"We're going to keep mixing it up and try different things," Freeman said. "We're going to try keeping them off balance to get ourselves in a position to win. Weve got to keep it close and execute down the stretch."
"They beat us early down the court in transition," Boeheim said. "You have to give them a lot of cred it. They came out, they played well and they hit key shots."

Said SU forward Ryan Blackwell: "Our defense wasn't as tough as it's been. We haven't been sharp. We haven't been as quick and agressive as we've been.'

Syracuse played without forward Damone Brown, who stayed in Syracuse with a deep thigh bruise on his right leg.

Beat-up Orangemen Jason Hart and Ryan Blackwell (recovering from flu) and Preston Shumpert (sinus infection) all played double-digit minutes in the loss.
The result: Wobbly legs and a difficult time guarding the a diffic
"We let guys shoot open threes. We just played bad defense," freshman DeShaun Williams said. "We don't have the intensity like we used to. We're not falling on the ground, getting loose balls. It's a tough loss, but you have to go out get ready for the next game."
The longest periad the Cards went without a bucket was a period of \(4: 40\) late in the game. SU went on an 8-0 surge, but freshman point guard Reece Gaines canned a triple from the right side after a Wille timeout.

Williams finalized the dismantling two-and-a-half minutes later, flushing home a breakaway reverse dunk after the Cardinals broke SU's press
"If they're going to gamble," Louisville coach Denny Crum said,

You've got to make them pay."
Syracuse did pay, losing its second consecutive game and the momentum it had gained going into its toughest stretch of the season

And as the Orangemen travel back to Syracuse to face UCLA on Sunday in the Carrier Dome, they do so without the aura of invincibility they owned earlier in the season, Boeheirn said.
"I don't think our defense is as aggressive as it needs to be," he said. "But at this stage of the year We're playing a lot of games and not having enough time to go back and Work on anything. It's just something we're going to have to get

When in Hell...
by Eric Jones
"Classic" Sleep Deprivation

\begin{tabular}{l}
Hey, how y \\
Wanna boy \\
What \\
What \\
\hline
\end{tabular} doin? Alright then, wanna buy

Out of Town Crack AIright

No Point

Rasputin Presents

Tartaruga Pate

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack Yeah, sorry, letme make Alright, then buy your at up to you, just need TV back by Ben Gabriel \(\mathbb{E}\) Chris Tempas

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word 54 extra each bold word \(5 \phi\) extra each CAP word Charges are PEATSSUE A ATe PIoppaid by; Deadiline: zpm 2 business days prior to nu ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenu Syracuse NY 132 1O; Att Classifieds OR Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\)

\section*{Notices}

Local interior Design Shop oftors intemship to tudent looking lor credil Call Lisa 472 - 9337 for interview.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Free: wod. and Friday Varsity can use you between 11:30a.m. and 2:30. Stop in belwern
1:00a, m. and 1:30 see Ted. Part time jobs delivery etrivers, astwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshal SL.
Cump Counsolors Top Ovemight Camps in Pocopo Mins Over 40 activitos seetang specialist counselors \(w\). \({ }^{1-8}\) Fregan's needs Senior Sunday Dise Jodcey. Must be outgoing & have a ofiverse CD coliection. Apsiy at Faegan's

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Architecture stubent or iIllustrator wanted tor inlerior drawings. May bo used as intem tor credt or as part time work. Call Lisa 472 -8937 for inlarview. past time work Clall must provide portoia

\section*{WANTED}

Child Care
Eabysitter Heeded Daytime Evening and Weekend Houss Two Girrs 5 , and? University Area
Help Wanted
Grocry Dude! Get paid while you surf the intemet!
li's that easy with no gimmicks:
Help Wanted: Experienced, reliable, hardware tech or PC's. Partime.

Work lor an exciing Coliege locused internet individuals with strong leadership, enttepreneurial and busintess skills. Tech skills not requited. Great experience, pay and options! Contact inlo日uconnections.com \($ 1500\) weakly potential mailing our circulars. No Expenience 202-452-7679.

Roommates Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom 2 Guys in thair 40's seek housomate for great storage, quiti, \($ 250+1 / 3\)-utikies. \(425-9235\).

FOR RENT

Bearitiul 3 Bedreom Townhouses. Waking distante to Campus. 3 Larpe Bedrooms, tots of ctosat spacs, 1 I/2 Baths, Diningroom, Uvingroem, closat space, 1 i/2 Baths, Diningroom, Livirgroom, Kitchen, Easement with Washer/Dryer hookups Off Strees Parking with Garage.A Musi See!! \(469-8417\) or \(478-9643\)

\section*{L(.)(.)K \\ Just for you! \\ Furnished House}

Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast.
Call 655-2175
for more info.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS \\
302 Marshall St \\
329 Comstock Ave \\
604 Walnut Ave \\
319 Eucid Ave \\
- 145 Avondale Place \\
Available for 2000-2001 \\
Fully Furnished, Laundry Parking, Fuli Time \\
Maintenance and Management, Wan to Wall Carpet andor Refnished Hard Wood Foors Rermodeled Kitchers and Batis \\
University Area Apts \\
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 \\
www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS, FUFRISHED, DISHWASHER, PARKING $175 PER MONTH 476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

621 Euclid Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
115 Rediedd Placa
1011 E. Adams St

Avaitable for 2000-2001 Carking. Fuli Time Maintenanco and Management. Pefinished Harcwood Floer Remodeled Kichens and Baths

University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Apartrinents Single Houses tor rem. Call Jim 668-7473

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Ackarman Ave, 2.3,4,5,7 bedrcom apts. Furnishod, carpeled walk to campus. Well maintained.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Luxurious: 2story aphthott, Goummet kiydin, Custom loungeaty arma, 5xtight 15t coiling. ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKING PARK: 1 SI 8 znd lis. fividin, 1-2-3 bdirms, ofe/sucty, jactazil bath, porches. \\
CSIROLMADISON: All apts furn & haated. \\
NO PETSI Negotisble leases. Call lor sppt 459-07e0
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOKAT ThIST \\
Three Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious three Bedroom, completely tumished \\ apartment with porth. Living Room with firtplace, Diring room, Kitchen and three large \\ bedroorss. and Bath OH streat garge parking Laundry lacihty in buibding. \\
Five bedroom thouse \\
Spacious five Eedroom. completey furnished House with tront and rear porcties. Living Room with fireplace. Ealtin Xettonen W/ DISHWASHEA and five large bedroons, and garge. FREE La Lndry tacility in building. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001 \\
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue \\
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm

Univarsity Ava, five bedroom house one plocx trom Marshall Street furnished laundry parking leasa \($ 1300.00\) phus utities DN. Durcker \(445-1229\) Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Fumished, 4Badrooms, OaklandSt. 1Block ESF. 3Blocks Lawt Hospitats, fumistied, parking, Lumindy', Ackerman Beautifut large Fumished Flatl

Ackerman Beautilut Large Fumished
Houses. 23,4,5 Bedrooms. Porches
Housess 2,3,4,5,8 Bedrooms. Porches,
Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry Pet OK \(446-3420\)
University and Comstock Very dose to Campus Efficioncios and Fwo Bedroms 5couro blog Sumished loundry parking \(5375.0010 $ 700.00\)
Stop chan 3 bedroom, upprementis Firsplecen,

Apprtrpenta come to campus civen 2-3-5
 2 bedroom Apariment right on Marshas SL Fall Decamber 31, 2000. Great locutionl Gall 637-5779. FOUA BEDROOM EDGE OF CAMPUS

\section*{O.P.R. Developers 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

\section*{Apartments}

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wail to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern. new construction low utilities.
University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.
wWw.universityhil.com
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Two Bedroom Apartments With ubistes induded. Frieplace: \\
 476-2982
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

LANCASTER AVENUE
183 Bedmom Apartments
Outstanding Conditon
Cally Furnisher Cavini a
\(424-0220 \times 428\)

1 Bectroon Furnieghed Urtumishocd Whaling Parking Cala 422 -7305
Four Bedroom en Actraminn, Furrishect
Launcturiet Ciet Hartwod Fions atreet Parking
Cancrix Capol Hard

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. laundry, quiel building, close to campus, 476-2982

Clean quiget 2-bedioom wo blocks from SU/ Clean quiel 2 -bedioom two bloks rom Su/hospitats. Furnished. All utilities paid. \(472-5908\) June 1 leace.

\section*{NEW BURY APARTMENTS} Great University Area Beautiful
Modern 182 Bedroom Apt. All Brand
New Appl. (AC, Dishwasher) Heat 8
Hot Water Included. Security
Buildings WIntercoms & Door
Releases. Custom Made Blinds Choice of Porch or Patio. OH Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line. 24 Hour Maintanance. Starting at \($ 550.00\). Call A78-0277 Ask for Patricta or Stop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located of E. Brighten) Also..(Great Location) Beautiful 5 BEDFOOM HOUSE 2 1/2 bathis, 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 co giningrage, huge yard,
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { 3herfdryer hookNips, privale. roz } \\
& \text { off Layatyette road } $ 1200.00
\end{aligned}
\]

2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom. 105 Euclid Terrace Large Rooms Hardwood Floors Aveĭ June or Aug \(446-5186\)

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors.

476-2982

Ackerman fumished spacious two BdRm ofl street parking laundry Gacilies utiilties incl. 446-8576 Ono Bedroom Apartmonta Closa to Campus, ulijities induded, Oak fiocrs, fire place, Furrished.
parking. very ctean, laundry Call Gordon \(476-2982\).
Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom llat, furnished. Avail Juno 1st 446-4229

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEDROOMS SPACIDUS a delux BEAUTIFULLY
FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY
478-7548
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline APARTMENTS CLOSETO CALAPUS \(2000-20001\) RENTALS 1,2,3,4 Eodroorn Apmamens, Concition Furnathed Some incuide utiiitios. C=11422-013 \\
\hline \multirow[t]{6}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS \\
604 Walnut Ave. \\
2,3, AND 4, \\
Bedroom Apartments. \\
Utilities included. Fully fumished. Rents start at S275. Refinished hardwood floors. Watl to wall carpet flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. \\
Parking, 24hour maintenance. www.universityarea.com
University Area University Araa Apts 479-5005
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

ONE,TWO, THREE
AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
445-0540

\section*{KAPONO}
continued from page 20
Pac－10 guard Earl Watson and super frosh Jason Kapono－a heavy fa－ vorite for Pac－10 Rookie of the Year honors．

Thehighly recruited Kapono could have played for Syracuse－ joining California products Tony Bland and Jason Hart．

Instead，he opted for the comfort zone of his own backyard at UCLA－ just 30 miles from his home in lake－ wood，Calif．
＂i knew that the decision would be tough，＂Kapono said．＂Coach Boe－ heim is a great coach，and they have a great staff out there and players like Bland and Hart．But basically，it came down to what I felt most com－ fortable with．＂

He said he fit right into the whole college experience at UCLA－from its basketball tradition，academics and social life，Kapono said．And no doubt he enjoys playing in front of the laid－back Pauley crowds．

So far，the freshman phenom has started every game this season and leads the Bruins（13－8，4－6 Pac－10）in scoring with an average of 15.4 points per game．

He＇s currently eighth in the con－ ference in field goal percentage（53） and shooting 49 percent from 3 －point land．

One glance at Kapono＇s honors and it＇s understandable why there was so much hoopla surrounding his arrival on the Westwood campus．

He earned 1999 first－team prep All－America honors from Parade Mag－ azine and received the prestigious John Wooden High School Player of the Year award．

In his senior season at Artesia High School－the same school at－ tended by former Bruins＇Ed and Charles O＇Bannon－Kapono guided the Pioneers to a school－record 32 wins against just two losses．

He finished his \(1998-99\) season averaging 23.5 points， 9.0 rebounds， 7.6 assists and shot a smooth 92.5 percent from the foul line．In his four－ year career，Kapono broke six offen－ sive records once held by the O＇Ban－ non brothers．

Kapono also got the chance to play for the West squad at the Mc－ Donald＇s High School All－America game in 1999，alongside talents Jonathan Bender and Jason Gardner：
＂Just to get chosen as one of the Top 20 was a honor，＂Kapono said．＂It really meant a lot．Especially with so many great players who＇ve played in the past－from Magic，Shaq，Kobe．＂

Just this past summer，Kapono participated in a summertime league with L．A．native Jason Hart．
＂I remember Jason probably from high school my freshman year，＂he said．＂It was a semi－final game and we played against him then．So we definitely know each other．＂

Kapono is not afraid to lose，nor does he dwell on past mistakes．In the Bruins conference home opener against now－No． 7 Arizona，Kapono nimished the night with 10 points and committed 10 of his team＇s 26 turnovers．
But in the following game against Arizona State，Kapono responded by

One particular highlight was a tallying 24 points in a UCLA victory． down，hust knew that i couldn＇t break a tough loss（to Arizona）I felt it kept me stronger and more mentally tough in the game．

Kapono＇s combination of sharp shooting and versatility has served him well，helping him supply a steady stream of heroics．

Dec． 30 victory over Purdue，in which ket with 1.1 seconds remaining．
＂I love the way Jason keeps the element of fun and play into the game，＂fourth year UCLA head coach Steve Lavin told the Daily Breeze． The season＇s long and sometimes it＇s hard．You need to keep that spirit of fun．＂

\section*{［classifieds］}

Nancy Peck，Advertising Design Director，443－9793
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
ONE BEDROOM \\
APARTMENT EUCLID \\
AVE．SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT，GREAT LOCATION 476－9933．
\end{tabular} \\
\hline 1，2，3，4＋5 bedroom apartments．Fumished，alt utilities inctuded，laundry，parking．One block \(t\) campus near law school＋ESF．May＋ALugus！ availability．446－9598． \\
\hline Furnished 2－5Bedroom Houses／Apartments Livingston，Surnner，Ackerman，Euchid 469－6665 \\
\hline Large 2 bedroom． 2 Iull bath，Walking dista S．U．off street parking．Laundry．Call 422－7305． \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT \\
Perfect for onte person． \\
All utilities included \($ 355\) per month Call Donna 4494621
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

One and Two Bedroom
umished Apartunontis．Comer of Waturt and

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off－campus \\
home for 2000－01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments． \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer／dryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER 427－0052
\end{tabular}

\section*{TOAD HALL \\ \(1 / 2\) block from campus． Modern 2 bedroom apartments．}

Wail to wall carpet． Air conditioned．Dishwasher． Laundry．Low utilities Competitive rents． 302 Marshall \(5 t\) ． （across from Haven） wnwiveritiveraityarez．com

479－5005
Large 3 bedroom． 2 tull bath．Walking distance
S．U．off street parking．Laundry Call 422 －7305．
Best Buy on Harisonsl Clean Ouiot． One－bedroom and studio June Isasa．Fumished． Utirties included．472－590e．

One +2 bedroom furnished apartments All utities included！\($ 370\) ，\($ 480 / \mathrm{mo}\) One mile trom campus． Laundry，parking，carpeling，sacurity building Avaitable immedialely．May orNugust．446－959a．

University 283 Bedroon TowniHouses \(&\) Flats． ＇nexpensive and mint condison．WasherDryer，

> O．P．R． Developers 1，2，3－4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers， microwaves， disposal， security systems All Locations／ Prices 478－6504

（5）Bedroom House 721 Ostrom Ave off street perkike to campus （t）446－3693

Clarendon St．4－bedroom，free washer，dryer， of－street parking，avilable 5／15／．Call 492－3199 Charming English Tudor House on Comstock 6 Bedrooms，Fireplace，atross from Wornans Brdg． Avail 5／20 475－1012，（843）514－388

Now Renting For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroom house on E．Adams SL．Newty remodeled Eathrooms and paint．Heat includedt Oft Srret Parking，laundry oom and Bar，Great Location！Call 637－5779 Lurge Single Family Iumished touse．Parking． firediacs，tree laundry，dshwasher，malure tenants fireplacs，
\(682-3304\)

\section*{SUBLET}

Spring 2000 need female subietter，apartmen turnished，close to carmus（6077 \(786-\)－6775 SERVICES
Travel

> Spring Break 2000
> \(\begin{aligned} & \text { Jamaica, Cancun, Forida } \\ & \text { 日armios Bahnmes }\end{aligned}\) Book a group now tor 2 tree Trips!
PRING BREAK－GRAD WEEK \(575 &\) Up Per Person wwwretreatrnyrtibecach．corn
\(1-800-645-3618\)
SPRING BREAK 2000
CANCUN：JAMAICA＊NASSAU
SApace is limited 800－293－1443
www．StudentCity．com

Spring Break Speciats！Rahamas Party Chuisel 5
Nights \($ 279!\) Inctudes Meals！Awnesomo Beaches， Nights wizg！Inctudes Meals！Awesomo Beaches， Nigntititel Departs From Florida！Panama City
Hoom with Kictien Nex：To Clubs， 7 Panies 8 Room With Kilchen Next to Clubs，Wih Kitchen
Free Orinks \($ 1291\) Daytona Room \($ 1491\) South Beach（Bars Open Unill Sam！）\($ 1591\) Cocola beach（Near Disney）S179！
springbreaktravelcom 1－800－674－6386

\section*{MISC．}
 As aways，please use caution when replying or being replied trom any advertisentent in each issue，tor The Daily Orange does not take red tact befween yourseif and acturriser．

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word 56 extra each bold word \(5 &\) extra each CAP word Charges ate PER ISSUE & are Prepaid by:
Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Cash, Ched, Master Card, Visa or Discover
Deadline: 2 m 2 business days prior to rum Deadine: 2pm 2 business cays prior to run
ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE 11 Ads can be mailed witt check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue; Symacuse NY 13210 ;Att Classifiods Of Faxed with Credit Cand to:315-443-3689

\section*{Notices}

Local laterior Design Shop olfers intemship to student tooking lor credit. call Lisa at 472 -Gg37 bor inteniew

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Free: wed and \(11: 30 \mathrm{~m}\) and \(\mathrm{z}: 30\). Stop in betwee 1t:OOa.m. and 1:30 see Ted.
Part time jobss defirery divers, distwashers apoty Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshal St.
Camp Counselont Top Overright Carnos in www-pineforestcampicorn be qutgoing af Fuegants
Job Opporturities
Archicoctare student or idustrator wanted for interio dramings. May be used as intern for cradit or as part time work Call

WANTED
Child Care Babysitter Noeded Daydime Evening and Weykend Houss Two. Gifs 5 , and2 University Area Wage Negotiobe 428.9813 .

\section*{Help Wanted}

Groory Dude! Gat peid whilo you suff the inteme! It's that easy with no gimmicks www. grocryduda.com

\section*{Hetp Wanted: Exp lor PC's Parthime.}

Computer Docrox, Manshal 5q. May Work tor an exciting College focusod Intemet company al your school! Looking lor motivated and business skills. Tech skills nol required. Greal and besinesse, pay and options! Contact experience,
infoeuconnections.com
\($ 1500\) weekly polential mailing our circulars. No
Experienca Required. Free information packet. Call experienca

\section*{Roommates}

Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment close to campua perking fireplace apartment close to campue parking gireplace
Livundry \(497-5761\)

2 Guys in their 40 's seek howsemate lor grea Broad SL Apt fireplace, hantwrood, porches.
storage, quiet, \($ 250+1 / 3\)-utitities. \(425-9235\).
FOR RENT

Qeautiati 3 Bedroom lownhowes, Walkig distance to Campus. I Large Bedroons, Iots of Kitchen, Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups OHf Sureat Parking with Garage.A Must soe! \(469-8417\) or \(478-9643\)

\section*{L(.)(.)K \\ Just for you! \\ Furnished House}

Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast

10 Month Lease

\section*{Call 655-2175}
for more info.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS \\
\hline 302 Marshall St 329 Comstock Ave 604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave - 145 Avondale Place \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Available for 2000-2001 \\
Fully Furnished, Laundry \\
farking. Fuli Time \\
Maintenarce and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet andfor Flefinished Hard Wood Floors Fermodeled Kitchens and Baths
\end{tabular} \\
\hline University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS 476-9933}

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

\section*{621 Euclid Avo}

871 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E. Adarns St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fuly Furnished, Laundry
Parking. Full Time
Mainterance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet andor Refinished Handwood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Univornity Ave Three Bodroom Fai Close Walk

Univarsity Area \(2-3\) Bedroorn lumished la Houses lor rent Ca
tim 668.7473

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDFOOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Ackerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Furnished carpoled, walk to campus, Well maintaired. 500-5/01 lazse 446-7202
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LUXURIOUS: Zstory apthot, Goummat kivtín. Custom boungeniv siea. Sisfight 15 th ceiling. ELEGANTLY OVEALOOKING PARK: ISI & 2nd tir, tu/din, 1-2.3 bxims, olessudy. jacuzzil bath. porches. \\
OSTMOMMAOLSON: Atl apts luen & heated. NO PETS! Negotiabla leases. Call br appl 469-0790
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOKATTHIEI \\
Throe Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious three Bertroom, completely tumished \\ epartment with porch. Living Foom with fireplace, Dining room, Kitthen and tiree large \\ bedrocrns, and Eath Off street, garape partiong. Laundy lacilty in beviling. \\ Fivo bedroon House \\
Spacious fre Bedroom. completely fyrnished Mouse with tront and reat porches. Living Hiom with firtoplace. Est hn kitchen Wf Hoom with fireplasoo. Estin kitchen W/ TwO FULL eattroms. Off stee! parking with garage FAEE Laundry taciity in building. CALL 430-5188 atter 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001 \\
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue \\
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO five large bedrooms, and Two FULL Bathrooms. Off street FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. \({ }^{\text {F }}\).
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

Univeralty Ave five bedroom House ons thel Universliy Ave. ive bedroom House on bleek Irom Marshall Streat lumished laundry parking lease \($ 1,30000\) plus ufities QN .Drucker \(445-1229\) Two Bedroom Apartmenta on Euclid Fumishod Heas induded , hartwood foors, porch, recenty
Hemodeled, taundry, parking, 476-2912
Bedroams OaklandSt. TBlack ESF 3Block Lawt Hospitals, furrishect, parking, Laurdin!, Ackerman Beautiful Large Fumished Flas' Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pot OK \(446-3420\) Uatwortity and Conpock Very cose to Canpus uncistred Leundry pertaing \($ 755.00\) to 5700.00 Slop ciean 3 bedroom apportments Firaplece, parting, laundry, 4

Apertromente coloe to campuis ciepn 2.3 .5 .
 2 bedroom Apatmont igist on Murshal SL Fall Samastar only (I Sernesion Mupust 2000 to FOUR BEDROO*-EDEE OF CAMPYS 278 Eucid, ecross from Shrw Dorm. Iroe parling. astwashoc mindy miciow

\section*{O.P.R. Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ \\ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

\section*{Apartments}

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.

Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. est renis fortion bow utilities.
University Area Apts 474-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNVERSITYHLLL.COM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With uibition inculded. Froplacen Fummebed, Hardwood floors and Cappeting, Paty, Porch, LLundray, Parking. cose to Campus Call Garion
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline PRIVATE FUANISHED STUDIO APTS. \\
1011 EAdama \\
509 Unlversity \\
Carpeted, Alr Conditioned. \\
Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, \\
Maintenanca. \\
University Area Apts. \\
479 5005 \\
www.univarsityarba.com \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{LANCASTER AVENUE \\ 18.3 Bertaon Aparminens Cumy finishe \(424-0220 \times 428\) \\ Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577}

1 Betroom Furnished Undurnished Whiving
 Parking. Cat 422.7305
Four Bedroom on Achorman, Furnizthod.
Dishwashir, Two Porches, Oif street Panking Suncty Crpert Hargwod Fiocrs

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, qujet buidding, close to campus, ubilities included. 476-2982

Clean quiti 2-bedroom two blows from SU hospitals. Furnished. All utilities paid. 472.590: une 1 lanse.

NEW BURY APARTMENTS Great University Aroa Beautiful New Appl. (AC, Dishwasher) Heal & Hot Water tncluded. Security Buildings Whintercoms & Door Releasos. Custom Made Blinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. Off Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line. 24 Hour Mainternance. Starting et \($ 550.00\). Call 478-0277 Ask for Patricla or Stop by our Otfice at off E. Brighten)
Also...(Graat Location) Beautiful 2 kitchans, 2 livingrooms, 2 díningrooms, 2 firteplaces, 2 c garage, huge yard, off Layafyefte road \($ 1200,00\)
2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Cstrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Fioomis Hardwrood Floos Avaid verl ar Aug 446-5186

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors.
476-2982

Ackerman furnished spacious two Bdfm off stree parking laundry taciliies utilities inct. 446-8576 One Bedroom Apartnents Close to Campus; ujilises included, Oak flloors, tire place, lurnished, Ackerman Ave. nice 3badroom Ilal, Iurnished, stova, tefing, laundry fraplace, garage. Avail Jerto 1st 446-4229

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEACIOUSOOMS BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY
478-7548
www.collegehome.con

\section*{SHERBROOKE} APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Usibites irceluded. Fully funished. Rents start at \($ 275\). Fefinished hardwood fibors. Wall to wall cappet fats Townhouses. Remodoled kitchens and Parking. 24hour mainterrance.
wwiuniversityarea.com University Area Apts 479-5005

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease
Anial
445-0540

\section*{KAPONO}
continued from page 20
Pac-10 guard Earl Watson and super rosh dason Kapono- a heavy fahonors.

The highly recruited Kapono could have played for Syracuse Bland and Jason Hart.

Instead, he opted for the comfort zone of his own backyard at UCLA - just 30 miles from his home in Lakewood, Calif.
be tough," Kapono said. "Coach Boeheim is a great no said. "Coach Boea great staff out there and players like Bland and Hart. But basically, it came down to what I felt most comfortable with."

He said he fit right into the whole college experience at UCLA - from its basketball tradition, academics and social life, Kapono said. And no doubt he enjoys playing in front of the laid-back Pauley crowds.

So far, the freshman phenom has started every game this season and leads the Bruins (13-8, 4-6 Pac-10) in scoring with an average of 15.4 points per game.

He's currently eighth in the conference in field goal percentage (53) and shooting 49 percent from 3-point land.
and it's glance at Kapono shonors was so much hoopla surrounding his arrival on the Westwood campus.

He earned 1999 first-team prep All-America honors from Parade Magazine and received the prestigious John Wooden High School Player of the Year award.

In his senior season at Artesia High School - the same school atCharles Oy fanmer Bruins Ed and the Pioneers to - Kapono guided wins against to a school-record 32 He finished his 1998 -9 raging 23.5 points, 9.0 rebouson 7.6 assists and shot a smooth 92.5 percent from the foulline. In his fouryear career, Kapono broke six offensive records once held by the O'Bannon brothers.

Kapono also got the chance to play for the West squad at the Mcgame in \(19 g^{\prime}\) School All-America Jonathan Bender and Jason talents
"Just to get chosen as one of the Top 20 was a honor," Kapono said. "It really meant a lot. Especially with so many great players who've played in the past - from Magic, Shaq, Kobe." Just this past summer, Kapono participated in a summertime league with L.A. native Jason Hart.
high school my Jresh probably from said. "It was a semi-final yeare" he we played against him then. So vie definitely know each other."

Kapono is not afraid to lose, nor does he dwell on past mistakes. In the Bruins conference home opener against now- No. 7 Arizona, Kapono finished the night with 10 points and committed 10 of his team's 26 turnovers.

But in the following game against Arizona State, Kapono responded by
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline \multirow[b]{3}{}{Conference} & E) Syracuse Orangemen & \multirow[t]{2}{}{} \\
\hline & Syracuse takes on UCLA at 1 p.m. on Sunday at the Carrier Dome. & \\
\hline & - \(\mathrm{Big}_{\text {East }}\) & Pas 10 \\
\hline This Season & 19-2 (9-1 Big East), ranked No. 4 in the country and leading the Big East by a half game over Seton Hall. & 13-8 (4-6 Pac-10). tied for seventh place in its league. \\
\hline Head Coach & Jim Eoeheim (568-195, 24th year) & Steve Lavin (83.34, 4th year) \\
\hline Key Players & Etan Thomas ( 14.6 ppc .9 .4 rpg, 3.4 bpg ), Damone Brown (11.9 ppg. 6.5 rgg ), Jason Hart (11.8. \(5.8 \mathrm{apg})\) & Jason Kapono (16.2 pp& 4.4 rpg ). Jerome Moiso ( 14.2 ppg. 8.0 rpd ). Earl Watson (11.0, 4.1 rpg ) \\
\hline The Scoop & SU heads into Sunday's game reeling from two straight losses. The Orangemen's outside shooting, which propelled them to a 19.0 start, has deserted them of late including a 5-of-19 3-point shooting performance in Thursday's 82-69 loss to Louisville. Brown did not travel to play the Cardinals and remains questionable for Sunday's matinee with a deep right thigh bruise. & The Brains come off a victory over USC. but lost three straight before that. UCLA can't blame any off its bad fortune on poor shooting. as the Bruins scorch the nets to the tune of 47 percent from the floor. UCLA also hits 34 percent of its shots from behind the 3 -point arc. Lavin's club owns quality wins over North Carolina, DePaut and Purdue but is just 3-3 away from Pauley Pavillion. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
tallying 24 points in a UCLA victory. down just knew that I couldn't break down, he said. "Even though it was me stronger and more mentally tough me stronger an

Kapono:s combination of sharp shooting and versatility has served him well, helping him supply a steady

One particular highlight was a

Dec. 30 victory over Purdue, in which he delivered the game-winning basket with 1.1 seconds remaining.
"I love the way Jason keeps the element of fun and play into the game, "fourth year UCLA head coach Steve Lavin told the Daily Breeze. it's hard. You need to keep that spirit of fun."

\section*{[C]ASSifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933. \\
\hline 1,2,3.4. 4 bectroam aparthents. Furnishecu, al Uuities included, laundry, parking. Ona block from campos naar taw schood tESF. May + Aurgust arialabily. 446 .9598. \\
\hline Furnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments Livingston, Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6665 \\
\hline Large 2 bedroom. 2 futl balh. Wakking distanca s.u.all stuel peaking. Laumdry, Cal 42 2.-735. \\
\hline 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Furnishd Two Bedroom
Flumished Apartments Comer ol Walmut and Last Month and Secuaty No Pets Allowed.
Graduales Prellome 2000.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

All tutilities inclurded Call Donna 4494621

Your off-campus home for \(2000-01\)

\section*{Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM} apartments. double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer carpeted off street parking
owner managed

CALL TODAY PETER 427-0052
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER 427-0052 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
\(1,2,3-4\) \\ Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
microwaves, \\
disposal, \\
security systems \\
All Locations / \\
Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{TOAD HALL \\ \(1 / 2\) block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.}

Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities.
Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven). Uaiversity Area \(A\) pti.

479-5005
Laige 3 bedroom. 2 fult bath. Walking distance s.u. oft stroet parking. Laundry. Call 422-7305. Best Buy on Harisonst Clean Oruiet One bedroom and studia June lease. Funished, One +2 bectrom furisthed apartinents. Al utilises incuced 5370, Sischma One mile lime campus Laundry, parking, carpating, security building
Avalaint inmedailely, May \(\propto\) dugust 4 ar-gis University 283 Bedroom TownHouses \(&\) Flats. inexpensive and mint concition. WasherfDryar, Fireplace, inisishad basemont, Call 4490109.

\section*{Houses}

House For Rent 2minutas Irom Main Campus
Seven Bda ofl streat panting Phone \(458-0483\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.'

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

(5) Bedroom House 721 Ostrom Ave
 (t)446-3693

Clarendon St, 4-bedroom, trea washer. dryer.
ofi-street parking. avaitabia \(5 / 15 /\). Gall 492-3199 Charming English Tuder House on Comstock 6 Charming. English Tudor House on Comstock 6 Bedroonss; Freplace, across from Avait \(5 / 20\) 475-1012, ( 843 )514-3881
Now Fanting For Fall 2000 Larpe 5 bedroom house on E. Adams St on E. Adams St. Newty remodeled Bathrooms and paint. Heat includad! OH Slreet Parking. Laundry poom and Ear. Great Location! Cail 637-5779. Larga Single Farnily lurnished house. Farking. fireplace, tree laundry, dishwaster, mature tenants 682-3304

\section*{SUBLET}

Spring zooa need lemale subither, apartment Spring 2000 need lemalo subinter, apartus turnished, clase to campus (607) 166 -0675 SERVICES Travel
 SPRING EREAK-GRAD WEEK
$75 8 UR Per Person whw.rgreatmytilebeach.com
\(1.1000-645.3618\)

SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN*JAMAICA"NASSAU Space is limited 800-293-1443 8ww.StudentCity.com

\section*{ Availablafl Ask mww.colegetours.can}

Spring Break Speriats! Bahamas Party Cruisel 5 Nights $279! Inctudes Meals! Awesome Beactios, Nightiifal Departs From Floridal Panama City
Foom With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties 8 Frae Drinks \(\mathbf{5 1 2 9 !}\) Daytona Hoom With Kilchen $149! South Beach (Bars Open Until 5amy \($ 159\)

\section*{MISC.}

NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As always piease use cautien when replying or being replied lrom any advertisement in each issue, for The Daily Orange does not take responsibility for ary misconduct resulting in con Lacf berwoen yoursell and aovertiser.

\section*{orange}

\section*{NOTES}

Men's Basketball Louisville No. 4 Syracuse 69
Orangemen (19-2) Player
Shumpe Shumpert Blackwell Thomas Bland Hart
Williams
Duany
Griffin
Celuck
\begin{tabular}{ll}
10 & \(r\) \\
\(p\) & 5 \\
9 & 9 \\
12 & 9 \\
6 & 9 \\
16 & 1 \\
8 & 3 \\
2 & 4 \\
4 & 1 \\
2 & 0
\end{tabular}

Cardinals (13-9) Player
Williams Williams Johnson Edward Maybin
Gaines Gaines
Brooks
Bailey
Bailey
Hooper

\section*{Weekend Calendar}

Friday
Men's Lacrosse
Syracuse vs
Fairfield (scrimmage) 7:30 p.m. at Carrier Dome

\section*{Saturday}

Women's Basketball Orangewomen vs. Georgetown
2 p.m. at Manley Field House

Tennis
Orangewomen vs
St. Bonaventure
1 p.m. at Drumlins Tennis Center

\section*{Wrestling}

Orangemen vs.
Rutgers, Franklin & Marshall. and Coppin St. TBA at Piscataway, N.J.

Track and Field
Orange in Husker Invitational
All Day at Lincoln, Neb.
Women's Lacrosse
Orangewomen at 1 p.m. at Durham, N.C

\section*{Sunday}

Mer's Basketball
Orangemen vs.
UCLA
1 p.m. at Carrier Dome
Tennis
Orangewomen vs.
Rutgers
11 a.m. at Drumlins Tennis Center

\section*{Gabby grabbed}

The Rochester Rhinos drafted Syracuse senior soccer star Gabriel Gervais with their first pick in the 2000 A League Oraft on Tuesday.

The McGill University transfer scored 29 goals in his three-year SU career. Gervais garnered first-team All-Big East honors this fall with 10 goals and three assists as the Orangemen advanced to the conference semifinals.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When was the last time the SU men's hoops team lost three straight games in one season?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. How many Denny Crumcoached Louisvilte teams have advanced to the Final Four?
A. Six (1972, 75, 80, 82, 83. 86)

\section*{[sports] Cardinals drop}

\section*{BY GREG BISHOP}

Staff witer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. - In an up-and-down season, the Louisville basketball team has visited both ends of the college baskrotball spectrum.

On some nights, the squad played below its potential, losing to unknowns like Alabama-Birmingham and Saint Louis.

On other nights - especially against teams ranked in the Top 25 - the Cardinals have shown their talent and beaten then-No. 6 North Carolina, then-No. 18 Utah and then-No. 22 DePaul.

On Thursday night, Louisville proved giant-killer again, shooting an amazing 57 percent from the floor and handing a Damone Brown-less No. 4 Syracuse its second consecutive loss 82-69 at Freedom Hall.
"When you have grod shooting, you can overcome a lot of weaknesses," Louisville head coach Denryy Crum said. "Tonight, we got the ball to the open man, and when you do that you get better shots. It's that simple."

With 5:29 left in the contest, Syracuse appeared to be threatening a comeback in a game Louisville controlled throughout. On the right wing, forward Kueth Duany found an open Etan Thomas for a thunderous dunk that brought SU within four, the closest it had been in the half, at 64-60.

Fearless against the Orangemen's vaunted 2-3 zone, Louisville continued to work the ball around on the other end of the floor. Reece Gaines, who finished with 12 points on the night, shook loose on the right side, nailing an open 3-pointer and sending the 19,861 Carcinal frenzy. Gaines' three sparked a 15-9 Louisville run that included a stretch whereSU had to foul four consecutive times just to put Louisville in the bonus.
"When a team shoots that well, you got to give them some credit," Syracuse head coach Jim Boeheirn said. "But defensively, you've got to take some responsibility for that. strugst uke in Monday's 69-67 loss to Seton half, Sown 4636, Syratuse hoped for a quick start that never quite materialized.

The Orangemen fell susceptible to Louisville's quickness, as forward Tony Williams sparked a run by streaking down the left side for a layup to put the Cardinal up 56-46 with \(13: 58\) remaining. Williams finished with 20 points on

See CONSECUTIVE page 15

Syracuse senior fonward Ryan Blachwell scored 12 points and grabbed nine robounds, but SU dropped its second consecutive game, 82-69 to Louis ville at Freedom Hall.

\section*{Frosh sensation bolsters Bruins}

By mal ima
Staff Writer
Consider it a pre-Valentine's date, but minus the sweet talk. No. 4 Syracuse will look to exact some revenge when it p.m. Sunday afternoon at the Carrier Dome.
t Pa their first-ever meeting

\section*{Kapono} at Pauley Pavilion a year ago the then-No. 16 Bruins scorched the No. 21 Orangemen by a 93-69 score.

UCLA guard Baron Davis, who tallied 27 points against the Orangemen in Westwood, now wears Charlotte Hornet teal. But Syracuse (19-2, 9-1 Big East) must contend Sunday with AllSee KAPONO page 19

\section*{Hoyas invade Manley}

\section*{BY KEVIN LEMTALL}

Staff Writer
The Syracuse women's basketball team owns two Big East victaries this season.

The Orangewomen posted its second win on Wednesday night, a mere 21 days after their first.

SU certainly does not want to wait another three weeks to get its third.

Coach Marianna Freeman's Orangewomen look for their second straight conference win Saturday as the they host Georgetown at 2 p.m. at Manley Field House. said after Wednesday's win. "We're just ready to play Were gring to go in there and play how we played against See BUILD page 16

\section*{Sluggish SU struggles}

SU center Etan Thomsas mustared just sbx shot SU center Etan Thomass in

BY JEFF PASSAN Asst. Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky- - An awkward calamity has slowed and stifled the Syracuse Orangemen lately, something not even head coach Jim Boeheim can explain.
ve lost orangemen seem to have lost the vigor to play defense.
"We were not playing with the energy I think we need to," Boeheim said after the Orangemen dropped their second consion at Louisville on Thursday "Inside, we're not playins the Inside, we're not playing the way we did earlier (in the seafive games like that Touisville took advantage of it.
took Save a fink late dave a ond half, the Cardinals* offense played flawlessly. They used a post moves to down the Orpongemen (19-2, 9-1 Big East)) quicker than a stiff shot of Kenquicker than a stiff shot

SU - with an exploited perimeter defense and an intepior game as soft as a marshmallow - played without the braggadocio it possessed during its 19-game winning atreak to begin the season and with the loud screams of 19,861 Freedom Hall fans ringing in their ears.

And no matter which de-
See BRAGGADOCIO page 16

\section*{Moore appeals case to USen}

Former GSO president files grievance against Short

\section*{BY NICK SERRANO}

Staff Writer
Former Graduate Student Organization President Zac Moore filed a formal grievance Friday to the University Senate committee on academic freedom, tenure and professional ethics.

Moore said he filed the grievance because of alleged mistreatment and plagiarism by his former geography professor.

A three-member subcommittee will now investigate the case, said committee chairwoman Diane Lyden Murphy, professor of social work and director of women's studies

Moore is accusing geography professor John Renaie Short of expelling him from a GEO 815 class in the spring of 1998 and of plagiarizing his work from the class in the book, "Globalization and The City."

Short wrote the book last winter with YeohnHyun Kim, who was a geography doctoral student at the time. Short and Kim denied Moore's accusation

See MOORE page 6

\section*{Perc performance}

Jennio Gramiano, a funior chilld and family stucles maior from Ridet, sings Saturday at Perc Ploce.

\section*{Panther power}

Elaine Brown, first chairwoman of the Black Panthers Association, discusses slavery, historic oppression and the civil rights movemont at a specch sponsored by University Union on Saturday in Grant Auditorium. Brown said the black community must reggin its focus on advancing their position in American sccioty.

\section*{[ Greek Affairs}

Sororities close Rush with bids

BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Campus sororities completed Spring Rush 2000 with Bid Day on Sunday in Goldstein Auditorium. It was a really rantastic Rush, said Sarah Korf, Rush chairand junio the Panhellenic Council lic relation policy studies and pubgirls signed up this year than last year."

Women went to Goldstein to receive their bids, an envelope containing the name of the sorority that invited them to be a pledge, Korf said. After opening envelopes, pledges ran to representatives of pledges ran to representatives of their sorority houses.
"It was funny," said Lisa Walsh, an Office of Greek Life graduate assistant. "People were screaming and running. They were hugging and some were crying out of happiness. It was basically a lot of screaming.
"I guess, for me, it made the whole hectic week worth it." During the first round of Rush women toured the 13 sorority houses and were notified afterward which houses were calling them back for a second round. From the list of call-backs, women had to pick their top seven choices, rushees said.

In the second round, the candidates followed the same procedure, but at the end women picked their

See BIDS page 4

\section*{■ Police Reports:}

\section*{Dorian's employee attacks customer}

\section*{BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer}

An employee of Dorian's Gourmet Pizza and Deli, 534 Westcott St., assaulted a customer early Saturday morning, according to a police repart.
"I walked into Dorian"s to order food," said customer Matt Brosh, a 21 -year-old Syracuse resident. "After 20 minutes, they hadn't even started my order."
fund hish asked the manager to reKis money for the order, he said.
Kendle Wilson, a cook at DoriKendle Wilson, a cook at Dorithen punched him, Brosh said.

The boss was willing to give me my money back, but the cook got really mad," Brosh said. "He hit me so hard, blood started coming out of my nose immediately."

After being punched by Wilson,

Brosh blacked out, the report said. "I fell to the floor, and tried to gain balance on a table. Customers were looking at me," Brosh said. When I came to, I was being thrown out of the store by six other people."

Brosh said he had a couple of drinks earlier, but was not intoxicated.

But Wilson told police that Brosh was extremely intoxicated when he entered the restaurant and had been arguing with other people, the report said.

Dorian's owner Kostas Petkopoulos agked him to leave, the report said.

Wilson reported that Brosh swung at him, and he swung back in swung at him, and he swung back in tact was made, Wilson reported.

Brosh was brought to Upstate Hospital, 5740 Commons Park, and treated for cuts and a broken nose, the report said.

Brosh said he knew Wilson before the incident.
"He was a friend of a friend," Brosh said. "I had met him once before, and never really liked him."

In a previous encounter, Wilson got angry at Brosh at a party for ac cusing him of drinking his beer, Brosh said. Wilson kicked Brosh out of the apartment where the party was host ed, Brosh eaid

Nothing else really happened after that" he said

Wilson could not be reached for comment.

Petkopoulos refused to commen on the incident at Dorian's.
It was a fight, there is nothing I can say," Petkoponlos said.
Brosh did not get his money back and is planning on pressing charges against Wilson, he said.

See DORIANS page 4

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- The Everson Member's Council hosts a Valentine's Day lecture and luncheon from 1 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Everson Mu seum of Art. SU professor Lud wig Stein will present Meart. beats: Valeatines for My Lise the Everson Members' Council and 144 . 064 for resenember
- Barns and Noble bookstore presents The Beauty Queen of Leenane from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m. at 3454 E. Erie Blvd. in DeWitt as part of the Syracuse 2636 for more information.

\section*{TODAY- \\ WEDNESDAY}

F The College Democrats meet at 4:30 p.m. in the College Democrats office of Schine Student Center.

\section*{TUESDAY}

The SU Women's Basket.ball team hosts Rutgers at p.m. in Manley Field House.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
the Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents "Buena Vista Social Club" as part of the February Film Se. p.m. at 310 Genesee St., Utica.

Eyracuse Stage presents The Beauty Queen of Lecnane at \(7 ; 30\) p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), dis counts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for ticket information.

E UU Cinemas presents "Somewhere in Time," at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets are \($ 3\).
- The Career Development Center presents "How To Find an Internship" from 5 to \(6 \mathrm{pm} . \mathrm{m}\) Newhouse I, Room 20.

\section*{THURSDAY}
- The Caribbean Student As sociation presents the Haitian film "Krik? Krak! Takes of a Night mare" from 7 to 10 p.ra. in the Gif ford Auditonum.

E Schine Student Center hasts "Careers in Cyberspace" from 5 to 8 p.m. in Roorn 304.

\section*{SATURDAY}
- The Mental Health Associa tion of Onondiaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing parents covering parenting, emo tional and legal issues. The class is from 9 am. to 1 p.m. at the Mental Health Association, 3049 E. Gene see St. Admission is \($ 20\), but no one is turned away because of inability to pay. Call 445-5606 for more information.

\section*{[dö]}

The Daily Orange is published
Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campes with the first five eopies complementary and each additional copy costs \($ 1\).

Management 443-979 \(\begin{array}{cc}\text { Butinews } & 443-2314 \\ \text { News } & 443-2127\end{array}\)
Lifespyle 443-2128
Sports 443-2203
Photography 443-9795
E-mail editorialedailyormyecom

\section*{E Police Reports:}

\section*{Arsonist sets fire outside Ostrom apartment}

Staff Reports
An unidentified person set a small fire early Saturday morning on the front porch of a house on the 700 black of \(\mathrm{O}_{5}-\) prom Avenue, according to a Resident Residents of the house were fire on the porch there was said. "We were inside our house playing ping-pong," said resident Michael Godlewski, a sophomorebusiness major. \({ }^{\text {"We looked outside and saw a }}\) blazing inferno on the front porch."
from a garbage can by the road and set it on fire on the house\(s\) porch, the report said.

The Syracuse Police Departmentand the Syracuse Fire Department arrived at the house and found several people standing outside stomping the papers to p report said. The fire investigator said the fire appeared to be inten ional, the report said

They think that it was probably some drunk people Godlewski said. "The police tried to find them, but they had no luck. We have no idea who it was."

The porch suffered only mior damages, the report said. One resident burned his hand pouring water on the fire, Godlewski said.
"We also left the sink on and flooded the kitchen on accident," he said.

In the fall, an unidentified person set three trash fires in the Brewster/Boland Complex. The first two fires were set in Hall. The third fire was set in the trash room on the twelfth hoor of Brewster Fiall.

The fires raised issues regarding residence hall safety and fire prevention.

The cases are still under investigation by the Syracuse Police Department.
- A car parked on the 1000 black of Harrison Street was broken into by an unidenified person the evening of Feb. 1, according to a police Th passenger side door
sonal items were taken from the vehicle, the report said. The thief stole a black gym bag and a wallet, the report said. The wallet contained a driver's license, Syracuse University identification card and other forms of identification, he report said.

Last week, there were five car break-ins around the SU ports. No suspects were found for any of the incidents.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evans Boston

The suspect took trash
```

Youneed a roll-on with $m$ arxatimum Pronthectton.

```

\section*{TIURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE all majois welcome \\ THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17. 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE}

\section*{Six upstarts leveraging the web's potential}

\section*{making a living in}

\section*{for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

modem Media interact, business opportunities Trar \(\qquad\) in live track and field webcastmm eeractive Communications out-of-the-box web advertising & marketing: communications NOVO strategic business consulting for the online environment Syracuse Online news online, cyber shopping & resource directory for CNY The Digit Group management/IT consulting focused on architectural design, construction & operations

\section*{THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE bring your resume \\ THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

\section*{Bernardi calls for government reorganization}

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS Staff Writer

Syracuse University is needed to help officials reform an out-of-date charter preventing the city from being efficient, Syracuse Mayor
cuse Mor
Roy Roy
Bernardi said during his State of the City address Wednesday
Officials avenot de-

\section*{Bemardi} have not termined
Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw and Bernardi discussed using members of the university staff to assist the City Charter Commission, said Jim Parenti, a Bernardi spokesman.

Being a city resident is a prerequisite for placement on the committee and many university employees live in the city's suburbs, he said. Currently, university employees may sit on the committee or just serve in an advisory role, said.
SU has a vested interest in the city's success and should help in the charter reform helpin the chart process, Shaw said.
"We are a vital part of the community and the welfare of the city is important to us," he said. I can't think of a reason said. we cant think of a reason The city is looking specifially for professors and recally for professors and researchers from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs to work with the commission, Parenti said.

