His other concern is the problem of rape on campus. He said he hopes that all females would attend programs that teach them self-defense safety.
"They should never walk alone at night and avoid Thornden Park, and be conscious of what is going on around them," he said.

To avoid being a victim of crime, Thompson said to be aware that students are not encapsulated on campus.
"The university area is basically downtown," he said. "It's a transient area. There's movement of people from east to west and north to south," he said.

Thompson said the relationship between city police and SU Security was outstanding.
"It's good to krow that we can pick up the phone and call each other anytime. We have open lines of communication," he said. "Other campus cities have had a problem with communication and that has hindered accomplishing anything," he said.

Thompson said that if students have legitimate concerns about police relations, they should write a letter or call SU Security, who will contact the city police.
"We are more than happy to let our purpose be known and to fear the student's side," he said. "We want to hear about them." situation that he is in," he said. "An officer might be placed in a situation where he faces suspects with multiple offender status, situations involving alcohol and people resisting arrest every time he is on that beat," he said.

It may not be the officer's fault, he might just be in the wrong place at the wrong time," he said.

 (2) Well, Spectrum Travel is now offering a weekly charter to NYC!

$45 Roundtrip if ticket is purchased before 3 pm . on Wednesdays.
( $$ 55$ after 3 pm. on Wednesdays )
Leaves on Friday at 2pm. Returns on Sunday at 5pm.
 )

TICKETS ARE ON SNLE NOW!!

Continued fris
"Someone who is arrested for disorderiy conduct might tell their lawyer that they were brutalized and then look to have their charge dropped," he said.

Two officers were recently cleared by the Internal Affairs department of the police of brutality charges stemming from an incident in the Marshall Street area on Aug. 30. One of the officers involved had been accused of brutality one week before the Marshall Street incident.

He was cleared of that charge and was cleared of another brutality charge in November 1990 by Internal Affairs.

Thompson said that no matter what the decisjon of a case may be, the charges alone cause a reaction.
"If we see the same name coming up again and again, we look at that individual and de-

COMICS

CONTEST
CONTINUES!
REMEMBER
TO DROP OFF YOUR BALLOT IN AN ORANGE
CAMPUS
MAIL BOX OR BRING IT BY
THE DAILY ORANGE.

744 OSTROM

 AVENUE

BEFORE TRUSTING YOUR FUTURE TO ANY COMPANY, ASK FOR SOME LETTERS OF REFERENCE.

You put more than just your savings into a retirement company. You put in your trust and hopes for the future. too. So before you choose one, ask some questions. How stable is the company? How solid are its investments? How sound is its overall financial health?

A good place to start looking for answers is in the ratings of independent analysts. Three companies, all widely recognized resources for finding out how strong a financial services company really is, gave TIAA their top grade.

IN THE FINAL ANAIYSIS, TLAA IS LETTER-PERFECT.
TIAA reccived A+ from A.M. Best Co.. AAA from Standard & Poor's and Aas from Moody's Investors Service. These ratings reflect TIAA's reliable claims-paying ability, exceptional financial strength. superior investment performance, and low expenses. With its guaranteed rate of return and opportunity for dividends. TIAA is one of less than ten companies. out of

TRAE

Ensuring the future for those who shape it*
2.200 nationwide, that received these highest marks.

> CREF FOUR MORE LETTERS EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW.

For further growth potential and diversification, there's the CREF variable annuity with four different investment accounts to give you the flexibility you want as you save for the future.
Together, TIAA and CREF form the nation's largest private retirement system. with over $$ 95$ billion in assets and more than 70 years of experience serving the education community. For over one million people nationwide, the only letters to remember are TIAA-CREF.

SEND NOW FOR A FREE RETIREMENTINVESTMENT KIT, Reluding a sprotit Reforr on TIAA invertments. Mazil this EMupon to: TIAA-CREEF 1 Depi, QC. 730 Third Avenue. New York. NY 10017. Or call 1800-842-2733. Ext. 8016.
:inum(Plesarfarint)

sitheres

cien
Institutite (Full name)
Tatte

Here's Your Chance

 To Educate Your Skin... Tuition Here's your chance to educate your skin-without laying out a penny. Just bring a copy of this ad to the Clinique counter... have a fast, free skin analysis on the famous Clinique Computer... and a 3 -step, 3 -product starter set is yours as long as supplies last.

KAUFMANN'S

Available at Carousel Mall, Syracuse.

SA
Continued from Page 1
Irons decided to run for SAS president because he did not agree with the way policies agree with the
"A lot of thin
A lot of things that have happened with SAS were pertonal motives," the said. "My leadership is different. Itry not to horde power and I delegate to other members.
"If you see a problem or something you don't like and you don't do something, you're part of the problem,' he said. Irons, who began his term as president July 1, said one of his goals for SAS has already been achieved.

After controversy for two years over the organization's closed membership, SAS held a membership drive at the beginning of the year to test the waters.
"We tried to open the door for those who were genuinely intertested," Irons said. "We did what people wanted us to do, but none of those people came out."

The drive was advertised as open to the public in The Daily Orange and also at the Student Organizations Fair, he said.

People only want to be involved when the organization is doing something they do not like, Irons said.

Little kid with ice cream
"It's like a little kid with ice cream," he said. "He doesn't want it until he cant have it."

Irons said he is frustrated because people say they want to help blacks, but they do not use another vehicle, such as the NASE ant?

Irons said he wants to see SAS increase the quantity and quality of its programming so that more blacks can be reached both on campus and in the community.

Irons also said he wants the organization to get back to its

Vaughn lam I Akomontim- Duly Gun of the Student president American society is a jot public original purposes
The group started in 1967 when some black students decider that services available for them were not adequate.

Irons said more needs to be done with the surrounding community. SAS members used to visit local high schools, but the group has not done much community work in the past years, he said.
*We always say come in and be with us," he said. "We're still saying come in, but we're also going out.'
Irons grew up on the south side of Syracuse and graduated in 1988 from Corcoran High School.

In 1987 he founded Black United Students (BUS), a black student organization, at Corcoran. He was also president of the Shanti Armani Dance Troupe for two years*

Yes! There is alg difference

RUSH

"Located at 131 College Place, next to the Sci-Tech Building."

Editorial

Too late for testimony  It seems the observations of the local law enforcement bureaucracy outweigh the testimonies of seven eyewitnesses. Syracuse Police officers were cleared of brutality charges filed against them by seven Syracuse University students, eyewitnesses to the events of Aug. 30 near Marshall Street.

The testimony of four area employees was also cited and used as proof of the officers' innocence.

Police officers should not have the right to use "any physical force necessary" to arrest someone.
Seven individuals filed civil complaints that night describing the two youths being beaten and bruised unjustly. Their testimonies to the horrible treatment by the Syracuse P.D. were essentially overruled by the voice of a few local residents.
Now that the police have found their witnesses and now that the case has been determined, the seven students get to plead their cases.

On Wednesday, the witnesses will meet for the first time with officers to discuss and state what they saw.

By allowing the information to be examined and ruled upon before the student's testimony is heard, the S.P.D. is blatantly discriminating against the seven students to testify, making their opinions unnecessary and circumstantial in the department's eyes.

The department has made a obvious attempt to minimize the incident in the eyes of SU students, university officials and the surrounding public.

Incidents like this degrade the opinions of citizens, discouraging them from reporting anything. Criminal offenses will go unreported and never receive the attention they deserve. By stifling the testimonies of the seven students, the police department is saying it does not care what the people think - it is their own opinion that counts.

Quit complaining about campus life

For several thousand students who have chosen to attend this university, we sure do seem to find a lot to complain about.
I agree that we should get as much for our money as we deserve. I've witnessed and personally experienced legitimate concerns and complaints about our safety, the quality of our academics, our living conditions, our WENDY E. food and more at Syracuse KAPLAN ADVOCATING COMMENHOMTNG aite right to haveadea nite right to expect these things to be at least adequate, especially when we them.

What I want to take issue with is this: it's very rare I hear anyone compliment an aspect of SU, unless it's a University 100 tour guide, whose job it is to do so.
I remember during my first year at SU, a friend was doing an ethnography report for her writing class and she chose to observe the her writing class and she chose to observe the dining hall. One of her perceptions was that when people discussed their degree of satisfacwhen people discussed their degree of satisfaction about their food, they found much more colorful language to describe it when it was colorful language to describe it when it was unsatisfactory in
The second year of my working in a dining hall on campus, I still hear, "That looks like what the cat dragged in," or "No, ITl pass, I think I'd like to live," much more frequently than even the simple, "That looks good.
It's too bad our vocabulary for the things, we find pleasing seems to be limited to "nice" and "good" while our language for complaining can encompass any curse word, bodily function, or sexual act.
Sometimes I think people complain because it's heard more, socially speaking, than "nice" things. Perhaps it's the same odd fascination we, as social beings, appear to have with reading and viewing the news: our attention is often much more alert and forthcoming for the sensational serial murder case than it is for the birth of the baby elephant at the zoo.
Maybe if we were willing to look at the bright side more often, we would find ourselves talking about all we do have as opposed to all we don't. By complaining so much, especially about things that do have a bright side (e.g. Do you get a choice of four or five entrees at home? Would you enjoy watching football in an outdoor stadium during one of Syracuse's famous cold and windy rain storms?), we depress ourselves. Optimists are healthier.
I don't mean to generalize these attitudes and behaviors to the entire SU population. It just seems that the negative criticisms here are much more prominent than the praise.
Perhaps with less apathy and more openmindedness, more people would agree that SU has a lot to offer. Obviously most of us must realize this on some level or we wouldn't voluntarily dish out several thousand dollars each year to be here. Moreover, individuals can take a stand for and personally improve their education and happiness at a university, even if they feel cheated by it.

At SU, there are several campus clubs and organizations which are always looking for students to become involved. Without paying extra tuition, one can take up to 19 credits, so think about taking that advertising or drama elective you've been interested in. Get an internship for real-life experience and prepainternship for real-hife experience and prepaObtain help at the Academic Computing Services learning how to use the computers Services learning how to use the computers and take advantage of the many clusters on campus. Go to a relatively cheap or even free campus movie. This.
University pools.
We live in a largely capitalistic society and with that comes a lot of reason to often legitimately complain about how our money is spent. But here we are nonetheless, and we are here by choice. No one forced any of us to pay $$ 18,000$ each year to attend SU. So, yes, continue to expect that you get every last penny's worth. But also realize when your expectations and complaints may be going too far for your own good. And take advantage of more of the university's opportunities. Maybe then you'll find you're complaining less, appreciating more, and generally a happier student.

Letters Policy

The Datly Orange welcomes letters from its readers. Letters must be typed and double-spaced, and must include a name and a phone number for verification. No letter should exceed iwo typed pages. Students must include their academic year and student group affiliation (if applicable) and faculty and staff their university affiliation. The Daily Orange editorial staff reserves the right to edit letters for space and style.

To the editor:
The following is an official joint statement by the General Union of Palestine Students and the Arab Student And theciation.

In the wake of the events that followed the Gulf War. an opportunity for peace in the Middle East has opened up. President Bush has been trying to convene a peace conference this October to solve the Arab Israeli conflict.

These are the suggestions of the General Union of Palestine Students and the Arab Student Association:

1. Support in principle the convening of a peace conference 2. Recognize the "land for peace" proposal based on all U.N. Security Council Kosolutions, especially 242 and 338 , as the only basis for negotiations.
2. Reaffirm the human, political and national rights of the Palestinian people to the State of Palestine.
3. Recognize that the PLO is the legitimaterepresentative of the Palestinian people, and

Cover SU

To the editor:

Entering my second year as captain of the SU Ultimate team, I would greatly appreciate it if the Daily Orange would devote more coverage to on-campus athletic events. As an editorial staff member last year and a reader for the past four years, I am dismayed by the paper's consistent lack of coverage of SU Club Sports Far too much lu is and varsity sports, and even apposing college foothall team puarterbacks cot more space quarterbacks get more space than our own student athletes. As an on-campus publicatio gerving the $S U$ community, thus must play a maior role $n$ any peace talks
5. Demand that the right of selection of the Palestinian delegation be solely reserved to the Palestinians and to no other party, since this is an "intrinsic and independent Palestinian decision."
6. Request that the United States not grant the $$ 10$ billion Ioan guarantee to Israel, especially since Mr. Shamir arrogantly put this as a pre condition for attending the peace conference. This money will be used for more illegal settlements on the West Bank and Gaza Strip.
7. Call upon all democratic and peace-seeking forces to assist in convening a peace conference based on the above principles.

Help bring about peace, security and justice to the Middle East.

Raja Halwani President.
Arab Student Association Elias Habayeb President, General Union of Palestine Students

club sports

the Daily Orange would do well to give preference to campus activities over noncampus activities. I encourage you and your staff to lend you and your staif to lend greater space to the Club Sports program. After all, we're more program. After all, we re mor accessible than the pros and page that relates to us and our page that relates to us and our unrecognizable sports figures from other schools.

Thank you for your consideration.

Timothy Hedeen
Graduate student

The Daily Orange

Established in 7903. Andependent Since 1971 EJitar in Chief

Jodi Lamajna

COMICS CONTEST CONTINUES!

REMEMBER TO DROP OFF YOUR BALLOT IN AN ORANGE CAMPUS MAIL BOX OR BRING IT BY THE DAILY ORANGE. 744 OSTROM AVENUE

WE WERE FRIENDS BEFORE WE WERE BROTHERS

Rush dates:
Sept. 23 at the Faculty Ctr.
Sept. 24 at the Faculty Ctr.
Sept. 26 at the Faculty Ctr.
Oct. 1 , at Delta Phi Epsilon
Oct. 3 at Delta Phi Epsilon
each $7-10 \mathrm{pm}$

Rush KAPPA DELTA RHO

Fair offers students career opportunities

BY GENARO C. ARMAS Contributing Writer  Contributing Writer

The Syracuse University Career Fair is like a one-stop shopping center for employment needs, according to Mary Jones, director of the SU Placement Center.
"It is a must on the calendar to help chart your career course and investigate potential opand investigate potential opman or someone about to graduman or someone about to Graduate," said Jean Keough, Career ate," said Jean Keough, Career Fair publicity committee member.

The fair will be in Goldstein Auditorium next Thursday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.
"Once you experience our fair. you'll be prepared for the future after college," said Cathy Speach, assistant director of the SU Placement Center.
"The fair eases the student's mind about the job search and the ensuing interviews,' Speach said.

The fair, in its sixth year, is a joint venture between the Placement Center and each SU Placement Center and each SU college and SUNY Environcollege and SUNY Enviro mental Science and Forestry.

According to the fair's guide, recruiters from more than 85 companies will be sent, offering employment opportunities to all students, ranging from permanent full-time positions to summer internships and volunteer work.
Browsing the auditorium
Each employer will have its own booth. Students are free to browse through the auditorium and talk with representatives.

IBM, NBC and Price-Waterhouse are examples of companies that send recruiters to the fair, Jones said.
"The key word here is diversity," she said.

Students are advised to arrive at the fair prepared, she said.
${ }^{\text {"This is not an event you just }}$ want to browse through in 15 minutes." Jones said. "Students sometimes arrive at the fair unprepared, such as without esumes."
The Placement Center recommends that graduating students should plan on bringing multiple copies of their resumes.

Non-graduating students are encouraged too, though it is not essential.

According to the guide, employers will not expect students to be dressed for an interview. However, it is recommended that students look their best upon meeting potential supervisors.

Following the fair, students should do more research on the organizations of interest to them, according to the Placement Center.

They also recommended sending follow-up letters reminding employers of student contact and interest in them.
Additionally, the Placement Center has also set up Career Fair Workshops to further preFair Workshops to further pre are designed to answer stuare designed to answer students questions about how ev rything works," Speach said.

Sixty minutes of workshop
The workshops last about an hour. For more information contact the Placement Center at 443-3616.
The establishment of the workshops was spurred in response to student evaluations solicited at last year's fair, Jones said.

Other moves include curtailing the fair from two days to one, while increasing the actual length of the fair to nine hours, she said.
"We did not find the two-day event to be profitable," she said. "Furthermore, there is more of a need after 4 p.m. (the fair's ending time last year)."

Jones said she hopes the new schedule will work out for all students.
"In one day, all time segments will be covered, so that if students don't have enough time between classes, they can come back after dinner," Jones said. "This is especially profitable for University Collegestudents, she added.

SU's Career Fair is one of the largest of its kind, Jones said.
"People are surprised we could bring in so many companies," she said.

This year's fair will see a 10 percent decline in employer attendance from last year. even though the number of compa-

See FAlR Page 7

Sept. 30

Rush KAPPA DeLTA RHO
 S(w)OFF All Salon Services wexp man
We olfer a full Sersiee Hair. Nail © Taming Salon

CIRs offer free counseling

The Counselors in Residence is a free counseling service that offers therapy for students with wide-ranging problems, such as drug abuse or roommate conflicts, said Kathleen Deters, administrative supervisor for the CIR program.
"Syracuse University is one of the few college campuses in of the nation that has a program the nation that has a program like this to helpstudents, selor Steve Harris said.
selor Steve harris said. because we have offices in the residence halls," Deters said.

Seven CIRs work about 20 hours a week on both long- and short-term therapy, Deters said.
She said the therapy is for students who live in the residence halls.
"The counselors are there to assist students that have issues with family, or that are homesick, or who might have an eating disorder, or who have an alcohol or drug problem," Deters said. "We also work with students who are depressed and students who might have a roommate conflict or relationship issues with a significant other."

SU graduate students
"All the Counselors in Resiclence are Syracuse University [raduate students," CIR Marta Carlson said.
Three counselors are graduate students in the marriage and therapy program, two are in the counselor education program, one is in the masters in social work program and another is in the clinical psychology program, she said.
Of the seven counselors, four are male and three are female, so students can talk with a counselor of a particular sex if they feel more comfortable doing so, she said.

Students can talk with a

FAIR

Continued from Page 6
nies attending the fair had been steadily rising since it began, Jones said.
"This is due to the present state of the economy," she said. "Most of those who decline invitations want to reserve spaces at future fairs when the economy starts rolling again."
"Companies keep coming back because they realize the high quality of the programs and graduates here at Syracuse," $\underset{\text { Jones said. }}{ }$
"In comparison to the beating we have taken in the media we have taken in the media recently, this promotes a positive image for the university as tive image for well," she said.

| "Good |
| :---: |
| friends |
| don't let |
| good |
| friends |
| smoke |
| cigarettes." |
| Lurmomom |

counselor usually for up to an hour, or longer if necessary, by calling for an appointment or by walking in, CarIson said.
Privacy is very important to the CIR program, Deters said. All sessions between the counselor and the student are kept completely confidential, she said.
The CIR program also presents residence hall programs sents residence hall programs, can contact the program and can contact the program and a counselor will come and talk with the flowr on such subjects as AIDS, education, suicide prevention, rape awareness and promoting multi-cultural awareness, Harris said.

Not an indication of 'sick'
Deters said she wants to stress getting counseling help does not mean that a student is "sick."
"Everybody experiences all kinds of stress when they first come to college, especially firstyear students," Deters said. "One thing that we try to encourage people to do is, when they feel any kind of sadness, depression, stress, or anxiety, to try to seek out one of the CIRs in the beginning so they don't have to feel afraid that they are sick," she said.
"Sorne people think, 'Oh, I'm sick if I have to see a counselor, and that's just not true," she said.
Harris said students should seek help from one of the counselors as soon as a problem ariaes.
"We would like to help students before things get to crisis proportion; however, we are pre pared to deal with a crisis if it should occur," Harris said.

CIF offices are located in eight residence halls: Brewster/ Boland, Haven, Day, Flint, Wat son, Dellplain, Shaw and Sadler; and the Goldstein Student Center at South Campus. Office hours for the CIR program are posted at each location.

Messages can be left after hours by calling the main office in Steele Hall at 443-1373. In case of an emergency, students can go to their RAs, who will contact the counselor who is on call that night, Deters said.

A Different Kind of Greek

Alpha Dhi Omega National Co-ed Service Fraternity

Tues., Sept 24th
8pm
Schine 128

F.Y.I.  Dance auditions

to be held
Auditions for a November dance concert will be held on Saturday at 4 p.m. in Room 211 of the Women's Building.

Auditions will consist of a class and phrasework of the repertory.
The concert will be given by Syracuse Dance and Other Works Theater, a performing ensemble at the Department of Health and Physical Education.
For more information, call Reinaldo A. DePalmer at 4439699.

Faculty member to give recital
Marine Gilman, a faculty member at Syracuse University School of Music, will give a voice recital Oct. 6 at 4 p.m. in Crouse College Auditorium. Gilman. College Auditorium. Gilman. best known for her work with the Ithaca and Tri-Cities Operas, will perform work Rossini, Weill and others.

Dinner and fashion show to be held
The Syracuse Chapter of the Daughters of Penelope will host Fashions Galore, a dinner and fashion show, on Oct. 1 at Drumlins.
Fashions by Gantos and Giorgio Furs will be included. Admission is $$ 15$ and includes a cash bar and door prizes.

For more information or reservations, call 637-6059 or 437 . 9248.

Women's Club
holds book sale
The Syracuse University Wornen's Club will hold a fall book sate Friday, Oct. 4, from 10 a.m. to $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and Saturday. Oct. 5, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Erwin Methodist Church (cor ner of Euclid Avenue and Westcott Streetl.

If you have books to donate, please call 449-3617 or 476. 8632 before Oct. 2. All proceeds so to the SU Women's Club Scholarship Fund.

The Daily Orange

 It's not just for training anymore| MONDAY | TUESDAY | WEDNESDAY | THURSDAY |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Was  Virgin  Drink  Night | TE $\Phi^{\prime}$ 's  50th Annual "Wreck - a - Car" Night |  | Seafood night "We have Crabs' 7:00-10:00 |
| 23 | 24 | 25 | 26 |
| REGGAE NIGHT "Ziggy's back"'s 7:00-10:00 | Mystery  Band  Night $7: 00-10: 00$ |  | COLD CEREAL NIGHT  "Follow Your Nose" |
| 30 | 1 | 2 | 3 |
| TAU EPSILON PHI |  |  | 907WALNUT AVE (BEHIND BIRD) |

$\boldsymbol{B}_{\text {ustiness }} \mathrm{D}_{\text {igest }}$

Students run

new 'restaurant'

Students in the College of Human Development's world cuisine and food service management courses will trans form the Faculty Center at 401 Uniform the Facuity Center at 401 Thurs day nights throughout the semester.

This World's Fare will be open from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. beginning this Thursday. Each week patrons can choose from one of five entrees. Each meal includes an appetizer, salad, meal includes an appetizer, salad, beverage and main course and costs $$ 12.95$. Desserts and alcoholic bever$$ 12.95$. Desserts a ages will be cxtra.

Nine students set the menu, prepare and serve the meals and balance the books for this restaurant.

This week's menu will feature foods from Northern Italy. Other upcoming menus include food from the French countryside, Oct.3; New Orleansstyle cuisine, Oct.10; and Caribbean delicacies, Oct. 17.

Reservations can be made by calling the Faculty Center at 443-3102.

Busch seeks

beer merger

Anheuser-Busch, the largest beer company in the United States, is reportedly looking to increase its share.

Rumor has it that A nheuser, which is responsible for 44 percent of the beer sold in America, is planning to acquire a large international brewery, and Labatt's may be the one.

While Anheuser denies any specifics, shares of Canadian brewer John Labatt rose last month as rumors circulated that Anheuser was willing to invest $$ 1$ billion in an effort to counter the falling amount of domestic beer consumption.

A new look ## for Pepsi

Beginning this December, Pepsi will unveil a new logo and package design.
The red, white and blue swirl will remain, but the product name itself will be featured more prominently next to it.

The logo has a more streamlined approach, reminiscent of the futuristic advertisements displayed in the Ridley Scott film Blade Runner.

Logos for the diet and caffeine-free versions of Pepsi will also change, along with the company letterhead.
This is only the eighth time the logo has been changed in the last century.

- Compiled from staff and daily newspaper reports

Bands mean money for bars  bars near campus. In fact, Dantz said as  night regulars are migrating with the

By ERIN NEFF Managing Editor

T
There may be some truth to the notion of drowning your sorrows in a beer. Despite the staggering economic conditions resulting from the current recession, people are still coming out to local sion, people are stil coming out to local bars-e
Monday night at Hungry Charley's. Monday might at Hungry Charley's, 727 S . Crouse Ave., the Albany-based Ominous Seapods performed a Grateful Dead-like rock beat to the mellow crowd.
Manager Doug Erickson said Chuck's will bring in a band on a traditionally slower night to try to bring in business.
But that business doesn't necessarily mean that more drinks are sold or that employees get more tip money,
"People don't drink more," Erickson said. "Business is better but per person they don't buy more beer."
Beth Chambers, a Syracuse University senior, sat in a graffiti-strewn booth in the corner of Chuck's playing hearts with a few friends. She said the band is a nice addition, "but it wasn't why I came out."

Senior Melissa Dantz agreed, adding she does like to go out to other bars like the Orange Grove at 505 Westcott St. for a local band, the Mind's Eye.

Mingling with the Mud

Bands are a big draw at some other she watched the band on stage at Chuck's, "the only reason I go to Sutter's is to see Mexican Mud."

Chuck's pays the bands a salary up front, since the cover charge usually takes care of their fee, Erickson said. But bands at Chuck's are rare because the bar is located in the basement and lugging heavy sound equipment downstairs on a regular basis is difficult.

Sutter's Mill and Mining Co., 729 S. Crouse Ave., has bands about three nights a week with average cover charges of $$ 2$ to $$ 7$. The bands play an important role in luring people in, and once they're in they usually buy a lot of drinks, said Jack Hamel, general manager.
"People go out on weekends just to go out," Hamel said. "But on Monday or Tuesday nights we do a better business because we have bands. People go out on those nights more if they have a reason to go out."

Every Monday night for the past five years the Hornel-Alaniz band, offering Grateful Dead tribute music, has played at Sutter's. Their popularity swings with the fluctuations in the real band's touring dates and locations.
At times during the summer, 500 people packed inside to hear the tribute band, but now, with the real Dead on the road, many of the tried and true Dead masses of other Deadheads.
"We're one of the busiest bars in Syracuse on Monday night in part because of the band," Harnel said.

On other nights, like the popular Thursday night showing with the Mexican Mud Band, the live music also helps draw a large crowd that spends a lot of money at the bar.

Upcoming events

Tonight Sutter's features the IThations, a roots reggae band for a $$ 3$ cover with 21-and-over identification and $$ 5$ without $$ 5$ without.
Most bands are paid on a contractual basis, Hamel said. Regular bands usually make the entire door profits or a percentage of it.

But the amount a band is paid varies with the type of music, crowd and even advertising.
Hamel said he would never go more than $$ 1500$ for any band to play Sutter's. In fact, even popular acts, like Led Zeppelin tribute band Physical Graffiti, have proven to be let-downs just eight weeks after packing the house.
The premier Pink Floyd cover band, The Machine, will play at Sutter's Thursday night. With a Syracuse University ID the cover is $$ 5$ for 21 and over and $$ 6$ for under. The cover is $$ 8$ without SU ID.

Financial Mrap-Up

Wall Street Week:

Dow Jones: 3019.23
Down: 5.14
Volume: 210.770.000
Stock marker tigures are from Friday's close. The maket was up this week as professional traders engage in muliple strategies involving options and futures on stock indexes and individual stocks.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average is a compilation of the 30 leading incustrial stocks. It is used as an index of economic trends on Wall Street and for society.

Market Analysis:

Mioderate: Siociss closed up 33.54 for the week. Last week was the "quartcrly witching hour ."
That refers to the third Friday of the last month in a frutncial quarter, when some opriors and funures expire.

Dollar Watch:

Unehanged: The dollar remained at a constant rate last week despite the widening of the U.S. trade defieit in July by $$ 5.9$ billion.

This deficit is the difference between what the Unived States burys and sells internarionally.

Money Abroad:

Exchange rates: These rates indicate how much $$_{1}$ U.S. would buy in each country.
Britain: 56 pounds
Canada: 1.11 dollars
France: 5.5 francs
Germany: 1.6 marks
Izaly: 1.206 lira
Japan: 130 yen

GEOLOGY MINOR PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

In the face of today's environmental concerns, a minor in Gcology, along with 3 degree in Engincering, Law, Management, Public Communications, Education, or any of the sciences, could provide you with a unique perspective on your chosen field. To complete a minor in Geology, students must take 19 credits in Geology, 12 of which must be in courses numbered 300 or above. Following seven credits of coursework in Introduction to Geology, History of Earth and Life, Earth Science, or Environmental Gcologgy, a student could select courses in Patcobiology. Structural Gcology. Hydrogeotogy, or Occanograpty and Li mnology, among others. Many options are available. For more information, talk to Prof. Pat Bickford, Chairman of the Gcology Department (204 Hicroy Gcology Liboratory, ext. 9290) or to your academic advisor.
(Information on the minor in Gcology was inadvertently omitted from the 1991-92 Undergraduate Catalog.)

Volunteer service aids national parks

By ANCELA RAMSAY
Contribuling Writer
TheStudent Conservation Association (SCA), founded by Elizabeth Titus in 1957, runs a volunteer service that allows greater involvement of students in America's national parks.

Since the inception of SCA it has worked in collaboration with the National Park Service with the National Park Service in the manning and preservain the manning and preservation of national parks, a ing to an SCA pamphlet.

SCA initiated two programs: the Resource Assistant Program that runs for 12 weeks and is for men and women 18 years and older, and the High School Work Group Program which spans a four- to five-week period and is for students age 16 to 18.

How can a student get involved in this program and what exactly do students do at the exactiy

Reni Wicklund, a junior at Syracuse University, took part in the Resource Assistant Program this year.

Wicklund snid she underwent an application process. She applied to Padre Island National Park off the coast of Texas. Her application was then reviewed by the park and she was chosen to work there.

No experience required
"Qualifications vary by park; however, half of them don't require prior experience," she said.

She gave some insight as to what she did at the park.
it was assigned to Padre Island National Park, which is 80 miles off the cosst of Texas in the Gulf of Mexico," she said. -I worked with the rangers and also at the visitors' center as a translator.
"The parks give out informational pamphlets and site bulletins and these 1 had to translate from English to German for the from English to German visitors," Wicklund eaid.

F.Y.I.

Poetry contest

deadline approaches
More than 250 poets will receive $$ 12,000$ in prizes this year from the North American Open Poetry Contest.

The deadline for the contest is Sept. 30, and entry is free. To enter, send one original poem to the National Libray of Poetry, 5-E Cwynns Mill Ct. P.O. Box 704-PC, Owings Mills, Md. 21117.

The poem should be no longer than 20 lines, and the poet's name should appear on the page.

She said she did not have to work in a group throughout the program. "(In) programs for the public where I had to walk with them on the beaches. I worked alone," she said.

However, she said, "Seine, which involves throwing the net in order to catch fith then in order to catch figh, then letting out the water and showing the pe

She said that as a student having gone through this program, she has benefitted a great deal.
"I gained experience working outdoors all summer. I went through first aid training and CPR training. I also met people from all over the world," Wicklund said.

To her peers she has this to say: "Anyone who can should say: it."

Students who are interested in SCA should send in their applications by March 1. Applications for positions from January through February 1992 should be sent to SCA by Nov. I5. Applications for the March through April positions should be sent by Jan. 15, 1992.

According to Lesley Sullivan, SCA recruitment director: "Taking part in this program is an asset, as individuals will gann a vast a mount of experience, meet people, learn about living outdoors in tents, see a part of the country (they) had never visited before, and also it is a good network in obtaining a job."

RUSH SIG EP
721 COMSTOCK

IT'S NOT TOO LATE ...

for your Student Government Association assembly representatives. Representing YOU in university and financial affairs.

Vote all day today in the Schine and in your dining hall during dinner.

SUSKI

SYRACUSE UNIUERSITY

1］${ }^{\text {sin }} \mathbf{B I G}$

RTsttrialge Wed．Sept風四边。 8：30

（Basement of HBC）

＊your student fee preparing for winter＊

I would not， with a goat！

（（－डay wo to çack！－

RUSHTKE

and you won＇t have to．
Don＇t waste a semester being hazed．．． Be part of a fraternity now． Rush Tau Kappa Epsilon at KA 306 WALNUT Sep 24－27

September 24－30，October 2

Stop Smoking． American Heart Association

Job opportunities won＇t always wait

By VINCE SALISBURY
Staff Writer
National Procrastination Day was celebrated on Sept． 5 this year．The purpose of this day is to honor everyone who lives up to the adage：＂Put off to tomor－ row what you can do today．＂
Many of last year＇s graduat－ ing students procrastinated their job search and，as a result，they missed opportunities to partici－ pate in job interviews．
If a senior was stopped in the Schine Student Center and asked how his job search was going，he would likely be in one of several phases．
The first phase is self－ assessment and involves learn－ ing what makes you different ing what makes y from everyone else．

What are your interests， skills，activities，studies and work experiences？What is your personality like，what kind of people do you socialize with， what patterns can you see in your ife？These are all impor－ tant things to consider．
In interviews，recruiters will often ask：＂Why should i hire you？What makes you so differ－ ent from the other candidates？＂ The time you spend doing a self－assessment can provide strong answers to these ques－ tions．
The dating game
The next phase of the job search is analogous to the dat－ ing game．One of your desires is to find a partner you can spend enjoyable time with．Job seekers need to obtain informa－ tion about job opportunities in their fields of interest．

Unfortunately，it＇s not like high school，where you filled out a career interest survey and received dozens of college cata－ logs that featured programs for your interests．

In reality，you will have to seek out company information from articles，books，faculty， databases or by getting in touch with professionals in the field．

Once you have information on organizations or companies to apply to，a resume will be needed．It should be a concise， easily read summary of your education and experiences． There are many books that provide sample resumes for you to use when drafting your own． In addition，there are staffmem－ bers at your home college and at the Syracuse University Place－ ment Center in Room 235 of Schine who can help．

The hope that all job seekers have once they send out their resumes is to arrange an inter－ view with a company represen－ tative．The interview is crucial to getting hired at most compa－ nies，and there are a number of things you can do to prepare for it．

Study for interviews
Obtain a list of common in－ terview questions from one of the books on interviewing，avail－ able from your home college or he Placement Center．Read through the questions and try to prepare an answer for each of them．Participate in a mock interview with a friend，faculty member or staff member here at the university．If a video camera is added to these mock interviews，you can be aware of the way you present yourself to the interviewer．
After an interview，follow up with a thank you letter or a card to express your appreciation．
In future weeks，this column will look at the different phases of the job search in more detail． No matter what phase you are now in，stop procrastinating and set aside time each week for job hunting．
Then when National Procras－ tination Day comes next fall， you won＇t be numbered with those who missed great job in－ terviews because they waited too long．
Vince Salisbury is a graduate student who works at the SU Placement Center．The Job Con－ nection is published each Thes－ day in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange．

GAMMA PHI BETA  is proud to welcome  the new pledge class

Heidi Beermuender Jennifer Berman Melanie Blum Gina Bondinello Gina Capparelli Jennifer Casper Jennifer Cassick Anjanette Cicci Gretchen Gerbrands Keri Goldstein Jennifer Gorney Seena Greenwald Lisa Grossman Claudia Hale Jennifer Harenberg Hillary Kremen Jung Lee Nancy Letvin

Christie Lach Robyn Marder Kim Palisano Cheryl Punk Pam Puso Rena Quaranta Elyse Radine Maryam Robati Bonnie Rufe Elizabeth Saletan Dayna Sczerbinski Madeline Simon Aimee Skier Cindy Solomon Sarah Wechsler Risa Weledniger Juliann Werle Claire Williamson Felice Zinberg

We Love You！

| Want to starta  career in journalism？  Get the expereince you  need at The Doily Orange． | Call |
| :---: | :---: |

For Your Information

Marketing students vie for scholarship

The Point-of-Purchase Advertising Institute (POPAI) has announced a marketing scholarship competition for sophomores, juniors and seniors

Participants will be asked to integrate point wof-purchase ( $\mathrm{P}-\mathrm{O}$. P) materials into a marketing procraterials for aypothetical ling program for a hypothetical line "real life" marketing objectives real life" mark and $\$ 1250$ irst-prize acholar ship, along with second and thitd prizes of $\$ 500$ and $\$ 250$, witl be awarded.

Deadline for entry is Dec. 13 , 1991. For more information or an official entry form, contact Ronit Bialer at (201) 894-8899.

Cave Canem

seeks writers

Cave Canem, the newsletter of the Canem, the newsietter Performing Arts, is looking for writers.

Meetings are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m. in Room 301 of Crouse College. Articles can also be submitted to 208 Crouse.

For more information. call JoAnna at 443-2517
Enucation hot Inme established

Counselors from the Education Information Center are offering free counseling at local libraries on a one-time basis for up to 40 minutes. Interested people can update their resumes, talk nbout job hunting skills, practice interview techniques and research classes and courses. Call the Education Hotline at $488-4633$ to make an appointment.

Study abroad

stipend offered

Applications for the second annual American Institute for Foreign Study College Division Minority Scholarship for the fall of 1992 are now being accepted.
The scholarship includes tuition and room and board. It is applicable to programs in Austria, Britain, France, Germany Italy, Mexico and Spain.

Applications for the scholarship will be accepted from blacks. Hispanics, American Indians, Asian-Americans and Pacific Islanders.

Applications and more information are available by writing: Minority Scholarship Selection Committee, Attn.: Anne Decker, AIFS, 102 Greenwich Ave. Greenwich, Conn., 06830. Interested people may also call (800) 727-2437, ext. 6106.

AIKIDO DEMONSTRATION

ROOM 102 FLANAGAN GYM
Tuesday, September 24
6:45 PM Instruction By Yousuf Mehter of
AIKIDO OF CENTRAL NEW YORK
Includes breathing, relaxing & stretching exercises, assertiveness training, physical fitness, mind & body coordination and defense against all forms of attacks.
S.U. AIKIDO CLUB

For info. Call Chris 425-9810 or 449-2332

SUPPORT HISEARCH.
it Works Wonders.
American Heart Association

SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT PROMOTION & TENURE

The following members of the School of Management will be considered either for Temure or Promotion or Review of Progress Towards Tenure this year:

Professors Callahan, Chen, Diz, Easton, Fritsche, Frucot, Lobo, Mazumdar, Meyers, Tanniru

The Promotion and Tenure Committee, composed of nine faculty members and two students from the School, is responsible for deciding on these cases. To help its deliberations, the Committe solicits student evaluations of these candidates.

Responses should be susbmitted to:
Suite 200 Crouse-Hinds School of Management Building in Care of... Jessica Kuczinski, Undergraduate Student Representative OR
Karl Kamrud, Graduate Student Representative 443-3751

RUSH

RUSH DATES: SEPT. 24, 26, 30, OCT. 1, 3

The Daily Orange is Iooking for news writers.

If you are intersted, please stop by the DO after 5 pm Sunday through Thursday.

744 Ostrom Avenue
443-2127

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { AMSTEL } \\
& $ 1.75
\end{aligned}
$$

Coor's Lite $\mathbf{$ 1 . 5 0}$
*FEATURING: A NIGHTLY GUEST BARTENDER FROM OUR FAVORITE GREEK HOUSE

| SEPTEMBER 23 ..... | WINGS |
| :---: | :---: |
| SEPTEMBER 24 ........ | PIZZA |
| SEPTEMBER 26 ........ | MEXICAN |
| SEPTEMBER $30 . . . . . .$. | CHIPS & DIPS |
| OCTOBER 1 | COOKIES |
| OCTOBER 3 | B.Y.O.F. |

- For Your Information

Day-care worker

 training scheduled The Onondaga County Child Care Council announces its fall session for training family daycare providers. The 10 -week session will begin on Sept. 24 and will run through Nov. 26. Topics include parentiprovider communication, health and safety, operation and managernent, recordkeeping and taxes, child develkeeping and taxes, child devel-opment, gbuse and maltreatopment, gbuse and ma ment and children's play.
ment and childrens play
The free training will be at Andrews Memorial United Methodist Church in North Syracuse from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Free child care is available on the premibes, and a certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.

The training, for new and experienced providers, will help fulfill the 15 -hour requirement mandated by the new Family Day-Care Registration Systern. For further information and pre-registration, call 472-6919. Cathoic Charities trains volunteers

The fall session of Catholic Charities' Volunteers in Parish Service (V.I.P.S.) training program will begin today. Classes will be held each Tuesday until Nov. 5 from $9: 30$ a.m. to $3: 30$ p.m.

The course, for parish outreach workers and human development volunteers, is open to all, regardless of religious or agency affiliation. The program will cost $$ 40$. The first session will be at Catholic Charities. 1654 W. Onondaga St., Syracuse.

Hughes fellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 pre-doctoral fellowships in the biological sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov. 8.
The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.

Effective June 1992, stipends will be $$ 14,000$ annually. For more information, call (202) 334-2872.

Tutors sought by

Salvation Army

The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of acadernic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teenage pregnancy.
The tutors are needed Monday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Volunteers work in one-onone or small group settings to assist students with homework assignments and remedial work.
A commitment of one night each week is required.

Volunteers are also invited to participate in the recreation period that follows tutoring.

For more information, call Mary Rose McBride at 4791321.

Russian choir
seeks members
The Syracuse University Russian A Cappella Choir is looking for singers from the student body, staff and faculty.
No experience is required to join. The words to all songs are transcribed phonetically.
The choir will present its repertoire of Russian folk songs in Hendricks Chapel and at Wells and Hobart Colleges during the 1991-92 concert season. Rehearsalsare heldevery Monday at 7 pim . in Room 107 of the Hall of Languages.

DON'T BELIEVE THE HYPE

Due to renovations the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha will be conducting fall rush of 743 Comstock Ave, the Kappa Kappa Gamma house (across from the Sci-Tech Building).

FAll 1991 RUSH DATES Sept 23 - Surf and Turt Night Sept 24 - Choose your Fantosy Night Sept 26 - Moke Your Hose Hum Night Sept 30 - Meet the 3 ra Biggest Brother Night Oct 1 - Horse Night Oct 2 -Rude Night
RUSH PIKE

DA 838 LANCASTER BOY'Z PRESENTS: Пへ $\Phi$ FALL RUSH '91

Gra6 2hict Sifoer Goblet Wieff The ti Zome quon It. Mire Lets Flave $r$ Few 2 -its TWialfe The're SCore
For FWe Dickn't Cowe to College Imet For Thie Thitret For grawiledge
So Cet's saire 2 ctitie yrall Wiatic Tiz're Gfore.

NUFF" SAID

Classifieds

NOTICE

 THE DALIL ORANGE CLASSAFED AD PPoceDURE: ST.50 for the firs 15 words. bold word Se exrra for oach CAPTALLEED word DENOLNE: 2pm, 2 busimess day in advance.
Notices

Horspbeck Piding 18 mives from Spracuse Resv. (315)006-8199

SALE 20X OFF

LEATHERS MOTORCYCLE JACKETS, STERLING SILVER 8 ANTIOUE JEWELFY, The cold is coming! Now Overcgats a Wool Cloth Aimg 742 S Beech. OH Westeckt. 472 -1949. $11-7.00 \mathrm{pm}$. mevisa. 2 rintuas for campus.

RAISE $$ 500 . . . $ 1000 . . . $ 15000:$ FOOLPROOF FUNORALSNGG. For your tramemy somorty, bealn or other carnpes organizalion absolurety no mwest memt required. Act now for the changee to win a $950-8472$, ext. 50
Weatcort Videc, HarvardiWestront. New releases Wretcont Video, Havary Wesicont. New releases, Universty.

FOR SALE Noococ: Bar Maxas, Banontion. Wan suan! Drs: Autos
1988 Ford Tempo GE 2dr., New tires, Hattrys. Brakes Sik. Great shape. Sween car $$ 2300$. or Best Offer 637-9664, 637 -515t.
CAMPUS CRUISIN' 1904 Mistbistri Starion Tur-

Bikes

Selling Mountain Bike: Relaigh Technium.

Real Estate

Universiny Area Expeltont Real Ertare Irvesimert Universiy Area Expalont Real Estaze Ifvesimert
Opportunty. DOLAN F.E. ask tor Ben 454 -0232.

Equipment

ORUMS: 7.pc PREMER RESONATOR wih PEARL Tree fioning" snare (isshols) and 2TALAA TOM ROSEWOOO FINSHL, RESS Extemal mounting syssem. Gorgeous! Cymbals also avaitable.

Misc. For Sale

Wood Loh can be used wath or wathout motal bedrame. $$ 40$ or EO Call $425-0114$.

Tickets: Rutpers vs Syracuse at Giant Stactum, 50 Yard Line Lowar Lever Tickets Aveilable 1.800-654-TUXK

Peal Meon Heinakin Sign ion sale! Amost new (oksy, in's six momts old). Unique docor for any (coneqge) rooml Padd $\$ 225.00$, Asking $\$ 14500$. Eric $423-\infty 014$.

EMPLOYMENT

Part time teacher for MCAT preparation_ Must have strong scie nce and tost taking skits. Syracust aroa strong science and tost taking stiths. Syracuse aroa and some out of mwn masignments. Call Sanley H . and some our of wwir assignmens. C Kaplain Education Center 472-3702.
Soeking Arractiva Bar Arrenctans. No Exporionce Nacuasary, Wingness To Leam Call Bphbara Al 471 -9875 For Appointiment.

Noeded: Bar Malds, Banenders, Wai Staf. Dis.
and Go-Go Dancers. Cail $457-9192$ plase loave tressage.
Sars Birdimid Fientempents University beation has cook and delivery positions available. Compertivo wape for boin pesitions Divers must have own valicte. Centect $479-5206$ for more Into.

WANTED

Help Wanted

Aftemion Ambitious Suudents bcalbusinessmenen bocking for a fow qualiay studerts to hatp with business ventures. Pert-tima work. between $2-3$ inousands dollars a momth. Cal day $424-2574$ be tweon 4.6 .000 m ar Bob 472-5952 berween 68:03pm. One Time Onlyt!
Travel Sales Representatives: STS, the leaciar in collogitete travol needs morinated individuals and groups to promote Wirtet Sprime Breaks mps. For mowe information call Sludert Travel Servicos, thace, NY at $+0.000-648-4849$ thace, NY an 1 -800-648-4849.
Fast Fundraiser $\$ 1000$ in 1 waek Greeks, Chbs and Aryone. No imestment. $\uparrow-800-745-6817$ Ext. 50 .
Freg Travel. Cash, and Excellent Business Fres Travel. Cash, and Excellent Businoss Expenconcell Openings available for individuals or studert organization to promole the coundif's most successtul Spring Break tours. Cad Irter-Campus Frograms 1-8c0-327-6013. HeazWave Vacations, tre, is booking tor brighte, perscnable individuals to promote our European sking sonabie incividuas to promote our European sking and Cathoean Spring Ereak inps. Earn tree vacations and bie paychacks. for more intormation call Gragory at $\uparrow$ © $00-395$-WAVE.

Roommates

HOUSEMATE WANIED: wo bodrom acartmam

Mate qratuate studert kocking for Male/Femate Roommate(s) for throa bedroom on lancaster.
Distwasher. firmolice. oft street $445-0055, ~ 582-$ 1500.
$\frac{\text { FOR RENT }}{\text { APartments }}$

FOR RENT: 3 BEDACOM APARTMENT Wesicoll Sureet lurnished, washor and dryor, paking
Call
487-57e1.
FALL A SPRING accepting Sanior & Graduare male & tomale suctents to fill several 4bdrm mpartmentas, 1 indiveal ok. Fustess; Besere humished
 AI aro locared maxi be E.S.F. eampua on Oatiend cellant $x$ block walking location and are nicoly furnished with bects, deasks, tressars and livingroorn furriture. Call 673-1344 for a choice studert wpt University Ave. Furtshed 3 bedroon liar hundry. lease, security deposit, 5825.00 plus utitios Hupe 1 Brdroom apt Ackerman Ava. RE-MODEE MODELED 1991, Murrished, laundry, tireplace, on streat parking. Will take singles. $$ 225$. per streat parking. Wifl take singles. $225. par bedroom.
$446-2209,424-9419$. Universty area large 283 bedroom trests. OHf-minet free parking, laundry. Lease securty deposit requrred. No pers/ Availedla now. UNVERSTY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDROOM UNTTS: Share kiehen, bath Fumished noated. close to cempus. $$ 250$. $$ 295$. Completo. 474-1303, 474-3303
GRAD STUDENIS WANTED: SIudia ADTS. Securad building. Leundry room No pets.
$635-53226635-3537$ nights and weokends.
APARTMENT FCR RENT great Abdim aparment avaiatle. large fumished apt. next to E.S.F. Oakland and Standarl beations.
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APAATMENTS. Very close. Secura. Quiel. Cappeted. Aır Condrioned. Laundry. Parking. Universtry Area
Al9.505. Apts.
Univorriryl North Crouse Spacious, 1 -bednom $$ 350$ o $$ 395$ inctudos hearl, taundry. No pers.
$$ 0 c u r i t y$ deposia. $429-0853$.

Houses

Univerthy Ave 5 bedroon house only 51250.00

Universicy Area newty nemodeled 4bdrm colonial Ideal tor studert rental, parkivg close to SU. Wes cott shops. Chan 685-5957/605-5751.

Rooms

Furnished room one black from camoss. Laundry Dorch and off street parking. Al utitios incurded. $$ 25 \% \mathrm{mo} .446-9598$.

ROOMS FOR RENT. 2 Locations 'sún hatucing utilities, 2210 phts trities. Furnished Launchy. Fireplaca. 428-1381.

Carriage nouse nomp for reat: Walnut Ave. 2

 blocks trom Lbrary, linchucess parking and tullitios. 445-6532DAYS, 445-4504EVES.
PERSONALS

Cherya. The homecoming banner was amazinol
Your remarkable talert won us firsi placel tharksi Love. Gamma Phi Congratuazions Kappa Kappa Gumma for 11 in scholarship Spring 911 Keep $k$ upl Lote stay : In Jaime and Rechal, you are the greatest! Wo coultive newar dores it whou your enthusiasmi Thanks for a tortice hornecomug! Love,Gamma Phi.

SaceyO., ChrissyO. Kelyw., TammioM., you puys did a super jobl Each day was a success. Thanks! Love, Gamma Pri.

Karens. Dobith, and Danal., Thanks for all your hard work encl dedication wo have an awosomo pledpe class to show for it! We love you, Camma Phi Beta.
Phi Psi, Homecoming with you gurys was a blast Pht Psi, Homscoming wnth you guys was a blast!
cors koep parying to make the spint tast Thanks tor everyherg' Love, Gamma Phi.

SERVICES

ACNE RELIEF: INFORMATION THAT WHL CHANGE YOUR LFE, PROVEN EFFECTNE, SEAD 33.00 TO SKIN CARE CEN Private Diving Lessons. Pich-up service. Fut and relresher courses. ONONDAGA DRIVING Telresher caurses ACADEMY $478-3995$.
Typing. For all your typing neads- Tenters. manuscripts, Cissertations, we. Call Ruth Dowey a Word Procassing. Laser rosumes. Typling Fast turnaround. Compltiens a COPRS. Marshall turn-around. COMPITIERS & COPES. Marshall

St. atowe Acropols. St. abowe Acropots.
Fasc, accurase Typetc oone in my home. Call Marlane, an expeutive sacratary with 15 yrs oxperience. Reasonable rawes. $699-5270$.

Win $$ 100$ instantly!

(this is real so read carefully...) Today from 11 AM to 3 PM, somewhere on Main Campus is a 'mystery' male student. If you are the first person to say
( at 803 Walnut Ave.)
fine print:

 Determination of winner is the sole decision of Kappa Sigma. (C) 1991 Garnma-lota chapter of Kappa Slgma yards away, it just kind of broke down. They had their whole team back there. Once we got it that far, it was hard to get a shot off."

UCONN

Foti said UConn's defengive gtyle was no secret.
"All they did was fall back and kick the ball out, to try to get out of there with a win," Foti said.

1992 SU YEARBOOK
THE ONONDAGAN

MANDATORY MEETING

 for positions on ECOPVY LAYOUTS AND DESIGN3 GOUSINESSS RRS Room 101, Hall of Languages THURSDAY 5:30p Please call 443-7332 with questions or problems.
IN A WORLD OF...

...Avoid The Ridiculous RUSH PHI PSI

TUES$7-10$

THU
26
7
MON
30

THU 7-10

SPECIAL GUEST:
SANTANA SATURDAY - SEPTEMBER 28 SHOWIIME 7:3OPM • IICKETS $22.50

万人

The Daily Orange is looking for news writers.
If you are intersted, please stop by the DO after 5 pm Sunday through Thursday.

"SOAPS UPDATE HOTLINE!"

"The young and the Res "An
"Ore Lite To Live" mare Our Lives" pays of Our tives" The bold and dix eencritur" "As the Worta fions". "General hospital" "Gufthing L/ght" -alley millarar".
 Don't Miss the Latest Happenings! 1-900-896-0022

Get the current scrip $/$ plow/cheracter developments of your la yonte iv doyome dramas

1010
Continued from Page 20
"I made a good play on a punt return to put them in a hole, Wooden said.

That may seem like a minor achievement, but as a special teams player, plays like those help to earn promotions.

Wooder made All-State in football at Farmington High School in Hartford, Conn.
"We won eight games in my three years playing varsity and tied two." Wooden said. "We were a soccer school."

The Wooden brothers played on the same field only once during their high school careers. One play stands out in Jo Jo's mind.
"(Terry) was a senior and I was a freshman." Jo Jo said. "It was a halback option play, and was playing elght end. The pass was supposed to bee to me. but 'Terry threw an interception. I never got off the line."

Name: Jo Jo Wooden
-Height: 6-4

- Weight: 243 pounds
- Age: 21
-Hometown: Hartford, Conn Position: Outaide linebacker Favorite food: Linguini with clarn sauce from Dominick's -Favorite TV show: Tie between Married With. Children and Cheers. "I'm a big Sam Malone and A1 Bundy fan.
-Favorite movie: Smokey and the Bandit. "I liked the first two movies with the Bandit in them." Favorite music: All kinds. "Anything from rap to pop to Sinatra."
Favorite pro tearn growing up: Dallas Cowboys "I'd live or die for those guys.
-Role model: My brother Terry Hobbies and leisure time activities: Watching professional wrestling
- Favorite wrestier: The Ultimate Warrior Goals in life/foothall: Graduate from Syracuge. "If I have the chance to play pro ball, I'll go chance to play pro bald, in go with it. Otherwise, I'd like to with it. Otherwise, I $\alpha$ like work with kids.
Proudest moment: Playing here What he does to get away from football: "I picked up golf this summer. I also go to movies."
-What he likes most about football: The contact and preparation for a game. "It's really exciting."

COMICS CONTEST CONTINUES!

REMEMBER TO DROP OFF YOUR BALLOT IN AN ORANGE CAMPUS MAIL BOX OR BRING IT BY THE DAILY ORANGE. 744 OSTROM AVENUE

IT DOESN'T MATTER
How Smart YOU ARE IF YOU'RE NOT SMART ENOUGH TO MAKE THE MOST OF IT.

Beginning with your very first set of diagnostic tests, Ronkin Will give you the skills, practice and support you need to clear aparh school of your choice. An school of your choice. And being your best.

Call Ronkin today.

LSAT - OMAT - GRE - MCAT
SYRACUSE - 425-5600

The Daily Orange is looking for news writers.

If you are intersted, please stop by the DO after 5 pm Sunday through Thursday.

```
744 Ostrom Avenue
```

Fowit surrwerthe กxily Coxnye
Univergity of Florida wide receiver Harrison Houston makes a catch agraingt Syracuse University lagt Saturday during the Orangemen'g $3 g-21$ win in the Carrier Dome. The vin moved SU into the Top 10 at No. 10 in the AP Poll.

TRICKS

Continued from Page 20
counts is obviously at the end of the year.
"If you start believing all that stuff, it's just like poison. Once you swallow it, you're dead."
No word on Patermo
On the subject of rankings, Pasqualoni declined to camment on Penn State, which is tied with SU for 10 th in the AP poll.
Former SU coach Dick MacPherson and Paterno had exchanged words following the cancellation of the SU-Penn State series.

Pasqualoni, a 1972 alumnus of Penn State, let the question pass untouched when the was asked.
Too early to tell
The Orangemen are off to a 3-0start, but comparisons to the 11.0-1 team in 1987 may be premature.

Syracuse's win over Flofida made many fans think back to the Orankemen's win over Penn State in 1987.

The 13th-ranked Orangernen defeated the 1Oth-ranked Nittaty Lions 48-21 in the season's sixth game.

Similar to the quick start against Florida, on the first play from scrimmage against Penn State, SU quarterback Don McPherson hit Rob Moore for an 80-yard touchdown pass.

Pasqualoni said only three games into the season is too early to tell.
"We have $n$ ways to go," Pasqualoni said. "I think we have some areas that we're still concerned about and we've been concerned about.
"I don't know it's fair right now to start making those types of comparisons this early in the year. We will be willing to make > "Good friends don't let good friends smoke cigarettes." Lany Hagman

Cigarettes arent good for your friends. Adopt a triend who smokes and hetp em quit today. Youlu both be glad tomorrow.
those type of comparisons, but rushing for 54 yards on 12 Will he ever throw?

That question seems to be appearing regularly. Will third string quarterback Doug Wornack ever throw a pass?

The sophomore has made appearances in all three games carries, but has yet to attempt a pass.
"We have thrown a pass with Doug Womack in the game," Pasqualoni said deadpan

The pass, however, was thrown by tailback David Walker on the by tailback David Walker on the halfback option.

Mandatory Meeting

 September 24th
7:30pm

Slocum Room 013
Elections will be held

RUSH THETA CHI

RUSH CHAIRMAN

PRESIDENT

WE BRING YOU TO NEW HEIGHTS

WING NIGHT • 403 COMSTOCK AVE

Sports

Jordan's time sliced by ## American pie

Is everybody satisfied?
Has Michael Jordan's succumbing to participating in the 1992 Olympics pleased you?
It's probably pleased his fans, his sponsors and flag-waving Americans verywhere. What a shame.
Back when the absurd idea of having professional basketball players make up the 1992 American roster was kicked around last season, Jorwas kicked around last season, Jordan r.

ROB

GUYETTE
SPORTS OPNION

He said he'd rather spend his off-season with his family. He his family. He makes enough public appear ances and perform ances as it is, he said.
Well, if Mr. Wheaties didn't become Saddam Hussein in a quick sentence.
Jordan's stance was chided as the most un-American sports decision Colonel Adnan to battle Hulk Hogan
What is wrong with asking for a little time off? Just because Michael Jordan has better things to do with his time do we get jealous? Or is it the public that has nothing better to do pubiic that has nothing better to do than watch him and his NBA budies than watch him and his NBA bu destroy the Yugos in Barcelona?
destroy the Yugos in Barcelona?
Basically, Jordan's ultimate role model image did hirn in. He has never done anything wrong in the public eye, and with the commercials and interviews he's done, he's had plenty of chances. After all, can anyone on the cover of a Wheaties box have $a$ flaw?
Jordan's 180-degree turnaround in his thoughts on the Olympies is weird.

At a news conference Saturday he said, "It was the decision I made and I wanted to keep it low-key. I knew all along I was going to play.;
Well then, Jordan lied in those countless interviews last year. How Jordan said he'd
Jordan said he'd already enjoyed the Olympic experience once, being on the 1984 gold medal team. He said it was time for other players, like some of the 1980 team members who were not able to go due to the United States boycott, to go.
This was the unselfish thing to do But not the American thing to do.
What could have swayed him the other way? Oh, maybe an $$ 18$ million contract with Gatorade, a company that would hate to miss out on airing the "I like Mike" campaign to millions of viewers.

Gatorade, a sponsor of USA Basketball which selected the Olympic team, has repeatedly said that it did not pressure Jordan to play. Maybe not, but did they really have to say anything?

We all know how much Jordan loves golf. We've seen him hacking on the cover of Sports Illustrated. And now he's going to give up his summer game for the boring, arduous task of beating the Mexicans by 70 points?

NBA players shouldn't be in the Olympics in the first place, but because Americans haven't won a gold medal since the 1986 World Champi onships, there is a great pressure to win. Winning. There's nothing like it. That's American Anyway, with Bird, Barkley, Ewing, Robinson, Pippen and Mullin, does the United States really need Jordan?

Tricia

Question: Who coached the 1984 Olympic baskethall team?

Friduyb antirere True. Doug Loigan ched itears of heartfelt agony whep Couch Minc left SUl last December

Huskies edge Syracuse, 2-1

By IEFF ELBAUM

If you want to know who was the better soccer team in the University of Connecticut's 2-1 victory over Syracuse University on Sunday, the answer wil] depend on who you ask.

We definitely shut their offense down," UConn defender Adam Linker said "They didn't have any golden opportunities whatsoever. That one goal was probably their best chance. They didn't have any decent shots on goal."

SU coach Dean Foti told a differen story. "We dominated the game," Foti said, "I think that's the best game we've played to date. The ball was in their hal the field the majority of the game.

No matter who's telling the true story one thing's fur certain. UConn, 3-3-1, 2-1 Big East, won the game.
The Huskies opened the scoring with a goal by Corey Turnage only $3: 26$ into the game.

The goal came on a transition play, after the Orangemen, 3-3, 1-1, attacked for the first three minutes.
Foti said the early goal riled up the 5,037 people on hand at Connecticut Soccer Stadium and hurt the Orangemen's momenturn.
"We needed to get through the first 10 minutes of the game to get acclimated to the crowd, the atmosphere," Foti said. "There's certainly an intimidation factor that comes along with playing at Connecticut.
"The ball was in their end of the field the first four minutes. Then, their first time down the field, they scored. That's

Syracuse University nose guard Kevin Mitchell puts pressure on University of Florida quarterback Shane Matthews. Mitchell had seven tackles, a sack, and forced a fumble in SU's $38-21$ win Saturday

Wooden making his own name

By MATT SIMO

Contributing Write

He doesn't look like an Edward.
In fact, that's how outside linebacker Jo Jo Wooden got the nickname "Jo Jo."
"One of my aunts didn't like the name Edward," the 6-foot-4, 243-pound junior said. "She thought I looked more like a Joseph. She wouldn't call me Edward." And Wooden's relieved that she disapproved.
"I hate that name," he said.
Although the name Jo Jo may not be too familiar to Orangemen fans, they should get used to hearing it.

Wodden, who is the younger brother of Seattle Seahawks linebacker Terry Wooden, is determined to stay out of his Wooden, is determined to stay out of his brother's shadow even though they both brother's shadow even play the same position.
"Terry knows he's Terry and Jo Jo knows he's Jo Jo, "the younger Wooden said. "I'm not out there trying to be Terry."

Wooden is in his first year as a starter after playing on special teams his first wo years at Syracuse.
"It feels really good," Wooden said about starting. "I'm doing OK, but $I$ want to play a lot better. There's always room for improvement..

SU spotlight

It's hard work that may soon make Jo Jo, not Edward, household name in Syracuse. After three games this season, Wooden has 17 tackles and one interception.

Wooden was recruited by Boston College, Maryland, Miami, Nebraska, and UCLA in addition to Syracuse.
"Nebraska and UCLA were too far away," Wooden said. "Maryland wasn't good at the time like they are now, and I didn't know if I'd fit in at Miami.
"I wanted to be a part of a winning program and knew people in Syracuse because of my brother. That's where I elt the most comfortable.'
Wooden's most memorable experience as an Orangeman occurred during last year's 28-0 blowout of Arizona in the Aloha Bowl.

See IOIO Page 18
not really getting off on the right foot." UConn's Tim Bacich scored at 7:48 of the second half on an unusual goal, giving the Huskies a 2-0 lead.
"The ball was crossed, and it deflected off one of our players' foot and into our net," SU defender Lee Davison said. "It was just a really unlucky goal for us to conceive.'
"After you work on dominating, and then you give up a goal like that, it's kind of frustrating," said forward Nino Galich.

Syracuse was finally able to strike with 16:18 left in the game on an unassisted goal by Paul Young.

Young, who took seven of SU's twelve shots in the game, now leads the Orange men with five goals and 10 points.

The Orangemen pressured for the See UCONN Page 17

SU digs into bag of tricks

By JOSH BARNETT
Staif Writer
Syracuse University offensive coordinator George Deleone didn't have a black hat and a magic wand, but he called some trick plays against the University of Florida.
The Orangemen, 3-0, utilized the halfback option and the reverse in their 38-21 win over the Gators on Saturday. SU coach Paul Pasqualoni said the plays on offense weren't really tricks. just plays worked into the game plan.
"I don't know if they're tricks," Pasqualoni said. "We don't think that they're magical plays. I think we go in with some plays which will be efrective with some plays which will be effective for us. Well continue to have those things ready and if we need to, we'll use things

The
The Orangemen did start the game with a play which astounded the Gators. but it came on special teams.
Syracuse set up a misdirection on the opening kickoff which went for a 95 -yard touchdown.
The kickoff return, Pasqualoni said, was just a case of logical thinking.
"I don't think it takes a rocket ship scientist to figure out Fiorida's fast," he said. "They're going to run down the field very hard. We haven't shown a misdirection, so maybe we would have a chance if we did that. It just so happened to work that way.'

Side effects

The Orangemen may not use the misdirection kickoff return again soon, but it will give teams something to think about.

The first team to get a look at the return on film will be Tulane University, who the Orangemen play this Saturday.
"I think the good thing about it is that it's on film," Pasqualoni said. "Tulane has to go out there today and spend a couple of minutes defending against it."
*That takes time away from defending something else. That's usually the best thing about those plays even if they don't work - the potential that they could work. I think it will help our regular kickoff return."
It don't mean a thing, yet
After a win over the then-fifth-ranked Gators, the Orangemen have moved from 18th to 10 th in the Associated Press poll. Syracuse also jumped higher in the USY Tracuse also jumped higher in the USA Today/CNN coact from No. 17 to No. 13.

Pasqualoni said looking at the rating this early in the season can be deadly.
"We don't put stock in where we are in terms of the ratings," he said. "Very, very frankly, it wouldn't upset me if we were No. 20 after three games. When it See TRICKS Page 19

TheDaily Orange

SGA results in after slow vote

By ERIN NEFF

Managing Editor

Abstract

After extending deadlines two times, the Syracuse University Student Government Association has finally received and tallied the votes from its Fall 1991 Assembly election.

The first Assembly meeting, which will be Monday at 7 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium, will introduce the new Assemblymen to the governmental process.

After the original two-day election period last Monday and Tuesday brought in only 700 votes, SGA initially extended the voting to Thursday and Friday of last week. Ten percent of undergraduate students need to cast ballots to legitimize the election. At present enrollment figures, 1,157 students constitutes 10 percent of the undergraduate enrollment.

 After the first days of voting, only 700 tes had been cast.However, due to Homecoming events, the elections did not take place on Friday and were pushed back to Monday and Tuesday.

A total of 1,277 votes, constituting 12 percent of the enrollment, were cast during the elections - something with which SGA officials were not pleased.
which SGA officials were not pleased.
"We're disappointed with the turnout of the student body," said Brian Rubenstein. SGA executive assistant.
With five days of voting available in the Schine Student Center and four nights at various dining halls, Rubenstein said, "We still got that little amount. I'm sorry they didn't come out and vote after we made it that easy for them."
Emily Zenick, SGA president, said a large number of those elected were write-in candidates, but she did not have the actual count. Many of those write-ins took the seats, Rubenstein said.
A total of 114 seats were available and 86 were filled.

Despite leaving 28 positions open, Zenick said there were some good races like those in Marion and Shaw halis and greek housing, and the off-campus housing race brought in more Assemblymen than in the past.
The following students were elected to serve on Assembly:
Boland: Kathleen Cudmore, Peter Duffy and Cherri Hoffinan.

Booth: Brian Apple. Timothy Rowe and Heather Seok.

Brewster: Chenette Cole, Millicent King, Jen Nycz and Meghan O'Brien.

Day: Natanya Levioft, Ruby Lopez, Eileen

Romana and Erikik Thoresen.

Discussion group probes creativity

By KATE FLATLEY  Contributing Writer

Creativity has numerous roots and just as many shapes and forms, said English and Textual Studies Professor John Crowley at the first Noble Room Discussion yesterday.

The panel and audience members discussed "creating the space for critical issues to be addressed" with a focus on individual views and perceptions of the origins of creativity.

Crowley, chairman of the English and textual studies department, said creativity, and all views of creativity, are hepartment, said creatically based. For example, he said the number of eariy historically based. For example, he said the number of eariy
20th century writers "gained their vision through the bottom 20th centur
He said a pattern was established in which alcohol was indispensable as a creative spark for writers.

Ana Scott, a doctoral candidate, art education department member and painter, asked if writers drink to escape the problems of life, or because it was the established pattern.
She said she used to believe that to be creative was to be a "bad kid" or "rebellious," like early writers who drank during the Prohibition Era.

Different strokes for different folks

She said that she now believes there are as many kinds of creativity as there are kinds of people.

She teaches her students that creativity is not only acceptable, but desirable. "Once we put a definition on the word 'creativity,' someone wants to quantify it - to test it," she said. She said she does not believe in this method. "Accept alternative arguments, don't disallow constructive arguments," she said.

Rev. James Taylor, Episcopal chaplain at Hendricks Chapel, said he believed creativity stems from "the Creator." The urge to create is derived from love, he said.
"The creator instills in us the power to create, and we, from there, become a co-creator," he said.

Thylor said he made the tongue-in-cheek remark to "encourage weirdos."
"I may not like what someone writes or paints, but I am at least happy that they are using their creativity," he said "Society doesn't understand the urge to create.

Amy Komar, an audience member, asked about the notion of change and the element of risk in creativity. Scott said fashions and change come and go.
"Fashions come and go because of historical patterns," Crowley said.

Chris Koliba, a graduate student and staff member of Hendricks Chapel moderated the discussion. He said the forum will accept suggestions for future topics to be discussed by anyone interested.

The next forum, "The Untaught Histories" will be Oct. 10.

Speech analyzes empowerment in workplace
By SHEILA DOUGHERTY
Staif Writer
Power gained by women and minorities through the civil rights movement has profoundly shaped Carol Simkins' hase.

Syracuse University's new director of health services discussed "Empowerment in the Workplace" to kick off Empowerment Week for women and minorities enrolled in the College of Nursing.
Simking, who described her own empowerment to her position as director of powerment to services, addressed about 60 students in the College of Nursing lounge Monday night.

Simkins said issues such as organizaSimkins said issues such as organizational skills and time management are tional skills and time management are important things to consider when talkimportant things to consider when talking about power for women and minoriing about power for w ties in the workplace.
"Throughout my career I've spoken to many groups about management issues and the impact of how we function in the workplace-for example the importance of clearly understanding the issues of the organization," Simkins said.

There are many sources of power, or empowerment," she said. "I belleve that these sources can be categorized as internal or personal, and external."

Internal power

Simkins said internal power is directly influenced by an individual's own actions. External power is something over which a person has less control.
"Notice I said less control, not no control." she added.

These external sources can also work negatively.
"Many of these external sources of power can also be our most powerful sources of disempowerment."

These disempowering sources can be either overt or covert, Simkins said.

They come in the form of laws, organizational policies, promotion or hiring practices," she said.

Since the empowerment battle is diffrcult for women and minorities, the College of Nursing holds Empowerment Week annually to encourage students to overcome difficulties.
"It is important for us to realize that the struggle for empowerment, especially for minorities and women, is not easy and must be strategically planned," she said.

In preparation for her speech, Simkins reflected on the empowering forces in her own life and career that enabled her to reach a position of authority.

Growing up in the south
"I grew up in a southern town in the time when our country was experiencing many changes -changes that deal

See EMPOWER Page

Inside

Classified
Comics
Editorial
Entertainment
News Extra
News
Weather

Eerie entertainment  Venture to a place where Elvis lives and people are seen hanging straight-jackets on the backyard clothesline. It's Eerie, Indiana in Entertainment, p.9.

World

Hostage Jack Mann

 Released in LebanonLebanese kidnappers freed British citizen Jack Mann Tuesday afternoon. Israeli Radio and the Iranian News Agency reported the release. The British Foreign Office confirmed the release.
oreign Office comfirmed the release.
It is likely Mann is on his way to Damascus, where freed hostages are Damascus, wh
Mann is 77 and had been held hostage for more than two years.

Iraq detains United ## Nations search team

Iraq detained about 40 United Nations nuelear inspectors for 12 bours Monday after the inspectors discovered raqf plans for making nuciear weapons. Ater a long standonf, the imspectors were allowed to depart the building. but were allowed to depart the building had to leave the documents behind.

The Security Council met Tuesday to take up the issue again, American officials said.

Officials said it was likely additional warplanes would be sent to Saudi Arabia for use in either escort or combat mistions over Iraq.

President Bush again urged the ousting of Saddam Hussein in his annual address to the General Assembly.

Arafat tries to ## strike P.L.O. balance

Yassir Arafat, the chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization. ex pressed support Monday for a Middle concessions for Palestinian attendance.

Arafat addressed 450 delegates at the opening of a meeting of the Palestine
National Council the P.L.O.s parliaNational Council. the P.h.O.s paria ment. Arafat tried to strike a balance be tween moderateg within his organizatween rnoderates within his organization who want compromise with the tion who want compromise with the United States on the peace talks and the hard opposed to any concessions hard-lime to Israel.
to israel.
P.L.O. officialy said there was a consensus among many delegates in favor of participation in the conference.

Nation

Electricity costs drop in Northeast, Southeast

Consumers are paying less for electricity in the Northeast and Southwest. The declining prices are due to lower oil prices and the collapse in the price of oil prices and the collapse in the price of natural gas. Officials warn, however, natural gas. Officials warn, how

More ellicient use of electricity, apurred More elicient use of electricity. spurred in part by utility subsidies for new light in part by utility subsidies for new light cost of electricity to shrink.

For residential customers. the lines on their monthly bill where utilities adjust rates for changes in fuel costs have shown a small or negative number.
"It's a buyer's market," Barry Abramson. an analyst at Prudential Securities. said.

Baby boomers not born-again savers

The nation's savings rate is slumping again, despite the common view that the again, despite the cornmon view that the baby boomers would become thriftier in middle age.

Not only do baby boomers save less than experts had hoped, but the number of retired people is growing. and they spend more than they earn.

Crack hits Chicago

 with active killing waveThe arrival of crack in Chicago has caused tarf wars that are making 199 the deadliest year in the city's history. By the end of August, Chicago had recorded 623 murders, compared to 59 by that date in 1974, the previous record year.

The city declared last month the deadliest ever with 120 killings, more than the previous record of 117 in November 1974

The killings have touched off neighborhood marches and candlelight vigils Dut of Irustration, Mayor Richard M Datey likened Chicago to Columbia.

The record also surpasses the rate during the bloody years of the Al Capone era.

State

Cuomo announces plan to revitalize NYC

Gov. Mario Cuomo announced a plan to revitalize New York City from the to revitalize ivew York City Mrom th

He described plans for new housing developments, new rail and ferry lines, developments, new rail and ferry lines, and the world's largest science and and the wrorld's business library.

The light-rail system would link Ken. nedy and LaGuardia airports with each other and mass transit lines. The cost would be funded by a $$ 3$ fee charged to passengers departing from New York airports.
Guesta attending the dinner said the plans rould be pursued even in bad times. "Maybe when you didn't have as much trouble. there was less willingmess by the system to inquire this deep into possibilities," Cuomo said. "The mind grows in capacity as the challenge grows," he said.

The plan also calls for the state to take over the city's Medicare costs.

Board of Regents to  fix discipline system

The Board of Regents said Thesday it will call for revamping the process of the disciplining of 500,000 professionals.

The Regents are responding to criticism that bad nurses, dentists, architects and merrbers of 27 professions the board regulates are not punished quickly, said Christopher Carpenter. spokesman for the state Education Department.

Ferry fares being  collected again

Passengers on the Staten lsiand Ferry began paying a 50 cent fare again Wednesday after two weeks of free rides. The fares had not been collected since the Manhatian terminal of the ferry was destroyed on Sept. 8.
The fare is now being collected at the Staten Island terminal, the first time lares have been collected there since

University

MBA/Law Day to be ## held October 7

Syracuse University will hold ita annual MBA/Law day on Monday, Oct. 7 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium at the Schine Student Center.
The program is open to all students interested in leaming more about law school or graduate programs in management.

Representatives from law schools and graduate management programs from across the nation will be on hand to meet with students of all class years. Students will be able to discuss application processes, curticula, placement and career issues and multi-cultural opportunities.

Admission materials, catalogs, and financial aid information will also be available.
The event is co-sponsored by the Placement Center and the College of Arts and Science's Career Exploration Services. For more information contact Joseph J. Cicala at 443-2207.

Neighborhood group to hold weekend events

The University Neighborhood Preservation Association will host a university vation Association will host a university neig 29.

The
The events are free and open to the public.
The group will conduct walking tours of the neighborhood on Sept. 28 from 1 to 3 p.m.. starting from the Euelid Community Open House at Wescott Street and Euclid Avenue.
The tour will be conducted by Chris Capells Peters, an urban planner and designer.
A reunion reception arid photo exhibit will be held on Sept. 29 from 2:30 p.m. to $5: 80$ pim: at the Shaffer Art Building. The exhibit will feature 50 photos with subjects ranging from the construction of the Thornden Park amphitheater to a trolley car on Euelid Avenue. The exhibit will be on display through October 6 .

WEATHER

Wet, Wet, Wet

-There's a wondrous littie pressure system from the Tennessee Valley that should Valley that should be hitting us by late morning. We'Il have soaking rain this morning with temperatures in the mid to upper 50 s . Expect partial clearing by mid-afternoon and lingering showers, drizzle and fog tonight.
Thursday
The entire East coast is blanketed by these storms this week. Heavy rain should be lining the eastern United States and Syracuse is no exception. Expect variable clouds, rain and highs in the low to mid 50 s .
Friday
Well, the weekend won't have a great kickort as weill still be under this cover of clouds.

Temperatures across
the country
Atlenta
Boston
Dallas
Detroit
Las Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
Philadelphia.
Seattle
Washington. D.C.

Today'racaterty: Bromall, Pa.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuere Universitya independent student-ruin newapaper publiahed Monday through Friday.
The newrapaper it dimtributed frwe on the Syractuse Uriveraity and SUNY Environmentill Sience and Foretry emmpoues.
The editorw are avilable after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Newt: 43-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifestyle: 433-2128

UJB fields more student complaints

By KRISTINA SAUERWEIN
Asst. News Editor
More complaints were filed against students and organizations in the 1990 91 school year than the previous year according to a recently released Universty Judicial System report.

This year, 280 complaints were filed compared to last year's 258.

Judicial Adviser Benjamin Baez said there is an increase because more students and faculty are aware of filing procedures.
"It's a sign that more people are aware of what to do," he said. "I expect next year the number will be higher,
"It's important that students and the community know how the judicial symlem works."
The Syracuse University Judicial Symtum hears cases of alleged violations of the Code of Student Conduct, Baez said.

Some students come to SU thinking that everything is going to be rosy, but the university is like a mini-community," he said. "Bad things as well as good things happen, which is why we need a judicial system."
After a complaint is filed against a student or organization. the Office of Student Affairs works informally with both parties to resolve the problem, Baez said.

Friendly resolutions

"We try to resolve the situation in a friendly manner," he said. "Most stufriends who have a complaint filed against them agree that something bad happend. They are usually very sorry."
If an accused student or organization denies the allegation or does not agree to an informal resolution, Baez said the matter will go before the SU Judicial Systern. which is composed of the univer sity, residence hall and academic judical systems.
"It is every student's and organizeton's right to an impartial hearing if they don't agree with the complaints," he said.

Baez also said he is pleased to see more students filing complaints against other students.
The report reveals that 61 students filed complaints compared to the 34 complaints filed the previous year. Other complaints against students or organizeion were filed by faculty and university officials.

University Judicial System 1990-91 Academic Year Report

The information listed below was based on the number of complaints received by the Office of Student Affairs between July 15, 1990 and July 25, 1991. The report does not include those complaints adjudicated by other offices.

Total number of complaints: 280

Classification by sex:
male - 250
female - 29
Classification by year:
freshman -88
sophomore - 68 junior - 58 senior -42 graduate - 4
unclassified - 4
Number of incidents involving alcohol:
78

Abstract

"Most students have a pretty hard time filing complaints against other students," he said. "It's hard for them to snitch and to face the person they are reporting."It is usually a serious problem if a student files a complaint, because that means they weren't able to settle the problem among themselves."

Students unaware of codes
Freshmen and sophomores have more complaints filed against them because they are not familiar with the Student Code of Conduct, Baez said.

Number of cases involving drugs: 11

Number of cases involving athletes:

33

Number of cases involving greeks:
71
Number of cases occurring on campus:
204
Number of cases occurring off campus: 76

Number of cases in which criminal charges were also filed: 46

Results:

guilty - 196
not guilty - 11 dismissed - 35 referred - 4 pending - 14
Cases were handled by: adviser - 137 graduate assistant - 66 University Judicial Board - 46 administrative hearing board 10 dean -7

Freshmen are new and young and they don't really know the rules," he said. "They just make more mistakes."

The report stated that 250 complaints were filed against males and 29 against females.
"I'm not sure why that is, but I would guess it has to do with the nature of the sexes and how people are brought up."

Property damage and physical damage topped the list of offenses.
"Males tend to commit the more violent acts, such as physical damage, while females commit less violent offences like stealing from the bookstore," he said. "That's not to say fernales don't get violent, because we've had some vicious female fights."

Baez said he suspects more complaints are related to alcohol and drugs than the report indicates.
"It's hard to detect if alcohol and drugs were used in the complaints filed offcampus," he said. "Students have an easier time not getting caught drinking and smoking marijuana off-campus."

Four boards

The Syracuse University Judicial Symterm is composed of four boards which are term is composed of four boards which are administrated by the Dean of Student Relations in cooperation with the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and the deans of each of the schools and colleges supervises and administers the University Judicial System.
Academic Judicial Board
The Academic Judicial Boards) are established by each of the schools and colleges of the university to define "amademic dishonesty" in their respective disciplines and to conduct hearings on charges of academic dishonesty alleged to have occurred within their respective to have areas.

These boards are appointed by the deans and include representatives of the deans and include representatives of the student body, faculty and college administrators.

Accused students may request that a representative of the university's Office of Student Affairs be a member of the hearing board. Appointments are made on a multiple year, rotating basis, with membership fixed by the respective schools and colleges.

These boards may impose sanctions up to and including expulsion from the school and may design sanctions that are educational or remedial.

Residence Hall Judicial Board
This board is composed of nine resident students selected by a committee of students and professional staff from the Office of Residence Life. Five members constitute quorum for this board, which hears cases of alleged violation of the Code of Student Conduct and the Housing agreement as it pertains to student behavior which takes place in or around university-owned residence and dining halls.
The residential judicial board may impose sanctions up to and including permanent expulsion from the residence halls. Decisions must be confirmed by the Director of Residence Life.

University Judicial Board

The University Judicial Board is composed of nine students appointed annaally by the Dean of Student Relations and selected by a university-wide committee comprised primarily of represent tatives of student government groups.
The board is comprised of at least two undergraduate students and two gradusate students. Five members are needed to constitute quorum.
The UJB may hear any case of alleged violation of the Code of Student Conduct filed against individual students or student organizations, except cases of nacademit dishonesty.
The board may impose sanctions up to and including expulsion from the to and including expulsion from the university and may designsanc are educational and remedial.

See BOARDS Page 6

SAVINGS THROUGHOUT OUR STORE WITH COUPONS ABOVE.THOUSANDS OF HITS TO CHOOSE FROM INCLUDING THESEPICTURED TITLES.

NO GOUPON REQUIRED FOR DICTURED TITLES.

AS LOW AS

COMPACT Disc

'6.99CASS/10.99CD

*7.99 CAS5/*1.99CD

Camillus, Camillus Mall, 468-1774 - Clay, Penn Can Mall, 452-1440 - DeWitt, Shoppingtown Mail, 446-2293

Editorial

Bush is right, crazy

George Bush may be right. He may also be crazy.

He may be right in trying to get Israel not to expand any further into the West Bank. He may be right for suggesting that it stop building settlements because they are an obstacle to peace. He says settlements will anger Palestinians who will then not want to negotiate toward peace.

This may be sound advice, but it may also be crazy, and easier said than done.

The United States has proven in the past that it expands to meet its internal needs. We stole land from the American Indians for the same reasons Israel wishes to expand - land and security. But Israel's not as big or powerful as we were. So, we tell them to sit tight. This is hypocritical stuff.

Israel needs $$ 10$ billion to build housing for immigrant Soviet Jews. For a country as small as Israel to borrow money, it needs a cosigner. It would like the United States to be that cosigner. President Bush says it would cost the American taxpayer
$$ 1,000$ if Israel defaulted on its loan. So, he suggested these people wait four months and see.

Since Bush makes it sound as if this money is coming out of taxpayers' pockets, does that mean if we don't cosign Israel's loan that money will go towards homeless people? Of course not; it will go toward military defense.

Israel's request may be of pressing humanitarian importance.

Now, Israel faces a fundamental dilemma. Should it trade land for the promise of security? We say it should, but it's easy for the Unites States to advise Israelis along those lines. That's because our perspective is off.

If Israel were to give up the West Bank, it would remain only nine miles wide. It would take approximately 15 seconds to fly a jet from one side to the other.

How many of you would feel secure on a similar plot of land, surrounded by your enemies?

Israelis will have to wait until Bush reaches a decision - that is, if the United States considers them an important enough of asset to protect.

Of diners, soul

Here are my perspectives on the entire world this week.
It looks like Clarence Thomas will be confirmed soon. His elusive statements indicate one of two things. Either he is a liar or he really has an open mind about many of today's hot legal issues. Although the skeptic in me believes in the former scenario, let's in me believes in the former scenario, let's hope he's willing to listen to the facts before hope he's willing to li making his decisions.

| BARRY |
| :--- |
| STARK |
| NAKED |
| IRUTH | Something is strange at Syracuse University. The administration raises tuition because of declining enrollment. Enrollment is declining because students tion. What would happen if, say, tuition were decreased. Ahh ... forget about it. That will never happen.

The Godfather of Soul, James Brown, is still my idol. While it is not a popular auccess, hia new studio album is pretty dam good.

If you haven't been to hell in your lifetime, try Bird Library during reconstruction.

The reason why I have not written anything about the Soviet Union is because I don't want to demonstrate my lack of knowledge and

and marionettes

understanding to the rest of the world. The situation is nothing short of spectacular.

I was very excited to learn that the closest 24-hour diner to campus was located in the Greyhound bus terminal. I know where I'm headed on my next date.

My noommate Howie has always wanted me to mention him in my column. I still keep telling him no.

The excitement generated by SU's victory over Florida could not possibly be superseded. It was simply amazing.

Have you ever wondered what the world would be like if men had breants?

Staring out of my window, $I$ see dark rain clouds and a rainbow simultaneously. The skies of Syracuse are truly something else.

Dear Brad Seldin, Jay McGrath and Chris Tacinelli: Thank you for giving me a great laugh. I can see the history books being rewritten. Hitier ... Mussolini ... Stark.
Is it me, or is WSTM-TV weatherman Wayne Mahar being pulled by atrings like a marionette? There is no way he is a real hurnan being.

There. I think filled up my space quite nicely.

LETTERS

Evasive budget moves

To the editar:
The admimistration has once again proved its total lack of respect for the students, faculty respect for the students, facu and employees of Syracuse and employe University.

As many of you are aware, the university is considering various budget cuts and restructuring programs to deal with the decline in enrollment. Last spring, former Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers appointed an Ad Hoc Committee to analyze the sehools and support services of the university. Then, this committee was to ismue recommendations as to appropriate restructuring. It is common sense that any changes or cuts will have an immediate effect on the welfare of faculty, students and employees. These people should be allowed to comment on all proposals.

The "restracturing program" has three phases. The first is when all schools, programs and services are analyzed. The findings and recommendations of the committee are then released to the university for reactions and feedback in phase two of the plan.

These will be published on the ninth of Decernber and feedback from the university community is accepted from December 10 through January 15. Is it mere coincidence that final exams begin promptly on the ninth of December llaw School) and that Winter Break extends from Decernber 14 extends from Decernb through January 13 ?

This is an overt indication of the type of response the adrninistration wants -none. For those of you who are not familiar with how the administration works. let me explain. They have already decided to carry out these "recommendations" and really do not care what the faculty and students think. The only reason they are even pretending to open them up to discussion is to cover themaclves.
The timetable is cleverty designed to give the least possible opportunity for negative feedback and protests.

The administration of SU has to be made to understand that the faculty and students are the University and must have a voice in its decisions.

Istrongly encourage all students, faculty and students, iacuity and employees to express their employees to ex distaste for the administration's policies. I especially encourage the parents of students to call and write the Chancellor and protest.

Let Chancellor Shaw know that we are intelligent enough to think for ourselves and do not need the administration to play Grod.

Mathew R. Broderick
Class of 1994

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Imdependent Since 1971

Women should hold responsibility

To the editor:

There is no excuse in the world for rape. In reference to the article in The Daily Orange on Sept. 23 titled "Woman allegea sexual abuse," my wavered with anger at her irresponsible behavior. Again, no one should have to live the traumatic invasion of rape, and my heart goes out to the woman in the article.

However, if a youms woman drinks a half of a bottle of champagne plus five alcoholic drinks, she sets herself up as an entry target for rape. The situation is not fair -men rape women. She went to a bedroom with a man while intoxicated; they kissed and removed their clothea. This an excuse for him to force himelfon her but the fact himself on her but the tact auch a position, unable to control or remember exactly what happened, also cannot be excusped. Wornen have a just as it is possible to take

Julia Doran Graduate student

Asst. Photuy Edirom

 by The Daily Oranke Corporation and ma steps to avoid rape. When excessive consumption of alcohol creates a wexkened condition, essentially women are put to the wolves. Not all are put to the woives. Not all men rape, but too mand the rape awareness programs on the SU carnpus and pray that no one else andfers through the aftermath of an attack 8 nd/orbad of an attack and/orbad

News EXitur News Efitur Roy S. Gutereman

 Sporrs Editor Matthew J. Palm Corrs Editor Gretchen Rob Guyerte Pruduction Misr. Matt Saurter Phero Elisor Design Editor Aft Director $\begin{array}{ll}\text { Art Direersr } & \text { S. Omar Ali } \\ \text { Ass. Newelinur }\end{array}$ Ass. News Ellime Marik Steve Ellis Aset. Nows Elite Mark A. Brousseau

Robert Shlelds Asst. Lifestyle Eulies Assc. Lifesryle Edifur Asst. Sports Eulitur Anst. Spurts Editor Ennifer Kronstain Eric Grode
Rob Owen Dave Burcema Kent Fischer Asst, Spurts Editur Asse. Art Direcreor Asst. Enry Editar Asst. Cupy Eliting Robert Aiz Reap Jennifer R. Hale Mennifer R. Rale

Sherri Adel
Ona Alpert
Rachel Beck
Alexis Boccabella
Jessica Borg
Stacy Cagan
Meredith Cohen
Shari Cuenca
Berly Delacruz
Lori Denberg
Leslie Edelman
Ivy Farber
Jodi Friedman
Ali Gaylor
Stacy Gitnik
Randi Gottlieb
Jennifer Grosser
Meredith Israel
Mara Joung
Jennifer Klebenoff
Jennifer Lenet
Kira Lewis
Suzanne Margulies

Julie MellerJodi MerionSusan MuangmanJessica NovodTamara OsorioSherri RaffCori RanzerRebecca RionStephanie RosenhausLisa RothNiccole SchulnickLynn SederBeth SegaloffDeena ShafferJennifer WeissRandi Wruble

BOARDS

Continued from Page 3
University Appeals Board
The University A ppeala Board is composed of five faculty/ataff members and four students and has jurisdiction to hear appeals of decisions of any lower nonacademic judicial body of the Dean of Student Relations for reasons of particular complexity.

Three faculty and two staff. one of whom must be a graduate student, are needed for quorum.

The appeals board is recom. mended by the lower judicial boards and appointed by the Dean of Student Retations Th board is chaired by a member selected by the board on a case-by-case basis.
The board may accept requests by any complainant or accused student to assume primary jurisdiction over any non academic case for reason of unnecessary delay, unfairness or any other reason.
The board is empowered to change lower judicial decisions. alter sanctions or return cases. It can also impose sanctions up to and including expulsion

These decisions must be con. firmed by the Vice President for Student Affairs Compiled from the Syracuse University Student Handbook.

SPECIAL OF THE WEEK:
HALF SHEET PIZZA & SODA COMBO ONLY $$ 7.48+$ tax (save 51.85 )
-Half Sheet Pizza(18- * (3) With Checse -Litre of Soda

- Extra Toppings Available For Only $$ 1.25$

471-SALS

FOF SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with othar SPECIALS - Valid through Sept. 28. 1991 Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit

ComputerLand
Of Upstate New York

ComputerLand and Apple* Computers are offering the most exciting purchase plan ever to the students and faculty members of Syracuse University; the Individual Purchase Option. If you are a full time student or faculty member, you are eligible to take advantage of tremendous savings on Apple ${ }^{\text {© }}$ personal computers! Save up to $50 \%$ !* For more information, contact the experts at ComputerLand of Upstate New York.
*50\% off the Manufacturer's 5uggested Retail Price.
Color takes on a whole new value with the Macintosh ${ }^{\bullet}$ LC computer.
Designed to easily expand, the LC includes an 020 Procesor Direct Slot, which lets you extend the system's capabilities through expansion cards for communication, Apple Ile emulation, graphics and more.

September 25, 1991

The Daily Orange

and will continue to be effective, there are many more options for us to attnin power or be empow. ered," she said.

Simkins said it is necessary for individuals to identify a way to gain empowerment.
In order to attain power it is first necessary to select a men. tor.
"We need someone to assist. us in making those tough decisions," she said. "Choose this person carefully."

It is also essential to recognize a need for additional educational preparation in order to tional preparation in ordeance in an organization. advance m Simkins said.

It is important for people to accept change and new challenges, she said.
"People with power take risks," she said. "If people are not willing to take risks, one will not grow or change."
To make that change people should set woals without limiting themselves.
"It is difficult to feel a sense of power or control if one feels "stusk,' so to speak." she said. *You may have to try many different avenues before you find your niche."

The event was sponsored by the Minority Student Nurses Orcanization.

Write for the D.O. Stop by 744 Ostrom Ave, or call 443-2127

It's not just another way for you to spend your money.

 It's a way to help you save it.Now, get the Card and get Student Privileges. Special savings created just for you. Only from American Express.
If you think the American Express* Card is simply another way to buy things, we'd like to share some valuable news with you: Since you're a student, the Card can actually belp you save.

Become a Student Cardmember today, and you'll automatically get American Express* Studert Privileges, our newly expanded package of outstanding savings and special offers. All designed just for you-with more of what you need, for more value from the money you spend.

4

Continental
3 ROUNDTRIPS ON
CONTINENTALAIRLINES-ATA PRICE THAT REALLY MAKES FIYING AFFORDABLE

Only Student Cardmembers can enjoy this great deal on Continental Airlines: three roundtrip Alights for just $$ 129$ or $$ 189$ each-depending on where you're going: What's more, these certificates are good anywhere Continental Airlines fies in the 48 contiguous states.

Use your certificates to visit friends at other schools, see your family back home or enjoy yourself during a vacation. And the best part: Each certificate conld save you as mucb as 5250 over regular Continental Airlines fares ont a coast-to-coast trip.

> OUR NEWEST ADVANTAGE: UP TO
> 30 MINUTES OF FREE MCI LONG-DISTANCE CALLING EVERY MONTH FOR AYEAR

Talk about value. Now the Card can also help you save on your longdistance calls. In total, you could save more than $$ 44$ when you enroll and use the American Express Card as a calling card. And you don't even have 10 change your current long. distance company.

PLUS, SAVINGS ON CLOTHES, FOOD.
MUSIC ... AND MORE
Student Privileges Value Certificates give you the savings you need on the things you want-a sure way 10 make the most of a college budget. This vear alone, Student Cardmembers have saved at Pizzeria Uno. Eddie Bauer, MTV and ArtCarved class rings, among others.

Youll find your certificates in each issue of our exclusive student magazine, American Express ${ }^{*}$ Card CONNECTIONS-where you'll also find valuable ideas and information about college life today.

AGOOD INVESTMENT, A GREAT VALUE

For just $$ 55$ a year, the Card gives you all these savings, as well as all the traditional benefits of Cardmembership-like the personal attention you can get 24 hours a day from our Customer Service representatives.
And because you setle your account in full each month, you wont pay any finance charges-which can save you even more. All of which goes to show that the American Express Card is an exceptional value. Because while there are many ways for you to spend your money there are few that help you save in. Apply today.

- To be eluaible. you musx be approwed by December 3L. 1991.

 and 1ppropaisirsur

NEWHOUSE OPEN FORUM

Newhouse students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend an open forum to discuss the future of the Newhouse. School and the restructuring of the University. the forum will be held on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, at 7PM in HENDRICKS CHAPEL.

Phone for Info. 424-0363

the mation's#1Pink Floyd tribute band - beducen cover with sel idg

Local art display at Schine
The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in Octones.

The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room. Honor society seeks members

Phi Alpha Theta is sponsoring a pizza party for friends, members and thase interested in joining the history honor society.
The meeting will be held, on Sept. 25 at 6:30 p.m. in the second floor lounge of Maxwell Hall.

Members are urged to attend a meeting before the social at $5: 45$ in the same place to discuss plans for this year's activities

DONT BELIEVE THE HYPE

TAPPERS Movies  The Follywood Reporter reports

 the Top 10 movies last weekend as: 1.Freddy's Dead: The Firal Nightmare2. Late for Dinner
3. Dead Again
4.Livin' Large
5.Terminator 2 : Judgment Day 6.Doc Hollywood
7.The Commitments
8.Hot Shots!
9.Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves 10.The Doctor

Tr TV Shows

The A.C. Nielsen Co. reports the Top 10 television shows for the week ending Sept. 22 as:

1. Murphy Brown
2. Designing Women
3. Cheers
4. Major Dad
5. Roseanne
6. 60 Minutes
7. A Different World
8. The Cosby Show
9. Home Improvemen
10. Home Improvement
11. Evening Shade

Albums

Billboard reports the Top 10 pop albums for the week ending Sept. 22 as:

- Metallica/ Metallica

2. Unforgrettablef Natalie Cole
3. Roll the Bones' Rush
4. Luck of the Draw/ Bonnie Raitt
5. C.M.B./ Color Me Badd
6. Cooleyhighharmony/ Boyz II Men 7. Fire Insidel Bob Seeger
7. For Unlawful Carnal Knowledgel VanHalen
8. Time, Love and Tenderness/ Michael Bolton
9. Gonna Make You Sweat C & C Music Factory

[8] Singles  Billboard repork the Top 10 pop

 singles for the week ending Sept. 22 1. As: Adore Mi Amorel Color Me Badd 2. Good Vibrations/ Marky Mark & The Funky Bunch3. Motownphilly/ Boyz II Men
4. Motownphiny/ Boyz II Men 4. Things that Make You Go Hmmmm
../C & C Music Factory with Freedom Williams
5. The Promise of a New Day/ Paula Abdul
6. Everything I Do II Do It For You)/Bryan Adams
7. Time, Love and Tenderness/ Michael Bolton
8. Too Many Walls/ Cathy Dennis
9. Love of a Lifetime/ Firehouse
10. The Motown Song/ Rod Stewart

Books

The New York Times reports the Top 5 non-fiction books for the week ending Sept. 22 as:

1. Me: Stories of My Lifel Katherine Hepburn
2. Uh-Oh/ Robert Fulghum
3. Iron John/ Robert Bly
4. Parliament of Whores' P.J. O'Rourke 5. Fire in the Belly/ Sam Keen

Thursody wist  Atrinhirataty   debuts tomor rowinty wapory

PEOPLE ARE STRANGE

 NBC's Eerie, Indiana scores while it's hereEerie, Indiana has been called "Twin Peaks for kids" by critics.

That description alone is the kiss of ROB

OWEN

 REVIEW

Omri Katz stars in Eerie, Indiana as a young boy who tries to convince the Omri Katz stars in Eerie, Rndiana as aryous is the center of weirdness in this new fantasy-adventure series airing Sundays at 7:30 p.m. on NBC

Sajd, She Said).
While this Twilight Zone-like show centers on the adventures of two kids, the show's humor is geared much more toward adults. Kids will get a kick out of the bizarre, but adults will laugh at the parody.

Future episodes feature a missing hour, which is lost when daylight-saving time begins, a malfunctioning automatic teller machine that showers Simon with money and a hypnotizing school nurse.

Up against 60 Minutes, Eerie has little hope of surviving. And even if NBC does get a clue and moves it to a new night and time, it probably won't pull in a decent audience.
"Better weird than dead," Marshall Eerie in the pilot episode. Unfortunately "Eerie, Indiana" airs Sundays at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 3.

Welcome to ... 'The Machine'

By SCOTT MULLER

Not just any cover band is coming to Sutter's on Thursday night.
night. The Machine, America's premier Pink Floyd imitator, offers a little bit more.

Most tribute bands simply play the music of the act they are imitating. the look of their music source.
But the Machine is more than a tribute band, according to Sutter's co-manager Jack Harnel.
"Not only do they play Floyd's music perfectly" he said, "but they expand on the songs into something totally "but they Hamel described how they would play Floyd's "Money" and then segue into "I Shot the Sheriff" as an example of their musicianship.
"From that, they could go into 'Scarlet Begonias" by the Dead." he added.

The Machine's set consists of such popular Pink Floyd songs as "Comfortably Numb," "Run like Hell," "Wish You Were Here" and "Time."

Obscure Floyd

In addition, more obscure, epic-length songs are played from all of Floyd's alburns, from Meddle to The Wall.

Audience members and die-hard Floyd fanatics shouldn't be surprised to hear "Echoes" or the entire eight-part "Shine on You Crazy Diamond" during the show.
According to publicist Molly Mauch. The Machine has been together as a Pink Floyd show for about two years. Also, the band's popularity is increasing with every show.
"They have been playing about four to five nights a week recently," she said. Once the hand plays at a certain venue, more people tend to come and check the band out the next time they come around.

Mauch said the band's crowds average from 500 to 1,000 people, but the band drew a personal best of more than 5,000 fans in Agawam, Mass., this past July.
"They usually draw a big crowd at Sutter's," Mauch said. so anyone coming out Thursday night should be in good company.

According to an article that appeared in the Allentown Express, before becoming a Floyd act, The Machine was just an everyday cover band.

As they continued to play, band members, notably guitarist Joe Pascarell, realized they received the biggest guitarist doe Pascarell, realiz response from the Floyd songs.

The band got its start playing in bars around Spring Valley, N.Y., Mauch said. Currently, they have been touring much of the northeast United States, including Virginia Beach and a few stops in Massachusetts.
A four-piece machine
The Machine is a four-piece act consisting of Pascarell on vocals, Adam Price on bass, Todd Cohen on drums and, its newest member, Wes Nagy on keyboards.

Nagy (pronounced " $\mathrm{Naj}^{\prime}$ ") replaces former keyboardist and original member Sarah Gardener, who left the act to pursue other endeavors.

Fans will remember Gardener for her vocals on the band's ———Director of"The Cook, The Thief, His Wife and Her Lover."

TONIGHT AND TOMORROW WATSON THEATER-7,9:30 * your STUdent fee rated $x$

"After I plugged itin, everything clicked for me:

If you never thought anvehing that started with ISSM could be vasy to use an lfal Personal Sysien will change all that. With preloaded usar-frictally software like Microsoff* Windows- 3.0. just turn it on and voull be ready to work-polishing off term papers, moving tex and graphics with ther-lich of a mouse. Work can be-Fun. IBM offen a variety of Selected Acadenie Sohutions*-a range of I'S $/ 2^{*}$ and PSA" models to choose from. And with sperial studont prices and affordable loan payments, now and youll get a special Bonus Pack ${ }^{\dagger}$ worth over $\$ 1,000$ in savings on air travel plome calls. soft ware and more. You probobly didna expect that, eitlicr. We-II. you learn something new every day. Afoer all. isn't that what colleger is all about? Visit your campus outlet to find out how to makean IBMIMersonal System dich for you.

> FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT
> SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT $474-4879$

MACHINE

Continued from Page 9
version of "Great Gig in the Sky,* which is now no longer being performed, according to Mauch.

Nagy has previously performed with Bo Diddley and Gary U.S. Bonds, Mauch added.

One aspect that sets The Machine apart from other cover acts is their original material. Someday, Pascarell hopes The Someday, Pascarell mape it on the Machine will make it on the strength of their own material.
In this respect, the addition of Nagy, a seasoned musician. serves a dual purpose of replacing the former keyboardist and supplying expertise in songwriting, according to Mauch.
Member feels privileged
For now. Pascarell said, "It's a privilege to play great music and make a living.

Commenting on the band's popularity, Mauch said as long as there is a need to see the greats of rock-n-roll such as Led Zeppelin and Pink Floyd, bands stach as The Machine will have afuch as

Also, the band has been featured in The Amazing Pudding. a Pink Floyd in England.
"They called The Machine the icing on the cake." Mauch commented. Also. she said. Roger Waters, bassist for the origimal Floyd, is a subscriber to this periodical, so he must be aware the band exists.

Mauch also said the band hasn't met with any legal problems stemming from earning a living by performing another band's music.
"We've heard that Pink Floyd is very particular about things is very particular about things like this," Mauch said, "but we like this." Mauch said, "but we haven't heard anything from haven't h them yet." Tickets for the show are Tickets for the show are $$ 7$ for non-students and $$ 4$ for students with a student IO.
Showtime is scheduled as 10 p.m.

F.Y.I.

Day-care worker

training scheduled
The Onondaga County Child Care Council announces its fall session for training family daycare providers. The 10 -week session will run through Nov. 26. Topics include parent/provider communication. health and safety, operation and management, record-keeping and taxes, child development, abuse and chid development, abuse and maltreatment and children's malt play.
play.
The free training will be at Andrews Mernorial United Methodist Chureh in North Syracuse from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Free child care is available on the premises, and a certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.
The trairning, for new and experienced providers, will help fulfill the 15 -hour requirement mandated by the new Family Day-Care Registration System For further information and pre-tegistration, call 472-6919.
Catholic Charities trains volunteers
The fall session of Catholic Charities' Volunteers in Parish Service (V.I.P.S.) training program will begin today. Classes will be held each Tuesday until Nov. 5 from 9:30 a.tn. to $3: 30$ p.m.

The course, for parish outreach workers and human development volunteers, is open to velopment regardless of religious or all, regardiess of The program agency afnhiation. The program will cost $$ 40$. The first session will be at Catholic Charities, 1654 W . Onondaga St, Syracuse.

'Hoodoo'

Alison Moyet has a big mouth. She doesn't hesitate to use it, either. She grew up a punk rock kid in an area of England she calls "not conducive to kids," and now she sings the blues and now she sings the blues -but always with an edge,
If it were said that Al

If it were said that Alison KRISTIN $\begin{aligned} & \text { Moyet de- } \\ & \text { fies classifi- }\end{aligned}$ LIEB cation, it THIS ANN'T wouldbe beNO DISCO OO DISCO herself against it. But. like any true punk, she's got an answer for everything.

Her hometown was a place where young women were encouraged to marry a local and "have kiddies by 17."

Moyet railed against that ethic, however, turning to punk music, which allowed her to be "loud, dirty and uncomfortable."
Punk also let her be androgy which is a still a big part of Mo$\begin{array}{ll}\text { yet's } & \text { per- } \\ \text { sona. } \\ \text { "1 }\end{array}$ sona. "I want my sex to de irterevanc. I want my sexuality to be irrelevant," Moyet says.

Moyet believes her sexuality and her appearance are relevant in America, where her two solo alburns have had only limited success. "Working out quite a lot would be helpfut," shequips. "(England) is not so keen on suecess. England loves a runnerup." She claims if she were beautiful and was prolite about producing hit records, the press

Moyet believes ohe has Moyet belleves she has grown wise with age and says she now has more to offer than she did when she was 16 or 18 . And what she offers to women listeners and performers is some characteristically straightforward advice: "Find your space truly and realize your attractiveness or fuckability are not the only assets you have."

See DISCO Page 12

Aligon Moyet gays that her next album will be produced more quickly than her latest, 'Fioodoo.' AlisonMoyet's new release confronts male oppression

By KRISTIN LIEB

Editorial Editor
With the relcase of her third LP, Hoodoo Alison Moyet delivers a punchy, bitchy record of fernale empowernuent that confronts anyone who would oppress women.
In an interview Monday Moyet expressed her satisfac tion with Hoodon, her first effort in 4 years. Unlike her past two efforts. Moyet gase this album has true corvic; tian. It also succeeds due to its "dirtier and more organic": bend, she said.

Moyet, an admitted agoraphobe, called Hoodoo her most personal record, as she arranged the back-up vocals and wrote from the heart. The most important thing is soul music in the true sense of the word " she said. Moyet encapeulates the eosence of soul on songs like "Footsteps" where she addresses her lover "Don't let your footsteps fail me/You're gonra get sunk if you slip on the way/When I say the time is right/Gonma walk this nother out of sight."

Equally scathing is "Rise," a cut employing harmonica. a meaty double bass and drumis. Despite the music, the song is vocally drivenand encourages women's liberation from domestic slavery.

Moyet sings, "Baby lose that frying pan/You don't live to feed that man/Nothing's gained through gelf-denial Cos you weren't born to be servile" See MOVkT Page 14

Did you get closed out of classes this semester?

Did you have trouble getting a waiver?

Did you feel your registration date was unfair?

If you want to find out more about the registration process and how to change it, come to the Undergraduates for a Better Education meeting this week

Guest Speaker:
Ann Marie Collins, Associate Registrar
Wednesday, September 25th
6:30 pm
127 Schine
(downstairs)
Your student fee getting you classes!

TAKE THE $\boldsymbol{\Delta Y}$ PLUNGE!!!

The Jewish Student Newspaper

Introductory Meeting

Writers, Copy editors, Artists and Production staff needed

Wednesday, 25th September, 8 P.M. HiLLel Lounge, Henditicks Chapel

FILIPINA ORGANIZATION

MEMBERSHIP MEETING

THURSDAY
4-5:00 PM.
HALL of languages rodm 211
"ANG INYONG ESTUDYANTE PERA GUMAGAWA PARA SA INYO."
A.IS.5.U.

Rush exhibits variety on unique new album

The Canadian power music trio Rush has spent almost two decades crossing musical boundares -and succeeding.

The group succeeds again with its latest offering, Roll the Bones. From the release of their first STEVEN album in CHORUST $\quad 1974$ the CHORUST $\quad \begin{aligned} & \text { members o } \\ & \text { Rush. }\end{aligned}$ MUSIC REMIEN John Rustey (replaced Lifeson and
$\qquad$

Peart in 1975 ), made it a priority that musical integrity and purity would come before commercial exposure and hype.
On Roll the Bones, Rush has shown that the music's substance should come before the shown that the music's substance should come before the commercialism of much of today's rock/pop scene.
Rush, a band probably most noted for the classic rock staples noted for the classic rock staples "Tom Sawyer" and "Limelight" from the 1981 release Moving Pictures, has ventured into many areas throughout the rock mu-See RUSH Page 14 Pictures, has ventured into many areas throughout the rock mu-See RUSH Page 14 Pictures, has ventured into many areas throughout the rock mu-
See RUSH Page 14 — Ser RUSH Page 14
————

Macicies

Wacky Wednesday LADIES
DRINK FREE 1OPM-12PM all cans 125 pitchers 250 MILLER LITE & GENUINE DRAFT LIGHT GIVEAWAY "Out with the old. in with the cold"
Bring an old beer T-Shirt, get a brand new one.

W A 2SDY

The Syracuse University Amateur Radio Club
SUARC will be holding it's second meeting of 1991 in room 274. Link Hall of Enigineering. on Thursday. September 26. at 7:00 PM.
SUARC welcomes all students. faculty and staff, lleensed or not, of Syracuse U. and SUNY ESF. If there is a problem in attending. please contact Dan at 443-8054, or Matt at 443-7861.
your student fee at work:

GO FOR A GOVERNMENT INTERNSHIP IN ALBANY

If you're a junior or senior considering a career in law, public administration, public policy or any field, a NYS Assembly Internship is a great opportunity! You can earn credit and get experience with a PAID internhip next semester! For details and applications, come to the NYS ASSEMBLY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM INFORMATION SESSION hosted by Dr. Jeffrey Stonecash of the SU Political Science Department.

> THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 26 4:00 p.m.
> Community Internship Program
> 313 Huntington Hall (across from the Sheraton Inn)

1900-RUSHTKE Brontertoco Ever Mrute o ADuTS Onlí MEET LS @THETA, 306WALNUT SEPT. 23,24,26,30 & OCT. 2,4

Write for the D.O. Stop by 744 Ostrom Ave, or call 443-2127

RUSH

Continued from Page 13
sic spectrum over the years. With Roll the Bones, the group has melded different styles and musical influences to create a sound that is truly unique in the rock industry.

Classic and progressive rock
Roll the Bones combines styles

MOYET

Continued from Page 11
Both are songs that would lose all credibility if sung by a man. With her relentless, soulfueled attack, Moyet recalls Aretha Franklin's "Chain of Fools."
ranging from classic hard rock and progressive rock to modern funk. Examples of all these styles can be heard on the new alburn's title track.

The album fuses the clanging classic rock guitar of Lifeson, the dreamy and melodic keyboarding found in progressive rock played by Lee, who is also the lead singer, and harddriving funk beat supplied by

Of her feminist anthems, Moyet says: "My goal in life is not to please my man." She says she was never given an archetypal female role model - as a child, she worked on cars alongside her brothers. Since then, it's been advanced feminism, its Moyet's four-year hiatus yricist and drummer Peart.
Then there are songs such as "Hersey" and "Bravado" that display the emotional side of Rush.
Both songs reflect not only the group's feelings toward life in today's society, but they also display Rush's versatility and musical abilities as both songs have a melodramatic aïr. Nevertheless, they have also have a served her well, as her husky, self-assured voice has ripened with age and experience, as has her affinity for being a nastily effective lyricist

Moyet says she's made the albums she's wanted to make and if people like them, that's hard-driving message behind them.
In the album, Rush hints at gambling and its effects on human existence. This is the type of gambling that people have to take to succeed in life, even though circumstances may be against them.
"You Bet Your Life," "The Big Wheel" and the title track provide evidence of thegambling ## brilliant.

The dedication on her disc sleeve sums up the sarcasm and smug nature of the woman: "To loves and lovers for inspiration enough to dedicate this album to myself. This one's for you Alison, kiss, kiss, kiss ... mmrnm therne.
Rush has been on the cutting edge of musical wizardry for years, and with the release of Roll the Bones, the group has shown they will not let "Time Stand Still," and permit musical advances to pass them by.

This is quite an accomplishment for a band that has crossed the musical spectrum while avoiding commercialism.
thank you very much."
She is currently writing songs for an upcoming record. She says her new album won't take that long, and she plans to beginan American tour indanuary. She says she is "excited, not hampered by the fact haven't had any hits here."

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Education hot line

 establishedCounselors from the Education Information Center are of fering free counseling at local libraries on a one-time basis for up to 40 minutes. Interested people can update their resurress, talk about job hunting skills, practice interview techniques and research classes and courses. Call the Education Hotline at 488-4633 to make an appointment.

Artists sought for Art Invitational

Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a competition of donated art works. Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New York.
Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned of during the 10 th

Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Oct. 18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.

For more information. call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

Tutors sought by

Salvation Army

The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with Youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of academic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teenage pregnancy.

The tutors are needed Mon day, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Volunteers work in one-on-

然等 Rusf Chairs for their outstanding efforts during Rush. Congratulations on your great pledge classes!

Kelly Comfort $A X \Omega$ Stacey Hirschen AEФ Lori Bobroy Dawn Duchene AГS Lauren Goldberg A OII Darian Schlossberg Sara Mubaisen A $\Phi$ Toni Sfameni AES Carrie Sawyer X $\Omega$ Meggan Kamykowski $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ Jill Reed

Daryl Zang $\Delta \Gamma$ Nicola Shelton Jill Spitz $\triangle \Phi E$ Karen Stapelton ГФВ Karen Stapelton $I \Phi B$ Tiffanie Kirsch KA $\Theta$ Dori Golod KKI Ilene Kalish ПВ $\Phi$ Betsy Gordon $\Sigma \Delta T$ Elyse Bokser Donna King $\Sigma K$ Toni Tabora

A special thanks to Panbellenic Executives for making it all possible.Stephanie Bierlein - President Katby Suess - Co-Rush Amy SokolKimberly Metcalf - Px Coordinator

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN

CLYM N' CLYDE
BY RON NOBLE

LUNCHBOX TROUT

| WHAT'S IN THE Box, BuCKY? | A PET? |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |

GYPSY THE DOG

FEVER

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

HORSCHACH

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

LIFEDEATHCATDOG
BY REX

FRANK NEVER GOT TOO MANY SOBS.. HE THOUGHT THAT A LARGE SNOT WOULD LOOF GOOD ON HIS RESUME ..

Classifieds

NOTICE

Notices

Horwheck fiding ta misas from Syraciob Aesv. 315)696-8169.

RAISE $$ 500$. 51000 . 315000 : FOOLPROOF Furdornasing. For your tramoricy, sonorty, wam, metr required. An now tor the chanpe to win a cauboean cruse and thubus prizes! CALL 1800 -950-8472, ent 50
Whascotl Vdeo, Hanvard/Wasscoftr. New raleases, ree membershio with crede card The best in Universify.

FOR SALE
Autos
Toyots Corolla bs beaudul, mumatic, alr,

1986 Fort Tempo GL 2dr. New tres. Battery 8 Grakers. 91K, Grtat shipp. Swoet car 52300 or Best On or $637.9864,637.5151$.
Furd Fastiva 88 bow miles. sterec, pas saver, ike trand rems. onty s2995 Pory's $423-3000$.
 DoliE A Lnomatic. 86,000 mi, Ais, Fidi Fower. $$ 3000$. napot athis 422-3932.
Monde Cry 94 Seorty, red, 5 spoed. stereo thpe. MPG 36 city $/ 46 \mathrm{hmy}$. Only $\$ 3195$. Plonty's 423 For sale 1977 LTD2; nuns well, used daly, $\$ 250$. o bio 45i-1731
Niman Spritie da, outarandiry condiong 31,000 onty $$ 5100$. Prorys $423-3000$.
 3000

Real Estate

Equipment

OMUNS: 7-p PREMER RESONATOR winh tom stands custom ofperimel set with CUS Ton fosewooo Fintity hels external mour ting systern. Gorpeous! Cymbals also available.
Cal Lary $423-8354$.

Misc. For Sale

Tekefs: Rutpers vs. Syracuse 24 Gumt Stachiun, 50 Yard Line Lower Lover Tickets Avalable 1-800-654-TIXX
 1848
18

EMPLOYMENT
Part ume teacher for MCAT proparation. Musp have strong science and test uaking skitls. Syracuse area and some out of town assignments. Call Slanley H , Kaplain Education Certer 472 -3702.
EARN 8 LEARN
Leam managoment and marketing skilis resume buider
New York Ad Agency wants YOU to become a Sudent Consultant PART TIME-FLEXBEE HOURS
1-800-827-8440

Fraternitiots, soronities, campus organizations, highI mosivated indiviculals. Traval FFEE phes oam up to $$ 3000+$ seling SPGIMG BREAK trics to Cancun South Padre Bland Bahamos/Cruise Acapulco 1-300-250-9191.
Networking. Ahe concrapt of the 901s. Be associaved mith an ifternational corrpary who dealh win 700 Ken.

Seating Arractive Bes Ayinderis. No Experience 671-ge75 For Appointiveri.
Noedrad: Bay Higicts, Barmenders, Wal Stint, Dish and Go-Go Dancers. Cull $47-9192$ planse inaw messega.

Sial fooking for e hatatity turie studpere to work Sefurday or Sunday marning for a rapidyr nacovaring 53 -yesr-odd malo stroke victim. He noeds you to join tha wam of scuconss who are hotping him in his home near South Campus, He is a business executive. intelifgent, personable, casy to git along with, and is now Lo and walking Finct ou how great it feols to help someone hat timsell on the road to heb someone halp ilimsell on the road to recovery. This is ant #asy los slus oreat recovery. This is an #asy lot plus great pxperwice Cal ma. Mis to errange a porsonal nurnvery al 4452327.
 tas cock and dolvery pestions avaluble. Cont pertive wage tor bosh positions. Drivers must hav own veticio. Cortaze 474.5206 for more into.
Frea Travelli whth the lewesx sales o Lamaza. Cancun. Bahamas Plus eam Extrasss. Sun Splash Jours 1-800-426-7710.

WANTED
Childcare

Chidd care and moal propatation wo afterroons pe

Help Wanted

Modats- Gorts, Guys! mismational Hair Dexugn
Team coming to Syract mese. Frate haircurs, products. bct. 1 -600-333-4693.
Travel Sales Requeseminives. STS, tra teader in more information call Surderd Traval Services more information call surdar NY at $1800-645-4849$.

Free Travel. Cash, and Excaltent Businas: Experienca!! Openings mailatla for individuals o studant organization to promote the coantrys moss successyul Soning Erank
Programs $1-600327$-8013

HearWian Vacesions, the is tooking for bryot, per sonibile indivitult oo promote of Eursoean axin and Cartbean Sprina Erack ripe. Eam troe veca tiorss and big paychecke: hor more intormation call Grogory a $1-800-30 \mathrm{~s}$-WAVE.

Roommates
MOUSEMAE WANTEO: uo bedroon aparmert
 Euelict Ave. very chose to scrool 428-8318.

So, you have great ideas for DANCE MARATHON?

> Here's your chance to let us know! Become a member of the 1992 Dance Marathon Executive Committee.

The following positions are available:

Corporate (2)
Publicity
Advertising Finance/Budget
Security Location (2) Stage Manager Greek Couples (2)

Fundraising (2)
Programming
Special Events (2)
Catering (2)
Entertainment Puints & Records Referee Chairperson Independent Couples (2)

Submit letters of intent to the Marathon Mailbox in the Greek Council Office by October 3 rd. Questions? Call:

Steven Lemberger426-8767

Kristi Schwartz
442-9072

 Sisters and Plederes of KKG.

To Carla and lore in PI PHI - Irom Miceroy to

To FII共. the weak wes a biast the party was grand Pi Phi and Fiti and lats of wet sund! We did not come in firm, but we odd maka pape one. Hornecoming with you was nolern turi Thanks for overyting Lowe PI PHI
Dot end SamaX: Coryris on yout har stace Dot and Sanax: Corurts on your hat pate DPNE.
CHEERS' to the 1991 plectpe class of PI BETA Hil Wore so poythed tor all of your the bes
 To AEPI Especialty Gram, Exic and Fraskie-: from Sicipy Pearal Burter to our leaky prol hent's to Homecoming 91. Love. "Annette and the pledges Homecoming 91. Love, " and Sistars of Apla Phis

To SAMMy: we"t Presk ost why you givs
 Thatits for showning ous pleoges fand secersh a preat innal Love primi Psi-1. Thanks tor waternmorg in our now plocgens! You gurs rasy mow tow to trow a party. Lets do in apain rayy soom Love the Sistom and Preciges ot AEPRI

Vinne in lambda Cr: S must haw beon the now unk brciuse yent ke Hel was asosomal An yout.
ready... Love, the Setrers and Plodges of DA.
Lamba Chi: Homexaming '91 was incREDBLE Tho woud have trough end place overall and 13t Hif Tharks tor a prent weak Lovo, the Siesters and Pedpes of DPTiE.
Congrats to SigEp mand ADPi and TriDet and Psiu on you uwd pace Horsocomin win Lova the Shaters and Phodas at DPhE.
Elore and Dosise trays for a homecoming of front- prope proporionsi Tharks bor al your turd wort Lowt you PI PWI Sistors and Plociges.

Homporming Nex Your and to wo youll Low
To Tampry. Dacia, Catorina and Cincty. Tharks or coing the tirta yard and meking Hombcomino 31 tun Love yocr tirwsed ouf Homecorning Chisi. Anretre and the Smans and Plocopes of Apha Pr. RET. Horneconing was a foal esplastr. Under the perfert end to a dpati wook. Love the Sisters and Plodepes of AEPTi.
To the siciors af DPtiE corgrats for moting to htrd and ist and ad plica man n Momacomply the spirit

Beth in DPhiE: Somemnas an untupeced win is the sherasio of at You maly krow how wo kip

SERVICES

Students Loans. No income

Tonn and tom-Lremast avalishle.
ACNE RELIEF: INFORMATION THAI WILL CHANGE YOUR LFE. PRONEN EFFECTVE. SEND 53.00 TO SKDH CARE CEN
WASH NGTON, NLBANY, NY 122OG.
 Coul 1 wil petirt anyting on your derim Cortrat Peal 882804.

 Professor Berman 474-0024
Fate marme Tripun toos in ary home con Mastane, an extantie mecrotary with 15 ym

JOSEPH

Continued from Page 20
City (Fla) High School, said Joseph made a smart choice in choosing SU.
"He was smart enough to select a school that's doing things that can utilize his abilities.' Frazier said. "The university itself (did) a good job at finding kids that will fit into their program and do things they program need to do.
*It was a perfect marriage With both people doing the With both people doing the intelligent thing.

Joseph had 47 tackles, including 35 solo, and three pass breakups his freshman year.
"I didn't put any pressure on myself," Joseph said. "I didn't think I was under pressure. Basically, last year I was trying to fit in. (The other defensive backs) helped along a lot."

Joseph credits co-captain Tim Sandquist with helping him adjust last season.
"He made me feel like I was a part (of the team)," Joseph said. "It wasn't like I was just the young guy. I was Dwayne."

Sandquist said Joseph's level of play didn't indicate he was a freshman.
"I was surprised the first couple of games," Sandquist said. "Then we just settled in and it wasn't like he was a freshman out on the field. He's just another ballplayer, just like everybody else."

Being a young player surrounded by experienced players, you might think Joseph would be a favorite target for opposing offenses.
Joseph, however, said he doesn't think the opposition singles him out.
"At this level, I don't think anyone goes out and picks on one person." Joseph said "I guess I happened to be in the guess 1 happened to be in the ball." Where teams throw the Joseph broke his right hand in the pre-season and played the first two garnes with a cast. He credits SU trainer Don Lowe with speeding the recovery.

Joseph said the injury also had a positive effect: it made him concentrate more.
Orange defensive backs coach Phil Elmassian said Joseph brought many of the intaniribles with him to Syracuse, but has since expanded on his skills.
"He's a great kid," Elmassian said. "He's a lot of fun to coach. He's really improved tremendously as far as our expectations. He has a lot of ability. I think he really just loves the bame."
"Great players have great instincts. great work habits and great desires," Frazier said. "I think Dwayne possesses all these qualities. He doesn't mind rolling up his sleeves and going to work."

LUNCH AND LEARN

Prof. Donna Arzt:

"Human Rights in Eastern Europe: An Eyewitness Report from Lithuania"

Wednesday, 25th September. 12:00 P.M. Hillel Lounge, Hendrieks Chapei

Retired Rear Admiral Larry Burkhardt

Larry will be sharing about his success in the military, his position at Niagara Mohawk, and how, although he achieved success, only his relationship with Jesus Christ gave him true fulfilment in life.

Larry is currently the Chairman of the Nuclear Oversight Committee of the Board of Directors of Niagara Mohawk.

- Cormmanded a nuclear submarine, a submarine squadron (about 12 submarines), 2 a submarine-group (all subs on West Coast.)
- November 1988 to November 1990 Executive Vice President of Ni Mo Nuclear Operations.
- Was Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel in Washington.

Wednesday, September 25, 8:00 PM Hall of Languages, Room 214

Sponsored by

Nabisco
Chef American Ritz Crackers

reg. $3.09
sale $$ 2.99$

Micro Sandwiches ass't flavors
reg. $2.55 sale
$$ 2.29$

Frito Lay
Chips ass't flavors
reg. $1.39
sale $$ 1.09$

The University Bookstore SCHINE STUDENT CENTER

Mon. - Fri. 8:30-6:00, Sat. 10:00-5:00
Mount Olympus, Goldstein, Lawrinson, Brewster/Boland Mon. - Thurs. 12:00-8:30, Fri. - Sun. 12:00-5:00

Unbeaten streak ends for Syracuse

Orange not judging Niagara

Syracuse University soccer coach Dean Foti made it clear at the beginning of the season that he didn't want people to judge the Orangemen after the team's first six games.

The schedule included two Top- 10 teams on the road, two Big East games in traditionally Big East games in traditionally tough places to play, and two home games against teams with career winning records over the Orangemen.

Syracuse came out of those six games with a $3-3$ record.

Now, Foti says the Orangemen lived up to the challenge of the tough stretch.

We went through the first six games, four of them being on the road, and all four of those places were very, very difficult places to come away with wins," Foti said. "I'm happy with where we stand right now. And I'm happy with the way the team is playing.
The Orangemen will try to continue getting positive results Wednesday night against Niagara University, at $7: 30$, in the Carrier Dome
Niagara, $0-4$, is the first of four straight home games for SU.
Last season, the Orangemen crushed the Purple Eagles 7-1. This season, Niagara has been outscored 20-3.
Foti said the Orangemen must not take Niagara too lightly. is or mow ter what their record to play the way we know how," Foti said. "We still have to play to our potential. We're not that good that we can look past an opponent."

Foti said that the Niagara game should be a building block for the rest of the season
"Whether the opponent. you play is better or worse, it doesn't. make a difference," Foti said. "If we go out and play to our potential good things would happen.
"That's how you ensure that at the end of the season, you're gaing to be a good team. If you can learn from every game, and build on that, then you come out a lot better at the end of the season."
dance concert will be held on Sept. 28 at 4 p.m. in Room 211 of the Women's Building
Auditions will consist of a class and phraseworis of the repertory.
The concert will be given by Syracuse Dance And Other Works Theater, a performing ensemble in residence at the Department of Health and Physical Education.
For more information, call Reinaldo A. De Palmer at 4439699.

Library offers

free tours
Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly through Nov. 19.
The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated liorary
For more information, call 443-1943.
Lesbian brunch to be held
The Lesbian Agenda Discussion Group is sponsoring a lesbian pot luck brunch at the Women's Information Center, 601 Allen St., on Sept. 29 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m
Guests are asked to bring dish town place settings and a dish to pass.

November

RAR E RESTAURANT - 505 WESTCOTT ST. - A71-1143

10¢ WINGS

(6-11PM)

$\mathbf{$ 1 . 2 5}$ OFF

ALL PITCHERS (8-CLOSE)

It's more than just

 a badge and a card

It's fraternity for life. 205 Walnut Place

Crystal Bassett Emily Blitman Stacie Boeniger Barfara Cappabianco Amy Chato Allison Colgan Nikki DiNando Autora Fertaro Susanne Ferszt Mara Goldfarb Kista Hartman Jennifer Jachym Erica Jofinson Johanna Kenney Mefanie Kenty

Debora LeBlanc Allson Leitman Cathy Lof

> Cyntfia Lomg Lenora Maccario Nancy MacDonald

Jody Masciangelo Carrie McCullough Kelly Merrick

Jen Nycz
 Jennifer Perrymore Carole Podell Laurie $P_{\text {yatt }}$ Amy Rauchle Theresa Sgroi Laura Sumner Melissa Schwartzenberger Julia Tizzano Josie Torielli Katie Tully Lisa Vernick Tara Warner Stacy White

 Congratulations 1991 Alpha Phi Pledge Class

Sports

Deion should stay out of

 Braves' raceDeion Sanders announced yesterday, defiantly, that he will rejoin the Atlanta Braves for the last week of the season.
Sanders said what he does in his spare time is, "my business," as far as his football contract with the Atlanta Falcons goes.
Well, gee, start waving those Tomahawks, Atlanta, because Deion is coming back!

DAVE BUSCEMA SPORTS OPINION

Sanders said he is returning to aid the Braves in their pennant run.
Sanders played for the Braves until July 31, and hit a monstrous 193 with four home runs and 13 RBI's. Now if those numbers aren't a major factor in the Braves pennant chase, I don't know what is.
Deion, Marge Schott's dog dying had a bigger influence on the pennant race than you did.

Deion, if you really want to help the Braves, maybe you should just stick to punt returns and interceptions.

Granted, with the suspension of Otis Nixon, and Sanders' speed, the Braves could utilize the outfielder in a limited role.

It's this, 'I'm coming along with the calvary,' attitude Sanders has that annoys me.

The Braves are now $11 / 2$ games behind the Dodgers with 12 games to play. The team should be concentrating on maintaining consistency through the stretch run, not embracing the return of a marginal, at best, player.

Atlanta has competed for its first divisional title since 1983 for many reasons. None of them have anything to do with the neon publicity hound.

To list a few reasons: Terry Pendleton, Ron Gant, Dave Justice, Nixon, the pitching staff, including: Tom Glavine, Steve Avery and Charlie Leibrandt, manager Bobby Cox, the tremendous resurgence in fan support

Well, you get the idea.
Sanders, once again, is trying to steal a piece of a spotlight he doesn't deserve. Maybe I'm wrong, maybe he really thinks he can make a contribution to the Braves and is simply going to help them out of good sportsmanship and teamwork

Sanders' baseball career has been nothing but a way of seeking additional attention from the beginning anyway.

Sanders started with the New York Yankees, and was signed to a ridiculous amount of money for a minor leaguer. This is not surprising, however, because that was during the George Steinbrenner years. Low talent, high profile players were a trademark of the owner's era.

When Steinbrenner was ousted from the Yankees, so was Sanders. Unfortunately for the baseball world, he was picked up by the Braves.
Sure, he was the only man to hit a homer and score a touchdown in the same week, but what does that prove? Nothing, except he has extremely fortunate timing. He just doesn't belong in two sports.

Bo knows wannabes.
Deion, back off and leave the Braves alone to capture their own title.

Syracuse finishes second

Syracuse University tennis player Sharie Liberatore, shown here in action earlier this season, was runner-up in the second flight singles at this year's SUnity Classic Tennis Tournament. The tourney was held last weekend at the Skytop tennis courts.
Joseph a hit right from start

BY JOSH BARNETT
Staff Writer
Syracuse University sophomore cornerback Dwayne Joseph made an impact on collegiate wide receivers before he even played a down.

The trouble was they were on his own team.

Syracuse University's Dwayne Joseph blocks a field goal attempt in last year's 28 -24 loss to Tulane University. Joseph leads the Orangemen with three interceptions this season. Orangeman last year, Joseph was able to hold SU receiver Shelby Hill and former wideout Rob Carpenter on the line and disrupt their routes. Joseph used a bump-and-run technique he learned in high school
"I guess I was just having a good day that day," Joseph said. "Shelby and Rob,

In one of his first practices as an especially Rob Carpenter are great receivers."
Several of the coaches thought Joseph was holding the receivers, but the film showed he wasn't.
"Most receivers, like our receivers, are faster than me," Joseph said. "I got to have the edge some way. I learned this technique from my high school coach.
"It's a bump-and-rin technique, but I can't tell you (about it), I don't want anybody else to do it."

Once Joseph played in his first game, he channeled his skills toward the opposition.

As one of only four SU freshrnen not to be redshirted, Joseph started the final nine games last year.

This season Joseph has gotten off to a quick start. He has had an interception in each of SU's first three games to go along with 14 tackles, including nine solo.

His first career interception came this season with 27 seconds left in the first half of the Vanderbilt game. It set up an SU score which changed the momentum of the game.
"I was very excited," Joseph said. "I'm going to remember that forever because it was like, 'Finally I got an interception in a college football grame.' I saw the ball and I just ran for it. Luckily, I got it."
When Joseph came to Syracuse he was able to jump right into the Orangemen's defensive scheme because of similarities between his high school defense and the SU defense.
Walt Frazier, Joseph's conch at Carol See 1OSEPH Page 17

Tome Dein restricts student vote

By STEVE DALY
Staff Wrider
A student voter registration drive undertaken ty several Syiracuae University groups may still fall short due to what some call registration red tape.

The New York Public Interest Re search Group (NYPIRG), the Student Governmeint A seociationnathathe Gradu ate Student Organization are work ing to register SU, students, deapite Onondaga County's extensive registration form.
Students who wish to vote are likely to be denied registration by the Onondaga County Board of Elections, the administrative body that determines county residency for registra-

See Graph page 3.

The questionntiaire

Besides questions that determine identity the form includes questions that ask students' residenice during the summer, parents' permanent residence, source of income, and state of dence, source of income, an
State electionisum gives individua boands of election the authority" to determine whiat factors constituite residency.
The county has decided to apply harsher criteria by making their own interpretation of the law." Merli said.
Not so, said Helen Kiggins, Onondaga County Board of Elections See VOTE Page 3

White lightning woodsman

Bob Wood, also known as "Woody," hacks away in the cross cut competition as fellow woodsman Jay Westfall encourages him during their Saturday meet in Jordan. See Images page 11

GSO assists graduate students

graduates doing fellowship work, according to Bruce Kirby, GSO comptroller. While teaching assistants are eligible for coverage because they have employment benefits, those doing fellowships are not and run into an enormous expense, he said.

All full-time graduate students are eligible to serve on campus-wide committees, fill seats on the Graduate Senate or run for an executive office, Kirby said.

We'll find something for them'
"If they're interested in participating, well find something for them to do," he said. He described his job as "basically said. He described his job as Kirby's primary duty is maintaining a record of finances. GSO funds groups including the Black Graduate Student Organization, The Daily Orange, the Gay, Lesbian, Bi-sexual Student Association, Alteracts, Student Legal Services, Campus Conveniences and the Campus Mediation Center.

Rupprecht said he serves on the boards of several of these organizations, and part of his duty includes delegating authority to GSO members involved with budget changes.
"If a board member is interested in attending a group meeting, and I don't have time to go that week. I can send him have time to go that week, I can send or her in my place," Rupprecht said. her in my place, Rupprecht said. Rupprecht also aerves as a link between the graduate students and the administration.

Robert Udich is the Senate representative to the executive committee, the GSO's five-member board of officers. Udich said he can make motions in the been a number of calls in the fraternity and sorority area," Thompson said.
A student asked why police closed several fraternity and sorority parties during the same night.
"That weekend, 40 guests of the University Sheraton checked out because of the loud noise," Thompson said. "We also received another 60 complaints of noise violations."

Thompson said Syracuse University must comply with the city's noise ordinances.
The city is examining the possibility of a tougher ordinance, he said.

Activity based on complaints
"There are no new laws or policies," he said. "The increased activity is based on complaints.
'If we don't get a complaint, we won't end someone's fun," he said. "The perception that we are doing more on the hill is because of more complaints.
"It's not that we are going out looking for parties to shut down," he said
"We will go if we receive a call, if SU Security can't handle it or if SU Security doesn't handle it," he said

Thompson said there are degrees of noise that residents have to keep, and police do not necessarily need to issue a warning to close a party.
Students questioned why police are quick to shut down parties.
"We would rather take care of a problem with three to five officers before it gets out of hand and takes 10 officers," it gets out
he said.
"If we don't address a noise violation, it could lead to assaults, stabbings or shootings." he said.
"Officers can go in and ask people to leave and can even take the stereo, but they cannot go through your belongings," he said.
"Caterers have called us and said they want us to end parties if things get out of control," Thompson said. "They are afraid of losing their catering license.

More people, more police

He said action officers take regarding a noise violation depends on the time of evening, the number of complaints, the number of people involved and the number of officers in the area.
The arrest of four underage drinkers at a bar several weeks ago also received student criticism.
"We do Alcohol Beverage Control checks at the bars because we have a mixed group that ends up in the bars," he said.
"This happens in all bars," he said "This is not unique.
"Officers go to bars from the East Side
See CLASS Page $\quad$ a

Inside

ClassifiedComics2021
Editorial12,13
images9
.24
Science24
.2
WeatherWorking woodsmen
They're lumberjacks and they're OK. Since the 1920 s, this club atOK. Since the $1920 s$, this club at the SUNY-ESF has maintainedthe SUNY-ESF has maintainedthe traditions of woods-men. Whereelse can you hurl an axe withoutgetting arrested?

World

Troops, missiles sent to Saudi Arabia
The United States deployed Tuesciay and Wednesday about 100 Patriot antimissile missiles and 1,300 soldiers to Saudi Arabia.

President Bush said although there have not been any U.S. troop movernents, he is not ruling out the possibility of military force.
Saudi oficials said they Welcome the U.S. shipment of Patriot anti-ballistic missiles.
Gen. Colin Powell. chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Stalf, said that if Bush decided to order air strikes against Mraq nuclear facilities, the U.S. military could not guarantee that every bit of Saddam Hussein's nuclear materials could be destroyed.
But Powell said he is "reasomably confident" that strikes could destroy Iraq's nuclear program.

El Salvador takes

steps to end civil war

The end of an 11-year-old civil war in El Salvador is near

The rightist government agreed to allow the leftist guerrillas to join a new police force distinct from the military.
The agreement, reached after eight days of IN.N.mediated negotiations, represents a compromise for both sides.

The rebels had demanded incorporation into the armed forees as a way to ensure their gafety and that of their ensure their safety and that of their reforming the country's violence-plagued security forces, which was rejected by the security force

Nation

Study reveals women more prome to ADDS
Heterosexual men infected with the AIDS virus are at least 17.5 times more likely to transmit the infection to women during sex than vice verta, according to a study published Wednesday.

Researchers who conducted the study tested 72 male partners of infected women and 307 fermale partners of infected men to determine the rates of HV tranamisaion between heterosexual couples.

The imbalance in transmission rates seems to result from the physical differences between the sextes.

Scientists believe the proportion of heterosexually transmitted ADDS cases will double in the next decade.

Hazardous ice floe

loose in Arctic Ocean

An ice floe carrying an abandoned Soviet research station and hazardous chemicals is lost somewhere north of Alaska.
The ishand of ice broke loose from the Soviet coast July 24, according to the U.S. Const Guard. On Sept. 2, it was reported in the Arctic Ocean 56 miles from Barrow, the nation's northermmost city.

Federal officials said the Soviets have promised to remove the chemicals and the buildings from the floe once it is found. But with bad weather making it difficult to locate the foe by satellite or airplane, finding it could take some airpla time.

Campuses

Sixty-nine colleges
cost over $20,000
Sixty-nine U.S. campuses now cost more than $$ 20,000$ a year for tuition. room and board, up from 39 last year, according to the College Board and USA Today.
The highest priced college education is Vermont's Bennington College at $$ 23,200$.
"This is not a race we attempt to win," said David Scribner, a Bennington spokesman. "Our college is largely tuitiondriven. We have a comparatively small endowment," he said.

The remainder of the top five are Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N.Y. at $$ 23,000$; Barnard College, part of New York's Columbia University, at $$ 22,774$; Bard College. $$ 22,675$; and Boston University at $$ 22,510$.

Syracuse University was not on the list

Diversity courses

required for freshmen
Bowling Green University in Ohio now requires all freshmen to take courses in cultural diversity.

More than 20 courses from different departments have been approved to meet the "Cultural Diversity in the United States" requirement, according to Ernest Champion, cultural diversity committee chairman.
"We can only hope, at least. that it will lead to a better understanding between the variety of cultures in the United States and, most importantly open windows to alternative lifestyles he said.

$\Psi Y$  PSI Lestilon

YY 101 COLLEGE PLACE YY

AT THE
BELL $\quad \begin{aligned} & \text { KILLIANS DRAFTS } 2 \text { FOR } 1 \\ & \text { MOST DOUBLES...... } $ 1.50 \\ & \\ & \text { WHITE ZN } \\ & \text { PREMIUM DOUBBLES } $ 1.00\end{aligned}$
GREEK INVITATION DATES AVALLABLE, CALL 472-4721 ASK FOR YUL

State

Motorman pleads not guilty to murder charge The subway motorman of a New YorkCity subway train that crashed last month, killing five people, pleaded innocent to murder charges Tuesday.

Robert Ray, 38, allegedly was drunk when the train derailed on Aug. 28 at Union Square.
Ray was accused of showing a depraved indifference to life while recklessly driving the southbound train.

Acting State Supreme Court Justice Brenda Soloff rejected a bail request by Ray's lawyer, Michael Parson, who told the judge that Ray was an uptanding citizen and father and had never even had so much as a parking ticket.

Mayor orders probe of NYC hospital

Mayor David N. Dinkins ordered a probe of Kings County Hospital in New York City after reports that doctors did not find a second stab wound in a Jewish man who was killed in the beginning of last month's Crown Keights riots.

According to state and city reports, doctors were trying to stop bleeding from a stab wound in Yankel Rosenbaum's hest.
Doctors failed, however, to find a second stab wound until 45 minutes after Rosenbaum was taken to the hospiAmbulance attendants had noted the wound on their report.

WEATHER

S.O.S.

As Hurricane Jimena, whipa into shape near Acapulco, the Syracuse rain man is hitting us with some showers of his own. Expect mostly cloudy skies with a 30 percent chance of showers throughout the day. Lows will throughout in the 60 and the winds will be in the 60 and the winds will be from the southwest at 10 to 20 mph. Tonight, temperatures will drop as brisk winds movein. Friday
The weekend won't get off to a great start with these partly cloudy skies, chance of showers and highs near 50. And you thougit it was always nice when high school senors came to visit.

Weekend

Saturday through Monday will be partly sunny. Yes, that's right, sun! But, temperatures will be quite cool and overnight lows could get down into the 30 s with highs in the mid 50 s .

Temperatures across the country
Atlanta
Chicago
Chicago
Dallas
Los Angeles
Miami
New York.
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C
Thaday'nguentrity
SifverSpring. Mat.

The Daily Orange

The Denly Orange is Syrecues Univerwity's independent stadent-run newneper publiahed Monday throuph Fridey.

The newwpaper it ditributed fine on the Byrmeres Univerwity and SUNY Envirommental Ecience and Porwetry enmprosen

The editors are mvaitable wfer 3 p.mi Sundimy through Thursday.

Newn: 443-2127 Pditorial: 443-2128 Lifentylat 443-2128 8portes 4as-2903 Bumimentha vartiding 443-2914 GMon-Fi $8: 50$ anm - $4 \geqslant 30$ prm-)

VOTE

Continued from Page 1
deputy commissioner.
We do not function as policy setters. We are administrators," she said.
"We are just following the law," ghe said. "If it changes we will be more than willing to go along with it."

Kiggins said the board uses the form to determine where students consider their main residence to be.
"College students can't have it both ways," she said. "If they pay taxes or are still dependent on their parents in one location, then they can't consider themselves a resident of an alternate selves a ration."

One of four counties

Onondaga County is one of four counties in the state that requires an additional question naire for students.
Taking the time to complete the form serves as a deterrent. Merli said.
"We register many students on their way to class or in between classes," he said.
"Everybody has time to take 30 seconds to fill out the registration card, but there are not many students who have the time to spend five minutes filling out the extra questionnaire," ing out the
he said.

Political Science Professor Jeffrey M. Stonecash offered a different possibility.
"It is possible that everybody is scared that students will register in great numbers and it would have a big impact on local elections," he said.
"The county doesn't want students to be an effective political voice," Merli said. Surveys conducted by the Marist Institute for Public Opinion for the period of Jan 1990 -to Feb. 1991 found of fan. 1he to York voted almosf identically York voted amost ithentically as the saí
Stonecash said that voting was more relaxed several years ago.

He "relentlessly speculates"

VOTING ININDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACIES OF ENTIRE ELIGIBLE ELECTORATE

may abolish the questionnaire several sources said.

Szczesniak could not be reached for comment.

Until then, the only thing student groups can do is constudent groups can do is conand hope they meet with some success at the Board of Elections, Merli said.
"We nre just trying to get people to vote - to give them the opportunty to practice good citi zenship, and because it's a fundamental democratic right," Merli said.
"Students are citizens," he added. "Money is given to Onondaga County based on their count in the census
"Political representation is apportioned based on that, yet students aren't being given a political voice," he said.

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF RUSHING A FRATERNITY...

You'd better realize that joining a Fraternity is nothing more than partying and 'hanging out with the dudes.' It's a weekend experience.

Blah. Blah blah blah bung bung blah zing fling biah rubarb blah baloney blah blah blah blah boom shaka laka boom blah.

В $\Theta \Pi$ blah blah beast blah blah chicken dinner blah bung bung blah greek.

Blah blah shovel blah blah rio blah blah blah blah sis boom bah blah blam

UPTOWNE ELECTROLYSIS  - complimentary consultation  - private & personalized seroice  - convenient to campus

450 HAWLEY AVE
(cormer N.Crouse)

DON'T BELIEVE THE HYPE

Due to renovations the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha will be conducting fall rush at 743 Comstock Ave, the Kappa Kappa Gamma house (across from the Sci-Tech Building).

FALL 1991 RUSH DATES
Sept 23 - Surf and Turf Night
Sept 24 - Choose your Fantosy Night sept 26 - Make Your Hose Hurn Night Sept 30 - Meet the 3ra Biggest Brother Night Oct 1 - Horse Night Oct 2 -Rude Night
RUSH PIKE

Elderly ailments addressed

By LAKSHMI SINGH

Staff Writer
People can learn about health issues this fall by attending free Healthtalk sessions, according to Lisa Lambiase, community services representative for Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital.
The health lectures will focus on issues concerning the elderly, Lambiase said.
"(Healthtalks) is definitely a commitment to the community," she said.
The hospital will sponsor a two-week program scheduled for fall and spring, Lambiase said.
The presentations will touch on cancer, kidney disease and on cancer, kidney disease and eeping disorders, she said. great concern to much of the public, Lambiase said space is limited, and pre-registration is a good idea
"Enrollment for Healthtalks is limited," she said. "It has been a popular program for the last few years."

Persons who do not preregister may still be able to attend the sessions, Lambiase said.

Occasionally we're booked because the rooms have a limited capacity," she said. "However...in the past we've repeated the presentations to accommodate people who were placed on the waiting list," she said.

To interest everyone
Lambiase said she realizes not all topics will be of interest to everyone.
"Last year we focused on adolescents," said Bob Allen, senior marketing communication associate at the hospital "We probably did about 10 to 15 presentations on chemical dependency."

Allen said the hospital's antidrug programs last year reached many students.
"The programs have a good possibility of returning this year," he said.

But if the programs were to return in the spring. Allen said it would be a promotion of health services at CIMH. So far the hospital has not scheduled any programs for the spring.

CIMH began Healthtalks in 1984, prior to the American Hospital Association recommendation that all hospitals encourage more community service programs, Lambiase said.
Before the Healthtalk sessions began, the hospital founded the Speakers Bureau, a group of health care professionals who gave community talks, Labiase said.

If a community organization wants a speaker to discuss a health topic, (they could) call the bureau and ask for a health care professional," Lambiase said. "It's designed for nonprofit organizations (and) it's free."

Lambiase said she encourages students to inquire about speakers presented on campus, whether in classes or dorms.

Students interested in other health programs such as CPR and baby-sitting training may call HealthMatch at CIMH during the weekdays between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., Lambiase said The first Healthtalk presenThe first Healthtalk presentation will be Monday, Oct. 14, tation will be Monday, Oct. 14, in Community Room 208 of the in Community Room 208 o
Marley Education Center.
All other sessions, which run rom $7: 30$ to $8: 30$ p.m., will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., will be on Wednesdays in Suite 240 at Clay Medical Center in Liverpooi.

F.Y.I.

Dance auditions

to be held

 Auditions for a Novemberdance concert will be held on dance concert will be held on Saturday at 4 p.m. in Room 211 Saturday at 4 p.m. in Roo of the Women's Building-fte Women's Buildingtclass and phrasework of the repertory.
The concert will be given' by Syracuse Dance And Other Work's Theater, a performing ensemble in residence at the Department of Heaith and Physical Education.
For more information, call Reinaldo A. De Palmer at 443 9699.

Library offers
free tours
Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19
The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and serv ices. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.
For more information, call 443-1943.
Racism conference set for Drumlins

A conference on religion and racism will be held at Drumlins on Sunday, Oct. 27 and Monday, Oct. 28.

Speakers include Professor Bruce Hare of Syracuse University's Department of African American Studies and Sister Alethea Connolly, former director of the Urban Ministry Board of Syracuse.
For more information, call 476-2001.

Nomen's Club

holds book sale
The Syracuse University Women's Club will hold a fall book sale Friday, Oct. 4, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 5, from 10 a.m, to 5 p.m. at Erwin Methodist Church (corner of Euclid Avenue and Westcott Street).

If you have books to donate, please call 449-3617 or 4768632 before Oct. 2. All proceeds go to the SU Women's Club Scholarship Fund.

Editorial

Safe roads saving lives

If drunk driving offenders do not lose their lives on the highways, they will, at least, lose their weapons.
Onondaga County has proposed a law designed to impound cars owned by DWI offenders after the person's license has been revoked, taking drunk drivers off the road and sitting them down on the curb.

Onondaga is the first upstate county in New York to develop and implement the law. Its strict nature and consequences show the county's sincere interest in maintaining safe conditions on the local roads around Syracuse.

Seventy people die each day*in the United States alone from drunk drivers. Public service announcements remind the public every day of the horrors associated with drunk driving. The Daily Orange publishes advertisements discouraging people from drinking and driving, saying "friends don't let friends drive drunk." And awareness groups, like Students Against Drunk Driving, are in existence to increase knowledge about the problem around this campus and across the nation.

It seems inconceivable, when considering the number of national awareness campaigns and the local efforts taking place, that accidents involving drunk drivers still take place.

But the fact is they do, which makes laws like this necessary.

If national campaigns are unsuccessful, then taking the issue to a local level may be the answer. Onondaga County should be applauded for its efforts to end drunk driving, no matter how drastic.

LETTERS

Make peace a lasting condition

To the editor:

I wish to say something in reply to Jeremy Marin's letter reply to Jeremy Marin's that appeared in The Daily that appeared in The Daing Orange on Friday. Sept. 20.

Yrange on Friday, Sept. 20.
Yes, I do find it necessary to bring to the attention of the public what happened in the Sabra and Sthantila camps nine years ago because of two major reasons.

The first is that the massacres that took place are not part of "old wars" (defenseless people can hardly be viewed as being a party in a war), nor are they mere "acts of aggression" in terms of the scale on which they were conducted and the goals that were to be achieved.

The second reason is that the timing of the letter the timing of the le coincided with the remembrance day of the massacres, andevery individual society/nation/group etc., has the right to remember the event in the way he/she finds fit (within accepted standards) My way was to write a letter to the DO.
One more thing: there is a big difference between "looking toward war" (as Jeremy Marin put it) on the one hand, and critically lookinc at the actions of the Israeli sovernment on the other. I dislike the fact that someone is attributing to me things I did not say, nor methings I aid
We all want peace, especially those of us who lived in the Middle East and who went through its ups and downs And the more we critically consider and evaluate the actions (past and present) of those participating in the peace process, the more lasting the peace will be.

Raja Halwani
Arab Student Association

Blame SGA for poor turnout

To the editor:
This letter was written in response to the editorial "Vote or remain silent" that appeared in The Daily Orange on Friday, Sept 20.

Iran for Assembly for the Student Government Association. As part of this process. I was instructed to turn in a paper with the required 30 signatures last Friday (which I did). I then waited to hear from SGA regarding the next step. Inld be some eort of atter would be some sort of attempt to campaign, or at least give the voting public an idea of the voting public an idea of who was running for office. However, by Tuesday night, still had not been contacted. so I intended to speak with the SGA myselfon Wednesday to see what was up.

Before I could do so, a student down my hatlinformed me that she had voted for me Tuesday afternoon. I actually asked her, "For what?" It never occurred to me that SGA could possibly be so disorganized as to hold an election of which the candidates were not even aware.

The following day, Wednesday. I received a phone call from SGA informing me that elections would be held again on Thursday due to poor voter turnout. I told the woman on the phone that. I hadn't been made aware of the first election, and how could they possibly expect students to vote when they don't know who they're voting for? She told me to ask someone else. me thask sorneone else.
The editorial requests that students "elect motivated. students "elect rnotivated. committed people" and states that "qualified people should be involved in this process." On what information are voters supposed to base their judgment? Is one expected to discern which candidate is qualified by the spelling of their last name on the ballot? That is surely the first time the overwhelming majority of voters even know who the candidates are
The editorial further laments poor voter tarnout. I was in the election and had yet to vote when I wrote this editorial. I, when I wrote this letter, had never once seen a place to do so, even on the day I was aware of the elections. The elections are so poorly publicized, or non-publicized, that it is no wonder no one votes.
"Vote or else live with the consequences and keep your mouth closed. You have only yourself to blame." No. students have the Student Government Association itself to blame for the most to blame for the most disorganized, poorly executed disorganized, poorly executed eltection I have ever witnessed. Incidentally, it'slucky I read the editorial or I would have had no idea I was running again this week.

Mariah Morgan Bradford

Yo the editor:
A lot of people aren't aware of all the organizations on this campus. One of them that campus. One of aserves special attention is Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD)

The Syracuse University chapter started in the fall of 1988 when Denise Fallener, a rnember of Kappa Kappa Gamma, died in a drunk driving accident.

SADD tries to increase the SU community's awareness of the dangers of drinking and driving through various events such is Alcohol Awareness Week.

During Alcohol Awareness Week, (Oct 14-19), SADD will have table at shine and offer general information about the organization to interested people.
Please stop by the table if you are interested in getting involved, or if you want information.

In addition, our weekly mectings are Mondays at 5 p.m. in Room 1 I 1 of the Hall of Languages.

We need your help to prevent tragedies like Denise's from rappening again.

LETTERS

Don't set campus apart

To the editor:
Obviously, there are many misconceptions The Daily Orange and probably other constituents of Syracuse University have in regards to the new policy banning nonstudents from the Underground in the Schine Student Center.

This is also in reference to the Sept. 23 editorial. Under the new policy, there is to be a valld SU IS or other valid college m to gain access to parties. The majority of parties are given by differcnt African are given by differcnt Africa
American fraternities and sororities of Black Panhellenic Council. This policy was brought about stemming from an incident that occurred at the Underground Aug. 31 between SU students and Syracuse residents.

The policy was drafted to assure the safety of students attending the party, but with attending the party, but wisy, more problems this policy, more problems of a few "bad apples," Syracuse of a few "bad apples," Syracuss residents are not allowed to residents are not allowed to attend these functions. This then further alienates and isolates the relationship between SU students and Syracuse residents, a problem that has been going on for years, but ignored by the SU administration.

Sponsor organizations within BPH , despite paying a large sum of money to use the facilities and to book security, have no say in terms of who is to enter the parties. African* American alumni of SU and members of students' families have not been allowed to enter parties since the new policy

The role of 5 bed.
The role of SU Security is vamuely defined and rarely followed, yet the risks and responsibilities of sponsor organizations have increased.
This is not a problem of SAS and the student fee, as you state in your editorial. This is a problem that affects the entire SU community. especially minority students who look for the BPH parties as the main social outlet on this campus. This also aftects other organizations who use the Underground.

SUU Security and the Syracuse Police department are here to serve and protect the students or other campus visitors, but they failed to do so on Aug 31. I would know because I was injured in the melee and had to receive ten stitches in my head.

This happened outside of the Uinderground while Security and the SPD watched because they saw AfricanAecause they saw Arrican* Yet. American males fighting* they want to place the blame they want to place the biame and add more responsibi on the BPH sponsoring on the BPH spo organizations.

SUadministration needs to stop using spansoring organizations as scapegoats when things go wrong.
They also need to evaluate the role of SU Security officers who are paid to protect the students and others attending these functions. Finally. they need to address the division that this university causes between students and nonstudents.

Carl Agard
Presiklent.

The Daily Orange

Ealitur in Chite
Mlamini Eation
Jodi Lamakna

Our Mission...

To explore strange new worlds. To seek out new life & new civilizations.
To boldly go where no man has gone before!!
 TEФ

Sept. 26
Seafood Night
"We have crabs"

Tau Epsilon Phi 907 Walnut Ave. (Behind Bird Library)

GSO
Contimed from Page 1
Senate to accept or reject proposals from the GSO executive committee, many of which relate to constitutional and regulatory changes.

Working on interests
"Some students come regularly with proposals based on their interests," Rupprecht said. "They run into problems particularly with the university's bureaucracy, and we try to help them through that."

Vice President Joe Serbin Eerves as the Senate's chairman. Eerves as the Senate schairman. His duties include running m ings and interpreting rules.
"I'm entitled to make rale "Im entitled to make rules of the Senate or the president's" Serbin said. "However, anything that's going to be the least bit controversial I ve gat to consult with the committee."
While Fupprecht deais mainly with external affairs affecting gradaate students, Serbin said ne sees the internal functioning of GSO as his responsibility.
He said he helps academic units and individual students with problems, and aees that participation in the Senate is maximized.

II defer to the Senate on any major problem," Serbin baid.

He said the senators are sefected by graduate stadents within academic units. If the number of students running for an academic seat exceeds the number of seats available, the interested atudents can fill atlarge positions within the Senate or join a campus committee. foe said.
"We try to involve as many interested GSO students as we can," Serbin said. "Usually, students are satisfied to get involved just by filling a committee."

The CSO receives $$ 34.50$ per full-time graduate student each semester, which is collected by the university in April, Rupprecht said. The process of funding organizations is similar to the SGA budget hearings, although many of GSO's contributions are optional gifts given freely to organizations, the group said.

FORYOUR INFORMATIOR

Hughes fellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 predoctoral fellowships in the biologrical sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov, $g$.

The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.

Effective June 1992, stipends will be $$ 14,000$ annually. For more information, call (202) 334-2872.

Tutors sought by

Salvation Army
The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of academic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teen age pregnancy.
age pregnancy
The tutors
The tutors are needed Monday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Volunteers work in one-onone or small-group settings to assist students with homework assignments and remedial work.
A commitment of one night
A commitment of o
each week is required.
each week is required.
Volunteers are also invited to participate in the recreation period that follows tutoring.
For more information, call Mary Rose McBride at 479 . 1321.

Study abroad

stipend offered

Applications for the second annual American lnbtitute for Foreign Study College Division Minority Scholarship for the fall of 1992 are now being accepted.

The scholarship includes taition and room and board. It is applicable to programs in Austria, Britain, France, Gemmany, Italy, Mexico and Spain.

Applications for the scholar ship will be accepted from blacks, Hispanics, American Indians, Asian-Americans and Pacific Islanders.

Applications and more information are available by writing: Minority Scholarship Selection Conmittee, Attn.: Anne Decker. AIFS, 102 Greenwich Ave., Gireenwich, Conn., 06830 Inter Greenwich, Conn., 06830 . Inter ested people may also call (800) 727-2437, ext. 610G

Russian choir

seeks members

The Syracuse University Russian A Cappella Choir is looking for singers from the gtudent body, stafi ead faculty.
No experience is required to join. The words to all songs are transcribed phonetically.

The choir will present its repertoire of Russian folk songs in Hendricks Chapel and at Wells and Hobart Colleges dur ing the 1991-92 concert season.
Rehearsals are held every Morday at 7 p.m. in Room 107 of the Hall of Languages.
Marketing students vie for scholarship The Point-of-Purchase Acivertising Institute (POPAi) has announced a marketing scholar uniors and seniors sophomores, uniors and seniors.
Participants will be anked to integrate point-of purchase ( $\mathrm{P}-\mathrm{O}$ P) materials into a marketing program for a hypothetical line of baby toiletry products with "real life" marketing objectives and congtraints.
A $$ 1,250$ firsit-prize scholarship, along with second and third prizes of $$ 500$ and $$ 250$. will be awarded.

Deadine for entry is Dec. 13, 1991. For more information or an official entry form, contact Ronit Bialer at (201) 894-8899.

> AIKIDO CLASSES ROOM 102 FLANAGAN

> Tuesday - Thursday 6:40-8:00 PM Instruction By Yousuf Mehter of AIKIDO OF CENTRAL NEW YORK Includes breathing, relaxing & > stretching exercises, assertiveness training, physical fimess, mind & body coordination and defense against all forms of attacks.
> S.U. AIKIDO CLUB

> For info. Call Chris 425-9810 or 449-2332

Masque of illusion

Fotil Starmerrithe D, iliy Ot,onke
Sophomore illastration major Bill Skrief models his mask Wednesday morming. It was designed as a project for his introdaction to illustration ciass.

F.Y.I.

Artists sought for Art Invitational

Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a compe1991 Artinvitationat, a competition of donated art works. tition of donated art works.
Cash prizes will be awarded. Cash prizes will be nwarded.
Funds raised will benefit public Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New York.

Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the $10 t h$ Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16

Work submitted before Oct. 18 will be considered for display at the Everson Miuseum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Muartists seurn.
seurn.
For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Omice at 453-2424.
'Dessert theatre'
to feature sweets
Theatre a la Carte, under the direction of Earl Colvin, will direction of Earl Colvin, will present a dessert theatre at May Memorial Unitaxian Society, 3800 E. Genesee st., on Saturday.
The program will begin at 7 p.m. and will feature a variety of one-act plays, both comedy and drama.

Desserts and beverages will be served during intermission. Admission is $7, and proceeds benefit the May Memorial Unitarian Society
Day-care worker traiming scheduled The Onondaga County Child Care Council announces its fall session for training family daycare providers. The 10 -week negsion will run through Nov. 26. The free training will be at Andrews Memorial United Methodist Church in North Syracuse from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Free child care is available on the premises, and a certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.

The training, for new and experienced providers, will help fulfill the 15 -hour requirement mandated by the new Family Day-Care Registration System. For further information and pre-registration, call 472-6919.

the nation's\#tiPink Floyd tribute band - beduced cover with $9 \mathbb{O}$ IDS

GO FOR A GOVERNMENT INTERNSHIP IN ALBANY

If you're a junior or senior considering a career in law, public administration, public policy or any field, a NYS Assembly Internship is a great opportunity! You can earn credit and get experience with a PAID internhip next semester! For details and applications, come to the NYS ASSEMBLY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM INFORMATION SESSION hosted by Dr. Jeffrey Stonecash of the SU Political Science Department.

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 26
4:00 p.m.
Community Internship Program
313 Huntington Hall
(across from the Sheraton Inn)

CONING TO A THEATER NEAR GAMPUS ON SEPTEMBER 27

START YOUR FIRST DAY WITH YEARS OF EXPERIENCE BEHIND YOU.

Bring your BSN to the Army and we'll assign a preceptor to help put you at ease.

Your preceptor will be an experienced Army Nurse who will smooth your transition from school to practice. With advice, counsel on Army nursing procedure, or just by being a friend.

With your preceptor's help, you'll meet your new challenges and rapidly move into a leadership role of your own.

If you're a BSN candidate. . . or you are an RN with a BSN... you'll find the rewards and responsibility you're looking for in Army Nursing. Contact your local Army Nurse Corps Recruiter.

315-423-5218 • 423-5438
716-856-1700 • 856-1851 • 716-546-5472 army wives coans. BEALLYOU CAN BE

CLASS

Continued from Page 1
to Eastwood," he said.
A student accused the police department of age discrimination in the enforcement of the open container law.
He said officers should arrest people drinking at tailgate parpeop
"We made 20 open container arrests over the past week and a half," Thompson said.
"We have to be selective in what we want to do," he said. "If officers observe people drink"If officers observe people drin ing, they are to arrest them."
Some students said officers are eager to use their power.
"Police officers are rude, overzealous and want to kick some ass," one student said.
"If you weren't breaking the law, you wouldn't be arrested law, you wouldn't be arrested or humiliated," another student or humiliated," another student said.
"You are being unfair when you say Syracuse police officers are rude or overzealous when you only have two to eight officers in the area," Thompson said.
*We never justify brutality and we criminally prosecute it., he said.

As deputy chief of the uniform bureau Thompson said anyone who wears a police uni form indirectly reports to him.

Thompson said to him, should do their part by bein hould do their part by being $\cdots$ If an afficer has to come.
If an officer has to come back two or three times. they are naturally going to get pissed," he said. "They thought it was a
"If
"If you go to bars underage, you take the chance of getting caught and going to jail." he "If an arrest dee an officer effecting an arrest, don't get in his face," he said. "There is a lot of adrenaline pumping and the officer is trying to take care of this incident."
Thompson said students can get information once the officer as effected the arrest.

For Your Information

Poetry contest

 deadline approachesMore than 250 poets will receive $$ 12,000$ in prizes this year from the North American Open Poetry Contest.

The deadline for the contest is Sept. 30, and entry is free.
To enter, send one original poem to the National Library of Poetry, 5-E Gwynns Mill Ct., P.O. Box 704-PC. Owings Mills, Md. 21117

The poern should be no longer than 20 lines, and the poet's than 20 lines, and the poet's of the page.

Education hot line

 establishedCounselors from the Educa tion Information Center are of fering free counseling at local libraries on a one-time basis for up to 40 minutes. Interested people can update their resumes, talk about job hunting skills, practice interview techniques and research classes and courses.

Call the Education Hotine at 488-4633 to make an appointment

Science

Science Digest

Meteorologist joins  Crazy Morning Crew

Tom Hauf, meteorologist forWSTM TV in Syracuse, has signed with WJPZ radio as a staff meteorologist. His live reports air during the Crazy Morning Crew

Dave Roberts, WJPZ's vice president of business, said, "We inter" viewed a couple of local TV meteorologists for this position. It took less than five minutes of talking with Tom to realize he met all of our qualifications."

Hauf worked in radio in Baltimore. Md., and television in Richmond. Va.. before moying to Syracuse.

Virus may be linked to chronic fatigueound in patients with chro syndrome also know as the "yuppe syndrome, also know as the "yuppie flu."

The spumavirus was found in peom ple with CFS symptoms such

In the recent study, scientists discovered CFS patients are more likely to have the spumavirus than healthy patients.

CFS symptoms can include exhaustion, joint and muscle pains and sleep disturbances. While the onset is sudden, symptoms can continue for years.

Routine AIDS

test suggested

The Centers for Disease Control is asking health experts for feedback on a proposal that would encourage hospital patients to have an AIDS netbody test
Under the plan, the tests would be oluntary and results would be kept confidential.
While those in favor of the proposal eel it will prompt infected people to eek treatment, opponents fear doctors whose patients test positive for ADDS will turn those patients away.

New solar plant

 powered by saltThe most advanced solar-power plant n the world, scheduled to open in 1994, will be partially powered by nolten salt.
The project, to be built in California's Mojave Desert at an approximate cost of $$ 29$ million, will provide power for 10,000 to 20,000 homes hrough a unigue process.
Sunlight will be focused on the top of a tower through hundreds of large mirrors. At the top of the tower $a$ large tank will store molten nitrate salt heated to 1,050 degrees Fahrenheit.
By pumping the salt, the factory will heat water, produce steam and turn a turbine generator

Scientists create

 memory in test tibleThe chemical process of learning and remembering has been created $n$ a test tube by scientists.

The research, which consists of preliminary findings, was presented last month at the Fourth Chemical Congress of North America.

- Compiled from staff and daily newspaper reports

Coming  Friday

Cavaicade of cuitireg Cultural: event after ciltura event will be'taking place dyring the next 10 days in the city if SyTacase. Mnisic; axt, theater? and more are hoading our way o Getthe details tomóriow in

Prism
The Sevenco pere if pubintiont glternating Thumbday in tha Lifotyde

Eection or The Daiky Orange

Night vision goggles enlighten those left in dark

By ROB OWEN

Asst. Lifestyle Editor

I:n the hit film Silence of the luambs, serial killer Buffalo Bill stalks rookie Lagent Clarice Starling in the darkened dungeon beneath his home with a distinct advantage: the killer can see in the dark.

But the goggles worn by the murderous madman are not a new technology, according to Dr. Clarence Walters, A reter for Night Vision and Electrooptics in $\vec{F}$ t. Belvoir, Va.

Walters says the Night Vision Lab was originally called sion Lab was originalty calted worked on the first type of night worked on the first the searchlight. These vision, the searchlight. Ther lights were used durpowertul lights were used Nar ing World War II to spot Nazi bombers fying over London.

The lab then became solely a research and development lab investigating devices that could see things invisible to the human eye, but visible to machines. The machine would then convert what it saw into an image that could be identified by a person looking through a telescopic device.
"They were shadowy, snowy "They look a lot like a really noisy television.

A problem with pink

The problern with this initial night vision device was its use night vision device was its use of the pink light spectrum. which of the pink light spectrum. Which is similar to radar in that it is similar to radar in that it senas a signal out to receive gignal back. Since this was an signal back. Since this was an active approach, sensors were mine the pink light beam's origin, thus giving away the sender's position.

The next generation of devices were passive, enabling covert activities to remain covert. These systems were devel oped at the end of World War 11 but didn't come to maturity until the Viet nam era. These new image-intensifying devices were nicknamed starlight scopes. The starlight scope requires low levels of light to operate, but it can work in overcast and starlight conditions.

For each photon received into the scope, an electron tube excites the pho-con and emits 50,000 electrons out of the scope. This illuminates a display, either in binoculars or a rifle scope, allowing the viewer to see things normally ob scured by darkness.
"You can see a cigarette smoldering from miles and miles away," Walters says. "It's really impressive."

But the image intensifier still required light, so the next night vision devices were made to work in total darkness. In order to accomplish this thermal energy instead of light energy was used as the basis of the new device, called a thermal imager.
"You can take these kinds of devices into an underground cave that has no light at all and still be able to find things by converting the world of heat into the world of the vistble by way of electronics." Walters said.
Both image intensifiers and thermal imagers were used in the Persinn Gulf War. Apache helicopters were equipped with the devices, as were many jets. At one point, (Gen. H. Nor man) Schwarzkopf talked abou a battle where the Iraqis didn't know they were being shot a until they were hit because our vehicles were equipped with de vices that could see much far ther than their s could." Wal ters said.
Image intensifiers were also used to photograph the bombing rums that were shown on Ameri can television.
The Night Vision Lab continues to do basic research to make imagers with greater sensitivity and greater resolution.
Non-defense applications are also being explored. The Drug Enforcement Agency uses night vision devices for drug interdic tion, and the Forest Service uses thermal imagers for finding forest fires as well as locating missinc people.

Also, the Department orTransportation is exploring the possi regulating traffic fow.
But could an average Bill like the killer in Silence of the Lambs easily buy one of these image intensifiers?
"A few years ago they were the Christmas gift," Walters says. "Nieman Marcus sold them for $$ 75,000$."

Caution aids exercise enthusiasts

BY MARY 10 KUSS

Asst. Procuction Manager
What gets you hot, wet, out of breath and ready to collap

Take Emmat else? the Dallas Cowboys. Just a few weeks ago, Smith, overcome with heat exhaus ago, Smith, overcome with heat exhaustion, dined on a sugar-water solution fed to him through his veing.

Even in the Carrier Dome, a big linernan can lose between three and 10 pounds of water weight in a game -without Slimfast.

But these are extreme examples of the effects of heat on amateur and profes sional athletes.

The average fitness freak gets tired, gets cramps and hopefully gets smart fast enough to stop exercising. Other wise, he might be fed lunch through tubes stuck in his veins

Steve Kravez, a personal trainer and fitness consultant for Pine Grove Country Club in Camillus, said people who exercise in the heat are prone to dangers cramps and heatstroke.

Kravez, whobrought Nautilus weight. training facilities to Syracuse 17 years ago, is also owner of Syracuse Sports Conditioners.

Keep blood in balance
According to Kravea, a series of stages lead up to the most serious form of heat illness, heatstroke.

Intense exercise in humidity results in profuse sweating, a drop in blood in profuse sweating, a drop in blood pressure and a loss in electrolytes and salt

When electrolytes and salt are lost. an imbalance in the blood is created This gives rise to what most people experience as heat cramps.

Next comes the stage most common to workout fanaties, heat exhaustion Kravez said this stage is characterized by fluid and electrolyte loss, increased sweating, a loss in coordination, fainting and vomiting.

This stage is most likely to oceur after sustained exercise

The last stage is a medical emergency that Kravez said can lead to coma and death. It is characterized by high body temperature, loss of the ability to dissipate heat through sweat and an altered level of consciousness.
Butkravez said heatstroke is the least common and happens mainly to "driven people."

To keep your workouts in humid weather safe. Kravez advises working out during the cooler hours of the day. such during che cooler hours of the day si the early morning or at night.
But if you have to work out in the heat. drink lots of water, watch your heart drink lots of watez: watch your heary rate and pace yourself by cutti on the intensity of the exercise.

Cut down on internal heat
Cutting down on the intensity of the exercise helps decrease the amount of internal heat the muscles will generate.

Kravez also advises wearing light weight, loose clothing that allows your skin to breathe.

Drinking enough water allows your body to cool itself througis sweating.

Fruit juice is good, too, Kravez said. but the sugar in it brings your energy

See VITAMINS Page 15

Sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ
Thurs., Sept. 26 Sims 227 7:45 pm

So, you have great ideas for DANCE MARATHON?

Here's your chance to let us know! Become a member of the 1992 Dance Marathon Executive Committee.

The following positions are available:
Corporate (2)
Publicity
Advertising Finance/Budget
Security
Location (2)
Stage Manager
Greek Couples (2)
Fundraising (2)
Programming
Special Events (2)
Catering (2)
Entertainment
Points & Records
Referee Chairperson
Independent Couples (2)
Submit letters of intent to the Marathon Mailbox in the Greek Council Office by October 3rd. Questions? Call:

Steven Lemberger 426-8767

Kristi Schwartz
$\mathbf{4 4 2 - 9 0 7 2}$

Dogs and owners shirking duties  After all, people don't want

The outcicors - sun beats on exposed skin, a warm breeze ruffles hair, and free time abounds. To many this may be the ideal free tirne to enjoy a lazy day in a public park. Few pleasures are more relaxing and enjoyable than a free day in the ROYS. $\quad$ ing bare. CuTIE OUT OF THE GUITER foot MiE GUTMER thefinelyo ticide-treated chlorostalksof pes grass.

Sauntering across the field with not a care in mind, then suddenly stepping in... a steam ing deposit of digested dog doo.

Imagine the total phock in this day and age of pooper scooper laws and "curb your dog" etiquette when one steps into this.

But should it surprise anyone?

Spending time in the park these days can be dangerous -bikers, joggers, cars, rollerbladers and the senior citizen shuffeboard league.

Time spent on the Quad can be equally dangerous - frisbees, footballs and volleyball bees,

Setti
Setting all major hazards aside. possibly the most danger ous and infuriating hazard may be at the tip of the toe -.. the unthoughtful result of man's best friend and man's best friend's owner

Dog walkers are outdoor lovers* most unsuspecting adver saries.

Dogs, both leashed and un leashed, ofen jump and bark at passersby, create trafic hazards and scare the daylights out of children and door-to door postal delivery people (mailmen).

Dogs do have minds of their own and don't mind where they do. And obviously neither do their owners. The camaraderie their owners. The camaraderie as Lome Greene so convineingly projected as the Alpo spokesprojec man.
Dogs do need open space to run about, but owners have to watch where they go.
Unfortunately, through old Fido's perspective, the great outdoors is just one giant black and white toilet. This is similar to the human perspective, although most people do see in color and use indoor waste facilities.
Dog owners represent a microcosm of the extensive population of people who suffer from the "not in my back yard" phobia which plagues humanity. dog doo of any kind in their back yards. But no one wants to do anything about it, except displace the problem.

This can be seen in most socisispheres, where people fail to confront real issues, either by shipping them away, ignoring them or clouding issues by fabricating others.
For many people this fear of accountability and paying the consequences is as innate as a dog doing its thing in someone else's yard or on a fire hydrant or drinking from the toilet. Many others work hard and deviously to develop this skill.
Administrations concoct toogus problems and fabricate phonier solutions. The results: obscure issues, but for those involved, saving face.
Political lingo, red tape and outright public lies support this. In 1984 the United States scored an awe-inspiring victory over a handful of students in Grenada.
Iust days before the military vanquished the Caribbean Superpower, a couple hundred U.S. Marines were killed as they slept in their barracks in Beirut, lebanon. The victims of a suicide mission.

Instead of sending in the troops to Beirut, President Reagan sent them to Grenada. Thanks to the media blackout, no one knew what was soing on. However, the public was later told, "We kicked some butt."

The U.S. government, walking its dog on a Caribbean sland.
Back on the Quad, the nier incident last semester is still ringing in people's heads. When the fliers sprung up accusing a fraternity of a gang rape, no one knew what was going on.

Student news orgarizations worked around the clock to find out if the allegations were valid. The results: authorities would not talk or even clarify

SU finally let the dogs loose a couple of weeks after the fliers surfaced - while many students were home for the summer. The administration took action, not on the accused fraternity, but on the activist who posted the fliers.

SU Security maintained the woman damaged poles with ad. hesives. Damaged poles? Some of those poles have so many staples, organizations can now post their bulletins with magnets.
This evasion of reality and shift of blame predominates pol.

See GUTTER Page 18

CAROUSEL CEETER CINEM12 466-5678

EXPBRIENCE THE DIPEEPMENCE
tinOOOR PARIKING th SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETHNG + 12 MOVIES TO CHOOSE FAOM $\rightarrow$ DOLBY STEREO \& PLUSH SEATING (with Cup holders) \& WIDE ROW SPACING

Dick Clark, alumni donate funds for new DEKE home

By ALI BENNETT

Staff Writer
TV host Dick Clark recently donated money to Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity to buy a new house, but members and alumni of the fraternity said there are more people who also deserve credit.

The Syracuse University DEKE chapter was dissolved in 1986 after being found guilty of violating SU alcohol policies, according to Carmen Davoli, according to Carmen Davoli, president of the alumn association for central New York's tion for central DEKE chapters.

It was the first fraternity ever established at SU. Mermbers have been working since 1986 to get it back on campus, he said.

Last September, the fraternity was reinstated.

Davoli said the hardest part about bringing DEKE back to SU was "qualifying with University guidelines." pointing to versity guidelines. pointing to the four-year lapse as evidence.

The faculty center was at one time the official DEKE house and was designed and buitit by two fraternity brothers, the Gag. gin brothers, in 1905. Davoli said.

Before being dissolved, the DEKE house was located at 712 Comstock Ave., which has since been torn down, Davoli said.

A place on Wainut
According to Davoli, the fraternity had plans to build a house between Lambda Chi A!pha and Gamma Phi Beta on Walnut Avenue, but when the former Phi Delta Theta house went up for sale, it was bought by the fraternity.

The new house, at 705 Walnut Ave, was also designed and built by the Gaggin brothers, Davoli said.

Davoli said Cal Fearon, of Syracuse Suburban Gas; Bill Eberhardt, owner of Phoebe's Cafe; and Jay Wayson, a lawyer with the Mackenzie Law Firm. were all major organizers in the fraternity's reinstatement.

However, Davoli said he initiated the project.

Major financial DEKE alumni contributors include Richard Pietrafesa, owner of Learbury Clothes; Lewis Bantel, chair. man of the board of U.S. Tobacco; Fred Knapp, division bacco; Fred Knapp, division leader of Fidelity Investrnents; leader of Fidelity Investrnents; and Roy Simmons Sr. and Roy Simmons Jr., SU's past and present lacrosse coaches.
Much of the media attention. however, has been focused on Clark's contribution, Davoli said.
I think Dick Clark deserves attention as an alumnus, but. there are other alumni who contributed and deserve attention as well,* said one DEKE member.
Davoli refused to comment on either the amount of Clark's contribution or on the cost of the new house.
"We're real pleased to be back," said David Easlic, execu tive director of DEKE at the national headquarters in Michi${ }_{\text {gan. }}^{\text {He }}$ positio really want to be $\mathbf{a}$ positive part of the community - not just seen as poor little rich boys," he said.

Both Davoli and Eastic expressed anger at a recent article in The Post Standard which stated SU DEKE members had found "a classy place to drink."
"The intent of this was not to revive a "clasgy place to drink," Davoli said. "The purpose was to revive the first frat at SU."
"The days of 'Animal House' are over," said Easlic.
"We learned our lesson the hard way," he said.
yourl graske..."

Into the Woods

 equipment by selling firewood to students.

'Fisher King' flounders, 'Deceived' succeeds

The Fisher King and Deceived are two films opening tomorrow, but only one succeeds in its attempts. While The Fisher King nobly ROB OWEN MOVIE
REVIEWS

Munchausen) returns with The Fisher King Fisher King, $n$ schizophrenic film that just doesn't work. Jeff Bridges stars as New York shock dise jockey Jack Lucas, whose on-air antics cause a lonely man to go on a shooting spree. After this tragedy, Bridges goes into seclusion, searching for redemption. He mee's Parry (Robin Williams), a former medieval history professor who has more in common with Jack than either one originally realizes. The first hour of The Fisher with Jack being guilt-ridden and Parry being psychotic. "You ever get the feeling that sometimes you're being punished for your sins?" Jack says to his girifriend Anne (Mercedes Ruehl) just before he attempts to kill himself.
From depression to bliss
But then Parry the street person saves him and they go cavorting through Central Park in the nude. Their follies are cut short, however, when Parry sees See FILMS Page 16 See FILMS Page 16 which paders to the mass audiDirector Terry Gilliam (Brazil, The Adventures of Baron

VITAMINS
Continued from Page 9 level upjust briefly, then quickly drops it.

Other drinks, like Gatorade and Carbo Force, provide your body with the minerals and salt lost during exercise and correct the imbalance in the biood. Adjusting to the heat might upset your routine, Kravez said. but it is most important to sten to your body.
Kravez said people who don't adjust are "slaves to the routine."

It's important to be in tune with what you're trying to accomplish. And in this case, it's doing what's good for you.

Vitamin $C$ is published alternating Thursdays in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

Larry Hagman

Cigarettes aren't good for your friends. Adopt a friend who smokes and help 'em quit today. You'll both be glad tomorrow.

, IISEASE

American Heart Association

[^11]

DELT.

ANY QUESTIONS?

 RUSHDEETT.The Daily Orange
September 26. 1991
F.Y.I.

Ben Bradlee

to talk on WCNY

Ben Bradlee, former executive editor of The Washington Post, will be featured on WCNYTV Channel 24's Talking With David Frost on Friday at $10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.

Bradlee, best known for his supervision of the Watergate investigation, will be the first of a series of guests on Emmy Award-winning journalist Frost's program this season.

Heart walk/run

to benefit AHA
The American Heart Association will sponsor the Cortland County Heart Walk/Run on Sunday.
Prizes given to the top fundraiser include a weekend at Niagara Falls. Incentive packages are available to all participants.

Races of different lengths. ranging from one mile to 10 kilometers, will be held. For more information, call 4468334.

Brunch for lesbians to be held
The Lesbian Agenda Discussion Group is sponsoring a lesbian potluck brunch at the Women's Information Center, 601 Allen St., on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Guests are asked to bring their own place settings and a dish to pass.
'Ifyou don't staind for sometbing, you'Il fall for anytbing."

R ப S H SIGMA NU FRATERNITY AT PI BETA PHI - 210 WALNUT SEPTEMBER 26, 30 & OCT $1 & 3$

FILMS

Continued from Page 14
the Red Knight, a vision he continually sees, symbolizing the grief he feels over his murdered wife.

Yes, this film is rife with symbolism - at least in the first hour.

During the second hour, Gilliam switches styles and The Fisher King becomes an offbeat, mainstrearn romantic comedy as Jack and Anne set Parry up with Lydia (Amanda Plummer), the idealized woman of his dreams whom he has been foldreams whom he has been City lowing around New York City for weeks.

Soon Parry and Lydia, two freaks of nature obviously made for one another, are attempting to eat Chinese food, but they keep dropping their dumplings.

Bliss is interrupted when the Red Knight returns in the last half hour along with liberal doses of comedy and a sitcomstyle ending that is just plain dumb.

It's too much. Gilliam tries to be conventional, yet he can't let go of his tendencies to weirdness. Plummer is excellent in her role as Williams' mousy love interest. An all-too-obscure actress, Plummer's performance tress, Plummer's periormance here proves she deserves more here p work.

The rest of the cast turns in the expected performances. Bridges is sour, Williams is crazy, and Ruehl is a caring sexpot.
It's too bad The Fisher King becomes such a hodge-podge of artistic savyy and lowest-commondenominator laughs that don't amount to anything meaningful.

Gilliam does use some great camera angles and the Grand Central Station waltz scene is beautifully orchestrated, but these few glimpses of genius do not make for an entertaining film.

Deception and deceit
In Deceived, Goldie Hawn
may or may not be sleeping with the enemy.

Hawn stars as Adrienne Saunders, whose marriage to Jack (John Heard) is cut short when his car topples over a cliff. But then strange occurrences lead Adrienne to investigate Jack's past, and what she discovers leads to a suspenseful chase through the Saunders mazelike apartment complex.

While Deceivedisa sometimesintense thriller, director Damian Harris throws in everything possible to stir the audience into a tizzy If it's not a never-beforeseen Saunders pet leaping out seen Saunders pet leaping out birds flying into the kitchen birds flying into the kitchen Window to scare the audience into screaming their heads off.

Hawn does a better-thanexpected job playing the bereaved Saunders. While her recent films have been comedies, Hawn returns to her dramatic roots and turns in a decent performance considering the material she's been given.

The script for Deceived was written by Mary Agnes Donoghue, who also wrote and directed next week's sap-fest Paradise. With Deceived, Donoghue manages to frighten the audience, but she doesn't really give the characters enough really give the characters enough background to make the film's plot entirely believable.

Like last season's L.A. Law episode that sent Diana Muldaur plunging downan elevator shaft, Deceived also does a public service by warning the audience against this fate. Likewise, the movie demonstrates why plastic bags should be kept away from children - they can be used as murder weapons.

Deceived may not be an intelligent suspense film on par with Silence of the Lambs, but it's not as predictable as Sleeping With the Enemy either.

Through sleight of hand, Deceived manages to fall somewhere in between.

[^12]

Inge:
Sat. . sept. 28
sun.
-295 sepe
12:30-5:00 p.n.
warce:
rentres: Kelght: 5"Em-s.

Manes:
入telre: mortes waryes 25-34

F.Y.I.

Amnesty executive to speak tonight
Jack Healey, executive director of Amnesty International USA, will deliver a speech concerning his involvement with the human rights organization the human rights organization tonight at $7: 15$ p.m. in Maxwell tonight at $7: 1$ Auditorium.
Auditorium. open the floor for questions from the audience.

Reza Jalali, a Kurdish former prisoner of conscience, will also speak.
Local art display at Schine

The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in October.
The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room. Italian film fest at Everson

Three Italian films will be shown at the Everson Museum of Art in conjunction with the current exhibition "Eternal Metaphors: New Art from Italy." The first film will be Lina Wertmuller's 1976 AII Screwed $U_{p}$, which will be shown on Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Hosmer Auditorium.

Other films include Down and Dirty, winner of the grand prize at Cannes, and the 1965 film Fists in the Pocket.

Piano recital
to be held
Gail Niwa, an acclaimed pianist who has performed worldwide, will give a benefit concert in the Crouse College Auditorium on Sunday at $2: 30$ p.m.

Niwa, the first woman to be named the grand-prize winner of the Gina Bachaver International Piano Competition, will tional Piano Competition, will play works by Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Bach-Busoni and Tchaikovsky, Bach-Busoni and others. Proce
Prs.
Proceeds from the concert will benefit the Central New York Association for MusicTeachers. Tickets are $$ 8$ for adults and $$ 6$ for students and semior citizens.

For further information, call 469-3271.

1992 SU YEARBOOK
THE ONONDAGAN =——

MANDATORY MEETING

 for positions on ECOPYM LAYOUTH AND DESICNS GOUSWESSE PR Room 101, Hall of Languages THURSDAY 5:30p Please call 443-7332 with questions or problems.
it Works Wonders.

SATURDAY - SEPTEMBER 28
SHOWTIME 7:30PM • TICKETS $$ 22.50$

TENETS AVABMAEAT ALL CARRIER CUE BOL OFFICE

GUTTER
Continued from Page 10 icy.

When something goes wrong, such as misconduct or alleged abuse at a greek event, those involved seem more incensed that the incident will receive front page news coverage than contrite over the incident itself.

Shifting the blame and passing the buck go hand-in-hand dog. After all, someone else will have to deal with the consequences, far from their origins. The damage is done and there is little or no accountability.

Dogs lack the ability to judge, thus they usually do whatever they want. In time someone will catch up with the dog or its owner, or it may get hit by a car.

On the other hand, people have means and reason to controd their lives.

Maybe proper scooper laws should be applied to other realms, or people should act more like the dogs they are. But after evolving to silverware, nap-kings and private indoor bathkings and private indoor bathturn to lapping slop out of bowls and using fields as bathrooms.

Think of the possibilities: "The Hartz Two-in-One Presidential Proper Scooper" or "The AllPurpose SU Proper Scooper.

Instead of wasting time and money manufacturing human pooper scoopers or shirking responsibility, it would be more efficient for people to confront those dogs face-to-face and walk them in their own backyards, not the public park.
"Good friends don't let good friends smoke cigarettes."
cctv Heqman
Cigarettes arent good for your friends. Adopt a friend who smokes and help em out tod dy. You'll both be glad tomorrow.

The Longest Existing Fraternity on Campus.

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DALLY ORANGE Classified ad PROCEDURE; 32.50 tor the tirs 15 words. 10 f for ach sdotional wort 5 E entra tor each Worvare

Notices

PERSONAL CONSTRUCT PSYCHOLDOY IIRAT Kind momaty wrh persors acquarted with Gex thoory. Proass cal 446-1262.

Horwheck Ribling 18 mien tom Syacise Reay

(315)606-A169

 STERLING SIVVER A ANTIOUE JEWELRY. The told is coming! Now Overeoats 8 Wool
Blazery Arving Daty. BCOM BABIES ViNTAGE
 11-7.000m mervisa zmnutas for camtors.

FOR SALE

Autos

1986 Fond Tempo GL 2dr. New tires, Bateryd Erases. 81 K , Great shape, SWaer tar 52300 or Best Ditar E37-9654, E37-5151.
CAMPYUS CRUISIN 1584 Mitschishi Station Tur bol F Ausomatic, 56.000 mi , Air, Ful Powac. $$ 3000$ negonitblo 422- 3933.

Real Estate

Uniwerity Area Excallent Real Estand Imenment Oaporturiky. DCLAN RE. ast for Ben 454-0232.

Misc. For Sale

Tctust Ruppers vs Syracise ad Glant Sta

 $1-800$-554-TPXX
EMPLOYMENT

Frammition, somotions, campus organizations, thich \% $$ 3000$, seling SPFANG BREAK trys to Carcu "South Padra bland "Bahamestruist "Acapulco' 2-800-258-9151.

Namorkirg. the conceept of the 90\%s. Bo associatiod with an intomanional company who deas wat 700 Brand name cxamparies. Call 426.9363 and ask tor Ker.
Soekny Auraxion Bar Anendants. No Experience Soekng Aurano Bar Anoncarss No Experienco 475.3875 for A.pomement

FAST CASH, SHCAT SHiFTS. Jon the Camtor Dome nawher stat. Ering nome $$$ the sume day pou work. For ritor call Roob 43-40za.
Needod: Bar Meids, Bantanders, Wat Statt. Difs.
 nessage.
 Sau urday or Simeay moming tor a capirly. recovering 53 ypartold mate stroke vicim. Ho reast youto pint tha tuam of sudors who ant
 $\mathrm{H}_{0}$ is a businass extective. interisemt. personabit, easy 10 pat along with, and is now
4 and waking Find out now groat in teek to Yp and walkug find ox how graat in leote to hob sompocre map nimson on tho road to recovary. This is an basy job plus great recovary. This is an oasy iob plus great arperience Cal Mr. Hill to arrange a personal erperience Cal Mr. Hill to arrango a persoral imerwew en $445-2327$.

Serz Eindernd Aestaremita Unversiry beation has cook and defivery posiaions avaitabte. Com. pelijue wape for both positions. Drivers musa haw own vehicla. Cortant 471.5206 for more Irdio

WANTED

Childcare

Chid care and meal preparation two aternowers per week. 3 to eprn Gocd salary. $474-3380$.

Help Wanted

 Team coning to syracuse. Frae hairats, prooves. ect. 7 - $800-333-4693$ grows to promote Wrraet Sping Breaks vips For mese information call Slucert Travel Servisen.

Trow Safore You Co. wherato woll, live azd sti free in Coloratioy fisorts Current Gude to Aspan Vail Breckrantoge and moval $16.55. Call 1-800 $788-6174$. 7886174.

Froe Travel. Cash, and Excothera Businass Expenincant! Cpenings avaluble tor indivituas or sudent orparieaion wo promote the courdiy's most Programs 1-800-327-6013
Campes Mopresantsives Needot Eam trat tre and Deg conmissidst by sutimg Cacym mexoco.
 996 or in Commactick 203-975-8833

Roommates

Male graduate stucterit looking for Malefamala Hommasats) for throo bedroom on Lameastef 1500.

FOR RENT

Apartments

2.3.4 bedroon spartmens, foommate situations. Off sifael parking. &undfy. clant, farge. rasasonable.
FOR RENT: 3 BEDRCOOM APARTMENT Westor Sireat fumshed. washer and dryer, parking
Ceal
$487-5751$
FALI & SPAING accapting Senior a Grachazo partmarts, 1 infivial ik Rutas: Baziz turisiven An art located next to E S. F. campus on Oaktand and Standant Sis. Thesta apartments are in an ex cotlent $Y$ block wailing hocation and ant nicely turrishod with beds, coys, erossers and ivingropm turniturs. Call 673-1344 lor a choice studera apt University Ave. Fumshed 3 bedroont ilar: laundry, lease, security dsposit $$ $ 25.00$ plus uifries $445-1229$ AVAILABLE TOOAY! ONES TWO BEDROOM APAFTMENTS Kitchar, Evingroom. Dathrom. 3420.5485 mak. Cail Manta $E: 30-400,443-2567$.
soin a prap rent a unyta a Bbaspons, or a whole touse. Morgenthoberts hasi Estata has some excosort. fulyturnimed unts available now Cat Tm Engets to insper $445-88$ th why wanted Huge 4 Bedroom apl Ackerman Ave. REWOOELED 1991, Jurnithed, Laundry, fireplace, of streat parking. Will take singlifs. 3225 . per bedreon.
$446-2299,4245619$
 tree parkirg. laundry lease stcuty deposih

UNVERSTTY STUDENTS SANGLE BEDROOH UNITS: Siaro kitchen. Dath Fumblead hasted. capprod Laundry mierromive. Eableity. Nica. Close ro camples. $\mathbf{2 2 5 0 .}$. $\$ 295$. Coniplete.
$474,1303,4743303$

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Studio gats. Swored buiting. Luxady rom. Ho path
APAFTMENT FOF RENT gram Abdim apanment andabla. large iumizhod apd, mont to E.S. F. Oak-

PRIVAIE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS vary elose. Secure Quiat Carpelad Ai Corremioned. Leundry. Patking. Univorsiry Area Apts.
 Secumy dergosi 428-0853

Houses

Universty Ave, 5 bedroom houwe anly $$ 1250.00$ plus undixes; fumished, lauminy. lease. securty aposicia,

Rooms

 $$ 250 \mathrm{~mol}$ 46-9596
Subier avalable in nica house. $$ 300.00$. Share iving space. Ouict beation, huwtery, yard. Mark 42 4885.

ROOMS FOR RENT. 2 Locatorns $$ 250$ inchuding wities. 212 phts ulities. Futhashed Laundry Fmplaco. 428-1331
Camiape hause rooms for rert: Walkut Ane. 2 locks trom Library. Irchudes parixing and utilities ALS-AK32/DAYS, 46-4604EYES.

PERSONALS

antria Cric Even trough in wis a day lata. our rctory cabobration was so proant Ard well daseserved y hus raam of rovi. hey giss. The rain thas come lof youlir Love. the Seters ard Pledpoes of DPfti.
AYO. Tharks for another great B 80 wel boty a trixy man you yegin socon Love Pi PHt
Betz Hope prat wixyod your timat ume. Though - ve dene it befora, toing in whet yce was such an romoriest tove the sisters and plodges of Chi Omegn

To the Erothers of Lambda Chi Apha! Thank you for nopering your house to the Sasions ol Sigma Ksiopa for Putith 19911 We spppeciase you suppont Saranc. in DPrie: What goes around comas around and this time i was tor your Sulprsell Congrean ant Sheticy in DPTiE: Dom strensil Parants weekend wil be awesorne! Love. MCS and JAE.

Temin DPTEE: Thaxks for a grear wowkend to wer come back our ahrmi You died an awesome pob makmy the weekend so special for all Love, your Sisters and Pledpes volese lyouse. We acmite your hard work, I certanly pard ofl with your 1991 Marguarite Fishes Undencraviai the ar Prize Award. Congraluaions. Chi) tove The sissers and Plodges.
Srephaniw Narzaro, You warg an ourstanding youl The sixters and piedges of CNi Ornegr.

CET: from the linnos wo the roses yeu pave pur now 2ET: from the hinnos wo the roses yeu pave our now forget Thanss for a great paryil Love, the Siaters fonget Phanges of DPtin.
Congrays to DPhiE's newesr cha ipeopia: Kantnne. clare, Wendy and Gail. We know youlit do preasil Love, your Sistars and Pledges.

To al THETA sisters-

OUR HOUSE is a wery. very, very fra house.
Dont later it
Soe you on Sunday-

SERVICES
LCNE HELLEF: INFORMATION THAT WILL CHANGE YOUA LFE PROVEN EFFECINE SEND $$ 300$ TO SKIN CARE CENTEA, 975 WASH NGION, A BANYY, NY IZZNE.
MATH - TUTOANG SERVIGE AVARABEE 422-5096.
Your Fuvorte Bund, Cartaon Charrictor or Your Mom! I will pairt aryitung on your darim jackat. Coramer Paut 682 808s.

Privale Drwing Lossors. Pick-up sarnce. Fud and afreshar courses. ONONDAGA DAIVING ACADENY 476-3895.
Fyping. for all yout typing reade. lenera mantuervis, dissortators, otc. Call fuat Dowey at $652-5814$.
Word Proctaseling. Lisor rasumex. Typing Fast um-aroung COMPITERS & COPES, Marahal Q above Acrupolis. 47t-0930

HORSEAACK RDNG, $$ 12 . \mathrm{mr}, $ 15.1 \mathrm{Km}$. Pivate:
 Stablo- Tu4, / Prabid 607-749. 3593.
 Analyze your stuangtins and idemify your Wastresses. Cal the Rorkin Educationul Grour-425-5000
Jungian pzyeotherapy. Liednsad naive Behaveral Associates. 475-8505.
Thtoring in Psychology. Ad courses and leverels Protessor Elerman, 4740824.

Fasi, ackuate TYPNG done in my mome Call Matiene, an execuive secretary worl 15 yts axperence Roascrabie rates. 6995270

ADOPTION

FREE HALSTERS noed good nome. Culta. easy
o eare foe. (Banes) cal $425-8148$

OTIS THE ELEVATOR BY C-CRIT AGENT PETE

NAKED MAN

SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES
BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

FEVER

 stories, too. A firl, sittingin summer dreaming of love and far She was longing to go.. That, Lcan do. It's my Ileave to Ineave to some other story teller. but no stary is ever really madevp..
She was longing to go...

EVIL TWIN

BY TWO JERKIES

NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODİ MEADOWS TOP 3 REASONS 3 THE CAP NCRUNCH PIT: TORUSH

1. THE DRUNKENGIRLS RAIN: YOU CANDO ANYTHING 400 WAN T TO THEM!

BY KATIE KITCHEN

BY RYAN MD
BY FAJITA PARTY

ADVENTURES OF

P

BY SLIM
(JJ. Presents...
The Field Guide to the AMERICAN PRINCESS

ADV. HO NR
THERE, in THE HALLS OF GOOGINAWANAH HGGH. STOOD
THE MIGHTY MATM METIIAN; LITTLE HIGH-A-WATE

2. Place Hair through Cap

BY
 1. Pronnunce 'trog' like 'dawg'

FOR RENT

Safe and Convenient Apartments
-Kitchen -1 & 2 Bedroom Apts. ($420-$485) -Livingroom - Bathroom - Laundry - Utilities Included -Off Street Parking
-Campus Bus Line

ASK FOR MARIE 8:30-4:00  443-2567

Dimeo stays on the run

By TOM DOWD

Contributing Writer
As center midinelder on the Syracuse University field hockey team, "Traci Dimeo is required to play both offense and defense. She distributes the ball to the offense and rums along in tranoffense sition.
If her off-thenfield activities are any indication, midfield is a position she is well-suited for.

Dimeo, a senior co-captain.
likes to keep just as active off the field as she is on.
She was raised in Bridgeton. N.J., and grew up on the beach at nearby Ocean City, where she picked up most of her hobbies, such as jet-skiing, surfing, and water-skiing. When the beach weather fades, she loves beach weather fades, she to gnow-sking as well to go snow-sking as well.
Dimeo, a senior co-captain, Dimeo, a senior co-captain, is not on the field for fun, though. Being voted as a captain is something she takes very

EAGLES

Continued from Page 24
would be forced to mark me or Eric, or push up and mark the guy coming through with the ball. They had to make a deciseriously.
"It's an honor." she said. "It makes you feel like they believe in you."

Coach Kathleen Pariker said the Orangewomen picked a captain who leads by example.
"She's just a hard worker," Paricer said. "It doesn't matter Paricer sast. it's a practice or a game if it's a practice or a game against Pent State. She's the against Penn State. She's the type of person that, when she type of person that, when she says something, people will lissays something, people will listen."

Name: Traci Dimeo
Height; 5-foot-4
Age: 22
Hornetown: Bridgeton, N.J.
Major: Retailing
Favorite food: Lasagna
Favorite TV show: The Wonder Years
Favorite movie: Silence of the Lambs Favorite music: "Anything but country."
sion. That's when they got catught."

Frank said the Orangemen won because they were the better team, not because his Purple Eakles played a bad game.

SU spotlight

Traci

Dimeo
Field Hockey

Best field hockey memory: When we beat Providence last year because they were ranked above us and nobody thought we would win."
Biggest field hockey disappoint Biggest field hockey disappointment: "When we lost to Villanova last year," Goals for this year: "Win the Big East Tournament and hopefully make it to the NCAA's." long term plans: teaching
"We did our best out there" Frank said. "We had four or five subs. They had a whole other team they could've subbed in. They're the best team we've played this year. We're happy with a 5-0 score."

COMICS

CONTEST

こONTINUES!
REMEMBER
TO DROP OFF YOUR BALLOT IN AN ORANGE
CAMPUS
MAIL BOX OR BRING IT BY
THE DAILY ORANGE.

744 OSTROM AVENUE

EAST

Continued from Page 24 and 25 players made their first collegiate start.

The young team is now a year older, but the injuries continue. Defensive starters Leroy Axem, Darrick Wiley and Boris. Graharrick are among eight battered Mountaineers, but none of the injuries are serious.
"We've got some momentum right now," Nehlen said. "I almost wish we had a game this week, except for the injuries.

The momenturn comes in large part from an impressive performance last week at Maryland. The Mountaineers stomped out 334 yards rushing in their 37-7 victory.

Leading the WVU ground attack was junior Adrian Murrell, who pounded the Terrapin defense for 141 yards on 20 carries.
"That's our game. we're a Funning team." said Nehlen. "The win was a great victory for us. For the most part, our team stayed focused and did a good job."

Murrell, the Big East's leading rusher, has been the key for the Mountaineers this season. After four contests, Murrell is averaging five yards per carry and 108 yards per game.

Big matchups

Big East mernbers Pittsburgh, Boston College and Virginia Tech will defend the conference name as they visit Big 10 members Minnesota and Penn State and Big 8 member Oklahoma this weekend.

Undefeated Pitt visits the MetrodomeSaturday for a nationallytelevised contest with Minnesota. The Golden Gophers were pummelled 58-0 by Colorado last weekend.
Boston Callege, 0-3, will look for its first victory of the season at Penn State Saturday, The No. 10 Nittany Lions; 2-1, are the thirdconsecutivenationallyranked team on the Eagles' murderous schedule.
According to BC coach Tom Coughlin, the Eagles must stop Penn State's offense from controlling the clock.
"Penn State is playing the way they want to play, with ball control," Coughlin said. "We're going to have to get the ball back-if we're going to want to win."

No. 6 Okiahoma, 2-0, hosts Virginia Tech, 1-2.

Hokies coach Frank Beamer had nothing but praise for Oklahad not "Oklahoma is a great, great football team," Beamer said.
"Their defense, I think, is their real strength. It is one of the most aggressive defenses I have ever seen. They just fly to the ball and get there in an angry mood.'
According to Pittsburgh coach Paul Hackett, more is at stake than simply a win.
I think some very big issues are at stake here," Hackett said. We have a lot of pride in the Big East and in Pittsburgh football. Yes, there is a clear-cut clash between Big 10 and Big East football here.

MEMBERSHIP MEETING

THURSDAY

$$
4-5: 00 \mathrm{PM}
$$

"ang inyong estudyante pera gumagawa PARA SA INYO."
A.IS.S.U.

AMERICANMARKETNGASSOCATION

Who? Management Students

| What? | First meeting of the year  opportunity to network  Gef to know your AMA Rep. |
| :--- | :--- |
| WOM Room 215 |  |

When? Tharsday, September 26, 1991 6:30 pm

Speakers: Dean George Burman

Professor David Wilemon
Refreshments will be served at $6: 30 \mathrm{pm}$
Don't miss out on the fun!!
Come join us!!

FILIPINI STUPENT ORGANIZATION

HALL OF LANGUAGES ROOM 211

> DELT and SIGMA KAPPA A WINNING COMBINATION: To the Brothers of Delta Tau Delta. Thank-you for your support in making The Sonecoming 91' a huge success!

Sports

Weekday games promote money, not academics

Suppose you're a college student. What would you be doing on a Thursday night?
Maybe catching up on some reading or studying or maybe even going out. But. if you're a member of the UCLA or San Diego State football teams, you'd be playing-

JOSH
BARNETT
SPORTS OPINION

Orange blast Niagara, 5-0

SU forward Nino Galich, left, battles Niagara's Trent Melton for a looseball in the Orangemen's 5-0 win Wednesday night in the Carrier Dome. Galich had two goals and one assist.

By JEFF ELBAUM  Staiti Writer

Usually, when a soccer gonlie gives up five goals, he gets pulled out of the garne.
On Wednesday night in the Carrier Dome, Niagara University goalie Jason Frank gave up five goals and he was named the player of the game.
Frank faced 27 shots, as Syracuse University, 4-3. defeated Niagara 5-0 behind two goals each from Nino Galich and Eric Puls.
"I thought the keeper played an excellent game." SU coach Dean Foti said.
Frank said he felt like he was the recipient of a launching pad
"Each time we cleared the ball down the field, they were right back down on us," Frank said. "It was like a rubber band snapping back at you. They were coming right down the field, one after another."
The Orangemen's early play was highlighted by near misses.

West Virginia

By MIKE BUSH

By MiKE BU Staff Writer

A university's 100 th anniversary of college foothall is meant to be a time of celebration.

So when West Virginia began its second century being mauled by Pittsburgh 34-3 at home, Mountaineer fans thought they had reason to end the party before it started.

But since the opening day disappointment, the squad has turned the season around. WVU heads into an open weekend with a 3-1 record, and more importantly, mornentum.

According to head coach Don Nehlen, the Mountaineers have shaken off the loss to the Panthers.
${ }^{\text {oss }}$ In our Pittsburgh game, the only people down on us after that game were the media," Nehlen said. "Our guys have tried to get better every week and I think they have.

Young connected on an Eric Puls cross from the corner. Frank barely deflected the ball over the net.

At 3:00, Doug Prouty, a freshman making his first SU start, had a goal disallowed due to an offsides call.

However, the Orangemen did finally get on the scoreboard at 11:29 on Galich's first goal of the season.

Galich nailed a Puls rebound under the crossbar to give the Orangemen the $1-0$ lead.
The Orangemen made the score $2-0$ at 34:19 when Puls struck on a pass from Prouty.

Prouty, a walk-on with only one other appearance this season, filled in well for the injured Malcolm Grace. He consistently won the man-to-man battles against the Purple Eagles players., aid "He's a good player. He's somi said. "He's a good player. He's someone who walked on to the team. I made a mistake in not inviting him to preseason. He should have been here."
The Orangemen's next two goals. which were almost identical, occurred only 1:44 apart.

celebrates THIS.WEEK

The Mountaineers ended their 1990 season with a 4-7 record, matching the 1986 squad's dubious distinction as the worst finish in Nehlen's 12-year tenure.

Problems arose last season from injuries and inexperience, ss 32 Mountaincers went down at one time or another

Galich scored his second on a cross from Puls at 67:04. and then Young scored on a perfect cross from Galich at 68:48 to make the score 4-0.

Galich said SU likes to use the play where a player dribbles the ball down the sidelines and crosses it to a teammate breaking down the middle.
"We use that play a lot," Galich said. It's a good set-up."
At 72:20, Puls ended the scoring for the Orangemen as he skirted past the last defender and faked out the goalie. giving him an open net to shoot at.

Puls, last week's Big East offensive player of the week, nailed home his second of the game and fourth of the season to cap the 5-0 victory for Syracuse.
Syracuse goalies Steve Pollnow and Charlie Wilke combined for a one-save shutout.

Galich said the Orangemen's superior team speed enabled him and Puls to get open more often than in other games.
"What happened was that when our midfield got the ball they'd beat their men," Galich said. 'Then their defenders See EAGLES Page 22

| AP TOD 2 |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Record | Points | Pvs. |
| 1. Florida State (48) | 3-0 | 1.486 | 1 |
| 2. Mami (8) | $2-0$ | 1,412 | 2 |
| 3. Michigan (1) | 20 | 1.375 |  |
| 4. Washington (I) | 2-0 | 1.365 | 4 |
| 5. Tennessee | 3-0 | 1.191 | 6 |
| 6. Oklahoma | $2{ }^{2-0}$ | 1.166 | 7 |
| 7. Clemson | 2-0 | 1.159 | 8 |
| 8. Notre Darne | 2-1 | 1,000 | 11 |
| 9. Iowa | 2-0 | 993 | 10 |
| 10. Syracuse | 3-0 | 870 870 | 18 |
| Penn Stare | 3-1 | 870 | 12 |
| 12. Baylor | 3-0 | 850 | 14 |
| 13. Auburm | 3-0 | 825 | 13 |
| 14. Florida | 2-1 | 712 | 5 |
| 15. Ohio State | 3-0 | 647 | 16 |
| 16. Nebraska | 2-1 | 548 | 9 |
| 17. Colorado | 2-1 | 534 | 19 |
| 18. Pitesburgh | 3-0 | 503 | 20 |
| 19. Georgia Tech | 2-1 | 498 | 17 |
| 20. California | 3-0 | 344 | 24 |
| 21. Mississippi State | 3-1 | 266 | 23 |
| 22. Alabama | 2-1 | 151 | -- |
| 23. North Carolina | 2-0 | 136 | -- |
| 24. Arizona State | $2-0$ | 124 | - |
| 25. Ilinois | 2-1 | 116 |  |

The Daily Orange

Children's advocate blasts nation's educational system

By STEVE DALY

Stasf Writer

Government officials need to make significant changes in the educationa system, a doctor and children's activist said.
Speaking in front of the Thursday Morning Roundtable at University College, Dr Leo Jivofr addressed the bleak future of children and education.
Individual states' and the federal government's approaches to handling education need to change. Jivoff said

Every year I hear some official saying we are turning the corner, or next year will be better," he said. "But we never seem to get there. It just gets worse around every corner
Too much government bureaucracy and poor planning are responsible for the current educational system's failure Jivoff said
The fragmented system slows down workers and makes it harder to achieve goals, he said.
"There are at least 200 different, entirely independent streams of organizations supplying education and welfare benefits for children.
"Rooting out the bureaucracy is a fundamental necessity. Everybody is so tied up dealing with today's problems that no one is preparing for the future."
The state must implement programs The state must implement programs that deal with all issues of child care - from education to child and family from education to child
The amount of money spent on children is staggering and the result is minimal, Jivoff said.

