native of Sharon Hill, Pa., Cubit transferred from the University of Ver. mont, a member of the Yankee Conference. He started every game for the Catamounts and led his team to a pair of respectable \(16-10\) records during his two-year stay.-
It wasn't the Syracuse weather, but rather the longing "to play with the best and against the best." that brought Cubit to Central New York.
"I saw coming here as one of the biggest challenges of my life,* Cubit said. "I knew here at Syracuse we tould win more games than Vermont ever would win
Some of Cubit's expectations were realized last season as the Orangemen registered 22 wins but, unexpectedly. he gathered more splinters than playing time.
The Syracuse guard sat out a year to protect his two years of basketball eligibility in 1976-77 and, according to Boeheim, the one-year absence and the difficult adjustment to a new system proved a detriment to Cubit's first season at SU.
"Sometimes staying out a year really hurts, you," Boeheim explained. "He wasn't fitting in comfortably to the things that we were trying to do. And thisgs year he just carne back and I really didn't have any plans for him at all."
However, within one year the allaround guard made things happen, emerging as one of the key men of the Orange bench.
"He came out this year and really from the beginning impresses the heck out of us in practice," Boeheim asid. "He just did a good job ranning the team and making the jump shot and worked his way in there from being nowhere.
Cubit's simple philosophy upon his return to SU this season was just "to relax a bit more, play as well as.I could, and just to help and do whatever I could for the team."
Boeheim considers Cubit's "ability to fit in" the main reason for the one-year turnabout.
"He understands what we want him to do and he's not forcing himself into situations. He's just playing intelligent situations. He s just playing inte Cubit has managed to cash in on the increased playing time, more than doubling his point and assist marks of last season.
The Syracuse coaching staff views the 6 -foot-3 guard as a valuable asset As one of the tallest SU guards, Cubit adds another dimension to the Orange offensive game, according to assistant coach Brendan Malone.

Mark gives us the dimension of the big guard whom we can match up against big guards on the opposition. Malone explained.
In addition to height, Boeheim and Malone agree the senior guard possesses a modest repertoire of basketball skills.
"In a lot of ways, he's one of our guards that does the most things well." Boeheim said. "He's a good shooter, a defensive player, a good ball handier and also a good passer."
nd also a good passer." capabilities. Cubit has been praised equally for his Cubit has been praised equally for his side.
"Defensively, he his a demeanor or inner strength that shows up in biggames," Malone observed, "He'll come out and play hard-nosed defense and he'll pick up the loose ball and the offensive charge."
Hard-nosed, consistent, scrappy and dedicated are words used by Cubit's teammates to describe who Boeheim calls "the complete team player."
Now as an SU concaptain, Cubit must attend to certain leadership roles with fellow co-captain Dale Shackleford as the Orangemen head down the final the Orangemen head down the final playoff berth.

This year, every time he's on the court, he has more of a leaderahip role trying to keep the guys together and running the offenme whereas lant year he was just happy with the time he got." Shackleford asid.
What a difference a year cam make.

photo by Joan Sheidon

After coming on strong in premaseon prectice, Syracure's Mink Cubit (ebowe) has spint moct time-stancing than sitting thlis seapon.

\section*{FEBRUARY}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{1978: a productive year for Student Association}

\section*{By Cayolyn Eeyran}

When Student Association President Jordan Dale took office this morning, he inherited an organization with the responsibility of serving Syracuse - Univeraity otudente. Laet night, this duty rested with former SA prestident ArDale has a tough act to.follow.
During his term, Wolsky and his officers chainged from activiats to quiet negotiators and proved they could be effective in both political could be Wolsicy spent a major part of last spring staging an SU Bookstore boycott, a sit-in protesting the clasing of a university co-op, and a demonstration for a student union building. Each event received notable student support and \(\mathbf{S A}\) gained a reputation ior its ability to genera
"People for the firgt time were talking about SA, Wolsky srid. - However, in the fall SA was faced with a tougher task. than that of staging protests. The changes it wanted to implement required long. often frustrating negotistions with the SU administration.

If we ran into a wall with one administrator, we moved up to another one," said Kathy Courtney, former vice president for student programs. Armed with five propoasls for better boolsptore gervice, Courtney would not take no for an answer. The proposals were a check-cashing aerVice, locker storage space, an acrossthe board decrease in prices. im provements' in the booketore's buy back policy and ai bookstore advisory cowncil.

SA's persistence paid off. Lockers have been installed, and in October, Chancellor Melvin A. Eggersagreed to the advisory conncil and a checkcashing service. In addition the bookatore's prices have decreased an average of 14 cente an item from last year. The buy-back policy wil the advisory council.
Courtney ended her personal yearlong SUB boycott last week, indicating that she is finally satisfied with bookstore policy.
During her term Courtney also secured a freshman orientation prokram by 1980 for the beginning orientation programs are held in the summer.
"Orientation was an upward battle," Courtney asid. "We received a flat no a year ago."
Courtney's other accompliahments include reimbursemerrt of unused punches from the On-The-Go and Commuter meal plan grids on a prorated basis and an experimental program aimed at making the commuter plan available to juniors and geniors living in campus housing. The commuter plan is currently available only to off-campus residents.
Jim Naughton, Wolsky's vice pregident for academic affairs, stepped into his poat in mid-stresm, stepped into his post in mid-stream, replacing Drew Boatner, who replacing in Marew. Boatner, who resigned in March. Naaghton made alive by motivating SA's greatest resource: its stadeats.
"I had never seen an SA com mittee that worked," Naughton said. I had a good commitue. The members coversd my weaknesses With their gtrengtha:

Naughtons biggest ac complishment was securing more student influence in tenur fffort SA, Arter an intense lobbying efrort, SA's tenure proposal was apContinued on page nise

Phoros: by Glen Srubte

\section*{Jewish activist opposes 1980 Moscow Olympics}

By Marilyn Marks
The conservatively-dressed young man with a slight build speaking in Hendricks Chapel's Nobel Room Tuesday night didn't look like an activist. But by the time Glenn. Richter, director of the Stadent Struggle for Soviet Jewry, finished speaking, it appeared he had convinced the -15 -person audience to-strongly pressure for crmoval of the 1980 Otympic Games from Moscow.
The Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry is an interngtional campaign which aims to help Jewish activista and refuseniks, Soviet citizens who hava been denied permiesion to emigrate. As director, Richter has visited dissidents in their homes in the Soviet Union.
During the apeech. he described the oppression of Soviet dissidents, and the treatment that Western tourists would get from the Soviets during the Games. games to the 1936 games held in Berlin while fiitler was in power.

We suspect that those Jewish activirts in Moscow during *he Olympics will be santitized from the city?" Richter afill "Moscow will become a city of Olympic amilea.,

Richter, speaking during B'nai Brith Hillel Foundation's Jewish Identity Week, said he based his surpicions on past Soviat action. He claimed that during the 1973 World University Games in Moncow, Soviet Jews with Eickets werse barred from the ovents. Those Who did manage to get in were beaten in the ot थnds, Richter eaid.

In 1978, when a group of American congressmen visited Kiev, "all Jewish city " Rists had been kicked out of the city," Richter claimed.
Fichter also cited Soviet decisions to Gtrictly rexulate Weatern tourists at the Games as a basis for his suspicions.
"The Soviet government has rigidly controlled itineraries for all Western tourists," Richter said. "The number of people coming in will be atrictly controlled."
He claimed the Soviet govermment will allow only 20,000 . Americans among 300,000 Western tourists to view the games, Only 8,000 Arrericans will be zllowed in Moscow'at one time, Richter said.
"The touriats are to be housed up to 75 milea from Moscow," Richter continued "It removes them from conact with Soviet citizens."
Richter also discussed the possibility of the Soviet Union barring Israel from the games.
He suggested pressuring NBC, which will televise the Olympics, and advertisers aponsoring the games to force the relesse of Soviet digsidents or request the removal of the Games from Moscow.
"Business has to have a sense of morality about it," Richter said.
Richter advocated molidarity with croaps at other universities. "If we combine our efforts," he said, "we may. be auccensful in loosening the hold of oppreasion.
Lauren Hochntat who coondinated Jewrigh Identity Week, asid Hillel plane to follow Richter's engtreetions but has not yot orgeniced a campaign.

Photo by Kaith Nordetrum

\section*{25 Syracusans organize plans for China travel}

\section*{About By Kim Seward} About 25 people from the Syracuse area may travel to the People's Republic of China this spriag.
Political acience professor Julian R. Friedman, organizer of the thip, is waiting to hear from the Chinese International Tourist Service before formalizing plans.
"Accommodations are the main factor," Friedman said, "aince more people want to Eo to the Peomle's Republic of China than the country has facilitiea for. It's most likely that we'll get thexe, but it may not be in late May.'
Tours of universities will be the focal point of the trip, but Friedratan also plans visita to communes, excavation sites, the Great Wall of China and the Imperial Palace Museum.
Friedman said the Eroup will probably have fow reatrictions because probably chaveres are taking place within China and visitors are more welcome."
Although he is trying to reduce the price of the trip, Friedman estimates it wrice cost between \($ 2,500\) and \($ 3,200 \mathrm{a}\) person. The trip will probably last alcs.
Many applications have been received aiready, but anyone seeling more information about the tour should College, 610 E . Frayette St.

\section*{Jultian R. Friedman, left, ts organizing a} trip to the People': Republe of China.

\section*{Letters}

\section*{Environmental salvation lies not with corporations}

To the editor.
In his guest comment in the January 25 issue of the DO, Eckardt Beck correctly points out that the pollution-control industry has preaented the corporate bector with an excellent opportunity for growth. an excellent opportunity for growth. Beck then draws the optimistic conclusion that "economic and enviormmental goals are not only compatible, but in many cases can feed and grow off one antother."
What Beck failed to meation was that the firms that manufacture chemicals, sewage-treatment plants and other device to help clean up the environment are often the same companies that polluted it in the Erst place. The chemical induatry, for examaple, ranks second in production of polluted waste-water and tion of polluted waste-water and biological oxygen demand in industrial water before treatment -at custral water before treatment-at the same time that it has become the same time that it has become dominant in the pollution control dominant
The sewage treatment case illustrates this infrastructure nicely. Many of the sewage-treatmuent plants built by such polluting firms are equipped to handle an excess capacity of up to 100 percent of the normal municipal load. This surplus capacity offers big business (especially the chemical industry) an excellent opportunity to dispose of its wastes.
Martin Gellen pointed ont in a 1970 Ramparts magazine article, "The Maling of a Pollution Industrial Complex," that "About two dozen pollution-control companies are subsidiarien or divisions of the largeet corporations and polluters in the United States. Represented among this latter group are Dow Chemical, Monsanto Chemical, Du Pont, Merck, Nalco. Union Carbide General Electric, Weatinghouse, and many others."
In addition, the air pollution control devicesmanufactured by thisindustry don't end the damage, they merely change its location. Often after these devices wear out, they and the toxic subetances captured are left in sanitary landfills or open dumps. Thus, the dispersal of pollutants continues despite the "standards" set by the Environmental Protection Agency. The development of the pollutioncontrol indugtry, controlled by the control industry, controlled by the polluting industries themselves, indicates that the profitinotive is incompatible with control of encompatible with control of environmental degradation. Thetrend is, rather, toward the ingtitutionalization of pollution institutionalization of pollution devices manufactured by the corporate sector.
The "politics of realism," as pregented by Beck, represent a very unrealistic approach towards the preservation of the ecosystem. A more realistic (and optimistic) approach would stem from deflating the power of the firms that pollute the environment via a rejection of the life style of consumerism that \section*{Letters policy}

The Daily Orange welcomes all Letters to the editor. They should be typed and double spaced. Send them to the Daily Orange at 1101 E. Adams St. Due to space limitations we regret we cannot publish all letters.The Daily Orange reserves the right to edit for clarity and space.
pervadés the mass aociety of the U.S. The only hope for the nstraniged partnerahip between mankind and planet Earth liesin the reconversion of the massea into a thinking, working, self-helping public

Pani Burkett

\section*{Down with elevators}

\section*{To the editor:}

To all thoge who have wasted considerable time waiting for library elevators: There are four sets of stajrs (besides the main stairs between basement and second floor) in Bird Library. However, these stairs are now unusable because of alarm systems connectied to every door.
My suggestion: Open up atairs between floors.

Whenever I have discussed this proposal with people, they mumbled about aecurity problems. I aubmit that it is just as easy to steal a book by taking it down the elevator as down the staics. Alarms could be kept on doors leading outside to prevent circumvention of door guards.

Having etairs open between floors would result in several advantages: First, energy would be saved because fewer people would take the elevators. Second, in case of fire, people would already be familiar with the atairway locations (most aren't now). Third, students could aqve time without waiting for elevators, leaving them open for those who do need them.
Opening the stairways would not be expenaive and would niot require of great benefit to library patrons. of great benefit to library patrons. Sharon Davis

In days of yore you could walk to the books.

Judxime in more than Ideslo and principlea, more than Woody Alles and bagele It is a procees, a formula for gre-becomee ever more aware of the Divina Presence.

To the outsider, the Torah may be viewred as a long list of duties and obligations. Yet, for the Jew, the law is an opportumity to experience God's will. Jowish colary hawa help one become aware of our intimate relationship with nature. The careful preparation of food demands cleanliness but also that one reflect on the balance of nature, the fruitfulness of creation, and the purity and harmony to which we should aspire.
The Sabbath is set aside as a day of reflection and meditation. Work is not permitted but neither is mourning nor fasting. It is a day bet aside for celebrating the creation of the world and a time to remember, the exodus from Egypt. The Sabbath serverJudaism as a great cethedral constructed in time.
Daily, weekly, and annual observances, like the dietary laws, the Sabdeveloped into a rich tradition that sanctifies life and strives for God. For 4,000 years, Jews have cultivated these traditions and rituals. Yet, the Jew is known as the wanderer, a people in exile, and always the stranger. What is the meaning of the persecution of the Jews?

Today is Student Association President Jordan Dale's first day in office. It also means everyone will atart referring to Arnie Wolaky as "the former SA president."
Woisky was, to say the least, interesting. There were many accomplishments for the students during his year in office. But there were many things that were not achieved.
This could read like a New York Tirnes editorial called "The Wolsky Record" However, aince we are at a university, we have all become used to the concept of being graded on what we have done Therefore, we have decided to grade Wolsky and all the membersof his cabinet. Grades cannot be appealed.

\section*{Arnie Wolinky}

Grade: A/D
Explanation: This is a two-semeater grade. Wolsky faded likethe proverbial horse in the stretch. He started out strongly, using the style of a soapbox orator. His methodn were effective in leading the bookstore boycott and rallying students for the Ostrom Co-op demonatration.
That was in the apring. In the fall once he had the momentum, he left mattors up to his vice presidents and railed to follow through on what he had but not was a good rabble-rouser, Therefore, we have broken down his grade to an A for the spring sempeter

Obviously Jewn are only one group on a long list of persecuted that prould include blacks, women, and Native Americans among many otherrs. Yot there is something unique about the suffering of the Jew in a Christian world. Withont Judaism there could have been no Christianity. Yet Jews iike Jesus of Nazareth, Panl of Tarsua and John the Baptist all woul have periahed if they lived in Nazi Germany. The very existence of the Jewish people poses a special threat to Chriatianidenhe When a tradirion claims light and the way, the truth, and the automatically are displaced and irrelevant. The Jewish Bible is demoted to the "Old "Testament" and Jews are to be converted or cut off from society. The integrity of the Jewish people is ignored.
In Nazi Germany, Hitler restated proclamations of the early church and of Martin Luther in mounting hif at tack upon the Jews, through which gix Christians depend uyon Jewish scripture the Jews do not depend upon Christiang to sustain their identity. Judaiam claims a uniqueness and particularity, but never does it claim to limit God's activities to the Jewish people alone. Thus the Jews have managed to survive among other cultures without seeking to convert their neighibors, Judaism has no need to force its beliefs upon others. We pray that the spirit of God will ultimately be knowh to all.
It is with respect that Judaiam approaches other faiths. This is an important lesson to contribute to our society. We live in the -hope of redemption; the hope that one day the lion and the lamb shalldwell together and that all awords will be beaten into plowshares. This hope is too grand to proclamations and too cosmic to confine to the Jewish people. We

\section*{An SA report card} and a \(\mathrm{D}^{-}\)for last semester's effort, or is the case here.
lack thereof. Wolaky's saving grace was that, with one notable exception, he picked good vice presidents.

Carl Kleidman, comptroller
Grade: A
Explanation: The big teat for any comptroller is how fairly he runs the budget hearings in the spring, Kleidman was even-handed and wellreasoned in handling groups' budget. requests.
Eeaides hiridutieg in handling the atudent fee, Kleidman was an effective politician. He negotiated with the ini veraity adminiatration on some important issues, most noticably on the student union building.
Dale Cohen, vice president for Grade: P ative operations
Grade:- P
Explanation: Since his prosition is concerned mainly with the internal workings of SA, we can't exactly figure out what Cohen did during the lant year. His main accomplishments, as far as we can tell, are that he stayed out of trouble and got elected comptroller in December. We give him a pass, without distinction.
Bob Farr, vice premident for university/community relation: Grade: \(\mathbf{F}\) Explanation: When a teacher has a tndent who doenn't do anything during the year, ho fails that ètudent. Such acknowledge that true unity will only be fousd in Cod. Judaiam doee not negate other faiths but calls for all to seek God in trath, with reapect for one another, for "Hiear, OInreel, the Lord id our God, The Iord is One.
Mart Savad is a graduate teaching assistant in the religion department.

Farr hinged most of his effort this past year on the Prucha proposal (sounds like a great title for a novel). This propooal would call for more interaction between atudents; faculty. and administrators by having faculty and administrators talk to students who were assigned to them. It's kind of tike the sororitiea' Big Sister bystem extended to a universitywide level.
This is a nice idea, but it's not something to make the main goal of a year in office. Not only that, but many administratora claim they were not contacted about the proposal when Farr publicly complained he was getFing no responge from them several months ago.
Farz left many important issues, such as the student union building, untouch as . Instead, he left his fellow, vice presidents to do all the work, while he pried to cash in on some of the credit.

Jim Naughton, vice preaident for academic siffairt.
Grade: A
Explanation: Nanghton, a wayward journalint, wandered from the fock us to SA in April. His achievemente have become the most viaible feature of the Wolshy administration. His tenure proposal, which sives atudents a vote on tenure committees, wal a major vic tory for atudents and came as a renult of intense lobbying on his part. An advising manual is acheduled to come ont soon, and Naughton's academic affairs course evaluation gride.

Kathy Courtney, vice president for student programs
Grade: A
Explanation: The major SA victory of the year, won over a long period of time, was its fight against the bookstore. Courtuey was a leader in this fight. During the past year the bookstore has lowered its prices. The university has agreed to implement a check-cashing ayatem and to eatablish a bookstore advisory council. All of these were dinect outgrowths of April's bookstore boycott, which was mainly Courtney's idea.
Courtney alao got the university to agree to a fall orientation forfreshmen beginning in 1980. Also, SU has agreed to ease the restrictions on its food service policien toward studente. All these are resulte of Courtney's work.
All in all, this year's SA administration did wrell. It accomplished much more than previous ones because it refuned to be co-opted by administrators. Instead, it foukit and obbied for students. The results were not earth-ahattering - the university still acts like a cold corporntion mach of the time - bat they were substantial and of benefit to etudents.

Thomas Coffoy

\title{
Syracuse University Federal Credit Union
}

\author{
22nd Annual Meeting \\ Saturday, March 17, 1979 \\ Drumlins
}

Meeting 6:00 p.m.
Reception 7:00 p.m.
Dinner 7:30 p.m.
Dancing 9:00 p.m.
Ticket value \($ 15: 00\)
only \($ 5.00\) to members

Tickets Now On Sale
Don't get 'Shut Out' this year

Buy your tickets early

\section*{SU Chinese group protests Teng's visit}

Hy Peter Onborne The Syracuse University Chinese Student Association has criticized the United States for inviting China" Vice Premjer Teng Hsiao-ping to the United States this week.

Teng is in the United States to discurs normalization of relations with President Jinmy Carter and presidential advisers. Carter announced the major breakthough in December, and the though in December, and the normalization was made of ficial this week with the exchange of ambassadors.
Teng has said that the Chinese and American people have "broad prospects" for building a lasting relationship.
But, Fei Hau, president of SU's Chinese Student Association, and SU's Taiwanese students "deplore the act of the Carter ad. ministration toward Taiwan, a faithful ally of the U.S. for 30 years." As part of the normalization, the United States broke diplomatic ties whth

Taiwan.
Firu said his group is raising funds to buy, and develop arms for Taivan. The campaign is being conducted nationwide by the Action Committee: for the Support of the Republic of China. The fund drive, called the National Defenge Foundation Fund, has raised about \($ 200\) in the Syracuse area, Hau said.

Caxter has given no guarantee "regarding the gecurity of Taiwan," Hsu said.
He said the may approach Studert Association or the Graduate Student Organization for help in the group's lobbying efforta. Aid would be in the form of resolutions, letter-writing or education of SU stadents on the plight of the Taiwanese, he said.

He CSA is comprised of 70 members, 95 percent of which are graduate students. Among its activities were a China Day last semester. and a Chinese New Year party last week.
County to assess SU $225,000 sewer charge

By Walecia Konrad
Because of a new ruling by the Onondaga County Sewage Commisaion, Syracuse University now has to pay to use the county's bewage use the sygtem.
The \($ 225,000\) to \($ 250,000\) annual cost of using the sewers nual cost of using the sewers acconnts for one-half of percent of next year's tuition increase, Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers told the University Senate Student Cóalition about two weeks ago.

The university, along with other schools and non-profit organizations, lost free sewer use when the county com mission was awarded federal funds Jan. 1. The county can only qualify for federal funds if it charges everyone for using its sewer system.
SU cut \($ 50,000\). from its sewage bill by successfully arguing that non-profit organizations should pay for sewers a-cording to the amount of water they use. Under federal guidelines, federal funds are allocated to the county on the basis of property values.
Molly Broad, special assigtant to the chancellor for government relations, maid the university is working to "find a more equitable plan for next year."