The Alan K. Campbell Public Affairs Institute in Maxwell last month released "The Government Performance Project." The project graded the management quality within the 35 U.S. cities with the largest annual revenues. Syracuse was not one of the cities studied, but researchers from the project could still help the commission's project, Parenti said. or the same issues werre dealing with here," he said.

One of the study's conclusions was that cities could benefit from a review of their charsaid. said.

The charter is also being reformed because it was passed more than 40 years ago. Parenti said.

Obviously, in the 40 years that passed we're a very different city," he said. We need to the charter reflects the current city."

The commission is going to examine the possibility of consolidating city offices and departments to make city government less expensive and more efficient, Parentisaid. The commission will also consider the possibility of merging Onondaga County and city government offices, he added.

The Syracuse Common Council, the mayor and city residents must approve the commission's recommendation in order for them to take effect. The proposal will be on the ballot in the form of a referendum question for voters in November 2001, Parenti said.

Regardless of the mayor's position, charter reform is not Council president.

The city instead needs to be managed in a more "busi-ness-like manner, said Driscoll, who worked in the restaurant business for 20 years before entering politics.
\({ }^{4}\) The current city government can and must be effective," he said. "We have to learn how to govern ourselves."

Driscoll said there are three things that the city government should do rather than a charter review to make the city government run better: reconsider its approach to school funding, find new forms of revenue and focus on basic services.

The city must begin to be pro-active in its approach to funding the Syracuse School District, he said. A better school district will make Syracuse a more attractive place to live, he added.
"It will encourage families and business to locate here," Driscoll said. "It will pay dividends for years to come.

As for the part of the city being run like a business, the government must find new forms of revenue, he said.

The government must help the economy grow so established Syracuse businesses can prosper, new businesses can begin and others can relocate to Syracuse. This is already starting to happen, Driscoll said.

More businesses will increase the amount of money the city earns by sales and property taxes, he said.

The city government must also focus on its basic functions and make sure they are working properly, Driscoll said. The services that residents pay for through their taxes, like the Department of Public Works, must properly serve the people, he said.
"If we do these things, I know we can be successful," Driscoll said. "The best days are ahead of us."

\section*{BIDS} continued from page 1 top three choices. For the third round, the women visited the three remaining houses on their lists and ranked them in order of preference for bids.

Some women only ranked one house, called a single intention preference, Korf said. If a woman bid but did not receive a call-back bid but did not receive a call-back fered a bid from another sorority called a snap bid, she said.
Walsh said 557 women signed up for Spring 2000 Rush, with 76 up for Spring 2000 Rush, with 76 percent receiving bids. But 145 women dropped out of Rush, she women added.
"They either went through the Rush process and decided greek the Rush process and decided greek or a particular sorority," she said.

Korf said the number of pledges allowed in each sorority is determined prior to Rush - found determined prior to Rush - found who signed up by the number of houses - so as not to leave anyone out at the start.
"There was a place for everyone, it was just a matter of preference," Korf said.

Lisa Kelly, a freshman management major, signed up for agement major, signed up for Rush but dropped out before its Feb 4. kick-off night. 4. kick-off night.

It takes a lot of time and I had other things to do. I really wasn't that interested in it. I signed up just to see if it was something I you should do it to meet people

\section*{Direct Placement Meetings} and see if you want to pledge."

Kelly said she is considering rushing next semester if she has the time.

Courtney Strand, an undeclared freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences, received a bid for her first choice sorority, Alpha Chi Omega.
"I was so happy," Strand said. "A Chi O pwas my first choice since November, but \(I\) went through Rush totally open-minded. I just realized, looking at the people in my pledge class, that \(I\) could totally see myself with them.
wore totally real."
To help prevent hazing and alcohol abuse during the pledge period, Kori said the greek system is their new recruits. Among these > are an "Alcohol tol" program that, all pledges are required to attend, as well as an anti-hazing seminar sponsored by the Office of Greek Life and through Campus Speak, a university speaker board, she added. U.S. District Judge Mitch Crane from Pennsylvania will give the anti-hazing seminar. It will be at I:30 p-m. Tuesday in Schine and aims to educate current sisters about the punishments for hazing, as well as informing new recrits what constitutes a hazing incident.

> "Some people really aren't sure what hazing is." Korf said. "We need to educate new members and sisters about the repercussions of hazing. It"s really proactive."

\section*{DORIANS}
continued from page 1
At Dorian's last week, an unidentified suspect vandalized an employee's unattended car, according to a police report.
The employee was returning to Dorian's to pick up more deliveries. When he returned to his car, he found the window smashed, the report said.

\section*{Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center \\ Of New York Chiropractic College}

\section*{910 Erie Elva \\ Syracuse. NY 13210}
(onthe corner of Crouse 8 Erie Eivd)
New Location
- Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

> Hours
> Mon-Fri. 9 a.m.-8 p.m.

\section*{Student Plan}
- Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

CHECK US OUT ! Tel: 442-1100

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Pledges must seek to re-invent image}

Brothers and sisters, raise your drinking glasses. Bid Day is upon us once again.

A toast to SU's 2000 greek pledge class: Strive to embody the original ideals of greek life - brotherhood and sisterhood and service to the university community. For a change, help greeks make headlines for positive involvement on and off campus, not for landing pledges in hospital beds with nearfatal blood alcohol levels.

When prospective students roll up the SU Hill, Walnut Park's row of greek letteremblazoned houses is one of their first sights. The high-profile image that accompanies your letter sweatshirt should not be taken lightly.

You are held to a higher standard than other members of the campus community. Ugly hazing incidents and alcohol violations have historically tarnished the pride college students once felt in being greek.

Good publicity for greeks is often only a phone call away. Alerting local media outlets about philanthropy events and community services activities is a simple step toward reestablishing a positive greek image.

Similarly, it would be smart for house presidents to show leadership when slip-ups occur and greek houses are thrust into the public spotlight for alcohol or hazing violations.

Repeated pleas of "No comment" won't clean up a soiled image.

The decision to rush a greek house is a personal one and a serious decision as well. If you opt to enter the community, you must be aware that there are consequences to your actions.
"Animal House"-reminiscent social enclaves have crumbled in the clutches of an increasingly lawsuit-happy society and stricter university administrations. If the greek system is to endure, you must take pride in your responsibility as student leaders.

Ace your first lesson in the greek ABCs. Use it to write the next chapter of SU's greek history.

\section*{dô]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline News Editor & Justin Silvertman \\
\hline Editorial Editor & Holly Auer \\
\hline Lifestyle Editor & Sapna Kollali \\ \hline Sports Editor & Dave Curtis \\
\hline Special Projects Editor & Joy Davia \\
\hline Presentation Director & Bill Ehninger \\
\hline Photography Editor & Adeet Deshmukh \\
\hline Art Director & Neva Austrew \\
\hline Copy Editor & Laura Prabucki \\ \hline Asst. News Editor & Kate Stevenson \\
\hline Asst. News Editor & Tittany Lankes \\
\hline Asst. News Editor & Kevin Tampone \\
\hline Asst. Lifestyle Editor & Corey Hann \\ \hline Asst. Sports Editor & Connor Ennis \\
\hline Asst. Sports Editor & Jeff Patastan \\
\hline Design Editor & Erin Boyio \\
\hline Design Editor & Elaine Sklaner \\
\hline Design Editor & Tito Bottita \\ \hline Design Editor & Torr Mason \\
\hline Asst. Photoeraphy Editor & Rachael Eolden \\ \hline Asst. Copy Editor & Annemarie Bello \\
\hline Asst. Copy Editor & Ron Fooks \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
 Duly Drane Corpu 744 Oxtrom Me. \\
 \\
 \\

\end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l} wemay acacome yoby me mphonas Edtorton 443-9790: Orant Cors sidmay nx be \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Love sickness perplexes the hopeless romantic}

Valentine's Day is here again. Some will be joyfully celebrating with flowers and kisses. Others will be quietly mourning with coffee and cigarettes. Most will be probably be indifferent. It would be passe to argue that Valentine's Day is a sham built by consumerism to sell candy and greeting cards. Everyone

THOMAS
HOBAN knows that. It's just like Christmas.

But it seems elear to me that Valentine's Day at least purports to be about love. When Aristophanes described the beginning of the universe he said, "as the seasons rolled forth sprang Love, the longed-for, shining, with wings of gold." This is a lovely vision, but cerThis is a lovely vision, but cerof poets and songwriters.

Science, however, has a slightly different approach. Cindy Hazan, a researcher at Cornell University, recently concluded an interesting scientific study of love. Her study found that 'love' constitutes the release of dopamine, phenylethylamine and oxytocin - a powerful chemical cock tail - in the brain. This creates an increased 33 montiss, just long enough for a couple to meet, mate and conceive a child.
"Thanks to the intensity and tunnel vision of romantic infatuation, we enjoy the illusion that we choose our mate. The reality is known to zookeepers - the most certain way to get members of any species to mate is to house them in the same cage," Hazan adds.

At first this is a disturbing thought, but then I wonder whether or not we're using the right word. Perhaps humans have a habit of confusing love with mere infatuation. If there is a distinction, it is often a difficult one to make, especially tion, it is often a difficult one to make, especially the recent film "Mapnolia," when Donnie fWillinm the recent inm Magnolia, when Donnie (Wiliam H. Macy) is conironted about confusing sicknes the two and I don't care!"

\section*{letters}

sick. To maybe people who are in love" are just. wroth with one we love doth work like madness in the brain." This might be closer to the scientific perspective.

A study conducted by researchers at the University of Pisa found that serotonin levels in the brains of lovesick Italian students were similar to those of people clinically diagnosed with Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder. Like the Cornell research, the Italian study found that these levels returned to normal after about a year.

Regardless, be it love or infatuation, I must admit it's pretty cool in a sadomasochistic sort of way. Other feelings may come close, but none quite the same. As the Magnetic Fields so eloquently put it, "love is like a bottle of gin, but a bottle of gin ain't like love."

Barring cliches about how the ups of love wouldn't be worthwhile without the downs, the idea still appeals to me. The more cynical and nihilistic I become about the state of the world the more I find my only solace lies in being a hopeless romantic. It's fun in a way that denies any attempt at explanation. It makes what my Ts Eliot "Love is nearly itself when here quot T.S. Eliot, "Love is nearly itself when here and now cease to matter.

One could say that it was the serotonin talking when Eliot wrote that line, but his point is that it doesn't make any difference. So screw science. Clinical analysis can take a iong walk off short pier as I quote one more romantic, blake waking world I seek and this infocted plano of sleep, love come like an axe to all this ice and set sleep, love.

With words like these, who needs dopamine?
Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and film and political science major. E-mail him and film and policical at tphoban@syr.edu.

\section*{Pataki visits Syracuse, promotes Empire Games}

BY CAROLINE CHEN Staff Writer

The 25th annual Empire State Summer Games are returning to Syracuse, announced
New York state Gov. George E New York state Gov. George E. local residents in the Carrier Dome.

Weregoing to have the best state games in America right here in Syracuse," Patak said.
Games ception times since their in Bernadette Castro commis sioner of the New York Stat Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. The city hosted the games during its inaugural year them in 1994.
"Syracuse was selected because it is the center of the state," said Chuck Halliagn, sports director for the event.

The games, featuring amateur athletes, will include 28 sporting events at 48

LeMoyne College and the State University of New York at Cortland will provide additional athletic facilities, Pataki said.
"Most importantly, it will be a time when 6,000 young will get to make friends that will stay for a lifetime," he said.

By the end of 2002, more than 125,000 athletes will have participated in the Games since said.
Under the leadership of Gov. Hugh Carey, New York was the first state to begin hosting statewide athletic com petitions. More than 40 other states have since followed.
"This is an auspicious occasion," Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi said. "These games will come home to where they started.

Gene Mills, a 1981 SU graduate, won gold medals for freestyle wrestling and GrecoRoman wrestling at the Games in 1978.
said "It was a lot of fun," he said. "It was a nice little stepping stone to the Olympics. team in 1980 and later spent 17 years as an SU wrestling coach. Mills never com peted in the Olympics peted in the Olympics, Unwever, because the that year in protest of the Soviet Union's Com munist ideals.

\section*{Economy boost}

The Summer Games which were in Long Is land last year, generat ed more than \($ 20 \mathrm{mil}\) Iion for the local econo my, Pataki added.
Rochester native Beth Donnelly worked at abagel shop near the State University of New York at Brockport, host of the Games two years ago.
"There was a line out door," said Donnelly, the door," said Donnelly an undeclared freshman in The "It was crazy"

The Game
The Games are run by the Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation and are Historic Preservation and are funded largely by the New York funded largely by the New \(Y\)
State Lottery, Pataki said.

Bernardi said the Olympic-

File photo by ADEET DESHMUKH/ The Daily Orange Gov. Georga E Pataki discusses economic recovery in New York state during his sized pool at Nottingham High School and track at Henniger High School, both in the Syracuse City School District, are examples of long-lasting benefits of hosting the Games in Syracuse.

Both were originally built to accommodate the Games, he said.

The Nottingham pool is one of the few eight lane pools in the area that is available for high school teams to use, said Michael Baylis, a freshman il lustration major and a 1999 Nottingham graduate and varsity swim team captain.

\section*{MOORE}
continued from page 1
of plagiarism.
Submitting my work without my name on it is a violation of professional ethics," said Moore, an international relations and social science gradu ate student. Throwing me out of class is a violation of my academic freedom because it's permitting me from learning and participating as a student.

Moore said he is more opti mistic about USen than the attempts to further his case in attempts to further his case. there's a more level playing field there Mioore said pring ire faculty staff and student so it appears to side-step the immediate departmental poli tics that seem to have caused the problems in terms of people abusing their power and acting irresponsibly.

By having it aniversitywide, it removes it a little from the power games of the department and even the college."

Moore went on a three-day hunger strike and sit-in at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs dean's office Feb. I to Feb. 3 to protest the alleged violations.

The subcommittee will report back to the \(10-\mathrm{member}\) a report of findings and recommendations for the case to Vice Chancelior Deborah A. Freund After Freund reviews the reAfter Freund reviews the rethe case's proceedings, Murphy said.

No time line is set up for case, but it works "as fast as possible," Murphy said.

Moore said he expects to hear back from the committee his week. But he said he has not ruled out continued protests toward the Maxwell dean's office.
"I have to consider a vigil and hunger strike as some of my choices if the dean's office prevents me from filing a good appeal," Moore said. "I think I

Moore is also upset that Short, Kim and the two other graduate students in the GEO 815 class submitted an article produced from work done in the class to a scientific journal thout his consent, he samd.
In November 1998. Moore contacted the Professional Geof the article, said Stuart

Aitken, co-editor of the jour nal. Aitken wrote back to Moore Dec. 3 saying he would hold the article until Jan. 10 so Moore could file a formal grievance to SU .

SU's decision about the case would determine whether the article would be published, Aitken said.

Now that Moore has filed a formal grievance, Aitken said he plans to speak to the journal's lawyers and contact SU about the case. The article is scheduled for publication in the August 2000 issue, Aitken said.
"If the article goes on to be phatished and it sin article a co-author one that disted as seem to be professional loent or legal," Moore said. "From their perspective, I think it would be a bad move. It would open them up to a great deal of risk legally."

Armando Boniche, one of the three graduate students in the GEO 815 class, said Moore contributed nothing to the arti cle that was submitted

All the data collection writing, research and litera ture review, that was our work," said Boniche, who was a graduate student in geography when the article was written.

Boniche said he was upset that Moore did not talk to him and the other students in the class before contacting Aitken directly.
"It was very disappointing because he never contacted us beforehand," said Boniche. "He circumvented all of us and wen straight to the editor. He should have come to us first. the tosue again Bong to raise the issue again, Bonich said.

That's really what irri tates me," he said. "That two table out of nowhere?

\title{
The Daily Orange hires new editorial staff \\ Who havent been here a lot,
}

The red and white house at 744 Ostrom Ave. is home to The Daily Orange and beginning today, its new staff.

While the new group is young. the staft expects one of the better years of coverage the campus has ever seen, said
Dave Levinthal, editor in chief. Dave Levinthal, editor in chief.

I think they may be young but they have a lot of talent," Special Projects Editor Joy Davia said. don't think that it has to do with how old you

Davia was amg dedicated.
Davia was among several veteran members of the D.O. who spent last semester abroad in London before returning to "I think
"I think it is going to be different, \({ }^{\text {. Photo Editor Adeet }}\) Deshmukh said. A lot of new people with different perspectives. I think weregoing to have the same lot more dynamic."

The senior photojournalThe senior photojouranlism major win briag his phopaper's coverage of off-campus events and world issues, he said. "College is this bubble people live in." Deshmukh baid. "I want to bring in more things that have to do with the world."

The newly-hired staff expressed a general fecling of excitementand an optimistic outlook of the way the semester's paper will be run, Levinthal said.
"It's a good mix of people

Sports Editor Dave Curtis said. "I think that potion will help the paper work well."

Although several of the major aspects of the D.O. will remain unchanged, there are minor things that will be adjusted to give the readers an even better college paper to read, Curtis said.

Many staffers felt the communication and integration between departments will create better coverage and more indepth reporting. After experimenting with cross-coverage last semester, the aports staff has already found improvement, he said.

Transition is also a time When same staff members decided to change departments, Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollalí said.
ent \({ }^{-1}\) wanted something different, Kollalis said. "I have a young staff but they seem like they are good learners. I think it will be fine. Thereareso many veterans- we have a handie on what's going on.

Presentation Director Bill Ehninger said the design staff is trying new approaches in the way graphics will be handled.
"I'm very excited to work with this staff," Ehninger said. They have a good background as well as experience with lots of energy.
"Right now, things are solid and clean. If there is a focus. it will be improving graphics."
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{New Staff at The Daily Oranse} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Editor it Chief \\
Dave Levinthat junior, newspaper and polltical phllosophy
\end{tabular} & Asst. Photo Editor Rachel J. Golden sophomore, photojournalism \\
\hline Managing Editor .-. Ernily Kulkus :sophomore; newspaper and polticat science & Asst. Photo Editor Lisa Caswell sophomore, photography and graphic ats \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Nows Editor \\
Justin' Silverivan sophomore, newspaper and poltical science \end{tabular} & Presentation Director Bill Enninger sentor; advertisting \\ \hline Assit Nowis Editor Tiffany Lanke freshmsn? newspaper and pollcy studles. & Deslen Editor Erin Boyle sophonore, VpA advertsing: \\
\hline Aset Nowe Edtor Kate Stevenson freshiman polltucar sciénce & Dosign Edtór: Elalne Skinner sophomore, VPA advertisling \\
\hline Alet, News Editor, Kintornew Tampon & \begin{tabular}{l} Dolsign Edter \\
Tito Botrita fieshman, Information studes
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Speclal Projects Editor:- Joy Daiva: jundor newspaper and poltical sclerice & Dasign Editor junior, JRF and history \\
\hline Lfestyle Editor Sapna Kolla Iunior, newspaper and political sclence. & oilline Editor \(\therefore \quad\) Justin Penchina freshman \\
\hline Asct LIfestyio Edtor Corey Hann Junfor, premed and phllosóphy 5, & Systome Manager Jerome Woody \\ \hline Asist, Ufestylo Editor Magin Mckerna freshman, newspoper & Art Director Neva Austrew \\ \hline Edtonal Editor
sophomore, magazine- Holy Auer & Copy Editor, Laura Prabuckl sehior, broadcast joirnallsm \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Sports Editor : \\
Dave Curtis Junior, policy studies and magavine.
\end{tabular} & Asitt copy Editor. Ron Fooks senior, pubfe relatons \\ \hline Asst Sports Editor Connor Ennis senior, newspaper & Asist Copy Editor \(\quad\) Annemarie Bello juntor, psychology \\ \hline Asst: Sports Edior sophomore. newspaper Jeff Passan & Asst. Copy Editor \(\left.\begin{array}{l}\text { freshman Mercadante }\end{array}\right]=\).. \\ \hline Photo Editor Adeet Deshmukh senion inotojournalism and sociology &  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange addvertising hours: ifom 9:00 a.m. to 4200p.m. Qto place an adver Whe ad must be atth cadvertising office \(\mathrm{S}^{2}\) hbefore 2 p.m. two. Whsiness days before dontrant it to run sentrates and appic: ablendiscounts duthe botyertising business ghats:

In an increasingly competitive and interdependent world, shouldn't you have international experience?

Mexico-Honduras*Costa Rica-Dominican Republic Nicaragua-Paraguay-Brazil-Bolivia

Invest in your future career by working as a community health volunteer in Latin America. Develop leadership, organizational and crosscultural communication skills while focusing on public health and environmental projects. College credit and scholarships are available. Write or call today for this life enhancing opportunity.

1-800-231-7796 ext. 126
Amigos de las Americas
5618 Star Lane
Houston, TX77057

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com. We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.

The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

8 [sports monday]

\section*{10 February 14, 2000}

\title{
Syracuse, UCLA far from great pasts \\ observers square in the mouth.
}

It ended with a flurry of forced passes and brain freezes that must have made the old man cringe.

Watching on CBS, the Wizard of Westwood watched his UCLA Bruins tack another loss on to another disappointing seapointing season.
The program he built, the program that colleges in the late 1960 s feared 1960s feared more than Communist rhetoric and to crumble, losing four of its last five contests. When Jo
When John Wooden and his cast of characters rolled into town, fans dropped everything and rushed to the arena. He carried a royal aura, a college emperor flanked by young squires who he transtormed from awkward athletes to sound from awkward athjetes to players and sounder men.

He recruited a redheaded center who once took 22 shots in an NCAA Championship game Unfortunately for \(W\)
Unfortunately, for Wooden's opponents, Bill Walton ranked second on the list of centers to play for Wooden, a short jumper behind New York City schoolboy legend Lew Alcindor.

The success stretched to the backcourt as well. Marques Johnson, Walt Hazzard, Sidney vicks and Gail Goodrich all roamed the perimeter for bas-Hetball's greatest teacher.
His squads' dominance rivaled the Yankees', Celtics' and Canadiens'. Wooden led his charges to 10 national titles in a dozen campaigns and won 81 percent of his games over 27 ceasons.

A quarter century ago, UCLAA scared opponents. Today, the Bruins hit two field goals in the final 6:44 and failed to box out on a free throw in the final seconds of a must-win, threepoint game.

A tear forms in the old man's eye.

Brow furrowed and arms akimbo, the aging man cringes akimbo, the aging man cringes locker room.
After 569 triumphs and two Final Fours, he continues to teach basketball. He sits as one of the best in his business, but a mere vassal next to King John of Los Angeles.

He just watched his team squeals past Wooden's old bunch running its recorct to \(20-2\) in

The scene reeked of time gone by, a decade-and-a-half ago when even the nation's premier schools dreaded a trip to the

With Came
With Cameron Indoor Stadium and its on-campus clones still infants, the Dome served as the Temple of Doom in the college basketball religion.

Few foes escaped its cavernous surroundings with a vic tory. Pearl passed, Lawnen scored, Derrick rebounded, Billy ran and slammed.

From 1982 through 1996, the Orangemen won 208 games and dropped 28 under their inflatable roossed a stab Su teams possessed a stable of hungry thoroughbreds. But the unique sports structure cart a lore of its own. lore of its own.

This Sunday afternoon of Syracuse basketball floundered in the shadow of the glory days. A crowd that once prided itself sitent for eons as the Bruins and Orangemen battled.

The players drew no energy from the crowd or each other, as UCLA, who lost to Pepperdine and California this season, shot 51 percent and outhustled Syracuse on the way to beating then on the backboards.

Huddled with Bernie Fine, his 24 -season sidekick, tim Boeheim shakes his he searching for answers.

For fleeting moments
Sunday, the Bruins and Sunday, the Bruins and Orangemen grasped their pasts

UCLA rebounded and pitched, running the court for pitched, running the court for transition layups and controlling transition layups an Syracuse counterpunched, jabbing with Jason Hart, anothjabbing with Jason Hart, ano point guards. The senior co-captain scored 14 points in an entertaining first half

But in the waning But in the waning moments, reality slapped every

Instead of a roster of unseltish bodies, UCLA boasted a group of undisciplined kids who lacked skills and court who lack.

The floor game mirrored a program in turmoil, a team that Raw starting swingended for 44 games for contact with a sports agent an inexcusable NCAA violation.

Syracuse, meanwhile, demonstrated a lack of desire, sulking after mistakes and kin post for this first time this season.

Two teams, two legacies, one game. In a purer time, the final seconds of a four-point game between two titans contained drama Shakespeare never fathomed.

But SU did little to win this one - the Bruins did a better of one - the Brivins did

And the thousands in attendance and the millions watching on CBS' airwaves cringed in unison at the basketbali display. John? Where have you gone, King John? arrier Dome turns its lonely eyes to you.

\section*{Daily Orange keeps Media Cup, wallops WAER}

BY EMILY KULKUS
Managing Editor
Early Sunday morning, more than 40 hungover Syracuse University "sports guys" stumbled to the Carrier Dorne to battie for the cup - the shiny silver Media cup

The Daily Orange met WAER on the Carrier Dome court this weekend to continue the tradition 70 minutes of jabs and jokes, Arter 70 minutes of jabs and jokes, passes and punches, the D.O. sports tos and punches, the D.O. sports departmentl reigned supreme, by department reigned supreme, by defending its title with a \(40-34\) defendi

With the WAER team clad in bright blue shirts, reminiscent of eager pimple-faced band campers, and the D.O. staff resembling the Lad News Bears, the two teams exchanged words and went to excha.
"They're lucky we were hungover and some of us were actual y still drunk, said Connor Ennis, a D.O. assistant sports editor: "If we weren't,"

With his crafty ball handling skills and an eye for defense, the fiery Ennis racked up two points for the team. D.O. Sports Editor Dave Curtis, last measured at 6 -foot-5, spilled in five and according for the D.O. slate.
"Dave Curtis was a force," said Jason Chandler of WAER. "He"s got a lot of bones to throw around. I think he sharpened his elbows for the game."

Chandler claims Curtis inflicted a cut above his right eye that required six stitches. Curtis denies the allegations.

WAER coach - and resident invalid - Corey Provus was also worried about the Curtis threat but said he was reassured after seeing Ennis off the pine.
game"" Provius said us in the game," Provus said of Ennis. "Every time Connor had the ball we realized we could get back in it because he sucks."

Just before receiving a technical foul for exchanging words with a referee, Ennis referred to Provus as "Panama Jack" because of his beach-like attire

The historically matching WAER uniform was of much debate throughout the showdown.
"If they took the money they spent on shirts and spent it on the sports broadcasts, maybe they would have a show that more than their parents listen to," Curtis said.

Ennis noted that he and several other D.O. tean members had bet in favor of their opponents likelyt their winning was an unlikely outcome, he said.

Their whole team was so athletically deficient it bordered on incredible," he said.

Citing poor planning, lack of motivation and little drive, Curtis

\section*{}

\section*{LIVE AND LEARN JAPANESE!}

The Waseda Oregon Transnational Program, Fall 2000 and Spring 2001, is a comparative US-Japanese Societies study program that mixes US-based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US-Japanese Socievies courses in the humanities and social sciences. Scholarships of up to \($ 1000\) are available! For more information, contact:

\section*{Waseda Oregon Programs Office (800) 823-7938 (503) 223-7938 \\ info@opie.org \\ www.opic.org} said the team was weak.
"The next time we see WAER's team is on a Jerry Lewis telethon," Curtis said. "They'd finish fourth in a three-team CYO tournament."
D.O. player and former Sports Editor John Jiloty said his team dominated the court because of their intimidating stature.
"Eric Nathan played well," Jiloty said. "He was solid under the net because he's a big tall kid. They didn't have any big kids. They just had tall, skinny douchebags.

Jiloty defended his lack of height by saying that he and teammate Kevin Leitzell had combined their heights to meet the playing requirement.

The five-foot wonder also defended his D.O. predessessor and 1998 SU graduate Pete Thamel, who "masterfully" coached the
"His wizardry calling and running plays was amazing, Jiloty said.

However, WAER players said Thamel's courtside presence was illegal and pathetic.
"Pete Thamel is there in a tie at 9:30 on a Sunday morning he needs to get a life," said Provus who also called Jiloty a "terrible" who also called Jiloty a "terrible" player:

Provus claims the D.O. team peid the referees and fans and unfairly attracted SU media mogul Ryan Stalzer to the D.O. roster. Stald Prer works for both outlets and told Provus he was going out of town for the weekend before gracing the D.O. team with his presence, Provus said. Nrove are rel though,

Flve-foot marvel John Jikoty is triumphiantly lifted by his Daily Orange team mates. The D.O. embarassed WAER \(40-34\) in Sunday's Media Cup.
said Ennis, who cited a D.O. Andy Jones play for WAER Jones "sports guy" characteristic few can argue.
"Stalzer wants to play with winners and not with losers," Ennis said. "And you can't tell me that a kid like Provus isn't a poster child for what being a loser is all about. Plus D.O. guys get more ass."

The five-foot sparkplug agreed. out my ears," Jiloty said. "Provus hasn't seen ass since his first media cup freshman year."

Stalzer's allegiance was not the only relationship in question, Curtis said. D.O. sports writer Alison Hischak opted to sit on the sidelines to watch her boyfriend Andy Jones play for WAER. Jones bee's"across the back, referring to his and Hischak's first date just two weeks ago.

"Andy took it really well and my allegiance was with the guys from The D.O.," she said.

As the final buzzer wailed in the Dome, the D.O. team hoisted four-time Media Cup player Jiloty in the air for his final taste of cup victory. The emotions, he said, were overwhelming.
"It proves that's what the D.O. is all about-team. Theres no T' in team," Jloty said. "It was one of my goals to hold the cup and leave it with DC.
"But at the end, I really just wanted to go to bed."

\section*{UCLA}
continued from page 8
UCLA's aggressive defense Bruins head coach Steve Lavin employed a \(3-2\) matchup zone that held All-American candi date Etan Thomas to nine field goal attempts and nine points. Save its defense on Hart and Shumpert, who together tal ied more than half of SU's points, UCLA's effort impressed avin. Athletic UCLA (13-9) shot 51 percent from the field, utrebounded Syracuse by nine and limited the Orangemen to 14 trips to the foul line.
"As a coach, you're never too excited about moral victories," Lavin said. "But we met every one of our goals. But they still found a way to beat us, and that shows that they're a very good Th

The nip and tuck duel featured 11 ties and ninelead changes, and SU held the game's biggest cushion at 17-10 just eight minutes into action. After the first minute of the second half, SU's lead grew no larger than a nickel.

The Bruins stayed close courtesy of sloppy Syracuse transition defense. With Dan Gadzuric and Jerome Moiso combining for 22 rebounds and guards Watson, Ryan Bailey Ray Young streaking down the sidelines, UCLA converted several Syracuse misses into quick hoops 94 feet away.

In the halfcourt, UCLA found open looks all afternoon Working in the middle of the zone, Gadzuric shot 7 -for- 9 from the field for 18 points, while Jason Kapono chipped in 13 and Watson scored 11 .
"I think we're hesitant on defense," Shumpert said. "We don't want to get in foul trouble. That's leading to no rebounds and no steals. If you keep doing that, you can't win games."

\section*{MATCHUP}

\section*{continued from page 9}

Thomas," Lavin said, "and we were able to hold him under double figures."

It was just the fourth time this season opponents held Thomas to less than 10 points teams and tough zones he usually faces.

As the Big East season vears on, teams will continue to Orangemen's outside shooters will falter, head coach Jim Boeheim said earlier this season.

Themethod worked in Syracuse's two previous games, both losses to Seton Hall and Louisville.

Thomas lofted eight shots

The Daily Orange
While the Bruins knocked down their shots around the basket, they struggled from downtown and at the foul line UCLA made only two 3-point ers on the day and shot an anemic 9 -for- 21 from the stripe.

The Orangemen matched their visitors brick for brick. \(S U\) attempted 24 triples but knocked down just seven. SU also slumped at the foul line, shooting 57 percent and receiving a combined 2 -for- 7 effort from Ryan Blackwell and Thomas.

But Hart's steady play combined with Shumpert's touch from deep and hobbled Damone Brown's 10 points and nine rebounds in just 21 min utes - pushed Syracuse ahead to stay. Beyond the points, Hart committed just two turnovers. SU posted eight giveaways for the game.
The point man also led a harassing defense that forced 16 turnovers from the bive and gold anen bunch that played it fourth game in eight days.
"Energy is a weird thing." Hart said. "You get a blocked shot or a steal, and the energy is up. It's not something that comes from the coaches. It has to come from within.

While they led just once in the second half, the Bruins rallied late, making \(S U\) fans squirm down the stretch. A Gadzuric dunk brought the Bruins within \(67-65\) with \(2: 11\) re maining, but Blackwell stuck back a Hart miss to restore the lead to four.

We were very fortunate," Orangemen head coach Jim Boeheim said. "At the end we made a couple good plays. Ryan came up big on the drive with the offensive board."

A minute and a half later, with the margin back to two, Bailey fouled Blackwell. The se-

February 14, 2000 nior canned the front end of a one-and-one but missed the second try.
Thomas, stifled all game by Gadzuric and Moiso, snagged the offensive rebound. The SU center got slapped and made 1 of 2 foul shots to give SU a four point lead with 8.1 seconds left.

Any whim of a miraculous Bruin rally evaporated when Hart tore an outlet pass from Watson's grasp and nearly dribbled out the clock.

The victory ended SU's nonconference slate, a schedule the Orangemen completed with 11 wins and a single loss. The Or angemen Finish the season with six league tilts, starting Wednesday against Pittsburgh at the Dome.
"We didn't play that great, but we played well enough to win," Hart said. "We got some chemistry back today, and hopefully we can feed off this game."
against the Pirates and man aged just six against the Cardinals.

In the 69-67 loss to SHU the Orange hit just 2 -of- 13 threes. SU went 5 -for- 19 from downtown in the \(82-69\) shellacking at Louisville.

In the two losses, however, SU faced a conventional 2-3 zone. The matchup UCLA played threw Thomas a nasty curveball.
"I thought they would have tried to play me straight up a little more," he said. "Some teams look to stop certain people. Obviously, this game, they didn't want the inside to start to so. We had to beat them from another way."

The Orangemen found that via crisp passing and movement without the ball.
Dishing out 21 assists while turning the ball over eight times, Syracuse used quick baseline cuts to exploit the open areas of the zone.

SU sophomore Preston Shumpert finished with 18 Shumpert finished with 18 points, scoring seven consecubring SU from a \(44-43\) deficit to a \(50-46\) lead.

He capped the run after taking a skip pass from Jason Hart on the baseline and driving for an easy one-handed dunk.
"My movement without the ball was good, and it showed," Shumpert said. "I helped the team. I've been trying to work on it the last few weeks in practice."

Hart also excelled in freeing himself on the baseline, pouring in 18 points on 8 -for- 12 shooting.

He dropped the Orangemen's last 10 points of the first men's with a pair of 3 -pointers, including a wide-open swish from the left corner with \(2: 52\) remaining in the half.

The UCLA defense allowed the open looks, Lavin said, because the team tried to compensate for its lack of depth in the frontcourt.
"Our matchup zone is to take care of the paint and keep our big guys out of foul trouble," he said. "Keep our big guys in the game. Keep our big guys where they can block shots and rebound.
"When we're in the man sometimes, we tend to get too sometimes, we tend to get too Even though I hate zone defense, I try not to let my pride get in the way of doing something that's going to let our team win."

SU escaped, dodging what could have been its third con secutive loss. And heading the another rough portion of the season - the Orangemen still and Connecticut on the road the victory left Syracuse with an added boost of confidence, Thomas said.
all the won, he said, "so that's all that matters.

\section*{Got thoughts?}

Tell us ... and all of Syracuse University.

> The Daily Orange is in search of some regular editorial columnists for the second semester brilliant intellectuals, rowdy troublemakers and the common man and/or woman are all welcome. Please submit two 300word sample columns to Editorial Editor Holly Auer by Wednesday at the D.O., 744 Ostrom Ave. Questions? Call 443-2128.

Orangewomen capture second straight

BY ALISON HISCHAK Statf Writer
After a downward spiral that brought four losses and scoring droughts for Beth Record and Jaime James, the Syracuse women's basketball team tum Eled toward the cellar of the Big East.

A recent victory over St. John's helped SU start the climb back to the middle of the conference, and Saturday afternoon the Orangewomen gained further Rround.
Record and James led a spirited Syracuse to a 75-62 drubbing of Georgetown in front of a season-high crowd of 1,841 at son-high crowd of Manley Field House.
Seven SU players entered the scoring column, helping the scoring column, helping the team to its second consecutive topped the list with 20 and 19 points, respectively.
Each Orangewoman provided a different spark, and Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman said she has been waiting to see total team play.
"We went through a period of time where our two primary scorers were struggling, and no one stepped up, Freeman said. It's nice to see our primary peopie return, they've brought a few other people along with them."
The idea of teamwork showed most in the second half against Georgetown. Syracuse ( \(10-11\), nine-point cushion and clung to a 42-40 advantage with 14:07 left.
Then came the rush.
Jazmine Wright scored on a layup. James drilled a three layup. James drilled a three from the right corner. Shannon Perry drove through traffic in the lane for another layup. et. Leigh Aziz scored on a shot off the glass, and James made of the free throws as the two free throws, as the 42 lead with \(9: 15\) to play.
Georgetown's Katie SmrckaDuffy refused to give up, guiding a Hoya rally. The Big East's leading scorer drained a 3throws as the Hoyas closed the gap to 62-51.
But on SU's next possession, James' foul line jumper found nylon, and SU rattled off seven unanswered points to put the game out of reach. game out of reach.

The jump shot was just one of several big buckets by the sophomore guard, who said she sophomore guard, whe returned to form.
I can say my confidence is back," James said. "Like I said before, that's due to my teammates, them helping me through the struggle."
enecord also seems to have ting double digits for the third timg double digits for the third key to her game is establishing herself in the post before teeing up from behind the arc, she said.
"The coaches have been telling me to try to get my feel of the inside first, and then 1 can bring it outside," Record said. "Because that's what usually helps me out, and what helps me get mentally involved in the Game."
On the defensive end, Syracuse also had everything working for them. Smrcka-Duffy finished Wifor-18 shooting. Jakia Ervin and the other SUU guards pressured Smrcka-Duffy and allowed her few open looks. Aziz helped the Orangewomen by getting on the glass. The 6-foot-1 junior snagged 10 defensive rebounds to go along with her 11 points. SU blew Georgetown away in the rebounding category, corralling 49 to the Hoyas' 32.
Although to many it might have seemed like a perfect win, reeman said the team still needs to ball. "Wall.
We've got to really work on taking care of the ball," she said. "It's going to force my coaching staff and I to be very picky and really pick on every pass, every time that we don't come meet the ball."
Syracuse only has until Tuesday morning to fix its mistakes, as No. 10 Rutgers invarles Manley Field House for a 7 p.m. rematch. The Scarlet Knights decimated the Orangewomen 77-41 Feb. 6 in New Jersey. The road doesn't

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc} Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors
Best Prices

> Hours Mon. Thur Fri. :30-5:30 Sat 10:30-2:30

Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

Take advantage of our top of the line facilities and these great features: Full Black & White and Color Photo Darkrooms
G3 Computer Lab with Flatbed and Slide Scanners, CD Burner, and Film Burner - Digital Printing Facilities • Classes & Workshops Offer ends February 18, 2000
Community Darkroorns-Watson Theater Complex-316 waverly Ave. 443.2450

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

744 Ostrom Ave.
443-2128
doeditor@mailbox.syr.edu

Syracuse freshman Shannon Perry continued her stellar rookje cam paigh with nine points and four rebounds against Georgotown.
get any easier as SU then trav- from everyone, we're a good els to No. 1 UConn on Friday. els to No. 1 UConn on Friday. The secret ingredient for the Orangewomen will be team play, Freeman said. Each player, she said, has to be able to step up and give something if the team wants to challenge the two Top 10 squads.
"As long as we can continue to get some type of contribution remember earlier when we were on our winning flow, we got contributions from a different person each ballgame. If we can get back to that, then we're back to playing that team type of basketball that we've got to play to be successful."

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane ,Syracuse
DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD!
ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com

\section*{5 Longleyfones}
(1) HEAT included:
& 2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL
2

\section*{When in Hell...}
by Eric Jones

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Out of Town

\section*{No Point}
by Ethan Schmidt

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog & Mariska

\section*{Tartaruga Pate}

by Thane Benson

Eat the Lettuce

\section*{this Valentines Day}

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style

\title{
14 [classifieds]
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 &\) each additional word \(5 &\) extra each bold word
\(5 \varphi\) extra each CAP word
 Doadine: 2pm 2 businass dys priorion un ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE AdS can be malled with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue

\section*{ABMAAMAMALAM}

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

CAMBP CANADENSIS. Pocomo Mountains, PA. looking for in energetic, qualified and caring slaf to teach all genetic athestics. gymnastics, hockey, tennis, mountan pikes, goll, motorcycles, outioor tennis, mountain pikes, goll, motercycles, ouldoor ativnut. arts and cratis. cooking and much mere! Excellent lacidites and greal salary! 6:2 1/00-Ein8/00.
Cail (e00) 832-8228
Foegan's needs Senice Sunday Cisc Jockey Must at Foulgan's

 wwipinelodesteamp.com
Free: wed and Friday? Varsity can use you between \(11: 30 \mathrm{~m}\). and \(2: 30\). Stop in between between 11:30a m . and 2:30. Stop is between 11:00am and \(1: 30\) see Ted. Pan tume tobs deivery drivers, distwashers appiy Cosmo Pizza 143 Marsthati 5 .
It you live in North Jersey, love surshino, warm wealher, kids, woutt dike to met new friends and weather, kids, woult ine to meet new friends and THE JOB FOR YOU COUNSELORS and SPEGIALISTS Large summer day camp, Mon-Fri, General group counseliars, watedtront & Eoating (LGTS). lennis. gymnastics, video Racio and dance. Contact Loren Kirschner, Jellerson Lakes dance. Contact Loren Kirschner, Jellerson Lakes
Campus Rep. 473-1264

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Canp Poyntelte seaks counsselors tor cored
Northeas! PA, overright Jewish Federation camp
3 houts from NYC. Genera! Sports. Drama. H2 3 hours trom NYC-General. Sports. Drama. H2O
8 Arts. \(1-800-973-3689\) Summers or wrw poynuelle. 0 am
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline WANTED \\
\hline Child Care \\
\hline Babysither Needed Daytime Evening and Weekend Hours Tho Girs 5, andz Unwersity A Wage Negatiable 428 -9613 \\
\hline Help Wanted \\
\hline $1500 weekly potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Pequired. Free intormation packel. Call 202-452-7679. \\
\hline Groovy Dute! Get paid while you surt the intornet! ir's that easy with no gimmicks: www.groonydude.corm \\
\hline Work lor an exciting College focused intemet company at your school! Looking lor motivaled individuals with strong leadership. entreprenauria! and business skills. Tech skils not required. Great experience, pay and options! Conlact inlo@uconnections.com \\
\hline mputer Doctor, Marshalt Sq. M \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Roommates}

Poommatit wanted to athars 3 large bodroom apartment close to cmpur parking firaplace spartmant close

Guys in their \(40^{\circ} \mathrm{s}\) seek housemate for great Groad SL Apt fireplace, hartwood, porthos.
storage, quiet, \(5250+13\)-stilises. \(425-9235\).

FOR RENT

University Ave. five bedroom House one block Irom Marshall Streel furnighod laundry parking
Iease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utilities DN.Drucker 445-1229

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshalt St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
319 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for \(2000-2001\)
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Maintenance and Management,
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinisfed Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Eath
1011 EAdams St #30
479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished. Heat incluced, hardwood filoors, porch, recenty cemodeled. laundry, parking. 476-2982 Beautiul 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Walking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms, tots of closet spacs, 1 t/2 Baths. Diningroom, Livingroom, Kitchen, Easemeril with Washer/Dryer hookups, OH Street Parking wih Garage_A Must See!! \(469-8417\) or \(476-9643\)
Ackerman Beautiful Large Furnished Flats' Houses. 2, 3.4,5,6 Bedrooms. Porches.
Fireplaces. Garages, Laurdry. Pet OK \(446-3420\) 4 Bedrooms, OaklandSt. TBlock ESF, 3Blocks Law+ Hospitals, Iumished. parking, taundry, porches, Excellent condition. August, 475 -0690

145 Avondale Place
Available ior 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundy ully Furrished, Laundry
Farking. Fuli Time Maintenance and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Femodeled Kitchens and Batrs

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
2 bedroom Aparmeni inghi on Marshadi SL. FEu December 31, 2000. Great location! Call 637-5779.

Univeraity Ave. Three Bedroom Fiat Close Walk to Campus humished laundiry parking
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes \(/\) \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations IPrices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University and Comstoek Very close to Cameus lumished laundry patking 5375.00 to 5700.00 incluces all Utifitios 445-1229 D.N. Drucker Lto.

 2nd fir, lividin,
bath. porches bath. porches.
OSIROMMADESON: Al apts jurn \(&\) heared NO PETS! Negotiable leases
Cail for appt \(469-0780\)

\section*{1 Bedroom and} Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue Responsible Landlord Call Gordon
\(476-2982\)

University Area 2-3 Becroom turnishad
Apariments Sincta Houses tor rent Call Aparments Singłe Houses tor rent Call Jim 666-7473 Jim 666-7473
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
APARTMENTS
SPACIOUS. FURNGHED, DISHWASHER, PARKNG S175 PER WONTH
\(476-9933\)

Apartments ciose to campus cian 2,35 corrifumlahed rastoriable price 497-5751.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECIONOF 3 LEDROON BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. Eff.APT's Homes & Town Houses There is something for everyonel MOST INCLUDING
- Security Systam with 1" Dead Boll Locks - Smoke. Heat & Sprinkler Systom - Prices Ranging from \(\mathbf{~ S 2 2 5 - 5 3 7 5 / m o n t h ~}\)

Kemodeled Full Custorn Kitchen/Baths
Kitchens include: Gourmet Selif-cleaning ovens.
Garbage Disposals. Microwaves. Dishwashers - wall to wall Carpets & Padding (ike home) - Laundry Facilitites on Premises
- Off-street Parking
- Snow a Lawn Maintenance
- Super Insulated (means low utifitios)
- Some Apts. include Aul Utilitites & Futnistred Such as "Comstock. Ostrom. Harison. Madison. Westcoth, Clarendon, Ackerman. Livingston. Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home
away from homel OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICEI

Five bedroom House
Spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedroorns, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building.
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
Apartments
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline\(* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *\) \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apts. close \\ to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
\(440-6200\) \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
 Laundry Camat. Hardw
Cal Gorton 470-2962
One and Two Bedroom Hurnished Apartments. Comer of Wainut ant 2000. Last Month and Security No Fets Allowed.
Graduates Prelares Caill \(422-7755\)

Large 2 bedroont. 2 full bath. Walking distance
S.U. off sireet parking. Laundry. Cayl 422.7305 .

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709 \\ PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM ARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6 \\ WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM}

Bedroom Fumished Unfutrished. Walking distance S.U. Luundry availablo. OH Street Parking. Call 422-7305

University 283 Bedroom TowniHouses 8 Flats. mexpensive and mint condition. Washerioryar. Fireplape, imished basement, Call 449-0109.

Your off-campus home for 2000-01

Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer carpeted owner managed

CALLTODAY
PETER 427-0052

\section*{SHERBROOKE} APARTMENTS 604 Wainut Ave.

2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Uitities included. Fully furnished. Fents start at \($ 275\). Refinished hartwood floors. Wail to wall carpet. Fals. Townhouses. Pemodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24hour maintenance. whw universityarea.com 479-5005

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, utitities included 476-2982

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking,
Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. 1011 E.Adams
509 University

Carpeted, Air Conditioned. Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance.

University Areas Apts.
www.universityarea.com
Ackerman turrished spacious two BCPI ott stre parking laundry facitites utilities ind. 446-6576
NEW BURY APARTMENTS
Great University Area Beautiful
New Appl. (AC, Dishwasher) Heat &
Hot Water Included. Security
Buictings WIntarcoms & Door Releases. Custom Made Blinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. Oft Stree Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Eus Line. 24 Hour Maintenance. Starting at $550.00. Call 478-0277 Ask for Paricla or Slop by our (Lice at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Brighten) Also...(Great Location) Beautiful 5 BEDROOM HOUSE, \(21 / 2\) baths, 2 kitchens, 2 livingroorns, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 car diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 car garage, huge yard,
\[
\text { off Layafyette road } $ 1200.00
\]

LANCASTER AVENUE
183 Bedroom Apartments
Futsting Furnished Call Anne Cervini 0
\(424-0220 \times 428\)

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
Perfect for one person. All utilities incuuded
\($ 355\) per month 4494621

ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
825 SUMMETAVE
414 KENSINGTON RD
neer Lancastor Mitikal)
Immaculati, Cioan FAETE Lundry

Two Bedroom Apartments
Withutikition included, Firypibet Furniahed, Herdwood Floors and dowe to Cympres. Centindry Pordon 476-2982

\section*{The Daily Orange}
ten, the nation as a whole, Adam Kaminsky said, lives un derneath a blanket, while Is raeli citizens constantly strug cerns and a shifting political dy namic.
"We look at things very differently than people our age over there, he said. "It's more of a coincidence than a similar ity that we're all Jewish."