New York stace spent $$ 20.9$ billion last year on education, in addition to $$ 3.7$ billion on programs providing social services for children and $$ 1.3$ billion on foster care.
For all the money spent, however, Jivoff said 25 percent of the children who live in New York fall below the poverty ine and the state has the fifth highest dropout rate in the country.
He also said that in the United States one baby is born to a teenager every minute.
"I can't offer a panacea," Jivoff said. "I do know it starts with the people. The people need to act to change public policy to form a universally aligned network
"We need productive Americans. Those who have a voice must get involved in citizen action.
Jivoff said he advocates a state cabinet department devoted to children's issues. But he said the state is not ready.
"If we can develop standards and operating procedures for all services and linkages, we will be significantly better off," he said. "But there are no plans to create a policy that will achieve this.
Jivoff has been practicing medicine for 37 years at Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse.

He also founded Syracuse's first hospice, a place for the terminally ill
TMR is a weekly community discussion group. Although it is not open to the public, it may be heard on WCNY-FM SUndays at 4 p.m. and may be se

| Niagara Mohawk Powar Corporation 500 KWH Residential Bill Analysls |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| NViso Comperison | Fobimmin | atry | seppernber | October |
| Total Bin 1991/ Month | 58123 | $4800 | S4933 | S4781 |
| Total efy 1900/890nth | S4880 | S4ats | $460.71 | $41.96 |
| Diftumetins. | $23 | 5441 | $02 | $5885 |
| Ditimence tin $x$ x | 48 | 100\% | 50\% | 130\% |
| 1907 Comt of Fin | 52221 | $11.70 | 79.7 | $11.78 |
| 1800 Coot of Find | $1550 | $30.74 | $1128 | $951 |
| Morther Coat/ 1991 | $3004 | 53800 | $ 7125 | 53503 |
| Nonfue Cost 11890 | 50330 | $59345 | 53545 | 52335 |

Niagara Mohawk among 50 most expensive electric utilities

By IACK CHAN  Staff Writer

The Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation is reported to be among the 50 most expensive electric utilities in the country this year, due primarily to an approved three-year plan for rate increases, according to Bill Romano, communications administration specialist for NiMo customer service.

The approved plan from the Public Service Cornmission will help NiMo increase its financial stability after it suffered a $21 / 2$ year-long earnings problem, according to a Thomson Financial Network report.

Residential customers have already experienced a rate increase this year. Romano said. There may be another rate increase in July 1992, the report stated. The rate increase will strengthen the utility company: in return, it will benefit the customers, Romano said.
The customers get a return if the utility is healthy financially," he said. "It pays for the utility customer to have a healthy utility."

Meeting performance merit goals will allow utility companies to increase their utility bill, he said. Rates are based on cost but also based on various types of incentive merits."

The Criteria

"Utility companies have certain performance indicators that are negotiated to between the utility and the Public Service Commission," he said.
If the utilities achieve those merits they receive extra money from the customers, he said. It is similar to performance bonuses
He said bills also go up depending upon how cold the winter is.
"If the year before was a warmer winter than last winter your bill goes up regardless of rates," he said.

Romano said the bottom line for residential customers this winter is that there will not be any dramatic rate changes. The changes customers have seen are already in place, he said.
Although NiMo is ranked as the 47th-most-expensive utility in the See NIMO Page A4

Slick Cycling

Junior political science major Ted O'Rourke rides behind Hinds Hall after the rains cleared Iate Thursday afternoon.

BGSA looks to form bond between SU, community

By MARK A. BROUSSEAL
Asst. News Editor
Although the Black Graduate Student Association is striving for recognition on campus, the group is active in the community and on campus.
The BGSA gives acadernic, professional and social support by maintaining ties with the Syracuse community and with campus organizations, BGSA President Bill Durant said.
The 30-member group is comprised of black graduate students, international students and students from SUNY Upstate Medical Center.
He said one of the group's activities is working with members of the Hilltop Housing Project on Fayette Street on Saturday afternoons.
"We spend time with kids and act as role models, giving them things to do." he said.

Durant said the BGSA organizes sports events and takes the kids to campus to get them interested in college
"They do not have an opportunity to realistically think they can attend a school like $\operatorname{SU}$," he said.

Working with undergraduates

Durant said the BGSA sponsors panel discussions for undergraduates, encouraging them to attend graduate school.
"We want undergraduates to use us as a resource," he naid.
"We try to attract undergraduates to apply and enroll in graduate schools, Durant said.

The main issue is making the general population aware of scholarships for graduate school," he said.

We try to find out the profile of black graduate students and what type of assistance they need," he said.

We measure our success rate in terms of the amount of accepted students that go here." he said.

See BCSA Page A6

Inside

Classified
Comics
Editorial
News Extra
Prism
Sports
Weather

Get struck

So you don't think Syracuse has anything cultural to offer? You'll be pleasantly surprised in the Salt City. Check out the Art Struck activities downtown this weekend in Prism
B2

World

Troops in Soviet

Georgia attack dissidents

 of Zviad Gamsakhurdia, the president of Soviet Republic of Georgia, in the embattled southern republic yesterday, opposition leaders said.Tengiz Kitovani, commander of the rebel national guardsmen who have broken with the president, said at least two of the attackers were wounded and may have died.
The Tass news agency, however, reported four Interior Ministry troops died and "many" were wounded.

The Georgian government had no comment on the reported attack, and the Soviet Interior Ministry in Georgia repoviet interior Mo incidents involving its forces ported no

U.N. votes for arms  embargo on Yugoslavia

The United States and itother countries on the United Nations Security Council Wednesday broadened a European arms embargo on warring Yugoslapean arms embargo on war via to a worldwide action.

The United States blamed Serbia and the often-allied Yugoslav military for much of the bloodshed.

The vote did not specify provisions for enforcing the embargo. There also was no call to dispatch a U.N. force to halt the fighting, which has claimed at least 500 lives since Croatia and Slovenia declared independence in June.

Canada, Australia and other U.N. members have said they would support fighting threatens international peace.

The council, giving its full support to European Cornmunity peace efforts, called on Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar to consult with the Yugoslav government and parties on how the United Nations can help.

Nation

Wage gap narrows

between the sexes

The wage gap between males and females has narrowed to its lowest point in history, the Labor Department recently reported.

Women's hourly wages now total 78 percent of men's, and average weekly earnings are 75 percent.

Similar wages between the sexes can be attributed to a downturn in men's wages.
According to the U.S. Census Bureau, men's median annual earnings were three percent lower in 1989 than in 1969. Women's earnings during the same period increased 10 percent.
"There's been a change in the attitude of employers," said Barbara Bergmann, an American University professor who specializes in women's wages. "The barriers are breaking down."
A representative from the National A representative from the National rise in women's hourly and weekly wages, their annual earnings have rewages, their annual earnings have retend to work fewer hours over a year's tend time.

Committee puts final  touches on crime bill

The House Judiciary Committee is completing an anti-crime bill that would ban some assault-style weapons and expand the federal death penalty.

The panel plans to debate death penalty issues before completing action on the $$ 1.1$ billion package, which contains several important differences from the version the Senate passed in July.

The bill is expected to expand the federal death penalty to cover 48 crimes. The Senate bill, which is supported by President Bush and opposed by civil libertarians, allows executions without requiring prosecutors to prove that defendants intended to kill their victims. The House bill would ban 13 types of assauit-style weapons.

State

Farmer claims Army  helicopter scared cows  A Belfort farmer said repeated fly-

 overs over his farm by a low-flying Army helicopter caused his cows to cower and reduce their milk production,Todd Lyndaker said the helicopter flew over his farm on Aug. 22 and again last week only 50 to 60 feet above the ## ground.

He said his 50 -cow herd ran for cover. The helicopter was searching for mari## juana.  Rabbi sues Cardinal

over remarks

Rabbi Avraham Weiss of the Bronx is suing Polish Roman Catholic Cardinal Jozep Glemp for libel, slander and defamation of character after Weiss claimed Glemp made anti-Semitic remarks during a demonstration in 1989.
Weiss said Glemp told a group of Jewish protesters near Auschwitz in Poland that Jews wanted to kill nuns and destroy a convent near the former Nazi death camp.
"Cardinal Glemp knew it was a lie," said Alan Dershowitz, Weiss ${ }^{*}$ lawyer, whose clients also include Claus von Bulow and Leona Helmsley. "Clearly, he was fanning the flames of antihe was fanning the flam

Glemp was served a summons notifying him of the suit Wednesday from a process server outside Albany's Cathedral of the Inmaculate Conception. He is on a tour of more than a dozen cities in the United States.

Woman gives birth in  hospital waiting room

A woman gave birth in the admitting room of Harlem Hospital in New York on Sunday morning after staff members told her the maternity room was overcrowded.

Charlesetta Brown, 23, was in the final stages of labor when she arrived at the hospital. The baby was delivered only by the ambulance crew that brought her there.

University

Study probes stress  related to caregiving

Two Syracuse University faculty members are examining determinants of good mental and physical health among spouse caregivers. Husbands and wives caring for a spouse with Alzheimer's disease or Parkinson's disease are needed for the study.
Karen Hooker, assistant professor of psychology, and Deborah Monahan, assistant professor of social work, are examining the stress and strain of caregivers and how some deal with the problem better than others.
"Numerous studies have shown that caring for a spouse who suffers from dementia or memory loss, such as that accompanying Alzheimer's disease, is very stressful and may affect the health of the caregiver," Hooker said. "However, few studies have directly compared caregivers of patients with different disease processes," she said.

Hooker said the disease symptoms are quite different. "Alzheimer's disease patients show primarily cognitive impairments, while Parkinson's disease patients show primarily physical impairments," she said.

Results of the study will help researchers and human service providers understand the stresses and strains of specific types of caregiving, Monahan said. "This is important because previous whether has shown that the decisen one is better predicted by variables associated with the caregiver than the level of impairment in the patient." she said.
impairment in the patient, she said. National Institute of Mental Mealth.

National Institute of Mental Fealth.
Participation in the project involves Participation in the project involves a brief interview, which can be done in the person's horne or at the university. Participant their time.

For more information contact Karen Hooker at 443-3737.

WEATHER

Absolut Chicago
-It'll be as brisk as the Windy City in Syracuse today. Just be thankful we're not in Orlando where 55 mph winds hit Disneyworld. Expect cioudy periods with a possibility of showers. Winds will be from the west at around 20 mph, but will pick up tonight. The wind chill factor is back and could drop us to as lowas 25.

Saturday

We'll have a partly cloudy day with very cool temperatures.
Lows will be in the 30 s and Lows will be in the 30 s and there's a 30 percent chance of theres a 30 percent chance of showers. Good thing the football game's in the Superdome.

Surnday

The weekend will brighten up Sunday with sunny periods and highs around 55. We'll be back to the old grind Monday with scattered showers and temperatures in the upper 40 s .

Temperatures across the country

Atlanta
Chicago
Dallas
Los Angeles
Miami.
New York
Philadelphia
Philadelphia.
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.
.s0andhumid!

The Daily Orange

The Daily Otange is Syracuse University's independent atudent-run newspaper published Monday through Friday.
The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Sience and Foreetry campuaes and SUNY Environmental Science and Foreatry camptues.
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thurdey.

Newe: 449-2127Editorial: 443-2128Lifemtyle: 443-2128Stenylo: 443-2128Buginese/Advertinins: 433-2314 Mon-Fri B:30 =.m. $-4: 30$ p.mi)

News Extra

Iraq, U.N. struggle for arms documents  ment of United Nations inspectors reported Monday that they had found documents detailing Saddam Hussein's clandestine nuclear weapons program. Iraqi officials seized the documents after a 12 -hour

JOSEPH

 BURTON BELL
NEWS

ANALYSIS

On June 28, a U.N. team seeking entry to an Iraqi military base was turned back when Iraqi soldiers fired their weapons into the air. The soldiers tried to prevent the team from photographing trucks

The United Nations condemned Iraq's actions and Baghdad said they would grant the inspectors the access they needed.

Uncovered 48 sites

So far U.S. intelligence has uncovered 48 sites where Iraq has stored nuclear parts. Speaking on "The McLaughlin Group." Clarence Page, of The Chicago Tribune, said the current situation in Iraq "is a reminder that we haven't gotten the big prize, which is Saddam Hussein himself. He is still there and capable of mischief."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., noted the Iraqi leader has consistently broken the U.N. cease-fire agreement. Gore said although the United Nations told Sad dam not to fly his helicopters against the Kurds, "we explicitly allowed him to do that and sat back and watched while the Kurds were being slaughtered. The same

Speaking on CNN's "Newsmaker Saturday," Gore said after inciting the rebellion of the Kurds, Washington should have followed through with actual support. Such aid was not forth coming. Gore asserted, because "Saudi Arabia and Syria believed that the best way to maintain order in Iraq is with a brutal and repressive regime there ... that policy has to be changed to get rid of Saddam and his regime.

Gore maintains that U.S. policy should support the people in Iraq who want self-determination...not this cynical policy of propping up Saddam. That's why he's slow-walking us now and we'll continue to have this trouble until we change our basic policy objective."

Detention

On Tuesday, the U.N. team was once again detained by Iraqi soldiers, this time in the parking lot of a Baghdad office building. The inspectors were surrounded by the soldiers as they tried to leave the site with papers and videotape.

David Kay, leader of the U.N. team, said the documents provide information on Iraqi personnel involved in the nuclear that program as well as information tying facilities, that up until now the Iraqis have claimed had no relationship to their nuclear weapons program, dito their nuclear weap rectly to that. program.

Iraqंs Ambassador to the United Nations, Abdul Amir Al-Anbari, has said "As far as the inspectors are concerned, they are helped and given access to everything as long as they behave in accordance to the resolutions of the Security Council ... if they go after anything which is illegal or endangers the life of Iraqi scientists, as they have done today ... we believe this is quite improper.
Nuclear proliferation expert Gary Milhollin concludes that the team has apparently found "proof that Iraq is in apparently found proof that iraq is in the process of designing a nuclear warhead and aiso ... the documents showing head and aiso ... the d the supplier network.

Iraq's Deputy Prime Minister Tariq Aziz has called David Kay a CIA agent. Aziz said, "This is an espionage mat ter. This has nothing to do with U.N. business. it is CIA business and this man (David Kay) wants to collect information about the people who work in this project, not for purposes of the U.N. but for purposes of the agency itself."
Iraq has offered a proposal to the United Nations which it hopes will end the stalemate between Baghdad and the inspection team. On Wednesday afternoon CNN reported that a diplomatic noon CNN reported that a diplomatic Security Council will likely accept the offer.

Iraq is asking for a U.N. envoy to travel to Baghdad. They also demand that each to Baghdad. They also dernand that each document and photograph be cataloged before it is taken away. The Iraqi before it is taken away. The Iraqi any material that has not been cataany material that has not been cataloged. Baghdad is also protesting the loged. Baghdad is also protesting the actions of the inspectors and complaining that too many of them are from the United States.
The incident in the Baghdad parking lot is the most recent in a series of episodes that has confronted the United Nations in its effort to deny Saddam Hussein chemical, biological and nuclear weapons. The New York Times has noted that this existing tension does not represent a "permanent peace but a continuation of a tenuous truce."

with the Shiites in the south program and "information on procure-  Recyclable notebooks receive mixed response

Using recycled paper for new notebooks may be a trend in the future, but for local bookstores the current trend seems to be paying off.
Recyclable notebooks are more popular on campus Recyclable notebooks are more popular on campus his year than last, and are expected to gain more this year than last, and are expected to gain more popularity in the near future, according to Syracuse popularity in the near future, according to Sy University Bookstore manager Mareah Porter. this fall than non-recyclable notebooks even though they cost more, Porter said.
"They were the first ones to sell out," Porter said. This year there are more environmentallyconscientious students on campus.
"We've gradually increased quantities and selections to recyclable binders, steno pads, envelopes and note pads," Porter said. "Price has not been much of a consideration."
At the Orange Student Bookstore in Marshall Square Mall, however, recyclable notebook sales have not been as high, said Ward Stevens, general merchandising manager of the store.
Stevens said that even though this year's sales were better than last year's, the notebooks still did not sell as quickly as the non-recyclable notebooks.
Both The University Bookstore and Orange Student Bookstore sell Ampad and Denison recyclable singlesubject and writing pad notebooks.

The Ampad notebook pads that sell at 89 cents sold just as well as Denison standard notebook pads (which also cost 89 cents)," Stevens said.
But, non-recyclable or "standard" single-subject notebooks, retailed at 99 cents, are being sold more quickly than the recyclable notebooks, retailed at $$ 1.99$.

While The University Bookstore had done equally as well on sales of both kinds of notebooks, the Orange Student Bookstore's standard notebooks were more popular than the recyclable notebooks, Stevens said.
-People would be more apt to buy if prices wer People would be more apt to
According to John Klungness, a chemical engineer at the United States Department of Agriculture Forest Service and Forest Products Laboratory in Wisconsin. efforts for making recyclable paper more economical in the future are currently underway.
Takes waste, less filling "Recycled paper is made from the fibers of waste paper," Klungness said."We can clean up the paper (clear paper spots to look like a clear, bright sheet), but it would be an expensive job."

Klungness explained that experiments are being conducted to enhance the strength of recycled paper conducted to enthance the strength of recycled paper fibers to make the paper more economical for consumers.
Less trees would be destroyed because more waste paper fibers would take the place of tree fibers, He lungness said
He said that since landfills are no longer solely relied upon for storing paper, the future does not seem as bleak as it had in the past.
"Landfills were like tombs," Klungness said. "It would be completely dry, and the paper would never decay (since moisture is what causes paper decay)."
"Now, we are recycling at a rate of up to 30 percent. as opposed to the 25 percent rate just three years ago." he said. "We should be recycling at 40 percent by 1995 ."
Klungness believes that people should follow the practices of commercial forests that produce fibers for paper.

"Clear-cutting trees isn't bad. The secret is to replant,"he said.

NIMO

Conlinued from Page Al nation. it remains the leastexpensive of theseven New Yorkbased electric utilities in the annual survey conducted by the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissions (NARUC).

Romano said NiMo's monthly residential electric bill is about $$ 49.33$ for 500 kilowatt-hours. He said downstiate utilities probably pay close to $$ 70$, or more. for the same amount of kilowattfor the hours.

Romano pointed out that this month's bill increase was attributed to the increased cost of fuel.

A NiMo report said the average bill per customer in Autust was $$ 48.70-$ with $$ 9.14$ directly attributed to fuel costs. Cost of fuel in September rose to $$ 9.77$ which caused the average bill for September to increase to $$ 49.33$.

Compared to October 1989, when the study began, bill figures rose 6.6 percent - about $$ 7.37$.

Rates are based on a lot of things." he said. "You take all of your costs to run the business and you put a baseline. That baseline is going to be about the same for all the utilities," same for all the utilities."
what differs one utility from another has a great deal to do with what type of fuel it uses," Romano said.

NiMo uses what he called a good fuel mix of natural gas. coal, hydropower and oil.

Long Island Lighting or Con Edison have a big charge added to their baseline cost because they have to buy huge quantithey have to buy huge quantities of oil to make their electricties of oil to ity, hesaid.

NiMo does not use as much oil: therefore. its electricity is cheaper, Romano said, NARUC reports the yearly rates of all of the utilities. NiMo may be in the top 50 mostexpensive utilities in the nation. but said, "Like any other economic picture, it"s a snapshot in time."

However, it depends when that snapshot is taken.
"If Niagara Mohawk gets rated during this 'window' when they were looking at all the numbers and Niagara gets a numbers and Niagara gets a the other utilities are below the other utilities Niagara's," he said.

Gelting up in two months

"If you waited two months and took that picture again, maybe other utilities get their rates up." he said. If the picture is taken over a progression of years, electric rates tend to average out.

NiMo serves most of upstate
New York from Albany to Buf-

F.Y.I.

Heart walk/run

to benefit AHA

The American Heart Association will sponsor the Cortland County Heart Walk/Run on Sunday.

Prizes given to the top fundraiser include a weekend at Niagara Falls. Incentive packages are available to all participants.

Races of different lengths. ranging from one mile to 10 ranging from one mill be held. For more km, will be held. For $m$ information, call $446-8334$.

'Dessert theatre'

to feature sweets
Theatre a la Carte, under the direction of Earl Colvin, Will present a "dessert theatre" at May Memorial Unitarian Society, 3800 E . Genesee $\mathrm{St}_{\mathrm{t}}$, on Saturday.
falo. It has about 1.3 million electric customers.

Syracuse University purchases electricity from NiMo; however, the system on campus belongs to the university, he snid.

Romano said the university is considered a commercial customer and is not mixed with the data of its residential customers.

The average residential electricity use around the university is 1500 .kilowatt-hours per month.

NiMo is different from most other utility companies since it does not have a service call charge, Romano said.
"The cost is built into our baseload," Romano said. "Other utilities don't do that; the customer gets an added service call charge.'

Romanosaid utilities are measured in service by how short the outages are and how quickly it gets electricity back when the lights go out. NiMo's service is $99.96 \%$ efficient, he said.

The program will begin at 7 pm. and will feature a variety p.m. and will feature a varicty of one-act plays. both comedy and drama.

Desserts and beverages will be served during intermission. Admission is $$ 7$, and proceeds benefit the May Memorial Unitarian Society.

Ben Bradlee

to talk on WCNY

Ben Bradlee, former executive editor of The Washington Post, will be featured on WCNYTV Channel 24's Talking With David Frost tonight at 10 .

Bradlee, best known for his supervision of the Watergate investigation, will be the first of a series of guests on Emmy Award-winning journalist Frost's program this season.
Future guests include Ted Turner, chairman of Turner Broadcasting System (TBS).

FOR RENT

Safe and Convenient Apartments
-Kitchen $\quad-1$ \& 2 Bedroom Apts. (\$420-s485)

- Livingroom
- Bathroom
-Laundry - Utilities Included -Off Street Parking
-Campus Bus Line
ASK FOR MARIE 8:30-4:00

443-2567

Editorial

Spending or saving?

Downsizing seems to be contagious in Syracuse.

It appears Onondaga County is falling victim to the lack of federal and state funds and the county executive sees no need for change.

County departments are being consolidated into larger organizations to streamline the local government systerm. The plan is designed to cut much of the bureaucratic red tape needed to acquire necessary project funding, sending project managers to the head of their own organization to receive funding.

But throughout the entire process, County Executive Nicholas Pirro, who is up for reelection this November, is proposing an increase in spending of 5.7 percent in the next year, claiming money saved after 150 county workers retire in the next week will finance the spree. The money is expected to total nearly $$ 1.5$ million. The county legislature continues to fight the request.

While it is true the proposal would save the county millions of dollars, Pirro's proposed spending venture would cost Onondaga $$ 674.8$ million. This amount seems exorbitant considering the cuts would effect committees like the Water Quality Management Agency and Emergency Service, both of which are critical to residents and students alike.

Mr. Pirro must rethink his proposed spending plan. If consolidation and layoffs are the only answers Pirro can find to the county's bureaucratic woes, he is not looking hard enough.

SU priorities mixed up

About two weeks ago, I printed a column about the trifling hours of the Archbold free-weight gymnasium.

Well ladies and gentlemen, now I've seen it all. I just wanna know. who is this school here for anyway? Now before you call me a for anyway? Now betore you call me a troublemaker, I want you to really think about this question. I want you to think about who this question. I want you to think about who pays the tuition and who is lowest on the pays the tuition and who is lowest on the JAMAL want you to think about WRIGHI PEOPLE OBSERVER want you to think about the fact that the faculty gets a high-tech, spotless, brand-new looking. supervised weight room while I up early enough to work out in the steel factory that we call a gym. The teachers are paid to teach us, not box us. A high calibergym like the one they have really isn't necessary. like the one they have really isn't necessary. If you don't believe the fact that it is there, go take a look on the lower level of the gym.

And while you're checking that out, think about all of the different construction companies that are getting rich off of this school. Never mind the fact that many students won't even be here next year because of high tuition.

That really isn't important, as long as we keep building. I thought about this.

I thought about how I walked into Brockway on Tuesday and saw special tables in the orner with tablecloths and ropes around hem. I just knew that Michael Jackson was coming to Syracuse. I was wrong. Mr. Shaw was coming to eat with the RAs. I asked nyself, why the ropes? I guess I'm just one of he few people at $S U$ that don't autograph. Think about it.

Think about how all the honors students get to meet Mr. Shaw and shake his hand. Think about how most people don't even know who he is. Obviously, if you want to focus on the wrong people to talk to. Chances are, if you have a 3.8 GPA , you're not having too many problems. If you really want the Brockway problems. If you really want the Brockway Experience, dont eat in a corner with the RAs. ing because of tuition stress. His money is ng because of tuition stress. His money is as good as anyone's, even if he doesn't have as much.
Who works for who?
Who is this school here for?

LETTERS

Ethnic rights in violation

To the editor:
In a letter to The Daily Orange on Sept. 19, Jason Shniderson raises the question of Jewish settlements in the Palestinian territories occupied by Israel, and their impact on the peace process. His letter is filled with historical inaccuracies and misrepresentations, but here I want to focus on only one paragraph. Mr. Shniderson writes. "Think of the protest and indignation that would arise if Jews were banned fromlivingin Hebronville, N.Y. How can it be suggested that Jews should be forbidden from living in the biblical city of Hebron, only a stone's throw from Jerusalem?"

The analogy is specious.

Hebronville, N.Y., is a town in a democratic country, where the inhabitants enjoy guaranteed rights, including the right to vote, and have a say in the affairs of their community. Jews, and others, are free to live in Hebronville, as they should be.

Hebron, Palestine, is a city under military occupation.
Most of the inhabitants of Hebron, the Palestinians, live under a strict set of laws that deny their political, civil and human rights. The Jewish settlers, on the other hand, are protected by the occupying army and have full political rights. A non-Jewish Palestinian living in Hebron, even though he and his ancestors may have lived there for centuries, is subject to harsh martial law; he may have his land confiscated, or may be placed under curfew or arrested at the whim of the Israeli military. A Jewish immigrant, even though he may have arrived from Russia or the U.S. only last week, can settle on land confiscated from the Palestinians, and is protected by the same occupying army that oppresses the non-Jewish Palestinian.

In Hebronville, N.Y., everyone has equal rights regardless of ethnicity. In occupied Hebron, a person's rights are determined by his rights are determined by his ethnicity. It would argue that it is this situation that calls it is "his situation that calis

Miles Dylan
$S U$ emplovee SU employee

Letters Policy

The Dally Orange welcomes letters from its readers. Letters must be typed and double-spaced, and must include a name and a phone number for verification. No letter should exceed two typed pages. Students must include their acadernic year and student group affiliation (if applicable) and faculty and staff their university affiliation. The Daily Orange editorial staff reserves the right to edit letters for space and style.

LETTERS

Ruling educates AXP  To the editor: This letter is in response to  educational in nature rather

This letter is in response to the article printed Thursday, Sept. 12,1991 , regarding the Sept. 12, 1991, Fegarding the Greek Judicial Board hearing for Alpha Chi Rho. Both the headline and the article were blatantly incorrect and misleading. The Board found Alpha Chi Rho guilty of harassment and did impose additional sanctions to what was already administered by their National. As a Board, we are pleased with the guidelines the National has set, and found that instead of further punishment (or discipline) the next step for resolution of this issue is education. than a punitive response. For example, the sensitivity workshop will be presented by the fraternity, in conjunction with both IFC and Panhel. The public is not necessarily privy to the entire outcome of the hearing but the manner in which this articles was presented neglected is investigate the truth of this matter. Rest assured that all parties involved are satistied with the outcome and oul hopes are further Greek Judicial matters will he appropriately representor in The Daily Orange. Thank you.

The addit
Ment

To the editor
This is in response to Julia Doran's letter "Women should hold responsibility" in The Daily Orange on Sept. 26. When I read your letter referring to the recent alleged rape at the Sigma Chi house, I was not pleased, to say the least. Through a veneer of a seemingly aware conscience. you essentially put the blame back on the victim. In other words, you are quick to say that no excuse exists for rape, but add that "if a young wornan drinks halfa bottle of champagne plus five alcoholic champagne plus five alcoholic drinks, she sets herself up as an easy target for rape." You applaud the rape awareness but feel that the alleged victim's "irresponsible behavior" "irresponsible behavior contribute situation.
What irritated me the most was this statement: "Women have a responsibility to themselves ..." What about the MEN? (That is, the "woll" in your statement, "Women are put to the wolves.") Or the alleged rapist in this particular

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971 Edirar in Gibict
Mimazing Editar

BGSA

Continued from Page A1 "We have been successful in attracting black graduate students," he said.
"The majority are in the law program," he said. "Now we want to focus on specialized graduate programs such as Eng- tion with the Black Law School Association to sponsor a voter registration drive at the Hilltop Housing Project, he said.
"We are doing a mentoring program with the kids in the housing project to get them

He said students will get to sample products from local black businesses.
The Graduate Student Or
$$ 4,000$ to the association for this academic year, he said

Durant said he wants to emphasize that the BGSA is an on-campus organization and on-campus organization and ate student organizations on campus.
Durant said anyone interested in joining BGSA can call

IBM can help you through some serious relationships.

Neshing gixes chetr visual impart to complox sulyints like an IHAH Itromat Sysem.

Wilis proticidiefl

 mimric-intrnsite material
 Whange dhe sexy yout liw.

Comating paryfruvional-howking chearts ond griplis has netur inen erisim:

W'bather youre simplify ing a comphis

 Anil nhi, crumbinit mbute tor itat! Visit - Mour cialiputs cuatel for Find on thow 1u mifke an $1 B S$

Cigarettes aren't good for your friends. Adopt a friend who smokes and help em quit today. You'll both be glad tomorrow.

428-0524, or drop a note in' the BGSA mailbox in the GSO ofce.
The BGSA meets eyery other week, alternatingbetween Thursdays at 4 p.m. and Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m. in the Schine Student Center Room 128.
The next BGSA meeting will e Oct. 3.

The Daily Orange PRISIA

Art festival begins today

By KELLY HARTLEY
Contributing Writer

Syracusans know Orangemen, basketbail, Ernie Davis and the Carrier Dome.

But Frank Malfitano, execuive director of the Landmark Theatre, maintains: "The city that lives by the jump shot, dies by the jump shot.:
Three years ago, Malfitano, along with Rose Bernthal, Jim Clark and Randy Russell. founded Art Struck, an annual founded Art Struck, an annual festival highlightin
According to Bernthal, president of the Art Struck Board of Directors, an incredible amount of cultural opportunities exist for local residents and out-of towners to enjoy.
The caliber of visual and performing arts in Syracuse is superior in the state of New York, second only to New York City, Bernthal added.
"It seemed only natural that we should have an arts festival., she said.

The 1991 celebration begins today and continues through Sunday, Oct. 6. An estimated 150 events will be held throughout the 10 -day period.

On campus, a faculty exhibition will be on display at the Lowe Art Gallery, and "Searching For The Good Light,"photographs from Asia by Ed Grazola, will be open to the public daily in the Robert B. Menschel Photography GaIlery, located in the Schine Student Center.

Concert in the Dome
Santana will be performing with Rod Stewart at the Dome on Saturday. Showtime is 7:30 p.m.

Also helping to kick-off Art Struck, Syracuse Stage will open its fall season tonight at 8:30 with William Wycherly's Restoration comedy, The Country Wife.

Moving from the 18th to the 20th century, Famous Artists Limited, founded nearly a half century ago to bring Broadway performances to Syracuse, will periormances to Syracuse, wil present $A$ Chorus Cine Cct. I Many of the original cast memMany of the original cast members of Broadway's most sucbers of Broadways most sucsical will be participating.
Despite the variety of Art Struck offerings, the Walk of Stars induction ceremony promises to be the grand finale, according to creator Malfitano.

Modeled after Hollywood's Waik of Fame, Syracuse's Walk ofStars will honor notableSуracu sans in an attempt to bring pride and distinction to the entire community.

Celebrities being recognized include Grace Jones, Bob Goldthwait and The Shubert Brothers. wait and The Shubert Brothers Oct. 6 at 5 p.m. The public is welcome.
More information on Art Struck events can be obtained by calling the Downtown Committee at 422-8284.

Said Malfitano: "We want to give the stars of Syracuse an opportunity to shine.'

Now Dlayind

Dra cantinins:

Backedraft
$\therefore$ University Union cGifhond Audico rium) 7 and $9: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Fri. and Sat.
Pink Finmingog/Wo'ro milkipe Univeraity Union (GIfond Audito rium): Midnight Fri, and Sht.Free.
Twatve Angry Amorii(um)=7 and 9 Pim Sut mon Audito 7 and 9 pim. Sun

Bracil-

Universig Unian (Whitson Aurtico ruml/ T and 9:30 p.m. Theen

Stratght Ont of Erooklyw
Univeraity Untorn (Wetmon Aivitio. rium) 7 and $9: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Wed and 7 and ## Dificamibuís.

 nt 1 and 2:40 p.m. Sat- and Sun.

City cuckers
Civerm Bact 715 und B 30 pm. Fris through-Setion natincois p.m. 4:30 p.m. Sat suint Ban;
The Cannranosiá-
Carourel Cencer 1:20, 3:50, 有;30 and 9:10 pimi dally: Inte ahowent 1120 p.m. Friand Siat

Doadidern
o:20 pomal Cantore 13as, $4,6: 40$ and 020 pm . danilyithter ahow, 6840 and Pd. Fria and sht Moppingiown Mill 7 t15 and 9,30 p.midnilyr, inntineen at 2 and 4030 Pris Sat ind Sun.
Dacoived -
Garpusel Ceriter 130, 4:45, 7:45 and 10 pmi dally: lato shows ant Favetteville: 7:46. and 9:45. p.m. daily, mathoob at 1:45, 3:45 and 5:45 p-m. Sat. and Sun:
DonHolymooniCarounel Center 140, 4-20, 6:50 and 9:30 pim. daily late ahows at $11: 30 \mathrm{pmm}$. Fri. and Sat No $6: 50 \mathrm{pm}$.
ohom Sat.

Fayptreville Mall: 7:30 and 9:30 5:30 p-m. Sat. and Sun

7ha Ductor
Fayetteville Mall: 7:20 and 9:60 pro. daily.

7ho Piaher cime
Coroumi Center 115, 415, 7:20 and 10;40 p.m. analy. $\because$ Shoppingtown Herf 7 . and $9: 45$ pmi dally tratinees of e. and $9: 45$ pron Sat End Sun:

Froddyrp paedt The prod Nifhe Co CCenuev Cantäre 1, 3:s0, 010, 816 12.15 am gint dailg late abowe te "Stioppingtom andiall 8 dilyinintimotiat 2,4 and 6 pm. Sat. and Sur.
Fot Stions?
Curonsel Conter $2=10$ 4:40, 7:40 and 9 il5 pint dally, Iato tho, 740 12F Prmi Pil mad Sat 10 and $9: 10$ pimo daity matirnese at $1: 10,3: 10$ and

ANNOUNCING... DIPA -FEST!  FILMS:  ALL 6-8 pm at DIPA, 119 Euclid Avenue

Mon. Sept. 23 Room with a View
Tues. Sept. 24 Crocodile Dundee I & II Wed. Sept. 25 If Looks Could Kill

FESTA di DIPA
Thu. Sept. 26, 7-9 pm 304 Schine
Study Abroad Festival Learn about study abroad form peer advisors who've just returned from abroad!

See the DIPA video. Participate in a Careers Workshop.

ICE-CREAM GIVE-AWAYFri. Sept 27 1-3 pm Schine Atrium

MOVIES

Continued from Page B2
Jungle Fever
Westcott: 9:15 p.m. daily.
Late For Dhner
Cnmusel Center: 2, 4:50, 7:30 nnd 9:45 p.m. daily: late shown at itis5 p.m. Fri

Shapp
matinces at I. 3 and 5 p.m, Sit, and Sur
Livin' Larze -
Carousel Center: 12:45, 3:20, 6, 8:10 and 10:20 p.m. daily: late shows at 12:10 matinces at 1:40, 3:40 and 5:40 p.m. Sat. and Sun.
Necessary Roughress
Cecessary Roughress - 130,7 and $9: 40$ p.m. deily: late show at 14:50 p.m. Fri and Sat.
Fayctceville Mall: $\mathbf{7 : 1 5}$ and $9: 20$ p.m. daily; matineer at 1, 3:05 and 5:10 p.m. Sat. and Sun.

For Dalmatians - Fayette and Sun,
Out For fustice
Hollywood: 9:30 p.m. daily
Parsdine - Concouser Center: Sneak preview at 7:30 p.m. Sun. Shown with Doc Holly wood.
Pure Luck p.m. Sun.

Rabin Flood: Prince or Thieves Carousel Center: 12:50. 3:40. 6:45 and t0:10 p.m. daily. No 6:45 p.m. shows
Mon. or Tues.

Sonpdiah
ffollywood:
$7: 45 \mathrm{pm}$. daily; matine 4:20 p.m. Sat. and Sun.

Terminator 2 Wudgment Day 10:15 p.m. daily.
Thelma & Lourise -
Cinema Enst: 7:30 and 9:45 p.m. Fri though Sun; motinees $2: 15$ and $4: 45$ p.m Sat. and Sun

BRIEFLY

Music column moves to Monday

Beginning next week, alternative music columin Flesh Tuxedo will be published in Monday's editions of The Daily Orange.

On Monday. DO columnist Bruce Buckley talks to the Spin Doctors. The band will be performing at The Underground Monday night, so get a jump on the show that morning by reading Flesh Tuxedo in the Lifestyle section.

UUTV Program Guide

| 7:30 |  | Week of Sept. 29 - Oct. 4 |  |  |  |  | 10:30 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | 8:00 | 8:30 | 9:00 | 9:30 | 10:00 |  |
| Sunday | SU Sports Pap | On The Eench | UUTV Classics | The Rinthm |  | UUTV Classics |  |
| Monday |  | To The Batcave |  | Uncle 30bo's World of Fun | Bio-Answer Show |  | Campus 7 News |
| Tuesday |  | $\begin{gathered} \text { TopTan } \\ \text { U.S.A } \end{gathered}$ | Breakouts | Null \& Void | NC-17 | Campus 7 News | UUTV's Weekly Special |
| Wednesday |  | The Rhythm |  | Uncle Bobo's World of Fun | Breakouts | Campus 7 News | UUTV's Weekly Special |
| Thursday | Sun Up is shown live at 7 am | Sun Up (rebroadcast) |  | Null & Void | Syracuse Live! | Campus 7 News | UUTV's Weekly Special |
| Friday |  | Top Ten U.S.A | Syracuse Live! | To The Batcave |  | Campus 7 Nows | UUTV's Weakly Special |
| - UUTV's Weokly Special is Uncle Bobo's Word of Fun: The Early Episodes |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

$$
\begin{gathered} \text { THE } \\ \text { COFFEEHOCIS } \\
\text { spm-12 } \\
\text { every Sunday } \\
\text { in the faculty center } \\
\text { 4o Cuniversity Pl. } \\
\text { next to Bird Library } \end{gathered}
$$

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { COFFEEHOCISE } \\
& \text { sRm-12 } \\
& \text { every Sunday }
\end{aligned}
$$

for more info. or if inlerested in performing call GiREG at $\times-2503$

GUIDE  GLBSA SOCIAL: The Gay,

SPEAKERS:
WOMEN"S STUDIES: "How Homophobia Affects Women" is the topic of a lecture to be given by Nina Wright, doctoral candidate in interdisciplinary social sources. The speech will take place in Room 130 of the Schine Student Center at noon today.

EVENTS:
FASHION PLATES: The Syracuse University Fashion Department will hold auditions for the annual fashion show in Slocurn Hall, Room 003, from 12:30 to $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. today.

GLADIATORAUDITIONS: Representatives from the television show American Gladiators will be in Syracuse holding auditions for competitors to appear when the show comes here in October. The auditions will be at the War Memorial at 5 p.m. today.

SPLISH SPLASH: Go on a Bog Walk at the Beaver Lake Nature Center, located west of Baldwinsville. For more information, call 638-2519. The Bog Walks will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday-horseback rides Guided one-hour horseback rides are available at east of the Village of Fabius. east of the Village of Fabius. There is a s10 fee. For more information, call 683-5550. The riding begins at 10 a.m. and riding begins at 10 a.m. and goes until dusk on Saturday goes until dus

GIDDYAP: ©

RUN: The Freihofer Run for Women begins near Manley Field House at varying times during the morning on Sunday.

Lesbian. Bisexual Student Association will hold a social at 750 Ostrom Ave. Free drinks and snacks will be served, and donations are requested. The event will take place from $8: 30$ p.m. to midnight on Tuesday.

GLBSA DISCUSSION: The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Student Association will hold a discusAssociation will hold a discussion at 750 Ostrom Ave. The topic is to be announced. The group will meet from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

THEATER:

IMPOTENCE: The Country Wife concerns a man who feigns impotence to gain access to local women in this ribald comedy appearing at Syracuse Stage. For more ticket information,

PASSION AND PAIN: A touring production of Yesterdays: An Evening With Billie Holiday features humor, music and tragic recollections of the lady herself. For ticket information, call 475-5414. The play is being staged at the Metropolitan School for the Arts in tan School for the Arts in Syracuse and perform gin at 8 p.m. tonight.

ONE: A singular sensation, the Broadway hit $A$ Chorus Line, comes to Syracuse for three shows at the Civic Center's Crouse-Hinds Theater. For ticket information, call 4248210. The musical runs Tuesday through Thursday.

BETTE AND BOO: The Obie Award-winning play The Marriage of Bette and Boo debuts in the Hutchings Auditorium next to Syracuse Stage. For ticket information, call 4250405. Performances will begin Thursday.

MUSIC:

FOREYERYOU wart performs in the Carrier Dome with opening act Santana. For ticket information, call 443-2121. The concert will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

THE SOUND OF MOVIES: The Syracuse Symphony will present "A Night at the Movies" featuring music from hit motion pictures. The performance will be at Carousel Center at 6:30 p.m. on Monday.

> MURRAY MUSIC: "An Evening With Anne Murray"brings the singer to Syracuse for one performance only. For ticket information call 424-8210. The performance will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday

A ttention Students of Color!

It's never too early or late to think about graduate school! Mark your calendars for the

Upstate New York Graduate Education Forum for Students of Color

Saturday, November 9, 1991SUNY at Albany

- Meet representatives from 100 top graduate institutions from across the country (Excluding law, medical, and dental schools)
- Discuss graduate study in your field of interest with current faculty members
- Get tips on taking the GRE or GMAT
- Learn about admissions and financial support
- Transportation and lunch provided!

Watch your mail and future editions of the Daily Orange for details or contact: The Graduate School 303 Bowne Hall

Orange take another shot at ranked team

By KENT FISCHER
Asst. Sports Editor
According to Syracuse University middle blocker Aimee Mask, the women's volleyball team is stuck in a Wednesday frame of mind.

We can see we have a lot of potential, Mask said, but our cant seem to beat a (nationally ranked) team. We can't get over that hump."

The Orangewomen, 9-2, will

St at LOME

have their third and fourth shots of the season at such a team this weekend. SU hosts the Universty of Rhode Island. York Univerity and Akron University at the Women's Building.
Last weekend, SU was defated by No. 14 Ohio State 3-0 and highly regarded LoyolaMarymount 3-1.

Coach Dan Schulte said that although Rhode Island is not the calibre of team Syracuse faced last week, the Lady Rams will, however, pose a tough chatlonge for the Orangewomen.
"Rhode Island is a very good, scrappy team," Schulte said. "They"ve beaten Iowa State and Western Michigan already this year. We struggled with them last year. They are very persistent and will not be an easy match.

SU gained its first win against the Lady Rams last year with a 3-1 win in November. SU was $0-12$ against RIU before that meeting.

Although SU's Saturday moming game against York (Ontrio) University is billed as an exhibition match, a few of the Orangewomen are hoping to put the Yeowomen away early.
"A bunch of my friends play for them and are from York, Mask, who hails from Mississaiga, Ontario, said. "We've lost recruits to them and the Canadins on our team really want to win."

Schulte said the match with

York will be an opportunity for him to get a look at a few of the younger Orangewomen.
"Hopefully well win the first two games so we can get more players some experience in the third game," Schulte said.

York finished ranked No. 3 in Canada last year and should move up to No. 1 or 2 this season, according to Schulte Syracuse will also play Akron University at 7 pm. Saturday.

By GIL PAGOVICH

Staff Writer
The Syracuse University women's field hockey team is hoping two games against winless opponents will bring them a little credibility.
The Orangewomen, 1-3, will head to Long Island for a weekend matchup with C.W. Post, $0-3-2$, and Hofstra University, $0-4-1$.

These two gaines are very important," senior Kelly Larking said. "I think were ready. We haven't had a garne in two weeks. We have to win these two games to bring us to 500 , which is respectable.

Coach Kathleen Parker said the Orangewomen's two-week layoff has them eager for competition. SU last played a game

Reporting & Writing 口
Magazine Publishing ㅁ Broadcast Journalism $\square$ Newspaper Management $\square$ The new curriculum ㅁ in integrated Advertising/ Marketing Communications

Syracuse

Medill School of Journalism Graduate Programs

When you call...

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

Call now...

THE STAFF OF THE DAILY ORANGE ASSUMES FULL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PRINTING OF PSI UPSILON'S GREEK LETTERS IN THE ADVERTISEMENT OF SEPTEMBER 9, 1991.

PSI UPSILON AS AN ORGANIZATION HAD NO PRIOR KNOWLEDGE OF THE GREEK LETTERS' APPEARANCE IN  THE ADVERTISEMENT, AND THE DAILY ORANGE TAKES FULL BLAME FOR THIS ACTION.

Make a connection.
A Medill representative will be at
October 4
Or call 1/708/491-5228. Northwestern University

Success can be a matter of making the right connections.

on Sept. 14, a 5.0 loss to the University of North Carolina. "I think that were pretty bored playing each other in practice," Parker said. "It's like preseason.  Last year on Coyne Field, SU shat out both Hofstra and C.W. Post. The Orangewomen toppled the Pioneers 6-0, and defeated the Flying Dutch 3-0.  Larkin said she was expecting a better tearn effort this weekend. In previous games SU has offensively relied on the efforts of Yvonne Milionis.  Milionis has the Orangewomen's only three goals this season.  "As a team we have to play to our potential." Larking said "I don't think as a team we have done that, but practices are getting much better."  Island

EVIL TWIN
BY RYAN MD

BY ERIK MARINO
CLYM N CLYDE

| Whar's  THE TOWVLIESTBABE TONGMT:  YPSTER?  MY MAN. |
| :---: |

LESTER

BY RON NOBLE

VTTE
EATMELES
HUST FILL. IN THE RAMES OF YOUR FAVORITE TSTRIPS AND 4 PANELS IN THE HANDY DANDY BRANKS THEN SEND TOUR BAELOT VIA CAMPUS MLIL OR ONFODT TO THE DO ART DEPT-
THE DAIET ORAMGE, 744 OSTROM AVE. 1
2
3
4
5
7 ALL CARTOONS APPEARING THRU FRIDAY 9 I27 ARE ELIGIBLE.

HORSCHACH
BY GABE
mil gets tuaned down ar the mexican police

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

LESTER WAS VISTTED BY THE SNAKE LADY BUT HE HADCA
ALSO DONE SOME ACID

STRANGE & UNUSUAL FRESHMAN

ART'S EDUCATION BY HOBBIT GOD
SCULPTORS ON EASTER ISLAND, 2:010 B.C.教
(SPIN PAGE to indicAtE ...my pArENTS ANd i figured the quickEst And cheapest WAY impending flashback) to go wourd be A sMALL skydiving outit Located in my Hometown...
GYPSY THE DOG
BY JASON LYCETTE

BY ZAHN
$\sqrt{\text { i ReMember wheN i }}$ first left for college

 ADVENTURES OF JP

BY SLIM

au_man-Filef Mignon

ogain!

TULANE

Continued from Page A16 two teams have gone in opposite directions.

Tulane's last win was against the Orange. They have lost five straight.
Syracuse has won five of its last six, including a 28-0 shutout of Arizona in the Aloha Bowl.

Pasqualoni warned not to be fooled by Tulane's record.
"Tulane doesn't really care who you are, "Pasqualoni said. They don't care what your record is. All I know is the players and the coaches get ready to play. They will come after us from the opening whistle to the end."

SEPT. 27  OCT. 4  THE CORVAIRS  OCT. 18  THE CRAWDADDYS  OCT. 25  TEAUX JAM

> SCHINE DINING Youe SEucene fac hangin: aE rhe JAB.

COMICS CONTEST CONTINUES!

REMEMBER TO DROP OFF YOUR BALLOT IN AN ORANGE CAMPUS MAIL BOX OR BRING IT BY THE DAILY ORANGE. 744 OSTROM AVENUE

PRINCE

Continued from Page A16
finish last weekend in the 10th finish last weekend in the loth annual SUnity Life Tennis Clasannual SUnity Life Tennis Clas"Everybody is starting to feel good again," Liberatore said. "It was a long, weekend, but we all made it through and we are ready to play."
Dwire said there should be plenty of strong competition from a number of teams.
"1 think our main competition will be Princeton University, Penn, Boston University, West Virginia, Temple and Providence," Dwire said.
The tournament bracket set up will be different from what the Orangewomen are used to in tournament play

Because of the number of Bems and players all the first and second singles players. witl play in one bracket, the third and fourth singles in the second bracket and the fifth and sixth singles will face off in the third bracket.

The bracket formula is designed to ensure the completion of the tournament by the end of the weekend.

Dwire said he expects the team to gain a lot from this tournament since they will be playing so many games.

I anticipate the team to keep on improving in all of these tournaments," Dwire said.

FREE T - SHIRTS BUY 2 - GET 1 FREE!!! AVAILABLE TODAY AT:

OPANEE COPNER

WAVERLY AVE. BEHIND BIRD LIBRARY

SPECIAL OF THE WEEK:
HALF SHEET PIZZA & SODA COMBO ONLY $$ 7.48+$ tax (save $$ 1.85$ )
-Half Sheet Pizza( $18^{\prime \prime} \times 13^{\prime \prime}$ ) With Cheese
-Litre of Soda

- Extra Toppings Available For Only $$ 1.25$ 471-SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVEFY
Not valid with other SPECIALS - Valid through Sept. 28, 199 ; Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit
VISA -MASTERCARD - CHECKS - CASH ACCEPTED

Coach P bandwagon adds one more member

By DAVE MAGER The Magermeister

Random thoughts from the Syracuse win over Florida at the Carrier Dome on Saturday:

1) The Daily Orange's sports editor Rob Guyette correctly predicted the pregame press boy meal would consist of meatball subs. I still claim he had inside information.
2) Not to jump on the Coach P bandwagon, but the Syracuse University game plan was bril liant. Not only did the staff take worthwhile gambles, it rotated players perfectly: Ismail, Wooten and Graves got their rest, while Johnson, Lee and Womack fi in effectively
3) As Qadry Ismail so gleefully pointed out to me, all of the Race for the Case entrants selected Florida to cover the spread. I was happily (and completely) surprised.
Syracuse (-20) at Tulane
Over the years, the Superdome in New Orleans has been a house of horrors for Syracuse

Keith Smart and Indiana University beat SU for the 1987 hoop title. The 1987 football tearn had its season end in a Sugar Bowl knot. In the 1990 NCAA's, the basketball team lost to Minnesota as Derrick Coleman went out firing basketballs at opposing players.

The Cajun Jinx came north last year, as terrible Tulane tripped Mac and the kids at the Dome.

Not this year - Syracuse (3-0) returns to the bayou on a roll, while the Green Wave (0-4) has hit the monsoon season. Tulane struck rock bottom last week with a home loss to Rice.

We'll be in the press box wondering where to get some really red gumbo after the ballgame. Syracuse 42, Tulane 10 Boston College ( +27 ) at Penn State

What a year for Penn State (3-1) to have dropped Syracuse from the schedule

Here the teams are - tied for loth in the country - and we get nothing on the field.
Boston College ( $0-3$ ) has been having growing pains under new head man Tom Coughlin. In the took last week off and will take next week off as well. Penn next week off
State $32, B C 7$.
Auburn at Tennessee ( $-61 / 2$ )
The 5th-ranked Volunteers (3-0) barely got by Jackie Sherrill's reborn Mississippi State team last week. No. 13 Auburn (3-0) had similar troubles with tough Texas.

The difference in this game is Tennessee's explosive offense. The Andy Kelly-Carl Pickens combination is one that Auburn can't keep up with. The Tigers depended on an interception return for one of their two touchdowns against Teras Tho touchdowns against Texas. They can't survive a shootout on vol turf. Rennessee 31, Auburn 14
Rutgers at Michigan State Rutgers at Michigan State $(-121 / 2)$ -12 1/2)
The Spartans ( $0-2$ ) suffered the indignity of losing to Central Michigan two weeks ago, and then got plastered by Notre Dame last weekend.

Michigan State can't afford to start the season $0-3$ with the cooference schedule lying ahead. Rutgers hasn't been scoring consistently all year. Michigan St. 28, Rutgers 13.
Florida State (-2 1/2) at Michigan

The top-ranked Seminoles (30) skate into Ann Arbor, having blitzed BYU for 44 points, torched Tulane for 38 and wiped Western Michigan for 58 .

The Wolverines (2-0) have given up only 27 points on the year and come from a week off, which followed their emotional win over Notre Dame.
Some of the greatest skill players in the country will hit the new grass turf in Michigan for this one. Quarterback Casey Weldon for the Noles. Wide receiver/kick returner Desmond Howard, this year's Heisman winner, for Michigan
The Wolverines have Howard, Elvis Grbac, Greg Skrepenak, a great defense and 100,000 insane fans on their side. Michigan 24, Florida St. 21.
NFL Game of the Week Chicago at Buffalo (-7 1/2)
Both teams are an inflated 4-0. They have each had a common opponent on the schedule: the Jets.
They have each struggled Two weeks ago, the Bills used tuck and a comeback to beat the Jets in Jersey. On Monday, the Bears used more luck and an extremely unlikely comeback in Chicago.
The Bear's finally have some decent receivers. The Bills have one of the best in Andre Reed.
Bears fans are blindly optimistic. Bills fans have already confirmed their hotel reservations for the Walter Mondale Inn in Minneapolis.

Two problems for the Bills: 1) Bruce Smith's injury makes the defensive line worse than ordinary. 2) No matter how bad we feel for Scott Norwood, he's got to go. He's just not good.

You'll find some of the finest theater "off Broadwoy" just a litrle further than you might have been looking-at Syracuse Stage And if you're a student, it's more affordable than ever before. The Student 6-Pack is redeemabie for six tickets to Syracuse Stage. See all six plays. Or bring five friends to your fovorite show. Or buy two 6 -Packs and split up the season in eny of the dozens of combinations in betwoen. Your pass is good for previews, matinees, and Sunday through thursday evening
 THE COUNTTY WIFE ANDROCLES AND THE LION
Sapy- 24 OCt, 20 TEA 29 -Nov. $24 \quad$ THE SUM OF US

THE IMMIGRANT TWE GHOST SONATA
Fill in cut out, anclose your payment (54.00 plud $1.00 hondfing charge fer
 Syracusa Stoge. 820 East Gernesee St be mailed to your Syracuse oddress.
$\qquad$
STEMCUSE ADORESS
amounj enctaseo
nowe adorets
Form of payment (no cash, pleaself) $\square 1$ am an entering freshman. $\square$ VISA $\square$ Mastertard $\square$ Check (poyable to Syracuse Sfoge)

Stage

The race for the case

Whis, week 3 ph Cks
 M1Ch, Bufes, BC, vols, MSO, FIast, Ruffr, Rols, MSE, Fla. St. SUREC, Aubuma, MSO, EqEE: Xulane BC, Vols, MSO, F1acst.. Chac.
Standingos Eukema. Bukema 1 I-12-1. Marnett 10-13-1 Mager
Bush
$9-14-1$ $9-14-1$
ischer $7-16-1$ 2Guyette $7-16-1 \quad 3-3$

The Bills offense, though, rolls up the points at home. Even against Chicago. Buffalo 42, Chicago 24.
(Ed. note - Quote of the week from Qadry' Ismail. "It's sad. Our own school newspaper doesn't even pick us to win. Tell Dave to take his dartboard and stick it to the back of his head." The SU-Tulane game can be heard on FM-88 tomorrow night

Looking for Anne?

(formenty of Hair Gallery) She's at Tony Chistopher Hair Designs

131 MARSHALL ST
UPSTAIRS FROM KING DAVID'S REST.

Anne welcomes all her clients old and new Call for an appointment 474-Tony (8669)

7,9:30 Your Student Fee Bumin' up the Screen.

Sports

Laimbeer is right, but still an idiot  Some random thoughts jotted down on our way to Bourbon Street...  -I never thought I'd say it. The pain these words bring is real: Hooray for Gill Laimbeer.  Laimbeer. the biggest crybaby, cheap-shot artist, overrated. no good, sucker-punching player in the NBA finally did something noble. He stuck KENT  FISCHER  SPORTS  OPINION  suy. set at being left set at being left off the Basketball team, threatened legal action to force the selection

He's right. It's America's team, and we citizens should all be allowed to play. At least we should be able to try

Im right behind you Bill, I just have to get my shoes

It's showtime for the Falcons!
That's right, my second favorite collegiate football team, the Air Force Falcons, plays at Brigham Young University tomorrow.

It'll be Perez against Detmer. The undefeated against the defeated. Supersonic fighter jets armed with nuclear missiles against Mormons. No contest: Falcons 21, Cougars 10 .
Why aren't the Red Sox folding? Come on guys, you can do it. I know you can.
thre the Minnesota Twits really Going to win the Amarican League West
The last time that happened they went ahead and won the whole damn thing. Somebody stop them, please!

- What's this I hear about a Jimmy Connorsmanica Seles match?

The promoters of the event have laid out a million dollars in cash to the winner. They've also amended the rules: Connors would get only one serve and Monica would get to play on an expanded court.

What would that prove? I say put them on the courts in Thornden Park at dusk. Give them two hours on a chilly, windy September evening. Put the money in a bushel basket in plain sight on the sidelines.

The winner must win the mateh, grab the money, and make it out of the park alive. Id pay to see that.
Connors is the biggest grunter on the men's tour. Seles double-grunt has been heard and analyzed by millions. Forget the game. Let's just triplengrunt sound like? I'd pay to triple-grunt
-Since ABC picked up the rights to televise the SU.F Forida State garne next weekend, the Seminoles will be on national TV five timesthis season:
BYU on Aug. 29, Michigan on Sept. BYU on Aug. 29, Michigan on Sept.
28, SU on Oct. 5 , Miami on Nov. 16 and Florida on Nov. 30 . Talk about hype.
The question now is: does SU want to face an angry Seminoles team after to face an angry Seminoles team after a loss, or a hot Seminoles squad after
-If my favorite collegiate football temm, the Vols, beat Auburn and become the No. 1 team in the nation after Florida State and Michigan tie II buy a round of beers at 44 's on Monday night at 8 p.rn. If I get in.

Tricua

Question: When was the last time the Tulane University football team had a. winning record?

SU faces winless Tulane

Orangemen out to erase last year's embarrassment

By JOSH BARNETT
Stail Writer
When Tulane University football coach Greg Davis looked at the Syracuse University schedule he had to be optimistic. Syracuse plays the Green Wave between games with two top 10 eams, Florida and Florida State.

Maybe Syracuse would overlook Tuane, but Davis forgot to take into lane, but Davis forgot
The 10th-ranked Orangemen. 3-0. play the Green Wave, 0-4, in the Superdome in New Orleans. La., on Saturday at 8 p.m.

David Walker and the Orangemen will be out to avenge last year's loss to Tulane when the two teams meet on Saturday night in New Orleans. Walker is third in the Big East in rushing, averaging 74.7 yards per game.

Big East foe  Villanova a 'must win' for Orange

By JEFF ELBAUM

Staif Writer
In Big East soccer play, the top four teams maike it to the tournament at the end of the regular season.

That is why Syracuse University head coach Dean Foti said Saturday's game at Coyne Field against Villanova at 2 p.m. should be considered a must-win for the Orangemen, 4-3, 1-1 in the Big East. "This is an important game," Foti said. "It's a league game and it's a home game. It's definitely a game we need to win. Anything less than that is not. good."

Villanova head coach Larry Sullivan wasn't as optimistic as Foti. In fact Sullivansaid the Wildeats, 4-2, 1-1, were suffering from inconsistent play this season.
"We have individuals taking turns," Sullivan said. "We're not getting two good games in a row from one guy."

Villanova's top scorer is Joe Roy with five goals and an assist. Rich Maue (3 goals, 2 assists) and Scott Aimetti ( 1,4 ) are also important parts of the Wildcat attack.

The Orangemen are lead in scoring this season by Paul Young with 6 gosis. Eric Puls (4, 3), and Nino Galich (2, 1).

SU is coming off a 5-0 victory over Niagara on Wednesday in a game where Foti was able to take a close look at some reserves. Doug Prouty and Christian Dunham started in place of the injured outside midfielders Malcolm Grace and Mike Bartoletti.
Foti, who stuck primarily to his 11 starters at the beginning of the season, said that Prouty and Dunham may have earned thernselves some playing time against Villanova.
-It's dimicult to ask Mike Bartoletti and Malcolm Grace to play their posito the outside midfielder's iob of playing both offense and defense. "Doug Prouty seems to be emerging as a player who will be useful in that situation. He can go in there for 20 minutes, give one of them a spell, and then give the other one a spell. Christian Dunham has also done a good job.
then we've got problems," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said. "I watched the films over and over again and you get sick to your stomach watching that game hast season)."

In fact, the Green Wave's victory last season may have made the Orangemen even more focused for this weekend's showdown, according to cornerback Dwayne Joseph.
"By beating us last year, they got us more focused becaluse we're coming off a big win." said Joseph. who is tied for the big win. said Joseph. who lead in interceptions with Big East lead in interceptions three. "If we wouldn't have played Ththree. "If we wouldn't have played lane last vear, we maybe would have been lackadaisical about this one because it's like. 'Oh. Tulane, but we know what Tulane's capabie of (doing)
The Orangemen's desire for revenge. however, has been tamed. at least somewhat.
"You don't really go out looking for revenge," defensive tackle George Rooks said. "That's when you make mistakes. We're going to play hard and try and win the game; that's this team's attitude

Davis said his team is well aware that the Orangemen are looking for revenge.
"I'm sure they want to come into the Dome and get after our tails," Davis said "We were very fortunate last year to go up there and come sway with a victory and we know how that feels. We're going to have to play extremely well orSyracuse can name the score.
Tulane drove 85 yards in 14 plays in just 1:34 for the game winning score. On the drive, Thlane converted third-and 16 and fourth-and-10 plays.

Last season, the defense lost leads late in the game three times including the in the game three times including than loss to Tulane and ti
State and Pittsburgh.

The Syracuse defense has been much more sggressive this season and has held opposing offenses to 62 yards rushing per game to lead the Big East. SU held Florida to minus-17 yards, its lowest totol ever.
The Thlane offense has struggled on the ground, averaging just 60.8 yards per game and 1.9 yards per carry. Chance Miller, who has amassed 205 yards on 58 carrieg for a 3.5-yard average, is Tulane's top rusher.

Tulane has switched from an eightman front to a 4-3 defense, which Pasqualoni said better utilizes its perPasqualoni said better utilizes its personnel. The Green Wave returns seven sonne!. The Green starters defensively.
tarters defensively.
Since last season's Tulane game, the See TULANE Page Alo

SU expects tough weekend at Princeton

By DAVE HAUT
stă゙ writer
The Syracuse University women's tennis team will be one of 30 teams congregating at the Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament this weekend in Princeton, N.J.

This is the first time in more than four years that the Orangewomen will be participating in the meet.
"This is the first year in a while that our schedule will permit us to that our schedule Will permit us to play, Dwire said. This is a great opportunity to play in one of this country's oldeat NCAA women's ten. country's oldest NC nis tournaments."
nis tournaments"* the tournament has some exciting attributes.
"It will be neat to play in the meet. since it has so much tradition." Liberatore said. "We will see and play against a lot of players from many teams.

SU is coming off a second place See PRINCE Page A10

The  Daily Oran

SU auxiliaries subject to budget cuts  BY ROY S. GUTTERMAN

News Editor
The projected 20 percent drop in enrollment will necessitate heavy reductions in most Syracuse University support units and academic nuxiliaries, the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group reports.
The advisory group's second report, releas

The advisory group's second report, released today. targets cuts from the academic support units' and academic auxiliaries' $$ 77.3$ million $1991-92$ budgets - with $$ 42.2$ million of that reducible. The reducible base weighs revenue and grant income with fixed expenses for the units.

The academic support services and auxiliaries budgets include University College, Summer Sessions, the graduate and research programs, the Division of International Programs Abroad, Information Systems and Computing as well as the University Art Collection and the Honors Program.

Basing its projections on revenues, expenditures and current and projected uses, the report said future reductions "posed an even more daunting challenge," than the report on schools and colleges, released Sept. 16.

On Sept. 11, Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw outlined the three-phase plan to slash $$ 28$ million from the See News Extra for a condensed version of the Syracuse University Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group report on Academic Support Units.

university's budget over the next four years.
An overall national drop in high-school-age students will force the university - along with most other schools and colleges - to downsize. SU expects its undergraduate population to drop to 9.600 students by 1995.

Targets for reduction

The committee identified several areas as possible targets to close the gap including heavy consolidation and general reductions of faculty and administrative positions, services and programs.
Shaw told The Daily Orange on Sept. 11 that the university "will undergo a grieving period."
"We must focus our resources on our highest-priority activities," he said.
Library and computer services, and research programs which "enhance the professional development and research" and are "vital to the academic mission of Syracuse University" may be targets of further cuts in staffs, purchasing and overall budgets, the report states. They may also be targets for consolidation.
One area that the university esteems, financial aid "should be held harmless," the committee states.
The $$ 23$ million - 16 percent or $$ 3.7$ million of which is allocated to the athletic scholarships - distributed is allocated to the athletic scholarships - distributed by Enrollment Management should be maint.
Due to the specific and delicate nature of future cuts Shaw said, all students, faculty and administrators will have opportunities to provide input before official cuts are determined.
The University Senate Agenda Committee has appointed an Ad Hoc Coordinating Committee to facilitate Senate discussion of "restructuring," today's report states.
Various Senate committees will hold three open forums at $4: 15$ p.m. on Oct. 14 in Maxwell Auditorium, Oct. 21 in Grant Auditorium and Oct. 23 in Maxwell Auditorium.
"The concerns of students, faculty and staff will be addressed at each forum," the report states.

The Senate will receive committee reports at its Nov. 13 meeting. A special meeting will be scheduled for Nov. 20, if it is needed.

On your mark ...

The Syracuse Freihofer's 8th annual Run for Women starts with the $8 K$ road race Sunday morning in front of Manley Field House.

Amnesty speakers call for action

By KEN ALDRICH
Contributing Writer

Abstract

Two activists urged Americans to become more active in the human rights movement Thursday night in Hendricks Chapel.

John Healey, the executive director for Amnesty International, who was named "Mr. Human Rights" by U.S. News and World Report three weeks ago, discussed his organization's 30 -year fight for human rights. "It's a bit embarrassing, flattering," he said. "However, this is a people" movernent and I'm one of the people.There's an inherent obligation to humanity to improve in your lifetime, Healey said.

He said Americans should do something.

If the Constitution and our founding tathers do so well, wouldn't we want it for the rest of the world?," he said
"I think we need to look as Americans at what we do," he said.
Healey, addressing the idea that one person cannot make a difference, said, ${ }^{\text {" }}$ It is the individual action of a courageous heart, that doesn't always know what their doing."
"There are organizations like Am-

John Healey of Amnesty International speaks Thursday night at Maxwell Auditorium.
nesty where you can effectively do things," he said.

Healey also discussed the current conditions of human rights in the world "Why is it that on the North American continent, there's torture in every province in Mexico?" he said.
Ninety-nine percent of the people arrested in Mexico's two northern-most provinces are tortured, he said.
Healey also addressed the recent return of China to the United States'
"Amnesty reported that hundreds of thousands are being detained and tortured, if not millions," he said.
"We've given them a green light," he said.

We will let off those damn colonels in Chile while those people are tortured for the rest of their lives," Healey said.
Most human activists face massive odds in their lives, he said. Advancements in human rights are felt on the backs of those who suffered the most, he added.
Healey also addressed what it takes to be an Amnesty member.
"Whoever the governments hate we love," he said. "All of that prejudice must be overcome to join a human rights movement."

We must try to observe a single standard of human rights," he said.

He urged youth to travel in the world and see people of different countries and colors.
"Make yourself into a bridge maker in this world," he said.

First hand perspective

Healey was followed by Rezi Jalali, a Kurdish former prisoner of conscience. He discussed how Amnesty saved him,

See AMNESTY Page 4

Sociologist

delivers speech on urban change

By TOM SEELEY

Staff Writer

The situation in today's ghettos screams for attention, said Elijah Anderson, an urban sociologist from the University of Pemnsylvania.

Anderson spoke to about 75 students and faculty at the School of Management Thursday on his book Streetwise.

He said many conservatives suggest that the United States needs to instill pride in its citizens.
"We need to pull ourselves up by our bootstraps," Anderson said. "They don't understand that many in this country's urban centers no longer possess these bootstraps."

The book completed a 10 -year ethnographic study of cultural life on big city streets.

As the economy is changing, people in the ghetto are not capable of adapting or changing because the government is cutting the funds that would help people adapt, he said.
"This is an urgent time," he said. "Many people, especially young men, are gravitating to the underworld.
With the new U.S. economy, the only jobs available to young men entering the job world are low paying part-time service jobs with no benefits, Anderson said.

Drug selling entrepreneurs
Young men participate in illegal activities by selling drugs and see them See STREET Page 15

Inside

Classified  Comics

Editorial
Footnote
Living .
News Extra
Sports
10,11
Weather
. 2

Getting even

The Syracuse University Orangemen avenged last year's Homecoming football loss with a 24-0 turning of the Tulane Green Wave in New Orleans, $10 & 11$

World

Britain follows U.S.

lead to cut nuclear arms
Following the United States lead, Britain announced Saturday it would cut its nuclear arms.

Britain agreed to withdraw its shortrange and battlefield nuclear weapons in Europe and stop carrying tactical nuclear bombs on warships.

Prime Minister John Major praised President Bush's speech declaring sweepPresident Bush's speech declaring sweeping reductions in the U.S. nuclear arseing

Bush. in a speech from the White House on Friday, announced the United States will unilaterally eliminate its land-based tactical nuclear weapons and remove all short-range atomic arms from U.S. submarines and ships.

Both Bush and Major called on the Soviets to match the United States' plan. Bush offered to open negotiations to eliminate all long-range ballistic missiles with multiple warheads.

U.N. team to continue search for Iraqi ScudsUnited Nations weapons inspectors will travel to Baghdad on Tuesday to search for Iraqi Scud missile launchers and superguns, officials said Saturday.

The 20-member ballistic weapons team was assembled by the U.N. Special Commission, which destroyed Iraq's weapons of mass destruction under terms of the Gulf War cease-fire.
Other teams have traveled to Iraq to look for chemical weapons and evidence of facilities or programs to produce nuclear and biological weapons.

A nuclear weapons team was detained for four days last week in a Baghdad parking lot after it discovered documents phowing Iraq had been trying to produce showing iraq had been trying to produce nuclear warheads. The Iraqis agreed the documents.

Nation

Temnessee museum opens at hotel where King slain After 10 years of planning, the National Civil Rights Museum opened Saturday at the Tennessee motel where civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. was slain.
The dilapidated Lorraine Motel, where King was shot in 1968, was bought at a foreclosure auction in 1982 by citizens who turned it into a museum as a who turned it into a museu

Focused on the 1950 s and 1960 s, the Focused on the 1950 s and 1960 s , the museum features displays tracing the struggle for black civil rights from the days of slavery. Historic photographs, days of slavery. Historic photographs, drawings and written sketches are placed throughout the muscum. throughout the museum.
The $$ 9.2$ million museum was financed by state and local taxpayers and private contributors.
The museum has been signed over to the state, which will maintain it. The museum will be supported through donations and a charge for admission.

General Motors killed

amimals in auto safety tests
Animal rights activists in Dallas demonstrated Saturday outside the State Fair to call attention to General Motors Corp.'s use of animals in automobile safety tests.

The Detroit-based automaker has acknowledged that about 19,000 dogs, rabbits, pigs, ferrets, rats and mice have been killed in its laboratories during the past decade.
"People have a lot of options when buying a car, and we're helping them cross GM off their lists." said Dan Mathews, a member of the group People Mathews, a member of the group People which has called for a boycott of GM which ha

One of the group's signs read, "Deathbeat of America,", a reference to the automaker's "Heartbeat of America" slogan.

State

Contaminated oil spills in Cortland sewer

About three gallons of contaminated oil spilled into the Cortland storm system Friday after a Niagara Mohawk electrical transformer was struck by a car and burst open.
Police said David H. Rogers, 20, a SUNY Cortland student, was driving while intoxicated when he struck a utility pole.
The transformer on top of the pole burst open and released 30 gallons of oil containing polychlorinated biphenyls, or PCBs.

PCBs have been linked to cancer in laboratory animals. A NiMo spokesman said that PCBs are no longer used in transformers, but that some older transformers have not been replaced yet.

The spill was declared cleaned up yesterday morning. A NiMo spokesman said three gallons of oil went down the drain before the spill could be contained.

Legislator runs for

 re-election despite carncerPatrick Malone, an Oswego legislator, will seek re-election to his fourth term despite a battle with cancer.
"I've got to," he said. "The people have put faith in me. What I feel bad about is that I can't go door-to-door and provide that one-on-one contact that people like." he said.
He returned home last week after spending the last four months in Seattle spending the last four months in Seattle following a bone-marrow transplant for following a

The marrow was donated by Malone's 21-year-old son. The marrow has taken partially but has feft Malone without partially but has
"I always thought I had a good life before ... but when you're lying in bed you say. I want to get home. There's so you say, I want to get home. Theres many things I want to do," he said.

University

SGA Assembly meets

for first time tonight

Tonight the Student Govermment Association Assembly will hold its first meeting of the year in Maxwell Auditoium at 7 .
The Assembly's 86 new members will be inducted and later appointed and selected to various committees.

SGA President Emily Zenick will introduce members to the SGA structure and SGA Comptroller Chris Loggans will introduce the financial branch.

Members will also be introduced to the four SGA committees and their committee heads: Eric Jacobson, academic affairs; Brian Rubenstein, administrative operations; Desmonique Bonet, student affairs; and Aaron Amos, university/ community relations.
The Assembly will discuss its role in board meetings, search committees, special ad hoc committees, the University Senate and the board of trustees
The committees, the comptroller and the president will also give their summer the presi
The Assembly was originally slated to have its first meeting Iast Monday, however, it was postponed afterSyr
University students failed to vote.
University students failed to vote.
After two extensions, 10 percent of the After two extensions, 10 percent of the undergraduate student body cast enough votes to elect the Assembly members.
Neighborhood group will meet tonight

The Westcott East Neighborhood Association will hold an open meeting at 7 p.m. in the Petit Public Library.

The group will discuss voting rights for residents; police foot patrols; radioactive waste burning at Upstate Medical Center: a campaign for an ATM near Big M Market; and a restaurant/bar without food.

The meeting is free and open to the public.
The Petit Public Library is located on Victoria Place at $\mathbf{5 0 0}$ Westcott St.

WEATHER

Sunny September
-We'll have a beautiful send off for September today as sunny skies and pleasant highs in the 60s warm things up. Tonight will be clear and not as cold as past nights. Lows will be in the mid 40s.

Tuesday

Today will be warmer with a mix of sun and clouds. There is and highs will be around 65 or 70.

Wednesday

Today will be partly cloudy with a chance of showers. Exand lows in the mid to upper 40 s at night.

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
Shiladelphia.
San Fr
Seattle
Seattle - . . .

Today:gucst city: New Haven. Ct.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University's independent student-run newapapor published Monday through Friday. The nowspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.
The editors are available after $\mathbf{3}$ p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

News: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifestyle: 443-2128
Sporta: $443-2208$
Burines $/$ Advertiving: 433-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30 a.m. - $4: 30$ p.m.)

News Extra

Academic Support Units evaluated

Staff reports

Information for the following article was derived from the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group Report on Academic Support Units and Academic Auxiliaries released today.
released today.
In the first phase of its report released Sept. 16 to The Daily Orange, the Sept. 16 to The Daily Orange, the committee provided an overview of the university's fiscal challenge and a report university's fiscal challenge on the schools and colleges.
This phase of recommendations aregents Academic Support Units under seven headings: Undergraduate Studies, Research, the Graduate School, InformLion Systems and Computing. Enrollmint Management, the Library, and the Office of Academic Affairs.

Undergraduate Studies

As Syracuse competes for the best and most well-rounded student population it can attract and retain, it would seem counterproductive to diminish the Honos Program or such support programs as the Higher Education Opportunity Program, Summer Bridge, or Gateway.
The Advisory Group believes such The Advisory Group believes such mission, targeted directly at students, and strategically essential; they should be held harmless budgetarily. The Community Internship Program provides a valuable student service at little cost. Any meaningful cuts would snuff out its life.
The Advisory Group believes, therefore, that the least-damaging areas for cost-cutting are Audio and Visual Support Services and the Center for Instructional Development/Testing Services, which combined employ 59 persons; the Registrar's Office; and the Office of the Vice President, which includes the discretionary equipment fund he disperses.

Most schools and colleges, however, are pressing the university to recognize the need for an integrated info
Thus, AVSS together with InformaCion Services and Computing. must find ways to deliver these services more efficiently to more students, with signifycanty less money.

In sum. approximately $$ 2.9$ million of the reducible base in this budget should be subjected to the average base budget reduction plan.

Research
If fewer faculty are hired in the coming five years, less money need be budgeted for setup funds. Thus, beginming in 1993 , the $$ 1$ million devoted to setup and equipment matching can be reduced. Because some items in this budget are tied to specific programs in the schools and colleges, changes in the Research budget.

In the next two years, however, a savings of 16 percent or more is likely to be achieved only through major cuts in the funds promoting research, and in the Research and Support and administrasion infrastructure.

The former would impact seriously on the seed grants available for faculty. The latter would make it harder to develop research projects and make them competitive for external funding-

Before one can determine the appropriate level of cuts that should be imp-posed on the Office of Research, one must determine if the university intends to stay the course in its attempt to pull SU towards national prominence as a research institution.

If the university intends to continue on that course - a decision that would not be without controversy - cuts here should be modest. If the cuts are major, the university will likely have to abandon or retard that strategy, at least for the next five years.

Graduate School

Rational decisions about the value of this unit to the university cannot be made without determining which funcions in the system are best handled or coordinated centrally by the Graduate Coordinated centrally by the Graduate School, and which are best dealt with

The Teaching Assistant Orientation program is clearly the one undertaking with the greatest potential impact on undergraduate education. It has won national visibility for SU and has great potential for attracting outside funds.
If increasing the number of tuition paying graduate students becomes an important goal for the next decade, then it makes sense to nurture the Graduate School and permit it to take the lead. But if this is not a goal, or if it is concluded that these functions could be performed by the schools and colleges. the Graduate School bureaucracy could the Graduate

Another important variable is the number of doctoral programs to be eliminated in the near term as the size of the faculty decreases. In sum, an articulation of the vision for graduate education at $S U$ is necessary before one can address the magnitude of the budget cut.

Information Systems and Computing
The reducible base budget of this group is large. Application of the average cost reduction target of 16 percent would yield a savings of nearly $$ 1.1$. million. The unit is so large and complex, and touches so many aspects of university life, that it is possible to hear widely varying views on the quality of service provided and the degree to which Information Systems and Computing is integrated into classroom instruction and faculty research.

The Advisory Group identified a numbber of possible budget-cutting opportunities. These include deleting mainframes, reducing the number of operating systerms supported in the university, limiting the number of supported software programs in use, setting clear priorities programs in use, setting clear priorities for the use of time in ACS and providing for the use of time in ACS and providing fewer and more selective services and fewer and more selective services and consultation to faculty, reexamining the consultation to faculty, reexamining the allocation of research computing funds, merging budgets of the various sub-units and eliminating administrative lines, and promoting greater use of computing resources at other institutions,

Budget-cutting suggestions cannot be addressed overnight, nor should they. However, until the issue of leadership has been resolved and a clearer, more focused mission statement prepared, the unit should be subject to cuts at least as large as the university average, if not larger.

Enrollment Management

The Advisory Group recommends that the university study whether it is possible or wise to begin meeting the full financial need of all admitted students. Some of our competitors already do this.

Unfortunately, the average percentage discount offered on our tuition is at present far less than that offered by more prestigious competitors, and substantially less than is offered by our peer institutions.

Two partial solutions are possible. The first concerns athletic scholarships. The burden of providing this money should be shifted onto the athletic budget so that an additional $$ 3.7$ million can be added to the total pool available to all applicants, and not just to outstanding athletes.

Second, the university could consider changing its financial aid policy toward College of Nursing students and musicians in the School of Music. At present, clans in the School of Music. At present, the university meets the full financial need of all nursing students, at an need of all nursing students, at an additional cost over a four-year cohort of $$ 80,000$ to $$ 120,000$.
School of Music students are also given preferential financial aid treatment based on musical merit so that $S U$ can compete with conservatories and other music programs. The cost is $$ 350,000$ in scholarship assistance annually. These funds might be more widely deployed in the general pool if the university does not move toward meeting full financial need for all students.

Library

A healthy library is essential to the maintenance of either a first- or secondrank university - certainly to a research university.
The library has managed to weather the most recent budget cuts without serious damage, in part by eliminating 14 positions and by cutting $$ 227,000$ 14 positions and by cutting

When decisions are made about the academic programs to be scaled back, the academic programs to be scaled back, library can also scale back students and lions in these fields. Fewer students on campus will mean, inevitably. fewer users and therefore a diminished need for library staff.
Consolidation of separate math, physins and geology libraries into the Science and Technology library could permit savings on personnel now necessary to monitor all these locations.

The library might reduce its present expenditure of approximately $$ 1.8 \mathrm{mil}$ lion on journal and serial subscriptions by substituting increased "document delivery services."

The Belfer Audio Lab, which collects recorded sound and other materials, and conducts research on multi-media methods of communication, might be asked to survive entirely on grant income, or to affiliate with another educational unit on campus with a similar agenda, therefore removing it as a charge to the library.

Office of Academic Affairs
The Advisory Group did not study the mission, budget or operation of Anadernic Affairs in detail. The nominal budget fluctuates considerably as the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs retains, and then distributes, resources to the academic units.

The Advisory Group recommends that this budget be subjected to the same analysis as all other units on campus. analysis as all other units on campus. the starting point of which approximately 16 percent.

The Ad Hoc Advisory Group's report on Academic Auxiliaries including University College, Summer Sessions, the Division of International Programs Abroad, Project Advance and the School of Education Extended Campus will appear in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Orange.

SPECIAL DE TMIE WREK
WING & SODA COMBO ONLY $8.88 +TAX
(SAVE $2.16)

- 20 PIECE ORDER OF WINGS

BIRDLAND OR BUFFALO STYLE
-LITRE OF SODA
om 471 - SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with other SPECIALS • valid through Oct. 5, 1991
Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit
VISA - MASTERCARD - CHECKS - CASH ACCEPTED

DOOR, RLicy: SU Grecls FREE.ESf, IAXY, Guests $2 t+$ pey $$ 100$. Ask skoy! metnberships!!
POLICE BRIEFS
A 20-year-oId Syracuse Unirersity student reported her purse stolen Saturday from the living room of a house on the 700 block of Livingston Avenue, police said.

She said she left her purse containing credit cards, per$$ 5$ in cash on a couch at 10 p.m. She said that she went into the kitchen of the house with about nine friends. When she returned to the living room at Police said that the front door of the house was unlocked and open. The police questioned neighbors who said they did not see or hear anything.

There are no suspects or witnesses, police said.

A Syracuse University student reported items stolen from his apartment at 500 block of University Avenue

AMNESTY
Continued from Page 1 and the current conditions of the Kurdish people.

I am someone whose life was saved by Amnesty International," Jalali said.
"I am here as a testimony to what Amnesty International can

Editorial

Process is mind numbing

The process of evaluating Supreme Court nominees has become a charade.

We'll begin with the President, who following the tradition of Ronald Reagan, systematically rejects suggestions to nominate the best and brightest of the lower courts. He'd rather seat someone who will pledge allegiance to his views - even if they won't publicly.

Then we watch the nominees. They dodge tricky questions and claim ignorance about issues every thinking person has mulled over countless times

At the next level of game playing, there's the Senate Judiciary Committee. In the current case, its 14 members reached a split decision on whether to send forth a recommendation to reject recent nominee Clarence Thomas. Then, because the committee is not allowed to tie, it voted on an amended idea. The group decided to offer no recommendation on Thomas, So, this group was no help, either. It shed no light on this hazy situation.

And then we have the Democrats. They're the most confused. They want to support Thomas as a minority who may represent the least of all Republican evils, but his track record and silence about abortion make them wary of supporting him.

Bush supporters just hope Thomas is hiding his conservative agenda to win a seat.

Thomas now awaits a seal of approval or dismissal. He has no indication on the outcome and nor do we. The Thomas nomination reflects the state of our gutless and muddled hearing process which exhausts confused Americans and all involved parties until all they can do is close their eyes and hope.

Students lack cultural ambition

This school lacks culture and tradition. Show us a person who doesn't go to bars, fraternities and house parties, and we'll show you one bored student with too much free time. If there is not a lame concert, people usually carry out the same pathetic routine each Weekend.
Culture at Syracuse University does not NICK PIRRACLIA : a mugeum, the theatre, CLARK GETTINGER: TiE PROMEMCSN But, as one of our thought provoking to say.
overtaking the fiction section. Collectively, we have m-
Those who simply choose to read a book at night and not go out have engaged in a cultural experience. But when no one else on campus is reading that book, the cultural experience. becomes less than it could be. This is because there's no way to exchange ideas about that book.

And what of culture's distant cousin, once removed, tradition? Many people consider Homecoming, Weekend the height of traditional Bpirt But, git SU, this really only includes fraternities and sororities. Where's our fight song? Doas a nyyone whogoes to greanesy knowthe alria mater? Does anytody care?

Administrative evils shredded our traditional logo-into a mechanically designed $$ 50,000$ piece of garbage. For the most part, it's not the administration that has smothered a desire to grow intellectually. It's the student body that lacks the cultural initiative to make SU the great school it thinks it is. I have ne of our professors once said in class, an intellectual conversation.". The bookstion conversation.
ent's prefertore is a good reflection of students preferences. There are Cliff's Notes for countless great classics, but where are the lassics themselves? The magazine section is

Congratulations to the ETA Pledgex Class

Mellissa Albucker Amy Anhalt Lainie Atlas Andrea Baron Allison Berger Julie Berger Stacy Bigman Nicole Bloom Ami Broder Lisa Cagin Hillary Colenan Alison Erlbatum Adrian Fogel Tracy Gerber. Ali Gersh Stephanie Greenberg Rebecca Halpern Kami Hockfield Jennifer Kalish Samantha Kaufman Stephanie Klein

Speakerurges women to learn self-defense

By LAURA HARDING
Staff Writer
Syracuse University attempts to prevent sexual attacks and violence with blue lights, violence with blue lights, marches, the R.A.P.E. Crisis Center and increased education, but it is still lacking, said Elaine Cleeton at the Women's Lecture Series on Friday.
"I see the blue lights as an after-the-fact thing," she said. "I see it as ' I'm barely alive and dragging myself to it."'

Many people have become involved in precautions and recovery and are missing an important middle step, Cleeton said.
"This step is taking a selfdefense course to prepare yourself," she said.
Cleeton is a graduate of the Fight-back program, formerly Model Mugging, "which uses cealistic assault scenarios to teach women how to knock out single, unarmed assailants (the type that most often attacks women)," according to an article in the July 1991 issue of GlamPeople react to women taking a self-defense course by thinking since they cannot have a man at their side to protect them, they need a "penile substitute," she said.

Sociology graduate student Elaine Cleeton speaks dent Elaine Cleeton speaks abof the, Bight Back, self defense program, during the Women's Studies lecture Friday.
"I was asked if I hated all men and that's why I was taking the course," she said.

Following lessons
"We've all been taught since we were small to go along with an attack and not fight," Cleeton said.

According to Cleeton, the first step is to yell at a possible attacker and not be passive.

"An attacker isn't looking for a fight, he's looking for a victim," she said. "Yelling 'No' in someone's face will get their attention," she said.

Cleeton asked the audience to stand up and simultaneously stomp their feet and yell no, sending an echo of voices filled with fear, hope and anger through the basement of the Schine Student Center.
Cleeton went on to discuss fighting techniques and showed video-tapes of mock fights from her experience in the Fightback program.
"Women are commonly attacked from behind and have an assailant's arms wrapped main weapon in such a situation is your teeth; bite their arms to break the hold."

Other tactics would be to yell while biting into the attacker's arm or stamp your feet into their knees and ankles, she said.
Methods of attack
"If you have both hands free, put your fingers together so they're all on the same plane and poke at the attacker's eyes," she said.

Women have never been taught that a man is vulnerable, she said. "You can knock a man out if you hit him hard enough in the groin.
"Legs are our most powerful weapon and I hate it in movies when a woman is pinned up against a wall not doing anything," she said. "She could use her quadriceps, and pull it up right into his groin and get away."

The aim is always to knock out the attacker in order to get away and get help, Cleeton said.
The Fight-back program is unique because everyone goes through real fights and finds out they actually can ward off an attack, she said.
Graduates of the program always have a sense of their class with them, she said.
"There was a woman from a class who was attacked eight years after she graduated and could hear her class yelling 'No, 'Kick' and 'Eyes' as she went through each motion," she said.

About 100 graduates of the program have been attacked the attack by shouting, 48 stopping See WOMEN Page 8

Living

Cultarcheck

'E.T.' comes home to CBS television E.T: The Extra-Terrestrial will makes its television debut Thanksgivmakes its television ing night on CBS.
ng night on CBS.
Sears is the sole sponsor of the telecast which is expected to bring in telecast which is expected to bring in big Nielsen numbers as E.T. still big Nielsen numbers as $E . T$ still reigns supreme as the all-time box reigns supre

This broadcast will mark the first outing of the Sears Family Theater which will bring family entertainment to television during the holiday season.

Pee-Wee Herman may be in 'Batman Returns' Though Warner Brothers refuses to comment, rumor persists that Paul Reubens, also known as Pee-Wee Herman, will appear in the Bat sequel, but not as Pee-Wee.

No one is saying who Reubens will portray, but speculation on his role has run the gamut. from the Boy Wonder to the Riddler.

It should not come as that big a surprise that Reubens may appear in the film; Reubens and Batman Rethe film: Reubens and Batman Returns director Tim Burton have been turns director Tim Burton have been friends since Burton directed Reubens in Pee Beee Bik Aavenure

$\sqrt{ }$
Mitchell'scharacters gone with the wind Critical response to Alexandra Ripley's Gone With the Wind sequel, Scarlett
While
While copies of the book disappear from store shelves, critics are panning the novel as a dreadful attempt to continue the story of Rhett. Scarlett and Ashley.

USA Today called the book "a sacrilege" and "a bad paperback romance." USA Todey critic Deirdre Donahue wrote that the biggest problem with the book was 19 th century characters speaking in 20th century parlance.

But these criticisms haven't stopped readers from buying the book as stores are hurrying to re-stock supplies.

Murphy remains at

 Paramount Pictures After recent rumors that superstar Eddie Murphy was unhappy with his contract with Paramount Pictures, the star has re-signed with the studio. to make four more movies.Murphy still had two movies left to make for Paramount under his old contract. The new contract was made possible partly because of Murphy's friendship with former NBC chieftain Brandon Tartikoff, the new studio head who knew Murphy during his head who knew Murphy du Saturday Night Live years.

Murphy's nuxt film will be the romantic comedy Boomerang, to be directed by FIouse Party director Reginald Hudlin. Then comes Beverly Hills Cop III which should be ready for release in summer t993 for release in summer 1993.
Compiled from daily newspaper reports

Coming

Tuesday

Charge your crown

When you "have it your way" at Burger King, there's no need for cash anymore. Just put those milkshakes on Mastercard. Gett the details tomorrow in

Business
The Living page is published The Living page is published each Monday inthe Lifestyle:
section of The Daily Orange.;

All ages run in Freihofer's race

By LISA GOSSELIN
Contributing 1 Vriter
The Syracuse Chargers Track Club hosted the eighth annual Freihoter's Run For Women Sunday at Manley Ficld House.
For the first time, the Syracuse Run For Women was designated as the Worren's National five kilometer ( 5 K ) Road Race Championship.
The Syracuse Run For Women began eight years ago as the Women's Northeastern 10 kilometer championship.
There were four events at the road race including an eight kilometer ( 8 K ) race open to men and women and a three kilometer "Fun and Fitness" run. For kids, there were 100,200 and 400 meter runs, while the women's ship race also took place.
The Syracuse Chargers Track Club provided more than 200 voltunteers as well as technical expertise in timing the race. The road race was sponsored by Freihofer's Baking Company as well as the 4 FM , and WTVH Chiannel 5 .

About 2.000 people from all over the country and Canadia competed in the four events Sunday, including nearly 200
Syracuse University students and faculty.
Pros and amateurs
Top runners as well as everyday ioggers participated in the 5 K championship race.
"In running you can line up with some of the best in the world," said race director David Oja. "That's what a lot of people love about this sport."
Janis Klecker of Minnetonka, Minn.. finished first in the $5 K$ with a time of 16 minutes and 22 seconds. Klecker was of Road Racing Athletes. Mary Knisely, gold medalist in the 1987 Pan American Games, took second place just five seconds behind Klecker.

First place in the 8 K race was taken by Gary Moore from Alfred Station, N.Y., with a finishing time of 25 minutes

See RUN Page 14

Have Gumby,

保 Anne Marie Letko, left, close behind.will travel - away from room

We've all heard it before. They say that if your roommate dies during the course of the semester you are pretty much guaranteed to get a 4.0 out of sympathy from your professors. If you are like me that means you remind your roommates

RON every day what big losers they are in the

HART

HUMOR FROM

 My first roomie was named Kevin. and HAQUA PASA: mall just to buy a six-foot inflatable bought a sixfoot inflatable Gumby doll; I mean; I wanted Fred Flintstóne.The important fact is that Kevin couldn't afford the doll.
This was a concept Kevin never did grasp.
For example, a bunch of us would be hanging out in the room. Kevin would suggest that we get a pizaa. Of course, at two in the morning we all wanted to get a pizza, but being rational and occasionally mature college students, we also knew we couldn't afford it.
"No problem," Kevin would say. "I'll pay for it with a check. The check will bounce. Free pizza.

A future in politics

Sometimes you just can't argue with good logic. Like Kevin's excuse for not paying his credit card bills. "I got the card when I was 17. I'm not legally eligible until I'm 18 . Therefore I'm not legally obligated to pay." Kevin should be a senator.

Kevin skipped town shortly before three less-than-friendly police officers showed up at my room with a warrant for his arrest. It seems that Kevin owed $$ 10,000$ on his credit cards and had bounced $$ 3,000$ worth of checks. It was kind of a drag that every time I called Pizza Hut they would ask if my name was Kevin, but he left me a cool couch and Gurnby.

Then Alice Cooper moved in. He had his own radio show, which no one listened to. In an attempt to get more listeners, be started a contest.
"Spend the Night With Gumby," he called it. No one ever heard of it, so no one entered. That just meant that he got to pick the winners himself.
He would just show up on their doorstep with a bunch of his friends acting like reportersiand give the person the doll for the evening. The contest sputtered when he picked up Gumby one day and found a three-inch rip in the croteh.
T'in not sure what tife point"örthe contest wasexcept maybe women.

Finding prejudice
Thenagain, decided he was too libisaman whooneday eneration. To too liberal-minded for his really prejudiced against the he became ity that came to mind: Balding Canadian Jews.

My next roommate was Mahatma. He was an exchange student from Turkey studying random particle movement physics. At least i think so; i never actually heard him speak any English. What I do know about him I managed to piece together by opening his mail.

I moved out at the change of semester, but I'm not sure he understood that. I'm pretty sure he thinks we're still roommates. I still read his mail, though.

Then came Butthead.
I still send flowers every week to the housing office for letting me be Butthead's roommate.

Here was a man who immigrated from Lebanon and learned to speak English by listening to Andrew Dice Clay Lapes. He had the looks of Erik Estrada, the body of Marky

This was a gig and the mind of Hulk Hogan.
This was a guy who would watch The Love Boat and laugh at the jokes. He thought the show was really funny

At any time of the day, on any day of the week you could find Butthead in the same position. He would sit on my couch with one hand down his pants scratching his groin, the other around a cup to spit his tobacco into and watching HBO on the TV.

People like Kevin, Alice, Mahatma, and Butthead are the reason we all wish that universities would individualize housing. It is one thing to know someone and a completely different thing to live with someone.

Life would be so much simpler if I knew the mess in my room was my mess, or the clothes in my closet would be worn on my back, or that if I woke up in the middle of the night from someone snoring it would be my snoring. But this college, and no one here wants to make my life simpler.

So if this is the point in the semester where. like me, you are ready to systematically kill all of your roommates, remember that you are just as annoying to them as they are to you.

If that isn't enough compensation then at least when you kill them you'll get a 4.0 .

SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT PROMOTION & TENURE

The following members of the School of Management will be considered either for Tenure or Promotion or Review of Progress Towards Tenure this year:

Professors Callahan, Chen, Diz, Easton, Fritsche, Frucot, Lobo, Mazumdar, Meyers, Tanniru

The Promotion and Tenure Committee, composed of nine faculty members and two students from the School, is responsible for deciding on these cases. To help its deliberations, the Committe solicits student evaluations of these candidates.

Responses should be susbmitted to:
Suite 200 Crouse-Hinds School of Management Building in Care of... Jessica Kuczinski, Undergraduate Student Representative

OR
Karl Kamrud, Graduate Student Representative 443-3751

The S.U. Investment Club invites all students, returning and new to its first general meeting. Here are some facts about us:
-We have over 300 members, many are alumni now employed in prestigious firms

- We have a five-figure portfolio to invest (with your help!)
- All majors are invited to join and participate in activities regardless of membership status
We annually sponsor:
-The AT&T Collegeate Investment Challenge. A national competition that challenges you to invest $$ 500,000$ of fictional money over a three month period. Winners receive real cash and trips to the Bahamas.
-Spring Investment Serninar. Your opportunity to meet financiers and learn more about the art of Investing.
- Trip to Wall Street. Learn first-hand about investing by the experts: the people who actually do it?
- Speakers from the investment world. Get advice from professionals who have unique insights about topics in the business world.

First General Meeting. 6:30 pm October 1, 1991. HBC Room 21.3ib.

WOMEN

Continued from Page 6 the attack using fight techniques, and two of the women were attacked by armed men, Clecton said.
"We were trained for unarmed attackers because 80 percent of attackers are unarmed," she said.
"Many people feel you're going to become cocky and incautious, but the opposite happens," she said. "It brought out my instinctive feelings and I fear more and am more cautious, but I know I can do it." The latest Fight-back program began on Sept. 27, with graduation scheduled for Oct. 11.

For more information about future programs contact Elaine Cleeton in the Dean's Office in Cleeton in the Dean's Maxwell or at 443-3315. 466-5678

EXPERIENCE THE DINEERENCE! * INDOOR PARKING + SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING $\star 12$ MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM $\star$ DOLEY STEREO * PLUSH SEATING (with cup holders) t WIDE ROW SPACING

DEAD AGAIN R

LIVIN' LARGE $R$ нонtrul 12:55, $320,8: 00 \mathrm{a}$ : 10 , 1020
ROBIN HOOD RG13 WONTUE, $12: 50,3: 40,10: 10$ WED.-THIS. 12:50, 3:40, 6:45, 10:10

DECEIVED PG13
MON-THU 1:30, 4:45, 7:45, 10:00
THE FISHER KING $R$
TERMINATOR 2
MON-THU 170, 4:70, 7:10, $10: 15$

HOT SHOTS PG13

WON-THU 2:10, 4:40, 7:40, 0:45
NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PG13 CONTHUS. 150, 4:30, 7-00, 0:40

The Consortium of

 France's Five> Leading Grandes Ecoles of Management

is seeking to recruit June '92 graduates for a 2 -year International Management Programin French and English.
Students interested in finding outmoreabout these schools and the programs they offer, are encouraged to sign up for an information conference at the Career and Placement Office.

Our representative
Mr. Jason Sedine will be on campus on:

October 7, 1991

Imanars Thenar Stop Smoking.

Richard A. Eisner & Company

RAE

We'll be looking for you on October 3rd.
We're looking for people who are dedicated to excellence and integrity.. who welcome challenge.

We invite you to stop by on October 3rd while we're on campus and find out more about Richard A. Eisner & Company, one of the largest regional independent public accounting firms in the country. Mark White are the Spin Doctors.

Spin Doctors cure maladies with music

The Spin Doctors will be rolling into The Underground tonight to cure those campus doldrums with their unique blend of funk, rock and blues.

Tonight's performance, start ing at 8 p.m. with funk/metal
 TUXEDO
foursome
Lucy Lucy Brown, will not be the Spin Doctors' firstap--
"We played a club in Syracuse about two years ago," he recalls. "but only about three people showed up. It will be funny coming back after bombing the last time."

Such a scenario is unlikely this time though, as the release of the band's debut L.P. Pocket Full Of Kryptonite, has shot the Doctors from New York City buzaword to national recognition in only a few months.
Comess says that since the band's formation in 1988, the Syracuse, according to drummer Arron Comess. $g$ to drum-

$\qquad$

575 Madison Avenue. New York, N.Y. 10022 (212) 355-1700
75 Livingston Avenue. Roseland. N.J. 07068 (201) 716-0100
One Funtington Qtadrangie, Meiville. N.Y. 1/747 (516) 420-4990
Member of Summit Intermational Aswociatev. Inc

BECAUSE LIKE UNSIGHTLY BIRTHMARKS YOUR FRATERNITY IS SOMETHING THAT WON'T FADE AWAY.

FIJI/PHI GAMMA DELTA • 300 EUCLID

SU blows Bayou with jumbo first half  Orange wide receiver Qadry Ismail  down the sideline for the score.  It was the third time this season the

By KENT FISCMER

By KENT FISCMER

Asst: Sporse Editor
NEW ORLEANS - The Syracuse University Orangemen didn't score a point in the second half of their 24-0 victory over Tulane University on Saturvictory ove

It didn't matter. though. because a strong SU defense and a sputtering Green Wave offense signaled the game was over by then.
scored two touchdowns in the last four minutes of the second quarter to erase any thoughts Tulane, $0-5$, might have had of a comeback.

Ismail first found the end zone on a 45 -yard reverse with $3: 42$ left in the half giving SU a $17-0$ lead.

Ismail took a pitch from quarterback Marvin Graves and followed fullback Al Wooten around the left end. Wooten provided a key block and Ismail headed Orange wideout Shelby Hill makes a catch in front of Tulane defensive back Willie Parms. Hill caught four passes for 75 yards.

10th-ranked Orangemen, 4-0, have run the reverse to Ismail, and he's scored on long runs twice.
"It's the way we run the option," Ismail said. "A lot of teams are overaggressive in trying to stop that. Tulane fell into that mistake."

Ismail, who ended the game with 136 yards of total offense, added the final touch just three minutes later when he hauled in a Graves pass near the Tulane 45 -yard line. The junior shook off one tackler and then outran the Green Wave secondary for a 64-yard catch-and-run and a 24-0 SU lead.

Ismail's touchdown was the Orangemen's last impressive offensive play of the game, however, as they eked out a mere 94 yards in second half offense.
"Either we're sluggish in the first half or we're sluggish in the second half." wide receiver Shelby Hill said. "We didn't play a complete game. (Last week's win over Florida) was the only complete game we've played all year,"

Fortunately for SU, a complete offensive game was not needed to gain the win because the Orange defense kept Tulane bottled up and punting throughout the game.
"The defense was all fired up." su linebacker Glen Young said. "The rush we had was incredible. The quarterback could do nothing. We were making a lot of hits behind the line of scrimmage."

Tulane quarterback Billy Duncan started the game, but after completing just two of his 10 pass attempts, was replaced by senior Jerome Woods late in the second quarter.

Woods hit on 23 of 34 attempts. Despite throwing for 226 yards in a little over two quarters, Woods was unable to engineer a sustained drive. Tulane, in fact, didn't even mount an attack into SU territory until their final drive of the game. Senior Greg Walker then stepped up and picked off an errant pass at the SU 1-yard line to thwart the threat and preserve the shutout.
"Last year they came right down the field to get the victory." Walker. who also blocked a punt, said. "We wanted to concentrate on shutting them down and we did that. They had a couple of opportunities but we tried harder and See COMPLETE Page 13

By ROB GUYETTE and KENT FISCHER
NEW ORLEANS - Syracuse continued its fumbling ways Saturday despite the secure 24-0 victory margin. The Orangemen dropped the ball six times but lost only one.

Many of the miscues came on botched handoffs and each quarterback -- Marvín handofts andeach quarterback-Marvin
Graves, Doug Womack and Mark Graves, Doug womack and Mark
McDonald - was guilty for at least one fumble.
"A couple of fumbles happened when the backs went the wrong way or we missed a couple or snaps." Graves said. "I got hit on my right side off a blitz that I couldn't see. We have to take care of the ball."

SU has fumbled 13 times in its four games.

Graves lost his fifth fumble of the season when he was hit on a scramble in the second quarter. Tulane could not take advantage of Mike Staid's recovery at the 23-yard line as it lost one yard on three plays. Gary Butler then missed a 41 -yard field goal.

Three of Graves' lost fumbles have come within the SU 30 -yard line.
"It didn't affect us today, but it will if we do something like that in the next few weeks," said tailback David Walker, who fumbled twice. "I really don't know what it is, we just have to worry about our ball security."

The Orangemen have turned the ball over 11 times this season ( 6 furnbles. 5 interceptions). Opponents have also committed 11 turnovers (3.8).

Empty seats

The official attendance count at the Superdome was 19,381 , but only because Tulane records tickets soid, not turnstile count.

A sparse crowd of no more than 10,000 attended the game in the spacious dome. which seats 75,000.

The attendance was quite a turnaround from last weekend, when the Orangemen beat Florida in front of a loud, sellout crowd in the Carrier Dome.
"I'm glad there's nobody here rooting for them," Walker said. "It'd just be harder on us. When we go back to the Dome, that's when we like to see the fans."

Tulane averaged 25,490 in six games last year and hasn't averaged more than 40,000 since 1981. Tulane hasn't had a winning record since 1981 , either.

Offensive fizzle

For the second consecutive road game. the SU offense sparkled in the first half and faded in the second.
On Saturday. Syracuse had 24 points and gained 336 yards in the first half while producing just 94 yards and no points in the second.

Two weeks ago against Maryland, the Orangemen racked up 311 yards in the first half and then had minus-four for the entire third quarter.

Injury update

The Orangemen report no serious injuries from Saturday's game.

Cornerback Dwayne Joseph. who coltided with free safety Tim Sandquist late in the fourth quarter as both went for an interception, was listed as OK.

Wide receiver Shelby Hill suffered bruised ribs but should be ready for Florida State

Hot start

Syracuse's 4-0 start is its third such streak to start the year since its national championship season of 1959.

SU started $5-0$ in 1960 before finishing $7-2$, and the 1987 team finished 11-0-1 after tying Auburn in the Sugar Bowl.
Not quite enough
Despite scoring two touchdowns and having over 90 yards receiving for the third time this season, Qadry Ismail said Saturday's win wasn't very satisfying.
"I guess I'm used to just being so excited," Ismail said. "Tonight it was like, 'Oh well, I played well and scored two touchdowns," but then it's kind of an empty, weird feeling.

SU blows Bayou with jumbo first half

Fumbles not costly yet

 sotiled up and punting throughout the Eamer deferse was all fired un." su tinebacker Glen Youns said. The rush ind

Syracuse wide receiver Qadry Ismail breaks the Lackle of Brandon Ha
Tulane. Ismail scored two touchdowns and had 136 yards in total offense.

Defense waves away memories

Orangemen get even, post

 third shutout in 11 games

SYRACUSE SCOREBOARD
 First quarter
 Syracuse 10 , Tulane 0
 Second quarter Ismail,45-yard run (Biskup kick) at 3:42.
Drive: 56 yards in 3 plays (I:17) Syracuse 24, Tulane 0
 Statistics

Player of the game Qadry lsmail

WHY SU WON

Next week's opponent

big East scores
Kutgers 14, , Michigan Slate

Other scores
No. 4 Washinglon 56 Kansas Slate 3

No
No
No

SHUTOUT
Continued from Page 11
special and all of a sudden he wasn't in there anymore."

Instead, backup Jerome Woods entered the game and threw for 226 yards. The Green Wave, however, never mounted a lengthy drive until its last possession of the game.

For the second consecutive week, the SU defense stifled the running game of its opponent. Tulane rushed 30 times for yards. Last week, FLorida's rus ing total was minus-17 yards. Syracuse is allowing 62.8 yards rushing through four games.
"It was collective group effort," Coyle said. "Each unit came up with the plays we had to have.

Thlane's best chance to score came in the second quarter when Mike Staid recovered a Marvin Graves fumble at the SU 23-yard line. In three plays, the Green Wave lost one yard and Gary Butler's 41 -yard field goal sailed wide left.
"It's a good defensive accomplishment," said Mitchell, who tied for the team lead with seven tackles. "We shut them out. No matter who you play, to hold them to no points is very hard and we feel good about it.

The shutout was Syracuse's third in its last 11 games. The Orange blanked Rutgers $42-0$ last Oct. 20 in the Carrier Dome and beat Arizona $28-0$ in the Aloha Bowl on Christmas Day.
"It takes a lot of things to right for you to (get the shutout)," Coyle said. "It's never easy getting a shutout and it wasn't easy tonight.
The SU defense, which has bailed out a turnover-prone of fense much of the season, has allowed 48 points in four games. a 12.0 average.

IMPROVE YOUR LOOKS, HEALTH AND POPULARTTY.

QUIT SMOKING.
© Arnerkcon Hearf Associetion

COMPLETE

 Continued from Page 10 came through.Tulane's best chance to avoid the shutout came early in the second quarter when freshman safety Mike Staid recovered a Marvin Graves fumble on SU's 23-yard line.

After two incompletions and a loss of a yard on a draw play, Tulane kicker Gary Butler attempted a 41-yard field goal, but missed wide to the left.

Syracuse was leading $3-0$ lato in the first quarter before it mounted what would be the Orangemen's only sustained scoring drive of the night.

Starting on their own 23, SU marched downfield in nine plays before David Walker, who rushed for 72 yards on 18 carries, twisted and spun in from three yards out for the touchdown.
The score was set up by a 40-yard pass completion to Shelby Hill on a 3 -and- 10 play Shelby Hill on a seand SU's 42-yard line. Hill from SU's $42-y a r d$ line. Hind ended the game with 75 yards receiving on only four catches. That catch-and-run play took the ball to the Tulane 18. After two runs and a Tulane offsides penalty moved the ball to the three, Walker scored for a $10-0$ SU lead.

Head coach Paul Pasqualoni said there were a lot of obstacles SU had to overcome in winning Saturday. Despite having to travel 2,000 miles, fight off the Bourbon Street distractions of Bourbon Street distractions of New Orleans, face a winless New Orleans, face a winiess Green Wave team and not think Green Wave team and not think about next week's game at No. about next weak's game at No.
I Florida State, the Orangernen I Florida State, the Orangeme refused to look past Tulane.
refused to look past Tulane.
"Our kids have a lot of respect for Tulane," Pasqualoni said. "They beat us very, very legitimately last year. A year ago they were the better team so our kids had that as a motivator. Coming into the Superdorne we Coming into the Superdorne we

Young said it wasn't easy to stay focused on Tulane, but he stay focused on tulane, but he managed it by using his imagimanage
nation.
"You figure a game like this sandwiched between two big games, that we might have a letdown," he said. "We concentrated on not having that letdown and thinking of Tulane as a top-10 team."

"Good friends don't let good friends smoke cigarettes"

Cigarettes aren't good for your friends. Adopt a friend who smokes and help 'em quit today. You'll both be glad tomorrow.

Rush

> DELTA KAPPAEPSILON 703 WALNUT AVE.

TEL. 423.3731

TOP 10 REASONS TO RUSH NXA LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

10. Plenty of good food, especially chicken!
11. Associate Membership! You're never a pledge, so you don't have to crawl on your knees or play with cookies.
12. A great house on Walnut Park, surrounded by sorority babes and female dorms.
13. We've been on campus since 1918 and have not been kicked off, knock on wood.
14. NO HAZING! We've been anti-hazing since 1969, and we mean it!
15. Kevin O'Neill is finally gone, & Gus has time off for good behavior.
16. Third largest international fraternity, both in number of chapters and initiates.
17. Front porch provides good funnelating launching pad.
18. Diversity -- you name it, we have it (even if we don't want it)
19. The chance to make one of the best decisions of your college career and lifetime. Take advantage of this opportunity. Rush Lambda Chi!

RUN

Continued from Page 7 and 42 seconds. SU student Laura Lowe finished the 8 K first in the 19 -and-under age group.

Awards were also given for mother/daughter and sister/ sister teams. Cash awards totaling $$ 6,500$ were given to the top 20 finishers in the 5 K .

Although the race is competitive, it also offers opportunities for women. "Havingall-women's events encourages women who have not previously competed to come out and try something new," Oja said.
The main goal of the Run For Women is to promotéathletics. "I want to promote competitive opportunities for women. I want to encourage everybody to be physically active,"Oja explained. "The race provides an incentive to improve and become competitive athletes.
"It spices up everyday running," said participant Gloria Cummings of Syracuse. "It gives you a goal."

F.Y.I.

Day-care worker
training scheduled
The Onondaga County Child Care Council announces its fall session for training family day care providers. The 10 -week session will run through Nov. 26. Topics include parent/provider communication, health and safety, operation and management, record-keeping and taxes, child development, abuse and maltreatment and children's play.

The free training will be at Andrews Memorial United Methodist Church in North Syracuse from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Free child care is available on the premises, and a certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.
The training, for new and experienced providers, will help fulfill the 15 -hour requirement mandated by the new Family Day-Care Registration System. For further information and pre-registration, call 472-6919.

SIMCHAT hillel torah party
"It's positively smashing..."
-Queen Elizabeth II
"I wouldn't miss it for a month of Mondays in Moscow.*
-Mikhail Gorbachev
Monday, Sept. 30 7:30 pm Hillel Lounge Hendricks Chapel
(Co-sponsored by Chabad-Lubavitch)

Who said Rush was over?
$R U S H$ Kappa Sigma
Have you seen the plans for our new house to be built by next summer? We're one of the largest fraternities in the country. Stop by...we're-on Wainut Park

ANY OUESTIONS?  Come to Pr Beta Phitat 270 Walnut on Honday. Tuesday & Thurday

Nottingham Laundromat In Nottingham Plaza Nottingham Road at Tecumseh Road

Full Service Coin Operated Laundromat 75申 Top Loaders
open midnght 25¢ Dryers 6am-12min TRYUS

We Value Your Bus
We Value Your Business!

MBA/Law Day gives vital information
All students interested in learning more about law school or graduate programs in management are invited to attend Syracuse University's annual Syracuse Universitys 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student CenAuditorium, Schine Student Cen-
Representatives from law schools and graduate management programs will be available to meet with students. Admission materials, cataiogs and financial aid information will be also a vaitable.
Racism conference set for Drumlins

A conference on religion and racism will be held at Drumlins this evening.

Speakers include Professor Bruce Hare of Syracuse University's Department of AfricanAmerican Studies and Sister Alethea Connolly, former director of the Urban Ministry Board of Syracuse.

For more information, call 476-2001.

NAKED MAN
BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES
BY FAJITA PARTY

GYPSY THE DOG

SPACE CAPTAIN
 (en

OFFICRILCOMLCSCONTEST RESUL.TS

| vorica |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| IPIEABAMOFP3CL |  |  |
| 7. ARTHEXUUCATION, |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| micruous mictives AnD |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| Ie. Pat |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| ${ }_{\text {21\% }}$ |  |  |
| $\qquad$ |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| *7. Voris rom cour favontri |  |  |

GOTTA HAVE FAITH BY ARNOLD

ART'S EDUCATION BY HOBBIT GOD

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DALY ORANGE CLASSIFIED AD PFFOCEDURE: $$ 2.50$ for the first 15 words.
10 for each addrional word, 5 eurra for eact bold word, 5 e exrra for each CAPITAL IZED word. DEADLINE: 2 pro. 2 business day in advance.

Notices

DTERRACUAL COUPLE GROUP: Fowm for sharing joys and paiss, strateques to deal with phenartal couple group: Colpla enrichment, marital preparation, improving communication and imimacy.
(Size linnitad Register now. Sludent rates Cortact Dr. Kenneth Hardy at 443-3023). PERSONAL CONSTRUCT PSYCHOLOGY: IrtarKollays porsonal corstruer psychotogy and theory. Planse call 446-1262.

Horseback Riding 18 mies tram Syracuse Resv.
(315)696-8169.

SALE 20\% OFF
LEATHERS, AKTORCYCLE JACKETS, STERLING SILVER & ANTIOUE JEWELRY. The cold is coming! New Overcoars & Woal
Blazers Arving Daly. BOOM BABIES VINTAGE Blazers Ariving Daily. BOOM BAB:ES VINTAGE
CLOTHING 742 S Bosch. OH Wostcont. 472.1949 11-7:OOpm. mevisa. 2minutas for campus.

FOR SALE

Autos

Toyota Corolla 86 beautifu, automatie, alr, sterea tupe, $423-5000$ $23 \cdot 5000$
1986 Ford Tempo GL 2dr., Now tires, Banerys Brakes 91 K , Graat shape, Swaen car $$ 2300$. or Best Oiter 637.9684, 637-5151.
Ford Fuxtive 80 bow miles, stereo pess saver, ine brand new, only $$ 2995$. Phomy's $423-3000$ Honda Crx 84 Sporty, rad. 5 spoed. stersoa $/$ lape. MPG 36city / 46imy. Only 53195 . Plony's 423.
3000 .

Nissmi Sentra B9, outstanding condition, 31,000 miles, bucker seats, stereo tape, red, gas saver onty $$ 5100$. Plony's $423-3000$.
MAZDA 3234 dr. 5 spd . AC, enuso. 59.000 mi Well - mantaines. Cloan. $4,000. Call 635-1755 (Ractisson)

1989 DODCE Shadow- 20.000 miles, standart irarsmission, $422.2059 / d a y s ; 446-1524 /$ nights.

Hyundia Excell B6 GL. immaculate. low miles stereo tape. surroof, onty $2995. Plory's 423 3000.

Misc. For Sale
Tickets: Rutpers vs. Syracuse at Giant Stadium, 50
1-800-654-TIXX

FOR RENT

Safe and Convenient Apartments
-Kitchen $\quad-1 \& 2$ Bedroom Apts. (\$420-\$485)

- Livingroom
-Bathroom
- Laundry

Utilities Included
-Off Street Parking
-Campus Bus Line

ASK FOR MARIE 8:30-4:00 443-2567

 NEED CREDIT
RUSH PI LAM

FREE CREDIT CARDS TO ALL PLEDGES

T^ф - we have beeri on campus over 40 years, and as our national chapter approacnes its centennlal we at SU are races with the task or rebuilding fer the future.

Come Rush Pi Lam and be an integral part of our fraternity, as we strive toward the future.

Brotherhood in Pi Lambda Phi. where everyon=tecomes a leader not a follower.

Sept. 30//Oct. 1 & 2 Schine Student  Center - Rm. 301

EMPLOYMENT

Networkinc. the concept of the 90's. Be associated With an intamational compaty who deats writh 700 Ken.
Seeking Afractive Bar Aurndanss. No Experience Necossary. Willingness To Leam. Cal Barbara AI
471.9875 For Appointment.
Enterprising Indivitualy Nioeded Tortric opporturiny to eam extra cash Call for delais. $522-0695$ leave message.
FAST CASH. SHORT SHIFTS. Join the Camer Dome hawker staft. Bring home s the same day you work. Fer imtor. call Rob 443-4029.
RA lor 7 laterted Fay Mlan h.s. women (ABC program) supervise and nutor. Room and board 682.9743 athor 6:00pm.

Sti looking for a heatity mate studary to work Saturday or Sunday moming for a rapidlyrecovering 53 -year-old mate stroke victimt. He needs you to pin the rean of students who are hetping him in his hame naar Souh Campus. He is a business axacutive. intelligont. personable. easy to get alorg wath, and is now helb sonvong hot timsey on the road to recovery. This is an oasy job plue great recovery. This is an oasy job plus greal experience. Cal Mr. Hill to arrange a persoral expenence. Cai innerview at 445-2327

WANTED

Help Wanted

Models- Girts, Guys! Insemational Hair Design Team coming to Symecuse. Free hairuts products. ect. 1-800-333-4693.
TRAVEL FREE! Sell Spring Ereak Trips to Jamaica, Cancun, Bahamas, Margarta Island Best commissions paid. Sun Splash Tours. 1-000-426-7710
Travel Salas Representatives: STS, the leader in collegiaze travel noeds motivated individials and more information catl Sudern Travel Senvices, thace, NY at 1-800-548-4949.
KKnow Befors You Go" where to work, Ive and ski Treo in Colorado's resorts. Curent Guide 10 Aspon, $789-6174$.
Fast Fundraiser 51000 in I weak. Greaks. Cubss Fast Fundraiser $$ 1000$ in 1 weok. Greaks. Clubs and Anyone. No invastment. $1800-748-5817$ Ext and 50.
Campus Fepresentalives Needad Eam trae trip and big commissions by selling Cacill, Mifocio. For more ifformation call tolif free at t-300-7557956 or in Connacticut at $203-975-8833$. Roommates
ONE BEDROOM. Waking distance. located at Wathut and Madison. Two male seniors need on Wahut and Madison. Two male seniors need an more persor. 682-5130.

FOR RENT

Apartments
$1,2,3,4$ bedroom aparupertis, roommario situations. Otf street parking. Laundry, clean, large.
reasonable. reasonable.
2.Badroom lowor hat. Euelid near Westeott. Seroand porch, oft-strem parking Privato yard. $$ 540.682-8823$.
FOR RENT: 3 BEDROOM AFARTMENT Westion Struet turnishod, washer and dyer. parking
Call
487-5761.

FALL & SPRING accepring Sanior a Gractusti male a fermaly students to fitior aeveral 4bdrm spantments. 1 indivural ok. Rates: Basic humishod model $$ 23000$ : Designerspahme mode: $$ 325.00$. Ad are located next to E.S.F. campus on Oakland and Stanctart Sts. Theso apartments are in an excellont $x$ block wakiron location and ara nicaty turnishod win bods, desks, dressars and living foomfurnitere. Call 673 -1344 for a chrice studort apt University Ave. Furnishead 3 bedroom llat: laundry. laase, security deposit, $$ 825.00$ plus unitios

AVAILABLE TODAYI ONE TWO BEDROOM APARTMENTS. Kinchen, ivingroom, bathroom, $3420 . $ 485 . \mathrm{mo}$. Call Mane $8.30-4.00,443-2567$.
Join a group, Wom a single. a 3 -bedroom, or a whola house. WorgartRobens Real Estar has some exceriem, tuly furnished units avaitable now or in January. All the extras rou atways warted Call Tim Engols to inspect 446-8914.

Huge 4 Eledroom apt. Ackerman Ave. RE.
MODELED 1591 , furnished, Laumdry, fireplace, ot steeel parking. Will take singles. $$ 225$. per bedrocm.

446-2209. 424-9419.
10 minues from campus. Large 3 bedroom, offstreet parking, owner occupied. quiel street parking, owner oceupi neighbortrood. $$ 475 .+425.7199$ eves.
UNIVERSTTY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDROOM UNITS: Share kitchen, bath Furishod, heated, cappotec, haundry, mierewave. eablativ. Nica
Close to campus. $\$ 250-5205$. Complote close to campus. $\$ 250 . \$ 295$. Complote. $\mathbf{4 7 4 - 1 3 0 3 , 4 7 4 - 3 3 0 3 .}$

APARTMENT FOR RENT greal Abdrm aparment avaiathle, large furnisted apm. next to E.S.F. Oakland and Standart locatiors. $673-1344$.
PRIVATE FUANISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS Very close. Secure. Ouiet. Carpeted. Air Very ciose. Secure. Puiet. Carpeled. Air
Contsioned. Laundry. Parking Universit Area
Ap9-5005. Apis.

Univeratyl Morth Crouse Spacious 1 -bedriam $$ 350$ to $$ 395$ includes heat. tlandry. No pets. Socumy deposh. 428-0853.
Apanment for rent, outer University, Threa bedrooms. livingroom. kitchen, diningroom. parking ldeal for medical students, grad studerts. a prolessionals. $\mathrm{Cal} / 446-\mathrm{-6059}$.

WAIST NOT WANT NOT

-Kelly Lyn Features Reebok Step AerobicsAerobic circuit of: Stairmasters. Computerixed Bikes. Sici Machines, new Treadminis and upper body machine Gravitron. Over 80 Classes weekly featuring tivemen by Caistar and Paramon by Camstar and sauna
a whirlpool. Also avaitable whiripool. Also available supervised childrens playrooms
3MOS ${ }^{\mathbf{s}} \mathbf{1 0 9}$
Students Get 1 Month

Wewe expanaded

er remodeledl
EAST 4455-1270
Erie Blvd. Exst
shoppingtown Mall
Shoppingtown Mall
MORT11 452-3261
Oateway Fark Ditve
Oppogater Talt Rat Post Onlic
Turn in Tayor Road

Houses

Univarithy Ava. 5 bectroom house only $$ 1250.00$ plus uritios; fumished, laundry, tease, secumiry plus deposia.

Rooms

Fumished room one bloct from campus. Laundry. porch and oil street pazking. All utities inchuded $325 / \mathrm{mos} 446-859 \mathrm{~A}$

Fumishod Fioom: Graduata Siudent Shara Kachen, iving Foom, Lauxdry. Firoplaca. Eucld Ave. $$ 225.00+469-6665$.
Sublet available in rica house $$ 300.00$. Shars fiverg spaca. Ouiet location, laundry, yard. Mark 422.6865

ROOMS FOR RENT. $210. plus utitities. Hardwood Floors, Leundry, New Kitehen, Microwave, Fireplace, Fumished. 428.1381.

Cartiago house rooms for rent: Wahut Avo. 2 blocks trom Lbrary. inciudes paiking and ubifies. 45-85320AYS, 446-450 Ele pas.

PERSONALS
Jesse, my favorite freshman in Lawrencason: cood buck with rush ang call me. Love. Kristen.
Chrissy: Honecoming was an incredbie succass You wers an awasome hotnecoming chair. You spirk and enthusizsm kept us gorng- all the way io 1st place! Congratulations on a pob well donel Lov ha Sists and plegos of Sgma Kappa Donna: you wert the host awesome resh chair Your smive atways kept us gong Congratulations on a job well done. All of our bve. the Ssters of Sigma Kappa Alison Sachs homecoming was great. Thanks for all your hand work Love the Sisters and Plectgos of SDT.

FID- You're the bast and I couldnit ask tor aryiteng more! ! Love You K-face! Happy 21st Binthday Love S. izaBookvar and Doria Hellant inarkyou for tho great job with altumna brunch. It was amazing. Love tre Sisters and Plordoes of SOT

SERVICES
Does STAT Class Have You Down? Help is Available. Call Charlas Kincaid, 459-5857 tos TUTOAING.

ACME RELIEF: INFORMATION THAT WILL CHANGE YOUR LFE. PROVEN EFFECTNE:
SEND $$ 3.00$ TO SKIN CARE CENTER, 975 SEND $$ 3.00$ TO SKIN CARE CENTER, 975 WASHINGTON, ALBANY, NY 12206
typing. For all your typing neods- lethers, manuscripts, disseriations, etc. Call Ruth Dowoy at $652-5814$.

Werd Processing. Laser resumes. Typing Fast um-around COMPUTERS & COPIES. Marshal St. above Acropolis
Tutoring in Pryetrology. All courses and levels. Prolessor Eeminn, 474-0824.

LEVY

Continued from Page 20
hearing-impaired people.
She said having deaf friends helps her to understand and overcome some of the difficulties that having a handicap can cause.

According to Levy, it is helpat to share her experiences with other hearing-impaired people who might feel different from "normal" people.

When Levy's day is over, she removes the magnetic headpiece she wears behind her ear.

She wraps the wire around the box and places it on the night table next to her bed.

She gets into bed and falls asleep to silence. And while, technically, she is deaf, her

F.Y.i.

Local artwork shown at Schine The artwork of noted His panic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in from 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in October.

He showing, sponsored by will run thic-American Society is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Library offers

free tours

Gutided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated li brary.
For more information, call 443-1943.

Poetry contest

 deadlineapproaches More than 250 poets will receive $$ 12,000$ in prizes this year from the North American Opern Poetry Contest.The deadline for the contest is today, and entry is free.

To enter, send one original poem to the National Library of Poetry, 5-E Gwynns Mill Ct., P.O. Box 704-PC, Owings Mills, Md. 2117.

The poem should be no longer than 20 lines, and the poet's name should appear on the top of the page.

Karena Levy
spirit says otherwise. "I don't feel like a deaf person," she says. "I can hear.

Cave Canem

seeks writers

Cave Canem, the newsletter of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, is looking for res
Meetings are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m. in Room 301 of Crouse College. Articles can also be submitted to 208 Crouse. For more information, call JoAnna at 443-2517.

As Always,

A Commitment to Excellence

Rush Theta Chi403 Comstock Avenue

Doors open tonight at Midnight. (sharp!)

PRINCE & THE NEW POWER GENERATION DIAMONDS AND PEARLS FEATURING: CREAM • GETT OFF - DIAMONDS AND PEARLS

SPECTRUM RECORDS is now offering the latest release by Prince & The New Power Generation! Get your "Diamonds and Pearls " at our infamous Midnight Madness Sale!

Oompactrisc

Footnote

Breaking the silence

By LISA GATTO
Contributing Writer
At first, you might think Karena Levy is just another student at Syracuse University.

She drives her car to campus, she attends classes and she socializes on the weekends.

But as you talk with her, you might wonder why her eyes focus intensely on your lips.
Her voice sounds muffled, as if you are talking to her on a telephone with a bad connection.

You might wonder if she has an accent. You can't quite put your finger on it.

Her sentences are fragmented, and her grammar is sometimes incorrect. You might not notice a wire carefully tucked under her long, curly blond hair.

That wire runs underneath her blouse and down her back to a little black box hidden in her jeans.

This box brings the sounds of life to Karena Levy. Without it, she hears silence.

Born profoundly deaf, Levy recently underwent a cochlear implant, a revolutionary surgical technique which had only been introduced three years ago.
In the summer of 1990, a magnetic plate was surgically inserted behind her ear. The plate transmits sound her ear. The pla waves to the box.

The first deaf adult to undergo the surgery, Levy said the implant enables her to hear higher sound frequencies, like birds singing and trafquencies, like Taking sound for granted
Hearing a door squeak or footsteps is important for her safety, Levy said. "People take these sounds for granted."
Within about five years, she will be able to understand human speech without lip reading.
Levy said her implant is turned up every six months. She compared the process to having braces.
"You can't have your teeth straight overnight," she said. Since the surgery, her speech has become clearer.
Levy has never let her handicap interfere with leading a full life.
At the age of two, she began a difficult task that would take eight difficult task that would take eight years - learning to talk years-learning to talk.
"I remember crying every day because I was so sad," she said. "But I had a wonderful speech therapist who pushed me very hard."

Her mother had a high fever while she was pregnant, causing levy's deafness.
Siera Levy, her mother, did not even know she was pregnant when she was ill, according to Karena.

- Mrs. Levy didn't realize her daughter was deaf until Karena was two years old.
"Karena was such a bright, lovely baby," Mrs. Levy said. "She smiled a lot and seemed very responsive to things around her."

Learned to talk, read lips
Levy began her speech therapy at the age of two. Because her parents wanted her to be able to function in a hearing world, Levy learned how to read lips and talk.
"I know a lot of deaf people who

Deaf Awareness Week offers alternative cultural activïties

Staff reports

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

be reverge interpreted for people who can hear.

Stanshine Too," ant outreach program designed to promotedealawaroness, will perform Friday, 8 pmont the Camousel Mall-Common Groumat On Sataranýs FlomingotBqutim

 15 Kivaperpareng, 名 gipantydyand +4

OCTOBER

Tomait case to be reviewed

By ERIN NEFF

Managing Editor

The-Syracuse Police Department has reopened a case involving charges of rolice brutality after seven Syracuse Ofpolice brutality afterseven Syracuse University students were interviewed about their eyewitness accounts of the about their eyewit
Aug. 30 incident. the alley behind South Crouse Avenue, was closed after the Internal Affairs investigation originally dis counted brutality'charged.: The wit nesses wiere not interviewed.
The seven students filed citizen complaint formos on Sept 1 , after withessing what they said were two officers beating a restrained man in the head. However;-they were unable the head. However, they were unable to meet with police after the incident subsequently closed early last week.

Capt John Galvin, who is heading: the Intermal Affairs investigation, met with four of the students last Wednesday and the other three Saturday. After listening to their testiurday. Afer listening to their testimony, Galvin decided to reopen the mony,
"No investigation is ever totally closed, Galvin told the students. "Because this is an internal investigation, there is no double jeopardy."
No original witness accounts.
Lindy Crescitelli, an SU senior. said he was upset when police officers Mark Kleist and Chad Monroe were cleared because he had not been able to give his account.

Tbgether with students Charlie McDonald, Sarah White and Lisa Nichele SKop. Crescitelli met with police Wednesday. He:offered his SEe REOPEN Page 6

Shaw says financial aid will not be cut

BY ROY S. GUTTERMAN

New: Editor

As Syracuse University downsizes, Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw plans to insulate the university's financial attractiveness to prospective students.
SU's $$ 23$ million budgeted financial aid will not be among the likely candidates for cuts in Jamuary when the university implements its downsizing venture, Shaw told reporters Monday afternoon at a press conference.

Shaw called the conference to discuss Shaw called the conference to discuss the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Aroups report on Academic Support Units and Academic Auxiliaries which was reAcadermic Aux leased Monday.
"We give a lower percentage of aid than is true of our peers," Shaw said. "It must be given consideration."

Athletic scholarships consume about

Pointing to the past

Employees from the financial aid office, Michelle Liquori-Martin, left, and Gwen Kratze, admire a photograph of what Syracuse looked like in the past. The pictures are part of an exhibit in the Shaffer building.

SGA seeks opinions on budget Assembly members encouraged to hear concerns

BY KRISTINA SAUERWEIN

Asst. News Editor
Finding out student opinion about the unjversity's plan to cut $$ 28$ million from its budget will be one of the biggest challenges facing the Student Government Association, according to SGA President Emily Zenick.

Zenick, speaking at SGA's first Assembly meeting Monday night, said Syracuse University administrators rely on SGA to convey student concerns.
"It is crucial that you, as members of the Assembly, know how your constituthe Assembly, know how your constituents feel, she said to the newly elected assembly members. "The university is going through massive downsizing and the administration looks to SGA to see the administration looks to

Zenick, a member of the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group, recommended that the Assembly vote to extend the date Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw plans to announce where the budget cuts will be made.

The Jan. 15 deadline should be pushed back two wreks because it interferes with winter break and does not give students and faculty enough time to give their input, she said.
Need more time
With the holiday schedule, not very many students will be around to give feedback," she said. "We need more time."

The Assembly will vote on the recommendation at next Monday's meeting.

Zenick also addressed improvements made during the summer that will help SGA function more efficiently.

For instance, she said SGA updated files on all student organizations that receive funding.
"We now have on file the constitutions and budget sllocations for all student groups," she said.

Chris Loggans, SGA comptroller, said new computers purchased over the summer will allow SGA to issue a monthly mer will allow SGA to issue a monthy staternent of each student group's budget.
"The computer system will help SGA keep better records of the budget," he said. "In the past, things were lax.
Loggans also said he will work more closely with the Finance Board to cut down on overspending.

Student groups requesting funds will have to fill out a revised form that requires them to specify what the money will be used for.
"This year there will be stricter enforcement of SGA's financial codes and bylaws," he said. "Things will be much casier."
Leaders of different committees said other SGA goals inelude improving SGA election procedures, making voter regiselection procedures, making voter registration easier for students and increastration easier for students a

See SGA Page 6

16 percent, or $$ 3.7$ million, of the university's scholarships and financial aid, the report states.
The report recommends shifting the $$ 3.7$ million into the athletic department's budget, to free funds "to all applicants, and not just outstanding athletes."

Affecting athletics

Such a move could force the athletic department to alter resource allocation, team schedules, ticket prices and overall competitiveness, Shaw said.

The athletic department will not be "immune to scrutiny," he said.
The university will have to determine "how much can we afford to have this, and who's going to pay for it," Shaw said. Booster and alumni clubs could be alternate sources, the report said.
SU will also seek to raise more funds through alumni gifts and grants, Shaw said.

SU generates six percent of its revenues through private gifts and grants, the report states. Compared to federal data on peer colleges and universities, SU trails the average of 11 percent.
Shaw cited a need for increased efforts in alumni relations and donor development.

According to the report, 73 percent of the university's revenue is generated through tuition. As the university braces for a 15 to 20 percent drop in students, its tuition-based revenue will inevitably its tuition shrink.
Alternative funding must be sought, especially since $S U$ will lose more state and federal funding.

The projected student decline will shrink the university to about 9,600 undergraduate students.
The decline will surely affect faculty and administrative staffing, Shaw said.

After the press conference, Shaw said it is unlikely that the university will merge administrative and faculty positions in an effort to save maney. "I'm not sure that is cost efficient," he said. "I don't see that as a way to improve the university.
He also said it is unlikely that SU will sacrifice teaching assistant or graduate school programs, which are "very competitive," to save money.

See related story on page 3.

Inside

Business . . . . . . . . 7
Classified
Comics . . . . . . . . . 13
Commentary . : . . . . 4
Editorial
.5
Sports.
Weather
.2

Charge it!

If yourd like a double cheeseburger, large fries and a chocolate burger, large fries and a chocolate shake but don't have enough money shake but don't have enough money to pay for it, don't worry. Burger to pay for it, don't worry. Burger King will do it your way - it now King will do it your way - it now accepts credit cards. See the buisiness page.

SU shutout

The Syracuse soccer team was defeated 1-0 by Villanova Saturday. See the sports page for coverage.

16

World

Soviet gold holding

 far below estimatesSoviet goid reserves are far maller than Western experts had estimated, a Soviet official said Friday.
With Soviet food supplies declining and infiation skyrocketing, the announcement may prompt increased debt relief and food aid from the West.

The lower reserves would mean the government has a far smaller cushion to help make payments for its $$ 70$ billion in foreign debt and to provide for emergency imports.

The announcement was made by the architect of plans to move the country toward a market economy.

Farmers protest

 in streets of ParisFrench farmers took to the streets of Paris to give warming that falling prices and changes in Europe are jeopardizing rural life.

The latest crisis, brought on by two years of drought and aggravated by a 25 percent drop in wholesale prices, has lef thousands of cattle, sheep and dairy farmers close to bankruptcy.

Some among the 150,000 marchers wooed Parisians with gifts of wine, sausage and cheese.

The farmers are facing competition from Eastern Europe and massive cuts in subsidies.

Nation

Despite early support governor vetoes gay bill California Gov. Pete Wilmon vetocd a gay rights bill which many conservative and church groups opposed bitterly.
The bill would have outlawed job discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

The veto by Wilson, a Republican, was a reversal of his early tentative support for the measure, which he had said during a session in April be would "likely sign."

Recently Wilson backed off his early support and seemed to be cautiously neutral.

Blacks make up 40  percent of death row

While Congress figures ont how to impose the death penalty to a series of new crimes, the Justice Department baid that blacks still make up a much large that blacks still make up a much larger share of death row inmates than of the nation's population.

The department's Bureau of Justice Statistics reported Sunday that as of Dec. 31, 1990. blacks made up 40 percent of prisoners awaiting execution.
The 1990 census found the U.S. population is 12.1 percent black.

A House panel has approved a bill allowing legal challenges to death sentences based on statistical demonstrations of race discrimination.

State

Fabius woman finds

horse in backyard

Julia Virginia of Fabius awoke this morning after she heard noises in her backyard - and found a horse grazing. She told state police in LaFayette the horse was wearing a harness and that she would keep the horse tied up in her she would keep the horse tied up in her yard until the police could contact area farmers to see whom the horse belonged to.

Police officers hurt  outside dome concert

Two Syracuse police officers were injured while arresting two men outside injured while arresting two men outside the Rod Stewart conce
Dome Saturday night.

Sge. Timothy Laun and Officer Timothy Chura were on off-duty detail at the Dome when a dome security guard requested their help to deal with two men who were drinking, smoking, and disrupting the crowd.
The officers tried to escort Joseph Pecorello, 30, and Joseph Balstone, 29. both from Utica, out of the Dome.
The officers put Blastone out of the Dome and arrested Pecorello after he swung at the officers. Blastone reentered the Dome and tried to force the officers to release Pecorello.
Pecorello tried to escape and Blastone began to choke Chura.
Both men were charged with resisting arrest and unlawful possession of marijuana. Chura suffered from tightness in the neck and had difficulty swallowing. Laun cut his right finger.

Campuses

Students in Ohio  run for local office

Four students at Bowling Green University in Ohio are running for local office, including mayor, due primarily to increased friction between local police and students.

However, the university was hurting student candidates by prohibiting political canvassing and student registration in residence halls, according to James Tinker, a 23-year-ald journalism major and candidate for mayor.

Now the university has changed its student conduct code to allow door-todoor registration from 1 to 9 p.m., but still prohibits canvassing until three weeks before the election, according to Robert Arrowsmith, associate vice president of student affairs.
"This is really giving us a shot in the arm as far as the mayor's race is arm as $n$ as the mayor's race is concerned," Tinker said. "Students are really beginning to realize thair rtrength."

Fraternity accepts

women as full members

The Alpha Delta Phi fraternity chapter at Bowdoin College in Maine became the last fraternity on campus to admit women as full-fledged members this month, and as a result, the fraternity lost its national affiliation.

The university has had a policy of integrating women into campus life, including the greek system, since 1982 . Three of the college's eight fratemities had recognized women as full members for several years.

September 16, 1991
Dear Studenks, Faculty and Stalt:
You are condially invited to the second convocation honoring the Remembrance Scholars for 1991-1992 at Syracnse University on Tuesday evening, October 1, at 7:30 PM in Hendricks Chapel.

A Remernbrance Scholarship is one of the highest awards a Syracuse University student can rective. These 35 outstanding seniors have been chosen for their distinguished scholarship, citizenship and service to the community. Their achievements honor the memory of our stadents tragically lost on Dectmber 21, 1988, over Lockerbic, Scotland.

I hope you will find it possible to join me on this important occasion.

WEATHER

Umbrella alert

-Today will be cloudy with a 40 percent of rain. The high is expected to be about 70 degrees. The day will also be windy - 15 to 25 mph. Tonight, too, will be cloudy and the chance of rain will remain at 40 percent. Lows will be in the 50 s .
Wednesday
More showers are expected for Wednesday. Highs will be for Wednesday. Highs will be Temperatures across 50 s .

Thursday

The rain trend continues. Now Atlanta we're back to the good old SU Boston we all know and love. High and Chicago low temperatures remain con- Dallas sistent -70s and 50 s respec. Detroit tively.

Weekend

The sun may peek through for a while on Friday, but it's back to rain on Saturday. Thunderstorms are expected with a derstorms are expected with a Tashington, D.C. surprising high of 75 degrees.
 the country

Atlanta allas
Los Angeles
Miam;
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C. . .
Today's
(

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syrmenee Univeraity's independent gtudent-mun newipaper poblished Monday through Fridiny.

The newnpaper i distributed free on the Syracuse Univernity and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry canpues.

The editoria are available after 3 p.m Sundey through Tharmdis:

Newnt 4is-2127Bditomijal: 443-2128Lifentyie: 449-2123Sporte $443-2208$

American  Heart

Association

Advisory group reports on academic auxiliaries

Information for the following article was compiled from the article was compiled from the Syracuse University ChancelSyrbcuse University Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group lor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group report on Academic Support Units and Academic Auxiliaries released Monday.

Recommendations for the academic support units were highlighted Monday in The Daily Orange. This is a look at the advisory group's suggestions for the academic auxiliaries.

The acadernic auxiliaries are a diverse collection of activities, ranging from such fiscally large ranging from suen iscaily he, the units as University College, the Grams Abroad and Information grams Abroad and Information Systems and Computing to the gram and University Art Collection.

For the academic auxiliaries. an anticipated cash return is built into their budgets. This revenue return, General Administrative Service, is the intra* university charge levied to reimburse the central budget for fringe benefits and indirect costs fringe benentsand borne directly by the auxilnot bo iary.

The
The same rules that apply to the schools and colleges might be applied to the auxiliaries so they might become part of the education and general budget, thereby coming under the scrutiny of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for a direction of funds.

University College

Once all its bills have been paid, University College regalarly contributes a significant net cash return to the university hat is applied to general needs.
The Advisory Group believes it may be possible to operate UC more efficiently. The declining size of the main campus undergraduate student body should free up classroom space. thereby permitting more courses to be tatight on campus.
UC should then sell its aging Peck and Reid halis, move into campus space, and save significantly on its maintenance costs.

Beginning with your very first set of diagnostic tests, Ronkin will give you the skills, practice and support you need to clear a path straight to the graduate schogl of your choice. And school of your choice. And you'll have the s:

Call Rorkin today.

UC should assess whether it needs all 8 Stan UC progra on of payroll. Some UC programs of long standing are now so integral to the curricula of the schools and colleges that they could be moved entirely out of UC, thereby reducing the administrative demand on UC personnel and simplifying the administrative structure.
UC should also address whether the university cans afford to continue all the valuable community outreach programs now under its umbrella. Such mon asuessment phould be part of a reneral review of priorities in a genera review or priorities in what is now a very complex and layered operation.

The Advisory Group would prefer to see auxiliaries such as UC freed from the GAS-based budget; they should be given more flexibility to balance revenue and expenditures optimally to achieve their missions and return a net profit to the anaversity.

However, in the present fiscal environment, UC should attempt to achieve the average cut of approximately 16 percent of its reducible base without lowerins the net cash return to the university achieved in previous years.

Summer Sessions
The net return from Summer Sessions to the university is already substantial. Further effects to increase the GAS might provecounterproductive, particu larly in light of the diminishing stucient population.

In addition, the high tuition rate at SU, in comparison with that charged by other institu. tions in Central New York, may make it increasingly difficult to attract students.
The Advisory Group recommends, therefore, that the focus here should be on ways to increase enrollment in Summer Sessions. This might require a modest add-on to permit developtnent of new courses and programs with good enrollment potential.

Fiscal incentives might be provided to encourage schools and colleges with potentially attractive summer programs to take part. It might also be worth exploring adoption of a somewhat lower summer tui- tion rate to

DIPA

DIPA is, without question, an educational asset for SU students. It provides the university with a strong international perspective.
DIPA could be made more profitable if fewer full-time fac ulty were sent abroad to teach but the Advisory Group thinks this would be educationally unwise. Rather, an even larger percentageof those persons teaching in DIPA programs should be full-time members of the $S U$ faculty.

The administrators of DIPA should conduct a thorough review of the economics of each foreign site and determine if any are candidates for elimirnation.

DIPA should determine if all its staft members are needed. given the reduced student demand. (DIPA employs 27 persons, 18 in Syracuse and nine abroad.)

It might be worth considering lower fee charges to ateract more students, particularly from other institutions. This might boost revenue.
In sum, the Advisory Group does not believe that DIPA is a likely candidate for deep budget uts. It should be asked to bear a smaller share of the burden han the standard reduction of approximately 16 percent.

Prolect Advance

This project introduces SU courses into the curricula of more than 90 high schools in New York state, Maine, Michigan. Massachusetts and New Jersey. High school students who complete Project Advance curses receive an $S U$ transcript.
While Project Advance is physially removed from the class.. roorm experience at SU, many of the teaching techniques developed in the high school program are used by the faculty nvolved to improve the university experience.
It provides income for the SU faculty members who visit the participating schools. It brings See REPORT Page 8

Commentary

Multi-cultural education ignored at $S U$  Onondaga, Oneida, and Mo-  ndian insight and knowledge

Ans have been born since the pace age started. Many more were enthralled by Neil Armtrong's words from the moon. One small step for man, one giant leap for mankind.* Yet GEORGE GEORGE

IN SEARCH

 FOR SPOCKknowledge and awareness of the history and contributions of different racial and ethnic oroups manifested in their curricula) Both the liberal and conseryative sections of our educational and policy-related segments have added their thoughts on the subject as epitomized by Alan Blume's study, titled The Closing of the American Mind, and Dinesh D'Souza's study, titled Hiberal Education: The Politics Illiberal Education of Race and Sex.
turies ago, through Jules Verne. The Star Trek episodes have probably fired the imagination probably fired the imagination tomes, or periodie scientific data from the Viking probes. This search for knowledge presents ordinary mortals with at times conflicting emotions, emotions that many of us have observed in the dymamics not only between Captain Kirk and his crew, but between the crew and Captain Picard in the new seeration.
The human being has one major problern when it comes knowledge - a diniculty or an knowledge - a dimiculty or an inability at times to deal with inability at times to deal with knowledge that deals with his knowledge that deals with his or her own prejudices, biases, or her own preyudices, biases, misconceptions, or one that reveals that there are other "beings," whether members of his ings," whether members of his own planet, nation, or a distant universe, who possess all his gifts plus many more, like Spock and Data.
It is this particular human knowledge area that is presently the subject of a great national debate - subsumed national debate - subsumed under the broad heading of the under the broad heading of the education in our high school

This analysis will address itself to one glaring omission of study and research within Syracuse University -that dealing with the history, culture and knowledge base of the American frad ans. Apart from the fact American Indians would also American Indians would also "original peoples," and, therefore, more than a legitimate quest for knowledge, the need for a full-fledged department or program in Native American Studies is of particular interest given the extrome proximity of the headquarters of the Six Nation Iroquois Confederacy (the Senaca, Cayuga, Tuscarora, hawk) at the Onondaga Reservation, justastone's throw away from campus. In addition, the history of Central New York as a whole is closely intertwined With the history of the various American Indian tribes Presently, there are only two tower level courses dealing with broad dimensions of American Irdian history and cultures at Syracuse University. The first is a spring semester course is a spring semester course titled "Native American Rejigin a variety of areas. from land conservation to medical, healing and dietary practices, can be more methodically explored and also integrated with modern methods. This is where the methods. This is where the St. Regis reservations, inciading their tribal elders and other personnel, would be of assistance.

The third issue deals with sity. The Carnegie Foundation ions," offered by Professor Amanda Porkerfield of the Department of Religion. The second is a junior seminar on the Iroquois offered once every three years by Professor Stephen Webb of the department of history.

First, from a purely historical angle, a rigorous examination of American Indian contribu tions and perspectives, will provide a forndation for a better rounded analysis of early American history - a situation that is rather static at the mornent given the exclusion of an entire set of peoples, and their historical analysis and interpretation of existing historical events.

Second, Eraditional American

Report of 1990 . titled "Comprather Life: In Search of a Commuw nity." pointed to the fact that 68 percent of the presidents of large research universities felt that racial tengions on campus that racial tensions on campus In April 1990, President Bush signed a law requiring the Justice Department to conduct a motivated by racial, ethnic or sexual prejudice. In mid-1990. Syracuse University also made a decision to appoint a 15 member commission to examine policies regarding respect for diversity on campus. Respect for diversity, however, comes from proper knowledge, insight, and understanding of different mimority and ethnic groups, including their respective contri-utions.
At a hurman level, it will help nerease the enrollment of American Indian students from Onondaga and elsewhere, a goal which is in keeping with the university's own stated policy.
The universsity continues to have ahigh dropoutrate among American Indian students, which is not indian students, whish ing, given the lack of "belonging" they feel and the "belonging" they feel and the small number of courses offered dealing with their history and dealing with their history and culture. Cornell University, culture. Cornell University, through its Native American through its Native American Program set up in 1981 , has turned this situation around with a retention rate of nearly 92 percent among its American 92 percent among its American Indian students. They also reIndian students. They also recently opened the nation's first residence hail on campus for American Indian students.
Syracuse University's response to the question expressed last year by its spokesperson. university is aware of the relevance of such a program, its academic and fiscal proority" made it unable to set up such a department or program.

The "Search for Spock" was in many ways not so much a search for an individual. but an individual who was endowed with certain valued qualities one of which was his attitude towards new knowledge, or a lack of hesitancy in reexaminlack of hesitancy in reexamining or reinterpreting what other crew members assumed was sa for or actual knowledge. It is for these reasons that we join educational institutions and, we choose to work for and with.

Clarify, explain issues  in the nation. George Bush

I find it necessary to provide some truthful issues, as opposed to the many trivial, misleading and sensationalized attempts thus far.

ALLEN

SEABROOK

 Ehis many:
tRUTHFUL

 mer masa VEWPOINT and last yearSyracuse University, if you remember, was a very active and intense year. The major event was the tudent to gain "membership" student co gain membership" Anto the Student African, American Society. Fortunately, the previous SAS administrathe previous SAS administration board fought to the bitter tion board fought to the bitter end to prevent a dangerous reend to prevent a dangerous recurrence of history. Also last currence of history. Also last year, the budgets of student. year, the budgets of student organizations were cut drastically, SAS being the greatest oudget cut. In addition, the SAS and the NAACP were devilishly pitted against one another regarding funds from the Student Government Association.
This summer, a St. Johns University Jamaican worman was raped by five white men. The outcome: none of the white boys were found guilty of anything. In Long island, Jermaine Hewett was beaten with baseball bats by a group of white boys for talking to a white girl.
Jungle fever must be spreading: Jungle fever must be spreading:
look at what it got Hewett. This look at what it got Hewett. This must stop because no respectmust stop because no respectable black man or white man able black man or white man likes to see it. Clearly, it is race likes to suicide.

On Aug. 23, the death of Yusef Hawkins was remembered and never to be forgotten lifted sanctions on South Africa. Bush also vetoed the civil rights bill, ignorantly calling it a quota bill. Your George Bush nominated Clarence Thomas to the Supreme Court.
Does any of this sound familiar to you? Try as hard as you may like but these incidents and issues are not going to go away by denying and deluding yourselveg into thinking every thing is fine and tolerable.
The most crippling event this summer to the black community was that of the Crown nity was that of the Crown Heights killing. One black child Heights killing. One black child cally injured by a prominent cally injured by a prominent Hasidic Jew. The black communities" actions and retaliation nities* actions and retaliation was proper and justified: taking was proper and justified: taking their only justice in the streets, their only justice in the streets, out by the courts where the prominent Hasidic Jew was not charged with anythimg. Yusef Lifsh is safe in Lsrael.
Racial violence and outright racial hatred is at its peak. Do not attermpt to deceive yourselves into thinking that we can "love one another." The perpetual disease of white supremacy makes it impossible for true unity. This is the day of great racial activity, where each race is activity, where each race fighting to preserve and build fighting to preserve and build itself. Therefore, the injustices itself. Therefore, the injustices inflicted upon black people will inhicted upon black people win be repeated, without the law of be repeated, without the law of lex-taliones, exercised to the lex-taliones, exercised to the fullest extent. No longer can fullest extent. No longer can one deny the historical chain of one deny the historical chain of events that ushers in the reality events that ushers in the reality of man. Mind thyself if you don't want a race war!

Editorial

A badly-aimed budget

If downsizing is the latest trend, tuition and scholarship offerings are not following suit, leaving many students out in the cold

SU's unrestricted scholarship fund is expected to add $$ 11$ million to the pile of available money by 1993, according to a recent budget report. The university is planning to rely on tuition increases to generate the money, since it is unlikely to be raised any other way

SU must offer scholarships to more students, enabling them to attend SU. A recent study indicates the average private institution's tuition to be just higher than SU's: around $$ 13,000$.

The university is coming dangerously close to that mark. Next year's increase should just about do it, excluding even more students from the university.

Allowing more students to be eligible for scholarship money will attract students by offering to help pay for their education. This will not only bring the revenue of just one student into the university but will increase the enrollment.

As we have been told time and time again, the number of students at SU is decreasing at a prospective rate of 18 to 22 percent, which translates into a downturn in total funds available for distribution throughout the entire university

While it is true scholarships are necessary in order to maintain a high level of academic respect in the nation, they are not available to everyone who needs them, i.e. people who have the brains but not the cash.

SU must offer more students aid and in smaller increments, as the report requests. Knocking the extra thousand dollars or so off someone's tuition may be the difference between gain ing a client for four years and losing a prospective student.

TA's can be valuable resources

One of the most maligned institutions at many large universities is the teaching assistant program. I remember reading in the Freshman Directory last year one of the things you should do before you leave Syracuse BARRY University is learn to STARK Ingeneral, they don't com——mand a whole lot of respect.TRUTH spect. preface this column been unbelievably lucky with TA's. I have not encountered that stereotypical TA who doesn't speak a word of English and couldn't care less whet her you succeed in the class.

NAKED

I am willing to bet, though, that there are more "good" TA's than "bad" ones.
You have to keep in mind the problems the TA's face. They are students themselves. They have tests to study for and papers to write. The role of teaching assistant cannot be a full-time job. job.

Sometimes we might complain that a TA simply cannot teach. They do not have years and years of experience. Most are probably teaching for their first or second semesters. They have not had time to develop a teaching style which would serve their students most effectively. If you think about it, most of the best teachers in high school and professors in college have had at least five years in the classroom.

If we are unhappy with a particular TA, we cannot just sit on our butts and complain. We must inform the right people that the TA isn't performing up to expectations. Similarly, we should give positive reviews at course evaluation time for those TA's who did well. This way. the TA training program can study the styles that worked and can over time improve styles that worked and can over tim the overall quality of the program.

The TA's are there to help us in our academic pursuits. Most of them, if we use them correctly, can prove to be valuable resources.

LETTERS

Conflict alienates Dome-goer

To the editor:
Homecoming. Florida Gators. 50,000 fans; what more could a sports fan ask for? That is what I was thinking to myself. The student section was rocking. It was incredible Then it happened There was a conflict at the Dome.
Let me set up the scenario. We were winning 14-0. The stands were electrified and the students were going crazy. Then. Iike a faint scream, my friends and I heard it: "Would you guys sit your asses down?" The noise was at a fever pitch so we didn't really hear it well. We asked him to repeat it. He said: "Would you guys sit your butts down.
Right now I feel it necessary to tell you our location. We were at the end of the student section and he and his family were in the first five seats of whe regular section.
From us to the left, there were about 8,000 students permanently on their feet. and We werebeating the number five team in the country and he wanted to sit and relax while he watched the game

Now I am not a sociologist or a psychologist, but if you want to sit and watch a football game, stay home. Anyway, one word led to the next and a pretty heated argument broke out.

Eventually security came and threw us out. They also confiscated our season tickets. The important thing to note here is that security said they could not fathom the idea that this man came here and started an argument, when he pretty much did.
Our word meant nothing against his.

Whatever happened to the idea that the student body was the "heart and soul" of the the heartand soul of the unjversity? No penal imposed on the other genaleman because he was an adult.

Now it has been said that watching a game at the Dome is dull, even boring

Well, here is some news for vou: as long as students are going to be made to sit in thei eats, the Dome will be dull

When a prime-time athlete sees 20,000 students going crazy rooting for his team, it is a draw to play for that school. An athlete does not want to see people sitting and enjoying the game.

This is no more evident than when one sees the members of the football team raising their hands trying to get the fans off their behinds and into the game. It creates excitement and emotion when fans are on their feet and going wild.

We have a great football team here and we should be able to let them know it

Ross Levine
Ross Levine

To the editor:
I had planned on calling you after the SU-Florida football game on Saturday but I was having trouble hearing after being exposed to all of that being noise.

I'm really sorry we couidn't get together, though, because I. was very eager to discus some of the things you brought up in your article, "Carrier Dome helps writer catch his Z's." which appeared in The Daily Orange on Tuesday. Sept. 17.

If you remember correctly, you came out and said, SU football games are about as much fun and excitement as a really good Winston Cup race."

Your reasoning for this belief was cited as the Carrier Dome and its atmosphere. If you would allow me to refresh your mernory, you likened watchint football in the Dorne to "the closest one will come to watching a football game in a mausoleum.

Mr. Borow, while I was in attendance at the SU -Florida game at the Dome, I started to think about your article in more detail. At first, I was saddened because you told your mass of readers that you wouldn't be attending the game, but rather you were going to watch the Notre Dam Michigan State game. This was how you were going to get your weekend excitement.
What was the final score

What was the final score of the game anyway?
Oh yes, it was Notre Dame 49, Michigan State 10. Wow! What a thriller!

I canjust imagine how much excitement was in the air for you as Notre Darne scored its final touchdown to put the game out of reach. I am truly jealous I missed it.

My reason for missing this classic was because I was attending the SU game. From your article, I gathered the Dome was a peaceful environment where one might be able to catch up on his reading. Therefore, I brough reading. Therefore, i brough abook with me to the game figuring icous.

You may not believe this Mr. Borow, but I found the environment totally intolerable for reading. Let me illustrate. After Syracuse ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown, the crowd would not shut up. People were insfor every hittle thing forcing Florida to punt. interceptions, vicious hits, amazing catches and touchdowns, touchdowns. touchdowns.

I swear Mr. Borow, you wouldn't have recognized this place. It was a madhouse. place. It was a madho Studying was nearly Studying w impossible.

Near the end of the third quarter, I found myself quarter, I found myself browsing over your article browsing over your article again. My eye got stuck on another one of your insightful another one of your insightful quotes: "The entire atmosphere quotes: "The entire atmospher surrounding an SU football surrounding an SU footbal game at the Dome is sleepgame at the Dome is slif lookin at the scoreboard in the third quarter. more for the time left in the game than the score.

I followed your lead and checked out the scoreboard. It was impossible to see anything though. The entire crowd was doing the wave. I could actually feel the foundations of the Dome shaking as the crowd did this.

I got chills up and down my neck as this incredible mass of people rumbled simultaneously around the building. I guess these chills and shivers must be attributed to fear. not excitement. You already told us about the excitement in the Dome.
When the game ended it think Syracuse won. but I'm think Syracuse won. but Im not sure), I put down your SU article. I watched as the players walked to the locker players walked to the fock room. This is when I got confused. You wrote: (the Dome) has helped foster the Dome) has helped foster the apathetic attitude that most students have toward the football team."

It appeared to me, but I may be wrong, that the fans were giving the team a standing ovation. Eitherit was an ovation or everyone was standing up to make a mass exodus out of the sterile Dome.
Well. like I stated earlier. Mr. Borow. I was going to call you but my hearing was not up to par. I really think we should get together. though. You pick out another good college game. it will be hard to top Notre Damevs. Michigan State, but try, and I'll supply State. but try, and Til supply the pretzels and soda. We'l! the pretzels and soda. We If go halvsies on the pizza, OK?

Bill Wetmore

- 20 PIECE ORDER OF WINGS BIFDLAND OR BUFFALO STYLE
ой 471 - SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELVERY
Not valld with other SPECIALS - valkd through Oct. 5, 1991 Valid on S.t. Deflvery only - Ho Limut
VISA - MASTERCARD - CHECKS-CASH ACCEPTED

Sept. 30October 5.

10\% DISCOUNT  On Selected Titles

Exercise Your 1st Ammendment Rights!

- Celebrate Your Freedom to Read.
- Celebrate Your Freedom of Religion.
- Celebrate Your Freedom of Association.
- Celebrate Your Freedom of Expression.

Banned Book Week: Celebrating The Bill of Rights Bicentennial 1791-1991.

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE SCHINE STUDENT CENTER
HOURS: M-F 8:30-6:00 - SAT. 10:00-5:00

REOPEN
Continued from Page 1
version of the incident as a sworn affidavit.
"The man was completely restrained, posed no threat and they still bashed his skull," he said in reference to action taken saidin reference to action maken by police in the arrest of 21 -year-old Adrian Thomas for disorold Adrian derly conduct.
derly conduct. what we saw was clear-cut. brutality, no ands, ifs or buts," Crescitelli said.
Now that the case is reopened. the investigation will continue with Galvin reviewing the material and sending it up to his supervisor. Ultimately, Chief of Police Tim Cowin will review the case and make a decision.

A senior police officer told Skop the students may be contacted for more information in the case. No time frame was given for the ruling on this phase of the investigation.
Mayor discounts allegations
A statement by Syracuse Mayor Tom Young on Friday said "none of the seven who made allegations of brutality are willing to come forward to testify.
Crescitelli said he was angry at the "misinformation" provided by the mayor and added "the only reason we waited was because we spoke with Thomas and (Christopher) Smith (the other man arrested in the incident), and they suggested we talk to their lawyers first, because lawsuits were being planned."

Young has also made statements supporting Cowin's findments supporing Cowins findings in the initial Internal Affairs investigation and discounted brutality allegations, counted bratalit Crescitelli said.
"Young has to watch out he doesn't have a (Los Angeles Polfce Chien Darryl Gates thing here," he said.

Four employees in the alley, working for nearby businesses SU Taxi and Sutter's Mill and Mining Co.. Were witnesses factoring into the original investigation of brutality. police said. William Conway, the SU Taxi dispatcher the night of the incident, told police Thomas interdent, told police homas interlocked his hands on his chest locked his hands on his chest cuffing him and causing the officers to punch him in the hands.

However, SU student Dionne Roberts said she asked the dispatcher the night of the incident what he had seen and the told ber nothing.

Crescitelli suspects the con flicting accounts by those witnesses are driven by the nature nesses are driv of their work.
"If you work down there (in a business in the alley), it's Peally important to have good Felations with the police," he said.

The students are pushing for a civilian review board to enable civilians to provide information for future Internal Affairs investigations. Currently, no civiltigations. Currently, no civilians are involved in any aspect ians are involv of the process.

Easing the future
Crescitelli said this would help future witnesses reporting incidents of brutality because it would make them feel more at case.

For his part, Crescitelli said he felt there were attempts to bias his testimony and he felt threatened when Galvin suggested he handcuff Crescitelli gested he handcuif Crescitell to demonstrate what constitutes brutality.

Another question of what constitutes brutality arose about a picture printed in the Sept. 22 edition of The Herafd-American depicting the two arrested men in jail after the charges of brutality.

Cowin pointed to the picture and said there was no brutality because there was no evidence of such action in the picture.
"That's like looking at a rape survivor, seeing no blood and saying she wasn't raped," Crescitelli said. "You don't need blood and bruises to have brutality."

[^13]dents," Zenick said. "It's a tough responsibility."

SGA also held legislative elections. Dionne Roberts will serve recorder; and Jeff Carman, par liamentarian.

Joanna Miller was also confirmed as vice president of administrative operations.

Syracuse University Investment Club

The S.U. Investment Club invites all students, returning and new to its first general meeting. Here are some facts about us: - We have over 300 members, many are alumni now exmployed in prestigious firms

- We have a five-figure portfolio to invest (with your help!)
- All majors are invited to join and participate in activities regardless of membership status
We annually sponsor:
-The AT&T Collegeate Investment Challenge. A national competition that challenges you to invest $$ 500,000$ of fictional money over a three month period. Winners receive real cash and trips to the Bahamas.
- Spring Investment Seminar. Your opportunity to meet financiers and learn more about the art of Investing.
-Trip to Wall Street. Learn first-hand about investing by the experts: the people who actually do it!
-Speakers from the investment world. Get advice from professionals who have unique insights about topics in the business world.

> First General Meeting. 6:30 pm October 1, 1991. HBC Room 213b.

Interested in writing NEWS stories for The Daily Orange?

Then stop by 744 Ostrom Avenue Sunday - Thursday and talk to Roy or call 443-2127

Business

$\mathbf{B}_{\text {usiness }} \mathbf{D}_{\text {igest }}$

Recession not over,

New Yorkers say
According to a recent poll on New York's economic status, 89 percent of state residents say we are in a recession, and almost 60 percent say will continue for at least a year.
The Fleet/Norstar New York Poll, the first in a series of quarterly polls to be conducted on the state of New York's economy, revealed that threequarters of those polled had cut back on personal spending.

Nearly half of the state residents polled said New York is in worse financial shape than the rest of the country, and more than 50 percent listed New York City as the area most affected by the recession.

Fuel efficiency drops

 for fifth straight yearA recent Environmental Protection Agency report said 1992 model cars will get an average of 0.3 fewer miles to the gallon than last year's models.

This marks the fifth consecutive ear that fuel efficiency has dropped year that freel efficiency has dropped from the previous year. In 1992, model cars will average 27.5 miles to the gallon, as compared to 27.8 miles in 1991.

At the same time. Congress is preparing to implement a law that would increase fuel efficiency 40 percent in the next 10 years.
One of the main reasons for the drop in efficiency is the resurgence of large cars. As gas prices have dropped. the traditional "gas-guzzlers" have regained popularity since 1986, when regained popularity an a a low of 90 cents a gallon. gas was at a low of 90 cents a gallon. The the 1992 Geo Metro XFi was named the most fuel-efficient car for the fourth straight year with 53 miles the fourth straight year with 53 miles per gallon in the city and 58 on the per gallon highway.

Citicorp to attack  credit card fraud

Citicorp, the largest issuer of credit cards in the country, is expected to announce the test use of a technological breakthrough that would cut down on credit card fraud.

A computer system would store the signatures of customers. From that point on, customers would sign the screen rather than a paper slip. The computer would be able to measure the movements and inflections of the signer, and forgery would become easier to detect.

Citicorp reportedly plans to put these computer systems in several Gap stores around the country. Experts say all stores might be using this system within 10 years.

New alumni affairs director named

 William McPeak, associate profes-sor of social work at Syracuse University, has been named director of alumni affairs and continuing education for the School of Social Work.

This year, for the first time, an alumni affairs component has been added to the position.

In his dual role, McPeak will be responsible for coordinating programming for Social Work alumni.

- Compiled from staff and daily newspaper reports.

Do

You

Want

You can not only have it your way, but pay for it your way at Burger KingThe fast food chain now accepts credit cards, using the Instapprove

systern. Area Burger Kings accept credit cards

By LISA CUIDONE  Contributing Writer

The scenario; it's lunchtime, your stomach is growling, your mouth is watering. You open your wallet and find no money.
Don't fret - there is another alternative.
Burger King now offers more than hamburgers, fries and soft drinks to their customers. Clients in the Syracuse area now have the opportunity to use credit cards when purchasing fast food at the Burger King chain.

The franchise has been accepting Mastercard, Visa and Discover since Aug. 19.

All 20 Burger King restaurants in the Syracuse area owned by the Carrolls Corp., offer the credit card service. A new system called Instapprove allows customers to use credit cards with the speed of cash.
The Instapprove system gives instantaneous credit approval. No signature is required for purchases under $$ 25$, and no minimum purchase is required to charge.

The transactions are checked via satel lite. Each night, reading of lost or stolen charge cards appears in each store via the Instapprove system.

Attempt to capture sales
"The preference for customers choosing their form of payment serves their needs and also captures sales." said Paul Drotar, vice president controller of the Carrolls Corp
The Burger King chain is the first fast food restaurant in the Syracuse area to accept major credit cards.
Drotar said that the franchise never accepted credit cards before because the credit approval system wasn't quick enough.
It is still too early to notice whether credit card acceptance has caused an increase in sales, area officials said.
But Piper Girvin, manager of the Burger King at 3340 Erie Blvd. East said. "The system has brought in more saic, The system has brought in more people and gayment.:

The Carrolls Corp. plans major promo tions in the carly stages of the fall to encourage use of credit cards at Burger King.

With

Financial Wrap-UP

Wall Street Week:

Dow Jones: 3006.04
Down: 11.18
Volume: 160.430 .000 shares
Stock market figures are from Friday's close. The nation's ourpur of goods and services decreased at an amnual rate of 0.5 percent in the second quarter. This outpur shows the recession was worse than originally thought.

The Dow Iones Industrial Average is a compilation of the 30 leading incustrial slocks. It is used as an index of coonomic trends on Wall Street and for society.

Market Analysis:

Mixed Market: Last weck's market was mostly mixed as traders were hesitant to make deals because of uncertainty about the economy and interest rates. Thursday's report on thedrop in output, the Gross National Product, showed a sharper ctrop than the Commerce Deparment's original estimate of 0.1 percent. A. 3.5 percent decrease in corporate profis and new clairs for unemploy ment benefits added to the uncertainty.

Rush

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON
703 WALNUT AVE.
TEL. 423.3731

Remembrance Scholars to be honored

By KEN AIDRICH
Staff Writer
Syracuse University's 1992 clasa of Remembrance Scholars will be recognized tonight at 7:30 in Hendricks Chapel.

Thirty-five students received $$ 5,000$ scholarships to contrib ute to their senior year of gtudy The scholarships were cre ated in memory of the 35 SU students killed in the terroris bombing of Pan Am Flight 103 on Dec. 21, 1988.

Students on the flight were returning from a semester spent in England.
"The students chosen were of high academicachievement, personal promise and extraordi nary involvement," said Robert McClure, assistant dean of the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, and member of the scholarship selection committee.
The scholarship is funded from a $$ 3$ million endowment supported by alumni, friends and parents of the victims and corporations.

More than 260 students applied for the scholarships. The Remembrance Scholarship is one of the highest accolades that SU gives to students. MeClure said.

Pleased with the excellence

"The selection committee was impressed and quite moved by the degree of seriousness and acadernic excellence shown by the applicants," said David C. Smith, dean of admissions and financial aid, and chairman of the selection committee.

Applicants were requested to gubmit highlights of their university and community activities as well as an essay on the Flight 103 tragedy.
"The students selected are high achievers not only in the classroom, but also within the university community." Smith said.

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw will address the Remembrance Scholars. Shaw will also recog. nize the $1991-92$ lockerbie Scholars, Colin W. Cornbe and John C. Wallace.

The Lockerbie Scholarship al lows two students from the Scottish town where Flight 103 crashed to study at SU for one year.

The students came to the United States as a part of an exchange program with Locker bie Academy.

Gershon Vincow, vice chan cellor for academic affairs, will preside over the ceremony.

Richard Phillips, dean of Hen dricks Chapel. will give this evenings invocation

McClure, also a political sci ence professor, will deliver a message from the faculty

A Remembrance Seholar will also speak.

The Hendricks Chapel Choir will perform under the direction of Katharine Pardee.

The 11 rnembers of the selec tion committee were chosen from a wide variety of schools and administrative positions.

REPORT

Continued from Page 3
regional prestige to the university and performs a valuable public service.

A review of the Ad Hoc Advi sory Group's informational re port on administrative servict and maneral auriliaries mill ap perr on the News Extre peg in Wednesday's The Daily Or. ange.

Seniors need interview skills  amused at how much they use

By VINCE SALISBURY Staff Writer

This past week I considered starting a television show called America's Funniest Video Interviews. Each episode would feature excerpts of a graduating senior's practice interview.

There are about 5,000 seniors at Syracuse University and plenty of video cameras so it seems likely the show could last a few seasons.

Practicing for interviews is a required assignment for all seniors because much of their jobhunting success relies on acing the interview. Most books on the subject focus on how to answer tough interview questions, but thugh interview questions, but there is another important aspect to interviewing success. This is a student's delivery style, which Webster's Dictionary defines as "the act or manner of giving a speceh."

The delivery style of interviewees refers to their posture. cye contact, tone of voice, use of language and body movements. The interviewer will evaluate your akills in these areas as well as answers to the questions.

Sit up straight

You should be conscious of your posture from the minute you sit down in the lobby to await your interview. Maintain a straight posture during the whole tirne you are interviewing also. Some students feel they should lean back in their chair or slouch a little to show they are relaxed.

Unfortunately, most recmiters will view this as a sign you are not really that interested in this meeting.

In addition to maintaining good posture, you need to keep good eye contact with your interviewer.

Some cultures teach that to look a person directly in the eye is rude; this is especially true if the person is your elder. However, this is not true in American interviews. If your eye contact is not good, the interviewer may think that you are lying. unassertive or efraid.

This is not what you want to communicate to an interviewer Of course you don't want to stare down an interviewer, but more eye contact is better than less.
The tone of voice that you use in an interview is just as impor-

For the lacation nearest you, call cant as eye contact. An instant turn-off for many recruiters is to listen to a student with a monotone or whispering voice. This communicates a lack of interest in the position and a boring or passive personality.

The other extreme is someone with a very loud voice or people with a very loud voice or people who speak so fast that the meaning of their words is lost.

Watch out for whiners
There are also the whiny voices that were made farnous by the Saturdiay Night Live couple known as "Doug and Wendy Whiner."
A cousin of the whiners is the mumbler, After watching a videotape of his mock interview a senior said to me, "My mother always told me that I mumbled. and now I believe her."

Another issue related to the voice is the overuse and abuse of verbal "fillers."
The top seven "fillers" that 1 hear are as follows:
""you know"

- "like"
- "um"
- "uhh"
- "basically"
- "stuff"

Students are amazed and certain fillers throughout their interview. It really takes a lot of practice to break this babit.
The use of hand gestures and body movernents is another amusing thing to wateh on video. ing thing to watch on viaeo.
Many students use their hands Many students use their hands when talking in order to emphagize their points. This is fine as long as it remains somewhat controlled. One wornan was so enthusiastic during her interview that ohe actualiy leaned over and tapped the interviewer's knee to make her point. She was extremely embarrassed when she roviewed the tape.

Another student would cross his legs, grab his ankle ard rock back and forth during the interback and forth during the interview. This was viaibly distracting for the interviewer and communicated lot more than the answers to his questions.

All of the errors made during interviews can be corrected by first learning what your patterns are and then practicing to remove them.

Set up your own video studio and practice interviewing with your friends or come to the SU Placement Center in Room 235 of the Schine Student Center to set up an interview appoint. ment.

There are certain days set up each month for doing mock interviews. And there is no chance that you will appear on America's Funniest Videos the Placement Center records over each mock interview.
Salisbury works at the SU Placement Center. The Job Connection is published each Thesday in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

Eta Pi Upsilon Welcomes Back its Members

First Meeting is Wednesday, October 2nd, 9:00pm HL 115

"PICTURE YOURSELF

in a boat on a river WITH TANGERINE TREES AND MARMALADE SKIES"

PICTURE YOURSELF IN $\triangle \times A$

Thru Friday Only!

Vintage Coat Sale at The University Bookstore

Wool topcoats and jackets include cashmere, tweed, alpaca, and gabardine. Formal wear features tail coats, tuxedo jackets, bolero-style cropped jackets. Leather jackets, both bomber and motorsycle styles.

Don't Miss This Special Event.held inGoldstein \%THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

303 Univereity Place at Serine Suvient Center duyy try froldry $8=30$ to 8:00 selundiny $10: 00$ to 5:00

Restoration comedy reaches modern audience

The Country Wife, currently playing at Syracuse Stage, refuses to acknowledge the fact that it was written in 167.5 .

DirectorJulianne Boyd, along with the cast and crew, has

ERIC

GRODE

THEATER
REVIEW
as possible.
One costume is more outrageous than the next. The staging switches ably from the elaborate to the intimate. Phallic imagery abounds, and the play even includes full nudity.
For the most part, this stag. ing is sufficient to make William Wycherley's Restoration classic accessible to today's aud:ence.
Ultimately, however, this becomes a small weakness. Rather comes a smali weakness. Rather ley's words, the production occainfused a posenm piece with as much energy and creativity sionaily seems to overcompensate, forcing the humor
The Country Wife tells three stories simultaneously. By the end, all three threads join together.

Get up or get out

The first story involves Mr. Horner (Grant Albrecht), a Dan Juan type who spreads the rumor that he is impotent in order to gain the trust of the local husbands and, subsequently, access to their wives.
The secord plot follows Mr . Pinchwife (Ken Kliban) and his new wife, Margery (Susan Wands). Pinchwife is violently possessive of his country bride, which results in Margery's rebellion.
Finally, a love triangle of sorts forms between Alithea (Kathleen McCall), Pinchwife's sister; Sparkish (Davis Hall), her intended husband and village fop; and young, passionate Harcourt (Michael Elich).

Disability Advocacy Organization

Meeting on Tuesday, October 1st Room 301 Schine - 7pm

Please come! We'll be discussing upcoming events - including: The accessibility guide, Watson Sign Language workshops and Wheelchair basketball.

Your student fee advocating!

The three plots work with varying success. The first two are the bawdier of the three, and the cast clearly shows more enthusiasm during these passages.

The third, more romantic subpiot, however, is problematic. It seems that Wycherley enjoyed this subplot less than the others.

Because of this, much of the writing in this portion lacks the sharpness of the other passages, with a lot of the exposition given in asides to the audience.

While the ensemble cast is As Albrecht makes such a olid the the cast is strong central figure, most of beod, they occasionally seem to the other characters never get be overdirected. Boyd does a fine job of staging the more ribald passages, but it seems as if she Wycherley's words. their own are filled with inci- ish, sniffing some sort of powder dental pieces of business, often out of his cane and wearing blue for no apparent reason.
cherley's words. Passages that could stand on ance as thover-the-top perform-

Dominating actor
The chief example of this is Grant Albrecht's performance as Horner, the ladies man around which the subplots revolve.
Albrecht is a fine actor, and he dominates most of the scenes he appears in

Unfortunately, however, Albrecht and Boyd stretch the point at times by having him mug and grimace even when he is not the central figure on stage.
the other characters never get

The prime exception to this astically over-the-top perform-out of his cangene sort or powder bows in his orange hair.
DANCE WORKS Offers Dance Classes

* Classes start the week of September 23, 1991.
* Aerobics: $1.00 per class Dance: $\mathbf{$ 2 . 0 0}$ per class
* No Experience Necessary.
* All Are Welcome.

| MOSOPAY | TUESDAY | HEDNESDAO | THURSDAY | SATURDA9 | SUNODXY |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| TAP  10-11:30 m.    DaNC: exuplo  XAREOC | BALLET  9-10:30r.s. JEN  JAZZ FUNK 10:30-11:30 r.x. SHGORNOX Foname butnusa |  |  | MODERN  2:00-3:50pan. rhathan 3OANNA |  |

Your Student Fee In Motion!I!

DO YOU LIKE TO CUT THINGS WITH A  KNIFE AT LATE HOURS OF THE NIGHT?

Other noteworthy performances include Libby George as Mrs. Fidget, one of Horner's earlier conquests, and Michael Elich as the young lover Harcourt.

Technical credits are excellent, with superlative costume design by David C. Woolard. Bodices are low, and the styles run the gamut from sedate to berserk.

Also worthy of mention is James Youmans's evocative set design. As the play progresses, the set begins crumbling to represent the decaying society of the time.
"The Country Wife" is playing at Syracuse Stage, 820 E . Genesee St., through Oct. 20. Tickets range from $$ 12$ to $$ 22$. For more information, call 443For m 3275.
F.Y.I.

WCNY programs

new specials
WCNY-TV Channel 24 will air several new programs in the next two weeks, including an interview with civil rights leader Leon Modeste.

Modeste, president and chief executive officer of the Urban League of Onondaga County, will be the subject of CNY Close-Up's Profile, which will air on Friday at 9:30 p.m.

Other upcoming programs in clude the six-part musical series Pennies from Heaven and a special presentation of NOVA about medical school.

Adult asthmatics

needed for program
The American Lung Associa tion of Central New York is recruiting adult asthmatics for a research and self-management program.

Screening of registrants will be Oct. 4 and 5 at St. Camillus Health and Rehabilitation Center, 813 Fay Road.

The educational program will be held the week of Oct. 7 with late afternoon and evening sessions available.

For more information, call the American Lung Association of Central New York at 422 of Cen 6142 .
'Move-along-athon' to fight cancer

The American Cancer Society will sponsor Making Strides Against Cancer, a five-mile, nonAgainstcancer, a five-mile, competitive "move-along-athon." competitive move-along-athon.
It will be Oct. 6 at the It will be Oct. 6 at the ongbranch Park in Liverpool.
More than 500 runners, many of whom are current or former cancer patients, will participate.

Registration begins at 10 a.m., and the actual "moving" begins at noon.

For more information, call Annette Simiele at 451-7710.
Local writers
discuss censorship
"Banned Books, Censored Songs and Arrested Art" will be the topic of discussion at the Community Writers' Project's fall benefit.

The evening will consist of a series of readings, slide talks and music concerned with issues of censorship.

The benefit will be Saturday from 7 to 10 pm . at the May from 7 to 10 p.m. at the May Memorial Unitarian Society in Memorial Unitarian Society in Syracuse. Admission, which inSyracuse. Admission, which includes the program and refreshcludes the prog ments, is $$ 10$.

For more information, call 472-0400.

Racism conference

 set for DrumlinsA conference on religion and racism will be held at Drumlins this evening.

Speakers include Profensor Bruce Hare of Syracuse University's Department of AlricanAmerican Studies and Sister Alethea Connolly, former director of the Urban Ministry Board of Syracuse.

For more information, call 476-2001.

Wornen's Club

holds book sale
The Syracuse University Women's Club will bold fal book sale fridny from 10 a.m to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Erwin Method ist Church (cormer of Euclid Avenue and Westcott Street).

If you have books to donate, please call $449-3617$ or 476 8632 before Wednesday. All pro8632 before Wednesday. All pro ceeds go to the SU Womens Club Scholarship Fund

Local advertisers
to speak on media
Gene Cairo and Mike Cas sidy, two workers at Rochesterbased Ice Communications, will spenk in Room A2 of Newhouse Communications Center I on Thursday at 3 p.m.

The lectare, "Why the War is in the Store," will focus on in-store medis and is sponsored by University Advertisers. For more information, call Jill Kotler at 443-6776.

MBA/Law Day gives

 vilal information All students interested in learning more about law achool or graduate programs in management are invited to attend Syracuse University's annual MBA/Law Day on Oct. 7 from $118 . m$. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Studert Center.Representatives from law schools and graduate management programs will be available to mert with students. Admission materials, catalogs and financial aid information will also be available.

Local artwork

shown at Schine
The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student. Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in Octo
The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will ran through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.
Library offers

free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 b.m through Nov. 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.

For more information, call 443-1943.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Is now accepting letters of intent for the following positions

FINANCE BOARD (5 seats) BAIL BONDSMEN* (2)*inust be 21 and have access to a car

YOUR STUDENT FEE AT WORK

Thursday - October 3-4:00 p.m. featuring: Raja Haiwani"The Arab Perspective"
Wednesday - October 9-12:00 noon topic: East/Central Africa

> The Daily Orange It's only far fetched if you don't read it.

INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES

 ON THE NEWSOffice of International Services 310 Walnut Place

View current news broadcasts twice weekly -discuss the issues with student representatives from areas in the news that week
Wednesday - October 2-12:00 noon featuring: Gideon Elran: "The Israeli Perspective" -

Classifieds

NOTICE

 PHCCEDVRE：S250 or the itss 15 worss， bold word 5 Sc axra for oach CAPIAL IRED Wory DEAOLNE：2pm， 2 business cay in asvance．

Notices

WTERAAGAL COUME GROUP：FOIUM for shamg iprs and pains，strateques to deal with parenis，poors，racism，discramation onrictmerth martal preparation，improving communication and intimacy．
（Size limited．Register now．Studert rates Cortact Dr．Kemnath Handy at 443－3023）

ACTOR AND ACTRESS NEEDEDI Griduato Fim mportaft than expenence．Call 423 －8456．

Horseback Riding 18 mites trom Syracusa Resv． （315）696－8169．
PAISE $\$ 500 \ldots . . \$ 1000 \ldots \$ 15000$ ：FOOLPROOF FONDRNS Sitic．For your fretemicy，sorverity，bam or other carmus organication Absolutely no imest－ ment requiredi．Act now tor the change to win a caribbean cruse and labuious prizes！CALL $1800-$ $950-8472$ ． 18 mi ． 50 ． ETA PI UPSLION Members：dont miss our meaingt Wednescay． 102 at $9: \infty$ in HLI 15. mesingt Wodresclay． 102 at $9: 00$ in HL1 15

FOR SALE

Autos

Ford Fustive 88 low milos，stereo．gas saver．He brand new，only s2095．Plonys 423－3000．

MNOA 323 4 \＆r， 5 spd，ANC，ensso． $59,000 \mathrm{mil}$ Well－mantainec．Clean，s4，000．Cal 635－1756
（Ratteson） 1969 DOOGE Shadow． 20.000 milas．standart tratsmistion．422－2068／days；446－1524inights．
Mitstbuishi Precis tor sale．＂88＂ $25,000 \mathrm{mi}$ ．Asking 312.800 ．Call X－0789．4－speed，good conctition．

Misc．For Sale

Trkens：Rugoers va，Syractso at Giant Stadium， 50 Yerd Line Lower Lever Trekets Avanable

EMPLOYMENT

Networking．the conceet of the 90 ＇s．Be sesseciated brand ratse companizs．Cayl $426-9363$ and ask tor Ken． Sooking Arraeive Bat Apondantan．No Exporience
Nocessay，Willingness To Leam．Call Barbora Al 471.9675 Far Acpointurnent．

Entarprotaling indirviduata Nipeded Termic eppor－

FAST CASH，SHCAT SHIFTS Jom the Camier Dorre hawker staff．Bring home $$$ the same day you work．For infor．call Rob 443－4029．

JOB BAMK OF NEW YORK． 500 pages．Give you NY＇s jobs．Inetudos names，addresses， phone numbers of firms．contaet for thining． eross－index to prapoint employers in your fiegle， Eross－insex bentis they offor，Flus Job Winning tring ber
Aesumes．Weath of intoration at your Hesumes．Wealth of information at your tingertips．Send $$ 13.55$ plus $$ 2.50$ shipping handifg to Upscala Enterprises． 3635 Hill handigg to Upscala Enterprises， 3635 hill Bivi．Suite 327 ．Dept．K－08．Jeflerson Vatiey． NY 10535.

M8NE？ The answer！

 Becoming a Sales Rep for The Daily OrangeIf you have a few honas to spare $i \frac{1}{\text { week，the desire } \mathcal{A}}$ commitment to work yon could be making enough money to get you throngh the nelhool year．

Apply at The Daily Orange

744 Ostrom Ave
8：30－4：30，Mon．－Fri．

R．A．for 7 talented FayMan hs．women（ABC program）suparvise and tutot．Room and board．
682.9743 ather 8.000 m 682．9743 ater 6：00pm

WANTED

Help Wanted

Models－Girts，Guyst Inwational Mair Design ect．1－800－333－4653．
TRAVEL FREEI Sall Sprim Break Trips to Jamaica，Cancun．Bahamas．Margarita Bland Bost commissons paid．Sun Sotash Tours －800－426－7710．

Travel Sales Representatives：STS，the leader in Travel Sates Representatives：STS，the loader in cotiegiate Iravel needs motivated individuals and groups to promore Wirterl Spring Breaks tips．For more irdormation call Studerx Travel Sorvices． ithaca．NY at 1－800－549－4949．
＂Know Before You Go．＂where to work，livo and skj tree in Colora yo＇s resorts．Curent Guide to Aspen tree in Colorado＇s resonts．Current Guide to Aspen．
Vail，Bracketroige and morel $$ 16.65$ ．Call $1-800$ ． $78 B-6174$.

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS to students or student organizations promoting ou ring Break Packages． Call CMI 1－800－423－5264．

Fast Fundraiser $$ 1000$ in 1 week．Greeks．Clubs and Appone．No invesimem．1．800－748－5817 Ext 50.
＂Catmpus Representatres Noeded＂Eam tree tin and big commissions by soling CACLI，MEXICO For more intornation call tell froe $2 t$ 1－800－755
7996 or in Conneeticun at $203-975-8839$ ．

FOR RENT

 ApartmentsGRAD STUDENTS WANTED；Studio apt． 2 ． sedroom apanments．Al，Nomes inclucted Secured tock \＆Madison．635－5322，635－3537／eves
2．Bedroom lower 1tal．Euclid near Westettr． serooned porch．oft－atreet pakking privato yar 3540.682 －8823．

FOR RENT： 3 BEDACOM APARTMENT WestoII Sirsen furnishecs．washas end dryer．parking Cat
$487-5761$.
FAll \＆SPRNG accepting Senior \＆Gractuala male \＆ternale students to till sovaral 4berm aparmentr， 1 indimual ok．Raves：Basic fumished aparments， 1 indmual ok．Rales：Basic fumished All are locared next to E．S．F．campus on Oakland and Standars Sis．These apatments are in an ex－ cellsarn $\%$ block walking location and are nicety lur－ uished wath beats．desks．dressers and livingroom umiture．Call 673－1344 for a choice studert apt oin a group，rent a single，a 3－bedrom，or a hote house．Morgan－Roberts Real Estate has some excabert，tuly．turnished units availation now Call Tim Enoets to inspect 446 －8814．
Huga 4 Botroom apl Ackerman Ave．RE－ HOCELED 1991，funished，laundry，fireplace，of stre日t parking．Will take singles．\＄225．per 446－2209，424－9419．
10 minues trom canupus．Largo 3－bodrcom．ont sireet parking．owner oceupiad，quie neightiortood $$ 475.42557199$ eves．

UNNERSITY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDRCOM UNTS：Share kitchen，bath Furniathea heatoc capeted，laundry mierowave，enbleTV．Nice Close to campus，$$ 250 . \mathbf{$ 2 9 5}$ Conplene．

APARTMENT FOR RENT great 4bdrm aparmon available．Large fumishod apr．next to E．S．F．Oak and and Standan locations． 573 －1394．
PRIVATE FIRNLSHED STJOIO APARTMENTS Very close．Secura．Quiet．Carpated．Ais
Concrioned．Laundry．Parking Universty Ara Concisioned．Laundry．Parking University Area
A79．5005 Apls．
Apartment for rant，outer University．Threb bedraoms，livingroom．kitchen，diningrocm parking．kdaal tor medical students，prad suderas of professionats．Calil445－6098
Univershy Ave．Furnished 3 bedroan itat：faundry． ease．securiy deposit， 5825.00 plus uidities 445.120

AVAILARLE TODAYI ONE TWO BEDROOM APARTMEENTS．Kachan．livingroom，bathrom，

Ona bodroom flat garage included．Call： thys／471－3213；evenirgs／685－8487．

Houses

University Ave． 5 bedroom house onty $$ 1250.00$ lus ubitizs． deposin．

Rooms

Furnished room one block trom campus．Laundry． porch and oif strest parking．All utifies incildod \＄250／ma．446－9598

PERSONALS

Psi－U wo yelled ike hell we paraded and thoand＂． Dena－pisil unplugged with LL knocked oun the gatorst Tharks guys it was amazingl Love the sistrers and pledges of Tri．Detra！ DEKE－From Ye日 Like Hell to the Doma Cabanna DeKE－From Ye日 Lat Heil to the Doma Cabanna on the AGD sidet Love；ine Sestirs and Predges． Sammy．Thanks for a homecomang wo＇l never Sammy．Thanks for a homecoming wo＇l never forgetl Love，the Sistars and Plodges of Theta

Stop Smoking．
$\underset{\substack{\text { Association } \\ \text { American Heart }}}{$ 1}$

GOTLA HAVE FAITH BY ARNOLD

NEGATIVE SPACE BY IODI MEADOWS FUNW FELINES (#1)

I

 THE YOOTHA FILE BY LOP LOP RESIST THE URGE TO BE A FASHION SLAVE wear a barrel.

ADVENTURES OF IP

BY SLIM
Map to Fort Bird Library

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

BY RE. MANSPERGER, JR.

SLONE

BY TWO JERKIES

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS
BY LOCKY

OTIS THE ELEVATOR

STRANGE & UNUSUAL FRESHMAN BY JAMES

TV

Continued from Page 16 said. "There's not too much you can say about them except they're awesome.
"We have our work cut out for us," wide receiver Qadry Ismail said. "After watching the Michi-gan-Florida State game, we know that. They're just tremendous."

Florida State scored the most points against Michigan in Ann Arbor since Northwestern scored 55 points in 1958.

Florida State was able 10 dominate the game despite playing in front of 105,000 fans at Michigan.
Against SU, the Seminoles will have the advantage of playing before a capacity crowd of 60,000 at Doak S. Campbell Stadium in Tallahassee.
"I think it will be a factor," Pasqualloni said. "They are obviand tougher at home. It's going to be a big factor in the game." Another part of the Seminole ritual is the throwing of a burning spear by FSU mascot Chief Osceola as he rides to the center of the field on his horse Renegade.

Despite the ritual. Reagan said SU won't be distracted. "At Florida State, they've got great fans," he said. "They've got the spear. They've got the fire. They've got it all, but I think it's something were not going to worry about. It's not something we can control. We're just going to disregard that."

THE ETHICS OF BIG TIME COLLEGE SPORTS:

The Role of Athleties in the Academic Community

Featured speakers Marty Glickman,
S.U. alum and nationally known broadcaster

Respondents: Prof. David Bennett, S.U's Faculty Representative to the NCAA, Doris Soladay, Associate director of athletics at S.U., and Eddie Moss, local attorney and former basketball player
October 2, 7:00 P.M.
Maxwell Auditorium
Sponsored by B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and Office of the Dean of Hendricks Chapel

Made powible by y prant tour

HEART

Continued from Page 16 nation in hitting percentage. "We're right up to where we were before the losses."
Last weekend's losses had their positive effects for the Orangewomen as well.
"I think the losses brought us back down to earth," middle blocker Annie Parisien said. "It was good for us to win this weekend. It makes us feel better."

The match where the Orangewomen showed the most heart, however, won't count on their record.

After being down 2-0 to York the Orangewomen rebounded to win the next three games and win the match.
Syracuse coach Dan Schulte didn't play his starting lineup in the first two games. He used the match to give the freshmen an opportunity to gain game experience.
"We're trying to develop depth," Schulte said. "I think that's helping the team chemisthat's helping the team chemistry a little bit. It may be forced chemistry, but it's helping the team chemistry.'

The starters took over and allowed only 22 points in the remainder of the match and only 11 points in the final two games.

Junior Aimee Mask served eight consecutive points to lead the Orangewomen to the win in the fifth game.
"(We came back) and that's something we haven't really been able to do," Mask said. "The past couple of years we've had problems coming from behind problems coming from behind and fighting for the last couple of points. We did it when we

BIG LOSS

Continued from Page 16
holding Young to four shots on goal in the game.
${ }^{4}$ I think we shut down Paul Young well," Sullivan said. "He and the entire Syracuse team never in the first half got a run nev."

Maue's winning goal came on a Ryan Daly pass that split the defensemen and left him all alone in front of Pollnow.
He had plenty of time to place the ball past Pollnow and give the Wildcats their 1-0 win.
It looked like Villanova would relinquish the lead, however. After Maue's goal, the Wildcats went into a defensive shell. while the Orangemen applied constant pressure.
Davison kept pushing up from the backfield, and ended up with four shots for his effort. His best chance occurred with 10:00 left in the game when he 10:00 left in the hit the crossbar.
"There was room today to move up, and I wasjust pinching in the spot." Davison said. "It played York. It felt good.'"
Serving consistently has been a problem for the Orangewomen as of late and something they continue to work on, Mask said.

In the weekend's opening match, the Orangewomen won their second consecutive match ggainst the University of Rhode Island $3-0$ after losing 12 straight to the Lady Rams.
Schulte was an assistant coach at URI before coming to SU but at URI before coming to So doesn't try to make it a said he doesn't try to make it a competition new schools.
new schools.
"I didn't try to make it a bigg rivalry because they beat us so many times and I'm from there, Schulte said. "I wanted to keep it just like business as usual. That way they won't get psyched out."

For the players, however, being able to say they beat the Lady Rams, 8-5, is a plus.
'There's always satisfaction in beating a great East Coast team," Paarlberg said. "It gives us the right to say we're the best in the East."
The Orangewomen concluded the weekend with an easy victhe weekend with an easy vady tory over Akron 3-0. The Lady tory over Akron $3-0$. The Lady Zips, $11-5$, only managed 22 Zips, Il-5, only mana
"I didn't think that Akron would give us a problem," Schulte said. "They don't have the same kind of ball control. They don't serve tough enough and they don't block tough enough.

Akron coach Mike Sweitzer wasn't pleased with the way his team played or with the surroundings.
${ }^{\text {"I I don't think (Syracuse) is }}$ that strong a team," he said. "Coming in here is getting to be worse than playing in a pit be worse that could have been Chris (Wright). Any of the defensive guys were pinching up any time they had pinching ${ }^{\text {a chance. }}$ a chance.
Puls, who had a shot stopped Puls, who had a shot stopped on a spectacular diving save by on a spectacular diving save by Guarino with $7: 00$ left in the Guarino with $7: 00$ left in the game, gaid it was no mystery game, gaid it was no mystery as to why the Orangemen played as to why the Orangemen played their best soccer in the la twenty minutes of the game.
"That always happens late in a game," Puls said. "A team scores a goal. Obviously, they're going to fall back. And we're going to be in their half. Opporgoing to be in their half.
Sullivan said he was surprised the Wildcats held on to the victory.
"I thought it was going to be a draw in overtime," Sullivan said. "I really did. When they needed the goal, they played better. They tried to play their whole game in 20 minutes instead of 90 , and $I$ think that. hurt them."

Syracuse will host Cornell University tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Carrier Dome.

Hols

CAROUSECCERTER CINEMA12 466-5678

EXPERIENCE THE DIFTERENCE!

* INDOOR PARIKING $$$ SAME DAY-ADVANCE TICKETING + 12 MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM + DOLBY STEREO PLUSH SEATNG (with cup holders) + WIDE ROW SPACIN

| DEAD AGAIN ${ }^{\text {mom }}$ | HOT SHOTS PG13 |
| :---: | :---: |
| LIVIN' LARGE ${ }^{\text {L }}$ | NECESSAFY AOUGHNESS PG3 |
| ROBIN HOOD PGi3 WED TWU. $12 \leq a, 2 \times 0,1 \times 1,10,10$ | HOLLYWOOD PG13 4-THis $7 \times 49,450,6 \leq 5$ |
| DECEIVED PG13 | EFOR DINNER PG |
| THE FISHER KING ${ }^{\text {R }}$ | E COMMITMENTS |
| TERMINATOR 2 R | FREDDY'S DEAD |
|  |  |

Orange improve at Princeton meet

By DAVE HAUT  Staff Writer

After the completion of Saturday's matches, the Syracuse University women's tennis team did something no other team in the Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament was able to do.

SU was the only team to have all of its players still eligible to all of its players play on Sunday.

The Orangewomen played an additional seven matches that day, 36 overall, to finish third in the tournament held in Princeton, N.J.
Orange coach Jesse Dwire said he thought the team's 27-9 meet record marked a significant change from last year's squad.
"The girls played real hard and real well, this weekend," Dwire said. "Last year we were Dwire said. Last year we were young, inexperience
"It's a great turnaround."
For the second consecutive meet, freshman standout Sara Dickson advanced to the semifinals. losing a close match to Boston University's Rey, 6-7, 6-4, 7-6.

Dickson was moved up to flight four from flight five singles.
"Sara Dickson got off to a great start in her college career," Dwire said. "She's learning a little more each time she ing a little more each time

Dickson has a 4-0 record as a flight five singles player and a 6-2 overall record
"Sara turned her game up a notch," Dwire said. "We could have a potential star here.:

Dickson's success continued in doubles, when she teamed up with junior Corinna Bode The tandem placed second in the fight $B$ doubles bracket, defeating the Colgate team of Flanagan/Desano, 6-2, 6-2, and the West Virginia squad of Cinco/Tondreault, 6-2, 7-5.

The duo lost in the flight $B$ championship, 6-1, 6-1, to a team from Penn
In the flight A singles bracket, tri-captain Sharie Liberatore and Maria Pilar Merono both lost in the quarterfinals.
Liberatore lost a long mateh to Princeton's Considine, 6-0 3-6, 7-5.

Merono lost in straight sets to Boston University's Steiber, 7-6, 6-2.
Liberatore and Merono tearned up together for the first time this season in doubles and won the championship of the flight $A$ doubles consolation bracket, defeating Cornell's team of Chen/Deasy, 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.
"I amn not disappointed in the two girls* play," Dwire said. "They played a tough first round opponent in Boston University.
"They still have to learn their limitations as partners, but that will come with practice.'
Sophomore Andrea Vasar helyi was the only other singles player to make it into the quarterfinals.
Vasarhelyi was defeated by Princeton's Epstein, 6-3, 6-4.
"Andrea did a great job this weekend," Dwire said. "After months of various injuries, she was able to beat the number one seed in her bracket."
The third doubles team of Jennifer Agate and Karen Garber placed second in the flight $C$ doubles bracket.
The two defeated Boston University's Taub/Gavin, 6-3, 7-5, and Seton Hall's Mirozek/Alley, 6-0, 6-3. They lost, though, in the flight $C$ doubles championship to Penn's team of Mos/Kim. 6-1, 6-1. Unlike last weekend at the SUnity Life Tennis Clas sic, the Orangewomen's double play outshined its singles play.
"We definitely flip-flopped from last weekend," Dwire said. "I felt the doubles play was better, concentration-wise.
"We still need to spend time on pressure situations in doubles for the upcoming Big East tournament."

FOR RENT

Safe and Convenient Apartments
$-K i t c h e n \quad-1$ \& 2 Bedroom Apts. (\$420-5485)

- Livingroom Utilities Included
-Bathroom
- Laundry -Off Street Parking -Campus Bus Line

ASK FOR MARIE 8:30-4:00 443-2567

ATVEIRTESING SALES ASSESTANT

We're looking for a reliable student to fill the position of Advertising

J44 Detronn Ave 8x30 ami-4280 pmi Sales Assistant. The person must be able to work from 10:30 am until 1:30 pm, Monday through Friday. The position entails backing-up the sales staff and performing sorne telemarketing activities. This is a paid position.

THE QUALITY S.U. CLOTHING STORE 472-8863

FREE T-SHIRT WITH EVERY ORDER WITH COUPON EXPIRES 10/11/91

Rush Kappa Sigma

Rush continues tonight from 7 to 10 PM.
Meet us at Gamma Phi Beta on Walnut Park (number 9 on your Rush Card)

Sports

Ride this cup right out of town

Question: Before the Ryder Cup was played, did anyone know what the Ryder Cup was? And did anybody care?

Or did everybody get all excited just because America won something it hadn't had since 1983? I never knew the stars and stripes ever lost it.
Give me a break. The America's Cup yacht race, even more tacky then the Ryder Cup, is probably more exciting.

The Ryder Cup was nothing but a bunch of rich Americans beating the upper class of Europe and proclaiming patriotism.
ROB
GUYETTE

SPORTS

OPINION Floyd, who lost his singles match on Sunday, looking like he could give a darn after the United States won. Floyd knew his loss would cost him in endorsements.

I saw Payne Stewart jump up and down like he scored a touchdown as down Americans gathered in a circle to celebrate as if one of them scored a celebrate as if one af them scored a goal in hockey. (Wrong sports, guys. Toal in hockey. (Wrong sports,

Besides, golfers are supposed to be the most politically correct practitioners of etiquette in the sporting world. Yet they looked like those uncivilized hockey players.
1 saw people waving American flags. I love the flag, but at a golf tournament? What does this prove? That the U.S. flag is better than the British flag? Don't we have better causes in the world to support than our Ryder Cup team?

That was all I saw, but I can't believe anybody was cheering for Payne Stewart, the biggestjerk on the PGA Tour, Patriotism. Hah. More like hypocrisy.
That's just like all those people that waved the American flag for Andre Agassi two weeks ago at the Davis Cup. We hate 'em, but if they're playing for America we love 'em.
The lack of sportsmanship the U.S. team displayed in the embarrassing post-match celebration was a direct opposite to the Europeans.

America's Steve Pate had to withdraw because of injury, so instead of taking the match on forfeit the Europeans agreed to halve it. Why can't they just say tie?

If the Europeans weren't such nice guys, the whole darnn competition would have been tied Toobad. would have been tied. Too bad.

The thing that really gets me is that all anyone could talk about after the match was how much pressure they felt.

Pressure? These guys weren't even playing for money. Id think a five-fout putt for $$ 180,000$ to win the Masters would be pressure.

Do our American heroes think that if they don't play well, no one is going to like them anymore? It doesn't stop Agassi.

The real root for my anger might be that this story got bigger play than the Twins clinchirg the AL West title, but if the Ryder Cup wanted any credibility it shouldn't have brought Dan Quayle in to present the trophy.

Or is everybody a big Dan Quayle fan now, too?

Tricia

Question: What well known actor played center for the Florida State foothall team in 1965?
Eyday' anaveer Tilaxie Univarwhen they went ©5.

Late goal nips Syracuse

Coach takes blame for Orangemen's 1-0 loss

By IEFF ELBAUM

Staff Writer

When Syracuse University dropped a I-0 decision to Villanova on a Rich Maue goal with 22:22 left in the game, SU should be the one to blame.
"This is no good." Foti said. "I think the team was entirely unprepared mentally for this game. Nh accept responsibility for that. Any time one player doesn't show up ready to play, that's his doesn't show up ready to play, hat shis fault. But when the entire team comes fault. But when the entire keam comes my fault."
Playing a Big East team at home, Foti had been calling the game against Villanova, 5-2, 2-1 Big East, a must win for the Orangemen. The SU players didn't play like the game was that important.
The Orangernen, $4-4,1-2$, failed to test the Villanova defense in the first half the Villanova defense in the first half Wildcat goalie Michael Guarino was forced to make only two saves.
"We obviously came out flat," said SU forward Eric Puls. "I have the feeling that it's the result of guys just not Forning to the game ready to play ball. Foti said there were signs in the practices leading up to Sacu game might not go so well.
"I could see it coming in the previous days in practices," Foti said. "Practice was fat. We came out flat. Sometimes it is an irreversible thing you try and change, but it makes it that much harder to take when you can see it coming."

Villanova coach Larry Sullivan attributed the Orangemen's poor start to playing on Coyne Field. SU usually plays its home games in the Carrier Dome, but was moved to Coyne due to the Rod Stewart concert.
"I thought that (the Orangemen) were unhappy that they had to play on this field," Sullivan said. "In fact, that's what I told the troops at halftime. I said, they don't want to play on this field. We play on a field worse than this. Let's really take it to Them."
SU goalie Steve Pollnow played a

Syracuse University defender Lee Davison goes up for header with Villanova forward Ryan Daly in SE's $1-0$ loss on Saturday at Coyne Field. Davison nearly tied the game when one of his four shots on poal hit the crossbar late in the game.

At 10,20 Pollnow made a diving save on a Maue shot. Joe Roy, who led Villanova with three shots on goal, went in for the rebound but Pollnow covered Poll Pollnow made another diving save at 20:30, on a Roy shot from fifteen yards out.
Syracuse did have one strong scoring

Seeing is believing when watching FSU

SU got a glimpse of Seminoles romp

By JOSH BARNETY  Staif Wriler

Too much television is bad for your eyes.

For the Syracuse University football team, watching only a few plays of the Florida State-Michigan game on Saturday was enough to do the trick

Since the Orangemen's game with Tulane University was at night, several players had a chance to watch Florida State dismantle the Wolverimes 51-31.
"We had so much time," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said." We had all afternoon. What do you say to the kids? Do you say to them. 'Don't watch the game"?
"I didn't mind that they watched the game. I think that our kids are very mature and undergtood why we were there. They were very focused on the job at hand."

The 1 Oth-ranked Orangemen, 4-0, beat the Green Wave (0-5) 24-0 on Saturday night.

Pasqualoni said he was only able to watch the end of the game while the players were getting taped in the training room. ing room.

The Orangemen scored all 24 of their points in the first half. Pasqualoni said he didn't know if the earlier Seminoles victory was a factor in the quick start.

We didn't talk abont Florida State last week," Pasqualoni aaid. "We were very, very concerned with Tılane."

Outside linebacker Jo Jo Wooden said once game time came the Orangemen weren't thinking at all about the Seminotes.
"We kind of wanted to keep that out of our mind," Wooden said. "We knew we had to go to New Orleans to get a

The top-ranked Seminoles, 40 , produced 31 points on only 26 plays in the first half. Defensively, FSU was able to prevent Michigan from making big plays.
"We were saying 'Wow' to obrselves," center John Reagan said. "When you see an offense like their offenge executes and a defense as dominating as they can be. you have to be impressed."

Most SU players only got to watch several plays, but that was enough for several piays, but that was en
"They're the No. I team in th and they're playing like it," Wooder See TV Page 14 opportunity in the first halt.
Mike Britton had a break away at 17:30 and forced Guarino to make a kick save.

Sullivan said that Villanova was trying to closely guard SU's leading scorer Paul Young, who has 13 points. He said the Wildcats should be pleased with See BIG LOSS Page 14

Orangewomen rally to save weekend sweep

By losh barnat  \section*{Skaff Writer}

The motto of the Syracuise Univeraity woiren's vollesbrall team is heart, andit didn't tale lang, to set their blood punping again taftaxtweet endes attrick

He Orangewomengi 112 , uwept thmegnatcheogther weerend includ(Outario)Urivergity)
After rollingorinumestinigit vieto rieq the Oramginguram, vere beaten chicelast welkenitarethafackeyt Chaminhafontentori40hostate butatial保 thity

 $\cdots$

The Daily Orange

Line of fire

Melissa Cabre, top, dodges the ball during a racquetball game Tuesday afternoon in Flanagan Gymnasium. Also playing are Juan Perez, middle, and Alexander Fernandez.

This year's graduates to compete in market with unemployed of 1991

By PAULA CHRISTIAN
Stuif Writer
As many college seniors embark on their job search for next year, they will not only be competing with their own class. but also with a great number of 1991 graduates who are still unemployed, according to Mary Jones, director of the Syracuse University Placement Center.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. job offers to 1991 graduating seniors at Northeast campuses decreased by one-third. The outlook for New England is the worst it has been since the early 1980s. the report stated.
"The Northeast has been hit hardest by this recession than in the past and it will take longer to recover," Jones said.
"This is an unusual recession because the white collar class is being laid off in large numbers." she said. As a result, college students are being forced to be more aggressive in their job search."
Recruitment at SU by major companies in 1991 was down 10 to 15 percent, Jones said. This year a 20 percent decrease in campus recruitment is expected. percent she said.

First choice ... not
The job shortage has resulted in many popular alternatives for graduates. There has been an increase in the number of students applying to graduate school, to volunteer programs such as the Peace Corps and Teach for America, and for government positions, Jones said.
"Students have to realize that if they want a job they are going to have to be flexible about the geographic location and they must think more broadly in what their first job will be," Jones said.
"Most students look to the nationwide companies for employment and there is no way that these companies employment and there is no wayle who are applying." can absor
she said.

Graduates should look to the smaller and mid-sized companies because they have more jobs available, although some start at lower levels, she said.

Wayne Joress graduated from SU in 1991 and is now working in photography sales in Atlanta, Ga. He started $h$ is search in September of his senior year and found a job in mid-July.
"I thought I had a great start on the job search but the competition had started even earlier than I had," he said.
"I was interviewing with many top companies through the Placement Center and I figured that I must have a shot if they were impressed enough to interview me in the first place," Joress said. "I wasn't interview me in the first place, Joress said. plan $B$ which was relocating to Atlanta."
Going down to Atlanta
"Since Atlanta is the site of the 1996 Olympics. I figured it was and up-and-coming city," Joress said. "I found a job two months after I moved there and I love $t$ - it is such a young. exciting city."
The job shortage has forced many to accept positions for which they are overqualified such as clerical or temporary work. Jones said. "I got a card yesterday from a student who graduated last year who is doing part-time clerical work which he is definitely overqualified for," she said. "He is continuing his job search and he is using this job to perfect his skills and to show off what he can do."
"No graduate who is talented and who works hard in the job position he is in is going to stay at the bottom." Jones said.