\section*{FAST \\ BREAK DELI \\ 534 Westcott St. 475-5195 \\ SUPER \\ ```
OPEN
``` \\ Mon-Thur}

\section*{Bonnie Parker shakes up Jab}

Ey Tim King

In a year that saw "Grease" dominate the album charts, many music critics began writing rock ' \(n\) ' roll off as a ing rock in ropering art form. Hut if they had been at Jabberwocky on Tuesday night; they would on Tuesday night, learned differently. For haver two hourg, the 8 -monthold Bonnie Parker Band from New York City shook the walls New York City shook the walns of the club with a unique blend of \({ }^{\prime} 70 \mathrm{~g}\) ghtter rock, At theoutset roll, and punk. An of the performance, the fourmember band had a little trouble getting ita timing down, but once it did, the Jab was rocking. Highlights of the show included a pair of Kinks tunes, a masterful version of The Beatles' "I'm Down' and one of the band's own compositions, "Lady Starduat." The moat intriguing number, however, was an electric ver hion of Bruce Springateen's "The Fever."
The quartet boasts some very able musicians. Bonnie Parker, the band's lead singer Parker, the band bass player, looks a little and bass player, looks a little like Rod Stewart in drag. She like Rod Stewart in drag. She has a commanding stage presence and a seemingly enthough not exceptionally powerful, is captivating. And her bass playing can only be described as outrageous.
Lead guítarist Rudi Valentino is a powerhouge guitar player who plavs his Lee Pau. ike a man possessed.
Rhythm guitarist Mike Castello is a capable musician who seems content to follow Valentinq's lead. He also plays keyboards, and both guitarists sing background.
Dave Castello is a strong drummer who wreaked havoc on his drum set all evening.,
"We're a working bund," Valentino said. "There are times- when we play 10 or 11 nights in a row. We carme back here because they asked for us. We like hitting all the colleges."
College coffeehouses aren't the only places the group plays, however. The band, has appeared as warm-up for Savoy-Brown, Eddie Money, Cheap Tricir and Starz.

"I was worried about rock for a while," confessed Dave Castello between seta. "There wann't much good new material for a few yeara, but material for a few yeara, but The 100 people at Jab Tuesday night will attest to that.

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTERILAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) inciudes
All chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and printing plus color slide development.

> Lecture - Kerida North > Contemporary Color
> 8p.m. Watson Theátre
> Call or stop by for a friendly visit - Opmen Evaryday 316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. 315-423-2450

The firat mainlinaHollywood film to doal sariously with thei Vietram War. Award-winning roles by John Volght, Jana Fonda and Bruce Dern plum the cinernptojraphy of Haqiell Woxler and a number of very effective moment in Hal Ashby's ditection. A powerful film!

\section*{R & S Impressions' \\ T-SHIRT WORLD UPSTAIRS \\ 171 Marshall Street} has the Largest Selection of T-shirts in town
Any 50/50 Poly/Cotton short sleeved and pick up your FREE T-shirt card Buy 6, get one FREE

R 8 S Impressions - Upstairs - 474-2028

\section*{Sigma \(\mathbb{C h i}\) Ifraternity}

RUSH DATES

\section*{Tonight, Feb 1}

7-10
737 Comstock Ave.
"morethan a degree"

\section*{No Underwear?}

Leave it home this Friday

If you've never been to a no underwear party, you'll never know what the person next to you is missing.
- Beer : Sounds Jack Danilels Giveaway, \(1 / 2\) pint every \(1 / 2\) hour

Friday Night 9 - ? Pi Lamda Phi
The Grean House, 736 Comstock Ave.
The
No Underwear Party

SYRAGUSE LNVERETY EOOKETORES

\section*{Finest Sable Lovers Special:}

\section*{The one and only Winsor & Newton Series 7 Sable Brushes ON SALE NOW!}

25\% off any series 7 Brushes with this coupon. Safe ends 2/16/79.

\title{
GET A PIECE OF THE PIE
}

The Daily Orange is accepting letters of intent for all staff positions. Applications should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St. Application deadline for managing editor is Friday at 5 p.m. Deadline for all other positions is Monday at 5 p.m.

Positions are available in production, layout, copy, editorial, news, Focus (features, and cuiture), Living, sports, supplement, art, and photo.

The new Living department will deal with issues directly affecting the self or the body such as health, nutrition, drugs, human sexuality, birth control, and counseling.

\section*{SYRACLSE LNIVERGITY EOOKSTORES}

\section*{MAIN FLOOR}

\section*{JANUARY MARKDOWN SALE STARTS TODAY!}
- Syracuse University "SU" Imprint

Jackets originally \($ 32.95\) SALE PRICE \($ 7.95\)
Vests originally' \($ 25.95\). SALE PRICE - \($ 7.95\)
- Men's T-shirts (imprint errors) & broken sizes
from \($ 1.79\)
- Women's Fashion Syracuse Imprint Shirts
\(\begin{array}{lcl}\text { Long sleave S-M-L } & \text { SALE } \\ \text { Colors: Powder, black, sand } & \text { Reg. } $ 8 \text { PRICE }\end{array}\)
- Women's "Syracuse"-Imprint L/S HOODED T-shirts

Sizes S-M-L
Colors: Lt.blue, black, sand Reg. $9 PRICE $3.95

\section*{Sale ends Feb. 9 No Refunds - No Exchanges}

\section*{craner IT:} bu Bookerone chance Materencmance
vasa

JAMAICA MONTEGO BAY \(\mathbf{$ 3 1 9}\)

\section*{SKI B SCUBA}

ERound trip air tare (Kennedy-Montego Bay)
Air conditioned accommodations at tronthore Villas (spacious double occupancy).
Own cooking facifitios (furnistred kitchens)
OWn staff (cook, maid, gardener)
Own private fresh water pool (for each villa) and tiroe goif course entrancos.
Private white sandy beach.
eall hotel taxas.
-Round trip transfors from airport to villas.
Departs
March 11-18. April 8-15, April 15-22
Other packages avaitable . call: 474-9097/Kathy

\section*{Brandeis University} INSTITUTE IN ISRAEL

What does it offer you?
- a semester of study in Isriet in the foll term
- coursework in English on the political, economic and social devetopment of israel and in its language. history and archoeology
- a strong program of Hebrew language stucty
- important internship opportunities in socid service agencies in Jerusciem
- field trips. study trips, interviews with prominent isroelis. a kibbutz visit
- fincencial aid is avaiable

Application deadilne: March 15
For futther information see your study
Abrood advisor or wite:
Office of internctionà Prograins
Erandeis University

Waltharn. Massochusetts O2154 (617) 647-2422

Exanceis Uliversmty ocinnts students of ony race color, notional or ettruc origin sex ope or honchicap to el ts proprorms and or etruities.

\section*{SU to inform} donors about domed stadium
Syracuge University will oold four meetings later this momth to inform donors and potential donors about. the progress of the stadium.
On hand to answer questions will be Melvin Mounts, vice! president for student affairs; Michael O. Sawyer, vice ehancellor for university relations; Harvey 'H. Kaiser. vice president'for facilities administration, and represenministration, and represendepartment.
Joseph V. Julian, vice president for public affairs, said the meetinges are not salternatives to the neighborhood natives to the neighborhood meetings now being conducted in the area by various groupa. Topics to be covered include seating arrangernents an and raising, Mounts said.
The meetings will be Feb. 13 , 18,22 and 25 at Drumlins Country Club. 800 Nottingham Fid.

Last day today to add course

This is it
Today is the last day for students to add a course to their spring semester. class chedule.
Students ithould complete the add procera before \(5 . p . m\). today after obtaining- the necessary mignatures on an add/drop formi.

Complete information is available in college officea and the Time Sénedule of Clasaes.

\section*{The Monk in the World:}

Buddhist and Christian
Perspectives on
Thomas Merton

Tonight
Community House - 711 Comstock Ave. -
A four-week series exploring both Buddhist and Chrictian evaluations of the life and teachings of Thomses Morton. Trappist Monk.

Co-lod by Chaplain Louis Nordatrom -and Asst. Dean Darrell Fasching.' A Program of Hergdricks Chapel

Interested in fraternities?
Come check out
 are really like Come see us, party a little and then you will know who is best. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday 7-10 Sunday
1-4
Phi Gamma Delta
732 Comstock Ave. FREE BEER

\section*{QUESTION:}

Where cen yougofor arest Saturdey night dinner when you don't have much money...you don't have t car..you don't want to get dressed up... and the weather is typically Syracuse?

\section*{ANSWER:}

The STUDENT CENTER, of course/ The Siudent Center is now open for dinner on Saturdey nughts from 5-Bpm. This Sufurday it's Chilh, Salad, Garfic Gread, and Wine for onfy \(52.95 /\) Stay and pley-the bar is open until 2am. Chack us aut for a big night out.

\section*{THE STUDENT CENTER}

310 Walnut Place 423-1302

\section*{Another}

FIJI
Blow Your Face Out

Live Music By Strombecker Lighthouse
FRIDAY, FEB. 2
Kimmel Dining Hall

\section*{P P P P P}
-The Best in Townand Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese WE DEEINER 7 days a woek 472-5075 5 p.m.-2 a.m.

Our entire stock of Winter Merchandise is now further reduced with savings of up to..

\section*{University Union Film Rorum & the Bchool of Visual and Parforming Arits preseant}

\title{
13th Annural Inclepenclent Filmmalcers lexpo
}

Friday-Sumday February \({ }^{2-4}\)
Times: 7azd9. Fri. and Sat. 7 pm only Sunday Kitiredge Finclitorium Ficime \($ 1.50\) per show 5.00 searies

\author{
Tickets on sale in advance af the UU Offices in Watson Theatre
}

\section*{KODAK Color Enlargements Order three, one is free!}

Beautiful KODIK Color Enlargements of your tavorite snapshots, instant prints, color slides, or KODACOLOR negatives make great gifts, or decorative accents for your home or office. And now is the time to order them. Because when you order three. you pay for only two. The third one is free! this special offer ends March 14 chance it:
su bookstone chanae MASTERCMARGE vasa

\section*{Official Ambassador Exchange to Normalize US-China Affairs \\ By Kim Sequard \\ The People's Republic of China and the United States have distinctly different cultures, as well as contrasting political and economic policies. However, after a agreement between President Jimeny Carter and Chairman Hua Kou-Feng, normalization of relations. between the two nations will occur with the of} ficial exchange of ambassadors this week.
Political Science Professor Julian R. Friedman lived in the People's Republic of China in 1945-6, working with the American embassy in Shanghai. He eaid he feels norChina is 'the right course for the United States.
"Recognition of the country is necessary to keep the international system going and is national system," \({ }^{\text {noing and is }}\) long overdue, Friedman stated. "Any great power may become a threat," he continued, but by decreasing tension and rivalry between two creases för both.'
Professor of Religion Huston Smith also views renewed relations as a "welcome move." Smith, born in a small town 70 miles inland from Shanghai, lived in China for 17 years before coming to the \section*{Oliver Clubb}

United States to attend college.

Smith regards the isolationist policies followed by former Chairman Mao Tretung as a necessary step. "Thirty years of isolation might have been needed to counteract the posture of the previous 100 years when China was merely a puppet Cangling on strings pulled by the West," Smith - said. "Instead of aimply reacting to world powers, this time allowed her to become master of her own destiny."
. Now, under Chairman Hua and Vice Premier Teng Hsiaop'ing, the People's Republic of China plans, to curtail a severely self-reliant demeanor and utilize trade with other and uns to trade with other goals. Smith said hethinks the threat of Soviet military is partially responsible for is partall Chinas toward the United States.
Japan as a world economic Japan as a world economic power is another factor. "The Chinese, are a very proud people," Smith stated, "and they could n't close their eyes to Japan's rapid rise in terms of the world economic picture."

Friedman connects the altered view of the West to "a great amount of turmoil in the policy ranks." Political ecience Professor Oliver F. Clubb, who lived in China for 12 years, agreed that contrasting political views in China have existed for some time. "There has been a substantial faction within the party which has been a gainst industrialization through popular par ticipation," Clubbsaid.
He added, "Teng wants China to industrialize as fast as possible and is using trade as possible and is using trade

\title{
Conilnuied from page on } November.

The plan established students as voting members on achool or college tenure committees The Senate also ap proved a proposal requiring course evalurtions for tenure condidatee another plen for which \($ A\) lobbied.
"I'm absolutely ecstatic," Naughton asid after the approval of the unprecedented plan. "I'm surprised it went over as big ag it did.

Like Courtney, Nanghtom also encountered bureaucratic inertia when working for changeg within the univergity
"Anything you get through the administration takes four times longer than it ought to, he said.

Despite the obstacles, Naughton also helped implement a Chancellor's Citation Commaittee which wil distribute awrards recognizing academic excellence at \(S U\) in April. Anyone in the SU com munity is eligible to receive the citations.
Naughton also superviged the compilation of an advising manual which should be ready for distribution in two weeks. In addition, Naughton's committee began work on the rmization ofobeelete course from SU's course catalog and a courge evaluation catalog which, would evaluate teachers' performances in classes. However, these projects Will have to be taken over by Dan Keefe, Naughton's atccersor.
Boatner tried to get Touchstone, a course evaluation catalog, off the ground during his term. However, it remained in the planning atages becausa he reaigned within weelss of tak ing office.
Carl Kiendmen, former SA comptroller, gained a comptation for efficiency in handing the student fee during his term in office.
Hhe Finance Board hearings, alwaye a oar hearinge, always a long orceal, zan smoothly becanse of Keidman as organization Allocation of fund toted on the allocakion of fya to campu organizations, Kleidman had an answer for every question concerning Finance Board allocstion recommendations.

Kleidman never en countered serious dificulty in - ieeking Assembly approval for fnance requests that cane up during his term
Nothing really con troversial ever crame up," Kleidman said. "You're deal ing with money and hopefully you won't have any big controversies.

Dale Cohen, former vice president for administrative operations, did not have an illustrious a term as Naughton or Courtney. His plans for a bus aurvey, for a booklet explaining the internal workings of SA, and for revision of the SAr constitution never materialized.

However, Cohen did expand SA Assembly membership. He authored a resolution allowing half the Asgembly seats that are unfilled after Assembly elections to become at-large elections to become at-large seats, rather than representations of specific areas
"The resolutions allowed for a larger membership in SA, Cohen said. "Also, students who really wanted to be in SA but were beaten out by competition are riven another chance.

Degpite this accomplighment, Cohen was unable to shed the dormant reputation held by the ad mepinistrative operations com mintee.
"Most of the duties of ad-op can be handled by one pergon, cohen said. 'I fanctioned predominanily as a ire Cohen also took his position in mid-term, replacing Tom in miditerm, replacing rom ril. Drring his bripf tonure Fi. During his brief tenure, determining stadent opinion on campus issues His oxten on campus issues. His exten reference for other med as. a Wolsky's administration.

Bob Farr, Wolsky's vice president, for univerpresident for univeralso had trouble achieving positive results during his positi
"Both of the major programa I tried to get off the ground seem deatined to diamal resulte," Farr said. "Union building plans are incomplete and I did not receive the turnout I had hoped for in the faculty/student aponsorship program."
The sponsorship program, designed to give stadents, faculty and administrators a chance to personally know each other, has had only 13 responses, despite a massive letter campaign requesting participation.
Farr expressed hope that construction on the student union building will begin if "the administration will give a full cornmitment."
Farr considers last spring"s partyin-Walnut Park, co-spongored by SA and Univernity Union, an SA's most striking achievement \({ }^{-1 P a r t i e s}\) are the biggeat tudent intereet and SA. should do what the students are interested in," Earr said.
The Wolsky adminietration left behind a solid foundation for Dale to build npon. SA's ac complishmente slong with intereat in SA have increased. Whether or not Dale will be able to continue in this vein nemains to be seen.

The challenge begins today.

\section*{U.U. Special Events Presents IN PERSON \\ He'll hypnotize people right from the audience many in less than ten seconds! \\ INTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED MENTALIST THE WOALD'S FASTEST HYPNOTIST "His mental powers are almost frightening." Earl \\ } Wilson
"Kolisch's performance is one of the brightest and funniest in our profession today." Johnny Carson. "Dynamic . . - a-powerhouse of an act." Peter Sellers
"I'm glad i was the opening act for Kolisch. Who could follow him?" David Steinberg

\section*{TONIGHT, Feb. 1 \\ 9 p.m. - Grant Aud.}

Tickets: \($ 1.50\) at U.U. & Spectrum \($ 2.00\) at the door SU 1.D. Your stüdent fee at work

By Chuck Obuchownki The State Univergity College of Environmental Science and Forestry trophies Saturdayina 23 -team meet at Mardiynald College meet at MacDonald College Fi Montreal. quebec.
Eighteen ESF students, six women and 12 men, took on 10 other colleges in individual and six-person team events. Camille Benk, a junior in botany. captured ESF'a only individual award by winnting the-ax-throwing competition.

ESF"s women's team-placed first among wonaen in team. events. They were outscored by fourteen men's teams, insquang both ESF men's squads who ranked ninth and \\ \section*{TONIGHT
Zeta
Hgín JFaternity \\ \section*{TONIGHT
Zeta
Hgín JFaternity \\ \\ } \\ \\ }

Enjoy Rush with Pizza,
Beer and our little sisters.
Enjoy Rush with Pizza,
Beer and our little sisters. 727 Comstock Ave

tenth overall.
The University of Maine, whose men's team won top honors at the meet, was the only other American college participating in the day-long competition.

The ESF woodsmen's team will hoat Penn State and West Virginia University in April for its annual tri-state meet.

\section*{ESF woodsman cut down competition}

\section*{SYAACUSE UNIVERSTY BOOKGTORES} ART DEPT.

\section*{Prismacolor Set Sale}
- 48 and 60 Pencil Sets

\section*{\(\mathbf{2 0 \%}\) off with coupon below}

Set of 48 Reg. $14.90 SALE $11.92
Set of \(60^{\circ}\) Reg. \(\mathbf{$ 1 8 . 5 0}\) SALE \(\mathbf{$ 1 4 . 8 0}\)

a meomar frome moves:
ant
cmancer \(\pi\) :
cu boonstome cmamae meryincunagis veik with coupon - while supplies last

\section*{Sherman's Quest}

\section*{Harry Fig}

by Chuck Wing CIMAN,KID GET YOUR COOTHES ON., LEERE LEAVING FOR VELBERIA BEFORE THESSUN

by Peter Wallace

TODAY
Jaze and country rock tonight st Two-Beiow. Brewster/Boiamd's coffeehouss. Two sats of performers from LeMoyne College.
Leuda: Morning Praver and silent moditation in the Christian tradition is held at 8:45 8.m. Weekdeys in the deenis office. Hendricks Chapal.
Alpha Eptilon Dalra meats at 6:30 tonight in 117 Lyman. All members please attond. velation ". CBF Chithrehat of Rovelation, CBF aible study meers Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. Geography club meets at 4:30 D.m. today in 306 HBC. All are invited.

Kendi North. photogrepher-inresidence. presents a survey of contemparary color photography at 8 toniaht in Watson Theatre. Free.
Tridition Commisifon meoptyces meet at 7 tonight in the to rompt or incur the wrath of the commission.
Fras lunch features Alan Berger speaking on ADL. Extremist Groups?" at 11:45 a.m. today in the Hillel lounge. Hendricks Chapel.
Free imovie at 7.30 tonight in KitTold Me." Sponscred tv Millel.

Firtt Roundabout Culture Cooking Club demonstration on ega roll served with fried rice and egg drod soup will be held at 5:15 p.m. today in Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. Call 22 年 members. members.
Intormal talk by poet Carolyn Scholarshio: The Poetry of Experibnce at 8 zonight at the Newmar Center.

\section*{TOMORROW}

Mustim Friday preyers will be held from 1-1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Herndricks Chapel busemerth.
Indurerial engineers: All w will meet at 3 p.m. tomortowin 443 Link. New members welcame. Old members please attend. Activities will be discussed.
Circalo Italiano-meady to gol Friends. wine and music meet from 6-8 p.m. tomorfow at Eommunity House, 711 Comstock Ave.

Ralax found the freplace with riends Brod wint et TGIF from 4-6 p.m. tomorrow ar Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. Chackerm, chess. refreshments serwed and bring you instruments. Doreation 75 cents.

\section*{NOTHCES}

Thow Dpily Orange connot prist notices in this column unless the sender includes his/her name and ralephone number.
Hilisi election pettiont may be picked up in the Hillel office. Hendricks Chapel. Return by Feb. 7. positions open: presidant; vice progident,secriary, social. religion, programing, social religion.

Commumity Diarkroorn* blackand white photography course begins Feb. 5 and runs from 6:30-8 p.m. Mondave. Wednesdays and Thursdeys for two weoks. No experience necessary. \($ 35\). Call 423 perience necessary. \($ 35\). Call 423 2450 . -
Students from EXS 640 are exhibiting photogrephs in the adminisvration butiding throuph Feb. 16.

Orzinge Place serves home-style cooking weekdeys at Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. "Fromscratich soup, baked goods. casseroles, not sandwiches, etc. from 1 1:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
Atvertising editor needed for next year's Onondagan. Call 4233734 or stop by Holden Obssurvatory.

Maragervent student setviser applicavions are available in 107 Slocum for next yoar Current ad visers must reapply.

Student teader epplieations for. 1979 Summer Orientation Program are avaitable at Holden Observatory. and board for training week and progrem, June 27-Aug. 7. Must have a 2.7 GPA and dean's approval.

NOTICES FOR HERE. TMERE 解 EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orange. 1101 E . Adams St, by noon two days before publication. Limit announcernents to 20 words. Name and telephore number of sender must be incfuded. No an: nouncements are taken over the phone.

\section*{Correction}

Barbara Brown of the Syracuse University College of Law is not accepting reservations for the environmental legislation conference Saturday aw stated in yesterday's

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\section*{MARK LANE}
'THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN"

\section*{A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF} THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE

\section*{Sunday, Feb. 4-8p.m. Hendricks Chapel}

Free with S.U. ID, $1.OO others

Daily Orange. For further information about the conference, call Mark Mariner at \(478-0223\) or Ross Friediman at 474-6249.

Valentine's Day is only
2 weeks away.
Feb. 14
Don't forget
to put your
Valentine's Day personal in the DO.

WE PAINT OR COPY
RESUMES.
AND THESES
"Copies While You Wett" 131 80. Seline se.
474-4222 meroed from Syr. Mst

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{Wanted}

Low on money and records , that aren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant ezsh. Top prices paidl OESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse 472-3235 Mon.-Sat. 11-6.
Counselors: A dirondack Boys Camp: \(71 / 2\) wks; \(6500-600\) Swimming. Sail ing Canoeing. Campcraft. Archery. Craft. Tennis, Driver, Office (typing). Mill Valley Road, Pittsford. NY 14534.

If you have your own van or a covered 4 -wheel drive. We have a oarz time position aveilabte, making 471-1101.
Help wanted: part time evenings 5 pm-10 pm Menday-Friday. Set. 9 am-9 pm Must have car. Be neat interview call 471-1102 after 5 pm.

ONE (1) part-time teaching position starting immediately at the Dunbar Center. Job involves working with a srnall group of Kindergerten children in \(e\) half-day program. Responsibitities include staff meetiong and supervisory conferences. Applicants must have a high school degree and a minimum of 2 years' experience in day care. nursery school or the equivalent. Driver's ticense also required. Send resumes Center. 1453 S . State St. Syr. NY 13205

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full, part time. At home or at school. Eesy service business, no investment, exciting opportunity. no girnmicks, reliability guaranueed. - Details \($ 2\)
STAR SSU Box 272 . (refunded) STAR SSU Box 272. istand Park, NY 11558.

MENI WOMENI JOBS - CRUISE SHIPS * FREIGHTERS No experience. High payl See Europe. Hawaii, Australia, So. America. Career Summer Sond 3.85 for info to SEAWORLO.BB BOX 81035, Sac-
to. CA. 95860

\section*{For sale}

Tonoise shell Comb barettes, headoands, etc. ORANGE TONSORIAL 8 SUPPL.Y. 727 S. Crouse Ave., next to S.U. Post Office. 475-9289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: SNORKEL PARKA'S 69.9814 OZ . DENIM JEANS &10 PRO KED SNEAKERS 810 NY HALL 728 S . CROUSE AVE., 478-3304
Zorba's got great pizze and hot subs with mozza rella cheese - we deliver 5-2 a.m. 7 days - 472.5075
Pabsi \(1 / 2\) keg- \($ 21.95\), Bud \(1 / 2\) keg $26. Pabst \(1 / 4\) keg $13.25. 50/12 08. cups 896 at the Party Source 446 8281
For Sale - Hart Freamtyle ski's 175 cm . Brand New. ©120. 422-1715
NEW WINTERWOOLIES at SECOND HAND ROSE. WWII Wool ammy coats s15.00, army wool and kakhi pants 512.00. 713 S . Crouse'Ave.

SALEIWinter claarance (up to \(50 \%\) Off SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing ( \(1900^{\prime} \mathrm{E}-1940^{\circ} \mathrm{s}\) ) 713 S . Crouse Ave.

72 Opelwagon. Clean. Naeds some work. First $175 drives it away. 4929163.

1969 Chrysler New Yorker. Great Winter car, 383 V. 8 , snows. Best offer, call 474-8865'Todayl

Peavy 400 series bass amp. 210 watts. 2. \(15^{\prime \prime}\) in cab with covers. watts. 2. \(15^{\prime \prime}\) in cab with covers. s250. Steve 476-5587.
BANJO: Norme 5-String. Call 423. 8083 for more information.
1974 Audi Fox. Excellent ConditionGreat in the snow. New tires. 22200. Call 425-9199 or 471-9346

Brand new double bed and frame. Elought now for 9120 - will soll for 875 . Call \(425-9199\) or 471 - 0348

\section*{Personals}

Rush PHI DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesday, and Thursday 7:00-10:00 Even if thera's no such thing as a free lunch, you carihave sorris FREE BEER at Theta Chi, 127 College F (ecross from Sirns) Moin.. Tues.

Check it out before it's'too tate. The ime is nowll for you to see what Phi Lamma Delta is all abour. Be a part of ir. All the beer and bonzo FIJ Wildment you ean hande. Mon. Tues., Thur., 7-10. Sat.. 1-4. 732 Cornstock Ave. Free beer.
SKYTOPMALL 2, in cooperation with Jack Kroliman Enterprises. proudly announces it's TOth arnual Spring Sash, Sal., slocum Heights terminal buses running till 1:00 am.

50071 Thanks for the talk, 58.
Would 85 and sunny bother you? If not. foltow the crowd to Puerto Rico. March break. 478-0745, 471-8359

\section*{BAND PARTY featuring Mas-} querade. Friday at ZETA PSI 9:30 to 2:30.
Barnbinits, Dove stq le stazione? We're in a muddle. You just don't know. We left me mum sleeping by dretti will collect us if wario Anfrom PIA Che日rio- crawg him Angels?

RUSHI Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fratérnity Third floor Archbold gym 7-10 tonight. Our goals are leadership. friendship. service. Come see what wa're all about.
Think green. Come down for IRISH COFFEE at Detta Tau Delta, just below Haven. Tonight starting at 9 .
A rude country cousin who earned his knighthood through the tauds of his peers, Sir Jack Daniels, will sgain in pore country corn soothe you with ,his own unique brand of half a buck. Squires East. 469 Westcort 5 Et .
Dear little sisters of Zeta Psi Psi. Pizza and beer tonight at 8 pm . We can't wait to see you. Love, your brothers.
Mina, Welcome Home to the Syracuse snow. Love, Sly.
Maddy- To the best roommate ever. Happy 21 st! I really know how to ratso em right. You can play all the deserve the best-Midge want: You Yo Jane- It don't make you a bad person, turning 22. Happy (7) Birthday and here's to Mad Jack's. -Steve.

Rob- May yaur birthoday be amazing. may your life always be wild, and may you always remain hypnotic and talented. Love, Tracy
The Orange Crush Half Hour Hour. The college humor show that doesn't rip-off Aanimal House, yet. Usten to Our premier at 8 pm Feb. 6 on WAER

Todd- O.K., see you there at Happy
Hour, 9-11. Keep in mind, drinks are cherap but I'minot Penelope

To the guy at the bookstore with the nice blue eyes and the green ski jackar is U.S. NEWS really tha interesting? Signed, the girl with the boring book.

Penelope - \(f\) fove the Student Center. But you will have a chance. Meerme there tonight. Todd

The 1 ith annual VD Run is coming. Watch for it

\section*{Services}

MEN! WOMENI JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High payl See Europe. Hawaii, Austalia, So. America; Winterl Summerl
Send \($ 3.85\) for info to SEAwORLD Send s3.85 for info. to SEAWORLO
EH, Box 61035 , Sacto. Ca. 95860 .
ACTIDN ALDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands. Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check around then call 478-8667.
Make your SKis like brand newl Professional Hot Waxing by Eidee Waxing Comparyy. Call 423-0916. or Evenings.

MCAT DAT Classes wilt begin early Feb. at Syracuse. To enroll: call 45 T2970.

MEN - WOMENI JOBS ON SHIPSI Ambrican. Foreign. No experience riecessary. Excellent pay-Worldwide travel. Summer job or career. Sernd 53 for into. SEAFAX, Dept. j-B, Eox 2049. Port Angeles. Washington. 98362.

\section*{For rent}

Foom in Apt very close to campus Nice place - people Kitenen big - liv ing room, washar/dryer call 422 - 1750 Ellen.

For Pent: Efficiency epartment Folking distance. Available Feb. I \($ 130\) month includes utilities. 478 2675.

Apartments furnished, walking distance. One month's security. no lease, 6550
Need two females to share 3 bedroom apartment, good location. \($ 100\) a month each. furrished. Available March 1. No tease. Call 422-0758.

Private furnished room, share large living room, kitchen, etc. Nice people, very close. 685-3233.

Two Rooms (for one person)in 5 bedroom fully-furnished house with fireplace. garage. den. and much more. Call 473-4862 Mike

Deluxe two bedroom apt. near University. Washer/Dryer and ell utilities included. 8300 a month. Ivy Ridge Apts. Call 425-9199 or 471 0346

\section*{Lost & found}

Reward: 1978 Adlai E. Stovenson High School ring. Lost in 3rd floor bathroom Sims Hall. Contact: James Johnson \(\times-3-2023\).

\section*{"Are your teacherg going to atrike?" A discussion on the \\ UNIONRZATION OF S.J. FACULTY} begins "Here I Stand," a series of noontime discussions with faculty and others of the academic community on ethical issues.

\section*{THURS. FEB. 1-12 noon}

Dale Tussing (Prof. of Econ.): ProUnionization
Robert McClure (Asst. Prof. of Pol. Sci.): Con Unionization

\section*{NOBLE ROOM, HENDRICKS CHAPEL}

Coordinated by Chaplain-intern Laine Hawxhurat
A Program of Hendricks Chapel

\section*{Don't forget your Valentine Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds. \\ Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101 E. Adams St.}

Final deadline is Mon., Feb 12 by 12 NOON.

\section*{Timbertand}

A whole line of lea ther boote and thoes that cost plenty and should.

- Fully insulated to well below zero - Watorproof
- Cushioned innersote
"You can't buy a better bootl" \(\square\) Touncends:
— \(\quad\) ——
SYANLISE UNIVEFSTIY BOOKSTORES

\section*{ART DEPT.}

\section*{C-THRU SALE!}

Reg \($ 2.75\) per sheet
3 sheets for $6 - selected shemte only - vhil quantities last - offer expires 2/23/79
- with coupon

Redeem at:

cinanosert:
a mookstone chanas
mastincientor

\section*{SUB \\ coupon} chan stores houmat
vich
EAT 10:00-5:30

C-THRU SELECTED SHEETS with this coupon
3 sheets \($ \mathbf{6 . 0 0}\)
Reg. 82.75 per sheet
SUB
Pay at rear art counter
Coupon expires 2/23/79

It wae all Ponn State yesterday aftamoon at Mantey Fiold Houme as the Nittmy Liont boat SU 96-84 in woman's baskerball. Above. Penn State's Sue Martin (23) easily controle atap while SU'a Martha Mogish (44, below left) getsa shot past Pann State's Jian Bednarak (24) and Sue Scholl (52, below right) finds the lane crowed with Lions.

\section*{Lions devour SU}

\section*{By Glen Vdine}
"It onlyhappens once or twice a season when you can say give me the ball, it's going to \(g 0\) in and you know it will se aid 42 -point acorer Jen Eednarek after Penn: State showed the Syracuse Orangewomen why they are the 12th-ranked women's basketbail team in the nation

In front of a Manley Field House crowd of more than 2,000 , the lady Nittany Lions whipped previously unbeaten SU, \(95-64\)
"They had experience, strength, and mainly they played very sound fundamental basketball,"said SU head coach Barbara Jacobs.

Yeaterday afternoon's game otarted off as though it would be like a post-season thriller, with nine tics and four lead changes in he firat 10 minutes of play. But after Bednarek got the hot shooting hand, Penn State rolled up a quick eight-point lead,-32-24, with 6:40 remaining in the half.

SU looked like a top 20 team in those first 10 minutes, with Theresa Quilty hitting all of her 6 points and Martha Mogish (20 points, 16 rebounde) playing tough points, 16 rebounds) playing tough tenacious defense and ran a crisp fant break in keeping pace with the Lions.
"They played tough with us in the first half for awhile, but I knew they wouldn't be able to keep up that level of intenaity all game,' said Penn State coach Pat Meiser.

The turning point came with two minutes left in the firgt half, when Bednarek went on a 10 -point tear, including a 20 footer at the buzzer. From that point until nine minutes into the gecond half, Pern State outecared SU 26-6.

Bednarek get a school record by shooting 72 percent (21-for-28) from the floor. Nineteen of Bednarek's 21 field goals were from 15 feet out or further.

Although Bednarek atole the limelight;-Penn State showed it takes more than one player to be a feared opponent. Nancy . Kuhl, whose play befits her mame, scored 14 points while also making point guard porition and Sue Marpoin acored 12 Penn State shot 49 pin acot fir percent from the feldinil nearly all of ita playert making the jump shot look easy in the gecond half.

The game wasn't a total lose for Syracuae, however, as Mogish proved she can play well against the bent.
"I loved it out there becanse it was our first chance against real competition," Mogish naid. "We got kicked today but it was great to日ee, what we. really need to work on."
Crucial to Penn State'a muccesa was its ability to control the ball while forcing \(S U\) to fumble it. After the near-flawless first- 10 minutes turnovers began to plague SU. The turnover count ended \(30-10\), one of the only categories SU won.
Jacobs noticed it was not only fundamentals which needed to be worked on. but also the Department of Athletics for more scholarships.
"I expected the game to go as at did,' Jacobs continued.' They are a strong ball club, but we won't be able to get that competitive until we get more scholarshipa.'
The Orangewomen presentiy receive five full-tuition schalarships each year compared to Penn State, which gets 10 complete scholarships a year, according to Jacobs.
Although SU was playing out of its clase, Jacobe noted a positive point. "It was an opportunity for us to aee walknesses we never knew we had before, but we'll be back," Jacobs said.

You should see a bif change soon; Barbara's (Jacobs) out hustling and she should bring them far very quickly." Meiser anid.

NOTES: Bednarek is a top candidate for the Wade Trophy, awarded to the nation's beat women player, and is "The best shooter in the country" according to her coach. . Orange play away at Brockport on Friday to kick off a stretch of 12 gamesin 25 days. Nex\(t\) home game is Sunday in the New York State Championships against the Rocheater ve. Ithacs winner.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Residents criticize SU dome}

By Annette Licitra
In an emotional meeting Wedneaday night, area residents confronted Syracuse University, city and county officials with their objections to building a domed atadiung on the SU campua.
The crowd in Erwin Methodiat Church booed and hissed at Joseph V. Julian, SU vice president for public affairs, as he attempted to answer questions public affairs, as he attempted to answer \(q\)
"I am a prisoner in my house," said a woman who ives on Comstock Avenue acrasa from Oakwood Cemetery- During the games at Manley Field House, I cannot get out. The one time il warrted to get out, i had to call the,
The meeting began with brief stateinents from Julian, neighborhood leaders, plaintiffa in a lawsuit against the Syracuse Planning Commission and a lawyer for Homeowners Mobilized for Enlawyer for Homeowners Mobilized for Environmental Safety, the group that organized the meeting.

Afterward, questions and comments were mostly directed at Julian by members of the andience of about 150 .
In his prepared statement and throughout the meeting, Julian stressed local residents' inactivity until December, after the university had already made its building contracta.
"We went six months without hearing a dissenting voice. Why didn't you speak before?" he asked----
But members of the audience said they had counted on city and county officials to provide public hearings and to consider the environmental impact of using the Archbold gite.
Richard A Schechter, lawyer for the three plaintiffa suing the commiasion, claimed that if the State Environmert Quality Regulations had been followed properly. litigation would not have been necessary. No plan for traffic or parking around the stadium exists yet. A task force made up of representatives of area hospitals, SU, neighborhood residents and city and county officials is working on a plan.
Still, residents of the area have abjected because no environnental impact atudies of the area were done. Three residents filed suit againat the commisaion Jan. 13, claiming the commision arbitrarily approved constraction of the stadium.
Reaidents at Wednesday's meeting protested what they crilled the suddenness of the city's approval for the stadium without public hearings or a plan to prevent traffic problems around the stadium.
Julian referred all questions about traffic control and parking to the task force. But Suran Tankersley, a task farce member, askèd Julian how many events of various sizes they could expect to take place each year. Julian estimated 10 eventis will draw capacity crowds, but called her recuest "very unreasonable" becanse the university is still in the process of booking events.

New York state can schedule 20 of its own events in the new stadium each year. Residents voiced fears that events at the stadium might coincide whth those at Manley Field House or the War Memorial.
"It would not make any sense at all to try to.book an event at the amme time as any other big event," Julian said.."It would be irrational indeed to try to boolz an event when all the parking epaces are filled."

Julian said it is unfair to compare the SU stadium with one relying on capacity crowds.
"We're not talking about a Syracuse sports authority. We're not in the business of running a sports authority," Julian replied to lawsunt plaintiff N. Richard Shepard's comparison of the 50,000 -seat SU mtadinm to the 55,000 -seat Houston Astrodome.
"The events schedule will have to be planned around the academic year and around an academic around the academic year
Shepard pointed out that the Astrodome is located about 20 miles outaide Hourton and that major access roads were built specifically for the stadiura. Schechter, also HOME's lawyer, claimed that even the 24,000 parking spaces surrounding the As To Julian's suggestion of a "part.

To Julian's sugreation of a "park-and-ride" concept swch as that used at the New York stal Faigrounds, residents demanded a guarantee that it would work. One resident complained that spectators park on residential atreets instead of the unflled Manley lot which charges a parking fee. Schechter blamed this problem on a similar lack of planning before the field house was built. He called the area at the corner of Comstock Avenue and Colvin Street "a parking lot where parking lots do not belong."
Later in the meeting, city and county officials also began to criticize the dome site.
"If we're all to be honest with ourgelves, we'll all agree that the stadium shouldn't be located here. It should be outside the city" said Syracuse City Counparlang Armond Magnareli. There's a tremendous ptadium, we can use it \({ }^{\text {n }}\) if we build a \($ 24\) million Bincor city council" if the \(w\) be an awiul lot of noise in the matter. Mahoney, theother legisiators and Schechter said the dome issue is unlikely to corme up before the Common Council, however.
"We don't have a lot of influence," Mahoney admitted.
James C. Tormey, a Syracuse City Councilman, said he wanted the task force to address the parking problem, and the university to consider owning and problem, and the university to consider owning and

Joseph V. Julian, SU'z vice promident of public affirs, (bottom picture) defends the now staciurn's location bofore irato residents at a meeting Wednemedry.

\section*{4 SU students to attend forum}

Four Syracuse University atudents will attend a forum tomorrow moining at the Onondaga County Wur Memorial to discugs drug and alcohol abuse at rock concerts in the facility.

The SU representatives will meet with local college and high echool students, members of the county legislature and the City-County Drug Abuse Com-
SU nepresentatives are Student Association vice preaident Lariy - Beer, SA member Jim Keeney, Schulsinger and UU Concert Board Dipector Bob Diamond.
Beer and Keeney said they, will state their op poaition to the proposed War Meinorial smoking and driaking ban..They will read a resolution unanimously approved at Monday's SA Asaernbly meeting. which reads in part, "We believe that pas sage of this legialation would impose an extraordinary burden on lavk enforcement officials. in Syracuse.'
Diamond asid he believes the proposed law would discourage concert promoters from uaing the War Memorial because they would be forced to hire extra security to enforce the ban "I think it would be tragic if no concerts can be held," hie tadded.
SU concerts aiave had no drug or alcohol-related problems for goveral years, Diamond said.
Nicholas Firro, Onondaga. County Ropnblican minority leader, Buggested the forvm last Thursday in the walke of controverny. about thie proposed ban. The forum will offer. An oppportunity for thoee who attend rock concerts to voice their opinions and offer ponsible solutions to the current problema, Pizro maid.

The man behind the smiling face at Burnett's Pharmacy...See p. 6.

\section*{Profs speak on unionization}

\section*{By Jerry Zremski}

Two Syracuse University professors argued oppowing sides in a lively discussion yesterday on whether SU faculty should unionize.
Econornics Professor' A. Dale Tussing spoke in favor of the SU faculty joining the American Aspociation of University Profesaora, a national labor union. Robert D. McClure, political science professor, opposed the move.
The discuasion took place before about 15 persons at "Here IStand," a weelcly discuasion programin the Hendriciss Chapel Noble Room.
Tussing said the faculty should join the AAUP because of the relatively low salariea at SU when compared to those at other noiveraitien. "There are some scandaloualy low salaries at this university." Tuasing asid. "Hopefully unionization would help solve this problem.
McClure disagreed, however, saying that faculty parable institntions been higher than those at com parable institntions.
"Of five major private universitiea in New York Etate (Columbia, Cornell, New York University University of Rochestar and SU, SU ranks eecond in the rate of compensation increnses in recent years,' McClure asid. Faculty salaries for Columbia are 4 percent higher.

McClure also cited statistics, which showed SU ranked 11 th out of 29 private universities in the level of aalary increasoe, but Tusaing said, "Our ranking has steadily dropped since that list was developed."
McClure argued that joiaing a union would increaisa conflict between the faculty and the univeraity.
"Joining the ponion would cause a zreat deal more conflict, and for that reason the administration would like unioinization. (Vice Chancellors) Winter Combinued on peop thirtean

\section*{U.S.-China relations}

Chinese Deputy Premier Teng Msian-ping arrived in Washington Lanao-pay for a nine-dey visit to the Sunday for a nine-day visit to the United States. In discussions With President Jimmy Carter, Teng spole harahly about the Soviet nion, calling it a hotbed for war, and Warned the United States against signing an arms limitation treaty with Fuasia. Teng told Congress the Chinese hope for a peaceful resolution of the Taiwan issue, but would not rule out the nise of force. A 日tate dinnerheld Monday in Teng's honor also marked the neturn of former President Richard M. Nixon to the White House since his reaignation in 1974.

\section*{Papal visit}

Pope John Paul II was greeted by about five million people in Mexico City when he arrived there Sundav o open a conference of Latin American bishops. The pope said prieats ahould serve. as spiritual guides and cautioned them againat taking social or political roles.

\section*{In Iran}

Iramian Moalem leader Avatollah Ruhollah Khomeini returned in triumph to Iran yresterday after a 14year exile. He maid he would esablish an Islamic republic and would arrest cturrent government leaders if they did not resign. Prime Minister Shahpur Bakhtiar Mowster Ghahpur Bakhtiar, and civil par may be imminent and civil par may be imminent. Earlier this week, U.S. officials depered evacuation. of al dependents of embassy personne and all non-essential officials from Iran.

The economy
In Washington, G. William Miller, chairnan of the Federal Reserve Board, and Alice M. Fivlin, director fine Congressional Budget Otrice, said the administration's economic orecast for 1979 was too optimistic. Both predicted unemployment and aflation rates hisher than the administration's forecast.

President Carter's annual Economic Report to Congress said lagging American economic produclivity threatens the country's capacity to create more jobs and raise living standards.
Also, on Monday North Carolina became the 24th state to pasa a resolution calling for Congress to propose a constitutiona amendment mandating a balanced federal budget or to aummon a constitutional convention to draft Buch an amendment. Thixty-four otate reaclutions would be needed to summon a convention.

\section*{State budget}

New York state Gov. Hugh L Carey presented a \($ 12.7\) billion budget to the state Legislature Tuee day. It includes a \($ 785\) million in:crease in spending over this year's budget and increases state sid to ocal governments and school dia rricts by 3459 million Carey has also proposed 3372 million in tar alo propoad ats sprea - - -

Heiress Patricia Hearst was freed yesterday after berving 23 months of a seven-year sentence for a 1974 bank robbery. Preaident Carter commuted her sentence, Monday . \(A_{i}\) The United States had a record \($ 28.45\) billion trade deficit in 1978 . Commerce Department sources anid it was because of inflation and faster economic growth in the United Statea than abroad.
Compiled by John Fiosenberry

\section*{Brockway Cinema fresents:}

\section*{Saturday Nigbts We're Alive!}

Starting this Saturday the STUDENT CENTER is open for dinner from \(5-8 \mathrm{pm}\). Things will really be cooking for our first big Saturday night, namely Chili, Garlic Bread, Salad and Wine (all for only \($ 2.95\) ) Chase the magic mood until 2 am. Come on over and watch Saturday night come alive.

The Student Center 310 Walnut Place

FEB. 9-11
FEB. 23-25
eaves returns

SPRING BREAK
APRIL 13-15
3PM
4PM 4PM
4PM 4PM

4PM

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Thomea Coffey edteor in chinf}

The Daly Orange Corp. 1107 E, Adams St., Syracuse, N.Y. 13210 , publighes buaninsiay (315) 423-2314

\section*{SU's 50,000-seat secret}

As Syracuse University pushes aherd with plans to build a domed ly paint a rosy picture to donors
The 50,000 -seat showplace, as they envisage it, will rua in the black with ap to 50 events being held annaally. Concerts, conventions, circuses and major sporting events such as pro football exhibitions and basketbal Cournaments will erretrre he \($ 26\) million stadium. ompletely different atory from SU. They are told the stadium will draw about 10 capacity crowds a year, traffic will be no problem and parking can be worked out for a stadium that seats 5,000 more than the Houston Astrodome.
'We're not talkíng about a Syracuse sports authority," Joseph V. Julian, vice president for public affairs, told members of Home Owners Mobilized for Environmental Safety on for Environmental Safety on unfair to compare SU's dome with one like Houston's Astrodome, which relies on capacity crowds.
But Julian's arguments are none too convincing. Parking and traffic problems created from capacity crawds at Manley Field House-seating 9,600are bad enough. Lack of parking forces customers to park elsewhere, resulting in blocked driveways and making it through. These problems will be magnified with a stadium five timesas big, holding many more events. Julian told HOME members that the availability of downtown lots will help availability of downtown lots will help alleviate parking problems. They alleviate parking problems. They convincing either, booing and hissing at Julian.
The residents are frustrated and mad that their way of life will be dibrupted by construction of the dome. Equally frustrating is the manner in which the stadium plan was railroaded through. No public hearings were held. No emvironmental impact statements were drawn. Only after the ink was dry on the stadium contracts was a task forced formed to study the potential forced formed to study the potenkial parking problems- hesiden Ironically, the residents have the support of severai council members. "If we're all honest with ourselves, we'll agree that the stadium shouldn't be located here. It should be outside the located here. It should be outside the city,? city councilman Armond city," city councilman Armond meeting. But the council has no jurisdiction to directly help the residents.
In the short run, the university and the state have gained time by mental laving zoning and environnental laws. But in the process, they have stepped on the toes of area residents- And now the university is feeling ,the wrath of a concerned minority.

Scott Rohrer for
The Daily Orange

\section*{Shaw Hall lives}

To the Editor,
We would tike to thank Carl Johnson for bringing Shaw Hall to the attention of the campua community. The additional notice is appreciated by thoee who have been working to make the Shaw LivingLearning Program a success. Wo would like to give zome more hietorical backgrouna and perspective on the program asit currentlyexistis.
An far back as 1967, studente and professory were inventigating the poenibility of eatablishing IVivingLearning arrangementa atSyracuse University. Various plana wexe proposed for Kimmel/Marion, Hall. One of these was the Maxwell Hail. One of these was Ane Maxwell proposal of 1971 . However, the documant from which today's Shaw 1975 College of Arts and Sciences 1975 College of Arts and Sciences This document clearly pointed to the need for a more fulfilling freahman need for a more fulriling freahman, experience, integrating etudents academ.

What is the Shaw philosophy? Basically it consists of two parts. One is to provide a more fulfilling living exvironment where etudents can be part of a community in which rights, privileges, and rescooperation and purpope. The second part is to provide an opportanity for rebidents to enrich the classroom. Each of the nine theme-basted units in the hall theme-based units in the hal spongoring hall-wide events open to the university community. In the 1 名 years aince its inception, more than 150 ed ucational programs have been Thare are ongoing needs which must be mot if Shaw in to progreas toward, its potentiml. Phyrrical facifities could -be improved, additional funds for programing are required, a better eelection process for prospective residents could be developed, and we need to forter mace opportunities for involving

We would like to express our gratitude for all those people who have worked with Shap, particularly the scores of faculty participated in programs here. Our combined efforts have been recognized. At present; Shaw LLC is actively participating in the U.S. Living-Learning Center Task Force, a consortium of 23 universitien with living-learning arrangements, Last gemester, Syractuse University hosted two student-staff exchanges from the University of Rhode Island and Trenton State College at their requests to learn more about our Liv. ing-Learning Centor. Both have ing-Learning Center. Both have decided to adopt aspects of our Among other proponents of the LIC, we would like to invite members of the university com munity to share with us any ideas they have aimed at bringing adminitstudents and faculiy and present Living-Learning Center program into any sort of "Harvard program into any sort or ilarvard we would eagerly inviestigate with interested atudents.

James I. Newman Peter C. Woll
James L. Newman is an associate professor of geography and the resident factulty adviser in Shaw Peter Wolk is director of Shaw Hall Peter Wolk is director of Living/Learning Center.

\section*{Islam: the convergence of a many-colored light}

Inlam is the youngent of man's great universal religions. Unlike those which have evolved slowly from obscure and was born in the full light of history. Within a few years of its founder Mohammed's ceath in 632 A.D., Ialam had apread throughout the entire Midde East. Today, the religion has grown to encompass nearlyone-saventh of the earth'spopulation

The Musitim believes in the existence of one God, winose nature is ineffable neither. begottein nor begetting, and Who created man as his moat eralted creation: Man's supremacy liep in his benug crpated vitina divime breath, Mstres purpose is to worship God in the fullneas of his hivinanity, not by denying his humanity; and here Islarn denying his humanity; and here Istam valid method to fulfili this purpose, but unique in its suitability for the hement creature.
Ialam asserts the validity of other paths" to God, for how can -any religion clain that the option of human nalvation be demied to those who predated it? Therefore, Inlam sees itaelf as the final divine revelation, the historic and perfect conclusion of the semitic monotheigtic faiths, encompassing man both as material being, as epitomisad in the Judaic epadition, and ase epiritand being, as epitomized in the Christian faith. Just as white light is a blend of the seven colors of the spactrrim, yet a color in its own riroht, Inlam is a. hlend of the "pointe of emphesis" of all religione yet with an intiocrity of all religione, reflects Divine recognition of each tradition:
This is why the Qur'an refers to the Islamic nation as being a "central" one, and also that Ialam as practiced by as an expreanion of something within, and not as an adoption of an alien phenomenon. This was aptly ax pressed by a Muslim friend who pressed by a Muslim friend who converted from Jndaiam aeveral years ago. "After reading about Islam," he Musilin, and second, that I always was Masima, an Maving "forgotten"

\section*{Go} "reminder" The Muslim's "reminder" par excellence is the Qur'an. Like the Bible, the Qur'an (Koran) is the Muskim's equivalent of "word become flesh." It is the worldy incarnation of divine words, a ecripture authored by God through His prophet Mohammed. In reciting it, the Muglim is in touch with God; and he develops an ear for listepring to God's words. This developed mensitivity serves as a backirop to his other sensory inputs. the reeults of which combine to form a vision of a creation recognized as emanâting from God's will, whose movement and purpose is the glorification of God.
The Qur'an also prescribes the Muslim's duties to God. Mohammed outlines the rituals that, unite Mustims from all lands in the Five Pillare of Islam: 1( Proclamation of the unity of God ("There is no God but Allah: Mohammed is the messanger of Allah"); 2( Prayer performed five times daily; 34 Almagiving; 4( The Fant of Ramadan; 5(The Pilgrimage to Mecca. This sacred pilgrimage (hadj) is required of every Muslim at least once in his lifetime. Pilgrims from all over the world enter the holy city as one family: race barriers disappear under identical, seamlesa, white roben Throughout the riturls of the hadj, the Muslim is careful to do no harmado the living thing, animal or vegetable.
The pilgrimage culminates on the Mount of Mercy, wherein legend Adam and Eve were reunited after expulsion from Eden, and where Mohammed preached his farewell sermon. Here the before God. For the Muslim, earth holds no greater joy than this.

The above may bound like a prepoissession with God. It is and should be, insofar as God is the origin of all creation, and to him all will of Inlam is not, insotar as the concern Human salvation manifests itself on two planes: the mortal and the immortal. This is required by thenatore of the human creature as a physical and the human creature as a physical and immortal aubatance Man's salvation lies in submitting himeelf to God, i.e., admitting God within him. The reanlts are twofold:
first, man lives the rest of his mortal life experiencing an inward sense of deep peace, contentiment and tranquility; second, he enjoys an immortal gfterlife, basking in divine beatitude, whose joys are such that the projection whose joys are such hat the projection of our worldly joys cannot but fail to of ourribe.
Editor's note: This comment was prepared with the help of Dr. Mohammed Abdul-Rauf, director of The Islamic Center in Washington, D.C. The bulk of the article was written by his son, FeisalA Abdul-Rauf, butpome passages were added by the editor from information obtained at The Ialamic information obtained at The Center and other documents.

  \}

JUST SAW JOHN FROM THE YEARBOOK STAFF-TOLO AE ABED, THIS,

ITU BE GREAT NOW AND IN YEARS TO COME TO OOF BACK AT PHOTOS OF THE OLD ARCHED STADUM HL AND CROUSE, ALONG WITH PHOTOS OE SUER 100 YEARS
OE SUSS HISTORY I

THE ONONDAGAN IS ON SALE AT HOLDEN OBSERVATORY FOR \($ 15.00\) OR AN \($ 8.00\) DEPOSIT WITH THE BALANCE DUE MAY 1. 1979.
UNDERCLASSMEN WATCH FOR YOUR SITTING TIMES FOR YEARBOOK PORTRAITS. SOON.

join the profeczionalz. Apply for the D. o. staff.

The Daily Orange is accepting letters of intent for all staff positions. Applications should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St. Application deadline for managing editor is Friday at 5 p.m. Deadline for all other positions is Monday at 5 p.m.

Positions are available in production, layout, copy, editorial, news, Focus (features and culture), Living, sports, supplement, art, and photo.

The new Living department will deal with issues directly affecting the self or the body such as health, nutrition, drugs, human sexuality, birth control, and counseling-

\section*{Ken Kesey's 'Cuckoo's Nest' interpreted masterfully on film}

FILM ON CAMPUS: "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," tonight at 7,9 and 11 p-m, Grant Auditorium, \($ 1.50\). Adiscusaion on mental patients will follow the 7 p.m. showing. NVS Films.

By Kevin Haymes The transformation of a best-selling novel into a movie is not, by any means, an easy task. Beaides being competent in his own field, the director must also be able to incorporate the intentions of the author into the film. It is this masterful interpretation by Milos Forman that makes Ken Kesey's "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Neat" a powerful indictment of a callous and immoral bureaucracy, and one of the best films of our generation.
The ability to see life in an insane asylum through the eyes of its patients is an effective, smoothly executed device which contributes to the power the moviegenerates. Forman's treatment of the hospital and ifs patienta is basped on a ifs patienta is basted on a bympathetic undergtanding of current state, yet it is spiked current-state, yet it is apiced Whth the black humor the and the hospital gtafi tharives and the hospital stafi tidives on. An a result, the audience suddenly finds itself rooting for a handful of mentally-ill

\section*{Giving program sponsors}

By Laura Rohmann An all-campus phon-a-thon beginning Monday, and lasting for two weeks in still seeking stadent volunterers to contact alumpi nationwide for the Annual Giving program.
Coordinated by the Development-: Office; the program raises money for the univercity. Student phoners hoper:to raise a minimom of $25,000; according coordinator Jonathan Rubins. Last year \($ 20,000\) was raised.

\section*{HEAR \\ KARLGOLDBERG}
on the
MESSIANIC HOUR

WMHR-FM 102.9 M.C. Saturdaye 1:45 p.m. For Gems From The Jewish Bible
Phone 472-1647
men, led by a not-so-crazy Randall Patrick McMurphy (Jack Nicholson), to buck the system.
We meet McMurphy as he is brought into the asylum where his contempt for the rules is ontdone only by his interest in breaking them. He feigns mental illneas in the hope of completing his jail sentence in the quiet confinements of a peacful institution rather than on the rock pile.

Yet, when McMurphy starts rearranging hospital procedures to his advantage and the patients' pleasure, as in the World Series game broadcast, the staff beging to doubt his inganity. In order to convince them otherwise, McMurphy steals a bus and takes the loonies fighing on someone else's yacht.
-It is his determined attermpts to beat the institution's rigid regulations and his en couragement to the other floormates not to surrender their hearts as well as their minds, that lead to the ghooking, but inspirational, end.
The outward strengti of the Blm lies in its blatanithonesty. It does not giatanthonesty. It does not glamorize the asylum by making it a lush, brivately-owned institution, but instead, likens it to a commonplace city hospital. Although he doesn't hesitate

A 'more personal way of raising money, the phones will be manned four nighte by facuity and staff volunteers and four nights by student voluntoers. The atudent nipht vare Feb. \(12-15\). are Feb. 12-15.
Anice from being "good publicity for groups and organizations involved,", Gubins Baid the coveted Colden Phone Award-agola painted telephone - Will be presented to the group that to poke fun at the characters as they interact, Forman is far they interact, Forman is far of the mentally ill. Most imof the nentaly il. Most important, however, is the fact that R.p. McMurphy is not glamorized. He is not intended to be a hero of any sort and, thankfully, is not allowed to be by the director. Instead, McMurphy is the tragic pawn cought in the middle of a game controlled by society: a game where the rules are strictly adhered to and concern for the individual, althoughit mayexist, must be neglected so that the game and the rules be kept in tact.
Overall, the acting was both enjoyable and ingenious. Nicholson did not merely portray McMurphy, he was himina mannersoconvincing that his performance not only deserved the Oscar for best performance by an actor in 1975, but demanded it.

Loxise Fletcher was brilliant as Nurse Ratched, the head nurse whose bureaucratic front was feared by the patients and hated by the audience.
"One-Flew Over the Cuckoo's Next" is a gensitive example of filmmaking that pierces the heart while it probes the soul. Its content may numb your emotions, but its impact will sober your senses.

\section*{phon-a-thon} solicits the most money. The top three individual winners for each night will be awarded for each night winera for two.
The phon-a-thon, which will take place in the Alumni Lounge in the Women's Building, will be preceeded by a free dinner and refreshments every night at 5:15 p.m. and will lant until 9:30 or 10 each night. Anyoine interested in Garticipating should contact Ginny Kent, 423-2410.

\section*{INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION \\ Programming Chairperson \\ Elections \\ and \\ Meeting: \\ Petitions may be delivered to: Tues. Feb. 6 International Student Office 7 p.m. 230 Euclid.Ave. at the l.S. 0}

All Intemational Students. Welcomel

\section*{Sickle cell awareness week}

Deita Sigmg Thete sisters will distribute free in formation about sickie cell arnemis and sicive cel Awareines Weseicuntil moen todey in the lobby of Mex. woll Hall. The wook' \({ }^{\circ}\). evente wilt conclisde thit woll Hall. The wook' \({ }^{\text {e }}\) events will conclude thit Doconti, athringsidiney Poiver, and a dieco and from the whe to rority will donate the proceer from the weok to rabearch zind m screening center to detect the tickle cell traite In Syracuse residents.

\section*{446-9746}

Nottingham Pláza

\section*{No Underwear?}

Leave it home this Friday

If you've nevar bean to a no underwear party you'/l never know what the person next to you is missing.
- Beer
-Sounds
Jack Daniels Giveaway
"ommony neut

\section*{TONIGHT}

Pi Lambda Phi
The Green House, 736 Comstock Ave.
The
No Underwear Party

\section*{Marvin Weiner: life and times of the friendly local pharmacist \\ stories about the pharmacist who gave me all}

By Patti Schuldenfrei
He appears from behind rows of acne craam and contraceptives, his round face displaying a broad, friendly smile. His pale eyes cripkle behind silver-framed glassen and his voice is lively, and animated as he chats with his customeris about everything from Tetracycline to Cosmic Candy to their own families and friends.
Several moments and a cheerful "Bye-bye", later, he is back behind the shelves. The busy sounds of clattering, tearing, and drawers opening and closing continue until once again his bright grin reappears at the counter.
After 24 years on South. Crouse Avenue Marvin Weiner owner of Burnett's Pharmacy, has become a kind of local pop hero. Known affectionately to students as "that nice man at the drug store," Weiner, 55, has made service with asmile more than iust a commercial cliche. He delivers knowledgeable advice with the parentai warmin that puts his customers parentad warmth
Weiner treats those who come into his store Weiner treats those who come into his store always greets thern cheerfully and his conversation is dotted with "Okee-doke"s. "Right-o"s and an occasional "Swell!"
But this pleasant counter-side manner would mean little without Weiner's knowledge and dedication for his work. Personally helping each customer, Weiner seems to know everyth ing about every product he sells: Which sleeping pills work best? Should I take Tetracycline or Erythromycin? What size foot cushions should I buy? What can I take for a sore throat? Weiner explains in detail how to use each product, including his own tips gathered from many years of experience.
"I'm a great taster," Weiner said, breaking into his famailiar smile. "I'm very curious and \(I\) usually try things.
A cuatomer puts a package of Cosmic Candy on the counter. "You know," Weinerquipped,"if you stick this in your mouth and call somebody up on the phone, it sounds like long distance and there's a short in the wire.
But in spite of his joking. Weiner takes the pharmacy business seriously. Tf there is one thing a customer can't help but notice, it's this: he cares. He interrogates a young woman about her sore throat until he is sure he knows the right product for her to use, a red gargling compound he calls Red Bubbly Magic. Then, always pound he calls Red Bubbly Magic. Then, always makes endless phone calls to find out the correct makes endless phone cals to ing outia doctor so telephone number for a penn "Can you imagine another pharmacist doing that?". Norma Stevens, one of Weiner's employees, said admairingly. "You know, my daughter goes to school out in Indiana, and she says they've heard of him down there. My daughter always says, 'I wish we had one like him down here.'

Weiner attributes his modest fame to the uniqueness of his store. "I have a lot of unusual things here, like sleeping pille that really work and are legal, and Red Bubbly Magic," he said. "They get from campus to campus. Professors who are here move to other colleges and tell these crazy thinga."
"Some people wrote to me from England "Fre: continued. We had those Orange moling papers. you know, and we sold thousands of in a bar in England, and some kids from SUS in a bar in England, and some kids fromisu, who were living there took out these mmoking
The Albany native atudied at Union' College and at the University of Florida before attending pharmacy school.
"At that time, it was after the war, and the schools, were all filled up," Weiner said. "In fact; I had to go to a girla' school in Poughkeepaie for my first year. I liked it, but the girle didn't like the men being there. It was a very rich, anooty school.'
While he was studying, Weiner met Sam Shepherd, the doctor who became famous when he was tried for his wife's murder. "I tell you, I neiver thought he did it," Weiner said. "He was just a nice gay. Yea, he was a playboy,-but a very juat a niceguy. Yes, he

Before opening his first pharmacy on Nottingham Road in Syracuse, Weiner was: a pharmacist for the U.S. Public Health Service He later bought Burnett's, which was already an inatitution on South Croune A venue across the street from where it now stands.
"The gentleman who owned the drug store was named Clint Burnett - he had been there over 30 years," Weiner said. "I got here when he had just died - I guess he died in the store and the widow insisted the name remain the saine. That was one of her prime requests:'
Buinett's has since gone through a major fire, broken windows in the 1960 's, and a move to its new location in 1977. Yet the once-tiny atore continues to grow and has become an institution in its own right through the work of Weiner and his employees, including "Uncle Jonas," a remnant of the good old days in Syracuse.
:"There aren't too many stores like this left anymore - you know, small, neighborhood stores," Weiner axid. "When I' grew up, there atores," Weiner said. "When I grew up, there were thousands, but you don't see them anymore. A city like this probably had 80 too 90 of these stores at one time; now wot more than a handful left"
Weiner said he plans to remain at Burnett's at' least until his children - a gon, 24, and a daughter, 21 - finish school. The dedication Weiner and his wife, a pharmacist at gt Joseph's Hospital, have shown for their cargers has evidently affected their children: their jon? is now in medical school and their daughter ine: studying to be a physical therapigt.
A 17-year-old girl hurries into the atore, panting. It is almost 9 p.m. She can't get hercar door unlocked, she explains frantically, and athe has to be home before nine because she only has a jumior driver's license. Weiner gets the prodnct jumordriversicens. Weinergets the product he needs, explains how to nae it and asoures er it will work.
Gradually, Weiner's cheery smile and frien diy chatter calm the girl down. Minutes later she has forgotten her crisis and is conversing gaily with Weiner about her job, her parente and her clothes. Another cuatomer is converte into a friend by the Marvin Weiner charm.

SPRING BREAK FLIGHTS
March 9
NYC. JFK
Newark
Boston
Washington. D.C.
All flights return Sum. March 18.
Fares subject to change Feb. \(1,1979\).
All arrangements through_Tom Duffy Travel.
MAKE YOUR RESERVATIONS NOWI deadllne
823 UNJVERSITY AVE. 423-4702
A division of your student store. Campus Conveniences. partially subsidized by the undergraduate student fee.

BEFOREYOU GRADIIAIE.. LEARN WHIAETO
FINDTHE and what you might still do to land one! Firstor afinepart series in FEBRUNY REDBOOK

\section*{SU freshman met Jim Jones}

By Joyce Mirable
Syracure Uniyerity freshman Enrico Woolford atartled a crowd of about 200 at a pariel discuasion about cults Wednesday night with the news that he had met the Rev. Jim Jones, who led 900 people in a mass suicide in Guyana.
Woolford said he lived in Guyana when Jones and a small sroup of his followers came to the country to start Jonestown.
Jones uned to visit Woolford's family "all the time," Woolford said. "We considered him a friend, but I noticed there was something a ittle odd about him.
Because of a strong Chris. tian upbringing, Woolford said hé never became a follower. However, he said he could understand the influence Jones had over his congregation.
"They really felt he was like God," Woolford said.
"When I shook his hand, he struck me as the reincarnation of Christ," Woolford aaid.
Even with the fanatical following Jones attracted, Woolforid said he felt the press started the chain of events which led to the mass auicide. Articles on Jones in Guyamese and American Guyanese and American newspapers membership of Jonestown, and this, combined with a "doomsday-type of attention" led Jones to order the mass suinjide.
"I believe that had the press not gone there, the incident would not have happened." Woolford said.
Woolford spoke up at a panel discussion with four SU professors speaking on the Jonestown cult, in the 1916 room of Bird Líbrary. Political science Professor Michael Barkun also said the media "magnified" the event

Barkun said he felt the media's attention aerved as a substitute for Jones' failure to produce s golden age. Jones produce the mass suicide a Eave the mass suicide a That event was a aditual That event was a finnal

\section*{Engineering & Computer Science Majors}

\section*{DON'T MIS'S TALKING TO THE HUGHES TO THE HUGHES YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPOTTUNITY EMPLOVER M/F.

\section*{Mark Lane to give talk}

Mark Lane, the attorney tigace ailegations that some who represented the late Rev. people were being held in Jim Jones of the People's Tem- Jonestown against their will. ple, will speak in Hendricks The 51-year-old lawyer has Chapel Sunday at 8 pm. written seven books including Lane will discuss "The "Ruan to Judgment," in which Horror at Jonestown," the mission was wrong in conreligious commune Jones cluding that Lee Harvey created where more than 900 Oswald acted alone to kill cultists apparently committed President John F. Kennedy. suicide and Rep. Leo \(J\). Ryan Aresidentionis f. Kennedy.
 companied Ryan to inves- dollar for all others.
control death," Barkum said. Barkun called the incident "isolated in the ideological sense" because no distinction between religion and politica could be made.
But Anthrology Professor Agehananda. Bharati said such a cult is likely to resurface. He anid people are looking for hedonistic evente or something pleasurable and are attracted to a person who claims mystical experience.
Barkun said it is difficult to determine why people join cults because af the difficulty of grining first hand information.
Profeseor Amanda Porterfield of religion and Giymn Cochrane of anthropology were also on the panel.

further. The firms they choose as the best of the 32 will be shown Sunday night at 7 .
Shapiro asid the films are all made by profeasionals, who range from graduate students to internationally known artista.
The three judges for the expoisition include Shapiro, Richard Meyers, an experimental filmmaker and professor of fim at Kent State University and Professor Scott MacDonald of Utica College.
One of Meyer's award-winning films, "37-73," will be ghown today at 10 a.m. in Room 254 of Newhouse II. Meyers will discuas the film after the screening.

Tickets for the exposition can be purchased for either \($ 1.50\) a show or \($ 5\) for the entire exposition, which is spongored by Film Forum, University gored by Film Forum, University Performing Arts.

\section*{}
"Bahold, the days come saith Yahweh. I will make a New Covenant with the house of tsrael and with the hause of Judah." - Jeremiah \(31: 31\)
Have you read the New Covenant with the better promises, provisions and fuffillments?
FREE 10 any Jewish person:
Prophacy Edition of the Now
Testament. Specity English
Yiotdish or hebrew
Bax 818, 1207 Almond \(S t\).
Syracusa, N.Y. 13210 Phone: 471-8817 Latilerdale Spring Break

\section*{Only \(\mathbf{$ 3 3 9}\) *}

Includes:
© 8 days - 7 nights in beautiful Ft. Louderdale - Luxury hotel located right on the strip - Roundtrip air transportation from Syracuse - Transportation and taxes

For more info. call Danny/422-3091. Robin/471-8926 * 100 Depotit due by Feb. 5 -based on quad occupancy iriples and doubles avaitable.

For a Really Great Night Out

Sirloin & Teriyaki STEAKS. PRIME RIB and 22 other delectable entree choices to suit every taste.
Plus a great selection of. Foreign sh Domestic Wines at well as cocktails and beer.

We wanted it to be more than a "final concert."

\author{
We wanted it to be a celebration: The Last Waltz.'
}

Onv of the finest rock bands of the '60ss! The Band performs One of the finest rock bands of the 'GOs; The the title track of their film. "The Late Waltz."

\section*{Band bows oyt}

By Tima King
The longevity of a nock band in a very uncertain thing. Mont bande never make it big or disband because of frustration or tarvation. Those that do nit the big time usually rake in the money for a few yeara. and then break up over legal hasales or petty jealousies. But then there's The Band, which went out with a gala concart turned-movie titled "The Last Waltz."
The Band - Robbie Robertson, Rick Danko, Garth Ha&son, Richard Manuel and Levon Helm - toured together for 16 years. They started at the bottom, playing Film in dance halls and bare. And after eight years of that, they played for eight more in arenas and stadiums.
The sound The Band made was a blend of country. thythm and blues, and rock'n'roll. It was diatinctive in its lack of frills, down-toearth lyrics and honest approach. But as the '70s progressed, they became more and more of a relic as the public turned its attention toward heavy metal and disco
By 1976. they knew their time had pasaed and wanted to retire with the same class they'd shown through those 16 years. So the group planned a final

Eranciscós whed apparanice ait To'colebration vited 'm hoat of Mitechelrema miusic of the \({ }^{2}\) they put it on It: is donbtral came out ain shortcomingas music; photoge in the lavishm The Band distinugished honeaty and carded their fis in favor of wis ing about asc hookers in wh

The Band in viting thair fric invited ham Starr and Rois the theme moni number writu performed wis Homuch fa Hoywever, proach, Dine anyway, Dired Doesn't Live

\section*{James at the keyboard: not good enough to score}

By Richard Folkers
On his new LP, Tauchdown, jazz keyboardiat Bob James shows his versatility as a jazz composer, but fails to make his music particularly interesting. James is a versatile composer and arranger who has worked with such jazz artists as George Benson, Grover Washington, George Duke and Billy Cobham. As a composer, he can itinto the musical atyles of many different people. Touchdown's compositions lack any emotional quality. It is a spintiess, detached effort on which everything zeems academic.

\section*{Sounds}
The compositions on Touchdown explore a variety of different jazz styles. The synthesizer and electric bass solos reveal a jazz rock influence as on "Caribbean Nights" while the brass background in Much) shows a distinct Big Band influence. Such songs as "Angela." the theme from the ABC television show, "Taxi," also is a soft easy-listening tune. However, despite the variety of styles explored in these cuts, they all lack emotion. James does not display any unique technical skills, but performs simple melodies with, the acoustic pianio, synthesizers and electric piano. The synthesizers and electric prano. The while the electric piano shines through in most of the songs.

James has surrounded himself with a group of talented back-up musicians, including drummer Steve Gadd, guitarist Exic Gale of the group Stuff and sax player David Sanborn, who has recently performed with James Taylor and Linda ponstadt. And although these artists perform competently, they sem detached. Despite this lack of coherence, several performances atand out from the rest. Bassist Ron Carter plays with authority. He is particularly etrong on "I Want to Thenk You (Very Much),' providing a flowing support line for the other instrumenta.
Although the composition and performances on this album are superficial and uninspiring, they do provide good background music.

Bons 1 In里
TODCFIDONY

\section*{Hard-rock sound of}

By Jon Rabiroff
The term "touring band"'is a rock'n roll colloquialiam used to describe groups that coly primarily on live performances to build up a following. Two of the music industry's best touring bands will appeserinconcert tomorrow night at 8 at the concert tomorrow night at saik Theatre the J. Geils Band and Southeide Johnny and the Asbury Jukes.

The J. Geils Band was formed in Boston in 1970 after its flamboyant namesake features a kickess brand of music that centers around scratchy vocals, raunchy harmonicas and hard-driving guitars.

\section*{Happenings}
The group is led by vocalist Peter Wolf, once." the hottest late-night DJI in Boston." At every concert Wolf creates the impression he is host of a gigantic party, at which he makes an effort to keep everyone happy.
Using every octave he can find in his raspyं voice, Wolf moves all over the stage doing things that can only be described as off the wall."
The group also features one of the best mouth organists in the world, who goes by the unusual name of Magic Dick. His energetic solos and rampaging accompaniment provide the backbone of the band.

Although the group's live albums are

Friday, Feb. 2 Steven Titch

> The Lasat Waltz

See review. Union Cinema Two. 7. 9:30
The Lasat Waltz p.m. and midnight, Gifford Auditorium, \($ 1.50\).

Independent Filmmakers Exposition
The exposition features the year: best around the world. A variety of cinemati fare, ranging from animation to experimentation is offered in two programs.
Film Forum, University Union and the School of Visual and Performing Arth, 7 and 9 p.m. Kittredme Auditorium, \($ 1.50\) per ahow: 5, onrien.
Jact Nichol performanch as Randle McM toph-de-inter film adaptation of Ken Keepy'a etory of a peychiatric ward. The film won five Oecara, stronger than its studio wark, the band will probably play a great deal of romerin from probably play a great deal ar materin Island and Sanctuary.

\section*{KALEID}
Presenting a totally different souxd from J. Geils' heavy rock is Southside Jomniny and the Asbury Juk coil The groung which rose from the backstreet clubs: which raee from the bacmareet ciabs.

The J. Geils Band and southalite Jot Juken will bring their rock'n'roll sh Theatre tomorrow night.

\section*{Weeken}
all of them deserved.
NVS Eilms, 7, 9:15 and 11:30 p.m. Grant Auditorium, \($ 1.50\). Execritive Action
Was the asmassination of President John F. Kennedy rasmerminded within the U.S. government? The question is probed in this brilliantly r: ede but unfortunately, overlooked, eniliser overlooked, Erockiser. \(6,8,10\) and midnight, Brockway Cinema, 6, 8,10 and
Sidney Pcitier directed and atars in this poignant love etory.
Doignami Love Etory. Sorrority, (Sickle Cell Awarenese Week), Brockway Dining Hall, 9 pm., $1.50.

Minchengabrialcie Point
Michelangelo Antonioni'a ("Blow-up") only. Amorican film focusea, on y young couple and their involvement in the 'GOs youth movechent in California. A tunning

\section*{n gala celebration}
gy had mada their firat Band years earlier. occasion, the group inmds to participate, inRonnie Hawlans, doni who And, to top it off, lowever, that the film ginally planned. Its oot in the quality of the or concept, but rather If the final product. bers, who had always moselves with their W-to-earth atyle, dishirts and jacketa, lookortable as \(42 n d\) Street Fidal growns.
ers alsodecided thatinwasn't eno"gh, so they nuicians" like Ringo Wood. To cap it all off, pretentious little walt Robbie Robertson and e help of an orchestra. n-to-earth honeaty. te the platicized apMartin Scorsese ("Mean Hartan Scorsese," Mean荷, New York," "Alice Driver" \({ }^{\text {anticulately }}\) blends interviews with The Band members and studio cuts with the live performance. The editing: photography and sound quality are excep soerme to be enjoying the ghow as much as the audience. Highlience.

rigrighting the movie are guest Butterfield, Muddy Waters, Bobby Charles, Ronnie Hawkins, Dr. John, The Staples, Emmy Lou Harris, Ringo Starr and Rorinie Wood. Eapecially outstanding performances are turned in by Bob Dylan, Joni Mitchell, Van Morrison and Eric Clapton.
Clapton's "Further On UP The Road" is highlighted by a pair of amazing guitar licks by both Clapton and Robertson. And it is aung with more life than anything Clapton has done since.
The most outstanding guest is Bob Dylan, for whom The Band played backup at one time. Dylan and The Band perform enthusiastic versions of "Forever Young" and "Baby Let Me Follow You Shall Be Released \({ }^{\prime \prime}\) which includeas all of the guests singing background vocals.
"The Last Waltz" is a good movie in concept, Production amd performance. If it weren't for a slight loss of perspective, would have been an excellent movie.

There was a dinner for 5,000, a waltz orchestra, a hell of a party and some friends showed up to help us take it home.'

Noil Young and Joni Witchell join Robbie Robertson and The Band for thair tirall concert together in Sth Francisco.

\section*{Geils to hit Syracuse}

New Jersey four years ago, owes much of La success tofellow Asbury Park reaidenta Bruce Springsteen and the E. Street Band. Many of the Jukes' вongs were written by Springsteen, including three on their Intest album, Hearta of Stone. E. Street's pead guitarist Steve Van Zandt prodnced, arranged, wrote and played on the album.

Ty and the Agbury

Max Weinberg also helped out on the drums.
Unfortunately for both the band and the crowd, none of those stellar E-Streeters mentioned above-will be on stage Saturday. The burden of putting on a saccesaful show will fall on the shouldera of lead singer Southside Johnny Lyon, a proven performer who is no slouch when comes to keeping an audience on its feet. proof of his overzealousness. At a recent proof of his overzealousness. At a recent himself, tripped and fell onto a broken cocktail glaspe Lengthy surgery was re cocktail glass. Lengthy surgery was retendons in his wrist He now has little or tencons in his wrist. He now has intile or no feeling in-his left hand which, ac of a year to recover. In spite of this, Lyon has continued the tour, being a ittle more restrained in his actions.
Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes back up their music with one of the largest horn sections (five pieces) of any touring rock band. Recently, the Jukes have gone through some big changes. Because of the commercial failure of its first two albums, the band decided to alter ita rhythm and blues sound into a unique form of rock ' \(a\) ' roll by bringing out more of the guitar and vocals, as can be seen in the material off the group's latest LP. If tomaorrow night's performance matches the energy of both groups' previous shows, the Syracuse crowd will experience a non-etop evening of rowdy rock \(n\) roll.

\section*{1 cinema} film, providing insighta into a troubled and turbulent time. Auditorium, \($ 1.50\)
A Harium, 31.50 , 7 , and 9 p.m., Gifford A Hard Day'y Night/I Wanna Hold Your Eand
"A Hard Day's Night" is inventive, funny and the frat of a dring of Beatles Wanna Hold Your Hand" is merely a Wanna Hold Your Hiand" is merely a shlocky effort about. the "Beatlemania" craze. Cinemersity Union Saturday Night Cinema, 9 p.m. only, Grant-Auditorium, \($ 1.50\).

\section*{Independent Filmmalcera}

See Friday's listing.
Film Forum, University Union and the School of Visual and Performing Arta, 7 and 9 p.m. Kithredge Anditorium; \($ 7.50\) per ahow.
\($ 5\) series.

Executive Action
See Friday's listing:
Brockway Cinerna, 6, 8, 10 p.m. and mid night, Brockway Events Room, \($ 1.25\). Sunday. Feb. 4

One of the Re Remuers
One of the more innovative and imWalt Dinney Studion is this adventure of two mice and an albatross on a mission to resciue En unhappy orphan. Featuring the voices of Bob Newhart and Geraldine PageUniveraity Union Animated Fantasy, 6, 8 and 10 pin. Gifford Auditorium, \(\mathbf{~ 1 . 5 0}\) Independent Filmmakers Exporition
The expoaition draws judtses pick the winners. School of Uimul Und Peraity Union and the School of Viaual and Performine Arts, 7 p.m., Kittredge Auditorimes, \($ 1.50\), per show.

\section*{National firms test-market new products in Syracuse}

\section*{Revlon's My Carl Johneon} Billy Beer Monsture Release Foundation, nill and Agree Shampoo all have failure in the Syracuse area helped determine whether they would be maricetedion a national basis.
Syracuse is a test market, where "all gizes of compankes" test new products, according to Mary Young, a local market research and analysis firm.
The Central New York 1ocation "isolates us from other cities," Young said, maling it an ideal clomed market, with little influence from neighboring markets and media.

\section*{Buylines}
"We have a good cross section of people because of a good cross aection of in because of a good dustry," Young agid.
"It's a little America," said Clint Tankersley, associate professor in the Schoorsley. of Manate professor in the provides "a good cross section of dernographics," he explained, citing a mixture of race, age, income and education.
Tankersley added that because of the many newopapers and radio and television stationsin the area, it is easy for a new product to get effective media coverage and quickly become recognized by consumers.

A company introducing a product to the mariket will choose a city such as Syracuse to test the consumers' reaction to pricing, packaging and the product, Tankersley said. The succesis of a product in a test market is generally indicative of potential success on a mational level.

Foods and appliances are cornmonly tested in area malls according to Tankersley, but "thexe's no way you can tell" if a product is being tested when you buy it of the shelf.

Meals in plastic bags, cooking ap pliances and Smith-Corona typewriters are only several of the products that debuted in Syracuse area stores, ac cording to Tankersley.
"If you go to almost any mall, they il have producta that are being tested here Go to Shoppingtown, go to PennCan:Go to Shoppingtown, go. to PennCan....: they're going to have people surveying.'
Surveyors, often ask about aeveral products so one won't know what is being teated.
Syracuse was also the center of an effec tive energy conservative campaign this fall which has since been used nationally. If a product does not sell well here or it other test markets such as Denver, Colo. or Hartford, Conn., it will probably not be intorduced to the national market.

Being one of the top 10 test market cities "won't have a big effect on prices" in Syracuse, but "it has a definite effect on products offered," Tankersley said.
Tankersloy added. cet what we get." Tankersley added.

\section*{UNIVERSITY UNION events calendar}
U.U. Concert Board Presents ROCK 'N ROLL PARTY WITH THE J. GETLS BAND

SATURDAY, FEB. 3rd 8:OO p.m.
and
 SOUTHSIDE JOHNNY ma the ASBURY JUKES
U.U. Speakers Board Presents

\section*{MARK LANE "THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN"}

A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE.
SUNDAY, FEB. 4 - 8:00 p.m. HENDRICKS CHAPEL
FREE WITH S.U. ID - OTHER \($ 1.00\)

University Union Cinemas
s.u. ID REQURED - SHows Not open to Puble

TONIGHT CInema Two

Martin Scorcese's
"The Last Waltz"
staring the Band
Gifford Aud.
Shows 7, 9:30 & 12
Adm. \($ 1.50\)

TOMORROW Saturday Night Cinema
"A Hard Day's Night" and
"I Wanna Hold Your Hand" Grant Aud. 9p.m. onlyl Adm. \($ 1.50\)

THE LANDMARK THEATRE RESERVED SEATS: \($ 7.50\) & \($ 7.00\)
Ticker on wele at Spectrum Sundries. Discount Records. The Priez Discount Rocords, Mine Stores.

\title{
Students view home cooking to be a chore and a challenge
}

By Naushad Mehta
While many Syracuse University apartment dwellers may not be gourmets, most have discovered that concocting an edible meal quickly and cheaply can be an art in itself.
Students enjoy preparing meala as much as eating. Elliot Smith claims ahe loves to "exSeriment" with new recipes. International students take international students take particular pleasure in creatims their own meals. Most becnime interested in cooking from the food.

Elvira Vincenteili, a atudent from Venezuela, asid she never cooked for herself before she came to the United States. In trying to adapt American food to suit her taste, she has made geveral creative dishes including "Plantains," "fruit similar to banana baked with cheese, fried or boiled. Another favorite dish is a "arepa," a muffin made with corn flour.
Some students find baling as well as cooking an ideal way to unleash creative energies.
"There's nothing more relaxing than hanging out and baking." a Marshall Apartment resident gaid. frinals, I went home, blasted Gomals, I went home, blasted chocolatelayer cake for dinner with friends. It's a great way to with friends. It's a great way to convind. Cooking is timeconsuming but it's worth it," added one senior who lives in her first apartment. 'It'a auch an easy way of making people happy. When my friends have the munchies, there's nothing they appreciate more than my marble squares and. brownies."
One Sherbrooke Apartment resident shows his cooking talents through his quiches and casseroles. "I never follow the recipes," he said. "It's much more interesting to add my own fillings and spices. He added that his quiches consist of everything from broccoli and bacon to cheese and chocolate chips.
Yet not all students treat cooking as a hobby. Although many may love gourmet food, they find academic pressures leave little time for culinary dabblings.
"I know my eating habits are just terrible, but-I don't have the time to get in the kitchen and play gourmet," photo jomenalist John Marine said, Mornalist hohn Marine said dinners and sandwiches. He dinners and sandwiches. He prepares no moxe than three complete meals a week "I wish there was some way to live without eating." Marine withou
Skytop reaident Liza Barnett also pays little attention to cooling. "I don't have a varied diet. I only make thinga I can cook quickly." she said. Hex most common meals are chicken and macaroni and cheese.

\section*{WE PRINT OR COPY}

RESUMES
AND.
THESES
"Copies While You Wait"
131 So. Salline sz.
474-4222 across from Syr. Mall

Most SU atutente aro not gourmats, but by axparimeming. they find thet cooking can be fun and oven relaxing-

\section*{When is a chancellor} not a chancellor?
Find out
in Monday's Daily Orange.

\section*{We Buy, Sell 8 Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Mlagarines.}

Bring your recorde to us for cash
Collections bought © House calts by appointment
1.000's of records in stock © Most LPrs onty 52 - s3 © All records guarantegd? Wa specialize in out-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
5. Campus Mall. 730 S. Crouso

M-Set. 11-8 (472-3236)

Besides being time con- pan of grease to overheat. The suming, fine cooking is also smoking vessel burst into too expensive for many SU. flames while hecarried it out of students' budgets. Most people the kitchen and the small fire don't wish to spend_more than \($ 25\) a weol on groceries. On the whole, women spend leas money on food than men. Most refrigerators are stacked: with such inexpenaive items as chicken hamburger meat and chick Chicken and mpaghett eggs. Chicken and Bpaghetti are among the most popular With for students.
With basic dishes, accidents occasionally happen. Joe Coleman accidently allowed a burnt several holes in his rug.
Yet despite occasional ups and downs; most apartment dwellers enjoy the freedom and creativity in conling.
"I like to be able to eat what I want, when I want," Smith said. Another student, Guy Jackson, added. "I think the main advantage of the apartment is the kitchen. The only trouble is, when you make a mistake you've got to eat it."

\section*{SUNDAYS 10:30 A.M. Ecumenical Piotestàt Worship
 \\
 HENDRICKS CHAPEL}

Childcare provided between 10-12 noon.

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) inciudes All chemicals and equiprnent for b/w processing and printing plus color slide development.

\section*{B & \(W\) course begins Feb. 5 \\ Color course begins Feb. 12}

Call or stop by for a friendly visit - Open Evaryday 316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. 315-423-2460

Out there in the Atlantic Ocean on sanshine beach there's going to be an ourtbrealk of revelry this vacation break. And atter the aun goes down . . well, you krow the atfect that moonlight has on a cefebration. We can only hope it won't be a luit moon.
Edeause from Jan. 13 through April 21 we're opening Nassas and Paradise island to a wave of American college situdents. Wa have reasion to believe that wave may reach tidal proportions. Probably because of the price: \($ 269\) including .air fare and 7 nigfits hotel.
So there it is, young America. We guarantee you the best of dancing on the beach, water sports and a roaringiparty. Beyond that, you're invited to improvite. And since your talent for good timing is legendary, we've made preparistions for you. Wa're golng to be ready. Whth open arms.

\footnotetext{

NASSAU& PARADISE ISLAND. BAHAMAS COLLEGE WEEK.
}

\section*{University Union, Film Forum & the School of Visual and Performing Arts present \\ }

\section*{13th Finnual Independent Filmmalcers' Expo}

Friday-Sunday February 2 -4
Times: 7ande. Fri. and Sat.
7 pm orily Sunday
Kittredge Auditonfum
Acmin 51.50 per show
Tickets on efie in echuance the UU Offices in Watson Theatra.

\section*{* Stadium criticized} \section*{Continued from pege on} operating: atellite parking arent around the atadion.

"I'm very concerned about the traffic problem. Manley Field Houre is a dieaster. The Exe chief is dimmayed." he enid. Tormey estimnted that 1,200 traffe tickets have recently been issurd in the field house area.

Gerald J. Mingolelli, an Unondaga County legidlator, told Julian he hoped SU will still consider relocating the stadium. Julian reacted by demanding of Miza golelli whether the university should break its contracts to do so.

Schechter and the three plaintiffs in the lawnuit rejected Julian's plea to drop their lawauit.
Schechtex, who specializes in environmental law and who took over the case carlier this week from attormey Alexamder

Hersha, waid he expects to file an amendsed petition by next wedneaday. Oral argumento 27 in Stste Sup beme Caurt.

Toward the ond of the meeting, a apolkemman for the Common Council set two proposals before the tank force: - that BU buy wo area park ing forticlet holders and matie this cont part of the ticket price, and
- that the city set a per capita price to cover city conth of traffic and street aintenance.
The audienice displayed enthusiasm for the legislators views, and continued to aittack ulian's position
"I realize you're the fall guy tonight," a woman told Julian. IIt's a rare opportinity we have to bee the university at a disadvantage. We'ne relighing this."

INTERESTED IN FLYINGTP GROLAO SCHOOLS CHITHENANGO HIGM SCHOOL - 1 - PRIVATEPILOI COURSE iN. cluding arplane rides NO experionce reauised - to ape timit. 2 : NNSIRUCTION FANINS irplane corificate courso. using course taught by finght instrue certived Far Oeteitn: Ba7.7833

Want to spend this tummer sailing the Caribbean? The Pacific? Europe? Cruising other parts of the world aboard sailing or power yachts? Boat owners need crews! For free information. send a 15 c tamp to Kanadu, 6833 So. Gessmer, Suite 667. Houston. Tx. 77036

\section*{We Are Now Renting 1 1111 多 six simops लिरती \\ Cross \\ Country-nt Ski \\ Equipment}

DEWITT 6820 E, Genesee Sx. 445-0880 - FAIPMOUNT 3552 W. Gonembe St. 488-3208 © LIVERPOOL 107 First St. 451-15600

\section*{Professors debate union issue} and Prueha would relish it, given their natural btyle. mirror image of Cliff Winters" McCInre continued. "If we McClure continued. wif we Were in the union we would be leaderahips - I don't want leaderahips - 1 dont want But Tuasing said, "Facalty unionization will make univeraity governance a partnership. It would reanit in more faculty participation in decision-making,"
"I resent the idea that prionization would increase conflict. It's absurd;" he continued.

Thia is a hierarchical university, with power flowing from the top, and thereis a weltperpetuating administration. We're concerned with our economic etatus because it appears to be eroding so quicappears k , McClure agreed that the jevel of nalary incrosses at SU in lower now than it was a fow yearn ago, but cited higherr livyear ago, but costa in other aress as the ing coest reanon.
reanon \({ }^{\text {Faculty }}\) salaries at USC (Univeraity of Southern \section*{Two all-male dormitories} may turn co-educational

\section*{Ey Mank Goldrtein}

Booth Hall and Stadium Apartments, previoualy allmale dorma, may become coeducational next year, depending. on the outcome of meetings over the next few weeka.

A proposal to make Booth cood will be presented to the Housing Patternas Cornmittee Dining Stice of Fervicences and Dining Services next week, according to J.D. Tessier, Booth hall director.
Tessier is in favor of Booth going 00 -ed and said he has not geen "an overwhelming interest in one-sex dorms to warrant two all-male dorms on campue."

Brawster is the only. other all-maie dorm on campus.
Tessier also said, "It is a more natural situation when you live near the opposite sex."
The proposal would make Booth co-ed by floor except for the firat floor, which would be all male for security reasons he said.
James L. Morgan. director of residance and dining services. gaid both Booth Hall and the Stadium Apartments are under conrideration.
Every year we review the entire setrup on houring," Morgan axid, adding that alternatives to existing arrangement are being conaidenge.
Teasier plans to use the reaults of a murvey that was given to residents of Booth Hall when he meets with the Hall when
The survey consisted of five questions including "would you live in Booth next year if it went co-ed?" The reaults ahowed that, by a fiveto-one ratio, mopt btudents would stay in Booth.
Asked "would you live in Booth Hall next year if it remained all male?", 5 to 1 replied that they would not. Booth resident Mike Goldstein, a freshmon, said, "I'm notwpposed to Booth EOing co-ed as long as thero is an all-male dorm for those who prefer it. 1 wrould probably return if it does go co-ed."

Califormia) are higher than those at SU. but I would not wapt to live in Low Angeles on a USC professor's Aalary. McClure said.
"If the union is to improve our financial status, it will either distarb the financial stability of the university or will reatult in a tuition inwrease," he added.
crease ne adid the noniversity could cus ofher costs to avoid could cut ontier costo tho avoid tendency for administrators to enadency for admanistrators to judge their pexformance on judge their performance on costs in areas folated to the appearance of the nniversity, we could avoid Euch in creases," he said.

9:30-2:30
727 Comstock Ave

EVERY FRI. & SAT. Nite at Midnight

adifferent set of jaws. STUDIO

524 Westcott St. 479-9911

Engineering& Computer Science Majors

\section*{-BEFORE YOU PICK UP YOUR DEGREE, PICK OUR INTERVIEW.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}
-inanmonain
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMMIOYER M/F

 met the lhotel are inclmaded dally. coornu will be eriple mind gitud onyy.

Bens whil dollyer seomp to tho clopen wheor brealdract and retwrn

Sherman's Quest
by Chuck Wing

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\section*{MARK LANE}

\section*{"THE HORROR OF JONESTOWN"}

A PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF THE GUYANA MASS SUICIDE
Sunday, Feb. 4-: 8 p.m. Hendricks Chapel
froe whi s.U. ID. s. 1.00 others

\section*{WAIK IN - WALK OUT WITHY A PARTY}

Block Ice - Bulk Snacks Syracuse's largest selection of cheese and beer at discount prices. Party Platters and Bulk Cheeses. 15 Different Beers By The Keg.
Returnables at everyday low prices.

\section*{Molson Golden Ale, Beer or Ale 24 12-oz. n.r. bottles \($ 7.19\) case}

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

TODAY
Mint-clase on What Catholics Believe" Is held from 12:50-1:45 D.m. every Fidayin ime dean's ottice. Hendricks Chapet basement. instructor: Father Charles.
The Bombathetter has music and wine Fridey from 8:30-midnight in the Hendricks Chapel basement. Univeralty Union Cinema Board meets at 3 p.m. today in the Studen Center. Cat 423-2724 tor detbils.
Amnewty Intarnational meets ate tonipht in 313 Maxwall.
Friday ovmening Smbbath warvice with additional reading on Jewish coots will be held ar 7.45 in Hen Micks Chapel.
Muatirn Firiday ormyers will be held from 1-1:30 p.m. in the Hen.
Industrial enginemers:
Industrial engineers: AllE meets will be discussed.
Ciscolo Italiano
Fiends, wine and music meet from 6-8 tonight at Community House. 711 Camstock Ave.
Holax sround the firmplace, with friends and wine at TGIF from 4-6 p.m. today at Commurnity House, 711 Comstock Ave. Donstion 75 cents. Rlack Commumity Society maets at 7 longht in the Student Canter. be oullined Bring \($ 10\) deposit for er outlined. Bring \($ 10\) deposit for bus.

\section*{THE WEEKEND}

Don't foreget the Delva Ballf Delta Sigma Thers's third amnual ball, "I's Alt in the glocd." will be CMoyne Menor. 2 entr. Saturdaya anemia research.
Sabbeth morming treditional servites will be held at 10 tomorrow in the Hillel lounge. Herndricks Chapel.
Creative Havdalah marvice led by reform fommer NFTY) student leaders will be held at 8:30 p.m. omorrow in the Cormmons.-
Coffeshousa and larseli cafe featuring N.J. duo Jon Furkk and Debbe Matt will be hald at 9 p.m.
Holy Cormmunion sorvice will be held at \(9: 30\) a.m. Surviay in the Noblo Foom. Marniricks Chapel. Spansored by Lutheran Campus Ministry-Elack Artiats Langue suditions will be held from \(2.5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). tomorrow and Sunday in the Haven family room. Actors, singers, techricians. stagehands, make-up craw needed. Ering Vour class schedule. Call Mike Brown, 423-8038, tor details.

Speculative Fiction Society meets at 7 pm. Sunday in 9 HBC . Travel plans for upcoming conventions will be discussed. Call 478709 for details.
Dapression. lonelinesp and sions of the Bfack Woman series will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Cultural Center. 104 Walnut Place. Register by calling the Office. of Minority Affairs at423-1001.
International Folk Dancert meet from 7:30-10 p.m. Sunday at fefreshments. All wefcome.
Surter': Mill Frisbpe Tournmment will be held from 6 p.m.-midnight tomotrow at Maniey field House.

Syrscuse pleys Columbie, Cornell and Hampshire
Are you sadieted to food? Overeaters Anonymous meets every Sunday at \(3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in 1100 Upherete Medicial Center, Call 475-8926.
Sour situs society rehearses 5 p.m. Sunday at the ski lodge. NonGfivers can taike the \(4 ; 43\) bus from Sims. Those unuble t 6 attend muss cell 423-0193. Donit forget \(9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Fiday!
Arretaut Racio Club moets at noon tomorrow in 218 Link to discuss constitutional amendments. Mease attend.
Mese thedite: 7.p.m. tomorrow ing at Auditorium. Sunday mornAuditorium and 1 p.m. at Skytharn.

\section*{NOTICES}

Univeraity Union Cinemms need a few people to put up posters. Call 423-2724.
Hillil slection petitions may be picked up in the Hillelioffice. Hendricks Chapel. Return by Feb; 7. Positions open: president, vice president; secretary: treasurer; and programming. social. religious. membership and publicity chairmen. alligible for a \($ 1,500\) fellowstho from the Stare Farm Companies Foun datign for the foltowing fieleds: finance, accounting, economics, computer science, pretaw, business administration. insurance. investrnents. marketing. math. statistics and business studias: information available in the Honors Office. 300-7 Archbold Gym, before Tuesday.
Foderal Summer Internstip applications Are availabie fon Placernent Services, 123 College Place, for eligible juniors, seniors and grad students. Return by Feb. 23.

Commanity Osficrooms blackand runs from 6:30-B p.m. Mondays angl runs from 6:30-8 p.m. Mordays, wesks No experience.- \($ 35\). Call 423-2450.
Studente Irom EXE hibiting photographs in the Administration Buitding through Feb.
Orange Plece serves home-styie cooking weekdays at Community House. 711 Comstock Awt., Mrom 11:30 a.m. \(-1: 30\) p.m.
Advertialing editor needed for next vear's Onondags. Call 423 . 3734 or go to Halden Observatary. Minngement studentadviser mpplications are availabte in 107 Slocum for next year. Current adNOTHCES FOR H EVERYNHERE ARE duE THERE Z Orange. 1101 E . Adams St. by noon twa days before publication. Limit announcements to 20 words. Name and selepthone number of sender must be included. Announcembnts are not taken over the phone.

\section*{Correction}

The three picturet of the women' basketball game on the aports page of yeaterdays DO were taken by Eichand Folkers.

\section*{Another \\ FIJI}

Blow Your Face Out PARTY

\section*{Live Music By}

Strombecker Lighthouse
FRIDAY, FEB. 2 Kimmel Dining Hall

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

UNISEX Hàircutting. Hair care izams, discount prices. ORANGE TONAve iext to S.U. Post Office. 475 . 9289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: $10OFF FRYE BOOTS JHERMAL UNDERWEAR 84.98 FLANNEL SHIRTS \($ 6.98\) IV HALL. 728 S. SHIRTS ©6.98 IV HALL
CROUSE AVE., 478-3304
ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza 8 Hot Subs with Lots of Moizaralla Cheese and Graek Testel We Deliver! 472 5075
NEW WINTER WOOLIES at SECOND HAND ROSE. WWII wool army coats si2.00 713 S. Crouse Ave.
ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check around, then call 478-8667.
Pabst \(1 / 2\) keg- 221.95 . Bud \(1 / 2 \mathrm{keg} $ 26\). Pabst \(1 / 1 \mathrm{keg} $ 13.25,50 / 12\) oz cup 89c at the Party Source 446-8281. BANJO: Norma S-String. Call 423 8083 for more info.

Martin D-18 Guitar w/Case. Excellent condition. Gall Pat 479-7403. \($ 400\) or best offer.
Feavy 400 series bass amp. 210 watts. 2-15" in cab with covers $250. Steve 476-5587.
SALEI Winter clesrance (up to 50\% off) SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing (1900's-1940's) 713 S .
Crouse Ave.

For sale - Hart Freestyle skis 175 cm . Erand new. 8120 . 422-1715.
information on "How. to Teach yourself good manners." Send s 1 to:
Ediquette, 1006 Embargo. Rome. NY 13440.

ATTENTION: Premedical freshmen. Sophomores, juniors: Now available: THE MEDICAL SCHOOL ADMISSIONS PROCESS: MAXIMIZING YOUR CHANCES. Written by former medical school admissions commiztee interviewer. All important preparing the better your chances preparing, the better your chances. 6104, Rochester, Minn. 55901

First quality tashion jeans for sale. Narnes such as PARIS 2000. SASSON, ST. TROFEZ, VIDAL. CLOUDSall sizes and stries. $23-$25. This, weekend onlyl First come, first serve at TEP. 907 WALNUT AVE. Call 476 B668. - ST. REMIE JEANS INC. Subsidized by Syracuse University Chapter of the. Wildmen.

UNUSUAL BARGAIN: size-9 Nordica boots. 180 fiberglass SKIS. Cubco Over \(50 \%\) off original pricel Joel 476-5785

1974 Audi Fox. Exceatlent conditionGreat in the snow. Newtires. \($ 2200\). Calf 425-9199 or 471-0346.
Brand neiw double bed and frame. Bought new for \($ 120\) - will sell for $75. Call 425-9199 or 471-0346_

\section*{For Rent}

Private rooms furnished, share kitchen, bath and living room. Clean. walking distance - 474-1303 - or 472-0154.

Room in Apt very close to campus. Nice place - people Kitchen big - living room, washer/dryer calt 422 1750 Ellen.

Apartments furnished, walking distance. One months security: no lease. immediate occupancy. 637 -

Need two females to share 3 bedroom apartmant good location. \($ 100\) a month each. furnished. Available March 1. No lease. Call 422-0758.

For Rent: Efficioncy apartment Walking distance. Available Feb. 1. \($ 130 \mathrm{month}\) includes utilities. 47 B \($ 130\) m 2675.
Two rooms (for one person) in 5 bedroom fully-furnished house with fireplace. garage, den, and much more. Call 473-4日62 Mike.

Deluxe two bedroom apt. near University. Washer/Oryer and all Utilities included. 8300 month in1. \begin{tabular}{l}
R346. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Wanted} Counselors: Adirondack Boys Camp:
\(71 / 2\) wks: \(450-$ 550\) : Swimming. 71/ Wks: Canoeing. Camperaft. Archery. Craft. Tennis. Driver, Office Archery, Craft, Tennis, Driver, Oifice (typing). riflery. Soltball, Trip (typing). riflery, Leading. 39 Mint Valley
Road, Pittsford, NY 14634.
MENI WOMENI JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High pay! See Europe. Hawaij, Australia, So. America: Winterl Surnmer! Send \($ 3.85\) for info. to SEAWORLO BH. Box 61035 . Sacto. Ca-95860.
Low on money and records that Low on money and records that cash. Top price's paidl
DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse -472-3235 Mon.-Sat. 11 -6.
Roommate wanted - to share 3 bedroom apk. w/fireplace. Near Archbold. 478-8188.
interesting people with unique hobbies, lifestyles, occupations, needed immediately for persornality protiles.
Call Jackio 425-0139

Looking for people into Looking for people into records. ete. Cliff 471-9695

PARK a half a block from campus. Call or come to the Red House. 747 Comstock. 423-2711
f vou have your own van or a covered 4 -wheal drive. we have a part time position available, making deliveries in the Syracuse area. Calt 471-1 101.

Hetp wanted: part time evenings 5 Hetp wanted: part time evenings 5 pm-10 pm Monday-Friday. Sal. 9 pm-10 pm Monday-Friday. Sat. 9 a.m.-9 pm Must have car. Be neat a.m.-9 pm Must have car. Be neat appearing. To arrange a personal appearing. To arrange a personal interview, call \(471-1102\) after 6 pm.
One roommate wanted immediately. Luxurious Presidential Plaza. Warm. Reasonable. fricludes all utilities. Waik downtown. Leave message 423-4755 days. Sat.-422-9899. leave messape.

\section*{Personals}

Even if there's no such thing as a free lunch, you can have some FREE BEER at Theta Chi, 127 College PI (across from Sims) Mon.. Tues. Thurs., 7-10.
Rush PHI OELTA THETA Monday. Tuesday, and Thursday 7:00-10:00 Dearest noodle puqding, Rubber Duck and Raisinet. LOVE YA Schnucks, Cowboy and Goober

Davie, Since you didn't tell us when Vour birthetay was. this is allyou get!
Happy Birthday Love, Ellen and Gretchen

Dear Binky: Hapdy Anniversary Thanks for the best year of my life. Forever yours, Craigo.
Friends of \(211!\) Toga? Sixties? Nol It's the futurel Come as a symbol of the future... or corne as you will be. Tonight from 9-7 That does not compute. pute.
Craigo- Happy 1 year Anniversary. it's been the best of my life. Thariks for everything I love you, Einky SILVER BLLLET NIGHT. COme down for a frosted shot of ice cold vodka It's on the house at DELTA Tau Delta. Tonight at 9.

\section*{Services}

Cookieface, just cuz yout moved off the floor you didn't move out of my heart. Ilove you now mbre than ever.
We still go out in March. Love, your Cookie.
SKYTOP HALL 2, in cooperation with Jack Krollman Enterprises, proudly announces it's toth annual Spring Bash. Sat. Feb. 3. 8 pm. Lambreth lane and Slocum Heights terminal busas running till \(1: 00\) am.
Saturday Night Live, Monty python. National Lampoon, we steal from the hest. The Orange Crust haif hour 88.

To our neighbors on the first floor"Oh, Honey I'm Homel'
Dear Craig and Hitdi. Happy 1 vear anniversary. Youi two definately deserve each othert Love you both. Ruby Does typical fraternity life strike you as a good ideat If so, WE DONT WANT YOU. Check out the alternative: PI LAMBDA. PHI the Green House)- 736 Comstock. Open Green Housa)- Mouse Mondays. Tuesdays. Thursdays, 7-10 pm.
Todd- O.K., but make it beckgammon. Simon chess or monopoly. I'm not easy. Penelope.
Mina, You're still the brightest light in my life. 'tm so glad you're back. Love. Bryan.

Michelle. Happy big 18 from the guy who met you on every line. Sorry itm late, Love always, Mike.
Penelope - Dinner-Sat. night at the Student Center? We'll find a dark corner and piay games. Todd.
Bluecollar O. Public busts his guts to give you a good time from 4.6 pn with half price evervthing and 6-10 with his scotch cousins of roval birth Sir Dewar's and Sirs Josterin and Brooks (J. & B.). Both in for half a meaner (50C). Squires East 469 beaner (50:). Squires East, 469
Westcoti St:

Yoyo, you're now past your sexual peak. Happy Birthday anywayl (sorry it's late.) Love. (-). Iki, Wine Doi. its late.) Love, (h, lki, Cheeks. Button, and Bibi.

\section*{Lost & found}

LOST: Sunday 1/28/79. Year-old Male CAT. Orange w/white markings- Stadium Place vicinity.
Please call \(479-6527\) after 5 PM. Please cal
Reward.

MEN - WOMEN! JOBS ON SHIPS! Américan. Foreign. No experience necessary. Excellent pay. Worldwide travel. Summer jot or career. Send
\($ 3\) for info. SEAFAX Dept. i-8, Box 23 for into. SeAFAx Dept. i-8, Box 98362
What are you doing_after college? Psy. 400-- Careers and College graduates, a 2 credit course, can prepare you for what's ahead. Register before Fob. 12 at \(311 A\) Archbold Gym or call Academic Counseling Service 423-3150. Limi 25 students.

MCAT DAT Classes will begin earty Feb. et Syracuse. To enroll: call 451 2970.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Ski Jay Peak with Suski on Feb. 9. 10. 11 two days lift, zickers, looding. trancportation. Cost is \(\mathbf{8 5 8}\). Sign up at our meating Tues. 7 prn. Maxwell Aud. or during office hour Tues. Wed., Thurs., \(12: 30-4: 00\). 4233592

FT. LAUDERDALE. Spring break. 8 FT. LAUDERDALE. Spring break. 8
deys, 7 nights. Airfare from SvíL LuxUTV hotel on 8 trip. 8339 . Questions 8926

\section*{Don't forget your Valentine Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds. Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101. E. Adams St.}

Final deadline is Mon., Feb 12 by 12 NOON.

\section*{WANTID:}
-Advertising Edïtor -1980 Onondagan
-Call x-3734 for more information and appointment

\section*{or}

\section*{-Apply at Holden Observatory -Deadline: Feb. 9}

Fob. 8 - Maxwell Aud. 7 p.m.
OR Tilden Cottage (103 Callege PJ.. 423-3592)
Tues.. Wed., and Thurs. 12:30-4 p.m.
For Information Call
Garry 422-4387 or Danny 422-3091
LIMHTED SPACE - SIGN UP EARLY SUSKI TO JAYI subsidized by the student foe
 Lifa at SU thas been a pleasant experience for gymnast Mickey Kiefer (above) who has as tablished himsolf as one of the best all-around performers in the Eart in just \(11 / 2\) years at SU. A specialty of Kaifer's are the still rings (below right).

\section*{Kiefer builds reputation at SU}

\section*{By Marls Gaffin}

While Archbold Stadium is being replaced with a domed stadium, the Syracube gymnastics team is undergo frind Coundation has been set for the quad as it continues to gain recognion alrose is East of senior Eymnast Mickey Kiefer.
"I'm glad that I helped set the foundation. I hope it's easy to build on," said the team captain.
Coach Paul Romeo, retiring at the end of this season after 32 years, thinks highly of Kiefer. "Mickey is a depen dable gymnaist, an excellent team leader and respected by his teammates and coaches. He's good for SU gymnastics all around," he said.
Scoring is no problem for Kiefer, he holds the SU allaround record of \(51: 15\) points out of 60 . This occurred Dec. 13 at Cortland. "He never hit the 50 mark last year and this year he's doing 50 or better (congistently). He'll do 52 or 53 this year," Romeo said.
Kiefer is in his second year at SU after spending two years at Farmingdale Junior College. He chose SU because "it had a good team 'and the science school was zood. I like snow; that's also why I came here?"

His interest in gymnastics developed on a junior high intramural team about eight years ago. Kiefer participated in symnastics throughout high school in addition to pole yaulting for the track team. 'It's an enjoyable way to stay. fit. I enjoy being conditioned,', said Kiefer.
Kiefer tries to pick up moves in the off-geason and put them together in season. The hard training has paid off, according to" Romeo. "He is reaching his peak now," he said. "He han agood build for a gymnast and a good mentil atEytude."
Contributing to the team is his best quality. Assistant Coach Walt Dodge said Kiefer "gives the team depth. The others are trying to catch him. His steadiness keeps everybody working hard and keeps them ateady. He has good technique and is welltrained Mickey is great to work with and coach.
Teammate Richard Roberts said Kiefer is "a motivated factor in the gym that gets along well with everybody."
Kiefer said of his team mates, "I don't think we've been giving it 100 percent. We have a little bit moore to learn. There's a fine line and we're just about over it. We should finish at 7-2" Peraonally Kiefer said be feels a Iose to Army on Feb. 10 would malce the seasoni a failure. "My highest goal this year is to beat Army. SU hearn't beaten Army in many, hasn't beaten. Army in many, many years. it il be a Now the lith-raniled Now the lith-ranked gymnast in the East, Kiefer said he does best when under pressure. "Other guys are burned out (nervous) befiore they go up, but he loves competition," Romeo noted. Roberts agreed, "Mickey is a consistent performer. He gets the job done."

When he is not compeiting. Kiefer keep bury, "My hobbies include a lot of photograplyy. cross country skiling, swimming, diving, plants, fish and I have a wife to take care of, said Kiefer, adding, "Im happily married.

He is a biology/pre-dental major. As for entering dental school, "it looks good," he said confidently. *My Eoal is to do what I do well and I'm putting all efforts into-my career pursuits. For this reason Kiefer plaris to stop competting in gymmastics after college, although he will still work out and possibly teach a little.

At the end of this season two respected men, Romeo and Kiefer, will have completed their stays at SU. Both leave with high honors. "Under the present system (established in 1964 by the NCAA) that we have, he is the No. I all-around have, he is the No. I all-around giad Romeo. Kicfer anys of hie conch "I feel privileped ta te coach, I feel privileged to be on his leaving team.
By the time the dome is will have added to its own foundation - one that should be easy to build on.
"My highest goal
this year is to beat Army."
- Mickey Kiefer

\section*{Women's baskethall matchups}

After Wednesday's unsuccessful joust in the national limelight with Penn State, the Syracuse women's basketball team will attempt to rebound from its 95-64 loss when it hosts Brockport State tonight in Manley Field House.

The 8-1 Orangewomen, who suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of the lady Nittany Lions, will face Ithaca in Manley Sunday night in the second round of the Manufacturers Hanover New York State Tournament. Both games begin at 7 and admission is \($ 1\).

\section*{Frisbee comes to Manley}

Frisbee, the game most frequently associated with a lazy spring day on the Quad, will be the focus of an intercollegiate tournament in Manley Field House Saturday night from gix to midnight.
- The Syracuse Frisbee Club will host the first Sutter's Invitational Frisbee Tournament, which will feature teams from Hampahire College, Columbia and Cornell.

\section*{Icemenface Buffalo State}

The Syracuse hockey clab will algo be in action thig evening When it hoats Buffalo State University at the Stata Fairgrounds rink at 7:45.

The Orangemen are 5-5 this season, but \(4-0\) in tha Finger I akes Colleciate Hockey Ansociation, wherethery hold a half-game lead over Familton College's junior varaity squad. Syracuse handed Hamilton its only FLCHA loea back in December, 7-3.

\title{
The Daily Orange
}

\section*{Check-cashing service to begin}

By Jeiry Żremnki
The lonts-awaited emergency check-cashing service, bought for the past year by Student Association, will become a reality next week.

Feb. 12 is the target date for the opening of the service, which will be funded by Syracuse University and operated by the Office of Student Activities.

The service will be available after banking hours on Monday through Saturday, Baid Kathy Courtney, SA special presidential assistant.
 Observatory Information Center, the Student Center, 310 Walnut Place, and the Good Food Store; 316 Waverly Ave. See chart for hours of operation.
The check-cashing service, one of SA's demande that brought about last spring's boycott of the SU Bookstore, was originally intended to be run by the bookstore.
"By not having the service in the bookstore and by having it available in three locations, we hope to avoid long lines," Courtiney said "In the bookstore, we would niot be able to run the service past business hours, either," ahe added. The service past business hours, either," she added. The service will be open until midnight Monday through Saturday.

No gecond party checks will be cashed, Courtney said. Checkr muat be made out to SU and checks over \($ 20\) will not be cashed.

There will be a \($ 5\) penalty for bounced checks. Anyone who bounces two checks loses his right to use To fund the courtney said
To fund the service, \($ 2,000\) will be taken from the chancellor's office each day and distributed to the three check-cashing outlets. When these funds run out, no more checks will be cashed that day. Leftover funds will be available for the next day's use.
Courtney stressed the service is being run on an expeximental basis. "The service will be increasedifit's successfal," 日he said. The Office of Student Affairs and SA will evaluate the service March 12.
"We're grateful for the service," Courtney said. "We've worked hard for. it."
The university is not a bank, and-we want students to realize that," she siaid. "Also,"we don't want atudents abusing the service and thinking they're huíting the nniversity. They're not. They're hurting all the studenta."
SA. will publish a pamphlet to inform students about the service. Courtney said.

Below is a chart of the places and times the check cashing aervice will be opened. The service begins Feh. 12
Monday through Wednesday:
3-5:30 p.m. Holden Observatory Information Center
Good Food Store
3-midnight
Student Center
Thursday, Friday:
3-5:30 p.m. Information Center, Good Food Store
3 p.m.-2 a.m.
Student Center
Saturday:
10:30 a.m. 5:30 p.m.
Good Food Store
3-5:30 p.m.
nformation Center
6 p.m. 2a.m.
Student Center

\section*{Trustee Board increases tuition}

\section*{By Walecia Konrad}

The Syracuse University Board of Trustees executive committee reacted favorably to a suggestion that etudents pledge money for construction of a student union building.
As expected, the executive board also approved an increase in tuition and room and board at SU at its monthly meeting Friday, according to Kathy Courtney, undergraduate consultant to the board of Courtees.

Under the proposal presented by Chancellor Melvin A. Eg'gers, seniors would pledge \($ 250\) to be paid in five years if the building is already under construction and if they are making \($ 20,000\) a year.

Students who pledge will aliso Write two alumni who grad uated 20 years earlier, asking them to match their contribution.
Eggers came up with the idea of the pled ge plan and worked out the details with the Student Association union builpting subcommittee.
The union building subcommittee consists of several SA assembly members in the student programs committee.
Also during Friday's meeting, the executive committee approved an 8.4 percent tuition increase and a 7.5 percent room and board increase for the 1979-80 academic year.
Tuition will be \($ 4,500\) a year, a \($ 350\) increase. College of Law tuition will increase from \($ 4,150\) to $4,600.
Graduate atudents will pay \($ 150\) for each credit hour. Currentiy, graduate tuition is \($ 140\) a credit. University College undergraduates will pay \($ 87\) a credit hour, a \($ 7\) increase.
Summer session undergraudate tuition will increase \($ 10\), to \($ 125\) a credit hour. Summer graduate tuition will increase from \($ 140\) to \($ 150\). Extended campus tuition will be \($ 116\) a credit hour, a \($ 6\) increase. The student health fee will be \($ 90\) a year, a \($ 5\) increase.

The full board of trustees is expected to give final appronal of the focincresses alits next meeting in May.
Clifford L"Winters Jr. "vice chancellor for ad ministrative operations, said the fee increases are comparable to those planned by other major private universities and conform to President Carter's guidelines for price increase and compensation adjustments.
Caxter's guidelines, which are voluntary, suggest keeping wage increases below 7 percent and limiting price hikes to one half of one percent below the average annual price increase during 1976-77.

Trustees also agreed to meet with students next month in a roundtable discussion. Courtney said she is working on details for the meeting.
Courtney also said she brought upthe idea of naming the domed atadium after Ernie Davis the late SU foothall player recently elected to the College Footfootball player rec
"Hair of Faction was receptive," Courtney said. "But we have the discuss the idea more at the next "But we h
The executive boand meets again March 2.

\section*{DO extends application deadline}

The Daily Orange has received only one application for managing editor. Therefore, the appo Tuesday at 5 p.m.
The managing editor is involved with the produc tion side of the newspaper, and should be familiar with layout and paste-up.
Applitation deadline for all other positions is today at 5 p.m. Yoaitions are available in production, layout, copy, editorial, news, Focus (features and culture), Living, sports, supplement, art, and photo.
Letters of intent should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St.

French said he encourages anyone interested to ap ply.

\section*{}

Hy Jerry Zremski
Syracuse University meal plans will undergo major revisions this fall, including eliminating the On-The-Go and Commuter plang and preating a new plan to replace them.

The Maxi Plan will be expanded and renamed the Deluxe Plan. It will include more snack bar coupons and guest passes, but details are not known, officials said
The plan to replace the Un-The-Go and Commuter plans has not been named yet. It will be a punch plan with 288 punches, said Dennis F. Koehler, director of dining eervices.

Ciurrently, the On-The-Go Plan has 318 punches and costs \($ 360\); the Commuter Plancontains 195 punches for \($ 236\). The On-The-Go plan averages about three punches a day.
In dining halls, breakfast costs one punch, lunch requires two punches and dinner costs three punches.
Details of the new plans will beannounced Wednes.
undergo major c day, said James B. Morgan, director of the Office of Reaidence and Dining Services.

However; the new plan will cost leas than the On The-Go plan, said Scott Kleip, chairperson of the Residential Life Advisory Council. Eract prices are not yet available

The new plan will be available to all atudents except freshman, Klein said
The On-The-Go plan is not open to freshmen and the Commuter plan is only open to students living offcampus, at-Skytop ox in Greek houses.

Under the Maxi Plan, students receive all meals seven days a week plus grest meal paspes and anack bar coupoins.

Student Association has been lobbying to open the Commuter Plan to all upperclassmen.

Last month the Commuter plan was opened to juniorn and seniors in Lawrinson Hall on a trial program. Fen readents aigned up for the plan SA had hoped the Commuter plan would be made available to avaiable to upperclasman
Frank Slazer, \(\mathbf{S A}\) vice president for student programs, said he is "very surprised" at the changes. This was not our original intention," Slazer said. He said he believed it would be better to "provide a broader range of choices."

Koehler and Morgan discussed the changes at an RIAAC meeting Thursday night.

The RiAAC will also be changed because of the recent merger of the Office of Fesidential Life and Food Service, Klein said.
"They (Koehler and Morgan) asked us to consider dining aervices as well ar residential services," Klein asid. "We,will undergo a name change but we haven't diacussed it yet."

Other changes in RIAC will be. a revision of ita ongtitution to accommodate dining aervices.
RLAC will also get an adviser from Dining Services, Elein arid. The council now has an adviser from residence services.

\section*{Letters \\ \section*{Bonus}}

To the editor:
An a resident of Shaw. Hall I can easily recognize that the Shaw Hall that-was-to-be, as described in Carl Johnson's editoxial (Jan. 31) sure doean't exist at preaent. Like he aaid, all the floors are divided into living /learning units, yet more often than not, the activities planned have more to with weekend parties than the advancement of academics. They don't call us "Raw Hall" for nothing.
But for me, Shaw Hall offers a few things that the other dorms can't. First and foremost, people of aimilar interests really are living together. interestly realy are of the program (whether it works or not), Shaw at tracts somewhat higher caliber students, or at least students students, or at least students interested in college beyond the classroom atmosphere. Also, Shaw has a higher percentage of foreign atudents mixed ix the different unita and some of them are really intereating people. On my floor i have two friends from Algeria and one from London. Their interests have something to do with science, too. and comparing lifestyles with them has been one of the most intereating things that's happened to xne at SU.

The DO's editorial seemed to in-dicato that, since the program didn't wark completely, it wat a total failure and a mistare. I think the roote of it were a big bonus. What lit tle remains of the original concep tion should not be scrapped and other dorms.

\section*{Linda A. Reaine}

\section*{Bureaucracy}

To the editor,
We in the Sicytop Halls read with interest your article about the consolidation of the Office of Residential Life and Food Service and concomitant assumption of greater rescomitant assumption of greater res ponsibilities by Jaraes. Morgan. director of ORL This is of great significance, aa we now have yet another level of bureaucracy with which to cope in the neverending and incessantly inconvenient poor quality of service from Morgan's department in the past.
Now that the former ORL director's duties have been augmented, ao will the usual 10-day waiting period it takes us non-atudent-government piebea to get an appointment with him to complain about the recurring and always annoying problems of occasional non-delivery of mail, semester-long. Waits for maintenance repairs and lack of any recognition that snow-covered walks exist near Skytop Hall 3.

Moreover, there is no solace in the statement that exigting ataff responsibilitiem throughout ORI, will remain constant; that is merely another way of saying that we wil continue to have to climb the iame hierarchical ladder from Skybarn to Steele Hall in our quest for an adminiatrator capable of responding to pleas for light-bulb replacement adequate-heat in the west wing of the building, and acreen repair.
If there is any gracesaving under Vice Freaident Heagarty's new organizational atructure, it is that organizational structure, it is that we will be spaved from ORI's There are no dining halls on South Campus.
Maybe the univeraity could buy Peter's supermaricet.

Rarry Siskin

\section*{Band}

To the editor,
As a member of the \(S U\) marching band, I have one question in res ponse to your article on Jan. 30. Did it just now come to your attention that the marching band is without uniforms? Didn't you notice us at all those home games? We were there eupporting the team and the achool I'm sure the students noticed ua because they cheered for us.
I have a smeaking suspicion that the univernity does not really approciate all the time and effort we put into a field show Funny, but they're more than willing to let st play for pep rallies, homecoming parades, Parents' Weelcend, etc. But why is it that they almost wouldn't send us to Pittsburgh last yoar and Bonton thi year because of finan cial reasona? Why do theylet ue play a pro football game in Buffalo in windbreakers instead of uniforme? Surely achools like Ohio State and Michigan State wouldn't let their bands to on wad tripe kithour uniforma. For road tripa without caliber, I would think thet SU, caliber, 1 would think that they'd fant uns to repreeent the school in together improvisations.
Ogether improvisations.
But we made the beat of a bad situation. Our shows were well-ex. cuted and our spirits were high. My sympathy went out to both the freshmex comaing trom high class bands and the graduating meniors Who had to settie for windbreakers. Windbreakers, by the way, which we pay for ourselvea with our band fee. Truesday's article ended on an op. timistic note. I truly hope the band will be outfitted iz full uniform next year. Maybe in full uniform yoi'd notice us out there on the field. Maybe you'd notice how much mpirit and enthukiasm we bring to the foot: ball games. Maybe you'd oven write an article about un.

Colleen Feeney

\section*{Construction} on the
Syracuse University
campus:
the stadium,
Bird Library
and others.

\section*{Find out} the details in

The Daily Orange

\title{
Get Your Foot in the Door
}

Report newsmagazine is looking for new staff members - writers, paste-up and layout, editors, to begin working this semester.

If you've been discouraged by other campus media, now is your chance to get involved. We are currently interviewing for photo editor, and are looking for people interested in any or all phases of newsmagazine publication.

Contact REPORT at 423-1401. Don't miss out on an opportunity to get your foot in the door.

\section*{Did the last Christian die on the cross?}

Christianity began as a tiny sect within Judaism. The earliest adherente wers persons who had lived Nazareth, a Jowish reformer. Within a very few years after Jesua' death the Christians were prociaiming the story of Jesus to Gentiles as well as to Jews. Soon afterwards some Christians declared their afterwards some Christians declared their independence from Judainm and some of them Gurther intisted upon the finality and supremacy of "God's revelation or Chriat." After that, tanving treed themselves from the obligations of ritual and religious law as practiced by Jews, the Gentila Chriareligious law as practiced by Jewt, the Gentile Chriatiana retained what they chose from the Jewish tana retained what they chose from the Jewish heritage but also began to absorb and transform practices and ideas from the larger Hellemistic worid.
The dialectic of proclamation and culture specific appropriation eatablished a dynamic writhin Christianity which persiata unil fidelity to the received tradition (eventually aymbolized most prominently by the Bible) and appropriate openness to differing hintorical and cultural circumstances and influences. Predictably the slightest variations in that dialectical proportionality resulted in Thus, from very early in ita history the word Christianity" has functioned as am umbrella term encompassing a variety of beliefs, liturgies. interpretations of Scripture, conceptual formulations, ethical principles and communities. Each expression indicates another facet of the nichness of the complax of images, aymbols and ntories to which itappealed. Takeatogether they defy any attempt to reduce Christianity to any hypotheaized "easence." For everyone maserting that Chriatianity is frist and foremost a aet of theological Christianity is frist and foremost a set of theological propositions to be belived. And againat both another that it in a kife to be hived. And against both a will characterize Chxistianity yet differenty. pluralism, aecularism and technology, there also are multiple aecularism and technology, there also are matiple manifestations of Christianity. Since the Second manifestations of Christianity. Since the Second Vatican Council in the \(1960^{\prime}\), Catholicism has exVatican Council in the 1960's, Catholicism has experienced dramatic changes, perhaps none more so

Pope. The world awrite a fulker sense of what is enProtantantism has withessed equally remarkable rainformations. In mome instances traditional denominational designations have became practically dyafunctional For example, the pentecostal fervor popular among certain persons in many denominations marks them ate having far greater affanity with each other than with other persons of different persnasiona within their own denominations. In such a aituation it is hardly poosible to maintain tidy characterizations of what it means to be a Preabyterian, Episcopalian, Methodist, or whatever.

Thus, many sensitive Christians today are fully initiated into the reality of religious pluralinm, not primarily through expanded awareneas of other preligious traditions such as Buddhism, but more immediately through contact with others who call themselves Christians for whom thatmeans something significantly different. Feactions to diversity ing eignincaniy Simen enteadfastly retain the con vary enormouny, Some steadrasty retan the chat it is to be a Chrigtian geems right to them, then any is toviation from or alternative to that murt be wrong deviation from or alternative to that must be wrong Others sense that the very diversity of Christanity is testimony to the fecund power or the gymbola, stories and idess of the tradition. Those holding this view tend to gee diversity not as a deficiency or error but rather an a strength indigenous to Chrimanity. of heresy are countered by charges of bigotry and of heresy a fanaticism.
Such conflicts among Christians have historically given rise to some of the worst atrocities, persecutions and religious wars in the name of Christianity. That a religiom espousing love of God and love of all other humans as its highest virtues can lead to such horrors remaing sufficient for many critics to regard Christianity as bankrupt. Although his reasons were somewhat different, in his conclusion Nietzache died on the cross"" died on the croge!"

Howevex, such an asseasiment ignorea too much. There. can be little doubt that some or another understanding of and commitment to Christianity contributed powerfully to shaping the lives of some of the world's most admired and emulated persons and to some of the cherished ideals and aspirations of Western culture. If Christianity properly must take responaibility for the occasions in its history when some of its adhergnts have acted and spoken outrageously, then surely it may also be credited for its contributions to deepening understanding of the human condition, to alloviating pain and auffering in untold numbers of lives and to shaping many of the institutions and practices most esteemed in Western Culture.

There can be little doubt that Christianity in several of its expressions shall continue to exert a shaping influence upon many persons and institutions. There is and has always been, however grave doubt at any given moment in its history as to which voices in the dynamic dialectic shall exert the greater degree of innuence. Regardless of the manerical preponderance today of conservative expressions of Christianity, nothing in ite history supporte the egtimate that other expressions of Chris ianity shail pass from the scenc. Semper forming umm (always reiormig) io the charactarisicinbin against comming worst incarnations. hhe same pinciple alsa arges against auppoaing that during Christianity oc casional periods of reducod power it may safely or confidently be dismissed in speculating on the courtse of the fature. Any religion for which "resurrection" is so prominent is likely to surprise both its mosi devoted adherents and ita most stringent critics James B. Wiggins is a professor in the religion department.

\section*{We have met the donor, and he is us}

It is remarkable what a large tradition that ties all of SU's proportion of the western universities have their "unions." Of course the erection of a building by the university for this purpose is at present impassible. The recent heauydrains on the student pocketbook render it practically out of the question to begin the fund from this saurce. Perhaps some alumnus or patron of the university will see fit to enable Syracuse to follow the excellent example of her western contemporaries. In the meantime it might be advisable to organize some such a union...to tahe advantage of any suth opportunity when it offers itself.
Daily Orange editorial, March 31, 1911

Samual Beckett may have Written "Waiting for Godot" with SU's 60 -year-old quest for a union building in mind. Lake Godot's characters, SU has been expecting a magical millionaire donor to materialize, blueprints in hand.

Complaining about the absence of a union building is the one clasees to that ties all of SU's timent that the chancellor mas timent that the chancelior has organized the best plan in years to

The money is to come from students. The class of '79 is to pledge \($ 250\), payable in five years if construction on a union building has started and the donor is making at least \($ 20,000\) a year. In effect. ing at least \($ 20,000\) a year. In effect. a bet on the construction of a union building.

The idea of seeking alumni contributions is not new, but this time the alumnus is not aome mystery millionaire, but ourselves. Even without this plan, the university is without this plan, the university is soon at your door or on the phone seeking donations. Instead. of random donations, the plan allows for a unified effort.
The chancellor expects that only 1,000 students of the class of 79 total 2.500 will pledge the money. This will be enough to get the ball rolling. Each donor is supposed to contact two other alumni from the class 20 years prior to his and ask

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ Thoman Coffey editori in chief}

The Deily Orenge Corp. 7101 E. Aderme St., Syracuse. N.Y. 13210 , publishes The Daily Orange wrokdays of the acadernic year. Editorial (315) 423-2127.

Them to match their contribution. method of paying off a \($ 10\) million union building loan will take 20 union buildugg loan will take 20 years. Of courge with inflation, the elsewhere for extra funds-someth: ing which is not actively being done right now.

What is lacking in the plan, is that students have no say about what the union building will frnally look like. Students could find-themselves contributing in nve years to a brick and glans monstex: Although the etiancellor has held many meetings with students working out the details of this plan; he never discussed with them how the union building should be designed.

The plan does allow donors to contribute to another part of the university if they hate the union building once it's under construction. But this is only a negative comment, after the fact. Students should be able to help plan the union building. Chancellor Eggers should set up meetings with students, administrators, faculty and support staff to draft a union building that would truly be the center of a university community.
Last spring, 500 students demonstrated in the parking lot near Bird Library to show their support for a union building. Accepting the plan is the best follow-up to demonstration. The class of 79 has the opportunity to be the firat to help realize a 68 -year-old quest for a union building.
It is no exaggeration to say a union building is an idea "whose time has come." After all, running a 68-year-old edítorial, that etill makes sense is a bit embarassing.

Howard Manafield and Sy Montromery
for The Daily Orange

\section*{Department of Strange Phenomena}

\section*{From the Nov. 30 iasue of The Daily Northwestern:}

\section*{\(11 \%\) of studenta feel they deserve to} go to hell
About one Northweatern student in every-mine thiniks he deserves to Eo to hell, according to The Daily Northwestern'⺈ NU poll.

About five times as many students
(56\%) said heaven is where they belong.
But 16 percent of those surveyed said they knew of someone who is a sure bet to go to hell.

You cannot petition the Lord with surveys.

The Daily Orange is accepting letters of intent for all staff positions. Applications should be brought to Scot French at the DO; 1101 E. Adarns St. Application deadline for managing editor is Tuesday at 5 p.m. Deadline for all other positions is Monday at 5 p.m.

Positions are available in production, layout, copy, editorial, news, Focus (features and culture), Living, sports, supplement, art, and photo.

The new Living department will deal with issues directly affecting the self or the body such as health, nutrition, drugs, human sexuality, birth control, and counseling.

\section*{Hillel to vote on new position}

By Marilyn Marks Members of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation will elect new officers and vote on a referendam creating the poaition of Reform Action chairperson Feb. 14 and 15.
Members should file petitions by Feb. 7 to run for the following Hillel offices: president, vice president, gecretary, treasurer, programing chairperson, social chairperson, religious chairperson, membership chairperson and publicity chairperson.
If the referendum passes, the Reform Action chairperson will start Reform services and "sponsor Reform-related events and speakers," according to Cindy Becker, Hillel publicity chairperson. The referendum needs a two-thirds majoxity of the votes cast to pass.
"The purpose of the referendum is toincrease membership by meeting, the needs of Reform students," Becker said.
"We think Jews have to be united, on campus through Hillel."
Hillel presently has about 1,000 members, Becker said.
Becker Aaid although everything but Hillel's religious servicea pertain to all Jews, students tend to think that Hillel is a Conservative organization.
"Fillel is an organization to provide programing of Jewrish interest," Becker said. "Hillel providen religious services because students need a place to worehip on campus."
About 25 students have expressed interest in feform programing, Becker said. She said the lack of special Reform programing makes sorae Jewish students."feel alienated from Hillel."
Jay Levinthal, one of the students who organized the campaign for Reform programing, said, "Right now, Reform Judaism isn't really represented or programed for in Hillel."

Eight studenta haveactively worked for programing and the referend urn, he maid.

Becker added, "The only reason thit is atarting now is because there are interested studenta. A lot of people complain about Hillel, but they're not doing anything about it."

All the candidatea will speak at a free lunch in the Hillel office on Monday, Feb. 12.