\section*{On the road}

The Israel 2000 program, although structured and edu cational in nature, puts a unique imprint on each stu dent participant, Sivan Kamin sky said
"It offers something more than just a tour," he said. "It's a journey to something very very personal that's different for every person."

After an aggressive advertising campaign in conjunction With Birthright Israel, SU's Minel chapter receive for thi year's Israpl 2000 froc this more than 180 of whom met

\section*{dance to go along with it}

For all the mood shifts in Nightlife's" lyrics, Chris Lowe's background music has surprisingly little variation. It is this lack of change that is the main pitfall of the alburn. The musical difference between "In Denial" and "New York City Boy" is not indicative of the lyrical difference between the two. Many of the 12 tracks are so homogenous that they can barely be distinguished from one another.

This criticism does not

February 14, 2000
15
the eligibility requirements previously traveled to isracl.

Of the eighty participating boasted the second-l group on the tour, lagging only behind New York City's pre-dominantly-Jowish Queens College.
a $150, a "We were vary Kaminsky said For some privileged. ats, theire student particiIsrael ignited anden voyage to est in ignited a spark of inter est in the Jewish homeland Adam Kaminsky said he ap preciated the an-encompassing, cursory glance at the country but top bis able to take "I s

I saw everything in Israel there was to see, but in the Readers Digest version," he take it slower, and see things more decply" " more deeply.
mean that "Nightlife" is a bad album. It provides what you'd expect from a Pet Shop Boys album, and also contains lyric head-and-shoulders above those of most dance recordings. But it is disappointing that these unique lyrics couldn't be accentuated by more inventive innovative beats.

But The Pet Shop Boys are not about innovation. In other words, "Nightlife" would have been all the rage in the mid-eighties. My Grade: \(B\)

5

\section*{[classifieds]}

Own Cood" and "Closer to take th, one could easily mis dance pop music.

Most people will not listen to the lyries on "Nightlife, which is a shame because the words are often the strongest parts of the songs. The album is more cohesive, and considerably more fun, when it doesn't take itself so seriously. The amusingly titled "You Only Tell Me You Love Me When You're Drunk" features a slow, dense arrangement of synthetic sweeps hadiophonie, with it's propul ine, new-age beat, seems descos across the country.
Nightlife," is also its silliest.
New York City Boy" has an infectious beat with fully-synthesized choral background and lyrics. The song is all about having fun and it succeeds admirably. The song has the potential to be a "YMCA" for the new century - if they come up with a ridiculous

\section*{ISREAL}
continued from page 16 cosmopolitan Tel Aviv to a rur al northern-israeli kibbutz yes a little bit more said. "I'm more faithful and 'm more respectful of other peo

Tallcing it out
Throughout the trip, which criss-crossed Israel from Tel separated into small discussion groups to tackle tough topics raeli Jews and American Jews and the differences between Jews and Gentiles.
proved to be an eye-opener for the majority, Sivan Kaminsky director of SU's Hillel chapter said the students experienced nowe questions in front of such a historic and meaningful back-sexuality. The song is a musi cal conversation between the who knows he's way" - and playine daughter. Tennant his position.

\section*{REVIEW}
yrics of usually don't mixe with the background music. If one does n't pay attention to the lyrics in songs such as "For Your

\section*{TOAD HALL \\ \(1 / 2\) block from campus. \\ Modern 2 bedroom apartments. \\ \begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Spacious six bedroom. Furmished House. Weishwasher and six targe bedrooms and TWO tull Dathrocms. Otf street partang with garage. Washer and dryer in buicing.
CALL \(430-5188\) after 1:00par
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities

Competituve rents.
302 Marshall St
(duccss from Haven)
479-5005

\section*{Houses}

\section*{nemung Fof Finl \(2 c 00\) Large 5 bedrocm house
Acams SL. Newty ramodeted Eatromoms and} Huat incuctet Off Streat Parking, launtry mand Sar. Great Lxcatronl Cail 637.5779

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
(5) Bedroom House 721 ostrom Ave corking it carting oss335/ perison (t)446-3693

House For Fant 2minutes from Main Campus
Seven Bds oft street parking Phone 458 - 0443
Charming English Tudor House on Cornstock Bedroors. Fireplace, acruss from Wormens Eldig.
Avavi \(5 / 20475-1012 .(643) 514-3881\) arye Single Farnty Humished house. Parking. liraplace. free launcry, fishwasher, matur" senants

SERVICES Travel

SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN*JAMAICA*NASSAL pace is limited
CALL TODAY!!
800-293-1443
www.StudentCity.com
ACT NOW: Last chance to reserve four 5001 tor

\section*{Spring Break 2000 Jamiees. Cancun. Foridi \\ }

Soring Break Specials! Mahamas Party Cruse! 5 Nightilifa! Departs From Ftorictal Panama City Aocm whr Gitchen Next 70 Clubs. 7 Parties 8 Free Drinks \($ 129!\) Daytona Fcom With Kitchen
\($ 149!\) South Beach (Ears Open Untii Sam!) \($ 159\) ! $149! South Beach (Ears Open Untii Sam!) \($ 159\)
COcCa Eeact (Near Cisney) \($ 179!\). springbreaktravel.com 1.800-678-63a SPRING EREAK. GRAD WEEK S75 5 yp Per f
\(1.200-645-3618\)
EARLY BIRD DISCCUNT EUROPS S283
\((8 \pi+1\) axRs) TRAVEL ANYTIME IN \(2000!\)

\section*{MISC.}

NOTE FFOM THE DAILY ORANGE:
As alwars. please usa caution when reprying or tact ceiween yourseti and acouerisiser.

\section*{The Daik Orange}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadine forciassifled advertisements is 2 p.m.two buisiness days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443 9793 fegnoil in orndion

\section*{troce}

\section*{Knot yet}

Acting on a U.S Supreme Court mandate, a legislative com mittee Wednesday unvelled a 22-page proposal that skirts the term "marriage" in favor of a far-reaching domestic partnership system for gay and les bian couples. The care fully-crafted document only added fuel to the firestorm that has vaulted Vermont into the center of a pas. sionate debase on the subject of same-sex marriage.

\section*{Last song}

Screamin' Jay Hawkins, a legendary rhythm and blues singer who was once known to pop out of a cotfin onstage. died Saturday in a hospital near Paris from an aneurysm. He was 70. Hawkins died after emergency surgery to treat an aneurysm. tocal media reported. Born Jalacy J. Hawkins in Cleveland, he wilt forever be remembered for his song I Put a Spell on You.

\section*{Gray sky}

Saturday's rainstorm didn't pagk the wallop predicted, but Southern California. skiers and winter resorts,suffering through one of the warmest and driest seasons in years. rejoiced over the first significant snowfall to blanket local moun tains. Several inches of fresh powder were reported in forest towns, from Wrightwood to Big Bear, and more is expected in the days ahead as a series of Pacific storms rolls over the region.

\section*{Finish line}

Robert Yates* 25-lap Bud Shootout ended Sunday in a wild finish before about 100.000 stock car enthusiasts. One of his Yates Racing Fords, No. 88 driven by Dale Jarrett, was the winner, Jarrett's third triumph in two days during Speed Weeks at the Daytona international Speedway. Yates* other car. No. 28 driven by Ricky Rudd. ended up upside down after sfiding about 1.000 feet on its roof between the fourth turn and the finish line on the final lap.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"He who loves the more is the inferior and must suffer. Thomas Mann

Sapna Kollali, editor 443 -2128 life@daily orange.com

\section*{American jewish youths journey} to Isreal for the first time. during the recent semester break on an rael 2000 tour.

Israel 2000, an enterprise designed

\section*{BY holly auer}

Editorial Editor
High above the Israeli desert, standing in the same spot once manned by Syrian Heights, Sofya Peysakhovich felt a sudden pang of sadness.

In only a few shorts moments, the Syracuse University sophomore political science major saw her religious heritage ough new eyes.
I realized that in just a couple months, Peysakhow won't belong to Israel anymore, dren won't get to go there like this - I'm one of the last people to be there like it is now."

In 1967 , Israel captured the Golan Heights from Syria in the Six Day War. The plateau is considered invaluable because it allows military forces to monitor Israel, Lebanon and the Syrian capital, Damascus. govermment mediators are helping Syria bargain peace with Israel in exchange for the Golan Heights. More than 20,000 Israeli citizens live in the Golan Heights today.

The peace talks have been stalled repeatedly because of the historically-strained countries claim the land has religious signifjcance to their citizens.

As a result of Birthright Israel philan- and funded by Jewish philanthropies and the Israeli government, is directed at Jews between the ages of 16 and 26 and offers firsttime visitors to Israel the opportunity to visit the Jewish homeland free of charge.

Peysakhovich's experiences in the historically war-torn Golan Heights only scratched the surface of the lessons she learned on her 10-day trip, she said.

Born in the former Soviet Union, Peysakhovich didn't experience a traditional Jewish upbringing. It was not antil she came to the United States that she began attending Hebrew school and became a Bat-Mitzvah Her parents, she said, are not particularly religious, and she, too, admits to being lax in her symagogue attendance while at college. But after her trip to Israel, Where she forged strong bonds with other SU Jews, Peysakhovich has gained a new perspective on her religious life. From her visit to the

See 1SREAL page 15

\section*{Pet Shop album has mixed reviews}

In many ways, the 1980 s could be called the era of dispos able music. Whereas many groups from the sixties and sevChris quite popular, Piazza and still con off the vant by audirecord ics alike, artists and groups of the eighties virtually frode into obscurity.

There are a few holdovers Madore are a few holdoverna, U2 and Phil Collins - that are still popular, but in general, the hair-bands but in general, the hair-bands and bubble gum pop music of the eighties are considered an ironic novelty, at most.

The sad fact is that popular musical taste left most bands behind, and those who survived behind, and those who survived environment. Some groups from environment. Some groups from the eighties, however, have managed to maintain a cult fol lowing without modifying their sound. One such group is the Pet Shop Boys, whose latest album "Nightlife" is an amusing, if thightly derivative, throwback o the era of disposable music.

The Pet Shop Boys, made ip of vocalist Neil Tennant and nusician Chris Lowe, had a

1986 with "West End Girls" and several other radio hits in Europe near the end of the

As the more serious nineties approached, however, the duo faded into relative obscurity. Despite this decline, the band has continued to pump out disco-ready albums for their loyal tan base.

The most interesting part of the band's new album is how MHappiness is an Option \({ }^{\mathrm{n}}\). Happiness is an Option," which superficially sounds disturbingly like a Spice Girls song, actually lyrics. "We're born under a blue sky/but die in a dark forest/t is not easy/happiness is an option," Tennant sings.

Much of the album is similarly dark. The issue dealt with most is the pain of hiding one's true nature, specifically sexual rientation. "Boy Strange" com bines synthetic background music with acoustic guitars and lyrics auch as "See Boy Strange as an example of youtib/so close o the truth/but still far away." "In Denial," a duet with Kylie Minogue, who is best known for remaking "he father in denial of his hosses father in denial of his homoSee REVIEW page 15

\section*{© Computers & Technology}

\title{
Hackers tap into SU
}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

Computer hackers are responsible for a crash in Syracuse University networks Sunday night and Monday morning, said Dave Butler, director of Operations

Butler said hackers attempted to hijack university networks and use them to transfer attacks to outside Web sites.

A report by the System Services Services, however indicated that the system failure Monday was due to an Internet connection failure, not a hacking attempt. and 14 , and 14, the CMS report said.

Systems Services reported at 7:30 a.m. Monday that there was a problem with the syrgate router, resulting in a disruption to access of non-university Internet sites. The syrgate router is the to outside Web sites.

By 8:30a.m. Monday, Systems.Services identified and resolved the problem and restored Internet access, the CMS report said.

Butler, however, said he believes that the system crash was an attempt at a "denial of service" attack. In a denial of service attack, hackers try to blood an Internet site with a large numusers cannot aecess its information, he said.

See HACKERS page 6

FBI traces national hacking to campuses BY JOY DAVIA

\section*{Special Projects Editor}

Hackers responsible for paralyzing Yahoo.com and other heavily used Web sites last week reportedly did so through university computer systems.

There is no evidence that the hackers had any relation to the California universities who reported the break-ins, but campus officials across the country are finding they are increasingly vulnerable to such attacks.

Universities are susceptible to such attacks because students, professors and re- See COLLEGES page 7

\section*{- Student Government}

 bail for underghaduates amestod in the Onondaga Coumty of Now York The Assembly discuissed the bail before malling' a brief revision.

\section*{SGA revisits student bail bond program \\ BY STEPHANIE SHLVER \\ SGA maintains a fund of \($ 2,500\) to be}

Staff Writer The Student Government Association revived a bill Monday that allows the orgarevived a bil Monday that allows nization to post bail for students.

Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor motioned to revise and update the Bail Bonds Program Procedume Bill that began posting undergraduate students' bail in the posting undergractuate students bail in the mad-1970s. The update further clarines

The bill is part of the SGA Operations Code and can be applied to cover any Student Activity Fee paying undergraduate student that is arrested within Onondaga County, said Taylor, a fifth-year architectare student. Police typically notify SU Public Safety when a student is detained, Taylor said. Publie Safety then has to call an SGA representative who will then make the decision whether ar not to post bail.
used to post bail when the occasion arises, Taylor said.

The bill states that bail exceeding the amount of \($ 1,000\) will not be posted unless consent from the president or comptroller is granted. The amount must be repaid in three business days, Taylar said

In recent years, the fund has mainly been used for intoxication violations, he bsid.
"We generally dan't ask questions if it's under $1000," Taylor said.

Students that make minor mistakes should not be deprived of an education, he added.

After the May 1999 Livingston riots, the bill enabled SGA to post bail for several students facing the lesser charges, Taylor said.

During the niots, hundreds of SU students grew violent after police arrived to break up a block party on Livingston Av-

While it is encouraging to know that SGA can support students in trouble, there should be written policies to specify how dift cases are to be tre Radley, co-chairman of the SU Student Enironmental Action Coalition.
-I clan't think it's very fair that the decision to post bail can rely on the decision of one SGA representative," said Radley, who graduated in December from The College of Arts and Sciences. "Every undergraduate here should have Radley said students could be denied bail if their views conflict with those of a particular SGA representative.

There are a lot of guidelines that the SGA needs to implement," Radley said. "And bessides, it's not a program unless cturdents koow about it."

\section*{BY IOE PIRANEO \\ \section*{Contributing Writer}}

Assembly members favor an increase of Centro bus service operations around the Syracuse University campus, said Student Government Association Vice President Arish Gajar Monday night.

SGA is trying to have the bus sched ule work in sync with the university schedule, said Gajjar, a sophomore economics major.
"Generally, we are trying to increase bus service and have ho sysum extend later in the migh " busses are ing prime time hours.

Gajar said the Assembly is working to improve the timeliness of the present bus system.
Students need to get to class on time and when the busses are late, students are late to class," Gajiar said.

SGA is considering instituting a shuttle program that runs 24-hours each day in response to a recent Office of Judicial Affairs report that stated alcohol-related driving incidents involving university students are on the increase, said Jamal James, SGA president.

However, SU officials are still in need of stronger evidence to start the new ser-

\section*{Semmel details life as an artist, showcases work}

BY NICOLE ELLIOTT
Contributing Writer
Joan Semmel discussed her lifelong transitions as an artist and presented a slide show of her work Monday night in the Hall of Languages.

Things you do now are important and change the way the next generation sees the world," said Semmel to an audience of 30 students.

She spoke as part of the 9 th annual Matrilineage Symposium: Women, Art and Change. The symposium features different women artists throughout the month.

Semmel, an artist and former art history professor at Rutgers University, began as an abstract expressionist in the 1960 s . She painted in Spain during a period of religious and repressive cul ture before returning t States in 1970 , she said.

It was at this time that Semmel said she realized a change in her work said she realized a change in her work. She became involved in the struggle of of women's work in galleries and museumes.

See SEMMEL page 8

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

Study links brain's
gray matter to violence People with a smaller inan average amount of gray matter in a key section of their brains may be predisposed to violent antisocial behavior, according social behavior, according to a provocative and.
troversial new study.

Scientists used brain Scans to compare the vot ume of the prefrontal area Ume of the prefrontal behind the eyes and lower forehead - in a group of normal subjects and in a group whose members had commitied crimes such as assault, rape, anmed robbery

The researchers found the latter group had, on average, 11 percent less gray matter than the other subjects.

The results, reported in the latest issue of the Archives of General Psychiatry, could eventually lead to screening techniques to identify young people most prone to violence.

\section*{Colleges look to} change cheating ways
DAVIS. Calif. Grappling for ways to halt the spread of plagiarism lege, professors often lege. professors often Eet stuck on the idea that it's too late to change stutoo late to change sth dents' behavior by the time they reach college. But a growing nurnber of campuses - backed by of campuses - backed by new research - are out to new research Students can change their ways if colleges ly demand honesty. engage students in ethical issues and put them in issues and purt them in new large-scale study suf new large-scale study sufs gests they may be right. gests they may be right.

Athough a startling 68 percent or college stude anonymous survey that they engaged in some form of serious cheating, selfof senous cheating, selfpercentage points lower on campuses that simply make a big fuss about ace demic integrity. The rates dipped even lower at colleges with formal honor codes.

Comic will continue as merchandising classic Schutz is creator Charles M . Schuiz is gone. but Snoopy. Charie Brown the rest of the gang will cards, mugs, books and more.
The beloved comic ine beloved comic Strip, the last of which ran Sunday, is only a small Sunday, is only a small Peanuts empire. It is run by New York City-based United Media, the world's largest indepencient licensing organization.

Merchandising experts said Peanuts' appeal will death Saturday.

\title{
2 Columbine students killed
}

LITTLETON, Colo. - Two Columbine High sweethearts were found dead early Monday after a shooting at a sandwich shop within sight of their school, compounding the heartbreak in whe connul nity that in US tistory school shooting in U.S. history.

The bodies of Nieholas Kun selman, 15 , and Stephanie Hart, 16, were discovered inside the Subway shop where Kunselman close a motive but ruled out murclose a moticide.

Jefferson County sheriffs spokesman Steve Davis said the cause of death had not been determined, and he said he did not know whether a weapon had been found. Investigators were reviewins a videotape from a surveillance camera inside the restaurant.
"I hope it was just a robbery," said one of Kunselman's co-workers, J.J. Hodack, 22. "Tve had more than enough of this. This stuff needs to stop."

The shooting was the latest in a string of tragedies that have hit the Denver suburb since toenage gunmen Eric Harris and a teacher at Columbine on April 20

\section*{and then committed suicide.}

Classes remained in session Monday, but at least 100 students stayed away. Students said some of those who did attend could be seen crying in the hallways. At least 25 counselors were kept busy most of the day, said Betty tor for the school district.
"It reminds me of cverything. It's just like flashbacks," said Nathan Vanderau, an 18-year-old senior who knew some of the victims of last year's shooting as well as Monda

\section*{national news}

\section*{Tornadoes flatten southern Georgia}

CAMILLLA, Ga. - Tornadoes slashed through southwest Georgia early Monday, killing at least 22 people and injuring more than 100 . 100.

The Mitchell County town of Camilla appeared to be hardest hit, with a tornado cutting a fivemile path through a housing development south of town.

Fourteen people died in Mitchell County, said Liz McQueen, a Red Cross representative working at a temporary morgue in Camilla. Seven were confirmed dead in Grady County and one in Colquitt County.
ntified by middays had been identified by midday.

Search and rescue teams went into the area to look for more dead and injured.

Grady County Administrator Rusty Moye said the twisters leveled houses in his county, damaged farm buidings an trees across highways

Mitchell County Hospital said it treated as many as 100 people, but had to send many of them to other cities because of a power outchildren, were listed in critical conchitdren, were listed in critical conHospital in Florida.

\section*{School resumes in Mexico City}

MEXICO CITY - Like a city reawakening from a nine-month Slumber, the largest unversity in life Monday as thousands of students resurned classes one week after a police raid ended a bitter student strike.

But even as the vast majority of the 230,000 registered students and 24,000 faculty at the National Autonomous University of Mexico took up heavy course loads to try to make up lost semesters, several hundred protesters marched to the campus to demand the release the campus to demand th of 284 arrested strikers.

Those lingering tensions un-

\section*{Officers testify} in Diallo shooting

NEW YORK CITY - Testifying through tears, the police officer who fired the first of 41 shots at an who fired the first of 41 shots at an unarmed West African immigrant told a jury Monday he pulled the trigger because he believed his target was wearing a bulletproof vest and was shooting at his partner.

After 19 bullets struck Amadou Diallo, officer Sean Carroll said he knelt alongside the victim, who was breathing his last breath in the vestibule of a building in the Bronx.

Carroll, who is on trial for murder along with three other white officers, related he looked down at what he thought was a gun.

In the most crucial day of the closely watched case, Carroll and his partner Edward McMellon took the witness stand to testify in their uwn behalf, with credibility the crucial issue.

Prosecutors charge the four members of the elite street crime unit - Carroll, 36, MeMellon, 27, Kenneth Boss, 28, and Richard Murphy, 27 - acted recklessly and with depraved inditference when they killed Diallo, a 22-yearold street vendor, in a burst of gunfire.

\section*{world news}
derscore the challenges ahead for university staff and students, who are seeking to heal lacerations left by a conflict that erupted in April over plans to raise fees from a few cents to \($ 145\) per term. The strike at the university, known as UNAM, ended with an unarmed police takeover on Feb. 6 after negotiations broke down and clashes erupted between rival student fac-
Falun Gong

\section*{launches strike}

BEIJING - A group of 140 members of the banned Falun Gong spiritual movement has launched a hunger strike in a northern Chinese city, a human rights group said today, in anoth-

\section*{Bradley accuses Gore of neglect \\ SAN FRANCISCO - Bill} Bradley accused Vice President Al Gore Monday of neglecting the on the issue, then complained that Gore had made "shameless" statements and used scare tactics in criticizing Bradley's health plan.

Delivering a major address on what is considered Gore's sigthat "to be a custodian of our natural world means more than padding a kayak for the TV cameras.'

The attack was the latest salvo in Bradley's increasingly heated effort to portray Gore, his rival nomination, as out of step with party regulars. But while Bradley was pounding away, Gore virtually ignored him in a day of campaigning in New York, one of 15 states that will hold Democratic primaries March 7.

Gore barely mentioned the environment in appearances Monday, but his campaign issued a three-page position paper summarizing his record and a statement noting that dozens of environmentalists have endorsed his candidacy.
er indication China's seven-month crackdown on the widely popular precedented resistance from its fol lowers.

\section*{campus} calendar

\section*{TODAY}
\(\square\) The SU women's basketball team hosts Rutgers at 7 p.m. in Manley Field House.
\(\square\) The Office of Greek Life hosts Judge Mitch Crane at \(1: 30\) p.m. in the Schine Student Center, Rooms 304A and 304B. His presentation, "A Tort is not a Cake" will focus on negligence issues on campus. He speaks again at \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Goldstein Auditorium, addressing student risk management.

\section*{TODAYWEDNESDAY}

The College Democrats meet at \(4: 30\) p.m. in the College dent Center.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}

The Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents "Bue na Vista Social Club" as part of the Fehruary Film Series. Show ings are at 210 Gem. Genee St., Utica.
\(\square\) Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leeane" at 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call EUU Cinemas presents "Somewhere in Time," at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets at in \($ 3\).

\(\square\) The Career Development Center presents "How To Find an Internship" from 5 to in Newhouse 1 , foom 20.

D Dr. Vincent G. Harding speaks at 7:30 p.mn. in Maxwel Auditorium. He visits as part of the African American Studies Martin Luther King Jr. Speaker

\section*{THURSDAY}
- The Caribbean Student Association presents the Haitian film "Krik? Krak! Takes of Nightmare from 7 to 10
the Gifford Auditorium.
- Schine Student Center hosts "Careers in Cyberspac
from 5 to 8 p.m. in Room 304.

\section*{FRIDAY- \\ SATURDAY}
- UUCinemas presents "Deuce Bigalow: Male Gigolo" at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Adnaission is \($ 3\) "The Incredible Mr. Limpet" follows at midnight with free admission.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the netos department at 443-2127. Sumis. sions are also accepted via e mailat news@dailyorange.cam
[d.̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during by The Daily Orante Comemic ycar by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. five copies complementary and each Hve copies complementary and each dirional copy costs \($ 1\).
Bugement 443.9798 \(\begin{aligned} \text { Businoss } & 433-2314 \\ \text { News } & 443-2127\end{aligned}\) \(\begin{array}{rr}\text { News } & 443-2127 \\ \text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128\end{array}\) \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Lifestyle } \\ \text { Sports } & 443-2208\end{array}\) Photography 443-9795
E-mail editorialiod

\section*{ESF awaits presidency announcement}

BY BOHN ARWEILER
Staff Writer
The State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry will select a new president by the end of this month, said Jeri Lynn Smith, SUNY ESF director of news and publications.

A presidential search committee recommended four finalists Wednesday to the SUNY ESF Board of Trustees. The board met Friday to make a final recommendation to SUNY Chancellor Robert King and the SUNY board of trustees, Smith said. Wing and the SUNY board will announce the new president by Feb. 29, Smith added.

The finalists are Williarn Cale Jr., executive vice president for academic affairs at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas; Stephen Jones, firector of the Alabama Cooperative Extension System; Cornelius Murphy Jr., chairman of the board of Syracuse engineering consulting fy Nisisen a professor in the ty Nielsen, a professor in the Penngylvania State University

The nominees could not be reached for comment

Current SUNY ESF President Ross Whaley is stepping down from his position as president after serving 15 years in of fice. He is leaving to establish the Syracuse area's first charter school, but said he will stay in the SUNY system as a professor. "I want to teach," Whaley said. "I'm looking for something to do academically rather than administratively. I also think it's time for the institution to handle the excitement and vital ity that a new president will bring and for it to move forward.

Whaley said in the fall of 1998 that he planned to resign

SUNY ESF Presidential Candidates

William Cale Jr.
Stephen Jones
Cornelius Murphy Jr. Larry Nielsen
executive vice president for academic affairs, Lamar University ditector of the Atabama Cooperative Extension System chairman of the board for Syracuse's \(\mathrm{O}^{\circ}\) Brien and Gere director and professor in the school of torest resources. Pennsylvania State University

Complled by Staff Writer John Arweller

by July 1999, however, the committee did not find a replacement by that time
*Ross did a fine job as pres. ident," said Robert Frey, dean of instruction and graduate studies. "Ross was here for 15 years. The average life expectancy of a president is five years. I think that demonstrated his commitment and ability. He was very well-liked.

SUNY ESF is proceeding with the presidential search process as mandated by the SUNY Bar Association, an organization that creates selection policies, Smith said. Finalists were choaen from a group of about 40 applicants with the help of the Boston-based independent executive search firm ssageson Miller.

The finalists recently spent wo days on campus, meeting With SUNY ESF groups and faculty and giving formal presentations to the college, Smith said.

Nick Chfoning, an ESF junior landscape architecture major, said he hopes the new president will not disrupt the at mosphere of the school.

ESF is a real laid-back place and everyone is very supportive," Channing said. "Sometimes when a new president comes in they change everything. I hope any chariges made are done calmly and gradually."

Frey said he hopes the new president will keep SUNY ESF stable and very successful at what it does."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{- Election 2000}

\section*{National Gay Lobby endorses Sen. McCain}

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPONE}

Asss. Nows Editor
The National Gay Lobby endoracd Arizona Sen. John McCain for the United States presidency, alling his Republican rival Texas Gov. George W. Bush "the worst possible candidate.

Bush and MeCain both represent a thenat to any progress that the Gity and lestrian community might make during he next president's term, said Math executive aircenor or we Lobby. But it is Bush who ous threat he said

The Lobby decided Jan. 19 to endorse candidates for the Republican primary as well as the Demorratic contest.

It endorsed McCain to draw otes a Rush Romatrolloscid by leaders asked recisterad Democrats to change their pary registration just so they could vote in their Republican state primary to vote against Bush.

MeCain
John MeCain getting elected, that's not a great thing. But I'l take four John McCains before one George W. Bush," Romanello said. "You may not agree with it but al least he stands for some thing

McCain and Bush campaign officials could not be reached for comment.

Despite the public endorsement of a Republican candidate, members of the gay and lesbian community should not take the announcernent to mean that the Lobby will support McCain during he general election, Romanello said.
Both Bush and McCain are clearly conservative and their views do not reflect the issues that are important to members of the added added.

The political reality at that point in time was that George point in time was that George Bush appeared to be an extremely strong presidentin candidate and the anointed standard bearer of the Repubican party, Romanello said. "Winning the election for us in this case means kecping George W. out of the White House.

Syracuse University student Eric Estes, co-president of Open Doors, the university's graduate student gay advocacy group, agreed but said that McCain's election might not be a total disaster for the gay and lesbian community.
-1 don't think that McCain or Bush is any great friend of the gay community, but MeCain has at least shown some willingness to listen to what more liberal members of the Republican party have to say, Estes said. "Bush has re fused to even meet wilh gay Re publicans. Bush is completely the wors candidate.
ush's views are too conservative for most Americans, not just the gay and lesbian community, he added.
minded in Elearly the least open minded," Estes said. "I think Bush has run to the right where as Mc

The Lobby's public endorse ment of McCain may aid the momentum hegained after his crushing defeat of Bush in the New Hampshire primary and help him to win primaries in iraditionally liberal states, Estes said.

The endorsement will proba bly not affect primary outcomes in conservative states such as South Carolina, but it could sway sup porters rogressive states added.

The most rccent New York tate poll released Feb. 10 from he Quinnipiac College Polling In Bush 44 percent to 37 percent The 77 percent to 28 percent lead Bush held over MoCain in an 9 poll 9 poll.

The fact that the Lobby endorsed any candidate marks defihite progress for the strength of he gay and lesbian community's oice since the last presidential lection, Estes said.
the two Democrats have courted the gay and lesbian community,* he said. Just looking back to 96 there was hardly any mention of the issue."

The Lobby endorsed former Now Jersey Sen. Bill Bradicy on the Democratic side of the state primary contests, but Romathello adinnine the possibinaty of Bradley winning the this point.

Lobby officials are hesitant, however, to guarantee their support to Bradley's opponent Vice President Al Gore in the general election because of his support of the 'don't ask don't tell policy, he said.

The policy, currently practiced by the U.S. military, allows gays to serve as long as they keep their sexual orientation to themselves.
*The only people ranting and raving and screaming and jumping off the walls about this are Gore supporters, \({ }^{\text {Romancllo said. }}\) supporzers, Romancllo said. for Al Gore is beyond me."

\title{
It's Bonus Time. \\
}

Forward Looking. Everything you love about Clinique: The latest makeup. The greatest skin care. Packed up in travel sizes. Clarfying Lotion 2. Dramatically Different Moisturizing Lotion, Cocoa Pear Smudgesicle. Barely Nude/Cheeky Peach Sheer Powder Blusher Duo with Brush, Plum Brandy Different Lipstick, Clinique Happy Body Smoother, Cosmetics Bag.
Forward Looking. Yours with any Clinique purchase of \($ 16.50\) or more.
One Bonus to a customer, please. Wrie supplies tast.
Study hard. Have fun. Look good.
303 University Place. Syracuse, NY 13244
Tal. 315 443-9900 Fax 315 443-1683
Store Hours: Monday - Wednesday 8:30am to 7:000m
Thursday Friday 8:30am to 11:00pm

\section*{CUINIQUE}

Altergy Tested.
\(100 \%\) Fragrance Free.
(With the exception of Clinique Happy products.)

\title{
[editorial] \\ \\ Cowardly hackers \\ \\ Cowardly hackers stir up trouble stir up trouble \\ A silent thief travels the dark back roads of
}

The Daily Orange
February 15, 2000 the Information Superhighway.

He has a simple plan. He wants attention, and he wants to make a nuisance of himself

When users tried to log onto search engine yahoo.com, bookseller amazon.com and virtual auctioneer ebay.com last week, they received only error messages. The meddling fingers of hackers overloaded Internet servers with piles of useless information, effectively locking bonafide customers out.

A Syracuse University official said Monday that the university's computers may have been illegally used to launch one of these attacks.

Hackers don't need a college transcript full of high-level computer programming classes to cripple Net-based companies for a day or two. But the ability to use modern technology is a privilege, not a right. And it's a right that must be taken seriously.

For would-be surfers, the recent rash of infiltrations may only have amounted to a minor inconvenience. But for companies hit by the hackers, millions of dollars in potential sales may have been squandered.

These low-level Internet prowlers are cackling in satisfaction while watching high-profile online enterprises scramble to pick up the pieces after the cash loss. Encouraged by their initial successes, they'll surely try to strike again.

To safeguard against future attacks, Internet companies should take a proactive role in securing their sites. Waiting for disaster to strike will cost not only revenue, but credibility as well.

SU must also establish better computer security measures to fight hackers. One computer junkie with a vendetta against SU could shut down campus Internet and e-mail access for hours.

Trumped-up security measures are no substitute for responsible, controlled usage of 21st century technology.

Harness the powers of the Internet to explore and learn about the world - not destroy the ties it has helped create.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Justin Silverman Holly Aler Sapna Koltall Joy Curtis Binl Ehninger Adeet Deshmulth Neva Ausstrow
Lamra Prabucic
Kate Stevension
Titfany Lankes
Titfany Larkes Kevin Tampone
Corey Hant Corey Hant Comor Emesis
Ieff Passant Ieff Passant
Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Tom Mason
Rachrael Golden Rachael Golden
Annemarie Eello Ron Fooks

Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Edito
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Presentation Directo
Photography Editor
Art Director
Coby Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Edito
Asst. Copy Edito

\section*{opinions}

\section*{SU student groups plagued by apathy, lack of focus}

\section*{us.}

Syracuse University is an appallingly apathetic camIt's hard for outsiders to believe that our university is indeed the home of the prominent Maxwell School of Public Affairs. Case in point: Hillary Clinton's visit last Wednesday was perhaps the most meaningful campus event this year and an extraordinary experience of which Syracuse students should all be proud. How often do we get the First Lady of the United States to address our student population?

Sadly, the egotistical Student Government. Association unanimous ly rejected funding the event's sponsor, the College Democrats, providing lame excuses like, "the Derns falled to observe funding guidelines.'

\section*{HENRY Y.}

CHUNG Moreover, the attendance at Clinton's speech was quite disappointing. There were a number of empty seats in the middle and on both aisles on the floor level of Goldstein Auditonium The balcony was by no means "jam-packed.

Even Chancellor Kerneth A. Shaw failed to attend the event without letting the community know the reason for his absence. Clearly, it was not the most courteous son for his absence. Cirarly, it was not the most cour

Many undergraduate students use their energy in rushing, pledging and engaging in other greek-related activities, but few of therra attend SGA meetings. There as a good reason for that. Im addition to their generally uninspiring weekly meetings, SGA members have a fabu lous track record of voting "unanimously" on almost all resolutions that are presented before them. For instance, they unanimously voted against the funding of Clinton's speech and for Students Opposing Urtz's Regime's proposal to remove Anastasia Urtz, Director of Judicial Aftairs.

The excessive use of "voting by acciamation" only reveals that SGA's decision-making process is a far cry from independence. Precisely speaking, each SGA mern ber casts his or her vote by following the mass only to avoid criticism by fellow members. That is the antithesis of a democratic government. We vote for our representatives becatuse we want them to speak their minds and vote according to their conscience, rather than "playing it safe" and acting wishy-washy.

The same token applies to NYPIRG, a left-wing lobbying group that supposedly supports progressive politics. As a record, NYPIRG started to receive student funding last year after the SGA's "tmanimous" verdict to grant its funding. How ean a student govemment so casually channel students' money to a fent-wing lobbying group without conductang a careful investigation?

And how many students know that they can demand their \($ 6\) refund by going to the NYPlRG chapter on canpus? Besides occosionally sponsoring roundtable discussions and voter drives, how many times has NYPIRG taken a proactive stand on authentic political issues on campus? At best, NYPIRG's contribution to campus activism is minimal.

On a graduate level, the Law School Senate is perhaps the most supprficial among all other student goverring bodies. Aside from sponsoring sophomoric sociat activities such as "kiss-a-pig" contests and alcoholSenate has taken this year was petitioning to bring buct Sonate has taken this year was pentioning to bring wa our snack bar lady, who was transferred to diferent dining hall. While I do not dispute the significant role of dining hall. While I do not dispute the significant the snack bar lady, the senate can and should get involved in more local and national issues, such as spon soring debates on tort reform and inviting speakers like Alan Dershowitz to campus Nonetheless, I have discovered that one is not allowed to speak, openly in a Senate meeting unfess she allowed to speak openty in a Senate meeting press an appointment" with the Senate president in has mance. That is not how a Senate should be run. The advance. That is not how a senate should be run. The Law school Senates elfective way of stinng urgent ters must be discouraged. As a law student, I nm shamed to have this body represent my interests.

By far, and surprisingly, the sole group that has Students In America. This ethnically-based group has launched a groundbreaking campaign to protest the teplorable 1998 Denny's incident. Last semester, ASLA organized a one-day lobbying crusade in Auburn to alert the media of the controversy. I applaud ASIA's diligent efforts to bring student activism to Syracuse's campus. Other groups should look to ASIA for leadership and guidance.

Inequality exists every day on campus but we have largely neglected its presence. However, we witnessed the tragic stabbing of our football players last fall. We have also observed the usurpation of student rights like the Denny's incident and the well-recognized misconduct of Judicial Affairs.

It's time for student groups to unite together, take a proactive stand and combat injustice. Then and only then will Syracuse be a better place for all of us.

Henry Y Chung is a first-year student in the College of Laum E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{HACKERS}
continued from page 1
Other Systems Services representatives could not be reached for comment

Butler said SU officials identified the systern failure as a hacker attack through a tracking device called a sniffer.
"A sniffer is a device put on a network that tracks information going in and out, Butler said. We find out ine information and rry to find out its destimation and where \(s\) coming from.

Butler said he did not suspect
"Thers's no reason to suspect anyone inside the university," Butler said. "It certainly could be, but we don't know yet."

Because SU's system identified the information as an attack, the hacker program was kept from The falures Sundey There a result of the and Monday jection of the attack Butlor added
"In a strange way it was a good thing." he said, "We don't think the stack bald, think our servers stopped it \({ }^{*}\).

True hackers don't respect these kinds of attacks because it's unsophisticated, Butler said. It's kind of like throwing rocks at someones window \(-m\) it disrupts service but there's no skill involved.

The attack was not intended to cause any permanent damage to Buter said, but was instead an atBuler said, but was instead an atmpt to be a nuisance.

It's a very easy thing to do," he said. "There are tools you can download from the Internet."

\section*{STUDYIN ZIMBABWE!}

Dipa Info Meeting WEDNESDAY!

FEBRUARY 16TH 4:00 PM AT 500 Hall of LaNGUAGE

DIPA - 119 Euclid Avenue - Syracuse, NY 13244-4! 70 •
443-3471•suabroad@syr.edu•http://sumweb.syr.edu/dipa

Computer enthusiast Tom Hume, a junior television, radio and film major, said there is a duf ference between a hacker and the type of person ho made this attack.
\({ }^{\text {II }}\) I suess you could call it a said. "A cracker is one who breaks any security system and destroys tem and destroys and vandalizes er and site, but er and site, but collects conficenHe's purely there for destroying ford westroying havoe"

A hacker, however, is a perexploring the details of programming systems and how to stretch their capabilities Hume said.
"Hacking is almost like the challenge of trying to break into a system," he said. "Anyone can break into a system, but what you do inside the system is the differ ence."
Butler said this kind of "cracker" attack is not uncommon at SU. "I wouldn't say it happens all he time, though," he said. "But managed to find a server connected to a faster part of the network. You normally wouldn't notice if some one tried this."

The Internet connection that was down last week, cutting off Telnet service to at least 20 SU stu dents, may be connected to thi most recent attack, he added. But it cannot yet be proven, Butler said.

The university is attempting to avoid future attacks in order to avoid disruptions to student and faculty research Officials, howey want to avoid any incoaveniences that may accompany re stricted access, Butler said.

We want to go slow so as not to disrupt how students and faculty work," he said. "But we def initely want to bo prepared be. cause if attacks like these contin ue, it makes it hard to work"

Universities e traditionally a favorite target for hackers because of their rel atively open en vironment and high aceess to the Internet, ho added.
"It's really easy and you get aid.
The FBI is involved in the in Thation of similar attack at the University of California in Los An geles and Santa Barbara, Butler said.

The FBI is interested in an attack like this because it affects interstate commerce, and is partic ularly interested in the attack that happened last week," Butler said.

The attacks on SU servers have not attracted the scrutiny of the FBI yet, Butler said. If SU officials discover information that may be useful to the investigation, they may contact the bureau, he said.

From my perspective, I jus
From my perspective, I just think that the attempt of an attack waid "I hope the guthorities find who's doing it and prosecute them
"It may seem like a minor
It may seem like a minor prank, but there were 25,000 peo for work."

\title{
MANAGEMENT STUDENTS
}

\section*{Want to be a peer advisor? Want to be a team facilitator? \\ Why not both?}

Be the first Management Peer Facilitator on your block! Peer advisors and SOM 122 team facilitators are now one and the same!
- Help incoming freshmen adjust to college
- Facilitate groups for SOM 122
- Earn 1 credit
- Have fun
- Get a free t-shirt

Applications available in the Undergraduate Office, Room 210 SOM starting Monday, February 14.
Applications are due Friday, March 3.
Questions? hrwaggon@som.syr.edu

\section*{COLLEGES}
continued from page 1
searchers have easy access to cornputers at schools and can readily swap information.

About 50 Stanford University's Monterey marine research center were used Jan. 8 to send commands to popular Web sites, preventing users from accessing sites including CNN_com and Amazon.com, said Marisa Pavlik, student news editor at the Stanford Daily. Stanford officials noticed the problem and shut the network down after three minutes, Pavlik said.
"It happened so quickly," she said. "No clues were left behind."

Campus computers at the Uni versity of California and Los Ange les were used in the transmission of the attack which made Amazon.com inaccessible for at least an hour.

Don Page, a UCLA spokesman, said the source of the attacks is unknown.
"The computer experts on campus are investigating the incident, such as the number of computers involved," he said.

Page added

It happened so quickly. No clues were left behind.

MARISA PAVIIK
news editor at the Stanford Daily that the university contacted the FBI and is cooperating with officers to trace the hackers. He declined to comment further about the investigation.

Hackers also manipulated a personal computer Feb. 7 in a University of Califor nia at Santa Bar bara research lab and sent a program to overload CNN.com with data requests.

The attack repeated for several hours the next day on Amazon.corn, CNN.com, Buy.com and eBay.com, and continued Wednesday at other Web sites.

Yahoo alone was flooded with requests at one gigabyte per second, which is akin to 104 गtilition people dialing one company's phone lines at once, according to reports.

Recent Web site attacks

\section*{Feb. 7}

Yahoo shut down from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Feb. 8
Amazon.com experienced increased traffic that slowed the site around 5 p.m.

CNN.com shut down from about 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.
eBay shut down at 3:20 p.m.
Buy.com jammed from about 10:50 a.m. until after 2 p.m.

Feb. 9
ZDNet fell off-line from 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

E*Trade experienced sporadic outages in the morning. It was back on-line at \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\).

Compiled by Special Projects Editor Joy Davia
Source: The Washnston post Campany

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1
vice, said Louis Marcoccia, direccor of administration.

Someone would have to prove that the DUI accidents are oecurring where busses run. he said. "We can revisit the issue."

Marcoccia said busses al ready run almost 24 hours each day. Centro does not operate between the hours of \(3 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). and 7 a.m.

University officials, however, are not rejecting any options. Judicial Affairs agreed to further look into the busing situation, James said.

Although drinking and dri ing cannot be prevented, it can be alleviated, said Assemblyman Dwight Williams, a junior finance major.
\({ }^{4}\) The case of DWI can't be stopped with one change, but this might reduce the problem," Williams said.

\section*{In other SGA news:}

The Assembly addressed the current relationship between the university and the Syracuse Community.

There seems to be a fear that the university has of the community and a fear that the community has of the university, Williams said. "SU is in Syracuse and can't alienate itself from the community.

Williams said there should be more university-based community activities.
"SGA should take some sort of an active role as a group, Williams said. They should take a stand on some sort of community based activity."

Whe Assembly discussed the lack of concert events at the Carrier Dome.

University officials said they are not against having concerts at the Dome, but there are a few limiting factors.
"The university would like to have a couple of concerts," Marcoccia said. "However, the Dome is a big venue and it is hard to find an artist willing to play and who can generate an audience big enough."

\section*{Live in New York City This Summer}

NYU Summer Housing May 21-August 12: 2000 Living in an NYU nesiderice hall offers a safe and corvenient horme base while you are working, taking classes, or doing an internship.
- Minutes from New York's busiress and cultural centers.
- Apartment-style and traditional residences; single and double occupancy.
- Outtanding sports-recreation facility:
- Over 1,000 day and evening courses.

Apply early to secure a space.

For More Information wwivnyweedu/ summerhousing
(212) 998-4621

Mon.-Fri., 9 a.m.-5 p.m., ET
*Depenting an enrofinert

\section*{SEMMEL}

\section*{continued from page 1}

While working in New York City at the time of the sexual revolution, Semmel said she began painting nude figures

Her painting, "Green Field," shows a couple having sex in a sitting position. Only the woman's back with the man's legs wrapped around her waist are shown.

Semmel later moved from abstract painting to modeled forms of surrealist qualities. self. Not one of the 30 nude self-paintines ineluded the artist's face but rather the image of a lying figure looking over herself.
-I wanted to emphasize the skin of the canvas, put the viewer inside. The viewer became the figure so that you were forced to experience it as \(l\) experienced it, Semmel said.
semmel searched for more freedom in her work. She experimented with color copies, collage, landscapes, portraits and painting in public spaces, she said. At one time, Semmel focused her painting on gym locker rooms and put an emphasis on mirror images of nude women. She then moved onto ovary, nequins. sequins.

Semmels presentation fused the two atLara Tobin, a senior art history and women studies major.
"She basically explained how our worlds are similar." Tobin said. "I think her paintinge are beautiful.
The Jersey City. Museum will display Semmel's work beginning April 5, where pieces such as "Busted Butt" and "Hands Off" will be part of her mannequin exhibit.
 annual Matrilineage Symposium: Woman, Art and Change, which rums from Feb. 14 to Feb. 26 .

London College of FASHION

COME TO THE INFO MEETING AT DIPA
Wednesday, February 16th AT WPM

\section*{Que zaire a Strasbourg?}

\section*{Come to the DIPA Info Meeting & FIND OUT!}
- Coursework & Internships ~ Politics, Culture & much more
- Generous grants & Scholarships
- Study in English, French and/or German

For further information, contact DIPA at:
443-3471 or gapellam@summon3.syr.edu

Tuesday,
February 15 th in Stine Rm. 302 at 4PM

Strasbourg
- Wile dhistore
- Nil - Willed dart Nil dill e dounerir

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to \(4.00 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).
- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two busness days before you want it to run.
Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising bustness hours ty

\section*{Hoce}

Slight apology The University of Pennsylvania on Monday admitted some mistakes in a gene therapy experiment that killed a teenage volunteer in September. They have promised improvements but have denied liability for the death. In an unsigned response to the Food and Drug Administration, the uni versity conceded certain reporting and record-keeping shortcomings in its research program - most notably the failure to notify the agency after volunteers suffered serious side effects from the treatment. The FDA is awaiting a formal response before deciding on the fate of the program.

Late laughter
Look for David Letterman's return on Feb. 21, hosting three nights a week initially, with guest hosts to R EEERE'S fill out the week. The zany teader of late night \(A G A D N!\) TV is still recovering from quintu-ple-bypass heart surgery performed Jan. 14 and is doing well. according to "Late Show" Executive Producer Rob Burnett. His return comes at a crucial time - curing the February sweeps period - and produc ers are hoping he will give the "Late Show" a unique ratings push.

Play it again
Faster than a speeding Pentium, more powerfu than the most innovaive graphics engine, able to play DVD movies and able to download from the internet, Playstation 2 could become the allpurpose unit that will help render the PC obsolete. The new system will be priced around \($ 300\) and will be compatible with Playstation 1 games, though it won't be available in the United States till this auturnn. Currently, one in four homes nationwide has a Playstation 1. Sony expects to ride this popularity straight to the bank and recorrmends reserving a unit before it makes its debut.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Breviry is che soul of wit.
Shakespeare

Sapna
Sapna
Kollati,
Kollati,
editor
\(\underset{\substack{\text { editor } \\ 443-2128}}{ }\) life©daily orange.com

\section*{BY TOM HOWES}
new breed of tougher, more rugged Americans has decidedly outgrown the commonplace car and forged itself a new set of wheels. From the eagerly accommodating loins of Detroit springs forth the latest trend in avarice and mediocre adventurousness: the sport utility vehicle.