She advises students to look carefully at each job and where it might lead in the future before they turn it down.
"Many students also look for jobs in popular, big cities like Boston," Jones said. "They don't realize that there is a large percentage of graduates from Boston schools who are staying in the city and have a big jump on the job market there."

The cost of living in large cities is also higher, she said.
"Students must be willing to broaden their thinking and look to smaller towns and to new areas like the and look to smaller to

Some job fields are booming even in the recession. The health fields, hospital services, the restaurant and

See lors page 4

Westcott group voices concern over violation

By MARK A. BROUSSEAU

Asst. News Editor
The Westcott East Neighborhood Association (WENA) is a group of concerned citizens who work with community leaders, students and businesses to improve the quality of living in the neighborhood, said Diane Harrison, WESA co-vice president.

WENA members voiced community concerns and debated possible resolutions Monday night in the Petit Library.
ions Monday night in the Petit Library. "We remind Syracuse University resiregulations that keep the neighborhood safe." she said.
"Our basic gripe is with the owners of student housing," she said. "Although the worst tend to be absentee landlords. there are some bad ones that live in and around Syracuse."
"The city has never enforced the housing violations in these dwellings," she said. "We suspect a gentleman's agreement.
"Last summer the Orange Grove was allowed to expand its interior area,

See WENA Page 8

Inside

Classified  Comics

Editorial

$$
15
$$

Entertainment
.5
News Extra
.3
Sports.
Weather .

Virtual reality humanizes computers

By ROBERT SHIELDS
Asst. News Editor
Virtual reality is the first step in the humanization of computers, according to David Lankes, coordinator of the VR laboratory at Syracuse University.
"People have said that computers have had a de-humanizing effect," Lankes said. "With VR, people can grab an object on the screen with their hand and move it around."
The lab portion of the Advanced Graphics Research lab is in the basement of the Heroy Geology Building. ment of the Heroy Geology Building. The VR program is funded by the Center for Advanced Software Engineering center.

Lankes said that VR is possible at SU using a Mattel Power Glove and a pair of 3-D glasses.

The equipment was donated by Christopher Gentile, a 1981 graduate of the College of Engineering, Lankes said.

Gentile is a partner in the New York-based entertainment firm Abrams/Gentile Entertainment. The Abrams/Gentile Entertainment. The glove was created by Gentile for use with the Nintendo garne system.
"He worked out a deal with the Center for Advanced Software Engineering center where he would donate old equipment and we would develop applications and market them through him," Lankes said.

Sensors and ultrasound

Three sensors attached to the monitor pick up ultrasound signals from the glove that let the computer calculate the location of the glove in space, he said.

A wire attached to the glove from the computer sends information about

Senior David Lankes is the coordinator of the Virtual Reality lab, located in the basement of Heroy Geology lab.
located in the basem
inkie in VR," he said.
By moving fingers or making a fist, a user can make freehand sketches in 3-D and use the trigger finger to fire at targets on the screen.
The 3-D effect is achieved with a pair of liquid crystal glasses and a nickering screen.
"If you everwent to a 3-D movie, you used those red and green glasses," he said. "There were actually two projectors running the same movie, one with a red filter and one with a green.

Your brain combines the two different pictures to create 3-D.

Lankes said by flickering two slightly different images on the computer screen and by alternating light and dark lenses on the glasses, 3 - $D$ is simulated on the screen.
The lab also has a $$ 10,000$ Data Glove, Lankes said. It looks like a gardener's glove on the outside but contains a web of electrical wires inside, he said.

World

Americans, Soviets set

 talks on Bush's planThe United States and Soviet Union are setting up a series of talks scheduled for Oct. 9 to implement President Bush's plan to cut nuclear weapons, administration officials said Monday.

Officials said the talks could lead to a November summit between Bush, Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, French President Francois Mitterrand and British Prime Minister John Maior.

The Soviets, responding favorably to Bush's plan, indicated their prime goals would include a ban on nuclear weapons tests and bringing other nations that are expanding nuclear weapons into discussions.

Haitian rebel coup

exiles president

Haitian PresidentJean-Bertrand Aristide was sent into exile in France Tuesday.

Mutinous soldiers ousted the first democratically elected Haitian president in 200 years.

The acting army commander Brig. Gen. Raoul Cedras announced Monday that the military had assumed control that the military had assumed control after a day of violence that ended with at least 26 people dead and 200 wounded.

In the past. Haitian governments have been dominated by military regimes. Aristide, 38, a popular Roman Catholic priest, had championed the cause of the pooragainstdictator Jean-Claude Duvalier.

The coup began Sunday night at an fired on Aristide's private residence and later at the National Palace.

Nation

American students

 making progressAmerican elementary and secondary students are inadequately prepared for the complex world of the 21st century, according to a federal report issued Monday.

The overall trends in the four subjects considered in the report -mathematics, science, reading and writing - indicate science, reading and writing - indicate performance from 1980 to 1990 , making performance from 1980 to 19 up for a decline in the 1970 s .

The Education Department's report on students' scholastic performances carne out at the same time as the first "report card" of a panel appointed by President Bush and the National Government Association to assess educational progress.

New Massachusetts law

strict on domestic violence
Massachusetts officers in every police department are under order to arrest anyone who violates a family restraining order.

The new guideline on the handling of spouse-battering and child abuse cases was ordered by the legislature last December.
A panel of police chiefs, victims' advocates, court officials and prosecutors worked out the details of the guidelines that began Monday
The guidelines require police to check for signs of child abuse in households where there is domestic violence, file an incident report even if no one is arrested and inform the victim when the assailant is released on bail.

State

Stricter rules on car

 emissions ignite debateRepresentatives of the automobile and oil industries clashed with state officials and environmentalists yesterday over whether New York should adopt Califor nia's stringent emission rules on cars.

The auto and oil industries have already appeared before legislators to argue against state laws that would argue Cgainst state
New York intends to adopt California standards, an option that Congress gave standards, an option that Congress gave each state in the 1990 Clean Air Act, after three more administrative hearings after three more administrative hearin
New York has 22 counties that do not meet current federal clean air rules.

Task force recommends tolls to pay for ThruwayThe New York State Thruway Author ity Transition Advisory Council announced Monday that highway tolls should be maintained beyond their scheduled expiration in 1996

In its final report to Gov. Mario Cuomo and the legislature, the task force said tolls on the 570 -mile Thruway brought in $$ 291$ million last year. About onethird of the revenue came from non-New Yorkers, according to the panel.

The 14 -member advisory council said the alternative to keeping the tolls would be for the state to come up with about $$ 260$ million a year in tax revenue to maintain the Thruway at its current level.

There was no immediate comment on the report from Cuomo. who is on a one-week trade mission to Japan.

University

Popular sportscaster to talk about athletics

Marty Glickman, a 1939 graduate of Syracuse University and popular New York broadcaster, will speak tonight on "The Ethics of Big Time College Sports" at 7 in Maxwell Auditorium.

The forum is sponsored jointly by the SU B'nai B'rith Hillel foundation and the Ofice of the Dean of Hendricks the Off

The forum will cover the role of money in athletics, the exploitation of athletes and the academic consequences of having a top-ranked athletic program.

Other panelists speaking will be David Bennett, professor of history and SU's representative to the NCAA; Doris Soladay, associate director of athletics; and Eddie Moss, a local attorney and former Edde Moss, a local att
SU basketball player.
Glickman was the first basketball radio play-by-play announcer. He was the "Voice of the New York Knicks" for 21 years. Glickman broadcast the New York Giants starting in 1948 and later the New York Jets. He entered semiretirement in 1982.

Printmaker to speak

about his career tonight
Garo Antreasian, a leading printmaker in the 1960 s and 1970 s , will lecture tonight at 7 in Shemin Auditorium in the Shaffer Art Building.

The slide lecture is titled "Romancing the Stone: A Life in Printramking." He will give a history of his career from his early works to the present.

WEATHER

Rain reprieve
-If youre easily fooled, you may raistake today for summer. We th see partly sunny skies with highs in the midi-70. A 15 to 25 mph wind will keep things from getting too hot, though. Tonight, temps will drop to the mid-50s and our chances for rain will be back up to 40 percent.

Thursday

Expect more showers on Thursday. High temps will be in the upper 60 s and the evening's low will be about 45 .

Friday

The sun will interrupt the rain once again today. Highs will be in the 60s, lows in the 50 s .

Weekend

Saturday and Sunday are expected to bring more showers. Are you beginning to see a pattern here? Highs will be in the 60s on Saturday and in the 50 s on Sunday. Lows will be about 55 on Saturday and 45 on Sunday.
Tbday's guest city: Walla Walla, Wash

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Lotroit Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University'a independent student-run newspaper pabliehed Monday through Friday.
The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse Univeraity and SUNY Environmentill Science and Foreatry campues.
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Newre: 443-2127
Pditorial: 443-2128
Lifestyle: 443-21128
Sportas: 443-2208
Buminean/Advertiming 443-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30 m.m. $-4=30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.)

300xumbe

News Extra

The Daily Orange
October 2, 1991

Report surveys administrative services

Staff reports

An informational report on administrative services and general auxiliaries was released Monday as part of the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Group's second report. The following information comes from that report.

The purpose of the report is to disseminate information to mernbers of the university community -faculty, staff and students - and to provide a basis for staff and students - and Administrative services is the collective term for the various units that provide the services and functions necessary to support the academic enterprises of the university. These services are grouped into three functional areas: student services, institutional advancement and general administration. These groupings are further subdivided into business and finance. facilities administration, human resources, student affairs, university relations and the chancellor's area.

Business and Finance

This division is responsible primarily for the fiscal matters of the university and is composed of 13 departments, including the Office of Business and Finance headed by Senior Vice President Louis Marcoccia.
The Treasurer's Department manages the university's endowment and cash accounts. A 10 -member Trustee Endowment Committee reviews the performance of the investment managers and determines investment policies.
The Comptroller's Department establishes and monitors financial accounting procedures and policies to tors financial accounting procedures a control and safeguard university assets.
The Risk Management Department manages both self-insured and carrier-insured property and liability programs. It is responsible for collecting litigation information and processing claims.

The Environmental Health Office performs random audits of laboratories to determine that proper precautions are being used.
The Athletic Department employs approximately 80 people and manages the university's iI men's and nine women's varsity teams, composed of about 530 intercollegiate athletes.
The Food Services Department prepares and serves food for students, faculty and staff through residential dining services in six dining centers serving approxidining services in six dining centers serving approximately 6.400 students for a total of some 4.3 million mately 6,400 year.

This division is responsible for the planning atul maintenance of university physical resources, campus security, telecommunications, transportation and parksecurity, telecommunications, transportation and parkwater distribution system.
The division's Budget and Financial Affairs staff advises the senior vice president and directors of

Ware seeks opinions on budget proposal

Comments and buggestions in witing should be submitted to Dr. Ben Ware, Vice President for Resiearch, 304 Tblley Administration Building: Responses should include school or college, division or department, and rank or student status. All information will be held in strict confidence. To ensure full consideration of comments and sugyestions, responses should be submitted by Oct. 25, 1991.
facilities administration on financial planning, prepares and monitors the annual Physical Plant budget. and advises and assists in the development and modification of data systems.

Human Resources

This division serves approximately 4,000 faculty and staff and 4,000 student employees and is responsible for recommending and implementing university-wide human resource policies and consulting with deans and directors about individual personnel matters and interpreting university policies and legal issues relative interpreting universit
it also acts as mediator or arbitrator of internal grievances and represents the university in external actions. This division also oversees the functions of the Human Resources office, including the university's responsibility for affirmative action.

Student Affairs

This division serves the university's student community with a variety of programs designed to enhance their college experience and to assist them in solving problerns. It is directed by Vice President for Student frais and Dean of Student Relations Edward Golden.
The Office of Student Affairs is the central administrative office of the division. It coordinates and administers the university's judicial system and annually publishes the Code of Student Conduct.
The Office of Student Programs provides service, leadership and direction for the co-curricular needs of the campus community.
The SU Counseling Center addresses students' counseling and mental health needs through evaluation, counseling and psychotherapy. The university R.A.P.E. (Rape; Advocacy, Prevention and Education) Center administers a comprehensive rape and sexual assault prevention program and provides counseling and support services for rape and sexual assault and suppo

The following unit of Student Affairs is being treated separately in the budget reduction process. This auxiliary operation is directly affected by undergraduate enrollment and its resulting revenue loss represents an amount over and above the $$ 28$ million deficit projected in the main part of the budget.
It will be expected to cut operating expenses in response to lower revenues and continue to produce a balanced budget.

University Relations

This division supports, encourages and promotes the academic mission of the university. This division is headed by Senior Vice President Lansing Baker and is organized into five offices: the Office of Development. organized into five offices: the Office of Development.
the Major Gift Program, the Office of Corporate and the Major Gift Program, the Omice of Corporate and Foundation Reiations. the Office of Alumni Relations and the Office of Public Relations.

Other advancement functions, reporting directly to Baker, include the Office of Special Events. which organizes and coordinates commencement, convocations and other university-wide events, and university relations centers at Lubin House in New York City and Greenberg House in Washington, D.C.

The Chancellor's Area
Grouped within the chancellor's area are six departments providing a variety of services. Also included in this area are the six-person chancellor's office staff and the chancellor's residence staff.
The Office of Budget and Planning prepares current and long-range budgets and forecasts. This office acts as a clearinghouse for institutional reports as required as the federal government, New York state, and other external parties.
The Internal Audit department performs financial, operational and computerized information systems operationall and computerized information systems audits of all dep

An annual Athletic Department and NCAA Compliance audit is conducted by examining records to determine whether the university in general and the athletic department and individual student-athletes in particular are in compliance with National Collegiate Athletic Association rules.
The Archives and Record Management Department is concerned with the university's records from creation to final disposition, compliance with federal and state laws as well as other regulations, administrative needs. and the requirements of those who will use the records for historical research in the future.
The Office of the Dean of Hendricks Chapel formally hosts the chaplains, campus ministers and religious groups who have arranged to have a presence on campus.

The Carrier Dome is a principal facility for the athletic department for practice and competition in athletic department for practice and competition in football and men's soccer, basketball and lacrosse. It football and men's soccer, basketball and lacrosse. It also is a multi-P the community.

Women for Women addresses sex crimes

By SHEILA DOUGHERTY  Stuif Writer

Survivors of rape and sexual abuse can find helpin Syracuse University's Women for Women groups, according to coordinator and co-facilitator Diane DodgeCouillard.
"They're support groups for people that have been sexually assaulted... incest survivors, survivors of rape and the groups meet once a week during the semester. Meetings are 90 minutes and extremely confidential, Couillard said.
"They're very confidential," she said. "The meeting places and times of the groups are not public knowledge, just for safety and confidence.

Wormen for Women groups are open to SU students and staff and are free. Individual groups are comprised of about eight members.
Wormen for Women started in 1989 when three students realized that there was a need for such a group, she said.
was a need for such a group, she said.
The first group got underway in The first group gid spring 1990, she said.
"The R.A.P.E. Center took it over in the fall of 1990," she said. The center currently receives funds from the university for the Wornen for Women groups, Couillard said.
There are several different Women for Women groups, Couillard said. There are currently groups for survivors of childhood sexual abuse and for survivors of rape or sexual assault.

Couillard said groups for male survivors of sexual assault and survivors of lesbian assault are now in the planning stages.

Each group focuses on issues specific to a certain type of abuse, she said.
"The reason that they have them broken down is that an incest survivor has different issues than somebody who's been raped." she said. "Sometimes it's just easier to connect in support with people who have similar issues."
Certain issues, such as trust, overlap in both the childhood survivors and rape survivors groups, she said.

Couillard said both childhood victims and rape victims are prone to flashbacks and can often visualize their attacker. Also, certain odors and surroundings can trigger unpleasant memories.

There are overlaps between the two. but with a child, there's a lot of other issues that go into it. not just the sexual." she said.
${ }^{\text {"With child sexual abuse, what you }}$ have are issues of damaged goods; their self image is that they have become self image is that they have become damaged," she said.
*A lot of times, it's a matter of accepting responsibility," Couillard said. She said victims often perceive the abuse as "their fault."

She said there are different goals in the rape support groups.
"Rape is a not a crime of sex, it's a crime of violence,"she said. "With rape, you've got not so much sexual issues ... t's actually a violent crime.'
For more information on Women for Women support groups, call Nan Jensen at 443-5044 or Couillard at 443-7273.

JOBS

Continued from Page 1
hotel industry, engineering and architectural helds are all ex. panding rapidly. Jones said.

Fierce competition

With the competition so fierce seniors need to start early in their job searches and need to prepare themselves with the prepare themselves with the tools they will need to impress employers, Jones said. The Placement Center offers resume writing workshops, interview working workshops, interview workshops, on-campus recruiting, and job referral services, Jones said. "We also offer mock interviews in which students are videotuped and then-critiqued. on their strengths and weaknesses," she said.
The Placement Center has put logether a seniors prothle book which will be distributed to variouscompanies,,Jonessaid. "These are the employers who don't recruit on campus or come to career fairs," she said. "Wc are trying to expose our stuare trying to expose our stu dents more to the job market. important it is for seniors to start their job search early," according to Pete Jacobs, a finance major who now works as a financial planner."I started my job search in October of my senior year and I interviewed at 35 places before'I got one offer," he said.
"It wasri't my grade point average (2.9) that got me the interviews. It was all of the experience I had through my internships," Jacobssaid. "Some of my friends who were also finance majors still have not found a job, five months after graduation,:

Seniors are strongly urged to come to the Placement Center come to the Placement Center and take advantage of its servand take advantage of its services, Jones said. "Please do not ices, Jones said. "Please do not wait until February to begin wait until February to begin your job search, graduation will your job search, graduation will be here before you know it and the earlier you start the easier it will be."

It's not just another way for you to spend your money. It's a way to help you save it.

Now, get the Card and get Student Privileges. Special savings created just for you. Only from American Express.
If you think the American Express ${ }^{-}$Card is simply another way to buy things, wed like to share some valuable news with you: Since you're a student, the Card can actually belp you save.
Become a Student Cardmember today: and you'll automatically get American Express* Student Privileges, our newly expanded package of outstanding savings and special offers. All designed just for you-with more of what you need, for more value from the

3 ROUNDTRIPS ON

CONTINENTAL AIRLINES-AT A PRICE THAT REALIY MAKES FLYING AFFORDABLE
Only Student Cardmembers can enjoy this great deal on Continental Airines: three rounderip flights for just $$ 129$ or $$ 189$ each-depending on where you're going: What's more, these certificates are good any. where Continental Ainlines flies in the 48 contiguous states.

Use your certificates to visit friends at other schools, see your family back home or enjoy yourself during a vacation. And the best part: Each certificate could save you as much as $$ 250$ ou'er regular Continental Airlines fares on a coast-to-coast trip.

> OUR NEWEST ADVANTAGE: IP TO 30 MINUTES' OFFREE MCI LONGGISTANCE CALLING EVERY MONTH FORA YEAR

Talk about value. Now the Card can also help you save on your long. disiance calls. In otal, you could sate more than $$ 44$ when you enroll and use the American Express Card as a calling card. And you don't even have to change your current longdistance company a college budger. This year alone, Student Cardmembers have saved at Pizzeria Uno, Eddie Bauer, MTV and ArtCarved class rings. among others.

Youll find your certificates in each issue of our exclusive student magazine, American Express ${ }^{\circ}$ Card CONNECTIONS-where you'll also find valuable ideas and information about college life roday:

A GOOD INVESTMENT, A GREAT VALUE

For just $$ 55$ a year, the Card gives you all these savings, as well as all the traditional benefits of Cardmembership-like the personal attention you can get 24 hours a day from our Customer Service representatives.
And because you settle your account in full each month, you won't pay any finance charges-which can save you even more. All of which goes to show that the American Express Card is an exceptional value. Because while there are many ways for you to spend your money, there are few that help you save it. Apply today.

Student Privileges Value Certificates give you the satings you need on the things you uant-a sure way to make the most of

- To be elygible, you must be approved by Docember 31.1991. - A credit of upto $$ 370$ for cills will appear on cach buling stakermenk

December 33. 1991

Editorial

Let N.Y. pass out condoms

New York City high schools will likely face legal battles for their proposal to give condoms to students without parental consent.

This is silly.
People in high school have sex. They can be safe or unsafe about it. Distributing condoms in schools encourages safety, not promiscuity.

Parents concerned about the distribution of condoms should instill in their children what they believe to be the proper values about sex. Then, all they can realistically do is let their children decide for themselves.

Any high school student realizes that having a condom does not mean he must use it. And it is better to provide sexually active teens with protection so they don't try to invent their own. We've all heard the stories about people getting pregnant because their boyfriends tried to use Saran Wrap as a condom.

AIDS is an important issue everywhere but is particularly pressing in urban areas such as New York City, where kids seem to grow up quickly and start experimenting with sex earlier.

By passing out condoms, the schools attempt to ensure students' welfare. It is logical to assume that parents wish to deny the sexuality of their children. But someone has to acknowledge it. The schools have wisely taken the necessary precautions to ensure students deal with sex safely.

If schools are becoming hip enough to provide sexual protection, let them.

Passing out condoms is already common at the university level. But many students begin their sexual life before college.

Rush ads proclaim true colors  Flipping through The Daily Orange each  if they did, the sexual innuendo is undeniable;

day for the past week or so has become an every other page has been fraternity rash advertisements. While some of these are plain and unoffensive, giving simply the name of the fraternity and its rush dates, for example, WENDY and demoralizing tones. WENDY

KAPLAN

advocating ADVOCATINE
COMMMNICATNG These ads, depending on the fraternity therein represented, may insult the university, which provides branch's existence. They may portray not-so-subtle sexual images' or present sexist ideas, or may psych its audiences, particularly males, into destructive and dangerous behaviors. Let's recall a few examples, cited from the Tuesday, September 24 ples, cited from the
"It's too late, you chose SU. Transfer ... or make the most of it. Rush Psi U." Gosh, am I relieved to know that the answer to a guy's problems he has with this educational atmosphere are in a fraternity (that is, a particular fraternity). The message this ad seems to be sending is that anyone who chose to attend SU obviously made a mistake, one resulting in an ugly college life experience which can only be ameliorated by rushing this fraternity

Tau Epsilon Phi advertises its rush-related events on an eight-day calendar. Monday the 23rd "Was Virgin Drink Night." Somehow I doubt they celebrated this event by consuming non-alcoholic (i.e. virgin) beverages. But even is the subliminal translation of "Virgin Drink Night" supposed to be "the night to get virgins drinking Tuesday the 24 th advertised a wonderfully destructive, aggression-encouraging behavior with its "50th Annual "Wreck-aCar" Night." Are these all ways a male can prove himself a true man?

Rushing Alpha Chi Rho ("Crows"), as I interpret their advertisement, ensures a male of joining a commanity of guys with bigger penises. The ad boasts. "There is a big difference" and shows a large crow next to a littleman with a bow in his hair looking down his pants for are they diapers??. Prior to rushing this fraternity, a guy is apparently inferior. He's little more than an underdeveloped male, or, as suggested by the hair bow, a fernale. Both suggestions are potentially threatening and insulting to males, for they label non-Crows unmasculine at best.
These sort of advertisements are not only offensive, insulting, and demeaning, they are dangerous in the kinds of behavior they portray and suggest, and therefore advocate and even strongly encourage. By exaggerating the male gender role, they add pressure to an the male gender role, they add pressure to an already intense social force promoting the already intense social force promoting the myth of male superiority, heightened aggression and competition, and unchecked sexual sion an drive.
Oh, but I understand. These advertisements are just in the name of good-natured, harmless humor and fun.
Yeah, right.

LETTERS

Give Olympic dream team credit  To the editor:  countries have been composed

This letter is in response to Rob Guyette's sports opinion column in last Tuesday's edition of The Daily Orange. He noted the absurdity of allowing professional basketball players to compete in the 1992 Olympic games because they will "destroy the Yugos in Barcelona* and also denounced the world's greatest basketball player, Michael Jordan, for his final decision to play.

> The announcement that Americnn players would be allowed to compete next year is a dream come true for loving basketball fan in America. It has been five years since the United States has won a gold medal in a world cournament, andanotherseven years since our last taste of victory with an Olympic gold medal.

> For years, teams from other of national players who have been playing and practicing together for quite some time. In the past, our collegiate players just did not measure up to the Soviet, Yugoslavian and Cuban tearns and the limited amount of practice time together was an important factor. With NBA players representing us in the Barcelona games, I will be no less proud of our team if we win the gold on a shot at the buzzer than if we crush the buzzer than if we crush the each game.

We deserve to show the United States has the best basketball players in the world. That is what the players intend to do in '92.
Finally, Michael Jordan decided to accept the invitation to play on the team. His decision was a difficult one at best, being that he was hounded by the media as well as other NBA players for his decision. It should not be said that he succumbed to the pressure of reporters, his cohorts, or his contractual companies like Gatorade. as Guyette mentioned, Jordan simply weighed his options. simply weighed his options.
Playing in the Olympics is an honor that cannot be passed up to spend a few days out on the golf course during the summer while people like me miss his high-flying dunks in Spain.
Jordan has made the admirable decision, no matter what the reporters led us to believe in the past. He has believein the past. He has and patriotic show of and patriotic show of athleticism in t
It is befitting that the greatest basketball player in the world should play on the greatest team in the world. GoU.S.A.!

REASONS WHY CHILDREN SHOJLD NOT HAVE CONDOMS

LETTERS

Think about issues

To the editor:
Mr. Marin has again replied to my "letter of Sept. 23" in The Daily Orange. As far as I know, no letter containing my name appeared on that date. So Mr. Marin could be either replying to the joint statement by The Arab Student Association (ASA) and the General Union of Palestinian Students IGUPSI, which appeared on the 24 th . What follows applies to either case. Although in my earlier reply to his letter I made it explicit that I dislike the fact that someone attributes things to someone attributes things to me that I have not said, Mr. me that I have not said, Marin still does not read Marin still does not read carefully what I have to say There is a big difference between asking to look at things critically and between "making a mockery of the peace process." It seems that Mr. Marin insists on creating a bad image of me by twisting a bad image of me by twisting what I had to say and by putting words into my mouth Moreover, my very first letter, to repeat, was only to remember the massacres of Sabra and Shatila, and suddenly Ifind myselficaught in a debate with Mr. Marir through the DO because he insists on making a fuss about something I did not even say. He also wants to meet me face to face and to "stop taking up all this space on the editorial page." If so. why did he reply to my first letter? In other words, why did he start the debate? debate?
Mr. Marin aiso asks about the number of wrones the number of wrongs committed by "both sides," yet he goes on to enumerate only those that were committed by the Arabs, Moreover, his data is either biased or erroneous, as in he mentions the Syrian occupation of Lebanon but fails to mention the Israel occupation of Lebanon. The number of Palestinians killed by the Jordanians was not 10,000 .

It seems obvious that Mr. Marin is not the kind of person who carefully reads what others have to say before he ventures and gives his replies. Thus, this reply of mine will be the last one to Mr. Marin, though he might want to keep up the fuss on his own. I do not wish to be dragged into a personal debate with someone who cannot even read and comprehend what someone else is saying.

One last thing. Mr. Marin says to me in his letter," You says to me in his letter," You know how to reach me." as if know how to reach me," as if implying that him and I know implying that him and I know each other. If this is true, he each other. If this is true, he would not have called me Ms. Halwani, since I am Mr Halwani.

Raja Halwani
lent Association
Arab Stuctent Association

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971

12 reasons why you'll love Macintosh

1. It's easy to use.

Bring home an Apple ${ }^{\circ}$ Macintosi' computer uxloy, and use it in complete assignments by tonight-even if you'be never used a corrputer before.
2. You don't hrwe to mperk ornputerese.

 ticur curoy.
3. Tou don't hive to be a compuler ust plug everping (the "on" switch, and you're ready to roll.
4. Hisgbryaze to eopy information

Torcap thischart
monti use the dre Capr command

3. Alf Memintosh progrems work lon the tarme wiy.
Learn to use one Macintosh program, and vo've learned the basics of using them all. For example, the commands you use, such open, Close, Copy, Paste, Save, Gut, Print. and Undo. are found in the same paceevery thme.

6. It can grow with you.

This beek you're majoring in philosophy, sext week it's nuclear physics. After all, no one knows exactly what the future will bring. That's thy millions of students have found that investing in a Macintosh is a smart move. Because Macuitosh can immediately help you do whatever you do-better. And if, come tomorrow, you find that you want to do something different, no problem. It's easy to upgrade your Maciniosh oo heip you rise to the challenge.
7. It's great for coltege and beyond. Doing your sork faster, berter, and more creatively is alsoa plus comparties:
8. H'E pot conrwetlons.

To connect a printer, a modem, an external hard disk, or just about any other peripheral to a Macintosh, simply plug it in. That's all there is to it.

9. It lets you work with others.

Every Macintosh is equipped with an Apple SuperDrive; a unique floppy disk drive that can use not only Macintosh disks, but also MS-DOS and OS/2 disks created on IBHI and IEvicornpatible computers. With SoftPC from Insignia Solutions. you can even run MS-DOS applications on suur Macinuosh.
10. Pe's 90 easy to networt Jusi connect the Localtilk calbe from one Macintush to another Maxintosh. It takes just a fow minutes, and yoru don't have to buy any additional harduare or softrare.
11. Your ean cormect to your ceisoot's maintiane or minhlcomperter.
With Macintorh, you can send in assignments. gin access io software you need for a class and receive kecture notes, chass schedules. and other informationright from your own room.

12. It's more affordable than ever.Macintosh prices have never beei ، iowerespecially with the student pricing available from your anthorized Apple campus reseller. you mave eve qualify for financing atich makes ALacintoxh even more aftordable.

These reasons all add up to the power of Macintoxh. The power to be your best:

CHANCES ARE YOU MAY ALREADY KNOW US!

WE HIRE, TRAIN AND PROMOTE SYRACUSE GRADS!

| PAULA VAZOUEZ | 1991 |
| :--- | :--- |
| ELIZABETHNEWKIRK | 1991 |
| AMYROBERTS | 1991 |
| STACIE SEVIGNY | 1991 |
| MATTHEH MCADAM | 1991 |
| JOHN FOLIGNO | 1991 |
| BILLSHEEHAN | 1991 |
| JAOUIMGLAINE | 1991 |
| GWENFENIGSTEIN | 1991 |
| DAVIDRICH | 1991 |
| KIMBERLYROSS | 1990 |
| STEPHENGLOU | 1990 |
| TOMCOLVER | 1990 |
| DAVIDTRIOMPO | 1990 |
| PETER MUHIE | 1990 |
| ELLEN STUTMAN | 1990 |
| JONATHANCOHEN | 1990 |
| NICOLE CASTEL | 1990 |
| TALAYIABARKSDALE | 1990 |
| EL!ZABETHPOLLEY | 1990 |

| DANA EISENBERG | 1990 |
| :--- | :--- |
| LIAS YOUNG | 1990 |
| LISA CHARON | 1990 |
| PAULMARCIIAND | 1990 |
| TRACEYTAJBL | 1989 |
| BRENDA GARTER | 1989 |
| PINNYBOURDEAL | 1989 |
| SIANNON WILSON | 1989 |
| DIANNE BERKOWITZ | 1989 |
| ANNE FATH | 1989 |
| LISA WAINIO | 1989 |
| MARTY KERSTEIN | 1988 |
| STEVEN SEZNA | 1988 |
| SIHWN SMITH | 1988 |
| SALLYRUBIN | 1988 |
| MARGARETMCCARTY | 1988 |
| JEFFREY COMANICI | 1988 |
| GREGNICKETT | 1988 |
| JONATHONFOX | 1988 |
| ROBIN BLUMAN | 1988 |

|  |  |
| :--- | :--- |
| NATALIE GRECZANICK | 1988 |
| STACEY BERG | 1987 |
| SUSAN STERN | 1987 |
| IACAEYN BINDER | 1987 |
| STACEY KONOWITZ | 1987 |
| IVYBOGEN | 1987 |
| SUSAN GARVEY | 1987 |
| TINA MCCUSKER | 1986 |
| DEBRA HENRY | 1985 |
| KAREN SHULMAN | 1985 |
| ROBERT LUGARI | 1985 |
| ARLENE OUINTANS | 1985 |
| ANNESTANLEY | 1984 |
| MARCIA FIDDLE | 1984 |
| MAURA CASHMAN | 1984 |
| PETIT JEANGOODMAN | 1962 |
| ELIEN LISTER | 1982 |
| KATHYSCARRY | 1981 |
| MARKWHITINO | 1981 |
| AMY KURENS | 1981 |

| NANCY CAHILL | 1980 |
| :--- | :--- |
| JEFFREY ZONA | 1979 |
| THOMAS HAYES | 1979 |
| MICHAEL ZHLUN: | 1979 |
| ANTHONY GRAZIOSI | 1979 |
| DEBRA BROCKMAN | 1978 |
| CIRISTOPHER LAMBE | 1978 |
| DEBRA ANSALDO | 1977 |
| HOWARDZUCKERMAN | 1977 |
| RONA METERKO | 1976 |
| JACKIE GAVIN | 1976 |
| GONNIE KERCH | 1975 |
| BRIAN KECK | 1975 |
| SUSANGRIFFITH | 1973 |
| CLAIRE GURMAN | 1972 |
| LISACOLES | 1969 |
| STEVENSUGAR | 1968 |
| JOANN MILIER | 1952 |
| CHARLESFEIGELSON | 1949 |

WHY DO SO MANY SYRACUSE GRADS JOIN THE MAY DEPARTMENT STORES COMPANY? Leaders in the retail industry
Nationally recognized Executive Training Program
Very Competitive Salaries
Promotions based on performance
FALL AND SPRING RECRUITING FOR POSITIONS AT:
Lord & Taylor, New York City * Filene's, Boston * Kaufmann's, Pittsburgh
Find out more about MAY at the Syracuse Career Fair, October 3rd.

ADVEIRTMSING SAKES ASSESTANT

We're looking for a reliable student to fill the position of Advertising Sales Assistant. The person must be able to work from 10:30 am until 1:30 pm, Monday through Friday. The position entails backing-up the sales staff and performing some telemarketing activities. This is a 744 Dstrom Ave $8: 30$ am - 4280 pm paid position.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Is now accepting letters of intent for the following positions

FINANCE BOARD (5 seats) $\underset{* \text { must be }}{\text { BA }}$ ( ${ }^{1}$ and have access to a car

YOUR STUDENT FEE AT WORK

(H) Who Will Be Mr. Fling 1991??

AXת 6 Annual Frisbee Fling Mr. Fling Contest Wednesday, October 2 Proceeds to Cystic Fibrosis

WENA

Continued from Page 1 attracting more patrons and the problems they bring," she said. "WENA took a stand against that city hall zoning variation, and we lost," she said.
"There is a connection between the seven owners of the Orange Grove and city hall," she said. "It is very apparent the decision was made before the vote.

Harrison said WENA is also addressing voting rights for students, radioactive waste burning at Upstate Medical Center and police foot patrols.
"We have always invited students to our meetings," she said "Students come to meetings for one reason or another, either a break-in or a parking problem that affects them as a resident.'
"There was a group of students doing a study on crime and they used our neighborhood as a sample," she said.
"After they broke down the statisticsblock-by-block, several watch groups were formed and are still going, she said.
"All of WENA's dealings have been with students," she said. "The university won't deal with us in an official capacity.
"WENA sends fliers out to students, letting them know the basic laws regarding parking and garbage," Harrison said

Hartison said the group does not act as a coalition to shut down parties in the neighborhood.
"The police say parties are not the most important thing they have to address and they say they won't come," she said.
"Police shutting down parties is not the solution," she said. "We want students to think they are investing in the neighborhood."
Harrison said "WENA wants to achieve a high quality of life that is possible with the help of students."

WENA is concerned about the status of Taps Restaurant/ Bar she said.
"It upsets me very much that they can propose to do something and then turn around and not do it." a Syracuse resident said.

She said "WENA is not in favor of revoking Taps license with the understanding that they have a restaurant in operation: fix their vents; eliminate live entertainment; and make it look like a restaurant."
"We appreciate the changes that have occurred." she said. "But we would like to express our displeasure about the state of the bar after we had the understanding it would be a restaurant.
"The bar operators are part of the community, and they have shown a willingness to comply," a Syracuse resident said.
"The bottom line is we have two full-fledged bars in our neighborhood," she said.
"We also have pizaa places that serve alcohol until 3 a.m.," she said.
"WENA is conducting a survey in our neighborhood to find out if there is a need for an automatic teller machine nearby," Harrison said.
"We have gathered more than 800 names in order to approach local banks about putting in an ATM on Westcott Street." she said.
WENA will hold its next meeting Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. in the Petit Library on Victoria Place off Westcott Street.

ORDER OF OMEGA

(you know... that Greek Honor Society)

General meeting for all members

Monday, October 7

8 p.m. - Hall of Languages 105

Tales of a married couple living in war-torn Salvador.

Entertainment

TAPPERS Movies  The Hollywood Reporter reports

 the Top 10 movies last weekend as: 1.The Fisher King2. Necessary Roughness
3.Deceived

4-Freddy's Dead: The Final Nightmare
5.Dead Again
6. Late For Dinner
7.Terminator 2: Judgment Day
8.Doc Hollywood
9. Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves
10.Rambling Rose

TV Shows  The A.C. Nielsen Co. reports the Top 10 television shows for the week ending Sept. 29 as:

1. Roseanne
2. Cheers
3. Murphy Brown
4. Designing Wornen
5. 60 Minutes
6. Major Dad
7. NBC Monday Night Movie: Wild Texas Wind
8. Evening Shade
9. Full House
10. Home Improvement

[8]Singles  Billbonrd reports the Top 10 pop

 singles for the week ending Sept. 29 as: 1. IAdore Mi Amorel Color Me Badd 2. Good Vibrations/ Marky Mark & The Funky Bunch with Loleatta Holboway3. Motownphilly BoyziI Men
4. Emotions/ Mariah Carey
5. Love of a Lifetimel Firehouse
6. Things That Make You Go Fmmmm .../C & C Music Factory with Freedorn Williams, Zelma Davis
7. Time, Love and Tenderness/ Michael Bolton
8. Do Anything/ Natural Selection 9. Sornething to Talk About Bonnie Saitt
9. Shiny Happy People/ R.E.M.

Albums

:Billboard reports the Top 10 pop alburns for the week ending Sept. 29 as:

1. Ropin' the Wind/ Garth Brooks 2. Metalical Metallica
2. Unforgettable/ Natalie Cole
3. C.M.B. $/$ Color Me Badd
4. Luck of the Draw/ Bonnie Raitt 6. Cooleyhighharmony/ Boyz II Men 7. Gonna Make You Sweat C & C Music Factory
5. Time, Love and Tenderness/ Michael Bolton
6. Out of Time/ R.E.M.
7. Roll the Bones/ Rush

HolBooks

The New York Times reports the Top 5 fiction books for the week ending Sept. 29 as:

1. The Sum of AII Fears/ Tom Clancy 2. The Doomsday Conspiracy/ Sidney Sheldon
2. Saint Maybe/ Anne Tyler
3. Flowers in the Rain/ Rosamunde Pitcher
4. The Firm/ John Grisham

Mickey Mouse congratulates conductor Leopold Stowkowski in Walt Disney's Fantasia, which will soon be available on video.

'Fantasia' to debut on video

By ROB OWEN

Assf. Lifestyle Editor
The Walt Disney Co. is notorious for its intense advertising and marketing efforts when selling a product. Consumeri are about to be deluged with more Disneyana as the company releases old favorite Fantasia on video and a new concept video. Simply Mad About the Mouse.
Now 51 years young, Walt Disney's classic Fantasia will make its video classic Fantasia will make its video debut Nov. 1 for a limited 50 -day selling debut Nov. 1 for a limited 50 -day selling period. After that, the original Fantasia will never be seen again, according to the Disney corporation

In 1997 Disney will release Fantasia Continued theatrically. This new version will contain some of the segments found in the original as well as several new pieces of animation set to music. But the type of music is still uncertain. Disney representatives have indicated that classical music may not be used in the new sections, with more rodern music taksections, with ing its place.

This re-working of Fantasia is in keeping with Walt Disney's hope that Fantasia become a living film that would change as it grew older. In 1941, Disney said, "It is our intention to make a version of Fantasia every year. We would keep adding to it and change the program just like the ballet does."

> Beasts in the ballet include a prancing hippopotamus and a graceful alligator, stepping to the strains of Amilcare Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours" in Walt Disney's Fantasia.

But this dream was not realized during Disney's lifetime. When Fantasia premiered, it was viewed as a flop by audiences and critics alike, according to The Making of a Masterpiece, a documentary about Fantasia. Hosted by L.A. mentary about Fantasia. Hosted by L.A. Law's Michael Tucker and made for the Disney Channel in conjunction with the film's 50th anniversary re-release last year, the hour-long documentary looks at the making of Fantasia and includes interviews with animators who worked on the movie.
Making of a Masterpiece also includes scenes that were deleted from Fantasia and later appeared in another Disney film, Make My Music.

The Disney Store at Carousel Center offers more than the Fantasia products. See the profile of the store that aims to entertain you on Page 12

Fantasia is being released on video in several formats. The standard version is simply the video, which will sell for $$ 24.99$ or $$ 19.99$ if ordered from the Disney Store at Carousel center before Oct. 28. A deluxe edition is also being offered that includes the video, the double compact dise soundtrack, a copy of Making of a Masterpiece, a full-color commemorative book, a certificate of authenticity signed by Roy Disney and a commemorative lithograph. The deluxe edition costs $$ 89.99$ if ordered at the Disney Store before Oct. 28, and $$ 99.99$ thereafter.

Both versions of Fantasia will also be offered on laserdisc for $$ 39.99$ and $$ 99.99$, respectively. The deluxe laserdisc also includes a theatrical trailer from Fantasia's original 1940 release.

Billy Joel in animation
Disney's newest video offering is Simply Mad About the Mouse and features top recording artists doing their own renditions of classic Disney songs.

Michael Bolton sings "A Dream Is a Wish Your Heart Makes" from Cinderella. Harry Connick Jr. jazzes up a big band production number of "The Bare See DISNEY Page 10

'Sweeney Todd' slashes into town  Before I go any further, let me preface this by saying

Sweeney Todd, the extraordinary Stephen Sondheim musical now playing at Salt City, is not Oklahoma or The Sound of Music.
Most of the main characters have had their throats slashed ERIC
GRODE
THEATER
REVIEW and/or been eaten by the end of the play and the two protagonists are completely amoral.

Nearly every song includes atonal, dissonant passages, and the few melodic passages usually accompany a murder. But despite these factors or perhaps because of them - Sweeney Todd is a powerful, moving, hilarious yet chilling musical, one of the best ever written.
Salt City's production takes few chances. Many of the Salt City regulars (Joseph Lotito, Bob Brown, Frank Fiumano) have roles, and the staging is nearly identical to Harold Prince's 1979 Broadway staging.
But that is understandable. The show itself is so innovative and risk-taking that sticking to what worked in the past makes sense.
One of the great strengths of Sweeney Tbdd is the fact that the somber, brooding Todd (Brown) and broad, almost caricature-like Mrs. Lovett (Jeanine Pugh) can share the stage without any sense of incongruity.

Both Brown and Pugh are superb. Brown's angst and Pugh's cheeriness play off each other flawlessly, and their vocal passages reveal new layers to their characters, making them sympathetic and hateful at the same time.

This is absolutely essential, as the play is almost through-sung and requires performers who can both act and sing. Brown and Pugh excel in both, especially in, respectively. "Epiphany" and "Wait."

With a show this dark in theme, it is easy to forget how funny some passages are. Perhaps the best example of this is Brown and Pugh's duet, "A Little Priest," which ends Act I and immediately follows Brown's harrowing soliloquy. "Epiphany."

The song, extremely dark in humor, compares how people in various occupations taste.

The actor "always arrives overdone," the piccolo player" is piping hot" and the general is available "with or without his privates.
The supporting cast is less solid. Tony Yadzinski sings beautifully, but his acting is tentative and awkward.

See SWEENEY Page 10

DISNEY

Continued from Page 9

Necessities" from The Jungle Book, Billy Joel gives a blues interpretation of "When You Wish Upon a Star" from Pinocchio and the Gipsy Kings perform a flamenco-pop rendition of "I've Got No Strings," also from Pinocchio.
LL Cool J raps his way through "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" from The Three Little Pigs, Bobby MeFerrin brings his distinctive singing style to the "Siamese Cat Song" style to the "Siamese Cat Song" from Lady and the Tramp, Ric

Ocrober 2. 1991

Ocasek delivers a rockin' version of "Zip A Dee Doo Dah" from Song of the South and Soul II Soul offers a reggae rendition of "Kiss the Girl" from The Little Mermaid.

The Disney Home Video version of Simply Mad About the Mouse sells for $$ 19.99$ on the VHS format, and $$ 24.99$ and $$ 29.99$ for laserdise and 8 mm versions, respectively.

Universal appeal
The videos feature an array of animation and live action. Billy Joel's "When You Wish Upon a Star" mixes animation and live action much like A-Ha's Take on Me," while Harry Connick Jr.'s mostly live-action video includes animation similar to Who Framed Roger Rabbit. These diverse music videos are designed to appeal to children and adults alike.

A cassette and compact disc of the new recordings have also been released by Columbia Records.

With both Fantasia and Simply Mad About the Mouse in stores for the holiday season, Disney merchandise seems destined to again be a favorite stocking stuffer.

SWEENEY

Continued from Page 9
On the other hand. Mary Elizabeth Rea's tragic beggar woman and Joseph N. Lotito's villainous Judge Turpin have strong stage presence but are less effective when singing.

Bryan Dano seems a few years too old for the part of the youthful Toby, but he creates a sympathetic portrayal and delivers one of the show's finest numbers, "Not While I'm Around."

The choral ensemble tackles the extremely difficult music quite skillfully. Richard Madden, Joe O'Keefe and Thomas Zurnchak provideone of Sweeney soarin many hight the first act.

The rest of the technical credits match up with the performances. As I said before, the set and lighting designs make up in impact what they lack in originality. A central rotating cube houses much of the action, doubling as several different
Most of the visual effects are unnervingly realistic, especially some of the gory murders.

Flaws in sound systern
The only real problem with the show involved the sound system. Microphones frequently phased in and out, and entire sections of songs were drowned out by the orchestra.

In a show like Sweeney Tbdd. understanding the lyrics is vital, and nearly all of "Pirelli's Miracle Elixir," for example, was unintelligible.

That, along with a couple memorization problems, can be blamed on opening night jitters, however. Hopefully, these have improved by now.

If and when these errors are corrected, this production of Sweeney Todd could be a great one.

For now, it will just have to be content with being an ex tremely good one.
"Sweeney Todd" will run at the Salt City Center for the Performing Arts, 601 S . Crouse Pertorming Arts, 601 S. Crouse
Ave, on weekends until Oct. 13. Ave, on weekends until Oct. I3. For more information,

F.Y.I.

Russian choir

seeks members

 The Syracuse University Rus-sian A Cappella Choir is looksian A Cappella Choir is looking for singers from the student ing for singers from the body, staffand faculty.
No experience is req
No experience is required to join. The words to all songs are transcribed phonetically.

The choir will present its repertoire of Russian folk songs in Hendricks Chapel and at Wells and Hobart Colleges during the 1991-92 concert season.

Rehearsalsare held every Monday at 7 p.m. in Room 107 of the Hall of Languages.

Marketing students vie for scholarship

The Point-of-Purchase Advertising Institute (POPAI) has announced a marketing scholarship competition for sophomores, juniors and seniors.
Participants will be asked to integrate point-of-purchase ( $\mathrm{P}-\mathrm{O}$ P) materials into a marketing program for a hypothetical line of baby toiletry products with "real life" marketing objectives and constraints.

A $$ 1,250$ first-prize scholarship, along with second and third prizes of $$ 500$ and $$ 250$, will be awarded.

Deadline for entry is Dec. 13, 1991. For more information or an official entry form, contact Ronit Bialer at (201) 894-8899.

'Cave Canem'  seeks writers

Cave Canem, the newsletter of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, is looking for writers.

Meetings are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m. in Room 301 of Crouse College. Articles can also be submitted to 208 Crouse.

For more information, call JoAnna at 443-2517.

Education hot line

is established
Counselors from the Education Information Center are offering free counseling at local libraries on a one-time basis for up to 40 minutes- Interested people can update their resumes, talk about job hunting skills, practice interview techniques and research classes and courses.

Call the Education Hotline at $488-4633$ to make an appointment.

BIG RED

Continued from Page 20
Young's tally was the only one, until Eric Puls sealed the victory for the Orangemen, 5-4, scoring with 45 seconds left in the game.

Foti said the Orangemen shouldn't rely on Young to score spectacular goals on a regular basis.
"If he doesn't do that, we're in a dog fight. left and right," Foti said. "I didn't think we Foti said. "I Sarachan said if you discount Young's goal, the game was played even.
"If Young doesn't score, it's an overtime game," Sarachan said. "We probably would have got out of here with a point."
The Young goal was one of only two Orangemen shots in the first half.

Cornell didn't fare much better with only four first half shots.

Foti said he was pleased with the way the SU defenders guarded Cornell's top player, Felix Mathien, who was held without a shot.
"I think Richard Alexander did a great job on (Mathieu)," Foti said. "He was on him as well as Franz Calixte. "I think (Mathieu) was their danger. personally."

SU defender Chris Wright took charge of the stingy Orangemen defense which forced goalie Steve Pollnow to make only one save.
${ }^{\text {"I }}$ I don't think I've been (vocal) enough this year" Wright said. "I'm not the captain this year, and I think that was holding me back from taking a leader ship role on the field
"Now I tried the best I could to help the guys get motivated and do everything we could to stay in the garne.'

Cornell's Nat Grew had a Orangemen still have problems. strong opportunity to tie the "We teach them to do things game with 6:40 left in the in certain situations, and if they second half, but couldn't put the go unmentioned for more than ball past a diving Pollnow. two days people forget them. Foti said he was happy with Foti said. "People forget the a 2-0 shutout victory, but the simple things - the dirty work."

Local artwork

 shown at Schine The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in October.The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Finally, going to college can save you some money.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT
SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

This of ter is avadable io expres December 31, 1991. BMM and PS/2 aro regrsterod tracornarks of hiternational Business Mactimes Corporation o 1991 IEMA Corp

It's a mall world after all

By barbara davies
Staff Writer
The sights and sounds of the world of Disney are now as close as the Carousel Mall. The mall's new Disney Store is one of 20 new Disney Store is one of 20 new Disney stores that will new Disney stores that will open around the country this open
Not only can shoppers pick up almost any kind of Disney merchandise, but they can also check out the store just for the atmosphere, says Debbie. Bohnett, the Disney Store's manager of marketing and promotions.
"This store is based on the entertainment business, so entertaining is the whole idea, says Bohnett.

After shoppers are greeted at the door by the store's official greeter, they encounter Plush Mountain Bohnett says "It"s whole display of sturted whole display of stured ani mals, and of course kids want to dive right into it, which we et them do.
And keeping adults interested in the store is no problem either, Bohnett says.
*Adults might be reminded of the first Disney strip or cartoon they saw," says Bohnett. The adults also come in to buy videos for their kids, or to add to their collections. They might come in to buy watches.'

Expensive 'Mermaid'
There are more than 100 stores in the country right now, Bohnett says, all of which carry similar merchandise.

Prices range from a dollar, for small toys and souvenirs, to $$ 3000$ for collectible and limited edition merchandise. In August., the chain sold animated cels

Mickey and Minnie Mouse embrace in front of parents and children at Carousel Center Iast month. The famous cartoon characters were there to celebrate the opening of the Disney Store.
(painted frames of a cartoon) from The Little Mermaid.

New in the Disney Store lineup this fall will be 101 Dalmations slippers that bark every time the wearer takes a step. "They're for adults," Bohnett says.

The chain's Christmas theme will be "A Merry Mickey Christmas," which will have overtones of the NutcrackerSuite, Bohnett says.

For that campaign, the chain plans to sell talking Mickey and Minnie Mouse watches. "You push the hands and the watch says, 'Hello, I'm Mickey' and it tells you the time, and then it says 'Goodbye,' "Bohnett explains.

She expects the watches to garner a lot of interest. "We've already had calls from blind people who say they've never Sée STORE Page 13

*PLUS CLOCK SHOT SPECIALS

Smithereens return with similar album

The Smithereens:
Blow Up
The Smithereens plod along a predictable path with the release of Blow Up, an album full of three-chord guitar rock and so-so pop lyrics with underlying popmelodies.
Blow Up follows 11 , the KRISTIN band's first LIEB THIS AIN'T gold al gold al earned a four star reNO DISCO Rolling Stone and prow from band's first Top 40 hit. "A Girl Like You."

This record picks up where 11 left off. "Top of the Pops" has already hit the Top Ten of Billboard'salternative chartand "Girl in a Room" recalls "Blues Before and After."

Most of the remaining songs could have been placed on any of the band's former records without seeming out of place.

There are, however, three points of departure from the typical Smithereens formula These include "Too Much Pas sion,"a light melodic song in the tradition of Smokey Robinson's "One Heartbeat" and "If You Sun To Shine," a song that takes Juiian Lennon away from nis solo career and puts his talents to better use as a Smith ereens songwriter.

Lennor's solo material may be wretched and unlistenable but his work on Lenny Kravitz's Mama Said and The Smithereens' Blow Up serves as his redemption for past errors.
"Indigo Blues" also represents an atypical shift on this record of uniformity. Los Lobos Steve Berlin provides the one man saxophone section on this mellow rhythm and blues cut and guitarist and vocalist Jim Babjak's two-and-a-half-year old son sings at the end of the song.

The Smithereens formed 11 years ago and they still sound the same. You could call this boring, but it beats the often inevitable alternative - explor

have your own  KARAOKE NIGHT

AT HOME, CLUB. CHURCH OR SCHOOL WITH

SOUND CHOICE ${ }^{\circ}$

QUALITY SING-ALONG

 TAPESFoaturing Pop/Rock, Country. Jazz. Gospel. Wedding. Holiday. andChildren's Musical Selections Made Popular By Your Favorihe Recording Artists.

Avallable At:
Reeard Thearne 3130 Erie Bivd. East Dewltt, NY 13214
Phone: (315) 449-0251

ing new territory and losing what it was that made them great.
Peter Himmelman: From Strength to Strength
Peter Himmelman's got the important stuff down; now. all he needs is a break.
Hirnmelman and fellow underappreciated singer Graham Parker are in the same boat.

Both have voices and lyrics which, at their best, rival those of Elvis Costello. But both lack the notoriety.

Both have been around for more than a decade and have received critical acclaim (Himmelman was selected by Billboard's critics as having one of the best 10 records of 1989 with Synesthesia), but neither has won real airplay or a vast audiwon $\begin{aligned} & \text { rence. }\end{aligned}$

Peter Himmelman's luck may be looking up. He recently be looking up He recently changed record labels and his new home, Epic, is sure to win new home, Epic, is sure to win him some publicity. him some publicity.

Himmelman is another angry young man who uses minimalist music (often only a guitar) and lyrics to express his discontent. The result is pareddown, honest-sounding folksy music with bite.

Predictable is the word of the year for the Smithereens.
"Women With The Strength of 1,000 Men" and "Love of Midnight" recall Etvis Costello in his early days, when the words did the talking and the music was irrelevant. In the fused into one/When the knots offrustration are finally undonef When all hatred and shame have vanished from sight/I will love you with the love of midnight."
This Ain't No Disco is published each Wednesday in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY CAREER FAIR '91 GOLDSTEIN AUDITORIUM SCHINE CENTER

OCTOBER 3, 1991-10:00am - 7:00pm

ALL STUDENTS WELCOME!

AON Corporation

Abraham & Scraus
American Management Association
Andersen Consulting
Armstrong World Industries
Bankers Trust
Becker CPA Course Review
Bencficial Management Corporation
Bergmann Associates
Calocerinos & Spina
Central Intelligence Agency
Chase Manhattan Bank
City of Rochester - Dept. of Environmental Services
Continental Insurance Company
Continental Investors
Coopers & Lybrand
Cooper Industries
Corning Inc.
Dannible & McKee
Deloitte & Touche
Dow Coming Corporation
Emst & Young
Exel Logistics - Dedicated Dist.
Express
F.B.I.

Fay's Incorporated
Federal Deposit Insurance Company
First Empire State Corporation - M & T Bank
GTE Gov't Systems - Communications Systems Div.
General Dynamics - Electric Boar Division
General Electric Company
Health Services Associates
IBM
IDS Financial Services
Intel Corporation
Internal Revenue Service - Buffaio, N.Y.
Internal Revenue Service - Washington, D.C.
International Paper
KPMG Peat Marwick
Linens 'n Things
Marion Merrell Dow
May Company
Mead Corporation
Merck & Co.. Inc
Sponsored by the Schools and Colleges of Syracuse University and the S.U. Placement Center.
Merck. Sharp & Dohme
Miller Brewing Company
NBC
NCR - Engineering & Manufacturing - San Diego
Naval Air Development Center
New York State Deparment of Transportation
New York State Electric & Gas
New York State Troopers
Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.
Nordstrom
Norstar Bank of Central New York
Northwestern Financial Svcs - The Gilberg Agerty
Northwestern Mutal Life - The Konrad Agency
O'Brien & Gere Engincers, Inc.
Park Ridge Hospital
Pfizer, Inc. - New York
Prizer, Inc. - New Jersey
Pizza Hut of America. Inc. - Liverpool. N.Y.
Price Waterhouse
Procter & Gamble Company, The
Prudential. The, AARP Operations
Radio Shack
Richard A. Eisner & Company
Roadway Package Systems
Saks Fifth Avenue
Stanley H. Kaplan Education Center
Stern's Executive Office
Student Painters
Syracuse Newspapers. The
Times Leader. The
Toyota Motor Sales, USA, Inc.
Travelers Companies. The
U.S. Air Force
U.S. General Accounting Office
U.S. Peace Corps
UTCACartier Corporation
University Data Systems
Utica National Insurance Group
Versyss. Incorporated
Wal-Man Stores, Inc.
Wegman's Food & Phammacy
Works Corporation
Xerox

THIS EVENING THE STUDENTS

OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY WILL BE ORGANIZING AN

ACADEMIC FORUM WITH

CHANCELOR SHAW

OCTOBER 2, 1991
7:00 PM - HL 214
UBE-SGA-GOLDEN KEY-PHI KAPPA PHI YOUR STUDENT FEE MAKING A BETTER SCHOOL

STORE

Continued from Page 12

been able to have a watch before. It's great."

Although the stores are fun for everyone, they are different from the Disney theme parks, Bohnett says. The stores don't carry Disney World or Disney Land T-shirts, for example.
But beginning this fall, the chain will run a special carnpaign to co-ordinate with the opening date of Europe's first Disney park, Eurodisney, opening near Paris in April.
The Disney Store is as enter-tainment-oriented as the theme parks, however.

People who work at the store are not called employes they're "cast members." The selling foor is "the stage," the stockroom is "backstage" and, stockroom is "backstage' snd, Bohnett adds, We,
we 'put on a show.'
Fun is of the utmost importance at the Disney Store, and the goal is to keep all customers (who are called "guests") thoroughly entertained, Bohnett says. "It's for the kid in everyone."

F.Y.I.

Hughes fellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 predoctoral fellowships in the biological sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov. 8.

The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.

Effective June 1992, stipends will be $14,000 annually. For more information, call (202) 334-2872.

Tutors sought by
Salvation Army
The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of academic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teenage pregnancy.

The tutors are needed Monday. Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Volunteers work in one-onone or small-group settings to assist students with hornework assignments and remedial work.

A commitment of one night
ach week is reguired.
ach week is reguired.
Volunteers are also invited to participate in the recreation period that follows tutoring.

For more information, call Mary Rose McBride at 479 1321.

Study abroad stipend offered

Applications for the second annual American Institute for Foreign Study College Division Minority Scholarship for the fall of 1992 are now being accepted.

The scholarship includes tuition and noom and board. It is applicable to programs in Austria, Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Mexico and Spain.

Applications for the scholarApplications for the scholarship will be accepted from blacks, ship will be accepted from blacks, Hispanics, American Indians, Hispanics, Amencan Indians, Asian-Americans and Pacific Is-Asian-A. landers.
anders.
Applications and more information are available by writing: Minority Scholarship Selection Committee, Attn.: Anne Decker, AIFS. 102 Greenwich Ave.. Greenwich. Conn., 06830. Intercsted people may also call 4800 ) 727-2437. ext. 6106.

SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

GYPSY THE DOG

KRYSTAL SYNN

BY JASON LYCETTE

BY METZEI

GOTTA HAVE FAITH BY ARNOLD

ARSTRACT LOGIC BY BOBERT

To decrease the probabllity that a terrorist will bring a bomb on the plane. Kyle brings his own.
ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM
now. whatever you do. dorit open the closet!

| no |
| :--- |
| do |
|  |

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DAKY ORANGE CLASSIFED AD PFocepile $\mathbf{5 2 5 0}$ to the tirsd 15 morss:
 botd word, se extra tor aach CAPITALZED wort DEADUNE: $2 \mathrm{qm}, ~ 2$ businass day in worth DE

Notices

INTEARACIAL COUPLE GROUP: FOTUM for sharng pys and pairs, stralegies to deal winh
 PREMARIAL cOUPLE GROUP: COuplo

Coriact Dr. Kemmeth Harry at 443 -3023).
ACTOF AND ACTRESS NEEDED Graduate Filt
 mportant than sxperverce. Gill 423-5466 PEASONAL CONSTRUCT PSYCHOLOGY: IntEI estact in contact with persons acquartod with Gacrgo Kalley's personal consinumt psychology and theery. Pigase call $446-1262$.

Hormback Rid (315)696-8169

MAISE $$ 500$. $$ 1000$. $$ 15000$ : FOOLPROOF FUnothen Sivic. For your fratemury, sorerty, team

 950-6672, ext 50
STA PI UPSRON Members dent miss aur first meatugy Wednesday. 102 at $9+10$ in HL1 15

FOR SALE

Autos

1989 DODGE Snadow- 20.000 mias, standard tramsmission, 422 -2068days: 446-1524inghts. Minsunuistri Precis for sale. "88" $25,000 \mathrm{mi}$ Asking \$12.800. Call X-0789. 4-speed, poced condition.
1983 Chevtolor Cavalier Wagon standard body: great. nurs oxcailert Now: brakes. shocks, rack.
Rich $428-8038$.

Misc. For Sale
Triets: Funcers us. Syracuse a1 Gam Stadum 50

$10 t$ minos avary Wednesday, 6-10pm, Drirk
Specials. Orange Gre Specias. Orange Grove, 505 Westion Street 471 .
1143 . 1143.

For Sale 1 munctrip lickat tram Syeracse to Miann. Flunda, Decamber 19th $251 \mathrm{~h}, \mathrm{~s} \mathbf{5 0 0}$ firm. Call 656 . 2564.

Ex. Cond. Casio Mamary wrter 5100 . Nordica Ski boors (siz97). W35, Mitubiric Cay Soreo win

EMPLOYMENT

Seeking Anvacive Bar Arbnctants No Expenence Niosnssary. Widingress To toarn. Call Batmana At 471.9875 For Appoiriment

Enturptaing Inclivituaks Niended! Tertice pepor. tunty to eam extra wash Call to dolats. 5220695 teave message.
FAST CASH, SHOAT SHIFTS Jom the Cariar Dome hawker statl. Bring home $s$ the same day you work. For infer. call Rob 443 -4029.
PA tor 7 talented FayMan hs women (ABC orogram) supervise and tutor. Roorn and board 682.9743 ather 500 pm .

WANTED

Help Wanted

Hodety-Gits, Giysl marmannanal Hair Design Team coming to Syracuse. Free hairtits. procucts. ec: 1-800-333-4593.
Thavel free: Sall Spring dreak Trips to jamaca Cancint. Byrimas Margria isand. Best commuscors pace Sin solash Tours. 1, $600-426-7710$.
Travel Saless Representarivas: STS. Ahd ieatcor in eoilogiute raval neods monnated mintivduals and groups to promete Wraet/ Spring Erazs isps. For more itiomation call Studom Travel Services, thaxi, NY et 1-800-648-4849.
"Xnew Bolone You Go." whare to work, ive and ski Troe in Cabrado's rasorts. Currath Guidd to Aspen 788.5174 .

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS to students or student organizations promating our Spring Ereak Packages. Call CM1 1-800-423-5264

Campus Represoncatives Neoded Eam tree trip and big commissions by seling cacurl, mexica. of more whemaiton tan 100 1790 at i-800-755

Roommates

Nor-Smoting Grad Siudent Seoking Same To

 Sharg 2 borm Flat Collancistot Ave 5250 475514ONE BEDRCOU, waking distanca, tocated al Walrull and Madsion. Two made seniors need one more person. S200 $682-5130$.

Misc. Wanted

Warned: Hagaxines- Nawswerm, Lfe, S., Rosing Sione. ax. Dont akow shem onf For picine fite. 7ant, 425-5248

FOR RENT

Apartments

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: SUUDio apt zGRAD STUDENTS WANYED: Sludio apt 2building taknery room. No pots Comer of Comstock & Madison 535-5322, & 45-3537ieves
2. Bedreom sower hat. Euchid neaf Westithl.
 5540.682 .8823

FAll a SPPRING accepurig Senror & Graduate male 8 lemal student to yal soveral 4borm mosot 320.00 . Desinnermphake mosel 532500 . and Stanclan Sus. These aparments are tizand ex. cellort is block walk ing location and are nicely furnishect wath beds, desks, drassars and fivigroom furniture Call 673 -1344 for a troice studert apt Unlversity Ave. Furnichod 3 bedroom flat; haundry. Leasa, securicy deposin, $$ 82500$ plus urilities
 One Momath Frow Rent 3 bedroom ona block from 446.959 a AVALABLE TOOAV ONEE TWO BEDROOW APAFTMENTS. Kitchen. ivingroom, batroon, bedroomis). parking burciry, utdias inckuled 5420.5485 msse Cell Mars $8.30-400,443-2587$. Ons bedrom hat, garge incuctod. CIt: daye $1471-3213$; Eveninges / $685-8457$.

UNNERSITY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDROON UNTS: Shyre kitchen, bath Furished, heated close to campus $$ 250-$ 950$ Cumbiv. Nice PRIVATE GURNISHED STUOO APARTMENTS Very close. Secure, Quiet. Carpered. Air Apps.
Agarment for rent. ourder Univarsity. Three pedrooms. livingroom. Kitchen, dinangroom. pariving. Ideal for marieal students, grad studerith

Houses

Untwarity twe 5 bedroom hewse ont 5125000

PERSONALS

Toni and Bridget- it's lang overdue but not rorpotien. Thank you tor making nush run pertecth. sers.
AOP. PKA, and PSUU an undpertable 4 way Thanks 4 the fur Lers $\infty$, again socr the simters and plectyes of Aprax Xi Dena
Concras to DPhiE's now plodge exac: Wentyo Kristion, Fectrels. Kity. Stay, Heatherd. Doo Linda Shannom, Jil. Meathers. and Hofy. We love youll Love, the Sisters

DXEE, Thanks for a territic pos concent pany. We're bookrig lonward to nore good inme athead. tove Gamma Pra Beta Siacers. Congras on yout new poshion on the Greei Council Werre realiy proud ol youl Love the Scerers and Pledges of AEFPri.

| STRAWEERRY  I Love You  Please forgive me I'm still lasining  Pasco, Love, and Happlness SONATHAN |
| :---: |

Oave- Zlions, Billons ard Tritors of congratul. tions trom me. Heve a terric semesimin love. Matione.
 thanks for sombing ofor that "git' o coletrest Kellys brital showor. Low sistors and plechas Gamma Phi.

ATO AZD Sigmactio From land to Sea the clant. bake was the place bo be! We all hed an amazing unme. Thasks! Love the Sisters and Pledges of AEPni. ARPM.
Enc and Frask in Siges. Tharks hating our Homacoming the EEST overt You ours are awesomel How about Fritay night? Glad Begs, apor mache? and wammer weather. We'd oo agan aryime! Love Launa ars! dill.

AEf, SDI SgEp. Thanks for the great paryi We tope you prys hact as much tur as wa towe tope you ciys hact as mach fung as wad Low

SERVICES

Does STAT Class Mave You Down? Help is Available. Call Charles Kincaid, $458-5867$ tor TUTORING
Stucens Layns No ncome restrations, LongTamm and Low-truerost avadable

ACNE REUEF: INFORMATION THAT WLL CHANGE YOUN LFE PROVEN EFFECTNE. SEND S3.OD TO SKIN CARE CENTEA. 975 WhSHAGION, ALEANY, NY 12206.
 Purhaswo. Ropairixe PC: VIS. Urix. Call verross best 457.6187 mart

Typing. For all your typing neads. leners. manuscriets, dissenations. eic. Call Ruh Dowey al $652-5814$.

MISC.

Ever been in a Plane? Lha to see Syracued Aduma fron be ar? Call Har 453.7391 .

Australia

Visit the Land Down Under
Boston University
Office of International Programs introduces its new

Sydney Internship Program

Internships available in:
Management, Finance, Economics Media: Journalism, Broadcasting, Film Politics and International Relations

Other programs available in England, France, Greece Israet, flaly, Niger. Spain, and the Soviet Union.
For program details comptete the coupon below and mail to: Boston University International Programs 232 Bay State Roact Boston. MA 02215 617/353-9888

FOR RENT

Safe and Convenient Apartments

- Kitchen -1 & 2 Bedroom Apts. ($420-$485)
-Livingroom
-Bathroom - Utilities Included
- Laundry -Off Street Parking
- Campus Bus Line

ASK FOR MARIE 8:30-4:00 443-2567

(H8N1?  The answer!

Becoming a Sales Rep for The Daily Orange

744 rutrontine:
8:30 = $4 \times 30$, ,

FLANNERY

Continued from Page 20 starting on the team's offensive line alongside pro-bowl selections Mike Munchak and Bruce Matthews.

Flannery has moved from center to right guard in the team's run-and-shoot offense behind AllPro Warren Moon.

Flannery said he is not concerned about the change in positions; rather, he is satisfied with his progress.
"It was important for me to be on the field and make a contribution," Flannery said. "At guard or center, it didn't mat-

Young said he is impressed by Flannery's performance on one of the league's finest lines.

How would you Hke to play for the Syracuse University Basketball team?

BEA coOD WELTHBOR

"In his second and third years he should be ready for regular honors," Young said. "It's a great confidence builder for a rookie to start in this league."

Flannery said he is getting adjusted to his new style of play, but adamantly opposes one aspect of his first season.
"Personally. I don't like the rookie stereotyping." Flannery said. "When it comes to the heat of battle and communicating with your fellow teammates the with your fellow team," Flannery does not aim for any specific opponent or team, but just eagerly awaits his next task.
"Whoever I play against that week." Flannery said. "I don't think I should be in awe of anyone.:
Flannery's former SU offen. sive linemate. Terrence Wisdom, said he would like to crnulate his former teammate.
"Flannery was a great player." Wisdom said. "Playing beside him, and seeing the kind of hlocks he used to make just blocks he used "It kind of makes me want to be that type of player before :
leave here, too."
Flannery got accustomed to his new position last year after Wisdom suffered a bruised thigh which forced him to miss the last three games of the season. Wisdom said Flannery's talents were the only factors in his late season line change.
"I don't know if me getting hurt had anything to do with him playing right guard now," Wisdom said. "I think offensive linemen are offensive linemen. He had the ability to play any position on the line at Syracuse (or) anywhere."

untriadi

$$ 1$ off WITH THIS AD!

Matty Rich Will Be Speaking Oct. 16th in Maxwell Aud.

TONIGHT AND TOMORROW WATSON THEATER - WED. 7, 9:30 pm THU. 7,9:00 pm

Cross country teams off to fast starts  By MATT SIM Sforl Writer  Last season the Syracuse Uni-versitymen'scross-countryteam finished the year strong, capturing the University division IC4A's championship.  This season, coach Dick Coleman said the Orangernen are at an even better pace.  "This is most definitely the best start (since I've been here)." Coleman said. "I'm extremely  pleased."  The men's team is undefeated after topping Army (27-28). Cornell (26-30), and East Stroudsburg (16-44) on Sept. 13 at West Point.  "Just three years ago, we came out of there 0-3." Coleman said about the traditionally competitive race."That's truly quite an accomplishment  The men also won the 13team Western Ontario Invitationat on Sept. 21 for the first  time ever. The team's previous best finish was in 1986 when it took third.  The women's team is also off to its best start during Coleman's tenure with a 2-1 record. The Orangewomen's only loss was to Cornell, which Coleman said is one of the finest teams in the East this year.  At the Western Ontario Invitational, the women placed fourth behind Penn State. Eastfourth Behind Penn State. East-

Congratulations Sigma Kappa Pledges

Debbie Barsky Christina Bergonzi Alexandra Brady Jill Budik Joanne Bursich Amy Clark Lisa Consilio Angelina DeGiovanni Cheryl Eveland Kimberly Farina Anne Fritz Stephanie Gruskin Shawna Gellerman Amy G. Hartmann Dawne Holtzman Amy Karazuba Kathy Konowall Jennifer Kral Stacey Krol

Cynthia Largay
Tammi Levinson
Stephanie Levy
Rebecca Linton
Kristen Lowe
Stephanie May
Kelly McCloskey
Jenifer Merk
Allison Musto
Monica Ogra
Elizabeth Olken
Nicki Pardo
Marybeth Penaskovic
Jennifer Pollock
Lori Schanzer
Nina Setia
Jennifer Shulof
Karen Siger
Stacy Thorpe
Stacey Wright
national qualifiers last year. "To Tinish among national qualifiers is a credit to those gals," Coleman said.
Although the men's team is Navarro and Gary Hans that doesn't necessarily mean they're the fastest runners.
"The seam concept is extremely important," Coleman said. "Our five, six, and seven runners are as critical as our runners are as critical as our number one runner. The ability number one runner. The ability to run as essential."
That's where the co-captains' roles are utilized.
The women bring in a load of The women bring in a load of face competition on Oct. 13 in gether as freshmen in 1987 "It's both fortunate and unfortunate," Coleman said. "They've grown and matured together and believe in themselves. But next year, we'll be extremely thin. We're looking for wornen with distance running experience.*

But for now, both teams are in good shape. Coleman said "They feel they have a chance to do something and want to do something with that ability.

The men travel to Lafayette next Saturday and both teams as five of the six came in to- Lehigh University.

Did you know that there is an active Young Life ministry in Syracuse?

If you are interested in finding out more about leadership opportunities in local high schools through Young Life call John - 422-0609.

$\Delta \Phi E_{\text {and }}$ \XA

"FEEL THE VIBRATION" HOMECOMING '91

Ocrober 2, 1991
When you see things, you think about. it but you can't be too worried about it until it happens," Wooden said. "If you see a screen play or something like that, you react to it. If they throw it back, you aet on your tail and get over there and get the ball it's poing to be tourt.
The group which may have the most fun this week is the SU scout team. They will get SU scout team. They will get the opportunity to run many

The scout team will prob: ably enjoy running the plays." Pasqualoni said. "I don't know how you get ready for that stuff because you just don't know what they're going to do.
"We've got to come up with the plays to run it. The problem is we don't know what play to come up with.

TRICKS

Continued from Page 20 tion makes therm doubly difficult to defend.

The execution is always so good." Pasqualoni said. "It's almost like they have these plays and they just keep practicing them so (they) have a storage of thern. I don't know how they do it."

The Seminoles add to their repertoire of trick plays weekly, but Bowden said sometimes the plays are in the game plan and ometimes they aren't.
"We keep it in all the time," Bowden said. "There's some games when we decide not to use it. We'll work on something every week and well go into a came and say it's not on."

Against teams lice Michigan and Syracuse, however. Bowden said all the trick plays are always on.

Many of their trick plays come off all the other offensive tools the Seminoles possess. The explosive FSU offense has produced 27 touchdowns in foux games.

Florida State has a trick play designed for each facet of the game and just looks for opportunities to use thern, Bowden said.
"We're going to try to have something that will take advan tage of a punting situation, a kicking situation, a running set and a passing set," Bowden said. "We're going to try to bave something to take advantage of every situation. Some ofit works. some of it doesn't."'

No part of the SU game is

F.Y. 1

'Move-along-athon'
to fight cancer
The American Cancer Society will sponsor Making Strides Against Cancer, afive-mile, non-competitive"move-along-athon." It will be Oct. 6 at the Longbranch Park in Liverpool.

More than 500 runmers, many of whom are current or former cancer patients, will participate.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. and the actual "moving" begins at noon.

For more information, call Annette Simiele at 451-7710.

Local advertisers to speak on media

Gene Cairo and Mike Cas. sidy, two workers at Rochester. based Ice Communications, will speak in Room A2 of Newhouse Communications Center 1 on Thursaay at 7 p.m.

The lecture. "Why the War is in the Store," will focus on in-store media and is sponsored by University Advertisers. Jill Kotler at intormatio

Out With the Old... In With the NEW!

Celebrate Difference Week Programming Board

LOGO CONTEST $$ 100.00$

FOR THE CHOSEN DESIGN
Call Desmonique Bonet 443-2650 for more info. Entries must be received by Oct.11th. Send submissions to 132 Schine.

Bobby Bowden says his bag of tricks will be ready to go when the Seminoles play Syracuse on Saturday.

EXPERIENCE TEE DIFEERENCE!

-     * INDOOR PAREANG * SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING * PLUSH SEATING (with cup hoiders) * WIDE ROW SPACHVG

DEAD AGAIN R LIVIN' LARGE R mow-ThU $12: 45,300,8: 00,8: 10,70: 20$

ROBIN HOOD PG13 WED. TTUU, 12:50, $3: 40,8: 15,10,10$

DECEIVED PG13 THE FISHER KING $A$ TERMINATOR 2 R
 HOYTB CINEMAS L2AT CAROUSEL CENTER LOCATEDNBOVE THE FOOD COUKT

Bry one hot dog at the regular price and get the second one for just 10\%!

Friday, October 4 through Sunday, October 6, 1991, at our new location in DeWitt only, celebrate our grand opening with Heid's "Grand Opening 10e Special" - the price at which we sold our very first hot dog!

Top off your celebration with our homemade lce cream from Heid's Sweet Treats. Delliclous ice cream favorites and Held's hot dogs - food you'll like!

Sports

Kings will reign over

NHL season

While most people in the Syracuse community are getting ready for this weekend's big showdown between the Orangemen and Florida State, a select few of us are anxiously awaiting the start of the National Hockey League, which opens its season later this week.

The 75th anniversary season opens Thursday with three games featuring the six original NHL teams: the New York Rangers at Boston, Toronto at Montreal, and Detroit at Chicago. Last year the Pitts PA SPORTS OPINION defeated the Minnesota North Stars in six games to capture games to capture Lord Stanley's

This year it's time to beware of the Kings. Since adding Wayne Gretzky, the Kings have been expected to win the Cup, but this year the Kings finally will capture their dream.

During the off-season, the Kings added one of Gretzky's former Edmonton teammates, Jari Kurri. With his arsenal now in Los Angeles, the Kings have become dangerous.

Not only do the Kings have Gretzky and Kurri, but also former Rangers Tony Granato and Tomas Sandstrom as well as one-time Islander goalie Kelly Hrudey

It is evident that the Kings are the ones to beat in the NHL.

In the Norris Division, any time a potent player like Brett Hull is on potent player 1ike Brett Hull is on your team, watch out. Still, Hulls super-human hockey skills Will not be enough to overtake the Chicago Blackhawks.

Chicago is led by the line of Jeremy Roenick, Steve Larmer and Miche Goulet. Chicago, which won 49 games last year, finished in first place and should enjoy a repeat performance.

A lot of teams will be competitive in 1991-92. Please stop chanting 1940 . 1940 (the last time the Rangers won the Cup), because the Rangers are out to surprise their critics

The Rangers have added one-time Flyer great Tim Kerr, ex-Oiler Adam Graves and Russian star Sergei Nemchinov.

Those players, along with Brian Leetch, James Patrick, Mike Richter. Mike Gartner and Bernie Nicholls should elevate Roger Nielson's Broadway Blues squad to the top of the Patrick Division.

Here's the first time a Canadian team gets mentioned in line with a team gets mentioned in line with a division crown. The Canadians should division crown. The Canadians should be able to capture the Adams, slightly ahead of Boston.

Recently, Montreal picked up a key piece to its puzzle. The Canadians traded Stephane Richer to New Jersey for the talented and underrated Kirk Muller. Muller will mix wel! with the talent of Dennis Savard and the goalkeeping of Patrick Roy.

Calgary can always pose a threat. Even with Los Angeles' talent, the Flames cannot be overlooked. Mike Vernon is one of the league's best goalies. Joe Nieuwendyk and Theo goalies. Joe Nieuwendyk and Theo Fleury are just a few of their big Fleury a gunners.

Tricia

Question: What famous actor has had the privilege of riding Renegade into Doak Campbell Stadiun and throwing the flaming spear into midfield?
Friday's antowers Robert Urich was the center on the 1965 Seminoles" foothall tama before a brain injury againgt Alabama ended his career.

Young's blast powers SU

Syracuse's Nino Galich (11) battles Ken Tomestsko for a loose ball in the first half of the Orangemen's $\mathbf{2 - 0}$ win over Cornell on Tuesday night in the Carrier Dome

Flannery adjusting to Oilers

By GIL PAGOVICH
Shati Writer
Former Syracuse University center John Flannery is only a rookie in the NFL, but he's already had an effect on some All-Pro caliber players.

Flannery's offensive line coach with the Houston Oilers, Bob Young, recalled the Houston Oilers, B one specifte incident.
"First game against the Raiders, (defensive lineman) Howie (Long) got mad at him." Young said. "Howie tried to hit him and intimidate him, but the rookie hung in."

Flannery was selected in the second round by the Oilers after starting for four years at SU. He was named a first-team All-American his senior year. the first Syracuse player chosen in last spring's draft. He begian the season
Halloween comes early for

By JOSH BARNETT
Halloween comes at the end of this month, but the Syracuse University football team will have to contend with some tricks a little earlier.

The mastermind of the tricks is Florida State University coach Bobby Bowden, but it won't be a treat for the den, but it won't be a treat for the The IOth-ranked Orangemen visit the top-ranked Seminoles on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at Doak Campbell Stadium.
"Lord knows what's going to happen," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said. "I don't know how you defend against thern. If anybody has any suggestions, I would love to hear them.'

Bowden said most of the trick plays the Seminoles use are plays that have

John Flannery, an All-American last year at Syracuse, is starting for the

Hellacious goal

 leads SyracuseBy JEFF ELBAUM
Staff Writer
When Syracuse University soccer midfielder Paul Young scored the first goal of the game at $24: 47$, in a $2-0$ Orangemen victory over Cornell Wednesday night, a shocked silence fell over the 869 people in attendance at the Carrier Dome.

The question wasn't whether Young scored; rather, it was, how did he shoot the ball with such velocity and accuracy?
"He hit a goal you're not going to see again in college soccer," Cornell coach Dave Sarachan said. "That's a world cup goal."
According to Young, Sarachan should have watched him a couple of weeks ago.
"I scored one like that two weeks ago against University of Connecticut," Young said.

The stage for the goal was set when a Cornell foul resulted in an Orangemen direct kick from 35 yards out

Young took a running start and blasted the ball by a wall of defenders and to the right of Big Red goalie David Williams.

The ball ricocheted off the back of the crossbar and landed past the goal line. Williams never moved.
"Thank God we have Paul Young who could put it in the top of the net," SU head coach Dean Foti said. "It was a great, great shot."

See BIC RED Page 11

The Daily Orange

Cyclist group demands new racks, shelters

By GENARO C. ARMAS
Contributing Writer
The number of students who use bicycles as a means of transportation on the Syracuse University campus has risen dramatically this year, according to SU Safety Administrator Michael Ryan.

However, despite the increase in bicycle use. students have yet to see a corresponding increase in the number of bike racks, according to an informal flier posted by Students Organized for Bike Racks.

With the overcrowding at bike racks. students are forced to lock their bikes to items ranging from lampposts to handicapped walkways, according to a SOFBR fier.

As one student and avid cyclist said, "If it's standing on this campus, I've already used it to lock my bike to.

Cyclists who lock their bikes to objects other than racks, such as banisters or ramp-railings, may have problems in the future, according to Karen Zuk, a counselor for disabled students at the Office of Student Assistance. "The safety department is committed to remedying the problem tof overcrowding)," she said. "They are quick to respond to violators of the policy."

Watch where it's parked
According to Ryan, the university's policy on bicycle parking states that no bikes should be parked in buildings or stairwells, or chained or locked to a handicap ramp or entrance way. A1though there is no official ruling on the chaining of bikes to lampposts, students are not advised to do so.

The safety department has really done a superb job this year in terms of clearing entrances and handicapped zones of bicycles," Zuk said.

She said she credits students as well for clearing these key areas. She encourages others to report violators if the situation should arise.

The substantial increase in bicycle use corresponds to the restructuring of campus roads, Ryan said. The most notable changes are the limited access to automobiles on University and College places, he said.

The partial closing down of the campus roads has really speeded up the travel time between classes," said sophomore Andrew Gershwan as he rode his bicycle to class. The problem now is finding a place to safely park it."

Additional racks are quickly on the way though, Ryan said.

Redoing the racks
We are in the process of redoing the bike racks," he said. "By the third week of October, we hope to have four more large racks installed.

Ryan said the racks will be placed outside Sims Hall, Heroy Geology Lab, Crouse College and Huntington Hall. An additional rack is to be placed outside Huntington Beard Crouse as well.

Although several more were proposed See bike page 6

Inside

City Life
.9
Classified
16
Comics
16
Editorial
10,11
Images
Sports
Weather

Memorial scholarships awarded

Students honored in Remembrance ceremony

By KEN ALDRICH

Staff Writer

Thirty-five Syracuse University students were showered with praise and the university's highest accolades Tuesday night.
At the same time, the lives and memories of 35 SU students were honored.
A standing ovation greeted this year's Remembrance and Lockerbie scholars at a ceremony in Hendricks Chapel.

Thirty-five students were awarded Remembrance Scholarships, which were created in the memory of the 35 students killed in the terrorist bombing of Pan Am Flight 103.

We come together to celebrate the life of this university, though the reason of this ceremony is a tragedy," Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw said.

Caroline Jalbert, one of the scholar-

Survey squint

Leticia Fenry squints against the bright sun in order to work on her survey project of the Quad.

Students promote United Way

By SARAH BERNSTEIN
Contributing Writer
The goal of the Syracuse University Students for the United Way (SUSUW) is to heighten awareness and fund raising for and about the United Way, according to Carter Morris, president of the group.

The United Way focuses on helping members of the community who are in need. Both organizations provide funds for food, clothing, health care, justice services and many other life sustaining resources, according to a group pamphlet.

William Coplin, professor of public affairs and SUSUW adviser, said the group was formed at SU three years ago.
the United Way of Central New York," he said.
"Students for the United Way tries to promote cooperation among all organizations at Syracuse," he said.
SUSUW often acts as an spur for other organizations to hold fund raisers for the United Way, Morris said.
"Our aim is to make other student groups aware of the United Way and what it does." he said.

SU groups helping out

Several student groups at SU have had an active part in helping the United Way, he said.
Morris said some past events held to help the United Way include a Christmas dinner hosted by the Hispanic American Society and Kindergarten Maarships gave the seniors an opportunity to corne to the United States.
'Reason to celebrate'
"You who are the recipients of the 1990-91 scholarships and the Lockerbie Scholarships are the reason we celebrate," Shaw said.
He said the scholars were unselfish, tough, honest, intelligent and persistent. 'You bring honor to Syracuse University and the memory of the 35 students lost in the Flight 103 tragedy," he told the scholars.

The scholarship winners each received $$ 5,000$ to contribute to their senior year f study.

Each recipient also received a book containing all 35 essays written by the scholars.

The scholars also received a copy of a speech that Douglas Unger, assistant See CEREMONY Page 3
nia held by Greek Council
According to Morris, the third annual Sigrna Alpha Epsilon golf tournament held on Sept. 27 brought together students, faculty and United Way representatives to raise $$ 500$ to help those in need.
Mia Saxon, coordinator of the United Way Halloween party on Oct. 31 in Goldstein Auditorium, said she expects about 600 people will turn out.
She said the event is co-sponsored by University Union.
"There will be three live bands, Z-89 will be dee-jaying, and Ben and Jerry's will be donating prizes." Saxon said.
Saxon said the party will also include a costume contest fortune telling done by local psychics and door prizes.
The group has been invited to have a See UNITED Page 3

World

Soviet republics

 agree on proposalThe leaders of 12 remaining Soviet republics have agreed on a broad framework of economic cooperation in the hope that they can salvage some stability from the wreckage of the Soviet Union.

They reached agreement after weeks of negotiations in Moscow and a final nine-hour bargaining session Tuesday in Alma-Ata, the capital of the southern republic of Kazakhstan.

If the agreement is ratified by the various republican governments, goods and services will be able to move among the republics.

Food and energy supplies will be coordinated and banking and monetary policy will be set by a central authority.

United States halts

economic aid to Haiti

The United States suspended economic assistance to Haiti Tuesday, saying it would not recognize the military junta that ousted the democratically elected government there.

The United States joins other Latin American and Caribbean nations in organizing a pressure campaign to restore President Jean-Bertrant Aristide.

Aristide, who was bundled off to Venezuela Wednesday by coup leaders. declared at a news conference in Caracas that the rebels were "power mad" and that he would do all he could to reinstate that he would do all he could to rei

American officials said Aristide was planning to fly to Washington, D.C., to participate in an emergency meeting of the Organization of American States to determine a collective response to the Haitian coup.

Officials said they expect Aristide to ask for sanctions and possibly some form of international intervention to reverse the coup.

Aristide's government is the first to be elected democratically in Haitian history.

Nation

Help for homeless

 approved by CongressUnemployment benefits were extended by both houses of Congress, but the margin in the Senate was too narrow to override the veto President Bush has threatened.

The Houses approved $$ 6.4$ billion on extended unemployment benefits for extended unemployment benefits for about three million Americans who hat been out of work at least half a year
. Five Republican Senators who had backed an earlier version of the bill voted against it today, saying the language adopted Thursday by House-Senate negotiators undermined last year's budget agreement.

Testimony provides  different view of Gates

Robert Gates distorted intelligence reports as a senior CIA official so they would conform to his political beliefs. three witnesses told the Senate Intelligence Committee Tuesday.

His detractors assert that the slanting of intelligence was largely confined to issues involving the Soviet Union, Soviet expansionism and CIA covert operations.

Nuclear threat down, Democrats seek cuts

Dernocrats want to renegotiate the federal budget, following President Bush's federal budget, following President Bush's announcement that thousands of nuannouncement that thousands clear weapons will be destroyed.

House Speaker Tom Foley said the defense budget could be trimmed and domestic spending increased.

Foley said the changes in Soviet relations should be reflected by a shift in the way Congress views the Pentagon budget. Democrats are frustrated that the budget agreement dictates that any savings would go to reduce the budget deficit and not to supplement domestic spending.

State

Farmers dump milk

to protest low prices

Outraged by low milk prices, about 250 dairy farmers dumped 3,000 gallons of milk in an Oneida County cornfield of milk
Tuesday.
Thesday.
The action occurred on the day that a nationwide milk strike, aimed at reducing milk supplies in hopes of increasing milk prices, was scheduled to begin.
The strike, however, was postponed to give farmers more time to organize.
Federal milk prices have plummeted 30 percent over the past 18 months to the level dairy farmers were paid in the late 1970s. Farmers said they are not making enough money to cover rising operation costs.

Charles LaRose, a Jefferson County dairy farmer, said it costs farmers about $$ 14$ to produce 12 gallons of milk, yet they receive only about $$ 12$ per hundred they rec

The farmers who participated in the milk dump dernanded an immediate mik dump demanded an imm increase in the price paid for milk.
"We are sick and tired of producing milk at these prices," LaRose said. "We're going broke."

Anti-abortion group

walks out of rally
A Rochester rally protesting violence against women was temporarily disrupted when a group of anti-abortionists staged their own demonstration in response to a speaker's comments about abortion.
Participants of the rally became angry when Barbara Moore, president of the local National Organization for Women, said "the violence against women who are exercising their constitutional right to have an abortion."

The rally was part of local "Take Back the Night'" activities.
The comment prompted members of the anti-abortion group Feminists For Life to walk out of the rally.

Campuses

150-year-old honor code may change at UVA
The University of Virginia student Honor Committee will consider making sweeping changes to the rules regarding sweeping changes to the rules regarding punishment after students claimed the punishment after students claimed the honor system was unfair and biased honor system was unfair
The student-run committee has only one punishment for breaking the honor system - expulsion. A report by an independent consultant recommended the committee adopt a more flexible honor system that allows less serious offenses to be addressed with lesser penalties.
"With just one sanction it's more likely that there will be fewer convictions," said James Childress, a religious studies professor.
"Historically, when there has been a uniform sentence for crimes ranging from stealing a loaf of bread to murder, there has been a tendency not to report the less serious crimes such as stealing the loaf ofbread," he said.

The vice president for Student Affairs, Ernest Ern, defended the 150 -year-old sanction.
"The honor spirit is a pervasive part of the fabric of this university," he said.

Grand jury drops

charges in rape case
A Rhode Island grand jury found two weeks ago there was not enough evidence weeks ago there was notenough evidence to indict a former Un

David Lallemand was charged in the assault of an 18-year-old student at a fraternity party on Oct. 27, 1990. The girl claimed she was assaulted by Lallemand while other men watched.

A judge dismissed the charges after the woman told him she was intoxicated at the time of the attack and could not positively identify Lallemand. The Rhode Island Attorney General's office thought there was enough evidence to send the case to a grand jury.

UNITED

Continued from Page $T$
student representativesit on the board for the United Way of Central New York. Morris said
"This student would actually act as a board member" he said Morris said he feels this would Morris said he feels this would for both students and giult fin the board is and adult since the board is now composed

Focus on SU's underclassmen
Both Saxon and Morris said they agree attention this year should be directed toward freshmen and sophomores at SU.
"I think we have a huge untapped resource at Syracuse University," Morris said.

Many of these younger students could benefit from the organization, as well as those in need, he said. The organization needs more visibility, he added.

Morris mentioned the idea of having individual residence hall floors hold their own fund raisers to contribute proceeds to the United Way.

Coplin said a book would be distributed to resident advisers to make them more aware of SUSUW's purpose and ways they can increase student involvement through floor programs.
-I think that the philanthropic spirit on campus has a lot of room for improvement," Morris said.

He said that SUSUW benefits students involved by inspiring them to give time effort and money to those less fortunate than them.

Morris said he believed if college students begin to give their services to better the lives of others they will continue to do so throughout their adult lives.

CEREMONY  Continued from Page 1

professor of English at SU, gave on Jan. 18, 1989.

Unger reflected on the tragedy and honored the victims. *We will find solace in your loss with the energy and faith for the future with which you ventured from us," his speech stated.
"Anyone who doubts today's students should only have to meet you 35 students." Robert McClure, associate dean of the Maxwell. School of Citizenship and Public Affairs.
"You are our incentives," he said. "I salute you."

The ceremony opened with an invocation from Richard Phil lips, dean of Hendricks Chapel.
"Bless them as they join in this bond of grief." Phillips said.

And the choir played
The Hendricks Chapel Choir also performed several pieces during the ceremony. The choir also closed the ceremony by leading the audience in the Alma Mater.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the Founder's Room in Maxwell Hall.

The scholars were chosen from more than 260 applicants, McClure said.
"This is the university's most respected and celebrated student award," he said. Applîcants were chosen on the basis of their essays reflecting on the Flight 103 tragedy, involvement in university and community activities and personal interviews, McCiure said.

David Smith, dean of admissions and financial aid and chairman of the selections committee, said choosing the Remembrance Scholars was "a labor of love, respect and admiration."

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY CAREER FAIR 91 GOLDSTEIN AUDITORIUM SCHINE CENTER

OCTOBER 3, 1991 - 10:00am - 7:00pm

ALL STUDENTS WELCOME!

AON Corporation
Abraham & Straus
American Management Association
Andersen Consulting
Anmstrong World Industries
Bankers Trust
Becker CPA Course Review
Bencficial Management Coporation
Bergmann Associates
Calocerinos & Spina
Central Intelligence Agency
Chase Manhattan Bank
City of Rochester - Dept. of Environmental Services
Continental Insurance Company
Continental Investors
Coopers & hybrand
Cooper Industries
Corning Inc.
Dannible & McKee
Deloitte & Touche
Dow Corning Corporation
Emst & Young
Exel Logistics - Dedicated Dist.
Express
F.B.I.

Fay's Incorporated
Federal Deposit Insurance Company
First Empire State Corporation - M & T Bank
GTE Gov'r Systems - Communications Systems Div.
General Dynamics - Electric Boat Division
General Electric Company
Healch Services Associates
IBM
IDS Financial Services
Intel Corporation
Internal Revenue Service - Buffato, N.Y.
Internal Revemue Service - Washington, D.C.
International Paper
KPMG Peat Marwick
Linens 'n Things
Marion Merrell Dow
May Company
Mead Corporation
Merck & Co.. Inc.
Sponsored by the Schools and Colleges or Syracuse University and the S.U. Placement Center.
Merck. Sharp & Dohme
Miller Brewing Company
NBC
NCR - Engincering & Manufacturing - San Diego
Naval Air Development Center
New York State Department of Transportation
New York State Electric & Gas
New York State Troopers
Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.
Nordstrom
Norstar Bank of Central New Yorik
Northwestern Financial Svcs - The Gilberg Agency
Northwestern Mutal Life - The Konrad Agency
O"Brien & Gere Engineers, Inc.
Park Ridge Hospital
Pizer, Inc. - New York
Prizer, Inc. - New Jersey
Pizza Hut of America, Inc. - Liverpool. N.Y.
Price Waterhouse
Procter & Gamble Company. The
Prudential. The, AARP Operations
Radio Shack
Richard A. Eisner & Company
Roadway Package Systems
Saks Fifth Avenue
Stanley H. Kaplan Education Center
Stern's Executive Office
Student Painters
Syracuse Newspapers, The
Times Leader. The
Toyota Motor Sales. USA. Inc.
Travelers Companies, The
U.S. Air Force
U.S. General Accounting Office
U.S. Peace Corps
UTC/Carrier Corporation
University Data Systems
Utica National lnsurance Group
Versyss. Incorporated
Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.
Wegman's Food & Pharmacy
Works Corporation
Xerox

EEEAW ELI THELREL WITH

Pakistani professor critiques peaceniks

By IOANNE KARPE

 Staff WriterPeace movement groups in the United States need to understand the point of view of Third World nations, said Syracuse University International Relations Professor Naeem Inayatullah.
Inayatullah, a native of Pakistan and longtime U.S. resident, led 25 people in a discussion about international justice Tuesday night at the May Memorial Unitarian Church on East Genessee Street.
Although the discussion was sponsored by SANE/FREEZE, an organization which advocates nuclear disarmament, Inayatullah said he is not a peace activist.

The Persian Gulf war really gave me the incentive to become politically active," he said. "But I stili hesitate to do that."

He said he does not feel a sense of urgency - nor does he want to make a commitment He said he is wary of do-gooders. Members of peace groups are do-gooders gone wrong, he said. "They are people willing to take a step toward something but not the whole step," he said.

Third World nations and the Western world have different visions, he said

Still in the Third World
Inayatullah said he still considers himself a member of the Third World and cannot find a group that shares his values.
"From my point of view, peace groups and the peace movement are an intrinsic part of the ideology of domination," he said

Peace group activists have distorted visions, he said.
"I respect them - they're endearing; they need to be encouraged" he said "But there's something about peace groups that still bother me."

Their sense of urgency prevents them from understanding world order, he said. They do not understand the world political economy or appreciate world history.

Because of this, peace groups have a restricted view of the world, he said.

Peace groups do not understand that their positions are either ethnocentric or in opposition to the Third World, he said.

He said U.S. peace activists will not admit the Third World has a right to build nuclear weapons, and environmentalists will not permit Third World nations to do what they choose nations their property.

With their property.
ing their ideas on the Third World. Inayatullah said.
"The United States dominates the world through its ideas," he said.
"I admit that the position of women in the Third World needs to be strengthened," he said. "But only after you admit that feminism may be seen as an imposition and most previous western impositions have resulted in disaster.

In order for progress to be made, U.S. peace groups and Third World nations have to communicate with one another he said.

Peace talks should be a learning process in which participants use a tentative questioning tone rather than a lecturing tone, Inayatullah said. Otherwise, conversations will not occur.
"In a world without possibility of conversation, power will rule," he said

F.Y.I.

Local artwork

shown at Schine
The artwork of noted His panic artist Juan Cruz is cur rently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in Octo ber.

The showing, sponsored by <serers

|  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | 177 |
|  |  |  |
| - Vicole - Ankerry | Cara feru | Valenis - Mifler |
| Sheshar Peaker | fill Ferson | Kerry Pignatiello |
| Stephanie Botrit | Christine Sollatz | Efona Projekt $^{\text {chen }}$ |
| 5 Kristen TBradfey | Fiff Эrinndlf | 7en -Reeder |
| Tearette Branca | Kristen Suth | 7en - Poeder |
|  | Marianne Hume | Tasey R Posado |
| TKaren Bride | Ardwea frnoffer | Ten Rowley |
| Ten Bruni | Amanda AEfler $^{\text {Amer }}$ | Tobi ¢ Poy |
| Sira Daquisto | SPlper Kenney | Tert Sorogg 1 |
| Sira $\triangle$ Dinardi | Cfrister SKuoharif | - Affison Stusinaki |
| Amber 7 Ducat | Sherrie Canolo | Brooke Tokin |
| Erika Dyfurferg | Kally -Mapary | lossefyr Whiteside |
| Aiv faris | $\mathcal{A} \text { lison }^{M_{1}} \overline{M e r z}^{2}$ | Amanda Wooden |

the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Library offers

free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19.
The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and serv ices. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated li brary. For
For more information, cal 443-1943.
Artists sought for Art Invitational
Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a compe tition of donated art works Cash prizes will be awarded Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New York. ork
Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the 10 th Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Oct. 18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.
For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

Editorial

Exercise voting power

Syracuse University students are famous for having something to say about everything. But when it comes to voting, even on their own campus, they refuse to exercise their constitutional right.

The New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG) is sponsoring a voter registration drive. The deadline to register is Monday, Oct. 7. It is your civic duty to register and then vote in elections.

Statistics have shown poor turnouts in recent elections. In 1984, 60 million people voted for Ronald Reagan, while 80 million eligible voters failed to cast ballots.

In New York state alone, only 79 percent of registered voters actually took part in the 1988 presidential election.

The Daily Orange has discussed the issue of voting and registration before, both in reference to national elections and the Student Government Association. The significance of registration carries a much greater weight on a national level, particularly with important senatorial elections this year.

The power of voting and having a say in who runs our government is taken for granted in the United States. While it can be argued that the media deter people from voting by taking exit polls and pre-election surveys, Americans make up their own minds about how to act. No one entity, not even the media, can be blamed for the laziness of the electorate.

Some states and districts, like Michigan and Washington, D.C., have installed "motor voter" programs. These enable citizens to register automatically when they renew their driver's licenses.

And "motor voter" has helped. In the nation's capital, a 9.1 percent increase in registered voters occurred after the program's first year.

Take responsibility and have your say in the workings of both local and national government. Register to vote before Monday's deadline.

Newspapers offer laughs

Syracuse newspapers just don't cut it. If you haven'tlaughed in a while, invest your 30 cents in a Syracuse Herald-Journal or PostStandard.
The front page of each paper is a joke. One would think the front page of a newspaper ERIC the most important inforSTANGEL mation Gik.a. the top

VIEW

 MASTER and print their tional rules of prioritizing and print their own form of top stories.We will use the Sept. 9 edition of The Post-Standard as an example. On the fold we have, in bold letters, what was the biggest story of the day - "Macedonia Tilts Toward Secession." Good choice. At the bottom of the page lies a pertinent story about Clarence Thomas. They are two-for-two so far, I'm afraid that's where the streak ends.
The story closest to the top of the page is entitled "Sagan Inspires 'Billions' of Rumors." This isn't even news. The story is about how people don't really know much about the detsils surrounding Carl Sagan's employment whatsoll Univergity. This has no relevance whatsoever. Under that front-page item is a picture of children playing tug-of-war. But picture of children playi

A story label ed "Lava Marked 'Return to Pele" chronicles the tale of how mailmen in Hawaii have been delivering mailbags full of diried lava that they scraped off the soles of their shoes, thinking that if they didn't do so, they would be in for bad luck. Wow! What journalism. (Or should I ask, "What journalism?")

LETTERS

Gymnasium has many uses

I would like to clarify the statements reported in an editorial column written by Jamal Wright in the Sept. 27 issue of The Daily Orange.

In his remarks, Mr. Wright addresses the "supposed" freeweight room for faculty in Archbold Gymansium. If the room in question is the Fitness/ Wellness Research Lab (clearly noted on the sign affixed to the noted on the sign afired to to offer some helpful information about this particular facility.

As director of the research laboratory, I can assure Mr. Wright that this facility is not a recreational gym for faculty. The laboratory berves three distinct purposes: it is a research setting, an internship facility for Health and Physical Pducation students and a training ground for specific body building classes offered by the School of Education's department of health and physical education.
A current example of work conducted in the laboratory is a pilot study called the "Healthy Heart Program." This project is deaigned to assess the effectiveness of a fitness/ wellness program of faculty/ wellness program of faculty Other research projects dealing with "plyometrics" (a new weight training technique) have been conducted with students serving as subjects. In this regard, the faculty gladly invites students to become involved in future research projects.
The Fitness/Wellness Laboratory is operated solely for educational and research needs of the Syracuse University community. Those seeking additional information on the Fitness/ Wellness Laboratory may contact me directly at 443conta $\mathbf{4 5 4 0}$.

[^14]

LETTERS

Use realistic criteria

To the editor:
"Subliminal" messages in fraternity advertisements is quite a bold proposition, don't you think, Ms. Kaplan?
Frankly, I would never have dreamed of imitating a Freamed of imalysist if I couldn't Freudian analysis if I couldn't use some reasonable criteria as my starting point.

If you can only argue that an ad that reads "Virgin Drink Night" subliminally suggests a "night to get virgins drinking." Iask where the connection between those who haven't engaged in intercourse and drinking altohol is.
Too bad Freud can't help us, but I think he's rolling over in amusement.

If "Wreck A Car" proves that a man must be "destructive and aggressive and encouraging of such traits," encouraging of such traits, what would you say about this what would you say harmless analysis?

The association of "virgin" drinks to a "wrecked" car deserves serious attention. To encourage those not to drink (i.e. to drink non-alcoholic "virgin," if you will, drinks) the author stresses a universal moral concern on a healthy

outlook of life

Learn or
To the editor:
I address this letter to certain members of the student body here at Syracuse University It concerns the delinquent attitude of students toward their classes. Some think that material in class should be hand fed to them and that if class information is not presented in a familiar way, then the professor is to blame.

These same students are also more likely to ramble on about how poor the education is here at $S$. To these narro and selfish-minded people, say: Welcome to college.
Class after class, I hear such popular slogans as "He lectures popular slogans as "He lectures too fast" or "We have too much reading" or "His tests are too hard." And these are not isolated to any one class or to a particular professor. I have attended Syracuse classes since 1989 and I cannot recall any one class where such whining did not exist.
Look, students of SU: If you want to blame anyone for your lack of education, blame yourselves. And if you cannot keep up with the work, either get help from the tutorial service here, get help from a friend or just get the hell out.

Marc Lichtenstein
Class of 1992
drink to a wrecked automobile we see a contradiction or mixed duals.

How can an innocuous beverage account for the complete annihilation of a 20 th centuryinvention? Perhaps the author artistically embraces the S.A.D.D. message: Don't Drink and Drive Drunk
If not, you may find yourself behind the wheel of TEP's front yard spectacle. Surely alcohol is the true culprit, not thearchetypalaggressiveman In sum, the image of a "virgin" drink symbolizes a celebration of driving clean and sober while the "wrecked car" epitomizes the ultimate effect of alcohol, death and self-destruction. So, a toast, a "virgin" toast, for not driving on Syracuse streets drunk. the comical yet serious tone in this analysis. If not, I regret you will continue to be absorbed in "an aggravating and upsetting experience" whenever you look at advertisements.

Greg Diaz
Class of 1992

The Daily Orange

Editor in Chief
Jodi Lamagna
Erin Neft
The Daify Oranget is published weekdays during the Syracuse University acadernic year by The Daily Orange Corpowation, 744 Ostrom Ave., Syracube. NY 13210. year by the Daily Orange Corporation, 744 Ostrom Ave.. Syracuse. NY 13210.
pelephone: Editorial 443-2127; Business 443-2314. All contents Copvright © 81991 Belephone: Editorial 443-2127; Business 443-2314. All contents Copyrigh by The Daily Orange Corporation and may written permission of the Editor in Chief.

The Daily Orange

Alpha-Wear looks to wrap up college market

By ELIZABETH HOLAHAN

Staff Writer
Ralph Lauren started with a tie. Syracuse University seniors Mike Lech and Clint Vaughan started with some nylon and kept going.
Lech and Vaughan, partners in Alpha-Wear, said they plan to take their company as far as it will go.
The two founded Alpha-Wear with a nylon webbed belt and have expanded to include both the collegiate and greek markets.

Together we made a (financial) investment equivalent to 12 SU credits, and a year later we can both pay our full tuitions." Lech said. "But it's a seven-day-a-week job."
"We had delusions of grandeur; we thought this would be easy money," Vaughan said. The reality is we eat, breathe and sleep Alpha-Wear.
The company originated during the summer of 1990 when Lech and his sister Allison wanted to earn some extra money. They decided to sell webbed belts at a local crafts fair.
"We used the same materials used in existing belts," Leech said. "But we improved the design to make them more functional -they are stronger and more versatile."

Mom's sewing
In exchange for household chores, Lech's mother agreed to sew 100 belts, almost all which were sold at the fair
Lech took the 12 remaining belts to a sporting goods store where they sold within a week.
"Soon we had 15 stores selling our belts, and Mom was stil sewing," Lech said. "We were looking for a manufacturer and a plan, any plan."
Upon returning to SU as a junior, Lech found a manufacturer by word-of-mouth.

He groans as he describes the experience.

This guy made the belts too short, sewed the labels on crooked and told us no one would notice. We had 300 useless belts," he said

Soon after that, Lech. driving back from Vermont with a ship ment of webbing, was involved in an almost fatal car accident.

Vaughan, who had been monitoring the company accounting books, went to the scene of the accident after visiting Lech in the hospital.

The webbing had been in the trunk, and when the car flipped over the trunk popped open and it all went into the mud," Vaughan said. "So I pulled it out of the mud and brought it back to school, where 1 spent three days cleaning it in the kitchen of our apartment."

Do what you have to do'
Vaughan returned to the hospital and told Lech about the situation.
"I told Clint, 'Do what you have to do,' and he shipped out all the webbing to the manufacturer on time," Lech said.

When Lech left the hospital three weeks later, he and Vaughan agreed to become part ners.

They began to have daily meetings to formalize a business plan and discuss the investment of capital.

In order to expand, they decided to tap into existing distri bution resources.

Now Alpha-Wear is distributed through Gav's Funderwear, and the company can use Gav's network of sales representatives.

Within eight months we expanded into 150 stores," Lech said.

Alpha-Wear became involved in the collegiate and greek markets by silkscreening university logos and greek letters onto the beits. This led to Iech and Vaughan entering the key chain market.

They decided to turn the 300 short belts, ruined by the first manufacturer, into key chains with greek letters printed on them.

This involved cutting the web, having letters silkscreened onto it, cutting it again and clamping on a metal piece with a ring
Vaughan tells the story of their experience: "We decided to do this three weeks before a greek trade show in Chicago. I was in charge of ordering th metal pieces, but order camg the big with only three days lef before the show
"My marketing professor suggested explaining this problem to the customers, but we pride ourselves on quality and we were determined to remedy the situation." he said.

Metal cutting
"So we found someone to cut the metal pieces and repaint the edges, but by the time we were ready to leave for the airport the paint wasn't dry. We had a layover in Cleveland, and we sa in the airport bar assembling 120 rings onto 120 pieces of metal. But the paint still wasn't dry enough to clamp onto the webbing," he said.

In Chicago, four hours before the show, they were able to clamp on the metal pieces using pliers.
"The pliers had to have BandAids wrapped around them so they wouldn't scratch the paint, Vaughan said. "But we took orders for 4,500 key chains that day." Vaughan said.
Today, Lech and Vaughan have their own independent sales representatives and employ an office coordinator at their off campus office.

They supply retail stores and university bookstores all over the United States and recently shipped orders to Canada and Japan.

Lech and Vaughan are both English majors with minors in marketing. "We've gotten mar keting advice from Larry Sarkin at The University Shop, but for the most part we do whateve works best for us," said Lech.
"For example, we introduced wooden stands to display our products and sales increased by 600 percent," Vaughan said

A frequent problem Lech and Vaughan said they face is getting people to take them seriously, such as suppliers who hesitate to extend them credit.
"People try to tell us our business because they think we're young and inexperienced," Lech said.
Alpha-Wear's future plans include "Alpha-Poppers," a belt with a buckle designed to be a bottle opener, and plaid fannel belts, both due out in the spring.
"In one year, we went from my mom sewing belts to selling on two continents," Lech said.
"And the sky's the limit until we're number one," Vaughan said.

BIKE

Continued from Page 1
this year, they may have to be pushed back until next spring, unless we have a light winter, Ryan said.

Some students, such as those in SOFBR, are not completely satisfied with the university's action. In the flier directed at Chancellor Kenneth $A$. Shaw, Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, the group demanded seven new sheltered bike racks on the Quad and facilities.
The gro
The group also demanded a notification of compliance by the university through The Daily Orange and promised a "reign of terror to be wiged on campus" if demands are not met.
The new bike stands are not in response to the SOFBR's demands, Ryan said. He added that he was previously unaware of the group's existence.
"Sheltered racks would be cool. but so would free beer to ding?" Gershwan said.

WASTMH YOUHH.

(Get Ready To Do It Again...)

'Paradise' sappily satisfies

 Griffith plays entire range of emotionsWith sap oozing from every frame, Mary Agnes Donoghue's Paractise begins its aentimental journey Friday at local theaters. If you loved Donoghue's last ROB Weeper. OWEN the fourMOVE Steel MagREYIEY $\qquad$ you'll be enchanted by Paradise. If you don't go for mushy cuteness and heartitugging emotion, you'll think it's paradise lost.

Don Johnson and real-life wife Melanie Griftith star as Ben and Lily Reed, a Paradise, South Carolina couple who no longer get along. He's a fisherman with an attitude; she's a housewife still grieving the death of their son two years earlier.

Along comes Willard Elijah Wondi, the son of Lily's friend Rosemary Eve Gordont. who is shipped to Paradise so his mother can live through her current pregnancy in peace and quiet. Rosemary faces the birth alone as her husband has left her $-m$ fact Willard has not been told. He thinks dad is still at sea.

While in Paradise, Willard becomes friends with Billie Pike (Thora Birch), a young girl (Thora Birch), a young girl body," according to her mom.

Willard and this cute-as-abutton tomboy become best friends throughout the course of the summer as Billie tries to find her father and Willard tries

Don Johnson and Melanie Griffith star as Een and Lily Reed, a couple stwiggling to overcome a deep personal tragedy in the tear-jerker Paradise, and 10 -year-old Willard Young (Elijah Wood) is the boy who beconnes a healing catalyst for the pair. to bring Ben and Lily back together.

Children acting like children
While child actors have a tendency to come across as precocious children attempting to act. Wood and Birch overcome thiss stereotype after their first awkward scene together. From then on out it's smooth sailing.
"And it just so happens I'm the right size for my age," the uptight Willard tells the bornfree Billie. This winsome twosome is so adorable that as you watch the film, you'll become impatient waiting for their next impatient waitin scene to appear.

Griffith brings warmth and compassion to a character that is still namb with grief, Grifith is an excellent actress who is all too often debased by directors too ofen debased by directors who make her take off her shirt.

Here she displays her full range of emotions without displaying her full body.

As Ben Reed. Johnson does an admirable job as a husband who just can't stand living in a house that still has a feeling of death hanging over it.

Are you sick of rne or are you just dead inside?" Ben screams at Lily in the film's most intense scene. Their real-life marriage helps bring credibility to their realistic performances.

Actress Louise Latham has two scenes in the film as backwoods artist Catherine Reston Lee, who tries to tegch Billie how to behave properiy. While it's amusing to wateh Latham's haughty character interact with the childish Bllie, a little more time spent with this female Thoreau wouldn't have hurt. See PARADISE Page 13

OIOTHING ORRE IS ImpORTANT:

LANCASTER LAUNDERETTE

carefu

CIEAN

COURIEOUS

PROFESSIONAL DRY OLEANING

 WASH N'FOID
SHIRI LAUNDRY - $1.00 PER SHIRT

 COIN IAUNDRYA Unique Concept in Laundry Services 478-9709

BLACK BOX PLAYERS

PRESENTS

THE ZOO STORY

A Play in One Act by Edwand Albee
Directed by Maria Sanguecdolce
Friday October 4th - 8:00 PM
Saturday October 5th - 2:00 PM & 8:00 PM
Sunday October 6th - 2:00 PM
The Black Box Theatre is located in the Drams Deparment building on the corner of Irving Ave. and East Genesee Street.

ADMISSION FREE
your student fee at play

The Daily Orange

Descriptive nicknames lost in historic shuffle

The days of descriptive nicknames are gone. In days past, people could be as easily identified by a catch phrase or nickname as they were by a photograph.  These names told a simple story about a person. But most ROY S. of those charGUTTERMAN  OUT OF THE GUTTER  the American Gladiators are the only people remaining with namboyant nicknames.  Everyone knows: "Iron Mike," "Air Jordan," "Mr. October," "Mad Mac," "Manos de Piedras." Not only are these people known throughout the world by these names, but these names are informative.  Hitting Mike Tyson is like punching iron. Michael Jordan flies through the air. Reggie Jackson was the most consistent modern-day post-scason baseball player. Jim McMahon is a lunatic. And Roberto Duran

boxed as if his gloves were stuffed with rocks. Then he quit.
The last bastion of nicknamedom remains in the hands of the American Gladiators and rappers.
The Gladiators, America's neoclassical return to ancient times, are the sole bearers of god-like names.

Rap personalities (musicians) seem to have the "coolest" names. This may be a tad trite, however. There seems to be a prolif eration of ice names - Ice $T$, Vanilla Ice, Ice Cube, Ice Bucket.

Ice Cap, Polar Ice Cap, Ice Tray, Ice Cream, N-Ice, Pop-Ice and Ice on the Road.

All this ice is about as refreshing as ice down a shirt. With the threat of global warming, nobody can afford to assume such a name. Yet too many have.

It is depressing to think that when some people actually make the big move to a nickname someone else already has it. The result: a large population of musicians sharing the same name. Most of them do not even make their own music.
What happened to "the Father of the Constitution," "Old Hickory," "Honest Abe," "Old Rough and Ready," "the Rough Rider, Teddy" or even "FDR."

Presidents stood behind their nicknames. People knew James Madison's visionary ideals, Andrew Jackson's resiliency and stubbornness, Abraham Lincoln's honesty, Zachary Taylor's battle defeat of Mexico, Theodore Roosevelt's war heroics, and Franklin Roosevelt's alphabetical tendencies.

Such historic figures did not shun nicknames. Their personalities exuded a presence which these names reflect.

Today, it is more likely a public figure will be labeled by a comedian or a paid media consultant than actually stand by principles and forge a nickname.

Occasionally, appropriate nicknames do surface. Chancellor Kenneth A. "Buzz" S(h)aw. His nickname will be tested as his administration deals with cutting $$ 28$ million from the university's budget.

Just think of the possible nicknames for today's pathetic public officials: Judge Clarence "Stonewall" Thomas; Judge David "Shadow" Souter; President George "Nat a wimp" Bush; or Sen. Bob "Who" Kerrey (of Nebraska).

Today, the age of pre-fab political campaigns and shallow cardboard celebrities and public figures has superseded human character.
This transcends most fields and societal levels, and reflects the trite and apathetic nature of society.

Politicians are more apt to run conservative, bland, nonissue campaigns, hiding behind a poster stuck on a front lawn, than forge a meaningful agenda and live by it.
This lack of a stand leaves people guessing, grasping for any semblance of order - the public is left ignorant.

At least people know when Michael Jordan puts on those sneakers, they will see him fly through the air.

When Candidate $X$ hits the campaign trail, it takes a team of political analysts, crypticsoothsayers and psychics to figure out this person's political platform.

America's political correctness fetish and fear of offending the electorate seem to send candidates into the obscure shell -devoid of snazzy nicknames.
Just look at the race for the Democratic nomination. Not only is the party dredging up sacrificial candidates, but none has a real nickname.

After about 11 years of Republican reigntoo many Democrats feel they will be going against the tide of American support.

After all, the United States is coming off the heels of some of the greatest military conquests in history - the defeats quests in history - the defeats and of course, Iraq.
U.S. military supremacy under Republican rule has restored pride in the nation with the highest unemployment rate in 10 years, one of the highest crime rates internationally and faltering education.

These are definitely broad issues, yet they affect all Americans. Democrats will point these out, but Republicans will say,
"Well, there was a recession."
Will someone stand up? Live out a nickname and spesk words reflective of beliefs? Doubtful.

SPECIAL DF THE WEEX WING & SODA COMBO ONLY $$ 8.88$ +TAX (SAVE $2.16)

- 20 PIECE ORDER OF WINGS

BIRDLAND OR BUFFALO STYLE
-LITRE OF SODA
dun 471 - SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with other SPECIALS - valle through Oct. 5, 1991
Valld on S.U. Delivery only - No Limht
VEAA-MASTERCARD-CHECKS:CASHACCEPTED

Call Mary Jo or Matt at The Dally orange sunday Thursday

Career Explorntion Servises ciclutmo

City Life

Around $\mathfrak{i}$ Town Theater troupe  shows homeless drama  The New York Street Theatre Caravan, a touring theater group from New York City, will present B/ues in Rags at 7 p.m. on Oct. 9 at the Rags at 7 pm. on Oct. 9 at the Southwest Community Center, 401 Southwest South Ave.  Everson Museum displays artwork in striking style

The theater group, hailed as "one of America's unique and experimental theater collectives," is made up of professional Cuban-, African- and professional Cuban-, African- and Mexican-American actors and toured across three continents.

The production is free, and donations are appreciated. For more information, call the Syracuse Peace Council at 472-5478.

Neighborhood group sponsors art exhibit

The University Neighborhood Preservation Association, a group dedicated to maintaining the quality of life in the Syracuse area, is hosting an exhibition of historic neighborhoods through Oct. 6 at the Shaffer Art Gallery.

UNPA sponsors a number of programs in the area, including a literacy program, and also sponsors the Thornden Park Association and sevThornden Park Associ eral places of worship.

Later this year, UNPA will sponsor a Syracuse University basketball scrimmage at Manley Field House. It will be held on Nov. 10.

Other UNPA programs of interest to SU students include work with the International Living Center, Chabad House, the Syracuse Center for Self Healing and Westcott East Neighborhood Association.

CRC announces

Festival of Nations

The Cultural Resources Council's be Nov. 2 Festival of Nations will Memorial.

The Festival of Nations is made up of cultural exhibits and performances presented by families from 35 countries.

Colorful displays, costumes and ethnic foods will be housed in the War Memorial's lower exhibit hall, and concerts will be performed in the upper concert arena.

Ecuador and Colombia will be represented this year for the first time.

Galleries sponsor

afternoon conceris

As part of the city-wide Art Struck celebration, the Galleries of Syracuse, one of the principal co-sponsors of Art Struck, is sponsoring a series of concerts in the Center Court.

Today, Bob Brown and Jean Pugh, stars of Salt City Theater's current production of Sweeney Todd, will perform excerpts from the critically acclaimed show. Following this, Michael Grande and Veronica Abel will play "Songs for Civic Morning Musi-

Finally, the Spirit of Syracuse will perform songs in four-part harmony-
The performances begin at $12: 15$ p.m. For more information, call the Galleries at 475-5351.

Compiled from staff and daily
newspaper reports

Last week, while getting my hair cut, I happened upon a stack of flyers hyping a tryout to take part in a live tour of the American Gladiators.

If you are not familiar with the JOSEPH television program
KOSEPH American Giadi-

KISSEL

COMMIENTADY

 a Battle of the Netthe Dukes of Hazard cast but with brawny, pumped-up men and women knocking the stuffing out of regular folks like you and me.I contemplated the notion of myself in Lycra before a War Memorial crowd, but one of the barbers called me back to the sinks to have my hair washed, and I forgot about the whole thing.

That is, until the next day, when I was assigned the story at The Daily Orange.

I arrived about an hour before the tryouts were to begin, but some people were already there. One was Syracuse University student David Hilgendorf, University student David Hilge who said of American Gladiators:

Who said of American Gradiators:
"It's like a real-life video game. I would watch it at home and I'd say, I want to get my hands on their equipment."
After wondering just whose equipment he wanted to operate, I met John Vogley, who graduated from SU last year.

Flourishing in SU's shadow

By ANDREA FELDMAN  Contributing Writer

Located not more than a few blocks from Syracuse University is a museum so extraordinary that the building itself is considered a work of art.

The Everson Museum of Art, named after its principal benefactor, Helen $S$. Everson, has been an asset to the city's culture since its dedication on Oct. 26, 1968.

One of the most noteworthy aspects of Everson is the architecture, credited to I.M. Pei, who is currently co-designing the new wing of Washington, D.C.'s National Gallery.
Pei, now 74 , arrived in the United States from China as a student. His parents, both notable in the banking industry, sensed danger lurking in the form of a revglution.

They decided to send their son off to America where they felt he would be safe and could also benefit from a decent and could

Taught at Harvard

Pei entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and earned a bachelor's degree in architectural engineering.
Upon graduating, he traveled and observed other architects' work, taking a particular interest in that of Frank Lloyd Wright.

Pei then taught and took courses at the School of Design at Harvard.

He received the opportunity to work with the Everson Museum of Art when Max Sullivan, the museum's director, went to Boston searching for an archiwent tect.

The Everson Museum of Art offers a large variety of ciffering styles of art, ranging from photographs to pottery.

Pei's design and style is unique. For example, he was one of the first architects to work in concrete.

The main entrance leads into the Gifford Sculpture Court, which displays works of contemporary sculptors.
In the middle of this room is an awesome spiral staircase. Pei had at one time considered not using it because it consumed so much space.

Four windowless galleries are located above the Gifford Sculpture Court.

Pei felt windows were a disturbance and detracted from the art.

Everson may seem a unique museum in that it does not always feature paintings, but instead houses an extensive collection of ceramics and pottery.

Docent Sheila Schwartz has been affiliated with the museum since its opening. She explained the reason for this.
"Instead of third-, fourth- or fifthquality paintings, we have first-quality clay," Schwartz said.

Ceramics from around the world
Located in the Lower Gallery is an exhibit of international conternporary ceramics. Artists from the United States, Turkey, Japan, Holland, France and Israel are featured in this exhibit.
The exhibit includes works of pottery dating back to ancient South America and the Mediterranean region.

In addition, modern pieces by artists of Latin American. American Indian.

Failed Gladiator accepts his fate

"It beats the hell out of drinking at Santini's was in charge of coordinating happy hour," he said about why he came to the tryouts.

Vaiting for action

After filling out some forms, the contenders filed in to the auditorium. Despite the blaring hip-hop music, the room was oddly subdued.

When I had talked to some people arriving at the War Memorial, most had said that they were in it "just for the fun of it" and were not nervous about competing.

But I suspect that as the time of the tryouts neared, they were getting much more anxious. I know I was.
It seemed as if just about every reasonably fit male bi-ped in Central New York was gladiator meat.

One by one, the contestants bounced into the War Memorial, filling up four sections.

Many of the people there seemed intensely concerned ahout their competition, checking out who had the biggest arrns, the best legs and who looked the meanest.
As luck would have it, I was in the very first group to try out. A youngish man with an attitude comparable to the Great

The agony and .... the agony

He told our group to stand in line and get ready for the first round of the tryout, which was to complete 55 pushups. On your fingertips. Without stopping. In one minute.

Yeah, right.

Each contestant had a judge counting Each contestant had ajudge counting their pushups. Mine asked me if I their pushups. Mine asked me if I understood what I had to do because he

I said I understood and thanked him for his kindness, however much in vain it may have been. I got down on my fingertips and started.

One ... two ... three... four ... five ... and then, inexplicably. I suffered from a spontaneous calcium deficiency. My thumbs bent downward and I fell on the ground. Very loudly 1 heard "Out" resonate above me.

I got up and, out of embarrassment. laughed. Now, I go to the gym regularly, laughed. Now, il go to the gym regulariy, run and do all the requised to stay in shape, and I couldn't required to stay in shape, and i couldn even make it past the first r American Giadiators tryout.

Have you seen some of the bozo contenders on that show? I seriously considered whether I should see a coun-

See TRYOUT Page 12

Bill Hogan's positive outlook on death and his strong sense of humor allow him to maintain a good perspective on life and the friendships that pets can provide.

DON'T BE A DEVIL!!!

EVERSON

Continued from Page 9
African and American descent are included.
"For a small museum. it has had a very illustrious past," Schwartz baid. "New exhibits used to arrive at the museum more frequently, but unfortunately, because of finances, they now only come in about every eight weeks."
The Lower Gallery has the same design as the Sculpture Court. Currently displayed here is "Landscapes-Paintingss, Photographs and Ceramics interpreting land," a series of works produced between 1849 and 1946.

Also on this level is an auditoriurn that is used for speakers and various special events, most of which are free to the public.
There is also a non-circulating art library. All materials are available to museum members.
Everson provides a great deal of resources for SU students and the Syracuse community alike. Yet, according to Sehwartz, this is something that many students have not taken advantage of.
"There is not a lot of interaction between the university and the museum," Schwartz said. "Although both sides are trying." Eve Evson Museum of Art is open Thesday through Sunday. For more information, call 474-6064.

TRMOUT

Continued from page 9
selor about this humiliating personal failure.

I wanted to leave and be done with the whole affair, but I figured that would be just the sort of spoil-sport, Nellie Olson attitude that I don't care much for.

Grunting pays off
While hanging out, I met some more SU students and a fellow named Dan Maxwell. who works in Utica.

Although he was an hour's drive away from home, he dedrive away from home, he de cided to try out. Such determination. nation.
Unfor
Unfortunately, he didn't make it past round one either.

Another man, in a daring pink spandex number, whom I later found out to be the goofball emcee at Wiseguy's comedy club, did an impeccable impersonation of tennis star Monica Seles while doing his pushups. Perhaps i should have grunted, too - he made it.

There were other trials as well such as a 40 -yard dach and well, such as a 40 -yard dash and a scaled-down version of Fower-ball, an event of American Gladiball, an event of American Gladiators where the object is to staff volleyballs into waste paper baskets.

Quite frankly, I was sure I could have done the rest of the trials, but so was everyone else. The point of the pushups, I suppose, was to weed out the losers so the tryouts went faster - most people didn't make it past the first round.

I left in the knowledge that many good people, including me, tried and failed that day. So I'm not going to have a career as an American Gladiator. But as an American Gladiator. But I still have my writing and my health.

BEA GOOD WEEGHBCR  Vourrteer.

Af American Heart Associetion

During one memorable summer, Willard Young (Elijah Wood) befriends a brash and sassy neighbor girl named Billie (Thora Birch) in the new sap-driven movie Paradise.

PARADISE  Continued from Page 7

Donoghue penned the screenplay for last week's Deceived as well as the hit Beaches. With Paradise she takes on both writing and directing duties and she brings the same warmth and isn't-that-so-cute attitude to both tasks.

Creatures of the forest romp and play as the children hop, skip and jump through the beautiful dense foliage of the untarned South, while the camera lazily glides across the landscape capturing these Hallmark moments.
If you're into nature and children and love and peace and happiness, then this family drama with the Disney touch will be just your cup of tea. If you're bitter and cynical and expect Johnson to haul out the gun he used in Miami Vice and start picking off drug dealers. you'll be sadly disappointed.

SUPPORT HSEAMH

It Works Wonders.

If You Want To Enjoy Authentic Chinese Cuisine China-Towne Style Comfortable Dining Atmosphere Hunan & Szechuan-Style-Our Specialty

&LARGE AND SMALL ORDERS TO GO!今

471 Westoott st. (University Area) OPEN 7 DAYS A FIDNK

472-1111

Isn't it time to take steps to make hunger disappear?

Why not participate in this year's

Sunday afternoon, October 20
A 10 kilometer commanity waik through downtown Syractuse to raise money for local and international hunger relief programs

For information on how you, or your group can get involved, call 443-1254

MBALLaw Day gives

 vital informationAll students interested in learning more about law school or graduate programs in management are invited to attend Syracuse University's anmual MBA/Law Day on Oct. 7 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student CenAudi

Representatives from law sidy, two workers at Rochenterschools and graduate manage- based Ice Communications, will ment programs will be available speak in Room A2 of S.I. to meet with students. Admisfinancial aid information will Imancial aid infor also be available.

Local advertisers

to speak on media
Gene Cairo and Mik
ter I tonight at 7 .
The lecture, "Why the War is in the Store," will focus on in-store media and is sponsored by University Advertisers.

For more information, call Jill Kotler at 443-6776.

Out With the Old... In With the NEW!

LOGO CONTEST

$$ 100.00$

FOR THE CHOSEN DESIGN

Call Desmonique Bonet 443-2650 for more info. Entries must be received by Oct.11th. Send submissions to 132 Schine.

"MY FREE TIME Really pays off:"

Nomaner howhardyou hit he books you cani study all the time And no matter how you wateh what you spend, you never have enough money. So I decided to put my free time to good use. I got a part-time job at UPS.

UPS pays me almost S10,000 a year for working about 4 hours a day. They let you pick a part-time schedule that youpick a pari-ime sched your course load. You wont confici win yourcourse load. can work mornings, aternoons. even evenings. You get health benefits, paid vacations, even a student foan it you need ih. Most jobs ate in Operations.
But you right get a shot at Accounting. But you rmight get a shot at Accounting.
Industrial Engineering. I.S. or Customer Service.

Took into UPS. No other emplayer in town pays students more for their Tree' time-

We are an equal opportunity employer. For further information see your local placement office.

SCHINE CENTER ROOM 235

WORKING FOR STUDENTS WHO WORK FOR US. UPS DELIVERS EDUCATION

Doors cover band performs music

By SCOTT MUELER
Staff Writer
Thke four graduates from the Hartford Conservatory of Music, put them in a band, add a heavy dose of 1960 s theatrics and what do you get?

The resurrection of the Doors, that's what.

The second coming occurs tonight, when Riders on the tonight, when Riders on the Stormappears at Sutter"s Mill.

The group is the latest tribute act to return to town, bringing a live show featuring not just the music of the Doors but an experience that promises high drama, according to lead vocalist Eamon Cronin.
"We try to go for a theatric representation of a Doors concert." Cronin said.

Also, the Riders imitate the same live performance and stage act as the original band.

This includes playing instraments identical to the ones used by the original Doors members.

For example, guitarist Rob Salter plays a vintage 1966 Gibson SG and drummer John Aregood uses a simple fourpiece Slingerland drumkit.

Keyboardist Steve Czaplewski plays a Hammond organ with his left hand and bass with his right hand in a simillar fashion to that of Doors keyboardist Ray Manzarek.

Just like Jim

As for Cronin. Sutter's manager Frank Finaldo said, "The guy is just like Jim Morrison." Cronin said the band plays many popular Doors songs, inmany popular Doors songe, inctuding "Light My Fire" and cluding "Light My Fire" and "L.A. Womatn," but they d rely on just the band's hits.
rely on just the band s hits. darker, more obscure songs that are not played on the radio." Cronin said.

He explained how they perform a live version of The Sof Parade," similar to a performance of it the Doors once gave on television.

Cronin wouldn't call the band a tribute act. either. Instead. he likens them to a theatrical show, comparing them to Physical Graffiti, a former group of his that emulates Led Zeppelin.

Cronin is also a former member of Crystal Ship. another Doors cover band. He said he has been with Riders since they formed about 18 months ago.
The audience response to wards the band has been mixed, Cronin said.
"Sometimes they take it in like theater," he explained, "and other people react as if they were seeing an actual Doors concert."

Music is the key

Cronin feels the appeal of the band lies in the audience's familiarity with the Doors' music.

He said an audience could be ess interested in a band that performs all original material since they would be less familiar with the music.

Cronin also said the Doors* music is very timely today since they were ahead of their time 20 years ago.
"The music still has a strong statement that applies to today's society," Cronin said.

And, aecording to Cronin, having their music played by having their mustc played by other people is flattering to at other people is fattering to at least one former Doors member.

Cront one former Doors member.
Cron interviewed forCronin has interviewed former Doors guitarist Robbie Krj mer Doors guitarist Robbie $K r i-$ eger twice on different radio eger twice on different radio shows in the past year. Cronin shows in the past year. Cronin said Krieger approved of a band like Riders exclusively performing Doors material.

That should take away any accusations of us being a rip-off act." Cronin said.
Likewise, Cronin said, on the East Coast musicians have a better chance of earning a living by playing in bis type of band, as opposed to playing all original material.
Hal material.
However, Cronin is also a nember of what he described asa"jazzy but psychedelicband" that does perform original material.
The other members of Riders gig with other acts as well.
For example, drummer Aregood plays in a fank band named Napoleon Blownapart.
Cronin described his musical career as divided half and half between his two bands.

In order for the band to prepare itself before hitting the road, Cronin said, members rehearse every day for about a week to learn new songs.

When asked how long the band will last. Cronin had no answer but simply said: "Right now. we're all having a good time."

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

BY C-CRIT AGENT PETE

OTIS THE ELEVATOR

PETE...

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN

You never realize mow many electical devices you lave until you try toplug them allinto one cutlet.
NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOWS LESSONS IN UNDERSTANDING

* 1 :THE DEVIC INSIDE

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

   BY REX

Wherin J.P. thought he had invented a new way
4 8 基列 to cheat on chem tests!
LIFEDEATHCATDOG

HAROLD ALWAYS HAD THE MOST ABSTRACT THOUGHTS WHEN HE WAS KILING HIMSELF.

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DAILY ORUNGE CLASSIAED AD PPOCEDUEEE 8250 tor the firsy 15 morts.
 word DEADLNE: 2 mm , 2 busines any in scra/re:

Notices

DTEERRACHL COUPLE GROUP: Fonm for sharing ipys and pairs, stramones to denal wich PRENMARIAI COUPLE GROUP: Couple porteratient marital preparation, untwoving cormmunczion and intimacy.
(Siae binned Fingiser now. Sudert rules

ACTOR AND ACIRESS NEEDEDI Graduse nim importara than experience. Call 423 -8465. Honsobwck Riding 18 miles from Syracuse Resv.
(3156sst-8169. (315)696-A169.

FOR SALE

Autos

1989 DODCE Shatow 20,000 milos. staxdan

 $\$ 12,800$ Cas X $07 \times 9.4$ speed, good conctuen

Misc. For Sale
MATJRESS: EmEaliant condition. Gox spring Mctuded Noerm good home. Choep $$ 35$. Call AME 443-39\%
Follor aladers for salo. Used anty onca! Chazpl"
 Boys 4.
Tekets: Rumery va Syracuse at Giant Sixdum, 50 Yard Line Lown Liver Tidkets Avaliable

1-800-654.70X
 Fiorda
2568.
Ex. Cond.: Casio Mamory writar 3100 . Nortica $5 \times 1$ bouts (sizat) \$35. Mraubichi Cat Sierso with Proner Speaturs $\mathbf{3 : 3 5}$, Nter 5pm, 437-0582.

EMPLOYMENT
Soeking Atractwo Bar Amondants. No Experiarce
Nocossary. Wring Nocossary. Wilingness To Leam Call Bartara At 471.5875 For Aероітtт

Enterpriaing Individiais Naededt Terific opporturity to eem extrin cash Call for dotails. 622-0695 leave message.

FAST CASH, SHORT SHIFTS. Join the Cimmer Dome hawker szatl. Bning horse $ the same diay you wokk. For intor. cali fiot 443-4029. A.A tor 7 tainsed Fayman hs wormen (ABC roganil suburwse and whor. foont and boart has cock position aviluther Cor

WANTED

Help Wanted

 foant corning so Symant. Froe hasizes, procices. cat. 1 - $800-323-4633$.
TRAVEL FREEI Sell Spring Greak Trips to TRAVEL FREEI Sell Spring Break Trips to Jarraica, Cancen. Bahamas, Marparita khand. Best commissions peid Sur Splazh Tours. 1-800-428-7710.
Know Bafore You Go, where to work, live and sid trea in Colorado's metons Current Guda to Axpont $788-5374$.

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS to students or student Organizations promoting our Good Pay & Fun. Call CMI 1-600-423-5264.

Eann 52500, Free Thips Seling Spring Break Pack 3 eps To Buhamas, Mavico, Jamaica. Florical Bat Trps, Prices! Spring Brack Travel 1-800-638-6786. Gampua Fepresortatives Noedinct Exam free mie 7996 or $n$ comecticia in $^{2037} 975-8870$.

| Roommaters |
| :---: |
| Mon-Smoking Grad Student Seeching Sarme To Share 2bdim Fiat On Lancastor Ave. $$ 250$ $471-8514$. |
| Misc. Wanted |
| Wherted: Maparinas-Nowrsweck, LIf, S.I, Roling Strane, Etc. Dont trow them oul For piture file. Tim. 425-524. |
| FOR RENT |
| Apariments |
| GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: SIudio spt. 2 -   buiding Lemxify roma No pess Comper of Com-   |
| 2.Bedroom tower fitht, Euclid near Weatcott. Screaned porch oftistreek palking Privito yard $$ 540.682-8823$. |
|  $$ 240$ a thonth, John $424-8054$. |
| FALL & SPRING accepting Senior a Gractuate male & femalo students to fir several 40 odm mpartments, 1 modivial ok Ratest: Bescic furnishod model $230.00: Desierner/Dehume model $$ 325.00$. At ar kersod naxi of.S.F. campas on Ominn   teilort $Y$ block waling wcaton and are nomy fut   | Share 2bolm Firt On I arcester Ave sist

Misc. Wanted

Dony trow them out For pitury fie Tm. 4 Z-524

FOR RENT

GAO STUDENTS WANTED: Sudie spt 2. odrom charuvents ABulitias inciuced Secured harim latrody roont No pers Compr of Com-
2.Bedroom fower fist, Euclid noar Westcott

SUSBLET: 944 Lancasier Averume, one room syblet $$ 20$ a thonth, John $4 \% 40054$

FALL & SPPING accepting Senior a Grachata partments, 1 inclivual ok Aotest Bavic furmizhod

 triture CoI $673-1344$ tor s choice stutort apt

The Panhellenic Association would like to Thank all the Rush counselors for their tremendous support and effort in making rush as smooth as possible

Kim Lemback
Lauren Smith
Kerry Wolverton
Terri Rosen
Kate Premo
Jill Cavanaugh
Karin Zauderer
Renee Sherman
Judy Mark
Elizabeth Tisherman
Valerie Blickstein
Kristi Perrera
Julie Shake
Tina Russel
Amy Sterenberg

Liz McGoldrickDana DeluciaSheena SteinerWendy SpiesmanAllyson CohenLaurie Mantegna Jamie PowellTeri FetherolfChristine JohnsonMelissa SolomonNancy RawdinBarbara VandowJodi Genzer Tracey BobstAmy Mutchler

Jennifer Spaulding
Tara Rooney
Martha Nailor
Claire Walker
Kate Berman
Brittany Hinkle
Pam Smith Angela Orsini Jodi Schnebel
Stacy Spinavaria
Michele Banks
Kim Baer
Jamie Lyman
Jill Greenberg
Dana Finkelstein

Untworaty Ane Furnacted 3 bednoom fatr, bunadry.

One Horth Frae Pamt 3 bedroom one block from campur just redecorarad. Fumituse nupociabile

AVALLAELE TCOAY ONE TWO BEDROOM

UNNERSITY STUDENTS SUNGLE BEORCOM
 carpeted bundry, microwaw, cabiotv. Nica. chose to carmin $$ 250-52 \mathrm{ss}$. Compters.

474 1303. 4743300.

PRNATE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS Very close. Secure. Quiet. Carpmiad. Alt Apts. $479-5005$.

Aparmment for rent, outer Universty. Three bedrooms. livingroom, kitchan. diningroorn. of prolationtis Cals44-609a

Houses
Univivaty Axm 5 bedroon hous anty $$ 125000$

PERSONALS

Darian Lmanmin Slefig and Lix. Thark you tor an anraning jijb wich rush. You givs are grual Low

Sig EP. Thander tor an inerection weat and win oven befier motiona You guys are anaziol tive the Sturns whd Plecyes ot HCFI

SX AEF wd ATO k was a wric wy to spenc
 pindops of Aphe XiDoke

Sutratrie and Bettr-Good Luck wat overting We know yoult both do an areplart po. Love the Sisters ard Plocpes of AOPI.

STUDENS AnD FACIETY. Are you meny

 by the Food Systams Managomerill World catiro $443-3102$. Dinner is from 530 to 7.00 Validite. Masterterd Visa and rath are accapmand. We hope to see you therel

CHPAS CHANEE: HAPPY EELATED 21st Ebrimpayl Love from your hempy, noent pirtriend
Lentoly Chi Thasts for a nion pary milouning

SERVICES

Dows STAT Class Have You Down? Hetp is Armionevis
ACHE HELEF: MFORMATIOM THAT WML CHANGE YOUR IFE PRCNEN EFFECTAE: SENO $3.0 TO SKIN CARE CENTER, 97 WASHNGTON, ALENNY. MY 1220a
 Purctazing, Fepairing. PC's, VIES, Unix. CA oveninges best 457-6187 Mart:

Math nued hepp and wath thet B or A mit midiem? Signep tor neporng 400-6096.
 relreather courses. ONONDAGA OADVIM Nactery $470-3005$

Tyiving For al your ryping noeder leusers.
 852-3a14
 S. how Acropolil.

MisC.

Ever Bun in a Prove? Lhe to mot Sracus

CONOVER

Continued from Page 20
So far Browns defensive line coach John Mitchell has been impressed with his backup defenaive tackle.
"He has all the tools," Mitchell said. "He has to keep his weight down and work hard. I'rn excited about Frank Conover."

Conover, a native of Englishtown, N.J., was in awe of his town, NaJ., was in awe of his professional opponents at first, but said he is quickly to his new way of life.
to his new way of life.
He has also found himself backing up All-Pro Michael Dean Perry at defencive tackle.
"I played against (Vikings guard) Randall McDaniel. (Redskins center) Jeff Bostic and (Giants center) Bart Qates." Conoversaid. "You've been watching them for years, but then in the trenches it means nothing." Mitchell suggests Conover should take note of an imporshould take note of an important philosophy concerning surtant philosophy con vival in the league.
ival in the league.
"The thing that Frank has to do is be ready to practice everyday," Mitchell said. "Because someone can come in and take your job."

Conower says he's not sure what Mitchell and the rest of the coaching staff think about him, especially with a player of Perry's caliber ahead of him.
"I'm not sure what the im pression is," Conover said. "Michael Dean (who held out during training camp this year) wasn't here, so I fit in the right tackle spot and I made of the most of it."

Conover has played in all five of the Browns games. He started the opener against the Dallas Cowboys and sacked quarterback Troy Aikman.

While at Syracuse, Conover, $6-$ foot-5, 317 pounds, won three letters. In those years, Conover recorded 44 tackles and regisrecorded $21 / 2$ quarterback sacks.
Mitchell isn't familiar with Conover's career at Syracuse. he but said he knows Cleveland is taking notes on the former Orangeman at all zimes.
"I don't know what happened to Frank in Syracuse." Mitchell said. "But the type of defense we play he can fit into.

Conover is thankful for his current position, especially after the Browns and new head coach Bill Belichick were look. ing for some young players.
"They were getting rid of some older guys and I fit in," Conover said. "I couldn't ask for a better situation. When 1 came in here everything was wide open."

Mitchell said he's expecting Conover to continue to progress and adjust to the professional ranks.
"He has unlimited potential." Mitchell said. WIf Frank realizes what he has and strives to get better day in and day out, he'll be okay."

UPTOWNE ELECTROLYSIS

- complimentary consultation -private & personalized service - convenient to campus

450 HAWLEY AVE (Comer N. Crouse)

CONNIE WILLITS CPE
certified professional electrologist

ADVELTISING SALES ASSISTANT

We're looking for a reliable student

744 Dstroman Ave $8230 \mathrm{~mm}-4830 \mathrm{pm}$ to fill the position of Advertising Sales Assistant. The person must be able to work from 10:30 am until 1:30 pm, Monday through Friday. The position entails backing-up the sales staff and performing some telemarketing activities. This is a paid position.

Wo carry Syracuse's most complete Ilne of Costumes, Masks, Makoup. Boards, Hats, Hair Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Disgulse Kits, Decoratlons (Indoar & Outdoor), Novelties, Greeting Cards and More........... RENTAL COSTUMES

```
Hours:M.-S. 0.9:45
Sun. 11-5:45
[-8이
```

Tan Minutes From The Unlverslty E1 NORTH

- EXIT 28 (Nattydele)
-Follow S. BAY RD. SIgna
-Look For Switz'e Tower

START YOUR FIRST DAY WITH YEARS OF EXPERIENCE BEHIND YOU.

Bring your BSN to the Army and we'll assign a preceptor to help put you at ease.

Your preceptor will be an experienced Army Nurse who will smooth your transition from school to practice. With advice, counsel on Army nursing procedure, or just by being a friend.

With your preceptor's help, you'll meet your new challenges and rapidly move into a leadership role of your own.

If you're a BSN candidate. . . or you are an RN with a BSN...you'll find the rewards and responsibility you're looking for in Army Nursing. Contact your local Army Nurse Corps Recruiter.

315-423-5218 • 423-5438

716-856-1700 - 856-1851 - 716-546-5472
ARMY NURSE CORPS.
BE ALLYOU CAN BE.

MSN: The answer!

 Becoming a Sales Rep for The Daily OrangeIf you have of few homurs to spane s week, the destre & comndturent mo work yon conld be making enongh. money to get yom hrongt the nehool yedr.

> Apply me The Daily Orange 744 Ostrom Are.
> $\mathbf{8 : 3 0}-4.30$, Mon. - Fri.

PHI ETA SIGMA General Meeting October 6, 1991 8pm Schine 304 B&C

ALL inductees are encouraged to attend! We'll answer your questions but, we need your ideas!

Big East statistics/standings

HOKIES

Continued from Page 20

they scored 20 or more in nine of 11 contests. According to Beamer, the offense holds the key to this season's success.
"The bottom line is that we have to be more consistent on offense," Beamer said. "If we can accomplish that. then maybe can accomplish that. then may Senior quarterback Will Furrer epitomizes the offense, as he has thrown for an average of 224 yards per game but has also given up 10 interceptions.
Furrer and his Hokie teammates will try to get back on track this week in a contest that marks an old rivalry with a new twist.
West Virginia leads the series 23-12-1, but all slates are wiped clean for the teams' first Big East meeting.
football game for us," Beamer said. "This has always been a win and win handily, people good pame, and now. being in consider it as a loss," Berndt the same conference enhances it that much more.'

Paterno vs. Big East

Temple becomes the second Big East squad to square off with Penn State in two weeks on Saturday as the Nittany Lions invade Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia.

Joe Paterno's bunch will be a familiar foe around the conference come year's end. as the Lions defeated Boston College, 28-21, last week and face every Big East team except Syracuse and Virginia Tech.

The Owls recorded their first victory last week with a 40-0 shutout over Division I-AA Howard.

According to coach Jerry Berndt, it was a game in which Temple had little to gain and a lot to lose.
"Last Saturday was one of those games where, if you don't said. "Luckily for us, we won handily."

In the Big East's initial season, every matchup with the Big 10 is seen as important. So far, the Big East holds a 3-1 advantage in inter-conference play.

Included in the East's record is Rutgers' mildly surprising 14-7 victory at Michigan State. Berndt said he is aware of his team's responsibility to the conference.
"We hope that we can have the same kind of success against the Big 10 as Rutgers has had," Berndt said. "We want to hold up our part in the Big East Conference's competition with the Big 10."

And, by the way, does Penn State's six Big East contests qualify them for visiting membership? That's four more conference garnes than Miami plays and five more than Virginia and In Tech.

START YOUR FIRST DAY WITH YEARS OF EXPERIENCE BEHIND YOU.

Bring your BSN to the Army and we'll assign a preceptor to help put you at ease.

Your preceptor will be an experienced Ammy Nurse who will smooth your transition from school to practice. With advice, counsel on Army mursing procedure, or just by being a friend.

With your preceptor's help, you'll meet your new challenges and rapidly move into a leadership role of your own.

If you're a BSN candidate... or you are an RN with a BSN... you'll find the rewards and responsibility you're looking for in Army Nursing. Contact your local Arrny Nurse Corps Recruiter

315-423-5218 - 423-5438

716-856-1700 • 856-1851 • 716-546-5472
ARMY MTV+5 CORPS BEALYOT EAN BE

Carson doesn't mind hitting the books  By DAVE KERN  Carson credits her parents for  is important, but I know par-  off-season, she enjoys water-  like on a week when you have a

Contributing Writer
If you can't find her playing volleyball in the Women's Building or in class, chances are someplace with a good book.
"I read just about anything but non-fiction and westerns," said Carson, who lists Stephen King and Dean $\mathbf{R}$. Koontz among King and Dean R. Koo er favorite authors.
Born in the small town of Colchester, Ill., Carson can trace the influence of athletics back to her youth.
"My father played basketball and my mother majored in physical education in college," she said.

SEMINOLE

Continued from Page 20

We know what it takes to win it all."

The Seminoles know what it takes, but they've never done it. And if this is going to be the year, they'll have to earn it. Florida State's rugged schedule will finish the year with games against No. 2 Miami and No. 13 Florida.

The current No. I ranking is well-deserved. This team is loaded. Quarterback Casey Weldon is $10-0$ as a starter. Weldon don is $10-0$ as a starter. Weldon has thrown for 896 yards in fourgames and has thrown 10 touchdown passes and two interceptions.
Weldon sper.rheads an offense which aver ges 47.8 points and 506 yard. per game. But FSU is not only potent, it's efficient. The Seminoles scored 31 points on 26 plays in the first half against Michigan.
"I hate to say we strike too quickly, but we're not a very good ball-control offense," Bowden said. "Our offense is just geared a little more wide-open geared a ittle more wide-open than others. When were clickthan others. When we re chit to ing it score"

FSU's backfield is one of the best in the country. Junior tailback Amp Lee, who ran for a season-high 122 yards against Michigan and scored two touchdowns, is the leading rusher with 358 on 56 carries ( 6.4 average).
"Sometimes it doesn't look, like he's going very fast," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said. "But he's so smooth

Lee is joined by fullback Edgar Bennett, the team's secondleading receiver, who gained 98 yards in the Seminoles' seasonopening win over BYU in the being highly supportive throughout her competitive career.
"Dad would always come and video my matches," said Carson. Ithink that support from home
SU spotlight

Pigskin Classic.
Lee and Bennett have combined for nine touchdowns and 18 receptions. The sure-handed pair has fumbled just once since 1989, the exception coming last week when Bennett fumbled against Michigan.
-Bennett is not only a great runner, he's a great blocker." Pasqualoni said. "I don't know if I can remember seeing two guys in the backfield like that." Florida State's leading receiver is junior wideout Eric Turral, who has 14 catches for 171 yards and three touchdowns.

The FSU defense is flooded with speed. All-American cornerback Terrell Buckley, who returned a punt for a touchdown two years ago against SU, has three interceptions. He and defensive lineman Toddrick McIntosh both returned interceptions for touchdowns against the Wolverines.
But as quick as the Seminoles' defense may be, it did allow 31 points last Saturday, which is a concern for Bowden. The coach said he is concerned about Syracuse's size overmatching his smaller, quicker defense much the way the Orangemen dominated Florida.
"We'reconcerned about a physical test because we're not very big," Bowden said. "We played 2-3 lines (against Michigan) and took our chances that they wouldn't roll us over."
The Seminoles' greatest weakness lies in the leg of its kicker, freshman Dan Mowrey, who missed four extra points against Mishigan. If Mowrey continues to have problems, punter John Wimberly problems, punter Joh Wimberly will replace him.
Mowrey has seen a sports psychologist this week to try and correct his problem.

 Higioid
Volunteer.

American Heart Association
ents that have been too pushy:" Prior to starting volleyball in sixth grade, Carson was a gym nast. Carson, who now stands at 5 -foot-11, said she eventually outgrew the sport. She also played one year of high school played onall.

Carson admits to the fact that she can get bored easily and she can get bored easity and likes to stay active. During the skiing.
In high school, she found time for a job and cheerleading in addition to her athletics. Carson said she feels that this level of activity is possible if people use time correctly.
"I think you can remain fully dedicated to your activity and your academics," she said. "Sure there are conflicts sometimes, lot of tests, but coach (Dan Schulte) is real good about helping us through.
"You have a little bit less free time. Weekends are tough, especially road trips, sometimes you have to study on the bus."
Still, it is doubtful that it matters much whether Carson has to open a text on the team bus - she'd probably be reading a book anyway.

 Hey all you Dledges Get psyched For Pledge Olympics!!

Sunday October 6, 12 noon - ?
At the Women's building field.
Please bring one canned good to Help our Panhellenic philanthropy
Love The Panhellenic Association and all your PX's

Sports

Ismail wins awards with hands, mouth  With the Syracuse University foot ball season now a little more than a third of the way through, it is time for the 2nd annual Award Awards.So just sit back, read and enjoy as I salute the Orangemen's proud heroes for their $4-0$ start. (I'm sure you're all anxiously awaiting the fine reading that will surely follow.) DAVID © Most Im-

DAVID J.
BUSCEMA

SPORTS

 OPINION proved Player: adry Ismail. Ismail has surthe Big East in atches on the with 364 and has 17 Inmail didn't car.Ismail didn't catch his first collegiate pass until this year. And, while talk of his being a Heisman Candidate is a bit premature, he has emerged as a legitimate deep threat and has contributed greatly to the Orangemen's undefeated record.

Congratulations, Qadry. There'snothing like winning -Best Play of the Year: Gee, let's see, could it be the Kirby Dar Dar see, could kickofr return?

Dar Dar's return set the tone in SU's stunning 38-21 win over Florida in the Dome.

Not to mention the fact that it woke up a crowd that had been lulled to sleep by a TV timeout right before the start of the game.

But that's another story. That falls under the heading of -Most Annoying Factor in a Game: This one is something we'll have to look forward to again only this Saturday in SU's next nationally televised game.

National exposure is great for the program, for the fans not in attendance, for the mascot who brags to mom and dad that he was on TV ... basically, for everyone except the players, the regular press, and the game day crowd.

Back to the Florida game. No. 5 vs . No. I8. The SU band begins to play.
The fans stand up, clapping. The The fans stand up, clapping. The players are pumped. And here comes players are pumped. And here comes the kickoff. Nope, not yet, because the kickoff. Nope, not yet, because $A B C$ is still showing their "Why ABC is still showing douche?" commercial.
C'mon, networks, give us a break and get to the games in a reasonable amount of time.
-Most Foolish Reason for Getting Annoyed: Qadry Ismail.
Yes, Ismail wins his second award for his complaint after the Florida game.

Ismail indicated surprise that even Our own school paper" didn't pick the Orangemen to beat the Gators.
No. 1, Qadry, we may be a school paper, but that doesn't mean our allegiance is to the school we cover. We're impartial, almost like real reporters or something.

No. 2, Qadry, is it really a disappointment for us to pick against you? pointment for us to pick against you? Check our records this week, and Im sure you'll agree it is better for pick against you than for you.
pick against you than for you.
-Best Call of the Year: The coach--Best Call of the Year: The coachreturn the kick.

- Worst Call of the Year: Any portion of any game announced by radio guy Doug Logan.
-Worst Column of the Year: After reading this, I don't think there's much room for debate, do you?

Tricia

Question: Who did Roger Maris hit his 61 st home run off of in $1961 ?$

Yegterday's answer: Burt Reymolds has thrown the gpear into. the Whatier of Bones

Will'91 be Bowden's year?

Florida State University tailback Amp Lee will help lead the top-ranked Seminoles in their quest for an elusive national op-ranked Seminoles in the Seminoles host No. 10 Syracuse Championship. Lee and the Semin

Hokies poking along with subpar record

Florida State loaded for national title run

By ROB GUYEITE

Sports Editor

Florida State coach Bobby Bowden has earned the nickname "King of the Road" because of his willingness to schedule and beat a highly-ranked leam on its own turf.
But Bowden has never been "King of the Hill" and finished a season with a national championship.

The Seminoles have finished in the top five each of the past four years. They've won 48 of their last 54 games. They have the nation's longest current winning streak, 10 games, and they've yet to trail n any of them.
But Bowden and the Seminoles have never finished No. 1.
Top-ranked Florida State, 4-0, will face No. 10 Syracuse on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in Tallahassee. The closest Florida State got to a national title was 1987, when it finished $11-1$ and ranked No. 2. The Seminoles only loss that season was a 26-25 In 1989 , FSU lost its first two games - to Southern Mississippi and Clemson - before finishing $10-2$ and ranked No. 3. That team, which blew ing $10-2$ and ranked No. ${ }^{\text {a }}$. That team, which blew considered the best in the nation at the end of the considered the best in the nation at the end of the year. But So is this team, which beat No. 3 Michigan 51-31 last weekend in Ann Arbor, finally the one that will make Bowden king?
"It's got a chance," Bowden said this week. "It's got to prove it. We've had an 11-1 ballclub that was one point away from perfect. We've got a long way to go.'
Bow
Bowden's players have been more outspoken on the national title chances. They have established it as their goal and seem to be using the hype as an extra motivational tool.
"We want the ring, so we're going to do what it "We're tired of finishing in the top five We don't want to take second to anyone so we can't afford a letdown (on Saturday).
Said tackle Kevin Ma
See SEMINOLE Page 19

Conover fulfilling dad's dream

By MIKE BUSH

Last year, Virginia Tech was sorry to see its football season come to an end.

Season-ending victories over Southern Mississippi, North Carolina State and Virginia, as well as 6-3 loss to national champion Georgia Tech left the Hokies ranked No. 25 and hungry for 1991.

But things have not worked out as planned for coach Frank Beamer and the Hokies.
Despite its 16 returning starters, Virginia Tech has opened the season at -3. Hokies have dropped three consecutive games, including a 27-17 loss at NJ. 5 Oklahoma after opening the at NJ. 5 oklahoma aiter opening the Season w.
All three losses were on the road, as is this week's Big East contest with West Virginia.

The Mountaineers were idle last week and bring a $3-1$ record and a three-game win streak into the matchup.
"West Virginia has gotten better each week." Beamer said. "They've had two weeks to prepare for us, and I certainly think that gives them an advantage.'

All three of Virginia Tech's defeats were close. A 7-0 loss to the N.C. State Wolfpack, a 28-21 defeat at South Carolina and last week's contest with powerful Oklahoma show that the Hokies have been competitive.

Beamer said he emphasizes that fact again and again.
"As I have said, we're not a football team that's been blown out or that hasn't been playing hard," Beamer said. "We're just not getting over the hump right now.
Mountaineers head coach Don Nehlen agrees that the Hokies record is not a true measure of their talent defense. I like their kicking," Nehlen said. "I think their record is totally misleading.

If Virginia Tech can get over the hump against West Virginia this week, they will be headed into a rare five-game homestand with some momentum.
The problem is, the stretch begins with Florida State, the nation's current top-ranked team.

But first. Virginia Tech must concentrate on the Mountaineers. Scoring points was easy for the Hokies last season, as

See HOKIES Page 18

By GL PAGOVICH
Staff Writer
Frank Conover Sr. dreamied of one in the National Football Yeague. Football League. came- a meality, butaty the elder: Conover passed: away in Syractues after bate Orangemenyearastathand spring Conpyez

位8 int

The Daily Orange

SU area residents clash with students living off-campus

By TOM SEELEY  Staff Writer

Syracuse University students living in the off-campus University Hill area are not paying enough respect to the permanent residents, according to Jack Mitchell, a permanent resident of Lancaster Avenue.
"Other people"s concerns need to be brought into the equation of living," he said.
Quation the campus and the neighborhood have worsened as density has increased, he said, calling it a student-oriented problem.

He said his recent complaints have included a group of students gathering around a bonfire in the middle of the street chanting, and several couples engaging in sexual activity on his property while a student party was taking place two houses from his.
He also said in the past, permanent residents would have attempted to negotiate, but now residents are increasingly turning problems over to the police.
However, Steven Thompson, deputy chief of the Syracuse Police, said he does not see the situation as a problem.
"Whenever you have a large number of students living in a community with permanent residents, issues of this nature are bound to arise, and I'm not just talking about in Syracuse," he said.

Doing what they want

Andrea Goltzer, a student residing on Lancaster Avenue, said she agreed with Mitchell.
"Students want the freedom to do whatever they want, which is kind of harsh when you consider that there are families living in the area," she said.
Stewart Koenig, president of the Southeast University Neighborhood Association, said there are problerns every year as temporary student residents need to be educated about the problems of living on their own.
Koenig said the main problems the neighborhood is facing include increased garbage, increased noise and winter.

Mitchell said he did not blame the students alone for the problems. The university is also largely at fault, he said.
The university runs its housing like a hotel," he said. "They try to keep as many rooms open as possible, so as to have armple room to house new students.
The university has to address the situation by offering different combinations of housing arrangedifferent financial situations to live on campus.

Generating school spirit

More school spirit will be generated, and people will be less likely to look off campus for entertainment, he said.

Schine shooting

- Mark Sloan, senior electrical engineering major, relaxes after attending the job fair in Goldstein auditorium by playing a game of pool in Schine's basement game room
Thursday night.

Budget cuts put construction plans on hold for now

By KATHERINE DROUIN  Stalf Writer

When the university administration first drew up the decade's master building plans, it foresaw only sunny skies and a healthy budget.
The budget's future has since been clouded. and future construction projects have been put on hold, said Harvey Kaiser, senior vice president for facilities administration.

You create a master plan as a guide for the future, Kaiser said. "The plans occurred as the needs arose
"The basic premise for the plan was a certain size institution with certain needs.

The master plans were divided into "future academic and support services" and "future housing," and they outlined construction plans on nearly every section of North Campus.
Construction is already underway for Maxwell II, an addition to the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs and a parking garage on South Crouse Avenue.
"We were looking at restructuring to create additional academic teaching and research space," Kaiser said.

All kinds of plans

Proposed construction included additional wings on the Center for Science and Technology, a low-rise residence hall on Ostrom Avenue between Euclid Avenue and University Place, and a structure that would have covered most of the $\mathrm{C}-5 / \mathrm{E}-16$ parking lot on Walnut Place.
The university had originally planned to add 1,000 beds during the next five or six years, in addition to the 400 added to Day Hall in 1988 and 1989, Kaiser said. Those 400 beds had been added to deal with a jump in enrollment.

But enrollment has dropped from 12,537 in 1989 to an estimated 11,574 this year. The resulting drop in revenue has forced the administration to put development plans on hold.
"They are being suspended until restructuring plans are firm," Kaiser said.
The chancellor will present his restructuring plan Jan. 30 and will probably set a timetable for construction then, Kaiser said.
"We still have the plans as a guide for the future." Kaiser said. "However, the timing has changed."

Southeast University Neighborhood Association (SEUNA) member Kristin Cominsky said that though the plans were on hold, local off-campus residents are still wary of new construction.
"Our concern is to preserve the residential quality of the neighborhood," Cominsky said, "not expanding the campus into the neighborhood is a plus for us.

See PLAN Page A6

Professor examines Soviet Union's demise

By ANDY RYAN

Staff Writer
After the failed Soviet coup attempt, the collapse of the Communist Party and the emerged independence of the Baltic states, a question arises: What's next for the Soviet Union?

Goodwin Cooke, professor of international relations at Syracuse University, tried to answer that question at the Thursday Morning Roundtable.
"The Soviet Union is coming apart not only at the seams, but at its very fiber," Cooke said. "The Soviet Union is dissolv-ing-pulling itself apart."
Cooke said the process started about five years ago with "the deciding factor being the astonishing, weird events that happened on the week of Aug. 19.
Cooke called the coup attempt almost humorous, describing it as five old men who were out of touch with modern realities trying to seize control simply by saying so.

Most of it was comic - it was not Karl Marx, it was Groucho Marx," he Coo Cooke named Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev as the main reason for the dramatic turn of events in the Soviet Union, citing his large role in ending the Cold War.

$($
He brought the Soviet military forces home, did not object home, did not object of Germany, and attempted economic reforms. reforms.

What he did accomplish is amazing, and we should be grateful," Cooke said.
Although Gorbachev tried to implement these reforms, he also tried to preserve the old institutions, Cooke said.
"He tried to make them more benign, but he tried to keep the old institutions alive," Cooke said.
"But the events of the week of Aug19 provided for discontinuity in Soviet history," he said. "The Communist Party and the military lost all standing in the public eye."
Now the Communist Party has been abolished and the Soviet Union is falling apart, he said. The Baltic nations are fully liberated, are recognized by the United States and the countries of Wested States and the countries of United Nations, he said.

Cooke said he believes the Baltic nations are not ready for full liberation from the Soviet Union and they will probably turn to the Soviet Union for trade.
As for the Soviet Union, Cooke said it has formed a "new, looser government." The key to this new government is the State Council, composed of the president of the Soviet Union and the presidents of the Soviet union and the pre of the various republics, he said.

Military control

However, control of the military and the Soviet Union's nuelear arsenal will still remain central, he said.
But the future of the government is still up in the air, Cooke said.
"I have no idea how the Soviet Union will be governed," he said. will be sort of ad hoc-ski."

He said one of the probiems facing the new Soviet government will be dealing with the various nationalities that make up the Soviet Union, such as the Kurds and the Tartars.

Cooke said the Russian military has been discredited, and now these groups are becoming more boisterous

He also said he believed national fervor is enhanced in a weak economy, and the Soviet economy is definitely that. Cooke said the Soviet gross national product is 20 percent below the level it was one year ago: inflation has risen to 37 percent per year and the ruble is almost worthless.

The situation in the cities is particularly bad - their food shortages are worse than in the rural areas, he said.
"People have resorted to using cigarettes and chocolate as means of exchange because these don't decrease in alue the way the ruble has." Cooke said. According to Cooke, the military cannot be counted on to put down any national uprising that will occur with
See TMR Page A6

Inside

Classified
Comics
Editorial
.A5
Prism
A12
Weather

NEWS AT A GLANCE

World

South African writer

 wins Nobel PrizeNadine Gordimer, a white South African novelist whose denunciations of apartheid caused some of her works to be banned in her own country, won the 199 Nobel Prize in literature yesterday.

Gordimer is the first woman in 25
Some of Gordimer's works, which include 10 novels and more than 200 short stories, have been banned by the white minority government because of their political content.

Her most recent collection of short stories, Jump, was published this year.

Iraqi officers killed after failed coup

An Iraqi opposition radio station was quoted yesterday as saying that 76 Iraqi military officers were executed after a failed attempt to topple Saddam Hussein last month.

Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency said the executions were reported by Free Iraq, a clandestine radio station which broadcasts from the Per $\operatorname{sian}$ Gulf.

IRNA said Free Iraq attributed its information on the 76 executions to unidentified Iraqi military sources.

The report did not provide the ranks or other details on the identity of the officers allegedly executed, IRNA said.

Japanese finance minister resigns

Finance Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto, harshly criticized for lax regulation in the face of a series of financial scandals, submitted his resignation yesterday.

In another scandal, the chairman of Fuji Bank quit his position.

Fuji chairman Taizo Hashida, whose bank is the world's third-largest, resigned over a scandal involving forged deposit certificates.

Nation

Senate approves bill giving workers family leave
The Senate overwhelmingly approved a measure Wednesday requiring employers to grant unpaid family leave for workers who need to take care of family emergencies.

Workers would be able to take up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave to attend emergencies, such as the sickness of an emergencies, such as the sickness of an or newly adopted child.

The 65 -to- 32 margin indicates that the Senate could vote to override the veto that President Bush threatened
The House is expected to vote on the measure as early as next week.

Police say woman tried to spread AIDS virus

A woman who escaped a drug treatment center after prosecutors accused her of trying to transmit the AIDS virus through prostitution was discovered giving birth in a Chicago hospital.
The 21-year-old woman will be arrested when she recovers from childbirth at Bethany Hospital, Madison County state's attorney Bill Haine said Wednesday.

The woman, who was charged with offering oral sex to a police officer for $$ 25$, escaped criminal prosecution in May after she agreed to drug treatment. She ran away from the treatment center May 22. The woman was later charged with atternpted transmission of the human immunodeficiency virus, which causes AIDS.

Lawsuit claims man

fatally bitten by ants

A woman from Louisiana claimed in a lawsuit that her husband was fatally bitten by ants while the couple slept in a motel room.

The woman said she and her husband stayed at a Red Roof Inn last year during a trip to Houston. When the husband awakened with swelling and nausea, his wife discovered hundreds of fire ants swarming in his bed, the lawsuit said.

He was treated at a hospital for severe allergic reaction and later died.

State

Judge rules prison
policies discriminatory
A federal judge ruled that black and A federal judge ruled that black and Hispanic inmates at a state prison in Elmira have been discriminated against Elmira have been discriminated against in discipline, housing and job assignin disc ments.

Judge David $G$. Larimer issued a decision Tuesday in Fochester and said prison officials violated the inmates constitutional rights.

He ordered prison officials to meet with an inmates' advocacy group within 30 days to fix the problem.

Black and Hispanic inmates were punished twice as often as whites, according to a lawyer for the inmates.

He also said poor disciplinary records He also said poor disciplinary records with held m ing parole.

State economic report

says umemployment rate up Yorl' York's economy showed growth in some regions, businesses and state residents faced financial hardships during the first half of the year, according to a report issued by the Department of Economic Development Wednesday.

Syracuse was one of four areas in the state that experienced increased business activity between 1990 and 1991 .
All of the state's major labor areas showed job losses in the first six months of the year compared to the same time period in 1990.

Unemployment for the first six months of this year was at 7.1 percent, up from 5.1 percent in 1990 . It was the highest figure for the period in seven years.

Business activity from January through June was also down about two percent from the same period a year later.
${ }^{\text {Although there were some signs of }}$ growth, the prevailing trend was generally negative," Vincent Tese, director of Gov. Mario Cuomo's Department of Economic Development. said.

University

New late law classes

implemented at UC

The Syracuse University College of Law has scheduled late afternoon and evening courses for the Spring 1992 evening courses for the Spring 1992 semester to accommodate attorneys ensemester to accommodate attorneys enrolled part-time in the new Master of rolled part-time in the Laws (LL.M.) program.

The deadline to register for the seven classes is Oct. 15.

The program is open to holders of the juris doctor or equivalent degree. The courses are offered in deferred compensation, federal income tax II, tax procedures, tax-passthrough business entities, tax penalties and prosecutions, federal taxation of tax-exempt organizations and urban housing.

The LL.M. program is coordinated by University College's continuing education division and by the College of Law.

Further information is available from University College at 443-3273.

Diversity panel

Convenes Monday might
The Office of Student Assistance will sponsor a workshop panel presentation titled "Viewpoints on Diversity," on Monday at 7 p.m. in Room 500 in the Hall of Languages.

This is the first workshop in a "Diversity Mini-series" sponsored by the Office for Student Assistance.

The panelists will be Robert C. Bogdan. professor of special education and sociol: ogy: Bethaida Gonzalez, director of student support services at University College; Paul Pedersen, professor of counselor education; and Nancy Rhodes, assistant to the director of the Women's Studies department. The panel will be moderated by Michael Simitee, associate director of the Office of International Services.

For more information call 443-4357 (voice) or 443-5019 (TDD).

WEATHER

Mild

-Today will be partly sunny and mild with high temperatures in the low 70s. This afternoon will bring a 30 percent noon will bring a 30 percent chance of rain. Tonight Will be cooler with an increased chance of rain.

Saturday
The weekend isn't looking too good, folks. Rain and clouds are predicted for today. Lows will be in the 50 s . Highs in the 60s.

Sunday
Ditto.

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Chicago
Dallas
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.
Joday'nguest city: Wella. Maine

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse Univeroity's independent etudent-run newepaper prablighed Monday through Friday. The nowspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse Univeraity and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry ckmpuree.

The editors are available after 3 p.rn. Sundey through Thuradiny.

Newsletter promotes university neighborhood

By ELIZABETH HOLAHAN

 Stirf WriterIf the University Neighborhood Preservation Association has its way, more owners will has its way, more owners will be living in their homes in the Byracuse
Bob Bellandi, president of the Bob Belland
"In some areas, this neigh* borhood has a bad reputation for being too noisy and having too many houses in a state of disrepair," he said. "We want to point out the many positive aspects."

The one-year-cid association holds monthly meetings. There are 15 board members, including Eleanor Gallagher, SU exing Eleanor Galive assistant to the chancelecut

As part of its campaign to promote the university area, the association publishes a quarterly newaletter. The newsletter describes the aesthetic and historical value of the neighborhood, he said.

The newsletter is distributed to 75 "block captains." local realtors. city officials and residents on a mailing list. he said.

The nevssletter is produced by Miranda and Kenneth Hire by Miranda and Kenneth Hine and distributed primarily in the and distributed primariy in the spring and fall, when the inter* est in prospective real estate is strongest.
Supported by Eggers
Bellandi said former Chan-

F.Y.

WCNY programs

new specials
WCNY-TV Channel 24 will air several new programs in the air several new programs in the next two weeks, inelading ant next two weeks, including ant interview with civil rightsleader interview with Leon Modeste.

Modeste, president and chief executive officer of the Urban League of Onondaga County, will be the subject of CNY Close-Up's Proffle, which will air tonight at 9:30 p.m.

Other upcoming programs include the six-part musical se* ries Pennies from Heaven and a special presentation of NOVA special presentation
Adult asthmatics needed for program

The American Lung Association of Central New York is recruiting adult asthmatios for a research and self-mamagement program.

Registrants will be screened today and Saturday at St. Camillus Health and Rehabilitation Center, 813 Fay Road.
cellor Melvin A. Eggers supported the group and SU paid for the first newsletter to help get it started.
"We are an independent, not-for-profit organization," Bellandi said. "Our primary audience for the newsletter is the university, the medical school and area he medical school and area hospitals." hospitals.

He said a list of "feature" homes is compiled by the association and sent to department chairmen throughout the university and local hospitals.
"These homes are all diverse and not in one price bracket," he said.

Bellandi said the group runs historical tours for local realtors. "We want to emphasize that these are desirable neighthat these are desirable neighand more vitality than others," and more

He said the association recently hosted a display of historical Syracuse photos at the Shaffer Art Building and invited former residents to attend for a reunion.

Later this month the group will begin a "low-interest loan fund" to help renters become owners. This involves putting a home which has been divided into apartments back into living intoapartments back intoliving condition for one family, he said.
"It will enable us to take an investor house, remodel certain aspects, and turn it into a family residence," Bellandi said.

The educational program will be held the week of Oct. 7 with late-afternoon and evening sesgions available.

For more information. call the American Lung Association of Central New York at 422. 6142.

Local writers discuss censorship

"Banned Books, Censored Songs and Arrested Art" will be the topic of discussion at the Community Writers' Project's fall benefit.

The evening will consist of a series of readings, slide talks and music concerned with issues of censorship.

The benefit will be Saturday from 7 to 10 p.m. at the May Memorial Unitarian Society in Syracuse. Admission, which includes the program and refreshments, is $$ 10$.

For more information. call 472-0400.

Hmadricks Chapel Syrmuret, NY. 1 Dimetory Rabid Alan J. Iser
THIS WEEKEND AT HILLEL
Friday, Oct. 4
Services 5:45 P.M.
Dinner 6:30 P.M.
Lisabeth Lobenthal, Syracuse Jewish Federation, "How To Confront Anti-Semitic Remarks." 7 P.M.

Saturday, Oct. 5 Conservative Services 10 A.M. Orthodox Services 10 A.M.

Sunday, Oct. 6
Movie/Deli Night 5:30 P.M. $4.00/person

Prepare for the New Century!  ?...with

This innovative two year degree program enables you to:

- Learn all aspects of traditional business functions.
- Fully comprehend the impact of technology on functional disciplines.
- Interrelate all elements of business through integrated coursework.
- Enhance related skills sets: interpersonal. communicative. and directive.
- Gain global perspective of business in today's intemational marketplace.
- Understand how technological trends impact the business world.
- Work with companies developing real solutions for real problems.

Rensselaer offers M.B.A. concentrations in:

Entrepreneurship
Health Systems Management Manufacturing management Technological Management Management of Information Systems unctional Disciplines

Launch your career into the 21st Century!
Visit:
Ken Bardach
Associate Dean, at MBALLAW DAY' 91 in
Goidstein Auditorium on October 7, 1991 From it amto 3 pm

Or Contact:
The Fensselaer M& T M.B.A.
Masters' programs Office
Lally Management Center
Rensselaer Polytechnic institute Troy. New York $12180-3590$ (518) 276-4800

HALLOWEEN Swilites HEADQUARTERS

We carry Syracuse's most complete IIne of Costumes, Masks. Makeup, Beards, Hats, Halr Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Disguise Kits, Decorations (Indoor 8 Outdoot), Novelties, RENTAL COSTUMES Greoting Cards and More...........

Ten Minutes From

VARIETY STORE
4902 SO. BAY RD., NORTH SYRACUSE
-

withRensselaer'sManagement & Technology Master of Business Administration B

Look For Swftr's Tower

OPEN FORUM

 to discuss the future direction of
WEIGHT ROOMS

at  Syracuse University

```
DAY: MONDAY
DATE: OCTOBER 7
TIME: 7:00PM
PLACE: UNDERGROUND.
SCHINE STUDENT CENTER
```

Broadcaster discusses college sports ethics

By ALEX PIGMAN

Staff Writer
Sports provides a wellrounded education in civics while raising big bucks for Division I colleges, according to nationally known broadcaster Marty Glickman.

The Syracuse Universityalumnus discussed the ethics of major college sports and the present role of athletics in the sent role of athletics in the academic co

Speaking at a forum in Maxwell Auditorium Wednes day night, Glickman critiqued the emphasis that large colleges like SU put on the success of certain varsity sports.
"One of the problems with intercollegiate football and bas ketball teams is the emphasis on winning," Glickman said.

He said teamwork, camarade rie and the ability to take a loss rie and the ability to take a loss competition.
"Sports are the best teacher of civics I know," he said.
"But there was a time when I wondered if I was a loser."
"I was running against Jesse

Owens and Frank Gifford and I couldn't beat them," he said.

Was I a loser ${ }^{1}$

During the 1930s, before his broadcasting career blossomed, Glickman was considered the third fastest runner in the world. Outrun by Owens and Gifford, he asked, "Was I a loser?

Glickman said he is frustrated with the role money has taken in big sports. He said tartificial turf is widely used because it is cheaper to install and maintain
"All those knees that get banged up. all those injuries have to do with artificial turf," he said.

Glickman said he is reserved when SU wins a big football game.

Whenever SU gets national coverage, my friends come up to me and talk about SU's results." he said. "I sometimes get embarrassed when some of my friends refer to SU as a football factory, but it is true," he said.
Glickman said when he played football for SU , the opponents were Columbia, Colgate. Cornell and other teams that Syracuse University alumnus and nationally known broadcaster Marty Glickman speaks to students about the ethics of major college sports in Maxwell Auditorium Wednesday night.

were in SU's general vicinity. "Who do we play now? Oklahoma, Oregon, Florida," he said. "The reason SU does not play these local teams anymore is because they do not require the time, staff and input that SU needs to defeat the big teams,"

ATDVERTISING SALES ASSISTEANT

We're looking for a reliable student

744 Ostrom Ave $8: 80 \mathrm{amm}-4: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ to fill the position of Advertising Sales Assistant. The person must be able to work from 10:30 am until $1: 30 \mathrm{pm}$, Monday through Friday. The position entails backing-up the sales staff and performing some telemarketing activities. This is a paid position.

Stop Smoking.
American Heart Association

he said.

Big time revenues
Glickman said the varsity basketball and football teams are the revenue sports.
"SU will be playing Florida Saturday in front of the whole nation," he said. "Millions of dollars are made with this kind of coverage.

Where do these dollars go? I think they go back to the athletic department," he said.

Glickman said he doubts this is the proper solution.
In an interview prior to the forum, Glickman said the attitude of big school athletic departments is erroneous.
"Schools say 'You must win' to the athletes and that is wrong," he said.

Glickrman said he could not make any comments on the NCAA inquiry about the $S U$ athletic department.
"The investigation is going on, so we will have to see if there were any transgressions when the investigation is complete, he said.

Glickman broadcasted for the New York Knicks, New York Giants and New York Jets.

Glickman is retired but occasionally broadcasts for the Jets. The forum was sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and the Qffice of the Dean of Hendricks Chapel.

There will be a mandatory meeting Tuesday, October 8th at 3:00 p.m. for students interested in WALK ON TRYOUTS FOR THE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM. The meeting will be held in Coach Washington's office in Manley Field House.

Any questions, please call Kathy Bertrand at X3761. Thank you.

S.U.

VS. FLORIDA ST.

10¢ Wings $1.50 Burgers $3.25 Pitchers 3-7pm

Editorial

Say no go to Gates  There are too many questions about  to the public.

the integrity of Robert M. Gates to support his appointment to the head of the CIA.

First, he knows too much about the Iran-Contra scandal for his own good. Instead of keeping his mouth shut, like other Bush-puppets, he speaks.

But his words say nothing convincing.

Gates says everything he did was in accordance with orders sent down from the now-deceased CIA staple William Casey. Using the dead as a scapegoat is a clever way of keeping arguments uncontested. But it stinks of cover-up, too.

The only people supporting Gates from within are Republicans knowingly following partisan lines and, of course, George Bush.

Bush emerges as brilliant for recommending Gates. Once head of the CIA, Bush knew what was going on with the Contras. By attempting to place a personal puppet in charge of the CIA, Bush ensures that his role in that endeavor will never be divulged

The CIA is split on whether to appoint Gates. This should make you wonder, as should the doubt displayed by the Senate Intelligence Committee. Democrats are telling Gates pointblank he is not the man for the job and that he should be attached to a lie detector (a serious dig against a CIA man) as he answers questions posed by his opponents.

Gates is also hit hard with questions about whether he fudged intelligence findings to make them consistent with former President Reagan's stringent anti-Soviet policies.

At least senators are vehement enough about this fight to ask questions probing enough to matter. This is promising because it makes Gates uncornfortable. Too often, nominees go through the appointment process without feeling threatened.

The New York Times reports that Sen. David L. Boren (D-Okla.) said Gates' fate "depends on the amount of uncertainty, on the level of doubt" and that "when I have heavy doubts I vote 'no." This is a good idea.

Do it right or just don't do it

Live your life in excess and to extremes.
There should be no such thing as moderation. There should be no such thing as moderation.
People need to live their lives hot or cold, not lukewarm. The senses are best served when

SCOTT SCHNEIDER NICK PIRRAGLIA

HE

PROMEETHEAN

Once you decide to do something, do it. If you are gonna talk the talk, walk the walk. If you are going to argue a point, make no concessions, refuse to be placated, even if you realize that the other person is right. Be pigheaded or be a complete pansy. For God's sake have some integrity and character or admit to having none at all. Be complete and undivided. Most people are mush; they seem to have no drive or consistent erthusiasm. Apathy is widespread all over campus and the country. Some people have no drive or originality of ideas. But that's all right. These people should just accept the fact that they are zeros and live happily. If you are gonna give to the poor, give everything you own. Be selfish or selfless. If you are going to be nice to some, be nice to all. everybody, including yourself. If you're gonna get into a fight, draw blood. Don't fall in the middle of a bell curve. Screw and screw hard. If you're gonna be a criminal, don't snatch purses, rob banks. If you are going to think, think hard. If you are going to speak, speak up, make yourself heard, or sit the hell down and shut up. Let your senses go to the extreme, most.

LETTERS

Column misses many points

To the editor:
This letter is in response to what I believe to be the venomous drivel and racist views of Allen Seabrook that appeared in the Oct. 1 issue of The Daily Orange.

First of all, Mr. Seabrook, if you are going to espouse your obvious anti-white, antiSemitic garbage, maybe you could get your facts right.

You refer to the beating of a black Long lsland teenager as "Jermaine Hewett." I ask you: Who the hell is Jermaine Hewett? I believe the victim of that savage racist attack was named Jermaine EWELL. And what the hell does that horrible what the hell does that horrible accident in Brooklyn?

You mention as the most "crippling" event of the summer the accidental killing of a young black child in Crown Heights, Brooklyn. There is no question that this was a horrible tragedy, but the only people that made it a racist attack were the Al Sharpton's and Sonny Carson's of this world.

By the way, the poor child's name was Gavin Cato-

You state: The black cornmunities' actions and retaliation was proper and justified: taking their only justice in the streets. Are you kidding? Angry mobs of teenagers running around the streets beating up people because they were white and Hasidic is a justified response? Who offered you that logic, Joey Farma? How do you justify the killing of rabbinical student Yankel Rosenbaum? Do you endorse murder of people on the basis of what they look like? Oh, I know, he was white and Jewish. I guess it was a clear and justified matter of guilt by association. I guess his cold-blooded murder was not as heinous a crime as the not as heinous a crime as Do you honestly believe that Lifsh went out of his way run over Gavin Cato? Yeah, I guess the African-American and Jewish communities did not have enough problems and the Hasidim deliberately attempted to make it worse. Well, maybe you have a point. I don't know how you did it, but you managed to uncover the Hasidic community's plat the Hasiaic communnty's to seek out young black to seek out young black :r.: children and run thein over. Wow, you got the whole conspiracy theory down pat;
you must feel you must feel great!

Perhaps another aspect of the case needs clarification. A grandjury decided not to indict Lifsh because of evidence and statements from witnesses that exonerated him. Cato's family can sue Lifsh individually for the unfortunate death of their son, but that is not under a grand jury's jurisdiction for a traffic violation.

Maybe we will see the days when black and white and yellow and brown and red are treated with the respect and importance that they all richly deserve, but it will not happen if people like yourself are in control.

I would be the first person to agree with you that our justice system is far from fair and that racism pervades the innermost aspects of American society. But do you think that your letter addresses these problems as you probably believe, or do you think that you are just perpetuating much of the rhetoric that youso rightly detest? Think about it.

Gary Collins Graduate student

LETTERS

System abuses women

To the editor:
Over the span of a year, a wornan has been sexually harassed twice by a stranger outside her home. That this abuse against her and against all women can occur is one outrage; that neither the Syracuse Police nor Syracuse University Security have acted against it is another. Like other women on and outside this campus, she must live looking over her shoulder.

The university's decision to close itself off from the rest of the community has created gaps in the protective services gaps in the protective services that are supposed to be offered by both the police and by

\section*{by both the police and by Security. Women are falling   Security. Women are falling Director, Women's Center   Security. Women are falling Director, Women's Center  Move toward peace

To the editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to reply to Jeremy Marin's letter of Sept. 30.
Mr. Marin was wrong for criticizing Raja Halwani's remarks in The Daily Orange All Mr. Halwani did was to state his opinion in regards to Palestine. He brought up a Palid point in one of his letters, valid point in one of his l and I quote: "The more critically we consider and critically we consider and evaluate the actions (past and present) of those participating in the peace process, the more lasting the peace, will be." (Sept. 23).

Mr. Marin brought up past events in Palestine and

Lebanon, but he failed to mention atrocities committed by the Israelis -such as illegal settlements in the occupied territories; detentions; curfews; denial of food, water and adequate education, etc. The turmoil in the Middle East did turmoil in the Middle East did Arab land. And now Israel is trying to dictate who can and cannot attend the peace conference.

The Palestine Liberation Organization is the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people. As such it must be allowed to participate as an equal partner in the peace conference. To deny the PLO the right to take part is to deny the Palestinians the right to self-representation and determination.
It is time to put your hostile feelings aside, Mr. Marin, and work towards a just and lasting peace in the Middle East.

Diana Abu Zuhri

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971 Editar in Chicf

Jodi Lamakna
Erin Neff

Anissa Ainbender
Katrina Barner Maura Byrne
Carie Card Carrie Collins Erin Connolly Liz Dick Elizabeth Favreau Monika Friberg

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA PROUDLY PRESENTS OUR

FALL 1991
PLEDGE CLASS Christine Parent Eileen Raftery

Jeanne Schad

Stepha Glielmi Jessica Kordon Kalom

Amy Lee Michelle Mastrorio Jennifer May Erin Moss Sandra Nelson Traci Schumacker Cindy Sherchenko Amanda Sodoma Virginia Southard Kathleen Sullivan Pam Tumer Maryann Valentino Ariel Wood Barbara Zuckerman Janet Gomez
While petal by petal unfolding, each rose will bloom in it's turn.

PLAN

Continued from Page A1
However, SEUNA does not want the university neighborhood to become a dormitory, she said.
"We'venever objected torental houses," Cominsky said. "It's the condition of the homes that we object to."

Cominsky said the proposed low-rise on Ostrom Avenue might have served as a transitional structure between the university and the neighborhood.
"On paper, (the residence hall) sounds OK," she said. "But that generates a lot of questions, like how many students will be there and where they will park their cars."

Cominsky said SEUNA objected to the 1986 addition to jected to the 1986 addition to Shaw Hall because there was Shaw Hall because there was not enough parking for the additional residents.
"What we want to stress is that we want to maintain the "residential quality," she said. "We're don't have a no-student policy."

"After I plugged itin, everything clicked for me."

> FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT
> SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

RESPECT  Continued from Page At

"Students have nowhere to go to have a good time, as the local bars and the university have tightened their policies on alcohol consumption for minors," he said.

Mitchell said he feels the university is attempting to ignore the problem. He is asking students to extend common courtesies to the permanent resitesies to the permanent dents and their families.

While be maintained that he and other permanent residents have little choice in selecting their neighbors, they do.have a choice in what behavior they will tolerate.
"As unwitting surrogate elders, we will continue to teach students rules of civilized behavior as we would our own children," he said.

Both Mitchell and Koenig said if the problems do not improve they will seek out the University Judicial System.

TMR

Continued from Page A1

increased food shortage.

One proposed solution has been foreign assistance in sending food to the cities, but Cooke said this may do more harm than good.
"Strong aid with food aid may be harmful," he said. "It won't help build up the market econhelp build up the market economy -the farmers will have less omy-the farmers will have less incentive to produce food iflarge amounts are being dumped on the cities.
"If things get really bad, the United States and Western Europe will probably set up soup kitchens to try to help, but we don't quite know how to help," he said.

Asked if there is any hope for the Soviet Union, Cooke said, "I the Soviet Union, Cooke said, think so-the Soviets are great think so - the Soviets are great fighterg. For the first time in fighterg. For the first time in their history, the government is their history legitimate."
"Their problems are far from over. It will be very long and over. It will be very long and difficult and we all hope they difficult and we make it," he said.
ake it," he said.
TMR is a week
TMR is a weekly gathering of civic leaders. Although it is not open to the public, the weekly meetings are broadcast on WCNY-FM at 4 p.m. on Sundays and WSYT-TV Sundays at midnight.

TOTHE DATES OF AEA:

You have no idea what's AHEAD of you here is what you have to do:
Don't forget to mark the date
It's $90^{\circ}$ clock, so don't be late.
Be at $A \Xi \triangle$ and DRESSED just right.
So we can party all night!
October 6th is coming near.
We have it all COVERED so have no fear!

PRTISM events

Area parks welcome autumn

By ROB OWEN
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Astemperatures begin to drop and dining halls' hot chocolate machines begin to churn, Syracumachines begin to churn, Syracusans know the days of weather are numbered.
If past years are any indication, autumn will not last long, as snow flies and Syracuse is buried in an early winter.

But for the time being, orange, red and gold leaves will be dropping from trees on campus and in the Onondaga County Parks.
The park system has much to offer area residents and students alike. Three parks offering specific fall programs this year are the Burnet Park Zoo. year are the Burnct Park 200 , Lake Nature Center.

The Burnet Park Zoo offers a Snowbird Special on Oct. 5 and 12 at 1:30 p.m. Visitors will be able to meet zoo experts to learn about the migration behavior of birds of prey and waterfowl.

The Great. Zoo Boo is an annual Halloween event, scheduled this year for Oct. 26 from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Admission to the 200 is $$ 3$ per adult and $$ 1.50$ for children. A family ticket may be purchased for $$ 9$. The 200 is located off South Wilbur Avenue. For more information, call 478-8516.

Hayrides, horses and history

Highland Forest is located near Fabius and offers horseback riding, hayrides and pioneer adventures.

The 19th century comes alive as visitors experience spinning butter churning, cider pressing and more at the Pioneer Museum on Sundays during October from 1 to 4 p.m.

Horseback rides are offered weekends through Nov. 3 begin ning at 3 p.m. A $$ 10$ fee is charged.

Hayrides are also available through Nov. 3 for $$ 3$ per person. They depart every half hour on a first-come, first-served basis between noon and 5 p.m More information on Highland Forest is available by calling Forest is $683-5550$.
$683-5550$.
The Beaver Lake Nature Cen ter offers a variety of events thmoughout October and into November.

Guided hiking excursions during October explore autumn migration. In Novernber the submigration. in Novernberthesubject changes to "Wing for Winter." These walks paring for winter. these waiks begin at 2 pim. on Saturdanday Beaver Lake.

This Saturday and Sunday the Central New York Aquarium Society Show will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Beaver Lake. This exhibition of commercially owned figh and aquarimms will appeal to aquarium owners and those thinking of venturing into the hobby.

The Beaver Lake Nature Center is located on Mud Lake Rond west of Baldwinsille

These are just a few of the opportunities available at county parks this fall. Several other parks are also oftering special parks are also offering special autumn events. For more inforautumn events. For more Confory mation on the Onondaga County Parks system, call 451 -PARK Parks system, call 451-PARK between 8:30 a.m. and $4: 30 \mathrm{p.m}$. weekdays.

F. Y.

'Move-along-athon'

to fight cancer

The American Cancer Society will sponsor Making Strides Against Cancer, afivermile, non-competitive"move-along-athon lt will be Sunday at the Longbranch Park in Liverpool.
Mongbranch Park in Liverpon 500 rumners, many More than 500 rammers, many of whom are current or former of whom are current or former cancer patients, will participate. Registration begins at 10 am. and the "moving" begins at poon.
For more information, call Annette Simiele at 451-7710.

Artists sought for  Art Invitational

Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's pate in WCNvitionannel Ans tition of donsted art works Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New York.

Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the 10th Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16

Work submitted before Oct 18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a cotalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.

For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

MBALLaw Day gives vital information

All students interested in learning more about law school or graduate prograrns in management are invited to attend Syracuse University's annual MBA/Law Day on Oct. 7 from $11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student Center.

Representatives from law schools and graduate management programs will be available to meet with students. Admission materials, catalogs and financial aid information will also be available.

$\square$ PRISM television

UUTV Program Guide

| Week of Oct. 6-11 |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | 7-30 | 8:00 | 8:30 | $9: 00$ | 9:30 | 10:00 | 10:30 |
| Sunday | Suspowm Pow | On the Bench | Vutv cramen | The Atrython |  | UUTV Ciasalct |  |
| Monday |  | To The Bateme |  | Uncla Bobe's: Werd of Fun | Catpho 7 Nrwz |  | UuTVEwaekly |
| Tusesday | * | Bio-Anawar Shew (r) |  | Mulla Void | NC:17 | Campus 7 Nown | UUTVFE Woekly Special |
| Wednesday |  | Them Finthro |  | Uncle Eoba's: Whatid of Fun | Greakouts | Campera 7 Numena | UUTV: Weekly Special |
| Thurs day | Sun Up la shown   | Sun Us(roberoascany |  | Nut a Void | Syancusa Live: | Cample 7 Newe | UUTV: Westly Spocial |
| Friday |  | Too Ton U.S.A | Syracute Liva! | To The Burcme |  | Campar 7 N | UUTV. Weekly Special |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

Now Dlaying...

Ore Cammers:

Fingte Fever-
University UniontGiffordAuditorium
Conent the Rarbarrian -
University UnionfGiffordAudimerium, Midright Fri. and Sat. Free.

The TMin Afan-
7 and 9 p.m. Sun.
Repuislon - University- Unibn whteon Auditoriams) 7 and 9:30 p.m. Tuex poison -
Univenity Union & Watson Auditurium 9 g.m. Hed. and Thurs.
DII Cantilemblise
Bartory Fink -
Cirema Eakt 2: 7 and 9:30 p.rnu. daily matinces nt 2 and 430 p.ms. Sat. and Sun

The Commitmerty, 1 , 3:10, 6:3h and 9 p.m. daily: late ahow at $11: 15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Fri and Sat.
Dcad Agrain -
Curousel Centere: 1:46, 4:40, 7:10 and Curousel Centere ti46, 4:40, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. daily: fute nhow at $11: 35$ p.m. Fri. and Sat. Shoppingtown Malt: 7:15 and 9:30 p.m. daily: matinctex at 2 and 4:30 p.m. p.m. daily: ma
Sat. and Sun.

Decrived -
Caroust Center: :50. 4:20. 7:50 and $10: 10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. daily: fate shows at $12: 15 \mathrm{a} \mathrm{m}$ Sat and Sun.
Favatieville: 7i45, and 9:45 p.m. daily: matineer at $1: 45,3: 45$ and $5: 45 \mathrm{n}$ m. Sut nmd Su:n.

Dor Hrollsw-ood -m
Carouvil Center: 1:30 and 6:50 daily: late show at 11;20 pim. Fri. und Sat.

The Fisher King -
Carcuesel Conter: 1:10, 4.7 and 959 -m. daily.
Shoppingrown Mall: 7 and $9: 45$ p.m daily: matinees at $1: 30$ and $4: 15$ p.m

Frodidy' Bead: The Final Niphamare Carousel Cenker: $2: 10,4: 45,7: 40$ and :45 p.m. daily; late show at $11: 40 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ Fri, and Sat.
Shoppingroun Anht: 8 and 10 p.m

Hot Sthats! -
Hollywood. 6, 7:45 and 9:30 p.m. daily motinera at $1.2: 40$ and $4: 20 \mathrm{p}, \mathrm{m}$. Sat. and Sun.
Westreotr: $7: 30$ and $9: 30$ p.m. daily: matinee at 2 p.m. Sun
Late for Dirniter mim
Carouwt Center $3: 45$ and $9: 20$ pm daily.

Necessury Rounhmess
Carousel Center, 2, 4:30, 7:30 and 10 p.m ditily late khow of $12: 05$ a.m. Sat favetteviffe Malf: 7:15 and 9:20 p.m dally: atatinees at 1, 3:05 and 5:10 p.m

Attilemotles

 Cindategs6is

101 Dotmatians -
Fayettevilie Mantle 1:15. 3:t5 and 5:15 p.m. Sat. and Surr.

Parrdise -
Carousel Center: 1:20, 3:50, 6:40 and 9:10 pm, daily: late phow at it:25 p.m. Favecteville Mrall: 7 and 9:30 pm Favetteville Mrall: 7 and 9:30 p.m
daily: matinces at 2 and 4:30 p.m. Sit daily: ma Fricochet -m Camousel Center: 1:40, 4:t0, 7:20 and 9:40 pma dat
Fri. And Sai.

Fayetteville AFall $7: 20$ and $9: 50$ p.m. dally: matineen at $\mathfrak{t : 2 0}$ and $3: 50$ Sat. and Sun.

how -

Carmase/Center: 12:50, 3:20.6:10.8:10 and $10: 20$ p.m. drily linte show at $12: 10$ a.m. Sat. And Sun.

Stoppingtown $\mathrm{Ma}_{\mathrm{a}} 11: 7$ and 9 p.m. daily: obtinces at 1.3 and 5 p.m. Sol. and Sun.

The super-
Carounel Center: 1, 3:30, 6:20. A:20 and 10:30 n.m. daily: late show $12: 20 \mathrm{am}$. Erycterent matinees at 2,4 and 6 pm . 10 pm .m. dain

PHI ETA SIGMA General Meeting October 6, 1991 8pm Schine 304 B&C

> ALL inductees are encouraged to attend! We'll answer your questions but, we need your ideas!

QUEENSRYCHE

 Building Empires 1991

With special gucst

TICKETS ON SALE SATURDAY. OCT. 5 AT THE ME WAR MEMDRIAL BOX OFFICE AND ALL

GU゙DE

MUSIC:
TUNEFULSATIRE: Ron Ro manovsky and Paul Phillips. who describe themselves as "proWhodescribetremselves as pro-Iessional homosexuals." will perlessional homosexuals. which inCorm their music, which cludes political tunes filled with satire. The concert will be at Trinity Episcopal Church and is sponsored by Syracuse Cares. The cost is $$ 15$ and will be at 8 p.m. Saturday.

THE SYMPHONY: The Syracuse Symphony seasonSyracuse Symphony season-opener features music by Baropener features music by Barber. Berlioz and Rachmaninoff. A pre-concert talk will take place at 7 p.m. in the Bnnner Room. The concerts are held in the Crouse-Hinds Concert Theater of the Civic Center. Ticket prices ramge from $$ 8.50$ to $$ 30$. For more information, call 4248200. The performances take place Friday and Saturday.

THEATER:  BLACKBOX: The Zoo Story.

 by Edward Albee, will open the Black Box Players* 1991-92 season this weekend. The Zoo Story can be seen in the Experimental Theater in the Syracuse Stage complex in the Syracuse Stage call $443-3275$. The production call $43-3275$. we productionwill will r day.

IMPOTENCE: The Country Wife concerns a man who feigns impotence to gainaccess to local women in this ribald comedy appearing at Syracuse Stage. For more ticket information, call 443-3275. The production is ongoing through Oct. 20.

BETTE AND BOO: The Obie Award-winning play The Marriage of Betce and Boo, by Christopher Durang, debuts in the Hutchings Auditorium next to Syracuse Stage. For ticket information. call 425-0405. Performances will be Sunday.

MURDER AND MAYHEM: A bloodthirsty musical from Stephen Sondheim. Sweeney Stephen Sondheim. Sweeney Todd is now playing at the Salt
City Center for the Performing City Center for the Performing Arts. For more information, call Arts. For more information, call 474.1 122. The production is ongoing through Oct. 13.

THE MAN. THE MYTH, THE LEGEND: Producer. composer, actor Ceorge M. Cohan is the subject of the musical Gcorge $M$, which is being staged at the Civic Center. For more at the Civic Center. For more formances begin Tuesday.

SONG AND DANCE An international touring group. Les Ballets Africains will perform this week at the Landmark Theatre. For more information, call 475-7980. The performance will be Wednesday.

EVENTS:

SPLISH SPLASH: Go on a Migration Walk at the Beaver Lake Nature Center, located west of Baldwinsville. For more information. call 638-2519. The Migration Walks will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

GIDDYAP: Guided one-hour horseback rides are available at Highland Forest, located east of the Village of Fabius. There of the Village of Fabius. There is a $\$ 10$ fee. For more information. call $683-5550$. The riding tion. call $683-5550$. The riding bexins at $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$, and goes until dusk on Saturday and Sunday.

ROLY, IN THE HAY: Public hayrides depart every half-hour on a first-come. first-served ba sis at Highland Forest. There is a $\$ 3$ per person fee. For more information, call 683-5550. The rides begin at noon and run until $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. on Saturday and Sunday.
$\star$ GLBSA SOCIAL. The Gay, Lesbian Bisexual Student Association will hold a VCP movie day For lopation coll the movie day. and snacks will be served and and snacks will be served and donations are requested. Movies donations are requested. Movies will be shown at 1,3 and 5 p.m. on Saturday.

- GLBSA DISCUSSION: The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Student Association will hold a "Family Reunion" discussion. For location information call 443-3599. The group will meet from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Guide is published ench Friday in The Daily Orange's Prism magazine. Events on campusare marked with astar.

PRESENTS

LIVE IN CONCERT

THE TRIPLETS MERCURY RECORDING ARTISTS
THURS., OCT. $17^{\text {th }}$
TICKETS: 57
GEORGE WESLEY
& THE IRIETATIONS RED STRIPE REGGAE TOUR

THURS. OCT. 10目

All siluws: Door West Bear Street, 3 blocks south of Garousel Center

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

SLONE

BY LOCKY

$\rightarrow-$

BY R.E. MANSPERGER JR

BY FAJITA PARTY

COMIX PAGE ARCHIVES (SU ZOO) FRANK CAMMUSO

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

enpantioncer
 MLL ANY ar US sumpers

GOTTA HAVE FAITH BY ARNOLD
(4)

ART'S EDUCATION BY HOBBIT GOD

ADVENTURES OF JP

Jake's Meat Shack

 Waverly & UniversityLIFEDEATHCATDOG

NOTICE

THE OALLY ORANGE CLASSIFED AD PROCEDURE: SESO lor the fret 15 worda.

 adtranze

Notices

NTERRACIAL COUPLE GROUP: Formm for sharion whe and parss. strateques to deal wah PREMAMRIAL COUPLE GROUP: Couple anschmerm martin proparation, imporbing commurication and Estmacy.
(Sice limined. Repister now. Sudera rates Cortact Dr. Kernsuth Harty a1 443-3023).
ACIOA AND ACTRESS NEEDEDI Graduasia fim abour bowina Conderce and coenness mor PERSONAL CONSTRUCT PSYCHOLOGY, Itter ocsed in cortion wht pursorts suxidzed wal Can ge Kollay's personal constuca psychology and thoory Please call 446-1262. (315) 236.86 Westar.

Equipment

 Elocronic Iypewiter 16 K memory, instructionmanual. prod condicion, $$ 110.00,479.569610 \mathrm{~mm}$. Noon

Misc. For Sale

Foller Blades lor sale Used orly oncal Cheapl It Rober blades lor sane call Laura at 226 -2966. Sat E hades. Boys 4
Tidens: Rutpers ws. Syracuse at Giant Stardium, 50 Yard Lune Lower Lever Tockers Availible

For Sale 1 rounctrp tickes from Syracuse to Miami. Fbonda. December 19th 25 th .5400 firm. Call 655 . rasb

Es. Cond: Casio Memory wher Bioc. Nowtica S Dotes raisen $5 \mathbf{N 5}$, Myitrotichi Car Sowe with

EMPLOYMENT

 turty to oarn antra cash call for dataits. 6 E2-00 leave messaga.
A.A Ior 7 talerted FayMan hs women (ABC program) superiste and ntror. Room and boarch 582.9743 attar 6 copm has COON postion available. Compatting wage Comact 471-S206 for mare Irto.

WANTED

Help Wanted
Modens Girt Gursy Mamational wisir Dosige Tsaim coming to Syracuse, Free hairants, producss ace 1-800-333-4693

Know Belare You Go," where to work, live and shi ree in Colorato's ressorts Current Guida to Aspent. 788.6374

Australia

Visit the Land Down Under
Boston University
Office of International Programs introduces its new
Sydney Internship Program
Internships available in:
Management, Finance. Economics
Media: Journalism, Broadcasting. Film
Politics and International Relations
Other programs available in England, France, Greece Israel, Italy, Niger. Spain, and the Soviet Union.

For progrann celails comptete the coupon below and mall to: Boston University Intarnational Programs 232 Bay State Road Boston MA 02215 617/353-9888

NYPIRG

The New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. (NYPIRG) is New York State's largest student-directed organization. Based on 17 coliege campuses, NYPIRG promotes affordable higher education, consumer and environmental protection and good government. NYPIRG offers students the opportunity to work with a staff of lawyers, reseachers and organizers to learn how to develop citizenship skills and shape public policy.

REFUNDS

A $$ 6.00$ refund is available to all activity fee-paying students who do not wish to support NYPIRG. Refunds will be offered October 4-17.

Drop off refund requests at the following locations:
Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel
Moon Library
NYPIRG Office, Shine Student Center

FREE SPRING EREAK TRIPS to students or studerit organizations prornoting our Spring Break Packages. Good Pay & Fun.

$$
\text { Call CMI } 1-800-423-5264
$$

Eam $$ 2500$, Froed Tros Stling Spring Ereak Pazk. Triss, Procas Sonne Ereak Trivel 1-800-630-67as.

Cartpus Reprasertatives Needed Eun froe trip and big commiasions by selling CACEM, maxica of mora zionawion cay thil hae a: $1-600-755$ 996 ox in Connetiest of 2093.97 agrs

Roomnnates

Non-Smoking Grat Studant Saeking Same To Share 2-bdrm Fhat On Lancaster Ave. $$ 250$ 471.8514.

ONE REDPOOM. wheng dislance, bocited at Hazthe and Matison Fwo maje sentiony raed ore mert person, $=000.682 .5130$.
Onto or Two people warted to share a 3 bedroom uristied apannert one block from campun. Purk. ing tla andy. Just redocorated All uritios inchudad.
$$ 260$ Aga No Pess 446 -9598.

Misc. Wanted

Warsod: Magaynes Newsweek Lile. SL. Rellarg Sora, etu. Dont throw them out For priture fis Tim. 425-5248.

FOR RENT

Apartments

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED STudw apt 2 bedroen apaitmonts. All tolaties included Secured siock A Matrisoh Ex5-$322, 635-3537/avos.

Dewit- near, nute furnishod great 1 bedroom apartrnery. Parking. all utheres incluxiad Grad protessional prefurred 478-2542. Also aicet foommata noeded wak hosprial SJ 5240 . month all
-Bedrocm fower flat, Euclut near Wesicoth creaned sorch ofl-steet parking Privase yark 5540. $682-8823$.

SUPIET: 944 Lancaster Avenue, one room sublat $$ 240$ a morth, John 424-8054.

FAll I SPAtwG accoptiry Senior 3 Gradeatio male a temsie suatens io fis several abdim panmarss, 1 indmal ok. Flates: Base Armishod moder $$ 23000$ : DosioneorDikza modol $$ 325.00$. and Standan Sos. Those aparuments are in an excellers $\%$ block wakiog locanion and are nicely furnished with beds, dasks, dressers and livingroom umiture CaI 673-1344 for a choice stucerat apt Oniverthy Aum Furpietied 3 bedroom fat hiundry.

AVABLABEE TODAYY ONEA TWO BEDROOM AVABLABEE TCDAYY ONEA TWO BEDROOM bedroonn(E), patking husndry, Leifitios included 5420 - $4855 / \mathrm{mo}$. Call Marip $\mathrm{B}: 20-400,443-2567$.
 4-An. APT, hat included. sew stove s ree pationg. hundry leasia secury doposit squred. No persi $A$, call 446-5520 or 469-9757.
UNMEASTTY STUDENTS SIMGLE BEORCOM UNITS: Shwo khechen, bath Fumiatial haatid, capped lanndy, micromave, cabliv. Nes. Clomed to camplar seso.sest compleat 474-1303, 474-3300.

PAIVATE FURNISHED STUOIO APARTMENTS Very close. Secure. Ouine Cappored. Air Condaionsd. Laundry. Parking. Univensty Area Apts.

479-5005.

Houses

Untwerly Ave 5 bectrom heow enty $$ 1250.00$

Rooms

Subler avilatole in rice trase. $$ 300.00$. Share wing agace. Oin bcation leundry, yart math C24-4805.