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTER LAB FEE-. . . 845 includez All chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and printing plus color slide development.

\section*{3 & \(W\) course begins Feb. 5}

Color course begins Feb. 12
Call or atop by for a friendly wisit - Open Evarpolay 316 Waveriy Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. 315-423-2450

This weak's REDKEN special \(\) AMINO-PON SHAMPOO & CLIMATRESS CONDITIONER \(20 \%\) off

No appointment necessery

Orange Tonsorial & Supply

727 South Crou*e Ave.
(next to the S. U. Post OHice)

\section*{University Union Concert Board invites you to spend a very special evening with}

\section*{THE KINKS}

Tuesday, February 27 8:30 p.m. Landmark Theatre

Reserved Tickets Now on Sale \($ 7.50 & $ 6.50\)

Tickets available at: Landmark Box Office, Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records, The Panhandier and all Gerber-Music Stores.

By Barbara Krupnicki A bearded man awings a gold porket watch before a
"Your eyelids are getting heavy. You are getting leepy...aleepy. sleepy
The voice fades out and the woman's eyes close. It is a familiar scene from television and movies, but it is a miserepresentation of phenomenon of hypnosia. like state in which the aubject becomes hyper-tuggestible, has suffered from its occultinh past, Because it delves into the unexplored recesses of the subconacious, it is misconceived by many to be black-magic, rather than a dignified science recognized around the world by the medical profession.
It is believed that hypnotism was used by practitionera of early religions, and has oven become an explanation for miracles of the "laying of the hands" mentioned in the hands" mentioned in the Bible
F. A. Mesmer was the first person to utilize hypriosis to cure the sick. He believed dictating fluids in their bodies. He believed that fluida of sick people could be restored to proper functioning through proper functioning through the urned of mownotinduce meamer learned how toinduce atrancecome state which was Accompanied by convulsions, but hypnosis when he was accused hypnosis when he was accused However, his name remains However, his name remains known, as a syonym for a known, as hypnotist.
In the 19th century, Marquis Chastenet de Puysegur meannerized without magnets and convulsions. He was one of many hypnotiats acattered over Europe.
Am English phymician, James Braid, later concluded that hypnosis was more paychological than physical. He dubbed the phenomenon "Typnosis" from the Greek, "to sleep." He used hypnosis in surgery, especially to perform amputations. But the acience fell again into digrepute at the hands of spiritualists.

Hypnosis came to the attention of Sigmund Fread Jean Charcot. Freud pioneered the use of hypnosis po treat neurotics.
Hypnoais was used during the World Wars to treatinjured soldiers without medication. soldiers without medication.
In 1956 , the American Medical Aspociation declared Medical Associvatun declared the science valuable as a year later, adjunct and a Society of Clineal Hypnosis wociety of Counded.
Although it hes evolved from a subject of marvel and froms a anabject of marvel anda wonderment to one of close paychiatry, the hypnotic trance remaina an enigraa. It has been described as a sleepLike state, a dream-like state, a state of altered consciousness and a state of complete relasation. Hypnotist John Koliach compares a hypnotic trance to mmoking "tix joints - all at one.fime." In his book, "Helping Yourself Through SelfHypnosis," Dr. Frank 5 . Caprio says the hypnotic trance ia an exaggerated form of guggestibility.
orn with the Kolisch to be hypnotized," heightens our susceptibility to suggestion, he eaid.
Some people swear they could never be entranced, but Kolisch believer he can hypnotize anyone, under hypnotize anyone, ander certain conditions. Sorne traits do mark a good subject. such as an ability to concensuch as an ability to concen openness to new attention. an and a willingness to comply and a willingmess to comply with suggestions.
A hypnotizt
A hypnotist or a number of methods to induce a trance. Usually the subject is directed to focus his attention on an object or an imaginary scene. The hypnotist ther suggests that the subject feels deeply relaxed or sleepy. With a snap of the hypnotist's fingers or \(a\) touch on the forehead, the subject falls into a deep trance.
Profesaionals are unable to meingure how deeply a subject goes into a trance, but the hypnotic state is recognizable Hyprosis, once feared as a form of witcheraft. is now mecepted by dicohollath.

by several characteristica. Ac cording to Paychology Today magazine, the subject may give evidence of altered brain waves, eye movements, pulse and blood rates, or certain skin responses.
Stacey Winnick, who was hypnotized by Kolitheh in a recent atace demonstration said, "It's like being on laughing gas -- you're there, but you're not there."
Nancy Brox, who was hypnotized several years ago in Massachusetts, said "it's like a really vivid dream. You can gee yourgelf doing things, but you can't control it. You feel like you're not mentally and physically together."
It is important to note that a subject never loses toach with his surroundings, although he may appear to be oblivigus to them.
A subject comes out of a trance when the hypnotist suggests the aubject wake up. suggests the aubject wake up.
A gubject may or may not A anbject may or may not recance what &oes on in the trance once heis broughtout of it, but the feeling following it, but the feeling following withdrawal from the trance is withdrawal from the trance is almost universal. "I had 80 almost univergal. "I had so much energy, I felt I could do anything. in felt amazing," anything. I felt arnazing, Winnick aaid. Kolisch said a Winnick aaid. Kolisch said a half hour of trance is equa six hours of restful sleep.

Heightened energy is only one of the benefits of hypnosis. According to tlue July 1977 issue of Psychology Today magazine, the acience has gained widespread use as an anesthetic in major surgery and in cases where pain is paychological, as in childbirth or oral aurgery.

Hypnosis does not cure the pain's cause but rather it alters the patient's perception of the pain. Peychology Today reported hypnosis can reduce anxiety and hypertension and it can alleviate the annoying symptoms of allergies, eczema, colitis, and migraine headaches. It can also help problems of frigidity, impotence, and menatrual difficulties.

Hypnosis is used by many practitioners to reduce patients' excess smoking, drinking and eating. In these casen, a hypnotist will unually casen, a regupnarly with a aubject, muggesting he cut down gradually, and then instruct the patient to hypnotize hirmselfin the interval between meetings. A patient can meetings. A patient can hypnotize himself by self-inhypnotize himself by seli-inducing the relaxed state and ducing the relaxed state and giving himaelf auggestions. In giving himself suggestions. In effect, all hypaosis is aelfhypaosis, because the subject must be, receptive. to the must be receptive, io the cording to Dr. Caprio.

Jordan Zarren of Growth Therapy Associates, a local hypnosis clinic, waid only 10 percent of his patients come in to stop amoking. His practice, which accepts patients on referral from phyaicians, uaually treats people with Chapef Chair's Callifornio tour planned for May.
1. Fill out the order form below meil to ul of leest 2 weeks before the birthdey (All deliveries mude at 6:30 p.m.) vance)

Narne of mander
Address
Name of receiver .___ Phone
Addras:
Oate of Birthday Greating through the mair.

severe emotional problema or Prychosomatic ailments. Hypnosis is useful in such cases of psychotherapy because it helpa a patient and his hypnotechnician to overcome block to paychomanalybis.
Becsuse hypnosis deals with the anknown nature of the aubconscious, many people believe the fallacies they have heard about it.
One common misconception is that a subject can bercoine "stuck" in a trance. Kolisch dieproved this belief, however, by stating that if a aubject is nat removed from a trance after a certain length of time, he will automaticaily fall into a gtate of natural gleep.
Many hypnotists are quick o disprove the belief that an to disprove the belief that an entranced subject can be inuced to commit a crime. It is usuaily said that a person in a arance cannot be made to do anything he would not ormally do. Kolisch qualifies his, however. He says that While a anbiect may be motal whd juat, be may reach a point: Whem he :could be indriced to commait an offense, for example if he was offered a mailion ollaxe.
Hypnosis is no longer corisidered a fearful form of witcheraft. It has gained wide recognition an a scientific tool that helps to cure the body by unlowking the mind.

\title{
Need a Onte-of-a-lind Birthday Greeting?
}

\section*{The Hendricks Chapet Choir is NOW delivering Mappy Birthday Songs.}

At your request, whoir quartet will sing a special arrangement of the Hoppy Birthday somg and bring a smoll birthday cake to anyone in the cempus area. Your 55.00 donation will go towarets the Hendricks

\section*{TO ORDER A SINGING BIRTHDAY GREETING:}
2. Make out ehock to the Hendricks Chapal Chair.for \($ 5.00\) and
3. Than, just make wure your birchday permon is at their rasideneo at 6:30 p.m. an the mpecified night to receive their birthday surprite.

BIRTHDAY GREETING ORDER FORM (mist be received 2 weeks in ad-

Send to: c/o Hondrick: Chapel Choif, Hendricke Chepet, Syrucuse Univeratity: Syrecuse, N,Y.. 13210.

Remember to enclose vour check. We do not racommend sending cesh

\section*{Group protests to stop apartheid}

By Marflyn Marics
The Committee to Stop Apartheid hung three banners on campus yesterday at the first step in its campaign to force Syracuse University to sell itostocks in companies operating in South Africa.

The three banners, on which are written slogans proclaiming SU's role in apartheid; are slogans pirteclaiming at the International Living Center, 401 located at the International Loving Center, 4 Ei Euclid Ave; Delleplain Hall, , and the Stude Univeraity Ave.
"The banners, are to raise student consciousness about the diventiture issue and apartheid, which we are aupporting through ou investments," said Calvin Mendelsohn, a CSA member.

SU has about \($ 6.9\) million in investments in eighe companies doing business in South Africa.

The university holds stock only in corporations that subscribe to the Sullivan Principles, which ask companies doing business in South Africa to press for fair employment practices.
The Sullivan Principles, adopted by the SU board of trustees last spring. request a commitment to such goals as no segregation in eating, comfort and work facilities; equal em-ploymerít practices; and an improved quality of exaployese livea outside of work.

However. CSA members said at a previous meeting that the Sullivan Principles are unrealistic because they are illegal in South Africa.
CSA was formed about three weeks ago and has about 15 mambers. The group has three goals: "To increase awareness of the racially oppressive apartheid aystem in South Africa, to persuade SU to withdraw all stocks in corporations doing business in South Africa and to support struggles against apartheid."

On this campus, there is such a low degreeof political awarentiss," one CSA mamber said at lact Thursday's meeting. TYou have to make every person on the campus aware of the human situation."

CSA's banners, and a fact sheet which members distributed at Friday's showing of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" in Grant Auditorium, are the group's first efforts in its campaign.
The companies doing buniness in South Africa in which SU has stock include: Citicorp Exxon, Federal Mogul, General Electric, IBM Mobil Oil, A. C. Nielson, and Norton Simon.
CSA will hold its next meeting tonight at 7 at 424 Maple St.

\section*{Students, legislators discuss ban}

By Chuck Obuchowaki Most of the 300 studente and legialatora who participated in a form Sasurday at the Onondaga County War Memorial agreed that wideapread drug and alcohol abuse occurs at rock concerts there. But they disagreed on the proposed solutions.
The Rev. Ronald Buckel, chairman of the City-County Drug Abune Commission, led discrasion at the forum, which was jointly sponsored by his commission and the Onondaga County Legislature.

Republican Minority Leader Nicholas. Pirro organized the forum two weeks ago in order to give concert-goers a chance to respond to the proposed smoling axd drinking ban.

Syracuse University Student Association Vice President for University-CommPresident for University-Com-

Concert promoter Cedric Kushner disputes a plan at a formm Saturday to fored per. fons under 16 to be accompanied by an aduit when ettending War. Mamorial concerts.
munity Relations Larry Beer read a statement drafted by \(S A\) expreesing its opposition to the expreasingitsopposinion to the ban. Bucigel witgeeted that Beer ask SA to propose an Beer ask SA alternate plan.
University Union External Chairperain. Larry Schulsinger and SA member Jim Keeney also represented SU at the forum.
Buckel aaid he has been attemding War Memorial concerts bince 1969. "I have seen drug abuse intensify considerably in that time" he said.

Buckel outlined an 11-point proposal drawn up by the drug abuse commisaion. The plan calls for reserve fenting only, "minimal' honne lighting dur ing concerts and frisking patronas at the door.
Other guidelines include prohibnting "illegal, noxious and hazardous substances." setting up a "F-shirt securit force" made up of high school students, and having students, and having procedures to deal with persons who "exhibit ab
The commismion's plan also proposes that persons under 16 be accompanied by an adult.
The latter proposal met with the most opposition. Cedric Kushner, a New York City concert promoter who handles many War Mexnorial shows, said he wha "more than willing" to comply with the commisaion'a plan, except for the are requirement. "That" half my audience, he said, "at think buch a reatriction would discourage young people from attendinge." young people from County Lergislator Justin

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{WATCH FOR THE HUGHES RECRUITER VISITING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

\section*{Contact your placement office for interview dates.}

\section*{HUGHES}
\(--=-0-1\)
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMPLOYER M/F

Building Your Body Beautiful at Syracuse
Sports Conditioners

Now ONLY during the Month of February 2 people can get in shape for the price of 1
Women as well as men can enjoy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program which features significant reduction of body fat while developing strength and flexibility. Onlytwo 45 minute sessions a week are required to maintain that slim trim look.
call Sieve or Bob to make an appointment for your
FREE TRLAL 476-2274
Syracuse Sports Conditioners 716 East Washington St. across from the Midtown Plaze

SYARLSE LNIVERSITY EOOKCTORES

\section*{MAIN FLOOR}

\section*{JANUARY MARKDOWN SALE STARTS TODAY!}

\section*{- Syracuse University "ȘU" Imprint}

Jackets originally \($ 32.95\) SALE PRICE \($ 7.95\)
Vests
originally \($ 25.95\)
SALE PRICE
\($ 7.95\)
- Men's T-shirts (imprint errors) & broken sizes
from \($ 1.79\)
- Women's Fashion Syracuse Imprint Shirts

Long sleeve S-M-L
Colors: Powder, black, sand
- Women's "Syracuse" Imprint L/S HOODED T-shirts

Sizes S-M-L
Colors:Lt. blue, black, sand Reg. \($ 9\) PALE PRICE \($ 3.95\)
Sale ends Feb. 9 No Refunds - No Exchanges chanee it:
gu boorstone CMAnCE mastincmanes
vea mereyan atone motine:
monerin to0-6:30

SU'a Gene Milis (fere): wresting at 118 pounds, pinned srehrival Nitch Vence of Ternpie in Philacielphin Saturdey to run his seswon's record to 18 -0.

\section*{Wresting}

\section*{Temple overushelms SU}

PHILADELPHLA - Five migutes after Syracuse wrestling coach Ed Carlin' Philadelphia-bound car left the Manley Field House parking lot it was bit by a school bus. The accident was. not serious, but onces in head on by an unbeaten Temple team and were head on by an umb demolished \(31-12\).
demolished 31-12. "Some guys on thin team have to learn to Wome guys on thin team have to learn to Gene Mills; who was a winner at 118 pounds. Gente Milis, who was a winner at people who are better wresters than We have people who are bettar wresters than tle, and expect to win. Tast'a not the way it works."
Mills,-the nation's top-ranked 118 -pounder, raised his season record to 180 with a thi "Vance is a nioe lid off the mat," Mille said. "Eut on the mat he stalls and I hate people who stall. He always builds up leads on me and then runs away. Troday he ran out of bounds as much as he could but this time I didr't spot him the points early.
After Vance broke into the acoring column first with a takedown. Mills escaped and piled up eight unankwered paints before the pin came with 57 seconds left in the match.
In the meet's second match Syracuse aenior Jeff Zona, wresting in his first collegiate geason, was no matich for talented Temple trol throughout, running up a \(13-1\) lead before trol throughou Ainning 134 pounds Temple freahman. Ste Cifonelli pinned freshman Marla DeMeo. More disappointments soon followed. Tim Catalfo's bid for top seeding in the Eastern

\section*{From the sidelines}

Championships was irreparably darnaged
Doug Paxise (23-1) gave him a \(16-4\) worki over.
"Fim had to loee 18 pound to make wergh 142 pounds," Carlin aaid. "After what he through thi week to mater what he w aurprised he died out there."

Another Oramgeman who had to lose weit Was freshman John Dougherty. Atter Temple Johnny Alcins had decisioned Ron Grubara and Paul Norina had beaten Syractuae a collegiate match at 167 pounds.
collegiate match at 167 pounds. weigt " Dosteherty said "4n meedaysto m veight;" Dougherty thid. "I made it by hal
Despite his threeday ordeal Dougherty \(h\) plenty of energy. Leading Temple's Ke Kreider \(9-8\) in the third period, Donghet anuffed out a Kreider comeback byreutraliz and taking down his opponent to win \(12-8\). At 177 polnnds Syacuses Mi Lled a close match with Tony Mantella. With meconds remaining and the score 4-2 Mantella's favor, Ponzo whot in for Lakedown he needed to ever the acore. Inste Mantella countered with a talkedown of his ov finishing off Porzo 6-2.
At 190 pounds Syracuae natehed freshm Ralph Spinola; an overgtuffed 177 pound with undefeated aenior Carmel Morina. The sue was never in doubt as Morina used his perience and strength to push Spinola aro and record a \(17-3\) super-superio decition aing by more than 12 points.
One bripht tpoit for Sycact ling of Mitre Fotunda. Disqualifief the wit ling of Mice Rotunda. Disqualified for dallay againgt Buffalo, Btg Mire wrestied a mi.t Armstrong, winning 6-3.
Rotumda'a win wes too Iifile too late for Orangemen, whose record dropped to 144 whi Temple remained undefeated at 150 . Syracuse's next opponent is Hofstra thi Tueaday at 7:30 p.m. at Manley.

\section*{Eddie Moss makes rapid rise to stardom}

\section*{By Geoff Hobson}

The Zoo was restless. With four minutes to go in the first half, Rutgers and James Bailey were giving Syracuse University a basketball clinic and led by 10 pointa.
Manley, where the Orange lose once every Manley, where the Orange lose once every off the bench came 6-foot-2 sophomore guard Eddie Moss, who anawers to the位位e "quickest guard in the East." He proceeded to turn the game around by making a layup off a ateal and following with a pretty fast-br Bouie for a brisket.
The flurry gave Syracuse the momentum to cut the lead to one at the halfand go on to win \(71-65\). The Zoo acknowledged on to win \(71-65\). The Zoo acknowledged Moss' heroics with a robust chant of "EdMoss' heroics die, Eddie!"
die, Eddie!"
"When you're coming off the bench, you have to start doing certain things that haven't been done in the game yet and make sorne adjustments," Moss said.
At the end of December, Moss wasn't coming off the bench because he earned a starting job with solid performances dur. ing Christmas break. As the point guard. Moss bossed Syracuse to a seven-game winning streak with defence.
However, in the last moments of the Siena game, Moss bruiged his ankle and missed grames against Canisius, Manhattan and West Virginia. He \(P\)
Yet in his etimet as the point guard, Moss looked to be reaching the potential many at Syracuse have predicted for him. Billed still leads the team in assista despite missing three ganes.
"It's too bad he got hurt." aaid SU assistant coich Brendan Malone, who cosched Moss during his sophomore and junior years at Power Memorial Kigh School in New York City. "Heplayed aome great games in that stretch.
Mose has built his reputation mainly on his quicknees ("He's daman vear bionic he's so fast," asid teammate Roosevelt Bouie) and his defensive abilities.
"You have to make him (the offensive player) do what you want him todo:" Moss aaid. It depends on what team we're playing-but sornetimes coach will tell me he wanth a guy mhut down-that means cotal denial of the ball. Other times Ill just play atraight up on him."

A case in point of what Mosa' defense means to the Orange: with Mosi out of the lineup Temple guards Ricky Reed (who gcored 24 pointas) and keith Parham had a Geld day againat SU'a glower guards in held day againat SU'a slower guards in Palestra. Adjugtmenta had to be made in Palestra. Adjustments had to be made in stop the two.
"With Eddie out of the lineup, we loge that defensive quickness," said'SU head coach Jim Boeheim. "Reed would have scored his pants, but not 24. He has come up with some big steals that have helped up with some big steals th Moss'demennor on the floor stands out as much as his gharp passes and big steals. Playing with no expression and looking like he wouldn't sweat in a sauna, Mose is Syracuse's anawer to the NBA's George Hcemanis Gervin.
"You can't let the other guy know you're rattled out there," Moss said. "If he beats" you or something, you just have to try again

A lot of people think I'm cold and show no emotion" Moss shrugged. "But I guess that's just the way I arm.
"Eddie showa his emotions," said his closest friend on the tean, Louta Orr. "He's got a lot of energy and is fun to be with. He's does thing.
"He's always been pretty cool and maintained his coxnposure," Malone said. "Sometimes he tries to make the big play and he gets beat, but he does make the big play, In his junior year he scored 19 points in the game we won the city championship.'"
"Eddie is cool and nonchalant on the court, but he has a tendency to be too nonchaiant at timea, Eoeheim aaid,

\section*{"He's damn near} bionic he's so fast,"

The raturity and cootness on th Stem from Moss' position, the point When he has the bail, people lister. asid. "Shack is a lesder in other, asid. Shater is a leader in other club and it has to be my show.". club and it has to be my show. he'll become more creative there, heid. "Hecome a more creanve hare, used to be. He was alviags mature Moss is the sixth of sevem childi. believes he gets hif minctivity fic family. "I think my father has a lo with It," Moss said. "I bernefitedfa brothers' and siatere' mistakes make theirg, I make ray own.
\({ }^{41}\) I don't think being from the \(c\) is anything to do with it because Im ahead of arme of the people theret According to both Boeheim and Moss can do jugt about everythir, and Cohen.
\({ }^{4} \mathrm{He}\) is a great athleta, he runs break effectively and jumpss exep well," Malone baid. "But in orde trully effective, he has to have a gul side shot."
"Eddie has about reached his \(p\) in everything elge," Boeheimsaid. has to conasiatentiy malice that jump ceep defenses honest.'
'I feel I can make the \(12-14 \mathrm{fo}\) Mose ssid. "They (the Coachan) alw me to take it and if I'm open, I wit Bred in the banketbalt-playgi Moss is the furthent thing f otereotype of the city guarc whe within a block of the ba-
*When I played in the park, th awaye said, ripped it's the way Ive alwey played "I keep telling him to take it." M said. "It's not that he-can't shoon relactant to shoot. Idilze to ittiemore decicanon woward heg an become a good proguard side shot.

While the thooting-guard tande Headd and Cohen trab the headling their mouth-watering shooting tages and point totals, it is away from greatopes.

racuis wrester Tim Catalfo (right) suffered a dishaartening
s at Templo Saturday, losing to Doug Parisa 16 -4,
Photo by Glen Ellman Is at Tomplo Saturday, loaing to Doug Parisa 16-4.

Pnoto by Gion Ellman
His quieknest and knack for stealing the ball have aarned Eddie Mose (22) the nickname of "Fiast Eddie." Once he hes added a 15 -foot jump shot to hils repertoine, many beiteve Moss wifl fast become a grent guard.

\section*{Frisbee c/ub flutters to 3 losses}

The Syracuse frisbee club suffered a triple beating Saturday night in the first annual Sutter's Invitational Frisbee Tournament at Manley Field House. Columbia won the tournament by defeating Syracuse, Cornell and Hampehire College. Cornell finished second with two victories, Hampshire third with one victory and Syracuse last with three defeats. SU's closest loss was 15-11 to Cornell.

SU gymnast John Bean (above) and the rest of the Orangermen ware on the beam Saturday as they rolied up thair highest point total ever in a win over Massachusatts. Bean thed for first with total evar in a win over Massachusatts. Bean temmete Steve Chilineki on the parallel bars.

\section*{Gymnasts again set record}

The Syracuse University gymnastics aquad continued to roll along at a record-betting pace, amasaing its highegt point total ever to defeat the Univergity of Massachugetts \(20682-19260\) at Amherst Mags Saturday

Steve Chilinski paced the Orangemen, now \(5-2\), with a 50.35 all-around total. As a team. Syracuse broke the all-time team record of 205.30 set just last week in a loss to nationally ranked Southern Connecticut:
nationally ranked Southern Connecticut. were Ed Saunders on the pommel horse, Ron Tibett on the still rings Mickey Kiefer on the high bar and Chilinski and Jon Ron Tibett on the still rings, Mickey Kiefer o
Bean, who tied for first on the parallel bars.
Bean, who tied for tirst on the parallel bars. The Orangemen
Army at \(1: 30\) p.m.

\section*{Hockey team stampeded by Buffalo}

The Syracuse University hockey club unleashed a six-goal barrage againat Buffalo State Friday night at the State Fairgrounds rink. The Orangemen were not as conscious on defense, however, surrendering 11 goals and loaing their sizth game of the season.
The loss was SU'm fifth straight and lowered the tearn's record to 5-6. The Orangemen remain \(4-0\) aph in first place, however, in the Finger Lalkes Collegiate Hockey Association. See tomorrow's Daily Orange for more information.

\section*{The American Marketing Association Presents}

\section*{GIMBELS：CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN THE RETAIL FIELD}

\section*{Guest Speakers：}

Dan Osnato－Manager of College Relations Alan Cohen－Executive Development Kurt Snow－Merchandising

> TONIGHT - 7:30 p.m.

\author{
1916 Rm．Bird Library（6th floor）
}

Experts hold discussion on environmental issues．

By Manreen Devine Diffirencen between，en－ vironmentalists and in duetrialists were discuased at an ecology fortm Saturday in Grant Anditorium．The conference featured peakers from the environmental and industrial fields and centered around a debate－on the National Coal Policy Project． The conference，entitled －Negotiation and Mediation： Alternativets to Traditional Methods of Environmental Diapmes Fiesolution，＂atreared the importano of nerotietin the importance of negotiatine on environmental issues．

Sponsored by the En vironmental Law Society of the Syracuae Univeraity College of Law，Niagara

SYRACLSE LNIVERSTY EOOKSTORES
LOWER LEVEL－General Book Dept．
STARTS MONDAYI

\section*{SURDEGTS BY TMIE DOZENE． TITLEES BY TME MUNDREDS．}

\author{
＇HISTOR＇+ SOCIOLOGY－ART •ECONOMICS •PHILOSOPHY －MATHEIAATICS •EDUCATION •SCIENCE •HEALTH •SPEECH －LAW •EC PLOGY •TRAVEL•POLITICAL SCIENCE •RELIGION －BUSINESS－MEDICINE－ENGINEERING－LITERATURE －PSYCHOLOGY LANGUAGES－MUSIC－MORE，MORE，MORE
}

regional chiapter of the Sierra Club．the forum featured． NCPP Director Francis Murray，Larry Moss，former nntional preaident of the Sierre Club，and Macauley Whiting，director of Dow Chernical Corp．
The morning discusion stressed the importance of negotiating on various en－ vironmental insuea． Negotiation was presented as． an altermative to the adversary process and courtroom procest and courtroom proceedings which are usunily vironmental groups when dealing with environmeintal lealing with en In adidition
In adidition，tha need for en－ vironmentalists and in－ dustrixlists to commumicate more through negratiation－ nediation was also stresped．
According to Whiting，Dow Chemical Corp．received many complaints from en：－ vironmental organizationa． The complaints concerned the manufacturing of biach products as weed killerz and pesticides as well as the com－ pany＇s plans to use nuclear power an a source of energy．As a result of the en－ vironmentaligt challenge ta its use of nuclear energy，coal became the company＇s major energy source．
The NCPP was established for the benefit of conservationitst and in－ Chemical Corp to helpirom ont the difforences that arise from the us of a valuable resource the use of a valuable resource nuk is the developanent of coal in an environmentally accep－ table fashion．
An important aspect ofressed by the NCPPisthe ex－ posure of erroneogt stereótypes held by both groups．
＂Environmentalists are． againgt economic growth，＂ said Moss，wishing to cispel a perfect example of the kind of stereotype the NCPP disliken． Throughont his apeech，Moss emphatized the importance of undervtanding on both the en－ vironmental and industrial． sides that can be gained through，negotiation and mediation．
The afternoon discusaion－ comtinued the general－theme but concentrated on the une of mediation in settling en－ vironmental disputes as an alternative to conrtroom hearing and settlements．

\section*{GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL}

University of Arizona offers more than 40 courses，i．a． anthropology，bilingual edu－ cation．history．Spanish． elc．at Guadalajara，Mexico． July 2 －August 10．Tultion： \($ 265\) ．Board and room with Mexican family： \(\mathbf{$ 3 0 0}\) ．

> Write Guadalajara Summer School Alumni 211 University of Arizona Tucson 85721
> （602）626－4729

\section*{J, Geils, Southside Johnny throw wild rock ' \(\mathbf{n}\) ' roll party}

By Jon Rubiroff
T-Geile threw away his gaitar pick, Peter Wolf knelt in a state of exhaustion, and the crowd knew the party was over. But what a hell of a party it was.
In what has to rank along with Bruce Springsteen and Little Feat as one of the bets area concerts of the year, the J. Geils Band and Southaide Johany and the Asbury Jukes rocked the Landmark Theatre to the rafters Saturday night.
Things started with Southaide Johnny Lyon leading his band in an imspired opening performance. The group was razor wharp, doing such songe as "rTalk To Me," "Set'The World On Fire," and "Got The Fever."
Lyon showed no ill effecte from hin recent fall off a concert ntage in California which seriously injured his Ieft wrist. In apirt of the cumbersome cast bulging from the arm of his leather jacket, he bopped around the atage trying to rouse an unumually placid crowd.
It was not until the bard broke into the first few chorde of "Xavin' (Party" that the crowd got to its feet. When the song ended, Southside left, only to be called back for one encore by the now ready.to-party crowd.
Among the gtand-outa in the 11 -piece growp were guitarist Billy Rush and trombonist La Bamba. Rush was awesome is spurts during such songe as "Cot To Get You Off Of My Mind" and "All Night Long." La Bamba was imnpressive throughout, handling his horn as if he were born with it in his hande.
After a lengthy intermisision, Peter Wolf, dressed in a black gequiaed suit and red scarf, led The J. Geils Band on stage and the party was in full swing. Leading off with a couple of old tumes, the band then played a pair of bongs from its latest album Sanctuary, inciuding an amatang rendition-of-its FM hit "One Last Kisa."
The party soon got out of hand, however, when Wolf did an amusing 15 -minute monologuc as an introduction into "Musta' Got Lost" In the middle of the song, Wolf picked up his microphone and jumped into the crowd. Walking alones the sisle, be encountered no problems as everyone was courteous to the host of their party. Wolf then ermerged from the audience, bringing it to its fipt.
No one sat down for the rest of the concert, especially during "Whammer Jammer," a song that featured Magic Diclk on harmonica. Dick pranced around the state wailing away on his harp, proving to all he it one of the best mouth organistes around Going from hot to hotter, the set ended with "Houseparty" and the band headed offistare. The sell-out mob demanded another song and ended up getting more than ite money"e worth. Before it was all over, Geils was called back onstage four times to do a total of aeven encores

Proto or Jasth Snaidon Vocalist Peter Woll (above) of the t. Geils Bend thrilled crowdt Saturday night Bt Syracusb area Landmark Theatre.

On the last two groups of songe, the house lights were turned on and the roadies began packing the bands equipment, but no one was leaving. Among the encores were Geils favorites, inclading "Where Did Our Love Go," "Loveitis," and "First I Look At The Purse." Another extra way "Servee You Right To Suffer" in which some of the band's incividual talent was brought out. Seth Justman was sadistic on the keyboards as he pounded out mote after note with the fury of a madman. Geils also tooic center stare for a solo that drove the masses into a freney
- However, the night belonged to Wolf. His onstage shuffing, audience excuraions and witty conaments won him the crowd's admiration By the end of the concert, sweat poured down off his face onto bis barren chest Hie lege were rubbery and his trreet occasionnily birilled. Still he had enouoh energy to po once more to slap hands with thase gitting in the firgt row He then treadoed to the center of the stage and knelt before his fans. Tha party was over, and it wag a bash the Syracuse crowds won't soon forget.
\($ 3.50, $ 8.50, $ 7.50, $ 6.00\)
Stincer sy wint falmous antists
41 minconzy 5 .
424-8210

\section*{INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION}

Programming

"Position Open*.

Elections and Meeting:

Petitions may be delivared to: Tues. Feb. 6 international Student Office 230 Euclid Ave.

7 p.m. at the I.S.O
A/I International Students Welcome!

\section*{Timberland}

A whole line of leather boats and shoes that cost planty andshould.

\section*{Boots for \\  \\ Men & Women \($ 57.60\) \\ - ofus iax -}
- Fully insulated to well below zero - Waterproof
- Cushioned innerwole
"You, can"t buy a better bootf"

\section*{Jrecks siblbidizes your meal!}

ANY HALF SUB ANY TIME

\section*{PREPARE FOR}

4 40tin

\section*{MCAT•DAT}

Small Classes - Voluminous Home Study Materials Permanent Centers Open Days, Evenings 8. Weekends Complete Tape Facilities for Review of Class Lessons and Study of Supplementary Materials InterBranch Transfers Low Hourly Cost

> stanleyt
> EOUCATIONAL

Visit our centers and see for yourself why we make the difference

306 Vine St . Liverpool, N.Y. 13088

315-461-2970
Classes Beginning in February Enroll Now!

\section*{Number of women in college grows in formerly male fields}

\section*{Hy Lauren Leventhal} Benjamin Franklin con sidered women less competent than men because of poor education.
He believed women ahould be sdacated - not for a career - but to make them wives and mothers.
Today, women*s enrollment in colleges is increasing to the point where, for the first time, a larger percentage of women 18 to 22 years old are going to college than men, according to college than men, according
In addition. more women encering predominantly male fields of study, such as engineering, archisecture. management munications.
Despite these gains, wornen are still outnumbered by men in these areas. At Syracuse University, the School of Engineering has the lowest proportion of women among its 11 schools. Of the 1,163 tudents, aboat 9.6 percent are vomen.
One of the 114 female engineering etudents is senior Mariann Smith. "I"m not the first in engineering," she said, "but there still aren't too many women in engineering ponitions. it helpe every time poainion. It helps every the field: Wi Within the last five years, an increasing number of women have been entering the field of engineering, said engineering dean James A. Luker.

But the incresse has been slow. In 1972, only nine women were enrolled, compared to 525 men. In 1973, about 2 percent - or 12 out of 600 - were women.

The percentage of women grew to 4 percent - 24 out of 650 - in 1974. By 1975, 39 women, or almoat 6 percent of studente were women.

No overall statistics are available for 1976 and 1977 .

\section*{Don't be caught with your pants down.}

> 7-10 p.m.

Monday
Tuesday
Thursday
727 Comstock Ave.

Zeta Psi Fraternity during Dirty Song Contest. Fraternity winners Greek Weekend 1978.
but statistics for incoming women freshmsn engineenng students show a marked increase. Sixty-four freshmen entered in 1976, 84 in 1977 and 105 in 1978.
Laker, who has been a faculty member for 25 years and dean for the last eight. said the school is recruiting more women.

He said they try to recruit women by "mainly working with parenta and student that apply here and trying to ex. plain the excellent career opportunities for women in engineexing,

Laker, also anid affirmative action, which assures women of equal opportunities, encourages wormen to encoll in engineering
Besides affirmative action, another reason for increased enrollment is the change in engineering itmelf. Engineers work in zice offices and work with corpputers, Luker amid.

It used to be more oriencated to construction and field work." This meant probably working in an old factory and in a dirty environment," Luker arid.
But for women entering a predomimantly male achool* the road to graduation is not always an easy one.
Catherine Roy, ajunior in in. dustrial engineering, said ahe has a very demanding curriculum and it's "a little tougher than what l expected."
Roy said it scared her atfirst. Roy said it scared her atimat.
when she realized she was when she realized Bhe was competing with a competing with monool. "Oredominately mala bad days you gay amino Ory bad days you ady amis ing to make it through?

But she asid the in ens couraged to continue by ber adviser, family, profesmional engineers and male and female friends.
Joesph LeBlanc, a senior in mechanical and mexospace engineering, gatd that there have been eix different girla in his classes in four years.
He said, "I don't think girls take advantage of going into engineering.
"If girls themsel ves push for it." LeBlanc said, "they will feel more comfortable (about being in engineerirg) and people's attituden will change about engineering being a male-oriented field.

Philip Beauchamp, a senior in engineering. anid, '1 would hope engineering would become more equal. Everything should be equal.

SENIORS &
GRAD STUDENTS A nev Graduate Protide Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for comm mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the System and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.

\section*{Name}

\section*{Addrens:}
City 5 .
\(2 i p\)
Mail to Gradupte Profle Carter
c/o orbiten 40 Orien
PO Box 271
Buffalo. N.Y.. 14221 .n.m.

\section*{Hypnotist mesmerizes audience during Grant Auditorium show \\ By Barbara Krupnicki \\ his topgue and then ex-. breath-talking performance}

World renowned hypnotiat and mentalist John Kolisch mystified, amazed and entertained a capacity crowd in Grant Auditorium, Thursday night with telemonclairvoyance and hypnotism.
Kolisch entered the ace but mate up lost time ate, but made up for lost me by putting on a show lasting almoft four hours.
Wearing a dark blue, pinstriped suit, the distinguished hypnotist traded quips with the enthusiastic crowd. He told the audience; "My target is to entertain you." He knew they wanted to be "mesmerized, hypnotized, tranquilized and circumsized," and proceeded to fulfill all but one of those expectations.
The first part of his program involved displays of extrasenaory perception. In a show of arecognition he predicted that phree total strangera from the three total strangers from the audience Wouid take &-trip together. After asking the three of nar a color and a dea make of car, a color and a destination, he removed from his wallet a sealed envelope which contained a slip of paper with the exact same car, color and destination written on it.
Then, deprived of his sight by two silver dollars, eeven atrips of surgical tape and a black blindfold, Kohech identified and described members of the audience by vibrations from their personal objects collected by an assistant.
While still blindfolded, he correctly reproduced a Hebrew ohrase written on a blackboard by a student volunteer.
The highlight of the show was hia rapid hypnoais of 13 audience volunterzs. Exhibiting the "more humorous aspects of hypnosis," Kolisech suggested the subjects pretend they were eating ice cream cones, sweltering on a beach or wearing no clothing. The gubjects humorounly complied with the Buggestions, to the delight of the audience.
The hypnotist also asked certain aubjects to be Steve Martin, Freddie Mercury, Raquel Welch or John Travolta, which they did convincingly. Later in the show, one volunteer received a hypothetical hot seat, another lost his belly button and two others suddenly possessed the ability to poseak and understand fluent Ventutian, the language spoken on the ia Kolisch cloned the show by placing a burning cigarette on tinguishing it with his bare. provided a suitable ending to hands, proving that he too, an evening of non-stop could be hypnotized. The entertainment.

Internationaly known Mypnotist John Kolisch dmzzted a large audience in Grant Auditorium Thursday night. Elindfolded, he identified studente by thoir personal belorggings.

\section*{Write for Editorial.}

Call Sy or Howard at \(\mathbf{x} 2127\).

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DON'T \\ GRADUATE} without talking to the Hughes Recruiter visiting your campus soon.

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOVEER M/F

\section*{RUSH}

\section*{Phi Delta Theta}

703 Walnut Ave. Monday-Tuesday-Thursday

Page 14
February 5. 1979
The Deily Oranga

Sherman's Quest

Is everything equal in the world of sports at SU? See tomarow's Daily Orange:

\section*{SYRACLSE LNIVERSTY EOOKETORES RUBBER CEMENT SPECIAL}

Bring in any 8 oz. container and we will fill it for \($ 1.00\).

Offer expires 2/16/79-Must be paid for at rear art counter.
CHARCE IT:
SU BOOK&TORE CMARGE
MASTEACHAROE
VISA

\section*{MECULAR StONE hours: monfrit t:00-5:30 \\ sat 10:00.5:30}
by Peter Wallace:

by Chuck Wing

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For Sale}

DENMAN, SCALPMASTER. CONAlR and SASSOON styling brushes, ORANGE TONSORIAL 8 SUPPLY.
\(727 S\). Crousa Ave., next to Office. 475-9289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: DENIM VESTS 810 SPORT OR WESTERN SHIRTS 2 FOR SIS HALL. 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478 3304.

Original movie posters. lobby sets. and color & BW stills. All movies, current and old. Wholesale prices.
Call Chris or Carole \(x-6575\) or \(x\) Call Chris or Carole \(x-6575\) or \(x\) 6693 .
NEW WINTER WOOUES aI SECOND HAND ROSE. WW II wool army coats, $15.00. army wool and kakhi pants \($ 12.00 .713\) S. Crouse Ave. For Sale: Bedroom furniture. mahogany. bed frame, dresser with mirror, highboy, night stand. 4465292.

Zorba's got great pizze and hot subs with mozza ralla cheese - we deliver 5 -2 a.m. 7 days - 472-5075.

1974 Audi Fox. Excellent conditionGreat in the snow. New tires. \($ 2200\). Great in the snow. New tires.
Call \(425-9199\) or 471 -0346.

Brand new double bed and frame. Grought new for \($ 120\) - will seil for \($ 75\). Call 425-9199 or 471-0346.
SALEI Winter clearance (up to 50\% off SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing ( 1900 's-1940's) 713 . S. Crouse Ave:

\section*{Wanted}

ROOMMATE WANTED: TO SHARE 3 BEDROOM APARTMENT NEAR ARCHBOLD WI'H FIREPLACE. 4788188.

Low on money and records that arent wanted? WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash. Top prices paidi 472-3235 Mon.-sat. 11 i-6.

Counselors: Adirondack Boys Camp: 71/2 whs; 8500-600 Swimming, Sailing Canoeing, Camperaft. Archery. Cratt, Jennis, Driver, Office (typing). Riflery, Softball. Trip Leading. 39 14534 .

MENI WOMENI JOBS - CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS No experience. High payl See Europe perience. High payl See Europe, Hawaii, Australia. So. Americs. Career Summerl Send \($ 3.85\) forinfo to SEAWORLD EB Box 6iO35, Sacto, CA. 95860.
If you have your own van or a covared 4 -wtheet drive, we have a part time position available, making part time position available, making delivaries in the Syracuse area. Call. 471-1101.

Help wanted: part time avenings 5 p.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Friday. Sat. 9 am-9 p.m. Must have car. Be neat appearing. To arrange a personal interview, call \(471-1102\) sfter 6 p.m.

PARK a half a block from campus. Comstock. 423-2711.
Adiressers Wanted lmmediatelvil nork at home - - - tho experience necessary - --excellent pay. Write Suite 127 . Dalles. TX 75231.

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full, part time. At home or at school. Ensy service business, no investment, exciting opportunity, no gimmacks, reliability guaranteed - Deteils \($ 2\) (réfunded) STAR SSU Box 272. Island Park. N.Y. 11558.

WANTED: ROOMMATE, responsible. female, nonssmaker. Large 2-bdrm. cl. utilities, furnished. 422-2252.

If you have your own van or a covered 4 -wheet drive, we have a part time position available, ha, Call 471-1101.
Help wanted: part time evenings 5 p.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Friday. Sat. 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Must have car. Be neat appearing. To arrange a personal interview. call471-1102 after 6 p.m.

\section*{Personals}

Rush PHI DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesday, and Thursday 7:00-10:00. Phil the Iguana says "I listen to the Orange Grush Half Hour Hour. you should too. Premiering Feb. 5 at 8 p.rn. on FM B8-WAER.
O.D.H. go for the scorel sign, silver hydrants.
Jeanne-Nq N.Y.C. shopping SpreeNo weekend in Florida- there's always your 21 sil Hope you had a happy B-day anywayI Love, Judes and Debs.
Thanks to everyone for making our band party a blast. The brothers of ZETA PSI.
Dear Alison. Happy 21 st birthday. Hope this is one of the best. Love Stacy and Laslie. Alison, have a happy birthday. you owe me a dirner for this tool Love Artíe.
Dornt bs caught with your pants dowr. Rush where where is BROTHERHOOD. Mon Tues Thurs.. 7-10: ZETA PSI fraternity.
Rico and Peter- I'd drop the soap for you anytime. You fruits are better than fish. Love and boofoo, Kyle. Baloney, Sherman!
Bluegrass mandolin instruction. Crash course. 471-9695. Cliff. "The Father of Bluegrass Music "" Father of Bluegrass Music." Todd and Penelope: I've sean you at Todd and Penelope: I've seon you at the Student Center. What's the attraction? Perry Wayne Buffington.

Perry. if you must know; we're into group mastication. Join us at the Student Center. Todd and Peñelope.
In memory of Betsy's 3 goldfish, born Jan. 30, 1979, died Jan 31. 1979, of an overdose of love, education. and FOOD; Shiva calls. will be appreciated at 122 Small.
Dear David" "Dribs", here's yourvery own birthday personal. Happy. happy 23 rd. Love always, Audrey.
CFS: Surprisel We realliy know who T&P are. My style is not cramped. Love. Babazoobs.

\section*{For Rent}
\(\ddot{7}_{2}\) cubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Tevior Rentai Center. 478-0957.
Private furnished room. shàre large living room, kitchen, etc. Nice people, very close. \(685-3233\).

Apartments furnished, walking distance. One month's sacurity. no lases. immediate occupancy. 637 lasse, immediate occupancy. 637 6550.

Deluxe two bedroom apt. near University. WasherfDrver and all utilities included. \($ 300\) e month. Ivy Ridge Apts. Call 425-9199 or 471-O346. 0346 .

\section*{Services}

MENI WOMEN! JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High payl See Europe. Hawaii, Australia, So. America; Winter! Summert Send 53.85 for info to SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035 . Sacto.
Ca. 95860 . Ca. 95860 .
ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands. Wholesale prices. Fully guaranteed. Check around
then call \(478-8667\).
MEN - WOMENI JOBS ON SHIPSI American. Foreign. No experience necessary. Excellent pay. Worldwide travel. Surnmer job or career. Send \($ 3\) for info. SEAFAX, Dept. j-8, Box 2049. Port Angeles. Washington. 98362.

Private Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. Also 3 hr . Pre-licensing classes. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY. 476-3995.
What are you doing after college? Psy. 400- Careers and College graduates, a 2 credit course, can prepare 311 A Archbold Gym or cal 3150 . Limit 25 students.

Daily Orange Classified Ad Insertion Procedure: Deadlina 2 Business days before the issue you wish the ad to appear by 2 p.m. Charges: & 1.65 min. charge ( 15 words or less) 5 c es. word there after. 5 C in capitats.
Skiers attention: Complete ski and bottom repair. Fill gauges. sharpen dings lubed. \($ 900\) Also.making old bottoms brand new. my speciality Call 474-9969.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Ski Jay Peak with Suski on Feb. 9. 10, 11, two days lift, tickets. lodging. transportation. Cost is \(\mathbf{$ 5 8}\). Sign up at our meeting Tues. 7 p.m. Maxwell Aud. or during office hour Tues.. Wed. Thurs. \(12: 30=4: 00\). 423-3592. 3592.

\section*{Morning} Prayer Weekdays 8:45 a.m.
Dean's Office Hendricks Chapel A program of Hendricks Chapel

The Dwily Orange February 5, 1979
Page 15

144 Ball Circle
(next to Danzers on Ainsley)

\section*{Don't forget your Valentine}

Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds.
Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101 E. Adams St.

Final deadline is Mon.,
Feb 12
by 12 NOON.

\[
\begin{gathered} \text { You aro cordially invitod to } \\ \text { an ovoning licculur by by } \\ \text { Dr. Manfred Stanley } \end{gathered}
\]

\section*{'The Educator's Conscience:} From Paradise to Disneyland' as part of Hendricks Chapel ethics series, Moral Man and Immoral Society: "The Problem of Conscience in the 20th Century.*

> Wed. Feb. 7 - 8 p.m. Maxwell Aud.
> Respondent: Dr. Jamess Wriggins. Prof. of Rel.
> Dr. Burton Blatt. Dean School of Ed.

Also: An afternoon discussion-af his new book. The Technological Conscience: Survival and Dignity in an Age of Expertise.

Feb. 7 - 2 p.m.
Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel.
A Program of Hendricks Chapel

\section*{We Buy, Sell Et Triade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magariness}

Bring your records to us for cash
Colloctions bought House calls by appointrnont 1.000's of records in stock - Most LP's only 52 - 33 - A/I records guaranteed © We speciafize in out-of-print records.

\section*{DESERTSHORE RECORDS}
S. Campus Mall. 730 s. Croura

\section*{Eggers: a man on the move \\ By Walecia Konrad \\ cloned eyea as if contemplating a solution for the:}

Chances are that most Syracuse Univeraity etudente will never meet Chancellor Melvin A. Egzers.
Eggera doesn't teach class, coach athletics; check out library books, punch meal cards, drives a bus or tend bar at the Student Center.
But, Egerers deals eventually with all aspecta of the univergity. "When there's a centar of tension. the alert is transmitted to my deak." Eggers said;
This office is the nerve center of the univeraity."
A former SU vicechancellor for academic affairs and professor of economics, Eggers asid his main concern is education. But as chancellor and president of SU Eggers also divides his attention between politics, backalapping, ribbon-cutting. fund raising and decision making.
Because of this, the main part of Eggers' job deals with university-related activities outside his simple, orderly office.
Convincing state legislators to allocate \($ 15\) million for a new etadium, testifying in front of the House Ways and Means Committee in favor of a taition tax credit bill, fulfilling reaponsibilities as president of the Greatex Syracuge Chamber of president of the Greatex Syracuse Chamber of union or attending the Hendricks Chapel union or attending the Hendricks Chapel Chities that define Eggers' title as chancellor of tivities that defme \(\mathbf{E}\)
Syracuse University.
His presence is requested at almost every univeraity-related event ranging from dinner at univernity-related event ranging from dinner at Delta Upailon fraternity to a Syracuse Symphony recital.
The university has become our life," his wife Mildred Eggers asid. "There, really inn't time for many other social activities.'

\section*{No Resentment}

Yet Eggera said he doesn't resent university functions talcing up so much of bis tinne. "In fact, it gives me a sense of satisfaction." He explained functions on weekenda and in the eveningsarenot intenaive adminigtrative activities but eventa he mignive administraty

One night Eggers was asked to attend three separate university functions. Vice Chancellor and Special Assiatant to the Chancellor Newell W Rossman saw himat each event. "As I went in he was coming out," Rossman recalled. "When I told him one of us could have stayed home tonight he said, 'no this is frus' with so much enthusiasm. And I was pooped already.

Despite his busy schedule, Mrs. Eggers said the chancellor doesn't race fromi one place to another.
He is able to relax and doesn't tense up.
However, Michael O. Sawyer, vice chancellor for university community relations, said working with Eggers is a "harrowing experience. He devotes 26 hours a day to his job."

Eggers admits to occasional trustration. He cannot attend to every detail yet his conscience tells him to answer every letter and return every call. "Often I want to rnake a gensitive professorial type" response to individual situations but the emergencies squeeze this out." Esgers said.
He added he doesn't feel it's honest to build a personal gtaff to respond to issues he cant get to. should. Memorandums and thinge often slip by unanswered but most things are resolved in time," Eggers said.
Eggers Dided out a letter from a parent is a harrowing experience. concerned about a faingkgrade hia son receaved. He devotes 26 hours a day to his job.'
 home tonight. At home he will read the letter again and then move on to a memo from one of the yice presidents dealing with the construction of the new. atadium. He wrill answer that firat and leavt the letter until tomorrow or maybe next week.

\section*{Takes Job Home}
"You learn to live with a measure of sus pension of some items," Eggers said. "I must take my job home with me; my work is with me all the time. I'm not sure that's good, but it's atemperament thing with mene."
Mra. Eggers added that even their vacations are mixed with buaines. "He hates places where you just sit in the sun," she said. "For him going on vacation must mean something. He always visite other colleges or alumni."
Egrers had even leas time to attend to details and personal responses when he became chancellor in spring 1971. As Eggers stepped through the glass doors into his new office he faced what he demcribes a "crisis environment.

The university's fiscal eituation was, at best, insecure. Phyaically, SU was falling apart. Faculty members were demanding more of a governing role in univergity decisions and 1971 was the peak of atudent unrest over the Victnam war. "The university was on a path to bankruptcy while on a path to disintegration." Eggera recalled.

I was faced with either an increase in students or cut backs on expenditures," Eggers explained. Wo duan't have the housing for 600 of 700 more Erpers leened fer bect in his hy of hacuity. - loched behind his-hend, ataring off with half.
firat tirne.
'That's when I decided to build Skytop I," Eggers continued. There was a very bhort period for me to decide what to do." Skytop I whas Teady for occupants four monthe after the building had been contracted, Egerers explained.

\section*{First Years}

In Tis first two yeart in office, Egrers aleo dedicated seven "deaperately needed" buildings. E.S. Bird Library, Williang B. Herov Geology Laboratory, Linik Hall, SU Health Service, Newhoure Communications Center II, Gebbie Speech and Hearing Clinic and Coyne Field.
In the procest of revangping the univeraity's sitive to hurnan needa. 'I ruffied a lot of people then. They aaid all we think about is money," Eggers baid.

Eggers got excited and a litele agitated when he recalled this criticiam. "I judged our academics were strong and able to deliver quality. I didn't neglect the faculty." he said, raising hia voice. 'I was a faculty member for 20 years. I vactually was a facuty member for 20 ye worked for them in the long run."
The faculty didn't need me then," Eggers shouted, rising elightly out of his geat. Me paused a shouted, nang elightiy out of his seat. Me paumed a physical and financial problems had to be dealt physical and financial problems had to be dealt with before he could devote his attention to academic affairs.
During his early months in office, Eggere also had to reestablish the university's reputation in the Syracuse community after stadent protests over he vietnam war. it took a littie time and wiludentess to go into the community after the student unrest but we finally confirmed we are a good neighbor.

Egerers asid he feels students have changed since the Vietnam war period. "Mout students are seriove about their academic worls and on the whole they are supportive of the ruiveraity. But I feel some students have an internal conflict between being cooperative va. feeling their role is to be against eomething. By temperament they feel they must orgenize and do sompthing."

\section*{Changing Attitudes}

Eggers also has observed changing attitudes and directions in the administration. Their focus in shifting towards academics, he said.
"As support aymems and physical appects of the univerwity are ripening and maturingi academich is feeling pressure and stress. The aituation is not out of control but acadernics is demanding more atrention."
In many respects, Eggers said he finds this new direction more difficult becaume it deal. with a more human element of the university.
'Buildings can't talli back to you, but people are a very senaitive, complicated process. We're constituting people's lives. There mre no rules or Buidelines for dealing with academic problems; Ege wers said with a note of finality. "Style, clana Eggers baid with a note of Specifically, Eggers said he wants to look closer at student jervices. 'It's one aspect of the univeraity which I haven't given as mach attention to." Eggerw aaid the conatruction of a student anion building is a focal point of this new outlook.
Eggers doesn't hesitate making long-range plans such as improving the student activitiea program, even though he will retire in two yeara. "I haven't thought about retirement, not a bit," Eggers said. "I think the best way to plan is to do the best I can do here. I'm confident an opportanity will appear, especially if things go weil here. Moat thingis ree enjoyed have just come to me instead of me searching them out."

Phote by Jowth Sheraton

arriye gut to things whien he whocili, he conieldert his job a muen-dy-a-wedt oerapertion.

\title{
The Daily Orange \\ Tuesday, February 6, 1979 \\ Vol. 8 No. 72 Syracuse, New York
}

\section*{City runs slow in heavy snow}

By Scott Rohrer
As the city of Syracuse battled the severe cold and blowing snow yesterday, life-at Syracuse University went on as normal.

Classes were held as scheduled. E.S. Bird Library held normal hours and university em ployees put in a full day. The decision to close the university would be made by Clifford \(L\). Winters Jr., vice chancellor of maministrative operations, and John J. Prucha admmistrative operations, and Joh
But in a memorandum sent out in December, the two administrators said the university generally two administrators said the unit stays open in stormy weather.
"The continuation of all activities is essential to the needs and expectations of our students in this the needs and expectations of our students in this essentially SU last closed in 1964 for two days when 56 inches of snow fell in 48 hours. A blizzard in ches of snow fell in 48 hours. A blizzard in January. 1966 delayed SU's opening a few days.
But weather milder than a blizzard just slows But wea su little.
Centro buses serving the north and south cam puses were running "a little slower" due to the weather, according to a Centro spokesperson Delays were also reported yeaterday at Hancock Airport. Airlines said incoming fights were delayed, and most outgoing flights were cancelled.

Anntrak officials said traips were generally running on schedule, although a few trains were delayed because of the sinow.

Photo by Richard Folkers
Athough hell froze over elsowhere, university officials felt it wasn't cold enough to cancel classes at Su.

\section*{Legislature OKs ban after debate}

By Thomas Coffey
A bian on drinking alcoholic beverages and smoking at the Onondaga County War Memoitial was approved yesterday by the Onondaga County Lagislature.
The legialature approved the ban on an almost straight party vote of 13-11. Republicans opposed the ban while Democrats, with one exception, supported.
The vote came after almost two hours of mostly restrained debate. Nicholas Pirro, Republican minority trained debate. Nicholas Pirro, Republican minority leader. led the opponents of the ban: bilmothy most often in favor of it.

Pirro argued the law is not enforceable. "The fire chief has said this law is unenforceable, do not pass it," he said. "Chief Sardino (the chief of police) has sxid the same thing.'
Gorman said he is convinced there is a problem in the War Memorial because of what he saw when he attended a Ted Nugent concert Dec. 30 .
"I was anddened because I saw the youth of our community sick and nauseons," he said.

Pirro said he is opposed to the provision of the law that says violators will be punished by a fine of \(u p\) to that says violators will be punished by a

But Gorman called Pirro's arguments "counterBroductive."
"There are some times when we as parenta must tell our childxen we know what's best for them," Gorman said.

\section*{Title IX: Have women's sports come a long way?}

Editor's note: This is the first part in a two-part series examining Title IX and women's sports at Syracuse University. Syracuse. Uriversity:

\section*{By Stacy Schineider}

Federat Law; Tille IX became effective July 21, 1975. It states, "Regulation requires that recipients who operate or sponsor interacholastic, intercollegiate, club or intramural athletics, provide equal athletic club or intramural athletics, provide equal athletic opportunities for members of bot

Complaints from some of the coaches of the six women's teams at Syracuse. University have in dicated that the university is dragging its feet in complying with Title IX.
SU has moved in some ways to comply with the law. For example, a women's locker room was built at Manley Field House this past summer, said Doris Soladay, director. of Women's intercollegiate athletics. "SU has been aupportive all along, but because of Title IX they have to be even more supportive."
Jake Crouthamel, director of men's intiancollegiate athletics, said the women's program needs such things as uniforms, which some womeris teams do not have. "Women should have their own unifortus and things it takes to conduct a sport," he said. However, he said there are financial constraints that limit how mach the women's toams can receive.
In compliaince with Title IX, the number of SU's women's sports scholarshipe have increased. Women women's aports schalarghipa haveincreased. Women At that time, they recaived six scholarshipars They now receive 23 and those will be increased to 35 next yow receive 23 and Although. the nine men's teams receive more scholarihips, they also need more scholarshipe toimschovargmps, they also need moresch
Title IX is based on participation rates, not enrollment Soladay said women's participation has increased and there are now enough participants to incrabsed and there are now enough partcipants to anyone who tried out was almost guarsanteed a place on the team, she added.
"Women have shown that they will maintain an interest"' and they need the same thinge that the male athletes receive, Soladay said.

A clause of Title IX says: "Equal expenditures do not have to be provided, but the adequacy of funds for both teame must be conaidered."
Lack, of money is the main problem that the women's intercollegiate athletic.program at SU is facing, according to Soladay.

We want to increase our schedule in number, Which means. we have to travel more," said Soladay. Therefore, more money will be needed for trampportation, meals and overnights, sheadded. This year's budyet for women's intercollegiate athletics is \($ 115,000\), and Soladay said it will increase next year.
Although Crouthamel would not reveal the men's sports-budget, he said, "Most of what we do. we genarate ourselves." A source close to the athletic department estimates the men's budget at about \($ 1\) million.
If the wornen'm budiset is increaned next year, Soladay asid she hopesthe men's sports program will not be reduced. However; she said she feels the men's teams have "nice things that are not necesisary." For example, the men's basketball team has an elec trician who coordinates the music at its games.
Peter Baigent, director of Student Affairs, said the women's budget will increase next year, and added that it may take away from the men's budget. However, no decision has been reached yet, he said.
Crouthamel said, "If the women's budget increases at the expense of the men's budget, one or two men's teams will be cut and there is an interest in all the sporte."
This beason, for the first time, admisaion is charged at women's intercollegiate events, Soladay said. However, it will take several years for a team to be self-supporting, she added.
A clanse of Title IX says: "Equal provision of locker rooms, practice and competitive facilities," must be provis, pr
Mark Lyvers, women's crew coach, does not believe the women's crew team is in compliance with Title IX. Men and women's crew share a boathouse. However, according to Karen Cunningham, a crew team member, men have two locker rooms in the boathopse and the women do not have any. The women's crew teafn must change in a boiler room that lacks showers and toilet facilities, ahe said.

Soladay said, "by September, hopefully there will be new facilities for women at the boxthouse.

However, Baigent emaphasized that the building of a women'a locker roon in the boathouse is "very ten tative." It will depend on the financial nituation at SU, he aaid.

Although the construction of the lockar room is ten tative, the crew teams will begin using the boathouse in six weeks.
Saladay said attempts will be made so the women athletes will have showers this season:
Another clause of Title IX says: "Provision of equipment and supplies" should be equal LNVers aaid lack of equipment is another problem at SU. Women's crew has-two boats, which were purchased by the women's crew club beforeit became a varaity sport last year. In addition, the team does not have any oars, Lyvers said.
Although boats and oars are borrowed-from the men's crew team, its boats are built for apecific weights and the men's boats are too heavy, Lyvers said
According to Drew Harrison, meri's freehman crew coach, the men's crew team now gets new boats from individual donations, instead of from its budget When the team won the national championship last spring, it received many domations, he said.
However, "women's athletics have no history so they cennot do their own funding," Lavers said.
Lois Black, director of Affirmative Action at SU, ie in charge of SU's compliance with Title IX. She said that if the equipment is not purchaned, SU would not

\section*{Mark Lyvers}

\section*{be in compliance}

Another clawse of Title IX says: "Travel and perdiem allowance"s should be equal.
"Traveling with our own boats is a problem," said Luvers. "Last year we borrowed the men's trude, but this year they only have a trailer," he said.

However, this year the men's crew team needs a track to pall its trailer, which is provided by physical plani, Harrison said. But, Lyveres said the women's team was unable to nse the truck for ita Florida practice during vacation, until they complained. Yet, no commitrinent for the trucl's continued use has been received, he added.

Another Title XX clause says: "Scherluling of Eames and practice time" should be equal.

However, at SU if the women want to practice, they must practice at 6:00 anm. The men's crev team practices at \(4: 30\) p.m. Lyvers ald the two teams cannot use the facilities at the same time because there is not enough room.
"Teams and coaches should not have to deal with these problems. It dilutes their performance," he said. Sue Greenwood, a crew team member, said, "Inadequate equipment and poor facilities are disconarging."

Tomorrow, the last part of the series will examine women's bashetball, swimming and diving. uolleyball and tenmis.

Building Your Body Beantiful at Syracuse Sports Conditioners

Now ONLY during the Month of February 2 people can get in shape for the price of 1 Wormen as well as men can erioy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program which features significant reduction of body fat while developing strength and flexibility. Only two 45 minute sessions a weak are required to maintain that slim-tim look.
call Steve or Bob to make an appointment for your
FREE TRLAL 476-2274
Syracuse Sports Conditioners 716 East Washington St.

\section*{FAST BREAK DELI \\ 534 Westcott St. 475-5195 \\ SUPER SANDWICHES}

A Big. Big Sanowich at a Lov, Low Price.
WE DELIVER
7 p.m. to closing. 7 nights a 7 p.rn. to thosing. 7 nights week. New Delivery Rases: 1 whole sandwich \($ 1.00\) 2 whole sundwiches 75c 3 whole sandwiches 50c 3 whole sandwiches 50 C 5 or mores $endvichess FREE SUPER NUMBER
We are distributing over 5,000 numbered flyers throughous the Universiry area that will be worth Free
Sandwiches. Beer and Cash Todsys Super Number is 538 . Todsys Super Number is Shar ot the Defifora free sandwich. SUPER SUDS Singles. Six Pack or by the Singles. Six Pack or by Case at Law. Law Prices:
Molson \($ 1.99\) Labbatt's 61.79 Miller \($ 1.79\) Michelob 82.09 Eud \($ 1.79\) Rolling Rock \($ 7.69\) OPEN

Fri R Sat 11-1 \(\mathrm{m} . \mathrm{m}\)

Sun Sun
\(11-11 \mathrm{~m}\)

Read Kaleidosicope every Friday in the DO

\section*{SKI JAY PEAK THIS WEEKEND!}

FEB. 9, 10 & 11
Suski invites you to:
- 2 Full days of ifft tickars
- 2 Nights lodging at the Best Westam
- Roundtrip bus
- All the bewr 8 liquor you can drink

\section*{ALL FOR \($ 58\)}

Bus leaves from Sims Hall. Fri. S-4 p.m.

\section*{SIGN UP:}

Fob. 5 - Maxivell Aud. 7 p.m.
OR Tilden Cottage (103 College PI., 423-3592) Tues., Med., and Thurs. 12:30-4p.m.

> For Information Call -

Gamy 422-4387 or Danny 422-3091
LIMITED SPACE - SIGN UP EARLY SUSKI TO JAY!
subsidized by the student fee

\section*{'Here's looking. at you, kid'}

The Daily Orange is accepting applications for managing editor. Applicants should have some knowledge. of layout and paste-up. The managing editor is primarily involved in the production side of the newspaper, but also takes part in editorial decision-making. Letters of intent should be brought to Scot French at the DO, 1101 E. Adams St., by 5 p.m. today.

\title{
Traveler's advisory
}

On cold mornings, when the houses in the valley, with smoke rising from their chimneys, look like ohips at sea, you can imagine all of Syracuse fising to another winter morning.

In those houses, vissible from Lawrinson dormitory, the radio must be giving ita terse statiatical account of the day: "It is 10 degrees. account of wind-chill factor of 30 degrees .... All Syracuse public schools are closed . .. Four to six inches of snow expect slumber of dawn, the men drink their coffee and are soon on Route 81 or 690. They are visible at first as a few headfights before the gray dawn melds with the white of the gnow.

As the rush-hour traffic trails offi, those in the cars heading towards the city pass the university waking up; the first lights come on in Lawriaeon and Sadler, then Brewster/Bowland. One light near the top floor, another that has been on all night somewhere in the middle.

On the Quad, a silent procession of students makes its way to the wind. They stare at the snow dancing at the tips of their shoes, adding to the mosaic of footprinte.

Winter seems eternal in Syracuse. And one wonders how the "natives" endure 20 years of it, waiting for spring when the ground will be mudiy and the street will still be bleached from all the salt laid down. But true residents'of the area must have a sense of when winter will end. Like a farmer watching his crop, they know the difference between the snows of November and February.
If you are here for just four yearrs, around February you tire of the cold and always having wet shoes. You find yourself thinking about spring or saying obvious things ike, "It'p cold, real cold." Or over coffee at Slocum's Rathakellar, you might hear someone say; "In California it's better .... When I graduate, I'm going to the land of the perpetual sun." And you'll probably tire of hearing secretan'

In the city, the schools are closed because of the severe weather, and the children go outside to play, seeing it all as one big sandbox. They might gather at the locally. famous hill for sleigh riding and returm home to put their wet-gloves on the radiator, and have hot chocolate.
Downtown, butinessmen on the Iunch hour will try to walk efficiently through the enow. Stout old ladies, with faces that apeak of sleepless nights, will wait, spith hopping bags in hand for the bus to come. If ane's a regular on the ronte, the bus driver will greet her, and she 11 talk about how difficult it is to get around. But, of course, she can remember a worse winter.
On tix Quad, anowplows and atudents will dangerounly interwine paths,-without even noticing.
Around evening, when the sky and the enow are that bluish-grey, that only winter eyenings have; the traffic runs the other way on Route 81. All those men who rose in the sleepy ritualis of dawn are heading home. In their cars the radios must be giving the statistics for another day of anow: "Iravelers' advisory in effect through tonight with win\(\mathrm{d}_{\mathrm{y}}\), bitterly, cold weather expected.

Almost automatically, they will get off at their exits and make the familiar numbers of turns and stops that will leave them at their houses. Inside, children will probably be lying on their stomachs jugt a few feet from the TVina comfortablyoverheated living room. They will soon eit down to dinner.
In Lawrinson students returning from the dining hall will settle down to studying, writiag letters or: just sitting around with some friexds. From their wiadows they might look out at the houses, and they will see only ships at sea.

Howerd Mansfield for
The Daily Orange

\section*{"That very mind of yours is Buddha"}

For many people, the term "religion" refers to a structured system of belief which js, for the most part, derived from a socio-cultural procest known as "indoctrination." This system of belief definee the idenity of the believer. But in practice, however, it is oftan the case that the very procesa of identification with a belief systern forestalle, if it does not in fact preclude, the embodiment of that syatem in thelife of thoindividual. There is a tendency built into the concept of religion as belief for the believer to stand in a rather abstract and even alienated relation to the substance of his beliefs. One reason for avch alienstion is the comparative absence, in the Judeo-Christian tradition, of what might be termed a technology of embodiment, a method, discipline or practice which enables authentic existential embodiment to take place.

The absence of such "technology"' is one pervasive cause of the kind of diaenchantment with the Judeo-Christian tradition which has led many youns people in particular to seek out viable alternatives in the various contemporary Eastern' religious movements present in America today, To restrict my focus to Buddhism I should like to maintain that what lies behind much of the interest in Buddhist movements is the fact that at their center is not primarily a belief systern but a technology of em. bodiment known as "meditation:" Underlying this centrality is a conception of religion not as belief but as experience of practice. Actmittedly this distinction is somewhat naive particularly from a scholarly point of Hiew - but it does capture what is existentially at stake for many of the people involved in these movements, who no longer find dogma attractive,

\section*{The Daily Orange}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Thomes Coffer \\
Thombe Gradie \\
Chuck Badlinto \\
Grege Chitterton \\
Paxti Sehulicontrai \\
Howard Ahantisild \\
Sy Monepomery \\
Jecqui spimon \\
Marsham Eppolito \\
Kevin Hayrneat \\
Scott Hohier \\
Brent Mipratrent
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
practice which will tranaform then inner lives in such a way that they can actually exemplify religious truth rather than merely identifying with itThis is batifally what Buddhist meditation does - it pute the truth of Buddhism into the bloodstream of the practitioner.

The title "Buddha" means atrakened one." The point of Buddhiam is to wake up. Someone oncegaid our contemporary spintual problems ouz contemporary spinítual problems have less to do with sin than with somnambuliam; that is, we are not wo much sinners - though we certainly aure that - as we are aleepwallers. Juet an buying an alarm clock does not waire you up in the morning, so mere iden. tification with a belieff system may do littie or nothing in the way of transforming one's consciousness. Instand of zetfing up a belief eystem which may or may not trandform human consciousness, Buddha set out directly to transform human conscioumpess. Moreover, such trandormation is the teaching in Buddhism. This is put in Zen Buddhism by saying, "That very moind of yours is Buddha." Negativaly, this meams that it is miscuided to lools for Buddha snywhere outside of your mind; ponitively, that when you undermtand the true nature of your mind (which it hat true nature of your mind (which ib not, incidentaily, identical with egoBaddhism. But, ironically enough, at Buddhism. But, inonically enough, at that point thereis no"Bnddhism" to be understood. Budcha made thit point by alying that when you reach the other ahore you no longer cary the raft that got you there on your back. In Marxist terme, the beliof wystem "writhers away" and is replaced by its conerete embodiment in everyday life.

Such concrets embodiment requires a "edriousneas" which goes beyond merre Gidelity, to belief systems. The individual who sete foot on the Baddhist mpditation path most be willing to go complete transfarmation of coneciournneas. Thin in a bis price to phy for raligion, particullarly when ond realizes that progreas on the path in often in dramatic conflict with the claims of ego, the atubstance of one's suppased identity. Bringing it all back home can leaveone with an actíe feel. ing of homelessness.
ing of homelessness. Expelled from the false home of ego, the pilgrim may endure a severe disorientation until such time as he transmutes hornelessmess into a viaceral temse of being-athomer everywhere. Whereas religion often functiona as a socially acceptable form of egoreinforcement, through which one's aenee of identity is rendered more secure, thie Buddhint meditation path has everything to do with what A Jan Watts called "the wiadom of insecurity." Not only does the atudent of Buddinist meditation not identify with "Briddhigm," he learns not to idemfiny with anything. In poeitive terme, he learns inmtand to unite with aubtie, fragile, vulaerable breath, and thereby progressively to remove the land of conceptrual dietance thet cand of conceptara chetance that separatea him inom that of others. The own experience and that of others. The closed heart wondroanly opexa into the vast world of comparaion in which self and other become one. This experience is at the other end of the spectrum from chat brand of naive marcimin which has been hold to be secheracteristic of When the 70 ins.
What I have been maintaining is espencially that Buddhism - and 1 have in mind particni rive the have in mind particalarly the meditation schools - talkes place meditation schools - talkes place beyond belief, and reaponids in a powerfully simple and direct manner to that deep intuition within all of ut that spiritual truth is primarily a matter of what we do and how we live, rather than merrely of what beliefin we subseribe to. The goapel according to Buddhim (that is, the goode never it bringe) iw that there is mamething wo thereby deliver ournalven from the enm dlese romand of euffering by becomint connpletelly one with it

Lonif Norci trom is Chaplain-ath large for mon-We.tern neligions.

\section*{Lane puts blame on State Department}

By Kevin Hayraes
On the day when more than 900 people would die in Jonestown, a 3,000-acre village isolated in the dense rain forest of Guyana, attorney Mark Lame and a conleague were trapped in the town, the Rev. Jim Jones' communall death wish. "We're law yera," Lanesmid to his friend. "The only thing we're trained to do is talk."

Lane's perauasive tongue enabled them to escape "The Horror of Joneatown" that afternoon, a subject he spolke about at great ength on Sunday night before a full house in Hendricke Chapel Greeted by several boos mixed with polite applause. Lane said it was the responsibility of the United States government to find out what bappened at Jonestown these 900 deathe" 10 years to ind outabout these 900 deaths," he said. "We must be impatient., Lane was hired by the Peoples Temple because of Jones' fear that U.S. intelligence agencies were trying
The 51-year-old I
The sl-year-old Lane, claiming that the mass suicide wab actually a "massacre." alsoblamed the U.S. State Department for the murder of aipport in Port Kaituma.
"One thing is clear, and it is clear beyond any question." Lane said. "They asaured him there would be no problem and they knew that there would be no problem and they knew trapped him into that visit."
Eane said Richard McCoy, American ambassador to Guyana, knew that Ryan's visit babsador to Guyana, knew that Ryan provoke Jones to carry out the might provoke
"McCoy knew they had guins, and they practiced a auicide ritual which was actually plans for mass murder, Lane said.

Lane alao said he urged Ryan to "at the very least, put off the visit for several months." The congressman wanted to visit Jonestown to investigate reports that some cult members were being held against their will.
Yet Lane said that when Ryan asked McCoy if there was any danger, McCoy replied, 'It's perfectly safe. The only problense are that the Although Lane flamed the State Departmen for Ryan's murder, he said he believed it wasn't reaponsible for the massacre at Jonestown

In not faulting the State Departinent for not taking action." he said. "Quite frankly, I can't think of anything they could've done. But what they ahould not have done was lie to Mr. Ryan."
Lane said the death ritual was the exem plification of Jones' "desire and need to exercise States and come to Jonestown "in search of what uged to be the 'American Dream.' ",
"He (Jones) appeared to genuinely love poor people., He appeared to genuinely love blaci people," Lane aaid. "He also tended to exploit poor people and black people
This ambivalence, intansified by sones' increasing drug problem and his fear of harassment and infiltration by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Ceniral Intelligence Agency, made Jones a difficult mgn to deal with, Lane said.

When you're dealing with a terribly unatable personality, the best thing to do is not deal with Lane sug Lane suggested that Jones saw Ryan's visit as a "ternble provocation, as a terrible witch that Cla agents had already infiltrated Jones town, the cult leader was quivering with fear "Why don't they junt leave us alone?" Lane recalled Jones asking him.
Lane said he then wuggested bringing action against the agencies under guidelines of the Fegal association with Jones, Lane said.
egal association with Jones, Lane said.
Pointing to previous attempt by the government to discredit his charges that there John F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King John F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King congressional commity substantiated by a Congressional committee - Lane said Americans have an obligation really happened in Jonestown.
'If they were murdered, then we don't have just a right to know, we have an absolute responsibility to know," he have
"It's so easy to tell us it's a suicide," he continued. "It's so easy to believe they were nuts, mesmerized, less than human."
"We can't wait 15 yeara for a congressional committee to say we were right," Lane said. "We will never know anything about our society until we find out who in responsible.
"That, I think, is an obligation for all of us to sh
During the question-and-answer aession that followed the speech, Lane was asked if his lecture was motivated by his' interest in "fattering" his bank account.
"It has become fashionable to ank that question," Liane replied. He said that while touring the country to speak on the conspiracy \({ }^{2}\), ni penny of "t" hedy he earned so0,000. Biagion Inquest, a lobbying group Lane organized to compile evidence for the inveatigation by the House Assassinations Committee into the Kenned y and King murders, he said.
"I would like to know if you will ever make that kind of contribution in your lifetime for Chnpel speech Sunday.

\section*{Chisholm speech part of Black Expressions Month}

By Marilyn Marks
New York congreaswoman Shirley Chisholm will speakat Syracuse University on Feb. 16 as part of Black Expressions Month, sponsored by the Student AfroAmerican Society.
Chisholm. 55, became the first woman in U.S. history to bea aerious contender for the presidency when the ran for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972 . She will speak in Grant Auditorium at 8 P.m. Admissiom is 50 cents for SU ztudentes and \($ 1\) for the public.
We're trying to make Black Expressions Month amonth of awareness," External Affairs Chairperson Gregory Rolle cold the SAS general meeting Sunday night.
""It's dedicated to Malcolm x." he said. "We'd like people to know what he stood for, because that's what we stand for:
Also speaking during Black Expreasions Month will be James McFadden, a founder of the Student Nomviolent Coordinating Committee. He will speak on "The State of Blacks in America" on Feb. 10. The SNCC, founded in 1960 was one of the most activecivil rights organizations in the 1960a and organized sit-ine and voter registration drivee. Yosef Ben-Jochannan, profesa, of history and AfroAraerican studies at Cornell Univeraity, will speak on Feb. 11; and James Turner director of African mitudies at Cornell will apeak on Feb. 22. Turner will deal with the relationship between black culture and African heritage, according to Patay Austin SAS educational affairs chairpergon.
On Feb. 18, the Black Celestial Choral Ensemble will give a gospel concert at 7p.m. at the Civic Center. Admission is $4.
A workshop with represen-

\section*{MALE SUBJECTS NEEDED FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING}

The Psychological Research Laboratory of the Upstate Medical Center needs subjects for their current studies.
Qualfications:
Male 18-30 years old with
at least a high school aducation.
Testing will be one session of 2 hours answering questionnaires.
If interested Call: \(473-5775\) between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday Through Friday
Payment is \(\mathbf{$ 2 . 5 0}\) per hour acciation for the Advancement of Colored People, the Urban League, and other civil rights groups wimbeheld Feb. p.m. 104 Walnut Place.

SAS is alao sponsoring firms at the Slybarn duriog Black Expreasions Month. "Which Way is Up?" is alated for Feb 7 Way is UP? is alated for Febl 7 at 7 p.m. and \(9: 30\) p.m., and "Piece of the Action" will be ahown Feb. 21 at 9:45 p.m. On Feb. 28, "Brothers" will be Feb. 28, "Brothers"" will Bhown at 7 and \(9: 30\) pin" shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m.
On Feb. 23. SAS will sho two films at 7,9 and 11 p.m. in Kittredge Auditorium. They are Angels; Portrait of Revolutionary," and: "Last Grave at Dimbaza.".
"Last Grave at Dimbaza"; depicta the apartheid syatem and treatment of blacke in and treatmen
SAS will also show the film "Men of Bronze" on Feb. 25 at 7 p.m. Wineton Miles, who produced the movie, will speak after the film. Admision is free.
Also at the SAS moeting change, Rolen diacusaed the constitution, which must be ratified at a general meeting Under the change, a preaident four wice-preoidents, and \(a\) comptroller would replace the present 可ve-member central committee.
(

\section*{Dean's lists standards go}

By Virginia Dosle
"Keeping high ntandards," and a problem with grade innation, are the main reasons five schools and colleges at Syracuse Univeraity have raised their grade point average requirement for the Dean's List in recent yeara.
The School of Education recorded the highest jump among the achools when it raised its GPA requirement this year from a 3.0 to a 3.4.

Since 1974, the achools of Management. Human Visual and Performine and the S.L Newhouse Sehool of Public Communications have raised their GPA requirement.

The School of Management raised its GFA requirement from a 3.2 wo a 3.4 ; pubiec com. to a 3 m performing arts went from a performing

However, not all of SU's schools have raised their Dean's List requirements.

The School of Architecture. because of its "very otrict standards," has kept its re quirement at A 3.0, said Miriam Bakeman, the school's recorder.

\section*{up, up, up}
*We're satusfied with Nement. The Schoo of Architecture is probably the most difficult school on cam pus.
Also because of "strict stan darda." the School of Engineering's Dean's Liat re quirement has been kept ot a 3.0, according to a represen tative for the college office.
The School of Nurwing satiafied with its 3.2 re quirement. eapecially in the upper division because the school does not accept D's as pasaing trades, according to Barbara-McDerinit, associate chairperson of the school's undergraduate program.

\title{
Filmmaking program emphasizes artistry, expression
}

Editors Note: This ia the first partin an eight part aeries on the arts at SU.

Even
Evan among growing commercialization of the film medium: of cinema's artiatic aspecta.
The Univeraity has two schools with areay devoted to film study, one in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, theotherin the S.I. Newhouee School of theother in thesminewhoueeschool of programs are nelatively young. programs are relatively youngtablished in 1973 by Professor Owen

\section*{The Arts at SU}

\section*{Part One Film}

By Steven Titch

Shapiro. It was the furst department at the university to deal with fim at a creative art rather than technical tool.
The prime function of the program, according to Ehapiro, is to train "créative and intelligent practitiomers, with emphasis on film drama or film airt am a medium of personal expresBion."
-The VPA program," Shapiro asid. "is one that symthesizes production with theory, history, criticiam and writing."

Sebastion Domminguez in a flmmaker who enjoys being his own boss. The fim he is creating now doesn't have an all-star cast, won't cost \($ 30\) million to maké, and probably won't break any make, and probably wont Domingraez doesn't mind. He will gain sompething other than commercial succese. He will have the satimfaction of being in total have the satiniaction.

Dominguez is a Syracuse University graduate with a master of fine arts degree in film from VPA. His project, a documentary about chifdren in Brooklyn, will be nnder his auperviaion from the preproduction planning to the final cut -Dominguex, operating independent of the Hollywood sybtem, won't have to compromise to the public tastes. He attributes much of his motivation to pursue film as an individualistic medium to the philosophies he learned in the VPA program.
"VPA is interested in developing the artiat, as opposed to training students to be technicians," he said. "The country in filled with technicions. What we need are people with braine and need are ." people wivity." In previo in previoua yearb, Shapiro eaid, SU had film study areas, mainly in producInastructional Technologies and the Division of the School of Education. Gradually, Shapiró said, such ITE courses, ag animation, became listed as film courses in Newhouse:
The Newhouse film. sequence, according to Norman \(\mathbf{O}\). Keim, director of Fim Forum and a Newhouse ingtructor, grew out of the televiaion/radio bequence. with the opening of Newhouse II. Keim said unlike VPA, a Newhouse film program has not thoroughly developed despite efforts made to establish a separate department.
"Originally, there were plana to hire four more professors," Keim said. "The budget never came through and film remained in TVR" Keim added that Newhouse announced plans for a program, but when incoming students arrived, they fousd no such program.
However, Peter Moeller, acting assistant dean in the Newhouse electronic media division, said that Newhouse never announced any definite plans concerning a film program. Moeller said whenever his program. Moeler said whener inquiry about the film program, it is made clear about the nim program, itismada ciear that it is not a prog quence for a major,
But Moeller said that the film sequence is currently under studsy by the quence is currentily under studst b
A Newhouse graduate student in TVR-film who wished to remain unidentified praised the achool's facilities but expressed disappointment with the teaching.
The leaining situation is not what one would expect,", she said. The atudent, who made six films before coming to Syracuse, folt that people were assigned projects before they received proper inntruction. Referring to a film-production course the took last fall, she said, "A student learns ahe's made a mistake after the's made it." She added that these mistakes can be expensive, considering the cost of film and processing.
However, another Newhoume graduate student in TVR, Tim Langtry, felt otherwise. Referring to the same prodiaction course. Langtry said, "I found it worthwhile. I learned a lot.' Langtry added that he did have previous experience.
Despite any current controversy. graduates from SU's film programs are gaining success in the field. Shapiro said mout VPA graduates have paid most their work in New York or Cureued theiraia Jeff Hoffman 1976 VPA graduate, is now in Hollywood working as as: sistant director and editor on several projects.

Luis Collazo, a former graduate student, returned to his native country, Puerto Rico, to start his own production company.
Dominguez, in addition to making his documentary, writes for Fing Library Quarterly magazine.

Outside the clasaroom, cinema still plays a big part in the university's cultural community. University Union runs one of the largeat campus film series in the country. However, ita growth to its present size has occurred only within the lant few years.
Univergity Union began ehowing films in the early '60s, according to Steven Runin. coordinator of UU cinemas, Originally, UU ran a. movie every Friday night. They tended to be art and foreign filma, independent or old American fims.
Fim Forum, established in 1967, was the firat organization to bring such first-rum films as "Saturday Night Fever," and "Coming Home" to campus.

According to Runin, UU'e expansion was largely due to Roger Matus, who graduated in 1976
In 1974, Matus started UU's Cinema

Two series, which, like Film Forum, brought firstran films to campua. A year later, UU expanded its program further, showing films on Saturday and Sunday nights.
In recent years, the popularity of firm at SU has also been evidenced by the atirth of such other groupy as Nickelodeon Film Series, Erockway Nickelodeon Fhm Series, Brockway Cinema and the Non-Violent Studies film series. Like UU and Film Forum, these, gronps ahow a wide variety of comedies, drama and experimental comed
Films on campus today range from such current releases as "The" Last Waltz" and "Interiors" to Dianey cartoon features to Fellini masterpieces.
Popularity of film as an aŕtistic medium is growing at SU, The annual Independent Fllmmakers' Exposition, jointly aponsored by University Union, Film Forum and VPA, attracta larger audiences each year. Gifford Auditorium was filled to capacity for the appearance of Arthur Penn, who is known more as an artistic than a commercial filmmaker.-
Shapiro, whose VPA film department brought Penn to campus, said more people are becoming interested in films dealing with themes not wanally handied in commercial filmmating.
As Shapiro pat it, "The Hollywood cinema is just one kind of use for film entertainment"" However, as campus intereat in serious filmmaking increases, Syracuse University has truly creases, Syracuse University has truly begun reco

\section*{ZSYBA'S PIZZA}
-The Best In Town-
and Hot Subs whin Mozzarella Cheese WE DELIVER 7 days a week 472-5075

5 p.m.-2 a.m.

You are cordially invited to an ovening fecture by \section*{Dr. Manfred Stanley}

‘The Educator's Conscience: From Paradise to Disneyland' as part of Hendricks Chapet ethics series, Moral Man and Immoral Society: "The Problem of Coriscience in the 20th Century."

Wed. Feb. 7 - 8 p.m. Maxwell Aud.
Respondents: Dr. James Wiggins, Prof. of Rel.
Dr. Burton Blatt. Dean School of Ed.
Also: An afternoon discussion of his new book. The Technological Conscience: Survival and Dignity in an Age of Expertise.

Feb. 7-2 p.m.
Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel

TuesdayMadness

Harry Fig

Sherman's Quest
by Chuck Wing

POE HAVE MANY

Quick! Name 4 restaurants in the city where you can sit around and drink imported beer all afternoon.

153 AINSLEY DRIVE/912 FARK STAEET/2950 ERIE BOULEVARD EAST/A49 SOUTH WARREN

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{today.}
mapulm by today for 31.600 fellowship from the Stake Farm Companies Foundation for seniors and juniors in finance, accounting. economics, computer Ecience, prelow, business edministration, insurance, investmant. marketing. math, statistics and business studies. Stop by the Honors Office. studies. Stop by the 300-1 Archbold Gym.
300-1 Archbold Gym.
Anthomy Pegg from Mitron S. Hershey (Pa.) Medica! Center will spenk Folymines in Mammatian Celts" at 4 p.m. today in 117 Lyman.

Aim. ioda Epsion Liman.
Alpho Eption Tho. national broadcast honorary. mets at 7:30 conight in the Newhouse founge.
Organic chemistiry seminar: George Wellman from Smith. Kline Be French will speak on "Now Synthetic Approaches to. Hydroxy Methyl trnidazoles" at 11:40 a.m. in 210 Eowne.
Black Arts Festival. sponsored by BCCE. meets at 7 tonight in the Student Canter conference room. Actors, actresses, dancers, artists, poets, musicians needed.

Aetive TC neophytes meet at 5 p.m. today for tohaarsal at TC office with din-din at Shaw afterwards for good behavior.

Clown, Workehop will be held from 7-8 tonight in the Noble Room. Hendricks workhop.

Free lunc
Free lunch sponsored by Hillel speaking on "Israel Today" at \(11: 45\) E.m. in the Hillel office, Mendricks Chapel.

Pre-marriage clasa will be held a 7 tonight in the Newman Center. foherston. director of prothink systems, speake on of pro-khink Brain Approaches to Creative Problem-Solving from 7 -10 tonigh in 327 Marshall. Sponsored by ESF School of Continuing Education.

International Student Aa Euclid Ave. Elections for programEuchid Cove. Election

Jutó Club meets ar 7 tonight anc somorrow in Archtbold. Cell Doug a \(\mathbf{4 7 2 - 7 2 1 2}\) for tetsits.

\section*{TOMORROW}

Pakiatani lunch will be hold from noon-1 p.m. tomorrow at the ISO. 230 E uclic Ave, 61,50 . All watcome SU Metical Stmeg genaral meat ing and improvisation night will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Wat son Theatre.
Onondsge Audobon Society meets of 8 p.m. tomorrow in litick Hall.
D.jign lecture: Profossar James Pirkl will speak on "Design in East Germany" at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in the destgn confarence room. Ax thbold Gym bavement.
Managernent APL mini-course will meet in 320 Maxwell at 3 p.m. tomerrow.
Notices
Production needs composers. inm /video makers. performers. poets. dancers and artists working in still visual mediums. Call kynn at 423-2167.
SUSKI is skime Jay Paak, Vt, this weakend. For \($ 58\) you got two days of tift tickets and Iodging, round-trip bus. Call 423-3592 from 12:30.4 p.m. 2hrough Thussday.

Menagemant student edviseripplicmtions are- avaitable in 107 Slocum for next year. Current odvisers must reapply.
NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE 8 EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adams St. Dy noon wo days before publicaivon. Limit and telephone number of sender must be included. Announcemonts musx be included. Announcements

\section*{Correction}

The photo of Sonthside Johnny on Page 1 of Monday's paper was taken by Joch Sheldon.

\section*{Watch for the \\ series on construction} in this week's DO.

Hendricks Cha
A program of Henaricks Chapel

Morning Prayer Weekdays 8:45 a.m.

Dean's Office

\title{
Drumlin's Valentine's Day Party tickets are on sale at Spectrum Sundries & the S.U. Bookstore for \(\mathbf{$ 2 . 0 0}\).
}

\section*{For Sale}

REDKEN AMINO PON. JELLASHEEN and ESSTURE Shampoo. ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPPost Office, 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: S.U. NYLON QUILTED VESTS 615 WRANGLER CORDUROY PANTS S12.98 HOODED SWEATSHIRTS S9.98. IVY HALL. 738 S. CROUSE
AVE. 478.3304 . AVE. 478-3304
ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza' & Hot Subs with Lots of Moxzarella Cheese and Greek Tastel We Deliverl, 472 5075.

NEWWINTERWOOLIES at SECOND HAND ROSE. WWII wool army coats $15.00, army wool and kbkhi pants $12.00 713 S. Crouse Ave. ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREO brands Wholesale prices. Fuily guaranteed. Check around. then call 478-8667.
1974 audi Fox. Excellent ConditonGreat in the snow. New tires. \($ 2200\) Call 425-9199 or 471-0346.
Brand new double bed and frame. Bought new for \($ 120\) - will sell for 575. Call 425-9199 or 471-0346. SALEI Winter ceearance (up to 50\% off) SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing (19
AKAI CASSETTE DECK/Pause. Dolby. Limiter good shape, \($ 100\) firm. \(\times\) - 2520 . Mike

\section*{For Rent}

Private rooms furnished. share kitchen, bath and living room. Ctean. walking distance-474-1303 or 4720154.

Apartments furnished. walking distance. One months security, no 6550.

Deluxe two bedroom apt. near University. Washar/Drver and all utides included. 8300 a month. Ivy Fidge Apts. Call \(\mathbf{4 2 5 - 9 1 9 9}\) or 471 . 0346.
*2 cubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Taylor Rental Center. 478-0957. Stay only four doors from the ocean at Ft. LAUDERDALE BEACHI Rooney Apariments at orily \($ 12\) night per person. Call \(305.462-5767\) for person. Call \(305 \cdot 462-5767\) for reservations. See ya in the spring! reservations. See va in the spring! Quiet, clear. large, attractive, half-of apartment- rest of semester- your own private bedroom-share kitchen. LV, bath. 2 biocks 2 campus-parkingnice! You'll like izt \(\mathbf{4 7 5 . 9 3 5 3}\)

\section*{Wanted}

Counselors: Adirondack Bays Camp: Counselors: Adi/2 wks: \(\mathbf{5} 450-$ 550\) : Swimming. Sailing. Camoeing. Camporaft, Archery, Craft, Terinis, Driver. Office (rvping). riflery. Softball. Trip Leading. 39 Mill Valley Road. Pittsford. NY 14534.
MENI WOMEN! JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High payl See Europe. Haeaii. Aus tralia. So. America; Winteri Summer! Send \($ 3.85\) for info. to SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035, Sacto Ca. 95860.
Low on money and records that Low t wanted? WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for insiant RECORDS. Bring them in for insuant Cash. TOP prices Paid!
DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse 472 3235 Man.-Sat. T7-6.
PARK a half a block from campus. Calt or come to the Red House. 747 Comstock. 423-2711
If vou have vour own van or a covered 4 -wheel drive. we have à part time position available, making deliveries in the Syracuse area. Call 471-1 101.

Help wanted: part time evenings 5pm-10 pm Monday-Friday. Sat. 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Must have car. Be neat appearing. To arrange a persona

Addressers Wanted ImmediatelylI Work at home no experiences netel sary excellent pay. Write Amerricen Service, 8350 Park Lame, Suitp 127. Dallas. TX 75231

\section*{Classified ads}

WANTED; ROOMMATE, responsible fernale, non-zmoker, Large 2-bedrm. al. utilities furnished. 422-2252

Wented quickly: 3 or 4 more girls to Wented quipkly: 3 or 4 more giris to share hotel suite ( \($ 12\) ea. night) Fort share hotel suite ( 812 ea. night) Fort 4481 'n we'll make reservations.
Houseboys wanted in exchange for meals at a Comstock sorgrity. Cal Deirdre and Sharon at 478-9142 or x-4204
ROOMMATE WANTED: TO SHARE Y BEDROOM APARTMENT NEAR ARCHBOLD WITH FJREPLACE. 478
B188. 8188.

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full part time. At home or arsehool. Easy service business, no investment. ex citing opportunity, no gimmicks. citing opportunity, no gimmicks, reliability guaranteed. - Details \($ 2\) (refurded) STAR SSU Box 272. Island Park. NY t1558.
Dinirg Services Catering Dept. Surdent Supervisor trainee opening Catering experience or strong intarost in catering required. Iraine assume full Supervisor in Fall 79 See John Madden, Dining Service Office. Women's Building betore Friday. Feb. 9.

\section*{Personals}

Rush PHI DELTA THETA Monday. Tuesday. and Thursday 7:00-10:00 Our fishies are all orange and MM'S are green. Sorry this is belated But now you ard nineteenl You are ther mestest roornie and a great part of mudacell, you're the greatest "l'm gonna whack his peapeiel" Todd and Penelope: I've seen you at the Student Center. What's the al traction? Perfy Wayne Buffington. Perry. if you must know, we're into group mastication. Join us at the Student Center. Todd ard Penelope. Papito-Feliz, compleanos (tardell Eres muy "LARCHO". Ten suerter y exito, siempre con amor. Chinita. To the guy by Bird who asked if he knew me. 1 wish.
Vickia, take our advice. He's a nice boy. Go with him to the Panama Canal. Love. Mildred and Milton K-REN- Happy Birthday to you, to tex you know how much I care about you: Tons! Love. Treacle Pussy Cat, it's up to you nowl Sign. B. B.

Valentine's Day is Coming soon. Don't forget that special personsend kisses.
Vickie, my darling. come with me to the Panama Canal where we cain make beautiful music together.
Cuteski, my favorite Polish person; Cuteski, my fovorite Polish person; do it, go for it, become educated, why not? See you at Coby.
Bruce - Ther
Bruce \(\sqrt{ }\). Thank you for showing us that St. Maarten is the "Promised Land". The Cubacoy Kids

Scot C. - Will you please fird a job so we can get some decent food in the housell 'll I'll vomit. Zergles.

Penelope, spinich salad becorrest you. Have some peppermint tes with me at the Student Center. and we'l talk about it. Todd Todd, you don't look bad in mushrooms. either. But the vinaigrette is a bit too much. Penelope.

\section*{Services}

You graduating soon? Here is a 2 cradit course to help you get those extra credits. Psy. 400-Careers and Archbotd Gym or Call Academic Archbold Gym or Call Acadernic Limit 25 siudents.
Private Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. Also 3 hr . Pre-licensing classes. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY, 476-3995.
Daily Orange Classified Ad Insertion Procedure: Deádline 2 Business days before the issue you wish the ad to appear by 2 p.m. Charges: 51.65 min. Charge ( 15 words or iess) sc ea. word thereafter. Sc in capitals.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Ski Jay Peak with Suski on Feb. 9. 10. 11 two days lift, tickets. lodging. transportation. Cost is \(\mathbf{$ 5 8}\). Signi up at our meeting Tues. 7 om . Maxwell at our meeting Tues. 7 pm. Maxwell Aud. or during office hour Tues.
Wed., Thurs., \(12: 30-4: 00423-3592\)
Four-Course International Dinner Tuesday-Wednesday 6-7:30 \($ 2.25\) Non-profit. Westcott Cafe. 4249725
FT. LAUDERDALE., Spring break. \(\bar{B}\) days. 7 nights. Airfare from Syracuse. Luxury hotel on strip. $339. Questions call Danny 422 . 3091 or Robyn 471-8926

\section*{Don't forget} your Valentine
Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds.
Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101 E. Adams St.

Final deadline
is Mon.,
Feb 12
by
12 NOON.-

SINCE JOIO ONE OF THE MOST COMPLETE SERVICES IN TOWN STANLEY L. BECKER. OWNEI
GENESEE 1 HR. DRY CLEANERS & LAUNDRY

\author{
Experts" \({ }^{10}\)
}

Complete Laundry Service
For All Student Noeds EXPERT TAILORING for Gurs & Gals

GEMEBEE 2HR

- ClEANINGELAUNDK

FOR FAST FREE
PICK UP & LOW PRICES - QUALITY WORK DELIVERY SAME DAY SERVICE

TO ALL DORMS
WE CLEAN ALL DAY - AND THE TO 6 P.M. INCLUDING SAT. UNIVERSITY AREA - free storage

DIAL
PRESSING WHILE 4 WAIT 472-3021
212 Cherry St. SyT. N. \(4 . \mathbf{H}^{2}\)
(Cor. E. Genozeo St. -

Digital is unlike most companies its size (over a billion in computer sales). We're structured to encourage the unlettered and unconventional. That's the way we like our people. And that's the nature of opportunity here.

Our professionals make their own beds. And they contribute from the day they start. We expect it. They expect.it. No one's disappointed.
If you're a top CS or EE major - and you've got what it takes to make your way in our kind of company- let's talk. But if you like routine, the comfort of a crowd. and. can't reach beyond your grasp, see the competition. For information about your kind of cornpany, contact the placement office.

dilgital
Digital Equipment Corporation
An equal opportunity

\section*{Ice is nice for SU hockey club \\ By Mike Stamiton \\ Impatiently, the members of Syracuse \\ Merrell gave upionly a pair of goals in the \\ "It'e tough to get a line practicing togetiner}

University's hockey club stood at center ice posing for a team picture Friday night, laughing and shoving one another and teasing the photographer.
The photo-session ended and, like a pack of boys just released from Sunday school, the players leaped on one another and playfully rumbled on the ice. Gloves and sticks littered the ice an mock fistights erupted and shouta echoed in the vacant State Fairgrounds arena.
From their appearances, it was difficult to tell that the players had-just absorbed their third straight loss, 11-6 to Buffalo State, in an unartistic game in which defense was about as popular as yesterday's wind chill factor.
Overall, the loas gave Syracuae a \(5-6\) record, although the Orangernen are \(4-0\) and remain in first place in the Finger Lakes Collegiate Hockey Association. SU's last "real" victory (Syracuse won a game by forfeit over Broome Community College Jan. 20) was Dec. 9, when the Orangemen defeated Hamilton College's junior varsity team 7-3 in a game for first place in the FLCHA.
Since that win. Syracuse has given up 40 goals in four games, the laat 11 to Buffalo State Friday night.
"We've been going downhill since the Hamilton game," team captain and right wing Hardy Green observed. "But there's a lot of talent on this teano."

Talent, however, is difficult to refine on a team that is called a team in spirit only. In terms of money, exposure, scheduling and commitment from the SU athletic department, hockey must atruggle along as a teann confined within the limitations of "club" atatus
Operating on a season budget of \($ 3,500\) from SU and Student Association, the hockey club must pay for expensive ice time: practices, must pay for expensive ice
The team consequently can afford only two practices a week at the Fairgrounds, and play before crowds of no more than a few dozen, many of whom are girlfriends or fans awaiting the schoolboy games sandwiched around SU contests.

During Christmas break, while the SU baskethall tearn played eight games with practice in between, many of the hockey players didn't even skate. As a result, more than a month after ita most recent game, Syracuse played Hobart College Jan. 17 and lost 12.1 .

Existing as a club that has been promised varsity status within the next five years or so. the team also has difficulty scheduling schools with varsity programs.
Such achools. Green pointed out, "have nothing to gain and everything to lose" by committing themsel ves to a garne against Syracuse.
Commitment, however, works both ways in a club sport. where the lack of athletic department support can prove detrimental to player participation. "By the end of the year. we've lost a bunch of players to other things.: Green noted.

Againgt Buffalo State, Syracuse was missing two of ats top defensemen, Peter Bliven and Ken DiCicco, and its top goalie. John Pistocehi, who was sking.
While Pistocchi was skiing, SU goalie Bob Gh.ni was buried under an avalanche of 16 fix. period shots, as the Bengals took a 6-4 lead.

It was just one of those nights," Ghani said. -I'd stop a shot and then the rebounds would just sit there in front of the net."
"We sort of forgot our defense tonight," second-year coach John Goodman said. "We were sloppy in our own zone and we committed the cardinal sin by getting outnumbered there. We got our offense working, but at the expense of our defense."

The offense was led by the line of center Mike McTigue and wings Peter Lyon and Peter Goodman, the coach's son. The trio combined for four goals and three assists egainst the Bengals and this season hasiscored 23 points in 11 games. Lyon led the Orangemen with a pair of goals and an assist while the line of Dave Semrau at center and Green and Dave Stoessel on the winge added two coala and three assists and has chipped in 21 points this season.
Adding offensive punch to Syracuse is junior center Ken Reiff, who leads the team in points (14) and assiats (9) and set up a Lyon goal againat Buffalo State that closed out the scor ing with two minutes loft in the game.

After surrendering six goals in the finst period, Ghani was replaced for the final two periode by Panl Merrell, the team's top goalie last season before spending last semester in Hawaii, where he lost his goaltending reflexes. Maling his first appearance since last year.
second period as Buffalo State took an \(8-4\) lead. Lyon's goal at 13:49 of the period brought SU within three, 8.5 , after two periods, before the Bengals roared out of the locker room with three third-period goals to seal its victory.

After the game, as players filed out of the locker room to a post-game party, coach Goodman stood in the hall and lamented about the difficulty of coaching a team that practices so irregularly.
when practice is so late at night or a line doesn't show up," observed Goodman, who also works part-time as an interior design professor at \(S U\). "Varsity status is sorely needed here for hockey.
For now, however, the team will continue as a club, practicing and playing before nearempty stands until that elusive goal of varsity ataitusis finally scored.

Phowes by Gion Stubbw Syracese hockey defensemen Paul Dreher ( 8 , on loft) and Paul Guge (4, center) often found themaetvos out

After losing \(\mathbf{1 3 - 6}\) to Buffalo State Friday night, the SU hockey club regained its componure long enough to pose for a team portrait.
before holding a mock rumbibo at centerice that demonstrated you don't have to have varsity statua to have a good time.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Vomen's sports program attempts to define Title IX}

Editor's note: This is the second of twopart series examing Title IX and Univeraity. Stacy Sehneider Federal law Title IX went into Law July 21, 1975. It states: "Regulation requires that recipients who operate or sponsor intercollegiate, interscholastic, athletics provide equal athletic op, portunities for members of both sexes." The date for compliance was last July The 21.
Compliance of Tikie IX depends on the interpretation of the law. However, some SU officials interpret Title IX differentiy.

\section*{A clause in Title IX aays publicity} hould be equal.
Barbara Jacobs, women's basicetball coach, said the. Women's basketball team's main problem is problicity. "Newspapers and press do not cover ua,"'she naid.

Lois Black, director of Affirmative Action at SU, is in charge of SU's comAction at SU, isince with Title 1 X Glack said the pliance wieh titia has a responsibility in equaliz. ing men's and womien's sports, but ing mens and women's site cannat control the preas,
In addition Jake Croathamel, director of men's intercollegiate athletics, widi, sell." Foothall and brint what will sell." Football and banketball receive good cownagre, but only adequate coverage is given to the other guate coverage is giv
According to Kim Casale, a member of the women's swim takin, the \section*{Student Association's resolution backs studerit union funding plan \\ and edited by a ataff working under the}

The Stay Jerty Zremalia
The Stadent Association Assembly passed a reisolition supporting the Chancellor's proposed plan for fanding the student union at the Assembly meeting Monday nighit.
Under Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers' proposal, graduating seniors would volumteer to pledge \($ 250\) to the union project, payable in five yeais if the graduatea are making at learst \($ 20,000\) a year and if the building is under comstraction.
Pledging studente would then write letters to two alumni from the graduat ing class 20 years prior to their own and ask them to match the contribution.
The goal of the plan is to get 1,000 seniors a year to pledge and for half the contacted alumni to match the pledge.

If succesaful, the plan would raise \($ 500,000\) a year for 20 years for a total of \($ 10\) million.
The Assembly ahac at ita meeting in axwell Anditorium, passed a Maxwell Andizorium, passed a evaluation gride consisting of personal critiques.- The critiques will be pereened women's swim team's main problem is also publicity
Although the team han four All American awimmers, they receive no press coverage, aid Doris Soladay, athletics. "It makes it discourraging for the team membera," she added

However, not all the womens' teams said they had problems with tack of publicity.
Neither Jesse Dwire women's tennis coach, nor Elaine Goldband, women's volleyball coach, said they had problems specifically with publicity.

Another clause of Title \(I X\) says. " \(E\) qual expenditures do not have to be provided, but the adequacy of fund bath teams must be considered."
Jacobe said insufficient funds are another problem with women's basketbad. She is \($ 4,375\), including operating penses.

We need better uniforms," she said. In addition, Jacobe anid she needs norescholarships to improve the team. Currently, women's baskethall while the fall-tuition acholarshing, However, the 15 are elarghipa include However, the withon along with rom and board. She- also naid the needs more equipment.
Also, the men's team hires elec tricians to cocrdinate music of the basicetball games, but the women can not, the said
"It is not that SU did" not give us

SA academic affairs committee.
Studenta will be assigned to write the critiquas, and the guidewill be ready by next semester, zaid Dan Keefe, SA vice president for academic affairs.
SA will hold an open meeting Monday night at 7:15 in Maxwell Auditorium to discuss the evaluation. Anyone interested in participating in the evaluation can attead, Keafe said.
In other action, the Assembly paseed a resolution aupporting a plan to name the new domed stadium after Ernie Davis, the late SU football star
The uni versity plans to sell the name to the highest bidder. Under the SA propoasal, people would contribute in Davia' name.
Also at the meeting, the Assembly approved a reaolution calling for SU to year two athletic achivity cardo hext yamiketball ticlets only for \($ 20\) and another offering admaission to all SU home sports events for \($ 30\).
The current price of the card is $40,

Newhouse i (foreground) and Nowhouss il are two buildings that resultied from Syrecuse Univernity'* construction plars in the \section*{New SU buildings abound despite low cash, inflation}

Editor's note: This is the first in a three-part series examining construction and financea at \section*{construction and Syracuse University \\ Syracuse University.

By David Bander}
'There's so much construction going on, I feel like In need a hard hat to walk acroas campua.
So baid a weary Syracuae Univermity mtudent afterhedodgeda Univeraity student after he dodgeda Whecking ball at the late Archbold Stadium, wandered among bric klayers at the Physice Building and avoided falling wood at the-Hall of Languages.
It does seem there is a lot of construction on the SU. campus, but it is really not unusual conaidering what has happened during the past way the udminintration plans, Construction projects will continue. "For the past 20 years, 3 U has pace," said Harvey H. Kaiser, vice president. for facilities administration. Since 1960, E.S. Bird ministration. Since 1960, E.S. Bird Newhouse I and II, Huntington Beard Crouse Hall. Heroy Geology Laboratory and many other struc tures have bean dedicated. A studen mpion building, bowever, still xemains a dram.
In 1960 . Chancellor William Tolley annotnced the formation of the Centennial Plam, a crand cam100th anniversery in 1970 . It fel moth anniversary in 19ro. it fel maised of "paltry" \($ 55\) million.
Tolley had great plans. He had 22 new buildingre in mind for SU. He onw the need for at least 350 million to come from the capital campaign a periodic extensive fund-raising of-fort, to fand projects for the fort, to fond projects
Some of Tolley's plans have yet to be carried out. They include a \($ 1.6\) milion-center for behavicral Mciencea, a \($ 1.5\) million Maxwell Center for Public Affairs and a new building for the School of Architec ture. Tolley also allotted \($ 3\) million for a stadent union building.
Prominent publiahier Samuel I. Newhouse, got the Centennial Cam paign rolling in 1962 with a gift of \($ 15\) million. The gift was to be used eccording to Tolley, for "the development of the world's largest and most advanced study cernter in mass communications.

Replacing the old School of Journaliam, Newhouse I was completedin i964 and was dedicated by in the future was Newhouse II, to

Continued on poge two

\section*{SU painters: Striving to change with the times}

The Arts at SU Painting

\section*{By Rita Giordano}

Editar's noter This in the second part of an eaght-part sertes on the arks at SU. It is a Friday afternoon. The amooth, from an radio in one of the stadion of Smith Hall. An everpresent odor of oils and acrylics hangs heavily in the air, like the phos hangs of past artista, Scores of finfiniahed canvanoes -in abatracts nimitmo painninge vinions bing-and the romare visiona - inne the gades of return. waiting for their creators to footsteps make maaking oanade an abe Wallas actroge the werped, dumty hocar to her easel. Carefully, she aqueeres dots of color \({ }^{\text {s }}\) onto her palette and reatsit on a small, dull sray table which is aplattered with the paint of an in timatable numiber of years of use.

IHe firet peinter enters. Hex
For moment, she is motionlese, etudying the canvas before her. Hers is almost the body of a child, small-boned and fair, hike a toy peraon. But when her bruah touches the canvas, there is a her aruan torches the canvas, there ion replaced by the quiet dignity and intenreplaced by the cuiet dignity and intengity that marks thoge who take part in the creation of the timelesa - the the creation of the

While this artimt belonge to the present, she symbolizes a long tractitiog of pointern at Syracuse
Univertity. The art echool was founded Unore than 100 yeare ago by Johm Fiet

Comfort who alion founded the Mefropolitan Museum in New Yoris City. An this country's first university to granit art degrees,SIJ"s School of Art has been the developing ground of many young painters from this country as well as abroad.
The patha these artigts have taken are many. Those who have become succeasinl painters have emigrated to York countrys cultural meccam, New York City and California. One auch SU alumai is Charles Hfinman, Class of 55. His works have won nationsl and international acclaim. They are featured in New Yorl galleries, ass well an the Everson Museum here in Syracuae.
Oher painting rradaatep have applied their axtistic glinl to exdrich other Fielda. Thoy have made their marke as Lithographers, critice, commercial artists, interior decorators and advertising denigners to nanne a few. The art of painting has undergone many changes duriag itt long history. A look at the past 20 years alcmeshows a civersity of paipting atylea as well as typee of painters.

At SU and elsenthere, the mid to late '50a saw the reign of abstract expresHioniam. Led by such artiets as Jackion Pollack and Mark Rothko, abetract expresuioning wan the frot major movement of American painting to have international impact. The often tartling designts and colors of thede paintern turned the whole art world upside down. This movernent was met With great enthutiamm by arrimets st SH. and continues to be common style today.

However, the dawn of the "60. Cortinumed on pape fow.

\section*{* Women's sports program attempts to define Title IX}

Barbára Jacobs

Jake Crouthamel
momey, but last year's conch did not, abrif an ade quate budiet proposal," Jacobs said. "SU has been very responsive becanse they Want ne to be a money-making teani," she adided.
Louis Walker Ir.* women's Ewim conch, maid the women's swin team has to buy its own batining suita. But, he added, the men's team does not have to buy its uniforms.

However, men's bathing suits cost \($ 6\) while women's cost $18, Walker said. "Bathing suits are not the number one concern, It will happen in the future," he anid.

Dwire said the women's ten-

ain tean
Most of its bouget is used for travel lodging and food, Dwire said. \({ }^{\text {a }}\) However, we would like more money for extensive raveling," he said.
In addition, Goldband said the wamen's volleyball team receives a good budget - more than most other schools eceive.
However, more money could be used to expand travel and weekend trips, Goldband said. Whe would like new uniforms," she acided.
The volleyball tearn shares two sets of uniforms with the women's basketball team and warm-up suits with the rest of the women's uports teams, Goldband said.
Another claune of Title IX sayz, "Scheduling of games and practice time" should be equal. The women's basketball team cannot practice in the afternoon at Manley Field House because the men do. Jouse becaube the men do, women's team practices at 7 p.m. three days a week'in Manley and three days a week in the Women's Building.
The other coaches did notexpress a problem with practice achedules.

Another clawse of Title IX says, "Provision of locker rooms, practice and competitive facilities" should be equal.
Goldband aaid the volleyball courts in the Women's Building are oxcellent. Bat there is no electric scoreboard and not enough spectator roomo, the
In ad
In addition, Dwire claimed the tennif facilites are good suid more courts graded He suid more courta should be a able to play while the terart e able to play while the team practices. "With more courts the team can practice longer."
'Women'
Women's awim and basketball coach said their facilities are sood.
Althongh the clagsen of Tiste IX are stated specifically, the Inw in interpreted loosely.
Crouthamel said SƯ's complisunce depends on the how one looks at Title IX. "If the law-ineans everything between men and women must be exactly, equal, then panic vill start," he said.
Peter Baigent, director of student affairs, baid Trile IX does not ank SU to apend the aame amourt of money on women's sports as it does on men's.
Therefore, Baigent said, SU is in compliance with Title IX because the university, provides opportunities for wormen and allows them to participate within their this is all Thtle IX requires.

\section*{* Construction at SU \\ Cominued from pege onv} houge the SU Prees and radio and televigion facilities. Newhouse in was to contain a major iniormation atorage and mid-cereer training in com-mid-career tranins in com wublic thrary" accitiog to 1064 presis releage. preas releage.
Alchough Newhouge II Nened in the iall of 1973 . Newhouse in bas yet to see the light of day. And it never will. Anfintion bas eroded Newhouse s original gitt and plans for the third building.'
plans for the third buidamg. heureted the alility to build hausted the " Kaiger baid "Since 1967 alone construction conts have doubled."
Samuel I. Newhouse himself insured the end of the plans for the third atructure when he commented at the opening of Newhouse II. "I am pleased to be at the dedication of the second and last building of the Newhouge Communicationa Center."
Another inajor project in the past 20 years was the constzuction of Manley Field House. The stiructure has not only been built, but has aluso gone through a major renovation.
The fund drive for Manley began in 1959, SU's national foothall championsip year, and the facility opened in late 1962. Tha field hovite, named Giancial friend George acra Manley was orioninelly conded to be a football train nuended to be a iootball rain ng facil cour lienthell court bo bict are put in temporaniy.
Abont inve yeare mgo, su decided the btructure courin aupport a Division I baskethall program and set out on a massive renovation project. The renovation was completed just before the' atayt of the 1977-78 eeason. It is atill being paid for, however, as the university owes over $1 million for the new geats that were installed as part of the renovation.
ES. Bird Eibrary in an ex ample of how long it can take building dreama to materializa.
"When I came here in 1942," Chancellor Tolley. Baid at Bird's April 6, 1973 dedication, \({ }^{4}\) I was told we needed a new ligrary

What Tolley termed a "teemingly endless aearch for funds" wat immediately started. The total cont of the project even tually reached \($ 13.8\) million wand a'sigmificant part of that was donated by 1916 SU grad Exziest Steventon Binc.
The breakthrough finally came when George Arents, after whom the sixtik floor is named, assured Tolley that \($ 1\) million would be waiting for the libraxy in hif will. Conatruction on the teventhoys etructuraber an in tinn 1964 and the libxaty openiod for pomeral nee at the bopionning of the fall 1972 sementer.

\section*{Atheism: the challenge in the human adventure alone}

Religious decisions are not the products of intellectual decisions. We do not decide in that manner, we discover what our faith is, each of us, by observing our actions, and by watching our feelings and by our actions, and priorities in life very closely. We all have some sort of faith, never the result of an intellectual decision. It is always a revelation, and it is a revelation about ourselves that comes \(w\).
As secular atheistic humanists, we do not abandon As secular athersimperfect man. As we come into a perfect God for imperfeck man. As wod is either present or religious consciousness, God is either preaent ox absent for us in the commos. There was never a time in my life when I felt cod was present in. the cosmos. © course there is no poamible way or demonstrating the existance
- none

In terms of intellectual integrity, we are all agnostics. There is no definite way of demonstrating the presence or absence of a deity in the universe. The presence or absence of a deity is an experience that we have - a statement of faith. We who are atheists have not abandoned. God. Some atheiste might say that God has abandoned ns , but I would say in my own case that God was never there, and I have had no reason to feel he was, or even should be.
There are definitely concepts of traditional religion that are carried through into humanism. For exam. ple, one must remember that the founding staternent of secualar humanism, namely that a deity does not exist, is already a simple negation of a traditional refigion. Secular humaniam 'wouldn't even exist ka such if it were not a response to the challenge of a traditional religious view of the univerie. But," if a take real-life secular humaninats, one thing that strikes me is that they have almost all carried strices me is that they have almost al carried ferward into the statements that they refer to as secular humanists, moral tenets of the traditional religions. In fact, this is one of the criticisms that can religions. In fact, this is one of the criticisms that can of made of secular humanists, that they borrow much and religion taken from Judaism and Christianity. and religion taken from Judaism and Christianity. Some humanists have been quite aware of that charge. For example, take a book like B.F. Skinner's "Beyond Freedom and Dignity." In that book he specifically and explicity sets out to attiack the religious conceptions of both freedom and dignity and he does have the courage to reject them, and to put in their place the implication of his own brand of behaviorism.- Certainly, the religious community originally conceived of the idea of a portion of naturre in which God was not present, evoling the notion of a transcendant God who was not present in the day-today operations of nature. This allowed for the development of natural science within the context of a Christian culture. In Christianity, God wais placed, metaphorically, outaide of nature as we see it every day, so it became eafe to study nature as a total creation of God. From that it is a short step to a conspletely scientific view of nature in which you dispense with the idea of God altogether. Certainly, humanism has taken over the distinction betwreen the natural. and the supernatural and that distinction is not an invention of secular humanism, but something that emerges fully from the Jewish and Christian West.
Most secular humanists would say that man does not have a goul in terms of the traditional conception that man's soul survives after death. Soul is used as a kind of code word, when I want to talk about you or me outside of our bodies or about particular emotions or the mind in the specialized sense, but when we talk about a moral or spiritual destiny that we might have as a total self in the world, wemight use the word soul to refer to that. It has a more rhetorical significance than metaphysical one.
The notion that a life is not simply a series of happenings, that it is more than a Beries of causes happenings, bhat that a life is also a quest, a journey with a purpose, an odyssey, which is a journey of with a purpose, an odyssey, which is a journey of some spiritual significance, this is what I wous a really call deatiny. This can be recognized across a wide spectrum of beliefs. We would all agree that life wide spectrum of beliefa, We wound an agree that inge is more than a biological phenomenon. I wouldargue that terms like odysbey and journey are humany journey. It is up to each of ug to discover the ways in which our individual lives fit into history.
I think that the most significant challenge of secular humanistic atheism was presented by Bertrand Ruasell in an essay called "Mysticism and Logic" because I think he really apoke for me and many atheistic humanists. The essay presents the challenge of what it might mean to live in a univexse that is empty of all guarantees. The banic challenge of this perspective on the universe is that we are responsible for what we do is we believe in the moral philosophy of free will at all, which some atheistic humanists do-not (such as B.F. Stinner). For such persons who do, however the challenge of secular atheistic humanism is how to act in the world even though they regard the baisic human condition asone of injuatice. Many people-derive-comfort from traditional religion through the view that evil in this world will be puniehed in the next; that after death. there is somehow a rectification of the injustices of this world.
Such comforts are denied to the secular atheistic humanist. Death is a finality, the only possibility of imoortality of other people's memories; therefore, the major chalienge for the secular humanist is to find digrity in the human adventure that does not reat on guarantees given to them by some deity. The atheistic guarantees given to them by some deity. The atheistic
I suppose it would be nice if all more traditionally religious people were faced with that challenge. It might make for a little more sense of degnity, a little more stoicism. Certainly the challenge is there. How do we live with dignity, drama and passion in a universe that doesn't cave about us, and where we could be wiped out tomorrow morning? I think that is a. worthy challenge and part of the growing up of humankind.

Editor's note: This article was prepared from excerpts of an interview conducted yesterday with Manfred Stanley Marfred Stanley is a professor in the sociology department.

\section*{Morality begins at home}
"Face it, if you have to close down every building where marijuana is used, we'd have to close down every buitding in Onondaga County, schools included.?
- Rev. Ronald P. Buckel, drag education counselor and coordinator for area Catholic schools and member of the Syracuse-Onondaga County Drug Syracuse-Onondaga Abuse Commission.
On Monday the Onondaga County Legielature passed a bill which violatea the righte of thousands of Syracuse-area concert-goers.
If gigned by the county executive the bill will make it a crime to smoke any substonce in the spectator area of the War Memorial or posgese alcoholic beverages on its premises without the writton political maneuvering is a dis permission of the War Memorial director.
This unenforceable and disCriminatory bill in the result of a political move by the Democrate in the county legislature.

Supporters of the ban are using appeals to the welfare of the county's youths in a cynical fashion. These "children" argreang used as a political football. The Democrats control the legislature, but the conntiveisecutive is a Republican andEthéextecutive isithe one who would ultipnatilytie:responsible for enforcingi, the law Sincorible for ecutive and the legislature come up for, election this year, the Republicans will lookbad when the law fails to work, as it surely will.

The result of this small-time
pohtical maneuv
Justin Zimack, one of the three sponsors of the bill, said the ban will be enforced at the discretion of the War Memorial management.

What Zimack is talling about is selective enforcement of the ban. A law that is enforced only some of the time is worse than no law at all.

This ban makes a scapegoat of War Memorial concert-goers. It is extremely doubtful adults will be as strict on themselves as they want to be on the county's youths. Can you imagine police frisking the middle-aged patrons of a boxing match?

In addition to being dis. criminatory, the ban is unenforceable. Archbold Stadium had a policy against bringing alcohol to football games. As anyone who ever tried to climb over the trash after a game can atteat, this policy wais Laughable. Nicholas Pirro, Republican minority leader, said, 'T've seen many people in thia room sneak booze into games at Archbold."

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ Thomnes Coffoy editior in chiof}

The Daily Orange Corp.- 1101 E. Adama St., Syricuate, N.Y. 13210. publiahtes The Deily Orarge woukdiys of the acadorifc ywer. Editorial (316) 423-2127.

The director of the War Memorial, Donald Napier, also realizes how futile this law is. He said the law is being "forced down our throats. I don't favor it."

Napier is not alone in this belief. Several county legislators, Syracuse Police Chief Thomas J. Sardino and Fire Chief Thomas F. Hanion have said the same thing in opporing the bill. It makes fittle sense to pass a bill even law enforcement officials feel is unworkable.

The bill's sponsors say they are trying to protect the county's youths. This is the same logic that led people in the 1950 s to denounce the dangerous new form of music known as rocis ' \(n\) ' roll.
"There are aome times when we as parents must tell our children we know what's best for them." Timothy Gorman, one of the bill's sponsors, maid.

This is one case where the legialature's morality should begin at home.
for The Daily Orrange

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DONT MISS TALKING TO THE HUGHES RECRUITER VISITING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMPLOYER M/F

processing 24-48 hours
WIDE VARIETY OF MOVIE & STILL FILMS

\section*{t Popirnters} brought about many changea insociety, and that included changea in ideas about art. Abetract expressionism had become a more and more hermatic discipline; it was a form of painting whose subject matter was painting itself.
Artista began to turn their backs on abstraction. Instead, they looked to their everyday they look for creative inspiration. In this way, pop art was born. Profesaor James Dwyer. a prointing instructor atSUU aince 1948, necalls this period.
"With the birth of pop art, some breathed a sigh of relief. Their feeling was Thank God we're out of that box,' mwyer waid. "Coke bottlea became madonnas; Marilyn Monroe, madonna an Poon. art did not have' the Pop art did not have' the same long-lasting effect on axt as did abstract expressionism. However, the freer, lest inhibited life atyle it represented became the earmark of the 60 s .
According to Dwyer, popart was one instance where art infuenced its society instead of merely reliecting it

The emerging aocial changes and nhifting values of the early '60s nnowballed into the irreverent and revolutionary late '60s. It was a time of youth, and atudents on American campuses, including student artists, enjoyed a sense of power and momentum.

Yet, the mood of the late ' 60 s proved to have adverse effects on many young artists. Dwyer claimed the Vietnam obnfict was largely to blame,
"Due to the war, there wias a great deal of disaffection. Many young people had the bense of being outsiders in their of con country: The " 60 A were bad in a lot of ways. It produced many people with no hope for the future. They didn't hope for the future work for their art.
"Learning is preparation for the future," Dwyer explained jected that. Their feeling was jected that Their feeling was 'We want it now.'
As an example, Divyer told of one young painter he had Cortinued on pope five

\section*{WE PRINT OR COPY}

RESUMES AND
THESES
"Coplen While You Wite" 131 So. Salina St.
474-4222
scrass from Syr. Mall

\section*{SUBDECTE BY TME DOZREMS. TITLES BY THE MMUDRED.}
-HISTORY 'SOCIOLOGY -ART -ECONOMICS PHILOSOPHY -MATHEMATICS -EDUCATION -SCIENCE •HEALTH -SPEECH -LAW ECOLOGY -TRAVEL•POLITICAL SCIENCE -RELIGION -BUSINESS -MEDICINE -ENGINEERING -LITERATURE -PSYCHOLOGY LANGUAGES MUSIC -MORE, MORE, MORE

\section*{SENIORS &}

CRAD STUDENTS A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the Systern and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.
\(\qquad\)
Addres:
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline City & St. & \(=\) \\
\hline 210 & & \\
\hline Man & & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\title{
Combinuad from pope fou
}
taucht" during the "60s. The student's works were quite superficial, with a minimum of effort; pit into them. Dwyer asked him if he thought hewas learning anything to help him with his future.
The young man replied bitterly. "There is no future. There'a no hope for anything." Gradually, the upheaval of the \({ }^{-7} 6\) s disgipated into the present decade. Emotioncharged social issues like the war and civil rights gave way to more diffuse, personal concerns like the economy and unemployment.
This preoccupation with the pragmatic has taken its toll on the achool of art. While. the school continues to grow, out of more than 1,200 art majors only about 75 are firie art painters. Especially in the past five years, there has been a large shift to commercial axt and the learning of more seemingly marketable splills.
Yet in society-at-large, the art world has grown. In New York City, new galleries are constantly opening. The constantiy opering. often musenms are ofen musenms are oftern overcrowded. increased in. its public has increased sophis of art.

However, the number of artists still exceeds the demand. Competition has become keener than ever.
Dwyer has noticed a response ko. this competition among his students. While he says they are not as lively as in the past, their work displays a higher level of polish and technical know-how.
Another SU painting profegsor, Michael Sickler, has also noticed this increased competition. He sees it as a somewhat detrimental factor.

Despite the highly polished images they produce, Sickler asid, "Many gtudents today are, unwilling to put themselves in a precarions position. They are excellent students who take tests' well, but are devoid of the nnique eccentricities it takes to be a painter. A lack of imagiantion and playfulness is key.
"I'm sorry to say it, but a lot of the painting being done by young people is boring."
"TV promotes passivity. Everything is done for you, even your thinking. They (the students) will look at you kind of like you ara a TV," he complained.
Also, Sickier saïd a true artist needs to have had "a rich childhood in terma of experience, and a hungry eye to catch the easily missed." With the touch of regret, he added, "Ufafortanately, we live in a scanning worid.
Still, Siclver aclunowledged That this is not truein all cases. The good painting that is being produced is ortstanding. mediocrity gand between mediocrity and the good samms explained. "Nhere's always good art, but sometimes there'f lest of it." Among these especially there is a special, noticeable quality.

There are two types - the boiet ones and the more boisterous ones. But with both don't question their commitment. They're harder to talk to; you talk to thern as colleagues.
"It's a little arrogant, perhaps, a little elitiat." Sicirler said. "But that is what you need to survive," Dianaka Kyllonen is a senior in the painting program. It would be inact curate to say ehe is a typical pronigit of artis. Sumce the individualized andeaymergly strive to change
one artist is quite lice any other. However, when one speaks with her about her work, one catches a 18 limpse of that special quality Sigkler described.
"Good painters are the ones who work 18 hours a day because they lose track of time," Kyllomen remarked after a long day at the studio. "Creating art means self-discipline, not juat doing what comes eary."
According to Kyllonen, a serious painter is not only concerned with art per se, but with working.

It's like what some great artist once said," she explained. " 'I don't really think of myself as a painter, but sometimes I think I do something like.painting.

Her opinion of SU's School of Art is that it is "basically solid," although, "there are somé teachers who cannot appreciatestyles other than their own."

Yet, Kyllonen added, "It is hard to teach art, and it's hard to learn it, but the hardest part is teaching the right values. That means not just making a pretty picture. It means being concerned with the workability of the whole.
While many art students Way be highly concerned mbout where their ghills will fit in the job maricet Kyllonen is not one of them. "People are too worried about making a living," Kyllonen aaid with a calm omile. It's more important to not just please others. That is just prostitution - it stante your creativity. This is a prejudiced opinion. but if you are concenned with quality. you can't be materialistic

The important thing to me is to get my own private space. It doesn't matter what kind of space as long as it's enough. I can live cheaply. I have done it before," Kyllonen said, laugh ing a bit "Painting is my ma-jor-necessity:"
SU's hiay, January 28, a bit of SU's history returned to campus in the form of an almmni painting exhibit. The show, which will run until February 25 at the Eraily Lowe Art Gallery, features various worlks of 17 SU graduates from the past five decades.
On the day of the opening, a few handred art aficionados milled about the U-shaped art exhibit. The mood was festive, and the gallery buzwed with appreciation for the works of the homecoming heroes.
Many of the visitors were finely dressed, and they chatted casoally as they sipped champagre and nibbled cheese. Others stood reverently before the paintings, studying them with the careful contemplation one reserves for beauty.
Yet the creators of these paintings did not have their beginnings in the elegance of a gallery. Their origins were in large, sparse studios like the ones in Smith Hall, with paintsplattered tables and air thick with the odor of acrylics and oilla.

And like that young woman of Friday aftermoon, they too atood once in silence and simplicty before a naked canvas, in quest of that strange, elusive something called art.

\section*{ENTERTAINMENT SLATE}

BREAKFAST DAILY 7 TOII
\(\rightarrow\) bIG SPECIALS
OMELETTES
FOR LUNCH & DINNER
TRY A HUNERY
HOMEMADE CHILI
AND beEF STEW
COUNTING CALORIES?
TRY OUR CHEF SALAD
LADIES TONIGHT SPECIAL 9-1
WINE & SANGRIA \(1 / 2\) PRICE
VULCANO: झMICARONNI

\section*{University Union}

\section*{Internal/External Chairperson}

Applications are available for the position of U.U. Internal and External Chairperson at the U.U. Offices at Watson Theatre. Applications are due by Fri. Feb. 16 at 5 pm. Call 423-2503 for more information.

\section*{(Priced to beat the others cold with $20-30-40-50 dollars off every car stereo in stock.)}

Prices have been drastically reduced on cassette or 8-Track Tape"Players: some with FM Stereo. In-dash or under-dash players by fampus names like Pioneer. Craig.

Panasonic, Sanyo, Clarion, Jensen anid others. But don't wait or you'll get left out in the cold.

\section*{Mount's water cut off}

A bresk in a pipe that bringe Nhter to Mount Olympus lef Whet to Mount Mynapas len about 8 pro yestexday

Cin polvesperson for the soracure City Water

Departmont maid the damage appeamed to beina 24 inch phpe on Irving Aventie. fowever, the spolseaperson said it would be difficult to eatimate the extent of the damage or how long repaiks will take.

\section*{Speed reading course to close.}

Today in the final day to register for the opeed reading course, from 9 am. to \(4: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in room 240 A . HBC.

A \($ 50\) fee is required for NAS
095 , offered by the Academic Support Servicen. The firsterssion in offered. Wedneaday nights from \(7-9\) p.m. in room 204, HEPC. The course, which rung for six weeks. will be offered twice this semester. The first class meets Feb. 7 . Professor James Vacca will teach the course.
PERM SPECIAL
Including STYEE, CUT AND CONDITION \($ 40.00\) Valus
Otter Excludes Jomm and Tony Leave it to the professionals at

Open Mondays 17-4 446-4810
```