SUVs, or "sport-utes," have recently commanded a large percentage of the nation's registered vehicles, a trend of which many environmentalists and highway safety experts have grown wary. Not known for their conservative gas mileage or stunning ability to adhere to exit ramp surfaces, SUVs face mounting pressure from interest groups wishing to restrict their use or ban them entirely.

SUV owners and manufacturers, however, insist that SUVs are safe and have become Lou Maley, a sales consultant at Backus in Syracuse, said he believes the Ford Explorer is among the safest cars on the road explorer is among the safest cars on the road. xplorer and caused \($ 18,000\) worth of damage," Maley said. "He walked away without a scratch."

Safety is one of the main reasons people do buy SUVs, but according to the Nov. 1997 is sue of Consumer Reports, "the safety record of SUVs has been spotty at best." SUVs have a higher center of gravity, making them less stable than an ordinary passenger car. Smaller SUVs, like the Suzuki Sidekick, are especially prone to rollovers because of their shorter wheelbase. The number of deaths per million registered drivers for the Sidekick was 279, compared with 161 for regular cars.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reported in 1997 that SUVs had the highest rollover involvement in fatal crash es - 36 percent - than any other type of vehicle, compared to 15 percent for regular cars. The NHTSA also reports that the ejection rate of passengers during fatal accidents for SUVs was twice that of regular cars.

Although the number of deaths and rollovers are high for smaller SUVs, the larger SUVs boast some of the lowest death rates of all vehicles. The largest SUV in 1997, the death rate, with only 75 deaths the lowest drivers drivers, according to Consumer Reports. But ment for the Suburban concerne saffors ment for the Suburban, concerns safety experts.
"The larger and heavier vehicle usually
"The larger and heavier vehicle usually

> SUVs are the newest trend in driving hut they have inherent, unknown dangers.

\section*{Schultz puts \\ They say humor that appeals to both} adults and children at the same time is difficult to pull off successfully. To be or sexual innuendo is not an easy task trust me, each week I try my best in this column and I always seem to fail. But cartoonist Charles Schultz, the creator of "Peanuts," had no problems pulling it off over and over again on a regular basis.
Schultz passed away in his sleep as his final comic was hitting the printing press Saturday night. His death, at the age of 77, leaves a void in every child at heart - one of the 18,000 "Peanuts" daily, in the years to come.

By far the world's most-
Peanuts" inspired countless cad comic, as it appeared in over 2,600 papers

\section*{'Peanuts' ahead of time}
worldwide. Began under the mame of "Li'l Folks" in 1948, the comic later became "Peanuts," a title Schultz never really cared for. No one else would ever draw the comic besides Schultz for 49 years, even after being diagnosed with colon cancer, the ultimate cause of the cartoonist's death.

There was something about the adventures of Schultz's kids that could make you cry and grin all at the same time. These were the first cartoon children who seemed real and who had emotions, something that was lacking in cartoons in general. They lived in a world of children, where adults didn't seem to unintelligible teachers.
"Peanuts' was way ahead of its time - just look at Charlie Brown, he was a kid that needed Prozac,", said Robert Thompson, professor of public communications and director of the Center for the Study of Popular Television at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications. "Schultz had Charlie say that he was depressed in the 60 s hat just didn't happen back then.

\section*{Comic impact}

For nearly 50 years, Charlie Brown, his pet beagle, Snoopy, Lucy, Linus, Sally, Schroeder, Peppermint Patty and Woodstock have been a part of our popular culture, images that almost everybody can identify. From the daily comics themselves to books, cartoon specials, toys and Broadway, Schultz made "Peanuts" a multi-million dollar-a-year industry.

In a world that can only understand the good guys winning, Charlie Brown was consistently a loser. He never won at baseball, always got his kite trapped in the tree, could never kick the football and was always upstaged by his dog. It was a reflection of how life really is; a lesson for every kid not to back down

See FREAK page 10

\section*{chtr}
continued from page 9
does better in a collision," according to a 1997 Consumer Reports article. "If you're in one of the heaviest vehicles on the road, the odds are that whatever you hit will be smaller."

Even with twice as many cars as light trucks and SUVs on the road, more people have been killed in crashes between cars and light trucks than in crashes between two cars, Consumer Reports said.

In the year 2000, the Suburban has been one-upped by an even larger SUV: the Ford Excursion. Mounted on the frame of an F-350 - the largest pickup truck manufac tured by Ford - this vehicle lowers above everything on he road, measuring in at 226.7 inches long and 80.4 inches tall, just under six inches taller and seven inches longer than the Suburban.

To combat criticism of safety, Ford has equipped the Excursion with safety features once unique to tractor-trailer rucks. Fords new Blocker beam" is a piece of steel fitted below Excursion's front bumper. In the event of a frontal collision with a car, this helps prevent the car rriding Excursion" acerdin to the Excursion brochure published by Ford. Also, an extralarge trailer hitch has been included as standard equipment derneath the roar bumper of the Excursion.

The Daily Orange

Maley declined to comment on whether these features imply that the vehicles are a threat to other cars on the road, but said the reason the devices are in place is bethe devices Ford is concerned with the safety of its customers and any liability that might result any hability that might result tham a collision. Maley added that the Excursion is safe for wouldn't want to be driving a smaller carin the event of a collision with one of them.
"It would cream the crap ut of you," Maley said.

With Ford being a prevalent manufacturer of both SUVs and regular passenger cars, there is a great likelihood that across the nation Fords are "creaming the crap" out of other Fords.
"My impression of SUVs is that they are owned by rich kids who don't really know how to drive them - they fiy around like they're invincible," said Carole Bradshaw, a junior environmental forest biology and forestry major at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

Think green
Along with safety issues, environmental concerns have soiled the glitz and glamour of SUVA for quite some time. According to the Fuel Economy lished by the US Department lished by the U.S. Department of Energy "every gallon of gasopounds of carbon dioxide into pounds of carbon dioxide into To asphere.
To compare, the city gas mileage for a Ford Taurus is 20 miles per gallon while the mileage for an Explorer is 14 miles pergallon. In the lifetime of these two vehicles, according to the Fuel Exonomy Guide, 10 tons more carbon dioxide than the Taurus. The mileage than the Taurus. The mileage for larger Sordous. Consumer Reports hazardous. Consumer Reports the 1997 automobile lineup was the least fuel efficient lineup in 16 years.

The most fuel-efficient car listed by the U.S. Department of Energy is the Honda Insight, which gets 61 miles to the gallon in the city and 70 on the highway. Janine DeBaise recalls the fuel-shortage crisis of the 1970 s , when gas mileage depletion became a national concern.

Now, she says, fossil fuel is still a non-renewable resource, but no one seems to care.
"It's ridiculous," said De-

Baise, an environmental stud Baiseriting professor at SUNY ESF. "With the technology we have, we can build cars that get 60 miles to the gallon, but peo ple keep buying these SUVs."

Maley offered an explanation for the Excursion's popu larity, despite its extraordinar ily low 12 miles per gallon

If you dish out \($ 40,000\) for one of these trucks, how much are you going to care about an extra tank of gas every month?" he said.

Students in Syracuse of fered another reason for SUVs popularity:
"I like my Range Rover a lot. It might be environmental ly unfriendly, and it's a big gas hog, but it never gets stuck and it can pull you out from anywhere," said Carrie Mar shall, a junior environmental forest and biology major at SUNY ESF.

DeBaise said that al though having to buy extra gas might not deter people from buying SUVs, the environmental impact should serve as a warning.

Another concern of envi ronmentalists is that SUV own ers take their vehicles off-road ing in destructive manners. In almost every television coma mercial, brachures and adver tisements, SUVs are situated and positioned in exotic wilder ness settings rivaling a Robert Frost poem. In the Authoritative Guide to Compact Sport Utility Vehicles, published by Land Rover, an SUV is said to "speak to the spirit in each of us that allows us to dream; it speaks to the importance of freedom and mobility."

The Sierra Club, an environmental activist organization, claims that driving SUVs off-road - an increasingly popular use of the vehicles -- is one of the most harmful forms of outdoor recreation. The Sierra Club claims that increases in illegal hunting, destruction of wildlife and acceleration of soil erosion are results of a rise in the use of SUVs.

In reality, however, most SUV owners do not venture into the woods with their vehicles. It is estimated that only 33 percent of SUV owners frequently drive off-road, and Maley says 99 percent of people who buy SUVs never use 4 wheel low, a necessary gear for difficult off-road driving.

DeBaise said she doesn't believe many people venture off-road, but that the practice has the potential to become a problem.
"I know some places have banned mountain bikes because they erode the soil," she said. "I imagine a Ford Excur" sion would cause a bit more damage."

TUESDAYS
HALFPRICEE
HABATT BLUE BOTMILES WOLSSON CANADIAN BPOTTILES RUDWIEMSER PINTS

BUY TWWO BEERRS AND CET A CHANCETO WIN A IGAYAES, ROSSIGNDL SNIS, BEACM HEIKE, TOBOGGAN ORE SEEDII

\section*{FREAK}
continued from page 9
when the going gets tough. "Schultz was Charlie, and 'Peanuts' was ultimately a 50 year autobiography," says Thompson. 'It's fitting that both of them went to the great comic strip in the sky at the same time.'

As time fades away and the years pass by, you seem to forget the little joys of childhood like "Peanuts." And when you're not watching, they're gone forever. The works of Charles Schultz will hopefully continue to remind us of what we should never forget about our youth - the laughter and joy of being young.

I think Schultz himself summed it up best with his farewell statement this past Sunday: "Charlie Brown, Snoopy, Linus and Lucy...how can I ever forget them?"

Pete Beisser is a sophomiore political science and magazine major. His column appears weekly on Tuesday. Email him at pjbeisse@syredu.

\title{
Do you love lfe? Think you can write about it?
} The Lifestyle Department is looking for someone to write a weekly column. If you have ideas, submit two 300-word sample columns to Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollali.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{TASK}
continued from page 16
cuts to the basket. The defense enabled quick transitions to their offensive sets.
"We're hyping a little more pressure," Freeman said. "We cant give upeasy buckets. We've got to let our defense dictate our offense.

The Orangewomen defense cooled down Hoya forwards Dani Ilic and Nok Duany on Saturday. The Hoya duo combined for only nine points on 3 -for-11 shooting.

Aziz outmatched and outhustled llic and Duany on the glass as well, holding an \(11-7\) rebounding advantage over the Georgetown pair.

Suzy Bendegue was not much help either for Georgetown. The 6 -foot-10 reserve missed several easy chances at the basket. Bendegue scored one point and picked up a lone offensive board.

Record proved another factor in stopping the Georgetown forwards. The SU iunior hwa-led toward loose ball after loose ball and registered a block and fve steals. Record also grabbed six rebounds, including tive of the defensive glass.

While aharpening her deensive skills in recent games, Record has regained her acoring touch. She led the Big East in scoring for much of the season but fell into a slump during SU's recent four-game losing streak.

The junior forward scored 19 points against Georgetown on Saturday after hitting for 20 Wednesday night against the Johrnies.

Record credits her recovery with an increased sense of patience.

I've just got to keep shoot ing," Record said. "Eventually they're going to fall. The coachto have been telling me to try can bring it outsidenst. Then Heading into Manley tonight, the Scarlet Knights should be fired up after falling to top-ranked UConn \(49-45\) at the Rutgers Athletic Center on Saturday. The loss snapped Rutgers' four-game winning streak.

The Scarlet Knights got on the board early against UConn, pulling away to an ll-point lead. But a stingy defense by the Huskies forced 20 RU turnovers and aided the victory. Rutgers struggled in the

\section*{THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE all majors welcome \\ THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE}

Six upstarts leveraging the web's potential

\section*{making a living in} business Media interact econd half scoring only 19 points on 6 -for- 26 shooting Shawnetta Stewart paced RU with 13 pointa and five re bounds in the loss

Stewart leads Rutgers in scoring this season with 15.1 points and 6.5 rebounds per game. She helped Rutgers knock off the Orangewomen 77 41 at the RAC on Feb. 6.

The Scarlet Knights applied heavy pressure to Syracuse's offense in the last game. SUs 41 -point fally is the lowest output by the Orangewomen to just 14 points in the first half. Jaime James led SU with 15 points in the loss. Record regiatered only five points on 1 or-11 shooting.
Rutgers point guard Karli ta Washington burned SU for 19 points in the win washing ton played for the injured Tasha Pointer a first-team All-Big Gast selection last season who at out two games with sprained ankle.

The Orangewomen will need the type of production Record gave against George own should they have any this second go-around, Freeman said.
aid aid of a possible upset. As lang as we go out knowing that we came to play, we'll have a good opportunity.
in live track and field webcastme, Communications out-of the box webredvetising & marketing communications NOVO, strategic business consulting for the online environnent Syracuse online news online, cyber shopping & resource directory for en The Digit Group management/IT consulting focused on architectural design, construction & operations

> THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 5:00 PM 227 SCHINE bixig your resume
THURSDAY
FEBRUARY 17
5:00 PM
227 SCHINE

\section*{FINALLY}
continued from page 16
to the mat in just 28 , seconds.
Next in Thomas' line of destruction was Tom Brinzer, F&Ms offering in the 174 pound welght class. Thomas Thomas then Thomas then capped off his great afternoon with a 6-4 Knight's Justin Haskins night's Justin Haskins.
me most impressive win aid "because it gives him a

\section*{Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center \\ Of New York Chiropractic College}

910 Érie Blva
Syracuse, NY 13210
(on the corner of Crouse \(&\) Erie Elvd)

\section*{Hours}

Mon-Fri.
9 a.m.-8p.m.

\section*{New Location}
- Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

\section*{Student Plan}
- Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

CHECK US OUT: Tel: 442-1100

save on tickets at ave on all inat loggenbuig has to oftel from Feb. 14 th to 20 th with your su ID card PLUS, see the SU Ski Tearn compete on the invitational Ski MeetI Tubing 55 off
Night Skllig Pass (4:30-10:00 pm) only \($ 10\) SU 9 Hour Pass(skl any. 9 hours) \($ 20\)
"Coach has been telling me that that he wants me to wrestle at 157, and I've been developing well in practice," Pascal said. "After I walked off the mat, he said, Hey, look, I told you that you were developing at 157.:
"You have to learn things in practice and use them in matches. you're winning match'es."

Despite losing, Craig Nowakowski emerged as an unlikely hero. Wrestling up to the 149 -pound slot, he Most a-5 decision to Cario Had Had he not wrestled, SU would have had to forfeit the match, giving Coppin State an extra three points and a 22-21 victory.

Ike Wennihan, returning for only his second match since a knee injury, earned his third and fourth wins of the year, including his second and third pin

He holds a 4-5 record heading into SU's last meets before the EIWA weekend the grapweekend, the grapplers face Wagner and Buffalo. Wen
victory of the Rutirst Duals came at the expense of Coppin State's Jason Wood. The junior won the 184 -pound junior won the \(184-\) pound came back against Franklin \(&\) Marshall and pinned Scott Zimmerman in 3:31.
"Ike took a huge step forward this past weekend," Miller said. He's had problems with both of his knees this year, and back. Somehow, he seemed to be getting stronger as the day be getting stronger as the day wore on."

Also contributing to SU's breakthrough win was Jerry Pacillo. He was the recipient of a forfeit in the victory, but he had two other strong showings later in the day.

At 141 pounds, he pinned F&M's Brian Bricker in 2:30. Earlier in the day, the sophomore lost a hard-fought 5-2 decision to Rutgers' Greg Austin, one of the top wrestlers in the conference who has more than 20 wins.

Pacillo had a chance to win until the final buzzer and could be ranked in the conference, Miller said.

Jerry is looking to be more offensive," he said. "He's trying to score points. Even though he's not always doing it, at least he's trying. I'm really pleased with Jerry the last three weeks."

號

You need a roll-on with
\(m\) rxplanm PWertegetrom
\(\qquad\)

protect aganst AlDS and cther stos always use latexcondoins
For a free, full-color poster (18" \(\times 24^{n}\) ), write:
AIDS Paster 2. Box 2000; Albany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Department

\title{
Daily Orange Online:
}

Wiring you into Syracuse University providing Syracuse University with al3 the news, all the time.
In addition, the day's news.
sports and lifestyle coverage, Daily
daily Orange Online offers:
- Hundreds or links to great Websites
*Campus event listings

\footnotetext{
*Special sections and special projects
*Contact. stijscription and adtertising information
}
- Daily Orange archives

\title{
14 [classifieds]
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 &\) each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges ane Penissue \(A\) aia Proppait by:
Cash. Check, Mastar Card Visa or Discove Deadilina: apm 2 business days prior to run ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE Ads can be mailed with check to:
The Daily Orange: 7440 Ostrom Avenue Syracuse, NY 13210 ; Att Classifieds: OA Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443\)-3689

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Frees: wed. and Friday? Varsty can use you between 11:30a.m. and 2:30. Stop in Part time jobs dativery drivers, distiwastors apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshalt S :

Camp Counsalors Top Overnight Camps in focono Mins. Over 40 actrites-seaking specialist counsalors www panelores

Foegan's negds Senior Sunday Disc Jociey. Mus: be oulgang 8 have a diverse CD collection. Apply

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Service Tech. Bicycle -Lawnmower Assambly Experence Required. Call \(1-800\) - 852 -2453 Unversiry Bartending Classes Stazt Soon Student Discounts 1 -800-U.CAN-MIX Call For Intormation!!!

\section*{WANTED} Help Wanted
Grocvy Dude' Get paid whit you surt me internet!
it's that easy with no gimmicks:

\section*{Worx lor an excing College focusad Interna!
company al your school" Locking for moliva! ard} conpina at yout school Locikn tor molivalad and business skills. Tach skills nol taquired. Great , or PCS. Parthime.
Compuler Docior, Mashall Se, Mall.
51500 weekly potential maling our circulars. No 02-452.7679.

Roommates
Aoommate wanted to amara 3 large betdroom npmitment close to campus parking ifroplate apartimunt close

Looking tor 1.2 roommalies to share beautitul 3 -bdim, apartment naar Westcott bussiness district 300-245
\(\mathbf{4 7}-4965\) ulils. has laundry. off-straet patking

FOR RENT

\section*{Stop clenn 3 bedroom apartments Flreplage parking, laundry, somb-furnished, walk to \($ 0\) Paking, laundry,}

Ackarman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 badroom apts. Furnished. carpeisd, welk lo campus. Well maintained

NEXT TO CAMPUS 228 Euelid, 4 bedrom oasonatie rent, tree parking, disthwasher laundry, microwave, new porch-

\section*{ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS}

SPACIOUS. FARNNGHED, DISHWASHER, 476-9933

\section*{1 Bedroom and}

\section*{Studio Apartments} 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue some 9 month leases Responsible Landlord Cail Gordon 2nd ils, iwldin, 1-2-3 Derms, ofestucy, jacuzzil balin, porches.

OSTROMMADISON: Al apls furn & heated. NO PETSI Nagotiable lease

Ackermari Beauntud Large Fumished Fitats Houses, 2,3,4,5,6 Badrooms. Porches, Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Fel OK 446-3420 Apartments clont to campua clean 2,3-5 bedroms some with firtaplace taundry perking

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. F CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Everything you want and more for your buckl
MOST INCLUDING
- Security Systam with 1- Dead Bolt Locks
- Smoke. Heat a Sprinkler System
- Pricos Rangling from \($ 225-5375 /\) month

Kitchens Include: Goummet Self-cieaning ovens, Gartage Disposalt, Microwaves, Dishwashers
- Wall to Wall Carpats & Pedding (like home)
- Laundry Facilldes on Premises
- Off-atreat Parking
- Snow incawn Maintenance
- Some Apts. inctude An Uriftes tilies)

Safis Arsane within Welking Distonca to Ced Such as - Comatock, Ostrom, Harison, Madison. Westcott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingetion, Lencaster

CALL 478-6504 OPR Developer AT YOUR SERVICE!

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euctid Ave 871 Ackorman Ave 115 Fedfield Place 1011 E. Adams St 145 Avondale Place
Avallable for 2000-2001
Fuly Furnished Ply Furnished, Laundry Matntenance and Managemen
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hardwood Floors

University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St #30
479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{O.P.R}

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes /
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems
remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices
478-6504
Beautitul 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Walking distance to Campus. 3 Large 日edrooms, lots of Kitchen, Basement with Washetidryer hockups. OH Strees Paringn with Garage.A Must Ses!! \(469-8417\) or \(475-8643\)
Univarality Ave. live bedroom House one brock Univaraty Rve. live bedroom House one brock rom Marshall Strest lurnished laundry parking oase \($ 1,300.00\) dius utitites D.N. Drucker \(445-1229\) Universlity Ave. Three Badroom Flat Close Walk Campus Aymished daundry parking leaso \($ 875.00\)
Bedrooms, Oaklandst., TBiock ESF, 3Blocks Law+ Hospilais, Gumisher, parking, Laundry, porches, Excellent condition, Augus!, 475-0690
Two Bedroom Apartmants on Euelid Fumishoc: Maat included, hartwood lioors, porch, recen \({ }^{2}\)
Unwersity Alea 2.3 Eetroon furished
Apartments Singie Houses lor rent. Call Jim 668-7473
Unlveralty and Comatock Very close to Campus umished taundry parking \($ 375.0010\) to 5700.00 neludas All Uihioes \(445-1229\) Q.N.Drucker Lua
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS \\
302 Marshall St 329 Comstock Ave 604 Wannt Ave 319 Euclid Ave 145 Avondale Flace \\
Avallable for 2000-2001 \\
Fully Furnished, Laundry ParkIng, Fuli thme \\
Maintenance and Manapement, \\
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Fioors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths \\
University Area Apts \\
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 \\
www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AITHIS! \\
Three Eedroom A partment \\
Spucious three Bedrocm, compiotely fumlehed \\ apatman wilt porth. Uving floom withfireplace, Dising roonn, Xitcten and infoe \\ bedrooms, and Bainot stred, gange panding Laundry tacility in tuillaing. \\
Five bedrsom House \\ Spasious five bedroom, complately funiested Houso with font and ratpocthos. Uving OISHWASHEA End fivo lare botrooms, and \\ garape. FAEE Lumidry fecitity h builiong. CALL 430-51ab nftar 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Apartments}

Two Bedroom Aparitments
 476-2982

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshali St (acrosstitim Haven). 479-5005

2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Tarrace Larra Rooms Hardwood Floors Avail June
Or Aug 448.5186

\section*{ONEEEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID}

AVE.spacticus for one or two PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933.

Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Weiking dislance S.U. off streat parking. Laundry. Call 422-7305 Furrished 2.5Bedroom Houses/Aparmants Llvingston, Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 4696665 Ackerman lurnished spacious two BdAm olf stree Ackerman turnishor spacious two BdAm of parking faundry lacilitios utiditias incl. 446-8576

\section*{collegehome}

\section*{THREE} BEDROOMS beAUTIFULLY FURNISHED CALL JOHN or JUDY 478-7548

Universly 283 Bedroom TowniHouses a Flats. Inexpensive and mint condition. Washar(Oryes, Fireplecs,finishad baservent, Call 449-0109. One Bedroom Apartumenta Cloee to Campus, utilites incuded, Oak floors firo placo. furnisted

Cioan quial 2-bedroon two blods from SU/ hosplitals. Furnished. All utilities pald. \(\mathbf{4 7 2 . 5 9 0 \mathrm { B }}\) June 1 laase

One +2 bedrocm fumiabed apartments: Atl utaitios inductedt 5370 , \(\mathbf{5 4 8 0} / \mathrm{me}\). One miss from eamput. Laundry, parking, carpoling. socurity-building.
Aveitable immodiataty. May oiAugusi. 446 - 858 .

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms Lowest rents tor modern, now consiruction

\section*{University Area Apts}
www.univertityarea.com
Bent Buy on Martienst Ciman Oudet Utilioes hoctiod. 472.5000 .

Fur and wo Bedroom Fumished Aparturents. Corner ol Walnut and Hariton Avarues Harison Avarues. La asos Commence Jun 2000 Last Month ard Security Nop Pis Ahi
Graduales Protered Call 422.7755
\(1,2,3,4\) as Bdim Apariments, Houssast Sludios.
Clasn, Spacious, Superior Congition, some reconily renovisted. Walking tistance, parking 474-6751

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT

 4494621

825 SUMNER AVE
414 KENSINGTON RD
(naar LanEater Markat)
(naar Lancatger Markat)
2 and 3 Eedroms
mmatulate, Clean, FPEE Laund 949 Botore 3 pm )

Great University Area
Beautiful Modern \(1 & 2\)
Bedroom Apts.
for 2000-2001 Como now and gir your choles. All Brand New Appl, (AC, Dishwasher) Heat a Hot Water Included, Socurtity
Bulldings Whatarcorts a Door Bulldings Whatarcormsa Door
Heleases. Custom Made Cholce of Porch or Patio. OH Stree Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bue Line. 24 Hour Maintenance. for Patricla or Stop by our Office at 115 Newbury Hollow (Located off E. Brighten)

\section*{Studio, One and Two} Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. launcry, quies bulding, close to eampus, 476-2982

1 Bedroom Furnithrod Untumished. Walking distance S. L. La Lundry vallable. Off Street
Paking. Cal \(420-7305\) Parking. Call \(422-7305\)

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilties included. Fully fumished. Rents foors. Wall to wall carpet Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchans and baths. Distwashere. Porches. Laundry
Parktro 24hour maintenance. Parking. 24 hour maintanance. UnWuretity Area Apts 479-5005

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcon streat area
Laundry, Parking, Lease

445-0540

\section*{DAVIS}
continued from page 16
Thomas, who now weighs in at 256, came to SU at about the same 230 pounds Davis rries.

Coming out of high chool, neither Thomas nor Davis would scare opponents at the offensive end

Conversely, both big men are terrors on the def
"In high school, Etan's only method of scoring was dunking," recruiting guru Bob Gibbons, who is the edications, said, Sbut he was great defensively. It's kind of where Greg is now

Davis, however, has the l5-foot jump shot and also handle the ball, Washington head coach Nate Harris said.

Thomas had only slightly more exposure coming out of high school in 1996. He went to a Nike camp, yet no instate schools-including Oklahoma, Oklahoma State Oklahoma, Oklahoma State interest in the raw talent.
Likewise, Davis did not receive much attention from the trio of Oklahoma schools. Showed any interest.

Regardless of underexposure or others* lack of contidence, Davis is happy to be heading toward Central New York next fall.
"Syracuse is a great school," he said. "It has a coach. Thomas and a great and (Jim) Boeheim got the best out of him."

While the two appear to be following the same path, their paths have barely crossed. Their lone meeting took place this past summer when they worked out together at a Tulsa YMCA.

Thomas' success helped convince the high school senior to attend SU, but Davis cited other reasons as to why he chose the Orangemen
"(Thomas) was a big factor," he said. "The biggest factor was the school itself and the program Coach Boeheim runs."

Although their record might not indicate it, Davis' 12-5 high school team is having a very good year. Half of their losses have come ggainst the No. 10 and No. 1 teams in the country while playinga tournament on the East Coast. Washington also has knocked off the No. 14 team in the country, Harris said.

The squad holds a No. 4 ranking in the state, thanks in large part to Davis' contripuints 10 rebounds and five points,
"He's a good player with good fundamentals," said his father, Gregory Davis Sr. "He plays great defense and scores when he gets the ball but it is a guard-oriented team."

Off the court, the younger Davis has developed his artistic side as well as his athletic side. He enters local talent contests and plays jazz on he bass guitar.

It was Davis' guitar work that led him to meeting exNBA power forward Wayman Tisdale, also an accomplished musician.
Tisdale took a liking to Davis, comparing the high schooler's musical and basketball talents to himself at a younger Davis said.

The former Indiana Pacer and Phoenix Sun, who resides in Tulsa, has since become good friends with the future
iImet \(\mathbf{W}\) alent show man through a talent show my sophomore year," Davis said. "He was impressed, so he introduced himselfiends) he terve be a came friends) he gave me a guitar.

Like his tremendous success with a basketball or bass complished with the books.
With only three men's basketball players making the Athletic Director's Honor Roll, Davis' 3.3 GPA should be a nice lift for SU's muchmaligned academics.
dent," Davis" father said. "He works hard in the classroom and is a conscientious stu deat. He comes home and does his homework without me having to get on him."

Once Davis comes to \(S U\) a crowded, un will greet him

With Syracuse preparing to graduate Thomas, its start ing center, and power forward Ryan Blackwell, the battle for the two openings will be fierce. Davis brings the ad vantage of versatility.
iplay a lot of center, but I have the ability to play power forward, Davis said.' try to expand my game. I'm good at blocking shots and crabbing rebounds. The of work."

With SU's already-thin frontline, Davis could slide into one of the spots.

String bean center Billy Celuck, big transfer Ethan Cole and forgotten freshman Jeremy McNeil return and willact as foes to Davis' quest for minutes.
"I'm definitely not going to redshirt," Davis said. "I expect to come in and con tribute - even if that means coming off the bench and playing hard minutes."

\section*{JAMES}
continued from page 16 lacking a little confidence. In a rew games there, she didn't shoot the ball as well. In the last three games, her shot's been going, along, heer mot's been going, she's been mixing it up well helping out the rest of the team.

James resurgence can be Aziz. The forward recognized that dames wasn't the same confident freshman who arrived on the Hill from Plymouth, Mass., one year earlier with the intention of turning the program around.
"She told me at halftime against Rutgers that I need to be cocky again," James said. "I need to be that freshman guard that I was before. After that, I came on and got that confidence back."
Another confidence builder for the sophomore who canned 59 triples last season has been the Syracuse Bento.

While James' struggles on the court continued, the coaching staff drilled into her head that she wasn't a one-dihead that she wasn't a one-disaid. She could contribute in other ways to the team's success.

This pushed James to averaging 3.7 rebounds and 2.3 assists per game along with the team's fourth-highest steal total with 24 thefts. James' shooting struggles, though, contributed to a fourgame losing streak, marred by enou

Bento continued to work with James after practice to help her regain the confi* dence she had lost.

Taking better shots was one key, Bento said. Another was to just keep firing.
ing to get only way you're going to get out of not shooting well is to keep shooting the ball," the SU assistant said. on when you are in that frame on when you are in that frame That's what we try to preach to her You take good shots and whether they go in or they go whether key go in or them bocause they're good shots."

The good shots lately have been falling more than raindrops in Seattle, as in each of its last three conin each of its last three contests. She went for 15 points in a loss to Rutgers, points son-high 21 in an overtime son-high 21 in an overtime win against St. John's and scored 20 more in the win against Georgetown on Saturday.

The scoring barrage was enough to make James smile when she thought back to earlier in the season when the ball seemed to grow and the hoop seemed to shrink with each subsequent shot attempt.
James gaid unable to suppress a smile filled with reief. "Everybody goes through it. Every player in any sport has gone through it. The great ones get out of it, the good ones somewhat get out of It and the bad ones stay in it. I'm not going to let myself stay or kind of get out of it,

Despite the fact that James has regained her confiwith Bento

For her to continue to shoot well, it's just a matter of re laxing and taking the right shots, Bento said.
"It goes to shot selection," she said. "I think that we tend to force a lot of shots. When we've gone a few min. utes without scoring, we tend to panic. We feel like we have to score right away, which means we start rushing shots, we start forcing shots, and we can't do that.

James and the rest of the Orangewomen will need to shoot well in their rematch ggainst Rutgers tonight. The Scarlet Knights have one of the nation's more potent defenses and thrive on shutting down players of James' caliber Last time around, RU held Syracuse to 14 points in the first half. James managed 15 points for the game in what was the start of her resurgence. For things to go cuse must cut out its unforced errors.

Still, for Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman, seeRutgers' vaunted defensive pressure was encouraging.
"It was nice to see her shot," Freeman said. "It was nice to see her come back and see some deep 3 -pointers. It was nice to see her getting Was nice to see her getting set, letting her shotgo and set, letting her shot go having the shot go down,"

James, who calls Manley her home at school, will continue to work on balance. I the shot fades from view again, James said she wants to get back to the basics. Re lax, rebound, pass and keep shooting, because the shot will fall

Frustration remains from the dry spell, but some things are more important, like the rematch against Rutgers to morrow, James said

It definitely is frustrating because if that's your call ing card, it's the best thing you can do, and it goes away from you, "Y's frustrating, she said. You need to take what life gives you. You can' force something that's no there. But my confidence is back. I can definitely say ing. I'm looking forward to ing. im looking forward to (tonight). We are going to (tonight

\section*{[classifieds]}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}
1.2.3.4+5 bedroom apartmentsi Fumished, all tilities included, laundry. parking. One blod availabiity, 446-9598.
 aundry, Carpel, Hantwo
Call Gorson 47 E -2 9 al
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline Your \\
\hline  \\
\hline dels \\
\hline matawidy \\
\hline ontineefarking \\
\hline \\
\hline Eterazeos \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Houses

\section*{\({ }_{6}^{\text {LOOK ATELT THISI }}\) Spacious six beeroom. Furrished House, widshwasher and six lage bedrooms and
TWO fuil bathroortis. Off street patking widl garage. Washer and dryer in buiking.
CALL \(430-5188\) affer 1.00 pm}

(5) Bedroom House

721 Ostrom Ave
off street parking starting 6 S335/ person
(t) 446-3693

\section*{UNIVERSITY Hill REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME}

\section*{urumpe}

\section*{NOTES}

AP Top 25
1. Cincimati (66)
2. Stanfor
4. Arizona
5. Tennessee
6. Michigan St
7. Ohio St.
8. Oklahoma St.
9. Syracuse
10. Indiana
12. Aubum
13. Tulsa
14. lowa St
15. Temple
16. LSU
18. Connecticut
19. Kentucky
20. Oklahoma
21. Utah
22. Maryland
23. Seton Hall
24. Punsas
5)
\(23-1\)
21.1
\(21-1\)
\(19-3\)
\(21-4\)
\(21-3\)
\(21-3\)
\(18-6\) \(17-4\) \begin{tabular}{l}
\(17-4\) \\
\(20-2\) \\
\hline 0.2
\end{tabular} \(0-2\) \(20-2\)
\(18-4\) \(18-4\)
\(18-5\)
\(19-4\)
\(23-2\) \begin{tabular}{l}
\(9-4\) \\
3.2 \\
\hline 18.4
\end{tabular} 23.2
21.3
\(18-4\) 19.4
17.6 \(18-6\)
\(18-6\) 18.7 \(19-4\) 19-4 \(18-5\)
\(18-6\) 17.7
syracuse dropped ive spots from last week's poll. Other Big East teams peceiving votes are St John's with seven and Miami with four.

Orangemen's statistics Player
\({ }_{14.2} \quad \begin{array}{lll}1.3 & \text { a. }\end{array}\) \(14.2 \quad 9.30 .8\) Hart Brown
Blackwell
Shumpert
Bland
Williams
Duany
Celuck
Griffin \(\begin{array}{lll}1.5 & 1.0 & 1.7 \\ 1.2 & 0.0\end{array}\)

Thomas leads ine Big East in field-goal percent age at 60.9 and blocks with 3.9 per game. He is also third in the confer ence in rebounding and 4th in scoring Hart's assist numbers are good or second in the confer ence, just . 33 behind Miami's Vemon Jennings. Shumpert has dropped to second in 3 -point shooting, trailing UConn's Albert Mouring.

Orangewomen's statistios
\begin{tabular}{llll}
Player & p & r & a \\
Record & 17.1 & 6.9 & 1.2 \\
James & 11.4 & 3.7 & 2.3 \\
Perry & 10.8 & 7.5 & 2.4 \\
Aziz & 9.3 & 7.7 & 1.0 \\
Ervin & 7.4 & 3.2 & 5.8 \\
Wright & 7.4 & 4.4 & 1.0 \\
Trammell & 3.1 & 1.9 & 0.3 \\
MrPhee & 1.3 & 1.2 & 0.5
\end{tabular}

Record is second in the conference in scoring white Perry is fourth in Bis East boards, outreboundine 11 -inches-tallet Ruth Riley by almost one board per dame. Perry, a candidate for Big East Rookie of the Year, is third in the conference in shooting at 57.4 percent on 78 -for136 shooting.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who was the tast Syracuse men's basketball player to be drafted in the NBA?
friday's trivia:
Q. When was the last ime the SU men's hoops team lost three straight n one season?
A. Syracuse dropped three road contests in the \(1995-96\) season.

[sports]Dave Curtis, cditor The Daily Orange February 15, 200016

\section*{Rutgers visits Syracuse}

ancela catll/The Daily Orang Orancewomary Shannon ferry, the lone freshman for \(S U\) this season, has bean a pleasant surprise, scor ing in double dights and grabbing more than seven rebounds per tarre. She helps lead phot Syractry team that has won two consecutive games to raise fis record to \(10-11\) f3-7 in the Eig Eisst).

BY KEVIN LEEITZELL Staff Write

Facing No. 10 Rutgers and No. 1 Connecticut in one week is no easy task.

But heading into the rough week riding a two-game winning streak makes things seem a little easier.

That's exactly the position the Syracuse women's basketball team finds itself in.
"With the way we've been playing we can only get better," SU head coach Marianna Freeman said. "It's nice to get these wirns when we've been down."

A 75-62 win over Georgetown on Saturday was SU's second consecutive, as the Orangewomen knocked off St. John's in overtime last Wednesday.

Syracuse looks to build on its winning streak tonight when it faces the Scarlet Kniphts at 7 pon at Manley Field House The game will be the first test in a difficult week for the Orange lest anen who travel to Connecticut on Fridey, night defense slowed down its opponents' attacks during the twogame upswing.

The SU

In the victories, the Orangewomen shut down their opponents' frontcourts. Freeman threw various zone and mantoman coverages at the Red Storm and Hoya forwards The majori ty of the scoring came from the main ter where the cuards were forced to tak, where the guard take long jumpers

Syracord dhe passing lanes warding off possible interior passes and

See TASK page 11

\section*{James breaking slump \\ BY GREG BISHOP}

Stall Writer
On a snowy Monday morning, the Syracuse wornen's basketball team escapes the weather inside the friendly confines of Manley Field House and works on ball movement against a 3-2 zone.

Team sharpshooter Jaime James is taking particular interest in this drill, knowing that if this situation arises come gameday, she will be called upon to knock down the open jumper.

SU's starting five continues to work the ball around, looking for the open player. Suddealy, James pops out on the left wing. where she receives a pass from Shannon Perry. James doesn't hesitate, drilling the triple without grazing the rim his scene is one far removed from earlier this season, when James was caught in an admitted "slide, capped by a 1 -for 16 shooting perfor mance against Big East basement dweller West Virginia.

The sophomore guard's confidence has returned, along with her shot.

After the make, James trots back downcourt, exhibiting a Jason Hartine swagger that has helped her pour in 56 points in the last three games to propel the Orangewomen on a twogame winning streak.
glump wouldin't say she was in a to gaid assistant coach Michelle BenIf anything, I think she was

See JAMES page 1.5

D.O. File photo by rom nycz Syracuse's Jalma Jamas inas postad three conssecut games of doublowdeft scoring breaking a long funk

\section*{SU recruit Davis likened to Thomas}

BY ERIC NATHAN
Staff Writer
Nine months before he places his Nikes on the Carrier Dome's hardwood, Greg Davis might never get a fair chance.

As talented as he is, the Syracuse basketball recruit will always live in the dark shadow cast by current SU star Etan Thomas.

The compariaons are easy and plentiful. Not only are both from Tulsa, Okla., but each graduated from Booker T. Washington High School - five years apart.

They are both 6-foot-9 with solid frames. See DAVIS page 15

\section*{Wrestlers win first dual of season}

\section*{by ErIC NATHAN}
staff Writer
Finally, the Syracuse wrestling team cracked the win column Saturday afternoon.

Entering the Rutgers Duals with an 0-7 record (0-5 in the EIWA), the Or angemen defeated Coppin State 21-19 to eam their hrat victory in a non-conference match.

After defeating Coppin State, SU wrestled Franklin & Marshall tough for the second time this year, dropping a \(33-24\) meet that featured a pair of Orange forfeits.

In the first match of the day, the home team blew out the Orangemen (1-9, 0-7) 38-2.
*(Coppin State) was a good match," head coach Scott Miller said. Whe match was a lot closer than the score indicates because of our forfeits. Everyone wrestied ass a tearm. \({ }^{\text {m }}\)

Continuing his brilliant aeason, Shawn Thomas beat all three of his opponents to raise his record to a tearnbest \(25-9\). He is still the only Orangemest with a record above .500 .

Thomas recorded two pina, bringing his senson total to 22 . He leads the conference in pinfalls, i1 ahead of the second-place wrestier.

Against Coppin State's Darron Ma son. Thomas wasted no time adding to his pin total, putting Mason's shoulders

See Finaity page 12
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{WEDMESDAY} \\
\hline February 16. & 2000 \\
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
\(40 / 12\) \\
Cloudy with 70\% chance of snow \\
1. Thursday: \\
Partly cloudy 25/16 \\
Friday: \\
snow 36/20
\end{tabular} \\
\hline briefs.............. 2 comics 9
ifestyle.......... 7 & classifieds. 10 editorial ......... 5 sports......... 12 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Volume xxix Number 85 Syracuse. New Yom 20000

do.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

\section*{SuitingUP}

More women are participating in sports since Title IX.
See Lifestyle.
Knightmare.
16-O Rutgers run dooms Orangewomen.
See Sports.

Shadow study

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Doly Orange Joe Deeristoforo, a freshman in the College of Humaft Development from Mafrose, Mass., ponders his work upstairs in the Panasci Lounge in the Schine student Center while looking out at the snowcovered hill in front of the Mall of Langlages.

\section*{mareek Affairs}

\section*{Students discuss hazing}

\section*{BY SHELBY HEALY} Staff Writer

Former Pennsylvania judge and Sigma Alpha Epsilon brother Mitch Crane discussed greek stereotypes and the dangers of alcohol abuse during an Of of Greek Life-sponsored speech Tuesciay night More than 300 members of the Syracuse University greek community attended the ment lecture in Goldstein Auditorium.

Crane used true stories to emphasize the dangers of hazing and the importance of drinking responsibly.
"In the novies, people get hazed," Crane said "In real life, sometimes they die."

He recalled a story of Louisians State University fraternity pledge Benjamin Wynne who was a vir tim of hazing by SAE in 1997. Wynne, who was the president of his high school's Students Against president of his high schools Students Against rushed SAE in college.

One night during pledge activities, the brothers at ISU pressured new recruits to chug an entire trash were encouraged to take several shots of Jaegermeister liquor, Crane said.

Once the event was over, the pledges were escorted back to the fraternity hoube and put to bed. In the morning three pledges, including Wynne, were found unconscious. He died a few days later with a blood alcohol level of 544 , Crane said.

Crane said because of these incidents the greek population at universities is dwindling.
"Every single reported hazing incident and date or acquaintance rape in the greels system has been alcohol-related," he said.

Crane discussed the ramifications of irresponsible drinking, especially when conpled with hazing. They both result in the negative stereotype associated with greeks, he said.

The greeks aren't the problem, but they are the most visible," Crane said.

Dave Drobnis, a second-year anchitecture major and SAE brother, said non-greelss regard the greek system is a party outlet.
said "At SU, its a very woak

Nitch Cranc, A Sigme Alphe Ensllon bropherf diacourofles havine Tuesday in Goldsteln Aurditorium. cused on drinking, parties and bars."
Lisa Walsh, graduate assistant in the Office of Greek Life, said greeks experience the same alcolvol issues as the rest of the campus, but they are more noticeable.
"They have to realize they are a targeted group," Walsh sain. They have to be leaders. The word 'social and party' should not mean alcohol"

The Panhellenic Council maintains a rule that not allowed to drink, ssid jlecige period, wamen are See GREEK page 6

\section*{City Affairs}

Police beating elicits student concern

BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer

The Feb. 4 arraigament of Syracuse Police Department Officer James Mullen on charges of third-aegree assanit should alert students to the prejudices existing in the law enforcement system, said Jamal Jamit Student Gove

Mullen, who pleaded guilty to the assault of a 12 -year-old black girl, faces a four-month unpaid suspension from the police department and other minor punishments, Syracuse

This is not nearly enough punishment," James said. "The department should consider having him permanently removed." The situation will not help the public image of police, said Sandi Pessin, external chairwoman of Point Zero, a Syracuse University group that advocates racial sensitivity.
"Examples like this will be brought back into the light in the future," Pessin said

More than 100 police officers rallied at the city of Syracuse Public Safety Building to support Mullen on the day of his arraignment

No minority officers participated in the rally, which received criticism from publie offcials and religious groups alike. olence Association ortanized the See POLICE page 6

\section*{I State Affairs}

Diallo case raises race issues

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPONE} Asst. News Editor

The alleged Feb. 4, 1999 murder of Amadou Diallo by four New York City police officers has members of the Syracuse University cormmunity searching for answera.

If this was a white man, would he have ended up with 19 bullets inside him? I believe the answer is no," said Lakeisha Alston, a student in the College of Law and member of the Black Law Student Association. "It's discusting, that's what it is."
Diallo, who is black, was shot 19 times and died on the porch of his New York City apartment. The four white oficers, Kenneth Boss, lon and Sean Carroll, are currently on trial in New York State Supreme Court in Albany and have been charged with second degree murder. If convicted, they could face 25 years to life in prison.

\title{
[briefs]
}
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}
- The College Democrats meet at 4:30 p.m. in the Colege Democrats office of the

EThe Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents "Buena Vista Social Club" as part of the February Film Series. Showings are at 2 p.m. and 7 U:30 P ESyracuse Stage presents The Beauty Queen of Leeane" At Tickets ate \($ 15\) to Genesec counts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for ticket information.

- UU Cinemas presents "Somewhere im Time," at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets at \($ 3\).
- The Career Develop. ment Center presents "How 06 p.m. in Newhouse I, Room 20.

E Dr. Vincent G. Harding speaks at 7:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium. He visits as part of the African American StudSpeaker Series.

\section*{world news}

\section*{IRA pulls out of peace talks}

LONDON - The Irish Re publican Arrny, battling to regain its lost leverage in Northerm Ireland politics, announced today it will no longer talk to the commission supervising diaarmament in the embattled The province.
The IRA's political wing, Sinn Fein, took the sarne no-more-negotiations stance.
Storming out of a meeting with Scomming out of a meetiag with Britain's Northern Ireland sec retary this afternoon, leader Fein has no further room to move."

It was not the first time the IRA and Sinn Fein have turned their backs on the roller. coaster peace process, and the announcements were quickly denounced by other northern leaders, both Protestant and Catholic, as political maneuvering. "Yet again the republican movement seems to think it can play ducks and drakes," said Seamus Mallon, a leader of the largest mainly Catholic party, using a British expression for Rivers poisoned in Hungary

KANJIZA, Yugoslavia An enormous toxic bullet" of ly overflowed a dam at a Ro-

\section*{THURSDAY}
- The Caribbean Student Association presents the Haitian film "Krik? Krak! Takes of a Nightmare" from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Gifford Auditorium.
\(\square\) Schine Student Center hosts "Careers in Cyberspace
from 5 to 8 p.m. in Room 304.

Al-Anon meets at noon in the Schine Student Center, Room 233.

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Phi Beta Sigma hosts a dance party from 10 p.m.to 2 a.min Goldstein Auditorium. Schine Box Office.

\section*{FRIDAY- \\ SATURDAY}
\(\square\) UU Cinemas presents "Dence Bigalow: Male Gigolo" at 7 p.ra. and \(9: 30\) p.m. in Gir $3. "The incredible Mr. Limpet" follows at midnight with free admission.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news missions are also accepted via email at news@deillyorange.com.

\section*{Congress debates anti-drug policy}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Members of Congress opened ire on the Clinton administrafor Colombia Tuesday, with wide-rangine concems that it is too little, too much, too late, too ambitious and not ambitious enough.

In a taste of what the administration can expect as it seeks quick approval of the twoyear package, including an oriation this year of nearly \($ 1\) billion, senior defense and diplomatic officials were sharply questioned on past failures and potential pitfalls in the future.

Subcommittee members asked pointed questions that reflected years of involvement in the issues of drug trafficking and Colombia policy, with specific concerns about human rights, eftist guerrillas and rightwing paramilitaries, coca crop yields, he relative merits of various types of military helicopters, and problems with lengthy delays in delivering military equipment as well as procuring any equipment at all atter years of shrinking defense budgets.
manian trold mine has contaminated 250 miles of riversin Hungary and Yugoslavia, Eilling millions of fish, shuttiag down water supplies and leaving a wail of aquatic devastation that vill require years to repair.

Yesterday the cyanide and heavy metal pollutants were driftiag down the Tisza and Dith and fivers in Yugorlavia, with another 400 miles to go beThe reaching the Black Sea. The concentration of contaminants in the water has fallen sharply in recent days, so darnbe less severe

But Hungarian officials described the spill as Europe's phe since the 1986 nul catastrophe since the 1986 nuclear acci-

The Daily Orange is published Syracure Universiry's mademic by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O is distributed on campus with the firs five copies complemencary and each additional copy costa $1.