PERSONALS

SAE- Fridays fing kept huppry hour poinc- and it juss kepr peting thappient Thurks for a grast intel fusi keph getting happigar thurks for a graal in Lowe Pl PHI Wheosth. Whoosht to my lavento PR woman! Happy 21 sis D-doyl Love. yout Tomio. py 21si b-day Love. your Tomine.

Faula Whoo's pupla pasaion Owh Colabrationt Yabth O-migord what? Cuubleasness, You just dont understital bircs, oppouniks, contusion, foriegn cars, menn, hooks. Life? Atlanta, Bosion, elaspos? Sorrp? Chio. mastymest. panies, ramembering. lorgetting. dinglatwoppers, Hay Hey Paull Same eutcs, sama hats. same? Oapsi Happy Binthey to tre buer siscer Itrardil A toast to the most memorable yoars of our inves. Forturer. Tha Purple Jodaster.
Hay Sigma Kappa Erusient Wa know whe you *re. its your wit to meat uaft Sundy fioht o Suigme kppa Atmirers!

Ceka and Signa Kappa. Congrats on winheny homecaming- ic was a great po from shan The Erothers and Plocioes of Sirma Nu

To the Sieters and Pledges of Apha Chi por your mand danca bonight
BETA TEAM E1: Gat pspened for FAISBEE Fing on Saurday MuD BOW 17 wil be the best over Pray for rant, wond anco care
Lowe, your AX coactes Missy and Erm
To Kargn M. in Pi Prt Congrasuation on wirring a Fomembersnee Scholerghol We're all so taspy to youl Leve your selers

To the sertars and ploctges of Apha Xi Deha. Get rosty. Get dressud and Col Sarday richt, so Mracy Gef Gersichecheol
To all Alpha Chi Frisbee Ftingers. get psyched for tonnorrow Come to Hendrichs Fietd ei noxin and let lew- the strers and plooges of Aphe Chi
PHI PSI. the party was amazrry even though we "showed up late"; cur new years eve wath you guys was nething shon of greay Lers do x agan soon
Love PI PHL Love PI PH

To the sismers of KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA the Oroviers ol PI KAPPA ALP4AA woudd hke to exrand olz succerasd tharks lof fortry is use your house during fall resh is the wituation lor nush, piease sont hastitio to call Once again Tharks.

SERVICES

ACNE RELEF: ANORMAITON GHAY WIL CHNNCE YOUR LFE. PPOVEN EFFECTME SEND $$ 3.00$ TO SKIN CAFE CENTER. 975 WASHINTON. ALSNY, NY ZROE.

Manh: need hep and warx itra A or A at midferm? Sigrtep for lutoring 422-6096.
Typing for all your typing natcs- letrers. minusertes Comphation, otc. Cal Ruch Deroy at 652.5814.

Woed Procsusing, ineer fomunos. Typing Fast turtaround. COMPUTERS 8 COPES, Warshal S. abowt Acropolis. 425-0930
TYPNG SERVICE torn pepern, resumes, ove. neasorimbte tries cif MeryAm 474-2360.
maperin Cal SHORTSEARCH to bogn your $443-1311$ or $443-2011$.

ADOPTION

ADOPION CAN BE THE ANSWER FOR YOU, IT IS THE ANSWER FOA US. WE ARE A HAPPIV MAFRHED COURLE WITHOUT A
CHE TOFUIFEL OUR DREANS PIFACE CHED TOFULFEI OUR DREAHS. PIEASE DONT GE AFRAD TO GME US A CHANCE DONT GE AFRAD TO GNE US A CHANCE IN TELING YOU WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU AND YOUR SPECINL WHITE NEW YOU AND YOUR SPECIAL WHITE NEW BORM PLEASE CNL SUNMY ARD CLENH, EOGAL AND COWFDEFTHN $1-800-359.7405$

TIMING

Continued from Page A12
will be. I don't believe it's anything the coaches need to do. This team's been motivated on This team's been motivated on its own. We don't see any changes."

SU also isn't planning any changes in its physical preparations for the game, said free safety Tim Sandquist.
"It just happens that they happen to be ranked No. I," Sandquist asid. "We"ll go down there and play them. Preparationwise it doesn't change. They're a great team - we just have to go after them.

Syracuse is $1-4$ all-time against teams rated No. 1. SU's lone win was a $17-9$ upset of Nebraska in the Carrier Dome in 1984.
"I think it will be more special than the Nebraska game." Young said. "Being that we're 4-0 and to get a tremendous upset over FSU this weekend people will remember this more than the Nebraska game. Even though Nebraska was a great Win, this is special.

Wide receiver Shelby Hill said if the Orangemen win, don't call it an upset.
"If they think you're not supposed to win and that was the case they wouldn't play the football game,"Hill said. "They (don't) just have it where you look at each individual team and say well, this is how it is and they're national champs." Hill returned to practice Wednesday after suffering a contusion on the left side of his rib cage. He is expected to play Saturday.

After beating Syracuse 41-10 in 1989 at the Carrier Dome, Bowden said his team would probably think they will have an easy time with SU in Tallahassee.

But Syracuse's $38-21$ win over the University of Florida two weeks ago has dispelled that notion.
"Syracuse is a good team." FSU fullback Edgar Bennett said. "They proved that against Florida. We will have to be ready to play. They are a topten team right now, sotive shouldn't have trouble getting gan. We know we have to be gan. We know we have to be ready every time we take the field.

Bowden said the biggest difference in this SU team is its speed and quickness.
"They look like a Southern team," Bowden said. "They look a lot more mobile than Syracuse teams of the past. It's as good a Syracuse team as we've seen.

The Seminoles also have the advantage of playing before a capacity crowd of 60,000 people at Doak Campbell Stadium.

FSU is known for its mascot Chief Osceola, who rides his horse Renegade to midfield and throws a flaming spear. It will be important for SU to take the crowd and the other parts of the Seminole ritual out of the game Hill said.
"Everybody's excited in Florida, and high-powered and ready to go." Hill gaid. "We've got to come out ready to go. That's all to get the crowd roared up. You eliminate them from the game, you can take over."

The FSU offense has scored 25 touchdowns. They average 506 yards in total offense per garne - 223 yards rushing, 283 yards passing.
The Seminoles, however, don't run much time off the clock in their possessions. Pasqualoni said tre key will be to keep the FSU offense on the sidelines.
"Our defense has got to give our offense back the ball," Pasqualoni said. "We've got to get it back to them without it get it back to them without it being a kickoff on their part. being a kickoff on their part.
We have to put the ball in We have to put the ball in position to allow the offense to play and if we do that enough. we can be successful."
The Syracuse defense has allowed an average of 62.8 yards a game rushing but Pasqualoni said any holes in SU's rushing defense will be exposed against the Seminoles.
"Anything we're missing with our rushing defense we will find out this week. We'll know exactly what's wrong."

Interested in writing stories for The Daily  NEWS Orange?

Then stop by 744 Ostrom Avenue Sunday - Thursday and talk to Roy or call 443-2127

Tien

Tien $&$ Tan

Chinese Restaurant
701 S.Crouse Ave.
(corner of Adams St.) Above Convenient

Tan

We have Super Chinese Food! AT UNIVERSITY CAMPUS  FREE DELIVERY•SU CAMPUS

Doer a Wine Avaitable please Call Ahead For Best Take-Out Service

Two Take-Out Meals for Just $\mathbf{$ 6 . 9 0}$ ?

Since 1954 Swiss Chalet has been serving delicious food made from quality ingredients. Using a recipe imported from Switzerland, Swiss Chalet quickly became famous for its unique barbecue chicken. Cooked in real brick ovens using a method which allows the chicken to baste in their own juices it's always crispy, golden on the outside, tender and juicy on the inside. And Swiss Chalet is more than just great barbeciue chicken, it's also tangy grilled ribs, garden fresh salads and mouth watering desserts.

Whether you dine in or take advantage of our convenient take-out service, you're assured of consistenty high quality at consistently low prices.

3220 Erie Blvd. East. Dewitt suiss chalet. chicken+ribs

Ocrulter 4. 1991

SU's high-powered 'D' must stamp Amp

By DAVE MAGER WAER Sjorts Director

The traveling Dartboard hits the roati from New Orleans to Tallahassee this week ... tw cities that are worlds apart. Last weekend, it was the Big Easy - a city where college football is probably 267th on the list of "things to do." This is a city interested in the Saints, the Hurricanes (the drink, not the team) and generally imbibing itself into a sweet, drunken slumber. Tulane football just doesn't matter - and the team shows it.

Flash forward to Tallahassee. site of SU's Garne to End All Games with Florida State. This is the Mecca of College Football. The Seminoles rule the town. Bobby Bowden is king. And in contrast to New Orleans, you couldn't make up a list of 100 "things to do" in Tallahassee. And wishing you were in Fort Lauderdale doesn't count.

Syracuse ( +18 ) at Florida
St.
Optimism is sky-high for the Orangemen as they hit Doak Campbell Stadium to take on the nation's No. 1 team. SU is 4-0 and, for the most part. playing very well.

For SU fans, the Tulane game was scary in one key respect -fumbles. The Orange only lost one, but the ball has to stay off the turf against the dirty, hardthe turf against the dirty, hardhitting Seminoles. They in win the battles if $S U$ puts it on the the battles if SU puts it on the ground. And remember ground. And remember - Florida State almost never fumbles. Amp Lee's drop against Michigan was the first for the Seminoles in eons.

On the positive side, Syracuse has a legitimate shot at stopping the Seminoles running game. The Orangemen have the nation's fourth-best rushing defense -impressive because they've played excellent rushing teams like Vanderbilt and Florida. If SU can make the first tackle on the slippery Lee (Michigan couldn't). Casey Weldon gan couldn't. Casey Weldon will be forced to pass too much will be forced to pass too much in the Florida game. Matthews

Syracuse must get the ball to Qadry Ismail and the underused Shelby Hill, and must survive a probable shootout with the Seminoles ofrense. No matter what, the Orangemen will beat the spread. But FSU has too many weapons - and tricks up Bobby Bowden's sleeve. Florup Bobby Bowden s sleeve.
ida State 37 , Syracuse 31 .
da State 37, Syracuse 31.
Virginia Tech at West Virginia ( -1 )

Some preseason magazines predicted that Virginia Tech would finish third in the Big East's inaligural season. (Yes. Tech is in the Big East). But all Beamer. The Hokies are 1-3 despite outscoring their opponents overall.

West Virginia has improved since its season-opening blowout loss to Pitt. The Mountaineers are one of five Birf East eers are one of five Bits East 3-1 There's nothing even re, 3-1. Theres nothing even remotely interesting about the club, although I'm sure even club, although I'm sure even Morgantown is more interesting than Tallahassee. West ginia 24. Virginia Tech 10.
Clemson at Georgia $(+8$ $1 / 21$
This makes for a very interesting cross-sectional rivalry to be played between the hedges of Sanford Stadium. Ray Gofs Bulldogs have played well, with Bulldogs have played well, with a 3-1 mark. Theyve given up only 8.5 points per game. only 8.5 points per game
Clemson is near the top of the ACC as usual after beating Georgia Tech last week. And talk about defense... the Tigers have given up just 14 points in their three wins.

has not been bright for Frank  The Bulldogs should win a tight one at home. Georgia 10,1 said

Clemson 3 .
California $(+4)$ at UCLA
We take a swing out west for UCLLA's Pac-10 opener. It's quarterback Tommy Maddox and the Bruins, $2-1$, at home for the surprisingly undefeated Golden surprisingl Bears, 3-0.

Cal has an exciting runner in Russell White, and can solidify its chances at a secondstraight bowl game with a win. The Bruins (aside from Maddox) are nondescript, an they have been for a while under Terry Donahue. Cal turns in the Upset of the Week. Califormia 24 , set of the UCLA 21.
Arizona at Washington (29)

Washington, 3-0, has an excellent shot at the national title - especially if SOMEONE (hint, hint) can upset Florida State. Runninge back Beno Bryant and the Huskies have been rolling up the points and have outscored opponents by over 100 points in three wins. Arizona has struggled since being shut out by Syracuse in the Aloha Bowl the wildcats are giving ap almost 30 points a game. Enough time around. The defense, with Andre Collins and Matt Millen (yes, Penn State guys) has a different, more aggressive look. They've got three shutouts. They're the best team in the NFC right now. Redskins 31. Bears 17.

FM8s will broadcast the $S U$ Florida State bame starting at 3:00 p.In. on Saturday with Countdown to Kickoff.
$\quad$ 年

Registration is now taking place for the

Upstate New York Graduate Education Forum for Students of Color

Saturday, November 9, 1991 SUNY at Albany

- Meet representatives from 100 top graduate institutions from across the country (Excluding law, medical, and dental schools)
- Discuss graduate study in your field of interest with current faculty members
- Get tips on taking the GRE or GMAT
- Learn about admissions and financial support
- Transportation and lunch provided!

Register at the following locations:  Center for Academic Achievement 804 University Avenue  Room B005  443-2005  Forum Registration Table Schine Student Center Atrium  October 15, 16, 17, 24, 25  11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Please bring a check made out to Syracuse University for the $$ 10$ refundable bus deposit when registering. (Checks only please.) Deposits will be returned after the forum.

Syracuse prepping for final four appearance

By dave haut

Stall Writer
The Syracuse University women's tennis team has the chance to experience a final four of their own in this weekend's ITCA Tennis Championships.

Four of the tourney's eight teams will play in an elimination tournament at Yale University. Another four teams will compete simultaneously at William and Mary College.

The top two teams from both tournaments will meet in a final-four playoff.

Along with SU, Boston College. Boston University. UPenn. Rutgers. Yale, Harvard, and Dartmouth will compete in the weekend event.

By MATT SIMO
Staff Writer
The Syracuse University men's cross-country tearn may be tempted to treat Saturday's meet against Lafayette as a practice.

Next week the Orangemen, 3-0, will compete in the com-3-0, will compete in the competilive Paul Short invitational at Lehigh University, but for now coach Dick Coleman doesn't want his team to be too overconfident.
"It could be a very competitive meet." Coleman said. "I don't want them thinking Lafayette is going to be a walkover.

The number of wins the Orangemen could pick up this weekend has not yet been determined.
"The unique thing about it is Dwire said the Orangewornen aren't at top strength, but are still capable of reaching the finals.

We are a little stifr and sore from last weekend's tournament." Dwire said. "But if our doubles teams can gel, anything can happen.
"I know our singles play will be fine. It all depends on our doubles."

Dwire said there will be strong competition, but he does not see any of the eight teams dominating.
"Harvard and Yale are the only two tearns that I would call favorites," Dwire said. "All the teams are tough so it will come down to whatever team gels and plays well."
looking Lafayette that there's no pre-registration," Coleman said about the Lafayette meet. "I hope we'll have at least four teams, but it could go six, seven, eight or nine. All I know is that it's Lafayette and us."
Although the Orangemen don't traditionally run against Lafayette, they did face the Leopards during the ICAA's last year, when Syracuse went on year, when Syracuse went on to win the tournament.
"They were one of the top teams in the meet," Colernan said. "Our sole intention is to train through the (Lafayette) meet.
"We had a good hard day of practice (Wednesday) and are using this meet as a practice session for next week. We'll force the pace, stay close toforce the pace, stay close gether, and work the pack."

The Consortum of

 France's FiveLeading Grandes Ecoles of Management

is seeking to recruit June '92 graduates for a 2-year International Management Programin French and English.

Students interested in finding out moreabout these schools and the programs they offer, are encouraged to sign up for an information conference at the Career and Placement Office.

Our representative
Mr. Jason Sedine will be on campus on:

October 7, 1991

$422-6007$
732. . Crouse Ave: above Faegaris Puo ussax

MAIR $\mathcal{B}$ FANNMNE SALON

Merv's Hainceuts
$$ 10.00$
L- #ctie's Mairciats $\quad $ 1$ m.00
New cinsioniers orl
$2.00 of Regul zar Customers.
ALL THE TAN YOU CAN STAND trmonth anlimiled ONL $4 $ 2=5.00$
Booths & Bed New builss HURRY IN - SALEENDS SOON

There is a difference in Law Schools.

To learn more about our Law School, where faculty and students work together toward a common goal, meet with our representatives Debbie and Bill Muldoon (Syracuse '89)
Law Day, Monday, Oct. 7, 11 am-3 pm
Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student Center
Wa invite appictions from an persorse regardiesa of raca, gwnder, sexual preterence or handicap.
School of Laus
Hestern Reu England college
1215 Wilbraham Road Springfield, MA 01119-2689 413-782-1406

Sports

Seminoles,

 beer, make for wild weekendRandom thoughts concluded while wondering what ever happened to Tony Mandarich and Brian Bosworth

- Wouldn't it be great if Syracuse beat Florida State on Saturday?
Wouldn't it be great if SU was ranked No. 1 in the nation on Monranked No. 1 in the nation on Monday?
And after the game we could all go And after the game we could all go out for a beer; a really great beer like Keystone

KENT

FISCHER

SPORTS

 OPINION Bottled beer taste Learue Baseball -With Major ing this weekend it's suason end this year's award winners.AL MVP: Frank Thomas, Chi.
AL Cy Young: Roger Clemens, Bos. MLl Cy Young: Dennis Martinez, Mtl. Rookie of the Year: Brian McRae, K.C.

NL Rookie of the Year: Jeff Bagwell, Hou.
AL Manager of the Year: Tom Kelly, Minn.
NL Manager of the Year: Bobby Cox, Atl.

For all those who scoffed at the Toronto Blue Jays for dealing away Fred McGriff and Tony Fernandez for Joe Carter and Roberto Alomar last year, here's a pennant in your eye.
Carter turned in another great Carter turned in another great season (I swear I can't remember the last time this guy did not drive in 100 runs.) and provided crucial leadership and cohesiveness on a traditionally turbulent team.

Alomar is the best second baseman in the AL, if not the majors, both offensively and defensively (okay, a guy named Sandberg could argue with that one). night and are favored to beat the Minnesota Twits in the ALCS.
Has anybody seen San Diego?
-Too bad Billy Owens left SU for the NBA. If he had stayed in school he most certainly would have been one of the two collegiate players picked to play on the U.S. Olympic Team. Now, he probably never will be.
-l'll know I've finally hit the big time of sports journalism when I appear on The Sports Reporters. For now I guess Mll have to settle for UUTV's Sports Rap.
-Recently two elements have been mentioned in conjunction with one another: Qadry Ismail and the Heisman Trophy

This talk about the Missile being a candidate for the most coveted award in college athletics is a bit premature.

Granted the junior is a tremendous part of the Orangemen's success this year, and I'll even accept the fact that I may be way off base here, but if you'll allow me to speak backwards for a second: three good games does not a Heisman candidate make.
-Is it me or is SU offensive coordinator George Deleone the spitting image of Luther from the television show Coach?

Tricia

Question: Who was the last switch hitter to win the AL MVP?

Thursday's answere: Tracy Stallard berved up Roger Maris' necordbreaking gopher ball in the fall of 1961 .

Orange face uphill climb

Syracuse University running back Terry Richardson will return to his home state of Florida when the 10 th-ranked Orangemen play No. 1 Florida
State University on Saturday at $3: 30$ p.m.

SU feeling pinched after shaky 1-2 start  By IEfF ELBAUM  Alexander, or Mike Britton, depending

Staff Writer
Three games into its conference schedule, the Syracuse University soccer team finds itself under the pressures of postseason.
"This Ill stress at all costs - that we've got to win," SU forward Eric Puls said. "There's a long season ahead and anything could happen, but 1 consider it a must win. We're $1-2$ and we've got to get our record going."

The Orangemen, 5-4, 1-2 Big East will host the Providence Friars in the Carrier Dome on Saturday at 2 p.m
Providence, 4-2-1. 1-2 Big East, comes into the match on a two-game skid They've lost two straight games, to St John's and Seton Hall, by a score of 2-0.
For the Orangemen to beat Providence they will have to stop John Martin, who has been involved in nine of the Friars' twelve goals this season.

Foti said he plans to have one of the Orangemen closely marking Martin.
"We'll match up with him." Foti said, "Probably with Franz Calixte, Richard

Syracuse begins

By ZEV BOROW
Coach Dan Schulte said he feels that the Syracuse University volleyball team is "the best team in the East.

The Orangewomen will have to prove that this weekend at Manley Field ball season begins.

SU will host the Providence College Friars on Friday night, followed by matches with the Boston College Eagles and the Colgate Red Raiders on Saturday.

The Orangewomen enter the weekend ranked ninth in the NCAA's Mideast Regional rankings. Top-ranked Penn State is the only other Eastern team higher than the Orangewomen.
"Now we are the big fish," Schulte on where (Martin) is playing.
"I'm comfortable with any one of those three matching up with him because they're athletic, quick, and have all kinds of speed. They've proven in the past that they can mark people on the other

The Orangemen are looking at this game as one where they need to win to keep pace in the competitive Big East. Puls said he expects the Friars to be similar to Villanova.
"They're a big, strong, physical team, similar to Villanova, except I don't think they're as skillful as a Villanova team," Puls said. "In fact they might be a little more aggressive, even though Villanova very aggressive.
Puls also stressed that the Orangemen need to start out quickly against the Friars. Friars.
"They'll come at you," Puls said. "The longer you keep them in the game, the better they're going to get. If you come out and match their intensity and score one or two quick goals, they're done. It will turn into a 5-0, 7-0 game."

Big East battles

body gets psyched up to play us."
SU may be beginning Big East play, but its toughest competition this weekend will come from Colgate. The Red Raiders are coming off an upset over Temple and now have their sights set on the Orangewomen.

We cannot fall asleep against these teams." Schulte said. "Colgate is a solid little team. They serve tough and they pass tough. We can't be flat because they are good enough to make it an interesting match."
The'Orangewomen will have to mainain their intensity and guard against tain their intensity and guard against paper looks to be lesser competition.
"I don't think there is any doubt i my players minds that we will win," Schulte said. "We just have to play hard and maintain our focus, which is some-

Timing may be right for upset

By JOSH BARNETT

Staff Writer
When you're at the top of the moun tain, everybody tries to knock you off. For the Syracuse University football team, timing may be on its side when tries to knock off the king of the hill.

The 10th-ranked Orangemen take on top-ranked Florida State University on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in Tallahassee
"Playing No. 1 is probably the best scenario for us right now," SU inside linebacker Glen Young said. "Doing as well as we are, being 4-0, this is probably the best thing to do right now - to play No. 1 - and see how good we really are.

The Orangemen are coming off a 24-0 victory over winless Tulane. The Seminoles, 4-0, beat No. 3 Michigan $51-31$ las Saturday. "We're a pretty beat-up, sore football team," FSU coach Bobby Bowden said.
"I don't imagine Syracuse got hit as hard I don't imagine Syracuse got hit as hard playing Tulane as we did playing Michigan. This is an ideal week for an upset.

Here (we) are the No. I team in the ation and this is a Syracuse team that can beat you."

SU coach Paul Pasqualoni said he isn't planning any changes in the team's mental preparation to face the top team in the nation.
"We're going to need to be motivated," Pasqualoni said. "I think (our players See TIMING Page A9

Tope Dail with sexual assault

By KRISTINA SAUERWEIN

Asst. News Editor
A 23-year-old Syracuse University transfer student broke into a student's apartment, allegediy sexually assaulted her and her friend and attacked two other male students, a police report stated.
SU sophomore Philip Tufi was arrested Friday at $1: 35$ a.m. and charged with four felonies, the report stated.

Tufi was released from the Syracuse Police Department Friday at about 1:30 p.m. He is scheduled to go to court next week.

SU junior Catherine Falk said Tufi broke into her apartment on Euclid Avenue and sexually assaulted her and her friend Jill Weinstein

Both women said they were not raped and suffered minor injuries.

After consulting with his attorney, Tufi said he would not comment. However, he did say this was the first time he was arrested.

Falk said she and Weinstein were watching television when Tufi entered the apartment "completely wasted" and tried to take off her clothes while fondling her body.
"He kept saying 'I love you,' 'I love you,"' Falk said. "He slammed me against the refrigerator and said, Make love to me. You are my alave."

Friend also involved

Falk said she was able to hide behind the couch. Tufi then attacked Weinstein, Falk's friend who was visiting from Buffalo, the two women said.
"He hit me like I was a guy," Weinstein said. "He said he was going to kill me so he could be alone with Catherine."

While Weinstein was being attacked, Falk said Weinstein's brother Scott called. She told him they needed help.

Falk also said she told the neighbors to call Syracuse police and SU Security.

Scott Weinstein, an SU junior, and his friend, SU senior Steve Leitner, tried to restrain Tufi until help arrived.

Both men said they have bite marks and bruises.
"Phil kept biting and spitting on Scott and $I$," Leitner said. "He ruined the apartment.
Falk said Tufi had just returned from the bars on Marshall Street and a formal pinning ceremony at Theta Chi fraternity, where Tufi was pledging.
"I have partied with Phil before and I have never seen him that drunk," Falk said. "He couldn't stand up. The only said. He couldnt stand up. The only way he kept his balan
"He had to have had a large amount of alcohol," she said. "Phil told me, 'I think I was hazed.'

Inside

Classified. 14
Comics.14
.5
Footnote $\begin{array}{r}.5 \\ .16 \\ \hline\end{array}$

Living.
.7
Sports.
8
Weather.

Orangespeared

The top-ranked Florida State football team piercedSU'sperfect record ball team piercedsU's perf with a 46-14 victory over the Orance in Tallahassee the Orange in Tallahassee. 8,9
For story see pages

Theta Chi President Greg Provenzo said the fraternity does not haze and all pledge events were non-alcoholic.

Now an ex-pledge
"Phil is now an ex-pledge of Theta Chi," Provenzo said. "As soon as we found out about the incident, we revaked his pin.
"Theta Chi is a totally non-hazing fraternity and our brothers do not force anyone to drink alcohol. We do not condone hazing or any of that kind of behavior.'

Falk said Tufi, whom she has known for four years, also attacked her at for four years, also attacke
"I didn't press charges then because he just pinned me against the wall and said, 'Make love to me,"' Falk said.
"After that incident, I told him to stay out of my life. I didn't see him again until the other night," she said.

Falk and Weinstein both said they are angry about the way SU Security handled the incident.
"It really frustrates me that it took
See ASSAUUT Page 6

Fraternity brothers injured during scuffle  he said. "Some of the brothers don't

By LAKSHMI SINGH

Staff Writer

> Three Phi Gamma Delta brothers were badly injured in a fight Friday in front of their fraternity house at the corner of Euclid and Ostrom avenues.
> The students were taken to Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital and treated for various injuries, a police report stated.

> Fiji President Mark Shashoua said the fight, which occurred between 1:00 and $2: 00 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$., was initiated by 1:00 and 2:00 a.m., was initiated by a group of men who verbally harassed several fraternity members. He said several fraternity members. He said he is not sure if they are Syracuse University students.

> One of the brothers, Glenn Garvin. was walking to his home after a Fiji semi-formal party; when the group of men began to verbally harass him.
> Garvin started walking away from the scene when he was hit over the head with a glass bottle, Shashoua said.
> "He was trying to avoid a fight," even think he's ever been in a fight." Shashoua added that a second brother then attempted to help Garvin but he was hit over the head and knocked unconscious.
His name was not available.
Third brother kicked in face
"Tb my knowledge, a third brother (Matt Rembe) tried to help the other brothers when he was kicked in the face and his jaw was broken," Shashoud said. "He broke the other side of his jaw when he hit the side of ground."

He added that Rembe will have to return to the hospital for surgery on his jaw.
A fourth fraternity mernber, Joseph Cognetti, was hit in the face causing bleeding and swelling of his mouth, the police report stated.
Shasboua said SU Security and medical aid arrived about five to 10 minutes after a blue light was activated. The assailants were atill at the

See FIGHT Page 6

You're getting sleepy...

Hypnotist Milton Hicks attempts to hypnotize students Thursday night in the Day Hall lounge.

Registration policy may change

By STEVE DALY.
Staff Writer
A long-standing Onondaga County Board of Elections policy that has been board or Elections policy that has been organizations could be on its way out the organ door.
But in the meantime, today is the last day to turn in voter registration forms.
The present policy requires students to complete, in addition to the standard voter registration card, a residency evaluation form that other county residents do not have to fill out.

However, this policy may change if Ed Szczesniak, Onondaga County Democractic Party chairman, is confirmed today by the county legislature as the new democratic commissioner of the new democratic commissioner of of Elections. Szezesniak said he Board of Elections. Szczesniak said he will ab firmed.
"The board's role is to maximize the roting process," Szczesniak said Friday. "Proper democracy demands participation."
Several sources have speculated that the voter registration form has been used to limit student influence in county elections.

One out of four

Onondaga is one of four counties in he state that requires such a form.
Board of Elections Deputy Commis sioner Helen Kiggins has defended the residency evaluation form as a legitimate way to determine a student's right to register in Onondaga County.
Criteria such as financial dependence on parents and the state or county where students pay taxes is crucial to determine voter eligibility, she said.

Szczesniak said he does not interpret Szczesmia it that way.

The choice of students retaining registration at their parents residence or registering in Syracuse is a personal decision that should not be arbitrarily determined by the Board of Elections Szezesniak said.

Because Syracuse University students Because Syracuse University students live in Syracuse for nine months a year and represent an integral part of the livelihood of the city both economically and ideologically, they deserve an opportumity to voice their opinions and concerns in a constructive, democratic fashion, Szczesniak said.
-What the board is currently doing is taking a vague state law and implementing it so that it is singling out one segment of the population for a reason that is not apparent," he said.

County's mechanism
Szczesniak said the Board of Elections

World

Gorbachev announces

 nuclear arms reductionsPresident Mikhail Gorbachev announced euts in nuclear weapons on land nounced cuts in nuclear weapons on land and sea that appeared to surpass Presiand sea that appeared to surpass President Bush's proposal to remove many U.S. tactical weapons.

Gorbachev read a statement on Soviet television Saturday anmouncing a oneyear ban on nuclear testing and the elimination of all short-range nuclear weapons.

The cuts would affect virtually all categories of the Soviet nuclear arsenal.

Ultra-Orthodox Jews

riot over road

Potice on horseback clashed Saturday with thousands of ultra-Orthodox Jews who tried to block a new highway, saying the traffic disturbs their Sabbath observances.

Three protesters were detained and at least one policeman was injured. police said. It was the most violent clash between Israel's religious and secular Jews in four years.

The four-lane highway was buit partly to allow Israeli motorists to bypass stone-throwing protests by Palestinian uprising activities.

Monetary fund allows

Soviet Union to join
The International Monetary Fund granted special associate membership to the Soviet Union on Saturday and dispatched experts to speed the transition to a free-market economy.

The IMF, however, has stopped short of offering the full membership status sought by the Soviets. Full IMF membership would make the country eligible for loans to help meet payments on its $$ 65$ billion foreign debt.

Nation

Income tax opponents

 jostle Lowell WeickerConnecticut Gov, Lowell P. Weicker Jr. was shouted down, jostled and had to be rushed back to the safety of the Capitol building Saturday when he tried to address an anti-income tax rally.

The crowd of 2,000 chanted, "Get lost! Go home!" as Weicker tried to reach the speaker's platform.

The governor remained calm throughout the incident and tried to talk with the protesters in his path, but was drowned out by boos and obscenities.

Democrats request  better health care

Two Democratic presidential candidates pushed for improving health care Saturday, but both said higher taxes are not the solution.

At a health care meeting sponsored by the Iowa Democratic Party. Sen. Tom Harkin and Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton declared that the health care issue would head their list of domestic concerns.

Both took pains to avoid the bigspending label that has hurt the Democrats in past elections.

FDA rejects home

cancer detection kit A Food and Drug Administration approval of a home test kit designed to detect cervical cancer
The panel of experts voted against approval Friday because they said the study data on the test showed an unacceptably high rate of false negative results, said FDA spokeswoman Susan Cruzan.

The kit. made by Medtech Inc. of Bohernia, was designed for women who do not have regular access to a physician.

State

Syracuse man attacked

with syringe in car

A Syracuse man told police he was jabbed twice with a syringe and thrown from his car by two unkriown assailants Friday night.
Ronnie Jackson, 40, told police he puid for gasoline at the A-Plus Mini Marke on Erie Boulevard and got into his car. He said someone in the back seat stuck him in the neck with a syringe and injected a cool liquid.

He said another man got in the front seat and he was jabbed again with the syringe and told to drive.
He said he drove on Teall Avenue for a few minutes and then was shoved out of his car.

Police found his car Saturday after noon near the Hilltop apartments. A denim jacket with a Blockbuster Video card in the pocket was found in the car.
The name on the card is Kenneth Jay Durham. Jackson said he did not know anyone by that name.

Anti-abortion group  may target Buffalo

Operation Rescue, agroup that coordinates anti-abortion protests, may choose Buffalo as the site of large-scale protests this winter or spring, said Randall Terry, the growp's founder.

Terry said he is impressed by the size of the anti-abortion movement in the city.
The group held demonstrations in Wichita this summer that resulted in 2,600 arrests.

The anti-abortion movernent has already received a strong endorsement from Buffalo Mayor James D. Griffin.

University

Social work reception held for chancellor

The Syracuse Univeraity School of Social Work Alumni Association will host a reception for Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw and his wife Oct. 8 at 5 p.m. at the Central Village Youth Center.

Prior to the reception, the Shaws will take a tour of the Syracuse Community Health Center and the Salvation Army.

The Shaws will also meet with various humnn service leaders and directors of County and SU social work alumni.

Shalala to lecture

for Ganders series

Dr. Donna E. Shalala, chancellor of the University of Wiscomsin-Madison, will address the faculty and invited guests of the School of Education Oct. 17 at 4:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium.
Shalala was recently named one of the top five managers in higher education by Business Week magazine and was noted as one of the fifty most powerful women in the United States by the Ladies Frome Journal.

A doctoral graduate of Syracuse University, much of Dr. Shalala's career in public service has been devoted to the issues of child poverty and disenfranchisement.

She will discuss the plight of America's poor children and issue a challenge for advocacy to business. education and the government.

The lecture is part of the Marry $S$. and Elva K. Ganders Mernorial Fund Distinguished Lecture Series.

For additional information, contact the Office of Professional Development at 443-4696.

Autumn Sale  WEATHER  \section*{Fall?}

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE SCHINE STUDENT CENTER HOURS: MF $\mathrm{B}: 30$-6:00 - SAT. 10:00-5:00

Temperatures will plunge today with highs in the 50s. Could fall actually be here? Scattered showers are likely - there's a 40 percent chance. Tonight, too, will be cloudy with highs in the lower 30s.

Tuesday
The sun may peek out for a while today, but we can mostly expect more clouds and grayness. Highs will only reach the 50 s .

Wednesday

Again, the sun will play hide-and-seek with theclouds. Wednesday will be a little warmer, day will be a tittle warmer, though, with

Today'sgueat city: Wells_Maine Thursday-

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange in Syrwcuse University's independent wtudent-run newmpaper publiahed Monday through Friday.
Tha newspaper in dintributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry camputes.

The editore tre available after 3 p.m. Sunday through

News: 443-2127Editorial: 443-2128Lifemtyla: 443-2128$S_{\text {portus }} 443-2208$Burinea/Mdvertining: 443-2314(Mon-Eri Aos0 m.m. - 4:30 p.m.)

News Extra

AIDS victim's testimony sparks debate

Controversy surrounds bill concerning health-care worker testing  Last week, Kimberly Bergalis appeared before a Congressional committee to give testimony in support of a bill that requires AIIS testing of healthcare workers who perform invasive procedures.

The bill, proposed by Congressman JOSEPH BURTON

BELL

NEWS

ANALYSIS

The New York Times reported, "Ms Bergalis and four other patients became infected after dental treatment from Dr. David Acer of Stuart, Fla., in what officials call the only documented case of doctor-to-patient transmission."

During her 15 seconds of testimony, the 23 -year-old woman said, "My life has been taken away. Please enact legislation so other, patients and health-care providers don't have to go through the hell I have.'

Bergalis' testimony is the most recent developmentin the controversy surrounding ADS testing of patients and physicians.

Effect of testing

Many ADS activists are concerned that mandatory testing will deflect funds from research. Those speaking for the Dannemeyer bill said that excessive cost is exaggerated and that doctors should pay for their own testing. not taxpayers. Dr. George Bohigian, a St. Louis ophthalmologist, favors the legislation.

He said, "Physicians should be the leaders in determining their HIV status. As a profession, we need to hold ourselves up to a high standard. Remenber, Hippocrates said, 'First, do no harin."'"

Former Surgeon General C. Everett Koop said that testing could provide no certainty that a doctor was not infected because the test can only detect the HIV virus some months after a person acquires the disease.

Some observers detect a deeper meaning at the core of the debate. The Times said these individuals contend "Ms. Bergalis represents an idea they are working to counter: that there are 'innocent victims' of ADDS -those who are not homosexual or drug users - and presumably victims who are not so innocent."
In The New Republic, Thomas Laqueur writes that ADDS represents the "first post-civil rights, post-feminist epidemic."

Public issue

Laqueur asserts the disease has become not only the object of advocacy politics but a public issue that is "refracted through decades of legal battles over privacy, discrimination and equal protection.

In such a scenario, questions of whether or not the names of HIV-positive physicians should be made public or whether or not a school district should exclude an HIV-positive student become worthy of front page news coverage

Columnist Charley Reese writes that ADS is "not a homosexual disease or a drug addicts' disease (but) an infectious disease like hepatitis that politicians, disease ike hepatitis that politicians, at a co

The HIV virus has become a political hammer that is wielded to advance an ideology. Laqueur writes that due to its association with "sex, drugs and with feared, hated and otherwise marginal groups ... AIDS has become a disease with meaning well beyond its capacity to cause suffering and death."

Laqueur argues that "the struggle to establish one cultural meaning of the esisabise rather than another, to have it disease rather than another, to have it regarded ... as a civil liberties issue ... or regarded $\ldots$ as a civil liberties issue $\ldots$ or a sign of the shambles in which the a sign of the shambies in which the turns out to be every bit as important as medicine and science."

The question remains: should physicians undergo mandatory testing so tha patients would be able to choose, based upon that information, whether or not they want treatment from someone who is HIV positive?

Doctors reaction

Doctors would also presumably have the option to refuse to treat an HIV positive patient.

Whether invasive procedures are a major or minor concern in the transmission of ADS is only part of the discussion.
Jeffrey Levi, policy director of the AIDS Action Council, said, "Kimberly has reminded people that everyone could be at risk."

Bergalis has received the degree of media attention she has, not only because of her outspokenness, but because, as Dr. Robert Redield, an AmS researcher at Walter Reed Army center, said, "Most Americans don't feel they have a real risk from AIDS. This case worries them, for the only real risk of getting AIDS is from their physician."
Columnist Patrick Buchanan wrote that Bergalis is paying the price because her dentist "was a selfish, self-serving bisexual who cared more about ... keeping his practice than about his patients."
Speaking on The McLaughlin Group, Buchanan asserted, "People have a right to know even if there's a minuscule danger of catching this disease."

As advocates from both sides of the ssue engage in emotional discourse, other matters have been brushed aside. The New Republic notes that Randall Nesse, a physician at the University of Michigan Medical School. "fears that Michigan Medical School, "fears that a quarter to a third of all ADS cases in the United States ... increases the lethality of HIV."

Eliminating threats
He believes that if major cities embark upon needle exchange programs, the most lethal strains of the ADS virus might be eliminated. If nothing else, such programs would help control the spread of the disease.
The Times said. "Efforts to curb the epidemic among addicts have been stalled by controversy over the best methods and by unwillingness to pay for treatment of many addicts who want to shake their habit."
David Barr of the Gay Men's Health Crisis spoke before the same committee as did Bergalis.
aris "We are not enemies," Barr said of Bergalis, "even though we are presented Bergalis, "even though we are presented as such. We are dying from the same neglect."
Needle exchange programs, safe sex and information are three powerful weapons that can be brought to the battle.

Forums examine current affairs

By RAYNA KATZ
Staff Writer
The Office of International Services' weekly afternoon forums on international news perspectives aim to increase global awareness among Syracuse Uni versity students and faculty, according to Patricia Burak, the office's director.
Participants of the forum view current news broadcasts and discuss world events with people who have different international experiences and perspectives, Burak said.
"It is a forum to open discussion and consideration of issues which affect all consideration of issues which affect all of us, but which we get very little of us, but which we get very little information about in the United States," she said.

An expert on a country or situation involved will lead the discussion, Burak said.
Typically, the one hour program begins with participants watching CNN or a special videotape related to the topic. she said.
For example, during a recent discussion on the civil war in Yugoslavia, sion on the civi war in Yugoslavia, Eastern European country showed one of his tapes.

Attendance at the forums usually hovers between 10 to 12 people, Burak said.
Mostly international participants
So far, most of the participants have been intermational students, she said.
Burak said she emphasizes that the forums are open to Americans as well as international students and faculty.
"One of the purposes of the forum is to bring American students into an international environment on a regular basis," she said. "SU is trying this year to bring a more cross-cultural and multito bring a more cross-cultural and multicultural perspective to programming. Junko Hayashi, a graduate intern at the office, said the time should be changed because some interested people have because some interested people have elasses during the forums, which are held on Wednesdays at noon and Thurs days at 4 p.m.
Hayashi said Americans are lucky to have freedom of expression and they should take advantage of it by attending the forums.

In encouraging more people to attend the forums, Burak said the discussions have not been political in the sense of have not been political ${ }^{4 T h e}$ forums have been friendly, informative and educational." she said. "Students shouldn't feel intimidated to come."
Burak said she believes the forums would be of particular interest to international relations, political science, and public communications majors.
The forums are held at the Office of International Services at 310 Walnut Place.
"There"s a whole world present on our campus," she said. "Students can access it through the programming of our office. "It is intellectual and social, informal yet educational."

BRIEFLY

The steel framework of part of a $$ 200$ million Syracuse University $200 minion Syracuse university steam plant under construction at the base of University Hill collapsed Saturday.
Police said a gust of wind may have blown down the seven-foot tall structure, the frame for about one-fifth of the plant.
Construction workers said no one was hurt and no equipment was damaged.
The collapse at 1:47 p.m. snapped a power line pole that shut off electrica power line pole that shut of minutes.

POLICE BRIEFS

A portable radio belonging to Syracuse University Parking Services was foundon the roof of a building on South Clinton Street on Wednesday, police said.

Edward Gorman, 61; found the radio and turned it over to the police. It was stolen from a car owned by a 31-year-old employee of Parking Services on Sept. 28 at 2 a.m.

The radio was returned to her, police said.

Two Syracuse University students found a man trying to steal an answering machine from their apartment Friday morning, a police report stated.

The two 19-year-old students were in their apartment on the 700 block of University Avenue when Dennis Rucker, 34, came in and started to dismantle their answering machine.

He said he was looking for someone named "Mike." The students asked him to leave.

After he did, they called SU Security.

Rucker was spotted on the 900 block or Madison Street by SU Security. The students positively identified him there and he was arrested, police said.

A 20-year-old Syracuse University student was charged with fourth degree criminal mischief early Friday morning.
John Stocks, of the 800 -block of Comstock Avenue, was caught punching and kicking the door of the guard booth at the Quad2 parking lot at College and University places at $6 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
Security Officer John Benedict chased Stocks to the 100 block of College Place where he was arrested

A Syracuse University student reported his patio furniture stolen from his house on the 200 block of Comstock Avenue Friday night. police said.

The 21-year-old student said someone took four white plastic chairs and one white plastic table from the front porch of his house.

Police said there are no suspects or witnesses.

A Syracuse University student said her bedroom was robbed Saturday night, a police report said.

The 19 -year-old student, of the 700 block of Livingston Avenue, said her stereo system, two speakers, a camera. six silver rings, a gold band and two diamond earrings were stolen from her bedroom between 6 and 9:30 p.m.

HALLOWEEN HEADQUARTERS

We carry Syracuse's most complete line of Costumes, Masks. Makeup, Beards, Hats, Halr Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Dlsguise Kits, Decorations (Indoor & Outdoor), Noveities, Greating Cards and More.......

RENTAL COSTUMES

```
Hours: M.-S. 9-9:45
Sun. \(1 \uparrow-5: 45\)
Sun. 11-5:45
```

[25] ?

(SAM () In EXS)

VARIETY STORE
4902 SO. BAY RD., NORTH SYRACUSE
Ten Minutes From The University 81 NORTH
Exil 28 (Maltydala) Follow S. BAY RD. Signs -Look For Switz's Tower

The woman's roommate said she was home from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and heard noises coming from the victim's room but said she assumed it was her.
Another roommate said she came home at 8:30 p.m. and found both back doors open and the victim's room door open.
Police said there was no si
Police said there was no sign of forced entry and there were no suspects.
An employee of Sutter's Mill & Mining Co. said a man reached into her car and grabbed her arm early Saturday morning, a police report said.

The 20-year-old victim told police she and her friend were approached by a white male in his 20 s , 6 -feet-2-inches tall weighing 190 pounds

They said he reached into the car and grabbed the victim's right arm and kicked her car in the wheel well, causing a small dent.
She said she had another altercation with the same male in front of Magnolia's Courtyard.
She said he began shoving her and she punched him in the face, causing her ring to break. She said her arm and right eye were bruised.

Police said there were no suspects.

An 18-year-old Syracuse University student said he was jumped by several males in the South Crouse alleyFriday night, a police report said.
The victim told police he was walking in the alley when a Hispanic male asked him if he wanted to buy "weed."
The victim said he said no and then was jumped by about seven males.
The victim suffered a chipped tooth, a small cut above his right eye and scrapes on his face.

Police said the victim was intoxicated at the time of the attack.

A 20-year-old Syracuse University student was arrested Saturday night for possession of alcohol, police said.
Susan Ellis, of the 500 block of Clarendon Street, was asked to show identification to police inside Magnolia's Courtyard
She showed them a New York State driver's license belonging to Elizabeth A. Maitland.
Compiled by News Editors Robert Shields and Roy S. Gutterman. See tomorrow's Daily Orange for more police briefs.

Immars ilitianStop Smoking American Heart Association

Two Take-Out Meals for Just $\mathbf{$ 6 . 9 0}$ ?

Since 1954 Swiss Chalet has been serving delicious food made from quality ingredients. Using a recipe imported from Switzerland, Swiss Chalet quickly became famous for its unique barbecue chicken. Cooked in real brick ovens using a method which allows the chicken to baste in their own juices it's always crispy, golden on the outside, tender and juicy on the inside. And Swiss Chalet is more than just great barbecue chicken, it's also tangy grilled ribs, garden fresh salads and mouth watering desserts.

Whether you dine in or take advantage of our convenient take-out service, you're assured of consistently high quality at consistently low prices.

3220 Erie Blvd. East. Dewitt

Editorial

With good comes bad

There's some good news and some bad news.

The good news is Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev announced that his country will disarm and eliminate most of its short range nuclear weapons and cut ballistic missiles to a number below the level agreed to in the recently signed U.S.-Soviet treaty.

Gorbachev also said his country would not conduct nuclear testing for one year and suggested having a new summit. These commitments have obvious merits, but the toll they threaten to take on the American people may not be so great, which leads to the bad news.

The bad news is President George Bush called the announcement "good news for the whole world." But, he said, "there's work to do before we sit down at a summit."

When Bush makes statements like these, his country should know it's in trouble. Bush will play up the summit-

Rest easy; texts induce sleep

Before I start this "generic" column, I just want to thank some people. I really want to thank the people that come up to me with their opinions on my column. The fact that people appreciate what I write means more than anything to me. Please continue to give me your ideas and opinions on my column each JAMAL WRIGHT

PEOPLE

 OBSERVERto-be for all it's worth. He will ponder publicly, pose politically, and basically stall to divert American eyes away from domestic problems. Now, in this post-war climate, a responsible president might attempt to conduct foreign affairs while cleaning up the mess at home. But he has neglected the obvious domestic agenda for his entire presidency. This announcement just assures Bush he can continue to act this way.

Bush figures he's more likely to find success on foreign soil, and he's probably right. He was effective as com-mander-in-chief in the Gulf war. Now he tries the flip side. Only time will tell how Bush will fare as a peaceseeker.

The only sure thing is that Bush will not address anything on the domestic front until this summit is over. Then something else will come along to allow him to dodge problems at home.

LETTERS

Ignore stereotypes

To the editor:
For the second time in the past several weeks the Syracuse University greek system has come under fire for irresponsible and immoral behavior. I am, of course, referring to the incidents involving the brothers of Alpha Chi Rho and Phi Delta Theta. Both of these incidents occurred separately and should be dealt with as such, not grouped together because each belongs to the university greek systern.

I am not condoning or defending the actions or alleged actions of either fraternity. I arn simply writing in an effort to "wake up" Syracuse University to the stereotyping and generalizations that are running rampant throughout our campus. Groups such as the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Association and S.C.A.R.ED. are organizations that do so are organizations that do so about homosexuality ard rape, about homosexuality arrd rape it is sad to see them condone it is sad to see them condone stereotyping of other groups. stereotyping of mainly greeks.

The fight for equality for homosexuals and rape victims has been a long and painful one, hut this fact does not give these groups the right to put others into little categories. Just as you cannot say all lesbians are big, ugly women or all rape victims were "asking for it," you cannot make the assumption that all greek members are alcohol-swilling.
immoral idiots. Human nature allows for diversity. This uniqueness is what makes each house different. And yes some houses do conform to this stereotype, but there are so many more that don't.

The trend in many groups today seems to be to promote their own superiority at the expense of another. No one is better because of their sexual preference, color, income or any group that they belong to. And no one is better because they have suffered more prejudice or hate. If anything I would think that experiencing hatred and discrimination hatred and discrimination would make a person more would make a person more understanding and openunderstanding and open-minded toward their fellow minded to

The way to resolve discrimination is not to blame or attack someone else, or even try to change their point of view. This only succeeds in alienating and angering the very person you want to understand you. By educating and promoting awareness about prejudice we can begin about prejudice we can be to realize that we are all created equally. We as a campus, nation and world are campus, nation and world are a long way off from resolving and ending prejudice, but if it is to stop we must understand and tolerate everyone, rich or poor, black or white, homosexual or not. everyone.

Danielle De Mooy
Class of 1994

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971 raise crucial questions in your raise crucial questions in your reporting, to spur debate and let ideas run through the pa stands lacks identity, purpose and in its impotence remains a dupe to mediocrity.

campus.

I would gladly trade in any Billy Joel record review for an article that could itemize where my tuition really goes. Unfortunately, if The Daily Orange cannot address these problems, the campus as a

The reporting is minimal, consisting primarily of light news and candy-coated university press releases. Investigative reporting is unheard of and prior restraints practiced by the editors themselves have limited opportunities to speak freely. "hip" with Rolling Stone record film and restaurant reviews, Thim and restaurant rev
The Daily Orange has The Danyy Orange has an serious subject matter including lack of interest in the student government system, the polarization of blacks and whites on campus and the lack of respect for women that prevails across the expense of the drug, its side effects and the risks that go along with not using condoms.

October 7. 1991

BHRTH

Continued from Page 16

There are still diseases going around and you have to protect yourself. So for that reason I would still choose a condorn," junior Guillermo Linck said.
"The cost is also a factor in a series of injections," he said. "But if it's not'too expensive I think a lot of people would do
"I would take it if it was clinically tested and temporary," junior Lew Segall said. "L don't think the responsibility lies with the woman."

Added security

Since many men also worry about unexpected pregnancies some say the security of know ing they would not become fathers would be a plus in using birth cantrol.
"I would still use a condorn but I think other guys would use it if for no other reason than their own peace of mind," junior Sylvester Helhoski said

While the prospect of men using birth control may sound intriguing to students - even if it becomes a reality - the idea probably will not catch on with most people, said Dr. Philip Ferro, director of Family Planning at Syracuse's University Hospital.
"I tell women: Remember who gets pregnant and stuck at home raising the kids," Ferro said. "The incentive for a male o use contraceptives is being responsible. A lot of guys are not."
The expense of the GnRh antagonist will also limit its use, Ferro said.

With the relatively small amount of contraceptive research going on in this country, he said, it will be at least five years before the GnRh antagonist will be available to anyone for birth control.
"There are a lot of political attitudes that don't want to make sex easy. So the climate is not favorable for contraceptive research," he said. "But the GnRh antagonist is available now for other purposes."
The Federal Drug Adminitration's restrictions on human research in the United States also adds to the lack of progress n this area, he said.
"I don't see (male contraceptives) replacing other methods, just becoming an addition to them," he said. "I'd be surprised if it became a popular method but I would love to be wrong."

VOTE

Continued from Page 1
has two primary responsibilities: to serve as a mechanism that assures the county complies with state election law and to offer fair and equal access to the ballot for everyone of voting age.
"The board has gotten carried away with its application of the law," he said.
"Requiring an additional form for students, just because they are students, is inappropriate," he said. "Its very presence is discriminatory."

Szczesniak said he favors the use of the standard voter registration card for all applicants.
"The board should be implementing, not preventing, the opportunity for people to vote," Szczesniak said.
"Everyone who is eligible should vote," he said. "This means that we have to make it accessible to everyone.'

The Student Government Association, the Graduate Student Organization and the New York Public Interest Research Group have sponsored drives to register students who wish to vote in Onondaga County

NYPIRG has been lobbying in Albany for a tighter state election law that would limit separate interpretations by individual counties, said NYPIRG Project Coordinator Bob Merli.

FIGHT

Continued from Page 1 scene when security arrived, but were able to slip away from a crowd of approximately 100 bystanders, Shashoua said. Witnesses described the assailants to police. Shortly after that police arrested three men who said they were involved in the fight but did not hit Garvin, Rembe or Cognetti.

The suspects are still at large, police said.

Shashoua said even though he understood that security was concerned about controlling any chaos at the scene, he believed not enough was done to capture the assailants.
"I'm a bit disappointed with security for not apprehending anyone," Shashoua said. "They seemed more interested in getting the brothers inside the house and getting the streets cleared."

According to Shashoua, some brothers said they saw some of the assailants run off, but no

Don't let this happen to you. Sign up now for an interview with the National Security Agency. We're looking for Spring '91 and Fall ${ }^{\circ} 91$ graduates interested in full-time employment. It could be the opportunity you've been looking for.

NSA is the Department of Defense agency changed with foreign Signals Intelligence. domestic Information Security, and overall Operations

Security for the U.S. Government.
It's an important, exciting mission that lends itself to some unique job opportunities.

So don't miss out on what could be the chance of a lifetime Meet with ISA. We' re coming to campus.

National Security Agency
The Opporrunities of a Liferime

NSA INTERVIEW SCHEDULE

The Natlonal Securlty Agency will be ot campus Hovember 21 st Interviewiag sentors majoring le olectrical engiaeeriag, compnter sclonce, mathematles and Aslan, Middle Easterm and Slavie langyagas. Summer positions are also avallable for Junlors.

one was caught.

"That's what's scaring the house," he said. "This could happen again ... to anybody." Shashoua said the house will work with the police and the house corporation this week to conduct an investigation.

ASSAUIT

Coninued from Page
SU Security about 20 minutes to get to my apartment when 1 only live a block away," Falk said.
"Then when they finally came, they acted like they didn't care," she said. "They didn't even ask us if we were OK. It just sucks that it takes security forever to get here."
SU Security Lt. Jay Duda could not be reached for comment.
"If Steve and Scott didn't come and hold Phil back, we could have been raped," Jill Weinstein said.
"And now I'm just afraid," she said. "I'm afraid to go out and I'm afraid of what (Tufi) might do if he sees me."

Although Syracuse police issued Tufi a restraining order, Falk said she fears he will attack her again.

Now, whenever $I$ hear a knock at the door, I get nervous," Falk said. "Sometimes I'll cry or shake.
"I'm scared he might come back. He could conne back at any time."

ESAT GMAT MCAT GRE  Test Your Best  Classor Forming dion.  Classes forming  NOW  Call for information  472-3702

Living

Culturcheck

It's a small, sexy

 world in DenmarkForget about Disney World - the hip new vacation attra hagen is Erotica 2000.

Sexy underwear, handouts on masochism, do-it-yourself porn films and Miss Nude Erotica 2000 contests are just a few of the attractions at this exhibition that ran over the weekend. A family pavilion that had informaA family pavilion that had information on sex, AIDS and homosexuality was also on display.

Organizers were expecting to draw more than 50,000 visitors from such distant nations as Turkey.

Stars take wing  for Broadway

Some of Hollywood's highest-paid celebrities are forgoing the limelight for the spotlight. Alec Baldwin. Rob for the spotlight. Alec Baldwin. Rob Lowe, Alan Alda and many other stars will appear on the New York stage this season.

Baldwin will appear with Jessica Lange and Amy Madigan in an offLange and Amy Madigan in an of liams' A Streetcar Named Desire

Lowe will star with Tony Randall in George Feydau's classic farce $A$ Little Hotel on the Side, and Alda will play the title role in Neil Simon's new play. Jake's Women.
Other stars returning to their theatrical roots include Raul Julia (Man of La Mancha), Joan Collins (Private Lives) and Patrick Stewart in a oneman production of $A$ Christmas Carol.

German brouhaha over 'Twin Peaks'
The wall between East and West Germany may have come down, but a new scandal is shaking the recently reunited country: Twin Peaks. The German R'TL Plus channel bought 20 episodes of the American series and dubbed it into German. The show has been running as the Friday lead-in to the Tutti Frutti strip-o-rama.

But after the second episode aired, rival network SAT 1 decided it didn't like the competition. On a teletext like the competition. On a teletext display, which supplies viewers with display, which supplies viewers with program guides, news and informaprogram guides, news and information. SAT 1 sent a letter to the competition.
"Dear RTL Plus, Don't be sad. SAT 1 is helping your viewers enjoy Twin Peaks. Laura Palmer was killed by her father, Leland,", the display read.

RTL Plus has now filed suit against SAT 1 for destroying the surprise element in its series, which it will now move out of prime-time. SAT I contends it did nothing wrong. Since RTL already dubbed the series, SAT 1 suggests redubbing in a new killer. The furor over Twin Peaks continues.

-Compiled from daily

 newspaper reportsComing:

Tuesday

Feminist reading

Mary Dllem-Kavanaugh turned arvision into a profitable ventairat Read the puccess story of feminist morrow in

Business

Syracuse Sidewalk stars to create lasting tribute to fame

By KELLY HARTLEY

Contributing Writer
After last night's Hollywood-style Walk of Stars induction ceremony. local citiof Stars induction ceremony. local citizens will be able to shout. "Hooray for zens will be able to shout. "Hooray for Syracuse." celebrities Bob Goldthwait, Noted celebrities Bob Goldthwait, Grace Jones and the Shubert brothers Grace Jones and the Shubert brothers were recognized as the 1991 charter inductees.

Limousines carried the stars to their destination, the Landmark Theatre, which will serve as the setting for the which will serve as the setting for the permanent tribute. A crowd of about 300 permanent tribute. A crowd of ab people welcomed the celebrities.
"I feel like I'm on Star Search," commented Goldthwait upon receiving his award.

Amidst the sarcasm and political wisecracks, Goldthwait admitted that he was truly flattered.
"I've never felt I'vemade it in showbiz," he said. "This is the closest I've ever felt."
Dressed in a skintight purple outfit. Dressed in a skintight purple outnit, Jones also reflected on receiving her star-
"This feels better than an Academy award," proclaimed Jones, echoing Goldthwait's remarks. "I don't have a prepared speech planned; however, my father being a preacher, it ought to be easy to improvise."

Theater pioneers

Brooks MacNamara, director of the Shubert Archives, accepted the posthumous award on behalf of theater pio neers Sarn, Lee and Jacob Shubert.

Model, actress and recording star Grace Jones moved to Syracuse from Jamaica when she was 12 -Jones was honored Sunday night in front of the Landmark Theatre as one of the charter inductees of the "Walk of Stars."

Deemed as the "turn-of-the-century Horatio Alger story" by MacNamara, the brothers rose from poverty and created a powerful theater empire, owning and operating 150 theaters across the country. The Walk of Stars was the brainchild of Frank Malifitano, executive director of the Landmark Theatre.
"Art Struck was in need of a centerpiece to punctuate its 10 -day-long celebration," Malifitano said. "What could be better than a star-studded tribute like this?" Celebrities who wish to be nominated for this distinction must meet specified criteria.

Individuals must be nationally or internationally recognized in a performing arts or entertainment freld. They must be a resident of Syracuse or Onondaga County, or a graduate or Onondaga Community College or LeMoyne College.

During the ceremony, the bronze and granite sidewalk inserts, featuring the signatures of the celebrities, were unveiled.

The production and spring installation of the sidewalk stars was made possible by the City of Syracuse's $$ 10$ million downtown improvement program. Members of the improvement task force felt that there was a need to establish a focal point downtown.

As ceremony coordinator, Kevin Piquet remarked, "The fabric of the city will be woven into the sidewalk."

Procrastination proves positive Ten-step plan provides guide to all-nighter

I had a paper due this week. Luckily,
I planned ahead and budgeted my time I planned ahead and budgeted my time so that I could write several drafts the week before. Two days before the due date I had a finished product I could be proud of. NOT!

Procrastination is my real major, and I'm consjidering grad school.

Every teacher you have ever had told

RON

HART
HUMOR FROM
L'AQUA CASA the last wait until the last minute to start your assignment. Your parents told you not to "put off 'til tomorrow what could be done today." Right now you are probably on my sociology paper or else I'll be up all night Thursday.

Im telling you to wake up.
Society has made you feel guilty by unjustly condemning procrastination. But procrastination, for lack of a better word, is good.
By writing that paper in only one night you are minimizing the inconvenience of taking classes. And remember, college would be the coolest place if it weren't for classes.

Relish your laziness - that's what makes you a college student. If you think you can't do it, if you feel the need to actually go to the library and research rather than making up footnotes when you finish, just follow this 10 -step plan to the all-nighter.

1) Don't Panic: This is not impossible. Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence in two days. Don't you think you can finish your anthropology paper in one night?
2) False Start Tell yourself that enough is enough. It is time to start and you are going to sit down write this puppy.

The instant your backside hits the seat your mind will immediately be flooded with ways to get out of writing that paper: going to the Health Center, dropping the class, paying someone else paying someone Write it, etc.

sinks in, you will remember you forgot to do something so monumental that you can't start writing until you take care f it. Like making your bed.
3) Roommate Torture: Sit down with your roommates, the most sympathetic people on earth.
Roommate A: "Golly, Roommate B, hat shall we watch on TV?"
Roommate B : "Why don't you just Mip hrough the channels? Tve got all night."
Roommate A: "But I thought you had paper due tomorrow?"
Roommate B: "No. no. no. If I had a paper due tomorrow I would have written several drafts last week. You must be confusing me with my other roommate.
4) Long-distance Escapism: Isn't there some friend from high school that you've been meaning to call for the longest time? You kept putting it off didn't you? As long as you're not putting didn't you? As long as you're not putting things off any longer, give em a call. thing you are.
5) Justification: "I'm really not that bad off. I've essentially written several drafts already. It's just that those were in my head." This is one of the most common myths perpetuated by college students. You and I both know that if you spent any time at all thinking about this paper, it was just guilt for not starting yet.
6) Food: You're famished. Making your bed burned more calories than you thought. Go recharge, and don't forget the coffee.
7) Organize: This is reality here. Now is the time to plan "The Day After." You are going to be up all night. Now you must figure out when your next opportunity to sleep will be. Don't be a wuss and drop the paper off at the professor's office so that you can slip away to bed. It isn't an all-nighter until you pet the dog that bit you. Plan to go to class.
8) Brainstorming: Yes, you have finally sorted out every detail of your life completely unrelated to this paper. Let's begin.

Find a place far away from the typewriter where you can think of ideas for your paper's structure and content.

This is where you see how fast your train of thought takes you from comparing the relative political theories of Hobbes and Mill to the human body's Hobbes and Mill to the substantive need for sleep.
9) Power Nap: All this brainstorming is hard work. Sure it was stupid to wait so long to start, and it is late. But now you know exactly what you are going to write. You need to clear your head and focus. A five-minute nap is exactly what you need.
10) Panic: It is now an hour before class. Time to spring out of bed, plant yourself in front of the word processor yourself in front of the word processor and pray that you don't get a finger cramp.

You have gone past the point of waiting until the last minute. Here is the point where you say. "I don't even care how it turns out, I just want it to be finished."

There are those who will bay that you are only cheating yourself out of an education by doing this to yourself. Maybe the paper will turn out okay, but sooner or later there will be an assignment you just can't do in one night. But whoever said you came to college for an education? Besides, they probably never make their beds.

SYRACUSE SCOREBOARD

Syracuse $140000-14$ Florida st. 71013 16=46

First quarter

Syracuse 7, Florida St. 0
Ismail 44-yard pass from Graves (Biskup kick) at 14:37. Drive: 80 yards in 2 plays (0:23).
Syracuse 7, Florida St 7
Frier 12-yard pass from Weldon (Mowrey Fick) at 1:18. Drive: 84 yards in 12 plays (6:03).
Syracuse 14, Florida St. 7
Ismail 95-yard kickoff retum (Biskup kick) at 1:04.

Second quarter

Syracuse 14, Fiorida St. 14
Bennetr 7-yard pass from Weldon (Mowery kick) at 4:44. Drive: 74 yards in 12 plays (4:44).
Florida St. 17, Syracuse 14
Mowery 27-yard filed goal at 1:26. Drive: 30 yards in 5 plays (1:26).

Third quarter

Florida St. 23, Syracuse 14
Bennetr 1 -yard run (Mowery kick failed) a 13:04. Drive: 80 plays in 6 plays (1:56) Florida St. 30, Syracuse 14 S. Baker 50 -yard pass from Weldon (Mowery kick) al 2:55. Drive: 80 yards in (Mowery kick)
6 plays (2:36)

Fourth quarter

Florida St. 32, Syracuse 14
Safety (McIntosh sacks Graves in endizone) at 13:37.

Florida St. 39, Syracuse 14 Jackson 12-yard run (Mowery kick) at 10:53. Drive: 63 yards in 6 plays (2:46).
Florida St. 46, Syracuse 14
L. Johnson 15-yard pass from B. Johnson (Mowery kick) at 3:12. Drive: 69 yards in 9 plays (3:30).

statistics

Syracuse
Rwshing: Walker 8-62, Ismail 3-25. Wooten 3-13, Lee 3-6, Richardson 3-5, Dar Dar 2-2, Womack' 1-1, MacDonald 1-(-3), Graves $8(-26)$. Passing: Graves 1-(-3), Graves 8(-20). Passiage Graves Johnson 2-30, Richardson 2-16. Gedney 1-10.

Fiorida St.

Rurhing: Lee 19-106. Jackson 9-96. Bennett 10-35, Pierce 2-17, McMillion 3-11, Ellison 1-1. Harris 1-0. Passing: 3-11, Ellison 1-1, Harris 1-0. Passing: Weldon 22-35-0-347. Johnson 2-4-0-29. Receiving: Baker 5-139; Bennett 5-70, Knox 5-69, Turral 3-45, Jobnson 2-24, Frier 2-18, Hart 1-9, Jackson 1-3.

Player of the game

Casey Weldon

 11-0 as a starter.

WITY SU LOST

Syracuse didn't have the depth. offensively or defensively, to keep up with the near-unanimous No. 1 team in the country. Qadry Ismail kept the Orangemen in the game, but once Terrell Buckley and the FSU defense shut him down, the SU offense died. Casey Weldon, Shannon Baker, Kevin Knox and Sean Jackson all had career-high games as the Seminoles chalked up 642 yards the most ever against SU.

Hext weels's opponent

 The Orangemen next host East Carolina University, 4-1, on Saturday. East Carolina, who defeated Akron 56-20 this week, has beaten South Carolina and Memphis State. The Pirates only loss was a 38-31 decision to No. 22 Ilinios.

Syracuse University linebacker Glen Young wrestles down Florida State University fullback Edgar Bennett in the Orangemen's 46-14 loss in Tallahassee on Saturday. Young led SU with 17 tackles.

Graves' problems a bad signal FSU defense stifles quarterback's options

ByROB GUYETTE
Sports Editor
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Pinning Syracuse University's offensive struggles on quarterback Marvin Graves would not fe fair.
But Florida State knew it had to eliminate Graves' effectiveness to win. And they did.
The Syracuse sophomore quarterback had career lows in completions, completion percentage and yards, threw two interceptions and was sacked five times in the Seminoles' 46-14 win.

He connected on 6-of-17 passes for 100 yards.
Graves also struggled in running the option game, carrying three times for eight yards. Overall, the Orangemen rushed for 85 yards on 33 carries.

Graves' poor performance was probably magnified because of the careerhigh performance of his counterpart, Casey Weldon, who threw for 347 yards and three touchdowns.
Graves was hurt by not having sophomore wideout Shelby Hill, who has bruised ribs, available for every series. But he was hurt by more than that.
Terry Richardson, SU's secondleading rusher, carried four times for five yards. Fullbacks Marcus Lee and AI Wooten combined for 19 yards.

I don't know if I can comment on the performances of Weldon and Graves," SU head coach Paul Pasqualoni said. 'There's so many other factors involved. You have to consider the protection they're getting up front.
don't think we performed well as a team to support the quarterback role.

Florida State linebacker Marvin Jones, who sacked Graves twice, said the defense tried to tackle Graves as quickly as possible on the option and force him to pitch.
"With the type of offense they have, the quarterback is a big part of it." Jones said. "Once you start hitting him a couple times, he gets rattled and you can forget it."

Howard Dinkins, an outside linebacker who had six tackles and a sack, said denying Graves the ability to turn the corner was the key.
"We felt that if we could get him running east-west we could get him, Dinkins said. "Our team speed is too good for him to get around the corner on

Syracuse stunned the FSU defense See Graves Page 10

Syracuse University quarterback Marvin Graves is sacked by Florida State ontside linebacker Sterling Palmer. Graves was sacked five times in SU's 46-14 loss and had career lows in completions and passimg yards.

' Nole doubt about it Florida State chops Orange to remain No.

"We can do anything we want on 51-yard pass play.  Seminoles destroy SU's defense

By DAVID I. BUSCEMA

Asst. Sports Editor
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - The Syracuse University Orangemen gained a quick lead over top-ranked Florida State University on Saturday
And 10th-ranked Syracuse reacted in proper fashion when it led the nation's No. 1 tearn twice in the first quarter t screamed and hollered.
By the end of the game, however, those creams could very well have been cries for mercy.

The Seminoles overcame deficits of 7-0 and 14-7, scored 39 unanswered points and rolled to a $46-14$ victory.
"They were real confident." FSU linebacker Howard Dinkins said. "Once they got ahead, they started hollering back and forth. We weren't saying anything. We knew once our offense got rolling it would be like a runaway freight train."
The freight train rolled all over the Orangemen, 4-1, as the FSU express gained 642 yards - the most ever against a Syracuse team - in front of 61,231 fans at Doak Campbell Stadium.

Trailing 14-7, FSU went on a 12-play, 74-yard drive in $4: 44$ to tie the game on a nine-yard pass from Casey Weldon to Edgar Bennett with $7: 32$ left in the half.
Weldon ninished with career highs in completions (22) and yards (347). He also threw for three touchdowns.
A 27-yard Dan Mowrey field goal with 4:29 left before halftime gave FSU a 17-14 lead at intermission.
When the Orangemen went into the locker room, they tried to make adjustments and rejuvenate their option attack. But it never happened.
"They played the option well," Walker said. "They did some things with their defensive schernes that we didn't see this year.
"We thought we had it adjusted when we were in the locker room at halftime, but I guess we were wrong."

Things didn't go much better for the SU defense.

Florida State ripped off 80 yards in just 1:56 to take a $23-14$ lead.

On a 1 st-and- 10 play from the Seminoles' 48, Weldon found receiver Shamnon Baker down the right sideline for a

Bennett then scored from the 1-yard line. FSU missed the extra point, but it still had a nine-point advantage with 13:04 left in the quarter.
"When they came out in the second half and scored, we were like, 'O.K., let's go now," Ismail said. "Unfortunately we just couldn't be consistent enough. We broke down at critical times.'
Florida State broke open the game later in the third quarter on another Weldon-Baker connection. This tirne the play went for 50 yards and a touchdown as Baker beat SU comerback Greg Seminales a 30 -14 lead with $2: 55$ left.

Still, Orange linebacker Glen Young said Walker was not completely to blame for the two big plays.

When they were working Greg out there, working with the pump fakes and the one-on-one coverage, that's the toughest thing to defend," Young said.

The next two possessions for Syracuse resulted in an interception and a sevenyard sack by Toddrick MeIntosh for a safety, giving the Seminoles a 32-14 lead with $13: 37$ remaining in the game.

See DOMINANT Page 11

By ROB CUYETTE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - From shut-  out to blowout.  That's what happened to the Syracuse University defense Saturday as it surrendered the most yards in school history in a 46-14 loss to top-ranked Florida  The Seminoles gained 642 yards on an SU defense that held Tulane scoreless last week and limited the Green Wave to 298 total yerds.  FSU quarterback Casey Weldon set career highs for both completions and yards, hitting on 22 -of- $\mathbf{2 5}$ passes for 347 yards and three touchdowns.  Tailback Amp Lee had over 100 yards rushing by the middle of the third quarter, and reserve Sean Jackson, Lee's  Syracuse's

By ROB GUYETTE
Sports Editor
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Qadry Ismail has emerged as one of the nation's top receivers midway through this season.
His six touchdowns, including a $95-$ yard kickoff return Saturday against yard kickoft return Saturday against Florida State, have thrust him into the Florida State, have mational spotlight. But, according Sominoles cornerback Terrell Buckley, Ismail is no Desmond Howard.

Buckley, an All-American last year. went one-on-one last week with Howard, Michigan's touchdown-scoring machine and Sports Illustrated cover boy.

Howard caught two touchdown passes in the Seminoles $51-31$ win. Ismail caught one pass, a 44 -yard touchdown in which Buckley was on the other side of the field.

Though both were successful against the Seminoles, Buckley said there was no doubt who was better.
"IDesmond is better," Buckley said. "It's hard to explain, he's just a better player."
TV for fun
Florida State coach Bobby Bowden said he was glad the Orangemen beat the University of Florids two weeks ago. See NOTES Page 11 backup, rushed for 96 on nine carries. "Florida State is very consistent,"' SU linebacker Glen Young said. "They come out, run plays, don't make many mistakes. With the speed they have, you really have to be on top of your game."

SU's defense was on the mark early. stopping Florida State on two of its first three possessions. But the Seminoles claimed that their depth, their speed and the wet, humid wenther all contributed in ripping apart the Orange defense from the second quarter on.

Our offense sometimes gets off to a slow start," said fullback Edgar Bennett. who scored two touchdowns. "It's just a matter of time. We take what the defense gives us. It's just a matter of what they're going to give up.
The Seminoles gained 138 yards in the lot of things, but hurnidity is not one of Wideout Shannon Baker, who caught five passes for 139 yards including a 50 -yard touchdown, said he noticed the SU defensive backs tiring as well. Baker burned the Orange secondary on a pair of fly patterns down the right sidelines in the third quarter
"Down here in the South, it gets hot and muggy during the day," Baker gaid. The best thing that could happen to us was the rain. They've been playing in domes and inside. Any time you have to play in a different environment. it's a isadvantage."

SU's lack of pass rush gave Weldon, a senior quarterback who is now 11-0 as a starter, as much time as he needed to pass. It also gave both Knox and Baker

second quarter and 228 more in the third  'Missile' launches into spotlight

Syracuse University wide receiver Qadry Ismail atretches for a first half pass. Ismail, who eariler caught a $44-y a n d$ touchdown pass and returmed a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, mccounted for 209 yards in total offense in Saturday's 46-14 lose to Florida State.
The Daily Orange

732 S. Crouse Ave.

 above Faegan's Pub Trendsetters Welcomes Hilarie with 20 years experience and Michelle to their staff Facial Waving P Icrylic Nails , Ear Piercing Iso av ailable HURRY IN - SALE ENDS SOON| 4  SPECTAL DF TREE WEEK  EAT AND DRINK COMBO ONLY 12.20+tax  (save $2.11)  - 30 PIECE ORDER OF WINGS  - BIRDLAND OR BUFFALO STYLE  - LITRE OF SODA  ои 471 - SALS  FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY  Not valid with other SPECIALS - valid through Oct. 12, 1991  Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit  VISA - MASTERCARD - CHECKS - CASH ACCEPTED |
| :---: |

 The Parents Office is sponsoring a contest to see who are S.U.'s ideal parents! All full-time undergraduate students are encouraged to nomimate their parents for this special award. This is your opportunity to honor your parents and to say, "Thanks Mom! Thanks Dad!, for all you have done."  Winner & their parents will be honored during Parerts Weekend in the Fall-Nov. 1-3.

Please stop by the Parents Office, Room
237, Schine Student Center, for a nomination form and for further details.

GRAVES

Continued Srom Page 8
early, going 80 yards in two plays. David Walker took the opening option pitch 36 yards down the right sideline for the longest gain of his career. Then, Graves hit Radry limail for $n$ 44-yard scoring pass on a flee flicker to give SU a 7-0 lead 23 seconds into the game.
"They broke a couple big plays on us, but that's to be expected when a defense is aggressive," Dinkins said.

But the Orangemen managed just 105 yards the rest of the game and were only able to score on Ismail's 95 -yard kickoff return.
"We just kept playing our game." said cornerback Terrell

... F.Y.

MBA/Law Day gives vital information
All stadents inferested in learning more about law school or graduate prograrns in management are invited to attend Syracuse University's annual MBA/haw Day today from 11 p.m. in Goldstein a.m. to 3 p.m. in Goldstein ter.

Representatives from law schools and graduate management programs will be available ment programs will be avaliabie to meet with students. Admisto meet with students. Admission materials, catalogs and financial aid information will financial ald infor also be avallable.

Local art work

 shown at SchineThe art work of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in October.

The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Library offers  free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.

For more information, call

Buckley. who intercepted his fourth pass of the season. "One play was our fault. The other play was our fault. The other was a great run by Ismail. We was a great run by Ismail. We knew if we could stop the big play, everything would take care of itself."
Florida State's domination of SU's option also took Doug Wornack out of the game. Womack has relieved Graves frequently this senson as an option specialist, but Graves was forced to handle both duties on Saturday. s(Graves) was getting frustrated because we were playing a swarming defense." said FSU linebacker Kirk Carruthers HAnd we renlly played it well And we really played it well Hess a great athere, wanted to show the counreally wanted that we could dorainate."

443-1943.

CROP Walk held

to raise money

The annual CROP Walk will be Oct. 20. The CROP Walk is a 10 kilometer community walk a 10 kilometer community walk throagh downtown Syracuse to through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and interraise money for local and international hunger relief program. For more information, call 443 1254.

New lecture

series begins

The Peter Andrews Memorial Fund lecture series presents a talk by Robin Crews. executive director of the Peace Studies Association and member of the department of sociology at the University of Colorado.

Crews will speak on "American Interpretations of Changes in the Former Soviet Union: A Peace Studies Perspective" on Oct. 15 at 2.30 p.m. in the Maxwell School conference room. On Oct. 18. Carolyn Stephenson. of the University of Hawaii's political science department will speak on "The New World and the Old World Order: World and the Ol Porld Order United Nations Peacekeeping and Enforcement." The lecture will be held in Maxwell. Room 315. For more information, call 443-2367
Library Associates plan book sale
The Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale Oet. 31, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.rn. to 6 p.m. in Room 1916 on the first floor of E. S. Bird Library.

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collections.

There will be a mandatory meeting Tuesday, October 8th at 3:00 p.m. for students interested in WALK ON TRYOUTS FOR THE WOMEN'S BASKETBBALL TEAM. The meeting will be held in Coach Washington's office in Manley Field House.

Any questions, please call Kathy

NOTES

Continued from Page 9
Syracuse thumped then-No. 5 Florida 38-21 in the Carrier Dome, which Bowden said alerted his team that the Orangenen were a respectable threat.
Bowden said he feared the Seminoles would look past Syracuse, especially after FSU's $41-10$ romp in 1989.
"I think if we hadn't seen the Florida game we might have got beat today," a gracious Bowden said. "I'm so glad we played them here and not in that dome. I don't know if we could've gotten the momentum back lafter falling behind 14-7)."

Buckley. however, said the Florida-Syracuse fim wasn't Florida fyracuse mim wasnt ration
"We watch other games for enjoyment," Buckley said. "We know what kind of personnel we have and we go from there." Rain, rain go away

Several Florida State players

TIRED

Continued from Page 9 time toget open and have careerhigh receiving days.

Weldon said the game plan wasn't to intentionally pick on SU's defensive backs, who were often caught in man-to-man coverage against faster receivers.
"It wasn't a reflection of their secondary." Weldon said. "1 just had all day to throw.
Still. Baker admitted that the Seminoles knew they could exploit Syracuse's pass defense.
"We hidd heard their defensive backs weren't as fast as some of the DB's we've played in the past." Baker said. "So we

DOMINANT

Continued from Page 9
Florida State scored on a pair of late touchdowns to close out the scoring.

FSU cornerback Terrell Buckley said the lopsided outcome wasn't a result of the Orangemen's failings.
"They weren't that bad: we were that good," Buckley said. "We have an abundance of talent. We don't just have one said they weren't thrilled about the soggy conditions at Doak Campbell Stadium.

Rain began falling Friday night and continued until just before kickoff Saturday, with the hardest rain pouring down the hardest rain po

Quarterback Casey Weldon said healmost would have rather stayed home and watched someone else's game.
"It was getting pretty depressing driving in from Thomasville (Ga.)," Weldon said. "It was absolutely flooding. I was ready to sit back on the couch and watch the game."
Tailback Amp Lee said he couldn't get into the pregame warmups. Lee did find enough energy, however, to rush for 106 energy, however, to yards on 19 carries.
"I played decent," Lee said. "And the team won. That's all that matters."

Decent?
Career day
Seminoles wide receiver Kevin knew we had to take advantage of it."

Syracuse's previous record for most yards allowed in game was 587 - also against Florida State - in 1978 . FSU's 376 yards passing was the third most ever against the Orangemen.
The Seminoles ran 34 more plays than Syractuse and held the ball for nine minutes more, FSU's 269 yards rushing eclipsed the total the Orangemen had given up in their previous four games combined.
"This offense never surprises me," Weldon said. "And when the defense plays like it did, it just makes it easier."

Octuter 7. 1992
The Diily Orange
standout superstar. We have an abundance of superstars and we're playing as a team."

And, Bennett said, this win coupled with last week's 51-31 thrashing of Michigam should intimidate future opponents.

It shows us and the worid that Florida State means business." Bennett said. "We beat a couple great teams back to back, convincingly. It has to scare a few tearns, it has to put doubts in their minds."

ORDER OF OMEGA

(you know... that Greek Honor Society)
General meeting for all members

Monday, October 7 8 p.m. - Hall of Languages 105

brash and bold in the locker room after the game. A few samples:

Linebacker Kirk Carruthers "We're a gireat defense. There's no doubt about it. We've proven ourselves as one of the best in the country. We're talking some pride now. We've always been kind of overshadowed by the offense, but now we're getting some of the recognition we deserve."
Buckley: "We're ranked No. 1. The only way we can get knocked of that is if we lose.

The conversation is that we want the ring.
Carruthers, again: "We showed how much we can dominate an opponent. We it was going to be a dominating performance and that's what we showed."

Anyone registered for Humil. ity 101 ?

More numbers

Florida State's 642 yards of cotal offense was not a school record. The Seminoles gained 706 yards against East Carolina in 1982.

Knox, a sophomore, caught five passes for 69 yards. He had in his caree passes for 61 yard
"I'm third string on the depth chart and I performed just as well as the first string." Knox said. "There's no drop of on this team as far as depth goes."

Knox isn't quite ready to jump into the starting lineup. The first-stringer, Shannon Baker, caught five passes for 139 yards and a touchdown.
Tough talk
Florida State players were

MBA/LAW DAY

OPEN TO AKI STUDENIS OF AG/CLASS YEARS

- MEET WTH PEPPRESEMTATIVES FFOM LAW SCHOOLS AND CHAOGATE MANAGENEENT PRDGRAMS FROM ACROSS THE NATION. LLISTS ARE avalarie at ces amo the Lacement center.)
- obtank admassion matereals. cataiocs. and financial aio information.
- discuss auplication processes. Cugrtcual placement ano carien issumes.

seowsorep er:

The Dailv Orange  12

SADD alerts students of drunk driving danger

Think before you drink. That's the message that Students Against Drunk Driving hopes to deliver.

SADD is a national organization with chapters all across the country and has been at Syracuse since 1988.

Prompted by the death of student Denise Faulkner, who was killed by a drunis driver.
sisters in her sorority founded SADD to alert students to the dangers of driving while intoxianger
"We want to encourage responsible consumption and eliminate drunk driving in order to save lives." said Jeffrey A. Feld. president of SADD.
"You don't have to be drunk to have a good time," he said.

SADD's Syracuse chapter consists of about 50 students from allover . SyracuseUniversity.
working together to encourage non-alcoholic events and to alert people to the problems of driving while intoxicated.

While some members have had personaltragediesinvolving a drunk driver, the majority are working to prevent accidents before they happen.
"Don't wait until it's too late to get involved," Feld said. "We need to take action now before

Ring Sale

more of our friends die."

Statement through silence
One of the most effective programs that SADD is involved in is "White Faces Day." During National Alcohol Awareness Week in the spring, students paint their faces white and do not talk all day.

Instead, they pass out slips of paper explaining that they represent one of 70 people killed every day by drunk drivers.
"It really makes students realize that this can happen to them," Feld said.
"A little responsibility can make a big difference.
SU's alcohol awareness week starts Tuesday, Oct. 15 , with a kick-off in Schine at noon. Speak ers and events will be featured throughout the week, and all campus organizations are encouraged to participate.

Feld recognizes the steps being taken toward responsible consumption by such groups as the Panhellenic Association's "Mocktail" party.

He hopes to see more of these events throughout the year, not just during Alcohol Awareness Week, to make students realize that there is life beyond the bars.

So much of campus life revolves around drinking." he explained. "Even those who don't drink feel the peer pressure when they come to college."

Campus alternatives abound
We want students to be able to seek alternative places, such as The Underground, where you can play pool or video games and

SADD is not anti-drinking provided people are of legal age. provided people are of legal age It wants people who do drink to think about the consequences of their actions on others, and to exercise responsibility when they consider getting behind the wheel.

They recommend using the "Buddy System," having at least one person stay sober at every party.

SADD encourages everyone to get involved, particularly underelassmen who may feel pres sured into drinking. SADD meets every Monday at 5 p.m in Room 111 of the Hall of Languages.

Ultimately, Feld would like to see every organization on campus with a representative in SADD in ordier to get the entire campus involved in preventing drunk driving accidents and irresponsible drinking.

While Syracuse is fortunate to havemost social events within waiking distance, people tend to drive more in bad weather. compounding the risk of injuries.
"Is it worth it if you or one of your friends is killed because of your irresponsibility?" Feld asited. "Other people may be infured lose their lives just because you weren't rinart enouph tou weren enough to say the keys. keys.
"Know your limits and take care of those around you. We learned that in kindergarten. but now it's more importan than ever.'

Judy Luttrell  Hair Styilst on Campus 'Your Hair Is $\mathcal{M y}$ Care"

Manicure  $10.0    These  services  - Tips - Sculptur. Nails by tume - The Wrap - Overiay (nails th.ut look natural and beautiful)

Iudy $\mathcal{H}$ as 17 Years Experience
In Hair Care: Refaxers, Precision Hainuts, Etc.

Zniversal Image  HOURS:

744 S. Crouse Ave
(behind faegar's 479 Ave 8802

Tues. 8-2, Thurs. $10-9$
I Emergercies - 428.1859 Leave Message On Machine

V:37

Nottingham Laundromat In Nottingham Plaza Nottingham Road at Tecumseh Road

Full Service Coin Operated Laundromat 75\% Top Loaders opgnidmight 25\& Dryers $\operatorname{sam}^{-12}$ midnion TRY US

We Value Your Business!

"Good friends don't let good friends smoke cigarettes."

Cigorettes arent good for your friends: Adopt a friend who smokes ond help em quit

Samerrican today Youll both be glad tomorrow

Students settle for leftovers

Fans await alternative fall releases

BRUCE

BUCKLEY

FLESH

TUXEDO
have few choices fans will have few choices on new albums in the upcoming weeks. Meanwhile, here are a few leftovers while, here are a few leftovers from the beginning of the semester to chew on.
Lucy Brown - Lucy Brown
There are great live bands and great studio bands. While Lucy Brown definitely falls into the first category, the band's self-titled debut LP falls short of the second.

Those who caught the band's performance as the opening act for Spin Doctors in the Underground last Monday can attest to Lucy Browns raw, live energy, but may be disappointed by the album's lack of intensity.

While the band successfully meshes together rock, funk and thrash, it doesn't always combine well with vocalist Gene Hawkins.

His deep. soulful voice, although commendable in its own right, sounds like Corey Glover (Living Colour) played at halfspeed and lacks the bite needed to compliment Lucy Brown's ripping rhythrns.

Consequently, Lucy Brown is carried by the band's intense 'Iyrics and heavy grooves.

Although Hawkins' vocal style lacks punch, his lyrics do not. Songs like "Colorblind" unveil his undaunted energy singing: "Well they talk about red, talk about white, talk about blue. Can't you understand, they're all just colors, too. We're all shades of gray, in this crazy mixed up world of hate. Strength. Strength. We've got to flex our minds, we've gotta make this nation Colortblind!
While the lyrics carry a heavy message, it's the music that truly electrifies Lucy Brown. Songs like "Nobody Home" and "Skyburn" range from flat-outfunk to in-your-face hardcore. while "Brother" shows the band's soulful side.

For the sake of posterity, I

As we roll into mid-semester, new alternative music albums are falling into a slump between release dates. With rare excep-

Luis Peraza, Chris Neuberg, Gene Hawkins and Scott Llewellyn are members of the band Lucy Brown.
would recommend Lucy Brown to those who have seen the band live, but funk/metal fans who are unfamiliar with the band may find the album disappointing.
Living Colour - Biscuits
True fans of Living Colour will definitely want to take a bite out of Biscuits. This sixsong EP is a curious collection of live tracks, covers and unreleased songs that provides the leased songs that provides the listener with sides of the band listener with sides of the band previously unheard.
Live cuts of "Desperate People" and "Mernories Can't Wait" (recorded at New York City's CBGB and The Ritz respectively) display both the energy and the anarchy of the band's high-power performances.
The EP also includes two tracks that were left off the band's last LP, Time's Up.

The soulful "Love And Happiness" opens with an intro straight out of a Chicago blues straight out of a before kicking into a raucous R&B groove.

The second new song, "Money Talks." kicks in with a highspeed rock riff which builds into a chaotic, open jam, ending with rapid-fire thrash rhythms.

Most bizarre, however, are the two covers included on the alburn. The James Brown classic, "Talkin' Loud And Sayin" Nothing," is a far cry from the Godfather of Soul incorporatGodiather of samples and distorted guiing samples and distorted guitar riffs. The cover of Jimi tar rifis. The cover of Jimi Hendrix's "Burning Of The Midnight Lamp" barely resembles the original, played in a reggae style with hip-hop samples.

Altogether, Biscuits is a tasty snack for any Living Colour fan. Sarah McLachian-Solace

As the title would suggest, Sarah McLachlan's latest album, Solace. is a personal and introverted search for inner peace, which takes the listener from the serene to the sorrowful with perfect grace.
While her 1988 debut LP, Touch, centered around a full combination of instrumentation and vocals, Solace searches for a more subdued setting. On songs like the delicate "I Will Not Forget You," bare-bones arrangements of acoustic guitar and minimal drums create an ethereal atmosphere for McLachlan's dramatic voice to dance wildiy.
"Drawn To The Rhythm" and "Back Door Man" highlight this effect as driving guitar and tribal drum beats build and recede with the changing tide of McLachlan's brooding.
"Black" is one of the more intriguing cuts from the album as mandolin and harmonica are played against classical instrumentation to create a sparse mentation to create a sparse and sometimes disonant environment held together by McLachlan's steady voice.
Lyrically, Solace is equally compelling as McLachlan's dynamic vocals bring life to her haunting words. On "Shelter," McLachlan searches for comfort in her sorrow, singing: "I crowded into the smallest spaces. Outside all of nature cries. It's known to be cruel and unfair, but there is no place to hide. I've seen a part of people that I never want to share; l've seen a part of people that I never knew was there-walking in the shelter from the coming storm.

All elements combined, Solace is a captivating journey into subconscious solitude that will leave the listener entranced by its elegance and enthralled by its drama.

Isn't it time to take steps to make hunger disappear?

Why not participate in this year's

 CROP Walk?Sunday afternoon, October 20
A 10 kilometer community walk through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and international HELP
hunger relief programs
For information on how you, or your group can get involved, call 443-1254

EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!

- INDOOR PARKING $\ddagger$ SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING
$\star 12$ MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM $*$ DOLBY STEREO
* PLUSH SEATING (with cup hoiders) - WIDE ROW SPACING

DEAD AGAIN R
 RICOCHET R

SHOUT PG13

DECEIVED PG13
THE FISHER KING ${ }^{8}$
FREDDY'S, DEAD $R$

THE COMMTMENTS NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PG13 DOC HOLLYWOOD PG13 LATE FOR DINNER PG THE SUPER $R$ PARADISE PG13 MON-THUF 1 20, 3:50, 6:40, $9: 10$

TITLES AND TMMES SUBJECT TO CHANGE
HOYTS CINEMAS 12 AT CAROUSEL CENTER LOCATED ABOVE THE FOOD COURT

ERSAL HAIR AND  Redcem This Coupon  For  $$ 5^{(x)}$ OFF all Tanning Packages S $10^{(i)}$ OFF Full Set or Nails $$ 2^{(n)}$ OFF all Hair Cuis  We offer a full service  hair, nail & tanning salon  744 S. Crouse Ave (hehind Facgan's) 474-TANS  Visai. Mastercard. Americim Express  All saloins are not ecpual. guality is # 1 .

WAIST NOT WAMT NOT

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DAILY ORANGE CLASSIAED AD Toctor each ancilional word, 5 Fe extra tal oach bete wort, Se erra for each CAPITALIZED mord DENDLINE: 2pm, 2 business day in advaxce.

Notices
Hormaback Fiding ts mèes trom Syracuse Resv. (355)636-8169.

FOR SALE
Misc. For Sale
Txkets: Rutgers vs Syracuse at Giant Stadium. 50 Yard Line Lower Lewer Tickets Available

Two old dressers, antiques, old pewolry, dolls, wal hanging. cosectibles. See by appoctumemt 422 - 6459 . hanging
6459.

EMPLOYMENT
Enterpitising Individuats Hesied! Terific opporloave mossape.
Sal's Birdiand Fiestaurants Universty location an cook posion available Compotione wate has cortar 471-5205 for more infe.

Fast Fundrasar $$ 1000$ in 1 woek. Greeks, Clubs and Anyone. No investmera. 1-800.748-6817 ExI
Ean
Eam se2s00, Free Trips Soling Spring Break Packapos To Banamas, Mexx=0, Jamaca, Hidical bosi

Campus Represemanives Needecr Eam free up and big commissions by selling CACUM, MEXCCO. For more irformation cad toll tree at 1-600-7557996 or in Connecticut at 203.975-8833

$\left[\begin{array}{l}\text { J-michifiel } \\ \text { SPECIAL PURCHASE. }\end{array}\right.$

Waterproof Gore-Tex Boot

HH-BROWN

Gore-Tex Congo Boot
Our new boots by H.H. Brown are just what you need for the Syracuse winters. With a one-piece Gore-Tex sock liner, padded glove teather, the handsewn moccasin construction, and the sturdy lug sole, you're assured superb comfort and dryness.
173 Marshall Street 471-4237 m

Roommates

Nor-Smaking Grad Student Seeking Same To Shere 2 bdm Fan On Lancaster Ave. $\$ 250$ $471 \cdot 8514$
ONE EEDRCOM, wathing distanco, locatod at Waltrun and Madison Two mala sariors need one more person, $$ 200.682-5130$.
Great Tipp Hity 4bedroom House- Iully furmehed. sale reightbortood, across from park, 15 minened from Sampus. offsireel panking laundry and more. $$ 275 .+$ 1110.

One or Two peocple warted to shara a 3 bedroem turnished apartmeert one block from campus Parking thandry. Just radecoratect All unities included. 260.ea No Pets 44E-9599.

FOR RENT
Apartments
GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: SUudio apt. $2-$ building Laundry mom. No pats. Comer of Comstock & Madson $635-5322$. 635-3537/eves.

Dewn- near, nice tumishod great 1 bedmorn thantment. Pamking, all vuities incluctad. Grad proiessional prelorroct 47822542 . Asso quiel roomtaite needed. wak hospical $\mathrm{SU} $ 240.1$ month all Lfilties. tumished inetuded 478-2642.

2-Bladroom lower fiat, Euclid noar Westcon Scroened porch, oft-street parking. Private yard 5540.682 .8823.

1,2,3,4 bectroom apartments, roommate situtiona Off street parking. Laundry, clean, large rassornabla 4746741

SUBLET: 964 Lancastar Avenue, ore room sublat $$ 240$ a trorth, Joht $424-8054$.
FNNI a SPRING accopting Senior a Gracuate malo & tomale stuconss to frit several 40 com apantrments, 1 indivual of Rates: Basic hurmishac model $$ 230.00$; DasignarfDatiose moxtal $$ 32500$ Al are located next to E.S.F. campus on Oakland and Standant Ses. These apartments ane in an ex nishod wath bects, detks. drassers and ifvingrom furnituse. Call 673-1344 ior a ehoice student apt
AVAILAELE TCOAYI ONEX TWO BEDROOM APARTMENTS. Kitchen, fivingroom, batroom, $$ 420.5495 \mathrm{me}$ Call Marie 8-30-400, 443-2547
4.RM. APT. heat included, naw stove a retrigerator, ww carpet, mo pets. Call 474-2360. UNNERSTY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDROOM UNITS: Shase kitchen, bath Furrished heated capeterd. laundry microwave, cableIV. Nice. Close to campus $\mathbf{5 2 5 0}$-s235. Completa.
474.1303.474-3303

PRIVATE FUANISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS Phivate funnished studio apartment Very close. Secure. Ouiel. Carpeted. Air
Condationed. Laundry. Parking University Area Apts. 4795005

1. $\Phi \Delta \Theta-5$
2. $\Delta \tau \Delta$.
3. $\tau \mathrm{E} \phi$ also special thanks to the participants
AT $\Omega$ (1) PhiPsi TKE
ATR (2) Psi Y United Way
FIGI
$\boldsymbol{\Theta} \boldsymbol{\Xi}$ ZI

Bbricsout the bestinal of as

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

TUTOR ORIENTATION

The Center for Academic Achievement/Learning Center will conduct Tutor Orientation Workshops on Monday, October 7 and Tuesday, October 8, 1991.

Time: 6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Place: 500 Hall of Languages
All new tutors are required to attend either workshop. Returning tutors may attend either workshop if they so desire. For further information call 443-2622.

Houses

Large, beauritu fooms in a newty remodeled mansion. On syraex patxinge, tharxiry. 8 minute wak mefe situtution availuble $$ 200 . $ 300.474-6791$.

Rooms

Furnished Room: Gracuate Studam Share Kitchan. iving Foom, Laundry. Fireplace. Eucid Ave $5225.00+469-6665$.

PERSONALS

CUSTOM: T-Shints! Cups! Glassware! AND MOPIE For LESSI Cal Shawn Lasser DYMAND MMOVATIONS 1-800-659-7746.
Pio- Happy 21st Birthdey to the BEST L'a Sis evart hope yau're not too huncover to tage at th colatratory bar craw! M Street will never be the samel Happy, happy birthday! Enjoy! Love. Mountster
To Michele F. in Pi Pri oreat iob on our Chapter To wheremerion an prir great po on our Chaptar Thants- you Pi Pri sisters and plocgos.
Sfapm Kappan Cruehox, The secrest's ourl We had an incredete timio on Sunciay- hope you did tool Thanks for coming! The Sisters and Plodges of

SERVICES

ACNE RELIEF: INFORMATION THAT WHL CHANGE YOUR LFE. PROVEN EFFECTNE WASHINGTON, ALEANY, NY 12206.
TYPING. tast attordable, accurate. No job too smal / too big. Call Betsy $699-6433$.
THE FEAR CLNDC traats phobias, panic, anxieny. stress, & excessive tear, Health insurane experience. 315-475-9505. Typing. For all your typing neads- letrors. maniserpist dissertaions, ote. Call Rufh Dowey a 652.5814

TYPING SEAVICE ierm papers. resumes, erc. masonable rates, call MaryAnn 474-2350.
Word Procsassing. Leter resurneas Typlagy. Fast wiraround. COMPUTERS & COPIES, Marshail S. above Acroposs.
S. Mar-0931

Ansearch. Cal SHOATSEARCH to bogin your tern papers. All subjocts. Rassonatle raters

321 or.443-2911
LOST & FOUND
LOST: Kitten orance and witio, axra 10os, ston tail: missing since Oct. 2, 423-8640.
> "Good friends don't let good finends smoke cigarettes",

Cigarettes aren't good for your friends. Adopt a friend who smokes and help 'em quit today. You'll both be glad tomorrow.

AMERICAN CANCER

FEVER

LIFE AS A POPSICLE
Daily Aurcodo BUPSAR'S PER

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

GOTTA HAVE FAITH
BY ARNOLD

Shemin Cuditorium
NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOWS

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM
$\square$

AMISH TEMPT LINES!
THE YOOTHA FILE
BY LOP LOP

Injection sticks birth control to males

New experimental drug places burden of contraception on men

By SETH KELLER  Stafi Writer

She uses a diaphragm, so $I$ don't have to worry about it... I wish my girl. friend would go on the pill; it would make things a lot easier...
casier...
$I$ use
but onlybecansem, isn't using anything...

For the most part, these statements are typical of students' conversations about contraception.
From talking to it seems that most men assume, and most women believe, that women are responsible for birth control.

But even in the best situation, in which a concerned boyfriend decides to wear a condom, there is a chance it could break. And many health professionals suggest a woman use spermicidal foam or jelly to ensure protection. In a one night stand, a woman not only has to worry about sexually transmitted diseases but also a pregnancy that any guy could easily walk away from.

But what if the situation was reversed?

If he would only goon the pill, I could goop worrying. He gets injections every month so I'm definitely safe. He uses a condom, but only because I can't convince him to get an implant.

Male contraceptive A guy using the pill? It sounds strange now, but it may not in a few years.
Dr. Spyros N. Pavlou, assistant professor of medicine at Vanderbilt University, has taken a big step toward developing a male contraceptive that produces temporary sterility without decreasing sexual drive.
According to the Vanderbilt University Medical Center (VUMC), the contraceptive uses a chemical called a GnRh antagonist that suppresses sperm production and testosterone levels. An injection of testosterone is also given to the tion of testosterone is also given
This is the first long-term study using the GnRh antagonist on men in the United States, and Pavlou is pleased with the results.
"It's exciting because we have never had a reversible male contraceptive that would work with such efficacy," he said. The best we was 50 percent effective rate, which was not very reliable." not very reliable. at VUMC, Pavlou gave eight men the antagonist/testosterone injection during a 20 week period. Seven of the men became azoospermic, produced no sperm when they ejacmlated. The eighth man did produce a low number of sperm, but by the end of the treatment all his sperm were dead. According to the report, the fact he weighed more than the other men made Pavlou think a higher dose was needed to cut off his sperm production.

Few side effects
This new method of birth control is especially promising because the contraceptive is reversible and has few side effects.
"Within 10 to 14 weeks after the participants stopped this treatment, their sperm counts went back to normal and they were fertile again," Pavlou said. The only side effects were related to a reaction at the site of the injection. But

be avoided by using

a different antagonist in future studies.
Because the drug takes about three months to work and another three months after the man stops using it before sperm production returns to normal, it is not for casual users.
Instead, Paviou sees the drug being used by couples with steady relationships or by married couples as an alternative to having a vasectomy or using the pill.
Although two other studies have gotten the same results as VUMC, more work has to be done before this contraceptive will be contraceptive wilibe avai

In seven to 10 years, birth control for men should be on the market in the form of injections or implants, and a pill may eventually be developed.
While no guy is going to run out to his doctor tomorrow and get a prescription for birth control pills, birth control pills, some women on campus don't think male contraceptiveswould be such a bad concept.

It's a good idea as long as it's possible to reverse the effects," said senior Beverly Picache. "It puts the responsibility of birth control not only on women but on men also."
Even though women do want men to be included equally in birth control responsibilities, they don't think men are ready to include themselves.
"It's a good idea in theory, but I don't know if guys would be too psyched about it." senior Kelly Hammel said. "Guys would think it was a weird idea or just a pain. They're not personally affected so they would think it's not their responsibility."

Because theyhave taken care of con. traception for so long many women think these new methods may not be nethods may not be too successful at irst. Picache pointed out the pill makes it easy for men not to take an active role in trying to prevent preg. nancy.

For some men on campus, responsibility is not an issue. Many of them say they are willing to get involved in birth control decisions. Their concerns are the
 See BiRTH Page 6

The Daily  Tuesday, October 8, 1991

Budget cut deadline extended

Postponement allows students to voice concerns

By KRISTINA SAUERWEIN

Asst. News Editor

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw accepted the Student Government Association's recommendation to extend the deadline for announcing where the university plans to ax $$ 28$ million from its budget.

Moving the date from Jan. 15 to Jan. 30 will give students more time to voice their concerns about where the cuts will be made, SGA President Emily Zenick said at Monday night's SGA Assembly meeting

The Jan. 15 date just didn't give students enough time to give feedback," she said. "Extending the period will give students a chance to express their particular concerns.
Joe Shields. Assembly member and an undergraduate, representative to Syracuse University's Board of Trustees, said student input on downsizing is crucial.

"Everybody has to remember that nothing is final yet," he said. "No decisions about the restructuring of the university have been made.

Obligation to the board
"As students, we have a responsibility and obligation to let the Board of Trustees know how we feel. This is our university," he said.

But Shields said communication between students and the Board of Trustees needs to be improved.
"The Board is not aware about the issues affecting students," he said. "And most students don't know who these people are who sit on the board that oversees the university.'
Shields said trustees hear about student concerns from limited sources, such as the chancellor, The Daily Orange, and Shields and Desmonique Bonet, the other undergraduate representative to the board.
"As a representative, I can only do so much," he said. "Desmonique and I have 20 minutes to tell them what students are pissed off about."
"That does not adequately convey the passions and concerns of the students," Shields said.

See SGA Page 3

Steam bath

Freshmen Mike McMurry, left, and Sean Connolly walk through the steam produced from a broken pipeline between Steele Hall and the Heroy Geology building Thursday afternoon. between Steele Hall and the Heroy Geology building Thursday afternoon.

Forum discusses weight facilities

By STEPHEN DILL  Contributing Writer

Expanding facilities and improving safety conditions were concerns aired Monday night at a forum on Syracuse University's weight rooms.

A committee, organized by Nick Wetter, director of recreation services, solicited suggestions for improving weight ited suggestion facilities.

The committee was formed in response to letters in The Daily Orange that criticized conditions and inconven. iences in weight rooms, several committee members said.
Suggestions ranged from expanding existing facilities to purchasing new equipment. One suggestion that received serious consideration is moving existing free-weight equipment into a basketball court located in Archbold Gymnasium.

"Adding the basketball court will give us a much needed 2000 square-feet," said Vicky Vescio, committee chair.

Everybody in attendance agreed that this would go a long way in solving many of the problems. However, James Winchel, acting chairman of the health and physiacting chairman of the health and physical education department, said that he would first like to see if the structure can handle the addition of a weight room before any recommendations are made.

'Let down"

Although many students have voiced their displeasure with the existing facilities, only about five students attended the meeting.
"I really feel let down." said freshman Mike Carson, of Boland Hall. "I really thought a school like Syracuse would have more modern facilities."

Eric Christie, a freshman also living at Boland, agreed, but said, "I think that the present facilities are unsafe.
Other students commented on the lack of space being a major safety problem.

Many students said that they have had to bring their own equipment into the weight rooms.
"Ihave to bring in my own dumbbells," junior Dave Bliven said.
Other students agreed, saying that they have had to purchase their own pins for use in school Nautilus equipment.

The committee plans to consider all the suggestions made at the forum and write a report.

However, Vescio said, "what actually happens is up to conjecture."
Wetter said a recommendation will be forwarded to Peter Baigent, director of student programs. Any improvements of student programs. Any improvements

Meeting held to discuss bike racks, benches

By SHELLA DOUGMERTY

Staff Writer
Harvey Kaiser, vice president of facilities administration, said he wants student input about plans for additional bike racks and benches during a meeting today at 4 p.m. in Room 232 of the Schine Student Center.
The recent street improvements have generated concern from faculty and students about the increase in people riding bikes on campus, Kaiser said.
"As use of bikes increase, there becomes a need for more bike racks," he said.
"We sense that street improvements have led to greater bike usage," he said. "This creates a need for more bike racks. This meeting is an attempt to respond to this need."
Desmonique Bonet, vice president of Student Affairs for the Student Government Association, said she received a letter from Kaiser about the plans.
"I got a letter from Dr. Kaiser about it," Bonet said. "My job is just to get the students represented, because student input is what's really needed."

Bonet said she issued a letter to all student groups encouraging participastudent groups enc tion in the meeting.

Receiving responses

"I've actually received a few responses from some groups who are concerned," she said. "The disability advocacy group is one group who is very interested.:

Bonet said the main goal of the meeting is to gather student input.
"It's an issue that's very new to Student Affairs and Student Government," she said. "We need student input."'
Kaiser also said he is seeking student opinion.
"We're going to present (the plans), discuss it, and get student comments on locations," he said

Kaiser said there are approximately 240 spaces for bikes on present racks. An increase may result in 240 additional slots.

Kaiser said the location of the racks will depend on several factors, such as accessibility for students.
"We need to look at buildings with heavy uses," he said. "We need to look at locations where security can effectively observe (the racks)."

Kaiser said he is also concerned about people chaining their bikes to handipeople chaining

He said the ra
He said the railings are not safe when bikes are chained to them.

Another plan that wifl be discussed at the meeting is the tentative location of several new benches on the Syracuse University campus.
"There's been an observed need," Kaiser said.

This plan is still in the preliminary stage, but Kaiser said some alumni have offered to donate benches, Kaiser said.
"There have been several requests for donations," he said. "We're still in the See MEET Page 6

Inside

Business . . . . . . . . . 7
Classified . . . . . . . 10
Comics . . . . . . . . 9
Commentary . . . . . . 4
Editorial . . . . . . . . . 5
Sports . . . . . . . . . 12
Weather . . . . . . . . . 2

World

Coup plotters feared

 American dependencyOne of the plotters who tried to verthrow President Mikhail S . Goroverthrow President Mikhail S. Gorbachev in August said in the German news magazine Spieger ehey acted party because they feared the Soviet Union was becoming dependent on the United States.
According to Dmitri T. Yazov, former Hefense minister, the Soviet Union's econornic decine and internal unrest were other motivating factors in the failed coup.
"Gorbachev often traveled abroad in dea what important issues he discussed there," Yazov said.
He also mentioned Gorbachev's report to the Group of Seven industrialized nations in London in tuly. "We were naturaly not ready to increase our political, economic and even mitary depen Yazov said at a key Aug. 18 meeting where the coup was planned that he and two other plotters were drunk and contwo other plotters were drunk and consumed more alcohol during the meeting.

Hostage makes taped

 plea for ending crisis th held hostage by the prolranian ist held hostage by the pro-IranianIslamic Jihad for $61 / 2$ years, made a Islamic Jihad or $61 / 2$ years, made a taped interview Sunday in which he said his captors have promised "very good news" soon.

The 12 -minute video showed the Middle East correspondent for the Associated Press in better health than previous photos and tapes. He said his living hostages Thomas Sutherland and Terry Waite were in good health and spirits.

The tape apparently seeks to apply greater pressure on Israel to release Arab prisoners.

Anderson urged that all sides step up cooperation woring an end to the ordea through a hostage-for-prisoner swap.

Nation

Professor says Thomas

sexualiy harassed her
Judge Clarence Thomas was publicly accused yesterday of sexually harassing a law professor at the University of Oklahoma Law Center during the two years that she served as his personal assistant in the federal government.

The allegation, made by Anita F. Hill, a tenured professor of law at Oklahoma. comes two days before the Senate is scheduled to vote on his momination to the Supreme Court.
Hill charged, in an affidavit submitted to the Senate Itadiciary Committee last month, that when she worked for Thomas over a two-year period beginning in mas over a two-year period beginning in 1981, he asked her out and talked to her in detail about pornographic films he in detail seen.
The accusation adds an efement of uncertainty to Thomas confirmation. Some senators have asked that today's confirmation vote be delayed.

Thomas is President Bush's choice to succeed Justice Thurgood Marshall on the Supreme Court.

Michigan cuts welfare  benefits to thousands

Michigan ended a welfare program, called general assistance. which sent checks to 80,000 poor, able-bodied adults without children.
The State Legislature said it eliminated the welfare program to avoid a budget deficit and to end "welfare dependency.

After years of providing some of the nation's broadest welfare coverage, Michigan rescinded welfare benefits for such people.
"We don't have the money to pay for everything anymore," said John Truscott, a spokesman for Gov. John Engler. "And it's forcing us to make some very painful decisions.

Next month, Maryland will also eliminate its general assistance program cutting off payments to 24,000 adults.

State

Anti-abortion activists form chain in Buffalo

Orgarizers of the national "hife chain" against abortion estimate about 6,700 demonstrators turned out in Buffalo and Saratoga Springs Sunday.
Randall Terty, the founder of the anti-abortion group Operation Rescue, joined about 6,100 demonstrators in Buffalo to form a 20 -mile-long chain that stretched from Main Street in Buffalo to the Rainbow Bridge in Niagara Falls.

Terry joined the chain after addressing the congregation at the New Covenant Tabernacle Church in Tonawanda, where he condemned abortion, birth control and the separation of church and state.

Health care supporters

 ask Cuomo for helpGov. Mario Cuomo met with about 50 demonstrators in Albany Saturday to tell them be supports national health care for all Americans, but would not say whether or not he approves a bill now in Congress to set up such a program.

Senior citizens, union members, health care professionals and students rallied for the health-care program. The group for the heaith-care program. The group was rallied by three ambulances who are was rallied by three ambulances who are traveling across the country to symbolize traveling across the coun the need for health care.

The group first made speeches at the state Capitol and then marched to Cuomo's residence with a petition for the governor.

Rabbi leads protest

against Polish cardinal

Cardinal Jozef Glemp celebrated Man Cardinal Jozef Glemp celebrated Mass at St. Patrick's Catthedral in New York on Sunday, while Rabbi Avraham Weiss and about 100 others demonstrated outide against Glemp.
Glemp has been criticized by Weiss for making anti-Semitic comments in a speech in 1989.

Campuses

Radioactive materials

 contaminate studentsFadioactive material used during a lab experiment contaminated at least two Boston University sfudents last May, but it was not discovered until two weeks ago, a professor said.

Edward Loechler, a biology professor and chairman of the university's Radiation Safety Committee, said a former BU physics professor handed in safety badges long after the lab experiment.

The badges contain film that measure radiation exposure and are worn by anyone coming in contact with radioactive materials.

Loechler said badges from January through March of this year were also not tested because they were submitted after the cutoff date set by the testing firm contracted by BU.

Emory University offers

 course in JapaneseOfficials at Emory University in Atlanta approved funding for an experimental Japanese language program to begin this fall.
Associate College Dean Irwin Hyatt said "almost annually" student groups discussed with him the need for Asian languages.
"It's the right thing to do," he said. "We can't start with all the things Emory doesn't have. We have to start somewhere."

He said Japanese will be offered on a three-year trial basis, beginning with a one-year introduction to Japaraese this fall. In the $1992-93$ school year. that program will be expanded to include a program will be expanded to include a second year of lapanese as well as an introduction.

During the 1993-94 school year, the courses will be evaluated. Hyatt said the possibility of creating a broad Asian studies program has not been considered, and he does not believe one will come about soon.

WEATHER

The usual

- Another mixture of sun and clouds today. High temps will reach 60. lows 40. Expect a light breeze - five to 15 mph today. Tonight will be increasingly cloudy.

Wednesday

Wednesday is actually predicted to be mostly sunny. We'll believe it when we see it. Highs and lows will be in the 60 and 40 s respectively.

Thursday

The clouds roll back in today
Highs and lows are stable.

Temperatures across the country
Atlanta
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
New Yor
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University's independent atudent-run newzpaper published Monday through Friday.
The newmpaper is diatributed froe on the Syracuse Univernity and SUNY Environmental Science and Forearry compunea.
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thurwiny.

\author{

Nown: 443-2127  ENitorial: 44322128  | Lifentyle: $463-2128$ |
| :--- |
| Sporten $413-2208$ |

}

Write for the D.O.

Gerontology Center examines aging population

By MARK A. BROUSSEAU

 Asst. News EditorAlthough the Syracuse University Gerontology Center is a relatively unknown campus organization, the nation's changing demographics could make it important in the near future. "We are bringing gerontology and the issues of aging into the vanguard of concerns that are important to our campus." said Vernon Greene, director of the Gerontology Center.

The Gerontology Center is critically important for enhancing the nation's ability to the issues of aging, he said.

The center is a research and instructional unit based in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, although it has faculty and students throughout the campus, he said.
He said the center's educational mission is to provide a gerontology program.
"We also assist departments and faculty in designing curand faculty in designing curriculum that ing' We said. With departments on how to develop the curriculum, how to advise students and how to work with their faculty in the area of aging," he said.
A 15 -unit program
Although there is no degree in gerontology, a 15 -unit certificate program is offered. There are about 50 students enrolled in the program, Greene said.
The number of students has been steady for about 10 years. Greene said the center is organized similar to the metropolitan studies department. The center has no faculty of its own, but uses members of various departments for research and teaching, he said.
There are 22 senior faculty associates from all over the associates from all over this of social work, nursing, human of social work, nursing, hesaid developmentand design, hesaid

The center will build as we build activities." he said. "The center has been on campus since 1972 and in Maxwell since 1988."
"The field is becoming more relevant with the changing policies and issues regarding ag ing," he said. "We look forward to the opportunities and challenges of aging."
"In the last couple of years, the Gerontology Center has rapidly emerged into one of the top

Federal grant facilitates study

By MARK A. BROUSSEAU

Asst. News Editor
The economic state of the elderly has affected the economic state of the Syracuse University Gerontology Center.

The center has been awarded The center has been awarded a grant to undertake a comparative study of the socioeconomic tive study of the socioeconomic well-being of the elderly in the well-being of the elderly in United States and Europe.

The five-year grant of $$ 2.3$ million from the National Institute on Aging will be administered in cooperation with the Metropolitan Studies Department.

The project is a coordinated set of studies that assesses the adequacy of various public and private mechanisms for providing socioeconomic security to elderly persons, a university press release stated.

Merged data files from nationally representative longitudinal data sets will be developed that permit researchers to compare the relative work behavior and economic well-being ofolder persons in the United States

SGA

Continued from Page 1
The board needs to talk directly with students to close the gap, he said.
"Personal interaction will make the board more aware of students" concerns," he said. "Now, they are uninformed, and that's scary when considering the issues they are taking on."

Considering SU's ROTC policy
In addition to budget cuts, Shields said the board needs to Shields said the board needs to hear student input about the university's ROTC policy.

SGA believes ROTC should be removed from campus because it discriminates against homosexuals and violates the university's Student Code of Conduct, Shields said.

The board said it would review ROTC policy in 1995 , Shields said.
"My main concern is that the Board of Trustees' decision does not reflect the actions of the entire university," he said. "It seems to be blowing off the issue for three years."

Andrea Marshall, chair of SGA's student affairs committee, said the group wants to sponsor an open forum on ROTC policy.

Marshall also said the committee's information table on financial aid and scholarships will continue today in the Schine Student Center.

Aaron Amos, vice president of the university/community relations committee, said the comwith their counterparts in Ger many and elsewhere in Europe, the release said.

Searching German files

By combining with the German Socio-Economic Panel files, a unique longitudinal data file permitting international comparisons of socioeconomic dy namics will become available to researchers in the United States and elsewhere, the release said
The release also said the project will address broad questions such as: Is the United States safety net less adequate in this respect than those of other countries?

The work is distinctive in its emphasis on eross-national comparisons, public policies and parisons, puble policies and releastitutional arrangements, the relaid. release said.

The study will involve high level decision makers," said Vernon Greene, director of the Gerontology Center. "These are the decision-makers such as distinguished researchers and principle players."
"The project will not only improve our understanding of important research issues affecting the elderly. but also make substantial improvements in data bases for research on the indata bases for re efderly," he said.
"This project, and the further research initiatives that will build up around it, will make Syracuse University the premier institution in the country for cross-national studies in aging," he said.

The principle investigator for the project is Richard Burkhauser, a professor of economics. Working with Burkhauser as his principle collaborator on the project will be Tim Smeeding, professor of public adminiing, professor of pubics.

Both professors joined the university in 1990
mittee will talk to SU Security about an escort service for offcampus students.

Improving SGA election procedures and working with the SU Bookstore on a textbook exchange were other topics discussed by committee leaders.

Megan Delaney, Michael centers in the nation," he said. "We are not there yet, but we are close to being one of the best."

The center receives limited core funding from the university and three large mrants from the federal government, he said.

The center was recently awarded a five-year grant of $$ 2.3$ million from the National Institute on Aging.
"We use our funding to provide research opportunities for students and faculty, to fulfil the university's public service mission and to provide national visibility," Greene said.
"We also use the center's expertise and quality research to encourage good policy decisions," he added.

For more information, contact the Gerontology Center's academic adviser Martha Bonney at 443-9043.
${ }^{4}$ Professors Burkhauser and Smeeding are world-class reSmeeding are world-class researchers in aging and social searchers in aging and social policy, and it is our great forpolicy, and it is our great fortune to have attracted them to SUne to have attracted them to SU." Greene said.
"The project is still getting off the ground, but in six months we should have some real news coming from the center," he said.

Drueen, Jennifer Erie, Luke Grandoit and Jeremy Marin were elected to the Finance Board.
Drueen and Robert Zessar were confirmed as bailbonds persons and Sonya Miller as a representative for the parking committee.

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT
TUTOR ORIENTATION

The Centerfor Academic Achievement/Learning Center will conduct Tutor Orientation Workshops on Monday, October 7 and Tuesday, October 8, 1991.

Time: 6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Place: 500 Hall of Languages
AII new tutors are required to attend either workshop. Returning tutors may attend either workshop if they so desire. For further information call 443-2622.

Editorial

Security missing deadlines  What is taking so long?

Syracuse University security is falling short in its efforts to maintain order on the SU campus.

Security took too long to respond to an incident involving physical and sexual assault during the week- end.

A blue light, which is designed to stop rape and assault before it happens, was activated during a scuffle that injured three Phi Gamma Delta brothers. Security took "five to ten minutes" to respond to this call, according to one witness.

On top of all of this, a student was arrested after a security officer chased him down College Place. Why? He kicked the door on a parking lot guard booth. How threatening - especially

booth. How threatening - especially  Bathrooms affect

This edition of Naked Truth concerns a ritual which occurs frequently, but is rarely discussed. I'm talking, of course, about the bathroom experience.
I will attempt to be as tasteful as possible. Nonetheless, some of you may want to stop reading here.
I've been livin
I've been living in a residence hall for a year and a month, and 1 know no one whose habits have not been affected by public bathrooms. My days of reading a book or listening to the BARRY $\quad$ have to minimize the time

STARK

NAKED

 TRUITH have to minimize the timeI spend on the toilet to the I spend on the toilet to the I can say pretty confidently that regularity is students. I've never kept any sort of schedule students. I ve never kept any sort of schedule during my time at Syracuse University. Luckof Magnesia like some of my friends.

The reasons for this are numerous. The quantity of garbage we consume daily is enormous. All that dining hall food and pizza and wings and beer doesn't sit well with our digestive systems. And when our digestive systems aren't happy, we're bluntly told at bathroom time.

bithroom time.  View

Syracuse University is a rich institution which sits on a hill overlooking one of the poorest sections of the city of Syracuse. Anyone

DAVE
HORN
THE LEFT
COLUMN who has walked from
BrewsterjBoland under IBrewsterjBoland under I-
81 towards South State Street knows that the pros perity generated by SU does not improve the lives ofits poverty-stricken neighbors.
SU's new poiicy forbidding unauthorized cormmunity participation at the Schine Un.
ground will only increase this alienation.
When coupled with the widening of the

LETTERS

Greeks deserve better

To the editor:

In response to Wendy Kaplan's Oct. 2 editorial column, I have a few things to say.
The first one is RELAX. It's because of people like you who take everything so literally that this campus is so quick to make an issue out of some simple fun.

Secondly, I would like to say that fraternities seem to get the bum rap for everything. How many articles does one actually read about in The Daily Orange regarding good works of the greek system? Not many.

Last year, we as greeks were the backbone of the Crop Walk to benefit local soup while the rest of the university while the rest of the university contributed only $$ 2,084.10$.
We also contribute to Dance

Marathon and co-sponsor
Kindergarten Mania.
In addition to campus-wide philanthropies, many individual chapters hold their own events to benefit such causes as breast cancer research, The Danny Heumann Fund and The American Heart Association.
As for your accusations about "Virgin Drink Night at Tau Epsilon Phi, that's exactly what it was. Interfraternity Council, Panhel and Greek Council strictly enforce dry rush at Syracuse University. And I don't see anywhere in the " 50 th Annual Wreck-a-Car" night where it says that these "are all ways a male can prove himself a true a man."
Are our First Amendment rights of speech, assembly and rights of speech, assembly an

press

Constitution? An

advertisement cannot be considered the cause for danger "in the kinds of behavior they portray and suggest." because it is the person him-or herself who acts.

If one has a problem with "heightened aggression and competition, and unchecked sexual drive," it was in them a long time before the advertisements in The Daily Orange.

The greek system does have its problems, but I'm sick of greek letter organizations greek letter organizations being used a
And Wendy, these advertisements wereall in good fun.

Amy Feol
Class of'93

The Daily Orange  su eliminates security division, hires Dominos for speedy delivery

LETTERS

SU needs new focus

To the editor:
I think that all the peopie in power should begin to change the image of the school. I do not mean by lowering tuition, but rather by getting rid of the jock factory.

Syracuse University should have standards for these "student athletes" (or is it athlete students) other than points per game or yards per carry.

These young adults need to have the same academic skills as the other 12,000 people at this university. Face up to it, SU, our football and basketball programs are basically meat markets, where all that is cared about the "student athlete" is the athletic side.

SU is not giving the athletes or the rest of the university a fair shake. Look at it this way -I'm here for an education and an SU diploma. I should and an SU diploma. Ishould not have to take classes with students who academically do students who academicaliy
not deserve to be here, and not deserve to be here, and thus lower the school's competitiveness.
On the other hand, these student athletes (at least in football and basketball) are not being prepared for the rest of their lives. Most of these athletes have the goal of making it professionally and are placing most of their efforts in that direction. It is the university's duty to replace their objectives and tell them the hard truth that most people the hard truth that most people never even get drafted by th professionals. SU nee mandatory, class attendance.
mandatory, class attendance.
SU is not fooling anyone on campus. We all know that there is preferential treatment going on, but who is that hurting in the long run? Sure, it is hurting me, all the other students, and everyone who comes in touch with the university, but in the long run it is hurting the student athlete.

Here is my proposal for the school. Let me preface it by saying that 1 an well aware there are some football and basketball players who take their studies very seriously. I have tremendous respect for each and every one of you. But there are not enough athletes like you.

My proposal is that SU has a special academic program for student athletes who really just want to be athletes.
In this program, special skills would be taught. With this program the athletes can leave the university with some skill for life after sports.

Ideally, this program will be optional for student athletes If they opt to join the program they will have a trade skill once they gradunte. If they opt not to take the program, they not to take the program, the
must be in one of the other must be in one of the other schools within the university. schools within the universit
and must live by the same standards as the other 12.000 standards students.

The way the school is now. student athletes are being taken advantage of and abused Look at all the money these men bring into the school. The least the school could offer in would help them in the future

Michael Konner Class of 1995

The Daily Orange

Edicor in Chisi
Jodi Lamagna

``` year by The Daily Orange Corporation. 744 Owtom Awe.. Svtacure, NY 13210 by the Duily Oramge. Cosponation and may not be reprinted without the eapreswed written perminvion of the Editor in Chief.
```

Editorial

Security missing deadlines  What is taking so long?

Syracuse University security is falling short in its efforts to maintain order on the SU campus.

Security took too long to respond to an incident involving physical and sexual assault during the week- end.

A blue light, which is designed to stop rape and assault before it happens, was activated during a scuffle that injured three Phi Gamma Delta brothers. Security took "five to ten minutes" to respond to this call, according to one witness.

On top of all of this, a student was arrested after a security officer chased him down College Place. Why? He kicked the door on a parking lot guard booth. How threatening - especially

booth. How threatening - especially  Bathrooms affect

This edition of Naked Truth concerns a ritual which occurs frequently, but is rarely discussed. I'm talking, of course, about the bathroom experience.
I will attempt to be as tasteful as possible. Nonetheless, some of you may want to stop reading here.
I've been livin
I've been living in a residence hall for a year and a month, and 1 know no one whose habits have not been affected by public bathrooms. My days of reading a book or listening to the BARRY $\quad$ have to minimize the time

STARK

NAKED

 TRUITH have to minimize the timeI spend on the toilet to the I spend on the toilet to the I can say pretty confidently that regularity is students. I've never kept any sort of schedule students. I ve never kept any sort of schedule during my time at Syracuse University. Luckof Magnesia like some of my friends.

The reasons for this are numerous. The quantity of garbage we consume daily is enormous. All that dining hall food and pizza and wings and beer doesn't sit well with our digestive systems. And when our digestive systems aren't happy, we're bluntly told at bathroom time.

bithroom time.  View

Syracuse University is a rich institution which sits on a hill overlooking one of the poorest sections of the city of Syracuse. Anyone

DAVE
HORN
THE LEFT
COLUMN who has walked from
BrewsterjBoland under IBrewsterjBoland under I-
81 towards South State Street knows that the pros perity generated by SU does not improve the lives ofits poverty-stricken neighbors.
SU's new poiicy forbidding unauthorized cormmunity participation at the Schine Un.
ground will only increase this alienation.
When coupled with the widening of the

LETTERS

Greeks deserve better

To the editor:

In response to Wendy Kaplan's Oct. 2 editorial column, I have a few things to say.
The first one is RELAX. It's because of people like you who take everything so literally that this campus is so quick to make an issue out of some simple fun.

Secondly, I would like to say that fraternities seem to get the bum rap for everything. How many articles does one actually read about in The Daily Orange regarding good works of the greek system? Not many.

Last year, we as greeks were the backbone of the Crop Walk to benefit local soup while the rest of the university while the rest of the university contributed only $$ 2,084.10$.
We also contribute to Dance

Marathon and co-sponsor
Kindergarten Mania.
In addition to campus-wide philanthropies, many individual chapters hold their own events to benefit such causes as breast cancer research, The Danny Heumann Fund and The American Heart Association.
As for your accusations about "Virgin Drink Night at Tau Epsilon Phi, that's exactly what it was. Interfraternity Council, Panhel and Greek Council strictly enforce dry rush at Syracuse University. And I don't see anywhere in the " 50 th Annual Wreck-a-Car" night where it says that these "are all ways a male can prove himself a true a man."
Are our First Amendment rights of speech, assembly and rights of speech, assembly an

press

Constitution? An

advertisement cannot be considered the cause for danger "in the kinds of behavior they portray and suggest." because it is the person him-or herself who acts.

If one has a problem with "heightened aggression and competition, and unchecked sexual drive," it was in them a long time before the advertisements in The Daily Orange.

The greek system does have its problems, but I'm sick of greek letter organizations greek letter organizations being used a
And Wendy, these advertisements wereall in good fun.

Amy Feol
Class of'93

The Daily Orange  su eliminates security division, hires Dominos for speedy delivery

LETTERS

SU needs new focus

To the editor:
I think that all the peopie in power should begin to change the image of the school. I do not mean by lowering tuition, but rather by getting rid of the jock factory.

Syracuse University should have standards for these "student athletes" (or is it athlete students) other than points per game or yards per carry.

These young adults need to have the same academic skills as the other 12,000 people at this university. Face up to it, SU, our football and basketball programs are basically meat markets, where all that is cared about the "student athlete" is the athletic side.

SU is not giving the athletes or the rest of the university a fair shake. Look at it this way -I'm here for an education and an SU diploma. I should and an SU diploma. Ishould not have to take classes with students who academically do students who academicaliy
not deserve to be here, and not deserve to be here, and thus lower the school's competitiveness.
On the other hand, these student athletes (at least in football and basketball) are not being prepared for the rest of their lives. Most of these athletes have the goal of making it professionally and are placing most of their efforts in that direction. It is the university's duty to replace their objectives and tell them the hard truth that most people the hard truth that most people never even get drafted by th professionals. SU nee mandatory, class attendance.
mandatory, class attendance.
SU is not fooling anyone on campus. We all know that there is preferential treatment going on, but who is that hurting in the long run? Sure, it is hurting me, all the other students, and everyone who comes in touch with the university, but in the long run it is hurting the student athlete.

Here is my proposal for the school. Let me preface it by saying that 1 an well aware there are some football and basketball players who take their studies very seriously. I have tremendous respect for each and every one of you. But there are not enough athletes like you.

My proposal is that SU has a special academic program for student athletes who really just want to be athletes.
In this program, special skills would be taught. With this program the athletes can leave the university with some skill for life after sports.

Ideally, this program will be optional for student athletes If they opt to join the program they will have a trade skill once they gradunte. If they opt not to take the program, they not to take the program, the
must be in one of the other must be in one of the other schools within the university. schools within the universit
and must live by the same standards as the other 12.000 standards
students.

The way the school is now. student athletes are being taken advantage of and abused Look at all the money these men bring into the school. The least the school could offer in would help them in the future

Michael Konner Class of 1995

The Daily Orange

Edicor in Chisi
Jodi Lamagna

``` year by The Daily Orange Corporation. 744 Owtom Awe.. Svtacure, NY 13210 by the Duily Oramge. Cosponation and may not be reprinted without the eapreswed written perminvion of the Editor in Chief.
```

A 25-year-old Syracuse University student reported Friday that she was robbed at dry that she was robbed at gun-point on Sept. 25 , a police gun-point on report stated.
report stated.
She told police that she was approached by a man on the 100 block of Roney Lane as she opened the trunk of her car. The man asked her what time it was and then displayed a hardgun and ordered her to hand over her money.

She looked through her purse and gave the man 37 . He then searched the victim and ran away.

The man also took the victim's car keys.

The womnn refused to give police an affidavit or press charges.

A 21-year-old Cazenovia man was charged Friday with driving while intoxicated. Clay K. Coleman, of 3 Welch Church Road. Cazenovia, was charged after police stopped at the comer of Euclid and Eivingston avenues.
A 20-year-old Syracuse University student was hospitalized Friday after ahe nearly overdosed on medication at her Winding Ridge Road apart ment, a police report said. The victim's friend, who was

Ring Sale

UIP TPO

$$
\overline{A R T C A R V E D}
$$

Bookstore at Schine Student Center Oct. 7th, 8th, & 9 th $11 \mathrm{am}-4 \mathrm{pm} $ 30.00$ LOCATION

DATE
TMME DEPOSIT Payment Plans Available tincter

DELTA PHI EPSILON WELCOMES OUR UPSILON PLEDGE CLASS

| Stacey Altman | Hollie Martford | Nicole Klein |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Shayna Bass | Ashley Johnson | Tracey Neugeborn |
| Deanna Bator | Heather Jones | Jill Rapson |
| Dria DeTore | Katherine Lipshutz | Marcy Reshick |
| Linda Feingold | Crystal Morrison | Shari Silver |
| Lisa Finn | Shari Kandell | Heather Studwell |
| Carie Friedlander | Rochelle Katzman | Kristen Vander Ploeg |
| Wendy Jo Goldstein | Stephanie Ketchen | Shannon Voll |
| Amy Hart | Jennifer Kingloff | Conni Wilson |
| DIAMONDS, | PEARLS, AND EMER VE. THE STSTER | ALDS FOREVER  S |

notified by her courin. called SU Ambulance after shelearned that the victim took 10 75milligram Anapox and a "hand ful of Advil."

The victim said she was depressed with school and her broyfriend, and spoke to her boyfriend, and spoke to her cousin in New York City, who called the vi
SU Security.

She was taken to Crouse Irving Memorial for treatment and evaluation. She was then sent to Community Hospital.

A Syracuse University student told police she found a "black greasy material" in her bath tub Friday, but she did not know where it came from, a police report said.

The 23 -year-old student told police when she took a shower on Friday that she noticed the material in the tub in her apartment on the 200 block of Small Road.

The other residents also did not know about the material.

There was no evidence of forced entry. SU maintenance changed locks in the apartment.

The residents received a telephone call that the door was left open.

The case is closed, pending further information.
Two men were arrested Friday after a fight on the corner of Crouse Avenue and Marshall Street

Micah J. Moran, 18, of 107 Avondale Ave., was charged with possession of a noxious material, criminal possession of a weapon and disturbance.

James Pig, 20, of Griniss Air Force Base. was charged with possession of noxious material.

According to a police report. the men fought with three men on the street, and sprayed Halt dog repellent in their faces after an altercation which was spurred from an incident that occurred during the summer.

A 20-year-old Onondaga Street resident was charged with driving while intoxicated, resisting arrest, escaping from police and goints through a red light Saturday.

Timothy Thayer, of 1429 W Onondaga St., was charged after he was stopped by police on South Crouse and Waverly avenues.
Compiled by News Editor Roy S. Gutterman

MEET

Continued from Page 1
preliminary stages of determining locations for the benches and selecting the type of bench."
There are 15 benches currently on the main campus, Kaiser said. He said he did not know how many benches would be added.
Bench and bike rack plans have been proposed by the Omice of Design and Construction, he said.

Steve Schroeder, the plan's project manager, will also be at the meeting to discuss the plans. Kaiser said.

SPECEAL DF THRE WEETK
EAT AND DRINK COMBO ONLY 12.20+tax (spve $211)

- 30 PIECE ORDER OF WNGS
- BIRDLAND OR BUFFALO STYLE
- LITRE OF SODA
, 471 - SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with other SPECIALS - valld through Oet 12, 1991 Valid on S.U. Dellvery onty - No Limbl
VISA-MASTEACARD - CHECKS -CASHACCEPTED

Business

Business Digest

Bloomingdales opens first outlet store

Bloomingdales opened its first outlet store last week at the Franklin Mills Mall outside Philadelphia.

The outlet store will carry leftover merchandise from Bloomingrales' catalog division and items from the company's 15 Bloomingdales department stores, according to a report in USSA Today. Items in the outlet will sell for 25 percent to 70 percent off the original price.

Sony names new president for ColumbiaAfter much speculation. Sony Entertainment named Mark Canton as head of Columbia Pictures. Canton replaces Frank Price, who was in charge of Columbia film production since Columbia Pictures Entertainment was bought by Sony in 1989 .

Officially, Price resigned to start his own independent production company, but reports from Hollywood say his contract was bought out for $$ 15$ to $$ 20$ million.

Canton has served as producer on several hit films and is a former colleague of Sony Pictures chief and Syracuse University alumnus Peter Guber.

Pepsi's new commercial

 debuts winners, uh-huhA new Diet Pepsi ad now airing showcases the talents of winners from the Pepsi Challenge.
Thesingers imitated performer Ray Charles, who sings. "You got the right one baby, uh-huh" in other Pepsi spots.

Hepsi picked the 10 winners from 4,000 entries received. Among the winners, cheerleaders from the Blessed Vinners, cheerleaders irom Dary School in Darby, Pa.; a Vourth-grade class from Bernville, Pa.; fourth-grade class from Bernville, Pa., two choirs and a nin and a singing cowboy.

'Forbes' lists nation's wealthiest people

the Oct. 21 issue of Forbes magazine, now on newsstands, lists the 400 richest people in the country.

The wealthiest man in America is again John Kluge, 77, of Charlottesville, Va. Kluge founded Metromedia, a producer of radios, television and cellular phones and is estimated to be worth $$ 5.9$ billion.

The entire Walton family, founders of Wal-Mart stores, are accounted for on the list. Included in the bunch is Sam Walton, 73, who is reportedly Sam Walton, 73, who is reportedty $$ 4.4$ billion. The most wealthy worth $$ 4.4$ bilinon. ine most wealthy womanin America is Walton's daughter, Alice, who is worth $$ 4.4$ billion.

Words About  Women

Mary Ellen Kavanaugh turned a vision into a successful venture with her feminist bookstore, My

Sisters' Words.  Bookstore specializes in feminism

By ERIC GRODE

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Mary Ellen Kavanaugh has parlayed her belief in the ferminist cause into a successful local business.

My Sisters" Words. a feminist bookstore on North McBride Street in Syracuse, is the result of her efforts.

During the past four years, the store has grown to 650 square feet with an inventory of 2,500 books.

Kavanaugh, who previously taught English at Central Square High School, decided to turn her interest in feminism into a full-time job.

II was tired of teaching, and my family had run a business, so I had some business experience," she said.

After 12 years in the educational field, Kavanaugh retired.
She contacted the Regional Learning Service, a program designed to help adults changing careers, and they suggested she start a bookstore.

In October 1987, she opened My Sisters' Words. Kavanaugh said only about 20 stores devoted exclusively to feminist literature exist in the country.

A growing market

When asked about the market for such a bookstore, Kavanaugh said,"I think it's a field that is burgeoning right now."

She cited as examples her mailing list of more than 2,000 names and the wide diversity of clients.
"Every age, every social class, every educational background is represented within our clientele," said Kavanaugh.

She also said between five and 10 percent of her customers are male.

Kavanaugh said she shies away from feminist "classics" such as The Feminine Mystique or Sex and the Single Girl in favor of lesser-known titles published on smaller, feminist presses.
The books at My Sisters' Words range from children's books to drama to poetry to non-fiction, according to Kavanaugh, and books dating back to the 19th century sit next to the latest feminist literature.

Because of her business's relatively small scale, Kavanaugh has generally relied on small newspapers and conferences to advertise the store.

She added that, while these methods have proved effective "word-of-mouth is usually the best advertiser."

Recently, the store's hours have expanded to six days a week, and credit cards are now accepted, Kavanaugh said.

One source of revenue comes from Syracuse University professors, predominantly those in the Women's Studies program, who order their texts exclusively through My Sisters' Words
One such professor is Marjorie DeVault, assistant professor in the sociology department and the 'Women's Studies program.

DeVault, who teaches the introductory Women's Studies class to about 60 students each year, said she does this for the benefit of both the store and the students.
"I believe it's a very good thing for students to learn what's available from small feminist presses." DeVault said.

Financial Wrap-UP

Wall Street Week:

Dow Jones: 2961.76
Down: 23.03
Volume: 163,920,000 shares
Stock market figures are from Friday's clase. The market slipped drastically this week as lackluster corporate earnings pulled stock prices lower. Analysis say stock investors are wary about third-quarter earnings reports due out in coming weeks.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average is a compilation of the $\mathbf{3 0}$ leading industrial stocks. XI is used as an index of economic trends on Wall Street and for society.

Market Analysis:

Under 3000: Stocks closed down 57.47 this past week. With the surprising cuts in the nuclear arsernal of both the United States and the Soviet states, the defense industry stock fell sharply this week.

Coupled with news of sluggish consurn ers and weighed down bond prices, the stock market finished the week under 3000.

| $\begin{aligned} & \text { EXPERTIENCE THE DIFFERENCE! } \\ & \text { * INDOOR PARKING & SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING } \\ & \text { & } 12 M O V I E S T O \text { CHOOSE FROM } $ \text { DOLBY STEREO } \\ & \text { & PLUSH SEATING (with aup holders) t WIDE ROW SPACING } \end{aligned}$ |  |
| :---: | :---: |
| DEAD AGAIN $A$ mON-WED-THU 1:45:A:40,7n0, $0: 30$ Tues 1-45, 4:40, $9: 30$ | THE COMMITMENTS $A$ MON-THUN $1: 75,1 ; 40, B ; 10,9=10$ |
| RICOCHETR   | NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PG13 MON-THUR $2=00,4=39,7,304,10+0$ |
| SHOUT PG13 MON-THUR $12=50,3=20,5: 10,9: 10,1020$ | DOC HOLLYWOOD PG13 |
| DECEIVED PG13 MON-THUR $1=50,420,750$, 10:10 | LATE FOR DINNER PG |
| THE FISHER KING R MOH-THUR $1=10,4=0087000$ | THE SUPER R  MONTTHR $1: 00,3: 50,620,8: 20,10: 30$ |
| FREDDY'S DEAD $R$ MON-THUA: 2:10, 4:45, 7:40, 0:45 | PARADISE PG13 MON-THUR $720,3=50,6: 50,9: 10$ |
| TITLES AND TIMES  hoyrs cinemal liat cariousel c | UBJECT TO CHANGE TER LOCAIED AEOVE THE FOOD COURT |

Athlete's Image
(Across from Pizza Hut) 727 S. Crouse Avenue The #1 Store for Hats! Hats For All Sports! NFL NBA NHL Pro Baseball College WFL FITTED HATS AVAILABLE Over 3,000 Hats 500 different Styles to Choose From SAVE NOW -

$25 \%$  repinitice on

Mon. - Sat. 10-6 Sun. 12-4

Career fair opens doors

By VINCE SALISBURY

Staff Writer

The Syracuse retailers are likely to be restocking their shelves with breath fresheners shelves wis.  I say this because every time I turned the corner at the Syracuse University Career Fair, held last Thursday at the Schine Student Center, it seemed like seniors were popping mints or squirting breath spray into their mouths.  In between freshening their breath and checking their hair in the bathroom, seniors had the opportunity to speak to representatives from more than representative80 companies.

The recruiters gave out literature about their companies and information about current openings. In addition, seniors could leave their resumes with the representatives.
The SU Career Fair is one of many events organized for seniors looking for jobs. There are similar career fairs offered in large metropolitan areas and for specific majors.
An important thing to know after attending a career fair is after attending a career fair is how to maintain contact with the company representativesyou meet.

Whenever you talk to recruiters, be sure to ask for their business cards. This will give you the chance to follow up with a "thank you" letter.
Gee, thanks
The thank you letter should

Lifestyle Dep

Staff Reports

The Lifestyle Department of The Daily Orange will reorganize its sections next week to better inform its readers.

The Lifestyle Department produces the Living, Business, Entertainment, Science, City Life and Footnote pages, as well as Prism magazine.

The new publishing schedule will be as follows:
Monday - Footnote and Monday -

The Business page has intro-say something like this: "It was a pleasure to have met with you during the 1991 Syracuse University Career Fair. I have read over the literature that you gave me and believe that I have the qualifications that you seek for the position of

The middle of the letter should describe how your skills, acadescribe how your skills, academics and experiences make demics and experiences mandidate worth consideryou a candidate worth considering for a company.

The last paragraph should restate that you enjoyed speaking with the recruiter and that you would like to arrange for an interview.
There are many reasons to include your resume with this ietter.

The original might have been lost or it might still be sitting in a pile of resumes to be weeded through or the recruiter's dog might have eaten it!
In any case, it will not hurt for the recruiter to have another copy of your resume.

If you do not have the chance to talk to a recruiter at a career fair, contact the company's college recruiting department and try to get the name of the company representative.

You can then address a letter to this person directly instead of blindly sending it to personnel.
Different recruiting tactics
If you attended the SU Career Fair and were discouraged because you did not see any companies of interest to you, take heart. Certain industries like communications and art have different methods of recruiting.

The key is to find out how the industry you desire to work in industry you desire to work in typically recruits college graduates.
This can be done by talking This can be done by talking o advisers at your home college to advisers at your home college or to the counselo Placement Center.

These career fairs can be a valuable method of job hunting, but do not assume that they are placement fairs where, after one conversation with a company representative, you will be of fered a job.

They are designed to give you the opportunity to have a first encounter with a company representative. With this in mind, don't forget the breath spray.

Salisbury is a graduate assis. tant at the SU Placement Center.
duced a Financial Wrap-Up graphic this year to inform readers about the previous week's Wall Street trends. Among other things, the wrap-up explains things, the wrap-up explains the stock market and the value the stock market and of the dollar abroad.

The Job Connection, a weekly column offering students advice on how to get their career started, will also be published Monday.
"By publishing the Business page on Monday, the weekly trend will be presented to readers as quickly as we're able," said Lifestyle Editor Matthew Palm.

If the business news is too depressing, readers can turn to humor column From L'Aqua Casa, which will remain on Monday.

Footnote will also remain on Monday.
Tuesday - Images and Science or City Life
Tuesday's section will alternate between a Science page and a City Life page. New to the Science page is Vitamin C, a column dealing with health fitness and nutrition issues.

The City Life page is a new The City Life page is ar.
"The City Life page is tended to expose students to events and activities within Syracuse and the surrounding area," Palm said. "Through this page, students can learn more about the area that is home to

HOME FRONT

Continued from Page 8

Newcomer Giuliana Santini is also excellent as the put-upon is also excellent as the put-upon Gina. In two episodes, she's lost Gina. In two episodes, she's lost her husband, been thrown out by her in-laws, been accused of being a prostitute by the police, been forced to leave another been forced to leave another home so the police wouldn't beat up the black family that took her in, and finally was seen by Charlie Hailey in the bathtub after Charlie's wife took her in.

Nevertheless, Gina remains happy and optimistic

Images, the weekly story'told primarily through photographs, will also be published on Tuesday.
Wednesday -Entertainment
The Entertainment page will remain on Wednesday, along remain on Wednesday, along With mus
Thursday -Prism
Prism magazine will be published on Thursday. The pullout magazine, which debuted last month, features a guide to campus and city events, movie listings and the UUTV program schediule.
"I hope Prism provides students with a million choices for how to spend their leisure time," Palm said. "By moving Prism from Friday to Thursday, stu dents will have an extra day to plan their weekend activities."
The magazine also offers restaurant, movie, television and theater reviews. Alternative music column Flesh Tuxedo will be published on Thursday as well.
Friday - Living
The Living page will be published on Friday. To the Minute, a column on fashion and style, will debut next Friday. To the Minute will be published every Minute will

Palm said, "Students can only benefit from the department's new features and organization."

David Jacobs, creator and executive producer of $D_{a} l / a s$ brings his touch of serialized melodrpma to Homefront as one of the executive producers of the series.

But for a prime-time soap, Homefront is well acted with better-than-average scripts. It may be confusing until you get used to the characters, but with the seeming demise of the primetime drama, Homefront is a welcome addition to ABC's achedule.
"Homefront" airs Thesday at IO p.mi on Cheinel 9 10 p.ms: on Chaninel 9.

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

Chancellor Hussi, evil tyranieal leader of Syrhuse Univeraity.
Suprem oppersor
of studants.
Slavedriver of the
mases.
 THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN
BY JAMES

COMIX PAGE ARCHIVES (SU ZOO) FRANK CAMMUSO

OPEN SPACE
BY HIGHLANDER

Now on Pay-Per-View for One Night Only.

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

SOME THings Should Not be smoked.

\section*{The Daily Orange

\section*{

 World War II series chronicles 1940 s

Coming on the heels of the Persian Gulf war, ABC's new prime-prime-time World War
II era drama series Homefront II era drama series Homefront ism its first week, but since has developed into an above-average soap opera.

The show focuses on three families in a small Ohio town. ROB
OWEN TELEVISION REYEW The Met calfed w whose younger Newsom, (Kyle Chandler) fell in love with Charlie Hailey (Harry O'Reilly), Robert Davis (Sterling Macer Jr.) and Hank Metcalf (David Newsom) work at the town factory in the new ABC series Homefront.

Hank's girlfriend Sarah (Alexandra Wilson) while Hank was andrar.
In tonight's episode, Hank and Sarah are scheduled to be married, but Hank still doesn't know about his brother's inter est in his bride-to-be.
Meanwhile, Hank's widowed mom, Anne (Wendy Phillips) lost her job to a returning soldier. She now works at the town drugstore alongside Ginger (Tammy Lauren). Hank's sister, Linda (Jessica Steen), who is Ginger's best friend, was also let go and put up a defiant battle against the plant owner, Mike Sloan Sr. (Ken Jenkins). Sioan and his wife, Ruth, (Mimi Kennedy) are the town's upper class. They were devas tated when they learned their son Mike Jr. had been killed in battle. Ruth was further enraged when Mike Jr.'s Italian wife, Gina (Giuliana Santini) showed up on the doorstep pregnant. But Ruth thinks Gina is nant. But Ruth thinks Gina is and that her son isn't even the child's father.

Melodrama galore

The Sloans' chauffeur and maid are Abe (Dick Anthony Winston) and Gloria (Hattie Winston), a black couple, whose son Robert (Sterling Macer Jr. also recently returned from battle. Last week, he faced discrimination from the police when he allowed Gina to stay in the Davis home after she was kicked out by the Sloans. planning to marrv the now-

Anne Metcalf (Wendy Phillips) welcomes home her son Hank (Davis Newsom), a returning soldier, on the new period soap opera Homefront. deceased Mike Sloan Jr. and is now befriending his wife, Gina. If all of this seems confusing, $t$ is.
Accentuate the positive
Despite these confusing elements, Homefront boasts high production values. Everything looks perfect Costumes, sets and dialogue conform to this once-upon-a-time period in American history.
One of the best performers in the ensemble is Mimi Kennedy as the obnoxious Ruth. When she learns her son has married an Italian, she tells her husband, "We're looking forward band, Were looking forward to welcoming one of the enemy to welcoming on

See HOME FRONT Page 10

NOTICE

THE DAILY ORANGE CLASSIFED AD THE DALLY ORANGE CLASSIFED AD
PFOCEDURE: $$ 2.50$ for the first 15 worrds.
10 for each additional word 5 F oxtra for each $10 e$ for each additional word. 5 x extra for each hold word, 5 E extra for each CAPTAL IRED word DEADLBEE 2pm, 2 business day in advance.

Notices

Equestrim Tearn Menting in 013 Sboum on Uusctay, Ocober 8 7.30 pm

PERRONAL CONSTRUGT PSYCHOLOCY: Interested in contary with persors acquant od with GeorKo Kollay's personad corsinuct psychology and theory. Plabse cal 446-1262. Horsebeck Ridid
(315)e96-8169.

RALSE $$ 500$, $$ 1000$ $ $$ 5000$ : FOOL PROOF FUnioRASsic: For your traternity, sororty, voam or oher canple organzation. ibsoluaty no invest cantboean crusse and fabutows prizos! CAЦ 1800 -$950-8472, ~ a x t .50$.

FOR SALE
Misc. For Sale
GOUREIEI pork for sale-whote or hal pige Cus. tom cut wrapped, trozers, deivered. Tom $023-9589$ $0 \times 443-2622$
MATPRESS: Excellert condition, Box spring inchuded. Noeds a pood home, Choep $$ 35$. Call inchuded, Noeds a good home, Choep s35. Call JAME 423-3925
Tickons: Rutgers vs. Syracise at Giant Stadiumn 50
Tckots: Rutgers vs. Syracuse an Giant Sa
Yard Line Lower Lever Tichets Available

J.michancl shoes

"Chinos" Sale $1 / 3$ off
Now $$ 33.00$
Why Pay $$ 47.50$
$100 \%$ COTTON Sizes 30-38 Pleated Front For Dress Or Casual..

EMPLOYMENT

Iuniorsentor Business or Communciation malor warted to work on training manuel projact. Must have Macintosh Computer and knowledog of Word Procossing or Page Layour. Need assisiance Word Procossing or Page Layoun. Need assistance toms 682 - 5584 .
Entarprising Individuals Noededil Terricic opposunity to eam eatra cash Call for detals. 522-0695 loave massago.

P/T Carwash Anendamt neodad. $$ 4.50$ to start Sparkle Cay Autowast 446-4110.
We need you you havo strong computer stails using Mac. Call TREG $425-5600$ meday.
Sa's Biediand Restatrants Universaty location has COOK position avatathe. Compertine wage Cortact 471 -5206 tor more Infio.
Campus reps needed. Earn salary plus commission. Call TREG. 225.5600 today. E.E.E. WANTED

Help Wanted

Modele Gits, Guys! mtamational Hair Design Team coming ro Syracuse, Free hairans. producs. ect. 1-800-333-4693.
"Know Belore You Go." where to work, IVe and ski Varl Brechennoge asxal nowe! $$ 16.65$. Call 1-800. $786-5174$

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS oo sudents or student Spring Ereak Packing our Sping Ereak Packages. Call CMI 1-800-423-5264.

Fast Fundraiser $$ 1000$ in 1 weak Greaks. Chuts and Afyona. No investment 1-800-748-5817 Ext 50 . 50.

Eam $\mathbf{$ 2 5 0 0 ,}$ Fres Trips Soling Spring Broak Packapes To Sahemas, Mapico, Jamaica, Floridal Bost Tros. Pricesi Spring Areak Travel 1-600-638-67B6.

Campus Reprasartatines Needer" Eam troe trip For mone intomstion call toll tree at i-800-755-

 7998 or in Comecticy at 2003-975-8833.
Roommates

ONE BEDROCM, malling dietance, locited at Nernt and Mation. Two man more pentori, $2200.682-5130$.

Great Tipp Hit 4 bodroon House- fully furnished safe neighborthoed, across trom park. 25 min . trom
 S275.+1/3. Gracts call Brian 487.809 of 471 1110 .

One or Two people warted to share a 3 bedroom turnishan apartmart one block trom campus. Parking + laundry. Just redecorated. Al Leillies inchded $$ 250$ Aea No Pets 446-9598.

FOR RENT

Apartments

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Studio apt. 2 bedroom apariments. Al utities inctuded Socured buiding Laundry foom. No pats Comer of Corn stock \& Mactison $635-5323$, $635-3537 \mathrm{teves}$

Dewith- near, nica funished graar 1 bedroon apartmem. Parking all urilias inchuded. Grad protessional pralerred 478-2642 Also qiat room made needed wak hospital SU $$ 240.1$ month all Laluries, furnished inchuded 478-2662
2-Eedroem lower flat, Euctic hear Westeatt. Scrsened porch, of streat parking. Privato yard $540. 682 -8823.
1.2.3.4 bedroom apartments, roommata situations. Oit sireat parking. Laundry, clean. large reasorable. 474-579
SUBLET: 984 Lancastar Avencua, othe room cublet $$ 240$ a morath, John 4248054 .

FAll & SpRing accopting Senior & Graduate male A terralos stuclevisis to fenill saveral Abdra model $$ 230.0$. Dasipnerfilekre model $$ 335.00$ An art tseated naxa to E.S.F. campls on Oakiand nished with beds, detiks, dressers and ifingioon turnitre. Call 673 -134s for a choice studert apt AVALTABE TCOAYI ONES TYO BEDROOM APARIMENTS. Kethen. fivingoom. Bathroom bedroom(s). parking selundry, urimios bneluded 5420. $$ 485$. mon . Call Maria $8: 30-400,443-2567$.

Universiy arala lerpe 283 bedroom flats, OH-zitrot ree parking. laundry. Lase securty deposa

LNNERSTTY STUDENTS STNGIE BEDACOM UNITS: Shere midchen, beath Furimed heoted coupwod, leundry, microwave, cablotV. Nica Close to campus $$ 850$ - 5295 Complete. 474350

PAIVATE FURNISHED STUDN APARTMENTS. Very ciose. Secure. Quiet. Carpeted. Air Condrioned. Launcry. Parking University Arra Apts.

Houses

Laspe, beansifu roons in a newly rempodeled mansion Cert-streer paiking. laundry. 8 mimute walk to campus. $$ 300,-5335$. incl. Asco desirable roont mate situation available $$ 200$. $$ 300$. 474-679

PERSONALS

 CUSTOM: T-Shirtsl Cups! Glasswarol AND DNOVATIOHS 1-800-559-7746.cectull Roses are red Violess are bue its your birthedy Now yaure zel HAPPY BurTHDAY!!

Congratulations to DPhIE Sisters on Ovan's Lat Spring 19es: Edeen Admom, Holly
Conruf. Theresa Flanigan, Faye Gorton Gail Couraf, Theresa Flanioan, Faye Gorton, Gail Kass, Sharon Klahr, Michele Krause. Eloene Kass. Sharon Klawr. Micheas Krause, Eloane
Lugo. Parm Marjar. Michela Rapapont. and Jule Schaps. Groat Jobt

Snuggle Bunny Snuggte Bunny Snuggle Eunny Bunny Snuggle Eunny
Chad Snuggle Bunny Snuggle Runiny Snuggle Bunny Bolweg Snuggles

SERVICES

ACNE RELIEF: INFOHMATION THAT WLLL

 CHANGE YOUR LFEE. PROVEN EFFECTNE. SEND 5300 TO SKIN CARE CENTER, 975 WASHNGTON, ALBANY, NY 12206Private Diming Lessons. Pick-lp servica. Full and relresher courses. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY 476-3995.
Typing, For all your typing noeds- letters, manucripes, dissertations, tict Call Ruth Dewey en $652-5814$.
Word Procoming Lner remumes. Typing. Fest turneround. CONPUTERS & COPTES, Marshal St. abowe Acropois:
Rwowrth. CaI SHORTSEARCH to begin you

LOST & FOUND
LOST: KITEN ormere and whim, extre wets, thon zat: minaing since Oct $2,423-5640$.

MTromis ties maik leads SU to win

BYGHPAGOVICH:
Staff writer
The Syracase University women's field hockey team was supposed to play two gamé this weetcend.
The Onmigewomen, 43, Won the first of their becheduIed matches by defeating Boston College 31 on Satur day:-

Ap unusual rainout, howover, prevented Syr acuse from playing against the University or Vermont on Sunday.
"Tt was my first rainoution my 14 years of coaching," SU coach Kathleen Parker said. "Everything about the waid. Everything about. the Weakend was nega cept the ( BC ) game.
cept the (BC) game. we went on the trip and I guess you can say the weekend was a success.'
Midrielder Derine Groff said the Orangewomen played their best game to date against the Eagles.
"Coach said we had the best first half she's seen all season," Groff said. "We're really clicking.

We sumped \% out up 3-0 which we needed to do to get momenfum, torts thie second half just whent metty." FTHe Oratigewomien's furst goal came from Yvonne Mil ionis, whas her sixth goal of \% the reabon Yand career point No,42 tying her with Mary Ann Hopkins (1983$86 y$ for hirst place on the alltimeSU scoring list.
Groff and freshman Julie Willianson assisted on the goal.

Parker said she believes the team has overcome it's early season troubles and will now concentrate on improving skills.
$\because$ We finally have put it together,"-Parker said. "We together," Parker said. "We are fine tuning instead of are fine tuning instead of finding out what we are and where we are."

With game by game improvement. Groff said the team has not changed its outlook for its season.
"Our goals are still the ssame," Groff said. "We're just taking one game at a time. There's nothing else we can really do."

NIL

Continued from Page 12
backing up inside their 20 (yard backe) So we just pushed up with them. We got our whole tearn them. We got our whole team on their half of the field) so whenever the ball droppe were right in their zone. Galich scored with oniy $1: 07$ left in the first half. The goal was Galich's third of the season.
Galich found a hole to the left Galich found a hole to the left of Providence goalie James of Providence goalie James Smith, and nailed it home to give the Orangemen a 1-0 halftime lead
"We caused our own goal." Providence coach Bill Doylesaid. "We self-destructed. In our own box we made a silly pass. We should have cleared it with less than a minute to go."

In the second half, the Orangemen outshot the Friars 13 . 4.

Pollnow made some of his best saves late in the game to preserve his shutout.

With 18:18 to go, Jeff Scot broke down the sidelines and forced Pollnow to make a diving save on a hard shot.

With 11:02 remaining, Pollnow made another diving Pollnow made another diving trone shot
A key to the Orangemen's victory was the shutting down of PC leading scorer John Martin. Martin was involved in nine of the Friar's 12 goals coming into the game.

SU midfielder Mike Britton was named Big East defensive Player of the Week for his strong coverage.

Britton's efforts helped hold Martin to one shot the entire game. The Friars as a team were held to only five shots for were held
"The defense played really well." Pollnow said. "They didn't give up any really great opportunities. (Providence) had a few shots but the defense played well."

HUNGRY:?

Tired of the samt delivery Menu?

SUBWAY DELI VERS

TUESDAY & THURSDAY
CALL ASU-BFAY

``` WOT LONG COLD EUT Cumes
```

```
MEDIUM DNXNK
```

PROCEEDS BENEFIT CHARITY

Syracuse works out win

Staff Wriler
According to Syracuse crosscountry coach Dick Coleman, his teams got exactly what they wanted from Saturday's Leopard Invitational at Lafayette College in Easton, Pa. -a good workout.
The men's team finished first ahead of Lafayette, Moravian, ahead of Lafayette, Moravian, and New Jersey Tech to remain undefeated. The women's team took second behind the Univertook second behind th sity of Pennsylvania.
"It's a good indicator of where

BASICS

Continued from Page 12
thing to do with the two previous (quarters)."

Pasqualoni said blame shouldn't fall on quarterback Marvin Graves and said he is pleased with the sophomore's play.

No intimidation

Even before the opening kickoff, the Orangemen showed they wouldn't be intimidated by the No. 1 team in the country.

SU players went out to the hash mark and greeted FSU mascot Chief Osceola and his mascot Chief Os horse Renegade.

Pasqualoni said the move Pasqualoni said the move wasn't planned, but just something the players did.
we are," Coleman gaid about the invitational. "We knew we had to use the meet as a workout."

The Orangemen were led by junior Darren James who ran the five-mile Metger Field course in 26:48 to finish second overall. Senior Mike Murphy finished fourth overail in 26:59, and senior Jamie Navarro, junior Nenick MeDonough, and senior Gick MeDonough, and senior Gary Han enth, and eighth, respectively. The Orangewomen were led by senior Maryjo Dougherty who won the five-kilometer race in 18:55. Senior Sarah Martini

The enthusiasm continued as Syracuse scored on the second Syracuse scored on the second play of the game and finished play of the game and finished the first quarter with a 14-7 the first quarter with a 14-7 lead.
"I don't think we were intimidated at the beginning of the game," Pasqualoni said. "That wasn't the problem. I think we started the game as well as anybody down there. We just didn't finish it the way we're supposed to finish."

Enough already

In its last seven games dating back to last season, the Orangemen have played Florida State. Miami and Florida.

All three Florida schools were ranked in the Top 5 at one time this season.
finished sixth overall in 19:53 and senior Jennifer Foreback finished seventh in 19:57.

Coleman said that this is a very critical part of the season because of the intense training the teams undergo.
"We're running tired on both sides," he said. "The first two weeks of October we push speed workouts to train for the championship part of the season. We ran fairly well considering where we are in the season.
"This week. we're just going to pace tempo to get life back into the legs."

SU lost to Miami and Florida State and beat Florida in that span.

Pasqualoni said he is happy the Orangemen won't see any of those schools again, at least for a little while.
"We're done with them until next year. I guess," he said.

The Orangemen close next season against Big East-rival Miami at the Carrier Dome.

SU, however, can build on the experience from these games against nationally-ranked opporents, Pasqualoni said.
"In the long run, it's got to help you," Pasqualoni said. "(It makes you) realize you have to be good and fundamentally you have to be right on."

SWEEP

Continued from Page 12

that it allowed the Orangewomen to experiment with some new lineups and get younger players playing time.

Freshman Tina Grasselli had the biggest impact of the lineup's new additions over the weekend. Grasselli recorded twenty assists against Boston College. "The more playing time (Grasselli) gets, the more confidence she gets and the more important a role she can play for us," Schulte said.

Next weekend the Orangewomen continue to face off women const Big East opponents. SU against Big East opponents. face travels to Orange, N.J., to face travels to Orange, N.J., to face Seton Hall on Friday night and Seton Hall on Friday night and then moves on to Storrs, Conn., then moves on to Storrs, Conn., for a match against the UConn for a match against th Huskies on Saturday.

Cone's mark ends Met's sad season

Well, something had to go right for the New York Mets. Too bad they waited until the last day of the eason
David Cone struck out 19 Philadel phia Phillies to tie a National League record for strikeouts on Sunday.

Cone looked awesome and had all his pitches working. Just ask Wes Chamberlain, who struck out three times.

OSH

BARNETT
SPORTS
OPIMION In a season that has gone downhill from nearly the start, Cone's performance gives Mets fans mernber. something to re-

Cone was the subject of other Mets news, too - the kind of news which dominated New York sports pages hroughout the summer.

Cone and then Mets manager Buddy Harrelson got into a heated argument in the dugout in St. Louis in late The
The exchange with Cone was just one of a sequence of events which put Harrelson on the hot spot throughout the summer.

Rumors circulated that Harrelson had lost control of the team and the rumors seemed true.

Harrelson didn't respond when then hitting instructor Mike Cubbage and Vince Coleman got into an argument around the batting cage in San Diego. It took immense pressure from the New York media for Harrelson to act.

It took the same type of pressure for Mets management to act. They waited until it was too late to remove Harrelson from a job he was incapable of handling.

Instead of unseating the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Mets finished fifth in the National League East, their worat finish since 1983. New York posted a $77-84$ record.

Their fifth place finish is a far cry from the dominant 1986 World Championship team and the talk of a Mets dynasty. Mets management has sysfematically disbanded the 1986 team, feaving only four players.

The axchitects of the Mets championship, Joe McIlvane and Frank onship, Joe Mcilvane and Fitank is in San Diego with the Padres. Cashen is stepping down at the end of this season

The manager's position is aiso open. Cubbage was hired only on an interim basis. Look for the Mets to bring in a big name.

The pitching staff which was supposed to be the best in the game is completely apart. Bob Ojeda is in Los Angeles, Ron Darling is in Oakland, Sid Fernandez was on the disabled list for most of the season and Frank Viola is a free agent.

What happened to the supposedly great Mets dynasty of the I980s?
The dynasty is nowhere to be found and the team finds itself in shambles and the team finds itself in shambl

Cone had a record setting day on Sunday, but the trouble is with the 161 games before it.

What the Mets need is a strong manager who is willing to take control. Unless that happens fans will be calling it the Flushing Zoo, not the Bronx Zoo.

Trecia

Quegtion: How many games did the New York Mets lose in their inaugural 1962 season?

Friday' anawer Vida. Blue was the lant witch hitter to win the Amarican leagut MVP. Blow won the Athletics in 1871.

Orangewomen clean out House

ay ZEV BOROW

Staif writer
The Syracuse University volleyball team entered the friendly confines of Manley Field House for the second time this season last weekend to open its 1991 Big East schedule.

The Orangewomen definitely enjoyed the familiar surroundings as they won nine consecutive games en route to a weekend sweep of their three matches.
SU raised its record to $14-2$ defeating the Providence College Lady Friars on riday night, and the Boston College Lady Eagles and the Colgate Red Raid The Saturday.
The Orangewomen entered the weekend as the second-ranked team in the East, behind only Penn State, the nation's No. 1 team.
Syracuse may have been the highest ranked team at Manley, but it encountered tough competition in its first match of the weekend against Providence.

Providence came out focused while the Orangewomen were flat. SU, however, pulled itself together and won a hard fought opening game 1715 .
"Against Providence, they were pumped to play and we were just going through the motions," coach Dan Schulte said Game one was very frustrating because we were making a lot of unforced errors and we didn't really go after them.
"Then it became a matter of keeping our poise and control and letting them be real emotional and get that first win. After that, their spirit was broken and we got roining.
Junior Andrea Carson sparked the Orangewomen. leading Syracuse with 15 kills and 12 digs against the Lady Friars.
Once the Orangewomen did get rolling they were almost unstoppable, winning the remaining eight games of the weekend by no less than six points each.
"I was definitely happy with the way we played." Schulte said. "The hard part we played, Schulte said. The hard part is to manntain the evel of play at a high tearns."
One of the luxuries of not facing any high profile teams over the weekend was

See SWEEP Page 11

Seminoles roll without trademark trick plays

ByIOSH BARNETT

 Staff WriterFlorida State coach Bobby Bowden is the master of the trick play, but in Saturday's $46-14$ victory, Bowden put the magic wand away.

The top-ranked Seminoles, 5-0, didn't use any trick plays against Syracuse University, 4-1. Most of the FSU offersse was based on the off-tackle run and the sprint draw. Working off those two plays, the Seminoles were able to pass for 347 yards to go along with 266 yards rushing.

Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said his team got beat purely on the fundamentals.

We didn't get beat on one trick play," Pasqualoni said. "We didn't get beat on deception. We didn't get beat on any of those things that Florida State has the Husion of doing.
"We got whipped very, very soundly on just the basic, basic fundamentals of football.

The Orangemen's lack of execution coupled with the ability of the Seminole players made for a long afternoon, pasqualoni said.
"Every error becomes magnified 100 percent," he said. "It becomes glaring. There's no covering up. When you get in The deep end of the pool like we did on Saturday, everything becomes a big thing."

Starting over
Considering the 32 -point margin in Saturday's loss, Pasqualoni said it is time for the Orangemen to start over.
"When you get a licking like this you stay together. you go back and you start over," Pasqualoni said. "You start working right on the things you're supposed to be working on and that's the fundamentals of the game.
Syracuse had won five straight dating back to last season's loss to the University of Miami.

Pasqualoni said the Orangemen will begin working on the basics-blocking and tackling - as they begin preparations for East Carolina University, 4-1. Absent ' $O$ '

After scoring more than 30 points in each of its first three games, the SU offense has sputtered

The Orangemen have scored 14 points and produced only 279 yards total offense in the last six quarters following 24 first-hulf points against Tulane.

We feel good about what we're doing (offersively)," Pasqualoni said. "We're looking forward to getting back on track and getting going.

Florida State had a lot to do with the last four quarters of it. We had gome-

See BAsics Page 11

Orange goalie kicks SU into high gear

By IEFF ELBAUM

Stall Writer
Not only did Syracuse University soccer goalie Steve Pollnow shut ont Providence College 200 on Saturday -he led the Orangemen's attack also.

Pollnow's punts in the Carrier Dome were consistently flying 65 yards, which kept the Friars' defense yards, which kept back on its heels.
"We went into the game with caach (Dean Foti) wanting me to punt at least for the first 10 minutes," Pollnow said. "(He thought it would) get our team going, get them into the game right away instead of having to play in the back a lot."
Foti stressed how important Pollnow's leg was to the Orangemen. 6-4, 2-2 Big East.

It puts the pressure on them," Foti gaid. "Now the ball's in their half of the field early in the grame. It helps put the feeling on them that, 'God, we've got to get the ball out."
SU forward Nino Galich, who scored the first goal of the game. said Providence, 4-3-1, 1-3, didn't play the punts correctly
"Providence wasn't really playing it right," Galich said. "They kept

See Nit Page 11

The Daily  range

Quad performance

 Beatles while freshman musical theater major Jill BarriYanofsky sings along.

Board of Trustees addresses ROTC discrimination claims

By Alt BENNETI

staff Writer
Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw and the Executive Committee of the Syracuse University Board of Trustees have released a statement on ROTC, stating how SU intends to handle what has been a controversial issue nationwide.
The statement, dated Sept. 6, 1991 was published in Monday's Syracuse Record, and said the defense department's policy "has called into question the university's committment to a continued policy of non-discrimination
According to SU's Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities, all students have the right "not to be digcriminated against by any agent or organization of Syracuse University for reasons of age, creed, ethnic or national origin, gender, disability marital status, political or social affiliation, race, relig. ion or sexual orientation."
But the Department of Defense has maintained a long-time policy of discrimination against people showing a gay or lesbian sexual orientation.

A document titled the department of defense directive states, "Homosexuality is incompatible with military service.

Following directives

The defense department will not award a commission in the armed forces on the asis of completion of the ROTC acabasis of completion of the ROTC academic program to studenta indicating homosexual tendencies, the directive homose

We believe that Syracuse University can play a significant role in the process of effecting social change and working toward the day when our environment will be first more tolerant and ultimately more accepting and supportive of our gay. lesbian and bisexual members, the statement read.

Shaw said the new policy "will send formal notice" to the Department of Defense, Defense Secretary Dick Cheney and New York state congressional delegates, Shaw said.

Shaw said he was "comraitted to this course" of moving to change defense department policy instead of disbanding ROTC, which has a "long-standing relationship" with the university since its establishment on campus in 1919.

If defense department policy has not changed by July 1, 1995, the committee plans to review the situation
Shaw was unavailable for further comment.

Other means available

Major Mike Conroy, public affairs officer of SU's Army ROTC program, pointed to the voting taxpayers as having some control over defense department policy.
According to Conroy and the defense directive. this policy is "to maintain the public acceptability of the military serv ice."
Conroy said he believed the new university policy whs a "wise move."
SU Air Force ROTC Public Affairs Officer Captain Lorraine Gozzo said she too was "happy about the chancellor's policy".

However, Joe Shields, undergraduate representative to the Board of Trustees. said, I'm disappointed on a number of levels.
"They haven't gone far enough with See ROTC Page 6

Security responds to claims dealing with reaction time  \section*{BY ROY S. GUTTERMAN}

Syracuse University Security Department's response time and management of crisis situations came under firc early this week, but are not as bad as students claim, Security Director John Zrebiec said.  Recent allegations that SU Security was slow to respond and act at crime scenes came from clouded perceptions of witnesses and victims at crime scenes, Capt. Michael Byrne said.  But some witnesses and victims elaim otherwise. citing two Friday morning incidents.  A 23-year-old student said it took security officers 20 minutes to respond to an assault at her off-campus apartment on Euclid Avenue. -  Also. witnesses of the fight outside the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house said it took security five to 10 minutes to respond.  There is a lot of perception of what people see and what actually happens," Byrne said  Lt. Jay Duda produced documents that claim security officers responded within four minutes to the Euclid Avenue apartment and within two minutes to the Fiji house.

Getting to the scene

According to time card documents, security was called at $1: 31 \mathrm{~m} . \mathrm{m}$. with a report of an assault, and responded at repor of an assault, and responded at $1: 34 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$., Duda said. He added that an incorrect address was called in. so ${ }^{\text {it }}$ incorrect adoress was called in.:

SU junior Catherine Falk said Sunday that SU Security took nearly 20 minutes to respond to her apartment, where she was allegedly being sexually assaulted.

Then when they finally came, they acted like they didn't care. They didn't even ask us if we were OK." she said Sunday.
In the Fiji fight incident, Duda said, officers working at the foot of Mount Olympus were dispatched and arrived on the scene in one minute.
Zrebiec said SU Security operates a time clock and a dispatcher punches in as emergencies are reported and officers are dispatched. The dispatcher also punches in when officers arrive at and leave a scene.

Security officials maintain, however, that officers are limited at the scene and are forced to react and use their judgement.

sifeghard ani sectre

The oflicers first responsibility was o make sure and sufeguard the victim and keep the incident from recurring." Duda said
Witnesses of the Cight maintain that SU Security took several minutes to respond and later neglected to follow leads offered by eye-witnesses as the assailants ran away down Ostrom Avenue.
SU senior Darci Molino and her boyfriend, a former SU student. Sean Duros, said they saw one of the Fiji brothers being kicked in the face and then stomped on by one of the men.

They said when they saw the men unnivg down the street toward Thornden Park. Duros followed them after he attempted to help the man who was lying in the street.
Molino said she went to the scene to summon the security officers.
"I grabbed one of the security guard's jacket," she said. "I told him I witnessed the whole thing. and I saw the guy who kicked the other guy in the head. "I said, Somebody please go up there with me and help us out."

Molino said that three officers "just chatted with each other, whether they thought it was important enough.

Duros said he caught up with the men n the Rose: Garden in Thornden Park and talked with them, attempting to delay them.
"I said to thern, 'I wouldn't want to be caught around the scene of a crime,"t he said. "My intention was to delay until security showed up."

Questioning those invalved
When a security officer arrived in the Rose Garden, he asked what was going on, Duros said. He said that he told the See RESPOND Page 6

Kaiser meets with students

 concerningadditional racks
By SHELLA DOUGHERTY

-

Although Syracuse University's stu dent population is dropping, its bicycle rack population may be growing.
According to Harvey Kaiser, ice president of facilities administration at Syracuse University and Steve Schroeder, an architect for the SU Office of Design and Construction, the main campus may be home to some new bicycle pasks and benches.
Kaiser and Schroeder met with student representatives Tuesday to discuss plans the possible installations and gauge student opinion.

There are two factors that have increased bike use on campus: the 'end" less summer' we're experiencing and the closing of College and University Places," Kaiser said. "This has increased the demand for bike racks."
We need to know 'Why put thern there?"w he said.

Several student groups were represented at the meeting including the SU Outing Club. University Union, New York Public Interest Research Group and Disability Advocacy Organization, as well as independent students.

Salety department survey

Kaiser said the SU Safety Department conducted a survey concerning the num ber of racks.

TThe safety department had a backlog of requests from students for more spaces," Kaiser said

He said there are presently 240 spaces for bicycles on campus, and current plans could double that number.

The criteria for choosing locations includes accessibility. visibility, and locations that will provide an alternative to rails for the handicapped.
Schroeder said other factors will be taken into consideration.
"These locations will be determined by safety division reports and locations ith specific bike populations," he said.
Kaiser and Schroeder highlighted sev eral potential points on campus for racks. These include locations at Euclid Avenue and College Place, the Science and Technology Building. the Women's

See MEET Page 6

Inside

Classified
Comics
Editorial
Entertainment
Sports
Weather

World

Haitian soldiers force judge to presidency

Haitian soldiers stormed parliament and forced lawmakers to name a Supreme Court judge, Joseph Nerette, to replace e

Lawmakers said they had agreed to install a provisional president only at gunpoint, throwing the question of Haiti's leadership into greater confusion.

In addition to renegade soldiers besieging the Legislative Palace Monday another group broke up a meeting at the international airport between a diplomatic mission and Haiti's military chief.

No one in the meeting was hurt.

Croats consider truce

 proposal to end fightingWith federal forces attacking the capital, Croatia's leaders Tuesday weighed the army's newest offer to halt its punishing offensive across the secessionist republic.

The truce proposal was made hours after the 3 -month-year civil war moved to the center of Zagreb.
The Serb-dominated federal military has stepped up attacks in recent weeks, and is demanding that Croatia stop blockading army garrisons in the repubbloc.

Federal forces and ethnic Serb rebels opposed to secession now control nearly half the republic and have turned their guns toward the capital and Croatia's Adriatic ports.

South African leaders fight over fighting

Heavily armed police patrolled black townships today after gun battles that claimed 18 lives and prompted Nelson Mandela and President F.W. de Klerk to accuse each other of inciting violence.

The fighting Monday left a dozen people wounded and was the worst political violence since the government and black groups signed a peace pact on Sept. 14.

Nation

Accusations force

delay on Thomas vote

Following hours of debate, the Senate unanimously voted yesterday to delay its vote on the confirmation of Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas for one week.

The delay will be used to look into sexual harassment accusations leveled by a former associate.

Anita Hill is the former Thomas aide who is now repeating publicly complaints she made to the Senate Judiciary Corrimittee and the FBI last month.

She claims Thomas harassed her for a date and talked to her about pornography a decade ago.

Hill told reporters she will cooperate with any Senate investigation into her accusations.

Business continues

without Thomas

The Supreme Court, minus its ninth member, continued hearing arguments yesterday during the second day of its new term. The case could determine the future of the tobacco industry.

The family of a life-long smoker who died of lung cancer, is suing for damages, saying she was misled by advertisements that implied smoking was safe.

A jury in Newark, New Jersey awarded her husband $$ 400,000$, but three cigarette companies won appeals. partly on the grounds that the companies were shielded from damage suits by a federal law requiring warning labels. The family appealed to the Supreme Court.

The tobacco companies say that having complied with the law passed by Congress in 1965 requiring warning labels, they cannot be sued in state courts by people claiming the warning courts by people claim did not go far enough.

At the Supreme Court, the family apparently did not conivince Justice Antonin Scalia. He doubts Congress would let smokers sue in state courts since only the federal government can regulate cigarette companies.
A decision is due in July.

State

Two men shot dead

 after robbery failsThree men leaving a sports bar and restaurant in Rochester were shot during a robbery early Tuesday moming.
Two of the men were killed and the third man was in Genessee Hospital, but officials would not release information concerning his injuries.

Police said the men were approached by a man with a rifle as they left the bar. "He demanded their money and when they refused, they were shot," according to Capt. Fred Bell.
The victims' identities have not been released pending notification of relatives, police said.

Assault charges dropped after boy admits lying

Sexual assault charges brought against teacher and a former teacher's aide in Dunkirk six years ago were dropped after the student who made the claim admitted he lied.

The 13 -ycar-old boy admitted lying to the grand jury investigating his charged against Dunkirk Middle School special education teacher Robert Will and teacher's aide William Verge, according to Chautaugua County Judge Lee Towne Adams.

The boy also lied to police, a doctor and the district attorney, Adams said.
"It is obvious the integrity of the grand jury was violated," he said. "It is further obvious that the evidence of guilt in this case is lacking."

The two men were indicted in 1985 on three counts of third-degree sodorny.

State parks may set  attendance record

Nearly 42.5 million people have gone to state parks this year, putting attendance on pace to set an all-time record

Last year,
Last year, a record 60 million people

University

Law professor from  Wisconsin to lecture

Patricia Williams, a professor at the University of Wisconsin School of Law, Bodies" Friday Syracuse University College of Law building, Room 075.

Professor Williams teaches commercial law the University of Wisconsin. She is the author of The Alchemy of Race and Rights and has written several articles and essays dealing with the intersection of race, gender and class.

A reception will be held following the lecture. For more information, contact the School of Law at 443-2525.

Geography department   sponsors symposium

   sponsors symposium}The geography department at Syracuse University will sponsor a symposium on eliminating hunger in Africa on Oct. 13 and 14 in the Killian Room of the Hall of Languages.
"For the past several decades Africa has experienced recurrent food crises." according to James Newman, professor of geography and symposium co convener. "In response, national and international efforts have been launched to provide food aid and to improve food production and distribution systems," he said. "This symposium has been organized to debate how effective those programs have been," he said.

On Oct. 13, scholars from around the country will present papers and discuss key scientific and humanistic issues, he said. On Oct. 14, the scholars will participate in a roundtable discussion, "Eliminating Hunger from Other Perspectives."

The symposium is held in cooperation with the Maxwell Dean's office, Hendricks Chapel and the Office of the Vice President for Research.

For more information, contact the SU geography department at 443-2605.

WEATHER

Warmer

-The sun will make few guest appearances today. But at least itll be warmer. We can't have everything, right? Hight's wows will be in the 40 s

Thursday

The clouds, rain and cooler termps return today. There's a 30 percent chance of rain. Highs will be in the 60s, lows in the 40 s .

Friday

Friday will be a fair day. It'll be a fittle cooler, though, with be a hittle cooler, hough, will highs in the 50 . Lows will be highs in the $\begin{aligned} & \text { in the } 30 \mathrm{~s} \text {. This might be a good }\end{aligned}$ weekend to go somewhere else.

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Washington, D. $\mathbf{C}$.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracupe University independent student-run newspaper publinhed Monday through Fridny.

The newrspaper is dietributed free on the Syracuse Univervity and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campumes.

The editors are availeble after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Newn: 443-2127Editorial: 143-2128Lifoctyla: 443-2128Burinera/Advertising: 443-2314

News Extra

Panel addresses aspects of diversity  BY ANDY RYAN

Staff Writer

The Syracuse University campus needs to be educated about diversity, a fourmember panel from different disciplines id at a discussion Monday night.
The panel included Robert C. Bogdan, professor of special education and sacioldent Support Services at University College; Paul Pedersen, professor of counselor education: and Nancy Rhodes, assistant director of the women's studies department.

Michael Smithee, associate director of the Office of International Services, of the discussion was to come to conclusion of how diversity affects SU students.

Bogdan, who has written books on such subjects as transsexuals and the severely mentally retarded, said, "When I speak of diversity, I include a wide range of people. many of whom aren't considered when people speak about diversity, such as the mentally retarded."
"To me, diversity means a rich, full life, to be in the presence of people who help you learn about who you are by trying to find out who they are." Bogdan said. "Diversity is the kind of environment I want to live in."

SU needs diversity on campus so students can learn from a diverse campus, he said.

He told a story about a student who said she felt sorry for an "oriental"

Shadowplay

Students pass in between Slocum Hall and the Shaffer Art building Students pass in betwee person in one of her classes because he lack of knowledge of diversity. I think it was having a hard time keeping up with he work.

Bogdan said it was a shame that the girl knew absolutely nothing about Asian culture.
He said the term "oriental" is insultng, and "Asian" is the proper term.
He added that the girl's inability to distinguish a Chinese person from a Japanese or a Vietnamese person dis. turbed him.

It's a shame, but ignorance like this is common," Bogdan said. "I think we need to create a knowledge about our lack of knowledge of diversity. I think it is a vital part of our education."
Gonzalez spoke about hér difficulties of growing up as a Latin American.

She focused on growing up in Syracuse.
"I was constantly having to choose between me being black or white," she said.
"I think diversity is respecting individualism. creating an environment that welcomes all cultures," she said.
"Once we go through the process of understanding diversity, we can focus on the most important aspect - that we're all human beings."
"I understand diversity through the vehicles of culture, or rather multicultures," Pedersen said.

Pedersen defined the vehicles of multicultures two ways: emphasis on the ways cultures two ways: emphasis on the ways each group is different and emphasis on each group is different and emp the ways each group is similar.
A melting pot will bring diversity and spur understanding, he said. He added that understanding that culture is complex, and simplicity leads to stereotypes.
Pedersen said the key to understanding diversity is "accepting the implications of complexity as your friend, and keeping up with the dynamic changes in culture."
Rhodes said stereotypes exist because people do not talk freely about diversity. Rhodes told a story about a student who she hearofescor exhibited physical characteristics society usually associates with being gay. She said he dropped the class because this bothered him.
"We must have discourse at a university," she said. "If we can't do it here, where can we do it?"

Audience members defined diversity and how it can be fully understood.

Members asked the panel to explain how a person of a certain culture and background could fully understand what it was like to be a member of a separate culture.
Emersion in culture
The panel concluded that a person See DIVERSE Page 4

Education commissioner discusses reform opposition

By ELIZABETH HOLAHAN
Stoff Writer

[^15]In his second fiscal year, Florio suggested a middle class program that included raisirg income taxes, and a school forraula involving redistribution of funds.

Passed the plan

This formula, QEA, was passed in June 1990 after three days in the legislature, Scovronick said.
"There was an unbelievable revolt by the middle class," he said. "The polls said the majority felt the taxes were necessary, but the majority also felt they were unacceptable.'
"The opposition occurred in part oecause of the recession," he said. "The cconomy was bad and the public was scared. Also, the public was not used to such a direct confrontation of issues.'
Torn Corcoran, deputy to New Jersey in the Office of Management and Planning, said New Jersey has an unusual and complex educational system. There are both structural and fiscal disparities

See schoolng pase 4 students provide nutritional information

By ERIKA MANTZ

Staff Writer

[^16] service project are to increase the students' awareness and sensitivity to the fact that there are people who do not have enough to eat and also to provide volunteer help and the expertise of the students in nutrition to those people, she said.

Students not only work in traditional areas like hospitals and nursing homes in the program, but they also rotate at agencies like Meals on Wheels food banks and soup kitchens, she said.
Breaking down preconceptions
We have preconceived notions of who the homeless and hungry are and we're finding out that's not true," she said.
Snowman said she started the program because students were afraid to go into low income housing areas because they had not been taught. how to deal with it.

The Allen Foundation recently awarded the program a two-year $$ 100,000$ awarded the program a two-yeax
See NUTRITION Page 6

DIVERSE

Continued from Page 3
would have to live as a member of another culture to fully understand what that person is going through.

SCHOOLING

Continued from Page 3
among the 617 school districts. Because of New Jersey's highly segregated residential pattern, the school districts also tend to be segregated, Corcoran said. "There are substantial differences in resources available or education (in different disricts)," he said.

Spreading the wealth
With the QEA, we want runding to be distributed on the basis of wealth. We want to control increases in spending and close the gap in disparity spending," he said.

Ocrober 9, 1991

Although this is impossible, the panel said people should imagine themsel ves in situations that demand working among peopleofdifferentcultures. Sucl exposure will foster a better understanding about diversity.
Swissler said the three forces of opposition to the original QEA were the teachers union tax revolt groups and the mini-mum-aid school districts, who were afraid the redistribution would force them to downscale programs.
"There were certain issues that were repeatedly put on the table," Swissler said. "The public questioned why the reform was passed so fast ... people felt it was put tomether overnight "Change is possible; it is possible for things to improve," Pedersen said. "If there is to be any hope at all, it lies in education. If the problems of understanding diversity can't be solved in an educational way, when in fact the developmental work had been going on all year."
"People were concerned with the shift of the pension burden and that urban districts wouldn't know what to do with the additional aid," he said.
"There' was pressure on tho legislature and when New Jersey Senator Bradley narrowly missed losing to an unknown opponent, it was the straw that broke the camel's back," he said.
Swissler said the state legislature made some changes and they will most certainly be solved violently."

Smithee closed the discussion, saying, "I know we all want to change the whole world, but if we all concentrate on formulated QEA II. The legislature decided on a tighter set of "spending caps" to replace the higher ones, with the exception of 30 special-needs districts, to close the spending gap within close the spending

The legislature took $$ 360$ billion out of foundation aid and moved it to a municipal aid program in order to reduce property taxes, he said.

The pension burden is to be retained by the state for this year and next before returning to the local districts, he said.
certain parts, the world will be better place."
The discussion was sponsored by the Office for Student Assistance and was held in the Killian Room in the Hall of Languages.
"Petitioners still object to several provisions of QEA II, such as the temporary solution to the pension issue and the mechanics used to reduce the spending gap," he said.
"A Quality Education Commission was formed in which a panel of citizens from around the state talke a hard look at the issues and make recommendations to the Governor on resolutions,"Swissler said.

The discussion was part of he Margaret Slocum Lecture Series.

Become a Student Cardmember today and get 3 roundtrips on Continental Airlines, for only $$ 129$ or $$ 189$ each.

Only the American Express* Card offers an exciting travei program exclusively for students-including three roundtrip certificates on Continental Airlines. And much, much more.

Just look at the map and pick the place youd like to visit. If it's on your side of the Mississippi River, you can use a certificate to fly for only $$ 129^{*}$ roundirip. Or you can cross the Mississippi for $$ 189$ roundirip.

You have your pick of more than 150 cities in the 48 contiguous states. And you can fly almost anytimebecause there are no blackout dates. But you must make your reservations within 14 days of the day you leave. And the maximum stay is 7 days/ 6 nights and must include a Saturday night.

Nembersbip Has /is Privileges*

By becoming a Student Cardmember, you'll also enjoy other benefits from the American Express ${ }^{\circ}$ Student Privileges ${ }^{-1}$ Program. Such as up to 30 minutes ${ }^{* *}$ of MCI long-distance calling every month for an entire year-absolutely free. And that's just one example of how the Card can help you save.

For just $$ 55$ a year, the Card gives you all these savings. And it's easy to apply. Just call us (have your bank address and account number on hand). What's more, with our special student offer, it's easier to get the Card now while you're still in school than it may ever be again.

So get the Card. And get readyto cover new territory on either side of our Great Continental Divide.

Editorial

Time for new system  The educational system of the United States has lagged behind those of the rest of the world for too long. It has been an embarrassment to educators nationwide that American children are not formally taught a second language from primary school through the upper grades.

Finally, one school system has made strides in correcting this situation.
In Dade County, Fl., children have the option of attending a magnet school in which classes are taught both in English and in Spanish.

Finally, one school district has realized the importance and value of a offering bilingual education. Not just intensive language courses, not just tapes and videos, but the experience of really living a language - the only way to learn and learn for good.

In the program, classes are taught

Lifestyeceuses

Years ago, our parents and grandparents walked back and forth to elementary school through three feet of snow and up and down hills without shoes. Sundays and holidays were consistently and predictably spent with farnily and ailing relatives and eating fattenfannily and ailing relatives and eating fattening dinners lasting hours on end. Without luxuries like television, they had only static-- filled radio broadcasts of

WENDYE.

KAPLAN

ADNOCATAG

COMMMMCRNG
in English for half the day and in Spanish for the other half. Students are excited about learning in the new language; the students interviewed said they were working harder, but felt it was worth it. One boy said that now he even looked forward to learming math.

Currently, the lingua franca is English - but as any unemployed Syracuse University graduate knows, businesses know the tide is turning and are willing to pay for the services of someone who can speak more than one language. And with all the interest in pluralism of cultures, whether under the guise of political correctness or otherwise, this program should spread like wildfire. And what better way to salvage American students lamentable geography scores than by giving them a tangible connection to other countries?

innoatience

think -while TV brings us home shopping and graphic war coverage, through the telephone we get pizza and dial-a-porn. The right computer programs enable us to bring the library onto our PC screens with the click of a button.
It is doubtful that these home-based innovations are leading us toward a society which holds top value for domesticity. On the contrary, it seems the gap between business life and modern home life is narrowing. What is not finished at the office becomes late-night homework. What there isn't time to do at home (e.g. eat. sleep, relax spend family time), may be done at work, but is more frequently not done at all.
Ironically, technological advancement has made for a society comprised of both laziness and workaholism. We only have better health regimens and environmental awareness techniques because technology first brought us (and still brings us) body-harming and naturehazardous products and methods that the media encourages us to exploit. Though we seem to be gradually recognizing the importance of living for now with a cautious eye toward the future, we still live by goal-oriented ideals which means living largely for the future. The end isn't nearly as savory if we haven't gotten something out of the process which leads us there. Doesn't the meal you spent hours preparing yourself taste better than the "sub" sandwich you ordered from Jreck?

Perhaps we're justified in prizing industry for opening doors that for our ancestors were virtually invisible. Then again, we haven't crossed the bridge without paying the toll. lessed with the fortunes of modern technology. As a result, increasingly on-the-run mentality gives us the potential to bring the school home on video cassettes and computer discs. Sit-down family dinners are almose Today we are impatient when the Mac doesn't respond after 15 seconds, bored when the video store's "New Releases" date back more than a few weeks, and unstimulated by wasted talent and piped-in laughter on multiple television sitcoms.

In this contradictory age of fast food and Weight Watchers, SPF and tanning salons, beer balls and Alcoholics Anonymous, "Just Say No" and "Just Do It", modern ideals may eating disorders, cancer. alcoholism, drug addiction, and sexually transmitted diseases.

Tbday much of the world is at our fingertips without stepping out the front door, whereas in the past resources were only attainable almost exclusively by leaving the home. Just

LETTERS

Cartoon lacks humor

To the editor:
This letter is in response to the October 2 Abstract Logic cartoon about a terrorist bomb on a plane. I can't believe that "Robert" the cartoonist, or anyone else, could be so cruel and inhumane as to try to find humor in this subject.

Obviously Robert, you weren't here on December 21 , 1988 when Pan Am Flight 103 was blown up by a terrorist bomb.

Obviously, you weren't here when we heard the news that 35 of our fellow students were aboard that plane.

Even if you weren't here when we heard the news that 35 of our fellow students were aboard that plane.

Even if you weren't here when it happened. you must when it happened. you must be aware of it. Did you really think anyone could laugh at think anyone your cartoon?

No one was laughing wher we attended the mernorial service in the Carrier Dome. We were crying as we watched We were crying as we watched the faces of family and friends the faces of family and frien mourn their loved ones. We counted endless tears and counted endless tears and watched people collapse in each other's arms. The campus and the community were overcome with grief and anguish.

Obviously, Robert, you weren't in Hendricks Chapel when a student wrote a message in the memorial book You didn't see him close the book, make the sign of the cross, whisper goodbye and then turn away, tears streaming down his face

I'm not telling you all this to make you feel bad for those of us who were here. I'm just trying to make you understand what a horrible, devastating time it was. A time that many of us will never forget. And not matter how many years pass. matter how many years pass, we'll never be able to laugh at we'll never be able to laugh at comics about terrorist bombs. comics about terrorist borr
How can you find logic, How can you find logic, abstract or not, as your title abstract or not, as your title suggests, in the fact that 35 students, students your age, students, studen lost their lives?

There is no logic in terrorism. There is no logic in this tragedy. The only thing we can hope for is that some of $2 s$ have learned from it. I have. I've learned not to take life for granted.

Whenever I'm upset about something I go to the Place of Remembrance. Some people may think this is morbid, but I don't. Every time I'm there, I shed a tear for their loss. More importantly, though, I wipe the tear away and make a vow to myself. I vow to make the most of my life, to set goals most of my life, to set goals and reach for them. By doing this, I let the legacy of my classmates live on.

Kristen Sczerbinski of one of his closest friends.

Class of 1992

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971

| EJirur in Chief Managing Editor | Jodi Lamagna Erin Neff |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| News Elitur Roy S. Gutterman | Assr. News Ed | ds |
| Esimmial Effiter Kristin Lieb | Asct Elfitorial Enlitor | Jennifer Kronatain |
| Lifestyle Edirue Manthew J. Palm | Assh. Liferryle Edicor | rode |
| Sporss Editse Kent Fischer | Asst. Lifesryle Editor | n |
| Cupy Eliror Gretchen R. Lembach | Asse. Sports Editor | Iosh Barnetr |
| Pronluction Mkr. Marr Sautte | Assc. Sporrs Elitor | ave Buscema |
| Phoss Ealithr John I. Acerbi | Asse. Design Ediror | Lii Reap |
| Design Elitor So Omar Ali | Asse. Are Director | A. Smith |
| Ars Director Steve Ellis | Asst. Copy Editor | Jennifer R. Hale |
| Aart News Elitor Mak A. Brouserau | Assr. Production Mgr. | Mary Jo Kuss |
| Avet. News Elitor Kriama Sinuerwein | Assre. Phono Edicon | Joan L. Moreton |
| Assc. Phom Editor | Toril G. Starmer |  |
| The Daily Ormger is published week year by The Duily Orange Conporstion Thlephone: Editorial 443-2127: Busin by Jhe Daily Orange Corporation and written permission of the Editor in Ch | vi during the Syracuse U 7. $74+$ Ostrom Are.. Syr 443-2314. All contents miy not be repristed with | iversity scademic cuse. NY 13210. Copyright 01991 out the expressed |

MEET

Continued from Page Building, and between the Hall of Languages and Kaiser said other locations such as Archbold Gymnasium such as Archbold Gym will also be considered.

Locating demand
"We've tried to indicate some locations that will have increased demand due to administration shifts," he said.

NUTRITION  Continued from Page 3

grant to expand the program An initial grant from the foundation in 1989 helped get the program off the ground.

Snowman said the second grant allows the program to be

RESPOND

Continued from Page 1
officer that the men were inofficer that the men
volved in the beating.

But, "The security guard asked where they were that night, and they said they were in Sutter's.
"All (the officer) said was OK and let them go," Duros said.

Kaiser said the budget for the new racks is $$ 20,000$, or $$ 1,000$ for every rack.

Student group representatives expressed concern about some potential locations that they eel the plan has neglected, such as the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communication, the Schine Student Center, and in front of Huntington Beard Crouse Hall way.

Locations that will receive immediate attention will be those which the student representatives and administration have agreed upon, Kaiser said. "The ones that we will proceed with are between Hall of Languages and IIBC, between Sims and Slocum, and by the Sims and Siocum, and by the Hall" he said. Kaiser said Kaiser said he wants additional student comment on these ocations.

The other issue that Kaiser and Schroeder addressed is the addition of several new benches on the campus. As of right now, there are 15 benches on the main campus," Kaiser said. "There is no budget as of yet for the benches," he said.

The administration has not yet chosen a style of bench.
"There are four criteria for the atyle of bench: durability; it must be conducive to this weather; comfort; and aestheti cally, it has to look good," Cally, it he

He said benches will offer opportunities for people to make donations to the university. "Benches with plaques can be an opportunity for donors, he said.

Although Kaiser said no locations for additional benches have been determined, student representatives suggested that an sentativeste location would be appropriate location would Kaiser gaid student input on this matter was valued.
Kaiser will be taking comments on potential locations for the new racks and benches unti next Wednesday at 443-4721.
perfected and supports additional research in the field of hunger.

Some of the money will be used to purchase reference materials and fund faculty research projects on hunger in New York state, she said.

Money is also provided for two part-time teaching assistants.
"We're going through this emotionally with the students," said Cliff Rouder, a first year doctoral student in nutrition and one of the teaching assistants.
"It's as much a learning experience for us as it is the students," he said.

Students involved with the program are alarmed at the number of women with children who do not have enough food. Snowman said.
"We have some students who have run into friends from high school," she said.
"This program is sensitizing students to the needs of others," she said. "They are providing realistic help to the community at a time when it is really needed."
"They certainly weren't inter- ing the follow-up report. ested in chasing down leads,"
he added. he added.

Byrne said, "We did pick up three people" later that night at Haven Hall, but when they were brought to the scene they could not be identified by witnesses.

Duda said he has spoken with the guards involved, and is await-

He said, "there was quite a large group of people around and police don't get to talk to everyone on the scene."

However, the SU Security report on the incident did not refer to any eye-witness testimony.

It is imperative that we talk to as many witnesses as possible to reconstruct the event," he said.

In regard to apprehending suspects, Byrne said, "Knowing our officers, the job they do and their enthusiasm, I know they enjoy catching people."
Duros said he now feels people will feel they can commit crimes on campus, and "get off scott-free."
"Now they will never find those people," he said. "It irks me. But it would irk me even more if I were the guy waiting in the hospital for surgery on ny jaw.
Zrebiec urges students with information concerning crimes or complaints about SU Secufity to contact him or the office.
"The only way we can correct a mistake, we need to know about it," he said.

EVERYONE WILL GIVE YOU THEIR TWO-CENTS WORTH, BUT WILL THAT BE ENOUGH TO RETIRE ON?

Today there seems to be an "investment expert" or a "financial adviser" just about everywhere you turn.

But peace of mind about your retirement comes from solid planning. From invest ments and services that are designed and managed with your needs and retirement security specifically in mind. The kind of investments and services TIAA-CREF has been providing for more than 70 years.

WE DON'T JUST TALK TO YOU. WE LISTEN TO YOU.
Because our counselors are trained retirement professionals, they only have you and your future in mind. So you're treated as the unique person you are. with special needs and concerns about retirement. And that makes for an understanding. comfortable relationshin.

HELPRNG YOU BUEDD

A REWARDING RETLREMENT:
With TIAA-CREF, you have plenty of choice and flexibility-from TIAA's traditional annuity, with its guarantees. to the investrnent opportunities available through the variable annuity accounts of

Ensuring the future for those who shape it:"

CREF. And because we're nonprofit, our expense charges are among the lowest in the insurance and mutual fund industries.* So more of your money is where it should be: working for you.

Today. TIAA-CREF is the largest private pension system in the nation-with over $$ 95$ billion in assets, serving over one million participants nationwide.

TLAA-CREF:

THE CHOICE THATMAKES SENSE
It's tough to wade through all the "advice" to find a reliable pension plan provider.

But as a member of the educational and research community, the best choice is simple: TIAA-CREF, the retirement experts.

ROTC

Continued from Page 1
it," Shields said, proposing that the university move to disband ROTC at SU.
He also expressed concern with the lack of student participation in the writing of the new ROTC policy.
"From what I understand, most of the work was done over the summer," Shields said.

He said the decision to wait until 1995 to review the situation gives "no sense of proation gives "no sense of proSU's influence over defense department policy.
"I don't think that government officials, particularly miliment officials, particularly military officials, are going to be tary officials, are going to be threntened b Shields said.

F.Y.I.

Concert pianist

to give recital

Robert Weirich, music director of the Skaneateles Festival will give a solo recital on Oct. will give a solo recital on Oct.
26 at 8 p.m. at St. James 26 at 8 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church, 9 see St., Skaneateles.

Weirich will perfo
by Bach Mozart perform works by Bach, Mozart, Chopin and Rachmaninoff. It will be followed by a dessert reception.

Tickets will be $10 at the door. For more information, call 685-7148.

Artists sought for Art Invitational  Artists are ia, ited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a competition of donated art works. tition of donated art works. Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit publicbroadcasting in Central New broade

Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the IOth Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Oct. 18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.

For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424

Entertainment

Thmpers Movies

The Hollywood Reporter reports the Top 10 movies last weekend as: 1. The Fisher King 2. Ricochet
3. Deceived
4.Necessary Roughness
5. The Super
6.Paradise
7. Suburban Commando
8. Freddy's Dead: The Final Nightmare
9.Shout
10.Dead Again

TV Shows

The A.C. Nielsen Co. reports the op tevision shows for the week Top ${ }^{T} 0$ television shows for the week ending Oct. 6 as

1. Roseanne
2. 60 Minutes
 4. Checers
3. Cheers
4. Murphy Brown
5. Aitrphy Brown
6. Designing Women
7. Coach
8. Major Dad
9. Special: Johnny Carson s Anniversary Show
10. A Different World

[8)Singles

Billboard reports the Top 10 pop singles for the week ending Oct. 6 as: 1. Good Vibrations Marky Mark $&$ The Funky Bunch with Loleata Holloway
2. IAdore Mi Amor Color Me Badd 3. Emotions! Mariah Carey
4. Do Anything' Natural Selection 4. Do Anything Natural Selecti
5. Love of Lifetimel Firehouse 5. Love of a Lifetimel Fireh
6. Romantic Karyn White
6. Romantic/ Karyn White
7. Something to Talk About/ Bonnie Raitt
8. Motownphilly/ Boyz II Men
9. Hole Hearted/ Extreme
10. Shiny Happy People' R.E.M.

Albums

Billboard reports the Top 10 pop albums for the week ending Oct. 6 as: albums for the week ending Oct. 6 as: 1. Use Your /husion II Guns N Roses
2. Use Your I/husion // Guns N 2. Use Your huston Guns N Ro
3. Ropin'the Wind/ Garth Brooks 3. Ropin' the Wind Garth Bro
4. Emotions' Mariah Carey 5. Metalical Metallica
6. Unforgettable/ Natalie Cole
7. No More Tearsi Orzy Osbourne 8. Soundtrack: The Commitments

The Commitments
9. Luck of the Draw/ Bonnie Raitt. 10. C.M.B. Color Me Badd

四Books

The New York Times reports the Top 5 non-fiction books for the week ending Oct. 6 as:

1. Me: Stories of My Lifed Katharine Hepburn
Hepburn
2. Tayal La Toya Jackson with Patricia Romanowski
Patricia Komanowski
3. Hard Courts' John Feinstein
4. Parliament of Whores/ P.J. O'Rourke

| Coming  Tuesday  Life winderginss  Eightioneplegare going $t 0$ live   of amowexperinenthouristiaticactionifresearchatgoes mininticial   $\qquad$  ANEW LOOKNOR DTEESTYE:   ange lifectio Dopirtmentio mectiono   wilr remainion Wedneadiv, thotag; and This Ain't NoDippoxutyping wrepk from todes, |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Student produces Python fanzine

By BETH AMOROS  Contriburing Witar

Sheila Gibson has distinct memories of watching Monty Python's Flying Circus at three years old.
It seems only reasonable, then, that this second-year Newhouse School honors student would begin It's Magazine, a "fenzine" for lovers of the British comedy troupe Monty Python.
It's is a photocopied publication containing interviews, answers to readers' questions, general Python information and anything else of potential interest to Python fans.

Although Python has become a religion for some, Gibson stresses that the fanzine doesn't just concentrate on past skits
It's follows the current projects and endeavors of the Python crew as well. Her goal is to unite fans, "but not like a Star Trek thing:
She would like to show readers that the members have "grown past the series now, and while that was a really great thing, they also do other great things." Gibson said.
"I think it's important as a magazine to look at the Python projects and see how the six of them have grown since the series." Gibson said. "I think that's far more important than rehashing the dead parrot sketch.

High school publisher

Gibson began publishing as a 14 -year-old freshman in high school. after rediscovering Python the year before.
She describes it as "the funniest thing 1 had ever seen in my life." and a fanzine was born.
Due to the stress of senior year and interference on the purt of the school administration. the magazine stopped publication for two years.

After this hiatus. a more streamlined version of It's appeared.

In high school, she put out four issues a year, each taking two or three months to compile.
Now. Gibson makes an effort to put out an issue coinciding with the release of each new movie affiliated with any of the Python members.

Although the magazine brings in no profit - the $$ 2$ price goes to cover printing costs, while 75 cents is charged for postage - Gibson said generating money is not the objective. This magazine major does it to "learn more about journalism, meet some Pythons in the process and make a lot of people happy.:"
But if at any point the magazine does become profitable, Gibson said, the money will be donated to Amnesty International, Comic Relief and the National Cancer Society, given in memory of Graham Chapman, infamous in such roles as Brian in The Life of Brian and Arthur in The Quest for the Holy Grail.

By computer and hands

It's is produced using a computer layout system as well as clip art for graphics. There are, however, illustrations and lettering done by Gibson herself.

The magazine is fult of information compiled from her personal library of approximately 30 Python books, from the Python offices, or from Kim Howard Johnson, who has authored several books on the subject. And, of course, some of the information comes from the members of Monty Python themselves.

While on a 10 -day trip to London, Gibson interviewed three members of Monty Python. Eric Idle. Terry Jones and Terry Gilliam, in their homes. She has also interviewed the other Giliram, in their homes. She has, Graham Chapman and John three members - Michael falin, Gramed three m Cleese.

Gibson considers the Fish Called Wanda issue. which included the interviews with Cleese and Palin, her best issue. The issue detailed her invitation to the movie premiere party and it had a full-color cover.

Readership falls between 1.000 and 2.000 subscribers thus far. But she expects this figure to rise as her address was recently published in a Python book titled Now For Something Completely Trivial. This book has a press run of about 22,000 copies. She also currently has subscribers from

See PYTHON Page 11

Frankly, Ms. Ripley,

 Nobody really gives a damn"I will have Tara ... and Rhett, too, if it takes a hundred years," Scarlett says. And indeed, it seems like it might.

The first 1,037 pages of Scarlett O'Hara's life story. the original Gone OHaras life story, the original Gone
With the Wind, were a timeless, delightful tale. The last 823 are tired. aggravatful tale. The last 823 are tired. aggravatJODI too much time to

LAMACNA
BOOK REVIEW tell.

REVIEN Guel to Gone With left off. the Wind picks up where the first books

Rhett Butler has walked out of Scarlett's life, and she, unaccustomed to not getting her own way, has vowed to get him back.

However, gone with the wind is Margaret Mitchell's gift for storytelling.

A lexandra Ripley, author of Scarlett, was chosen by a committee of lawyers to write the sequel. She has written other southern historical novels that have been compared with Gone With the Wind.

Too bad this won't be one of them.
Ripley, when discussing the characters in the first novel, is completely uninventive. Every plot twist originally used by Mitchell reappears in Scarlett.

In GWTW, when things are worst for Scarlett, she wants to go home to Tara (her family's plantation) and her mother.

When she arrives, after traveling through the midst of Gen. Sherman's army at the height of the Civil War, she finds that her mother is dead.

The reader is devastated.

Deja vu

The sequel opens with Scarlett again anxious to return home.

We find her at Melanie Wilkes' funeral. For years, Scarlett had been in love with Ashley, Melanie's husband, and had despised Melamie herself.

However, at her sickbed, Scarlett comes to the realization that Melanie is truly her best friend. She has realized how much she loves her own husband Rhett.

ABC hopes to boos

ratings of its Wednesday night line-up by promoting it as "Over-The-Hump" night.

Their intention seems to be to build up an audience of couch
ROB

OWEN
TELEVISION REVIEN - out chang possible: their Friday night But so far, Wednesday night's ratings windfall has yet to occur.

Too bad; this network deserves viewers on Wednesday. Joining returning Wednesday night veterans The Wonder Years, Doogie Howser M.D. and Anything But Love are three new shows: Dinosaurs, Sibs and Good & Evil.

Jami Gertz, Marsha Mason and Margaret Colin star as sisters on Sibs, a new ABC comedy from Gracie Films.