"discriminating styles for mret? 8 womment

```

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{BEFORE YOU PICK UP YOUR DEGREE, PICK OUR INTERVIEW.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EOUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F:-

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON PIRATE PARTY

Thurs, Febs 8, 9 PM. 712 Constock Ave.
"a case of beer for the best-drassed pirate and one for the best-dressed wench. .-

Write for The Daily Orange news department.
Call Jacqui, Kevin, Marsha or Scott at 423-2127.

\section*{You Are Cordially Invited to Two Important Events}

\section*{1. AN EVENING LECTURE BY DR. MANFRED} STANLEY as part of the Hendricks Chapel Ethnics Series, Moral Man and Immoral Society: The Problem of Conscience in the Twentieth Century

\section*{THE EDUCATOR'S CONSCIENCE: FROM PARADISE TO DISNEYLAND}

TODAY, Feb. 7. 8 p.m. - Maxwell Aud.
Resporidants: Dr. James Wiggins. Professor of Religion.
Dr. Burton Elatt. Dean. School of Education.
ALSO

\section*{2 AN OPEN FORUM DISCUSSION OF DR. MANFRED STANLEY'S NEW BOOK}

THE TEGHNOLOGICAL CONSCIENCE:
SURVIVAL AND DIGNITY IN AN AGE OF EXPERTISE
TODAY, Feb. 7.2 p.m. - Noble Rm., Hendricks Chapel
Panelistis: Dr. Robert Daly. Professor of Paychiatry. Upatate Medical Center.
Dr. Stewrart Thau, Chairman. Philosophy Dopt.
Dr. Darrell Fasching. Aesintiont Dean. Hendricke Chapel. Respondant: Dr. Manfred StamProfeazor of Sociology.
tince 1891. And we've grown to becomg one of the the electricst power induxtry more than SEXTUPLING in staff in just 14 vears. Every vear we are adding engineers to our solect professional staff.
11 Enginater*
We offer a unique atmosphere... of and by Engineers. Our partners are all Engineter*. As for lob stability, pur contract commitmenty guarantee you'll be chalienged for Centrally located in Chicago's temous Loow, vou'll hawt caty mecess to the lekefront, culturaf and tantertaincreent cantars and diytumic Wichigen Avencue. And because watre furure, yourll hove Chicago. we'll pay for reiocation expermes. Let's discuss your Meet our Employment Representative on campus on Wednesday, February 21, 1979

(312) 269-2000
SARGENT & LUNDY ENGINEERS SS E. Monroe St. / Chicago, Iltinois 60603

SY-ACLJSE LNVVERSTY BOOKSTORES ART DEPT.

\section*{DRAWING BOARD SALE! 30\% OFF wht coupon}
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
24×36
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
\(24 \times 36\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(24 \times 36\)

DESCRIPTION
Wooden without metal edge Wooden without metal edge Wooden without metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Indestructible Itwt. plastic Adjustible, wooden Adjustible, wooden

Reg. Price .SALE PRICE
\begin{tabular}{ccc}
\($ 7.50\) & \(\cdots\) & \($ 5.25\) \\
13.50 & 9.45 \\
22.50 & 15.75 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
17.00 & 11.90 \\
20.00 & 14.00 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
20.00 & -14.00 \\
32.50 & & 2275
\end{tabular}

Art Dept.

Must be paid for at rear ant counter. Sale ends Feb.
23. 1979
30\% off all Drawing Boards in stock tios. Jewish survinor of tios. Jowish survivor of Auschwitz who makes a living by running a fostar home for the children of prostitutes in a photogenic Perisian neighborhood. Oldest of her charges is a fourtean vesr-old Algarian boy named Momo. Senbeckground of her declining

\section*{2 FOR 1 SALE!}

You'll love living at the top! Special consideration to students! Two Bedroom Apts. \($ 213\)

\section*{compurd from pege orie}
but, the su athletic policy borard is considering educing the price because no home football games will be played next year.
The Assembly also voted to join the American Students Association. The ASA is "a national orgamization of students to lobby on the federal level." anid Larry Beer, SA vice president for university-community relations.
SA dropped out of the United States Student Aseociation last fall because SA felt the organization did not represent SU students" interests.
In other business, the Asgembly allocated \($ 500\) to Assembly allocated $500 to advertise the Monte Carlo Memorial Feb 27 at 4 and 8 Memorial Feb, 27 at 4 and 8 p.m. and Feb. 28 at. 11 anm, and 7:30 p.mn. In return, students will get a \($ 2\) discount on circus tickets for the Feb. 27 thaws tickets for the Feb. 27 Fhaws. and the 11 a.m. show Feb. 28.
One of the shows available One of the shows available for the discount is-Feb. 27 , the same night as the University Union-sponsored Kinks concert. SA Comptroller Dale Cohen said he will try to persuade the circus promoter to change the date of the discount show to Feb. 28 in order to avoid a conflict.
The Assembly zlso approved a proposal to create student problems subcommittee under the administrative operations committee. The committee would deal with frustrated students trying to eolve a problem with the university.
In other action, the Assembly passed resolutions sup porting the university fund paising the miversis fund raising phon-a-thon, opposing any revision of 5.1437 , the congressional bill whicbits opponentis claim infringes in The Anerty.

The Assembly aleo expressed its support for the Truth In Testing bill currently in the New Yoric State Legialature.
Alsö, the Assembly approved Joamme Cohen as assiatant comptroller. In previous years, SA had two assistant comptrollers, but. Dale Cohen aaid only one is necessary.

Joanne Cohen was also elected to the Finance Board The finance board conducta hearings to help decide allocations to student groupa.

Also elected to the. Finance Board Monday were Bill Buins, Lee Kaplan. Jeff Markowitz, Wendy Enatein Abby Helfer Bill Marcus, Ozzie Street, Susan Robenberg and John Schoch.

\section*{PALMISANO TELEVISION}

Sales andispruice 204 Unipn Place B, ESALE ONALL OUNCLAIMED SETS Back & White Portables \($ 39^{\circ "}\) Color Sets
Portables, Table Mociels 8 Consoles $95 \(5^{\circ}\). \($ 95^{\circ \circ}\)

A NEW SHIPMENT ! \($ 77.00\) TO $90.00

\section*{- Eng Touncond}
 U.S. Air Force's Electronic Systerns Division, we take on challenges of worldwide scope in command, Control and Communications. We meet them. It's exciting:

To staff these large scale systemengineering project teams, we want to talk to Electrical Engineering, Computer Science and Mathematics majors.

As for the reasons you should choose MITRE above all the others...-

Think about joining the people who joined MITRE and are glad they did.
Sign up with your Placement Officer for an on-campus interview with a member of our Technical Staff. Also, take a look at our 12 minute color videotape presentation on what MITRE's like.

\section*{MITRE will be at Syracuse University} on February 21, 1979
If you prefer, you can write to us directly at The MITRE Corporation, Coilege Relations, 8879 Middlesex Turnpike. Bedford, MA O1730.

\section*{MITRE}

\section*{Harry Fig}
by Peter Wallace

Sherman's Quest
(000)

by Chuck Wing

\section*{KODAK Color Enlargements}

Order three, one is free!'

Beautiful KODAK Color Erilargements of your favorite snapshots, instant prints, color slides, or KODACOLOR home or office. to order them. And now is the time to order them. pay for only two. The third one is treed pay for only two. The third one is tree Stop in for complete detais, but hurry this special offer ends March 14:

\section*{charge it:}

SU BOOKATOORE CMAMCE mastememarce visa

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

TODAY
Pakistanil lunch will be held from noon-t p.m. today at the ISO. 230 Euclid Ave. \($ 7.50\)
Managemert APL mini-course meats at 3 p.m. toctay in 320 Maxwell.
Su
SU Musical Stage general meet ing and improvisaxion night will be held at 8:30 tonight in Watson Theatre.
Onond
meets at 8 tonight in llick.
meets at 8 tonight in lifick. Pirkt speaks on "Design in East Germany" at 4:30 p.m. today in the design conference room. Archbold Gym basement.
Four-course Franch dinner will be held from 6-7:30 tonight at the Westcolt Cafe, 550 Westcott St \(\mathbf{5 2 . 2 5}\). Non-profit Call 424.9725 . W2. Nom-profic. Cal 424.9725. and tomorrow from \(4: 30-6: 30 \mathrm{pm}\) at the Wornen's Building Gym B. No experience necessary.
Hillel olection petitions are due at 5 p.m. today at the Hillel olfice, Hendricks Chapel.

Free lunch sponsored by Hillel features the movie'This Gate is Open" at 11:45 a.m. today in the Hillel lounge, Hendricks Chapel.
TOMORRO
Hillith memidership meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorty in the Hillet lounge. Hendricks Chapel.
Carnpus Bible Fellowahip Bible study meets at \(7: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). tomorrowHöuse 711 Comstock Ave. Sudying Revelation and future events. Cake sala will be held in the Newhouse ! lobby tomorrow. fucto Club meets at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Arehbold Gym. Informal talk: Poet Sally Weber

\section*{SARA}

\section*{SUNDAY,} FEB. 11
GRANT AUD. 7:30 P.M.

will talk ori "Speaking of Chotees" at 8 p.m. tomoriow in the Nowman Center.

Newman choir rehearses at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 211 Crouse. tomorrow in Newhouse atioumpe. 0 . tomorrow in Newhouse liounge, Oid Chest club metes it E.30 tomorrow thi 336 Smith. New members welcome, regardiess of ability.
Women in Communications Inc. meets at 5 p.m. tomorrow in Nawhouse I lounge to hold elections. Biology seminar: Bertie Argyris from Upstate Medical Center will speak on "Suppressor Cells'in Untreated Neonatal and Tumor-Bearing Adult Mice:" at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Rifle Rifle-range wilt be open from munition costs.sf for the semester.

\section*{NOTICES}

Gordion Bowitaz Anthropology Easay Contest will award a \($ 50\) prize to an SU student for an essay relevant to current interests in anthropology. Essavs due Feb. 28 at the. Hanors Office, 300-1 Archbold Gym. Squash players: Join the SU Squash Club. Call Lorry Shapiro. 474.8108.

SUSKI is skiinglay Peak Vt.. this weekend. For \($ 58\) you get two day us Call 423.3592 from 12-30-4 p.m. through Thursday. Fine NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE 8 EVERYWHERE Bre due at The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adams Sit, by noon two days before publication. Limit announcements to 20 words. Name must be inciuded. Announcements are not taken over the phone.

\section*{\(\longrightarrow\) \\ Write for the \\ DO news desk.}

Call Jacqui, Kevin, Marsha, or Scott
at 423-2127.

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

CLUBMAN SHAMPOO. Conditioner 8. Musteche Whax ORANGE TONSORLAL & SUPPLY. 727 S. Crouse Ave... noxt to \(5 . U\). Past Office 475.
9289. 9289
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: ASSORTED FLANNEL SHIATS 2 FOR \($ 15\) HIGH WATERPROOF SHOES
\($ 39.95\) SNORKEL PARKAS \($ 19.95\). ivY HALL 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478-3304.
1974 Audi Fox Exceltent conditionGreat in the snow. New tires. \(\mathbf{8 2 2 0 0}\) Cell 425-9199 or 471 -0346.
Brand new double bed and frame. Erought new for \(5120-\) will sell for 675 . Call 425-9199 or 477-0346.
SALEI Winter cloarance fup to \(50 \%\) oth SECOND HAND ROSE Vintage clothing (1900's-1940's) 713 S . Crouse Ave.

Original movie posters, lobby sets, and color & Bld sulit, All movies. Call Chris or Carole \(x-6575\) or \(x\). 6693.

AKAI CASSETTE DECK/ Pauso. Dolby, Limiter good shape. \($ 100\) firm. \(\dot{x}\)-2520 Mike
NEW WINTER WOOLIES AI SECOND HAND ROSE. WW II wool army coats. \($ 12.00\). 713 S Wool and kakh

Turntabie for sale: Pioneer PL-1150 semi-automatic. Erand now con, \(423-7642\).

For sale - Martin 3-way Bookshelve Speakers. Excellent condition. 6175/pair. 474-8100
King simp Waterbed-With heazer and Linor are 2 sets of sheats. $150. Can 474-2611 at 6:30.
BARGAN: Special mid-winter deal: Downhill skiing equipmenti Siza-9 boots. 180 tiborglass \(\mathrm{s}^{2} \mathrm{ki}\) 's. bindings. acceptad joel 476-5785

\section*{Wanted}

ROOMMATE WANTED:TO SHARE 3 BEORCOM APARTMENT NEAR ARCHBOLD WITH FIREPLACE 4788188.

Low an money and records thbt aren' wated WE BUY USED BECORDS, Bring them in tor instant cesh. TOD prices paid! cesh. TOD prices paid!
QESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse -472-3235 Mon.-Sat. 1i-6.
Coursselors: Adirondack Boys Camp: 71/2 whs; \(8500-600\) Swimming. SailCraft, fennis, Driver, Office Archpingl. piffery, Softisall. Ttip Leading. 39 Mill Volley Road. Pittsford. N.Y. 14534.

MENI WOMENI JOBS - CRUISE SHIPS .-. FREGHTERS No experience. High payl See Europe.
Hawraii. Australia. So. Americs. Hawaii. Australia, So. Americe.
Career Summert Send \($ 3.85\) for info Career Summerl Send 93.85 for info To SEAWORLD
to. CA. 95850 .
EARN HIGH,MCOME Full. DORt time. At home or at school. Ensy eifing opportunity. no gifinmicks. epllabitiry guarankeod - Derails \($ 2\). tiofunded) STAR SSU Box 272 . istand Park, N.Y. 11558.
WANTED: ROOMMATE: responsible Temald, non-smaker. Liarge 2 bdrm apt. good location. \(8100 /\) month in ci. utilities, turnishod. 422-2252.

PAfK'a halfas block from campus
Call or come to toc Red Hocise) 747 Call or come to the Red House: 747 Comisitock. 423-2711.
Addrassers Wantod Immediatelyll Work at thome - no experience necessen - excellent pay. Write necessany Esexcellent pay. Write Suite 127. Dallas. \(7 \times 75231\).
One roommate wernted immediately. Luxurious Presidential Plaza. Warm. Reosonable. Inedudes mil utities. Walk downiown. 422 -9egs, feave messege.

Dining Servicest Catering Dept. Student Supervisor trainee openimg. Catering experience or strong interest in catering required. Trzinee for the remainder of this somestor, assurfe full Supervizor in Fall 79. Sae John Medden. Dining Services Office. Women's Building before Friday, Feb. 9. Friday. Feb. 9.
Wented quickly: 3 or 4 more girls to Share hotel suite (si2 es. night) For 4487 in we Filling mreak Call 471

Houseboys wanted in exchange for meals at a Comstock sorority. Call Deirtre and Sharon at 478-9742 or \(\times-4204\).
Aoommaze neoded 703 Euclid 4 blocks from \(\mathrm{S} .4 . $ 100\) plus util. S.D Coll Bonnie \(10-5 \mathrm{pm}\) 423-2773
Roommate Warted: Own bedroom, large kitchen and livingroom. 10 minute walk to campus or campus Bob-424-8041 Call either Rick o Bob-424-8041

\section*{For Rent}

12 cubie toot retrigerators for remt. Call Taytor Rental Center.478-0957. Private furnished room. share targe living room, kitchen. etc. Nice people, very close. \(\mathbf{8 5 5}\).3233.
Oubet, ciean, berge, antractive, hall-ol apartment-rest of semester - your own private bedroom - sthare kit chent, LV, bath, 2 blocks 2 campus parking-nicet You'll like itt \(475-9353\)

Apartments furnished, walking distance. One month's security, no 6550.
65mediate occupancy. 637 .

Deluxe two bedroom apt. near University. Washer/Dryer and alt Wifities included. \($ 300\) a month. INy Ridge Apts. Call 425-9199 of 471 - O346.

\section*{Personals}

Rush phi delta theta Monday, Tuesday, and Thursdey 7:00-10:00.

Private Guitar lessons. Chespl call 471-8197.
Twelve chocolate kisses for \($ 1\) (mes sage included). Call AEPHI at 478 . 9142 or x-4204
EJ.- Happy 22 nd \(B\)-day to the perfect toasted simond maker. Hope this one's the best yell Love \(H\).
What are you doing after college? Psy. 400 - Careers and College greduates. a 2 credit course, can prepare you for whar's ahead. prepare you for what's ahead. Archbold Gym or call Acedemic Counsoling Serviee 423-3:50. Limit 25 students.

The Syllabus is tone gone with love and appreciation from your. secret admirer.
Littie sister rush party. THETA TAU, Friday 9 pm, 1105 Harrison Striel phone-x-4301
YEA BOSS, It sa sadiexistence at the S.C.I Life; & "B". We missed you Seturday. . but trey, no troubs- on ys. Ruth and Crisce. !ip side! tow v. Ruth and Crisco.

Todd, where are you and Perry Wayne Butfington? I've looked -veirywhere foryjou. Penelope.

Penelope, is that a cua7 Were in the yame room at the Student Centar. shooting poiol. Todid and Perry.
Stop by the DEKE Mouse Thurs, nite Ind check out our PIRATE PARTY: Who knows, you may find vour traasure CHESTI
FREE HOT DOGS AND BEERI STOP by tonight and watch S.U. bast \(S\) KAPPA EPS: ON Brothery of DELTA CAPA - Tired of roommates? Single available with bathropm. Board included Great location. Hirst corver firs Birdi) 423-2848, \(475-3484\). Ask for Lou, Ken of Jonmthen. .

A new concept in Orange will be here next week. Look out St. Johnsl ALPHA EPSILON PI Congraduetes congratulates it's Spring pledga Class: Peter. Bill. Steve, Mike. Jem. Rob, Cory. Ire. Eric. John L., Gary. John M.. Lee. Howie, Jeremiah, MJG: Who'd have thought that 2 years later we'd still be together. I'm wiling to try for a fow more. Happy anniversary and hope this birthday vears have been tor me. MirB DEKE RUSH LVESI Stop by this week and check US OUT, 712 Comstock Ave.

 "no beer for me thank you, Im "no bee

\section*{Logt & found}

Found Jan. 24. Man's silver ring with black stone. Corner of Walnut and Marshalt. Call Maryann W. 478 9564.

LOST: Bamey. Strepard Lab. mix black tan-chest, white paws, and streak on head. Nights 471-8378.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

ACTION AUDIO IS BACKI ALL STEREG brands. Wholessate prices. Fully guaranieed. Check around then call 478-8667.
Private Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. Also a hr. Pre-licensing classes. ONONDAGA ACADEMY, 476.3995.

Make your SKIS like brand newi Make your SKIS like brand fowl Protessional Hot Waxing by Etdee Waxing Company. Call 423 -09i6. or pring skis to 908 Lawrinson Evenings.
Parties - Experienced DJ's spin your pavorite tunes. Were MOVIN TUNES- offering the lowest prices around-get your party mbvin' - 423 . 7642.

What are you daing after callege? Psy. 400-Careers and College graduates. a 2 credit eourse, can prepare you for what's ahead. Aegister before Fob. 12 at 311 A Counseling Service 423-3150. Limi 55 students. TYPING SERVICE, thesle dissertation, tarm, experienced. teM Selectric. 60C double sppice, after 6. 457-7846. Mrs Jones.
Typing of APJY KIND. Done quickly Regular or technicmi. Call 699-3425.

\section*{He Bury, Sell tr Tracte} Used LP's, 45's, Rock Megarines

\section*{Brind your recorde to ut for cant}

Collections bought Howe calle by appolntment
1,000's of records in stock \(Q\) Most LP's only \(52-$ 3\) A/I reconds guaramenad © We specialize in our-of"print reeords.

\section*{DESERTSHORE RECORDS}
S. Comput Molt 730 S. Crou

\section*{Don't forget your Valentime \\ Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds.}

Avoid the rush, gome down now. 1101 E. Adams S.t.

Final deadline
is Mon.,
Feb 12
by
12 NOON.

\section*{\(\Longrightarrow 1: \quad \mathrm{F}\)}

SYनACLSE LNIVERSITY झOOKSTOFヒS
ART DEPT.

\title{
Dr. Martin's Dyes Sale
}

\section*{Pay for Threo...Get One Free}

\author{
Buy any three bottles of Dr. Martin's Dyes and get one free
}

With this coupon only - while supplies. last

\section*{Page 12}

\section*{Basketball break ends in New York City}

By Joe Grande
What the doctor prescribed more than a week ago for a tired basketball team - a little rest - might be a problem for the patient. A perhapa too well-rested-Syracuse basketball team (18-2) returns to action tonight at 9:30 againat the South Carolina Gamecocks at Madison Square Garden.
Syracuse plays the second game of a doubleheader with Iona and Holy Cross meeting in the opening contest. The mationality ranked Orangemen (7th in AP, 10th in UPI) have not played fornine days (their lant win over West Virginia came Jan. 29). Head Coach Jim Boeheim admith his team needed aome time off but considers the nine-day layoff a bit too much.
"You lose that certain feeling that you get when you play regularly and that practice can't give you," Boeheim asid. "It definitely will be a problem but hapefully we'll overcome it.
Syracuse looks for its 13th straight win tonight in its first Garden appearance since SU edged Manhatappearance gince tan during the 19745 edeason.
If the Orangemen are to register win number 19, they will have to do it againat one of the mation's top coaches. Carolina mentor Frank MeGuire.
"He known the-game as well as anyone and is one of the legends in conching today," Boeheirn maid.
McGuire, the second-winningeat basketball coach in college history, is in hia I5th year at South Carolina where his record in 263-126. Before coming to South Carolina, he conched int to Jouth Carolnar, he and North auccessinuly This is the first time he has Carolina. This is the fir
The Gamecocke have had an "up and down year" according to Boeheim, with loses coming to top-ranked Notre Dame and Illinoin. Clemson halted a four-game South Carolina win gtreak lant Saturday night with 74-64 win over the Gamecocka.
SU will have to contend with a 6 -foot8 all-around forward Cedric Hordges, who is in his first year at South Carolina. Hordges, a transfer from Auburn, leads the Gamecocks with an 18.8 wcoring average and is the top rebounder with 11 a game.
In the backcourt, both captain Mike Doyle and Zam Frederick have 14.8 and 12.9 scoring averages respectively. and 12.9 sconing averages respectively, Forward Tom Wimbush (7.7 average) jims Strickiges in a the front court whale from Furmand a aill start at center.
Syracuge will once again be without the complete services of speedy guard Eddie Moss. Mosa injured an ankle against Siena nearly three weeks ago and Boeheim said the ankle is still giving the sophomore guard a problem. Co-captain Dale Shackleford and Roosevelt Bouie lead the Orangemen in bcoring with 15.5 points a game. Headd round out the Syracuare double figure scorers with 13 and 12.6 point averages respectively

According to Boelhim, tonight'a visit o the Garden will definitely have an effect on his team.
"It's definitely the place to play basketball in the country," Boeheim maid. "And a little bit of tensenese will sure to be there in the early going."
Boehaim is far from over confident as SU invades Now York tomight and heads down the final stretoch of the seacon. We have a lot of worti ahead of us gnd if we think we'll walk over everyone because we're \(18-2\), we hill be in for a rude awakening;" Boeheim gaid.

Atteir a nine-day vacetion. Roosevele Botief and the rest ot the Su beaketbill team will bounce back into action tonight when thay face South Cerotine in Madiaon Square Gartion

\section*{Orange encouraging in Princeton Relays}

\section*{By Rob Harlestan}

In the often-turbulent ocean of Eastern collegiate track and field. Syracuse Uni versity not only shows aisns offloating but also swimaming confidently with the crowd. Evidence of this can be found in EU'e performance in last Sunday's Princeton Relaya. The tueet attracted over 1,400 competitors represening close to 65 colleges and univerwities.
SU's Neil Rosenblad won the classified section of the twomile run with a time of \(8: 58.2\); 12 seconds faster than any time he has run before. It was only five seconds slower than the present team recond bet by Bruce Fishcer in 1973.
The sprint medley team of Doug. Smith, Art Monk, Joe Morris and Ken Heinrich finighed aixth in their event and set a new team record with the time of 3:33.0. Breaking the race a new into splite. Smith ran a 50.7 quarter mile, Monk and down into splits. Smith ran a 50.7 quarter mile, Monk and Morris ran 22.
Meinrich anchored the race with a \(1: 57.0\) half mile.
Monk and Morris also did well on their own. Monk's time of 7.71 Was enough for third place in the 60 -yard high hurdles while Morris finished eighth in the 60 -yard dash. Because of a mechanical breakdown in the electronic timer, no time was available for Morris' run.
Although none of the SU jumpers finished in the finalis, SU conch Andy Jugan said he wais pleased with their performances.
Kim Gillogly barely missed a chance at making the finala in the pole vail when he failed on his third attempt at \(14^{\prime} 6^{\prime \prime}\). Juat last week Gillogly went over \(14^{\prime} 5^{\prime \prime}\) for the first time to break his own team record against Dartmouth and Penn Seate. DeCosta bounced to a personal record of \(46^{\prime \prime} 7^{\prime \prime}\) in the triple jump, but that atill left him a foot-and-a-half short of the triple jump, but that suin iert him a foot-and-a-haif short or the qualifying mark for the finals. Wallie Howard experienced the same disappointment in the long jump as his

The relaye are deacribed by Jugan an a kind of midterm exam of Eautern track with the ICAAp acting an the final exam.
\({ }^{4}\) It gives the coaches a chance to see how the other teams are doing," he saild "Based on the performances here at Princeton, coachea may change their training programs to get their athletes ready for the IC4Am in March.

For the Orangemen, however, there will be no changes since Jugan said he felt hif athletes were moving along right on achedule.
Thin Friday Jugan io taking a handful of rumners to the Wanamaker-Milliose Games at Madison Square Garcien. Included in the pack are Bill Scarbroagh, Chartie Eevier, Mari Stautex, and Kon Heinrich maling ap the two-mile The Orangemen'e next home mont is Sund out tacaingt Se John's and Rochonter at 1:30 p-m. in Manicy Field Howee.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Meal plans undergo revisions}

By Jerry Zremski
Syracuse University meal plans are being revised to keep pricts down, according. to James B. Morgan, director of the. Onfice of ters.

Morgan said although foód prices in the U.S. will go up gbout 14 pertent next year, roomand boaxd at SU

The Un-the-Go and Comquter Plans are being eliminated and replaced by the ew Custom Plan. Morgan said one reason for the change is that many people on On-theches.
Currently, the On-theGo Plan contains 318 punches and the Communter Plan has 195 punches. The Custom Plan will contain 288 punches.
The Custom Plan will cost 8354, \($ 6\) less than the On-theGo flan.
However, the price per punch is higher on the Custom percent higher than last year's \($ 1.13\).

We've solved the major problem with On-TheGo." Morgan sad. Many students were lesing money because punches.
Morgan also said the Coramunter Plan was eliminated mainly for on-campus residents.
"Students living of campus who wrish to eat on cairapuican buy coupon books and eat at Inainly for off-carapus residenta

Morgan said his office will promote the coupons in an effort to get commuters to use thema-Off-campus residents can buy \($ 35\) worth of snack bar as it first was. We"ll juat have coupons for \($ 32.50\), Morgan said. "It all equala out; Morgan said. "I don't think those on the Commuter Plan will be hurt:'

Student. Association had been trying to persuade Residence and Dining Services to open the Commuter Plan to all campus residents.
Last month, a trial program was set up int Lawndsemiors to aign -up for the Cotitarustit Plani. Onily 10 gtudents have signed up.

This doesn't indicate that there's enough interest in the Commuter Plan on campus, Morgan Ebaid.
SA.Vice President for Student Programs. Frank Shazer said, is not reaction to as it first was. We just have to see how the coupon system affects commuters.

Another change calls for the Maxi Plan to be replaced by the Deluxe Plan. The new plan will contain the aame number of guest passes and snack bar coupons as the Maxi Plan, but will also include extra benefits which have not been decided yet.
arave wart to give gitudento momething extra on the Deluxe benefita are a pizza delivery service and free passes for guest rooms, he said.
The two other meal plans, the, Campus and Traveler's Plans will remain unchanged, Morgan said:

We'll be analyzing the new plans to see if they work out. Mons to see \section*{Anti-stadium group files amended suit}

By Annette Licitrs An amended petition was submitted yestexdiay to the atate Supreme Court in a lawsuit by local residents who want to halt construction of a domed atadium on the Richard A. Schechter, the awyer representing more than 40 local repidents and the Home Owners Mobilized for Environmental Safety. filed the petition against the Urban Development Corporation, the Syracuse City Planning Commission and the Onondaga County Planning Board.

SU has intervened on the side of UDC and the city and coumty agencies. Schechter said. Attorneys will be sent "to represent, the univeraity's interesta," he added, noting that \(S U\) and UDC will be represented by the same legal firm.
The petitioners are asking for an environmental impact statement and public hearings Court.

\section*{Mount gets wäter back}

After a nearly beven-hour drought, Mount Olympus residents had their water returned at about \(12 \cdot 30\) a.m. Wedinesday.
A leak in the joint of a water line on Irving Avenue left Mount Olympus without water at about 5:30 p.m. yeaterday When the water line to che Mount had to be turned off:
After the Syracuse City Water Department repaired the leak, the main water line was turned back on at 9 pm.. department superintendent.
'We have to turn the water back on slowly, so it takes a back up." Jravato said.
abont roning and en viornmental ixnpact Schechter maid. The azit ala demands that zoming be voled on by the City Conncil, and that an air quainy permit be oftained from the Dopartiren of Enviranme ion, he added.
angervation, he adided.
These are the minimum requirements of the various ap plicable atate and lecal laws. Schechter said.
The petition does not request a temporary injunction to stop construction of the stadium, but Schechter may oeek an injunction if the university tries to start construction this sprClifford planned.
Clifford \(L\). Winters. SU vice chancellor for adminiatrative operations, and Joseph V. Julian, vice president for public affairs, were out of town and could not be renched for comment.
Oral argaments on the stadium suit are expected to be heard Feb: 27 in otate Supreme

When the watex finally tric kled back to the Mount, it was met with chants of "water. waterl" by Day Hall residents.
The Mount made it thraugh the inconveniemse without any major damage, according to Day and Flint dorm directors. "We had a few minor instances of backed-up toilets, but thet was all," said Rick Therisult, Day Yiall director.
Graham Dining Hall had to resicrt to paper products in place of the usual dining utengils, aaid Edward E. Brigman, Graharn supervisor

We stacked all. the dirty dishes and the morning supervisor washed them th moming," Brigman gaid.

\section*{University makes far-reaching plans for construction}

Ediwhr's note: This is the second part in a threepart series examinitg Construrtio

By David Bauder
Not only in it tough to walk around carapus without buraping into a balldozer, things probably won't change too much in the near future. building plans.

The planning and construction of new campus buildinga is a laborious process. Nothing is done on the spar of the moment.
When university officials feel a now building is needed. they bring the matter to the attention of the chancellor and vice chancellors. The adminiatraterre atudy the matter to determine whether it is really neceasary and predict the likelihood of obtaining enough money for the project. As in most important university matters, the final decimion is left to the begins as soon Ater approval, wor is pledged to pay for the building.
The current budget tightness has no effect on SU's building plans; the university's working budget has no conmection with the capital fund cam. paign.
he budget ham always been tight," facinitiar gey \(\mathbf{H}\) Kaimer director of that's conaidered, but the building plane are independent of the budget. Our source in capital funde.'
With the number of college-boumd studenth prodicted to decrange in the near future, decining enrolliniant is pear finture, dechunge enrolimant is ind plame "Obviounly thered'going to be déclining enrollment in this couptry duriag the 1980a," Kaiser admitted But there's a quention of how much SU is going to suffer from it. SU has been doing quite well in the-past few years. However, if this does become a problem, each
Most atudents are aware of the current major construction projects on campua. The new stadium has been front-page news for over a year.

\section*{Archbold replaced}

The univeraity recognized the need to replace crumbling Archbold Stadium about five years ago. But it had little luck with its utadium plans, meeting with consiatent meighborhood and local government opposition; until the startling announcement this summer of plans to build a domed facility on the site of Archbold.

Curioualy, the stadium seems to be an exception to the university's practice of carefully thought-out planning. possibly because of the sudden in troduction of state aid But the univeraity is meeting with Tenewed neighborhood opposition, which threatems to delay the projected fall 1980 opening, Maxy questions about the stadium's operation, such. 8 parking, have not been answered suf ficiently, for some people.
When completed, the stadium is expected to coet \($ 26.85\) million. New York ptate will contribute \($ 15\) million. state will contribute \($ 15\) milion. Howaver, funds for surt Sil milion mowly. So far, only \($ 2\) million has been plowlyed, andid ony 9 million moreithas been In 1921 , tudentim protested the con. dition of the HFall of Lenger the con-there were rumora that the stracture, builtin 1873, would be condemaned. But t wasn't until 1978 that renovation began. "The Depression, World War II, the influx of new students and the need to accommodate them all took precedence over Hil". Kainer asid. the pant few years and it was decided Thow was the time to do it.'
The interior of HL has been torn away and is being rebuilt froma sćratch. Univeraity officials hope it will be completed in time for the beginning of next permester. Financea have been rumning well for this project: \($ 27\) of the \($ 4\) milkon needed has been pledged.
Four new projects are planned for Syracmae University in the immediate fature. One in the infamous student union building. The others are a continuing education and conferonce center, and facilities for the School of Managament and School of Education. Kainer and shere is no particulay have been examined and all have campaigns going." However, because of the way the campaigns are moving, some are likely to be seen sooner than others.

\section*{Priority One}

The phantom etudant union bailding has long been Na. 1 on many mtudents" gripe lista at SU. Last year marked the poth armiversary of the first etudent protest about the lack, of mach a buiding. Although plans have once agsin been mapped out and a copital campaign matarted, no current SU student, while he's etill a atudeat, will -ver nealize him dream of apending a continued on pape four

The propoued site for the ztuderst union bullidng ot the corner of Univertity tind Wevarty Avenues is still a parifind lot, as It wou last apring when sturdentim.

Hit The Sance EarlyT.G.I.F.

Why not on Fridays?
Every friday is Italian Day at the Student Center.

We serve up the best pasta on campus, for the best price in town.

Hit the sauce early, have lunch at the Student Center tomorrow.

The Student Center 310 Walnut Place

\section*{Marathon appifications are available}

By Linda Trefz
Now is the time to pick upapplications for those who have vowed to boogie away the weekend as a participant in the 1979 Dance Marathon for: Muscular Dystrophy.
The 18.hour dance marathon will be held April 7.
and 8 at Maniey Field House and 8 at Manley Field House.

Applications to dance in the marathon are available at the Greek Councit. office, 821 between 100 and 150 dancers Greek Council office, 821 will participate this year Buts.: Univeraity Place. To \({ }^{*} 160\) is tho absol year. But; participate, couples must be sponsored by an organization. of at least 20 people. The registration fee is \($ 25\) and the application deadline is March 1 :

Marathon coordinator Flip point," he added.

Fund raising can tat for \(2^{1 / 2}\) weelco bean take place. 19. Couples beginning March \($ 150\) to bes mnst raise at least. prizeg be eligible for any of the prizes awarded at the end of the marathon.
This year's mastera of ceremonies are seniors Scott Klein and Rick Burton.

Extra Color Prints or Slides...
(NO NEGATIVE NEEDED)

If you've ever wanted extra color prints or color slides of your favorite Instant prints or conventional color prints, now is the time to get them No the time to get them. No need for negatives. Just need for negataves. prints with this coupon, and for every three color prints or stides you order from your same-size instant or conventional color prints Kodak will make you a fourth copy freet Bring this coupon in today for full details. But hurry this offer ends March 14:

Look for the Daily Orange's continuing series on

in Friday's DO

\section*{ABOUT 900 STUDENTS}

WILL BE STUDYING ABROAD WITH SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY THIS YEAR YOU CAN BE ONE OF THEM.

LONDON: Fine Arts, Studio Arts, Drama, British History, Political Science, Literature, Architecture, Photography, Televisión-Radio, Advertising, News and Teacher Education.

FLORENCE: Italian, History, Fine Arts, Humanities, Political Sclence, Soclal Science.
MADRID: Spanish, Lherature, Fine Arts, Anthropology, History, Political Sclence, Social Science, Public Communications.

STRASBOURG: Fronch, classics, German, History, Fine Arts, Religion; Political Science.

AMSTERDAM: Dutch, Anthropology, Fine Arts, Soclal Work, Social Science, Economics, History, Human Development, Management.
MEXTCO: spanish, Geography, Fine Arts, Anthropology, Political Science, Literature

\section*{Applications shotila be in by} MARCH 1st.

Division of International Programs Abroad 335 Comstock Ave. (Corner E. Adams) 423-3,471

\section*{Title IX: still reaching for equality}

SU's women'e crew team changes for practice: in a boiler room that lacks showers and toilet facilities

Our women's swimineam must ásk ite members to pay for their own uniforms The swimsiuits, cost about \($ 16\).

Mombers of the women's volleyball team, however, don't even have then own uniforms. Ney are torced wonnis wo sets of uniforms with the womenta basketball team, and, warm-up suita have to be passed aroundts on wornen's sports teams.
players on women b sports teama,
SU men's sports teams, with a total SU men's sports teams, with a total budget estimated at \($ 1\) million, have budget estimated at $1 milion, have adequate locler room - facilities; uniforms are paid for by SU, and the teams are provided with adequace funds for traveling to away gamea. The SU men's basketball team can even arford to hire an electrician to coordinate the music at its games. But the Women's athletic budget of \($ 115,000\) is too scarce to even provide the wownens crew team withits own oars. Theymu

Federal law Title IXrequirest that "equal athletic opportunities provided for both men and women in collegiate sports. Although the date for compliance was last July, it is obvious SU does not provide its women athletes with facilities, equipment, or financial opportunities equal to its men's athletic program.

Ore of the reasons for the enormous gap. between men's and women's athletic opportunities is of course the difference in budgets. According to Jake Grouthamel. director of men's intercollegiate activities, most of the money for men's sports is gathered through football and basketball ticket sales. Although this season, for the arrat time, admiagion will be charged at it will be yeare before any women's will be years before any women's team can become selfreupporting. For, as one. women's coach pointed out, womens sporta have no history - up unwirecen, hey hava been largely suore mater will taken s spors of fegendary fame ill take a long Men's teams are continually given priority over women's in areas besides funding. Players on women's teams do not compete with men's teams for prac tice time and space; they are told the men's schedule as a given" and then are forced to work around it. While the men's basketball tean holds its practice sessions in the afternoon, the women's team has to hold practice before classes at 7 a.m. The women's crew team has to practice at 6:00 a.m. while the men's team can practice in the afternoon.

The biggest barrier to be cleared by women's sports is attitudinal. Despite the apecific provisions stated in Title IX, they are interpreted vaguely. Peter Baigent director of student affairs, feels that SU is already in compliance with the law since the univeraity provides opportunities for women and allows them to participate within their seope." Baigent's remark exermplifies a widespread attitude at SU that the scope of women's athletics is very limited.

However, women's sports are not limited in talent: the women's basketball team, for example, han won every game but one this season, and the women's swith team sports four All American swimmers. They are limited inderrecognized and are not asgigraed the same status as the men's teanng.

And withont adequate funding and acilities, the talent of our women athletes will be discouraged and they will not be able to achieve the gtatus they degerve.

Sy Montgomery for The Daily Orange

\section*{A testament of faith: one man's personal odyssey}

All cultures share accounta of religious experience, that are remarkably similar. The person, on a remarkably similar. The person, on a quest, has a revelation and is quest, has, a revelation and is the road to Damascus, it happened to Prifiè Boinie in thie widerness of Kentucky. Always it is unexpected by the person and later it is doubted by others he will meet.

Taking a year off. between his freshman and sophomore year John Glass was traveling somewhat aimlesshly through the Mediterranean wheri he says he had a relisious experience. His account, in his voords, is printed below.

Of his experience he says; "It is not a religion, it's a pertsonal relationship with God" For him the revelation was not "A bolt of lightring" but rather "A peace inside my doubts, but there's onlyoner'd havemy doubts, but there's millions of us...There's an internal milions of \(u s\) security." Az
\(\dot{S} \dot{U}\). The says, there is a security."At SU he says, there is a "perpetual complaint" and no one is serpetual
He realizes people may be skeptical II think people are scared of Jesus he has told at least 50 times to various ke has told aist ast so time Lo various ky. After. listening, many have-said, ky. After listening,
He seems all lit up.

I've always thought I was the happiest person in the whole world. Life to ne has always been the greatest, My childhood was dream-like. Although I was born in Paris and was raised in Switzerland, which is atill my home to this day. I have the neatest family, and we allget'along really well. I've always had tons of friends, and my travel opportunities hrave ahmost been limitless, living in Europe. T've also had great opportunities with language. Almost trilingaal at age 15, I've loved school with a passion since 1 can remember. My dad, havirig been a jazr pianist at one time, also helped me enormously with Yy music ability and piano playing. Yes 1 really waa a happy person. Religion? Well ... I went to Ghurch as a Kid, but never got into the for some reason, but that was about it. As for my goals in life, I never really knew what I wanted to be later. As a freshman living in Fhint Hall, this idea about my future began maǵnifying itself in my mind. Although it was great fun, college hit me like a lead brick. Here F am! Now what? Majors? What'a that? I was a bit scared and a bte worried.

I tried forgetting about it. Instead, I tried my first joint and deciaed 1 liked I felt as though i was rushing into college a bit. So, at the end of that first Year, I decided to take a year off. I went hoone to Switzerland and one month later took a back-pack with 15 pounds wherever, in search of whatever I conld find.

For the fifst month I went from Switzerland across Central Europe into Eastern Europethrough Hungary, Romania and Yugoslavia on down into Greece. I decided I needed a palm tree on a beach to think! I stayed on the Greek islands about five week. ThereI Gree, living the life of a king; I had was, hiving the life of a hing; I had everything I had always dreamed of having - friends, freedom and a tan! Yet I felt totally unfulfilled and and Yet I felt totally unfultiled and lonely, other travellers. I needed a job.
1 flew to Israel and went to a inibbutz to: do yoluntary work. Three weeks later; I was tired of picling olives at 4 in the morning. I atayed in Inrael almost two monthes. It is a beautiful country,

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Thomat Coffey} oditor in chiet

 2314 but there was atill sornething missing inside mae. I didn't have peace, I was restless:
So I plowed on forwand. I headed for Istanbul in Turkey. I felt I needed a change in my life. I found an old bus that took me on-a six-week ride from Turicy to India passing through Iran, Afghanistan and Pahistan. I didn't exactly know what I was doing or what was happening to me. For the first time, in Afghanistan I saw poverty and disease: mutilated, crippled children begging for perhape their only meal in three days. It was here that I also began getting a bit more involved in the drug scene. But above all, I aaw anf abundance of total aimlemaness hundreds of young people like myaeif, looking for answers. I wanted to help, but I couldn't: I had nothing to offer.

Once across Pakistan, we arrived in India. Although I was intrigued and fascinated by the country, I really wanted to 80 home because it wan hard to face all this dedpair. Yet I knew this was kind of running away from the problem.
Finally, the day before I was to leave, I met a 20 year-old Christian missionary on the etreet. I invited him for a Coke, and we tallked. AI we tallked, he finally asked me if he could show me just one verse in the Bible. Reluctantly. 1 agreed.
He showed me one verse. John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Fim shall not perioh, but have eternal life.
It was very clear to me from this verse that I had e choice here. Either I oternal life with Chriat. Althourgh I couldn't fully understand this, I knewit would be abaurd to perish if \(I\) could have eternal life. I began to feel a tremendous struggle inside, but I knew what I ahould do. So, right then and there, on that sidewaik in New Delhi, India, I prayed and anid," Jesus, if you" are real, come into may heart and give me eternal life.
There was no thunder and no bolts of lightning in the sky, but as I walked way, I knew aomething significant had happaned. A peace of heart-I had never experionced before just filled me. In fact, I immediately wanted to tell others how they could zeceive Christ. The next day, thirsty to know more, 1 actually joined the missionary group. For the next month, ws a desire to know God better grew within me, I began to read the Bible and found that the words jumped out at me. It wasn't just a dull book anymore; the truths about God and Jeaus Christ were real!
I also immediately felt a deep concern for other people and learned that concern and love are not always taking, that which I was used to, but giving of myself to otkers, expecting nothing in return.
Mylife was changing! At that point, I had literally been getting physically ill from the two packs of cigarettes 1 was smoking daily. God, however, soon completaly took my deaire to bind to stop emoltirg had failed previously!
Ifelt, for the first time also, a new direction in my life, a real purpose. The aimlesa young people I had wanteid to help conia now be helped. When I saw heroin addicts cured overnight because of Jeans Chriat, I couldn't help but poncer in awe!
All I undergtand was that my life had been changed becauee I knew I had a pertonal relationship with Jesur Christ-God had made a difference. Today, two years later as a senior at SU involved with Campus Crusade for Christ, the mostimportant thing in may thanisfor Iowing veaus Chriat. How portanities I have had - living overaeas, speaking many languares, traveling extengively, having musical abilities and an education millions of people deaire but cannot have. But, as I look at may life today, I wee that all theee thing in no way can be compared to knowing Jesus Christ Lirethe Arontle Paral eatid in Philippianat \({ }^{\circ}\) T cotunt \({ }^{11}\) thase thinger . . . but ynblinh. . .in vien of the surparting value of lmovings Christ Jeaur may Lord." Phil. 3:8.

\section*{Valentine's Day is special} for lovers at
The Good Food Slyore
Buy 55 worth of food \(&\) win a chance at a raffle for a heart filled with natural candies.
Drawing on Feb. 14th
Cupid will be at the store on Feb. 14 th to give FREE samples of etrawberry honey ice crearn.
For all you homeys.
T-Sac. 10:30-5:30 318 Waveriv Ave. 423-3594

\section*{Copies and Rapid Duplicating}

\author{
-Cleanest copies in town -Fast \\ -Reductions \\ -Large documents \\ -Volume discounts and \\ -Competitive prices
}

\title{
< \(/ \mathrm{l} / \mathrm{B}\) \\ TIIHE CAMBERM \\ 320s EAIE BLVL EAST DEWTT. NEW VOPK 1 13ei4
}

Hrs. 10 am- 7 pm
Sat. \(10 \mathrm{am}-4 \mathrm{pm}\)
Phone 446-0290

\section*{Coming...}

\section*{to Watson Theatre}

Feb.16,17,23 & 24
Promises, Promises

\title{
The First Meeting of the SENIOR CLASS COMMITTEE
}

\section*{will be held at 4:30 this Sunday in Rm-320, Maxwell}

The committee will deal with various business items that concem the sanior class including the Union Building Project and Commencemēnt speakers. All interested seniors are welcome. Call 423-2650 if you cannot attend but are interested in participating.

\section*{\(\star\) Plans bontinued}

Frusting Frestration hat been he compaters ever ginos that first provestars aver in the demonstration in the pre Depreation days, In tha 30 year period berore the 29608 , porary mion buildino but porary waion builing but none lasted longer than five
Opti
Optimiam ran hifh whein the 1960 Centenminl Fandlisted a student center aś a goal. But list of oirh priorities Whan hot of enght priorites. When not enough money was raised, the plank were pit anide. In 1969 a gronp of prominemt 1909, a group of pirimiocts drew up plans for uncion, but the blueprints wene union, but the blueprints wera. never acted on an become outdated.
become outdated
New plan: hava been made for the building and Chancellor Melvin A. Eggera last November made a formal pledge to build the union as goon ás the domed stadium is completed.

I want a stadent union building more than you do, if you can believe that," Eggers told ratudents at lant enmester's Univertity Senate Open Forum.
But, at Kaiser said, the student union building "doesn't appear to be" at tractive to a major donor." Currentiy, only \($ 405,000\) has been raibed. The university has said it needs about \($ 8\) million. lt's going to take a lot more money from alumai to tarn the parking lot at the cormer of University and Waverly gvenues into a student center.

UC to get building
The propased continuing education and confereace center, monviled last summer at the anme time as the nowstadiura, will conaolidate the activitios of University College. "It doemn't met very effectively in it scattered locationa," Kaiser said. The center is expected to cost \($ 6\) million and will be btilt adjacent to the stadium.
Plams have also been drawn up for the new school of Managerient building. It is expected to fit neatly into the spos between Crouse College and E.B. White Hall. The etart. ing date for the \($ 4\) million building is also yet to be anbounced.

Further down the line is a replacement building for the School of Education. However School of Education However no money. has been rained Ten years in the future, Kaiacr, san. construction still taking place on campur. It is the soan of the university to piace all oxita academic units in permanent atructures and consolidated of tochons. Thotil ane a number ot tohoals still dieperaed in to be to touch joh Th realize this goml. Would be quite en schicyoxneme
"We don't bave any exeat vimionary scherne. Just a lot of haird worl that hate to be done." Kinier added.

Eithor way. it appears the: hard hat is gocnit to rempion a coramon sight on the Syracuea Univermity camptis.

Tomorrabe the-last part of the ervep will examine SU' four find-ratining atrategith.
- wep pint on copy RESUMES

\section*{AND}

THESES
"Coples Whise You Wietr" 131 So. stipu st.
474-4222
merost from Syr. Minill

Read KALEIDOSCOPE every Friday in the DO

\section*{}

\section*{Want to be a CAMP COUNSELOR?}

Spend your summer in Camp Equinunk or Blue Ridge, a brother-sister camp in the Pocono's.

Openinge in field sports, watorfront (with WSI). whtar-ski, tennis, gymnartics. pioneering. natura, science. radio broadcasting, music, archery. art \(&\) crefte, dramatics and general.

Stop in or call THE PLACEMENT SERVICE, ask for Joan Snyder, and aign up for an ON CAMPUS INTERVIEW On MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19 , from B:46 until 4;46.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON PIRATE PARTY

"a case of beer for the best-dressed pirate and one for the best-dressed wench."

The Monk in the World: Buddhist and Christian Perspectives on Thomas Merton, Trappist Monk. THE JOURNEY EAST TONIGHT, Feb. 8, 7:30 p.m. Community House 711 Cornstock co-lead by Chaplain Louis Nordstrom and Assistant Dean Dartel/ Fasching. A Program of Hendricki Chapel

What does it offer you?
- a semester of stuciy in isroed in the fal term
- coursework in English on the politica, economic and socia deveiopment of tsroel and in its language. history and archoeotogy
- a strong progran of Hebrew languoge stucty
- importont internship opporturities in socid service agencies in Jerusciem
- field trips, stucty trips interviews with prominent isroettsra kibbutz visit
- financid cid is availatie

Applicution decoline: March 15
For further informotion see your Study
- Abrocd outsor or withe:

Otfoe of internationci Arogrorns
Brandels Lirkersty

 ocimbos.
\(\div\)

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{Sherman's Quest}
by Chuck Wing

by Peter Wallace

TODAY
Women's rugby team practices from. 4:30-6 tonight at women's. Guilding Gym B. No experience necessary.
Jewrish Women. a group to explore issues affecting our lives, meets at 7:30 tonight at the Bayit, 113 Concord Place. For details, call 474.1060.

Public Reletions Student Socleyy of Amperica meets at 8:30 tonight in the Nowhouse ileunge. Speaker.
Below. Brewster/Boland"s coffeehouse. Come and listen Molson on tap. Come and listen Hiltal memberthip meets at 7:30 tonight in the Hillel lounge, Hendricks Chapel.
Compus Eible Fellowship Bible study meats at \(7: 30\) tonight in the library roam. Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. Studying revelation and furture events.
Cake sele will be held in the Newhouse i lobby today.
Judo Club meets at 7 tonight in Archbold Gym.
Informal talk: Poet Sally Weber will talk on "Speaking of Choices" at 8 tonight in-the Newman Center. 7 tonight in 211 Crouse.
UUTV meets at 6:30 tonight in the
Newhouse I lounge.
Newhouse I lounge.
Chess Club meets at \(6: 30\) tanight in 336 Smith. New members welcome, regardless of ability.
Wormen in Communications Ine. meets at 5 tonight in the Newhouse tounge to hold elections.

Biology seminar: Bertie Argyris from Upstate Modical Center will speak on "Suppressor Cells in Untreated Neonatal and Tumor-Bearing Adult Mice" at 4 p.m. today in 1 R Lyman.
Rifito range will be open from 7:30-10 tonight. Ammunition costs 86 for the semester.

\section*{TOMORAOW}

Italian Club meets from 6-8 p.m. tomorrow in Community House; 711 Comstock Ave. \($ 2\) per member Mualim Friday prayers will be held from 7-1:30 p.m. iomorrow in the Noble Room. Hendricks Chapet. The Bombsholter has music and wine Fridays from e:30 p.m.-midnight in the Hendricks Chapel basement.
Mini-clams on "What Catholics Believe". will be held from \(12: 50\) 1:45 p.m. tomorrow in the dean's of fice. Hendricks Chapel. Instructor Father Charles Chemistry colloquium: Geraldine Kenny-Wallace from the University of Toronto will speak on * Picosetcond Spectroscopy and Dynamics of 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in 303 Egwne.

Celebration, a new publieation aimed at the exceptional and extraordinary reader, will meet at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the $haw loft. For details. call Hilery at 474-9973.
Minority onginetring program tour "A" of a local corporate facility will be held tomorrow. Cars will leave the Slocum/Sims plazs at 9:30 a.m. and wilt return at 2:30 p.m Register in 273 Link or call 423 4419.

Jazz and country rock will come 10 Two Below, Brewster/Boland's coffeehouse. Molson on tap.

Fine arts lecture: John Onitans from the Univeratity of East Angtia. witl spesk on "How to Listen, to Renaissance Art \({ }^{-\cdots}\) at 4 p.mi tomorrow in 227 HBC.

\section*{NOTICES}

Gordon Bowle: Anthropology Contest will avard a \($ 50\) prize to an SU student for an assey on current interasts in anthropology.-Essays due Feb. 28 at the Hormors Office. 300-1 Archbotd Gym.
Squash players have berier ball control. Call 474-8108 to join the squash Club.
Dendine for sU greduete Hownhip applicationa is Feb, 15 ar 10 Steele. Call 423-3503.
Man's intramural squash and padminton tourmaments entry tramural Otfice. Archbold Gym. Community Darkrooms color photograply course begins Feb. 12 for three weeks on Mondays end Wednesdays at 7 p.m. Black-andwhite experience required. 520 fee. be prepared to spend \($ 30\)-for materials. CD members only. Call 423-2450.
Seniors and gred tudente may be eligible for N.Y. City- Urtan Fellows Program for next acaderfic year, \($ 4,800\). stipend, choice of by Feb 15 at Financial Aid Dffice. by Feb. 15 at Financial Aid Office. Studentiz froen ExS 640 ere.exBuilding through Feb. 16 .
Requestas for axemption from the mandatory titudent heath foo for his semester must be filed by Feb. 15 at the Health Center, 111 Wavarly Ave. Married students with children. area commuters and special programs students may be ligible.
English majors may be elligible for English department scholarahips. Must have acedernit and fintncial qualifications. Apply at Dr. Patricia Goodys onice, \(300-14\) Archbold Gym, before Feb. 15. Daadine Fob \(7-74\) is Aplictan is March 2 . Fob. 7-18 is Am PLEASEI The wek PLEASEI The Daily Oranke will not print announcerrents in thif column uniess the sonder includes NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE A EVERYWHERE are due at Tha Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adams St. by rioon two days before publication. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. Limit announcements to 20 words. No aninouncements art taken over the phone.

\section*{Corrections}

The Black Celestial Choral Ensemble's concert will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 25, not Feb. 18 as was reported in Tuesday's Daily Orange. Admisrion to the concert at the Civic Center is \($ 4\) in advance, Civic Center is \($ 4\) Thephoto of Roosevelt Bowie on page 12 of yesterday's \(D 0\) on page 12 of yesterday's DO was taken by Glen Eliman. The photos on page 2 in Yeaterday's DO were taken by
M. Erica Dankoff.

\section*{Something New For Saturday Nights... .}

\title{

}
"... a bite of (wie Big Apple in downtown Syracuse."

\section*{S.U. STUDENTS, CELEBRATE OUR OPENING WITH US :}

GMixed drinks - $1:25
"Ice Teas" - $1.50
217 South Salina St. Onondaga Plaza (lower level) 422-3500
R. 8 - Simpressions

T-SHAT WORLD UPSTARS
171 Marshall St.

Any 100\% cotton-
Regular or French cut And plek up a FREE T-SHIRTCARD. Buy 6. get odo FREE R 8 Imprestions 474-2028

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{Wanted}
 apt., pood locmion. \(1100 /\) month inh I. utilities, turnished. 422-2252

Counseform: Adirondack Böve Carmp: 71/2 wks:-450-8550; Svifming. Sailing, Carweing. Camperaft, Alr chary, Craft Tennis, Driver, Otfiee (typing). riftery, Softoall. Trip Leading. 39 Mill: Valley. Road
Pittsford, NY 14534 .

MENI WOMEN JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS, No experience SHIPS FREGGWIERS. Wo axperience. High payl See Europe. Hawan, Aus
tr tia, So. Amprica: Winterl trella, So. Amern Sume \($ 3.85\) for info. to SEAWORLD BH. Box 61035, Sacto. Ca. 95860 .

Low on money and records that tren't warted? WE BUY USED HECORDS, Bring themin for instway cesh Top prices onidl DESERTSHORE 730 S . Crouse 472 . 3235 Mon.-Sat. 11-6.
Orie famiale roommate wanted immediately. Luxurious Presidential Plaza. Warrn. Reasonable. Includas 9899. leave message.

Houseboys wented in exchange for Deirdre hnd Shtron at 478.9142 or \(\times-4204\).
ROOMMATE WANTED: TO SHARE Y BEDROOM APARTMENT NEAF ARCHBOLD WITH FIREPLACE. 478 8188.

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full. Daït sime. At home or ot school. Ensy sercitim opportinity no mimmiciscilimpupporturuty no gimmicks; (rafunded) STAR SSU Box 272 . laland Perk, NY I1558. 212.

\section*{Personals}

Rugh PHI DELTA THESA MOnday. Tuendey. and Thurectay 7:00-10:00 in your family 7007 Well, we hood you hime eqcod ono. Remember, in your schoot stick to the books cause. soon you'tl be prosecution crooks. Your frienct: Mara and Hughie.
To all the giris who "shovered" me on Sunday. It was beautifull Thank voul Love, Sedie. The ALMOST married tady.
Somathing speciat is coming for the St. Johns garme. Watch for itt LITTLE SISTER RUSH. One righm only. Tuestiay 13, 7.10 pm at PH
DEAR WOOLIY-HRnpy Fifteenmonths. I hope we have many more, also Happy Valentines Day. Since I won't be home, for it you "ll have to make it up to me this weekenid. LT.T.S. Kevin.
DEKE RUSH LUEST Stop by this weok tind check US OUT. 712
Comstock Awe.

PIRATE -PARTY TONSGHTY 712 Comstock Ave.

Someonë thould crush the Orange Crush show. Wretehed.

Triod oil roommetes Singie avilable Greft bathraom kionich included. Grwet locetton Fift come, firzt Bing̣) 423-2848, 475-3484. Ask for Low, Ken or Jandetran.
Only $1. 1 dozen chocolate kisses delivered by AEPHI anywhere on North Campus. Call 478 -9142 or \(\times\) 4204.

RON - Happy birthday to the best friend we could ever havell T. BiA.
Private Guitar lessons. Cheapl eall \(471+8197\).

Lirtle sister rush garty. THETA TAU Linie sigter rush party. THETA TAU, Friday 9 pmi. 1 ios Harrison Street. phone - x-4301.

Penelope. when it's cold outside. why not come to where it's warm. cozy, and invition-my pisces, tonighe? Todd.
Todd. I'd lowe to. See you at the Student Center as wsual. Penelope.
MJ-Two vears have gone by and two people have grown. I have grown more in tive past two years than is of youl Love-M.
"Ice Tea's" at the curtain cally Sat. nite S.U. debut. Onordaga Plaza tower level. 422-3500 Free Parking.
Lix, curtain call makes it's debut this Saturday. Meet me for some "Ice Teas": John.
Siltybean. vour 3rd personall Happy 21 st to ore of the greatest peopie thenxs for everyining end don'i get roo wasted at your party Saturday too wasted at your party Saturday nighr. Love ya: SDZ.

Dear Jils-Happy 21 st your legal nowl May this year and the years to follow bring atl your wishes, dreams andfantasies! Love ya. Linda Bianca. and Sandy.

\section*{Services}

MCAT DAT Claskes will becin early Feb. Ht Syricuce. To enmbli cesil 451 2979.

You graduating soon? Here is a 2 credit course to help vou get thase extra credits Psy. 400 - Careers and College Graduate Repister at 31 I A Archbold Gym or call Academic Coursoling Service before Fetb. 12. Limit 25 students Make your SKiS like brand new Professional Hou Waming by Eldee Prolessional Hot Waming by Eidee Waxing Company. Call \(423-0916\), o Ering skis
TYPING SERVICE, thesis, dissertation. term. experienced. IBM Selectric. 60 c double space, after 6 . 457-7846. Mrs. Jones.
Skiers attention:-Complete ski and bottom repair. Fill gouges, sharpen edges, old fashionMot-Wax, and bindings lubed. $9.00 Also making old bottoms brand new my speciality Cell 474-9969.
Daily Orange Clsesified Ad Insertion Procedure: Deadline 2 Eusiness days before the issue vou wish the ed to appear by 2 p.m. Charges: \($ 1.65\) min. charne ( 15 mord or jess) 5 c ma. word thereafter. 54 in

\section*{HERE I STAND}
S.U. faculty will tell their story and field questions

\section*{"Cheating at Syracuse University" TODAY}

Feb. 8 - 12 noon
Noble Room". Hendricks Chappl Featuring: Arthur Deecon Math Dept. John Mclotyre. English Degt.
Cocrdinazed by Crimptain-insern Laine Hawnhurse.

\section*{For Sale}

FERMO CARESSE SHAmpoo and Conditioner. ORANGE TONSORIAL $ SUPPLY. 727 S. Craume Ave. next to S.U. Post Office. 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WTTH THISAD: \(140 Z\). DENIM FLARES $10 ASSORTED SWEATERS \($ 10\) S.U. JACKETS S10 \(\underset{478 \text { HAL }}{\text { M }} \mathbf{} 738\) S. CROUSE AVE.
ZORBA'S Mas Gront Piaze or Hot Subs with Lots of Mozzarette Cheese Subs Winh Lotsoi Mozareilscheese 5075.

NEW WINTER WOOLES aK SECOND HAND ROSE. WWII wool army coats 15.00, army wool and khaki pants © 12.00713 S. Crouse Ave.
ACTION AUDIO IS BACK1 ALL STEREO brands Whoiesple prices. Folly guaremteed. Check arpund then cell 478-8887.

King size Waterbed - With heater and Liner and 2 sets of sheets. \($ 150\) Call 474-26I I at 6:30.
perfect dorm size stereo turntable receiver unit with 35 watt speakers. $100. call 425-0627 SALEI Winter clearance (up to 50\% ott SECONO HAND ROSE Vintage elothing \((1900\) s-1940ss 713 S. Crouse Ave.
AKAl CASSETTE OECK/Pause. Oolby, himiter good shape. \($ 100\) tirm X-2520 Mike

\section*{For Rent}
-2 cubic foot refrigarators for rent. Cill Tavtor Pentsl Center. 478-0957 Apertment furnished. walking distance. One, months security. no lease, immediate occupancy. \(637 *\) 8550.

FEBRUARY RENT FREE Avaikable immediately furnished singte-share immediately furnished single-share Coed. watiking distance. 471-6938 Furnish Room's, Clean. Warm, Kitchen and bathroom fecilitiess 112 Comstock Ave. 5100 month. Call 475-791.1.

\section*{Lost & found}

\section*{LOST: Barnay. Sheoard tab. mix} Glack tan chest white paws, and straak on head. Nights 471 -8379.
Lost a navy blue gerry down jacket at AEPie Casino party. Call Carol at \(423-7754\)

\section*{Don't forget}

\section*{your Valentine}

Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds.
Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101 E. Adams St.

Final deadline is Mon., Feb 12. by 12 NOON.

GYancluse unversioy EOOKSTOReS

\section*{Finest Sable Lovers Special:}

\section*{The one and only Wilnsor & Newton} Series 7 Säble Brushes ON SALE NOW!

25\% off any series 7 Brushes with this coupon. Sale ends \(2 / 16 / 79\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[t]{13}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l} HEqULAN &TONE MOUNE: \\ now-rim exer-ano \\
car iexomay \\ Chanas IT: \\
w moorktont chance MARTERCMMO: visa
\end{tabular}}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

By Joel Etahenito NEW YORK CITY - It was just like Syracueo.
A mowstorm outaide and a vocal crowd inside, at the Byracuse preaw forced an early lead which stretched to over 20 pointe in the first half.
But then SU, perhape realizing it wasn't Manley after all but Madison Square Garden, maybe reading their opponent's uniforms and finding they said "South Carolina" instead of "Whittier." and maybe, just maybe, thinking of the trip back did a decidely un-Syracuse thing and nearly blew the lead. In the end the Orange hung on for a 71-64 win Over the Gamecocks of South Carolina.
The win is the 19th of the year for SU (which has lost twice)South Carolina falls to 11-8.

We played extremely well in the first half," said Syracuse guard Hal Cohen, who led all scorers with 18 points. "The second half we got off to a slow start-maybe we were thinking about going hatie
SU felt right at home in the first half. After the Gamecocks took their fourth and Iast lead of the game at 12:10, Syracuse pressed South Carolina to death.
Syracuse rattled off 25 of the next 31 pointa to open a \(35-18\) lead against a Gamecock team which at times had trouble getting the ball across halfcourt against the pressure
"They are the quickeat team I've seen this season,", said South Carolina coach Frank McGuire of the Orangemen, who forced 15 firgt-half Gamecock turnovers.
SU stretched the lead to 4831 at the half, by which time most of the lona fass in the Garden (Iona defeated Holy Croes 64.62 in the first game of the doubleheader) had grown tired of shouting "Syracuse sucks," and had left.
The Orangemen appeared to have alao departed when the second half began.
South Carolina switched to a man-to-man defense with 14 minutes to play in the geme. The man-toman, usually a feast for Syracuse on offense. turned into a sudden famine.

We fell apart offensively in Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim "Whacuse coach sim Boeheim. man we thought we were in."
man we thought we were in:" trouble. South Carolina cut

SU's 60-45 lead to 64-60 in about seven minutes, behind the shooting Cedrick Hordget (who finimhed.with 13 points. all in the second hal). With SU ahead by only four, however, the South Carolina comeback mputtered from the foul line am guard Zam Fredrick and Hordgea both missed the front end of one-and-ones.
Forward Lowis Ory broke a five-minute SU scoring drought. with a layup and when Cohen and Dale Shac kleford hit three foul shota between them the Gamecock were no longer well game
"The foul shots hurt us," McGuire understated after the game South Caroline mised only five all evening mised were the fron evening, but al were the front ends of one-and score it would have been fun" But only for South Corolin. which was able to gieze the whomentum againet bieze the cold as anowy New y eam as cold as anowy New York City. Syracuse, which scored 48 pribed as "paybe the best wesplayed as maybe the best we played all year," could only manage 23 in the second. SU's nine-day layoff was more than apparent.
"We forced them to turn the beill over 15 times in the firs: half - that was the ball garne," Boeheim said. "We couldn't press in the second half because we couldn't get the ball in the basket - you have to score to press. This is the first time we ve played in the Garden, in the second half maybe ,we tried to be too careful:
furning from the game to the snow outside, Boeheim could firid a bright spot. "People aaid they had trouble getting down here in the snow, he said with a smile. "But this is just like Syracuse. We just went 60 miles an hour the whole way
Despite SU's second-half awoon, in the end, it was just like Syracuse - webther and all.
SOUTH CAROLINA (64)
Hordzes \(5-103-612\) Wimbush \(3-80\) 6Strickland \(4-90-041\) Doyle 6-103 22.56 Graziano \(130-3816\) Deynulds 2 at 000 Connauphtin \(1-146\) Harty uo ou 0 Totars 26-55 12-1964

Photo by Pere wisipern
SU centar Roosevelt Bouie geored 74 points arsel huvlad down a tatm-leading 12 rebounds latit nigft, test Orangemen field off South Cmrolina, 71-64, betore 10.105 in Madison Siquare Garden.

\section*{Women's basketball, swim teams aim for home wins}

\section*{Syracuse hosts /thaca}

Although' the SU women's basketball team usually plays its games for record and pride, there is an additional prize for victories this month \($ 3,000\).

The Oramgewomen will continue their quest for \($ 3,000\) tonight when they face Ithaca College at 7 p.m. in Maraley Field House in the second round of the Manufacturers Hanover Invitational Tourmament upstate playoffa.
Syracuae and Niagara are the co-favorites in the eight-team upstate field while New York City": Queens College is favored to win the eight-team metropolitan area championship. The upstate winner will face the metropolitan champion Feb. 28 at Iona College, New Rochelle, for the tournament title and a \($ 3,000\) check from Manufacturers Hanover.
The true state championship, however, is atill the New York State Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women toornament, which will be played Feb. 23-24.

Before contemplating post-beason tournaments, however, SU must learn to concentrate on regulai manon games, which has not always been easy.
Syracuse players thave only boen getting up for the big games ike Pan State and the tournament games," Coach Barkara Jncobs anid after the hervilp-finvored Ormagewomen barely defeated Cortland 6854, in a meeterw game.Trosday night.

SU is now 11-1. Its only loss was to powerful Penn State last week.
The game contained six ties and six lead changes, remaining close only because of cold first-half shooting by Syracuse. The Oransewomen shot 39 percent and committed 20 turnovers in the first half and still trailed by only three points.

SU warmed up enough in the aecond half to start sinking its shots and, sfter a fast-paced eight minute stretch of trading baskets with Cortland reeled off 10 unanswered points to lead \(54-44\) with 4:10 rempining.
The Orangewomen were led by leading acorer and rebounder Martha Mogish, who had 10 points and 15 rebounds, and Eileen, Smith, who added 13 points.
"Everybody sees SU as the team to beat around here," Jacoba observed. "We now have to look at everybody an strong because if we play like tonight wa'I get troubre again frome ithaca.
NOTES: Admisgion is free with Athletic Card and$1 otherwise.
-Gien Udine

\section*{Swimmers meet Bingharmton}

The women" 4 awim team risk ite \(6-\mathrm{T}\) record when it hosts Binghamton at 7 tonight in the. Archbold pool.
The wrmen swimmern have won four coinsocutive meete and junior co-captain Rohin Eutler doean'texpect inuch at al contemt tonight
"It won't be toumh." sutler" said after syracuse romped past Cortland \(76-63\) Tueadity. The Orangewomen won 13 of the 16 events.
However, Syracuse was not withoutits problems. The Cortland pool was a bit too chilly for many of SU's awimmers.
"We were freeaing," one said after the meet. Many, like Kim Casale, shivered viaibly during the meet.

Butler thought the water temperature caused some poor times during themeet. "It Feally bothered us," she said. "We never warmed np properly and we were really tigint."

The cool termperature also did not help the swimmers' health.
Dacly Perez, who has had a fever, competeg, in only two events. Sophomore Liz Vilbert comphritied of a sore throat after the meet Nevertheless, the tenm pulled out first places in vatanlly every event. Vibbert won the 100 yard freeatyle, 100 -gard hackstrole and 50 -yard botterfly, while teammate Patsy Klotz won the 200yard individual medley and 100 -yard butterfly eventis. Perer manrinted a frxit-place minish in the 100-yard individual mediey and 100-yard breastertrolse.

Co-captains Butler and Wendy Evans, who hold sire Corthand pool records between them, wow first place in four other eventr.

He team will be mitting the road this wreelend as they talke on Ithers Collere at 7 prin. Fridey.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{SU fund-raising: vital to school's survival}

University's fund-raising activities aie necessary for survival.

Ten private universities clased their doors in 1978 becanse of a lack of funds. A Carnegie study predicts that as many as 300 private institutions will closerin the 1980 s .

Despite SUS rising taition, atudent revenne accounts for only about 70 percent of the university's funds. In order to keep abreast of infiation and declining enrollment, outside contributions to SU are vital.

The SU office of mivergity relations has four separate offices responsible for solicitiong funds. The Capital Campaigm, annual givingr corporate and foundation and deferred giving programperaploy 16 people, not including secretaries and researchers, who constantiy search for financial contributions.

They are successful.
Each gear about 29 percent of \(S U\) alumai remamber their alma mater with a financial contribution, accordińg to Ben fi Shipley, asacciate director of the annual giving program.

Through the use of nationwide phone and letter campaigns, the annual giving office eventuaily contacts every SU alumnus it has the address of, Shipley said. An SU graduate can axpect to be contacted by the office within a year of gradmation.
- We don't exactly pressure them, bat we let them know we're here," Shipley anid.

Last year the annual giving program rēceived more chan \($ 2\) million from about 26,000 alumni, according to William Hicer, annual giving dixectors. The most Unrestricted-contributions can be spent by the university on anything it wañes. Restricted donations, however, are earmariced by the contributor for a specific purpose, such as the Hall of Languages rēnovation.

Most donations over \($ 100\) are restricted, Shipley said.

With spiraling inflation and declining enrollment, more emThasis has been placed on outside income at private univeraitiea. The chart ber
(NA=Not Available; CC=Capital Campaign)

\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
School \\
Boston 4 \\
Colgate \(\mathbf{U}\) \\
Cormell 4 \\
Duke U \\
New York \(U\) \\
Northwestern U \\
Notre Dame U \\
Stanford U \\
Syracuse U \\
U of S Califormia
\end{tabular} &  & \begin{tabular}{l}
(\% of alumni who contributed arinualiy) \\ 18 \\ 50 \\
\(-30\) \\ 20 \\
NA \\
20. \\ 50 \\
NA \\
29 \\
NA
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \multicolumn{3}{|l|}{\multirow[t]{2}{*}{William Hider (Ieft) and Roger Hull (upper right) play active roles in raiting monoy for the university.}} \\
\hline & & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
*We prefer the donation to be unrestricted, but obviously people have the right to say where their money will go," he anid.
"The deciding factor is really generosity," Shipley said. "Without that, the other things don't really matter:"
Donations are tax deductible. Depending on the amount, a contributor could have a building, or at least part of one, named after him or her
For example, naming a completafloor in the Hall of Languages carries a price tag of \($ 500,000\); the main lobhy - \($ 225,000\); English department offices \($ 100,000\); a major classroom - $50,000;-a standard clanerions:- \($ 00,000\); a faculty lounge- \($ 30,000\); and ani individual faculty office - \($ 5,000\).
The annual giving office also solicits endowments. These are large contributions to SU which the university invests instead of spending immediately. Most investraents are in the form of bonds, stocks or real estate. The university then uses the money generated by the investments.
SU currently has a total endowment of about \($ 50\) million to \($ 55\) million, depending on current market values, Hider. said. Endowment income totaled \($ 2,297,945\) last year, according to SU's annual report.

Deferred giving is another fund-raising avenue. In this program, SU gets money from bequests in con tributors' wilis or through trusts, also called "ife-in come contracts."
A. contributor using this method signs a contract for a certain amount of money with SU. The donation is put in a trust fund and invested by the university according to 'Thomson R. Gregg, asaociate director of deferred giving. The average contribution per con tract is \($ 15,000\), he said.
SU pays the contributor a specified amonnt or percentage of the donation annually. When the conributor dies, the entire contribution goes to the university, Gregg said.
Last year, SU paid more than \($ 600,000\) to people with life-income contracts, Grege said.
"For the most part, these are irrevocable con tracts," Gregg said.

Continued on psoge twerive

\section*{Professors discuss plagiarism, classroom cheating}

By Anthony A. Gallatio
The bizarre mathods students use to cheat and the problems catching them were the sabject of Thursday"s "Here I Stand discussion in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel

Axthur D. Deacon, assistant profeesor of mathematics, and John McIntyre, an English department teaching assistant, told about 15 people at the disctussion that cheating is a serions problem at Syracuse University.

McIntyre aaid teachers have to deal with two types of cheating plagiarisum on out-of-class assigmments and cheat ing on in-clasa exams.
"Each time an ersay or theme paper crosses my doek I have no way of knowing whether the work is the result of a student's creativity or the product of some ghost writer on the student's floor," McIntyre paid.
"I am particularly uneasy with suspiciously good papers that are submitted by obviously incompetent students," he added.
Inconaistency is the most common way a plagiariat is caught, Minntyre and Demcon gaid.
"Someone does not become brilliant in math or master centence structure Deacon.
However, he said "superior cheaters" frequently are not caught. Students who plagiarize from wrell-known sources are "iricompetent plagiariats" and are usually caught. But more clever students frequentiy so unapprehended, he added.
"Many cases of plagiarism have -obably passed of plagiarism have have not been aware of,": Maintyre haid "On eeveral occasions I mame acroes the source of plagiarism one or two semesters after the fact and then. of coursie, it was too late."

Studenta are often encouraged to use as many resources as possible. But many atudents will copy directly from texts and library editions, Mcilymtre said. Others seek the aid of fellow students who write a paper for a price. Many dorms have what McIntyre Continued on pege five

'Red' Mueller

\title{
The leaky sieve policy of admissions \\ But exact cut-off points for stan-
}

Syracuse University's admissions office is currently review. ing applications from thousands of prospective freshmen. The hopefills for the class of 1983 needn't worry too much. If all goes as usual, over 80 percent of the ap plicants to SU will be accepted.
"The last thing we're looking to do is esclude a etrudent," said Thomas F. Cumminge Jr.; director of admissions. But in its zeal to give everyone chance, the adimisaions everyone a chance, the admism the office threatens to overcrowd the individual college qualified students.
qualified students.
The problem of admission, Cum mings said, lies in the "yield mate" the number of students who, after acceptaince, actually come to SU. Since there is no way to accurately predict this number, SU accurately accept thousands more freshmen than the university can accommodate-including many who may not be qualified to atterd-in order to financially support itself.

And in this "guessing game," as Cummings calls it, concrete stancurds for admission become vague, even lost.

An applicant's high school record-grade point average, class rank, recommendations and the type of courses taken-is the most important factor in admissions. And, as it should be, SU applies different etaindards to each of the 11 colleges here.
dards do not exist. And while the admissions office's aim to look at applicants as - people and not numbers is admirable, it is difficult numbers is admirable, it is difficult all those who apply are truly academically qualified to attend SU-especially such popular schools as . Newhouse (about 79 percent are accepted) and management (about 80 percent are accepted).
Both Cummings and Harry W. Peter III, vicepresident for admiesions and records, claitn one reason for the high acceptance rate is that applicants "self-select;" that is, only high-quality students ap ply in the First place. According to Peter, two-thirds of the students admitted last year were in the top twofifths of their high school classes.

But af Henry \(\vec{F}\). Schulte, dean of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications;' pointed out, "We have to rely on what the admissions office tells us.'

But the admissions office does not tell us much.
Cummings refuses to make public statistics about admissions, such as acceptance rates and such as acceptance ratandardized test scores. The figures used in this editorial were taken from "A Comparative Guide to American Colleges" which Cumamings called "roughly correct."

These statistics show acceptance rates of at least 73 percent in every school except the School of Architecture, which has a rate of about- 37 percent. The School of Education and the School of Social Work were not included in the statistics.

While statistics without explanations are often misleading, we cannot buy Cummings' claim that he wants "'simply to guard the students from being subjected to statistical comparison." His policy of confidentiality smackes of paternalism; if not outright deceit.
The guide to colleges describes selectivity as a "crucial measure of because...an institution of higher learning can never be much better than its student body-and itis not likely to be much worse.

SU is its students. While the university's selectivity rate is not the only indicator of its academic environment, it does make a statement-and not a positive one for SU.

Cuimminge said SU "should do everything we can for optimum enrollment." But optimum should not mean maximum. As William Gilbert so aptly said, "When everyone is somebody, then no one's anybody.

Marilyn Marks
for The Daily Orange

\section*{Over the rainbow to academic excellence}

Near the end of The Wizard of Oz when the scarecrow, tin man and cowardly lion are sure they have failed in their quest for virtue the wizard tell. them they always had the things they were loikling forc they junt didnit recognize them. "There are men where I come from no better than you," he says, "Bat they have one thing you says, "But they have don't . . a testimonial."
Sont ... a tesmivenial has something in common with the wizard's trio. Everyone talks about academic excellence as though it were something SU had once but has since miaplaced.

\section*{Guest comment:}

Jim Naughton

The more anxious among ns are eager to go in search of it again, but before we begin the pearch, perhaps we should heed the wizard's advice and look inside ourselves.
-There are men and women at Syracuse who could teach on any faculty in. the country. There are academic administrators who budget wisely and promote good teaching and better research. There are students who are already more thainiqualified for the Fields they will enter on graduation. What none of these people has. however, in a testimonial, an ackmowledgment from the community that we recognize and appreciate what they have dana.
That'e why we have created the Academic Achievement. The award would be given to those poople whose achievements the community feels exemplify academic achievement. If you think about it long enough, almost everyone can come up with the name of nomeone they think deserves to be honored. A great teacher whoee inspirational lectures opened a whole new area of intereat for you, a research papars helped you develop your own. thought, a librarian with ouch a command of her field that ahe made your own research infinitely more productive, a dean who designed an innovative prograin of etndy, \(a\) teacher who is almo'a superior advigor and a manter at destigming courserf; an editor who rendered an esotexic freshman who wrote a pogen The iigt doesn't have to atop there - yout can add to it. We invite you to add to it. The Chancellor'm Citation is mor han just an award for the recipients it than jugt an award for the recipients it is accelebration by the community of the resources that too often goignored. By affirining the excellence arpund us, Wecognize it, to learn from it, in short, to be a member of the university comme a mity:

The Daily Orange

\section*{How to nominate someone:}

Anyone in the university community may be nominated for the award and anyone in the univerrity community may make nominations. The nomination should include your name, the name of the nominee and the reason or reasons for maling the nomination. The committee would also appreciate as much documentation as posible, whether it in a listand sample porsible, Whether itian listand sample of published material an en-dorament of a teacher by a student organization, tape recordinge of lectures, samples of paintings or ceramics, or written teatimony concerning an individual's work in teaching, editing, research assistance, te. The type of documentation can be as varied as the fields of expertise.
The important thing is to give the committee somiething on which to base its judgement.
Nomimations can be made to the following peoplet
Peter Marsh. Honors Office,
Archbold Gym
John Alan Rohinson, School of Com puter and Information Sciences Sylvia Wyckofr, VPA, Room 305 Croupe College
Thomas Green, Coltural Foundations of Edveation, 305 Comatock Ave. Lonnie Morrison, Filden Ccttage, Graduate Student Organization Robin Severino, Honors Office or Eoland Hall Main Deak
Jim Naughton. Student Asacciation Building, 821 Univeraity Ave.
Anyone, with questions about the citation should call Profesgn Marsh at \(x-2789\) or Jim Nanginton ai \(x-2650\) or 487-0469. Or contact tis through campras mail.
Jim Naughton is a former SA vice president for academic affairs.

\section*{On the outside}

\section*{China Polley}

The Carter adminigtration defendod its China policy at betringe Mondey before the Senate Foreign Relations Committoe. The adminietration urged Congxess to mvoid pameing lawe that would wrengthem Taiwan's eecurity. The adminintration has proposed legialintion that would tranter all American relations with Taiwan from governmental to mongovernmental organizationc. Chinese Deputy Premier Teng Etianoping left the United Staten Monday after a nine-day official viait.

\section*{Oil Shortage}

Energy Secretary Jamea Schleminger said Wednesday that prospects of an oil shortake have become "more serious" in recent weeks because of the nbwence of Iranian cil importa. Iran eupplied about 5 percent, or 900,000 barrels, of U.S. oil imports when exports were halted Dec 26 because of political twmoil in Iran. The

\section*{In Iran}

Iranian Prime Minister Shahpur Bathtiar yesterday suggented the poasibility of free elections to reconcile the differences between his regime and the provisional government eet upby Moalem leader Ayatollah Rnhollah Khomeini. Khomeini returned lart week to Iran after a 14-year exile. Demonatrators across the country supported Khomeini, and some government enployeres refused, to serve ad miniatern in the Bakhtiar covernment. Bakhtiar this week also abolished the secret' police, SAVAK, and canceled \($ 8\) billion worth of armaments contracts with the U.S., in apparent move to appeace Khomerni.

\section*{Farmers protest}
-Hundreds of farmers, demanding higher foum price stapporta, rolled higher Warmington Mondoy on trac into Wanhingiton Monday on trac tors and in pickup tucka. The slowmovents and dolayed traficic up to streate hand delayed tratic up to three hours. Sixtasn farmers were vehicles were impounded before the protest was over. Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland apologized for remarlis he made Tuesday when he waid farmers, are "driven by greed." However, he maintained his opposition to higher price supports.

\section*{Also...}

The New York State Department of Fiealth announced yeaterday that 30 more faxnilies will be evacamted from the chamicaily plagued Lave Canal area in Nisgara Falls. The hemith department olso issuad a warning to all children and pregnant women to evacuate a aixblock area surronnding theralreadycleared arem. Fremident Jimmy Carter promised Wednesday to do "everything poasible" to asature at lonst \($ 100\) million in additional federal aid to New York City neart year. Semate leaders, however, warned that Congrese might not ap prove the plan . . David Thompeon of the Denver Nuggets scored 25 points to lead the West to a 134-129 victory over the Eant in the 29th an nual National Bankethall As sociation All-Star game:Sundmy.

When a minor carthquake struck northern New Jersey last week, seigmologists at Princeton University missed it. They were changing the paper in their seismograph.
Pampiled by John Rosenberry

\section*{DIVISION OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS ABROAD}

Summer programs information available tool

\section*{Copyread} for the DO

CONCEA

\section*{BOARD}

PRESENTS AT JAB

Aztec Two Step

Saturday
Feb. 17
 $5 others 8 the door

Jorma Kaukonen

Acoustic
(Formerly of Hot tuna)
Thursday
March 1
Ticketw:
F6 w/S.U. iD

Two Shows Nighty
8:00 3. 11:00 p.m.
Tickets go on wile
Mondey et Dimcount
Records, Spectrum
Sundries and

\section*{SU's creative writers \\ Etutars'noter This is the third of, an \\ The creative writing program was en-} eight-part aeries on the arts at SU. Syracuse Univeraity's creative writing students are proving that the written Wora is not yet obsolete, despite society'sigrowin
The 40 Etudents enrolled in the College of Axta and Sciences' creative writing program are dedicated to their work. The structure of the program makes no allowances for lazy or inStiferent atudents.
Students are admitted to the program on a highly selective basia, ac cording to Professor George P. Elliott director of the program.
Students are allowed into the poetry or fiction writing classes only after they obtain the instructor's permission, Elliott said. (Permission is granted upon careful evaluation of the student's work.) And once students are. admitted into the creative writing classen, they muat work to stay there, he added.

"A atudent can be dropped from the program at any time;" Eliott said. He tablished in 1962 by the lato Profesaor Donald Dike. Relatively fow changes have been made eince that time, Eliot said. Elliott added that theonly change that could be made-one which he personally opposeg-would be to in crease the number of courses offered. ing more courgea," Elliott said. "We ing more couraes," Elliott said. "We think most people are not poets or writera by, nature, so we don't encourgge it.

Eliiott described the undergraduate program as one deaigned to help students, with "revising and rewriting, smal classes allow students to receive theindividual atten-

According to poet David Ray, this year's visiting writer-professor in the program, creative writing classes require different teaching methods than those used in other classes.

My approach is somewhat unorthodox." Ray said. "I consider writing merely a reflection of the Writer's whole life. I try to get them to think of writing not as communication but as self-expression.'
Ray, who is currently teaching an undergraduate poetry workshop, ex plained he used psychology to help students look into themselves and underatand their feelings.
'I try to get them to write, not with their mind, but with their eyes, their ears," Ray said. "They're on too much of a mind trip. They have to learn to observe more of what is happening around them.
Yet observations often trigger more Guestions than answers for writexs. And Ray added this is what writers should strive to accomplish in their works.
"Artists are problem posers", not problem solvers," Ray anid.
Riay said creative students are never really given the time to come up with solutions for the questions they raise. artist is immediately working on the next. The problem is never really next. The probien
Red, explained new works are froquently variations of the old problema and added that this is why one or two and added that this is why one or can of themes can usually.
The artist is trying to say something Ray added, and once a worly is finished he finds he still has not said it quite the hery he wanted to, no hetries again.
Bob Wheoler. an undergraduate dually enrolled in creative writing and dually ennolled in creative writigg and Arts, Baid "often when I look back on Arts, said often when I look back on past poems I have written,"
Wheeler, who has had his poetry published twice in the Syracuse Review-a literary magazine which prints pieces of creative fiction and poetry-has found like many other students that writing can serve as an "outlet for emotion."
You can really get into depression on paper," Wheeler said. "I can get my According to Marc DeC
According to Marc DeCosta, a nember of the Syracuse Review staff for the past two years, much of the work ubmitted to the literary magazine is about relationships and the problems tudents have with them.
Steve Pisano, another Syracuse Review staff mernber, said that these entries sometimes create problems.

A lot of the stuff turned in is really personal to people-their lives, their emotions, their feelings," Pisano said. 'Sometimes it's really too sentimental, and really doesn't have a lot of meaping to other people.
According to DeCosta; the better entries show that people are really thinking of subjecta to write about, asling themsel ves larger questions-not just surface things.'
According to Elliott, there are more poetry than fiction writers at SU. He seid that-becauge poetry is ahorter, most people find it easier to write.
"For poetry' all you need is language

\section*{\(\star\) Professors discuss cheating at SU} referred to as "the friendly spirit of cooperation." It often gets too friendly, he added.

Deacon said he encounters a bolder style of cheating more often - cheating in the classroom.
Recently, he said, a student registered for a math course and his course. They then traded places for the aemester because each was good in the other subject.

This was a difficult situation to sumed that the both instructors asmatched the names and social security numbers of their class lists," he said. detected by a mnember of the philosophy department. The students were accused of the misconduct, assigned failing grades for the course and suspended from the university.

Deacon also related the etory of one student who fixed his watch so that crib notes rolled by when he wound it. The teacher canght him when he noticed the student winding his watch so much during the exam.
Deacon said he wishes more students would report incidents of cheating and cheaters, but said he sees the amount of peer pressure put on atudents preventing this.
There is a great deal of peer presaure Placed upon the student. Many feel that there would be ingtant hatred and phystical abuse," if Deacon and McIntyre agreed that there should be strict punishments for students who cheat
McIntyre suggested the incidenta be placed on a etudent's permanent record and reported to a atudent's future amployers.
McIntyre said there are cases where a-student tries to bluff his way out of a chaating accusation. He said be had a student whom he accused of cheating on a term paper. He said the student became outraged at the charge and reported it to the chairperison of the English department and to the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. After eight monthe the Standards Committee finally resolved the case in Mcintyre's favor.
A student in the audience deacribed the cheating situation as a problena of society, nat just Syracuse University. "It seems to me," he said, "as time goes on, cheating becomes more sophisticated. In high achool we wrote things on our hands before exams, in college wre plagiarize from others' work, in remources, and in the busineas world there is corporate and international apying and corruption. Things juat seem to get worae."

fiction you have to know something about people.
Regardless of whether Syracuse's creative writing students are concentrating on poetry or fiction, faw believe they win be able to earn a living writing, and the professors make no cording to Ray, "the publishers are liv. cording to Ray. "in ing off the dead, intend to continue their writing, for intend to continue their writing, for those who are seriously interested in their art have back-up plans for supporting the
on the side.
Some are dually enrolled in another school in the hope that it will provide them with more marketable slilils. Others plan to-teach creative writing and some will go to graduate achool for further study
Many SU students who are not involved in the creative writing program write creative pieces of fiction or poetry for their own satiafaction and en joyment.
Pisano said although most of the poetry submitted to Syracupe Review is usually from English and creative writing majors, half of the fiction turned in is from atudents in other achools and programs.

Junior John Cairlton, an advertising major, said, "Writing things down gives me a chance to develop my thoughts. I like to think and I like thinling on paper. It's a good feeling when you capture a perfect thought or moment on paper.
"I enjoy it"" he added. "If you left me alone, that's what I would always want to be doing."
Advertising inajor Elyree Ledine agreed that writing is an important part of her life and that it provides her with an outlet for creative thought
"I keep a journal in which I write a lot. Mostly I like to write when I'm upset," but sometimes 'when I'm really happy;, it's mice to get it down on paper," Ledine said.
Creative writing is not something many students do just because they hayomnassignmentdue. Many of them write something every day. And whether or not they ever make much money at it or even get their works published, itis something they will continue to do, for writing is their means of self expression.

\section*{Spinach Quiche? \\ Tossed Salad? \\ Wine? \\ (all for $3.25?) \\ Sandwiches? \\ Steak Fries? \\ Cradkling Fire? \\ Friendly People? \\ Todd and Penelope? \\ Saturday Night?}

\author{
The Student Center 310 Walnut Place \\ Dinner \(5-8\) p.m.- Bar till 2 a.m.
}

\section*{Send Your Valentine a Song}

A quartet from the Hendricks Chapel Choir will sing your loved one a song of your choosing, from our repertoire, for Valentine's Day. These singing telegrams will range in price from \($ 3.00\) for a quartet to \($ 5.00\) for our special groups, The Augirmented Four and The Last Resort.

To send your valentine this memorable gift, drop by the dean's otfice. basement of Hendiricks. miny. weokclay: between now and Fobruary 14.
Give Your Vakentine Something to Remember.

\section*{CARIBBEAN ISLAND VACATION}

ON BEAUTIFUL HALF DUTCH HALF FRENCH ST. MAARTEN N.A.

\section*{\($ 348\) Au}

\section*{Packige Includes:}
- Round trip airfare from N.Y.
- 3 days, 7 nights at the Summir Hotel - Transportation between airport and hotel - All taxes and tips

Call Bruce or Jim 425-7376
RESERYATIONS AND FULL PAYMENT
DEADLINE - FRIDAY FEBRUARY 16.

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DON'T. \\ GRADUATE} without talling to the Hughes Recraiter visiting your campus soon.

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F

\section*{Aid director to attend meeting}

By Paula J. Harvan Arthur J. Fritz, director of the Office of Einancisl Aid, will attend the National As: sociation of School Finsmeial sociation of school Fmincial Aid Administrators (NAS. FAA) meeting in Dallas this FAA) meeting in Dallas this weekend to work on ways to improve the aid program. is to "develop a platform for the reauthorization of federal aid," Fritz said. The national association will evaluate such programs as the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the College WorkStudy Program.
Fritz, along with other administrative representatives, will formulate proposals and file a full report Feb. 15 to the Chairman of the Poat Secondary Education Committee Rep. William D. Ford, (D. Mich.).
Fritz heads the national association's Committee of Gociation's Committee of responsibilities include responsibilities include reviewing federal aid reviewing federal aid programs and establishing long-rin planning, with the federal government's Office of Education.
NASFAA has been meeting regularly for the past 18 mon the to improve what Fritz deecribes as an "unnecessarily complex" system.
As a atep toward achieving this goal, the commission has simplified the Financial Aid Forms. Students applying for BEOG need not fill out two SUNDAYS 10:30 A.M.

Ecumenical-Protestant Worship
Prepennge Chtilain Pabr-Bosch

 service in the Noble Room Hendricks Chapel Choir
HENDRICKS CHAPEL

Childcare provided between' 10-12 noon.
separate forma. An applicanit now just checlis the two appropriate boxes on the multiple propriate boxes on themultipie data entry form.
NASFAA also was amesNASEAA also Was : responsible for amending the Midale Income Studant:Agthe income coilings on Guaranteed Student Loans. :
The BEOG program also has been expanded over the past year. Previousiy, the qualify. ing yearly-income bracket was between $17,000 and $18,000. Under the neve regulations, eligibility has been expanded to Etudents whose family ircome is \($ 25,000\) and below - -
Because of the reauthorization of the Edencation Amendments of 1978 , more congressional appropriations will be available to institutions of higher education moder.Title IV - Educational Im. provement, Resources , and Support.
Fritz is anticipating "an int Frize is annicil crease in the availability of aid by 20 percent" These additional funds wouldybe allocated to the College Work Study Program and the SEOC. The director said the percentage raise "will allow more students seekirig financial aid to be chosen from the:iapplication pool."
Fritz said his office will not know the exact amonnt of funds until the money is received in late February.
About 45 percent of the student body is granted financial aid through tite campughased programg. Another 35 percent has other outaide fimencial asgistance.

\section*{}
-By Lárrie Lowonetein Seniors, start counting them down. You've only got 8,808,000. veconds until 8,808,000 aeco
Mate that 8,807,998 seconds.
As May 12 draws near, there are a number of etops that you seniors shonld take to ensure that you ret to that faterin day when Mel Eggers pronouncen youan SU graduate.

Seniors shotld check with their faculty adviser and their college recorder to make sure they have met course re quirements and credit hours.
Although a summer session may be necersary to complete the required 120 , credits for tradagion, thesestudents can atill participate in May's commencement exercises.
Soniorsshould next proceed to the Central Fecords Office to the Centrai fecordr Ofice to crons or miseing grades.
The Bursar's Office is The Bursaris Office is another imprortant place to visit. Any semior who owes the university money will not rective his diploma or copies of his transcript. According to Kaye Deveaty, an account representative for the Bursar's office, seniors unable to immediately pay their debts can set up an alternative payment plan through the collection department. If payments are made regularly. studente often can get their diploma before the entire amount is paid.
Seniors receiving National Direct or Federal Nursing Student Loans muat arrange for an "exit interviaw" with the Student Lian Accounting Office at Slytop.
The interviews, which start Feb. 19 and run for six weeks, ere deaigned to acquaint tudents. with paymant chedules and options, billing services and loan bennfita.
Seniors must not only work priversity but aleo must work aniversity, but also must work at creating a place to go once they graduate.

For many. this means graduate or professional pchool. Beniozs aspiring to grad achools must take varions standardised teats, fill out applications, collect references from mrofessors and send out Copies of their tranamipte Many oniors have already completed much of the completed much of . the paperwork, but some appheakions are not due unti Mrach or April and the Graduate fecord Ex Mmination and the Graduate Managenent Admassion Teet have teating dates in the spripg.

Mary Jones, Placement Center clirector, says seniors conaidering graduate or profestional school in the next two or three yeare showid get university references now, while finculty members are readily available.

The Placement Center offers seminars in restume writing and interview techniques. Seniors also may want to use the Center's. employment library. Job-hunting students also can sign-tp at the Flacement Center for on canspus interviewr with company recruiters.
Accorling to Jones, the Placement- Center does not place students in ready-made jobs but tries to provide them

\section*{Davis stadium meeting set}

Anyone interrested in aeeing Syracuse University'a new domed atadinm named after the late SU football atar, Ernie Davis now has a chance to worl toward thant goal.
Stmdent Arsociation will hold a meeting Sunday at the SA office, 821 University Ave. starting at 7 o.m.
SA adopted a resolution Monday night which said the Etadium ehonld be named after the All-American running back. Davis was the first black back. Davis wras the first black
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline and Hot Subs Beat & n TownMozzarella Cheose \\ \hline WE DELIVER & 7 days a week \\
\hline 472-5075 & 5 p.m.-2 a.m \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

To the kids,
Have a good trip.
- The old staff and the only Orangeman to Whe nation'afmost outatand as the nation'a most outatanding colleme football player.

The resolution also proposes that donation to the istadium bemade in Braie Davis' name Davis, whe played for SU from 195961 , died of lenkemia in 1963 at the age of 24 . in 1963 at the age of 24 .

ᄀ

Tasty tarts and delectable desserts are the specialties of baker Fred Friemark of the Atlas Bakery in the Westvale Ptara. The renowned concocter of delicious deligh

\section*{You don't have}

By' Patti Echuldenfrei
Where can you go for koaher Easter eggs or for pizza dough to please any Jewiah grandma?
The Atlas Bakery in the Westvale Plaza shopping center, Weat Geneace Street, is a taste of New York City in Central New York, a Jewinh-style bakery in a non-Jewish-style neighborhood. The shop's shelves diaplay trays of traditional hamentashen cookies, macaroon cakes braided challeh bread, and the assorted vari-shaped cookies-that bring to mind images of special occasions.
But you don't have to be Jewiah to appreciate the Atlas Bakery - in fact, most Friemark, the shop's German-bornowner.

\section*{Buylines}

The quality of its goods and a few minor adjustments ("ruggalach" has been tran slated to a more pronounceable bour cream pastry") have helped Atlas bridge the ethnic gap since it opened in 1950.
"We're an international bakery - we do everything." Friemark said, his speech Gavored with the same European accent that pervades his store. "You can call it New York etyle, but it's mainly European - Swiss, German - Central European you would call it."
Although Friemark uses all kosher ingredients, the shop can hardly be called ethnically narrow-minded. Iriah soda bread and frozen pizza dough share the shelves with freshly baked bagels, and in the kitchen, the staff of about 15 bakers busily produces crunchy egg kichel chocolate-covered Easter eggs by the chocolate-co

This split personality has caused-eome problems for Atlas. Kosher bakeries grenerally close on Saturdays to obeerve the Jewish Sabbath. However, 符ince Friemaric eatimaten only about 5 percent of his cuatomers are Jewish, in the intereat of maintaining his business and terving his cuatomers the store remaims open on Saturdays. Atlas is also open during Pasnover, a week-long Jewish holiday in April during which food made with flour are forbidden. This policy has received criticism from Syracuse University's Rabbi Milton Elefant.
"Rabbi Elefant, who is head of the Syracuse Rabbinical Council, had declared that we're not really konher because we're open during Passover, Friemark aaid. "But I can"t afford to cloge

\section*{Resourceful students}

\section*{By Eileen Daspin}

Cafeteria food trays are threatening the Flexible Flyer's long are hareatening the of the sledding indugtry. This unlikely of the sledding industry, This unlikely popularity of the winter's fastest-growing pport, traying.
Traying is probably the brainchild of an impoverished but resourceful student who recognized the cheap and uncanny resemblance between his dinner tray and his neighbor's Flexible Flyer. Although trays do not offer the comfort and control of conventional sleds, they do provide a unique sledding experience.
"Most people opt for traying because they don't have sleds and because it is easy to get trays," said trayer Anne Everhart." \(A\) lot of it is the thrill of stealing the tray. I just didn't have enough money to buy a Gucci sled.

\section*{Going places}
Standard equipment for the sport re quires only an everyday dining hall or cafeteria tray. Veterans suggest Hungry Charley's, Ponderosa or any of the respected campus dining centers for the traying novice to acquire his gear. Siace these establishments do not encourage or appreciate trayers ahoppis apress, such pogible. For honest individuals both poolworth's and Penney's offer inexpenWoolworth's and Penney Although heftier indivituals tend to be more successful in gaining speed, there Ire no physical requirements for trayera. Anyone from the crew's coxswain to the Anyone from the crews coxswain to the football team's traying champ.
like sliing, good traying depends on weather conditions. Packed powder is the beat, but trayers are not advised to take trail runs down Song or Stowe mountains; these areas ave reserved strictly for gkiers. More appropriate spote would be Thornden Parl, the hill by Crouse College or the hill by Booth dormitory.

Nothing short of a rubber saxit will ko a trayer diy, and nothingleas than a dow body suit will keep him warm. Conseqna tly, seasoned trayers suggest a foundati of overalle to orevent snow from going \({ }^{6}\) the back, accomparied by isuonsin layers of sweaters, long undervear,

Traying. one of the fartet rtudurtis in enjovablo schootwoite and room-

\section*{be Jewish...}
it's anound Eister and that's ime for dis.
osiderations astide, however, kery boasts some protty ims ualifications. Ehanging y in honoring Atlas' acto in annual culinary shows. aplays: them like a proud ing out the inecriptions on ing Prize, Beat Decoratiye st Pastries. "One year, I toik he said.
baking feats have brought attertion of deasert-lovers in aide the Syracuge area. Amid ce-covered, multi-tiered wod"They don't make them hilse York'). Friemark ahows iofi photos of cakes he made for celebrations honoring the likee of John Iomnon, Rimgo Stary, and Pablo Ficasac. Atlas in aleo a wholesale supplier for beveral Syrncuse restaurants, including the Fotel Syrac and Stereo's Landmaric Reentaurank Much of Atlas' waccess is que to the high of ith ownal ideals and extensive traim bak ing in Svituremand talces pride in his claim that everything he eells is made from scriatch in his own torne - right down to the roses on his birthday calkes, which Friematic saya most bakers order from ontaide suppliers.

"We don't busy any mixes. Everythingis basic from our own-materiale, Friemark says emphatically. We use no preservatives, and all our flavors are pure:
Friemark holds upa canititer of fonding, a-gveet, dark chocolate frosting used on eclairs. and Valentine's Day coolijes. "We're the only pne in town who makes owr own," Fiemark zaid. "He"zart of my training. Your basic Anverican baker didn't have that lind of training, like an apprenticeship. I had an appreticeship for four years before I went to school. In Europe, you have to know all the basics before you cañ go to achool."
Aithough all of Atias' baking is done in the huge kitchen of the Westvale Plaza store, two other Atlas stores - in Mony Plaza and in the Syracuse Mall - oell the same fresh, homemade producta. In ad dition, Friemarik plans to open anothew Atlas store in Dey Brothers downtown 'in the near future - bopefully before the near \section*{Daster:"}

Meanwhife, Friemark has his work cut out for him preparing 200,000 Koshe

\section*{SCOPE}

\section*{arn tricks of traying} os and mittems. Goggles are useful, ot mandatory.
ce the trayer is dresaed and ready to se downhill, he has the option of gotolo, or, as part of a duo or trio. Solo Tolo, or, as part of a duo or trio. Solo mpte tend to be much more harrowing peginimers. Since trays lack even the most basic control devices, the rider is totally at-its mercy.
Betty Razzetti explained, "When you tray alone, you go flying and hurt your head and your buns. But when two or three people down in a train, there's enough weight to control the speed and direction so you don't rack your orains."
The first time Everhart went traying. \({ }^{*}\) I hit an icy bump. niew ofimy tray, soared throagh the aif lowing my trasies, and woke up with a face full of anow. Actually my head was atuck in a anow bank?
Group traying avoidg. nowne of thase hazards, while retassuring participants with the safety-in-numberw theory. Sitting on their respective vehicles in gingle file, trayers wrap their legs around the person in front of them for a makeshift tobogeran effect- Even though the added weight increases speed, it still provides for more control.
Another veteran trayer said, "One time when I was triple-traying, we wiped outin the middle of the hill-When I looked up, I saw my contrayers with their headm in the faughed and thear reare and feet in wet my pants Experienced soloints become bored with the basic traying positions and sometimes devise more challenging atunces. Standing, they become snow gurfers; arabeaque atyle, they become snow ballerinan. George Humas is one of those adventurous trayers who enjoys" such challenges.

When Liso traying. I stand on the tray becanas you don't get wet. It's also a chailenge to age if you can make it all the way gtanding up. Sometimen Itry to croses Hum streat with added.

Howeyer, despite its rapid growth in popalarity, traying is still a relatively undiscovered sport. But, as more and more people begin to discover the joys of praying, the local landscapes have become traying, the local landscepes have become bwamped with.trays as Flexible Flyers

Asone BU etndentrputit *rayingis enscellemt. It'm wrich a rush - evera better than

Orawing by Katy Groerve winter eports etsu, offert
- the humdrum chorese of

The Todd Hobin Biend, one of Centrul Now York most popetitr and uninepling effort. which hat faw strengths and merny weak nemes.

\section*{Hobin LP: trite, boring}

\section*{By Irwin Fisch}

You can't help wanting to like the debut album from Syracuae's Todd Hobin Band Hobinis, after all, one of the most popular musical attractions regionally, and his massive effort to record, package, dis tribute and promote his band's first album is lardable.
the doubt, the the hometh Hown benefit of the doubt, the Todd Hobin Band's Erst album manages to defrie mediocrity. Hobin takes trite themes, offers them trite lyrical trestments and sets them to

\section*{Sounds}
melodies that are for the most part labored and cceasionally banal. The performance just about follows suit, presenting Hobin's hackneyed bongwriting with alwaya competent but neve
The moat damaging facet of the album is Hobin's mediocre-tomiserable lyrics. t's-amaing that the writer of buch vacuous, porily crafled and unreined word. Would enclose a yyric sheet in the album. Hearing them is unpleasant; reading them is embarrassing: Hey, God
I heard that you can hear.
I heard you died the other day,
Just a few years back, maybe more. I'm still hopin' that they were wrong. Or maybe you goe reborn. Galaxy hunter, Rainbow King,
I'm just a sinner, a barefoot beginnzer, Om just a sinner, a bare
("Hey, God" Todd Hobin Music/BMI)
Rock needn't gay anything new, butit is disappointing to hear the same of ideas reiterated not quite as muccinctly or convincingly as beiore: And accentuating Hobin's lack or songwriting sion to the frequent failure of hin lyrics to mesh anturaly with his masic
Though they're the exception and not the rule, several of Hobin's melodies are catchy and fiuent. The "hooks" on "Rock "Goodbye" find their way" into the hatenar bran-and whether you iike yon or not, they stay there and serenade youn

\section*{Weekend cinema}

\section*{By Steven Titch}

Fri., Feb. 9
The Fevenge, of the Pink Panther
Only a fow good gags ehine through in thim mediocre Cloagu Comedy. Unfortmately, director Blake Edwards and compary have just University Union Cinema Two, Gifford Auditorium. 6, 8, 10 p.m. and midnight, \section*{Humphrey Big Sleep}

-Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacallatar in this excellent Philip Marlows defective drama. Directed by Howard Hawke with a scremplay by Williarm Faulkoer (from Faymond Chmndler's novel), the movie is a clatnic example of American film novir. Auditorium Mion P Pethio of Glory.
Stanley Kubrick directs an emotional
Courdeforce in a tourde-force in a story of three soldiers erecuted for reanone of morale durings World and Hariy ahort.
Nan-Violent atudien, Grant Auditorium, 7 and-11 p.zn, \($ 1.50\).

Other songs start off well with strong-if not quite original-melodies and chordal construction, but firile into verses that grope for direction and purpose. "Everybody's Got a Song to Sell," begins as a strong ballad with sim ple, poignant piano and vocals, but deteriorates into a lyrical disaster with terribly slurred speech and an overwrought arrangement with more breadth than depth
And "Where is She Now?" deapite its catchy chorus, is beset by versee that reek of terribly confused musical idioms and purposeleasness.
The Hobin- Bend puts forth a performance that is at best professional and competent, and at worat a second rate blend of early Orlesis. Unfortunately the blend of eariy Orlesne. Unfortunately, the Hobin band doenn't aport a compober. singer or guitarist of the caliber of Orleans" former leader John Hall. The of gite and believability

Given the triviality and shallowness of the comaposing and performance, one might hope Hobin's captivating presence could be communicated on record. For the most part it isn't.
Hobin is a powerful and engaging rock singer, though he has difinculty coming acroes in the ballade His vocal performances on "Rock My Soul" and "I Want to Be Like Him" are examples of Where he exhibitw some amatinctiveness and flair. Still, it doesn't Chariama as a parformer.
On the production end, the albura has ties to Syracuse University's Newhouse Communications Center. The record, taped at Mis in Nowhowe Mandmin. ed at Eose Hill Stacios in Marcellus, is perbaps the cleamest, mont profeamonal product to ennerge lately from the local Stua.
SU atudents Dave Brower and Charles Shatzkin engineered, while 1978 graduate Bill Murphy produced and engineered. The result is not flawless, but it's im prearive nonethelest

The overall effort, however, is far from fails to impres or ante itn local appeal, it fails to impress or entertain.

Sat., Feb 10
WR: Mysteriem of the Orctenitwo Wh stand for Wrinelm Reich. puychiatrist who proclaimed aecuni iberation a necessity for political libberation. Director Drisan Marravojer haile his philosophy in a raiunchy, erotic and denouncen political oppremeion denounces poikical opprearion
Nicikelodeon Film, Gifford Auditorium, 7 and 9 p.m. \($ 150\).
Night of the Living Dead
Thia movie ranke as one of the best of the modern horror firms and is all the more frightening because of ite attacis on the mid. deamerican concept of the family. The dead arise, atteck, hill and eat their victimes. Auditoriwm 9 and \(110 n\) Cinema, Gran Sun., Feb. 11

Ampanas
Woody Allen, playing the iffept Fielding Molliah, finds himmolf leader of A Central American Banana Republic A Ereat comedy foatoring a dide-bplituing mce
Allen at en foritla training eamp.
Allent at a pronilla training Camph Ciname
Univermity Union Woody Allen Ciname Univerwity Union Woody Allen Cinama, Gifford Auditorimm, 68 and 10 pm. \(\mathbf{F 1 5 0}\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY UNION events calendar}

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board and Hillel Present}

\title{
SARA \\ DAVIDSON
}

Author of "Loose Change:
Three Women of the Sixties!"
Sunday, Feb. 11
7:30 p.m. - Grant Aud.
FREE

U.U. Concert Board Presents invites you to spend a very special evening with THE KINKS

Tuesday, Feb. 27 8:30 p.m.
Landmark Theatre
Reserve Tlickets. Now on Sale $7.50 & \($ 6.50\)

Tickets available at: \({ }^{-}\)
Landmark Box Office, Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records, The Panhandler and all Gerber Music Stores.

\section*{University Union Cinemas}
S.U. ID REQUIRED - SHOWS NOT OPEN TO PUBLIC

\title{
Battles abound in dormitories
}
ati By Botey Niensin
Being able to cram tix tonuta in sour mouth in two diniters could prove valuable fyou live in Brewater/Boland

Stheh ithletic feate are often leceaciary to compete in the "Super Battles" contest; held /Boland residents.
A scavenger hunt, television A scavenger hunt, television mivia and a know-your-roomother events in the year-iong other evente
Co-chairnan Roee, Franco, Boland 7 resident advisor, said Boland 7 resident advisor, said these contestare the best way "For some etudenta, it's myy For some studenta, ita a way 0 get to meet people, for tidden talents" Froneo said
Ten events are peattered hrou hout the acaderio sear Four teams competer year. cour ceans compete agains each ther, Wt the and ofs on each team. At the endir th schoolyear, the \($ 150\) whin moost points wins fica, which tracitionally goer for a party that don't need a lot of equipment," Franco orid because finding equipinent needed for the events can often cause problemis.
For example, "We conldn"t Gind poles for the volleyball game. We went to the local dump to find some poles and we ended up buying them at a piping company," - Franco recalled
Junior John Lawr, the other co-chairman, said the biggest problem with the gamet is maintaining an equal boy/girl tatio in the sporting events. frame, so suys want to win a game, so they keep the* best male players in. But this has been avoided by erting up hapistaths, which mandate that at ail timen \({ }^{n}\) Eirls must EFthe TVV trmes.
owtof Qeitiknowledgeand memory grice of Woody Who was the Yoice of Woody Woodpecker?'
(Mre. Welter Lance), and "who did the Iuly 4,1976 Bicentennial Minuter (Betty Ford), are just two expuples.
The talent contest is the mogt popuiar event of the Eries, according to Latis. people lous to watoh other people a fool of theroelvee" male a fool The Ehere a rom last are a fow changen smple, lanple, scavenger hurit teams out and find an M. Street business card and an-extra Iarge jack otre Me jocir strap
This year, Franco said, "the evits will be scheduled in or near the dorm. Many people won't participate if they have to go out in the cold wreather.p

The Super Batales were the iden Breweter of former Brewater/Bolaind RA, Chris Kerr and Cathy Pamasuk

Franco said she feels the Super Battles are a succeas because "it'a a good way for students to let out their frus trations. We have a very large participation.?

Laur said there have never been any mishaps or accidents, jugt a few minor arguments during aporting events like volleyball. "It's all in fun," he said

\section*{HAVEA DEGREE IN} SCIENCEOR ENGINEERING?

If so, put that degriee to work in the United States Alr Force The Alr Forbe has fob openings for selence and engdreering officers in miany professional areas: Find out If one of them Is yours. Then ask, about that excellent Atr Foice salary . . . .the excecutive experlance . . . the wordivide assigminents. . Itr. tng quarters ... 30 days of paid vacation a yers.... medical and dental care ..it and mariy other Atr Force benctiss. Its one of the finest Opportunties ln the nation. For information,
 Phonst: 716-283-5792 (collect)

全 सुक्या名
a grege woy of the.

\(\square\)
Learn to really write.
write for news
call 423-2127

\section*{For}

Your Hearts Choice

order in ice cream calre Nottingham Plaza 446-9746

\section*{Davis Florist Inc. 478-3141}

300 s. Wilbur Ave.
Syracuac, N.Y. 13204

\section*{Fisher-Buckbee Florist Inc. 474-4655}

359 s. Werren
Syracute, N.Y. 13202

\section*{Kelso Florist \(478=0914\)}

Syracuse, N.Y. 13202
2611 S. Salinim St. Cuirdar Flawes Inc. 446-0862
4000 E. Gernesee St., DeWitt - Syracuse, N.Y. 13214

\section*{We Pry, Set Et Traifa Usad LP's, 45's, Rock Misgamines}

Bring your records to us for cash
Colfoctions bought - House calls by appointment
7.000's of reciords in stock ontost LP's only 52 - s3 - A/I records guarantead © We specialize in ocrt-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
s. Campuz Mall, 730 s. Crouse

M-Sat. 11-8 (472-3235)

\section*{Valentine's Day is special} for lovers at

\section*{The Good Food Stoze}

Buy \($ 5\) wortfi of food & win a chance at a raffle fur a heart filled with natural candies.
Drawing ön Feb. 14 th
Cupid will be at the store on Feb. 14th to give FREE samples of strawberry honey ice cream.
For all you honays.
T.Sat. 10:30-5:30 316 Waverly Ave. 423-3594

You take some fire and electricity. some cookin' horns and drivin' rhythmn, some Earth. Wind and Fire, Steely Dan. L.T.D.. Pablo Cruise, Tower of Power. Commodores And you get

\section*{2 \\ High Energy Dance}

TONIGHT … ORANGE

\section*{Fund-raising makes sU run}

\section*{Comthued from pege onv
"This is a selling job," Gregt said. "You don't know from} day to day or year to year what you're going to get."

Lagt year, the deferred giv. ing program handled more than \($ 1\) million, including bequesta in people' wills. The department is already over that amount for this fiscal year, Grege said.

Ernest Stevenson Bird Library is SU's biggest deferred giving reault. It was funded partially with a life-income contract from the Bird family for \($ 4\) million.
Most of the thoney from deferred giving adds to SU's endowment, Gregg eaid. Some also goes toward the Capital Campaign. Most of the donations are restricted in some way.

SU also looks for donations from corporations. The SU corporate and foundation program usually asks for cording to Vincent C. DeBaun, program director.
"We try to match SU's needs with their (corporation's) interests," DeBain said. interests, DeBaun said. proach them with a specific proach them witin mind."
For example, General Motors donated Collene the L.C. Smith College of Engineering last spring and the Mellon Foundation contributed \($ 230,000\) toward the implementation of the new Standerd Plan in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Iast year, the corporaté and foundation program raised \($ 1,150,000\), but only about \($ 150,000\) came in unrestricted grants, DeBaun said.
In addition to these fund. raising activities, \(S U\) is also in the midst of a \($ 35\) million Capital Campaign. 'The campaign staxted in 1973 and had raised \($ 25,625,000\) by Jan. 29. The campaign should reach

\section*{GO \\ SOMEPLACE \\ ABROAD \\ THIS \\ SUMMER}

\section*{SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY}
offers travel and study opportunities in 21 summer programs abroad.

\section*{LONDON:}

Shakespeare, Filmmaking, History of Costume, Masterpieces of the Visual Arts, Studio Art, Visual Communications, Photography, Lew, Transportation & Distribution Management.

\section*{FLORENCE:}

Architecture. Studio Art & Synaesthetic Ed., Humanism & the Arts in Renaissance Italy, Psychology.

\section*{VIENNA:}

Archirecture, Music, German Languaq e, Culture & History.
AMSTERDAM:- -
Biology. Law & Public Policy.

\section*{YUGOSLAVIA:}

Organization & Management in a Worker-Owned Economy.

\section*{EAST AFRICA:}

History & Evolution of the Kenyan Natien.

\section*{GREECE:}

Classical Geology
All coursets offer six semester credits for undergraduates, graduates 8h practicing profeseizionate. For mort Information plasese corntact Syracuste University, Division of International Programis Abronct; 336 Comptock Ava., Syrecuse, N.Y. 13210,-tel (315), 423-3471.
its gral by the end of neat fall. according to Roger H. Hull, vice preaident for development.
The campaign was expanded outside of Central New York in 1977 to include capital campaign chairpersons in Chicago, Washington, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio and New York City. It has raised abont \($ 11\) million since December 1977. The total amount raised in the four years before this was \($ 14.5\) million
"The campaigon has momentum now," Hull said. "People wanted to know that what they were giving to would succeed, and now we can show that it will.'
Included in Capital Campaign funding are:
- Renovation of the Hall of Languages - \($ 4\) million goal, \($ 2.7\) million raised.
- Renóvation of other campus buildings - \($ 7\) million goal, \($ 6.9\) million raised.
- Construction of a university center (student union building) - \($ 7\) million goal, \($ 405,000\) raised.
- New School of Education building - \($ 3\) million goal, nothing raised. School of Men New \section*{Frat fire still under investigation,}

By Lanra Rohmann
The fire that destroyed the vacant Kappa Sigma fraternity, 105 College Place, in October is still being investigated by the Syracuse Fire Prevention Bureau, according to bureau official Sgt. Joseph Farrell.

Farrell said no súbetantial progress has been made after four months of investigation. The fraternity was destroyed in an early morning fixa Oct. 2 that fire officials believe was started deliberately:. No one was injured in the blaze.
"We've had a lot of leadn, million goal, \($ 250,000\) trised: - Endowed scholarahipas $4 milion soal, entire amoun raised.
- Special projects - \($ 2\) million goal, \($ 1.2\) million raised. This sum includes. \($ 1.1\) millior for seata for Manley Field House, \($ 56,000\) for renovation of the Regent Theatre for Syracuat Stage, \($ 38,400\) for renovation of Hendricks - Chapel, and \($ 20,000\) endowment for SLI Press.
- Endowed faculty chairs $5 million goal, \($ 2.33\) million raised.

Donations for endowed chairs are invested by SU. The proceeds. are bised to pay: outstanding professors salaries above the going rate, Shipley said.

The rationale is that one good profegsor will attract other ones," he said.
The current Capital Cans: paign is not the firatsuch drive at SU, nor will it be the last: Like the other contribution programes, it is a funding aup plement that the university will always be in need-iof will always be in need ol especially if it wants to con tion plaxis.
"Any way you want to give we have a way for you to we have a way for you to donate," Hider said.
we've talked to a lot of people; but we still have nothing we can take to the grand jury," Farrell said.
The invertigation is difficult becarne "the place was open and accesnible to anyone who had knowledge of it and wanted to vge it," Farrell adid.
Because the fire's cause is anknown, no settlement bag been reached with ,the fraternity's - two insurames companies - United Staties Fidelity and Guaranteo and Commercial Union Kappa Sigma is covered for \($ 80,000 \mathrm{by}\) each comnainy.

\section*{Position Available}

Work at your student store.
Campus Conveniences, Inc.is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum Travel Guides. Information is available at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Monday, Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

\section*{}
continued from pape ane of depreanion," he sinid. "What alloreak that wrae." Draning World War II, Mueller becrame scquainted Mueller became acquainted pritib such international Churehill and Gens: George Pattoin, Dwight Eisenhower and Donglas MacArthur. The and Dougias MacArthur- The young journainet was one of fllowed to date Churchill's daughters. Thus he wasable to see Churchill as a leader and a father.

The prime minister was "a very dynamic, inspiringleader and a puckish, devilish father. full of tricks," Mueller maid.
"He could be a real devil when he wanted to be, forfun," when he wanted "He was theman for the tirnes, as far as England was concerned. They took one hell of a beating before the invasion." The inbefore the invasion. Jine invasion Was D-day, June 6 , 1944, when occupied France was in

Mueller became associated with General Patton in Sicily in 1943. At an army hospital Patton alapped a shell-shocised Patton alapped a \(\quad\) heli-ghocired soldier. Mueller witnessed and recorded the incident, which sreatly curturbed hoepital staff members and soldiers. He Einenhowers headquarers in Algiers to discuss the matter.

When word about the incident leaked in Washington. Mueller was asked to read his notes to the reporters at a newr conference
In the book "Patton: Ordeal and Triumph," author Ladislas Fetrago wrote, "Itwas probably the only occarion in the Army's higtory that a civilian ontsider was allowed to present guth an important case on behalf of the Army. permitting the chips to fall where they may. It was also a tribute to Mueller's responimibility and reliability as a war.correspondent.
Patton received a personal rebuke by Eisenhower for his action, and he personally apologized to all individuals involved in the slapping incident.
"I first met Eisenhower in London, 1942, before he became a major seneral," Mueller continued. "For 110 days I hiked and lived with Ike for a whirlpool assignment. It for a whiripool assignment. It was a most unusuai assignument E E Explained that notes for stories were turned over "to other print guys who got a copy of the script to got a copy or the script to rewrite. Musiler of the Japanese oroadcast of the Japanese aboard the US& Miagouri as a whirlpool asigionment During whirlpool agsignoment. During Look for the continuing series on
The Arts at SU in Monday's DO.

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

\section*{SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) inc/udes}

All chemicals and equipment for-b/w processing'and printing plus color slide development.

\section*{Color Course Begins February 12}

Call or stop oy for a triendy visit - Opan Evaryday 316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. 315-423-2450

Student Appreciation Night at the 2right Deposit

\section*{\($ 3.00\) Guys/Gals}
-All the draft beer and wine you can drink -50c price reduction on all mixed drinks -8:00-12:00
-Student ID réquired
- Every Sunday night starting Feb. 11

One block south of Mony Plaza, So. Warren & Adams Sts, Downtown that year, he also met Gen. Douglas MacAthur in the Fhinippanes, whera Mueller whas en ared crossed the Rhine.
While in Europe, Mueller studied as a epecial atudent at the Sorbonne, Paris, and at London University. He received a apecial degree, comparable to an American master's degree. "All of my courges at-Borbonne and London Uni versity had to do writh the aocial sciences, enpecially geopolitics and geoeconomics," he aaid.
In the following years, Mueller worked in London, Now York and Los Angeles as a reporter and a commentator. He also worked as an adviger on public affairs for Gerald Ford's adminifitration.
Mueller's Aecision to leave broadcasting was not one made by choice. He said his voice was termed "unfit for broadeast" as a result of cobalt treatment for throat cancer. A friend suggested he teach college journalism. Mueller then lectured at Ohio University for a year, before coming to SU.
Mueller is uncertain of where he will be in the future. "I don't know," he asid with a mile, sitting back in his chair. is think inl be at another university as a dean. Keep your fingers crossed."

COME AND JOIN THE MUSIC TONIGHT AT THE BOMBSHELTER
(Sponsored by Papplos Place) 9:00-12:00 in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel Free Aelaxed and Friendly Cofformhouse wine end chaege 254 donation

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{WATCH FOR THE FIUGHIES RECRUITER USTMING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Conitact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F

\section*{Harry Fig}

Sherman's Quest
by Peter Wallace

by Chuck Wing

\section*{JODAY}
tonalian Club meets from 6-8 tonight in Communisy Housp, 711 Cormstock Ave. 22 per member. Musilm Fridey proyers will bo Mold from 1-7:30 prm. todey in the Noble Roorn. Hendricks Chapel. The Bornbshodter has music and night in the Hendricks Chapel Dosament.
Miniclase on 'Whes Catholles Believe" will be from 12:50-1:45 todey in the clasifis office. Hendricks Chapel. Irsstructor: Father Charles. Cnmmbtry colloquinm: Geraldine Kenny-Waltace from the University Spectroscopy and Dynamice of Molecular Interaction in Liquids" et 3:30 tadey in 303 Bowne.
Colfobration. new publication aimed at the axtreordinary reader. meets at 4 tociay in the Shaw loft. Call Hitary at 474-9973.
Minority englneering program tour "A", of a focat corporate facility Slocum/Sims plazs will \(9: 30\) ave the return at 2.30 om fegistar in 273 Link or-call 423-4419.
Jamz and country reck will come to Two-Below, Brewter/Bolend's cofferhouse. Molson on tep Fine mrta fecture: John Onians from the University of East Anglia Will speak on How to Listen to Renaissance Art" at 4 today in \(\mathbf{2 2 7}\) ?
HEC.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{THE WEEKEND}

Tradtrionie Commisaion meers et 1 p.m. Sunctry in Watson Thiarrie. john ways it will be short. Plewibibe proster pirty in the TC office."

Nase of Kin floq Salvo, Karen Sevoct, Ifwin Fiachi and guestilwil ping of original and contemporsinecoustic music.
Black Communications Siociou meet at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in 313 meetz at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in 313
Student Atro-Amariean society ingesents Jamen Matradion spaaktomorrow in Kituredge Auditorium. Part of Black Expressions Month.
Undergempluate. Sochal wiork Organization will hold resume workshop at \(7: 30\) p.m. Sunday in the intemational Folk Dancers mees from 7:30-10: p.m. Sundays at Fkybarm. Dinces teunhz.

Mane mehedule: 7 p.m. tomoriow In Grant Atuditortium, Sunday at S:30 and \(1 t\) a.m. in Crouse Auditorium and 1 p.m. in Skybarn.
Newnith Community Parimh Coumell mects at 2 p.m. Suinday in the Newman Centeir-Sour Sitrus socinty rehearseng at 7:30 pim. Sundey at the miki lodge. Those golng to St. Bormeventure mus? be at SA by \(1: 45 \mathrm{D} . \mathrm{m}\). tomorrow, If you're not sure if you're on the list cell 423-0193 today.
No Sabbuth moming eervices somorrow. Will be beck next watk Grad Hilliol tox and bagel brunch will be at 11 a.m. Suruday in the Hillel lounge. Hendricks Chapel. Sol Gordon will speak on The enter 1,50 Jewish Family. \($ 1\) members, 1,50 non-mernber*- Undergrads welcome.
Sare Davidnont, aunthor of "Loose Change," will spoak on 'foturn to Hoots at 7:30 p.m. Sundey in Grortt Auditorium. Sponsored by Hillel, \(\because\)
Self-defenma class will bo at 2 p.m. Sunday at Contral New Vork Aikikai, 100 E. Manlius St. E. Syracuse. Yoshimitsu Yarnaida Shinans Chief of the U.S: Aikido Shimans, Chief of the U.S: Aikido Federation. witl teach; Free.
NOTICES
Cordon Bowiea Antbropology Contegr will give a 850 prixe to an SU student for an essay on curren interests in anthropology. Essaya are due Fob. 28 at the Honors Office. 300-1 Arctibold Gym.
- Deadine for SU graduiate 210 Soele, Can 423-3603.

Commanity Darkrooms color photography course bepins Feis. 12 Wernestioys tot 7 mondays and white axperionce required t 20 foe br preceared 20 apend \($ 30\) for materiabs. CD members only. Cal 423-2450.

Sponiors and arad students may me oligible for Now Youk City Urban Faliows Program for ithe... next choice of health plan travel ex penses. Apply by Feb. 16 eft Finmeini) Add Otfice.
Fequits for femernption irom the manclatary student heasth fee for this aempstwer must bo fied by fob. TE Et the Heatth Center. ill chliberen. Ave. Mare commuters - and special program atudents may ba eligible.

Engliak mafore mby be elipible for deppartment teholterships. Acsolarnic and tinsmeis! noed gublificmtions. 300-14 Archbold Gym. Before Fob 15. Complated mpplicition is dut Marcts 2.
Feb. \(7-14\) Ammteur Recio Club's mesterge woek.

IOTMCES FOR HEDE THE EVERYWHIERE are due at The Daily Orange, 1101 E . Adame 52 , by noon two deys before publication. Name and simphore-nuhour of se brit mouncements to 20 wionds. No aft nouncemerits are , talten over the phorne.

\section*{For sale}

UNiSEXHaircuting, Hatr care items. Giecourt prices ORANGE TON: SORLAL & SUPPLY, 727 S. Croust
Ave., noxt to S.U. Posi Oftice. 475. 9289.

TOOAY ONEY WITH THIS AD: TNSULATED RUBBER LACE BOOTS S9.98 LINED NYLON HOODED PARKAS \($ 15\) CLOSE OLIT ON LADIES SKIRTS 814.95 . VY HALL
738 S . CROUSE AVE. \(478-3304\)
SALE SALE SALE introductory offer continued. WWI wool and kakhi pish SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.

ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza & Hot Subs with Lots of Mozaratha Cheesed 5075 .
Orginal movio posters, lobby sets. and color.s BW stills. All movios. Call Chris or Carole \(x-6575\) or \(x\). 8693.

AKAT CASSETTE DECK/ Pause. Dolby. Limiter good shape. \($ 100\) firm. \(\dot{x}\)-2520 Mikg.
King size Werarbed, With heater and Liner and 2 nets of *heots. \($ 150\). call 474-2811 as 6:30.
1969 Volvo 4-Speed, dark blua; new brakes, rebuilt transmission and carburator, year-old clutch. Alc, Comfy brand deluxe ski parke. Man's medium, blue nylon, goose down.

Worn once. Lisis X-3284. 9-5. Bob.
Perfect dorm size storeo turnable receiver unit with 35 watt speakers. $100. call 425-0627
SALE SALE SALE \(25 \%\) off women's wintar coats. \(50 \%\) off, New vests. \(20 \%\) off selected vintegg merchan. dise (1900:-1940:) SECONO.

\section*{Wanted}

OOOMMATE WANTED: TOSHARE3 BEDROOM APARTMENT NEAR FRCHBOLO WTH FIREPLACE 8188.

Low on money and reconds that Gren't Wanted? WE BUY USED BECOHDS Bring them in for instant
 ash. Top prices onid!
ESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse
2-3235 Mon.-Sat 11 +6.
SHunselors: Adirondack Boys Camo:
 Archery, Cratt Tennis, Oriver, Offici (typing). Pifiery, Softeall, Trip Leading. 39 Mill Valiey Road. Pitrsford. N.Y.. 14534.
MENI WOMENI JOAS CRUISE
SHIPS FREGHTERS NO ORperience. High pay! See Europe. Howail. Australia, So. Amwrics. Correer Summert Send 83.85 for into to SEAWORLD E8 Box 61035, Seeto, CA. 95860.

One female roommate wanted Manediateiy, Luxuriout Presidential liaza. uailities. Walk downtown. 422. 893, leave message.
ZED: 1 general Adritisciontickot for Johniz game. To buy. Call 474. 04 or 423-7564.

WEPRINT OR COPY RESUMES AND THESES
"Coplow While You Wair" 131 So. Solinm St. 474-4222 merows from Syr. Mell

WANTED: ROOMMATE, responsible fomalo. non-smokor. Large 2 bdrim. fernalo. non-smoker. Large 2 Bdrm. ci. utilites. furnished. 422-2252.

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full. Eant tima. At home or at school. Easy service business. to nverment, ex citing opportunity, no gimmicks. (refunded) STAR S$U Box 272. isiand Park. N.Y. 11558.
NEED A ROOMMATET RASponsible or aparment. Barry 472-7926.
Addressers Wantect lmmediatelyll Work at home- no expariance Aocassary - excellent pay. Wrive Suite 127. Dallas, TX 75231 .
Houseboys wanted in exchange for Deindre and Sharon at 478-9142 or \(x-4204\).

\section*{For Rent}
\(\because 2\) cubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Taytor RentalCenter. 478-O957.
Apartment furnisteed, walking distance. One month's security no fezse, immediate cccupancy. 637.
6550 . 6550.

Furnish Room's, Clean, Warm; Kitchen and bathroarn facilities. 112 chen and bathroom facilities. 112
Comstock Ave. 6100 month. Call Comstock Ave. 5100 month. Call 475-7911.
FEBRUAAYY RENT FREE Available immediately furnished single-share large livingroom, kitchen, hot bath;

\section*{Personals}

ALPHA EPSUON PH congratuintes it's Spring pledge class: Peter. Bill. Eqeve. Mike, Jem. Rob, Corv. Ire, Howis, dpremiah, Tom. The best of luek.
Pivate Guitar tessons. cheapl call 471-8197.
Litrle sister rush pary. THETA TAU. Friday 9 pm. 1105 Harficon Street
phone- \(x-4301\)
Tired of roommates? Single avaitable Writh bathroom. Eoard included. Great location. Firgt come; first Ferve 907 Welnut Avenue tbehind Eirm \(423-2649,475-3484\) Eirdi 423-2648, 476-3484. Ask for Low, Ken or Jonsthan.
Saint Mastan ta Comingt Saint Mimarian is Comingl Cell
Eissy-girl: \(A 21\) bong salute on vour birthdey- ane for good luckl You Jight-or up my life. Hoppy B-Deyl Ox-

Topher Mappy 20 min bmbeina-your own persomell Remember the motel on Routs 1? Love youl Marybeth.
For the Sti Johns gome: Something for thowing, not iust blowingl Detaits noxt week.
Christopher l've been pundering this for a long time. Happy birtinday- i wish you' PUNdreds more.-Howie
Dear ABO- Happy Birthday I Always hoep my promisera. To ons of the berst moornmatess and Friends I'Il ever have F.S. Love you very much. Lowe DMN.

Jim Dradda rio - Happry 21 stbirtindayl May you lose st cards until you"re old Frnd decrepltal Love, the Queen of Deb-To one crexy nutl Happy 20th. you old ladyli Love aiways, Kim gnd Tom.
To the Brothers of Sigma Chi-Mappy Valentines . Day. Love. your sweetheart
Elmajay end Bessie, we make great three musketeers. Heppy V-Day Lhree musketeerm.

PGH- Champagme, synchronism pheasont. camaro. England were grast. Happy Vatartine's Oay. JBH.
E.R.G. Heppy 211 #3 BUDDY and their getting better-but the best is ye to come - IT'S AS SIMPLE AS THATI Do I love you? Yess, very mucty - lim a hopeless romantic-D.A.S.
Hapopy Anniversury, Ceryn and Eric.
Hope you have a greet day and many more.
P.T. & BiRD: Even though ded is 250 miles awey, ha and I want you to know how much wee still love you and wish you the bast on your Special days. I want you both to know that no in atter what role is being played, HA 1 is friend. It's not ofteri said but you both mesn more to me ther any "both mesn more to me then eny". job" ever could. Corry thet thought BIFTHDAYS, Love. Mom.
DEAR HONEYBUNCH, it's been twelwe fantastic momths togather weive fantastic momths together with you and your foof bearl Ive With you and your foof beari vitio loved every minite with miy witte woben. Love, Sean.
YUMMER, you may be older but you're gerting mueh berterl Happy Birthdey. love. Orofino kid.
BEAR- Have tho happiest of birthdays. Love, MOOSIE.
Atractive stud seeks many females for his 22 nd birtuday orgy. Call Thiomas at Vincmat 422-0187.
Female sisuds apek attractive males at Vincent. For further information. cimblem atop 107 and strout.
Betty. The bashful amaconda laments. "No gravy for Berty. I'm bashful.
Latura, Sue and Corey, It is true that advertising students do it better in snowbanks? Lave, the Strangers.
Good News- Puerto Rico, March Brenk-bad nevesw only four seats left-
Don't miss oulf Cell phil 478.0745 Don't miss oull Cell phil 478.0745 or Neal 471-8359
BEAR- Thanks for the groatest 4 months of my lifo. Love, MOOSIE.
Muoth-Heppy Valentine Day. With all my love from Syracuse, dep. P. 5. Happy 1 yoar on 16 th.
OMNISCIENCE tonight at the Jab. Good luck Eric Gonchar, Mike Andreassi. Kendal fackson arxifenury Brent
Hurryl Call AEPMi to order chocotate kisces for your Velentine. 478-9142 or \(\times-4204\)
To Patty B. #1 RA. - Happy 21 st Lowe, Paul, Grep, Mike, Gail, Becky, Jose, and Joanie.

Deke loves their little sideters.
Steve Widrick Mappy B-day to the brgoest Orange Athletic Supporter see you in Sud). Ey the way, ditn't ses you in Sutter's . . . Nord O'dork

It fing fily back! LITLE SISTER RUSH at PHI DELTA THETA One nigtat onty. Twesdey. 13 th 7.10 pm .
703 watiut Aye. 703 Wennut Av.
Ephomeral Erlm: 19 tomortow? MON DIEUIII Your timeless Desuty puts Father Tme to fiphe Love and Bes Wisthes, your Oell B Amis.
Pemsiope. Id tove to have dinner with you- and breakfast. Todd.

Todd- Tarrific! The Student Center serves a grestchempagne breakfest. Tomorrow morning? Penelope.
Dr. Tricia Amoroso: Thanks for the party! Sorry 1 divorced you before marrylne you it's armaxifo wheta litle cheosecakz cen do. Your patient.
OTooles will be grest Sunday, but your present at Wanasink will be betterl Happy Birthdayt Dasitog, Madison Ave, awaits anx-iousty for you Have a great birthday.
See va tonight, Love, 108.
Jill. how about getting those cure buns in action st Greek Pakk 5 might think about faxing thet ormelette too. Love. Hanfo.
"ice Tea's" at the Curtain Calll Sat. nite S.U. debut. Onondaga Plaza lower level. 422-3500 Frbe Parking.
Eix, Curtain Can miskes it sebut this Saturday. Moet me for some "tce Teas." John.

\section*{Lost \(&\) found}

Lost et Sammy on 1/26, biue mutticolor stripe down jecket-REWARD. coior stripe down jecket contact Ginry 5.3-2665
LOST one black carrying case with lerters WTI on it Lost on Ved. Feb. 7 th in roon 42 of Nowbouse if Found, please call TOM Nat \(423-2127\) Or 472-2534.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Private Driving Lensons. Pickup Services. Also 3 mr. Pre-ilicansing classes. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY. \(476-3995\).
MCAT DAT Classes will begin early Feb. at Syracuss. To enroll: call 451 . 2970.

Skiars attention: Complete ski mnd bottom repsir. Fill opuges, sharpen edges, old fashion Hot-Wax, and bindings lubed. $9.00 Also makine old ontoms brand new my spacialty Call 474-9969.

TYPING SERVICE, thesis, dissertation, term, experienced. IBN Selectric. 606 double space, atter 6 457-7846. Mrs. Jones.

Typing of ANY KIND. Done quickly.
Regular or technical. Call \(699-3425\)

\section*{Don't forget your Valentine \\ Put a personal in the Daily Orange classifieds. Avoid the rush, come down now. 1101 E. Adams St.}

Final deadiline is Mon.,
Feb. 12
by
12 NOON

ATTENTION MANAGEMENTT STUDENTS! Returning Amsterdam Management Students cordially invite you to attend a Meeting and Reception
Tuesday, Feb. 13 7:00 p.m.
Maxwell Founder's Rm.
(1st Floor)
Learn from pest participants why the Arnsterdism progrem is so exciting.
REFRESHMENTS, SLIDES & STORIES. Come have a good timel Furtiver info. cell stwve 473-081\%
\(\left\{\begin{array}{r}\text { Dear Jordie, } \\ \text { Happy Anniversary, } \\ \text { Birthday, } \\ \text { & Valentine's Day! } \\ \text { Love Always, } \\ \text { : Barry }\end{array}\right.\)

\section*{SU hopes things go their way}

It's Jan. 27 and Niagara has all but defeated St. Bonaventure. But with two seconds to play and Niagara ahead by two, Donaventare forward Delmar Harrod takes a miaged Niagara foul shot and heavea the ball one-handed in desperation 82 feet toward the Niagera basket.

As time funs out the ball fallecleaniy through the basket. The game (which St. Bonaventure will go on to (win) is gent into overtime.
Harrod's feat is clearly a once-in-acareer thrill, certainly the moat memorable bot he has over made. Right?

Wrong. If you ank, Harrod will tell You the Niagara ohot was nice, but the lefooter he hat over Moobevelt Bonie Last bebson womocic Syractse out of the ECAC playoffs was nicer. Now there was a thrill.

So it goes when St. Eonarenture and Syracuse play in basketball. The games are not so much contesta of gkills as struggles of emotion. Thebat tle reaumes tomorrow night at 8 when the seventh-ranked Orange (Associated Press) travel to Reill in Olean to meet the Bonnies.
"They're always tough at home and they'll be sky high," said SU forward Dale Shackleford, who has gone through four yoars of SU.SBU gamea. "We have developed a good rivalry. We play them once during the regular beason and it geems we play agrin in the ECACs so there's always a revenge factor." factor."

SU'$ Roosevelt Bouie (5O) has usually had the best of it egringt St. Bonaventure't Tim Watarmish - \(\mathbf{3 3}\) ). but the Orange hava only beon .600 egainst SBU in the last two seasons. Tomarrow ts matchup from Olesen can be zeon on WIXT-TV 9 beginning at 8 p.m.
a problem

SU By David Okun SU wreatier Mike Rotunda has a weight problem and it'a not something he can control with a diet. The problem comes in the form of his 324-pound op ponent, Paul Finn, who will lead North Carolina State against Syracuse tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in Manley Field House.
Finn, a tn shman, has com piled a record of 11.111 with 6 pins so far this seamon.
Finn is not the only tough wreatler N.C. State (12-2) will put on display. JimZenz, a 118 pound junior, bringa a 140 record into his match with the nation'e top-ranked 118 pounder Gene Mills.
At 190 pounds SU fremhman Ralph Spinola will have hil hands full with Joo Lidowshi. Lidownali, a two-time Atlantic Coast Conference Champ, has a 10.1 record.
N.C. State's weak points are youth and the 167 and 177 . pound weight clanwen. Frobh 134-pounder Mark Noto (8.1) hat woutled well. but 142.

The odd thing about the SyyacuseBonaventure rivalry in that it has becomesointense in soshort a period of time. (SUE heams have met oniy nine times (SU haw wonseven) in basketball and dian't mtart playing a home-andhome series until the 1974-75 season. The two have eplit the last four meetinge, with St. Bonaventure puiling off the brgest Win latt season in Rochester daring the ECA \(70-68\), on Harrods jumper.

Added to the close competition is the undeniable fact the two teama don't particularly care for each other.
"I expect a tough, emotional game," said Bowie, who mearly attended Se Bonaventure. "They hate me becausel dian't go thereat
Or conaider the feelings of SU coach Him Boeheim on the game: "Imagine being in an all-out war where no prisoners are taken." he gaid.

So it goes.
Reilly Center is a 6,000-seat arena not unlike beveral othera around the East. It sells out rarely (only once in 1978-79). But it sells out for Syracuse and when the Orange play there it becomes a pit of faarnome dimenaiona The place is wild," asid SU cuard Hal Cohen. The place ranks right up there with Manley. It'e great for their team."

\section*{in Olean}

"Manley and the Eonnies' place are the two tougheat placea to plest: Boeheim ndded.
Syracuae's momories of Feilly Center Where the Bonnies are 59-5 under Coach Jim Satalin) are not cherished The first trip in 1975 wat a \(97-89\) SU overtime. The second visit in 1977 was a \(91-84\) Bonaventure victory which was ot as ciose as the final acore indicated.
No one wants to go back
"They'll be sly high," maid SU guare Marty Headd.
"I expect a very, very, very tough game," said SU assistant cisach Bernie Fine. "It's a great rivalry and they're extremely tough at home. Manley is nothing compared to their place. At home w'd kill them. Now we're looking for a rough game.
As usual, the Eonnies got off to a slow start, losing four of their first nine games. Bat St. Bonaventure has won nine of its last 10, gtands at 14-5 and has fallen into that familiar pattern of peaking at the end of the meason as all Bonnie teams seem to follow.
At the forwards are 6-foot-8 Harrod (17.7 points a game bcoring average) and 6-foot 5 Earl Belcher. Belcher only a mophomore, is the ECAC's eighth leading scorer ( 21.4 pointa) and has picked up the scoring slack left by the departed Greg Bandere. Belcher played at Christian Brothers Academy in Syracuse with SU's Hendd.
"Playing against Belchor is weird becaube wer used to be teammatess, Headd said. "Bet. I won't change anything and Trm sure he won"t" Tim Watermint, who has never played well arigat Syiracuse, ir the Bonnies G: gives Et E Finture the bulk needed rebounds a game ilth beat in the ECAC) and he also averagen 9.3 painte a game.
The biggest difference between this St. Bonaventure tearn and those of the past is the absence of Glen Hagan, the codmy and clever guard who aistenty broke the sol. Wress and ran Elenz now having thiat chore, the Bonnies are less explosive on offense Nick Urzetta, the other etartiog guard, is scoring at a 14.5 pace.
But no matter who St. Bonaventure puta on the floor against Syracuse, they seem to play better than-average, especially if that floor is in Olean.
"They are an excellent team,"解 no doubt it will be a great game."
And so it goes every time Syracuse and the Boninies get together.

NOTES-SU may have to face St Bonaventure without sophomore guard Eddie Moss. Moss was admitted into Crause-Irving Memorial Hospital yesterday for observation.
pounder Frank Cabtrignano has been defeated on eight of 12 occasions. At 167 and 177 pounds N.C. State has started an assortment of wrestlers an assortment of wresters 4 of 28 matehes.
"I'rn expecting a very cloae, tough mateh,"* aaid SU ae tough mateh' aaistant coach Brian Schmidt. I distant coach Brian sehmid think it will be too don't thinc it whil be wo different from our meet
To win SU moust get good performancen from two firm pring matmen. Mark DeMeo ping matmen. Mark hamben (10-6-1 at 134-pounds) has op ponents and normally reliable sophomore Tim Catalifo (14-4 et 142) has lost his lest two decisions.

Both have the talent and \(I\) expoct them to break out of their slampa at anytime, Schunidt asid.

Yet no matter what is happens at the lower wreights, Rotundia will till have the tank of keeping the weight, all 324 pounde of it, off his ehoulders.

\section*{SU-takes on Army}

The SU gymnastion team facee its long-time Dartern rival Army tomorrow in a lyey meet at Archbold Gym. The meet becins at 1:30 p.m. begins at Cadets are \(6-1\) this season (only losing to national power Southern Conimecticut) and have always been a power Southern Connecticat) and have always been nemesis for the Orangemen. SU last beat Army four seasons ago. What we need more than anything is to have good Perfommances from everyone, anid SU coach Pani Remeo. "We have to complete 75 to 90 percent of our routines correctly to win.
SU has beconie quite adept at wimning lately, having wet recorda each of the part two weekendin. Baged on acortes, the 1978-79 team is probably the best allsaround equad Fiomeo has ever had at SUS. The kay bas been the new allotment of mcholariships to the team (two a year for a totalof eight) which have attracted some of the better talent in the East to SU.
"We are finaily developing a team with depth," Romen said. years to come.

\section*{Wormen cagers win}

The SU women's.baslcetball taam defeated ithaca \(71-63\) in the second round of the upetate divigion Manmfacturers Hanover Havitational Towrmament. Sue Scholl paced the Orangewomen witly 23 pointia. Syracuite will face Niagara in the Upetate Finall Wedneeday night in Rochomter.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Local residents' dome lawsuit becomes \(\mathbf{$ 2 6}\) million question}

The lawsuit filed by local residents aeeking to top construction of Svracuse Univeraity's new stadium has burgeoned from a "nuisance suit" for.SU, officials to a \($ 26\) million'question.
Last month, three local reaidents filed a lawsuit againgt the Syracuse Planning Com mission, claiming the commision acted arbitrarily when it ruled -that zoning in the stadiumi area did not have to change becanise of the new stadium.
At that time, Clifford. L. Wintera Jr., vice chancellor for administrative

You always get some people who want to get their names in the paper," he observed.
But in the last month, that little suit has become a force that could temporarily or permanently stop construction of the stadium. Leat weak, the lawyer, for 41 residents and Romeow Mobilized for Environmenta Safety (HOMES) filed an amended petition in New York State Supreme Conart againat the daga County Planning Boatd and the City daga County Plavnin
The petition asks for an environmental impact etatement and public hearings on zoning and the impact of the new stadium on the area.
Because of SU's contract with the UDC guaranteeing the state agency will give SU \($ 15\) million in state money, the univergity has to be brought into the president for publicaffairs: SU and UDC will be represented by the Bąme legal firm. Oral arguments on the auit. will be heard Feb. 27 in state Snpreme Court.
The petition is a "show cause orden" Basically, it asks the court to order the respondents to "bhow cause" why work on the project should not be delayed. The petition claims work should be halted because no studies of how the new stadium will affect the neighborhood were conducted.

\section*{. .-.}
The neighbors claim a 50,000 -seat stadium will hurt the neighboriood and are anking the court to order the university not to proceed with construction.
They maintain the new stadium will adversely affect the environment because of the large numbers of people it will attract, and there will be problems with parking, traffic control and rain drainage from the dome's roof.
The stadium will also increase crime in the area and block access to area hospitals, the reaidents predict.
The suit has been expanded in the last month to include more residenta for both legal and political reasons, said Richard A. Schechter, lawyer for the residents.
Legally, a government agency cannot be sued juat because it has broken the law. Residents claim the city and state actedillegally bynot requiring an environmental impact statement. However, only people who are directly affected by the government's action can file suit, Schechter said

The second reason is purely political. We wanted everybody, including the local newspapers and what not, to know that it newspapers and what not, to know that it Wasn thust a couple of malcontents who dont said.

Schechter, a 1972 SU College of Law graduate, emphasized that neither he nor his clients are "anti-university

But he said his clients don't want the new stadium at the Archbold site, "nor at any site that will destroy a neighborhood,
Schechter clamims the university had a few "bogus resions" for not accepting the-Onon-

\section*{In cast but not downcast... P:-16}

Continuad on page iwelve

\section*{Former Air Force cadet díscusses honor code game}

\section*{By Riób Harlegtón}

During a long chemistry exam, a student unconsciouply glances up from his paper, looks around, and spots an answer on the paper next to his. The finishes the test.
"So what," you say, "It happens all the time at any college in the nation." The difference is that this student is at the United States Air Force Acaderny and he has just violated its honor code. Thim is the story of John Smith' (not his real name), once an Air Force cadet, now a sophomore at. Syiracuse University. By copying a number from. another teat, an answer he later reworked and found to be wrong, Srnith committed one of the most serious offenses a cadet can commit and something most civilian students take for granted: cheating
After Smith realized that he might have been caught, he immediately reported the offense to his superiors.
He knew there would be a hearing. but Smith sought refuge in a discretion clause of the honor code. The clañise allows for one violation of the honor code on the condition that the cadet turns himself in.
Smith then attended a meeting with an honor board which consisted of a atatement review and a question-andanswer veasion with twelve other which is rum completely by the cadets. Emith wanfound guilty of cheating and discretion was deemed not applicable. No reason was given for the board'a deciaion. Because Smith had willifully turned himeelf in, he was not eligible for an appeal.
When Smith called his parents and explsined that he would be coming home-they were understaridably upset. However, they xealized there was nothing they could do about the situation. His parents knew their eon had madea mistake, and that he had been puniaked for it
Ina aituation in which he could hiave easily talcenthe role of a maxtyr, Smith easily terchitho role of amaxtyr, Smith has remigned himself to what happenedri he-Garborono ill foolings oward the acadomy.

In that type of enviroininent," he said -"you need something like an honor code to keep up the high standards that come with going to a military academy.

The atmosphere at the academy, located in Colorado Springs, Colo., is fiercely competitive. This ultracompetitiveness is present not only in the classroom, but also on the athletic field.
Honor code violations also include 1 y ing and not reporting found articles such as rings or watches.
Unlike the honor codes of the Army and Naval Academies, the Air Force honor code follows the cadet around everywhere, whether or not he is on th campus. For example, if a cadet found a ring while home on leave, he would be obligated to try and ind the owner, or ace charges of honor code violation. Most of-Smith's friends at the academy were not worried about the board's decision. He had made the dean's list with a 3.11 in aerospace engineering and was a pole vaulter on the varsity track team! He would certainly receive discretion on his violation, they thought-Smith was not as optimistic.
"Ihad prepared myself for the worst, so 1 was not really surprised by the decision of the board," he aaid.
In 1975, about 800 juniors at the United: States Military Academy at West Point were diamissed for cheating: A year later, most were readmitted. Smith said he feels the cadets were allowed to return because of extenuating circumstances: His case is different because he was the only one involved, he said.

Because Smith voluntarily turned himgelf in. .he was granted an honorable discharge. Heisstill eligible to participate in other military programs, such as the Air Force ROTC or the Air Force Reserves. Smith'g goal remains the same: to be an Air Force fighter pilot.
During his 10 -month stay at the Air Force Academy, Smith viewed it, as a training facilit, weekends,? he said. "Even then it's hard to xet off the campus. Weekend passes don't come easy." Smith is no longer at the academy, and his weekends are his own, but sometimes he wonders where he would be if he hadn't turned himself in. Smith displays a deep conviction to the honor code. He feels that if he had the chance, he would handle the situation the same way.
hing"" he said. "I thought the right they (superiors and classmates) would have wanted me to do."

Cheating may be sontathing many coliege fiudent: take for granted. but thid Air Force eadet loarned it can bee werious offense.

\section*{Traffic experts advise parking planners}

Eatablishing bus-only lanes and restricting parking were two auggestions that Syracuse Univergity's traffic consultants gave Friday to a special taisk force developing a traffic and parking plan for the new stadiym.
Harvey H. Kaiser, vice president for facilities administration, said three stafif members of Wilbur. Smith Associates of New Haven, Conn. presented their "preliminary concepts" presented their preliminaryconcepts to the tagk force

The tadk force represents univeraity area hospitals and abórt - 15 neithborhood, city, courty and state agencias. It wan at np by tha Syracape Planning Commiasion and the Uni versity Hill Corp. to develop a way to deal with increased traffic around the new atadium.

Michael A. Quigley, tasix force secretary, said the firm's consultants are scheduled to meet next week with individual members of the task force to discuss their ideas

He said the consultants suggested reatricting parloing next to the etadivm by ispaing perrnits to local residents. Another suggestion was inatituting-a ohuttle eystem to transpoxt peopletrom parline areas to the stadium.
The conpultanta also engerested establishing heiponly lanes on Adame grid EJarrison stareete and on Comestock and Irving avepued on day of event:
at the stadium.
Kaiser said the consultanta have concluded that there is "ample parking" downtown, on University Hill and near Manley Field House.

After meeting individually with task force members, the consultants will present a more detailed plan to the body next month, Quigley said. Kaiber plan by April. Construction of the plan by April Construction of the stadium is expected to begin at the end of March.

Fowever, if the university is required to conduct envinonmental impact studices in the aren, Kaiser said, it conld set the stacium project back a year.

\section*{This past aummer I encountered the following article, which prexerta a contemporary view on blacke solidarity;} contemporary view on black eolidarity:
through its current nole or effect at through its current nole or effect at predominantly white colleges and predominantily white coll

In haht of February being Black Solidarity month and SUPs anhual Black Expressions week, of which this Black Expressions week, of which this yoars theme is education, this article yoars theme is eaucation, this arache opinions that are sure to follow in the coming weeks.

Thomas A. Kilson-Queenan.
The situation, of blacks at white colleges in the past decade has been, in many reapecta, reasonably wellsituated in regard to their ability to adapt to the success-oriented patterna at the typical American college-and eapecially at elite schools like Harvard. However, such adaptation has been hardly fair, at best, and often just plain bad. Why this record of poor ad buat Why this record of poor adachievement styles and success patterng at topirank white colleges?