Managemens 44.9798
Business 44-2314
News 443-2127
Lifestyle 443 -2128
Sports \(443-2208\)
Thotography 443.9795
Art 443-5938
E-trail editorial iddailyorange.com

HACKER
continued from page 1
ods to prevent similar cases from re-occurring.

In response to Feb. 7 hacking incidents in University of California networks, computer experts and U.S. government day morning at the White House to discuss ways to avoid future problems. Hackers used University of California networks to jampopular Web sites such as Yahoo.com.

White House officials announced a computer security budget increase from \($ 451 \mathrm{mil}\) lion to \($ 606\) million. This will benefit agencies that are analyzing their vulnerability and establishing a detection network, according to a White House report released Tuesday.

Officials also proposed a coalition led by members of the computer industry to address the problem of computer hacking. The coalition will focus on creating an Internet service to share information about hack er attacks, computer system weaknesses and security issues, the report said.

The group will be of great use to SU and other universities as they work to preven hacking issues, Butler said.
"Hackers are very clever and come up with new ways to hack," Butler said. There's no way a single group or universi with can figure out how to deal

At 7:30 a.m. Monday, Systems Services reported a problem with the syrgate router that caused a disruption to ac cess of non-university Internet sites. The syrgate router is the Internet connection \(S U\) uses to connect to outside Web sites.

An hour later, Systems Services identified and resolved the problem and restored Internet access, according to SU Computing and Media Services.

The Systems Services staff called the information center at CMS at 8:54 a.m. to report

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com

\section*{(5)Longhey fones}
1) HEAT INCLUDEDI
2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

\title{
By Popular } Demaind!

\section*{1/2}

THIE STORE 1/2 OFF!

\section*{4 More Days Today till Sat! Huge Clearance * Brand New & Vintage * Winter & Spring GOWNS TO CLUB CLEAROUT!}

\section*{IBDDM BANBIIES} on Westcott (off Euclid) 472-1949

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
that they disabled subnetwork 109, a fragment of the entire university network, Butler said. All the servers affected by the attack are located on subnetwork 109, he,said.

Subnetwork 109 was used in a "denial of service attack," Butler added.

A denial of service attack is when an overflow of infor mation is sent to a Web site jamming the site and render ing it unavailable to Interne users.
"By removing the subnet, we not only eliminated traffic

\title{
LET TIAA-CREF HELP YOU BUILD A SECURE FINANCIAL FUTURE.
}

For over 80 years. TIAA-CREF has been the leading retirement company on America's campuses. But experience is just one reason why so many smart investors trust us with their financial future. Here are a few more:

\section*{Superior strength}

With over \($ 250\) billion in assets under management, TIAA-CREF is the world's largest retirement organization - and among the most solid. It's one of the reasons why Morningstar says, "TIAA-CREIF sets the standard in the financial services industry."I

\section*{Solid, long-term performance}

We seek out long-term opportunities that other companies, in pursuit of quick gains. often miss. Though past performance can't guarantee future results, this patient philosophy has proven extremely rewarding.

Surprisingly low expenses TiAA-CRIEI's operating costs are among the lowest in the insurance and mutual fund industries. \({ }^{2}\) So more of your money goes where it should - toward ensuring your future.

\section*{Easy diversification}

We offer a wide variety of expertly managed investment options to help build your assets. We make it simple, too, with stock, bond, money market, real estate, and guaranteed options.

\section*{Unrivaled service}

We believe that our service distinguishes us from every other retirement company. In the most recent Dalbar survey. TIAA-CREF ranks tops in participation satisfaction. \({ }^{3}\)

Call today to find out how TIAACREF can help you build the financial future you want and deserve.

To find out more - give us a call or visit our website 1800 842-2776
www.tiaa-cref.org

 tiowr Amom

Ensuring the future for those who shape it." from the Internet, but also stopped the program from spreading to other systems," Butler said. "It's kind of like we put them under quarian-ater

A report on the CMS Web site Monday night noted the system failurebut did not cause that information does not pertain to the purpose of the site, said David Hoalcraft, manager of Student Computing Services at CMS.
"The site's not there to into," Hoalcraft said.
He compared the purpose of the site to a police report indicating that area crime in general is rising, as opposed details about a crime that was committed.
"We use the site to correcively help the computer environment," Hoalcraft said. "It's o help customers to be aware hat if they are having computer problems. It may be a system problem and we are fixing it."

YOUR CuMALaTY Sou. CloTHING STORE SU BASEXETYRALL

\section*{\($ 1.00\) off with this coupon on any item in store}

\section*{February 16, 2000}

\section*{DIALLO}
continued from page 1
The officers were patrolling Diallo's Bronx neighborhood searching the area for armed criminals when they saw Diallo crouching on his porch. The officers said that they asked him to stand and ideatify himself and then observed him reaching for what they be-
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & CINEMAS \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
CAROUSEL 19 \\
CAROUSEL CENTER
\end{tabular} \\
\hline & RARGGIN MATINEES BEFORE E PM. - \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 mon \\
 \\
 \\
 CREEN MA E(R): 18, \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 *- \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
CICERO 13 \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
 \\
 \\
 \\
\(T U E G E R(C) 12=00,2: 00,400.6,60,0.00\) \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
STUART ITITAE: \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline & GREAT NORTHERN 10 48 : 831 RIGHT REAR OF MALL. 552-213 \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 SEHEARDEJ12:30,3.70:10.7.19 \\
 \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
CAMILLUS \(10^{\circ}\) \\
RT. 5 CAKhllus riall \(180-1322\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline &  \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
SHOPPINGTOWN 10 \\
ERIE #LVD. E449-2 210
\end{tabular} \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
 5HOW DAY(PG) 11:135,2:15,4:10. \(: 50.5: 70\) \\
 \\
 \\
 SCREATOR 10.00 \\
 \\
 CALACYPGI11;40.2.05,4:25,7:20,10:10 \\
 \\
 \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

The Daily Orange
lieved was a cun. McMellon fell backward on Diallo's porch as he approached him and his fellow of Ficers said they thought Dialle shot him.

In an act of what they said they believed was self-defense, the officers fired a total of 41 shots, hitting the West African immi crant 19 times. The object Diallo reached for, as the officers were approaching him, turned out to be his wallet.

Diallo's death is indicative of the continuing presence of racism in American society, Alston said. A lot cause it゙s not the \(\mathbf{1 9 4 0 s}\), fifties or sixties, that racisro doesn't exist anymore. Racism does exist, it's "We've got people walking around Weve got people walking around with sheets on their heads, chat makes them racist, but people walking around with a badge can be racist too."

Alston said the incident was a combination of broad racial problems within the New York City Poliee Department and badjudgement by the officers involved in the case. Both issues raise serious concerns about the how police officers are trained and how they work, she edded.
-It's a shame that this was police officers when they are suppased to be the ones protecting us," Alston said. "They scem to be the one's killing us. There is no clearer picture of racism."

Regardless of the cause of the problem, finding a solution that will prevent incidents like this from occurring in the future is critical, Alston said.

Many police departments, including the city of Syracuse, Fave suggested programs to make officers' sensitivity to racial issues a lo case. The Syracuse Police Department recently grappled with such racial issues when a white officer struck a 12-year-old black girl with his nightstick while in vestigating a domestic dispute.

Sensitivity training programs will definitely have a positive effect on police departments that use them, but are really only the beginning to solving much larger problems that contribute to events such as these, Alston said

The best thing police departments can do to prevent these tragedies is begin recruiting more wraged and minority aficers Al ston said Police officials cannot ston said. Police oficials cannot expect tho that are mostly populated by mi norities and erf the law with a police rorce nully composed of white officers, she said.

Irma Almirall-Padamsee, dicultural Affairs, baid efforts to Special'Low Student Airfares to

Fly now and get \($ 25.00\) off your next trip! \({ }^{*}\)

More Than 100 Departure Cities! Low Student Airfares!
Eurailpasses • Bus Passes • Study Abroad

\section*{www.StudentUniverse.com} 1-800-272-9676
- Some restrictions and blackouts apply.
combat racism must go beyond police departments and include the rest of society as well. Incidents like the Diallo case can and should be prevented, even though the solutions may not be obvious or easy to find, she added.
"I don't believe in things just happening," she said. "Things happen because people are condipen because people tioned a certain way.

Government officials must implement programs in the workplace and educational institutes and target the issues that caused Diallo's death and the Syracuse beating, Almirall-Padamsee said.

The of \(\overline{1}\) cials developing the programs must commit themselves to changing society for the better for any racial sensitivity program to work, she added.
"If there aren't some very clear things that are being expressed by those running the police force, it's a very light-weight training," Almirall-Padamsee said. "They must be aware and said. They must be aware and committed to protecting the rights of all people, regardless of what they look like."

The racial problems that plague the nation, however, can only change permanently if all citizens take the first step by fighting against their own prejudices. Almirall-Padamsee said.
"People can make generalizations about what they're doing or how they're acting based on what somebody looks like."

counciltravel.com 1-800-2council

\section*{STUDYIN ZIMBABWE!}

Dipa Info Meeting Wednesday!
February 16th 4:00 pm at 500 Hall of Language

DIPA - 119 Euclid Avenue - Syracuse, NY 13244-4170. 443-3471•suabroad@syr.edu bttp://sumweb.syr.edu/dipa

Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center
Of New York Chiropractic College
S10 Erie Elvat
fon the cornet of Crouse z Eric Blud)

New Location Moving to a larger. state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

\section*{Hours}

Mon-Fri
9 a.m.-8 p.m.

Student Plan
Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Students deserve textbook choices}

The printed word costs a pretty penny these days, especially on college campuses.

Students thought they had found a way to slash the rising cost of their textbooks by buying textbooks from Internet booksellers.

But the National Association of College Stores has other plans. The association filed a lawsuit against Varsitybooks.com in October, charging the Internet textbook vendor with false advertising. The site hawks textbooks, claiming discounts of "up to 40 percent off" But the association's study of 44 books available on the site found prices to be comparable - if not higher - than university booksellers.

Syracuse University, an association member, backs the suit. University bookstore personnel reported that the site has failed to be forthcoming in their advertising campaigns, promising deals they don't deliver.

While the associations' claims may be valid, their study is hardly unbiased. Books sold off or Internet shelves have sent college bookstores running scared, and the lawsuit is likely an unfounded jab at these new competitors.

Most university bookstores monopolize the textbook market on their respective campuses. The convenience to swipe a university bookstore charge card may be tempting, and bookstores often abuse the privilege of being their students' sole option, pushing prices to ridiculous levels.

SU students need not go further than the Schine Student Center to understand this.

But Internet booksellers provide new options for cash-strapped bookworms, jumpstarting the market with some long-overdue competition. College students deserve more credit than the association gives them. Most students are seasoned penny-pinchers: Friceshopping between the Net and the university bookstore for textbooks shouldn't provide much of a challenge to those hoping to save a few bucks.

Students have no choice when rising tuition costs force them to pour dollars into university coffers each year. But they certainly deserve to pick where to spend their hard-earned money when it's time to hit the books.

\section*{[ dō]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Editorial Edito
Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Litestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Justin Siverman
Holly Auer Sapna Kollali Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger daet Desthriulh Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki
Kate Stevenson Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Corey Hann Cormor Emnis Jeff Passan Erin Boyle Elaine Sidnner Tito Bottitta Tom Maston Asst. CoDy Editor Ron Fooks

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Religious teachings differ in thought on God's attire}

It has become the opinion of American pop culture that the monotheistic boss of our universe is a lot like us - only bigger. The God of television and film is often represented is a booming voice from above the source of which is bearded, ominous, male and white.
God the actor is an Old Testament fuler. He is a powerful bully of a fuler. He is a powerful bully of a giant portrayal of Mount Sinai. This idea is strange, because Americans are of mainly Protestant faith and believe in a more indirect representation of God.

Kevin Smith's recent flop, "Dogma," gave us God-as-rock star image when he tried to convince us

\section*{EVAN}

THIES Alanis Morissette was anything but an aging Debbie Gibson wanna-be. George Burns, a lord of comedy, took on the role of the almighty for the movie "God," in which he played the least likely version of the Christian creator - a cigar-smoking, frail wise-cracker. If these deity representations are so absurd, than why are we to believe he is sitting on a huge cloud somewhere in a bright white robe? After all, man was created in God's image, according to Genesis. And that should mean it's more likely God is George Burns than some Zeus character, right?

As a Christian, I would think so. However, if that is true, that fact raises all new questions about the master of the universe. My first question is a problem hat has haunted the ages: Does wod wan I think the answer for Christians has to be yes. In fact, bet the Chistian God who lives above the clouds that the Christian God, who lives above the clouds Where it is very cold, suits up in the morning with some nice gabardine trousers. Doesn't the Bible keep calling him a shepherd? I mean, it's not So God wears pants. The next question is obviou boxers or briefs? OK, that may border on sacrilege.

But the question remains, and I think it's a valid one. However, the answer here is much more elusive, and must be broken down by religion.

Judaism follows along with my Christian logic. with the first of the Five Books of Moses: Genesis. The religions share prophets and beliefs with some dramatic schisms after those similarities. All that mat ters, however, is a common belief that God, at the time of creation, looked like you and me. I decl tory here, but other battles are not so simple.

Islam offers a challenge. The concepts that God rested on the seventh day of creation or that God is incarnate in any human being are considered blasincarnate in any human being are considered blaspherny by Moslems. In fact, according to the Koran, pannot forgive. In other words, I'm risking eternal suffering with just my premise. But I press on.

Buddhism emphasizes experiencing the truth for oneself. Therefore, there is no God, there are only the enlightened. Once a Buddhist is enlightened, though, he achieves an omnipotent state. Consequently, a Buddha, or "awakened one," is God-like. Buddha and Buddhist monks wear only cloth robes. Therefore, Buddha is exernpt from this debate. Apparently, enlightenment is warm - and a thin garment away from becoming a nudist colony: And personally, that makes me feel better.

Hinduism is much trickier. Polytheistic religions mess with my theory. Each god in this faith does his or her own thing. There are humanoid depictions of Hindu gods, but some Hindu deities also take on ani mal form. I'm going to say "not applicable" here just to save my thesis. Although, Hinduism gets credit with me for sheer uniqueness and verve.

After all that, the question of undergarment choice sxill waits for the Christian, Jewish and Islamic communities -much like my ex-communication from the Catholic Church. After this colurnn, my devout grandparents will arrange the trial. But really, Nana, didn't you wonder about this when you were in Sunday school? There are just some answers a nun won't provide. She knows, by the way - she married the guy.
leader. I hope th parish priest, local rabbi or mosque leader. I hope they get on the horn to the people going with boxers.

Evan Thies is a third-year newspaper and political science major and is the former news editor of The Daily Orange. He is a reporter for Scripps Howard News Service in Washington, D.C.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Columnist fails to see} student activism efforts

\section*{To the Editor.}

In his opinion column in Monday's Daily Orange, Henry Y. Ghung took it upon himself to cast the clarion call for campus cohesiveness. Unfortunately, in doing so, he may have isolated the group

First, Chung makes no mention of the exemplary actions undertaken by leading campus activist groups like tion, Student Coalition On Organized Labor and Student Anti-Anthropocentric Reasoning Organization. Any obgervant champion of progressive issules would applaud their efforts openly The New York State Public Interest Research Group's strong support of pro gressive politics does not merit the label of "lett-wing," as progressive ideas are inherently non-partisan. Chungs characterization is more accurately a wing groups have ghown in embracing wing groups have shown in embracing NYPIRG has, in fact,

NYPIRG has, in fact, received student funding from Syracuse Unito provide a full-time staff to train and guide today's students into tomorrow's campus activists.

The Student Government Association's "verdict" to approve NYPRIG's funding came from an open, campuswide referendum held last year, in which the students of SU voted over whelmingly in favor of NYPIRG con tinuing its role on campus. Chung's ignorance of this vote is a clear indication of his failure to participate in what was a crucial step toward eliminating campus apathy.

NYPIRG's "proactive stand on authentic political issues on campus" is not limited to voter registration drives. ers last semester and regularly buses students to the Capitol steps in Alstudents to the Capitol steps in Alin higher education funding and for intricter environmental legislation restricter environmental legislation garding toncic waste and pesticides. It doesn't seem fair to characterize he impact of such an empowering campus force as minimal. Instead, NYPIRG's contribution to campus activism is what you make of it.

Don't delay, don't mourn organize

The Daily Orange

\section*{GREEK}
continued from page 1
advertising major and Kappa Kappa Gamma sister. Panhel never endorses drinking at any time, she added.

Panhel is currently engaging sisters and pledges in anti-alcohol and anti-hazing education, Walsh said. Many SU sororities plan to adopt a policy of not sponsoring al-cohol-related events, she added.

Despite their efforts, unfair

Ronswalle, an undeclared sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences I think people have a need to categorize people so they do it with the greaks," she said. "It's easier to do with the greeks."

Crane said the media reinforces these stereotypes by focusing on the negative aspects of greek life instead of their charity work

Some non-greeks, however, feel that the stereotypes are a fair portrayal.

I think the greek system is based on partying and uses phitanthropy to cover that up," said Allison Bellins, a freshman public relations major. Hou have to use beer to get people to join, thats ridiculous. That is one of the reasons I didn't rush."

\section*{POLICE}
continued from page 1
rally in Mullen's defense, Sweeney said. Many people confused the association's actions with the feelings of the entire police department, he added.
-The Syracuse Police Department did not condone this protest," Sweeney said. "The perception that the department was involved in the protest came across to the public.

Syracuse minority police officers responded to the rally with a formal apology to the girl and her family.

Mullen also wrote a letter of apology to the girl. He was required to retrain at the police academy, participate in diversity training and complete an eightmonth assignment that would keep him away from the public. The situation began Dec. 2 when Syracuse Police were called to a domestic dispute on Glenwood Avenue. Upon police arrival, a resident retaliated against authority by choking and attacking the two officers.

\section*{London College OF FASHION}

Fashion Design, Retail, Retail/Management COME TO THE INFO MEETING AT DIPA Wednesday, February 16 Th AT 6PM
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

Mullen arrived with reinforcemant police. Unaware of the situation, Mullen struck the girl several times with his nightstick after she refused orders to move back.

No minority officers were at the scene of the dispute.

Police arrested the girl and her grandparents and charged them with obstructing government administration.

Syracuse Police Chief John Falge, unhappy with the arrest, gropped the charges againsi the girl hours later, and initiated an Some police officers accused Falge of being unsupportive of Falge of being unsupportive of the officers who were involved in uThe de

The department is not commenting on the situation, because as far as wire concerned the situation is legally over. \({ }^{\text {* }}\) Sweeney said.

But questions of racism still linger, Pessin said.

Such incidents involving the police happen frequently and get covered up, she added.
"If (Mullen) were to see an incident like this happening, he would arrest that person immediately," she said.

James cited the need for greater role models within police departments.
"Obviously a situation like this hurts the community as a department necds to be proactive instead of reactive."

\section*{Hoce}

\section*{Oscar Picks}

The Acaderny of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences divided its Oscar nominations Tuesday between the old-school material it has always favored and the more cutting-edge efforts that once would have been unthinkable as contenders. The best picture lis includes Frank Darabont's "The Green Mile" and Lasse Hallstrom's "The Cider House Rules.- "Being John Malkovich" got a trio of major nominations. "Boys Don't Cry got a pair of acting nominations and Paul Anderson's "Magnolia" got three nods.

\section*{You Betcha}

Race tracks across the country will accept future wagers on the Kentucky Derby in a for mat that lets bettors 23 contenders or pick the "field," consisting of all of the other nominees to the race. Wagering opens at noon Thursday, though most bettors will want to observe the results of Saturday"s Fountain of Youth Stakes at Gulfstream before mak ing a choice. The pool closes at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, and at that time bettors lock in the odds on their selection.

\section*{Big Apple}

According to the critics there isn't much nostal gia in the New Yorker's anniversary issue. But there is a gallery of past covers and 10 quick snippets from pieces by hallowed New Yorker writers of yore - John Cheever E.B. White, Pauline Kael, James Baldwin and John McPhee. among others but most of the nearly 300 pages are devoted to new works by current writers and artists.

\section*{Sex Pot}

A retired sociology pro fessor has opened a museum in China that celebrates the coun\(4\} \begin{array}{r}\text { try's ancient } \\ \text { sexual cul- }\end{array}\) - (C) ture Formally called The Exhibition for Chinese Ancient Sex Culture, "the museurn features everything from cen-turies-old bronze marital aids to Qing Dynasty porcelain figurines entwined in rapture.

\section*{quote \\ of the day:}
"To live is so starding it leaves litule time for anything else. Ernily Dickinson

\section*{False advertising claim hits bookseller \\ GY COREY HANN \\ ing 40 percent discounts on textbooks and col- \\ These accusations are the result of a}

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Stumbling through the aisles searching for textbooks is becoming passe. Chic online retallers have made their ket, providing gindentwith a viable alter ative to traditional bookstores.

But with the competition comes controversy.

VarsityBooks.com received some unwanted hits on their site recently. The Naional Association of College Stores is accus advertising regarding their claims of providlege supplies.

The association, which represents the Syracuse University Bookstore and more than 2,800 other college bookstores nationwide, is not seeking monetary compensation VarsityBooks com to discontinue making their soncalled claims according to a press their so-call the release whe cannot stand

We cannot stand idly by when huge sums of money are being spent on deceptive aimed at students promotional campaigns representative of the NACS.
study, conducted by the association, comparing the online prices of 44 books from a variety of disciplines to the book prices in college offered at the same or lower price by the coloffered at th
"Even with all the advertising and publicity recently about the online booksellers and they offer, these findings show that at least with texthoks those claims may not always be accurate" said George Herbert president of the NACS. said George Herbert, president of the NACS.

See BOOKSTORE page 8

February 16, 2000

\section*{ATHEETICS}
continued from page 7
giate and recreational levels.
There is so much going on that it's hard to begin to predict the future," Lopiano said. "The numbers we are seeing are very pleasing. but there is still plenty of room for improvement, and think we"ll continue to see more."

In 1978, U.S. colleges and universities averaged 5.61 wom en's teams per school. By 1998 that average went up to 7.71 women's teams per school, according to the Women's Sports Foundation. In 1992, only 31.8 percent of NCAA Division I U.S. colleges offered women's soccer. In 1998, 83.1 percent did.

The growth is evident in Divisions II and II as well, even though many of those colleges don't offer athletic scholarships, Lopiano said.

Women now have their pick of sports - like rowing and water polo - in comparison to what was available when Lopiano was growing up, she said.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

With the success of Olympics sports like ice hockey think you'll continue to see schools adding new sports," she added.

Emerging NCAA sports such as ice hockey, synchronized swimming, water polo, archery, badminton, bowling and even squash are other sports gaining popularity among women.

At SU, women's sports are increasing in number as well, said Janet Kittell, associate ath: letic director.
"It's a reflection of what's happening on the national scene," she said

Along with three new women's sports teams in five years came added staff and facilities, Kittell said.
"Men's sports and women's sports are moving closer to be. coming equal partners, she said. Kris Sanford, SU women's crew head coach said she is pleased with the state of women's sports at \(S U\) and women's athletics has received adequate resources lately Syracuse is doing a phenomenal job with Title IX," she said. "We don't want for anything."

\section*{Changing times}

NCAA women's rowing has expanded over the past five years. In 1997, there were about 70 NCAA women's rowing teams. Today there are 128, with more schools jumping on the bandwagon.
-Rowing used to be totally an East Coast sport, and now there are programs starting up all over the place," said Lisa Love, associate athletic director and women's volleyball coach at the University of Southern California, in a Los Angeles Times article.

Rowing is a sport that requires a large tearn, which in turn means it can command up to 20 athletic scholarships, the most the NCAA allows for any wom en's sport. Those 20 schularships are going a long way to solve a big inequity: the apple amount of

\section*{PARSONS \\ summer 2000} intensive studies in New York and Paris for high school, undergraduate and graduate students, teachers, working artists and designers.
New York City: Session 1: May 22-"-3une 22 - Session 2: June 26,- July 27
Paris, France: July 3 -July 28
Parsons School of Design
Office of Admissions
65 Fifth Avenue. New York, NY 10011
Tel: 212.229 .8910 or 800.252 .0852 ext. 443
Fax: 212.229.8975 //www.parsons.edu
email: parsadmenewschool.edu

Parsons School of Design

A FREE 2 week program to help you quit smoking will begin Feb. 22, T/TH at 4 pm at the Health Center.

\section*{REMEMBER - RESIDENGE HALLS WILL GO "SMOKE FREE" NEXT FALL - GET READY! WE KNOW YOU CAN DD IT AND WE'BE HERE TO HELP!}

\author{
To register or for more info call 449-9019 or e-mait: htvanuec@syr.edu
}

Braught to you by S.U. Hoalth Services a The Office of Resitionce Lift: MELPING YOU TO GO "SMDKE FREF"

\section*{scholarships that go to football} players.
athletes fast," said U.S. Rowing's Sarah Taylor said U.S. Rowng's make rowing so attractive in the collegiate realm."

Susie Long, a sophomore information studies major, walked on the crew team as a freshman. Like 75 percent of the women who row in college, she had never touched an oar before a friend dragged her to practice a year and a half ago.

I started because some friends did it and I wanted to lose weight," Longsaid. "The sport just clicked with me."

\section*{Money matters}

With added scholarships come expectations, both for the student athlete and the coaching staff.
scholarse be going up to 20 "A full ships soon," Sanford said. sure for an 18 ship is a lot of pressure expectan 18-year-old kid. There istration as well. You have to win"

Another leap forward in the realm of wornen's sports is broadcasting. SU women's basketball games are being broadcasted by WNSS-AM in Syracuse, known as W-News, and Empire Sports, cable network based in Buffalo. The Women's National Bas* ketball Team has over 20 tele. vised games this season, and ESPN will air more NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship games than ever before, according to the Women's Sports Foundation. Olympic women's

\section*{BOOKSTORE}
continued from page 7
Betsy English, director of the SU Bookstore, said that she supports the association's claims and that the NACS has a genuine desire to ensure that this company is providing an accurate picture.

I don't believe they are being forthcoming in their advertising," she said stated that Varsity has also stated that Varsity Books.com falsely identifies the publisher's price, by giving their own "suggested retail price."
ly misleading the coln is totally misleading the college students," anid Carol Behr, director of Kennedy Bookstore at the University of Kentucky. "I think the college student shouldn't assume that they will be paying a lower price just be.. cause they are buying it online."

\section*{Butting heads}

The tension between these two organizations is nothing new. Varsity Books.com was originally a member of the NACS until the association rew formatted its bylaws and changed the requirements for membership, according to a report by the Los Angles Times and Washington Post wire service. Under the new bylaws, the asbociation no longer includes online diatributors leaving

To further the hostilitio the NACS filed their suit in Oc; the NACS of last year, just before tober of last year, just before their initial public offering on the New York Stock Gring on the New York Stock Exchange.

They could have sued us a year ago. But if their goal was to affect the IPO, it hasn't done that, said Jodi Gershoni, communications director at VarsiCynthia.

Cynthia D'Angelo, an execusive with the NACS, said the association supports online competition.
wake-up call to our atores that they need to market themselves better than before," she said.

Online companies, such as Varsity Books.com, have not made any significant dents in the market as of yet, the Harported. According to a poll configure skating is second only to the Super Bow in total viewing audience.

If there is a downside to the explosion of women's sports, it has been that many schools now have to cut men's sports programs.

Because Title IX made it legally necessary for schools to ofer exactly the same number of competitive sporting opportunities for men and women, many schools had to add as many as Give or six women's sports.

Colleges are doing away with non-revenue sports like men's wrestling and baseball in order to increase the number of women's sports teams.

Ardeshir Asgari, wrestling coach at California State University at Fullerton, sadin a Los Angeles Times article that he sees a dismal future for his sport.

Asgari isn't against the increasing number of athletic opportunities for women, but he said he can't see the fairmess in harming men.
"I understand about equity," he said in the article. "But where is the fainess in telling me there s no room for them?

Title IX will continue to produce women who will pursue sports and universities will continue recruiting female athletes. Nicale Garofalo, a freshman member of the women's crew team, rowed in high school before being recruited by SU last year.

I rowed all four years of high school." she said, "andi I still like it."
ducted by the NACS, two-thirds of the students surveyed were hesitant to buy books online for two main reasons - they wanted their textbooks immediately and wanted the option of being able to sell the books back to the bookstore.

Eric Kuhn, CEO of the online retailer, claims that this is misleading, pointing out that their service can provide studentswith their textbooks promptly.

We can provide students with textbooks as quickly as overnight, with an average wait of only three business days," Kuhn said.

Another common complaint is the safety of using credit cards to purchase books over the Internet. VarsityBooks.com boasts one of the highest encryption levels used in electronic commerce, but skeptical does not easily sway skeptical students.
"I don't trust giving my (credit card) number over the Net. After the slew of big online sites that were hacked last week, it only proves me more right," said junior biology major Robert La Duke.

Mike McDonough, a junior broadcast jourmalism major, said he thought buying online is too much of a hassle.

I would rather go to the bookstore and get them right away" he said. "It's not worth the Fisk getting the books "til To impr
To improve their image, the company has enacted an ag-品essive marketing campaign, coupons on eampus pad pla out large advertisements in colacing news papers. Benefits from newspaperg. Benefits from and, in some cases, stock tions and cash bonuses are of fered to student employees.

Bookstores, such as SU's have been trying to get more information across to their customers, rather then fimmicise said English "English.
Students have a lot of options with us," she said. "They can now order books from our Web aite and have the privilege of charging it to their bookstore the deals ary are wise of where the deals are."

When in Hell...

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Out of Town

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

No Point
by Ethan Schmidt
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline I HAVE BEEN AN IN- & WHO ELSE CAN I IDENTIFY \\ \hline  & \(\underbrace{\text { WITH TODAY? AFRICAN- }}_{0}\) (AMERICANS! \\
\hline \(\left\lvert\, \begin{aligned} & \text { HILL ARY } \\ & \text { CLINTON }\end{aligned}\right.\) & M UP AS AN AFRICAN ANERICAN ONCE ON HALLOWEEN. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

Eat the Lettuce
by Thane Benson

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 \notin\) each additional word 5¢ extra each bold word 5& extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Pre-paid by Deadiline: 2pm 2business days prior to run ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BYPHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 O Strom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 13210; Att: Classifieds,

EMPLOYMENT

\section*{ARTS & MEDIA JOBSIINTERNSHIPS}

 Room, Board. Laundry 8 Travel. Apply ontine a

Faegan's needs Senior Sunctay Disc Jockey. Nus be outgoing S have a ovverse CD collection. Apply at Faegan's counselors stcamp.com

GAMP CANADENSIS. Pocono Mountains. PA. Premier residential coed summer camp. Wo aro lo teach all genenc athetics, gymmastics, hockey lennis, mountain bikes, golf, motorgycles, outdion acventure, ropes, archerf, drama, video, photograptry, lishing, ws, watertront activities, ants and cratts, cooking and much more! Excellen tacilties and great salary! 6/2 1/00 - 8/18/00
Can ( 800 ) \(832-8228\) CaI ( 6000 ) 832-8228
SUMMER JOBSIINT ERNSHIPS THAT BUILD RESUMESI HORRZON CAMPS oller Training and Probiem Scting. Organization and Laundry of Travel. or Apply onling at www forizoncamps.ecm or call (g00)544.5448 lor more info
It you tive in North Jersoy, love sunshine, warm weather, kids: would like to meet new friends and have weeks and ovenings ofl... DO WE HAVE
THE JOB FOR YOU COUNSELORS and SPECIALISTS Large summer day, camp, Mon-Fri, General grap counsellors. walerfont 8 Gataing (LGTs). Tennis. gymnastics. video Gadio and cance. Contact Loren

Part tine jobs delivery dfivers, dishwashers appiy o Piza 143 Marshall St.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

University Bartending Classes
Student
Statt Soon
Discounts
Sisen www universitybartending.com Space is Limited

Service Tech. Bicycle +Lawnmower Assembly Experience Required. Can \(1-800-852-2453\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline V/ANTED \\
\hline Help Wanted \\
\hline Work tor an exciting College locused Internet compary at your sctwod! Looking for motivated ndividuals with strong leadership. entreprenerria! and business skills. Tech skills not required. Great experience, pay and options! Contact info Ouconnections.com \(^{\text {and }}\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular} experience, pay and options! Contac inloeuconnections.oom

Groory Dude! Get paid while you surf the interne!! it's that easy or PCs. Partione.
Computer Doeror. Marshall Sq. Man
\($ 1500\) weekly potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Required. Free inlomation packet. Call 202-452.7679.

\section*{Roommates}

Looking ler 1.2 roommates to share beautitul bdrm. apartment near Westeon business district 271-4965 +ulils. has laundry, oft-sireet parking Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apatmant close to cmmpus parking fireplate toundry \(487-5761\) Apartmant clase taundry \(487-5761\)

\section*{FOR RENT}

L(.)(.)K

\section*{August Lease \\ Furnished House}

Livingroom Diningrm 2 Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast 10 Month Lease

\section*{Call 655-2175}
for more info.
Apertmants close to campus claan 2-3-5 bedroomit zome with firreplac* laundry semiturnished reasonable price \(4 $ 7-5761\) University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Watk to Campus furnished laundry parking leasa \($ 875.00\) plus utilijes D.N.Ducker 445.1229

NEXT TO CAMPUS 22 Euclid, 4 bedtoorn, reasonable rent, tree parking, disthwasher, taundty, microwave, new porch.
Jerry or Tina \(474.7541,446-6318\)
Five bedroom House
Spacious five Bedroom, completeiy furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO five large bedrooms, and Two parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue some 9 month leases Responsible Landiord Call Gordon 476-2982

Rooms. Eff/APTs Homes & Town Houses
Everything you want and mare for your buck!
MOST INCLUDING
Security System with 1- Dead Bolt Locks Smoke, Heat & Sprinkler System Prices Ranging from \($ 225-$ 375 /\) month Kitchens include: Gourmet Sell-cleaning ovens Garbago Disposals. Microwaves. Distwashers Wall to Wall Carpets & Padding (like home) Laff-street Parking
Of-street Parking
Super a Lawn maintenance
Super Insulated (means low utilities)
Some Apts. include All Utilities & Fumished Such as \({ }^{\circ}\) Within Walking Distance to Campus Westeott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingston, Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
ocheck out your home OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICEI

Two Addroom Apantments on Euclid Furnished emodeled, laundry, parixing, 476-2982
Beautitul 3 Bedroom Townhousess. Walking distance to Campus. 3 Largo Bedrooms. lots of dostt space. 1 1/2 Eaths. Diningroom, Livingroom. Kitchen. Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups 469.8417 or \(476-9643\)

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

329 Marshal St
604 Walnut Ave
135 Avondale Ave
Available for 2000-2001
Fuly Fumished Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinisheć Hard Wood Foors Relinisher Harc Wood Foors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
University Araa 2-3 Bedfoorn furnished

\section*{Jim 668-7473}

Stop ciezn 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace, parking, laundry, \({ }^{\text {s }}\)

Ackerman Beautiful Large Furnished Flats: Houses 2, 3,4,5.6 Bedroonns. Perches, Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Fet OK \(446-3420\) 4Bedrooms, OaklandSt., 18tock ESF, 3Blacks Lawt Hospitasis, furnished, panking, Lausiry, porches, Excelient condision, August, 475 -0690

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS
SPACЮUS, FURNHSHED, DISHWASHER, 476-9933

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

Universty Ave. five bedroom House one block Irom Marshall Sturet furnished laundy parking leasa \($ 1,30000\) plus utilities D.N.Drucker \(445-1229\)
Ackerman Ave. 2.3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Furnished, \(500-5 / 01\) tease \(446-7202\)
For Ront: House 83 bdrm flats - \($ 250-$ 300\). Very Nice - Walk to SU. Availabla Aul
FM Feally Group 637.5195
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes I \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations / Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\author{
Apartments
}

1 Bedroom Furnished Unlurnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry arailatile. OH Suee arking. Call 422-7305

Ackerman furnished spacious two BdAm odt stree parking laundry lacilities utilities incl. 446-8576 1.2.3.4+5 bedroom apartreants. Fumished, all utities intuuded. laundry, parking. One blook availability. 446-9598.
825 SUMNER AVE 414 KENSINGTON RD (near Lincesstor Markel)
2 and 3 Bedrooms
Immaculate. Cisan, FAEE Laundry

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504
621 Euclid Ava
917 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfielo Piace
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondele Place
Available for 2000-2001 flly Fumished Laundr Mainterance and Management, Wail to Wail Cappet andlor Remodeied Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St 30 479-5005
www,universityarea.com
Univeraty and Consatock Very dose to Campus Efficiencies and 7 wo Bodrooms Socuro bido hamistred laundry parting 5375.00 to 5700.00

2 Bedroom Apis 202, 204 Osirom, 105 Euclid
Temace Large Aooms Hardrood Floors Avail Jun or Aug 446-5 186
ciean quiet 2 -bedroom two Hocks from SU/ ospitats. Furnished. All utilities paid. \(\mathbf{4 7 2 . 5 9 0 8}\) Jumb 1 lease.

\section*{LANCASTER AVENUE}

83 Bedroom Apartments
Outstanding Conciuin
Fully Fumished
\(424-0220 \times 428\)
1.2.3.4 85 Bdrm Apartments, Houses + Studios. Clecen, Spacious, Superior Condition, some recently prenova parking A74-6791
Four Bedroom on Ackermant, Furnished, Parking. Laundry, Carpet. Hardwrood Floors
Call Gorton 476-2982

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE}

\section*{AND FIVE BEDROOM} APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Furnished 2-5Bedroom Housas/Aparments Livingston, Surnnex, Ackerman, Euctid 469-6665 One +2 bedroom lumished apartments. Al uilitios included! \($ 370\) S4 40 mono One mile toom campus. included! \($ 370\). \(5480 / m 0\) One mite trom campus. Available immediaiely, May orAugust. 446-95s8.

Your off-campus
home for 2000-01
Nicely furnished
3 BEDROOM
apartments.
double beds
dishwashers
microwave
washer/dryer carpeted off street parking
owner managed

CALLTODAY
PETER 427-0052

\section*{ONE BEDROOM \\ APARTMENT EUCLID \\ AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO pensons free heat, great Location 476-9933.}

Best Buy on HarrisonSt. Clean Quiet. One-bedroom and studio

\section*{501 EUCLID STUDIO APT}

Perfact for one person. \($ 355\) per month 4494621 arge 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Watking cistance U. of street parking Laurdry, Call 422-7305. Ono Eedroom Apartments Close to Campus, ulizibos included, dak fioors, firt place, lurnished,

\section*{Great University Area}

Beautiful Modern 182 Bedroom Apts.
for 2000-2001
Come now and got your choice. All
Brand Now Appl (AC.Dtithwasher) Heat & Hot Water Inciuded. Security Buildings Wintercoms a Door
Releases. Custom Made Blinds Choics of Porch or Patio. Off Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro BusLine. 24 Hour Maintenance. Starting at \($ 550.00\). Call 478 -027e As for Patricia or Stop by our Office at Patricia or Stop by our O 116 Nowbury Hollow (Located off E Brighten)

\section*{The Daily Orange}

COLLAPSE
continued from page 12
who finished with seven assists but fouled out in the game's closing minutes, put SU up \(\mathrm{This}^{51-40 \text { wo }}\) time Syracal be the last hoop, as the found the hoop, as the Rutgers press remained a thorn in SU's side. "We needed some points pame and the end of the gress and we gotinto our press, said Stewart, the er and rebounder."We just happened to get a couple steals and make some crucial baskets.

Rutgers guard Tasha

Pointer would start the deciding run with a coast-to-coast layup. The subsequent press forced a turnover and after a free throw by Usha Gilmore and a jump shot by Linda Miles, Syracuse found itself holding on to a six-point advantage at 51-45.

Gilmore followed with another steal, and Pointer found an opening at the other end for a layup on which Ervin committed her fifth foul. SU was finally able to break the press after Pointer's deuce, but remained unable to convert.

After a Record miss Gilmore nailed a cruciai jumper to cut the Orangewomen's lead to two, at 51-49.

Syracuse had trouble again breaking the press, but in the process Gilmore fouled SU forward Leigh Aziz.

Anensuing argument broke out at the referee table as to whether Gilmore had five fouls. The long break, which had atudent band members chanting, "It's a school night," was enough to ice the forward, who missed the front end of one-and-one. Rutgers rushed forward in transition off the Aziz rebound. Stewart drove the lane, hitting a layup as Record fouled her.

Stewart converted the 3point play, giving the Scarlet Knights a 52-5I advantage it would never relinquish.

Another Sutton-Brown
turnaround jumper left the with 12 seconds to go.

Syracuse set up at halfcourt and Shannon Perry, woin finished with seven points and eight rebounds, n the cornot-handed James inconsequential attempt that fell short, as the refs whis tled her for traveling.

James finished with 20 points and six 3 -pointers But she missed the most important of her 13 attempts. "This one hurts," James said. "When you give every thing you've got, you put it on the line, and it comes down to one 3 -pointer and you just don't hit it. It's like back just to hit that one. knowing orangewomen No. 8 team in the country for the majority of the game is encouraging, especially with a matchup against No. 1 UConn on Friday in Storrs, Conn. real to is tough to just play eal tough and to really want to win the games as much as we did, Record said. And then to come down to the end and lose it. I'm just real sure that once we do turn that cor ner and once we do win those games that we're not winning now, we're going to be great. "Right then, people are going to start looking at us as the team to beat.

February 16, 2000

\section*{ENERGY}
continued from page 12
year with five players if we Bes
Beset by the rash of wounds and expulsions, Pitt lanova and Notre Dame. In another impressive perforanother impressive perfora 82-72 decision to the Orangemen on Jan. 19 at Fitzgerald Field House.

Forward Ricardo Greer posted a double-double with 18 points and 10 rebounds. every game, Greer ranks every game, Greer ranks fourth in the league in scoring at 17.7 points per contests and second in rebounding with 9.9 boards. Seabrooles Center Chris Seabrooks chippedin 17 points on 7 -forgshooting in the 10 -point Ioss. The 6 -foot-9 sophomore loss. The 6-foot-9 sophomore bullied past SU's Etan Thomas and Ryan Blackwell, keeping the Panthers in the game.

Thomas' defensive play this season varied from game to game. In Sunday's 71-67 win over UCLA, Thomas picked up three first-half fouls, forcing Boeheim to turn to seldom-used Billy Celuck.
"His defense is just not good enough right now," Boeheim said. "I was disappointed that two of his first three fouls were reaching in. We're not doing some things mentally that we can do."

Freshman gunner DeShaun Williams preserved SU's unbeaten record four weeks ago in Pittsburgh with a dazzling 23-point performance. The Orangemen triples in just 24 minutes.

For the evening, Sy cuse shot 57 percent from the field and an impressive 11 -for-23 from behind the arc. Turnovers, however, plagued SU 20 times over, opening up transition opportunities for the athletic Greer.

The inability to keep possession of the ball and retreat on defense killed the Orangemen in last week's setbacks to Seton Hall and at Louisville. The Pirates and Cardinals averaged 53 per ipping SU's man-to-man and 2-3 zone fronts. "We think take care of it," sophomore Preston Shumpert said. *But we haven't played as well over the last four or five games, especially at the defensive end."

The Panthers defense struggled of late as well. Big East opponents shoot 49 per cent against the Pitt, including SU's torching last month. Howland could steal a snippet of UCLA coach Steve Lavin's scheme to shut down the Orangemen. Lavin and several Big East coaches em ployed an ageressive zone hat eliminated Thomas as a threat and forced Williams, Bland and Shumpert to propel the SU offense from the perimeter.

Even with the zone looks, Syracuse continues to shoot better than 39 percent from behind the arc in conference play. Thit can get frustrating, Thomas said of working against a zone. "You can't do what you're capable of doing. if my teammates weren't stepping up, and nobody was different story. But we're punishing teams for (playing zone)."

\section*{[classifieds]}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave.

2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilitias included. Fully turnished. Rents start at \($ 275\). Refinished handwood foors. Wall to watl carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Lalindry. Parking. 24hour maintenance. wivi.universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet Air conditioned. Dishwasher. aundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven).
uwnurivity area Apts 479-5005

University 233 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flats Fireplace, Inished basement, Cat \(449-0109\). Two Bedroom Apartments Furnizhed, Harduocod Frooplacend Carpeting Pentry, Porch LEutndry, Parkin 476-2982

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Firealace . hardwod fioors, furnished, taundry, quiet building, close to campus, 476 -2982
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. \\
1011 EAdams \\
509 University \\
Cerpetad, Air Conditioned. \\
Furnishod, Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance. \\
University Area Apts. 479-5005 www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular}} & \begin{tabular}{l}
WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES. \\
WWW.UNIVERSITYHHLL.COM
\end{tabular} \\
\hline & FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dlshwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet,' Hardwood Floors. 476-2982 \\
\hline Larga 3 bedroom, 2 full bath. Walking distance S.U. off street parking-Laundry Call 422-7305. & \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Bedroom Ap: \\
Ackeman Ave \\
Fully Furnished Porches, Loundry Parking, Dishwesher
Owner Manager 682.2218
\end{tabular} \\
\hline APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS & \begin{tabular}{l}
Ackarman Ave niee 3bedroom llat, furnishod, stove, relfing. Laundry, firephace, garaga. \\
Avail lure ist 446-4279
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  & Houses \\
\hline Onandidwo Bedroom Herition Avoruas Leasess Cormmence Junt 2000. Lest Manth and Soasity No Pobis Nowod. Gratios Parmict & RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OA FVE BEDROOMHOUSE. THO FIREPLACES, FLARNISHED GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UINIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR VEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM ARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7

WWW.UNIVERSITYHHLL.COM

FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpel, 476-2982 WEBSLEASEVISTIT OUR SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
House For Rent 2 minutas Irom Main Campus
Seven Sds off sureet parking Phone \(458-0483\)
Clarendon 5t. 4 bedroom, free washer, dryer.
off-straet parting. availabio 5/15!. Call 432-3199
GREAT HOUSES,
GREAT LOCATION
 CALL BRAD 424-0218 423-2142
Charming English Tudor House on Comstock 6 Avail \(5 / 20\) 475-1012, ( 843 ) \(514-3881\)
Large Single Family funished thouse. Parking Large Single Famuly fumished house. Parkirgy. lireplace, tree laundry, dishwasher, mature tenants
682-3304

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709
(5) Bedroom House 721 Ostrom Ave
oft atreet parking starting esmas/ person (t)446-3693

PRING BREAK 2000
CANCUN*JAMAIGA*NASSAU space is limiled CALL TODAY!!
800-293-1443
www.StudentCity.com

\section*{MISC.}

As Noters prom the DAlly OfiANGE: As always, plaase use caution when reptying or being replied from ary advertisement in each issue, tor The Daily Orange does not take responsibility for ary misconoluct ressulting in comtact between yourseif and advertiser.

\section*{THE DALY ORANE}

\section*{NOTES}

Women's Baskethall \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { No. } 8 \text { Rutgers } & 56 \\ \text { Syracuse } & 51\end{array}\)

\section*{Orangewormen \\ (10-12, 3-8)}
\begin{tabular}{llll}
Player & p & & a \\
Record & 12 & 4 & 2 \\
Azizr & 0 & 7 & 0 \\
Perry & 7 & 8 & 5 \\
Evin & 9 & 4 & 7 \\
James & 20 & 0 & 1 \\
Wright & 3 & 1 & 0 \\
Tramment & 0 & 1 & 0
\end{tabular}

Scarlet Knights (17-5, 9-3)
Player
Stewart
Miles SuttonGilmore pointer
Hall
Harton
Washin
Fowler
Cunningham
\begin{tabular}{ll}
D & 7 \\
9 & 4 \\
8 & 4 \\
22 & 7 \\
3 & 3 \\
7 & 4 \\
2 & 0 \\
2 & 0 \\
0 & 3 \\
3 & 1 \\
0 & 2
\end{tabular}

SU opens with Buffalo The Syracuse football orangemen open their 2000 schedule on Saturday. Sept. 2 against the Suny Buffalo. Syracuse last hooked up with the Bulis in 1899, a 16-0 Orangemen loss in the Sait City.

Trips to Cincinnati and East Carolina are sandwiched around an open week for Syracuse. Coach paul Pasqualoni's team finishes September with a Dome duet with Brigham Young

October brings pittsburgh and Virginia Tech to SU, while the Orangemen travel to Boston College

Syracuse closes the season with consecutive road trips to West Virginia and Temple before sea-son-ending home games with Miami and Rutgers. The Miami game, slated for Nov. 18, will be a Saturday ESPN prime-time showdown.

For the first time in four seasons. SU will not participate in an ESPN Thursday night game.