While Dinosaurs had a brief run on Fridays last spring, its return marks a much improved show. What was once good, is now even better.

Dinosaurs is set in $60,000,003$ B.C. and focuses on the life of the Sinclair family: papa Earl (Voice by Stuart Pankin), mama Fran (voice by Jessica Walter), grandrna Ethyl (voice by Florence Stanley), son Robbie (voice by Jason Willinger), daughter Charlene (voice by Sally ter Charlene (voice by Sally Struthers and John Kennedy).

Herbivore v. carnivore
This domesticated dinosaur family, created by Jim Henson's Creature Shop, faces all the problems faced by sitcom families living in the here-and-now, but by paradying and making dinosaur metaphors, it proves much funnier.

Tonight Charlene gets a tail, which is evidently akin to a woman's first menstrual period.

Last week, an analogy was made between homosexuality and being a herbivore. While everyone else in the Sinclair household eats the live critters stored in the refrigerator, Robbie decided he might prefer lettuce to varmint.
"If only my cooking had been better, he wouldn't have turned to this," Fran wailed, while Earl blamed Fran's uncle, who was also known to "eat off the wrong side of the plate."

After being consumed by a swamp monster, Earl and Robbie had a heart-to-heart talk. and Earl's herbiphobia was reduced.

Using modern day topies and addressing them in prehistoric

Margaret Whitton (left) stars as Genny, the good-hearted, brilliant biologist, and Teri Garr plays her ruthless sister Denise, on ABC's new serialized sitcom, Good & Evil.
terms makes for an amusing Sibling rivairy half-hour of television. Adding to the entertainment this year is the creation of a dinosaur television network, called ABC -Antediluvian Broadcasting Company. This fictitious network features such shows as work features such shows as thirtyminionsomething and Good Morning, Panagaea. The parodjes just keep on coming in this superior sitcom that mercifully no longer has a laugh track.
whing rivalry
While critics complained that Sibs was lackIuster because the featured trio of sisters were awash in tears throughout the pilot, the series has improved markedly since its debut.

Marsha Mason stars as Nora. eldest and most stable of three sisters. While she and husband Howie (Alex Rocco) were looking forward to peace and quiet after their son left for college,

See ABC Page 10

The Syracuse University Community

 is invited to enjoy the...
SYRACUSE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

FABIO MECHETTI, CONDUCTOR in concert

TONIGHT 8:00 PM

Goldstein Auditorium Schine Student Center Free Admission

Tonight's performance features:

BERNSTEIN PORTER
BARBER
COPLAND
COPLAND
BERNSTEIN
GERSHWIN

Candide Overture
Favorites Medley
Adagio for Strings
Rodeo Suite
An Outdoor Overture
West Side Story Selections
An American in Paris

Sponsored by the Student Centers Advisory Board.

J.mich

"Chinos" Sale $1 / 3$ off
Now $33.00
Why Pay $$ 47.50$

100\% COTTON Sizes 30-38
Pleated Front For Dress Or Casual..

173 Marshall Street 471-4237

PYTHON

Continued from Page 7
all parts of the United States as well as from England and Australia.

No complaints
Gibson has never received a complaint about the magazine. In fact, a reader recently wrote, "I can't believe I missed nine issues! Can I bear your children?"

The next issue focuses on the release of The Fisher King, which stars Robin Williams and is directed by Terry Gilliam.

In the issue, Gibson will also detail her trip to London. Several departments will also debut. In "Python Classifieds," fans can get in touch with each other for personals, pen pals, other for personals, pen pala, be done for free in 50 words or be do "Can You Buh-leeve It?" is a section allowing readers to recount their "close encounters of the Python kind," to be printed in future issues.

Finally, in an effort to include other aspects of British and American comedy, there is a section titled "Moonlighting." This encompasses such humor as The Young Ones, Black Adder and Penn and Teller. Future der and Penn and Teller. Future issues wilf incluce tips on how to stage a Python party, with recipes for crunchy frog, Spam recipes for crunchy frog and dead parrot dishes.

For more information, send a

SCARLETT

At the same time, he has decided he wants nothing more to do with her

Scarlett wants to go home to Tara and to her Mammy.

When she arrives, she discovers that Mammy is on her deathbed.

The reader is annoyed.
Later, Scarlett has devised a plan to win back Rhett. It involves moving in with his mother. The two have not gotten divorced because of the social stigma attached to it at the time.

They are trying to keep up appearances so no one knows the true state of their marital affairs. Therefore, it is easy for affairs. Therefore, it is easy for Scarlett to assume that her with open arms.

Needless to say, Rhett is furious. The reader is reminded of a time in GWTW when the couple locks horns most fiercely.

In the original novel, Scarlett and Rhett have a horrendous argument that culminates in his carrying her to their bedroom and forcing himself on heor.

This evokes in Scarlett feelings she didn't know she posings she didnt know she posecstatic. She feels their love has been renewed.

Of course. Rhett is gone. He decides to go to Europe. While he's gone, Scarlett discovers that she's pregnant.

The reader is enthralled.

Deja vu

In Scarlett, after the couple has locked horns, they come to a truce and spend a day sailing on the river.

Their boat is capsized, they fight for their lives and afterwards make mad, passionate love.

Searlett falls ill because of the freezing conditions she suffered in the accident.

When she recovers, Rhett is gone. Soon thereafter, she discovers she is pregnant.

The reader is annoyed.
One would assume that Scartett was written for the sole purpose of reuniting Scarlett and Rhett. This is really the only unanswered question fromGWTW.

Terry Gilliam, a former member of the Monty Python troupe, directed Robin williams and Jeff Bridges in The Fisherking.
self-addressed, stamped enve- 365 , University Station, lope to: It's Magazine, P.O. Box
For more than 500 pages of the novel, the hero and heroine aren't even on the same continent.
Ripley invents several hundred of Scarlett's long-lost 1rish cousins and ships Scarlett off to Ireland.

There Scarlett builds an empire and, except for a few brief pire and, except for a sew brief references. Rhett is out of the referenc picture.
His name is brought up just enough to remind the reader of the true purpose of the book and of the fact that it's taking far too much time to conclude.
Scarlett gives birth to a girl, whose identity is kept secret from Rhett.

She goes from being the 16-year-old belle of the south to

Syracuse. N.Y. 13210.
being the 31-year-old belle of Ireland.
Rhett has managed to obtain a divorce from Scarlett and has remarried.

And the story drones on and on. The book is 800 pages of trash.

Leave well enough alone
This epic should never have been written.

Fifty years ago Mitchell, the Georgia journalist who spent nearly a decade writing Gone With the Wind, insisted that the book had come to its "natural and proper ending.

And indeed it had. The readers knew that Rhett loved Scarlett. They knew that Scarlett

See SCARLETT Page 14

Syracuse, NY 13244 443-2904 Director: Rabbi Alan J. Iser

LUNCH AND LEARN

Prof. Bruce Hare
Department of African-American Studies
"Multiculturalism On The College Campus"
wednesday, October 9, 12 D.M. Hiflel Lounge, Hendricks Chiapel

RG]

MID - YEAR (Spring 1992) POSITIONS For Resident Advisers

Tuestay, October 15, 7:00-8:00 PM
Stuentente, Room 301
Wednesday, October 16, 7:00-8:00 PM Sadler Mrethitrunction Room

Thursday. October 17, 7:00-8:00 PM Haven Penthouse

Attend one of these three Information Sessions

Going abroad this Sprine?
Attend an tnformation Session NOW, if you are interested in a FALL 1992 position.

APPLICATIONS ARE ONLY AVAILABLE AT THE INFORMATION SESSIONS!

$10 ¢$ WINGS

(6-11PM EVERY WEDNESDAY)
$1.25 OFF
ALL PITCHERS (8-CLOSE)
MUST BE 21 ID REQUIRED PARTY ROOM AVAILABLE

$\boldsymbol{M}$ usilim  $\mathcal{S}_{\mathcal{A} \text { ssocial }}^{\text {undens }}$  $$
2-
$$

Prasores

The Muslim Nation

and the

New World Order
sy
Dr. Sulayman Nyang

 mounte univertity

Thursday Oct. $10 @$ 7:30 pm
111 Hall of Languages

Your student fee at work
Refreshmenis will be served

Bizarre play boils with black humor

ChristopherDurang's The Marriage of Bette and Boo, now playing at the Contemporary Theater of Syracuse, is simultaneously hilarious and tasteless, engaging and frustrating, pretentious and witty.
There are more than a few dull spots, but these are counERIC tered by GRO oddness TREATER $\quad$ that runs REVIEW the playriage of Bette and Boo chronicles a doomed marriage from beginning to end. This is done in 33 different scenes, which jump back and forth from the past to the present with occasional looks at the spouse's families.

Daniel Bostick plays Matt, the one living offspring of the title characters - stillborn babies are one of the big sources of humor in the play.

Matt narrates several of the scenes, and he also plays himself at ages ranging from about 3 to his mid-20s.
His parents are, to say the least. not June and Ward Cleaver. Bette (Diane Bostick) is obsessed with A.A. Milne characters and suggests Eeyore and Tigger as names for the children.
Boo (Syracuse University adjunct Professor Mark Hutchinson) is an alcoholic who signs meaningless vows of sobriety in front of the family priest, Father Donnally (Bill Holbert).

Family of freaks

The rest of the immediate family is no more normal. Bette's family includes her wellmeaning but unintelligible father (Bob Greene) and her sister Emily (SU studentJenniferSevern), who migrates from the convent to a mental institution.
Boo's father (Victor Lazarow) is an unspeakably cruel man (Thea van der Ven) as "the dumbest white woman he has ever met" and tells jokes about "an albino hunchback with a harelip."

The remainder of the cast includes Lisa Kehoe and Lorraine Lauria as, respectively, Bette's sister and mother.
Durang, who also played Matt in the Obie award-winning original production, clearly had a stunted childhood. His approach, while usually taking a humorous approach, belies some very unfunny problems in his youth. Sister Mary Ignatius Explains It All For You, he does not hold the Catholic Church in high the Cat

Matt (Daniel Bostick) attempts to explain the Iunacy of his family in The Marriage of Bette and Boo, now playing at the Contemporary Theatre of Syracuse.

A sermon given by Father
Donnally about marital woes somehow segues into imitations of bacon frying and coffee percolating.

A turn for the worse
Until intermission, Durang manages to balance comedy and the occasional serious moment very well. It is from that point on that it becomes sloppy.

In a play such as this, when the emotions portrayed hit so close to home, the tendency to lapse into a sort of histrionic self-pity is strong, and Durang ultimately auccumbs to it. This is especially true during Matt's later monologues.

The one notable exception to this takes place at the very end of the play, when the story takes a poignant change in direction.
While the blame lies in part with Durang, the cast is also to blame. For the most part, the ensemble is solid, but the script sometimes strands them.
Daniel Bostick is both entertaining and believable throughout most of the play, but he is prone to overacting during Durang's tirades.

Similarly, the two title characters show moments of promise, but the parts are underwritten. Hutchinson, in particular, is often forced to bring life to the part without the benefit of a part without the benefit of a well-written role.
The supporting roles fare betThe supporting roles fare better. In particular, Lazarow, with ter. In particular, Lazarow, with his neverending sneer, and the perpetually apologetic Severn excel in their parts.

The noted exception to this is Holbert, who plays both the doctor and Father Donnally.

Donnally's Act II sermon should be one of the high points of the play, but Holder's dry delivery renders it only fitfully funny.

Director Geraldine Clark keeps the production tight, but some overacted scenes show a lack of control on her behalf.

The technical credits are consistently fine. The lighting, with its constant shifts in focus, is worthy of special note, and the

See DURANG Page 13

Greeting card contest seeks student concepts  BY STEPHANIE THORNTON  general public. McCallum said

Contributing Writer

A new line of greeting cards is being developed that will feature the creative talents of college students from across the country.

The MeCallum Design Company is running a contest for university students to create artwork, photography and verse that will be showcased in the Campus Greetings line of cards geared specifically to college geared s.

Grant McCallum, vice president of the design company said the initial line of cards will reflect a "love and friendship theme."
"We wanted a fresh approach. so we decided to go to the student body itself," McCallum said.

The company wants students to create the line of cards exclusively, McCallum said. Because college students are the target market as well as creators of the cards, the cards will reflect the current attitudes of students.
"We're looking for a more up-to-date type of line," McCallum said.

DURANG  Continued from Page 12

costumes and sets are simple but effective.

Provided their expectations aren't too high, audiences with a strong stomach for black humor will most likely enjoy The Marriage of Bette and Boo.

The consistently hilarious first act and the touching ending make up for the dry patches in make up for the dry patches in Act II, resulting in 60 percent Act II, resulti of a fire play.

"We would like to retain the art," McCallum said. "Some will be considered for future publications.'

More than 120 winning entries will be selected from the categories of art, photography and verse. Winning artists and photographers will receive $$ 100$, while top verses will be awarded $$ 50$.
Students get the credit
Students will receive credit for their work on the back of each card. Students can submit an unlimited number of entries.

The finished cards will be distributed to campus bookstores across the country, McCallum said. National greeting card chains will not carry Campus Greetings.

More than 1,000 universities have been contacted about the contest, according to McCallum. He said he is hoping to get a large response from students. With the great number of colleges contacted, McCallum expects they will have no problem putting together a line of cards from student entries.

The-design company has a staff of about 20 artists who normally work on the company's line of cards for the these staff artists will be used on Campus Grectings only as a "last resort."

The first Campus Greetings cards are expected to be distributed by the start of the 1992 school year, according to McCallum.

If this initial line is received well by consumers, other lines will be conceived. McCallum said "a humorous line of whimsical cards" is the next theme to be explored in the line.
"We want to see how this goes before we introduce other lines," he said.

Students interested in submitting original work to the contest must send for an information packet containing specifications and deadlines by Oct. 18. Requests should include name, address and the name of the college. Send them to Campus Greetings c/o McCallum Design Company, 1380 Pearl Road, Brunswick, Ohio 44212.

IBM can help you through some serious relationships.

Nothing gives ri-ar tivual impart womplex suligetat like an IIRT Itrowial Syurm.

With pmienofirel

In Ithm Irrwinal
SyNett cate hatratte the mond untwariced,

Whether you're кitnplifying a rontilew hos, or coghatining olle covenplevilion of what

 Buy ninw and youti int a herviat limon-

 Atel wher cotuldait retule lo tixut? Visit vour ranponse athhol - Por finct ant how to moke an HISH Ifrowel Sywom

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

UNIVERSITY UNION

THEMOST TALKED-ABOUT INDEPENDENT FILM OF THE YEAR GRAND JURY PRIZE 1991 SUNDANCEFILM FESTIVAL

"HIP, SEXY, AND THOROUGHLY ENTERTAINING" -Village Voice

"CONCEPTUALLY BOLD, STYLISTICALLY AUDACIOUS... TAUT AND INTENSE" —Variety

$$
\begin{gathered}
\text { "WICKEDIY PERVERSE...POISON HAS } \\ \text { AN EXTRAORDINARY CUMULATIVE POWER." } \\
\text {-PTEMIETE } \\
\text { FROM THE DIFECTOR OF SUPERSTAR THE KAREN CARPENTER STORY } \\ \text { AEITGEIST FILMS RELEASE } \end{gathered}
$$

AT~  GAVV IESAAN BBSXXUL. AWARENESS MONTH

SCARLETT
Continued from Page 11
had realized her love for Rhett.
And though Rhett walked out the door with the frmona line, "Frankly, my dear, I don't give a damn," everyone knew that Scarlett always got what she wanted.

The story ended on a note of hope - and intrigue. The readers never knew for sure if Scarlett got Rhett.

But they could believe she did.

And maybe, if there was a lost love in their lives, maybe it brought them hope that they, too, would win that love back.

But writing an 800 page epic simply to confirm what millions already knew - that Scarlett does get her true love - is pointless.

It turns the whole intriguing, romantic, hopefuilove story into just another book with a happy ending.

F.Y.I.

Jabberwocky
auditions to be held
Delta Sigma Theta, a public service sorority, will hold auditions for its arnual Jabberwocky on Oct. 16 at The Under. ground in the Schine Student Center from 5 to $11 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.
Local artwork
shown at Schine
The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month. celebrated in Octo. ber.

The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Library offers

free tours
Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Mov. 19

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locationss and serv. ices. Experienced usexs can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.

For more information, call 443-1943.
CROP Walk held to raise money

The annual CROP Walk will be held Oct. 20. The CROP Walk is a 10 kilometer community walk through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and international hunger relief program. For more information, call 443-1254.

New lecture

series begins
The Peter Andrews Memorial Fund lecture series presents a talk by Robin Crews, executive director of the Peace Studies Association and member of the department of sociology at the University of Colorado.

Crews will speak on "American Interpretations of Changes in the Former Soviet Union: A Peace Studies Perspective" on Oct. 15 at 2:30 p.m. in the Maxwell School conference room.

On Oct. 18, Carolyn Stephenson, of the University of Hawail's political science department will speak on "The New World and the Old World Order: United Nations Feacekeeping and Enforcement". The lectare will be held in Maxwell, Koom 443-2367.

Carver series offers fiction

BY BRENDAN VAUCHAN
Contributing Writer

Literary diversity is a term writers featured in the Fall 1991 Rnymond Carver Reading Series.

Sponsored by the English Department's Creative Writing Pro gram, the writers scheduled to read range from Czecholovakian poet Miroslav Holub to fiction writer Michael Martone, an as sociate English professor at Syracuse University.

SU has been bringing four or five writers per semester for about 20 years. according to series organizer Chris Kennedy. series organizer Chris Kennedy, Carver Reading Series since Carver Rending Series since 1988 , when Carver died and the l988, when Carver died and the series was named in his honor.

Carver taught creative writing at SU from 1983 until his death and was also a prominent short-story writer.
> ${ }^{4} \mathrm{He}$ was one of the beatknown and well-respected shortstory writers in this generation," Kennedy said. "His name is mentioned in the same sentence as Faulloner or Heming way, > Until this aemester, the series was funded primarily by the College of Arts and Sciences and New York Telephone. But this year, New York Telephone decided against funding the program, and for the first time the series was forced to raise money for itself, Kennedy said.

Horrors, a benefit
To help the series, horror writer Stephen King performed a benefit reading at the Landmark Theatre in April. Money was also given by Poets $&$ Writers Inc. and several private individuals.
Some SU faculty have read in the past, among them poet Mary Karr and fiction writer Tobias Wolf. There is no formula for the type of writer the series attracts, though, Kennedy said.
"The writers come from all parts of the country and the world," Kennedy said. "Some are well-established and some are just starting out."

Two of the writers for this semesterhave already read. Poet Jayne Cortez read in September. Most of her material was drawn from her book Coagulations: New and Selected Poem and her new compact dise Everywhere Drums. Miroslay Holub read from his works Interferon and The FYy this month. Both poets held workshops in Maxwell Lounge on the day of their readings.

Poet Lucie Brock-Broido will read from her work today at 5 p.m. in the Killian Room of the Hall in the Killian Room of the Hall of Languages. She will lead a workshop at 2 p.m. in Maxwell Lounge. Maxwell Lounge.
Fiction writer Stephanie Vaughn will read Oct. 30, and fiction writer Michael Martone will speak Nov. 6.

Vaughn and Martone will also read at 5 p.m. in the Killian Room.

Attention all designers...

The Daily Orange is now accepting letters of intent for the position of

Assistant Design Editor

Letters of intent are due to Jodi Lamagna, 744 Ostrom Ave., by 3 p.m. Friday Oct. 11

BUDDY UP with

44's

at a fundraiser for $385 \mathrm{~T} 30000[5$

An organization which builds friendships between the mentally disabled and SU students.

Mryen EHamerngin世县 푸웅    +5 ne

WLE WIEL BBE DPEN FOREIBUSINIESS MONDAY

Dn Detolber 14th (Columibns Day) 8:31 - 4231

Classifieds

NOTICE

 TME DAILY ORAHGE CLASSIRED ADPROCEDURE: $$ 250$ tor the list is words, loc for oach addriional wome 5 Ee antra bre each bold mord, $5 e$ oxtre for each CAPITALIEED word DE

Notices

Horsebeck Riding 18 miles trom Syracuso Ress. [315] 996 -16 169 .

AISE 3500 ... $51000 . . .515000:$ FOOLPROO INDRANSAGG. For your tratematy, sceorty, bam or cher campus onganczation Absoluaty no immet nom requirod!. Ace now for the change to wn a aribsean crise and fabuour pikes! CALL 1800 50-8472. 8x. 50

FOR SALE
Misc. For Sale

Tickets: Rutpers vs Syracuse at Giant Stadium, 50 ard Line Lower Lever Tickets Avadablo 10e wings, overy Wednastay, 8-100m. Drink Specials, Orange Grove, 565 Westicott Street 4711148.

EMPLOYMENT

JuniorsSerior Businesss or Cormmunicaition major warted to mork on trainceg manuet project. Must have Mecintosht Computer and knowiedge of Wort Procassing of Page Layoul. Naed assistance ems 582.5584.
Emturpotaing Individuases Hepdect Tenific opporbave mestape.
P/T Camesh Anondart neoded. $$ 4.50$ to start Spardie Cify Ausowash 446-4 10 . We need you 1 you have strong conhputor shills
Leing Mac. Cal TREG $426-5600$ bodey wing Mac. Call TREG 425-5600 yodey.

Sal's Birclund fostaurants Unimersiry bcation ${ }_{35}$ cook postion avaibabo. competane wage Contract 471.5205 for more Info.
Campus reps Renced. Eatn salary plus commassion Can ThEG. 425-5600 woday. EOE.
WANTED
Help Wanted
Models- Girts, Guys! mamationat Kair Design Team coming to Syracuse, Free haircuts, products, ect. $1800-333-4699$.

Know Betore You Go:- whero to work, Ime and ski tree in Colorado's resorts. Current Guide to Aespen, Vail. Ereckenndoy and morel $16.65. Cal 1-BOC $788-6174$.

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS

 to students or studentorganizations promoting our Spring Break Packagos. Call CMI 1-800-423-5264

Eam $2500, Froe Trips Sofing Spring Break PackEam $2500, Froa Trips Sofing Spring Break Packages To Bahamas, Mexico, Tamaica, Florical Best Trips, Pricest Spring Break Travel 1-800-638-6786. Campus Representatives Needer' Eamm tree trip and big commissions by seling CAciN, MEXCO. For rwore iftomation call toll froe at 1-800-7557i96 or in Comocticin at 203-975-8833

Roommates

Great Tipp His abbedroom House-fuly furnishect, sate neghbortood, across from park, 15 minim. Trom $275.- 13. Grats call Brian 487-8091 or 471

One or I wo people warusd to share a 3 bedrom irrished apartmert ore block from carppus. Parking slaundry. Just redecorated. Al utitios inctuded 5260 /ea No Pas $446-9598$.

FOR RENT

Apartments
GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Studio apt. $2-$ bodroom apanments. All udithies inciuded. Secured buitding Laundry room. No pels Cornar of Com tock Dowith nant, niee furnishod grear 1 bodroom aparmerr. Farking, al urimies inchuded. Grad professional prebrored 478-2642. Also quiet roorn mate neerded- wak hospital SU $$ 240 \%$ month all

2-Bedroom lowor ilat, Euclid near Westeort. Screened porch on-streat paking. Pivate yard $5540.682-8823$.
1.2.3.4 bedroom apartmerts, mommate situations Off stroet parking. Laundry. elean. large. roasonablic. 4746791
SUELET: SMa Lancaster Avenue, one room sublet. $$ 240$ a moruh, John $424-6054$.

FAll & SPRING accepring Senior & Gracuato mave 8 tamale srudents to finl soveral abdrm apanmerns, 1 incivual ok Raues: Basic tumished model $$ 230.00$; Designar/Dakixe model $$ 325.00$. An ans located next to E.S.F. campus on Oakland collent $X$ block walking location and are nicely fur. nished with bats, desks, drassers and fivingroom furniture. Cal 673 -1344 for a ehoice studart apt AVALLABLE TCOAYI ONES TWO BEDRCOM APARTMENTS. Kitchen, livingroom, bathroom, APARIMENTS Kachen. ivingroom, bathroom, $$ 420$ - $$ 485$./mo. Cail Marie $8: 30-4.00$. 443-2567.
University araa large 283 bedroom flats. Off-street Iree parking. Ie undry tease securty deposia requinte. No pets! Available now.
Call 446 -5520 or 465-9757

UNVERSTTY STUDENTS SINGLE BEDROOM UNITS: Share kitchen, bath Fumished, heatec
 47-1303. 4

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS Very close- Sacure. Ouier. Carpetad. Air | Condsioned. Laundry. Parking Uriversity Are |
| :--- |
| Apts. |
| 479005 |

Houses

Larce. boausitul toons in a newty renodeted mansior OH-sareon parking, laundry. 8 minuta wah mate situation avaitale $$ 200-$ 300.474-6791$.

PERSONALS

Kappa Signa, El regraso a canain tue increble Viva Maxicol Con emor, the sisters and pledges of Chi Omega.

Special tharks to all Fing Committee hatats espe cially Nicole O. Minct C. Jefin P. Susan S. and the sisters and plodgos.

Susan S. it Appha Chi- Mr. Fing 1991 was a mpectaculat succoss thanks to youll Frishee fling pus wouldnt have boen the same without in Tharks and TBE the sisters and plodpes. of Mr. Fing 199 IH Congratulations to Chris M . in Dat for 2nd rumer Lp and John J. in Phi Psif for cust
CuSTOM: T-Shirst Cupsl Glasswaral AND
Worel For LESsi Cal Shawn Lessor BYNANC WHOVATIONS $1-800-659-7746$.

Congratulations to Same H. in Lambda Chi Apha or wrining the tille of Mr. Firng 19911! Love-the Siserss and Pledges of Apha Chi ZeraPsi. Toga! Togal Togal For the third yoar in a now the toge party was so much tun. We cant wax in next year. Lowe the Sisters and Pledges of AEPti.

DEKE. TKE, and Pi Phi You mado waking up for ling a wet and wid axperience. Love the Sistars

TKE: The dazzing higts effects were almost as sparding as the company. Tharks for an awesome parryll Love, the sisters and plecopes of DPMiE.

Allison in DPhiE: Congrats on boing ehosen a youll Leva, your sitters and plodges.

Congratuations to Tracey G. in Apha Chi on your Dell pinll Othl What a nighal We are so tappyy tor you. P.S. scissors wodk bettor on duct tape. TBthe sisters and pledges

Sigma Nu: What a way to seat the dayll Therks Ior an inerodtole party and an awesome time at guys atryirrei!! Love, the sisters and plodges of DPhiE.

To the brothers and plodgos of Beta- The serenado was incredible. Lock out becatse we owa you one. Love- the sistars and pledges of Apha Chi.
Rephriel. Happy 24st Birthcay Doll who has time to Wein? Love Fraida.
inEp- The pary was incredibla. Everyone had an mazing time! Wa cant wat os PANNT tha town gain wah you real soon. Love the Sestors and

SERVICES

Compluter Ouestions Sevice. Turming, Corsuting.
Purchasing. Repaining. PC's. VMSS, Unix. Call vanings bes 457-5487 Mare yping. For all your typing neods. leters manuscipts, dissertations, oxc. Calt Rish Dowoy at $652-5814$.
Word Processing. Lemer rasumas. Typing. Fast ITharmund. COMPUTERS a COPES Mars

LOST & FOUND LOSI: KITEN orange ath white, extra toes, shon tail: massugy since Oct. 2. 423-b640

MISC.
ver been in a Plane? Lhe to see Syracuse unumn from the air? Cal Marc 453,7581

Join The Celebreation ALTERACTS Granill Te-Dpeniings, Drtaber 9

 In The Schine Student Center Atrium- New Hours: Monday - Thursday 9 to 9, Friday 9 to 5: New, More Competitive Prices - All New Macintosh Computer Services = New, Faster Copy Equipment

Fill out the coupon below for our drawing and drop it off at our table in the Atrium. Grand prize: Resurne' Package which includes: 50 copies of resume'. 50 matching blanks sheets and 50 matching envelopes 1 st prize: Coupon good for $$ 10$ of copies 2nd prize: Personalized stationary package 3rd prize: Coupon good for 10 laser copies Drawing at 4:45 p.m.

FEVER

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS MPPET Q.EST $\operatorname{CHA11}$

$\cdots 8$ \%

SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

BY FAJITA PARTY

GYPSY THE DOG
BY JASON LYCETTE

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

GOTTA HAVE FAITH
BY ARNOLD

 In the dormitories of SU., students iearn to sleep througn $A N Y T H I N G$ | $B E E P$ BEEP BEEP BEEP BEEP |
| :---: | :---: |
| $Q$ | ... including the alarm clock.

NEGATIVE SPACE BY IODI ADOWS

whenvoucart smote

ADVENTURES OF JP
 BY SLIM

I reel like gotrgs 55 all day long-

Highway Jerkies: hi'way jerk $\bar{e}$ 1. people who bock up highway tanes on purpose so as to bother those who wish to pass. 2. Those who just don't have a clue and drive the exact speed limit to stare at those next to thern.
art's education by hobbit god HERCULES AS A YOUFG MAN...

The Daily Orange

October 9, 1991

$\underset{\text { Continued from Page } 20}{\text { FUL }}$

The Orangemen had an opportunity to see one of the game's top fullbacks last Saturday in Florida State's Edgar Bennett.

Bennett is among the Seminoles' leaders in both receptions and rushing, but with the Orangemen the fullback rarely carries the ball.

The way the Seminoles use Bennett may be a model for a modified SU attack using the fullback, Lee said.
"I was talking to (offensive coordinator George) DeLeone and we elaborated on the situation about Edgar Bennett." Lee said. "We like the things he runs and that's what I think we're going to get back to in Syracuse football.
"We've got the plays: we just haven't had the opportunity to use them. In the near future you're going to see the fullback position elevate to a new level."

Only two SU fullbacks have gotten out of the current scheme and were both rushers and receivers - Larry Csonka and Daryl Johnston, Mitchell said.
"They were complete," he said. "When you get an individual like a Larry Csonka or a Daryl Johnston, you have all the tools in one person. You try to exploit that skill.

Mitchell said the Orangemen have yet to find the fullback who can break the mold like Johnston or Czonka did.
"We're looking for the ideal person," Mitchell said. "We do not have it in one individual. Being realistic, each of the guys we have at the fullback position has a strength. We're trying to match that individual to that strength."

Wooten's biggest strength is blocking because of his size. At

DOWNPOUR

Continued from Page 20

team like Harvard, who was the No. 1 seed in the tournament," Dwire said.

In first singles, senior Maria Pilar Merono lost in straight sets to Harvard's Erika de Lone, the 95 th-ranked player in the the 95th-ranke
world, $6-1,6-0$.
"I think Maria played the best match she ever played at Syracuse and still lost 6-1, 6-0," Dwire said. "de Lone is coming off the pro circuit. Any team that faces her will start 0-1 in the match."

In the second singles match, the first of the three incomplete

5-foot-11 and 237 pounds. Wooten is the biggest fullback on the team.

In his first year as a starter. Wooten has carried the ball 21 times for 79 yards and scored a touchdown. His best game rushtouchdown. His best game rushing was a 34-yard performance against Tulane University.
"Al's more of a blocker," Mitchell said. "That's what we hired him to do, so to speak. We have to run the ball with him in there so they don't key on that."

Lee converted from tailback during the spring in order to get. more playing time.

Lee has rushed for 92 yards on 16 carries in four games. Against the University of Florida, Lee set career highs in carries ( 8 ) and yards (45).
Lee said the Florida game was the turning point in his conversion to fullback.
"(Against Florida) I really got the grasp of our offense at the fullback position." Lee said. I think I just went on the fild and did what I was supposed to do; I executed."

SU has instituted several formations, especially in 3rd-andlong situations, where they use no fulliback.
The Orangemen insert two tight ends and either split Richardson and Walker in the backfield or move Richardson onto the line of scrimmage.
Mitchell said the move allows Syracuse to have its five best receivers in the game against the opposition's nickel package.

This game of football, just like any other game, is a game "f specialists," Mitchell said. "Whoever has the special skills, you want to exploit them as much as possible. We're just trying to match up with the defense) as far as abilities and speed goes."

Syracuse University tailback David Walker, shown here against Tulane, may get much or the recognition, but fullbacks Al Wooten and Marcus Lee have been key blockers in Walker's 358 yards rushing.
matches, Liberatore was up 7-5 over Rachel Pollack.
Junior Corinna Bode lost to Samantha Ettus in the third singles flight, 6-7, 6-4, 6-1.
"Corinna had a real tough match," Dwire said. "She won the first set and then started protecting and waited for this girl to start missing. This girl hasn't missed the ball since 1902."

Dickson and Agate were also idle and sophomore Andrea Vasarhelyi lost to Kendra Harris. 6-1, 6-1.

Because of the rain and indoor play, it is the format for the doubles teams to play first.
The SU first singles team of Liberatore and Merono played a long and tough match against de Lone and Melinda Wang. The Syracuse tandem defeated the Harvard duo 7-6, 4-6, 7-5.
"My No. 1 doubles team played a tremendous match."Dwire said. "As far as I'm concerned, it was an upset
"That match was awesome," Bentzel said. "They played really well.

Dwire said he thought the team's second and third doubles teams had a legitimate shot at winning, but feli into a similar conservative mode.
"Like everyone else, they went out there playing not to lose, instead of playing to win,"Dwire said.

'Tis the Season for Advertising in

Itronaiforaye Holiday Shoppers Issue November 21

Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be 2:00 pm on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!

Pepperidge Farms
Croissant Pizzas
ass't flavors
Save 20 cents reg. $2.59-$3.19
sale $$ 2.39-$ 2.99$

Chef Boyardee Ravioli
ass't flavors
reg. $1.09
sale $$ .99$

Swiss Miss Hot Coceo ass't flavors
reg. $1.85 sale $$ 1.59$

Frito Lay Doritos ass't flavors
reg. $$ 2.69$
sale $$ 2.29$

The University Bookstore SCHINE STUDENT CENTER

Mon.- Fri. 8:30-6:00, Sat., 10:00-5:00
Mt. Olympus, South Campus, Lawrinson, Brewster/Boland Mon.-Thurs. 12:00-8:30, Fri.-Sun. 12:00-5:00

Diversity addsflavor for Syracuse's Groff

BYSCOTT MELESKY
Contributing Writer
What do Ben and Jerry'a ice cream, water skiing and field hockey have in common?
They are all favorites of Syracuse University midfielder Denine Groff.

Groff, a junior, carries her diversity onto the playing field as she normally plays midfield, but she has also played several different positions.

While the 5 -foot-4, Lancaster, Pa. native was the only freshman starter for the Orange iresmman starter for the Orange-women two years ago, her cawomen two years ago, her career actually began because of reer actually began because of peer pressure. peer pressure.
"I joined because my older sister used to play and it was a cool thing to do because all my friends were doing it," Groff said.

At Solanco High School. Groff was a four-year starter. As a junior, she won a skills award at a mid-atlantic all-star camp. As a senior, Groff was named the Lancaster/Lebanon fernale athlete of the year.

Groff is referred to as "Neaner" by her coaches and teammates.
"When 1 first joined the team, coach (Kathleen Parker) kept pronouncing my name "Danine" instead of "Denine" so she ended up calling me 'Neaner,"' Groff said.

- Name: Denine Groff
-Age: 20
- Height: 5-4
-Hometown: Lancaster. Pa.

-Class: Junior
-Position: Midfield
- Major: Family and Community Services/Psychology -Favorite food: Ben and Jerry's chocolate chip ice cream -Favorite TV show: Days or Our Lives
-Favorite movies: An officer and a Gentlemen, When Harry met Sally
-Favorite type of music: Top 40 -Favorite singer/group: Billy Joel - Role model: mother
-Hobbies and leisure activities: water skiing, softball, watching movies and shopping -Goals: "I want to be a family therapist and if I stay in field hockey, I would like to coach." -Greatest moment in SU field hockey: Being involved in our 1990 victory in the UConn field hockey tournament and beating talented rival Providence last year.
Greatest disappointment in SU field hockey: "Losing to Penn State and North Carolina (this season) because we felt that we could defeat both of them."

ALssu
THE ASSOCLATLON OF INTERNATLONAC STUDEDNTS AT SYR-ACUSE UNLVERSITY

WTLE BE FOLDLNG ELECTLONS ON FRLD-AY OCTOBER 11tf AT 2:30 PT. 1N
ROOM LZGU SCYLNE CENTER.

FOR THEE FOLLOWLNG POSLTLONS:

* GENERRL SECRETRRY.

YOUR ATTENDANCE WOULD BE GREATEY APPRECTATED.

REFRESHELENTS WLLL BE SERVED.
YOURSTUDENTFEE ELECTLNG LEADERS

HALLOWEEN HEADQUARTERS

swinzes
We carry Syracuse's most complete line of Costumos, Masks, Makeup, Beards, Hats, Hair Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Dlsguise Kits, Decorations (Indoor & Outdoar), Noveltles, Greeting Cards and More..........

RENTAL COSTUMES
 HAIR & TANNING SALON BAGGEST SALE EVER Mem's Hmircunts
$$ 10.00$
Ladie's Mairculs $1.00
New custombers orny w/emupent
ALT THE TANYOU CANSTAND 1 month imilimited
ONLY $45 \geq 5,00$
Booths & Beat
422-6007...
S. Crouse Ave.
Trendsetters Welcomes.Hilarie with 732 S. Crouse Ave. above Faegan's Pub $x \rightarrow-x$ Facial Waxing Acrilic Aails - Ear Piercing - Ilso available HIRRYIN SALEENDS SOON

PLANE TO CATCH?

SA ETRTIPLEX

Service to Syracuse Airport $$ 1.00$ discount with S.U. I.D.
Shuttle Bus Leaves Sheraton-circle at 45 min . past each hour every hour
FOR RESERVATIONS CALL 455-TAXI

CONGRATULATIONS

To The Eall 1991
Associate Members:
Jeff Bergett
Toe Deveau
Bryaintitter
Danremperamma

The Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha

Sports

Icon reflects

on his years

without a life

For the past two-and-a-half years I have been a sports editor at The Daily Orange. Today, I will not come into work.
I am leaving, quitting, retiring, moving on, whichever term you like.

I never watched games through orange eyes. And I don't bleed orange blood. I don't care if the Orange win

ROB

GUYETTE

SPORTS

OPINION

 My greatest many Syracuse ange victories as might byacuse University seniors' experiences I've had here, but I'll great go until I I ve had here, but I'll onlygo until I run out of space.

1. Feb. 1991, Syracuse-Notre Dame basketball. This was the week end the one-day suspensions came out. The story, as we watched from our Chicago hotel, was changing every hour.
The tearn came over in two planes. Football players and walk-ons were ready to take the court before a national TV audience. At the game, the crowd was so close to the court every heckler could be heard. And there a lot of nasty comments hurled at the players.

Billy Owens won the game on a last-second follow-up shot. For journalistic excitement and arena electricity, this weekend couldn't be beat.
2. Nov., 1988 Cormell-Syracuse basketball. Syracuse beats Cornell $108-56$ in a snoozer, but you never forget your first big moment.
3. Nov. 1990 , Oct. 1991 football. A pair of football games, the first one at Miami and the second at Florida State.

The atmosphere at these two stadiums is unparalleled as far as college football goes. The Hurricanes crowd relies on intimidation backed with a tough-guy attitude.
The Seminoles have the chief, the horse and the chop. And it doesn't stop.

These crowds cheered even when there was no action on the field. Not many can make that claim.
4. March, 1989, Syracuse-1llinois basketball. The Illini beat SU in the Midwest Regional final 89-86 in the best basketball game I ever covered.

I didn't stick around for the Geor-etown basketball game two years getown basketball game two year ago, but I heard it was a good one. ago, but I heard it was a good one.
5 . Feb. 1989, 90, 91, DO-WAF basketball. The stories in the paper were always humorous, but win or lose playing on the Carrier Dome floor three times before 30,000 empty seats was a thrill.
6. Dec 1989, Syracuse-Georgia football. I spent nearly a week in Atlanta covering the Peach Bowl and got all the free food and drink I could stomach for three straight days. This stomach for three straight days. This way, I had money left over for more drink.
7. Nov. 1990, DO basketball preview. The analysis of the transfer situation at this school was the best piece of journalism this paper has produced since I've been here.
8. March, 1990, DO lacrosse preview. My first preview as the sports editor. Others were better, but this was the first.

SU finally defeats Eagles

 Orangewomenbeat BC, not rain By DAVE HAUT Staff Wrirer
For six years, the Syracuse University women's tennis team would have been better off staying inside than going out to play Boston College.
The six-time defending Big East champion Eagles hadn't lost to the Orangewomen during that time span.
Syracuse finally had a reason to stay utside on Saturday, however, as it beat outside on Saturday, however, as it beat BC at the Regional ITCA tennis qualifiers at Yale University.
"We were very psyched to play (the match,", SU coach Jesse Dwire said. "I ready to beat them. 'It's going to be all mental, so go on out there."
Just when the Orangewomen wanted to stay outside though, Syracuse was not prepared for either Mother Nature's or Harvard University's downpour on Sunday.

After the 6-3 upset victory over the Eagles, SU and Harvard were forced indoors due to inclement weather.
The Orange lost to Harvard 5-1, with three matches incomplete.

Senior Sharie Liberatore won the first set of her second singles match 7-5, but play was stopped because of the rain. Sara Dickson did not play their matches as well.

According to Dwire, the weather wasn't the sole reason the Orangewomen lost, but it was a factor.
"At the time, Sharie was up in her match, and I don't think they would have beaten Sara, Dwire said. Jennifer's it probably would have been the swing match.
"I think it should have been a 5-4 match instead of a $5-1$ match, but we"ll match instead of a $5-1$ match, but we'll never know because we were only alnever know because we were only allowed to play on two courts." Dwire said he was not.

the team's mental attitude.  the team's mental attitude. said. "Everyone was playing conserva-  Fullbacks shine without glitter

Wyracuse University tennis player Maria Pilar Merono and the Orangewomen beat Boston College for the first time in six years on Saturday at on Sunday in a rain-shortened match.
"The ladies didn't play bad, they just didn't play aggressive enough to win." Dwire said. Tri-captain, Carrie Bentzel, agreed with Dwire.
"Everyone played not to lose," Bentzel
d. "Everyone was playing conserva-

Syracuse University fullback Al Wooten rushes againgt Florida State in the Orangemen's 46-14 loss on Saturday. Wooten and reserve fullback Marcus Lee have served mainly as blockers for SU tailbacks, but may soon have a more active role.

Wooten, Lee attempt to break old mold

By JOSH BARNETT

In the Syracuse University offense, the tailback may be glitter. but it's the fullback who makes him gold.

The tailback serves as the primary ball carrier while the fullback serves as the lead blocker. the lead blocker. glamour role," fullback Al Wooten said. The fullback is a rougher position There's a lot more contact.
"Your job is really to make the tailback shine and that's what you have to do."
Wooten and reserve fullback Marcus Lee have combined for 37 carries and 171 yards rushing. Tailbacks David Walker and Terry Richardson have carried for nearly twice that in the Orangemen's first five games, gaining 561 yards.
"I just do what I have to do", Wooten said. "I'm not really concerned about how many times I carry the ball. I just or making the block."

The fullback's biggest role is in the trap option, which is the basis for SU's trap option, which is the bas.

The fullback also protects the quarter back in passing situations and is the ball carrier in the veer package.
"You're talking about a guy that is called upon to be a jack of all trades," running backs coach David Mitchell said. "A fullback is a runner plus a receiver plus a blocker."

The Daily Orange

NYPIRG makes refund offer

 Interest group says few students demand rebate
By EILEEN CLANTON  Staff Writer

As the refund period for the New York Public Interest Research Group reaches its midpoint, fewer than 50 people have requested reimbursement.
NYPIRG, one of two Syracuse University student groups regulated by referendum, annually offers students a refund of $6. That arnount is allogated to NYPIRG annually from each student's $97.50 student fee.
The Daily Orange is funded $$ 7$ annually through the same procedure, but does not offer refunds.
According to NYPIRG project coordinator Bob Merli, the reimbursement procedure has been in place since NYPIRG was founded at SU in 1972.
"NYPIRG feels it's the right thing to do," he said. "Students need to know that they do have access to the funds if that they do have access to the funds if

War zone

Delta Upsilon brother Jeff Carlitz prepares to attack the enemy in a game of Splat Ball Saturday afternoon. See Images p. $\mathbf{B}$.

State puts funds into ACTION  $\square$

> By DENISE VALENTI
> Contributing Writer
> In a period of fiscal crisis, the New York State Legiblature has allocated $$ 640,000$ to fund Syracuse University's Advanced Computing Technology, Innovative Opportunity Now program.

> ACTION is a new technology transfer program which will introduce and develop the use of high-performance computing in corporate and commercial enterprises, according to Geoffrey Fox. director of SU's Northeast Parallel Architectures Center, the facilities on which ACTION is based.

The erant was approved Sept. 19 by they really feel they can't support to them and tell them what we do. NYPIRG." While the group does not Sometimes they'll change their mind." advocate that students seek the refund. According to, a NYPIRG statement, NYPIRG members do make studenta aware of the process, Merli added.
"We have placed ads in The Daily Orange, and there are about 75 posters around campus," Merli said.

The refund period began Oct. 4.

Filling out a form

Students seeking a refund must fill out a brief application so NYPIRG can verify that the applicant is actually a student. According to Merli, students do not need to offer an explanation for their request.
"We would not outright refuse a equest for a refund." Merli said.
Occasionally, he said, students will apply for a refund without any knowldge of NYPIRG" function on campus. the group promotes affordable higher education, consumer and environmental protection and good government.

NYPIRG members have also lobbied at the local and state level for student voting rights.

Merli said that in recent years, between 30 and 50 students have requested refunds each year.

However. in the mid-1980s, lobbying efforts from another student group caused the number of requests to increase to almost 4,000
In 1984, Students To Oppose Public Interest Research Groups Funding (STOPIRG), urged students to request refunds.

According to a report published in the Oct. 22. 1984 issue of The Daily Orange, See REFUNDS Page 10
$\qquad$
the NYS Science and Technology Foundation, he said.
Although cuts were made in the 1991-92 state budget, the only new projects funded were those which offered economic development opportunities for the state, said Carolyn May, director of state relations for SU.
State-based corporations which will benent from ACTION petitioned for the grant. she said. These include 1 BM, Niagara Mohawk, Xerox, Corning, Gnumman and AGE.

Traditional lobbying

This was a clean, traditional lobbying project," May said. There were no big deals made."
Under the first year of funding, committees will be established to identify potential industrial applications to high performance computing.
To focus on regional economic development, Fox said ACTION will also complete three significant industrial applications in the first year well as aponsor a workshop on high performance computing in industry.

Fox said ACTION is expected to benefit the state's manufacturing, transportation, biomedical, environmentaland energy sectors.
SU graduate students will have a

Honors Program hands out 65 General awards

BY MARK A. BROUSSEAU

AYM. News Editor
Hard work and determination paid off for 65 undergraduates Wednesday in the form of apple cider. cookies and lower division general honors.

Members of the Honors Program received certificates at a reception and award coremony in Bowne Hall.
Students were presented their certificates by Vice President of Undergraduate Studies Ronald Cavanagh. The fionors Program offers students intellectual challenge and curricular enrichment through seminars, honors courses, special cultural events and close contact with faculty and fellow honors students, Program Difellow honors students,

Most of the recipients are juniors, he said.

Lower Division General Honors are characterized by freshman and sophomore classes that demand a "sincere commitment to leamming and scholarship." Radke said.
"The program is a great resource -a real boost - and provides solid connections," senior honors recipient Matthew Prohaska said.

Upon successful completion of lower division honors, students are awarded certificates and their transcripts are marked with "Lower Division General Honors," Radke said.

Like a sexcond home

The program helps members with academic problems, and actually serves as a second home for some freshmen," he said.
"The seminars are super and help increase your thoughts on the commanity and the arts," he said.

The Honors Program expands your knowledge and provides you with a definite link to the community," he added

Upper Division Honors encompass the last. 60 credits of the undergraduate degree and entail students working closely with a faculty adviser to plan a program that culminates in a senior thesis or project based on independent research within the student's field.

The ceremony will air on Cooke Cablevision Channel 7 tonight at 10.

The Honors Program is open to qualified students in all of the university's undergraduate schools and colleges, he said.

For more information on the HonFors Program, contact Radke at 443 2759 or visit the Honors Program office in 306 Bowne Hall.

Inside

Spheres of infinemce  Iurn to the Science page for a look at eight explorers who have locked themselves away in Biosphere 2 to study how humans handle being totally - wellalmost totally -isolated.

World

Soviet troops to leave

 Poland by 1993The Soviet Union will withdraw 45,000 remaining troops from Poland by the end of next year

The troop issue is part of a broader treaty between the two nations．Polish ofticials said the U．S．S．R．＇s foreign policy has moderated significantly since the attempted Soviet coup in August．

The Soviet Union had been pushing for a treaty that would not let Poland join NATO or any other organization consid－ ered hostile．

Four－fifths of world＇s

children now immunized
United Nations officials said Tuesday that by the end of 1990 ，four－fifths of all the world＇s children under age 1 had been immunized against six killer dis－ eases．

The officials said the results of the six－year campaign were the greatest public health achievement of the past decade．
＂This is an accomplishment of im－ mense significance，a major step towards truly universal immunization against truly universal immunization against the foremost diseases which most vulnerable among us，＂ Secretary－General Javier Perez de Cuel－ lar said．

Nation

Hearings on Thomas scheduled for Friday

The SenateJudiciary Committee hear－ ings on the sexual harassment allega－ tions against Judge Clarence Thomas are scheduled to begin Friday．

Joseph R．Biden Jr．，the committee chairman，said the FBI probably would be notified about probing more deeply into the allegations made by Anita $F$ ． Hill，a former aide to Thomas．

Thomas，who was expected to be confirmed to the Supreme Court．，faces an uncertain future in the Senate．

On Tuesday，Thomas denied the har－ assment allegations，Democratic support for Thomas collopsed and the Senate agreed to a one－week delay on a confir mation vote．

Public support for Thomas also plum－ meted from 63 percent three weeks ago to 50 percent after the Senate delayed its vote，an ABC－Washington Post poll re－ vealed．
Snake bites woman， preacher charged

An Alabama preacher was charged with assault after he allegedly forced his wife to stick her hand in a snake box She was bitten twice by a rattle snake． The hospital now caring for the woman has not revealed her condition．

The Pentecostal minister was arrested Monday and jailed on $$ 20,000$ bail．

State

State proposes doctors

keep AIDS confidential

The state Health Department pro posed Tuesday that health care worker infected with the ATOS virus do not have to tell patients before doing surgery or other invasive medical procedures．

The proposal is designed to protect the confidentiality of infected health care workers and allow them to continue working．

The policy，however，does not adhere to guidelines from the federal Centers for Disease Control and possibly with legislation passed last week by Con－ sress．

The federal guidelines stipulate that health care workers should voluntarily be tested for ADDS．

Infant mortality rate

increases in Syracuse
The infant mortality rate in Syracuse is about as high as it was in 1987，when health officials started a series of pro－ jects to reduce the number of babies who died in their first year．

In 1990，sixty－six Onondaga County infants died，according to state Health Department figures．

Campuses

Students claim policy

violates their rights

The Vice Chancellor for Student Af－ fairs at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill said he believes the school visitation policy does not violate stu－ visitation pol
dents＇rights．

Donald Boulton said the policy－ which allows members of the opposite sex in residence hall rooms only between 9 a．m．and 1 a．m．Sunday through Thursday，and 9 a．m．to 2 a．m．Friday and Saturday－was part of students＇ giving up some individual rights so the corporate rights of the university would be protected．

Several assistant area directors（AADs） and resident assistants at the school have said that UNC＇s policy violates students＇ rights and should be replaced．
＂Sex happens，＂said Claire Aselin，an AAD for Olde Campus．＂To pretend that it happens only after 1 a．m．Sunday through Thursday and after 2 a．m．on Friday and Saturday is not only silly， but dangerous，＂she said．
Joe Mosnier，a Scott College AAD． said the housing department had no reason to regulate visitation． ${ }^{4}$ Housing should get rid of an illegiti－ mate interest，namely regulating the personal liberty of adult members of the personal liberty of adult members of the community，and get into things they have a just and legitimate interest in， have a just and legitimate interest in， namely
he said．

PLANE TO CATCH？ FA ETRIPLEX

Service to Syracuse Airport $$ 1.00$ discount with S．U．I．D．：
Shuttle Bus Leaves Sheraton－circle at 45 min ．past each hour every hour

FOR RESERVATIONS CALL 455－TAXI

WEATHER

Raining again
－Expect rain today with a low of around 47 this morning，ar－ eas of patchy fog and a high eas of patchy fog and a high around 65 this afternoon．Ex－ pect periods of variable cloudi－ ness with a 40 percent chance of showers tonight．

Friday

The weekend will kick off with partly sunny skies and only a 30 percent chance of showers．

Saturday

Scattered showers with lows in the 40 s and highs between 50 and 55 are in store for this Columbus（non－politically cor－ rect）Day weekend．Look for showers Sunday and fair skies Monday．

Temperatures across the country
Atlanta
Chicago
Dallas
Dallas
Lotroit Angeles
Los An Mew York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington，D．C．

Today＇s guest city：Keene．N．H．．

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University＇a independent otudent－run newnepaper published Monday through Friday．
The newapaper is distributed froe on the Syracuse Univernity and SUNY Environmental Science and Foreatry Campuses．
The editors are available after 3 p．m．Sunday．through Thuraday．

News：443－2127
Editorial：443－2128
Lifentyle：443－2128
Sporta：443－2208
Bumineas／Advertizing：443－2314
（Mon－Fri 8：30 a．m．－ $4=30$ p．m．）

Attention all designers．．．

The Daily Orange is now accepting letters of intent for the position of

Assistant Design Editor
Letters of intent are due to Jodi Lamagna， 744 Ostrom Ave．，by 3 p．m．Friday Oct． 11

Superficial masks mold deceiving world views

Nowadays, everybody tries to be different. This can be seen in every aspect of life, pervading every group.

Most people strive for individualism - the foundation of America - and they end up hiding behind a superficial mask.

ROY S GUTTERMAN OUT OF PHE GUITER , ent hair colors: shaving headsyles and ing sideburns: ing sideburns; piercing body parts, several times; and tattooing.
Clothing, the body's mask, is always an obvious characteridentifier. Art students and poets wear black; athletes and greeks wear sweatshirts and Republicans wear three-piece suits.

But these masks are a tad general and stereotypical. And altering the mask does not change the face, no matter how thorough or complex it is.
A high school wrestling coach/ math teacher once said, "No matter which way you slice it, it's still baloney.
In this modern Age of Euphemism, that is all it is -baloney. Few things today turn out to be how they are described. This is a deliberate attempt by those in power to gloss over and mold a "shiny happy world" out of a shiny happy
Just look at the "downsizing" of Syracuse University.
When did cutbacks turn to downsizing in language's evolution?
Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw even likened this process to meat. He told reporters two weeks ago that "downsizing" was like "making sausage.
Because, "You don't want to look at it while it's being made," he said.
By the time such butcher

FITLTGT Hendricks Chapel Syracuse, NY 13244 Syracuse University Syracuse,

GAME NIGHT

${ }_{3 x}$ Come to Hillell and Play a 3. game of Pistionary!!! Refresfiments will be served. ${ }^{\circ}$ Thursday, October 10, 7 P.M. Hillel Lounge, Hendricks Chapel Your Student Fee At Work block candor emerged, the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Advisory Committee already drafted its first set of bureaucratic-lingo laden reports.
On the surface, yes - it is still English and information to which everybody would have access, but it is only superficiat.

People embark on this everyday as they adopt and infuse superficiality into their lives Here are really different things people say and hear, because they are so different: cut influences the way people "Clothes make the man." "Hot think is if someone's head is car, coolguy," "He's so interest- victimized by a barber and is ing, he's got an earring and forced to wear a hat. sideburns,". "She shaved her head, she is so different."
It is easier for someone to say, "I'm different because I personality or an agenda.

Being different is more than just an outfit or a haircut, it is thought. The onlv way a hair-

Too often a group will adopt a look or catch phrase, stand behind it and say, "Yes, I am ifferent and you are not."
Being "different" used to be denigrated, avoided and thwarted, but now it is the trendy thing.

Today, most people branded See GUTTER Page 4

APPEARING AT SUTTER'S M NEICAM      THURSDAY OCT 10  $$
\begin{array}{|c|c} \text { $1 Off } & \text { fAT THURSDAY } \\ \text { MEXICAN MUD BAND } & \text { ALL U CAN EAT } \\ \text { good only Thurs., Oct. 10th } & $ 64 \mathrm{pm}-8 \mathrm{pm} \\ \text { SUTEERSS } \\ \hline \end{array}
$$   fat THURSDAY   fat THURSDAY ALL U CAN EAT ALL U CAN EAT $6 4 pm - 8 pm $6 4 pm - 8 pm $$ 1.50$ ALL IMPORTS

 $$ 1.50$ ALL IMPORTS}
B.G. Rudolph Lecture in Jewish Studies

Sander Gilman
Visiting BG
Rudolph Chair in Jewish Studies Will Deliver The 29th Annual Lecture

Title: The Visibility of the Jew in the Diaspora: Body Imagery and its Cultural Context
Time: 8:00pm
Location: 304 Schine A,B, & C Date: October 10, 1991

GUTTER

Continued from Page 3
"different" are not burned at the stake, publicly flogged or beheaded as much as they used to be.
Now, being "different" is."the cool thing to do."

This bred an entire population of "different" people who joined clubs, sports teams, interest groups and greek organiterest groups and greek organispewing its own agenda that not spewing its own agenda that not even M.C. Hammer can touch.
Being different is an American icon. The sheer nature of American govermment was based on the individual/state contract that no government had ever embarked upon 215 years ago.

Now, this model of diversity and democracy is being emulated and implemented around the world, but with little success.

Two years ngo tens of thousands of people rallied in Eastern Europe to topple the Berlin Wall and restore democracy to lands that never really had it in the first place.

But now democracy is on the ## ACTION

Continued from Page 1
"clear benefit" as a result of the grant, he said.

Fox said he has 23 graduate students working under his direction. They will be directly involved with the ACTION program.
Undergraduates will be able to take part in a summer re search program which will al-oose and the Communist Party is disbanded and outlawed in Eastern Europe.

When did democracy entail burying every remaining sign of the past regime.

Dismantling immense statues of Lenin, destroying the old party's headquarters and cutting out the center crest of a flag, as they did in Romania, is not democracy.
Intimidating the opposition into silence, as the Eastern European democrats have done, is simply changing the mask from the red face tattooed with a hammer and sickle to a white KKK mask.
In some cases this anticommunism paid off. For example, when angry Romanians killed dictator Nicolae Ceausescu and his wife on nationa! TV, not a pay-per-view exclusive.

It seems that the only thing that changes in the world today are the masks and the conflicting messages that are transmitted.

But no one wants reality to rear its ugly face.
low them to work with companies on industrial super-computing applications.
Future applications of supercomputing through ACTION may include partnerships with Securities Industry Automation Corp. - which runs the New York Stock Exchange - and with Merrill Lynch, May said But the plan are only in the "discussion stages," she said.

Write for the D.O.
call 443-2127

Love, Sex and Relationships Premarital Couple Group

For couples with concerns about communication, intimacy and in-laws.

Contact Dr. Kenneth V. Hardy at 443-3023 for location and fee.

Sponsored by Marriage and Family Therapy Program

Editorial

Respect Shaw's sacrifice

Extending the budget deadline from Jan. 15 to Jan. 30 was the smartest thing Chancellor Kenneth Shaw could have done.

Budget cutbacks and declining enrollment have forced Syracuse University to cut back on expenses for the coming years. Now, with an available voice, students should take advantage of the extension and inform Chancellor Shaw of their concerns and ideas about downsizing $S U$ while they have the chance.

Not only does the extension enable students to voice their opinions, it was a smart move appearance-wise by Shaw as well. Shaw must be well aware of the vocal nature of some students on the SU campus by now. The idea of waiting an extra ten days or so made good political sense as well.

If it seems he is unfamiliar with the issues prevalent on campus, it is the student's job to educate him. Tell him about SU security and blue light abuse. Explain gay, lesbian and bisexual rights on a homophobic campus and the consequences it carries. The Daily Orange is only one voice but the student body consists of numerous voices.

Contact the representatives to the Board of Trustees and inform them of your ideas on both cost-cutting measures and cost-saving measures. Explain why the money should go to certain places. Even though representatives only have 20 minutes with the Board of Trustees, that is 20 more minutes than the average students have. Take advantage of the situation.

Shaw is showing a great deal of respect to the students' collective voice by offering the extension. We should return the favor by showing our concern for where our money should and should not be spent.

LETTERS

Stereotypes cause distorted views

To the editor:
I have purple hair and combat boots and I'm a die hard feminist.
l'm also in a sorority.
I guess I'm not your typical idea of either a feminist or a sorority sister. But that's the point. Danielle De Mooy's letter in the Oct. 7 issue of The Daily Orange articulately pointed out the dangers in sterotyping people with different beliefs and attitudes than our own.

I also have a problem with stereotypes. However, that I don't fit certain stereotypes has put me in a good position to hear what good position to hear people from various organizations and backgrounds had to say in their"natural environments."

In general, it seems that there is more enthusiasm for partying than there is for understanding different peopie and cultures. Maybe it's a problem with our whole generation. It is easier (for sorne people) to have a drink and a good time than it is to think about how to make the worid a better place.

There's been so much mud. slinging and stereotyping from both the greek and the nongreek organizations. There's too much hypocrisy and not enough constructive

When are we all going to really start listening to each other?

Greeks pride themselves on their community service, while non-greeks pride themselves on human rights. I applaud both sides for their efforts. But I think we can go one step ourselves on being open minded to all different regardless of sexual preferences, race, religious beliefs or campus politics, greek or non-greek.

Andrea Miralia
Student sickened by
To the editor:
When Sunday evenings roll around I think of all of the around I think of all of the work that must be complete for the coming week. I also for the coming week. I also reflect upon my carefree college reflect upon my carefree college weekends that those of us here at Syracuse University are most fortunate to experience.

However, it is a shame that too many students misinterpret the word carefree for the right to act irresponsibly and feel at liberty to infringe upon all moral codes of society and, in general, perform acts that are dangerous to the health and well-being of themselves and others only because they are "in college.

On Saturday night I witnessed a number of events that enraged me. While walking down to M-Street I saw a group of four gentlemen saw a group of four gentlemen standing under the blue light. behind Dellplain Hall:

They did push it and then ran like cowards. I decided to wait at the light for security to arrive because I knew who pushed the light. As I was pushed the light. As I was saw one of the old faithful SU Security patrol cars head right forme under the blue light.

As I stepped toward the curb, the car just kept cruising by. I did not even receive a second glance from the driver, who I'm sure heard the piercing sound corning from the light.
I looked at my friend in disbelief and, out of sheer frustration, decided to continue on. Later in the evening, I saw another group of young men pull the blue light in front of the Sheraton Inn.
As my walk home continued, a number of people were committing a grotesque act, so vile, inhumane and heartwrenching I get sick telling of how these Neanderthals were tearing down large limbs from defenseless trees.

It took three, four, even five of them to hang on them and rip them down. They would then run with limbs over their heads like some type of trophy won in some bizarre medieval tournament. They would run to the next tree and perform the sick operation again.

My friend and I wondered how much longer they could possibly keep this up, so we possided to follow them through Walnut Park, where they Walnut Park, where they continued their rampage. In front of the TEP fraternity house, where they were continuing their trail of destruction, we decided to confront thern.

We all decided to put an end to their reign of terror and pursued them until a second confrontation behind Watson Hall. We removed the limbs from them and explained the injustice they were committing. After everyone went their separate ways, I could only and all of thents such as rape exist on campus
But they seem to have become everyday events.
This results in an immature and apathetic student body. I am making a formal challenge to the students of SU to think before you act. All will benefit fromit.

Adam Brian Rubenstein

We could all use a little more...

LETTERS

SUCLA addresses policy

to the editor:
Some troublesome problems have arisen from Syracuse attendance at certain student organization events. The SU Civil Liberties Advocates (SUCLA) would like to address some of the issues involved.
some of the issues involved
We see two main issues regarding the new policy. regarding the new policy.
According to an article in $T h e$ According to an article in The Post-Standard, the new policy will allow only SU students and their registered guests to and their registered guest attend certain events, in particular, those which may be categorized as late night becategorized as late night only individuals possessing a college ID card will be registered. We find this requirement to be blatantly. discriminatory and in violation of SU regulations.
The exclusion of guests without college ID cards will clearly discriminate against those students who associate with a non-student social group. This will most obviously affect students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds whose social groups may contain a number of individuals unable to attend college.

In addition, the exclusion will negatively affect other groups. For example, graduate and professional students will often have friends who are not in college.

The essence of this policy is that if the university likes your social group, then it will allow you to bring a friend to university events. Otherwise, you may not bring a friend. This would appear to be in direct violation of both the Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities and University Policies, both of which prohibit discrimination against students on the basis of social affiliation. If this policy is not discrimination on the basis of social affiliation then what is?

The second main issue

The Daily Orange Elitir Edirar in Chinf

Jodi Larazinna

involved in this policy is the question of whether or not events should be limited only to guests of students. Whil we have no doubt that the university has the legal right to exclude non-students from troubled by the university's position in this matter.

For one thing, we find the university's resolution of this matter to be simply foolish. What disadvantage could there have been in first attempting to resolve the security problem by mutual agreement with the studentarganizations involved? We strongly suspect that this matter could have been (and still can be) resolved in a manner that would both protect students and maintain the benefits of open events.

Furthermore, we are disappointed at The Daily Orange's support for this policy. In particular, we are surprised by the suggestion that the policy is appropriate in order to prevent student funds from going to non-students.
This represents quite a departure from their past positions opposing university intervention into funding issues. Quite frankly, we see no reason why funding organizations such as SGA and GSO should not continue to determine which services and event

However, we are perhaps most concerned by the arbitrary application of this policy to certain university events, but not to others. If the university chooses to adopt a policy that closes university events, then the policy should be uniformly applied. Though we do not think such a policy is wise. we will accept such a policy when it is applied to all university events, including athletic events.

Jonathan Greenfield
President, SUCLA   \section*{ \section*{   \section*{ \section*{   \section*{ \section*{                                                                                              \&LARGE AND SMALL ORDERS TO GO! $\uparrow$    \&LARGE AND SMALL ORDERS TO GO! $\uparrow$    \&LARGE AND SMALL ORDERS TO GO! $\uparrow$    471 Hestoot St. Eree Parking    471 Hestoot St. Eree Parking    471 Hestoot St. Eree Parking (University Area) (University Area) (University Area)                            Free Parking min
DAYS A WBAK 47-1111}    Free Parking
min
DAYS A WBAK 47-1111}    Free Parking
min
DAYS A WBAK 47-1111}

DELIVERY
Servint the Syoncure Uivertiry Conpur since 1982
"Whinnery of the 1991 SUNY wing off7" ALI AELOW PRKCES SUBJECT TO SALES TAX AND MAY CHANGE WTTHOUT WOTLCE

Lennon art exhibit opens at local mall By IOSEPHKISSEI
Stafi Writer
While John Lennon will be remembered primarily for his music, he was also very interested in the visual arts.
"The Imagine Exhibition, The Art of John Lennon" will be on display ne Shoppingtown Mall southeast wing through Oct. 13

Lennon's art, composed primarily of pen-and-ink drawings, has been touring nationally and has been to 14 cities already. Admission to the exhibit will be free.

The collection, most of which features Lennon and his wife. Yoko Ono, spans the years 1968 to 1980. Much of his work was influenced by a trip to Japan infuenced by a trip to Japan with Ono and his ever-present with Ono and his ever-present themes of human love and communication.

Born John Winston Lennon on Oct. 9. 1940, in Liverpool. England, he was murdered Dec 8, 1980, in New York City.

He married Ono at Eibraltar on March 20, 1969. Six days later, Lennon and Ono commenced their famous bed-in for world peace at the Amsterdam Hilton.
In 1969, as a wedding gift for Ono, Lennon drew the "Bag One: Portfolio, a chronicle ot their wedding ceremony, honey-peace, the bed-in. The suite also contained erotic sketches.

Going public
The Bag One series was first published and exhibited in January 1970 at the London Art Gallery. On the second day, the exhibition was closed by Scotland Yard and the erotic hithographs confiscated.

During 1986, Ono decided to share Lennor. public by publin with the in a series of is My Story prints titled This True follow Both Humble and One Continued 1988 with bag kota Day. These works are commentary on Lernon Ono com and their son, Sean Captions beneath the work describe Lennon's intent in cremoon and their plea for world

S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications

GRAMMAR, PUNCTUATIONS, AND SPELLING EXAM

Saturday, October 26
9a.m.-10a.m. in A1 NCCI

A review session will be held on Wednesday, October 16, at 5 p.m. in 254 NCCII. This is the last exam offered this semester. Passing grade needed for admission into NEW 205 and TRF 245. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.

TONIGHT  AT  Fundraiser for S.U. WOMEN'S SOCCER 9PM-CLOSE

Science

The Daily Orange Ocrober 10, 1991

Message in a Bottle

Biosphere welcomes scientists, tourists

By LISA K. POLAY
Contributing Writer
Take the earth's crust, add water and throw in a pinch of Disneyland for flavor. Put it all in a bottle and seal it for two years. The result is Biosphere 2 .

Biosphere 2, named in honor of Biosphere 1, the Earth, is a glass and steel structure covering 137,000 feet. Located in Arizona, the biosphere contains five biomes and more than 4,000 species of flora and fauna.
At 8:15 a.m. on Sept. 26. eight researchers were closed inside Biosphere 2, the world's largest airtight environment. They will be locked inside for the next two years.
"It's a science project with marketing potential," said Bruno Fazzolari, a public relations representative for Space Biospheres Ventures, the private ecological organization backing the proiect.
What sustains life is life itself, and we are trying to sustain life," Fazzolari said.

The concept for Biosphere 2 was born in the mind of Paul Wells, a poet, playwright and melallurgist with a master of business degree from Harvard University.
In 1984, Texas billionaire Ed Bass, the project's chief Tnancier, brought it to life.
In 1987, Space Biospheres Ventures bought 2,500 acres in the foothills of the Santa Catal ina Mountains, in Oracle, Ariz Four years and $$ 150$ million later, the world's largest and most expensive science project was unveiled to the public.

A fragile mix

Biosphere 2 researchers hope to maintain a fragile mix of plants and animals in an experimental world that recycles air, water, food and wastes

But they will accomplish this dressed like the crew from Star Trek: The Next Gencration while tourists to the site gawk from a window near the ocean biome.

Is Biosphere 2 science or just science-fiction?

Space Biospheres Ventures contends this project "offers an opportunity fortracking in great detail the interactions among land and water ecosystems and the atmosphere; for evaluating human impact on complex ecologies and developing technologies compatible and sustainable within the biosphere.

Dr. Charles F. Hutchinson, associate director of the Office of Arid Land Studies at the University of Arizona, described the project in a New York Times article as "a scientific crapshoot."

Hutchinson called it "a topdown approach to science, in which you take a bunch of components, throw them all together, shake them up and hope everything will work in the end.
But the Biospherians insist this project could provide an important tool of study for ecological research and education to enhance understanding of the present biosphere. Seerningly, all the time, money and detail spent in constructing Biosphere 2 verifies the authenticity of dedicated ecologists.

Keep oul termites
Termites like to snack on caulking and architects had to find a solution. The solution is to use glass plates sealed together with silicon in frame of struts of steel covered aluminum, looking eerily like a flattened version of Epcot Center in Florida.
The termites represent one element out of the more than 4,000 present in the five biomes. or ecosystems, located in Biosphere 2. The components of these ecosystems were gathered from their original habitats in more than 40 different countries and brought to Arizona. Now they call Biosphere 2 home.

The inside looks like a dream of Walt Disney's, rather than Charles Darwin's. The five biCharies Darwin's. The five biomes, representative of the planet, are located within the planet, are located within th space of three football fields.
pace of three football fields.
There is a tropical rain forest, patterned after an Amazonian jungle, which at 85 feet is the highest point in the structure. Twenty-foot-tall trees shelter the $\mathbf{3 0 0}$ species in the forest.

The savanna contains grassland plants and amimals fromi Africa,
South America and Australia. South America and Australia. A tropical stream runs through This area and into the marsh. This biome was picked up virtu* ally intact in the Florida Ever. glades and transported to Arixona. The marsh empties into the one million-gallon, 25-foot deep "ocean," which was started by 100,000 gallons of water from the Pacific Ocean. It also contains an imported Carib bean coral reef. Finally, there is the desert.

The Biosphere engineers also attempted to recreate atmospheric conditions as well as pheric conditi environments.

They do not have wind or cold fronts, so massive refrigeration systems using outside cooling towers chill the air and water to regulate temperature. If it were not for these systerns, the temperature would rise to 140 degrees on a sunny day.
Fans force air through the? soil, where microorganisms and* matural soil

Rubber lungs
The basement of Biosphere 2 contains two "lungs," chambersi containing huge inflatable ruber pillows that regulate air bers, pressure inside could buit and blow the windows out heir frames
Other equipment includes mahinery to produce waves and circulate water. The energy source for all this equipment comes from a 5.2 megawatt generator, big enough to power small town.
The eight researchers will communicate with the outside worid through computers, fax and phone. While they can't order out for pizza, they have everything from tele
As advanced as all this technology may seem, it is juxtaposed with other forms of sur val within Biosphere 2 . See SPMERE Page 10

Artwork by

Steve Ellis

Splat.

Blair Johnson of Alpha Xi Delta prepares for combat by camouflaging her face.

Team Harry's Eric Sebso sits and waits for the coast to clear in order to attack the enemy tower.

Kevin McEuigatt, co-owner of Front Line Adventures, demonstrates to players how to load their guns with carbon dioxide cartridges which power the pellets.
Competition raises money for research

Michaela Potter

IN

IODAYS

CIIMATE
OIOTHIAG ORRE IS ImPORTANT:

CAREFUL
CIEAN

COURTEOUS
PROFESSIONAL DRY OIGAnIGG WASH N' FOLD
SHIR T IAUNDRY - S1.00 PER SHIRT COIN IAUNDRY
A Unique Concept in Laundry Services 478-9709

WJPZ Radio is taking letters of intent for the following position

PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR

Letters should be submitted to Kelly Sutton by 5p.m., Tuesday, October 15, 1991

WJPZ  Watson Theater Complex 316 Waverly Ave.

WJPZ is an equal opportunity employer.

> ALSSU

THE ASSOCLATLON OF LNTERN,ATLONनLC STUDEDNTS AT SURACUSE UNLUERSITY

WLLL BE HOLDING ELEETLONS ON
FRLD-AY OCTOBER 11 th AT 2:30 PTI. LN
ROOM 126 V SCHENE CENTER.
FOR THE FOLCOWING POSLTLONS:

- generar secret-ary.
your ATJEND-ANCE WOULD BE GREATLY APPRECLATED.

REFRESMMENTS WLLC BE SERUED.
YOURSTUDENT FEE ELECTING LEADERS

SPHERE

Continued from Page 7
There is little paper. No paper towels, no napkins and no toilet paper. The Biospherians will use washcloths. The women will use sea sponges during their menstrual periods.
The food is all grown and cut from a half acre of land behind their living complex. The crew will be lucky if they harvest enough coffee beans to enjoy one cup a week.

They will spend four hours a day maintaining the crops and ecosystems and another four hours working on scientific experiments. The rest of their periments, the rest of their time will theoretically be their time Will theoretically be their own. They can play musical own. They can play musical instruments, swim or watch teleinstruments, swim or watch television. And what about the most vision. And what about the most primitive of all leisure activities?
"This is not a monastery," said Dr. Roy Walford, 67, the group's doctor, at a recent press conference.
"We've got four men and four

REFUNDS  Continued from Page 1

3,945 students requested refunds that year.

But this year, Merli said, requests have been few, and he is satisfied with this year's is satis results.

-T

-T

Local artwork

shown at Schine

The artwork of noted Hispanic artist fuan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in Octoness ber.
ber. The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will run through Oct. 15. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.
women, all single and healthy, so I don't think you can discount the possibility of sexual encounters," said Sally Silverstone, 36 . the group's co-captain.

Earth as a tourist trap
Every attempt has been made at making Biosphere 2 an accurate and functioning re-creation of the earth.
Even right down to the gift shop, cafe, hotel and convention center.
Biosphere's backers freely adrnit it is a commercial venture. More than one million tourists are expected to visit the site this year. Each will pay $$ 9.95$ and hoar. $u l l y$ stock up on Biosphere 2 books, coffee mugs plastic key 2 books, coffee mugs, plastic key chains and T-shirts. Plans call for building an "ecologically; correct" golf course on the site in the near future.
A number of scientists have criticized this venture, in which controlled scientific method is waived in lieu of a grand, glamorous attempt at reproducing soil, weather and ocean tides.
SU jurior Elise Dwyer said she has never considered applying for a refund.
${ }^{\text {"1 }}$ guess I've known about it since my freshman year, but I hever would think to ask for it," she said. "I don't know why she said. youd want to take money away from a proup that doesn't seem

Not enough is known about ecosystems to reproduce one biome, let alone five, they say. To many scientists, Blosphere 2 is little more than an ecologi* 2 is ittle more
None of the eight researchers hold doctoral degrees. There are no controls, and therefore no way of achieving scientific validation. There is no rain or clouds, no erosional processes. such as wind or rushing water, and no large-scale manufacturing releasing chloroflorocarbons, methane and carbon dioxide into the air. In addition, there is no ultraviolet radiation, since it cannot penetrate the glass.

Bass, the chief financier for the project, said, "It has been said in an accusatory fashion that this is not science or research, that this is a Disneyland. Well. it certainly is." It can be Wen. it certainly is." it can be disputed that "Biosphere 2 is disputed that "Biosphere 2 is truly a microcosm of planet truly a microcosm of planet Earth." as the newsletter proclaims. "Ecology" means "the rules of the house," and Space Biospheres Ventures has taken the liberty of changing the rules.
to be abusing it in any way." Students may apply for the refund until Thursday, Oct. 17. Applications are available in the Noble Foom of Hendricks Chapel, in Moon Library on the Environmental Science and Forestry campus, or in NYPlRG's estry campus, or in NYPlRg ffice in the lower level Schine Student Center.

Library Associates plan book sale

The Syracuse University Library and Library Associates brary and Library Associates will hold its annual book sole will hold its annual book sole Oct. 31 , from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Oct. 31 , from 10 a.m to $7 \mathrm{p.m}$. and Nov. 1 from 10 a.m to $3: 30$ and Nov. 1 from $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Room 1916 on the firse foor of Roorn 1916 on the frst hoor of E. S. Bird Library.
All subject areas are repre-
anted and proceeds are used to sented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collections.

 | -8 |
| :--- |
| 0 |

Library offers  \section*{free tours}

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Thesday afternoons at 3 p.m through Nov. 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acGuminted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated li brary.
For
For more information, call 443-1943.

Brit Ellegance presents:

- Zoo Trip • Live "Go-go" pancers - DiJ.'s RHytia Pevice & Nikpata.

Classifieds

NOTICE

 Toe tor axch adonieny word Sk antra tor each bold word SE qurra ion cach CAPITAL LEED Word DEADLNE: 2pm, 2 busmess day in advance

Notices

PERSONAL CONSTRUCT PSYCHOLOGY: IITROesterd in cornaz with persorss acquarmed with Georinecry Piease cal 446-1262

FOR SALE
Autos
5ABB 197967.000 miles, now brakes, tires
 inclexton

Misc. For Sale Toxets: Rutoers vs Syracise at Ciant Siation 50

 Yard Line Lemor Laver Tickets Avaiuble $800-554.7 \times 1$
EMPLOYMENT

Itmorsiarior Business or Conmunneation major have thacintesth Compulter and knowiedos of Wort Proctusing or Paqe Luyour. Ne ed ascisiance immediately. 56.00 hr . Cal Personal Success Sys 10ms $582-5684$.

Enterpriving indiviciucis Mondedt Ternic oppor. turnty to earn ertra cash Call tor derails. E22-069 have messapa.
We noed you it you have srong compurat skils Wa noed you it you have ssong cony using Mac. Call TREG $425-5600$ Doday.

Sar's Biralmand Pirstmurnats Universify location Sars cook postion avaiable. Compergive wape Cotract $47+5206$ for mora frio.
Campus raps nooded. Earn salary plus tommission Cat TPEG, $425-5600$ baday E.E.E.

WANTED

 Help WantedKnow Batore You co, whers is wonk ive and ski Iree in Colorados resors. Currem Guide to Aspen. Vail Brackurrigge and moral $$ 16.65$. Call 1 1800788.6174

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { FREE SPRING BREAK THIPS } \\
& \text { to students or student } \\ & \text { organizations promoting our } \\ & \text { Spring Break Packages. } \\ & \text { Good Pay & Fun. } \\
& \text { Call CMI } 1-800-423-5264 .
\end{aligned}
$$

Ouajified spopicates ior MDYYEAA AESIDENT AD VISOR positions. ithomation Sessions: Tuesciay Oazober 15 th, 78 PM in the Schine Sudiant 8 PM in the Sader Muli Function Room: Ocicher 174h. 7-8 PM in the Haven Perthouse. For mors ntomation, call 443 -3637.
Eam sas00, Free Thps Selling Spring Break Pack. 3ges To Bahamas, Mexioo. Jemaca Flonda! Bas

SFPaC ERGAK FEPS: Bocomo mant of a toan and sell tho best spong Broak tes on campue Enm FREE TRIPS and tulimed CASHAS CaI now! TAKE A BKEAK
STUDENT TRAVEL ( 617 )424-8222 or

Roommates

Grad Studard seaking same or responside person to shand nuxe 2-berm that on Lancaster Ave 5250 471.35:4 belore farn.

Ganay Top Hill 4-bwdroom House- tully fumishod. sate neighbortood, across from palk, 15 mne from

One or Two pocpia wartad to share a 3 bedioom turnushoc aparumera one blick from cumpus. Park ing ta undry. Juss modeconated. All urinies included $$ 260$, ta No Pes *4G-F898. 320 ta No P8s 446-3346.

FOR RENT

Apartments

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Sudio agt. 3
 huiding laurrify rooms ho pey. Comen of Com stock & Mastison. 635-5322, E25-3537/ewes.
Dowit- near, nice furtithoc puat 1 bedrom mate noedod- walk hospral 50 tititios, horwshed includide. 478-254.2.
2-Bedroom lower tlat. Euclid neat Westcoth. $$ \mathrm{croaned}$ porch
$$ 540.582$-6ez3
1.2,3,4 bedoworn epartments, roommure sirumions Oif streat parking. Laundry, clean, large.
feasorabia. 474-i79).
FOR RENT: 3 BEDPCOM APARTMENT W Wetion Sinelt winhec. washar ane dret, perting Cat FALL & SPRING acceptim Senior & Grawato FALL & SPRING aecepting Senior & Grucuati model $$ 230.00$; Dessanerfieture modai $$ 3200$.
 and Standart Sis. These apartmerrs are in an ex caished with Deds, desks, drasters and fivimgipom furniver Call E73-1344 to a choict surdertapt AVALASTE TCOAYI ONES TWO BEDHOOM APARTMENTS. Kitehen, ivingroon, Bathroon $$ 420$ - $$ 685$ imo Call Marie B $30-4000,443.2567$.

Surzan S. axceiont E.S.F. 3 Bedrom, elann 5650 per monde 637-1344.
Unversify area larga 233 bedroon tais. Ons-stroe freo parking, laundry. Lanse sacurty deposit recurod. Nop pos! Available now.

Cat 446-5520 or 469.8757
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDO APARTMENTS Vrivate furnished SiUuio apartmenis Cormidioned. Laundry. Panking Uriversity Are Aptra.
475.5005.

Uyou need $x$ plase to fine now of in the nes futuro, Call MORGAN-ROBERTS AEAL ESTATE TO Chec Dest mamberunce service of the tif phe close in tully furnished accommodations of all sizes. Call Tim Engels at 446-8814 anyinne.

Houses
Large, batuma moms in a newty fomodatod mancon. Ot shoel parking launtry. I minnis wat mato sinuation dvailable $$ 200.5300$. 474-5791

PERSONALS

SAMMY. Frisboe Fimg 19st was urtorgetrable! Thanks for making in that much better Love. Your coathes

DELT. Tharks tor a great party wh quize a TWIST (art) Lats do again scan-Lova PI PHI STEVE HENDERSON of Lambda Cri, Luckily you hadrt screwed aryy of the jucoges over yeti congrautations on winning Mr. Flangl Lover your cosctes fictop and Serviter rm a triend of Glern Gis and krow he hus teen vacoreus in a mutrade of ferce lights.
To the Brainors of Sipma Pri Epsion- Tharins for a

CuSTOUE T-Shirts! Cuost Glasswara! AND Hofer for Lessy call Shm Lassar DFitice EHOVATIONS 1 -800-659-7746.

To te Brounce as Ajphe poi Onoge: We are psycrod in be a pert of your lamity and we fook forward to what the sempester folds tor us. Thatis fo af your time and seppon. Leve the perome vamen tor Chrothes parmes, formals. #ic Cal 15-463-1898
LAMBDA Chil Frime Flingers From nuthition of rour porch to firiging ans the fiekt thents for showing us an amazing lime at Muxtown 19917 Leve, Jomity and heby
To the Eratrors of Phi Psi- Thanks for purang us all was spins. Congratutaiors to your new placg

To the Erothers of Ps Uositen- Thatis for hetping Sisters and Pedges of Atcha Pri:
 Kappa Aphat Treta.

2ET. Saturdays svirae was cettainly swinging Thants toc a great treel Love PI PHL

Alant and Melissa. It thar's what in means to be arsumb indes you wayt tove the Sigma Kapoa pieciges ANGELA Have a Mappy 21 st bithclayt Faegan's. nish come tro? ho wizy you choose to make your Cove. Rooy.

Congratulatons to pur sesper Danaing Zommannan tor wrining Drestape Natorats, Young Rocops. Pevel 3. Love, The Sisters and Plengess al Alphax -
Karen and Karen-You have a groay howsa to gen fexc Iz. Tharks for leang ws stay- we had an wesome tenel Also- thanks to the serenading sersers low, Signa kappa prectes.

Phifyi. Whal a preal way to sten of the weokenc. We had a cracy trio- and she sto in stito was preat! The wisters and plecges of Thata.

SERVICES

Compluer Ouostions Sanvice. Tutoring Constuting. evenings bust $457-6187$ Marc.

Proate Drisng Leasers. Pick-LP servicu. Full and relrasher courses. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY $476-3595$
Typing For all your iyping neats- leners. $652-5814$

Word Proontaing Lisot razumat Typing. Fast
 ADOPTION
noopton-Chistian coupte have room in our hives Call Domit and Fichard colioct 914 -27t-fitr

Achor: Hispoly married whta couple warts so Tluzt to oivo you
Cut Joan and Jay coblece 914 - 828 .zsig.
MISC.
Ever meen an a Plane? tio to soe Syax
Auruma hom the ar? Cal Matc 4537581

Join CROP Walk on Sunday, October 20.
For additional Information. please call (315) 445-90s5

A CIP internship can let you try out a career, help you develop skills, give you the experience you need and let you earn credit at the same time!

CIP is now offering internships for SPRING SEMESTER in TV, law, marketing, finance, arts, government, public affairs, advertising, radio, medical $&$ health sciences, computer science, personnel, social services AND MORE!

If you don't want to wander around asking yourself, "To be, or not to be...," apply now for a Spring ' 92 CIP internship.

SPRING '92 APPLICATION DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 8

Community Internship Program 313 Humtington Hall (across from Sheraton Inn)

NAKED MAN

BY G. RJCO & M.C. SUAVE

|  |  |
| :---: | :---: |

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

SLONE

BY TWO JERKIES

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES
BY FAJITA PARTY

STRANGE AN UNUSUAL FRESHMAN
BY IAMES

FILLER STRIP
BY ME (ELAINE)

THE YOOTHA FILE
BY LOP LOP

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

LIFEDEATHCATDOG
BY REX

THE GRIM REAPER AT HOME.

PELLIGRA TRANSPORT CO. MOVING, STORAGE & PACKNG -Local & Long Distance - Plano & Office Moving Experts - Since 1934   Reasonable Rates & Courteous Service

   Reasonable Rates & Courteous Service}

Dar Dar gets warm

By MARC BAILES

Contributing Writer
Making the transition to college life is big for anyone. Freshmenare faced with tak. ing harder classes, meeting new people and living away from home.
For Syracuse University football player Kirby Dar Dar, the shir into college was a smooth one - with the help of some humor provided by his team mates.

When I came up as a freshman, former SU player) Kevin Greene started joking with me about the weather change up here," said Dar Dar, who hails from Tampa, Fla. "After a lot of talking. he actually convinced me that the water temperature outside doesn't change - it's outside doesn thange - its still about 85 degrees no.
He soon learned that this was the team's way of getting him to relax.
"I have a great time joking around with the guys now," Dar Dar said.

Dar Dar, a redshirt freshman, doesn't joke about the action he's seen so far this year.

SU spotlight

Against then No. 5 Florida. he ran back a kickoff return on a reverse play for a 95 -yard touchdown
"We rehearsed that play a number of times," Dar Dar said. "It was in the game plan, but I wasn't sure if we were going to run it. I didn't know until about ten minutes before the game.
"When I got the ball I thought nothing can stop me from getting in the end zone.

- Name: Kirby Dar Dar
- Height 5.11
-Weight: 180 pounds

- Age: 19

- Hometown: Tompa, Fla.
- Major: Pre-law
-Position: Running back

LEMOYNE MARKET  Your Party Headquarters  Corner of Salt Springs Rd. & Audubon Pkwy.  Open Sun.-Thurs. 9-12 Midnite. Fri & Sat. 9-2 AM

Lowest Prices in Town On Kegs
All Major Creaif caras

My, + SBigeraststatistics/stanifings

GAMES

Continued from Page 16
28-25 late in the third quarter. However, a Terrell Buckley 53yard interception return and an Errol McCorvey 77-yard fum ble return rallied FSU to a $39-28$ victory

Coach Frank Beamer said the Hokes should not dwell on last season's near-miss.
"What happened last year is last year," Bearer said. "If we think a lot about what happend last year, we could be in trouble. We have to concentrate on this year.'

Virginia Tech has not surrendared a fourth-quarter point this season, but will be hardpressed to stop a Seminoles offense that torched Syracuse for 642 total yards last week.
"You start watching tapes of these guys, and it makes you real nervous, real early in the week," Bearer said. "They're impressive."

Jersey Giants?

Don't look now, but the Rutgers Scarlet Knights are 4-1.

Sure, coach Doug Graber's team hasn't knocked off any top-25 teams, but it has surpassed its 1990 victory total of three and it won at Michigan State, 14-7.

The Scarlet Knights look to improve to $5-1$ after this week's contest with Division I-AA Maine, and build on their best Maine, and bul
"Somehow, someway, were just finding a way to win games in the fourth quarter," Grater said. "I'm real proud of our team's resiliency and their mentail toughness. That's the reason were 4-1 right now."

Quarterback Tom Thriver and receiver James Guarantano lead the Rutgers offense. Tarver has thrown for 190 yards per game while Guarantano has hauled in 5.2 catches per contest.

The Scarlet Knights' defense has been particularly stingy. Its 282 yards allowed per game ranks second in the Big East behind Miami.
With the Maines and Northwesterns behind and Pen State, Syracuse, West Virginia and Pittsburgh down the road, though, things will only get tougher for Rutgers.

Graber is quite aware of his team's situation and looks at his squad's performance realistspaly.
"We hoped we could be where we are at this point," Graber said. "Were not a great football team, but we do have a good amount of mental toughness."

〇 the color of love

A group for Interracial Couples

concerns and your curiosities and Together well explore the pleasures and pains of interracial love in the '90's.

Bring your partners, your Contact Dr. Kenneth V. Hardy at 443-3023 Presented by Marriage and Family Therapy Program

OFF with coupon

Must Have Coupon

Discover a remarkable blend of comfort and style in Birkenstock sandals, clogs and shoes.

$\mathrm{P}_{\text {ublic }}$ Relations $\mathrm{S}_{\text {lucent }} \mathrm{S}_{\text {society of }} \mathrm{A}_{\text {merica }}$  Presents  S.U.'s Director of Community Relations  Sieve Chifello

Thursday, October 10, 6:30 in the Newhouse I Lounge

Why do we have a 4-lane highway in front of the library? What is it like dealing with the neighbors of Syracuse?

What is community relations all about?
Come join us and find out?

Resumes from the last meeting are ready. Be sure to come pick them up!

Mid-Year Resident Adviser Positions (Spring 1992)

WE NEED YOU!

To find out more about the RA position AND to obtain an application, you must attend one of the following Information Sessions:

Tuesday, October 15 th wednesciny. October 16th Thursday. October 17h
7.00-8.00 PM Shine Student Center, Room 304B 7:00-8:00 PM Ladler MultiFunction Room 7:00-8.00 PM

Going abroad this Spring
Amend an Information session NOW, if you are Interested in a PALI 1992 position.

-     - POOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT 301 STEELEHALLAT 433637

Muslim $S$ rodents Association

Prisons
The Muslim Nation
and the
New World Order
$6 y$
Dr. Sulayman Nyang

Thursday Oct. $10 @$ 7:30 pm 111 Hall of Languages

Sports

Florida St. talks as well as it plays

I know I may be a little late in rehashing last weekend's Syracuse vs. Florida State debacle, but there were certain lasting impressions that were made, namely by the Seminoles, during SU's run at No. 1.

The first of which is that Florida State may be the single greatest atmosphere in which to witness a college football game in the nation

ZEV

 You can take the100,000 fans at BOROW Ann Arbor. the SPORTS ——magic rock at OPINION __ nitely the Carrier game and all), even the sweater-clad beauties at the Rose Bowl ... well I guess you can pretty much leave them lone.
But for my money I'Il take Doak Campbell Stadium filled to the brim with 60,519 fans in war paint doing the tomahawk chant, and screaming sear
That's intimidation and that is what college football is all about.
If that is not enough, Tallahassee also happens to be the home of what is quite simply the biggest. fastest, strongest, nastiest, most trash talkin'est, and all around bestest college football team in America.

Not only are the Seminoles the best tearn in college football this year, they may be the fastest collegiate team that has ever been assembled.
I'm not sure but I think that the Seminoles have second string offensive lineman that run track.
Maybe Coach Pasqualoni should have realized that short-side options don't work when facing a secondary that can be in the backfield at about is faking to the fullback.
FSU is also home to arguably the best quarterback in college football.
Casey Weldon went $22-35$, for 347 yards and three touchdowns last Sat urday versus the Orangemen. That's not a bad day ... for Joe Montana or Dan Marino.

As one who truly appreciates the subtleties of loud, in-your-face boast ing (especially in front of a national TV audience), I have got to hand it to the Seminoles, they have made it an art form
Florida State is a team that celebrates, vocally, preferably in front of cameraman, after nearly every play. FSU standout cornerback and returner Terrell Buckley is the brashest of Florida State's brash.
Buckley taunts his opponent and struts around the field with his arms raised on the sidelines, during timeouts.

This all should not take away from the fact that the Orangemen are a quality football team. SU is still probably one of the ten best teams in the country.

SU just ran up against a football chain saw ... with a mouth, that will most likely continue to chew up and wpit

7 Ticia

Question: Who was the last team to beat Florida State in Tallahassee?

Tomerdeyge minpwr While Rob Cuyette teyp h hes been eqports oditer for twoy and a hill yeatrs bo fonow tho correct anowet to yeaterdisinquas Hob then Fiorida State tailback Amp Lee, shown here against Syracuse University, and the top-ranked Seminoles play Virginia Tech this weekend. The Hokies and two other Big East teams will play highly ranked opponents this weekend.

East teams pulling rank

Miami, Pitt and Tech face major tests at midpoint

By MIKE BUSH

Sta/t Writer

Three Big East teams will take their midterms this weekend, as they close the first half of the 1991 college football season with their toughest challenges to date.
The University of Miami, the University of Pittsburgh and Virginia Tech all face top-10 opponents on Saturday in contests guaranteed to show the squads where they stand at the season's mid point.

The second-ranked Hurricanes host No. 9 Penn State (4-1) in their first merting since the Nittany Lions' 14-10 Fiesta Bowl victory in 1987. The win gave the Lions the National Championship. ship.

Both teams boast excellent offenses -Miami has averaged 36 points per game compared to Penn State's 35 - but the difference lies in the defense.

The Hurricanes' defense has been invincible this season, surrendering a sparse 26 points in their four victories. The starting unit has allowed only a single touchdown.
Linebacker Michael Barrow leads the 'Canes defense and was named Big East Defensive Player of the Week for his 12-tackle performance in Miami's 40-3 victory over Oklahoma State. Barrow

C

BY FRANCISCO RAMIREZ Jr

Contributing Writer
Syracuse University middle blocker Angie Casazza's first collegiate game was a step towards her two goals.
${ }^{1}$ am very goal-oriented and want to aid the team in winning the Big East plus helping them reach the NCAA championships," Casazza said.
The 6-foot-3 freshman from Roscoe, Ill., helped the Orangewomen to a quick start in their 3-1 win over the University of Alabama in the season opener. Casazza Tide.

After Casazza's explosive first game, however, her pace has slowed. Casamza has 74 blocks on the season, including

THIS.WEEK

also caused a fumble and recovered another.

Miami coach Dennis Erickson said this contest should be a true test for his this con
"As we make progress through the year, we don't know how good we are offensively until we face a team with a quality defense, such as Penn State," Erickson said. "Houston was supposed to be a test, but it wasn't."

The Pittsburgh Panthers, 5-0, will put their unblemished record on the line as they travel to South Bend to face No. 8 Notre Dame, 4-1.

Pitt coach Paul Hackett's squad has opened the season as if it were shot from a canmorn - winning its first five games and climbing to a No. 12 ranking.

However. the Fighting Irish pose a large challenge for the Panthers, who large challenge for the Panthers, who have won their last two contests by a have won their las otal of five points.
According to Hackett, the Panthers must stop the Irish's potent offense if they wish to remain unbeaten.
"Notre Dame is, without a doubt. one of the best teams in the nation," Hackett said. "The best way to slow their offense down is to keep them off the field. They're not a good offensive team, they're a great one."
great one. Offensive Player of the Week
Big East Alex Van Pelt quarterbacks a Panthers Alex Van Pe quarterbacks a Pan
"Quite frankly, we have a long, long, way to go from an offensive standpoint," Hackett said. "Our problem is that we can't score. We just can't put the ball in the endzone."

Van Pelt did his part in last week's 24-20 victory over Maryland, completing 27 -of-45 attempts for 353 yards and two touchdowns.
What better way is there to celebrate a hard-fought, $20-14$ conference victory over rival West Virginia last week than to face No. 1 Florida State in Orlando?
Virginia Tech, 2-3, has the dubious distinction of facing the Seminoles this week as it tries to stop coach Bobby Bowden's nearly unstoppable offense. Last season, the Hokies led the 'Noles
See GAMES Page 15 See GAMES Page 15

The人

SU policy aims to transform, not disband ROTC  By ALI BENNETT

Staff Writer
The United States Department of Defense policy concerning homosexuality has been a controversial issue at Syracuse University for years, but several university members agree that removing ROTC from campus is not the answer.
The Defense Department states, "Homosexuality is not compatible with military service.
SU policy states that all students have the right not to be discriminated against for reasons of sexual orientation

This conflict has led some groups such as the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Student Association to take a public stand against the Defense Department policy - calling for the ousting of SU's ROTC program.
"In my view, for SU to get out of ROTC would not be good for two reasons." said Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw. pointed to those students who would lose scholarships and to a possible lack of influence in scholarships and to a possible lack of infuence in
ROTC
"The DOD won't care if we pull out," Shaw said.
'Outdated and dysfunctional'
"DOD policy is clearly outdated and dysfunctional," Shaw said.
Writing to the Defense Department and lobbying would be more influential than pulling out of ROTC he said.

Asked about keeping ROTC regardless of present policy conflicts, Shaw said it was a "question of values." GLBSA co-President Charlie MeDonald calls the "When you have that kind of contradiction, nobody is safe," he said.
Last fall. GLBSA held a protest in front of Archbold Gymnasium, the building that houses SU's ROTC program offices. But McDonald said it was not very successful because of the location and poor publicity.

GLBSA has plans to continue its fight.
"I don't want to necessarily do this," McDonald said. "I have an obligation as a human being because this directly affects me."

He said not protesting is "kind of like betraying yourself."

The reasons for protesting, "are not to get ROTC kicked off of campus ... or to get gays and lesbians into the military, because they're already there," McDonald said.

Hemoglobin hero

Dave Lucas, a mechanical engineering major from Melrose, Mass., gives blood at the American Red Cross blood drive late Thursday afternoon. When asked if the needle hurt, Lucas said, "It was mot really the pain but the anticipation of it.,

Speakers address neglect of American Indian culture

By SHELLA DOUGHERTY
Staff Writer

White history excludes Native American history, according to Tom Sullivan, coordinator of the Native American Cultural Awareness Group.

Sullivan and Debra Glidden, a freelance writer and citizen of the Sovereign Abenaki Nation, spoke to approximately 40 people about American Indian history 40 people about American Indian history in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel in the Nob

Onondaga County refuses to recognize its American Indian originators, Sullivan said.
"Why are they afraid of us?" he asked. "Why doesn't (Syracuse University) have a Native American program? Why doesn't LeMoyne or COnondaga Community College)? What happened to us?"

The city of Syracuse and Onondaga County have agreed to declare Oct. 11 to 14 Native American Cultural Awareness Weekend instead of Columbus Day Weekend, Sullivan said.
Usually the city makes the week officinl by presenting the Native American Cultural Awareness Group with a plaque at City Hall, he said.
"We haven't heard from the city yet." he said. "So far we haven't heard anything.

American Indians do not receive the respect that Europeans receive, Sullivan said.
Respecting the world
"In the beginning when the creator made the world ... he said that each life form would respect the other life forms." he said.
"He created humans with the ability to use reason."

See Histork page A4

Inside

Classified

Comics
.A8
Editorial
.A7
News Extra
Prism
Sports
A16
Weather

Come out, come out wherever you are  Today is National Coming Out Day, for gay men, lesbians and bisexuals to express their sexuality. See the story inside Prism  B2

World

Protection wanted for foreigners in GermanyForeigners in Germany need help, a group of German citizens told their leaders at a rally in the city of Krefeld Wednesday. The rally, held outside the city hall, was organized in the wake of recent racist attacks on foreigners in Germany.

Six of the demonstrators werc invited inside for a hastily arranged meeting with city offrials.
At the meeting, the demonstrators said they and their friends were willing to spend mights with foreign families as long as the racial climate remained tense.

Yeltsin's republic

falls into disarray
Russia's economics minister quit Wednesday, hurting Boris Yeltsin's hopes to create a new economic community among the Soviet republics. The minister. Yevgeny Saburov, complained about continuing bouts of political infighting.

The resignation was announced on the eve of Mr. Yeltsin's expected return from a two-week vacation on the Black Sea. During that time, his republic's government has fallen into squabbling and disarray.

On Thesday the Interfax news agency reported the resignation of the deputy cabinet chairman, Environment Minister lgor Gavrilov, who saw his hopes for fast market reforms being sidetracked bast market reforr

Nation

Thomas Senate debate

 begins Act 2 todayClarence Thomas supporters pulled out all the stops yesterday on the eve of out all the stops yesterday on the eve of what promises to be a spectacular Senate What promises to be a spectacular Senate hearing. They are trying to deflect hearing. They are trying to deflect sexual harassment charges leveled by sexual harassment charges leveled by tenured law professor Anita Hill

Hill arrived in Washington yesterday to tell the senators how her former boss allegedly pestered her for dates and made sexually explicit comments after she rejected him.

Eut some other women who worked with Thomas said he is not capable of sexual harassment. They gathered on Capitol Hill yesterday for a press conference called by Thomas' friends and Senator John Danforth.

A wornan who used to work with Thomas said he would not tolerate harassment in the workplace.

President Bush reiterated his support for Thomas yesterday, saying he is behind his Supreme Court nominee 100 percent.

House probe follows

the bouncing checks

Six House ethics committee members Will form a subcommittee to investigate the chamber's bank and who abused the facility
Committee leaders said Wednesday there were no plans to hire outside legal or banking experts, or to go public or banking experts, or to go public anytime soon with names of member

State

Students expelled over

 sexual assault chargeThe three former lacrosse players acquitted of sexually assaulting a female student at St. John's University were student at St. Johns University expelled by the school Wednesday.

The university's president, the Rev. Donald J. Harrington, found that MatDonald J. Harrimgton, found that Matitz, 23; and Andrew; Draghi, 22, were itz, 23; and Andrew Draghi, 22, were guilty of conduct adversely affecting guilty of conduct adversely affecting their suitability as members of the their suitability as members of academic community of St. John's.

Student body reaction was mixed. "People wouldn't feel comfortable with them on campus, especially women," said John Cox, a junior frorn New Jersey.
Joseph Malerba, 18, and Anthony Rodriguez, 17, both of Brooklyn, called the expulsion "too harsh.

Prankster may fave

rabies from dead animal
Officals in Rockland County are searching for a prankster who put a dead woodchuck in a student's locker, for fear the prankster might have caught rabies. Israel Bordanink, the North Rockland High School principal. said the girl whose locker the animal was in did not touch it.

Dr. Marvin Thalenberg, the Rockland County Health commissioner, has asked the pranisster to call his affice and be tested for the disease. He said the person's name will be kept confidential and not turned aver to school officials.

University

Funding for clinic

secured by university

The Syracuse University School of Social Work played a key role in securing funding from the federal government for a one-stop health clinic for residents of Syracuse's southwest side, according to Claire S. Rudolph, a professor of social work.

Connty Health Department statistics show the clinic will be located in an area that registers high incidence of infant mortality, teenage pregnancy, and inadequate prenntal care.
"The clinic will provide easy access for patients because it will be located in the heart of the community" Rudolph said. 'It's a place where families can have all of their health care needs taken care of."

Press appoints new

editorial board members
Four new members have been appointed to three-year terms on the Editorial Committee of Syracuse University Press, according to Charles Backus, director of SU Press.

The four new members are: Joan Burstyn. professor of history and cultural foundations of education; Bruce P. Hare, professor and chairman of the African-American Studies department; DavidM. Rubin, dean of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications; and Karneshwar C. Wali, professor of physics.

SHANG HA) LUNGA BUHFET  8'Delicious Entrees Plus Soups  Monday - Saturday 11:30-3:00  Syracuse's Finest Chinese Dining with Bequiful Decor  Restaurant等  210 Genesee St. Foyettevilie  a block from Foyetlovilio waib $10-15 \mathrm{~m} / \mathrm{h}$ trom s.U.  Call Ahead For Take Out or Reservation

HNIVEDSTY UNON SDEAKEDS BOADD STUOUTT ARICN AMIDICN SOCIITY Ond THLH TORUM
presents
MATTY DICH

HCHLY NCCINMED 19 YHR OID FIMAKRD - WHO WDOE AND DIRLDTLD TME NEW MIT MONL "STRAIGHT OUT OF BROOKLYN"
WEDNPSDAY, OCTOBED 16, 1991 - 8.00 par MAXW DL AIDTOOMUM

WEATHER

Threatening

We'll have a threat of showers this morning giving way to partly sumny skies and highs in the mid to upper $\overline{50 s}$. Look for increasing cloudiness tonight with a 60 percent chance of showers developing. Lows will be between 40 and 45 as you prepare for the long weekena.

Saturday

The weekend should pick up a bit here in Syracuse by Saturday. Expect highs in the low 50s with a 60 percent chance of showers later in the evening.
Sunday
The National Weather Service expects October in Central New York to have lower than normal temperatures, but if Sunday is pect a typical fall day with partially sunny skies and temperatures in the 60s.

Temperatures across the country

Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washingtón, D.C.

Todny's ruest city: Millville. $\mathrm{N}_{4}$ )

The Daily Orange

The Duily Orenge is Syracuse University ${ }^{*}$ s independent atudent-run nownpaper publiehod Monday through Friday.

The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmentml Science and Foreatry campumes.

The editorn are availabla after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Nowe: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifewtyle: 463-2128
Sports: 443-2208
Businens/Advertising: 443-2314

"Good friends don't let good friends smoke cigarettes.'.

Cigarelles aren't good for your friends. Adopla friend who smokes and help em quit todgy. Youll both be glodtomorrow.
trameracan
Fancer Cancer

News Extra

New presidential candidates face battle

The list of Democratic presidential candidates now includes several prominent party hopefuls. Yet many political analysts continue to judge the Democrats' chance for success next year as

JOSEPH

BURTON

BELL

NEWS

ANALYSIS minimal.
Gwen

that generate votes

 While a discontented electorate should it has become for Democrats, Ifill notes it has become a source of frustration due dissatisfaction into votes that can be marshalled against Republicans.For example, a 1990 New York Times/ CBS poll found that homelessness was considered the nation's second most significant problem. By August the issue had all but dropped off the list.

Ifill suggested it was apparently considered unmanageable even by those who recognized the need to address the problem.
In 1988 , Democratic presidential hopeful Michael Dukakis advanced a universal health care plan, but his campaign will be best remembered by its failure to counter charges that he was soft on crime, weak on defense and inexpecrime, weak on defense rienced in foreign affairs.

Democratic agenda

Democratic candidates are still pressing a domestic agenda and Democratic campaign strategists are watching in dismay. Among them are David Sawyer who has said. "There are certain tests a prospective president must pass before he can seriously contest the election. whether a particular candidate is imar inable in the role of commander in chief."

William Galston, who served as issues director for former Vice President Walter Mondale, said, "Over the past 60 years every president has sent troops in harm's way. The people know that a president's power to get people killed is almost always his alone.
"Conversely, they know that no president is singly responsible for anything that happens domestically - good or bad. That's why foreign policy counts for so much.'

Stepping into this situation is Nebraska Senator Bob Kerrey. Announcing his candidacy in Lincoln, Neb.. Kerrey reached out to younger voters - a group that Democrats have been losing in recent years.

Looking toward the future
Kerrey said that unless changes are instituted now, the future will be a place "where stagnant incomes will force (parents) into more hours at work and less time with their children, where homeownership and college tuition and even adequate health care will be beyond the reach of all but the wealthiest."

Speaking of the current administration. the Nebraskan said, "They railed against taxes but raised them on the middle class. They called for civil rights but practiced racial politics. They wrapped their cause in motherhood but then worked to deny motherhood of choice and meaningful opportunities."
Kerrey, as a member of the Navy SEALs, was awarded the Medal of Honor for his service during the Vietnam War. While engaged in battle in March 1969, a grenade exploded at Kerrey's feet. Although he lost his right leg below the knee, he continued to direct his team's fire until they were able to escape.

Upon returning home Kerrey became an opponent of the war that he had previously supported. He is the fifth Medal of Honor holder to serve in the Senate. Kerrey was the govermor of Nebraska from 1983 to 1987 .

The Almanac of American Politics notes that "Kerrey's greatest crusade was against the Gulf War." Although he supported the initial deployment of troops to the Persian Gulf, he opposed military intervention. When the issue of whether or not to use force came to a vote last January, Kerrey was among the leading opponents of President Bush's policy.
See ANALYSIS Prige A6

Misery continues in war-torn Serbia, Croatia

By MARIE O'TOOLE  \section*{Staif Writer}

Borislav Markov lives in Novi Sad, a city in Northeastern Serbia, the largest of Yugoslavia's six republics.
Like most 18 -year-olds, Markov is concerned with trying to decide on a major, as well as passing his drivers' license test.

His future is also clouded by a distant and not fully understood shadow of violence.
"On the beginning of this school year, we have got five new students in the classroom. They are Serbian five new students in the classroom. They are Serbian refugees from Serbian ethnic territories," he said. refugees from serbian ethnic territories, he said
"They told us about terror and criminal (acts), that Croatian police armed civilian Croats against the Serbs. They escaped there to save their lives.
"Here in Serbia are about 100,000 refugees from Croatia, predominantly women and children. I don't know if you can imagine what is happening here ..."

Land of historic disputes

The land disputes between the two republics of Croatia and Serbia are nothing new.

What is now the decentralized country of Yugoslavia served as a battleground between the AustroHungarian and Ottoman empires for centuries. Slovenia and Croatia westernized, while Serbia belonged to the Turks.
It is still predominantly Eastern Orthodox and Muslim.

After World War I, the south Slavs forged a single state and were part of Austro-Hungary. During World War II, Croatia sided with the Nazis, and during the civil war a million lives were claimed on both sides.

The communists, who took over in 1945 , lumped all the six republics together and suppressed ethnic tensions until dictator Josip Broz Tito's death in 1980 , when civil disputes began to erupt again.

Now, in the wake of communism's collapse, Slovenia and Croatia want to secede from the union and take territories that still belong to Serbia with them.

Tito's gone now, and the weak central government can no longer hold an unwilling group of territories together as a nation.
"Croats fight against Serbian forces and the Federal Army, but not very successtully. They attack(ed) the German propaganda spread lies about Serbia, the army and the Serbs," Markov said.

"They called the whole Serbian nation terrorist, criminal... and so on. Is somebody who wants to protect his family, to defend his house, to save his freedom, a terrorist, on the threshold of his house?"

Ethnic fighters

Neighbors who have been friends for decades suddenly turned against each other following the uprising this summer. Analogous to the civil strife in Northern Ireland, the Yugoslav people identify themselves by ethnic background and see the other side as "the enemy.*
${ }^{4}$ This is not a war of Serbia and Croatia, this is a war of Croatia against their citizen Serbs. Serbs in Croatia have (made) a firm decision not to tolerate the terror and not to live in 'Independent State of Croatia, which killed 700,000 Serbs in concentration camps and other places in World War II," he wrote.

Antagonisms over land disputes and cultural differences that span centuries seem impossible in the United States. Being caught in the crossfire of such tension and hatred has become a nightmarish fact of life for the young people of Yugoslavia, who enter the military service at 18 .
"Serbs liberated a big part of their territories, or I because we are right. We have never attacked tany) country. but we always know how to defend our freedom, culture and honesty.

Of course, the Croats and Slovenes feel they are being oppressed by the ethnic majority of Serbia. The Serbians see secession as unwarranted hostility on the part of the other republics. Washington has avoided taking a stance on the issue.

To serve, or not to serve
"I think I will serve (in the) military service next July or September in (the) Yugoslav Federal Army. That's the strongest power here and it could break (the) Croats' army for a day, but the aim of the Federal Croats army for a day, but the aim of the Federal Army is not occupation, but it has to defend itself when Army is not occupation, but it it. is attacked," Markov said.
"I don't know what kind of information you can receive, but I have seen some reports of CNN and German TV which are only lies.
"They didn't respect some reporters and didn't give all sides a say. They only conveyed words and thinking explain what they think ... So, please don't believe all reports which you hear; especially if something is from Zagreb, (the capital of Croatia) be reserved. Propaganda can make more difficulties than 10,000 enemy soldiers."

Cease-fires declared by the European Community seemed like attempts to gloss over the clashes. The military floundered and failed to speak with a unified voice until the mixed signals from the Federal Army's generals increased speculation that the army itself didn't know what its next move would be.
"My friend, who attended primary school together with me, was buried yesterday. He was (a) soldier of Federal Army and was killed by Croats," Markov said. "They are fascists and criminals. They killed him wrote.

It was only a year ago that Markov's biggest patriotic concern was how well the national soccer team was playing

Parents of enlisted ranks on both sides of the conflict have demonstrated in the streets, demanding that their sons return home.

Slovenian Nada Mesaric, 45, who has a son in Macedonia near the Kosovo border, told Time magazine, "I don't think it's important to any of us whether Yugoslavia stays together."

ROTC

Continued from Page A1
About 40,000 to 50,000 serv. War were homosexual, he said. Most people either do not know about or do not believe this.

Two Army ROTC cadets expressed a feeling of being caught in the middle.
"The rules have been set up by civilians. Go to them, not us," sophomore ROTC cadet Chris Brown said.
"Pratesting here is not going to change DOD policy," sophonore cadet Kevin Connolly said. Connolly and Brown said the policy is outdated and should be changed, but had no clear alternative.

Brown said that a letter to the Defense Department without an altimatum would be ineffective, but he does not want to threater the existence of ROTC on campus.

Shaw said an ultimatum of removing ROTC from SU was not given because "you shouldn't ay it if you don't mean it."
Connolly said Defense De partment acceptance of homosexuality will lead to widespread acceptance.

TMR

Continued from Page At
"Why should I trust a system which hides statistics and doesn't investigate over 60 percent of the cases. and docs not take action on half of those that are founded?" she asked.

The only way to foster this trust is the formation of a civilian review board, she said. The board would be able to look

HISTORY

Continued from Page Al

Humans were also created with the task of caring for the earth. Sullivan said.

Their job was to look after their mother, the earth, "he said. "Native Americans across the Americas really feel that it's our duty to care for the earth."

White men were apt to forget their duty of caring for the earth, he said.

He cited environmental destrua of Onondaga Lake and James at the whole problem, not just at the whole problem, not just certain facts presented by the police, and would be able to
The board would be made up of civilians and civilian investigators separate from the police department. These investigators would have to be paid a salury comparable to any city official at the same level, she said.
"Aneffective board must have Buy as an example of white men's destruction.
"Onondaga Lake is to us what Jerusalem is to Jews." he said. "Look what they've done to our church."
Sullivan said one of his group's goals is to bring about awareness of the American glorification of Columbus Day.
"Think about why Columbus came here" he said. "The queen promised him 10 percent of any riches he found, governorship over the lands he found; they rasons he came
The legacy of Columbus is the power to issue subpoenas the power to issue subpoenas and conduct full investigations and conduct full investigations against complaints," Waldauer said. "It should also hold power aver the chief of police in extreme cases in determining disiplinary actions."
"Until the people have the ability to conduct investigations on reports of police misconduct. a review board is necossary, Waldaver said.
"Without one, someone will still prevalentin America today. angering American Indians, Sul. livan said.

Cold, God, gowernment
Gold. silver and spices - he came for natural resources," he said. "(Europeans) haven't stopped coming after natural respurces."

Glidden said the religion and values Columbus stood for defines American government to-day-

Government has no regard for the culture of the American Indians, who were the original be standing here 30 years from now saying we need a civilian review board," she said.
The SPD and the Onondaga County Sherif were asked to have someone speak on their behalf, but both departments declined.

TMR is a wecikly gathering of local civic leaders. Although it is not open to the public, it is broadcast weekly.

inhabitants of the conlinent

 Glididen said."Think about our government it's mold and God." she said. "It's even on our money 'In God We Trust.

Sullivan said he heard reports predicting American Indian protests of Columbus Day.
"They hear that the Indians want to pour blood or red paint on a statue of Christopher CO lumbus," he said.
"They say, How can you Indians be so violent?" he said. "Violence? Pouring paint on a rock is violence? Look it what

Finally, going to college can save you some money.

Bet you never thought you'd hear that. But just by being a student, you can get special prices on IBM PS/2"s computers that will help you through school, and long after you get out. IBM offers a variety of PS/2 Selected Academic Solution* models to choose from. And with an IBM PS/2 Loan for Learning, you can own one for as little as $$ 30$ a month and take up to five years to pay. Buy now and you'll get a special Bonus Pack ${ }^{+}$ worth over $$ 1,000$ in savings on air travel, phone calls, software and more. So while the price of college keeps going up, at least the price of succeeding is on its way down. Visit your campus outlet to find out how to make a PS/2 click for you.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

[^17]

WSYT Chanmel 68 will begin broadcasting previous TMR sessions.

Thursday's program will be ained November 10 at midnight. WSY'T's broadcast schedule for the four previous programs is: Syracuse Mayor Tom Young Oct. 13 . New York Secretary of State Gail S Shaffer Oct 20 . Dr. Leo Jivolf. Oct. 27: and Professor Goodwin Cooke. Nov, they did to Onondaga Lake.
that's violence.
Sullivan blames Columbus legacy for American Indians: high suicide and alcoholism rates.
"Therets a reason for the high suicide rate among our teenagers, there's a reason for the high alcoholism it all has to do with the Columbus lesracy," he said.
"The Columbus cargo that is Jeft behind is theft of the indigeJeft behind is theft of the indigenous people," he soid. The speech was sponsored by the Office of the Dean of Mendricks Chapel and the Interdisciplinary Mul ticultural Interest Group.

Editorial

You can't trust this  We may be going to hell in a

handbasket, but at least they're enjoying the ride.

While the rest of the United States scrimps and saves in this time of recession, Congress spends as carelessly as Syracuse University students who still get hefty allowances.

It seems the rules of modern economic life do not apply to congressmen.

They get free meals, chauffeur service and the right to bounce checks and grant themselves interest.free loans.

A recent General Accounting Office statement reported that the 435 House members collectively bounced more than 8,000 checks in one year. For them, there are no repercussions. For us, a bounced check translates into a $$ 15$ penalty. Congress also owes more than $$ 300,000$ to area restaurants.

But it does not stop here. Members of Congress also get free use of exclusive area health clubs and free

SU propaganda

The following is an open letter to parents of prospective students.

Dear Morn and Dad,
Read this letter carefully. It may save your child's life.

Today is a "Fall Friday," a day when the university shows itself off to people thinking of attending Syracuse University. Much of of attending Syracuse University. Much of what you will hear on your tour is propaganda. What you will hear on your tour is propaganda.
What they will tell you is not the real story. ERIC Sye real truth is that STANGEL VIEW MASTER Syracuse University is an unsafe institution with a good public relations degood public relations department. I urge you to investigate as you walk around this carmpus to help you understand the kind of orld you would be exposing your children to. The SU campus is located in a dangerous rea. 'They won't tell you that on the candyarea. They won't tell you that on the candy-coated tour. They won't tell you about the number of rapes that occur on campus every year. The statistics could one day include your daughter or son. They won't mention that there were shots fired outside of Brewster/ Boland Halls (predominantly freshmen dorms) on Friday.

That didn't even make it into the school newspaper.

Your child could be living there next year.
The guide will tell you with a smile about doctor's services and prescriptions.
They generously give something back to constituents: we get tax raises. The blatant abuse of power exhibited by Congress in the past should have made current conditions predictable. We all remember when Capitol Hill shook with anger in 1989 when it caught Congress trying to slide a 51 percent wage increase into law without even voting on it.

Everybody knows this type of activity goes on. But until they have the proof, they would rather forget about it. Statistics are the evil reality that lets us know how poorly managed our government is.

The corruption of Congress, considered the last bastion of governmental liberalism in the country, just goes to show you can't trust Democrats any more than you can trust Republicans, because they're all part of the human cesspool called politics.

diverts attention

but won't mention it took a long time for SU security to answer a call from two women who said they were being sexually assaulted less than a block away from security headquarters. They won't tell you about the lack of security at South Campus, where cars are routinely broken into.
Theuniversity-ownedapartments there don't have decent locks on the doors or strong door frames. Last year, one security officer told me that they expect a few apartments to be burglarized every break. The best advice they gave me was to take everything home with me to avoid having it stolen.
That's no solution.
Security is sitting back and letting things happen, and then coming in to fill out the forms. They don't seem to be doing anything to protect the students.
How do they get away with it? Well, the only way you can get your South Campus SUTiment key is to sign a document making SU innocent of negligence.
Well, Mom and Dad, it's time SU security stops saying "it's not my fault" and starts doing its job. Before that happens, SU remains unsafe. No exceptions.
My plea to you, parents, is to ask the guides tough questions. If you want to avoid the propaganda that you will find on the tour, ask regular students what they think. The students will tell you the real story. That is the only real story there is.

LEITERS

Think before going greek at SU

To the editor:
"Help, help, In being repressed."... Monty Python There are many things that areinherently potentially good in the greek system that even I, as a non-greek, am aware of. In being in a sorority or a fraternity, one is immersed in a group of people who already have two things in common. They belleve in the greek system and choose the same house. There is. I am told, a feeling of companionship and all of the wonderful things that come with having friends.

Also, because they are in an environment that is an environment that is potentially conducive to Emotional and intellectual healthy way. It is conducive to the aforementioned because there is a large number of people around to cavort and discuss things with. Let's not forget the potentially impressive amount of support that comes only with having friends. Friendship is a necessary part of life.
But so is freedom. The reason I mention freedom is that it has been exid that a situation that is so conducive wall the aforermentioned goods car, for the same reason. be condutive to great evils if and when one's entire social support group is wholly located in a group like that. Who would be willing to risk their entire circle of friends to challenge what the group as a whole is doing?
Suppose that an entire benefit for the homeless and every brother but one believes completely in this endeavor. If this one believes vehemently that the homeless are such out of laziness and for no other of laziness and for no other reason and also believes that if he expresses this view he will be ostracized from all his will be ostracized from all his friends, I don't belleve he is friends, I don't believe he is completely free to voice his complete

I think we are all completely aware of the atrocities groups are capable of, much more so than any one person. So, for this reason, I think that a fraternity or sorority can be so detrimental to free thinkers.

Some may say it does not mean that one can't be a free thinker just because they can't or won't woice their opinions to their group. It is difficuit for people, I believe, to act one way and think another. When this happens. people aren't usually happy.
But.

But further, I believe that one should never have friends that won't accept the views one holds. I don't believe that is how s true friend ought to act. So if this group is truly friends with the one holding the contrary views then one would never be ostracized for such a thing as voiciny one's opinions. But we all know that is not always the case in such groups because of cases like gang rape because of cases like gang rape where the brothers or sisters Where the brothers or sisters would ostracize the person who would ostracize the person who would spenk out against their would spenk out against thei wn house.
Needless to say, other concerns have been brought up about the greek system at Su but this ibelieve to be the greatest evil inherent in the system. All I want is for prospective rushers to think before putting themselves in that situation.

Eric Cullen
Class of 1994

LETTERS

Unnecessary lows  o the editor:

Random House defines "adjunct" as something added to another thing but not essentially a part of it. Tom Meyers, an adjunct professor, obviously does not live his life obviously does not live his life to extremes.

The Promethean editorial in the Oct. 4 issue of The Daify Orange was, in my eyes, a light-hearted philosophical piece, not some sort of drivel Mr. Meyers put it. Mr. Meyers is simply intimidated by the editorial's views. It is not the reputation of the DO and Syracuse University students that has reached new lows, but that of adjunct professors at SU. SU.

Jim Kane
Class of 1992

Insults kill content

To the editor
Was Eric Stangel aware that he blasted the Syracuse newspapers for insulting our intelligence as readers in th Oct. 3 isssue of The Daily Orange, just pages away from a photo spread of a grave digeter at the Pet Haven Cemeterv?

Of greater interest was the detail ineluded in the text explaining the technical points of digging graves. And Eric wants me to buy the The Post-Standard for a good laugh.

Is this type of journalism acceptable simply because it is not on the front page? I can't imagine many students spend four years at SU so they can graduate to digging graves. Is Eric sure only the Syracuse newspapers run irrelevant stories?

By the way. Eric, local papers center on local news because that's what sells. If and international news. pick and a Wall Street Journalor
The New York Times.
Sari Zucker
Alumna, Class of 1990

The Daily Orange

Esrablished in 1903, Independent Since 1971

|  | dixor in Chief fanaging Elitor | Jodi Lamazna Erin Neff |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| News Elitar Elitoxial Ediror Lifescrice Elitor | Roy S. Gurterman | As | s |
|  | Kristin lict | Asst Eft |  |
|  | athew I. Palm | Asac. Lifestyle |  |
| Spunte Elitum | Kent Fisc | Asst. Lifesryle Editor |  |
|  | Cupy Edisor Gix | Aste Spors Ediror | * |
| Pronhactiow MXr.Phoso Editer | Mizte Satute | Asse. Sports Editor | - Buscema |
|  | John T. Acerti | Asst. Design Editor |  |
| Deakn Enditor | S. Orrar Ali | Ass. Are Director | Robers A. Sanith |
| Art Directop Amt. News Elitor Ass. News Eliftor | Seeve Elis | Ass. Copy Elitor | Jennifer R Hale |
|  | Mufit Brounceu | Asst. Proluction Ms | Mary fo Kuse |
|  | , Krimina Savarwei | A | $n$ L. Moreton |
| Aser. Photo Elitor Toril G. Sarro |  |  |  |
| The owity Orange in pablished weekdays during the Syracuse University acadernic Year by The Diily Orange Conporstion. 744 Ostrom Ave.. 5 yracuse. NY 11210. triophome: Editorimal 443-2127: Business 443-2314. All coments Coovright O1991 b Ifue Duify Orme Comporution and may not be reptinted without the expressed wriment permitsion of the Editor in Crief. |  |  |  |

$\mathfrak{R}_{\text {aya }} R \mathcal{S}_{\text {cot }}$ TOaxed Conto \& Gacketo Waxed cotton makes $10-25 \%$ OFRy them waterproof \&
hury-suppliea wre limitedr breathable. Unisex fit and styling. Choose from alen Green or Balmoral Blue: tartan lining.
Et Gerverese st.
G85-000B

RG]

MID - YEAR (Spring 1992) POSITIONS For Resident Advisers

Tuesdary, Ontober 15, 7:00-8:00 PMSchine Student Ceufer, Room 306BWednesday, October 16, 7.00 $\cdot 8: 00 \mathrm{PM}$Sadler Mrulti-Function RopmThursian. Octaber 17, 7:00 - 8:00 PMHaser Prethowse

Attend one of these three Information Sessions
Going abroad this Spring?
Attend an Information Sestion NOW, if you are interested in a FALL 1992 poxition.

APPLICATIONS ARE ONLY AVAILABEE AT THE INFORMATION SESSIONS!

[^18]
Women urged to speak out

By HEATHER WIGHTMAN
Contributing Writer
Two women authors spoke out on speaking out at the Women's Studies Program Annual Fall Reception.

About 20 students and staff attended the program in the Killian Room of the Hall of Languages Tuesday for the announcement of the 1991 nouncement of the 1991
Women's Studies paper contest Wornen's Studies paper contest and the reading of a paper on empowerment through speaking out
Most of the program was devoted to the reading of "On the Tactic of Speaking Out as a Survivor." The paper was written by Linda Alcoff. assistant professor of philosophy and adviser to Students Concerned About Rape EDucation; and Laura Gray, a graduate student in the English and Textual Studies department.

The reading was followed by a discussion where faculty and students contributed their ideas and concerns about the content and concern of the paper.
"On the Tactic of Speaking On the Tactic of Speaking Out as Survivor" deals with Out as a Survivor deals with the issue of speech as empowerment for victims of sexual vio-

ANALYSIS

Continued from Page A3
His prediction of numerous American casualties proved unfounded and in the aftermath of the war he and other critics became the focus of Republican attacks.

Harkin becomes candidate
Sen. Tom Harkin of Iowa has also declared himself a candidate for the Dernocratic nomination.

Like Kerrey, Harkin supported sending troops to the Gulf but opposed taking offensive action against Iraq. He was the only Senator to join 57 members of the House in filing a suit against President Bush to prevent him from using force without congressional approval.
Announcing his candidacy last month in Winterset. Iowa, last month in Winterset, lowa, Harkin delivered the message Harkin delivered the message that America must direct its that America must direct its resources inward and address
lence and its contradictory effects, Alcoff said.

The paper also condernns the media's treatment of sexual violence as a commodity, claiming that the media use survivors of sexual violence as a performance spectacle for shock, eroticism and audience voyeurism, she said.

The purpose of the paper is to prove how women can speak out as survivors of sexual violence in order to achieve empowerment and healing. Alcoff said.
erment and healing, Alcoffsaid. Alcoff and Gray said rape and incest victims are not the only incest victims are not the only ones wh ing out.
The paper stressed that male victims of rape and victims of rape by a boyfriend or husband can not only benefit from speak ing out but that society's beliefs about these types of sexua violence can be changed.

One focus of the paper is the confusion between confessing and speaking out about sexua violence.

The paper states that it is imperative to speak out but not to let a mediator or objective expert dominate and further expert dominate and

Alcoff and Gray said they are problems such as a failing educational system and infrastrucure.
The second-term senator said, "If you believe like I do that Europe is rich enough and strong enough and powerful enough to defend itself if it wants to, and we can take some of your wealth and invest it in America - and build better roads and better highways ... and have better health care - then you take your ballot and you put it in the Harkin box."

Harkin, a former Navy jet pilot, proudly speaks of his humble roots. His father was a coal miner who received an eighth-grade education and his mother was an immigrant with no formal education.

Possible platforms
The Almanac of American Politics notes that the 51-yearold senator advances his posi-preparing their paper with plans for publication.

Winners of the 1991 Women's Studies paper contest were also announced during the program

Prizes were awarded in un dergraduate and graduate cate gories with an honorable men gorien being awarded for the first time this year. time this year.

The winner of the under graduate Marguerite Fisher paper prize was Melissa House for per prize was Melissa House for her paper entitled, "A Woman's redibility."
Undergraduate Honorable Mention went to Wendy Elizabeth Kaplan for her paper entitled, "What about the Pill? Two Quite Different Stories. ${ }^{\text {© }}$

The graduate Toni Taverone award was presented to Kristen Anderson-Bricker for her paper. "SNCC: The Unfinished Revolution.

Graduate honorable mention was Roxanne Wheeler for her paper "Politics of Domination and Self-Possession: Mary Prince's Slave Narrative and the Cultural Logic of the Enlightenment."

The papers were written in the spring semester of last year and reviewed and judged over the summer.
tions in "tones that suggest others are greedy and hardhearted ... but he seems to harbor genuine feelings of empathy for the poor that may stem from his childiood - a more common phenomenon in politicians half a century ago than today.'

The Times has suggested that Harkin's main threat may come from Kerrey who could make the Iowa caveus difficult for him.

Kerrey and Harkin's voting records on certain key issues are identical. Both voted in favor of: the Civil Rights Act of 1990 . cutting NATO forces, raising the minimutr wage, cutting aid to El Salvador and providing extra coverage for people who have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of unemployment beneits. Both senators voted against theamendment that would have made it illegal to burn the American flag

Attention all designers...

The Daily Orange is now accepting letters of intent for the position of

Assistant Design Editor

Letters of intent are due to Jodi Lamagna, 744
Ostrom Ave., by 3 p.m. Friday Oct. 11

TheDaily Orange

PRISIV

Festival-in-a-film takes over theater until Thursday

By ROB OWEN
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
When most people think of animation, they probably think of Tom and Jerry. Mickey and Minnie or Bugs Bunny and Elmer Fudd.

But animation is an art form with quite a cult following, and animation buffs will be flocking to the Westcott Cinema this weekend for The British Animation Invasion.
Included in the 110 -minute presentation are commercials, short films and the 1990 Acad. emy Award-winning best animated short film, Creature Corrforts.
Aardman Animations was responsible for Creature Comforts and numerous other animated films included in The British Animation Invasion. Aardman makes use of stop-motion model animation, also called claymaon.
Creature Comforts features 200 animals speaking of their ife in captivity in this spoof of ature documentaries.
"Sometimes you can't get out See INVASION Page 64

GLBSA breaks silence with coming out day

P  Plays showcase drama department's diversity

By IOSEPH KISSEL

Staff Writer
On National Coming Out Day, gay men, lesbians and bisexuals gay men, encouraged to tell someone are ent their sexual orientation, about their sexual orientation, according to Charlie MeDonald. according to Charlie McDonald. co-president of the Gay, Lesbian. Bisexual Student Associabian. Bisexual Student Association.
"It's a day to raise awareness "It's a day to raise awareness of the existence of gays. lesbians of the existence of gays. lesbians and bisexuals," MeDonald said.
The goal of National Coming
Out Day today is "to let people Out Day, today, is "to let people know that we exist - to break the silence," McDonald said.

Many people are unaware of how many gay men and lesbians are around them,
MacDonald said. "Coming Out MacDonald said. "Coming Out
Day breaks through the myth that gay men, lesbians and bisexuals are only strange people who live in San Francisco or New York and not in small towns and everywhere across the United States." McDonald said.
"A lot of heterosexuals think that the definition of homosexuality is sleeping with someone of the same sex," said GLBSA co-president Pat Chang. "This definition oversimplifies and pigeonholes who we are, making it easier to ridicule, legislate and bash us out of existence. National Coming Out Day helps prevent this by showing the world who we really are: your friends. professors. parents and children.'
Accepting yourself
National Corning Out Day is a way gays, lesbians and bisexuals can come to terms with themselves, MeDonald said. "Coming out" can break the myth that if gay men, lesbians, or bisexuals admit that they are homosexual, "the whole world will come crashing down," said MeDnnald.
Before McDonald came out three years ago he believed that he would face much hatred and opposition because he was gay, but instead he has received support and has had mostly positive encounters.
"The only negative encountersl'veexperienced," McDonald said, "occurred with people who didn't know me as a person."
"Coming out can involve more than just telling friends," said Bill Taroli, GLBSA treasurer. "Quite often, coming out to one's parents can be a tremendously liberating experience.

The GLBSA has planned several events on Coming Out Day, including a concert featuring singer Jamie Anderson in The Underground at 7:30 p.m. There will be a dance after the concert.
"The evening would be a great time to meet other students who Mare gay, lesbian or bisexual, MacDonald said.

Unique singer plays Underground tonight as part of day's celebration events

By JOSEPH KISSEL.

Slaff Writer
Jamie Anderson describes her music as "folk, country and blues with a heavy dose of humor" - although she'd really rather not put a label on it.

Anderson, who has been performing for the past 10 years and touring nationally for the last four, will bring her unique brand of music to The Underground on Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Anderson began her career as a musician while in the Girl Scouts, Birging campfire songs and learning to play the guitar from her father, who was a countrywesterm singer. It was a seemingly unlikely start for the singer/songwriter who would perform her own songs about lesbian, political and social issues.

But it was not until after high school, when Anderson realized she was lesbian, that her current style of music began to take shape. She began to write her own material, which was deeply influenced by feminism. "I can't. sing a song that says something like 'Im nothing without you." Anderson said.

As part of National Coming Out Day, singer/tongwriter Jamie Anderson will perform her combination of folk, blues and other styles of music tonight at The Underground.

But on Anderson's album Closer to Horne she includes a tongue-in-cheek song titled "Nothing," because her love songs "were too affirming. I would never get radio airplay."
Can't pretend to be straight While Anderson's songs do get some airplay on alternative and college radio stations, to get one played on mainstream radio she would have to "pretend to be a straight girl, which many fernale performers do, but I"m not very good at that:"
Anderson plans to have a new album out in the spring, but needa to raise $$ 30,000$ before it can be made.

Andermon's coneert, not coincidentally, falls on National Coming Our Day. It is a day for gay men and lesbians to celebrate their identity. She celebrate their identity. She thinks that National Coming Out Day is "a great idea because it makes gay men because it makes gay men and lesbians more visible, She said all gay men and lesbians shonild come out.
But Andergon feels that the tactic of outing, the pablic disclosure of a person's homosexuality, is wrong. "Coming out is a personal choice," Anderson said.

Anderson's unique sense of humor is demonstrated to the fullest Jyrical extent in the fullest fyrical extent in "Straight Girl Blues;" which has recently been updated to has recently been updeted to include the charneters CiJ. (Amanda Donohoe) and Abby (Michele Greene) from L.A. Law.

What Anderson wants most is for people to laugh and be entertained by her music. Ste says: "Lakughing is the best thing you can do. ${ }^{4}$

By ERIC GRODE
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Each year, the Syracuse University Drama Department produces a children's play and tours local elementary schools.
In the past, the plays have included such "fun" works as The Adventures or Narnia and Alphabet Soup, primarily aimed at children.

This year's production, however, takes a differentapproach. I never saw another butterfy. a look at children in World War II concentration camps, takes a dificult subject, the Holocaust, and makes it accessible to youths as well as adults, according to cast mermber Amy Donnellan. "The finale definitely inspires hope, and that's the message of the show," Donnellan said.
"We want to show these children that while cruel and terrible things can, and do. happen. people have the strength to people !
survive.

I never saw another butterfly is based on the poems and is based on the poems and at the Terezin concentration camp.
The play, which is set in the period from 1942 to 1944, has been adapted and directed by SU adjunct professor Louis Gold. berg, who also wrote original music for the poems.

Poems describe characters
According to Donnellan, the vocal passages make up nearly half of the play. Each of the poems, she said, says something about one of the characters.

The five performers, all members of the SU drama department, studied the Holocaust before going to the schools.

In addition to watching sevsion documentaries at the Holocaust. the actors wrote biographies of their characters.

The play is performed between two and four times a week for two months, and it changes constantly. Donnellan
The play changes completely," said Donnellan. "All audiences are different, and that's especially true with children."
While acting for children is different, Donnellan said, it does have its advantages.
"To me. it's much more rewarding, ultimately," she said. "It's more like you're giving them a method directly."

Just say different
Just Say NoI, the opening production for After Ours, promises to be as different from $I$ never saw another butterfly as humanly possible.
The play, written by Larry Kramer (The Normal Heart), takes a satirical look at the Reagan/Bush administration, with a particular emphasis on Honza (Jay Soroko) holds out hope of a brighter future to Raja (Amy Donnellan) in the Syracuse University Drama Department's production of I never saw another butterfly. their policy concerning the ADDS crisis.

While Just Say No! is very funny, it takes on some serious issues, according to stage manager Indira Makraki.
"Satire is usually bitter about something," Makraki said.

The hero ... of the play is homosexual, and many of his characters have died of ADS as a result of the politicians' indifference."
The playwright is represented by Eustacia (Winnie Evans), a See Drama Page b3

"A CREATIVE

 CARTOON COLLECTION."
管 PRUSN movies

Pfeiffer, Pacino excel in 'Frankie & Johnny'

Romantic without being sentimental, heartfelt without becoming irritating, the new romantic comedy Frankie $&$ Johnny is a charming portrait of the rigors of love.

Michelle Pfeiffer stars as

ROB

OWEN

MOVIE REVIEW thirtysomething woman who works at the in New York City. Frankie has been through several destructive relationships that have left her wary of romantic entanglements.
Al Pacino portrays Johnny, an ex-con who was jailed for an attempted forgery. Johnny wants his life to return to the way it used to be: wife, two kids and suburban bliss. But Johnny sets his sights on Frankie, who does not see her future including Johnny

The greatest factor these two characters have in common is that they are both alone. While Frankie feigns contentedness with the companionship of her with the companionship of her
VCR and gay neighbor Tim VCR and gay neighbor Tim (Nathan Lane), Johnny wants (Nathan Lane), someone to love.

This realistic portrayal of an attempted relationship is set in the fast-paced restaurant where Frankie is a waitress and Johnny works as a short-order cook. In this setting, the secondary characters come alive and add levity to this often serious film.
Director changes direction
"I've got two boyfriends, but I'm looking for Mr. Right," Cora (Kate Nelligan), another waitress looking for love tells Frankie. Both Cora and Frankic tease their elderly co-worker Nedda (Jane Morris) about her knowledge of sex. "I watch Dr Ruth." Nedda replies.
Ruth, Nedda replies.
One of the most surprising One of the most surprising aspects of Frankie & Johnny is aspects of Frankie of Johnny is that it was directed by Garry that it was directed by Garry Marshall, who also made happy Marshall, who also made happy whore homage Pretty Woman. whore homage Pretty Woman. rence MeNally, upon whose play this film is based, created real characters, not just caricatures.

Frankie's gay neighbor Tim is one of the most surprising developments in the movie. Marshall and McNally aren't afraid to depict Tim's relationship with his boyfriend. and they don't make jokes out of these characters. Rather. Tim is the jokester.
Michelle Pfeiffer deserves an Oscar nomination for her role Oscar nomination for her role as the outwardly tough but as the outwardly tough
"Why is it anytime a woman doesn't want to get involved in a relationship, men think they were messed with as kids? Frankie asks. "Wrong, they were messed with as women."

Acting:
Pfeiffer does an excellent job of conveying all the conflicting emotions Frankie feels. While this role was originated on stage by Kathy Bates (Misery), Pfeiffer does not look overly glamorous as some have speculated She definitely dresses down for the role, and while her beauty shines through, it's an earth beauty, not drop dead beautiful Al Pacino may also be up for a few awards for his performa few awards for his perform ance as the sensitive Johnny Pacino's believable portrayal o the smitten lover is the perfect complement to Pfeiffer.
"I love you, but I'm so scared you're gonna retreat back to that place you're so comfortable with that no one can reach you, Johnny tells Frankie in one of the film's most emotional scenes.

The only disappointment in Frankie & Johnny is that Marshall and McNally don't spend more time developing Hector Elizondo's character. Nick, the owner of the Apollo. An under rated actor who brought to lif rated actor who brought to life shall's Pretty Woman, Elizondo shall's Pretty deserves better

Nevertheless, Frankie & Johnny is a delightful look into the lives of two complex characters who were immortalized in the classic song "Frankie & Johnny." As Johnny says, "We were a couple before we met."
"Frankie & Johnny" opens today at area theaters.

Michelle Pfeiffer and Al Pacino star in Frankie & Johnny, the funny and tender story of a short-order cook and a waitress who meet at a New York City diner and begin an unlikely courtship. The film opens Friday.

Now mlaying

Dut cammipiss

Boyz $\mathrm{N}^{\text {the }}$ Hood Fiversity Union GifordA uditnrium:: Tand $9: 30$ p.m. Fri. and Sat.

His Girl Friday
University
Uniont
Lniversity Chion 'Watson A uátorium)

A Shot in the Dark -
University Union (Wintion A uditorivm: 7 and 9 p.m. Tues.
Tatic Damiche -
Oniversity Unions OHLeun Auditoriumt: 7 and 9:30 p.m. Wed. and Thurs.

Off camimiss:

Barton Fink -ineme Eant 3 and 9:30 p.m. daily: matinees at 2 and 4:30 p.m. Sat. and Sun.
The British Animntion Invasion Weritcott: $7: 15$ and $9: 30$ p.m. daily
The Commitments-
Carousel Center: 9.45 p.m. daily.
Dead Agrin -
Carvuste/ Centery 12:50, 3:20. 6:30 and 9 p.m. daily: late nhow at $11: 10$ p.m. Fri nd Sat.

Deceived -
Curouset
Curousel Center: $\mathrm{t}: 40,4: 40,8$ and $10: 20$ p.m. daily: late shown at $12: 15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$ Fayettevilhe matinees at $1: 45,3: 45$ and $5: 45$ p.m. Sat through Mon.

Ernest Scaned Seupid -
Caroumit Certer: 1:30, 3:40, 6:10, 8:10 late show nt 12:20 Shoppingtown Mall: 7:15 and 9:15, om. daily: matinees at $1: 15$. 3:15 and 5:15 Sat. and Sutr.

The Fisher King -
Caroused Center: 12:45, 4. 6:50 and 9:50 p.m. daily.
Shoppingtown Malf: 7 and $9: 45$ p.m. dnily; matinees at $1: 30$ and 4:15 p.m
Sat and Sun.

Frankic & Johnny -
Cnroumel Center: 1, 3:30, 6:40 and 9:20 p.m. daty; late shows at $11: 30$ p.m. Fri Shoppingtown Mfulf: 7:20 and 9:50 p.m. daily; matinces at 2 and 4:30 p.m Sist. and Sun
Freddy's Dead: The Final
Camousel Centere 7:40 und 10:10 p.m daily: late show at $11: 55$ p.m. Fri. and sat.

Necessary Roughness
Carouse/ Centeri $1: 15,4: 15,7$ and $9: 30$ p.m. daily: late show at $11: 35$ p.m. Fri and Sat.
Fayctevilte Mall: 7:15 and 9:20 p.m daily: matinees at $t, 3: 05$ and 5:10 p.m Sat. through Mon.
foy Dalmatians -
Hollyword: 5:30 daily: matinees at 1 2:35 and 4:05 p.m. Fri. through Mon.
ing in at about three hours, it remains to be seen how many people will attend Just Say No! which begins after the Syracuse Stage production, Makraki said. But she is confident that people will come to Just Say people will come to Just Say No! and levels."
"Some people will be shocked, others will be amused and most people will think about it afterwards.'
For performance times, consult The Guide on Page B4.

Paradise-
Carouse/ Center: 1:10, 4:10, 7:10 and 9:so p.m. daily; late show at 11:50 p.m. Fri. und Sat.
Fayerteville Mall: 7 and 9:30 p.m datily; matiness at 2 nnd $4: 30$ p.m. Sat
chrough Mon chrough Mon

Ricochet -

Carousel Center: 1:20. 4:20. 7:20 and 10 p.m. daily: Inte show tit midnight Fri and Sat.
Favetteville Mafl: 9:50 p.m. duty Mntin
Mon.

Robin Hood: Prince of Thievers-
Hollywood: 7 and 9:30 p.m. daily.

Shattered -

Carousel Center: 2:10, 4:50, 7:50 and 10:15 p.m. daily: late show Sat. and Sun. 12:05 A.m.
Fayotev
Faywtevilhe Moll: 7:40 and 9:40 p.mn. p.m. Sat. through Mon.

Shout -
Carousel Center: 1:45, 4:30. 7:30 p.m. Sun.

Shoppingtown Mfall: 7 and 9 p.m.dnily: Shmpingtown Mafl: 7 and 9 p.m. daily Mon.

Carousel Comteriz 2 and $4: 45$ p.m. daily.
Favetreville Mall: 7:20 daily. matine at $1: 20 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sat. through Mon.

The Super -
Camousel Center: t:50, 3:50, 6:20, 8:20 and 10:40 p.m. daily: late shows 12:25 a.m. Sat. and Sun.
Favetteville Mall

Fatetteville Maff: 8 and 10 p.m. daily: Ion.

UUTV Program Guide

| Week of Oct. 13-18 |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | 7:30 | 8:00 | 8:30 | 9:00 | 9:30 | 10:00 | 10:30 |
| Sunday | NO PROGRAMMING BECAUSE OF FALL BREAK |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Monday |  | NOPROGRAMMING BECAUSE OF FALL BREAK |  |  |  |  |  |
| Tuesday |  | Top Ton U.SA. |  | Brakhouts | NC-17 | Campus 7 News | UUTVs Weakly Specia. |
| Wednesday |  | The Rhythen |  | Uncle Bobo's. Wartd of Fun | Breakouts | Campus 7 Nawn | UUTV要 Weakly Spacial |
| Thursday | Sun Up is shown Hive at 7am. | sun Up (rabroadeast) |  | Nul $&$ Void | Syracuse Live! | Campuen 7 Nowz | UUTVE Weokly Spocial |
| Friday | $\therefore$ - | Too Ton U.S.A | Syracuse Live! | To Tha Gracave |  | Campus 7 Nows | UUTVS Weakly Special |

NYPIRG

The New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. (NYPIRG) is New York State's largest student-directed organization. Based on 17 college campuses, NYPIRG promotes affordable higher education, consumer and environmental protection and good government. NYPIRG offers students the opportunity to work with a staff of lawyers, reseachers and organizers to learn how to develop citizenship skills and shape public policy.

REFUNDS

A $$ 6.00$ refund is available to all activity fee-paying students who do not wish to suppor NYPIRG. Refunds will be offered October 4-17.

Drop off refund requests at the following locations: Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel Moon Library  NYPIRG Office, Shine Student Center

GUIDE

MUSIC:

-FOLK SINGER: Jamie Anderson, folk singer, will perform in The Underground of the Schine Student Center. The program, sponsored by the GLBSA, will take place at 7 tonight.

AMERICAN TNDIAN MU SIC:JoanneShenandoah. AmeriSIC:JoanneShenandoah. American Indian singer and songwriter, will perform at the May writer, will perform at the May 3800 E. Genesee St., at 8 3800 E. tonight.

EVERYBODY DANCE NOW: Peter McCoppin directs the Syracuse Symphony Orchestra in a concert which is part of the Pops Series. Tickets for the concert, titled "Dance the Night Away," vary from $$ 10.50$ to $$ 30$. The concert will be at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center's Crouse-Hinds Theater tonight and Saturday.
UNFORGETTABLE: Natalie Cole, whose current album, Unforgettable, is in the Top 10 , wi/l perform at the Landmark Theatre at 8 p.m. Sandmark
*COFFEEHOUSE: The Coffeehouse features music and entertainment performed by students in the Faculty Center. between Bird Library and Watson Hall. The Coffeehouse is open from 8 p.m, to midnight Sunday.

太EXPAND YOUR UNIVERSE: The Society for New

Music presents the Clinton String Quartet and saxophone player Jamie Rossi at its "Music for an Expanding Universe" concert. General tickets are $$ 10$; student tickets are $7. The concert will be at Crouse College Anditorium at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

EX-EAGLE: Former Eagle Don Henley will perform at the Onondaga County War Memorial. Part of the proceeds from ticket sales benefits the Isis ticket sales benefits the Isis Fund/Walden Woods Project. Henley also has recorded three Henley also has recorded three solo albums. Tickets are on sale at all Ticketmaster outlets and can be ordered by calling 1-800-$382-080$. Henley's concert be gins at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

SPEAKERS:

*SELF-DEFENSE: Elaine Cleeton, minister, Syracuse University doctora! candidate and graduate of the Fight-Back selfgraduate of the Fight-Back self-defense training program, will defense training program, will peak this weekend on self defense. "Armed & Dangerous A Common Sense to Women's Self Defense" will take place in Room 130. Schine Student Center, at noon today.
*JUSTICE FOR MRNORITIES: Arthur O. Eve, New York State assemblyman, I41st Dis trict, will speak on "Justice for Minorities in New York State' in the Shernin Auditorium, Shaf fer Art Building. The speech will be from noon to $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ Saturday.

THEATER:

*AFTER OURS: Just Say No! beging After Ours' season in the Sutton Pavilion, Syracuse Stage complex. Just Say No!, described as "a play about a farce," takes a critical look at the Reagan/Bush administration. The play begins at 11 p.m. tonight. 11:30 p.m. on Saturday and 10:30 p.m. on Sunday, and admission is $$ 4$. The play will run ongoing until Oct. 20 .
*IMPOTENCE: The Country Wife concerns a man who feigns impotence to gain access to local women in this ribald comedy appearing at Syracuse Stage. For more ticket information, call 443-3275. The production, call $443-3275$. The production is ongoing through Oct. tion 20.
*BUTIERFLY: The SU Drama Department production of I never saw another butterfly will give a special performance for all ages in the Experimental Theater, Syracuse Stage complex. The poignant World War II Holocaust drama will be performed at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Monday.

MURDER AND MAYHEM: A bloodthirsty musical from Stephen Sondheim. Sweeney Todd is now playing at the Salt City Center for the Performing Arts. For more information, call 474-1 122 . The production is ongoing through Oct. 20.

THE MAN, THE MYTH, THE LEGEND: Producer, composer, actor George M. Cohan is the subject of the musical George $M$, which is being staged at the Civic Center. For more information, call 435-2121. Performances continue tonight through Sunday.

BETTE \& BOO: Christopher Durang's award-winning black comedy The Marriage of Bette $\mathcal{E}$ Boo plays at the Contemporary Theater of Syracuse, Hutchings Theatre, E. Genesee St., this weekend. Friday and Saturday performances are 8 p.m. and Sunday shows are at 2 p.m. Tickets are $\$ 15$. The weekend's first production takes place tonight.

EVENTS:

*TEA: Alpha Kappa Alpha will hold a tea in Room 304C, $12: 30$ to $6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sunday HORSEBACK RIDES: Guided hour-long horseback rides are available in Highland Forest. Fabius, on a first-come/ Forest, Fabius, on a first-come/first-serve basis. There is a $\$ 10$ first-serve basis. There is a $\$ 10$ fee. For more information and fee. For more information and directions, call 683-5550. The rides are offered Saturday and rides are Sunday.

HAYRIDES: In Highland Park. Fabius, public hayrides Park. Fabius, public hayrides are offered between noon and 5 p.m. for $$ 3$ a person. For more information and directions, call 683-5550. The hayrides take place Saturday and Sunday.

TIME TO MIGRATE: Go on a Migration Walk at the Beaver Lake Nature Center, located west of Baldwinsville. For more information and directions, call 638-2519. The Migration Walks will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

* GLBSA SOCIAL: The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Student Association will hold a VCR movie day. For location, call the GLBSA at 443-3599. Free drinks and snaciss will be served and donations are requested. Movies will be shown at 1,3 and 5 p.m. on Saturday.
* GLBSA DISCUSSION The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Student Association will hold a "Family Reunion" discussion. For location information call 443-3599. The group will meet from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Guide is published each week in The Daily Orange's Prism magazine.

To have a campus event fisted in The Guide, submit the information to the University Events Office or call the office at 443 4240. Campus events are de noted by a star.

INVASION

Continued from Page B1
and about as much as you'd like," says a British-accented chimp, complaining about his life behind bars. "You get bored and fed up with looking at the same four walis."

Cartoons as a way of life
Terry Thoren produced The British Animation Invasion and serves as president of Expanded Entertainment, the company distributing the film. "This kind of film is our reason for being." Thoren said. "The British Animation Invasion is a collection of films that have received little or no exposure in this country and they really deserve to be seen."

Thoren describes London as "a hotbed of animation activity." a hotbed of animation activity."
"The work this film spot"The work this film spotstyle evolving," Thorensaid. "Unlike so much work being done around the world, animation has an adult sensibility and combines many diverse styles to create a fusion that is unique in the world."

Another segment in The British Animation Invasion features William Shakespeare auditioning for all of his plays before a dozing producer in Next. This short is also an Aardman production.

Ian Andrew is responsible for Dolphins, a film now being used by Greenpeace. This lyrical view of the dolphin world is animated in watercolors and depicts the ocean creatiores at play.

Peter Gabriel's music video Sledgehammer is included in The British Animation InvaThe British Animation Invasion. The video took more than sion. The video took more than 100 hours to shoot and won nine 100 hours to shoot and won nine awards at the 1987 MTV Videc awards at the 1987 MTV Videc Music Awards. Music Awards.

Body BeautifuJ focuses on Beryl, an overweight worker for a Japanese electronics firm in England. Much to the displeasure of her male-chauvinist boss. Beryl makes an effort to lose Beryight in time to perform the weight in time to perform the can-can

The British Animation Invasion will play at the Westcott sion will play at the Westcott Cinema through next Thurs day. Showtimes are 2, 5, 7:15 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and 7:15 and 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.
All tickets are $5. For more information, call $479-9911$.

FEVER

BY KATIE KITCHEN

L.IFE AS A POPSICLE

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

SLONE

BY TWO JERKIES

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES
BY FAJITA PARTY

GYPSY THE DOG

BY JASON LYCETTE

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

GOTTA HAVE FAITH
BY ARNOLD
Isert it strange how in Awgust you would have donejust about ancithing to get awny from home, and nowin Octokerf about arcithing to get awny from home, and nowlo Qutotyer.
youlli arceptatide fromive about ancione togo back?

NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOWS

AMAZANE BOOBS

at the BIGTOP Lounge

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

what to avoid in health and safety inspection!

ART'S EDUCATION BY HOBBIT GOD

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DALLY ORANGE CLASSIFED A PFOCEDURE: $$ 2.50$ for the first 15 words 10e for dech additional worm se exira for eath Bold word, 5 E extra for oach CAPTTALDED word DEADLNEE 2pm, 2 business day in advance

Notices

Happy Hour, Every Friday 4-8om, Zont Mixe
Drints $$ 1202$ Dratts $$ 195$ Orange Grove 50 Drinks. 3-1202 Dratts $$ 1.95$. Orange Grove. 505

FOR SALE

Misc. For Sale

Salo-hrsidef on Sat, Ott 12 in Collecibles, antip ques & wood dressors. Od jowely, old dolls comics. Sale open at $10 a n$; ends at 4 pm . No Eaty Arrivals Please. 422.6459. 1205 Lancaste Ave.(upstairs).

EMPLOYMENT

JuniorSerior Business or Communication major Juniofted to work on training manual project. Mus have Hetintosh Computitr and knowlecige of Word Procassing or Page Layoul. Need assistance inmediatty S5 00 Mrr . Cal Personal Success Sysrems 682 -5584.
Enterpising Inctividuals Meededt Tercitic opporturity to parm e leave message

We noed you il you thave strong computer skill Weing Mac. Call TREG $425-5600$ goday.

Sal's Birolland Restaurants Unimersify location has COOK position avalable. Compelitive waga. Cortace 47t-5200 for more lite.
Campus reps nomded. Earn salary plus commission. Call TREG, $425-5600$ today. EO.E.

WANTED

Help Wanted

Know Betore You Go." where to work. Ive and ski Troe in Colorato's nesonts. Current Guide to Aspen. $788-6174$.

> FREE SPAING BREAK TRIPS to students or student organizations promoting ou Spring Break Packages. Call CMI 1-800-423-5264.

Oualfied applicarts for MD-YEAR RESIDENT AD VISOR pesitions. Irflommation Sessions: Tuosday, October ${ }^{\text {45th. 7-8 }}$ PM in the Sthine Studen
Cenmer. Room 3048: Wednesclay, Oetober TEth, 7 3 PM in the Sactier Muthi-Function Room; October 17th, 7.8 PM in the Haven Fenthouse. For more intormavor, call 443-3637.

Eann $$ 2500$. Free Tips Seling Spring Break Pack ages To Bahamas, Maxico. Lamaca, Hanca 1

SPRAMG BREAK REPS Earn up to 930001 Bocome part of a toam and sell the best sping bratk trips on carnpus. Eam FREE TRIPS and Unimitad CASHES. CaA towl TAKE A BREAK

(800)328-SAVE (Bosion)

Roommates

Grad Studern seeking same or rasponsible person Grad Sudern seeking same or rasporstan 471 -8514 belora Sam
Great Tipp Hill 4bedroam Housa- fully turnished. sele neighborhood, across from park, 15 min. trom campus. cti-streot paikirg. laundry and more.
$$ 275 .+1 / 3$. Grads cal Brian 487 - 8091 of 471 . 11 to.
One or Two people warted to share a 3 bedroor !umished apartmeru one block from campus. Pan ing tiaundry Just radecorate $$ 250$ tea No Fets $446-9598$.

FOR RENT

Apartments

GAAD STUDENTS WANIED: Studio apt. 2 bedroom apartments. Allutities included. Socured buibing. Laundry room. No pets. Comer of Com stock \& Madson. 635-5322. $635-3537 / \mathrm{veres}$ Dewrr- near, nice furnished great 1 bedroorn aparment. Parkug. all utilites incluciod Grad apartmern. Parkitg. all troiknes incluciad Grad mate neaded-wak hospital SU $\$ 240$.f month ail unilities, fumished included 478-2542.
2-Bedroom lower flat, Euclid near Westcant. screened porct $$ 540.682-8823$.
t.2.3.4 bedroom aparmertis, roommate strazions. T.2.3.4 bedroom aparmeras, roommala sumwirs.
OHI street parking. Laundry, clean, large, toasonable. $474-6797$.

FOA RENT: 3 BEDROOM APARTMENT Westcoll Sreet Iurished, wasker and dyror. pakkine Call

FALL 8 SPAING accepting Senior 8 Graduale mala 8 ferrille students to tail zoveral 4 bctm apartmerts, 1 indivual ok Rates: Basic tumished At are iocated nem to E.S.F. campus on Oakland and Sandart Sxs. Those soarmens ane in an ax. callern $x$ block watring locanion and are nicaly fur. ishod wih bocs, dosks, dressers and Ifingroom UYAIIARJE TODAYY ONES TWO BEDROOM AVARTMENTS. Kithen, Fvingroom, bathroom bodroom(s). parking laundry, ulifises inckeded Standan SL excellont E.S.F. 3 Bedroom, cipan $$ 650$ per mordh 637-134.

2-5 Bedroont Aot Euelind and Ackarman Ave. Parking. Laurxty. Fumished, 24ke. mainkenarice. Janse and Springe2 options. Got an Earty start on your housing meeds call 446-2209.
PATVATE FUFNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS Very elose. Secure. Quiet. Carpeted. Ai Very close. Sacure. Quliet. Carpeted. Air Apts.
it you need a place io call MORGAN ROBEFTS REAL ESTATE to chect cal MORGAN-ROBERTS REAL ESTATE to ched out our large setection Remember, we have the ully-fumishad atcommedations of all sizes. Call Tam Engets at 445-8814 anytime.

Houses

Large, beautifud rooms in a newly remodele mansion. Of-streat pakking laundry. 8 rimure wak to canples. $\mathbf{5 3 0 0}$ - 5325 . ncl. Also desirable roam mate struation availabla $\mathbf{5 2 0 0}-5000.474-6791$.

PERSONALS

KAREN & KAREN- Thatis's for banding your house over to our widd and crazy platiges. The relgeal woukdnt have taken off without yout Sigma Love. Your Sissers.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY MAGGIE HARRISON IN KKC Deke Fingers: Not bad for tha firs time! What a blasil whe over started that Tigla atyway? You guys are amazing. Chicks dig it! Love your coachos; Anne. Jossien and Tina
CuSTOM: T-Shirs! Cups! Glasswaral AND Hoftel For Less Cal Shawn Lesser DYUUNC andovalk

Altas. Upstave New York's \#1 Eand (9proce). is $315-463-189 \mathrm{~A}$.
Sigma Chi- Hey, what can wo say? Tharka for making Frisbee Fing a smashing success. Love your coachas Liz and Racheel Rookk, the HOT RA Congrats on being selectod Slud of the wook"! A true Trojan Man, vorive made us proud Ama and Moose.

KDR, from K-starnds to mud slides to Craig's hove KDR, from K-starcts to mud sides to Crag's hove team EVEF. Saturday was a BLASTI Love, your AX Coaches. Sam and Chnistine. P.S. Frisbee? What Frisbee?
CFB: What a weekend! Let's watch some mare TV... tor abour hatl an hour. Outstanding! You'ra realy speciall AKW

SERVICES

Typing For all your tying naeds lethers

 manuscrpts, alsentations exc cals Auth- lethers. $652-5814$Word Processing, Leser ragumes. Typing. Fast turnaround COMPUTEFS 8 COPIES, Marshall S. above Acropolis. $426-0930$.

Typing resumos, theses, papers, word processing speciabize in medical technical, scientic. Fast reasonable, $458-0694$.

ADOPTION

Adoption- Christan couple have room in our tives for a whine infan. Legal/Medical expenses paic. Cal Donara and Fictard coliect 914-271-6377.

ADOPTION CAN BE THE ANSWER FOR YOU, IT IS THE ANSWER FOR US. WE ARE A HAPPILY MARRIED COUPLE WTHOUT A CHED TO FULFILL OUR DREANS. PLEASE DONT BE AFRAD TO GNE US A CHANCE IN TEUING YOUS WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU AND YOUR SPECIAL WHITE NEW BORN. PLEASE CALL SUNNY AND GLENN. LEGAL AND CONFIDENTIAL 1-800-359-7495

Adopt- Happily married white coupla warts so much to give your baby the best of everything in uar living harne.
Call joan and Jay collect 914-626-3919.

SU storms into Seton Hall

By Zev Borow

Staff Writer
The Syracuse University volleyball team hits the road for two Big East matches this weekend, and if things go as planned the Orangewomen should resemble an elite military unit primed to strike.
In the words of coach Dan Schulte, SU would like to, "get in, get down and dirty and hit them hard, and get out."

If Schulte sounds a bit like General Schwarzkopf it is because his Orangewomen will be entering a very hostile environment.
Seton Hall University hosts SU on Friday and then the Orangewomen move on to the University of Connecticut for a bout with the Huskies on Saturday.
"It is always tough to play on the road," Schulte said. "Especially in Seton Hall. They get a big loud crowd in a pretty small gym. It is really a snake pit."

The Orangewomen have to block out the distractions of playing on the road and come away from the weekend still undefeated in the Big East if they are to maintain their No. 2 ranking in the East.
"Seton Hall may be the most improved team in the conference." Schulte said. "Even though I feel we have better talent and more experience than Seton Hall, they are a team that could give people trouble."

Junior outside hitter Debbie Bennet agreed that SU's road trip would not be easy.
*Any time you a play a Big East team on their home court you know it will be tough." Bennet said.

Short may help in long run

By MArt SimO  Staif Writer

The national qualifying meets may be a month away, but the Syracuse University crosscountry teams will get a taste of the course this weekend at the Paul Short Invitational.

The Paul Short Invitational will be held at Lehigh University, the site of the 1991 IC4A and EC4A Championships to be held on November 16.
"A lot of teams will be there in anticipation of the (IC4A and EC4A) meets," Syracuse cross country coach Dick Coleman said. "Everyone wants to see what it's going to be like. It's a challenging, great course. We want to see what our people are in terms of time

Coleman wants his runners

PIRATES

Continued from Page A16
fell prey to a 347-yard performance by FSU's Casey Weldon. is looking to improve amidst another tough challenge, Joseph said.
-We've just got to play a little better pass defense than we've been doing in the past." Joseph said. "We can't worry about how many yards he's thrown for or how many yards yot thrown against us and play ball."

Unlike the Pirate offense which has continued to run up yardage, the SU offense has sputtered.

Syracuse has scored 14 points in the last six quarters of play to work on their times more than a strong team finish.
(Our goal) is not to be worried about the team, but how they run the course," Coleman said. "We want to familiarize ourselves with the course and see how we might prepare (for the IC4A's and EC4A's)."

Last year, the Orangewomen took ninth overall, not running a very strong race according to Coleman.

The men's squad did not compete in the Paui Short Invitational last year.

The number of teams competing is uncertain, but last year there were 31 men's teams and 37 women's teams in what Coleman called "an off-year.

Coleman said he expects approximately 40 teams to compete for both men and women this year. Those expected to cornpete include defending national champion Villanova Uni versity and Georgetown University.
"There will be a lot of teams from the Big East. I'm sure, Coleman said. "There are so many unknowns. We don't have any idea until it's declared Saturday."
One might think that the Paul Short Invitational could be a preview of the Big East be a preview of the Big East Championships on October 26, but Coleman thinks it is hardly comparable in terms of size.
"(The Paul Short Invitational) is about three times the size, Coleman said. "They"ll have to learn to run as a huge group with a lot of banging and bumping. It's a big learning experi ence to run in this type of meet with seven points coming on a kickoff return.
"We're just going to have to be more consistent," center John Reagan said. -We just need to correct our mistakes. I don't think it's going to take any extraordinary effort. It's just going to take us going out there and doing what we know how to do and concentrating and getting it done."

Richardson said if Syracuse hopes to get back on track offensively, it needs to get back to its main offensive strategy.
"I guess we have a tendency to try too hard and make things happen in one play and it doesn't work." Richardson said. "We've just got to stick to our offense and chip away, chip away and get the ball-in the end zone.

The East Carolina defense is allowing 440 yards in total offense, including 276 yards passing.

The Pirates' defense has continued to make changes in their defensive front due to injuries on the line and their secondary is young and inexperienced.
"They have some very excellent players (in the secondary)." Pasqualoni said. "We are impressed with their physical skills. (They are) getting better on each weekend they play together and get a better feel for each other.

'Tis the Season for Advertising in The Daikyorange Holiday Shoppers Issue November 21

Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be 2.00 pm on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!

SPORTS BRIEFS

Sinh Reports
The Syracuse University men's basketball team will be conducting open walk-on tryouts on Tuesday, Oct. 15 at $9: 15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. at Manley Field House.

Participants must be fulltime students at SU and must supply their own sneakers and clothing.

For more information contact Josh Osborne by calling 4432082.

Big East/ACC tickets on sale

Tickets for the SU-Florida State game on Dec. 3 in the Atlanta Omni are on sale now. The tickets are $$ 25$ and include admission for the Georgia Tech-Villanova game at 9 p.m. SU students can purchase one SU ticket for $$ 10$ by showing their SUTD card.
Tickets can be ordered from the Orange Pack office at Manley Field House. The deadline is Oct. 31.

Tien

Tien & Tan
Chinese Restaurant 701 S.Crouse Ave. (comer of Adams St.)
Above Convenient

Tan

We have Super Chinese Food! AT UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

FREE DELIVERY•SU CAMPUS

CAROUSEL CENTERCNEMAN2 466-5678
EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!

* INDCOA PARKING & SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING - PLUSH SEATES TO CHOOSE FROA 12 DOLEY STEREO

ERNEST PG Fresk FRANKIE & JOHNNY $A$
 SHATTERED R

DECEIVED PG13 FFS-SAT 1;AQ, $4 ; 4 a 8: 00$ PG13 12 HE FISH:
THE FISHER KING R FFAEMT 12:45, 4:00, $8=50,9: 50$
$\operatorname{sum} 12045,4=00,850,9: 50$
DEAD AGAIN R

WJPZ Radio is taking letters of intent for the following position

PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR

Letters should be submitted to Kelly Sutton by 5p.m., Tuesday, October 15, 1991

WJPZ

Watson Theater Complex 316 Waverly Ave.

WJPZ is an equal opportunity employer.

Orange jump downstate

SU faces fatigue in city that never sleeps

Hy jeff ELBAUM
Shaff Writer
The Syracuse University soccer team is facing a large stumbling block this weekend fatigue.

The Orangemen, 6-4, 2-2 in the Big East, travel to New York City to face Adelphi, 5-3-1, on Friday, and St. John's. 7-1-2, 3-0-1, on Sunday.

SU coach Dean Foti said the weekend road games present a tough challenge for the Orangemen.
"We have a good chance to take advantage of an opportu-" nity against two good teams," Foti said. "I'm not fired up that we have them back to back on we have them back. If you're worn from the doy before, you're less likely to have things go well for you. Syracuse lost to Adelphi in the Carrier Dome last year by a 3-1 margin.
Foti said Adelphi should be strong again this year.
"Their record isn't great, but they're a good team." Foti said "They have players we have to make a note of and pay special attention to."
This season Adelphi returns five starters from last year's squad, including leading seorers Tamir Daniel with 2 goals and 3 assists, and Greg Martin with 2 goals and 1 assist.

Adelphi's goalie Chris Lowe has a 1.07 goals against average and four shutouts.
St. John's faces Syracuse riding a nine game unbeaten streak. They have not lost since their season opener against

North Carolina-Charlotte.
The Redmen are led by Robert DeLuca, who has 7 goals and 2 assists. SU will also have to watch the playmaking abilities of midfielder Frank Sendra, who has only 1 goal but 7 assists.

Foti said the Orangemen won't put any more emphasis on St. John's, even though they're in the Big East.

We have to go after each game," Foti said. "We need to do what we have to do to win the first one, then regroup. put the pieces back together and do what we have to do to win the second.
"The only thing that would have me rest someone against Adelphi is if we get a big lead. im not preparing for that. however."

Syracuse University leading scorer Pani Young, ahown here in action last week, will lead the Orangemen this weekend as they face Adelphi University and St. John's University.

MIAMI

Continued from Page A16
"They are going to be tough," Bentzel said. "Eut we realize we have nothing to lose. We are not psyched out by them."

Dwire said the Hurricanes will not be the only team to challenge the Orange. He said Boston College and Providence will also be tough.

For the first time in six years, the Orangewomen defeated the defending Big East champion Eaglea, 6-3 in the ITCA Regional qualifiers is at Yale University. was mentally prepared to play them," Dwire said. "It was a great win because everyone played well.
"But, we can't count them or

Providence out becauge they are tough in the tournament. (BC) is not the five-time Big East defending champions for noth. defending champions for noth* Dwire gaid Providence fas the same team returning from the year before.
it is going to be a close toumament where anything can happen," Dwire sajd. "It is gohappen," Dwire said. "It is go ing to be a four team race."

A lot of campus rapes start here.

 Hy, Mind
$t$

Orangemen remain atop columnist＇s list

By DAVE MAGER

Top Ten reasons Syracuse University lost to Florida State： 10．Intimidated by fine line of FSU alumni like Burt Rey－ nolds． 9．Seminoles perfect in sames when they miss an extra point． 8．Raucous party held by DO and FM88 staffers on roof of team Holiday Inn． tearn Holiday Inn． 7．H
ity．
ity．Couldn＇t help but laugh at Henry Ostazewski＇s name． 5．Uparet that team favorite＂Fast Times at Ridgemont High＂not on Spectravision night before game．
4．Preoccupied with Rob Guyette＇s departure as DO sports editor
3．Lulled by subliminal mes－ sages included in FSU＂war sages
2．Disappointed that Keith Jackson，not Gary Bender，called Jackson，not Gary B the action on ABC．
1．Joe Montana is playing this 1．Joe Montana is playing this year．．．and he＇s w for Florida State．
for Florida State． （－12）
So，Syracuse was torn，strewn and mutilated on the turf of Doak Campbell last weekend． Florida St．also tore Michigan apart，so last Saturday is no reason to give up．This should be a banner year for SU．

Expect the Orange to peel themselves off the ground in a themselves off the ground in a big way tomorrow．East Caro－ big way tomorrow．East Caro－ lina is a perfect opponent com－ ing off a big loss－not too tough，but not too easy．The Pirates are 4－1 but haven＇t beaten a major Leam．QB Jefr Blake has impressive numbers （14 TD，I INT），but could take a pounding against a Syracuse ${ }^{\prime} D^{\prime}$ that was frustrated last week．
No trick plays on Saturday

The race for the case

－just a sound thrashing to get Alabarna ．．．it will be hard－ SU back on track．Syracuse 45， East Carolina 17.
Temple $(+13)$ at West Vir－ ginia
West Virginia is a Big East enigma－one of the reasons there are so many holes on the there are so many holes on the wall around the Dartboard．Last wall around the Dartboard．Last week，the Mountaineers，3－2， week，the Mountaincers， $3-2$ ， were shocked at home by Vir－ were shock
The worst point about West Virginia last week？Starting QB Darren Studstill，with a solid 3－for 18 passing perform－ ance for 30 yards．The position has been a problem all year for Don Nehlen．
Temple， $1-4$ ，shocked Penn St．last week and should be able to stay close to the Mounties．．． then again，I＇ve been wrong then again， 1 ve been wrong about West Virginia 24 ，Temple 20. West Virginia 24，Temple 20.
Tennessee at Florida（ $-41 / 2$ ）
Finally，the season is at the point when we get great games like this every week．The Gators have struggled to their $4-1$ mark －but their troubles have come mainly on the road．Florida at home is a different story．The defense clamps down like it did in the earlier whitewashing of pressed to do it again against Tennessee．

The Vols，4－0，took last week off and will try to roll up the offensive numbers as they al－ ways seem to do．The Andy Kelly－Carl Pickens combo should be ready to go，but look for Shane Matthews and Co．to win a shootout at Florida Field． Florida 42，Ternessee 35.
Pitt（ +4 1／2）at Notre Dame
The Panthers＇Paul Hackett， much maligned before the sea－ son，is the Dartboard Coach of the Year so far．Even with his team in disartay as the season started．Hackett has been able to bring the troops together for a 5 － 0 start．He＇s formed a receiv－ ing crew and a rushing game out of nothing，and has allowed QB Alex Van Pelt to do his thing．

Notre Dame．4－1，avenged its loss to Stanford last week and returns home to take on Pitt， over which it has won its last hree meetings．
The Panthers will keep it close，and NBC＇s Bill Walsh will actually mention the oppos－ ing coach only because Hack－ ett used to be an assistant for

Thye week＂a picks meronte：SO，Jemmia，Vols． ND，Miami，KC
 ESU，M1日的
Curetter ECU，Templer Vols．
ND，Malam，KC
Mork Ninz St，Taxpla．Vols． ND，NKami，KC．
muthe SU，Temple．Fla．．． Pitt，Minmis ko

Walsh with the Niners．Notre Dame 24，Pitt 21.
Pern State at Miami（ $\mathbf{- 1 0 \text { ）} ) ~}$
I＇ve picked against poor Penn State all year，and I＇m not about to stop now．The Nittany Lions lost to USC．and played medio－ cre ball against teams like Rutgers and Temple．

Miami，4－0，has yet to face a truly tough team as coach Den－ mis Erickson told the Tampa Tribune－Times last week，＂Our exhibition season is over．＂
And when the＇Canes come busting out，overrated tearns like PSU should duck．Miami in a walk．Miami 45，Penn St． 10.

NFL Game of the Week－ Miami at Kansas City（－7）

Very quietly the Chiefs，4－2，

Standinga
ovezall Bametc 17－19－1 Magex 17－38－1 Esscher．15－20－1 Bukeras 15－20－1 Guyette 14－21－1 4－2 are sneaking up on the rest of the league．They harnmered the Bills（who＇d better start shap－ ing up on the road），and look as good as they did at the end of last year．when they should have beaten the Doiphins in the playofts．

Miami seems to be stuck in neutral since making the play－ offs last year．Marino bickers with Shula on the sidelines．The rumning game is ordimary as usual．The finh will be fried at Arrowhead，much like the Bills Arrowhead，much like City 24 ， on Monda
Miami 13 ．

FMSs covers SU－EAst Caro－ lina on Saturday starting with Countiown to Kickoff at $12: 30$ ．  \section*{\section*{$\overbrace{\text { OLEECE }}$  \section*{\section*{$\overbrace{\text { OLEECE }}$    OLLEGE
SUCCESS    OLLEGE
SUCCESS   How Will I Succeed？   How Will I Succeed？   Here＇s How：   Here＇s How：

   WKTL MAKE SURE YOU MAKE IT！   WKTL MAKE SURE YOU MAKE IT！   Syracuse   Syracuse 425－5600 425－5600         }   }

El

亘雨

 HerererioA Most Unusual Book Store

Located at508 Westcott Street （315）424－9137

Monday－Friday $10-8$

Bookstore

Specializing in：

> EDGAR CAYCE • DREAMS • CRYSTAL POWER－MYTHOLOGY－MEDITATION －WICCA • ASTROLOGY • MASSAGE
> HOLISTIC HEALTH • ATLANTIS •

WE WILLL HE DPEN FOR BBUSINESS MONIDAY

Dn October 14th （Columibus Day）  8：30－4：30

Sports

Paez swallows

much more than pride

Here are some random thoughts I jotted down during my LIT 101 lecture.
$\rightarrow$ Derrick Coleman is probably salivating over his return to Syracuse on Oct. 26. The New Jersey Nets play the Philadelphia 76 ers in the Dome, so Coleman will have an opportunity to relive his glory days - at 44 's, that is.

KENT
FISCHER
SPORTS OPINION will be making a will be making a guest appearance on
M-Street, where he'll square off against former Orange noseguard Fred DeRiggi in a rematch of the 1989 bar fight that came to be known as "The War at 44's."

If Coleman successfully defends his junior peon title, he could get a shot at super-peon champ Mike Tyson. oSpeaking of fighting, dil Jorge Paez like the smell of Pernell "Sweetpea" Whitaker's jock?

Paez, the most flamboyant showman in the "glamorous" world of boxing, got a taste of his own medicine last Saturday - literally

In the tenth round Whitaker grabbed the back of Paez's head and forced it into his crotch.
Whitaker was penalized a point for holding, but won the bout easily anyway.
-Speaking of stink, the Buffalo Bills sure smelled up Kansas City last Monday night.
It was their big chance to prove to everyone what I've been saying all along - that they're the best team in the NFL. They choked.

They also exposed to the world the one thing I've been trying to keep quiet - the fact that they cannot stop the run. Tbo late now.
-Speaking of a fall from grace, after SU's $46-14$ loss to Florida State last Saturday, SU fell all the way to number 18 in the CNN/UPI coaches number 18 in the CNN/UPI coaches
Have these people forgotten the Orangemen's thrashing of the University of Florida just three weeks week, the win over the Gators should have been enough to keep SU in the have been enough to keep. They also top 15. Look at Michigan. They al

I've never, seen a team like SU lose the importance of such a big win in such a short period of time.
eSU volleyball player Andrea Carson has quietly emerged as one of Syracuse's leaders off and on the court.

Carson could be the player coach Dan Schulte's been searching for to push SU to its first Big East championship.

Speaking of champions, my favorite collegiate football team, the Tennessee Volunteers, head into Gator nessee Volunteers, head into Gator country Saturday

The Vols, ranked No. 3 in the AP poll and No. 1 in mine, must beat Florida if they ever hope to leapfrog over Miami and contend for a national championship.
-Is it me, or am I the spitting image of Charlotte Hornet star Rex Chapman?

If you don't agree, you should see me dunk.

Trued

 ben teat Chapman play college bagreabaly

By GIL PAGOVICH

Staff Writer
With no classes on Monday, most Syracuse University students will have some time eff, but not the women's field hockey team.
The Orangewomen, 4-3, 1-0 in the Big East, will be traveling to play in three games this weekend.
On Saturday the team plays Ursinus College, before finishing the weekend with two Big East contests against Georgetown and Villanova.

In their last three games, the Orangewomen have outscored their opponents women have outscored 116-19.

With three early season losses, attacker Yvonne Milionis said SU must win the remaining games on its schedule n order to qualify for postseason play.
"It's really important for us to win every game we play from now on," Milionis said. "In order to beat these teams we'll have to play really well."
Milionis said she hopes this weekend will measure up to the Orangewomen's last win, a 3-1 victory over Boston College last Saturday.
day at 1 p.m. in the Carrier Dome. "He said (Florida State) was just a better football team," tailback Terry Richardson said. "We shouldn't feel sichardson said. We shouldn't reel sorry for ourselves and nobody else is going to feel sorry for us. We just have going to feel sorry for us. We just have Pasqualoni also told his team the way they rebound from the 46-14 loss to the top-ranked Seminoles will be an indicator of just how good they really are.

"(He said) the big part now is, 'How

Syracuse University quarterback Marvin Graves is wrapped up by a Florida State defender last Saturday. Graves will need to get the Sputtering SU offense moving if they hope to beat East Carolina University, 4-1, on Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Carrier Dome.

Orangewomen get no weekend breaks

We're coming off a really strong game against BC, Mihonis said. "If we play like we did against $B C$, we should be fine.
coach Kathleen Parker said she hopes this weekend will erase last year's worst memory.

Villanova upset Syracuse 2-1 in the opening round of last year's Big East Tournament.
"My players remember what Villanova did to us last year in the Big East Tburnament," Parker said. "We don't have a right to be on the field with them. We should have a vengeance."
Parker said success in the Big East now could mean something in the future.
"I think the Big East games will have some bearing on where we will be Milionis goes into the game needing only one more point to become Syracuse's only one more point to ber
Hower in career points.
Hower, breaking the record is not her primary concern.
If it comes, it com
"If it comes, it comes," Milionis said. "It's really not my focus. I was not aware of it until coach told me. I really don't care if 1 score, $I$ just want to win.
are we going to respond off a loss?*" cornerback Dwayne Joseph said. "That's going to measure how good we are and how good we're going to be. Let's just get out there and put that behind us and learn from it and try and win the next game."

The Pirates have won four consecutive games after a season-opening loss to No. 20 Illinois, 38-31. A taunting penalty on a recovered on-sides kickoff shortcircuited an East Carolina drive late in the fourth quarter against the Fighting Illini.

The Orangemen might be more motivated than usual considering the loss, but free safety Tim Sandquist said SU isn't putting any extra stock into this ## game.  game. "We come out fired up for every game,"

 the SU co-captain said. "We're going to get after these people and do our best get after these people and do our bestagainst them. I don't know if after a loss against them. I don $t$ know if after a loss or after a win you want to play us. or after a win you want to play us.
Personally, if I was the other team, I wouldn't want to face us.

ECU coach Bill Lewis said his team is additionally excited to play Syracuse because it represents a different level of competition.
"This is going to be an opportunity because I think Syracuse is really a Top-10 caliber football tearn" Lewis said. "This gives us an opportunity to see where we are at this point in the season.
"I sense our football team is more excited about getting ready to play this game. There seems to be a sense of argency (and an) intensity in preparation. Hopefully we can carry that into Saturday's game.
This season, the Pirates have turned into a big-play-type offense after switching to an I-pro, one back offensive scheme.
"They don't need 14 plays to drive the ball." Pasqualoni said. "They can do it in one or two plays and they've done it to everybody."
Pirates quarterback Jeff Blake is 68-of-122 for 1,278 yards and 14 touchdowns this season. Blake only needs 235 yards passing to become the all-time ECU single-season passing leader only five games into the season.
"(Jeff is) making good decisions, playing with a lot of poise and a lot of confidence," Lewis said.
The SU secondary, who last weekend
See PIRATES Page A9

SU faces  Hurricane warning

 namentatsetorniompenthorider
 thominope

 (1) $2 x+2$解

The Volume XXI. Number 33   USen seeks   USen seeks campus voice campus voice in budget talks in budget talks   BY ANDY RYAN

   BY ANDY RYAN}

Daily Orange

Staff Writer
As Syracuse University looks to cut $$ 28$ million from its budget over the next five years, administrators are seeking inve years, administrators are see input from various campus sources.

Starting today, University Senate will hold a series of open forums dealing with the university's restructuring.

The Senate strongly emphasizes the need for active participation from all staff and students. said Gershon Vincow. vice chancellor of academic affairs.

Today's set of forums deals with the concerns of schools and colleges. Separate Senate corrmittees will meet at 4:15 p.m. at various locations.

- The acadernic affairs committee will meet in the Killian Room, Room 500 Hall of Languages.
- Curricula, instruction and research committees will meet in the Dean's Conference Room, Room 301 Hall of Languages.

The committees on acadernic freedom, tenure and professional ethics, appointment and promotions, and affirmative action will meet in Room 233 of the Schine Student Center.
-The budget and fiscal affairs committee will meet in Room 304 A of the Schine Student Center
-The committees on students, and admissions and financial awards will meet in Roorr 304C of the Schine Student Center

Vincow said the results of these forums will form the foundations for the future structure of the university.
"The forums are critical for the Senate committees to receive input from faculty, staff and students on a broad range of issues concerning the future of the university," he said.

He emphasized that students and staff will have ample opportunities to participate in the forums.
"It is our hope that each person who attends will submit their ideas to the committees," he said.

Vincow said that all suggestions will be recorded and brought into consideration.
"Members of all the Senate committees will take notes on any input submitted," he said.

Each Senate committee will be able to review audiotapes taken at the forums.
"It is our hope that any students who have suggestions or ideas will attend," Vincow said.

The next forums on academic support services and acadernic auxiliaries will be held Monday at $4: 15$ p.m. in Grant Auditorium.

The final forum on administrative support services and general auxiliaries will be next Wednesday at $4: 15$ p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium.

Inside

Classified  Comics.

.16
Editorial
Images
Science
Sports
Weather

Pressure cooker

Is midterm stress raising your blood pressure? Today's Science page looks at the causes and some cures for high blood pressure on page

SU student dies in sleep

Examiners cite pulmonary embolism as cause

by ERIC GRODE  Staff Writer

Jessica J. Little "had so much potential," her mother Connie said. Her mother described the 20-yearold, who was active in her church and was a high school honor student in Was albigh schoo honor student in St. Albans, Vt., as warm and generous."
"She had so much potential," one of her friends said, "Everything was looking up for her.,
Little, a junior psychology major, was found dead in her Livingston Avenue apartment bedroom Friday morning. the victim of a pulmonary embolism, police said.
Roommates said Little went to bed Friday morning at about 2 a.m. and never woke up, police said. She was discovered by one of her roommates discovered by one of her room ahortly before $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Friday.

According to Onondaga County medical examiners. Little died of a pulmonary embolism, a blood clot that impairs the lungs' ability to convert carbon dioxide to oxygen.

Cause undetermined
"We don't know what caused the blood clot." said her father, Donald Little. "We've been trying to figure that out ourselves. Jessica was in very good health. She was a very. very careful person."
While local doctors say these embolisms are fairly common, they rarely affect younger people. About 50,000 Americans die each year as a result of pulmonary embolisms.

Little's family and friends expressed sorrow over her death.

Our lives are very empty. She was our oldest child." her mother said. See LITTLE Page 3

Super sign-in

Supermodel Elle MacFherson signs a calendar for Syracuse University student Mike Ginsburg at the Paper Cutter yesterday on Erie Boulevard. "I was quite excited to be meeting her." Ginsburg said. "I was in awe because she was amazing-looking." MacPherson was in town to promote her new swimsuit calendar.

Alcohol awareness week kicks off

By PAULA CHRISTIAN
Slaff Writer
Mocktails, drinking skits and movies will kick off Alcohol Awareness Week today, according to Ann McGuire, coordinator for alcohol programming at the Syracuse University Counseling Center.
This year's celebration. "Alcohol Awareness ... Let's Keep It Going," is designed to supplement awareness and education programs presented throughout the year in residence halls and fraternity and sorority houses, McGuire said.

There will also be workshops, educational speakers and support groups, McGuire said.
"The statistics we have gathered through surveys last year show the need for alcohol programming," she said.
Of the students surveyed, 83 percent said they consume alcoholic beverages and. 77 percent said they consumed alcohol before they came to college, McGuire said.

The survey also revealed that 74 percent of students agreed that there was an alcohol problem on campus, she said.

The week's goals

"Our goal is to make students aware of the risks and problems associated with alcohol, and then to get those students who need help into treatment," she said.

Another goal of Alcohol Awareness Week is to come up with alcohol-free ways for students to enjoy themselves, ways for stude McGuire said.
ui think that students consciously make an effort to support Alcohol Awareness Week," she said.

The greek system will not have any registered parties from noon Friday through Saturday to support the week, McGuire said.

She also said campus bars in the past had limited their drink specials during the week. She said bar owners are negotiating what they will do for the week.
"We usually hang up a poster saying that we are participating in Alcohol Awareness Week," said Frank Rinaldo, manager of Sutter's Mill & Mining Co. "Our business tends to slow down a little during that week."

Dave Archer, a bartender at 44's Tavern for three years, also said business slows down during Alcohol Awareness Weak
"I've never noticed it pick up," he said.
Several campus groups and organizations will sponsor events throughout the week, McGuire said.

There will also the events in residence halls throughout the week, McGuire

World

Team begins search

for Iraqi nuclear arms

A new team of inspectors from the International Atomic Energy Agency arrived in Baghdad this weekend to resume work on discovering Iraq's nuclear potential.

The inspectors are continuing the United Nations investigation of Iraq's nuclear arms program and are looking for physical evidence, according to David Kyd, an IAEA spokesman.

He said the team would stay in Iraq until Oct. 23.

Japanese official resigns

 over financial scandalsJapanese Finance Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto resigned Monday over his responsibility for financial scandals.

Hashimoto, 54, resigned three hours after he returned from a weekend meeting of the Group of Seven major industrialized democracies and the International Monetary Fund in Bangkok. Thailand.

Burmese dissident wins Nobel Peace prize

Aung San Suu Kyi was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize Monday for her nonviolent effort to topple the Burmese military junta.
Suu Kyi, 46, has been under house arrest since 1989 and it is unclear whether she knows of the honor. She is not allowed to receive visitors or communicate with the outside world.

The Nobel Committee commended Suu Kyi for "one of the most extraordinary examples of civil courage in Asia nary examples of in recent decades."

Nation

Senators, country mull over Thomas testimony

Professor Anita Hill held a press conference at her law school in Norman, Okla., yesterday. In Washington, D.C.. senators began studying transcripts from the four days of extraordinary testimony prompted by her allegations against Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas.

The last of Thomas' supporters spoke on his behalf as the hearings wrapped up early yesterday morning.

The professor also had supporters who corroborated her allegations of sexual harassment.
Tonight's 6 p.m. floor vote on Thornas' confirmation will likely have a razorthin margin either way.

Some Senate head-counters say the nominee may have just enough undecided votes now to win.

In a brief staternent to reporters, Bush indicated he still supports Thomas and said the American people are also supporting Thomas, referring to recent polls.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph R. Biden Jr. said he would not allow Anita Hill's supportive polygraph results to be accepted because the committee did not request th verify the testers' credentials.

Second sex scandal

 sorries Rev. SwaggartEvangelist Jimmy Swaggart reportedly is planning to resign amid another sex-related scandal.

Swaggartallegedly was with a prostitute last week when he was stopped for a traffic violation in Southern California.

State

Dead and starving

 animals found in garage An Auburn woman ity to charged Sunday with cruelty to animalsafter police found dead rabbits and malnopuppies in a garage, police said.
puppies in a garage, police said.
Deborah Leonard, 32, was with 20 counts of animal crus charged with 20 counts of animal cruelty. The maximum penalty is a $$ 1,000$ fine and up to one year in jail.
Auburn police found two puppies, several rabbits and a guinea pig in filthy cages littered with trash and fecessmeared rags. All the food and water dishes were empty.
Man says he was beaten during Hammer concert

Hodges Sneed, 29, filed a $$ 3$ million lawsuit Wednesday against rap singer M.C. Hammer, claiming security personnel beat him up during an Oct. 10,1990 , concert at Onondaga County War Memorial, part of the rapper's Please Hammer Don't Hurt 'Em tour.
Sneed's lawyer, Paul Carey of Syracuse, truck by five punched, kicked and approached the staperity guards as he According to Carey, Sneed had been trying to help a girl who had fallen.

Sixth woman found dead in Rochester area

A woman whose partially decomposed body was found in a wooded area is the sixth black woman found dead recently in the Rochester area.

But police said Sunday that they did not know whether the deaths of the three women found this year were related.

Campuses

Student senate misspends budget funds, audit says
The student senate of the City University of New York spent more than $$ 85,000$ on improper or undocumented purchases, according to a university purchases, according to a university

Most of the money was spent by the steering committee without the full senate's backing - a violation of the senate's rules. But many of the purchases were approved by Tilden LeMelle, the university's former vice chancellor for student affairs. LeMelle currently is president of the University of the District of Columbia.

The senate has a budget of more than $$ 400,000$. The university collects 85 cents from each student for the budget.

Included in the improper purchases were purported loans of $$ 4,500$ that paid for three students to travel to A frica and $$ 4,500$ for the legal fees of students who were arrested during a demonstration in Albany.

The senate also spent $$ 23.419$ on car rentals, beepers, walkie-talkies and trips to Canada. No proper explanations were provided and there was no written agreement for the loans for the trips.

The senate made 25 purchases totalling $$ 37,946$, for which no bids were solicited. University policy requires competitive bidding. Senators also spent $$ 12,788$ for car service and $$ 586$ for cellular phones. Adequate documentacellular phones. Adequate documentation for the pur the audit said.

The audit did not condemn the hiring of the senate chairman's twin sister as his personal assistant.

WEATHER

Maybe there is a substitute for experience.

After you're done with school, you face one of the hardest lessons in life:

Without experience, it's tough to get a job. And without a job, it's tough to get experience.

At The Wall Street
Journal, we recognize that experience is something you don't start earning until after graduation.

But while you're waiting, we can give you a head start by providing some of the same competitive advantages that experience brings.

For instance, our wide-ranging news coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex worth of business.

Our tightly focused feature reporting prepares you for your more specific ambitions - whether in marnagement. accounting, finance, technology, marketing or small business:

And our in-depth analysis helps you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more perstasive way.

Mail the coupon - and start your subscription to The Wall Street Journal at student savings - of up to S 64.50 off the regular subscription price.

That's a pretty generous offer. Especially when you consider what it actually represents. Tuition for the real world.

The Wall Street Journal. 2as Exa 15 ch Suret Suite 1515
New York NY 10017
$\square$ Send me one yezo othe wan Sured Joumil
吕 frowd me 15 mecks tor

口Gial me terer
Neme

Windfall

Thighaywill be very windy with highs near 60 degrees. We'll have cloudy skies with an 80 percent chance of occasional showers. At least we're not in Fort Richardson, Alaska, where they had 18 inches of snow Monday. Tonight will be cloudy and cool with temperatures in the mid 40s.

Wednesday

Well, you can read this or call the Fall Foliage 1-900 number on the Weather Channel. You decide. We'll have a mixture of clouds and sun Wednesday, but nothing like Phoenix, Ariz., which has seen 100 degrees for 11 days in October.

Thursday

Thursday will be partly sunny with lows in the mid 30 s and highs near 60. Expect a beautiful but cool autumn weekend to check out Central New York's bright foliage.
Today'mguestcity: Lewiston. Maine

Temperatures across the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York.
Philadelphia.
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuace Univeraity's independent The Daily Orange is Syracublithed Monday through Friday.
The newopaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University The newhpaper is dirtributed frbe on the Syracuse Univerat
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thureday.
New: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifentyle: 443-2128
Bumineat Adrextiving: 443-2314
Bumineat/ Advortiving: 4:30-20.m)

ALCBTB said.

The schedule

- Today -The Inter-Fraternity Council will sponsor a skit depicting three scenarios about drinking in college at 7:30 p.m. in Golostein Auditorium. The skit will be followed by a question and answer period.

An Alcohol Awareness Week booth will be set up in the Schine Student Center all week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

- Wednesday -Members of Students Against Drunk Driving will paint their faces white

Wednesday to protest drunk driving, McGuire said.

A panel will discuss alcohol support groups in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel at noon.

Adult Children of Alcoholics will have an open meeting in the Noble Room from 3 to 5 p.m.

Panhellenic Council will sponsor a Mocktail Night serving sor a Mon-alcoholic drinks in Room 500 of the Hall of Languages from 7 to $9 \mathrm{p.m}$.

- Thursday - A choices workshop will be at $7: 30$ p.m. in shop will be at $7: 30$ p.m. in Goldstein Student Center. A Goldstein Student Center. A slide show on how the media slide show on how the media influences the public's attitudes on alcohol will be followed by a discussion, Thalia Mulvihill, director of the peer education program Lifelines, said.
The Inter-Fraternity Council will sponsor a comedy movie in Goldstein Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.
"We'd like to keep as many people as possible from drinking this week so this offers them an alternative," Judd Rottenberg, IFC member, said.
(Sponsors) want to use Alcohol Awareness Week as a springboard for alcohol programs on campus throughout the year,' McGuire said.
our prayers and heartfelt sympathies to her family and pathies

Funeral services will be held today at St. Paul's Church in St. Albans, Vt.
SU will hold a ceremony at a later date, Connie Little said.

We Value Your Business!

\author{

Nottingham Laundromat   In Nottingham Plaza Nottingham Road at Tecumseh Road

 Laundromat  75¢ Top Loaders  \title{
Full Service Coin Operated
}
}
$\qquad$
TUESDAP

The Daily Orange is looking for an

Assistant Editorial Editor

Letters of intent are due to Jodi Lamagna, Editor in Chief, 744 Ostrom Avenue, by 3 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 18

LTTLE

Continued from Page 1
"It's a tragedy, and something like this should never have happened," one friend said. "She was a great friend. She was always here for her friends and she never will be again."

Syracuse University Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw issued a statement Friday afternoon of fering his condolences for the ittle family and friends.
"The SU community is deeply saddened by the death of Jessica Little," Shaw said. "We extend

THIS WEEK, EVERYBODY ON CAMPUS WILL BE TALKING ABOUT DRINKING. AT ANHEUSER-BUSCH, WE DO MORE THAN JUST TALK.

(5embora

ideas for the Third Annual "Know When To Say When".
During National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week, your school will host all kinds of activities and presentations focusing on the safe and responsible consumption of alcohol by students of legal drinking age. Among the activities is a "Know When To Say When" poster contest that pays $$ 5,000$. scholarships for the poster that most creatively and effectively promotes responsible drinking.

This competition is being held in conjunction with National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week.

J.mich shoel  SPECIAL PURCHASE:

Waterproof Gore-Tex Boot

HHBROWN
Gore-Tex Congo Boat
Our new baots by H.H: Brown are just what you need for the Syracuse winters. With a one-piece Gore-Tex sock liner, padded glove leather, the handsewn moccasin construction, and the sturdy lug sole. you're assured superb cornfort and dryness.
173 Marshall Street 471-4237

Speaker attacks homophobia Wright shares problems of 'coming out'

By LAURA HARDING
Stalf Writer
Homophobia is born out of the same roots as all intolerance of difference in society, Syracuse University graduate student Nina Wright said.

Wright spoke about the effects of homophobia on women at the Women's Lecture Series on Friday, which was also "National Coming Out Day."

We unfortunately have an uncanny way in the United States of being intolerant of difference," she said.
"We call ourselves the melting pot, where everyone is welcome to come in and be themselves, but then we put parameters and restraints around that:" Wright said
According to Wright, homophobia separates and divides society to a point where no one can deal with anyone on an honest level.
"Homophobia affects me the most when I'm around other women." she said. "I can't be who I am and it makes me feel dishonest."

Wright said she first bas to deal with how people are reacting to her being black, then a woman and then a lesbian woman.
"I can't hide my blackness -I can't strip it off and say 'Today I'm just going to leave this in the closet," she said.

Hiding real life
"I have to always be thinking, can I share my real life with you? Can I tell you that I'm a lesbian, or will that keep you from listening to what I have to say?" she said.

Homophobia totally silences women when there is an indication that there may be a lesbian in the room," she said.

Women are more similar than

We invite

 all Seniors to get to know our people and career opportunities.
INVESTMENT BANKING RECEPTION

Thursday, October 17, 1991 at 7:00 p.m.  Yale-Princeton Room Statler Hotel Cornell University

different, Wright said. "I am biased against women, knowing how it is to be in an oppressed group, when they react that wroy to a lesbian woman
"I find it sad that people's reactions change after I name myself as a lesbian," she said. "It's also sad that many people coming into this series today were worried that they may be seen as lesbians."

Homophobia silences society. keeps women docile and keeps women in line so they cannot express who they are, she said.
"The beauty of the dream of America is that we can come together and express our ideas and share with each other," she said.
There is a short step between intolerance to difference and violence to difference, she said.
"We are all interconnected and mixed together." Wright said. "One thing we've learned from AIDS is that it's not about one group having it and keeping it with them only."
"We need to start making and building bridges between ourselves to make America a better place," she said
Homophobia causes society to isolate people and robs women of their strength, Wright said.
"Women are very touchy creatures and they stop that natural feeling when they begin to question how someone is going to see that touch," she said.

Join CROP Walk on Sunday. October 20.
For additional information. please call (315) 445-9055

Editorial

Clowns abuse exposure

Ringling Brothers, hold on to your hats. The latest show to pass through Washington, D.C., is bigger, better and much more colorful.

Confirmation hearings for Judge Clarence Thomas continued this weekend. Constant news coverage by the Big Three networks as well as CSPAN and Cable News Network kept most of the nation captivated.

The zoo-like atmosphere created by the Senate Judiciary Committee has dramatized and desensitized the issues surrounding both Professor Anita Hill's and Thomas' respective testimonies.

The committee's incessant badgering and repetition of similar questions drew the already extended process into a muddled mess, leaving Americans no more informed than they were at the outset of the hearings.

Each congressman - there are no females on the committee - used his five-minute questioning period to sermonize to the witnesses about the United States' political system and its faults.
Someone should knock them from their pedestals.
The entire Senate will be voting on the merits or the faults of Clarence Thomas, not just the Judiciary Committee. It is the committee's responsibility to obtain the evidence necessary for the Senate to draw a logical and reasonable conclusion.

The senators have abused their positions on the committee in an effort to improve their political standing on the issue of sexual harassment in the workplace and women's issues in general. They may as well have run campaign booths outside the hearing room.

All three rings were in motion this weekend, only proving the theory that the political arena holds nothing but big, loud animals and tons of dirt.

Prejudice wrongly offends gays

On Tuesday, I attended an open panel of students in order to complete a work assignment. These students were homosexuals. The purpose of this panel was to dismiss some of the misconceptions surrounding homosexuals as a whole. The reason being that these misconceptions are partly responsible for homophobia.
The meeting took place in the Shaw Living Learning Center. I found the information very

JAMAL

WRIGHT
PEOPLE
OBSERVER interesting. Before I state my views. I will say that my views. I will say that hate mail. I don't really care. I'monly stating what I firmly believe in.
The first thing is, I believe that people should not be discriminated against - in any way, shape. or form it is nobody's business what people do or how it is nobody do it, as long as nobody is injured.

I also believe that the fact one is a homosexual does not mean that he can't learn how to kill correctly. Homosexuals have just as much right to defend their country as anybody else. They are not any weaker, dumber, or sicker than anybody else. I've personally met homosexuals who are more masculine than some heterosexuals I know
I wasn't attacked at the meeting. Gay men did not come on to me. They did not ask me for a date. They were not trying to feel my muscles. More importantly, they were coherent and very civil in the way that they acted.
It's funny how our society shows so much hatred for people who generally have more love, peace, and unity than most people in our society. I feel that many people should just mind their own business.

If you feel that homosexuals deserve to get harassed. then you're most likely more of a problem than you think they are.
In conclusion, the people that hate homosexuals because it is "morally wrong" are morally wrong themselves for hating at all. Homosexuals should be allowed to join the ROTC program. The fact that they can't sounds like blatant discrimination to me. Furthermore, the rule means absolutely nothing because it doesn't really keep homosexuals out. All a homosexual must do is deny out. All a homosexual must do is deny homosexuality to get in. So why not just omit the rule? I surely wouldn't want to deny the the rule? I surely wouldn't want to deny the fact that I'm black, or my sexuality. So why fact that I'm bla

Think about it before you write the hate mail.

Oppressed white male seeks help

It's very difficult to be a white male these days.
At least., I'm finding it difficult. I can't vouch for any other white males out there, assuming they still exist.
I used to think of myself as a fairly nice guy. But little did I know $I$ was an evil oppressor, that I was responsible for every single wrong in the history of the earth.

DARIN

POWELL
orange OBSERMTIONS to eas not an easy burden to carry around. And it's getting worse.
If I ask a woman out, Im probably committing sexual harassment. Or else I'm a rapist.
And since it's a woman I'm asking out and not another guy, Im probably a homophobe, too.
White guys are sleaze. We've enslaved blacks, destroyed Native American culture and oppressed women. I'm sure that, somehow, a oppressed women. I'm sure that, somehow, a white guy was responsible for the end of the white guy dinosaurs.
Lately, every time I walk by a woman or someone from another ethnic group, I feel an almost irresistible urge to apologize.
"I'm sorry," I want to shout. "I'm sorry for...well.for everything!"
Just look around. If you can find something wrong, a white male was probably responsible. Thke Congress, for example. Here you have what is perhaps the greatest living collection of chowderheads in the world, all of them bouncing checks, getting free meals, raising taxes, fixing tickets, and wrecking the econ-
Yep. Almost every one of them is a white Yep.
My literature is irrelevant. My history is irrelevant. My music isn't cool. And every bit of suffering and unfairness in the world is of suffering and

As you can see, this is all pretty depressing. And even within the white male culture, I have problems. You see, my bloodline is about as Anglo-Saxon as you can get. Therefore, I am completely devoid of ethnicity.

I can't go to wild weddings and funerals, like the Italians. I can't drink as much as my Irish friends. Nobody tells any good jokes about my heritage. I have no traditional costumes, dances, songs, festivals, holidays, or foods.

All this is pretty tough to take.
I feel marginalized
1 feel marginaiz.
I feel oppressed.
Wait! That's it! I'm a member of an op pressed group. It's time for us white males to get together, form a group, start a protest, force people to recognize the contributions Onde by white males --
On second thought, just forget it.

LETTERS

Tours offer true SU

I would like to take this opportunity to respond to your comments made in the editorial which ran in the Oct. 11 issue of The Daily Orange concerning some of the aspects of Syracuse University's Fall Friday program. As a University 100 tour guide, I would like to specifically address your concerns about the campus tour.

Mr. Stangel, you have alleged that the campus tour is "candy coated." I hereby personally and formally invite you to meet me at the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid(201 Tolley Administration Buildingrat $10: 45$ a.m, this Friday. You may join the group and witress firsthand that our tours are honest and straightforward, devoid of any sticky-sweet coating of propaganda. As tour guides, we are instructed to be honest. and factual, as well as to keep things in perspective. We are under no circumstances encouraged to lie or withhold information from prospective students and parents. We welcorne questions of any nature on any subject. Furthermore, if we are asked a question that we cannot a question that we cannot adequately answer, we then adequately answer, we then refer the individual tosomeon who can adequately answer the question. This is a standard rule.
In regard to what kind of an area SU is situated in, I tell my tours that the university is in the middle of a city populated by approximately 500,000 people. The city projects are located approximately six blocks to the west of the campus. I also tell them that the university residence halls have card-key access locks so that no one without an SU ID may have free access to the buildings. After eight p.m., students may only access the residence hall in which they live. In addition, the residence halls on the west end of campus, which you have called into question, are patrolled at night by SU Security cars. In fact, one officer parks in between Brewster/Boland and the VA Hospital.
tell parents and students about tell parents and students about the blue-light system. It is just one of the measures recently one of the measures recently implemented in response to student concerns about security on campus. When a biue-light is activated, a loud siren goes off and two security cars are immediately sent to answer the call. You told prospective parents that it took a "long time" to respond to a call for helplast week. It took three minutes for security to arrive at the incident which you refel to in your editorial. That does not seem like such an unreasonably long time to me unreasonably iong time to me.
The blue-light calls that were The blue-light calls that w questioned last week took questioned last week took approximately one minute to approximately one minute to respond to. All of these records are on file in the security office. It would behoove you, Mr. Stangel, as a journalist to $l$ get your facts straight before making embarrassing,

unfounded accusations

No. Mr. Stangel, SU is not a Utopia and I inform my tours of that fact. There comes a time when we have to take some responsibility for the security of ourselves and of our property. By the time we reach adulthood and attend college we should be prepared for this we should be prepared for this reality. If you leave your room reality. If you leave your ro unlociced, your property is unlocked, your property is likely to be stolen. If you walk likely to be stolen. If you walk alone at night, don't expect a mugger to ignore you. Common mugger to ignore you. Common sense is as important to student sense is as important to studen safety as the security officer safety as the security officer to student ratio. (Incidentally, SU has 2.88 security officers per 1000 students.) If you, Mr. Stangel, are not prepared to help attend to your own safety and do not feel comfortable and secure in your ## surroundings, then it is best

for you to leave

I and my fellow University 100 tour guides are indeed "regular students" and are probably among the most probably among the mos informed and attuned individuals on this campus. We do tell the "real story," We do tell the "real story contrary to what your sensationalistic column suggests.

Jen Little
Class of 1992 University 100

For Your Information

Adult volleyball leagues forming

Any teams or individuals with out a team are encouraged to sign up to play volleyball. Women's, men's or co-ed teams are welcome to sign up. The league starts Oct. 21. For more information, call 451-1800 or stop by the Syracuse Indoor Soccer Center, 4989 Hopkins Road in Liverpool.

Concert pianist

to give recital

Robert Weirich, music direc tor of the Skaneateles Festival will give a solo recital on Oct 26 at 8 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church, 94 E. Genesee St., Skaneateles.

Weirich will perform works by Bach, Mozart. Chopin and Rachmaninoff. It will be fol lowed by a dessert reception.

Tickets will be $$ 10$ at the door. For more information, call 685-7148.

Research positions

 available with DOEJuniors or seniors in computer science, engineering, physics, environmental and life sciences, mathematics or physical science are eligible to apply to be part of the Science and

UNVEDSTTY UNION SDEAKEDS BOADD STUDENT AIDICAN AHEDICAN SOCIETY and HIM IODLM

PRESENTS

MATTY RICH

hKChLY ACCINMLD 19 YEAR OLD HLMAKLD - WHO WROTK AND DIREDTLD THE NLW HIT MOVIE "STR AICHT OUT OF BROOKLYN"
WEDNESDAY. OCTOBED 16. 1991 - 8.00 p.m. MAXWELL AUDITODUM Your shudent fee straigh out of sill.

3,677 FATAL DRUNK DRIVING ACCIDENTS IN ONE YEAR FOR PEOPLE AGES 18-2 1

DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE

KAPPA ALPHA THETA SUPPORTS
ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK

Engineering Research Semester. SERS offers the opportunity for students to do hands-on research with some of the nation's top scientists at one of six national research laboratories during the academic year.
For more information, contact Donna Prokop, SERS Program Manager, Office of Energy Research. U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave., Washington, D.C. 20585. The application deadline for the appring semester is Oct. 20. The 1992 fall term deadine is March $19,1992$.