During the late 1960 s and early 1970 s many if not most black atudents at white campuses lent strident support to antiwhite racial militancy. This militancy and racial separatism remected the anti-white feeling that ghettos.

\section*{Guest Comment: \\ Martin Kilson}

The function of this activity was at leagt twofold: it enabled Negro students to realize a new sense of group-identity in a context where group-identity in a context where heretofore their numbers were too heretofore their numbers were too small to exhibitgroupsolidarity. And it their growing numbers at white inatitutions into greater leverage with which to influence a variety of administrative practices such as administrasive biring of faculty, and missionsic curriculum-especially the academic curriculum-especiall eatablishment of black studies.

The consequences of this pattern of \section*{Letters}

\section*{} would be caused by the domed stadium - blocked driveways, Btrangled trallic patterns, anccess, etc. It all a bunch buance acceas, etc. It is all a bunch of radical envirommentalist baloney. A quick, survey of baloney. A quick, survey of university property indicateg that university property indicates that there is ample room for the necessary parking within a 10 -minute sary parking within u 10 -mann walk of the new facility. To wit:

The Quad: A four-level underground parking garage beneath the main quadrangle would yield about 1,800 parking spaces (an extra 400 if, instead of sod, artificial turf is laid down on the new Quad). This parking could be connected to the atadium by tunnel and, because it would be secure and patrollable, it would be ideal for holders of box seats and visiting dignitaries who might wish to avoid inconvenient dernonstratiors, kidnappers or other rabble.
Student Union Site: Although this gite will elicit howls and yawping from certsin quarters, it will all turn out for the good. construction of the student union construction or the student union garage until a millionaire donor can garage until a milionairedonor can be parsuaded to fund the finishing. Yield: 1,000 cars.
Bird Library: Hopeless in its present function, Bird would be perfect housing for about 800 cars if all seven levels were used. The high ceilings in this brilding would be eapecially useful for vans and recreational vehiclea. In any case, recreational vehiclea. In any case, theft and vandaliam will soon thoft. and vandaliam win soon a level manageable in Carnegie or perhaps in Manley (which would be both roomier and quieter).
Walnut Park: now the home of bontom-up frimbees and a fow God

Professor Martin Kilson. Harvard University, believaez anti-imtellectualism and antiachievement aro widespread emong blacks, it white colleges.
black ethnic solidarity at white colleges were, throughout the past decade, quite mixed. In the Rhort run, black solidarity patterns helped to magnify racist practices at white colleges, thereby forcing revision in auch policies. Furthermore, such features of black solidarity behavior dormitories, and associating excluaively with black peers provided positive emotional or cathartic benefits for black students. It happens that many blacks at elite white colleges, rexpardless of their class backgrounds, situation is rendered manageable, after a fashion, through black solidarity behavior.

Black Magic
In the long run, however, these benefits from ethnic solidarity have, as it were, turned in uport themselves, prouing highly dysfunctional so the academic their general acculturation to the success patterns and the intellectual processes at elite colleges.

Both anti-intellectualism and an anti-achievement outlook have been Widespread among blacks at white colleges. This behavior involves an obsegsive and naive concern with. "acatudents. This anti-achievement behavior is premised on belief in what might be called the "black magic" of black nationalism - the idea that miracles are possible if Negro atudents display fidelity to black nationalism andits anti-white attitudes and rituals. This situation, or some variant of it has already persisted far too long at Harvard and other elite colleges. It is time to return to firet principles - to generalized adaptation by black students to the unique success patterns and intellectual processes that prevail at elite colleges. Why, otherwise, ghould one come to an elite college anyway? If all one wants are the cathartic benefits of ethnic solidarity it makes much more sense to enrollata iypical Negro college like Fisk University. In short, it is necessary for black students to display more white colleges and to begin to exploit the superior opportunities at these collegeen far more effectively than they are doing.

End Ethnic Thumb-Sucicing Itis, then, precisely the nieed to return to a mature perspective toward atzen: ding elite colleges like Harvard that is: ao much in evidence among :Negro: studernts today. Although there, is. certainly much less dyafunctional black solidarity behavior among black students at Harvard today as compared to the years 1969-1975, there remain too many pockets of what might be called ethnic thumb-sucking, among black students, resulting in too much isolation between them and thei and therich variety of succese patterns at Harvard.

\section*{It is Distortion of Reality}

It is, hherefore, precisely this type of contradictory behavior within the trame-work of black molidarity activity by black atudents ait white colleges. They extrapolate from this situation to The reat of life, believing naively that the reat of ife, believing naively that achievement will also be forthcoming. achievement will also be forthcoming:
like black magic, without conts and like black magic, witho

Or, put in the language of blacks on the. atreet corners, black solidarity ex clusion from the succeras patternas at Harvard (the black tables, the black sections of houses, etc.) is nothing more thana cop-out: And unilike the cop-outs that are imposed upon street-cornex blacks by the indifference of the af fuert white majority, the blacksolidarity cop-out on white campuses has little to justify it today. White students, while far from having shed all veatiges of racism, are nonetheless much more mature about racial matters and are both far more decent and less racist than their. parents' generation.
It ia Eme, I think, that black solidarity behavior at Harvard and other white collegep be reevaluiated. It must be necogrnized for what it has beorme: an ethnic thumb-sucking disaster:

Martin Kilaon is a profesuarrof government at Harvard.

\section*{blem: radical \\ environmentalist baloney} add 700 spaces to our inventory. Its elongated configuration would optimize access and egress of vehicles. Lawrinson Hall. This building is patently unsalubrious for ting its tilt, the floors could be removed and, depending on size, removed and, depending on size, between six and eight parking belt-elevators could be hung inside. Yievators cours.
Women's Building Playing Field: The ERA won't be passed anyway. The ERA wont be pacsed and Yield: 300 cars.
Lawrinson Qzad: It's level and it's close Yield: 250 apaces.

Van Buren-Stadium Place Neighborhóa: Going downhill. Only forestry and law students there now in any case: 2,400 spaces.
So far the total is 7.650 , with perhaps another 350 in various nooks and crannies too small to bother listing. This is about half the necessary amount. Extant university-parking will provide much of that; the remainder can be found by paving over the southwest quadrant of Thornden Park ( 5000 spaces), which has become an albatroas about the city's neck lypes, since it is now ang better to do than listen to oversized radios or wax their cars.
From the above incontrovertible facts, it should be plain that the parking problem can actually redound to the university's favorby the maximization of currently under utilized land. Ail these simpering pantywaists who are whining right now will change their tune in 1986 when the Orange

Phil Perainger
Murray Coducei
Mr. Coducei practices architecture extensively in New York and South America. Mr. Persimger hat cirticulettbd his oiewn.

Parking on the Quisd is not such a now ides:

\section*{Voicing viewers' views}

To the editor,
More needs to be said about the viewing habits of the dorm residents than was meritioned in your article "UUTV Encounters Competition." The purpose for UUTV putting can be watched. We have chogen not to eliminate other channels from these sets because it would leave the sets idle when we program our mes sets idle when we program our message wheel. Therefore, channels 2,3 . sage wheel. Therefore, channels \(4,5,7,9\) and 10 ane available.

We hope that when UUTV does program ity shows, students whodo watch theme televisions wil check us out. We realize that you might not want to watch a program, but somoone else might. A quick analogy: Networlcs mitrive for 30 analogy: Networics ntrive for 30 percent viewerahip. If thoy zecesion 25 percent, that ahow will stay-on percent or better, then we are holding ground with our competition and doing better than public broadcasting. Likewise, if there are. 10 people watching a set, and if four want to watch UUTV, we are keeping up with the competition, and doing better than public broadcasting Likewise, if there are 10 people wat ching a set, and if four want to watch UUTV, we are keeping np with the competition, even though the majority of viewers don't choosie UUTIV. If one person wants to watch. we are atill more popular than public broadcasting.
If you watch our shows, let us know what you think. Give us a chance; we've got somethige for everybody.

Hal Schienieer
EIal Schlenger is general mamager

\title{
Dining Services helps itself to more profits
}

In its first majox policy move, the newly formed Office of Residence newly formed Ofrice of Residence and Hining Services has chosen to ignore students wishes and institute a meal package which should please only the office-accountant.

By creating the Custom meal plan, the new office has done little but modify the On-The-Go meal plan and eliminate the popular Commuter plan.
Syracuse University requires all students living in university housing to be on a meal plan. In dining halls; breakfast costa one punch. lunch costa two, and ainner costs three. On-The Go provides 318 punches for \($ 360\) and Commuter provides 195 punches for \($ 236\).
The new Custom plan will offer 30 fewer punches than On=The-Go for only \($ 6\) less. Each punch will cost. 8.8 percent more.
In easence, students will get a slighty amalier meal plan at an inflated price. Those students who will be eligible for the Commuter plan next fall may decide to use plan next fall may decide to use which will cost \($ 118\) moreand stick thern with \(93^{-}\)extra punches.
Director.James B. Morgan decided to push the untried Custom plan so it could be implemented rrext sernester.

Morgan admitted he did nò seek as much studerat opinion on the new plan as he wonld have liked because the plan had to be ready in time for the goard of Trustees" meeting Feb. 2. "We decided to take a gamble with it and see what a gamble with it and see what atudents think, he aaid. It will be another year before the new plan and the Commuter trial program are reviewed and changes can be made.

Despite the new changes, nonresident students may still buy coupons for use at SU's snack bars or they may not use Dining Services at all. However, since nobody has been under obligation to use the Commuter plan, it appears 500 people found a need for a limited meal plan, and that need will not be served in the future.

The new custom plan appeara to be aimed at driving the less profitable Commuter plan out of existence so that students are forced to use a larger and more profitable plan.
In Morgan's own words, "You almost have to be crazy not to go with the Campus; plan (all meals, seven days a week for $536." If one chooses to eat that many meals, then maybe the Campus plan is the most . economical. For many, however, even the Custom plan is too big, too expensive and unwanted. It is customfitted for the uni versity and not its students. Scot French for The Daily Orange

\section*{Divestiture: protest and prescription}

The evolution and entrenchment of apartheid can be accounted for by no single factor in human experience, but economic gain stands out distinctly among ail racial prejudice, love of Thome," perpetaation of privilege, and parsuit of power go far to explain the parsuit of power go far co explain the apartheid or variations on the Eame apartheia or variations on the Eame themartonities and feturns anchor. the Opportunities and returns anchor. way of life, as they aleo tio foreign investors and traders to thatsocial and investors and traders to that social and

\section*{Guest Comment:}

Julian Friedman
economic disaniter there will imperil the economic disazer there win imperin the current wis of livimgand quality oflife. current why ofiving and quancy of inese circumatances, it is lizely to tricere motivations and conduct that maser motivations and condy deatroy can bancrupt and eventually deatroy Compeiling zeason thint the United Nations Gemeral Aseembly and thit worldwide anti-aparthrid movernment have repentedily urged the application of oconomic asnctions againet

In the economic eranctions campai Wh the economic sanctions campaign; Whare do university communitas fit?
Fiyst, questiong frati, Is apartheid something to arbuse such communities to action?. If the angwuer in in the affinmative, as it hould be on moral, political, and academic Erounds, then which forma of action arn appropariate for mnivernitier to mount? Which medmares arte of eh character that is consistemt or compatible with the anture and prorposes of cantere of lasming?

Typuical of the univexwity is the ad vancement and diffusion of lenowledge. Expowrre of apartheid, ate decrading: oppreandive, and dehumaniving for all through description and analysis, is highly imperative, resespeh being ureful to mastatin these-efforte. Nor mally tniverrities axe expected to genorate and encourade open, candid, informed discussions of pablic issues and policies among atudents, univer sity personnel; and alumni. By contrait, it seems totallyinappropriate for the facilities and resources of thene institutions to be utilized for recruitinc armiee or anboteur teams for service

The Daily Orange
Thomes Coffoy watitor in chiof
The Daily Orpact Corp. 1101 E. Adams Sxi, Syracust, N.Y. 13210 ; publisher buaineas (315) 423-2314.

or more effective than divestiture or other tactics in the eampaign to abort white racist practices.
It is clear that divestiture by itself is no economic sanction but is-noteworthy as relevant to such sanctions. It is not to be treated lightily, for it constitates moral endorbement of economic sanctions which United Nations General Assembly reaolutions repeatedly authorize. The "Ihird World" and others favor anch asanctions across the board; the "Weatern" nations have taken an opposing atand.
As for the "sanctions will not work" argument, when utilized in everyday economic tranasactions, theyinevitably economictransactions, they inevitably All have very etriging impact the economies are valaerable. ine constantly and punifively among its constantly and punitively among its own participants and even agains governmente. Corporations employ governmente. Corporakions employ them frequently againat labor, ghem frequentiy againat labor, government, and rivals. They can be made to work; even partial sanctions made to work; even partial sanctions are likely to ahake up the entrenched esare likely to ahake up the entrenched establishment in South Africa. Whbliment in South Africa.
When it compes to the "hurt" to be borne by the South Africans, Asiant, and coloreds, they are already hurting very much. How much more may nceur as the result of sanctions is conjecture. Caution need to be heeded on this score, but virtually no useful studies have been mande of this matter, with findings supportive ornegative. Given the patucity of Lnowledge and analymis, we just do not lnow the range of poesibalities.
Divertiture in the anti-apartheid campaiza is banically a symbolice act of a moral charracter for politicnl ende at well as a political act formoral ends. In this context it in an act of protest and proscription, with the oppremaive proscription, with the oppreastve syistem of apartheid in South Atrica as the target. It in an act of solidrurity with he opponent of apartheidin South Africa and all thear alhes turoughout the werld, It is an act of reapect for all the peaceful efforte, Permonal, arganizational, and United Natione, to destroy apartheid at its roots. In a way it seems ideal for the involvement of a university community in a movement for justice and hiberty:
The case for diventiture by its very nature overukadow the arguments of imprataicalbility. No one can easily pinpoint or forecast consequences of a moral gerturb. Hownver, that there is, in the long run, an impact few people danbt. When apartheid ceases, dives titure will then cret the eradit it deserves. Hiutory just seemil to work that way.
Julian R. Friedinan is a prof ewnor of political science.

\section*{US official discusses Mideast}

By Virginia Doyle
President Jimmy Carter's chances of reelection hinge on a puccessful peace bettiement in the Middie East, according to Robert A. Flayton, a State Department official.
"President Carter's commitment and direction have been great thus far." Flayton told about 20, people gathered recently at a town meeting at the Unitarian Society in Fayetteville. "But he will be a four-year president if the Mideast negotiations fail."
Flayton, a foreign service officer for the Bureau of Congreasional Relations, spoke about the conflicts in the Middle Fast. The meeting was jointly sponsored by the State Department and the State University of New York.
Flayton. who reported on economica and politics for the State Department during the 1967 Arab-Ieraeli War, praiged Carter's efforts for peace largely because of the dramatic. results" of the Camp David summit last September.
At Carmp David, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister

Menachem Begin nigned a ten tative peace asreetment. However, the deadine they set to complete negotiations and sign the peace pact has passed Flayton said this was becaus of the staugpicion of , bot? parties of each other.*
He said that "outaide con ficts" such as the curren turmoil in Iran, have also com plicated the chances of reach ing \(u\) Mid-East peace agreement. Because of th Iranian crisis, Flayton anid, Israel could lose a major source of oil and the accurity of the en tire region could be threatened
It was after the Arab-Lisrael war in 1973 that the United States began to connider Arab rights to a greater extenit than it had previously. Flayton said. As a reault of that war Flayton added, ene U.S aseessed the importance of oil supplies in the region.
It also realized that the Arab-Israeli confict-could result in a major dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union becquae of the Russian influence in Egypt. However, the chances of that conflict decreased wheng Russia became less involved ir Egyptian affairs, he said.

Eqne
We reserve the right to fimit our delivary area.

Push a pencil.
Draw for the D.O.

We Buy, Sell Er Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Megroines

Bring your records to un for cash
Collactions bought e House cmite by appointment
1.000's of recards in stock © Most LP's only 52 - 53 - . Al', records guaranteed - We speciblize in out-of-print records.

\section*{DESERTSHORE RECORDS}
S. Cempur Mall. 730 S. Crouto M.SEt. \(11-\mathrm{B}\{472-323 \mathrm{~s}\}\)

> ATTENTION MANAGEMENT STUDENTS! Returning Amsterdam Management Students cordially invite you to attend a > Meeting and Reception
> Tuesday, Feb. 13 7:00 p.m.
> Maxwell Founder's Rm. (1st Floor).
> Learn from past perticipants why the Amsterdam program is so exciting.

> REFRESHMENTS, SLIDES & STORIES Come have a good time! Further Infó. call Steve 476-C319

\section*{SU drama stars in its own success story}

Editors Note Thie is the fourth parting ing Opera Honse and the Empire in eight－part aeries on the arto af \(S U\) ．Theater． an eight－part aeries on the art⿳亠丷厂彡

Musical reviews are written in rehearsal．That in the axiom that we vaguely understood back in February when we first bagan rehearacla：In the six harrowing wehs since then we have acquired a profourd appreciation have acquired a profourd appreciation of that innocent，sounding statement
The（first）couple of weeks went something like this：rehearachs from 7 till 11，and then 3 or 4 hour session（s）to discuss what was being done and what chartges might be made

One nusht，after three weeks of rehearsal；．we realizgd that the show just wasn＇t rizht ．．Skita uere thrown aut，parts were recast，and the music reshuffed，Professor Falk attended rehearanls and helped rework the rehearadis and helped rework the materials so that everpining show was contandy changing．

As these words are written，we know that aomehow the show will open，ard we know too how a Broadway producer of mitwicals must feel after plaing Bos－ ton，Philadelphia and New FIaven with a different ahow in each city only to find he must rewrite again before he opens in New York．

Long Live Love＂， ＂Long Live Zove＂
A permonal drive to produce theater Jerry Stiller many SU crads like to continue on to tinuation of dramatic activities at SU has always depended on that en－ thusiasm．
But the evolution of theater at SU from extraourricular to＂concincicular＂ to curricular，has brought about a change in the approach and objectives of theater at su．

Emphasis to train actors has ireplaced the dirive to produce more， longex－rmming shows．Aroductions， initiative have become credited parts of the curriculum．

Froms the manall 1903 drama club to today＂a＂profeasionally oriented＂ drama deparment，campus theater academice acceptance． Theater beeptance．
Theater began atSU in 1903 with the formation of Boar＇s Head．Boar＇s Head Waf a drama club dedicated to the production and promotion of theater on campus．

Boar＇s Head grew in strength and thrived through the 1940s，producing fow full－lemgth plays a year in downtown theaters，auch as the Weit－

For Boar＇s Head bluwa the 3,000 seat theaters were always old out．One 1907 article told how ．Eratermities had sent 10 p unden 10 p．m．the night before the tickets went on sale for the B of＂The Rivale．＂
Original play contesta began in 1915. reallimg in the presentation of more than 30 one－act plays a year．Boar＇s Head had established itself as a powerful student group in control of powerful stude theater at SU．
Boar＇s Head mernbers Ereatly valued their right to prodnce their own produc－ tions．There was a strong negative reaction when，in 1927，Sawyer Falk was brougiat in to create a drama Gepartment and run Boar＇s Head．
Boar＇s Head members unanimously voted the cluis out of exiatence，an nouncing that they would．leave the field entirely in the hands of Mr．Falk． After some discussion with the ad ministrationy Boare Head was reinmeated and allowed to continue ite regular functions with Mr．Falk＇s Euidance．
Falk＇s firet SU production，＂Mr． Pitt＂included famous SU alumnus Sheldon Leonard．Leonsardinas gone on to produce aueh TV aeries as＂I Spy＂ and＂My Favorite＂Martian．An SU revival of Mr．Pitt saw Eroadway ac tor and director Paul Crabtree in the title role． After World War II，Boar＇s Head began to lose its control of SU theatre． With a great influx of atodents the dramadepartment began toincrease in faculty and evriculum．A co－curricalar approach to theater began to take ohape，whereby students would produce shows on their own time with facalty suppart．
As one of the pioneers of academic college theater，Sawyer Fall maw the department through its early frowth． His 34 years as head of the drama department marked a struggle for the acceptance of theater in the acadernic community．A shortage of money left the department understaffed．
SU＇s promise to build him a theater was never realized in Falk＇角 yeare at SU．Inatead，productions were done everywhere from the second floor of Slocam Hall to whatever local theater was available for lease．
In the coming years，the department Wan to move geveral times，In the 1930a， the Civic Treatre on South Salima Shreet，now the Follies，was leased After that SU leased the Harvard movie house on Westcott Street．When that lease expired，the theater was noved to the Nurse＇s recreation Build－ ing on Soütli Crotuse Avernue．
The longent－runmings show in SUPE history took place in this thenter．＂Ihe Bourgeoise Centlemin，＂starring actor Jerry，Stiller；ran for 33 performancen． A collection of pictures andi writings on the production claim ita success as the ＂result of the correlation between clas－ aroom theory and rehearsal hall prac－ tice． Machinery Hall was the last home of SU theater in the Sawyer Faic era．The Coronet and the Boars Head theatars were built in the secord floor and the acene shop was built in the basement At this time，Merry Reidenbaugh joined the staff after completing his

Drama at 51 years ago featured a variety of today＇s professionalm．This 1953 student production of White Bucks and Tails＂wtarred Peter Falk（becond left）and Bob Dishy（center）．

In later years，Reidenbaugh was to succeed Falk as head of the drama department

While in Machinery Hall，many preaent day stars of the stage and screen emerged．Each year aix to eight major productions were presented ander the supervision of Walk．Every show ran at least 20 performancea．
Original student musicals in the \(1950 \mathrm{~s}^{-}\)were also produced by the atudent group，TTamborine and atudent

One musical，＂White Bucks \＆Tails，＂ involyed several notable SU alumni The director，Ierry Leider，I later became president of Warner Brothere televiaion and now heads his own production company that makes many of rodays TV movies
Writimg the script for the show was Bill Persiky，who later created the hit TV series，＂Ihat Girl．＂Masic waty by Bill Angelos，who became head writer for the＂Carol Burnett Show，＂and Lanny O＇Kun，whocreated the TV clas－ aic＂The Littleat Angel．＂
In the caat were Peter Falle of ＂Columbo．＂who was a grad student in business，and Bob Dishy，Broadway and TV comedian．Peter Falle and Bob Dishy have gill rettined their mriendinip over the years．

Bob Dishy only wante to do the beat scripts and the best parts，so he doesn＇t always work．When he tuns out of money，he calls Peter and Peter puts him on Columbo，＊zaid Reidenbaugh．

Other notable students from this period were Marvin Chomwhy，director of the TV special＂Holocaust．＂Frank Langella，recent star of the Broadway Langella，recent star of the Broadway hit＂Dractala，＂and Gil Cand

Roadway and movie proditucer． departmentis createst growth．In his ten years as head of SIV＇s drama department，from 1961－1971，the department grew from 39 to 182 stuclents．
Reidenbaugh helped create the profesgional acting company tre New Playhoume，＂the forerannex of Syracure Stage，to rive students a chance to worke with profesnionals．The construction of a lomg－awaited permanent theater was also brought about by Reidenbaugh．The Regent theater complex still housem the drama department today．

Studento from Reidenbaugh＇s eranare just now beginning to make it on the professional scene．＂It usually takes about 12 years for guys to come out of the woodwork＂aaid Feidenbangh．
Junt coming out of the woodwork now are Allen Williams，！67，who played the title role in a recent NBC placial on Abe Lincoln，and Anne special on Abe Lincoln，and Anne Aaner＇s divorced daughter on the Lou Grant show．
In 1974，meveral years after Reiden－ baugh left to become associate dean of the College of Visual and Performing Arts，a gearch went out to find a replacement who would head the drama department and the profes－ sional theater，now Syracuse Stage．A cornmittee came up with acfor／director Arthur Storch．
Since Storch＇s arrival in 1974，the department has undergone its most drastic changes．A＂profesmional orien． tation＂has been developed，restricting theater to the classroom and sup－ plementing that training through con－ tact with Syracuse Stage．
This＂profesgional orientation＂has prompted a more interaive training program．Drame etudenta are now Giver，corree medit ama acting credit for their work in department whows．They are discomraged from doing produc tire discotrraged enside the departiment，while tions outside the departiment，while appear in departinent productions． appear in ciepartment productions．
This removal of theater from hem general student comumuity has brought about the need，once agein，for purely extracurricular theater on cam－ pua．To Fill that gap SU Masical Stage was created in Fall 176 and has produced two or three full scale musicals a year gince ther．
Today＇b SU grads still face the probiem of breaking into the binginese． One＇ 78 SU grad has already landed her first job．Last summer，Dorian Lopinto was talren from her NBC page job and put on as a regular to the sonp pera＂The Doctors．
But for many SU grada it will not be that easy．To make it they will have to bring with them more than theiracting gails．They will also nead to show the drive，enthumiasm and ambition that their SU＇predecessors have demonstrated．

\section*{Save at Siegel＇s}

OF MARSHALL ST．
on color print processing only \(2^{30}\) 12 exp．
only \(3^{39}\)
20 exp．

\section*{HUGHES}

Siegel＇s for everyday low AN EQUAL OPRORTEATIY EMPLOYEN M／F

\section*{'The Boolsstore Loves}

We have sweetened up our prices to make this Valentine's Day one you'll surely remember.' Savings in every deRartment (except Text). These advertised specials. good thru Friday, Feb. 16. Shop early for best selections...

\section*{MAIN FLOOR}

\section*{Valentines Day Cards \\ Heart-to-heart expressions for those} you love and care for.

Sleeveless V- Neck Sweater
Navy with S.U. block print
SALE PRICE

\section*{Men's Warm-up Suits}

Specially priced for your Valentine Double fleeced \(100 \%\) acrylic fiber. Colors: green or royal blue with white stripe
THIS WEEK ONLY!
SPECLAL PRICE
Jacket - $9.95 Pants - $6.95

"A body should have it so good."
Men's Full Zipper, Hooded Sweatshirts Heavyweight, 50\% Creslan. 50\% Conton. Full zipper. Muff pockets, double thick drawstring hood. Long sleeve. Solid color to unit:Navy. Red, Oxford, Forest.Green
\($ 12.45\)

Men's Sweat Pants Navy, Oxford Gray \($ 7.00\)

\section*{New Sbipment Just Received}

Adult Hooded Sweatshirt
Fleeced sweatshirt with double thickness hood with drawstring: Colors: Navy. Oxford Gray, Lt. Blue \($ 9.50\)

Your Bookstore features a most complete line of decorative greeting cards especially for Valentine's Day.

Not to mention:

\section*{Valentine's Candy}
-Box chocolate hearts -Party mix

\section*{Valentine's Gifts.}
-Trina Beauty Mirror
Gift boxed for your sweetheart
Reg. \(\mathbf{$ 9}\)

And-for your favorite...-.
Charlie Products
- Dusting Powder

Concentrated Cologne
-Body Silk 2 oz.
-Body Silk Foam 4 oz.

Jontue Products
-Cologne Spray 3 oz.
-Natural Spray Perfume
\($ 7.50\)
-Fralche Cologne 5 oz.
\($ 7.00\)
\($ 6.00\)

\section*{Syracuse University Desk Calendars}
reg. s3.50 - SALE \($ 1 \mathbf{F}^{75}\)
Selected Women's Socks
- Knce Hi's
\(30 \%\) OFF

\section*{CAMPUS CASUALS - Winter Clearance}

All Girls'. and Guys' Sweaters and Knits... HALF PRICEI

All Winter Outerwear Disco Slacks 25\% OFFI

All Thermal Undervear \(25 \%\) OFFI

\section*{All Winter Boois}
by Timberiand, Bass, Dunham

\section*{20\% OFFI}

\section*{CAMERA DEPT.}

Featuring a complete line of Hewlett-Packard and Texas Instruments calculators.

Now thru Friday...

\section*{All Calculators}

\section*{10\% OFFI}

Paterson Enlarger - Reg. $181 SALE $124.95 (only 1 left!)

\section*{GENERAL BOOK DEPT. -First Floor}

\section*{GIGANTIC PAPERBACK SALE!}

Selected Books - Your Choice
4 BOOKS FOR \($ 1.00\)

All 1979 Calondars now \(\mathbf{3 0} \%\) OFFI

\section*{MAIN FLOOR}

Many of these items also available at Mt. 0 & Skyshop

MT: O BOOKSTORE
Basament of Graham Dining Hall
M-F11-7:30 SAT. \(10-4\)

SKYSHOP BOOKSTORE
Famm Acre Rd. Carriage Housa
M - F11:30-7:30
SAT. 12-6

\section*{Iceman}

The scoreboard telle all. Syracuse guard Hal Cohen (10) has just been fouled by Lacey Fulmer of St. Boneventure with 30 seconds left and Syracuse lazading by two. 71-69. Cohen, who has mit crucinl ifee throws in the last seconds emainst Temple and South Carolins this meason. did it again. making one of two and helping break the Bonnies" 19-garme home-court winning streak. Cohen-piayed all 40 minuses and finished with 17 points with tive-for-nine whooting frort the fioor.

\section*{Swimmers sink Larries}

Something happened. The injury-plagued SU men's swim team overcame both aelf-pity and the efforts of St. Lawrence ta win latit Wedneaday night. 72-40.
Diver Rick Bolstad continued his quality performance of late with wins on the 1 -and 3 -meter boards. Teammate Steve Rusself was sidelined with an ear injury. but will resume competition soon.
Sophomore Peter Garafalo whom Coach Jon Huzzard calls
"a tough competitor," swam well in the 200 -yard freestyle.
Freshman Guy Gunderson took two firste in the 200 yard individual and 200 -yard backatroke, while another freafman. John Royaton, won the 200 -yard butterfly.
Monday night, the Oranigemen (4-6) will meet Cortland at home at 7 p.m.
"They're one of the stronger tearns in the SUNY aygtem, featuring some strong local swimmers." Buzzard said. "But we have the ability to win.
-Myra Arongon

\section*{Gymmasts fall to Army}

Uaually when a gymmastics team scores 205 points in a meet, it should win. But int thia Aeazon of high-scoring matches for the SU gymnasticas aquad. 205 was not enough to win a pivotal Eaftern match with Army at Archbold Gym on Withay. The Cadets eqeaked by SU 207.30-205.40.
With the win, Array improves to \(7-1\), and beata back a Syracuac bid to move by them into second place in the Eastern SU( 5 (5-3).
In (5-3), just off a record-Eetting performance against the Univergity of Massachusetts with 206.82 points last week,
Won three first places in the meft.
Wernior Barry Gropper Won the pommel horge competition What Rich Noberts won the for exercise. Bil Carbanou won a silm victory over teammate Mickey Kiefer on the paralle] b alm victory over teammate Mickey Nefer on the paralled forts in vaulting and the high bar (both 9.25 scores) to help the forts in vau

\section*{Wolfpack tamed by wrestlers}

The Syracuse University wrestlers won their second tough match in four days, defeating North Carolina State 26-19at Maniey Field Howee Satarday Top-ranked 118 -pounder Geme Mills won the battle of unbestent es he pinned the Wolfpack's Jim Zenz in the final unbertent an he pinned the Wolfpack's Jim Zenz in the final period for his \(20 t h\) win of the season. It was Zemx's first losa in 16 matches.
However, it wan heavyweight Mike Rotunda who opened eyed when be won a decision over State's freshman sensation, Paul Finn. Rotunda won a 6-1 decision over Finn, a 324pounder who had lost only once before facing Rotunda.

Syracuge freshman Mark Demeo won a crucial super guperior decision over Mark Noto in the 134 -pound weight Lase, 103.
John Dourberty topped a run of three consecutive. Wolfpack victories after hemeo's win with a default over Mark peters in the \(167-\) ponna braciret Junior Mince Ponza then followred pound clana.

OLEAN, N. Y. - To &et to Reilly Center from Syracuse, you take the Desolate Expressway until it rolls into the Enchanted Mountains of Southwestern New York and the picturesque campus of St. Bonaventure University.
St. Bonaventare stadents will tell you there isn't much to do in Olean, a town of 20,000 surrounded by mountains, farms, a snowbelt and not much elae. You can eate in a movie at one of the three theatera, or go bowling (one popular alley is named Lhowlean"), or watch the mercury hover around the zero mark, or well below, for most of the winter. And, once every two years, you can hope to be a member of the 6,000 pilly Renter Reilly Center to watch the Bonnies tangle with Syracuse, which is three hours or so and a Syracuse, which is three hou gnowntorin or two to the north.
Saturday pight, before the two tearns renewed their bitter rivalry in Olean, acalpers were demantheir bitter nivalry in Olean, acalpers were demanding as much as \($ 35\) for tichets to a game that was sold out last October. Inmide Reilly, the thirdgold out last October. Inmide Reilly, the thirdlargest crowd in history, 6,125, cramined in to well feverishly.

Leading the Bonaventire cheers was punk rock's answer to a college pep band, the Bonnies" hideous musical ensemble that featured an irritating electric bass guitar. Behind the Syracuse baiket in the second half, meanwhile, members of the press were treated to the wound of two ear-pplit-lot, would pound whenever St. Bonavent on the warpath, Which was al too often.
Thanicfully, the Bonnies' Brown Indian mancot Whanciully, the Bonnies Brown Indian mapoot wan more docile than his predecensor, who was dismissed last week for harasaing opposing playets from Fairmeld andiCanisitus and for rumning onto the court during those grmes. Such aninfiraction perhaps winhing to leave fieilly alive, never called per
One official almost dida't get out of Reilly alive after he called Eonnie forward Earl Eelcher for stepping on the baseline - and turned the ball ver to Syracute - with St Bomeventare leading 6867 mad \(3: 81\) lef in the game.

The cal prompted one drunkes, bearded lumber. jack typer co lunge at the official, fats awinging. before an usber punhed him mnevermoniously onto the foor. Shortly therester, tecurity guards conincated severnil malif-ampty bottle or beor from the mob of thadant two tat ilize a pacit of wolves encircling the court.
That's all righs, one of the studentemad writh Laugh. "We"re mhready drunk.
50 hontile it the Erowd-towards anything remotely comnected with Byracme that, two yeare ago. The Daify Orange writer covering SUP日 91 oos in Reilly returned to his seat, after halftime and it covered writh vomit Being a Syracusan in Reilly warnit anch nauseating experience Saturaisy night: brt
> "That's all right," one of the students said with a laugh. "We're already drunk wasn't partictularly enjoymble for sU Roomevelt Bonie, who hats becomo Prublic tis Namber Oner in Oiean since he chowe to Syracuse ingtead of SL Eonnveatprexit:
Engex, in fract overeangex, to alemae tho L . taunts directed at him, Bonie mucted three and the result was an if. momeone hiad pricis gtill higher decibel levels.
"He wanted to otuff ring to death, bit he w" He wanted to stuf on to deach, buthe wio Hancioun,

Asked how ancious ho wat to play at B Bowne replied with a amile after the game, "tht, anxious I feel about this placei zerentout of h unt hept smiling at them (the fans). tipuring couldin't keep it up. They mout have thougitl crazy."
Crazy, perlanpe, but twro Orancerisen who fit key roles in SU's win, Dale Shacirieford and Cohen, rather enjoysd their adversomarcound
"It was mo deafening out thexer" Cphemy But a-rocal crowd matres yon ping better: al out to male that little otreal and divor for shackleford, pertuape sounding fink with a grin added, - expoy people yoling bea moe khen you that in then we proved tom any place. We comuld
Syrecuee conch Jim Boshoim, hoveverizy
Syractate comedn dim Bopheim, howevery probably countemplate anothor trip downs
 "And I've beare to momile real Eputern I vecurdy 'And I've bean to vomio real Emptern well, the pith But in the end, the plee that hag in the padtwif dewolation for. Syrucase findly: gaver Orantrmen in expeharting mormens.

\title{
SU breaks the Bonnies
}

\section*{By'soel Btabhenico}

OLEAN - A pit no more, Reilly Center thurnped to the Rolling Stones leas than an hour after Syracuse had beaten St. Bonaventure 74-69. But while "Shattered" blared on the Bpeakers and most of the Bonnie student body sipped mixed drinks on the ficor, same stood contempiatively on the court and shook of the Bonñie fone as it seare (20-2) had of the Bonnie fans, Syracure (20-2) had survived the madnems of Reilly Center and outlisted the Bonnies \((15-5)\). The win otkiasted the Bonnies (15-5). The win ning. streak at Reilly as well as SBU's seven garne winning streak. It also went a long way toward destroying the bad mernories of a night a year ago in mernories.
Rocher.
The Orangemen had cracked the Bonnies behind Dale Shackleford, who acored 18 points and pulled down' I rebounds. They did it with a center, Roosevelt Bouie, who had to bettle both the Bonnies and a hostile crowd of 6,125 . And SU did it without the services of Eddie Moss (stom ach disorders) and an effective Louis Orr.
"Dale does the job when he has to," said SU coach Jim Boeheim. "When he feels that Louis and the guards are playing well he lays back. But when the guy puts his of a player, Ill tell you.

SU needed that one player against the Bonnies, who as expected played as if possessed before the third largest crowd in Reilly Center history.
"Coach said if I got the ball on the wing to take it to the hoop," Shackleford said. "He wanted to let me shoot some mare than I have been and to penetrate more." Syracuse penctrated through and over the St. Bonaventure defense early, opening up an 18-8 lead after five minutes behind Shackleford and Marty Headd. But blowing out Bonaventure at-Reilly Center is as hard as beating Syracuse at Manley. Behind Nick Urzetta (22 points) and Delmar Harrod (19), the Bonnies played the crowd and the Syracuse man-to-man defense beautifully. They caught up at 27-27 on Hacrod's three-point play off a fastbreak, and trailed by only two at halftime, 37-35.
And all this despite the fact Bonaventure shot only 33 percent from the field in the half.
"I felt we would shoot much better in the second half because we'renormally a good ghooting tearn"" gaid Bonnie coach Jim Satalin, whose club averages 51 percent from the field.

Bouie, who fueled deafening heckling from the Bonaventure crowd by missing a ctuff in the first half ("I was pushed by Urzetta," he remarked,, wais clearly the winner of the Most Unpopular Orangeman award. However, he ohut out the hostility with ia strong second half, scoring SU's first five points as SU again rallied. A Bouie dunk from a Shacklefond feed with 14:24 to play put Syracuse ahead 51-43.

But back the Bonnies stormed, capitalizing on sloppy ballhandling by 51 - for bonaventure tied the score at 51 51 a fow minutes later and then began to trade baskets with Syracuae. Eight ties later, Bonaventure took its first and ligt lead ar the gavie at foul shots with 409 to play.

Xet here Shackleford took control; settrogup Headid for a layup and then concould gcore only two more points for the rest of the game. Headd clinched the win by calmly ginjing two foul ahots with 19 gecond to \(\dot{\text { go }}\), putting SU up by thiree.
"Uale-just took control." said Cohen, who played all 40 minutes and brought the ball up court alldayagainst the SBU presaure. "He ahowed what a great player he is. I Euess tonight we wonted to show them we are a pretty good team, too."

The win represents the fifth year in a row the Orange have won 20 or more games. It was also the 14 th win in a row for \(S U_{\text {. Which figures to improve its ran- }}\) kinga (7th in AP, 10thin UPI) with the two wizs this week.
Yet after the game the talk kept coming back to Shackleford.
"Shackleford was the key," Satalin said.
"I told him this week he was most effective from shooting in the lane after pump falring," aaid SU assiatantcoach Brendan Malone, who Boeheim cretited after the game with helping the senior captain's region ECAC playoffs. The thought was shot, "I think the whole game is mental definitely in the mind of SBU center Tim and he was a little down after South Carolina."
"Shaick is the icey player when the pressure is on," Harrod said. "He came through tonight""
And so did SU, which survived two tough road teats this week and whoshould roll to a \(24-2\) regular season record
"It seems to mie that for us to get into the NCAAs and down the road into the Final Four. Dale Shackleford is going to have to tonige over in key situations, like he did added.
And the odds are good that the next key situation for SU will come againgt the two and a half weeks during the Upstate

\section*{Hot shots}

Syracues's two top bcorera; Roosevelt Bouie (50, top) and Dale Sthackleford (33. left) found the shooting touch often in St. Bonuventure Saturday nipht. teored 14 pointz while Shackleford had

The friendily Mantey Zoo wee a fong way from St . Bonaventure for SUMead Comeh Jim Booheim (with glasees) and his teann.

\section*{Senate Seats are now open in the following schools:}

\section*{Management (1)}

\section*{Architecture (1)}

\section*{Newhouse (1) Arts & Sciences (1)}

Letters of intent are due on Fri, Feb. 16 at 5 pom.

Any questions call Morris Levine at \(\mathbf{x} 2650\). STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Digital is unlike most companies its size (over a billion in computer sales). Were structured to encourage the unfettered and unconventonal. That's the way we like our people, And that's the nature of opportunity here.

Our professionals make their own beds. And they contribute from the day they start. We expect it. They expect it. No one's disappointed.

II you're a top CS or EE major -and you've got what it takes to make your way in our kind of company -let's talk. But if you like routine, the comfort of a crowd: and cant reach beyond your grasp, see the competiion. For information about your kind of compang. contact the placement office.
by derry Zaremild Student Association": teacher evaluation guide will be ready for dimkribution by September, according to Jim Naughton, acting editor of the side.
The guide will consist of personal critiques by students Naughton said. Students will go to classes, observe teachers' performances and then write 100 to 125 word critiques of the teachers.
Naughton said he hopes to get at least 20 to 30 people working on the guide. "The more people we get, the more tiencherw well be able to cover," he said.
Each volunteer will evaluate four or five teachers. for or five teachers. Naughton said SA hopes cover at least 100 teachers.
He said he expects to He said he expects to Evaluate teachers in Maxwell, Management. Other schools Management. Other schools may not be as well covered because fewer students from those schools will participate, Naughton predicted.
"Ind Hike to cover all the schools. If a lot of architecture students want to participate, teachers. But someone from another school could not evaluate architecture teachers. Item all up to tine studentsinithe school.".
"We could put a guide out with 10 people," Naughton added. "We'd like to do better. though."

Naughton maid he in requesting $11,000 from the SA finance board to pay for the snide.

A permanent editor will be chosen after the finance board hearings, Naughton maid. The editor and two to five assistant editors will receive a stipend.
SA is considering charging e a mall fee for the gride, Naughton said. "It would cost .50 cents, tops."
"Working on the guide will be challenging 'creative and interalin "inarhton sid interesting. Naughion anal. A lot of people are excited about it:
Work on the guide will begin soon, he said. Anyone interested in helping should come to a meeting tonight at 7:15 in Maxwell Auditorium.

\section*{VOLKSWAGENS ONLY}

\section*{Expert}

Repairs

\section*{No RIP-} Offs l

478-1106
144 Ball Circle
(next to Danzers on Ainsley)

\section*{Building Your Body Beautiful at}

\section*{Syracuse} Sports Conditioners

Now ONLY during the - Month of February 2 people can get in shape for the price of 1
Women as well as men can enjoy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program which features significant reduction of body fat while developing strength and flexibility. Only two 45 minute sessions a week are required to maintain that slim trim look call Steve or Bob to make an appointment for your
FREE TRLAL 476-2274
Syracuse Sports Conditioners
716 East Washington St. across from the midtown Pine

\title{
Say it silently: Woman sells pantomime messages \\ prociation of mime," she said. "In fact, \\ imaggine being left standing on the
}

\section*{By Remé Thurai}

A woman with a white, clownish face greets you at the door. Suiddenly. without a word, ahe begins drawing hearts in the air and blowing kisees, mes you stand in surprise and awe. She is trying to tell you something.-
Ir an answer to Western Union Mime Lowise Jensen offers Syracuse its. first Mime-a-Gram service by delivering silent messages throughout the city Califirst got the idea from a friend in Cald mina," the lithe Jensen said. She started delivering personal message in mime. So I thought Syracuse needed a shot in the arm.
The 24 -year-old mime began doing Mimen-Grama in Decamber. "I can count the number of messages I've count the number of messages ive "However, I ama working on a promotional packiage for imyself which promotional package for myself which Jensen recently delivered a message at.R.J. O'Tooles to a woman from her at. Roytiend. In a ghort shit, she panboyfiend. "In a short shit, she pant tomimed.

"The girl had an interest and ap-the whole place was responsive. You really need a epecial audience."
Jenten said when she performs mime in malls or on the atreet, she meets an indifferent audience. People have sometimes even asked-her to leave themalone.
'You never know how people' will respond," she eaid. "When I perform in the theatire, I know my audience is selected and prepared. Out on the enveet, Inever know what to expect."
Jensen said children are her best audience. "They are more willing to participate," she said. "With adults, I have to coax and coax them to enter into the mirne.
Although Jengen is usually called to appear at children's functions, she has had a few unusual requette for Mime-a Grams. :A man asked me to do a nude mime for a otag party," she laughed. "I told him not for \($ 15\) !
Excluding such cases, Jensen asid she will do any message to order. She asks the caller to state the precise message and then creates it in mime. For the \($ 15\) fee, she delivers a three to six minute alit "anywhere in the city.
"My biggest fear ia soneone not let ting me in," she said. "I can junt dooratep in a blizrard.
"So fari" abe added, "the pernon who ordered the message has always been with the permon receiving it eo at least someone, has known I would be coming."
Jensen has had experience in many anpects of theatra, including directing: and acting. In 1977 she participated in the Artist in the Schools program in Syтасиве.
"My interwst in mime began towards the end of my college education when I discovered I had a talent for it," she said. "However, I have not found much opportunity for mime in Syracuse.
In Auguta, however, Syracuse will sponsor the annual North American Mime Featival. Syracuse University will be one of its hosts and Jensen plans to participate nlong with other local mimes. She said she hopes the show will mpark an intereat in mime in Syracuse.
Until the festival, Jensen will continue to use her art in as many different ways she can to reach people - including Mine-a-Grams.
'I'll deliver a mime on a bus or even climb in windows,* sho said.

Mirme touise Jensen doltwers a ald Mime-a-Gram 20 an area resident. Whether it is for a birthdey, mniversery or just friendahip, densen will give a message in mime anywhere in the city

\section*{Professor has unique concept of education at SU}

By Walecia Korirad Dressed in a loose-fitting turtleneck and blue jeans, Arthur Evans LeGacy sat on the edge of his chair and spoke about education at Syracuse University

According to LeGacy, associate professnr of history and film at SU, students are auffering from a collective

Arthur E. LeGacy

\section*{Write news.}

\section*{PALMISANO}

TELEVISION
Sales and Servica
204 Union Place
SALE OM ALEUNCLAIMEO SETS
Black 8 White Portabites \(\mathbf{s i n}^{-1}\) Color Sets Mortables. Table \($ 95^{\circ 0}\) - \($ 195^{\circ \circ}\) cuaranteed
422-7509
471-3433
inferiority complex because they are not enrolled in collegen like Harvard and Yale. "The feeling that students are dopes is the only thing wrongy with education at SU,* LeGacy said. He considers this attitude to be his major enemy in teaching.
In combatting this attitude, LeGacy encourages atudents to take an open-minded approach to learming. The 44-year-old professor believes knowledge gained from studies is far more important than the place of atudy.
LeGacy concentrated for \(a\) mimute and then detailed his teaching philosophy.
"The educational process consists of three elements: geduction, transformation and eeduction, transformation and corching to Ledirey, mednction corking to ledacy, seduction is the rewnird systins in education, such, as goon grades. trangiormation cepresents the work involved in obtaiming the grades, and in obtaiming the grades, and evaluation reflects upon the learning in class. He callea thís evaluation

LeGacy hopes understan ding the learning process will motiyate students to continue their educationis, whether it is at SU or Yale.
LeGacy admits studenta who arem't as excited about learning as he is about teaching are a blow to his ego. "But it doesn't bother me overall, becanse I'm more than an ego," he said.
LeGacy also described teaching as thinking in front teaching as thinking in tront of other people. You must be epontaneous, confident and have a certain amount of raport with tixdente" he skid, and paused. "It's kind of embarrasinfr, too, to do someth ing as private

Sitting in his office, surrounded by-unorderly shelves stacked with books on their sides and papers sticking out between thepages, LeGacy quickly capsulized his I3 years at SU.

He gtarted an head of the American studies program. After 7 yeara he left the program to become part of the history department. He was unhappy in the American studies program becsuse, "You can't be a professor without beingin a departaent. It's partof the politice of a waiversity. lt's like being an American and not living in one of the states."

During his early years as part of history department, LeGacy began teaching "the image of the city" using films. However, the class was listed under, history. "I didn't ask permission or anything," LeGacy explained, smoothing his graying hair. "I just started using film in class like a document, the way a historian uses a diary or the board of trustees uses minutes."
Eventually, "the image of the city" was crosaliated under history and film. LeGificy says its important to use something visual to explainurban history because, "The image of the city is as important as the city is as important as the city itself. It's everywhere but its not examined, LeGacy uses several fims to teach the class, several fims to teach the class, including his own film, including his, own film, "Cityacape One," a New York State Council of the Arts award winner. LeGacy has also made three other firma dealing with the image of cities and urban hiatory.
Aside from filminaking and his academic duties, LeGacy is a member of the board of trustees to asve Landmark theatre and founder and executive director of the Childrens School, an elementary bchool that does not grade th pupils; 3800 Genesee St .

At the Children's School, students are grouped according to ability ingtead of age. LeGacy explained that he originated the achool when his daughter was ready to attend schoolin 1968 . I wanted har of a go to a goodschool explained. "So I made a whole new system."
Perhaps LeGacy's desire to change the traditional education system and excite atudents about learaing stems from his own experiences as a young student "Sehool-was always an awkward place. I never excelled in high achool. I was always the kid who wasn't out of it beca use Lwas never in it Actually I hate school,' LeGacy, said, adding it's common for college professors to have done poorly in high school.
But LeGacy is also not entirely. content in higher education.
He inn't aure he will atay at SU much longer because of various filmmaking offers in New York City. "I wouldn't be leaving out of discontent or anything, but I've just had a lot of better offers. I'm also an iurban type, you know. Ineed to live in the city.'

Do you want to vote in Syracuse? Have you had trouble registering to vote here?

Student Assoclaton wants to hear about your experiences with the County Board:

PREPARE FOR

\section*{MCAT•DAT}

Smali Classes - Voluminous Hom'e Study Materials Permanent Centers Open Days. Evenings & Weekends © Complete Tape Facilities for Review of Class Lessons and Study of Supplementary Materials © InterBranch Transfers © Low Hourly Cost

Visit our centers and see for yourself why we make the difference FLEXIBLE PROGRAMS AND HOURS

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . 845 includes Alf chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and pririting ptess color slide development.

Call or stop by for a friandty visil - Open Everyday
316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N.Y. \(315-423-2450\)

\section*{PRATT & WHITNEY AIRGRAFT EROLP \\ A division of UNITED TECHNOLOGIES \\ will be ON CAMPUS}

February 23 to Interview candidates for attractive opportunities in HIGH TECHNOLOGY
Consult your Placement Office for degree and field of study. requirements

\section*{SA backs new student groups}

A new Student Association subcominittee agreed to support the efforts of three new otudent groups at an informal meeting Thursday night.
The Committee to Stop Apartheid, Amnesty International and a group of women athletes Tho want Syacuse University to comply with Title IX were promised help by SA.
Liz. Rathbun, chairperson of the social concern committee, said the group is "looking for epecific things that can be done" about the issues.
The three groups represented agreed to pool their resources and perhaperset up a common resource center.
"All these problems are tied up with the whole issue of student alienation on campus," said CSA representative Gordon Metz. "Students have no say about where their money goes."
The Committee to Stop Apartheid was formed about one month ago to try to persuade SU to South Africa. So far the group has conducted a banner campaign and distributed fact sheets. This week, CSA will hang posters announcing its own formation. It also plans to hold a series of demonstrations and mass events," Metz said.
Gilled took the Sowetto riots - 600 children killed - for American universities to become aware of the situation in South Africa," Metz added. "Anything political on this campus will attract a lot of attention.
Speaking for Amnesty International, Andy Burns said his group's biggest problem is publicity.
AI conducts letter and telegram campaigns "dedicated to getting people released from prison, or getting their torture alleviated," Burns said.
About 25 people have written letters, according to Burns. Rathbun said she would try to increase this number with SA manpower.
Lynne Della Pelle, a member of the women's crew team, mpoke for SU's female athletes.
"There are differences between our program and the men's program," she said. "We have the right to continue in thesport that we want to do, and to have funding for it."

Title IX, which requires "equal athletic opportunities for members of both sexes." called for compliance by July 21; 1978 .

\section*{Officials miss RLAC meeting}

By Debby Waldman
For the second time this semester, Robert J. Spence. maintenance coordinator for residential support services, failed to show upiat a meeting of the Residential Life Advibory Committee Thursday night
At the
At the RLAC meeting, committee chairperson Scott Klein said he has been trying to get Spence to attend a meeting since last semester, but Spence is too busy.
"When I got in touch with him after semester break. he didn't want to speak to us,' Klein said at the meeting. \({ }^{-1}\) spoke to Dave Kohr (associate director. of the Office of Residence and Dining Services) and made him aware of the situation. He said he'd check it out.
"Kohr called me back and told me that Spersce would be at the next meeting. When I called Spence to confirm it, he called that he couldn't make it," gaidin that he Spence was invited to attend Thursday night's meeting but contacted Klein that aftercontacted Klein that afternoon to say he could not make it because John Sala, director of Physical Plant, who was also invited to the meeting (for the first time), also failed to show upiein said it is important that Sala and Spence attend a meeting to discuss the problem of delays in taking cane of repairs in skytop and residence halls, some of which have been neglected for months.

The committee also discussed the recent board plan changes with Bob Swivel, assistant director of dining services.
The Commuter and On-theGo plans will be eliminated starting in the fall and are starting in the fall and are being replaced by the Custom Plan. While the Onthe-Go Plan contained 318 punches for \($ 360\), the Custom Plan will for \($ 360\), the Custom Plan will contain 288 punches for \($ 354\).
Swivel gaid the plans were combined because of inflation.
"Every other plan was going to increase. We have to stay within government guidelines, so we can't have more than a 7 percent increase," Swivel said. He said dining services wanted to make one plan more appealing than the others and decided to focus on the On-the-Go Plan by making it less costly and decreasing services.
"If anyone was going to be offended, it would be the 500 or 600 people on the Commuter 600 people on the Commuter made, but it is satisfying the made, but it is sati.
Swivel said there are more than 1,800 persons on thie On-the-Go Plan.

Also at the meeting, Klein announced a committe is being formed by residents of Sadler and Lawrinson halls who are concerned their field may be used as a parking lot for machines being uised to build the new stadium: Klein said once the stadium is completed, the field between the two dorms, which is now a chief recreational area for those dorm residents, may be used as a parking lot for the stadium.

Once a proposal is drawn up by the dorm committee, RLAC will be able to act on it officially, Klein aded.
The next committee meeting is Feb. 14.

The RLAC is an advisory board for the Office of Residence and Dining Residence and Dining Services and is made up of Services and is made up of representatives from dorms, representatives from dorn

\section*{* Lawsuit}

Continued from perse orno daga County Stadium Commission's suggestiong last year of locating the stadium on the \(\cdot\) State Fairgrounds or Bridge Street. *It's clear to us that they insiat on having it on their campus," Schechter said" "Why should the stato chip in $15 million for a facility that \($ 15\) million for a facility that will-benefit only the will benefit only the aniver ity?
But SU has argaed the new gtadium-will greatly benefit the neighborhood.
At a neighborhood meeting two weeks ago sponsored by HOMES, Julian said con: struction of the stadiam will generate 300 constructionrelated jobs in the area over the next eight months.

And we expect that when it's finished, the stadium will have an economic impact approaching \($ 8\) million a year,' he told the meeting's attendants.

\section*{The American Marketing Association Presents}

\section*{CLAIROL: EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITIES IN MABKETING MANAGEMENT}

Guest Speakers:
ROBERT OPPENHEIM - PRESIDENT, SALON DIVISION
Bernie Elenson - Production Manager
Sharon Esh - Public Relations
Alison Rubilli - Personnel
Tomorrow, Feb. 13 - 7:30 p.m. 1916 Rm. Bird Library (6th fioor)

70 stime capsule opens

A Farrah Fawcett-Majors poster. Buttong that say "Smile" and "I Love New York" Prints of Star Wars and Jaws.
Copies. of The Complete Book of Running and Winning through Intimidation.

Piczure discs, leisure auits, coke spoons, Proposition 13 . Travolta's underwear and Nixon's jowls.
Pieces of a decade-artifacts that may someday speak of our times.
Although the_decade ian't quite over yet, The Daily Orange is stopping history on Thursday with an isalue on The Seventies." Theissue will feature stories on the various vents, people, and ideas the that

In celebration, we are eponsoring a Time. Capsule Conteat. Entrants are asked to submit a liat of up to five iterng-be thes vegetabe. mineral. animal. whatever-that, will charasterize the '70t to Americans 100 years from now. A short explanation of your choices ahould also be incladed. The best entires will be published and depicted in the special issue.
Send your entries to The Daily Orange. Supplement Department, 101 East Adams St., Syracuse, New York \(13 ; 210\) or drop them off in person by 2 p.m. Wednesday. ... Sucks" Twinner Sucks"T-Shirt

\section*{Hillel amendment creates new office}

By Barbara Becker An' amendment to create \(a\) chairperson for Reform Jews at SU will be:on the ballof of the Hillel electiona Wednesday and Thursday.
The referendum decision and rundowns of candidates and discussed at B'nai B'rith Hillel. Foundation general meeting Thurgday night.
Aaron Alweis, Hillel Aaron Alweis, Rillel president, said the Reform chairperson would be a "liason to reform members. Reform members aremore liberal than Orthodox or Consarvative Jews and have complained about lack of representation in Fillel.
The new chairperson will be responsible for developing activities for reform members, according to Alweis.
Nine positions on the Hillel board will be filled at this week's elections. However, the offices of president. vice president and chairpersons for programing, religion and membership have only one candidate ruñing.
The positions of secretary, treasurer, social chairperson and publicity chairperson are being actively contested.

The ceremony to install the new officers will take place on Feb. 26 and will be open to all Hillel members.
Hillel members.
Board members voted to keep the price of the Feb. 23 to 25 retreat at \($ 18\). Onemember had proposed a \($ 2\) incrense.
A proposal to combine Ha Kol. the nillel newspaper, with the Sabra, a Hillel mayazine. was also discussed. Some board members felt combining the two publications would increase readership and funding. A decision was postponed until a later meeting*.
meetink*: also discussed the success of Jewish Identity Week.

Elections will take place in the Hillellounge at Hendricks Chapel between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

\section*{HL renovation almost complete}

By Lanurie- Baraton Renovation of the Hall of Languages is more-than halfway completed, according to . Robert W. Laxmondre, senior project manager for the Office of Facilities Planning.
The \($ 4\) million renovation project will add afifth floor to increase hoor space by about 20 percent. Larmondra said the building will be ready for use by September.
rrtre tloors are in place and the tinted-glass windows are beirig installed. Installation of the center staircase. bersan last week and the door frames will be get this week. Larmondra said.
Larmondra added that renovation work is within the budget. Almost 53 million has been raiked for the project. according to Michael O. Sawyer, vice chancellor för university relations.

\section*{Express} yourself.
Write
for editorial.

Call
X-2127.

\section*{SENIORS 8}

GRAD STUDENTS
A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for com. mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enţer Your profile into the System and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form. and Entry Form.
Nome
Address
City
St.
Zip
Mail to:
Graduate
Graduave Profile Center c/o O'Brien & 0 'Brimn OBox 271
Guthalo, N.Y., 14221

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DONT MISS TALKING TO THE HUGHES RECRUITER VISITING YOUR CAMPIS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNTTY EMPLOYER M/F

\section*{Fire causes evacuation}

A fire in a fourth-floor study carrel caused the evacuation of Brewster Hall at about 1:2 p.m. yesterday.

The study.
partially gutted in carrel was partially gutted in the fire. Smoke caused mont of the damage.

Students re-entered the building at about 2:00 p.m. Fourth floor Resident Advisor John Titus ssaid cause of the fire is unknown, but some fire is unknown, but some residents, blamed it on a sculpture.

\section*{Position Avallable}

Work at your student store.
Campus Conveniences, Inc. is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum Travel Guides. Information is a vailable at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Monday, Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

\section*{FORUM:}

Candidates for Hillel elections will speak at \(a\)

\title{
FREE LUNCH
}

\section*{Today, Febraary 12 11:45 a.m.}

Hillel Lounge, Hendricks Chapel

DIVISION OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS ABROAD

Summer prograrns information available tool

Sherman's Quest

Chuck Wing

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TODAY}

Doughnest awle will be haid roday sad tomorrow in the Nowhouse lobby by Sigme Dattim Chi, socianty of professional foumblites, from 8:15-4 11 a.m.

Student Nursaz Orgenizution mewts at 3 p.m. coctar in the SON founge. All wetcome.

Free lunch features candidetes forum for Hillel elections. Forum will be held at 11:45 a.m. Ioday in the Hillet lounge, Hendricks Chapel Elections are Feb. 14.15.

Committer to $top Apartheid meets at 7 tonight in 320 Marwell. Now members welcome. Call 476 1604.

Managernent APL minicourse meets at 3 gim, toeay in 320 Maxwell.
Delte Nue Alphe merets at 7:30 sonight in tre Founters Roam, Max well. Rivehard Kowerl will presen vintage transportation films.

Momino prayer is tueld at 8:45 a.m. Weekdays in the cean's olfice. Hendricks Chapef.
UUTV will tepe wideo valentines from 6-B tonight in Watson Theatre Come say something to your Men'ent
Men's and women's intramurwl gwimming toullney sign-up Women's Building or Archbold Gym intramural office.

\section*{EARN OVERs 650 A MONTH RIGHT THROUGH YOUR SENIOR YEAR.}

If you're a junior or senior majoring in sciences like math, physics or engineering, the Navy has a program you should know about.

It's called the Nuclear Propulsion Officer CandidateCollegiate Program
(NUPOC-C for short) and if you qualify, you can earn as much as \($ 650\) a month right through your senior year. Then after 16 weeks of Officer Candidate School, you'll get an additional year of advanced technical education. This would cost thousands in a civilian school; but in the Navy, we pay you.

It isn't easy. There are fewer than 400 openings and only one of every six applicants will be selected. But if you make it, you'll have unequaled hands-on responsibility, a \($ 24,000\) salary in four years, and giltedged qualifications for jobs both in the Navy and out.

Ask your placement officer to set up an interview with a Navy representative when he visits the campus, or contact your Navy representative at \(800-841-8000\), or send in the coupon. The NUPOC-C Program. Not only can it help you complete college. It can be the start of an exciting career.

\section*{TOMORAOW}
omorrow itr 117 iymen
Oprrow in 117 hymen. Orgenic chemintry eeminar: Devid L Strack from Weters As: sociates linc. will speak on Ad vances in Aralysis and Purification of Orgernic Composrads by Hight Pres: sult Liquid Chromatogreply", a \(11: 40 \mathrm{am}\). tomorrow in 210 Bowne Ziololy seminar Ron Vavier Malfie wilt speak on vimmunachemical Situdies of Metallothionsins" at 4 p.in. tomorrow in 117 tyman.
Gey men's wockil is held from \(B\) p.m. midnight every Twesday ap Gay Siudents Association. 103 College pace. Wine, cheesse. beer., soda. Donations requested Outing Club meets at \(7: 30\) p.m. lornorrow et the Mount Inn belo Graham Dining Hall. Slide strow on Scotland., Pre-marrisge course will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Newman Conter. Dr. and Mrs. Chartes Etlion will speak on "Natural Fsenily Plan. ning" at 9:30 pm.

NOFICES
Couple applications for the 1979 dance mirnthon are svaliabie at the Groek Council office, 821 University Ave. Pick noon-5 omp Reluen by Meren
'Paer counmelory are neerded för next yeat at the Acadernic Counseling Service. Pick up applications at ACS. 311-A Archbold Gym, through Thursday.
Squash players: join the Squash Club by calling 474-8108 or sign up in Archbold Gym. Faculty are invitud. Pippin is coming to Syracuse, and the Honors Siudent Organization is Feb. 25 performance at Salt City Playhouse. Go to the Honors Office. \(300-1\) Archbold Gym Acmdernic Support Center: is reopeniat- registration for speed reading. Class meens from 7.9 p.m. Wednesdavs in 204 HBC. Spaces aro open in Section 1 (Feb. 7-Marchl4) and Section 2 (Marctr 71 -April 25). S50 fee. Repgister now through am at ito Acerderic: Stupon Center, \(240-A\) HBC. Su graduate fallownthip thpplication deadline is Thuraday. Ca. \(423-3503\) or stop by 210 Siegion mey be eligible for N.Y. City Urban Fellows Program for next academic veine 84,900 stipend, choice of hetht pfan, Iravel experrses. Apply by Thursday alfinancial Aid Ofves. hequere mention tertent Mention for for sping -aomester must be fied Thursdey tof the Hoatth Center. Married students with children. commuters and special progrems students may be figibib.

English majore may oe eligibiffor departmont scholarships. Acsdemic And inancisi need quaificauions. Apply an Complened apolication is due March 2
NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE & EVERYWHERE Gre dut at the Daily Orange. IlOIE. Adraft St, by noon two day before publicition. Name and telephone mumber of annder must be included. Limit aninouncemants to 20 words: No announcements are taken over the phone.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Learn \\ to \\ really write \\ write \\ for \\ news \\
call \\
\(423-2127\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{For Sale}

UNICURE, PANTENE and JHERI REDDING Producis ORANGE TON. SORIAL & SUPPLY. 727 S . Crouse Ave. noxi to SU Post Offico. 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: DENIM VESTS \($ 10\) INSULATED RUBBER BOOTS \($ 9.98\) WRANGLEA CORDUROY PANTS 812.98 . IV HALL, 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478 3304.

ZORBA'S Hos Great Pizze & Hot Subs with Loss of Mozzaralla Cthense and Greak Taste! We Deliverl 472 5075.

Nordica Pro ski boots size 9 paid s130 now, asking 690 range. Call Richard 472-0827
74 Piymouth Satellite Sebring. A/C, P/S. P/B. mechenically parfect. \(63,000 \mathrm{mi}\) Must be"seen. 81.600 or best offor. 474-2, 61 . 6:30 pm.
SALE SACLE SALE \(25 \%\) off women's winter coats. \(50 \%\) off. New vests.
 HAND ROSE 713 S . Crouse Ave.

1969 Volvo 4-Speed, dark blue: new brakes, rebuilt transmission and carburbior, year-old clutch, Ale, musi sell this week. \($ 750.475-6060\) Comfy brand deluxtiski parka. Mar's medium. blue rylon, goose down. Wornonce. List's at \(\mathrm{X}-3284.9 .5 .800\).

SALE SALE SALE introductory offer continued. WWII wool and kakhi pancs \($ 10\) reg. & 12 . Army wool coats $15. SECOND HAND AOSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.

\section*{Wanted}

Counsetort: Acifordack Eliove Camp: 732 wks; \(4450-6550\); Swimming. Stiling. Canoeing. Campcraft. Ar: chery, Cratt Tennis, Driver. Otfice
 Peadirg. \(39{ }^{39}\) Mill Vatiey Road.

MEN: WOMENI JOBS. CRUISE SHIPS FREIGHTERS. No experience. High pay! See Europe, Hawaii, Australis. So. America: Winterl Summert Sond 83.85 for into, to SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035, Sacto. Ca 95860 .
Cow on money and records that aren't wantedr WE BUN USED RECORDS. Brimg them in for instant CESh. TOD prices PABI 3235 Mon.-Saz 11-6.

NEED EXTRA CASH? Fult or perttime: days/ovenings. For epo pointmant call- "Now Life Enterprises," 622-4043.
NEED A FOOMMATET Responsibis person looking for a room in a house or apartment Barry 472-7926.
OVERSEAS JOBS - Summartyent round. Europe, S. Americe. Australio. Asis. Etc. All fielda, \($ 500\) Sightsoaing. Free info-White: LC. Bqx 4490 SH, Berkeley, CA 94704 .
ROOMMATE WANTED: Own bedroom, iarpe kischen and tivingroom. 10 minute walk to campus or cam. pus bus line. 97 plus. Call fither Rick or Bob-424-9041.
EARN HIGH INCOME - Full, Dart time. At home or at school. Easy ger-vice business. no investmant. excitino opportuntry, no gimmicks. raliobility guaramtoed. - Detailas s2 (rufundeal STAR SSU BOx 272. Island Park, NY 11558.
Housebioys wanted in oxchange for meals at a Comatock sorority. Call Deirdre and Şharon at 478.9142 or \(x-4204\).

\section*{For Rent}

\footnotetext{
2 cubicic foot refrigeratiors for runt.
} Cud Tavior Fenval Centier. \(478-0957\)

Apartment furmished, walking distance. One months security. no leaso. immediate occupancy. \(837^{-}\) 6550.

Furnish Room's, Clean, Warm, Kitchen and bathroom-facilities, 112 Constock Ave. \($ 100\) month Call 475-7911

\section*{Sérvices}

Trping of ANY KIND. DOND quickly. Regular ortoctnical. Call 699-3425. Privato Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. Also 3 hr. Pre-licensing Classos. ONONDAGA DRIVING .3995.

\section*{Personals}

Mrs. W. and Claraballe: Happy Valentine's Dayl I've' really enjoyed vour friendship this past year. You've bean great and t'm going to milsy you. Love, me.

Last chancet Order chocotase kissess Last chancet Order enocolase kisses AEPhi: 478-9142 or \(x-4204\)

To Rick R. Thanks for your concesrn and understanding. Yourre a "beat" of a Big Bro. Love, your Lil' sis.
To Eetr R., Linda L. And Kim \(n\). Wharo would t be without true sisters like you? Thanks. Love your new neighbor. Erin-It's zoo bad thet we can'z go out more often. Hapoy Bithday and more often. Happy Birthday and Valentine's Day. \(H\). GAFY, Happy Birtinday. When yau are down and troubled end you need a helping band. . All you have to do ss call and I't be there. You've got a frienct. Love; Andrea.
Heyl There's more to life than D.O. personals. Give of yoursall and dance in the 1979 Musoutlar Oystrogny Dance Marathon. Pick up a couple s application today, at the Ave.
Do unto othersi Applications avaitable row throuph Feb. 16 for peer counseling positians for 1979 - bo. Acadernic Counzeling Service80. Acadernic Counseling Service-
31 A Archtold. \(3-3150\)

ITHE SISTER RUSH Et Phi Dette Theta. Tomorrow 7.10 pm. 703 Walnut Ave. Don'r miss itI
P2- ONE year ago todeyl Perhaps Mr. Mason says it best .. . you'are every woman in the worid to me. what more cenl seyp Potato Face. Di and CAzz.
Saint Maerten is Comingl Saint Mastren is Coming Call Bruce or Jim 425-7376 for Details
Betty the bashiful anaconda sings, For greater carmel pleasure, ehew on my isrge sugar-comted toe \(s\)."

Lost at Sammy an 1/26. blua muticolor stripe down jacket - REWARD contact Gary S. 3-2665
Copies of the
DO
75th Anniversary issue are available
for

\section*{\($ 1\)}
at the
DO office

\section*{Bonet forget} your Valentine Put a personai in the Dpily pange cirssings. Avoid literuch, ermedown now. Prat Fratams \(S t\).
Final deadine is Mon., Feb. 12
by
12 NOON

\section*{\(A\) VATHNTIINE WEEK'S SPECIAL}

\section*{University Union}

\section*{Internal/External Chairperson}

Applications are available for the position of U.U. Internal and External Chairperson at the U.U. Offices at Watson Theatre. Applications are due by Fri. Feb. 16 at 5-pm. Call 423-2503 for more information.

Senior Kathy Walsh plugs harself into electrothorapy to mend har broken leg. The scooter-cart for her powerpeck wes a Chrimtmas gift.

\section*{A sidelined tennis player recovers}

\section*{By Claudia Eatelle}

Kathy Walsh has an athlete's body and an athlete's incentive. She is slender, with good posture and a solid frame. And as an athlete, she knowa injuries are only aetbacks and not tragedies.
Perbaps this inner spirit is what tells her she will walk again-despite a broken leg that is stin nothealed after a year.

I keep looking ahead." anid-Kathy, a Syracuse University aenicr, "Jooking to play tennis again and to get out of casts forever.
Since Kathy's fracture won't knit naturally, electrotherapy is doing it for hex, using electric current to atimulate healing. Kathy was accepted last Nowember into an electrotherapy program at the Columbia-Preabyterian Medical Center in Manhattan under Dr. C. Andrew Bassett.

Electrical coils that look like headphones are attached with Velcro to Kathy's cast around the area of the break. The current reaches osteoblasts bone cellis which produce calcium and therefore mend the fracture. The current is tranamitted to mend the fracture. The current is he coils by a 10 -voit powerpack. major, hardly Kathy, a physical education major, hardly expected to be a medical guinea pig when she took her last run down a mountain in the Berkshires in January 1978 on a ski trip. Soft-spoken with a warm smile, Kathy recalled her accident. "I was just over the crest of the mountain-I always ski near the sides of the hill because it's more powdery-when I hit this patch of rociss and sheer ice."
She fell back on the end of her skis and, unable to control her speed or direction, crashed into a tree. She then fell headfirst into an &foot drop.
"I started to acream," Kathy said, "and the first people who canae by got the ski patrol. I begged I knew my leg was twisted, and I was so spacey I thought maybe it was just sprained and if my right ski was off all the pain would go awtay."
It is difincult for Kathy to talk about the five weeks that followed. Hospitalization for someone weeks that folowed. Hospitalization for someone Lke Kathy. Who played three years on the Sy woman's tennis team and gas alwrys exercised, woman's tennia team and has always exercised, whas an ordeal. Pius, of course, the two operations, the five times her leg was set, complications and drages.
Katiy had a apiral compound fracture, in which both bones inf her tigbt call were broken like a opiral ataircase
Ualike many patients, ahe insisted on seeing her X-raya. Her background in anatomy necessary for a physical educator helped her-with occasional slip-ups. "I broke the tibula and the fibia -no, wait, it's the tibia and the fibula," she said. "A fibia-that's a small fib.'

After hospitalization, Kathy apent last apring wamester in Wreat Hartiford, Conn, at home but not inactive. "I worked out in a gym doing exercises to develop upper body strength" bhe said That carry her positainy nacessary nowion cords with her to classep-an extra 13 pounds in her backpack.
Kathy operates the powerpack herself. "I have to plug myself in for 12 to 16 hours a dey," the axplained. So wherever she goes, "the box goee With me."

Uning electricity to help bones knit together is a concept developed over 20 years of research. "Through electromegnetic fields, you can change the characteristica of what a cell can do," a nurse at Bassett's research lab explained. "Dr. Bassett found through research that different electrical signals can tell cells to do different things, like lay down calcium."
Kathy's leg may be an inch or less shorter when therapy is completed. as often happens in serious bone injuries. Therapy will teach her to walk without a limp. Kathy's mobility will not be hindered.
Electrotherapy "is for patients who don't want any more surgery." the nurse said. Kathy crtainly fits that case Because she had a lot of cornplications after her wo operationa, Kathy said, "We want to avoid
And the costs are substantiol It coste tia
And the costs are substantial. It costs \($ 1,250\) to rent the box for the four-month treatment. Kathy's operations and hospital atay cost about \($ 10,000\). And the Columbia-Presbyterian Me will get about \($ 800\) for the program.
Will get about \($ 800\) for the program. covers most expenses. Her parents paid the extra $10 a day during Kathy's hospital stay so she could have a private room.

Isuring that time. Kathy found that, under dad her father was quite a different person. My dad has always been bo quiet, almost when I was in the hospital and wanted to exercise my patient's rights. He even slept over two nights. My patientsights. He Kathy expecially remembers her father helping ber face pain- "He would kind of talk me through it," Kathy recalled. "He would git there with me for hours, and he'd ask, What ahape is your pain Kathy? Is it a circle? A rectangle? Where is it centered? Does it throb?' "By andwering him, Kathy found that "I was able to get a handle on things and realize, hey, it's just my leg that hurts. I could identify the pain, and then I could deal with it, beat it.'

Kathy has beaten the odds to get where she it for many unhealed fractures result in amputation. Her first X-ray after beginning electrotherapy ahowed 'some improvement she said. but im dignificant." Eighty percent of Basoett's patientm report molid bone growth.
Kathy is taking 19 credits, and will graduate at the end of June, when her student teaching is completed. Although she missed last spring emester, her class standing was saved by taling emtrater, her class standing was saved by in pant semesteran She took an incomplete in atudent teaching last fall when she went for electrotherapy. She had been teaching at Went for electrotherapy. She had been teaching at know Geneace Junior High School
Not many phyaical education teachers work with a broken leg. Kathy conldn't demonstrate skills to ber students. "I had the kids demonstrate to each other lot, which I think ia a valuable teaching tool" she said.
The difficulties didn't atop her from enjoying the job. On Hillowren-we all chme in to teach in Contome 1 went- an the Hunchback of Notre a limp, and weed a cane at the time, so I atufied pillows under my shirt to make the hump, and put on this horible mask, and all the kids were really terrified," Kathy recalled, laughing.

Kathy's teachers have adjusted her courses to her needs. "They had to change the requirements for me a little bit," ghe said. "Instead of having to demonstrate the skills, I have to teach them. But I learn a lot sbout teaching that way, and I think that'm really good training."
She also has a work-study job as one of 18 peer counselors in Academic Counacling Service. "She is trained to help fellow students identify problems and take steps to solve them.* said Gerald Feist, ACS director
"Katizy is a person who is really very apecial aronnd here," Feist maid.
Kathy brings someting extra to ACS by her work with other disabled btudents fielping students like herself through foux years at complex university belpa SU keep Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Aet of 1973, which nayn SU must five disabled students equal opportunity for education.
"Syracuse ia just not the best place to go if you have a mobility problem," Feist admitted.
Kathy knows that for sure, but she moves on her crutches faster than the average peraon would care to venture on icy sidewalka. Univensity Women's Building. which is quite a hike from herHarribon Strect apartment.
Balance is the aecret to walling on crutches, Kathy explained. "You try to center your weight over the crutches but you wipe out simetimes." The alid. She fell in her kitchen the first night back from semeater break. "I stretched and tore a lot of ligamente then. I even broke finy crutches on the stairs once." Kathy now uses miotal crutchesthey don't break.
Neither does Kathy's-spirit. The desire to win that helps an athlete come from behind in a tennis match is sidelined to her need to win the bout with her leg. But Kathy Walah has no doubt but that she will win in the end.

"I wase lumt over tho crepe....when it hit etive pietich of rocke and ahoer ice....

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Group to fight insurance bias \\ By Milice Grogan \\ determining premium rates, according to}

A statewide petition drive to- end the alleged discrimination ingurancecompanies place on young male drivers will be latinched Wednesday by the Syracuse University chapter of the New York Public Interent Regearch Gronip.

NYPIRG's goal is to preaent 2,000 gignatures to the New York State Department of Lasuramce, said NYPDRG intern Lillie Gorgiewnlai.

A single male under 25 pays from \($ 700\) to \($ 800\) per year for minimal auto coverage, while a married male over 25 with the same record and driving experience pays about \($ 260\), according to a NYPIRG report. Women, whether younger or older than 25, pay a premiunn of about \($ 300\), the report said.
Age, ser, marital status and place of Syracuge Automobile Inauxance Companies.

NYPIRG eupports any meagure within the New York State Iegislature that would set New York State Legialature that wonld set automobile insurance rates at a level based on the client's driving record ingtead of age, On the client'a dr
Such legislation has been in effect in North Carolina aince 1977 and has reduced therates for safe drivers from \($ 700\) to \($ 254\), Gorgievaki said.

Gorgievslci alao cited a report of the National Association of Insmrance. Commissionere, which states that 89 pertint of all male drivers nnder 25 have no driving violations.
Petitions are available at Hendricks Chapel, and Kimmel and Sadler dining halls, Gorgievalki said.

\section*{SU's Dial-a-Menulady \\ tells you what's cookin'}

By Carolyn Beyrau When a kid wants to know what's for dinner, he atalss his mom: When a Sytacuse Univeraity gtudent Wants to know what's cooking at the dining hall, hecalls SU's meny lady. The voice on the other end of Dial-a-menn, \(423-2796\), Dial-a-menu, \(423-2796\), belongs to Jan Taylor, secretary to the director of dining bervices. Like all mothers Taylor makes mistakes. but she tries hard.
Hot time I typed gineapple creann pea instead of pie on the menu," Taylor recalled with a smile. "I noticed my mistake right when I was at thatpart of the recording. I laughed so hard I had to do the tape over againnt daily daily menu for \(11 / 2 y\) yarn. "It's one cute kittle part of my job.
Taylor also doubles as the dining services' Feceptionist. Surrounded by cushrionediblye chairy hhe greets viaitors with a twinnting smila The ati mosphare is more han anfer
"Our purchasing agent will ometimes come out and make faces at me while I'm taping the mena" Taylor gaid, demenstrating by opening her mouth and sticking out-her ongue. "I try to be sexioun."
However, she often plays the recording back and langhe at herself.
"Boy, I have a loud voice," she said.
Taylor's five children have sometimes called Dial-a-Menu. They asked me who the man was," she laughed. "I don't sound that bad.
Like most students, the menu lady does not always like everything on the dining hall merrue.
"One time 1 pronounced asparagus "as-par-grass" just because I hate it," ahe said. "I aad to malie a new tape.
However, such deliberate mistakes sure urually, excephons to. the rule. As the menu ady one of Taylore bigrest the taping is getting through the taping without mistalces or infentuptiona. She dreads Friday's'recording because it includes menus for the weekend also.
Cone- time I finally got through it on the first try

In addition to her dutiges a Food-Services secretary, Jan Teylor fis the finely.votce on the other end of "Dial-a-Menu."
noticed I had announced the wrong weelsend,"she apid with tauch of excivperation.
Another weekend Taylor forgot to say where Saturday's menu began. "The students would-have thought that was a kled.

Despite heirnistakes, Tayior ends the cinner-time guessing game by lettiag strudents know what'a cooking in the kitchen.

\section*{Cash, property stolen from apartment}

\footnotetext{
By Andres Abrahamg
Two Syracuge Univeraity students had appropinately \($ 1,130\) in cash and personal proputy toien rom their apartment over the vreelkend.
Tha npartinent of Robert Hayes and Kissane \(130 \mathrm{O}_{\mathrm{al}} \mathrm{ll}\) nnd St , wras batered through a fron Window between \(8: 30\) p.m. Satrrelay and 9 p.m. Sunday, Kinalane said.
Mit ing fom the apartment were a televigion ent, fterto equipinent, wpealvara, abiont 85 record albums, a leather jacket and about \($ 90\) in cash. According to Syracuse Police Department Investigator Al Bleskoski, there is no evidence yet in the case. Investigations are continuing.
}
"Apparently, the guy who was upstairs was homs'but didn't mee anything." Bleskoski saic. However, Kiearane a junior said, "The guy upstairs said he saw two white guyb at the door Saturday night."

John C. Zrebiec, director of SU Bafety and Security, said Security knew nothing about the burgitary.

\section*{SA plans strategy for "Davis Stadium"}

\section*{By Jerry Zremski}

Shouts of "Ernie! Erniel" may seem ont of place at may seem out or place at may replace the Zoo's etandard cries at Saturday's basketball garne a John's University.
As part of Student Association's effort to get the new domed stadium named after Ermie Davis, the late SU foot ball star, SA in planning to en courage the crowd to shout Davis' name when Syracuse University scores its first hasket.
The "Ernie" cheer for Saturday"'s game was one of several plans discussed by 15 people attending a meeting Sunday night to plan strategy for a drive to name the stadium after Davis.
A time shortage may be the project's biggeat problem, aaid Thomas Coffey, Daily Orange ditor in chief, at the meeting. The univertity currentily plans to name the stadium after the to namer contributing the most donor contributing the m money to its construction.
Chancellog (Melvin A.) Eggers on Friday, he sounded confident of getting a major donor aooin," Coffey said. "That means wehave to get moving." The game will be televised throughout the east by NBC. The "Ernie" demonstration is intended to build publicity. wA will dietributa Fiandouta

\section*{Senior committees form to promote student uñion}

By Drew Schwartz
In an effort to promote the atudent union proposal and participation in senior class activitiea, Syracuse University geniors formed two committees at an open meeting Sunday afternoon.
The commaittees were formed in response to the SU ad. ministration's request for senior clase participation in the union plan and selection of a caid senior Jim Flinton.
Seniors have complainedin the past that they have no say about planning for party." Flinton said. About 15 party. Flinton said. About is persons Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers' fundraising plan, which has been approved by Student.Aspociation, provided the spark to form the groups, Flinton said.

Eggers' plan asks graduating eeniors to pledge \($ 250\) towards the wnion building. payable in five yeairs provid. ing seniors are earning more than \($ 20,000\) year and construction has started on the building.
The plan's goal is to get 1,000 seniors a year to pledge. They would then convince as many alumni as posaible to contribute. The aim is to raise \($ 10\) million in 20 years.
SA President Jordan Dale said that amount miay only cover one-third to one-half of the total-expenses of the umion building, since inflation, apiraling cometruction costs and intereat on losus must be considered in the estimate. He added that the administration career and urging aupport fo the drive. A bedsheet-aized banner will also be displayed
"We have to ahow the university that thereis support for this," said Kathy Courtney SA special presidential as sistant.

SA will start a petition drive on the issue by Wednesday The petitions will be presented to the board of trustees March 2.

An effort will also bemade to get publicity in the Syracuse area. SU students Geoff Hobarea. and Jim Nanghton will talk to editors of the Syracuse Newspapers this week, urging Newspapers this week, urgin
The committee also decided to write influential SU graduates and ask for their support. Included in this list are Sen. Joseph Biden, millionaire Marvin Davia and Al Davis, general manager of the Oalcland Raiders.
SA will also contact campus organizations, members of Davis* graduating class, current professional footbal playexs, and politicians and Dewspapers in El Davis hometown. appeara to be growing, Hobson anid Several students have been seen wearing "Ernie Davis Memorial Stadinm" \(T\) shirts, and more are on order at BRS limpegaioniponMMirnhall Street.
is willing to raise the remaining funds.

Dale said the university won't build a student union without a guaranteed funding source.
"It's the best shot at a union buflding." Dale said. "If we're going to ask alumni for money we might as well bay that when we're alumni we'll contibute too."
Although the initial reaction of most seniors to the plan is negative, once the plan is fully explained they'll change their minds, Dale said.
"The idea is growing from a small core and picking up momentum," Dale asid. "A lot of seniors become more sen. aitive about giving money just before they graduate."
Dale said he is optimistic about the plan's auccess about the plan's auccess because 85 to 90 percent of a test group comprised of 40 seniors, SA members and the beniors, SA members and trustees are in favor of the plam. "That's a much higher rate than the auccess of higher rate than the auccess of he plan calls for, Dale said.
Promoting. the union funPromoting the union fundraising proposal among draising proposal among the new committie.
Gail Reichistein, chairpexson of the commencement and senior party committee, said she will meet with the SU Development Office to determine how efforta can be coordinated in planning the two eventa.
Reichatein added that an effort will be made to solicit seniors, opinions on commencement and the union proponal at the senior party on Feb. 23 at Drumlins.

\section*{Hanley supports SU \\ By David Mensing Congrebemmun James Hainley aaid yestorday he mupport: Syracuse University new btadium, deapite neighborhood opposition. \\ Hanley, a Democrat from the 32nd District, was on campus yesterclay viniting Hen- \\ dricke Chapel and Community House, 711 Comstock Ave. \\ "An athletic program is the best p.r. device that \(a\) good for has, and what is certainly good for the community, \({ }^{\prime \prime}\) he said. \\ "I appreciate the apprehension of homeowners in the area, but problems can be aolved. The stadium would be good for business and is essential to the institution." he added.}

James M. Hanley stadium
Hanley left SU after a tonr of Community House by director Jean Bawm and a, meeting with Heridicict Chepel Dean John H. McCombe Banm said nhe invited Hanley to visit Community Honae after he made a donation Last year. To hex aurprise, \(\boldsymbol{-}\) ohe said. Hanley acoepted her invitation.
Hanley was first elected to Congress in 1.964 and is at member of four committees in the Hotuse of Representatives.

\section*{UU selects chairpersons}

By Mark Goldisteln
University Union hä selected new chairpersons for each of its boards.

The nesw boards.
The new positions are effec ive March 1.
The new chairpersona are: Gric Frankel. concert board. Steve Puchalski, cinema board; David Leventhal. epecial eventa board; Brett Flecicman, acting chairpersom of performing arts board and of performing arta board and board

UU board chairpersons vare selected at the end of last semester by a committee made up of UU external and internal chairpersons, treasurer and members atiarge.

Board chairpersona receive a stipend of between 5500 to 3900 a year.

Applications for UU Internal and External chairpersons are-now being accepted at the UU office. The deadline is Friday at 5 p.m.

\title{
FLIM EnB Gifford Aud. \\ TONIGHT TOMORROW &-THURSDAY
}

\section*{America's long rehearsal for nuclear war}

Nuclear war is a growing threat to all humanity. World War II swith nuclear weaporis can, and almost certainly will hiappen unless all governments confront this reality.
The military profession has always sought superiority to win wars. Military men in all countries constantly seek to triengthen the defense, of their countries and maintain advantages. weapons have changed the traditional rules of warfare. To use an American phrase, "it's a whole new ball game." I am, of course, referring primarily to the relationship between- the United States and the Soviet Union and their respective military alliances.

A recent top-level-U. S.igovernment study concluded that, at a minimum, 140 million people in the S.S. R. would be killed in a major nuclear war. Almost three-quarters of their economies would be destroyed. In such a conflict, the analysis concluded, "ncither side could conceivably be described as a winner.

\section*{Guest comment: \\ Gene R. LaRocque}

Nor would those in the reat of the world be safe. Radiation would poison vast stretches of the planet not directly -involved in the war. And the threat of ozone damage and ecological diaruption leaves us no assurance that the earth would remain frabitable for life as we know it. Despite this, both countries constantly seek to improve their nuclear and conventionalforces. Only \(30 \%\) of our \($ 128\) billion military budget goes for the direct defense of the United States. The other 70\% goes to provide the U. S. military forces to defend foreign countries and to project our "nilitary power abroad. Billions of "Budget Fat" could be cut from the military budget with no injury to actual defense.

Many of us are shocked and sobered by the mad nuclear scramble of the superpowers. It seems too obvious that they have diminished their own security in the nuclearcompetition. We all know that a balance of terror provides a precarious peace. The Soviet Union and the United States are, in part, victims of modern military technology. Advances in weaponry, particularly better delivery syatems, have dramatically compressed time and space. Thus, military leaders believe they must maintain large forces war, each nation could deatroy the other in 30 minutes. Nuclear missiles launched froin submarines could land within 15 minutes. There is no defense. regardless of who strikes first:
Many people believe nuclear weapons will never be used. But as someone who has been directly involved in U. S. nuclear planning. I can state that my country has plans and forces for actually fighting nuclear war. Our military field manuals detail the use of nuclear weapons. Our troops, aimmen, and navy men train and practice for nuclear war. Nuclear war is an integral part of American military planning and the U. S. is prepared to use nuclear weapons anywhere in the world, right now in many. contingencies.
The United States has generally taken the lead in the nucl ear arms race.

We have been, on the average, five years ahead of the Soviet Union in introducing new inuclear weapons. We Were the firgt to develop the atomic bomb, the hydrogen bomb, the intercontinental bomber, effective intercontinental ballistic misailes, intercontinental ballistic misailes, modern nuclear powered strategic aubmarines, and multiple warheads (MIRVB) for missiles.

In recent years the U. S. has added more nuclear weapons to its arsenal than the Soviet Union, going from 4,000 strategic nuclear weapons in 1970 to 9,000 in 1978. During this same period, the Soviet. Union increased from 1,800 to 4,500 etrategic nuclear weapons. The U. S. has maintained a two-to-one edge in deliverable nuclear weapons throughout the period 1970 to 1978.

The discrepancy, in numbers, however, makes no difference as each country can obliterate the entire urban and industrial complex of the other rexardiess of who sirikes mat. United States has as atategic nuclear weapons for every Soviet city over 100,000. The Soviet Union has 28 strategic weapons for every U. S. city ver 100,000 .
The public must force its politidal leaders to take control of events and not permit the military and its technology o control them. If we are to survive on this planet, the arms race must b slowed, stopped and reversed, now.
Gene R. LaRocque is a retired Navy rear odmiral. He served on the strategic plans staff of the Joint Chiefs of Siaff, commanded the 6th Fteet's carrier task force group and taught at Naval War College. This commert is from Promoting Enduring Peace Inc. in Woodmont. Conr.
on a close-to war. 日tatus. In a nucleax

\section*{The 70's; time it was} decades during which the country digested change.

The '70s have followed the '60s like a calm after the storm. The shadow of the ' 60 g has made thig decade seem pale and-lacking definite character.
Elusive as the mood of the \(: 70 \mathrm{~s}\) may be, there are still threads of ideas and events that deserve to be examined. This Thuraday, The Daily Orange will devótéán entire

After each major social and political moverment, America rests. The Abolitionist movement of the 1860 s and the. Progressive movement after the turm of the century were each followed by quieter edition to understanding the 1970 s.
The issue will examine such topics as the country's renewed fascination with celebrities and public figures, its loss of arrogance and infigures, its loss ofarrogance and innocence in foreign policy, its invasion of personal freedom through government agencies and the withdrawal of colleges and universities from the social and political front.

Robert Hill, special assistant to the chancellor for affirmative acthen, will look at the loss of monentum in the black rights movement. Mike Greenstein, a Newhouse faculty member who studied at SU ten years ago, will discuss the "Shadow of the ' 608 ." Joseph \(P\). Salvo, regional coordinator for the New York Public Interest Research New Gropis Public interest wesearch discuss the Group, Will discuss the in the 1970s.

But everyone has a personalidea of. what the 70 m meant. The artifacts of popular culture are the pieces of a decade that may someday apeak of our times.

Ths Daily Orange would like its readers to assist in assembling what they think belongs in a time capsule of the 1970s. Entries thus far have included a Farrah Fawcett-Majors poster, buttons that say "Smile" and "ILove New that say "Smile" and prints of "Star Wars," and "Jaws."
Other suggestions are copies of The Complete Book of Rumning; and Winning Through Intimidation, picture discs, leisure suits, coke spoons, Proposition 13, Travolta's underwear and Nixon's jowls.

A short explanation of your choices should be included with your entries. The best ideas will be depicted and published in the special issue.

Drop your entries off at The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adams St. by 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The winner gets a "Disco Sucks" T-shirt.

The Daily Orange
Joyce Carol Oates, a novelist and a short story writer, has none too a short story writer, has none too fond memories of her days as a Phi fond memorien of her days as a Ph
Mu sister at Syracuse University. Valedictorian of her class of 1960 Oates told the Paria Review that she Oftes told the Paria Review that she by saying, 'I managed to do well des bite the concerted efforts of my pite the concerted effo:

Sororities have a way of "aping the worst Andierican of aping boosterism, God-fearing-ism, smug boosterism, God-fearing-ism, smug ignorance, a craven worship of conformity", she said
She added; "I tried to eacape in my junior year, but it aeemed that, in my freshman naivete, 1 had actually signed some soxt of contract that had 'legal' status, all of which cowed me.
"I haven't written about it and never will. It's aimply too atupid and trivial a subject. To even care about auch adolescent nonsense, one would have to have the sensitivity of a John O'Hagra, who seeme to have taken it eerriously."

\title{
De unto (1) \\ Applications available now until Feb. 16 for peer counseling positions 1979-80 \\ 311-A Archbold 3-3150 Academic Counseling Service
}

20 people nominated for award

By Chuck Obuchoweld About 20 people have been nominated for the Chancellor's Citation for Exceptional Academic Achievement according, to Arofeman Peter Marsh, selecttron committee chairperson. Nominations will be accepted Nominations Marsh said he is concerned about sine is concerned nominations the committee has received bo far. The comhas received no far. The commotte has not received any nominations for contributions to the arts and relatively few for outstanding instructors, he for out said.

Most of the submitted nominations honor those involved in research at Syracuse University, Marsh acid.
According to Jim Naughton, an originator of the program and one of three students onthe selection committee, only one SU undergraduate has been nominated Even more surprising he said, is that no graduate students have been graduate nominated

Naughton also said he is disappointed in the number of students
Anybody at SU is eligible to nominate or be nominated, but up till now, most of the people responding have been professars or administrators." he said.
Members of the selection committee cannot.- be nominated or. 部bmit nominations, However, they can make sugreations to other faculty members and at udents. according to Thomas \(F\) G committee member.
In addition 40 Mater
Namghton and Gremareh. motte Wycinof of the Cone Sylvia Visual and Performintrer of Alan and Performing Arts, J. muter scienince deportment computter science department and students Lonnie Morrison and Robin Severino.
This is the first year the citations are being awarded. The committer expect a to malice its selections by the end of March.'

Chancellor Eggers will present the citations to recipients at a special dinner April 6.

Write news. Call \(\times\)-2127.

\section*{ZOYロA'S PIZZA}
-The Best in Town-
and Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese
WE DELIVER
7 days a week 472-5075
5 p.m.-2 adm:

\title{
VALENTINE'S DAY
}

\section*{Drumlins Presents}

Be Sure 80 check our our Kissing Booth in cum Today 8 Tomorrow.
Kiss Tr Ticket Only 2.00 .
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Thelkets dy } 200 \\
& \text { ot si .u Bookstore Spectrum } \end{aligned}
\]

2:ڭc,

\section*{SU, Planned Parenthood sell cut-rate contraceptives}

By Barbara Krupnicki Nearly three out of every ten renage gixls who engage in premarital sex become pregnant, according to a study Zelnick.
Many reasonis are given Tor not practicing birth control such as ignorance, lazineas, religion, social taboos, expense, lack of romance or "it won'thappen to us," according students. Bnt for persons interested in obtaining birthcontrol devices or information obout contraceptives, the ynecological gervices at the Syracuse University Health Center or Planned Parenthood of Syracuse, Inc., can help.
"Students bhould know the importance of knowing everything about the methods. every the problems involved with each method, so they can really decide which method is right for them." according to Dr. Ramzi Humaif, gynecologist at the Fiealth Center.
Linda Oken of Planned Parenthood agrees. "People must ask themselves How does each method fit me and my kifestyle? What amr 1 comfortable with? If a method works for you, it's 100 percent effective for you. All statistics effective for you. All gtatigtics should be viewed mind," she said.
Both centers offer group and personal coumseling, exams, and prescriptiona for con traceptives, as well as the devices themselves. All services prices.
"We provide all the conventional forms of birth con-trol-the IUD, the pill, draphragme , condoms, foam, abstinence, Dr. Humsi said.

Each method available has risks and benefits, bu't Oken mphesizes thit no method is

\section*{NYPIRG wants stricter rules for waste disposal}

By Mike Grogan
Stricter regulations in. volving the disposal of industrial waste were called for by the Syracuse chapter of the Rew York Public Intereat hesearch Group at special vironmental protection Agency in New York City Feb. \({ }_{8 .}\)

The move was made in ain ef fort to prevent "any future Love Canals"" a lanafill site located in Nisgara Falls which was used as a dumpsite for toxic waste, maid NXPIRG intern Marc Chytilo.
Chytilo, a Syracuse University sophomore, said the Hooker Chemical and Phastics Corp-dnmped approximataly 250 tons of michloroethylene at the aite. This chemical reacts with ifself to form dioxin, one of the deadliest toxins known. Chytilós said.

Last August, the New Yoris as expensive or as potentially dangerous as rompleting a prezmancy. St.- 180 said no method'is 100 percent effec tive, even sterilixation.
The oral contraceptive pill is cirrently the moat popular method of birth control for unmarried couplea, Dr. Humbi said. Although statistics vary. the pill is currentiy 99 percent-effective when used correctly.
The pill introduces synthetic female hormonea which simulate pregnancy by pieventing the release of eggs from the ovary into the system. The pin is simple and converient. It regulates the menstrual flow and may lessen prespriod tension. However the pill. is becoming less popular, becoming less popular, becauge of side effects, such as uterine cancer, high-blood prense cancer, high-blood pressure,

The IUD is a small plastic loop or coil which is inserted permanently inato the uterus by a doctor. It creates a hostile environment in the womb for both the egg and sperm. IUDs ore about 97 percent effective. and can be uged safely by most womeñ not had a full term pregnancy accordinz to "Teen Queations accord sex to abour biet And Answers, a pamphlet published by ffecta include cramping Side effects include cramping, spot ting and bleeding, but are ravely serious enough to wayrant -removal. Because it presents fewer complications than the pill, it is becoming a more popular contraceptive. The diaphragmo in also becoming more popular, Dr a flexible ruber-cap which hoids apermatilling aream jelly sperm-athe cervix jelloraga blocks the entrance to the racuated 200 residents from the Love Canal area because of high rates of illness caused by the toxin among residenta. The department announced Feb. 8 that 30 more farmilies will be evacuated from the area.

Chytio suggested to EPA of ficials that industrial companies send. a complete chemical profile of its wastes to the agency. He also anid the disposal facility should do the same.

This method would ensble the EPA to know how much waste-was produced and how much was diapoped Chytio said. Any inconsistency betd waste disposal would be detected by an EPA computer. Chytilo also suggested that the EPA maintain a regulatory force to ensure that the induatriea provide an exact chemical profile of their waste.

Right our wrongs.
Work on the DO copy desk.
Call Patti at \(\times-2128\).
chemicaly. The diaphragma has no serious medical nisks, and is, 88 percent effective, but it is sometimes considered inconvenient; according to the Planned Parenthood pamphlet.
Condoms, used with spermicidal creams or jellies. are the moat effective nonprescription contraceptive available, Oken said. It in also 88 percent effective when used correctly. The condom is a thin rubber device olaced over the penis to collect sernem released during ejaculation Withdrawal is the removal of the penis from the vagina prior to ejaculation, which prevents the sperm from entering the utera: However, sperm may enter the vagina even after withdrawal, Oken said, and 12 out of 100 women who rely on withdrawal as a method of birth control become pregnant.
Rhythm is a biological device based on certain "safe days" in each woman's monthly cycle, the Planned Parenthood pamphlet says. Calculation is extremely im portant, as cycles vary from month to month. Rhythm is month 82 percent effective.
about 82 percent effective.
New methods of birth con trol on the market, such as epermicidal vaginal suppositories claim to be up to 99 percent effective, but their effectiveness han not been proven, Dr. Hümsi said.
Anong married, couples, sterilization is the most popular method of birth con trol. Oken said. Sterilization should be congidered permanent, because itinvolves effective non-prescriptions contrmceptive avifiathe.

surgically sealing off the fallopian tubes or the vas deferens preventing the deferens, preventing Planned Parenthood recommends the pill, IUD, aterilization and condorns used with foam. Oken said. We do not recommend ovulation methods (rhylhm), withdrawal, douching or hope as birth control methods. They just don't work," she said.

Oken. also said although Planned Parenthood never turns anyone away, they recommend SU students use the gynecological gervices open to thern through their health fee. -

The Gynecological Service is open for appointments Monday through Friday, \(8: 30 \mathrm{a}\).m. to noon and \(1 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). to \(4: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Pregonancy testing is done weekday mornings from 8:30 to 1030 . A meries of ap pointments for couseling. expointmenta for coubeling, be ameduled at the same time. Dr. Humsi emphasizes the Ded for students to have the courage to use the service courage to use the gervice. human." Humai said."We're human, prone to mistakes as as prone to mistakes as anyone. Were open to constructive criticism. Let them come down with suggestions on how we can help tions on how we can help them."

\section*{Quick! Name 4 restaurants in the city that have great take-out food service.}

Sherman's Quest

\section*{The American Marketing Association Presents}

\section*{CLAIROL: EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITIES IN MARKETING MANAGEMENT}

\section*{Guest Speakers:}

ROBERT OPPENHEIM - PRESIDENT, SALON DIVISION
Bernie Elenson - Production Manager
Sharon Esh - Public Relations
Alison Rubilli - Personnel
Tonight, Feb. 13 - 7:30 p.m. 1916 Rm . Bird Library (6th fioor)

\title{
Hillel Election Ballot \\ For Wed. & Thurs., Feb. \(14 \boldsymbol{&} 15\)
}

\section*{Candidates for Office:}
\begin{tabular}{llll}
President: Joyce Stein & Programming: Phyllis Sklaver \\
Vice Pres: & Judy Kagamwich & Social: & Michael Lovett \\
Secretary: Amy Lipton & & Steve Weinstein \\
& Ken Sosne & Religion: & Eliot Zimelman \\
Treasurer: & Nancy Arbit & Publicity: & Cindy Becker \\
& CarolGarelick Gerber & & Membership: \\ & & Stome Pleffer \\
& & &
\end{tabular}
- Running for re-dection

To be elected, candidate must win a majority vote.

\section*{Referendum to amend the Constitution :}

\begin{abstract}
We hereby propose to amend the constiturion, to add an additioniti citairmandhip to be filled by any atudent. His Or her duties will be to dovelop progremming - social, fellgious and eultural - of interest to the Student Body and to Jewish students in all. The purpose of this amendment is to promote unity armong all Jewrs on campus.
\end{abstract}

To pass, must be ratified by majority vote.
VOTE IN HILLEL OFFICE, HENDRICKS CHAPEL
9:00 A.M. - 6:00 P.M.

Remember your vote helps to make Hillell.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}
- Aertail club meess at 7 tonight in 117 Lyman.
Organic cherniatry emorirnar David L Strack from Waters As: ocibies Inc. spereti on "Advemees in Anetysis End Purificstion of Orpenic Compounds by High Pressure thiquid chromatography at il: Biotog 210 Bowne.
Blology eptininar: Ron Vander Matie speaks on "immunochemical p.m. todey in 117 Lvman.

Gey. todey in 117 Lvman.
Gay men's social is natat from 8 Smoterts Astociation, 103 Collogy ptace. Wine, cheese, bear, tode. Donations requested.
Outing Ctub meets at 7:30 ronight at the Mountinn betow Gramam Dining Hall. Slide show on Scouland. Pre-monioge course will be held of tonight in the Newmen Center Of. and Mrs. Charles Elliot will speak Natural family Planning" at 9:30.
Slgn up towight at 7 in Maxwelt Auditorium for SUSK' Fort Laudef. date trip during tprine break. - 3339 includes flight fram Syracuse, fortei. ight dilvs, seven nights, tacess and ranstars. 100 deposit due. Call Robyn at 471-8926.
Send your low through Amatear Tectio Club today from HAC.
Daughnut ala will be hald from lobby Sponsored by Sipme Delit Chi.

TOMOAROW
Swowts for the siveet can be bought in HBC tomorrow from 9:30 a.m, 4 pm . at tho Hafts Co-op valenine take sale.
Hilliel elections will be held tomorow and Thutsdayirom 9 a.m.- 5 p.m. in the Hiltel founge. Hendricks

Free funch sponsored by Hillel will be hetd at \(11: 46\) a.m. tomorrow in he Hillel office, Hendricks Crispel. Japarmese lunch will be hold at noon tomarrow at the Internanlonat Student Office. 230 Euclid Ave.:
1.50

Undergrad Geography Club will HEC. MAjors omorrow in \(323 A\) HEC. Majors and non-majors

Poet Devid tgmatow will read rom his works at \(4: 15\) p.m. tomorrow in the Newhouse 1 loungeSponsored by the Graduate Writing rogram.
Design becture: wil Profonsor Lowrence P. Feet will speak on omarrow in the desion conference room. Arehbold Gym basement.
Minotit enolinetina bronrr

Minotity enginetring propram our "B" of Genaral Electric will be held tomorrow. Cats feave SiocurnSims olaze a! 12:30 p.m., faturn at 4 p.m.
Jucio Club metts at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Archbold GYm. Call Doug at 472-7172

Fiying ciut maets at 8 pm tomotrow in the Delliptsin main lounge. Call sill at \(472-7172\), Clereet planning workehop will be held at 7:30 p.m. zomorrow at the Cultural Center-104 Woinut Ptece. Sponsored by the Office of Phinority Affairs.
Notices
Couple applications for the 1979 dance matation are avoilable at Greek Council, 821 University Ave. Pick up Monday-Friday, noon-5p.m. Return by March 1.
Peier counselors are needed for noxt yeer at Acedenic Counseling Service. Pick up spplications at ACS. \(311-A\) Arehbold Gym. through Thuredtay. Mursaney.
Man's intramural mquash and andrnirtion tournemants entry Arehbold Gym intramural office.
United Methodist sichoterstip Progrem offers seven 6500 seholar. ships for those with financial need. The Finameial Aid office has ap. plications.

SU Musticull Stege to intervieming or ©frector, producer, musical dirte. for and choreographer for' its lant production. Call423-6463for an appointment.
SUSKI Kubington trip on Fab. 23 25 includas lifta, lodging, bus, buffet breakfacts ardidinners for 70 . Sipn up by Thuraday at SUSKI; 103 Up by Thursday at SUSKI; 103 Colege Place, from 12:30-4 p.m.
Honors Sturdent Orgemization it Felling discount ticketa to the 730 the Salt City Playhouse. Go to the Honors Office. 300-1 Anchbold Gym. Acaderic Support Center it ropening registration foik - eppeid reading class mette 7,9 p.m. Wednedary in 204 HBC. Spaces ars open in section 1 (Febb. 7-March 14) and section 2 (March 21 -Appril 25i. \($ 50\) tem. Regiater through tomorrow berween 9 a.m. \(-4: 30\) p.m. Af 240-A HBC.

Su ortadute felfowning deforine is Thursdisy. Cell 423-3503 or grop bv 210 Surata.

Sontort amd grad students may stipend, choice of heathin plan, zravel expenses. Apply by Thursday at the Financial Aid Office.

Finquest: for exemption from the mandatory student health fee must be tiled Thursdigy with the Meselth Center. Mirribed stucdents with ctifdien commuters and spacial programs Etudents may be eligiole. Engliah majors may be eligibleior and finameial need qualifications. Apoly at \(300-14\) Anchbold Gyon by Tmursday. Deadline for completed Thursday. Deadine for completed NOTICES FOR HERE. THERE EVERYWHERE BN due at The Daily Orenge, IIOIE. Aderns St, by noon two deys before publication. Nome and telephone number of sende. must be included. Limit announcervenze to 20 words. - Anmouncements are not taken over the phone.

\section*{Read about the 70's in Thursday's Daily Orange}

\section*{CARIBBEAN ISLAND}

ON BEAUTIFUL HALF DUTCM HALF FRENCH ST. MAARTEN N.A.
\($ 348\) ммсluoe
Packege Incliudes:
- Round trip airfare trom N.Y.

8 days, 7 nighss at the Summit Hotel - Iransportation between airpors,and hotel All raxes and dipz

RESERYATONSAND FULIPAYMENT

\section*{For Sale}

JEROME ALEXANDER Ehampoo. conditioner, and hairbrushes now in TONSORIAL E SUPPIV. 722 S . Crouse Ave.. nexa to S.U. Post Office. 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: \(140 Z\). FLARES $10 PRO KED SNEAKERS S 10 SU ZIPPERED IACXEYS E10. IWY HALL 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478-3304.
74 Plymouth Satellite Sebring. AVC. P/S P/B. mechanically perfect best offer 474-261 1. 6:30 p.m.
Vivatar \(85-206\) zoom lens. 73.5 excellent condition. Nikor Mount $80.00 firm. C8tl 424-905 1
Original movie potrers. lobty sets. and color & BW stills. All movies. current and oid. Wholestie prices. Call Chris or Carole \(x-6575\) or \(x\) 6693.

SALE SALE SALE introductory offor corntinued. WWIL wool and kekhi S15 SECOND HAND ROSE 713 S. Crouse Ave.
ZORBA'S Has-Great Piza & Hot Subs with Lots of Movzarella Cheese and Graek Tastol Wo OeliverI 472-5075.
1969 volvo \(4-\) Speed, dark bive; new brakes, rebuilt transmission and carburator, year-old clutch. Alc, must soll this week. \($ 750.475-8060\).

SALE SALE SAEE 2.5\% off women's wirvar coats \(50 \%\) off. New vests. \(20 \%\) off selectect vintege merchandise (1900's-1940's) SECOND chindisp (1900's-1940't) SECOND HANO ROSE. 713 S. Crouse Ave.

\section*{Wanted}

Customers! 'No experience necesSUYY. ORANGE TONSORIAL AND S.U. Pose Office.

Low on morsey and recorch fhat RECORDS. Ering them in for instant cash Top prices paid DESERTSHORE 730 S . Crouse -472-3235 Mon.-Sat. 11-B.
OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/Year round. Europe. S. America. Australia, Asis. Etc. All fields, 1500 . Sightseeing Freg info-Write: paid. Box 4490-SV, Berkeley, CA 94704 .

NEED: 1 genaralAdmission ticket for St. John's game. To buy. Call 4749604 or 423 -7564.
NEED EXTRA CASH? Full or partitme: days/avenirgs. For appointment coll - "New Life Enterprisers," 622-4043.
MENT WOMEN1 JOBS - CRUISE
SHIPS SHIPS F FREIGHTEAS No Experience. High pevt See Europe. Cowaer Summerlis. So Ame Amerlco. Cbreer Summeri Send s3.8S for imo to SEAWORLD Be Box 61036, Sac-to, 95860.

EARN HIGH TNCOME F FUll, PORtime. At hoime or as achool. Ebsy tervice busingess, no investrnent, ex. citing opportunity, no pimmicks.
reliability cuaramted - Detaits 82 reliability guarantead - Detaits 82 (refunded) STAR SSU Box iefing Perk N.Y., 11558.

Protographer wented to take photos st party on Soturdey Feb. 17. Call 474-9834 fide on Fridays 30 Sone Mt. any A74-6866.

Addresters Wamted Immediatelyll Work at home - no experience necossary excallent pay. Write \(x\) Suite 127, Dilfas, XX7231.

Help Wanted - Babysimer for motionaliy handicapped child at my home. 2:30 to 4:45. Will pay for 3 hours. x-2091 or 476-8119 afteŕ 5 pm.

\section*{For Rent}

2cubic foot refrigeratars for rent. Call Taylor Rental Center. 478 -0957.

Apartment furniahed, waiking diatance. One month's wecurity, no ferse. immediate occupincy. 6376550.

Furnish Roomis, Clean, Warm, Kitchen and bathroom facilities. 112 Comstock Ave.. 100 month. Call 475-7911.
Stay only four doors from tha oceatn at Ft. LAUDERDALE GEACHI Rooney Apartmants mi-only 812 night per person. Call 305-462 springl

\section*{Personals}

Laura Sue' and Carey. Is it true that edvertising titudentim do. it botter in snowbanks? Lowe, 'the Strangers.
Do unto otherst Applications available now through Feb. 16 tor poer counseting postitions'for 1979 80. Actatemic Counseling Service 311 A Archbold. \(3-3150\).

Saint Masten is gerting closer by the deyt Call Bruce or Jim 425-7376 for details.

Le Grand Chou- Je t'wime. Early for Theopa. R.
TONIGHT ONLYI LTILE SISTER RUSH at PHI DELTA THETA 7-10 pm. 703 Walmut Ave., fnext to Haven) Don't miss it

Ed-For yostercley, today and tomorrow. Happy everythingt i lowe vou. Wendy.

Patty, Karon, and Betay. Thanks for a real nice ovenitng. Ler' 3 do it again sometimb But naxt time. THE GAME" - Steve and Ken.
Happy Eirthday to the best big sig a guy aver had. I LOVE YOU - LITTLE日RO.
BUTTONS - If the future shoutd quickhy become the past, then memories furure then Heaven istreall Hues Abbe- (tukup #1) Happy Birthclay Hope vou had great one. Love fukup 42.

Jow schoots bewnare- epphicetions are almost due and the pealmutar/schenker Tandern will hit thern \(\begin{aligned} & \text { iff. }\end{aligned}\)
YOU: I am happy as Arizona, and other colors. With Love.
LORI GALTHER - Meet us tonite git the Student Center Todd and Penclope.
RAY- "Croser- "em-upl" You praved that when the eat is eway, the mice will pley. D.E.F.
HEY YOU. Have You been through the mill at old S.U. 2 Went to help other Etudents avoid your mistakes? Or benefit from, what you"vo 2/16/79 to be en Academic Poer Counselor 311 Archbold ( \(x-3150\) ) We need you.

\section*{Position Available}

Work at your student store. Campus Con veniences, Inc. is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum. Travel Guides. Information is a vailable at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Monday, Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

Penolope. Saturday night at the Student Center wez outrappous: Withent conter wass ourrapeovsi the epinache quicte. Tods.
Tood, to quicha his own. Penclope.

\section*{Hay Smotion youre the best in the} world and I'll love you forever. Your Pal.
Coming Soon: The Orange answerto Pittsburghis terrible towels St John's bewarell

Mrs. Raccoon, you asked for it you got it Your wery first personall the fact that I loveryou is no secret, but who" gonne know this one's for you7 Mr. Faccoon.
Dear Barbara, All I can may is, 'You slepped into my lite and im oh so happy." Happy Valeritines Dayl Love always. Sthewn.
PDH - Happy Valentine's Day (one day early) your very speciat and woutidn't waint this to get lost in it will be nice shmring our first Feb. I 4th together. Thencs for vesterdey. today And tomorrow, Lowe you. BIR.

\section*{Lost & found}

Lost at Sammy on \(1 / 28\), blue fulticolor stripe down jacket feward-contact Gary S: 3-26es.
LOST-One black cerrying case with tetsers WTI on it. Lost on Wed.. Feb. 7 in room A2 of Nowhouse. If founct. please call Tom at 423-2127 or 472 2534.

Navy blue canvas bee with white Navy blue canvas bee with white trim lost in or around Sims 222 on trim lost in or around Sims 222 on Friday sfternoon Febb. 2nd. Contained white cardigen, two naw interested in student papars. Rewara for finder. Please cell 471 4862.

\section*{Services}

TVPING SERVICE thesis disserSotion, Selem-7846 Mre

Experienced typist in tecm papers. theses, -dissertations. Have IBM typewriter. Call Mrs. Emily Kessler 472-5044.
Low cost traval to istanl. Toll Free 800-223-7676. 9 a.m.-6 p.m. N.Y time.
BIORHVTHMS. HEVE your biortythmic cycles enarted by cormpurter for a three month pariod effecSive when information is received \($ 2.00\) to: Computer Biorhythms, 736 $2.00 to: Computer Bitriythms. 736 13210.

Tomorrow is Valentine's Day!

YOUR VALENTINE WILL LONE ETY Order the romantic ETI) Invellundie* Ikouquet. Coll or visit us texiay. We sumd Valentine mexst anywhere the \(\left.\mathrm{F}^{-1 I}\right)\) way.

SEND OR TAKE HOME OUR FTD

\section*{HURRY! Valentines Day is Wednesday, Februarv 14.} Deal & Co.
Onondaga Plaza Store 422-1200
435 So. Warren St., Syr., N.Y. 13202
422-1219

\section*{Tuesday Madness}

On Tuesdays

We reforva the right to limit our dultvery area.

\section*{Fobnsery 13, 1978}

Pege

\section*{The Dally Orange}

\section*{Rotunda,}

Ey David Olxun
Saturday' SU-North Carolina State Wresting match had somethin
It had Gene Mills, coming off his first loe this aeamon, matched againet stil another undefeated opponent. It had a gifted but alumping SU freshman Mari DeMeo, Versus a gifted and im all, it had a good. mediumesized heavyweight, Mike Fotunda, pitted ageinist a good, big hanvyweight, 324 pouna Paul Finn. All the mitch lacked according to coach Ed Carlin. "menaccording to coach wd Carlin, men

Rotumda's bout was important no Only because it offered a chance for David to take down Goliath, but al

Rotunda bounded and Finn waddled onto the mat with SU leading 23-19. UB ing a scoring eyratem only alighty less complicated than, the federal income tax long form, it could be deduced that if Rotunda won, drew or lost a decision by less than eight points, SU was the Winner. If Finn was victorious by pin or 12-point auper-superior decision, the match would go to N.C. State. If Finn won by more than eight but less than 12 won by more than eight but less than 12 points, however, the
in a \(23-23\) deadiock.
The Eirat period began with both wrestlers standing and pushing each other around the mat. Several times, Finn grabbed Rotunda behind the neck and attempted to manp the amallerman to the mat. Rotunda leaned harder againgt the maini-mountain and refused to go down

Although the first period ended in a scoreless tie it was a moral victory for as he took hiztators place in the top position to begin the second period. Finn silenced the crowd by breaking into the scoring column with a one-point escape. But Rotunda bronght the fans to cape. But Rotunda bromght the fans to their feet and Finn thuding to the mat their feet and Finn thudding to the mat with a deft foot-sweep good for a with a deft foot-sweep good for a bled on top and rode Finn until the period ended.
The final three. minutes brought Rotunda his totghest test Starting on Rotunda his torghest test Starting on the bottorn with nearly a sixth of a ton resting on his back, Rotunda cotild not allow Finn to break him down.
"A couple of times he started to go down, taid SU asaighant conch Briary ent down, there was no getting up."
With 20 seconds gone in the third

\section*{Orange wrestlers deflate State} period, Rotands eluded Finn and scrambled to hin feet. Spectator encouragement. The next two minuted were a carbon copy of the first period. Fotonda matched Finn purgh-for-pull as both wreatlers batied from a standing position. Several times it appeared Roturida would buckie under Finn's wreight, but he clung to the big man with a vice-like grip.
If your want to close out the match ust run around him once," yelled a Syracuse aupporter.
about two minutes.
With 20 seconds left in the match. Rotunda ahowed he hadnointention of running out the clock. Carefully measuring Finn as if he were a gient redwood, Rotanda brought him cranhing to the mat with the foot sweep he uged in the first period. For the second time in the match, he covered Finn as the clock ran out. The one additional riding-time point gave Rotumin a \(6-1\) win:
SU's bigr and a halfbefore Rotunda, SU's biggest wrestler, put the match out of reach, the littlegt Orangeman, 118 -pound Millm, pounded Jim Zenz in the first bout Beaten 9.8 in his last start, when opponent Joe Gonzolez was awardied a controversial atalling point, Mille took apart the previougly undefeated Zenz

Syracuse's 1 t8-pound yraviler Gena. Milis (infti) won min 20th victory of the beason latt Seturdey at Mantey Fiold Houte in leading tha Orange over North Caroline State. Millis. zeen hare in accion earlier in the year, pinned Sterte"免 previousty unbeaten Jirn Zenz in the third period of theif match.
with surgeon-like precision Milla, whoue lant fincee opponenfa had com bimed zecords of \(60-1,2\) scored 19 umanswered points while Zent seemed preoccupied with using all hia injury tirpeouts. Ahead \(22-6\), Nails finally pinumed Zenx with 47 seconds lefin the match.
In the second match, N.C. State's Mark Zito let Jeff Zona up five times and took him down five timesen route 0 a 21-7 super-superior decision.
With N.C. State within one team point (6-5), SU freahman Mark BeMeo broke out of a slump with a 193 win DaMeo, a former New Yorla atate high achool champ, got off to a fast start this season but was badly beaten by opponents from Temple and Hofstra.
\({ }^{4}\) Mark has been a little aloof out there the last couple of matches and he has gotten caught," said Schmidt.
His confidence growing with each takedown, Devieo built up a 121 lead through the Enat two periods, before Noto was penalized twice for atalling. Then, after a Noto reversal made the score 15-3. DeMeo put Noto's back to the mat'for three points and the super superior decision

At 142 pounds, \(S U\) was without the service of Catalfo. His replacement, Prak Cantrignano, was decisioned by "Catalfo has sacrificed himsalf all year, loning extreme amounts of herg done it all wromg. He graing a lot has done it an wrong. He grins a lot and then has to lose too much too quicand hen has to loas too much too quic-Gy. Timmy is guffening from a hend problem caysed byextreme weight losis. Wroblem caused by extreme

At 150 and 158 pounds. N.C. State's Mike Koob and Panl Thorpe defeated SU co-captain Fon Grubaugh and freshman Joe, Collican, respectively. This put the Wolfpacknahead \(15-11\) with four matches remaining.
The Orangemen more than made up the difference in the 167 and 177 -pound classerg. SU freahman John Dougherty raised his record to \(11-4\) with a win over Mark Peters, who suffered a ribinjury and was unable to continue sifter trailingase Wrestling one. Weight-cians lower very impressive at 188 poundf. He pinned Doug Carver with \(1: 36\) gone in the first period.

Back in front 23-16, SU immediately surrendered fous tean points as two time Atlantic Coast Conference champ Joe Lidowaki defeated Ralph Spinola,

\section*{Women's hoop, swim teams eye post-season play}

Orange hosts Rochester

\section*{By Glen Udine}

Before the SU wornen's basketball team can begin to compete with the nation's top teams it must first establish aupremacy in Upatate New York.

The Orangewomen, undergoing rapid imProvement this season with firgt-year head conch competition in the next two days. A quick Univeraity of Rochester team will visit Manley tonight at 7. Then, the Orange travel to the Univeraity of Rochester tomorrow night to play a strong Niagara team \(16-2\) in a- Manufacturers anover Tournament semi-final makeh also at 7.
However, Rocheater (9-5) cannot be owariooked. press a lot, they're quicker than we are . . . but we're Bger.
Rochegter brings one of the nation's leading corers, Jody Lavin, who avereges 25 points a game. SU's biggest gawne of the, week, though, will be tomorrove night an the two remaining teatrs in the apetate divigion (SU and Niagara) will square off. The winner will neceive \($ 1,500\) that goes toward the women's basketball programa and play in the finals of the Hanover towraey for the state title.

They play a very, very strong denial type of defense," Jacobs said of the Niagara team. "But they have trobble with zones, so we'll try to keep mixing it up while keeping them outgide.
"The SU-Niagaura match-up uhould determine not only the winner of the Upatate division of the tourmament but also the beet team in New York state," aid Cortiand State head ooach Koger Sipher, after his tenm lost to both earlier in the year "SUU is very tough but I'd be suiprised if they beat Niagara, especially on the noad.

To offeet the dieadvantage of being on the road, freobe, who is aloo women's sport information crroctor, is thying hara to attract a large Syracuse Niegrara game After practicing for two hoors yesterday. Jacobs and the SU team hustled around carnpua with Ayers ammouncing the game.

We can't ait back and complain about no one coming to otur games," Jaicobs waid. "We have to go out and mell our product."
Manufacturers Hanover Tournarnent Director Meg Archbold values SU's product, too.

SUU is very strong, and you lanow they go out and play to win." Archbold said "SU ahonld beat the younger Niagrera team."
"We'll jugt try to out-erecuite them, which is what we don't do aharply enough yet"" said Jacobs of the Wre dont do aharply enough yet, said Jacobs of the Niagara same. "We haven't peaked yet and should Noang."

Conning into tonight's game with. Rochester, the leading SU scorer is Sue Scholl, averaging 12.3 points a game, including 23 againet Ithace. Martha Moyish follows with 11.7 pointion per game and also leads the Orange with 8.5 rebounds.
NOFERE Admianion to tonight's game in free with an athletic activity caird and \($ 1\) for anyone else. Winner of SU-Niagara game will mont likely play powerful Queens College on Feb. 28 at Ioma College for the tonraey championohip and \($ 3,000\).

\section*{SU swims for ninth}

\section*{By Paul Fransco}

A victory over Rochester tomight wonld give the Syracuse University women's awim team its finest record (9-1) in history

Tonight's contest marks the regular eemson finale Lor the swimaners, althongh BU is hoeting the ctate champuonghips Eeb. 22-24. However, the team is Gatimg up for a tougin meet in Manhatzanville thin Saturday and for the Eastern Coach You Wallcer maid after Saturday's yout of Ithacs Colleyp that tonithet'童 match with Rochester horald be no problems The lat forp meete for yrecune here beem eqey an the Orange bre wadine throngh the ligit part of their mehedule.
"We"re building up for the championships"
Walker said. "In these easy meets we let the eiris Walker maid. "In these easy meets we let the girls gwitch events, improve tha the state championahips."
The easy meets Walker mentioned were matches the women awimmers completely dominated last week.
Againgt Binglanmion and Ithaca, Syracuse cap tured every single event except the diving competition. Lackily for their opponents, st has no compet

The four All-Americans, Wendy Evana, Robin Butler, Lix Vilbert and.Patay Klotz, have led the owimmers this season. Ageimot ithacn Satarday owimmers this aesmon. Agamat ithaca Satarday 13 evente SU won.
Helping the team leadex vere förmex Venexuelan Olympian Dacyl Perez and frashmaniKim Casale. Perea, who has not completely recovered from a fever, managed to win twe 100 yard individual medley and 100 -yand freestyle event againstithaca.

Although Casale placed second in the 500 -yard freestyle and third in the 50 -yard freestyle, she has helped. Symacuse in the 200 -yard medley and 200 yard freegtyle melays.
In addition to these performances, some of the lesser known owimmers have displayed their talenta.

Patty Hannan turned in a second-place effort in the \(100 y\) yard breastatrolue againut Ithaca whila Mary Mughes and Misa Coolephaced third in ibe50yard backstro Aquingt Binghamton, mophomore Laurie Garrett: placer secand in the 100 -yard individuad medley and Cooke fininhed wesond in both the 50 -yravi freestyle and 50 fyand butterfly evente.

Although Waller has mentioned lack of depth as one of the team's probliens, the bench haa come one of throuinh for the squad.

In the 200 -yard freantyle relay at ithaca, SUa
 Browin and Anwe Kleschingly fraimbedrigit behind

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Below is a chart of the places and times the check-cashing service will be open.

\section*{Monday tiriough Wednesday \\ 3-5:30pan: YpdigefPEHservatory Information Centex \\ Divoryu Dang \\  Thursoday Gurach 35:30pme 3pm-2am \\ Student Center}

\section*{satúrday:}
 \(3-5304 \mathrm{ph}\) ²

Information Center
6pim-2a:m.
StudentCenter

\section*{Check-cashing}

\section*{By Jexry Zremaki-}

After a two-day delay, the emergency checkcasking bervice will begin today.
Kathy Courtney, Student Association special presidential aspistant, said the delay occurred because the Office of Stradent Activities wanted to meryone's mind."
The service will be operased by student ac ivitien and funded by Sypteupe Univernity Oheck-cashing, centera will be at hopron Center, 310 Walnut Place; and the Good Food Store; 316 Waverly Ave.
The service will be available after banting hours. See chart for hours of operation.
oripinally planned ao that worth. orignaily planined oo that workergeang , int Alw, the ptrvice will start wisi hour liter to avoid overlapping with the Students, must present their ID cards to cash checks, and checks must be made payabl

\section*{service begins}

Checke must be written in five dollar muttiples. A 25 cent aervice fee will be added for each five-dollar amount. (A check for \($ 5\) must be Written out for \($ 5.25\).) Checks of more than \($ 20\) will not be cashed.
There will be a \($ 5\) fee for bad checks. If a stadent bounces two checks, the will not-be allowed to une the service.
Students must put their local addressee and phone numbers, Social Socurity numbers and chock-cashing location on the back of each

\section*{check.}

The program ia being run on an experimental basis natil March 12 when SA and otudent activitiea will evaliate and possibly change the procedure
The proyram may be digcontizued at any

To mind the earvice, \($ 2,000\) जill be the chencollore office euch day and tian trom proportionsily to the carking locationa.
When theme funds run out, no noore checks will be cirshed that day. Remaining funds will be available for the next day's note.

\section*{Eclecticism or rich panorama?}

Editor's note: This is the fifth part in an eight-part terié on the arts at SU.

Almoat from the beginning. the architecture at Syracuse University has been criticized. In i911, a critic from the Architectural Record wrote of the campus's dozen brildinga: Therse is not a irace of general plan. The dirponition of the brildinge" in relation to one another is as hiseredilypiggedly as the dexign of each considered by itself?"

To the "ritic the Hall of Lunguages was a "dincere effort of, an incompetent degigier Fo answer a practical purposer Lyman Elall pretention" and Crouse College swas "the vexy wortt" of the candoum ancerveration of mprotudied forme Whist the critic dishined in thog, rexmpous deriger wne the principle of eclecticism; the architecture of choice and diversity; buildiners of widely diversity; buidings of widely differing eras and appear mice by ancie.
This eclecticism
5m was architactaral "iliteracy". to The critic but to Harvey facilities admen preaident for facilies acmanistrakon, it is a "rich pannorama" of buildings created by the architects free interpretation of historic forman:

The xichmess of the Second Fingire of Framce (HI) carabe seen agteingt the (Hendricles)," Kaiver wrote lant thping in The Daily Orange. "Beanx Arts interpretation for the sciances is ciecorated by a fifbeentwy temple of Vende (Lyman). The tiled noof of the North Italian Rexuaiasance (Stevie Hall) is in the bhadow of a magnificent Pile of Romanesque: stone (Cronse)."
But by the 1960s SU abrandomed this alecticiami, what the critic called a. "higgedly piggedil" approach, for a con sistency mandated by a dianign board of the niviversity, all buildinge were to be done in Glen Garry. red brielk with In diana Himeatone trim. Thema joxity of buildinge on campus todiay were built according to this plan and Chancellor William Tolley apent \($ 42\) million on hie master plan.

One architecture firm, King AKing of Syracmeo fomad itmelf in the rare poeition of brine nbia to demern collore cars-1942 to Elint Day, Shaw, Booth, Dellimatn, Lawinaten and Wateon, dorme and Bird Library, King & King followed the deaign board scheme.

SU "didn't want the caunpus to look Like a World'a Fair co lool ike a woride designing their own everyone designing their own monument to themselves." said Robert Secor, an architect with King & King bince 1957 with King & King Eince 1957 and a partner in the from "Continuity and com= patibility" were stresped, he patibility", Were streaped, he maid.

The deraign for the buildings on theipaide of the Quad "were to be ancariet mowsible, not to detem from Hendriciss Chapel's dominance - keep it plain."

Some have called this conformity hland or part of the 50 s bombshelter mentality "When they built Sadiler,'they just gave the worlimen brieks and told them to stop for win cuws, Profesaor Davia Bennet once told a clases.
And one SU gradinate wrate in the Alumni News: "The serenity of the Quad has been destroyed by the World War II disanter of HBC, which has as much architectural menae-as Sadler Hall - early hoepital." Secor said King of King "havea pretty thick ain" about the criticiam. "In order ta have a building the nger agree With, you have to have a comi binntion of function and beakty and all those woring Secory enid. Yon have to-be comeffal that you dan't to buve tempil vision zud pany to hell

\section*{SEUNA joins suit against SU stadium}

By Annette Lieitra The Southeast University Neighborhood Association yesterday joined 41 local residents and HOMES, another neighborhood group. in a lawavit to halt construc tion of the domed stadium at Syracube University antil ade quate trafic and parking plans have been made.
The SEUNA board of direa tors decided to enter the lawarit after the aecond meeting. Feb. 9 , of the ad hoc stadrum tagk force. It became clear then, said SEUNA President Judith McMallen, that the task force was unlikely to come up with a workable plan for traffic control before the start of construction this spring.
SEUNA's 300 mernbers yegterday sigmed the petition niled against the Urban Development Corporation The Syracuae City Plannin Commission and the Onon dage County Planning Board

The reason we joined the suit is to get an environmenta impact study and to get pubtic hearings," McMullen said. "We trini" that a atadium is an excellent iden for the community - a really valuable asset." But MrMailen argued that the proincted ure org the new stadium is "entirely out of new atadinm ie entirely out of ability to : rolernte …titetro abinty to zolarate thanc cotromoin eleo claimed th SNUNA tried to conted ena Surt with the Comity Fian won Ch the can ning Commission early in 1978, but mat SEUNA was clainhed aside. She made this of Joseph \(V\). Julian, SU vice president for public affairs, who said local residente who band local reacients December, 1978 .

WWe anticipated that some good, comprehengive plans would come from the umiverwity," Mckillen Baid, for the getative is 116 meanthe for the staciun is 212 months away and no plans exist yet. We wrie also connting on having opportanities pablic input, the said.
Two member of SEUNA's board of directors serve on the stadium task fonce. Until recently, SEUNA stressed its involvement in the stadium question through this work With the tasic force. It in composed of representatives from New York state, Onomdaga Connty, Syrecuee, SU, University Fill Corporation, Gommanity Development, University Hill Medical Hngtitutions and SEUNA.

But SEUNA's representatives on the task force have expressed their dissatisfaction with its progresps.

What about a Friday night. event at rush hour?" asked Dongias Reicher, a SEUNA tingk force representative. "It beermin lind of crazy to me to plan to build momething before you've even studied it. It seems very unprofersional to me."
Fleicher talliod to SliUNA boneicher members Treaday board mambers herencay might alond with the lawfer for the lawsuit and SEUNA for the Lawsuit and SEUNA nembers who bad met with marious city officials.
"I'm willing to try and asp gist" Reicherimid. "Byme don't want this (nenghborimood) to want this (neighborinood) to

Consinued on pate two

Since 1811: Syrecene University" orchitecturn the been sevariely criticimed for the "higredty-pigroedty"? demigm.

\section*{Extra Color Prints or Silies...}

\section*{(NO NEGATIVE NEEDED)}

If you've ever wanted oxra color prints or color instant prints or conventional color prints, now is the time to get them. No need for negatives. Just bring in your favor coupon, and for every three coler pints or alloes you order from your same-size Irstant or conventional color prints Kodak will make Ering this coupon in Bring this coupon in today for tull detalts. oday for full detaits. But March 14.

chamae tr: WU EOOKETORE CMAROE MAETERCHARGE visa

03 OOKSTORS 303 Universiry Ptsce

\section*{Podifion Avallable}

Work at your student store.
Campus Conveniences, Inc.is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum Travel Guides. Information is available at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Monday, Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{WATCH FOR THE HUGHES RECRUITER VISIIING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F

Tickets available at Spectrum Sundries Discounted Tickets \($ 3.50 & $ 5.00\) with S.U." ID only
For further information call the War Memorial Box Office at 425-2670 or University Union at 423-2503

\section*{Making teachers measure up \\ "The whole art of teaching," \\ who fascinate us for hours with}

Anatole France aaid, "is only the art of awalcening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satinfying it purposerds."

France's definition makes the teaching profession sound easier than it is. Not all instructors are so adept at prying open minds and awakening what lies dormant. Un fortumately for the student, there has been only one way to discover if his teacher possesses this talent-experience.

Student Association is working on a teacher evaluation guide that could change this situation. Students will go to classes, observe teachers' performances, speak to tuderite faling the clasese, and then write critiaues of the teachers.
\(\therefore\) The students wilf coinsider-if fic teachers are interesting, instruc tive, inspiring, fair, concerned, and a host of other qualities. "We're not out to screw anyone," said SA Vice President for Academic Affairs Dan Keefe, "but because of the fact we represent undergraduate interests, we want to make teachers more responsible.'
SU does have room for greater responsibility. We have profesaors their words; we also have teachers who look out to a roomful of nodding heads after ten minutes. Many \(\mathbf{S U}\) professors realize education is not contained within four walls; nor does it stop at the door of Maxwell Auditorium. But dhere are atill those who refuse to there are atill those who refuse to takers of their valuable time-dis tasteful dietraction to thei research.

The teacher makes or breaks the course. A etudent should not take an entire course junt to decide at the end of the semester that all he got ging grade. With SA's teacher evaluation guide, a bad experience won't be the only way to discover that a teacher's ineptitude destroys a good course:

Some people will burely say SA's guide will become merely a forum for disgruntled students to avenge teachers for bad grades. But SA does have safeguards against this-competent, questioning editorial staff, and descriptive, guidelines on how to review guideline
"Remember, this is not an evaluation of the teacher as a person and you should discuss his pexsonality only as it adds or detracts from his or her teaching ability," warns the sheet of review guidelines. "Write the truth as you see it, but only after you have considered both sides.'
Jim Naughton, acting editor of the guide, pointed out that it "wants to give the student an idea of what it's like to be in the course. Some of the things that color your judgment should color your judgment."

In order to get the guide out by Sept. 1,SA needs people - people to review teachers, to sall advertiging, and to help with other uspects of its publication.
If you are interested in evaluating teachers, call Naughton, Keefe, or Peter Osborne, chairman of the Teacher Evaluations Subcommittee, at 423-2650.
"We don't think professors would cut corners if something like this was under way," Keefe said Education is not only grades and credite. With SA's guide, perhapa SU can more widely achieve France's definition of teaching.

Marilyn Marks
for the Daily Orange

\section*{On Valentine's Day, some thoughts on love}

Dear Daily Orange:
A cruel plant which eats insects is called Venus' fly trap and an innocent little flower of the garden variety is called Venus' Looking Glass. Both bear the name of the Goddeas of Love and are dedicated to her. an are the dove and the goat, the swan and the ram. There are all hindis of love spiritual and sensual, calm und turbulent, good and bad, helpful and harmful. Nobody can define precisely what it ia, though many men, through their imperfect vision. try, with a squink, to perceive what it is to them Everybody can tell you what it does. Love, it transforms the stale, trivial and flat-footed into the fresh, gignificant and winged, ready for flight at a moment's notice. Take love awry from people and life becomes shapeless, empty, lifeless: and people become merely facesin a crowd. Thus, love does make the world go round. However, there are as many facets to love as there are stars in the sky, love is not this or that, but everything, and there are as many insights as lovers. There are as many sides as elements.

Agrain, I say, there are all kinds of love. Unrequited is perhape the worst and common to any age, period or romantic endeavor. Poets scream about it, fovers create it, and singers bleed their woes into the notes of sorrow they score. Writers, of course, pound the pain into the keys of the typewriter-but to a college sophomore, the worda muat have direction to have meaning. In my case, a letter to my father, explaining how it has been for the last two years at Syracuse-
The story speaks for itgelf, addressed to my father also a writer. For romance, I have a somewhat bitter taste and Valentine's Day only sarves, this year, to remind me of the loss; But as I said, love makes the world go round, and pain spurns a turn of the earth on its axis as far as a soft word of acoeptance. In any case, the worid continues to apin, and apin, and epin twice the spiral, twice the circle and twice for the loss around my heart. And from the revolutions we take what is valuable. feel what is hurt, and crawl to another world of illusion looking for a new place to spin a web, hoping this time, the silk strands will support more weight when spun. Hoping, looking, hope looking, looking, looking

Regards,
Jason Vail

Dearest Pop,
Ont, two, three, four, one, two, one, two, three, four, hear-we-feel, all 10 fingers used for symbols in the words. I stand on the corner of HBC gazing out againat the Quad, looking at it without really seeing it. It is late at night, or early in the morning; my mind is far away. I am playing a game with my fingers inside my gloves, matching four and two letter words with the 10 fingers I have. Now I try to move them without moving the glove, so that if I were playing this game in a crowd no one would know, it would be my game, my secret. It is cold, but 1 dion't feel it, because there is a numbness inside of me that pains ne more than any frigid air mass ever shall.
Iam thinking that Jason is Anice name, especially for a boy, and rathor unique aince it is not heard much. I always liked it, and.I rather fancied that anyone would. Loant I never heard anyone may he didn't like it Dozens of thoughts are rumning through nay head Quotes, old sayings. "I'd rather learn from one bird how not to eing, then to teach 10,000 stare it meang; I used to know, but I think I have forgotten.

Shit. Maybe 1 misquoted him. Maybe know, I just wish the pain would go away.
It seems that all we doin life is crawl from womb to womb, looking for a place to be warm, to feel secure. And the pasasges between the wammly glowing wombe are dirnly lit. and narrow, and cold. Like how do you get rid of an unwanted passion, Pop? Like What's ehe word on unrequited love? Like, I guess that's why the Greeks called it the strongest and cruelest type of emotion in the univerae. Like, help? Pop, when lovers are about to kiss there is a fragile bond that links them. a tenderneas that unites them; their spirits start to mingle, they becin to chare one mind and one feeling, a beautiful samenesa ideas-philosophical or political-they are often duck, charged with energy, alert to each new element introduced into the entrategy of the dialogrue. They may have completely oppotite views but there is a mingling of their apirts in the energy of their discourne. The same mingling occurer in combat. The thrust and parry are both a part of the same force in a dnel. The sword play is as much like a dance as it is a deadly fight. A blowis dealt and received with similar energy. The same feelings happen to both of us as actors on stage, which gives us the impetun for acting. We are doing what all humans do, striving for intimacy, for contact with others in both love and hate, each being as close a form of contact as the other.

So I have fallen in love, Pop, and so did she, or would have if she trusted herself enough. But now ahe is acared and running away from me and her feelings very fast. And the love is not returned. And ahe won't be back, and it's nothing that I ever did, it's just the way it is. The bad thing is that she was giving and we were exchanging. and had I never gotten a taste to sbout the alings and arrows of outrageaus fortune. liugt wish the pain would go awny. There is a lot mor than I am actually writing, much more plot, but I care deacribe the reat to you when I return home agsin. deacribe the reat to you when I return home agein. over and talk to you moye about it later I just ing get to let you know why I have not been writing and out of touch. touch.

Love.
Jason

The Daily Orange
Thomen Cottey Thomses Gradif Chuck Bedleto Ciegeg Chattertion How schuld Marnafiel \(\mathrm{SH}_{Y}\) Montpomsing Secqut Eatmon Minpline Eppoilto Kovin Haynue
Ecoti Rohrey Ecoty Rohrrey

"It's clear to us that (the univertity) insits on having (the stadium) on their campus."

Pichard Schecter, Lawyer for HOMES and for reaidents guing Syracuse Prban Development Corp. Onondaga County Planning Board. So you noticed.

\section*{University Union}

\section*{Internal/External Chairperson}

Applications are available for the position of U.U. Internal and External Chairperson at the U.U. Offices at Watson Theatre. Applications are due by Fri. Feb. 16 at 5 pm . Call 423-2503 for more information.
subsidized by the student fee

\section*{
}

\section*{Want to be a CAMP COUNSELOR?}

Spend your summer in Camp Equinunk or Blue Ridge, a brother-sister camp in the Pocono's.

Openings in field sports, waterfront (with wsi) water-mki, temnis. gymnastics. pioneering, nature. science. radio broadcasting, music. archery, art \(\mathrm{a}_{\mathrm{a}}\) crafts. dramatice and general.

Stop in or cail THE PLACEMAENT SERVICE, awk tor Jonn Snyder, and signupiforan ON ©AMPUSINTER VIEW on MONDAY. FEERUARY 19 , from 8:45 umtil 4:45.

\section*{SYRACLJSE LNIVERSTY EOOKSTORES}

MAIN STORE ONLY
Happy Valentine's Day!

Today Only
From 9 A.M.
Til 5:30 P.M.

Get a \(10 \%\) discount on anything you buy on the Third Floor Art Supplies School & Office Supplies Photo Supplies Cameras

\section*{All Art, Camera, School & Office Supplies} Discounted 10\% Today Only!

\section*{State budget upsets chancellor}

\section*{By Gerard Dainba}

Gov. Hugh L Carey*s \($ 12.69\) billion atate budget did not guprise Syracuse University of Gcisis, but it did disappoint them.
The \(1979-80\) budget, on which the gtate legislature will vote April 1. gives \($ 1.4\) billion to higher education.
The disappointment is that the budget did not include a cost-of-living formula in the Bundy fund, according to SU Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers.

The Bundy fund is a state program which gives privateinstitutions money for eath degree awarded.

One of the main reasons for SU's 1979-80 tuition increase is the failure to raise the Bundy fund, Egigers said.
For every B.A. it awards, SU receives \($ 840\) Each M.A. yields 5650, and a Ph.D. yielda \($ 3,100\). SU receives \($ 4.5\) million out of the total \($ 68\) million Bundy fund.
The money received from the pirogram goes for professors balaties and gemeral maintenance, and other expenses.
Eggers said, "I am disappointed that while. there is a provision for a substantial increase.
for the State University of New York, there is no provision for an increase in the allocation of Bundy funds to independent institutions."
The net appropriations for SUNX are \($ 684.3\) million, an increase of \($ 33.2\) million from last year.
Eggers reported that each year funds for GUNX ure increased and that the last increase for Bundy fundm was in 1976-77.
The failure to increase the Bundy fund was "not totally surprising," Eggers said. He added however, that "It does put a heavier dependence on income.
Molly Broad, special assistant to the chancellor for governmental affairs, said it was a "lean budget." As a result, SU will have to put a greater emphasis on grants and donations given to the school.

Broad said SU is concentrating on the sup plemental budget to increase the Bundy fund. This budget is submitted to the legislature by private institutions. SU.is going to ask for an edditional \($ 7,050\).
Brosid said that the biggest defense for the supplemental budget is the inflation factor. The proposal will be submitted April 1.

\section*{The DO Photo} department is having a recruitment meeting on Friday, Feb. 16 at 4 p.m. at the

Daily Orange, 1101
E. Adams St.

Call 423-2127
and ask for Glen or Pete.

\section*{Ft. Lauderdale Spring Break Only $339}

Includes:
- 8 days - 7 nights in beautiful Ft. Lauderdale Cluxury Hotel
- Rounctrip air transportation from Syracuse - Transportation & Taxes

SIGN UP TODAY & TOMORRON \(12: 30\) 4:00 at the SUSKI OFFICE (103 Collage PI.) \($ 100\) DEPOSIT DUE BY FEB. 16
For more information call Danny/422-3091, Robin/471-8926

\section*{THE}

JUICY SANDWICH
GRAND OPENING
Thursday
Feb. 15
EVERYTHING -
HALF PRICE
11 AM - 11 PM
Try the unique hot toasted subs.
Middle Eastern - Armenian Cuisine

727 s. Crouse
(Next to Orange Tonsorial)

\section*{Tonight at Drumlin's}

\section*{Valentine's Party featuring 805}

Engineering &c Computer Science Majors

\section*{DONT GRADUATE} without talling to the Hughes Recrulter visiting your campus soon.
Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}
-
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOVER M/F

\title{
Daily Orange picks new staff creates two new departments
}

> New etaff poaitions for The Deily Ornage were announced Tueaday by Scot French, incoming editor in chief

> The new staff members are working thin week with the outgoing staff and will ansume their positions Sunday.

> French said he received 46 applications for the 21 staff positions.
> "I was looking for new ideas. creativity and talent," he said.

> A new department. tentatively called Living, has also been created, Fronch said. He said he expects the new section

Next time you're tucking away the smooth, passionate taste of Two Fingers Tequila, you can dress the part. In the Two Fingers T-shirt. Just fill out and return the coupon below. (At just \($ 4.95\) you might want to tuck away a couple of extras, too.)

Send check or money order to:
Two Fingers Tequila Merchandise Offer P.O. Box 31

Engiewood, New Jersey 07631
Please send me_T-shirts. I have enciosed \($ 4.95\) for each \(T\)-shirt ordered. Specify men'sfwomen's size(s): \(\square\) small \(\square\) Medium Large Extra Large Name.
Address
College or University
City \(\qquad\) State \(\qquad\) Zip. Offer good in the United States only. Void where prohibited by law. New Jersey state residents add appropriate sales tax.

A great place to wear your T-shirt: The Two Fingers Booth at Expo America, Daytona Beach. Florida. Spring break, March 16-20.

to do weelily articles on health and nutrition.
The poaition of aupplement editor ham been eliminated and is being replaced by the Projecte editor, Freach asid. The new department will deal with longeterm investigative etories.
\(J\) unior Tom Gradie, managing editor minco November, will continue in that poaition.

Junior Barbera Krupnicki is replacing Chuck Badlato as production manager. Junior Becky Ucren will remain art director.
Junior Scott Rohrer, former masistant news editor, and sophomore Marilyn Marks have been named editorial editors. They are replacing Howard Mansfield and Sy Montgomery.

Sophomore Carolyn Beyrau is replacing Jacqui Saimon as news editor. Assistant news edtions are junior Jack Berger. sophomore David Bauder and freshman Jerry Zremski.

Sophomore Maria Riceardi. former amsistant Foces editor, has been named editor of the department, replacing Brent Marchant Her asmistants are oophomore Patti Schuldenfrei, former copy editor. and sophomore Renee Thurai.
In the ports department. junior J.T. Brady is replacing Joel Stashenko as editor: Sophomore Gegff Hobaon will replace pore suan an as istant sporte editor.
Sophomore Walecia Konrad is editor of the new Living department. Freshman Cari Johason is editor of the Projects department.

Sophomore Glen Stubbe is photo editor, replacing Josh Sheldon and Richard Folkera. Sophomore Pete Halpern has been named astistant photo editor.

The positions of copy editor assistant copy editor and layout director are still open.

You'll love living at the top! Special consideration to students! Two Bedroom Apts. $213

\section*{SKI}

PKillington
FEB. 23,24.& 25
Suskl Inviresyoly
- 2 Fuil viave of aking \({ }^{\circ} 0^{\circ}-\)

\section*{ALL FOR 570}

\section*{SIGN UP:}

Today, Feb. 14 - Tilden Cótryeg ( 103 Collage PI.) and Wed. 8 Thurs. 12:30-4 pim. .

For information Call -
Gerry 422-4387 or Danmy 422-3091

LIMITED SPACE - SIGN UP EARLY SUSKI TO KILINNGTON
Syracuse University Ski Club
tubsidized by the etudent fae

\section*{SU architecture: rich eclectisismi}

Cordinued from papen ors With the tuegre"
It wa not the first master plan the nniversity enFivioned. In the late 1920 , architect Alerander Pope and Dwight Baum, (SU 09) drew up at grandione scheme to redo the entire campusin Georgian Colonial. the atyle of many Colomial. the atyle of many buidinge at Eaxtard. maey planned a 6,000-saat aucitoriom on the back of Hendricks Chapel, with a colvinned front that wowld lool down through several blocks of the campus to a quad of men's dorms dore in the same style (about where Marahall is today)-

The huge adidition required tearing down Steele Hall (no one liked it; they anid it looked like a prison) and the administration building. The plank also called for a coltrmed Syracase Hall of Fame on Mt. Olymipus with the bugts looling out over the valley.

But the depreasion came and Pope only designed Hendricla Chapelin 1929 (then the counChapel in 1929 (then hae coun trys third-largest university chapel, Maxwell 2 all 193 and the echool of medicine on State-rnn. Worid war in ended any chance of the plan catching on-

It was not until the postwar prosperity of the " 50 s that major buildings appeared on campas Deagning the numerous bxildings for the campus was life a hompcoming for King 8 King.
King 8 King'a beildings marined a noticeable change from the design board's atrict requirements. They started using the "punched window" style of Wateon, Marion and the Mownt and made a "break. through" with the bloe panels of Dellylain and Booth. Using pre-cant concreta on Kimmel pre-canst concreta on kimmel branlithrough, Secor said. Jebberwocky was a bonas crawl-upace under hat was not planned.
The univeraity's insistence on brick and limestone did not die until recently. I.M. Pei and Samuel Newhouse had to convince the aniveraity design board that this atyle was inappropriate for the Newhouse

School of Public Com- building from the 20 th floor. munications. In the end I.M. "It was only a quarter of an Pei prevailed and the building inch off -we couldn't believe wap dowe in cruahed cuartz exterior.
Like the early days, the moderm buildings are not without their critics are not Without their critics.
A radio annonncer declared Lawrinson Hall to be Syracuse's own "leaning tower of Pisa.".
"'There's abaolutely no doubt there can be no problem. Theress an 11 -foot-hick con: crete mat on the bottom, " Secor said. But to lay aside any feara, the builders dropped a plumb line down the side of the inch off ony a quarter of and it, so we checked again," Secor zaid.

As in all plane, there id always the unexpected. Standing up, looling at a drawing of the buildings King at King \(^{\text {King }}\) of the buidoings king ainkis han aesigned, Secor pointed to someone called me up and said 'You know, if you put a handle on the sideit looks. . Nkea. toilet.' He Hooked bacir at the map, shaking hia head a hitcle and grinwing. "It was already built; we never thought of that."

The Daily Orange is seeking qualified applicants for copy and layout. Those interested should call Scot French at 423-2127. These are paid positions.

\section*{Daily Orange} 1970's contest deadline today

Today at 2 p.m. is the deadline for entries in the Time Capsule Contest for Thursday's special DO edition about "The Seventies."