\section*{Postseason picks}

Each Monday, Siue Pibbon basketball edito Joe Lunardi releases a projected NCAA Toumament bracke: on ESPN.com. This week, Lunardi shipped Syracuse to the West Region as a No. 2 seed. The Orangemen would play Eastern Washington in the City and a sin lake City, and a win would brith a Las Vegas. Lunardi pencits in Duke as the rop seed in the East, with Arizona No. 1 in the South. Cincinnati reigning supreme in the Midwest and Stanford a the top of the West.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When was the last time the Syracuse women's basketball team defeated a Top 10 squad?
yestorday's trivia:
Q. Who was the tast Syracuse men's basketball player selected in the NBA Draft?
A. The New York Knicks took John Wallace with the 18th pick in the 1996 draft

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 16, 200012

Syracuse point zuard Jakia Einvin fouled out late in SU's loss to Rutzors on Tuesday night Without thelf senior lazder, the Orangewomen sputtered down the stretch, including a three-minute scoreless drought

\section*{SU falters late, loses to Rutgers}

\section*{BY GREG BISHOP \\ Stafl Writer}

For 36 minutes Tuesday night, the Syracuse women's basketball team played the part of Cinderella to perfection, amassing a \(51-40\) advantage against visiting No. 8 Rutgers.

However, when the clock struck \(3: 44\) in the second stanza, the Rutgers press rorced the sipper or and the carriage turned back let Knights stormed on a 16 et knights stormed on a 16 front of 667 Syracuse faithful at Manley Field House

It marked the 21st time in 22 meetings that SU bas gone down to Rutgers. basketball try proud of my coach Marianna Freerman said. "I thought that we played very gutsy. I thought we played intense defense. I thought that we executed our offease and we were patient.
"We caught Rutgers on their heels. The play, the desire of the team. I was very, veryproud of and think that Rutgers feels that they got out of here very they got out of here very lueky."

For a while, everything seemed to be going the Orangewomen's way. Jaime James capped a 16-4 Orangewomen run to open the second half with a 3 -pointer from deep in the right corner near the Syracuse bench

At that point
At that point, Rutgers head coach gind Freeman's alled a called a timeout. Freeman said she told her troops at halftime to expect what came next, but rusimplementing of the full-court press - which she did after Rutgers' \(77-41\) victory earlierin the season - proved to be the game's turning point. "When we went into halftime. I told the team that we were going to have to handile their 55 press," Freeman said. 4 worked for (Stringer) for 10 years. kind of know how she thinks. (At University of Iowa) it worked, and she believes that if it ain't broke don't fix

Rutgers stormed back with a vengeance, pounding the ball inside to center Tammy Sutton-Brown for two quick baskets to draw Brown 10 . The 6-100tw bran han her defensive counter part, Beth fecord - finished With 22 points and five of-

Another quick bucket by Shawnetta Stewart off an offensive rebound trimmed ters controlled the offensive gers controlled the offensive boards all night, garnering 20 second-chances to SU's nine and out-rebounding the Orangewomen 33 m 29 .

Syracuse wann't ready to
Two free throws from fold. Two free throws from point guard Jakia Ervin,

See COLLAPSE page 11

\section*{Sputtering Pittsburgh travels to Syracuse}

BY DAVE CURTIS Sports Editor

Giggling and signing auto graphs for dozens of local young sters, Tony Bland furiously pedaled a stationery bike at the end of a Syracuse men's basketbal squad practice Tuesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, a handful of his teammates hustled through indi vidual shooting drills on the Car rier Dome hardwood with assisLant coact Orr

Despite head coach Jim Boeheim's concern over his team's lack of spunk the past fortnight, the No. 9 Orangemen (20-2, 9-1 Big East) appeared energetic.

All seemed well in SU hoops' hangri-La.
When Boeheim dismissed his troops, a tiny crew of taller men headed toward the Carrier Dome court.

Numbering eight strong and dressed in black and gold warmups, the depleted Pittsburgh Panthers (10-11, 2-8) limped into another pregame practice.

In contrast to Syracuse, the Panthers passed and dribbled in near silence. While six guards and forwards worked at one end, two Panther big men rotated against a diminutive, balding post defender - head coach Ben Howland

The two teams, bookending the conference standings and the morale meter, knock heads at \(7: 30\) p.m. tonight at the Carrier Dome. me lead over Seton Hall in the game lead but seton Hallin the conference put exprs. the gritty Panthers good basketball riphtaying some good basketball right now, Boeheim said. "Every game we have the rest of the way is difficule."
tains a couple of highlights fromits first 21 games, the team's roster seems to dwindle each week.

Before Sunday's \(72-65\) loss to Georgetown, Howland kicked guerd Kellii Taylor off his roster. The senior reserve failed a schooladministered drug test.

Three weeks ago, Howland sent junior college swingman Derrick worrell packing for holding a pror attitude toward the gage police program. Alsored forward Isaac Hawkins for marijuana possession.

The Panthers took hits before che new year as well. Two walkons quit the team, and freshman forward Donatas Zavackas received a three-game suspension during an investigation of longdistance telephone calls made with

While sittins codes.
While sitting, Zavackas joined a partial academic qualifier and a transfer in strect elothes at the end of Howland's bench.
"It's something that's unfortuPress. "For the long haul, we're doing the right thing We'll finith the

See ENERGY page 11

\section*{THURSDAY February 17:2000 \\ 24/11 Cloudy with scattered snow showers
Friday:
Snow 28/22
Saturday:
Snow 35/17 \\  \\ Board
TO DEATH \\ Orangemen hit the glass en route to an 83-62 win against Pitt. See Sports. \\ Sexual Overdrive Sex addicts just can't get enough. \\ See Lifestyle. \\ }

\section*{Election 2000}

\section*{Giuliani visits Syracuse}

BY JOY DAVIA
Special Projects Editor
New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani visited an Armory Square Irish pub in Syracuse Wednesday night -a carmpaign of senatorial candidate Hillary Rodham Clinton, Giuliani said.
\({ }^{4}\) I am here on a real issue, the heat oil crisis." he said. "This is what a senaoi crisis. he said. This is what a senascripted appearances."

Giuliani, who has not officially announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, said he is presswing President Bill Clinton to address an issue affecting the entire state - the rising cost of heating oil for New York residents.

Returning from a visit to Plattsburgh, Giuliani said he decided to stop at Kitty Hoyne's Pub, 301 W. Fayette St., on the way back to New York City, He said he was not in fluenced by Hillary Clinton's stop last week at Syracuse University.
"If the issue had not come up, I would have come up a few weeks from now," he said.

New York state spent \($ 14\) million \(10 $ 15\) million last year to pay for heating oil. With prices soaring 100 percent to 250 percent last year and even higher during the past three months, Giuliani against the president and force him to have major oil producing nations release strategic petroleum reserves.

President Clinton released \($ 125\) million in government aid Wednesday to help needy families pay the growing costs ornment also made \($ 130\) million available in home-heating aid About \($ 34.3\) million of that money went to New York state.

Giuliani said that was not enough pain president who clains to feel Yorkers," he said.

Only when oil-producing nations release their petroleum reserves will New York residents start to see a decline in their heating bills, Giuliani said. He added that the president is reluctant to force oil-producing nations to release the reserves because it is not in the best interest of the United States.
"Mr President," Giuliani said, "we're part of the nation."

See GIULIAN: page 4

Now York City Mayor Rudy Giullant, likety Republican candidate for tite stabe's U.S. Senate \(\begin{gathered}\text { RACHAEL }\end{gathered}\) seat, urges President cuinton to pressure oilproducing nations to share reserves.
Mayor counters criticisms of Upstate neglect

BY KAEE STEVENSON Asst News Editor

Probable US. Sennte candidate Furdy Givliani datended criticisms Wednesday that he neglects Upstate New York in his cainpaign visits.
those gathered in Syracuse's Armory

Square district that he does not visit Upstate New York as much he would fike because of' his hectic schedule as mayois.
"I have a day job," Giuliañ said. - I work for a living I am minajor of the largest city in the country. It's a tough job?
Univoe Burns, Chairman of the Syracuse University College Republicsins, agreed that

See GOP page 7

\section*{Flemma awaits decision}

\section*{tiffany lankes}

Asst. News Editor
After the Jan. 13 removal of Jay Fiemma from his position as an adjunct professor in the music law department, the university will reconsider his position this week by reviewing an consider his position this week by reviewing an appeal Flemma filed Feb. 9.

Flemma, who is a 1993 graduate of the Syracuse University College of Law and an associate lawyer with Smith, Sovik, Kendrick and Sugnet, P.C. in Syracuse, appealed last week to the Department of Human Resources in response to a harassment complaint that one of his former students, an SU senior, filed with the Syracuse Po lice Department Feb. 8.

The senior had been receiving unwanted emails and phone calls from Flemma since Octo ber, according to the police report.
dents with the Department of \(\mathrm{H} u\) man
See FLEMMA page 6
Graduate Affairs
Moore speaks to Senate
BY NICK SERRANO
Staff Witer
Staff Witer
Former Graduate Student Organization President Zac Moore urged GSO to look into the academic appeals processes available to Syracuse Universiy students Wednesday night during a GSO Senat meeting.

Moore is waiting for a decision on his own appeal to the Syracuse University Senate, accusing a geography professor of plagiarizing his work and mistreating him in a graduate class two years ago.
"T'm asking you to demand that students be pre sent in decisions that impact the student body," Moore said to about 30 GSO senators. "Now is the time to say that we demand the rights, respect and recognition that we have earned as students of Syracuse University"

See MOORE page 8

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{Council discusses plant, local sewage concerns}

BY RYAN DONOHUE
Staff Writer
When it rains on the Syracuse University Hill, it stinks in the city, argued officials at a Syracuse Common Council meeting Wednesday.

Heavy water flow into street grates around the university and from other parts of the core hackups in the city, sewage backup

Large amounts of rainfall and melted snow are diverted into nearby Onondaga Creek to help prevent the backups, but only after mixing with the human excrement that also runs through the city's sewers. This happens between 50 and 60 times a year, they said.
Lewis, the Syract" said Minchin Lewis, the Syracuse city auditor.

Not only does the creek smell bad, but it flows into Onondaga Lake - already one of the country's most polluted bodies of water, he said.

Lewis supports a plan to build a treatment facility on clean polluted water on overclean polluted water on over-

See COUNCIL page 6

\section*{University funds improve security}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Safety measures including additional exterior lighting and the installation of two blue lights on Syracuse University's South Canapus are estimated to cost the university more than \($ 50,000\), said Mark Owezarski; an SU spokesman.

Funding for the installation of security devices came from a general university construction and maintenance fund, he added.

Phans io estabish a Ded ment of PublicSafety station with a force of five officers to monitor the area

The blue lights and exterior ching were installed during winter break, said Virginia Denton, director of the SU Office of Design and Construction.

The establishment of Public Safety's new "sub-station" in the Goldstein Student Center on South Campus will result in a greate presence of authority, Owczarski said. The station will open at the be ginning of the 2000 Fall Semester, he added.
IIt will be a mini-version of what's in Sims Hall with officers and staff to assist people with questions, " Owcearski said.

The new station will be able to respond to South Campus problems caster and allow Public Sarety to be more recognizable and familar to ssid. ssid.

Calls from South Campus residents currently go to the Sims office on North Campus.

The changes on South Campus were spurred from recommendations of the Advisory Committee on Campus Security in 1998, Owczarski said. The committee is mandated by state law to serve as a forum for students and stafr to express their safety needs and specifically to address sexual ussaults, he said.

The purpose of it is to have a greater presence of security on South Campus and make Public Safety closer and more available," Ow Denton

Denton said the Office of Design and Construction also installed exte rior lighting in the back of 33 apart ment buildings and put up thre the entrances to the complex

The signs make it obvious it's See SOUTH page 8

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Spielberg impostor} starred in porn film WASHINGTON, D.C. - More than a year before Jonathan Taylor
Spielberg began attend Spielberg began atte
ing a Catholic high ing a Catholic high be the teen-age nephew of Steven Spielberg, the Fairfax City, Va., men wrote and starred in pornographic movie. Shortly before making the onehour flick, a van ty production that Spielberg appeared on a Spietberg appeared on a racy Los Angeles cable an 18 -year-old relative of the famed filmmaker. the famed filmmaket Spielberg's foray into the porn industry in the sum mer of 1996 is raising concems among parents and officials at Paul VI High School, where, until police arrested him last month, Spielberg mingled with much younger stucents for nearly two years.

Spielberg has since been charged with mis representing his age and possessing child pormog raphy. Fairfax City police are also investigating his relationship wih Pau students Monroe's foster
sister, Coddard, dies
LOS ANGELES -
Eleanor "Bebe" Goddard, a foster sister and teenage fnend of Noma lean Baker, better known as actred. Goddard was 73 died. Goddard was 73.
Frequently a spokeswoman at gatherings of Monroe tans, Godtard Monroe tans, Goddard Health Center in Santa Monica. Her close friend Steve Campbell. saic the heavy smoker and activist for smokers rights, who attributed her health problems to air pollution surrounding her Burtank home, died of emphysema.

Only six months her junior, Goddard had long outlived Monroe, who died Aue, 5, 1962, at age 36 of a drug overdose that was ruled a suicide.
Consumer-Case
Judge Riley, dies
Former Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge Earl F. Riley. who presided over early civil consumer protection trials involv ing asbestos and th Dalkon Shield birth died. He was 79 . Riley, who served on the court from 1971 :o 1987 and later conducted private arbitration disputes. died Sunday in Kona Hawain, of a cerebral hemorthage, said his wife, Susan Canter.

\section*{Russia, NATO mend ties}

MOSCOW - Russia agreed today to resume relations with of a new Cold Warcreated 11 months ago when Moscow broke high-level contacts with the Western alliance to protest its bombing of Yugoslavia.

Acting President Vladimir Putin reached the surprise agreement with NATO Secretary General Gearge Robertson in a 45minute Kremlin meeting. It was one of Putins most significant foreign policy decisions since he assumed power seven weeks ago, and was greeted as a simn here that he wants to reach out to the west. Russia's break with NATO in March over the conflict in kosovo - a breakaway region in Yugoslavia, Russia's historical ally isolated Moscow from the West. In velcoming Robertson to the Kremlin conference room, Putin said he was ready for closer relations with NATO even though last year's atNATO even though last year's attacks still complicate the relationtacks ship.
ship.
Signs of a possible thaw were evident as early as July, when Russia sent its ambassador to Berlin to ing operation in Kosovo. But the Russian zovemment continued to boycott sessions of NATO's permanent joint council, a fortum set up for its 19 members and Russia to discuss any issue that threatens peace.

While Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov did not say when Russia will return to the counci, he told a Russian television station tonight: happencd happened. Let is leave happened happened. Let us leave it for history ... We must move forward. We have new challenges, ward. We have new challenges, there are new problems, and we have solve these problems tohave to

\section*{national news}

\section*{Governor gives inmates rights}

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton said Wednesday he is "quite favorably disposed" toward a new proposal to grant all death row inmates a chance to prove their innocence by chance to prove their innocence by using DNA testing

At his first formal news conference of the year, Clinton, a death penalty supporter, praised as "courapeous" the recent decision by Republican Gov. George Ryan to suspend execubions in limois after several hicted murderers awaiting evecution were exonerated.

Clinton said that no such moratorium is needed in the federal prison system, where 27 prisoners, including Ofklahoma City bomber Timothy J. McVeigh, are on death row.
The president also said that he likes legislation introduced last Friday by Sen. Patrick.J. Leahy, DVt, that would provide access to DNA testing for federal and state convicts.

Clinton said the Justice Department is also conducting a study to determine whether the death penalty is disproportionately appruidelines for clemency petitions.

\section*{Calif. debates same-sex marriage \\ Clinton acts to ease oil crisis}

SACRAMENTO, Calif. Trailing in opinion polls, foes of a ballot measure to ban recognition of same-cex marriage in California took their campaign onto television this week, hoping to sway voters against an initiative they call mean

With 19 days rer
With 19 days remaining before the March election, opponents are scrambling to pump up the vol hampered early on by slupgish fund-raising.

In two new ads, foes tell view. ers that the initiative - just 14 wards long - is not as simple as it subtext that harms gays and les:bians and intrudes on people's private lives.

One spot, which began airing Tuesdiay, says the measure's author, Republican state Sen. William "Pete" Knight of Palmdale, Callf. has a gay son of whom he disap proves and is making Californians te on his private problem.
The other, which debuted Wednesday, says the initiative could lead co increased violence against gays and lesbians and spawn new laws discriminatin against them.

\section*{world news}

\section*{U.N. official protests strikes}

UNITED NATIONS Hans von Sponeck, one of two senior U.N. officials who resigned this week to protest the impact of economic sanctions on Iraq. said Wednesday he will also present a farewell report on the devastation caused by U.S. and Britinh airgtrikes on lragi terri. tory.

The career U.N. official from Germany, Who is responsible for overseeing the distribution of humanitarian goods in tion of humanizarian goods in Iraq, infuriated U.S. and British officials by writing a similar report on airstrikes last year. Von port on airstrikes last year, Von issue before his March 31 departure was viewed by American officials as a parting act of def. ance against the allied powers for mone pus.
The United Nations and the Iraqi goverament are at an imiragi Eovernment are at an inapasse over the December resolu tion, which offered to suspend with a new arms inspection commission. Iraq has refused to allow the inspectors to return.

\section*{Rau requests} forgiveness

JERUSALEM - In an address as significant for the langrage in which it was uttered as

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Clinton today ordered the release of the remainder of federal heating assistance money to help families in the Northeast hit hard by this year's cold weath er and the soaring cost of home heating oil.

Clinton said he ordered the release of \($ 125\) mailion from the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program to help families who must rely on oil to heat their homes. He sand that amount was year. The president also said he gency funds for the program in his supplemental budget request. That would ensure that is money to help other people during the hot summer montits.

The government aiready has provided \($ 200\) million in LIFEAP funds in an effort to offset the ris ing cast of heating oil.

The announcement came on the sarne day Energy Secretary Bill Richardson met in Boston with leaders of industay and consumer groups about fuel costs.
its conciliatory tone, German President Johanaeg Rau on Wednesday asked larael's par liament to forgive his nation for the Holocaust and pledged to fight a resurgence of anti-Semi tism and far-right extremism in Europe.
Rau's speech, the first ever delivered to Israel's Knesset in German, was greeted politely by lawmakers, many of whom praised his efforts to strength en the ties between larael and responsibility for his nation's past. But several legislators boycotted the session, calling it "premature" to allow such an address to a body that still includes Holocaust survivors.

\title{
campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}

EThe Caribbean Student Association presents the Haitian film "Krik? Krak! Takes of Associm "Krik? Krak! Takes ofa ial
Nightmare" from 7 p.m. to 10 Nightmare" from \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). to 10 p.m. in the Gifford Auditorium.
- Schine Student Center hosts "Careers in Cyberspace" from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. in Room 304.

Wil-Anon meets at noon in Schine Student Center, Room 233.

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Phi Beta Sigma hosts a dance party from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. in Goldstein Auditarium Box Office.

\section*{FRIDAY - SATURDAY}
( UUCinernas presents Deuce Bigalow: Male Gigolo" at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in Gif tord Auditorium. Admission is follows at midnight with free admission.
- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m.

\section*{SATURDAY}

语 The Mental Health Association of Onondaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing parents covering par enting, emotional and legal is sues. The class is from 9 am . to 1 p.m. at the Mental Health Association, 3049 E . Genesee St. Admission is \($ 20\), but no on is turned away because of inability to pay. Call 445-5606 for more information.

W Phi Beta Sigma hosts the Black Expressions Ball in Goldstein Auditoriuma. Doors open at 6:30 p.m, with dinner an hous later. The program will follow at 9 p.m. Tickets are available at Schine Box Office.

\section*{Correction}

In the Feb. 16 edition of The Daily Orange, former Pennsyl vania judge Mitch Crane was misidentified as a Sigma Alpha Epsilon brother. Crane is a member of the Sigma Phi Ep member of the

The D.O. regrets the error.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news missions are also accepted via e mail at news@dailyorange.com.
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on carmpus with the firs five copies complementary and each additional copy conct \($ 1\).

\section*{E Multicultural Affairs} Harding remembers King's legacy

BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer

One of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr's biggest concerns was how to deJris buggest concerns was how to develop a better, safer country; said thevelop a better, safer country, said theology scholar Dr. Vincent Harding, a friend and follower of King.

Harding spoke to an audience of more than 125 students, faculty and area residents tVednesday night and Maxwell Auditorium for the 17th Annual Dr. Martin Fing, Jr. Memorial Public Affairs Lecture. It was presented by the African-American Studies ciepartment.

Upon witnessing the assassination of President Kennedy on television," Harding said of Kirms. Whe told his wife that this was a violent country, and that he probably would not live to see 40."

When King walked away from his famous march on Washington in 1963, he dealt with many sacrifices, Harding said. He watched many of his followers die, Harding added.
"But the man kept going, kept dealing, kept determining and challenging for our freedom, even though he knew the costs," he said.

King was rewarded for his hand work and suffrage 1964, when he received the Nobel Peace Prize, brought a series of federal immigration acts which King considered a victory because it was a step in in crensing the rights of minorities, he said.

King knew his movement had opened up the door to a new Ameri ca in 1965, Harding said. King then had to face his fears move forword, he added.
"Perhaps King's greatest fear of all was the far that nothing could be done to change the past," he said done to change the past, he said that his people had been oppressed for more than 300 years. From the days that slavery was fought, we knew that there was a better way."

King's final two years were dedicated to exploring a nonviolent United States, protesting the Vietnam War and confronting U.S. poverty, Harding said.
"As one who loved the poor and his country, he could not be still during the Vietnam war," Harding said. He spoke out against the country's involvement because he loved his country"

Such opposition to the status quo is required in a leader, he added Harding then concluded his speech by reflecting on King's last days.

Of course we need to pay great 1963 ". Harding said "But bis fin years of life are the most unfamilia years, yet they are in my mind relevant to the 21st century",

He said King told his followers during his last night alive that they had the opportuaity to make the Inited States a better country.
Harding then confronted

Harding then confronted the audience about the state of Fing's beliefs and legacy and their melcvance

It's in your hands, the future At's in your hands, the future know the answer."

The speech was followed by a brief question and answer period, when audience members asked Harding about the 2000 presidential campaign, as well as his personal feelings about the Civil Rights Movernent and helping the poor.

The audionce gave a positive resporase," said Winston GradyWillis, an assistant professor in the department of African-American Studies. "Their presence was great. The ability to fill a room like this is a very important statement. It shows that people in Syracuse really care:" In 1969, Harding was a founding director of the institute of the tank" tank," Grady-Whllis said

Harding has also been involved in many other famous projects, into "Eyes on the Prize", a public tcle

Vincent Harding a friend and follower ADEET DESKMUKH/The Dazly Orange wpeaks Harding a triend and follower of Dr. Martin luther King Jr., speaks Wedresday night to a Maxwell Auditorium audience.
vision series dealing with race issues, on violence and oven capitalism," and writing three books about King Idani said. "Many people are not - his most known book being There is a River" Gredy-Willis said.

Michaeljulius Idani, a junior information systems and technology major and former president of the Student Government Asseciation, said Harding brought up enlightening, interesting points on King's latter years.
\({ }^{\text {ars }} \mathrm{He}\) discussed King's attacks aware of this. I was glad Harding brought it up."

Audience members lauded the university's decision to bring Harding to campus.
audience" said honor to be in the Enclish pe, said Susan Edmundis, an Enclish professor "I think that this is the best thing SU does all year."

\section*{Police Reports:}

\section*{Break-in occurs at}

Staff Reports
Lisa Baker, a Syracuse University graduate religion student, returned Monday night to her apartment on the 600 block of Westcott Street, and found the back door open and the lock broken, according to a police report
No one was in the house and nothing was missing or misplaced, the report said. There were no mariss on the door or footprin report said.
Baker said she called the police, who searched the apart ment. Her upstairs neighbor did not hear or see anything. she added.

There are no suspects, the \title{ graduate student's apartment

}
eport said.
Since September there have been eight reports of hoods around the university.

Syracuse police reported early Sunday morning to 939 Ackerman Ave. in response to complaints of loud music, according to a police report.

Nicholas Denler, a junior electrical engineering major, and Jason Gier, a junior architecture major, were cited for having a loud party with 50 people, the report said.

Denler and Gier said they were both cooperative with the police and apologized to both the officers and neighbors.

They had no further com. ment. off-campus patrolling in Au gust under the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative in an attempt to curtail the number of party citations in the area.

Compiled by Staff Writer Melisa Malchoff

HOT SPOTS/HOT DEALS!
South Padre Island
San Diego

Special Hotel and Car Rental Rates, too.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline HOT. SPOTS/HOT DEALS \\
\hline South Padre Island \\ \hline San Diego \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{GREAT ONE WAY FARES AVAILABLE!}

Book Your Discount Travel at:
cheaptickets.com or call 888-988-8408

you cound
BE GOING PLACES.
Check out
cheaptickets.com/springbreak
GHint: Alohas

Travel Stores: New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seatte and Honolulu
 Bird librarian questions air quality

\section*{BY STEPHANIE SILVER Star Writer} Bird librarian questions air quality

Six months ago．librarian Linda Ciciriello said she len Syra－ ouse University to file a compen－ station case that challenged the poor ：ir quality in Bird Library－ an accusation that has been on－ going since the 1980 s ．

The air quality＂sensitized＂ the 8 －year employee and left her susceptible to toxins found in cleaning products and perfumes， she said．

They took the tile or carpet out of the employee lounge two years ago and the chernicals they used to strip the adhesive left me too ill to work．＂she added．

At Wednesday night＇s Uni－ tee of Administration Operation

\section*{GIULIANI}
continued from page 1
The heating oil issue only re－ veal the president＇s unfocused ap－ proach to foreign policy and his in－ ability to defend the economic inter－ este of the nation，he added．

It is essential for a senator to challenge the president when nieces－ sars：Giuliani said．He added that his focus on state－wide issues，along with his record as mayor，proves that he is running a campaign of substance unlike Hillary Clinton． at you will do for them if they te what you will do for them if they do elect you as senator＂he said．

\section*{Giuliani foes}

Armed with bull horns and signs reading，＂Giuliani Fascism＂

Chairman David Bennett said \(1 i\) bray employees，especially women，have been fling com plaints about the building＇s poo ir ventilation system． plaints are under investiga timon．
＂A number of these employ－ eds are highly sensitive，said Bennett，a history professor．

When library represent－ lives met with AdOp in November to discuss the air quality issue， Virginia Denton，director of De－ sign and Construction，said the air quality was adequate．

Denton referred to a 1995 report by \(S U\) and an independent firm that concluded that the budded added．

These folks have decided that the systems don＇t work de－ spite the reports，＂she said．＂We are not trying to stiff them．＂

Library employees met with AdOp again in December where Adop again in thecermber where tets used in Bird．Bennett then requested a list of complaints from Bird Library employees， where they cited an outdated ven－ dilation system as the culprit，ac－ cording to the report．The list was distributed at Wednesday＇s meeting．

Kevin Atwater，an SU librar an specialist of 10 years，said the ventilation system is undergoing repairs，but problems still per－ wist．
＂The building was re designed a long time ago and the ed to accommodate the renova and＂Rudy Go Horne，＂several SU students protested Giulianis visit．

Citing the alleged Feb．4， 1999 under of Amadou Diallo by four New York City police officers，Sam Alcoff，an undeclared sophomore， said the students were targeting the police state Giuliani helped create． ＂Rudy Giuliani＇s name is syn－ onymous with police brutality，he said．

Members of SUS College Re－ publicans，meanwhile，grabbed a table in the pub and listened to Gin－ liani．

College Republicans Chairman Joe Burns said Giuliani interest in record as mayor will help hind his record as mayor will help him win in the November election． ＂Most of New Yorkers aren＇t of the Hillary Clinton elite said Burns，a junior political science and history major＂I think that＇U res－ orate with New Yorkers

Chris Ryan，College Repubif ans vice chairman，said that Gi－ lianis ability to rejuvenate New York City will work to his benefit in the elections．

He can do the same thing for the rest of the state，＂he said．

Ryan＇s campaign group Youth for Forbes recently ended after mag－ azine publisher Steve Forbes dropped out of the Republican press－ dential nomination race He said he s going to refocus his efforts on eloping to elect Giuliani．

Although he is giving his sup． port in the presidential primary to Texas Gov．George W．Bush，Ryan said the senatorial campaign has a reater effect on New York state． races in New York state in a long tons，＂he said．＂It can be a sick building to work in．At times the air is stale and stagnant and \(I\) find myself tired by midday．＂

In response to these com－ plaints，Denton said janitors were instructed to clean the il－ bray with water．But the em－ ployees still complained that they felt sick，she added．

The last test was conducted in the 1996 Fall Semester and confirmed the good air quality of the building．
＂The ventilation seems to be good on days that they conduct those tests which is definitely odd，Atwaler said is at her days，Ave seen people． matter of minutes．
Eliza Spear，a sophomore computer graphics major and time，＂said Ryan，a sophomore polit－ cal science and broadcast journal－ ism major．

Patrons who crammed into the pub prior to Giuliani＇s visit sipped pints of Guiness and listened to Irish music while waiting for the mayor to arrive．

Syracuse resident Dan Gayle said Giuliani＇s honesty and progres－ siveness will propel him to the win－ net＇s circle in November．He cited the drastic changes in New York City during the last 10 years as the rea－ son for his support．
－You can now go to Times Square at 1 am and feel very com－ fortable and very safe，＂he said．

Gayle added that Giuliani＇s work has been felt throughout the city and not just in the Times Square area．

To win a seat against the first ing department，said although she had not heard student com－ plaints，the air in the library - was ＂dry and dusty＂

USen graduate repress mia live Darryl Smith said although a small minority of emplesyecs complain about the air qua ality the issue should not be mar Esinal ized because it is a healer and safety issue．
＂It＇s been 16 years，＂he said． ＂How long is it going to tale to do something？＂

Ciciriello said student st that fall asleep in the library \(\leftrightharpoons u\) fifer from a lack of fresh airy \(2 \infty \pm\) ex． haustion．

Someday a student is Doing to get hurt and the univ Isity wont be able to brush it sander the table，＂ lady，Giuliani only has to be fuxrmself he said．
He just has to be a Never－York－ er，Gayle said That＇s it The nw get rid of the carpetbaggers．

Giulianits last minute decision to visit Syracuse surprised the own－ er of Kitty Hoyne＇s Pub，Pavid Hoyne．Hoyne said he rect 立ved a phone call at 8 pom．Tuesday night from the mayor＇s office asking to use his pub for a press conference

Thad to say yes or no，＂Ire said． ＂Sol said，＂Might as well，＂

Hoyne，whose brother－irz－law is a member of Giuliani＇s publīe vela－ tons staff，said the mayor wees look－ ing for a casual and low key Entrnos phere for his press conference
＂He＇s just here to have \(\Rightarrow\) good time＂

\＄5 fix or \＄6 cover at door night of event： （both w／SU ID）

\section*{dir．h．I．}

Friday
February 18th \(10 \mathrm{pm}-3 \mathrm{~cm}\)

\title{
Day／Flint Night
}
\($ 5\) fix or \($ 6\) cover at door night of event（both \(w /\) SU ID）

Tix＠Schine Box Office or at door w／SU ID

\section*{CILUIBS A B B TY}

Located In the Basement of the Schine Student Center

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Giuliani slinks to Syracuse too late}

Hillary Rodham Clinton and Rudy Giuliani are playing follow the leader.

And with Wednesday's quick stop in Armory Square, the New York City mayor proved that he's lagging a few steps behind the first lady

Giuliani skipped into town hot on the heels of Clinton, who spoke last week on the Syracuse University Hill. The mayor blames his belated trip on his downstate obligations, which he claims are keeping him from an upstate campaign launch like Clinton's.

But it's far too soon in the New York State Senate race for Giuliani to be resting on his city laurels. He won or lost his Big Apple votes years ago. Campaigning downstate would be a waste of his time and a disservice to upstaters. Leverpullers in upstate voting booths are the ones Giuliani needs to target as the campaign looms.

While Clinton sips coffee with grandmothers and colors with kindergartners in the North Country, Giuliani's lax, city-based campaign loses steam at every juncture.

He has lashed out at Clinton for running a glamorized, "Hollywood" campaign. But Giuliani, too, sports a perpetually camera-ready visage, flitting constantly between late-night talk show appearances and other press-padded photo opportunities.

And 2nd District Congressman Rick Lazio may be creeping up behind Giuliani while he sits pretty on his big-city cushion. If Lazio declares a bid for the Senate on the GOP, or more likely, the Conservative line, he'll surely steal masses of swing voters from the more moderate Giuliani.

While Clinton's statewide campaign is strong and getting stronger, Giuliani will need to take more than a few token trips across the Triborough Bridge if he hopes to score a Senate seat. Press-conference style appearances at upstate watering holes like Armory's Kitty Hoyne's Irish Pub won't satisfy the requirements of his Upstate New York tour of duty.

If Giuliani wants to capture the heart of New York state, he'd better realize that it beats north of the Big Apple.

Editor in Chief Dave Lovinthal Managing Editor Emity Kulkers

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Editorial Editor
Lifestyfe Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Edito
Presentation Directar
Photograptry Editor Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Edito
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Desirn Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editer
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

Justion Molly Aumer Supar Kolle Drwe Curtis Hoy Davit Bil Elnninger Adeet Deahurivild Nowat Austrow Lamra Prabueki Tiff Stivymasion Kevtary Lempoes coubir mione Cory Hinon Cownar Enrif Hntf Pasean Elin Boyle Elimo Slinimer
Fito Boteitan Tito Boteitim
Tom Milaron Tom Mancon Anmernwrie Bello Rion Feolik

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Valentine's Day reflection breeds ambivalence}

I thought Sunday was Valentine's Day - and I spent the holiday differently than I had in years past. While I was in high school, there junior high and elementary school it was a in of a classroom activity In college the das a mor

KAMIKA
FCD DONAED on a few different meanings. If you are in a relationship, it becomes a day to celebrate your romance. If you are not in a relationship, you either don't care about the day or you are saddened about the romantic affection you aren't getting from someone special. With the bellef that Sunday was Valentine's Day, I spent the day erying with a sour look on my face because I

Monday, realizing that it was actually Valentine's Day, I began to ponder the reasons why I was not happy with my love life. I. realized way. The marketing of Valentine's mg the sam maly the who are in relationshipe Flower any those who are in relationships. Flower ahops and candy stores make their money on this holiday by making single people feel as if they do \(n\) buying myself howers and candy does not resolve my issues with Valentine's Day and the depression it put me in.

I don't Iack male company, but I refuse to just take the first thing I can get. Unfortunately, a lot of womed think that they cant get anyone better than what they have. Women are sometimes ridiculed by men when they demand that their aignificant other be exceptional. Women who articulate what they want should be able to get it, but settling for "Mr. Right Now" leaves many unhappy single women, like myself, out in the cold.
The cruel reality of gender politics also leaves females like me out of relationships. The expectations men and women have for each other pull them apart. The desire for a man with money or a woman with a beautiful body is the most glaring example of unrealistic, and often unnecessary, criteria for a mate. Men and women also seem to put an emphasis on the past of a know how many people they each may have slept with, but they ask anyway. But this number real. ly shouldn't matter, as long as you care about the person you're with. "Understanding" someone (whatever that means) is not as important as accepting the other person for who they are.
Sex has a weird place in a relationship. It is always a catch-22 for a female. You do it too quick, and you're labeled a slut. You don't give up the drawers quick enough, you're given the equally ugly label of prude or frigid. A man's desire for sex is often taken for granted. Many women assume that the only thing on a guy's thind this is the main thing keeping beautiful relationships from starting. We are so busy using rex as a megotiating tool or a wapon forsy using tary gain that the act has lost its flavor, so to speak.
Ispent Monday ambivalent about the holiday. In the same breath that I wished people a Happy Valentine"s Day, I told them how repulsed I was about the day and the impending night I would be forced to spend alone.

Kamika Mc Donald is a sophomore broadcast journalism and African-American studies major. E-mail her at klmcdona@syr.edu

\section*{letters}

\section*{Non-greeks reap social perks of independence}

\section*{To the editor}

This debate about the greek system going on for the last few weeks - and for the 8th time in my Tush is mostly abouptlooly foolish. the undeniable truth. Ninety percent of people in houses will tell you that; the other 10 percent are liars.

The point is, it doesn't matter. In this great country, private organzationk can use whatever criferia hey wan to gairple muys and cirls kniting to let people, guys and girls, know that it's OK not to be in a house. I rushed twice I' and didn't t's true, I'm ugly, Ask anyone who has ever seen ma.

Anyway; Tve managed to live a happy life without being in a fraternity. And surprise, I even have a girlfriend - a very lovely one. Bat pick new members partially based on looks so they can continue to be inked by members of the onposite sex, which isn't so bad. And us goddamn independenta" can manage to muddle through, have a good tima and even get laid once in a while.

Paul Amin
class of 2000

\section*{FLEMMA}

\section*{continued from page 1}
at the end of the 1999 Fall Semester, Flemma was removed from his position.

University officials reported contradicting information, however, regarding the status of the review of Flemma's appeal. While Vice Chanecllor Deborah Freund said that the appeal was being reviewed by the Academic Faculty Tenure and Ethics committee of the University Senate, SU spokesman Kevin Morrow said that the appeal was currentily being reviewed by the Chancellor's Office.

The final decision on the appeal will be made by the Chancellor's Ofice, Morrow said.

Freund said she had yet to see the appeal.
(Flemma) left me with some materials, but I cannot rule anything based on that," she said. -What's happening now is it's going through the university system." The SU faculty codes on sexual harassment state that complaints filed against faculty, administrators and staft withinstructional responsibilities will be referred to the chairperson of the AFTE committec. The chairperson will appoint a two-person investigative team from a pool of faculty and administrators trained for this duty, according to the code.

The investigative team will determine whether the evidence is sufficient to conduct a formal hearing, the code stated.

The hearing will be held before a five-member panel composed of faculty, staff, students and administrators trained to resolve such cases, ache hearing in code. Sanctions of the hear tons clude possible suspension, tran fer or dismissal of the accused.
Though some students opt to follow precaute is under review while the appeal a leave of revence such as taking a leave of absence who filed complaints agrinst Elemma should haveno reason to do so Morrow said. There is no apparent threat to her safety, he said.

The semior, however, is out of town and could not be reached for comment.

It would strike me as un usual for the student to take a eave of absence after filing a complaint like this," Morrow long A leave of absence takes a she wasn't planning to come back for awhile."

The university does not en courage students to leave their safety in fear of their personal other ways to seek protection, he added.

It would be out of character for the university to do so," Mor row said.

Flemma left town Wednes. day and could not be reached for further comment.

\section*{COUNCIL}
continued from page 1
flow days.
"The ereek right now is an open sewer," Lewis said.

But others are fighting the treatment facitity plan.

Resident Rich Puchalski heads a neighborhood group opposed to the plant.

OnondagaCounty, which will build and operate the plant, could build it elsewhere rather than in a residential neighborhood, as officials now plan, Puchalski sait.

The county will construct he plant within an area bor dered by Oxford Street, Blaine Street, Midland Avenue and Cortland Avenue.

One apartment building will be razed to make room for the plant.

The area could see some physical improvements along With the new treatment plant. Areshly-plan of the facility shows reshly-planted trees lining the dents will be displaced resi dents will be moved into row

This spot was t
This spot was the caly one Suitablefor the plant, said of the Lake Improvem, director iect Office He saidement Pro borhood is a natural batin into which water flows. Ail the sew ers in the area drain into land Avenue, he said.

There is a different reason why the county chose this spot, said Puchalski, who works in the area.
"They wouldn"t put this in an upper-inc

Puchalski said the sewage

\section*{Campus awareness}

Public Safety Director Robert Robinson said the emotional and psychological consequences of harassment ofen present a greater problem than the physical damages.

Repeated harassment against an individual is rare, Robinson said. Few cases require addilional attention from Public Safety, he added

We don't usually see retaliation," Robinson said. "But that doesn't mean the victim is fearfree.

When you talk about those issues you need to consider sometimes of being physically harmed Ger of being physicalty harmed. we do and say about it thoughm do and say about it though. oyed no formal role in the Flem played no they deal frequently with harassment cases, particularly those involving phone ha rassment, Robinson said.
\({ }^{*}\) We do a very good job letting students know how not to be a students know it," Robinson said. "It's victimething, however, each person has to decide for themselves-

Thourh many students. me forth doubting the allegacome forth doubting the alleganior's friends support her in her efforts to keep him removed from the university, said one friend who wished not to be identined
"We know she's of the strongest character," the friend said. "We believe that any decisions that she's making are right. And we stand by her in that.
treatmen sale values on homes in the neighborhood.

He went on to say he does not trust the county's sevenyear timetable for finishing the plant, an epinion that former county planning director Cunningham disputed.

Some Syracuse officicis are siding with Puchalski e.en though the conflict pits the county against the city.

When the Council met Wednesday to discuss the facility, Cunningham faced questions from neighbors and councilors alike

The councilors are trying to halt the facility's construction while they explore other focation options. They are refusing to hand over the land tiales to the county so it can start building.

Onondaga County, which muce federal up the creek or face federa prosecution, faces deadines for approaching ceadines for the project. It plant by Mareh land begin plant by March and construction by May 1

The county will start to be finedas soon as itmisses a deadine: \($ 500\) for the first 10 days, \($ 5,000\) for each day days and \($ 5,000\) for each day after that.

Cunningham said he was told by the state to do everything in his power to make sure the city cannat delay the proceedings - including filing proceedings including filing

No solutions were reached Wednesday, but the Council Wedmesday, but the Council which streeta will be tora up at a meetiog set for next week

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc} Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors

Best Prices
Guarenteed Work

Mon. Thur Fri.
9:30-5:30
Sat. 10:30-2:30

Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{Activist condemns portrayal of women \\ BY BETH BRAVERMAN \\ portant issue right now" she said. \\ idea that we all have to scramble to \\ tion of women, as well as men, by}

Advertisements give women a negative impression of their bodies because they only show perfection, said Kathy Bruin, founder and executive director ofSan Francisco-based About-face, a group promoting positive images among women seannue Jacobs, a junior womens stur Tuesday in Shafrer the Building as part of the ninth annual Matrilineage Symposium, which is sponsored by the Committee on Women in Art.

Jacobs said she thought Bruin's speech was necessary for college students to hear.
Ithink chat especially with age group, body image is an im-

\section*{COP}
continued from page 1
Giuliani's mayoral responsibilities are legitimate reasons for not regularly visiting the upstate area.

II don't think it's going to hinder Giuliani too much that he's not campaigning up here, said Burns, a junior political science and history major. 'I think most Upstate New Yorkers realize he has a job to do. City need him.
"He's very busy running a ver important city" Burns said. "And he's doing a damn good job of it.

Burns cited the large press conference crowd Wednesday at Kitty Hoyne's Irish Pub, 301 W. Fayette St., as evidence of Giuliani's upstate support.
The

The two-term New York City mayor has yet to officially announce his bid for the Republican nominastate He crnnot rum form New York due to New York City term limits Burns expects Giuliani to Burns expects Giuliani to in7 Election Day nears, he said.
"He's certainly going to be making more stops in upstate," Burns said.

Giuliani's potential opponent, first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton, has visited more than 40 New York state counties and more than 30 college campuses in the state during her campaign, said Howard Wolfson, a Clinton spokesman.
to him, but Hillary Clinton is is up to him, but Hillary Clinton is going to travel around the state as much as she can," Wolfson said "It's tions of the state. It's critical to reach out to the entire state \({ }^{n}\)

Giuliani could also face opposition from U.S. Rep. Rick Lazio (R-

Bruin began a workshop by showing slides of magazine ads and ediorials that she said th

She asked members of the audience to express how the ads made them feel individually and what they believed the ads' creators were trying to convey.

Bruin said she wanted her audience of about 40 students and faculty to realize that the media are powerican society though shaping power is ignored or dismissed.

The media often project neg tive images even though their goal is to reflect the dominant ideas in American culture, Bruin said.
"The problem I have," she said, is when the culture determines any the idea of running for the state's U.S. Senate seat, from which fourterm Democratic Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan is retiring.
"It's great that the Republican party can find people interested in becoming a senator," Giuliani said of his potential adversary. He said the fact that he may have a challenger can find New York state residents to run for the Senate, but Democrats cannot, he said. cannot, he said.

The New York State Conservative Party has openly courted Lazio were to run partys ticket. If Lazio creates the potential for a three-way Senate race.

The Conservative Party often endorses Republican candidates running for state and national offices. Gioliani, however, said he feels that he has the support of New York state residents need the Conservative Parys support for the election. \({ }^{-1}\) can win without \({ }^{n}\) can win without the political party, he said

Running only on the Conservative Party line, attorney and busiin 1970 by New York state votected the U. S. Senate, despite GOP and Democratic candidates also on the ballot. Bucldey is the only minor-party canclidate in the 20th century to win this race.

Burns said he does not think Lazio's possible presence on the bal lot 30 years later will be a problem "As mur
"As much as I like Ricic Lasio, if he does decide to challenge Giuliani for the Republican nomirnation or to think Rudy Giuliani would crush him," Burns said. 'That's partly because he doesn't have the recogrition Giuliani does as being mayor of New York City:"

get into or determine that we are not good enough."

After the slide show, participants received postcards of popular advertisements and were instructed to do "anything you want with them."

Bruin gave them colored paper, scissors, glue and gitter for the project. Audience members then mounted their finished products on a poster The concept behind defacing idea postcards comes from the same daid She said she was bothered by the Calvin Klein Obsession ads feathe Calving an rudemodel Kade Moss.

She said that she found the ad rading and felt compelled to do something about it. She developed a something about it. She developed a replaced the ad's text with her own.

It read, "Ema
Bruin and her friends placed about 1,000 posters around the San Francisco area and received an overwhelming and immediate positive response, she said.

Her friends then developed into a dediented group of volunteers. Their biggest accomplishment is their Web site, Www.about-face.com, Bruin said. The site includes a gallery of companies that degrade women in their advertising, a hist of chandise chandise.
"The

The Web site is an easy and great way for a bunch of people without.

Bruin urged her audience to take a stand against the objectifica-the media.

I am true believer now in the power of individuals," Bruin said. my single thing just started from like four and a half years lnter and we've just reached thousands and housands of people.

Tiara Jewell, a freshman magazine major, said she was inspired by the program.

I think she encouraged activism. I know that I see a lot of ads in the media that really upset me but I am never really sure what to do, is saying go out and do what you want to do, see what you want to see, do something."

WRITE
A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

744 Ostrom Ave. 443-2128
doeditor@mailbox.syr.edu

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail at editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{- State Affairs}

\section*{Grant hastens Onondaga Lake clean-up \\ \section*{BY JOHN} \\ ing storms, the storm sewage mix- \\ ed by the grant, OConnor said. \\ The corp will also divert pable of ac}

New York state Gov. George E. Pataki announced Thursday that Onondaga County will receive more than \($ 20\) million to use as part of the 1996 Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act

Local industry polluted the ake in the early 1900 s by dump. nh metals and chemicals, includ ng mercury, into the lake. The current waste management hard ware is damaging the lake even urther, wid Nim o Connenta pokesman for U.S. Represe).

The local sewer system is outdated," O'Connor said. "The problem is that sometimes dur-

\section*{MOORE}
continued from page 1
Moore's case is an example of he lack of involvement SU allows for students in its appeals processes said Moore, an international relations and social science graduate stu dent.
"Faculty will rule with faculty:" he said. "They will ignore student ights unless we are present in the process. Because I am a student, the dean's office feels it doesn't have to address it."
hout halfway into Moore's peech. GSO Sen. Darryl Smith motioned for an end to Moore's comments and a move to the next order of business.
"I think it's inappropriate for you to be bashing a distinguished prolessor without him here to defend hinvelf" said Smith, a physics erad. hate student. "It's completely inappropriate for this body to hear this without all partics involved present es with raw seware and that coes into the lake,

The combined overflow is one of the most serious problems for Onondaga Lake, he added.

The county will use the grants to fund an upgrade of the sewers and reduce the amount of contaminants that enter the lake, said Maria Welsh, a spokes woman for the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.

The Army Corps of Engi neers, a federal group, is overseeing the Onondaga Lake cleanup process. The corp coordinates all cleanup efforts in Onondago Lake and will use the state funds to complete several projects fund-

Walsh enlisted the corp in early December, with plans to deca

Five projects in Onondaga County reccived the bond grant and will soon begin work, Welsh satid.

The corp will build new sew ersin the Onondaga Creel drainage basin and convert the existing sewers into storm sew ers. The new system will preven sewage runoff from lowing into the lake, Welsh said. It will up grade the Erie Boulevard sewers the Kirkpatrick Street Pump Station and build new sewe lines in the latter area as well she said.
sewage runoff away from the water Treatment Plant on Hiawatha Boulevard, a regional treatment facility being contructed to serve Syracuse's North Side, she said.

The largest grant, a \($ 10\) million dollar sum, will help construct pipelines to receive the combined sewer overflow and build a regional treatment facility on Midland Avenue in Syracuse. This proiect is intended to keep coxins away from Onondaga Creek, Welsh said.