SUFAR holds

weekly meetings
Syracuse University for Animal Rights will hold weekly meetings every Thursday. SUFAR meetings will take place in Roorn 128 of the Schine Student Center at 6:30 p.m.
Hughes fellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 pre doctoral fellowships in the biological sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov. 8

The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.

Effective June 1992, stipends will be $$ 14,000$ annually. For more information, căll (202) 334-2872.

Russian choir

seeks members

The Syracuse University Russian A Cappella Choir is looking for singers.

No experience is required to join. The words to all songs are transcribed phonetically.

The choir will present its repertoire of Russian folk songs in Hendricks Chapel and at Wells and Hobart Colleges during the 1991-92 concert season. Rehearsals are held every Monday at $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. in Room 107 of the Hall of Languages.
'Cave Canem'
seeks writers
Cave Canem, the newsletter of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, is looking for writers.

Meetings are held on Wednes days at 6 p.m. in Room 301 of Crouse College. Articles can also be submitted to 208 Crouse. For more information, call JoAnna at 443-2517.

If You Dont Have The Numbers, You Wont Get The letiers.

Well Make Sure You Make It.
LSN-GMJ - GRE - MCH
you'll slasjle..."

When you call..

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

Call now...
1-900-896-0033

Science

Science Digest  Male cocaine use may affect unborn  The offspring of male cocaine users may inherit birth defects as a result of the father's drug use, a new study claims.  The Journal of the American Medical Association reported cocaine has  Stalking  Exercise, diet aid in controlling hypertension

 the ability to bind directly to sperm without affecting the chance of fertilization.This cocaine can cause neurological damage to the babies. This runs counter to the widely-held belief that substance abuse by the mother is primarily to blame for birth defects.
rimarily to blame or birth defects.
Scientists plan on continuing re-
Scientists plan on continuing reearch in this area to determine search in this area to determine whether other drugs behave in a whether other similar fashion.

Biosphere resident may have to leave

One of the workers in the Biosphere 2 experiment has been injured and ment. a spokesperson said.
ment. a spokesperson said.
Jane Poynter, 29 , lost the tip of her finger while operating a rice-hulling machine last Wednesday. The Biosphere doctor reattached the finger. but she may have to leave temporarily for surgery.

Ozone hole remains

in Antarctica

The results of the greenhouse effect show no signs of disappearing, if the South Pole is any indication.
A hole in the atmosphere covering 8 million square miles has not shrunk or grown in the last two years. The ozone layer is an upper atmospheric layer that protects Earth from harmful ultraviolet radiation.

Scientists attribute the depletion of the atmosphere's ozone to the release of chloroflorocarbons, which ## are commonly used in refrigerants.

Clue found to ## inherited Alzheimer's

A gene mutation that is responsible for causing an inherited strain of Alzheimer's disease has been discovered, creating hope among research-

This study confirms suspicions that the cause of Alzheimer's, the lack of a needed brain protein. can be inher-ed.
Alzheimer's disease affects about 4 million Americans. It usually is found in people above the age of 65 , but cases of the inherited strain now make up

20 percent of all cases.

NASA to begin

search for ETs

NASA has announced plans to begin within a year its most extensive search for extraterrestrial life yet
Beginning in October 1992, the 10-year search will employ scientists from all over the world. As many as 30 million radio channels will be monitored simultaneously.

The program, which will commemorate the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' arrival in the New World, will only involve the reception of possible signals.

- Compiled from daily
newspaper reports

Wednesday

Wheck intomentuncestror     Whent

By MARY JO KUSS

Asst. Procluction Manager

For years, Nautilus equipment lurked beneath the surface of public domain. In the depths of research, no one realized that it could add a half-inch to a man's arms or lift muscles on a woman in one month.
Since Nautilus surfaced in 1971, it has been making waves in the waters of fitness.
If Jules Verne were into exercise, he'd be impressed with this Nautilus.

Nautilus is a brief period, highintensity form of strength training consisting of different pieces of equipment that target each major muscle group.

And according to the captain who brought this ship that shapes to Syracuse, Nautilus is "the Rolls Royce of exercise."

Replace Captain Nemo with Steve Kravec, personal trainer and fitness consultant for Pine Grove Country Club in Camillus.
Kravec, owner of Syracuse Sports Conditioners, introduced Nautilus to Central New York 17 years ago.

According to Kravec, the name Nautilus comes from the apex cam, a biomechanical device used in the training equipment.

He said Nautilus provides a lot that free weights do not, like stretching and rotary type motion, which is the natural movement of the body. It also provides automatic variable resistance and positive and negative movement.

Toning on a schedule

Nautilus is an efficient tool that gets more work done in a shorter period of time, he said:
the 'silent killer'

By KELLY HOMAN  By KElly H

It has been called "the silent killer." When it goes unnoticed. it can cause major health problems such as kidney disease, heart disease and strokes.

It is high blood pressure.
According to Karen Smith-Lanigan of the American Heart Association, high blood pressure. or hypertension. is more prevalent in society than most people think.
According to the American Heart Association, there were 76,567 cases of high blood pressure in 1986 in Onondaga high blood pre County alone.

Blood pressure is a normal part of the unction of the body. The pressure is created when the heart contracts and pushes blood into the arteries. The blood then flows out of the arteries into other parts of the body.
Blood pressure is not always at one constant rate. There is an "upper" rate when the heart is contracting, called the systolic pressure.
The "lower" rate, the diastolic pressure, is measured when the heart is between contractions
The systolic pressure describes the maximum amount of pressure on the arteries. The diastolic pressure describes the minimum amount of pressure on the arteries.

Body dictates pressure

Blood pressure varies according to the activities the body is engaged in. For example, blood pressure is higher during exercise and lower during sleep.

A blood pressure reading of $140 / 90$ is considered to be high blood pressure.

Essential or primary high blood pressure is a condition which has no known cause. This constitutes 90 percent to 95 percent of all high blood pressure cases. Secondary high blood pressure, on the ther hand, does have a specific cause. According to Smitir-Lanigan, there is no cure for high blood pressure. While no specific cause has yet been found, there are several factors that can contribute to the disease.

One major factor in the development of high blood pressure is heredity. If a history of high blood pressure runs in one's family, that person is more likely to have it.

High blood pressure knows no age limit. While the likelihood of developing high blood pressure increases with age, high blood pressure increases with age.
children can be born with it or can children can be born w develop it at a young age.

High blood pressure is more prevalent in black people than in white people, according to the American Heart Association.
High blood pressure is also more common in people who are obese, eat a diet high in sodium and cholesterol, regularly consume alcohol and lead an inactive lifestyle.

Women who take oral contraceptives are also at risk.

Get it checked

The American Heart Association recommends that people have their blood pressure checked once a year, especially if they fall into any of the above factors.

High blood pressure has no symptoms.
-High blood pressure needs to be "High blood pressure , needs to be recognized and controlled," said SmithLanigan. A doctor usually prescribes medication to keep it under control.
High blood pressure that goes uncontrolled can cause a hardening of the arteries, leading to a greater chance of high blood pressure may also lead to kidney damage.

Those trying to control high biood pressure and those trying to prevent it pressure and those trying to prevent should follow the same paths. A diet low in fat, cholesterol and sodium is the best choice. Exercise not only keeps the heart healthy, but helps people lose weight or maintain an ideal weight.
The American Heart Association offers free blood pressure screening clinics throughout the area.
For more information, call the American Heart Association at 446-8334.

Better workout builds better body

Between 15 and 20 calories a minute can be burned on Nautilus, if done properly, and the entire system requires about 30 minutes.

A total workout wi wit

But the exertion spent to ride this body-shaping submarine is 100 percent. Kravec said.
"It is demanding," he said.
You should aim for "momentary muscle failure" or "total inability to perform the exercise in the proper way" when using Nautilus, he said.

He advises people to read the information on the equipment detailing correct tion on the equipment detailing correct Feeling the burn of the muscle is important, he said.

Swinging the weight on the Nautilus through 20 or 30 quick repetitions is wasting time. About eight to 12 slow wasting time. About eight to 12 slow repetitions is adequate if you follow the repetitions is adequate if you follow the instructions for proper alignment on the instructions

The weight should be enough to cause a strong resistance in the muscle you are working, but you should guard against wiggling or using a tight grip. since this elevates the blood pressure.
"If you're feeling it somewhere else (other than the muscle you're working), you're not doing it," Kravec said.

Resulfs can come quickly
When done correctly, the benefits of the machine include improved strength. the machine include improved strength.
flexibility and endurance - since Nautilus combines a cardiovascular workout See VITAMIN Page 8

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Marketing students

 vie for scholarshipThe Point-of-Purchase Advertising Institute (POPAI) has announced a marketing scholarannounced a marketing scholarship competition for sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Participants will be asked to integrate point-of-purchase ( $\mathrm{P}-\mathrm{O}$ P) materials into a marketing program for a hypothetical line of baby toiletry products with "real life" marketing objectives and constraints

A $$ 1,250$ firgt-prize scholarship, along with second and third prizes of $$ 500$ and $$ 250$. will be awarded.
Deadline for entry is Dec. 13, 1991. For more information or an official entry form, contact an official entry form, contact Ronit Bialer at (201) 894-8899.
Tutors sought by Salvation Army

The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of academic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teenage pregnancy.

The tutors are needed Monday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.
A commitment of one night each week is required.

Volunteers are also invited to participate in the recreation period that follows tutoring.

For more information, call Mary Roge McBride at 479. 1321.

 CALL FOR TIX. 1-800-382-808D
TICKET PRICE INCLUDES A DONATIOR TO THE ISIS FUNDDWALDEN WOODS PROJECT

PRINT SALE  Thru Thursday Only!

Don't Miss This Special Event Held In Goldstein Auditorium THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Monday - Friday 8:30 to 6:00 10:00 10 5:00

Live, Learn And Intern
In Washington, D.C. This Summer
The Institute On Comparative Political And Economic Systems The institute On Political Journalism
The Bryce Harlow Institute On Business And Government Affairs
Georgetown University, June 10 - July 24, 1992
If you are an undergraduate student with a strong interest in political science, economies, international relations, journafism or business, you will want to apply to one of these unique six-week programs. Numerous scholarships are available. While living on the campus of Georgetown University, you will:
: Atlend two classes at Georgetown University. Taught by Georgetown University facuity; students eam six credit hours for coursework

- Intern on Capitol Hill, government offices, private sector organizations, news bureaus or press offices
- Attend weekly lectures with foreign policy experts, noted journalists, or government aftairs professionals
- Meet and question national leaders at on-site briefings at various Washington, D.C. Iocations

The application deadlines are:

1/7/92 Early Decision - 2/15/92 Regular Decision
For more information contact The Fund for American Studies 1526 18th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036 / 202-996-0384

Jewish Studies Lecture Lev Raphael-Author \& Professor    Title:  Dancing on Tish B'av: A Gay Jewish  Writer Comes Out $\mathcal{E}$ Comes Home  Time: 8:00pm  Location: 201 Hall of Languages  Date: October 15, 1991

Co-Sponsored by: Department of Religion, Hillel House, Lesbian \& Gay Graduate Collective, $\mathcal{E}$ Lesbian Student Association

No Business, No Problem
Business is down, but morale is fine at the Tattoo Zone

SYRACUSE WAR MEMORIAL TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15-7:30 PM Tickets $$ 15.50 .512 .50 .8 $ 10.50$
ON SALENOW art the War Memoriai Box Office and all FiCNET/LNSFEA, tocktions.
ALI RECORD THEATAE STORS 8 ALI RECORO GIANT STORES THCRC"OHE Chargo by Dhons. call ;-800-382-80801

Scholastic grants offeropportunities

By UECHINC

Contributing Writer

In September, members of the senior class should have received a letter from Assistant Dean Barry L. Wells of the College of Arts and Sciences describing the plethora of available scholarships and awards.

Although there is little association between the Dean's Of fice and the various opportunities, Wells said, "it was a matter of trying to inform the students about the opportunities available and in the process trying to eliminate some of the ignorance that exists about the many scholarships, fellowships and grants."

For those who did not receive this letter, here is a random sampling of some of the scholarships available to students:

One opportunity that applies to all full-time undergraduates is the All USA Academic Team. A cash award of $$ 2.500$, along with a profile in a special issue of USA Today, is granted to students who exhibit academic and leadership qualities. A nomination must be made and signed by a faculty member who knows the student and by an administrator. The deadline is late November. Contact Ronald Cavanagh, 304 Tolley Administration Building, or phone 443 tion.
1899.

lolly good scholarships

For those juniors and senions interested in studying in the United Kingdom, two scholarships that should not be overships that should not be overlooked are the Marshall and looked are the Marshall and Rhodes scholarships. Students Rhodes scholarships. Students who meet the eligibility standards are encouraged to apply. These strindards include a minimum GPA of 3.8, completion of 45 to 90 credit hours and nomi" nation by the Syracuse University Overseas Fellowship Committee. The Marshall Scholarship enables students to study Kingdom. Thirty students are selected based on activities and accomplishments. The Rhodes Scholarship includes not only Scholarship includes not only but funds to cover living expenses. The deadline for both awards is in October. For more information. contact Professor

The Brothers of Sigma Nu Congratulate

John LaGraff, department of mechanical and aerospace engineering. Link Hall, or call 4434366.

Syracuse University Scholars are a select group of eight to 12 academically outstanding senors who must either be nominated or request to be nominated by a department chairperson if they have completed the requirements for graduation. The deadline is Dec. 20. Of the students, one will be chosen to speak at Commencement. Students should speak to their department chairperson or program director to get more information.

Fantastic fellowships
Some of the many fellowships available are the Mellon Fellowships in Humanities. An award of $$ 12.500$ and payment for uition and fees to graduate school are to be granted to those students who are going to begin graduate work in connection with a humanistic field of study. The deadline is Nov. 8. and Dr. Gary Radke. 306 Bowne Hall. can be contacted for more information at 443-2759.
Perhaps: the most prestigious honor seniors enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences can apply for is that of leading their Commencement ceremonies in May as a collepe marshall. Se. May as a collepe marshall. Seand academic characteristics, and academic characteristics, as well as loyaity to the college,
The deadline is Oct. 18 and The deadline is Oct. 18 ann contacting the Orfice of the Dean at $443-9396$, should proDean at 443-9396, sho
vide more information.
vide more information.
Wells encourages all students who meet eligibility standards for scholarships to apply. With some scholarships.eligibility standards may be specific.
"It wouldn't hurt to apply if the student is in the gray area. Wells said. "However, " and requirement is a 3.6 GPA apply has a 25 GPA , then it would be harder for them to be considered for that scholarship." This is not a complete listing of all scholarships available. However, by doing some research in the library, asking the Financial Aid Ofice, or contacting an adviser or department chairperson. students in a particular field of study can get more information.

F.Y.I.

Local artwork shown at Schine
The artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month, celebrated in October.
The showing, sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society, will end today. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Library offers

free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.
For more information, call 443-1943.

Chapel reflects diversity

Programming suits various religious needs

By IUSTINE CIOVACCO

 Contributims WriterFor more than 62 years. Hendricks Chapel has stood as a multi-religious microcosm of Syracuse University.

The chapel, a gift from Sen. Francis Hendricks, former Syracuse mayor and university zrustee, holds regularly scheduled masses for seven religions. It also offers various servicesand is home to severat organizations is home to severat organizati for the campus community.
Episcopal/Anglican. Roman Catholic. Lutherun, Jewish, Islamic. Protestant and Evangelical Christian services are held on a regular basis in the chapel and surrounding areas.

Holy Eucharist ceremonies for Episcopalians and Anglicans are held daily. except on Saturdays.

Every Friday at 6 p.m. in the chapel's rectory, an open house supper and party is held and is open to all members of the open to al member.

For more information on the masses, supper or other services, call the Rev. James K. Taylor at 443 -2062.
Services and Bible study
Evangelical Christian Ministries hold worship services on Sundays at 9:30 a.m. in Room 107 of the Hall of Languages. The ministry also holds Bible

Hendricks Chapel is surrounded by activity on the Quad. but there's plenty to do inside as well.
study on Wedresdays and Fri- sion on Wednesdays in Hendays.
For times and location of the study sessions. call Dr. T.E. Knshy at 443-1504.
The Protestant Chaplaincy holds worship services on Sundays at 13 am . in the main chapel. Information about Bible study, a fellowship group and a weekly buffet supper is availweeky buffet supper is availRev. Thomas V. Wolfe at 4435040.

Islamic prayers are said daily at the Muslim Student Association Office in Hendricks. For additional information, call Ahmed Nezar Kobeisy, Islamic counselor and Imam, at 4431427.

Jewish students can attend a noon bagel brunch and discusdricks Hillel Lounge. More in formation on the brunch and weekly services is ansailable by calling Rabbi Alan J. lser at 443-2904.

A Lutheran Taize service, with music and meditation, is open to all on Wednesdays at $9: 18$ p.m. in Hendricks' small chapel.

Information about other Lutheran functions is available through the Rev. Michael Schultz Rothermel at 443-24:39.

Daily Masses

Roman Catholic daily Masses are held Monday through Fri day at noon in Hendricks. The sacrament of reconciliation and Sunday Mass information are obtainable by calling the Rev See CHAPEL Page 15

Register Now

for the

Upstate New York Graduate Education Forum for Students of Color

Saturday, November 9, 1991 SUNY at Albany

- Meet representatives from 100 top graduate institutions from across the country (Excluding law, medical, and dental schools)
- Discuss graduate study in your field of interest with current faculty members
- Get tips on taking the GRE or GMAT
- Learn about admissions and financial support
- Transportation and lunch provided!

Register at the following locations:

Center for Academic Achievement 804 University Avenue Room B005
443-2005

Forum Registration Table Schine Student Center Atrium October 15, 16, 17, 24, 25
11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Please bring a check made out to Syracuse University for the $$ 10$ refundable bus deposit when registering. (Checks only please.) Checks will be returned after the formm.

CHAPEL

Continued from Page 14

James Lang at 443-2600.
Those services and affiliated organizations have made Hen dricks a model chapel for many universities, said its dean, the Rev. Dr. Richard L. Phillips.
"Because of the chapel's central location on campus, and religion being a central place in many lives, we have gotiten a good reputation around the country for helping the students mix socially," Phillips said.

One such place on campus to intermingle with students of all religions is People's Place, a religions is People's Place, a snack bar open Monday through snack bar open Moncay through Thursday from $8: 15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to 6 Thursday from $8: 15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to 6 p.m. and Fridays from $8: 15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to 4 p.m.

Because of its location in Hendricks, staft members often visit and talk with students.

The chapel also has an affili. ation with the co-ed service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega. The greek organization, which lists "leadership, friendship, service" as its motto, has headquarters in the student organization offices of the Schine Student Center.

Thirty hours of community service are required per semester, in addition to other projects with the Hendricks staff.

Counseling for all religious groups can also be found through the chapel. Referrals are given through the dean's office, 4432901 , or Nansie Jensen's office, 443-5044.
${ }^{*}$ I'm most proud of the excellent work of the fine chaplains who serve our university," Phillips said. "They are willing to give much of their time to aid all of the university's students."

For Your Information

CROP Walk held

to raise money
The annual CROP Walk will be held Oct. 20. The CROP Walk is a 10 kilometer community walk through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and international hunger relief programs. For more information, call 443-1254.

New lecture

 series beginsThe Peter Andrews Memorial Fund lecture series presents a talk by Robin Crews, executive director of the Peace Studies Association and member of the department of sociology at the University of Colorado.

Crews will speak on "American Interpretations of Changes in the Former Soviet Union: A Peace Studies Perspective" today at 2:30 p.m. in the Naxwell School conference room.

On Oct. 18, Carolyn Stephenson, of the University of Hawaii's political science department, will speak on "The New World and the Old World Order: United Nations Peacekeeping and Enforcement." The lecture will be held in Maxwell, Room 315. For more information, call 443-2367.

Library Associates

 plan book saleThe Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale Oct. 31, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Room 1916 on the first fioor of E. S. Bird Library.

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to sented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservatio tions.

Jabberwocky

 to hold auditionsDelta Sigma Theta, a public service sorority, will hold audiservice sorority, will hold auditions for its annual Jabbertions for its annual Jabber-wocky on Oct. 16 at The Underwocky on Oct. 16 at The Underground in the Schine Student ground in the Schine S
Center from 5 to 11 p.m.

Artists sought for

Art Invitational

Artists are invited to partici pate in WCNY-TV Channel $24^{\prime}$ s 1991 Art Invitational, a compe tition of donated art works Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New York.

Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the 10 th Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Oct

18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to tion in a catalog distributed to artists and also at the Everson artists an Museum.

For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

Holiday cards

benefit charity
The Onondaga County unit of the American Cancer Society has holiday cards available through a donation to the American Cancer Society.

These cards vary in style and benefit the American Cancer Society. For more information or to receive the holiday flyer for ordering, call 451-7710 or write to the Onondaga County Unit of the American Cancer Society, 7145 Henry Clay Blvd., Liver7145 Henry Clay pool, N.Y. 13088.

Community Choir seeks members

The Syracuse Community Choir is seeking members for the annual Solstice Concert, including songs from the traditions of Hanukkah, Christmas, Kwanzaa and Winter Solstice Kwanz Rites.

Rehearsals begin on Oct. 30 at the Euclid Community Open House (ECOH) at Euclid and Westcott streets. People of all abilities are welcome and no auditions are necessary. For more information, call 463 7228.

ATTENTION

College of Arts & Sciences

Minors in Management

MEETING

Tuesday, October 15, 1991
500 HALL of LANGUAGES
Freshman Arts and Sciences Students ONLY

Mid-Year Resident Adviser Positions (Spring 1992)
The University Bookstore Mon.-Fri. 8:30-6:00 Sat. 10:00-5:00

AUTUMN SALE  AT

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
NOW THRU FRIDAY
Take $5.00 off
Champion Fleecewear

To find out more about the RA position
AND to obtain an application, you must attend one of the following Information Sessions:

Tuesday, October 15th
Wednestay. October 16 th
Thureday, Oetober 17 th Thursday, Oetober 17h

7:00-8:00 PM $7.00-8.00 \mathrm{PM}$ 7.00-8.00 PM

Schine Student Center, Room 304 B Sadier Mulli-Function Room Haven Penthouse

Going abroad this Spring?

Attend an Information Session NOW, if you are interested in a FALI 1992 position.

Classifieds

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

FAISE 3500 , $$ 5000$. 515000 : FEOLPROOF

 $950-472$, mi. 50 .
NOICE: MTG of Woment Concerts Discussion Goup. OL, 16. 1931; 1342 Lenciant Avo.; 730 and weaker frem a tien tevivi co. 8100 doration 422 *encs. Open to Womery Nor-Denominational

FOR SALE Autos

 tirts. 57.150. O.B.O 423-7428. Dlease Seave

Equipment

Paments 20 TV win Pip and on stiven programining 5285 . McEE with printer and

EMPLOYMENT

JuniontSenige Businoss of Communcation maior wanec D work on trinimy manue projact Must tave wemmotion Competter and knowedpe of Word Processing of Pape Liyour Noed assistatce minnediarely 582.58 sin .

PT Carwash Anoncart needed. $\mathbf{$ 4 5 0}$ to start Spaftie Ciy Alhowash tus-41 to.

HOME NEEDED for a 13 ytar did pin who is on a wheol chair and requires assistance. Hame modncations provided an necossary. Substantial know is imernsiod in providine a lowing home. ctases can Tom McDoruld at \{315\}58-6120 or David Shipe an $\{315) 425 $ 311$.

Sefy Birtiond Pasteurnta Enversity beacion hos cook pastion avedabla. Compotive wape. Cothect 471-Sz06 tor mena Irio.
Campus raps neadud. Earn salaty plus commission CaI THEG. $25-5600$ notay. EOE.

WANTED

Help Wanted

ATTENTICN STUDEATSI Eam LD 105500 cash ar sirs Ead, mwationi Easiness founs s saek ing an aticulase student io organizp a 30 minure momedibional meeting on campus. No experience

Hrow Eelore You Go, "there to work, tive and ski Irep in Colorackis rescorts. Cumpent Guide to hepens Vai Erach midge and more/ $18.65. Call 1800 B6-6174.

> FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS to Students or sudent organizations promoting our Spring Broak Packages. Good Pay & Fun. Call CMI 1-800-423.5264.

OMaified acpicarts for MD-YEAR RESIDENT ADVISOR pociaions, intomation Sassions: Tuasday. Ocwber 15th, 78. PM in the Schime Sauderk 17th, 7-8 PW in the Haven Pentiouse. For more ntormation, call 443-3637.

Fast Fundraiser 51000 on 1 week. Greeks. Chibs and Anyorse. No imesument 1 -400.7496817 Exi 50.

Eam $$ 2500$. Froe Trips Solling Spring Break Pack apes To Bavaras, Maxico, Ja maica, Flonday Bes

Grad studern wim beck problem needs nab wath Pay 5550 hour plus transpontation. $424-0939$ Lazve messape it no arswer.

Secont Eern up to $3000) becoma part of a taitin and saf the best spring untimited CASHMSM. Cas Emm FAEE TRIPS ANd Unimiod CASHSS. CES NOWA TAKE A BREAK STUDENT TRAVEL (3174 ( 600 ) 320 -save (Boston)  Roommates

Giad Studert seekiry same of responsibla parsan to share nite 2-bdrm flat on Lancaster Avo. $250 471 -8514 bmow sam.

FOR RENT

Apartments
GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Sudio apt. 2 bedrom aportrivents. Al utitimes included Siccurect

 mparmert Paxing al ustitios inchutw Gad prosescional prelarmed 478-2642. Ako qielt roomb

2-Bedroon hower thet. Euchid ney Westese Screened porch oflstert pering Privato yarc $3540.682-5823$.
 Of street parking, Laundry, clean, large. rassoratho 474-6791.
FOA RENT: 3 BEDRCOM APNATMENT WESELH

FAll 1 SPRING accepum Senior 8 Gration maio & temato siuberits to Semior soveratuate maio & femato siuberts to lal sevmal abdim modell $$ 230.00$ : Designerroplicie model $$ 32500$ $A D$ are locinod nexi to E.S.F. Carmpus on Oakland and Sxandian Sts. Those apantronts are in an ax

 AVAILAELE TOCAY OHEA TWO EEDRCOW APARTMENTS. Ktchen, Irvingroom, battroom bodroom($), parking taundry. utiitites ithchuded Surdan $8 oxpesers E.S.F. 3 Becromm, chan 5850 per month 637.1344
2 - 5 Betwoom A0t Exside and Ackeman Ave. Pafking taindry. Furmshod. 247\%. Marztenance. your housing needs can 446-2209.

PRNATE FUANISHED STUDN APARTMEMS Very close. Secure. Oulat. Cappetec. Air

 Call MOFGAN-FOBEFTS FEEAL ESTATE to ctact out our lige salucion Romember, we have the coss meverarmence morvice on the hi flus elose in fity furnishod accomanoderions of all sices. Call

Houses
Larpe, beawith roors in a rawly morrodetiod mansion oftstreor parting thundry a minuta walk to camput $$ 300.4225$ inc. Atro desiratio room

PERSONALS

 dati party th was a biant You pirs ero amazion Lers do itgin soon. Love, the sisters and plocyeve of Sigria Keppra custont T-Shinsi Cupal Glasmarsi AND monal For Liss Cal STum Lester Dount LECOVATIONS 1.800-859-7746.

 Phi Psi, 3rd placi ATO anci Gamma Phi Greal Jobl Jexier. Grab a chare was amesome! That you very nuch ior a gray night Low the siziors and Mandi and Nicole- Goow luck on your Fing Advarmartar and bont forgen red dog. there's mo We love youl DU. What a night We partiod our paymas on sisters and plodgnes of AXCO.

To the Fristeo fing men of Kappa Sigme- Boy Did yes pet dirt on us! Thatis for makury oiz tas Frisbea Fling so untorperabie! Donl be strangers Love, your AX coaches, tanice & Deboie.
Hats on to Amy Paice! Thanks tor making the date party a tantaste nigha lo everyenal XI love the sisters and plocipes of AXiD.
Sonng Ersak: Cancurs Bahanas from $$ 259.00$ in group. Eam trea top. 1-800-BEA-CHIf
ILOVE YOU
Robort Guest II
ILOVE YOU
Aways.
Cynthia ©.

Thark you AEPTi Mornsi i was a spucial wook of fun and givis nolit down to the very lasp lick tove the Flocgess of AEPhi

Kappa Apha Thuna- Sony in's lava buy tre 200 rip was awreoma. Thanis to till the fur. Thi Erothers ard Associates of Lanbida Crii Apha
To a a tha CPhiE aiztift and plocions: Tharks for treping me itmacht a wery hart inne. You guys ave Trebping ine timatint werf the hessl Low. Tracay.
Emretio Conpratulations on the lasting commation whate so proue of youl choose and mod Good toth on te mbelil Love jorplo and

SERVICES

TYPNG: tasp fiopitbie, acrerate No jot wos smul $i$ too big Cul Betsy 690.6433 .
Pawa Oivie Lassors Pik-Lp samat Ful and retresher Courses. DNONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY 476-3995.
Typing For an your typing ne ods- fontry.
 $652-5814$.

Wond Procossijge Leaer rowumot. Typhing. Fest Hotmavirid COWPUTERS & COPES, Marshin St. above Acrapolat.
masarch. Cal SHOfTSEARCH to begin your comp papors. At subjecta Ressorndin ratos 443-1311 of $483-29$ t1.
Thorsugh clearing by woman of ampltung you wart Thonsugh clearing by woman ol a cleanod. CaI $445-5576$ ater Epm .

ADOPTION

LANGGTER, HUGS, TEDDYREARS And STOCYTEAES We arricusy awat the chanco to Share our lives with an intant Let's halp each ofte
Call David and Denice collect (802)235-2312.

Adoption-Christian couplo have noom in our woss or when intare legraimencical expenses gati. Cat Drorna and Fichard coliext 914-271-5377
Adope Happly maried where coupla warts so muct to give your baby the bes of gwoytring in Call doving hornt.

1991-92 SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY INTRAMURAL SIGN UP SCHEDULE TEAM SPORTS:  Oct. 7  Oct. 14  Oct. 14  Oct. 14  Oct. 28  Oct. 15  Oct. 18  Oct. 18  Oct. 18  Nov. 1

Oct. 25

NAKED MAN

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

I.IFE AS A POPSICLE

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

 WHO'S IN CHARGE OF THE MUPPETS NOW. COUKD YOU TELL US, WHERE KERMIT IS?
B

BY PAUL MILLER

BY FAJITA PARTY
THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN
BY JAMES

COMICS ARCHIVES (SU ZOO):BY FRANK CAMMUSO

THE DARK SIDE BY HIGHLANDER

THE YOOTHA FILE
BY LOP LOI

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

WORM TV BY WALLY THE BEAVER

The Panhellenic Association will be taking orders for  "Whatever the Letter We're all Greek Together"  T-shirts.  In the Schine Student Center TODAY from $10 \mathrm{am}-4 \mathrm{pm}$ the cost is $\$ 10$ per shirt.

World Hunger Week

 Video SeriesOctober 15, 18, 21 & 22

> 12:05 p.m. Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel

Tuesday, Ocfober 15- "Hope is the Last Thing to Die"- Strect children and youth of Sao Bernardo to Compo. near Sao Pauto, Brazil. desceribe their lives and deans.
Reflected here are bolt their desteration and their brave hapes.

Eriday, Ocfober 18- "Consuming HungerShaping the Image" - What happened to the images of starving Africans once they become part of our tetevision culture?
Monday, Ocrober 21- "The Challenge to End Hunger"- Peopic from the Third World addt their voices to thase Food First analysts in encouraging viewers to recognize and confront the symemic cawses of hunger, such as export-oriented agriculture and many forieg aid prozrums.

Tuesday, October 22. "A Woman Named Mary" - Dramatization of a divorced molner. newly poor. who tells wh why she no longer frels atecpted in our churches and hames.
She shares the facts she has lecrned about the poverry of women.

Sponsored by she Office of the Dean of Hendricts Chapel John A.'.'young President and EED of Hewlett-Packard Company

1991 Recipient of the Douglas D. Danforth Award for Quality in Manufacturing

TROUBLE

Conlinced from Page 20

Offensively, East Carolina presented Syracuse with different looks the Orangemen weren't expecting.

Early in the game, the Pirates dumped the ball off underneath and were content with short passes to either their tight end or a back. ECU tight end end or a back. ECU tight end for 86 yards.
"Our game plan was to run the underneath things," said Blake, who was 23 -of- 40 for 324 yards. "We saw they used a lot of zone blitzes and that cleared out the underneath in and out patterns."

Pasqualoni said giving up the short passes aggravated the SU defense.
"We got frustrated," Pasqualoni said. "They started bringing the ball shallow in front of us. Linebackers started to jump the shallow guy and then they run the deeper guy behind him. There's a space between the shallow linebacker and the deep drop safety and bango. they throw it in there."

NOTES

Continued from Page 20
And, while Fiesta Bowl representative Phil Mott, a member of the bowl's board of directors, said the loss hurt Syracuse's chances, he isn't about to make a premature judgerment.
tAs far as winning and losing Aoes, wed rather see them win." goes, wed rather see them win.
Mott said. "But it's too early to say what effect it will have. No option

The Syracuse offense is based on the trap option, but against East Carolina the Orangemen were the ones who were trapped.

Entering the game, Syracuse was averaging 183.6 yards per game, but the Pirates held the Orangemen to just 66 yards on the ground Saturday.

It was the lowest rushing output for SU since the reason's final game against Miami last year. The Orangemen totaled

The Pirates used the underneath pattern in the first half as Blake threw for 136 yards. The Pirates gained only 37 yards rushing in the first half as they trailed SU 20-10 at intermission.

The Syracuse defense made some adjustments to combat the underneath game at halftime, but the Pirates' first three plays of the second half were indicative of how unsuccessful the adjustments were. The SU defense was called for a holding fense was called for a holding penalty and then Blake completed passes of 22 yards and eight yards.
"We made some adjustments," Coyle said. "We thought we had ourselves in a good position coming out of halftime, but we just never seemed to stay, on track the whole second half."

ECU ran for 62 yards in the second half as Blake continued
"They didn't run the ball practically (at all) in the second half"" Young said. "They went up in the air. Maybe we should have realized that and defended the pass a little more than we did."

Despite the Pirates' sporadic rumning attack, it was a rush which decided the game.
only 47 yards in the $33-7$ loss to the Hurricanes at the Orange Bowl.

Big passers

East Carolina quarterback Jeff Blake's 324-yard passing performance marked the third time this season an opposing quarterback has thrown for over 300 yards in a game against 300 yards in a game against $S U$. It is the first time in SU. It is the first time in Syracuse bistory three quarterbacks have reached the 300 yard plateau in a single season.

Earlier in the year. Florida's Shane Matthews and Florida State's Casey Weldon threw for 347 yards each.

Blake also sei the Pirates: single-season passing mark in just the sixth game of the year. Blake has thrown for 1,602 yards on the year, surpassing yards on the year, surpassing his own mark of 1,510 yards set his own mar last season.
ast season.
Blake'sopposite number, SU's Marvin Graves, completed 20 -of-

On a 1 st-and- 10 play from the SU 43-yard line, Blake cut left and spun to find open field. He got a key block at the 15 -yard line and then plowed into the end zone for the eventual game winning score.
"The touchdown run was a new play they put on," Pasqualoni said. "We had the play defended. The amazing thing was he couldn't get the ball to (receiver) Dion Johnson, who was behind Greg Walker. He pulled it down and hit a seam añd boom he was gone. seam and boom he was gone.
As the play unfolded we felt great. He pulled it down and urt us."
The Syracuse defense found itself in the most trouble on third down conversions. The Pirates were 9 -of-17 on third down, but converted in 3rd-and-25, 3rd-and-9, and 3rd-and-11 situations in the second half which served to further frustrate the $S U$ defense
"I hope this isn't the level we keep playing at," outside linebacker Garland Hawkins said. When you get them in 3rd-and24 and they convert, you have to wonder what the hell is happening. We have to take it back and re-evaluate what we're doing. Something's got to work better."
25 passes for a carcer-high 295 yards. His 20 completions were the most for a Syracuse quarterback since Todd Norley completed 21 passes against Rutgers in 1984.
Arm and hammer
Blake's strong passing arm may have been rough on the Orangemen's secondary on Saturday, but he said the'd like to get even tougher with some other people.
"We always say people try to doubt us." Blake said. "They try tol stab you in the back. I don't like that. I sucker punch people like that.

Blake shouldn't have a problem with representatives of the AP poll this week.

The Pirates are ranked 23rd in this week's poll. It is the first time East Carolina has been ranked since it was rated No. 20 in the last week of the 1983 season.

Freida High-Tesfagiorgis Chair and Professor of Afro-American Studies University of Wisconsin-Madison

will present a lecture titled:

"Voices and the Marks of Self-Empowerment: Black Women Artists in the United States and Africa"

Wednesday, October 16, 1991
at 4:00pm
Spector Room - Bird Library

Inquiries should be addressed to: Department of African American Studies 200 Sims Hall 443-4302

BLANK

Continued from Page 20 Greg Gardill for a 15 -yard loss. The Orangernen were left with a 42-yard field goal attempt, but John Biskup, who beat East Carolina two years ago in the final seconds of SU's 18-16 win, missed the kick, capping the futile drive. "We've (made goal line stands) before," Gardill said. "We just attacked them.'

Attack is a word that has been missing from the Orange. men's offensive vocabulary in the past few weeks.
The Syracuse defense covered for the offense by shutting out Tulane, 24-0, two weeks ago. Against Florida State, SU only garnered 51 yards in the second hair during the top-ranked Seminoles' 46-14 win.
"We have to ask ourselves, "Why are we not focusing when we should be?" Ismail said.
In the first half, SU's offernse looked to be a crystal clear image of the unit that scored image of the unit that scored 38 points against Forida.
The Orangemen scored with just 47 seconds remaining before halftime on a 40-yard touchdown pass from Marvin Graves to reserve receiver Antonio Johnson.
"Marvin just threw it out there as far as he could, and thank God I had the speed to catch up to it," Johnson gaid. "It built up a lot of momentum going into halftime."

The Orangemen's momenturn was eliminated in the second half, however, as the Orangemen gained just 13 yards rushing after halftime and totaled just 66 yards for the garne.
The Pirates also did a good job of disrupting Syracuse's passing game, despite a career-high 295 yards by Graves on 20 -of- 25 passing.

Graves was sacked three times and pressured all day by a blitzing, attacking Pirates defense.

And, according to Jones, Graves may want to look into a health plan if recent patterns continue.
"I know he got a beating last week (against Florida State)," Jones said, "but I don't think it was as bad as this week."

According to Syracuse fullback Marcus Lee, the Orangeback Marcus Lee, the Orange-men's mental state is taking a men's mental state is taking a beating
"I'm just real confused about things right now." Lee said. "Coach $P$ told us we have to start from scratch again. We have to re-evaluate our goals."

EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!
$\star$ INDOOR PARKING $\pm$ SAME DAY ADVANCE TIGKETING $\star 12$ MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM $\quad$ DOLBY STEAEO * PLUSH SEATING (with cup holders) * WIDE ROW SPACING

ERNEST PG HON-THUR. 130, 3:40, 6:10, 8:10, $10: 30$ FRANKIE & JOHNNY $R$ MOM-THUR. $1=$ P0, $3: 30,8,40,9=20$ SHATTERED R MON-THUR z=70, 4:50, 7:50, 1e:15

DECEIVED PG13
MON-TMUR. $1: 40,4: 40,6=00,10=20$
THE FISHER KING $R$ MON.THER 12:45, 4:50, 6:50, 9:50

DEAD AGAIN $R$
MON-THUR $12=50,9=0,8=20,9 \times 0$

Saturday, October 26

9a.m.-10a.m. in A1 NCCI

A review session will be held on Wednesday, October 16, at 5 p.m. in 254 NCCII. This is the last exam offered this semester. Passing grade needed for admission into NEW 205 and TRF 245. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.  \title{
S.I. Newhouse School of  \title{
S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications Public Communications  GRAMMAR, PUNCTUATIONS, AND SPELLING EXAM
}

SUBURBAN COMMANDO PG
FREDDY'SDEAD R
 NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PG 13
 SHOUT PG13
MON TUES. THURL $1 * 45,4 \neq 0,720,0: 45$ RICOCHET R
 THE SUPER $:$
 PARADISE PG13 FOTAS CINERIAS I2 ATCAROUSEI. CENTER LOCATKD ABOVE THE FOODCOURT

HALLOWEEN

 HEADQUARTERSWe carry Syracuse"s most complete line of Costumes, Masks, Makeup, Beards, Hats, Halr Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Disguise KIts, Decoretions (lndoor & Outdoor), Novelties,

RENTAL COSTUMES

```
Hours: M.-S. 9-9:45
Sur. 11-5:45
```

VARIETY STORE
4902 SO. BAY RD., NORTH SYRACUSE

Ten Minutes From The Univaraity - 81 north - Exit 28 (Mattydalo) -Follow 3. BAY RD. Signs -Look For Switz's Tower

4

10 PIECE PACKAGE ONLY $6.31 + TAX

- 10 PIECE WING ORDER
- SMALL ORDER OF SEASONED POTATO WEDGES
- 16 oz SOUVENIR CUP OF SODA

471-SALS

FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with other SPECIALS - valid through Oct. 19,1991
Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit
VISA - MASTERCARD - CHECKS - CASH ACCEPTED

THINKING OF STUDYING IN ISRAEL?

Representatives from Tel Aviv University will visit Hillel Lounge on 15th October, 4:00 P.M., and representatives from Hebrew

University on 16th October, 7:00 P.M. Sit around, schmooz, have tea and coffee

Sponsored by Syracuse University Students for Israel, Hamagshimim, and D.I.PA.

YourStudert Fee At Work

SU loses offense again Second half problems continue for Orangemen

Syracuse University quarterback Marvin Graves runs the option in the Orangemen's 23-20 loss to East Carolina University on Saturday Graves was 20-of-25 on the day, including a career-high 295 yards but the offense again failed to score in the second half.

By DAVID J. BUSCEMA
Asst. Sports Editor
For the past three weeks the Syracuse University locker room has served as a Bermuda Triangle for the Orangemen's offensive unit.

Syracuse's latest offensive disappearing act was in the second half of the Orangemen's 23-20 loss to East Carolina in the Carrier Dome on Saturday.
For the third consecutive week, SU was shut out in the second half, this time against a Pirates defense that had been allowing 440 yards a game.

Syracuse compiled 361 yards against ECU, but, as Orange wide receiver Qadry Ismail said, SU's yardage was insignificant because it didn't have the points to go along with it.
Ismail who had six catches for said Ismail, who had six catches for 101 yards. "But we drove and didn't come up with the points.

As opposed to the past two games, in which SU's offense was ineffective in the second half, the Orangemen actually had scoring opportunities against the Pirates, but squandered them.
Syracuse reached East Carolina's drives after field on three of its five Orangemen reached the Pirates' 10 yard line but came away without any points both times.
did not take opportunities and did not take complete advantage of them," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said.

A wasted opportunity the Orangemen will not soon forget came early in the fourth quarter. Trailing 23-20.
Syracuse drove to the Pirates' 6-yard line

On 1 st-and-goal, Terry Richardson was stopped for no gain. On second down, Marvin Graves attempted a draw play and lost four yards. Graves was then sacked on the next play by

Loss forces ' $D$ ' to turn page

Syracuse defense falls prey to Blake, short pass game

By JOSH BARNEI Asst. Sports Editor

They say offense gets headlines, but defense wins football games.

The top story concerning the Syracuse University offense has been its inability to score in the second half. For the third consecutive game, the Orangemen were shut out in the second half en route to a 23-20 loss to East Carolina University on Saturday.
But it's the SU defense which is going from the front page to the classified ads. The Syracuse defense, which had allowed an average of 291 yards through the team's first four victories, gave up a school-record 642 yards to Florida State and 423 to East Carolina the past two weekends. Through the first four games.
it appeared the Orangemen, 4-2, had scrapped last season's bend-but-notbreak defensive philosophy and went to a more aggressive style.
The old style produced a loss to Tulane and ties with Pittsburgh and Michigan
The new style was initially very effective, but has fallen on hard times in the last two games.

A 46-14 loss to the top-ranked Seminoles may have been understandable, but after a loss to the Pirates, 5-1, many Orangemen were shaking their heads.

This is probably our worst performance of the year." said inside linebacker Glen Young, who had 10 tackles and a fumble recovery. "The coming together ust wasn't there like it usually is. Everyone was working as one. I just

Bowl bids still open  By DAVID I. BUSCEMA and JOSH  BARNETT  Asst. Sports Editors  While the Syracuse University Or angemen's seasion has sourred somewhat in the eyes of the Associated Press poll, bowl ecouts on hand for SU's 23-20 loss to Eiast Caroline'said SU's chances for a mibjor bopl aren't spoiled.Syiacupe, $4-2$ dropped from No. 15 to No. 4 the the ranking this week, but represematives frompthe Han of Fanie and Fie the Howl tharent erasing the 正"thond

said John Jacoles a meniber or thetral of Fame Bowrepelection cominittee thast week they got beatby the No 1 tienm in the nation
 Eove
think we could have been a little mor solid out there on our coverages. The Syracuse defensive front had been dominant in the earlier part of the season, but wore down against Florida State.
SU defensive coordinator Kevin Coyle said he didn't see the same fatigue against East Carolina.

Today the players were still giving good effort (in the second haln," Coyle said. "They were competing hard. East Carolina made some plays which determined the end of the game. It's just really disappointing because our players have worked hard to get where we are right now.
The Orangemen were able to sack ECU quarterback Jeff Blake three times, but he was able to break away on several other occasions.
"The coverage was good," said SU defensive coordinator Kevin Coyle. 'You can't keep your coverage going for five or six seconds. They did get for five or six seconds. They didget outside a hitele bit, but is a concern. Went of the big play is a concern. We've just we're doing.
Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said he was pleased with the pass rush because it disrupted Blake's rhythir.
"I thought (Blake) was hurried." Pasqualoni said. "I thought we pushed upfield. He was distracted a number of times. A number of times he had the open receiver. It was the push upfield which forced the incompletion (when he had the open receiver)."

[^19]
smancuse SCOREBOATID Sast Caroline $010,7 \quad 7 \quad 23$

Pirst quarter

Syracuse 3, East Carolina o Bisknp; 19-yard fiela goal at 6:35. Drive: 14 yarrs in 7. plays (3:29).

Syracuse 6, East Carolina 0

 Biskup. 48 -yard field goal at 0:10. Drive: 35 yards in 9 plays (3:24).
Second quarter

East Carolina 7, Syracuise 6 Driver, 5 -yard pass from Blake (Brenner kick) at 11:15. Drive 80 yards in 9 plays (3:55).
Syracuse 13, East Carolina 7
Lee 8-yard rum (Biskup kick) at 6:01. Drive: 37 yards in 5 plays ( $2: 24$ ).
Syracuse 13, East Carolina 10 Brenner, 31 -yard field goal at 1:34. Drive: 63 yards in 13 plays ( $4: 22$ ).
Syracuse 20, East Carolina 10 Johnson, 40 -yard pass from Graves (Biskup, kick) at 0:47. Drive: 64 yards in 3 plays (0:40)

Third quarter

Syracuise 20, East Carolina 13
Brenner, 40-yard field goal at 12:06. Drive: 57 yards in 9 plays (2:54).
Syracuse 20, East Carolina 16 Brenner, 51-yard field goal at 2:49: Drive: 33 yards in 9 plays (2:13).

Fourth quarter

East Carolina 23, Syracuse. 20 Blake, 43-yard run (Brenner Kick) at 12:45. Drive: 80 yards in 6 plays (2:05).

Statistics

Fast Carolina
Rushing: Blake 9-52, Van Buren 11-23, Johinison 3-11, Smith 3-9. Wilsor 1-6, Daniels 5-(-2). Passing: $\because$ Blake 23-43-0-324. Receiving: Johnson 7-136, Fisher 7-86, Driver 3-42, Gallimore 3-32. Williams 3-28.

sracuse

Rushing: Walker 11-44, Lee 6-26, Richardson7-20, Wornack 2-20, Wooten $3-4$, Graves 8-(-48) Pmssing Graves 20-25-1-295, Receiving Ismail 6-101. Gedney $4-60$. Johnson 2-55, Lee 1-23 Ferrell 1-9, Walker: 2-7, Wooten 1-0.

Playerbetíc, ganie

Jeff Blake

Bhake itheworor 324 yardsery on extyor 23. complotions He falso, ran for: 52 yards, zind the games sumping tonchdown, on, ina 43-yard fommquanco thréw rouchidown passitin the second paraties

The Symenseftense wexthintin the

The Daily Orange

Striped stride

Meredith Gabel, a senior marketing major, crosses Waverly Avenue behind Bird Library Tuesday evening.

Budget modifications scrutinized by students

By KRISTEN GERENCHER

Contributing Writer
Keeping and entaancing programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, main taining diversity and clarifying the goals of Syracuse University were some of the topics discussed at the University Senate

Inside

Classified
Comics
Editorial
Living
News Extra
Sports
12

Weather

The latest threads

Baseball caps have changed from a way to hide unwashed hair to a major fashion trend. Read about it in "To the Minute," a new fashion ute, a new fashion
column in Lifestyle.
7

Cornmittee for Academic Affairs open forum Tuesday.
The meeting was one of five open forums discussing the university's restructuring plans.
Senate Academic Affairs Chairman Jim Follain said he expects "more downsizing than consolidation in the next few months."
Representatives from the Student Government Association and the School of Architecture as well as some professors and students attended the meeting to voice their concerns and gain "maximum input," Follain said.

Several students said they would like to see Arts and Sciences keep or improve ts own programs.
"Courses shared by everyone need special consideration," one student said. special consideration," one student said. Another criterion has to be faculty/student ratio."
Diversity is key
"The key is sensitivity to variance in programs," a faculty member said. "This is a very diverse institution. Unless we're sensitive to these factors, we will make mistakes in keeping the quality."
Follain acknowledged the diversity available at SU, calling it a "unique and desirable quality."
"I think there's a great noed to clarify see ACADEMIC Page 4

Forum examines financial cutbacks

By STEVE DALY
Shati Writer
Amidst growing concerns over next Amidst growing concerns over next yearsimpending budget tightening, the Syracuse University Senate Budget and Fiscal Affairs Committee held one of five Fiscal Affairs Committee held one of five open forums Tuesday to address specific open forums Tuesday to address speci concerns of SU students and faculty.

The committee plans to use the comments and questions raised by attendants to aid in its recommendation for modifying the university-wide budget, committee spokesperson and associate dean of the School of Nursing Cecilia Mulvey said.
The current budget cycle ending after the 1994 fiscal year had pranned for a 4 percent increase in enrollment, a 5 and a $61 / 2$ percent tuition increase for the 1992-93 sehool year, Mulvey said.
Because enrollment, will likely decline. the university is attempting to gain the input of members of the university community in its budget restructuring, she said.
"We are trying to distill a report that accurately reflects the needs of everyone." she said.

The committee was willing to give everyone who attended an equal chance to speak, Mulvey said, but she refused to answer any questions.
"One question may lead to more that I don't know the answer to," she said.

Mulvey added she was disappointed there were no students present to repre sent their views.

Expressing concerns

Those who were there to address the committee expressed primary concern over potential layoffs of faculty and staff members following the reformation and downsizing of the budget.
A disgruntled speaker, accusing the university of waiting too long to take any action, said the fortums were an ill-planned. last-ditch effort to save face
"The whole formm was a backwards process," he said. "1f this had been process, he seded beforehand, as it should have projected beforehand, as it should have prepared."

Physics professor and past member of the budget committee Nahmin Horwitz the budget committee Nahmin Horwitz questioned
"My pastexceeding expenditures for the past 10 years or so. is why no one was prepared for this," he said.

He also expressed apprehension surrounding the future job security of himself and other faculty nembers.

Horwity added it was crucial for the committee to understand why the university is drastically restructuring its budget, so it can avoid future cuts.

Another speaker said the university whould take a close look at the individuals who are laid off.
"We have to keep the quality people. he said. "Instead of basing layoffs on tenure, base layofs on merit and quality of work. School of Nursing experienced a 14 percent enrollment increase in the 14 percent enroliment increase in the past year, according to Beverly Martin, a school representative. She pleaded for the committee to recognize the school's the co

The committee's report must be submitited to the Senate by Dec. 1.

Lou Marcoccia, SU senior vice presi dent of business and finance and Tan isha Tingle, committee undergraduate student representative, also represented the Budget and Fiscal Affairs Committee.

The committee is comprised of 17 members - three representatives from the administration, eight faculty mernbers, two staff members, two undergraduate students and two graduate students.

Campustelephonedirectories scheduled for arrival Friday

By WARREN CARDNER

 Contributing witier:Students and faculty waiting for the Syracuse University telephone directory may not be waiting too muich longer yaccording to Eric Dahn; minaging lirector of the phone direc toryat Drushlina:
About 150000 copies of the $1991-92$ sid phones directorys, will be distributed Friday to students and faculty at redidence halle: thi Scfine Student Centevanderdemichoridings thrugh out the campus Dahn said

The phone directory in or ochadule. Dahinisitidict the Thitoctoriestare outt two peeks entiend than tait - xeare Dahn said. The diectories winber available all over. wh EDahim zira pooplatiave to wait until the modileg October for directories becange of hat gme theres to fiter out stuph trag bod do not want their number 1wted comerbith th Su vre begin recoiving year's phone book this year.

 Whan

"I have had to ask everyone their phone numbers, and so far, most people that have wanted to reach me have had to come to my room," Cho said.
It would have been easier to have had a phonie book earlier in the year.? SUPfreshman Michael Dean also said he had tromble contacting people without an updated directory.

* ueuallyhad trouble finding phone numbers of students, if I had any questions about assignments," he said. II had to whit until the next class to find out the answer"
Ered Miller, director of advertiaing and narketing at Drumlins, said the dixectory contains phone numbers of directory contains phone numbers or iadministrativeoffices Italsion contains yadministrativeomines. thatso contains Hyyllow pages
4 MieSULPRondion
 gaidele contains white and yellow pagearand special msertsections
The ingert sectionis include prorMation on the univer int y sen, a guide $z$ to nepthurants rapa ontertainment the Sy pachat sown

World

Castro calls for more

Cuban Communism

Cuban President Fidel Castro closed a congress Monday night with an emotional cry for continued communism in Cuba even as it collapses around the world.
"There will be socialism - at any price." he said.

Castro vowed to a crowd of thousands in Santiago de Cuba that Cuban Cornmunists "will seek ways to save the country, to save the revolution, to save socialism."

The fourth Communist. Party congress made adjustments to a system struggling through the worst economy of its 32-year existence because of the loss of aid and trade with former socialist allies.

The congreas endorsed plans to tie pay to production, to encourage foreign investment and to promote hard-currency exports.

NATO prepares to cut

 warheads in EuropeNATO nations are ready to make the largest cut in European-based nuclear warheads in alliance history, but they will not eliminate them entirely Defense ministers meeting Thursday in Sicily are expected to agree on cutting the stockpile of about 3,500 nuclear artillery shells, short-range missiles and bombs to well under 1,000 .

It will be the largest reduction in formed in the 1950 s.

Nation

Thomas gets over hill,

becomes 106 th justice
It was put on hold for a week because of allegations of sexual harassment, but it came out the way the White House wanted: in favor of Clarence Thomas.

The Senate voted 52 to 48 yesterday to make Clarence Thomas the 106 th Supreme Court justice. The decision carne after a day of heated debate over the weekend's testimony from Thomas, his accuser Anita Hill and their friends and foes.

The White House said Thomas will be sworn into the empty ninth seat on the high court in a week or two.

There is no official response from Thomas yet.

His family and friends, however, are expressing their joy. They gathered in Thomas' hometown of Pin Point, Georgia.

Phones rang off the hook in senators' offices yesterday, in their home states and their offices on Capitol Hill.

The White House said they received the largest number of calls ever. All that, before the Senate had to state its judgebefore the Senate had to star ment on Clarence Thomas.

The debate began at 10:30 a.m. and the vote came at about $6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$
"A great injustice has been committed here," said Republican Senator Strom Thurmond. "The good name of a good man has been tarnished."

State

Dairy farmers hit

by feed shortage

In addition to low milk prices, some New York dairy farmers are facing another hardship: shortages of hay and corn.

A drought stunted crop growth during the summer, leaving some farmers without enough feed to last the winter.
The situntion is worst along the Southern Tier and in the western part of the state.

Central New York farmers, for the most part, reported average harvests of hay and corn. These farmers will be able to help in other parts of the state, according to a state agriculturist.

Dinkins orders inquiry

into city hospital system
Mayor David N. Dinkins ordered a blue-ribbon investigation of New York City's hospitals in part because of a City's hospitals in part because of a Karning that there were proble Kings County Hospital, nides said.
The warning came from Stanley Lowell, a lawyer Dinkins asked to investigate the hospital after Yankel Rosenbaum, a Hasidic student, died in August after receiving poor emergency health care, according to state officials.
Lowell suggested that the inquiry be spread to other hospitals and that a well-known physician lead the investigation.
Dinkins promised the commission will "take a hard look at the entire hospital

University

Distinguished lecturer

speaks on Thursday
Dr- Donna E. Shalala, chancellor of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will deliver the fifth annual Harry $S$. and Elva K. Ganders Distinguished Lecture Thursday, Oct. 17 at 4:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium at Syracuse University.
She will deliver an address titled America's Most Influential Citizens: What's Wrong With This Picture."
She will speak about the abandonment of the nation's most at-risk children and issue a challenge for advocacy to business, education and government.
She says children "are invisible to our political leaders: They cannot vote, organize or lobby.

Shalala says the educational system recognizes poor children, but only selecrecognizes poor children, but only selectively. "We give the schools that teach our poor the least suopprt," she says.
"Few people in higher education have been as forceful in the process of educational change and as committed to issues of equity as Dr. Shalala," according to Vincent Tinto, professor in the School of Education's Department of Cultural Foundations and Curricuium, and chairman of the Ganders Lecture Series committee.

Shalala earned a Ph.D. from the Maxwell School of Citizenship at SU in 1970. She became the first woman to lead a Big-10 university when she was named chancellor in 1988.

H2

Volunteer.

American Heart
American Heart
Newa: 443-2127
Pditorial: 443-2128
Lifentyle: 443-2128
Sporta: 443-2208
ButincaldAdvertianirg: 443-2314
(Mon-Fri $8=30$ anme $-4: 30 \mathrm{p}-\mathrm{m}$ )

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University's independent atudent-run newrpaper publiahed Monday through Friday.
The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campusea.
The editorm are available aftor 3 p.m. Sunday through Thuraday.

Thursday

Thursday, too, will be mostly sunny with highs in the 60s. In Florida, on the other hand, folks will be watching out for Hurriwane Fabian. If you're worried sbout it, you can call the Weather Channel's $1-900$ hurricane hotline (not to be confused with the Fall Foliage Hotline).

Weekend

Friday will bring a chance of rain. However, Saturday and Sunday promise to be sunny and clear - a perfect weekend for apple picking or for simply enjoying the fall.

WEATHER

Lookin' good

-Don't let this morning's rain discourage you- By the afternoon, the skies will have cleared up and the sun will shine. High temperatures will be in the low 50 s . Tonight will be clear and cold with lows in the low 30 s .

Tbdny'sguest eity: Winnemucen.Nevadu

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Washington, D.C.

News Extra

The Daily Orange

Faculty members meet to address downsizing   By SHELLA DOUGHERTY   By SHELLA DOUGHERTY  There is also concern about whether Administrators might have wanted "input from various campus sources," but one of those sources seemingly had previous engagements Tuesday night.

The Syracuse University Senate Committee on Academic Freedom, Tenure, Promotions, and Affirmative Actions held a forum in the Schine Student Center.

About 12 faculty members attended the forum, which was one of five held Tuesday, to discuss issues surrounding university restructuring, budget cuts and how they could affect the univer sity's faculty and staff.

No students attended this forum
Mike Sickler, a representative of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, said he is concerned with issues involving curriculum and students.
"We have some basic problems with philosophy and aesthetic issues ... that will cause student flight," he said.

Other issues affected by restructuring and downsizing have to do with faculty and tenure, Sickler said.
Effects of downsizing
"We have faculty governing issues, we downsizing will have an effect on untenured professors, he said.
"There should be no intimidation of young untenured faculty to resign," Sickler said.
Kay Wiggins of the College of Nursing and the Women's Studies Department addressed the affirmative action committee on issues concerning women and minorities.
"My concern arises from the observation that four of the six colleges identified as category three have high percentage of women and underrepresented minorities," Wiggins said. sion of the university," she said.

Ruth Wynn of the affirmative action committee read a statement from a representative of the School of Social Work who was unable to attend the forum. forum.
"I am greatly concerned that restructuring of the university is proceeding with attention being paid almost exclusively to budgetary matters," the statement said. "If this is the case, Syracuse University may end up being consistently less diverse than it is presently."
The statement also expressed concern for jobs currently held by women and minorities.
See STAFF Page 4

cruitment issues," he said.  Student open forum discusses admissions, financial aid

By KATE FLATLEY

Redefining alternative admission, de veloping financial aid and retention of students were topics discussed at an open forum on students and admissions, and financial awards.

The forum was one of five held Tuesday to discuss the university's restructuring.

University Senate Students Committee Chairman John Oldfield opened the forum by asking for points of intere that the audience wanted addressed

Mike Nilan from the School of Information Studies brought up the topic of alternative admission to the university.

He requested that the committee reinterpret the status of alternative admission to ITS, considering that the school has one of the highest retention rates of SU's 14 schools and colleges. He said the school should receive more publicity.

The committee discussed the problem of financial aid to students.

Tom Cummings, of the Office of Enrollment Management and Continuing financial aid is to spend more money on

A raise in tuition, he said, would go toward two areas: financial aid and compensating faculty and staff.
Tuition's effects
Senate representative Joe Shields said a raise in tuition affects all students, while most of the financial aid is allotted to first year students, causing a heavier financial burden.

David C. Smith, dean of admissions and financial aid, said $8^{1 / 2}$ percent of students eligible to return to SU do not.

The discussion shifted into an extensive discussion on ways to keep retention high.
Barbara MacDermott, an administrator from the College of Nursing, suggested more student involvement in college specific activities.
"If the numbers are declining, we have to concentrate on keeping the ones we have," she said.
Emily Zenick, SGA president, suggested a university-wide effort to involve gested a university-wide eforted that the students and faculty. She added that the university should of student groups.
"A university-wide effort to get as much involvement in academic and public service organizations from all students as there is in the greek system. would be a great help to retention," Nilan said.
Donald Marchand, dean of information studies, suggested a holistic approach to university restructuring. Integrating the academic, student services, and residential life aspects of the university into one problem to be solved removes the issue of students falling through the cracks in the system, he said.
It would be impossible for the university to succeed without a fully-developed sense of purpose, said Sidney Greenblatt, of the Office of International Services Smith concluded the meeting by expressing his disappointment with what he called a poor turnout. He said he had been approached by many students rebeen approached by many students reforums, but few took advantage

Members of the university senate committees on curricula, instruction and research conduct one of the five forums held Tuesdey night tion and research conduct one of the five forums held Tuesday night ## in the Dean's Conference Room in the Hall of Languages.  Senate committee probes budget cuts

By IACK CHAN

Balancing teaching, research and education will be some of the issues confronting Syracuse University as it looks to cut $$ 28$ million over the next five years, members of the University five years, members of he Universing
Senate committees on curricula, inSenate committees on curri struction and research said.

About 20 people met Tuesday night in the Hall of Languages to discuss ideas on restructuring SU's curriculum and gather information which the committee will present to the University Senate.

The report will be submitted to the chancellor.
The forum consisted of departmental professors from various schools and focused on building the university's research programs.
Three committee chairmen conducted the meeting: James Price, curriculum; Thomas Martin, instruction; and Douglas Biklen, research.
Price said he wants to foster interdisciplinary work and teaching as well.

If you want a great faculty environment, you have to have a great research program," Biklen said

He said the university must maintain its commitment to research to prevent losing professors who teach introductory courses.
Biklen questions what criteria the university should use to decide what type of research it will encourage and what research it will cut.
The possibility of merging programs was also discussed.

The barriers in this university from school to school and college to college are immense," Martin said.

One of the things that is possible in downsizing is if we could just cooperate a little bit more effectively from one school to another," he said.
He said he would like to get to a point where students feel they can get an education and not have to worry about school barriers.
The School of Visual and Performing Arts was also discussed.
"We feel that there isn't really an "The approach taken and the agenda of those departments are very different." "If
"If you integrated those programs. the integrity of those programs will be sacrificed," he said.

However, the idea of sharing and opening up of all schools was favored by the committee
Senior VPA student Joanna Spitzner said she thinks one thing to look at is trying to get professors who are doing research to share it with the undergraduates, especially with freshmen and sophomores.
"You have to bring the research in right from the beginning and it shouldn't wait until they're juniors or seniors or graduates.'she said.

POLICEBRIEESHKX

A policestrporytated

Chx A Phat a a perntyshonse Mon dax zoplicenepoit atated.
onanomle said he anda fiond were Whting from Marshali Street: when stated stated $t$ thting sala ba went to workout entZ p in. gin eecured hig locker with aremphation lock when be rea cond the lock andethe tockers torntod the tere nimsink a puatided lemither belt a leather ohoch,

The victim said hemay have lost his wallet lait Wednesday at the Schine Student Center:

Police said an unknown suspect used Citibant Visi' cand from the wed Chtibank Visa card from the winnown reative ant and E clothing storest
The Buspect alsonsed an sUBookitorei credit card to chiarge about $$ 290$ at the Goldation Student Center:

PThe victim whe notified by the Denitt Potionke that the , or credit cindentop formo ing strext

The Daily Orange
October 16, 1991

SPECLAE DF THEE WREK 10 PIECE PACKAGE ONLY $$ 6.31$ + TAX

- 10 PIECE WING ORDER

: SMALLORDER OFSEASONED POTATO WEDGES

- 16 oz SOUVENIR CUP OF SODA

471-SALS

FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY Not vald with other SPECIALS - valld through Oct. 19,1991 Valld on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit
VISA - MASTERCARD CHECKS. CASHACCEPTED

STAFF

Continued from Page 3 "Ethnic and racial minorities and women have been the last hired and will probably be the first to go unless some aggressive action is taken," the statement said.

Sickler also addressed cur-

ACADEMIC  Continued from Page 1

the goals of the school," Follain said.

He said his committee must "improve articulation of terms," decisions, quality, centrality and demand.
"I get a strong feeling that quality and centrality have been under-represented in the report," Follain said, referring to the Chancellor's Ad Hoc Committee Reports issued on Sept. 16 and 30.
"We need more clear signals Sickler said. "Who will be the dean and chair of new combined programs?"

Wiggins said main course offerings in the College of Nursing and women's studies are and there is too much emphasis on demand," he said. "We're focusing now on the idea of intersection."

Although the audience raised concerns about the "need to be specific," Follain said the three criteria can be effective "by the way the three are ranked."

Diane Murphy, director of the Women's Studies Program and a professor in the School of here is frustration, The senute here is frustration. The Senate is seen by the chancellor as the gate to the committee.
heavily dependent upon faculty from other colleges. She said the from other colleges. She said the downsizing of these colleges could darnage these programs.
"If these units are downsized without consideration of the women's studies curriculum, the program could be severely damaged," Wiggins said.
"They are supposed to write and forward our input instead of listening passively," she said. Eric Jacobson, of SGA, said students can "voice their opinions by writing a letter to the vice chancellor (Gershon Vincow)."

Follain said he encourages students to take an active role in their education by "submitting something in writing."

Letters will be accepted until Nov. 13, when the Committee for Academic Affairs will submit a final report to the Senate.

Become a Student Cardmember today and get 3 roundtrips on Continental Airlines, for only $129 or $189 each.
Only the American Express* Card offers an exciting travel program exclusively for studenis-including three roundirip certificates on Continental Airlines. And much, much more.

Just look at the map and pick the place youd like to visit. If it's on your side of the Mississippi River, you can use a certificate to fly for only $$ 129^{*}$ roundtrip. Or you can cross the Mississippi for $$ 189$ rounderip.

You have your pick of more than 150 cities in the 48 contiguous states. And you can fly al most anytimebecause there are no blackout dates. But you must make your reservations within lí days of the day you leave. And the maximum stay is 7 days $/ 6$ nights and must include a Saturday night.

Alembersbip Has lts Privileges

By becoming a Student Cardmember, you'll also enjoy other benefits from the American Express ${ }^{*}$ Student Privileges" Program. Such as up to 30 minutes of MCI long-distance calling every month for an entire year-absolutely free. And that's just one example of how the Card can help you save.

For just $$ 55$ a year, the Card gives you all these savings. And it's easy to apply Just call us (have your bank address and account number on hand). What's more, with our special student offer, it's easier to get the Card now while youre still in school than it may ever be again.

So ger the Card. And get ready to cover new territory on either side of our Grear Continental Divide.

Editorial

Hearings destroy Hill  The Senate Hearings involving the  Hill is not so lucky. The Senate alleged sexual harassment of Anita Hill destroyed her life. If she was not a woman scorned before this process, she is now.

Hill is no longer a prominent professor of good repute. She will be regarded as the hussy who tried to nail Clarence Thomas to the judicial cross.

Thomas will bounce back. The questions raised in these hearings will likely blow over faster than people expect. Give it a month and people will no longer wonder whether Thomas lied under oath to the country he will now preside over.

Take a journey back in senatorial history for a similar case.

Before Hugo Black was appointed to the Supreme Court, there were questions about whether he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. His stellar performance on the bench overshadowed these earlier doubts and he went on to earn a reputation as a staunch guardian of civil liberties. Thomas, the second black Supreme Court justice, has the opportunity to do the same. He has a hard act to follow in liberal champion Thurgood Marshall, but at least he has a shot at redemption.
decided long before the hearings that Hill's complaint was irrelevant. When the Senate finally dealt publicly with Hill's complaint, it ended up confirming Thomas and sending this message, whether accurate, to the public: Anita Hill was not believed.

When it comes down to it, a credible man's word still carries more clout than a credible woman's. Specifically, it came down to a credible professor versus an apparently more credible judge.

The scary precedent this decision sets is that women may now be wary of coming forth with such cases. Since this credible woman was not believed, other women think they will not be either.

The vote wound up 52-48. Many people attribute the tight vote to the sexual harassment hearing. But Thomas was a doubted candidate (who refrained from commenting on anything remotely controversial) long before Anita Hill took the stage.

Hill's hearing did not threaten to take away Thomas' appointment - it served as the Senate's good old boy network way of appearing impartial and concerned before rubber stamping Thomas' approval.

Mixed emotions on alcohol awareness

Before you immediately dismiss Alcohol Awareness Week by thinking that you are already aware of alcohol, and you have no problems with it, think about the meaning of the week.
Anybody who denies that an alcohol problem exists on campus is either incredibly blind or actually is an alcohol abuser.

BARRY STARK

NAKED

TRUTH

I have to be critical, though, of the suggested activities on the Alcohol Awareness Week cards in dining centers throughout campus.

Here is a conversation that could occur this week arnong four fictional Syracuse University students, Bud, Butch, Mack, and Skipper.
"Hey guys, what do you want to do tonight?" asked Bud.
"Want to go to Chuck's?" replied Putch.
"No. It's Alcohol Awareness Week. Let's do something else tonight," said Mack.
"Well, I'm going to grow plants," said a determined Skipper.

You know. Ive always wanted to run a marathon. I'm going to do it tonight," Bud said firmly.
"Yeah. I think I'll stay in and catch up on my needlework," said Butch.
"Does making popcorn sound like fun?" asked Mack.

In other words, you can not suggest activities like those and expect skeptical college students like myself not to have a little fun with them.

Nevertheless, I fully support Alcohol Awareness Week. The entire SU community should be more enlightened when the week is finished. be more enlightened when the week is finished.

-

LETTERS

Issues change meaning of terms  the editor:  culturally and historically it  strange and baffling that in

I must thank The Daily Orange for realizing the importance of multi-cultural education and. in this context, publishing my article in the Oct. 1 issue on the importance of Syracuse University setting up a program or department

In an era of collapsing
In an era of collapsing boundaries and increasing international competition, every country has to maximize its human resources and its human resources and develop more knowledge of different ethnic and racial groups, for ultimately it is the people behind the organization or the technology that makes the society work.

However. I would like to point out a few possibly inadvertent errors made in my article. Firstly. I had used the term Native American(s) throughout my article, for is a much more accurate term For some editorial reason, possibly in the "inputing" possibly in the "inputing" process, the term "Native process, the term "N American has been substituted by the term substituted by the term paragraph except one line on paragraph four. It is important that we maintain both cultural and academic sensitivity to this issue, and that such a mistake is avoided in the future.

Secondly, there was a typographical error made in my original title for the article, which appears in the DO as a which appears in the DO as a subtitle, ${ }^{\text {In Search for Spock" }}$ subtitle, "In Search for Spock". The correct title I provided was "In Search of Spock".
Finally, it is important to make one additional point omitted from the article in the editorial process. Is it not

121 years, from the university's founding in $1870, S U$ has developed only two courses developed only two co dealing with Native Americans? This surely is the worst case of myopia that we can suffer from. If the university's motto is "Knowledge Crowns Those Who Seek Her," what has happened all these years to those who are supposed to seek?

George S. George
Dept. of Sociology

Editor's Note: The term

"American Indion" is stylistically correct, according to the Associcted Press. The Daily Orange follows AP Pstyle rules and changed the term to maintain consistency wilh that

LETTERS

Save your efforts

To the editor:
This letter is in response to your "Toughest Job" Peace Corps story in the Sept. 23 issue of The Daily Orange. I would urge all people interested in promoting economic development in the underdeveloped and overexploited world to look at other options than the Peace Corps.

It has been my experience in researching the in researching the organization, speaking to its organization, speaking to its volunteers and living in Central Volunteers and living in fimerica witnessing its operations that this seemingl altruistic organization is for most practical purposes a public relations front to hide the real historic code of the United States' foreign policy - the control over economic resources and manipulating of political institutions to preserve an economic order favorable to American capital My point is. if you want to work for justice, don't let your boss be a giant impediment to such a goal. Don't waste your effort and potential in the Peace Corps when other options are available that don't carry the negative luggage of U.S. imperialism.

I imagine that many people will contest my appeal. To them I ask the following questions: why is it that the Peace Corps have been kicked out of certain countries for spying, or that the United States refuses to send volunteers to countries that don't see eye to eye with Washington? Can you name one "third world" country that is no longer dependent on U.S. loans and western banking institutions as a result of United States initiatives to "help them out." Ifour selfproclaimed mission is to use the market to help the Africans, Asians, and IndioAmericans "develop" themselves and overcome their poverty, then why has this mission only increased the levels of dependency and deprivation?

My conclusions can be that either the capitalist road to development has been one of actually blocking sustainable and equitable growth or the government has been using altruistic rhetoric and programs like the Peace Corps as a smokescreen. I would argue both are true.

So to the prospective Peace Corps volunteers, check out books like Alternatives to the Peace Corps. There are literally hundreds of non-governmental organizations that sponsor similar programs across the globe-the difference being their purpose in not a selective politically motivated project, politically motivated project, but a sincere commitment to independent development and independent development and equitable relations between the equitable relations between

Ben Tupper
raduate student

The Daily Orange  Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971

CAROUSEL CENTER CINEMAI2 466-5678
EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!
$\star$ INDORA PARKING $\star$ SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING

Library offers

free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19.
The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find ices. Experienced users can find collections in the renovated licollecti
For
For more information, call 443-1943.

Concert pianist

to give recital
Robert Weirich, music director of the Skaneateles Festival, will give a solo recital on Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church, 94 E. Genesee St., Skaneateles.

445-1294  .4467 E. Genesee Street Dewit, NY OPEN: TU-SAT 9-6 SUN 8-3/WED & THURS 9am-9pm

THIS SUMMER, YOI CAM...

- Choose from over 1,000 courrses.
- Stucy writh a distinguäthed faculty.
- Live In Creemwith Village for as Iftile

Make the NYU Summ part of your yearpart of your yearround plan. Call us today toll ree at 1800-248-4NYU, ext. 232, or send in the coupon.

1992 Calendar

Sexion L:
May 26-Muly 3
Sendon It:
July 6 -August 14
as $$ 100$ per six-week session.

: Pease send me a FRIE 1992 S Lunner Sessions Bulletin.
thy area of titerest is ———ndergaduate

Weirich will perform works by Bach, Mozart, Chopin and Rachmaninoff. It will be followed by a dessert reception.
Tickets will be $$ 10$ at the door. For more information, call 685-7148.

Artists sought for Art Invitational

Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a competition of donated art works. Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New Yroadc York.
Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the 10th Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Oct.

18 will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.
For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

Community Choir

 seeks membersThe Syracuse Community Choir is seeking members for the annual Solstice Concert. including songs from the traditions of Hanukkah, Christmas, Kwanzaa and Winter Solstice Rites.
Rehearsals begin on Oct. 30 at the Euclid Community Open House (ECOH) at Euclid and Westcott Streets. People of all abilities are welcome and no auditions are necessary. For more information, call 4637728.

GDIESS EXid free Admission for Ladies

The University Bookstore SCHINE STUDENT CENTER

 Mon.- Fri. 8:30-6:00, Sat., 10:00-5:00Ml. Olympus, South Campus, Lawrinson. Brewster/Boland Mon.-Thurs. 12:00-8:30, Fri.-Sun. 12:00-5:00

Living

Cultareck

Video collectors seeking Silver  Now that the name of porn character Long Dong Silver has been dragged through the mud of the Clarence Thomas confirmation hearings, video stores are being deluged with requests for tapes featuring the character.But it turns out that those videos are out of print. including 1983's Electric Blue With Long Dong Silver. Club International magazine featured a photo layout of Silver in a 1982 edition, but it too is out of orint.

Foxx's death

won't cancel series
The untimely death of comedian Redd Foxx, 68. last week has prompted CBS to pull tonight's episode of his new series The Royal Family.

Foxx died Friday at Queen of Angels Hollywood Presbyterian Medical Center after suffering a heart attack at Paramount studios while rehearsing for The Rowal Familv.

But Paramount Television. which produces the show, says The Royal Fromily will stay alive. Speculation Family will stay alive. Speculation on possible replacements for Foxx on possible replacements for Foxx have ranged from Sherman Hemsley have ranged from Sherman Hemsley iAmen. The Jeffersonst to John Amos Good Times).

NBC cancels

news shows

NBC announced last week that it was canceling two Friday night news programs. Real Life With Jane Pauley and Expose, hosted by Torn Brokaw. New episodes of Matlock will take New episodes of Matiock will take NBC said the low-rated news programs will be merged into an hourlong newsmagazine and reintroduced later in the season. Plans call for later in the season. Plans call for Pauley to remain host, but Brokaw Pauley to remain host, but Brokaw will not be joining her- Speculation is high that "Scud stud" Arthur Kent may be the other anchor of the show.

NBC also sent two of its new low-rated sitcoms into hiatus. Man of the People, starring James Garner, and Paciffc Station, starring Robert Guillaume, will have their last broadcasts on Oct. 27.

Phoenix discusses innocence lost

In the Novernber issue of Details magazine, River Phoenix, 21, talks about his new film My Private Idaho, in which he plays a hustler. He also says he lost his virginity at the age of Phoenix told the magazine his partners were "kids, but I blocked it out." He also said he was "completely celibate from 10 to $14^{\text {¹ }}$ and he wished he had waited.

"I haven't had sex with many people -five or six," the young actor said.

While it is not common for males to have erections and sexual activity at that age, Dr. Theresa Crenshaw, a specialist in human sexuality in San Diego, told USA Today that it is possible. reports Syracuse University students Beth Sanders, Thomas Murphy, Dave Weiss, Tara Kneller, Jamie Kaplan, Ben Greene, Yakini Sanifu and Carlos Borrero are part of the baseball cap fad.

Let's Baseball

Baseball caps top off 'the look' for Syracuse students

The baseball cap fad has finally reached its peak.

It is impossible to describe the typical baseball cap wearer because the style itself has crossed so many barriers.

The baseball cap no longer simply

CHELSEA

SCHRENK
TO THE MINUTE

- bols, designer logos

Bassorted decorations.
In Paris last summer Aiffer regionally
In Paris last summer, American baseball team caps were all the rage. In past years, Londoners have been crazy for Stussy, a California-based clothing design company.
The latest cap fad to hit New York City is Jive, also based in California. As of yet, Jive products can only be found in one store in the tri-state area.

On campus, keep your eyes open for plaid caps, J. Crew's solid wool-caps as well as the trademark black-and-white cap designed by Agnes $B$.

Costly caps

Prices for many of these designer caps which range in price from $$ 20$ to $$ 30$, are almost double the cost of the classic cap. One popular New York City artist was selling his hand-embroidered creations for up to $$ 80$.
Often, cap wearers will prepare their hats before wearing them. For some, this means bending the brim for a good curve.

Others choose to run theirs through the wash for a worn-in look. Many people line the inside of their wool caps with tissue to prevent hair damage.

Everyone wants a cap that's unique. That is why brand names like Stussy and Jive have taken their own original See MINUTE Page 8

Big boy faces fear of fat future  Guess what. I'm really fat.

I know that doesn't seem like the type

RON HART

HUNOR FROM

 LAQUA CASA of thing that one suddenly notices one day. In the pastweek, inowever, I -ACMA CASA realization that in a not so very long time watching ESPN, wearing a tight polyester bowling shirt with "Ron" embroidered on the breast and some butcher shop ad on the back.

Okay, so that is pretty much me right now, but soon I will be bald with little kids running around the Lazy Boy asking me to turn on Nickelodeon. All asking me to turn on Nis is not really that depressing because I know that it will be at least 15 years before the kids actually get strong' enough to pry the remote from my hand.

What worries me is that I will be able gut as if it were a coffee table.

True, I won't have to worry about using a coaster, but sooner or later I'll have to get up and get another beer and that may require some sort of hydraulic system. I'm afraid I might become a fat old man.

I just never really pictured myself as the guy at the end of the block who always has kids tracking across his lawn because they know that they can outrun the slob. Am I going to be the guy who wears his pants around his knees and has half his butt hanging out everytime he bends down? It's a disturbing thought.

I mean, these are the people who seem to be perpetually wearing polyester because their wives gave up trying to buy a whole new wardrobe everytime they moved up a size. It's kinda scary to visualize yourself at the end of a rack full of trousers in Sears looking at the XXXL section. I mean, sure we've all looked at it. held the pants up to ourselves to see how huge they were and laughed. Imagine if those were the pants you had to buy.
It's strange that this is so shocking to me. I've had my own gravitational field for quite some time now. Even when I was a kid I was fat. I used to lose at hide-and-go-seek because there just hide-and-go-seek because the wasn't anything to hide behind.

That wasn't as bad as dodge ball. Sure, I had the reflexes and speed of a panther in heat. but a big target is a popular

The Daily Orange

Instead, UU
Cinemas
Presents

Tatie D) anielle

has been cancelled due to distribution problems 119 Euclid Avenue 443-3471

Minute

Continued from Page 7
cap designs and reinvented them.
Stussy has used their newest signature " 5 " logo and" created caps using numerous color variations.

Owning a cap that's too rare may get the wearer into trouble. This past summer, I watched as my friend had his Baltimore Blacksox (a team belonging to what was known as the ${ }^{\text {N Negro }}$ Leagues" in the early 20 th CenLuagues in the early 20th Cen tury) cap ripped right off his head while riding the "C" train Why New York City:
Why have baseball caps become so popular recently? Devotees give many reasons. David Weiss, a sophomore illustration major at Syracuse University said, "They're great for skating because they keep the hair out of your face.

Tara Kneller, a sophomore policy studies major said, "I wear my baseball cap when my hair looks nasty, which is most of the time."

Whatever the reason for wearing them, baseball caps have become as much a fashion staple as blue jeans.

So what's next in head gear? According to this month's Vogue magazine, it's the beret, ooh, la, 1 a.
*To The Minute" is published alternating Wednesdays in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

DIRECTORY  Continued from Page 1

"From April until the beginning of October we sold ads to various local businesses and services that would most benefit from student patronage," he said.
"Our goal was and is to get out the directory as soon as possible to help the students and factulty."

BRIEFLY

Staff Reports
The Lifestyle Department of The Daily Orange will undergo two more changes in its organization.
The Living page, featuring column "Humor From LiAqua Casa," will be published Wednesday.
The Entertainment page, featuring music column "This Ain't No Disco." will move to Friday.

These changes follow a restructuring plan announced last week.

'Tis the Season for Advertising in the

 ItedainiyHoliday Shoppers Issue November 21
Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be 2:00 pm on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!

SMACUSE UNIVERESTIY

Syracuse, NY 13244 443-2904
Director: Rabbi Alan J. Iser

LUNCH PNDLERRN Prof. Neil Katz  Public Affairs/Non-Violent Conflict

"Non-Violent Alternatives In A Violent World"
Wednesday, October 16, 12 P.M. Hillel Lounge, Hendricks Chapel

HUMOR

Continued from Page 7
target. Then again, gym class is the place that you are constantly reminded how immense you are.

I remember taking those stupid tests for the President's Fitness Council. Yeah, the president cares how many sit-ups I can do. My favorite was when they would record how many push-ups $I$ could do in one minute.

I'd sit there with my arms fuily extended and the gym teacher would tell me to go down until my chest touched the mat and then so back up Sure, sounds great teach Of course, my stomach was already on the mat so it was really just a matter of sucking in

Back then kids were really manck about it; now people try mean about it; now people try to pretend it's not so bad. "You know, Ron, some women find that attractive."

Yeah, it's a problem sometimes. Women are constantly petting my stomach and asking me if it's kicking yet.
"Ron, you're not that fat. You can still fit in the seats at a movie theater." More comforting words were never spoken.

I used to believe all this and not accept it for the patronizing load of crap that it is. The event that opened my eyes was that day I went to the doctor's office

I had this really bad rash on my stomach and it kept getting worse. He looked at it for about two seconds and then told me it wasn't a rash.
"Gee, doc, you mean these are still welts left over from dodge ball?"

He calmly informed me that I had stretch marks. At first I was confused because I thought you only got those when you were pregnant. But when he made me analyze my weight gain for the previous nine months I realized that I may as well have been pregnant.
"Guess what, Ron," he said, "you're really fat."
"Humor From L'Aqua Casa" is published each Wednesday in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

NOTES

Continued from Page 16
Through six games, Wooden has 33 tackles, including 20 solos.

He is listed as doubtful for Saturday's game against Pitt, but is expected to miss an but is expected to mis

Center John Reagan was kneed in the buttocks and missed several plays, but returned later.

Reagan should practice this week and be available on Saturday.

GRE
 cinomationtivom

ESTANLEYH KAPLAN
GRE Class Starting Oct 28th
Call for Information 472-3702

${ }^{6}$ After I plugged itin, everything clicked for me?"

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Jabberwocky to hold auditions
Delta Sigma Theta, a public service sorority, will hold audiservice sorority, will hold auditions for its annual Jabbertions for its annual Jabber-wocky today at The Underwocky today at The Underground in the Schine Student ground in the Schine
Center from 5 to 11 p.m.

Local artwork

 shown at SchineThe artwork of noted Hispanic artist Juan Cruz is currently on display in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center in recognition of Hispanic Awareness Month. celebrated in October.
The showing. sponsored by the Hispanic-American Society. will end today. There is no charge, and the paintings can be seen when meetings are not being held in the room.

Research positions available with DOE
Juniors or geniors in computer ecience, engineering, phys puter ecience, engineering, physics, environmental and life sciences, mathematics or physical science are eligible to apply'to be part of the Science and Engineering Research Semester. SERS offers the opportunity for students to do hands-on research with some of the nation's top scientists at one of six national research laboratories during the academic year.

For more information, contact Donna Prokop, SERS Program Manager, Office of Energy Research, U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave. Washington, D.C. 20585. The application deadline for the spring semester is Oct. 20. The 1992 fall term deadline is March $15,1992$.

CROP Walk held to raise moneý
The annual CROP Walk will be held Oct. 20. The CROP Walk is a 10 kilometer community walk through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and international hunger relief programs. For more information, call 443-1254.
Library Associates

plan book sale

The Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale Oct. 31, from $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Room 1916 on the first floor of E. S. Bird Library.

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collections.

Wednesday
4-8pm The Best Happy Hour on the Hill!
All U Can Eat
All U Can Drink
Starting at 9pm
2 FOR 1 EVERYTHING!
NO COVER

FEVER

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

SLONE

BY TWO JERKIES

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

GOTTA HAVE FAITH

NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOWS
PRRICE CHORLER CHECROOT LADYIROMBECL

THE YOOTHA EILE
BY LOP LOP

WORM TV BY WALLY THE BEAVER

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DALY OHANGE CLASSIRED AD PROCEDURE: S2.50 tor the firsifis 15 words. Tof lor each additional word, 5 e oxpra 1or each advance.

Notices

| costumes!  Flappers, gangsters, renaissance. etc. Wios, make-to. masks BOOM BABIES Vintage Ciothing Fientals a vailable MCe a Visa. South Beech at Wastoont  19-7pm / Monday-Saturday / 472-1949 |
| :---: |

AAISE 3500 .. 51000 ... $$ 15000$ : FOOLPRDCO FUNDRALSNC. For your fraternity, sorority, team of othor eampus organgation. Absolut oly no itvestment requiredl. Act now tor the chanpe to win a 950-8472. ext. 50 .

NOTICE: MIG of Wamen's Concems Discussion Group, Ot 16, 1991: 1342 Lancastar Ave. 7309pm. Two Topics: Sobakar from "Learning Center 422-6459. Open to Womery Non-Denominatanat az-shs. Opento Wornerv Non-Denominataria.

FOR SALE

Autos
Honda Chvic Si 'B9. black, hatertark, all-season tires. 57.150. O. 1.0 423-7428. plaase leave message.

Equipment

Panneonic $20^{\circ}$ TV with PI.P. and on screan

Misc. For Sale

10e wings, every Wadneschy. E-10pm, Drink Specials. Orange Grove, 505 Westeor Street 471 | Spectial |
| :--- |
| 1148 |

WHITE LEATHER JACKET fits $3 / \mathrm{m}$. Asking $\$ 150$ or best oflor. Call 420-3a16.

EMPLOYMENT

Walteteff needed - Hourly rate, No tps $20+$ hours. Banefts: BCOBS, dental, tuition reimbursement Apply: The Notingham, 1301 Norrirgham Road Dowin
P/T Canwash Atterdant needed. $$ 4.50$ to sant Sparkle Cay Aullowash 446-4110

HOME NEEDED for a 13 year old gif who is in a wheel chair and requires assistance. Homo modifications provided as nocessary. Substartial raimbursement provided. #you or someone you know is interestod in providing a soving home please call Tom McDonald at David Shipe an (315)425-5311.
Immediam Fff postion avaitable in ochthamolgy practice Ior Medical Fing clerk in SU area. Ex perience dasirable. A0proximataly 20 hrs weekly 470-7414.
 ress cook posixion avaitabia, Compotiline waga. Comace 471.5206 tor more lifio.
Campus reps neeted. Earn salary plus Campus reps needed. Earn salary plus commasion. Can TEG. 425.5600 nday. EOE.

WANTED

Help Wanted

ATTENTIOA STUDENTS! Eam lp to $$ 500$ cash lor Shis work intamational Businass Tours is seeking a $n$ articulate studert to organize a 30 mintre Krow Betore You Go." whers to work, live and ski rea in Colorado's resonts. Current Guide to Aspen, Vail. Breckennoge and morel $\mathbf{$ 1 6 . 6 5}$. Call $1-800$ - $789-6174$.

Earn 52500 Free Trips Selling Soring Break Packages To Bahamas. Mexico, Jamaica, Fibridal Best

Quatsiod applicams for MID-YEAR RESIDENT AD VISER positions. Intormation Sessions: Mudri- Funcrion Foom: Ocrober $17 \mathrm{th}, 7.8 \mathrm{PM}$ in the Haven Penthouse. For more imformation, call 4433637.

SPRANG BREAK REPS! Earn up to $$ 3000$ ! Become pan of a leam and seill the best sping brazk trps on campus. Eam FREE TRIPS and untimised CASHSS Call nowl TAKE A BREAK STUDENT TRAVEL (617)424-8222 or ( 800 ) $320-S A V E$ (BOSTOD)

UNIVERSITY UNION SDEAKERS BOARD STUDENT AFRICAN AMERICAN SOCIETY and FILM FORUM

PRESENTS

MATTY RICH

HIGHLY ACCLAIMED 19 YEAR OLD FILMAKFD - WHO WROTE AND DIREDTED THE NEW HIT MOVIE "STRAIGHT OUT OF BROOKLYN"

Roommates

Grad Studert sedking same or responstbe person to strane nice 2 -betrit flat on Larcaster Ave sp50 471-8514 betore 9am.

FOR RENT

Apartments

Warted 2 peopio to sublesse 2 rooms 5 bedroom house. Spring semester: Good location. 423-5314 Gina/Christl aher 10:00pm

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: SIudio apl. 2 bodroom apartrpents. All utiliess included. Securra siock 8 Madison. 635-5322, E35. $3537 /$ eves.

Dawti- neas, nies turnished great 1 bedroom apanmerr. Parking. all utitios included. Crad rotessional prefarred. 478-2642. Also quiel roen tfiltities, furnished includect 478-2642
2-Bedroom lower flet. Euelid near Westcon Screened porch, off-stroet parking. Private yarch 5540. 682-8823
1.2.3,4 bedrocm apartments, roommata stituanors iff streat perking. Laundry, claan, large. asorathe. 474-679

FOR RENT: 3 BEDRDOM APARTMENT Westcon
Streat lurnished, wastrar and dyyer, parking 487.5761

UNTMERSI NIION

UNYEDSITY

FALL & SPPING acceptimg Senior & Gracuate maile 8 fermale studems to ifler soveral 4 bohn apantmentas, 1 indivual oh. Rates: Elasic furnished model $$ 230.00$; Designer/Deiurse moded $$ 325,00$. Al are located naxt to E.S.F. campus on Dakland and Stanclan Sas. Thesa spartments arn in an exnished with bock. desks, eressars and ivingroom furritre. Call 873 -1344 for a enoice stuxtere apt AVAILABLE TCOAYI ONES TWO BEDROOM APAPTMENIS. KAChen, livingrom, BEDFCOM APARTMENIS. Kachen, hivingroon. batiroom. $$ 420$. $485 лno, Call Marie $8: 30-4.00,443-2567$.
Standan SL excellent E.S.F. 3 Bexdroom, ciean. 5550 par month 6.77-1344

2-5 Becroom Apl Eucily and Ackernan Ave. Parking. Laundry, Fumished, 24iry, mainaenance. Jan 82 and Spring 92 oplions. Got an Early start on your housing neects call 445-2209.
Univarsicy area large 243 bedroom thats, Ot1-streen freo parking, laundry. Lease secumy doposit required. No pesi Avalable now.

Catt 446-5520 or 469-8757.
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS. Pary elose Sacure Sule apareted Air Vary elose. Steuro. Quiel. Carpeted. Aif
Condtionod. Laundy. Parking Universty Araa Apts.
Hy you nead a place to live now or in the near future. Cal MORGAN-ROBERTS REAL ESTATE to chisc out our harpe selpction, hemenibar. Wo plose in Tim Engels at 44E-8814 anytime.

Houses

arso, boantul mons in a noedy romodard matsion, On-street parking, Laundiy. 8 mimade wah to campus. $\mathbf{s 3 0 0 .} \mathbf{- 5 3 2 5 \text { . inci. Also desimblo roam- }}$ mate situation available $\$ 200 . \$ 300.474-6791$.

PERSONALS

CUSTOM: T-Shirtsl Cups! Glasswarel AND CUSTOAL: T.Shirtsl Cups! Glasswarel AND MOUVATICN: $1-900659-7740$.
KITE a KEY BALLOON SALEI Bury some this whek from your tavorite Kappas and Ihotasi $$ 100$ or 2 beract

TKE Fristoe Flingors- From boor slides to muc stides- Who needs insbees?- Thanks for making Fing 91 so amazing! Love your coaches. Nina anc Karen, Spring Break: Careun, Bahames from $259.00 in ehudes rounctio air, 7 nights hovet, parios, tree ardmission, horel laxes and more! Orpanize a smal group Eam tree tip. 1.800-6EA-CHI

SERVICES

Typing noeds? Call dennne 483-4485 on Campus.

 Fast turnarounci lasor copies.Typling. For all your typing needs- lettors. maniscrits, tesortaiors, ote Call Ruan Deway a manLscrita

Word Procesting. Leatr susumes. Typlng. Fass urneround COMPYTERS & COPIES, Marshal St. above Acropotis.
Pesmerch. Call SHORTSEARCH Resmereh. Capors. Al sibjects. Reasonabte rates. iamn papors. Al slopacis.

ADOPTION

LAUGHTER, HUGS, TEDDYBEARS and STOFYruies We anxiously awat the chance to harn cur twes with an intant Lef's hep each of Cal Davd and Denica colfoct (302)235-2312.
Adoption-Christian cousple have room in our fives tor a whia intart Lecral/Medical expersess paich.
Cal Donna and Richant collect $914-271-6977$.
Adopt. Hapoity married whine couple wants so much to give your baby the best of everyining in muct to give you
Call Joan and Jay collect 914-628-3919.

Join CROP Walk
on Sunday. October 20.

For additional information.

SU blanks opponents

By GIE PAGOVICH
Staff Writer
After three wins in three days, Syracuse University field hockey coach Kathleen Parker said her team "survived" the weekend.

The Orangewomen compiled three shutouts, including a narrow victory over Villanova on Monday.

The Orangewomen nipped the Wildeats 1-0 on a goal from sophomore Shelly Magee.

The Orangewomen, 7-3, 3-0 Big East, also defeated Ursinus 3-0, and Georgetown 4-0.

Senior co-captain Kelly Larkin notched her 43rd career point in SU's win over Georpoint in Su sum on Sunday. Larkin joined Yvonne Milionis as SU's alltime point leader. Milionis set her mark just last week.

Orange

BY MATT SIMO
Staff Writer
It is safe to say that the Syracuse University cross country teams know exactly where they are in their preparation for the IC4A and EC4A Championships on November 16.

Both squads previewed the course Sunday in the Paul Short Invitational at Lehigh University, the site of the 1991 national qualifying meets.
The Orangemen placed ninth out of 31 teams and were led by iunior Darren James who ran Milionis scored a goal in the win over Ursinus, while Larkin tallied three goals on the weekend.

Since September 28, the Orangewomen have outscored their opponents 19-1. SU has not lost since a $5-0$ loss to the University of North Carolina on Sept 14.

Parker said she was impressed with the effort put forth by her other senior co-captain, Trac Dimeo.
"I've never seen anyone play with the heart Traci Dimeo played with yesterday," Parker said. "She played every minute of all three games."
of all three Orangewomen have been perfect in the conference, but perfect in the conference, but according to Parker, those re' sults are notagainst the league's sults are nota

on right

the 10-kilometer course in 32:13 to place 24 th overall. Junior Nick McDonough finished 31st overall with a time of $32: 20$.
James' time was just 41 seconds shy of 1988 Syracuse graduate James Marrich's national qualifying time of $31: 32$. Marrich was the Orangemen's last national qualifier in crosscountry.

I have great expectations for Darren and Nick to break 32 minutes at the IC4A's," Syracuse coach Dick Coleman said.
The Orangewomen finished 11 th out of 25 teams and were led by senior Maryjo
"Unfortunately, we don't play Connecticut," Parker said. "The three wins that we have are against the three lesser teams against the three lesser teams in the Big East Conference. I just want a good seeding in the Big Ea, ment)."

Dimeo said the win over Villanova was not one out of revenge for last year's tournament loss, but an opportunity for the. team to improve its present conference standing.
"We're looking for a win to be guaranteed a good seeding in the Big East Tournament, so we really weren't out for revenge," Dimeo said.

On Wednesday the Orangewomen will play their first home match of the season, when they host Cornell on Coyne Field at 7:30 p.m.

course

Dougherty, who ran the fivekilometer course in 18:05 to place 45 th overall.
The women's team ran its fastest times of the year for a 5 -kilometer race, according to Coleman, as several runners established personal bests on the course.
"Every one of them improved tremendously on the course, running as bad and tired as they felt." Coleman said.

Defending national champion Villanova won both races with Penn State placing second in each race.

\author{

- Pre-Hotiday Special -  Relaxer's Touct-Up $$ 35$  Childron $6-15$ Curty Perm's Touch-Up $$ 45$ $$ 30$ $$ 40$
}

A Bit OfBostonTradition Is Coming To Syracuse.

Since 1914 Brigham's ice cream and restaurants have been a family tradition in Boston. And now with over GO shops serving Massachusetis, New Hampshire, New Jersey and soon New York, Brigham's is on its way to becoming an American tradition. Join us is we get set to open our new Brighm's of Boston Restaurant in syricuse.
Full-Time Assistant Managers
Hell protide salaries commennorate tritb experience, as well as an excellent benefits parkage.

DROP-IN INTERVIEWS

Thursday, October 17 and Friday; October 18, from 1Oam to 7 pm ; and Saturday: October 19 from 1 Oam to $\mathbf{4 p m}$. Blease apply in person at tbe Brigham's of Boston Restaurant at Carousel Center Nall (on the first floor and next to Victoria's Secret) in Syracuse.

Ifriahamis. of Baston

You Can Compare Oranges to Oranges But There's Only One

The Apple ${ }^{\text {© }}$ Macintosh ${ }^{\text {® }}$ Classic ${ }^{\oplus}$

With monitor, keyboard, mouse, and systern software included, the Apple ${ }^{\bullet}$ Macintosh ${ }^{\bullet}$ Classic $^{\bullet}$ computer is an ideal entry level personal computer. Plus, you'll find extras - such as built-in capabilities and the Apple* SuperDrive ${ }^{\text {TM }}$ which lets the Classic read from and write to MS-DOS, OS/2, and ProDos* files.

Apple!

Power: Because Macintosh offers powerful technology that's easy to use, people enjoy using it and can use it more effectively.

Consistency: Macintosh provides a consistent user interface across all applications. You will access information the same way every time.

Growth: Ever since the Macintosh was introduced, it has been possible to smoothly move from one to another with a high level of compatibility, insuring that the Macintosh you are using today will continue to improve with the Macintosh innovations to come.

ComputerLand ${ }^{\circ}$

Of Upstate New York

The Apple ${ }^{\oplus}$ Macintosh LC

Color takes on a whole new value with the Apple Macintosh ${ }^{\bullet}$ IC computer. It's System 7 capable, and Apple IIe compatible. Designed to easily expand, the LC includes an 020 Processor Direct Slot, which lets you extend the systems through expansion cards for communication, Apple II emulation, graphics and more.

Just Show SU Srident ID for this Great Deal SUTTERS FOR LUNCH
 Best Burger on the Hill and much, much more Receive a Charbroiled Burger with any 2 toppings, fries, and a bottomless glass of soda for only $$ 4.75$
Limit: 1 per visit

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.
COMPREHENSIVE DATABASE: Our cata base of over 200,000 listings of seholarships and qrants represent over $$ 10$ bilion in privale sector financial aid.
MANY AWARDS: Scholarships are available to students based on their career plans, family heritage and academic interests.
UNIOUE RESEARCH: Our resparch deparment has located many scholarships inclucing awards or newspaper ca grocary clerks. cheereaders and non-smokers.
RESULTS GUARANTEED.
CALL ANYTMME FOR A FREE BROCHURE
(800) 283.8600 man

CITY

Continued from Page 16
coach. I've been trying to figure it out."

Against Adelphi. Syracuse trailed $1-0$ until Young scored at 76:56 to tie the garne at 1-1 and send it into overtime.

The Orangemen actually took the lead when Young scored again, only 28 seconds into overtime, this time on a 40 -yard shot that went over the head of Panthers goalie Chris Lowe.
The lead was quickly squandered, however, as Adelphi's Chris Armas scored 1:07 after Young, to tie the game 2-2.
"I don't know if (we) can keep lead, Young said. Whenever we go up on top, we just have to give up a goal. I think we lack composure in crunch time."

The winning goal came with 4:29 remaining in overtime, when Armas picked up a loose ball in a scramble in front of the goal and placed it by SU goalie Steve Pollnow.
Pollnow made 11 saves in the losing cause.
SU assistant coach Jerry Moyer said inconsistent play hurt the Orangemen.
"The first 20, 25 minutes they took control of the play," Moyer said. "We had chances in periods of the game where we played well and could have scored, but we didn't string a lot of minutes together."
Moyer and head coach Dean Foti shook things up against St. John's.
Wright, Pollnow, and forward Nino Galich were benched for disciplinary reasons, Moyer said. Moyer declined to elaborate on the suspensions, but said the players will probably return for tonight's game against the University of Vermont.

The Orangernen will try to get back on the winning track tonight in the Carrier Dome against Vermont at 7:30.
 10:00A.H. - 2:00Р. H.

FUN, GAHES $\rightarrow$ PRIZES!:

FUNDRAISER FOR UNITED WAY OF CENTRAL N.Y.

Don't Get Caught in the Bars

85\% of the S.U. Campus Drinks

Alcohol Awareness Week

Today's Events: White Faces Day
AAW Booth 10:00-4:00, Schine
Panel Discussion 12:00-1:00, Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel
ACOA Workshop 3:00-5:00, Noble Room
Mocktail Party 7:00-9:00, Hall of Lang. 500

Alcohol Awareness...Let's Keep it Going

Sponsored by the Parent's Office

Orange tie for Big East Championship

Staff Reports
The Syracuse University women's tennis team finished in a second place tie with Boston College at the Big East championships on Sunday at Seton Hall University.

The Orangewomen and the Lady Eagles finished with 43 points respectively. The fifthranked University of Miami took first place, tallying 70 points.
Maria Pilar Merono captured third place in the flight A singles bracket by defeating Vibeke Hermanrud of St. John's University, $6-2,6-3$ University, 6-2, 6-3.

Tri-captain Sharie Liberatore lost in the flight $B$ consolation finals to Providence College's Jennifer Jacobs, 3-6, 6-0, 7-6.

Junior Corrina Bode lost in the finals of the flight $C$ singles

Black Oiled Leather (Black Sole)
Fudge Oiled Leather (Black Sole)
Men's Sizes 7-14 $60.00

173 Marshall Street 471-4237

bracket to Miami's Rachel Violett, 6-2, 6-0.

Both Sara Dickson and Jennifer Agate also lost to Miami opponents. Dickson was defeated by Bettina Sonneveld, $6-3,6-0$, and Agate lost to Michelle Fry, 6-0, 6-0.

In the flight $F$ singles, sophomore Andrea Vasarhelyi was defeated by Jackie Dooley of Seton Hall University, 6-2, 6-2.

In fight A doubles, Liberatore and Merono lost in the finals to the. Hurricane's duo of Mazzottä and Violett.

Bode and Dickson captured the flight $B$ consolation championship, defeating the BC tandem of Lane and Talarico, 6-2, 6-2.

Karen Garber and Agate Iost in the flight $C$ doubles championship to the Miams doubles team of Sonneveld and Fry, 6-1; 6-1. 6-1.

After completion of Friday's matches, the Orange were in third, trailing BC by two points and the Hurricanes by nine points.
On Saturday, the Orangewomen took over second place. leading the Lady Eagles by two 14 points. But, while the Hurricanes pulled further away from the pack on Sunday, BC climbed back into second place with SU:
m

Syracuse India Association INVIES YOU TO AN EVENING OF INOIANCEASSICAE MUSIC FEATURING Violin Maestro Ms. A. KANYAKUMARI accomponied by percussionists
Vidwan Srimustham Rajarao on the Mridangam Vidwan V.Nagarajan on the Kanjira

Date: October 19th at 7.00 P.M. (Audience is requested to be seoted before 7:00 P.M.) Venve : Marshall Auditorium, Marshall Holl. SUNY ESF.

Admission: FREE.
Free parking available at all ESF parking lots.
Co-sponsors:
Mr. Ravi & Mrs. Sujini Raman
Prof. V. R. & Dr.Sujata Murthy Frof. Korneshwar & Mrs. Kashi Wall Prof. A. P. & Mrs. Indra Balachandran Mr. Knishna & Mrs.Jagada Chivukula Graduate Student Organisation South Asic Center

Sports

Orange fashions win over Big Red

Syracuse University middle blocker Aimee Mask puts home a kill in the Orangewomen's 3-0 win over Cornell University last night. SU raised its record to $17-2$ with the win.

Consecutive losses

Syracuse University linebacker Glen Young (52) scampers after a East Carolina fumble in the first quarter of SU's 23-20 loss on Saturday. Defensive lineman George Rooks (91), who caused the fumble, looks on.

Overtime games give Orangemen the boot'

By fifff ELbAUM  Staff Writer

$-$ overtime this pant weekend - but the As a tee Orangemen returned to Syracuse emptyhandea, doloses, which followed a $2-0$ victory:over
 East, beat the Orangeman 2 ' on Sun, geason.
days 5

Syracuse sweeps Cornell, 3-0

By Zev BOROW

Shaff Writer
Fashion experts might say that orange and red clash.

Volleyball experts would concur after watching the Syracuse University Orangewomen dismantle the Cornell University Big Redin a three game sweep last night at the Women's Building.

Syracuse raised its record to 17-2 with its 15-10, 15-8, 15-1 win over Cornell. 9-4. last night and, in doing so, tightened its grip on the No. 2 ranking in the East.
The Orangewomen entered last night's game cautious of a talented but underrated Cornell team, Schulte said. The Big Red had taken two regionally ranked teams, Purdue and Miami of Ohio. to five games. SU did not want to be the third ranked team to be taken to the limit.
"We wanted to stay focused and concentrate on Cornell," coach Dian Schulte said. "Purdue and Miami of Ohio didn't think they (Cornell) could beat them and were surprised. We wanted to make sure we were not surprised.
The Orangewomen swept the first three games for the win, and nearly shut out Comell in game three, winning 15-1.
The Orangewomen were anchored by the strong frontline play of Andrea Carson, Aimee Mask and Annie Parisien. Freshman Tina Grasselli also continued to contribute for SU. Grasselli's serving and setting were vital factors in the Orangewomen's sweep.
"I was very happy with the way we played," Schulte said. "Cornell is a very scrappy team, but we played smarter and hit the ball hard.

Schulte was also pleased with the continuing progress of Grasselli and her impact on the team.
"Now we really feel that we can have Tina come in at any time and fill in for us," Schulte said. "She is doing a real good job."

The Orangewomen's win over Cornell comes on the heels of a weekend in which SU swept two Big East games on the road against Seton Hall and Connecticut.

The victories kept Syracuse undefeated in conference play and were valuable tests of SU's ability to play on the road, Schulte said. Eight of the Orangewomen's final 10 regular season matches are away.
"We are very happy to be where we are," Schulte said. "We are focused and we know what we have to do for the rest of the season."

What SU has to do is face off against Big East foes Georgetown. Villanova and Pittsburgh in its next four games, but like her coach, Carson said the Orangewomen are ready.
"We played pretty well tonight but we could play much better." Carson said. We will be ready for the Big East."
put $S U$ in

By JOSH BARNETT

Asst. Sports Editor

As the Syracuse University football team prepares for the University of Pittsburgh this week, the Orangemen find themselves in a rare position.

The 24th-ranked Orangernen, 4-2, lost 23-20 to East Carolina on Saturday following a 46-14 loss to top-ranked Florida State.

Syracuse has not lost back-to-back games since losses to Florida State and Penn State during the 1989 season.

SU coach Paul Pasqualoni's 4-0 start as head coach was the best start for a first year Orange coach since Lew Andreas started $4-0$ in 1927.
But the two losses have made Pasqualoni a little more philosophical.

Football is a lot like life," Pasqualoni said. "In your life, there's going to be adversity and there's going to be crises that come up in a football season. There's usually an average of three every year and for us this is tough."

Pasqualoni said how the team rebounds from the two losses will test the gumption of the Orangemen.
"We'll find out about the character of this team," he said. II think we have character and we've got a lot of football yet to play this year.'
Back to Basics, Part II.
After the Orangemen's loss to FSU, Pasqualoni said the Orangemen needed a refresher course in the basics.

Following the Orangernen's performance on Saturday, Pasqualoni said this week the Orangemen will undergo another refresher on fundamentals.
"We said it and we didn't get it done." Pasqualoni said. "Not taking anything away from Florida State blame more (of our lack of execution in that game on us. Many of the things that happened are our fault. Maybe we wrote off too much of that because Florida State was the No. 1 team in the country. "We came back and we're talking about it and we're going through the motions, but we're not getting it done." Into the East

SU's game with the Panthers is the Orange's first game in the Big East. The Orangemen conclude the season with Orangemen conclude the season with five Big East contests including the three games of the season at home.

Syree games of the season at home.
Syracuse's northern-most opponent in the first six games has been the Univerthe first six games sity of Maryland.
"We're out of the Southern conference and into the Big East conference," Pasqualoni said.

On the other hand, the Panthers are already 2-0 in the Big East. Pitt beat West Virginia 34-3 in the season opener and defeated Ternple 26-7 in the third game of the year.

No TV

After a growing controversy the SU $t$ game will not be televised live.
ESPN officials confirmed on Monday that they had offered to televise the game Saturday. However, in order for the game to be shown, the Panthers would have to change game time from $1: 30$ p.m. to 7.30 p.m.

The Piti athletic department declined to make the change because Saturday is Pitt's homecoming and the change would upset the schedule of homecomingevents.

The Big East Conference television network this week is showing Boston College (1-4) against West Virginia (4-2) as its game of the week rather than SU-Pitt. The schedule was made up before the season started.
Injury update
Syracuse outside linebacker Jo Jo Wooden suffered a partial tear of the posterior cruciate ligament in his left knee against East Carolina.

Wooden was hurt while making a tackle on ECU's Junior Smith during the first quarter.

See NOTES Page 9

Presidential hopeful's student record a concern

Playing by the rules

Former Stanford U. swimmer janet Evans quit because of them. Athletic directors and coaches are furious about thern. But college presidents are quite proud of their new NCAA legislation./Page 20
By DAVID GRINBERG
The Diamondback, U. of Maryland
It has been more than seven months since Virginia Cov. Douglas Wilder said he would "not object at all" to random drug testing of college students.
But with presidential aspirations on Wilder's political horizon students in his home state and around the counuryare worried about losing some of their privacy should Wilder and his record on student rights find their way to the White House.
Their concern is fueled by his willingness to consider random drug testing of college students after a federal sting raided three $\mathbf{U}$. of Virginia fraternity houses last March.
This fall, his views haven't changed much. Doug Wilder. the political strategist who orchestrated a climb that made him the country's first black governor, is still leaving the option open as Doug Wilder, the presidential candidate.
"Should circumstances change in the future. the Commonwealth and its institutions should not rule out consideration of other options, such as drug testing," he said, "should the magnitude of the problem warrant that approach."

WITHALYOUHAVE NORONTOFOU YOLSHOU HAVE ALOTBEHINDYUU.

When you carry MasterCard, you've got a head start in life.You'll be welcomed at over 9 million fine establishments around the world. You can get cash at nearly 200,000 bank locations and 60,000 ATMs whenever you need it. And you'll be establishing something invaluable to you in the future: your personal credit history.

Anyway you look at it, MasterCard is a great card for you to have. Because when you're on the road to success, you need more than just the wind at your back.

MASTER THE MOMENT.*

U. Now

A dry ldea

Getting this month's cover story proved to be a task of national scope. Toby Hollis, a staff photographer for Boston U.'s Daihy Free Press, spent two days following Virginia Gov. Dauglas Wilder from one appearance to another.
We hunted Toby down in Maine and asked him to travel to New Hampshire to take photos for a story written at the U. of Maryland.

The way Toby tells it, there were a few obstacles: pushy media, reporters' shadows and awkward camera angles, not to mention atternpts to shoot the governor when his armpits weren't sweating profusely.
He even followed the governor into one store that, according to Toby, was the size of a walk-in closet.
"Basically, you have 15 people taking pictures in a place that probably would really only hold four," Toby said. "I knewI was knocking stiff off the walls..."

Baring it all

Students these days seem to have some aversion to clothes. Rice U. students drink beer buck naked in an on-campus bar (see page 11 for a pretry revealing photo). Halfway across the country, students at Millersville U. hold naked relays without a sponsor or administration approval. But that didn't stop the 30 runners who participated in the relays again this year.

It was hard to tell who actually won many of the events, spectators said, because the stadium lights remained off. A push for adding hurdles. by the way was soundly rejected... .

I love that storyl

And you thought you were tired of Pee Wee Herman jokes! Gregory Nagy, a professor at Harvard U., has to be sick to death of them. Nagy is one of the profs discussed in the Harvard Confidential Guide The "Confi Guide" gives students the lowdown on individual Harvard classes and those who teach them. The book describes Nagy as resernbling Fee Wee as well as being a fan who likes to show clips of Pee Wee's Rig Aduenture and Ekis movies whis classes. A change in the syllabus may be in order.:

Hangin' out

This month $U$. begins an occasional feature on unique college hangouts around the country, If you've got a favorite, like Muddy Waters and is Rice Krispie treats, let is know. We will try to include that and more with next month's issue.
-Valerie Loner
Editor on Fellowship

And justice for all?

Lawsuit accuses financial aid offices of reverse discrimination

By MICHAEL LAWRENCE

Daity Bruin, U. of California, Los Angeles
Seven studens have filed a discrimination lawsuit against the U.S. Department of Education, claiming the government's policy of allowing campuses to set aside money for specific minority groups is carried out at the expense of white students.
However, civil liberties groups have said minority scholarships are necessary to ensure AfricanAmerican students are adequately represented in the nation's colleges.

But this argument does little to comfort white students who believe their financial needs are being overlooked.
"It is a form of racism," said Daniel Young, a third-year law student at the U. of California, Los Angeles, and a plaintiff in the suit against the DOE. "When awarding financial aid, it shouldn't be based on your race, but based on your need."
Young said he mistakenly applied for a grant reserved for African-Americans, but was later denied it when the financial aid office discovered he was white.
He had originally been awarded a grant. but when university personnel saw he was not a minority student they refused to allow him to collect it, according to the suit filed against the DOE.

Clearly, they thought I had economic need," Young said. "I guess I was the wrong color."
He said the financial aid office is making him pay for society's injustices.
"(When you are poor). whether you're black or white, you can't go to school," he said.
In the suit, Young and the other students allege the federal government has faited to enforce the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by allowing colleges and universities to earmark money for minority students only.

They want to use the Civil Rights Act, which prohibits programs or awards based solely on race, to curtail the discrimination against them.

While they have little to gain as individuals, Young said they hope to reverse the U.S. Deparment of Education's policy.

According to the suit, about 750 American colleges and universities set aside money for historically underrepresented students.

However. critics of the suit say any ruling which abolishes minority scholarships may make historically underrepresented students feel financial barriers insurmountable to continuing their educations.
Minority scholarship money is "a visable and unmistakable sign" that universities support those students, said Helen Hershkoff, assistant legal director of the American Civil Liberties Union.
-Minority scholarships are needed to achieve racial equality." she said. If these scholarships were removed. "members of minority groups may perceive that they are not invited or welcome to attend such universities.-
The Civil Rights Act of 1964 has been repeatedly interpreted by both Congress and education experts to mean the law authorizes affirmative action programs, she added.
However, supporters of the suit contend that racial equality should not be achicved by universities discriminating against whites.
Richard Samp, chief counsel tor the Washington Legal Foundation, which represents the students, said these allocations violate previous rulings of the Supreme Court.
Samp cites a $U$. of California case in which the court ruled admissions committees cannot use special quotas to achieve racial

That does not mean minority students should not receive financial aid, but that the aid should be awarded on the basis of need. he said.
If African-Americans happen to be the most needy, they should get assistance. Young said.
equality.
In the case, the courn said a white medical school applicant could not be denied admission to the university in order to better accomodate exact quotas for historically underrepresented students.
"I think (the UC case) is very much on point," Samp said.

Soviet coup shakes up students at home

 By ADAM BIEGELThe Emory Wheeb Emory U.
White most students packed up their beach blankets and returned to campus in late August, Emory U. sophomore Tamara Mosashvili was in Moscow, where her mother woke her with news of the coup.
Mosashvili was alarmed, but not as much as her grandfather, Eduard Shevardnadze, the former Soviet foreign minister who monitored the events just a few rooms away.
"The situation was tense and he was very serious," Mosashvili said. "He usually likes to joke, but this time he was very serious. I'd never seen him like this before.
"It was really shocking for me to see the tanks on the streets. The house where the Russian government was was not far from where I stayed. We heard shouts and screaming. It was really not a very pleasant experience."

As the world continues to monitor breaking news from the Soviet See Soviets, Page 25

Lesbian couple challenges family housing regulations  By PEIER KAFKA

When Arn Maric Piayra, a post-graduate student at the U. of Oregon, and her parner, Pamela Harbeintner, applied for Hdmission to the school's family housing units in the spring of 1990 , housing officials tumed the couple down.

The reason? If you ask Piazan it is because she and her parnerare

By being a lesbian. I'm denied recognition of my marriage by the United States of A merica, " Piazza stid.
Piaze:a was married to Harbeintner by a Unitarian layperson in 1988.
-We have a thousand times more proof than any regular couple that we're bound. Piarra sid. -People are people. Just because I'tn gav and someone else is straight doesn"t mean my marriage is worth less than theirs."
Pianza's application for family housing was rejected by the U. of Oregon and is now being appealed to the Oregon Court of Appeals.

Her case is smbolic of a question that has begun to appear on campuses across the cosuntr: Should gay and iestian couples be treated as families and given the same rights as married heterosexuals.
tike Evster. director of housing at the U. or Oregon, said the school is "constandy evaluating" its housing policies and could conceivably change them in the future.

There's ongoing pressure," he said. - People that administer the (housing) policy want it to be fair.

But Eysict said many others seem comfortable with the way things stand at the U. of Oregon

Thereare people in Oregon who feel very strongly thas gay and lesbian couples should not be allowed to live in family housing." he said.

Some college administrators have said gays should be able to live together in a family housing environment, an encouraging sign for many gay activists.

Last May, following a year-long series of meetings. debates and forums, the $\mathbb{U}$. of Wisconsin-Madison announced it would open its family housing complex to any couples registered under the city of Madiworis domestic parnership law.

Ann Marie Plazza and Pamela Marbetntner wanted to llve together in U. of Oregon family housing. The admintstration sald no.

Noman Sunstad, UW-Madison housing director, siad the decision was a reflection of today's changing sociecy.
-It just seemed to us that culture's changed a bit, and why not change the policy"' he said. "I think it's sort of a trend."

And in 1990, administrators at Stanford U. made all services avalable to married students. including couples housing, which is avaitable to students in an escablished, long-term domestic partnership."

The policy, which does not require students to submit proof of their relationship. was enacted to make sure Stanford students "don't have to choose between academic and social responsibilities." said Bil Ceorges, assistant director of the Stanford Housing Center.

Georges said five single-sex couples are living in family housing this fall.
Pizza said she would remain optimistic abous her case. -I think people are becoming more practical," she said.
Piazra said she thinks it is important that issues of this nature are brought to the attention of university adminisurations.
-1 encourage any gay and lesbian couples or even single people to not hide behind their co-workers and friends." she said.

GEORGIA

Voltey till you drop...If U. of Georgia students Jack Bauerle, Mark Cuilbeau, Todd White and Chris Brown ask you to play tennis with them, check your calendar firse for next week's appoinumens. The four netters broke the Cuinness World Record for endurance doubles play by gutting out 125 hours of straight tennis from May 27 to June 2. In the process, they raised approximately \$75,000 for the American Cancer Socicty. The previous record was 103 hours. Under Guinness rules, the tennis marathon allows five minutes for sleep time for every hour of tennis played. The players added up each of these five minute breaks and took two or three hour naps every 24 or 36 hours - When we first went out there, we were pretty purnped up for the firse 36 hours," White said. We didn't feel very tired, but after we took a break and got up, it was tough to get going again." (Randy Walker, Red $\mathcal{E}^{\prime}$ Black, U. of Georgia

INDIANA

Mandatory zervice... If passed, a recommendation to the U. of Notre Dame Student Government Board of Trustees will require incoming freshmen at the university to complete a service program in order to graduate. White some administrators believe that mandating a volunteer program may hurt the spirit of service-oriented work, others Feel the requirement could easily be fulfilled during the freshman year. The service class would be for one credit and could start as carly as 1998, according to the report. A follow-up report on the proposal will be introduced and presented to the board this year. "Many students who may never have engaged in volunter work would learn the importance of service/social awareness, which would foster within them a social sensitivity," the report said. One tustee's proposal suggestss the proposal could be amended to include a four-year period for completion of the requirement. Monica Yant, The Observer, U. of Notre Dame and St Mary's College

News from around the county

MINNESOTA

Swoet lurtice...Joser Mestenhauser left Czechoslovalia a political criminal in 1948, covered in mud and crawling across the German border amid freczing rain. But at the end of last spring, the internacional education director from the U. of Minnesota returned to his native country to receive the law degree his abrupt departure denied him. Mestenhauser, now 65, was awarded his degree from Charles University in Prague during a special ceremony. More ctan 43 years ago he was expelled from the school for his anti-communist political activities. Ifeel it's a very wonderful, marvelous story," he said. "It says there is a sense of justice. Even though things take a long time, it recognizes that some wrong has been done, and this is an attempt to make it right." After his escape from Cuechoslovakia, Mestenhauser continued his education in the United States and received his doctorate in political science from the U. of Minnesola. a Patrick Howe, The Minnesota Daily, U. of Minnesota

OHIO

And she changed her majorGraduating in four years may seem challenging for sorme students, but for Tina Andirew two years ax Ohio U. was just fine, thanks. By taking advanced placement clases in high school Andrew was able to start classes at Ohio U. with 43 credits. With a class load averaging 20 credis. With a class ioad averaging 20 Andrew would have no time for activities But she said she not only found time to spend with friends, she also was a member of Kappa Phi sorority. ${ }^{-1} \mathrm{~m}$ not hituing the books all of the time," she said. "I try to balance classes so I'm taking a few easy classes and a few hard classes each quarter." Despite her early undergrad work, Andrew said she came to OU uncercain as to what she wanted to do with her life. After first majoring in business, she later made a change to art history. "I didn't start out saying I 'd do this in two years, ${ }^{\text {s }}$ she said. =Doug Nicodemus, The Past Ohio U.

Cookbook stirs up the best ingredients for pseudo-terrorists

By RON MATUS
Figrida Flumbrau, Florida State U
It has been 20 years since The Anarchist Cookbowk first burst onto the seene, but the self-proclaimed "survizal manual." which teaches readers, among other things, how to make bombs and booby traps, still manages to stir up a little cmaroversy evesy now and again.
This sutnmer, Florida law enforcement officials became more than a litule nervous when they learned that Marshall L.edbetter, a Florida State U. student who barricaded himself in the Florida state capitol and demanded 666 jelly donuts, was firmiliar with The A narchist Cookbook.

I don't want to tell you that he was planning on making a bomb or blowing up anything." sheriffs department spokesman Dick Simpson said. "But (his reading of the Comblomk) was a detinite concern.-

Lang identified with the undenground youth culture. The Anachist Cookbook falls inve the gray area of publishing where the First Amendment clashes with the public's right to remain safe in their respective communities.
-Once a fairiy consernative community finds out the book is out there. it might get their goat up," said Rick Dominguez, an employee at a Florida bookstore that orders the Cookbook for interested customers.

But the book's publisher, Lyle Stwart, said given the Cooktwok's colorful origin, that's to be expected.

It was a time of flower people, and a lot of people were doing crazy things." Stuare said. - I thought it would be a good First Amendment test, and it has been."

Essentially a comprehensive "how-to" guide compiled See сооквоок, Page 8

STEME CRNHON: FLOPRDA FLAMBEAB. FIORIDA STAFE U.
The Anarchist Cookbook is is troe lton with eolloger atudente.

Address where you want card and billing statement mailed:

SOM, UNVERESTY IOLIRNAL, D. OF VAGINA
's not take it too far. Imagine the Washington, D.C., Mayor Sharon m decided to institute drug testing entire community because drug fere arrested in various parts of e wouldn't get away with it, and could Doug Wilder.
udents get to college, chances are re an adults before too long. If they use illegal drugs, that is their own not the university's or the state's. parents are worried that the peer will be so great that their children mb to the temptation as they never re.
suld argue that if students want to 4, they will find therm, be it on the ger in D.C., in a fraternity house or nader a mattress in a dorm room.
sere's little, if anything, Doug n do about it, except use the issue t. himself to the White House.

300-662-5511

Lesbian couple challenges family housing regulations

GEORGIA

When Ann Marie Pizua，a pos student at the U．of Oregon． partner，Pamela Harbeinmer．a admission to the school＇s famil units in the spring of 1990，housir turned the couple down．

The reason？If you ask Piaza，it she and her partner are gity．
－6y being a lexbian，I＇m recognistion of my marriage by ti States of America，Piouna said

Piazal was married to Harbeit Unitaian hayperson in 1928．

We have a thousand times m than any regular couple that we． Piazea said．＂People are people．Ju I＇m gay and someone clse is straig mean my marriage is worth less tha

Piaza＇s spplication for famit was rejected by the U．of Oregon a being appealed to the Oregon Appeals．

Her case is symbolic of a question begun to appear on campuses ： country：Should gay and lesbian c treated as families and given the sa as married heterosexuals？

Mike Eyster，director of housing of Oregon，said the school is ${ }^{-1} \mathrm{c}$ evaluating＂its housing policies a conceivably change them in the fut

Thete＇s ongoing pressure．
People that administer the（1 policy want it to be fair．＂
But Eyster said many othe comfortable with the way things st E．of Oregon．

There are people in Oregon very strongly that gay and lesbia should not be allowed to live housing．＂he said

Some college administrators 1 gays should be able to live toge family housing environme encouraging sign for many gay actio

List May，following a yeartong meetings，debates and forums． Wisconsin－Madison announced open its family housing comple couples registered under th Madison＇s domestic partnership 1 a

Cookbook ：

By RON MATUS

Firnda Fla mhera．Florida State 14
H has been $2 f$ yars since The in onte the scene，but the self－procla which teaches readers，among on bembs and booby traps，sill mat contronerny every mow and agrain．

This summer，Florida law enfor nore than a litte nervous when th Ledbeter，a Florida State U．s himself in the Florida state capitol donats，was familiar with The A nare

IIdon＇t want to tell you that he $n$ bomb or blowing up anything． spokesman Dick Simpson said．

```
MIVIS QEMINO
    3H1N ロアาシ%=!
    Ay%5S5303N
    #5v1SOdON
```

\＄1000 Credit Line＊＊

With a generous credit line，the Discover Card comes in handy whether you need to rent cars，travel or for emergencies that come up．Youll ako have the advanrage of Discover Card＂Low Monthly Parments．＂so voill be able to manage your budget more effectively and more reponsibly：

Cash Advances．

For only a small transaction fee your cash adance is interest－free when you pay your balance in full each month．Available at over 30000 ATM locations and 700 full－line Sears stores nationwide．

[^20]
No Annual Fee．

Unlike most eredit cards．you dont get charged an annual fee when you get the Discover Card．

Cashback Bonus．

Again，unlike most credit cards，the Diseover Card piys you money back for every purchase．Lip to ：＂s yearly based on your annual level of purchases Disconer Card has paid more than 100 million dollars in Cashback Bonus awards．

S056－9886L ヨa NOLSNIWาIM
6SISI xO8 Od
dy甘Oyヨnossia
ANVdWOO ISOUI QOOMNヨ3YS

IIVW 人7dヨy SSヨNIS日g

HOLIVK\＆OANI INGLYDdYI

THE NATIONAL COLLEGE NEWSPAPER*

By presenuing a wide range of npinionu and ideas reprinted from hundreds of campan nempapers. we bope to enhatce the quality of camput ife as wers. inform bope to profeseori, to irport the activitice izuernand

 GHABMANANDEDTORUAL DIRECTOR Gayte Murrit Smeetiand
PYEXIDENTAND PUELGHER J. Scout Schmid:

Manacinc EDitok
assocutzentrol
Jacki lampten
EDTOESS ON FELLOWSHIP

EDTTORLALADVESEXYCOUNCI

| Tom Rolnicki | Exerutive Directar Aswoinct Cuthegiate Press Calbegr M-diandivers Tedians Saiy Snudmt, Inclizra |
| :---: | :---: |
| Eric Jacuba | CNidsm |
|  | ¢ Prongthemata, Di. or Penmykania |
|  |  |
| Dr. J. David heed | erensiation, Casumbad. |
|  | Sociery for Costictiare journalists |
| Fred Weedale | Widem |
|  | Oubioma Daity, L. of Oklahoma |
| Mons Cravens | Diretor of Student Publiczions |
|  | Maih Trojan. U. of Soulhern Calififornia |
| R28 | Manager of Student Media Bavierror Orgen Seay 1 ! |
| Jan T. Crindres | irector ufStudent Publicationat |
| W.B. Cany | arwis Dath. Texas Tech U. Publister |
|  | aity jomem, U. af lown |
| Esf harter | Gereeral Manaper |
|  | armantiforida Alligater, U. Of Thuride |
| Haxy Montevideo | - Ceneral Monager |
|  | Therad aral Phenk U, of Gecogia |
| nuce D. Itule | Manager of Student Pulbicaliong: |
| RichardC.Lytk | eneral Meragero, Seudent Publications |

MATIONALADVEXTISRGG DREECIOR Robaronson
milifitinc mantacer
Troy Renacticrg
cricaco
Drews
Deriotr coserferes NRW YOAE SANTHANCSCO

 The Pertins Cotipany (215) 450.6560 ROb Arontion (212) 980.2800
Scot M Scoth Mertalt. Mcicinky

Cassmici/sictinlstetions Jarost Miver, Sam Humadeh

FOUNDER
Altert 7 . Ehrioger

 Tet (E13) 450:3221. Fran (9215) 3147015 V/BPA

A policy that's Wilder than ever

By KRISANNE COMBS
University Journal, U. of Virginia
It seems the thing to do these days is to try and cover up the fact that you voted for Doug Wilder. My personal tactic is to remind people that I didn't vote at all. (Never mind that I probably would have voted for Wilder at the time.) Hindsight is always 20/20. And it's becoming clearer every day. As clear as a random urine sample, as it were.
One of Wilder's latest follies is to bring up the idea of drug testing for college students. In light of the March drug raids at the U. of Virginia, Wilder threw out a blatantly political statement clearly aimed at showing the rest of the nation that Democrats - and in particular - Doug Wilder - can be as tough on drugs as the Bush administration. (This is, of course, the same Bush administration that has dismissed Clarence Thomas's marijuana use as "youthful indiscrecion.")

It is yet another in Wilder's string of blunders that has Virginians laughing and pundits screaming. Never mind that he can' balance the state's budgec, keep track of his personal life or get his governmental priorities straight. Dearest Doug blithely strolls through the presidential primary game even though no one in his own state can make him seriously.

Drug testing is an idea that no respectable university administrator should take seriously either. Neither should student leaders. But a U. of Virginia former student council president told The Washington Post, -I'm sure that the governor's proposal would meet a lot of opposition from a lot of students." He goes on to say, "But then again, if you're not guilty, you don't have anything to hide." Obviously words spoken by a man who doesn't even begin to comprehend the principle of invasion of privacy without due cause.
Wilder told a recently appointed Virginia task force on drugs and crime at state universities that drug testing was a perfectly acceptable solution to the drug problem as long as it does not "run afoul of constitutional guarantees." Seems like Wilder just made my point for me. I guess as long as there's a legitimate political motive, the Constitution can be thrown out of the window.
Wilder reminded us that when he attended Virginia Union U. and Howard U. in the 1950 s , control of students' lives was "quite tight." Since then, he said, universities have taken a "laissez-faire" attitude toward the actions of students.

Until the passage of the 26th Amendment in 1973, colleges had more of a need and a responsibility to act "in loco parentis" since the large proportion of students were still minors.
But these days, the overwhelming majority of college students are over 18.
Wilder needs to remember that a university is a community like any other community of 18,000 .
It is made up almost entirely of adults who, last time I checked, are free to make their own choices concerning just about everything, including whether or not to engage in illegal activities. And if they get arrested, then that's their business, not the governor's.
Certainly the administration is concerned about the quality of life at the university, as it should be.

SOFL UNIVERSITY JOURNAL U. OF VREINLA
But let's not take it too far. Imagine the uproar if Washington, D.C., Mayor Sharon Pratt Dixon decided to institute drug testing pver the entire community because drug dealers were arrested in various parts of town. She wouldn't get away with ic, and neither should Doug Wilder.
Once students get to college, chances are they will be an adults before too long. If they choose to use illegal drugs, that is their own problem, not the university's or the state's. certainly parents are worried that the peer pressure will be so great that their children will succumb to the temptation as they never have before.

But I would argue that if students want to use drugs, they will fird them, be it on the street corner in D.C., in a fraternity house or stashed under a mattress in a dorm room.
And there's litule, if anything, Doug Wilder can do about it, except use the issue to catapult himself to the White House.

U. VIEWS

College campuses have become a new focus for the war on drags. In light of growing ding related arrests at universities across the country, many people beliepe studernts should be held mone acoountablefor their actions Give wa call, and tell us what you think :

Should college students be subjected to random drug testing to remain in good academic standing?

Call our tollfree number today to share your views.

1-800-662-5511

Doug Wixder A new emmpat cruspore?

Big Brother a reality for some Chinese students

By JIM BRUNNER

The Daily, U. of Washington

Despite evidence that they are being monitored by government officials from their homeiand, Chinese students at several universities claim they aren't worried about repercussions stemming from their political activism.
"It's nothing to fear," said Ping Luo, a U. of Washington grad student who heads the Associated Chinese Students and Scholars, a group representing Chincse grad students. "They can watch all they want...Nobody here cares much about ic. We're still going to continue doing and saying what we want."

Luo suspects the surveillance is being conducted by small factions of local Chinese governments, rather than an all-out effort from the Chinese central government.
"The central government don't want to take that risk," he said. "That image would damage the face they want to project, especially right now."
Reports of alleged spying at UW surfaced around the same time Chinese students began gearing up in June for the second anniversary of the Tiananmen Square massacre. Several Chinese students at UW believe they have identified a government informant. They are familiar with a man who claims to be a fellow UW student but never attends classes. He often appears at activist meetings, asking about students and their political beliefs. But Luo said he was

> They can watch all they wart. Nobocty here cares much about it... . We're still going to cortinue doing and sayings what we want"

- PInEE Lno
uncertain of the exact nature of the man's activities and didn't believe he posed any threat
The report from UW preceded events at the $U$. of California, Los Angeles, where the UCLA Taiwanese Student Association circulated fliers urging students and faculty to "Clean Out Campus Spies from Taiwan."

The outcry followed the arrest of Jean-Ren Chen. The Taiwanese doctoral candidate was jailed on sedition charges during a research visit to his native country.
The student group said that the Taiwan government brought evidence against Chen that could only have been gathered by informants operating on the UCLA campus.
But Luo said any evidence gathered against Chinese students probably wouldn't be used against them if they returned to China to visit. In fact, he said, several of his friends had traveled there this summer without incident.
Luo was at Tiananmen Square two years ago and after the bloody crackdown on pro-democracy protests, he was informed by friends that he was in danger and should leave Beijing. He made his way to the United States, where he continues to work on behalf of the activists remaining in China. Luo attributes his lack of fear now to two important elements: the strong organization of Chinese students in the United States and support from U.S. ciuzens.

The Americans are very concerned with the issue of civil rights here, and they wouldn't tolerate anything happening to us." he said.

Cookbook  (continued from page 6)

from police and military manuals, The Anarchist Cookbook contains detailed, step-by-step information on everything from how to turn a shotgun into a grenade launcher to "recipes" for tear gas and blasting gelatin.
There's also a lengthy section on drugs, with information on the uses, preparation and effects of substances from pot and peyote to glue and cough syrup. One recipe for "bananadine" can even have those desperate for a buzz high in about five hours if they have the patience to prepare 15 pounds of bananas.

The purpose of all this? To "stir some stagnant brain cells in action," Cookbook author William Powell said in the book's introduction. At the time of the book's publishing Powell was 21 . and some of those around at the time of the book's publishing said the book was never meant to be taken seriously.
"It was both a curiosity and an amusement to student radicals more an artifact than an instruction book," said FSU history professor Pete Ripley, who owns a copy of the Cowhook "It was like a counterculture coffectable book.
Jerome Stern agreed.
"It was for fantasy revolutionaries," said the FSU English professor, who teaches a class on pop culture. -To the conserative middle class, it might appear quite frightening, but its real place in history has to do with the romance of the revolutionary."

The sheriffs department doesn't quite see it that way, It takes the potential threat seriously - so seriously, in fact, that while Ledbetter was still in the Capitol, undersheriff Larry Campbell appeared on local television with a copy of the book to announce that Ledbetter had been studying it.
Ledbetter gave up without incident and without getting his 666 jelly doughnuts. And since that time he has been deemed unfit to stand trial in the state of Florida.

But Simpson said there were materials in the office that Ledbetter seized thaz could have been used to make explosives by someone fariliar with the Cookbook.

But Stuart said the police scenario is ridiculous.
"I think it is amusing," he said. "The gry didn't even have a fake gun. The fact that this guy had this book doesn't have any real meaning.
"It seerns that (police) have nothing better to do than talk about this book," he said.

College and high school students make up the largest portion of the Cookbook market. Besides bookstores, local libraries either have itorcangetic.

But Stuart said there are more dangerous books on the market than The Anarchist Cookbook, and he cites paramilitary manuals attainable through advertisments in Soldier of Fortune magazine as proof.
"It's kind of like selling a Derringer pistol." said Arnold Levy, a representative of Barricade Books, the New Jersey company that publishes the Cookbook. "Now they have books that show you how to make a hydrogen bomb in your basement."

Move UP To GM Quality With The GMAC College Graduate Finance Plan.

Heres a vay to get your Iffa arsd career moving In the rigit direction If you're a grachuating two or four-year degree entuderit, a greviuabe sturient or a greciuming ratree.

When you qualify for the GMAC College Grackate Finance Plan, you'll recelve 5500 off when you purchase or lease a new GM car or Mght-duty truck from any participating Chevrolet, Gea, Pontiac, Oidemobte, Buick or GNBC Thuck deater and finance through GMAC.

You don't have to thave a credit hlatory (if you do, it must be In good gtanding-) Plus, there's a low down payment (ff you purchase), the opportunnty to defer your first payment for up to 90 days, and three conventent financirg options-conventionel finemcing, SmartLease ${ }^{\text {en }}$ by GNAC or GMAC's Buyer's Cholce Plen Get complete detalls at participeting GM deaiers in your hormetown or near your colfege. But remember, this ks a speciat offer-so get movingl Thets option cermot be used with GMACOE Buyerta Choice Phen Smurtifase by Gmac.
 New lergey. Finsence charpess actuve from datso of Durchase.

Out with apathy, in with activism

Upswing in service leaves student governments empty

byenciy curbertson
The Daity Pennyluanian, U. of Penngytania
While U. of Pennsylvania student leaders were complaining about growing apathy toward student government last spring, some of their classmates were preparing to help build houses for the homeless during spring break.

Student life administrators across the country report fewer students are running for positions in student governments or on activivies boards, but volunteerorganizations are experiencing growth.

In recent elections for the Student Activities Council at Penn, only nine students vied for the frve positions.

Yet Rena Sardo. U. of Texas, San Antonio's assistant director for university center programs, said interest in community service and environmental issues has grown.

Penn students who helped build houses during spring break wote on interest surveys that they wished to help others in Philadelphia.
-Philadelphia is afflicted by poverty, decay and hunger." wrote junior Carl Bergamini. -t feel a sense of duty to bring change, to use what 1 have been given - my education, for instance - and to help ohers."
Students' sense of obligation has translated into skyrocketing nurnbers of voluntecrs for Habitat for Humanity, said Andy Lusk. the group's campus chapter associate.

Habitat, a grass roots organization that renovates and builds houses, playgrounds, and community centers, organizes an "alternate spring break" in which students from schools across the nation spend a week building houses and getting to know an impoverished community.
When the alternate sping break program stared two years ago.

Lusk said. Habitat planned for 300 students and was pleasantly surprised when nearly 1,000 signed up for the program.
Lusk said he thinks more students are getting involved in community service because there is a more visible need for it than in the past.
"Now it's just coming into the forefrom," he said. "You can't turn a blind eye because it's just down the street."
Drew Zoller and Scott Calverl. The Daily Pennsylvanian. $U$. of Pennsytuania, contrimuted to this stary.

Halloween parties haunt town officials

By MIKE GREBB  The Post, Ohis U.

The most exciting thing about Halloween for most college students may be dropping beer bombs off their roofs onto unsuspecting trick-or-teaters. But for some, this witching holiday has turned mildmannered campuses and towns into bonafide meccas for partygoers.
Thousands of people spill out into the streets. Alcoholic odors mix with sweat. laughter and rambunctious howls, creating an atmosphere best described as bizarre. Where else can someone sev oversized genitals mingling with The Church Lady?
If such costumes can be considered creative art, then tocal police might be the gallery's worst critics. Dealing with thousands of drunk and disguised strangers is not one of their favorite pastimes. Visitors come uninvited and leave signatures of come uninvited and leave signatures of Sgl Sam Gross of the Isla Vista Foot Patrol at the $\mathbf{U}$. of Califormia, Santa Barbara, said each Halloween brings with it a sometimes week-long street party featuring "people walking around in various states of intoxication."
"I'd love to tell them to stay home," be said of the estimated $12,000-30,000$ revelers. "No one minds people having a good time, but there comes with it a certain but there co
To taper the turnout. the city of Santa Barbara has waged an ad campaign in area newspapers warning prospective party pilgrims that getting too rowdy may land them in ajail cell.
At East Carolina U., however, local police have taken the hard line with a more aggressive approach aimed at clearing the sireets. After local police called 1987's crowd estimate of 40,000 "low," they got scrious.
In 1988, the crime rate skyrocketed, said Doug Morris, an ECU junior and managing edior of the school newspaper. Despite rainy conditions and lower crowds, he said police made record arrests.
"A lot of high school gangs showed up." Morris said. There were a lot of fights downtown."
In 1989, police tried closing the entire 10 block area where the party had always taken place. Students merely moved the celebration to mostly student-rented apartments, which offered even less space. Police showed up in not gear and arrested

See HALLOWEEN, Page 11

I want your sex: Classes arouse a new interest

By CHRIS HOPFENSPERGERThe Daity Netomskom, U. of Nebraska

Sabrina Prince reached the climax of her education last year in a psychology class.
One day we all had to have an orgasm for the class," said Prince, a junior at Creighon U. Prince was one of thousands of students errolled in human sexuality classes across the country.
-Almost all universities have some type of course," said Jim Shortridge. director of library services at the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States.
"We cover the totality of sex as we know it, from the underlying physiology to contraception." said Richard Dienstbier, professor of psychology at the U. of Nebraska. There is nothing in the sexual area that we don't touch ## upon."

Teaching lecture classes of 150 students, the size of the UN class. inhibits debates or projects where the students pretend to be parents. Dienstbier said.

Dienstbier said he emiches the class with a variety of speakers instead of out-of-class projects.
${ }^{4}$ I do invite a man who spent the first 20 years of life as a female to speak.-
Dienstbier, who teaches from a textbook, said taking the course is an enlightening experience.
"I think students, after they take the class, are far more open about accepting other people's sexuality which may be different than their own. he said.

What would you do if I sang (way) out of tune?

By STEVE CRUSE andANN RILEY

In his most recent performance, Bugos

Abstract

you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish eredit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can'r get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student you can't get credit from most banks until you have established credit so you need to establish credit but because you're a student

CATCH 22.

NO CATCH.

It's easy to apply for a Citibank Visa or MasterCard.
To find out how. just turn the page.

Life and Art

Out witt

 Upswing in se student gover By EMIILY CULLBERTSON The Daity Penngituanian, U. of PennWhile U. of Pennsylvania stude growing apathy toward student their classmates were prepari। homeless during spring break.

Student life adminisurators acro: are running for positions in stur boards, but volunteer organization

In recent elections for the Sud. nine students vied for the five pos:
Yet Rena Sardo. U. of Texas, S university center programs, said environmental issucs has grown.
Pennstudents who helped buils on interest surveys that they wishe
"Philadelphia is afflicted by $p$. junior Carl Bergamini. I feel a se what I have been given - my edu others.

Students' sense of obligation numbers of volunteers for Habit the group's campus chapter assoc
Habitat, a grass roots organi: houses, playgrounds, and cor "altermate spring break" in whicl nation spend a week building impoverished community:

When the alternate spring bre.

Hallowee

 Thousands of costumed studer the U. of Callfornia, Santa Halloween bash.

The easiest credit a student can get.

As a student, you probably want to establish credit for the future. That's why, unlike most other banks, Citibank has made it easy to apply for a Visa or MasterCard.

You don't even need your parents to co-sign. All you need is a photocopy of your current validated student I.D.

And once you become a Citibank cardmember, you can use your Citibank card at over 8.3 million establishments and get cash anytime at over 64,000 Automated

CITIBANK ${ }^{+}$

Teller Machines (ATMs) worldwide.
What's more, Citibank offers 24-hour customer service, 7 days a week. So you can always reach us whenever you need us.

While other banks give you the runaround, Citibank believes you should spend your time reading

Catch 22. Not living it.

What would you do if I sang (way) out of tune?

By STEVE CRUSE and ANN RIIEY

 The Daily foruan, U. of lowaNow you can achieve what Mill Vanill couldn't: a live performance before a live audience.

All you need is a stage and the nerve to sing in front of strangers.
karaoke, the latest high-tech diversion for American youth, enables the user to sing lead vocals of hit records on which the original vocals have been removed. The device, which originated in Japan, is becoming increasingly popular in the United States - particularly in college-town bars.

Chad Bugos, a junior at the U. of Iowa. has performed wice in a local bar and said be plans to go back for more.
"I'm always singing at work, so my friends always wanted me to do it," he said. "After I went out and broke the ice, they started doing it too."

Halloween  (continued from page 10 )

140 people. mosuly for failure to disperse. Morris said.

The incident has put the annual street party in limbo.

He said what used to be the biggest thing in North Carolina" has fizzled out almosi completely in recent years.

The Greenville authorities may have put an end to the Halloween party at ECU, but the town of Athens, Ohio, has approached the problem a bit differently. A majority on the City Council voted to sanction the party, puting an end to 14 years of illegal street takeovers.
The party isself didn't change much. The sueets were closed voluntarily, and a group called the Clean and Sate Halloween Committee began organizing the festival.

Mayor Sara Hendricker, an outspoken cricic of the event, said making it official doesn't stop out-of-towners from "turning the town into a cesspool." She warned that even with the city's sanction, which was renewed for this year. laws are backed up by hefty fines.
"People seem to think that if the street is closed it's no holds barred, but all laws will concinue to be enforced." she said, adding that most problems are caused by outsiders. -If it was confined to a community event, I'd have an entirely different attitude."

OU Student Senate President Elliot Ratzman, who is also co-chairman of the Clean and Safe Halloween Committee. already has a different a critude.
Ratzman, a senior, said having the event sanctioned took a little of the fun out of the party, but it didn't keep the crowds away. Police estimated the 1990 rumout at 12,000 while organizers said about 35,000 people showed up for the event.
Stu Williams, a junior at Lehigh U., was taking a year off from school in 1989 when he and a friend decided to embark on the nine hour journey to Ohio from his home in Williamsburg, $\mathrm{V}_{2}$.
"I don't know if anything's worth 20 hours of driving. but I guess the costumes carne pretty close," he said.

In his most recent performance, Bugos sang "Love Shack" by the B-52s and Bachman-Tumer Overdrive's "Taking Care of Business.-

Erin Reagen, a Ul senior, said she likes karaoke nights because they allow people to interact with each other, and it is better than just sitting around and drinking.

I've seen a variecy of people get up there and do it," Reagen said. "Anybody who is gutsy enough to get up there is usually pretty well-received. People who aren't gutsy enough are usually the ones who go up there drunk."

The karaoke device consists of two components, a compact dise player that plays the vocal-free music and a television facing the performer that displays the lyrics.

The karaoke machines have some built-in effects to enhance a singer's voice, such as a slight echo and time-lapse. The emcee can also digitally alter the pitch of a song to manch the singer.

Heading down the Atdanta highway...U. of towa senlors Kelly Anderson and Jenmy Hall Joln thelr ffiend Teresa Wlchel to do the cosmic thing with a "Love Shack" readition.

The great hangouts: Too cool for school

Every college town has one - a place where students go just to hang oul. None are exaculy alike, but a few stand out from the crowd. Here's a look a some of the most unique places where students around the country are spending their time and money.

The Varsty

Atlanta, Ga.
Few Ceorgia Teach students would think rwice about eating a "naked dog walking,-
This naked (usually pronounced "nekkid") dog walking is actually a plain hotdog to go ordered as The Varsity.
Adjacent to the Ceorgia Tech campus, The V , as it is commonly called, has been an Atlanta institution for more than 50 years.
The $V$ draws a big crowd during lunch and dinner hours. Even the die-hard regulars have crouble finding anything that can pass for a line in the ordering area, let alone find an empty chair.
On game days, most consider themselves lucky if they canget on the Varsity side of the street. much less get inside to place an order for strings and an F.O.
 (french fries and a Frosted Orange).
Midnight V runs are an everyday occurrence for some Tech sludents, especially during Dead Week and finals, when everyone is up studying, or at least thinking about studying for finals. amanda Buskill, The Technique, Georgia Tech

Valhalla

Houston, Texas
For some, 19 is a lucky number. It means they get to take off aff their clothes, cover their private parss with shaving cream and nun through public places.
Club 13, a coed group of streakers at Rice U. that runs on the 13th and 26th of each month, descends on a graduate student bar called Valhalla to receive free drinks and lots of applause.
Valhalla, a loud music-filled room under the chemisury lecture hall. is one of the final stops on the group's hour-fong run around campus. The concrete walls of the bar feature photographs of Rice's past and such esoteric graffiti as the sicarboxylic-acid cycle, drawn complete with molecular structures, by an anonymous biochemistry grad.
Before making their way to Valhalla, the club members visit almost every occupied building (and often run through evening exams), leaving body prints on any accessible window. Other students, "the hosers," try to douse the nunners with water to wash away the shaving cream.
"Running is a naughty feeling tike when yource 10 years old and sneak out of the house.- said John, the president of the group. Club 13 reminds Valhalla (patrons) of their youth. It's one of the few remaining tradicions at Rice.-
Neil Arnwine, Valhalla manager, said most people are very enthusiastic about the runners.
"Most clap, and some even cake off their clothes, don shaving cream and join in," he said.
Ann Zitterkopf, The Rice Thresher, Rice U.

Muddy Waters  Minneapolis, Minn.

Remember when you were a kid and Mom made you Pop Tarts or Fruit Loops for breakfast?
And if you stayed out of trouble until lunch you got Spaghetio-'s?
Students at the $U$. of Minnesota rellive those carefree days at the Muddy Waters Cafe.
The restaurant specializes in pop culture delectables designed to bring childhood ## right to your table.

I'm not even sure why we started serving that stuff," said Gail Phwaits, who comowns the cafe with Kristi Berkvam
"My partner and I just put foods on the menu that we grew up with, that were easy to fix." Phwaits added.
Muddy Waters is a candy-colored beacon on the otherwise drab Eyndale Avenue in south Minneapolis.
Its pastel pink lights gleam well into the dark when diligent students from both the $U$. of Minnesota and the Minneapolis College of Art and Design are still quaffing Waters' brew and devouring Rice Krispie treats.

The decor is as eccentric as the menu. The tables, chairs and silverware are a hodgepodge of different styles from Deco to 1950s Populuxe.

Phwaits said she thinks Muddy Waters' popularity is due to its diverse clientele.
"We get such a wide variety of people...people from uptown, businessmen on the way to work, artists and musicians," she said. "We get lots of students from both the UM and MCAD." Jon Hunt. The Minnesota Daity, U. of Minnesota

SOUNDETTES

Metallica

Metallica

What do you do when you're the biggest thrash band in the world, a group whose last release sold more than 2 million copies? Raise the stakes of course. That's just what Metallica has done with their self-titled fifth album, a remarkably varied release that promises to break new ground above and beyond the realm of speed metal.

The trademark Metallica sound is still evident, but a newfound interest in variety and textures allows for stylistic departures like harmony vocals in "The Unforgiven," and a Leonard Bernstein quote during the thrash-waltz "Don't Tread On Me." Far from a sellout, Metallica is instead a mature work from a band poised to have their greatest success on their own terms. Richard Challen. The Tiger, Clemson U.

Morrissey  Kill Uncle

Former Smiths lead singer Stephen Morrissey (yes, he has a first narne, but he'll deny it) has never been known for his lightweight pop sensibilities. With The Smiths, and now solo, Monissey has carved out a niche as the poet hareate of angst.

That satas is threatened by his third release. Kill Uncle. There is enough angst in this album to drive the Mormon Tabemacle Choir to drink, but it is clumsity realized and more reminiscent of the whining selfpity of a pop star than of the torsured wat of an artist

The musical quatiy of Morrissey's solo work has always been a notch below that of the Smiths, but never so much as it is here, lapsing into one pop cliche after another.

From most artists, an album of the caliber of Kill Uncle would be a forgivable, easily shrugged-off bit of fluff. But we have a right to expect more from Morrissey. $\begin{aligned} & \text { Andy Walton, Emory Whed, Emory U. }\end{aligned}$

Ned's Atomic Dust Bin  Gad Fodder

Explosively delivered anger, wit and sarcasm drive God Fodder, the debut release from Ned's Atomic Dust Bin. a young British band who chose their name from an old BBC comedy series.
"Atomic" is clearly the operative word in their name, as the album is purely 45 minutes of continuous rapid-fire eruptions of sound and voice, and dust never even gets a chance to settle before it plays through.

The rhythmic song "Happy" is easily the album's best, with the acidic lyrics, "'Cause I will talk, maybe you will listen, but you won't hear a single word I say."
They're here to do their own kind of music and nothing else. Enthusiasm and energy of this sorn are common to young bands (the oldest member of Ned's is 22), but to channel those traits into a coherent and solid debut album, as these guys do, is quite an accomplishment. Eric Adams, The Diamondback, U. of Maryland

Crowded House

Don't dream they're over

ByROBERTRED

Okhahoma Daity, U. of Oklahoma
Australia's Crowded House never had to stumble for success.
Their 1986 debut album. Crowded House, sold more than a million copies and produced a No. 2 single in the United States with its first release. "Don't Dream It's Over."
Other singles "Something So Strong" and "Better Be Home Soon" (the latter from the band's second gold-selling album. The Temple of Low Men) showed thas the songwriter/guitarist Neil Finn could adjust to the pop world cieanly from the intelligent new wave he created with the Split Enx.
It's been three years since we last had the pleasure of a Crowded House record but their "rest" is over, and the new release, Woodface, is well worth the wait. The album shows a new direction and a new member, Neil's brother Tim (also from the Split Enz).
But probably the most colorful of Australia's pop marvels comes from neither of the Finn brothers but from Paul Hester, the man tapping away at his drums while dancing and singing in videos. He's wacky, crazy and funny, not to mention a litule clumsy.
"Hello? This is Paul Hester."
Hello. I'm...
Click.
"Hello? Hello?"
Not exactly the picturesque introduction to the drummer of what some say is the world's perfect pop band. But I guess it wouldn't be Austulian any other way.

The Australian male isn't particulanly a bright species,* Hester explained after we were reconnected. -But wery friendly, friendly and dumb! They walk into lamp posts, and it doesn't hurt them. They just have a bit of a chuckle."
After we had a bit of a chuckle about his phone troubles, Hester got (fairly) serious about the band and its newest member, Tim.
-It was a bit hard at firsi, because in "It was a bit hard at first. because it was the end of Curty. Lamy and Moe... and the beginning of Shemp."

- Panil Hester;

Crownded House dimanmmer
materialism. it is an indication of Woodfaceras a whole.
"It's obviously a lot broader," Hester said. "There's more in it than olher Crowded House records, with the extremes going from "Chocolate Cake" through to a song like -All I Ask" (witha 24-piece orchestra). It sounds like a weird Twin Peaks soundtrack or something. Tony Bennetumaybe-Equally good are the tracks "lt's Only Natural" and "Weather With You," which produce a settling charm in comparison. Aside from particularly good gaitar parts. they show what Hester calls a new instrument," Tim's harmonious vocals.

As Crowded House tours North America for the third time. Hester is optimistic about the band's future and has one seemingly simple goal.

We want to be able to do what we want to do, when we want to was the end of Curly, Larry and Moe. and the beginning of Shermp." Hester said. "But the advantages of Tim are obvious. He's got a great voice and a strong personality."

The newly formed four-piece band began recording the songt in Tim's home studio before taking them to Los Angeles to be fanished with producer Mitchell froom.

The nativelous results are obvious with the first single, "Chocolate Cake." Sporting a psychedelic-funk feel to go along with a comment or American spoiled children like everyone else. We want to have our own audience and maintain it.
"We love going around the world and playing to everyone ... and then going home to Australia to live.-"

Yes, Australia, one of "the world's best secrets.* as Hester said. The place where men stumble into street Hights and then walk away giggling. But that isn't our dear Hester, is it?
"I used to do that. But I've learned. I've become slightly cultured now. I'm a bit of a pomp.*

Fulfill all your communications requirements with one course.

If you're looking for a simple way to handle all of your communications needs, there's one prerequisite. Join AT&T Stuctent Saver

Plus. You'll be able to get an entire line of products and services designed specifically to save college students time and money. Our Reacb Out-makes it easy to call from almost anywhere to anywhere. $\square$ And with AT\&T, you'll always get the most reliable long distance service.Plus, if you register for any of our services-or if you're already an AT\&T customer-you'll get $\square$ 1 HOUR FREE on all kinds of things, all year round. $\square$ So ask about AT\&T Student Saver Plus You'll find that for this communications course, we did our homewre.

Dollars and Sense

Giving it up

Corporate, alumni donations increase despite recession

By CHRISTINE KLOOSTRA  The Michigan Daik. U. of Michigan

While most of the country has been pinching pennies since the start of the recession, corporations and alumni have been more generous in their giving to universities during the past fiscal year.

We just finished our best year ever," said Paul Eberle, director of fiscal affairs in the Office of Development at Ohio State U.
Total contributions were up 17 percent this year at OSU. including an 11 percent increase in corporate donations, a situation that mirrored the trend at other universities across the country.

According to the Council for Aid to Education, located in New York City, corporate and alumni gifts to colleges and universities nationwide increased 11 percent in 1990 . indicating that giving was not affected in the first months of the recession.

Preliminary numbers for 1991 are not available.
Michael Rierson, director of corporate and foundation relations at Duke U., said gifs to the school have increased during the past year.

Corporate donations to Duke went up 24 percent to $$ 42.2$ million, Rierson said. Of the total amount, $$ 22$ million went to sponsored research at the school.
"The business of science goes on despite a recession," he said. "Usually research relationships are the foundation upon which universities make a case for philanthropic gifts."

At the U. of Michigan, corporate gifts increased 18.9 percent during the $1990-91$ year, with the number of corporate donors jumping 4.4 percent.
A few schools, however, did experience a decline in corporate gifts. Mike Brennan, director of corporate and foundation relations at the $U$. of Pennsylvania, said donations there decreased only slightly.
Brennan said he did not believe Penn's decline could be attributed to the recession. "It's more the nature of corporations and foundations to follow a long-term strategy," Brennan said. "The numbers tend to fluctuate from year to year."
Many agree that the recession has had so little impact this

NEEL MAREEDO, THE GUARDUN, U. OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO
year because of its shor-term nature.
At Dartmouth College, corporate donations - money which typically funds research - were down, but corporate foundation gifts, or funding targeted for philanthropic projects, increased. The college doesn't release separate figures, but the total of corporate and corporate foundation figures, but the total of corporate and corporate foundal 16
See DONATONS, Page 16

Copyright copycats widespread on campus

Ethis the roal thing? Student entrepreneurs often rip off well-known logos and alogans in the thriving T-shirt Industry. The practice is itlegeal, burt seldom prosecuted.

ByMATTHEW EISLEY

The Daily Tar Hect, U. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
University students across the country have stocked up this fall on the essentials: books, pens, paper and novelty T-shirts.
College campuses are peppered with T-shirs that parody catchy commercial ad slogans such as "Michigan: The Ulitimate University," a take-off on BMW ads; "Absolutely Auburn," with the familiar vodka bottle design in War Eagle colors; and "Late Night at USC," complete with a Lettermanesque top- 10 list.
Many violate registered trademarks; others misuse copyrighted cartoon characters such as Calvin & Hobbes, Bat Simpson or Fred Flintstone.
"That's a problem everywhere." said Liz Kennedy, manager of the U. of Southern California bookstore and licensing office. "lt"s a problem not just with students but with vendors and bookstores."
Michael Berard, a student at the U. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, began selling T-shirts in the summer of 1989 through his company. The shirts featured a mock Budweiser can with the slogans "This Beach is for You" and "Nags Head -the King of Beaches."
In the eyes of Anheuser-Busch's lawyers, Berard's shirts were the king of rip-offs. In September 1989, the brewing company sued Berard for trademark infringement and convinced authorities to impound his stock.

Eight months later, after Berard's family had sunk about $$ 35.000$ into attorney fees, a jury ruled in Berard's favor.
"When you're being sued by a big company like this, everybody usually just rolls over and says,' Please don't hurt me,'" said Robert Reeves, Berard's lawyer. "Mike stood up to them."

But Berard's case is unusual. Most students settle copyright challenges out of court.
"Normally what happens is that they get a nasty letter and they say, 'Oops, I'm sorry,' and that's it." said Robin Rolfe, executive director of the U.S. Trademark Association. "(Trademark owners) try not to lock people up for things like this."

See COPVRIGHI, Page 19

How to get practical experience without a job. And how to get to job interviews without a car. It's tough. Unless somebody takes a chance on yoû.Thanks, Chrysler.

TO RECENE FREE CHRYSLER CORPORATON CATALOGS AND INFORBATON ABOUT CHRYSLER'S

$\square$

My choice of catalog(s) from Chrysler Corporation is (check no more than two):
Chrysler Division-Featuring: LeBaron Coupe and LeBaron Converible. Plymoulh Division-Fecturing: Loser, Colt and Accaim. Dodge Division-Featuring: Shadow, Stedith und Doptono. Dodge Truck Division-Featuring: Dakolo Sport and Dakota "S." leep Division-Featuring: Wrangler and Cherokee. Eugie Division-Fecturing: Talon and Summit. or information on the 2ASMEACM sler Credit's "entry level" ligible customers J0-CMC-GRAD. s!

Dollars and Sense

Giving it up

Corporate, alumni donations increase despite recession

y ChRISIINE KLOOSTRA

The Michigon Daity, U. of Michigan
While most of the country has been pinching pennies since the start of the recession, corporations and alumni have been more generous in their giving to universities during the past fiscal year.
"We just finished our best year ever," said Paul Eberle, director of fiscal affairs in the Office of Development at Ohio State U.
Total contributions were up 17 percent this year at OSU, including an 11 percent increase in corporate donations, a situation that mirrored the trend at other universities across the country.

According to the Council for Aid to Educacion, located in New York City, corporate and alumni gifis to colleges and universities nationwide increased 11 percent in 1990 , indicating that giving was not affected in the first months of the recession.
Preliminary numbers for 1991 are not available.
Michael Rierson, director of corporate and foundation
relations at Duke U., said gifts to the school have increased during the past year.
Corporate donations to Duke went up 24 percent to $$ 42.2$ million, Rierson said. Of the total amount, $$ 22$ million went to sponsored research at the school.
"The business of science goes on despite a recession," he said. "Usually research relationships are the foundation upon which universities make a case for philanthropic gifts."
At the U . of Michigan, corporate gifts increased 18.9 percent during the $1990-91$ year, with the number of corporate donors jumping 4.4 percent.
A few schools, however, did experience a decline in corporate gifts. Mike Brennan, director of corporate and foundation relations at the $U$. of Pennsylvania, said donations there decreased only slighty.

Brennan said he did not believe Penn's decline could be attributed to the recession. -It's more the nature of corporations and foundations to follow a long-term strategy," Brennan said. "The numbers tend to fluctuate from year to year."

Many agree that the recession has had so little impact this year because of its shor-term nature
At Darmouth College, corporate donations - money which typically funds research - were down, but corporate foundation gifts, or funding targeted for philanthropic projects, increased. The college doesn't release separate figures, but the total of corporate and corporate foundation See donamons, Page 16

Copyright copycats widespread on campus

By MATTHEW EISLEY

The Daity Tar Hed, U. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
University students across the country have stocked up this fall on the essentials: books, pens, paper and novelty T-shirts.
College campuses are peppered with T-shirts that parody catchy commercial ad slogans such as "Michigan: The Ultimate University," a take-off on BMW ads; "Absolutely Auburn." with the familiar vodka botule design in War Eagle colors: and "Late Night at USC," complete with a Lettermanesque top-10 list.

Many violate registered trademarks; others misuse copyrighted cartoon characters such as Calvin & Hobbes, Bart Simpson or Fred Flintstone.
"That's a problem everywhere," said Liz Kennedy, manager of the U. of Southern California bookstore and licensing office. "It's a

> NO POSTAGE NECESSARY FMAIEED
INTHE UNITED STATES

BUSINESS REPLY MAIL  FIRST CLASS MAIL PERMTT NO. 6596  BCDOMFIELD HIUS, MI

POSTAGE WIL BE PAID gY ADDRESEE

COLLEGE GRADUATE HEADQUARTERS PO BOX 3145 BLOOMFIELD HILLS MI 48302-9806

 begin. Like how to get a job without practical experience. How to get practical experience without a job. And how to get to job interviews without a car. Its tough. Unless somebody takes a chance on yoúl.Thanks, Chrysler. $500 cisisheiaic sime payment plans for eligible customers CALL 1-800-CMC-GRAD. Your diploma counts!

Dollars and Sense

Giving it up

Corporate, alumni donations increase despite recession

By CHRISTINE KLOOSTRA

The Michigan Daily. U. of Michigan
While most of the country has been pinching pennies since the start of the recession, corporations and alumni have been more generous in their giving to universities during the past fiscal year.
"We just finished our best year ever," said Paul Eberle, director of fiscal affairs in the Office of Development at Ohio Suate U.
Total contributions were up 17 percent this year at OSU, including an 11 percent increase in corporate donations, a situation that mirrored the tend at other universities across the country.

According to the Council for Aid to Education, located in New York City, corporate and alumni gifts to colleges and universities nationwide increased 11 percent in 1990, indicating that giving was not affected in the first months of the recession.
Preliminary numbers for 1991 are not available.
Michael Rierson, director of corporate and foundation
relations at Duke U., said gifts to the school have increased during the past year.
Corporate donations to Duke went up 24 percent to $$ 42.2$ million, Rierson said. Of the total amount, $$ 22$ million went to sponsored research at the school.
"The business of science goes on despite a recession," he said. "Usually rescarch relationships are the foundation upon which universities make a case for philanthropic gifts."
At the U. of Michigan. corporate gifts increased 18.9 percent during the $1990-91$ year, with the number of corporate donors jumping 4.4 percent.
A few schools, however, did experience a decline in corporate gifts. Mike Brennan, director of corporate and foundation relations at the $U$. of Pennsylvania, said donations there decreased only slighty.
Brennan said he did not believe Penn's decline could be attributed to the recession. "It's more the nature of corporations and foundations to follow a long-term strategy." Brennan said. "The numbers tend to fluctuate from year to year."
Many agree that the recession has had so hitle impact this year because ofits shorterm nature.

At Darmouth College, corporate donations - money which typically funds research - were down, but corporate foundation gifts, or funding targeted for philanthropic projects, increased. The college doesn't release separate figures, but the tocal of corporate and corporate foundation See DONATIONS. Page 16

After finals. That's when the tough questions

 begin. Like how to get a job without practical experience.How to get practical experience without a job. And how to get to job interviews without a car. Unless somebody takes a chance on yoú. - ${ }^{2}$

Hey, looks like somebody did!

Thanks, Chrysler.

It's tough.

Wagner will start paying themselves.
-Right now, we owe ourselves moncy," he said.
Thompson produces most of the arwork for Seabies, which currendy consists of two distinct lines. The expedition line features shirts that represent different regions of the world. with all of the writing on the shirts printed in the area's dialect.
The adventure line offers sporty wear, including clothes with the SSport logo - the "S" standing for Seabies. Shirts depict different sports, such as ternis or volleyball.

The pair has since expanded their operation. Clothing selections aren't limited just to T-shirts anymore. "We've expanded into cotton pullovers, we've added two now pullover jackets, and someday we're probably going to have pants and probably some shorts," Wagner said.

It's not just another way for you to spend your money. It's a way to help you save it.

Now, get the Card and get Student Privileges.

 Special savings created just for you. Only from American Express. If you think the American Express ${ }^{\circ}$ Card is simply another way to buy things, here's some valuable news: Since you're a student, the Card can actually belp you save.Become a Student Cardmember today and you'll enjoy American Express Student Privileges," our newly expanded package of outstanding savings and special offers.

3 ROUNDTRIPS ON CONTINENTAL AIRLINESATAPRICE THAT REALLY MAKES FLYING AFFORDABLE

Only Student Cardmembers can enjoy this great deal on Continental Airlines: three roundtrip flights for just $$ 129$ or $$ 189$ each-depending on where you're going What's more, these certificates are good anywhere Continental Airlines flies in the 48 contiguous states.

And the best part: Eacb certificate could save you as mucb as $$ 250$ over regular Continental Airlines fares on a coast-tocoast trip. Apply today

OUR NEWEST ADVANTAGE: UP TO 30 MINUTES OF FREE MCI LONG-DISTANCE CALIING EVERY MONTH FOR AYEAR

Talk about value. Now the Card can also help you save on your long-distance calls. In total, you could save more than $$ 44$ wben you enroll and use the American Express Card as a calling card And you dor't even have to change your current long. distance company

PLUS, SAVINGS ON CLOTHES, FOOD MUSIC... AND MORE

You'll also receive Student Privileges Value Certificates to help you make the most of a college budget. This year alone, Cardmembers have saved at Pizzeria Uno, Eddie Baver, MTV and on ArtCarved class rings, among others.

For just $$ 55$ a year, the Card gives you all these savings and more. In all, it's an exceptional value. Because while there are many ways for you to spend your money, there are few that help you save it.

 byproprites surcharge

- Egi American Express Trivet Reluted $ervines Compiny inc.

Concern over the environment has given the entrepreneurs another marketable idea.
"We've come up with a world preservaion line. It looks really worn and rugged. The line will depict different endangered species and environmental issues," Thompson said.
The company has grown from adverising by word-of-mouth to dissribuing through dorms and recently expanded to retail outlets. "We're looking to expand nationally, especially on the West Coast and in the South." Thampson said.

Donations

(continued from page 14)
donations for $1990-91$ was $$ 15.9$ million, up from $$ 15.2$ milion the previous year.

John Hayes, director of development at Dartmouth College, said the ccomomic situation did have some impact, but that the long-term nature of corporate investments was primarily responsible.
"If you looked at a five-year period, the slope of the line is up," Hayes said.

OSU's Eberle agreed. "I would imagine something long-ierm like a depression wonld have made a difference. - Corporations, such as automotive giant Generil Motors, say their bame plan allows them to make donations despite the recession.

-The General Motors Foundation was founded in 1976 so maincain a philanthropic presence during economic downturns," sid Tom Pyden, a public relations officer for GA. "The foundation helps General Motors maintain a consistent level of giving."

Alumni donations have also gone ap at some universicies - including a record increase of 42 percent at OSU.

Eberle suggested that the increase in alumni donations can partially be attributed to the fact that college graduates were not hit as hard by the recession as the less affluent.

Officiats at other schools said that despite an increase in cionations, they noticed more subtle ways the recession had affected how people gave money.
The U. of Michigan Telefund. which solicits money through phone calls to alumni, raised $$ 3.46$ million this year $$ 210,000$ more than lase year's campaign.

Mark Brotherton, program manager of the Telefund, said although the bortom line went up. the recession did change individuals' giving habits.
*People who gave money gave less, but more people gave money this year," he said. Some schools expanded their outreach efforts to combat the economic downtum.
Rierson at Duke explained, YYou need lots of projects in the pipeline all the time. We ury to kecp our pipeline full."

He said Duke is not attempting to raice as many funds as it possibly can. "We're not in the business to raise more money, we're in the business to raise the best moncy."
Despite the increase in gifts this year. Sidncy Micek, executive director of Corporate and Foundation Relations at Syracuse U., suspects the real test of the recession's impact on donations may be yet to come.
He said most corporate and individual budgets were formed last year before the recession was in full swing.
"This coutd be a very tough year." Micek. said. "I would be very cautious about saying the recession has not affected giving.*

potars and Sense PCTTOEPR 199

By the book

Student-published course guides

 give lowdown on classes, profs
By Greg moore

Daity Athenaeum, West Virginia U.
The official university catalog might tell you which math class you need for graduation - but it won't give you the scoop on what professor is "the reigning polyester king of Cambridge" and who else offers "a good shoulder to cry on."
For that type of information, you need a studentpublished course guide.
"With our guide, we have no restrictions," said Stephen Newman, editor of Harvard U.'s $1990-91$ Confideritial Cuide. considered the granddaddy of all student-published guides.

The "Confi Guide," a highly opinionated and sometimes irreverent look at hundreds of Harvard and Radcliffe courses, competes with the more straight-laced Committee on Undergraduate Education_guide published by the university.
Newman said that in the past, when professors complained about the negative comments in the administrators' CUE guide, the comments were changed. He said the CUE guide "tends to put everything in a more posituve light."

The "Confi Guide," on the other hand, illustrates a revicw about a theology class with a photo of Andrew Dice Clay, and warns prospective English majors that the departnent is "in no rush to see that your needs are met. It doesn't particularly care whether or not you're happy. What are you going to do about it: Major in bio-chem?"

But students are encouraged to use both guides and talk with professors and students who have had the class as well. "It's important that we aren't someone's sole source," Newman said.

Pennsylvania State U. student Saul Treiman edited the first PSU guide for this fall. The guide consists of grading and attendance policies, class content and instructorsremarks, but Tremain said student comments may be added.
"That's definitely something we're looking at," he said. "There may be some way to do that with the OK of the administration."

He said some people were afraid "it would get very

Harvard U. professor Bertrand Halperin.
lectures during a physics class. The Harvard "Confi Guide:" says

the.

physics department gives stadents ra real sense of having a mastery of a body of krowledgets rathemtorn biying just fearned a bunch of facts:"
JOEL HEANPIERRE, TME MASS MEDIA U. OF MASSACHUSETTS. BOSTON confrontational" if students started throwing around negative comments in the first issue.
Syracuse U. student leaders are planning to augment their course guide with student comments within the next several years, according to Eric Jacobson, vice president for academic affairs. The guide currently reviews about 75 courses each semester, including course content and grade distribution. Jacobson said students will be polled at the end of each semester to get their opinions of the class.

All of the guides are geared toward the most popular classes on campus. Treiman said Penn Stace's guide concentrates on electives rather than the required classes. because. "It's kind of missing the point otherwise."

Freshmen get the most use out of the guides. "We sell about 1,500 copies, and 800 to 900 of those go to freshmen." Newman said. "After a year, you kind of figure out what the gossip is and what classes are like."

Leader of the pack: Student entrepreneurs find one-strap success

By NICOLE WERBECKThe Kent Stater, Kent State. U.

Prepare for the attack of the one-strap backpack.
The ToPaq, a single-strap spin-off of the traditional bookbag, is scheduled to hit college bookstores this fall at more than 40 schools nationwide.
ToPaq is the brainchild of three Comell U. alumni who developed it for a class project two years ago while still in school.
Short for "totally original paq," ToPaq solves the bothersome problem of balancing a two-strap backpack on one shoulder. The lone strap is centered on the pack so carriers can sling the ToPaq over either shoulder. It also featiures a hook on top for hanging, a thumb loop, an ID slot on the strap, and one intermal and external pocket.

Phillip Straughan, a May graduate and president of the company, saw a prototype of the Topaq in London several years ago and purchased the U.S. rights to the product He and fellow students Tiffany Norwood and Oliver Pfeffer then produced che ToPaq for a course in entrepreneurship. The trio reworked the pattern, focusing on balance and practicality, and walked off with $$ 5,000$ for the best project.
The ToPaq principle is so obvious that Straughan was surprised no one thought of the idea before. "We are simply answering the backpack wearers' natural needs," he said. "The backpack has been designed to be comfortable on one shoulder, the way most people with a two-strap pack attempt to wear them.
-I thought (the ToPaq) was neat. I first used a backpack in college, and 1 always had trouble with it flying off," he said.

Straughan has big plans for his product "Our longterm goal is to get the pack on the back of every backpack wearer in America," he said.

Nonverbal communication can affect classroom performance

Henizs maktiver, mew meoce danl loeo. U. OF NEW MDXICO

By BOB FAHEY, IR.
Salem Slate Log, Salem State U.
Can the way a professor smiles at you change your career goals from ditch digger to brain surgeon?

Probably not, but two leading body language experts do agree that professors* physical gestures toward students can affect students' achievement rates and even their career choices.
Monica Harris, an assistant professor of psychology at the U. of Kentucky, said professors are more likely to touch, smile at, and stand closer to students they expect to excel, while treating low-expectancy students more coldly. And this acts as a selffulfilling prophecy, according to researchers.

But one reason, Harris said, is that motivated students tend to sit closer to professors, a move that draws further encouragement from professors.

Proximity is just one nonverbal factor that influences the educational environment. Gender and ethnic background also can affect the student-teacher relationship. Professors treat male and female students differently according to the course material. Harris said. "They expect women to shy away from mathematical and technical fields and go for the written word," while men get the nod, so to speak, toward the technical fields they currenty dominate, she said.
women are better at picking up the subtelties of nonverbal communication than their male counterparts. According to Harvard U, psychology professor Bob Rosenthal, when students view two-second films of a person who could be either describing nature or scolding a child, women guess the correct answer much more often than domen.
And students from Western nations rely on visual cues more than Eastern students, who are more sensitive to tone of voice.
Rosenthal founded the -Pygmation theory," named after the Bernard Shaw play where a skilled linguist turns a street waif into a classy debutante, and used it as a basis See NONVERBAL, Page 19

WE CAN MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN DISAPPEAR.

It's not magic, it's the Army and Army Reserve's Educational Loan Repayment Programs. Even the largest loan, if not in default, can completely disappear after three years of active Army service. The amount and duration of repayment varies for Reservists.

Your college experience may allow you to enter the Army at a higher rank and pay grade. And you may also qualify for sophisticated skill training.

For more information, call 1-800-USA-ARMY, Ext. 439 , or mail in the coupon today.
ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.
 ARMY EDUCATIONAL LOAN REPAYMENTT PROGRAMS

aACTIVE  $\square R E S E R V E$

SEND TO: Army Opportunities, P. O. Box 3219
1
Name
Warminster, PA. 18974

Address
1
1
Phone $\qquad$ Birthday

$\begin{array}{ccl}\text { Circle last year of college completed } & 1921 \times J \sim 021 z \mathrm{C} \\ 1 & 2 & 3\end{array}$

Copyright  continued from page 14)

"Do the kids focus on what the legal Limplications are? I'm sure they don't qive it a ## Nonverbal  (continued from page 17

for his book, Pygmalion in the Classroom. He assers that students who are challenged and ir professors do better hey're ignored.
Thirty years of research ts can safely say. 'The spect me or think I'm ing very easy on me."

Nonverbal communication plays such a big role in the classroom that teachers are taught to be attuned to body language. For years Harris said, "Teachers didn't want to believe that they could be influencing students this way," but now physical techniques play a bigger role in teacher training.
Rosenthal warns against elinging to any absolutes in reading nonverbal behavior. and especially dislikes books about "how to read people by the book," though he concedes that the rapport between

WE CAN MAKE YOUR STUDENT LO

It's not magic, it's the Army and Army Reserve's Educational Loan Repayment Programs. Even the largest loan, if nor in default, can completely disappear after three years of active Army service. The amount and duration of repayment varies for Reservists.

Your college experience may allow you to enter the Army at a higher rank and pay grade. And you may also qualify for sophisticated skill training.

For more information, call 1-800-USA-ARMY, Ext. 439 , or mail in the coupon today.

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

otwer ex serge

Copyright

 (comtirued from page 14)"Do the kids focus on what the legal implications are? I'm sure chey don' g give it a thought. They're certainly not thinking bout someone's intangible property."
Trademark and copyright owners aren't likely to prosecute students unless they sell the shirss for profic.

While you may not be going after a fraternity for its 57 T-shirts for a beer party, it's still a problem," Rolfe said.

Walt Disney World Co. has the reputation as the most active protector of its copyrighis, said John Matthews, vice president for sales at Tribune Media Services of Chicago, which distributes "Shoe" and other comic strips to more than 600 college newspapers.
"We're a bit less strident just because it isn't worth our time and effort to go after a student who prints 10 or 20 T-shirts," he said. "But it's against the law."

A company like Tribune Media depends on clients to alert it to cases of copyright violation, Matthews said.

Rolfe said trademark owners who mount successful challenges could force the designers to give up their profits, destroy their inventory and pay the trademark owner's estimated sales losses. In extreme cases the owner can recover triple the damages and attomey fees, she said.
"Siopping the abuse may be more important to them than beating up on someone for a few dollars," she said.

More than a few dollars are at risk for universities that regulate the use of their nathes, logos and slogans.

Before 1980, only a handful of U.S. colleges had lieensing programs, said LSC's Kennedy, vice president of the Association of College Licensing Administrators.
But when interest in collegiate memorabilia soared in the '80s, hundreds of universities instituted licensing programs to protect their reputation and to tap into a growing revenue source.
Most universities charge licensees an upfront fee and 5 to 8 percent of wholesale sales.
"The real reason for licensing is to protect one of our most valuable assets, and that's the name of the university," Kennedy said.

And as with registered commercial trademarks, at most colleges students need to get permission to use their school's names, logos and slogans. Some don't.
" 1 don't think there's any school in the United States that hasn't had that problem," Kennedy said.
Biruta Nielsen, UNC's contracts administrator, said most students simply weren't aware of the legal requirements.
"Since we're always dealing with a new group of students coming in every year, educating students is a continuing process," Nielsen sid.
Some screen printers resist the idea that a university's name should be copyrightable.
The U. of Kansas reached a settlement last December with Ballard Sporting Goods, a Manhattan, Kan., vendor that sold bootleg $T$-hirts for six months at an outlet store.
Ballard paid KU about $$ 1,600$ in back royalcies, turned over about 200 T-shirts and sweatshirts and became an official licensee, said Mike Reid, KU's licensing director.
"There were no lawyers involved," he said. "Most of the time, I'd say, things work out like that- ${ }^{-}$

Nonverbal  (comtinued from page 17)

for his book, Pygmalion in the Clasrroom. He asserts that students who are challenged and encouraged by their professors do better than those who feel they're ignored.
Rosenthal said, "Thirty years of research show that students can safely say, 'The ceacher doesn't respect me or think I'm intelfigent if he's being very easy on me.' ${ }^{\text {w }}$

Nonvertal communication plays such a big nole in the classroom that teachers are taught to be attuned to body language. For years, Harris said, "Teachers didn't want to believe that they could be influencing students this way," but now physical techniques play a bigger role in teacher training.
Rosenthal warns against clinging to any absolutes in reading nonverbal behavior, and especially dislikes books about "how to read people by the book," though be concedes that the rapport between professors and students is easy to judge
"If you took me into different classes, I could assess good rapport just like anyone else, but I couldn't be certain why" he said. "People try to base it on how many times the professor shakes his head up and down or side to side."
But such habits don't apply across the board to all professors, he warned, and students should avoid absolutes. If you're going to start saying, 'One yawn will cost me two grade points,' it's hopeless.
 Each of these advertised ltems are readily avalicidie for sale as advertised.

The Student Body

Playing hardball

Presidentsforce reforms on college athletics

ByJOEL HORN

Stake Press, Arizona State U.
For decades, critics of college athletics have complained that the phrase "studentathlete" is a lie.

Athletes, they have said, are litule more than disposable commodities to the institutions they serve - pack mules who devote every waking moment to their sport and are left, four years later, with litde but memories to show forit.

Coaches and athletic directors have disagreed, saying their students are given the time and opportunity to acquire an education which might otherwise be unattainable.

But occasionally, concerns of the critics are personified in the types of embarrassing stories that universities would rather forget.
In 1989. Dexter Manley of the Phoenix Cardinals tearfully testified before Congress that he played football for Oklahoma State from 1977 to 1980 despite being functionally illiterate.

Former Creighton basketball player Kevin Ross sat in class for four years before leaving school in 1982 to enroll at a Chicago elementary school because, like Manley, he could not read.
And at Califormia State U., Los Angeles, seven members of the basketball team filed suit against the university for alleged academic fraud. The school eventually paid the players $$ 100,000$ in damages and educational benefits and issued a formal apology.
"I realize that I am just road kill on the highway to reform."

- Robert Bowntay NIU Athletic Birector

After years of tolerating such scandals, it appears college presidents are trying to clean up their programs and give sensible boundaries to those that are out of control.

P
The presidents stormed the January NCAA Convention in Nashville, Tenn., outmuscled their own athletic directors, and pushed through a series of reform legislation that could alter the very nature of college athletics.
When the dust had settled in Nashville, nearly all of the 182 proposals, resolutions and amendments that the presidents introduced had passed, and it was clear that the presidents had asserted control over the Nightrinares in the Ivory tower: Dexter Mariley, functionally IIlferate when he played foothail for Oklishoma State $U_{n}$, exempiffies an era college presidents would rather forget.
NCAA.
Many coaches and athletic directors felt crushed.
"I realize that I am just road kill on the highway to reform," Northern Iowa Athletic Director Robert Bowlsby said at the convention.

That reform includes five proposals that will have a significant impact on college athletics in the years to come: a reduction in mandatory practice time for student athletes; 10 percent cuts in scholarships; the imposition of stricter academic standards; a reduction in the size of coaching staffs; and the phasing-out of athletic dormitories.
Perhaps the most controversial change is the reduction of mandatory in-season practice and competition time to a maximum of 20 hours per week and four hours per day, with athletes guaranteed one day off a week during their season. The $20-$ hour week includes team meetings (but not physical therapy) and allows three additiona! hours for games. In the offseason, athletes can spend only eight hours per week at their sport and are guaranteed three days off.

See REFORMS, Page 23

Practice (but not too much) makes perfect

By MICHAEL BLUHM

Indiana Daily Student, Indiana U.
While university presidents, athletic directors and coaches were duking it out during this year's NCAA convention, some unexpected visitors stopped by to add their voices to the fray.

For the first time in the convention's 84-year history, NCAA athletes came to Nashville to address the elders. And they did not come to pay tribute.

The athletes came to declare their opposition to the soon-to-be-notorious Proposition 38, requiring a "student-athletes's participation ... be limited to a maximum of four hours per day and 20 hours per week" during the season.

Despite their protests, the proposition passed overwhelmingly.
The new law - part of the NCAA Presidents Commission package to reform athletics, cut costs and curb the exploitation of athletes seeks to make athletes' lives less demanding.
But it might do just the opposite. The athletes' speeches at the convention only clarified the irony; they publicly opposed the legislation designed to help them. If anything, they said, it creates a host of new problems.

The first, and most well-known, casualty of the legislation is former Stanford U. swimmer Janet Evans. Winner of three gold medals in the 1988 Summer Olympics at the age of 17, Evans left the university team in April because she said the practice restrictions would hamper her ability to train for next year's Olympics.
"This is a hard decision because I love Stanford and I love my teammates," Evans said upon leaving. "It will be hard not swimming for Stanford."
When the plan was originally proposed, Evans, who trains about 35 hours a week, threatened to sue the NCAA if it was enacted. But the form of the legislation passed by the NCAA allows unlimited voluntary workouts, and allows the universities to enforce compliance. Coaches in some sports, including swirmming, are allowed to be present during those voluntary workouts.
These loopholes were intended to give swimmers like Evans the chance to train as much as they want. But Evans decided otherwise.
II don't want to spend the rest of my life worrying if I'm spending
See PRACTICE, Page 21

Robert Smith: A now breed of college athlote who refuses to putt his sport above acadonice, or just tired of pimying foothatil for Ohlo State?

Practice

(continued from page 20)
an hour extra a day and am I going to get banned by the NCAA," Evans said.

Despite the Evans incident, some legislators say the limits were directed at the more time-consuming revenue sports football and basketball - whose athletes have performed worse academically than their non-revenue counterparts.

Jim Marchiony, director of enough time during the season to do what communications for the NCAA, said the organization was looking out for studentathletes overwhelmed by time commitments and demands of revenue sports.
"The premise (of Proposition 38) comes from a survey the NCAA Presidents Commission had done a couple of years ago, in which 4,000 student-athletes were interviewed," Marchiony said. "The number one feeling that carne out of that survey was that student-athletes felt they didn't have enough time during the season to do what they needed to be doing."
Ohio State U. tailbark Robert Smith fits that mold of the frustrated student-athlete.

Smith set the football world on its ear this August when he announced he was quitting the OSU football team because the intense practice schedule didn't allow him time for his premed studies.
Smith, who rushed for 1.126 yards last year as a freshman, complained that the coaching staff disregarded the imporlance of his studies, and that they said he was taking his classes too seriousty.
But critics of the measure say legislating less practice time is not the same as legislating more study time.

I don't think that anyone is under the illusion that GPAs are going to skyrocket under this rale," Marchiony said. "That's up to the student himself or herself."

Chris Crader. The Stanford Daily, Stanford U. and John Kampf, the Lantern, Ohio State U., also contributed to this story.

RIGIT GUARD SPORT STICK

ANMTIING LESS WOULD BE UNCIVIIZZD ATHLEIE SPOTLIGHT: TY DETMER

Some people would think Ty Detmer has it made.

The Brigham Young $U$. quarterback seized last year's Heisman Trophy Award with an awesome display of passing accuracy, cool gamesmanship, and an uncanny, seemingly innate sense for the game. He shattered 42 NCAA records, threw for an unprecedented 5,188 yards and connected for 41 touchdowns.

And last year's winner of the Maxwell Trophy, Football News Player of the Year, UPI Player of the Year, and the U.S. Amateur Athlete of the Year Award still had one more year to go.

But that might be a mixed blessing.
This season, Detmer faces an enormous challenge and great expectations. His BYU offense lost nine starters from last year's power house squad, including his faur favorite receivers. His Cougars faced a grueling schedule, with games against Florida State, UCLA and Penn State the first three weeks of the season. And Detmer is coming off an injury to his right shoulder, requiring surgery and months of intense rehabilitation.

Worse yet, as a returning Heisman winner, Detmer knows opponents will be gunning for him. After winning the Heisman last year. Detmer and the Cougars suffered embarrassing defeats to Hawaii and Texas A&M by a combined score of 124-42.
"I learned a lot toward the end of last season," Detmer said after last year's losses. "I realized that I will be a target this year."

SPORTS

Norplant The best birth control lots of money can buy

By AMY FRANCIS

The Daily Kansan, U. of Kansss
Tired of taking the pill Uncomfortable with the IUD? Do sponges and foams seem just a litde...unnatural?
Then you may be a prime candidate for Norplant, the firss new birth control device to be introduced in the United States in the last 25 years.
Norplant, which has been used by more than 1 miltion women throughout the world for the past 20 years, is hailed by many as a revolutionary means of preventing pregnancy.

Six implants, about one and one-half inches long and 2 millimeters wide, are inserted just below the skin of the upper inside of a woman's arm. The implants release a continuous low dose of levonorgestrel, a synthecic form of the female hormone progesterone.

It's a fairly simple technique," said Julie Strickland, assistant professor of gynecology and obstetrics at the U. of Kansas Medical Center. "It works very much like a shot. You don'teven need a stitch."
Whthin 24 hours of the insertion, the levonorgestrel travels to the brain and inhibiss the production of hormones in the pituitary gland that normally signal ovaries to produce eggs. The implants release the hommones in potent amounts for five years, after which their effectiveness decreases and the implants should be removed, she said.
If a woman wants to continue to use Norplant, new implants can be inserted in the same location. Women also can have Norplant removed if they want to conceive. Fernility will return within three months, Strickland added.
Strickland said Norplant is 99.7 percent effective in preventing pregnancy for up to five years, making it the surest form of birth control on the market.
According to the American College Health Association, the pill is 97 percent effective in preventing pregnancy.

 synthettc progestin hormone pre implanted beresth the sidn on the inside for upper of the upper amm (i). The oloodstream then carries the hormone. levonorgestrel, to the brain's pituttary fiend, (2). The pituitary gland normally is responsible for creating hormorves which trigger ovaries to produce mature edts, The levonorgestrel, however, blocks the pitultary within about a day thereby halting production of eggs and rendering the woman temporarily sterile (3).

1. The dioctor first makes a $1 / 8^{\prime \prime}$ Inciskon in the shdn of the ama-small erough thet no sittches are required.

2. A hollow feed tube ts inserted in th cut silghtly beneath the skin's whifface.

3. Using a plunger-type device, the doctor then slikies the homonerflied cupsules trough the feed tube, tuming the tube with each capsule to create a fan staped amangement beneath the skin while condoms work 90 percent of the time. The combined use of a condom and a spermicide is more than 99 percent effective.

But despite the benefits of Norplant, Kansas and other university medical centers across the nation report that few college women are utilizing the method.

Bennett Walstatter, chief of obstetrics and gynecology services at Truman-East Hospital in Kansas City, Mo., said the initial cost of the procedure might be scaring off students.

The one-time cost for implantation ranges from $$ 450$ to $$ 750$, while the cost for removal is about $$ 100$
-For some people, that's somewhat prohibitive," Bennett said. -But that is for five years. Over the long term, it's actually less expensive (than other methods)."
A oneyear supply of birth control pills costs about $$ 240$. Walstatter said. Using the pill throughout the five-year effectiveness period of Norplant would cost about $$ 1,200$.
Walstatter stressed that Nopplant does not protect against sexually tanamined diseases, but can be used with a condom.
"I recommend condoms for anyone who is not in a monograrnous relationship." he sad.

Measles epidemic spurs 'no shot, no school' rule

ByBOB BERIIN

University Daily, Texas Tech U.
Measles are back.
The highly contagious disease characterized by severe fever, headaches, upper respiratory infections, head congestion, body aches, sore throat and a dry hacking cough has been ravaging college campuses since 1989. And itshows no sign of slowing.
Last year, 17 colleges and universities in 14 states reported major outbreaks of measles, according to the national Centers for Disease Control. Overall, the CDC said college students accounted for 22 percent of all meastes cases and for 27 of the 89 measlestrelated deaths in 1990.
The warning signs began on campuses two years ago, when Northeastern U. in Massachusetus called off its final football game of the 1989 season with James Madison U. because some of the players and staff had measles.
By 1990, the U. of Ceorgia was forced to implement a -No Shots, No School" approach to control an epidemic until more than 21.000 students and faculty could be vaccinated. As many as 600 did not meet the deadine and were not allowed to register.
When the dust had cleared, the number of measles cases reported in the United Sates had skyrocketed from 3,000 in 1988 to more than 27,000 in 1990.
In response, health care administratoss across the country are scrambling to control the disease, which is capable of leading to pneumonia, infection of the brain, and even death.

This year, the Immunization Practices Advisory Committee of the U.S. Public Health Deparunent recommended that colleges and universities require incoming students to prove they have received a second measles vaccination before registering for classes.

Measles Epidemic:

an. MAREEIO, UCSD GUARDIAN, U. OF CALIFORABA SNN DIEGO And at least 10 states, according to the CDC, currently are considering legislation that would make it law that all college students and children be vaccinated a second time. Twenty-five states already have laws in place or have universities that have instituted this requirement.

Dr. Anthony Way, chairman of Preventative Medicine and Community Health at the Texas Tech U. Health Sciences Center, said college campuses are breeding grounds for the highly contagious disease to spread. Student vaccinations are vital to contain the spread, Way added.
"It may simply be a matter of chance," Way said. "Where a larger number of people are together the chance of spreading the discase is easy."

When the words get in the way:

Students tackle dyslexia
By JENNY LOFTUS
The Pine Log, Stephen F. Austin State U.
You mighht become furstrated reading tihs paragrraph. Yoou might wannt to scream and shout adn throw it on teh grouond. You arre probbaly stumblingg ovr words, unffamiliar spellnigs and mislpaced teters.
Welcome to the world of dyslexia.
Dyslexia is a learning disability which hinders one's ability to read. Unrelated to intelligence, instruction or educational opporturity, the condition may be inherent, congenital or caused by any number of injuries to the brain.
And it can be debilitating to the estimated 200,000 college students who suffer from dyslexia.
-(Dyslexia) makes school so much harder for me than the average person," said Mark Jarrell, a sophomore at Stephen F. Austin State U. "I have to go to class and read chapters two or three times."

Jarrell said he squeaked chrough high school by having his sister correct See DYSLIEXIA, Page 23

Dyslexia

(continued from page 22)
or even write his papers.
"Nobody ever picked it up." he said. "I see now how people get through high school get through college by "wit, grit and sometimes deception."
Eisenson said students may tape lecrures and play them back at their leisure, compensating for the difficultics they encounter in taking notes. Classmates might make copies of notes for students who cannot id write their own notes. Some sill ask others to write their reports papers.
in said exams and essays also can be a problem for dyslexic students. Because the amount of material students can retain without writing it down is limited, they may have a problem planning and structuring essays. Essays written by dyslexic students can be full of good ideas but may give the impression of a lack of planning and structure, Eisenson said.

Thomas Richard Miles, author of the book Dysleria at Colloge, writes that although dyslexic students might laugh about their present difficulties, tutors are still encouraged to remember the scars may not have healed.

Kristi Dixon-Bills, director of the AARC. said that the road through college is a tough one for students with dyslexia.
-The diagnosis is just the beginning," Dixon-Bills said. "What comes after that is hard work. It is not a quick fix. The student has to find ways to do the same task as other students."

Things got pretty competitive for this job. Imsure my college degree and good grades kept me in the running. But in the end it was the leadership and management experience I got through Army ROTC that won themover.

Army ROTC taught me responsibility, selfdiscipline and leadership. Those are things you just can't learn from a textbook.

I don't know where I'd be right now if I hadr't enrolled in Army ROTC, but I do know one thing for sure ... I wouldn't be here.

Find out more. Contact the Professor of Military Science at your campus or one nearby.

ARMY ROTC  THE SMARTEST COLLEEE  COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Norplant The best birth control lots of money can buy

By AMY FRANCIS
The Daily Kansan, U. of Kansas
Iited of taking the pill? Uncomfortable with the IUD? Do sponges and foams seem just a little...unnatural?

Then you may be a prime candidate for Norplant, the first new birch conmol device to be imroduced in the United States in the last 25 years
Norplant, which has been used by more than I million women throughout the world for the past 20 years, is haited by many as a revolutionary means of preventing pregnancy.

Six implants, about one and one-half inches long and 2 millimeters wide, are inserted just below the skin of the upper inside of a woman's arm. The implants release a continuous low dose of levonorgestrel, a syntheuc form of the female hormone progesterone.
"It's a fairly simple technique," said julie Strickland, assistant professor of gynecology and obstecrics at the U. of Kansas Medical Center. "It works very much like a shot. You don'c even need a stitch."

Within 24 hours of the insertion, the levonorgestrel travels to the brain and inhibis the production of hormones in the pituitary giand that normally signal ovaries to produce eggs. The implants release the hormones in potent amounts for five years, after which their effectiveness decreases and the implants should be removed, she said.

If a woman wants to continue to use Norplans, new implants can be inserted in the same location. Women also can have Norplant removed if they want to conceive. Fertility will return within three months, Strickland added.

Strickland said Norplant is 99.7 percent effective in preventing pregnancy for up to five years, making it the surest form of birth control on the market.

According to the American College Health Association, the pill is 97 percent effective in preventing pregnancy, while condoms work 90 percent of the time. The combined use of a condom and a spermicide is more than 99 percent effective.

But despite the benefits of Norplant, Kansas and other university medical centers across the nation repor that few college women are utilizing the method.
Bennet Walstater, chief of obstetrics and gynecology services at Truman-Fast Hospital in Kansas City, Mo., said the initial cost of the procedure might be scaring off students.
The one-time cost for implantation ranges from $$ 450$ to

Measles epidemic spurs no shot, no school' rule

By BOB BERIMN

University Daif, Texas Tech U.

Measles are back.

The highly contagious disease characterized by severe fever. headaches, upper respiratory infections, head congestion, body aches, sore throat and a dry hacking cough has been ravaging college campuses since 1989. And it shows no sign of slowing.

Last year, 17 colleges and universities in 14 states reported major outbreaks of measles, according to the national Centers for Disease Control. Overall, the CDC said college students accounted for 22 percent of all measles cases and for 27 of the 89 measles-related deaths in 1990.

The warning signs began on campuses two years ago, when Northeastem U. in Massachusetts called off its final football game of the 1989 season with James Madison U. because some of the players and staff had measles.
By 1990, the U. of Georgia was forced to implement a "No Shots, No School" approach to control an epidemic until more than 21,000 students and faculty could be vaccinated. As many as 600 did not meet the deadine and were not allowed to register.

When the dust had cleared, the number of measles cases reported in the United States had skyrocketed from 3,000 in 1988 to more than 27,000 in 1990.

In response, health care administrators across the country are scrambling to control the disease, which is capable of leading to pneumonia, infection of the brain, and even death.

This year, the lmmunization Practices Advisory Committee of the U.S. Public Health Department recommended that colleges and universities require incoming students to prove they have received a second measles vaccination before registering for classes.

Measles Epidemic.

min Marenia, vCSD GUAFDAN. U. OF CAUFOR
And at least 10 states, according to the CDC, cur considering legislation that would make it law that a students and children be vaccinated a second time. T states alteady have laws in place or have universities instituted this requirement.

Dr. Anthony Way, chairman of Preventative Med Community Health at the Texas Tech U. Health Scienc said college campuses are breeding grounds for t contagious disease to spread. Student vaccinations a contain the spread, Way added.
"It may simply be a matter of chance," Way said. "Whe number of people are together the chance of spreading : is casy."

Dyslexia

(comtinuect from page 22)

or even write his papers.
"Nobody ever picked it up," he said. "I see now how people get through high school illiterate. It's not that difficull"
According to the book, Really Now, why Can't Our Johnnies Read? by Jon Eisenson. many students have similarly managed to get through college by wit, grit and sometimes deception."

Eisenson said students may tape lectures and play them back at their Icisure, compensating for the difficulties they encounter in taking notes. Classmates might make copies of notes for students who cannot listen and write their own notes. Some srudents will ask others to write their reports and terrn papers.
Eisenson said exams and essays also can be a problem for dyslexic students. Because the amount of material students can retain without writing it down is limited, they may have a problem planning and structuring essays. Essays written by dyslexic students can be full of good ideas but may give the impression of a lack of planning and stucture, Eisenson said.
Thomas Richard Miles, author of the book Dyslexia at College, writes that although dyslexic students might laugh about their present difficulties, turars are sill encouraged to remember the scars may not have healed.

Kristi Dixon-Bills, director of the AARC. said that the road through college is a tough one for students with dyslexia.
"The diagnosis is just the beginning." Dixon-Bills said. "What comes after that is hard work. It is not a quick fix. The student has to find ways to do the same task as other students."

RESERVEOFPICERS'TRAININGCORPS
The practice cuts were in response to several recent studies that documented the pressures and the incredible time demands that go with being an athlete at a major college. One such study found that a Brigham Young U. football player devoted 2.202 hours a year, or 275 eight-hour days, to his sport.
The presidents also pushed through substantial scholarship reductions, designed to give teams a more level playing field on which so compete.

Scholarships in all Division I spors except women's volleyball, women's tennis and women's gemnasties, will be reduced by 10 percent. The main impaci will be on Division i-A foolball, in which outgoing grants will fall from 95 to 85 over the next three years.
-Because Division I requires - intercollegiate athleties to function on its own income, as that income gets expanded ... that becomes the determiner of what the boundaries of the program are." Arizona State U. President Lattie Coor said. "And that's not right. It's not right in terms of the time demands on student-athletes."

The presidents. fearful of the prospect of dealing with another Dexter Manley or Kevin Ross, also enacted a slew of stricter academic standards.

Under the new Legislation, Division I Whetes who enter their fourth year in shool must have completed at least 50 percent of their degree requirements to remain eligible.
-You cannot be a studentruhlete without being astudent," Coorsaid.

In addition, coaching staffs will be cut by a least one position in most sports and by an areage of three (from 16 to 13) in Division I-A football. And, in all sports, the position of "graduate assistant" will be replaced by the "restrictedeamings" coach.
-There's already not enough time in a day w do everything that needs to get done." U. of Arivona basketball coach Lute Olson said. - Atrd, also, you're talking about eliminating - the most obvious entry-level job in our profession. We've used that graduate asistant position as an opportunity for our tirmer players to get a start in coaching. linmer players to get a start in coaching."

Finally, athetic dorms or dorm wings cinmarked for athietes will be phased ous by

- Ahletic dorms have been shown very sumanially that they just further segregate the atbetes from the rest of campus,* Coor stied.

But even though sweeping legistation was passed in January, Coor said more are certain tullow. Pressing issues sure to be discussed at the nexi conference include the clustering bf athetes in "Mickey Mouse" academic courses, and the long-debated proposal of paying college athletes, he added.

Things got pretty competitive for this job. I'm sure my college degree and good grades kept me in the runsing. But in the end it was the leadership and management experience 1 got through Army ROTC that won them over.

Army ROTC taught me responsibility, selfdisciptine and leadership. Those are things you fust carit leam from a textbook.

I con't know where id be right now if I hadn't enrolled in Army ROTC. but tio know one thing for sure... I wouldn't be here.

Find out more. Contact the Professor of Military Science at your campus or one nearby.

24 U. THE NATONAL COLLEGE NEWSPAPER

"What A Great Experience!"

Learning the Langurge. Mecting Feople. Comine fare to face with history, art and anchitecture, culture, food and fun tecture, culture, food and fun UNIVERSITY SIUDIES ABROAD CONSORTIUM... Small classes. Fersonal attention.
Fully accredited -coutas Fully accredited-courtes transter to your school. We provide great claswes in intersive language, fistory, anthropology, art, business, econortics, political science... Organized field trips and more. You proside the enthusiasm:
University Studies Abroad Consortiumn Libracy/322
Reno Nevada $89557-9$ (702) 784.6569

CHILE * FRANCE - ITALY - SPAIN
CIACEE MO. **

OVERSEAS STUDY

Scotland - Australia - New Zealand

Americin Universitien Intemational Program

Ft. Collinns. CO 20523
$(303) 491+3917$
CIRELE MO. M

SCHILLER
INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

International study at one of our 8 campuses in:

STM ENGLAND: London and West Wickham
GERMANY: Heidelberg and Berlin
FRANCE: Faris and Strasbourg
SPAIN: Madrid
SWTTZERLAND: Engelberg

- Earm tredit towand veur degree at any of our campuses A All chases are taught in Engluh.
4 Craduate proprams in inturnitional Busimss, Internationail Hodel and Tounsm Maragement.
International Rethations and Diplomocy, and mase $\square$ Undergraduate prugroms in Busimess. 1 lotel Alanagionent, Intemational Relarions wist Diplomary, Furupean Studies, Likeral Arts, Psychnology. Languiges. Computier Systems Mormpervent. Commercial Art, arhl mere USpaniah and German Language Institutes.
Stummer, Semeater, Year and Degree programs.
Formore information: Schilter hntemationall University
Dept NC. $$ 53$ Edgewater Drive
Ounedin, Forida 34698
(813) 736-5082

CthCL: No. 01

Semester At Sea: avorage of fiscovery

Is your education preparing you completely for the giobal community in which we live? Consider internationalizing your course of study by spending a semester studying and traveling around the world on the University of Pittsburghsponsored Sernester At Sea program. Each fall and spring, undergraduates from across the U.S. and abroad live and learn together aboard the S.S. Universe. an 18,000 ton ship equipped as a lloating campus. During this 100 day voyage, you can earn 12-15 tranaferable credits choosing from more than 50 lower and upper division courses. Experience an itinerary as culturally diverse as Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Malaysia, India, Kenya, South Africa, Brazil and Venezuela.
For full information and application call 800-854-0195 (In PA call 412-6487490 ) or write Semester At Sea, University of Pittsburgh 811 William Pitt Union, Pittsburgh PA 15260. Applications are now being accepted for the spring 1992 voyage departing Nassau on January 28, 1992. Apply now. then prepare for the learning adventure of your life.
carcus wo. of

DIRECTORY INFORMATION

For more information regarding any of U.a Career and Educational Directory advertisers, circle the appropriate numberf(s). Send immediately to U. The National Colleqe Newspaper 2510 Main Street, Suite 200 , Santa Monica, CA 90405
$\begin{array}{lllllllll}01 & 02 & 03 & 04 & 05 & 06 & 07 & 03 & 09\end{array}$ Name $\qquad$
Address
City $\qquad$ State $\qquad$ Zip alma mater $\qquad$ or College (yr) $\qquad$ $9 / 91$

Wilder

 (continued from page 1)Apparently, the magnitude at least warranted a closer look by the Wilder camp in Virginia. In April, the governor appointed a task force to look into the issue.

Virginia's Secretary of Education James Dyke, who chairs the task force, does not believe the committee is likely to support the idea of random drug testing, but contends drug testing could be justified on college campuses.
"Even though there is a factual and legal basis for testing, we don't think we will be pursuing it," Dyke said.

Still, students across the country are worried that even considering drug testing hits a litule too close to the dorm room.
"I don't support drug testing for studients here," said Andre Morgan, president of the student council at the U. of Virginia. "It's a clear violation of students" constitutional right to privacy and protection against selfincrimination."

Wilder the show horse

Many of those who know Wilder and have tracked his career say his political bark may be worse than the bite.

Dwayne Yancey, author of "When Hell Froze Over: The Story of Doug Wilder." said Wilder may be just laying down another level to his political platorm.
*Nobody in Virginia is expecting (drug testing of students) to be followed up on," Yancey said. He's always had a reputation among fellow legislators as a show horse rather than a work horse, seizing the hot issues of the day. That is one of his claims to fame."
Larry Sabato, a UVa. government and foreign affairs professor, agreed. "Doug Wilder knows that there will be no mandacory drug testing on college campuses." Wilder made the cormments because he knew he could appeal to bluecollar workers, Sabato added.

Some political allies, such as Virginia

Douglas WIIder spent two days last month driving around meeting people In New Hampahire. State Party Chalrman Paui Goldman sald Wilder la Just a phone cali away from hampahire. State Party Chaliman Paul Goldman sald Wilder is juat Democratic Party Chairman Paul Goldman, said Wilder is not trying to attack students' individual rights, but that he simply plans on taking tough stands on issues like drug abuse. If that includes a look into campus drug testing, so be it, he added.

Goldman said the media has blown the drug testing issue out of proportion and has inaccurately reported the governor's views.
"He never said he was in favor of mandatory drug testing," Goldman said. "Just because you look into various options doesn't mean you favor them. A lot of people reacted and a lot of people thought campuses were sacred."

He added, "I think he thinks society has to get real serious if it wants to make a dent in the war on drugs."

Feds target UVa.
Wilder's get-tough stance on campus drugs has been heightened by problems in his own state.

When a federal sting operation raided three UVa. fraternity houses late last March, many students said their campus was singled out for its prestige. Wilder immediately seized the campus drug use issue, and marched in a new political direction.
Wilder said the raids "could very well easily be looked on as a blessing rather than a curse" because it focused attention on the college drug problems. He added that it was wrong for universities to have a "laissez-faire" attitude and serve as havens where affluent students can be immune from the law.