Contertanta are asked to submit ideas for artifacts of the 1970s that would belong in a time capsule to represent our decade to Americans 100 years frome now.

Plembe bring your entries to The Daily Orange office, 1101 E. Adame St. by 2 p.m. Include a short explamation of your choices. The beat entrion yill be depicted and publiehed in Thurnday's apecialisave. The vimner gets a pecialisatue: The minner

\section*{SALE 25\% OFF}

ALL DOWNHILL SKI EQUIPMENT

\author{
- PARKAS - PANTS - SUITS \\ -VESTS - SKIS - BOOTS
}

Complate aszortment for men, women & children
At All Locations:
OEWITT E820 E. Genese St. 445-0880 © FAJRMOUNT 3852 W. Genemes 5 t . 488-3208 © LIVERPOOL 107 First \(8 \mathrm{t} ~ 461-5600\)

\section*{Coming...,}

\section*{to Watson Theatre}

Feb.16,17,23 & 24
Promises,
- Promises
- your student fee at play -

\section*{Introducing...}

\section*{RATHSKELLAR}

Every Friday 3-5 p.m.

\author{
14 ox. BEER 35 \({ }^{\text {c }}\)
}

\section*{Or \\ 3 / $1.00}

Located in the basement of Slocum Hall

\section*{Harry Fig}

Sherman's Quest

by Chuck Wing

WE PRINT OR COPY

\section*{We Buy, Sell fr Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magroinas}

RESUMES AND THESES

Copies Whilo You Wait
131 So. Salina St.
131 So. Sallin St
474-4222
across from Syr. Mall
\begin{tabular}{c|}
\hline WE PRINT OR COPY \\ RESUMES \\
AND \\ THESES \\
".Copios Whilo You Wait. \\
i31 So. Smlina St. \\
474.4222 \\
across from Syr. Mall \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Bring your records to us for cash Colloctions bought o House calls by eppolntrient T,000's of records in stock © Most LPTs only 52 . 53 - All records guarantead e We specialize in out-of-print records.

\section*{DESERTSHORE RECORDS \\ s. Cimpus Mall. 730 5. Crouse}

M-Stat. 11-6 (472-3235)
 Feb. 23 thru Sunday, Feb. 25
[with m minkmanim of 30 mente booked)
40 ctentw mindminm per trib
4o cente masimum per trip departing 5:30 Friday from campus returning approx. 10:00PM Sunday Cost per person $79.00

A hot mandwich on arrival and breakenet man dimner at the hotel are ineluded daliy.
room: will be tyiple and amind only.
Day akhing only la avalinble at Core Mit.

\section*{Here, there &c everywhere}

TODAY
Sviets lor the maet can be Hin HEC from 9.30-4 D.m. at Whe Hafte Co-cp vitantine bakte salid. mand Vour love a mestaing matour radio today in HBC. a.m. -5 p.m. in the Hillal lounge. Hendricke Chapet.
Frewlunch eponwored by Hillel will be held at 11:45 8.m. sodmy in the Hillet lounge. Hencrickil Chapel.
Izpenawe hurveh will be mate at mon tomorrow at 230 Euclid Anal Student Office. 230 Euclid Ave.
Underarad Geogrepiry Club meets at \(4: 30\) g.m. today in 323 a meots at 4:30 p.m. soday in 323a Welcorne. Devid fanntow will read rom hit works at \(4: 15\) p.m. in the Newhouse I lounger Sponsored by the Graduate Writing Program. Demfen fecture: Professor Lawtence P. Feer will speak on "Dasign in Switzeriand" st 4-30 pm. todey in the design comerencerbon. Archbold Gym basement.
our of Genersl Electric propram tour of General Electric will be hal today. Cars leave Slocum/ Sims
Have the fovely elnging velentines of Alphat Phi serenade your loved on today, minywtere on cam pus starting at 8 tonight You write the words arso we'll sing tham and present a Valentime for 82. Proceeds go to the Hesrt Furd.
Judo Club meats at 7 tonight in Archbold Gym.
Frying Club meass at 8 conight in tha Dellfilain main lounge.

Cimeer plenaning workshop will be held at 7:30 tonight at the Cuitura Center by office Minority Af sored by the Office of fairs

\section*{TOMORROW}

Judo Club meess m
Nitiel election will b a.m. -5 p.m. tomorrow in the Hille lourgen, Hendricks Chapel. All Hillei members can vote.
Pai Chi, psychology homorary. meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Nowtiouse il louthge.
SU iraduet fatlowah3p applications are due tomorrow at 210 Steele. Coll 423-3503.
Fiequest for axemption from the mandatory student health fee for the Health Center. Martied students with ehitidren commuters and sonts with enidran, commutars and some elipible. Englis English minjors may be eligible for tomarment scholarships. Apply by Deadline for completed application is Morch 2.
Frethman English: Olf-pace poetry and fiction unit registration begins at 9 a.m. tomorrowin 300.Archbold. Class begin Feb. 20.
Help us heip. Peer counsalor applications for Acedemic Comselime Service for next year ara due tomorrow at 311A Archbold Gym.
Those intarasted in forming a women \(7-8\) p.m. from \(7-8\) p.m. tomporrow in the tudent Center.
Film: "The Three Faces of Eve" with discussion. Will bes shown st 7 Psychibtric Canter, 810 E. Genesee St. 81 .

Engilah colloquiurn: David Hopes will speak on "Exre Poundi" The Reality of Nous- en 4 p.m, tomorrow In the i918 Room, Bird Libraty, Informal talk: Profestion Louls Roberte will sprask on Athenes ind Serdsitim: The Contilet of Culturese et 8 p.m. tomorrewit the vownan canver.
flit range will be open from 7:30-10p.m. tomarrow. Bulfets coin 6 fer the rarriester.
Compue Eible Follownhts will Cifecuss "What is Heavan Really Library room. Community Hosise 711 Comstock Avs. Also retreat this weskenat. Cant \(478-8991\) for details. Chestan Club memas at 6:30 torigh in 336 Smith. Now members wilcorne.
Raptime Minlioneires will pley at Two-Elelow, Brewster/Boland's coffeehouse. Molson on tap.

Tomorrour is the inst dey to-stgn up for SUSKI's spring break trip to Fort Lauderdate: 100 daposit fue Sign up at 103 College Plact from 12:30-4 p.m. or cell Danny at 422 3091.

Are you eating more than you went? , Overasters arwonymous Eneets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Grace Episcopal Churen. University dues no fees. no woighmins. Cat \(475-8925\).

\section*{NOTICES}

TY producer needed for production. Cail Robin or Marc at 4232041.

Erin-Go-Mafie perty will be held from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Matrh 2 . Tickets onsple to the Nawnnan Conter-Rotruat the woekend of March 23 woute cell 423-2800 for tetain trouse. Call 4
"Ampi-8er
Ambi-semithm: \(4 t^{+}=\)Not Nitcory:" Applications for this retreat are stil tvensble in the Hillel office.be theld Fob. 23-25 at St. Ardrew's Retreat in Jewel.
Couple applicationst for the dance marethon are Evailable at the Groet Council office. 821 University Ave:Pick up Monday-Friday, noon-5 p.m. Return by march 1.
Mears intramural squath ind badiminton tournmments ontiry desdines are 3 pm. Feb. 19 Et the Arehbold GYm intramural office: \(\mathbf{$ u}\). for director, prodinger, musical direcfor diractor, producer, musicaldirec proctuction Call 423-as63tor on prodution.
pointment
Honore
Honorz Student Orgenizimtion is saliling discount tickets at the 7:30 Fab Salt City Playtouse. Go to the Honors Office, 300-1 Archbold Gym. Acadornic Support Center is reopening registration for speed reading. Class meets \(7 \times 9\) p.m Wednesdays in 204 HBC. Spaces re open in Feb. 7 -March 14 section and Marth 21 -April 25 section. 650 foes- Registet through tomorrow berwaen 9 a.m. \(4: 30\) p.m. at 240 A HBC.
NOTICES FOR WERE. THERES EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orenge; 4 tOI E. Axiams St. by noon and tayshone pumber of sander and telephone number be inciuded. Limit sende must be inciuded. Limit an nouncemants are not taken over the phons.

\section*{Look for the DO's} special 1970 s issue
tomorrow:

\section*{YOUTH IS OUR CONCERN THE PIARISTS}

The Piarists are a Catholic Order of priests and brothers who dedicete their tives to educete the young. They work in schools. CCD programs and parishes. For more information, write:

\section*{Voedtion Director}

The Piandet
383 Valley Forge Fid., Deron, Pernitylvimin 19333.

MISS SHELL. How do you make is thru the day withoun oll of Olay? Cant inve whiout you, But can tive with you. townou mo much. I evan CAPTAN HOOK. wo dighes. CAPTAN HOOK.
Happy Valomina's Day Ed aned Maryannt Colebrate 20 your neart's contontl Gt 's your day tool hove Joas contentl it's Dobbie (Booboo). Hope you'll be my Valentine forever - I love you omd siways will. Love.
end forever KNS.
MULES, YOU HOMOS: HappY end brownting Leos ond J.D. Geving shartered and sooo. Wive wated (shadoobil) and the MuiLES THE've Boen Abuse YES LOUI MY Iove for you is bigger than the whale, wide wothd. So, will you be my crasy lady.
Ni I love you more inan the milas between usy You are my bess high.
You are my tea in the morring and You are my tea in the morning and eighth wonder. Your Fave Rauer, Debbie.
Rasta Boys and K. Corona: I'd be your valantine but Bruce asked mo first. Hava a great day end bewwre of stronge coiors. Love and nugies, stran Lisa.
Cathy Cutler: Kitty's back in town, but l wantyou. No need to hide your desire. Iff be waiting on the Backstreets. Bruce.
Dearest end sweetest ping: Guess whan? I wur you tootYour pooh bepr.
PHONE MOG: YOU GAME TO me from nowhere. It thank the Lord bbove, Say you're gonna be there need your love. Happy Valemtine: Dayi To amo mucto. B.B.
WNN Feb. 14 is the 4th Wednegday. day- Love Pete.
Dear RO. Whathar too tall, onion breath or distracted by Enotherguy, love you just the way you are. Love Getor and Taxi. G.J.A., Hare's all my lova to vou on our znd Volentine's Dsy. Lave.

DEAREST PUEY: It's almost one year and we're still hustling. My ears, ta!! and heart belong to You. HAPPY
VALENTINE'S DAY. LOVE YOU ROSY.
Sqent Thanks for fansesticon yaer pogetherl Hapoy Valentingis! jogetherl Happy Valentine's! Love.

Vicky-l'd still like to ger to know you. but in hard, even though runners are basically nice people.
An t even on the right srack? A Am t even on the right rrack? A tamiliar stranger.
712 Livingston - Sorority living really is funl Alt my love on Valantine's Daytt XXOO Jody. tine's Daytl XXOO Jody.
CATHY REDUNG - Your very first permonall 1 tove you very much.
Happy Volentime's Bayt xofor, Your roommate befor Janie.
Judy-Our second Valemine's DuV and you finally gat a parsanal. One ouf etwo an't bad. Bext of my love to you. Fred shys hello. See-you Dose AGENT OO7- (alian the spy who coves moj Your misation in to have a
 To the bird in ovaralls at 761 . Is it tue that we porilles reply are Bernic and Bigtoot.
Dear Mark, Happy Vaientine an Day io
the beat triend a pifl coutdewer have.
Il ove you ahwaya. All my love, fobin.
Dear STU.Happy Vatentind'a Day to the best whlientine anrone over hed. 1 love youl All imy fove, Mert.
Bucky. I got probiem, can you ralitel I got women cetlin

PEDRO and LUIS, HappyValentine's Oay and mary more fun and honky ormest Sep Yr at Whmbledion.
Love. JSANIVA and MARIM.
To 141 thru 146 and 124 Lambreth Lians, 135 And 138 Farm Acre, favorite neightors and friendsi Love, 143 Lembreth Lene.
Chrk- i coulding gez you a theor, but how about a personal? My tiger misses ther Heppy Valontine's Oay Love, Richie.
HELEN-Friday nignts ZBT are just too Kinky for me. Oh my Good!l Let's compromise and meet-at Steph's. Cuddly, dont forget the Nives. Can't suy sway from you . . . Love..M.
Keory. Keory.
Dear Hildi. Happy Vabentine 's Day. You er
Craig:
Bumadine-Happy fourth week Let's go skating. okay? I love you so much. (sniffle)- Eunge.
To my wo Nicaraguan axvethearts, thariks for atl the love and caring. love you both Sue.
Atreus II-Your senses ardwrong, but llove you amyway. - Sooz
Wishing my besutiful friend, Hendrik the best -est Valentina's Day overl Will wish it personnily to a very specist pergoni Thanks for everyt ing and for bwing you. Littleone.
To the Guinea Dr. and CC. Youre two To the Guinea Dr. and CC. You re two of the best. Love, your Guinas ATT. To the man with all the OPTIONS: Mappy Valentine's Day and thanks for the Understanding. You're pretty Bmexime yourself. The AMAZANG Brnex
A.S.
Fred it has been a great \(11 / 2\) yearm. Let's hoep it that way. Heppy Valentine \(s\) Day. We can colebrate it on the 17 th . I love you. Otis.

Gree. Happy Valantine"s Day. Even mough Im many miles awoy. Mies though im many mies a youl Love alwaya, Laslie.
Cheryl Gerrety (Oops, I mean a belated noppy b'day. You're the greatast friend anyone could have.
Lots of Lats of love, me.
cia: Happy Valemine's Day! Thanks for listening. Best overything. Love, me.
JSM: Happy Valentine's Day. Love thes girl in the pleid sheet et that toge party tast October. P.S. Rocco, can I have a picture? have a picture?
ROMEO: I should kill thee with 300 much charishirg JULIE Pooh Hey bear-it's no fair that you'll be away from here next year-
But, never foar, It always be nearHappy Valentine's Dayt Love. Rhodee.
Ricky, Here's to stumpy all-niters, orpheus, dandelion. summer sessiores and last dance. Happy V.D. Love Jutie
Amy. Three years of friendship and weire still going strong. Hero's to Jutie.
To Devo Durkey Mobe, David, the best boyfriand, skior, karnte, expert Man bio-tigiruearit Ands, flowe you more than all the good times weve shared, more than all the towe chis day bringe forth, and mote and more each Day end by the way Happy V-niversary Sweetneas. Love An-Pumpkin.
Hey, Hey Boo Boo, From tquirrale to -gapiantit it cant boy all thm bod we firhermen friend.
Tomy beat friend JLS. If en super having you around Heppy Valentins's Day- Love GTS.
Chi Omega-Atrough we are new an the fresh morning dev, we en wove. Tho Plociope.

Robin- Happy Vefentinoia Day to one who is very gpecial-love Mart one who is very special-lowe, Maric. MER. Things are so good-let'm keop hem that way so we sein go out In Josa Quairde: Es nuestro dial; Hansido siato anos! Siete maravillossot Mnos gracias co Mami, Sandra.
To pieces, distraction, tiny glass. unicorns, c-c-cold little b-b-bunnite ate. I iove you Sophia, Genewieve and Daptane: Paris, E play called Annie. , and the rest. Love Chuck.
HBM: Have we threa smrtied in? Or in the party just beginning to spin? 4.V.D 79 todiay and 4-ever Fern
My Darling Lisa, I try to tell you every day. Today is the dayl tell everyone Valentiove's Deu very much. Th Todd.
To Lesus Christ the Lover of my soul. Mygreat God and Savior. You sre ath wiscom and Knowledge to ma. You are Fithful friend. Iam Youss are triy Faithful F foraver. Pauletta.

Ks, Here's to Marsh and Persans, Roger and Minty. The Protessionals, and WeVirtias and Bobs. Thanks for 4 mos of being in "calioots." Happy 4 mos of being in "cahoots." Mappy Valentine"s Doy. M.H. P.S. It was O1-603-4258.
Levvis, To one of my favorita Valentine's. one last time. Love end kisses
\(\mathrm{M} . \mathrm{H}\) M.H

PRINCESS, love you very much-geAST.
PRINCESS. I love yout Hereis zo another, betuliful vear together-Rock.
D.M.M. The chain was only the beginning. Would you be my Valan tine? Lowe you Bre Bro.
Dear Caren Only \(31 / 2\) more months bil we make overy dey Vilemin.
Day. I love and miss you. Barry.
Carol F. I'm so glad we've bacome friends. Hergis to "snoring." friends. Here"s to "snoring." dandetion, diets and next year. dandetion, diets and Happy V.D. Love, Julie.

My Mystique PL I'I make waves with you Enywhere-Antarcice) Hmm. Happy Valentine's Dayl (With Hmm. Happy Valentine's of without Wityl Les.
Finaily. Mariko, here is your very own personal. Thank you for sharing. caring and for being my To all my boys: Without you Syracuse just wouldn't be. Youbring laughs. fun and craziness to this 1008 buiding. Most of all though, you light ung. Most of sill though you haht up-my lifa. Happy Vale tine 's Dey Roy Beaus. Love, ME.
Dear EFD471, 1 think you'rm cute. you really race my motor. Be my Valentime? ExG.

To my bed wench. rodey is such a mushy clay and you know l'm not that way sordon't thuk thus is just e hine Love Ouernguat
LOVE I believe we are mount for ach other! To amo muito mutto. Bsi jos, Sua PATINHA.
To the handsorne engineer with the broken hand. Heppy Valontine's Dayl - I tove vou. Guess who.
Yaber-Wanrta park your car in my 3 forege and Linda, Thank you for all the good times. 1 hope this is only the beginning. Happy valentine

Ratiph Cermosino the been a long tisne situce if firte mert you in 5 knioo thallif Too bod it e your iast sernester at S.L. and I'm not there to bother you or got to Grendina's with. Slocum Hall just worn't be the eame neact yeer bact for Gamma Phi formsi reunionl Thantu for all you've done. reunionl Thanka for all You've Happy V-Day, Joen in Aldam.
Evencturng roul

To til the Whimpa, Blmbow end Bit ches of 3C Happy Vatemtine': Day Love. Tre Polistr.
TOMAR: Hore's to marry more SunDay From Leve.
Oyeako Fountainel Didnit your mothar teech you how to housebreak a squall? Woll, life's Thoustabreak a squall? Woll, life's a Bitch. But if you're bored, Bick end Bitch. But if yourre bored, sick and have nothing better to do: have a Mave nothing better to do: have a happy \(V\)-Day. Love, Squallace and chubeen.

Dear Pukkypek: Happry Vatontina bay: ; teve you eocu much! Love Honeypurnpkin Dear Rick. It must ba love if isat through a four hour dimner and smoked four cigarettes. Yotrere the best. Happy \(V\)-Dey. All my tove, Amy.

Julie, You are the best Doe sister armone could ask for. Meppy V-Dey. Love. Army Doe.
Lessio. You are a groan friend and roommate. Happy Valentine's Day. I tove you, Amy.
Cracker Jack-Hapoy Valamine"s Day to the boy at the bottom steos from to the boy at the bottom stegs from the girl at the top steps. It's hike. Love alweys, Susie.
Janer Judi Jody Linds Beth irmn Paul Joe Meligsa Jammy Julianne Brian and Marc Happy Valentina's Brian and Day Susie.
Danny: I mL Lar confess, I LOVE YOUS Thanks for evervehing. Wuss.

Carchyn and Patricia, On my list of favorite girls. You two are tied for second. Heppy Tale love you both. Todd.
DEDE-Mappy Valentine's Dav to Wirchall Hall's #1 Gal. Thanks for leaving vour window open whan you undress at night. Love, A Secret Adungres
CB-With ell my lowe here's hoping you meke the right decision.
Clerk. In supply your demand and we'll makimize the profits. Lois
LA. Jahn I'd forego the world at my feen it I could have you Burb.
NANCY: Happy Valomine's Day, How about agame of backgarminn?
You're still the onel hove you JER. You're still the onel Love you, JER-RY.

Rick Burton. Femember Two summers. ago and one night in Lawrinson. Happy Velentine's Day.
Wib #7-inhonor of your tast valentine's Day DO., A special "I love yau" from your own wib 12.
Kevin, "Whenever I call you friend, begin to think i understand. .. I see Inysalf withinyour eyes and that's al about the thow to corte knowing will be the lucky one... now iknow my Ife's given me more then my lie's given me more then memories. Day by dey we can see in every moment there's a reason to carry on." Love Elways. Amy Hey Bin DeGeorgel This oncis for Youl Happy Valentine's Dayl Guess

Dearest Fish, Hoppy Valemine's Dei Domaskish, Moppy Valemint's Dey Bellyache, Hey Bonp; Omeomayo. Chickarmafiavar the many other funny one, Chips
Dest Zetes - We wem Bic timet Finelty a personat in the real newsepapef, Hisppy Valenkino \(=\) Oey

Amty, Atter \(31 / 2\) venrs our paths heve
 you. Happy Valentine's Day. Lave' You. Havin.
To Susiemam who gave is. McChome, MS, Pooh. Cira Anna. Parnmy who fhared it, Barb and Susiekid who continued it and Ajpha Gamma Detis for ziterting the LOVE Valenting's. Kitie

Dear 309 Ledlesi: Mappy Valentine Day to the warmest Tunnieit trio of Kovin, remamber Erewetar 2 party Hockit, our long lost waike, our mic Hyht dip in Cenancaigut Lake, znc You've mede this the best two yesers of my life. Happy Valantine's Dayand hope we sod many more. I love youll Ihope Mary.

Ann, hanks for beling my heppy 90 luciky roommate, my profespional photographer. my efutches and moral support after a party and my bestbuddy. Happy Valentine's Dayto "The Rookis."

Erie Littiefield. Happy Valantine": Dayt Thunk vou for being e good. specisi frient. Lovo. Nits.
For P.J, Candels, you light up mylifre. Happy Valentine's Dey, Babe. Love. Lois.
Huggles, peyote says *il" So do 1. Too bad it didn't last forever and friands? Love Free Braeze.
Zlurch says; Manis but a hollaw tube and God is the emptiness therpin Nickiaydoodeh.
BARB, Ith have or ange juice with you anytimo; Happy Valentine's Day Love, Dick.
Deer Billy So-vain, la'番" troo soon to tell." but it's the beginning of a new love in sight You"ve got the way love in is all heppon Allim seving is give us a chance From a fellow crazy. Love, L. Overtone.
Deer - How could I- resist? the Huns eurne- Here's to our lave foriber and always - Your little Heb YOB-It's no fun not living in sinla Se Vatemine
you. Love, B

Tom - I only hope lor things to get Tom - I only hope for things to gel Happy St. Valantina's Day. Love, Eet. TOM COFFEY: Happy end of term from your first M.E.
O. what's the best way to seduce a \(c\) \(c-c o l d ~ l i t f l e ~ b u n n y ? ~-~ .-. ~ A: ~ w i t h ~\) cup of concentrwted chicken soup.
A.V.D.S. - loveve, BuT.... Happ Valentine's DaylLove, K.S.F.H.
ADP - Together, as one, our world glistens anci shines. Forever yours. m so lucky you're mine. I lave you . Tracey Jennifer.

Silly Gooso. - No Pants. No traction, big deal, so what? \(i t a\) love my spot. Shake.

Maura. Aren't we fun girls? You're the funniest and we love you most your babies.
Elliot vou asked for it, i hope you found it. Lots of tove, Wally.
Maura if's a four way stop and we ve got the right of wey. See you in the country, Wally.
CHIP Hsppy Valentine's Day from Fagoot (the cait Love Yal
It's out 3rd wedding anniversary. I still love vou. You're slways my Junko.

\section*{"M.F.B.!" Happy V.F.D." Thention for} helping me through last will be bettert Love - "G.F.D.I
To TC's Strff: Thank tor rently

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For Sale}

Afropike h combs. ORANGE TON-
SORIAL G SUPPLY, 727 S. CTOUse SORIAL a SUPFLY, 727 S. Crouse
Ave., nam to S.U. Post OHfee 475 - 9289. 9289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD:
HOODED ZIPPEREO SWEATSHIRTS HOODED ZIPPERED SWEATSHIRTS
10 E 10 OFF ALL FRYE BOOTS. 12 INCH LEATHER WHEBERTSO 12
SHOES 839.95 . MY HALL 738 S . SHOES $39.95. NY HALL 738 S .
CHOUSE AVE. \(478-3304\)
2ORBA'S Has Grwat Pizra & Hot Subs with Lots of Moxsirelle Cheeso and Greek Tastel We Deliverl 472 and Gre 5075 .
74 Plymouth Satellite Sebring. A/C,
P/5. P/B, mechanicelly perfect. P/S. P/B. mechanically perfect. 63.000 mi. Must be seen. 81.600 best offer. \(474-2611\). \(\mathbf{8 : 3 0}\) pm.

SALE SALE SALE 25\% off wamen's winter coats. \(50 \%\) off. New vests.
\(20 \%\) off selected virtinge mer. chendise (1900's-1940's) SECOND HAND ROSE. \(713 \mathbf{S}\). Crouse Ave.
1969 Volvo 4-Speed, dark blue:rrew brthes, rebuity transmission trad cart burator, year ofd clutch. Alc mast sell this wook. 6750 . \(475-60\) gi, 4 . SALE SALE SALE introdg chicionery continued. WWl wool end kathery pants 510 req.
515 . SECOND HAND MOSE 713 S

 Must Sell Espnd"tive Unmourtixt High performanetekiie 185 fir Best Offer Calth7,

\section*{女añ \\ }
 $1.200 monthly \(f\) Expensun paid,
Sightseeing. Fresinforewrinivuch

 Hign payl See Europe. Hap Aly Atis-trolia, So. Americs; Wintert
Summen Send 83.85 for SEAWORLD BH, Box 61035 forato Ce. 95860 .
Low on money and recordoz inite arent Wantedt WE BUY USEQ
RECORDS. Bring them in for instum cash Top prices paid DESEMT.
SHORE 730 S. Crouse 472-32 Mon.-Sat. 11 - 6 .
NEED EXTAA CASH? Fuli or partpointment evil- "New Life Enter prises." 622 -4043.
EARN MIGH INCOME - FUll. DOTt time. At home or at school. Easy service businerss, no investmert, Exciting opportunity, no gimmicks. reliability quaranteed. - Details \($ 2\) (reblunded) STAR SSU Eox 272. island Park, NY t1558.

Houseboys wanted for Comstock Sorority- Call 478 -3244 and ask for Mery or Maryenne.

Port-time job: Tues., Thurs. morPings babysiting for one \(\mathbf{Y r}\). Old Provide own transportation. 425 7460
-Siudents with any mechanicat electrical. painting etc. Cooper. Dacoration Co. 200 Maple St .475 . \(1661{ }^{*}\)
COUNSELORS: CAMP WAZMATAH FOR GIRLS. HARRISON MAINE. OPENINGS: Tonaintvarsity or skitied לplayerst: Swimming (WSI). Boation, Canooing. Sailing: Watersking: Gymnestick: Arehary, Team Sports Arts Photography Pionsering & Trips;
Stor Photography for Yearbool:
Secretary Season: Juro 20 to Auguty 21 Writa Auguth 21 Writa í ENCLOSE ETC.) Director, Gax 153 . Groat Meck N.Y. 11022 . Telephone: 516 -482.

Photogropher wanted to take photoa af perty on Sulurdey Feb. 17. Call 474-9834 Ride on fridays to Some Mt, eny time, will giedly share oxpenses. Call time, witt o \(474-6868\)

\section*{For Rent}

Coll Tubic foot refrigerators for rent. Apartment furnishod. walking distance. One months security. no lease, immediate occupancy. \(637-\) 6550 .
Furnish Fioorn's, Clean, Warm, Kitchen ond bathroom facilitiss. 112
Comstock Ave. \($ 100\) month. Call Comstock Single ruom with wantoons 8700 dumwbraakisis. innner. Sign up to day. st Suski \(12: 30-4.00\) college place. (DTow voubetter wifk ght come to

MRS. WILUS. CLARA, LARAY, MELISSA: Hoppy Vale

SAIFT MAARTEN - Sun, sand swim, party, relak mijoy. Deadtine for sign-up this Friday. Call Bruce or Jim 425 up this Friday, Cal \(737 e\) for detells.
haNCY L. Are you still my Valen. time? Guess who?
TO MR. BOOKSTORE- from the girls in the D.O. office who think you are OK. Happy Valentine's Day.
To Larry from all his piris (don't vell Marilyn about us, Let us be your Valentine. Guess who? \(\frac{\text { Velentine. Gutsy Who? }}{\text { U.S. MAlluMAN: Happy Valentine's }}\) U.S. MAllMAN. Hap
Day. You know Whol

Hi Georget Happy Velentine's Day to youl Surprised?

To the guy from Erie Cottage who usee the right detergernt to wheh his livindry- last semester ended well. So ter'a make the bewt of this one teol Happy Vistemine"s Diry. Lowe, A sool Hap

To Sports Sweeney "Alires Japger." "Time is on trar side. l'thatwayz come BIG BROWN EYES brimming with love for me: You're the reslizetion of a dream. Jimmy.
TON So you're realty going to BOS. TON next veariDon't worty-iknow lest fow months on the hill. Mappy \(V\). day. Love, Kanny.
Trom sirting on the window- ledge 20 sleeping with the crew Chief. Could it be a "leng love you, kid. Sally.
Dey 8 quy your init It Beverty books andite cerdigen, wo , nave interosted in miudent papers Rewar 4862

+

\section*{Personals}

A mew concept in Oringe: HORAIRLE HANKIES heve arrived on campus. Stay tuned to find out where you can buy yours for the St.

Penetope, no matner where we are. no matter what we do, nothing will come between us. IIl elways love iust you. Todd.
Todd. I wiss yourlips ikiss vour eves. think vour in for a big turprits. Nothing could make our love invalid. Untess you deprive me of my apinach salad. Penelope.
HEYYOU. Here's your chance so hetp puchonel conch their eetcomic and woith-study. Apply for aposhtion or the Acpdemic Counseitine Servico. 311 A Archbold (x-3180n berveen now envi 2 , \(16 / 79\). 60 for th
 10EL: Mappy Valentine': Day trom the silly firty girt

Boom- Beh. to the most boautiful giti in the world - I lowe youl Happry Valantine's Dayl With all my tove fortuer, Boomer

Wennie betw, your 30 wifd and crazyyou tive me
IC.- Id send you a tose. but you Love, M .

Konrad- Heppy Vatentine's Day to one super thiske from motherl

Frio and Novits Happy Vatantine's Day you two zanies what's the quesDear Todd Happy Valemine's Day to \% \(\operatorname{cin}^{\circ}\) Incest is best -
h your tate nipht bud-Dxint Thanke tor meking VatenWay mean sombthing once horg), love you; in 1 follow you keep me? Pem p.s. yectity pizza is better with watermelon for dessert. Mrs. Torelli love to your favarite Sale." Your setret edmirers.
GFAVES, You bre the love of my life You are iny one and only valensine. for ever. Beine together with you makes my thife totaity fulfitiod. Heyl Enough mumh': Let's workonj +J Lee. I love you with all my hear
Happy Valemina's Day. Love. Happy Va
IROOPER.

Jarn. Who does not celebrate hotidays, Happy Valenine's Day. FRED fOOPS A mean Gary of Lavirinson 20. Howe a Mappy Valentine's Day. Love Margaret tyour tine's Day. Lo secret admiren.

To Mike at 408 Euclid. Tharks for al To Mike at 40 B Euclid. Thanks for al vour help, you're a real sweetheart Yiz.

\section*{David. your smilo has grown besutiful, need more sunshine. you} know where so come. Katry.

B-rrisce, You know how many atar there are in the univarse? I lova you Valentinel the other person

To Karen R. and Arry S. Thanks for Being two of the bestost friends Remember nights at the Vormity peacon?". ED.. "rmy triends "- \({ }^{\mathrm{mmy}}\) tv., human exx end gernertit chernit try. Heppy Valentine' Diny Love fways. Gary \(P\).
UBIN, FII nower stop lowing you. So ber's grow young together. Happy Vuleatine's Day hove doAin.

Etpine: You till my hit-l know to

\section*{Classified ads}

ABBE．Here we are on our tourth Valontine \(s\) Day and you＇re mutil my one and onfyl Lot＇s koep it that way． Happy Vilentina＇s Day．I how you． DAMO．
Mr．Kiminenting Juse wanted 20 seyy apprecisted－Kate nrad Candice P．S． Msy wo coll you．Paul？ Michael．Floride is part way to Cotorado．Here＇t to un snd athern－ mock in Hawsii．Mappy Valontine＇s Day SWEET you，Janet

Nancy：In two short weeks we gave you shower．gave someone you howar gave somoono Out of the dorm．I think lightning ha Happy Valentine＇s Day．Love．pe SAM．SURPRISEII HAPPYY－ 6 AY things could not be bette things could not be bett
YOU MUCH，the TOAD．

\section*{}

\section*{}

\section*{}

 Valentine＇s Dant and dix day special one．Youtrone ROBlnit One way or afgiter yobwiil ALWAYS be my Valentirie Love always．ber， laure fonga un diancomo ningu To the wind and popcom cheeks： This is probably your only valentine perional ．．oh，＂to the moont＂
Lovik the sun end Of．olete Lady．
Hot Lit Hi there Hope you have BOMBA tic birthday and Veleminestol Love Dave．
Uncle Bob（tho Kiddie＇s pell）Mappy Uncle Bob（the Kiddie＇s psil）Mappy
Valentine s Dap Love，Litile Sister．
Squiggly Wigaly Kid．Lately Lititing Lity：Shadow Shaden unny．Up－ Flaky K：Coo－Coo Crazy els）Food for Wata
me．
TODD Wove doosn＇t make ko worid po round．Love is whimt make， the ride wortruatrile．＂Happy Vaten－ Cor Day Love Carol．
－Uke I mich，I send them to people who nover expect th
Happy Velentine＇s Day．Howie．
Dane．My meskege simple：Wil you be my Valantine？Love，John you Lovo Met．
JA－You＇re so rare and so basutiful．
El．Since you don t like us together in person watl get you in personalsi Happy Valentinc＇s Day Love，the Catholic giris．
Sharie Happy Valontine＇\(a\) Dey．Im fooking forward to this weokens． Love，Dave． Brothers of Zeta Psi，You＇re the greateril Wo kove youl Happy tine Dayl Your Lithe Sisters

Desreat Lori，Mapoy Vaventine＇s Oay to \(s\) real cutiel ！moen mexyl I mear innocantll No not innocentl it mulat bo yout dybll Remember you sey＂． Jump．＂In ank＂How Hignt＂Love your Hemoternes．

\(+\)

KARYN－It＇s been atmost one vaar， but ：can＇s wait for the next 601 Hore＇I to NNWKALI All my kove，the King of CBS．

JpJ．Hortis your tona swaited Groatingll How about a singing have a terrific fow momahsil Love． KINS．
Puppry－Happy Valentine＇s Day Love Always，Bing or Buft
Garard Dziuba－MY ACE REPORTER －Tho top story is：ILOVE YOUt Janel Rimo．
PEACE OF MIND Wompurning
AGBE Baskepplit Team good luck for the rsst of the season．More Mau
Laur
Oeb
vine
Suse
Mare \(\xrightarrow{\text { Lis }}\)

 Farie and

Squeezee．N．Y．law pronibits exces－ sive squeexing sive squeexing in public．Do vou FEESI Special Valentine yoveremy year．It th be officisl－we＇fl belaton－

tine＇s forever．Love．Poogdetk Blaise，the gast five monthy the Blaise，the past five months th． been very special to mer low vou． been very special to merl lovy voly
Love Pryllis． GREENEYES－Just wanttotinid．vu．

Mich，we share alot more then bren mutfine．You＇re en exceptional per son／roommate．Thanks

Sare－cotfee and tee and tire at threw was fun．I need your phone numberl Happy Valentino＇s Day

Pasci Happy Valentineis Doy with lave from the gi conditioned soeks．
GCI．Do you hear me？i low yau，trm string it，not spraying it．Becaluse it＇s nown，not weather．An，Be．Cel In Your one end onily munky．Be mine two your

Happy Velontine＇t Dey to aood frient and herrey for wis nice girtel Your P．M，partner

Aprit，to on of the sweetert ciris slway．Heppy Ancty
Dear H Pie．Heppy VD．Lat in Celeb－ Bear

John Happy Vmientine＇s dayl This year 1 decided to get it in on the right dayt 1 love you now more than ever． Love．Mary
Dear Karven．Debbie and Vicki．Here＇s the personal I promised to the three suripst women at Syrecuse．
Valumeng Dav．Love，S．C．E．

\section*{ \\ }

To the psychologist whibelieves in Valentinéspay．Gig fown eyes．
 Congrats tothe
KATHY：Spencting Eitenty toghether has given a new mentiry tobo lives．I love you．UNGDTB JER

\section*{ 0afikn
 \\  \\ }

Tazmenian Dovil，Kige and run is no tunt I shall not play no more．I think that wou are boa out think you＇te bor Lovs．
Taz I might be cracy but vou＇re crazier．Low，OL
To one who Amaxine－ly hot to trot but often burned out may ell you＇re ups and downs be botween the sheets：－Another fine mess t＇ve potten myself into SM：Happy Valentine＇s Dayl Come out of the closeat．I tove youl TG Rax－Manliua la O．K．Hsppy Vaten tinu＂\({ }^{\text {W Dayl Love，Rue }}\)
Jay +1 lovardime， buternath arine torvi－Andres Kiev－Here＇s a coupon redeernab fot Valentinets Day in exchange fort from your buddy

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Ron ard Paut：Love furtedowin mean borrowing our yacu clamnar or mogazing does The cokn＿Pepsifltleppy Valeatune＇s 0 \\ Love thexGiecodmaxi hids per \\ Conan．Eveltherariantriugt cel \\ rete Volontine moriserforer \\
 \\
Ualy：Happy Valentine So Drewt \\
from your 5 day roommetithat
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Yo Ma！Alies Bamba．Hapoy E．bgo
Frankstan
ItsTruallitove youl The Record Man
جreen oyes，My God you＇re bonutiful．My Lady fa Gopilla－To my tavorite oider at whiter，hava a4happy Valentige； Mack Magic Woman，Yoúdaineve a poell on me．
日r⿻aty

Elion Barcer－hovico hor te assider then anything ill every do agwin－Kris Kriveofforwon

To the dynamic trio of Lehman 305 ： We came to gee you diwn on \(2 / 10\) ． 11 but onty found an empty eky．Bet vou werp out hotpt

JS Happy VO to the gitt who louks of the surn．Itlifall for youif you＇ll amesh thet batby．Love．SS
Happy VD to the＂dedicented＂sintors of Sammy．Also to the moin lacies Michele 516，Sniela 314，Kris F． D．G．＇S．Kappa＇s＇and A．K．O．I tove you to Jessica，Brad P．S．Debra，Sue．Jill＇ to Jessica，Brad P．S．Debra， don＇s forget about Sunday．

AOBIN， 1 hope that 1 fulfilled last wars Vibentine＇s Dhy request，and uly begbehe best My wish this ime but 唯，the question is．will Feppy Verentine＇s Day．Fearless propesting gifs，Maure，Dimnne， pog Sy factativa Lytn，Sharon． goenyow yign，Dobbie．Mary．Lin Cophotioterti，Nina，Vat．Robin．Win
 Salhelofation

SHCA：－Thantsfor tho memories Sthopernere mint morel Hopg
WhR．－Lioks morf tike a sycamore to With towe，youptistant ok
Greg．I hopepty re touph enough to Cave ine mythercal one forever．Love Dórif Rand The days are perting colder，buriop thase nites a ra getting Dear Tiftexterapdifmin

 norable．las yeve the when you did you＇d． stubborn as s atubborn as you． os Dey．Enjoy the a）SISTERS OF THETA Debby．Lori．Candida．
ne，Pam，Betsy，Werdy： Eanne，Pam，Betsy，Werndy
Hen，Cynthia，Liss，Nancy
Berb．Judy．Andres．Perti， Berb．Judy．Andrea，Pant． Connie and Hanna．Mippy Thine＇s Deyl Stop by．Loves．The hiors．（Wasted cowboys，Wex－ f．A．D．＇s arod Raipm

To Brewster 3－Happy Valentine＇s Dey and thank you for my b－dey champagne．Love，Gwen Bor－Hoppy Volentine＇Day＇Thark you for ary b－dey surprise．I love you very much and hope to never be without you．Lot＇s celabrate with chempagre tand love makire．Soe you wonte．Lowe afweys，Burs OX Mike and Vic－from the perty in you bedroom to the drunden darrcino a Grover Cleweland，thank for making the tirat Happy Valentinets Dayl Love，Cirfie and Potit．

Howard from Chicago．Thand for be end ther in Americs Oh Noll Happy Valentine＇t Day Love，Chris and Patti．

Excuse me sir，but Happy An niversery．Thank you for sharing your eppocial world with mo．It hat love you．Keek

OUERIDA HILABY－YOu＇Te the betrangill hio been my happiest it montic．Thenks Love

\section*{Classified ads}

Mommy, Happy Velemines Deyl Love, DR. Feldsp
Gigi, grd Little.

Srae, Your Chatomubriond is groat, but tr' not the only thind that makes my mouth water.
Day. Love, Mare

Psst Hey you in the green skijacke She's smiling gegeinl You have ding of tove. filling mer being with joy. Your sweet lady.
Steve S: Happy Valentine's Ozyl guess who (agein)?
To the brothers and pledges of Beva Thets Pi: Happy Valentine's Day Much love, Mary-Lou and T
S.G.. Just a personal to wish a very special friend a Dey. Love M.C.A
Patit. Heppy Valentine's Day to a very beautiful person. and a very special friend. Love atweys, T.A.R.
Ta you Debby. the only Debbylknow. Have Happy Velentine's Day. See Dear Enixabath, Yes, I Temember tast year. Happy Valentine's Day to you and yeur love. Love always, Steven Dear Lisa, Our First Valentine's Day. Hopefully nat the tast. Whet egree few months. Love you. Steven Cheryl. Tharks for "bearing" with That's what friendship's about. right? Have a Happy Valentine's Day Love, Patti Barbara, You may have your "erab-by side. but we love you. Happy by- side. but we Iove you. Heppy Valentine's Day. Patti end THitite Tammi. You"re the absolutw, ind Patti

 Mil: To my handsome prince who. when he swopt me off my feet stole my heart. I hope you back. I love vou, M.I.
My-Happy Velemine's Dayl To pur third Volentine's Day together. May it be the best evart Thank you always being therel Love-MJ

FW-You'ra graat - Have a staak on me. Love, GH
Nancy. Jans, and Tracy - Mappy
V.D. from the Rev.

Dear Jep: Happy VD day from your number one hesdache in England.: miss you, but hear you're doing fine wish-out me. Love Muoth.
Gold, Inside as well es ousside, you are expetisite, I remain. Anonymous.
J. Faith is belleving in what common sense tells you not to. WELL. I do believe in us feven if you ere crazier believe in us (even if you are crazier then me.) Why? Jusat because. Happy than me.) Wtry? Just because. Happy Connecticul?
E.J. Happy Valentise's Davi Two personats in two waeks, Wowi What did you aver do to deserve thet? So when ete you going to pick up your plane anyway? Love \(H\). anyway? Love \(H\).
Rease And Claire. Or ne peut pas vivre sans amour Novs lo Savans tous Happy Valantine's Day. Late. MCE. We mby nover pass this way again... That's why i want it with you. Looking forward to more happ times. Love, CTA.
CTE: Thanks for making my last semester one of my happiest. Kemper in Wastingtan sounds best.
Wilt you be my VALENTHNE? Lave. Wit me.
Chuck: Happy Valgntine's Day to the best shy. quiat and sometimes crazy person i know. You're great. even though you are from Long island Pemember: actions spaak louder than wonds. Whenever starts now.
love you. me.

To the new DO staff, Lots of luck Love, Stacy MARCIA. I Iov fren more than yeat!
 BOBERTA-OuI seconid Vainhings togeth. please be mige forivied
ILYSM. Bill
 Stole my heart. Pleage be my Valentit stode forever. Roberte:

\section*{SMILE FOR ME}

Lorrie. Mope you enjoviryour B-day I wish you the happiest th Valje FOREVER? A million winks-E Eik Kevi.
Ellen Bergeg witb wir long hair falling and dideres that shine tike the 3idugevepingsteen (who else).
Pith, Had a great time Friday. Save S绽's Day. Steve CHAD I wish you wll the best on this - 1 Ientine's day. All my love, Laura Goofy, you may be a scravball but I Dayl Linda

Dear Nancy Hope you have a very happy Valentines Day Love Bruce, Gary. and Benson.
Dear Robin Sorry l can not betrere to wish you a Happy Valentines Day. Love always Bruce.
Drew: 1 knew what puppy love was. Now I know what tove is... Yout Happy Valentines Day sweetheart. love you. Liz Congrafulations to 2 of my favorite fandsharksit Love R. Faliako.

To Desn- Happy Hearts Day- You shell
Derwood, your love is eo delicious1 Happy Valentines Day! yo beets SUZAN: This vear, you have a Valon tine with enough class to seand you a personal. Have a happy day. Lov and kisses your roomie.

DARTHMOUTH \(\mathscr{J}\) ©Love \(\odot \mathscr{Y}\) ou CREAM PUFF
M. S. You ore everything and everyinimg is you. Happy Valenwines Doy
Dear Cherl I tove you always and all ways. Happy Valentines Day Honeyl Love. Rary Desr Sue " \(799^{*}\) is our year. llove you today tomorrow. and forever. Lowe today
Chris

\section*{Sleeping Besuty-I pray we continue to grow in Phil. 2:2. I love you lots.-} to grow in phit. 2:2. I love you lots.-
Prince Charming. Prince Charming.
Dear Lori-Happy Birthday onyalen
tines p Hopy Lep

 Vilentiges Day so my friends \({ }^{\text {a }}\) ove Steven.
Jane- Gappy Brithday and Valentines Dythave spent best vear efayte with vou. Retiember that Hocky fe with vous. Renfember the Rountig Higt Love J. E.

\section*{8 \\ }

Oatmeal. I'll never get tired of it and TH alway love you. Mu Omege Ep silon To the Daarest of dears-I mean you Mariter. You now have your own per sonal wisting you a hoppy \(V\)-dayl sonal
Dearest Eonnie and Jill This may be e surprise since you're both verseas. our fove's stith the same We hope this does please. Happy \(V\) day Love Micheal und Joe.
FIE-My "Bonnie" lies Over the ocean Ut to yoo poes AML- Moose

 Congratulations to of new pledges Lissy Love AEPhi
To my dearess Zersfr's been a frin tastic 6 monthsy ndit's stitl ofing
 CUTE ADORABLE POOH - Happy V. dayl Know any good bedtime stories? We do. Love Tigar. Eeyore. Piglet, Kanga Roo. Wally and me.

To the brothers of AXP - Happy Valentines Day, love the little sisters from Lawrinson HEY SIS: "will yos waik wihn me ous on the wire cause baby I'm just a Scared and lonely rider... Love, Bi Bro

\section*{To MeV and the opening offine'79A} friend that's 1 in a million. Happy \(V\) Day Love TzE2
BARB. you're a grent ski partinerl
Welf ituess thaig e good place to Weil I guess thai's g good place to start. Heppy Valentines Davi Down Hill Racer Patrice. I love your dipsi Let's in them enain real soon. Tha Disco Kid TJG. If gil my friends were hike youl wouldnit have to worry either.
Heppy VD Love, Donne

Dant Carrie Kreplachs are my favarite. Whil you be mine? All my love slways Grea lowe
L-IfI tell you a bedtimestory, will you be my Valentine
Happy Birthday my bestest HB Love your bestest Polndexter.
Dwar Racule Prep. Happy Valentines Day Love and Huga, Lindsey.
Dears. E. W. You are the sweetest of all Valentines MAPPY VALEN-TINES DAY, Love alwry S.S.S.

Elma Jay and Bessie, we make great three musketeers. Happy V-Dry:: Love Auni Jemima.
PGH- Champagne, synchronism, pheasant, camero, England wore grest. Hapoy Valentines Dey, JBH

Fofeial Caise horrivel, nos afas ramos muita. Mas te quero muiro Como amige e pessob de vertade HVDl Love Feote.
Dearkeren HuDI in's beangreat liv ing with youl When do our farci les sons begin? Love. Chris Aries, Let's start something and sos whet heppens. Itove you, Aquarius. Gingersnap. Roses are red. Violets are blue. Our Niagara Falls Vacation is over but Im still madly in Love Monster.

2 All my love on Velantinas Day every dey. Love, W1B
Hyra, Happy Valentines Day 10 my tishing partner. Love Ann from Pen

6ary Lou and Tori, Happy Valentinas Day and much love from your Beta Billy-Happy Valentines Dayl Love. Oebbie

Thanxi To the G.F.I. G. on Hoven il IE.S.. J. W.. A. E.i who love wake up The way to the Chapel; A. F. and his oranges; Tom and the und his things that have happened to us in crouse: Dave and his rabbit; and Ponny who played my song when Wras down. HAPPYV.DAY MELANIE

116 W Honeydew you tove me? ld go benanss without vou. Too bed we canteloupe. Wid make a grape pear. Beats me why you haverit guassed whos bean bugging you. Orapanyou glad I didn't plum forges arcelepatic xacthinhily: This is chapter 2. Lude elsewhere. Big " B " moved to the nigh rent district While Gordo singled out to help his clipboard celary. centled down- to Suberia. Lo and Mir. Bitt, maintain contact. Whoppae, yeh- Hapoy Valentines Love Ma and hab.

Hey Warsh, your rythm carches my beat. Love ya. Count \(B\).

Dear AePhi sisters and pledges, It Wras 1 un waking up with you. Thaniks
Zere Psi brothers

Dear litte sisters of Zeta Psi, who lovet you babe? We slwars will, Happy Valentines Day, Love th

Dear Millie, wa love you more than ust on Valentines Oay but today we put it in writing. Love all your guys a Zeta Pat

Fichard, We tove vou and whath you the most toast. What would we do wilhout vou, you wre 80 good to us. Heppy V-Day, Love. reom 432 Mi Memite con fittias boobies- Te quierol Te amol From your fuzzy butt Velentine.

Hey you two of pieces, distraction fame Happy Valentiness and third mour talien Yente. your Italien Yente.
Suurnbrook you asked tor it you got it. Thanks for being part of the fabric of my life. Love Sir Jock of NSA

Jayne. Now. four days, ten dave,
Alwaysinmy heart. One-four-three. Alwaysinmy heart. One-four-three.

ROTC: Hervis to backgammon. Evelyn red wine. Clepton. tiekle wars. old ladies on benches: no money, bnd lots of falas fumors-may it all continue. Happy Valentines he RA.

MRF, to my goodie, thank you for everyanine for befong, now, end later. You are the best thing that ever happerned to mel litt be there for Mivoyt. HBA

Happy V-D wo toanie, Sthorry and Robby, my tirst friends, Ellen T.S.eo again, but offrisnd, MS, at areat, roommata and great friend, Will, roonmate and areat smiless, Richard Linsing Botstad and Eric Uitiofieid - Trig DEAR YEDA, You are to me like glue is to a stamp. Let's stick together Corever. All my love, Rob P.S. Happy valentina's Day to the greateat girls valentine's Day to the greatast giris ROH JuNTEKAHERNE. Have fun fishing with Ellon. Hope You catch six inchest Love Elephant

Line "A" - you're my one and only Vatentine - from T.L.B.'s

To the best hickey givar - Saul bayl Love you, your favorite hoggess Happy Valentine's Day to all my friends at the DO and UUU Katie Frita KC. Dare, Jerry. Barty ind fob. Happy Vatentine's Day about you all. Love, Mindy

Les from ILL. Happy Valentine's Oey \(x\) foomie. Thanks for lunc those Buns going. Love Me
Mydarling YEDA Since the day that first met you at the orientation Bar b.cue iknew that I must spend the est of my life with you. and after fou years. Im still right. Love ROB CURE Happy Valentine's Day Sweetheart. Its been a great vear Lots of love always, Goodie Lit Sisters: Well, uhi basically, uth: We love you, yo knucklerieads
Happy Valentine's Day Love Gros of Sammy

Debbi. lill be thinking of you today and every day. Hay
Day. Love, Larry
Geoff. 1 love having you in my starting line-up. Happy Valentine's Dav Love, Frenmy
To my women ar 309 Euclid: 1 love You all. Happy Valemtine's Day. Love W.T. -Here's a million hugs for being the one who delivered the tix concert yetl How can I forget all concert yett how can I forget all the and I hope they continue. Thanx tor being you and understanding. but most of all for making this the best Valentine's Day evert Happy V.D with totsa love - the bunny slope Kior.
Ange. You're the girl of my corporate dreams. Let's turn the queen

CLB, I like (tove) very much. Happy Vatentine's to my other halfil 3.0
iki-May you find happinesss at the end of your rainbow(s).
intencied). Happy Vatentine: YLR
Rick Many thendes - not just for Seturday night, but also for peing a auper fivendi To one crazy persion, iot me wish you Vary Happy Valon-tine's Day! With Love, the ine's Dayl

Dear Yedn, hoses are red, violess are Dear Yedn, Hosess are rod. violess are pink , love you, whit do you think? LOVE YOU Rob Daareat Yeda. There's a four-letror Word thast have for you and artly you:
Love. 1 love you toclay and every duy All my tove, Rob.
Choaks, a/k/a Jan-Happy Bir:thday to the "Mivthological Cupid." Happy You hawe many morel Also, ton.
Yanns the mythological cupid) Happy Birthday and marry many morkey Loves - Yulie

Grant Marge, Steve, Cathy and ospocially Marc. Heppy Valentine's Dayl Love. Robin
Dear A You being noext to me koeps me going. Don't ever leave my side. Love forever, your \(A\)

Denny- Happy Birthdayl ti you're in the mood, yell up, we ill come down airls who you celetrate. Love. the girls who sleep ont top.
JON Thanks for gil the great times. know there will be many mere.
Speriat thanka for the ring. Love Mei
My Baby-loved you in Billtawn. and I stifl love you today. Let's keep it that wayl Happy Valontine's Day: love you lots - your horiey Sten. What do I get when I win my bet? How about you?
Denny. Bobby and Tony. Happy Valentine's Dayl We couldn't ask for three better guys belo always. the girls on top

To my girl irom Londan and here robot be my Valentine. You know who.
Debbie - Bemy Valentine. Here's to the kid, the doody, and the best times of my life, with the desire and hope of more to come. Love always. Dave
To the Brothers of Detra Upsilon: Happy Valentine's Day. With love. your litte sisters.

Button - You're such a cutia! I'm glad we're friends...but whete is your pin?l Happy Valentina's Dayl Love. Guess Who.
Party (Squirrely) - Yours still the one, through good and bad. To the happiness and memories we'll share tomorrow. Happy V-Day. Love you always, Stove.
Clasula and Sue - Theta love and wishes are sent to you this day becsuse you are remombered alfough you're far away.

Apt. 14, Moe, Bayes. Friends: Happy Valentine's Day. I tove youl Lyn P.S. ospecially CW.W.
Snagglepuss -The question saems o be whether the Wamazon con ride the tiger. Maybe if I hold onto you ars I worit fall off. The ridirg les sons should hetp me devalop my 'leg. "I'm countine out time: I've got nuytin, just tie back still now, i't 58 y nuttin, just tia back still now. Ill ge you urned on juse till. Ah, but you an faisity that statement? Anyway emember that the want ta vau. the Ace of Spades.

Dear Laurie, Happy V-Day and B-day 4. Dont lorget "- No pickin da roses." Lou

A Valantine from aerosis the Atlantic. Ain't this romantic? Roses are fed. Vialets are blue. London is fun But I miss youl Happy Valentine's Day, Boo Boc. Love. Honey. Honoy. Honay

Box 482 - To the best roomie and Box 482 - To the best roomie and friend ever. Happy V.D. Remember friend ever. Happy V.D. Remermber all those wild and crazy nights partying til dawn atl over cempus! Who cares what others shink - they'reall stupid - you're the greatest and don't every forget itl Love, box 585

To our desrast friend Randi Alice Honip: Here in is so stop your bit ching. Love and kisses, Lee and Tom To the Appha Gern daugitera - the spunkiest evert

Doar Laura, Happy Valentine's Dey. Love your mom, Cathy

Dear Nevalee, Happy Valentine's Day. Love your mompy Dawn.
Dear Ginnie, Hoppy Valentime Das. Low your mom, Debble.
Dear Mary, Happy Valontine'z Day. Love your morn, Marguret.

Dear Nelta, Happy Vatentine's Day. Love your mom, Mary Anne.

Dear Bath. Happy Valentine's Day. Love your mom, Paulline.
To the Brothers of TEP and Mrs. S. Thanks for being so much fun. Love ya'll Kerstin.
Dear Karen, Debbica and Vicki, Here's the pertorsil i promiced to the three vasiest wormen a! Syracuse.

Jimmy - Still friencls? Let's cetebrate with the champsone soon Heppy Valontine's Day. Withlove 1 think - you - know - who.

Dear Libre. ". . . Though you don't know me well, every litile thing only time wifl tell, you believe the things that ion." Happy Valentine's Deyl Love, Aquarius

To all my good friends at Deit, Happy bes bunch of guysi Love. Michele
Hey vamper, I might be in Kanses Clty but f'tl be coming home real P.S. 3 months P.S. 3 months

DAVID W. H only you could emember what you told me on the Ahone. If only I could forget it. If Brocxway Food Service Porsonnel. t's getting to tha point where l'd be willing to work for nothing but the un of it is them still hope for me?
Satch, I don't neod a resson to be happy. I don't have to consult the or how hapoytiva felt for the fast past year Happy Valentime's Love ya year. Happy Valentime's. Love Maggio. Meet you at the marage.
Hooder. If we do not exist as individuals then our retadionship does not exist. So let's go ioe skatingt Happy
Hood
Siuart A Valentine wish filled with all the love in the world. Happy Valentine's Day. Love always, Robin

Mari. and Sharon, Happy Valentine's Day and no matter how hard you try Non't tell Marla and Debbie. Happy Valentine's Day to my very best friends

\section*{Sam- think yau are ... hope you think so roo. With all my heart, Arth} think so too. With all my hoart. Arsh
To Pam the Dence queen: Thanks for the great time. I love the night-life (and your nose) I Charlie thinks iT is me and my lovehandies. Aa Velentine now and forever. Love. Bob PATTI. Hope your Valentine's Day is as "cute and loveable" as you are Love and a Big Bear Hug. CHERYL.

2T Just thimk in 18 more days it will be a year and a half. Let's get together and celebrate. Love. Mr. togethe
Boston

K-REN, Be my Valentinel V.M. Love PR. Mic

To the ouys from 1303 E. Adtams T.Y.B.S. for Valentine's Day. Love C and \(K\)

Bubbers: Happy Valentine's Dayl love you and I want the best f
How's your Dingo? Love, Bub

Suo-Happy Hearts Day to my favorite ski bunny. Love. that really last guy whizzing by you on the slopes
Edward Carl, Beling engeged to vou mokes this Valentines Day the bestest Enloy vour surprise. BUNCHI Yours. Mary Ann Litale Roo. Sweators or no swoaters you still kill me. HVD. Your surrogate Bucky
To the guy with the coviby hat-wiry can's minos be easier for us? Just remember that 1 do lowe you. Forever, your grey-dyed Iady. To my favarite soccer player-the Owfs want to wish you a Happy that I love youm-your counter air

Carrie-Loves for remi not facte arway I know our love will not fode awry. not tede away. -JV p.S. Happ Valentine Day FR Any giri that would give rne a jump is O.K. But lim hungry. What yoar i dinner? Do you know how to make Chicken Rosennerg?

Oear Lorsen, it's boent a boautifu fifteen months, but that is only the beginning 'cisuse i know it won't end. Happy Velentine"s Day Muffin. Love
Joel Joel
Dear Stuart, Happy Valentine a Day I miss and love you so vary muen Love always, Donna

Wayne, To the one who introduced me so SDRP! Happy Velentine in Day! Love, Penae

Dest Joe! (my husky boylfisnd) Happy Valentine s to the very BEST. will tove you till the end of time ton Love, Loren

\section*{To the most popularin Skytog, Happy Valentine's Day. Love, your nothing oommate}

From one lonely Sabre to her handsome litule gerbil. I miss you handsy Valentina's Day.

Siminski-l'd be your Valentine. Who cares about short or tall blond boys from Syracuse. Love, me yrada, Shut-upl How about a date in 1984? If pups perfume. dog buscuits and Christmas tree didn't work whet's a tobagoona going to do?
A. Youre always a woman to mel Cant wait for GORE. Wanns see Day. Love, 8

Dear Janime. Amy End Melenie. Friends like you are hard to find. 1 love you als, Ellen

Dear Sweetstuff. I'll love you forever. please tove me tool Love, your Frog Prince
Dear EVAN. In the past year we have shered emotions we will never arget. Ler our haw one strengihen for the two of us. Love, ELLEN

Dear J.F. Things could be a tot worse. you could be stuck with "The Performer." but instead you're stuck with me. Lover thetple and R.R.

Dear Carol - Hope all is well in Amsterdem ard we gll miss you very much. Love, Rick
Dear Amy. Happy Valentine's Day to the giti who has made me very happv. Wa go so good together-1 get a real bang Ro
K.C. Baby-You have my heart and K.C. Baby- You have my heart and lifetime of "fulfillment" and beansi Wuv. Stacy P.S. Babies?

To that saxy, inteltigent guy in the soon-to-be dyruamite looking black 228: There's so much to say but what $ importarit is that I hove you. Heppy Valentine's Day babel Dearest Rob, Happy 4th Valentine's Day. Thanks for your goodness heart and patience. You're amazing luv. I'll love you forever Yeds

Brenda - If guys have it so easy at Syracusa, haw come no giris mrev theosy Valentine's Dzy LYSA I lova YOU more each day. Happy Vatentime's Day Love MARTY
M-t wanted to be different so, Merry X-Masl Nobody likes a follower everyone likets a teader. However you'll probsbly be mede beckuse int the wrong haltiday, so inmued. Hapoy the wrong haliday, so instead. Happy

Wally-What are the chances of a boat capsizing or the crow bain thrown overboard? Hoppy \(V\)-Dsyl Ei

Naxe W. Thanks for all those great hot nights. Itm

PILOT-FIy me into the clouds to your tronical paradise so clouds to can use our imagimationll heppy Volentina's Dayll Love va- XXDO - me
HEY SOLDIERT Happy Valentine's Day from someone who thinks a lot of yaul Get psyched for the bat cause wotre going to have one hellave timelt gmeek tillinglt - a hellave timelt soldier's friend

Mark-Your fuggage is carte, har toes were blue? You ere stramge, butilike but a poat tool) Happy Valantint Dayl Love, Beth SPIDEY Hoppy Ird Valentine's Day-They ve been the best years of my life. I love you, Leslie.

A long sime ago ono wise philosopher sidid: When a gift from faraway tropical island, meats a boy rom Cue thappen. Sue, will you be my Vaien tine? Love Jeff.

Joev-Love you muchly and Happy Joey-Love you muchly and Higapy Valentines Day you devil. you-all rmy love aiways. Strewb.

Happy Valentines Day Mary Jean What is the college experience? Lov T.M.

To my blue eyed Wolfie, dinner ronimt? Happy Valomines Dey K: Wishing you a Mappy Love day Love 3.

To the girls in sweet 740 Happy logeiel 1 miss yout \(P\) S. Hoppy B -day Bartl Hutchi how if feal must be obviaus but I ve yet so rigure vou out! I hope we'if aiways be close, even if the ctis Day minht be far. Mappy Valentines

Snake. Thonx for lexting me under your skin. Happy Valentines Dayt your nurse buddy
Grandpa, Roses are red, violets are blue, you may be a membett, burt still Meeskite, be mine love you. Ugabuga.

To the sisters of KAPPA ALPHA THETA I love youll -L.J.

Little Oval face. I love you and your munkee. Ugabuga

\section*{Classified ads}

TC and the Incredible Hunk, dancing shoes. Brockway blues. and playgrounds in our mind. Arplink. What more doas one need? plink. What more doas one need mellow? couple. Sir Lancelot of Brewater Commons.
For my H1 accountant- Distance won't stop me from telling you 1 love you ALWAYS. Cindy.
To the best brother, roommate, and friends-Lauren. Neil. Tony. Beth. tines Dey. Love Cindy.

Dear Babit thanks for coming into my Dife. You're a wonderful guy and the HVDI Love best friend ithave. HVDI Love, Babouli
Mike, happy valentine's day. 1 love you just the way you are. period. Jayne NATAHSA. Will you head this las: appeal? 1 know \(f\) eel. Won't you be my Valentine?

To my Praris dog, my Tender Vittles, my Irish Coffee, Thank you for the best five months of my entire life. I love you more than Chevrolets and the Buff. Happy Vee day to you. The problem wilt be thinking of personals to write for the next 80 years. All my love. Dan Tanna
Happy Valentine's Day to three great friends. Freedie, Teddie and Ras

Jamie, Be my Valentine. I love you, Alan
Dear I. S. K., Happy Vatentine's Day to the most wornderiul roommate and friend in the world. I hope you realize that you are one in a millionl
Happy V-Dayl Love always, D. L. M.

Ode to an RKE Structuras homework may be raugh, and Lee's design is very tough, but When of school you've had enough, Please remember this: CHRIS You never go l'd like to rake you out To share a glass of wine 108 (again)

Dr. Blattner and Mr. Goetz - We love you in bathrobes and flipflops striped towels and boxers. softball uniforms, shorts and three piece suits. Happy Valentine's Day. Love guzzles and Mac
Happy V-D Mork and Mindy. Love. Babypants
El-No one realizes how much sombone means to them unil you. Rob you. Rob gETS It's been a whole month of happiness and fun ... Ralph sends you a bigkiss from all the kidsl Happy V.D. 1 A HAPPY RA

Jyoti it is all coming together let us keep it that way "for better arsd through worse" AM ihrough worse AM
To my valentine from Broomall-1 love you. Soon it will be five months. The best of my life. Love. Laz the Spaz
Johnny-Be mine. Love Annie Cakes
CRISPY and Swaet, id be such a treas if you'd be mine, for a Valentine
GREG-When wore together the moments are special. When we're not we share the mamories. I LOVE YOU-LISA
Gail-A year can bo as instant as your smile or as distant as the river o my theart. Our paths flow together into one beautiful journey, as alat you are the one. My endless lova. Hent

Lizie \(V\). We meet the quest for knowledge is our goal; then you smile and the full beauty of who you are is plain to see-and the man of many words is speechiess - that's What makes such times so fantastic Happy V-Day
Spider from Glen Loch to the apple orchards you've filled my life these past two months with love and understanding. Happy Valentine
Day. Lightning Sue

Pete-Happy Valentine's Day to the suar who never ceases to arnuse me-Love. Kim Birthday caker happy b'day and \(V\). day from felix the cat's fur the Edgar's roomie.

Room 622 Haven Roses are red, this poem is absurd, you've a secrez ad mirer. whose love can't be cured
Hey Gunta B. Bear, Happy Dayl You're worth saying it twice.s Your Sweetheart.

Hey roamies, Happy Valentine's Day From the Harte of the suite

Dear scret admirer I hope you're as happy the rest of your life as I have been this past week. Happy Valentine's Day Love GAA
Phyllis remember our night in Brewsier Happy Vaientine's Day Franklin and the gang at Day
Vic: You're the tops, r'm in the mood. Please donit teave me this wayl Have I told you I love you lately? Jeff

CEG: I bet you thought you would never get your own parsonal, but here it is 1 mey not always show it without you Syracuse wouldit be the same. I love Youl Jeff Paul, You're my everything. Happy Valentine's Dayl Love afways and forever Lauria

Steven Happy 10 ih anniversary and Happy Valentine's Day. I love you. Love Lona P.S. Watch out for the Pyranah's
Billy Bumpkins-Happy i/2 anhive rasyl Will you be my Valentine? Love you. Gaby Bumpkins To 924 Ackerman, Apt. 6 Harrison and 710 Livingston. Happy Valentine's Day. Love ya elways. Sandy and Bianca and Bianca
Heisler: Water fights, love boat, chocolate chip cookies and atll We ove you. Happy Valentine's Dayl ove-A-S

SLS We've been through B&L, T&O. B&K, R&? and Graham, Roosevelt, Skytop. Let's hope we last longer foreverl GAM

Shortcake, you finally got your D.O.
personal from me. Mac P.S. I love you Herr. forget gone with the wind and come play with me. Mymm My tove. We're apart - but - still ogether in the heart. Happy Valenine"s Dayl Love, Scooby

AMY. I love you more each day Happy Valentine's Day. LOVE. GLENN
D.S. L.R. J.B.S.M.K.S.KISS-R, Kiss L. Kiss-C. Next time wa dine out please order only once-you really could mess the waiter upl l'11 bet the duck was the best thing on the mens. You chickerns! Happy Valentine's Day. Love DAB. P.S. D.S. Plases do not sitacross from me next time-you could rip my pants legl
To KES: You blew it when you told me you used the whole case-with someone elsal ('Il give you ana more chave, Miss CAN-DELIGHTI
To the peanut bandir 112-29-78 Rochester): You found Vicpark B instead of A. I forgot I.D. OToole's parties, crazy pictures, a snowball fight. Time seems so scarce now. Thinking of you. Happy Valentine's Day- Love. DAB
Dear Jill, To many more months in the future, to UCS and to You. Happy \(\checkmark\) Day and Happy Birthday. Love always. the other guy.

Bob-l don't disco at the Dandefion, live at lvy Ridge. drive a white vette, do 'ludes, have a tan or take acgreat. Happy Valentine's Dayll Love tons. M .
Dear Larry. Surprise from your Binghamton lover. Happy Valantine's Day. With love and kisses always. Sara.
Mr. Racoon, I'll be your Valantine even if you wear pimple medicine to Mrs, Racoon

To Mac- The reddest valentine with a unicorn's horn through the middle Because you are the best, one large WINNING VALENTINE to the WOMEN'S CREW. FEARLESS
There's more than one reason whyl stop by 127 ... Happy Valentine's Day to All the Brothers. Love. Chappa squav

Randy, (Alias Mr. Bill) Happy Valentine's Day babyl Stay "Gauche" and weill alw
Today is your dey Sue. Eat, drink and be "marier" Happy Birthelay and Valentine's tool To Ewen and Evansk- "Absence makes the heart grow fonder" Much luck. Love you both. The "other roommate

To my Pat- Words alone cannot toll you of my love. for even a silence with unheard music "Ribbet" I low you-your Princess. Janine.

Does the Empire State Games Gang still exist? Where are Judy. Betsy Schyler, Karl, Lori, Greg. Lisa, and overyone else? The past is so easily forgotten but tha hangovers linger onl Happy Valentines Day to all of youl Jan
Debbie, the eighth floor really enjoyed our show. Come to think of it so did l. We must show a rerun soon or I will gobananas. Meez you at the carmmy Bagell Huposand three tuck ins Vatentine. JQ.

Ann, Chapin might convince you that you life's a circle, but don't give up until you're dizy. This isn' paradise, but it can befun. So, smile. Happy Valentines Day from the Monster of Brewster Commons. Monster of Brewster Commons.
MGM. remamber when, btue pi's were in style, Tab tasted great, it only took two to sango, tall germans stood on your doorstep, and red hair was a sought after phenomanon....ah well. some things never change. I love you.
Ja.

Dear Phyllis. You're still as great as you always were. Hope you think o good

Dear Stscy, Here wegoagain. All my love on V-Day. Love Mr. X
To all of the returning students from Amsterdam who had the time of their lives. Happy Valentine's Day Love Jeff

To the magnificant men living at Winding Ridge 122 and 339-Every nite I dream of orange Capri's, brown M.G.'s, flourescent cones and mid nite strippers.

To the girl who dogan't know, Happy Valentimes Day. Iftry to understerd The guy who's not sure.

Dear Liz, You're a real cutie. Happy V-Day to you and cupld. Love always. Cary

To my "present" boyfriend, thave to admitt that these past five month have beren vary interesting to say the least. And ive loved every minute of it. We owe it to the peach pie. Happy Valentine's Day. Love. your "present" girlfriend.

GIGI HAPPY VALENTINES DAY - to my love - we finatly made it - llave you. Munch.

\section*{Lesly, Happy Valentines Day, I love} you, Michael.

To the linde sisters of ZBT. Mappy VDay. Hope to see you all at the Jab tonight so we can celebrate with the greatest group of girls on campus Love always, the brothers of ZET :
Mine. love is mine, whether it's rain or storm or shine; Mine. You are mine, never another Vatentine; And arn vours, tell me that I'm yours. show me that smile my hesert adores: Mine, more than divine, to know that music by George) - for better or verse, more to come - Legion.

Dar Cindy, Lauren, Bette, Petti, Yeda, Fern. Susie. Joyce, Suep, Audrey Harrient end Jill. Have a happy V.D.. love Neil.

Dar Gonzo, Happy Valentines Dayl may be indecisive. But I know you ro great. Love, Kermit.

Lisa 6, It's only been a month but, it's the happiest live been in 4 years at S.U. Have a happy V.D. Love, Neil

Dear Middletown. Happy V-Day' ic the nicest and prettiest country girl aver met. Hope all works out welf in the future. Love always, Richard

Dear A.L.L. With love to the best on V-Day. Love, Evan

Dear Franci, Happy V-Day to the nicest 5 -towns girl around. Love always, R. Sport

LJC. our first official Valentines Day ogether. Evervday with you is special, but this one's extra special. All my love. JPJ Brothers of Zeta Psi, Happy Valen ines Deyl Keep the beds warm for me. Love, a little sister.

Delia Epsiton's Litto sisters are on top and always will be. Happy Velentop and always will be. Happy Valenat D.U.

Biege, Rats are gray, mice are too. Hon I wish I were in the sack with you. Happy V-Day Love, Pooh Bear.

Dear Laura, God couldrit of givenme a better sister. Happy V-Day. Love. Bro.

Wally - Happy Valentine's Dayfrom Nassau (the island, not the county). Ocean racing may be fun, but I wishI could be up there with you today.

Billy. after 2 years your first personsi, Yeatel Happy Anniverancy and Happy Valentines Day. tlove you and nead you so muchi Love always, Melisase L

I've developed med cravings for chocolate kisses and warowolves coverad with groanbaans. You guys have hed some offect on mel I love you all. Happy Velentine's day - Cid

Jeanno. Mo, Lori. Deb - Weil at least we have each other 4 Vatentines day - ughl l love you all - Cin. dy. Grateh. Happy Valentine Day. Love alwery, MbG

\section*{By Joe Grande}

NBC television cameras will return to Manley Fiald House for the first time in two years Saturday afternoon when seventh-ranked Syracuse hosts St. John's.
The game is acheduled as the ECAC Game of the Week and can be seen locally on WSYR-TV 3 at \(2: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).
The Orange should not be stage struck, however. WIXT-TV 9 has televised three Syracuse games locally (Mlinois, Kentucky and St. Bonaven ture) while WSYR has covered four in the Syracuse area (Rutgers, Penn State, Temple and South Carolina).
Last season, the Orangemen attracted regional television camerses for three games against Rutgers, St . John's and West Virginia. Assiatant Athletic Director Joe Gailagher Baid this season's decrease in regional TV appearances is not a reflection of this year's SU team, but that the number of television appearances averages out over the years.
According to ECAC rules, nember schools are limited to two television appearances during the regular fortunate to receive a bonus game last season.
"It was a matter of the network's desire for a good game on a particular date and the fact we had a great team helped,' Gallagher explained.
Jake Crouthamel, (SU men's athletic cording to Crouthamel, the school receives a check for about \($ 7,000\) for a single television appearance.
"There's a lot ofluck as far as being on TV goes," Crouthamel said.

He said the competition on any particular date, and the opposition late in the season, play animportant role in selection for TV games:
Grouthamel added networks shy away from putting the same team on two wreeks in a row. In SUPa case, the St. Bonaventure game on Feb. 10 would have been an ideal TV game but the televised St. John's game the following televised St. John's Crouthamel aaid SU"s basketball program would offaet any loss in erpoevre because of the drop in TV games: He cited the South Carolina game at Madison Square Garden as a prime tool for exposure. -"Not that many teams get that opportunity, which is very good exposure for us, Cronthnmel said:

In addition, he noted as SU moves into post-season play, success will into post-aeason play, succesa will breed more television coverage. breed more tolevision coverage , Mhe further you go jnto the NCAA's the further you go into the NCAA's the more TV there is, Crouthamel said. more TV there is, Crouthame
The financial loss to the -athletic program in the move from three TVV games to one-can be made up in other areas, Crouthamel said. He noted September's televised North Carolina State football game generated 75 times \(($ 180,000)\) the revenue of one televised basketball game.

\(\mathbf{a}\) director,) said television games are assets to exposure of the university and income for the athletic program. Ac-Syracuse makes its first regional televiaion appear season this Saturday at Manley egainat St. John's.

\title{ action! \\
}

Special edition: A look at the 1970s The Daily Orange

Contents
Page two ___ Richard Nixon's legacy
The CIA is wotcting
Page three _ U.S. foreign relations Acadernia

Page five
Women
Page six ___ A 60s refugee reflects Envirormentalism
Page seven ———The Black experience

Page nine - An SU worker ponders change
People
Time enocpsuled

The Sixties was a hard act to follow, so the Seventies didn't even try.

The changes that the previous decade heralded lost momentum in the Seventies. The ideas, people and battlegrounds of the so-called revolution were easily assimilated into a relatively unaltered culture.

With the integration of the Sixties completed, the Seventies were comic relief. Like all decades that follow major social and political movements, the Seventies found America more at play than at work. Though still characteristically restless, the country was for the most part defused, and it turned its restlessness toward making an aggressive eacape. There were many routes - personality worship, rock, disco, self-improvement techniques, bizarre religions, a fashion explosion, deriding politicians, submitting to television - the list goes on...

There was no shortage of causes, but they climbed into the back seat. Movements for a healthier environment, the liberation of women, civil rights for minority groups and other purposes thrived in the press, but the crude urgency of the previous decade made way for whitecollar battles.

The seeming lack of character of the decade was perhaps a recovery from the Sixties, an attempt to laugh it off, an effort to maintain the national sanity. For the Seventies was a decade tailored to the needs of was a decade tainored to the needs of youth of the Seventies.

So insignificance became significance, as Star Wars, Farrah, C'est Chic, People Magazine became national manias. And when national manias And When in the frrst resignation of President of the United States - the country rushed to forget it. As one writer says inside this issue, "people found refuge in not believing in anything."
\(\circ \rightarrow\)
Why try to draw back and assess a decade that is barely drawing to a close?

In 1969, The Daily Orange ran a special issue arsessing the Sixties. While the paper's analysis of that decade hasn't meahed entirely with more recent historical notions of the Sixties, it is overwhelming in its perspective, or, should we say, lack of perspective.

At the risk of pure pretentiousness, our immersion in the Seventies state of mind - in disco, punk, Nixon, government spying and the rest places us in unique positions to passion ately, accurately attest to the havor of the times. A few years from now, we'll stop feeling it and settle for merely thinking about it.

\section*{Nixon, Watergate cloud '70s with cynicism \\ By Thomas Coffey \\ unauthorized wirotaps and the}

On Angust 9, 1974, Richard Milhous Nixon became the first United States premident to resign, before going into pelfimponed exile at his Pacific estate in San Clemente. The Watergate scandal, which had been dismissed two years before as a "third-rate burglary," had driven hima from office.

Watergate clouds our perception of Richard Nixon. He is pow seen by many as a one-dimensional character-an evil man bent on at taining more and more power-who escaped prison only because be was pardoned by his succeasor before an indictment could be made. Today, Nixon cannot appear in public without facing a demonstration againast him.
It was not always like this. To many people, Nixon was a living aymbol of the American Dream. He started as an outcast, raised in humble surroundings by his Quaker parents. He worked hard and got ahead, eventually proving the cliche that any little boy can grow up and become president of the United States.

Those who admired him-nobody ever loved Nixon as people loved the Kennedyo-liked his tough law-andorder rhetoric and respected the way he succeeded. As Garry Wills pointed out in "Nixon Agonietes," he was the selfmade man.
But there was a dark side to this Horatio Alger figure.

The Silent Majority, as Nixon referred to most Americans, did not see the illegal actions he and his aides committed. The burklaries, the

\section*{CIA in the}

\section*{By David Bauder}

Someone is watching you.
An undetermined number of Americans experienced that feeling in the early part of this decade, as well as the late 1960 s . The Central Intelligence Agency, America's spy network, has been shocking the country during the past few years with disclosures of covert activity.
Spying is nothing new. Antagonistic nations have alwaya used espionage to expose each other's secrets. But it became clear in the 1970 sthat the CIA was not only spying on other nations, but carrying on convert activity against Americans as well, which is a direct violation of the law. A Supreme Court justice, congressmen, private citizens and even Syracuse University students were victims
The National Security Act of 1947 limited the ClA's surveillance activity to foreign subjects, denying it "police, to foreign subjects, denying it police, subpeona, law enforcement powers, or internal security functions." The Act was apparently ignored.
was apparently ignored. has conducted many ciandeatine surveillance activities in the United States, such as wiretaps, break-ins and interception of mail. At one point, the Cla had intelligence files on about 10,000 Americans.
Perhaps even more surprising is that many Americans condone the activity. The CIA, at least publicly, gives the excuse that they re only out to protect national security," observed Linda DeStefano, director of the Central New York chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. "If you wrap yourself in the lag like that, you're bound to get people to agree with you.
The Freedom of Information Act cupation with national security is a sham. They were spying on people involved in perfectly legal activities," she added. "It says a lot about us as citizens. We were too apathetic, uninformed, and allowed this monster to grow."

College campuses have been hotbeds of CLA activity, and SU is no exception. It has recently come to light that during the 1950s and ' 60 s s the CIA undertook "mind control" projects at colleges and universities. The effecta of drugs on the human phyaiology, and the uses of hypnosis and mind control were jugt monpe of the studies thatt took place.
eneraies' liste all hhowed how Horatio Alger abused his power.
These abuses demonstrated a paradox in Nixon's character. He was a conservative man who believed in selfhelp and rugged individualiam.
But Nixon was also bent on achieving total control of the executive branch, on mastering the bureaucracy so it would do what he wanted it to do. The "palace guard"-Haldeman, Ehrlichmann and all the rest-mubverted the United Staten Constitution to protect its States Watergate was a corruption of king. Watergate was a corruption of power. wrong. He had condoned had gone wrong. He had condoned cover-ups to ensure his own power. Many Americans were disillusioned as a result. That was Richard Nixon's most lasting contribution.
It's not that people suddenly decided all politicians were crooks-many people had always felt that. The major disappointment was that Nixon had helped to kill the American Dream.

There was something wrong with drearn that could lead to the horror of Watergate. Polls ahowed the American people were losing faith in many political and social institutions. Americans were afraid the little boy who became president would be corrupted by power.
And now we are in an age of cynicism. Nixon, who had a chance to prove the American Dream was real, instead showed it did not work. With America's one great myth deatroyed, people found refuge in not believing in anything.

\section*{'70s: Big Brother was watching}

At least 44 institutions participated Richard. M. Stephenson of Rutgers in this kind of research, most not knowing who was the sponsor, according to the New York Timeas.
"I was victimized by an agency of my government in a manner I can only deplore and resent," said Professor

Richard M. Stephenson of Rutgers
Univeresty, who found out many years University, who found out many years after the fact who was the beneficiary after the fact who was the beneficiary of his research.
CLA activity took on a different nature during the Vietnam conflict years. Many campuses had periods of unrest, and in most cases the CIA was there watching.
"Many students were active protesting the war," DeStefano said. "Even though this was their constitutional right, the intelligence agency decidedit was un-American."
From 1967 to 1973, the CIA monitored political activities at SU, according to documents released last spring: As a part of "Project Resistance," the CLA got information through informants and Daily Orange clippings about student attitudes toward the war.
David Ifshin, Student Absociation president from 1969 to 1970, was the target of many of the CIA's activitiea. He "can be given considerable credit for the beginning and the sustaining of political radicalism on the Syracuse campus, said the CLA report Former Chancellor William \(P\) Tolley, quoted in the April 11, 1978 DO, said he believed the CIA should have said he believed because the student been involved because the student protesta were a threat to national security. Anoth.
Another favorite CIA practice suspected to be still in use today is the recruitment of college students as CIA informants.
"CIA recruitment of American students is common," baid Morton Halperin, chairman of the Campaign to Stop Government Spying. "Once identified by a recruiter, a U.S. student is investigated and a permanent file is created, even if he or she is not hired." All this is done without the knowledge of the subject, DeStefano noted.
"Foreign studenta are routinely approacked, and, if found uncooperative, may be blackmailed and/or harasged, Halperin anid.
The fear of this kind of activity atSU led the University Senate to pass a repolution denouncing the CIA's domestic activities atita February 1978 meeting- Syzacuse was one of the first univergities in the country to do this. Even in the wake of these revelations, DeStefano said, CLA covert activity "definitely mtill goes covert activity the CLA knows what's begt, this will the CIA knows what"

Internal Bpying by the CLA has med to heictited the feeliners of has. semmed to heightea, the feelings of has tility many Americuns have agans the government. Whether full trust in
- UndeSam will return is yetto inoteen.

\section*{Foreign relations: coming down to ea}

By dim Nenphtion There was a map of Vietnam on the wall of my apartment in Satigon amel some mights, commg back late to the city, Ic lie out on my bed and look at it, too get my boots off. That map was a maruel, especially mow that it watn't renl anymore. For one thing it wat Dery olai.. The paper had buckled in its frame after yeara in the wet Sacgon heat lay ittg a hind of vell over ine conk tritars depicted.. That's old, \(I\) that's a really otd map.

Michael Herr, Dispacehers a memoir of one correspondext'偶 Vietnam

In the 1970 , Americans learned that their maps were old and that the forces redrawing those mape were not always a their control.

The defeat in Vietnam stole the astion'e arrogance and what whas left of it innocence. When the last soldiere ceturned from Saigon, they brought. back the realiration that having the most, newest and biggest guns didn't mean anything if you didin't underptand the proplem or the people. or the lind of war they would make you Eight.

There was more to foreign policy than military presence and anti-communist ideology. Americans fornd that with tirrdworld nationalimm sargigg leaders would try to fill the void of foreign policy, with the politica of interdependence.

Ore of the hittoricat ironies of the 70 s was that the men who would first liberalize American foreign policy were Richard Nixon and Henry Kisainger. Nixon traded on his staunich anti-commumist background to open a mew policy of detente (a word destined to e morsent vals uttered) with the Soviet Union anc to make a historic trip to China. hastening the end of the cold war and the giguing of a Strategic Axm Limitations Treaty; the second in the United Statea officially recognizing China, the moat popalous nation on earth.

Kissinger's prasmatic politiciking and sinuttle diplomacy also brough about slow, painful advancements in the Middle East His freauent tripe between Asvan and Jerusalem finally ended with the withdrewal of Egyptian and Inreali troops from the Suer Canal and the feeling, at lemet temporavily. thint progreet was being made.
Progrems was made when American diplomats Wero mindinh or ons our hitarical commitment to people's our hietorical commitment so people was achieved in the Midenet becanse Whe achieved in the Niceast becanse facilitator and not primarily as an facilitator and not pr
When American needs were put before thope of native people's, the remble were not so encouraging Americana found themaelves, at leam at the beginning of the decade, on the wrong side of racial conilicts in Rhodesia and South Africa. The CLA overthrew the Chilean governmen becanse the Nixon administration didn"t like its politics. The United States aupported repreasive regimes in the Phillipiness in Brazil and most notably in Iran; and, in the. most dramatic demonetration of interdependence the country has seen. the United States was slowed to a crawI by the Arab oil embargo.
The Carter administration has tearned, though perhaps not enough, from theas experiences. The president and Secretary of State Cyriss Vance no longer condnct foreign policy an volved in a conspiracy to conquer the world.

Open dissent within the commanist bloc and increasing ternion batween Russia and Chima have damnged the notion of a monolithic Commanist tarmoil has also enabled-the United States to deal with potential alliested the besis of the special relationshipa as a bedre aroinst communism and a as a hedg agamot commaniom and a Capplier or naticy of tecurces.
Carter's policy of tying foreitg aid to haman rights considerations was received iavorably by most nations but ham been hampered by inconaistent ap has been plication.

Ingistence on haman dignity has im proved onr policy toward Africa. And the trend toward retarning resowrces to native peoplea has augmented the respectability of the United States in foreign relations. The Panama Canal treaty. which returned the canal to Panama, removed a major irritant in our relations with Latin American nations while barely effecting usage

Ehts.
Bnt comtinned aupport of Filipino Prenident Ferdinand Marcos, Nicaracran Gen. Anamtario Somoza, he remerals in Chile and the Shah of tran leaves doubt in the world about whether the United State io interested whether ine United States is minterested in maything
There was a time when the United States had the resources to make people believe that what was good for Americans was good for the world. But more powerful, that argument lost its more pow Conservative policy makers argue the only steps made in foreign policy this decade were backward, and that we lowt allies or low territory. But the language of this argument indicates its flaw. To lowe something implies that one owns it and Andit one can control it. In the 1970 Annerica learned that foreign countriet should be governed in the interest of the native people and not in Amexican economic or military interests.

The developed nations of the world have an intogest in protecting the gtatus guo. It fs a deck etacked in their favor. But as indigent people become more aware of then owrs resources and gain power, the etatus quo is challenged and international relations enter a etate of AzE.

New governmente spring from guerilla armies, revolutions continue in poorer nations, and the United States tries to be pro-Chinese without being anti-Soviec; foreign policy becomes a balancing act of critical importance.
In a world that until this decade mioved in the patterns it has followed since World War II, this menas there will be many delicate leseons to learn More tham ever, Ammericans win be More thal ever, Ammericana win be agked to leave the arragance of past agked to leave the arragance of past forergo policy behind and to mnderstand not only the economic and impact on a nation' people.

There will be even more activity as mations acel to redraw old mapa. Amid this struggling, there is author Michael Herr's advice from Dispatches "Different pieces of ground tell different stories to different people"
In seeling justice in the use of this vaat piece of ground, American policy makers must continue to learn the people of other cultures.

\section*{Student emotion silenced by economic woes}

By Sy Montgomery "STFIKE for Cambodia STRIKE to seize control of your life STRIKE STRZKE because you hate cops STRTKE to smash ROTC STRIKE because they are trying to squeeze the iffe out of you STRIKE the DO life out of you S
It was May 5, 1970. Four thousand SU students gathered in front of Hendricks Chapel, spirita and muscles as tense as the clenched fist that became their silent cheer. SU students oined in the National Studeme Strike and day was filled with songs, and ahoute. Though the aime of thei liberate the opreseded crush the military, stadents acron, the conntry wore united by one mentiment: anger.
Ware united by one sentiment: anger. inve. With this show of solidanity the power of their snow of solidinity, the power of their anger surged through them gaid.
A few years later, SU Etudentw found the strike hard to believe. "Mhey did not feel that same menme of anger as their forebearers." observed hiatory profescor David Bemnett. "They looked at the atrike as aome artifact of a much earlier age" he anid. "The excitement, anger age, be and ine excitement, anger

Within the short expanse of a decade the university has changed from the seat of intellectual, social, and Hical life in Anserica to a training the "real world" nomic pressures. It is not that therearend forefront forefront: money univergity and the? university and thes "Money talks." Money talks, sictant to the economy ag itio connomy asitis cmoney." The if money." The ic has become mor cos become morat are crucial when job m, Studentenolonger hav boycotting clasaes or shipp boycm the administration "Economic reality preciuden now," naid Bennett Inste. "Strike!" the rallying cry of atu The univeraity as an inst
The university as an institutior new problems an a reault Unornic decline. In the said Bennett-But the universif suffered from the change ix
The dectine in enrill.
The dectine in enrollment as the lant of the post-war baby-boom graduated combined with decreased government funds, has left the education industry a deflated balloon," according to onnett Though as a.multifunction less diversified institutions cademia as a whole is decline in power and might the most the faculty mo pay increases mobility has led Bennett believes. Bennett believes. fojected to decline not where the ac ct. "The jobsaren't ney and the anger are e decade's beginning academic structures gram in Non-Violen been inatituted, aaid administration hae en to student opinion "Wopeavale of the late "We're not as "ivory astance, student affaime is not a police office exaymore They're there ic

\section*{facilitate for the students.}
"One of the good thinge about the upheavals of the "608 was that it brought about a new awareness that worthy of their attention," Bennett said. "Instead of a monstrosity only concerned with pure resenrch, teaching has become more important.
The '70asaw the university move off campur-at least for a visit. Community interniships, an end to enforced of guest speakers and the introduction of guest speakers and teachers from the city created a beginming for blending munity.
Reaching out into the community can be perceived as a form of expansion; the late 7 Os have seen more of a coarraction in the university thre in comparison to the upheavala that nearly explode tart of the decade
The student population contracts. and with it the faculty paychecks. Teachers once devoted solely to their disciplines are forced into a devotion to their inistitution, held as almost captive actors before a tranaient audience.

The univeraity was once at the cockpit of intellectual and political life," remarked Bennett. But in the face pilot now?

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Thornime Cotfay editor in ehiet
The Deily Orange Corp.. 1101 E.Adams St. Syrocusw, N.Y. 13210 , publithet Thue Drily Orange welcdeyt of the scadeenic year. Editorial (315) 423-2127. buadnays (318) 423-2314.

70 s
Supplement edited by Magaly Olivero and Irwin Fisch

Layout by Howard Mansfield and Joel Stashenko

HAYIM

\section*{GREENBERG}

\section*{COLLEGE...}
an unforgettable Israel experience.
College STBDY PRoGram: At Hayim Greenberg College in Jerusalem for a semester or one year. Study Hebrew Language, Literature, Bible, History, Education, Philosophy, Talmud, Also, tours, cultural and recreational programs. Credits transferable to leading universities in the U.S. Generous scholarships available. UMIVERSITY seminaRs: 6 weeks of study at Israeli universities. Tours. cultural and recreational activities. Recognized credits may be eared.

For further information and applications on this and other programs call or write:
Department of Education & Culture
515 Park Avenue, N.Y.C. 10022 (Z12) 752-0600 ext. 385/386

\section*{EXPONENTIAL,}

\section*{write}

MY DEAR
WATSON

IT you have of least twa years or graduate or undergraduate eatucoHon ahead, and you kep p gaming clues mot Your money ts running short, timon a moysor Abr Force ROTC schoverstlo may be the sold ion. currently were seeking young men and women who would tile to in a selected. foctinicalnon-hichinical. scientific, nursing of pro you may be alible for a trow year Air force Rote scholoratip. The scholarship payt your rumor. lab fees (plus incidental fees), books, and \($ 100\) per month fax tres. And oven 1 you dort quality for the wo year scholarship. you still receive the s100 a months while enrolled in as an At Force other. Your At r force ROIC counselor has the yotaits and quoliticatton requirternents. Check \(t\) outs. 1 I mighty owen moke your education finances seem elementary.

Investigate the Opportunities Available to You There is no Obligation Room 200. Archbold Gym, Phone 476-9272

\section*{ROTC}

Gateway to a great way of life.

andre, THE KINKS wort WANT YOU for a groupie!!

\section*{But they do want you!}

The Legendary Rock n' Roll Band

\section*{THE KINKS}

\section*{Appearing at the Landmark Theatre Tuesday, February 27th at 8:00 p.m. with special guest TKO}

TICKETS: \($ 7.508\) & \($ 6.50\)
AVAILABLE AT: Spectrum, Discount Records, Landmark Theatre, The Panhandler in Liverpool and all Gerber Music Stores.

\section*{the struggle, the pain, and the victories.}

\section*{'60s refugee welcomes \\ than it was 10 yearg ago. The trick}

Perhaps 1 thought I was being ciever 10 years ago when I finished my colvma for The Daily Orangéa retrospective on the' 60 s with a series of questions instead of a rash of predictions. Now, however, I ace I wasn't nearly as smart as the rest of my colleagues on the paper then; while all colleagues on the paper then; while all of them are long fone from the university. I'm still here to be held acuniversity, Actually, I was relieved to find nothing I had written then was that enn-barraging now. A bit melodramatic,

\section*{By Mike Greenstein} perhaps, but melodrama was a function of the times; 1969, for those too Young to remember, was the vear of bidrest of the Warhincton anti-wer rallies, the first moon landing and Joe Namath winning the Super Howl. Politics, music, drugs, ssex-everything Politics, music, drugs, sex-everything was either "heavy" or "intense," or freWas either hea quently both.

Although today I get more eatisfaction from all but politics, none of the others seem quite an exciting an they did 10 years ago. Maybe the drugs were Anywrey
Anyway, in that column I astutely pointed out that "in 10 years we will be members of the same post-30 generation which we today so vebemently attack." I then posed the following questions, which it will now attempt to answer

Will we mellow?
Let me first point out that "meliow" wasn't nearly the cliche in 1969 that it has become in the '70s, when nearly everything is Mellow. As long as Madison Avenuegivesua Mellow Rock Mellow Coffee, Mellow Cigarets and mebody must be qetting rnellow In a way, even disco is mellow, except that it's also loud.
Even those few in my generation who remain propunk rock and anti polyester are obviously more res traimed than we were a decadeago. The tolerance developed in the '60s has tolerance developed in the ' 60 s has been nurtured by temperance in the 70s. What idealiam remains is acted out less impulsively-certainly less defiantly-than it would have been 10 years ago. Those who in 1970 stood on Chairs and screanned obscenities at probably enlist calmer tactica today Will we be conservative compared to the youth of 1980 ?

Ironically, no. From what I've observed of both high school and college students recently, they are pretty cwoperative and pasgive groups Even euch a potentially far-reaching political issue as the future of rock concerta in Syracuse has failed to ativ much of an outcry among area youth. At SU, students have raised hardly a whimper as the adrainistration hae steadily reannexed power and purses trings over which atudents had won control in the early '70s.

The children of the ' 60 B have gotten more conaervative, in all semses certainly; it's natural to get more protective an you accumulate more to lose. But as a group we continue to be more willing to take a riek than the children of the 70 s , who at this stage still have nothing to lose.

Will we still blow dope and attack the syatem?

Yes to both, although probably less often and less publicly. Paranoia is often and less publiciy, Paranoia is down, but self-consciousness is up. So is the price of pot.

Or will we be the system?
Most ' 60 s radicale have become cymical and world-weary enough to realize the system cannot be beaten. The remairing choices are becoming a part of it or ignoring it. Those who choose the former often find their good intentions stymied by the frustrations of fitting in. The system, it seerns, is so overcrowded that it's tough to break into it-especially for those determined to retain their individualiam and integrity.
It seems most of the con temporaries I read about it the Alumni News for making it in the real world-in business, polities, journalism or anythpug else-are the ones who were the purhy/go-getter types when they were really did attack the system too strenuously or philosophically in the frat place.
Those whose concerns run deeper than peer pressure and posturing continue to be skeptical and to fight the bystem, although their Eighting is leas flamboyant and more self-oriented these days it in knowing when to fight and when to keep your mouth shut; a decade ago our mouths were aiway pen.
Will we indeed have the time to be anybody?
Sure. The past two decades may have left us cynical, but harily defeated. The turmoil of the ' 60 a made us better able to cope with the disillusiontpent of the 70s. Sometimes even the Eire is still there-just listen to a decade's worth of music from Neil Young, Van Morrison, the Rolling Stones or any other survivors.
At the time I asked those questions. the cultiral upheaval was happening go fast and things were changing so quickly that it was easy to think that our generation would have to emerge with a new and different, perhapeseven more enlightened, sense ofintellect and morality.

But 10 years later, although we are more experienced and more learned, I don't know if we're necesaarily any smarter than we were then, or than another generation was 10 years before that. We still screw each other over in both business and in interpersonal both business and in interpersonal relationships. Sometimes we do it intentionally. In the "70s, the so-called intentionally, In the "TOn, the so-called "me decade," such behavior is even condoned, if not encouraged outright.
People and institutions confuse me People and inst

But yes, if we can slow ourselves down-momentarily divorce ourselves from pressures of economics, ideologies and seemingly endless gub-zero temperatures-and make the time, we can atill be anybody.
More than that, we cax be somebody. Buddy Holly told us that in 1959 , the Beatles told us again in 1969 and Bruce Springsteen reaffirms it in 1979. It's that feeling of individualism and selfworth and the potential for turning thinge around in a mingle moment that is central to the rock' n'roll serasibility that grew uparound us. 1 , for one, atil subecribe to it.
Bring on the Eighties; I'm ready now.
Mike Greenstein is a rock columnist for the Syracuse New Times, art instructor at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications and a of Public Communications and a graduate of SU. He will be 30 years old graduate of SU. He will be 30 years old Saturday.

\section*{Big Five laws support cleaner earth, but fud}

The first vestiges of environmentalism were concealed in practices euphemistically called practices euphemistically called "conservation." But it wasn't until the 19708 that the crude prototype was 1970 s that the cru refined to an -ism.
By most accounta, environmentalism was born in the spring of 1970 to an ecological entrepreneur named Denis Hayes. Wrapped in tye dye t-ehirts, blue jeans and sandals, Hayes brainchild was called Earth
Day. It involved millions of women

\section*{By Joe Salvo}
children, folksingers, teachers and other subversives in an all-day affair other subversives in an ail-day affair respurces.

Many of the formal and informal discussion croups that started that day have been credited as being inntramental in the later parasage of the "big five" Act, the Ferource Conservation ard Act, the Ferource Conservation and Recovery Act, the Toxic Sabatances Control Act, and the Safe Drinining Water Act. Thesefive acta forged an environmental policy statement that will unquistionably endure well beyond the 70s. They are the pyramids of the movernent
Each, in turn. recogrized pollution as detrimental to the health and well-being of humang sund other inhalbitants of the planet. Each, in turn, set a national goal of abating the probleme poesed by contarninants in thenar we breathe, the producta we purchase, the water we drink, and the oceans and rivers in which we play.
"The Acts" challenged a very fundaraental principal of American culture-the right to make a profit at any cost.

With the pasaage of the acts, an interesting transformation took place. Environmentaliam, ilke so many other movements of the early 70s, shed its jeans and tehirts and donned a white collar and tie. The federal Environmental Protection Agency was formed from geveral bcattered. dysfunctional federal agencies, as was our New York State Department of EnVironmental Coneervation. Environmental programs gained the highest of all accolades - acadexnic recognition. che sewage treatment plant Water Act quickiy overtook the Interstate Act quickly overtook the Interstate Highway Program as the largest public works project ever urgest public worics project ever undertaicenin history. Research grants anbalined a mytire new centers of atudy, and a myriad of mivate consulting they could \(w\) clean whatever crumbs they could from the new federal flow. began to grow and prosper.
In mhort, the forces of were mobilized to deal with this new. found problem that had captured the national imagimation, Environmentalism wasnolonger a policy problem, but an engineering problem. It is difficult to determine whether it was too much coming too quickly, or whether delegating the problem to a aystem of government traditionally Wrapping itself in red tape was the problem, but a problem it was. Concern was translated into regulations, and watchdogging was reduced to filing in triplicate. And the best-laid intentions sank into the quagmire of govermment regulations that streamed out of Washington.
Thid gave indastry the handle it needed to recover from the initial shock of the Big Five and the tremendons media attiention that had been given to the plight of the countless tiny creeks and treams hat indumtry had des poiled for years. It was time to re-enter Regolations, wrought only of wards, could be twisted and bent as necenaary. So an more anc more reghations wer promulgated in the maid- 0 os, it became and modifying mparent that maning and modirying regulations was a ten for lawyers, of which industry had no shortage.

An early as 1976-1977, if loopholes Etarted to appear Creneral Electric could dump the Creneral Etectric could dump Hooker Chemical could unload Ho Hooker Chemical conld unload into the Misgara River. Despike penditures of well over \($ 10\), some waterways were not much off tham before. Auto manufad using compromises designed im regulations, succeeded in circui cing many of the requirementi Clean Air Act, and pusking bed plementation of the act beveral Love Canal chemical dumps and Park landfills bubble over with chemicsla that bubde over red rega all along because of "grandfathe clauses that prevent retroactir! plications of law.

Industry, dempite record profis performances reported to itockbl has mounted a new line of attad regulation. This new lime is the serious threat environmentalis

\section*{FTMDE}
'/f the 1970s are a clue, Black America had better expect the unexpected in the 1980s.

\section*{Black's '60s dreams unfulfilled}

It is not that the 1970 delivered solit-- although they did: it"e just that the 1960s promised so much.
Black America is still the owner of be Amexican Dream deferred despite President yydon Johnson'a war on poverty, his anti-diecrimination executive orders, passarge of the 1964 Civil Fights Act and other Great Society teaserz.
National events at the close of the 1960 s foreshadowed somewhat the backsliding of the 1970 g Martin Luther King's death and Richard Nixon's resurrection come to mind. But

By Robert Hill
even those unfortunate occurrences, in the wake of the optimistic tone evident earizer in the 1960s, did not prepare black America for the ironic and nbi quitous diaposbesaion that betell them during the n
We fevy it in 1970 when our dead wer shipped home from Vietnam. Black Ahipped home from fietnam. had kiack America had known for several years that its sons were disproporionately that iss bons were disproporionately cepresen ghetto youth, unable to find auikabl mploymaent or avoid the draik with 2 tatus, volunteered or were draited to exve, were victimized by yanke ex porved in Saigran fought saliansty and housed in Saigon, rought valiaxily and ied on the Hont bodies werestipped home whe United States, whose inverests abroad they persued at the cost of thent ivees, Jim Crow did not allow theis iniexior bodies to be buried in the nationa cemeteries of the southern alates.
The irony was there in 1971 when the young college professor, Angela Davis, who had been the subiect of an egregious FBI manhunt, taught a Califormia jury that advocating social justice was not equivalent to conapiring to murcler her oppressors. And aiter the damage had been done, mhe was acquitted.

And wasn't it jronic when black students arrived on campus respectably attired from montha of scrimpung and saving to be confronted by the tres chic, designed poverty denim look of the third generation college studenta from the middieclast suburbe.

Similarly, as the new arrivala grappled with the thandard relationatisp between a subject and verb, they listexted in utter amazemient an liberated English professorse told them their rich ethnic cultural heritage rendered their black English in triguingly more acceptable. Of course when they heard their liberal sociology professor refer dieparagingly to Mr Nixon as "uptight" they were perplex ed, 10 years earlier their older siblinge and Stevie Wonder had invented *up tight" to mean "all right, ont of aight." Durine the mid'70s tolack is beautiful" took on a new mpeaning a white America apent millions in style malons for frinlyy "afro" and frizey hairatyles that were mo despiaed on the children of Africa for decades. Coupled with year-round suntans, the new styles were much loved, as long, of courte, as their owners had acquired them from Sapgoon rather than inherited them from their parenta.

Alas, the world of mports did not escape irony's bold reality of the 1970 s . Cassius Clay, the persecuted and prosecuted black nationalist of the pecos raetamorphosed into Mrhem mad Ali reppondent in a raciem and lander suit 10 years later And and Abont those outraceous salaries about those outrageous salaries athetes receive, now that Reggie married big black to big green.
Big areen explains a lot of things. Bigareen explains a lot of things. It is alleged to be the man reason drug Blact Amen continues in our midis.
Black American ghettos cried out for relref from dope pushers, heroin addicts and their associated crimes for more than a decade. It was not until Gov. Nelson Rockefeller discovered there were addicts on Long Igland that he arm-twisted the legislature into pasging his 1970 get-tough anti-drug abuse laws. Of course, minority America always managed to be around to serve those long, example-getting prison terzins.
Eut black America bas always known that it was responmible for ite own poverty, iliteracy, and general aorry lot. What it did not know, until enlightened by one Alan Bakke in 1978, wan that mimority America in reaponsible for white individuals' failure to gain profesaional school access. No matter that medical echools this year will graduate fewer blacks than four years ago, nor that the percent and number of black enrollments in medical achool are on the decline. Were it not for blacke and quotars, we were told. Bakke and other deprived whites could have completed their edacations.

Let's not forget employment Black Amencans dian t know until Weber vis. Kaiser Aluminum that AfroAmericans could keep the wrill-paying

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{BEFORE YOU PICK UP YOUR DEGREE, PICK OUR INTERVIEW.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F

\section*{t Big five laws support clean earth}

Continued from page six people's hearts and minds. Industry has decided that compliance with pollution compliance is roing to cost us regulationa is going wost in all money. Nore to conform to morul expens (in many ingtan regulations (in many instances it's actually cheaper there is just less profit motive), but because industry, is resisting regulation, is testing America's commitment to its national goals of clean air, earth and water.

Industry has proven itself incapable of eelfregulation time and time again. Despite the tremendous increase in environmental awareness, the EPA estimates that today over 90 percent of all hazardous

\section*{University Union}

\section*{Internal/External Chairperson}

Applications are available for the position of U.U. Internal and External Chairperson at the U.U. Offices at Watson Theatre. Applications are due by Fri. Feb. 16 at 5 pm. Call 423-2503 for more information.
subsidized by the student fee

\section*{ART DEPT.}

\section*{DRAWING BOARD SALE! 30\% OFF with coupon}

SIZE
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
\(24 \times 36\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(23 \times 31\)
\(24 \times 36\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(18 \times 24\)
\(24 \times 36\)

\section*{DESCRIPTION}

Wooden without metal edge Wooden without metal edge Wooden without metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Wooden with metal edge Indestructible Itwt. plastic Adjustible, wooden Adjustible, wooden

Reg. Price SALE PRICE
\begin{tabular}{cc}
\($ 7.50\) & \($ 5.25\) \\
13.50 & 9.45 \\
22.50 & 15.75 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
17.00 & 11.90 \\
20.00 & 14.00 \\
11.00 & 7.70 \\
20.00 & 14.00 \\
32.50 & 22.75
\end{tabular}

Must be paid for at rear art counter. Sale ends Feb. 23, 1979

SUB
with this coupon

30\% off all Drawing Boards in stock

Art Dept.

and toxic wastes are diaposed of in a manner harmfial to the environment. Industry is out to make its products at the cheapest possible cost, and if that means dirtying the air or water or earth a little, then ao be it.
The battle is starting anew with industry a little sharper and a little wiser than before. Interestingly enough, Denis Hayes last spring gave birth to a second child, Sun Day. The forces being mobilized against nuclear power and praising the glories of altemative energy sources have much of the enthusiasm and vitality of the original Earth Day efforts. It will be interesting to see which way the wind blows in the 1980s.

There is no question that th 70s were a tremendous boon for environmentalists. Air and water, at least, have shown marked improvements in the United States

Only tirme will tell whether the pyramids upon which we have built our hopes will become a legacy for us to stand proud of, or an intereating historical artifact to tease the mindis of scholars for years to come. To borrow from someone older and wiser, it geenns the price of a clean environment is fated to be eternal vigilance.
The author is regional coordinator of the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG).

\section*{HERE I STAND}
S.U. Administrators will tell their story and field questions on

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION:
"ARE THERE ANY JOBS FOR WHITE MIDDLE CLASS MEN?"

TODAY. Feb. 15-12 noon Noble Room. Hendricks Chapel
Featuring: Lois Black, Director of Affirmative Action and James M. Douglas. Associate Dean Law School

Coordinated by Chaplain-Intern Laine Hawxhurs A Program of Hendricks Chapel

Community Darkrooms
SEMESTEF LAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) includes
All chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and printing plus color slice development.

Call or stop by for a friendly visit - Open Everydey 316 Waverly Aue.. Syracuse. N.Y. 315-423-2450

\title{
. \\ Worker ponders changes
}

By Rachel Finkel
Way pase nows of brightly painted hallways, inside a room decked with long tables and ringing telephones, woirka \(a\) man who remembers when a large part of Syracuse Univeraity was only farm land Finished with hia jot for the day, he aits, conghing. in an office in Skytop Administration Building and puffe on a Benson & Hedgen, the ashes about to fall on his jeans.

Eddie Cuzzens is a mbil track driver for SU. He delivern mail mostly to administrative and business offices, but in his mind, he sees much more of the camptua than the buildings to whicin he delivers mail every day. Having worked for 22 yearg at the university as a fainzer, grown (aman and things) Cuazens recalla a slew of rood timees and bad times of good thes and baise thelling days" and rough wrinters days and rough winters, probe But moatly he recalla snobs. But mosty he recalls the changes.
"It ain't likeitis nowadays:" Cuzzens says. nicking his ashes in a glass ash tray on'a deak desk Years ago, it was fun Sometimes you just couldn't Sometimes you just couldn't ait to come back.
His fondeat memories include working with students, digging and doing electrical work. As an electrician, he set Ap street lights at University Avenue partments.
That vas before they had Farm Acre, Small Road and Chinook Drive, "42-year-old Cuzzens says. "I wat the only one who knew how to put them up. And I was the only one who wasat afraid to climb the scaffold." He smiles and folds his arms over his wide, bulging tomach.
His words come slowly, as if he were plotting a scene from a play. He runs amudged fingers through his graying beard and gazes into space.

Now. it's just a job. I don't go to their houses, and they don't go tomy house," Cuzzens says, motioning to the adjoining room where his co workers sort and weigh piles of letters and pacicages.

Cuzzens spends most of his eight-hour work day alone, driving his truck. He checiks in at Skytop at 8 a.m., Borts and ties the mail for his route, and is off on his route.
After a 45 -minute lunch break, he's back on the road until late afternoon when he returna to sort mail.

All you do is juat deliver mail eight hours a tiay. You just keep sorting mail Deliver and sort," he says. He etubs out his cigarette and etretchēe in his orancre swivel chair in His delivery dutie may b the easiest of all hiz past SU the easient of all his past sy jobs, but they ain the most deairable. He rarely speaice with tomatenter sind themselves as the did in the past.
"Now you ank them for a favor and they shut the door in your face," he sayes "Moatly they don't want you in there they diont want you yo there student. They don't want any old man.: he says.
Yet neither Cumens nor atudents are entirely to blame students are entirely to blame for their lack of comfor their lack of communication. Restrictions imposed by the union in the past posed by the umion in the past mine years keep Cuzzen from becomping too involved with campun activitiea, Araong other rules, he is: forbidden to pick up someone off the road, ; whether it be a hitch hiker or dormeone whoee car has brotion down.

Union rules also allow Cuzzent fewer respongibilities than in the past. If I have a flat tire, I have to call the garage You have them do it cause that's their job, that's their title-garage man. I'ma mail man," he says patiently as if explaining a maientific concept he is just beginning to understand.
He pauwes and thinks a mornent.
"Sometimes its for good, and some of it ain't so good.'
"When I first etarted here, it was all tough woric." Cuzzens recalls, crounging for a cigarette in his gray hirt pocket.

During one particuiarly cold winter, Cuzzens remembers pushing a snow plow on a regular basis from two in the morning until \(4: 30\) the next day.
Although Cuzzens may sometimes find the paper work and procedures of sodiay's world a bit overwhelming he can still set the bemefits. He cites the biggert advantage in hies job now as money. Hia salary has increased from \($ 1.50\) an hour in the early sixties, to almost \($ 5 \mathrm{an}\) hour.
'The univeraity ain't the richeat place to work for, buit when my kids grow up they, can go to school for nothing," Cuzzing says, smiling. "You can't go any other place and get the benefits I do."
Cuzzens takes one last puff ut in cigarette and stampe it the remaining tobacco burn and darken. His face loses expression and he stops talking. He stares with blue, watery eyes toward the next room. He ytares beyond his co-workers aut the window at the apartments and parking lots.
"It's changed a lot" he eave finally, to no one in particular."
He spealics reluctantly, hold ing each word as long as he can. He speaks with the tone of someone who is giving up stored possessions from an old home.
"All the farm land.... It just ain't there anymore."
Eddie Cuzzens

Work at your student stora
Campus Conveniences, Inc, is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum Travel Guides. Information is available at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Mon-day,-Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

MEN'S Shoes & Boots at great Savings!
NOW
-MEN'S TIMBERLAND BOOTS Reg. \($ 72\)
$57.60
- MEN'S SUEDE & LEATHER SHOES Reg. $48
\($ 23.36\)
- MEN'S FRYE BOOTS

Reg. \($ 71\)
$10 OFF
167 M Se . (Emporiam)

\section*{AMER}

MASTEACHARGE
uncend:

\section*{For 50 You Can:}

Buy cigarettes: (chocolate ones).
Wash your clothes (if you dry them yourself).
- Take the bus and read the paper.
? Have a drink and some jollies at the Student Center.

The choice is yours, the happy is hours. M-F \(9-11\) p.m.

\section*{The Student Center 310 Walnut Place}

Mastercherge and VISA accepted

A Mew Concept in Orangem

\section*{HORRIBLE HANKIES}

Accept no imitations. Get your original Horrible Hanky' while they last. Bring it to the game Saturday and go WILDII

Avaliabie Friday At:
-HEC 9-5
EStocum Lobby 9-6
- All Dining Halls During Dinner

Sherman's Quest

by Chuck Wing

\(\Longrightarrow\) 上
KODAK Color Enlargements Order three, one is free!

Beautiful KODAK Color Enlargements of your favorite snapshots, instant prints, color slides, or KODACOLOR negatives make great gifts, or decorative accents for your home or office.
And now is the time to order them. Because when you order three, you pay for only two. The third one is free! Stop in for complete details, but hurry. this special offer ends March 14.
charge it:
SU BOOKSTORE CMARGE mastercharge

> - Syracuse

> University Union Concert Board)
> presents

\section*{an evening with}

\section*{AZTEC TWO-STEP} SATURDAY FEB. 17 AT JAB

\section*{WITH \\ TWO SHOWS \\ 8 and 11 p.m.}

\section*{TICKETS:}
$4 with S.U. ID \($ 5\) all others & at the door

\section*{Drinks will be servedf}

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TODAY}

Men's and women's rugby club will have a social meeting at 10 tonight at Hungry Charley's. New embers welcome SUSKI is taking a bus to Song Mt. at 6 toright from Stms, 40 spaces avilable. Leayes mountain at mid night. \($ 4\) round trip.
UUTV presents "Newsbreak". at 10 tonight; "Eye on Campus Live" at at 10:30; and "Music Talks" with at 10.30; and "Music Talks" with 2 and 7.

Judo Club meats at 7 tonight in Archbold Gym.
Hillel elections will be held from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. zoday in the Hillel lounge, Hendricks Chapel. All Hillel
Pat Chi psyeh
Pai Chi, psyehoiogy honorary. meets at 7:30 tonight in the SU arajuata
SU graduate fellowship applications are due today at 210 steele.

Requeste for axemption from the health fee are due today at th Health Center. Married students with children. commuters and special programs students may be gible.
English majora may be eligible for department scholarships, but mus get an application today from 300-14 Archbold_Gym. Return by Merch 2.
Freshman English: Oft-pace poetry and fiction unit registration begins at 9 a.m. today in 300 Ar chbold. Classes begin Feb. 20.
Help us help. Peer counselor applications for Academic Counseling Service for next year are due today in 311 A Archbold Gym.
Those interested in forming a women " woccer club meet from 7.8 tonight in the Student Center.

Flim: "Thie Three Faces of Eve" with discussion will be shown at Canter, 810 E . Genesee St . si .

English colloquium: David Hopes will speak on "Ezra Pound: The Reality of Nous" at 4 p.m. today in Re 1916 Room, Bird Library
Informal talk: Professor Louis Roberts will speak on "Athens and Jerusalem: The Conflict of Culturias at 8 tonight in the Newman Center
Fitle range is open from 7:30-10 tonight. Bultats cost \($ 6\) for the semester.

Campus Bible Fellowship will discuss. What is Heaven Reatly Like?" at \(7: 30\) tonight in the library room. Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. Also retraat this werkend. Call 478-8991 fordetails Chass Club meets at 6:30 tonight in 336 Smith.
Ragtime Miltionaires play at Two Below. Brewster/Boland's coffeehouse, tonight. Molson on tap.

Sign up today for SUSKI's trip to Sign up at 103 Colfege place this afternoon or call Dan at 422-3091.
Are you eating more than you want? Overeatars Anonymous meets at 8 tonigin ar Grace Epis and Madison Street No dues no fees, no weigh-ins. Call 475-8925.

\section*{TOMORROW}

SUSKI is going to Song Mt. at 6 onight. 40 , epaces available. \($ 4\) arves from Sims ai 1 a.m. Bu aves irom Sims.
Delite Nu Alpha presents Lewis Sillcox spaaking on "Time-Oriánted rains and Distribution Control a :15 pird Libray in the Aoom, Bird Library
Date Rubin will play tomorrow a Two Below, Brewster/Boland's coffeehouse. Molson on tap Biology serminar: Jorram Brown rom SUNY Albany will spaak on Kin Selection in Bablers: A Field Study in Australia" at 4 :p.m comorrow in 717 lyman.
Mustim. Friday pravers will be held from 9-1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hendricks Chapel basement.
The Bormbshettor has music and wine Fridays from \(\mathbf{8}: 30\)-midnight in the Hendricks Chapel basement.
"Promises. Promises" will be resented by SU Musical Stage at 8 pm. tomorrow. Call 423-1804 fo peservations.
Buy a horrible hanky tormorrow from 9 a.m. -5 p.m. in HBC or Slocum robbies or during dinner at a dining hraditions Commission. raditions Commission.
"What Catholics Belleve:", at minicourse with Father Charles; will be held from 12:50-1:45 p.m. zomorrow in the dean's office.'Hendricks Chapel.
Amnesty Intemational meets at 8 p.m. zomorrow in 313 Maxwell.

\section*{NOTICES}

Onondaga County residents may be eligible for a \($ 300-$ 500\) scholarship from the MetropolitanBusiness Write for application to Mrs Betty Sherman 636 S. Warren St. Syracuse, N.Y. 13202 as soon as possible possible.
Netional College Poetry Contast ha's cash prizes from \($ 10-8100\) for poetry to be printed in its anthology American Collegiare poas. Typy submitted to Internetional submitted to Publicstions, 4747 Fournaini Ave., Publications, 4747 Fourtain Ave., 31. Name, address and collegie of student must be on each sheat; s 1 initial fee; 50 cents for each bdditional poem. No more than' 10 poems per entrant.
Couple applications for the dance miarathon are avilable at the Greek Council office:-821 University Ave. Pick up Monday-Friday from noon-5 g.m. Return by March 1.

Su Musical Stage is interviewing for director, producer, musical direcproduction. Call 423-6463 for an ap pointment.

NOTICES FOR HERE. THERE \(\mathrm{g}_{4}\) EVERYYHERE are due at The Daily wo deys befors publication Name and telephone number. of. sencter must. be included. Limit announcements to 20 words. Announcements are not taken over the phone.

Engineering & Computer Science Majors

\section*{DON'T MISS TALKING TO THE HUGHES RECRUITER VISITING YOUR CAMPUS SOON.}

Contact your placement office for interview dates.

\section*{HUGHES}

\title{
Classified ads
}

\section*{For Sale} Organic PH Balanged Shampoos: SOMAL E SUPPLY, 7275 Crouse Ave., next to S.U. Post Office 475. 8289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: ASSORTED TURTLE NECKS S4.98. MENS FATIGUE PANTS STO. ASMALL. 738 S . CROUSE AVE. 478. 3304

74 Plymouth Sasalite Sebring, A/C. P/S P/B. fiechanically perfect. 63.000 mi. Musi be seen. 51,600 or best otfer. \(474-2611.6: 30\) p.m.

1969 Volvo 4-Speed. dark blue: new brakes, rebuilt transmission and carbufator. yent-otd clutht, Alc. mus sell this weak. \($ 750.475-6060\).
SALE SALE SALE 25\% OH women's winter coats. \(50 \%\) off. Now vests 20\% on selected vintage mer. HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.

SALE SALE SALE introductory offer continued. WWil wool and kakhi pants \($ 10\) reg. \($ 12\). Army wool coats
& 15 SECOND HAND ROSE 713 S. S15. SECON

ZOABA S Has Groat Pizza & Hot Subs With Lots of Morzaraliacheese 5075.

Original movie posters. lobby sets. and color & BW stills. All movies. current and otd. Whotesate prizes. Call Chris or Carole \(\times 6575\) or \(\times\) - 6693 . 6693.

Must Sell Brand now unmounted High performance skiies 185 cm Best Olfer Call 474.744 )

\section*{STEREO COMPONENTS. car} stereos. fuzzbusters, all brands. wholesate prices. fully guaranteed. Call ACTION AUOIO 478 -8667
Order vour Jostens class Ring anyday at SORENSEN'S. Next 10 Univ. Post Office Door. S. Crouse

MIO-WINTER SPECIAL; 180 DAiwe Fiberglass downtill skis only \($ 45\). 476-5785
SALE SALE SALE Rocky horrat pic. ture show posters, tobby sets. and color & 8W stills. 20\% off wholessale cost. Other movies also zuaitable. Call Chris or Carole \(x-6693\)

\section*{Wanted}

Low on money and records that aten warted WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them infor instant cash. Top prices paidl
DESERTSHORE 730 S Crouse. 472-3235 Mon. Sat. 11-6.
OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/year round Europe. S America. Aus tratia. Asia. Eic. All fields. \($ 500\) S1,200 monthly. Expenses paid Box \(4490-5 H\), Eefkeley, CA 94704
NEED: 1 general Admission ricket for Si, John's qume To buy. Call 474. 9804 or 423 - 7564.
NEEO EXTRA CASH? FUII or partime: days/evenings. For appointment call-"New Life Enter rises." 622-4043
MENI WOMENI JOBS - CRUISE SHIPS - FREGGHTERS No oxperience. High payl See Europe. Career Summet Send 5385 tor info to SEAWORLD BB Bor 61035 , Sac. to. CA 95860 .
EARN HIGHINCOME - Full. PARTIME At nome or at school. Easy service business. no investment. exciting oppartunity, no gimmicks. reliability guaranteed \(\rightarrow\) Detais 82 (refurded) STAR SSU Box 272. Island Park. N.Y.. 11558.

Addrassors Wanted timmediatelyti Work at home - mo experience Amectssitry - excellent pay. Write - X American Sorvice. 8350 Park Suite 127. Dallas. \(1 \times 75231\).
hotographer wanted zo take photos 27 party
474.9834

Part-lime job: Tues.. Thur mornings babysitting for one yr. ofd. Provide own tramsportation. 425-7460
Houseboys wanted for Comstock Sorority. Call 479-3244 and ask for Mary or Maryanne

Kitction help needed at fraternity in exchange for free meals or good wages. Call Brad: 478-9015; 3-2665

\section*{For Rent}
" 2 cubic foot refrigerntors tor rens Call Taytor Rental Center. 478.0957 Apartment furnisned, walking distance. One month's security, no fease.
6550.

Single room with bathroom. \($ 700\) Convenient location. 907 Walnu Ave. 423-2648 or 475-3484.
Need two fembles to share apartment. No lease. One month's security Beautitul apartmerit fireplace. Good location, immediaz occupancy. \(422-0758\)

\section*{Personals}

Wero. Happy B-day to a special and valuable friend. Your roommate who else.
Dear Janie Happy Valentines Day, a day lete. How bbout coming by tonight to discuss a surrender. ill ave finish my storios Love ponmy Tonighty Party for our new litte sisters at Phi Delta Theta. 9:00. 703 Walnut Ave.

Ronny: Happy Vatentines Day. Can't weit until were foomies. llove youKoo Randi, Mappy Valentines Day to the greatest sister. Sorry it's a day late. Love, Janie.

Dear Theal Sisters. Thanks Ior orDear mesa Sisters. Manks tor brrGif. Love, Zeta Psi brothers.
T-First I had a B-Day present foryou, then it was \({ }^{3}\) Christmas present. now it's a Valentine. Please corne and get it before graduation. - N \(\vec{N}\)-Don't sweat it: lill be there tomorrow. -T.
T-I'm sweating it, where are you'-N.
To the guy on the Crew team who's To the guy on the Crew team who's on crutches (and who eats in Haven) on crutches (and who eats in Haven) Happy tbelated) Valentines Dayl - A Secret Admirer

HJOH, youre the girl of my dreams and the one i love. I want you in my reality forever. Happy post Valen tines Day Your \(X\) and \(O\) man. EPG
HAPPY EIRTHDAY. STACY MEAYL Lots of love and good wishes to MORRIS AND SARA. SABRINA

SUZ - Youre gonna scream when you see inist Hapoy V.D. you fittie knoekwursi. Young Exec.
"Te amabam. tamen nesciebas. In tuitus tuos ocellos sump, pectuspec tore cum meum caniungi tuo desidertuit. Sed meum cum gegrum meumum non potueris, ad cupidinem sum in fragmenta. Love redactu Sta- Happy Birthday, You're finally legal- no longer Jalleait You donit legal no longer Jallealt. You don Love. Peter-Power.

MCN. A.F. and Gang-Good Luck with Promises. Promises. Your FAV pnotographer. SM
Morribla Hankies are herell Buy yours Friday ath.e.C. Slocum Lobby or during dinner ar any Dining Hal Price: just 506

Penclope-Lest night was Supreme
How ebout some afternoon delinght

Todd-Sounds tertific- a quick bite mi the Student Center arourd 1:307 Penelope Apartheid equats tacism, hatred, oppression. exploitation, starvation to Africmins. Apprtheid equals prolits to 5 corporations.

\section*{Lost & found}

Lost at Sammy on \(1 / 26\). blue multicotor strit down iacket Now blue carivas bad with white rim lost in or a ound Sims 222 on Friday afternoon fob. 2 nd. Contained white cardipan, two new books and student papers Especially interested in student papers. nierested in student papers. 482. Collie named "OX'. Mato. Leather Collie named OX . Mate. Lether collarwithrabies tag. Call \(478-4552\)

\section*{Services}

\section*{THPING SERVICE, thesis. desser-} tation, term, experienced. 18 M
Setecific. 60 C double space. after 6 .
\(457-7846\) Mrs jomes. 457-7846. Mrs Jomes.
Experienced typist in term papers. theses, dissertations. Mave IBM iypewriter. Call Mrs. Emily Kesslay. 472.504 iw cost ravet to istael, Toll 1 ree 800-2.23-7676. 9 e.m. 6 p.m. N.Y. time.
FREEI Record and Tan Catalogue IMPORT and DOMESTIC aiLOW dis. count prices. MC and VISA homored YOU CANT BEAT THE EESTI Di's. PO Box 223. Toms River. NJ. O8753.
Troing done in my nome. Tyoing done in my nome Reasonable nates. Call \(492-2162\). SCUBA Syracuse YMCA is forminga diver's clyb. Certified insuruction offered. Call tom keach - 474.685

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Do unto otherst Applications available now through Feb. 16 for Boer counselirg positions for 1979 3: 1 A Archbok, 3-3150

Come on down and Party at The Mount Inrt this Weekend, fridayDevils Dream, Saturday - Airport.
Peer Cownselors - tomorraw is the deadtine for applications for 1979 30. Academic Counseling Service 311 A Archbold. 3-3150.

SkYTOPHALL 2 proudly amounces it's elevenith annual Spring Bash Sat. Feb t \(7.8: 00 \mathrm{~mm}\). South Campus unses to Slocum heights termina The Deadrian.

Givis: We can cut itl Orange Ton sorial & Supply. 727 S. Crouse Ave Next to \($ \mathbf{S}\). Post Office. \(475-9289\) No appoinment necessary
Devits Dream-Country/Biue Grass specialists perform tomorrow nigh at The Mount Inn 9 pm-1 am

HEY YOU. Have vou been through he mill al old 5.0 .7 Want 10 hel other students avoid your mistakes? Or benelit from what youve eafned? Apply now through \(2 / 16 / 79\) to be an Acadernic Peer Counsetor. 311 Architoid ( \(x-3450\) ) we need you.

Deadtime for Saint Msarten trip is Desdtine for Saint Masten trip is this Friday. Call Bruce or Jim 425. 7376 for details.

WE PRINT OR COPY RESUMES AND THESES

Coplet Whito You Wait' 131 So. Smbine St.
474-4222
across from Syr. Mall

CAN'T MAKE IT TO OUR REGULAR 5-7 p.m. HAPPY HOUR?

\section*{THE \\ JUICY SANDWICH}

GRAND OPENING
TODAY
EVERYTHING
HALF PRICE
11 AM - 11 PM
Try the unique hot toasted subs.
Middle Eastern - Armenian Cuisine
727 S. Crouse
(Next to Orange Tonsorial)

\section*{attention}

\section*{PERM SPECIAL \\ including: STYLE. CUT AND CONDITION \($ 40.00\) Value \\ Offer Excludes John and Tony Leave it to the protessionals at \\  \\ 446-4810
}

\section*{(1) 1 1 Customers \\ The temporary loss of our shop has not stopped business}

We are now operating at the Hair Scope
6835 E. Genesee St. (Next to Peter's IGA. DeWitt)
Phone 446-4810

\section*{Personality in a faceless decade}

By Kevin Haynes
Although it has already been labeled a "faceless" decade, the 19708 made it easy to distinguish the faces from the crowd and the pexmonalities from the faces.

People became obeessed with people and, turning inward, began to look at themselves and their individual problems rather than concentrate solely on society's ills. And in many casea, they didn't like what they saw. Their xinds were listless, their souls uhinspired, their enthusiasm low, and physical fitness was something the hids learned about in gym clasa. It was time for a change.

However, this selfexamination was as apparent as it was revealing. During the '70w, society's concerns shifted from an inegal war to an elaborate wardrobe. Women decided they sould stand alonside men, not behind them. Physical and mental recreation was revived as jogging, tennis, cocaine and pot became popular means of relieving the stress of everyday life.
But more important than the trends were the people who shaped them, believed in them and changed them.
Less than two years after being reelected by the most impressive, onesided presidential victory in our hissided presidential victory in our history, richard Nixon was a symbol of shame a Gerald Ford replaced him and became more famous for toasting English muffins and gtumbling on his shoelaces than for initiating any drastic legislation other than his unconditional pardon of Nixon. Yet Ford was a "people's president." His warmth, sincerity and compassion helped the nation's healing process as government, for the first time in the decade, was returned to the common man.
And through it all, we began turning to Garry Trudean's "Doonesbury" for a more comic, perhaps even more accurate, sense of political truth.
Henry Kisainger was the guave peacemaker who finally brought an end to the Vietnam war. Following this example, Anwar Sadat. Menachem Begin and Jimmy Carter-whose rise from peanut farmer to preaident indicated to some, that the American Dream had survived Nixon-made seemingly sincere efforts to eatablish peace in the Middle East.
Gloria Steinem was a consistent cornerstone in the women's liberation movement that swept the nation during the 70 O . Bella Abzug and Shirley Chisolm wereengaging and thoughtful political personalities who contributed more than a worman's viewpoint on the important isaues of the decade, while Conn. Gov. Ella Grasso became the firat woman to win a gubernatonal election without the political influence of her husband. Out of the House and back into the home, Helen Gurley Brown's "Cosmopolitan" magazine along with "Playgirl," were innuential in moving wornen toward a sexual liberation as well as a political and social one.

Sun Myung Moon and the Rev. Jim Jones led the sudden surge of popularity enjoyed by religious cults that didn't always practice what they preached. "Moonieg" congregated in intimate religious temples iike New York's Madison Square Garden to hear their leader speak, while Jones built his own town in Guyama and ordered more than 900 People s Temple cultista to dic there.

Body and soul were both atresaed as people in the "70a began looking in the mirror as much as they looked into themselves. The hippie of the ' 60 s faded like an old pair of Levi's and was replaced by "the beautiful people" with Vidal Sassoon hairstyles, Pierre Cardin clothes and the sophisticated facial squint that comes from wearing tight pants.

The extremes in our entertainment tanter ranged from glitter to granola. While Elton John was the glorified British flossy of '70s rock ' \(n\) ' roll, John Denver was the acoustic wheatheld who praised dope, love and dirt Somewhere along the curb of music's sidestreets, the Bee Gees reappeared all dressed up to pump life into an otherwise insipid diaco sound, and the Sex Pistols cooled off juat before punk rock burned out.

On television, Norman Lear reflected America's attitudes right back into its living rooms with aocial situation comedies that were ironically accurate. Carroll O'Connor starred as everyone' favorite bigot (Archie Bunker) and Bea Arthur. symbolized the supreme women's libber (Maude).

Regrie Jackson's World Series habit, Muhammed Ali's now-I-got-it, nowr-Idon't grip on the heavyweight boxing title, and Jimmy Connors' love match with Chris Evert, tennis supremacy and Bjorn Borg, were some of the and Bencming trends that played with the logic of sport.
The people who made us laugh ranged from George Carlin, the cerebral remake of Lenny Bruce, to the wid and whitesuited Steve Martin, whose absurdity became the most popular mental diaease. With her crystal charactarizations, Lily Tomlin established herself as the funniest female since Gracie Allen helped make George Burns look good. Even the comedy teams that thrived in the "70s sprouted stars, including Eric Idle from Monty Python's Flying Circus, and John Belushi from Exaturday Night Live's Not-Ready-For- Prime-TimePlayers.
Yet the emergence of eacapism and this projection of the pertonality seem to have masked the spirit of the individual't battle to control his own fate and still somehow survive in a retal world. Thus, the little guy who has been ighting back throughout the decade has worked for the corporation danins his home at night.
Society may have looked more intensely atits funhouse mirrors in the intense but all it zaw was a clean and com fusing reflection.
Our senses miny neyer be the same.

\section*{Time Capsule}

The following entries are the winners of the Daily Orange Time Capsule Contest. Readers were asked to submit a list of items that would best portray the Seventies to Americans 100 years from now. So just pretend its 2079 and enjoy.
- The Watergate Hote
- The Fonz's thumbe
- Every episode of \(\mathrm{M}^{} \mathrm{~A}^{} \mathrm{~S}^{*} \mathrm{H}\), to show our infrequent lapses into intelligent television programing - Elvis
- Farrah Fawcett-Majors, Cheryl Tiegn, John Travolta and Shaun Cagaidy. Not their posters, them. God forbid the ' 80 should start like the '70s ended (Give Elvin a separate time capsule. At leagt he had talent.)
- Our mont precious aubetance: one trop of gacoline
- A peanut and a can of Billy Beer. If We're lucky, we could get Billy to equeese himisolf into the can and be aquaced ofr forever the American genbed of forevory the
- One "Disco Suckn"T-ghint

Rundy Money

\section*{Money doesn't talk, it swears}

The Syracuse University administration celebrated St. Patrick'e Day a month early yesterday morning.

It counted the green all day - the green it received from Carrier Corp. for the construction of SU's new donned football stadium. \($ 2.75\) million worth of green.

And becanse Carrier was able to dipinto its very deep pockets, the corporation will have the privilege of putting its name on the stadium. The Carrier Dome.

And Syracuse's greatest football player will have to take a back geat to the green.

Thanks for the great performances, Ernie. You made us a winner on the field, you put us on the map with your 1961 Heisman Trophy, and you won many hearts over for us with your quiet personality and fierce courage. Thanks, but money talks, and well ... you understand Ernie, don't you?

\section*{Editorial}

If the university doesn't remember the man who taught us how to live with gracious dignity and how to die with quiet coarage, maybe the people in that huge skyscraper called Carrier will listen.
If it does, it will donate the money in the name of Ermie Davis.
Do the Carrier people remember the flashing brilliance of a truly great ranner? Do they remember the golden year of 1961 when he was named the best player in the entire nation?

Do they remember the pain of his death at age 24?

We weren't there. But we have read and heard about Exnie, and his outstanding qualities mean more to us than \($ 2.75\) million of green.

There are rumblings of naming the field after Davis and the stadium after Carrier. That mavisa: "W elcome to Ernie Davis Field under the Carrier Dome."
Ernie Davisnever finished under anyone in his life. He didn't have \($ 2.75\) million to give but has anybody ever put a price tag on what a Heisman Trophy means to a university? That's one department where Carrier finishes under Davis.
There is also talk of naming the stadium jointly. Did Ernie Davis ahare his Heisman Trophy? He was far and away the beat of his era. He doenn't have to share an honor he so richly deserves with a bunch of air conditioners. Just like in 1961 - he deservee the whole thing.

A student group, led by Jim Naughton and Kathy Courtney, planned to lead a chant of "Ernie, Ernie"' during the traditional standing before SU's first basket.

The plea was planned to be directed at the univeraity. But now, it is directed at Carier.

The New York Times, Sports Illustrated, Newsiay and The Hexald-Journal, among other publications, are interested in an Ernie Davis Stadium and may publicize the group's effiorts.

If you want to see the stadium named after Ernie Davis, join in the chant of "Ernie, Ernie" before SU's firat basket. Show Syracuse (and the East, binceitis the regional televised ECAC Game of The Week) that Syracuse cares about the memory of Davis.

The chant will not go unnoticed. Mary Albert, a fraternity brother of Davis and the play-by-play broadcaster of the Game of the Week, plans "to inform viewers what was going on in Manley Field House."

Try and convince Carrier that we want Ernie Davis Stadium because it is only right. Leukemia took Ernie Davis' life 15 years ago, but Carrier's check may have extinguished his spirit forever.
Serd a letter to Carrier's chairman of the board, Melvin C. Holm, at the Carrier Tower. or give him a call at 424-4711.

Geoff Hobson for The Daily Orange

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Carrier gets name on stadium}

By Annette Licitra Carrier Corp. has pledged \($ 2.75\) million for the construction of Syracuse University's Melvin A. Eggers announced yesterday.
The stadiam will be named the "Carrier Dome at Syracuse University.
Carrier is the largest manufacturer of air conditioning and heating equipment in the worlc, and is the largest employer in the Syracube area.

Eggers said Carrier's gift will be the "keystone of the university's portion in fund raising. Full funding of the stadiums is now assured."
The corporation's gift is roughiy equal to the amount SU has raised so farinitn campaign for the \($ 26\) million paign for the \($ 26\) million bring SU haifway toward raiabring SU haifway toward raiafoniversity needs to build the faniversity needs to build the Etadium. New York state has Cributed \($ 15\) million.

"Carrier han been good for "yracuse and Syracuse has lelvin C. Holm, chairman of he board of Cerrier and of the ne board of Cerrier and of the " "Weard of trustees.
for the think part of the country." for this part of the country." Holm added that the gift was approved by Carrier's entire board of directors early this week.
Eggers said SU's "goal is to get money during the construc tion period because you need money to pay for the construc tion." He speculated that all funds needed to build the stadium will be raised by 1980 . -That doemn't mean we won't accept money after that time," Eggers added.

The naming of the stadium after Carrier Corp, came as a disappointment to Student Asgociation President Jordan Dale and Comptroller Dale Cohen, who had been puahing to have the stadium named for SU Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis.
I think naming it the Ernie Davis Stadium would have been the most human, the most noble, the most honorable thing the university could have done," Dale said. "Money always aeems to talk the loudest here."

Eggers said he wants to talk with atudent leaders aboat naming some part of the stadium after Davis.

Ernie Davis has an honored name in Syracuse Egivers said. "Wports history," Eggers said. We Bhall find a Davis in the new etadium: Ernie The chancellor denied that the chancellor denied that the timing of the anmajor donor was an att as the major donor was an attempt to name the stadium after Davis, name the stadium after Davis, planned for Saturday.
SA officials said they were going to distribute fliers at Saturday's basketball game againat St, John's, describing Ernie Davis and asking fans to chant his name.

They added that television play-by-play announcer Mary Albert, a fraternity brother of Davis at SU, had agreed to explain the students' actions to the Northeast regional network audience.

Eggers said, however, Car. rier had "no iden" of the atudent movement to name the stadiun.
\({ }^{4}\) The announcement was Continued on pego thirievn

Chancollor Melvin A. Eggers announces the Carrier Corp.* decition to donate \($ 2.76\) million to \(\mathrm{SU}^{\prime} \mathrm{s}\) domed stadium.

\section*{Inside}

\section*{Affiliates?}

SU's secretaries look toward unionization. See p. 5 .

\section*{Artists}

SU's musical programs offer students a wide variety of activities. See "The Arta at SU," \({ }^{\text {P. }} 9\).

\section*{Actors}

Three musical connedies highlight this weekend's theater scene. See Kaleidoscope. pp. 10.11.

\section*{Adversaries}

Are sports referees doing the job right? See pp. 16.17.

\section*{Just jazz}

Worn-out workboots alternate back and forth pushing the pedals in time with the music. A high note, then a low riff, then a blending of several chords sound out from the keyboard. The sound out from the keyboard. The ts loudness, but with its control.
There is no stage separating the There is no stage separating the adience from the music. There has audience from the music. There has been no introanction, and here never need be. There are no bright lights or need be. There are no bright lights or fancy posters - only a faint red glow

\section*{Story by John Rizzo}

Photos by Mike McAlary
over a hand-made sign where his name is scribbled in magic marker. The music is the most fuid and far-reaching you will ever hear. His clothes are faded. The mood is informal and the music is jazz.
Improvisation is the word. Moments of sound, to be spit out like notes that scatter upon ears. It's on the lips of people talking.

Profiles of a relaxed crowd are silhouetted by a soft light above the piano. There are no wild cheers of applause. Soft clapping and nodding heads accompany the music.
Fequests are made and obliged. On that worn-down piano bench sits a heart and soul in disguige. He wears the mask of a man. The man is a master of communication; he totachea everyone, and no words are ever spoken. He is real.
The man is special. He belongs to a very apecial group. One not motivated by dollars and cents, but by feelings. He perceives the distorted goals of material pleasure. He ia an individual. Unfortunately, he has become rare.

Profit is a dirty word, for its pleagure brings blindnesa. Price tags make reality lose its substance. Mass production is the kid brother of profit and together they conquer the massea. Emotions are buried. Reality must struggle to surface under a heavier burden than before. In the dimly lit bar, the man with the big heart and soul plays onf.
Everyone dreams of making it big. The man behind the piano has dreamed of it-more than a few times, in fact. But it would threaten his values. The road is cold and amidet a million-6elling disco albuma, there breathes a submiasion. He can touch that euccess, but it would be a success that success, but it wonld be a success unworthy of him, uncomplimentary of his standarda. Success builtupon much his standarda. Success buil iesser values and sounds.

Bottles of rum and whiskey supporta large paper valentine. On it, signatures of the bar's patrons are haphazardly scrawled. A brown coaster that reads just jazz" is atuck on the wall behindit. A pencil caricature of a lavish woman rests in a sold frame close by. The Woman is the owner and her name is Lisa. She calls her club Casa Di Lisa. Five yeare ago it was a diner. People would get together to eat and ghare friendrhips. Now it is a bar with the same atmosphere. Only now, the food is jazz. It's an improvisation.
Her customers are her friends. Formality does not live here. For the price of a drink, you get a converstition She started the club because she loves jaze. It was a risk - Casa Di Lisa is theonly jaxz club in town.

Countless numbers of inpersonal bubinesees surround it on Erie Boulevard. They defy everything Lisa's house is about. It looks out of place. The hand-painted windows inside from fast-food monopolies and begg ing neon lights. It is a bright spot on a dark block.

To the left of the piano, a dusty tarp covers a set of diumas that has been pushed into a corner. A stand-up base towers over them. The force behind these instrimente is not here tonight, but their presence is felt. They do exist. Tonight the man with the bigheart and soul is in control. He is carrying on the legacy.
"As Time Goes By" escapes the ivory keys. Reminiscent amiles appear. With one nong, the many with the big hueart and soulis telling the whole atory. Soon the dawn will rise on a blind, busy city

\section*{Paying for promises}

To the Editor,
If I read another article in this paper about Eggers' new "plan" to nilk each senior of \($ 250\)-as if the \($ 25,000\) we've given already ien't enough-I'm going to be sick. As a senior, I resent this ploy of appeasement by the administration and I resent the fact that The Daily Orange has acted like a tool of the this school.
Great, Mel, that gives you a very comfortable margin, doesn't it? And after you've collected all this money and built a new chapel, a new management school, a new stadium what are you going to tell the otudent in 20 years? That you wanta student union building as much as they do, but there juat isn't enough money? And then in the next breath youll anounce the planned conversion of Thornden Park into a dorm complex.
Well I don't buy it
When I wes a aophomore and I worked with the SA campaign for the student union building, we were told that after WWII, 30 years ago, there was a list of top prionity pro jects that were to be built at SU. The atudent union building was at the top of the list. Now it's the only one that hasn't been built. But you can be aure the administration building was renovated.

No, Mel, it's a good try, but there is at least one senior who isn't going to be taken in by your appeasement plassmates but I've written my last check to this money-mongering inatitution.

Ruth Bernatein

\section*{A 20-year-old stereotype}

To the editor,
As I read the commentary on a statement by Joyce Carol Oates regarding the "heartbreak of sororities," I was curious as to why The Daily Orange was printing wuch outcated material. It seerns a shame that a publication supposedly so aware of casapus situations and issues would print the opinion of a person whose last experience with borority life was nearly 20 years ago.
No longer is a aorority a troup of catty, elitist, rich bitches. Today a aoronity is a feeling of living, working and aharing together under one ing and whacing together under one roor. Soronitien are an alternative lifestyle. A sorority is amall group living on a huge campua where one is more often than not a aorority in a true home. True, mororities have retained many of the traditional activities, from TGIFa to raide to formai dinner dances. Girls in sororities sing songs and call each other "sister," and mean it. Girls in sororities algo support national and local philanthropies as well as try ing to initiate and involve hemselves in campus activities However, sororities do not force people to remain obligated financially or legally should one decide to sever welations.

Sororities have a bad naune. Too many people are quick to criticize the lifestyle of a morority mister. Unfortunately the criticism is based on a 20 -year-old stereotype. It is very frustrating to wateh The Daily Orange perpetuate the negative image of the "Borcrity girl."

Sugan Feight
Suuan Feight is president of Delta Phi Epsilon

\title{
Knowing time
}
"Dean stands in the back, saying, 'Godl Yes'' - and clasping his hands in prayer and sweating, 'Sal, Slim knows time, he knows time's Slim sits down at the piano and hits two notes, two \(C\) 's, then two more, then one, then two and suddenly the big burly bass-player wakes up from a reverie and realizes Slim is playing "C-Jam Blues' and he stugs in his big forefinger on the string and the big booming beat begins . . .""
-On the Road; Jack Kerouac All the way across the country, out on the road, Kerouac had his characters asking: "Do you know time?" Or they are dancing with excitement - "He knows time, he kntement

To most people, that sounds like an ungrammatical sentence at first. "What time? - What time is it?", they may rephrase the question. But it is not aquestion of what the arbitarily assigned hour is. If theat were so, the physicists with that were so, the physicists wions of atoms, thousands of times a second, would have answered that question a long time ago.

To know time, to understand its passage, is to know the important from the trivial, the spiritual from the temporal, the eternal from the transient. It is to know those words from religion classes beyond their definitions. To understand that "time is but a stream (we) go-a fishing in," as Thoreau said, is to understand the difference between wisdom and knowledge; wisdom has perspective and depth that makes. knowledge more than a Iimited tool.

We, here at The Daily Orange, don't know time. But, we know our time is up. This is the last issure edited by the "old staff" our year as editors is over and Monday the DO gets new life from a new staff.

But for me, after four years working at the DO, with this my last editorial, it is one of those occasions to think about time. With our attention turned in that direction, time reveals just a little about itself and its passage. We catch just a glimpse to understand that we don't know time.

In the last year, we have spent much time thinking about our readers - and on some days our lack of them. People we've tried to reach: the student in Sadler, the administrator in the university's Development Office, the bartender at the Student Center and the cook at a nearby sorority. We have. always wanted the editoxial page to be like the university in conversation with itself. We sought to create some sense of community on campus.

Of all the people who may read us, there is one we particularly remember. Last summer we met another SU student who told us

"The paper lacks punch." But he was wrong. We can't make a fist for you. We can't be angry for you. Flex your own muscles.

There are times we tried to make a fist for the campus. The closing of Ostrom Co-op, apartheid in South Africa, tenure, food service. . . and the less issue-oriented questions of \section*{'...time reveals just a little about itself and its passage. We catch just a glimpse to}

\section*{understand that we don't know time.'}
"What Can One Person Do?", "Does God Still Touch Our Lives?" and the growing interdependence of our country. The times we heard from other students it was more than just a punching bag exercise.
We are not nearly as impatient as we should be. We do not cry out "Enough rules - enough, let me being malcontents. In a recent interview with the DO, Chancellor Eggers said; ". .. I feel some students have an internal conflict between being cooperative va, feeling their role to be against something." The chancellor is painting himself as the misunderstood parent in the breath for myself." We do not question the logic of the plan of nuclear war whose ancroynm is MAD: Mutually Assured Deatruction. We are too eager to hear our footfalls on the beaten path.
Many are pleased by our acquiesence, and they single out those who raise a question or two as

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Thomas Cotfoy Chomes Gradio Chuck Beslato Patti Schuildartion Hown Schaldanfroi Sy Montgomary Jacqui Sminon Marahe Eppolito Kavin Hzymeas Scott Rohur Erant Mavehant
editor in chiap production minnager production manager layout director copy editor editorial aditor meves aditor atet. nowne editor nast new edititor Best naw editor

Rachel Finkel Maria Ricciardi Jool Stastrenko Make Stento
Irwin Fisch Irwin Fisch Magaly Oilvero Richard Folke Josh Sheldon Gesorge Musul Lerry Petry Molises Kat
alet. Focus editor atst. Focus editor sports editor asst. sports editor upplament edlitor supplement ectitor Art director phote editor business minneger advertising director

The Daity Orange Corp. 1101 E. Adarns St., Syracuac, N.Y. 13210 , publishes The Daily Orange wookdays of the acadernic yoar. Editorial (315) 423-2127. busine 18 (315) 423-2314.
reference for jobso whatever - I'd be more

\section*{Dept. of Strange Phenomena}

\section*{Found on \(a\) dorm wall:}
Residents
If anyone houlo like a character than willing to write
ONE-JUST INTRODUCE yoursElf tome soI
have sorme idea who
YOU QRE.
university family - "Why do they, protest when they have \(s 0\) much? But, he forgets-or ignores-that all the time we are not speaking just against something-but for a bigger student voice in the university. For a aly in tenure process (where we won), for voice in the decisions of food service, the bookstore, the athletic activity card, the design of the campus. An involvement in many of the decisions that affect us, an involvement that would bolster the sense of community lacking at SU. Because as we have said again and again the campus belongs to us all, not just those with the most money.

Worse than the administration's colonial-government attitude is that the chancellor and the DO editor-or any other student-will never really sit down and try to understand each other. The chancellor may make a few ceremonial visits here and there, but he travels in his own self-insulated sphere, that reflects his ideas, and we do the same, and we'll never meet. We are just part of many isolated groups on this segregated campus, but the advantage the administration has is that in four years we are gone, and the student memory is quicicly extinguished. Promise us anything, but stall, stall, stall and the record is clean.
So in May, we will load up some car with all that we own, a few boxes of books, some boxes of old class notes, a stereo and a few suitcases. And too soon that car will be out on Route 81 or 690 . We'll see the city go by as a glimpse and then we'll come to a bend in the road as familiar as the street we grew up on. The road will turn and the city will tuck itself away behind the mountains. Ahead of us will be the road, that most American symbol; and as Kerouac wrote, "The road is life. . . and nobody but nobody knows what is going to happen to anybody besides the forlorn rags of growing old . . ."

But in our time here, in our creations and with the people we love, we can only hope to know time as more than just a rush of current events teste.

We are all like the musician in Robert Browning's poem "Abt Vogler"; he offered his song up to the heavens only to be distressed at how short it was. Each generation plays its own song and is soon gone - all of us. Kerouac's pianist Slim, the jazz player at Casa Di Lisa, those of us at the DO or Campus Conveniences or even the administration. We wigh we could hold the note longer, but we know that its transitory nature is its beauty.

It is for those short notes, that we managed to sound, that we say thank you.

Howard Mansfield
for The Daily Orange

Sounds like the start of a great mailorder businces.

\section*{On the outside}

\section*{In Iran}

The provisional government established by Iranian Moslem leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini took control of Iran Sunday. Prime Minister resigned when the military declared its resigned when her momeini regime.
President Carter baid Monday he hoped to cooperate with the new government, but on Wednesday the American embassy urged the 8,000 Americans still in Iran to leave tomorrow in a military evacuation. This decision came after leftist guerillas attacked the U.S. embassy Tuesday, traptacked Ambassador William H. Sullivan and 100 staffers inside for two hours and 100 staffers ingide for two hours the seige. The Soviet Union and Pakisthe seige. The Soviet ficially recognize thenew government.

\section*{Carter visits}

Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo publically criticized U.S. President Carter on Wednesday for his veto two years ago of a natural gas sale to the U.S. Lopez Portillo made his remarks at a luncheon marking the opening of Carter's threeday trip to Mexico. Illegal immigration and purchases of Mexican oil and natural gas are expected to dominate the discuasions.

\section*{Oil shortage}

Secretary of Energy James \(R\). Schlesinger baid Tuesday there is no assurance Iranian oil production will be resumed and warned that this loss could load the 197374 Argb oil beveas those of the 1973-74 Arab oil boycott. Preaident Carter at a press conference Monday urged voluntary conservation measures be used to cope with the ghortage. In a related development, the Middie Eastern countries of Abu Dhabi and dle Eastern countries of Abu Dhabi and Qatar raised oil prices by 7 percent, forcing pricea above \($ 20\) a barrel in the open market.

\section*{Author testifies}

Rudolph Fleach, author of the 1955 best seller "Why Johnny Can't Read," testified Tuesday before a Senate education subcommittee that the United States is "lapring back into illiteracy" so quicidy that it may have to import doctors and scientista by the 1990 s . Flesch said up to half the U.S. population is functionally illiterate pecause of inefficient techniques for teaching reading.

\section*{Cold wave}

A record cold wave hit Syracuse, the rest of New York and parta of New England this week. Syracuse record lows for those dates were set Sunday with -15 degrees Fahrenheit at 1 a.m. and Monday with -22 degrees Fahrenheit at 6 a.m.

\section*{Also...}

A Rhodesian airliner crashed on take-off Monday, killing all 59 persons aboard. Officials aaid it was probably shot down by black nationalist ghot down by black nationalist guerilias … The Carter peanut warenouse operation in Plains, Cha.is up for sale, according to trustee Charles Kirbo... The Soviet National Team Seat the National Hockey League Ail Star team weekend.

Oklahoma City writer Woodrow W Bussey has filed a lawsuit against Bussey has filed a lawsuit against ing the beer ha pickled bie brain Th ing the beer has pickled his brain. The suit seeh brain dam damages for irreparable brain damage, damage to his reputation, damage to his sexual prowess and damage to his literary career.

Compiled by John Rosenberry

Because of a production error, the chart of check-cashing places and times in Wednesday's DO was incorrect. The correct hours follow.
Monday 45 p.m.

Holden Observatory Information Center -11 p.m. Wtudent Center Tuesday, Wednesday 4-5 p.m.

Information Center, Good Food Store Thursday
\(4-5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).
4 p.m. 1 a.m.
Friday
6 p.m. -1 a.m.
10:30 anm
10:30 a.m. 5 p.m.
Information Center, Good Food Store Student Center
Student Center
Good Food Store Student Center

\section*{Beer stolen from Mount}

Thirty-five cases of beer were tolen from The Junction, located on Mount Olympus, according to Sgt. Mike Wren of Syracuse University Safety and Security.
"ORL's going to handle it.

\section*{Threat closes building}

By Rick Bonnell
Two Syracuse University buildings were temporarily closed Wednesday due to apparently related bomb threats. parenty related Hamb threats. evacuated shortly after 9 am when SU Safety and Security wherived a telephone call oay received a telephone call saying five bombs were planted vere. The caller had a male security officers said. accent securty bilding reope

The building reopened at 10 a.m.

About 200 atudents waited

There's going to be no police action as far as I know," Wren said.

Day Hall dorm director Richard Theirault said he had no comment at this time. outside the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs for their 10:40 class after security received a bomb threat at 10 a.m. A male caller asid, Maxwell will go up next." according to Security.

Security offícers cleared and locked the building until close to 11 a.m. Most 10:40 classes in the building were canceled.

Fire safety inspectors, security officers and Syracuse police searched the buildings.

\section*{getthe \\ Big Fix}

\section*{Join the gang at University Union Now!}

Cinemas- Cinema Board operates one of the largest l6mm film series on any college campus in the U.S. and Canada. The board presents programs in film entertainment on a regular basis that are both inexpensive and of professional quality. Two major series are Cinema One, featuring classic films from the ' 30 's. ' 40 's and ' 50 's; and Cinema Two, premiering contemporary films on campus. Cinema Board also operates several other film series and programs.
Performing Arts- Performing Arts Board offers original theatrical productions for theater enthusiasts. Past events coordinated by the board include the touring company of the musical "Grease"; a performance by the Syracuse Ballet Company; and "Bogey's Back", a monologue about Bogart.
Speakers- Speakers Board brings a wide variety of speakers to campus who lecture on a long range of topics. Among those speakers brought to Syracuse University Among those speakers brought to Syracuse university Plimpton, Prime Minister of England; and Charles Pimpton, Prime Minister of Fingla UUTV-University Union Television operates and programs the UUTV cable network. Shows are both original student productions and video network programs. Students receive training and experience in equipment operation, television writing and production as well as on the air performance.
Special Events. The Special Events Programming Board schedules unique events for \(S\). U. that arenot handled by the other boards. Often coordinating a show with another group, the board has brought to campus hypnotist John Kolish; discos; comedian Henny Youngman for Parent's Weekend; block parties; and winter weekend festivities.

Letters of intent to join any programming board should be addressed to: Steven Fuchs University Union 316 Waverly Ave.

(Watson-Theater-U.U. Offices)
Letters are due by Feb. 26 at 5 pm.
For additional information call 423-2503

\section*{SU support staff may unionize}

By Larry Jalowiec Syracmse Univerxity mupport staff employeen may toon become the firat private univeraity employeot unionized by United Auto Workers.
"Weare much closer to a vote than lagt December when anionization meetingt were held," said Nancy Kloin, a secretary in the sociology department organizing the union effort Support staff members are ecretarial. clerical and technical workers. There are about 900 aupport staff employees at SU, according to William Eechanifelder, director of labor relations.
Klein refused to guess when the union vote will be, but said a mase-meeting of oupport mear future. pokesperson, said a member of the international office is in Of the internamonal onmce is. Syracuse handing ene case.
Klein said the UAW is helping support staff workers to ing support stain workers therorganize bat the spokesper son's presence coes not aeceb sarily mean a union vote is im
Klein
Klein said a steering committee of about 40 people have been digtributing intereat cards and "are doing very well." More than 300 people have attended unionization meetings and more have expressed interest, ahe said.
UAW policy requires 50 percent of the support staff to express an interest in the anion before collective baygaining cards are distributed.
If 30 percent of the staff aigna the cards, the National Labor Relations Board may set up electione, Spoto said.
The group has yet to encounter the administration, Kein said. However, a memo was aent from the peraonnel office telling employees that unionization activities must be conducted on their own time. Eschenfelder said he raet unionization effort.

with the group lagt spring and was presented with a list of demands. A meeting was planned for July. but it was canceled.
"Since then Litile correspondence has taken place," Eschenfelder asid.

Klein said aupport etaff employees started organizing because the univeraty has taken away many benefits the support staff had shared with the faculty.

To qualify for remitted tuition benefita a etaffer must be employed for three years, instead of the three monthe previously required, Klein said.
In addition, paid sick days have been reduced from 16 to three, Klein onid.

We consider our gick leave plan to be far auperior to the one that was inoperation," Dachenfelder replied.
The current rick leave plan better provides for employeen who have extended illmesses, Exchenfelder axid.

\section*{CARIBBEAN ISLAND}

ON BEAUTIFUL HALF DUTCH HALF FRENCH
ST. MAARTEN N.A.
Packege Inclundes:
4344 INCLUDED
- Found trip airfare from N,Y.

Travs, 7 mighes ar the Simmit Hotel
- Transportation between airport and hotel
- All taxes and tips

Call Bruce of Jim 425-7376
DEADLINE IS TODAY AT 4 P.M.

\section*{Z®Yロハ่S PIZZA}
-The Best in Townand Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { WE DELIVER } \quad 7 \text { days a week } \\ 472-5075 & 5 \text { p.m.-2 a.m. }\end{array}\)

,monetromupy

\section*{HAVE YOU BEEN USING IT?}

-I NEED
A FRIEND"
The second in a series

Speaker: Pastor Bill DeVries
7:00 Tonight in the Noble Room Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship
"Now this is eternal life, that they may know . . . God.

\section*{Cla mode}

\section*{BUY ONE SUNDAE}

GFT ESCOND
SUNDAD FRES
WITH THIS AD

\section*{Nottingham Plaza 446-9746}

\title{
ART MAJOR FOR THE ONONDAGAN
}

UNDERCLASSMEN PORTRAITS ARE BEING TAKEN AT JABBERWOCKY, UNDER KIMMEL DINING HALL, FROM FEBRUARY 19-23, AND FEBRUARY 26-MARCH 2; DAILY 10 A.M. - 3 P.M. NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY. SITTING FEE OF $1.O7 DUE AT TIME OF PORTRAIT SITTING. ONONDAGAN WILL BE ON SALE AT THAT TIME.

THE ONONDAGAN IS ON SALE AT HOLDEN OBSERVATORY FOR \($ 15.00\) OR AN $8.OO DEPOSIT WITH THE BALANCE DUE MAY \(1,1979\).

\section*{Phone-a-thon raises SU cash}

By Paula J. Harvan
More than \($ 35,000\) has been raised by the \(S U\) faculty, staff and student body during the 14th faculty, thane-a-thon fund-raising campaign.
During the last two weeks, about 20 members of the faculty and staff and about 150 atudents of the faculty and staf and about organizations representing various teamphoning alumi requesting have been donations.