Storage facilities along Erie Boulevard will house the combined sewer overflow until the regional treatment plants are ca-

New York state voters passed the Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act in a 1996 referendum. The bond act allocated \($ 1.7\) billion to address pressing environmental issues and preserve the state's natural resources.
"I think it's a great idea and it's been a long time coming, said Syracuse native Carrie O'Connor. a Syracuse University sophomore English and textual studies and education major. "The lake has been disgusting for a long time, a cleaner lake would be a major asset to the community" set to the community.
to defend themselves."
Moore recently accused professor John Rennie Short of expelling him from a GFO 815 class he took during the 1998 Spring Semester and plagiarizing work he completed for the class in whorts book "obal ization and The City. Yeong-Hyun Kim, who was a geography doctoral student at the time, co-authored the book.

The plagiarized text came from Moore's work in the class, some of which went into an article the class submitted to the "Professional Geographer," a professional journal, Moore said.

Smith's motion failed and the Senate allowed Moore to finish his presentation.

Mcore requested to speak at the meeting through GSO's Student Life Cormmittce, and received permission to do so from GSO Vice President Joe Roser, Moore snid Moore's spee ing, however, because on the aread-it appeared as though he would speak about student rights, not about his own case, said Iwlanyanwu, a English program

You are not talking about student rights,' Iwuanyanwu said And even if you are talking about student rigis, it is colored witn per sonal experience. There are othe graduate students in howed in thi

But overy studont
But every student rights issue GSO hears comes from personal ex perrence, Moore said.

Smith motioned that the Senate invite Short and the Maxwel School of Citzership and and fairs deans to speak and defend themselves. Moore had also accused the Maxwell deans of refusing to communicate to him in writing re communicate to him in writing

Smith's motion failed, but the Senate later decided for the Student LIfe Committee to review the ap peals processes available to ap dents and report back to the full Sen ate with its findings.
"If you write a paper, can you sign President Clinton's name to it and publish it without his permission?" Moore asked. "Can you sign Chancellor Shaw's name to it and publish it without his permission? No. It's not right, it's not ethical."

Despite some some dissent within the Senate, Moore said he was happy with the way his specch was handled.

II think the GSO acted responsibly in considering student rights and student labor"" he said. "I think ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange The Graduate Student Organizaton Senate approves funding reques ts Wednesday night during a meeting in the Hall of Languages. they understood that the process of grade appeal has some problems and he students need to be more present in the process. Sometirnes the most difficult discussions are also the most important."

\section*{In other GSO news:}

The Senate passed a Special Initiatives Committee motion to transfer \($ 20,000\) from the Special Initiatives Fund to the Special Programming Fund. At its last meeting the Senate voted to allocate the money to help pay for Green Party Presidential Candidate Ralph Nader to speak at SU.

The Senate approved 23 graduate student requests for money

\section*{By Popular} Demand! \(1 / 2\)
THIE STORS 1/2 OFF!

4 More Days Today till Sat! Huge Clearance * Brand New & Vintage * Winter & Spring GOWNS TO CLUB CLEAROUT!
from the recently established conference fund, totalling \($ 1,740\), said Eric Hunn, GSO president. The fund created earlier this month, helps graduate students pas for travel to academic conferences and speeches related to their research.
\(\square\) The Senate also allocated three requests for special programming funds from the Finance Committee. The Mathematios Graduate Organization received \($ 1,200\) for an annual conference in April, the Black Graduate Student Association received \($ 800\) for a dinner dance on Feb. 25 and George Fiske Comfort Society received \($ 500\) for a sympo sium on science and the visual arts.

\section*{SOUTH}
continued from page 1
university property and not to trespass," she said

There were no signs before that clearly indicated that South Campus was university property, she said.

Margaret Oxnard, a sophomore biology major, said she feels unsafe at times on South Campus and is glad that Public Safety is making improvements to blue lights. But more blue lights are needed, Oxnard added.

IfI lived far from the bus stop, I'd be scared to walk with no blue lights at night," she said.

Oxnard said that she is less afraid of being attacked on the street than she is of having her apartment burglarized.

Sara Naggar, a sophomore newspaper major and president of the South Campus Organization for Prograrnming Excellence said she frogramming Excellence staid she feels students need to be cautious at all times, no matter where they live.

Naggar's apartment was burlarized Nov. 17, she said. She glarized Nov. 17, she said. She safety on South Campus.

She said that booths to cheek the cars coming into South Campus would help decrease crime.

They have welcome booths for parking lots on campus, which isn't as important, considering that you have a lot of students on South Campus," she said. "Even if it only decreases the non-Syracuse University people that come in by 60 per

\section*{EDGE}

Out of Africa Performers in the Children of Uganda Tour of Light 2000 are among performers 7 at the \section*{Kennedy}

Kennedy
Center throughout the week in celebration of the National Summit on Africa a Us Summi nized gathering in Washington, DC Washingtor, D.C. meant o help edica Americans about the continent and ultimate!y to impact U.S. policy.

\section*{Sweet indulgence} Since the reign of the Mayas, chocolate - the so-called food of the gocts - has exerted a \(\approx={ }^{-}\)bewitching. Ta addicting pull on mortals. Today, scientists are sifting through chocolate's ingredients, trying to understand its allure and its effect on the heart and brain. Studies heart and brain. Studies entific meeting this week show that the fatt substance is chock-full of antioxidants that might prevent heart disease.

\section*{Needs improvement} Time is running out. Department of Education officials say, for states to tum around about worst-performing schools in poverty-stricken neighborthoods. Federal reforms require that, during the 2000-2001 academic year, states must force drastic measures on schools that are chronically failing to teach low-income students - steps that could include firing all the administra tors and staff or sending students to other public senools that are making better progress.

\section*{Take two}

There is a growing consensus among HIV specialists that patients who are doing well on their drug treatment cocktails ought to delib erately stop taking the medicines for brief periods. t's a concept ue that flies in the tace vious advice regarding AIDS treatment and defies worries about pro motion of drugresistant viruses. Some members of the medical communty say the cocktails are far from a proven or clearty safe option.

\section*{quote of the day:}

\section*{A roll in the hay is not.so much fun for sex addicts.}

ex is everywhere. In this day and age, nothing seems to grab attention or spur discussion more than the topic of fornication. For some people, however, sex is not just fooling around. Sometimes sex becomes a disease.

Mike, a 31-year-old from Utah, who asked not to have his last name revealed, suffers from sexual addiction. He said that his addiction involves fantasizing, looking at pictures, reading stories and engaging in self-gratification. But his addiction often jeopardizes Mike's relationship with his wife, who doesn't know about his problem.
cThere was a time that my wife found some pornographic pictures on the computer \({ }^{*}\) he said. She was very hurt and felt that I did nat why I louked at not understan, these pictures.
Sealy M 0 ge to Dr. John R.
"Don't compromise Sealy, M.D., medical director for the Sexual Addiction Recovery you've got." Janis Joplin

\section*{Abundance of Ritalin perpetuates its abuse}

From cups of joe to lines of blow, abuse of stimulants among college students is nothing new In this new era of intense competition among peers and ever-increasing workloads, students are now using uppers like dents are now using u
Ritalin to get ahead.

Roger McDaven, a Syracuse University sophomore chemical engineer major, uses the drug but contends that he has never abused it.
"I used it in the fashion that the drug is prescribed for. I found that, although I am not diagnosed with (attention deficit and hyperactivity disorder), I was able to concentrate fo longer amounts of time and thus get more work done.

Ritalin is now prevalent on college carmpuses, but it was not as accessible in years past

Heavy abuse of this psychoreactive drug began modestly enough in the prep schools of the northeast. Access was easy because so many students have Ri talin prescriptions - often not talin prescriptions - often not Eric Heligenstein, head of psychi atry for the University of Wisconsin Health Services. Dr. Dessa Bergin-Cico of the SU Health Counseling Services pointed out that up until three years ago, use of Ritalin was well-documented at SU, but rey there has been a noticeCorey able increase in usage in Hann health sleuth the last few years, she said.
\(\qquad\) dents who have used it""
Bergin-Cico said. "There is definitely a growing trend of improperly using prescription drugs."

These trends started during the late eighties and becarne. mainstream during the nineties, according to Christopher Tennant, a correspondent for the Mil-

The media made Ri
The media made Ritalin its "darling drug" in the early 1990 s and proclaimed it as a wonder and cure for students with during this time, and one in 30 during this time, and one in 30 Americans between the ages of 5 prescription for the drug, according to the Drug Enforcement Agency.

But these numbers do not account for the thousands of others who use it promiscuously. In fact, students most vulnerable playgrounds rather than grass covered quads.

According to a study conducted by the Journal of Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics, 16 percent of children with Ritalin prescriptions have been approached by classmates asking to de or sell the drug for \($ 5\) to \($ 6\). Fredrick Theye, a neuro-Fredrick Theye, a neurosiologist for the Marshfield Physiologist for the Marshfield Clinic in Wisconsin, blames eleSixteen percent is probably the tip of the iceberg" Theye said. "Some school districts have no policy so children can carry, this medication in their pockets." The increase in use of this drug among children and college students is rooted in the un able way doctors diagnose ADHD, according to a report by al-and-error methods to deter-al-and-error methods to deterfor each patient. The subjective nature of this type of testing breeds misdiagnosis and a w of Ritalin available rooms everywhere.
\({ }^{-}\)I could go upstairs right now, knock on just about any door and score 50 milligrams if I wanted to," said Benjamin Scala, a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. "You don't have to look oo far to find someone who's willing to give up a few pills."

Though the drug helps those who are actually have ADHD, it can have very different repercussions when ingested, snorted or njected by someone who has not been diagnosed.

Chronic abuse can lead to oarked tolerance and psychic de pendence," said Todd Forte, pokesman for Novartis, a Ritalin manufacturer. "Frank psychotic apusing it intraverously"

The drug produces sho erm mood elevation. After this term mood elevation. After this brief period of stimulation, how This side effect occurs when individuals who abuse the drug suddenly stop taking it and experience withdrawal symptoms, highlighted by severe depression and extreme fatigue.

The most dangerous side effects occur when one injects the drug intravenously. Talc by-prod ucts can deposit in the lungs and cause serious respiratory disease Risk of overdose increases dramatically with this type of usage. Other ailments that have been reported include blood clots, scars, burning nasal tissues and skin and circulatory proble skin and circulatory problems.

There are many issues surrounding the side effects of Rital in, but it remains that experimentation is increasing among students. The truth about Rital in, is that for some college students it has become as popular as Coca-Cola and coffee as a study ing editor for Student.com.

But, for many, the coffee stil But, for many, the coftee still simmers, and the ever-reliable Vilaments over confusing texts.

Coney Hann is a junior pre medicine and philosophy major. His column appears Thursdays. E-mail him at cthann@syr.edu. meet you.

\section*{SEX}
continued from page 9
in Torrance, Calif., shame and fear of rejection from family members are very common concerns among people who have sexual addiction.
"Few addictions are associated with such shame," Sealy said. It is this profound shame that leads to a lack of intimacy

No one with this problem can really get close to anyone because they are afraid to let them added.
\(\qquad\) Mike said that he doesn't want to explain his addiction to she will blame herself for something that isn't her fault.
"I just told her I had something wrong one time," he said. -But it's hard because sometimes intimacy goes away, and I just want it"

Sealy said that one of the main reasons people are afraid to admit to sexual addiction is because it is usually not recognized Do you love life? Think you can write aboutit?

The Lifestyle Department is looking for some one to write a weekly column: If you have ideas, submit two 300 -word sample columns to Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollali:

\section*{The times they are a-changin'}

The Lifestyle Department has a new staff, and they would like to Stop by The Daily Orange, 744

Ostrom Ave., Sunday at 2:30 p.m. for a writer's meeting. All old and new writers are invited.
The D.O. is the red and white building, four houses down from Shaw Hall. Hope to see you there!

\section*{Ralph C: Martell \\ Female Nude Models Needed $25.00 \({ }^{\text {Hour }}\) Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time \\ (315)893-7779}
(315)4741-3242
,izem exwe
Men's Haircut Special \($ 8.00\)

Aas a regitimate addiction addiction is extremely serious and can even lead to suicide or death

\section*{Just the facts}

The technical definition of sexual addiction, according to Sealy, is similar to that of any other addiction: a pathological relaperience and increasing adverse perience and inces.

Some of those consequences can include an extreme preoccupation with sex, poor health, poor sleep and the abuse of everything from the Internet and pornography, to bation.
"It is not the kind of sex or the frequency," Sealy said. "Instead, the problem is the adverse effects. Addicts spend a massive amount of thme acting out and of job marriage etc It is a vers of job, marriage, etc. It is a very

Sealy said
Sealy said another myth about sexual adidiction is that it Having sex is not a pleasant experience for addicts, he said.
"Addicts are using sex, deal with other aspects of life," he said.

One of the biggest problems for addicts is loneliness. Sealy said it is not simply the sexual acts but the after-effects that cause feelings of shame and guilt, which eventually lead to feelings vou mishi he a ses adidiket
If you suffer from any of these symptoms, you may be a sex addict:
\(\bigcirc\) Compulsive masturbation
© Having multiple affairs
PConsistent use of pornography
OUnsafe sex
P Sex with multiple or anonymous partners
\(\nabla\) Phone or cybersex
\(\boldsymbol{\sigma}\) Seeking out sexual massages or escorts \(\bigcirc\) Engaging in prostitution of hopelessness and despair. It is these feelings which make addicts act out again, he said.

While sex addicts can be of any age, Sealy said that most wil amit to having startar 12 ar enty to 80 percent of sex ad licts are male; they are also victims of abuse. Sealy said addicts often believe that they aren't supposed to talk about sexual abuse. But when about sexual abuse. But when begin to abuse sex themselves, he said.

Men are supposed to like sex, he said. They are afraid to sive."

Mike said that his sexual addiction really developed about eight years ago when he realized something about his sexual be havior was abnormal. He said that he currently likes to consider himself in recovery, but has side effects that include mood swings short temper, selfishness and a ack of sleep.

Sometimes I can spend an entire weekend just looking a pornography on the computer, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Sealy.
Sealy said that the Internet has definitely caused a rise in sexThe easy accessibility of sufferers. and pornograpsibility of cybersex the addicts to act make it easy

The Internet is to said.
abusers as crack or col caine is to the substance abuser," Sealy said.

Niki Jarrard, director for the National Council on Sexual Addictions and Compulsivity, said that 30 to 40 percent of sex addicts actually percent of sex addicts actually have other addictions, the most common
"It is easier to feed an addiction with another addiction," Jartion with another addiction," Jar-ten does go unrecognized, Jarrard said that there are many resources and support groups that can offer help to people who think they might have the disease.
"Admitting it is the hardest part," Jarrard said. "But once that is over, it can be taken one step at a time." Sexual addicts have their own 12 -step program, their own 12-step program, substance abusers, she said. fiction include Sexaholics Anonymous, Sex Addicts Anonymous and Sex and Love Addicts Anonymous. S-Anon is a support group for the friends and family members of sex addicts.

More information and resources about sexual addiction can be found on the National Council Sexual Addiction and Compulsivity Web site, located at ww.ncsac.org/main.html, or on the Sex, Love, Relationship and Pornography Addiction Resources Web site, located at openmind ory/Sex-Love-htm.

Sealy said that seeking help for the disorder is very important because of all the ramifications of sexual addiction.

Most addicts act out against their own ethics and principals," he said. "hey can't believe they are doing these things but they Mike is a membe e support a member of an ona 12-step book in an effort to combat his addiction. Although his addiction has improved, he still struggles with staying on the right track.
that I still worst part about it is chat I still want to do it," he said. "I like to do it, and I like to escape into the fantasy, but I snow that I shouldn't. I often wonder if I will get out of control or where my addiction is going to lead."

\section*{The Daily Orange}

February 17, 2000
11

\section*{ELITE}
continued from page 16
- Daniel Karlsson, who won Most Outstanding Swimmer honors in 1999, and record-se Sprinter Jose Gonzalez.
fending champions - juniors Ilia Mikhailov and Josko Vucetic and sophomore Diordje Fil. ipovic.

The Orangewomen, meanWhile, are bolstered by seniors Melanie Bryon and Erica Bobrek, both of whom set school records in last year's meet.

However, Walker said it will be a tall order for his swimmers to knock off the defending champion Pittsburgh men and Notre Dame women.
"I think you're looking at the defending champions, both men and women," the 24th-year head coach said, "that are far and away head and shoulders above everyone else, talentwise and most particularly depthwise."

Walker said he predicts the Orangemen to finish in the top orangeme the Orangewomen to place in the top six.

The men's European trio hopes to retain their respective titles. Last year, Vucetic won the 100-yard backstroke, Filipovic took the 500 freestyle and 200 butterfly and Mikhailov won the 100 breaststroke.

The Orangemen's run at taking down the Panthers will ikely be bolstered by several other strong contenders. Junior James Loveless provides strength in the distance freestyles, having not lost a race in dual-meet competition all season.

Classmate Dustin Riley swam well all year in the breaststroke events and senior Robert Lovstrom also placed first this season.

The Orangemen will have to get as much effort as they can out of every competitor in order to challenge Pitt, senior Brett to challenge Pitt, senior Brett Bergmann said.
"We're looking to get second place," he said. "We have a lot of place, he said. We have a lot of guys that win events, but we don't have a lot of euys to cover the depth that Pitt has."

The Orangewomen do not boast any defending champions, but they return several pointscorers from last season's fifthplace finish.

Bobrek, Bryon and Branka Sustic all tallied points last year as juniors, and Walker said he hopes the seniors can score important points again in their final Big East meet.
He also said underclassmen Kelly Bryon and Eleanor Thoet can put needed points on the board for SU

Bobrek and Thoet will be called upon to spark the Orangewomen in the freestyle sprints. Bobrek set school records in the 50 and 100 last records in the 50 and 100 last year at the conference meet finals in the same two events. The duo also contributed to a third-place finish in the 400 free relay.

Speed is a common characteristic among conference foes, said sophomore Stacy Wells.

There are a lot of fast teams in the Big East," Wells said. "I think everyone's pretty much going to be even. It really an go either way.

For the Orange to be in the thick of things, Walker said his swimmers must focus on every jump off the starting block, especially in the morning qualifying heats.

You don't think you're just going to be able to have a great run in the final," the five-time Big Last Coanh irtic Year said of the pool out of the athe sid the consolation finals because you thought you could skate little bit in the morning session.'

And above all, Walker said it is important for every team member to swim his or her best regardless of placing, in order to maintain a level of confidence for the entire team

If everybody's swimming well, even if youre not seoring points," he said, "there's enthu siasm there that the group can feed off."

\section*{DOMINATE}
continued from page 16
to Seton Hall and Louisville and a close victory against UCLA Thomas saw different variations of zones focused on shutting him down.

He scored a total of 34 points in the three games and said he was frustrated by the wealth of players dropping into the post when he received an entry pass.

Against Pitt (10-12, 2-9), though, Thomas had no problem bodying up against Seabrooks and taking him one-on-one.
"It was defnitely easier," Thomas said. "That's the way man-to-man is. You can run different plays and do the things you practice."

Most of the plays that involved Thomas ended in rim-rattling, two-handed jams. first half, Thomas had mustered first half, Thomas had mustered just one shot and was scoreless.

But in the next four minutos, Thomas netted three baskets inside the paint. He caught a fastbreak dish from Jason Hart, spun with \(5: 22\) remaining to gall home Orangemen a \(25-20\) lead. Thomas finished h 10 points, a sign of the half with 10 points, a sign of the domiond stanza.

Seabrooks sat on the bench with four fouls midway through work.

He scored six points in a three-minute span, pounding 6 -foot-8, 225 -pound freshman Do natas Zavacleas in the paint.
Seabrooks in foul trouble end like with the small lineup, you really can't stop Etan," SU forward Ryan Blackwell said. "When you get a guy who's (smaller) trying to guard Etan, you're supposed to give him the ball."

While Thomas' effectiveness highlighted the Orangemen's play, head coach Jim Boeheim showed concern about his team's reliance on Thomas.

With the team's off-guards and Blackwell struggling, he said, opponents could focus on Thomas and limit the number of touches he receives.
"We can't focus on one guy, " Boeheim said. "If we do that, we're not going to be successful. We won 19 straight games by getting everybody the ball. All of a sudden, you lose one game and everybody says, 'You've got to get the ball to Etan.

Entering the Pitt game, Thomas averaged 8.8 shots per contest this season, about the Coleman averaged throushout coleman ave

SU career
SU's potential All-American hit all six of his shots against Pitt in the Orangemen's \(82-72\) victory Fieut a month ago at Fitzgerald But Sea
But Seabrooks scored freely anderneath in the first loss, torch 9 shooting.

The sophomore post man avthe Panthers, but Thomas held strong in the post Wednesday, limiting him to seven points on 1-of-7 shooting.

He was ready when Seabrooks turned," Boeheim said. "In Pittsburgh, he was flat, back on his feet. And Seabrooks made some tough shots.

This go-around, Thomas muled the paint, deflecting and altering a handful of Pitt shots. The Panthers hit just 38 percent from the field.
"When they did go in," Boeheim said, "he showed them why \section*{they don't want to."}

In the final period, the Orangemen hit 10 -of-13 shots from within six feet of the hoop.

Thomas hit 3-of-4 secondhalf shots and grabbed eight rebounds, including three on the offensive glass.

Syracuse held a 17-5 advantage on the defensive boards in the second half, translating the ensuing possessions into the easy looks in the post.

Po continue winning, however, Blackwell, who scored nine points, must emulate 'Thomas' aggressive play in the paint, Boeheim said.

And, said Thomas, SU needs to revert to its early-season penchant of creating scoring opportunities for each player.
"It can't all fall on my shoulders," he said, 'because teams are going to try their hardest to stop me. They're going to play their zone and make it hard for me to get anything. There are going to be games where I can't get off, where I can't get the ball."

\section*{Alpha Epsilon Phi} A E \(\Phi\)
Wisfies to congratulate all of the new members who have made the decision to \(G O \operatorname{GREEX}\) !! With, of course, special recognition to our 35 new members: Bethany Abel Amanda Garbiner Holly November Jamie Adler Laura Bentley Danielle Carty Abby Chiat Traci Conrad Jen Delotto Jenny Freed Alissa Friedman April Ganis Brooke Gans Lisa Garber Brett Golber Elyssa Goldman Carly Gordon Doreen Iancu Randi Jacobs Lindsay Kaufman Becky Klein Zoe Lampel Jessica Levy Logan Marcus Jessica Provda Jessica Robbins Samantha Sayet Nicole Sayewitz Samantha Schatmer Jodi Shuster Sharon Skolnick Jen Weiss Jessica Weiss Melissa Marcus Michelle Zimmerman LML. The sisters of AED

\section*{today...}

8:05 am Hit Snooze
8:10 Hit Snooze Again...
8:15 Realize You've been hitting snooze for an haur
8:16 Check the weather report on POSTSYRACUSE.COM
8:27 Find your winter hat and ren to class
8:57 Realize that you wasted \($ 80\) on a textbook you're never going to open

10:15 Post a free ad on POSTSYRACUSE.COM to sell your "mint condition textbook"

10:22
Discover information about an upcoming event in the area on POSTSYRACUSE.COM

1:33 pm Receive a message from someone who saw your textbook ad on POSTSYRACUSE.COM

1:38 Make a deal with this person and get tots of money back for your book

Meet person of your dreams in POSTSYRACUSE.COM's chat room

4:57 Buy a gift for person of dreams using a coupon you got from POSTSYRACUSE.COM

6:09 Woo person of your dreams using a dining hall guest pass
7:46 Post engagement announcement on POSTSYRACUSE.COM
8:06 Live happily ever after...

The Dilly Erringe :

\section*{SHAKY}
continued from page 16
in the game.
While Thomas assumed he role of standout for the vening, he found himself wellmates.

Fellow senior Ryan Black well, coming off several subpar performances, delivered a solid outing with nine points and six outing with nine points and six down Greer - who fiaished with 33 points - for a stretch during the second half when SU pulled away.

\section*{ 18 & oigerncome learmall aboultiair favorite dance & hiphop mus \\ "Preacher" DI C-Mix \\  \\  \\  \\ pestanuma syparuse Expitisive \\ \(95 x\) \\

 \\ Fitee Huge Hot Buifet! Then tue Party conumues. \\ san FANIASTIC FRIDAYS}

\section*{Damece PPartyy withocmixumitiom}

Then at 10 pm.... continues with...

\section*{Johny Vegas}

82 Bottles of Molson \({ }^{8} 150\) Pints opening aef - AUGUST PROJECT

Junior forward Damone Brown - who missed the loss to Loujsville with a quadricep six of them on highlight-reel dunks, and grabbed nine rebounds.
"We're trying to get back to what we were doing earlier in the year - even scoring and hitting the boards hard," Brown said. "I think we got away from that a little bit, and it cost us two games. I think we're getting back, and were almost right back to where we almost right back to where we were at."

Coming off the bench, sophomore Preston Shumpert was the team's second-leading scorer with 18.

Shumpert converted all four of his attempts from inside the 3 -point are, proving all his points don't come from downtown. In his usual fashion, he also canned three 3 -pointers.

Bocheim said Shumpert's inside scoring shows how rounded the sophomore's offensive game is.
"He's a good player." Boeheim said. "He's got more to his game than ghooting. He's good around the basket. He can be a better offensive rebounder. He's got a lot more things to his game.
The Syracuse head coach wasn't as happy with the firsthalf defensive effort of his team.

The Panthers shot just 36 percent from the field in the opening half, but several SU mental lapses allowed greer to get wid. The junior forward hit four 3-pointers to keep Pitt close. having some breakdowns," Boeheim said. "Really, two or three of our best offengive players are two or three of our worst defensive players. That's some-

\section*{Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center \\ Of New Yark Chiropractic College}
sing Ene Evive
(on ine comer of Cicure & Eju Ens)

Hours
Mon-Fri.
9 a.m. -8 p.m.

New Location
Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

Student Plan
Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

CHECK US OUT! Tel: 442-1100

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

So This Is Life ...

\section*{Yeah Whatever}

\section*{Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles}
by Neil Swaab

Get 'Cuse It
by Damon Amendolara ANENDO

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 \pm\) each additional word 54 extra each bold word
54 extra each CAP word Cnarges are PER IISSUE & ase Prepaid by Cash, Check. Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 2prn 2 business days prior to tun ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE ! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Dazily Orange, 744 Ostithem Avenue:
Syracuse. NY 13210 Att: Classifieds: OR Syracuse. NYY 132 10 ; Att Classifieds: OR Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\) - \(\triangle A \triangle \triangle A \triangle A \triangle A M \triangle A\)

\section*{Notices}

WeClitecom Wants You The internet's Most Notorious Audio. Video. Joumalism, Photography and Anmation Perpetaliors fieward \($ 6000\) in the Supmission Showdown Contesi
OWWW.WecLite.com

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Patt tume jobs delvery divers. distwashers apoly Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshall SI.
Fargan's needs Senior Sunday Disc Jockey. Must be outpoing of have a dverse CD collecuon. Apply be oulgong \({ }^{\text {a faegan's }}\) Camp Counselors Top Oversight Camps in Pocono Mins Over 40 actsities-seeking 5 sp counselors
\(1-800-533-\mathrm{camp}\) muw pinelorestcamp com

Record labelfaternet company seeking intems.

Job Opportunities
University Bartending Ctasses Star Soon
Siudeni Discounts \(1.800-\mathrm{U} \cdot \mathrm{CAN}\)-MIX wwwunversitrbartentnag com Space is Limited Cail For Informationil!!
Camp Poyntelle secks counseiors tor co-ed Northeast PA, overnight Jewish Fecteralion camp-
3 hours itom NYC. Genemal, \($\) pocts, Orama, H2O 8 Arts. 1.800-973-368s Summers 0 poyntelle.com of wwn poyntele.com

Service Tech. Eicycle +Lanmmower Assembly trepar. Great Pay \(\rightarrow\) Benedts. Fullime. No
Expenence Aequired. Call \(1-800-852-2453\).

\section*{WANTED}

Help Wanted
\($ 5500\) weekty potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Required. Free inlormation packet. Call Groovy Duce! Get paid whte you surt the internet! il's inat easy Hetp Wanted: Expenienced, teliable. hardwate lec los PC's. Panfurne.
Computer Doctor. Marshal Sq. Mall.

\section*{Roommates}

Lookng tor 1-2 roommates to share beautitut 3. bam. aparment neat westrou business tistric. \(471 \cdot 4965\) tulls. nas launctry, oll-street parking

\section*{FOR RENT}

\section*{1 Bedroom and} Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue some 9 month leases
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982
NEXT TO CAMPUS 228 Eucld, 4 bectoom, reasonable rent, tree parking, ds Jemy or Ttra -474.7541, cac. 631 B

Ackernan Beautidu Large Fumished Flats
Houses 2.3,4,5,6 Eedtooms. Porches. Fireplaces. Garages, Luundry, Pel OK \($ 46-3420\) Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace. prning, aunary \({ }^{\text {s. }}\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
 \\
Unlversity and Comstock Very close to Campus Elficiencies and Two Bedtooms Secute bdg. Inclutes All Utuikues 445-1229 D.N. Drucker Lid. \\
Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom. completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188 after \(1: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

For Rent: House \(& 3\) bdrma tals \(\mathbf{5 2 5 0}\) - \(\mathbf{5 3 0 0}\). Very Nice - Walk to SU. Avatable Aus M Reatry Group 637.5195
```

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM

```
    302 Marshall St
    629 Canslock Ave
    304 Warnut Ave
        145 Avondale Place

\section*{Available tor 2000-2001} ully Furnished, Laundry
Maintenance and Managemen
Weflinished Hard Wood Floors
Remodeled Kitctuens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
\begin{tabular}{l}
University Ave Three Bedioom Flat Ciose Walk \\
\hline
\end{tabular} o Camous futnished 1aundry parxing

ONE OR FOUR BEDRODM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS. FURHISHED. DISHWASHER,
PARKING \($ 175\) PER MONTH 476-9933

Two Bedroom Aparments on Eucild Fumished Heat included, hantwood loors, porch, vecenty remodeled, laundry, parking, 476-29es
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

\section*{621 Euclid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave \\ 917 Ackerman Ave \\ 115 Fedfield Place 1011 E. Adams St \\ 145 Avondale Place}

Available for 2000-2001
Harking, Futi Time Furnished Maintenance and Management Wall to wall Carpet and'or Relinished Hardwood Floors Femodeled Kitchens and Baths University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
Univarsity Ave. Ive bedroom House one block from Marshall Street tumished laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utilities D.N.Drucker \(445-1229\)
Ackerman Ave. 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Furnished, carpeted. waik to campus. Well maintained 500-501 lease 446-7202

University Area \(2-3\) Bedroom fumished
Apantments Single houses tor rent. Call Jim 668.7473
LUXURIOUS: 2story aphlots, Gourmet kiv/in.

 2nd th, lividin, \(i-2 \cdot 3\) bdrms, ole'study, jacuzzi baith. porches. bath, porches.

NO PEIS! Negotiable teases.
Apartonents close to campus cican 2-3-5

4 Bedrooms. OaklancSL. 1Biack ESF. 3Elocks Lawt Hospitals, Humished, parking, laundry.
perches, Excelient condition. Ausust, \(475-0590\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
pLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM Apartments TOAD HALL

1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across srom Haven). Universily Area Apts 479-5005

Two Bedroon Apartments

 476-2982
arge 2 bectroom. 2 tull bath. Walking distanc. gest Buy on MamsonSt. Clean Cuiet.

Great University Area Beautful

 Secure Building: Winntercoms, Door
Rele Feleasel. Custom Buinds, Porch or Patlo.
Otf-Str. Prkng, Indry, Storage, Centro Eus
 Cail 478.027 for patricir or Stop by Office at 116 Nawbury Hollow (off E Brghten)

Your off-campus home for 2000-01

Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers microwave carpeted ff street parking owner managed

CALL TODAY
PETER 427.0052
Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom ilat, fumished. Avail June 1st 445-4229
1,2,3,4 85 Bdim Apatments. Houses+ Studios. Clean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some parking 474-6791

204 Ostrom Eficiency One and 2Bedroom Secure Sidg Laundry Parking Very Clean Avait June 446-5186
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS \\
CLOSE TO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS \\
1, 2, 3, 4 Bedroom Apartments Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellent Condilion, Fumished Some Inelude Uuilites. Call 422-0138.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Ciean quiet 2 -bedriom two blocks from SU hospials. Furmished. All utilibies paid. \(\mathbf{4 7 2 - 5 9 0 0}\) June 1 lease.
\(t\) Bedroom Furnished Untumished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry availabte. OH Street Parking. Call \(422-7305\)
2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Roorns Hardwood Floors Avall June or Aug 446-5186

\section*{SHERBROOKE} APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave. 2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fulty furnished. Rents stant at $275. Refinished hardwood fioors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry www. universityarea com University Area Apls 479-5005

Large 3 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Walking distanc
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. owest rents for moderm new construction.
University Area Apts 479-5005
www universityarea.com

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parklng. Lease Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
Perfect for one person.
S355 per month 355 per month
Call Donna 4494621

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDROOM'MOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM One Bedroorn Apartments Close to Campus, utilities Included. Oak Ilcors, fire piace. Iumished, utidites included. Oak licors, fire place, lumished, pathing, very clean, laundry Can Gordon \(47 \%-2982\). O.P.R.

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline \multirow[t]{7}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Untuersity 283 Bedroom Townitouses & Flats. inexpensive and mint condition. Washet/Oryer.

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood foors, furnished, laundry, quiet building, close to campus, laundry, quiet building, close to campus, 476-2982

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 EAdams
ated, Air Conditioned Furnlshed, Secure, Laundry, Parking.

University Area Apts.
www.universityarea.corp
Four Badroom on Ackarnan, Furnlsted, Cauncry Gordon 476-29as

ONE BEDROOM AVEARTMENT EUCLID PERSONS FRE HEAT, GREAT Locaton 476-9933.

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Fumished. Dishwashef, Two Porches,
OHI Street Parking, Luindry, Carpet' OH Stree Parking, Laundry 476-2982

\section*{The Daily Orange}
a game
Senior John Whorton averaged 10 points per game for Kent St., but he seemed to step up his game against the Zips. Whorton posted 25 points and 13 rebounds against Akron on Jan. 22, and in a 1998 meeting he scored 27 points against the Zips, making all 12 of his field goal attempts.

Surprisingly, Kent St. is 24th in the RPI ratings. That puts the Golden Flashes ahead and Seton Hall Pick Alvo

Ohio State \((+8.5)\) at Indiana
Sat. Feb. 19, 6:30 p.m.
The Hoosiers are on track for another NCAA Tournament appearance, thanks to their ofensive production.

Indiana leads the Big Ten in several offensive categories, including scoring ( 80 ppg ), field goal percentage (49 percent), 3point shooting ( 39 percent), free thrown percentage ( 73 percent) and team assists ( 17 pg ).

It also helps having the league's leading scorer, A.J. Guyton ( 21 ppg ), the only Big Ten player to be averaging more than 20 points an outing.

This is the second straight road test for the Buckeyes, who lost 83-72 at Michigan State on Tuesday
Pick: Ohio State

Syracuse (-5) at
St. John's
Sat. Feb. 19, 9 p.m.

Since losing at Syracuse on Jan. 31, the Red Storm has racked up four straight Big East wins. St. John's appears to be confident heading into a big weekend that includes a home date with Connecticut on Mon-

\section*{day.}

Erick Barkley has returned w the Red Storm after serving a two-game NCAA suspension for an undis-

\section*{closed rule} violation. In his first game back with the team last Sat urday, Barkley scored 16 points to lead St. John's to an-75 vin over Villanova.
ing the osses to Se ton Hall and on Hall and and the narrow esand the narrow escape against byations have dwindled for he Orangemen. Over that stretch, the senior averaged only five points and five rebounds per game.

For the season, he's averaging 10 points and eight rebounds per contest. Also, during hose three games, Blackwell shot just 33 percent from the field, compared to his 43 percent sason average, and 33 percent from the foul line, versus his normal 66 percent mark.

It's a given Blackwell is going to start every game and play a lot of minutes. The Orangeclose names.

Pick: Syracuse
Temple ( +12.5 ) at Cuncinnati
Sun. Feb. 20, 1:30 p.m. (ABC) If there's a team out there that can slow down the high-flying Bearcats, you can bet it's John Chaney's Owls. teams of the past have been known for frustrating opponents with their \(\mp\) zone defense, and this year's Owls are no different. olding teams to holding teams to 53 points per game and 35 ing while forcing them into 15 ing them into Owls were in top form last weekend, ha rassing Maryland into 27 turnovers in a 73-65 Owl win While Temple would like to play this game at a slow pace, the Bearcats would prefor to get up and down the floor. Cincinnati is one of the highest-scoring teams in the nation, averaging 80 points per contest.

If Temple stays in the zone defense, the Bearcats can put this one away early by hitting their 3 -point shots.

Cincinnati shoots 37 percent as a team from long range At 45 percent, Steve Logan is the Bearcats' top threat from beind the arc.

Pick: Temple
OLlahoma State (-5) at Missouri
Mon. Feb. 21, 9 p.m. (ESPN) After Missouri's unimpressive season-opening loss to Wis consin at the Carrier Dome, it looked like the Tigers would be hard pressed to contend for the Big 12 title.

However, Quin Snyder has done an excellent job with Missouri in his first year, putting the Tigers in position to earn a postseason invitation.

Keyon Dooling is the Tigers leading scorer at 15 points per game, while Kareem Rush and ond once Gibert with 13 pois ond on the team with 13 points each.

Averaging only 30 boards a game, Missouri is the worst reOn a brighter note the Big 12 . er leads the note, Brian Graw er leads the league in foul shoot ing at a remarkable 90 percent. first in the conference with lowa State Okla conference with lowa of the league's best scorers, Desmond Mason, and the con ference's best assist man in Doug Gottlieb.

Mason's 19 points por game rank him third in the Big 12 in scoring, and Gottlieb tops all conference passers with eight assists per contest

Pick: Oklahoma State

\section*{[Q]QSS1f1e@S] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FVE BEDROOM HOUSE GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933} large Single Family furnished house Parking. treplace, tree laundry, cishwasher, mature tenants 692.3304

Large Sudio apartment, very nice. one block from campus on Clajendonst. Lis ol room, que partialy fumished.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Charrang English Tudor House on Comstock 6 Gedroons. Fireplace, across from Avail 520 475-1012, (843)514-38B1
House For Rent 2 minules from Main Campus
Seven Bos of street parking Phone 45s-0483
(5) Bedroom House 721 Ostrom Ave off street parking staring essus/ person (t)446-3693

Spang Break Speciast Banamas Party Cruisel 5
Nignts szag! Includers Meals! Awesomie Beaches, Nightite! Departs From Fiorida! Panama Cily
Nightitite! Departs From Fiotida! Parama Cily
Room With Kitchen Nex To Clubs, 7 Parties 8
Room With Kitchen Nex To Clubs, 7 Parties
Free Dnoks \($ 129!\) Daytona Room With Kitchen Free Danks \($ 129!\) Daytona Room With Kitchen \($ 149!\) South Beach (Bars Open Until 5 mit) \($ 159!\) Coc0a Beach (Near Disney) Si79!

SPRING GREAK - GRAD WEEK
SPRING GREAK - GRAD WEEK
\($ 758\) Up Per Person www retreatmyrdebeacn.com
\(1.800 .545-3610\)
FOUND

Found: A scarn. Tuesday atter 5PM in parking rot betind Steele Hall Call \(451-11: 6\)
O.P.R. Developers

RENTING FOR'SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. Eff/IAPT's Horries & Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your buck
There is something for everyonel
MOST INCLUDING
- Security System with \(1^{-}\)Dead Bolt Locks
- Smoke. Heat & Sprinkler System
- Prices Ranging from \($ 225-$ 375 /\) month * Remodeled Full Custom Kitchen/Baths Kitchens include: Gournet Sell-tleaning ovens.
Gartage Disposals. Microwaves. Dishwashers Wall to Wall Carpets & Padding (like home) - Laundry Facilities on Premises - Off-street Parking
- Snow & Lawn Maintenance
- Super Insulated (means low utilities)
- Some Apts. incluce All Ulifties & Furnished Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Campus
Such as * Comstock. Ostrom. Hartison. Madis Such as \({ }^{\circ}\) Comstock. Ostrom. Hartison. Madison Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICE:

\section*{IF YOU'RE NOT RECYCLING \\ YOU'RE THROWING IT ALL AWAY.}

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South. NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department. News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{NOTES}

\section*{Men's Basketball}

No. 9 Orangemen Pittsburgh

62
Syracuse (21-2, 10-1) Player
Brown
Blackwe
Thomas
bland
Hart
Shumpert
Griffin
Duany
Williams

Pittsburgh (10-12, 2-9)
Player p r a Klayer Greer Seabrooks Zavackas Holmes Abel Abel

\section*{Road warriors}

Ricardo Greer's 33 points Wednesday night fell just short of a Carrier Dome record.

David Robinson and Felipe Lopez share the Dome record for most Orangemen with 35 . Robinson posted his big night for Navy in the 1986 NCAA Tournament, while the former St. John's star matched The Admiral nine years later.

Iona's Gene Waidron owns the building record, tallying 40 points in a 1983 Carrier Classic game.

\section*{Climbing the ladder}

Two SU seniors inched closer to all-time Big East records in Wednesday's win over Pittsburgh. With nine blocked shots, Etan Thomas passed Jason Lawson for ference rejection ledg erence rejection ledger
He now owns 217 He now owns 217 , career Big East blocks, just seave Alonzo Mourning place Alonzo Mourning holder Patrick Ewing. older Patrick Ewing.
Thomas also tied his school record of nine, reacting the mark for the third time in his career and the second time this campaign.

Point guard Jason Hart dished out nine assists. moving him to 350 for his career. Hart passed Mark lackson and former Orangeman Adrian Autry to move into sixth place overall.

Hart also racked up one steal, pulling himself into a tie for thirc on the conference list with former villanova star Kerry kittles.

\section*{sports} trivia

\section*{yesterday's trivia:} Q. When was the last time the Syracuse women's basketball team upset a Top 10 squad?
Q. Which two Su alums called foe Carter's 1993 World Series-winning home run for major media outlets?

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 17, 200010

\section*{SU drills Panthers}

BY CONNOR ENNIS
Asst. Sports Editor
Facing a tean with only six scholarship players and an absent head coach seemed to ind men's basketball team Wednesday

Some shaky defensive play by the Orangemen combined Panther Ricardo Greer made Syracuse sweat, however, before it pulled out a \(83-62 \mathrm{win}\) in front of 18,597 at the Carrier Dome.
\(\mathrm{SU}(21-2,10-1 \mathrm{Big}\) East) made the final score lopsided by outscoring Pitt 39-21 over the final 14 minutes of the contest.

At the halftime break, the Orangemen held just a four-point lead, thanks mostly to a 20 -point first stanza from Greer and a 2318 rebounding advantage for the Panthers, who were without head coach Ben Howland.

Howland was in California with his father, who is undergoing emergency open-heart Jamie Dixon served as interim head man on the Pitt sidelines.

There's no reason that we're going to get out-rebounded five or six rebounds by Pittsburgh in the Boeheim, sid. "They don't have the depth or the size to contend with us if we get after them on the boards.

In the second half, the Orangemen did just that. Su outrebounded Pitt 24-7 after intermission.

Etan Thomas led the SU glass-cleaning with 13 rebounds for the game - eight in the second half. The senior center domnated the paint, scoring 21 points and blocking nine shots.

Thomas's Pitt counterpart, Chris Seabrooks, scored seven points and grabbed six rebounds before fouling out with 2:07 Ieft

See SHAKY page 12

Damone Enown shdes towand the basket for a firsthalf layup. Erome tallied 11 points and nine rebounds in Syracuse's win.

Teams hit stretch run for NCAAs

With the season almost four months long and most teams playing about 30 games a year, the college basketball landscape changes each day. Although it's obvious some Ryan Stalzer battle for the bottles teams are very good and others are very bad, there's always a large group of teams in the middle that aren't always easy to figure out. Here's a look at some of those teams.

\section*{Who's Hot}

Oklahoma State - tied for first in the Big 12 after six straight victories. The Cowboys own recent wins over Kansas and Oklahoma.

Ulinois - The Fighting III ni have won six of their last seven Big Ten games. At 7-4 in conference play, they are on their way to a postseason invite.

North Carolina - won five of last six in ACC. Only set back was a four-point overtime loss to Duke.

Tennessee - atop SEC East after winning seven of last eight, including two victories over Florida.
Who's Not
Virginia - started ACC play 5-2, then dropped three of their next four.

USC - 6-1 Pac-10 start, has quickly slipped to \(6-4\)

Kansas-lost four of last seven. Jayhawks are in sixth place in the Big 12.

\section*{Who Knows}

LSU - has lost to Florida, Tennessee and Vanderbilt. Has

See BATTLE page 15

\section*{Thomas dominates inside}

Etars Thomas missed a triplo-double by on blocked shot Wednosday nieft ageinst Pfit

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN}

Asst. Sports Editor
Between his shots and swats, Etan Thomas dominated.

Syracuse's senior center scored 21 points and tied a career-high with nine blocked shots in Wednesciay night's 83-62 victory agrainst Pittsburgh

The 6-foot-9 center also grabbed 13 re bounds, leaving him one block shot of his first career triple-double.
"Oh, don't tell me that," Thomas said when informed of the near-miss. "Well, that kind of ruined everything."

Thomas won't lose sleep over his could-be triple-double, but he ahould get some nice shut-eye tonight after a strong 33 minute performance.

Dazzling the 18,597 Carrier Dome fans with an array of dunks and post moves, Thomas manhandled Pittsburgh's Chris Seabrooks.

Operating against a man-to-man deense, Thomas hit 7-of-10 shots from the ense, and knocked down 7-of-10 from the free throw line.

It was the first glimpse of man SU (212, 10-1 Big East) had seen since four games ago in a \(74-58\) win at Providence.

In the previous three contests - losses
See DOMINATE page 11

\section*{Orange open league championships today}

\section*{BY JASON REMILLARD}

Staff Writer
The Syracuse men's and women's swimming teams have had this weekend circled on their calendars for months.

All SU's preparation in dual meets and during its winter excursion to Florida has been done with a single goal in mind - to place high at the Big East Championships.

The wait is over as the teams take to the wa ter Thursday at the Goodwill Games swimming Aquatics Center on Long Island. Both squads hope to prove their places among the conference elite.
\({ }^{4}\) From the beginning of the year, we post things like what kind of times at took to score points last year, head coach Lou Waker said. It's not something you can control while you're swimming, but you want to have the mind-set of What can we do to improve on lesst year?

Lmproving on last year would catapult the Orange near the peak of the Big East. The Orangemen placed third last year, although they lost two multiple-event winners to graduation

FRIDAY
February 18, 2000
28/22 Snow with sleet in the afternoon Saturday: Snow
Sunday: Sunday:/13
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { briefs............. } 20 & \text { classifieds. } 14 \\ \text { editorial ........ } 4\end{array}\) lifestyle.......... 6
sports ............ 16

\title{
University postpones Flemma decision
}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
An appeal filed by former Syracuse University music law professor Jay Flemrna will no longer be considered this week because of lack of information in the appeal regarding his dismissal, SU spokesman Kevin Morrow said Thursday.

Flemma is a 1993 graduate of the SU College of Law and an associate lawyer with Smith, Sovik, Kendrick and Sugnet P.C. in Syracuse. He filed the appeal Feb. 9 with the Department of Hu man Resources in response to a harassment comlaint on ported to the Syracuse Police Department on Feb

The senior also reported a series of complaints against Flemma with the Department of Human Resources. The department responded dismissal at the end of the 1999 Fall Semester.

The student is currently out of town and could not be reached for comment
Donald Lantzy, dean of the College of Visual and Performing Arts, said the administrators involved in reviewing the case are trying to keep it confidential.
"What we're trying to do is keep it conained." Lantzy said. Understand, this is what we have to do as faculty.

Flemma's removal was not because of the sexual harassment allegations, but other issues brought to the university's attention, Morrow said.

It was determined that Mr. Flemma had not followed certain administrative procedures of the university," Morrow saic.

Morrow declined to name the procedures Flemma did not follow and those which led to his dismissal.

See FLEMMA page 8

do.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

Stto WATCH SU meets St. John's in Big Apple showdown. See Sports.

\section*{Seasonal Revial}

Winterfest 2000 refreshes downtown Syracuse. See Lifestyle.

\section*{Film focus}

Student Government
SGA readies debate

Ey joe piraneo Contributing Writer

The Student Government Association will host a debate Gaulin and Mery Vicira, candi Gaulin and Mery vicira, cand

The debate will be at \(6: 30\) p.m. in the SGA office in the Schine Student Center.

SGA established the assistant comptroller position this year to help Comptroller Chris Greiner with fiscal work and to serve as acting comptroller in the event of his absence, said Edwin Escobar, director of public relations for SGA.