When wilder formed the cask force, he said he would consider student drug testing as long as it didn't "run afoul of constitutional guarantees."

Administrative opposition

The issue of campus drug testing may be a valuable one for Wilder. It puts him even farther to the right of some Republicans, making him an appealing candidate to cross-over conservatives.

Looking into campus drug testing pushes

Soviets  (continued from page 3)

Union, American and Soviet students in the volatile area during the coup have retumed to the United States.
Many students familiar with the Soviet culture are trying to get a grasp on how to contact isolated friends and family as the Baltic republics scramble to gain their independence.
"I was extremely scared for my friends I made over there," said Emory senior Scott Adams, who retarned to the U.S. in July after teaching English to Soviet businessmen for nine weeks. When I first heard about the coup on the news. I thought the protest would be a lot worse than it was. I thought my friends would be there on the barricades. I hoped they wouldn't die."

On the night of the coup, Emory political science graduate student Svetlana science graduate student Svetiana
Savranskaya tried unsuccessfully for two hours to telephone her parents in Moscow. unaware that the uprising was even taking place.

My husband said the news had reported a coup, but I didn't believe him at all because his English is not very good." she said. "But him past quite a few conservatives, though, including the current Bush administration. Officials there are not receptive to the idea of campus drug testing, characterizing it as a radical and misguided strategy;
"In the U.Va. case, you didn't need a drug test to identify the problem," Robert Martinez, director of the White House Office of Drug Policy Control, told a gathering of fraternity and sorority members in Washington, D.C. "I think the question for Virginia colleges - and all other colleges by extension - isn't so much how we can discover drug use on our campuses, but 'What do we do about it when it exists, and how fast can we acter " Wilder disagreed, characterizing a hardline approach as the correct on-campus policy. Rather than offering a proactive policy to stamp out illegal drug activity on our nation's college campuses, Mr. Martinez criticizes our forceful efforts in Virginia," Wilder said.
While many est stud any universities randomly drug ent policies for the student body. The U. of Maryland has the nation's strongest drug testing policy, which adminisurators say was a response to the cocaine-induced death of response to the cocaine basketball star Len Bias.
The university requires those caught using drugs to submit to random drug tests undil graduation or face expulsion.
But Willian Kirwan, UM president, said, - We have no plans for implementing mandatory drug testing of the general student population." And UVa. President John Casteen said he needed a "concrete proposal" before making any decisions.
But Student Council President Morgan is still keeping an eye on the drug testing issue, adding that if testing is adopled, "We will be prepared to deal with it."
And Yancey, who has charted the governor's political carcer from the beginning, bellieves Witder's views on drug testing and other issues are always subject to change.
"Wilder is very unpredictable," he said. "It's hard to tell what he could do."
in the moming, I realized he was right," Savranskaya, along with chemistry graduate student Michael Voronkov of Leningrad, followed developments in the Soviet Union by monitoring the Soviet television news program "Vremya," which began broadcasting live to the Emory campus via satellite in 1986.
"I watched as much Soviet TV as I could," said Savranskaya. "The American press delivered the facts accurately, but I coudn't feel the at mosphere at all. Some of the phrases and facts without expressions on them were exactly the same as the ones we saw six years ago. We Soviets know how to watch our own news."
Despite an uncertain future, many experts do not believe student exchange programs will be restricted."The failure of the coup has accelerated the breakup of the Soviet Union, a process already in progress," said Thomas Remington, political science professorat Emory
Adams agreed. He said said that despite any instability, he would return.
'Something makes you want to go back once you've been there, despite having to do your laundry by hand and wait in line for hours to make a telephone call home," he nours said.

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

ONE WALF MLLION MOVIE POSTERS

 Newest teleases illusfrated catalogue$\$ 2.00$ LUTON'S. Box $752302+\mathrm{U}$ Memphis. TN 3 B175 movie masters an carrent reteasex Thowsands. 195is-198is. Compare Best Prices Fastest Sorite CISAMASTERCARD (984) 373-72B2 Cataicy 52.00. RICKS, 80x

FUTONS

Get a brand new futon, frame, and slip cover. delvered to your doon, For details and catalogue call:
1-800-3FUTON1 (338-8661)
POETAY
Poetry Contest SSO0木.06 in prixem Posenible Pablication
Send poe orishal poon, 20 liner of lery io: Ninememitily

ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

FISHERIES - Earn $55,000+/$ Month. Free Transportation? Room and Board! Over 8,000 Openings. No experience nermployment program: 1-206-545-4155, ext. 65

OCAIAG 506  Huno Men axd Worner Summer, Year roxid Fotion comeris bovik maing, constivion, of cortparys Stiledurstivel Trasportion Se   CRUISE SHIPS NOW TIRING M/F Summer A Cureer Opportunities (Will Train) Excellent pay plus (Will Train) Extellent pay plis world travel. Hawaii, Bahamas. Cambean, etc.  206-736.7000. Ext. 400 N (Call refunctabie)

 ALASKASUMMEG ELAPCOMEAENT
FISHERIES Earn $5600 \rightarrow$ Hweek in carnery, $58.000-$ $\$ 12.000$, for two thonms on tisning vestet, Over 8.000 agenings. Wo experience necessary Mate of Fercata experience necessary, Male of fermale.
For 68 pape emptoyment booklet, send $$ 10.95$ to MBL Mescarch. Box 84008 . Px. Seatyte. WA 98124 - 60 day vntondtuonal, $100 \%$ monty back puararsee.
WTELUCEMCE JOBS. AMS BRACHES. HS. CUSTOMS. OEA ETG, NOW
HIANG. CALL (i) 805-962-8000. EXT. $\underset{\substack{\text { HiAlNG } \\ \text { K-2674 }}}{\mathbf{H}}$
AUSTARLIA WANTS You! EiG Pay:
Transportation! New Employment Transportatiatt! New Employment Box $5730-\mathrm{RB}$ Liphtincuse Pr., FL 33074 CRUUSE Stht JORS $5300-900$ weekly.
 LAW EMFORCEMENT JOBS. Sate Pavira, Coffectionat oftcers. Call 1-805-96?-80cc. Ext. K-2674.
Atn: Local menwomen $$ 425 / w k$.
Factory assembly at home. No exp. Faciory assembly at nome. Na exp.
$1.000-786-7 e 30.7$ days/eve. $$ 5 / m i n$.
INHYR, (114)N v.
Finlle, Min Miv? Make monty teaching English abroad. Culturally & financialty abrowd. Culturally & financialty nowarding experiencer waching vided. Japun and Tawan. Muke S2000 $$ 4,000+$ per month. For international Employment froEnturnational Employment fro$$ 19.95$ to:
1 international Employment Otp
Dept. 112, Box 95817
Sestlle, WA 98145
30 day momi $y$ tack watanter

DFINK RECIPES WONTONS Mixalogy FASTEST SELUNGE EARCUDE sraltable. Over 325 recipes. Hovers. 59.80. Fampar mex Mind.S.10. Bat 1375

music

| Bow jovi spatactery. Ui..     | conf |
| :---: | :---: |
| BEw   (201) $403-7 / 4$ | $\begin{aligned} & \text { P. BCx } 1348 \\ & \text { Somervic. MA COTHA. } \\ & \hline \end{aligned}$ |
| - |  |
|  |  |
| ASSIC ROCX CO's! Ove |  |
| , ram somes |  |
| AUDIONIDEO |  |
| Svo yorn iuremm | 0 |
|  |  |

Organtze 40 CDs in $17 / 4$ apacel
Your collection protectad in sott "satety-sieene te" penges Enacutive version $$ 29.95$ inclucdes shipping in U.S. Money-back guarantee. Free catalog.

1-800-992-8262

BOOKS

CONDOMS

CONDOM OF THE MOMTH
Cheap, Non-embarrassing. Loads of fun. 10 quality cordoms sent monthly for one yt. in a plain ervelope along with condom tivia jokes & holiday-themed condoms.
Send name 8 adidess with check or M.O. for $$ 39.95$ (FL residents add 6\% tax) (10: CAM, PO. BCx 4652 W. Pabm Beach, P. 33402 Portion of proceeds dorated to AIDS education.

3pain! te2, postpaid. Burnicide bocks Bex 1401-C. Secauctrs. Ni OTOSG

LOVE AND OTHER MEAESIES. Cangerous essays oy Hanno Rex. Student price 54.95 . Box 3073 . Hoilywoat, 733022

PHOTOSFOR SALE

BEAUTIFUL GiRLS Model sexy bldinis, lagerie. etc. Pheth patlafe and brochrt, S.0t Now inmpes, F.O. Bax 117, Dept. Ut, Newitatro, it 71461. Adults only. Also. models wanted
FINANCIAL AID
FNANCIAL AD:
 OHF9.96. GUARANTEED HOME #RE WING BEFA 婑F REFR Grew your own. Free Catalog Fast Service - Large Selection Krass. Box 7850 U , Independence. Missouri 64053

PENFRIENOS-ENGLAND-USA, Make Psting triendestips. Send a0e, imterests. Fhomix AZ 85071
CONTACT LENSES REptacentent & Spares from $$ 14$ S5-Fas a Corneniert 1-800-255-2020. Major credit cards

A hind serisitive workariman is waition to meet you now! Christian Phone Romance $5 / 3 / n i n, 1-900-786-7 / 20$

WOMEN'S CHOICE aON-disposabit mentrual pats A partiefners. PO. Bax 245. Cabinola, B.C. Canada VGR 1xO. (604) 247-8433.

Meet beastitut mexian
Oriental badies.
Labss- Box 1716-CL Chuta Viga, CA
$91912-1716$ Phone $619-425-1667$

CONDOMSAT LOWPRICES

Ufestyles lubed or Excita Fiesta (Assorted Colors) $$ 5.00$ per doz or Bulk Condoms 2 doz. send $$ 2.00$ tot sample packjprice list to:

Buclingtram Station,
Box 379 Antinton,
$22203-9933^{3}$
COLLEGE WOMEN
Discover the reat secrets of managing men: 390 minute tapes reveal the tricks 8 traps. the powertul technigues you need for $\quad$ WiN-WIN relationship with EVEnY man... EVEPYTIME. Leam the 10 keys to The 24 k Chain Reaction." Leam to play a man
 VIOLINS. SUITE 119,2043
EAST GRAND RIVER, EAST EAST GRANO RIVER' EAST
LANSING, MI 48823 30-DAY LANSING, MI 48823 ODDAY
MONEYBACK GUARANITEE.

21 CONDOMS

 ONI Y $$ 3.00$GUALTY- PRNACY
SATISFACTIIN GUARANTEED Neam 8 Eve. P.O. Bax 900 Dept UNT Canborro MC 27510

1-800-43-SNAFU

OPPORTUNITIES

|  |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |

CHILDCARENANNIES

 NEEDEDJoin our "Nanry Network" of over 800 in Northeast. Fullyear positions only. Salaries: $175-$300 week, room, board, airfare & benefits.
BEST CHOICES of families & locations.
HELPING HANDS
1-800-544-NANI
Established 1984

SEFEMPLONENT  SGFEMFLONMP OPPOFINTIT

Earn cash distributing credit card applications on campus. Posiuons availabie for table andor posting reps. Call and/or posting reps. Call Colegiate Poster Network Todzy at 1 - $600-689.7678$. - Pietwork//ctivtios tone. dial 9672

Bostow whines have morie ruw
 - Extensiva Natury Support

 149 Buckminster Rd
1430 Brookline. MA 02146
Brater

> YOU'VE GOT THE RIGHTT OME BAGY Organizatlons and individuals neaded for campus promotion of corporate products and services: long-distance, voice-mail, spring break cruises, airline discounts, credit cards, electronics, lingerie. mail-order catalops... Excellent commission! 1-800-484-1068. At

SSATIEMOHSS

$$ 1800$ phts wathy processing mat In your spare time st homat stumt Free supplasspastagh reain lone stht-edurassed atimped

Dept YEK- P2 P0. 10051950 Moneythack puare the

GET PAID FOR READING BOOKS!

FOREIGM STUDENTS Guide to Employment 8 Green Card in U.S. Send $\$ 1.00$ for additiomal information. PiO. Box 1372. Kenmesaw, GA 30144 SIODO'S MONTHLY PROCESSINE malli FREE supplies/postage. No experience- No oblipation. Start immediately. FuSH stamped enveloge to: Express Publ. Box $982-\mathrm{C}$, to. Express Publ.
Chestertown, MD $2160{ }^{\text {Bo }}$
LET THE GOVERWRAENT FIMANCE your smail business. Grantshoans to (707) 449-0330. (HK9)

Alaskan Joas! Canneries s Frsheries. Hart work -Great pay! Call UP $10 $ 350$ WEEKLY PDSSIBLE mailing our sales letters and programs.
Send SASE to P. Box 172 Faitax Send SASE
CA 94978

> PEACE

FINANCES LOOKING BLEAK? $500 day In YOUR maitbor. Send $$$ plus Sase to: NEW COLLEGIAJ OPPORTUNITIES, 2032
Suite 2, Cticapo, IL 60647 WAKE MOMEY WRITIWG greating cards, send two $29 e$ stamps Gards. Send TWO RETM. P.O. Box 521 -UW
Cleveland, OH 44107
EASY $1, DOD WEEKLY, PRDCESSING MAILI FREE DETAILS: GC INDUSTRY gOX 1430-(U9). WOODERTDGE, VA
22193 22193

SALS PREP MEEDEO Student Orparization to sell JEWELRY extusively on campus. Send resurne to: SDJ, 85 grair Rd. Oystir Bay, NY 11771
SERUE THE PLANET and Hamanlty riagh maclastion. Learn batkat fron

"HAPPFIMOSE"
poryfcotton tees (LD & Xlo.) Sive your nose... Pick purs instrad. To order, stand 59.95 post paid to: The Happytimpes Gift Co., 172 Duer St.,
North Ptaintitid, M.J. 07060

| PEECEYE PREX  Covirindent cravisil  You will rocsive PREE MONEY from Uncio Sam, money that you never trive to pry tack or wa will send you a FHI REPUND! Push onty $$ 2$ and a long. seli-zddressed, stamped ernelope to  sems, Dent Mevis, P.O. Bax 1500, Cordow, TH3B018-1960 |
| :---: |
| STUDENTS Improve grades and relleve test anxiety with new instructional manual with unbelievable tips on witing whring essisys under pressure Never diead espy exarns acain. Send $$ 10.00$ + $$ 1.75$ shipping 8 tranding tor Essey to Succeed, P.O. Box 24792. Lexindtan. KY 40524-7732 Shipped inmociately |

Private Scholarshe momes. You Pincia Scholarships. You will receive linanelal aic or yous money back! Guaranteed ${ }^{\text {Fod }}$ forally approved grogram. Scholarshlo Consulants.
7401 N . Louisburg. Raleigh, NiC 27604 FIMANCIAA A1D SOURCES FREE
INFOAMADON $1-800-662-7560$. Learn calculus quitkly and logteally!
Wrte: Alpebra Tutoring, 505 Holywood Witte: Agebra Tutaring 50 .
Dr., Kmoxvile, Tenn. 37919

COLLEGE MONEY PTIVEte scholarships. yout will receive financial aid or your money back! Guaranteed! Federally approved program. Scholarship Medon. TN 38355
"MONEY FOR COLLEEE" Numerous
npes of timancial aid avaibble. +867 S. types of firancial zid avaibable. 1867 S .
Curson Ave., CA 9019

To Get An "A"

To Get An "A"

 SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE WATCH YOUR GRADES GO FROM B's, C's AND D's TO STRAIEHT A's!Let the To Get An "A" Or Not To Get An
"A" booklet show you how! Hundreds of thousands of students have gone from B's. C's and D's to straight A's and so can YOUl The incredible part is they're only $$ 6.00$ each 111 A small price to pay for that 4.0 piece of mindt send check or money order to:

Mr. D.G. Davis, M.S. P.O. BOX 1112 State College, PA 16801

Hurry, the first 200,000 buyers by Oct. 20 will be elliglble for rocolving FULL acadomic scholarships, including room and board, to the univeraty of their choicel GO FOR III

ENYRONMENTAL TEES

 cill foulinixy

SEDM YORADTOCOUEEE U. neches more stedrate more nan.

A. Mutticolored Peck
$100 \%$ Conon. $$ 16.95$ B. Multicolored Tiebriltsinath $100 \%$ Cotton. $$ 6.95$ C. Restmecolored Pack $100 \%$ Calton. $$ 16.95$ D. Remacoloced Trabelitum $100 \%$ Cotron. $$ 6.95$

ATRENTICN
Wo import trese itwot diroaty from fo w endear be urod tor pooks. dothos, onmiditithe bench, &ports.

 hoider ethep forconportand troxdolly. Thep pecka and bother dally. Order Now
 * ALLITEMS FOR FEMALE OR MALE ... MPROTANT ORDERING INEORMATION
The following number is for ORDERS ONLY, for inforrnation plaese write to addrass balow. To Order, call mol-tree 24 hours a ctry $t$-800-472-0834 tor C.O.D. Ordiry Onily. Or send your order
 End. Suhe 271 . Deland, FL 32720 . Add ge for shippinghanding

GATOR LAGER BEER T-Stirts MCNISA

(c) COUNTTY CWB LERTER

Beastiful hancmade leather backpacks. Indestuctible.
frex embossing OF RTTIALS netural leather $55.00+5.00581 \mathrm{~s}$ lasther w/call hair $\quad 65.00$ black leather black loather w/calf his SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
Check or credit card

535 Woodward * Austin TX 78704
U. reaches more students more often than amy other colloge pubilication. For than ary other colloge publication. For advertising intormation, call Sam or advertising information, call tason today an (213) $450-2921$.

The Daily Orang

Ad Hoc Committee reports to USen on budget forums  First meetings praised for strong response

By ANDY RYAN  Staff Writer

With the first of the University Senate restructuring forums completed, the Ad Hoc Committee on Restructuring gave its report to the senate body Wednesday afternoon.

Overall, the forurns went well, said Wynetta Devore, committee chair.
"We were quite pleased with the response we received (Tuesday), and we expect an even greater turnout for the next forums," she said.

A chief concern addressed was how students or faculty members not able to attend a forum could still make their opinions or ideas known to the committees.
"We understand that some students have better things to do at that time, like go to class," Devore said.
"Students should know that if they are not able to attend, there is the possibility of sending written statements to the committees that concern them, and that they will be heard," she said.
"We are concerned about receiving as much input and as much information as possible," she said.

The language in the advertisements for the forums might intimidate students or turn them away, she said.

Encourraging participation

Devore said the committee was doing its best to encourage students to attend the forums, but because this has never been done before, the committee did not have any model for the forums.

The next set of open forums deals with academic support and auxiliary services.

The forums will take place Monday 4:15 to 6 p.m. in four rooms of the College of Law.
-The forums for committees on Academic Affairs and Students will be held in Grant Auditorium

- Budget and Research will meet in the Brooks Room, Room 130.
-Instruction, Library and Computing Services will meet in the Walker Foom, Foom 075 .
- University College and Summer Sessions will be held in the Mehimen Room.

The third round of open forums, dealing with administrative operations, will be Wednesday, with most of the committees meeting in the Maxwell building.

- Athletic Policy will meet in Maxwell Auditorium. -Administrative Operations will meet in the Conference Room in Maxwell.
ence Roorn in Maxwens, Students, Research, and Instruction will meet in the Maxwell Lounge, across from struetion $w$ Room 219.
Room 219. Room at Hendricks Chapel. These meetings will begin at 4:15 p.m.

The impact of the accident caused severe cuts to the right side of Christopher Kulas' face and head.

SU student injured by car in Waverly Avenue accident

By MARK A. BROUSSEAU
Asst. News Editor
A Syracuse University student was injured Tuesday night after he was hit by a car on Waverly Avenue, an SU Security report said.

SU Security found Christopher Kulas lying in the west lane of Waverly Avenue near Walnut Avenue. Avenue from Bird Library to Walnut Avenue.

The victim said he looked right, then left, and crossed the street against a green light and was hit by a west-bound car.

The victim was hit on his right side and thrown onto the car's hood and windshield. He then rolled off the hood onto the street in front of the vehicle, the report said.

Kulas tried to get up but fell back down because of the pain in his lower right leg, the report said.
Kulas was taken to Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital by Eastern Ambulance and treated for cuts Hospital by Eastern Ambulance and treated for cut to the right side of face and head, the report said.
The victim also had severe swelling to his lower right leg below the knee, the report said. He did not lose consciousness at any time.
Crossing against the light
Kulas told security at the hospital that traffic had the green light at the time of the accident.
An SU student driving three passengers from the Booth parking garage to Brewster/Boland hit Kulas. The driver and passengers told security they had he green light and did not see the victim until he was right in front of them.
After the impact, the driver said he turned off the car and lights, and exited the vehicle to try and help the victim and call an ambulance.

The victim's impact broke the windshield.
Stacey Moore witnessed the accident as she waited to make a left turn from Walnut Avenue onto Waverly Avenue. She said the vehicle had its lights on and had the green light.
The case is still under investigation. No tickets were issued by the Syracuse Police.
This is the second incident involving SU students being hit on Waverly Avenue since the university widened Comstock and Waverly avenues.

On Aug. 27, two SU students were hit as they crossed the intersection of Waverly and Walnut avenues behind the Schine Student Center

The university reaponded to the first accident by installing traffic lights at three intersections within days of the accident.

New  By ALEX PIGMAN Staff Writer

housing policy

In an attempt. to fill vacancies in residence halls, the chancellor's cabinet will require more sophomore greeks to live in campus housing.

Al Page, associate director for leadership and student organizations, said 210 sophomores received housing exemptions to live in greek houses last year.

Only 120 exemptions will be issued to sophomores for the fall 1992 semester, Page said. No exemptions will be offered during the spring semester.
"When you go from 210 to 120 exemptions, there is a great financial impact on the houses," be said.

Although Syracuse University's housing regulations require eophomores to live in university housing, Page said,

Greek chapters make yearly contracts with dining services to cater to a full house. Page said that when a student moves out for the spring semester, the house relies on sophomores to fill up the budgetary gap.

Bridging the shortial

In the past, if five students left for the spring semester, five sophomore exemptions could cover for it," he said.

The main challenge of the greek syatern will be to attract upperclassmen to move back into greek housing, Page said.
"Houses will have to make roorns more attractive and year-long housing contracts between the students and chapters are going to have to be made," he said.
"Without mid-year exemptions, houses will have to find replacements other than sophomores.

Heidi Schiller, president of Delta Gamme eorority, said the sorority encourages members to live in the house.
"We have cut down on sisters who live in apartments," she said. "If any of them want to live outside the house, they have want to live outsid

But Schiller said the Division of International Programs Abroad remains a threat to the sorority's housing stability.

Next aemester, three Delta Gamma sisters will study abroad through DIPA programs, she said. Only two will return See HOUSING Page A3

World

Baker extends talks with Syrian president

Secretary of State James A. Baker III is extending talks with Syrian President Hafez Aband on a Mideast peace conference.

Baker met with Assad in Damascus, Syria, for seven hours to work out details for the conference.

Whether the conference, to be held in Lausanne, Switzerland, will keep to the scheduled date of Oct. 29 depends on the Palestine Liberation Organization's re" sponse to the American- and Israeliselected Palestinian regotiating team.

The becretary could face additional problems in Jerusalem during separate meetings with Israeli leaders and a Palestinian group.

Baker's four-country Mideast trip will culminate in a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Boris Pankin, which could set the stage for a joint announce. ment on holding the peace conference.

French, Swiss men

win $$ 1$ million Nobel prizes
A French phygicist and a Swiss chemist were awarded $$ 1$ million Nobel Prizes in Stockholm, Sweden.

Pierre-Gilles de Gennes of France, 58, won the prize in physics for finding underlying similarities in the behavior of molecules in a wide range of solid materials, from superconductors to the liquid crystals used in pocket calculators and wrigtwatch displays.

Richard $R$. Ernst of Switzerland, 58, won the prize in chemistry for his contributions to the development of highresolution nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy.

Nation

Man fires 100 shots, kills 22 in massacre

A man killed 22 people and himself in a cafeteria in Killeen, Texas, Wednesday afternoon.

An estimated 20 people were also injured after the gunman fired about 100 shots in the eatery south of Dallas.

Witnesses said the man drove his truck through the cafeteria window, opened fire and yelled, "This is what Bell County's done to me." They said the man kept shooting for 20 to 30 minutes.

The man reportedly killed himself in the cafeteria's bathroom after police shot him.
The massacre may have been the country's deadijest mass murder.

Son expects Swaggart  to return to pulpit

Jimmy Swaggart, stopped last week while driving with a woman who says she is a prostitute, is stepping down from the pulpit to get counseling, the evangelist's son said Tuesday.

After "a time of healing and counseling ... Dad will once again assume the pulpit at Family Worship Center," Donnie Swaggart said in a statement Tuesday.

Swaggart, 56, was stopped by Idaho, Calif., police on friday and ticketed for traffic offenses.

The woman with him, Rosemary Garcia, 31, said afterward that she is a prostitute and that Swaggart had asked her for sex.

State

State has massive

 budget deficit this yearState Comptroller Edward Regan reported Tuesday that the state has a $$ 155$ million budget deficit from April 1 through Sept- 30 of this year.
"All the economic news we have gotten since April 1 has been bad," said Claudia Hutton, spokeswoman for Cuomo's budget division. "There aren't encouraging signs right now."

She said the state has lost nearly twice as many jobs over the last 18 months as originally expected. She also said that Cuomo aides are especially concerned about the drop in income tax collections and will spend the next several weeks trying to find out why it happened.

County condoms stolen, sheriff says 500 taken

Five hundred condoms were stolen from the Onondaga County Health Department over the weekend, according to the county wherifls deputies.

This is the thind time this year that the condoms have been stolen.

The Lifestyle condoms were taken from the "condom drawer" of Jean A. Sheridan, the department's HIV education program coordinator. She found the drawer open and empty on Monday.
She distributes condoms during ADS prevention lectures.

She blames burglarizing teenagers. "It's not a political thing," she said. "We've had trouble in the past with youths coming in and taking them."

Campuses

Dartmouth College

will discontinue ROTC
The board of trustees of Dartmouth College announced on Sept. 12 that it. will diacontinue its ROTC program in April 1993 if the Pentagon does not allow gays and lesbians to participate.

Dartmouth is the second college in the nation - after Amherst. College in nation - after Amherst College in Massachusetts - to demand that ROTC Massachusetts - to demand that ROTC open admission to homosexuals or leave open adr
The Dartmouth Gay, Leabian and Bisexual Organization, or DAGLO, met with James Freeman, the president of the college, over the summer to discuss the issue.

The pressure we brought againgt the administration has definitely been a factor in Dartmouth's decision." according to DAGLO co-chairperson Taylor Martin. "Having ROTC on campus gives a message from the administration that discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation is acceptable."

Although many students do not agree with the military's policy banning homosexuals, some argue that Dartmouth should not have terminated the ROTC program. "It's a shame students no longer can finance their education with editor of the school's independent conservative newspaper.

When asked to comment on Dartmouth's decision. Master Sergeant Michael Tripp, head of operations for Dartmouth ROTC, said it was a conflict between the Department of Defense and the college and that it was business as usual for him.

WEATHER

Warmer

Today will be sumny and warmer with highs in the mid60 s . Light and variable winds will be gusting on the Quad by this afternoon. Tonight will be mainly clear and not as cold with temperatures about 35 to 40 degrees.

Temperatures across
the country
Allanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York:.
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.

붕 ひ̛へ

Friday
Today will be mostly sunny and much warmer with highs in the upper 60s. We may even reach 70 degrees today. Pull out those shorts for this last leg of summer.

Saturday

We'll havepartly sunny weather for Saturday and Sunday, but look for clouds and a chance of ain Monday.

Tbday'sguestcity:Clevelardi,Ohia. . . . .

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracune Univerrity's independent student-run newspaper published Monday through Friday.

The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.

The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

News: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Rifestyle: 443-2128
Buaincea/Advertising: 443-2314
Bumincasiadvercibing 4:43-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30)

looking toward the future
"This time we might find a replacement, but who knows for the future?" Schiller said. "If you don't find replacements, you cannot survive."

Toby San Luis, president of Sigma Chi fraternity, said the ruling will not have any immediate effects on the fraternity.

He said 20 percent of the house's occupants are sophomores. He added that many juniors are living in the house juniors are living in the house for the first time this semester.
for the first time this semester.
Most brothers live in the house for two years, which limits any immediate concerns, San Luis said.

San Luis said he agrees with Schiller's concern of greeks going abroad.
"We just have to keep the older brothers coming back to the house," he said. "I sincerely the house, he hope they do."

David Kohr, director of residence services, said he feels the ruling reflects the problems the university is facing.
"There are fewer students at SU this year than there has been for 15 years," Kohr said.
"Everyone feels that we are moving into a period of time when our university will become smaller."

Walk Alert program to teach pedestrian safety

By MARK A. BROUSSEAU Assi. News Editor

Not being attentive in class might cost you a grade. Not being attentive in an intersection might cost you a lot more.

At least that is the theory behind the new Walk Alert program being offered by Syracuse University Security. On an urban campus like SU. being attentive applies equally to drivers and pedestrians, said Safety Administrator Michael Pyan.

The volume of vehicular and pedestrian traffic here is why we're adding Walk Alert to our roster of campus safety programs," he said.
Walk Alert, which will be presented at residence halls along with other campus safety programs, aims to reduce pedes trian trame accidents by mak ing people more aware of activ-

| PLANE TO CATCH?  FLAT RATE TAXI FARE  MAIN CAMPUS AREA TO  Syracuse Hancock Airport $$ 12.00$  with SU ID  455-TAXI  FOR RESERVATIONS  USE "MONEY TO BURN" COUPON FOR EVEN MORE SAVINGS MASTERCARD - VISA • AMEX |
| :---: |

(Hate

Delivered to you by Alpha Phi Omega october 16-17 7-11 p.m. Help APO Help Ronald McDonald house, call 4-SUBWAY and order a sub  Sorry, No Checks or Credit Cards will be accepted

If You're an Underage Drinker We'd Like to Take Your Picture    Alcohol Awareness Week  Today's Events: AAW Booth 10:00-4:00 Schine Choices Workshop 7:30-8:30, Goldstein Student Center, South Campus Movie/Sundance Contest 7:30-10:00, Goidstein Aud., Schine  Based on the 1990-9t Chemicat Health Survey completed by 544 students $-83 \%$ of students responding to the survey indicated that they consumed alcoholic beverages  $-74 \%$ agreed that alcohol abuse was a problem on campus

Alcohol Awareness...Let's Keep it Going Sponsored by Office of Residence Life
ity on campus streets, he said He said its object is to develop safer walkers and more attentive drivers, resulting in a safer environment for pedestrians.
The program will address pe destrian safety through public education, traffic engineering and law enforcement.
"We want to familiarize pedestrians with the area, the new street signage and the new gates," he said.
"We have not had one incident on a street that has gone from a one-way to a two-way route," he said.

Educating everyone

"The hardest part is educating drivers," he said.

Security distributed information to local newspapers and provided maps of the campus area to people picking up Carrier Dome tickets, Ryan said.
"Engineering measures and improvements are mosteffective when pedestrians cross safely." he said. "This means reminding pedestrians and drivers to be careful when entering roadways."
${ }^{\text {PPlanning and creating a safer }}$ roadway environment for pedestrians is the role of traffic engineering, white traffic laws and ordinances are the enforce ment mechanism," he said.
'The roads are being entorced more," he said. "Security now has jurisdiction on campus and has jurisdiction on carnpus and
(we) can enforce our own rul(we) can enforce our own rulings which will be more effiings which will be more efficient." cient.

Ryan said an increased now of bicyclists on campus has created other problems, Ryan said.
"Since there is such little traffic, a cyclist can really take over," he said.
"If you stand on a corner in the Quad area, you can watch them come around the corner and see how fast they go," he said. "We never had this before.
"It is because so many people are not allowed to drive on campus, and we are just recognizing it."

The program was required when the university took several streets from the city, he said.

Walk Alert will be offered at all residence halls with the rape prevention, fire safety and oncampus safety swareness programs, Ryan snid.

Walk Alert will also be offered at the Schine Student Center to off-campus students and interested faculty and and interes.

Sessions will be advertised in The Syracuse Record and The Daity Orange, Ryan said.
"We welcome anyone who wants to be a safer walker or driver," he added.

For Your Information

Library offers

free tours

Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m. through Nov. 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated library.
For more information, call 443-1943.

CROP Walk aims

to raise money
The annual CROP Walk will be held Oct. 20. The CROP

Walk is a 10 kilometer community walk through downtown nity walk through downtown Syracuse to raise money for local and international hunger relief programs. For more inforrelief programs. For m.
mation, call $443-1254$.

Library Associates

 plan book saleThe Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale on Oct. 31 from. 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the 1916 Room on the sixth floor of E. S. Bird Library.

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collections.

and remember, there is onls onc

It Works Wonders.
American Heart Association.

Needed: responsible voices

Come on, guys, get with the program.

Forums all around campus have offered students the opportunity to voice their opinions on Syracuse University's fiscal restructuring plans. This week alone, no less than four meetings were held by groups consisting of faculty, students and representatives of University Senate.

But very few students came.
Where are the voices? Where is the participation everyone desires?

The SU community has had ample opportunity to offer suggestions. These forums also give students the ability to make contacts with those people in positions to make changes, like Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, members of University Senate, and student representatives to the Senate. Students constantly demand a voice and insist on being heard. Once they are given a chance to express themselves, however, they back off.

Downsizing will affect students as well as faculty. Pay raises for professors may be shelved in favor of other, more necessary means of spending. Academic departments may need to cut back programs and, perhaps; course offerings to facilitate a non-existent budget.

Tuition will undoubtedly increase, which should be an issue of concern to students. Many administrative reports place SU's reliance on tuition as high as 70 percent annually. If that figure goes up, as many budget proposals are suggesting, it can be expected that tuition will increase proportionately.

By holding these forums, the university is reaching out and trying to display respect for student participation and input, offering to take into account students' everyday experiences. Students have basically decided they want the voice without putting forth the effort.

Clear your schedules, SU, and take advantage of the opportunities. You are being given a chance to shape the university more to your liking. If you're unhappy with the results, there is no one to blame but yourselves.

View master fears world's end

There have been many items that have gotten out of control recently. They include gotten out of control recently. They include
M-Street fights, blue lights, Vanilla Ice, crowded buses, Greek rushes, teenage lushes, crowded buses, Greek rushes, teenage lushes, huge classes, radon gasses, local malls, Eggers huge classes, radon gasses, local malis, Eggers
Hall, crank calls, nowhere to park, Marky Mark, crank calls, nowhere to park

There's Columbus' "discoveries," hangover care," contrast and compare, traffic changes, domains and ranges, Pee Wee lashing. View, Master bashing, library confusion, Onondaga Lake pollution, Senate hearings, future fearLake pollution, Senate hearings, future famor ings, new spellyngs, magazine sellings, rumor ings, new spellyngs, magazine sellings, rumor tellings, Home Alone, makes me groan, few tellings, Home Alone, voters; and Kurt Loder.
Finally, recycling.bins, pledge pins, internships, hair clips, road trips, Camel ads, Color Me Badd, learn to spell, personal hell, Liz Taylor, coupon mailers, Luke Perry, Ben and Jerry, office hours, dorm showers, NiMo power, people talking during class, Prince's pants without the ass, five-cent deposit on every glass, Long Dong Silver, who really believed her? rock and roll and campus tours. I can't take it anymore.

It's the end of the world as we know it and I'm depressed.

Don't forget Iraq's stupidity, Ted Kennedy, Pizan Hut. State Fair, don't stare. "I don't

LETTERS

Writer should research

o the editor:
No, Jamal Wright, this is not hate mail. In fact I don't believe you will receive vicious responses to your column
"Prejudice wrongly offends gays."
The people most likely to respond to your opinion are those defending the policies of the United States Department of Defense regarding the exclusion of homosexuals from military service, and as a result the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.
I am a female cadet in the Army ROTC program and my opinions are simply that -my own. They do not represent own. They do not repre
You suggested that those responding to your column "think about it" before writing ebuttals. I am curious about whether you followed your own advice.
You stated you "believe that people should not be discriminated against ..." You finished the sentence with "because of their sexual choices."
But do you also believe people should not be discriminated against under any circumstances? I am sure you do. Why then do you discriminate against women with the implication that masculinity is a qualification for or characteristic of military for or cha service?
You wrote: "Ive personally met homosexuals who are more masculine than some
In the context of a paragraph concerning the exclusion of the former from the military, I doubt I am the only person who made a connection between masculinity and military service in the above statement.
I hope this is an oversight on your part and you didn't intend to insult women. But you did, and I am highly offended and arnazed at your feeble-mindediness.

You were prejudgmental toward homosexuals concerning the actions they do or do not take in public. You were guilty of discrimination until educated at the forum.
I would like to enlighten you regarding training in the military. The military, in all of its years of existence, has never taught a soldier how to "kill correctly." Killing "correctly" is not a method used in the defense of the United States.

There is no correct or incorrect way of killing another person.

The further I read into your column, the more frustrated I became as a result of your became as a result of your ignorance. Your rhetoric about ignorance. Your rhetoric about "people that hate homosexuals" "people that hate homosexua falls between two opinions regarding the military. Do you regarding the military. Do you suggest that we in the Army suggest that we in the Army hate homosexuals? Wrong hate homosexuals? Wrong again. I have friends who are homosexual and although they do not agree with the policy of the DOD, we still have strong friendships. My friends, unlike you, are observant enough to understand soldiers' disconnection from policy making. This impasse is clearly not a breeding ground for hatred, as you generalize.

Research into governmental policies will make it clear to you that the exclusionary policy cannot merely be policy cannot merely be aboinshed. You make it so so simple. In reality it is so simple. In reality it is difficult to understand the difficult to understand the complexities of the legalities concerning the issue even w involved, and you haven't even made an effort to educate yourself concerning superficial aspects of the issue, such as women in the military and training methods.

Your column is fraught with poorly developed ideas and conclusions.

A journalist will research opposing sides of an issue in an effort to develop educated opinions on a subject. I suggest you do the same. Ignorance is the breeding ground of discrimination-do not be discrimination guilty of either.

Heather A. Ryan
Class of 1992

The Daily Orange  Editar in Chief  Jodi Lamagna Erin Neff

Managing Editor
The Daily Orange is published weekdays during the Syracuse University academic year by The Oaily Oringe Corporation. 744 Ostrom Ave., Syracuse, NY 13210. by The Daily Orange Corporation and may not be reprinted without the expressed written perrisssion of the Editor in Chief.

Concert pianist to give recital

Robert Weirich, music director of the Skaneateles Festival, will give a solo recital on Oct.
26 at 8 p.m. at St. James 26 at 8 P.m. at St, James Episcopal Church, 94 E. Genesee St., Skaneateles, Weirich will perform works by Bach, Mozart, Chopin and Rachmaninoff. It will be followed by a dessert reception. Tickets will be $$ 10$ at the door. For more information, call door. For $685-7148$.

Artists sought for Art Invitafional Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's

1991 Art Invitational, a competition of donated art works. Cash prizes will be awarded Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public Yroad
Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned off during the 10 th

LEMOYNE MARKET  Lowest Prices In Town On Kegs All Major Credit Cards Accepted     446-2064 OR 446-2234

 FREE DELIVERYSUNDAY & MONDAY SAVE ON GAS
WE'LL DO THE DRIVING FOR YOU

|  | 6 PK | 12 PK | CASE |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| MILWAUKEES BEST | 2.19 | 4.29 | 7.99 |
| BUSCH | 3.29 | 6.49 | 11.99 |
| PABST BLUE RIBBON | 2.99 | 5.99 | 10.99 |
| GENESEE | 2.99 | 5.99 | 10.99 |
| OLD MILWAUKEE | 2.69 | 5.39 | 10.99 |
| MILLER | 3.49 | 5.49 | \%raze.9.9 |
| COORS LIGHT | 4.39 | 7.99 | 13.99 |
| BUDWEISER | 4.39 | 7.99 | 13.99 |
| LABATT'S | 3.69 | 7.49 | 10.99, |
| MOLSON | 3.99 | 6.99 |  |
| HEINEKEN | 5.99 | 11.99 | 22.99 |

Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16.

Work submitted before Friday will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.

For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.

Adult volleybal! leagues forming Any teams or individuals interested in playing volleyball who do not belong to a team are encouraged to sign up to play. Women's, men's or co-ed teams are welcome to sign up. The league starts Oct. 21. For more information, call 451-1800 or stop by the Syracuse Indoor Soccer Center, 4989 Hopkins Road in Liverpool.

anew this weekend.  "I really don't believe this is a 1-5 football team," Berndt said. "Saturday starts our second season. This will give us a chance to end the season on a high note."Once Again...

In what's becoming a routine process, Miami'sKevin Williams was again named the Big East Special Teams Player of the Week.

The sophomore kick-returner/ wideout received the award for wideout received the award for the third time in the 'Canes first the third time in the Canesfirst five contests for his part in five contests for his part in Miami's $26-20$ victory over No. Miami's 26-20 9 Penn State.

Williams finished the game with 217 return yards on seven attempts, including a 91-yard punt return for a touchdown. He is the current Big East punt return leader, at 17.2 yards per return and second behind Syracuse's Qadry Ismail in allpurpose yardag yards per game.

CELLAR

Continued from Page A11
ple. So tough, in fact, that Berndt suffered dizzy spells after last week's crushing $10-9$ loss at West Virginia, delaying his post-game talk to his players.
The Owls led WVU 9-0 going into the fourth quarter, but Berndt. Temple may still feel the effects of the loss in this week's contest with Navy.
"In my 31 years of coaching football, Saturday's game was one of the toughest losses I have experienced," Berndt said. "It was a very, very tough game. We were really down and that's going to give us a problem this week."
Temple fans can take solace in the fact that the Owls only have one ranked opponent remaining: Syracuse. According to Berndt, his squad will star

CAROUSEEL CENTHER CINEMA12 466-5678

FXPERIFNCE THE DLFFERENCEY

* indoor fariking * SAME day advance thcketing * 12 MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM + DOLBY STEREO * PLUSH SEATING (with cup hoiders) $*$ WIDE ROW SPACING

ERNESTPG WORL-THUR $1=50,3: 40,6: 10,8: 10,10,30$ FRANKIE \& JOHNNY R MONL-THUR $1500,3: 30,6 \times 40,0: 20$

SHATTERED R

 MORL-THUR $z=10,4: 50,750,10: 15$DECEIVED PG13
MONL-THURA T $1540,4540,3: 00,10: 20$
THE FISHER KING $R$ MONL-THAR T245, $4: 000,8: 50,0=50$

DEAD AGAIN R
MON-TMUR 12:5a, 3=2a, 0:30, :500

SUEURBAN COTAAANDO PG MOKLTHUR. 2:00, 4:45

NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PG13
EON-TMUR 1:18, 4:78, 7:00, 9:50 SHOUT PG13
MON, TUEs, Thar, $1345,4=30,7300,9845$ RICOCHET R now-THLR $1=20,4 \geq 0,7 \times 24,10.00$ THE SUPER R

PARADISE PG13

HOYTB CLNEMAS I2 AT CAFOUBEI CKNTER LOCATED ABOVE THE FOOD COURT
"SOAPS UPDATE HOTLINE!"

(EXCEPT MILWAUKEE'S BEST) WITH THIS COUPON EXPIRES OCT. 24
1 REGULAR PRICE 39.99

KEGILATOR

TURNS ANY REFRIGERATOR
INTO A KEGILATOR
WITH THIS COUPON
EXPIRES OCT. 24

TheDaily Orange PRISIV

IN

TODAY

Climate

OIOTHING OARE IS Important

CAREFUL

COURTEOUS
PROFESSIONAL DRY OLEANIAC WASH N' FOLD
SHIRT LAUNDRY - $1.00 PER SHIRT COIN LAUNDRY
A Unique Concept in Laundry Services 178-9709

By KELIY HOMAN

Stall Writer
When planning activities for he weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
o Marshall Street and its choice
f bars.
There are many students,
hough, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other hings to do on campus.
University Unionsponsors nov-es, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Audition. The price of admision is $$ 3$ and movies are shown
K and pam.
Kyle Moquette, cinema comr-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to dis-uss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on films that will be of interest to SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Union sponsors mev-
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coon-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorn nov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good turnout. of bars.

When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Union sponsors move.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown at 7 and 9 pam.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorn nov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for e weekend, many Syracuse
niversity students plan a trip
Marshall Street and its choice
The.
There are many students,
hough, who choose not to drink nd who take advantage of other lUngs to do on campus,
University Unionsponsors move-aturday are shown Friday and auditorium. The price of admin
ion is $$ 3$, and movies are shown Gand 9 pam.
Kyle Moquette, cinema comrinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to dis-nd what people want to see
The board tries to decide. on lis that will be of interest to U students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorn nov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.

When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsors move-
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 p.m.
Kyle Moquette, cinema comr-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people went to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus,
University Union sponsors move.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 pam.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorn nov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorgmov-iss, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admin-
sion is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 pm.
Kyle Poquette, cinema cor-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Union sponsors mev-
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coon-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss what people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good
turnout.
When planning activities for
the weekend, many Syracuse
University students plan a trip
to Marshall Street and its choice
of bars.
There are many students,
though, who choose not to drink
and who take advantage of other
things to do on campus.
University Unionsponsorsmov.
ices, which are shown Friday and
Saturday evenings in Gifford
Auditorium. The price of admission is $$ 3$, and movies are shown
at 7 and 9 ppm.
Kyle Moquette, cinema coir-
dinator for UU, said the Cinema
Board meets every week to discuss whats people want to see
and what films are available.
The board tries to decide on
films that will be of interest to
SU students and ensure a good turnout. turnout.
"We pretty much aim to provide entertainment to all pegmints of the campus," Moquette said.

Alcohol is not involved, and Poquetie feels the movies may help draw students away from the bars.
"It gives them something to do other than drinking. ${ }^{\circ}$ he said. $\qquad$

圃堛 PRISM events/movies On-campus groups offer alternatives to drinking

Now Playing...

DIR Catintins

The Racketeer  University Union (Gifford Auditorium):

 and 9:30 pm. Fri. and SatThe Mad Magician University Union ${ }^{\text {Midnight Fri. and Sat. }}$

Dr. Strmgelove: Or, How I Learned co Stop Worrying And lave the BOmb 7 and 9 pom. Sun.

 Cinema East 2:7 and 9.30 pm. daily matinees at 2 and 4:30 pm. Sat. and Sun

Coolant fee -

Carousel Center 2, 4:10. 6:10, 8:10 and $10: 39 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. daily: late how $12: 20 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Sat and Sun.
Fayetcevilit
 pomp. Sat. and Sun.

Curly Sue -
Faycteville Mall. Sneak preview at 7:30 pimp. Sat. Shown with Shattered

Dead Again - Carouse Center: 1:15, 3:30, 7:10 and $9: 40$ pm. daily: late show at it:45 pm.
Fri. and Sat. No 7:10 how on Wed. ar Fin. and

Deceived -
carousel Center $2: 20,450,7: 50$ and Sat. and Sur.
Fayetteville: 7:45 and 9:45 pom. daily: met Sunn at 1:45, $1: 45$ and $5: 45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Set. and Sun.

Ernest Scared Stupid -
Carousel Center. 2:10, 4:15, 6:20, 8:20 and 10:10 pm. da
 5:15 pam. Sat. and Sun.

The Kyaher King-
Carousel Center 1, 3:50, 7 and 10:20 $\underset{\text { Shopping }}{\text { p.matily. }}$
Shoppingtown Mall: 7 and $9: 45$ p.m
daily: matinees at $1: 30$ and $4: 15$ pm Sat ard Sur.

Frankie at Jobnusy Carousel Center 1:10. 3:45, 6:30 and Fri nad Sat
Shoppingrown Melt: 7:20 and 9:50 pm. daily: matinees at 2 and $4: 30$ pom.
Necumestry Roughness-
Caroused Center: 1:20. 3:40. 6:50 and 9:20 pom, daily: fate thaw at $11: 20$ pm Fayetteville Mill: 7.15 daily: matinees 1 1 mind 3:05 pm. Sat. and Sun.

101 Dalmatians -
Hollywood: 5:30 daily: matinees at 1 , 2:35 and 4:05 p.m. sal. and Sub.

Carnumel Center: 1:40, 4:30, 7:20 and 9:50 pom. daily. late shows at $11: 55 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sal and Sun.
Shoppingtown Mall: 7:30 and $9: 40$ pom. Sat. and Sun

Partition -
Carousel Center: 1:30, 4, 6:40 and 9:30 pom. daily: late show at $11: 40 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Fri and Sat Favetterithe Mat: 7 and $9: 30$ pam.
daily: matinees at 2 and 4:30 p.m. Sat

borwocky time

 Amblerwock which takes place every Friday night from 9:30 to 11:30 in the Schine Student CenterBand night and comedy night are two of several things that make up Jabberwocky. Performand arc given by both students and professionals.
Jabbeording to Amy Faustich, program is an alternative for those who don't want to drink.
On Sunday evenings, UU spinsort the Coffeehouse from 8 pam. to midnight at the Faculty

The students to bouse is a place for entertainmentprowideat onjor students ant provided by omer Coffeehouse coording Bellerose, Bell ## served.

${ }^{*}$ It is a better atmosphere when people are sober," he said. at the Coffeehouse, and the entertainment ranges from music to poetry reading.
Graduate student Bill Angerson says he spends weekends going to movies or getting toether with friends.
"A lot of people feel it is necessary to go out and drink on the weekends because this is what their friends are doing," Anderson said. "They feel they have to do this to be with their friends."
Too much pressure
Junior Eric Heininger, a transfer student. feels that there is too much peer pressure on cain" pus.
"Just being with your friends is the most important thing." Heininger said.
"If you have a group of people you can identify with, you can do many more things than getting drunk, because you don't remember what you do." he said.

Heininger said instead of go ing to bars on the weekends, he goes to movies or the mall, or ge just gets together with friends.
"It is just as much fun as if you go out," he said.

Senior Kathleen Haley, who is a resident adviser in Lawrin son Hall, said she plans floor events on the weekends.

By planning movie nights, ice cream socials or rap sessions, Haley says she not only attempts to promote floor unity but wants to show students that there is something else to do besides drinking.
 le

 .

Ricochet - Carousel Center $1.50,4: 40,7.40$ and Carousel Center: 1:50, 4:40, 7:40 and 10:10 pima. daily; late show at i2:10 aim. 10:10 pm. daily; late show at 12:10 am.
Sat. and Sun. Sat. and Sun.
Fayetteville Mall: 9:20 p.m. daily: matinees at 3:10 and 3:50 Sat. and Sun. Robin Hood Prince or Thieves Westcott: 7 and 9:30 pm. daily: matin nee at 2 pom. Sun.
Shattered -
Carousel/ Center, 1:45, 4:20. 7:30 and $10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. daily: late show Fri. and Sat tiayetievilie Mall: $7: 40$ and git io pom daily; matinees at $1: 40$, $3: 40$ and $5: 40$ Thurs.

Suburban Commando -
Fayetteville Afaik: matinees at 2.4 and 6 pom. Sat. And Sun.
The Super
Carouse' Center 2:15. 4:45. 8 and 10:15 prim. dally, hate shown midnight Fayetteville Mall: 8 and 10 pm. daily.

 d

swink

 SNilives HEADQUARTERS\section*{HALLOWEEN

Wo carry Syracuse's most complete In e of Costumes, Masks, Makeup, Beards, Hits, HaIr Color, Spider Webs, Capes, Disgitae Kits, Decorations indoor 4 Outdoart, Novelties,

RENTAL COSTUMES

Ton Minuter Fran

- et PONTH
- Parr 28 (Mativdale)
- Font ron Bratime as e
- Follow E BaY Rip sight

1

1

New Public Enemy, Soundgarden albums arrive

This week welcomed a numer of new alternative releases and the promise of more new lbums in the upcoming weeks Nitzer Ebb and Urban Dence Squad, to name a few).
With so many current choices to make on a student budget, BRUCE the buye BUCKLEY lective and CLESH beware, TUXTEDO pecially bums by (many of which may not neet expectations).
Here are two new releases to consider:
Public Enemy - Apocalypse 91... The Ememy Strikes Black Just a year after slapping the music industry in the face with Fear OF A Black Planet. Public Enemy is back on the attack with a new collection of ripping rhymes that can't be ignored.
Since 1987, P.E. has been bum rushin' the music scene with socially conscious lyrics that no other previous rap act would dare touch. Combined with hardcore rhythms and samples, their message packs equa punch.

As with past P.E. albums, Apocalypse ' 91 seeks to expose the social and moral oppresgions experienced by blacks. and offers positive solutions.
Songs lîke "Rebirti" directly address covert racism, saying: If you only trust the TV and the radio these days, you can't the radio these days, you can't the KKK wears three-piece suits."

Call for consciousness

But these oppressions extend beyond the color of skin. Songs like "Nighttrain" call for consciousness within one's own com## munity.

Chuck D, Terminator X and Flavor Flav are Public Enemy.

"The word 'apocalypse' refers to the prophecy of a final battle between good and evil, the final destruction of evil forces," said lead rapper Chuck D.

On the album, we acknowl edge that those evil forces can lurk in places you might never suspect ... even among your own."
P.E. also lashes out against drug and alcohol abuse. "1 Million Bottlebags" attacks the corporate glorification of the "forty" ( 40 -ounce beer bottle) the black community among "Malt Liquor Bull - What it is is bullshit, Colt 45 - What it is is bullahit, Colt 45 - anothe us to the brain who's selling Most bla

Most blatant, however, is the band's relentless attack on the medin in songs like "A Letter To The New York Post," More News At 11, "Shut Em Down and "Move!" in which Chuck D says: "Why rip a rapper when he flow like water, I'd rather rush a television reporter,"
Alliance with Anthrax
The track that has created the biggest buzz about the band is the re-recording of "Bring The Noise" with speed-metal icon Anthrax.
The band's combination of hardcore rap with razor-sharp metal rhythms is a lethal mix of some of music's most powerful elements.

As a whole, Apocalypse '91 is an album with a strong message or everyone, because as Chuck D puts it in "Move!," "It's a black thing - you got to understand!" Soundgarden- Badmodorfinger
Although I can't tell you the meaning behind the title Badmotorfinger, I can tell you that the word "bad" is certainly relevant to this album. With its polished production and clicheridden vocal lines. Badmotorfinger lacks the bite that made Soundgarden so unique on its last album, Louder Than Love.
The most notable change is in vocalist Chris Cornell, who has cast aside his signature wailing style for a cheap, cheesenetal imitation.

On songs like "Rusty Cage" and "Slaves & Bulldozers," Cornell sounds like an over contrived cross between David Coverdale (Whitesnake) and Sammy Hagar (Van Halen)
Musically, Badmotorfinger does hold some merit, but most songs such as "Outshined" sound like 1970 s hard-rock re hashes of Black Sabbath and Budgie. tugie.
Songs such as "Room A Thousand Years Wide" and "Holy Water," however, hint at Soundgarden's grungier days trudging over the listener with 16-ton guitar riffs

Unfortunately, the album's over-production smooths out a lot of its raw energy, making for a generally dull performance.

The album's first single, "Je sus Christ Pose," is by far the alburn's best track, combining pounding percussion, heavy gui tar crunch and ripping vocals (by far Cornell's best perform ance on the album).

In short, Badmotorfinger stinks of stale imitation and will leave fans of the Seattle sound starving.

ต

Guide

MUSIC:
+CRAWDADDYS: Jabberwocky presents The Crawdaddys, an alternative rock band, in the Schine Student Center dining hall. Jabberwocky is a group devoted toproviding alternative entertainment for people who do not wish to drink on weekends. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. Friday.
*BRASS AND WOODWINDS: The University Wind Ensemble, directed by Robert Spradling, will take place in Crouse College Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

VIRTUOSO VIOLIN: The Syracuse Symphony Orchestra, led by guest conductor Shunskuke Hori, will present acclaimed violinist Kurt Nikkanen as part of its Classics series. The program will include works by Vrogram Brahms and Beethoven and will take place in the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Friday and Center at Saturday.
#COFFEEHOUSE: The Coffeehouse features music and entertainment by students in the Faculty Center, between Bird Library and Watson Hall. The Coffeehouse is open from 8 p.m. to midnight Sunday.
*PRIZE-WINNING ORGAN: Allan Morrison, winner of the Arthur Poster Organ Competition, will give a free recital in the Crouse College Auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday.
 Elana Levy, winner of the 1991 Unsung Heroine Award from the National Organization for Women. will speak this weekend on her experiences. "Reflections on a Summer in Nicarations on a Summer in Nicaragua" will take place in Room
130 , Schine Student Center, at 130, Schine St noon Friday.
*AFTER LIVE AID: "Consuming Hunger - Shaping the Image" will be included in the World Hunger Week Video SeWorld Hunger Week Video Series in the Noble Room, Hendricks Chapel. Sponsored by the dean of Hendricks Chapel, the speech will discuss the fate of starving Africans once they became part of our television culture. It will take place at 12:05 p.m. Saturday.

DANCE:

*DANCE PARTIES: The Underground, in the Schine Student Center, will sponsor two dance parties this weekend. Zeta Phi Beta will sponsor Friday's dance, and Saturday's will be sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha. The dances will be held from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday.

THEATER:
*AFTER OURS: Just Say No!'begins After Ours' season in the Sutton Pavilion, Syracuse Stage complex. Just Say No!', described as "a play about a farce," takes a critical look at the Reagan/Bush administration. The play begins at $11 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. tion. The play begins at 11 p.m. and admission is $\$ 4$. The play and admission is $\$ 4$ - The play will run Friday through Sunwill $r$
day.
*GRADUATE PROJECT: The Black Box Players will present the premiere of a play by Syracuse University graduate Kim Winters. A story about a woman who falls in love with a gay man and the impact it has on her, it will run in the Black Box Theater. Regent Theater Complex. Friday through SumComp day.

EVENTS:

- BIG APPLE IN CNY: Hispanic American Society, Asian Students in America, Asian Students in America, Hillel, Student African-American Society and Univergity Uncan Society and University Union Television, along with Brit Elegance, will present N.Y. "Sound Factory" in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student Center. Music, art, dancing and fashion will be included in the program, which will take place from 9 p.m. to $2 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Saturday > CROP WALK: The CROP Walk, an annual 10 kilometer community walk through downtown Syracuse, will raise money for local and international hunfor relief programs. It will take place at noon Sunday.

The Guide is published each Thursday in The Daily Orange's Prism magazine.

To have an event listed in The Guide, campus groups should submit the information to the submit the iniormation University Events Office.
Campersity, Events Oifice.
Campus events are marked with a star.

'Just Say

Tastelesaness has made a reaurgence in local theaters lately. First, Salt City served up Sweeney Tbdd, a musical about murder and cannibalism. The Contemporary Theater of Syracuse followed suit with its humorous look at a family involving alcoholism and stillborns, ERIC $\quad$ The Mar-
GRODE THEATER Bette and

REYIEN An
REYEN How, After showing Just Say No!, a scathing attack on the Reagan/Bush administration and its policy on homosexuality.

Nancy Reagan (Jennifer Peterman) writhes on the ground, moaning about her sexual inadequacy. Sadomasochism is depicted in some detail. Women get stuck on top of men.

Now, there is nothing wrong with tastelessness as long as it is funny. Just watch a Monty Python movie or go see Sweeney Todd if you doubt this.
Just Say No! is fitfully funny, but these instances are overshadowed by arcane references and long, dry periods, resulting in a disappointment, albeit a well-acted one.

Scandalous sex
In order to appreciate much of the play's humor, it is necessary to know about an alleged sex scandal in the 1980 s .

The scandal involved Alfred Bloomingdale, here described as Herman Harrod (Andrew Sgroi); Vicki Morgan, renamed Trudi Tunick (D.D. Dolan); and a sex tape involving Ronald Reagan's Cabinet.
Just in case you don't know anything about this scandal -and it seemed as if most of the audience members didn't - a helpful synopsis is included in the program.

The action takes place in the home of Foppy Schwartz (Mihome of Foppy Schwartz (Michael Staczar), a flamboyant chael Staczar), a flamboy associate of the first family.
Commenting on the action i Eustacia (Winnie Evans), a defiant black maid who describes herself as "a Nubian princess down on her luck."
Just Say No! reminded me of Mastergate, a recent Broadway See FOPPY Page A10

Herman Harrod (Andrew Sgroi) gets involved in some sadomasochism with his mistress Trudi Tunick (D.D. Dolan), as Eustacia (Wirinie Evans), the family maid, looks on in one of Just Say NoI's tamer moments.

Disney's 'Beauty and the Beast' brings fairy tale to screen

By ROE OWEN

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
This Thanksgiving, the Walt Disney Co. will release its 30th full-length animated feature film, Beauty and the Beast.

The film is the fifth Disney movie based on a fairy tale, the last being the phenomenally successful The Little Mermaid. ynn LaRocca, director of publicity and promotions at Allied Advertising and regional representative for the Walt Disney Co., spoke as part of a College of Visual and Performing Arts lecture series last week about the new film.
"Walt Disney's goal of a new animated film every year has become a reality," LaRocea said. Beauty and the Beast is the story of Belle (voice by Paige O'Hara), a 17 -year-old French girl who hopes there's "more to life than this provincial town," as she sings in "Belle's Song." This musical introduction to Belle's town and the characters that populate it is the first of six new songs composed for the film new songs composed for the film by Alan Menken and the late Howard Ashman, who also did the score for The Little Merthe sc

In Beauty and the Beast Belle's suitor is Gaston (voice by Richard White), a big, bad muscleman with an ego to

HELP CROP
STIT
HUNGER

Join CROP Walk on Sunday, October 20.

A lovely young beauty with dreams of love and romance is courted by an unusual beast in Disney's upcoming animated film Beauty and the Beast, adapted from the classic fairy tale.
match. But Belle wants nothing to do with this lug.
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { atch. But Belle wants nothing } & \text { existence is tempered when Gas- } \\ \text { ton and the townspeople storm }\end{array}$ Ater shes kidnapped by the who was once a dobby Benson), Belle begins to see that you can't judge a beast by his fur. As in all good fairy tales, they fall in love. But their blissful the beast's lair.

Pre-recorded vocals
LaRocca went on to describe the making of Beauty and the Beast.

Before the animation process begins, all the vocals are recorded so the animators can match character's lip movements o the soundtracks.
Often, animators will also incorporate aspects of the actor's personality into the animated character.
While Paige O'Hara gave Belle a voice, model Sherri Stoner gave her the body. Animators also used Stoner as a model for Ariel in The Little Mermaid.
Computer animation was also used in the film to help give interesting angles to a ballroom sequence where the Belle and the Beast spend a romantic evening.

An unfinished cut of the entire film was shown at the New York Film Festival this month. That showing of Beauty and the Beast marks the first time Disney has screened an unfinished animated film.
Although Beauty and the Beast is opening Nov. 22, the game day as Universal Pictures' American Thil 2: Fievel Goes West, LaRocea said Disney is not worried about the competi
Nor should they be. In past years when Universal has tried opening an animated film the same day as Disney, Walt's team has prevailed. Disney's Oliver and Company trounced The Land Before Time and The Little Mermaid buried All Dogs Go to Heaven.

Aladdin' in the works

LaRocca said Disney animators are at work on next year's animated musical, Aladdin, which is the last projected Ash man worked on before his death last year. Robin Williams lends his vocal talents to one of the characters in Aladdin.

Other future projects include Fing of the Jungle. Swan Lake, Fantasia Continued and Who Discovered Roger Riabbit, a sequel to Who Framed Roger Rabbit. Tim Burton will also return to the studio where he once worked as an animator to helm The Nightmare Before Christmas.

LOW AIRFARES STO EUROPE & ASIA

- Groups and Individuals -
- Special Student and Faculty Airfares -
- Scheduled Major Airlines - No Charters
- 50 U.S. Departure Cities - 75 Foreign Destinations -- Eurail and Britrail Passes -
- International Youth Hostel Handbooks * - Let's Go Europe Guides -
- International Student Exchange ID Cards -
- Intemational Faculty ID Cards -
- American Express Travelers Cheques -

ASK ABOUT OUR EXPRESS ID CARD SERVICE

"Celebrating our 33rd Year in Student Travel"
For your free student Travel Catalog write or call: INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE FLIGHTS, INC. 5010 E Shea Bhod. Sute A-104
Scotisdale Ariona 85254. USA 602/951-1177

NAME: STREET:
CITY: $\square$ STATE:

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DALY ORAMGE CLASSIFED AD PROCEDUPEE: 52.50 tor the first 15 morts. Yof for esch eddational word, $5 \%$ extra hor sech boid word SE Bxira for asch capithu IED word Defidine: 2pm, 2 business day in advance.

Notices

COSTUMESI

Fluppers, gangetors, reneizsonct, wic. Wis, make-up, mazk. SOOM BABIES VIntage Clothing Rentals available. MC a Vise. Sourt Boach at Woswort

$$
\text { 11-7pn / Morcisy-Saturday } / 472-19 s 9
$$

NOTICE. MTG of Woment Concorne Crever Gnoup, Oe: 1E, 1991; 1342 Lancasxar Ava.; 730 Gem. Two Togies: Speaker from "Leaming Cemar and speekes from a bus traval co. $$ 1.00$ donation 422-6459. Comen to Worsenv Nor-Danominational.

FOR SALE

Autos

Honda Clvic Si tes, black, haterback, alt-season tires. 57,150. O.B.O 423-7428, plaase leave пезsаяе.

Equipment

STEREO EOUPMENT TROVing must sall Pioneer 20w ple stereobartp tunar. Par EPI 90 spoakors, 8352.

Penmonic 25 TV with P.LP. and on stersen pragramming- $\mathbf{2 2 0 5}$. Macse with printar and screen fiter- 51,450 O.B.0. Call 423-7428.

Misc. For Sale
WHITE LEATHER JACKET fiss smm. Asting $$ 150$ of best cffer. Call 423-3816.

EMPLOYMENT

Withrift meeded - Hourly rate. No tipa 204 hours Benefis: $\mathrm{BC} / \mathrm{BS}$, donzal, Tuition reimbursempant Apply: The Nottingham, 1301 Nottirgham Rond Dewart

HOME NEEDED for a 13 yoar old gith wito is in a wheel chair and requires assistance. Home mointbursemert provided. If you or sorneone you know is irtersested in providing a blowing horne. pleazse call Tom McDonald at (315)5s8-6120 or David Stipe at (315)425-5311.

Immedias P/T postion available in ephthabmolgy prectice tor Medical Fing Cletk in SU araa Experience dasirabla. Approximasely 20 hrs meekly salary neporiable. Please contact Wirnie Earta at 470-7414 Sat's Eirclland Fiesteurant: University location has cook postion avaifabla. Cornpetitive wapa. Cortact 471-5206 for more Info.

WANTED

Help Wanted

ATIETION STUDENTS! Eats Lp to $$ 500$ cash for 5 hirs work. Imemational Businars Tours is seating an arriculate studert to orgarize a 30 mintes indomational meeting on carmpus. No ex-

Know Before You Go." where to work, live and skil free in Colorado's resorts. Current Guide to Aepen Voil, Breckanvidge and moral $$ 16.65$. Call in00 788-6174.

Exm $2s00. Froe Trips Soling Spring Ereak Packapes To Bahamas, Mexieo, Jumaica Floride! Bes

Qualifed Applicants for MiD-YEAR RESIDENT ADVISOR posikions. Lasg crance to pick LD an 8 PM in the Hayen Pentheuse. For mare mormation, call 443-3637

Roommates

Fert Lari- May. Westcont flat; seationg fermate to fill third room, preter grad student $$ 245 / \mathrm{monh}$.
$423-0645$ days. Must Seel

Misc. Wanted

Solas. Couches warted. Any size anty color, to cash. Wial Pick-up. Ploase call 428-0583

FOR RENT

Apartments

Warted: 2 poople to sublease 2 rooms. 5 bedroom house. Spring sempaster. Good focution $423-5314$ ine/ Chrizal ater 10:00pm.
 bedroom spartunemtat. All utilimesinctuded Seared buidding Laundry room. No pogs Conne of for Dewit- neat, fice furnished great it bedicom ppartineme. Parking all utifies inchesed Gract protessionat proterred $478-2842$ Abo quisi roomurlitios furnstred inctucted 478-2642.

1,23.4 bedroon apartments, morimate situaions. On street parking. Leundry, clean. Lerge. rastonable. 474-6797

FOR RENT: 3 BEDROOM APARTMENT Wextcot Sineet furnished, washar and dryer, partirg Cal mall a SPRING sccepting Senior a Gracuras male 8 formale students to 1 in spyeral Abdim mpoded $$ 230.00$; Designerflethose model $$ 325.00$. Al are tocated next to E.S.F. campus on Oatiand and Standan Sis. These aparturnents are in an ex cadiert 4 block wrimirg beation and are nicary fur nished with beds, degks, dressers and linporom Iuriture. Cell 673 -1344 for a choice studert apt AVAILABLE TCDAYI ONES TWO BEDPCCOM APARTMENIS. Kicien. imiguroom, buthroant Standart SL excellént E.S.F. 3 Bedroom, clean 3650 per morkth 697-1344.

Special Guest:

SMASHING PUMPKINS

PEARI JAM

2- 5 Betroon ApL. Euclid and Ackemman Ave. Parking Laturdry, Furriahod, 24h. Mairtionstince moth call 446-2209.

Univensty area large 283 bodroom lets. On-straet tree parking. laundry. hoase socurty deposit mired Ho peal Availunto now. PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS. Very clote. Sacure. Quiat. Cappeted. Air Aptan Yyou need a place to live now or in the near future, CHI MORGN-RCGEATS REAL ESTATE to chech at our laype solecilon. Remnembers, whe have the fity-furnished meommodtions of all sizas. Call In Engets at 445-8814 angime.

Houses

Inroy, baartiful moorts in a newly romodeted mansion. Of-strest parking, latndry. a mituce wol to campls. $$ 300 . $ 325$. ind Akso desimble roommate stuation availtble $$ 200-5300$. 474-6791.

PERSONALS

© Clindy in APO: have you fipured it out yer? Sombetimes the bost things are right under your nesse I Love Youl Tha thower Serder.

CuSTOA: T-ShitsI Cups Glasswarel AND mopel For Lessi Cal Shawn Lesser DYUANC RNOVATIOMS I-800-659-7746.
Atas- Upsiare New Yoak: in Band (9-piece), is tweitable tor Christimas parties, formate, oce Call tvaikble tor C $315-463-1898$.
KITE & KEY ENLLOON SNEE! Buy soma this Weok trom your taverita Kappes and thetast $$ 1.00$ for 2 balicons.
Welises M. in Apha Cri- Frietwe Fing 1991 was the best its twar been tranisa to youl Your hatr work paid oft in a day wall naver forgetl Tre- the Sisters and Predees of Apha Chi Congratulutiors to Beta and Signe Kappas for emenging through the mud as the winnars of Aphat Plectoss of Alph Chi.
Thank You to all of the rams who participared in Apha Chis Frisber Fing 199111 Wa coulthit have done in withour youl Love the Siecters and Flodges donal Alph Cric

SERVICES

Private Diving Lessorss. Pick-up servica. Fult and reiresher courses. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY 478-3995.

Typing. For all your typing noeds- latars, manuecrites, Gessorntions, oce. Call Ruth Dowoy as 652.5814.

Word Procasalng, Laset twiturnax. Typing. Fast
 St. atove Acropole.
Aopearch CaI SHORTSEARCH to begin your torm papers. All subjecs. Reasonabie rates 43-1311 or 443-2311.

ADOPTION

LAUGNTER, HUGS, TEDDYEEARS and

 Call David and Darica collect (BCe)z35-2312. Adoptor- Christian coupla have coom in our fives Call Donit and Aictuard noleict $914277-637$.

Adopt- Heppily married white couple warks 80 Adact- Heppily martiec whime couple nank so muct lovirg horrie.
Call joan and try collece $014-228-3019$.
GRE
GMAT
LSAT
TEST PREPARATION
Call for free brochures
443-4173
GRE CLASSES BEGIN NOVEMBER 4
A gumransed ebge tor wucongs

NAKED MAN

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

I maon, I cant hulo ;t that To on financial sid.

BY R.E. MANSPERGER, JR.

BY TWO JERKIES

STOPISTAPI HOLD EVERYTHNG:

THIS HAS GONE FAR ENOUGH. IDCN'T KNOW ABOUT YOU READESS BUT GE GOES TO $3^{R D}$ GKADE" OF THS SLONE GO
CRAP. THE SPREAMINGVIKNGS GET TO GO
THE CONTRY! SPALE CPRTAIN IS ON SOME SACOSS THE THE SURNEY C CHRIST, EVEN THE NAKED GUY IS HAVING SOME KIND OF COOL ADVENTURE! BUT STAR WARS SONNE HAVNG SOME KND OF COOL ADENTURE! BUT

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN
BY JAMES

COMIX PAGE ARCHIVES (SU ZOO)
FRANK CAMMUSO

WORMTV BY WALLY THE BEAVER

THE YOOTHA FILE $\qquad$ of this het thinks

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

judge thomas in his early years

WHILE HIKING IN DEEPWOOOS, WISCONSIN,
MARTY HAPPENS UPON A SECRET GOVERNMENT LIPOSUCTION FAT WASTE DUEPP.

Classic, modern hits blended at Henley show

Concert money to help save

Walden Pond

Even though Central New York is in the midst of fall, Don Henley made one last trip to summer Wednesday night with triple encore performance to a near-capacity crowd at the Onondaga County War MemoFin Finishing off his hour and 15 minute set with hits "The Boys of Summer" and "All She Wants To Do is Dance," the slickhaired former lead singer of the Eagles performed a clever mix-

- ture of old EREF and new -hard.
CONCERT SpanREVIEW Span ning Rengthy mu sical career, Henley performed the cofeehouse baliads in beween the con will Noting numbers like "I Will Not Go Quietly:"
"I Will Not Go Quietly" rose the crowd to its feet after a series of mellow ballads, and while the backup singer's voice wasn't quite AxI Rose's, the band's well-timed breaks and solos worked wonderfully.

Supported by a nine-member band, including three sharply dressed fernale backup singers, Henley's renditions of his End Of The Innocence hits were record-perfect.
From the show's opening with Dirty Laundry," Henley's band recreated every sound of the original record, including the newsroom phone ringing before the final verse and during the last chorus.

The singer, dressed in an oversized white shirt and black pants, hunched over his microphone and made emphatic hand

Don Henley opens his Wednesday night concert at the Onondaga County War Memorial with "Dirty Laundry."
gestures during his more image-- than fiction" and delved into a filled songs like "Sunset Grill" and the self-described "happy little tune," "New York Minute."

Henley talked intimately to his Syracuse crowd and performed a few songs he hadn't in "ten or 11 years," including "Wasted Time."

After asking concert-goers if they had been watching TV. Henley noted" "Truth is stranger crap" song about that kind of

The Eagles" classic "Victim of Love" was the high-point of the set before Henley's stoic voice on "Heart of the Matter" was echoed by the crowd.
For the first encore, Henley took to the drummer's seat to perform the ever-popular "Hotel California", and "Life in the Fast Lane."

For the second encore, Henley stayed with Eagles' numbers with the Halloweeny "Witchy Woman" and the piano bar classic "Desperado."

The crowd brought Henley back one more time for 'Last Worthless Evening" in this, the last stop of the tour. This tour was an offshoot of Henley's summer outings to raise money for the Walden Woods Project,

PELLIORA TRANSPORT CO. MOVING, STORACE & PACKING

 -Local & Long Distance - Piano & Office Moving experts -SInce 1934Reasonable Rates & Courteous Service

October 17, 1991

VERMONT

Continued from Page A12
at $20: 12$ when Mike Brition finished off a Chris Wright pass from the corner.

Pollnow didn't make his first save of the garne until 10:26 was remaining in the first half.

He stopped a 15-yard rising blast from Vermont's Kyle Bourque.
que. The defenge really played a great game," Pollnow anid. "They were fired up."
At $37: 31$ Young scored his 13th goal of the seazon on another assist by Wright.

Young tucked the ball jugt under the crossbar from 25 . yards out.
${ }^{\text {Whe carne out focused on tisis }}$ game," Young said. "We had the attitude to do the little things well, in order to have the big things turn out better."

SU outshot UNM 8-5 in the first half.
In the second half, Vermont's offense picked up Pollnow made three great saves that solidinied the Orange men's hold on the garne.
At 67:30 Pollnow knocked a David Johnson shot offthe cross bar and back into his hands.
A minute later, Rob Leland took a hard shot from 18-yards out which forced Pollnow to make a kick save.
Then, at 72:50, Johnson had another point-blank shot which Pollnow deflected away.

Foti said the Orangemen had a tougher time defending Vermont in the second half because the Catamounts took more of an offensive approach.

They tried to generate more of an attack by sending another player forward." Foti said. "This made it appear thet we were playing a defensive shell, but we weren't trying'to play any more defensive."
Malcolm Grace and Eric Puls had good opportunities to score in the second half for SU, but weren't able to put the ball past Radakovic who stopped four shots on the day.

|  | Most passing yards allowed in a game |
| :---: | :---: |
| 1 | 453 vs. Boston College (1985) |
| 2 | 399 vs. Navy (1985) |
| 3. | 376 ve. Florldin St (1991) |
| 4. | 360 vs Wert Vr. (1981) |
| 5. | 358 ve Floridia (1921) |
| 6. | 343 vs Plitsburgt (15ex) |
|  | 337 vs usc (1090). |
| B. | 332 vs. Pittsburgh (1977) |
| 9. | 324 ve Enst Cimrolntan (991) |
|  | 319 vs. touston (1970) |

than Weldon, Mathews or Blake did, not only becsuse of his ability to kun the play fake, but abinity to kun the play faice, but also because of his maturity and also because of his matu
Van Pelt forces defenses to hold coverages for a long time because he is a pure, drop-back passer who rarely scrambles.
"Blake was a Major Harris type of quarterback who could tuck it and run," Pasqualoni said. "Van Pelt will sit in the pocket, read the coverage and throw the ball downfield. He's smart and doesn't panic. He's as good a quarterback as we've seen and we've seen some good ones." In order to counter some of Their last victory came at West Virginia, who happen to be visiting the Eaglesthis week end for a conference contest.
The Eagles will need to use more than their mind to stop the Mountaincers, 3-2, West Vir ginia boasts the leading rushing attack in the Big East, averaging 228 yards per game.
"We have our work cut out for us on the defensive aide of the hall with West Virginia," Coughlin said. "We're just trying to prepare ourselves for a classic prepare ourselves for

The Temple Owls mirror their cellar-mates from Boston Col-cellar-mates from
They too have one win, a murderous opening sehedule and a close defeat to Penn State. The Owls trailed PSU 10-7 Late in the fourth quarter before succumbing 24-7.
One thing coach Jerry Bemdt's team does not have, however, is a victory against a Division I opponent.

After opening the geason with three straight road losses to ranked opponents Alabama, Pittsranked opponentsALabams, Pitsburgh and Clemson, the Owls, 1-5, finally defeate HA Howard, $40-0$.
-A A Howard, $40-0$.
The last two weeks have been tough for both Berndt and Tem

See CELEAK Page A6
${ }^{*}$ We worked on the ability to see yourself doing well," Coughlin said. "For our kids, it's been alinost a year aince they've won a football game. We needed to get a win, so we tried whatever tools we conid use."

| 1991 Opponent's passing pertormances |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | cormp aut y th |
| Vanderbilt | ilt 10-15-153-0 |
| Maryland | d 22-44-170-0 |
| Florida | 28-45-358-3 |
| Tulane | 25-45-233-0 |
| Florida St. | St. 24-39-376-4 |
| E. Carolina | ina 23-43-324-1 |
| Totals: 12 | 122-231-1616- |

the success opposing quarterbacks have had againgt the Orange secondary, the SU coach. ing staff switched the positions of Joseph and cornerback Greg of Joseph and cornerback Greg Walker had bee loss, Walker had been playing the wide aide of the field, but had been victimized for long gains and big plays.

In three garnes prior to the East Carolina loss, a receiver ander Walker's coverage had under Walker's coverage had caught passes of 37,50 , and 51 caught passes of 37,50 , and 51 yardis and snared four touchyards

Joseph was playing the wide side of the field againat the Pirates and Walker was on the short side.

Sandquist said Walker was not singled out as a weak link in the SU secondary, but rather his position comes with a load of responsibility.

Thearns thnow the ball to where they feel they can operate the best," Sandquist said. "I don't know if they were picking on Greg or not. The wide side is on Greg or not. The wide side is cially in a zone. Greg does a cially in a zone. Greg does a
Joseph anid the switch was made to provide the secondary with more versatility.

Young said the Orangemen should build on this game for the rest of the season.
"I'm treating this like we're beginning a new season," Young said. "We're 1-0 as far as I'm concerned.'
The Orangemen's next game is on Saturday against Big East rival Seton Hall in the Carrier Dome at 2 p.m.

Children under 12 years oid attending the garne will receive free admission if they wear a soccer jersey.
"Coaches said Greg and I should learn both sides so we're not one dimensional," he said. not one dimensuonsi, he said, "In case one of us (gets injured)
we should have the versatility we should have the versatility to switch sides and not hurt the tearn."

Regardless of position switches and defensive breakdowns, Syracuse opponents have been averaging more than 40 pass attempta per game. Pasqualonisaid whenever teams fire the ball that many times completions are bound to be made and yards will be gained regardless of the coverage.
${ }^{\text {GWe can't panic when they }}$ complete a pass," Pasqualoni said. "Hey, they're going to said. "Hey, they're going to complete passes, but we've got complete passes, but we ve got to have poise. Well let them throw it to the short guy, we'll throw it to the short guy, we'll tackle him and line it up again.
We've got to play disciplined and not panic.

 千LARGE AND SMALL ORDERS TO GO:

OCTOBER 30, 1994 ATTENTION ALL:

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES, UNDERGRADUATE, GRADUATE, AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

1991-1992 PETITIONS TO REGISTER ARE DUE NO LATER THAN OCTOBER 30, 1991

PETITIONS SHOULD BE TURNED IN AT THE OFFICE OF LEADERSHIP AND STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS, 231 SCHINE STUDENT CENTER.

Any questions? Call the Office at 443-2635.

Sports

Rules take emotion from NFL games

I can't believe this, but there was actually a time when I preferred pro football to college football.

Pro football was the real thing to me, while college was just a bunch of guys with weird nicknames running the ball all over the place, as imma ture crowds watched and roared to no end.

DAVID J.
BUSCEMA

SPORTS

OPINION

I've wondered for a while recently if my thinking hadn't completely reversed itself in the past couple of years.
After Monday night's NFL game, a 23-20 win for the Giants over Pitts burgh, I'm convinced.

Pro football has become just too serious for me. (Or college has made me regress in my maturation, I'm not sure which.)

In any case, when a player isn't llowed to celebrate a game-tying touchdown in the final minute after his team overcomes a 20-point deficit, something's wrong.

In Monday night's game, the Giants jumped out to a quick 20-0 lead. Pittsburgh was utterly outplayed for three quarters of the game and the Steelers' fans began practicing a mock version of the Atlanta Braves' 'scalp em' chant in preparation for Game 6 of the National League playoffs.

The Steelers atill trailed 20-6 in the fourth quarter when second-string quarterback Neil O'Donnell, subbing or an ineffective Bubby Brister, hit Louis Lipps for a 16-yard touchdown to cut the lead to $20-13$ with about five minutes left. Then, with just under a minute to play, O'Donnell connected with Eric Green for a five-yard touchdown to tie the score at 20-20.

Green did a little dance in the end zone and Pittsburgh was assessed a five-yard penalty on the kickoff because of the celebration.

Gary Anderson's ensuing kick went out of bounds giving the Giants the ball at their own 40 -yard line, and
New York was able to win the game on a 44 -yard Matt Bahr field goal as time expired.
Now, I have never been a fan of the NFL's stringent anti-celebration rule following scores, but the penalty on Green annoyed me to no end. A struggling team overcomes a seem ingly insurmountable deficit against the defending Super Bowl champions and is penalized for a mild celebra tion? Why doesn't the NFL just have ts players dress in suits and ties and applaud politely on a nice play?
I'm not saying the penalty cost the Steelers the game; that would be a copout for Pittsburgh. But the flag certainly didn't help.

It's ridiculous to expect people to play 60 minutes of a hard-fought contest that includes triumphs and tribulations, and try to eliminate the emotional aspect of the game.

If that's what the NFL wants, then they can have it. I'll just spend my Sundays cleaning my room.

I'd rather watch the trash-talking college teams from Miami and Florida State than any Sunday or Monday night game that more closely resem bles a theater atmosphere.

Treula

CQuegtion: Nawe, the NFL teamo(and the playertinvalved) Who had celebrations dubbed, the Back Dance, The: Galffor miaquale and TheFonBuinch in thefisgos

ary

Pollnow saves Orange Young's two goals lead SU to 3-0 win over UVM

By jeff ELBAUM

Staff Write

The Syracuse University men's soccer team scored three first-half goals in their 3-0 win over the University of Vermont Wednesday night, but it was goalie Steve Pollnow who solidified the win in the second half.

Pollnow faced eight tough shots from a determined Vermont offense and came up big on all of them as he recorded his fifth shutout of the season.
"We're lucky Steve's game was on today." SU coach Dean Foti said. "They today, SU coach Dean Foti said. They had four or five chances in the second half, where if they put one in, it could half, where if they put one in, it could have changed the complexion of the game.'

The loss dropped Vermont to 7-4-1.
Paul Young started things for the Orangemen, 7-6, 2-3 Big East, at 8:15 when he scored his first of two goals in the game.

Young startled Vermont goalie Rob Radakovic on a direct kick from 25-yards out. Radakovic didn't even move as the blast landed to the right of him.
"He didn't even see it," Young said. "I knew I had the range, because I have been practicing that shot in practice been practi

Only four minutes after 'Young's goal, the Orangemen had a great chance to go up 2-0 when Lee Davison hit the goalpost after a Vermont defender mishandled a Syracuse pass.
The Orangemen did take the $2-0$ lead

Syracuse University defender Chris Wright battles University of Vermont midfielder Troy Cowell during last night's game in the Carrier Dome.

See VERMONT Page At1 Wright had two assists in the Orangemen's 3 -0 win over the Catamounts.  'Pitt' deepens for secondary  BY KENT FISCHER  revolves around," Pasqualoni said. "He's

Alex Van Pelt

BC, Temp

By MIKE BUSH
Staff Writer
Predicting conference finishes in the preseason is usually a hit or miss proposition.

And, in the Big East this season, preseason predictions have been right on target.

As expected, the second-ranked Uni versity of Miami, No. 20 Pittsburgh and 24th-ranked Syracuse University are the Big East schools which have been in the spotlight for the first half of the season. A pair of conference squads far from the public eye are also proving college football analysts right -reluctantly.

Both Temple University and Boston College share the Big East basement this year, combining for two wins in 11 contests.

Despite their dismal starts, the two teams deserve credit for playing out the difficult hands dealt to them.

Last week, first-year coach Tbra Cough

Sports Editor

Opposing quarterbacks have scorched the Syracuse University defense as of late, compiling more than 1,600 yards passing through the season's first six games.
And when the No. 24 Orangemen take on the No. 20 Pittsburgh Panthers this Saturday, SU could be in for another barn-burner.
The Panthers are led by junior standout quarterback Alex Van Pelt. Van Pelt, a three year starter, has completed 61 percent of his passes this season for 1,269 yards and nine touchdowns. He is one of the nation's top-rated passers.

Van Pelt is such a dominating passer because his skills go beyond the ability to throw the football, SU head coach Paul Pasqualoni said.

Van Pelt's strong, accurate arm is exemplified by his ability to sucker opponents' defenses with the play fake.
"Alex is the guy the Pitt offense

hit wrong

THIS.WEEK

lin celebrated his first win at BC, as the Eagles walloped visiting Louisville, 33-3. The win could not have come at a better time for Coughlin's crew, as they have struggled through a season marked by a grueling schedule and missed opportunities.

Boston College, 1-4, has the secondtoughest schedule in the nation betoughest schedule in the nation be a master of the play fake. His ball a master of the play fake. His ball handing skilis are masterful. He doction such a great job of selling the play action that it makea him very, very good at the East Carolina exploited against us last week."

East Carolina senior quarterback Jeff Blake hit on 23 of his 43 pass attempts for 324 yards in the Pirates 23 -20 win over the Orangemen last Saturday East Carolina has not been the only team of late to burn the SU secondary however.
University of Florida quarterback Shane Mathews threw for three touchdowns and 347 yards in the Gators 38-21 loss to SU on Sept. 21.

Casey Weldon of Florida State University fried Syracuse for another three TD's and 347 more yards in the Seminoles 42-14 romp on Oct. 2 in Tallahassee.

In fact, the last five quarterbacks to throw passes against Syracuse combined

See VAN PELT Page A1I

g target

was given two of the first seven weeks Was off.
Af After dropping their season opener at Rutgers by a touchdown, the Eagles were again nipped in their fourth contest, this time by No. 10 fourth contest,

So when Coughlin and his team Socorded their first victory last week, recorded their first vict
"We'd played well against Penn State but were denied the win," Coughlin said. "It"s a great deal of gratification for hard work."

According to Coughlin, whose BC squad's previous win was on Oct. 27, 1990, the team concentrated on the mental process of success.

Two players that may have benefitted from the exercise were redshirt freshman Dwight Shirley and junior Tom MeManus, who were named Big East Offensive and Defensive Players of the Week.

The  Volume XXI, Number 36  Friday, October 18, 1991  Syracuse, New York

Strike a pose

Senior fanhion design major Stacey Spencer, left, chock models Cheryl Carter, Davis Fenry, Berghan Shaw and Lix Baird during the faghion show min-thromgh at Sehine iagt night The fashion bhow if going to be part of the Brit Elegance extravaganan Saturday night in Goldstein Anditorium.

First-year students break ice

Freshman Forum aims to help college transition

By SHEILA DOUCHERTY

The Freshman Forum program was created at Syracuse University to help first-year students in the College of Arts first-year students in the Coilege of Arts and Science make a transition to college life, according to Gael Sweeney, coordinator of the program.
"There was a feeling, especially among undergraduates, that SU's a big, imper sonal place," Sweeney said. "When you're a freshraan or sophomore, until you pick a major and get into an undergraduate program where you know people, you feel intellectually sort of lost," she gaid.
Sweeney said residence hall life and campus activities aid a firat-year student's social development, but academic adjustment is un area where freahmen often need help.
"There's a lot of support for social but I think academically you're more left to float around," Sweeney said.
"One of the things we hope Freshman Forum will do is help you connect right away with a group of students you didn't meet socially.... it's sort of bonding academically;" she said.

Increasing pilot program

Freshman Forum began last year as a pilot program with 15 sections, ahe said. This year, the program is open to all Arts and Sciences freshmen and has 28 sections. Each class has a maximum enrollment of 15 students, Sweeney said.

It's a trend to have a special program for freshmen in many universitiesaround the country," she said. "We thought the best place to atart at SU was Arts and Sciences since it's the core undergraduate college," Sweeney said
She said much of the format for Freshman Forum was based on freshFreshman Forum was based on
"We took a lot of cues from the honors seminar and how they set their program up because they've had a lot of success," she said.
Sweeney said the honors seminar instructors offered suggestions for Freshman Forum.
"They've suggested a number of tactics that some of the professors are using such as keeping journals ... those have worked 90 well in the Honors Program we felt they would be really helpful," she said.

See FRESHMEN Page 6
,

Though these children have no vote, no public forum to apeak their problems, they have tremendous power," she said. "We've got to think of them as our own future."
Shalala asserted that many people who are disadvantaged as children do not become useful, productive adults.

If we don't help these children now. she said, "It's going to kick us right square in the pocketbook later on.

Lacking skills
She expressed concern that these children will not have the education necessary for skilled jobs, thereby depleting crucial tax dollars.
"We are raising a generation of takers," she said. "They will absorb far more than their share of police, medical and remedial education dollars.
"They will take and take because the skills for giving were never given to them.
In the future, there will be fewer working people to support a growing number of elderly, she said - a growing concern as life expectancy increases and baby boomers inch closer to Social Secu. rity eligibility.

She stressed prenatal care and early childhood education as crucial factors in a child's development.
"We must put in place educational and community systems that work to give children a sense of power and place," Shalala said.

She noted the corporate community should become involved in this effort should become involved in this effort because they have "long-term economic interests for a skilled and highly eduinterests for a skil

Shalala earned a Ph.D. from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs in 1970. She became the first woman to lead a Big-10 university when she was named chancellor in Madison in 1988.
"Few people in higher education have been as forceful in the process of educational change or committed to issues of equity as Dr. Shalalat." according to Vincent Tinto, professor in the School of Education's Department of Cultural Foundations and Curriculum, and chairman of the Ganders Lecture Series commitof tee. tee.
Shalala encouraged her audience, and all Americans, to become heroes for these children.
"The ruby slippers that can take children anywhere is education," she said. The beanstalk they can climb to a productive future is health care and a healthy home.

Inside

Classified

Comics

Editorial
Entertainment
News Extra
Sports
Weather

Cold as ice

Vanilla lce's new movie Cool As Ice will freeze at the box office. This sucker MC has gone to the extreme in his acting attempts and has failed miserably. See the Funky White Boy's story in Entertainment

World

Baker wraps up talks  for peace conference

In his drive to finalize plans for an October peace conference. Secretary of State James A. Baker III is trying to calm Israeli concerns about Syrian and Palestinian intentions.
Baker met Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir on Thursday. Baker's Syria's decision to boycott a phase of the conference.

The Palestinians are testing Shamir and the Israeli Cabinet by bringing the Palestine Liberation Organization out determining which Palestinians will attend.
The PLO will compile a list of delegates in meetings at its Tunis headquargates in meetings at its Tunis headquar ters. In Damascus on Wednesday, Syrian President Hafez Assad gave Baker final approval on terms for the negotiations. approval on terms for the negotiations.

on suspicion of spying

Croatia has announced the arrests of dozens of people on suspicion of spying for the Yugoslav army or plotting terrorism in the nearly four-month-old civil war.
Officials of the secessionist republic released no names and few details.

The arrests, first announced late Tuesday, came at a time of increasing frustration in Croatia at its inability to retake vast swaths of territory captured by Serbian guerrillas and the Serbdominated army.

Nation

Taped rape allegations

 released by policePolice released audiotapes Wednesday of the sworn statements of the woman who accuses William Kennedy Smith of raping her.

On the tapes the 30 -year-old Florida woman describes, often emotionally, sometimes obviously in tears, meeting Smith at a Palm Beach nightspot, going to the Kennedy estate with him, and being, as she claims, tackled and raped on the estate grounds in the early morning hours of March 30 .
Transcripts were made public in May, but her voice hadn't been heard publicly before.

Pentagon prematurely  poirsted finger at man

The Navy apologized Thursday for saying a lone sailor could have caused the April 1989 blast that claimed 47 lives aboard the battleship Iowa.

At a Pentagon briefing, Adm. Frank Kelso, the chief of naval operations, said the apology was recommended by a new report on the huge explosion that ripped through a gun turret.

The Navy's initial investigation concluded the explosion "most probably" was an intentional act by gunner's mate Clayton Hartwig, who was described as despondent over a failed relationship.

State

Brewery to make fuel from beer byproducts

Anheuser-Busch opened a $$ 25$ million plant in Lysander Wednesday that will turn gallons of brewery waste into fuel each day.

The new system will convert beermaking byproducts such as yeast into methane to fuel the brewery's boilers, Tom Wehner, assistant plant manager, said.

By next year, the plant is expected to produce 500,000 cubic feet of methane gas daily, the equivalent of about 60 gas daily, th

The waste-water was previously purified and sent into the Seneca River, and residues were composted into landscaping mulch. The new system will reduce the solid waste by 50 percent.

The brewery can produce more than three million gallons of waste-water each day. The old system could not always keep up with the flow

Two years ago, Anheuser-Busch paid $$ 1$ million in fines and penalties for polluting the Seneca River.

Law revokes parole,

less crowding expected

A streamlined process for revoking parole should help relieve local jail crowding, the chairman of the state Parole Board said Wednesday.

Under the new policy, which was approved by the Legislature this year, administrative law judges can revoke parole. In the past, the Parole Board pavole. parole at the recommendation revoked $p$.
of a iudge.

'Tis the Season for Advertising in the

 The Daily Orange Holiday Shoppers Issue November 21Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be $2: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!
fOR THAT BIG CITY DELI TASTE, PICKLES IS THE PLACE!!! EPCKILS KOSHER DELI, INC. GRANDOPENING (with purchase of a fountain drink) Giveaways!! T-Shirts, sandwiches

445-1294  -4467 E. Genesee Street Dewitt, NY OPEN: TU-SAT 9-6 SUN 8-3MNED & THURS 9am-9pm

Correction Policy

Oaily Orange stiff menbers work toward full; fair and accurate news coverage. We wil correct, on this page, factual maccuracies in our reporting.

In a front page article and ita photograph on Oct $17^{2}$ the ptudent who was struckby agt nenfak.
car on Waveriy Avenue was?
car on waveriy Avenue was topher Kulas. In fact, thet, & thiserior:

WEATHER  The " $S^{\prime \prime}$ word looms  -Morning sunshine and high temperatures of about 65 degrees will give way to increasing clouds and strong SW winds by late afternoon. Tonight will be mostly cloudy and breezy with mostly cloudy and breezy with a 30 percent chance of rain or a 30 percent chance of rain or sinow showers. The temperature snow showerg. The twill hit 32 degrees.

Saturday

Expect a partly sunny day with increasing clouds as evening rolls around.

Sunday

We'll have a partly sunny last day of Daylight Savings Time which ends Sundiay at midnight. We'll be falling back and gaining a much needed extra hour of sleep.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse Univerrity's independent student-run newspaper published Monday thirough Friday.

The newspaper is distributsd free on the Syracase University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.

The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

News: 443-2127Editorial: 443-2128Lifestyle: 443-2128Sports: 443-22008Business/Advertising: 443-2314(Mon-Fri 8:30 a.mı - 4:30 p.m.)

University points to Libyans

The Libyan intelligence service is now under investigation for the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103, in December. 1988. Thirty-five Syracuse University students were killed in the explosion.
Last week's Time magazine said Scottish police found a fingernail-sized electronic circuit in the wreckage. It was sent to FBI analysts in Washington who compared it to circuit boards of two unexploded bombs taken from Libyan agents in Africa.

The circuits matched and the circuit was traced to a Swiss electronics firm, which said it sold two dozen circuits to the Libyan government.

The magazine said a grand jury in Washington is expected to indict several Libyan intelligence agents in November. Student wins grant to study medical system A Syracuse University doctoral staresearch the informal medical system in the Dominican Republic.

Kathleen Skoczen, a student of anthropology in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, will study women's holistic healers in and around the town of Samana. She will leave in Skoczen earned a bachelor's degree in anthropology at San Diego State Univeranthropology at San Diego State University in 1983 and was a member of the Peace Corps for two years.

News Extra

Syracusans to walk for hunger relief

By BETH AMOROSI Contributing Writer

Syracusans will be lacing up their shoes and walking to raise funds for hunger Sunday at this year's CROP Walk.

The 10 -kilometer ( 6 -mile) walk through downtown Syracuse is held each year to raise funds for hunger relief programs both internationally and locally.
CROP, an acronym for Christian Rural Overseas Program, is a relief, development and refugee assistance division of the National Council of Churches. It is sponsored by Church World Service.

According to Douglas Anderson, CWS/CROP Upstate New York Director, the organization distributes aid to more than 70 countries.

CWS was founded after World War II as a coordinated system of relief for war victims.
The first CROP Walk was held in 1969 in Bismarck, N.D., with nearly 1,000 people raising $$ 25,000$. Now, more than 1,700 walks are held nationwide involving more than 3 nationwide inv million people.

Funds distributed around the worid

Monetary aid collected will be distributed to sites such as the warravaged Persian Gulf, Ethiopia, Sudan. China, the Philippine volcano victims, cholera victims in Peru and those affected by the typhoons in Bangladesh.
CWS works not only to provide food, but also to promote job training, sanitation and a safe water supply, sanitation and a safe
About 25 percent of the money raised by the Syracuse CROP Walk will be distributed to local programs, CROP officials said. Specifically, the money is allotted to the International Food Consortium and Meals On Wheels Programs.
The International Food Consortium distributes funds to more than 68 city food pantries.

Anderson says these food pantries serve approximately 195,000 meals a month. The walk is a non-sectarian event and does not discriminate when funds are distributed.
On campus, CROP is organized by the Office of the Dean of Hendricks Chapel.

Chris Koliba, administrative assistant to the dean, said $$ 42,000$ was raised by last year's CROP Walk.

SUs contribution was $$ 12,694$. This year, organizers hope to raise This year, organizers hope to raise $$ 15,000$. but would be happy with $15,000. but would be happy with "one dollar more" than last year, Koliba said.

Each year the walk is a mixture of SU students and members of the Syracuse community, young and old.
uOne can definitely tell SU is participating," Koliba said.
The entire campus makes an effort, including residence halls, religious ministries and individual students. There is also traditionally a large turnout from the greek community.
"The backbone of the event has been the greek system," Koliba said.

There is still time to register to participate in the CROP Walk. Registration continues until 1 p.m. Sunday and it starts at 2 p.m. The walk usually takes about two hours to complete.

For more information, contact Koliba at 443-1254.

Students play for United Way

Kindergarten games for al/ maniacs

By ERIKA PADILIA

Contributing Writer
Students will revert to their childhoods to benefit the United Way of Central New York in the second annual Kindergarten Mania tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The fund-raising event, sponsored by Greek Council, is open to all Syracuse University and State University College of Environmental Science and Forestry students.

Ten-member teams pay $$ 100$ to register and participate, with proceeds donated directly to the United Way of Central New York.
Teams will take part in such childhood favorites as "Duck, Duck, Goose," fingerpainting and tug-of-war while learning about the United Way's role in the Syracuse community. Participants will receive T-shirts, be served refreshments, receive pamphlets on the United Way and have a chance to win door prizes and have a chance to win Entertainment will be provided by members of the SU Juggling Club. WJPZ-FM 89.1 will broadcast live from Hendricks Field during the event.
A local kindergarten class will open the "mania's" events.
Non-greeks encouraged to play
Especially encouraged to join the event are non-greek groups, such as residence halls and student groups on campus.

Chairpersons Randi Goldberg of Sigma Kappa sorority and Beth Williamson of Alpha Chi Omega sorority describe Kindergarten Mania as a non-alicoholic, fun dergarten Mania as a non-aicoholic, fun event where greek, and non-greek students can enjoy themselves while" giving dents can enjoy themselv

Recruitment teams are being sent to speak with students who live in residence halls.

The idea for Kindergarten Mania was conceived by last year's Public Affairs 101 class, taught by Professor William Coplin. These students formed the current "SU Students for the United Way" group on campus.

A week of awareness will precede the event, Goldberg said. Through advertisements in The Daily Orange, pamphlets and information tables students will be able to learn more about the United Way.

The United Way is an umbrella organization that funds such community groups as the Salvation Army, the Boys and Girls Club of Syracuse Inc., the American Red Cross and the campus Rape Crisis Center.
"The campus is becoming more aware of the importance of giving back to the community," Williamson said.

Hearings bring up divisive issues Thomas' confirmation still rankles some senators

From the moment Judge Clarence Thomas was nominated to the Supreme Court of the United States, the most divisive issues of American society made their presence felt. Abortion, racism and sexual harassment are but a few of the concerns that are but a few of the concerns that became part of the confirmation process.

On Tuesday evening Judge Thomas became Justice Thomas by a vote in the U.S. Senate of 52 to 48 . It was the narrowest confirmation margin ever to the Court.

The prospect of a black conservative filling the seat of a servative filling the seat of a black liberal assured that conblack liberal assured that conflict would dominate the Thoflict would domi
mas nomination.

Deborah Steelman, former Bush strategist, said the conservative views of Thomas prove that "group rights and individ ual rights are vastly different things. There is no monolithic thinking in groups by sex or by race ... groups form around

Thomas' credibility was questioned throughout the confirmation hearings as he addressed certain controversial issues such as the death penalty, but not others like abortion. He told the Senate Judiciary Committee he couldn't recall ever discussing Roe vs. Wade, the landmark abortion case, with anyone.
The procedure appeared to be Oladed for a vote when University of

JOSEPH BURTON BELL

 NEWS ANALYSISaccused the judge of having sexually harassed her a decade ago. She a decade ago. She had worked for Thomas at both the Department the Department the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Hill did not seek the spotlight but was compelled to appear before the

His conversations were very vivid. He spoke about acts that he had seen in pornographic films ... On several occasions Thornas told me graphically of his own sexual prowess."
Thomas denied all aceusations. "Our relationship." he said, "remained both cordial and professional. At no time did I become aware... that she felt I had said or done anything to change the cordial nature of our relation-
R.W. Appie Jr. wrote in The New York Times, "What she (Hill) said, and what Judge Clarence Thomas said ... made it crystal clear that this was no case of tragic misunderstandings ... Either he said these wretched things to her ... or he did not."

During the hearings, political parties and interest groups advanced their positions cloaked in words of concern and shock. But the hearings were not only about race and sex, but also the use of power. Maureen Dowd noted in The New York Times that the Republican Party used

Judiciary Committee after a secret FBI document containing her testi mony was leaked to the press. Hill said, "I have no personal vendetta against Clarence Thomas but when I was asked by a representative of this committee to report my experience, I felt that I had to tell the truth."
Addressing the actions of Thomas, Hill testified, "After a brief discussion of work, he would turn the conversation to a discussion of sexual matters.
it more effectively than the ## Democrats.

Dowd wrote, "The eight Democrats on the committee, all white males, on the committee, all white maies, found it dificult to rebut the assertion of Judge Thomas, who was born in the segregated South, that he was a victirn of racism."

Columnist Mark Shields agrees. "I think the dynamics changed on Saturday night when Clarence Thomas played the race card," Shields said.

ANALYSIS

Continued from Page 3

"His nomination as a black conservative had always frozen the liberal linebackers in the Senate ... when he came out and said 'high-tech lynching' the Democrats ... lost not only their nerve ... it changed the whole nerve ...

During the Thomas/Mill testimony, Sen. Joseph Biden, D. Del., responded vehemently to accusations that the nomination process was unfoir. "Im getting fed up with this stuff about how terrible the system is. We're big boys. I knew when I ran for president everything was fair game."
Speaking on the Senate floor prior to Tuesday's vote on Thomas, Biden labeled the notion that the nominee was being lynched as "prepasterous."

Sen. George Mitchell, DMaine, confronted the politicization of the nomination process by focusing on the abortion issue.
"In 1980," Mitchell said, "the Republican National Convention adopted a platform which called for the appointment of judges committed to the promlife position on abortion."

Mitchell aceused the Reagan and Bush administrations of using the pro-life position as a litmus test for their Supreme Court nominees. He asserted. *The president opposes a woman's right of choice. In order to have any hope of being nominated to the Suprerne Court so must any potential nominee." Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, RKan., was not persuaded to Kan., was not persuaded to change her earlier belief that Thomas should be confirmed. Thomas should be confirmed. The only female RepublicanSenator rebuifed the impication that sinceshe is a woman, she should since she is a woman, she sho reject 'Thomas' nomination.
"Throughout my years here, I've taken pride in the fact that I mm a U.S. Senator, not a womar's Semator." Kassebaum said.

Insulted by suggestions that she knows nothing about national defense issues because she is a woman, Kassebaum adds, "I have to assume that many of my male colteagues are offended by the notion that they cannot begin to understand the seriousness of sexual harassment or the ancuigh of it victims."

After the vote, Republicans made efforts to lure black voters away from the Democratic Party. In his evaluation of the Thomas in his evaluation of the Romas vote, Sen. Qrrin Hatch, R-Utah, vote, Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Ucah said, "I'm disappointed that so many Democrats voted against the second black nominee in the history of this country ... a man who is moderate to conservative."

James Reston, former executive editor of The New York Times, recently characterized Thomas as an "intelligent, attractive man ... with a most admirable record of struggle out of poverty and prejudice."

Reston then noted Thomas' deseription of himself"with selfdescription of himself with pity as a victim of racial poli-

While Thomas expressed indignation over the challenge to his character, Reston argued that "his condemnation of the Seruate for trying to deal with the contradictions facing it did not say much for his sense of ... judicial temperament which (is) relevant to his confirmation."

With its excess of shortcomings, the democratic process has, states Reston, brought people like Anita Hill and Clarence Thomas into the process. "Judge Thomas," concluded Reston, "had nothing to say about that."

The Syracuse Journal of ## International

Law & Commerce Invites YOU to...

LAW SCHOOL NIGHT SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19,1991

9-1am FagGan's

$1.00 Donation at the door.

EVERY

FRIDAT

FREE DRAFTS NO COVER

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.
COMPREHENSIVE DATABASE: Our data base of over 200,000 listings of scholarships and grants represent over $$ 10$ billion in private sector financial aid.
MANY AWARDS: Scholarships are available to students based on their career plans, family heritage and academic interests.
UNIQUE RESEARCH: Our research department has located many scholarships including awards for newspaper carriers, grocery clerks, cheerteaders and non-smokers.
RESULTS GUARARTEED.

CALL ANYTIME FOR A FREE BROCHURE
(800)
$283-8600$
Ext: 907

Editorial

Harassment is no joke

Anita Hill says she's happy her testimony has increased awareness about what constitutes sexual harassment; according to The New York Times. She looks happy, crossing her arms and smiling on its front page.

And, to a point, she should be happy. Her life may be destroyed, but the word harassment, though pronounced various ways, manages to creep to the tongues of more people than ever.
Many people now genuinely seem to want to know what harassment is and how to avoid being a perpetrator. Many women have been in Hill's position of feeling harassed and many men question whether they have ever unknowingly harassed someone.

But for every sincere women's rights supporter. there are people who believe harassment is an issue created by feminists or something women should deal with and take in stride.

So, in true ignoramus fashion, they respond to the threat by joking about it. And awareness, when it manifests itself in the form of jokes, does nothing to further the cause.

Harassment is nothing to joke about in the classroom, in the office, or on television. But the general public is probably not to blame - it's just part of a patriarchal system that lets people believe laughing away serious issues is acceptable behavior.

Our own Senate disregarded the charges of harassment until a leak forced it to deal with the charges.

By craftily making the confirmation process a racial issue, Thomas issued an ultimatum to the Senate: confirm me or look like a bunch of lynching racists.

But confirming him made the 98 -percent-male Senate look like a bunch of sexists.

LETTERS

'Natural law' has bad motives

To the editor:
United States Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas' praise for the implicit use of natural law in judicial decisions gives legal standing to Catholic theological complainta about "unnatural" sex.
Using the pretext of natural law, the Catholic hierarchy opposes birth control, sex hygiene items such as condoms. sex education in schools. abortion, masturbation and homosexuality.

Their real motive is to make people suffer for having sex.

They still believe virginity is best and that all sexual intercourse, even within marriage. is somehow impure and regrettable.
Yet celibacy practiced by the Catholic hierarchy is just as unnatural as birth control In Asia 2,400 years ago the Chinese philosopher Lao-tse objected to roads, carriages and boats because he thought they were unnatural.
Clothes are contrary to nature yet make man healthier than the naked savage who goes without clothing. Today we support the idea of inherent human rights but these are quite different from natural law.

Since Judeo-Christianitys basic cosmological model is essentially monarchial, only acquired-or more specifically, bestowed rights, which are revocsble-can be found in the Bible and many rights therein are ethnic group or gender based. Let's not return to the Dark Ages under the rubric of natural law.

Jim Senyszyn Reproductive rights activist

Complete entire picture of SU

To the editor:
First of all, Miss Little, take n deep breath and relax. I read Mr. Stangel's column and I did not see it as much as an attack on University 100 as on Syracuse University security.
I think his whole point was just that prospective students and their parents should ask good questions of their tour guide. I remember my tour guide. I remember impression I got of SU. It was completely different than what 1 found when I got here. I didn't know that Brewster/Boland and the other freshman residence halls were so close to the projects. Heck, the projects weren't even mentioned.
I didn't know what a city environment Syracuse was, that people would ask me for money for cigaretites on my way to class, that I would pass homeless people sitting in front of the heating grates of the dining hall on my way into rape statistics. I didn't know a lot. Maybe I had a bad tourguide. Maybe 1 didn't know what questions to usk. Maybe I was so dazzled I didn't remember. The things 1 don't know probably wouldn't have made much of a difference in my decision to attend SU but gtill I would like to have known.

SU is not a Utopia and no one expects a college to be one. However, apartments at South Campus are broken into over school vacations every year. I know three roommates at South Campus who had every piece of stereo equipment stolen, including a walkman. No one expects security to be everywhere at once - that is impossible. But I think that students take their protection for granted and maybe they should take a look at what they are really getting and, as you say, exercise their common sense accordingly.

Personally, I think you lit into Mr. Stangel a little bit harshly. I think that encouraging the parents of our incoming freshmen to think critically sbout this institution is imporiant. I have a very strang feeling that Mr. Stangel is not as unfamiliar with University 100 as you may believe. I hope he goes on your tour and I hope you realize his article was meant to get people article was mant on get people thinking and asking questions, thinking and asking a organization. And if this organization. And if this institutionis as good ns the one article, especially one asking parents to think carefully about such a big decision as where to send their child to school, shouldn't make you nervous. And personally I would be very disappointed if the View Master did not feel "comfortable and secure" in his surroundings and left. I enjoy an editorial that makes me think.

Enura Johnson
Class of 1993

Letters Policy

The Daity Orange welcomes letters from its readers. Letters must be typed and double-saced, and must include a name and a to edin ietters for spact and srye.

LETTERS

Debate and change issues

To the editor:
Through its long turbulent engagement with different traditions and customs of non western people, the West has apparently come to develop certain deep-seated anxieties. Isn't it remarkable that when cultural differences against the non-West are expressed it almost always leads to stereotyping and a sense of antagonism instead of a desire for genuine exploration? For instance, the poorly used word "Oriental" is used to categorize people from East Asia. It is meant to suggest an inscrutability that is historically baseless.

Other stereotypes that degradingly refer to Central American states as "banana Ampublica" or derisively refer republics or derisively contribute to the mainta contribute to the maintaining of deepdivibions between societies

These ways of viewing differences are not the result of a superficial understanding Instead, the construction of an "othermess" in the West has a long history informed by racism and colonialism, a history that has subsequently passed deep into the hidden recessef of its consciousness.

So in many subtie and unacknowledged ways, the damaging stereotypes of the above kind seem to stubbornly persist in the everyday persist in the everyday language of the Weat. Such persistence does seem to itself to the exercising of certain political and economic certain political and economic power over the non-Western others."
An attempt to fully acknowledge the effects of such cultural and historical violence should not necessarily translate into moments of guilt or paralysis for the presen generation of privileged Western men and women Instead. it may be quite liberating to reflect on history and explore the various forms through which the West has engaged with its "other."
The question, then, is how do we challenge such a debilitating practice of the West? The answer is not an easy one. It requires the rather painful task of becoming conscious of the many ways through which we absorb the negative images from the dominant cultural framework To do this, the progressive people of the Wert need to critically engage in raising their historical awareness of their historical awareness of both their own cultures and both their own cuitures and those of non-Western others. At this juncture, it is important to remember that the received to remember that the receive history in the West has been history in the West has been largely slanted to reflect the hierarchical interests of the ruling classes.

As a modest effort, we at the International Studenta Association through Intertwine magazine want to contribute to this historical stock-taking and the exploring of the anxieties provoked by differences between the West and non-West. We also want to encourage articles that can think of alternative frameworks for a more egalitarian approach to representing "others."

Essays; short stories, poems or any other creative work that would enrich this debate would be appreciated. be appreciated.

Shishir K. Jha
Editor, Intertwine

The Daily Orange

Estabitished in 1903, Independent Since 1971
Ediror in Chicf
Managing Edito
Jodi Lamagna
The Daily Orange is published weekdays durng the Syracuse Univerity academic year by the Daily Orange Carpocration. 744 Ohtrom Ave., Syracuse, NY 13210 , teiephone: Editorial an $3-2127$ : Business tal not be. reprinted withoull the empressed written permassion of the Editor in Chiet.

Try These Bracelets for Size

Security receives 50-60 calls a night for alcohol related incidents
Alcohol Awareness Week

Today's Events: AAW Booth 10:00-4:00, Schine

10 out of 14 rapes committed on campus are alcohol related

Alcohol Awareness...Let's Keep it Going  Sponsored by R.A.P.E. Center

FRESHMEN
Continued from Page
Sarnuel Gorovitz, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, helped to implement the program last year and is teaching one of the forums this year.

Shrinking their world
"Our basic objectives are to provide for first-year students a small environment where they get to know everybody and where there is a miember of the faculty they get to know," he said.
Gorovitz said each section of the forum is centered around a diferent theme, and during the course of the forum, the class meets for outside activitieg such as dinner and cultural event
"No two are alike" he gaid "Eacth one has a different sub ject theme," he said. ect theme, he said the opportunity for the fach

- E.Y.I.

Artists sought for Art Invitational

Artists are invited to participate in WCNY-TV Channel 24's 1991 Art Invitational, a competition of donated art works. Cash prizes will be awarded. Funds raised will benefit public broadcasting in Central New Yroad.

Many of the donations will be displayed at the Everson Museum of Art. They will then be auctioned of during the 10 th be auctioned on during the whin
Annual Art Invitational, which will be televised on WCNY Nov. 14 through Nov. 16

Work submitted by today will be considered for display at the Everson Museum, cash awards and additional promotion in a catalog distributed to artists and at the Everson Museum.
For more information, call WCNY's Special Events Office at 453-2424.
member and the students to do oomething together outside the clasaroom. so ve built in this notion of everyone having a meal together at least once, going to a cultural event to gether; that's a feature of every forum section." Gorovitz asid.

Another objective is to help students in the first few months of college becone better students, he said

It's partly a reaction to the belief that the way students behave as students is very much determined in the frest couple of months," Gorovita said.

Students come to college with instincts and habity based on experience in high school, he said.
"What we'd like to do is help students through those first couple of months so that they can be more efficient at becoming college students," he said.

Research positions

 available with DOEJuniors or seniors in com puter science, engineering. phys ics, environmental and life sci ences, mathematics or physical science are eligible to apply to be part of the Science and Engineering Research Semester. SERS offers the opportunity for students to do hends-on research with some of the na tion's top wientists at the of six national research taboratories national research laboratories during the academic year

For more information, contact Donna Prokop, SERS Pro gram Manager. Office of Energy Research, U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave., Washington, D.C. 20585. The application deadline for the spring semester is Oct. 20. The 1992 fall term deadtine is March $15,1992$.

After you're done with school, you face one of the hardest lessons in life: Without experience, it's tough to get a job. And without a job, it's tough to get xperience.
As Wan Street Journa, we recognize that exper nce is something you don't stan

But while your graduation. Be you a head re waiting, we can of the same competitive providing some experience brings.

For instance, our wideranging new coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex worli o usiness.
Our tightly focused feature reporting prepares you for your more specific ambitions - whether in management. accounting, finance, technology, market g or small business.
And our in-depth analysis helps you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more persuasive way.

Mail the coupon - and start your subscription to The Wall - Street Journal at student savings of up to $$ 64.50$ off the regular Tription price.
Tha's a pretty generous orer. Especialy when you conTuition for the real world.

The Wall Street Journal. TYx Exas 4 Shh Soren Suice 1515

Stucnot 10.4

$\qquad$ Grexinar
arr-
$\qquad$ - $\mathrm{m}=$

为 IISYDOHSEN

HAIR & TANNING SALON NAILS SALE
Full Sets of Acrylic Nails Only $$ 25.00$ by Appointment

INDOOR TANNING SALE S:0 of Monthiy Packages First conte irst serve $422-6007$
732 S. Crouse Aye above Facgan's Pub Yanc|cx 2 weeks Oniy

Entertainment

fifipers Movies  The Hollywood Reporter reports

 the Top 10 movies lant weekend as: 1. The Fisher King2. Ricochet
3. Frankie and Johnny
4. Ernest Scared Stupid
5. Deceived
6. Shattered
7. Paradise
8. Necessary Roughness
9. The Super
10. Freddy's Dead: The Final Nightmare

TV Shows  The A.C. Nielsen Co. reports the Top 10 television shows for the week ending Oct. 13 as:1. Roseanne

2. Murphy Brown
3. Cheers
4. L.A. Law
5. Designing Women
G. Coach
6. Major Dad
7. Home Impravement
8. Mondayr Night Football
9. Evening Shade

['] Singles  Eillboard reporss the Top 10 pop

 singles for the week ending Oct. 13 as: 1. Emotions/ Mariah Carey1. Emotionsi Marian Carey 2. Good Vibrationsf Marky Mark & the Funky Bunch with Loleatta Holthe Fu lowny
2. Do Anything/ Natural Selection
3. I Adore Mi Amorel Color Me Badd
4. Romantial Karyn White
5. Something to Talk About Bonnie Raitt
6. Hole Hearted Extreme
7. Love of a Lifetimef Firehouse
8. Motownphilly' Boyz II Mer
9. Everybody Plays the Fooll Aaron Neville

(2) Albums

Billboard reports the Top 10 pop alburns for the week ending Oct. I3
1s: Use Your HIUusion IN/ Guns N' Roses 2. Use Your Illusion I/ Guns N' Roses 3. Ropin' the Windif Garth Brooks
4. Emotions/ Mariah Carey
4. Emotions/ Mariah Ca
5. Metallica/ Metallica
6. Waking Up the Neighboursf Bryan Adams
7. Unforgettabie/ Natalie Cole
8. Soundtrack: The Commitments' The Commitments
9. Luck of the Draw Bonnie Raitt
10. Cooleyhighharmony/ Boyz II Men

HEDBooks

The New York Times reports the Top 5 fiction books for the week ending Oct. 13 as:

1. Scprlett: The Sequel to Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind"'l Alexandra Ripley
2. The Sum of $A \overrightarrow{1}$ Fesiss Tom Claney 3. The Doomsday Conspiracy/ Sidney Sheidon
3. Night Over Water Ken Follet 5. Oh the Places You'll Goll Dr. Seuss

$\square$ straight out Of ROOKLYN

Rich put pain, frustration of youth into film

By KELAY HARTLEY Contributing writer

When most folks recali reruns of The Brady Bunch, they instantaneously smile and begin to ridicule the clan's funky lingo and bell-bottom trousers.
But 19-year-old black nlmmaker Matty Rich explained to a capacity crowd in Maxwell Auditorium on Wednesday evening that "The Brady Bunch sparked in me my anger.

Vening that "The Brady Bunch sparked in me my anger. problems," Rich said. "Outside my own window, I saw pain and frustration."

Consequently, at the age of 10 he decided he was going to make a movie. He felta message carried through this medium would "provoke thought and bring change."

After seven years of atudy and writing in diary, two credit cards from his mother and sister paid the way for Rich to attend a writing course at New York University, where he produced a 138 -page script.

The aspiring director then sought actors and eventually assembled a crew of about 125 young people.

The end result was a film titled Straight Out Of Brooklyn, based on Rich's own experiences growing up in Brooklyn's Red Hook Housing Projects.

Telling it like it is Determined to "tell it like it is," Rich noted. "Emotion was the key elernent in making this movie. It can make you kill, be in love, make you hate people.
"That's how my friends died." he said.
Straight Out Or Brooklyn depicts the straggles of a black family in the projects. The father, an alcoholic, is prone to wife-beating. The son, whose solution to poverty is robbing a drug dealer. succeeds only in bringing more trouble and despair to the household.
"I did not make this movie to become famous," Rich said. II did it because I love my people."

Rich said when individuals watch the film, they see the pain. "These two things on your face teach you a lot," he added, pointing to his eyes.

Rich also commented on the lack of fraternity among black filmmakers. "There's unity, but only up to a certain level," he said. Directors have to be themselves, but refrain from stepping on other folks' toes, according to Rich.
Society tends to label black filmmakers as only making black-oriented movies, Rich maintains. "Why do you limit me?"

Education enhances relations

When asked about relations between white and black peopie, Fich said, "We have to learn about each other; that's Pemenst imorrunt thing  \section*{Yes, The Iceman plummeteth ...}  \section*{Yes, The Iceman plummeteth ...}

Check out schnook while projector revolves it  Hey, yo, what's up with Vanilla Ice?

The rapper now fancies himself an actor The rapper Mow fancies
The horror? The horror:

Predictably, Ice's new movie Cool as Ice is dumb as a brick.

Ice stars as Johmin, a motorcycleriding rebel without a clue, who wanders

Rapper Yamilha Ice start as a biker in love with an honors student in - the lame new movie Cool as Ice.
the highways aimlessly with his posse of homeboys and one homegirl.
After the MTV-video-style opening credits, Ice takes off on his bike and meets up with an honors student/ horseback rider named Kathy (Kristin Minter). Smoothie that he is, Ice sweettalks her immediately.
"Hey, you hit pretty good for a girl", Ice tells Kathy, whom he describes as the chick who drives the horse."

Kathy replies, "Coming from a macho biker like you. IHI take that as a compliment."
ROB
OWEN

MOVE

REVIEW

that cool way.
at cool way. boyfriend who Kast happens to treat her rough and comes off as an overbearing jerk.

If you can't see where all this is going. then you probably would enjoy this

Ice gives Kathy advice on her boyfriend, saying "Drop that zero and get with the hero," which she does in record time.

Cool as Ice also features Michael Gross, who has seen his career completely deteriorate since playing Steven Keaton on Family Ties. Gross plays Kathy's dad, who has a deep, dark past which threatens to destroy his family. Egads:

Plus, Daddy isn't fond of the Iceman acting out scenes from $91 / 2$ Weeks with his little girl.
First-time director David Kellogg doesn't seem aware of the concept of originality. He heaps on the eliches time after time. His favorite tricic is to use after time. His iavorite trick is to use mosical movie to its 90 -minute running time.
the movie to its 90 -minute running time.
Thanks to this completely overused Thanks to this completery overused listening to tons of hip-hop music as Ice and Kathy frolic in an unfinished house, ride his motorcycle, run through fields of tall grass and do some dirty dancing in the desert.

The production design of Cool as Ice

TOEL BAINERMAN

Former Economics Editor, Jerusalem Post

"The

Economic Impact of the Arab-Israeli Conflict"
Friday, October 18, 7:15 P.M. Hillel Lounge Hendricks Chapel
Sponsored by the SU Students for Israel
Your Student Fce At Work

NOMINATIONS ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED FOR:

1992 SENIOR CLASS MARSHALS  Deadline - October 21, 1991 (Seniors Only)

and
WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN......
Deadline - November 1, 1991
AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES & COLLEGES
(Juniors, Seniors & Grads Only)
Nomination forms and eligibility details are available from the office for Student Assistance, Counseling & Student Support Center, 804 University Ave, Room 309, 443-HELP ( $x 4357$ ) or from your College Dean's Office.

TMR

Continued from Page 1
a spreading out of the county's a spreading out of the county's population, the local governpopulation, the local government still tries to centralize in ment still tries to centralize in the community, Stonecash said. The changes in the county and those in local government vary.

This factor causes a change in responsibility. Many activities, whose responsibility used to lie in the individual towns, now lie in the hands of the entire county, he said.

Changing responsibility
The new 911 emergency system, plans for a solid waste disposal system and the county's running of the Burnet Park Zoo running of the Burnet Park Zoo are examples of the county's are examples of the county's role at the top of the responsibilrole at the top of the responsibic ity ladder, Stonecash said.
ty ladder, Stonecash said. of change during the last 30 or 40 years," he said.

The key to understanding changes in local government is realizing that change in general takes time, he said.
"Anybody who assumes that change is going to take a short time will be disappointed," Stonecash said.

Referring back to his previous examples, he said the 911 proexamples, he sam was brought up in 1970 gram was brought up in 1970 and will not be later this year.
ater this year.
He said the Solid Waste program was proposed in 1967 and the county is still waiting on a permit from the state to create a landfill and build an incinerator.

Mayor Walsh recommended in 1965 that the county take over the operations of the Burnet Park Zoo, Stonecash said. The county finally did that in 1986 .

Change is going to take a long time because all of the local officials and public interest groups will fight changes est groups wiolate their juristhey believe viola dictions, he said.
"This is all part of the democratic process - it's just the nature of the game," he added.
Not a model approach
Stonecash said another reason change takes a long time is that a person who is trying to solve a problem in the community usually does not have a textbook or model to refer to.

Pressure placed on public officials by community action groups will usually help speed things along.

TMR is a weekly gathering of university and community leaders. Although TMR is not open to the public, Stonecash's speech will be aired on WCI
FM 91.3 on Oct. 27 at 4 p.m..

WSYT Channel 68 will broadcast the speech at midnight on cast the

Join CROP Walk on Sunday, October 20.

The story of Storyville goes like this: Boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy sets out to find girl.
This new album by Robbie Robertson (ex-guitarist for The Band) is not as simple as all that, though. Named for a turn of the century section of New Orleans dedicated to "fast livKRISTIN ing, hot muLIEB

THS ANTT

NO DISCO ale and moonburnt nights," as per the showcases Robertson as a story showcapes Robertson as a storyteller delivering a record full of subtle, catchy songs and matically animated tales.

The concept of the album providea Robertson with a base for the best album of his career. But unlike many successful band members gone solo (ie. Paul McCartney), Robertson's work comes across as effortless.

The seams of the production hardly show, and that keeps some of the album's subtleties from becoming mere distraction. For example, the album's tion. For example, the albums tropical bent works with, rather tropical bent works with, rather than against Robertson's seducthan against Robertson's sedu tive, roughly romantic voice.

In typical Robertson tradition, he invites many musical friends to boost his alreadycredible record.

Reunion of sorts
Aaron Neville (along with some of the other Nevilles) and former Band members Rick Danko and Garth Hudson accept the offer. Neil Young provides back-up vocals on "SoapHox Preacher and Bruce Homshy contributes (what else?) some keyboards.

One of the most impressive elements of Storyville is the way so many musicians and their various sounds can mix - and

Robertson still avoids the trap of overdoing it.

Storyville also features bass characteristicofRobertson's solo work: deep, especially low bass you feel in the pit of your stomach (depending on your stereo).

Beyond all that, there's the story part of Storyville.

The album's narrative, when boiled down, is a "Boy Meets Girl" tale. Robertson, however, amplifies love and doubt to lust and soul-searching. And thrown in for good measure, the Girl even has a tattoo.

The narrator begins his quest for true love when he first sees the tattooed object of his desire.

He watches her secretly for days and finally decides to ap-

In "Day of Reckoning," the aven girl shakes up "this dusty little railroad town/Smack in the heart of the bible belt/Where nothing ever changes/And nothing remsins the same."

Stick to the true tale
But after this, Robertson systematically rejects fact in favor of cohesiveness. Rather than delivering a tight adaptation of Storyville, Robertson uses mere fragments from the true tale, embellishing them only in his press kit (which no one but reviewers are privy to), and creates a new story based less on fact than on old themes.

In the tale, there's a circus that parallels the boy-girl rela-

GIANT GARAGE SALE

Rockefeller Methodist Church
350 Nattingham Rd. - Opposite RJ OToole's Friday Oct. 18th 10am-2pm
Saturday Oct. 19th 10am-2pm
Featuring: Antiques, Collectibles, Furniture, Appliances, Jewelry, T.V's, Stereos, Radios, Housewares, Toys, Books, Clothing
FREE ADMISSION

Robbie R released Storyville, his best album to date.
tionship. On the album, there's no circus.

In the preas kit, the girl has a raven tattoo. On the record she has an unspecificd tattoo.
In the tale, the actors are teen-agers. On the record, they could just as easily be thirtysomething

So, Robertson's press release isn't as seamless as his record, which is smoothed into effectiveness by leaving out relevant detail.
Though the sum of its parts is solid. Robertson shouldn't dare to call this a concept alburn.

The most noteworthy of these parts are such songs as "Soapbox Preacher," where the narra-

See Disco Page 11

KNIT AN ICELANDIC SWEATER  Creative gift idea for the holidays! Kit Includes:  -All Materials (wool, 4 sets of needles, pattern) -Beginners Knitting Lessons COST: $170  Call Ellen at 488-9183 to order your kit and schedule your lessons.  Learn with a friend - group rates available!

> FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT $474-4879$

 -

Home of Syracnec' LaRGEST ICE COLD DRAFTS 854 PARE AVE. $424-9600$

presents

THE RETURNS

an original play by Kirn Winter directed by Jonathan Johnson

Friday, October 18th - 8:00 pm
Saturday, October 19ih 2:00 pm & 8:00 pm
Sunday, October 20th - 2:00 pm
the Black Box Theatre is located on the corner of Irving Ave. and E. Genesee St.
in the Drama Department building. Enter under the brown awning

ADMISSION FREE
YOUR STUDENT FEE AT PLAY

SAXA

Continued from Page 16
conference standings and is the No. 2 ranked team in the East.
The Wildcats and Hoyas have amassed some impressive numbers of their own, however. Villanova comes into the match at $20-2,3-1$, with a thirteen game winning streak; and the Hoyas, 14-8, 2-1, have just begun to recover from a slew of early season injuries.

SU will rely on the frontline play of Jessica Paarlberg: Andrea Carson and Annie Parisien a trio that leads the Big East the talents of Simone Kollmann and Lisa Macdonald, who are leading the league in kills and blocks respectively.

It will be a very interesting weekend," Schulte said. "We will be very psyched and we hope to have a large psyched crowd that will have the Women's Building rocking over the weekeqd."

The match against Villanova will also feature the last two Big East players of the week.

Wildcats junior Pam Clifford won the award last week and Syracuse's Andrea Carson took the honors two weeks ago.

The weekend competition will be the first major test of the Orangewomen since their consecutive losses to Ohio State University and Loyola-Marymount nine games ago.
"The matches versus Georgetown and Villanova are big ones," Schulte said. "We should have no trouble getting up for hem. They are two very talented teams."

FREE FOR STUDENTS

Beginning this Monday, October 21 st and every Monday this semester, the Schine Student Center's. Gameroom will be sponsoring the "Video Game Pick of the Week" Competition

Top three scorcs receive gift certiticates of $10, $15 and $20 for Spectrum, SUB, or Schine Dining.

Sign up in the Schine Gameroom: No cost to students. Mist have a valid SU ID.

You played the rest, now beat the best!"

This Monday ot 8:00 Pivi - WWF Other games scheduled for the semester: The Machine. Clutch Hitter The Simpsons - Air Hockey

DISCO

Continued from Page 9 tor has an epiphanic moment after listening to a babbling street person. He sings: "In those proud shoes, coming up on the alley/In those proud shoes, walks all over the sky/Then he tipped his hat, just like Don Quixote/And said don't let the rapture pass you by."

Despite the advice of this wise man, the narrator shies away from his transcendent love in "Hold Back The Dawn." But later he cannot resist and asks "What About Now."

The tale Robertson chooses to tell is flawed only in its to tempt to sell itself in the guise of a concept album - these are of a concept album - these are better left to the Kinks, anyway.
Take this album for what it is rather than what it pretends to be and you'll find one of the most thoroughly enjoyable albums of the year.

End of story.

F.Y.I.

Hughesfellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 predoctoral fellowships in the biological sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov. 8.
The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.
Effective June 1992, stipends will be $$ 14,000$ annually. For more information, call (202) 334-2872.

Tutors sought by

 Salvation Army The Salvation Army's Youth Enrichment Program is seeking volunteer tutors to work with youths ages 12-16 who are "at risk" of academic failure, drug or alcohol involvement or teenage pregnancy.The tutors are needed Monday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

A commitment of one night each week is required.
Volunteers are also invited to participate in the recreation period that follows tutoring.
For more information, call Mary Rose- McBride at 479 1321.

Win a Chance for a Free Crystal Ball with every purchase of $$ 25$ or more ...drawing Oct. 31 !!
S.C.A.R.ED., University Union, Greek Council, Inter-fraternity Council, PanHellenic Association, Central New York .N.O.W., The Rape Crisis Center, present:

LINDA FAIRSTEIN

Chief of the Sex Crimes Unit of the Manhattan District Attorney's Office

Tuesday, October 22, 1991 7:00 pm Lecture Heroy Auditorium

"Combatting Sexual Assault, Sexual Harassment, and Rape"
LINDA FAIRSTEIN is the chief of the sex crimes unit of the Manhattan District Attorney's office and a prosecuting attorney, Linda Fairstein oversees the disposition of some 500 to 700 cases a year involving rape and other sexual abuse. A household name because of her highly public prosecution of Robert Chambers, the so-called preppie murderer, Ms. Fairstein and her team of 18 prosecute sex crimes with an expertise unequaled else in the United States.

For Information call the S.C.A.R.ED. office 443-5352

Your Student Fee.....
Communicating

The Daily Orange is looking for an

Assistant Editorial Editor

Letters of intent are due to Jodi Lamagna, Editor in Chief, 744 Ostrom Avenue, by 3 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 18

FEVER

BY KATIE KITCHEN

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR.
Everyone head to the

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

SIONE
BY TWO JERKIES

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

BY FAJITA PARTY

GYPSY THE DOG
BY JASON LYCETTE

 SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

GOTTA HÄVE FAITH
BY ARNOLD

It must be Mexican night at the dining hail.
NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOWS

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

CAMERICAN PRINCESS
PART II
R

TDOLS FoR

BY LOP LOP

DEBUT

Continued from Page 16 game. You go out every week to game. You go out every we face the best guy you can." Last week, SU fell prey to Eant Carolina quarterback Jeff Blake and the underneath passing game. Blake threw for 324 yards against the Orange.

Of Van Pelt's 110 completions, 50 have been to tight ends and another 30 to running backs. Van Pelt's proficiency at the short passing game, following Blake's success, has focused attantion on how the SU defense

ICE

Continued from Page 7
provides an occasional break irom the monotony, but most of the time the spinning globes and multi-colored houses look like props that were once used deals with the underneath passing game.
'You've just got to react," Lusardi said. "You can't let them frustrate you. We've just got to have confidence back there that we know not to give up the long play -that's the most important thing."

The defense, however, has turned some short passes into big plays by missing tackles nose guard Kevin Mitchell said "We allow the underneath stuff," Mitchell said. "We're supposed to get coverage on the ball

We miss a lat of tackles and that causes a lot of quarterbacks to have a propensity to (throw underneath) on us. We cut out the missed tackles and we'll keep a lot of quarterbacks down."

Pitt was unable to get their offense on track againgt the Fighting Irish and Hackett said the Panthers need to make some changes for the Orangemen.
"We"ve really got to go back and retool the offense," Hackett said. "We weren't happy at all with where we were."

The Orangemen bind themselves in a similar position. SU has failed to score in the second half for three consecutive outings.
"Either we're doing a terrible job or the defense is coming out and doing a really good job, Gedney said. "I don't think anybody on the offensive side is lightening up any, taking plays off. We're looking to go against Pitt and be explosive every quarter. ${ }^{\text {The }}$

The Orangemen's option attack was held to just 66 yards ruahing against ECU, but Syracuse coach Panl Pasqualoni said SU isn't going to stray from its basic philosophy.

Hackett said the key to stopping Syracuse is stopping quarterback Marvin Graves. Graves threw for career hight in completions (20) and yardage (295) against the Pirates.
"When you look at Syracuse, you have to start with Marvin Graves." Hactsett said. "He's the guy that makes their offense go. He's going to be the key to the game."
on Pee Wee's Playhouse.
From the film's loolt to the relationship of the main characters, Cool as Ice is just maother example of atyle over substance. In the words of the Iceman, we've been dissed again.

HOME

Continued from Page 16
Magee said, however, the Orangewomen are not going on Lafayetie.
"We're just going out to play our hardest," Magee said. "If I (thought) about last year's game I wouldn't play my best."

yourt staspe...

When yout elll...

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

polenorul coumedum forn pooder stand
Call now...

*  PROCLAMATION

KOREAN MUSIC

CORPAN STUDENTASSOCIATION
ATHFPACUSE UNTVERSTTY
Transolen er

 Admission : 31

OCTOBER 30, 1991 ATTRNTION ALU:

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES, UNDERGRADUATE, GRADUATE, AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

1991-1992 PETITIONS TO REGISTER ARE DUE NO LATER THAN OCTOBER 30, 1991

PETITIONS SHOULD BE TURNED IN AT THE OFFICE OF LEADERSHIP AND STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS, 231 SCHINE STUDENT CENTER.

Any questions? Call the Office at 443-2635.

Radio Guy adds his name to loser's list

By Dave macer

WAER Sports Director
History's great losers:
Bill Buckner. Earnest Byner. Calvin Schiraldi. Steve Smith. Jackie Smith. Tai Babalonia and Randy Gardner. The 1988 U.S. Olympic basketball team. Walter Mondale.

Dave Mager.
I won't even waste any of this fine newsprint by going over my horrendous picks from last week. Let's dis a little deeper, with some selections from Mager's Misfortunes:

1. I had the Patriots in Super Bowl XX.
2. In early 1988, I took Dukakis and the points.
3. My constitutional amendment that no offspring of Skip Caray be allowed on television caray be allowed on under this Thomas thing.
4. I thought Clyde King could stick as Yankees manager for at least four months.
5. I felt there was no way you could be illiterate and still be in the Senate. Can you say Strom Thurmond? I knew you could.
Syracuse at Pittsburgh (+1 1/2):
As you can tell from the above rambling, my luck was off last week. And these two teams are a reason why. I thought Pitt (5-1) would stay close to Notre Dame. Wrong. And I thought SU would hammer East Carolina. Wrong again.
On Saturday. Syracuse (4-2) should stop Pitt's banged up Funning game. However, if Alex Van Pelt comes up with a career passing game like Shane Matthews, Casey Weldon and Jeff Blake had against SU, it's going to be a long day.
SU's problem over the past few weeks hasn't been lack of execution as much as lack of breaks. Is there a black cat in the Dome or what? Barely missed field goals. Stumbling over yard lines. Every kind of fumble and tipped pass going the other way.
The breaks had better come back - the season teeters on this garne. If Syracuse can at least slow Van Pelt and get the running attack jump-started, a running attack jump-started, a win and a strong bowl position win and a strong bowl position means the Weedcater Bowl or worse. Syracuse 24. Pitt 23
Rutgers ( $+221 / 2$ ) at Penn St: Give the Nittany Lions ( $5-2$ ) some credit, they stuck with Miami pretty well last week.
But don't think I'm getting soft on Penn St.; the team has had trouble at home in 1991. Expect more of the same against a Rutgers team which is one of a Rutgers team which is one of the best kept secrets in Amerthe best The Scarlet Knights (5-1) are giving up only 18 points per are giving up only 18 points per game, and will stop a Lions club that was banged up in Miami. that was banged up in Miami.
The Upset of the Year.
Rutgers 19. Penn St. 17.

The race for the case

Hoxz, werk's pick Mamett F PItt, PSU, NVO.
 YLachar: SO Rutgers. BC. Vols, Cal Denver.
Cry Hetin SW, PSU, BC, Vols:
 Fols, mast, RS, WVO, Vols, CaI. KC
West Virginia at Boston College (pick 'em):
The Eagles (1-4) finally won a game last week. Congratulations to coach Coughlin and the gang. Between Cosch $\mathcal{C}$ and Coach Mac, Boston may win five games total this year.
West Virginia is the worst 4-2 team in the country. Sorry, $4-2$ team in the country. (Sorry, Arkansas.) Every week is a Arkansas.) Every week is a gtruggle and Nehlen's kids have struggle and Nehlen's kids have been pasted twice at home. On been pasted twice at home. On the road they'll get similar the road they'll get similar treatment from a BC team that

Our 33rd Year Standent Discounts on Schediuled Europe Flights Fly Rōndtip or One-Way to Europe on Keading-Schëduled Airlines.
Daily Departures From Mostese S. Cities to 75 Foreign Destinations.

EURAALL PASSES:
The ideal way to travel in Europe...on European Exprefantis knownifotheh sfeed, comfort and punctuality. For $$ 380$ you have unlimited travel throughout Western Europe (excluding Great Britain). Available for periods of 15 days to 3 months. BRITRAIL PASSES:
Valid for unlimited train travel throughout England, Scotland and Wales. Valid for periods ranging frorn 8 days to 1 month. INTERNATIONAL YOUTH HOSTEL HANDBOOK:
A detailed directory listing 3,600 hostel locations and facilities where accommodations are available at rates starting at $$ 7.50$ per night.
INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE ID CARD:
Gains you access to significiant student discounts throughout Europe at Museums. Castles. Palaces, Student hotels, Concerts. Operas, Bus and Boat routes and Inter European fights on European Alrlines. Also includes basic medical insurance while abroad and a 24-hour toll free woridwide hotline to assist you with travel emergencies. Cost of the card: $$ 15$. EXPRESS CARD SERVICE:
If you need an International Student Exchange ID right away, send us your name, address, date of birth, nationality, name of your school, a $2^{\prime \prime} \times 2^{\prime \prime}$ photograph and the $\$ 15$ fee. Your card will be mailed to you the same day we receive your order!
Call or Write: International Student Exchange Flights Imc. 5010 E. Shea Blvd., Suite A104-APF
Scottsdale, AZ U.S.A. PHONE: 602/951-1177

FOR YOUR FREE STUDENT FLIGHT CATALOG,

 MAIL THIS COUPONpiease print or type
TO:
YOUR NAME: (Mr..
AT COLLEGE:
(Street \& Apt. ${ }^{\prime \prime}$
$\frac{\text { (City) }}{\text { YOUR ADDRESS }}$

YOUR ADDRESS
(Street \& Apt. ${ }^{\text {a }}$

| (City) | (State) | ( 27 p Code) |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| NAME OF THE UNIVERSITY YOU ARE ATTENDING, IF ANY: | WHAT YEAR IN SCHOOL: |  | has been toughened by a diff. cult schedule. Give this one to the home team. BC 35 w the home team. BC 35 . W Trginia 28

Tennes
Another good game from the nation's most competitive conference; the SEC. The Vols' ( $4-1$ ) offense hasn't quite lived up to expectations, and got blasted at Florida Field last week
Gene Stallings' Alabama team ( $5-1$ ) has done better than expected on offense. Most notable is the strong comeback of RB Siran Stacy. The Tide is scoring more than any SEC team.
However, Alabama has a recent habit of losing the big ones. The Vols will be nying, they'll get the offense back on track. Tennessee 31. Alabama 14 .
Washington at Califormia ( +14 1/2):

With all of the poor Dartboard shots T've taken this year (and there have been some beauts), Cal has been one of the few teams that has been good to me. Let's ride the Golden Bears bandwagon: 1. Russell White is one of the most talented backs around. 2. QB Mike Pawlawski has somehow reached No. 2 in NCAA passing. 3. Theiz fans don't do The Chop.

Washington (5-0) is giving up just aix points per garne, and has steamrolled everybody this year. Expect the Huskies to year. Expect the Huskies to hang on as the only team close to Florida St. Washington 17 , to Flor Cal 7.
NFL. Game of the Week
Kamsag City $(+1)$ at Denver:
The NFL's lame bye system leaves us with this winner as our Game of the Week. It is a key tilt for the Broncos (4-2). A win for Denver could put it back on the road to the Super Bowl, where they can try to lose by less than 45 points.

KC comes in with momentum -wins over Buffalo and Miami, plus some great rumning from defense ia among the begt in the NFL. Denver will be no match for them, even at Mile High. for therm, even at $M$
Chiefs 24, Denver 10 .

Sports

Lindros plays money game with Quebec  Will the real David Klingler please stand up?-Will somebody please slap the crap out of Eric Lindros?

Lindros was the most highly touted player to ever come out of the junior leagues. He received so much hype, in fact, that even my sister knew this

KENT

FISCHER
SPORTS OPNION $\qquad$ guy was the future of the NHL John Holmes. The Quebec Nordiques made Lindros the top pick of the draft last year, but the infantile rookie nixed the team's contract offers and escaped into Canada to continue play in the junior leagues. Lindros stated that he'll never play for Quebec, no matter how much money they offer.
That's a pretty big demand for somebody who has yet to skate as a pro on NHL ice. Lindros should be ecstatic to play professionally at such a young age. Instead he's trying to a young age. nstead he a trying to force a trade so he can play for a contender instead of the cellarcontender instead dwelling Nordiques.

Lindros should accept the challenge of rebuilding a franchise rather than trying to parlay his pre-career hype into big NHL bucks and a Stanley Cup.
Beglad you're wanted at all, Lindros.
Lindros, incidently, has been suspended for three games for buttending a player earlier in the week. Way to go. sport.

The geason of my second-favorite collegiate football team, the Air Force Falcons, hinges on their game Saturday Against No. 4 Notre Dame.
If the Falcons can escape from South Bend with a win, they'll have proved what I've been saying all along: that they're the best team in the Western Athletic Conference. A win should also catapult them into the AP top 15 and their traditional place in the Liberty Bowl.

- With college hoop practices beginning this week, its about time to start the preseason predictions.
It'll be either feast or famine for SU, as a small, guard-oriented, fast break offense will have to aupplant the traditional pound-it-inside game the traditional pound-it-ingide game plan for which the Orangemen are famous. Only time will tell if they can palli it off.
Here are some early conference picks: Big East: St. John's: Malik Gealy. Robert Werdann, and Jason Buchanan are the cream of the conference crop.
ACC: Duke: Christian Laettner, Bobby Hurley, and the coach with the funny name are always near the top. SEC: Tennessee: Go Vols. The Houston combination. Last year's cinderella run through the conference tourney has this team heading up and up. Big Ten: Indiana: Caibert Chaney, Alan Anderson, Damon Bailey and way.

Trivia

Quedtion Name the two stadimme Criot int Byracuse and Pittsburgh where the two teama played gamesagaingt eachother in 1923 aind 1965 .

Yontend Y A Wiarz Mark Gant

Big East battle begins

 Syracuse starts conference play with oldest rival
Dy IOSH BARNETI

Assr. Sports Editor

When Syracuse University continues its annual rivalry with the University of Pittsburgh this weekend, a new element will be added.
The 24th-ranked Orangemen play their first Big East Conference garne on Saturday against the 20th-ranked Panthers. Kickon is set for $1: 30$ p.m. at Pitt Stadium.

The Panthers. 5-1, are playing their third Big East game, having already beaten West Virginia and Temple.
"It's weird to be able to consider somebody in our conference being $2-0$," not aged to being called in our conference not used to being called in our conference and having two different records."
Pitt will be Syracuse's first opponent morth of the Mason-Dixon line and is the oldest rivalry still remaining on the $S U$ schedule after Penn State's defection to the 日ig Ten.
"I like going up against Pitt,"Syracuse free safety and co-captain Tim Sandquint said. "We kind of have a rivalry going. It's going to be a war down there.

Pitt coach Panl Hackett anid the Big East conference title is something extra for teams to attain.
"I think it gives us a boost as cosches," Hackett said. "It gives our football team an additional focus. It's a positive thing an additional

After a 4-0 start, the Orangemen have suffered consecutive libsses for the first

Syracuse University tailback David Walker runs the ball against East Carolina University last Saturday. Walker and the Orangemen look to break a two game losing streak against the University of Pittsburgh at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Pitt Stadium.

Win welcomes SU

By GIL PACOVICH

Staff Writer
After playing its first 10 games on the road, the Syracuse University women's feld hockey team finally came home Wednesday night.
It was a pleasant homecoming at Coyne Field for the 15 th-ranked Orangewomen as they defeated Cornell, 3-0
"Everything is on track," Coach Kathleen Parker said, "as we anticipated i to be at this point.
Syracuse, 8-3. got goals from Yvonne Milionis, Shelley Magee and Julie Williamson.

The Orangewomen, who have won their last seven games, now hold an 8-1 all-time edge over the Big Red, 4-7.

Even with the team's recent success, the Orangewomen are not looking ahead to the Big East Tournament, Parker said.
${ }^{\text {"Basically }}$ at this point our goal is to win each one of the games left," Parker said. "But (we will) take them one game East when it comes."

Magee concurred with Parker, but said that she still thinks about the postseason on occasion.
"I think we look good," Magee said. "And we have a good chance of winning the Big East, or at least putting up a good fight."

Magee has been putting up a fight of her own recently.

The sophomore, who tallied six goals last season, had scored just once this year prior to Monday's contest against Villanova.
Magee, who had the gamewimning goal in that game, said the score, along with a tally in Wedneaday night's contest, has helped her regain her confidence.
"I'm happy with the way Tve been playing," Magee said. "I was in a slump until Sunday, and I'm more calm (now) that I finally got a goal."
Syracuse will be at home again this weekend, when it faces Lehigh and Weekend,

Last year, SU defeated Lehigh 3-1, but fell to Lafayette 2-1. HOME Page 14 time since 1989. SU finishes the season with five conference games.
"We're not feeling sorry for ourgelves," Syracuse inside linebacker John Lusardi said. "We're 4-2 with five games left and we're going to go out there and do what we're supposed to do."
Afer a 46-14 losa to top-ranked Florida State, the Orangernen lost to thenunranked East Carolina University last Saturday, 23-20.

Sandquist gaid a team meeting on Monday put SU in the right frame of mind to be ready for the Panthers
"I think we're better off at this point than we were last week," Sandquist said. Coming off Florida State everybody was still down. Now it's like you have to get after them. You can't feel sorry for yourselves
The Panthers also enter the game coming off a humbling loss - $42-7$ to No. 4 Notre Dame in South Bend last weekend.
"I think whenever we play our tradi* tional rivals it's a big game, particularly when you're coming off an embarrassing when youre coming.
The last two seasons' OrangemenThe last two seasons Orangemen+ Panther games have been among SU's closest games. osest games.
In the 1989 game, Syracuse and Pitt traded touchdowns on their first plays from serimmage before the Panthers von 30-23.
Last season, the Panthers scored a touchdown with $1: 30$ leff in the garne and then scored the two point conversion for a 20-20 tie.
"They always seem to play us tough," Gedney said. "We've come up empty the last two seasons. Even if they"re 0-6. we know going down there, it'll be tough."

During those two games Pitt quarterback Alex Van Pelt had two of the best days of his career

In the two games, Van Pelt completed 70.6 percent of his passes for an average of 286 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions.
This season, Van Pelt is 110 -of- 183 for 1,263 yards, nine touchdowns and four interceptions.
"He's a great quarterback," Lusardi said. "He's mobile. He's not sacked too many times and he gets rid of the ball very quickly when he's pressured."
Van Pelt is the latest to face an SU secondary which has been burned for over 300 yards three times this season. over 300 yards three times this season.
"We've faced some great ones," Sandquist said. "That's the beauty of the

See debur Page 14  Hoyas provide test for Orange

By ZEV BOROW

Staff Writer

[^21]See SAXA Page 10

Volume XXI, Number 37

Residence halls to remove campus phones from floors

By SCOTT MULLER

Staff Writer
Campus residence hall phones, once accessible to Syracuse University students on every residence hall floor, are in the process of being removed, according to David Kohr, residence services director.

All floor hall phone numbers have been disconnected. The phones have been in the process of being remaved for the past two years, he said

It is no longer necessary for the phones to be located on each floor due to the number of students who now have phone service in their roorns, he said.
-About 98 percent of the rooms on campus have phones in them," Kohr said. The phones were originally installed over 15 years ago, at a time when no phone service ,was available in the individual rooms."

In addition, Kohr said the cost to maintain the phones had grown to close to $$ 70,000$ a year.

Pay phones will be retained on the foors and should be sufficient for the 2 percent of students who do not have phones in their rooms, he said.

Also, campus phones in residence hall lobbies will continue to be maintained. he said.

Some new phones

Additional phones were added when several residence halls installed II) card access systems.

Some residence hall directors said the removal of hall phones resulted from persistent vandalism, but has not caused many problems.
According to Katie Semas, assistant residence director of Brewster/Boland the phones there had been taken out after they were damaged

It's been a slow process," she said. We've had no complaints thus far.
Semas said the hall phones were susceptible to vandalism and a few had been stolen over the past two months.
Julie Rswis. director of Day Hall, agreed, saying the hall had problems in the past with such damage.

Jonathian Goodwin, resident director
See PHONES Page 6

Rash of vandalism menaces  booths

By ThOMAS SEELEY
Staff Wriser

> Vandalism to campus traffic con trol booths is up from last year at this time. according to Steve Chirello director of community relations for Syracuse University > Already this year, nine separate booths have been vandalized, said Lt Jay Duda. SU Security director of crime prevention.

> Chirello said $$ 1400$ of equipment has been reported stolen or damaged in the first two weeks of the school in th

> Damage has ranged from stolen stop signs, traffic cones. "Welcome to Syracuse University" signis and telephones from guard booths to broken windows and doors on the guard booths, Duda said.
> "The cost is important," Chirello said. "because if we can reduce the vandalism, then the cost of operations for these booths and for the entire Department of Parking and Transpor tation could be greatly reduced."

All students have to pay for this vandaliam, he said, calling it mn injustice to anyone who is at SU for an education.
The damage has cost $S U$ more than money, Duda said

Not only is the damage costly, but it hampers the effectiveness of the officer manning that station," he said Control booths all over campus have been vandalized. said SU Security Captain Michael Byrne.
*it has been a great challenge for the security department to keep up with these incidents," Chirello said.
SU Security has responded by con ducting stakeouts, Duda said.
Security does not believe that the vandalism is organized. Byrne said.
"We have caught and arrested one person," he said. "But we have no reason to believe that this particular ingtance of vandaliam is related to any

See BOOTHS Page 6

Hunger walk

Syracuse atudents and local organizations participate together in the 10K CROP Walk to Stop Hunger Sunday on South Salina Street.

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Inside

Business Classified Comics Editorial Footnote News Extra Sports Weather

Staying alive

The Syracuse Orangemen squeaked by Pittsburgh 31-27 Saturday with an outstanding performance by David Walker and kept their hopes for a bowl bid aljve.

8,9

World

Iraqi support of Kurds

 retaliates against TurkeyThe Iraqi government is retaliating against Turkey for its close cooperation with allied forces during the Gulf War by arming and supplying the Kurdish separatist movement in southeastern Turkey. Western diplomats and Turkish officials said.

There has been an increase in the number of armed clashes in the southeast. Kurds now have a high caliber of weapons and the fighting tactics of "a viable guerrilla army," officials said.
Baghdad's support for the rebels appears to represent the first serious borders since American-led forces reversed the Iragi occupation of Kuwait in the Gulf War.
Saddarn Hussein's suppression of a Kurdish revolt after the Gulr War sparked Kurdish revolt after tine Gull War sparked a huge exodus of refugees into neighboring Turkey and Iran. prompting allied ing Turkey and Iran. prompting allied forces to set up a security zone in northern Iraq to ensure the Kurds' safe norther return.

Communist officials

commit suicide after coup
A former Communist Party chief committed suicide Friday by hanging himmitted suicide friday

Sergei Klimov, former ideology chief of the Volgograd Communist Party regional committee, was the sixth official to kill himself since the attempted coup in August. No other details were given. Dmitri Lisovolik, who had worked for the party's International Department, committed suicide Thursday by jumping out of the window of his 12 th floor apartment.

Nation

Man stays with wife despite death plot

A Florida woman was charged earlier this month with plotting her husband's murder to collect his life insurance money. The woman still lives with her husband. Bill.

Paulette Waters, 44, was arrested and charged with solicitation to commit murder.

Police said the Waters' auto body shop was having financial trouble and they owe the Internal Revenue Service $$ 58,000$.

Authorities said Waters promised a family'friend $$ 1,000$ to find a hit man to kill her husband. The friend said she gave him a copy of Water's $170,000 life insurance policy,
The friend secretly made a tape recording of a conversation with Waters and she was arrested a few days later.

Protesters arrested in anti-abortion demonstration

Anti-abortion protests at a Planned Parenthood clinic in Cincinnati resulted in 74 arrests Friday and 24 Saturday, police said.

Eight of those arrested Saturday were anti-abortion protesters who blocked the clinic doors and were charged with trespassing.

Police said 16 people were arrested for disorderly conduct resulting from scuffles with opposing demonstrators or for refusing to obey police orders.

State

Baby food tampering

 suspected; infant criticalChemists Sunday were testing a caus tic substance found in a jar of Beech-Nut baby food bought at a Harlem grocery store after an infant was erjtically injured by eating it, officials said.

They are also investigating dozens of other jars of suspicious-looking baby food found on the shelf at the grocery store. They looked suspicious because they were either discolored, had smudged expiration dates or popped vacuum seals.

Five-month-old Linda Lin was fed ajar of Beech-Nut Chiquita Bananas Stage 1 of Beech-Nut Chiquita Bananas Stage subway Wednesday morning and sudsubway Wednesday morning and suddenly began having difficulty breathing.

The infant was in extremely critical condition today at New York Hospital.

The manufacturer said it did not plan a recall because the suspected tampering appeared to be an isolated incident at Hector's Supermarket.

Lin was hospitalized Wednesday. The tampering was discovered after an infant botulism test came up negative on Friday.

County to send trash

to Pennsylvania landfill
While waiting for a state judge to rule on a proposed $$ 144$ million trash incin erator, Onondaga County has found a way to deal with its garbage problem until 1998.
For the first time, beginning Jan. 1 , most of the county's trash will be sent out of state to a landfill in Pennsylvania The dumping cost of $$ 41$ a ton will be nearly half the projected incinerator fee.

University

Free voice screening

 offered to universityThe Voice Clinic of Syracuse University will be giving free voice screening to SU students, staff, and faculty for the next two weeks, according to Dr. Michael Marge, director of the clinic.

The exams take 5 to 10 minutes and will be offered this morning from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and Wednesday from 9 to 11 to.m. and will be repeated next week at a.m. and will be repeat

The exams will be given in Room 11B in the Special Education building at 805 S. Crouse Ave, and no appointments are necessary, he said.

Marge, a professor in the speechlanguage pathology department. saic people's voices will be tested for loudness, the sound of the voice and harshness.

He said a voice problem could be indicative of a serious disease like cancer or just a simple straining of the vocal chords.

He said by coming in for an exam, a problem could be caught early and treated.

Marge said the free clinic will be staffed by undergraduate and graduate students in the speech-language pathology department.

The Voice Clinic is part of the Gebbie Clinic, he said.

Wa carry Syracuse's most complete Hno of Costumes, Masks. Makoup, teards, Hats, Halr Color, Spider Webs, Capes, Disgulse Kits, Decorations (Indoor it Outdoar), Novalties, Greeting Carde and Mrore.

4902 SO. BAY RD., NORTH SYRACUSE

Ten Miniutes From The Unhersity - BI NORTH
-EXIT2G (anattyatat) -Follow S. Bay RiD. signe -Look For Swity's Town

4

- 20 PIECE WING ORDER
- PERSONAL PIZZA WITH CHEESE
- LITRE OF SODA
pum 471 SALS
FOR SAFE, COURTEOUS, FREE DELIVERY
Not valid with other SPECIALS • valid through Oct. 26,1991 Valid on S.U. Delivery only - No Limit
VISA - MASTERCARD - CHECKS - CASH ACCEPTED

Mixed messages -Today will be warmer with a mix of sun and clouds. Expect a high near 55 degrees in between the sun and clouds. Speaking of mixed messages - Sunday was not the start of Daylight Savings Time. That happens next week. Hope you didn't lose an hour in your schedule.

Tuesday

Expect warmer temperatures and fairly clear skies Tuesday. Lows are expected between 40 and 45 with highs in the mid to upper 50s.

Wednesday

Believe this one if you can - the high temperature for Wednesday is supposed to be near 75 degrees. Sounds like the temperature in Atlanta. Go Braves.

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, D.C.
'Tbday*'suerat city: Robbinudale, Minn.,

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse University's independent student-iun newspaper published Monday through Friday.
The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuso University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.
The editiors are available after 3 p-m. Sunday throngh Thursday.

News: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifestyle: 443-2128
Sports: 443-2208
Business/Advertising: 443-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.)

News Extra

Visiting professor offers reaction to coup

Soviet geographer discusses initial fears, mass demonstrations

Television provided Americans with pictures of last month's attempted coup Konstantin Aksyonov did one better He was there.

Aksyonov, a Soviet citizen and resident of Leningrad. is a political geographer in the Soviet Union but a visiting profes-

MATTHEW BESTER

NEWS  ANALYSIS

 Syracuse University Aksyonov hasworked in and a research grad as a professor a SU professor and SU graduate atudent studying in Lemingrad

As a visiting professor, Aksyonov is teaching one class in Soviet geography and one in Comparative Government Soviet Politics.
"It was strange for me, that this coup could take place, in such a form, Aksyonov said. "Then (I felt) fear, lack of information during the first hours."
When he went to the square near the city council, he said, "the democratic city council, one of the strongholds of democracy in the Soviet Union ... I saw that people were not afraid, they are not. under the complete control as previ-
On the second day of the coup, a state-controlled newspaper was published, state-control ed newspaper was pubished,
There were, however, several obvious blank areas of the front page where pictures should have been but were emoved, he said.
Aksyonov attended a rally of about 500,000 people in Leningrad's main square.
"I saw the people who are not afraid, who didn't want to ask for government or new leaders," Aksyonov said. "They were able, and they decided to struggle. It was the first time that people were so strong, a decision made themselves," he said.
After these demonstrations, Aksyonov said he felt the coup would not last long. be suppressed, "is with a lot of blood," he said.

During the coup, he said, "Everybody decided the basic things for themselves. There were not discussions, there were decisions."

He added, "It could last long, though it couldn't be the new Stalin era.

Aksyonov said getting news was extremely difficult during the coup, since almost all of the media was state con-

station in Moscow. .  Bird Library

By DON SCHWARTZ  Contributing Writer

> Face to face, they will switch hands over the counter. It won't be a bar or the express lane at a supermarket, it will Part of Bird Library's multi-million dollar reconstruction plan will change the way books are returned to the the library's preservation administrator.

> The library is syitching from using book drops to returning books at a counter, Hanson said.

> The new hook return system should be a more effective and timely way to return materials since the books will be discharged almost immediately," Bonnie Ryan, head of the library's access services, said.

The democratic leaders, however, did print a press releasetype document stating the coup was illegal.
People copied this document themselves and distributed it throughout the country, he said.
Stockholm, Sweden, was a source of accurate radio news as was the pirate station in Moscow, he said.
"It was simply silly for (the coup leaders) to behave like that," Aksyonov referring to the fact that none of the tured.

The coup leaders most likely had specific orders, and no one planned to capture the democratic leaders.
"It was very important to know that people struggled; at least in Leningrad we had this information," he said.
"The whole organization of the coup was a mixture of comedy and tragedy," Aksyonov said.
Their press conference, for example, was a circus -trembling fingers, trembling hands, of the new president-such stupid answers, it was sort of a comedy. But later on it became a tragedy," he said. Aksyonov said he thought the coup was planned before August, by opposition groups forming against President Mikhail Gorbachev.
The actual date of the coup may have been the only undecided item.

According to Aksyonov, the idea of the nuclear arsenal falling into the wrong hands came entirely from the West.
During these days, he said, the people did not have time to think of the nuclear arsenal, events were happening soquickly.
Perhaps one of the reasons the coup signing of the Union Treaty the following day.

The Union Treaty was a pact designed to decentralize some of the power to the 15 individual republics from Moscow
"We are in a transition period." he said. "This is not the last decision about the organization of the government, or the union itself.

This is a process of decision-making by the republics themselves, not by the center for the republics
As Gorbachev returned to power, he accepted blame for the coup, Aksyonov said. Gombachev had let many conservatives into high government positions to please the hard-liners, Aksyonov said.
As their influence was slipping, the conservative leaders launched the coup. "A lot of people changed their minds during the coup days about Gorbachev," Aksyonov said.
If elections were held instead of coup taking place, a radical democratic move-

But probly would have won, he very strong, and maybe with (Russian Federation President Boris) Yeltsin's help. that is crucial for this change," he said. "With Yeltsin's support (Gorbachev is) a hero of the coup."

IImmediate actions after the coup show that (Gorbachev) is still able to make strong decisions, all this was in mave for him," Aksyonov said. "Now his position is strong - again. He is a position is strong - again. Hew." The beginning of the end for the communist government was long before the events of last month. According to the events of last month. According to Aksyonov, the first democratic elections on March 26, 1988 were the initial signal on March 26,1988 were the initial signal that the communist dictatorship was deteriorating.
As for the future, Aksyonov said the economic program will be the most important item. Even though it is now opposed, the attraction of foreign capital may be the way out.
Social differentiation, new values and more Westernization are in the immediate future for the Soviet Union, whatever its form, Aksyonov said.
Some nations have complained that American influence has rum over their own culture and obliterated their pride. Aksyonov replied, "I don't think there's any danger -- our culture will be any danger by it."

policy

Students will be able to hand in books over the counter to librarians, instead of dropping them off in bins.
The book return centers will be located near the new library entrance facing the new study area, as well as at the circulation desk, Ryan said.

Drops are not gone

There will also be a small book drop open a few hours after the library closes. The book return centers will be open during regular library hours, she said.
Librarians will be able to place materials back on the shelves faster, Ryan rials.
"I think people believe that when they return the book in the book drop, the book is immediately returned," she said.
"Book drops can cause delays in returning books, and these delays can be ended by returning books over the

When students check out books, librarians "carefully hand over our materials," she said. But librarians "then invite (students) to beat up on the materials when they drop them in a book drop."
Books bend, tear and fall apart in book drops, Hanson said.
"Book drops are really damaging to library materials," Hanson said. "We have to either repair the books or replace them if they're so damaged that they can't be used," she said.
"Our mission is to keep our circulating collections inserviceablecondition, which means that when you go to find a book on the shelf that it's not only there, but it's there in a usable condition.
Money could be better used buying new books than paying to repair books, Hanson said.

The library modeled the over-thecounter book return system after systems at Brigham Young University and Ohio State University
Both universities have received positive responses to their new systems, Ryan said.

With the positive response from these two libraries, we thought that it would be a good time to start here and see what we can do here," she said.

Hanson said the new systern was implemented to benefit students, faculty and library workers.

We're all in this together" she said "This is one small way that we can stretch the library's dollars and keep the material that library users want and need in serviceable condition.
"The materials in the library are basically the university community's materials and we want to keep them in as good condition as we can.

POLICE BRIEFS

A 21-year-old Syracuse Uni versity student reported she was harassed early Saturday morning. by two unidentified women, a police report said
The student and her room mate were walking in the parking lot behind Marine Midland Bank on East Adams Street at 2 a.m. when they were approached by two females in their 20s.
The victim said she was punched in the nose by one of the women. Her roommate said she was hit on the head by the other worman but did not file a report.
The victim was treated for a possible broken nose at Crouse Irving Memorial hospital.
-
A 21-year-old Syracuse University student attempted suicide Thursday night, police said.

Police arrived at the house on the 500 block of Clarendon Avenue and spoke to a student who said that the student who attempted suicide had taken a walk.

After further questioning, the

She said she had taken five painkillers and three birth control pills and that she was not trying to hurt herself

Police determined that the student was a threat to herself and told her they would take her to Crouse Irving Memorial hospital.

Her roommate showed police the victim's room where they found an empty bottle of Advil an empty bottle of Nuprin and

ART  INFORMATION MEETING

Monday, October 21
5:00 pm
Room 132C, Shaffer At Bullding

Att students-come and leam about stucly in LONDON and FLORENCEI

Presentations by Dean Lantzy, Professors Ryan Loftus and Gary Trento. DIPA staff.
a half-empty package of birth control pills.

A note was also found saying that "things needed to be done" and "letters had to be written." The victirn was transported to CIM hospital.

The following Syracuse University students were charged with violating the state's alcohol beverage control laws Saturday:

Elisabeth R. Mosel, 20. of 324 Ostrom Ave., was arrested in Harry's, at 700 South Crouse Harry

Holly N. Shapiro, 20, of 920 Madison St.. was arrested in 44 's at 113 Marshall St

Tara H. Duggan, of 601 Comstock Ave., was arrested at 44's.
${ }^{\circ}$
A 21-year-old employee of Syracuse University Food Services reported her class ring stolen from her backpack at the Kimmel Dining Center Friday afternoon, a police report stated.

She said she reported for work at 4 p.m. and.put her backpack in the employees' office.

A supervisor at Kimmel told police the room is unlocked and any employee has access to it.
He said he went into the office at $6 \mathrm{p.m}$. and found two employees with the victim's wallet.
They said they found the wallet in the trash. The gold ring had been in the wallet along with other items. Everything was recovered except the ring.

Police said there are no suspects.

A 24-year-old Syracuse UniSee POLICE Page 6

Subway Delivers

 October 21,22,23 7-11 pm Delta Tau Delta & Delta Delta Delta Marathon Fundraiser to support MDA Call 478-2929

RESUETS GUARANTEED.

Editorial

Shreds of real truth  The government seems to offer good

legal advice: Just say nothing.

This approach helped seat Supreme Court Justices David Souter and Clarence Thomas and it helped our executive branch come clean in the IranContra scandal.

Former President Ronald Reagan collapsed into amnesia on the stand, conveniently not remembering critical information when pressed in an eighthour closed hearing.

Lt. Col. Oliver North was a dupe of the system. As a Marine, his job description included serving "at the pleasure of the president." North accepted this duty and his scapegoat status during Iran-Contra until Reagan failed to live up to his end of the bargain.

After Reagan failed to pardon his best boy, North succumbed to public humiliation, his name becoming synonymous for the scandals of the 1980 s . But now he's not running the truth through the paper shredder with Fawn Hall, it's offered in book form.

Under Fire, North's book on the Iran-Contra affair, will be excerpted in the Oct. 28 Time. In its 446 pages, North says he is convinced Reagan knew everything about Iran-Contra, the 1980 s version of the triangle trade.
The fall guy just may have tripped up the say-nothing executive with his charges.

The Iran-Contra hearings of the past and the most recent debacle with the Thomas hearings are forcing Congress away from its legislative duties and into the judiciary - something the Senate has shown it cannot do. Pleading the Fifth before his Senate judges, North adhered to his chain of command as the process turned up a whole chain of lies.

ROTC fosters homophobic attitudes

As my fellow columnist Jamal Wright pointed out last week, the exclusion of homosexuals from military service is both illogical and morally wrong.
And, contrary to what Heather A. Ryan, an ROTC cadet, believes, no amount of editorial equivocating can change that fact.
In a rather lengthy letter to The Daily Orange on Thursday, Ryan offered a wordy DARIN but insubstantial defense POWELL Her letter is a perfect

ORANGE OBSERYMIONS OBSERTIONS cary usually does when bureaucratic doubletalkal issue: spew a lot of and "legalities" without about "complexities" point.

Maybe that's because there is no logical way to defend the policy.
By excluding gays from the military and the ROTC, the Department of Defense is saying that homosexuals are not citizens, or even people. They are not allowed to defend their country. Their lives are not worthy enough to sacrifice.

Despite what Ryan may think, the purpose of the military is not "being all you can be." The purpose of the military is to train soldiers to kill other soldiers. And that carries with it the inherent risk of death.

Are homosexuals not good enough to die for their country?
The main argument against allowing homosexuals in the military, which Ryan failed to note, is the idea that it would lower morale.

It's the old "foxhole" argument. If you were in a foxhole fighting for your life, would you trust one of "them" to fight alongside you?

This is the same line of thinking the military used to segregate black and white soldiers during World Wars I and II. Black soldiers should not mix with white ones, the military argued, because it would lower morale. Supposedly, soldiers of different races wouldn't trust each other in a combat situation.

Well, the Korean War, Vietnam and Desert Storm proved that old chestnut wrong.
The same is true for homosexuals. They can fight, kill, and die for their country just as well as anyone else.
In fact, homosexuals have been serving in the army for years. Most keep their orientation a secret, since a soldier who is revealed to be homosexual faces, at the least, a dishonorable discharge and lengthy imprisonment.
Remember the ex-Marine who saved the life of President Gerald Ford by pushing him out of the path of an assassin's bullet? He was a hero for two days, until the nation found out he was gay. After that, he was derided and spat upon.

This man had served in Vietnam, was a decorated soldier, and saved the president's ife. Did his homosexuality make him any less a hero? No.

But then there are those who say, "but look, these guys have to shower together and sleep n the same barracks..
Do you honestly believe all homosexuals think about is jurmping someone's bones?
Face it. The arguments against the military's inclusion of homosexuals are the same old arguments which were made against women and blacks years ago. But now, we have an integrated army and female fighter pilots.

Ryan's claim that it is "difficult to undertand the complexities of the legalities"of the military's position is ludicrous.

It's gimple: let homosexuals join the miliary and the ROTC. They should be allowed tary and the ROTC. T

A bullet works the same no matter who fires it. And the blood of homosexual is just as red as the blood of a heterosexual.

LETTERS

Students are not citizens to Romeo

To the editor:

With the coming of the November election, it is a good time to reflect on one major negative impact of retiring Election Commissioner Richard Romeo's reign as Elections Commissioner-the thousands of county residents that he refused to register to vote.

Over the last.five years, Mr. Romeo is personally responsible for the disenfranchisement of thousands of new voters. If anything can be worge than a anything can be worse thans refusings to register people to vote, then perhaps it is the fact that the people that Mr. Romeo rejected are precisely those that need the most encouragement-young, firsttime voters.

Why did Mr. Romeo reject them? Their crime was that they were college students and didn't meet Mr. Romeo's personal test of citizenship a very personal test because these same students were allowed to register in neighboring counties like Cortland, Broome, Otsego, Oswego others.
In fact, Mr. Romeo took his "duty" so seriously that he "duty" so seriously that personally developed a questionnaire that asked questionnaire that asked students financial and marital students financial and marital questions to pass his citizenship "test." Presumably, if you were married you had a better chance.

In his arrogance, Mr. Romeo would never reveal what exactly the criteria was. But between 1985 and 1989 when $I$, and many others, were registering thoussands of students, Mr. Romeo and Mr. Kinsella were sitting comfortably in their 14th floor commissioner's office and rejecting them. Thousands of first-time voters were refused and many thousands more so turned off they never bothered to register.

So, welcome to retirement Mr. Romeo. And welcome to democracy, Syracuse. Maybe a new commissioner will bring some much-nceded fresh air to the election office.

Richard Watts Class of 1989

LETTERS

Security responds

To the editor:

Several recent news reports and editorials have alleged that the Syracuse University Security Department's response times to calls have been unduly slow. I want to set the record straight.

These reports have focused on security's responses to a on security s responses to a iraternity house fight and an off-campus sexual assault on oif-campus sexual assanit on Friday. News stories on these Friday. News stories on t cases have reported that cases have reported that anywhere from 10 to 20 minutes had elapsed from the time it was reported until an SU security officer arrived on the scene.

According to our call log, two vehicles were at the scene within two minutes in the case of the fraternity house fight. In the case of the assault, SU officers responded within four minutes - even though an incorrect address was given on the call.

These were two incidents in a typically busy weekend. From that Friday to Sunday. SU security received 320 complaints or calls for action wrote 56 reports, made two arrests and referred two people to the Office of Student Relations, Security Department staff are professionals who are dedicated and committed to providing as safe an environment as possible for our carnpus community. The Department remains ready to serve you.

Harvey H. Kaiser Sr. Vice President for

Peace program works

The Daily Orange  Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971

Elitor in Chief
Jodi Lamaxna
The Daily Orange is published weekdoys during the Syracuse University academic Year by The Daily Orange Corporation, 744 Ostrom Awe. Syracuse. NY 13210 . by The Daily Orange Corpovition ar zav not be reprinted withoul the expresied by The Daily Orange Corporstion ar

To the editor:
This letter is in response to the "Save your efforts" letter from Ben Tupper, which appeared in the Oct. 16 issue of The Daily Orange.

This Christmas, I went to Costa Rica and spent three Costa Rica and spent thre weeks there traveling the weeks there traveling the country with a Peace Corps country with a Peace Corps volunteer, who was stationed volunteer, who was stationed western coast. The volunteer, who graduated from Syracuse University in 1988 , is also my sister.
My sister, Colleen, and I talked a lot about the Peace Corps and I visited the site she lives in and I met some of the people she works with.

The program she works with is Adult Literacy, so she frequently makes trips into the rural areas urging the the rural areas urging the people to learn to read and write. In addition, she teaches classes in Parrita.

While I visited, I was amazed not only by the conditions she has to live under and the long hours she puts in but the firm committment to really make a difference. She really cares about the things she is doing and the people she works with. While 1 understand and agree with Mr. Tupper's view agree with Mr. Tupper's on the goals of the U.S. on the goals of the U.S. government, it is not thes government, it is not these officials who are down there ofricials who are down there working side by side with the people of Latin America but rather people like my sister who really do want to improve conditions and make a difference.

So I urge anyone interested to look at both the Peace Corps and alternatives to the Peace Corps," because I believe both can do a lot of good.

Theresa Broderick
Class of 1993

DON'T GROUND YOUR CAREER

Employers want experience! A CIP internship can give you the experience you need, let you try out a career, and earn elective credit.
Spring Semester internships now available in marketing, finance, PIR, radio, TV, advertising, law, government, arts, health sciences and more!

Don't miss out on this opportunity to get your career off the ground! Apply now for a CIP Spring '92 internship.

APPLICATION DEADLINE FOR SPRING '92: NOVEMBER 8

Our 33rd Year Student Discounts on Scheduled Europe Flights

Fly Roundtrip or One-Way to Europe on Leading Scheduled Airlines.

Daily Departures From Most U.S. Cities to 75 Foreign Destinations. YOUR ONE-STOP STUDENT TRAVEL SHOP

EURAIL PASSES:
The ideal way to travel in Europe...on European Expres Fratrs known for their speed. comfort and punctuality. For $$ 380$ you have unlimited travel throughout Western Europe (excluding Great Britain). Available for periods of 15 days to 3 months. BRIIRAIL PASSES:
Valid for unlimited train travel throughout England, Scotland and Wales. Valid for periods ranging from 8 days to 1 month. INTERNATIONAL YOUTH HOSTEL HANDBOOK:
A detalled directory listing 3,600 hostel locations and facilities where accommodations are available at rates starting at $$ 7.50$ per night.
INIERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE ID CARD:
Gains you access to significiant student discounts throughout Europe at Museums, Castles. Palaces. Student hotels. Concerts. Operas, Bus and Boat routes and Inter European fights on European Airlines. Also includes basic medical insurance while abroad and a 24 -hour toll free worldwide hotline to assist you with travel emergencies. Cost of the card: $$ 15$. EXPRESS CARD SERUICE:
If you need an International Student Exchange 1 D right away. send us your name. address, date of birth, nationality, name of your school. a $2^{} \times 2^{}$ photograph and the $\$ 15$ fee. Your card will be matiled to you the same day we receive your order!

Call or Write: International Student Exchange Flights Inc. 5010 E. Shea Blvd., Suite A104-APF Scottsdale, AZ U.S.A. PHONE: 602/951-1177

FOR YOUR FREE STUDENT FLIGHT CATALOG,

MAIL THIS COUPON

TO:

PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE
$\overline{\text { (City })}$ (Statel [Zip Codel

YOUR ADDRESS
AT HOME:
(Street & Apt. W)

PHONES
Continued from Page 1
of Dellplain Hall, said he had received some complairits, but mostly from housekeeping personnel and some resident advisers.
"The RAs were concerned that when doing their rounds they wouldn't have easy access to a phone in case of an emergency," -Goodwin said.

Sheila Komorowski, director of Booth Hall, said many people trying locate students have problems since the new telephone directories have not been published.

Many people refer to old carnpus phone directories which still pus phonedirector the numbers of individual resident hall floor phones, she said.
"We received some complaints from people trying to reach these numbers, some of which had been nasty," she said.

Kohr said this will no longer be a problem since the new campus directories will not list these numbers.

BOOTHS

Continued from Page 1 ,
of the other instances."
Byrne said the increased number of incidents is probably randorm, and most occur late at night or early in the morning. especially after the bars close.

Most vandalism consists of rocks thrown through the windows and kicked-in doors.

Chirello also said the vandalism occurred not only during the first two weeks, but has been occurring throughout the sernester.

Last weekend, $$ 500$ of damagge was reported when several control booths doors were kicked in and bent so the doors could not open. They had to be re placed, he said.

POLICE

Continued from Page 4
versity graduate student told police he was kicked and punched at a party held by a student organization at the Sheraton University Inn early Saturday morning.

The student said a Syracuse University adjunct professor came to a party at the hotel with seven or eight guests shortly before midnight.

The guests' identification was checked, and some were underage and not allowed to drink.
age and not allowed to drink. group to leave and the professor became verbally abusive.
The group began to leave, he said, but when he put his hand on one of the group members, the man turned and punched him in the face. The victim suffered swollen lips and a small cut inside his mouth.
The victim was knocked to the ground and he said he was kicked by the professor.
The victim said he did not want to press charges but that he would seek judicial action through the university.

A Syracuse University student reported her bicycle stodentreported her bicycle sto len from the 1200 block of lem from the 1200 block of Harrison Street Thursday, a Harrison Street.
police report said.
police report said.
The vietim's friend was usin the bicycle before it was stolen, and left it outside the residence unlocked for about three minutes.

A Syracuse University stadent reported his bicycle stoIen from the 900 block of Ackerman Avenue last week, a police report said.

The victim said the someone gained entry through a storm door on the porch and took the bike from a hallway.

Business

Business  $D_{\text {igest }}$

Sexual harassment prevalent at work

According to a telephone poll by the National Association for Female Ex ecutives. more than half of female professionals have been sexually harassed at least once in their careers.

The NAFE is the largest businesswomen's organization in the United States. The organization polled 1,300 of its 250,000 members when allegations against Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas arose during the confirmation hearings.

Other findings from the survey showed that 64 percent of those who said they were sexually harassed did not report the incident. Of the $\mathbf{3 6}$ not report the incident. Of the 36 percent who reported the incident. 52 percent reported being unhappy with the way it was resolved.

And 77 percent of those polled said they think sexual harassment in the workplace is a problem.

Breakfast with

the Addams Family

Ralston Purina Co. is getting ready to serve up its latest breakfast creation, a cereal based on the new Addams Family movie.

This new cereal will be in stores early next month to tie in with the Nov. 22 release of the new Paramount Pictures film.

In the past, Ralston has created breakfast cereals based on characters ranging from Batman to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. The company's biggest hit was a cereal based on the movie Ghostbusters. While most moviemovie Ghostousters. Whitemost movie-based cereals have a relatively short based cereals have a relatively short lifespan, the Ghostbusters cereal lasted lifespan, th live years.

Sensor shaves

away competition

Gillette Co. announced last week that it produced the one billionth Sensor replacement cartridge. just 21 mensor replacement cartridge. just a 1 January, 1990.

The Gillette Sensor was launched with a lavish campaign during the Super Bowl and has since become the best-selling razor in North America and Western Europe.

Sensor cartridges have a 6.6 percent share of the U.S. market. Cartridges also account for 13 percent of retail dollars spent on razor blades.

Toys 'R Us will ## offer catalog

The nation's largest specialty toy retailer. Toys R Us, announced it has produced its first catalog, which will be part of its new advertising campaign.

The company said the catalog is part of the biggest promotional campaign ever staged by Toys $R$ Us. Included in the 48 -page catalog are Included in the 48-page catalog are coupons for discounts on Toys ${ }^{\circ}$ R Us merchandise. The coupons expire Nov. 30 . providing an incentive for consum30. providing an incentive for consumers to shop early this holiday season.

The catalog is currently being distributed at the company's 461 U.S. stores.

- Compiled from daily newspaper reports

The

Olive

New restaurant slated to open on SU Hill

BY AMY QUARTERMAN

Staff Writer
Buggsy's may be history, but a new establishment has moved into its quarestablishment has moved into its quarters at 721 S . Crouse Ave. The Olive and ters at 721 S . Crouse Ave. The Olive and The Orange, a restaurant/bar, is the new area.
The front bar opened about two weeks ago and according to the co-owner, Jerry Dellas, the restaurant will open "quietly" sometime this week or next.
The Olive and The Orange consists of a full-service baf in the front of the building with an Italian cuisine restaurant in the back. It is owned by Dellas and his brother John.

The brothers also own Faegan's Pub, while their uncle, also named John, runs While the
The bar will be strictly 21 and over. Dellas says he wants a place where students can "sing and have a great time without worrying about ruining the decor." He wants students to be able to be "rowdy" and to "stand on the tables if they want."

If you're looking for another Buggsy's, you'll be surprised by the reconstruction youll be surprised by the reconstruction The whole back has been remodeled to The whole back has been remodeled to make way for the new restaurant. Walls make way for the new restaurant. Walls have been removed, carpeting put down have been removed, carpeting put down and a new set of furnishings supplied to accommodate the new look.
Casual restaurant
The restaurant will be a "casual and relatively inexpensive" place for fine dining. Dellas said. Unlike the front bar, Dellas wishes to attract professionals as well as students. "I wanted to provide a nice Italian restaurant where professors, hospital employees, parents, etc. could go for lunch or dinner." Dellas said.
The restaurant's menu features real Italian dishes, Dellas said. There will be pizza, but only in individual gourmet sizes and styles.

Dellas hopes to staff the bar with mostly students, but expects that since mostly students, but expects that since, the restaurant jobs will be full-time, students

Dellas said he "wanted to give students and professionals an identity, a place to go and be casual; a corne-as-youare attitude."

He believes the students seem to have already found this "identity" and are calling the restaurant/bar "The Double o."

Dellas said he's looking for a place with longevity, that can last for years on the Hill.

Initially, The Olive and The Orange will be open seven days a week. The restaurant. when opened, will operate from $11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to $11 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.

Financial Wrap-UP

Wall Street Week:
Dow Jones: 3077.15
Up: 93.47
Volume: 213,400,000
Stock market figures are from Friday's close. Even though many companics, including IBM, posted low third-quarter earnings, stock prices increased prarkedly. The secondary and bond markets also posted gains last week.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average is a compilation of the 30 leading industrial stocks. It is used as an index of economic rends on Wall Street and for society.

Market Analysis:

Bulls are Back: Swocks closed up a whopping 93.47 points last week and volume was heavy after Monday's holiday.
Sorne analysts are suggesting the rally last week is the begiming of the second leg of a bull market that started at the beginning of the year, before the war in the Persian Gulf.

Dollar Watch:

Advanced: The dollar posted some strong advances this week against the Japanese yen.

Scandals on the Nickei exchange in Tokyo have created hesitancy in some traders abroad, while rallies and Heavy volume on the New York Stock Exchange had analysts speculating about an upcoming bull market bere.

Money Abroad:

Exchange rates: These rates indicate how much 51 U.S. would buy in each country.
Britain: .58 pounds
Canada: 1.11 dollars
France: 5.6 francs
Gemnany: 1.6 marks
Italy: 1.232 lira
Japant 126 yen
Spain: 103 pesetas

$\mathbf{S U}$ ru

Syracuse o-14-3-14-31

First quaitter  Pitt 7, Syracuse 0

Williams, 12 -yard nin (Kaplan kick) at $0: 31$. Drive: 73 yards in 7 plays ( $3: 12$ ).

Second quarter

Pitt 10, Syracuse 0
Silvestri, 37 -yard filed goal at 13:07. Drive: 11 yards in 5 plays (0:59).

Pitt 13, Syracuse 0
Silvestri, 20 -yard field goal at $10: 58$.
Drive: 8 yards in 4 plays (1:24).
Pitt 13, Syracuse 7
Waiker, 2 -yard run (Biskup kick) at 5:42. Drive: 71 yards in 14 plays ( $5: 16$ ).

Syracuse 14; Fitt 13
Watker, 3 -yard run (Biskup kick) at 1:18. Drive: 93 yards in 6 plays ( $2: 41$ ).

Pitt 20, Syracuse 14
Bouyer. 37-yard pass from Van Pelt (Kaplan kick) at 1:00. Drive: 65 yards in 3 plays (0:18).

Third quarter

Pitt 20, Syracuse 17

Bishup, 35-yard field goal at 11:05. Drive: 47 yards in 10 plays ( $3: 55$ ).

Fourth quarter

Pitt 27, Syracuse 17
Searnan, 8-yard pass from Van Pelt (Kaplan kick) at 12:09. Drive: 80 yards in 7 plays (3:54).

Piti 27, Syracuse 24
Walker, 4-yard run (Biskup kick) at 5:59. Drive: 70 yards in 12 plays ( $6: 10$ ).

Syracuse 31, Fitt 27
Waker, 1 --yard ran (Biskp kick) at :09. Drive: 73 yards in 10 plays (4:46).

Statistics

Syracuse
Kushing: Walker 25-138, Wooten 10-59. Ismail 1-36, Richardson 7-21, Lee 2-5, Womack i-3, Picucci 1-0, Graves 10-(-24). Passing: Graves 20-30-2-268, Richardson 0-1-0-0. Receiving: Gedney 8-107, Ismail 3-56, Johnson 2-29, Barker 1-21, Walker 3-20, Hill 2-19, Lee 1-16. Fits
Rushing: Colicchio 641, s.wiliams

 Receivin: Bo Boyyer $4-81$, Scaman 5 .-75.
 Moore s.

Player of the game  David Walker

Walker rushed for 138 yard and all four touchdowns. Walker's Ousch caunsh also haree passes for 20 yarch while on his way to setting personal records in scoring, rushing yardage, and all-purpose yardage.

WHY SU WOY

The Syracuse offense was able to score 17 second-half points behind the running of David Walker. Qadry Ismail consistantly gave SU good ficld position as he had 100 yards on four kick reurns. The SU defensc limited Pitsbourgh to just one second-half touchdown while rushing.

By KENT FISCHER

Sports Editor
PITTSBURGH, Pa. - The Syracuse University Orangemen and the University of Pittsburgh Panthers played an afternoon football game that lasted 60 minutes on Saturday
But it wasn't until SU's David Walker burst through the Pitt defense from one yard out with 9 seconds left in the garne that the 24th-ranked Orangemen, 5-2, were able to pull out a 31-27 victory in their first ever Big East Conference football game.

The loss drops No. 20 Pitt to 5-2.
"We played our asses off. they played their asses off." Pittsburgh head coach Paul Hackett said. "It came down to the last play and they were able to punch in a score. We just couldn't keep them out of the end zone.

Walker's touchdown run was set up by key completions to Antonio Johnson and Qadry Ismail of 12 and 13 yards and came in front of $\mathbf{4 2 , 7 0 7}$ homecoming fans at Pitt Stadium.
Both plays by Johnson and Ismail came in long yardage situations after penalties had stalled the Orangemen's drive.
With 4:55 left in the game. SU started the game-winning drive on its own 27-yard line following a Panther punt After a Walker five-yard run, Orange quarterback Marvin Graves was sacked by Pitt linebacker Ricardo McDonald, setting up a 3rd-and-9 from Syracuses 28-yard line.

Graves then found Ismail underneath

Syracuse University tight end Chris Gedney and center John Regan Orangemen's $31-27$ come-frobehind an over the University of Pittsburgh at Pitt Stadium on Saturday. SU rallied from a 27-17 for a short gain, but the junior wide recelver alipped out of a tackle and broke upfield for a 29-yard play. Only a shoestring tackle by defensive back Elexous Perkins saved a touchdown.
On the next play. Walker took a pitch and lumbered around the left end for a 17 -yard gain, os he carried the ball to the Panther 26-yard line.
Walker led SU in rushing, gaining 138 yards on 25 carries and four touchdowns. He is the first Orangeman to sore four touchdowns in one game since Tommy Kane did it against Colgate in 1987.

Penalties, however, almost nullified Walker's work.
Aiter an illegal motion penalty moved U back to the 27 -yard line. Walker burst off runs of nine and seven yarde to move SU back inside the Fittsburgh $10-y a r d$ line with 46 seconds left in the game.
was flagged on the next play for holding, which put the Orangemen in a precarious 1 st-and- 20 from the Panther 2-yard line.
As if that wasn't enough, Syracuse was called for an ineligible receiver downifid on the very next snap. SU faced ist-and-25 from the Pitt 26 -yard line with 35 seconds remaining.
Graves then hit Johnson and Ismail 0 move SU to the one-yard line and set
P Walker's garne-winning run.
"We felt Graves had a tendency to get rattled when it wasn't clear where he "hould throw the ball*" Hackett said. We had pressure on him and miraculously two or three times he makes huge plays where he sticks the ball right in there."
Graves finished the day completing 20 of 30 attempts for 268 yards. He also fumbled twice and tossed two interceptions. In the afternoon, SU turned the ball over six times.
"I had four (turnovers) today." Graves said. "It's just one of those things. I go out there and I work hard and I try not to turn the ball over, but it's something I have to work on."

Turnovers proved to be costly Saturday, as Pittsburgh's first three scores were set up by SU miscues.

Van Pelt hit tight end Eric Seaman in a crowd of SU defenders for an eight-yard touchdown. Pitt led 27-17 with $12: 32$ left in the fourth quarter.

Syracuse, which had not scored in the second half since its $38-21$ win over Florida on Sept. 21 , was faced with a Florida on Sept. 21 , was faced comeback of major proportions.
comeback of major proportions.
"Everybody was ragging on u
"Everybody was ragging on us how in the second hall we haven't done anything." Ismail said. "We said to ourselves, 'Look, we're going out there and prove everybody wrong. We're going down to the fourth quarter to win this thing.'"

Pitt had an opportunity to put the game out of SU's reach when McDonald recovered his second famble of the day after Terry Richardson botched a Doug Womack pitch.

The Panthers began the drive on the SU 21-yard line, and after two Syracuse penalties, had a Ist-and-goal from the SU two-yard line.

Gedney catches on, comes up big with career highs

> By KENT FISCHER
> and IOSH BARNETT

> PITTSBURGH. Pa. - According to University of Pittsburgh head coach Paul Hackett. Syracuze University'sjunior Qadry Ismail carries even more firepower than his "Missile" nickname indicated. indicated
> "He"s phenomenal," Hackett said. "I don't think there's a more explosive player in college football. The guy is unbelievable the way he pumps those high knees and his ability to make people miss.
> limail. whose name has been mentioned as a Heisman Trophy candidate, snared three passes for 56 yards, tallied 100 yards in kick returns and rushed for another 36 while on his way to 192 yards of total offense.

Ismail is averaging 161 yards of total offense in SU's seven games.
Catching on
Syracuse tight end Chris Gedney had caught 13 passes for 177 yards through SU's first six games, but he was on the receiving end of eight Marvin Graves passes on Snturday Gedney's eight receptions for 107 yards against Pitt surpassed career highs in both categories.
The 6 foot-5 junior caught seven passes for 82 yardis in last season's Kickof

Classic against USC.
"We call the plays and if he's open. hell get the ball," SU coach Paul Pasqualoni said. That comes in spurts. Sometimes he's open a lot. sometimes he's not."

Gedney's biggest catch was a nineyard reception on a 4th-and-2 play from the Pitt 19-yard line with 6:53 left in the fourth quarter.

Big strides

Syracuse played its first ever Big East conference game with the Panthers and commissioner Mike Tranghese attended he game.
The Orangemen will conclude the season with four more conference games, including three at home in the Carrier Dorne.

Tranghese said he is pleased with how e conference has progressed thus far. the conference has progressed thus far.

highs in carries (25), rushing yands (138) and all-purpose yards (158).

 Univeraity of Pittsburgh. Ismail amassed 192 total yards and continues to

Walker explodes in return to Pitt

By JOSH BARNETT

Asst. Sports Editor

[^22]Tommy Kane scored foür in 1987 against Colgate.
"You always dream about stuff like that in all honesty." Walker said. "It's just a great thing that happened. It's 11 guys out there, not just the guy carrymg the ball. Todiay, I just happened wo be
With SU's tailback platoon of both Walker and Terry Richardson, Walker enough carries to reach the 100 -yard plateau.
Richardson had seven carries for 21 yards against Pitt.
"When I was in the game, we just kept Funning the ball and being productive," Walker said. "I think the credit has to to to a lot of different people. I just can't take the credit for the effort out there."

Last week, in a 23-20 lass to East Carolina University, the Orangemen's option offense was held to just 66 yards on the ground.
Against the Panthers, Walker led a 238 -yard rushing attack which rejuvenated SU's option.
"We wanted to focus on hammering the ball at them," Walker said. We thought in the weeks past, we were looking for the big play too much. We just stuck with our game plan and the guys up front did a great job blocking. I guys up front did a greatjob
The Orangemen's most successful play was the option sweep. Walker took the was the option sweep. Waiker thok the pitch and ran the sweep around the right end and took the ball into the end zone on plays of one, two and three yards.
'(We) were just able to get to the comer." Walker said. "Marvin pitched Sec Whiker Huge 10

After you're done with school, you face one of Without experience its tough to get a job. And with out a job. ir's tough to get experience.

At The Wall Street
Journal. we recognize that experience is something you dont start earning unui after gradination.

But while you're waitiag. we can give you a head start by providing some of the sarne competitive advantiges that experience bring:

For instance, our wide-ranging news coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex worli of business.

Our tightly focused feature report. ing prepares you for your more specific anbitions - whether in management, accounting, finance, technology, market ing or small business.

And our in-depth analysis helps you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more persuasive way.

Mall the coupon - and start vour subscription to The Wall Street Journal at student savings of up to $$ 64.50$ off the regular Thinption price.
That's a pretty generous offer. Especially when you consider what it actually represents.

The Wall Street Journal.

 Dispromt istione for Sz

Smant $\qquad$
cw
$\qquad$ -
 Tuition for the real world.

WALKER

Continued from Page 9 the ball and Terry and all the linemen had great blocks.
The play was Fun mainly out of Syracuse's three back set with two tight ends.
"They were kind of uncertain on what we were going to run out of that set," Walker axid. "On some of those plays, it looked like they were looking for us to go inside and we surprised them going autside and got big plays oxt of it."

With the success on the same play. you would think the Panthers would make defensive adiustments.
"I assume they tried to imake adjustments)." Walker said. They just weren't able to stop the play. We knew coming into be game, how they were goins to play our three-back set. Our game plan worked great."

On a 1st-and-goal play from the Pitt one-yard line, Walker took a pitch from Graves on the right side and scored the gameright side and scored the game-winner with nine seconds left.

Onner with nine seconds left.
On the play. Graves said the Panthers switched an outside Panthers switched an outside hoping the additional speed on the outside would stop Waiker. There's no plays that David Walker takes off," Gíaves said. We're lucky to have a guy like Dave, but he's not that fast. He can break tackles. One guy is not going to bring David down. Walker has mushed for 540 yards on 96 carries this segson. Entering the game, he was second in the Big East confer ence in rushing with an average of 67 yards per game.

Walker said Saturday's performance won't change his role in the offense.
"I'm just qroing to go out there and do my job." Walker said. -Everybody on our team knows their role. I'rn just consistent and try to make the most I can out of a run."

In the two games previous to Pitt. Walker rushed for 106 yards on 19 carries, but said he yards't pleased with those perwasn t plea
${ }^{4}$ I just had a certain energy about me that I was going to get the job done (today," Walker said. "I didn't think I performed as well as I could have last week and the week before."
the
Brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Welcome their beloved Brother

IPaddy MMurphy

R.I.P.

Mren you enili...

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

Call now...

1-900-896-0033

NOTES

Continued from Page 8

"We think we've done a good job promoting our name, which was really the goal this year," Tranghese said. "I think the full effects of the conference will be felt when we get into a full schedule of conference play, so there is real meaning to these games, so you can identify with league standings and bowl bids.*

Bowl Bonanza begins
Bowl season has begun in full force. Representatives of nine bowle were in attendance at the SU-Pitt garne.

The bowls represented in Pittsburgh were: the Blockbuster. Copper, Florida Citrus, Gator, Hall of Fame, Moliday, John Hancock, Independence and Peach.
"Syracuse has an excellent opportunity for a bowl bid," said

Copper Bowl representative Dr. Ed Linta. "A lot of bowl representatives are still looking at Syracuse. If they can go 8-3 they'll still be in the hunt."

Many bowls are interested in the Orangemen because of their explosiveness. Linta aaid.

They throw, they run, they're exciting," he said. "(And) they have a little 'Rocket."

Bowl bids cannot be officially extended until November 17.

| Nottingham Laundromat In Nottingham Plaza Nottingham Road at Tecumseh Road |
| :---: |
| Full Service Coin Operated Laundromat $75 ¢$ Top Loaders    We Value Your Business! |

Take it to the Campus Mediation Center.
The Campus Mediation Center provides a new option for resolving landlord/ tenant disputes, roommate problems, misunderstandings in the workplace, and other problems you may be having. The Mediation Center provides free service at a time convenient to you, and it's confidential so that the dispute won't result in a record or file that follows you. Find out more about it! Call the Mediation Center: 443-3870.

Saks Fifth Avenue, The Nation's Premier Specialty Store, Cordially Invites You to Attend an Information Session Hosted by Recent Syracuse University Graduates and Saks Fifth Avenue Executives at
The Schine Student Center 304A
October 23rd, 7 to 9 pm .
We will be accepting resumes

LAST GASP

Continued from Page 8
Linebacker Garland Hawkins stepped in front of a swing pass from Van Pelt, picked it off, hit the open field and lumoft, hit the open field and lumbered 52 yards on the return. Van Pelt brought the 6-foct-6 senior down on the Panther senior down on the Panther 46 -yard line to gave the touchdown.
"It was a stupid play on my part," Van Pelt said. "At the last second he stepped in front. If he had dropped it, he would have looked like a fool because I threw it right to him."
Syracuse pulled within three points at the six-minute mark when Walker scored again, khis time from four yards out.
That score was made posssible when Graves hit tight end Chris Gedney for nine yards on a 4in-and-2 play. Cedrey hauled in a career-high eight catches for 107 yards.
-Their tight end played a great game" Pitt linebacker Tom Tumulty said. The quarcerback would roll one way and then throw back to him. We had to put emphasis on (Gedney) and that made their option offense a lot more effective

The Panthers scored the garre's first points when they went 73 yards in seven plays for a wuchdown affer Charles Williams intercepted Graves. Pitt upped their lead to 130 on two field goals which were set up by Graves' two fumbles.

The Orangermen wasted little time in bouncirg back as they scored on their next two possessions.

Walker's second score was the climax of a seven play. 93 -yard drive that gave the Orangemen their first lead.

The drive began on SUSs own seven-yard line, but 24-yard rumble by fullbnck Al Wooten 21-yard completion to senior tight end Kevin Barker moved the ball to the Pitt three-yard line in just 2:18.

Walker then scored from three rards out giving SUt 1413 yardi lead.

Pitt showed resiliency, however, asjunior quarterback Alex Van Pelt tossed a 37 -yard touchdown pass to Chria Bouyer with l:07 remaining in the second quarter to put Pitt back on top quarter to put Pi

II thought the drive before the half was superb." Hackett said. "Our offense showed some sparks today, but it wasn't on the field long enough to control the football."

The two biggest causes of Pitt's inability to control the ball was a lack of an established running game and a fallure to convert on third downs.

The Panthers gained just 75 yards on the ground and completed only three of 12 third down attempts.
"When you straggle to run the ball tike we have in the past couple of weeks, you search for ways to run Hackett said "Today we had to live with the pass and the problem with that pasy 1 ou do in is. if you dont complete them you're out of there.
"We called the right plays on third down." Van Pelt said Whey gave us the right defense, they just tackled us in the open Field oneon-one. Syracuse did a good job making tackles short of the first down."

Van Pelt finished the game with 267 yards passing as he completed 18 of 31 attempes.
"t was tough today." Hackett said. "It was two heavyweights slugging it out, toe to toe, fighting tooth and nail. Both teams played well and both teams played hard. It came right down to the end and we just couldn' do it."

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Upstate New York Graduate Education Forum for Students of Color

October 24 and 25

Forum will be held Saturday, November 9, 1991 SUNY at Albany

- Meet representatives from 100 top graduate institutions from across the country (Excluding law, medical, and dental schools)
- Discuss graduate study in your field of interest with current faculty members
- Get tips on taking the GRE or GMAT
- Learn about admissions and financial support
- Transportation and lunch provided!

Register at the following locations:
Center for Academic Achievement Forum Registration Table 804 University Avenue Room B 005

Schine Student Center Atrium October 24 and 25 443-2005

11 a.m. to 2 p.m.
Please bring a check made out to Syracuse University for the $$ 10$ refundable bus deposit when registering. (Checks only please.) Checks will be returned after the forum.

Major funding for the forum has been provided by The Aetna Casualty and Surety Company

Groups aid students seeking jobs abroad

By VINCE SALISBURY Statf Wriker

The dream of many Syracuse University graduates is to work University graduates is to work overseas. Fortunately, there are overseas positions available that are established for students and recent graduates.

Students and graduates who want to work abroad need to be realistic and understand that they probably will not walk into a career-related overseas job upon graduation. Yet, there are ways to work and live in another culture.

The Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE) has work programs in Britain, has work programs in Britain, Ireland, France, Germany. New Ireland, France, Germany. New Zealand, Jamaica, Costa Rica Zealand, Jamaica, Costa Rica and Canada. The length of time and Canada. The length of time individuals can work in these countries varies from three to seven months.

The jobs you would get in these countries are usually similar to the work you would find at a temporary employment agency in the United States. For example, in Britain many of the-students in the CIEE program found jobs through Kelly Temporary Services of London.
The CIEE has connections in each country to help you find work there. The fee for participating in this program is $$ 96$ and you can receive an information booklet called Students Work Abroad by writing to: CIEE, 205 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

New SU group
A new group is beginning to form for students who are interested in working abroad in a true international business setting. The group is called AIESEC and is the largest studentrun organization in the world. There are 50,000 student members in 71 countries worldwide.

In order for SU students to participate in an overseas assignment, an AIESEC chapter must be in existence on this campus. Dan Barcelo, a senior management student, is in the process of establishing an SU phapter. If you are interested, contact him at 423-3200.

In addition to overseas business opportunities, there are also teaching positions available. A large number of positions involve teaching English. This is usually one of the easier ways for students to get a job overseas. The SU Placement Center has information on a number of international organizations that hire English teachers.
There are also a number of overseas schools that hire individuals in various positions, such as secretaries, nurses and aides. It is not required to have foreign language skills in order to be hired since the teaching is done in English. You can order the Directory of Oversess Schools for $11 by writing to Network for $11 by writing to Network International, Dept. 486, PO Box 597004
Calif. 94159.

Government jobs
The U.S. government is another recruiter of college graduates interested in overseas work. The Peace Corps is one of the better-known organizations which send individuals abroad. The Department of Defense operates one of the nation's largest school systems with 268 schools all over the world. Staff members are needed for all school positions.

The U.S. government also looks for individuals to staff the world wide systems of embassies and consulates. These positions would include secretarics, financial managers, computer experts and security engineers. In addition, the embassies also require foreign service officers, but the average age of incoming officers is 31 , so it is not usually a position for recent college graduates
The SU Placement Center has information on these international career opportunities as well as other ones. These will be discussed in International Career Workshops throughout the year. The next workshop will be Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the SU Placement Center.
Salisbury is a graduate student employed at the SU Placement Center. "The Job Connection" is published each Monday in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

Knowledge is a gift to be shared.

Fteach For Armica is a national teacher corps of talented and dedicated individuals from all ethnic. backgrounds and acadimic mikjors who commit two years to teach in urban and rural areas with persistent texcher shorage:
, $000-529,000$ $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { Salary: } 515,000 \text { (Stafiord) or } \\ \text { Loans: defement }\end{array}\right.$ Syracuse University October 23, 1991 at 4:00pm Schine Center 304A

EXPERIENCE THE DIFFEREINCE!

* INDOOR PARKING + SAME DAY ADVANICE TICKETING * PLUSH SEATING (with cup holders) WIDE FOW SPACHG

ERNEST SCARED STUPDD PG
FRANKIE & JOHNNY R
SHATTERED;
DECEIVED PG13
THE FISHER KING R
DEAD AGAIN $R$
WOTTUE 1:75,3:30,7770,8:4

COOL AS ICE ${ }^{\text {PG }}$. ECESSARY ROUGHNESS PGI3
 OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY R 20N- THUR 1:40,4:30,7:20,0:50
RICOCHET $\quad$. THE SUPER

PARADISE PG13 montrtuln $1=30,4=00,8=40,9: 10$ WON-THAR TO CMAME

Genuine ULS. and European Surplius!
3. Geruine U.S. 2 Eurbplan Genuine US. 2 Eurbphan
Mithary and Artlqui Ovarcozts Matary sa
0 Wool, Wisti German, Bratish, French Pants $$ 10-$ 17$
(3) Us, Grathty, French, hatian Wool Swreatar: $8-$15
0 Madean Bija Pullovars and Blankels
Henvy Collon, 6-Pockel Field Pands: U.S. Duteth, West Germin $$ 7-516 . \infty$
3) Gencine lssue Camo, Desert, Tlaer, Utban. Black Sty Pockal Paris $$ 25$
(3) World Faga [30 $\times 57$ 510 emetiz 2 tor $\$ 5$

Down Fiather Mumary Sleeplog Eags $\left(0^{\circ}-15\right)$ 530
(1.S. Mavy Hool Middys Find Pesconts $10-$50
(3) Full Lengli Raincoats 4. Trenchicosis $$ 5-$ 15$

Sponsand by Dett Upsilon Wbol Blankets, Gloves, Hats, Scarves, &: Much, Much More!

Syracuse University LOcationv:Delte Upsilom House

711 comstock Ave
DATE:Oct.2d to 25
TIME: 9:00 am to 6:00p.M

Classifieds

NOTICE

 Dee lor asch adotional word. 56 ortre tor pech belor word So extal tor oech CAPTINL LEED word DEAOINE: $2 \mathrm{~mm} ; 2$ businass day in atanceo.

Notices

Order a iolv-gram and heip Sigma Kappa fiot Altheimers. All this weak in the Schine Alrum!

| COSTUMES:  Flappers, gangsters, renaissance, etc. Wps. mako-up, masks.  GOOM BABIES Vintage Clothing Hertak avalable. MC & Visa South Beech at Westcort  11.7pm / Roonday-Saturday / 472.1949 |
| :---: |

FOR SALE

Autos

 milorge, $2405, cal lett 437-1900 x4250 Barm

Equipment
Sterbo- Yamaha stareo receiver $$ 180$. Pioneer od player $$ 150$. Elang to olutsen tumtable $$ 90$. Call

Misc. For Sale
Winm and Liquor mifrora, Huge Genny Inflaubles, alow necn signs, Two largo ciocks

EMPLOYMENT

Word Processing. brimediataly through finals, part tíme. Compures & Copies, $426-0930$.

HOME NEEDED tor a 13 year old girl who is in a wheal chair and requires assistance. Home modifications provided as necessary. Substartia reintusampat provided. It you or someone you know is infersatied in providing a bving home, ploase cail David Shipe (315)425-5311.
mineciation P/T postion awaiable in colturamoloy pracice tor Medical firy Clath in SU ame. EXchlance degairbie. Ppproximataly 20 hre weoky $3813 y$ neg 470.7414.

WANTED

Help Wanted

ATIENTHOL STupentry Eam up to s500 cash for 5 hre wokk mamrtional Busineas Tours is seeking an articulate sxudert to orpanize an 30 minusa informacoral moernig on campus. No ax-

Know Betore You Co," whara to mork, live and ski reo in Coloredo's resorts. Curnant Guda to Aspen, Vail, Brockamioys and moral $$ 16.55$. Cal $1-800-1$ $789-6174$.

ant Fundraiser $$ 1000$ in 1 week, Greeks, Chbs | and |
| :--- |
| 50. |

FINDRAISER: we'ra looking for a fratemity. soroity or student organization that would like to make $$ 500$ - 51500 for a ona wook maknating profect on campus. Must be oryanderd and tarc

FOR RENT

Apartments

GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Studio apt 2 sedroon apairnents. All utilities included Secired suock & Madizon 635.5322, 635-3537/eves.
1.2.3.4 beckoom apatrnents, mommate situations. Otil streat parking. Laundry, clean, large, reasomalal $474-67 \mathrm{~S}_{1}$.