donations.
The campaign, which started Feb. 6 and
The campaign, which started Feb, 6 and ended last nights reachec dinestay. Wilism Hider, director of annual giving, said he hoped to raise an additional \($ 10,000\) by the end fo the drive.
The final amount of campaign donations and pledges will be calculated next week by the Office of Annual Giving, Hider baid.
Hider said all donations and pledges will go to "the unrestricted annual funds." This is a general university fund used for faculty salaries, maintenance, utilities, financial aid and other expenses.

Volunteers called alumni throughout the country. Jonathan Rubins, student chairman, said, People are intereated in talking to students and finding out what'a new at Syracuse. Many people interented wanted to know if Marshall Street was atill here.' Faculty and staff workers raised about \($ 10,000\), and studenta raised the rest. An average of \($ 6,000\) was raised each day.

Hider is pleased with the students' work and enthusiasm. "If I had to do anything, I would have all student volunteera," he said.
Several students said they enjoyed working. SA representative Liz Rathbun said, "Tt's one way to get together to show we want to get involved."
To reward the campus group that raises the most money, Hider established "the Coveted but Tacky Golden Phone Award."
This is the first year the gold-painted telephone will be awarded. The winner's name will be engraved on the phone stand. The winnex will be announced next week.
Bexides asking for money, volunteers answered alumni questions.
"By trying to be informative, we hope people will have a better attitude toward the university and our cause," said Steven Miller, assistant student chairperson.

\section*{JAB to get funds to fix drain}

\section*{By Betsy Nieayn}

The Office of Student Ac tivities will pay most of the bill to repair a broken sewage to repair a broken sewage drain which caused flood Ulysses J. Connor, director of otudent sctivities, said he anticipated a large bill, but couldn't estimate the cost. The flood caused a two-hour delay in Saturdsy night's show.

Connor said it wasn't the first time Jab has been flooded.
"Last summer the Jab flooded twice and we paid the bill both times," Connor said.

Dining Services, Jab and Student Activities will meet Student Activisies will meet boon to discuss Dexiree Day, Jab manager, said even if the drain had been working properly, the flood still might have occurred.

Both times the Jab flooded last summer the drain wasn't blocked. "We weren't open in the summer, so it must have been Kimmel and Marion's improper draingge system," said Dan Block, Jab's assistant manager.
Day said the Jabwould have trouble absorbing repair costs. She said the administration is aware of this asd will most likely help pay the bill. close, although it would hurt our budget," Day said.
Much of the repair cost will go to overtime paid to Physical Plant employees.

Day added that Jab is having a very productive semester so far finameially. A decision on whether Jab will remain open will be made after spring break, Day said.

Look for the continuing series on

in Monday's Daily Orange.

\section*{ \\  FIRE RIDGE}

\section*{Want to be a CAMP COUNSELOR?}

\section*{Spend your summer in Camp Equinunk or Blue} Ridge, a brother-sister camp in the Pocono's.
Openings in field sports, waterfront (with WSI). water-ski, tennis, gymnastics, pioneering. nature, science, radio broadcasting. music, archery, art & crafts, dramatics and general.

Stop in or call THE PLACEMENT SERVICE, ask for Joan Snyder, and signup for an ON CAMPUS INTERVIEW ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, from 8:45 until 4:45.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Open 7 Days & \begin{tabular}{l}
Sun.-Thurs. 'til 10 \\
Fri. & Sat. 'til 11
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  & SCHWEPPES \\ \hline 2 liter bottle & \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Ginger } \\
& \text { AB oz. } \\
& \text { A8 }
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline MILLER full cose & \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { TUBORG } \\
& \text { GOLD }
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline \({ }_{\text {cans }}^{2412 \mathrm{oz} .9659}\) & \[
\begin{aligned}
& 6 / 1202 . \\
& \text { NRS }
\end{aligned} $ 1^{49}
\] \\
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
Mr. Salty \\
PRETZELS from Nabisco \(59^{4}\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline COKE or TAB & SPRITE \\
\hline \(\underset{\text { NRS }}{\text { 6/16 oz. }} $ \mathbf{$ 1 5 9}\) & \begin{tabular}{l} New \\
2 liter plastic bottle
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Kegs - Ice a Taps - Cups Bulk Chips, Pretzels & Popcorn}

Place: \(9 \mathbb{A M B A N N} \begin{aligned} & \text { South Campus } \\ & \text { Farm Acre Rood }\end{aligned}\)
7:30 pen - Social Hour with Ethnic Hors d' Deuvres
8:30 pm - International Talent Presentations
10:00 pm-1:00 cm - DISCO
Tickets:
\($ 100\) in advance ( 0 mailable of ISQ-230 Euclid Ave) -5 ubsidized by the student face \($ 1.50\) ot door

\section*{UNIVERSITY UNION events calendar}

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents}

\title{
ANDY KAUFMAN \\ March 6 at Hendricks Chapel 8 p.m. \\ America's next comedy superstar frequent guest on "Saturday Nite Live," and stars in ABC's comedy hit "Taxi."
}
S.A.S. in conjuction with Black Expression Week, U.U. Speakers Board Presents

SHIRLEY CHISOLM
BLACKS IN POLITICS
TONIGHT, 8 p.m. Grant Aud. (Law School) \(50 c \mathrm{w} / \mathrm{s} . \mathrm{U}\). ID. \($ 1.00\) others

DR. JAMES TURNER
DIRECTOR OF AFRICAN STUDIES AT CORNELL U.
Feb. 22, 8 p.m. Kittredge Aud. - FREE

\section*{U.U. Concert Board Presents}

WMT Tuesday - February 27

\section*{U.U. Concert Board Presents}

\section*{an evening with}

TOMORROW NIGHT, Feb. 17, 8 & 11 p.m. at Jab
Tickets: \($ 4 \mathrm{w} / \mathrm{S} . \mathrm{U} .1 \mathrm{D} . $ 5\) others and at the door
Available at: Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records, Jabberwocky

Special Events Board Presents
CHRIS RUSH
Top National Lampoon Comedian - Ho's Hot
Thuruday, Fob. 22. 9 p.m., Grant Auditorizm
Tickats: \($ 1.50\) in advance, \($ 2.00\) at the door

\section*{SU School of Music offers varied melodies \\ Editors Note: This is the sixth \\ more college people into these \\ sible," than mausic, he asid. "It} part in an eight-part aeries on part in an eight
For the connoisseur of fine music, Syracuase Univeraity offers almost unlimited opportunities for indulgence.
The School of Music offers 22 varied ensembles, open to all SU studenta. The groups include everything from the University Orchestra and the SU Percuesion Ensemble to the Symphony Band, the Jazz Ensemble, and the SU Oratorio Society.
While most of these organizations require for a non-music student to sit in a higher chair then a music student," said Douglas Soyars, dean of the School of Müsic

For the instrumentalist there are a variety of groups. SU Orchestra performa major works of the concert repertoire. Two concert bands, the Symphony Band and the Wind Ensernble, perform works from the standard band repertoire, including marches and transcriptions of orchestral works.

Besides such major organizations, several smaller, more specialized groupa are also available at SU. The Percusion Ensemble performs contemporary works written solely for percussion instruments, while the Early Music Enaemble performs music from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance on reproductions of original nstruments.

Three choral ensembles provided by the School of music are The SU Oratorio Society, the Choral Union and University Choral. The SU Oratorio Society is the largest and perhapannost visible of the choral groups, containing more than 140 members. The group also performs frequently with the Syracuse Symphony.

The second largest group is the Choral Union, consiating of 80 members. There is no audition needed for thia group: anyone'may aing. Two-thirds of the group's membership comes from outside VPA.

The third group is the elite 32 -member University Choral. About one-half of its members come from outside VPA. This epring the group will tour. Maryland Pennaylvania mad New Jersey Burton Harbison, assistant professor of voice and director professor of voice and director of choral activities at SU, said, groups. Singing is something one can do without prior training. There is no entrance exam."

In madition to the aingring groups of the Music School, groups of the Music Senool, there are other vocal groups on campus. The Hendricks Chapel Choir has the longest history of any carnpus organization. Besides its regular duties singing at the Sunday moming Protestant aervice, the choir performa at local churches and tours once a year.
This year's tour takes the groap to the far wert with concerta scheduled at the Air Force Acedemy in Colorado and at Disneyland, among others.

Harbison also noted some difficultien with the repertoire. He gtrives for a mixed program of a serious nature. This, he of a seris, is for "educational rays, is for But the entire choral reasoma" But the entire choral reportoire is covered from madrigals to spirituals.'
The difficulty cornes with the modern repertoire. Harthe modern repertoire. Nar bison deals witin aingers often not trained. "We look for other things than en opera voice," he said. He noted that the singer has "no outside aid to find pitches - they don't. push down a button or pregs a sey - it must come out of the brain."

For those whose intereat in music is more technical and scholaxly, SU offers opportunities through its curFiculum.

Many peoplefirst become exposed to classical music in the introductory courses offered by the Department of Fine Arts.

According to Dr. George Nugent, chairman of the department, the courges are designed to "open the doors to the untrained." They are designed to show that music is "not a tonal bubble bath. It is rational. It has order."
Nugent noted there were apecial problems connected with contermporary music. "Visual art is more acces. is all there mand you can aee it is all there and you can aee it other hand, "exists in time so you have to relate back in you h
He added, "Nobody can appreciate contemporary mubic without a grasp of the development of the hiatory of muanic.

Because of this need, the department offers a series of courses which cover the entire history of masic from the medieval to the contemporary period.
Courses are also in music theory and in composition.

Ore of the most popular courbes is in electronic music. According to Franklin Morris. chairman of the department of theory and compoaition, and director of the electronic music atudio, about 60 students take the course each semester.

Moris finds his work with givdents in this grea "ultimately frastrating."The students in electronic music by students in electronic music by riding intellectual interest in riding intellectu

Mathew Knight, a senior in the achool of engineering, who took the courae two years ago, added that he "found the course fascinating from an engineer's standpoint, but I could see where the frustration would result. A beginning student in this course encounters frustration in grappling with the medium, whetner or not he has previous musical experience."

A particularly significant event this year for the composers at the School of Music was the world premiere of the Symphony of Howard Boatwright, sponsored by the Boatwright, sponsored by the Syracus Boatwright, in his program notes, deacribed the symphony as being in "the classical line; it has no text or program, and its only subject is concise develapment of musical ideas." The work uees* "a tonal vocabulary which could only have occurred in the twentieth

\section*{We Bury, Sell 8 Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magarines}

Bring your records to us for cash
Collections bought House calls by appointment
1,000's of records in stock © Most LP's orfy \($ 2\) - 53 - A/I records guaranteed We specialize in out-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
S. Campue Mall. 730 S. Crou

Complete assortment formen, women & children

\section*{At All Locations:}

DEWITT 6820 E. Genesee St. \(445-0880\) FAIRMOUNT 3552 w. Genemes St. 488-3208 LiVERPOOL 107 first 3552 W. Gen

Crouse College offera a diverme collection of musical programs tor SU students.
century," he noted
Finally SU provides concerts for those who simply nioy listening to music
The most famous of these are the weekly Crouge Concerts. These consist of faculty recitals, appearances by gueat artista and performances by onsembles.
In addition to these concertis, students may attend recitals provided by juniors and seniors in the music achool.

Here if also a Concovation held each Thurbday morning which is a weekly student recital. The prosram usualiy offers about aix different compositions. All of these compoaitions. All of these puents
Besides the music school groups, Crouse auditorium is also uaed by geveral other musical organizationa, including the Syracuse Friends Society for New Music More than 160 events were held in Crouse last year.

The endless alew of activities seem to be more than enough to keep any musical epicure satisfied.

\section*{OPENING TONITE!}

Charlie Daniels and him band have been playing music in the hills of Tennessee for 20 years. Sunday night the band

\section*{Folk and rock bands appear at Syracuse}

\section*{Charlie Daniels Band}

The south will rise again Sunday night when the Charlie Daniels Band night when the Charike Daniels Band brings rebel rock'n'roll to the Syracuse Area Landmark Theatre, 362 S. Salina st

Daniels, who has been playing music in the hills of Tennessee for almost 20 make, keeps his band on the road Daniels' albums, with the excepti Fire On The Mountain, have stumof Fire On The Mountain, have stim-bled commercially because of inconaistent songwriting. Most of the conaistent Bongwriting- Most of the groups songs are meant to be light and and repetitious treatment of bar-room

\section*{Happenings}
brawls, rednecks and lonely cowboys wears thin.
But a bmall concert hall is a second home for the CDB. The band's strength is musicianship, and a live netting allows the music to dominate the uninspiring lyrics. One critic said of Daniels" instrumental sound, "When theymegn to, the Charlie Daniels Band can sound like one musician with 12 hands.
Daniels is an adequate guitarist and an entertaining fiddler. The interplay between his fiddling, the keyboard work of Taz DiGregorio and the guitar playing of Tom Crain highlights its and drummers Fred Edwardsand Don Murray form a competent rhythm sec tion. The three vocalists-Daniels, Digregorio and Crain-try to make up for their lack of range with intensity. for their lack of range with intensity-Although it geems as if he has been Around forever, Daniels frat began around forever, Daniels frrat began recording in the early 70 s . He has recording in the eased solo albums and geven group efforts with the CDB. His first national recognition came with the release of comic tale about a hippie getsong, a comic tale about a hippie getredneck country, received nome FM airplay.
His successful and most commercially It contains Pis Fire On The Mountain. haired Country Boy" and "Trudy, "and his in-concert boy and hers. "The his intconcert Bhow-stoppers, "One Blossom Special."
The CDB'a most recent album, Midnight Wind, was relensed in late 1977; One song, "Redneck Fiddlin" Man." received considerable exposure on FM stations. It has been a long time between albums for Daniels and Co. A new LP may be released aoon.
The Henry Paul Band will open the 8 p.m. show. Paul, former guitarist/ p.m. show. Paul. former guitarist/ songwxiter for the Outlaws, split from that band because of "musical differences." If the Outlaws' new album is any indication, Paul must be headed in the right direction.

Tickets for the concert are still available at the Landmaric Theater, 362 S. Salina St., or by calling 475-7979.

Norm Meyer

\section*{Aztec-Two-Step}

Wetl. it's going on Saturday; why dont we get away darling?

This will problably be the suggestion Fowler and Neil Shulman known Rex Fowlex and Neil Shuman, known as melodic journey, hoping to transcend Syracuse's snow squalls to trand sub-zend temperatures.

The music of Aztec Two-Step is a rich blend of folk and contemporary pop. The duo, who take their name from a Lawrence Ferlinghetti poem, sing and play acoustic guitars.

Fowler and Shulman have been together for about eight years. They met in Boston, where both were pur. suing solo careers in Iocal clubs. Once they had established themselves as a team, they moved to Greenwich team, they moved to Greemwich Village, as did many aspiring folk Village, as musicians.

Their Second Step IP contained everal keen observations about New Yoric life. "Humpty Dumpty" and Yoric life. "Iumpty Dumpty" and "Lallabye on New York" are typical of the witty, eaty-going

Performing with them tomorrow night will be David Groes on hasas Mike Finkelntaik on druwns, Gordon Cohen on keyboarda and David Sleight on guitar
This band made its recording debut on the latest wo-Step album. Adjoiniriz Suites, released ayear ago. The blectric guitar and keyboards add backbone to the group's typically The extra
The extra punch is especially nocent LP, like "UpinLily's Room" most "Born Again" ortive renditionsof and Step standards like "Dance" and "I'm in Love Again."
Those who prefer the "old" Aztec Two-Step atyle need not feel left out tomorrow, however. Shuiman and Fowler alrmost always play an acoustic set in concert, wherein favorites like "Baking" and "Highway Song" receive sensitive treatments. Shulman's brilliant gaitar playing and Fowler's delicate vocal phrasinga are showcased during these sets.
Aztec Two-Step will be performing two ahows at the Jab tomoriow at 8 and 11 p.m. Tickets are \($ 4\) with an \(S U\) ID, \($ 5\) Without, and may be obtained at Jab-berwocky, Spectrum Sundiea and Dis berwocky, Spectrum Sundries and Discount Records. 55 tickets will be count Records. \($ 5\) ticketa will be

Chuck Obeschowelet

\title{
Have yourself a
}

By Patti Schuldenfrei
A barrage of musical theater will descend on Syracues this weekend, as three Broadway offaprings open in the area. Bringing song, danceand comedy to he city will be representatives of varying evels of theater background: from the intereated amateurs of Syracuse University Musical Stage and the hopeful prepDepartrpent, to the pros of the Salt City Center for the Performing Arts.
THEATER ON CAMPUS: "Promises Promises," Feb. 17 and 23, 8 p.m., and Feb. 18 Musical Stage. 1.50. For information, call 423 , 1804.

Based on the 1960 movie "The Apartment," and boasting music and Yrics by Burt Bacharach and fai Savid "most Iavish and comid be SUMS date," according to SUMS president Phil Gurín.
Gurin, who directed the show, makes his own "promise" based on the work of about

\section*{Stage}

100 people - none of them drama majors - Who have been preparing for opening SUMS production that was able to have dress reheargals for several days before opening," Gurin said.
Featuring 14 musical numbers, including the well-known title song and the show is a romantic comedy about the low man in a businesa firm trying to scheme his way to the top. Lending his apartment to philandering middle-aged executives in exchange for promotions, young Chuck Baxter (senior Chris Negus) seems to have it made. The problem arises when Baxter and his boss (senior Andy Field) both fall for the same girl, a cafeteria waitress played by freshman Tamara Kubelik.
"Promises, Promises," which Gurin says is the "16th longest-running show on Broadway," opened in 1968 and ran for Over 1.200 Derformances. It ptarred Jack and Fred MacMurray filling in the rest of the love triangle.

The SUMS ahow will incorporate and musical technique: four feraale singen; the orchestra will provide backgren vocals and harmonies to create a fulf Ticket Thekets are available at Wat Theater, and may be purchased the nipi of the show.

d. Bowden Hapgood (Mimek S. Cy disguived Nurse Fay Apple (Nancys in a seene from "Amyone Can Win in a scene from "a drama department.

\section*{KALEII}

\section*{'Dark Star' entertain}

FILMONCAMPUS:"DarkStar," Sunday, p.m., $1.50, Univeraity Union Cinema Infinity.

\section*{By Steven Titch}

For the four-man crew of the bcout ship Dark Star, life is getting boring. They've been in space 20 years (although they've aged only three), and are getting on each other's nerves. In adaition, a malunction in the storage section has destroyed their entire supply of toilet paper.
Such is the scene in "Dark Star," an excellent and unusual science fiction film made by John Carpenter and Dan O'Ban non along with a handful of other young people from USC. Highly imaginative, the movie follows the adventures-and misadventures-of these tired astronauta whose mission is to blow up unstable planets, thus rendering va systems safe for colonization.

\section*{Film}
By and large, it is funny and entertaining, although the theme of lonelinesa and removal from civilization is implicit in the film. The acting is fairly good but it is not the film's finest aspect.
Ench character has developed him own neurosis daring the journey- One crew interior of the ship "too conf spends his time in a glass dome: spacecraft staring at the stars. crewman. Pinback, (Dan \(O\) believes he was mistareniy as the mission and that no one 1 None of the crew members can his first name.
The movie, however, is essentin beat, and off-beat. Onboard is a with a sensuous fermale voice, an: which, for one's listening pleasur hold Barber of Seville, and a holds philosophical conversation Daris Star's acting commander. "I think, therefore I am," bomb.
The funniest acene is Pinback' to feed the ship's alien "mascot" chievious creature reaembling a with webbed feet.
The special effects are beautife the more amazing considering t budget on which the movie of "Dark Star" proves you dor" milion to make a good of tick Witty. intelligent, and inventif Star" it more typical of scienic found in books and atories ths acreen. It is unfortunate that in havenince alipped into obscurity, viewing their film, one wants

\section*{nusical weekend}

THEATER ON CAMPUS: "Anyone Can Whistle," Feb. 16.18 and Feb. 22-25, 8 p.m department. For information, call 423-3290.
Before the Regent Theatre closes it Before the Regent Theatre closes its Hoors for renovation, the SU drama foors for will raise one last hurrah. featuring the masical genius of Stephen Sondheim.
 \\ \section*{SCOPE \\ \section*{SCOPE \\ \\ ith imaginative sci-fi} \\ \\ ith imaginative sci-fi}

Sondheim brought "Anyone Can Whigtle" to Broadway in 1964, following hia successes as a collaborator on musical "Gypsy" Th ond Anlan Angela Lansbury, Lee Remick, and Harry Guardino. that is gow's plot involves a small town that is going broke. In order to bring in tourist trade, the town council creates a When patients coming out of a rock. Asylum for the Socially Presaured gee the miracle they accidentiy set mixed in with the townapeople, and a madcap game of Who's Who ensues.
Directing the show is Brent Wagner, head of the musical theater department and director of last year's production "Wonderful Town." Choreography was done by Linda Sabo, head of the dance program.
THEATER OFF CAMPUS: "Pippin," Feb. \(16-18\), Feb. \(23-25\) and March 244 . 8:15 p.m. Fridays and Saturdaye, 7:30 p.m. Sundays. Salt City Center for the Performing Arts, 601 S . Crouse Ave. For information, call 474-1122 or 474-0124.
A special tie to the university makes Salt City's production of "Pippin!" of interest to SU students - two principal roles will be played drama department.
Senior Ken Cazan plays Pippin, the son of Bth-century King Charles, who embarks on a search for his purpose in life. Guided by the omnipresent Leading Player (portrayed on Broadway by the legendary Ben Vereen), Pippin attempts to assume the roles of soldier, lover, ruler, and hired hand. His fruatrating and erratic path leads him to the home of Catherine, a young, lonely widow, played by aecond-year music theater major Dee Fetters.

Pippin," one of the most popular Broadway productions in recent years, captured audiences with such latter-day ciassic songs as "Join Us" and "Corner of the Sky" Written by "Godspell" authors Roger the show began a tha Stephen Schwartz, the show began a trend of dansicals on Broadway, with its lavioh production nurnbers under the direction of Bob Fobse. Jeff Meredith, who recently directed is revival of "40 Carats" in New York City.
ecuted concept album. The band's Becond LP, Aliens, told of the plight of Irish indmigrants in their trek to Amenca, again chrough a well-conceived-concept L.P. The band's latest effort, however, is a bland extension of Aliens, telling the updated story of the immigrants in Annerica. The fact that Horalips has had to rely on the same tired concept for subject matter seems to indicate the band is running out of ideas.

Secondly, the group has abandoned its musical heritage on this effort. On the group's first two domestic LPs, Horslips distinguished itgelf through a distinct ethnicinfluence in its music. The band intricately interwove hard rock melodies with passages featuring solos by lutes, Whisties and classicirishrecordera. in and dition, the band uaed many flute solos and keyboards, producing a sound similar to that of sethro Tuica However, on The Mar abandoned these deviees, producing instead a collection of bland, packaged rock ' \(n\) ' roll cuts (chock full of cliche guitar riffs) and insipid ballads. Such tracks as "Loneliness" and "I'll Be Waiting" illustrate these misdirected changes.
Finally, the Irish influence has also been eliminated from the lyrics. On the band's first two L.P, Horslips' Iyrics used colorful verses, subtle ethnic touches and omnipresent undertones of optimism. However, on the latest \(I, P\), Horslips has abandoned these lyrical devices for hackneyed phrases, cliches and feelings of hopelessness, as in the song "Letters from Home.'
Tuesday night stalled at a red light images linger frayed ard torn ike the photographs you kept in your wallet sons and lovers reading letters from home You read but you don't understand.
In addition to these problems, The Man Who Built A merica also suffers from weak musicianship. Guitarist John Fean and bassiat Barry Devlin plod through the music, relying on overworked, trite themes and sounding as uninspired as the bands compositions. Keyboardigt Jim ockhart and fidder Charles O'Connor are amost non-existent in the music, as heir presence as been terrily over hadow, dition, the vocals by Devin, Fean and O'Connor are dry and lifeless, completely acking emotion and feeling. Only drummer Eamon Carr stands out on the sole band LP as the sole band member who shown any wilingness to try imakinative and in All in all Horslipg has taken a step All in all, Horslips has taken a step pointing that Horslips has cast eside its prentivity on thit ffort and replaced it with such blarney.

\section*{Weekend cinema}

By Steven Titch
Friday, Feb. 16
Blue Collax
Paul Shraeder, author of "Taxi Driver," directed and co-wrote thia good but uneven film about three auto workers who attempt to blackmail their union. Fine performances by Richard Pryor, Harvey Keitel and Uphet Kotto.
Univereity Union Cinema Two 7, 9:30 p.m. and midnight, Gifford Auditorium,

Revenge of the Three Stooges
Five short filme starxing Moe, Larry and Curly. Lots of slapstick and brutality, but t's all in good fun. p.m., Kittredge Auditoriums, $1.

Dog Day Arvernoon
Al Pacino playa a bungling robber who holds 12 people homage in a Queent bank for a long hugust aflandon.

Brockway Cinema, 6, B:30, 11 p.m., and 1:15 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 17. Brockway Evente Room, $1.25.
Saturday. Feb. 17
Roman Polanski's Macbeth In a good adaptation of Shakespeare to Scotiand in this aperbly re-creates medieva Scotland in this timeless tale of power and corruption. The wolence is graphic, and not recommended for the squeamigh.
Nickelodeon Filme, 7 and \(9: 30\) ford Auditorium, \($ 1.50\).

\section*{Doge Day Afternoon}

See Friday'slisting
Brockway Cinema, 6, 8:30, 11 p-m. and 1:15 a.m., Brockway Everts Room, \($ 1.25\). Sunday, Feb. 18

\section*{Dark 8tar}

See reviow. Union Cinema Infinity, 6, 8 k stap offara moi-fi buffs en emuring yet thoughtifl adveninto the unkevons of apece.

SUNDAYS 10:30 A.M. Ecumenical-Protestant Worship Pakóting R Rovéreniario Lake

 \(\rightarrow\) AE - 1 pe pivid Ko Hendricks Chapel Choir

HENDRICKS CHAPEL Childcere provided between \(10-12\) noon.

\section*{DELI DINNER}

Sponsored by Hillel Featuring: Zvi Leverich

Speaking on
"Why the Peace Treaty hasn't been signed"
SUNDAY, FEB. T8, 6:30 P.M. NOBLE ROOM. HENDFICKS CHAPEL. \($ 1\) members, \($ 2\) non-members made," Eggers said. He called made, the Davia a ceplendid move on the part of atudente."

But Holm said he wae present at the Feb. 2 meeting of present atthe Feb. 2 meeangor the \(S U\) board of trusteen when the SU board of trusteen when Kathy Courtney, SA special Kathy Courtney, SA special presidential assistant, told the board about studentinterestin naming the stadium after naming Davis.
"Yes,
I brought it up. I brought it up in pamsing," Courtriey said. She said she explained to the trusters that naming the stadium for Davis was "very much a student interest, that students were concerned about it and expreased a desire for it."
At the meeting, Courtney passed around a copy of a pasged around a copy of a Daily Orange editorial ad vocating naming the atadium after Davis. Holm eaid he felt that her introduction of the iasue "was," a matter of information," and that there was "no action required."
Though SA leaders present at yesterday's press conference seemed discouraged at the naming of the "Carrier Dome," they anid they are planning to continue their push to gain tribute for Davis.
"We're going to take the chanceller up on his offer to name some part of the stadium after Davis," Dale said.
"'There are a lot of significant things we can do short of naming the stadium the Ernie Davis Stadium," he added.

\section*{Photo} recruitment meeting,
today
at 3 p.m.
at the DO.

UU.CONCERT

PRESENTS AT JAB

RCA
Recording. Artists

SATURDAY FEB. 17 8 & 11 P.M.

\section*{Tickets:}
\($ 4\) with S.U. ID
55 all others 8
at the door.

Aveilable at:
Discount Records. Spectrum Sundries. Jabbarwocky.

Liquor will be served!

\section*{GMAT}

\section*{Test for a Lifetime Bep pepared \\ John Sexton's LSAT EGMAT Costres} fohn Senton fert Arpumption courser offor you atistinct ed vantugns in proparing for these ell important itwis: - Substantive curriculia

I not just timinges :
- Toam irostruction by mesperior feculty
- Practien anarms

Connerling
-"Live" instruction
\{ not iuat timpens
- Subrtentlal wtudy metteriols
- Endife - fwelp metriont
- GMAKT Clame now formina for Monch 13. tert
Compere John Semton Course adwentages wifh ophers, then for informetion est/

ban Sectoris TEST PREPARATION CENTERS

University Union Cinemas

TONIGHT Cinema Two in Gifford Aud.

Richard Pryer/ Harvey Keitel in "Blue Collar"

Shows 7, 9:30 & 12 Adm. \($ 1.50\)

ALSO TONIGHT Cinema One in Kiftredge Aud.

Shows 7 & 10
Adm. \(\mathbf{$ 1 . 0 0}\)

\section*{SATURDAY Cinema Infinity in Gifford Aud.}
"Dark Star"
Shows 6, 8 & 10
Adm. \($ 1.50\)

To the lame ducks---

You're a tough act to follow.

\section*{Good luck!}

Love,
The 'French'men

\section*{AAS continues merger plans}

By Andrea Abrahame
The proposed merger of the Afro-American Studies program with the College of Arts and Sciences is proceeding on schedule, according to Spurgeon Stamps, acting AAS director.
The merger with A&S will strengthen AAS, Stamps said. More students will be able to take AAS courses because they will be insted under ABS.
However, not everyone feels the merger should take place.
Harry N. Morgan, former AAS director and currently a professor in the School of Education, called the merger "a further inbicackion of the un
Most top administrators consider AAS "mext to nothing." Morgan said. "The only reason they hesitate to eliminate AAS totally is to they hesitate to elim Morgan said he was removed as AAS director because he insisted the program remain autonomous.

However, John J. Prucha, vice chancellor for academic affairs, said AAS will remain autonomous even when merged with AGS.AAS will have control over its own budget and wil have the power to hire and fire profeasornc:
Stamps believes that the university is acting in the best interests of the program as wrell as all minority students, he said.
Stamps aaid he would resign if he thought there was any conspiracy or ploy by the umiversity' administration to terminate AAS."
Gregory Rolle, external chairperson of the Student Afro-American Society, Aaid his Eroup "wants to ace AAS as, atrong and viable a department as possible."

We don't want it to lose any of its individuality or become less prestigious than it is now," Rolle aaid.
He added that hin group bas not decided whether the merger will be beneficial or detrimental to the program.
AAS has three full-time students and 11 others with dual majors or concentrations. About 325 students are taking AAS cowrees.
To complete the merger, AAS and A&s professors must approve it and a joint proposal be sent to Prucha.

\section*{Radio station selects staff}

\section*{By Pam Golden}

Beginning Monday, WAER, the Syracuae Univeraity FM radio station, will run under the direction of a newly nppointed staff
This year the tities of the top two positions were changed. The positions were ditle of program director was awitched to etation manager and productiondirector was changed to program manager. The new station manager is Butch Charles, a senior psychology major. The program director will be appointed by Charles Monday.
Junior Carl Frank is replacing Julian Hertzseld as technical director. Junior David Kerner is taking over for Tim Donner as sports director. As music director, junior Rich Sutton will replace Bob Sheperdson. Chris Dancy, a sophomore, will replace Pete sophomore, will replace Pete minority director will bejunior

\section*{GO \\ SOMEPLACE \\ ABROAD \\ THIS SUMMER}

\section*{STRACUSE UNIVERSITY} offers travel and study opportunities in 21 summer programs abroad.

\section*{LONDON:}

Shakespeare. Filmmaking. History of Costume, Masterpieces of the Visual Arts, Studio Art, Visual Communications, Photography, Law, Transportation & Distribution Management.

\section*{FLORENCE:}

Architecture, Studio Art & Synaesthetic Ed., Humenism & the Arts in Renaissance Italy, Psychology.

\section*{VIENNA:}

Architecture, Music, German Language, Culture & History.
AMSTERDAM:
Biology, Law & Public Policy.

\section*{YUGOSLAVIA:}

Organization & Management in a Worker-Owned Econorny.

\section*{EAST AFRICA: \\ History & Evolution of the Kenyan Nation.}

\section*{GREECE:}

Classical Geology
All courses offer six sernester eredity for undergraduates, graduates a precticing professionnals. For more imformation plasese contact Syracuet University, Division of Inter nationmil Programi Abrocad, 335 Comptoct Ave., Syricuee, N.Y., 13210 , tel (318) 423-3471.

Henry Bruen, replacing Paul chogen Rowe. Rowe will be business manager. replacing Bob Steviens.
Those interested in working for WAER had to subrnit
"We are looking to assist more campus organizations in promoting their activities. For example, we are going to do some work with the Jab," Charles said.

\section*{Get the real story.}

\section*{Write news}
for the DO.
Call
Carolyn, Dave, Jack or Jerry
at \(x-2128\).

\section*{HAVE A DEGREEIN \\ SCIENCE OR ENGINEERING?}

If 50. putt that degree to wark in the Unthed States Atr Force. The Atr Force has job openings for sclience and engineering officers in many professional areas. Find out if one of tivem is yours. Then asicabout that ewcellent Atr Force salary . . . the cugcutive experience ... the wordawhe asistirnents. ... Itv. and dimital care... and many other Atr Force bernefts. It's one of the finest opportuntitiss in the nation. For infomsimion. contract S Set Alicheal M. Corte. USAF Recruiting Office 100 State St.. Rochaster. N.Y. 14614 Phone: \(716-283-5792\) (cotivet)

AणP?

\section*{Syracuse University Musical Stage} book by Neil Simon based on the screenplay

"The Apartment" by Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond music by Burt Bacharach lyrics by Hal David

For Reservations call 423-1804
your student fee at play

Feb. 23 thru Sunday, Feb. 25
(vitik a minifanim of 30 ereat boolced)

departing 5:30 Friday from campus Cost per person $79.00

A hot senci wich on arrival and breakifast and disuner at the hotel are inclucied daily.
roones vill be triple and quad only.
Day silling omity il mvalimble at Core Mit.
Ens will cleliver Exerip to the wlopel after breakfact and return them me tark. No iffe ticketa mre Included in thita packane.

\title{
College referee
Are officials improving or are they getting worse?
}

\section*{By Michael Eizen}

C ollege basketball referees do not Make a living by running back and forth twice a week with 10 tall atudents dressed in ehorts. They hold a wide range of rul-are gluttong for abuse.

For example Hank Nichole. generally regarded as the bestofficial in the ECAC (governing body for eastern collegiate athletics), is chair man of the education department at Villanova University. Ralph Sorren tino is director of physical education for the Buffalo school system, while Tony DeJohn is an autocenter Tony DeJohn is Because referees have secure positions elsewhere, officiating is either the beat or worat part-time job in the world, depending on the point of view. There is noother evening and Heekend activity where a mancan get paid \($ 100\) for two hours of work while paid \($ 100\) for two hours of work while performing in front of 10,000 people. On the other hand, why would a mann give up so much of his kind of verbal mistreatment an official constantly hears?
"I just love basketball," says James Burr, a collegiate referee for seven years and an cperations manager for high school and have always been a fan. In college I officiated intramural games, then I wasahigh school ref for 12 years. It's a great way to stay in the game."
What makes a good official? Beaides the obvious fact he must be able to distinguish a jump shot from a traveling violation, referees must howe other officials, coaches and However, ofticials, coaches and players seem to have difierent notions as to what those qualities should be.
"You have to have an ego that's big enough to allow you to goout and take the abuse you are going to hear," Nichols says. "There ian'tan official in the country who can honestly you he doesn't have a big ego."

\section*{C oachesand players have different} opinions about what conatitutes a good official.
"I think it's consistency and by that I mean honesty," says SU coach Jim boeneim. A ref has to give cach team calls a walk in the first two minutes he should call the sameinfractionates walk in the last two minutes.'

An official has to be in shape; he dination and good reflexes." says St Bonaventure coach Jim Satalin. sounding like he is listing the qualificatione for a magicion.
Another area of dispute is whether referees have improved in the last few years. Naturally the officials believe years. Naturaly the offials believe year, like fine wine. Others arenoteo sure

They aren't improving at all because they're too inconsistent."
"Thare forward Dale Shackleford.
ficiala so somply aren't enough good coach Don Casey. "The same offinile. work at the aame five or six schools all the time, so the situationis stagnant. We need more good referees and we have to move around more the ones we have." we have.
There are some players and coaches who believe referees are getting \({ }^{\text {better }}\) th he best we've offciating this year is the best we've seen in a long, long tixne," Satalin mays.
The refa aresetting better as far sas I'm concerned," aays Sy;acuse center Roosevelt Bouie. "During \({ }^{\text {mis }}\) freshman and sophomore yeara I was in foul trouble four out of seven games. That doesn't happen anymore.: An integral part of every basketball game are the fans. By cheering for the home team, booing opponents and screaming at officials, famb never fail to make their presence felt. as at Manley Field House. Does the Zoo influence referees? Once again it depende on who you ask.
"The question of whether or not a crowdinfluences a referee is a suspect Manley," says Casey. "It does seem as though most tough calla go for the home team, but I'm not really sure it happers that way.
"I think Manley is a tougher place to officiate in than most places because of its reputation." Satalin situation like that the refs will only call what they see. But a lot of times they can't bee everything, so they aren't sure what to call. In a situation lhe that, in a place like Manley, I ficial to go with the home team and crowd Boeheim sees things differently. He belicves the refa, aware of Manley's reputation, have actually helped "They're only hume thane he officials have benly hand think backwards for visiting teams in Manley this year, because they have heard so much about it," he says.
Boeheira's contention is partly backed up by statistics. The Orangemen are being called for about a foul more per game than their opponents in home games. However, it ponents in home games. However, it can probably be said that SU geto almost every im plays at home.
"Coaches just like to come in here and complain," Boeheim says. "The Rutgers coach is a perfect example." Ah yes, the futzers coach. Few games in Manley this season have game discourse on the shortcomings of a trip to Syracuse.
Among his comments after SU nipped the Scarlet Knights 71-65: Two of my players foul out and four others get four fouls. Meanwhile their big moose (Bouie) gets three fouls for the first time Ive complained about the refs since I was here two years ago. We had won four of five from Syracuse and the refa were determined to make sure it wasn't going to be five of Bix."

Ofcourse not everyone believes Manley is a built-in advantage.
"I don't think the officiating in Manley is different from any place else," Shackieford aays. "The calls areabout the same anywhere yougo.
That is exactly what the officials say.
-The crowd in Manley payches us up like it does the teams, and it probably helps us get better prepared exnotionally," eays Sorrentino, a referee for 20 years. Eut as far as the crowd inluencing our calls, it just doesn't happen.'

Though they allege not to be influenced by a crowd, official admit they, like most fans, would rather see a close game than a rout.
"In a close game the adrenalin flows more readily and it's easier to concentrate," Slomkowski says. "The players perform better and I think we do a better job."
Other than simply officiating a game an official has another very tough job: keeping the opposing coaches under control.

The rule book is very clear ao to what a coach can or cannot do during a game" says ECAC.Assistant Commissioner Art Hyland. "However, it is up to each individual official as to how he wants to interpret the rule. in enforcement with almost every game.

Unlike dogs, rofereas are not man's best friend if that men is a basketball coach. Here, Futgers coach Tom Young (right) appara ready to bite ofticial Dick Slomkowski.
Most referees are lenient when it comes to coaches, letting them do or profane or malicious.
'A coach can get up and ask questions and make comments as much as he wants, because it's his job," De baiting becauge it upsets the kids on the court. And I won't take anything from an asgigtant. The beat thing to do is to close your ears to the bench. After all, a refs job is on the court."

One coach who is constantly on his feet is Boeheim. Though he often appears to be screaming horrible atrocities at officials he is often just asking for an interpretation of a call. The referees think Boeheim is a difficult coach to work for, but not much harder than most coaches.
"Boeheim is tough to work for because he demands excellence from the officials," Burr says. "But that isn't being inconsistent, because he demands excellence from his players. He's tough, but he's fair.
"I don"t bait refa," Boeheim claims. Good officials won't put up with it: they'll give you a technical. That is a big price to pay for bothering the After, all, I only get about two technicals a seabon.
One of the new wrinkles in college basketball is the use of three officiala in same Some conferences, including the Big Ten and Southwest. are using taree refs on a full-time basis. In the ECAC the idea is being tried on an experimental basis. It is etrictly up to the home team in any game whether or not three officiale will be used.
Reaction to the experiment has been split along party lines, so to speak. The officials love working three-man crewa, while playera and coaches are somewhat undecided.
'It's much easier physically wit three men and most of the time you're three men and most of the time you're Nichola says. "Also it will help keep some of the older referees in the came some of the older referees in the gam bengeran." "I think cellent ide three officials is an ex cellent idea," says Sorrentino. "You simply can't keep up with the college game with just two referees, because it is too fast. And three refs gives you much better off-the-ball coverage." don't believe better coverage mean: better calls.
"I think there would be a tendency for more fouls to be called, becanse aix eyes can gee more than four," gays SU guard Hal Cohen. "But to tell you the trath I haven't noticed any difference between a two-official game and one worked by three officials."
I haven't really made a judgment about it yet," says Boeheim, who has been a threeman crew hive times thin season. "If you get three good of ficials, you'll get a well-officiated game. You have to have good refereea no matter how many you have."
There has been one more auggeat tion that has been offered to improve college banketbrll officiating. It suddenly quotable Tom Younc, who after the Rutgers game said, *They're talking about switching permanently to three officials. I think they would permanently switch to one."

\title{
seeking quiet excellence \\ The search for good college officials is as intense as player recruiting
}

T hey are virtually anonymoun, yet vitally important Rarely praised for grood work, they aresonndly criticieed frood incompetence. They neither ahoot, rebound nor play defense, yet an entire basketball game may binge on one of their split-second decisions.

They are, of course, basketball's hired villians, the referees. To moat fared villians, ofincials are namelesa, faceleas bodies of perpetual motion, identified onlyby constant whistleblowing and oniyby combantick arm-waving.

However, officials must work to obtain their anonymoity and even harder to keep it. Thus little is known about to keep it Their qualifications, background and experience. In essence, who are those experience. In essence, who are from? guys and where did they come from? Every referee who Woring an CCAC game is m member of the Colicge (CBOA). The 30-year-old organization is the largest of its kind in the world, with about 700 members. in the world, with about 700 members. It hias representatives all over the East, including many who attend high school games looking for proapective college referecs.
"We are dedicated to excellence in college officiating, so we actively recruit the best high school officials for college," said Fuss Beiswanger, gecretary-treasurer of theCBOA since its inception. "Almost all of the begt high achool referees are contactiod by as at one time or sanother.
To be considered for a particular seamon a candidate mast apply to the primary requirement of the 300 ane primary requirement of the aplicants is to have officiated nual at least 20 high school gamea.
Selection is dorae on the brasi. of need. For eacample, if two referee in the Syracuse aren retire, two area applicants must be selected.
Once an official is accepted hebecomes an associate member of the CBOA and is eligible for agsignument by the ECAC. New members work junior vargity and some junior college games, before \(g\) and III games.
Officials are asaigned by one of the four ECAC officiating supervisors, ench of whom has a specific area. Syracuse is one of the 39 achools, including those in the lower divisiona, in the upstate New York region. Richard Giedlin in the upatate aupervisor.

Wiedlin and the other supervisors have specific guidelines for malking assignments.

The first is the 100 -mile rule, which states that no official may travel more than 100 miles to officiate a game. The rule is waived when the home school agrees to compensate an official, in full, for traveling expenses beyond 100 miles.
Supervisors are also aware of a conch's likes and dislikea concerming officials and vice versa. In addition an attemptin made to enaure a referee does not work for the ammehometeam morethan two or three times a seamon. "We have finally persuaded Syracuse to use nore than just upstate officials," aays Giedlin. "A lot of that has to do with (SU coach) Jim Boeheim. He is very knowledgable, underatanding and not vindictive when it comes to referees. Though he see mainly upatate offcials I would any there are eight or mine refs in other arean Boeheim would rate very high. And I think he would rike to see more of them in Mandey."

The beat officials in any area work approximately 30 games a year, abaut half Division I. It generally takes a referee at least five years to reach that plateau. Less experienced refa, and hose aimply not as competent, work less games, and of courne leas important games.

Wrorking more Division I games not only connotes professional excellence, it is also Enancially rewarding. Refexees are paid by the home team and currently that achool has some discretion as to how much they will pay.

This year we have a four-level pay scale, beginning at \($ 45\) a game plus expersees and preceeding to \($ 60\), \($ 75\) and Ginally \($ 100\) a gawne plus expenses," says Art Hyland, assistant commisaioner of the ECAC and the man in charge of its referees.
"Next year we are 8 witching to a threelevel scale, \($ 45, $ 60\) and \($ 100\) plus expenses per game. In addition it will be mandatory for Division I schools to pay the top wage next season, Division II schoolat the middle level and 80 on. We believe the new syatem will be better for both achools and officials," Hyland anys.
Every referee is evaluated on a 100 percent acale, half of whin is conofficials. Forty percent of the former ofncials Forty percent of the former coaches after each game. The ECAC's remaining 10 percent in the area oupervisor's season-ending evaluations
The officials rate each other after every game, thus comprising 40 percent of their half of the evaluation. a clinic each Jume, duning which they a clinic each June, duning which they must taike a written exam. Clinic must arike a whitten exam. Cinnc evaluation and exam scorea the evaluation.
"It's an extremely reliable system." Giedlin says. "Over a long period of time a man not daing the job will stick out like a more thumb. The syetem allows na to keep the best officials worling the most important games bad eliminate thome who no longer belong."
A
Ail evaluations are strictly con fraential and trying to find where an official is rated is aimilar to obtaining atate secret from the Kremilin.

We don't believe it would be to anyone's advantage to make our ratinge of officials a public matter," ratinge of of
"When I watch an official I look for the mechanica. An official munt signal a call exactly as the manual states," Giedin says, "I also look to see if they're making good judgment. whether they can handle the type of basketball being played, whether they are letting the players decide the game. I also observe how well he works with the other official and how works with the ather official a Naturally there are quite a few com plainta, both from officials about plainta, both crom onches and of course coaches concercoaches and of courge coaches concerning officialis. Actanily anyone geen ning ofncials. Actwally anyone seen breathing in a black-and-white otriped ahirt in a basketball arema is日triped shirt in a ba

Most referees with a complaint go to Giedlin, who tries to solve any problems without going to the ECAC He is also in constant communication with many coaches, but many times they bypass him and go atraight to Hyland.

That usually happens when a coach is very upset, maybe for being thrown out of a game," Giedlin anys. "H juat try to look at the circumatmaces of any dispute and solve it in the fairest poszible manner. We don't want people holding grudgea againat ome another."
The biggest grudges are probably held by fans, who don't appreciate the referees and tribuations to which oung the National Anthem and aold hot dogs at halfime they would be appreciated. More than Likely they preciated. Mor. "You blind bat, you can't even sell hot dogs; how the hell can you referee a baiketball game?
-Michael Eiaen

 buminet the Orememoners.

Fobruary 18. 1975
Page 17

\section*{SU women lose}

The high hopes of SU's women": baskethall team received a substantial setback Wedneaday night as Niagara University, 19-2, defeated them in the Manufacturers Hanover Townament Upetate Enals, 65-49.
The loas eliminated \(3 U\) from the tour nament finals and deprived them of an opportunity to play for the \($ 3,000\) presented to the tourney champion. It also hurt their chances of receiving a berth in the New York Stat
The number of wins and level of competition are factorn in combidering which schoote recenve berths. After low ing to Niagara, and playing bevera Divition II and III achools this yrear, SU's chances look wlim.

Ghe Orangewomen play two more games (New York Toch, Long Island University) before the decision is handed out Monday by the New Yorl State Ansociation of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

We still have a chance if we beat both teama," "head coach Barbara Jacoba said. "It'e between us, Agat, and St. John sfor the bed 14-2 lead, playing a controlled offen sive game and swarming defense. SU ended up beating themselves, however by relaxing, with the lead.
"We didn't play with as much intergity as Niagara did," Jacoba naid. Just becauge you're 12-1 doesn't mean you'll win.
Niagrara came into the game with an 18-2 record and is now assured a berth in the New York State Division II Championships and possibly the Eastern playoffs.

Chances are better that we'd go to he Eiastern's also," aaid Jacobs.
The selection for berths to the Eastern Regional playoffs will be an nounced February 25.
In preparation for the Niagara game the Orangewomen tuned up againat the University of Rocheater Tuesday at Manley with an eary 65-60 win.

The Orange will have their chance to prove themgelves quickly as they travel o New York City this weekend.

At LIU they'll (SU) be intimidated by the old gym-a reconvexted cathed. ral which leaves the fans sitting divecdy over the foor-"Jacobs suid. "It"e a dy over the fioo den of iniquity.
den of iniquity" "We should beat both LIU and NY Tech if we playour game," Jacobs iaid.
By Glen Udine

\section*{Penn weekend}

The Syracuse University wrestling team, juat of an inapressive win over Nortio Carolina State on Saturday at Maniey Field House, will invade the hothed of Eastern wrestling tomorrow when it faces Lehigh in Bethlehem, Pa.
The Orange, who upaet Lehigh last geason in Manley, hope to get good back-to-back performances from the men who keyed last week'e victory.

Gere Milis, the top ranked 118 pounder, who handed State aill be looking for his 21 st win of the year.
Heavyweight Mike Rotunda hopet he can pick up where he left off last Waturday when he out-pointed the Wolfpack g highly

Two more Syracuse's ceams will be heading to Pennsylvania to compete thin weekend.

The men's swimming team will go against Villanova toing and then face Temple in Ehiladelphia tomorrow.

The gymnastics team, riding a current sconing otreak fincluding 205 pointa in the Army loes last Saturday at Archbold Gym) will also meet Temple on Saturday.

\section*{Niagara tickets}

Tickets for the men's basketball game againgt Niagrara at Manley on Monday at the Archbold and Manley Monday at the Archbold and Maney
The Orange Pack will sponsor a foulshooting content beginning at noon Saturday before the SU-St. John's game. Fans chosen at random from the Mandey bleachers will receive an op portunity to win the hhoot-out and a paix of ticisets to the ECAC Upetate championathip game Feb. 28 at the Rocheater War Mernoxial Auditorium.

\section*{Express yourself- get into Focus.}

Review-writers and feature-writers needed.

Call Maria,

Patti or Renee
at 423-2127.

\section*{Brockway Cinema presents}

AL PACINO in

\title{
DOC DAY AFTERNOON
}

Feb. 16-17
\(6,8: 30,11\)
$1.25 w/S.U. ID
under Brockway Dining Hall Brewster/Boland

\section*{WALK IN - WALK OUT WITH A PARTY}

HQUOR SQUARE
At Erie Blvd.
& Thompson Rd. 446-8281

Block Ice - Bulk Snacks Syracuse's largest selection of cheese and beer at discount prices. Party Platters and Bulk Cheeses. 15 Different Beers By The Keg.
Returnables at everyday low prices.

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TODAY}

Spbbeth evering earvice will be held at 7:45 in Hendricks Chapel. Traditions Commilasion wents you to buya horrible hanky for the St. at HBC. Slocum lobby or during dinner et dining halls.
Devil's Dream
bluegrass, plays the Mount Inn conight. Located under Graham Dining Hall.
Lebanese Studene Associetion meets at 7 tonight in 320 Maxwell. Anyone con hhisties Deparment will be shown at the Rogent Theatre, 820 E. Genesee St. at 8 p.m. tonight through Sunday. s2. Call 423-3290 for reservations.
Susk is going to Song Mi. tonight. Bus leaves at 6 from Sims; leaves mountain at 1 a.m. 40 spaces vailable. 54
Delta Nu Alphe presents Lewis sillcox speaking on "Time-Oriented rins and Disa in the 1916 Pom 1:15 p.m. today in the 1916 Room. Bird Library Below, Brewsrer/Boland's coffeehouse. Molson on tap.
Biology seminar: Jerram Brown rom SUNY Albany will speak on Kin Selection in Babblers: A Field Study in Australia" at 4 p.m. today in 117 Lymse.
Mustim Fridny prayers will be hetd from 1-1:30 p.m. in the Hendricks Chapel basement.
The Bombshelter has music and wine fridays from 8:30 p.m.-midnight in the Hendricks Chapel basement Promises, Promises" will be oresemted by SU Musical Stage at 8 1804 for reservations.
"Whet Catholics Believe." minicourse with Father Charles, wilh be held from 12:50-1:45 p.m. today in the dean's office. Hendricks Chapel

THE WEEKEND
Airport plays the Mount Inn from 9 a.m. 7 p.m. Located under Graham Dining Hall.

WE PRINT OR COPY
RESUMES
AND THESES

Copies While You Wait' 131 So. Salina St.
474-4222
across from Syc. Mall

Saboath treditionall service will be held at 10 em. tomorrow in the Hillel lounge, Hendricks Chapel. Dell dinner features Zvi Leveric speaking on Why Hasn't the Peace Treaty geen Signedr" at 5:30 p.m.
'Sundey in ther Noble Room, Hen. dricks Chepel. Sponsored by Hillel Members $1. Non-members \($ 2\).
Internationai Folk Dancers meet from 7:30-10 p.m. Sunday at Skybarn. Dances taught. Refreshmerts.
WJPZ's "Sports Talk" presents Hal Cohen at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Call with questions at 423-4689
Sour Sirus Society rehearses a 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the ski lodge Members playing Friday night 6:30 in uniform. Call 423-0913.
Area Housing Subcommittee meets at 4 p.m. Sunday at SA, 82 University Ave. All Area residerts are encouraged to attend.
Mass: 7 p.m. tomorrow in Grant Auditorium, 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday in Crouse Auditorium and 1 p.m in Skybarn.

\section*{NODICES}

Gordon Bowies Anthropology Eseay Contest awards 850 prize to SU student for an essoy on current interests in ant hropology. Essays are due Feb. 28 at the Honors Office. 300-1Archbold Gym.
Sign-up deadlines for women's squash singles is Monday in 3-3 303 Women's Building. Call Karen at 23-2508
Syracuze Reviow is accepting fiction, poetry, photos and art uritil March 2. Submit at 103 College Place or call 423-1401
Varsity "B" lacrosse taam: Now players should call 423-4620 to arrange physicals and issuance of materials as soon as possible. All old olayers should call the office now for imes of their practicas.
Applications are due Monday at the Hitlel office, Hendricks Chapel. for Hislel retreat. $18. It's a unique experience.
Badmintorn singles signup deadine is Monday for women and Gym or the Womer's Buitding.
Couple applitations for the clance marathon are available at the Graek Council office, 821 University Aye. Pick up Monday-Friday from noon-5 p.m. Return by March 1.

SU Musical Stage is interviewing for director, producer, musical director and choreggrapher for is last proinument.

NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE 8 EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orange. 1101 E. Addams St., by ncon two days before publication. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. Limit announcements to 20 words. No announcemants are taken over the phone.

\section*{Position Available}

Work at your student store.
Campus Conveniences, Inc, is looking for an undergraduate student for the position of manager for Spectrum Travel Guides. Information is available at the Transportation Department of the School of Management, 3rd Floor, Lubin Hall, 123 College Place. Deadline to submit a letter of intent is Monday, Feb. 19, 1979. Call x-3523.

\section*{Do unto others}

Today is the cleadline for peer counseling positions 1979-80

311-A Archbold 3-3150
Academic Counseling Sefrvice

\section*{\(5-x \rightarrow\) -}

\section*{For Sale}
 SHAMPOO & CORCONDITIONER. 727 S. Crouse Ave., next to S.U. Post Office 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: SPORT OR WESTERN SHIRTS 2/S15. JOGGING SNEAKERS \($ 10\). ASSORTED/S15. IVY HALL 738 S . CROUSE AVE. 478-3304
ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza & Hot Subs with Lots of Mozzarella Cheese and Greek Tastel We Deliverl 472 5075.

74 Plymouth Satellite Sebring, A/C. P/S. P/B. mecharically perfect. best offer. 474-2611. 6:30 pm.
SALE SALE SALE 25\% off women's winter coats. \(50 \%\) off. New vests. \(20 \%\) off selected vintage merchandise (1900's-1940's) SECOND HAND ROSE. 713 S . Crouse Ave.
SALE SALE SALE introduction offer continuec. WWI wool and kakhi pants \($ 10\) reg. \($ 12\). Army wool coats
\($ 15\). SECOND HAND ROSE 713 S . Crouse Ave.

Original movie posters, lobby sets, and color & BW stitls. All movies current and old. Wholesale prices. Call Chris or Carole \(\times-6575\) or \(\times\) 6693.

Must Sell Brand new unmourted High performance skis 185 cm Best Offer Call 474-7441.
STEREO COMPONENTS, car stereos, furzbusters. a!l brands.
wholesale pricest fully guaranteed. Call ACTION AUDIO \(478-8667\)
MID-WINTER SPECIALI 180 Daiwa Fiberglass downhill skis only \(\mathbf{5 4 5}\). Poles free. Good Condition. Joel-\(476-5785\)

1974 Buick Century: Air-Cond. Automatic, 7 Radials, AM/FM Tape, Call 446-7920/476-0678.
I.B.M. Executive Typewriter: Excellent condition, asking s275, (It's $400 downtown). Call-446-7920 or 476-0678.

\section*{Wanted}

OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/year round. Europe, S. Americe. Australia. Asia. Etc. All fields. \(\mathbf{8 5 0 0}\) tralia, Asia, Etc. All fields, 8500 - \($ 1,200\) monthly. Expensives paid. \($ 1,200\) monthly. Expensivess paid.
Sightseeing. Free info. - Write: JC, Box \(4490-\mathrm{SH}\). Berkeley. CA 94704.

Low on money and records that arent wanted? WE BUY USED RECOROS. Bring them in for instant cash. Top prices paidl DESERTSHORE 730 S . Crouse 4723235 Mon.-Sat. 11-6.
NEED EXTRA CASH? Full or parttime: days/evenings. For apar and and pointment call pointment call -
EARN HIGH INCOME - Full. part time. At home or at school. Easy service businass, no investrment, exciting opportunity, no gimmicks. reliabitity guaranteed. - Details \($ 2\) (refunded)
STAR SSU Box 272. (refunded) STAR SSU island Park, NY 11558.

Houseboys warned for Comstock Holesebovs wanted for Comstock Mary or Maryanne.

Wanted- One used steel bird cage. Call. Kattry Rm #313. 478-9308.
Repponsible student as temporary (3) woeks) live-in companion for eldenly couple. Light housework, etc. 446 - 7518 .

\section*{For Rent}

Apiartment furnished, walking distance. One months security no fease. immediate oceupancy. 837.
6560 .
\(\because 2\) cubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Tavlor Rental Center. 478-0957
Need two females to share apartment. No lease. One morth's security. Beautiful apartment. fireplace. Good location, immediate occupancy. 422 -0758
Single room with bathroom. 6700 . Convenient location. 907 Walnut Ave. 423-2648 or 475-3484

\section*{Personals}

Lee Michael- You're a beautiful person and deserve the best Lifecan give you- 1 just hope l'll be there to share it with you. Happy An niversary? Love always, Klausina,

Dad and Uncle Dan, wo know you were spying on us and mommy and Auntie went to Boston. Just wait un til youre in that position. Signed, Day!
Dellplain 3. A belated Happy Valen tines Day. Love, your London R.A.
Chuck- Thanks for the other night. Definately kinkyl Love. your neighbor.

Break a leg tonight Ginger (Nancy Cohen) in "Promises!" Debbie, Beth, Susie, Vicki, Lori. Lisa, Gail, and Edie.
Daar Jeff, Just remember, llove you. Lisa.
Rick \(#\) 268-66-5760 Happy (belated) Valentines Day (better late than never righty P.S. Can we swap earrings sometime?
To our special guys on Day 3 and Jomie- Even though we don't see you as much this year, we think abour you even more. Today is "our valentines Day. 50 have the best Love, Teri, Zelda and Suzanne.
STEVE MARCUS, too bad you didn't make it to the AXO Winter Format Better Luck this spring

Liza, Happy Birahday, You're a real peach. Love, Red Munster. Willie. and Gian-Carl.
Today buy a Horrible Harkky for 50 O at HBC. Slocurn Lobly or tonight at ary Dining Halt. Beware St. John'sil

Dear Meg- Happy Birthday. Have a great Party. Get those legs (pretty logs) in shape. Love, David.
SKYTOP HALL 2 proudly announces it's eleventh annual Spring Bash. Sat. Feb. 17, 8:00 pm. South Camterminal running till 1 am by in vitation only. The Deadman.

To the east and crew of the star studded ANYONE CAN WHISTLE. best of luck for the run of the show. Love. Megan.
Nealie O'Hars goes for the gusto in "Anyone can Pissel". (that's what they say) Regent \(2 / 16 / 18\).

Nini, wishing you nothing but the best in tonites performance. Broadway-watch outl Love fand laughter). Dolly \(X\).

Dear Andy F.. You'll always be my STAR BANANA. My thoughts are with you on my opening night. Love.

Wayne, you're a real friend. Hope things keep going as they are. Happy belated Valentines Dayl Love. M.E.M.

Hey Phi Dalt- Have you looked over your fireplace lately?

Just when you thought it was safe to listen to the radio dgain...The day Feb. 19 8:00 p.m. on WAEA-FM 88.
U.S.C.A- (United States Crying AsHociation) says: Sec. \(7-\) "Oniy official wipe teara away." Get yours todey. only 50 c .

Happy Birthday Choubles Baker. Hope you have a great 21 st. Finel Lave. Slick.

Penelope, how bout dinner at the Student Center followed by tha game followed by drinks? Todd
On Todd, you're so romantic. Dribble bounce, dribble bounce, basket. Penelope.
Bashful Betty says. "No Valentine's for me, thank you. I'm an anaconda.
Saturday Night! Wild and Crazy Litzle sister party at Phi Delta Theta. 9 p.m.
703 Walnut Ave.

To the girl in my personal finance class: Sorry about Valentines Day. but here's one anyway: Roses are red, Viotets are blue. If you think fast. There's a box of chocolates waiting for you. Rayfrom Lambda Chi Alpha.
Dear Robin. Sorry We couldn't be together on Valentine's Day. Love you. Dave

\section*{Lost \(&\) found}

Collia narned "OX." Male. Leather collar with rabiestag. Call 478-4552 DOWN JACKET fost in Fagens 2/13 Rewardl Contact B.J. after 3 pm 474-1962.

\section*{Services}

Private Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. also 3 hr, Pre-licensing classes. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY. 476-3995.
Low cost travel to Israel. Tolf Free 800-223-7676, 9am 6 pm NY time. SCUBA Syracuse YMCA is forming a diver's club. Certified instruction offered Call Tom Leach - 474-685

Typing done in my home: Typing done in my home Reasonable Rates. Call \(492-2162\).

FREEI Record and Tape Catalogue. IMPORT and DOMESTIC at LOW discount prices. MC and VISA honored. YOU CANT EEAT THE BESTI DJ's.
PO Box 223. Torms River, NJ, O8753

\section*{Miscellaneous}

Suski Winter Weekend to Killington Vt. Feb 23-25. \($ 70\) includas lodging and dinner. Sign up Tues. Wed. Thurs. Suski-103 Colleges. Place 12:30-4:00
Airport-Top-rate Jazz/Pop blues band performs tomorrow at The Mount Inn. 9pm-1am

HEY YOU. Here's your chance to help students with thair academic and personal concerrns and earn credit or work-study. Apply for a position at the Academic Counseling Sarvice.
311 A Archbold \((x-3750)\) between now and \(2 / 16 / 79\). Go for it.
The Mount Inn presents a weekend of fine entertainment- Devit's Saturday. Come on down!

Peer Counselors-Deadine today for 1979-1980 applicants. Acadernic Counseling Service. 311 A Archboid. 3-3150

\section*{GENESEE 1 HR. DRY} CLEANERS & LAUNDRY
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \[
\sum_{\text {Epperts }} \text { "o }
\] &  \\
\hline Complere Laundry Service
For All Student Needs &  \\
\hline XPERT TAALORINS & FOR FAST \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[b]{2}{*}{}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{When the cheering stops, The good cheer begins...}

\section*{Happy hour drink prices are yours 9-midnight when you bring the Orange Hankerchief and your ticket stub from the St John's game. Only at the Student Center.}

\section*{The Student Center 310 Walnut Place}

\section*{SKI}

\title{
T<illington
}

\section*{FEB. 23,24 &-25}

\section*{LIMITED SPACE - SIGN UP EARLY}

SUSKI TO KILLINGTON
Syracuse University Ski Club

\title{
Syracuse, Manley ready for St. John's and TV
}

\section*{By Greg Luckenbaugh}

While tomorrow's regionally televised game between the Redmen of St. John's and the Orangemen of Syracuse at Manley. Field House is not a must-win confrontation for either team, the ingredients for a blood-boiler are ripe.
Both St. John's and SU \((20\) 2) can go to the NCAA Tournament without winning tomorrow's duel, but a large quantity of pride may be ample grounds for an intense game.
"When you've got two schools with traditions and kids like we've got going head-to-head, you can count on a battle," said SU Head Coach Jim Boeheim.
"Sure, St. John's has got the momentum and the added incentive of breaking our win he continued. "But I know we'll be up for the game as much as them, if not more."
"Some people think we need a loss to get our heads back down to earth for the NCAA's," said Boeheim sarcastically. "Really, no loss can help. The important thing is to keep our momentum ( 14 winh in a row going."
Bracing for a headion collision with SU's momentum are Coach Lou Carnesecca's rampaging Redmen, who have rampaging Redmen, who have won seven games in a row. \(S\). John's \(16-8\) recordis deceiving: John's \(16-8\) recordis deceiving; the team has won nine of its last 11
Coming off a Tuesday night pasting of Holy Cross, the Redmen are "playing, their best ball of the year," according to Boeheim.
"We don"t intend to key on anyone," he continued. "However, you could any that they're center-guard oriented. Wayne McCoy is looking very strong in the middle, and they've got an outstanding pair of guards in Reggie Carter

With Manley Field House the site of NBC's Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference "Game of the Waek' Saturday, for the firat time in two years, SU Athletic Director Jake Crouthamel provides a refresther course on proper fan conduct (see right). Meanwhile. an SU crowd armed with "Horrible Hankies" seeks to prove the Zoo is nothing to sneeze at

\section*{Orange hankie wave brightens The Zoo}

By Cara Schmid The Manley Zoo'a usual verbal ferocity will take on a visual aspect tomorrow, when into the field house for the Syracuse-St. John's game.
"Horrible Hankies," \(141 / 2\) inch aquare orange bandanas, are an adaptation of the towels."
"The students can do whatever they want with the bury, Traditione Commission publicity coordinator. "Wave them at the cameras," he auggested.

Bradbury asid TC initiated the idea because we want to be colorful for the game, show our color orange and boost enthusiasm.
Approximately 2,300 hankerchiefin were ordered \(31 / 2\) and Bernard Rencher.
Prior to the Holy Cross game, McCoy was averaging 14.9 points a game with 7.7 rebounds. Carter and Rencher were scoring at 14.7 and 11.3 xeapectively.
For the Orangemen, the services of guard Eddie Moss are questionable. Although his ankle has begun to heal, an integ tinal virus has limited his physical capabilities somewhat, Boeheim baid.
amewhat, Boeheim baid.
Moss' illness could be a fac tor, as the slower guard duo of Marty Headd and Hal Cohen will face the quicker Carter and Rencher. Earlier in the year, Temple's quick guards gave SU difficulties.

Moss's illness or any other extraneous factors will not detract from the game's importance. The victor will walk away with a win on regional television and invaluable momentum as the NCAA tourney approaches.

The zevpnth-ranked Syracuse University baskathail team and Manley Fietd House will be under the Eastern fosketball mic. roscope when the Orange host St. John's on the ECAC Game of the Werk tomorrow. The game can be seen localty on WSYR-TV3 at 2:30 p.m.

\section*{Star-spangled zoo for SU?}

As we move toward the final stages of another extremely succeasful and rewarding basketball season, permit me to make a few comments concerning my observations as a relative newcomer to the Syracuse athletic scene. Perhaps these observations are more objective because they come from one who is experiencing his first basketball season in Manley. I arrived with no preconceived notions about changing what had been, but with a clear concept of what should be.
My entire athletic background has been involved with successful programs, ones where great pride and dignity are as much a part of successful achievement as the final score. It hurts my pride when I see our players, tearns and school represented with a lack of dignity by too many fans. We expect our players and our teams to perform as we would want them to perform. This is what gives us pride. positive manner, it doesn't do anyone much positi.

\section*{Guest comment}
good. have heard a great deal about the old Manley seating configuration and some of the problems it created. Quite frankly, with a few exceptions I have been very impressed with the students at our home games this year. Clapping, cheering and stomping in an effort to show support (or intimidate the opposition) is all part of the home court advantage. It's part of the fun of seeing our teams perform well.
Unfortunately: I've seen some isolated evidence that reactions go beyond the fun stage and into the area of maliciousness. Throwing objects onto the court or at opposing players can't be fun. Our opponents are players cant be fum. Our opponents are human beings who deserve as much in human beings who deserve as much individual reapect as we reserve for ourselves.

Not limited to disrespect, aiming a piece of ice or other object at a player is dangerous. Does this kind of malicious intent add to the dignity of our teame? Does foul language improve the opportunity to be proud of our players? How much are we assisting in pasuring the successful future of our tearas with lewd signs paraded in front of TV cameras?
One disruptive force seems to have emerged new on the acene this year. I refer to the total disrespect shown for our country during the singing of the national anthem. Apparently this lack of respect is not reserved for the confines of Manley. Interruptiag the national anthem with hissing, cheering and clapping, to them with hissing. checring and clapping, my knowledge, has no precedent in sporting history. Does it do the pride we have in our team or the dignity of our players any good
It has been brought to any attention on a
It has been brought to myy attention on a number of occasions that our home basketball schedule might be improved. This is an aspect that Coach Boeheim and 1 are attacking for the very near future. We have a number of commitments during the next year or two that must be honored before anything can be done. However, we are making a real attempt to bring in more recognized basketball teams as the opportunities arise. This is not as easy a job as it might appear. Not only is it difficult to lure good teams away from their home courts, but good teams away from their home courts, but it is even more dificult to try toconvince them maliciousness and complete degredation that other teams have experienced.
Please be assured these observations are made with a full appreciation of the impact our loyal fans and supporters have on our athletic teams. It is precisely for this reason that 1 am concerned with the few who do not dignify our players or teams when they call themselves fans. The athletic department cannot make someone show respect for our country - but you can. The athletic department can prevent yon can. The atheme deparment can prevent only some of the mailiciou.

John "Jake" Crouthan
University"s athletic dinector.
weeks'ago through the univer sity at a 20 percent discount.
If any hankies are left, we'll "If any hankies are left, we'll sell the remainder at the game," Bradbury said.
The bandanas will be sold by Traditions Commiseion for 50 cents each between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. today at HBC and in the lobby of Slocum Hall. They will also be available at all dining halls between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Horrible Hankies" are the brainchild of TC member Steven Pucek.

We wanted to ran an event at the basketball game and get more exposure for TC," Brad bury said. "At first we turaed our noses up at the iden, but for lack of a better idea the TC executive board passed it unanimously. If all goes well we'll probably start eelling thern at basketball grames next year.'

\title{
The Daily Orange
}
 September when wormen infitrate the currently all-male dorm.

\section*{All-male Booth Hall to go coed; RLAC continues child program}

By Debby Waldman
Booth Hall, which has been all-male since its 1963 opening, will become a coeducational living facility gtarting next September.
The proposal was passed by the Residential Life Advisory Committee at its meeting Thursday night. Final confirmation was made Friday fice of Residence Services. Three Hoora of Booth will be female and five will be male, Decker said.
Jeff Tessier, director of Booth, said the main reason he requested the change was because of general dissatisfaction with the building. Because Booth is all male, it has the reputation of being a zoo, Tessier said. With the coed ar rangernent, the number of returning occupanta should increase.
"There is a demand there," Tessier said. "I think it is an excellent facility and if we could make it coed, it would make a lot of people hap py."

The return rate at Booth has been dropping steadily. Tessier said. In the 1976 room lotiery. 34 percent of Booth residents returaed, but only nine percent of the residents come back through last year's lottery.
In a building gurvey done in Booth three weeks ago, 152 of the 262 current reaidents said they had not reauested to live there.

In addition, only 39 of the current residenta gaid thev would consider returning to Booth if it didn't become coed, but 191 said they might congider coming back if Booth lodged two sexes.
The committee also passed a proposal to continue the South Campus children's program at Skybarn. RLAC will provide approximately \($ 200\) for the program this semester, according to Scott Klein, RLAC chairperson.
The service is intended for children from five to 10. Whose parents live in South campua housing. It runs on Fridays from \(3 ; 30\) to \(5: 00\) p.m. and Saturdaye from 2:30-4:00 p.m. The program consints of arte and crafta, puppetry workshops, movies and field tripa.
Also at the meeting, Jeff Hughea was introduced as RLAC's new liaison officer from dining aervices and Decker was introduced as the liaison from the Office of Reaidence Services.

\section*{SA continues drive for 'Davis Stadium'}

By Stacy Schneider In a demonstration of gupport for late Syracuse University football atar Ernue Davis, SU studenta shouted "Ernie, ball game at Manley Field House.
Student Associstion haunched a drive last week to mame the new stadium after Davis. However, it was announced Friday that Carrier Corp. had donated \($ 2.75\) million to the project, thus securing
The domed facility will be called the Carrier Dome at Syracuse University.
Kathy Courtney, Student Association special presidential assistant, said the purpose of the chant was to ghow that there is support for Ernie Davis. "It was not a demonstration," she said. SA members said the digplay at the game served its purplay at the game served its purpose. They said the chant was not expected to change the name of the dome.
Courtney said the idea was pro-Davis, notanti-Carrier. SA members asked students at the game not to display anti-Carrier gigna. "Publiely embarrassing Carrier is not the root to success." Courtney root to Regional television stations and the local press mentioned the chant. Marv Allbert from NBC, a fraternity brother of Davis of SU, explained the pur pose of the chant on the air.
Courtney baid SA plans to meet with Carrier to discuas the name of the done.

We have to change our Students show their support for late SU football great Ernie Davis at Saturday's baaketball game at Manley Field House.

\section*{'Promises, Promises' opening entertains full house}

By Mary Ann Wood
The mueical comedy "Promiaes, Promises" opened Friday night in Watson Theater providing the full house with an evening of light-hearted entertainment. The atory, bamed on Billy Wilder's and I.A.L. Diamond's screenplay for the Academy Award wining firm. The Apartment, whor Rising enecurtive Chuck Baxter (Cfisis Nogus) enjoys a feiviminutes In hial own apmancient with the pilt of this drearnk, Franik Kubelk (Tamere Rothenbergerl in the SUMI8 production "Prornises. Prominte.

stage by Neil Simon.
Unlike many of the plays that sprang forth during the 1960s, "Promises, Promises" appears to be as relevant today an it was when it opened in New York City 11 years ago. And exoept for the women prancang acroas che stage in mini shirts and fishnet stoclings, it is easy to look at the play as a modern tale of the 70 s .
As a ratire on American big buainess, the play gives an inside look at the after-hours sexual escapadem of the executives in a large ingurance firm. And at the center of all the activity is Chuck Barter (Chris Negus), the painfully insecure man at the bottom who makes it all possible.
Baxter is an unlikely hero, the type of mousy littie accountant whom people walk by without ever noticing. Whenever he runs into the girl of his dreams, Mise Kubelik (Tamara Rothenberger), the audience hears her words of endearment and love for him. This, however, turns out to be wishful thinking, as Bazter apologetically explains to the audience that the words were just a product of hisimagination. We then find out what she has really said, which more Often than not was to call bim by the wrong name.
In hopes of someday attracting her attontion, Baxter desperately tries to work his way to the top of the busineas. He soon finds, however, his only redeeming quality is his empty apartment, and by allowing the married executives and their mistresses to climb into his bed, be in turn is allowed to climb the executive ladder.
Baxter frequently and very effectively steps out of character to inform the aucience what is happening. and how he is feeling. Soon he begins to feel like a friend, and it is easy to mympathize with him. Half way through the show, the audience begins to aide with Baxter against the rest of the characters in the play.
It noon becomes apparent that Baxter's dream girl is having her turn in his apartment with the big boss himeelf, J.D. Sheldrake (Andy Field). Baxter is at firat heartbroken, then indigmant and finally he reclairs his apartment as his own. Miss Kubelik finally realizes Sheldrake for the heel that he is and what a considerate person Baxter is, and they all, of courge, live happily ever after.
Though "Promisea. Promises" got off to a rather aluggish start, it gradually picked up momentum, and by the second act it was in full awing. Some weak acting and uncoordinated dance routines detracted from the overall performance, but the show was not without its strengths. Chris Negus' endearing portrayal of the woebegone Baxter was definitely one of them.

Rothenberger's fine voice and realistic portraval of Miss Kubelik, as well as the comic performances of John McDaid and Rose Lymn Laraja, added to theenoyment of the show
Perhaps the only negative factor in the show was that the mutical performances were not up to par with the acting, maloing it geem more like a show that just happened to heve music on the side. Although the orchestra and back-up chorus performed well enough, it was neither the music nor the dance routines that were memorable when the curtain fell. It was Baxter, rather than the music and the dancing that are usually the great strengthe of a musical.
Nevertheless, the story is clever, fand the show is offen funny. Negus' performance alone is worth the trip.

\section*{U.U. Speaker Board Presents}

\section*{ANDY KAUFMAN}

America's Next Comedy Superstar
special guest
THE ANN SILVER BAND

\section*{MARCH 6, 8 P.M. HENDRICKS CHAPEL}

ANDY KAUFMAN is a frequent guest on "Saturday Night Live" and stars in ABC's comedy hit "Taxi," (Latke Graves)

> Tickets on sale NOW at Spectrum Sundries \($ 3.50\) in advance, \($ 4.50\) day of show.

\title{
While everyone is marveling at all the things computers can doHughes is teaching computers to do more.
}

Hughes is at the center of a virtual explosion of electronic information. It arises from a combination of data sensing, communications. and data processing and storage. We make sensors that operate on all parts of the electronic spectrum. We make computers and signal processors that tie all these together - that issue commands, or that store and present data for a growing number of uses. It is a technological revolution that is only just beginning to realize its potential to benefit people everywhere. . . one of the most pivotal, exciting periods in all human history.

If you're an EE, ME, AE, IE, Physics. Material Science or Computer Science major. you could become part of all this Areas of interest include aerospace. ground systems. industrial electronics, space and communications and research. But dorit worry about getting lost; we work in small groups where individual initiative is valued highly.

Contact your placernent office. Or. write to: Manager. College Relations. Hughes Aircraft Company. P.O. Box 90515, Bldg. 100/445. Los Angeles. CA 90009.

\section*{Editorialize.}

Call Marilyn or Scott
at \(\times 2127\).

\section*{SENIORS 8}

GRAD STUDENTS A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultants throughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the System profile into the System opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form. Name
Address
City St.
Zip
Malta:
Graduate Profile Center
cfo \(0^{-}\)Brier & O'Brien
PO Box 271
Buffalo. N.Y.. 14221
\(\qquad\)

An 8year-old wing tip shoe-they saidit was our only physical sign of ceremonies around it, built histories to go with it. When they spoke of the shoe, they talked of the people, the changes, the memories, the future. They did not look at the written documents - the shoe said more and said it better.
Tradition at The Daily Orange has always been intangible. It lies within those who spend a good part of their lives creating a daily campus newspaper that ean be both terpuanewspaper that can be be

The DO has a personality that changes from staff to staff, and todaya new one takeg over. But there is wantinuity that transcends the changes. Anyone who has ever worked on a DO staff can look at the paper and know what went into it. It is an outlook that developa within you, and the outlook that maintains the tradition.

Bob Hensler was editor-in-chief in 1971 when the DO weat

\section*{A corporate university}

Carrier Corp.'s \($ 2.75\) million donation to Syracuse University's new stadium and the subsequent anmouncement it will be called the Carrier Dome gives us an idea. SU could be renamed in honor of the corporation that gives more than 10 percent of the funds needed for the various building projecte on campus. Atout \($ 5\) million ought to campu

Think of the great publicity a corporation would receive for donating so generously to the noblecause of higher education.
More importantly, SU's close ties with the donor and the obvious syrabolism and significance of the new name would ensure the success of a private school in these troubled times.
The corporate university would be one that would balance its budget annually with corporate efficiency. It would normally raise tuition about 8.4 percent while cutting back on academic and student services.
A small surplus might be achieved by simply eliminating 35 positions in the Office of Academic Affairs, about 10 of those being teachers. And to save even more money, the operating hours of student hangouts, such as Jabberwocky, could be cut back.
And a corporate university can do even more to stay financially heaithy. It can increase revenues by admitting more students than it can handle. Never mind that freshmen would have to triple upin converted dorm lounges, that the resources of individual colleges would be greatly strained, and that professors would be dealing with professors would be dealing with overcrowded ciasses poor quality students.

Balancing the budget is all that matters.
And being a large, powerful corporation, the university could bend laws that others would have to obey. For example, if it was to build a \($ 26\) million domed stadium with 50,000 geats, the corporate university couid convince state agencies that environmental impact hearings and tratfic and parking studies are not necessary. It could just put it up without any planning on a site that previounly had a 26,000-seat stadium.

But get the stadium upas quickly as possible because it means big bucks and big exposure.
The precision efficiency a corporate university would bring has many advantages. Sad part is, SU is not too far from that atate now.
Scott Rohrer
for The Daily Orange

\section*{Support the Davis Dome}

Because the Carrier Corp. has donated \($ 2.75\) million for the construction of Syracuage naiversity \({ }^{\text {s }}\) new Dorne.

But there is atill a chance it can be changed to the Ernie Davis Dome if students demonstrate to Carrier their concern over the stadium's name. Give Melvin C. Holm, chairman of the Carrier Corp., a call at 424-4711 or write him at the Carrier Tower.

\section*{The Daily Orange}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Seot Frepch \\
Thomas Gradie
\end{tabular} & editor in chief managing edfior \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Marbara KTupnicki production manager} \\
\hline Mickey Mercier & \\
\hline Aarllyn Marke & F \\
\hline cott Rohrer & r \\
\hline Carolym Beyra & news editor \\
\hline David Bauder & at. news editor \\
\hline Jack Berger & c. newe editor \\
\hline Jerry Zremastif & newt editor \\
\hline Maria Riccardi & Focus editor \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Renee Turat & amet. Focus editor annt. Focus editor \\ \hline d.T.T. Brady & sports editor \\
\hline Geort Hobmon & autis. Eports editor \\
\hline Carl tohnaon & Projects editor \\
\hline Walecia Konrad & Living editor \\
\hline Becky Ucren & art director \\
\hline Glen Stuble & photo editor \\
\hline Pete Halpern' & asment photo editor \\
\hline Ceorce Musal & butineas mannger \\
\hline Learry Petry & vertiming director \\
\hline Melisan Ketzma & anat. adv. director \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

The Daily Orange Corp. 1101 E. Adams St.. Syracuse, N.Y. 13210 , publishes The Dally Orange wrobidays of the acadernic year. Editorial (315) \(\mathbf{4 2 3 - 2 1 2 7 .}\) independent. The shoe was one of the personal effects he left behind. Someone decided the \(D O\) needed a tradition, and the shoe became the phyrical tie which unites the 197980 staff with the staff of 1971-72, and all the staffs between.

With or without the shoe, the connection is inherent. We have always tried to be accurate, informative and interesting. We strive to be professional, but we hope the energy of students makes us better than the average paper on the newsstand.

It is appropriate that we chose a shoe to mark our transitions and set our perapectives. It suggests movement and style, two basic elements of a newspaper's personality. When we put on the shoe, we change, we begin to develop an outlook. As George liarrison gaid in his song "Old Brown Shoe," "so glad you came here, you won't be the asme here, I'm telling you."

We'll know in a year.

> Scot French for The Daily Orange.

Davis movement: a sentimental whim
To the editor,
Geoff Hobson's front-page editorial last Friday on the Ernie Davia stadium drive is probably the moat forceful and well-apoken staternent thus far on students efforter the haveat SU Stadibm named after the great SU football player.
Still, it contains some assumptions and attitudes common to those who and attitudes common to those who are pushing for an Ernie Davia are pushing for an Ernie Davis atadi From the university's standpoint, money must be the sole consideration. \(S U\) is facing an sideration. SU is facing an obligation of over \($ 11\) million to pay obligation of over \($ 11\) million to pay itg share of the btadium's cost. Ought the university induige a aen-timental whim of a minority of students at the cost of refusing a gift of one-fourth of SU's shave of the stadium cost? To do so would be fiecal inamity- I cannot mee a jub tification for jeopardizing the fiacal stability of the university in order to memorialize any athlete, no matter how great.
Peter Osborne says in his letter (DO, Feb. 16) "money talks but students. are getting tired of listening." Aren't they tired of listening to news of steep tuition increases each year? Would Mr. Ogborne rather fund an Ernic Davis borne rather fund an Emie Davis Dome through more tuition increases than have a Carrier Dorme funded by a multimillion dollar gift?
Mr. Hobson's editorial also dieplaye clearly the attitude that students are right in demanding an "Ernie Davis Stadium," and SU and Carrier are wrong in naming the atadium the Carrier Dome. He implies this is so because Davis' contributions were great and "human" while Carrier is somehow crass outstanding qualities mean more to ug that \($ 2.75\) million of green."
I think it far more reasonable to see Carrier's pledge an an act of than justified by such an be practical or real ministration must. indulge their whim. seek another
Mr. Hobso from our memories.
great generosity to the university conmumity. Indeed, think that Carrier's request to have the stadium named for it is a small thing to ask: not only because it is the normal practice for naming university facilities but alao becauge it is more facilites but alao because it is more than justified by such an act of ex-Onaordinary generosity attitude amply expressed in Mr. Hobson's editorial makes one Wr. Hob how deeply the students wonder how deeply the students puahing for an Ernie Davis stacium are devoted to honoring his memory confrontation with the university on confrontation with the university on an issue where the students need not ministration must.
Mr. Hobson clearly implies, as have others, that no compromise is acceptable: "He doean't have to Bhare an honor he so richly deserves with a bunch of air conditioners." Here are atudents who, have suddenly remembered Davis' great contributions in the last few months (how coavenient) and are demanding that the university completely
I believe if these students are honestly concerned with honoring they will face the reality that the stadium is almost certainly to be called the Carrier Dome. and will saek another substantial way to

Mr. Hobson writes: "Carrier's check may have extinguished his spirit forever." Not so. Davis spirit will die only if the students who will die only if the students who have so suddenly pointed all our attention toward his greatness attention toward his greatness forget him becausc they do not get forget him becausc they do not get their way if the students are Davis' memory in a meaningful way, then no sift, no amount of money, nobuilding can wipe itaway

David Abernethy

\section*{More than a monument}

\section*{To the editor}

Syracuse University's greatest football player will never have to take a back seat to the green. The ides of naming the dome after Ernie Davis is noble, honorable and human. We too can be human and human. We too can be human and Society in the name of Emie Davia.
Ernie Davis made SU a winner on the football field. He wan honored as a winner with the Heisman Trophy in 1961 . He died of leuketnia in 1964.
He was e truly great rumning back. And Davis has since won our hearts as we hear of his quiet personality, fierce courage and other outatanding qualitieg. We can all emulate his winning by contributing.

Leukemia is a critical health problem that takes the lives of more children each year than any other disease. Leukemia takee even more adult lives. There are currently 127 research projects trying to prolong patients lives through various orma of research and treatment. Donations to the Leukemia Society wonid put cause and con siderstion behind the tribute. They may not erect a monument, but contributions will hel \(p\) make monumen tal strides to fi ting a cure. Commemorate a fine person and a fine football player through moncern for individuals.

\section*{A PINT FOR A PINR}

Thenrsalay Feb. 22 & Friday Feb. 23
10a.m. - \(3: 45\) p.m.
Trophy Rm., Archbold Gym

\section*{A free glass of beer}

From Hingry Charley's with Each Donation.

\section*{Give B1ood}

Give what money can't buy.
Sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega

\section*{Chisolm speaks out on America}
' 'I'm' hard. I'm 54 years of age. There isn't much more that I wanit out of life, and I'm just going to tell it like it is."-U.S. Congresswomen Shirley Chisholm

By Laura Rohmann Warm applause greeted United States Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm before she addressed a responsive crowd of 200 studenta in Grant Auditorium Friday night.
Sponsored by the Student Afro-American Society as part of Black Expressions Month, Chisholm's entire apeech was characterized by her telling it the way she asw it concerning the position of blacke in America.
Chisholm has been in Congress for 10 years, and was the first woman ever to acthe frst woman ever to president of the United Statea.
Calling herself "a terribly outspoken and no-nonsense outspoken and no-nonsense "The Unfinished American Legacy."
Legacy. There is a whole segment of the population that has not seen the American Dream," Chisholm said. She said she hopes this will change as America moves toward its ticentennial.
Chisholm called the United States "a nation where racial conflict is operating every day, every moment and every second of our lives."
She cited contradictions in society, such as America's pride in its participatory democratic system and how it contrasts with a low voter turnout.
Confronting the disproportionate cluster of blacks and Hispanics at the bottom of our bocio-economic ladder, Chisholm said, "Inherent racism in the bloodstream of our society has kept black men from ever believing they can be productive members of society."
Chisholm also spoke with great feryor about the new federal budget's escalated allotment for defense. This comes at the expense of more humanistic programs whieh would benefit the minorities of our nation, she said.
Before the one-hour speech Before the one-hour speech ended, Chisholm relayed apegment of the audience. aegment of the audience. become active, to join women's organizations and educate white women. White women

Get the whole story.

Write for Projects.

Call Carl
at 423-2127.
were told to welcome black women into their organizations.
Both black and white men were given essentially the same message: Make way for thenew leaders in oux society, whether they are male or female, black or white.
The 40 -minute question-andanswer period which followed the speech covered a range of topics, from the Bakke case to black television to Chisholm's start in politics
However, with each different topic, the same message came through: people are what is important. Our nation's success is dependent on the ability of the population to get along as a people, Chisholm said.
Chiaholm said the mark of a truly reapected, educated and cosmopolitan person is "the ability to relate and, to understand and to get by."

See tomorrow's D.O. tonight.
Copyread for the D.O.
Call Mickey at \(\times 2127\).

\section*{MANAGEMENT SPRINE CONVOCATIONS Sophomores' on Feb. 20 Freshmen's on Feb. 27 7 p.m. Alumnil Lounge Located In the Women's Bidg.}

\section*{Topic:}

Sophomore - "Declaring a Major"
Freshman - Sophomore Program & Pre-registration

\section*{Speakers:}

Dean Meyer
Russell Hamilton
Representatives from Management Student Organization and DIPA
144 Ball Circle
(next to Danzers on Ainsley)

\(\qquad\)

\section*{Bevier qualifies}

Charlie Bevier, Syracuse's premier runner, made SU track history Friday night at Manley Field House in a tri-meet involving the Orange, Cornell and Colgate. Bevier ran meet this spring in Detroit. Bevier's time was 2.2 seconds better than Bruce Fischer's record set in 1972.

The sophomore's time makes him the third SU trackman in 10 years to qualify or the NCAAB. "It's a tremendous accomplishment for someone so young," said SU country's top 10 milers.'

Unfortunately, Bevier's teammates could not overtake Cornell, who scored 99 points to the Orangemen's 53. Colgate finished with seven.

Freshman Jae Morris ran his best 50 -meter dash ever, (5.7), but still lost to Cornell's Adley Raboy, who set a Manley record of 5.6 seconds.

Syracuse's 400 -meter relay team of Morris, Walter Scott, Warren Matthews and Doug Smith broke the school record with a \(3: 18.0\) time, but still lost to Cornell.

Sophomore Neil Rogenblad won the 3,000-meter race while Art Monk won the vault and Craig Wolfley in the shot put

\section*{Lost Pa. weekend}

Syracuse aport fans got some good news and bad news from Pennaylvania over the weekend. The men's swimming team won both their meeta against Temple and Villanova, but the wrestling team fell to Lehigh and the gymnastics team lost to Temple.

The wrestling team closed out its winningest regular season in history (16-5) with a 29-19 loss to defending Eastern champion Lehigh.

Gene Mills won his 22nd match with a pin of Steve Bastianelli. Tim Catalfo, a also won for SU.
But the defending NCAA champ at 177 pounds, Lehigh's Mike Lieberman, Ied an Engineer charge by pinning Mike Ponzo to spark the win.

\section*{Nearer home}

Closer to home, the SU women's swim team lost only their second meet of the season to Manhattanville Saturday. also lost Saturday, 62-57 to Long Island University despite Martha Mogish's 25 points.

SU's indoor soccer team won the LeMoyne Indoor Soccer Tournament Saturday when Tom Salmon scored an overtime goal to beat Sameun soccer club 3-2The curney consisted of teams from Syracuse, Samsun, Colgate, Morrisville and LeMoyne.

\section*{Ticket info}

Today is the last day to pick up tickets for the SU-Niagara basketball game on Wednesday night. Tickets for the last game of the year in Manley (Feb. 24 ve. Manley ticket windows from 9:30-4:30 p.m.

ne Muntey Zoo bove neturned to telewtion perbers Saturdey afternoon and watched the bewenth-rimiked Orengernen defert St. John's 79-72. Atter the Zoo's performance. former SU studert and now NBC broadcaster Marv Albert calied Minnley "a unique place."

\title{
From the sid
}

SU head cooch Jim Boeheim was on his feot carly and often Saturday to talk to the officiak. but in the end he had his way with SU's 15 th etraipht win.

Barnum and Bailey would have loved yesterday afternoon's SyracuseSt. John's classic at Manley Field House. For five hours the Manley Dome was turned into The Big Top with a combination of colors, characters and competition that would do any threering circus justice.
And at the outaet of the afternoon there were performances in the ringa of fans, coaches and personalities fans, coaches and personatities cameras and the SU-St.John's rivalry.
But when all was said and done two hours later, it was the side show inhours later, it was the gide bhow involving the 10 men on the basketban court that drew the rave ratings of the games are played and won within the games are baselines.
"Look, their fans throwing stuff on the court, oranges at me and yelling their obscenities didn't beat us," said Lou Carnesecca, St. John's colorful and delightfully honeat coach." "What heat us was Syracuse's tean.'
But he would have had a hard time convincing the Manley \(Z 00\) of that. The Zoo, armed with its new "Horrible Hankies" and "Hi Mom" banners, returned to TV for the firat time in two years and howed viewers not much has changed.
The Zocites Eurvived the wait autside Manley (some like frateraity Zeta Beta Tau came as eariy as 7:30 a.m.) in Beta Tau came as eariy as 7:30 a.m. in near zero-degree weather and the vicious stampede when the doors were opened. Once in, they cheered, jeered, stomped and clapped with the energy of a rock conce Lenny Bruce.
"I froze waiting out there," said student Skates Ross, who arrived at 8 a.m. and managed to wedge his way to a fourth row seat. "I'm giving my body and my voice to this team. F'm just like a sixth man when I'm this close to the court.'
But every time Syracuse threatened to put the Rednon away, the Dome roge to a creacendo anticipating the kill. But it never came.
"The crowd helps," said SU captain Dale Shackleford. "They're a good team. A lot of teams come in here and ust fall apart. They didn't.
"A crowdis very important," "asid SU head coach Jim Boeheim. "But St John's is used to playing in front of crowda like this. A crowd only affects certain teams."
Beraard Rencher, the quick St. John's guard who bilenced the Zoo many times with his offense in the second half, agreed.
"The crowd didn't bother me at all." Rencher said. "It's always like this when you play away, but the tans didn't play the game.
While the Zoo performed in one ring. the opposing cosches, who spent the entire a fternoon out of their chairs yelling at the officials, helped steal the show using their different styles to play the role of ringmasters.
Boeheim was the polished, welldressed businessman who greeted unwelcomed whisties with a disgusted wave (or waves depending on the severity of the call) and a look resembling a three year old who didn't want to take a nap.
On the other hand, Carnesecca was the rumpled little accountant trying to compete against H.R. Block. Carnesecca, the most mobile couch in the East, infuriated the Zoo with his marvelous repertoire of facial expressiona, body Engligh and raspy voice.
He was a marked man all day and the circus atmosphere was beightened circus atmosphere was heightened after the Holy Crosa game this wote atter the holy Crosa game this weel Manley") was passed through the Manley.

Consequently, he apent the afternoon dodging objects and discussing the relative merite of fruit on the fioor with the officials.
"If comebody gete hurt
. hurt hurt." asid Carnesecca emphasizing "hurt" with a jab of him finger, "then you got problems."
The problem occurred with 5:45 left in the first half. Reggie Carter drove fot a layup and got fouled, much to the dib. may of Manley. The crowd turned. on the floor stopping play for severit minutes.
The crowd is great and you can fis. them with you when you make a and go down the court," baid SUs Hal Cohen. "But you never want to anybody get hurt"
The coaches and fans weren't © only characters in this athletic circtit Everybody and anybody got into act.
Joel Mareinisis took a shot from hat court while male cheerleaders made brief and anwelcome apperrence Ne. Yark Yankec first baseman Chrit Chamblias and SU alumnus and Philadelphia Eagle lineman Kanit Clarke dropped by to asy hello.
However, the main showman was NBC play-by-play broadcaster Marr Albert, a former SU student who would Arobert, a former finiah a close wecond tot probably finiah a close second bity contert.
"This is one of the loudest places Twe seen" Albert said "You bate to \(\begin{gathered}\text { w }\end{gathered}\) things like throwing stuff on the court but they settled down after that, they were good.
"This is a unique crowd," Albet added with a shake of his head. Do the TV cameras ever affect a tear; or the outcome of a Rame?

You can tell with some teams players, though they won't admith. that it bothers them. Albert said. Bul St. John's is a good team."

Can you imagine coming into thiv, place and then having to be on TV tool But they made 10 of their firat 13 ahot and gave ua a great game," Albert sasid
"r'71 say it again," Carnenecca said "The fans, the obscenities, the officisa, the orangee didn't beat un. They did The oranges didn't Indeed, it was the kida and not the circus who gave the best hhow of ail Saturdiny.

\section*{Oran \\ Lou Carnesecca slouched against the} locker room wall, his hair in disarray, his shirt drenched with aweat. After all th contorting, gesturing sind screaming the had gone before in his team's 79-72 loss to Syracuse University, there was one poin the St. John's coach wanted to make.
"We played very well today, we really did, we played as good as we could," he said, almost pleading to be believed. "We played as well as we could play, and we stil got beat.
The Redmen (16-9) had indeed played well, dominating most of the first half and sticking with the Orange (21-2) closer than the NBC-TV cameras the rest of the way But at no point, no matter how well the Redmen played, was there any doubt that they would get beat
There was no doubt when SU center Roosevelt Bouie sat down with his third personal foul at 10:41 of the first half, no doubt when si. John's took it biggest lead, 36-29, IVe minutes later, and no doubt even when the Redmen matched the Orange basket-for-basket in the second half.

There was no doubt because after all the feativitiea, all the cameras, all the hankies, banners and chants that accompanied the first 30 minutes of play, all that remained was the realization that St . Jobn's was not playing well enough to do What 42 other teams before them had failed to do.
This time it was the play of Louis Orr (20

\section*{Lou and Bou}

Louis Orr (right) was the main man in Syracuse"s win over St. John's Saturday. The junior scored a team-high 20 point: ncluding 10-for- 11 from the foul line and grabbed 11 rebounds. Rooservelt Bouie (top) teorad 15 points despite first half foul trouble. points, 14 rebounds) and Dale Shackleford ( 15 points and 10 rebounds) down the stretch that lifted the Orange to their 43rd straight Manley win and the 15th consecutive triumph of the season

We got off to a slow start earlier this year against Rutgers, and had a little bit of a slow start tonight," SU coach Jim Boeheim said. "I wasn't worried."

Boeheim was not worried by a St. John's tean that had won its last seven games and defeated then top-ranked Duke earlier this season. The Redmen demonstrated from the start that they were not worried either, as they hit on 10 of their first 13 shots in the face of the most ferocious Zoo this season. It was the Orange, however, in the long run, who had more reason to be conndent.
This club has got more going for them than the Hackett club that went to the Final Four (1975)," Carnesecca said. They've got more tools going for them." When SU's biggent tool, Bouie, left the game in the first half, it was a couple of pare parta, freshman Rick Harmon and sophomore Dan Schayes, that kept SU running. The Orange not only stayed in the game without Bouie, but surged ahead to a 46-44 halfime lead.
In the second half, Bouie returned to perate ingide and the Orr-Shack com bination pounded the backboard with the force and consistency of a jack-hammer Meanwhile, St. John's had as much success penetrating the SU zone defense as the security guards had in controlling the 200. The Redmen's ehooting percen tage dropped to 39 percent in the hall, while the Orange, firing mostly from close range, hit 68 percent.
"They really got the ball inside against us," Carnesecca said. "Hey, we just didn't have the gize they had."

It was rather St. John's pair of streetwise guards, Reggie Carter ( 23 points) and Bernard Rencher ( 12 points), who kept the Redmen close. Down thestretch, however the duo proved no match for SU's rugged play on the boards.
"It was a pretty physical ganne," Boute said. "They called them ciose for awhile, but then they let us do our thing, as long as we weren't doing anything really wild."

In the end, the ferocious Zoo was the only group that did anything wild. The Orange, as Boule said, did their thins, the same thing they had done 42 times in a sow before.

SYRACUSE (79)
Shackleford 6-13 3-7 15, Orr 5-9 10-11 20, Bouie 6-73-4 15. Conen 4-70-08, Headd 3-9 1-1 7, Mose TOTALS 28-53 23-30 78.

ST. JOHN'S (72)
Gilroy 2-50-0 4, Plair 3-104-4 10, McKoy 5-123-5 13, Rencher 6-13 0-0 12, Carter 10-19 3-4 23, Wright 3-82-28, Calabrese 0-1 000, Grordon 1-2 0.02 TOTALS 30-70 \(22-152\).

Thursday, Feb. 22

\section*{CHRIS RUSH}

National Lampoon Comedian
Grant Auditorium 9:00 p.m.
Tickets : \(\mathbf{$ 1 . 5 0}\) in advance \($ 2.00\) at the door

Available at University Union and Spectrum Sundries

Monday, Feb. 26
Speaker:
TONY SGRO champion skier

Maxwell Aud., 6 p.m., FREE

\section*{Movie:}

\section*{SPIRIT \\ with Tony Sgro 6 p.m.} co-spansored by SUSKI

Friday, Feb. 23

\section*{MOVIES}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
BUCK \\
PRIVATES
\end{tabular} & THE END \\
\hline \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m} . & 10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). & 6,8,10 & 12 p.m. \\ \hline Kittredge Aud.
\[
$ 1.00
\] & Gifford Aud.
\[
$ 1.50
\] \\
\hline CINEMA ONE & CINEMA TWO \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Sunday, Feb. 25 SONG MOUNTAIN AQUARIUS CUP COMPETITION FINALS world top freestyle competitors 1:00 p.m.
DAFFY DUCK FESTIVAL animated fantasy
6,8,& 10 p.m.
Gifford Aud. $1.50
Tuesday, Feb. 27

\title{
THE KINKS 8:30 p.m. \\ LANDMARK THEATRE
}

Tickets \(\mathbf{$ 6 . 5 0}\) and \($ 7.50\) Available at:
Spectrum Sundries, Discoumt Records 8 Landmark Theatre

\section*{Group holds halftime protest}

By Stacy Echneider Protesting Syracuse University's investments in South Africa, the Committee to Stop Apartheid carried banners at halftime during Saturday's basketball game in Manley Field House.

The purpose of the protest was to raise the issue of divestrnent and make sure everyone knows what it is said David List, a comis, said David CSA was formed about a CSA was formed about a members.
The group has three goals:
to increase awareness of the racially oppresaive apartheid system in South Africa, to persuade \(S U\) to withdraw all stocks in corporations coing business in South Africa and to support struggles against apartheid," according to a apartheid.
SU has about \($ 6.9\) million in investments in eight companies that do business in South Africa.

Some negativé reactions resulted from the display of the banners, List said.
"I expected ignorance but not racist comments." he said. "One spectator shouted, If apartheid is against the blacks then I am for it'" he adided.
list said that when the com

\section*{Hillel elects}

\section*{new officers}

By Barbara Becker
The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation held its elections last week, but only 78 of the 1,000 Hillel members voted.

Also, five of the nime positions up for election last Wedneaday and Thursday had only one person running.
"Non-involvement is a major problem,", Baid Hillel member Max Werber.
The five new officers who ran unopposed are: president, Joyce Stein; vice president, Judy Kaganowich; membership chairperson, Steve Cantor, religion chairperson, Eliot Zimelman, and programming chairperson, Phyllis Stilous.
The winners for the contested positions are: secretary, Amy Lipton; treasurer, Carol Gerber, social chairperson, Steve Weinstein; and publicity chsirperson, Jerome Pfeffer.
Actual figures of the results will not bereleased. "By giving out the vote count you create hard feelings, since the vote was so close," said Joe Distelburger, Hillel elections committee chairperson.
Those voting in the election also approved an arnendment to Hillel's constitution creating a new position entitled Reform Action chairperson.
The new position was created for the purpose of developing programs of interest to Reform Jews.
1 A date for the election for the new post will be set in about a woek. Candidates must obtain 25 signatures on a petition to get on the ballot.
Installation of new mernbers will take place Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hendricks Chapel Hillel Lounge. All members are welcome.

\section*{\(\star\) Davis}

Continued from pege one original poaition of fundingan Ernie Davis Dome since Carrier has become the main contributor and has rightfully bought the name," Courtney said.
However, the Carrier-Davis Dome or a similar name would satigfy SA, Courtney said mittee tried to walk on the court a man grabbed their banners. The group then walked around the aidelines.
The banners said "Divest Now," "Don't Play Ball With South Africa" and "SU Supports Apartheid."

After half-time the banners were hung in the stands. The group stood by the signs and chanted "Honor Ernie, Divest Now," as the crowd exited at the end of the game.

List said one student tore down the sign as he was pasding. Others did not react or sing. Others did not react or of the game.

In addition, a press release was given to yarious broadcast media covering the game, explaining SU investment in \section*{Write news Call}

Carolyn
423-2127
————n

South Africa.
The committee was happy with the protest, List said. "People are starting to ask" questions about diveatiture," he added.
Chris. Kruegler, another committee member, said, "When people understand the issue we will have leverage in dealing with the administration."

CIVIC CENTER. SUNDAY FEBRUARY 25 8:30 P.M. the tambdaitzans

Company of 40 UNIQUEI EXCITINGI
Tickets: 7.50, 6.50, 5.60, 4 Syracuse Symphony Famous Artist:

424-8210

\section*{SUNDAY, MARCH 4TH}

TWO SHOWS 8 P.M. & 11 P.M. \($ 5.00\)
JABBEROCKY - S.U. ID
LIMITED SEATING! TICKETS ON SALE NOW! TICKETS AVAILABLE AT SPECTRUM SUNDRIES

\section*{What can you do at Northrop?}

This is the time 10 ask yourself. Because af Norihrop whotever your field of intorest. of education, we probobly need you.
Northrop is much more than iust planes. It's an omployer that's behind you all the way, holping you to grow and oncouraging your contributions. And we offer opportunities in on exciting variety of vesations, including a wide range of Aircraft disciplines: Manufacturing. . . advanced Avionics. . . Engineoring.
Alongside some of the top professionals in the induatry, you'll foce a future chrorged with challenge and dynamic growth. And at Narthrop, that future can be - you can be. Whatever you put your mind to.

WE WILL BE ON CAMPUS FEB 22
CONTACT YOUR PLACEMENT OFFICER TODAY!

Equal Oppartunity Employer M/F
NORTHROP
Making advanced technology work.

\section*{Mandatory sportswriters' meeting Wednesday at 3.}

All new writers welcome.
For further info call J.T. or Geoff at \(\times 2127\).

\section*{Save at Siegel's \\ OF MARSHALL ST.}

\section*{on color print processing}

\section*{only \\ 39 \\ 12 exp.}

\section*{only \\ \(3^{99}\)}

20 exp.

\section*{Siegel's for everyday low prices on your photo finishing}

\section*{ENGINEERS}

Let's be candid... This is a pitch. We're looking for talent.

At Magnavox Government & Industrial Electronics Co.. we want to hire the best engineers and computer scientists we can find. If you qualify, and you're interested in a career with the world's leader in communication sytems. Magnavox may be for you.

That's because, in our business, an outstanding technical staff is the key to success. Magnavox has been remarkably successful because we offer small company atmosphere with large company benefits and challenge! Hence the pitch, and this ad. If you like what you see here, get in touch. Maybe both of us will be glad you did.

> WE WILL BE ON CAMPUS:
> Monday, March 5,1979

Please contact your Placement Office or send your resume to:
PROFESSIONAL PLACEMENT

\section*{Magnavox}

Advanced Products Division (Magnavox Research Laboratories) 2829 Maricopa St. Torrance, CA 90503 An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{TODAY}

Sign-up deadlines for intramurals is today for women's squash singles and warren's and men's badminton Eingtes in the Archbotd Gym or Women's Suilding intramural of fices.
Womon's lecrosse club practices ez 4 pim. today in Gym B. Women's Building. All welcome.
Dutch Klateuurtis will be heid at Community House. 711 Comstock Ave. tod wercome hecturs: Samuel K. Eddoy from the history department will spsak on Climatic Variation in the Fall of the Roman Empire" at 3 o.m. today the founders foom, Maxwell. meets at 3 p.m. today in the S.O.N. Jounge.
Society for the Advancern#nt of of Monagement meets at 7 tonight in 313 Manwell. All management students welcome.
Applications due at Hittal office. Hendricks Chapel, today for Hillel's retreat, $18. It's a unique ex eriance.
National Engineers* Werk: GE engineer Wiltiam Peil will speak on "Efficient Lighting: The Promise and 355 Link. All walcome. Free coffee.

\section*{TOMORAOW}

Cay men's social is heid from 8 p.m...midnight every Tuesday at Gay Students Associetion 103 College Place. Donations requested. Elecliens will be held at 10 p.m. Wine. cheese, beer, soda.
Organic cherviatry meminar. Graduate student Ed Parker will speation "Synthesis and Chemistry of Metal Complexes Derived from Thietes" at 11:40 am tomorrow in 210 Bowne.
Chemistry colioquium: Bonnie Ware from Harvard will speak on "Laser Eletrophoretic Analysis of the Chemistry of the Surface of Living Cells" at \(3: 15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). tomorrow in 303 sowrie.
SUSKI meets at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Makwell Auditoriumt to discuss bush Vermont st 15 for five days of ush. Vermonk. 1 sho divedays o "Taming the Mind." an in roductory course in Buddhist study and practice is offered at 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday at Community House.

711 Comstotk Ave. 83. Sponsored by Oharme Study Group.
Nationsi Engineer? Waek; Robert W. Hornaday of Berton, Grown. Clyde and Logudice, con sultants, speaks on "Professiona Engineering and Consulting" from 4.5 p. m. tomorrow in 335 Link. Fre cotfee School of Manegemen. Sophomore and Freshman Convocations will be held at 7 om. tomorrow in the Alumnae Lounge. Women's Buildirse.
Non-profir Westeort Cate has our-course dinner tomorrow for 2.25. Call \(424-9725\)

Career planning work whop will be held at 7:30 pim. tomorrow at the Gponsored by the Office of Minority Aponso airs.
Naturrat farnify phanning wastion will be hold at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the vewrien Center Outing Club meets at the Moum Inn at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.
NOTICES
SU Musical Stage is interviewing or director, producer, musical direcor and choreographer for its last show. Call 423 -6463 for an ap. pointmont.
Couple applications for the 1979 dance marathon are available at the Greek council office, 821 University Ave. Pick up applications Mondir Rrough Friday from noon-S pn Newthouse peer Newhoust pear adviser pilicatione are available in the deans affice. Nowhouse t .
Gordon Bowies Anthropology Essay Conterst awards \($ 50\) prize to an SU student for an estay on cuffent interests in anthropology. Essays are due Feb. 28 as the Honors Office. 300-1 Archbotd Gym.

Syracuee Ravienv is accepting fic tion. poetry. photos and art untit March 2. Submit works at 103 College Place or call \(423-1401\).

Varaity "B" lacrosse zeam: New players should call \(423-4620\) to arsange physicals and issuance of new equiprnent. All old players show call for times of their oract TMERE EVERYMHERE EVERYWHERE are due ai the Dally Orange, t botore publication. Name and telephone number of sender and iolephone number of sender nouncements to 20 words. No announcements are taken over the phone.

\section*{We Buy, Sell Er Trade Used LP"s, 45's, Rock Magraines}

Bring your records to us for cash
Collactions bought * House calls by appointment
7.000's of records in stoch © Most LP's onty \($ 2-$ 3\) - A/f records guaranteed - We spacialize in aut-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
S. Cempus Mall. 730 5. Crouse M-Snt. 17-5 (472-3235)

A"ERIEEMS

VISA
MASTERCHARGE

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For Sale}

UNJSEX Hair Cutting. Hair care items, iscount prices. ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPFLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave.. next to $4. Post Office. 4759289.

TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: SPORT OR WESTERN SHIRTS 2 FOR $15. PLAID FLANNEL SHIRTS 2 FOR SIS. HOOPEO 738 S CROUSE S9.98. 478.3304

ZOREA'S Has Great Piza & Hat Subs with Lots of Mozzarella Cheese and Greek Taste! We Deliverl 472 5075.

Must Selt. Brand new unmounted High periormance skis 185 cm Best Offer Call 474-7441.
STEREO COMPONENTS CAT stereos, fuzzbusters. all brands wholesate pricess. fully guarant For Sale-Color T.V."19, brand new, price will negotate. Mis or Norman

\section*{Wanted}

Low on monay and records ina: aren't wanted? WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant DESERTSHORE 730 S . Crouse 472-3235 Mon.-Sat. 11 -6.

OVEASEAS JOES - Summer/year round. Europe. S. Americs. Aus trolia, Asia, Etc. Alf fielifs. \($ 500\) \($ 1,200\) monthly. Expenses paid. Sightseeing. Free irfo.-Write: IJC.
Box \(4490-5 H\). Berkeley, CA 94704.

EARN HIGH INCOME - Full, partime. At home or at school. Easy service business. No investment, exciting guaranteed - Detaits \($ 2\) (refunded) STAR SSU Box 272 island Pork N.Y., 11558.

Responsible person wanted to shar comfortable 3 bedroom aparment (wint ireplaca). On Campus bu route. 478-1684
Roommate wanted-Three bedroom flat. No lease. One month's sectrity Fellows Ave. \(423-2655\) or 474 4090 4090.

\section*{For Rent}

Apartment furmished, walking dis; tance. One month's security, no lease. immediave occupancy. 637 . lease.
6550

2 cubic foot refrigetators for sent. Call Taylor Rental Center. 478-0957. Air-Conditioned, furnibhed, new etudio apartment. 6175 monthly. Utilities included. Call 476-5584 or \(556-3001\). Leave message. Will call back.
Two bedroom unfurnished appliances air conditioning pool \($ 275\) month includes utities available April Ist, 471-3880

\section*{Personals}

To Twenty Dollar Tom. The Haven Booby Trap? Signed: The Frosh Crew
Babs, simple me, sophisticked you. Two "opposites" room at S.U. We thought we'd hate aach other for sure. Supriset Wa had more in com mion than being the only two leftyears since passed. what great friendship, sure hope it lastsl P.S. get well. love your roomie.
To Teddy, our not so secret admirer thank you for the Velentine's Day presents. It was very sweer of you. Love, Leslie & Pitter Patter.

Dear Scot. Good luck with the upcoming year as editor and beware of Greeks bearing personals. Love, A Logical Admirer.

Dear Gary. Happy Birthdayl \{one day late) I know this isn't tollhouse squares but it's tha best i coutd do. Love, Stacey.

Lise G. I know how to spell your name. And I Even know how to count. Two months have been twice as nice. Love. N.D.S.
Laurie- Here is the personal youive been wanting since Seprember. How could we forget vour birthday after you'va been reminding us' since jailbait any longer. Happy Birthday you i.b. and g.s.pt We tove yout Vou ib. and g.s.p We tove yout
Susan. Debbie. Jon. Koren, Rhonda, and Lisa. P.S. Onward and upward. The nekt step is stirrups;

Dafe: Happy belated Valentine's Day. Hope your intensified dance lessons went welli Missed you. Your New Friendl
Sin. Saj. Swoenhart- you think you didn't get valentines! lim in fice the best world with you. HVD love your belated as wisual comefect AW-Did 1 ever tell vou vou're more fun to talk to than Billy? Better jump fun to taik to than billy?

shot too. Love ya. 153 .

Dave H., your boobs are bigger then mine and we wear the bame size boxers, but 1 love you ariyway (someone has to). Clean ears, cowboy hats, and shorthaired dogs say. "Mere's to V.D. and the best big Bro girl could have (not in the biblical sensely" Love, Kathy.
SMUCKOWVTZ - Congrats on getting horses assi Weknew you could do it.
ToP in Pabbitiand: llove leg of femb. mesmess, homeds), a four lenter word, and especialty my "mester". Thanx your obnoxious Eiteht
To my socret admiror (adolescent). Glad I have been giving you same cheap thrillsi However, next time why con's you reciprocste? Love. your #t Winchell gat.
Mike-Happy Anniversary folus 173 hope the rest of our life together is as geat as the first year. 1 -4-3 Jayne.
Phi Delt - If you want your composite call

\section*{Services}

Private Driving Lessons. Pick-up Services. also 3 hr. Prelicensing classes OnONDAGA DRIVNE

Expert men and Women's tailoring Expert men and Womens tailoring at Rags \(\mathrm{N}^{-}\)Bags Boutique 4320 E . at Rags N \({ }^{-}\)Bags Boutique 4320 E.
Gunesee
St. DeWitt. Mon.-Fri. to:00-5:00 Saturday 1:00-5:00 Call 446-9277.

Typing done in my home Pasonable Rates. Call 492-2162. SCUBA Syracuse YMCA is forming a diver's club. Cortified instruction offered. Call Tom Leach - 474-6851

\section*{Miscellaneous}

\section*{COMING SOON Alpha Ph Omega's ELOOD DRIVE. Felbruary} 22nd and 23rd 10am-3:45.
Phil the Iguana says "Snarf Snarf" which madans-Listen to the Orange Crush Half Howr Hour. Monday Fob 19 at B:00 pm on FM 88 WAER.
in's back and betier than ever, Monday Fab. 19 , 8:00 pm . The Orpange Crush Helf Hour Hour on WAER-FM 88.

SENIORS: Don't forget to pick up your ickets for tha Senior Party February 19-22, G-11 and 2-4 in the Women's Builc Axte.

\section*{monday madness \\ On Mondays. Order any large. one-itern pizza, and get two free quarts of Pepsi. \($ 1.20\) value. \\ One coupon per customer} Good all Mondays in Feb. Customer pays deposit.

\section*{That's madness!}

A mot eanctwich on arrival and breakitint and dinner at the hotel are incinded dally. FOOm: will be triple aud quad only.

Day akilime only is avainable me Core Mc.
Bus will deliver Eroup to the alopes after bremkfant and returm them at darlk. No inft fleketw are incirtied in this package.

Departure taves are sublett to chanye due to lach of participation.
 or w fult reikund wili be macha.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{SU Iranians face uncertainty in political and financial future \\ By Dave Stern \\ and Enally, he must make a new army to}

Uncertainty. This seems to be the reaction of many Iranian students at Syracuge University to the situation in their homeland.

In Iran earlier this month. Moslem leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini successfully led a revolution that ousted Shah mohammed reza Pahlavi and former prime minister Shahpor Bakhtiar. Thus, many SU Iranian students do not know how they and their families will be affected.

SU student Mahyar Makhzani shares this feeling of uncertainty. "It's our country, and we do not know if our future there is secure," he said.
gaid. Can we go back? Can we gtay in America?
We have student visas which means we cannot We have etudent visas which means we cannot work, and it is extremely difficult to get a residency.
Virginia Torelli, director of the international student office, said, "We just won't know anything until the thing settles down."
Torelli said Iranian students have not received mail since last gemester, and many are running out of money.
"The only way these students can reach their families is by telephone," Torelli said. "There has been no mail since well before Christmas." The majority of the 168 Iranian students at SU have paid their bills for the spring semester, Torelli said. However, funding for the upooming summer sestion and next fall is uncertain.
\({ }^{\text {' }}\) Most (Iranian) students are maneuvering into position to see how they can deal with the situation as we move toward aummer and the fall semester," she said. "This semester is OK"

Some of the students here are supporters of the shah while others support the Khomeini regime.

Mamud Sabahi, 30 , a smadnate, chemiatry student, supports the now government: "Most who have not been pro-shah were very excited and happy whahi said.
Sabahi believes there are three critical ateps for Khomeini to achieve and maintain control in Iran.
"First was the overthrow of the Shah," he said. "Second was the dismantling of the army, prevent any counterrevolution.
Sabahi gaid a main cause for uncertainty is the role the major powers will take in the situation.
"It's a government of self-determination," Sabahi said. "There &hould be no influence by any bloc - either the United States or Rusaia." Sabahi is particularly concerned with interference by the United States
"In 1953, when the shah was kicked out, the CLA supported a coup to bring him back," Sabahi maid

Makhzani, a senior in-marketing, is against the Khomeimi government. "I was hoping that Bakhtiar would succeed the shah," Makhzani said.
Malchzani believes the main problem is that forces under Khomeini have lost unity

They were united by the goal of overthrowing the shah, but not any more, he said. "There is chaos in my country."
"In a way, I am glad because now people will be able to gee how bad they (the new govermment) will screw up."
Makhzani said the Iranian army needs to be reorganized before the situation in his homeland will aettie down. Currently, there are many civilians and thousands of recentiy releaged convicts earrying automatic weapons.

You can't have everyone shooting at each other," Mahlzani said. "Let the army act as police.". The best man to reorganize the army would be the Shah, he adided
"I am really unsure of how it will affect me and other etudents" Mahkzani said. "ITll just have to carry on my studying."

The university is also unsure about the situation. "If Khomeini stays, we don't know situation. If Khomenni stayt, We don't kno
"I read he anid there were no need for bank. Iran was a developed and industrialized country before all of this and until this gets settled try before all of this and until this gets settled we just don't know what is going to happen over we just don't mnow there," Torelli said.
"I hope everyone Inere will help these students remain in a holding pattern," she aaid. "I hope people won't pressure them and will let them give their thoughts."

\section*{Faculty may not retire at 65}

By Debby Waldman
A proposal to allow faculty members to atay on the job up to three bemesters after they've reached the mandatory reached the mandatory retirement age of 65 will bediscussed at Wednesday's University Senate meeting.

A discrimination act passed by Congress raised the mandatory retirement age to 70last year. However, the American Association of Universities obAssociation of Universities obtained an exemption, saying universities can force faculty maversities can force faculty January 1, 1983.

The Senate sub-committee on services to the faculty and exempt staff will recommend that Syracuse University does not take full advantage of the exemption, according to chairperson.
Faculty members will be permitted to continue working for one, two or three semesters after age 65 under this interim arrangement, if the proposal is passed.
The
The proposal will also recommend that the university formaly adopt and publicize for faculty as well as other staff members.
The committee surveyed 45 faculty members scheduled to retire between January 1, 1979 and August 31, 1983. There is a need for a university-sponsored pre-retirement counseling program, according to 36 of the respondents.
Also, 35 of the people surveyed said they would prefer to continue working beyond the mandatory retirement age, 11 of whom said they would prefer to work full time until age 70.

\title{
MUL OF SHAH IHE FIRST STEP TOWARD InANS FREEDOM
}

Photo by Richand Folkers Iranian SU students protested againat Shah Pahlewi's rule las month. Even though the shah is out of power, studente are uncer tain bout their country": future.

\section*{SA chooses editors for teacher guide \\ all the faculty becausa there}

By Stacy Schneider
Editors for the Student Association Teacher Evaluation Guide have been chosen and more than 30 students have expressed an interest in worling on the publication, said Peter Osborne, chairperson of the guide.
Howard Mansfield, Jim Naughton and Jacqui Salmon will edit the guide. Osborne will act as production manager until the position can be permanently filled.
Evaluators will sit in on at least three classes taught by each instructor being evaluated and write a \(100-125\) word summary about each one, Osborne said.
In addition, eveluators will speak to students in the class and do independent research on the instructor, he added
Evaluation of teachers will be based on whether they are instructive, interesting, and inspiring. The work required and the difficulty of the course will also be included, according to SA guidelines.

We will not be able to cover are not enourh students working on it," Osborne said. The more students helping with the publication the easier it will be produce, he added.
Most Arts and Sciences teachers will be evaluated along with S.L. Newhouse School of Public Communications, School of Management and Human Development teachers. Salmon said.

Not as many people have expressed an interest in covering uch subjects as engineering and computer science, Salmon added.
Thirty-five students have currently shown an interest in evaluating, but Salmon aaid she hopes formore student participation.
Osborne said all evaluations will be written before the end of this semester. The finished publication will be done by September 1
Student Association is submitting a budget of about \(\mathbf{$ 1 0 . 0 0 0}\) for the publication to Continued on page four

Draming bo Loen Coker tult-time studtonta Full-time employees can becomie tukl-tinge stiudente during weekende et SU's Univeraity College.

\section*{Weekend college'}

\section*{By Martta Rose}

Syracuse University has joined a growing number of universities that offer "weekend college" to students who cannot attend classes during regular student hours.
SU started weekend college in nursing through University College in the fall of 1978 , according to Helen Buck, director of the program. It allows students to enmoll full time in the university and take classes Friday evenings and all day Saturday

There are currently 25 to 30 students enrolled in the program, and all except one or two are mat riculated," Buck said.
Weekend college atndents pay the usual UC fee of \($ 80\) per credit hour. Courges are taught by regular faculty members worling overtime. Some courses are tuaght at UC, but moat are tanght at the School of Nursing at \($ \mathbf{U}\).

Occarionally a member of the community who is Imowledgeable in a particular field will teach at the weelzend college. However, he mugt first be approved by the department. Buck arid.

\section*{popularity grows}

UC acts as "an administrative arm of SU in cooporation with the school of nursing," Buck said. "Any course we offer has to be approved by that particular department at SU. All degrees come from SU."
Students in the program need 120 credits in order to receive a degree. Moat of the work involved is independent study, Buek said.
"The length of time this takes depends on the individual student," Buck gaid. "People come to us with different levels of education.
Buck said she is not in favor of luring full-time students to the program.
"We don't discourage them but we don't want to compete with our own central program. This would mean an overload of etudenta who would deliberately take weekend courses in lieu of regularly acheduled courses," she said.
However, Buck said ahe would like to expand the program to include courses of study other than nuraing.
"The problem liea in identifying an audience in the \section*{Look}

\section*{for these}

\section*{regular features} each week
in
The Daily Orange:

From the sidelines each Monday
and

KALEIDOSCOPE every Friday.

\section*{U.U. Speakers Board Presents at Hendricks Chapel} ANDY KAUFMAN

America's next comedy superstar
spectal guest
THE ANN SILVER BAND

Tuesday
March 6
8 p.m.
Tickets on sale now at Spectrum Sundries: \($ 3.60\) in advance 34.50 day of show

\footnotetext{
ANDY KAUFMAN is a Tfequent guest on Trequent Ne"t live" Saturday Night Live. Watch him this Satur. day. Feb. 24) and stars in ABC' comedy hit "Tax -". (hatica Graves).
}

\section*{The evils of unionization \\ munity of teaching and scholarahip \\ unionize to bring pressure for higher legislative appropriations. Would it be}

Editor's note the following is from a letter sent to faculty members from seven profensors wrging thern not return designation cards, which would authorize the National Labor Relations Board to set up unionization elections.
The eponsors of this campaign (to unionize) are convinced they eeek the beet interesta of the factulty and of the univeraity as a whole. We are deeply roubled by this effort, however, believe it is ill-conceived, and hence a serious threat to our academic community. Furthermore, aince a return sufficient to encourage the American Association of University Professors to fle with the NLRB will set in motion a costly, timeconsuming and divisive election prucesseb, we hope you will help forestall this b Sour card. \(m\) aintain that abuge and distrust have so corroded "community" at Syracuse University that the faculty must organize to pratect its righta and interests. Others argue that only strong faculty representation organization and a bargained contract will enable the faculty to assert its authority, thus making a genuine com-possible. We believe the first argument is defeatist and the second is misguided.

\section*{Guest comment}
On the firat argument: in some ways, the relationship between the ad-ployer-ation and faculty is that of ad ployer-amployee, but we ought to try to Collective bargaining forces each party to emphasize its prerogatives in an ad versarial stance. At a university however, the goal shared by faculty, however, the goal shared by faculty, students and administration must to be and learning. While the faculty ming and learning. While the faculty must control educational programs and influence a wide range of other decisions, surely excisting channels, effectively used, offer better hope of that, with less lost, than contract bargaining. And buch channels just as aurely are a bettex wey to settle differences over intermal allocation of resources than union process.

We question, too, whether collective bargaining would be the most effective way either to achieve internal reallocation or to increase overall university income. The crux of industrial bargaining, namely wage increases taken from reduced profits or higher prices, has only limited applicability at a private aniversity.
The faculties of public univergities wise to accept for oursalves the torments of public university finance and politics when we lack access to the potential benfits?
Collective bargaining is enormouly expensive; to add such an unneeded process would burden both sides. The cost, from AAUP dues on one side and from drafte on Eeneral revenues on the from drafty on \(x\) eneral revenues on funds, otherwise available for funds otherwise
On the eecond argument: though the idea of strengthening the bargaining idea of strengthening the bargaining power of the faculty to make poasible real negotiations with a too powerful adrministration has a certain logic, the adrministration has a certain logic, the procedure envisioned, of Worining legalistically toward a precise, binding contract, is almost sure to have contract, is almost sure to have harmful side affects. The process of contract-drawing will heighten rather than diminish the baneful tendency to "choose up aides."
Even if the faculty were to acquire sufficient "clout" to decide rather than advise on many questions of resource allocation, are we sure the quality of decisions would, on the whole, be substantially better than those made through our less formal deliberations? In reflecting on proposals made over the years by administration, faculty, and stadents (even large, wellorcenized segments of them), onefinds foolishness and wisdom, nhorts sightednesa and good intent, on all sides-not just in one or two groupe. It seems unlikely that even univernity faculty, in posseamion of organized power and aiming at a legal contract, Yould be able to avoid an enervating concerrn for power, for legal artfulnesa and for elever bargaining, are those preoccupations likely tomake us better seholars and teachers?
In fact, the long-term good health of a community of echolars depends on the community of scholars concern of students, faculty, and administration for linowledge and wisdom. To give up on that comwisdom. To give up on that commonality and to feel we must submit to an advergial process, alien to an advergial process, alion to comolarship and education, is deeply compromising-perhaps that is why no first-rate private university has accepted collective bargaining.

We hope that all parts of the university can work to retain the habits and aspirations essential to those who seek to study and learn together. This gets a high standard, but that is our "business,"

Professors Jerome Dusek, William Hall, Ralph Ketcham, David Krathwohl, RobertMcClure, Williama. Meyer and Theodore Wallin signed this letter.

\section*{Apartheid: No one seems to care}

Amid the banners proclaiming. "Ma, send money," and "Davis Dome" at last Saturday's televised basketball game, not too many people paid attention to the small group of students protesting a much more serious situation apartheid in South Africa.

Apartheid is South Africa's policy of total racial segregation. Syracuse University financially supports this system by holding about \($ 6.9\) million worth of stocks in eight companies doing business in South Africa.

SU subscribes to the Sullivan Principles, which press for fair employment and living practices for black South Africans. But as these principles are illegal in South Africa, SU's "support" of South Africa's blacks is at most empty approval of a non-existent human rights policy.

And so, members of the Committee to Stop Apartheid walked with their banners at halftime during the game. They are trying to force SU to sell its stocks in companies operating in South Africa.

\section*{Letters}

\section*{Carrier hallway?}

To the editor:
Hooray!! It's about time!! We read with delight the article on the wroposed Ernie Davis Stadium (although we prefer the Ernie Davis The Daily Orange. Wry 13 th isaue of The Daily Orange. We feel it's about time everyone concerned - the public sports spectators, Syracuse University faculty and alumni, and SU students joined together to achieve victory in naming the new achieve victory in naming the new dome. ome.
As ardent supporters of all SU sporta, we feel the new dome should inscribe a name that inspires the true meaning of competitive sports. and certainly the late Ernie Davis represents this. A fine scholar, a respected footbail player, and a highly regarded young man, Ernie Davis certainly represented character and success, and is in himself a tribute to the fine institution of learning and growing at Syracuse University.

What a shame it will be if again the high social power of "big melection of the name of the new dome. In our opinion, the suggestion of naming the domeafter the biggest monetarial contributor would only be a matter of local status and fame to that certain contributor. Naming it after Ernie Davis will give a sense of overall status and fame to those who knew him, were teammates with him, or aimply have read about him and therefore respect him as an outstanding and admired athlete. May we suggest that large monetarial contributors, whose generosity is greatly acknowledged and appreciated, have alternatesections of the dome carry their respected names, such as certain sections or entrance hallways; even inscribed plaques on the walls acknowledging the names of the biggest contributors to the dome. We would be proud to aee the new dome named after the great Ernie Davis, the first and only to date, SU Heisman Trophy winner. We hope SU's students and all concerned can be victorious in this salute to the late Ernie Davis.

James L. Cummings
Lynn B. Cumminge

The Daily Orange
Seot French aditor in chief
The Daily Orange Corp.. 1101 E. Adams St., Syracuas. N.Y.. 13210, publishes The Daily Orange weekdayt of the mcademic year. Editorial: 1318 ) 423-2127; business:
(315) 423-2314.

\section*{But many people didn't seem to} care.
People didn't care that black South African children are dying from malnutrition daily. People didn't care that black South African family life is totally disrupted as husbands, wives and children as husbands, wives and children periods of time.
Some student reaction to CSA's protest was that politics and demonstrations should be kept out of sports.
But that attitude smacks of hypocrisy. If SU students really believed the game was only for basketball, there would have been no banners or chanting for the Davis Dome.
Sporting events can be an effective stage for groups protesting against oppressive systems like South Africa's.

The most distressing reactions to CSA's banners came from one student who tore an anti-apartheid sign down as he passed, and another who shouted, "If apartheid is against blacks then I am for it."
Racist comments such as that are a sign of ignorance. If no morality or sense of justice lies behind our \($ 25,000\) education, then that education is worthless. No amount of courses or reading could cure such ignorance.

The little positive attention paid to CSA's banners is a sad comment on our priorities. We should all fight for the Davis Dome. But when human rights takes a back seat to a basketball game, we cannot blame the adminigtration for also ignoring the issue.

Marilyn Marks
for The Daily Orange

\section*{Department}

\section*{Strange Phenomena}

\section*{LIN A fREE}

\section*{\(1 / 2\) RECE}

Gather up your dorm floor, cottage, fraternity, sorority or club and come on down to ALPHA PHI OMEGA'S BLOOD DRIVE. Group donating the most blood wins.

\author{
Thursday, Feb. 22 nd \\ Friday, Feb. 23 rd 10:00-3:45
}

Trophy Room- Archbold Cym

Subsidizad by the student fee

\section*{Most texts} Most textbools cridered for the bpring semester art in totock at the booltatore, ac cording to Frank Koontz, manager and textbook buyer at SUB.

However, there are atill some books not in stock.

\section*{Transmitter 9}

By Lanurie Bargtow Student-run radio atation WJLZ-AM is operating with a new transmitter starting today.

The gtation will now be able to cover the entire campus, which the station has never Which the btation has never done before, said Brian Isaaccone before, said Erian Isa gon.
Gon. WJPL chief eagineer.
The new transmitter is located on top of the SA baild-

\section*{\(\star\) SU offers}

Syracuge area and determining how large that mudience is," she baid.
Tima Stretch, director of the \section*{ther reasond for delays included books being out of print}

Koontz said the main reason for unavailable textbookz was chat matay profeseors did mot place their order by the Oct. 27 deadlime. He entimated that the bookstore received only 10 to 20 percent of their total orders by thist date.
or stock lost orders by publiahers, and, for certain courses, larger claes aizee than oxiginally anticipated.

Koontz Baid the boolcstore receives orders constantly and therefore it ia not likely that all books would be in at the eama time.
ing on University Avenue. It will work in conjunction with the old tranamitter, which is on Day Hall.
WJPZ has had transmiseion problems since lightning wtruck its main tranamitter atruck its main transtriker Wilkenson, geaneral manager. The old tranamitter cannot be repaired immediately because it is encased in ice.

Wilkenson gaid.
The new transmitter is much more convenient because the station's offices are in the SA building, Wilkenam amid.
Isancion built both trannmitters by hand. Each has a power output of 100 has a power output of 100 millowatts as required by the Federal Communications Commingion for non-licensed Commates Btations.

\section*{a 'weekend} weekend college program at Mundelein College in Chicago, asid that program offers degree programs in a varietyof fielde. The program also takea ad vantage of facilitiea and services that would otherwise go unused on weekends.

\section*{college"}
"The main building where classes are held is heated year round. Parking lota can be filed on weekends and the library qets used," Stretch said. Enrollment at Mundelein increased more than 33 percent in the lagt four years due to the program, she aaid.
Stretch added that the faculty members do not work overtime. "Their schedules are adjusted to fit the program. For instance, a facalty For instance, not work on Wednesdays, so that he may work on Saturdays," she said.

Currently, the weekend program at Dowling College on Long laland offers courses in education, businesis and liberal aute. Rusaell Lauper, Dowling's vice president for special programa, hopes to expand the program further.
"The weekend program does lower costs. We are using the same adminigtrative bodv. not hiring new teachers," Lauper said. "Security is on duty, regardlesa. Facilities such as heating and computers, which heatingainable geven diyys a are a vailabie are made use of."
Lauper also stated that the program aided Dowling'a en. rollment. "The weelrend program benefited a new audience of people who nor. mally could not attend college on a regular basis," he eaid.

Mary Lou Broadwell, a nurbe at A.I Lee Memonal Hospital in Fulton, worke full Hospital in Fulton, y Unde's time and atcends two or weekend college for three nights a weelc.
aI think the program is an ideal way for people who cannot attend college on a regular mchedule," she said.

Pat Eppolito, a nurge at Aubura (N.Y.) Mernoxial Hoe pital, also worke full time on weetanys.
"It's important for ta to get our degrees, and it's difincult to do that while working full time," she anid. "'yc's wimekend college prograun is the oniy poasibility in reachthe oniy poagit ing that goal."

\section*{\(\star\) Guide}

Continued from page one the finance bogerd. Obborme anid he doem not anticipate any problems with funding.

Evalationt are writien on a voluntary basig. SA in holding a meeting at \(7: 15\) p.m. Thurs dayin Maxwell Anditorium for anyone interested in working. on the gride.

\section*{SU dancers: speaking a universal language}

\section*{Editor's note This is the last partin eight-part series on the arts at \(S U\).}

They squint out the window at the through like watercolors, casting cirthrough like watercolors, inoulders and stretched ankies. Eibows crook alightly, heads tilt and bodies spring forward in a movement of precision forward in a movement of precision repeat the movement. They gpeak with fingers unfoiding, their bodes hing and bending. They speak in one of the most Dance, as a ballet, a primitive ceremonial. or a Spanish calypso, ultimately communicates through the variations of movement. The dips and twirls of dancers in the ballet class communicate more than a message. They show the roots of cultural and a high degree of control of the body.

Yet.
he ballet the precise movements of University is somewhat undefined bordering between its value as an educational tool and as an art form. There is no damce department, and are offered under the physical education department, a program geared more toward academics than trate on the art form are provided primarily for drama students in the School of Visual and Performing Arts. "We see dance as an educational mediurn," said Peter Cataldi, chairman Our poals are to protion department. experience and to provide the skills to teach dance." Although Cataldi believes the artistic elements of dance are important, he explained he does not have the resources to pursue them. His priorities lie in familiarizing students prith dance so they can appreciate it with dance so they can appreciate it more as an art form. "You don't have to more as an art form. You donthave to be a great dancer, but you should know what goes into it Cataldi's philosophy dates back to the physical education department in the 30 s . Such courses as rhythmic work and folk dancing stressed skills rounded. Skills in teaching dance and understanding the technique and history of cultural dances were emphasized. Moet women took dance classen as requiremente for becoming

\section*{Although there is no dance major at SU . dance clasees atwoym clase ourt.} physical education teachera.
One auch person was Rita Bjork, who now teaches dance in her physical High School. Bjork admits she is not a great dancer, yet she is more interested in learning as many skills as she can.
"How can I be a tremendous dancer, badminton player and swimmer if I time?" she asked.

Yet there were a few women at SU whose interest in dance extended beyond general knowledge and technique. Dance instructor Margot Harper introduced the idea of offering modern dance in 1930. However, she did not detailisonian, a physical education bulletin.

Modern dance definitely has a place in progressive education, she wrote. creative work rather than on profesposition and form outweighed technical perfection.
Barbara Nash followed Harper in teaching modern dance. Yet Nash gaid creative dance in the \({ }^{7} 70 \mathrm{as}\).
Nash was a particularly active faculty member who tried to obtain a dance major at SU. She said her efforts never went beyond the planning never went beyond the planning stages. "It wasn't the right time," ahe stages. "It wasn't the right time," ahe said.
While the struggle for greater recognition of dance continued, recognition of dance continued, cultural sand social emphasis in classes 1962 featured men and women \(8 W\) inging, to the beat of "Patti Cake Polka," or "The Mexican Walk." Women dressed in their required costumes - white shirts, colored skirts, and sneakers - and locked arms with men de Instructors aimed to helpstudentaincrease skills in group relationships, develop ability in such common step: develop ability in auch common steps as the polka and waltz, and increase their understanding and appreciation of movement, according to a faculty of movement, according to a faculty manual.

Lorraine Havercroft, professional dancer and head of Lorraine Haver croft studios, recalls being at SU during this time while earning a B.A. in fine arts. Although shechoreographed, drama productions, she did not pardrama productions, she dida not par ticipate in dance activitiesennt. "There was very little happening in dance," she said.

The reorganization of the SU dance club in the late ' 60 marked an increased student awareness of the creative aspects of dance. In the past the group had performed such cultural steps as Russian Cossack dances and gym routines. Yet, in an interview in a 1967 Daily Orange, the group's codirector explained, "We are more interested in developing an artistic concern in our work, rather than regarding it as a purely gymnastic exercise program.'
A year later, the goals became even "A dancer cannot imagine life without dance. It'a our eacape from the mundane world." Jazr and improvisational dance club demonstrations became outlets for greater expression.
Expreasion was coupled with greater discipline with the introduction of ballet courses in 1972. Five years later, the curriculum expanded with the introduction of jazz, and additionallevels in tap, aerobic (stressing physical fitness) and modern dance clanses.

An addition to the increasing populanty of ballet at Sing is clans. Although the class has been offered at SU for aeveral years, it has only recenty been accredited. During a typical Wednesday night class, Medici, dressed in a creme-colored suit and shouting instructions over a mic rophone. Men and women dressed in jeans do the bustap to the music of "Saturday Night Fover." One woman ptranger next to herp "Soxry, I don't mow what I'm doing." ahe laughs selfcompcioualy.

SU dancers work hard to achiove the discipline raquired for the Come on," Medici coaches. "The more you put into it, the more you get out of it. You'restill ahead of

According to Medici, who also teaches dance at his own studio in downtown Syracuse, student interest in disco and social dance has remained strong over the years. Medici has ob tained many students from his SU classes to help him teach at his etudio.
Even those students who do not become experts find the class rewarding. "It's not that difficult. I just wanted to learn how to dance, because I'm a klutz," said student Marcia Andrews.
Yet, unlike thestudents who can take advantage of Medici's social dance class, ballet students do not always have the same opportunity. SU dance instructor Coy Stolz said she turned away 100 students last semester because there wasno room in her class. Besides the lack of faculty and apace, SU dance instructor Beverly Dorland is particularly annoyed with the absence of a dance major.
t'a criminal, Dorland said. For a campus as large as SU, Doriand forieves dance should be a requiremen Such students involved in the arts. Cataldi. He said he considered the option of creating a dance program with VPA, but the idea was not feasible.
"The major factoris money," Catald "The maid. "It would mean having more resources and hiring at least a couple of profersors., That kind of money is not available.
Despite the absence of a dancemajor several SU graduates managed to integrate dance in their careers. Most have pursued dance therapy. However, Paul Taylor, originally a football player at SU,
According to Dorland, many students begin taking classes and later develop an interest in the field.

One of her students was Lee Levinson, who graduated with a B.A. in religion last year and is now teaching movement and music at the Child Care Council in Syracuse. Levinison ubes dance to stimulate creativity in her students. Although ghe gaid the SU danee couraes lacked "performance opportunity and provided Levinson learned a great deal from que, instructon learned a great deal from her instructors. She said ahe noted a change when Dorland arrived on cam pus and said the instructor holped her In her claseses, Dorland sity.
In her claskes, Dorland stresses the aeed to become aware of ones body before perfecting technique. "Dance is not simply emoting. It's getting to cnow how to present your emotions, he said. "You have to feel what you convey and present it in
To the slow, acoustic guitar music in a modern dance class, women extend a mocern dance class, women extend the floor. They atudy themiselves in the mirror, emilisg at the images staring back at them
Dorland urges students to think as well an feel while they dance. She may ask a group of atudents to "be a aculpture" or dance an exprestion of depresaion In illastrating a theme, atudants will alto improve their techni-
But above all, Dorland strives for profesaionalism. "Doingjumping jacks Like Dorland, Stolz has high expec tations of her atudents.
"Dance should be a discipline as well as a joy one reinforcing the other," Soltz said. Her classes move quickly, but she always has time to give in dividualized attention to her students. At one point in her class, she panies and checks the position of each student's foot
The discipline in Stolz's ballet class can be applied to areas other than dance. One landscape architecture student in Stolz's class, Peter Serduk, finds the discipline in dance valuable to his work in designing houses. Like dance movements, his houses are "now thrown together. They require contral," Serduk exhibited a smooth clay house he deaigned. "They require control," he said. "In arabesque."
The combination of feeling and discipline dancers speak of seems to be a common thread among teachers and students. Linda Sabo, ingtructor of musical movement courses for drama majors in VPA, often asics her students to "feel the music"' as they dance, yet at he same time demands their total

Sociology and ballet atudent Nita Yulman agreed. She described the work Yulman agreed. She described the work in dance as "the type of concentration \(I\) in dance
"Dance is something I feel I need" aid Pam Worley, an advertising and English major. 'I get itchy if I'm away from it too long. Grot to get rid of the energy somehow.
Worley, who is one of the few nondrama majors taking classes with Sabo, has choreagraphed for SU Musical Stage and for several summer theater groups. In considering dance as a career. Worley said, "I weighed the possibilities, but i couldn't handle all the failures."
Yet she added, "Sometimes it's frustrating to think I won't go all the way with it.'
Betty Borrier, a 32-year-old student of Lorraine Havercroft, compares her drive toward dance to a "thirst.
The more you improve and accomplieh, the more you "It's like a hunger."
And religion professor Amanda Porterfield talces it even a step further. "Danceis ametaphor for life" she said. "To be really dancing is what living is all about," Porterfield, who has taken aeveral dance courses at SU and at Syracuse dance courses at \(S U\) and at Syracuse Bailet believea dance is a signincan means of self-gratification. Having means of self-gratification. Having Written ereveral articies and papers on dance, she in planning to teach a course in the fall, called "Sacred Dance." The in the fall, called "Sacred Dance, The course will deal with

Although becoming a dancer is a fantasy of hers, Porterfield said, "I am more interested in dancing and enjoying it."
Porterfield describes the feelingz of women and men alike who are discovering dance, be it inside the gym or outside the stadio walls, within thempelves or throngh others. And despite the uncertain direction dance will talce at SU, its impact contimuen to emhraces the maling of Fin ithiti

\section*{Charlie Daniels Band rocks}

By Norm Meyer
The past, present and future phases of Southern rock were ahowcased during The Charlio-Daniels rock wand concert at the Syracuse Area Landmark Theatre Sunday evening.
The enthusiastic capacity crowd witnessed a changing of the guard in Southern rock leadership. changing of the guard in Southern rock eadersinp. The legacies left behind by Late Dunde rockera Hani Wiliams, Elvis Presiey, Duane Auman and Ronnie Van Zant have been taiken up by the CDB, which in and Billy Crain.
The concert demonstrated the impact the deceased musiciana, empecially Van Zant of Lynyrd Skynyrd, have had on muric and on thair fellow musicians. The Henry Paul Band, the opening group, featured the dual lead guitar jame Skynyrd evolved from the early Allman Brothers. Similarly, the fierce regional pride that characterized Van Zant's music in now a trademark of the CDB.
The Henry Paul Band dedicated "Grey Ghost" to Van Zant, and the song ended with a "Freebird"-style

Charlie Daniels* fiddle and Tom Crain's guitar conjurad up the spirit of the South at the Charlie Daniels Band concert Sunday night.

\section*{at Landmark} jam. Then duriag intermisaion a tape of Skynyrd' last album of new materini, Street Survivors, was played. But the most geanine show of emotion came during the CDB's playing of "Reflections," Daniels' tribute to Vax Zant. It waseany to imagine the pavin of losing a clome friend when Daniels bang about Van Zant: "I thank God I was bleased/Juet to know you."

Along with The Marshal Tucker Band and the reformed Allmans, the CDB is Southern rock in its reformed Allmans, the CDB is Southern rock in present stage. During its 17 -fong set, the. CDB presented a tizht package of old and new songa of presented a tizht package of old and new songa of rowdy romantisism. From the opering "Funky State of Mind," in which Daniels complains about being discoed, puniced, reggaed and New Waved to death, to the third encore, the traditional "Orange Blowsom Special," the CDB offered an energetic escape from the frigid weather and the dog days of February.
Highlighting the show were the renditions of somgs from Fire On The Mountain - Daniels' beet album "Trudy," "Caballo Diabla" and "Long-Haired Country Boy." Dynamic instrumentation duxing "Birmingham Blues" and the passionate blues-shouting of Taz DiGregorio during "Pation for the Pain" also provided high points.
The instrumental work of Daniels, DiGregorio on keyboards, and guitarist Tom Crain was outatanding. Daniels' guitar playing neems to improve with each tour he makes, while his fiddling is alternately controlled or frenxied and always exciting.
The one glaring weakness of the CDB is ita in consistent songwriting. It showed on wome of the older twnes like "Funiky Junky," and it was alro apparent on most of the new songs they performed: HLet the Blindman Play" is a trite, melodramatic atoiry about a blind bluesman, and "Rainbow Ride" is ethereal junk worthy of Styx. And Reflections, the new CDB album due in late March, doesn't look strong. Which brings us to the future of Southern rock.

When Daniels dedicated the aecond encore, the prophetic "The South's Gonna Do It," to Williams, Prealey, Allman and Van Zant, he should have added The Henry Paul Band to the list. During its opening 40 -minute set, the young band from Florida displayed fine instrumental talents. Most impreasive was guitarist Billy Crain, younger brother of the CDB's Tom Crain. If Paul, formerly of the Outlaws, can add songwriting to the list of his band'a assets, the future of Southern rock may be in good hands.

\section*{UNIVERSITY UNION PRESENTS} WINTER WEEK EVENTS CALENDAR FEBRUARY 22-27

Thursday, Feb. 22

\section*{CHRIS RUSH} national lampoon comedian Grant Aud. 9:00 p.m. Tickets: \(\mathbf{$ 1 . 5 0}\) in advance, \($ 2.00\) at the door

Available at University Union and Spectrum Sundries

Friday, Feb. 23
MOVIES

\section*{Bez
BUCK
PRIVATES}

7 p.m.&10p.m.
6,8,10 & 12 p.m.
Gifford Aud. $1.50
CINEMA ONE
CINEMA TWO

Tuesday, Feb. 27
THE KINKS

\section*{8:30 p.m.}

LANDMARK THEATRE
Tickets \(\mathbf{$ 6 . 5 0}\) and \($ 7.50\)
Available at
Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records 8

\section*{Fans beat snow to cheer Aztec Two-Step}