FOA RENT: 3 EEDROOM APARTMENT WESLCOII Sheot furnished, washer and dryer, paking 487-5761. FALL 8 SPAING acsopting Senior a Gractuate male & tomale stutont to till saveral 4bdrim mape & fomate siutonts to tili soveral 4 bdrm model $$ 230.00$; DesigneriDeluse medel $$ 325.00$. AB are locasad nexi E E.S. F. campus on Oakiand and Stancant Sts. Thess apartments are in an excallent $ block wasking location and are nicely furr nishad with beds. dosks, dressers and Fivingroom furniture. Call $673-1344$ for a choice studert apt AVAGLABLE TODAYI ONER TWO BEDAOOM APARTMENTS. Kacthan, Evingroom, bathroom.

Standart SL excallort E.S. 8650 per merth. $637-1344$.

2-5 Bedroom Apl Euclid and Actorman Ave. Patking Lelundry, Furmished, 24rr, mairkanarce. Jinte2 and Spring 32 coptions. Get an Early start on your housing needs cril 446-2209.
PRIVATE FURAISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS. Very elose. Secure. Qulet. Cappetec. Air Conditionod. Leundry. Pauking Uriversty Avea Aprs. 479-5005 fyou need a place to live now or in the near furura, Cut our man-ROEERTS REAL ESTATE to check out our arrbe selaction. Remember, whe have the fuly mamimnence serviet on the tul plas cose-h Tir Engela at 446-8914 annime.

Houses

Large, beautitul rooras in a newty remodelec manaion Oif-streot patking. launcry. B minuto wal

Rooms

Furrished Room: Griduate Studert Shara Kiahon. Furrished Room: Ginduate Studert Shara Kiahon,
Living Room. Laundry. Firpolzce. Euctid Ave. $$ 225.00+459-6665$

All new. gerts, no smoker, fine for grad studem prot. home, near Euclid. $423-9998$.

PERSONALS

Heathey in DPtié: I have pasta sawca for blood and a BirMac for brairs.

Carne in DphiE: Our Fneage haraks from Waker Conn Love your big sis.
Stacey in Dofrie: The blue eyed ones are the worst Love. your big sister.

AKO, DEKE, DELT. We had a graat time, and We want to say thanks, but next time we come to Walinut, can't wear pants? -the Sistors and Pladges of Sigma Kappa.
Holbe Your D-Pti-E fanidy woleomes you into a sistertood so new. Hone is another cheo from your big sister who is tive. Teday she is wearing some thing biue.
Lisa in Dohe: Just wait a licie longer and soon you wit soe that you am a part of the best taminil You may think you know who I am but... KEEP GUESSNGI Love, ????

PEACE CORPS WORLD WISE PuZZLE

INSTRUCTIONS: The Peace Corps has volunteers serving in more than 80 nations around the world. By solving this puzzle, you will learn about one of these countries.
Solve the four numbered puzzle words and then unseramble the letters in the squares to produce the name of the country darkened on the map at the right.

1. Haiti occuples the western one third of this island.
2. The chain of Islands east of Cuba and due north of South America is known collectively as this.
3. A famous tsth century litalian explorer, credited with discovering much of the Aredited w
4. A popular Latin American ballroom dance marked by a delayed transfer of weight and pronounced hip movernent.

Nicole in DffiE: My favorts frats are Seminy, Stoyour big sis:
Fochole in DPhE: My nails are hard as trone, Tve put them trough tua the bat love your big sis. Shari K. in DPhiE Whooawshethaalwahitoatnwehe Good luckt-Love. Your Bip Sis.
AuY in D-Pti-E: These poems cin be, very cuoer as you see. Itm not a pood witer, but imn not a bad draw-er, love your big sister.
SAE- Wo had a great inno partring with you, You sisters and pladgas of Detia Gemma.
Trecey M. in DPhies 89. 12.93. 905. 10. 2.5.71. 4. 1. 6.3. 26. 10. 0. 16. I love youl Forever and always, Your bip sis.

Jenk. in DPhiE- Do mea fear mia sic. Soon you will know who I am. Thirik about the ckes- thay will sead straigle Do me. I bove you frilo sisl -You big | sead |
| :--- |
| sis. |

CUSTOH: T-Shirts! CupsI Glasswaral AND WHOVATIONES 1-800-659-7748.
Linda in OPtid: Twinkle Twindle ferta star, you nead not look very far, in your maibox you'll see The places you can find mel Luv, your Big Sis. ayl Lats to again some time. Love, the sizgers and pleckes of Dota Ganma Jili in Dphie. I'm bigoer than Ifife in Cationtia minus the timbor. Lowe your big sis.
HeatherF. in DP Pri E. My nickname is rare and one a kird. Just hook in the sky irs not hard of fird. I ova youl Your bio sis.
To Astligy in Dphis: Nat King Cole knows who your big sis is. Love, me.
Melaria in Dehic. Hirtas: Im taller than Gary Coloman, but shofter than David Lotierman Love your big Sister.
Diax: Always bo better in everything.. Youll know wha I an soorer than you think. Love- Big Sis. To Sharl s. in DPWE: Getting warmer? Love Aways, your Bifg sis.
To Marey in DPhiE: 2032371182614277 1626512545 8014311905 4233707351425232721
2 Love your Big SE.

Crystal in DPbie: This is not a cleve, but a cho within a elve. Find whe shares this efue with you asded mogether we equal three, buir only one is me. Love, your big sis.
Des in DPTwE: 4 imes it and at hast waI be the

KATHY \# $\triangle$ OE You dont know who I ant, but soch you wit see, you biog siesier Tra haopy to bol sooner or triar when all makd and done, you and 1 min have kes of tunl We'l party all niphy and youl Love, ?p?
Kristank, in DPHE: Im your bin sister, terter your Big Sertar.
Fraulain, You'll ahways be special Rementer whan Frauloin You'l ahmays be special Rempanber Siownin seid. Love Amryz. Your Eig Sider.

Wendy Jo- Rosess ane red. Volets are blue. On thing you krow is true. Your Eig Sister Loves Youll Get psyched for all the greax times ahaad Love Lotre Your Bin Sis. Lot-Your Big Sis.
Steptanim in DPtic: This is not a clye, but a cke within 2 chus. Find who ghares this dive win you added toyether we equal three, but only ona is me. Lowe, your big sis.
Shaman in DPfie: This is not a clus, but a ches Shaman in DPfitie: This is not a clus, but a ckue within a ckue. Find wito shares this due with you addad icpether we equal truee, bus only one is me. Love, your big sis.
Shayma, The advanture is almost over Im so plad youre my Intes sis. Luvy ya- Your Big Sisll

SERVICES

Typing. For all your typing needs- letters. manuecrpts, dessertations, etc. Cal Ruh Dawey a 652-5814.
Fasearch. Call SHORTSEARCH wo bogin you term papers. All subjects. Reasornable rates $443-1311$ or 443-2911.
Word Proencoing Lesar resumes. Typing.
Fast turraround COMPUTERS a COPES, Fast turraround COMPUTERS $A$ COPE

ADOPTION

LAUGHTEA, HUGS, TEDOYEEARS and SIORYTHies, Wo anxiously await the chance to share our ives with an indank Lot's hep each otherCall David and Derica collect (B02) $235-2312$.

aportion- Chriesian couple rave room in our fives for a white intart. Legal/Medical expersos paic. Cal Donva and Fichard colbect 914-271-6377.
adopt- Happily marned white couple wanks so much to give your baby the best of everything in ouf toving herne.
Cal Joan and day collect 914-628-3919.
LOST & FOUND
Poward: Elase duttle bag bear corner of Claredon and Ackomman. Sernimontan clorthos Pleases call with any information $424-0929$; $422-8978$ ask for

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

| Tha: Dowe of Doom. the Hundreds of students gone in Chancellor Hussi's gas chamber. |
| :---: |
|  |  |

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

FEVER

BY KATIE KITCHEN

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

BY LOCKY

BY TWO JERKIES

- CALLS

THE ANSWERING MACHINE:
A super-expensive, high-tech, stote-of-the-art
TWISTED WORLD
BY: MORRIS

ADVENTURES OF JP
son.What are your plans for this wechend?
on. I don'I Rnow. I might inj to nin down a couple of students on waveris ave.

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES
BY FAJITA PARTY

GYPSY THE DOG

SPACE CAPTAIN

BY STEVE ELLIS

Footnote

Survival  People are skeptical of numbers. When you say that one out of every six women will be raped or sexually assaulted, the average person will shrug his shoulders and think to himself "I don't know anyone who is.But you do.

I used to think that maybe the numbers were a Iittle bit off, and that maybe ERIN $\quad$ one out of every six NEFF

FIRST

PERSON that jus average to every city or every that's the way I thought until a story appeared on this page six we of my rape.
The response I received from the Syracuse University community let me know for sure that the problem of rape is at epidemic proportions.
Since the article appeared Sept. 9, I've had 38 women come to me to share their experiences of rape, assault or incest.

A number of people have expressed their support, respect or sympathy with a hug or a squeeze of the hand.

Support through sharing stories

One woman approached me in a bar and asked if I was Erin Neff. I nodded and she said she wanted to tell me something. It hadn't been the first time since the story ran that I had received that kind of response, and knowing what words were about to leave her lips, I listened.

I heard the story of how she had been raped by a friend when she was 14 years old.

Her story was not unique.
I heard stories from my friends and from total strangers -people who stopped and reached out their hands and with them, their heart-wrenching accounts of past secrets.

Men and women alike have reached out to me for some type of understanding, an understanding I was all too able to provide.

Friends react in shock

The story initially created a backlash of shock. Started friends and acquaintances said "I never knew. I'm so sorry."

Co-workers said they didn't know what to say, they had no idea, they couldn't believe it had happened to me.

After all, I seemed pretty normal to them - like any one out of six women they knew.

Some people even questioned why the story was written, how it was composed and why $I$ chose not to remain anonymous.

The story was written to bring awareness to the issues surrounding acquaintance rape and sexual assault.

I first volunteered my experience and later my name - to make people realize that rape can and does happen to anyone.

By attaching a name and a face to what has historically been the silent crime, I hoped people could gain awareness of the problem's severity. They could begin to be educated about control, power and sexism.

People could begin to apply stories they've read or heard to their own relationships or sexunl situations and understand that "no means no."

The attitudes that lead to rape have for too long added to the myths and misconceptions. Everyone has to work together to change societal perceptions.

And that is what I noticed happening after the article appeared - people coming together. They were trying to combat this epidemic and they were combat this epidemic and they were reaching out

-I read the article ...

"I read the article in the DO the other day

That sentence did more than break the ice of conversations. It had become a sentence that caused me to break out in a cold sweat waiting with angst-ridden butterflies in my stomach for what was to come next.

From this sentence that was always the same came the stories that were vastly different

While the responses each added a new dimension to my understanding, the most interesting and thought-provoking statements came from the most unlikely statemen

A relatively new acquaintance asked me if he had ever done anything to make me feel uncomfortable, uneasy or not in control. This question came from someone whom I had just met, not even a close friend.

His genuine concern for his actions was admirable and totally unanticipated.

Then there was the statement from a former neighbor, who finished off "I read the article in the DO the other day" with an apology.

One night about a year ago, he had given me a hard time as I was walking out of my side of the house with a pillow, en route to a friend's house to spend the night.

In his drunken revelry he had tried to grab the pillow away from me and I remember he had made some type of rude comment, although I cannot remember what he said. I also believe I had some choice words for him as I ran off the porch visibly shaken.

An overdue apology

Now a year later, after he learned of my past experience, he approached me to apologize. He said he knew now what he did to me that night, what memories it had brought back for me and how it had made me feel. He said he hoped I could forgive him.

Truthfully, I hadn't thought of that incident until he mentioned it.

But, his apology and all of the other responses I have received have all meant a lot to me.
My own healing process from victim to survivor is somehow made easier knowing that am helping other survivors of sexual crimes.

I needed the story to be written to help and I know he got some pleasure thinkme climb one more rung on the ladder to recovery.

With these steps I am finding an unspoken support network of survivors inderstandin of each it means to be a victim of rape, assault or incest.

Phone call from the pas

Then I received what will probably be the most startling response I've gotten to the article, a phone call from someone who hadn't even read the piece, but who new the story all too well.
After all, he had been there with me in that car six years ago when the rape ccurred.
He had called me after the incident on a periodic basis; however, I had not heard from him in more than a year ...

His voice stabs through the phone and strikes me in the chest.
"How've you been?" he asks.
Isay nothing.
$I$ see his eyes, his face, his hands on my throat. His words are like a record played at the wrong speed. I cannot sort hem out. He says something about
I think back to the other times he has
I think back to the other times he has called. I think of the nights $I$ have spent awake in a pained stupor after hearing his voice and recalhing memories I would fust as soon like to forget.

His call should have been the final straw after an exceptionally atressiul day, but instead I found myself with nough courage to speak and not hang up on him. I know my voice trembled, ing he still has an effect on me.
But I finally came out and said "I have nothing but hatred for you and do not have anything I want to talk to you about ever again. You don't mean a thing to me, you never have. You have no idea how much you have hurt me.
"I'm just finally able to realize that you don't destroy me when you call, and you haven't destroyed any part of me. I've put together everything you tried to rip apart and I'm stronger than you."

I hung up and somehow believed that he wouldn't be calling again.

And the journey continues
But somehow in that montage of images conjured up by his voice somewhere in visions of his eyes, his hands, his car and the beach, I saw something else.

I saw myself, I saw the article and I saw my friends, the women and all the people who have come forward to me with "I-read the article in the DO the other day."

I now know I can classify myself as a survivor and can attempt to help others who are struggling somewhere along that path. After all, they have all helped me.

To say the incident doesn't affect me would be nonsense, because it has shaped my life and the person I am.

Now, there is a whole collection of new memories in my mind.

Memories of shared experiences with new friends and confidants have become a part of defining who I am - one out of any six women you know.

The Daily Orange

Faculty fears budget cutbacks in research

By GENARO C. ARMAS
Staff Writer
Syracuse University faculty who depend on research fear the future restructuring cuts will damage SU's reputation.

Concerns about the proposed decline in funds allocated to undergraduate research were discussed Monday night at one of four University Senate open forums.
"We are cutting the size of the university without deciding what type of university we want to be," said David Sullivan, chairman of the biology department. "We should be receiving more input from faculty and students."
See related restructuring stories page 3.
"There is no clear statement of what the university's mission is," Sullivan said. "The university needs to provide the underlying resources to be a research

He added that SU may have difficulty recruiting "top quality" researchers in the future.
"SU is a first-class school in terms of research," said physics professor Sheldon Stone. "That is what brings students, as well as professors and even guest speakers to SU.'

Attraction to research

Some faculty members said professors who were attracted to SU because of its standing in research would likely leave rather than endure and adapt to budget cuts.

What I fear most is that the university does not give a damn (about the departure of professors)," said physics professor Arnold Honig. "If they thresten to leave because we are not a first-class research institution. (the university) would probably offer to write us a letter of recommendation."

Even if we are downsizing the university, we must preserve quality," Honig said. "We have to make it clear that downsizing the university does not mean downgrading it.:
"Though I am not against research spending, many view rescarch as costly and expensive," said Stewart Thau, chairman of the philosophy department. "In addition, we are supporting doctoral research programs that aren't producing many doctorates."
"There are many benefits to research," countered physics professor Edward Lipson. "Research benefits undergraduates by providing better quality teaching as well as better resources ... such as libraries."

Representatives also questioned how the chancellor's committee derived its proposed cuts.
"There is a growing concern over the accuracy of their numbers," said a professor from the School of Social Work. "We have found significant errors in their findings."

See ReSEARCH Page 11

First year graduate student Paul Reisher does tricep pulldowns Monday morning in Archbold Gymnasium's free weight room.

State, local governments need restructuring, says Gov. Cuomo

By ROY S. GUTIERMAN

News Editor
The debilitating national recession with its soaring economic and social problems should force government "to change the way the system works now," Gov. Mario Cuomo told the Onondaga County Legislature Monday afternoon.

As federal funding wanes, state, county and local governments should expect fewer programs and seek more economically efficient means of governing to reduce spending, he said.

Cuomo called for a new constitutional convention "because the system isn't working," he said. "I'm going to ask the state legislature this year to put it on the agenda.'

Citing a September issue of Business Week, he said that 33 states - affecting 85 percent of the nation's population raised taxes and cut services to gap budget shortfalls.

In California, Gov. Pete Wilson raised $$ 7$ billion in taxes, and "even after all of that puying, there are still budget deficits," Cuomo said.

A sluggish economy, not generating revenues; social needs, such as safety from crime and social services; disinclination from Washington to aid states: See CUOMO Page 11

Inside

City Life . Classified
Comics.
Images
Sports

Weather

.2

Trash with class

The Dynasty miniseries harkens back to a time of greed and selfishmess when women bought perfume called Forever Krystle and men bought Carrington cologne. Check out this sudsy story on page

World

Quake hits Northern India; hundreds killed

An earthquake measuring 6.1 on the Richter scale by Indian seismologists Richter scale by Indian seismologists atong the Indian-Tibetan border kited at least 366 people and touched off landslides and flattened thousands of landslid homes.

The US Geological Survey put the magnitude at 7.1 . The worst-hit area the Uttarkashi region. is 160 miles northeast of New Delhi.

The quake affected about 400 villages in the northern state. Some news reports said the death toll may reach 500 , and an Indian national newspaper said at least 1,500 people were feared dead but

American hostage freed

 by Lebanese captorsJesse Thrner, an American hostage in Lebanon, was freed Monday less than 24 hours after his Islamic Jihad captors announced one of their hostages would be let go, according to United Nations Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar.

Turner was kidnapped in 1987 while working at Beirut University. He was held hostage for four years and nine months.

In Boise. Idaho. Turner's family was elated, including his four-year-old daughter he has never seen.

The Islamic Jihad is also holding another American hostage, Allan Steen. In related news. Israeli warplanes bombed a Hezbollah guerrilla base Sunday, wounding three civilians in an apparent reprisal for a bombing by the group that killed three Israeli soldiers.

Hezbollah is believed to be an umbrella group for factions holding Western captives in Lebanon.

Nation

Sea gull sustained five for 11 days at sea
Five fishermen spent 11 days adrift in a life raft after their boat sank in the a life raft after their boat sank in the Pacific, caught and ate a sea gull and Pacific, caught and ate a sea gull and rationed packets of water before they rationed packets of water before they were rescued Saturday, one of them said.

The five drifted in their raft after their 97 -foot crab boat went down about 250 miles off British Columbia Oct. 8.

The crew was in good condition after being rescued by another fishing boat. the Coast Guard said.

A fuel tank may have broken and flooded, causing the boat to capsize, said flooded, causing the boat to capsize, said survivor Keith Pendleton by telephone survivor Keith Pendleton by telephone from his room at Sitka Community from his Hospital.

The life raft had no emergency signaling gear aboard, said Coast Guard spokesman Don Atwell.

Woman lands airplane after the pilot dies

A woman in the back seat of a single-engine airplane reached over the body of her father, who died of an body of her father, who died of an and landed the plane at a small airstrip. and landed the platies said.

Patty Sharp and her father had taken off in a Piper Cub for a day of sightseeing and photography Saturday in eastern Oregon.

Sharp had never flown a plane before. Sharp overshot the airstrip and ran through a barbed-wire fence before the plane stopped with its nose in the ground. She was not injured end ran for help.

State

More county residents rely on public assistance

Recession and unemployment have caused more Onondaga County residents caused more Onondaga County residents to resort to shelters. rood pantries and clinies, a Monday.

The study, conducted by the Coalition for Health and Welfare of Syracuse and Onondaga County, revealed 4,715 people used food stamps this year, up 331 from last year.

It also states requests for emergency food assistance increased 25 percent to 553,097 , and the daily homeless population rose to 441 people. 28 more than in 1990.

Members from coalitions that represent 44 agencies, such as the Department of Social Services and Salvation Army, will meet with state representatives Friday to discuss the community's needs.

NYC custodians paid on par with principals

Custodians for New York City's largest public school system get paid as much as principals, make more than police about $$ 20,000$ more about $$ 20,000$ more than their colleagues in other major cities, according to a report published in Sunday's Daily News.

The report stated that the average custodian salary is $$ 58,000$. on a par with principals, and $$ 20,000$ higher than that of teachers.

They also receive an extra $$ 5.900$ per year in after-school fees even if the school does not have after-school activities, the report stated.

Campuses

More students need psychological counseling A University of Florida psychologist said significantiy larger numbers of college students are seeking counseling for stress, eating disorders, substance abuse and depression at a time when schools are cutting back mental health services.
James Archer, director of the counseling center at the University of Florida and suthor of the book Counseling College Students, said 85 percent of directors of college counseling centers throughout the nation reported an increase in psychological problems in the past 10 years.
"I'd say it's a significant increase, and it's been steady," he said.

He said types of disorders treated range from counseling for depression, alcohol and drug addiction and stress to problems stemming from physical. mental and sexual abuse.

He said also that students are susceptible to feelings of alienation. loneliness and pressure to get grod grades.

However, he said, colleges are cutting heal th services, including counseling, for lack of funding. In tight budget years. "services to students are cut at a greater rate than acadernic programs. Counseling and mental treatment centers get cut to a greater degree," Archer said.
Archer said this is why he decided to write the counseling book. which focuses on ways that college faculty and staff can help pinpoint troubled students and talk with them or refer the ones with serious problems to professional counselors.
The idea is early detection to prevent despondent students from turning to suicide, alcoholism or drug addiction, he said.

WEATHER

Nimbus nightmare -Again, today witl be a mix of sun and clouds. The dark clouds will pretty much block out the sum by early evening even though it will stay warm with temperatures in the mid Gos. Expect patchy fog tonight with lows in the mid 40s.

Wednesday
Hump das will be considerably cloudy and brecey with normal October temperatures for Central New York. That means mid 60s.

Thursday

Expect partly sunny skies with lows between 50 and 55 and highs in the mid 70 s .

Temperatures across the country
Atlanla
Boston
Chicago
Dallits
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
San Francisco
Seattle
Washington, $\dot{D} \cdot \dot{C}$.

Todnysaruent city:Sparun.N.J.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracase University's independent student-run newspaper piblished Monday through Friday.
The newspaper is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Newa: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifestyle: 443-2128
Sports: 443-2208
Businesg/Advertising: 443-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30 am. - 4:30 p.rı.)

The Daily Orange will celebrate 20 years of  independence on Friday, Oct. 25, 1991, with a special  anniversary issue.  Watch for it!

"billye

Sept, 1970

Faculty opposes library cuts

GY ELIZABETH HOLAHAN

Cuts to the Syracuse University library system could affect several departments' education several departments ed

SU faculty members expressed their displeasure about pressible their displeasure consolidation possible ibrary consolidation during one of four University rums Monday night.
Faculty members discussed the effect of cuts on acquisitions of library materials.
"There will be cuts." said history professor James Powell. "Let's not kid ourselves that we will benefit from them."
A professor from the College of Engineering expressed concern about how a reduced number of serials will effect future research at the university.
Sharing serials with other upstate New York schools and the consolidation of SU librar-

Committeesface difficulties

By KATE FLATLEY

Contritutine Writer
Syracuse University faculty members questioned how programs will be prioritized and judged before the university implements its $$ 28$ million budget cuts.
The future of University College, academic support systems, financial aid and Summer Sessions were discussed at one of four open formms on the umivernight.

James Follain, chairman of the committee on acadernic affairs, said the commituees were having a difficult time making concrete decisions because the details of student demand on individual programs is unclear.

Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs Gershon Vincow said it is difficult to make decisions, is difficult to make decisions, and programs have to prioritize themselves.

They have to judge for themselves their value to the university, and how they would opersity, and how they would operate with a 10 to 20 percent ate with a 10 to 20 percent reduction intheiroperatingloudgreductionin the he said.

Representatives from University College stated that UC is greatly misunderstood on main carnpus.

Follain suggested that UC be viewed as a separate profitmaking unit of the university. making unit of the university.
The net profit or loss can then The net profit or loss can then show if UC is a benefit or a show if UC is a beneft liability to the university.

Unaware of profits
Brian Rubenstein, the student co-chairman of the University Senate Committee on Students, said many SU students - are virtually unaware of UC's purpose and existence.

With the part-time student population rapidly growing, UC could easily become more profitable, he said.

Tom Cummings, from the Office of Continuing Education, Office of Continuing Education, said the proposition has been raised to move a larger percentrather than keep the downtown ies were suggested to reduce costs.

Consolidating with the main library would be a mistake, said Daniel Waterman, chairman of the mathematics department.

The mathernatics department faculty and students need to use faculty and students need to use graduate students have their graduate student

Not the place to save
"The library of the university is not the place to save money. ${ }^{-}$ he said. "It is crucial to what we all do.'

Susan Borker, chair of the sociology department, said she often has to run around to different libraries to find information.
"Some people suffer disadvantages because the libraries are split." she said.

Carol Lipson, of the writing program. said many professors in the English and humanities ## programs are

The basis of our existence, research and teaching, involves some real difficulties," she said.
Professors from the physics, mathematics and chemistry demartments agreed that sharing partments agreed that sharing materials with other universimaterials with ohhe ties is unacceptable.
"Having journals in the library is very important because we often need to know the informntion immediately," said assistant professor Michael Sponsler of the chemistry department. "Library"loan takes too long."

The SU Library's reducible base budget for $199 \mathrm{I}-1992$ is $\$ 7$ million distributed among the million distributed among the five libraries on campus, a refive libraries on campus, a restated.

The budget is broken down to allocate $$ 2.55$ million for mequisitions, $$ 350,000$ for operating expenses, and $$ 4.1$ million for salaries.
  defended

BrghMyEEAF

The otrengths of Syracuse University's Uhiveryity Collegé ind Summer Sessions programe should spare thern programp thould ppirce them Som und chopping bick when Iion restructuring plan. the Hon restructuring planv th Suppoiters turned out Mondayp night to defend the programs at one of four University Senate open forums.

-As a program that operates as añ academic guxiliary to the university, we are able to create financial support directly." forum Chairman Tom Cummings asid:

He said the programs do not need to downsize, but not need to dow
"We will have to cut the costs but withoutcutting general support for the community," Cummings axid.

Somé programa could even grow depending on consumer demand, he said.
A leanet describing UC stated that its mission is to steved adults who seek nccess serve adults who seek access to SU resources throughout their lifetime.
Last year, uc served 15,500 adult students, and Cummings said the market for continuing education is growing because its students are primarily the large baby boom generation, the leaflet stated.

Fiscally viable session
Sumner Sessiong mainpurpose is to offer couirses and special programis that -are fiscally viable, a leafter stated. SU's Summer Seasions has been operating for more than 90 years as part of the university's year-round academic program, the leaflet stated.
Several members of the community commended the efforts of Summer. Sessions and UC.

We support the effort to bring continuing education and Summer Sessions to thone who otherwise conld not af: ford it ${ }^{\boldsymbol{H}}$ said Erie Holzwarth; executive assistant to the dean of the College of Arts Scim ences.UC and Summer Sessions" efforta increase the apprecia. tion for the value of a liberal arts educhtion, Holtwarth said.

Arts and: Sciences has strengthened as a result of this appreciation, be said.
"l don't think the univergity appreciates the range of courges nvailable to the comm courges availabie to the com. munity and the world, said munity and the porld, said Bill Sullivan of the Maxwell
School of Citizenship and School of Cit
Public Affairs.

UC developed independent study courses which were modified for US Marines in modified for US Marines in Operation DesertStorm, Curn-mings gaid. About 5,000 milimings aaid. About 5,000 milim tary personnel particip in the degreeprogram.

A strong reloritionship

Barbara MacDermott, as sistant dean of the College of Nursing, praised the strong relationship between the College of Nursing: UC and Summer Sessions.
"The adult btudent brings so much to the clasaroom." she said. They are very exciting from a teacher's standciting foint.

The Senate has also rem ceived several letterssupport ing UC from William Pollard, dean of the School of Social Work: Gail Shaffer, New York secretary of state; Rewimond Cario, clerk-treas urer for the village of Akron. N. Y.; and Jeffrey Smith, edu* N.Yi; and Jeffrey Smith, edu-ention committee chairmain cation committec chairmain for the New York State Amsofor the New York State Association of City and Village ciation
Cummingg said he did not feel that UC would be

See SUMMER Page 6

COMMUNITY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM FALL '91 ORUENTATION

If you're taking a Fall Semester '91 internship or thinking about taking an internship during Spring Semester, come to the CIP Fall '91 Orientation!

Thursday  October 24 7:00-8:00p.m. Room 304B Schine Student Center

Featured Speakers: Dr. Bruce Carter, SU Psychology Department; Ed LaComb, KXX-FM; and former CIP interns.

Don't miss out on this opportunity to learn how you can get the experience you need and get the most from your internship!

4 The Drity Orange  Octoher 22. 1991

[^23]On July 19, 1979, the Sandinista forces won the revolution against the forces of Anastasio Somoza, leader of the country at that time.
"Known in Nicaragua as the day of triumph,' it was when the Sandinista National Liberation Front took power away from the very brutal dictator Somoza who had ruled for over 30 years, Levy said.
In November 1984, the country ran general elections in which seven different parties ran, Levy said.
Eighty percent of the country's 3.5 million population turned out to vote, and 68 per-

A BitOf Boston Tradition Is Coming To Syracuse.

Since 1914 Brigham's ice cream and restaurants have heten a family

radition in Boston. And now with over 60 shaps serving Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey and stmin Sew York.
Brigham's is on its way tn becoming an American radilitun. Join us as we get set to open our new brigham's of Beston Restaurant

in Syracuse

Full-Time Assistant Manager

trezt provide salaries cum exechent bemefits package.
Wait Staff Counter Servers

Dishwashers

Cooks

Hosts

Experience is not necrasury for ibese duy: ectenink and urekend sbiff

DROP-IN INTERVIEWS

 on the first fiwor and next

Thriahamis. of Boston 錭等

cent of the vote went to the Sandinista party, she said.
Receiving seats
Each party that received at. least I percent of the vote was given a seat in the National Assembly, Levy said.
More than half of the country's population was illiterate. In many rural areas 100 percent of the women could not read during Somoza's regime, she said.
"In March of 1980, the Sandinistas began a literacy campaign and within six months the literacy rate had been raised to close to 80 percent," Levy said. Under the Sandinista government, health care was brought to rural areas for the first time and medicine was available.
"In Third World countries the majority of deaths to infants and children are through dehy:dration caused by diarrhea," he said. "You don't need doctors to cure this, just proper

Elaine Levy shows photographs from Nicaragua. training of health workers.'
The organization of unions was encouraged for factory and field labor with a stress on health and safety, Levy said.

New land owners
Hundreds of thousands of Nicaraguans became land owners through a system of coopera-tives," she said.

Somoza su rcent of lapters ownẹd 49 percent of land, and many of Them fled to Miami in 1979. Their land was taken by the Sandinistas and given to the people, she said.
There were two forms of cooperatives in Nicaragua under the Sandinista government, Levy said.
"In the one cooperative you own a piece of land, but tractors and seeds are bought in common," she said
Members of the other coop erative form hold everything in common and elect a president from the 12 families who belong to the cooperative, Levy said.
"Internationalists, people from other countries, picked coffee, cotton and lived in border pueblos in order to act as a retardant against Contra attacks," she said.
Levy visited Nicaragua twice in 1985 with the Witness to Peace program for two weets and the Syracuse Alternative and the Syracuse Alternative Media Network for one month. In February 1030, a new election was held which pitted the Sandinistas against a coalition of 14 parties called UNO evy said.
UNO won the election with 59 percent of the vote, and in Aprij President Violeta Chamorro and Vice President Virgilio Godoy assumed their positions as head of the government, she said.
"People voted for UNO to stop the fighting between the Contras and the Sandinistas, and also with the hope that the US government would give them a promised $$ 541$ million for backing UNO." she said.
"Learning has always been a part of the liberation of a people, just as in the slave days of our own country," Levy said.
Under the UNO government, the literacy campaign was stopped and the university scholarships were cut, she said.
"The United States spent $$ 7$ million on new textbooks which were given as a gift to the Nicaraguan Ministry of Education, yet the government is now See WOMEN P•••• 6

FR

INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.

COMPREHENSIVE DATABASE: Our-data base of over 200,000 listings of scholarships and grants represent over $$ 10$ billion in private sector financial aid.
MANY AWARDS: Scholarships are available to students based on their career plans, family heritage and academic interests.

UNIQUE RESEARCH: Our research department has located many scholarships including awards for newspaper carriers, grocery clerks, cheerleaders and non-smokers.
RESULTS GUARANTEED.

CALL ANYTIME FOR A FREE BROCHURE
(800) 283-8600
Ext: 907

abels blow smoke

Smoking kills - it is a known fact. However, it is now up to the American political system to determine exactly how detrimental cigarette packaging may describe smoking to be

The Supreme Court is rearguing a case involving a New Jersey woman who, after smoking for 42 years, contracted lung cancer and died. Her family filed a lawsuit against the tobacco company, claiming the company was negligent in its efforts to inform and warn consumers about the potential dangers involved in cigarette smoking.

Stronger warnings should be printed on cigarette cartons. A simple "Warning: Smoking is hazardous to your health" is not enough. Emphasis should be placed on the physical effects of smoking, like weakness, shortness of

It's back by unpopular demand. Yes, it's another "Naked Truth" global perspective.

The most valuable asset of the Bush administration is clearly Secretary of State James Baker. Mainly because of his perseverance. there will be a Middle East peace conference in Madrid on Oct. 30.

I've been noticing lately I have an excessive anount of earwax buildup lately. I wonder if

STARK

NAKED

TRUTH

Why does Syracuse University, the alma mater of numerous sports broadcasting legends, have Doug This guy should not be allowed to do horseshoe pitching tourna.
I'm willing to bet we are going to discover quite a bit about Clarence Thomas when he decides on the pormo case. Anyway, wouldn't you pay just a little money to find out whether or Anita Hill was telling the truth?
Imagine this: Roger Ebert naked on rollerskates. (Thought courtesy of Brian Gewirtz).
I found it odd that the Syracuse University Bookstore was sponsoring a student apprecia-

LETTERS

Education:

To the editor:
I am writing in comment of the discussion period that took place after the lecture given by Matty Rich. One person asked Matty what his view was on the relationships between blacks and whites. Rich's reply was that blacks know everything about the white man and the white man has yet to know about the has yet to
There is no question to the ruth in this staternent. The issue is now in educating This education is completely needed in that sorneone who has been educated completely by the American Education system will have learned biased opinions, not complete actual facts.
These biases turn in favor of the white man. This education takes on annother important form and that is up to the individual dealing with individual. Again during this discussion period a white male spoce his opinion on how grew up in an all white neighborhood and had no idea of black issues until he came to the Syracuse University campus.
In realizing that there is a very strong issue he became involved in educating himself on these issues. To_my dismay breath and deterioration of the brain.
Cartons sold in the United States already discuss the hazards faced by pregnant women when they smoke. Birth defects and children born addicted to nicotine are only two side effects to smoking while pregnant. Second-hand smoke is also potentially dangerous, since it has been said that children living with smokers as parents are just as susceptible.

Warnings on cigarette packages need to be strengthened and then heeded. The tobacco companies should clearly display the dangers involved in the use of their product, just like any other detergent or household cleanser. Not only would it increase the awareness of the consumer but perhaps even respect for the tobacco companies as well.

ular demand

tion day last week. In other words, we're still going to rip you off, but we will rip you off 10 percent less today.

Crossing Waverly and Comstock avenues is a little like playing Russian Roulette. Come to think of it, University and College places were not that dangerous last year. The university should consider some modifications to the traffic plan as soon as possible.

Four out of five Daily Orange columnists use dentists who recommend Trident gum. 1 am dentists who recom that fifth columnist.

Wouldn't it be Wonderful if the university gave us a random day off every month?
I'll say George and Barbara Bush having sex. The rest, however. is strictly up to your imagination,

The year before I carne to SU, the Carrier Dorne concerts were Billy Joel, Eric Clapton, and the Rolling Stones. Meanwhile, Ive had and the Rolling Stones. Meanwhile, I've had and the New Kids on the Block. Something's terribly unfair.

In case you're wondering, m"* bathroom experiences have been more pleasant as of late. Have a fantastic week. But if you don't, just remember I had nothing to do with it.

a critical step for all

while he"was speaking there was a lot of negative reaction happening in the audience. One particular individual yelled, "Time's up." That comment is what prompted me to write this article. I happen to be a white person who just recently transferred to Syracuse from the state of Montana. Believe the state of Montana. Believe me, if anyone doesn't know the me, if anyone doesn't Americans, it is me. Not only Americans, it is me. Not ondy neighborhood, but I grew up in a state where not a lot of African-Americans live. Igrev African-Americans live. Ig racism, that towands the Native American.

A very good friend of mine, a Native American, taught me about her culture, her spirituality and her frustrations of what has happened to her people. I happened to her people. I became angry with her because lsaw so much beauty to what she believed in and how it was she believed in and how it wa taken away by men such as taken away by men such as my white ancestors. I took an active role in trying to educate students in Montana about the role of the Native American.

I realized the first step was in the education of mainly white individuals who had been taught minimally about the Indians. This shocked me because of the large percentage of Native Americans who live in Montana, and not that much is really known about their culture. This is another product of the white, biased education system. Out of sight, out of syster mind.

Upon coming to Syracuse I saw this again but with A frican Americans. Yet coming from so far away these issues were new to me and I am also trying to educate myself on them. As with any issue of oppression there is a lot of anger. A black person who grew up watching white people and dealing with racism is angry when a white person comes along not knowing about them and their issues.
However, this white person is also a product of this white, biased media. Now it's back to education, and this being most importantly done on an individual basis. If a white individual speaks about how he is educating himself on black issues say, Bravo and that he should then educate the next person and so on. Yet When he is shunned for saying this, how can this communication and education begin?

Whitney Gilbert
Class of 1993

LETTERS

Nobody is perfect

To the editor:
Who cares? Does it really matter? Can it really be any better? Those are my questi I am not talking about the repetition of fried chicken at Ine dining centers; no, what I'm discussing is the disgraceful process which Clarence Thomas had to go through in the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings.
It is not that I condone what Thomas allegedly said - as a matter of fact I am disgusted and appalled by hisalleged actions - but honestly, who cares if he said it or not? Is. anyone perfect? I do not believe so. I think that everyone has skeletons of some sort in their closet. After seeing the hell Thomas has gone through, people wic office, since they will feel pressure about their past and are concerned he public knowledge.
be public knowledge.
I am not trying to
I am not trying to pass my judgement on whether or not Thomas should have been appointed, but I question the way the process was used and abused. Honestly, even if Clarence Thomas had said ten years ago what he was accused of, should that have held him back as a justice, especially since what he was accused of saying had no bearing on what, type of judge he will be? Even type of judge he will be?
if he did say what he was accused of; that doesn't mean he doesn't know the difference between right and wrong. I am not saying that Thomas was the best possible nominee was the best possible nomine for justice around but did the other garbage really the other garbage really matter? I do not believe so. H matter? I do not believe so. He should have been appointed or should have been appointed or not appointed on the basis of not appointed on the basis of his credentials of being ajudge. Ted Kennedy is commonly considered to be a womanizer, but the fact is he gets the job done; he serves the people of Massachusetts well, whether or not he is a womanizer. Should he be held back from doing a goodjob for the peopl and thus hurt the citizens of

The Daily Orange

Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971
Ediror in Chief
Managing Editur
Jodi Lamagna
 year by The Daty Orangse Corporations. 744 Onmom Ave., Syracuse, NY 13211 Telephone: Editocial 4i.3-2127: Business 444.2314 . Alf contents Copyright wit99
by The IJaity Orunge Corporation ar Juv num be reprinied without ithe expreswad

Massachusetts because he has personal faults?

It would be like if Syracuse

 University were to look into every applicant's personal past before they decide to except or reject that student. On occasion. SU will find out that a student smoked cigarettes before the age of eighteen and the university will reject that student on that basis, not on the basis of what type of student they would be. This is obviously improper.- Listen up Americans, you are the ones whocould have ruined a man's life. You are the ones interested in the type of journalism that hurts people. The American public wants to find "dirt" on public people This could have destroyed Thomas. More importantly, this entire episode has hurt this entire episode has hu the future of this nation. Anyone who has a dark side Anyone who has a dark side in their past will be afraid to in their past. will be afraid to seek a high power public office seek a high power public office because they will not want to because they will not want suffer the torment or the suffer the torment or the humiliation that Thomas did An example of this is that the United States may have lost a presidential hopeful in Mario Cuomo for good because of the trauma Thomas went through. Cuomo had not wanted to run for president before and now it is even less likely. Many people believe that he has not entered the race because he is afraid his family will go through investigation and controversy that he does not want to dragg them through. ABC. NBC, and CBS to please put on General Hospital, AM My Children and As the World Turns for good. Please never put any types of hearings on again. At least those soap operas are meant to be soap operas; our United States system is not supposed to be a soap opera. This entire process has been a disgrace to our system!

Class of 1995

WOMEN
Continued from Page 4 making families pay for these books," she said.

Donated materials
The topics of these books include manners at the dinner table, an odd subject "for people who live primarily in shacks without water, electricity and sewage," she said.
"In one particular secondary chool students have no textbooks, walk 10 kilometers both ways to school and cultivate a garden for their lunch," she

The UNO administration also cut health care, while medicine is no longer free, she said.
"A new policy pushed by the new government was that workers in government johs can Bet four months salary if they quit their jobs and agree not to work in another government job for tour years," she said.

This policy resulted in understaffing of hospitals and schools, she said,

Now that the Sandinistas are not in government control many of the people who fled in 1979 are returning to claim their land and the cooperatives are refusing to give up the land, she said.

The Sandinistas are now regrouping and focusing more on democratizing for the next election in 1996, Levy said.

Paul Siegel

Associate Professor of Communication Arts at Gallaudet University, Adjunct Professor of Media Law at American University, former board member of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force and of the American Civil Liberties Union, Former Executive Director of the ACLU's Kansas and Missouri offices.
will speak on...

Gay and Lesbian Rights: A Free Speech Issue

DATE: Wednesday 23 October
TIME: 7-9 pm
PLACE: Hall of Languages 115

Lynn  Shepodd

Executive Director of National Coming Out Day, former Co-Chair of the Lesbian/Gay Caucus California Democratic Party, 25 year veteran of the civil rights, peace, environmental, and gay and lesbian rights movement.
will beconducting a...
Workshop: "Coming Out: The Key to Freedom"

DATE: Tuesday 22 October TIME: 6-9 pm
PLACE: Slocum Auditorium

```
Your Student Fee SpeakingOut...
```

City Life

Around $\frac{9}{\text { ETown }}$

Legendary blues man

 to play in IthacaBuddy Guy, the blues guitarist that has influenced such blues artists as Eric Clapton and Jeff Beck, will perform in The Haunt in Ithaca on perform in The Haunt in Ithaca on Tuesday.

After 10 years away from the recording studio, Guy's playing is currently featured on his new album Damn Right, I've Got the Blues, and 24 Nights, Clapton's new live album.

The concert will include older works and songs from Guy's new album, which features guest performances by Beck, Clapton, Mark Knopfler and others.

The concerts will be at $7: 30$ and 10:30 p.m. on Tuesday. Tickets are $$ 12$. For more information, call (607) 273-7677.

Lawmakers to reconsider Off Track Betting policy

Legalized gambling, a local nonssute for the last 15 years, has become a key issue in Onondaga County
Spain. efforts to gain gambling revenues, county legislators are consjdering the installation of Off Track Betting parlors. These parlors could raise more than $$ 3$ million a year for the county.
The issue of legalized gambling has been largely avoided since 1976 when a similar proposal was soundly defeated in a referendum. Onondags County is currently the largest county in the state without OTB.

One factor that could cause friction among legislators is the percentage of gambling proceeds that would benefit the county.

Young suggested 1 percent of the gross going to the county and an additional 1 percent benefitting arts organizations in Syracuse.

While legislators have not yet been as specific with their plans, they have said they would like a larger percentage to go to the county.

Wornen in Comimunications

 sponsors Liverpool seminar The 44th annual Public Relations Institute, sponsored by the Central New York chapter of Women in Communications, will be held Oct 30 at the Quality Inn North, Buckley Road, Liverpool."A Dynamic Exchange of Information" is the theme for the program, which will include a workshop on target marketing and a panel discussion on the rights of the press.

Panelists include Dan Cummings, WIXT-TV: Mark Carros. WSTM-TV Stan Linhorst. Syracuse HeraldJournal; and others.

The keynote luncheon speaker will be 'Mary Ann Shaw, associate to Syracuse University Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw.

The $$ 50$ fee for the seminar includes lunch and a copy of the $P R$ Yellow Pages, an annual listing of Central New York newspapers, radio and television stations.

For more information, call 4250953 or $488-1927$ by Thursday. - Compiled from staff and daily newspaper neports

THROUGHRANORSNON..

Program supplies soldiers abroad with letters

By ADAM BATES  Contributing VVriter  Delores Dunham is an elderly resident of Syracuse. Now retired, she spends her time doing artwork and crafts,  But when the holidays come around, she also busies herself with writing to men and women in the armed services.  Along with numerous other people and schools in the community, Dunham participates in writing letters to soldiers away from home through a Fioridabased program called Military Mail Call.  During Christmas and Valentine's Day, the program gathers letters from Day, the program gathers letters from participants and distributes them to military units all over the world.  military units all over the world. Dunham has been sending 10 to 13 letters each Christmas for the past two years.  "I like to support these men and women by telling them the news of the community and a little about myself," Dunham said. "Some of them have noth: ing. so it's good for them to get these letters."  Dunham has also received some responses. "Last year a sailor wrote me a couple of times," she said.  I think they are very happy to tell as much as they can about where they're stationed and what they're doing;" she said.  Letters from students  Elizabeth Stagg is a fourth grade

Elizabeth Stagg and her kindergarten class write letters to soldiers for different holidays.
teacher at Cherry Road Elementary colleges and universities across the naSchool in Solvay, just outside of Syracuse, who has her pupils write letters through. the progrann.
"Each of them addresses their letters 'Dear Friend,' and they start by giving some information about themselves, followed, by some TLC or "Tender Loving Care, and then they inciude a decoration." Stagg said. "Out of 21 letters, we receive four or five responses, and I've seen the kids continue correspondence with some soldiers."
Military Mail Call literature says that they had "outstanding support from

- Niagara-County Community Coljege in Sanborn, N. Y.. placed irst in the ration in support last year.
The Air Force ROTC at Syracuße had not previously heard of this mail service, but said it was similar to other mail delivery services.
${ }^{\prime}$ During the Gulf War, a serviceoriented group called the Arnold Air Society ceveloped a similar mall projecs said a public relations officer for the Air Force ROTC.

Gottfried leaves crowd in stitches

Manic comedian pumps Pump House audience

Comedian Gilbert Gottfried (Kindergarten Cop. Beverly Hills Cop 2 , Problem Child 1 and 2) performed at the Pump House Sunday night, and he did not disappoint.
His bizarre sense of humor, combined with his manic delivery, kept the audience in stitches throughout the 45minute set.

JODI

LAMAGNA

COMEDY REVIEW

He opened by tellHe opened by ing the audience it was time to was time to go home. "Get out". he home. You came saw me. Now get out. Here's what I look like. Now go."

When no one moved, he sighed. "I don't want to be here any more than you do," he said with resignation. "So let' me barrel through this and we can get out of here."

A crowd of about 300 people was continually amused by Gottfried's perstation WKFM-KIX 104.7.
Bizarre means to a funny end
The hilarity of Gottfried's performance comes from his unique delivery of the jokes - the delivery that has become his signature.

He scrunches up his face and screams his point to the audience. He will often his point to the audience. He will often again, driving the humor home.
Somehow, it gets funnier with each Someho
"I was talking to Nostradamus (a few hundred years ago)," Gottfried said, "and he predicted that Henry Winkler would have his own show."
"Back then people were like, 'Winkler? Nah. Chachi. Yeah. But Winkler? Chachi, sure. But Winkler? i mean, Chachi, sure. But Winkler? No.

He pointed out that women's magazines often say a man's looks are not important to women. "Women want a sense of humor," he explained. "Women would trample all over Torn Selleck to get to Buddy Hackett."
"Women stay awake at night, dreaming about the Three Stooges. They tear at their nightshirts and scream, 'MOE!'" He also explained that scientists do not misuse the word "literally."
"If a scientist says he literally hit the ceiling, then he hit the ceiling," he said.

Slow day for Steve

At one point, Gottfried had a complaint to make. "This morning I waited 15 minutes before a new Steven King novel came out. I was really worried there for a while," he said.
Gottfried ended the show with his impersonation of Andrew Dice Clay. He pulled up the collar on his shirt, pretended to smake a cigarette and began.

'Dynasty'

Oh, what a glorious romp in the trash heap. Dynasty is back in all its wicked splendor, bad writing and acting intact.

The show, which ran for almost nine years, also brings MATTHEW same for1. PALM mula that ABC's biggest hit of the 1980 : TELEVISION REVIEW

 (Linda Evans) are back for more sex, glitz and bad acting in Dymasty: The Revmion, which concludes tonight at 9 on Channel 9.
real time and picks up almost three years later. But how the mighty have fallen.

The Nazi treasure was given away to avoid embarrassment. A recovered Blake is in jail. Sammy Jo (Heather Locklear) has lost her ranch, and Blake's company has been taken over company has been taken over Sachs) has somehow kept his job.

Even the home where the feuding clan lived and loved for almost a decade has been repossessed.

Only Alexis is still up to her bejeweled ears in caviar, champagne and mink. She's involved with a mysterious businessman, Jeremy Van Dorn (Jereon Krabbe).

Blake is released from jail and is told Krystle is atill in her - 2code

The Reunion uses the idea of acting, to trash TV
coma. But wait (dramatic music), she is fine, albeit brainwashed to kill her husband.

In a tribute to David Lynch, ceiling fans reminiscent of Twin Peaks trigger Krystle's brain-, washed instructions. - She is in the power of an evil consortium (music begins to cresevery major company in America. The ruthless leader of the consortium is none other than Jeremy. (Freeze on shocked face and fade to commercial.) Improbable? Yes. Campy? Of course. But like all good reun-- to its roots.

Who cares about acting?
The bad acting never really mattered because the characters weren't real - they were caricatures. And they are still as deliciously entertaining as ever.

Blake is still fighting for truth, justice and the American capitalist way. Blake's gay son Steven (Al Corley) continues his angst-ridden "accept me for who I am" speeches.

As Entertainment Weekly said, Krystle's halo still shines through her hair spray. Sammy Jo is tramp, tramp, tramping in wet T-shirts, tight jeans and married men's beds.

And fickle Fallon still changes her mind over which man in her life to marry on a weekly basis. Specific low points include: Alexis forgetting Adam is adopted and Kirby (Kathleen Beller) ignoring the fact Adam raped her years ago.

In fact, the recasting of Adam is a dismal failure. Sachs cannot deliver the oily schmoozing of the character like his predecessor, Gordon Thomson, did.

But there are definite high points. Sammy Jo has a few stinging lines of dialogue. Pretending to be her lover's secretary, she saucily gasps to Alexis over the phone, "He's not ... in yet" as he straddles her in bed.

Sammy Jo also greets Alexis with the snappy line, "Weren't you .my mother-in-law at one time?"

Classic camp
Krystle's reaction when she returns to her home, only to find her family gone and her possessions being auctioned is classic, and the music, as always, is fantastic.

Besides being accessible to first-time viewers, The Reunion offers some inside tidbits to longtime fans. Steven's lover is a character he helped come to terms with his homosexuality five or six years ago.

Kirby recalls the details of her exile from the family mansion in the mid-1980s.

And when Jeff (John Jarnes) asks Fallon about the cop she's sleeping with, fans know he means Johnny Zorelli, her boyfriend at the end of the series.

All in all, forget the reces sion, the Persian Gulf war and sexual harassment for s night, Despite their crumbling empire, the Carringtons are still living high on the hog.

The campy world of Dymasty is stuck in the yuppiedom of the Reagan era, the decade of greed and excess.

And that's exactly how it should be.

RESEARCH

Continued from Page 1
Representatives from other chools said that they too had found errors in the findings.
"We should believe nothing the administration promises until the budget actually comes out," Honig said. "When it is finally revealed, we should request proof that the ratio of funds allocated to research in the new budget should not have changed to the old budget.
"Where is the money going?." Sullivan asked. "How can researchers fet credit for the money that they bring in?
"It would seem that money obtained through outside research funding is put on a lower level than the dollars derived from tuition.".

CUOMO

Continued from Page

and threatening taxation "here is where you are in the state and in Onondaga County." he said.

Through his efforts to balance the budget - closing a $$ 6.5$ million gap - Cuomo said 180,000 state workers were cut "It's goiner to be more than 10 percent," he said. The state also laid off 7.000 workers.

Inefficiency in government delays legislation and the budget wastes money, he said.

He proposes tightening reins of incumbents by limiting their expenses and forcing them to expedite action. The overdue state budget delayed legislation, he said. Legislators should "forfeit their salary."
"If we can't get the job done on time, go home and explain it to your family, or go explain it to your banker," he said.

The future for state and local governments lies in consolidation of resources such as school districts, police forces and social programs, he said. The state's 57 counties and 931 towns and villayes need consolidation. Cuomo said.
"What does the pure intellect tell us?" he asked. "Restructure."

Before the state initiates any action, the public must understand, he said. "People don't want change."
"We are dealing with an audience that doesn't understand why," he said. The public must be informed and educated about restructuring, he said.

SGA

Continued from Page 1
"It's not fair to the students," he said. "The gyms are already so cluttered with people that it's dangerous. It's a terrible idea."

Wetter said he would consider the Assernbly's opinions before submitting a proposal.

SGA then confirmed Neil Sutter as elections commissioner and heard contingency requests from ninestudentorganizations.

The following groups received contingency funds:

- Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD)-requested $$ 3995$ and received $$ 2667$.
- Syracuse University Musical Stage -requested $$ 8950$ and received $$ 4310$.
- Sour Sitrus Society - requested $$ 2250$ and received $$ 680$. - Society of Professional Journalists - requested $$ 1050$ and received $$ 600$.
- Alternative Orange - requested $$ 9000$ and received $$ 3080$.
- Undergraduates for a Better Education-requested $$ 600$ and Education-re received $$ 600$.
- Hispanic American Society Hispanic American Society (HAS - requested $$ 6600$ and received $$ 4422$.
- French Club - requested $300 and received $$ 100$.
- Syracuse University for Animal Rights - requested $$ 600$ but was tabled until next meeting.

CAROUSEL CENTER CINEMAI
466-5678
$\because$-EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!

- INDOOA PARKING $\rightarrow$ SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKETING + 12 MOVIES TO CHOOSE FROM + DOLBY STEREO - PLUSH SEATING (with ajp holders) + WIDE ROW SPACING

Our 33rd Year Student Discounts on Scheduled Europe Flights

Fly Roundtrip or One-Way to Europe on Leading Scheduled Airlines.

Daily Departures From Most U.S. Cities to 75 Foreign Destinations. YOUR ONE-STOP STUDENT TRAVEL SHOP

EURAIL PASSES:
EURAIL PASSES:
The ideal way to travel in Europe...on European Express Trins knowith for their speed, comfort and punctuality. For $$ 380$
you have unlimited travel throughout Western Europe (excluding Great Britain). Available for periods of 15 days to 3 months. BRITRAIL PASSES:
Valid for unlimited train travel throughout England. Scotland and Wales. Valid for periods ranging from 8 days to 1 month. INI $=$ RNATIONAL YOUTH HOSTEL HANDBOOK:
A de iled directory listing 3,600 hostel locations and facilities where accommodations are available at rates starting at $$ 7.50$ per night.
INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE ID CARD:
Gains you access to significiant student discounts throughout Europe at Museums, Castles. Palaces. Student hoteis, Concerts, Operas, Bus and Boat routes and Inter European flights on European Airlines. Also includes basic medical insurance while abroad and a 24 -hour toll free worldwide hotline to assist you with travel emergencies. Cost of the card: $$ 15$. EXPRESS CARD SERVICE:
If you need an International Student Exchange ID right away, send us your name. address. date of birth. nationality. name of your school. a $2^{\prime \prime} \times 2^{\prime \prime}$ photograph and the $\$ 15$ fee. Your card will be mailed to you the same day we receive your order!

Call or Write: International Student Exchange Flights Inc. 5010 E. Shea Blvd., Suite A104-APF Scottsdale, AZ U.S.A. PHONE: 602/951-1177

FOR YOUR FREE STUDENT FLIGHT CATALOG,

MAIL THIS COUPON please print or type

TO:

YOUR NAME: (Mr. Ms),
YOUR ADDRESS
AT COLLEGE:
(Street & Apt. M)

YOUR ADDRESS
AT HOME:
(Street & Apl. M)
(Cityl_- ISlate) [Zip Codel
NAME OF THE UNIVERSITY WHAT YEAR IN SCHOOL:
YOU ARE ATTENDING. IF ANY:

Classifieds

NOTICE

THE DAILY ORANGE CLASSIRED AD PROCEDURE: 5250 for the lirst 15 worts, 10e for osch addinional word, 5 E antra for each bold word, Se entra for bach CAPTALQED Word.

| Notices |
| :---: |
| COSTURES:  Flappers, gangelers, renaissance, etc. Wigs, make-4p. masks. BOOM EABIES Vintage Clothing Rertals avalable MC & Visa South Beech at Westrott 1 $-7pm / Monday-Saturday / 472-1949 |

youtl giggle..

When yous call.

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

Call now...
1-900-896-0033

Contact Lenses $99

Price includes fitting and 1 pair of soft lenses, care kit and follow-up visits. Valid prescription required.

For an appointment for an eye examination please call 478-EYES
Student discounts available

Madison Irving Medical Center 475 Irving Avenue Syracuse, NY 13210

RAISE 3500 ... 3 t000.. $$ 15000$ : FOOLPFOOF

 nemt raquical, AR now or tho change io win canblean cruse and lasumous prizeg! Call 180 050-8472. exh 50 .

FOR SALE Autos  1985 SAAB Tutbo 4 tr 585 surroot loather hacded new tires bathary VGC 5300 eve 492-4074  1984 Ausoh Corvantie - 30mpg. naw tiras, hi miemon, 52495 , eall Joff $437-1900 \times 4250$ 8ammiame 5pm.  Solfing Chevy impala 1981. tucetlert shape, no nas. claan. 51200 . Mourkain Bike, Ralaigh, s200. Cal 423-0489.  Equipment  Sterso- Yamaha sterso receiver $\$ 180$. Pionear cd layer \$150. Bang is olutsen turtiable $\$ 90$. Call 23-352:  Misc. For Sale  Wine and Liquar mirrors, Huge Genny riatables, atow neon signs, Two large clocks. Leave message 445-1523.  EMPLOYMENT  HOME NEEDED for a 13 year old gitt who is in a whesl chair and requires assisiance. Home nodificalons provided as nocessary. Sitestamial rosmbursemant previded. If you or someone you know is interestod in providing a loving home. David Shipe at (315)425-5311  Imfnedizte P/T pasizion avaiabia in ephthamolgy practica for Medieal Fling clerk in SU aroa. Expractice ior Medical Aling clerk in SU aroa. Ex salary negotiablo. Phasse contact Winnie Earla at 470-7474.

keod PR expevincen? The Schine Sudert Certer witing and cormpurar praptics skinis. This ta a paid suchara poakion, with a comerminers of $10-15$ hour pat wook. Contact Kan Jecobls al $\times 2718$ by October 2 AR BEA PART OF THE SCH NE TEAMA1 WA

WANTED
Help Wanted
Know Betore You Go," whara to work, live and situ ree in Coloredo's resorts. Current Guide to Neppen. Vail Breckenidge and moral $15.85. Cal 1-800 788-6174.
Balkon and gitt basket datwary person neaded High pay for one hour a day doing delivers from dowruown store. Must have own car. Cak 425-0009.

Roommates

Remt Larr-May. Westcont flat: seatirg temale to fil third room, preder grad student. S245/morth 123-0645 days. Must Sea!
FOR RENT
Apartments
GRAD STUDENTS WANTED: Studio apt. 2 bedroom aparments. Al uizanes included. Secured building Laundry room. No pets Corner of Comstock 8 Marisen 635-5322, 635-3537/oves.
$1,2,3,4$ bectroon apanmerts, mommate situations OH streat parking. Laundry, clean. large reasorable. 474-6791.
FOF RENT: 3 BEDROOM APARTMENT Westear Sireer furmished, washer and dryer. parking

FAll \& SPRING aceepting Senior \& Gratuar malo a lernale stucents to fil soveral 4odr apantments. 1 indivaat of. Rates: Basic fumishe model $\$ 230.00$; Designer/Deluxe model $\$ 325.00$ and Standart Sis. Thess apartmems ane in an ex cellers $\times$ block walking location and are nicaly furnishod with beck, desks, drassers and tivngroom lumiture. Call 673 -1344 for a choice siudert apt.

ATHLETE (ACROSS FROM PIZZA HUT) 727 S. CROUSE AVENUE  #1 STORE FOR HATS!  Its's Week 8 in the NFL--  Get Your Favorite Team's Hat Now! NFL NBA NHL ProBaseball College WFL Greek Fitted Hats Available

Over 3,000 Hats 500 different styles to choose from!

AVAILAEEE TCOAYI ONES TWO BEDPCOM APARTMENTS. Kiccion, IVingroom, baltroom, bedrom(s). parking handry. uitios heubed. $420. $$ 485 . \mathrm{mpo}$. Call Marbe 8:30-400, 443-2567.
Standart SL excellera E.S.F. 3 Bedroom, claan. 5650 per month. 637-1344.
2-5 Becroon Apt. Euclid and Ackemman Ave. Parking, Laundry, Fumished, 24tr, maintenance. Jan'32 and Spring'92 options. Gat an Earty start on pour housing neves cal der-200.
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APARTMENTS. Very close. Secure. Quiet. Cappeted. Air Conctioned. Laundry. Parking University Area Apts.

Houses

Larpe. beautifut rooms in a nowiy remodalod mansion. On stroot parking, handry. e minues wak to campus $$ 300 . $ 325$ inel. Also desirate roomnata sifurtion availatia $$ 200 . $ 300.474-6791$

Rooms
grad student prot. heme, nast Evelide 435-899a.

PERSONALS

JOANNIE HAPPY 218t 日inthday 日LUES

 TRAVELERS, AMERICAN PIE, The Lion Sloeps Tonight, and Van Morrisons dactie Wison (Da, Di, Di, Di, Di, Da, Di, Di, Di, Di,..)GOOO TASTE. Hopa you had FUNi Oed 16 al Sutiers. The 01

Custon. T-Shirs! Cupst Glasswarel AND WOREI For LESS! Cal Shawn Lesser DYNAMC THOVATROHS 1-8C0-659-7745.

There will be a DRNVE BY SHOOTING in tront of Fergan's Pub Tuesday nipht

SERVICES
Typing. steno iding. etc. For all business neode. call toyce, 4746EOS icare.

Private Driving Lessors. Pick-Lp service. Full and retresher courses. ONONDAGA DRIVING ACADEMY 476-3995
Typing- For all your typing noeds- letters, manuscripts, diesertatiors, eic. Call Ruh Dowey at mantecipt 652.5814.

PAL SECRETARAL SERVICES Specializing in dissertaions Call Pattie Lastion at $685-3149$
Word Procesaing. Leser rasumea. Typing Marshil ST Above Acropefs 4750930

Engliah Tutevial Service offers proctroading of form papens, structured hescons and thping of documerres for local or inemational students. som S1/page 474-5591.

ADOPTION
LAUGHTEA, HUGS, TEDDYBEARS and Storytimes. We anxiously awala the crance to shara cur fives with an indarit Lets hep each oathor

Adeption- Christian couple have from in our ives for a white inati Legalmociea exporsess pelici Cal Dorma and Fichard collect $914-271$-6377.
Adopt- Happily married white couple warts 50 much to give your beby the best of evmyiting in our loving home
,
LOST & FOUND
Rewreft Buas dutila bag lost comer of Clarecton and Ackerner. Semimortal chathos Pwasa call with ary intormapion $424-09291422-6978$ ask for toe or Jen before 2 :oopm

PRIOR TO insertion date

NAKED MAN

IN FROM THE OUTSIDE

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS

SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

BY TWO JERKIES

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FRESHMAN
BY JAMES

ARCHIVES 1986 (GNU HOUSE BY UNTAMED SQUID)

TWISTED.WORLD BY MORRIS

THE YOOTHA FILE
BY LOP LOP

JOE AND MARK FRE NOT.
ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

Alex's last day of employment.
LIFEDEATHCATDOG
BY REX

CHESTER SPOKE SOFTLY. BUT HE CARRIED A BIG GARRACUDA.

14  By MATI SIMO  Stimi Writer  The Syracuse University volleyball team took its first major exam in a while over the weekend.  And, the Orangewomen, 18-3 and $5-1$ in the Big East, gave new meaning to the term pass/ fail, splitting their final home matches to conference foes Georgetown University and Villanova University.  After coming back to beat Georgetown, 14-9 and 2-2, Friday night in a five-game marathon (15-8, 4-15, 9-15, 15-6, 19-17), the Orangewomen were unable to repeat the comeback performance on Saturday. After overcoming a two game deficit. SU lost to Villanova in five  games, 15-10, 16-14, 11-15, 9 . 15, 15-13.  "Overall, I'm very proud of the effort," Syracuse coach Dan Schulte said. "I can't say I'm disappointed.  "This is the first time we've been tested in two weeks. I'd rather have a weekend like this than two easy matches. It helped elevate our level of play. Sometimes you eat the bear, and sometimes the bear eats you."  The wildcats, 21-2 and 4-0, blew a. $2-0$ lead but took advantage of Syracuse's exhaustion to win in the five grueling games. Villanova extended its match winning streak to 15 with the victory over the Hoyas and remained undefeated in the Big East.  The loss to Villanova ended

Orangewomen come back twice, win once the Orangewomen's match winning streak at 10 and spoiled Syracuse's bid for a perfect home record. SU finished the home season with a $13-1$ mark.

Outside hitter Debbie Bennett sparked Syracuse's comeback against the Hoyas late in the third game. Bennett served the Orangewomen to a 6-1 lead in the fourth game that soon became a $12-1$ lead before became a 12-1 lead before "Bennett's role is to be ultra intense and to hustle," Schulte said. "She puts a lot of herself into volleyball."
In the fifth game, based on rally scoring in which a point is awarded for each offensive and defensive effort. Syracuse overcame a 14-11 deficit and took its first lead at 17-16 after outside hitter Andrea Carson served upan ace.
The Orangewomen won the crucial game three points later. "When you're down 14-11, you normally lose," Schulte said. "We got the right breaks. We played a great first and fourth game."

Carson said this Georgetown match was special regardless of the great rivalry.
"(This win) is absolutely incredible," Carson said. "(Coach) told us to calm down and play like you want to play. We were too tentative out there. We've beaten them before, but it's never been like this."

The fatigue suffered from the Georgetown match caught up with the Orangewomen 16 hours later against Villanova.
Schulte had originally planned on playing younger players if his team got behind the Wildcats, but his decision to stay with the veterans kept Syracuse in the match.
"We went with the horses that got us there and I thought they could pull it off," Schulte said. "Our middle blockers were very tired. They showed a lot of character.
"1 didn't expect to be down 2-0. It was a long hard-fought battle. I hope we see thern in the semi-finals of the Big East Semi-rinals

Villanova coach David Barkley was worried about another possible Syracuse comeback.
"They came back and took us out of our game plan," Barkley said. "It. came down to guts in game five and could have gone either way. I was quite concerned."

Syracuse University setter Kathy Patton atten the Orangewomen's $3-2$ loss the Villanova University Wildcats last Saturday. SU defeated Georgetown University 3-2 Eriday night.

DON'T GROUND YOUR CAREER

Employers want experience! A CIP internship can give you the experience you need, let you try out a career, and earn elective credit.

Spring Semester internships now available in marketing, finance, PIR, radio, TV,

Don't miss out on this opportunity to get your career off the ground! Apply now for a CIP Spring ' 92 internship.

APPLICATION DEADLINE FOR

 SPRING '92: NOVEMBER 8LSAT Class Starting Oct. 29th Call for information

SETON

Continued from Page 16
Armenti. was forced to make a diving save at $14: 43$ on a Lee Davison blast from 20 yards out.
Then, midway through the half. Paul Young ricocheted a shot that went off Armenti and then the goalpost before bouncing away from the net.
Young had another chance with 8:03 remaining in the half when Eric Puls fed him the ball. when Eric Puis fed him the bail. Armenti deflected the ball
One reason for the Orangemen's aggressive oftense was the line-up change made by Foti which sent Chris Wright ip to center-midfield and Alexander over to Wright's sweeper-back position.
"We moved Wright forward becouse I think he adds a little spark to midfield." Foti said. "We thought we'd use thet little wrinkle and let it go. I think they both still played well."
hey both stin played well.
The second half was also Armenti.

FOCUS

Continued from Page 16

Giant call

When the Orangemen face Rutgers University on Saturday, they will be making their finh appearance at the Meadowlands in East Rutherford. N.J.

SUI: last appearance was a 34-16 loss to USC in last season's Kickoff Classic.

Syracuse's return to East Rutherford brought a eall from former coach Dick MacPherson on Monday.

Mac called wantiny me to say he worked all his life to pet a game in the Mcadowlands." Passqualoni said. " 1 "m here six months and we sot a same in the Meadowlands,
Prior to the Kickoff Classic. the last time Syrucuse played in the Meadowlands was in 1981. MacPhervon's first year with the Orangemen
Inter-state
People in New Yobk and New dersey tend to मet worked up on the rivalry theween the two staters.

First it was aver the Statue of Liberty and now the SVRutgers qumes

Pasquaslont said the Orangemen will be representing New Tork when they face Rutgers. the State University of New dersey.
"It"'s a metropolitan area," Pasqualoni said. "We're the State University of New York. Hopefully, we'll have a few fans there $\mathbf{t 0 0}$. It would be nice to see a whole lot of orange in the stands."
Stray whistle on "Missile"
Pitt tried to keep kickoffs away from SU's'Qadry Ismail. but it was a whistle from the stands which caught the 'Missile' off guard

In the second quarter. Ismail took the kickoIT on the sideline at the two-yard line. Ismail took off. but thinking the official had blown the whistle, he stopped.

Ismait. started again and ended up returning the ball 26 yards. The whistie came from the stands several more times, but Ismail still returned four kicks for 100 yards.

It turned out the whistle was coming from the stands.

GILBERT

Continued from Page 7

"Hickory, dickory. dock. The mouse runs up to the thing with he hum hum hum...
He continued with several of Dice's other jokes. substituting the obscenities with nonsensical screaming

This proved that one can be a comedian, and an entertaining one. without ressorting to fourletter words or obscene language.

Armenti shut down. SU Filed to two fast-break Pirate midfielder Paul Young who had goals. scored in ten of his last eleven games coming into thin one.
"I tried to place the ball. but he was just in the right position at the right time," Young said. H fuess he was the better man today."

Twenty-one minutes into the second half, Eric Puls was led second half, Eric Puls was led into the goal area on a centering into the goal area on a centering pass. Armenti was catught ont of position which left only defender Hector Zamora between Puls and the goal. Puls shot but Zamora was able to got a foot and deflect the shot.

Late in the game. Syracuse was forced to push up more players into the offense which

We had to push up a lot of people late in the game and they stole two at the end," Foti said. "But I'd rather lose 4-0 and try to win a game, rather than $2-0$ and playing conservative."

Young said the Orangemen had plenty of chances to come out on top.
"They scored two goals off defensive errors which put ourselves in a hole." Young said. "We worked hard all day to get back. We dominated the game, but if you don't score goals you're not going to win.
"If we had scored any time during the first half, we would have won this game.

D) 4 ( 5

1/2 DOZEN $$ 3.50$
1 DOZEN $$ 6.00$
DELVERED SAT. $26 T H$ & SUN $27 T H$ SIGN UP AT THE SCHINE STUDENT OFFIE
 126i ON OCTOBER $2: 22.23$ FROM 10-2

A SWITCH IN TIME

SAVES NINE.

Deriganted drimers are tha kery to long lastimy friendsbipa.
Don'f let a friend drink and drive. Comee join in a discussion led by Robert A. Durr, Assistant District Attorney of Onondage County, concerning issues of alcohol awareness ond drunk driving. Tuesday, Ocober 22

Maxwell Auditorium
7 pm

TODAY 4:00PM-5:00PM COME HEAR THE NEW RELEASE FROM

Be one of the first 15 people to purchase "EN-TACT" and you'll receive a FREE limited edition SHAMEN T-SHIRT

Sports

'Duke' fires empty 'Gunn' gets crowned  The "Machine Gunn" ran out of bullets on Saturday night.Tommy "the Duke" Morrison is best known for his role as Tommy 'Machine' Gunn in Rocky V, but after his performance against fellow heavyweight Ray Mercer, Morrison might consider lowering the curtain on his boxing career

JOSH

BARNETT

SPORTS

 OPINION Fifh round. for real wasn't as easy as it is in the movies and Morrison found out the hard way because there wasn't makeup on his face. Instead, there was the him.There was nobody there to yell "cut" except for New Jersey commission chairman Larry Hazard who screamed for the fight to be stopped.

Referee Tony Perez must not have liked the movie
Morrison's boxing career had been moving along fairly well, but when he decided to devote time to filming the movie, he may have made the wrong decision.

The attention he got inside the ring after that was mainly due to his activities outside the ring

You never heard Morrison referred to without him being called the man who played Tommy Gunn in Rocky.
Unquestionably, boxing is a game of glitz and glamour. Just look at Jorge Paez. Hector "Macho" Camacho and Vinny Pazienza.
For Morrison, movie stardom wasn't all bad. It got him on the undercard of the Evander Holytield-George Foreman fight.
Morrison escaped with a win, but looked terrible in a match with a relatively unknown Russian opporelativ
Morrison made another appearance on pay-per-view against Mercer and the show was stopped early.
And now at 22. Morrison must regroup and reassess what he wants to be when he grows up.
There are plenty of boxers turned actors, like Randall "Tex" Cobb, for example. Should Morrison choose to go the acting route, he can look forward to performing in "grunt roles" just like Cobb.

You need to be able to say more than "Rocky kicked my butt" in the movies to make it in Hollywood anyway.

Well moybe not. Look at Mr. T.
Morrison should stay in boxing. He has talent, but he needs to focus on the sport.
The label "Tommy Gunn" will follow Morrison throughout his career and it has put him in a position to be noticed.
Now, it's up to Morrison to make the necessary commitment and stick with boxing.

Athletics has been a vehicle for many sports stars to get into show business.
First, however, Morrison needs to make a bigger mark in boxing. Then he can mull through all the script offers that pile on his desk.

Ticucia

Question:Who did Tommy Morrieon's character in' Rocky V dereat to win the heavy weight'champignabip?
 Gity, mation Univeraty 104, in Etheretrion in:1966:

Hall decks SU quickly, 4-0

 Pirates take 2-0 lead, hold off Syracuse rush

Syracuse University midfielder Paul Young outjumps a Seton Hall defender in SU's 4-0 loss to Seton Hall on Saturday. Young had five shots on goal for the staggered Orange offense.

By JEFF ELBAUM
Staff Writer
The Syracuse University soccer team gave up two goals in the first nine minutes to Seton Hall on Saturday and wasn't able to recover.
The Orangemen, 7-7 and 2-4 Big East. controlled play for most of the garne but fell short to the Pirates, $8-2-1$ and 40 . 4-0.
"We got our wake-up call about ten Foti said. "We didn't start playing until about ten minutes into the game, and at that point it was $2-0$.
"You can dominate the game and not come out on top. That's just the way the game of soccer is played sometimes."

Many of the scason-high Carrier Dome crowd of 1,987 were still flling in when Todd Jacobs put the Pirates ahead 1-0 on a Gerson Echeverry cross at 3:27
Raul Barroso quickly made the score $2-0$ when he caught an Echeverry pass through the middle and put the ball past SU goalie Steve Pollnow.
"I thought we were prepared, but we came out flat," SU defender Richard A lexander said. "We were just flat and they sprang out at us."

After Barroso's goal, the Orangemen settled down and went to work offensively.

Pollnow didn't face another shot the entire first half, while the Orangemen forced ten shots in the direction of Pirates' goalie Steve Armenti.

See SETON Page 15

Orangemen focus on victory

Ey 1OSH BARNETT

In college football, there's plenty of off the field distractions, from the bands to the crowds.

For the Syracuse University football team, however, the diversions continued to mount on the field during Saturday's 31.27 win over the University of Pittsburgh.

The now 18th-ranked Orangemen had plenty of things that could have distracted them, including six turnovers, a missed field goal and a 37-yard touchdown pass right before halftime.

Syracuse did not become preoccupied with the outside influences and. according to SU coach Paul Pasqualoni, that concentration was the most important factor in the win.
"(The players) maintained their focus and their concentration," Pasqualoni said. "We'd like to compliment the guys for not allowing it to wear them down, to get to the point where it was so frustrating that they couldn't play
-Our level of execution was outstanding. The singleness of purpose issue, (and) the goal to beat Pitt: that's all we were concerned about. The intensity and the execution were the keys to the game.

Which Wooden?

Syracuse was without outside linebacker Jo Jo Wooden against Pitt, but there was another Wooden in Pittsburgh on Saturday.

Former Orangeman Terry Wooden. Jo Jo's older brother and a linebacker for the Seattle Seahawks, was on hand to the Seattle Seahawks, was

The younger Wooden suffered a partial tear of the posterior cruciate ligament in his lef knee against East Carolina University and will be out indefinitely.

"We had the perfect solution for do Jo's injury," Pasqualoni said. "Terry showed up Friday night and was going to be ready for the second half. We told him (equipment manager Kyle Fetterly) had No. 83 in the trunk and he could just putit on and go out there."

Terry, who played for SU from 1986 to 1989, is tenth on the Orangemen's career tackles list with 278.

Pasqualoni, who was Wooden's position coach while he was at Syracuse, said the former linebacker didn't even need a refresher course.

He said he remembered all the defenses and all the calls and if we needed him, he was ready." Pasqualoni said.

Sere FOCUS Pange 15
Leopards place spot

on Orange

ByGEPACOVICH

Staff Writer

The  Volume XXI, Number 39

Storch leaves Syracuse Stage

By ERIC GRODE

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Arthur Storch, chairman of the Syracuse University Drama Department and artistic producing director of Syracuse Stage since 1974, announced his resignation Tuesday.

Storch, 66, said at a press conference that he will step down on June 30 , the end of his current contract.

He plans to return to New York City and reaume his career as a free-lance director.
"Y've more than accomplished my fondest hopes in coming to Syracuse 18 years ago," Storch said.

Storch called the 18 years he apent at Syracuse, during which time he founded Syracuse Stage and built an endowment of $$ 1$ million, "the most creative, fulfill. ing and busiest time of my life.
he said. period of my life is now ending." he said.

His connections with SU and Syracuse

Arthur Storch leaves Syracuse Stage in June of 1992.
Stage will not end on June 30, however. He hopes to direct two plays a season at the theater, and teach master classes at She for at least four years.
Until then, he will direct George Bernard Shaw's Androcles and the Lion, which begins rehearsal next month at Syracuse Stage.
In addition, he will both direct and star in the season's final production, The Gin Game, with his ex-wife Virginia

Kiser.

While Storch saya he is equally proud of his work with both the drama department and Syracuse Stage, he prides ment and Syracuse Stage, he pricas hicoself on the fact that "when students leave the department, they are able to leave the department, they are Storeh an a professional freld.

he began thinking about resigning two yeara ago, but the semester he spent in London with drama department students made him reconsider.

Storch first informed students, faculty and Syracuse Stage staff of his resignation Tuesday morning. Later in the day. he addressed the theater's board of directors.

Discussions are currently underway between the board, led by Joan Green, and SU officials to form a search committee for Storch's successor."
Since 1974, Storch has seen Syracuse See STORCH Page 6

Chemistry clock

Physical Chemistry major Xinhua Qu does an iodine clock reaction in Bowne Halls Chemistry lab Tuesday afternoion.

Ticket scalpers now face stiffer penalties

By STEPIEN W. DILL

Contributing Writer
Scalpers selling tickets to Carrier Dorne events will face tougher penalties because of a new state law.
Last month, Gov. Mario Cuomo signed a bill that raises the penalty for scalping, or illegally reselling tiekets at a price or illegally reselling tickets at a price higher than face value. Fines will be increased and there is now a possibility increased and the of jail sentences.
"This new bill really puts some teeth into the acalping law," ssaid Pat Campbell, managing director of the Dome. "These guys better think twice about scalping because they can now face jail time," he said.
However, Campbell shid scalping is not serious at the Dome.
Reswlling a ticket at or below face value around the location of an event is more common. The law is also stricter for this offense
It is illegal to resell a ticket for a Dome event anywhere on campus, he said, but Dome management is primarily worried about the immediate area ay wornied about the immediate area around the Dome because of the size of around the the campus.

Resale areas

The law does say arenas can establish a resale area. However, tickets must be sold for face value and a receipt must be given to the buyer.
While Campbell said scalping is not a rnajor problem at the Dome, John Zre biec, director of SU Security, said he disagreed.
"Lart year the Dome had quite a bit of scalping going on, the said.

He baid two weeke ago SU Security arrested a man reselling atolen ticketa. The man was charged by Syracuse police with eriminal possestaion of stolen prop

Zrebiec said the law will effect the scalping and reselling of tickets around the Dome.
He said advance word of the law on the streets has kept scalpers awny from the Dome.

I have already noticed a difference this fall," he said.
Teams of SU Security officers and Syracuse police officers patrol large Dome events looking for illegal ticket reselling, Zrebiec waid.
However, Zrebiec said the biggest problem may not be with the scalping or reselling of tickets, but with the illegal sale of "bootleg T-shirts" at Dome concerts.

Arrests for those T-shirts happen more often than scalping," he said.

A team of U.S. Marshals works Dome concerts because bootleg T-shirts violate trademark laws which is a federal offense.

Orange Pack aid may go to scholarships

By KRISTINA SAUERWEIN

Asst. News Editor
To avoid a budget deficit of $$ 28$ million during the next four years, Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw proposed last month that the university's general scholarship pool of $$ 23$ million no longer allocate $$ 3.7$ million of its budget to athletic

If budget cuts compel the athletic department to pay for all or some of its athletic scholarships, Syracuse University athletic director Jake Crouthamel said it would have to rely on the Orange Pack booster club to raise scholarship money.

The booster club, formed in 1974, raises an extra $$ 2.5$ million to supplement the athletic department's annual budget of $$ 12.2$ million, Crouthamel said.
"I don't know that we could generate over a million dollars through booster revenues," he said. "I don't know if we could even come up with some number below that,"

Joseph Szombathy, Orange Pack director and assistant director of athletics, said he thinks the organization would have a difficult time increasing contributions during a recession.

Trying to come up with furnds
How much we can increase upon is anybody's guess," Sxombathy said. "But certainly, the Orange Pack would try to come up with as much additional funding as it could.
"We don't want to see the athletic department falter, and we don't want to see any varsity teams lose their status." Budget cuts will not affect SU's football and men's basketball programs, Crouthamel said.

The athletic department receives 70 percent of ite money from game revenues. Football and basketball games both generate about $$ 4$ million at the gate each season, Crouthamel said.
"We might be forced to make some cuts, but the athletic department won't do anything to undermine the two sports that bring in revenues," he said. That would be self-defeating."
The budgetary ax could eliminate scholarships for varsity athletics competing in what Crouthamel called nonrevenue producing sports.
"If asked to reduce costs and produce more revenues, the athletic department has to address the sports that don't bring in revenues." he said. "Basically. that 6
See ATHLETICS Page 6

Inside

Classified
.12
Comics

Editorial

Living
News Extra
Sports
Weather

Golden days

Curious George, Golden Books, Grimm fairy tales and Clifford the Big Red Dog have become staples of children's learning throughout the years. Find out more about the subtle art of storytelling when the Clever Gretchen conference comes to Syracuse University this weekend.

World

Guerrillas reported active in Haiti again

In the first indication of armed resistance since the Sept. 30 coup, soldiers killed three alleged members of a newly formed guerrilla group in a provincial town, a radio station reported.

Three soldiers were wounded in the shootout, which took place near the town of Petit-Goave, 40 miles west of Port-auPrince, Catholic-run Radio Soleil said Prince,
Monday.

Salvador, rebels fail

to OK cease-fire pact

Despite a sweeping United Nations peace accord in September, El Salvador's rightist govermment and lefist giterrillas failed to force a cease-fire agreement as talks neared an end in Mexico City Monday.
"The best we can hope is that a cease-fire may occur before Christmas," said United Nations negotiator Alvaro de Soto.

He said talks would resume in Noversber.

The 13-year-old conflict between successive U.S.-backed governments and the rebels has ciamed an estimated 75,000 lives.

Vietnam allows forced return of boat peopleThe British government announced Monday that it had persuaded Vietnam to let the authorities in Hong Kong fly 222 boat people back to Vietram againgt their will next month, and that it would keep trying to persuade Hanos to take back tens of thousands more.

Nation

Jack Ruby's gun to be sold at auction

The gun Jack Ruby used to shoot presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald to make him suffer" will be auctioned in December, Ruby's brother Earl says.

The auction is scheduled for Dec. 26 with the bidding to start at $$ 100,000$ according to Herman Darvick, an autographs and historical documents special. graphs and histomcal docum
The 38 caliber Colt Cobra revolver which Ruby bought for $$ 62.50$ in a Dallas gun shop, could be worth a quarter million dollars, Darvick said.
${ }^{\text {4tIt's part of history. It has to be the }}$ most valuable gun in private hands," he said. "People saw this live on televiation."

Huge lottery jackpot

still up for grabs

Florida lottery players snapped up tickets for a jackpot worth an estimated $$ 88$ million.

Tickets for Saturday's drawing sold at a rate of more than 8,000 a minute at midday.

The jackpot grew into the second biggest in Florida history after four straight weeks in which no one picked the six winning numbers out of 49 .

Famous footless goose

killed with boots on

Andy, a footless goose that learned to walk with special boots, was found in a park with its head and wings pulled off.

The animal was still wearing the boots when it was discovered dead Satur. day.

State

Cortland teacher quits

after sex abuse charge

A Cortland County teacher charged with sexual abuse has resigned from McGraw Central School District.

Mark A. Darou, 32, who was accused of fondling a third grader on a fishing trip while two other boys watched, turned in his letter of resignation Mon" day.

As part of a legal agreement, Darou will not face criminal charges as long as he continues with psychiatric counseling, officials said

The alleged incident occurred when the boy went on a fishing trip with Darou in the town of Homer, south of Syracuse.

Cayuga County hikes

sales tax 8 percent

The Cayuga County Legislature voted Monday to jack the county sales tax from seven to eight percent beginning in March.

Increasing sales tax will keep county property taxes for 1992 and 1993 at this year's rate.

Plans call for putting one-half of one percent of the sales tax revenues into a dedicated fund to use for infrastructure and cconomic development.

Lawmakers said they are also considering increasing county property taxes by 21 percent.

MWe started with a $$ 4.6$ million increase in the tex levy," Jeffrey L. Ed. crease in the tax levy," Jeffrey L. Edwards, finance committee chair, said. wards, finance committee chair, said.
"We worked it down to a $$ 3.3$ million "We worked it down to a $$ 3.3$ million increase, just about all of which would increase, just about go to social services."

University  Enrollment for fall

lower than last year

11,495 undergraduates and 4,463 graduate students have registered this fall on the main campus of Syracuse University.

Total enrollment at SU is 20,906 , a 4.5 percent decrease compared to last year's figure of 21,900 . This includes registration at University College and the Division of International Programa Abroad.
"These figures come as no surprise, said Thomas $F$. Cumminge Ir., vice president for enrollment management and continuing education.

According to Cummings, a few significant factors have had an impact on this semesters' enrollment.
"Last year, I gpeculated that the college-going rate - which had experienced a 12 percent increase nationally during the 1980 s - would level off or decline, and this has been confirmed," Cummings said.
"The college-going rate declined by .5 percent for 1990 ," he said. "This small downturn is noteworthy for two reasons: It is the first such downturn in the it is the inrst such downturn in the college-going rate since the early 1970 s , and it corroborates the notion that a and it corroborates the notion that a precipitous decline in enrollment could have happened only if the collegeugoing rate had begun to decline," he aaid.

Finally, as the cost of attendance at the most prestigious universities rose during the 1980 s , that cost was not offset by sufficient increases in federal student ajd to adequately assist the middleincome family," he said.

He said about one-third of all Syracuse undergraduates are from New York state. The other two-thinds are from out

Correction Policy

Daily Orange stalf mernbers work toward full, fair and accurate news coverage. We will correct, on this page. factual inaccuracies in our reporting.

An article in the Oct. 18 issue of The Daily Orange incorrectly stated that the campus Rape Crisis Center received funding from the United Way of Central New York. The Rape Crisis Center of Syracuse, inc is funded by the United Way.

The Daily Orange regrets
this error.

WEATHER

rour subscription to The Wall Street Joumal at student savings 4 of up to $$ 6450$ off the regular subscription price.

That's a pretty generous otfer. Especially when yout conotfer. Espect it actually represents. Tuition for the real world. Journal, we recognize that experience is something you donit start earning until after graduation. But while you're waing. we can give you a head start by providing some of the same competitive advantages that experience brings.

For instance, our wide-ranging news coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex worli of business.

Our tightly focused feature reporting prepares you for your more specific ambitions - whether in management. accounting, finance, technology, marke ing or small business.

Ard our indepth analysis belos you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more persuasive way.

The Wall Street Journal.
ysu Exa 15 h Sum suric ists
1hew York NY:0017
CISrod me oore yerrof The Wall Somer loural

Native American

 summer-Ir keeping with political correctness and throwing good old rectness and throwing good old Associated Press style to the Associated Press style to the wind; we'll have a Native Ameriwind; well have a Native American Summer day. Expect sun and temperatures nearing 70 for this perfect fall Wednesday Tonight will be cloudy and mild with temperatures around 50 .

Friday

The weekend will kick off Friday with partly sunny skies and warm temperatures. Expect highs in the mid 70 s and lows between 50 and 55 .

Temperatures across  the country  Atlanta  Eoston  Chicago  Dallas  Detroit  Los Angeles  Miami  New York. Philadelphis  San Francisco  Santtle  Washington, D.C.  C.

Today'sguest city:SaultSte Maric. Mich. .

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse Univeraity's independent srejent-ran newapaper publithed Monday through Friday.
The newppaper is dimtributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campusen.
The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thuraday.

Nowr: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifeatyle: 443-2128
Sportar 443-2208
Business/Advertising: 443-2314

News Extra

Co-op program provides valuable work experience

Students participate in their field of study

By GENARO C. ARMAS

Sraff Writer

Syracuse University's cooperative education program provides undergraduates with an unparalleled and vital work experience within a student's major, according to Jean Keough, cooperative education director for the College of Human Development

In its eight years, the program has received positive feedback from students, faculty, administration offifeedback from students, facul.

The program is especially beneficial for students, she said.

Co-op programs run as paid internships, Keough said. Students are placed in a company involved in their field of study for a semester, and are assigned responsibilities just like any other employee, she said.

The program is divided into two stages. The first stage usually occurs during the summer of a student's sophomore year.
"Though students are placed in a company relating to their major, the primary goal of the initial experience is to determine whether that major is best suited for you," Keough said.

Nothing like it

There is nothing like co-op that enables you to confirm or reconsider the choice of your major," said Ronald Cavanaugh, vice president for undergraduate studies.

Keough said the second stage, which takes place during the junior or senior year, matches the student as closely to a field of study as possible. "The primary goal in this stage is to test the type of working environment that you will seemingly spend the rest of your life in," she said.

Students also choose the type of lifestyle they want to lead and where they want to live, whether it be New York City or in the middle of Arkansas, she said.

One of the most important aspects of co-op is that it gives young people a perspective on the work area that they would never have had before,: Cavanaugh said. It provides people with a chance to faminarize themselves within the workplace as well as giving them themselves within the workpla

Most atudents who go on co-op change in a variety of ways, Keough said.
"Besides the obvious change of living in a new environment, you further develop important social and professional skills," she said.
"When companies hire, they are most concerned with whether or not that person will fit into the organization more than they are with your grades," Cavanaugh said.

A starting point

Students also acquire mentors who provide informa tion, assistance and a starting point for networking. Keough said.

They then return to the classroom with a better appreciation of what they learned," she said. "Students are also able to enrich their classmates and even their professors as well in regard to what is going on in the workplace," she said.
"Some professors may at first resent the fact that a co-op student is correcting what he or she is teaching, but I think deep down they are really pleased with the input that these students are returning to the classroom." Cavanaugh said.
uThey are an outlet to keep up with the changing technology," he said.

According to Keough, the co-op experience can lead to either of three results - students will either change their majors, decide to achieve a higher level of education, or determine that their field chosen is indeed the right choice. Some students may even decide to stay with the co-op company, she said.
"The co-op program encourages and promotes more self-preparation for the real world, as well as providing as arena of learning through experience," she said.

Despite its advantages, Cavanaugh acknowledged a drawback. "It may put you behind education-wise with the people you came in with, unless there is a special semester carried out during the summer," he said. "If not, students may have to stay an extra year."

Look before leaping

For example, he said, a sophomore who goes on co-op during the second semester will end up a year behind upon returning for a junior year fall semester.
Currently, only the engineering program holds a special summer session for co-op students, he said.
"Schools must think about carving a special summer schedule for those on co-op," Cavanaugh said. "This will take some money since a full-time staff must be hired to teach the courses.
"Even though you make your money, it will take you longer to actually enter the work force," he added.
"There may be a danger in opting for co-op, but you still come out with better references," Cavanaugh said. "Professors can't guarantee something that IBM or Xerox can -building a resume.
"A recommendation from $I B M$ could make all the difference in the world.

All programs are monitored by all involved companies, students and university officials all make evaluations of their specific situation and some on-site visitations are made, he said.

Others have criticized the lack of diversity within the program.
"I would be extremely interested in the co-op program if there were one for my major," said program if there were one for my major," said think it's a little unfair that the program is not afforded to all schools on campus."
"It takes time to diversify," Keough said. "The program must have some meaning within the school in terms of the academic growth of students.
This occurs only if faculty deems the program advantageous to the students' advancement, she said.
For arts and sciences
Cavanaugh added that the College of Arts and Science was offered an opportunity to participate in the program, but declined because of a lack of interest.

See COOPERATE Page 6

Covernment aids design of SU programs

BY GENARO C ARMAS

品

A U.S Department of Education grant enables Byracuse University to degig and develop cooperative education programs in 18 disciplities across its main campus and at Utíca College, according to an SU preas statament-

Phie grant supports Syracuse University's commitiment to blending professional and liberal arts education," Chinacellor Kenneth A. Shaw said. "We welcome the USDE's substantial involvement with welcome th

Plans call for placing students with at least 275 employers during $1991-92$ and 500 employers by 1995, the release stated.

The projected award for the four-year period is $$ 793,715$ according to Jean Keough, cooperative education administrator for the College of Human Development.

However, Keough added that the award could increase if the project exceeds its original goals.
The grant is a non-competing award with $$ 253,298$ ( 70 percent) in federal funds for the budget year 1991-92 supported by a commitment by supporting units of $$ 109,829$ ( 30 percent), the statement said.
The grants were first used to establish the cooperative education program at the L.C. Smith College of Engineering, aceording to Ronald Cava naugh, vice president for undergraduate studies
The program was then expanded to include the College of Human Development in 1989.
The present grant will further expand the program at Human Development, as well as initiate programs in the College of Information Studies and at Utica College.
Expanding the scope of the grant is not foresee able in the pear future, Cavanaugh isaid, although there is the popsibility
Fropotaloforthe grent must be exposed to enrefu scrutiny, Keoughroaid, Ir addition, they must be advantageong to the actidenie growth of students, sties said.:

Thie grants were olbtained after what Keough and Cavanaurh called álaigsand arduong process. The Cayanaugh called a long, and ariuous proceas. Whe dotaidea first brought to light by Keough, who was logkig for othor ounines to help emphind the loating for other sauries to -help expmod the cooperative program in mentin 1989 ; ine said

Cavamagh anbmittod a proposal to the govern mentombehalf of the woiversity.
Sy fritioly rejected fokthe grantin 1990 , Cavanaingh sind Keough adid they went to ertromes making sure that SU, would compete more viably by changing and revising the proposil around the govermment's criticismit
After the revisions, Cavanaugh had a former USDE official review the reviaed proposal, who gave t nothing buit raves, he said. It was then regubmitted to the USDS, and after delaying pininouncement of the recipients for several weeks; SU received formal confirmation on Sept. 30 .

Clements searches for imaginative

Ronald Cavanaugh, vice preaident of nomergraduate studies, congratulates the 1991 Clements Scholars, (from left to right) Peter Gaudioso Michelle Fronch and 'Tracy Hamill.

By STEPHEN DILL  Contributing Writer

Students looking for an opportunity for imaginative internships, but who are unable to shoulder the financial cost, can now turn to the Mark and Pearle Clenow turn to the Mark and ments Intern Scholarship.

The Clements scholarship is designed for students wishing to pursue imaginative intern experiences that put their classroom learning into practice, said Sari Signorelli, assistant to the director of undergraduate studies.
Applicants who seek internships far from home or the university are given priority, she said.
Signorelli said the Clements scholarships are available to all full-time junior, senior and graduate students from all schools at SUU.
The internship must be linked to the applicant's program of study, she said. colleges applied. Three scholarghips were awarded.
Scholarships are awarded in December.

interns

Tracy Hamill, a senior majoring in biology, received $$ 3,350$ to spend the summer in Lima, Peru. She assisted a doctor in government and private clinics. "The internship reinforced my desire to attend medical school," Hamill said. The internship provided her with experiences in neonatology, pediatrics and general medicine.

She said it was very exciting seeing "medicine in action."
"This was an incredible opportunity that would not have been possible with out the Clement scholarship," she said. Graduate Peter Gaudioso received $$ 5,235$ to spend last spring in Washington. D.C., as he interned with the administrative assistant to the Chief Justice of the United States.
He was responsible for research, editing speeches and responding to mail.
Gaudioso, now a law student, said the internship reaffirmed his desire to practice law.

Michele French, a graduate student in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, received $$ 6,289$ to work with direc-

Saks Fifth Avenue, The Nation's Premier Specialty Store, Cordially Invites You to Attend an Information Session Hosted by Recent Syracuse University Graduates and Saks Fifth Avenue Executives at
The Schine Student Center 304A
October 23rd, 7 to 9 pm .
We will be accepting resumes

Computertond
Of Upstate New York

ComputerLand and Apple ${ }^{\bullet}$ Computer are offering the most exciting purchase plan ever to the students and faculty members of Syracuse University; the Individual Purchase Option. If you are a full time student or faculty member, you are eligible to take advantage of tremendous savings on Apple ${ }^{\text {© }}$ personal computers! Save up to $50 \%!^{*}$ For more information, contact the experts at ComputerLand of Upstate New York.
-50So of the Manutacurer's Suggested Resail Price
Color takes on a whole new value with the Apple Macintosh ${ }^{\circ}$ LC computer, most affordable color. Designed to easily expand, the LC includes an 020 Procesor Direct Slot, which lets you extend the system's capabilities through expansion cards for comununication, Apple IIe compatible, graphics and more.

Authorized Education Sales Consultant

Apple, the Apple logo, and Mecintomith ars

Editorial

Shaw makes good call

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw recently made a wise proposition in suggesting the university discontinue its practice of allocating a portion of its $$ 23$ million dollar general scholarship pool to athletic scholarships.

Shaw, following the consultation of his ad hoc committee, proposes to cut from the budget the $$ 3.7$ million currently slated to go to athletic scholarships. If this happens, Syracuse University faces a smaller budget deficit over the next four years.

Shaw's idea should be approved instantaneously. The athletic department repeatedly dodges people requesting to see its budget. Athletic department officials give the reasoning that, since the athletic department is not funded by the university, (except for this $$ 3.7$ million, which appears to be funding the department fails to remember) its budget is really irrelevant. Officials say the athletic department makes its own money and should be regarded as a separate selfsupporting entity when it comes to financial investigations.

If, in fact, the athletic department wishes to be considered a separate entity, it should generate the revenue to finance its own scholarships.

Money and the issue of where it goes have been historic priorities at SU. Nobody has ever offered a true solution. But Shaw's suggestion indicates the university is trying. By finding and cutting unnecessary fat from the budget, leaving only necessary expenditures, Shaw will be forced to provide an answer to the question of where SU's true priorities lie.

Mystery surrounds Thomas case

THE ATHIETIC DEPARTMENT WOULD LIKETO CLARIFY THAT as Of Yesterday, WE HAD TAKEN UNiversity MONE FOR THE BENEFIT OFOUR PROGRAM.

LETTERS

Eating his words  To the editor:

What kind of woman would accuse a man of sexual harasament? Well, if it's an honest, just accusation, it would seem the honest, just woman would make such an allegation. On the other hand, if she is lying, whe apparently has to have some selfish motivation for doing so. Maybe she is jealous of the man's career success. Perhaps she wants revenge on him for

WENDYE.
KAPLAN on a relationship with another woman. It could be that she wants fame and

ADVOCATNG

COMMMUNICATP women' organizat lic figure, maybe some women's organization or special interest group paid her to concoct a sexual harasgment charge.
I wonder, would revenge or fame or any amount of money be enough to make someone risk her own career and reputation, not to mention the progress of woments rights and credibility? I sincerely doubt it. The amount of satisfaction she would obtain from any combination of these things would be fleeting and minuscule in comparison with the amounl of pain and damage she would knowingly bring to herself and other women. Not only would she fail to be taken seriounly in the future upon the general public's recognition of her false accusation, but future kinds of accusations made by other women would be met with a degree of skepticism not unlike that which confronts the fable boy's third cry of wolf.

Well, that leaves us with only one other feasible explanation: she must be, as it's euphernistically posed, "out of touch with reality." She must be crazy.

The Thomas hearings consistently questioned Professor Anita Hill's credibility. Her behnvior was described by Thomas himself as "immature" as she "stormed off" after debatea in the workplace. The eleven phone messages she lef for Thomas during the eight years after they were no longer working together lead one to wonder what she may have wanted lead one to wonder what she may have wanted from him. Senator Simpson (R-Wy), stated from him. Senator Simpson (R-Wy), stated that, like Thomas, Hill should have been on the stand for 105 days so that her "character, the stand for 105 days so that her "character, background, and proclivities" could be adebackground, and proclivities" could be ndequately examined. Yet some seem to forget that. as the president of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the National Organization for Women pointed out, "It's not (Hill) that (was) on trial, it (was Thomas)."
Professor Hill said that she would not have alleged sexual harassment if she had not been summoned to do so. She wanted these clairns to be a part of 'Thomas' record, but presumably did not want to bring the issue, herself, or Thomas into the limelight. Apparently she wanted to avoid what has come about for her during the past weeks. In her allegations against Thomas, Hill had nothing to gain compared to all she could well lose. And of compare Thomas had everything to lose if he did course inomas had everything to anything but deny the charges.
Who told the truth? Who lied, and why? These are questions that probably only Hill and Thomas will ever have the real answers to Does a 52 to 48 Senate vote prove Thoman innocent? Based on the result of the Senate vote, the public is implicitly led to believe that either Thomas must not have sexually harassed Hill, or those voting in his favor don't take sexunl harassment seriously enough to have it significantly alter their vision of Thomas' credibility, character, and quality as a Supreme Court justice.

In any case, Thomas is now relieved of any potential guilt and responsibility attached to Hill's charge of sexual harassment. He can sleep well from now on knowing that his confirmation legitimates his once threatened name. Meanwhile, many of the rest of us will name. Meanwhile, many of the rest of us will go on questioning wh or ever will be, done.

LETTERS

DO should allow room to ponder

To the editor:
I have an idea for The Daily Orange. Should l call it a revolutionary idea or just a new inspiration? new inspiration?

What it comes down to is a request. for a "Questions to Answer" or "Just to Ponder" section. I ceme up with the concept after years of reading the editorial sections of newspapers.

So often, while either agreeing, disagreeing, having questionable doubt or a more in depth (deeper) curiosity to an editorial, I will want to pose a question to the writer or the audience being addressed.
The key word is "question." I do not need a column space but simply a line or possibly a small paragraph to ask a question I would like addressed or just proposed. It could be open to a formal answer by letter or just used as "Food for Thoughe.*
In general, my reaction to the editorials is that of inquiry. I was wondering if there was some way you could accommodate my brainstorm?'

It was a real pleasure to read Dave Mager's article in the October lith issue of The the October lith issue of 7 Daify Orange in which he precicted a $4.5-17$ thrashing by Syracuse of East Carolina. I was among the two hundred Pirate fans that watched the $23-20$ victory two weeks ago $23-20$ victory two weeks a from seats in the Dome.
As a journalist, you of all people should realize that you cannot write a story without first knowing the facts. To quote your own statement, The Pirates are $4-1$ but haven't beaten a major team.
East Carolina's20-13 victory over Mernphis State (who deferted USC in Callformia) and the Pirates 31-20 victory over South Carolina were convincing wins against strong programs. The only blemiah on ECUTs 5-1 season was a season opening 38-31 away loss to Top 15 ranked Illinois.

Perhaps the East Carolina cootball program hasn't earned the respect of every sports writer, but innow one writer who ate his (orange) words. Hey, hey, EC - you look so good to me!

Bill Kaiser
Class of 1992
East Carolina University

Sweet victory

To the editor:
Thankfully, the American system of justice prevails. We wish to congratulate Justice Clarence Thomas on his appointment to the Supreme Court of the United States, a nomination that Stetes, a nomination that succeeded despite the best ahameful efforts of several shameful eforts of several senators to humiliate him. Although we are grateful of Justice Thomas, we at the same time regret that he was subjected to the kangaroocourt antics of the Senate Judiciary Committee intent on sabotaging his nomination. Sadly, the committee, guided unimpresaively by Senator vo Biden, steered the hearings away from their set purpose qualifications and fitness of the nominee. Apparently unsuccessful on that front, several determined Democrats several determined Democrats staged aneleventh hour under hamded campaign aimed at derailing Thomas and his "unacceptable" conservative values. It was indeed refreshing to see that a certain Massachusetts senator (whose Massachusetts senator (who record in matters of sexual conduct is questionable at best) was halted in his attempt to manipulate yet another judicial matter.
Therefore, we wish Justice Thomas the best in becoming one of the few people in the United States with the power to check auch despicable activities as produced by our legislative branch. Moreover, we congratulate Sens. Kennedy and Metxenbaum.

Most of all, we look forware to a long, successfil term for to a long, successfil term for Justice Thomas, with the knowledge he will conduct knowledge he wili conduc himself in a professional manner far removed from the amateurish proceedings of the U.S. Senate.

Kevinh C. Reigrut President, College Republicans of Syracuse University

Elise Galaty
Class of 1992

Letters Policy

The Daify Orange welcomes lemers from its readers. Lefters must be fyped and double-spaced, and must inclucke a name and a to edit letrers for sace and sayte.

The Daily Orange  Established in 1903, Independent Since 1971

 Editor in ChiefJodi Lamagna by The Daify Cranger Copporstion und muy not be sepurnted without the enperssert written permission of the Editor in Chief.

CAROUSELCENTER CINEMA12 456-5673

EXXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE!

* INDOOR PARIING + SAME DAY ADVANCE TICKEING * PLUSH SEATING (with Cup holders) * WIDE RON SPACING

ERNESTSCAREDSTUP10 PG
FRANKIE & JOHNNY $R$
NECESSARY ROUGHNESS PGI3
WMR WED,THUR $1=20,3:=0,6 \leq 50,0,20^{\circ}$
OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY R NON-TMUR 1:40, $4: 30,7=20,0: 50$
RICOCHET: R
THE SUPER RH:
PARADISE PG13
MONHHOR 130, 4:00, $6=40,0=20$
ct To chancie

COOPPERATE
Continued from Page 3
The program at Utica College of SU, however, will encompass the arts and science department there.

Cavanaugh said this is the first time interdisciplinary co-op programs will be offered at SU.

I'm excited by the addition of CIS (Computer and Information Studies), and I am very much intrigued by Utica College's involvement," Cavanaugh said. "We may learn something said. We may learn something from Utica College that we can

COMMUNITY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM FALL '91 ORIENTATION

If you're taking a Fall Semester '91 internship or thinking about taking an internship during Spring Semester, come to the CIP Fall '91 Orientation!

Thursday October 24 7:00-8:00p.m. Room 304B Schine Student Center

Featured Speakers: Dr. Bruce Carter, SU Psychology Department; Ed LaComb, KIX-FM; and former CIP interns.

Don't miss out on this opportunity to learn how you can get the experience you need and get the most from your internship!

import back to the Syracuse campus," he said.

Responses from employers and students have been positive, Keough said.
"The program hás been wonderful to us so far," said Sherry Zager, human resources manager at Bonwit Teller, a women's clothing store at the Carousel Center that participates in the program. "We feel very good about the program and the quality of students turned out by it,"she said.

The store currently has two students working full-time and has been involved with the program for a year.
"Students shadow the managers and are given comparable duties," Zager said.
"SU students have been valued contributing members who have demonstrated leadership qualities and gained the respect of some of the toughest corporate clients I have had the privilege to work with," according to Stan Wolf, a project director for Interior Architects in New York City.

CLEMENTS

Continued from Page 3
tor and choreographer Pooh Kay in New York City.

French spent last spring working on the painted segments for Mean Princess, an animated film.

For an application packet, contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies, Franklin $P$. Wilbur at 443-2404.

The deadline for applications is Nov. 15.

STCRCR

Continued from Page 1

Stage win two matching Erants from the National Endowment for the Arts. Several of its plays have moved on to Broadway, off-Broadway and national tours.

Such notable performers as Jean Stapleton, Eli Wallach, John Cullum and Edmund Lyndeck have acted at Syracuse Stage during the 18 years.

On stage, screen and TV

Prior to teaching at SU, Storch acted in and directed dozens of plays, television shows and films - he is perhaps best-known for his role in the film The Exorcist -in London, on Broadway and across the country.

ATHLETICS  Continued from Page 1

everything but football and men's baskethall."

Bill Strickland, assistant director for SU's sports information office, said 314 out of 530 athletes receive some kind of scholarships in the university's 11 men's and nine women's varsity sports.

He said 116 athletes are under full scholarships and 198 receive partial scholarship aid. Each full scholarship covers tuition, fees, books, room and board.
"Eliminating scholarships is an alternative, Crouthamelsaid. I cannot determine which athletes will be affected because I still do not know what figures we are dealing with.

Robert Hill, vice president of public relations, said students concerned about the athletic department should write letters and speak to administrators.
"Student athletes have par ticular concerns about the reconstruction of the university." Hill said. "But that concern shouId not be synonymous with worry because no cuts have been established yet.
"Concern means they should be informed and voice their opinions."

Outside consultants will review the athletic department in November.

Shaw will anmounce the final budget cuts on Feb. 15.

City Life

Culturcheck

Death comes to

'Beverly Hills $90210^{\prime}$ Tragedy will soon befall the cast of Fox's teen dream soap opera Beverly Hills 90210 . No, the girls will not get their credit cards revoked and the guys will still have an ample supply of mousse. It's not that tra of the characters will die.
of the characters will die. The network is keeping the fallen have said it won't be Brenda (Shannen Doherty), Brandon (Jason Priestly) or Dylan (Luke Perry).
The producers say the death episode, which will air during the November ratings sweeps, is intended to show that when you least expect it, death can strike.
It could be worge: Some evil fiend could shave off Brandon's and Dylan's sideburns.

Pee Wee's lawyers

find defense
Lawyers for Paul Reubens (a.k.a Pee Wee Herman) may have come up with an escape route for their client, who is scheduled to go on trial for exposing himself in public in Sarasota, Fla., in July
His lawyers have obtained a timecoded security videotape showing the star in an adult theater lobby at the precise time police said they nabbed him inside the auditorium
Reuben's lawyers say they don't want to go public with the tape because other porn patrons can be seen.

Meryl Streep may

skip 'Into the Woods' Rights to the Tony-winningStephen Sondheim musical Into the Woods have been bought by Columbia Pictures. The film will be a co-production with Jim Henson Productions, which will create animatronic characters for the movie.

Entertainment Weekly reports Meryl Streep hopes to play the witch in the film vergion, a role originated on stage by Bernadette Peters. Streep sang once before on film in Postcards From the Edge.
She was also supposed to play the title role in one of many incarnations of the perpetually delayed film version of Evita.

Movies becoming child's play  Gregory Scott is five years old, but he's already gotten a start in Hollywood. The Los Angeles kindergartner igure deal with MCA Universal Family Entertainment based on the strength of five videos he has already strengthScott's first project will be directing a kids' fashion video, which will be ollowed by a television pilot Time magazine reports that Scott has already changed his name, fired an actress and hired his mother to be his manager. What's next, the Betty Ford Clinic?

Compiled from daily newspaper reports

Coming

Thursday

Stories by Gorey

The works of Edward Gorey have been made into posters and television credits, but a play? Gorey Stories, After Ours' second production of the year; debuts Friday. Find out about it tomorrow in

PRISM.
The Living page is published each Wedneaday in the Lifestyle section of The Daily Orange.

Storytelling conference returns

Clever Gretchen invades every room of HL

BY KRISTIN CORMIER
Contributing Writer
The Clever Gretchen conference will take over the Hall of Languages to educate on storytelling on Oct. 26.
Kaye Lindauer developed "The Clever Gretchen" conference 11 years ago as an outgrowth of her teaching in the School of Information Studies.

She has been teaching at Syracuse University for 19 years, and 11 years ago the School of Information Studies approached her to develop a program to supplement the school's literature based programs.
The Clever Gretchen program will take over the entire building this year with different performances in story developing storytellers. The program is developing storytellers. The program is not only open to verbal storytellers, but also to illustrators, writers and musialso to cians.
"This year's program sounds like it will be pretty successful," said Doris Sage, conference participator and publi-

There will be numerous professional storytellers and experts on hand to direct workshops. Sara Miller, chairperson of the committee that selects winners for the Newberry award in children's literature, will be discussing how they go about reviewing books and discuss criticism of literature.

Lindauer is extremely excited that

Kally Dakcs, the author of a new book titled If You are Not Sure Please Raise Your Hand, will be helping with the workshops.
Among other guests, Rita Auerbach of Long Island will be talking about storytelling as a function of teaching. She is the founder of the storytelling program for the American Library Association, and her program has become a part of the National Library Conference. "There is no other program that deals with storytelling," Lindauer said. "What is extraordinary is that this one handles both adult and childrens' tales.
The entry fee for the program is $$ 35$. but this money goes to cover the costs of the conference. The School of Info tion Studies does not make a profit.
"The price may be a lot, but there is so much to be learned at this conference," Sage said
For more information on the Clever Gretchen Conference contact Kaye Lindauer at the School of Information Studies.

Cleaning up after the brouhaha

"It'll be great," they said. "We'll invite a few friends, drink some beer - it'll be more of a get-together than a party.

The next morning, after the social

RON

HART

HUMOR FROM

 l'agua casa and gether where I completely lost control I think I can trace it all the way back to the same roommates who lied to me. "It won't be a big deal," Larry said right before he put on a lime green dress shirt and a pink tuxedo jacket."Just a few well-adjusted, close friends spending some healthy quality time together," said Pete from undermeath a mohawk which hung two feet over his scalp.

When five Marines who had been in a submarine for six months pulled up in a Pinto telling me that they had heard about our "get-together" from a redhead n Toronto, I began to suspect that something big was about to happen.

My roommates were real buddies. They let me work the door. Great job for me. My menacing appearance is great for making people pay money. Yeah, we actually. charged people $$ 2$ to get in. I know, I know, we're fascists.
It just aeems to me that if you pay $$ 15,000$ for classes you sleep through, it shouldn't be too much to ask for a couple bucks for all the Milwankee's Begt you can drink.
:Then again, I could be wrong. People broke open their piggy banks from third grade for this party 80 i ended up worth of dimes jingling in my pockets.

So I'm just sitting there trying not to be too anal about people spilling beer all over my house when this guy pulls me to the side.
"Check it out, dude. Free batteries." He then proceeded to rip the cover of my smoke detector and take out the my smoke detector and take out the nine-volt battery. I was trying really nine-volt battery. I was trying really hard not to get upset with this putz, but hard not to get upset with this putz, but come on, what can you use a nine-volt come on, $w$ battery for?

Does this guy still own his Mattel Pocket Football?

This got me paranoid, so I went around the house checking out smoke detectors. (Yes, I am the ultimate party animall. I go upstairs and there are about 40 people waiting to use my bathroom. Suddenly, somebody from downstairs yells, "Men's room is downstairs!" Instantly, all the guys who were in line went down the stairs. Curious, I look out the second floor window and see a skirmish line of twenty guys writing their names on my lawn.

Don't get me wrong. I'm proud to be male because the world is my toilet. And Lord knows that I don't like Milwaukee's Best to sit in my bladder for any longer than is absolutely necessary. What surprised me was the social order that had developed.

A painful wait

Larry was standing on my porch in his pink tuxedo with a waiting list and a towel over his arm like he was the maitre d'. A young man with a pained look and a funny walk stepped up to Larry.
"Greetings," Larry said, "I ami Mr. Rourice your host and welcome to Fan tasy Toilets. Party of one? That's fine, you are at table four." And the puys actually waited in line for a "table.
It's beautiful to see the student body pull together and help each other through a crisib.

Five kegs, 200 people, 1,800 cigarettes and one sunrise later, I stood in my living room looking at a black sludge that covered my entire floor. New life-forms were forming in my sink, and a guy named Andrew was passed out in my rosebush. Actually, that was table seven,
I'm sure you are wondering what my point is, so here it is. I started trying to clean the place up and after I finished the bathroom I went to pop in a 2000 Flushes in the back of the toilet.

Sure, I almost expected to see that someone had booted back there. Maybe someone even threw a roll of toilet paper in the water. Instead, I took the cover of and there it was. A canned ham floating at the top of the tank.

Ever since then, I have been trying to imagine the guy who carries a canned ham around with him when he goes out on a Saturday night. 1 can see a can of baked beans, or even mushrooms, but a canned ham?

I mean, is this guy some wacko who just broke out of a mental hospital and thinks of this ham as his 'date?' Maybe he got into a fight with her (he wanted to take her can off, but she wasn't ready) and in a psychotic rage, he stuffed her limp body into the back of a toilet.

One question immediately came to mind - "If I rinse this off real good, can I Btill eat it?"

So, do yourself a favor: If you throw a party and see some guy wandering around with a ham sandwich, keep an eye on your smoke detectors.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Advertising

speaker scheduled
Nick Orloff, retired president of Rochester-based RumrillHoyt Inc., will speak in Room A2 of Newhouse I on Thursday at 6 p.m.
The lecture, "What Print Needs Now," will focus on the effectiveness of today's magazine ads. For more information.
call Jill Kotler at 443-6776.
S.C.A.R.ED. sponsors

art exhibit

Students Concerned About Rape EDucation is accepting work for Voicing Outrage, a juried art show protesting sexual violence, rape, sexism and sexual demonstration.

Work will be accepted on Oct.
30 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Room 301 of the Schine Student Center.

Flat work must be ready to hang, and sculpture must have its own pedestals.

The exhibit will be in Room 302 in the Schine Student Center, from Nov, 4 through Nov. 9. For more information, call Deb Orloff at 479-0526.

Career Opportunities at Morgan

fors.y-rarnsejumiors antseniors interes/edin

Oprations Management

informmion preswmfalion on Thiesslat: ()ctoher $\geq$ )
6:30 11m
Hoom 2.5.56;

Library Associates plan book sale

The Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale Oct. 31, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Oct. 31 , from 10 a.m. to to p.m. and Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Room 1916 on the first floor of E. S. Bird Library

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collections.

HHBROWN

Gore-Tex Congo Boot
Our new boots by H.H. Brown are ust what you need for the Syracuse winters. With a one-piece Gore-Tex sock liner, padded glove leather, the handsewn moccasin construction, and the sturcy lug sole, you're assured superb comfort and dryness.

WJPZ keeps rocking during summer break

By JENN BRAMIEY

 Staff WriterRemember summer vacation? Well, some students may have gotten a break from classes, but not from working.

For example, WJPZ-FM 89.1, the No. 1 college radio station in the country, is not a station in the country, is not a gtation Which can be turned on students come and go. sional level, said vice-president of promotions, SU junior Dave Gorab, who is also a DJ at WYYY-FM 94.5.

Although the bulk of Z-89 listeners are residents of the Syracuse area, the station is not unaffected by students leaving for summer break; after all, WJPZ is a student-run station.
Z-89 is comprised of about 150 staff members during the school year, but it is reduced to 30 to 40 members during the surnmer, said Gorab.

The loss of staff demands that those who do stay work longer hours and assume greater responsibility.
"Everyone plays eight different roles," said SU senior Kelly Sutton. general manager.

The threat of hard work did not scare the Z-89 summer team, though. In fact, many thought of the smaller staff as an advantage.
"You really get your chance to shine," said Sutton.

More openings, more experience
Although the general manager and the vice presidents of programming, operations and business stay through the summer to keep the station running smoothly, there are many positions that need to be filled.

With such a small staff, people have the opportunity to train in a variety of aspects.
"You really get a chance to test out a little of everything. test out a little of everything. It's a chance to see what you really like,"saidju ber Beth Russell.

Russell had worked for the news department, but was not very involved with the station. During the summer all that changed. She was elected interim news director and after only two overnight DJ shifts, she began to DJ in the afternoons.

BEWITCHING

Reserve your Halloween costume, now!

- Hundreds of Costumes Ranges in All Size -Sale/Rentals/Custom Designs
-Hats. Masks & Wios - Quality Theatrical Makeup - Beards & Mustaches - Props & Accessories - Magic Supplies & Novalties
243 Walton Street Amory Square 422-6391

Although the achool year staff members retain their positions when they return, the summer is "a great time to get in," said Gorab. "It's a real chance to prove yourself, to show you want to be part of the team."
Junior Carl Wiser became an intricate part of the team this summer. He progressed from overnight DJ shifts to the popular "Crazy Morning Crew."
"I became a personality over the summer," he said proudly.
Aside from a full-time job asa waiter, Wiser spent an average of 30 hours a week at the station.
"Everyone was overworked. There'd be times when we'd go down each other's throats," said Wiser. But the team worked together to pull through.

The station ran many promotions during the summer. Lis-

Wo carry Syracuso's most comploto Hne of Costumos, Masks, Makeup, Beards, Hats, Halr Color, Splder Webs, Capes, Disgulse Kits, Decorations (Indoor 8 Outdoor), Noveltles;

RENTAL COSTUMES
 Hours: M.s.
sun. $11-5: 45$

VARIETY STORE
4902 SO. BAY RD., NORTH SYRACUSE

Ton Minutee From The Unlweretty -8t NORTM UnWerelty - Ex NORTM

- ExTr 28 (Mattydalo) Fonlow 8. BAY RD. slgne
Look For Switz'角 Tome

Stop Smoking. American Heart Association See WJPZ Page 10

Fly Roundtrip or One-Way to Europe on Leading Scheduled Airlines. Daily Departures From Mostict Cities to 25 Foreign Destingtions.

EURAIL PASSES:
 you have unlimited travel throughout Western Europe (excluding Great Britain). Available for periods of 15 days to 3 months. BRITRAIL PASSES:
Valid for unlimited train travel throughout England. Scotland and Wales. Valid for periods ranging from 8 days to 1 month. INTERNATIONAL YOUTH HOSTEL HANDBOOK:
A detailed directory listing 3,600 hostel locations and facilities where accommodations are available at rates starting at $$ 7.50$ per night.
INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE ID CARD:
Gains you access to significiant student discounts throughout Europe at Museums. Castles. Palaces, Student hotels. Concerts, Operas, Bus and Boat routes and Inter European flights on European Airlines. Also includes basic medical insurance while abroad and a 24-hour toll free worldwide hotline to assist you with travel emergencies. Cost of the card: $$ 15$. EXPRESS CARD SERVICE:
If you need an International Student Exchange 10 right away, send us your name, address, date of birth, nationality. name of your school, a $2^{\prime \prime} \times 2^{\prime \prime}$ photograph and the $\$ 15$ fee. Your card will be mailed to you the same day we receive your order!

Call or Write: International Student Exchange Flights Inc. 5010 E. Shea Blvd., Suite A104-APF

Scottsdale, AZ U.S.A. PHONE: 602/951-1177
FOR YOUR FREE STUDENT FLIGHT CATALOG,
MAIL THIS COUPON
pIEASE PRINT OR TYPE 907
TO:

(Street & Apt. m

YOUR ADDRESS
AT HOME:

| (Street &e Apt. $n$ |  |
| :--- | :--- |
|  |  |
| (City) | (State) |

[^24]The Daily Orange
October 23, 1991

WIPZ
Contínued from Page 9
ida and even a new car. Accord-promote the station in the summer weather.

Although this calls for many hours of planning and hard worle, "It's worth it," said Gorab, who knows many students who have gotten jobs or internships because of their work at Z-89. "The rewards are great. You can also make a lot of great connections."

Now that summer is over, the staff must take on a full course load aside from their work at the station.

Most of the staff will work one or two shifts rather than three or four, said Gorab, who now spends $30-40$ hours a week at the station rather than 18 hours a day. 'tt's a deadly hours a day. said Gorab also addiction, he said. Gorab also takes time out of his hectic schedule to watch his favorite show, WKRR in Cincinnati.
"You had to depend on each other over the summer; you had no choice," said Russell, who comimented that the staff worked together as friends. "We all hung out together."
Although they were under a lot of pressure, each recommended that other staff members stay next summer.
"I'd want to do it again. I really enjoyed myself this summer, and I did exactly what I wanted to do," said Wiser. "It was a great experience, and I'd was a great experience, and id recom

|  |  | Genuine UL.S. and European Surplis! |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Syracuse University  LOCATION: Deltu Upsilom House III comstock ave  DATE:DCt. 21 to 25  TIME: 9:00 am to 6:00PM  Sponsored by Detta Upsilon Wbol.Blankets, Gloves, Hats, Scaroes, & Much, Much More! |  |
|  | Mastercard, Visa, and American Express accepted AND NOW AT NEUPORT $R$ I. | presented by the Army Barracks of Martha's V/ineyard |

FEVER

BY KATIE KITCHEN

LIFE AS A POPSICLE

BY R.E. MANSPERGER. JR

BY LOCKY

SLONE

BY FAJITA PARTY

BY JASON LYCETTE
 BY STEVE ELLIS

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

GYPSY THE DOG

GOTTA HAVE FAITH
BY ARNOLD
& Fite Edit Montona QO
11:30:00PM

Why every college student meeds a compurter.
NEGATIVE SPACE BY JODI MEADOVS

New York Stories

ADVENTURES OF JP
BY SLIM

TWISTED WORLD
BY MORRIS

"HEH, मEH, HEA $\ldots$ AND TO THINK THAT

 YOUR ANCESTORS ONCERULED THIS SWAMPO =

Classifieds

NOTICE

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |

|  | Notices |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | COSTUHES:   Won. mate-4. mata BCOM BABIES Vincge Clotring Foprase avaibie uca vae Sonom been $a$ Wescosa   |

RASE 3500 $$ 1000$. $$ 15000$ F001PROOF

 25080172 4nt 50 .
$\frac{\text { FOR SALE }}{\text { Autos }}$
 sam .

Equipment

Misc. For Sale
toe whige, overy Weanactiry. o-100m, Drirk

EMPIOYMENT

HOME NEEDED Dor a 13 you od did mole in a Whaed chuir and roquiron ausisance Home modiceritions providet is recessary Sidmaratit: rintrousembers providod. Yrou or sombons you David Shipe en (315) Rzs 5311 . pracime tor Medical fing Cint in SU Ama EX.
 $5 \times 3787440$

WANTED

Help Wanted

 WANTEO: Very rimain nous tomato pmese cail 175-7656. prson Mate or

 Balkon wid pilt baskef tomery parson readoct dowtion ssora Mist haw own car. Cal $125 \times 001$

Just Show SU' Student ID for this Grear Deal SUTTERS FOR LUNCH rash Best Burger on the Hill Receive a Charbroiled Burger with any 2 toppings, fries, and a bottomless glass of soda for only $$ 4.75$
Limit: iper visit

FALL a Sprinc monption Sericy a Grackion

 cetiort X block walking locesten und are nicoly flu turritirs. Cal 573 -1354 for $m$ choice studert apt AVAILABEE TOOAYI ONES TWO EEDGOOM 3650 par normin Exp-i344.

PATVATE FURNGHEO STUONO AMATMENTS

Houses

Mouse for remt near SU, 26 bedrom, 2 barmoom
 478.3752

Large. bearuitud roons in a newty nomodeled mansion. Ot. Sfrest pathing hatindy A minde wal to cempiss simation availatle $$ 200$ - $$ 300$ - 4746791 .

Rooms

 prest nomen, near Eucla 4izs-asge.

5 monss for ment in betivitur Mouce. Fryites and

PERSONALS
 30 now guets tho

Lutre- cant wan to forg our with my tray sies on poyctiod to party huvent mer ny but sex soon 14 know you walt krop guessing Thecm lowe your bio

Sams.- conprate on row now position tor maruhon Worm rafit proud of voul iove the Sistort and Plodges of AEPTI pant lats do ta apan stemamel Love sigrers ex puabins of Germer Pri an min angom mation on our fandy mith can By the admiration of first-year defersive line coach Gary Emanuel.

BROWN

Continued from Page 16

Ernie does everything you ask him to do, he's a good leader and he works really hard," Emanuel said. "He's also a tremendous athlete for a player his size. He has a whole lot of athleticism in general."

Having a name with such esteem, one must realize the amount of pressure that accompanies the honor.

Every time he steps on the football field, Brown will be mentioned in the same breath as one of SU's finest.

This is a fact that Brown realizea clearly.
"There's some pressure on me," Brown said. "Or course, if someone knows about Ernie Davis and I'm his namesake and they look at me and I'm not producing or doing anything, they could be let down a little."

According to Emanuel, Brown handles the pressure of his name handies th
"I'm sure he feels the pressure somewhere within, but you would never know that." Emanuel said. "He carries himself like any other studentathlete here."

As for the honar of the name. few could fail to realize its magnitude. It is twice as great at Syracuse, where Davis became the first black Heisman winner and remains SUs only recipient of the award.
"I feel honored because of what Emie Davis did for this program and for the black people," Brown said. "He was the first black Heisman winner and he was a super individual, so I feel honored to have his name.

Brown is part of Syracuse's outstanding sophornore class which, while looking towards the future, is making great strides in its second campaign.

According to Emanuel, he is one of the many who look forward to having Brown around for a few more seasons.
${ }^{\text {"He has two more years left, }}$ which is a great blessing for me as a coach." Brown said. "He's a great, great young man. He's a joy to coach and a joy to be around."

However, without the guidance of his father, Brown might not have had the opportunities he has today.

John Brown rose from the tough surroundings of Camden. New Jersey, to three varsity seasons with the Orangemen and eventually a career in the NFL

According to Brown, his fa-
Classifieds
Continued from Page 12

Word Prowindng Laver remome Typing Harstill S nbove Acropots 435-0930.

 documerts tor local or iftemational siuderiss satir: $1paqp 4 /4-5501.

ADOPTION

 Call Devid and Device collet baçex5-2312.
Adoption- Christim couple have moorn in our trees
 Adope Heprity furried wise exple wares so much to oive your buby the buas of ovmipting in our bviruy tome.
Call Joan und day codioct 314-aze-3019.

LOST & FOUND

 soo or 1 cm .
ther is a sentleman as well as pears to have worked its way a superior athlete. "My father did so well for Currently fighting for time with himself," Brown said. "He played Wentworth, Brown takes the about 10 years in the NFL, he's situation in stride. got a great job now, raiped a a understand the situation family with two boys and he's a writh Jim right now," Brown very respected person." said. "He's paid his dues, he's The class that John Brown the senior. I'm just going to and Ernie Davis exhibited ap-continue playing well."

1/2 DOZEN $3.50

 1 DOZEN $$ 6.00$DEIVERED SAT. 26TH & SUN 27TH SIGN UP AT THE SCHINE STUDENT OFFICE 126i ON OCTOBER 21,22,23 FROM 10-2

8 Your sadent fee up earty in the moming 8

"rourli grisste...

When you elll.

"Dial-A-Laugh!"

Call now...

1-900-896-0033

S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications

GRAMMAR; PUNCTUATION, AND SPELLING EXAM

Saturday, October 26 9 a.m. - 10 a.m. in Al NCCI

This is the last GPS exam offered this semester. A passing grade is needed for admission into NEW 205 and TRF 245. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.

JERSEY

Contīnued from Page 16 omicial. He said 'You don't see the school in the same way, if you go unofficial.' He wants you to take an official (visit)."
Rutgers has problems recruiting in New Jersey because many players want to go away from home.
"I was thinking of making a visit, but it's so close," said Will Walker, an SU freshman receiver from Carnden, N.J. "You ceiver from Carnden, N.J. You want to go out there and

New Jersey is considered among the top recruiting states, as many Division I players come from there and go to other parts of the country.
"New Jersey is a place that is very heavily recruited by everyone," Syracuse coach Paul Pasqualoni said. "It's a very competitive place to recruit."

One of the keys to the Scarlet Knights' recent success has been tional identity.
"Before (they were like), We're up north. We're New York, but we're sort of New Jersey," Walker said. "Now, it's like, 'We're the state school and we're going to keep kids in New Jersey."
The formation of the Big East conference has given more attention to the Scarlet Knights program, Barrett said.
"The Big East has helped as far as identifying Rutgers as a far as identifying Rutgers as a being in the Bited in New Jersey," being located in "How Jersey, New Jersey player will have New Jersey player will have some pride and loyalty in staysome pride and loyalty in staying in the home state."
ing in the home state.
The Big East also adds television appearances and the possibility of a bowl bid.

The Scarlet Knights make their second appearance on the Big. East Television Network against the 18th-ranked Orangemen on Saturday at noon.
"The Big East conference is going to have a big impact on our program," Graber said. "Our television exposure has tripled from last (season)."

Rutgers is also in jetween major metropolitan media markets Philadelphia and New York, which Barrett said is an additional attraction to recruits.

Barrett said, in the past, players have left New Jersey to go to schools in the Big Ten or the Atlantic Coast Conference because of better bowl possibilities.

Both Adamcik and Walker said they didn't go to Rutgers because the Knights haven't won many games.
The Scarlet Knights program is currently on an upswing with the Jersey players they signed. Rutgers is $5-2$ this season after posting a 3-8 record last year.
"We just have to have some patience and hang in there as we try to build this program," Graber said.

'Tis the Season for Advertising in

The Oailiy orange Holiday Shoppers Issue November 21

Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be $2: 00$ pm on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.
COMPREHENSIVE DATABASE: Our data base of over 200,000 listings of scholarships and grants represent over $$ 10$ billion in private sector financial aid.
MANY AWARDS: Scholarships are available to students based on their career plans, family heritage and academic interests.
UNIQUE RESEARCH: Our research department has located many scholarships including awards for newspaper carriers, grocery clerks, cheerleaders and non-smokers.
RESULTS GUARANTEED.

INFORMATION WHO NEED COLLEGE
CALL ANYTIME FOR A FREE BROCHURE (800)

Friend's help saves goalie

By PHIL LEMOS

Contributing Writer
When a soccer goalie struggles during the course of the soccer season, the team often looks to the backip goalie to help him out.

There are times, however, when a player can help his teammates off the field too.

When Syracuse Universityjunior goaltender Charlie Wilke was looking for an internship over the summer, reserve goalie Peter Kahn did exactly that.

Kahn's father, who works for NBC, offered his son an internship working for the network's popular talk show Late Night with David Letterman.

Since the job did not interest Kahn, he had his father offer the job to Wilke, a TRF dual major.
worked for the associate director and the film coordinator," Wilke said. "It's a lot of fun."

While Wilke has learned about the benefits of teamwork off the field, he has a team player attitude on the field.

Although he has not started a game in goal yet this season a game in goal yet this season not complain.
"It's not my decision, I just have to play the best I can," Wilke said. "I just have to wait until the coach gives me the ball."

- Name: Charlie Wilke -Height: 5-foot-11
- Weight: 165 pounds
-Age: 19
Hometown: Muncie, Ind.
Position: goaltender

Tien & Tan

Chinese Restaturant 701 S.Crouse Ave. (corner of Adams $S \mathrm{~S}$ )
Above Convenient We have Super Chinese Food! at university campus

Tien --
Tan
FREE DELIVERY-SU CAMPUS
Beer $&$ Wine Available
Please CallAhead For Please Callahead For Best Take-Out Service $r: 3$ Mon-Sat 17AM-10PM
Sun 4PM-9:30PM

471-5289
NEW HOURS:
-Favorite sports hero: Lynn Swann
-Favorite non-sportshero: Harrison Ford
-Hobbies: writing for UUTVV
-Least favorite thing about SU: paperwork, money, the bureaucracy
-Toughest team ever played against: Hartwick, UConn

- Most embarrassing soccer moment: "Scoring on myself in the seventh grade."
- What he does before a game:
"Rest, concentrate on game."
When he finishes playing soccer he wants to: go into television and film work
- Favorite food: pizza
-Favorite TV shows: The Simpsons, Cheers
- Favorite movies: Silence of the Lambs, Star Wars
-Favorite rock group: REM

When you're looking for a personal computer, make sure to look at all it comes with. The preloaded software. The mouse. The hard drive. The games. The discount airline tickets. The long distance service.

If these aren't the kinds of connections you were thinking of, maybe you should think again. Because now when you buy an IBM PS/2® or

PS $/ 1^{\text {- Selected Academic Solution* }}$ you'll get a special Bonus Pack of coupons that'll save you moncy on all kinds of things, from airfare to long distance calls to computer games and more. So you can own a personal computer with all the right connections. Visit your campus outlet to find out how to make an IBM Personal System click for you.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT SEARS BUSINESS CENTER in the SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE OR CALL DAVE FATTA AT 474-4879

Sports

Social life of Twins fan goes awry  I'm a Minnesota Twins fan. I've been a Twins fan since $I$ was 11 years old and saw Kent Mrbek hit his first major league home run.Later, I really started liking the Twins because they had a third baseman whose last name is similar to mine.

And, I realize Im in the minority here, but I've always liked the Metrodome. (I finally got there this year, only to see the Twins lose both garnes.)

Twins fans should be having the

ROB

GUYETTE

SPORTS OPINION rime of their lives right now, don't you think? After after a year of last place and becoming the 'Twinkies' to all those esteemed media members who predicted perpetual summer gloom in the Twin Cities.
Problem is, it's tougher to be a Twins fan now more than ever. And I'm sure this goes for Braves fans as well.
NOBODY believes me.
rin not sure why. It may be jealousy, seeing as how there's a 24 in 26 chance that their team isn't in the World Series. And here in Syracuse. that chance is even greater.

It may be bandwagon-itis, a flu that has hit people wearing Chicago Bulls jerseys and caps everywhere Americans love a good story, but they hate when somebody says they've been following Michael Jordan's career since junior high school.

Or, it may be that they're Boston Red Sox fans, in which case they can't stand anybody who's not a Red Sox fan.'
Tr's impossible to tell people I'm a Twins fan without them asking me 20 questions. I have to explain where from 1984, and remind them that it was Les Straker who started games 3 and 6 of the 1987 Series.

Everybody thinks I'm on the wagon, except for the people that know me. And they're not speaking to me any more because they're sick of hearing about the great young pitching staff. And they hate it when I remind said Scott Erickson would be the said Scott Erickson would be the second-best AL pitcher in the 1990 s second-best AL pitcher

I know I won't be able to wear my Hrbek jersey for a while without being subjected to comments like, "Oh, did you buy that last week?" I a few years ago, but nobody will believe me.
I do still wear my Twins hat, but it's amazing how many evil looks I get (as if people used to smile at me). I'm an Easterner and walk with my head down, but it's tough to adjust to.

I remember life as a Twins fan the last couple years. It was so easy. People just figured I was a loser for wearing such a lame hat. No one wears a Twins hat to red ' M ' on it.

So please don't hate me. I'm a genuine Twins fan. Just check my key chain. Oops, I did get that this year.

Tricua

F2Quertion When was the last timethéminnerotertwind wor atyodideries beforet 982

Syracuse University forwards Eric Puls (5) and Nino Galich (11) push the ball upfield against a Cornell University defender in a game earlier this season. Puls and Galich will attempt to kick start the Orange offense when they ## play at Hartwick College Thursday afternoon.  Syracuse upbeat for rival

By JEFF ELBAUM
Staff Writer

> Despite a 4-0 loss to Seton Hall on Saturday, Syracuse University soccer practices have been upbeat heading into the Orangemen's game today at Hartwick College.
> "Hartwick has always been a rival of Syracuse," head coach Dean Foti said. "It's not going to be hard to get kids up to play for this one."

> Hartwick, 8-5-2, presents another tough road challenge for the Orangemen, 7-7.

> The Orangemen are 1-5 on the road this season.
> "Our schedule seems to be battered

Name plac

By MIKE BUSH
Staff Writer
What's in a name?
Errie Davis Brown, a defensive lineman for Syracuse University, is faced with this question every day.

The 6-foot-3, 267 -pound sophomore is the namesake of Ernie Davis, the running back who helped put Syracuse football on the national map and one of

sutgers improves with more homegrown talent  By JOSH BARNETT  have all recruits make an official visit. of the nicest guys he'd ever known in his

Asst. Sports Edifor
Many high school seniors are interested in leaving home, but New Jersey senior football players now have an additional incentive to stay.
Rutgers University second-year coach
Doug Graber has made a committment to recruiting as many in-state players
as possible.
Futgers, the State University of New Jersey, signed 13 New Jerseyans out of their 19 recruits.
The main staple of Graber's plan is to with several of those tough teams on the road," Foti said. "With that if wo road," Foti said. "With that, if we go out and we're prepared to play right from the beginning, there's no reason why we can't win this game."
For SU to
For SU to beat Hartwick, it will have to stop a trio of Warriors snipers.
George Neofotisfos leads Hartwick with 10 goals and 2 assists. Heath Danford has 5 goals and 7 assists, while Mike Burns is third in scoring with 2 goals and 7 assists.
Even with the loss to Seton Hall, in which the Orangemen dominated for periods of the game but couldn't score, Orangemen are playing. "At this point in the season, I'm not panicking because I think we're playing

We think its a priority to have the best players in your state visit the state school." Rutgers recruiting coordinator Marty Barrett said.

Syracuse University freshman offensive lineman Chris Adamcik, a native of Bayonne, N.J., said he learmed firsthand about Graber's intensity in getting hand about Gra
"I wanted to take an unofficial visit," said Adamcik, a SuperPrep Magazine Super player last season. "He was begging me and my father to make it
See JERSEY Page 14

Davis was an integral part of the 1959 national championship squad, the Heisman teammate inntuences in Brown's life and football career have been his father and his name.

According to Brown, his father and Ernie Davis were more than just team mates.
${ }^{\text {utes. }}$ My father said Ernie Davis was one well," Foti said. "We're not in a situation where (assistant coach Jerry Moyer) and I are sitting here trying to figure out what we are going to do in training today, because this still doesn't work.
"I'm happy with the effort we're getting from the players which should give us confidence going into this game." Another advantage for the Orangemen is that they are healthy. For the first tirne since the beginning of the season only one player, midfielder Anthony
"We're as healthy as we've been all year," Foti said. "The trainer came up to me yesterday and said this is the healthiest we've been all season as far as after a game, not having kids with knocks and bruises."

on Brown

life," Brown said. "He was his best friend."
Both found success on the gridiron -Brown had a 10 -year career as a tackle for the Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers, and Davis was drafted by the Washington Redsking in the first round of the 1962 draft.

Davis, however, never had a chance to play professionally, as he died of leukemia in 1963.

This season, Brown shares time at left tackle with Jim Wentworth on coach
Paul Pasqualoni'sdefense.

An All-Allegheny Conference performer at North Catholic High School in Pittsburgh Brown said burgh, Brown said he adds another dihe adds another dimension to the de-Emie Brown fense.
${ }^{4} I$ think I add a little life to the defensive line," Brown said. "rim quick and I can help out a lot on the pass rush as well as the rum. I can do a lot of those things to add to the defense and make it better."

Brown has compiled 18 tackles and one sack this season, while also drawing

The  Volume XX. Number 40

Budget cuts could hinder athletic teams

By KATE FLATLEY Staff Writer

The effects of future downsizing in the athletic department's budget may be detrimental to the overall quality of Syracuse University's athletic teams
Non-revenue-producing athleticteams and the funding of athletic scholarships were some of the topics discussed Tuesday at the University Senate Athletic Policy Committee open forum.

The goals of the Athletic Policy Committee, said Travis H. Lewin, a law professor and committee chairman, are to become more involved with the academics of the student athlete and to take a closer look at matters of budget in this period of restructuring.

Lewin said budget matters have not been a part of the committee in the past.

The committee was encountering difficulty making decisions because of a lack of time and the unavailability of Senate information about specific cost and ex pense figures.

Joe Shields, a Senate representative asked for a response from the committee on the suggested $$ 3.7$ million reduction in the athletic' scholarships allotted by the university.

Nothing concrete
The $$ 3.7$ million reduction reported is only a suggestion, and no concrete decision has been reached, said Jake Crouthamel, SU athletic director.

Lou Walker, head coach of the SU swimming teams, discussed how the proposed budget cuts would affect nonrevenue athletic programs.

Due to the efforts of the recruiting staff, SU gets many student athletes for non-revenue sports who would otherwise attend other universities, Walker said.

See POLicy Page A3

BRIEFLY

Friends and family of Syracuse University student Jessica J. Little will hold a memorial service Friday at Hendricks Chapel.

Little, 20, died on Oct. 11 after suffering a pulmonary embolism.

Onondaga County medical examiner found no cause for the embolism, which is a blood clot that blocks arteries that supply blood to the lungs.

An autopsy revealed no bruises which would normally indicate that a clot had formed.
The service will begin at 2 p.m. at the chapel.

Inside

Classified
A9
Comics B8
Editorial B8
Prism
$B 1$
Sports
A20
Weather

Gore in store

If you remember the opening credits to the PBS show Mystery then you're familiar with the eerie drawings of Edward Gorey. In its second production of the year, After Ours presents Gorey Stories, a macabre play: just in time for a macabre play just in time for Halloween. Lo

Employees ponder their fate

 Faculty, staff voice concerns over downsizing
By MICHELE BERKOVER

Staff Writer

Syracuse University employees wo der where they will and up after the university downsizes, several said Wednesday at one of four University Senate open forums.  Concerned faculty and staff met and questioned Claire Rudolph, chair of the University Service Committee, about the future of their jobs.  Many proposals, and I underline proposals, are being discussed, but there is no plan in place yet," Rudolph said.  "The role the university wants to take is for whatever is done to be done in the most humane way possible."  Marshall Blake, president of the Local 200A union representing many  Murphy's murder

campus workers, raised concern that the elimination of staff positions on campus would lead to the

Bringing in subcontractors

"The lower end of the pay scale is a tempting target for the university, because these workers are considered ex pendable," Blake said. "In a downsizing situation, we may subcontract out the work that university employees now perform."
Blake used the area of food services as an example of the potential problems subcontracting may present.

See related restructuring

 stories on page A8.If this work is subcontracted out, we would get the same labor pool as McDonald's and Wendy's," he said.

Blake also raised the issue of mandatory early retirement programs, or "as sisted departures," that may be implemented.
"There has been discussion about early retirement arrangements for faculty members," he said. He questioned whether similar arrangements were being planned for non-academic staff.

Rudolph said the proposals so far are for downsizing only, not for early retirement, because of the age discrimination problems it would present.
"The principle the university is operating on is that early retirement is not a viable option because of age discrimina-

See STAFF Page A3

Right: Paddy Murphy (Sigma Alpha Epsilon brother Brian Kexr) argues with the crowd during a fictional portrayal of Prohibition. Below: SAE pledges carry off Murphy's "dead body" after the staged drive-by shooting 1 a.m. Wednesday in front of Faegan's Pub. "Paddy Murphy Week" events raised money for the Rape Crisis Center.

Murder prophecy plagues SU

By ROB OWEN
Asst. Lifestyle Editor

Psychic reports on a national television talk show predicting a mass murder on a large northeastern university someon a large northeastern university sometime next
The reports sent shivers up many spines, and students, parents and administrators are looking for answers.

Sorre students say it's another prophecy from Nostradamus, the 16th century French- astrologer. Others contend a psychic made the prediction on The Oprah Winfrey Show.
Various stories circulating through out Syracuse University- and several other northeastern campuses this week predicted doom close to home.
This story, which is quickly reaching legendary status, says murders will take place in an L-or T-shaped building overiooking a cemetery and a lake on a large northeastern campus.
A spokeswoman for Harpo Productions, the producers of The Oprah Winfrey Show, denied the program ever ran a story predicting a mass murder

Vice President for Public Relations Robert Hill issued a statement which included the denial from Harpo Productions.
"We hope this puts to rest any fears people might have," Hill said.

Hill responded after several concerned parents called the Parents Office and the Office of Student Affairs.

Calling it a hoax

Emily Butler, assistant director of the Parents Office, said she told parents "that it's a hoax, that the (Oprah) show never aired."

Sgt. Grant Williams of SU Security said, "Naturally we're concerned, and if putting extra (security) people around certain buildings is going to make the kids feel better, we'll do sornething about it."

While several students believed the report and have asked their parents to call the university, most are akeptical.

See PREDICT Page

World

Parliament authorizes

 Ukraine to create army The Ukraine took a step towards independence Wednesday by creating itsown army.
The Parliament of the Ukraine has not yet decided whether the proposed 400,000 -member army will be created from parts of Soviet Army contingents now stationed in the Soviet Union's second most powerful republic.
"The course of history cannot be changed," the Ukrainian Defense Minister Konstantin Morozov told the Parliament in Kiev. "The Ukraine will have its own armed forces."

Morozov stressed that a "principle of neutrality" would underlie an independent Ukrainian military force.

Castro seeks oil

from Latin leaders

 Cuban President Fidel Castro, desper-ate for oil to replace sagging Soviet ate for oil to replace sagging Soviet supplies, has flown to Cozumel, Mexico, supplies, has flown to Cozumel, Mexico, for a surprise visit with leaders of Americas main crude producers.
Mexico, Colombia and Venezuela hope Mexico, Colombia and Venezuela hope to avoid "a bloodbath in Cuba" and are to avoid a bloodbath in Cuba and are trying to persuade Castro to speed up reform in his holdout Communist nation, according to Colombia's foreign minister, Luis Fernando Jaramillo.
We will make every effort so that the mediation of these three countries can produce fundamental changes on the island," he said.

Castro arrived Tuesday night shortly after it was announced he would be joining the summit.

Nation

Surgeons' group says

110 to AiDS testing

The nation's largest organization of surgeons came out against federal guide lines governing AIDS-infected doctors Tuesday.

In July, the Centers for Disease Control recommended that doctors and dentists who perform surgery get tested for AIDS and, if infected, refrain from loperating except with the approval of the patient and colleagues.
The 51,000-member American College of Surgeons said that the risk of a doctor infecting a patient "appears so low that costly measures such as testing and limiting work are not justified."

Brutality claims cost

Los Angeles millions

A City Council panel has recommended spending $$ 7$ million to settle 12 police brutality and false arrest cases, police brutaluding a $$ 5.5$ million payment to a man left a paraplegic when he was shot by an off-duty officer.

On Tuesday, the panel also recommended a $$ 1.2$ million payment to John Thomas Mincey III, who died after police officers put him in a choke hold during a traffic stop in suburban Pacoima in a traf 1982.

The death of Mincey, a 20-year-old teacher's aide, led the Los Angeles Police Department to ban the choke hold

If approved by the full council, it would bring the amount spent by the city this year in police misconduct settlements and judgements to more than $$ 13$ mil lion -up from the record $$ 9.1$ million spent last year. lion - up from

State

State votes to close
Shoreham nuclear plant
Long Island's Shoreham nuclear plant is close to being dismantled after a 4-3 ruling by New York State's highest court that upheid an agreement to close the plant.
The Tuesday vote by the State Court

The Tuesday vote by the State Court of Appeals means that the Long Island Lighting Company, which owns Shoredown the plant's systems and preparing it to be plants systems and preparing it to be transferred to the state for decommissioning.

State officials said if the settlement had been overturned, increased delay and higher costs would have prevented the opening of Shoreham as a nuclear the op plant.

Officials said trying to open the plant would have taken two to three years and cost more than $$ 300$ million.

Transit unit nears  accord on drug tests

The New York City Transit Authority nearing agreement on randorn drug-testing plan that could

The agreement would cover about 30,000 of the 35,000 workers responsible 30,000 of the 35,000 workers responsible for operating buses and subway trains.
Under the plan, which would affect people in jobs deemed "safety sensitive." the agency is expected to test 3,000 people within the first 90 days, Eugene Freidus, a lawyer for the Transit Author-

Campuses  University offers help to jobless graduates

George Washington University in Washington, D.C., cut tuition in half for May 1991 graduates who want to pursue master's degrees full time in certain liberal arts fields.

The program is intended to help students who could not find jobs after graduation. The offer means a 50 percent reduction in the $$ 490$ per credit hour cost of a graduate education
"Everybody's having a very difficult time. This is an offer to the graduating class to help them in these trying times," said Edward Caress, associate dean in the graduate school of arts and sciences. Caress said the offer helps the school as well as students. Students might be inclined to pursue master's degrees in areas that have not lured large numbers of graduating seniors in the past, he said. The program also brings additional tuition dollars to the school, he said. "It's a win-win situation," he said.

New penalties hold

fraternities responsible
Fraternities at James Madison University in Virginia will be held responsible for students who, after consuming alcohol at greek parties, are arrested for public drunkenness.
The new penalty procedure of the Interfraternity Council compares the names of those arrested by campus police with those on official party attendance lists.

Offenses will be tried by the council and serious offenses could lead to a fraternity's dismissal.

J-michifill mant

Tis the Season for Advertising in

 The DailyOrange Holiday Shoppers Issue November 21Deadline for the Holiday Shoppers issue will be 2.00 pm on Tuesday, November 19th. So don't delay make plans to advertise in the D.O. today!

Spitting image

 Today will be a spitting image of yesterday's beautiful weather. Expect warm tempera-tures up in the 70 s with a 40 pures up in the 70 s with a 40 percent chance of showers later in the evening. Clouds will roll percent chance of showers.

Friday
Friday will be partly cloudy and warm with a 30 percent chance of showers. Expect highs for this beautiful Fall Friday to be between 70 and 75.

Saturday

The good weather will continue into the weekend - at least temperatures will still be warm. There is a greater possibility of Saturday, but the temperatures Saturday, but the temperatur will remain in the upper 60 s .

Temperatures across
the country
Atlanta
Boston
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit
Los Angeles
Miami
New York
Philadelphia
Philadelphia
San Francisc
Seattle
Washington, D.C.
Tbday'sgreest city:Tacoma, Wash.

The Daily Orange

The Daily Orange is Syracuse Univeraity's independent tudent-run newapaper published Monday through Friday.
The newwpapar is distributed free on the Syracuse University and SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry campuses.

The editors are available after 3 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

News: 443-2127
Editorial: 443-2128
Lifertyle: 443-2128
Sports: 443-2208
Businesp/Adivertising 443-2314
(Mon-Fri 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.rn.)

Celebrating 20 years  of independence  Established in 1903, Inchependent since 1971.

DALLY (RANGE

ApriL 1969
The Daily Orange will commemorate 20 years of independence with a special anniversary isaue tomorrow. Wateh for it!

STAFF

Continued from Page A1
tion," she said. "Any plan for early retirement- will be on a voluntary basis."
Sandy Walker, a Bird Library employee, proposed a jobsharing.

Workers could split the day in half, or split the week among therngelves, she said
"Basically, two people would share one job and the job would then be more cost-effective," she said. "It would be two'employees, but only one galary - it saves a whole extra salary."
Donald Perricone, the director of printing services, said the university should consult with corporations that have implemented successful downsizing plans.
"Niagara Mohawk and NYNEX have both done it successfully," he said. "The university could learn a lot if they just go to these people and say, How did you handle it? instead of spending so much money on Pultants."
Perricone also said the university will spend a lot of money on lawsuits if people get laid off.

They have to offer incentives for people to leave before they turn 62," he said. "The dollar spent on incentives is going to be a lot more effective than the dollar spent on lawsuits."

Employees need to know a concrete plan as soon as possible, said Rose Tout, an administrative secretary in the School of Social Work.
"We have the opportunity to comment here, but to comment on what? We don't know anything." she said.
"I'm the secretary to a dean," she said. "If my dean gets dumped, I want to know what happens to me?
"Time is running out," said another university employee. Are we going to find out if were laid off by reading it in a newspaper?"

POLICY

Continued from Page A1
This recruitment process not only bringes students to SU, but also revenue, since most student athletes pay part of their tuition after scholarships, he aid.
Crouthamel said if scholar ship allotments for athletics were reduced, the non-revenue sports would be the first to have ifficulty staying competitive.
If teams have to offer less money in scholarships, they will lose quality athletes, their reputation and eventually the ability to pull in more students, he said.

The problem, however, does not affect the revenue producing sports, like football and men's basketball, he said.

Williarn Mangin, anthropology professor and committee mernber, said revenue. sports help support the entire athletic department.

Lewin said, the committee could not make a decision about removing the athletic depart ment from the rest of SU due to lack of budget information from the Senate.
F.Y.I.

Russian choir seeks members

The Syracuse University Russian A Cappella Choir is looking for singers.

No experience is required to join. The words to all songs are transcribed phonetically.

The choir will present its repertoire of Rusaian folk songs in Hendricks Chapel and at Wells and Hobart Colleges durWells and Hobart Colleges during the 1991-92 concert beason. ing the 1991-92 concert seasonRehearsals are heldeveryMonday at 7 p.m. in Room 107 of the Hall of Kanguages.

HILLEL PRESENTS

Tǐursaay Alternative MOVIE\section*{©he Gittle SKermaid}

Thursday, October 24, 7:00 P.M. Hillel Lounge, Hendricks Chapel

Your Student Fee At Work

ThE & RANGE

 Italian Restaurant NOW OPEN

IN

rodays

CIIMATE

CIOTHING CARE IS Importanti

CAREFUI

CIEAN

COURIEOUS
PROFESSIONAL DRY CLEANIIG WASH N' FOID

SHIRT IAUNDRY - $1.00 PER SHIRT COIN IAUNDRY

A Unique Concept in Laundry Services

Murder of the mind

It's Halloween and the proverbial rumor mill is churning out its best effort ever.

Stories depicting mass murders set to take place in Day Hall and other letter-shaped residence halls during the Halloween weekend have rampaged the campus, causing unnecessary alarm and confusion. From renting hotel rooms for that weekend to holding seances and warding off evil spirits, students seem to be flying off the handle.

Officials at other northeastern universities seem to be handling the situation with poise, not panic. Bucknell stepped up security in trouble spots and Boston University has flatly denied there is any validity to the story.

Thankfully, Robert Hill, vice president for public relations here at Syracuse University, has also denounced the rumors.

This is not the first time stories like this have been started. While all in fun, they may cause mental stress for those students involved, causing them to lose focus of everyday activities. In an effort to ease the minds of students, security should take precautions as well. Extra attention should be given to areas in and around Day Hall during that weekend. Even though the stories are just rumors, as a Bucknell University studentsaid, someone could take it upon themselves to fulfill the prophecy. The stories should not be completely ignored.
Students should relax. All evidence indicates the prank is just that - a prank. Someone's psychology project has gotten very far out of hand.

Students prohibit education  Classes are irritating. It's not the professors'

fault or the workload - it's the students in them. While most of my classmates and I try to listen attentively, there are always those who talk constantly. I'm getting tired of having to strain to hear the professor, much less comprehend the topic he or she is teaching, because hend the topic he or she is teaching. because some people in the back of the room want to make class "social hour."
 and they do stop talking for just a moment, which coincidentally is the duration of their attention opan. Then they start all over again.
I can't tell you how many times r've heard people talking during a lecture about how they really don't want to be there, how much they drank last weekend or how they are stressing about who to bring to the formal.
I don't want to hear about it.

This isn't Kindergarten Mania. This is college.

College has classes, and that's what I'm paying for. Save your banter for later. If you're not going to pay attention in class, don't show up. No one is forcing you to go. If you want to talk, don't distract the students who want to learn. Leave.

And if classes are so terrible, switch to something that is right for you. Don't just sit there and complain about it. Your situation won't fix itself. I know there are those core requirerment classes that you may not like to take. Well, that doesn't give you the right to inhibit someone else's learning. If your class is that bad, talk to your protessor. I'm sure he or she would be more than happy to help you work out your problem. They work with students for a living, you know.:

1 have another problem with people who don't do their assignments and copy from those who did. I witnessed two wornen walking into their astronomy class Wednesday, talking about a month-long project thit was due that day. It literally went like this:
Woman 1: "I didn't do the homework, did you?"

Woman 2: "Yeah."  Worman 1: "Can I copy it?"

Woman 2: "Sure."
Woman 1: "Tm so glad I have sisters in my class."

(They both laugh.)

That makes me sick
Another thing about certain students that gets to me are those who routinely hand in papers weeks past their due date and still do papers weeks past their due date and still do as well or better than those who worked to get
I try not to get mad because I know in my mind that their apathy and laxiness will catch up to them someday. There will be a point in the future when they just won't be able to cu corners anymore and they will be helpless. 1 won't feel sorry, because right now they have total disregard for everyone except themselves.

The worst part about writing at this length is that the apathetic people Tm referring to won't read this story. And I should have made it shorter for their benefit. But I am assuming. of course, that they paid attention when they were taught to read. Maybe I'm wrong.

LETTERS

IFC damages the greek system

To the editor:

Recent actions by the InterFraternity Council and certain individuals within the Greek Office serve only to dimmage the system which they aim to protect.

It astounds me that the president of the IFC believes it within his power to stifle greek free speech and advise all members to sit idly by even if they get the urge to defend themselves against ignorant stereotypes.

During the past few weeks, certain messages have been conveyed to all IFC fepresentatives regarding the betterment of the greek"image."This goal was to be accomplished by instructing not to write letters to The Daify Oramge for fear the someore might voice a damaging opinion. To deal With ndvergity by mappressing the volee of your own

mernbership yields nothing but negative results.I could inform you of the importance of the Bill of Rights and the Constitution, but it would be easier for those in charge of the IFC to consult. any freshman history book. The second message conveyed by the IFC instructed greeks not to wear their membershipletters to class. Apparently "some professors" have been noticing that those Who sit in the back of class to sleep are frequently greeks. Despite the fact that I know greeks who consistently perform at the top of theit undergraduate class and that the greeks' average is unually comparable to or above the all-men's average, these stereotypes persist.

What is the beat way for us to congtruetively combat them? Certainly not to improve our Certainiy nombers or highlight our pocomplishmente, but to tell themplignmente, but to tel

shut, hide their greek affiliations and hope people leave us alone as we cower in secrecy.

The only dangerous voice we should be suppressing (but he too has a right to speak) is he too has a rignt tospeak that of the IFC president.

Concern yourself with more substantial issues!

How about the fact that the Syracuse University administration is using the sreek sygtem to shoulder the bunden of their lack of foresight? They now realize that residence halls shouldn't have been expanded in the face of declining enrollment and have decided to take students from greek housing to make up for their blunder (we used to serve as a safety valve for overrowding). Spend your energies stacking this fairweather friend!

Michtel J. Panter

LETTERS

Habit threatens lives

To the editor:
Today in the United States approximately 1,200 people will die at their own hands and arrother 140 will die at the hands of others.

These casualties, estimated by the Centers for Disease Control, are not considered crimimal in our court system but are criminal in moral terms. These are the deaths innicted by active and passive smoking and could weil have smoking and cou been prevented.

According to the America Lung Association, at least 434,000 Americans will die from the effects of cigarette smoking this yerar.

It is now the largest killer of adults in our country, yet we permit and foster it.
We promote smoking by allowing it to be advertised and by subsidizing the tobacco industry.
Even non-participating individuals are paying for the addictions of others. According to U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Louis W. Sullivan, "Each and every American, including those who don't smoke, is paying a hidden tax ... for the consequences of smoking."

In fact, the cost estimated to the country for health care and productivity losses associated with smoking is mare than $$ 52$ billion each year. This averages out to $$ 221$ for every man, womart and child in the nation.
Since the surgeon general's first warning against smoking in 1964 , education and restrictionsonadvertising have caused a decrease in smoking. The Centers for Disease Control estimates that 29 Control estimates that 29 smoke, down from 40 percent smoke, down from 40 percent in 1965 . But there's a lot more in 1965 . But there's a lot mor work to be done.

We should put an end to govermment subsidies. Congress has passed legislation that subsidizes tobacco farmers to the tune of more than a half a billion dollars. The Congressional Research Service and the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimate that the eventaal cost will be $$ 6$ million to $$ 900$ million, which will be passed on to taxpayers.

Emmett Kelly NBC employee

The tobacco industry is a powerful lobby, but irnagine if our lawmakers made the case to voters that in these of funds for social programs. they're being asked to financially support tobaceo growers and the lifethreatening habits of a minority of the population. The Centers for Disease Control estimates passive smoking is associated with 30,000 deaths each year.

There is no justification for a person to pursue an activity that endangers the health and lives of others. We live in a democracy and it is a definite minority ( 29 percent) that is puting the ives smokers at risk.

Canada has passed legislation banning nearly all forms of tobacco advertisements, restricted publicsmoking and levied high cigarette taxes.
Canada's biggest step to deter smoking was the tax on tobacco. A pack of cigarettes in Canada now sells for up to $7. That is up to six times the cost in the United States

The results are promising According to the Nonsmokers' Rights Association, cigarette simoking has decreased 43 percent in Canada from a decade ago. from a decade ago.

The Canadian model proves that we are not powerless to act.

It is estimated that if

 Congress raised tobacco prices over the next four years, as Canada has done, six million Americans would stop smoking and 200,000 lives would be and 200,000 livesThe raising of taxes presents a great opportunity for politicians. In one very visible action, Congness can pass legislation attractive to approximately 70 percent of owr nation that will not only save hundreds of lives but will also raise revenues to benefit social programs and reduce the federal deficit. Seems simple, doesn't it?

The Daily Orange  Estabhished in 1903, Indeppendemt Since 1971

Eliture in Chief
The Ouitr Whating Elitur
 by 7he racis Craver Coporation ar 7

President, Deta Thetn Pi

SU STUDENTS, COMIE OUT AND STUDYTTHE STARS!
 FEATURING
new Jersey nets

starring NBA ROOKIE OF THE YEAR DERRICK COLEMAN

PHILADELPHIA 76ERS
$v_{s}$ presented by starring

ALL STAR GAME MVP CHARLES BARKLEY

WIXT - TV
PRO $=$ MOTIONS

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1991-7:30 PM CARRIER DOME
PREFERRED STUDENT SEATING ONLY $10 WITH SU ID TICKETS AVAILABLE AT CARRIER DOME BOX OFFICE AND ALL TICKETMASTER LOCATIONS CHARGE BY PHONE AT $1800-382-8080$
Coca-Gola Syracuse - Hunt-Wesson - Kellogn's © Rickett & Coleman * Suprimos

COMMUNITY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM
FALL '91 ORIENTATION

If you're taking a Fall Semester '91 internship or thinking about taking an internship during Spring Semester, come to the CIP Fall '91 Orientation!

Thursday October 24 7:00-8:00p.m. Room 304B Schine Student Center

Featured Speakers: Dr. Bruce Carter, SU Psychology Department; Ed LaComb, KIX-FM; and former CIP interns.

Don't miss out on this opportunity to learn how you can get the experience you need and get the most from your internship!

PREDICT

Corttinued from Page A1
"I think it's an interesting phenomenon that people can become so worried about something like this, which is basically an urban myth," said SU junior Tanya Hands. "I mean. we're college students - we should see through these things.

Adam Sande, a junior, agrees
"I think it's absurd for anybody to believe it," Sande said. "The only concer $n$ people should have is that some nut out there could hear the rumor and realize $S U$ fits the description and take it upon himself to see that it happens here."

Winds on campuses

But SU is not the only campus catching wind of the story.

The Daily Free Press at Boston University reported on Oct. 11 that the same story was making its way across its campus. But at BU the murders are predicted for this weekend.

At Bucknell University, Doug Honabach. a senior editor for The Bcteknellian, said the report had reached the Pennsylvania school as well.
"We've seen the Nostradamus prediction that this is all based on, and it's marginal at best," Honabach said.

He added, "(Bucknell) security is being stepped up at areas that meet this fake description so a lunatic doesn't look at this and say it's his call from God and do something stupid.'

Alan Bash, an editor for The Hoya at Georgetown University, researched the story, and could only find one possible entry in a book titled The Or. acles of Nostradamus that may be the source. Nostradamus made numerous predictions which have been reinterpreted throughout history, including the rise of Hitler and the assassination of President Kennedy.

It reads, "Between two rivers shall he see himself enclosed. tons and casks shall be joined together to pass across: after eight bridges have been broken up, the chief shall at the moment be run through, and perfect children shall have their throats cut with a knife."

Bash said the prophecy has also been a subject of controversy at Boston College, Mount Holyoke College and Holy Cross College.

University of Vermont student Jason Wilson said he had heard the story as well, but said it had not caused a panic. "I takes a lot for people to get excited up here."

TheDaily Orange PRISIV

After Ours presents group of 'Gorey Stories'

By ERIC GRODE

Although he is best known for his opening credits of the for his opening credits of the Public Broadcasting Service series Mystery! and his poster depicting the deaths of different children. Edward Gorey's short stories also have a large cult following.
ries will serve as the basis for the second After Ours production of the year, Gorey Stories. which opens tomorrow night. In addition, several of Gorey's

With tites like "The Hapless Child," "The Pious Infant" and The Insect God," Gorey Stories is a natural for the Halloween season, said press representative Liesl Mader.
"It's more of a Halloween sort of mood," Mader said, comparing it to Tomfoolery, the play that Gorey Stories replaced at the last minute.
"It's going to be perfect for Halloween.

Nine actors play at least eight different roles each, says Mader, and the stories vary wildy in style.
"Some (of the stories) are funny, some are kind of sick and some clearly move away from the 'happily ever after' theme." she said.

It's Greek to me
Also opening tomorrow is The Greeks, the Syracuse University Drama Department's first production of the season.

The Greeks takes three plays - Iphigenia in Aulis by Euripides, Agamemnon by Aeschylus and Electra by Sophocles - and combines them into one story.
"The three stories are all part of the same farnily history, complete with lots of blood and plete," with paid press representative Barbara Haas.
"Along with all the drama

Now mlaying

Off campis:

The Buteher", Wife -
Carousel Center: 1:40, 4:20. 7:30 and 10:10: late shaw 12:10 n.m. Snt. and Sun Fayeteville Mall: 7:30 and $9: 40$ p.m. daily: matinees at 1, 3:10 and 5:20 p.m Sat. and Sun

Cool as fee -
Carousel Center: 2:20 and 4:45 p.m. dally.
Shappingtown stall: 9:15 p.m. daily.
Curly Sue -
Carouse/ Cemter 1, 3:30, 6, 8:t0 and 10:30 p.m. dsily; late nhow at 12:25 a.m Fayettevilhe Mall: 7:15 and 9:20 p.m daily: tmotintere at 1. 3:05 and 5:10 p.m Sat. and Sun
Deceived -
Camusel Cuntar: 1:15, 3:40, 6:20 and p.m. deily: late show at $11.40 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Fri Fayecteville Mrnh: 7:45 and 9:4K p.m daily: matinees at $1: 45$. 3:45 and $5: 46$ Barton Fink
Barton Fink
Cinema Eikt 2 : 7 and $9: 30$ p.m. duily matinees at 2 mpd $4: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sat. and Sun.

On campis:

Robin Hoond: Prince of Thieves -

Ehivervity LiniontGifhindA volitoriums midninht Firi and Eist Firme.

Mr. Smich Ciors to Wrahington -- and $9: 30$ p.m. Sun Wintion Auditorium -

The inimacle

At the movies

Carousel Center Hoyts

 Cineman, 466-5678.
Chema Enst 2, 446-6892.

Loerts Fimyetteville
Thentert, $637-9868$.
The ETolywood. 454-0321.
Shoppingtown Theaters. 448-0320.

Werteoth 479 -9911.

GREEKS

Ingram.
The original plays, which were translated and adapted by Kenneth Cavender and John Barton for England's National Theater, "are very direct and ... easy to understand," Haas said.

The cast of more than two dozen includes Todd Lauter bach as Agxamemnon, Sarah Carm ter and Michele Antal as different versions of Clytemnestra, JenniferGallagherasiphigenia, Nicole Cerrito as Electra and Taye Diggs as Orestes.
The Greeks and Gorey Stories will run at the Syracuse Stage Complex building, 820 E. Genesee St., through Nov. 3. Formore information, call the SU Drama information, call the SU Drama box office at $443-9852$ or box office at $443-9852$ or Syracuse Stage box office at Syracuse
$443-3275$

ON THE COVER: Jeft Huggins, Jason Chaet (in chair), Amanda Crafts and Kari Ann Shiff perform in "The Pious Infant," one of several skits in After Ours Gorey Stories.
-Photo courtesy Syracuse Stage

[^25]Shoppingtown hin: 7:20 nad 9:7n p.m. daily: matinces at 2 and 4:30 p.m.

Homici

Homicide -

Catrusel Center: 2:15, 4:50. 8 and 10:50 p.m. daily: tate show at $12: 45 \mathrm{n} . \mathrm{m}$. Shoppingtown Mrill: 7:20 and 9:50 P.m. daily; matinces at 2 and 4:30 p.m.

Carousel Certer: 1:10.4, 6:50 and 9:50 p.m. daily.

Shoppingtown Mant: 7 p.m. daily: mati

Frankle A Johnny 9:10 p.m. deily: fate Rhows at it tho p.m F-i. and Sat.

101 Doimatians-
Hollywood: fi:30 daily: mutineces at 2:35 and 4:05 p.m. Sat. and Sun.

Other Propule's Money -
Other Praple's Money -
Caroust Center: 2, 4:30, 7:20 und 10 p.m. daily: late showe at $12: 05$ o.m. Shat. and Sun.
Shoppingtown Mall: 7:30 and 9:40 p.m. deily: matineen ut $1,3: 10$ and $5: 20$ p.m. Snt. and Sun.

Paradise
Cambel Center 1:30, $4,6: 40$ and $9: 30$ pm. daily: late nhew at ilt 4 i p.m. Fri. and Sat.
Fryefteville Moll: 7 and 9:30 p.m. daily: matineres at 2 and 4:30 p.m. Sut. and Sun.

Ricacher -
10:20 Cousel Contar: 1:50, 4:15, 7:40 and Sat. and Sun.

Shattered -
Carousel Cencer: 7:50 and 10:40 p.m. daity: late show sit. nnd Sun. 12:30 a.m. Shoppingtown Alall: 9:45 p.m. daily.

The Super -

Carousel Center: 9:20 pm. daily: Inte how H:Sh p.rn. Fri. nend Sat

T-rminetor 2: Judkment Day -
Holly wood: and $9: 30$ p.m. daily. nee at 2 p.m. Sun.

41 8
RODNEY KING BAND
R & B NIGHTLLIEE
October 25

 Maybe there
is asubstitute for expegience.
ans
$=1$ Maybe there
is asubstitute for expegience.
ans
$=1$ Maybe there
is a substitute for experience.
ensen

ETDRNSNM music

Rob Mining, Steve Lau, David Schelzel and Bobby Mitan

Regional bands make most of original sounds

In recent years, several cities around the world have developed signature styles common to their respective bands.

Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago and Manchester, England, have each become rneccas for their own distinctive breed of music
While this may be an effective BRUCE means of promoting BUCKLEY a certain FLESH sic, it can 1Ux FD sic, it can prove sti bands who want to move away from their hometown sound.

This week's column showcases three current bands who are trying to break out of those molds and search elsewhere for inspiration.
Nirvana -Nevermind
While the band's debut LP Bleach, established Nirvana as one of the harbingers of the Seattl解 grunge scene, the band's new album, Nevermind, takes the band beyond this stereotype and establishes them as one of the best bands on the current alternative scene.

The band's sonic evolution is in part thanks to several personnel changes, including the replacement of drummer, Chad Channing with David Grohl (formerly of Scream) and the deparmeriy of Scream and the departure of second guitarist Jason ture of se Everman.

The streamlining of the band's line-up provides the perfect formula for the success of Nirvana's newfound sound.

The album's single, "Smells Like Teen Spirit." is the best sampling of the band's abilities as vocalist/guitarist Kurt Cohain carries the song from the sultry to the screaming, from the atmospheric to the anarchic.

The rest of the album follows in similar fashion, taking the listemer from one extreme to the other with intense drama.

While songs like "Breed" hint at the band's Seattle roota, much of the album has a Minneapolis of the album has a Minneapolis flavor as songs like Lounge flavor as songs like "Lounge Act and territoriai Pissinges resemble early Husker Du and the Replacements respectively.
Cohain's gruff vocal quality is especially reminiscent of exReplacement vocalist Paul Wester berg.

Two of the album's beat tracks, "Lithium" and "Stay Away." sound like the Pixies at their angriest, combining rolling bass lines with screaming guitar and punchy drums.

Although a majority of the album is upbeat. mellow songs like the acoustic "Something In The Way" and "Polly" show that Nirvana is equally proficient at being aubdued as it is at slamming.

Nirvana's well-rounded sound on Nevermind results in one of the best alternative releases of the year, a record that is worth adding to any collection.
The Ocean Blue-Ceruleart
In 1989 , the alternative music scene saw the revival of early 1980s Englisit pop in the forrn of The Ocean Blue. Although the band's roots are in Hershey, Pa., its debut and current alm burns both have an English flavor in the tradition of Echo and the Bunnymen and The Smiths.

While the band's self-titled debut centered around jumpy thythms and catchy melodies. the band's latest work. Cerulean, explores its mellower side.
The opening track. "Breezing Up," sets the album afloat, drifting on David Schelzel's airy guitar lines and angelic vocals, while guided by Rob Minnig's laid-back thythms. Bobby Mittan's rolling bass lines give motion to the melancholic mood as Steve Lau's delicate piano parts dance lightly over top.
The remainder of the alburn glides along with similar grace as songs like "A Separate Reality" and "Falling Through The Ice" highlight the album's etheice highlight the real atmosphere.
eal atmosphere.
Cerulean as a
Cerulean as a whole is a omprehensive collection of lighthearted, atmospheric tunes that will entrance English pop fans. Swervedriver -flaise
If you're sick of the current onslaught of Manchester bands. then meet England's rebuttal against retro - Swervedriver. While most of the English acene still wallows in 1970 s psychedeia, Swervedriverseeks to create its sound in the vein of Sonic Youth, Dinossur Ir, and other American-based noise-guitar bands on its debut LP, Raise.
"Sci-Flyer" slams the alburn nto gear, barrelling at the into gear, barrelling at the listener through aswirl of furzed.
out guitar melodies, feedback out guitar melodies, feedback and pounding drums, as Adam and pounding drums, as Adam Franklin's laid back vocals (a la Franklin's laid back vacals (a la J. Mascis of Dinosaur Jr.) blend J. Mascis of Dinosaur Jr.) blend bitter-swertly with the ensuing chaos.
Songs like "Son Of Mustang Ford" put the album at full throttle, while "Deep Seat" and "Pile Up" lay off the gas and const into the sunset.

All elements combined, Raise is a joy ride down the American highways and byways that grunge fans won't want to miss.

No trouble with 'Oscar'; no Oscar for 'Trouble'

Two films that were recently released on home video were bashed by critics when they ROB - debuted in OWEN VIDEO REVIEWS edy Oscar got a bum rap. Stallone stars in the fünny farce Oscar as 1920s gangster Angelo "Snaps" Provolone. whose father (Kirk Douglas) makes Snaps promise to give up his illegal Hfestyle and walk the path of righteousness.
Snaps reluctantly agrees, and complications ensue.
Snapṣ' daughter Lisa.(Marisa Tomei) may or may not be pregnant with the chauffeur's child: his wife (Ornella Muti) is angry that Snaps allowed this to happen; and his accountant, Little Anthony (Vincent Spano), announces he has embezaled $$ 50,000$ but wants to marry Snaps' daughter Theresa (Elizabeth Barondes). Snaps, however, has no daughter named Theresa. And this all happens before 9 a.m. one morning.
ing But Trouble lives up to its, title, the SylvesterStallone com-

Patherwocky NEEDS OU!

- ADVERTISNIV MANAEER
- EVENT MANACFEX
-TALENT MANAGER

Te a part of the only student group that: showcases local $\frac{1}{4}$ strdent tatent eveny FFiday might...

COME TO UNIVERSTTY UNION, (105 SCHINE, NEXT TO ALEEACTS). QCOEFR 24프

5m
or call Amy at $x-2503$

Yove soviant Fee HANGin'at the JAB!

Dr. Poole (Tim Curry, right) teaches elocution to Angelo "Snaps" Provolone (Sylvester Stallone) in the funny farce Oscar, now on home video.
While the mistaken identities, mix-ups of an important black bag and gangster jokes lead to a Three's Company-like situation, director John Landis keeps the whole thing going with such crazy glee that the predictability doesn't hurt.

Parody of a moron
Stallone is great as Snaps, simply because he's parodying his own public persona as a moron.
"I learn a new word every day," he says as he chastises one of his goons for using a double negative.
The rest of the cast is excellent as well. Marisa Tomei appeared in A Different World during the show's first season and then disappeared. She's hilarious here as Lisa, a spoiled brat who loves to pose and fake tantrums.

Peter Riegert gets the best lines in the film as Snaps' butler Aldo, and Harry Shearer and Martin Ferrero are a hoot as the Finucci brothers, two Italian tailors. Even Linda Gray, Sue Ellen Ewing on television's Dallas, turns up at the end of the film.

But the real stand-out performer is Tim Curry as Snaps' elocution instructor, Dr. Thornton Poole. With his manic expressions, Curry steals every expressions, scen which he appears.
"Watch it there, you've got a dangling participle," Poole tells one of Snaps' goons. The goon immediately looks at his fly.

Granted, it's childish, sophomoric slapstick, but it's flawless, no matter how silly its intentions.

John Candy's two roles, one as a policeman and one in drag, can't save Nothing But Trouble from failure.

Nothing but horrible
Nothing But Trouble, on the other hand, is nothing but stupid, unfunny, gross and allaround lame.

Chevy Chase, Demi Moore and John Candy must have felt obliged to do their friend Dan Aykroyd a favor and star in this pitiful excuse for a movie.

Chase plays a financial publisher who takes Moore to Atlantic City to meet with one of her law firm's clients. But on the way they get arrested in Valkenvania when Chase fails to make a full stop at a stop sign.

Soon they're brought before the Justice of the Peace (Aykroyd covered with prosthetic makeup) where he confines them to the house. The judge wants Chase to marry his daughter See OSCAR Page ES

DATHE WORES

CHOREOGRAPHER'S

GuIDE

MUSIC:

*STINKY FEET: Jabberwocky presents Teaux Jam, a live band, in the Schine Student Center dining hall. Jabberwocky is a group devoted to providing is a group devoted to providing alternative entertainment for alternative entertainment for people who do not wish to drink people who do not wish to drink begin at 8 p.m. Friday.
*ORCHESTRAL INTERLUDES:TheUniversity Orchestra, conducted by Ronald Schweitzer. will perform in Crouse College Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.
$\star$ COFFEEHOUSE: The Coffeehouse features music and entertainment by students in the Faculty Center, between Bird Library and Watson Hall. The Coffeehouse is open from 8 p.m. to midnight Sunday.
-PRIZE-WINNING OR- ber of the International African GAN: Allan Morrison, winner Heritage Women's Commission, GAN: Allan Morrison, winner Heritage Women s Commision, of the Arthur Poster Organ will speak this weekend. "Opof the Arthur Poster Organ will speak this weekend. "Op-Competition, will give a free pression \& Liberation: Visible Competition, wil? give a free pression \& Liberation: Visible recital in the Crouse College \& Invisible Disabilities" will Auditorium at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Sunday. take place in Room 130, Schine DANCE:

HHOLY BATCAVE: Alternative dance and video come to the Schine Student Center Underground with a taping of To the Batcave. The event is sponsored by UUTV from $7: 30$ to 11 tonight.
*THE ETERNAL QUESTION: Phi Beta Sigma is sponsoring the "What is Love?" dance party in the Schine Student party in the Schine Student p.m. to 2 a.m. on Friday.

*WOMEN'S STUDIES: Deborah Williams, peer counseling instructor and board mem-

TIEA P P

$\star$ IT"S GREEK TO ME: The Greeks is Syracuse University - Trama Department's first proluction of the semester, combining three classic Greek plays. For more information call 443 9852. Performances begin Friday.

- AFTER OURS: Gorey Stories is based on a series of short stories and limericks by Edward Gorey. For more information call 4443-3275. Performances run Friday through Nov.

SEXCAPADES: The Talent Co. will present The Best Little Wharehouse in Texas at the Civic Center. Tickets are $$ 15$ or $$ 13.50$. For more information, call 479-5495. Performances run Friday through Sunday.

*THERE'S A LIGHT: Syracuse India presents "Diwali," The Festival of Lights in Goldstein Auditorium. Schine Student Center. The program will take place from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. Friday.

FILM ON ANOREXIA: Anorexia/Bulimia Support Inc., a United Way Agency will sponsor showings of Henry Jaglom's Eating: A Very Serious Story About Women and Food. The About homen and rood. The movie centers on a group of movie centers on a group of women who describe their torwomen who describe their tortured emotional interactions tured emotional interactions with food as they gather at a with food as they gather at a friend's birthday party. The film will be shown at the Manlius Cinema, 130 E. Manlius St. at $7: 30$ and $9: 30$ p.m. Friday through Thursday.
-TALENT WANTED: Delta Sigma Theta (Jabberwocky) presents A Talent Show by Students. It will take place from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. in Goldstein Auditorium, Schine Student Center, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday.

The Guide is published each Thursday in The Daily Or-ange's Prism magarine. ange's Prism magazine.
To have an event listed in The Guide, campus groups should submit the information to the University Events Office.

Campus events are marked with a star.

Last Chance to Register-October 24 and 25 Upstate New York Graduate Education FORUM FOR STUDENTS OF COLOR

Saturday, November 9, 1991—SUNY at Albany

Featuring:

- Graduate School fair with representatives from 100 top graduate institutions from across the country (excluding law, medical, and dental schools)
- Faculty-led information sessions on the nature of graduate study in different disciplines
- GRE and GMAT preparation session
- Financial support seminar
- Transportation and lunch provided!

Register at:
Center for Academic Achievement 804 University Avenue Room B005
443-2005

Registration Table Schine Center Atrium October 24 and 25 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Please bring a check made out to Syracuse University for the $$ 10$ refundable bus deposit when registering. (Checks only please.) Checks will be returned after the forum.

Institutions participating in last year's forum included the following

Northern Illinois University
Penn State University
Princeton University
Temple University (Social Work)
Radford University
Rutgers University
Texas A&M University
SUNY-Albany
SUNY-Binghamton
SUNY-Cortland
SUNX-Environmental Science and Forestry
SUNY-Stony Brook
Syracuse University
University of California at Berkeley

University of California at Los Angeles University of California at Santa Cruz University of Florida
University of Michigan, School of Education University of Notre Dame University of Pennsylvania (Social Work) University of Rochester Vassar College
Virginia Commonwealth University
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University
Washington State University
West Virginia University
Yale University

Major funding for the forum has been provided by*
The Aetna Casualty and Surety Company

NAKED MAN

|  | Howisy!  MC SuAné was KIONAPPED THLS WFEK bechuse of the red house STKin. So, I. G-RiCO AM FORCED TO TAKE OVER tomar So I THOUGHT IDSSHON DU WHAT IT WOMD GE LIKEIFT WERE NAKED MAN!! |
| :---: | :---: |

BY G. RICO & M.C. SUAVE
 BY SPARGO

THE SCREAMING VIKINGS
 SLONE

THE HEINOUS EIGHTIES

THIS IS NOT ANDY!
BY MATT JOHNSON

ARCHIVES 1987 (PLEEBO

BY ERIC HAVEN)

TWISTED WORLD

"BOY, I HATE

FAST FOODS !"

THE YOOTHA FILE
BY LOP LOP

ARCHIVES 1947 (VIC THE VET BY GABE)

BRETT USUALLY AITRACTED A LOT OF CAICKS' ATIENTION WHEN HE TOOK HIS NO-LEGGED DOG FOR A WALK.

LIFEDEATHCATDOG BY REX

Advertising speaker

 scheduledNick Orloff, retired president of Rochester-based RumrillHoyt Ine., will speak in Room A2 of Newhouse I tonight at 6 p.m.

The lecture. "What Print Needs Now," will focus on the effectiveness of todays magazine ads. For more information, call Jill Kotler at 443.6776.

S.C.A.R.ED. sponsors

 art exhibitStudents Concerned About Rape Education is necepting work for Voicing Outrage, $a$ juried art show protesting sexual violence, rape sexism and sexual demonstration.
Work will be accepted on Oct. 30 from 10 a.m. to $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. in 30 from 10 a.m. to 5 P.m. in Room 30

Flat work must be ready to hang and sculpture must have its own pedestals.

The exhibit will be in Room 302 in the Schine Student Center, from Nov. 4 through Nov. 9. For more information, call Deb Orloff at 479-0526.

Roundtable discusses greek pros and cons Head to Head, a televised discussion on fraternity life. will be shown on University Union Television at 8 p.m. on Oct. 28.Prominent pro- and antigreek Syracuse University students will debate the value of Stis greek system. The program, facilitated by a Newhouse gram, tacilitated by a Newhouse graduate class, swill be taped graduate class next Monday.

next Monday.
Members of the studio audience will have an opportunity to voice their opinions. People interested in joining the studio audience should call 443-4004 by Wednesday at 4 p.m.
Library offers
free tours
Guided tours of E.S. Bird Library will be offered weekly on Tuesday afternoons at $3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. through Nor: 19.

The tour provides new users with a chance to become acquainted with locations and services. Experienced users can find the new locations of services and collections in the renovated licollections in the renovated 1 - brary. For mor
$44.3-194$.
Library Associates plan book sale

The Syracuse University Library and Library Associates will hold its annual book sale Oct. 31 , from 10 a.m. to 7 pale and Nov. 1 from 10 am .m. to $3: 30$ p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in E. S. Bird Library.

All subject areas are represented and proceeds are used to support the acquisition and preservation of SU library collec## tions.  Concert pianist

to give recital

Robert Weirich, music director of the Skaneateles Festival. will give a solo recital Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church, 94 E. GeneseeSt., Skaneateles.
Weirich will perform works by Bach, Mozart, Chopin and Rachmaninoff. It will be followed by a dessert reception.
Tickets will be $$ 10$ at the door. For more information. call 685-7148.
Community Choir seeks members
The Syracuse Community Choir its seeking members for the annual Solstice Concert, which includes songs from the traditions of Hanukkah, Christmas. Kwanzaa and Winter Solstice Rites.

Rehearsals begin on Oct. 30 at the Euclid Community Open House ( ECOH ) at Euclid and Westcott streets. People of all abilities are welcome and no abilities are welcome and no auditions are necessary. For auditions are necessary. For more information, call $463-$ 7728 ,

Holiday cards

benefit charity
The Onondaga County Unit of the American Cancer Society of the American cancer Society has holiday cards available through admation to the American Cancer Society. can Cancer Society.
These cards yary
These cards vary in style and benefit the American Cancer Society. For more information or to receive the holiday flyer for ordering. call 451-7710 or write to the Onondaga County Unit of the American Cancer Society. 7145 Henry Clay Blvd., Liver. pool, N.Y. 13088.
SUFAR holds
weekly meetings
Syracuse University For Animal Rights will hold weekly SUEAR meetingswill takeplace in Room 128 of the Schine Student Center it 6:30 p.m.
Cat found in university area
A gray male tiger cat was found in the university area. The cat is about one year old and is described as "very friendity."

If this could be your cat. inquire at 611 University Ave. and Nov. 1 from 10 anm. to 3.30 or call $443-4264$ ding days only yair, $2918=$
Desidr
The Students'
Choice
in Salons

Hair Services

Perms $$ 40$,Spiral Perms $65 (longer hair slighty extra) Coloring with Cut $$ 33$, Retouch $$ 25$
Foil Hilighting $$ 55$. cut included conger hair slighty extra) Haircuts: Womens $$ 17$

Mens $$ 12$

Tanning

1 visit-$5
6 visits-$20
2 weeks for $$ 35$ ( 14 visits) 4 weeks for $$ 45$ ( 30 visits)
Noils, Pedicures, Manicures, Waxing 2918 E. Genesee Street dust 5 minutes from campus)
$446-5950$
Walkins Appointmonts
Apprecioted

Psi Chit

The National Honor Soclery in Frychology

INVITES YOU TO ITS INFORMATIUNAL MEETING

FOR THOSE INTERESTED IN

 GETTING INVOLVED IN PSYCHOLDGY COME TO RM 207 IN THE HALL OF LANGUAGES OH DCT 28 AT 7:00PMFGR MORE INFORMATION, CALL LYNDA X-8280

By KEN ALDRICH Staff Writer struction.

Shrinking Syracuse University and searching for areas to cut were concerns faculty and students expressed Wednesday at one of four University Senate open forums.

The senate committees on university relations, students, research and instruction discussed budget cuts, the SU plant cussed budget cuts, the SUpl fund and possible solutions.
fund and possible solutions.
"We're trying to figure out how to enforce the budgetary cutbacks with the Jeast prob-

Committee

BY RAYNA KATZ

Stalf Writer
A University Senate committee was told Wednesday what some students have said all along: the University Bookstore is an overpriced student service
The negative image of The negative image of Syracuse University's "money grubbing" may be reinforced by grubbing" may be reinforced by its policy of contracting specific companies to provide services, said Lore Heath, associate director of the Division of Interna-
"It isn't easy how to decide to get smaller, restructure and not to lose things with value," said Stewart Thau, chairman of the university relations committee.
"We cannot cut around the edges," said Sidney Greenblatt foreign student adviser at the Orfice of International Services "There are some things we can. There are some things we cannot take cuts out of."
"Take security for
"Take security for example," he said. "If we cut those funds any more, there will be no one to respond to the blue lights." Shawne Hayenga, a sopho"Wore anthropology major, said, "We must know our long-range goals before you can make cuts If not, it can be crippling."

The SU plant fund, which includes tuition and non-tuition money, was suggested as an area for cuts.

Playing with money
"The plant fund is going towards early retirement pensions," he said. Money from the plant fund will be used as an incentive for staff and faculty to retire early, Thau said.
"If you wanted to downsize, something is needed like that," he said.

Brian Rubenstein, co-chairman of the senate's committee on students questioned the way the fund will be spent.
"We are having problems of enrollment and retention," he said. "There is an $81 / 2$ percent dropout rate. Why isn't the money going there? Right now we're having a major problem."

Robert Hill, vice president for public relations, said the plant fund contained extra cash that allowed the university to have more options open.
"We've got cash, low debt and a beautiful campus," he said. "That gives us the option of reconstruction
"We're not the first, not the only and we're not the largest' university to make cuts, he said.

Another suggestion proposed was the increase of interna tional students in an attempt to draw in more funds.

hears critici

tional Programs Abroad.

Even if the university wants to rent a car, it uses specific car rental agencies, said Eric Holzwarth, executive assistant to the dean of Arts and Sciences. Heath said a freshman-level math class was told to buy a calculator "only available at the Syracuse Uni versity Bookstore."

Later, the class learned the calculator was available elsewhere at a reduced price, she said.

She also questioned the costeffectiveness of the university's in-house printer.
There is a 5 percent mark-up at. SU press and other in-house services. Holzwarth said.
"I urge the committee to look at whether having these services in house is the most cost effective method,"Heath said.

Architecture professor Siegfried Snyder, committee chairman, suggested the com-

kstore

mittee consider if the services are really necessary.
Holzwarth recommended that each department use its discretion in finding vendors.
The university's perception is that departments would be inefficient if they made their own decisions, hesajd.
"Each department has a limited budget," he said. "They would make every penny count.,

Members of the cormmittee were on hand to answer questions, along with concerned fac ulty, staff, and administrators.

No students attended Wednesday's meeting.

The committee is charged by the University Senate to "invite comments on perceived performance, quality and cost of servince,"

He encouraged any interested member of the university com munity to submit written comments to him at his office in Slocum Hall.

FYI

Hughes fellowships to be awarded

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute will award 66 predoctoral fellowships in the biological sciences. The deadline for applications is Nov. 8.

The awards are effective for three years, and extensions are possible for two additional years of full support.

Effective June 1992, stipends will be $$ 14,000$ annually. For more information, call (202) 334-2872.

'Cave Canem'  seeks writers

Cave Canem, the newsletter of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, is looking for writers.

Meetings are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m. in Room 301 of Crouse College. Articles can also be submitted to 208 Crouse.
For more information, call JoAnna at 443-2517.

Reserve your Halloween costume, now!

- Hundreds of Costumes

Ranges In All Size - Sale/Rentals/Custom Designs
-Hats, Masks $&$ Wigs - Hats, Masks 8 WigS - Beards & Mustaches - Props & Accessories - Magic Supplies & Novelties
243 Walton Street $\cdot$ Ampry Square
422-6991

NOTICE

THE ONLY ORAMGE CLASSARED-4D PGOCTDURE: $250 for itu first 15 morta 10e tox duch udaxional mord be exaritor each boid mord, 5f erta tor atch CAPITAL ZEED mord De

Notices

COSTUMES!

Flapers. ofngeyrs. rentuinsance, ef.

COM BABIES Vintage Clothing
Rantes avaibie. MC a Vise
Pom / Moncty-Sor Wery / 472.1900
FOR SALE
Autos
tsas $5 \times 13$ furbo 4x $55 p$ surnod west koder

 5 mm

Misc. For Sale
Zarkh wC. 150 IBut compatile: Buthe 2 flapein

 Y200. Cal Axdy $852-1475$
Futiangti Nutria fur cont with Lyrx collar. Size 12 14. Now 53500 , asking $\$ 300$. Cal $487+1 \mathrm{BB}$ t

EMPIOMNENNT

HOME NEEOED TOR a 13 wata ofo of who s an a whtol chait and rogutes assistince. Komo modititaiors provided as recessary. Scisatariai raintelrsemens proncted. I you or someona you know is interested of provxing a tunng home, pratred lor Medeal Fing Cierk in SU Irea Ex. pwriance cosiable. Aoproxmatily 20 his weekly siay regorade phase centaer Whro Eate as $470-7446$

WANTED

Childcare

angysitten maried $30+$ hours per weak to witch 2 smal chidren on Uiversiny Aroa home

Help Wanted

Know Before Vou Go." where to work. live and sk Ireo in Coloradis resorts, Cument Guide to Asporn, 798-6174.

 irptomaties ard sorories as campus represer.
 we panamay

Can 1(400) 724-155

Eam $2500. Froe Tops Solhos Sormp Brazk Pace ages To Eatamas, Maxico tamaca, Fiondal Bem Tips. Pricest Soring Brazik Traval t-800-638-6786

Roommates

 023.0645 fays

FOR RENT

Apartments
GAAD STUDENTS WANTED: Sudic apt. 2. bedroons apartivents Nil velares included Secarte tock 8 Uadizar $635-5392$ 535-3537/Oves.
 masonatie 474679:

FOR RENT: 3 EEDROOW APARTUENT WQEETO

PELLIGRA TRANSPORT CO. MOVING, STORACE & PACKING  -Local & Long Distance - Plano & Office Moving Experts - Since 1934  Reasonable Rates & Courteous Service

Al. A SPAMG mapiry Senior 8 Gracuate ruise I femata stucherss to in several sterma apatmerth. I incinctit of fates: Exic furnate
 Ad awe locted next te E S F. canpue on Oaking astod wan beck, desks, dressers and furgetom

AVALLABLE TODAYI ONES TWO BEDRCOM APMFTMENTS. KRchen, hymproom, hathroom PPortMENTS. Kichen, himproom, bathroom, $$ 420 .+445$ mo. Call Marie $8.304 .00,443-2567$.
Standiry S2 excellect E.SF. 3 Bearcom, cean. 6650 per morth 637.1344.
2-5 Becroom Apt Euctry and Ackimman Are.
 lan 女e and Soring 92 owiors Ger an Exty stant on yeur housmp neots call $446-2009$
2. Becronem lower fint Euctic near Werciay on reer parking 5520 Cencmir neay wescoz. Of 682 -4023
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDW APMRTMENTS Vary slose. Sacurt. Quin! Citpoled. As Aownime Laudy. Paung Abs
$79-5025$

house bor rena meal $\mathrm{SU}, 24$ bedroom, 2 batwrom, ard. oiveway, basememt ancic $5550 /$ mortl 78.3752  amo, beiuntul rooms in a nowty remodelad manson. Oft-street paturng tuundry. a minute wak

 to campus, $$ 300 . $ 325$. mal. Also desiration rsomPERSONAIS
Melesad P. Peace, love, and Hampherss Lov

 Your er Sos. (T newer eat in Kimmel anomporsty ygan ) Love pots. loud slippers, that blasted Papparazzil pots. Loud stuppers, that blasted Papparazzi or making a memory thet was delnely the urome:

CUSTOL: T-Shrs! Cupsl Glassware! AND *Hotet for Lests Cal Stam lasser orvantic. BAOVATMES: $80-653774$.

Atrs. Upstase New York 3 II Band i9 proce) anditable tor Crramas parims. lormas, orc. Call $315-463.1898$.
Danollo. Rosea anp ned, and to em bitrer, fim so MaRk- Thanks kr making my last year raally special Happy Anriversan!! Love, Wendy Stacf. Im so PSYCHED yourg my ytro sse Sory
 30 Se

SERVICES
morate Ormang Lestins Pak wo service Fivil atd fotraster courses ONONCAGA ORIVING ACNDEMY 476-39es Typing For an your yera netan Typing. For all your typung needs ieners.
manuiscress ensemmons, ext Cat Rum Dewey as
P.A. SECRETARAAL SERUCES Soaterkize in disserianoms. Cal Pazm Laxton al 16es-3149
Ward Proctming Laxtr remumak Typing. Fast turn arond COMPUTERS 4 COPIES Marshall ST. above Acropolis 47\%-0930

Englizh Tutorial Service atiors proal.readerng of lemm papers. struatured lessons and typring of documerts ior boca
$$ 1 p a g 0$
474.5594

ADOPTION

Acoppont Chrisian cosurie mave room in our trees

Achopt Hisepty mantrad whee conde warts so much to one rour baby the best of ewerfiting in our iovirg name.
CuI Jown and day culloct 814.628-3919
 SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.
COMPREHENSIVE DATABASE: Our data base of over 200,000 listings of scholarships and grants represent over $$ 10$ billion in private sector financial aid.
MANY AWARDS: Scholarships are available to students based on their career plans, family heritage and academic interests.
UNIQUE RESEARCH: Our research department has located many scholarships including awards for newspaper carners, grocery clerks, cheerleaders and non-smokers. COLLEGE CALL ANYTIME FOR A FREE BROCHURE

(800)  $283-8600$

RESULTS GUARANTEED.

NEW YEAR'S
Continued from Page Al6 ofits remaining games, its hopes for a major bowl would probably be washed out.
"They are about out of New Year's Day with three losses," said Gator Bowl representative George Olsen. "This year that could all change, but if they could all change, but if they plans for the major New Year's Day bowls."

Its recent allionce in the Big East Conference would probably bring Syracuase to one of the other bowls. The OrangeKet and explosive style of play would alse help them land a bid.
"With the speed they have and the quarterbacks they have, we think they re an interesting football team," Olsen said. "Plus, we figure they ve got a lot of athletic ability through the athletic ability through the whole damn team."

Althoughovershadowed by recent losses. SU also has the win over the Gators working in its favor because of simple geogra. phy.
"The fact that they beat Flor.
Our 33rd Year Student Discounts on Scheduled

Fly Roundtrip or One-Way to Europe on Leading Scheduled Airlines.
Daily Departures From Most U.S. Cities to 75 Foreign Destinations.
YOUR ONE-STOP STUDENT TRAVEL SHOP
EURAIL PASSES:
The ideal way to travel in Europe...on European Express Tratis known for their speed. comfort and punctuality. For $$ 380$ you have unlimited travel throughout Western Europe (excluding Great Britain). Available for periods of 15 days to 3 months. BRITRAIL PASSES:
Valid for unlimited train mavel throughout England. Scotland and Wales. Valid ior periods ranging from 8 days to 1 month. INTERNATIONAL YOUTH HOSTEL HANDBOOK:
A detailed directory listing 3.600 hostel locations and facilities where accommodations are available at rates starting at $$ 7.50$ per night.
INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE ID CARD:
Gains you access to significiant student discounts throughout Europe at Museurns, Castles, Palaces. Student hotels, Concerts, Operas. Bus and Boat routes and Inter European tigghts on European Airlines. Also includes basic medical insurance while abroad and a 24 -hour toll free worldwide holline to assist you with travel emergencies. Cost of the card: $$ 15$.
EXPRESS CARD SERVICE:
If you need an International Student Exchange ID right away, send us your name, address, date of birth. nationality.
 your order!
Call or Write: International Student Exchange Flights Inc. 5010 E. Shea Blud., Suite A104-APF
Scottsdale, AZ U.S.A. PHONE: 602/951-1177
FOR YOUR FREE STUDENT FLIGHT CATALOG,
PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE
MAIL THIS COUPON
TO:

Scottedale. AZ 85254

YOUR NAME: (M AT COLLEGE:

Street & Apt. $n$
$\qquad$
NAME OF THE UNIVERSITY WHAT YEAR IN SCHOOL:
YOU ARE ATTENDING. IF ANY:

| 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 0 | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |

ida 30 handily certainly would make the Tampa Bay area fans want to see this football team," said Nick Pund of the (Flald has a pretty good football tearn that got blown right off the field at Syracuse.

Of the last four Syracuse bowl appearances, three have been in the southeast.

SU tied Auburn University $16-16$ in the Sugar Howl following the 1987 beason. They defeated Louisiana State Univer sity $23-10$ in the Mall of Fame Bowl after the 1988 season and then won the Peach Bowl after the 1989 seasan by defeating the University of Georgia, 19 . 18.

The Gator Jacksonville, Citrus (Oriando) and Hall of Fame (Tampa) bowls have requested credentials for the Syracuse Rutgers garne on Saturday.

Many Syracuse players said even if the Orangemen don't play on New Year's Day, the season would not be a complete bust.
"One of our goals was to play on New Year's Day" Young said. "But a bowl is a bowl and they're a lot of fun no matter where you are or what day it is."

BOWLS
Continued from Page A16
course Pittsburgh. this football league is a lot better than everyone thinks." Erickson said. "In a few years. I think it will in the nation."
But does he do windows?
Virginia Tech defensive back Kirk Alexander did everything but drive the team bus in the Hokies' 56-9 rout of Cincinnati.
Alexander, a junior defensive back, blocked a punt which the Hokies recovered for an 18-yard touchdown, recovered a fumbled kickoff that resulted in a Tech score and returned an interceptouckdown.

For his efforts. Alexander was named Big East Co-Special Teams Player of the Week.

He shares the honor with Miami's Kevin Willams, who returned a punt for a 63-yard touchdown and another one 44 yards to set up another score in Miami's $55-0$ victory over Long Beach State.

Syracuse's David Walker is the Offensive Player of the Week for his performance in the angemens $31-27$ victoryat Pietsburgh. Walker compiled 138 yards rushing on 25 carries and four touchdowns.

Charles Williams of Pitt was named Defensive Player of the Week, as he finished the contest with 15 tackles, eight of thetm solo. The junior linebacker also intercepted a pass and deflected two others.

Wright dedicates himself to helping others

By iason large Contributing Writer

It's been said that being part of a team means that a player has to help his teammates wher needed.
If that's the case, whether it's the Syracuse University soccer team or just the SU community, senior Chris Wright could be a star on either one.
"My life is dedicated to trying to be the best that I can at what I do," Wright said. "That comes from my self-dedication to the Lord, because he's given me the tools to do (what I've done).
"He's given me other talents to help gouth and people with to help you
The 5-foot-11, 170-pound sweeper said he believes his past experiences have allowed him to help his teammates.
"Before I got to Syracuse, I had to do a lot of maturing," Wright said. "I've experienced things that other guys really haven't had a chance to go through yet, and hopefully they'll never have to
II think that just helps me get a better understanding of

Position: Sweeper - Major: Community Services - Role Model and Inspiration:

God Favorite Musician: Bruce Springsteen
Leisure time activities: Watching MTV, hanging out with friends, playing video games, friends, playing $v$ reading the Bible.

- Toughest team he's ever played against: North Caro- position thernselves." lina State
-Proudest moment in soccer: "Playing against the Santos club team in Brazil, which is Pele's club team."
-On the sweeper position: "I'm in better position to see things, so I can help out the things, so the can help by telling guys on the team bed to do to

His motivation: "Every time get tired I just think of the dedication I have to the Lord for everything He's given me." OOn this season: "I wear a black band around my arm, usually under my shirt. I've dedicated this season to my dedicated this season to my Uncle Shawn who passed away this past summer."

the problems a lot of guys go through."
As for helping people off the field, Wright said he wants to get involved in the fight against get involved in the fight against drug and alcohol abuse after he finishes school.
" I 'm working on (becoming) a C.A.C., a Certified Alcohol Counselor," Wright said. "I'll be certified to be an alcohol and drug counselor. I'm just going to work on trying to get (through) to the youth."

- Name: Chris Wright
-Height: 5-foot-11
-Weight: 170 pounds
-Age: 22
-Hometown: Glastonbury, Ct.

presents MOLSON MADNESS Every Thursday Tongius Spoctai, AIIMOLSONS $$ 1.50$ and remember, there is only one ()ruse

AS AMERICAN MARKETING ASOCIATION

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION

Second Meeting MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1991

7:00 PM MANAGEMENT PENTHOUSE

SPEAKING: A forum of local marketing professionals offering their knowledge and insights.

PLEASE COME TO SUPPORT AMA YOU ARE THE KEY TO ITS SUCCESS!!

The University Bookstore

is proud to announce

a special book signing appearance by

Marlene Sanders author of Waiting for Prime Time, the Women of Television News

The University Bookstore Thursday, October 24

3:00-4:00pm

Waiting for Erime Time is a compelling study of the demands and challenges facing women in television news today. Sanders will be a guest panelist on Thursday, October 24, at 6:00 pm at the "Witness to History" Seminar (Newhouse II, Studio A) sponsored by the Museum of Television and Radio in New York City and NY Telephone, in association with the Newhouse School of Public Communications.

The University Bookstore

owned and operated by Syracuse University Schine Student Center

Sports

A16
Firings leave ships with no skippers

Most baseball fans are immersed in the Braves-Twins World Series, but some other followers are busy debating who their next manager will be.
ing who their next manager will be.
Five major league teams are withFive major league teams are without skippers as we head into the winter, or what baseball fanatics call winter, or what baseb the Hot Stove League.
Those five teamsare the Milwaukee

GIL PAGOVICH

SPORTS

OPINION
Tom Trebelhorn,
Tom Trebelhorn, Jim Essian, Jim Lefebvre, and Stump Merrill were fired, while Jeff Torborg left the Chisox to return to his native New York to manage the Mets.
The Yankees fired Merrill along with five of his coaches. One of those who was fired could be the team's next manager. Buck Showalter heads the list to fill the vacant position.

Other names include former Yankee player Don Baylor, former Angels manager Doug Rader, former Astros manager Hal Lanier, as well as Reds manager Hal Lanier,

The Yankees eyed Buck Rodgers. who late in the season replaced Riader in California. Lanier, Baylor and Radar have good credentiais, but the Radar have grood credentials, but the Yankees will probably stay within the organization and choose Showalter.
Trebelhorn did a good job in Milwaukee, and should be able to gain employment elsewhere. With injuries, especially to pitcher Ted Higuera, Milwaukee still finished over .500 .
New GM Sal Bando makes the decisions in Milwaukee now and he'll decisions in Milwaukee now and hell probably opt for Toronto's Gene probably opt for Toronto's Gene Tenace. Bando and Tenace were teammates on the Oakland $A$ 's championmates on the Oakland ship teams of the 1970 s.

The White Sox finished in second place in the AL West, but will look to either Lefebvre, Phillies' coach Larry Bowa or A's pitching coach Dave Duncan as their next manager.

Bowa had a brief stint as manager of the Padres and has since been guided by Pirates manager Jim Leyland about temperament, stress and player relations.

Duncan has been successful as is evident by the pitching statistics of Dennis Eckersley, Mike Moore, Dave Stewart and Bob Welch.

Bowa and White Sox general manager Ron Schueler were teammates with the Phillies, so Bowa probably gains the edge.
The Mariners just completed their first winning season in franchise history.

Lefebvre made them believers, and $I$ think Mariners GM Woody Woodward will select former Yankee manager Bucky Dent over Davey Johnson to assume the controls in the Pacific Northwest.

The Cubs fired two managers this season, and have some of the league's best players, headed by future Hall of Famer Ryne Sandberg. The list here focuses on Lefebvre and Baylor. The Cubs should go with Baylor, who The Cubs should go with Baylor, who was a winner as a player and could was a winner as a player and could instill confidence in the talented Cubs.

| Treceia  Question- Who was the first manager George Steinbrenner ever fred?     |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |

SU's bowl scene brighter

 New Year's Day bid looks better after Pitt win
BY KENT FISCHER

and IOSH BARNETY
Sports Editors
Syracuse University won more than a football game last week when it came from behind against the then 20thranked Pittsburgh Panthers.
The 18th-ranked Orangemen, 5-2, might also have won a bid for a New Year's Day bowl game, as nine bowl scouts looked on.
"They are extremely exciting and have proven to all of America that they can play with anybody," said Cricket Musch, executive director of the John Hancock Bowl. "They are certainly a quality football team and the type of team a lot of people like to watch.

After SU defeated the University of Florida $38-21$ on Sept. 21 the Orangemen appeared to have ensured travel plans for Jan. 1
In the next two weeks, however. Syracuse suffered consecutive losses.
The Orangemen jumped out to a quick 14-7 lead over top-ranked Florida State $46-14$.

Syracuse followed the drubbing with a 23-20 defeat at the hands of thenunranked East Carolina University in the Carrier Dome. SU led the Pirates the Carrier Dom $20-10$ at the half.

O-10 at the half.
Those two losses put SU's bowl hopes in jeopardy.
"Florida is a good club so I don't think scouts have forgotten about that, especially because they beat them so soundly," Citrus Bowl representative Tom Exum said. "The first half against Florida State meant a lot but the Pittsburgh game was pivotal.'

Several SU players said the Florida win has been overshadowed by the ECU loss.
"(Former SU coach Dick MacPherson) used to say that (bowl scouts) don't remember what you did in Septernber," SU linebacker Glen Young said. "They remember what you did in October a

Syracuse University tailback Terry Richardson and the Orangemen will have to avoid any stumbling blocks for the rest of the season if they are to make it to a New Year's Day bowl game.
little, but it's November when they really the end of the season."
remember the things that you do as a Peach Bowl representative Bill Rhodes said teams that peak late in a season are in a better position to get bids.
'It's a shame the win over Florida wasn't in November," he said. "But that is the nature of the beast. We look at overall record and big wins, but generally, it's better for those wins to come at

If that is the case, then SU's bowl chances are improved because its November schedule consists of three conference games in the Dome against teams with a combined record of $8-12$