By Chuck Obuchownki Despite a long, cold wait outside the door and inadequate seating in Jabberwocky, capacity crowds at both Aztec Two-Step shows Saturday night had plenty of enthusiasm left for the band.
The group gave them their noney's worth. From the blazing "Looking Glass" to the ethereal "Highway Song," Aztec Two-Step was in top form. The playing was tight, the singing relaxed.
the gingowler, one of the two founding memberi, said before the first get that the newest incarnation of the band is taking carnation of the band is taining a differen mus 'int's gimpler than the last. and a lot more more succinct and a he said. fun." he said

The present Two-Stepgroup, which has been together since September, includes Fowler on vocale and rhythm guitar, long-time partner Neil Shulman on vocals and lead guitar, and two newcomers Marahal Rosenberg on druma and percusaion and Jeremiah Burnham on bass, flute and background vocals.

The emphasis on fun was ap parent throughout the night. Fowler strutted onstage wear ing a pair of overgrown sunglasses for the opening number "Going on Saturday." Rosenberg attacked his bongos, congas and sundry percussion instruments with a madman's vigor. Shulman brought laughter from the crowd with his banter between

Their humor and casual stage presence make Actec Two-Step extremely accessible to its audiences, but it is the band'a music that communicates the strongest goodwill message.
The group drew heavily from its 1972 debut album which, ac cording to Fowler, has been its biggest seller. "Baking." "So Easy," and the encore nong "The persecution and song toration of Dean Moriarty" toration of Dean Moriarty the night. the night.
"Our last band (which included a keyboard player and electric gutarist seemed to Step flavorinal Shulman adStep flavor," Shulman admitted after the show.
Saturday night the group avoided material from Adjoining Suites, recorcled with the previous band. In fact When they played "Brand New,' a pop-oriented aong that breaks from Two-Step's traditional folk, Fowler was prompted to say, "here's something from our, last album, believe it or not."

The group was not afraid to experiment with different styles, however. "Brand New' included a Latin-influenced percussion jam that had the audience clapping along. Shulman demonstrated an ability to rock ' \(n\) ' roll when he picked up his electric guitar for three tunes. Burnham's flute playing was also used to good advantage.

Aztre Two-Step pleasad a full house at Jab Saturday night with some high-stepping music and humor.

Toward the end of the set, Aztec Two-Step played a catchy new Shulman composition entitled "Never Sto-" A new album will not be forthcoming for some time, though, because the band is currently in the process of shopping around" for a new label.
Opening for Aztec Two-Step were local folk-rockers Next of Kin. Led by Kenny Loggins sound-alike Joe Salvo, the group's writer and acoustic guitar player, the Kin played a pleasant mixture of original material and songs by other artigts.
"Where You Gonna Run To," a lively rocker reminiscent of Dan Fogelberg, stood out among the group's original compositions.
Irwin Figeh's piano-playing was the musical highlight of the 40 -minute get. Next of Kin would do well to allow him more room for inmprovisation. The crowd obviously enjoyed what little solo space he had.

Vocalist Karen Savoca was at her best on the Gershwin classic "Summertime," which she performed with soul and a proper wishful thinking at titude for a February night.
Gary Goal and Gil Castle on bass and drums respectively, provided solid rhythmic back-up.
University Union TV taped Saturday's 8 p.rn. concert and an interview with Aztec TwoStep. A date for broadcast has not been set.

Work on investigative stories.

Write for the Projects department.
Call Carl at 423-2127.

\section*{SKI}

LIMITED SPACE - SIGN UP EARLY
SUSKI TO KILLINGTON
Syracuse University Ski Clut
subsidized by the student fee

\section*{The Black Experience Lecture Series Presents: \\ Black Politics in the 70's and the legacy of Black Power}

\title{
Guest Lecturer: \\ K.C. Morrison, Professor Afro-American Studies Dept. Syracuse University
}

\section*{Synopsis:}

Focus will be on the ideology of Black Power as expressed in the 1960 's and the emphasis of Blacks on winning ecectoral offices in the 1970:s.

\section*{Given by :}

The Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Library in conjunction with The Office of Minority Affairs

\author{
Wednesday, Feb. 21, 1979 - 8 p.m. Cultural center. 104 Walnut PI. \\ FREE - Open to S.U. Community
}
\(+\)
\(\therefore \rightarrow \Omega=L\)

\section*{Landmark Theatre preserves golden look}

By Beth Hershenhart The marquee is the only th ing that draws attention to the staid white building on South Salina Street Harried ohoppers walk by the Landmark Theatre, many hever stopping to look inside.
The lobby walls are adorned with oriental scenes. Gold and wood carvinge cover the ceiling. Mirrors, balconies and plush, red carpeting create a fantasy world, leaving the grayness of downtown Syracuse behind.

The finely carved wood bannister leads up a wide, winding staircase to Rose Bernthal's of fice. Her well-lit, moderniy furnished room contrasts with the dark, antique envirornment of the Landmark Theatre.

From behind her neat desk. Bernthal directa this myriad of contrast. She has been the theater's director one year and in that time has transformed the former Loews Theater into a center of cultural diveraity.
"As a national historic landmark," the said, "we are not allowed to ehange a hairof the theater without permisaion."

Bernthal. however, would not want to make any "terations,
"I love it," she said. "Except for the color of the lobby walls. everything is just as it used to be.
Built in 1928, Loews Theater was a Central New York haven for dramatic and musical entertainment. Different times and audiences tool the theater from its heyday to evenoual decline after its film offeringe changed.
"'The theater began to show films of violence that catered to the inner-city youth, Bernthal noted.
The Loews management then sold the decaying theater to the Sutton Corporation, intending to deetroy the etruc ture. Bernthal observes that the management did not count on the atrong feelings Central New Yorkers had for the theater.
Area residents took action to "Save the Loews." They worked to have the theater declared a national historic landmark and received funds from the New York State Department of Parks ance Recreation to keep it open After an extensive fund-rais ing campaign was added to these fforts waurt was tathored to purchase the Was gathered to purchase the Bernthal had Bemthal had an active role in these campaigns and eventually became director of the new" theater
The dark-haired woman first developed her interest in the arts es a Syracuae University music student \({ }^{\text {"My Minterests have always }}\) been in music, theater and the arts," she said. "As a profes gional violinist, I played in the Syracuae Symphony for about i5 years. I also directed the Famous Artist series with my husband. This program brings distinguished performers' to the area as a part of the Symphoay."

In her work with the theater, Bernthal has proved to be a master of combining the uncombinable. The Landmark Thenter offexs iks pakrons rock concerts, symphonies, ballets and film classics. With a young staff. Bernthal energetically leads the theater in countless directions. At the only theater left in the downtown area, Landmark i accessible to residents who cannot maike it out to the uburban movie inouse. Bernthal picked up on this ad vantage and initiated a clagsi film series. She aleo began program geared toward senior citizens and a "Junchbox theater," offering free events during lunch hour
In addition to thege new pograme Bernthal has two maior goals for the theater "I would like to make the heater as beautiful and ex heater as it wean in ite forme quisite as it was in its former ays, she said, falso wanl to me the hieakersp, Berathal viewn.
Bernthal viewn the changes in the theater and her ac complishmente with much pride.
"In ita first year of operation in 1978 ," ahe said, "the Landmert Theater he already entertained over already entertained over conim people. hope it can continue people.
Artic
Articulate and precise in her speech, Bernthal has brought a cosmopolitam appreciation of Her deep drawing voice and Her deep, drawing voice and aoft-apoken manner have allowed the 3,000-seat thester No obtain funding from the New York State Council for the Arts and have helped it aurvive changing eras.

Her devotion to what she calls "a very intereating job" has. encouraged people to volunteer their time and oldils to theater. Volunteers clean, repair and work during evente.
For Syracute residents; Rose Bernthal will continne to per sonify the contrast between new ideas and old shrroundinga. She delightain hey kingdom of culture, bringing

\section*{Building Your Body Beautiful at}

\section*{Syracuse Sports Conditioners}

\section*{Now ONLY during the Month of February 2 people can get in} shape for the price of 1 Wornen as well as men can enjoy the advanced technology of the Nautilus total fitness program which features significant reduction of body fat while developing strength and fiexibility. Only two 45 minute seasions a week are required to maintein that slim trim look.
call Steve or Bob ta make on appaintment for your
FREE TRIAL 476-2274
Syracuse Sports Conditioners 716 East Washington St. across from the Mittiown Piata

\section*{Bouie: \\ The defensive ace is an offense threat}

\section*{By Mark Gafring}

If you ask Syracuse University baskethall coach Jim Boeheim what Roosevelt Bouie's most important role to the team is, hell ayy, 11 star center is aurprising everyone, by leading the Orange in scoring bith 15.3 points per game.
"I knew I could shoot but I could help the team more on defense than help the team more on delense han on offense, not necebsary for me to games it's not necesaary fror me the score. If I can get the ball guards well get the game."
guards well get she game.
After two yearsas starting center,
Bouie became known for his defenBouie became known for his defensive and rebounding skills and not sive and rebounding skills and not for his scoring average per game. With the depar11 points per game. With the depar ture of present New Onleans Jazr forward Marty Byrnes, Boeheim forward Marty Byrnes, Boeheim ing and found it in Bouie.
"It is a normal progression so that they (the players) score more each season"" Boehcim said. "It is a gradual increase. Roosevelt has more confidence and his teammates have more confidence in him."

"EYe has improved 100 percent. He is a lot more offersive-minded. We'll give him the shot from 5 to 8 feet from the basket," said Dale Shacballpleyer and he does a lot of thinga well."

This season, Bouie has dominated some games. "People are more aware of me," Bouie said. Much of his improvement can be attributed to many hard hours of practice. He spent a bout two hours each day simply taling jump shots.
"He had six weeks of summer SU's Boeheim said, referring to Sicipation of Italy and Bowie's participation with the Olympic development team.

In Italy, Bouie led SU in acoring With a 22 points per game average. The summer provided Bouie with experience against the towering Practice is the key to Bouie's success this season. "Roosevelt works hard in practice. Most big guys are the laziest. Roosevelt is the opposite," Boeheim aaid.

Through his effort, Bouie has improved his shot. "It was mostly mechanical. I was erratic In my freshmaan year I wouldn't shoot it the same way every time. I had to learn to keep my feet square to the basket and follow through."
Foul ahooting for the center has also been steadily improving mecause of mechanics, Afiriand ince, mike this, before I ahot," demonstrated Bouie. "I just spread my feet more to get more balance." my feet more to get more balance." came into the SU basketball came into the Sugram under the most pressure of program under the most pressure of the pressure. He doesn't let things get him down Bonie's freshmge year wasizpressive, gaining ecAC Al-Rookie honors and living up thigh expectations set for him.
Bouie's favorite shots are the high Boune favorite shots are the high percentage layup and dunk shots. However, he can do much more. "I can hit from \(12-15\) feet consistently, but then I can't rebound,' maid Bouie, whose rebounds are needed more. He would rather pass off to theguards instead of shooting, since the defense usually closes in on him, leaving the guards open. But if Bouie gets the open jumper, he won't hesitate to shoot.
As the season nears its final stage, Bovie can't hesitate as his presence in SU's well-balanced attack is vital. "We can win a lot of,games without him scoring a point," Boeheim said. That may be true against teams in the NCAA tourney, Bouie's new found scoring punch will be needed.

SU center Roosevelt Bouie (50) has his oye on the basket more this season after eatablishing a reputation as a defensive standout his first two yaars. Below left he slams in two againat St. John's.
"He has improved 100 percent.

\section*{We'll give him the shot} from 5 to 8 feet from the basket.
He is a lot more offense-minded. \({ }^{4}\)
—Dale Shackleford

\section*{Swimmers a surprise in Philly}

The SU men's bwim team made double trouble for Villanova and Temple this weekend, winning meets by scores of \(60-53\) and \(68-45\), rempectively.

The Orangemen did surprisingly well, winming eventa in which competitors had a strong home-pool advantage.

Of the 128 points, the Orange scored over the weekend, one-fourth were acored by divers Rick Bolstad and Steve Russell. Their one-two finish on the one-meter board helped SU overcome a five-point deficit againat Villanova.
Then German Perex awam first in the 200 yard butterfly, with a tirme of \(1: 59.9\), putting the Orange ahead of the Wildcats for good.

Guy Gunderson and Ed Laylor took first places in the 200 -yard backstroke and 500 -yard freestyle, reapectively. Then in the 200 -yard breaststroke, Bruee Knowles acored a superb come from behind victory.
The following day against Temple, Ed Laylor had a double win in the 200 -yard and 500 -yard freestyle events. The 200 yard fresestyle was the most important race, an Laylor beat Temple's best swimmer, Tom Quarry, in 1:44.8. Still, 'Temple remained tough Peter Garofalo also had a double win, in the 1000 -yard freestyle and 200 -yard breastatroke. Perex completed his beat weelkend of the neason Perez completed his beet weekend of th.
with another win in the 200 -yard fily.

At this point, SUl led by five, but Temple came back strong to take the lead.

SU freshman Dave McIntyre then finished third in the 500-yard freestyle.

When Bolstad and Russell took first and second on the three-meter board, the meet was out of reach for Temple.
Mike Kriley, Peter Garafalo, Robert Hayes, and Ed Laylor funiahed the meet with a win in the 400 -yard freeatyle relay.
SU Coach Jon Buzzard said he has had teams "with better recoris, and better times, but never with better spirit."
The Orangemen's last meet of the season is Sunday at 2 p.m. against East Stroudeburg. an important meet because it will docide if the Orangemen (7-6) finish the season with a winning record.

\section*{Colgate tickets}

Tickets for Saturday's basketball game at Manley Field House against Colgate can be picked up tomorrow and Thursday at the Archbold Gym and Manley ticket windows from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The game will mark aenior co-captain Dale Shackleford's last game under the dome. Shackleford, who has played all three positions in his four-year varsity career at Syracuse, is currently fifth on the Orange all-time acoring list and will currently fifth on the Orange ailtime scoring list an

The game will also be SU'slast chance to extend thelongest home-court winning streak in the nation, which is currently at 43.

\section*{Orange move to sixth}

United Press International released its weekly coaches poll yesterday and Syracuse moved from geventh to sixth in the rankings. The position is the higheat for \(S U\) since they finished sixth in the nation at the end of the 1976-77 season.

\section*{Sportswriters' meeting}

There will be a mandatory Daily Orange sportawriters' meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3. New writers are also welcome.

Harry Fig

by Peter Wallace

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{ToDAY}

Gmy men"e aocial is held from 8 p.m. -midnight every Tuesday at Gay Pracen Association. 103 Colfegre ions witl be held at 10 pm Wine. cheesse, beer, soda.
Organic chernistry serriner: Graduate student Ed Parker will speak on "Svithessis and Chernistry of Metal Complexes Derived from Thietes" at 11:40 a.m. today in 210 Bowne.
Chemietry colloquium: Bennie Ware from Harvard will speak on Laser Etectrophoretic Anairstis of ing Cells" ar 3:15 p.m. vodey in 303 Bowne.

SUSK! meets at 7 tonight in Max. well Auditorium to discuss the soring break ski trip 10 Sugarbush. Ver mont sils for five days of tit? tickets. lodging and dinners.
Taming the Mind." an in troductory course in Eutidhist study and practice. is held at 7:30 tonigh: at Community House, 711 Comstoc Ave. Sudy Groun

\section*{Outing Cl}

Outisig Club meensat 7:30 ionigh at the Mount innurder Graham Din ing Hall. Sign up for West Virginia trip for spring break. Gross-country weekend.

Non-profir Wesreotr Cafo has four-course dinner for \($ 2.25\) tonight Call \(424-9725\)
Career plemning work shop will be heid at \(7: 30\) tonight at the Cuttural conied the Office Minoripy fairs.

School of Managemen Sophomore Convocstion will be held at 7 tonight in the Alumnae Lounge. Women's Building Natural farvily planning session will be held at 8 tonight at the Newman Center.
National Engineers" Weak
Robert fornaday wift speak on
-Profossional Engineering and Consulting" from 4-5 p.m. in 335 Link Froe coriee.
TOMORROW
Men's rugioy club practices tomortow and Thursciay en 4:30pm. in Gym B. Wornen's Building. New members welcome. Call Fred Groenaway at 423-3436.
Interseted in Gierman mcthrities? Come to Community Mouse. 711 Comstock Ave., from 2-3p.m. tomor Dow. All welcome
Dan and lintiant Mary Ellen Letter mass and harriet-Free interior Design at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in the design conference room. Archbotid Gym buserment.
Turkizh tunct will oe held at noon comorrow at the international Siudent Office, 230 Euclid Ave. All waicome. 81.50 .
Nationst Enginests' Weak: Tour of Crucible Steel will be held from 2 4 p.m. tomorrow. Call Aligrn Pavlick Undergreude te Goography Clut returns at \(4: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\), tomotrow in 323 HBC

\section*{Norices}

Newhouse poer edviser applications are avaitable in the dean's office, Newhouse 1
Syracuse Peview is accepting fic ion. poetry. photos and art uni Miarch 2. Submit works at 103 College place or call 423-1401.
Pro-mierriage clesseas will be offered the first three Monday hights in April at the Newrnan Center.
Tickezs on sale at the Newman Cenier for the Erin NOTICES FOR M
EVERYNHERE GRE CUE. THEREB Orange. \(1101 E\) Adams at the Dail two deys belore publication. Natne and telephone number of sencer nust be inclubed. Limit an nouncernents to 20 words No an mouncements are taken over the phone

What affects our daily lives?
That's what The Daily Orange wants in its Living section.
Call Wally at 423-2127.

\section*{Tuesday Madness \\  \\ On Tuesdays \($ 100\) Off Any Large. Ono-ftom Pitcen with zhie coupon (one coupon tper pizza) Good all Tuesdeys \\ in February \\ THARTVE \\ MADNESSI \\ Fast, Froe Dolinary CALL US 476-6111 \\ }

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

For Sale: Full line of nait and skin care tiems. discount prices. ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPPLY, 727 S . Crouse Ave., next to Post Office 475-9289.
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: PRO KED SNEAKERS $10. OUILTED LINED SNORKEL PARKAS \($ 19.95\). INSULATED RUBBER BOOTS \($ 9.98\).
IVY HALL, 738 S . CROUSE AVE. IVY HALL.

ZORBA'S Has Great Pizza & Hot Subs with lots of Mozzarelat Ge Deliver 4725075.

Must Sell Brand new unmounted High performance skis 185 cm . Best Offer call 474-7441.
STEREO COMPONENTS. car stereos. fuzzbusters, all brands. wholesale prices, fully guaranteed. Call ACTION AUDIO 478-8667.
BIC 940 Turnable. Excellent Condition. 2 vears old. No cartridge. Must sell, trading up. \($ 25.00\). Call \(\mathbf{4 2 2 . 9 4 5 9 .}\) 422.9459 .

Airbrusth set, Campressor. 4 brushes, extra hoses and jars. Cost new- \($ 250\) Excellent condition Must sell. \($ 75.00\). Call 422-9439 after 5:00.

Order your JOSTENS CLASS RING anyday at SORENSEN•S. Next to Univ. Post Office Door. S. Crouse Ave.
For Sale-Color T.V. 19 ", brand new. price will negotiate. Must be seen.
Call 478 -1978, Roland or Norman.

\section*{Wanted}

Counselors: Adirondack Eoys' Camp: \(71 / 2\) wks: \(5450-550\); Swim. ming, Sailing, Canoeing. Campcraft, Archer, Cratt, Temis, Driver, Otfice (typingl. Riflery, Softball, Trip Leading. 39 Mill Vailey Road.
Pittsford, N.Y., 14534 .
OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/year round. Europe, S. America, Australia. Asia. Etc. All fields, \($ 500\) tralia. Asia, Etc. All fields, \($ 500\) \($ 1,200\) monthly. Expensives paid. Box \(4490-5 \mathrm{H}\), Berkeley. CA 94704 .
Low on monay and records that arent wanted WE BUY USED RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash. TOP prices paid1 DESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse 472 . 3235 Man.-Sat. 11-6.
EARN HIGH INCOME- Full, part time. At home or at schiool. Easy service business, no investment. exciting opportunity, no gimmicks. reliability guaranteed. - Details \($ 2\).
(refunded) STAR SSU (relunded) STAR SSU Box 272.
Istand Park, N.Y 11558. Istand Park, N.Y., 11558.
Customersi No experience necessary ORANGE TONSORIAL AND SUPPLY. 727 S . Crouse Ave., next to s.U. Post Offica.

Roommate wanted- Three bedroom flat. No lease. One montr's security. Fellows Ave. \(423-2655\) or 474 .
4090 . WORK IN JAPANI Teach English conversation. No experience. degrea, or Japanese required. Send dogree. or Japanese required. Send long. stamped. envelope for details. Japan-12 \(A\) P.O. Box 336, Centratie, WA. 98531 .'

Female roommate needed to share two bedzoom apt. Good location. Immediate Furnished. 423 -go3ancy. Beautitul.

Female models for nude photography. Reply with address or phone. Send to P.O. Box 388. Colvin St. Station. Syracuse, N.Y. 13205. $10-$15 per hour.

\section*{Lost & found}

Found- Young male dog in area between Genesee and Harrison Street. Mostly gold with white on Street. Mostly gold with white on chest and black on nose. Call 423 . chest and black on nose. Call 423.
8000 . 8000.

\section*{Services}

Typing done in my home Reasonable Rates. Call 492-2162.
Experienced typist in term papers, theses, dissertations. Havo IBM typewriter. Call Mrs. Emily Kessler. 472-5044.

\section*{For rent}

Apartment furnished, walking distance. One months security. No 6550.
\(\overline{2}\) cubic foot refrigerators for rent. Call Tayicr Rental Center. 478-0957.
Stay only four doors from the ocean at Ft. LAUDEADALE BEACHI Rooney Apartment at only 812 night per person. Call 305-462-5767 for reservations. See ya in the springl reservations. See ya in the springl Air-Conditioned, furnished. new studio apartment. \($ 175\) monihly. Utilities included. Call 476-5584 or 656-3001. Leave message. Will call back.

\section*{Personals}

OPEN MIKE NIGHT at Theta Chi is coming March 3. Get your act together. Prizes for best acts. Call 423-2660 by Monday to enter.
LITTLE SISTER FUUSH at Thata Chi, Thursday. February 22 , at \(8: 00 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Stop by for punch, beer, and tunes.
Noet the famity. 127 College Place Meot the famity. 127 College Place.
aeross from Sims.
Fric, your very own personal. Now you can graduate barly if you want. Love. Fric.

Todd. where were you Monday? 1 waited at the SC until midnight. Met some great folks, though. Penelope.
P2p? Todd.
Todd. Penelope doesn't love you. 1 saw her at the bar with someone else. Be mine. Scarlett.
DEAR 1960's, Beatles, Vardbirds, the protest movement. student activism. \(A\) & 8 music. and the revolution; where are you? We need you back!
LORI THE MBA - The Valley Ball Queenl - Master (Mistress?) of Risk. Acquire, etcl Fourth floor vagabond and coffee clutch instigator-away from home and drunk at lasill Happy Birthday to you.
There once was a boy from Silver Springs, who never used his Ding-ALing. Then one night. He was shocked with fright, when \(1 . B\). walked in on His Thing.
My yenta Perlmutter, Roses are red, Violets are blue. Todd and Perelope were busy, so how about you? All my love. The Hard Core Apple Core.
Dear Sue- I want to thank youfor the best birthcay and \(V\)-day a boy could have. I might be the "bestest" but You are the "BADDEST". Love, from your H.B. your H.B.

\section*{ZSYロ \(\times\) ' \(>\) PIZZA}
> -The Best In Townand Hot Subs with Mozzarella Cheese WE DELIVER

> 7 days a week 472-5075

> 5 p.m.-2 a.m.

Hey Phi Delt- it's AEPhil
Chris - llow about a second chance? PA.W21-679.

Kerstin. Sorry I missed your 19thyou know I love youl Roomies in spirit forever. Kris. PS- Boland One has their reunion whon Dan hits S.U.
F.C.P. - The view from the Bth used to befine . . . the ? kid. P.S.-ill take Neil Young ovar New York anydayl

\section*{Miscellaneous}

What you've always wanted to know about S.EX. (but were never told.) Skills exploration: identifying and building your marketable skills, talents, and abilities. CAREER
AWARENESS WORKSHOP-SKILLS IDENTIFICATION. Newhouse Alumni Lounge. 2-4 p.m., Tuesctay. February 27. Help yourself- take Advantage. Start nowl Sponsored by Academic Counseling Service 423 3150.

DROPPING OUT/STOPPING OUTT Keep working at your degree; Keep earning credits while off campusl Study with Syracuse University Independent Study Degree Progrâms. Requires one week of class attendance per semesterComplete the course(s) at home. Courses taught by senior SU fatulty in Math, Science, Humanities, Social Science and Business Social Science and Business Management at all undergraduate levels, Call Bob Colley for more information at Syracuse University;
(315) 423-3269, or write Roorn D. (315) 423-3269, or write Room D.
610 East Fayette Street, Syracuse. 610 East Fayerte
New York 13202.
SENIORS: DOn't forget to pick up your tickets for the Senior Party February \(19-22,9-11\) and \(2-4\) in the Wornen's Building. Music by Double Axle.

\section*{ 으중 \\ TONIGHT \\ TOMORROW & THURSDAY \\ DERZU UZALA}

Kurasawa's genius is still apparent in this first film since 1970 made in Russia about the story of friendship between turn of century Russian explorer and his Siberian guide. Extraordinary cinematography evokes mood of Siberian culture. Acting is superb.

SALE 25\% OFF

ALL DOWNHILL SKI EQUIPMENT

\author{
- PARKAS \\ - PANTS \\ - SUITS \\ - VESTS \\ - SKIS \\ - BOOTS
}

Complete assortment for men. women & children

\section*{At All Locations:}

DEWITT 6820 E. Genesee St. 445-0880 - FAIRMOUNT 3552 W. Genesee St. 488-3208 LiVERPOOL 107 First St. 451-5600

BETHLEHEM, Pa.-As Syracuse's 167-pound John Dougherty trudged off the mat after outlasting Lehigh's Jeff Turner 7-6 Saturday, many members of Lehigh's Grace Hall began to put on Lehighs Grace Hall began to put on their coate and make reag icy Pennsylvania night.
"This match will be over in about three minutes," predicted one Lehigh Engineer rooter, even before Lehigh completed a \(29-19\) win over SU

Despite the slim \(18-15\) Lehigh lead, the fan had cause for optimism. The reason is the star of Bethlehem. His name is Mark Lieberman and he is one of the finest wrestlers and quickest pinners this country has ever produced.
As Lieberman bounced onto the mat gave him a standing ovation. This was also the last match for Grace Hall, under whose roof Lehigh (now 12-5) enjoyed 27 consecutive winning seasons. The grand old buildink creaked under the weight of 3,300 spectators (capacity is 3,100, but "we can get more in if we get the fire marshalls drunk,' one spectator observed), most of whom sensed they were about to see somethsensed they Lieberman did not disappoint them. In less than three minutes he reduced a good wrestler, SU's Mike Ponzo, to lit tle more than a rag doll. tle more than a rag doll.

Lieberman completely controlled the match, scoring on takedowns at the end of the first and the beginning of the second period. After the first takedown Ponzo managed to keep off his back as the period came to a close. On the second takedown he was less fortunate. The pin came with \(2: 17\) left in the The pin came Lieberman's victory gave the Engineers a comfortable 24-15 lead, Lehigh fans gave him a final ovation. The team outcome was no longer in doubt and while some rose to leave, others remained to watch their Brown dismantle SU's Steve Rosa.

To Lieberman this was just another victory, his 38th in a row. Next week he will attempt to become the first wrestler in modern times to win four Eastern Championships. Early next month he will defend his 177 -pound NCAA title. Besides the NCAA and Eastern titles, he is a Pan-American Games gold medalist, an Amateur Athletic Union Champion and a United States Federation Champion. In the U.S. Federation Tournament, he pinned U.S. Olympic gold medalist John Peterson in the firat period.
"People don't "play" wrestling like they play tennis or golf," Lieberman said. "It's hard work and hardly ever any fun, but it can be intensely satis-fying-

The only award left to satisfy Mark Lieberinan is an Olympic gold medal.

Despite being overshadowed by Lieberman and Brown, SU wrestlers still managed to turn in somo fine performances. Gene Mills ( 118 pounds) continued his winning ways by pinning last year's Eastern runner-up. Steve Bastianelli, in 3:58. It was Mills' 21st consecutive victory this season, without a loss in regular season matches.

Tim Catalfo and Ron Grubaugh each went up a weight class (Catalfo to 150 , Grubaugh to 158) and won decisions. Catalfo had an easy time with Greg Cunningham, winning 13-7. Grubaugh Cunningham, winning 13-7Bill Schneck had a tougher time with Bill Schneck but came on strong to acare two 9-8.
Heavyweight Mike Rotunda capped the scoring for SU with a 14-6 superior decision over Jim Karapelou.

Besides Ponzo and Rosa, SU losers included Jeff Zona and Mark DeMeo. Zona was pinned by freshman Pete Schuyler while DeMeo fell to highly regarded Darryl Burley.

Saturday's loss gave the Orangemen a 16-5 regular season record heading into the Eastern championships to be held this weekend in Princeton, N.J.

SU"$ Mike Ponzo (bbove right) had his probiem seturday againge Lehigh's Mark Lieberman. Svracule's. Aif Americant Gene Mifts (below middie). meanwhile stayed unbeaten in regular meets with a pin Saturday.

\section*{By Glen Udine}

The SU women's basketball team needed two victories this weekend, both to further the life of this meason and to generate the prestige vital to the life of the program. But the lifeline was cut Saturday in a raucous inner-city gym in Brooklyn.
By loaing to Long Ialand Univeraity, \(62-\) 57, the Orangewomen also lost what elim chance they had for a berth in the pres tigious New York State Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Championshipe.
Against LIU, the Orange faced a situation they had never meen before.
"We were intimidated by the gym, their players and the presaure of having to win, said SU head coach Barbara Jacobs. "The officiating let things out of control, too . Martha (Mogish) and Sue (Scholl) got hurt-it was really rough."
In that loss, Mogish regained her team scoring leadership with 23 points, but pulled a muscle and was unable to play the next day when the Orangewomen defeated

New York Tech, 70-60. Against LIU Scholl added 14 points and had 19 rebounds and Mogish snared 12 bounds.
Against NY Tech, it "wasn't a hard game at all" according to Jacobs, as the Orange improved to 13-3. Mogish's replacement at center. Vicki Smith, gave Mogish incentive to heal quickly for fear of losing her starting job. Smith led the Orange to victory on Sun day with 19 points and 17 rebounds, and again Scholl followed closel y with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Kathy Butler added 10 points.
The Orangewomen still have one chance left, however, to display their talonts under the scrutiny of national critics.

We have a fairly good chance to get a bid to the Eastern playoffa," Jacobs said.

The Eastern playoffs are the equivalent of the men's ECAC playoff. The first round for region 1-A, which includes New Yoric state, Connecticut, Massachussets, New Jermey, and Pennoylvania will be played at Cortland State March 2 and 3 . Bids will be announced Felriruary 25.

Although some high hopes have been thwarted, Jacobs said the aeason has been succesaful.
"I never thought we would get even this close to a NYSAIAW bid," Jacobs said. "The post-season games would've done wonders for our play under pressure."
Indeed, it was the lack of pressure situations thoughout the season which haunted the Orangewomen in the past week of crucial games.
"We can't handle the pressure," Jacobs said. "Eyery game we've had to win-well, we lost."
Next year should be different, though. The Orangewomen won't waltz through their schedule since they play eight nationally ranked teams.
The most recent isgue of Eastorn Basket ball Macazine ranked the Orangewomen 10th in the East, and that's while playing poor to mediocre competition.
"We'll progrees a lot next year," Jacobe said. "Our recond wrill anffier but we'll be a much better ball ciub."

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{SA to hold \\ By Stacy Schneider}

A reaolution to include a proposed \($ 3\) increase in the studient fee on the University Senate ballot was passed by the Student Association Aseembly Monday night.

The increase was included on the SA. presidential and comptroller ballots last December and was defeated by 16 votes.

The student fee is now \($ 41.75\). The Semate voting will take place on March 7 , and at least 5 percent of the atudent body must vote tormake the referendum valid.

If we educate the students as to why we need the money thexe shouldn't be any problem in passing the reaolution," said Dale Cohen, SA comptroller.
Also on the ballot will be a proposed \($ 1\) increase in the student fee for The Daily Orange. The publication currently receives \($ 4\) from each student. Students will be able to vote separately on the student fee and Daily Orange increases.
Scot French, editor in chief of The Daily Orange, said production costs have gone up, and the DO has not received an increase in three years.

In addition, with moremoney the DO can be less dependent on advertisements and print larger issues.
A resolution urging a compromise with Carrier Corp. concerning the name of the new domed stadium was also passed at the meeting.

Because of Carrier's \($ 2.7\) million donation to the project, SA must change its original position on naming the stadium the Ernie Davis dome, asid Jordan Dale, SA president.

Student Association appreciates Carrier Corp.'s generous gift to the Carrier Corp. s generous gition project, the resolution and. "However, it is still our goal to memorialize the greatness of football star Ernie Davis in the best possible manner."

The ideal solution would be for Carrier to give its gift in the name of Davis the resolution said, but calling the tadivm the Carrier-Davis dome wonld be "an zeceptable alternative."

Dale said if no compromise is reached with Carrier, alternatives auch as a Davis field, monument or a Davis as a Davis field, monument or a Davis sidered.

Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers' fundraising proposal for the student union building was also discussed at the meeting.
Under Eggers' plan, Eraduating seniors would volunteer to pledge \($ 250\) to the union project, payable in five years if the graduates are earning at least \($ 20,000\) a year.
"This is not an administrative soak ing of the students," Dale said "Stadents helped work out this plan."

Dale said all students money pledged for the union building will not be used for any other purpose. If construction is not started in five years, the money goes back to the donors, he said.
The Assembly also passed resolution supporting the Commuter meal plan. Food Service has eliminated the plan for next year, but SA will attempt to reverse the decision.

In other action, the Assembly passed continued on pace ten

\section*{Athletic Policy Board approves new activity card plan}

By Peter Osborne
The athletic activity card will be split into two parts for the 1979-80 achool year, if Melvin Mounts, vice president for student affairs approves the proposal.
The proposal received unanimous approval from the athletic policy board Monday night- Under the plan, one athletic activity card will cost \($ 20\) next year; and will be valid for home basketball gamea orily.
The other card will coat \($ 30\), include all options presently available and providean opportunity to buy discount tickets to all "home" foothall games. "Home" football games will be played in Buffalo, New Jersey and Ithaca next year due to constriction of the Carrier Dome. Mounts, a member of the board, proval is likely. proval is iikely.
The board also voted to recommend

Division I status be granted to all women's sports except field hockey, which will become Division II.

The rationale for the basketballonly activity card was presented at the meeting by James Keeney, SA representative to the board.
"Although the present card provides the opportunity to attend many other sporting events, students are not-kak. ing advantage of this opportunity in large numbers," Keeney said.

Sports affected by the activity card are football, basketball, goccer, wrestling, lacrosse and some women's sports.
"I ain extremely gratified by the understanding shown by the board on behalf of the students;" Keeney said. "The decision was very fair."
The decision to srant Division I status to women's aports came as a result of a reform in the American Intercollegiate Athletics for Women bylaws. The AIAW is the governing body for women's athletics in the United States.
In the past, women's sports have been separated into large college and sumall college divisions. Syracuse Univergity was a member of the large college division. Beginning next year, the AIAW will split member colleges into three groxigy. Doris \({ }^{2}\) Soladay, director of wopren's athletics, said the dacision was bassed on the level of competition at which the athletic department felt the women would be able to compete.
The commitment to Division I status is for three years. "This ensures that there would be valid reasons for changing atatus and not just the result of a fluke season," Soladay said.
In other action, the board passed a resolution thanking the Carrier Corp. for its \($ 2.75\) million gift to the stadium fund drive.

Drswing by Becky Uczen
Students vill be able to choose between two athletic activity cards nox year, one for all aports and the other for basketball only.

\section*{Senate to meet today}

Retirement policy for faculty 101 Physics Building at 4:15. members will be one of the Also on the agenda are main topics discussed at reports of the committee on oday's Univerbity Senate instruction, honorary degree meeting which will be held in and affirmative action.

\section*{Administrator resigns}

Thomas L Lipa, director of of interest with his job at SU. real eatate for Syracuse University, resigned from his poat effective March 31.
Along with his duties as real estate director, Lipa is president of Stadium Properties I&d., a company which owns property near the site of the proposed Carrier Dome.
Residence groups in the stadium area have recently questioned whether Lipa's property holding \({ }^{\text {s }}\) is a conflict

However, Iipa denied any conflict of interest, aiccording to Tuesday's Herald-Journal He said his resignation had nothing to do with his real estate transactions.
The university has been planning to phase out Lipa's poaition for some time, ac cording to Harvey H. Kaiser vice president for facilities administration.

\section*{Inside}

Lover's Lanes
...pg. 5
Whistle ...pg. 7
Sour Sitrus ...pg. 9
Second Hand Rose

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{6}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Tif Brant - firarautce \\

\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Never too old}

Academic excellence.
It is an elusive goal at a univeraity. The University Senate is considering a proposal today that could be a significant step in encould be a signic academic excellence at Syracuse University.
Syracuse University. temured faculty members to continue teaching past the age of 65.

Currently, professors must retire at 65, although Congress raised the mandatory retirement age to 70 . mandatory retirement age to 70 . Tenured faculty members are empt from this law until 1982 .
We urge the Senate to pass this proposal. It is a terrible waste to force professors who may have almost 40 years of teaching experience to retire when they are willing and able to continue working. Such experience and knowledge is hard, if not impossible, to replace.

And, to raige the retirement age for some, while excluding others is grossly discriminatory. It is unfair to allow a physical plant worker to continue working until age 70 and still force a professor to retire at 65 .
Opponents of the higher retirement age claim it prevents newer blood from entering the teaching ranks when tenured faculty members hang on. This argument does have some merit, but a survey by the University Senate Subcommittee on services to the faculty and exempt staff shows that a majority of professors will retire at 65 anyway, thereby ensuring that positions will open up.

But the underlying reason for opposition to the retirement age extension is money. An instructor gets paid a lot less than a tenured professor with 30 years of teaching experience. In other words, money before excellence.
"Deans are under enormous budgetary pressure," asid Raymond Valenti, chairperson of the senate subcommittee which for mulated the retirement proposal.

Under the current setup, professors must get the approval of their college deans and the vice chancellor for academic affairs if they wish to continue teaching for another semester past 65.
"Very few people near retirement age have been retained," Valenti said. The subcommittee's proposal

\section*{The ABC's of unionization}

Editors note: the following is in reply to yesterday's comment by seven professors urging faculty members not to support efforts to unionize.

I regret that I must consider the signatories of the letter to be so many ostriches, burying their heads in the snow to avoid seeing things they don't want to see.
The goal at a university, they say, "must be to create an atmosphere of scholarship and learning." It inn't clear what force they ascribe to the Guest comment:

John Diehl
Syracuse for the last year has been for the construction of a new football stadium on campus. How intellectual can you get?

They seem only dimly aware of the drop in real faculty salariea at They think geemingly that "concern for power, for legal artfulness, and for for power, for legal artiulness, and for clever bargaining' is something which academia only with the advent of academia only with the ac tracy collectully hope for a way in They wistfully hope for a way in "aspert its authority" through "existing channels, effectively used." At least this hope implies that things are not ideal here. But it hardly acknowledges what the Middle States Evaluation team, composed mostly of administrators, reported a year ago about SU: that planning for the future of SU has become too concentrated in the three top admanistrators.
Collective bargaining by the faculty would admittedly be no panacea. Panaceas don't exist. But collective bargaining, under the auspices of an organization with the principles and distinguished record of the American Association of University Professors, would give the faculty a more-thaneven chance to assert succeasfully the legitimate concerns which they ghare legitimate as a group.
There is at present no faculty body comparable to the Student Association, the Graduate Student Organization, or for that matter the administration. The University Senate is exactly what its name gays: a body in which the various components of the university are represented. Itis appropriate that there less thenate. But the faculty maices up less than half of it. There is no faculty caucus in the Senate.
A faculty organized for collective bargaining, in a way suitable for a university, would, among other things, form a natural and exceedingly appropriate body in the SU community. It Would not take the place of the University Senate; on the contrary, it would enhance the importance of the Senate in the responsible setting of university policies.
The existence of a faculty collective bargaining unit would not mean that every faculty member would have to become engrossed in bargaining or governance matters. He or she would be able to engage in such things, though, when he or she saw fit. The officers of the unit would be elected by the faculty and therefore answerable to it in a way that administrators are not.
It is true that the wish of a faculty to engage in collective bargaining can engage in collective bargaining can ministration is as benighted as the one ministration is as benighted as the one at Boston University, which year after year resists with costly legal chicanery year resists with costly legal chicanery the clearly expressed will of the faculty for collective bargaining. But it is also for collective bargaining. But it is also ministration, as at Rutgers University, can find that faculty collective bargaining represents no threat to the institution and can actually facilitate working together for the institution's future

\section*{future.}

would place the decision in the hands of the faculty member.
But the senate aubcommittee has tried to lessen the financial impact of the proposal by making the trangition to the new retirement age a gradual one.

Faculty members scheduled to retire Dec. 31, 1979 may continue teaching an extra semester. Those who are to retire May 15, 1980 can st ay for another two semesters. The Dec. 31, 1980 retirement date will be extended three aemesters to May 15, 1982. Finally, professors scheduled to retire between May 1981 and June of 1982 may teach until age 70.
"It is a compromise arrangement," Valenti said. It is a move designed to recognize both the needs of the faculty and administration, the subcommittee wrote in its report. With only 32 professors eligible to remain at the university past retirement age between December 1979 and May 1982, the financial impact would not be that great.
It would be desirable to allow faculty members to continue teaching until 70, starting immediately. But we recognize that budgetary concerns cannot be ignored. The trasitional approach is the best posaible compromise, allowing professors to continue teaching past 65, while giving the university a chance to plan ahead for the added cost.
And the added cost is a small price to pay for academic excellence.

Scott Rohrer
for The Daily Orange

\section*{Letters}

\section*{Parking problems}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Scot French
ThomesGradi Thomas Gradio Barbara Krupricic Mickey Morcier Scott Rohrer Carotyn Boyrav David Baudar Jack Barger Jerry Zromaki Maria Riccardi Pattí Schuldentrei editorinchiel managing editor
 ReneeTursi Geoff Mobson Gegff Mobson Warljohnson Becky Uezen Gten Stubbe Pater Halpern

\section*{George Mus} MarryPetry atat. Focule editor sports: editor aset. Sports editor Projects editor art editior photo editor asst. phote editor
businesse monager advertising director asst. adv. director

To the editor
I have not parked in the upper portion of my assigned parking lot, E-16, this week because the entrance was so poorly plowed I found it im possible to do so. Rather, my alternative has been to Bearch for a spot in the lower portion, which is already crowded with vehicles of Physical Plant and custodial people who arrive at work earlier. I might mention, too, that the plowing of that part of E-16 leaves much to be desired. On several days this winter, both gections were literally sheets of ice. Walling was dangerous and twice I had to aak for help, once in both sections, to get my car out. For all this I pay \($ 50\) per year.
This morning, to my anger and dismay. I learned from an equally upset fellow staff member that upper E-16 is no longer university-owned. Who notified all the people who rent space of that fact? And who in the parking office came forward with an explanation of why our asaigned spot was sold out from under us? And who in the parking office has offered a convenient altermative?
Just one more piece of evidence of the lack of consideration and concern for university staff members!

Ginny Beecher

\author{
Write for news
}

Call Carolyn at \(\mathbf{x 2 1 2 7}\)

Why you should buy your ring now!
1. You deserve it. You've accomplished a lot.
2. Save \($ 15\) on any 10 K gold or Siladium ring instead of the \(\mathbf{5 \%}\) or \($ 10\) you might get from any other company.
3. Different Rings! The largest selection to choose from.

Over 20 different ring designs! See traditional and contemporary men's designs and beautiful fashion rings for women.

\section*{ARTCARVED}

320 deposit required
GET A \($ 15\) REBATE ON ANY ARTCARVED COLLEGE RING WITH THIS CERTIFICATE. Valid on any ring in the ArtCarved Collection (even gold). Choose from a wide variety of traditional. contemporary. or fashion rings, custom made to your individual taste.
1. This coupon must be presented with your order.
2. Lirmit: one relund per purchase. Purchaser pays any sales taxes 3. OHer valud only an rings ordered during ithis sale. has been made.
5. At that lime of order. your AntCarved Pepresontative will grve you a febate Requesi Certiticate. Tmis certilicate mustbe masee months after you order your ring. Rebate void atter this period. Allow hour weeks tor rebate processing.
sクロacuse INIVCRGTY
EOOKSTORES
203 Univershy Plaet

An Ancanved Representative will be at:
9.30 a.mi. WED., FEB. 21

3:30 p.m.
THURS., FEB. 22
FRI., FEB. 23
OFFER EXPIRES FRIDAY, FEB. 23, 1979

Cochran said that the break in the 4 -inch fire main was discovered at 5:30 p.m. on the builaing's fifth floor by a becurity worker. By then the water had reached a level of approximately three feet. The Syracuse Fire Dept. helped remove the water.

The cause of the break is not known, but a freeze in the large pipe is suspected. The broken valve has been sent to the manufacturer for inspection, Cochran said.
The two hardest hit areas were the soils laboratory on the third floor and the closed-circuit television syatem facility on the first floor.
Hick Hall is the center for Syracuse University's TV sygtem, and has equipment valued at \($ 300,000\).
The Theodore Roosevelt Wildlife Collection and an insect collection were mot damaged as had been feared, Cochran anid

Despite the damage, classes were not cancelled yesterday. However, water was still dripping from ceilings in the southwest wing late Tuesday afternoon.

\section*{Campus groups get set for cleanup competition}

By Jack Berger
Syracuse University will kick off the Spring ' 79 Miller Campus Reclamation Program tomorrow.

The eight week program is sponsored by the Miller Brewing Co. and their local distributor, Netti Wholesale Beverage Co. It is designed to encourage students to clean up the environment.

Prizes will be offered to the groups that collect the most bottles, cans and kegs. A. \($ 3,000\) Pioneer stereo and a SONY Betamax video recorder are the top prizes.

All recognized campus groups are eligible to participate. Giroups will compete in fraternity and open divisions. A grand prize will be awarded in each division.
In the 1977-78 school year, students at the 99 colleges and universities participating in the program collected over 8.8 million containers. Since the program began in 1973, more than 30 million containers have been brought in.
Those interested in competing should meet at Delta Tau Delta, 801 Walnut Ave., tomorrow night at 8 or call Chip Davia at 425-9557.

BREAKFAST
FROM \(7-11\) AM DAILY
727 S. Crouse - Under the Post Office

\section*{GMAT}

\section*{Test for a Lifetime repared}

John Sexton'a LSAT EGMAT Conraes

John Sexton Test Arepararion courses offer you distinct advwntitures in oucomaring for inese ell important rests:
- Enst, most recant materiats

Substantive curricula ( not just timingi)
- Tamin instruction by a suparior faculty

Coumsting
"Live" intrituction
( not luat tepes)
Subertential atudy materiale
EEvers - thale sessions
GMAAT Civers now formind for anch 17. tert

Compere John Sexron Course adventagex wirth others, then for information call

Shu Sutoris TEST PAEPARATION CENTERS

\title{
For couples only: a look at lovers' lanes
}

By Dave Zamojalci
"In the apring a young man's fancy ightly turns to thoughts of love," or so said gome hopeless romantic named Alfred, Lord Tennyson about 100 years ago.
Spring is four weeks away, and the divent of spring mariks the return of many other hopeless romantica to matomobiles for encounters at 'lovers' lanes."
There are five popular lovers' lanes n Syracuse, not to mention countless backroads and side streets that have been used for the same purpose for years.
Onondaga Lake Parkway, the ighway along the eastern side of Onondaga Lake that leads to Liver pool, has been the most popular lovers pane in the area for about 40 years. The lights of downtown Syracuse sparkle, and the tall smokestacks of Solvay Process may be seen. Moonlight, weeping willow trees and the tranquility of Onondaga Lake are the reasons Onondana Laka Parkway attracks a faithful following of lovers.
Even during this frigid below-zero weather, cars line up along the snowbank on the lake side of the parkway. Windows steamed and motors running, the cars are only

For Syracusans with leas romantic instinct, the parking lot at MacArthur Stadium, home of the Syracuse Chiefs basebsill team, is another favorite. There is neither a commanding view of the Syracuse Bkyline nor anything else to look at from the MacArthur Stadium parking lot. But lovers don't care; bightseeing takes a back seat to what they really want-privacy. Long after baseball games have ended, cars remain in the parkinglot where a game is played that is very different from what recently transpired on the diamond only a few yards away.

Thorndon Park, with its drive around the water tower, completes the list of popular local lovers' lanes. Among the most avid fans of late-night moments in Thornden are Syracuse University students.
"It's very romantic- just bring some blankets and stretch out," said one sophomore. "You smell, fresh air and you are out in the open.
Pam, a junior majoring in advertising, enjoys being in Thorden Park with a date because "it'a away from the university, it's quiet, and you don't have to worry about seeing people you know.'
Just to be sure about that, Tom, a sophomore, has discovered his own

Beveral feet from the road, in full view of motorists who drive by on the "park" way. Nevertheless, Onondaga Lake Parkway is the undiaputed king of Syractase's lovers' lanes. The "submarine races" on the lake are one of Syracuse s longest-running attractions for local lovers.
Schiller Park, on the city's north side, offers tree-lined roads and plenty of scenic landscape. It has been said that Schiller Park attracts more lovers than any of the other city parks. A maze of roadways in the park allows couples to have absolute solitude, and police rarely flash the contemptible apotlight inside parked cars.
The Roundtop at Burnet Paric, on the west side of the city, can accommodate a large number of cars and offers a stimulating view of the city.
Summer is the peak season for the Roundtop. On any given night, the Roundtop is crowded with seemingly empty automobiles. Although police began warning parkers last summer about the park's 9 pm. closing time, the about the parksipm. closing time, the to be alone with a date.
secluded love nest
"There's an old amphitheatre in Thornden Park," he said. "Well, yougo to the back of the stage and there is a litthe tunnel that goes down underneath the stage. It is dark, quiet and no one goes there."
Tom also suggested the hill behind Crouse College that overlooks the Veterans Administration Hospital.
"There's a nice view of the city from there," he said.
Another popular location for lovers near campus is Oakwood Morningside Cearnetery.

In the graveyard there is a tombstone, and the name on it is Kennelly," aaid Mary, a sophomore side all the way down by the bottom of the hill."
"Nobody goes there, nobody is around and nobody thinks of going there," ahe confides. "It's great when there," ghe con
Deb, a Newhouse freshman, said, "In the cemetery, there is one monument the cemetery, there is one monu" ike a pyramid near cawrimson. say for the scenery. It gives you a chance to be alone and share your feelings with each other," she said.

" I "ve been to the mausoleum in the cemetery"' said Beth, a sophomore nursing student. "It's great if you like stiffs.'

Scott, a senior, seems to have ex perienced an active four years at SU His favorite places on campus include the bench behind Hendricks Chapel the cemetery. Thornden Park, the upstairs lounge at the Student Center anywhere in the old atadium (eapecially the 50 -yrard line), and the east side of Mount Olympus."
The bench behind Hendriciss Chapel 'is really strange late at night because it's near the Quad, yet late at night no one ever goes by," he said.
Naturally, many of these locations are suitable for lovers only during the warm months of the year. However there are a number of campus locations that some SU atudenta note as yearround suggestions.
The Student Center ranks high among SU students as a quiet place to enjoy with a date away from the dorms. Scott said he likes "the upatairs lounge of the Student Center because it's a great place to relax for a drink and whatever.
"On the second floor there is a room next to the pool room, said Jim, a sophomore. He takes his dates there because "It has a homey atmosphere."
A rather unconventional all-weather spot for lovers was discovered by Beth, freshman.
"In Day, there is a kitchenette on every floor and each has a pull-curtain divider," she said. "You pull the curtain acroes and you have a small room that is maybe eight by five feet. You turn the stoves on and it pets nice and warm.
and the ironing board is really comfortable.'
Mary said she and a date were alone in Manley Field House one night after a game.
"Everybody had left," she said. "It was like a big auditorium; nobody was around and we were on stage.
Laura, a freshman majoring in drame, asid she and a date discovered "the vending machine area in Crouse Irving Mernorial Hospital."
"It is very private," she said. "Just you and the vending machines. It is great."
Another student suggested trying "the fourth floor stairwell in Flint, on the guys wing."
"Well, since it's up at the top of the stairs, nobody uses it," she said. "It's a great place to be alone with a guy."
She also recommended the garage in the basement of Brewster. "If you go at the right time, you can't get out because the doors get locked," she said with a laugh.
"Below a wing of Flint thereis a laundry room, and off to the right of the laundry room, there is a small room," said Grover.
He has taken girls there because "It's perfect, and there's nothing inside of it except a cot.
But the most ingenious plan of all belongs to Dennis, who said his employment at the infirmary has promoted his social life.

I have the keys to parts of the health center because I work there," he said. "There are a lot of empty infirmary rooms and places down around the counseling offices to go with a girl. I unlock the door and we go in. The girls think it's fine. The beds are pretty bip there, and we've never been digturbed."

We Buy, Sell er Trade Used LP's, 45's, Rock Magerines

\section*{Bring your records to us for cash}

Coltections bought . House calls by appointment 1,000's of records in stock e Most LP's only 52 - 53 - AII records gutaramtad e We specialize in our-of-print records.

DESERTSHORE RECORDS
8. Cempua Mall, 730 s. Crouse

BEST PICTURE OF THE YEAR

Proofread
Call Mickey

\title{
UNIVERSITY UNION PRESENTS
}

Thursday, Feb. 22

\section*{CHRIS RUSH}
national lampoon comedian Grant Aud. 9:00 p.m. Tickets: \($ 1.50\) in advance, \($ 2.00\) at the door

Available at University Union and Spectrum Sundries

Friday, Feb. 23
MOVIES
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline BUCK & \\
PRIVATES & THE END \\
7 p.m. 810 p.m. & \(6,8,10\) & 12 p.m. \\
Kittredge Aud. & Gifford Aud. \\
$1.00 & \($ 1.50\) \\
CINEMA ONE & CINEMA TWO \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Tuesday, Feb. 27
THE KINKS

\author{
8:30 p.m.
}

LANDMARK THEATRE
Tickets \($ 6.50\) and \($ 7.50\)
Available at
Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records 8
Landmark Theatre

\section*{New SU drama musical has nothing to whistle at}
© By Barbara Krupmiclei By Barbarn Can Whistle." the Iffina procisction by the Egrachse University drama peifartment, is a conion of ideas on different coilection of ideas on diffexent vele strung loosely on a plot the Its erratic messagea make hour performance lurches and aour periormance hurches and rates deapite the group \(s\) ad mirable attempt to make it antentaining.
Wifected by Brent Warner, frine of the musical theater Wrogram, Anyone Can WhisFinical fereupell to the Ferent mingical farewell to toue fegent Thestre, which closes for renovation after the last per roomance: Unfortunately, 8Stephen Sondheim's 1964 matuical is a disappointing wend-off, and the performers wootd have done well to avo wasting their talents on it.
The plot - what little there is - revolves around the mayoress of a bankrupt town who creates a "miracle" to revive her town's economy and her townspeople's dpirits. By a twisted series of everats, patients from the town's Asylum For the Socially Presaured get lost in the crowd of anvation-hunting pilgrime. During the last two acts, the mayoress, her colnorts, the hero and the audience try to figure out who's who and who's crazy.

The plot is supplemented by an assortment of mildly. amusing, typical musical comedy double entendren and mistaken identities. The idea worked in "King of Hearts," but it falls short in "Anyone

Can Whistle."
The play might be mora tolerable if the andience had only sanity to think about. But they alao have to cope with questiona of conformity, individunlity, belief in miracles. love and life. Adding to the confusion is the experimental nature of the play, which givee the impreasion that it containe more symabolism then Stiphan Sondheim says is prasent Desprite the unwieldy members of the emipt, chorecgraphed and directed company give good.iperformancen Especially im presaive and antertaining are the thre stars, Eileen O'Hare Mayorest Cora Hoover Hooper): Nancy Sander (Nurae Fay Apple) and Mart Conley ( 1 . Bowden Haprood). Doney (wi. Bowden Hapgood). Dergite the non-mutuical plternataly induces boredom and snnoysace, the murion numbera choreo the musica inds Sabo choregraphed by tappers The care upbeat toedappera. in nesar-perfect and Wa near-perfect time direction

The moft memorable part of the show is the first act's climex number, "Simple," in which the entire cast appears on stage to help create the mad mood of the reat of the play.

Cult fans of "Anyone Cian Whistle*' said the play bombed when it appeared in 1964 because it was "ahead of its time." Pegardless of the earnent attempt by the \(S U\) drama department to make the play enjoyable, it beena its time has yet to come.

\section*{Legal leader addresses law student association}

By Ben Payton
Frank L. Caldwell, a recen y reared com New York State Parole Board appealed to minority stadents aturday to follow the example of nuch prominent black civil rights attorneys as Marshall.

Caldwell delivered the keynote address at the Black American Law Student Association convention at the Syracuse University College of Law.
Caldwell's speech at the downtown Holiday Inn followed the convention's theme, "Reconstruction of Black Civilization." The opeech recounted major evente in black American history, such ag echool desegregation and the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Caldwell, a 1947 law graduate of Denver University, told the audience that with the conservative mood of the U.S. Supreme Court, reflected in actions such as the Bakke decision, there in a critical meed for creative legal ideas.

The BAISA convention was held in comjunction with the northeaat regional Frederick Douelas Moot Court competition, also held at the College of Law.

Two SU law teams participated in the oral advocacy competition with one team advancinge to the semifimala before losing a three to two deciaiox.

LAST WEEKEND!

The Syracuse Univeralty Drama Department

The residents of Dr. Detmoid"e Arylurn for the Soeially Praseured (Doug Bonnwy. Margie Sareco. Bruce McEwen. Tina Krimmer. John Hatchett and Sue Jarema) calebrate their new ly found freedom in the sU drama depmitment's "Anyone can Whistie."

Join the crowd. Write for the DO. Call \(\times 2127\)

\section*{Wed., Feb. 21}

9:30 p.m. The Skybarn
(Take So. Campus bus)
Admission-50 \({ }^{\text { }}\)

\section*{Write for the DO.}

Call \(\times 2127\)

SYマACLSE LNIVERGTY BOOKSTORES

\section*{THE DIFFERENT COLLEGE RINGS}

Now you have a choice

\section*{Women's} fashion.
collection

Say a lot about yourself without saying a word.
This new. distinctive ArtCarved collection gives you the choice beyond the traditional. Select styles, stones and options that make your ring distinctively yours. Each of these different college nings says something different.

date: WED., FEB. 21 THURS., FEB. 22 FRI., FEB. 23 place: smancusc
SNIVERATY ENivERSTYES 303 University Place
9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
See the ArtCarved Representative
*20 Depowit regutred.

- EKTACHROME SLIDES
\(2-4\) nours
OKODACHROME SLIDES 48 -hours
EKODAK PHOTO FINISHING 48 hours -IN-HOUSE MOVIE
processing 24-48 hours
WIDE VARIETY OF MOVIE & STILL FILMS

He was in his twenties. So was she.
Both were Catholic, unmarried. prayerful, creative.
Both cared about people and cared for them.

How come he never thought of the priesthood?
How come she never thought of being a nun?
"No one ever asked me;" they said.

Is this your story? No one ever asked you? Well, we're asking.

Mail Coupon Today! \(\qquad\)
Please send informetion on:
\(\square\) Diocestarn Priests \(\square\) Religious Priests \(\square\) Brothers \(\square\) Nuns \(\square\) Lay Ministries
Name
Address

City
State
\(21 P\)
VOCATIONS COMMITTEE/SUPREME COUNCIL
 New Haven, CT O6507

\section*{Sour Sitrus songsters bring zing to ball games}

By Marcia Meermane Without bitter notes, the Sour Sitrus Society helps to bring thesweet soundsivergity's basketball games.

As the team's pep band, Sour Sitrus is SU's only independent, student-directed musical organization. The nump has no affiliation with phen senol of Music and the majority of members are the majority or m.
Although Sour Stirus pexforme primarily at basketball games, the society has also appeared warally at thos Syracuse War Memorial, hospitals, civic group meetings and other functions on the \(S U\) campus, such as the annual dance marathon.
The group began in November 1970 as The Basketball Band, formed by the Student Band Council of the School of Muaic. Ron Harrell, an engineering stadent, was its director.
The group's name was changed to The Sour Sitrus Society in 1972, prompued by the sour notes played during ts organizational yeary
The Society has made great strides since those sour days in '71.

A dance corps, now consisting of eleven members, was created in 1972 . Dance corps captains and choreographers are Debbie Sherter, Lisa Kohn and Donna Nimec.
The band mernberohip, currently under the direction of Leo Cole, a aenior computer science major, and Matt Carrano, also a senior, is its largest ever with 59 active members. Only 42 are permitted to play at home games, while 35 may travel to away games.
"We're a friendly voice in an unfriendly atmosphere. senior Danny Meyer said.

Expenses are, for the most part, covered by annual Student Activity allocations. These funds cover transpor tation, food and ac commodations when thegroup travele
The society received its first allocations last year. Prior to that, it wae self-supporting. Student activity funds helped purchase new uniforms this year, brilliant orange hirts and navy blue pante.
The society usually travels by bus. However, 20 membera flew to Knoxville, Tennessoe last year for the first round of the NCAA tournament In December 1978, members drove their own cars all night to a tournament in Kentucky. The Hardwood Club SU athletic boosters, provided gas athetic boosters, provided gas money for the Kentucky exmoney
One of the more memorable trips was the society's trip to Buffalo several years ago, recalled aix-year Sitrua trumpet player and co-chair man, Jim Boehner.
He said members decided to see Niagara Falla from Canada at night. However, when the group tried to return to the United States, Customs officials said they must pay duty on instruments. Finally border officials were con vinced that the instruments were not newly purchased Canadian merchandise after a Sour Sitrus trumpet playe pulled out his harn and played a chorus of "Down the Field" achorus of bown therield. The Society was permitted to pass duty-free

All of the traveling puta a burden on studies," Ron Lombard said. "However, there is no trouble fisting it into your schedule. It's like a job, but all the fun makes it worth while"

The Society's public relations director, Marni Potter. a graduate student, agreed. "We scheduled prac tices on Sunday nights so people could go. Just like anything, you have to budget your time."

The group practices approximately three hours a week at the Skytop ski lodge Its repertoire ranges from disco to rock and per formances include pep songs and cheers

As a portable version of SU's "Mana portable version of Stra Gociety 200, the Sour Sitrus Society will continue to provide the SU Orangemen with sound and support-

\title{
GIVE TILL IT HURTS!
}

\author{
THURSDAY \\ FEB. 22
}

FRIDAY
FEB, 23

10-3:45

> TROPHY ROOM ARCHBOLD GYM

\section*{ALPHA PHI OMEGA BLOOD DRIVE}

Subsidized by the student fee

The Sour Sitrus Society apprks enthusiamm from su fans at both home and awny basketbali games.

Discounted tickets available at Spectrum Sundries Only. Tickets: \($ 350\) & \($ 5.00\) with College 1.D.
For further information call the War Memorial Box Otfice at 425-2670 or

\section*{A \(10 / 1 / 2\)}

\section*{Continued from papel one} porting the Committee to Stop Apartheid. The committee's Goals inelude increasing atwareness of *the racially oppresaive apartheid aystem in Souti Africa" and withdraw. ing all stocks in corporations doing buniness in South Africa, according to a CSA fact shect.
SA previonaly pasaed two resolutions encouraging SU to divest itself of holdings in South Africa.

Also at the meeting, the Aasembly allocated \($ 100\) to the SU ambulance bervice for a new rug after a 25 -minute debate.
In addition. SA allocated a \($ 300\) stipend for Kathy Courtney, SA special assistant to the premident. Funding will be taken from this year's conbe taken from
At the budget hearinge in March the awbembly will wiscuss increasing Courtney's tipend through funding from the next fircal year which begina July \(1^{2}\) according to Dale Cohen, SA comptroller. approximately correnty has \($ 9,000\) left in this year's oontingency fund. In other assembly action, nue new members were approved. All at-lange seats are now flled, According to Mark Collings, SA speaker.

The deadline for submitting applications for SA speaker is Sp.m. on March 2. The position is open only to SA assembly newnbers.

\section*{Look}

\section*{for these}

\section*{regular features} each week
in \section*{The}

\section*{Daily Orange:}

From The Sidelines
each Monday
and Kaleidoscope
every Friday.

\section*{Second Hand Rose offers antique look \\ and that's why I'm here todisy.}

By Andren Alrrahame While clothww-contcion Syracuse ahopperw long for the latest faphions from Bloomingdale's and Sacha Fifth Avenue, a haven for those with more imagination lie much cloeer to thome.
Tacked away in a dingy alley at 713 S. Crouse Ave. Second Hand Rowe presents a rather dreary fint impreeaion. But once up the etairn, customera are greated by a eret of costumes on the wail, coordinated down to the handbyge. and a drese-op wonderiand unfolde.

Second Frad Rope mells clothing. hate, shoes, handbage. and jewelry from the 1900 to the 1940 , and a few old boolts. It hate both men's and woman's clothing: and althourch its clientele is predominantly female, its owner Vonnie Nellenbacir, gaid more men are coming to the shop.
Nellerback said she opened the store in Angust 1976 because. "I had a special interest in antique clothing and wondered if anyone else and interested in the clothing. too. It was kind of a gamble." too. It was kind of a gamble. The location, however. Was no gamblefor Neneaback. The store'a location near the \(S U\) store'a location mear the SU campus provides more of a campus provides more of a market for college atudenta, market for college atudenta, and a better mixtrare of people from out of the area, ghe anid.

The name Second Hand Rose was picked pretty much at random. "We went through a lot of different names - we wanted something people wonld latch onto and associate With antique clothing.

Nellenback said she tries to get the highest quality merchandise from the 1900 s to the 1940 s . After that, she eaid, the guality is cenerally worse and the demand for \({ }^{*} 50 \mathrm{~s}\) and 60 s clothee is not very great.

Most of Second Hand Rose's merchandise is indeed in good condition, with many clothes of gilk, satin, velvet and other lush fabrics. Nellenback said she vexy carefully selects her merchandige from auctions and individuala. "Luckily, the things I like are thinge everyone else likes." she said According to Nellenbrack Bome of the mont popriar iteme are white popuiar blowses and plirtw "A Actorian from the 30 's is reall Anything she added.

Fnere are some things at Second Hand Rose that seem to be real bargaina, bat you have to search them ont. A fully-lined, plush mualrat jacket sells for \($ 60\), a kneeTheng camel-hair conat for \($ 20\). could be mand other itemat with tew worn on whe street with few people realizing they are antique clothes - like an ankio-langth, brown print skirt at 325 , or pastel-colored tedid slips," which maika cool, lovely akirta on hot summer days.
Still other things have little nse beyond costrmes, unless one in serionaly dedicated to antigue clothing and does not mind curions stares. Most dresses fall into this category. the atyles are too ald-fashioned for contemporary wear. although fantion designers. might soon mate tham the height of faghion agrain.
In fact, this is precisely what is happening, according to Nellemback 'If you look at Vogue, they have almost the exact pame style amort the shouldere, fitted jackets, litile capa with verils," she said.
Moat cuntorners recognize the high quality of Second Hand Rose merchandiea Macgregor Thomisen, a sophomore in art oduction said "Iney're having a sale.
frying to buy a preatent for a riend."
Thommon said, however, ples are not the only rembon to hop at Becond Hand Rose. Lagt year I came before a party to buy costumes," the find in have a lot of clothes ilue these - they're not just costumes."

Although Thomson said the itrea the clother at Second Hamd Roee, bhe oftem Endr them too expenaive. "I think trin thopa can sometimen get umilar thingte for tot leest, eppecially ones mromd hera. But they don't matally have the quality thinge I enn get bere."
Wendy Fraal, a sophomore. atid "I think the clothee are great I don't nomally buy thing when I come, but if I had to buy something II would pay the money because the quality ib goodin
Not all of slecond Mand RoMe's customers are SU otrdents, thongh. Nellenteis said she though. Nellenback said she sets many profeg alomal heater peopie as customers and acts as an advisor to many Syracrse area high schools and colleges for cheater costumes.

Ethel Johngon, a Syracuse housewife, said, "This is my first time in here. I like the stuff at these stores; they're fun. I buy things from other Etoren around the city. Theyre a lot cheaper there."
Nelleraback admitted her stock is often much costlier than thrift-ghop clothes; however, she points out her's isn't a thrif shop. "If you go to New York or Boeton, you will find prices are almoat quadruple."
Nellemback attributed the high prices in part to the popularity of antique clothing and to competitora willingness to travel long diatance for auctions. "People come from all over the country and will outbid you because they caw get higher prices. The hardcore clothing people think my prices are very reasonable Just go to Rochester for com parison," she said
However, due to limited supply and vamishing quality pleces, the supply of quality clothing is dupply or antique clothing is dwinding. Nellenback sund she reatizesthis, and does not know how much \({ }^{4}\) Itt'ser she will have a supply. "It's a year-to-year thing. Maybe I'll just change with the times."

\section*{Copies of The Daily Orange}

\author{
75th Anniversary Issue
}
are available at the
DO, 1101 E. Adams St.
75 years of SU history,

Syracuse Blueprint has all the famous manufacturers' art and drafting supplies you could ever need. Bring your Syracuse University I-D and you'll get ten per cent off those supplies. Bring in your money-to-burn coupon and you'll receive an additional ten percent off. The Blueprint has oil, acrylics, paintbrushes and pens, paper from the world over, plus portfolios, plenty of drafting tools . . everything ... take advantage of your student discount . . . buy now at the Blueprint, 825 East Genesee Street.

\section*{-Strathmore ©Grumbacher -3M •Bainbridge -Mars eDietzgen ePantone eChartpak -Eberhard-Faber}

\title{
[10 SYRACUSE BLUEPRINT CO., INC.
}

\section*{825 East Genesee Streat} 476-4084
Student Charge Accounts Available Open Monday-Friday 8 am-5 pm

\section*{ENGINEERS}

Let's be candid... This is a pitch. we're looking for talent.

At Magnavox Government & Industrial Electronics Co., we want to hire the best engineers and computer scientists we can find. If you qualify, and you're interested in a career with the world's leader in communication sytems, Magnavox may be for you.

That's because, in our business, an outstanding technical staff is the key to success. Magnavox has been remarkably successful because we offer small company atmosphere with large company benefits and challenge!
Hence the pitch, and this ad. If you like what you see here, get in touch. Maybe both of us will be glad you did.

> WE WILL BE ON CAMPUS: Monday, March 5, 1979

Please contact your Placement Office or send your resume to: PROFESSIONAL PLACEMENT

Magmavox
Advanced Products Division (Magnavox Research Laboratories) 2829 Maricopa St. Torrance, CA 90503 An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F TONIGHT & TOMORROW

\section*{DERZU UZALA}

Kurasawa's genius is still apparent in this first film since 1970 made in Russia about the story of friendship between turn of century Russian explorer and his Siberian guide. Extraordinary cinematography evokes mood of Siberian culture. Acting is superb.

\section*{DUMP THAT WINTER FAT:}

\author{
BASEBALL BOWLING DANCE FENCING FRISBEE \\ WOMEN'SGYMNASTICS \\ ICE HOCKEY \\ JUDO \\ HIDY OCHIAI KARATE WOMEN'S LACROSSE MEN'S RUGBY WOMEN'S RUGBY RIFLE \\ SAILING SKIING \\ TABLE TENNIS TENNS \\ VOLEYBALL
}

\section*{Join a Syracuse University Club Sport!}

\section*{Public interest group launches petition drive to regulate tests \\ tents. Cary said this would}

By Mike Groman
\(\therefore\) A campun petition drive favoring the Truth in Testing bill will be launched Friday by the Syracuse Univoraity chapter of the New York Public Intereet Research Group.

The proposed bill would place stricter regulations on orgnnizations that develop standardized teste.

Although NYPIRG has been lobbying for the bill for over two yearn, the New Yori State Legislature will vote on it for the firgt time "sometime after April 1," asid NYPIRG intern Ably Helfer.

The bill would affect testa such as the SAT and LSAT, which are developed by the Educational Testine Servioe Steve Cary a NYPIRG intern lobbying for the bill in Albany Anid ETS is Ambany, taid ETS is anregulated. The College school Admiesion Council ow responsible for regulating the responsable for regulating the testing service, but ETS rreated these councila An regulate ETS, Cary saic.
Cary also questions the ac-
Cary also questions the accuracy of bkandardized tests. Many schools accept test acores as perfectly accurate, point margin of error, he said.
Because of this, a student who ecores 560 on the LSAT and one who scores -617 may have equivalent scorea, but the student with the higher score would have a better chance of entering law school, Cary said. Questions on atandardized tests are geared toward white sindents and discriminate againt minoritien, Cary said. Cary cited an ETS report which said the average blacl male acores 133 points lowex than white males in there teata.
There aleo is a socio economic diacrimination placed on teet takern, Cary said. Students who can afford to enroll in standardized test "cram conrses" can increase their test ecores significantly, he said.
"Cram courses" prepare students to take certain standardized tests and can cost up to \($ 7,000\), Cary maid.
Test takers who have "probing minds" are also discriminated against, Cary said. Questions on the testa heve Questions on the testa have one sperplay interpret one some people may interpret one queation to have many
The Truth in Testing bill would eliminate many of the would eliminate many The bill problems, Cary said athe public statistical data involving standardized

\section*{Physical Plant awaits missing letters' arrival}

By Kenneth Guggenheim Is Gifford Auditorium really located in Kiuntard Crouse Hall?
That is the name of the building, according to the sign on the side of it. HBC, as well as the S.I. Newhouse Communications Center, Finds Hall, the health center and the William B. Heroy Geology Building have been victimized by the theft of the letters that display the names of those buildinge.
According to John Sala, Phyaical Plant director, new letters were ordered three monthe ago. At that time, Physical Plant was told that it would take "anywhere from three to gix weeks" for the letters to ar. nix weeks" for the letters to ar" rive.

Physical Plant is still waiting for them to axrive.

The cost of replacing the letters in exceptionally Ereat to be arially metler has to be bpecially made so that it matches the remaining
Plast
Plastic letters recently replaced at University College cost \($ 25\) a piece, but Sala said the letters needed for the Syracuse University campus will cost "quite a bit more" because they are metal.
When the letters finally arrive, there is no guarantee that they will not be stolen again. In order to prevent this from happening. Sala eaid that they will "raise the letters where posaible." However, this cannot be done on all the buildinge.
"I don't know who's taking them, but I sure wish they wouldn't go to all that trouble," Sala said.

Sportswriters' meeting
3 p.m. today at the DO

\section*{Applications for the} \author{

University Judicial Board and \\ University Court of Appeals
}
are now available in Room 304 Steele Hall. Students interested in membership for the \(1979-80\) academic year can pick up the applications today through March 2. All application forms must be returned to 304 Steele Hall by March' \(\mathbf{9}\).
enable independent testing authorities to decide whether the teats are accurate or disthe tests are
The bill would mandate that tent takers be provided withintest takers be provided with infoxmation bafore the day or the twit, explaining what the tert mearumes and undicates. Cary said thim would reduce the benefits of "cram cowrses."

If the bill is pasoed, test takers would receive their test boollet and anmwer sheet following the teat date. This woxuld enable the individual to check the accuracy of the teet score, Cary said.
This bill would also give the test taker the right to determine which teat score should be sent to the schools of his choice. By thim method, only the stadent's best acore would be sent.

Sat. 24-7:30 8 10:30
Watwon Theatre
Tickets 1.50
baak by Neil Simon based on the screenplay The Apartment" by Billy Wider and l.A.L. Diemond music by Burt Bacherach lyrics by Hal David

For Reservationa call 423-1804 vour student tee ex play
\(\qquad\)

\section*{Syracuse University Union ConcertBoard presents}

\section*{THE KINKS}

\section*{Next Tuesday, February 27 8:30 p.m. \\ Landmark Theatre}

Reserved Tickets Now on Sale \($ 7.50\) & \($ 6.50\)
Tickets available at: Landmark Box Office. Spectrum Sundries, Discount Records, The Panhandler and all Gerber Music Stores.

\section*{Harry Fig}

\section*{Sherman's Quest}

\section*{by Chuck Wing}

\section*{KODAK Color Enlargements}

Beautiful KODAK Color Enlargements of your favorite snapshots, instant prints, color slides, or KODACOLOR accents or office.
And now is the time to order.them. pay for only two. The third one is tree! Stop in for complete details. but hurry. this special offer ends March 14. CHAROE IT:
SH BOCKSTOAE CMAROE
MASERCHARGE
VISA visa

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

TODAY
Men's rugby elub practices today and tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in Gym B, Women's Buildirg. Now members 423-3436.
Interestad in German activitiaz? Come to Community House, 711 welcome.
Design lecture: Mary Ellen Letrer man and Lillian Ottaviano will dis cuss "Barrier-Free Interior Design" at 4:30p.m. in the design conference room, Archbold Gym basement.
Turkish lunch will be held at noon today at the International Student Office. 230 Euclid Ave. All welcome. N1.50.
National Engineors Woek: Tour of Crucible Steel will be held from 2-5 p.m. today. Call Atlen Pavlick, 423

Undergradunte for Undergraduate Goograpiny Club returns at 4:30 p.m. today in 323 HBC. Fre
eatures Profespor Ronny Straus -Speaking on Israel Joday at \(11 \cdot 45\) a.m. in the Hitlel lounge. Hendricks Chapel.

TOMORROW
Aife range will be open from 7:30-10 p.m. tomorrow. Bullets cost

\section*{SENIORS &}

GRAD STUDENTS
A new Graduate Profile Center has been established to provide a PROFILE SCANNING SYSTEM for com-mission-free Placement Consultantsthroughout the U.S. Enter your profile into the System and expand your career opportunities.
Send for free brochure and Entry Form.

Address
City St.
Zip
Mail to:
Graduate Protile Center
c/o O'Brien 8, O'Brien
PO Box 277
Buffalo, N.Y.. 1422

It's no laughing matter....
Join the gang at University Union Now! Cinemas-Cinema Board operates one of the largest 16 mm fim series on any college campus in grams in film entertaimment on a regular basis that are both inexpengive and of professional quality. Two major series are Cinema One, featur. ing classic films from the 30 's, 40 's and 50 s: and campus. Cinema Board also operates several other film series and programs.
Performing Arta. Performing Arts Board offers original theatrical productions for theater enthusiasts. Past events coordinated by the board include the Broadway touring company of the Ballet Company; and "Bogey's Back", a monologue about Bogart.
U.ETTVV UUTV programs and produces showa for the UUTV cable network. The programming board chooses and schedules bothoriginalstudent productions and video network prograns. Exec. producer and producer are needed for all in-house
- Productions, using color anductions. Students receive training and experience in equipment operation, television writing and production as well as on the air performance.
Speakers. Speakers Eoard brings a wide variety if speakers to campus who lecture on a long ranke topics. Among thoae speakers brought to the Jonestown cult; George Plimpton; Prime Minister of England; and Charles Kuralt, CBS news correspondant.
Special Events- The Special Events Propramning Board schedules unique events Often coordinating a show with another group. the board has brought to campus hypnotist John Kolish: discos: comedian Henny Youngman far Parent's Weekend; block parties; and winter weekend festivities.

Studant Rum- Snuoived In
Adnirets letters of intent formany
Programming board zo: Steven Fuchs Wateon Theater- U, U, Oficea)
Leticritare ane by Feb 26 at 4 pm

6 for the semester
Blology feminar: Thomas Nowak from Notre Dame will speak on "A Inhibition Enolase by Fluoridelion: at 4 p.m. zomorrow in 117 Lyman Aphe Phi Omegs blood drve will Aphe held from 10 a.m. \(3: 45\) p.m. tomorrow and Friday in the Archbold Gym trophy room.
Retailing Club presents a sales epresentative from Helena Rubenstein at 6 p.m. tomorrow in the Haven lounge. Admission for non-members is 50 cents.
National Enpinerrs Wook: James Cole will speak on "Energy Research and Development Activities in New Cork State" from 3-4 p.m. tomorrow in 355 Link. Free coffee.
Informal talk: Sister Mary Sferre of the Onorxdaga Pastoral Counseling Center will speak on ChrisCounseling" at 8 p.m tomorrow in Counseling at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Anthropology So Anorrow at 5 pm Sociaty meets olace. All welcom. 500 University Campus Bibie Fellownhip will discuss "What is Heaven Really Like? at 7:30 p.m. 10 morrow in the ibrary room. Community House. 711 Comstock Ave.
Chass Club meets at 6:30 p.m. in 336 Smith. Come learn the meaning of "kriegspiel."

\section*{NOTICES}

Rerreat: Newman community students are invited to a retreat this weekend at Christ the King Retreat House. Call 423-2600 for details.
Sign-up deadline is 3 p.m. Monday for men's and women's intramural badminton doubles in

Couple applications for the dance
Couple applications for the dance Council office 821 University Ave Pick up applications Monday through Fridey noon-5 p.m Return by March 1 .
Gordon Bovdes Anthropology Essay Contert awards a \($ 50\) pris to an SU student for an essay on. Essays due at the Honors Office, 300-1 Archbold Gyim, before Feb. 28.

Newhouse peer adviser #pplications are available in the dean's office, Newhouse I.
Syracuso Review is accepting ficMarch 2. Submit works at 103 March 2. Submit works 101 College Place or cail 423-1401
NOTICES FOR HERE, THERE \(&\) Orange, 1101 E . Adams Si., by noon two davs before publication. Name and telephone number of sender must be included. Limit announcements to 20 words. No announcerments are taken over the phone.

There will be a mandatory Focus writers meeting

Sunday,
3 p.m.
at the DO

Call X-2127
for details.

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For sale}

Full line VIDAL SASSOON se REDKEN Hair products. expert consultation, ORANGE TONSORIAL & SUPPLY, 727 S. Crouse Ave. next to S.U. Pos: Office, \(475-2989\).
TODAY ONLY WITH THIS AD: S.U. ZIPPERED JACKETS \($ 10\). 14 OZ . DENIM JEANS S10. WRANGLER 7385 CROUSE AVE 478 H304. STEREO COMPONENTS, car stereos. fuzzbusters. all brands, wholesale prices. fully guaranteed. wholosale prices, fully puarantee
For Safe- Cotor T.V. 19"., Brand new. price will negotiate. Must be seen.
Call \(478-1978\), Roland or Norman. Call 478-1978, Roland or Norman.
\(\overline{Z O R B A} S\) Has Grant Pizza \(\bar{B}\) Hot Subs with Lots of Mozzarella Cheess and 5075.
Guitar - Angelica 94306 string acoustic. Year old. Excellimt consfition. \($ 130\) hest offer. Roy 423. 0953.

For Sale - Twin matrossfbox spring \(/\) trame. offer. \(492-648:\)

\section*{Wanted}

Low on money and records that arent wanted WE BUY USED cash. Top prices paidl CESERTSHORE 730 S. Crouse 472-3235 Mon. Sax. 11 -6.
OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/yoar round. Europe. S. America. Australia. Etc. All fields. \($ 500-51,200\) monthly. Expenses paid. Sightseeing. Free info. Write: Lic. EARN HIGHINCOME. Full, partime. At home or at school. Easy service. business. no investmert. exciting opportunity, no girmimicks, retiability guaranteed - Detaits \($ 2\) (refunded) STAR SSU Box 272. Island Park. N.Y., 11558.

Counselors: Adirondack Boys Camp: \(71 / \mathrm{wks}\) : \(8500-600\) Swimming: Sailing. Canoting, Cramperaft, Archery. Cratt. Ternis. Driver, Otfice tevpingl. Riflery, Leading.
39 Mill \(\begin{gathered}\text { Sofbatl, } \\ \text { Valley }\end{gathered}\) Trip Leading. 39 Mill Valley Road, Pittsford, N.Y., 14534.

Roommate wanted - Three bedroom Roommate wanted Three bedroom flat. Na lease. One month's seeurity. Fellows Ave. 423-2655 or 474. 4090.

Fomale models for nude photograptyy. Aeply with eddress or phone Send to P.O. Box 388, Colvin St. Station. Syracuse, N.Y. 13205. \($ 10-515\) per hour.
Bic 940 Tumtable. Excellent Condition. 2 years old. No cartidge. Must sell, trading up. $25.00 Call Airbrush set. Compressor. 4 brushes. extra hoses and iars. Cost new \($ 250\) Excellent condition. Must sell. \($ 75.00\). Call 422 -3439 after 5:00.

Female roommate needed to share wwo bedroom apt. Good tocation. Furnishase occupancy. Baautiful. Furnished. 423-8034.
WORK IN JAPAN! Teach English conversation. No experience. degree, or Japanese required. Send long. stamped, Sell-nddressed envelope for detaits. Japan \(12 A\) envelope for details. Japan - 12 A P.O. Box 336 , Centralia, WA. 98531 .

\section*{Services}

Private Oriving Lessons. Pick-up Services. Also 3 hr. Pre-licensing classes. ONONOAGA DRIVING ACADEMY. 476-3995.
Typing done in my nome. Reasonabie fates. Call 492-2ibz.
Trping: Technical or Repular. Quick service. Torm papers: resumes:
Theses. etc. Call 699-3425,:

\section*{Personals}

OPEN MIKE NIGHT at Thets Chi is coming March 3. Get your bet ogether. Prizes for best scts. Call 423-2660 by Monday to enter.
LITTLE SISTER RUSH at ineen CHi, Thursiday, February 22, at 8:00 pm. Stop by for punch, beor, and tunes. Meet the family. 127 College Place. across from Sims.
Disco Roller Skating Farty is coming! Keep an eye on the paper and practice.
To the second floor Geology T.A.. yau better take me to Oswego. this weak or else. Love, you know whol
Who knew Black Wednesday would he soo00 goodillill! Happy Black be sooco goodilimil happ

To the Sisters arnd Pledges of CH OMEGA - Don't You think we're sex brothers of PI KAPPA ALPHA.
AEPni Pledges: Your prank east Sun day was done in good insle. Beware of your "dark" future.
F.C.P. ... but now 1 don's see you hatf as much of the time tre lkidp.s can wibur make me one too?

Thraw out your shoesi Put on ROLLERSKATES
Sue, is Rob really a Supemman? Can he do it in a phorebooth? Al.

JLL & ROBIN - Just as a circle nevar ends, either will our friendship. To last year, this year, and the many years to comel Our love always ABBE & RENEE.
Peneslope, how could you? How could Penelope, how could you? How could he? Who is he? Where is he? Did he?
Did you? Todd.
Todd, cool your jets. You stood me up at happy hour. Did you expect me to furn down a trozen thot chocolate? Who is Scarterz? Penotope.

\section*{Lost & found}

LOST - Old English Sheepdog. vicinity Lancaster Ave.. if seen or found please call 474-5435. Reward. Fournd - Younc male to in area batween Genusee and Marrison Street. Mostly gold with white on cherst and black on nose. Call 423 8000 .

\section*{For rent}

Apartment furnished, walking distance. One monti's security. no lease, immediate occupancy. 637 lasse, immediate occupancy. 637 6550

Air-Conditioned. turnished, new studio apartment. \($ 175\) monentr. Utilities included. Call 476-5584 or 656-3001. Leave message. Will call back.
PRIVATE ROOMS FURNISHED Share kitchen, bath and livingroom. Clean, walking distance - 474-1303 or 472-0154.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

SENIORS: Don't forget to pick up your sickets for the Senior Party FabWary i9-22, 9-1 Women's Building Music by Double Axle.
Get a free pint of beer from Hungry Charlies when you donate 1 pint of blood to Alpha Phi Omega's BLOOD DRIVE.
OROPPING OUT/STOPPING OUTT Keep working at your degree; Kerp earning credits while off campusi Study with Syracuse University Independent Study Degree progra atiendance oer semester Complete the coursels) at home Courses taught by senior SU faculty in Math. Science. Humanities Social Science and Busiress Managemert at all undergradumte levels. Call Bob Calley for more in formation at Syracuse University. (3i5) 423-3269. or write Room D. 610 East Fayette Sireet. Syracuse. New York 13202.
What you've always wanted to know about S.E.X. (but were nover told) Skills exploration; identifying and building vour marketeble skills, AWARENESS WORKSHOP - SKILS AWARENESS WORKSHOP-SKILZ Alumni Lounge, 2-4 p.m., Tuesday. February 27. Help yourseil t take adFebruary 27 . Heto yourself - take advantage. siart nowl sponsored by Academic Counseling Service. 423 . 3150.

Low on cash, but you wanna gat smashedpl? Win a FREE 1/2 keg at ALPFiA PHI OMEGA's blood drive. See ad for details.

Daily Orange Classified Ad Insertion Procedure: Deadina 2 Business days before the issue you wish the ad to appear by \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{mo}\). Charges 5 C ea. ward thereater. 5 C word in capitals.

\section*{Arnie Apartments}

2027 East Gonenow Strow neor
Syroeuse Univority
Two

\section*{Bedroom}

FEATURE IV zATMS, MPPUANCES, SUNROOM . MORE: 424-0210 longley 3 jones

\section*{Niagara: men streak . . .}

It is now a game of numbers for Syracuse University basketball fans 43, 15, 21-2, 6 and 8 . And with a remaining schedule that looks like a Division II tournament, the numbers can only get bigger.
Going into tonight's came with Niagara, the Orange have won 43 straight games at Manley Field House. won 15 consecutive times since the loss to Kentucky and own a record of 21-2. The UPI and AP polls rank the team sixth and eighth in the nation, respec tively.

Niagara can only answer with a 5-19 record and one tragedy.

They've had a tough year." said SU coach Jim Boeheim. "Seems like they've been losing games by one, two and three points. Scaffidi's loss has really hurt them.'

Niagara's senior captain and playmaker. Phil Scaffidi, underwent surgery for cancer after the third game of the seasion.

Scaffidi, who played brilliantly in the Purple Eagles' \(70-69\) loss to SU last season, had 60 percent of his liver and one kidney removed.
His teammates have suffered through a season that borders on "The Twilight Zone." Niagara has lost four out of five overtime games (including a double-overtime loss to Canisius), losta two-point lead on an 82 -foot shot at the buzzer to St. Bonaventure, and in one stretch lost five games by a total of nine points.
"We ve been in every game up until the last two minutes for the last month, said Niagara coach Dan Raskin.
What we've needed is Sacaffidi."
The big gun for Niagara has been 6 -foot-6 sophomore forward Garry Jordan. Jordan. Niagara's top point man in 15 of its 24 games, leads the team in scoring ( 20.9 ) and rebounding ( 10.9 ).
"Garry's been our big scorer," Rasan said. Our problem is that we don get much scoring from anybody elseinnde.

Jordan's linemates combine for only 15 points a game. Chick Lyles, a6-foot-5 junior forward. is averaging 10.8 points per game while 6-foot-10 center Don Foote is averaging four points with only 4.2 rebounds a game.

Scaffidi's illness has put a great burden on freshman guard Mike Phillips, who has responded by averaging 9.8 points per game and a total of 86 ansists.
But Scaffidi's experience cannot be replaced.
Re aren't a great defensive team," zone defense to snake up for that ?
"This is our 25th garne so we aren't going to change anything." Raskin continued. "For Syracuse well just continued. fo work hard on playing our good have to work hard on playing our good zone: "Niagara's zone will probably guards Hal Cohen and Marty Headd. guards Hal Cohen and Marty Headd The raping 8.7 and 12.6 pointa pergame averaging 8.7 and 12.6 points pergame respectively.
If the zone comes out on the guards Headd and Cohen will be able to pass the ball inside to the team's leading corers, Roosevelt Bouie (15.3) and Dale Shackleford (15.2). Shackleford is also playing the numbers game; he seeds only 29 points to pass Bill Smith and moveinto fourth on the SU all-time scoring list. The senior co-captain has scored 1,422 pointe.
With the dust clearing after the brutal road games at Temple and St. Bonaventure and the Manley seatsquirmers againat Rutgers and St John's, the quality of the schedule Niagara tonight, Colgate Saturday and LeMoyne Monday) takes a turn for the worse. And now Boekeim must be asked the obvious - Is he worried about a letdown?

No, the only way we can make up for the quality of the schedule is to play hard in the games," Boeheim said. "If we continue to work hard, it shouldri't happen.
How can a team get ready for the NCAA tournament by playing teams Hike Colgate and LeMoyne and remain sharp?
"We have to execute and play well in the tournament," Boeheim said. "If we play well in the tournament and don't execute, then no matter who we played. we're still going to get beat."
But while the fans continue to play The Numbers Game, "getting beat" is getting hard to imagine.

\section*{ECAC upstate}

Although official bida will not be announced until Sunday. Syracuse will definitely play in the ECAC Upstate championship game Feb. 28 in the Rochester War Memorial. Student tickets will goon alale for \($ 5\) Monday, Feb. 26, at the Archbold Gymaticket office. Students must havea valid SU ID, and only one ticket per student will be sold. All tickets are reserved for the 7 p.m. start.
St. Bonaventure virtually clinched a spot in the game with an \(84-76\) win over Virginia Commonwealth Monday in Olean. Virginia Commonwealth needed a win against the Bonnies to be considered for the spot.

\section*{Orange go polling}

SU had ita ups and downs this week in the wire aervice basketball polls. The Orange, ranked seventh in both polls last week, climbed one spot in the United Press International coaches" poll, but dropped to eighth in the AsBociated Prese writers' balloting. UCLA grabbed the top eigot in both polls. The Orange are featured on the cover of this week's Eastern Basketball The Orang WSYR-TV (Channel 3) won the television rights for the Feb. 28 ECAC Upstate championship game Monday with a bid of \($ 11,000\).

\section*{Women host swim tourney}

The Orange Pool in Archbold Gym will be the site of this year's New York State Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Wornen Championship. The meet, which will be held tomorrow through Saturday, is an important test for Coach Lou Walker's Orangewomen, who finished the reguiar aeason with a 9-2 record in dual noeet competition.

\section*{Colgate tickets}

Students with athletic activity cards and SU ID's can pick up tickets for Saturday's Syracuse-Colgate game at the Mandey Field House and Archbold Gym ticket windows today and tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to \(4: 30 \mathrm{pm}\).

\section*{. . . women seek revenge}

By Glen Udine
The
Syracuse University Orangewomen will be playing basketball under the Manley Dome tonight (6 p.m.) for revenge, appeasernent and, of course, victory.

Last week, the Orange were bumped out of the finals of the Manufacturers Hanover Invitational Tournament and thus denied a bhot at the 33,000 championship prize and virtually New York from consideration for a New York State Association of Inter collegiate Athletica for Women charn pionahip tournament - all thi becaube Niagara beat them, 55-49.
"We're looking forward to the rematch," said forward Sue Scholl. "The whole team is humgry for revenge and it's time to save face.

That's revenge.
Last month, the Orangewomen played their first preliminary to a men's game, an 81.51 rout of Vanier College that bored the packed 200 . It was a lost opportunity to secure some of the rowdies for attendance at future women's games. Tonight's contest however, ahould be closer and more interesting.

This game should do more for the advancement of our program - in terms of student appeal and appreciation - becauseit will be areal ex: citing game all the way down the wire," said Women's Athletic Director Doris Soladay.

According to Head Coach Barbars Jacobs, the Orangewomen (13-3) do not play with hopea of emulating the style or excithment level of the men's team. Rather, they relinh the expoaure they will receive, hoping fans will mp-weciate their particular style of play enough to return as loyal aupporters.
asement
Niagara, 21-2 and the winner of the Upstate division of the Manafacturers Hanover Toumment bring th talented Tournment, bringa the talented duo of 5-foot-10 forward Cyndie Williams and 5 -foot 5 guard Nancy Egerton, who together averaged 23 points, 10 rebounds and eix assists per game. The game holds local intereat in that seven of Niagera's 12 players are from Syracuse, and another Salt City mative. NU coach Mary Roickle, coached SU center Martha Moginh at nearby Bishop Ludden High School.
But putting the reanion, vengeance and emotion aside, a bamketball game must atill be played.
We'll have the homecourt advantage, and it'll be big tonight, Jacobs asid. "And we're a more talented team."
The Orange are led by a akillful duo of their own. Mogish everages 12.8 pointa per rame and 8.6 rebounds, pointa per game and 8.6 reboangs, and 8.3 rabounds. and 8,3 rabounds.
tonight's conifidence approaching tonight's game contrasts with Roic ke's apprebenaion.
Rois way play well, Roickle said. "I expect a real tough time in Manley."
That, the Orange hope, means victory

NOTES: Mogish is queationable for tonight's Moge is question a lower back muscle in Saturdey'f loes to fong baci mascle in Saturciay'loes to conag Ialand University. Back-up conter Vichi Smith has proved a capable replacement, howevor, an she acwis 19 prin over New York Toch Sunday.

\title{
The Daily Orange
}

Profesmor Joshue N. Goldberg speaks out during yestordays Univeraty Senate moeting. The Sonate voted to raise the manelfitory retirement age to 70 for tenured facuity members.

\section*{Senate OKs retirement motion, hears affirmative action report}

\section*{A motion to bllow ten Wred feman} continue working until age 70 if they choose was passed at yesterday's University Senate meeting.
The senate rejected a compromise proposal which would allow faculty members to atay on the job as many as three semesters after the mandatory retirement age of 65 .
Legislation passed by Congreas last year raised the mandatory retirement age to 70 However, the bill contained a compromise per mitting forced mandatory retirement of tenured university facalty members at 65 until July 1 , 1982.

The senate voted to reject that compromise. " of justice," eaid Karl Schmidt, faculty senalor "We're providing faculty with the opporturnty to choose whether or not to retire before age 70.
Some senators questioned whether the administration would be saving money if profesministration woul
\({ }^{n} 1\) regret that the discussion indicates we are a penny-pinching administration trying to exploit the kind and generous faculty" azid Chancellor Melvin A. Eggera.
In a related motion, the Senate advised the univeraity to adopt and publicive an early retirement program for faculty and staff members.
In other action, Stephen Koff, chairperson of the committee on instruction, gave a report on the course profile book used last semester.

Im pleased with the student usage of the courme profile," he aaid. More than 30 percent of the faculty filled out forms for the profile, Koff Baid.
The pronle forms were available prior to and during registration. Students were free to read about the courses they were planning to take before they registered.
Also at the meeting. Ann Howe, chairperson of the affirmative action committee, reported on the number of minority workers at the university. She said the number of minority faculty members at SU is the same now as it was in mexab 1975.

Howe expressed disappointment with the way the university has been handling affirmative action.

People find ways to get around the regulations," Howe said. "This deserves more oupport from the university."

Faculty Senator Jerry Miner commented on planning for the new domed stadimm
"I don't have confidence that Senate com mittees are concerning themselves with the is snes surrounding the construction of the stadium." he said.
Miner recommended that a subcommittee be set up to deal with questions a bout the stadium, auch as parking.
Action was referred to the agenda committee

\section*{Groups to discuss sea mining}

By Walter Gibbs
Conflicting intereat groupa in the international deep beabed mining dispute will get together for the Eixst time in hiatory Saturday at Syracuse Uxaivernity.
Mropresentatives Trom China, Singapore, Canada and the United Statee will discrits the political, economic, and moral facets of the controveray durimg an unpxecodianted sympoaium that is free and open to the publicin at 8:30 a.m.
The symposium, "Deep Seabed Mining: A Range of Perspectives," will be an arena range a fair way for nations to hare profits from mineral rich deprosits on the ccean nich
Symposium participanta inMcCloberesaman Pau N Mce, remresentative of China to the Lew of the Sea Conference: Tommy T.B. Koh, chief remrestritative of Singepore to representative of Singapore to man, adviaor to the Canadian man, advisor to the Canadian Selegation of the Law of the Sea, Conference; George Aldarich, American deputy Aldrich, American deputy representative of the president for the Law of the Sea Conference; Marne A. Dubs. director of the ocean resources department of Kennecot:

Cooper Corp; ILF.E. Golldie director of the International Legal Studies Program at SU; and Nabil A. Elaraby, deputy chicf representative of Egypt to the United Nations, whose participation is tentative Feciuse of the Middle East peace talks at Camp David.
"There has never beenan op. portanity for members of Congress, members of industry and international negotiators to get together on this issae," said Roger Hull, vice president for developroent at SU and moderator of the symposium. "We can. see something here which has never been done before in' the world

Hull is an adjunct professor of law at SU and was a delegration to the U.N. Law of the Sea Conference, which has sought but failed to reach an akreement on aeabed mining agreement on aeabed mining Countrie Countries with highly aeveloped technologies feel the traditional "freedom of the high seas" gives them the right to mine the ocean floor, saw wiliam Pence, third-year law student and coordinat the day-long syrnposium.

Lesaer developed countries, however, fear they will be cheated by the one-sided exploitation of the aeabed by major private and national organizations Third Worid nations that export mineralg fear they will loae the United States as a market for nicicel, copper, and cobalt, which abound on the ocman'floor, Pence said. They ocwan floor, Pence said. They argue that the ocean floor is "the common heritage of mankind," and ahould not be ex plaited without an interploited without an interrecent United Netions resolutions legitimize their claim, he said.
A. United Nations goal has been to set up an international agency to govern seabed mining beyond areas of national control. "But there is a conflict over how mouch, power this agency will have," Pence said. American companies are eagerly awaiting an agreement to per the theaker -There are some countries and companies that have the technology to begin naining." Hull said. the question in whether it is worth it to begin whether it is worth it to begin without a guarantee that fithout a guarantee that agreernents will not ruin their investment
"The cost in prohibitive," Pence said. "It is anticipatedit will cost between \($ 550-700\) million per mine site just to begin operating."

\section*{antinued on pege}

\section*{begin tonight}

By Peter Obborme
Snow sculpture and dog sled conteate will highlight the traditional Winter Week, co sponsored by the Syracuse Univeraity Greek Council and University Union.

The winter festivities are a tradition reaching back at least to the 1930 s , according to Seast to the 19308, according to the event.

Acti vity begins tonight with National by Chris Rush, a in Grant Ancititorin comedian, And following the foentivition. And following the foetivition Kinge will be a concort by the Kinka next Tueaday at the Landmark Theatex, at \(8=30\) Lamdmark Theater, at \(8=30\) S.m. Mckets axe available at

Records and at the theater for \($ 6.50\) and \($ 7.50\).
On Friday, a snow sculpture conteat will be held at 6 p.m. Competition is open to any fraternity, sorority, or Tuesdey ent dor have. As of Tuesday, entries have been received from Greek housee only.
Judging will take place at 2 p.m. Saturday anc prizes will be awarded to the three best sculpturea baned on originality and creativity "There is no limit.
Winter Weelk Gamen will begin on the Quad at \(2: 45\) p.m. Saturday. Competition will be primaxily between fraternitie and moronities. "If emough onk.
mide groups ohow an interest, there will be a third competition," Bownty said. Events planned include tug of war, a showshoe relay race, a dog aled race, Anicenzu and alide and an ice cube apitting contest.
auccerg ala thus event a reas auccess, a large number of participants is important" gaid Dick Dadey. pramident of the Inter-Fraternity Council. "Thie ehould be a univereity: wide event, not one limited just to Greels."
EEveryone ghould come out Friday and Saturday if not to participate, then to watch." Dadey said. "Earticipation Whinter Weetro" affect future

Promotionst booderte wre helpfut in aiding the univereity sell itseef so prospective etudenti.

\title{
Admissions office entices prospective SU students
}

By Rick Bonnell
Selling Syracuse University to prospective students is big business. The admissiona office coordinates a massive effort which brings about 3,000 freahmen to SU each year.
The admianions office emphanizes SW's diversity and flexibility to prospective freahmen, said David Smith, reanmen, Baid bas.
The recraitment effort geta Kae recruiment effort geta rolling wen 100,000 brochures are sent out to high echool students whose names echoos students whose names boards
If studenta expreas an interest in \(S U\), they are sent letters, Smich said. Approximately 65,000 letters are sent out annually.
A prospective student may receive as many as 13 letters between the time he is initially recruited and when be of ficially becomes a mitudent.
Althongh SU recruits nationally, \(70 \%\) of the students come from the 300 -mile radius around central New York, which includes New England, New Jersey, Ohio and as far south as Washington, D.C. About one-thind of the students accepted by the university complete their admiverions and come to SU. Thit is a normal ratio, Smith said. Along with the brochures. the admiseions office ubes a film presentation, high school visite, campus tours and perondents to come to SU tudents to come to SU Starting each summer, the office solicits student visits to campus. During the various open house opportunities last year, more than 8,500 atudents visited SU.
A 19 -minute film, which cont the university \($ 15,000\) to produce, is presented to mtudents at 30 informational meetings held in major

\section*{The Budweiser: Ski Sweater}

\section*{[Top drawer all the way!]}

Presenting the official. red Budweiser Ski Sweater. A warm. soft, washable 100\% Orlon acrylic creation that looks and feels like a million bucks. But it's just $30.00 postpaid!

Tapping our knowledge

Oncein a while, wo all get finh of brilliance. We alave for hours over a single math problem until guddenly the solution comees 30 eadily we wonder how it could have eluded ne for so long.

One seemingly unsoluable concern many larce univermitiee share is that higher education has become too specialized. Educatore wonder if they are turning ont engineers who can't write, or jour nalists who don't understand the ecomomic trends they are reporting. economictrends they are repornized But while many have recognized the problem, fow have be Syracusa University senior Mark Colling had a flash of brilliance on the subject. Collins, a management atudent, got the idea to teach a noncredit computer minicourse to other students who had never been exposed to the subject before.

The course is simple, Colling explained. It's designed to teach students the basic knowledge of us ing a computer. The course is freeCollins doesn't get paid. And about 100 people took Colling up on his 100 p offer.
Now Collins would like to see his idea implemented all over campus. He wants students from SU's 11

In response to Profeasor Kilson' \(\frac{1}{}\) article on black solidarity in Feb. 19'a Daily Orange, it first must be realized that the black American is not a mernber of an ethnic group but a member of a still socially oppressed race. The time has not yet comewhen a Guest comment: Gregory Rolle

Hack persort can claim that he can live in any house he wishes, join any organization, captare any job, or send biE children to any school. He is still Wastington, stoned in Boston and cloaning far more Wall Street offices than he occupies. His children are learming. as he himself learned, that Anseriea

Of the few blacks who have managed to hurdile the wall of high society, the majority have found it neceasary to ahed even the veatiges of black awarencas. Hence, one tends to find awarencas. Hence, one tends to find thoweblacks near the top nervous about relevent to black society.
The black collego atudent at "elite" white colleges finda himself in a wranting to remain congcious of his heritage, he must find a way to arcend the ladder of professional succosa, and at the airne time avoid what white socisty demands upon his culture. The comy manher in which he can accomplish Black solidarity is not black nationalima. Black nationalism is, briedy, the concept of a black state, run different collegen to teach other students their areas of expertise.

Management studenta could teach about banking and credit cards; journalisma students could give a few lessons on clear, succinct writing. The idea is a means for im: portant, basic education - at no cost to anyrone.
"This is a liberal arts school," Collins said. "I'd really like to see people mix more academically. There are engineers and there are journalists, but never the two shall meet.'
And in a school as large and diverse an SU, that is a pity. Perhape after 80 many years of formerhape arter so many have been programmed to believe that a teacher must only taach and a student must only learn. By accapting this traditional formula, we fail to tap some of the greated teacherre of all - oursalves.

The best teacher knows that this formula is not really true. A teacher learns as much from his students as his students learn from him. So in a case of students teaching benefit in some way. students, everyone involved would

\section*{In defense of black solidarity} for and by black people. The black tudent does not want a separate state, he wants succesa in this one.
Black solidarity is not anti-white, it is pro-black. It is the belief that now that the negro has found his black-ness-hence his consciousness-he must reflect it as well as cling to it. He must integrate it with the education he has accrued at the "elite" white colleges and make it useful in kaining complete socis race.
It is not clear that black dining, black housing, etc. afrect the intellectual process of black students in one way or of theae things cend to make the black of theac things tend to make the black student yearn for them and ca to feel isolated from himself.
To go to college in one's own country is not to feel as though one is being educated in a foreign lamd. In order to benefit from the college experience, the black student must be able to find familiar points of identification on campus. He must find those objects which make him feel comfortable in his environment and make him believe that he need not abandon his culture for a sip from the goblet of succeas.
At the "elite" white college, since most of the nime, bars, comcerts, lec tures, radio programming and all other forms of extra-curricular stimulation important to the aocial existence of the college student are pointed towards the white majority, the minority atudent id forced to create his own meana of manifesting his love and interest in his own culture. He must inform himself of those aspects of himself that the "elito" white college has failed to take an interest in. Hence, Black Exprestions Month, Jewish Identity Week, Palemtinian Awareness Week, Chinese Awareness Week. All these events mignify a reluctance on the part of minorities-none of them ethnic groups except the Jewish-to part with their background and heritage for the Perhaps Mr. Kileon should to to Fink, or any other of the black collegres in America. Were he to find any white students at all, he would find them behaving in the same manner that he accuses black etudente of behaving in the converse situation.
Professor Kilson renders the opinion that "white students, while far from having ahed all vestiges of xccirm, are nonetheless much more mature about nonetheless mach more mature abovi racial matters and are both far more decent and legs racist than their parents* generations.'
Unless Syracuse Univertity is a vacuum (which I do not feel it is). Professor Kileon should research this matter further. During the late 1960 s and early 1970s, white students incorporated black concerns with their own concerns. At some "elite" white univergities, such as Cornell, white studente occupied buildings out of sympathy for black causes. Today, the average white etudent is concerned with himself. Hie has little time to expend in pursuit of social justice for others. He aeeks to Eratify his own desires, his own culture: he has little deaire to interact with black atudents. His meneration is the most conservative since the late 1940 s and early 1950s.

For interaction, the black atudent must look to himself. For many black students, it is precisely the opportunity to interact with those whose outlooks and expressions are similar to their own that provides them with the inspiration and stamina to survive at the "elite" white college.
1 know not what course the negroes at Harvard will take, but 1 am con Uriveraity will continue to seek solidarity, the expansion of their black Bolidarity, the consciousneas.
Consciousmess. is the external affairs Grezory Rolle is the external affairs chairperson of the Student Afro chairperson of the Student Afro American Society.

\section*{Letters}

\section*{Emotion, not logic}

To the editor:
With all due respect to David Abernethy, I must say I am not impressed With the approach to the Davis Dome expreased in his recent letter (Daily Orange, Feb. 19).
Abernethy's letter reade like a law briaf and in one of the coldest approaches to the problem I have heard thia side of Clifford winters. Does Abernethy understand that we are dealing here with an emotional imeue? This is a case where "logit" and "Treneon" are chncked out tan mindow. And nightly so.

Everybody and his ancle knows it doenn"t malre "eenge" to name the atadimm after Davis. Everyone ing a finamcisil bath if they turned down Carrier's money. But still there is support for a Davis Dome. Why? Because people think it is the right thing to do. It may not be the fiecally sound thing to do. But proponente of a Davis Domedo not care. And they shouldn't.
I was never too hot (exctupe the pun) on the idea of owning an air conditioner. But, if Carrier does not donate in the name of Brnie Davis, I'll either eweat or buy another brand. For me, there is no compromaise. It has to be the Ernie Davis Dome.
That may not make sense. but such is the natare of an emotional topic. Leave your logic at home, this is an emotional iasue that won't soon be repolved.

\title{
Positions Available to Graduating Seniors
}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Nuclear Power & -Engineering and Science majors, 1 year postgraduate education. salary to \($ 26,000\) after 4 years. Special program available for qualified JUNIORS-Earn \(\mathbf{S} 650\) per month during your senior year! \\
\hline -Aviation & -All majors considered, salary to \($ 22.000\) after 4 years, open to qualified juniors \\
\hline Management & All majors considered, management of personnel in shipboard environment, salary to \(\mathbf{$ 2 0 , 0 0 0}\) after 4 years \\
\hline Financial Management & -Business, finance and management majors preferred, 6 months postgraduate education, salary to \($ 20.000\) after 4 years \\
\hline - Woman Officer & -All majors considered, management and control positions, salary to \(\mathbf{$ 2 0 , 0 0 0}\) after 4 years \\
\hline Inteligence & -All majors considered, 5 months postgraduate education, salary to \(\mathbf{$ 2 0 , 0 0 0}\) after 4 years \\
\hline Civill Engineaing & -All Engineering majors, time in job counts for professional registration, salary to \(\mathbf{$ 2 0 , 0 0 0}\) after 4 years. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

BENEFITS INCLUDE: 30 days paid vacation annually, free medical and dental care, excellent retirement program, valuable experience for future career planning, officer's commission int the United States Navy.

\section*{Social satirist to play Grant}

National Lampoon Comedian Charis Rosh will appesar at Grant Azditoriam Thureday, February 22 at 9 prim as part of University Union's"Winter Week"

With his off-beat humor and social satire, Rush has entertained American audiences, acpuining a large college-age following.

Runh is known for his clever sets of routines and riscue quips. A typical Fughism: "You've realized when you've Youve real wed wh you try to overamoked when you try brush something off your Inowider anditis the foor. In addition to his appearances at clubs and shows, Fuah has put out an album of his unusual comedy.
Tickets are available at University Union or Spectrum Sundries, \($ 1.50\) in advance and \($ 2.00\) at the door.

\section*{\(\star\) \\ \(\rightarrow=F / \theta=1\)}
U.S. companies are looking to Congress for passage of a bill that will encourage them to begin mining by providing a sort of investment ingurance Hull said.

So far, American companies have invested about \($ 150\) million for regentch Perce said.
"Industry is going to havets alre a deciaion about whathes make a decinion about whether to continue investing or to scrap the project altogether," he said. "Hopefully, we can be of some help in paving the way toward a reaslution."

Saturday's conference is the 16th annual meeting of the Amexican Society of International Lavw and is sponsored jointly by the SU College of Law's international Legal Studies Program and the Syracuse Fogramal of ymior national Law and Commerce.
> U.U. Speakers Board Presents at Hendricks Chapel

\section*{ANDY}

KAUFMAN

America's mext comedy superstar
special guest
THE ANN SILVER BAND

Tuesday March 6 8 p.m.

Tickets on zafe now at Spoctrum Sundries: . 3.50 in advance $4.50 day of show

ANDY KAUFMAN is o frequent gumst on "Smturday Night Live" (Wateh him this sintur dey. Fob. 243 تnd stare in ABC's comedy hit "Tax. i". (Latise Gravas).

\section*{Living}

\section*{Pregnancy}

By Maria Ficcardi
She has that glow - a healthy, happy Soke that only pregnant women in com that only preials have.
"位've got the most wonderful news," ahe says ecstatically to her husband. She may be wrong.

In the last beveral months, an extenaive advertiging campaiga has introduced home pregmancy tests to American women. Distributore claim these kite, which can be used as early an nine days after the first missed period, areat least 97 percent accurate.

However, many physicians and pharmacists tend to disagree. They believe the self-administered urine test is totally unnecesabyy. One Syractse way of ripping of women."

Advertisements say that the kits, which have been marketed for two years, are similar to teats pexformed in professi onal laboratories.

The instruction booklet tella women to mix a small amomat of urime in a test ube with antibodies of human chorionic gonadotropin. HCG is a hor mone foumd in presmant women. If the reault in positive, a brown ring wil form on the bottom of the sest tribe in two "It's fast, it's eary, and done in your own bathroom, "said an SU etudent in a local druggtore, writing out a check
Y.75. 6 sreat

Yot the Syracuse doctor said the tegts are not an nccurate as women are led to believe "If there is no brown ring," he aid, "it doeam"t mean a woman is not pregaant'

Warner/Chilcott studies indicate that their product EPThas a 25 percent faise negtative factor,"

What this meanas" the doctor contimued," is 25 percent of all the women Who thought they were anfe, were not That's never mentioned anywhere.
Other doctors euggest there may be a high rate of false negratives since the HCG factor is uridetectable. In the first week of pregnancy, apprehensive women will often use the kit.
The earifer she uses it, the more likely she is to get a negative result," one pharmacist explained. "So she follows the directiona in the kit to buy a new lit the next week.
Nearly 60 percent of all women whose periods are nine to 14 days late

\section*{self-testing: Do you really know?}
will oventually get them, a Planned The manager of a Sypacuse drugstore Parenthood representative said: A said women will buy the kit "if they are woman's period may be delayed for afraid to let anyone else know. I doubt everal reasons, including emotional anyone who buys these will be as

Some doctore question the eflectiveness of the recently marketed home pregnancy toeting kita.

Marvin Weiner of Bornett Pharmacy noticed that young women mainly buy the kits.
"The market is for young wromen. You can tell by their ad campaign Older women have their family doctor: who they trust and go to immediately."

A representative from Diagnostic Testing, dimtributors of Anawer, another home pregrancy texting kit, said the company has not done any madies to find out the average age of its cuatomers.
"Women from 18 to 45 will buy this product Some women are embarrasaed to see their gynecologista, but other women just want to be the first to know. s a very personal thing." the repreaentative said.
The inatructions in the kite albo say that the earlier a woman finds out she's pregnant the aconer she can begin prenatal care.
However, the obstetrician said there isn't any medical advantage to knowing about a pregnowncy the first four weeks, even if the woman wants an abortion.

If a woman choomes to terminate the pregnancy abe is adviaed not to do so until four weeks after the first misaed period when complications are the lowest, he asid.
After thoroughly investigating the testing kits, Consumer feports Magezine strongly urges women not to use them. However, if a woman decides to purchase them, she is advised to wait 14 days if her period is regular and 21 days if it's irregular. The magazine also stresses the resulte be confirmed by a doctor.

Planned Parenthood, 1120 E. Geneaee St., charges \($ 8\) for a urine test. The patient can usually get the results before ahe leaves the office. An appointment is necessary.
The SU health center offers free pregnancy testing with reaulta pregnancy testing

In Burnett's, 20 -year-old Diane lonte over the ahelves of contraceptives and over the nheives of contraceptives and ago, I used one of those and got a little ago, I used one of those and got a itte ring. I died, she said. For days, I went through,
She piciked up a box of contraceptive foam and left the store.

\section*{University health center offers various gynecological services}

The Sy Fran Lepper The Syracuse University Student Health Center offers a variety of gynecological services including free pregnancy cesta Pregnancy testa, simple lab analyses of urine specimens, are performed weekdays from 8:30 to \(10: 00\) a.m. The results are usually available within 45 minutes, Dr. Ramai Humsi, health center synecologist maid.

If the testindicates pregnancy, an examination is recommended to confirm it. The woman is then offered general counseling by Humsi or one of the two nurses.

A girl who choowes to continue her pregnancy is referred to an obstetrician.

Humisi will also refer a patient who chooses to have an pabortion to a private abortion to a private phyaian, Planmed Paren. phyomian, Pr Upathed Medical Center.

The bealth center also ying ies venereal disesse tesabout 2 or 3 cases he diagnomes about 2 or 3 cases of gonorrhea a month. Hie has never oncountered a syphillis care.
In addition, Humai said the center treats yeast infections (vaginal fungus infections). Problems arise when girls try to treat themselves. often with friends' medication. "This prevents an accurate examination." he said.
The health center will also adminiater birth control after a girl has undergone complete examination and counseling.
Birth control counseling familiarizes the student with the type of method she has choeen. "Any birth control method is not without ad vantages and diaadvantagea so the patient must know al poasible complications."
Free gynecological ap pointments are available weekdays from 8:30-12:00 a.m and 1:00-4:30 p.m. However, students are charged for blood tests, x-rays, Pap smears and medication.

Generally there is a two to three week wait for an appointment except for women with urgent problems.

\section*{ DERZU UZALA}

Kuresawa's genius is still apparent in this first film since 1970 made in Russia about the story of friendship between turn of century Russian explorer and his Siberian guide. Extraordinary cinematography evokes mood of Siberian culture. Acting is superb

\section*{Applications for the}

\author{
University Judicial Board \\ and \\ University Court of Appeals
}
are now available in Room 304 Steele Hall. Students interested in membership for the 1979 -80 academic year can pick up the applications today through March 2. All application forms must be returned to 304 Steele Hall by March 9 .

\title{
UNIVERSITY UNION PRESENTS
}

ERRMME FEBRUARY 22-27 co-sponsored by the Greek Council

Tonight, Feb. 22

\section*{CHRIS RUSH}

National Lampoon Comedian
Grant Auditorium 9:00 p.m.
Tickets : \($ 1.50\) in advance \($ 2.00\) at the door

Available at University Union and Spectrum Sundries

Saturday, Feb. 24
SNOW SCULPTURE

8:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.
SNOW GAMES
ON THE QUAD
2:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 26
Speaker:
TONY SGRO
champion skier
Maxwell Aud., 6 p.m., free Movie:

\author{
SPIRIT \\ with Tony Sgro \\ 6 p.m.
}
co-sponsored by SUSKI

\section*{Tomorrow, MOVIES}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline BUCK & THE END \\ PRIVATES & THE \\
7 p.m.& 10 p.m. & \(6,8,10\) & 12 p.m. \\
Kittredge Aud. & Gifford Aud. \\
$1.00 & $1.50 \\
CINEMA ONE & CINEMA TWO \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Sunday, Feb. 25
SONG MOUNTAIN
AQUARIUS CUP COMPETITION FINALS world top free-style competiors
1:00 p.m.
DAFFY DUCK FESTIVAL animated fantasy
6,8,& 10p.m.
Gifford Aud. \($ 1.50\)

Tuesday, Feb. 27

\section*{THE KMNKS 8:30 p.m. \\ LANDMARK THEATRE}

Tickets $6.50 and $7.50
Available at
Spactrum Sundries, Discount Records Lendmark Theatre

\section*{Hillel to discuss anti-Semitism}

With a theme of "growing anti-Semitiam in America, the B'nai Brith Eillel Foun. dation will hold a retreat this weekend.
"We all know what it is, and yet we've each experienced it in different ways" begins a Hillel paraphlet describing the Hillel pamaphiet deacribing the rutreat, to be held in Jewell, New York Tha retreat will meditation, and dance.

Exploring the theme of antiSemitism will be Levi Kefman, a student from the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City, and musician Velvel Pasternak, who will "reveal how muaic has been an integral part of our people,' said retreat coordinator Janice Berger.

Other guests will be scholars and rabbis from the Syracuse and rabbis from the Syracuse Berger said.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
"People almays come together in one thing-defense of their identity." Berger said. "One of our goals is to create a real feeling of unity among the group.
She said discussions will focus on how the holocaust could exist, and if the roots to another are developing in the United Statem. "People tend to skip over those queations," she added.
Part-Time Commissioned Outside Salesperson
To sell imprinted sportswear to your local area groups including clubs, frats & sororities. taverns, athletic teams, etc. Mostly evenings and weekend work. Must be efficient, responsible, reliable person and provide own transportation. Call 487-8823 for interview appointment.

ABC Athletic Lettering, Inc.

\section*{Community Darkrooms}

SEMESTER LAB FEE . . . \($ 45\) includes
All chemicals and equipment for \(b / w\) processing and printing plus color slide development.

> Lecture - Watson Theatre, 8 p.m. Charlotte Brown B8w Course Begins \(2 / 26\)

Call or sfop by for triondly visit - Opan Everyctar
316 Waverly Ave.. Syracuse, N.Y. 315-423-2460

Tues. 27 -4 p.m. AND Wed. 28 - \(\mathbf{- 1} 1\) a.m. Discounted tickets availabio at Spectrum Sundries Only. Tickets: \($ 3.50\) & \($ 5.00\) with College i.D.
For further imiormation call the War Mamorini Box Office at 4262670 or University Union at 423-2503

\title{
SPYRO GYRA \\ SUNDAY, MARCH 4TH TWO SHOWS 8 P.M. & 11 P.M. \($ 5.00\) JABBEROCKY - S.U. ID \\ LIMITED SEATING! TICKETS ON SALE NOW! TICKETS AVAILABLE AT SPECTRUM SUNDRIES
}

A majestically, magical musical experience arrives in Syracuse

Roger O. Hirson & Steve Schwarz's

Directed by Jeff Meredith
Fri., Sat., & Sun. Feb. 23-25
Mar. 2-4
Salt City Center's Maln Theater 601 S. Crouse Ave.
Students \($ 1\) off regular ticket price 474-1122

\section*{A PINT FOR A PINT}

Thursday Feb. 22 & Friday Feb. 23 10a.m. - \(3: 45\) p.m. Trophy Rm., Archbold Gym

\section*{Give B1ood}

Give what money can't buy.

Extra Color Prints or Slides.. (NO NEGATIVE NEEDED)

If you've ever wanted extra color prints or color slides of your favorite instant prints or conventional color prints. now is tional color prints. now is the time to get them. No need for negatives. Just bring in your favorite prinis with this coupon, and for every slides you prder from your same-size instant or conventional color prints Kodak will make you a fourth copy free Bring this coupon in today tor futil cetails. But hurry this otfer ends March 14.

 Envemstiv EOONSTORES 303 University Place

The Monk in the World: Buddhist and Christian Perspectives on Thomas Merton, Trappist Monk.

FROM MYSTICISM TO ETHICS
TONIGHT, Feb. 22, 7:30 p.m.
Community House, 711 Comstock Ave. co-lead by Chaplain Louis Nordstrom and Assistant Dean Darrell Fesching.

A Program of Hendricks Chapol

The Retailing Club will present a Sales Representative from HELENA RUBINSTEIN COSMETIC FIRM

Careers & Opportunities will be discussed on THURSDAY, FEB. 22
6 P.M., HAVEN LOUNGE

Make-up demonstration to be held in Association with Brad Gilbert & Todd Blumenfeld

\title{
ARRIVING: Saturday, Feb. 24 at 9:30 p.m
}

\section*{DESTINATION: Jabberwocky}

FARE: $2.00 Direct Flight

\section*{SPECIAL FARE: \($ 1.50\) with a Colgate game ticket stub}

The Juillierd Quartet the ""first ternily of chornluer music." will

\section*{Juilliard quartet to play}

When the Juilliard String Quartet visits Crouse College Auditoriums on Sunday, FebAuditorium 85 pan., Syracuse ruary 25 at 8 pm. Syracuse University will hear some of the finest in classical music. Syracuse Friends of Chamber Syracuse Firinds of Chamber Music, will feature music by Music, will feature music by Schubert, Haydn and Elliott Carter. The Juiliard Quartet was last here in the spring of 1977.

The famed musicians tonr a Mreat deal, playing concerts throughout the United States and Europe. As the quartet-inresidence since 1962 at the Lib rayy of Congress in
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \hline Mandatory \\ news reporters \\
meeting \\
Sunday \\
at 3 p.m. \\
at the DO \\
New reporters \\
welcome. \\
\hline \hline
\end{tabular}

Washington, D.C.. the Juilliard Quartet annually givea fwenty concerta. civea twenty concerts.
As a highlight this season, the Quartet is performing the the Quarte Beethorion quartet comple in New York at Kaufcycle in New York at Kaufmann Concert Hall. Also, the mann Concert Hall. Also, the Juilliard Quartet is presenting a "Giory of Mozsart" beries, five concerts of quartets and quintete, at Alice Tully Hall.

\title{
Workd Class Freestyle Competition February 24 and 25
}

It's Aquarius Cup V. the biggest freestyle event in the United States on the 1979 Professional Tour. Come out and see all the top freestyle pros from the U.S. and banada compete the excitement and thrills of the daredevil mogul runs. This is treestyle skiing at its very best.

Ballet Event, Saturday: Event, Sunday:
Presentation of Awards: ballet, mogul and overall. 5 p.m. Sunday

\section*{ADMISSION FREE, AT} Song Mountain
20 minutes South of downtown Syracuse at Tully exit 14 of Interstate 81

\section*{Here, there & everywhere}

\section*{Harry Fig}

\section*{Sherman's Quest}

by-Peter Wallace
by Chuck Wing

\section*{TODAY}

Film: "David and Lisa," with accomparying discussion will be shown at 7 tonight at Hutchings St. \($ 1\).
Mon's rugby club practices at 4:30 p.m. today in Gym B. Women's Building. For details call Fred Greenaway et 423-3436.
Women in Communications Inc. meets at 5 p.m, soday in the Newhouse I lounge to discuss the spring schedute. Wine and chaese will be served.
Lecture: Painter and sculptor Charlorxe Brown will present her Work at 8 tonight at Light Work of Community Derkrooms. 316 Waverly Ave.

Frank Corso will perform his beer drinking music at Two-Below. Brewster/Boland's coffeehouse. Molson on tap.

Lecture: Jarnes E. Turner from Cornell will speak on "Ractsm and Social Structure" at 8 tonight in Kittredge Auditorium. Sponsored bytua Student Afro-American Sociaty.

Ritte range is open from 7:3010 tonight. Bullets cost \($ 6\) for the semester.

SPRING BREAK FLIGHTS

March 9
NYC JFK Newark Boston Washington, D.C.
All fights return Sun. March 18.
fares subject to change Feb. 1.1979.

All arrangernents through Tom Duffy Travel. MAKE YOUR RESERVAIIONS NOWI deadIIne 823 UNIVERSITY AVE. 423 -4702

March 10 NYC JFK

Biology eminar: Thomas Nowak from Notre Dame will speak on "A Physical Description of the Inhibition Enolase by Fluoride ton"by 4 p.m. today in 117 Lyman.
Alpha Phi Orrega blood drive will be held from 10.a.m.-3:45 p.m. today and tomorrow in the Arehbold Gym trophy room.
Retailing Club presents a sales representative from Helena Rubenstein at 6 tonight in the Haven lounge. Admission for non-members is 50 cents.
Nationtan Engineert Weok: James
Cole will speak Cole will speak on "Energy Research York State from 3-4 p.m. Today in 355 Link. Free caffee. 355 Link. Free cotfea.
of the Onondege Past Mary Sferra ing Center will speet Counseltianity. Sexuality and Pastoral Counseling at 8 tortight in the Newman Center.
Anthropology Soclety meets at 5 p.m. today in 500 University Place. All welcome.
Ciscuss unt Bible Fwllowship will discuss What is Heaven Really room. Community House. 711 Comstock Ave.
Chans Club maets at 6:30 tonight in 336 Smith. Come learn the meaning of "kriegspiel.'

TOMORROW
"What Catholics Beltovo." a mini-course with Fald 12.50 , 55 pies vimorrow in the desnis office Hen dricks Chapal basement. dricks Chapel basement
Allect letters at 8 pmational will Maxwell Auditorium. tomorrow in Lebsentex Student Organization meets at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Student Center living room.
Wormen's hacrosise club will mee at 2 p.m. tomarrow in Gym B. Wornen's Building. Beginners are interva ninter Varsity Christian Fellowship meets at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Nobte room, Hondikks Chapel.
Chemistry earninar: Graduat
student George Fairchild will speak on "Mono- and Bis-Complexes of Cr(III) with 2. 2-Bipyridine and 1. 10 Phenanthroiine" at 2 p.m. tomorrow in 303 Bowne.
Lecture: Ali Farazmand, doctoral candidate in public administration, will speak on "Public Adrrinistration 2 iranian Revolution from noer 2 p.m. tomorrow Room, Maxulet
Next of Kin. featuring Joe Salvo, Karen Savoca, Irwin Fisch, Gary Goal, Gil Castle and others, will perform at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Mount Inn underneath Graham Dining Hall.
The Bombshelter has music and wine from 8:30 p.m.-midnight on Fridays in the basement of Hendricks Chapel.
Mustim Friday pravers will be held from 1-1:30 pm. tomorrow in the Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel basement.
National Engineers Weak: Basketball tournament between the engineering societies will be held from 1:30-4 p.m. tomorrow in Gym A, Women's Building.

NOTICES
Application: for editorial positions for Report newsmagazine are being accepted by Brenda Hessney at the Report Office, 103. Collage Place, untif noon March 9.
International International students: Need counseling? Call Ebi Okonny at the Academic Counseling Serv
Archbold Gym, 423-3150.
Couple applications for the dance marathon are available at the Greek Council office, 821 Universiry Ava. through Friday noon-5 pim Rerurn through Friday, noon-5 p.m. Return by March 1.
Nowhous
Nowhouse peer moviser ap office, Newhouse 4 .

Sign-up deadline is 3 p.m. Mon tay for men's and women's intramural badminton doubles in the intramural office. Archboid Gym.
NOTICES FOR HERE. THERE 8 EVERYWHERE are due at The Daily Orange, 1101 E. Adams St., by noon two days betore publication. Name must be included. Na announcement are teken over the phone.

\section*{Classified ads}

\section*{For Sale}

VILIAMS & PANTENE Boar brigrte poir brushes with boautiul wood SORIAL & SUPPLY, 727 S. CTOUSO Ave. next to S.U. Post Offict. 4752989.
\(31 C\) 940 Turmablo. Exceltemt Con: Elition 2 vears old. No cartidge. 422-9439.

TODAYONLY WITHTHISAD: MEN'S 12 INCH WATERPHOOF SHOES 39.99. 810 ot ALL FAYE BOOTS. RE.WASHED JEANS 515 . IVY
ALL 738 S. CROUSE AVE. 478 . \({ }^{\text {ALL. }}{ }^{7}\)
EORBAS Has Grat piza & Hot Subs with lots of Morzarbila Cheese and Greek Tastel We Deliver 472. 5075
STEREO COMPONENTS. CAF stereos. fuzzbusters. all brands Call ACTION AUDIO 478-8667.

BIC 940 Turntable. Excellent Condition 2 years old. No cartridge. Must sell, trading up, \($ 25.00\). Cali \(422-9439\).

Airbrush set Compressor. 4 brushes, extra hoses and jors. Cost newt s250. Excellent condinan. Must 5er 5:00.
Order your JOSTENS CLASS RING anyday at SORENSEN'S. Naxt to Iniv. Post office Ooor, S. Crouse Ave.
7974 Buitk Regal. Excellent Condition. New tires, shocks and more Can 474-4271 atter 5 pm.

For Sale - Color T.V."19. brarnd new. price will negotiate. Must be seen Call 478-1978, Poland or Norman Guilar- Angelica 9430 © string acoustic Year old. Excellemt condition. 8130 / best otfer. Roy 423 0953.

For Sale. - Twin mativess/box spring/frame. Like new. \($ 65\) or best offer. 492-648?

\section*{Wanted}

Counselors: Adirondack Boys Camp: 7/2 wks: 6450-550: Swim Archery, Creft. Tennis, Driver, OHice (typing). Riftery, Softbatl, Trip Leading. 39 Mill Valley Road, Pitesford, N.Y.. 14534.

OVERSEAS JOBS - Summer/year ound. Emrope, S. Americar, Ausralid, Asia. Etc. Alt fields, \($ 500\) ST. 200 morithly. Expenses paid.
Sightseeing. Free into - Write: IIC Box \(4490-\mathrm{SH}\), Berkeley, CA 94704 .

Low on money and records thet RECORDS. Bring them in for instant cash. Top prices paidl
DESERTSHORE 730 s. Crouse 472 3235 Mon.-Sat. 11-6.
EARN HGG INCOME - Full. part time. At home or at school. Easy serciting opporimity; no gimmicks, reliability guaranteed. - Derails \($ 2\) (refunciad) STAR SSU Box 272. Fland Park, N.Y., 11558.

Female models for nude photogyraphy. Aeply with gdidress or phone. Send to P.O. Eox 388, Colvin St. Station, Syracuse. N.Y. 13205. \($ 10-515\) per nour.

Meet attractiva, friendly girls and get free mealsi BE A HOUSEBOY. Call \(423-8056\).

\section*{For rent}

Aparment furnished, watking ciscance. One months security. No 6550.

Apertmentfor rent - 3 -bedroom, only six blocks from cempun, on bus route, no lease. 1 month deposit. avaitabte March 1. Call after E pm.
\(479-7820\).

PRIVATE ROOMS FURNISHEDShare kitchen, bath and livirgroom. Clean, walking distance-474-1303 or 472 -0154.

Room for rem (ome) 1 block from Dowitt Pleze and bus line parking. (two) 2 elosette (one) 1 wolk-in. 825 month. Ph. 448-6943.

\section*{Personals}

OPEN MIKE NIGHT at Thata Chi is coming March 3, Get your ac togother. Prizes for best sets. Call 423-2680 by Monday to enter.
UTTLE SISTER RUSH at Theth Chl. Thursday, Febr uary 22, at 8:00 p.m. Stop by for punch, beor. and Place. across from Sims Nympho, Thank God for litele things, like Arizons. Harctware Wars, and the Byrds. Thanks for a fontwatic six Let's hope for many more. Heppy half-year. I love you. Cresp.

RTB-Clouds drifted in, but our blue skies came shining through. Mey it toy that way for incerbly, ILY. Ame.
E. Finkelsteen, pull out if you know . Finkelstesn, pull oun you don't belongit-ZBT

Karen, a very Happy Birthday to you rom the pledges of KKG.
Condron. Finally the true you came out. You're a good horse's ass. More - come RANDI, see, I told you there was a personal coming. London may have beon exciting but I'm glad to have you harel Have:

Lucy and Jiffy-Thanx for Friday niteyou are the best. Ethet.
F.C.P. - hm .... so "more then a handful is a waste" so willt or wonit it into the pelm of your hand. The ?

Penelope, I don't know who Scarlett isf Aren't you getring a little per sonal? Toda.

Todd yeah. I get one avery dav. Penelope.
Pi Beta Phi wishes P.A O'Donnell a happy (legal) B-day in hopes of siten cing her. Okay, Patry? A warm walcome to Mrs. Sehuyler andicers and pitedges. We know you'tl do itl Exec. Councit.
Hi Bobe Happy Birthday, You're a ter rific kid and i hope you have a terrific day. Love. Moa Derek and lobie- Thanks for overything, it's nice to know someone cares. llowe you both. Love Lauren. PS- You can't beat satin sheets. ケoers
To my favorite D.G.; Roses are red violets are blue. This Friday, will I be able to dance with you? Guess who.
Franny-Giad you're not going away for the weekend. How could you leave your nurse? Love. Geotf

To Brendy's Babysitter, Todsy is his fifth birthday. Come over to Jab (10:30-1 1:30) or my apartment and mother. PS-calt me.
TO OUR TWO CUTE CRIMINALS- it may darnage our raputations to be best friends with soon-1o-be ex cons, but well offer ourselves as character witnesses anywayi Good much-Signed 6773 A 6774 .
Enough of this Todet end Panelape stuff. prepare vourselves for Bill Pigrim and the Power Polkettes. Dear 1960's revolutionary seakers We believe we have tound a semi viable atternative for 70's fifa. If interested. contact Shaw-#121 H213.

\section*{Lost & found}

Found: Black and tan fermaie dog. Approx 6 (six) months w. flea collar. Call \(422-2252\).
Who found the gold watch on the Quadt Plesse return it for \($ 20\) reward. Contact Ned 425-7704.
Drams student needed to do 30 minuto TV production. No pay, but some experience with TV. Conthct Ned-425-7704.

LOST- Old English Sheepdog. vicinity Lancaster Ave. Af seon or foumd Reward.

\section*{Services}

Typing done in my home
Rensonable Retes. Call \(49 \mathrm{~g}-\mathbf{2 1 6 2}\).
Gifis: We can cur inl Orange Tonsorial & Supply. 727 S. Crouse Ave Naxt to S.U. Post Office 4 , 5 -9289 No appointment necessary

Low cost travel to israel. Center for Siudent Travel. 9 sm-6 pm. (212) Siudent

Upcoming yacetion? Private in town esidence on NANTTUCKET ISLAAND has off season retes for you, 3225 and up. May, June. Fully equipped kitchents, \(2-4\) bedrogrns. Beachicombing. tonnis, biking, gourmet res: taurents, spring flowers, Also summar opanings. 682.6432 or \(685-5427\). Expert men and Women's taitoring at Rags \(\mathrm{N}^{-}\)Eags Eloutique 4320 E . Genesee St. Dewitt. Mon.-Fri. 10:00-5:00 Saturday 1:00-5:00. Call 446-8277.
Fast. Efficiant Traing- Proof readPick up and deliver if necessary. 446.4012.

SUMMER JOBS IN ALASKA High pay \(6800-2000 /\) monkh. Parks, fisheries, and mor . Haw, wher Box get jobs. Send \($ 2\) to Alas.
2480 Goleta. CA. 93018.

\section*{Miscellaneous}

What youve always wanted to know bocut S.E.X. fout wera never told. Skills exploration: identifying and buiding your marketable skils talents. and abilities. CAREER AWARENESS WORKSHOP-SKILLS ADENTIFICATION. Newhouse I Alumni Lounge, 2-4. p.m. Tuesday February 27 . Help vourself- take AdFebruary 27. Help yoursolf- take Ad Vantage- Start nowl Sponsored by 3150.

DROPPING OUT/STOPPING OUTT Keep working et your degres, Keep earning credits white off campus Study with Syracuse University Independent Study Degree Programs. Requires one weok of class amandanca per semestes Compses feught by senior su facuity in Math. Science. Humanities Social Science and Business Mocial Science and Business tevels. Cell Bob Colley for more information at Syracuse University, \{315\} 423-3269, or write Room 0 . 610 Eiast Fayorte Street, Syracuse New York 13202.

SENIORS; Don't forgat to pick ap your tickets for the Senior Party February \(19-22,9-11\) and \(2-4\) in Wornen's Buiting Music by Doutio Axle.

Low on cash, but you wanna get smashed?l? Win a FREE \(1 / 2 \mathrm{keg}\) of Alpha Phi Omega's blood drive. See ad for derails.

BEER BLAST FRIDAYI \(\mathbf{5 1 . 5 0}\) for all the bear you can drink. \(3-6\) pmin the Cornmons.

Get a tree pint of beer from Hungry Charlies when you donate 1 pint o bionve.

HOLLYWOOD Rt. 11 Mattvcble 454 . 0321
MIDNIGHT FRI AND SAT

A NEW NICHTMARE FROM THE DFRECTOR OF "Night of the Living Dead"

\section*{LUNN A fREE}
\(1 / 2\) RECD

\section*{Gather up your dorm floor,} cottage, fratemity, sorority or club and come on down to ALPHA PHI OMEGA'S BLOOD DRIVE Group donating the most blood wins.

\section*{Thursday, Feb. 22nd Friday, Feb. 23rd 10:00-3:45}

\author{
Trophy Room-Arehbold Cym
}

Subsidized by the student fee

RUSH PARTY! THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22 8 P.M.-??
PUNCHI, BEER! & TUNES! AT THETA CHI
127 College Pi. (across from Sims)

\section*{ATTENTION COLLEGE STUDENTS}

You may be eligible for a two-year Air Force ROTC scholarship. The scholarship includes full tuition, lab expenses, incidental fees, a reimbursement for textbooks, and \($ 100\) a month tax free. How do you quaiIf? Yoa must have at least two years of graduate or undergraduate work rembining, and be willing to serve your nation at least four years as an Air Force officer. Scholarships are avaliable to students who can qually for pilot, navigator, or missile training, and to throse who are majoring in selected technical and nontechat cal acadernic disctplines, in certain scientic areas, undergraduate nursing, or selected premedical despee areas. Non-scholarshtp sfuckents enrolled in the Al Force ROTC two-year program also recelve the 100 monthly tax-free allowance just a two vear Air Force students. Find out today about a two year Air force Your Air Force ROTC counselor has the details.

Investigate the Opportunities Available to Yous
Room 200. Archbold Gym. Phore

ROTC
Gatewoy to a great way of bite.

\section*{Syracuse bench presses Niagara, 120-82}

\section*{By Joe Grande}

What 8,681 fans expected when they arrived last night at Manley Field House - a patented Syracuse rout came true to form as the Bixthranked Orangemen made short order of Niagara, coasting to a 120-82 win.
The Orangemen, now 22-2, carne one atep closer to another undefeated season at home (coach Jim Boeheima third) as they chalked up their 44th consecutive win under the dome and 16 th straight overall.
In a game that brought back shades of the Siena massacre, the Orangemen could do no wrong, especially in the first half as they completely dominated Niagara. They handed the Purple agles their 20 th loss of the season againgt five witas.
The zone defense employed by the Eagleg was ineffective, as SU guards Marty Headd and Hal Cohen took control from cutside in the early going.
"It's difficult to play a zone against us since we have Cohen and Headd;: Boeheim said. "When thoae two see a zone, their eyes light up."
After a couple of outside jumpers by Headd and Cohen, Syracube managed Headd and Collin, Syadse managed Bouie made his presence felt. Bouie, in only nine minutes of first half action only nine minutes of first half action, was perfect from the field, five-for-five), scored 11 points, grabb and blocked two shots.
Niagara took its only lead in the game (3-2) after 52 seconds on a threepoint play by Gary Jordan. Syracuse then went on a blitz of 10 consecutive points as they bolted to a \(12-3\) lead with 16:50 left.
SU bank 75 percent of ita ghots in the first half while Niagara shot just 25 percent. The tourney-bound Orangemen led 66-27 at half time.

Reserves saw plenty of first half ae uion with freshomen Ruck Harraon and Ron Payton scoring 10 and nine points respectively.

Despite the huge deficet, the Purple Eagles outscored SU 55-54 in the second half. Jordan, the teari's leading scorer, asserted himself offenaively (11 pointe) after being held to six in the first half by Louis Orr.

We played well defensively and Louis Orr did a great job on Jordan," Boeheim said.
The Orangemen cooled off considerably in the second half, and ended up shooting 62 percent from the field to Niagara's 39 percent.
Harmon and Payton led the geven Orangemen who scored in double figures. They each ecored 15 points as Harmon hit nine of 10 shots from the foul line. Danny Boyle thrilled the crowd by making five of 10 shots in the last seven minutes for a career-high total of 10 pointe.
"We executed well and did what we were supposed to do," Boeheim said. "A game like this can't hurt us."
"Syracuse plays better than last year's team," baid Niagara head coach year s team, said Niagara head coach but it'a a lot easier coming in when but it'a a lot easie.
COURT GESTURES - Bouie was the Hardwood Club Mont Valuable the Hardwood Club Moat Valuable Player for the garne. . Donations of more than \($ 5,000\) were given to the fund for Niagara s cancer-stricken captain Phil Scaffidi, including a \($ 1,000\) check from the Hardwood Ciub and \($ 100\) from the SU basketball team. The rest of the donations were collected by SU chenations were collected by and Sour Citrus Society cheerleaders and Sour Citrus So

\section*{SYRACUSE (120)}

Shackleford 4-9 0-0 8, Otr 2-4 0-2 4, Bouie 5-5 2.3 12. Cohen 5-6 2-2 12. Headd 58, 00 10, Moss 2-34-4 8, Schayea4-61-29, Cubit 2.300 4. Harmon 3-7 9-10 15 . Paytion \(595-815\), Jerebko 6-7 1-1 13. Boyle 5-1000 10. Davis 0 0 0-0 TOTALS \(48-77\) 24-32 120 .

\section*{NLACARA (82)}

Millipe 6-159-11 21, Drum 1-4 1-23, Foote 0-2 2-2 2. Lyles 5-10 3-4 13, Jordan 6-14 5-6 17. \(3-600\) G. Fuback 3-6 \(2-3\) 8. Cox \(1-4\). 002 TOTALS 27-70 28-34 82.

Freshman forward Pon Payton (42) led the charge off the bench for Syrimense last night an thw Orergoernem beat Nimopere \(120-82\) or their 44th consecurtive win at Manley Fiald House. Payton and fatlow treshman Rick Hamon led the Orimge with is pointto epiece and 23 minute of plaving time.

\section*{Intramurals spell relief}

By Greg Luckenbaugh
It is a typical winter weeknight at archaic Archbold Gymanasium. Ineide the chaic Archbold Gymanasium. Inide the gym, to human forms, ranging from thin to obese, chase an orange sphere from one end of the court to the other. floor, their bodies seemingly out of con frol. The rasping sounds emitted from their lungs nemind one of Jethro Tull's their lungs remind on Locomotive Breath."

Occasionally, very occasionally, the sphere is tossed through an elevated ring omamented with lace.
Is this somae kind of sadomasochistic cult, engaged in a perverse ritual? No, it is only 10 of the more than 1.000 SU men who compete each year in the in tramural basketball program.
"The program is by far the most popular intramural program on campus," eaid SU intramural director Nick Wetter. "We have three divisions (independent, living center and frater nity), which are subdivided into 21 leagues with 156 teams."
Although billed by many as merely a game of fun, the intensity exuded dur ing intramural games is at times reminuacent of the seventh game of an NBA Championship Beries.
Indeed, the court sometimes becomes a combat zone. The gym, empty of life except for the participanta, two reis and an occasional girltriend, very often resounds with the alap and thud of hand on fleeh and body on floor. Dur ing a batcle for a rebound, a cry of anguah may erupt, as one of the soldiers collapees with a badly aprained ankle.
"Hell, I remember last year," said one veteran referee. "A kid got mad at ancther player who elbowed him, so he punched him in the head. The kid went down like a sack of flour. It's not all fun and games."
The intenaity doce not make up for lack of ability. Whatever the reason the lines separating mediocrity and creatness are poignantly clear. While a varsity player's mind is in tune with his body, the intramural player runs up and down the court like a poorly timed automobile.
Instead of firm torgos, college paunches have developed on many of the players. Eighteen-footers roll around the rim and out, and layrupe are poorly axecuted.
All this is not to say flanhes of brillance do not surface. At times. players sink 20-footers with the casua eabe of a George Gervin jumper. Twisting, driving layups ane miraculously rolled in. Elements of teamwork become evident, and the feeling of comraderie and respect between players is evident in players' umiles after a wellexecuted play
Even with the lack of quality playing and ofnciating in SU intramural hoop. the positive aspects of the program are overwhelming. I play to escape from the tedious boredom of biology. one student said. "Berides, it lets me feel Iite a high achool jock once again.

As the numbers indicate, the SU intramural basketball prosram is thriving. Thanks to the program's vitality, \(1,000 \mathrm{SU}\) men find college life a little eadier to tolerate.

Drawing by Becky Uczen

\title{
The Daily Orange
}

\section*{SUB advisory council to meet}

By Stacy Schneider
The bookstore advieory council will have its Arwt moeting the wreels of March 5 , according to Erank Silater, Student Asmociation vice president for stadent programs.
The purpose of the conncil is to advise the booketore on prices. the buy-back policy and of her SUIE-related matters. It will have no direct control on bookstore policy but will oxert inAnence by giving advice, Slazer said.
The conncil and innprovements in the buyback policy wrere two student requestil during thack policy ware two latit spring.
the bookrtore boycott last spring. two undern graduatem and one graduate student, two faculty members, two lower-level ad maniztratoremand ane or two buriness people from outnide the university.
No one from the boolsatore will be on the com-

\section*{More students enroll in law}

\section*{By Panl Franco}

Becmube of a dismal job market for atudents graduating with a liberal arta degree, law ochool enrallment has increased signincantyy College of Law in no exception.
In the past 13 years, etndents enrolled in law schools jumped from 54,265 in 1964 to 118,557 in sche fall of 1977 . SU'e law achool enrollment inthe fall of 1977.5 to 660 .
Creased from 220 to 660 . 70 said Mitchell L Rothinan, asmistantdean of SUC Collegro of Law . "fewer career mistantdean of \(S\) College of Law. fewer career options are op
This may have encouraged many students to purwue a law career aftier cradnating with a ibeeral arts degree, Rothman said.
- Margaret Brown, preprofessions udviser for gU College of Aits and Sciemses, agreed that poor postgraduate job opportanities have senerater interreat in law achool.

Libierral artit craduates face e great deail of "For many, ther don't know where to co, and ome chóose Iawr.
Rothman said liberal arts gradwates face two alternatives upon Eraduation. Students with a bachelor of arta degree can choose an unrewarding job or pursue further graduate work he said
"Job markets are limited for graduates nows," Rothman said. "Law echool can be an alternative becaume it builds a zreneral competencein other fields betides law.:

Haw school offers a technical skill that society needs and ie willing to pay for," said Marie Provine, assistant professor of political acience
In addition, Fothinan and Associate Law Dean James M. Douglan mgread that society's attitudo toward mocial change, eopecially during the late '60s and early'70s, may have caused increasing law school exarollments.
mittec. Howover, they will sit in an the mentings, Slazer maid. The bookstore does not have to follow the advice of the committec, he added.
Bookatore director Dianin Straus could not be reached for comment. Howrever, David Vanesky, asaistant bookstore director said he know nothing about the committec.
A Hift of names for the council was submitted by Carol H. Heagerty, vice premident for institutional services, last week to Chancellor Melvin A. Egewn.
However, no one has been chosen to serve on the committice yot Slazerr doubts if anyone in council.
Slaier said at iks first meeting the council will have to define ita function eince it has no formal constitution.

\section*{Hanging out}

When" the recemt "warm" apell, Syriecuse has onjoyed a testo of pping in February. This uniderrtified mernber of the cimpus conminity finds time to atcibeck and anfoy the briaf reapite from whinter.

\section*{Bomb threat causes 3rd Maxvell Hall evacuation}

\section*{By Jerry Zremski} vacuation of the Maxwell School of Citivenship and Public Affaira yeaterday for the third time in eight days. John Zrebicic, Syracuse University director of Security, said the Syracase Fire Dept, received a threatening phone call th 11:22 yester day morning. The building was evacuated immediately afterward.
Maxwell wain roopened at 1:15 p.m. All, 11:40 classem in the building were cancelled.
Zrebriec said his departraent and the Symacame Clity Palice Dept axe investignting the hreates.

\section*{Security haa no clues as to} the identity of the caller excopt male Zrebiec inaid.
Quthrie S.Birchead, dean of the Maxwill School, naid the bombtryrat problem is "pretty erions.
It linocks out hour classes, and todisy it knocked out half. and-a-half classes," Birkhead aid
He said it is common for people to think that mtridents viahing co cancel exama callin bomb threata.
"I hope the threats aren't connected with teite but wo're gringeto tha out if they are:he maid.
The previous bormb threate Fecurred Feb.20at 11 th.m., and Feb. 14 at 9 a_m.

\section*{Big Buddies program provides friendship, guidance}

\section*{By Suman Plperinto}

North Syracuse area children with gingle parrentit or family problern now guidance and friendahip.

The Eie Buddy Program was bepun in October 1978 by three utaff members of the human developmant office of \(\mathrm{St}_{\mathrm{t}}\) Maryarnt's Echool in Mattydiale. This progrmon reachie out to 9 to 15 -yearMattydale. Big Budlica, though, come Mromyanye. Big Budries, though, come attemtion to childrein on a onetoione attenti
"It's easier to find Little Buddies than - Big Buddies," maid Denise Hedges, preventive drap and child abuae councelor at St Margaret's. "If we hadn't limited the maree for Little Baddies there would be too many unmatched ones, and it wouldn't be fair. Bo far, we have 15 matchis and 10 Litle Anddies wraiting to be matched." Matching Little Badidies with Big Buadies in-a painstaking procems. Hedges works with Human Development Director Tom Erimher and Catholic Charities worker Judy Cotwele Warren to "fool out" both Budare componalities and matce trure they. are compatible.
The Grot step in matchine Buddian atter a child'ep referral frome his meliod comnselor, social worker, or family, is an interview with him. If momeone piers a hid and he really doesn't want a Bif Buddy, than wo don't purh it," Hedges said. "We also try to soe what the child'e problems aro-trouble living with tho family, devaloping himpelf, or having a mingle parent."
After interviewing the child, the three try to find a Birg Buddy, wrually through refforrals by the, volunteer center telephone.
"An moon aie they call up, at leatone of us interyiews the Big Euddien." Hedgen explained. "We try to get the beric feel of the person-if he's doing it for the right reacons, if he enjinys being with hids. Also, the kind of child bo wante-introverted or extroverted and rowdier and the nge range."
Reaponsibility il a key factor in chooning Bis Buddies. "Wa feel out the pernon so we cenc foel comfortable with him," said liedges. "Ti there are any gueetioni, we reinterview.
This in a pretry good test-if they don't ahow ap for interviowt, than wo know they're not reliable," Krishoit said
Wie also malice them acroe to serve ase a bit Buddy for one year, with rninimum contact of onie day-two to threo

Introducing the Bis Briddy to the Lit tle Buchly's family is almo impoxtant. We don't want the family to feel like orne tranger it coming every wook and taking their kid away." CouwollWarren maid.
"The mother is the barometar of the program" added Krisher. "She can make or breat it, eapecially if there are problemm.
The only problam that has occurred \(s 0\) far with the program wate that "One perion got overinvolved writh hit Littlo Buddy," said Kriaher. "Fle mtarted eoe ing him four or five timew a weok and talling to hin school counnelor and principal. This put a lot of preseure on the child, eo we anked hima to decremee his involvement, and he did.
In thisparticular case, the Big Buddy Is eingie and worims nightw, so he has a lot of daye ofr and nothing to do," explained Hedgen. Hiowever, to avoid ary further problems like this one, a check op syetem has been devised all We check up every month or two on all paixe" eaid Kriaher. "We call both Budcies ant the mother, too. We want it balanced between peer and parent."
Hodgen added thant they also keep track of who refors the Bitg Budidios, trevening that thery lool. for a cournhelp:

North Syrecuse erep ehildiren betwean the apess of 8 mind 15 now have tonne

\section*{Vietnam invaded}

China invaded Vietnam Saturday, claiming it was launching a counterattacir because of Viet namese aggreasion. Vietnamese of ficials said Wodnesday the Chinese had driven 15 miles into Vietnam and were preparing for renewed at tacks further south. The Soviet Union, which has a mutual defense treaty with Vietnam, reportedly has mobilized troops on its Chinese border, and two Russian warshipe were aighted sailing through the Sea of Japan toward Vietnam. The United States said it would not get involved, but would concentrate diplomatic effort on stopping the fighting and persuading the Soviet Union not to get involved.

\section*{Taivan security}

A compromise on the question of Taiwanese security was worked out Tueaday between the Carter administration and congressional leaders. The United States broke for mal relations with Taiwan last month in order to recognize mainland China. The compromise calls for legislation describing any