Vieira, a freshman in the College for Human Development, serves as a member of the Finance Board and said she plans to remain on the board for the remainder of her time at Syracuse University.
"My initial intent was not to run," Vieira said- "I reconsid ered because Chris Greiner is the perfect person to learn from." learn and progress under Greinlearn and prat.

Her agenda includes helping student organizations develop strong relationships with the Finance Board.
"If you are a student organization in front of ten people you are intimidated," Vieira said- "I a student organization officer one or by e-mail, we are on a Gareth Mcintyre of Lockenbit, Scotiand, examines nepatives TFursfay on a light table in the Newhouse Photography Lab. Mclntyre was a Lockerbio Scholar during the 1994-1995 academic year. Each year students from Lockerbie study at SU through schofarshlps created In honor of the 35 SU students filled in the 1988 bombing of PanAm Fight 103.

\section*{Freeman explains journalistic legalities}

\author{
by caroline chen \\ Staff Writer
}

Robert Freeman, executive director of the New York State Committee on Open GovernCommittee on Open Governdent journalists Thursday night about legal issues regarding access to public information.

Journalists can invoke the Freedom of Information Law if they are denied access to public records, Freeman told a group of about 40 people in the Newhouse I Lounge. The event was sponsored by Syracuse University's Society of Professional JournalSociety of Professional Journalists.
In New York state, the term "record" is broadly defined as any information in any form kept by or for a government agency, Freeman said. Records include information stored on paper, disks and audio record-

See SPI page 3

Robert Frovman, executive director of the New Yoak State Committes on Open Govarnment of the Now Yosk Stace infomation lans Thurs Covenghment, diseusses frocedom Joumalists in the Newtiouse I Lounge.

City Affairs

\section*{Starbucks plans} mid-March opening

BY STEFANIE KRATTER Staff Writer

Amid months of controversy, the third Starbucks Coffee shop in Syracuse is ready to move onto Marshall Street.

Managers plan to open the store in mid-March and have already begun preparing for the opening, said Brenda Milanette, a Starbucks spokeswoman and current manager of the Starbucks Coffee stand in the yracuse University bookstore. Were very excited to be bringing Starbucks to Syracuse and we reel we could \(=\) be in a more perfect location," Milan-ette said.

Starbucks committees will help prepare for a celebration on opening day, she said.

The new store will replace Archie's Place, 177 Marshall St. In order to maintain the Starbucks standard of community partnership, the company will donate unused coffee to a local rescue mission serving the homeless, Milanette said.
"This is our way of giving back to the community," she said. "We at Starbucks believe that establishing amicable community relations is extremely important.'

Milanette said the company received positive feedback

See STAREUCKS page 7

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

FBI publishes seecret files on web
WASHINGTON. D.C. Interested in perusing some once-secret FBI files about famous geriulses authors and others?

The bureau has put the following files on ites Web site, ww.fbi.gov. and in its reading room at FB headquarters. 1,42 pages were posted about Albert Einstein, triesered by his affiliation with the nmunist Party-
The page features letters such as the correspondence between Edgar Hoover and the pubEdgar Hoover and the publisher of English Saririst lisher of English satirist George Orwell. Thousands of pages about shipping and four pages about and four pages abourt security arrangernent Jacqueline Kemnedy can also be foung on this site.

\section*{Micorsoft laurnctres} Windows 2000

SAN FRANCISC=O - in its biggest and most mportant launch of a proch uct since the introduction of Windows 95 frue years Windows 2000 , Mra iled Windows 2000 , ari enormously complex profram mously complex prosram the company hopes will an increasingly competitive marketplace.

The long-awaitect program has been more than three years in the making and cost an estirnated \($ 1\) billion in developrisent costs.
The program it self is one of the largest works of software ever commercialy software ever cominnercially marketed, amounting to as marry as 40 million lines of instructions written in computer language:

But its introduction has been nothing to rival the fult-scale circus that accompanied the launch of Windows 95, a dramatical ly improved conscarmer product that had ocoyers lining up at comperter shops to be the first owters on their blocks

\section*{Second baby foom} affects colleges (UWIRE) ATHENS, Ohio - As the original baby boomers head toward retirement, a new wave of boomers are heacled off to college.

The large nurmber of babies bom in the late 1980 s and the eearty let." said Travis let," said Travis Reind policy analyst for tre
American Associartion of American Associartio
State Colleges and Universities.
As these boormers reach their 18 th birthdays. college enrollmerit is expected to incresese by 26 percent natiornwide, Reindl said. Begirnning as soon as 2002, Oolleges will have to deal with these increasing miumbers.

\section*{Microsoft releases codes}

LOS ANGELES - In an apparently off-the-cuff remark to a news-service reporter, Microsoft
Corp. Chairman Bill Gates said Corp. Chairman Bill Gates said Thursday that the company might be willing to make the basic code of its Windows operating system public in order to settle the government's antitrust lawsuit.

Antitrust experts said such a move might form the basis of a negotiated end to the case, in which the federal government and 19 state attorneys general of illegally stiling competition.

But they also expressed skepticism that Gates' remark accurately reflected the company's position.

Microsoft officials immediately disputed the report by Bloomberg News Service. The company said Gates made no comment on settlement terms during the encounter and added that "Bill Gates in no way commented on any settlement proposals or the mediation process in any way," said Jim Cullinan, a Microsoft spokesman. "The only thing he stated was that we would be doing our best to settle the case.

Bloomberg editors said they stood by their story, although they conceded that Gates' remark was a "casual" one.

Bloomberg said Gates' remark came after a televised interview with the service. Asked if he would open the source code to settle the lawsuit, Gates said simply, "Yes," according to

But that contradicted Gates' own comments during the taped portion of the interview.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Hospital tests for contamination}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Batches of genetically engineered viruses that were injected into sick children as part of a gene therapy experiment in ed with the AIDS or hematitis ed with the AiDS or hepatitis viruses as initially feared, according to follow-up tests conducted by the Food and Drug Administration.

But the agency said Thursday it's still looking into the cirumstances that led the contamination scare, including apand record keeping at St. Jude and record keeping at St. Jude and questions about whether "promptly" of the potential problem as required by regulations.

Worries grew when Bowman couldn't find documentation showing that appropriate safety testing had been done on the "master batches" of gene-altered viruses from which the pa batches had been derived.

She decided to test some of those batches for contamination. Initial tests suggested the presence of HIV-1, the virus that causes AIDS, and HCV, which causes hepatitis \(C\).

\section*{Japanese giant divides paths}

TOKYO - The Japanese economy has behaved this month as if it is ba

A top government official says Japan is slipping into recession; days later, stock prices hit a two-year high. Economists and officials fret over weak jobs and incomes data; late last week the government reports that new machine orders are that new

In Tokyo, a growing number of analysts say the explanation is deceptively simple: Japan Inc., long regarded as a

\section*{Interest rates may inflate \\ Clinton focuses on Africa}

WASHINGTON D.C. Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan signaled Thursday that the central bank is likely to raise short-term interest rates again in coming months, possithe red hat US economy and the red hot U.S. economy and keep There is always a lag befor the full effect of interest rate increases, which raise borrowing creases, which raise borrowing costs, work their way through the Fed chairman said, spending by consumers and businesses on goods and services keeps increasing faster than the economy's ability to produce them.
That has driven the nation's unemployment rate down to 4 percent and caused the U.S. trade deficit to reach a record level, as imports have satisfied part of the nation's demand. Neither trend can continue indefinitely, he said.
Fed As he has in the past, the Fed chairman emphasized that a key reason U.S. economic growth has been so strong is the major rise in the value of assets, such as corporate stocks and owneroccupied homes.

\section*{world news}
many in the West, is splitting into two distinct economies.

One economy - made up of traditional corporate blue chips - slow-moving behe moths in sectors such as steel nancial services - remains stagnant and unproductive.

\section*{Romanian spill} causes concern

\section*{BAIA MARE, Romania}

Romania acknowleded for the first time today the magnitude of pollution caused by a cyanide spill that has devastated rivers and wildlife in Romania, Hun gary and Yugoslavia.

Environment Minister Romica Tomescu said Romania regret-

WASHINTON, D.C. President Clinton called on ConEress today to send him a version of the Africa Growth and Opsion of the Africa Growth and \(O\) portunity Act by next month.

Clinton said the Unite States must provide greater support for debt relief, disease control and conflict resolution in Versions of the Africa Growth and Opportunity Act, a measure designed to provide measure designed to provide easier access to American markets for African products, have passed both the House and Senate. But Congress has not yet econciled the two measures and sent the legislation to Clinton for signing.
Clinton's speech at the Washington Convention Center came on the first day of a five-day than 2,300 delegates

The conference was organized by the National Summit on Africa, an organization funded largely by the Ford Foundation and devoted to educating Americans about Africa and promoting \(U . S\). involvement in African isU.S. involvement in African issues.
ted "the unfortunate accident" that killed tons of fish and minated numerous rivers, including the Danube, Europe's longest.

Romania did not ever want to hide or play down the magnitude of the accident, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) said Tomes The poison streary.
ntainment dam at a pold from a containment dam at a gold mine near Baia Mare in northwest Romania on Jan. 30, flowing into Szangary and Yugoslavia on the into Romania on the Danube

The Australia-based Esine
alda Exploration Ltd., co-owner of the gold mine, has denied responsibility for the cyanide spill and its chairman said today, there is no conclusive proof that the company is to blame.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via email at news@dialyorange.com. 1:30 p.m. in the SU Drama Department, 820 E. Genesee St . The workshop features the Pi strength building exercise system. Admission is \($ 5\) for students and members of the Performing Arts Medicine Association of Central New York. General admission is \($ 10\). Call 4433199 for more information.
\(\square\) Phi Beta Sigma hosts the Black Expressions Ball in Goldstein Auditorium. Doors open at 6:30 p.m, with dinner an hour later. The program will follow at 9 p.m. Tickets are available at 9 p.m. Tickets are Schine Box Office.

E Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at 4 and 8:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $15-$38, discounts for students, seniors and groups. Call 443-3275 for more information.

\section*{TUESDAY}
\(\square\) The SU Investment Club meets at 7 p.m. in the School of Management, Roo.
majors are welcome.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
\(\square\) Phi Beta Sigma hosts a dance party from 10 to \(2 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). in Goidstein Auditorium. Tickets are

\section*{TODAY-SATURDAY}

■ UUCinemas presents "Deuce Bigalow: Male Gigolo" at torium. Admission is \($ 3\). "The Intorium. Admission is \($ 3\). The Inmidnight with free admission.
- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m.

\section*{SATURDAY}
- The Mental Health Association of Onondaga County divorcing parents covering parenting, emotional and legal issues. The class is from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.at the Mental Health Association, 3049 E. Genesec St. Admission is \($ 20\), but no on is turned away because of inability to pay. Call 445-5606 for more information.

EXercise instructors Bill and Jacqui Landrum host a Pilates workshop from 11 a.m. to \(1: 30\) p.m. in the SU Drama De-

\section*{- State Affairs}

Area residents, officials debate toll increase

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Whter

Some Syracuse residents voiced concern regarding a recent during a hearing with tharsday York State Thmway Authe York "They're gettin more Theyre getting more money to expand wore and expanding Bushnell or Syracuse, who attemd ed the meeting. Tt's iust expanding ed the meeting. Its just expanding lic is asleep, they'll sock it to them."

A New York State Assembly ransportation committee sched

\section*{SP」} contin
"The law will usually give you the edge you need to rerret ut the information," Freeman knid. Your remedy is your Arenci

Agencies do not release records that constitute an invasion of privacy, identiJjcation of a confidential source, government inter-office communications, impairment of collective bargaining negotiations and interference with investigations, he said.

Everything is open unless there is a good reason," he added. Embarrassment is not one of the grounds for denial."

Journalists can submit a written request for information, citing the Freedom of Information Law, which the government agency must respond to within five business days, Freeman said. The agency's response de-

County Convention Center.
The heariag allowed the Thruway Authority to explain the factors that affect decisions made on the Thruway, and to allow the public to comment on them, said David Gantt, chaimman of the State Assembly Cormmittee on Transportation.

Similar hearings recently occurred in Rochester and Albany.

Oficials conducted the hearing despite an announcement by Pataki that the Thruway Authority will reconsider the increase will reconsider the increase.

The proposed toll increase is a tempt to have tolls rise proportionally with construction costs. Tolls could not increase by more than 3 percent any given year, Gantt said.

In the event that the cost of construction should decrease, the toll would remain the same, he added.

The tolls would be used to support construction on the Thruway that could cost $1 bilion. The construction wil alleviate congestion said.

A third lane in each direction of the Thruway would be added in Serstate il and exit 37 and Inter state 690 , Gantt said.

Thruway tolls have remained the same since 1988, but increased traffic warrants the new tolls, ac cording to a report by the Thruway Authority. Passenger vehicle traffic has increased by 3.5 percent annually since 1994. Truck trafic has gone up 5.5 percent each year ce 1994, according to the report. Out of state drivers accoun for one-third of the tolls collected by raised tolls would entere that the pasy for maintenance of the roats as much as Now York state tax pay mus Cantt added ers, For samed for some of thase drivers, the toll hike means a great burden on their wallets.
"I take the Thruway to get to Syracuse. said Brian Kelscy, a Syracuse University sophomore information studies major. "Highor tolls and high gas prices will really hurt me. I'm a college student. I need all the money I canget."

Even after the proposed toll increase, however, the Thruway would still be the lowest in cost per mile among toll roads in the United States, according to a Thruway Authority report.

It's our Boston Tea Party," Bushnell said of his reasons for atto be a big investigation of where this money's going."
pends on the resources of its filing system, he said.

The request cannot be denied if the information is readily available on a database, Freeman said. The only charge for copy, he added.

Journalists can appeal the ruling if the request is not grantduest for more time to search for the requested materials.

If the information cannot be easily found, however, the agency has the right to deny access. Freeman added.

Journalists should ask for the information informally berore submitting a written request, he said. The law should be used only when faced with resistance.

Clerks act as records access fficers and coordinate the government's response to informa tion requests, Freeman said.
"The clerk should become your best friend," Freeman said "What you get quickly depends on the nature of the relationship you develop with the people you cover."

\section*{Frecing information}

School boards and police are often reluctant sources of infor mation, Freeman said

Kathy Mason, an SU graduate student of mass communica tions and former owner of Ar cade-based Arcade Herald, said cade-based Arcade Herald, said she has had many problems she has had many problems with school boards. Some of the problems stemmed from attempting to cover salaries or embarrassing information.

Sometimes during an open meeting, boards would enter an executive session from whred Freeman said Such a move must be justified by one of the 14 specific reasons stated by the law, he said.

Freeman once wrote an ex planation of the law, which Mason printed in her newspaper. son printed in her newspaper. Freeman for information accessrelated legal advice.
"You have the capacity of the pen," Freeman said. "You e the capacity to embarrass. Mason said she distributed copies of the law to the school stood it. But it was the public re sponse that changed their minds

Many community members attended the board meeting wanting to know what the schoo board had to hide, Mason said She said the board mecting nev er again denied her access with out giving a valid reason.

Freeman suggested that journalists talk to disgruntled board members and attempt to develop a relationship of trust.

Journalists and the govern ment feed off each other in a symbiotic relationship, Freeman said. The government uses journalists to get information out to the world and also serve as crucial sources for journalists, he added.
"You have a special responsibility to acquire information so the public will know what the so the pubhic willknow what the government is up to, Freeman said. "Find out what the government is up to."

Freeman said he also educates public officials about the regarding the subject last year. he said.
hat think it's real importane dom students learn about Freeca or Intormation. said and a former ansistant editor at The Daily Orange.

Students should learn about the law before they go out and actually cover stories, said Cauffman, a junior newspaper major.

 check wifh your carler centir lor ime and localbon. for ferther informathon contact es at whw searscom or WRITE US AT 3333 BEMERLY ROAD D4-1718 Hofturn estatis, : 60179

\title{
Are hackers a legitimate threat the SU computers?
}

\section*{Students discuss recent hacker hijackings of SU's computer server}

4 don't have anything to hide, but it's scary to think that people could get personal information about me. \({ }^{\prime}\)

JASON LAMPHIER
Newhouse

4 don't think there's a threat of damage to the university. it's only to make a statement, and they're using the school's resources to do that. \({ }^{\prime}\) MORGAN WALTS

\section*{IST}

Class of 'O1

sit's not the first time it has happened. In the physics department, people have hacked in and we've had to change our passwords. It's kind of a drag.'

JOHN SCHILER
Arts and Sciences graduate student

4Hey, if they can boost my grades. I don't have a problem with it.

NIYEKA WILSON IST
Class of 2001

\section*{"Hacking" episode creates false impressions}

To the Editor:
The Daily amazed to see that The Daily Orange based their Feb. I5 headline declaration "SU attacked by hackers"

Whether hackers are a dangerous threat to the university or not is something that should be examined. But cover up, exaggeration and even lying to the student body is no way to go about anything. There is no eviabout anything. There is no evidence of a Feb. 14 Denial of Service attack on the Sunixserverin fact, there is plenty of evidence against one ever existing.
Media Services reported it as a Media services reported it as a network failure, just like the ones network failure, just like that happen routinely.

If the "hackers" were truly able to slow down the whole connection, the machines must have been overloaded by the hacker's and their target. The network was not sending any signals, like was not sending any signals, lowe and DoS signals couldn't be sent and Dos signals couldn't be sent to any target. All .edu" sites (all fectly nationwide, and were downloading at fast speeds, showing that the campus network was not being overworked. It was simply SU's Internet contimes before.

Butler's words were full of contradictions. He said that \(S U\) recognized signals as "hackers" and "trapped" the hacker's proand trapped the hackers po it was not able to send any signals. Then, I ask, why was the network down for so long? If in fact, they were successful in tapping SU and using it for a Denial of Service attack, where and who was their target? It seems to \section*{Hackers use talents to enhance technology}

To the Editor:
Once again, the local newspapers and the country in general has neglected to view their speech as stereotyping and hateful. The recent stir of issues regarding "hackers" penetrating Syracuse University's computers is one that I personally take a large amount of resenta large amount of resentment toward.

Although the problem that may have occurred may, in fact, be due to one of these DoS (Denial of Service) attacks, these attacks are not lead by hackers. Hackers are individuals who enjoy figuring out how things work and developing new ways to do things. We are the group that brought Linux, FreebSD, OpenBSD and the like to this world in all their glory. We are the "computer geeks" who brought the Y2K problem to its knees, virtu ally eliminating all threats with our know-how and formal training.

We are the ories who fight for better communica tion from large corporations, money We are not ther our money. We are not the chil-be more than just a coincidence that out of the many times the network has been down, this is the first claim to be caused by hackers, just when such news has been all over the media recently. I was appalled at how easily Butler jumped on the bandwagon, expecting all the students to behave as a mindless mass who would unquestioningly believe anything he said on a whim.

Either Butler doesn't know enough about computers to hold his position, or he was motivated by a desire to get more money out of the administration in the name of "increased security" by excusing the network failure. Not surprisingly, the following day, Butler and other SU officials called for an increase in their budget for network security. But under increased scrutiny, he then stated that there was not enough evidence" to report the ncident to the FBI. Mhis is another ridiculous circus maneuver Does Mr. Butler fail to deem the well-being of the school and its information integrity and security important enough to contact

See FALSE page 8
ng havo on the world's computers. The recent Dos at- Denial of Service attacks tacks that were possibly channeled through SU and other universities have not been a work of malicious hackers, but simply individuals with a motive. Any regular Joe could initiate one of these attacks from their own personal computer. By the same token, with a small amount of research and the initiative, they could plant the seeds to launch a largescale attack like the ones we have been seeing. But this takes no computer know how whatsoever.

The hacker community is one which is attempting to make life on the Internet more secure for everyone, and a more peaceful place. By planting the blame of these silly attacks on hackers, you are doing nothing more than pushingus further toward the world as portrayed by Hollywood or mass media. You may need a word to label these attacking individuals, but that word is definitely not "hacker."

Jim Whitehead Class of 2002

\section*{Media overplays impact of} To the Editor:
It is a great shame that the supposedly "educated" people that report on campus news would fall into the same entirely misleading practices as the rest of the media. Or is that what they teach in Newhouse? What occurred when the Internet went down last weekend was called a Denial of Service attack. It is, as stated, an atternpt to deny service. Hackers do not do this. if they disconn call someone a hacker This person inected your phone? No. not a hacker. But somehow in the media's infinite wisdom about computers anything having to do with computer trouble is either due to Microsoft or hackers. And as often as the first may be true, the second is not. A hacker uses sophisticated methods to break into systems. Methods, which if ex plained to the media or public, would make the 90 percent of the population that are complete idiots realize who they are.

Hackers are technically proficient and geniuses in their own right, even if what they know can be used to do dam age. It is what they do with their knowl edge that matters, however none of these "internet vandinls" (i.e. not hackers) have any of this knowledge. It takes literaily no skill to do what they did See DOS page 8 4No, there's so many big and important issues on campus other than hackers. And if everyone's so worried, they should just out everything back on paper.

DANIELLE GOODE Newhouse Class of \({ }^{\prime} 00\)

GIf people have that muen time on their hands, they should use their skills for something else.,

DOUG CAMPBELL Management Class of \({ }^{\circ} \mathrm{OO}\)

4 My computer has a lot of viruses and hackers just make it worse. 4 can't write any papers or send any e-mails when they do stuff. 9

ETHAN GRAY
Arts and Sciences
Class of \(\cdot 03\)

4 lt's an inconvenience It's annoying when you can't log on and you need to do work. 9

LINDSAY RATNER
Newhouse
Class of \({ }^{\circ} \mathrm{OI}\)

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{SU ignores proper harassment policy \\ Syracuse University's right hand doesn't} know what its left hand is doing

When a female student stepped forward charging music law adjunct-professor Jay Flemma with sexual harassment last semester, the university responded. They swiftly dismissed Flemma from his post without explanation, informing him he would not be welcomed back next year.

But a recent series of miscommunications and procedural missteps leaves serious doubts about the university's intention - or ability to take action on the case.

Kevin Morrow, the official SU spokesman, made statements markedly different than those that came from Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund's office regarding the reasons for Flemma's dismissal. Meanwhile, College of Visual and Performing Arts Dean Donald Lantzy admitted that SU is hoping to keep the case out of the public eye.

While the press leads the charge in exposing much of the case's logistics, the Flemma case lingers in closed-door university committee deliberations. SU's procedural ineptitude is sickening, and it sends a clear message that looking out for the community's safety falls low on the priority list.

SU already showed its cowardly face when slogging through the sexual harassment lawsuit against former women's tennis coach Jesse Dwire, which dragged on for three years before an out-of-court settlement was reached last year.

While it's still too early to determine the validity of these harassment claims, the university's failure to follow its written sexual harassment policies casts a dark cloud over the campus. SU's actions make a mockery of the struggles faced by sexual harassment victims, failing to provide them with a functional comfort zone in which to prosecute their tormenters.

SU spent countless dollars in legal fees before firing Dwire.

But students' safety is priceless. Act now don't pay later.

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daty Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Parting thoughts make up for lack of opinions}

With my term as a Daily Orange columnist nearing its end, I decided to flip through my past articles to reminisce. After I was done, I noticed a recurring theme in my opinions articles - they lacked opin opinions but were swamped in a pool of confusing opinions but were swamped in a pool of confus and misleading symbolism. However, none came out and gave a straightforward opinion.
D.O. readers have been cheated and so for this article I decided to make up for all the lost time I've taken away from these poor people The following is a series of my opinions.

I hate people who stand in my way. You know who these people are. They're the ones who congregate right inside the doors of the Schine Student Center to discuss everything that's good like McDonald's and Burger King? Pepsi is sold with everything that's awful, like Taco Bell and Hollywood Video.

\section*{RENNY}

MCCAULEY

I hate Hollywood Video. I worked there this summer and they didn't give me my paycheck until November. Their spin-off web company Reel.com sucks, too. They promised my friend a gift certificate and then sent her into a web of bureaucratic lies. I urge everybody to boycott. Hollywood Video and all their subsidiary companies.

Speaking of boycotts, I want everybody to boycott Disney, too. This capitalist machine is worse than Hollywood Video. Here's what they do. They put out an overrated cartoon packed with sexual innuendoes, force it upon every little kid in the world, then pull the movies from the shelf so that parents have to buy them as soon as they come out. Ten years later, they release the same movie which creates a huge resurrelease the same movie which creates a huge resuroverrated innuendo-packed movie again for the next generation of Disney brain-washed kids. No other company does this, so why does Disney have to? dians nominated for Oscars. This year it's Phil Collins cians nominated for Oscars. This year it's Phil Co doing the Tarzan song. Past nominees have been doing the Tarzan song. Past nominees have been Celine Dion and Elton John. These musicians seem to Celine Dion and Elton John. These musicians seem to have some connecting thread but I can't quite figure out what it is. Oh yeah! They suck. And the Oscars suck, too. How did Cider House Rules get nominated for Best Picture when "Being John Malkovich" and Me the same reason Phil Collins is allowed to show up at the Oscars.

And on the positive side, I like snowsuits. If it's snowing outside, doesn't it make sense to wear a smart enough to wear one must be so comfy inside that thing. Another thing I like is the Victoria's Secret catalog. This publication is a pleasure for women as well as men, especially when Laeticia Casta is involved.

I hope these opinions are a little conciliation for all my unopinionated articles. It may not make up for all the wasted space in the D.O. every week but maybe it will be enough for a little forgiveness.

Renny McCauley is a junior television, radio and film major: E-mail him at remecaul@syr.edu

\section*{letters}

\section*{Community fails to publicize Panther visit}

\section*{To the editor:}

This letter is in response to The Daily Orange's role in the repression of the words of Elaine Brown, the former Black Panther president who spoke on campus Sunday, The lack of coverage silences Brown's intriguing message. I guess the entire black community should thank The D.O. for at least including a firont-page picture of Ms. Brown, accompanied by the heading "Panther Power." This is not however, something to be thankful for. This act not only stripped Ms. Brown's message of its power, but it cation of this black woman in the attempt to render her words useless and send the message to all readers that she's "okay to look at but not actually listen to. \({ }^{*}\)

Ms. Brown began her speech by conceding to the fact that she was most likely looked at by the university as a token black speaker for Black History Month. For some odd reason, Fistory Month. For some odd reason, I believed that The D.O. would expend a little more energy in covering this story, if for nothing else, then for this story, if for nothing else, then for Black History Month. Once again, it Black History Month. Once again, it has been proven that the SU community (black, white, etc.) cannot trust

The D.O., since the same ideologies are passed from one staff to another. A more journalistically-inclined newspaper would have not only written an article about Brown's speech Unt also questioned weak display of task man Union's weak display of task manSpeakers Board not only did an atrocious job of advertising the event, but were reckless enough to hire a police "guard" to oversee the small audience without hiring Events Production to run the sound system. Both Brown and myself were left wondering what happened.

Nafsalam Aniran
Class of 2001

\section*{国 Multicultural Affairs}

\section*{Thompson criticizes lack of black history}

\section*{in school education}

A mural behind the circulation desk in Yale University's main library depicts a man with the keeper of knowledge, said archivist Joseph Thompson, Jr. Thursday.

Books and knowledge are not the kind of things anyone should keep to themselves. Thompson said to about 20 students in Bird Library. Thompson,

Franklin Research Center at Duke University, spoke in honor of Arna Bontemps, a writer, teacher and librarian whose works are currently on display on th Bird.

\section*{Voted Best Music Store bt The D.O. in 1998 THE \\ SOUND GARDEN}

\section*{A R M O R Y}
"Incredibly well organized new and used co's" - hutrimer An, wricer
"Overall, pound for pound, bin for bin, Sound Garden can't be beat."
"Superlative indie-vinyl section"

African-Arnericanist, I do not think of my self as the keeper of money or tize black literary history," Thompsion said.

That restriction of knowledge and the absence of black authors ance history in the American educetional system damages the development of young blacks becazase there are no role models provided, thompson said. It is ixxpportant to engage in the study of various ethnic roots. It is just ans important to study the institutions by which these are constitureed, Thompson said. School culezrer racial

T
Thompson, an AfricanAmerican Studies and English doctoral camdidate at Yale, reflected on tine life of Bontemps, who was borta in 1902. Bontemps, a black autlior, wished to portray black charecters because of their absence im other literature, Thompson said.

In Bomtemps' life, he saw great chaze occurring in the practice of secondary and college education, Thompson added.

The ancthor was one of a few young blacks to attend high creater minerity as a collece student, Thomppson said. At the end of his educetional career. Bontemps looked back on his life and began to realize that there were no parts of his study involving the literary history of his cultural backgrozind.
"The IJegro had no history," said Thoximpson, quoting Bontemps.

Bontermps sought to change this and after college went on to write booless that contained characters of black descent and up-bringing- ine intended ror the dents a cheme young black students a chamce to find themselves own, Thompson said.
"Mairztaining a literary tradition is mot simply a communication among scholars, there is so a physical" he said
Lettecha Johnson, a junior illustration major, said she was intrigued by the stories Thomp son described.
it makes me want to rond said.

Thompson said he believes that Bontemps, who died in 1973 accomplishes his goal so well that is often difficult to distinguish between his fiction and nonfiction works.
\({ }^{4}\) The Chariot and the Cloud," Bontemps last written and yet to be published novel, foabsence of black tradition in public schools, Thompson said The main character in the book is alienated from both worlds of his life, he added.

The black character does not fit in the working community of his youth after getting a college education and also does not fit in the predominantly white school system. During the character's education, black history was not worthy of serious study and the system forced him to finish his ormalized studies before contin personal history. Thompson said Cesar Escobar a sophomore ican-American studies major recommended after the speech that similar discussions regarding the history of other black leaders should be sponsored.

It was very interesting, and I think it needs more research done," Escobar said. "I think we should do one of these on Malcolm X."

Both race and class must enter into to the educational process to give students an accu rate picture of the world, Thomp son reiterated that class ne that one thing is that class needs to be a larger focus in the kinds of textbooks we do believe the model needs to incorporate the class of the people creating those books."
after this, the corporate ladder will be a piece of [cake].
In Army ROTC, you'll get to do stuff that'll challenge you, both physically and mentally. In the process, you'll develop skills you can use in your career, like thinking on your feet, making smart decisions, taking charge. Talk to your Army ROTC representative. You'll find there's nothing like a little climbing to heip prepare you for getting to the top.

ARMY ROTC Unlike any other college course Fona can take.

\section*{GET YOUR JUMP ON THE COMPETITION BY CALLINIE CAPTAIN} DOTSON 443-1752

\section*{Faculty members receive Fulbright grants to research abroad \\ BY NICOLE ELIOT}

Contributing Witter

Three Syracuse University faculty members will use the Fulbright Program this semester to conduct research abroad on topics including screenwriting and language studies.

Melissa Pearl Frieding, Jaklin Kornfilt and Philip Peterson join about 700 U.S. scholars and professionals who are sent to more than 100 countries each year, according to a program report.

About 230,000 "Fulbrighters" have participated in the program since its establishment in 1946 by former Arkansas Sen. J. William Fried Friedling, an assistant film professor in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, will spend the 2000 Fall Semester in Portugal lecturing about screenwriting She will and Image in The School of Arts Reand Image in The School of Arts ReCatholic University, Friedling said "I really wanted to travel. As the first program of its kind in Porthe first program of its kind in Pornational cinema to emerge that is

\section*{STARBUCKS}
continued from page regarding the move. But it's anticipated arrival on Marshall Sreet, home to smalier coffee shops, has been met with some discontent

Sean Piatek, a senicr marketing and finance major, said he feels Starbucks is an unfair business player and is trying to monopolize the coffee industry. but it should be fair competition," Phatek said.

Sara Malloy, owner of the coffee shop No Borders No Boundaries, 171 Marshall St., said she has seen many antiSaid she has seen many antiwindows during the last few weeks.

Mailoy added that protesters began circulating petitions when rumors of a local Starbucks were first mentioned last summer. The petitions garnered more than 1,000 signatures, she said.
been getting such ontpour of support," Malloy said.

Malloy said she has been encouraged by the support of testers are ecting but some proThe site of the new Starbucks was plastered with flyers last week, denouncing the coffee chain as an unfairbusiness practice.
No Borter Miller, manager of No Borders, said he witnessed some Starbucks protests. The support for No Borders and other small coffee shops is appreciated, he said, but he urges protesters to avoid vandalism.
"Vandalism is very extreme and is not helping solve anything. People have the right to be angry, but our business is here and will remain here," he said.

Heather Knuth, an employee at the Starbucks stand in the SU bookstore, said she does not understand the opposition to the shop's opening.

Knuth, a freshman communications design major, said during her experience working ence of a larger coffee chain has ence of a larger coffee ch \({ }^{\text {ver been threatil busingesses will }}\) still attract a certain crowd," she said.

Malloy established No Borders in August 1997. She said she initially worried about the addition of a Starbucks to the area, and considered selling her shop. But she is now optimistic of her store's future, she maid.

We have a very strong business due to a number of de-rich in art history," Friedling said T'm excited about the possibilities that could happen there.

Friedling, who earned a Ph.D. in film in 1997 from the University of Iowa, said she hopes to help students discover all that Portugal cinema has to offer.

This desire to reach out and helpon a daily basis is evident in her everyday teaching, said Oronike Odeleye, a junior film and drama major.
"T have found her to be an extremely student-friendly professor," Odeleye said. "She has always been willing to go the extra mile with me outside of class, even on my own personal projects.

Odeleye will work with Friedling to coordinate a film festiral this spring, Odeleye said.

Friedling's ability to recognize the value in people will help her succeed in the Fulbright program, cal philosophy maior
"She is a listener and a giver," Comorsaid. "Of all the professors at SU, Mel is absolutely the only one who realizes that there is someWho realizes that there is sone."

Connor is currently taking an not think we will lose too much, except for some possible walk-in customers," Malloy said.

No Borders offers a completely different atmosphere that Starbucks cannot match, she said.

Miller agreed. Donald's to high quality restaurant," he said.

Malloy said when she opened No Borders, she intended it to be a comfortable place where students can study, be with their friends and listen to Piatek said he goes to No Borders everyday between classes to take advantage of that atmosphere.

"No Borders is like home away from home," he said. "It is the perfect place to relax, gossip and do homework.

JLyn Wimple, a senior illustration major and No Bor ders regular, said the small coffee shop offers a very personal environment.
"I feel like I know everyone here," she said.
independent study with Friedling as her advisor

Peterson, a philosophy professor in The College of Arts and Sciences, will spend three months in Venice, Italy, lecturing as a Fulbright chairman, Peterson said.

Peterson chose to apply for the program after finding the opportunity for a unique experience, he added.

The reason I contacted them was that I noticed the very special description of the 'Fulbright Chair in Theoretical Linguistios and Philosophy of Language' at the University of Venice," Peterson said. Though it was past the deadline at the time.
the Washington Fulbright office greed that was uniquely qualifed and so they pursued it. which Peterson earned a Ph. Dp degre in philosophy from Duke University in 1963. He specializes in philosophy of language and the mind, episte mology and nestheties.

Komfilt, an associate professo of languages, literature and linguis tics in The College of Arts and Sci ences, participated in the Fulbright Program last fall. She lectured and offered workshops to graduate stu dents at the Turkology Departmen of the Institute for Oriental Lan guages and Civilizations at the Uni-ersity of Frankurt, Germany, said or Kornfilt.

Kornfilt earned a Ph.D. for yntactic theory in 198.4 at Harvard University. She researched the Turkish language, aiming to gilin a reater understanding of linguistic hange throughout history. During her time abroad, Kornfilt also spent time in Venice and Paris.
"Professor Kornfilt definitely cares about her studenes," said Kate Tomei, a sophomore advertising and sociology major. "She answers questions thoroughly to be sure that everyone understands the class ma terial."

\section*{"tigh quality and low prices are guaranteed at Meineke:" \\ George Foreman \\ - EXHAUST SYSTEMS - BRAKE SYSTEMS - SUSPENSION SYSTEMS C.V. JOINTS STATE INSPECTION TIRE BALANCING \\ All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY You won't pay a lot but you'll get a lot \\ FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate CICERO
 \\ 8313 S. Main St. 699-9654 \\ }

\title{
TLIFETMNE BRAKE PADS & SHOES 50\% OFF
}

\section*{STATE WNSPECTION 1R PRICE} ONIY \($ 7\)

\section*{SAvesectio Ahathistion}
meinelre

\section*{FOIL CHANGE & TIRE ROTATIONT ONIY \($ 19.95\) \\ HCLuDes yero
}

\section*{-RADIATOR FニUSH& FIEL BTD DFF}

\section*{FLEMMA}

\section*{continued from page 1}

Flemma defended himself in his appeal against the sexual harassment accusations, but neglected to mention his alleged failure to obey these administrative procedures, Morrow said.

Flemma said he was unaware that his appeal was questionable.
"I'm caught by surprise," Flemma said. "I have no idea what they're talking about."

Morrow said Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund sent Flemma a letter Thursday morning informing him of the situation.

Because of its lack of releant information, the appeal will not be reviewed by the University Senate's Academic Faculty Tenure and Ethics committee until Flemma can provide the necessary statements, Morrow said.
"This is really a matter between the university and the individual," Morrow said. "He needs to provide additional information for the appeal to be considered. If enough information is provided by Mr. Flemma, the AFTE committec will consider it.

But Flemmin said he was not aware that he had disobeyed any administrative procedures.

As an adjunct professor, Flemma only teaches his course during the fall semester. In past years, VPA has sent him a letter ing him to reme semester invit year, he said.
This year, however, the college simply stated in a one-para graph letter that Fiemma was not invited to teach during the 2000 Fall Semester, Flemma said.

The university did not give any reasons for his dismissal Flemma added.
"They never gave mo any notice," he said. "This is all brand new."

Flemma said the miscommunication is upsetting, but not surprising given the university's apathetic nature toward his case thus far.
"It's been typical of the way the university has run this investigation since day one," Flemma said. 'It's another excuse. That's all it is - another glib excuse."
\[
\begin{gathered}
\text { NEED SOVCE } \\
\text { EXXIRA } \\
\text { MONEX? }
\end{gathered}
\]

\section*{Campus Delivery is looking} for delivery drivers. Weekend hours are available. Pay rate of \($ 5.45\) per hour to start, plus \($ .50\) per delivery. Other positions available are people to man the phones and supervisors

\section*{Please inquire at Goldstein Dining or call 443-1514 to apply}

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1
more personal basis."
David Gaulin, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences, said he wants to influence how the Student Activity Fee is allocated.

He added that he fas an inerest in the position as well as the experience to serve successfully.
"I had a similar position in high school," Gaulin said. "I was interested in it then and I am very interested in helping SU now."

Gaulin plans to be proactive f he is chosen for the position, he said. One of his major objectives is to improve the relationship between student organizations and the Finance Board through a new liaison program, he added.

A lot of the problems that arise have to do with the misunderstanding of the Finance Code," Gaulin said. "I think the key is to be more open to student groups."

The liaison program will in-

\section*{Studu in Hong Kong!} A Come to the Dipa Info Meeting February 21 st at 4pm EGGERS
RM 112 Jessie Burkhead Rm
For further information, contact DIPA at:
443-3471 or
gapellam@summon3.syr.edu
clude meetings where the board members of student organizamembers of student organizations and the Finance Board will meet to learn about the SGA Finance Code, Gaulin said.
"These workshop sessions will teach members how to use and understand the Finance Code," he said.

It is inevitable that some student organizations will not receive all of the funding they request, he added. Gaulin hopes to work with student organizations in finding alternate funding if their request is rejected by the Finance Board, he said.
en communication to open communication between dent budget report. "SGA used to SGA used to publish the student budget in a newsletter." this since the 70 s . It is it done this since the 70 s . It is imporgets what funds."

The student budget report would be published online so students know where their student fee is going, he added.

Both candidates said they are excited about working with Greiner.
"I have gone over and thoroughly understand each part of the Finance Code and its histoY, Gaulin said. I believe I with Che able to get along not only with Board and all officers of SGA."

The debate will serve as an important venue for candidates to voice their concerns involving university issues, Escobar said.
"Student are urged to attend. It is crucial to the function of the debate," Escobar said. WThis tests candidates' abilities to handle budget issues that arise."

\section*{FALSE}
continued from page 4 the proper authorities, or he is afraid the FBI would laugh in his face when presented with such a stunt?

While information security is something that must be looked at with reason and truth rather than with rash judgment and panic, there is a lack of evidence. So let's not join Butler on the bandwagon in the ever more ridiculous quest for sensationalism.

Erik Zimerman
Class of 2000

\section*{DOS}
continued from page 4
Please, in the future, before jumping on the bandwagon of the nuzional media and using the of research into the matter and of research into the matter and

Evan Burs
Class of 2001

\section*{duide}

\section*{Cuff above}

Give that annoying little Cupid the boor for good tonight when Off-The-Cuff. Comedy performs "Cupid Was Here" at Happy Endings Coffeenouse, 317 South Clinton Street in Armory Square. The improvisational comedy show begins at 8 p.m. and features audience-participatory skits and a live version of Drew Carey's "Whose Line is It, Anyway?" Tickets are $8. Call 475-1853.

\section*{Beauty queen}

At 40 years-old, Maureen Foland is more than a little desperate for a naughty duet between the sheets. But all her lovey-dovey visions are about to E et squashed by her mean old mom. See if Maureen finds romance tonight when "The Beauty Queen of Leenane" Beauty Queen of Leenane" 820 East Genesee Street. 820 East Genesee Stree Tickets are \($ 25-$ 38\). Ca Tickets are \($ 25-$ 38\). Call

\section*{Getting folksy}

It's been a few years since he's played with the Boston's Joe Val, but Dave Haney will bring his show to the Westcott Community Center Saturday. Haney and Alabamabased singer Lisa Baldwin's show combines elements of folk, country, bluegrass and acoustic blues. Saturday's show represents the group's first appearance in Central New York. Show starts at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5-$6. Call 4788634.

\section*{Renaissance reborn} Most famous for the literary accomplishments of Langston Hughes and other writers, the visual artists of the Harlem Renaissance are usually left in the back comers of history. But the Community Folk Art Gallery will celebrate those visual artists who helped usher in the cultural renaissance Sunday with an exhibit titled -Spint of the Renaissance." The exhibit features work by Hartern Renaissance painters
William H. Johnson and William H. Johnson and Malvin Gray- It runs through March 31. For gallery hours call 424-8487.

\section*{Off-sides}

Football fans may know Pete Ferris as a place kicker for the Syracuse Orangeman. But tonight Ferris takes his act off the field with "White Chocolate," Samuel L. Kelley's drama about black identity in smalltown white America. The newty revised stage play runs through Feb. 26 at the Paul Robeson Performing Arts Robeson Performing A Company, 2223 East Gempany, Street. Show Genesee Street. Show starts at 7 p.rn. Tickets are starts at 7 p.m. Tickets
\($ 5-$ 10\). Call \(443-4302\).

\section*{Outlook good} Send that magic 8 ball back to mornrny and daddy and get answers from the real sooth-sayers Saturday during a Psychic Festival at the Holiday inn, thruway exit 37. Explore your past and present from 11 a.m. 10 p.m. Festival also runs from 11 a.m. 7 p.m. on Sunday Admission is \($ 6\). Call 653-9207.

See GUIDE on page 10

\section*{Weekend}

\section*{Pacclac}

The 16th annual Syracuse Winterfest brings fun to downtown for the next nine days.

Most of us are getting a little sick of the dreary cold that characterizes a Syracuse winter, but the past week has given Winterfest 2000 participants a reason to smile. "It makes something like the Winterfest look so much prettier," said John Lehmann, food and beverage director at the Hotel Syracuse Radisson Plaza, 500 S . Warren St. "People feel like being outside and doing wintery things if it looks like winter.

The Hotel Syracuse will host the event's Kick-Off Party from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday. Admission is \($ 6\) and the party, which features the band Primetime, is open to the public.

Winterfest 2000 , celebrating its 16th anniversary, is "a reason to come out and celebrate the outdoors," said Bill Cooper, one of the event organizers.
"It's a week of family events," he added. "There are things for kids, for parents, for students."

The events begin at noon Saturday with the "Dance of the mocades in the City Hall ComWarren streets The free Radio Disney-spongared donce contest Disney-spongored dance contest from the 1950 s to 1980 s don garb pete in contests and cames for pete in contests and games for Th

The festivities end Feb. 27 With the festival's featured event, ipants may travel from noon to 5 the establishment's chicken local entertainment personalities, will name the venue with the "best" wings at 6:30 p.m. at P.J. Dorsey's, 116 Walton St.

Dorsey's was chosen to host Wing Walk by Updowntowners, a volunteer civic group that works to make city improvements, said Kelly Homan, a member of the organization and the editor of The Syracuse Record. Updowntowners, which has historically run the Chilf and Chowder cookoffs, helped out with the first Winterfest in 1984.
"It's in a different place every year and this year we got it," said John Santone, an assistant manJohn Santone, an assistant manager at Dorsey's. we've got the stage, the

\section*{Good Old Times}

Homan said that while the Wing Walk is "extremely popular," the chili and chowder cookofts can be just as fun. For neariy 20 years, they have been a staple of the Winterfest," she said. "They are among the more popular events" among the more popular events.

Sat chili cookoff, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, and the chowder attract throngs of people to the attract throngs of people to the where from 15 to 30 people participate in each of the outdoor cookofts, she said.

\section*{"It's'} really great
They come and set up before 11 and they cook their chili and chowder right there They don't bring.in pots of it, they make it in front of you," Homan said.

Panels similar to the one judging the Wing walk will make a ruling on the chili and chowder samples at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 26 and 27. After the judging, residents are invited to sample the food.
"Chili and chowder are definitely good winter dishes," Homan said.

While not usually considered a "winter dish," a P&C Foods-sponsored chicken barbecue will make a debut at this year's event, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sumday.

For those looking to wet their Fullets, there will be a beer tasting Feb. 26. At least five brewing companies will participate in the Miat Dey's Centennial Plaza 401 S . Salina St. Those over 21 years of age may sample beers ales, stouts and ciders for \($ 10\) "Somethins a hit," Cooper said. "It would be a success on its own so includine it in the Winterfest can only help. \({ }^{\text {it }}\) Aside from food and drink, the festival also features movies
at the Landmark Theater, 362 S. Salina St., the Kids Karnival in the City Hall Commons Atrium, a dinosaur exhibit at the Museum of Science and Technology, 500 S . Franklin St., a treasure hunt sponsored by The Syracuse Newspapers and free ice skating at the OnCenter War Memorial, 800 S . State St.

Events throughout the week include storytelling sessions in the the Hall Commons Atrium and then Museum 321 Montgomery St There will also be dance programs there will also be dance programs 447 S . Salina St., and a Syracuse 447 S . Salina St., and a Syracuse Memorial. In addition Fresno's Southwest Restaurant and Bar will sponsor free trolley rides through the downtown area from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. A complete listing of Winterfest events can be found at www.syracusewinter fest.com.

See WINTERFEST page 10

\section*{Stray plot crashes \\ It's time to get sand in our oes and go slummin' in toes and go slum Southeast Asia! \\ "The Beach," starring everyone's favorite "Growing Pain" Leonardo DiCaprio was an escapist, exotic fantasy film about an island that no one \(c\) get to. It was like "Fantasy Island," unfortunately \\ without Tattoo. \\ Eric Rosenthal and Matt Bray \\ cinemaniacs \\ We start off with the Kirk Cameron wannabe bouncing about in Thailand and complaning about being a of cliches, how about Leo's annoying voiceover that narrates a number of scenes? If this number of scenes? If th re in Miso Suchy's film} history class, it would be reminiscent of a historic spectacle of the early cinema. Hey, we got a movie carnera! Let's film the beautiful islands of the Southeast, intermixed with outrageous acts like drinking snakes' blood and fighting off sharks!
"Titanic's" Jack runs into a few interesting travelers in Bangkok, featuring a young. apparently-rich French couple

\section*{WAGNER}
continued from page 16 right up there with Kent and Central Michigan. We should beat Wagner. They might be with more forfeits than us""

When captain Shawn omas takes themat shortly after 4 p.m., SU wrestling's lone senior will grapple for the final time before progressing on to the EIWA Championships in the first weekend of March.

The Tulsa, Okla., native is not getting too excited about the match, even though his father will attend the bout for only the second time in his college career.
"It's just another match for me," Thomas said. "I'dlike to perform well, especially from the aspect that (my fa ther will be here), but

Though he has faced Buffalo many times while at SU Thomany has never opposed thomas wrestler who will stare him down in the middle of the circle Sunday.

Most recently, he squared off against \(B\) uffalo's David Guarino at the New York State Intercollegiate Wrestling Championship While Buffalofinished second to Hofstra, Thomas pinned Guarino in 4:58 on his way to claiming third place.

On Sunday, he'll wrestle a different opponent in Gary Cooper. While Thomas and the SU coachingstaff don't whow mas missed abooper Col season with nazging injuries - the Buffalogging injuries about Thomas. They know his abilities and will coach against his strengths Thomas said.

Thomas brings a \(25-9\) remarkable 88 percent of his wins coming via pinfall. He has twice as many pins as the second-leading pinner in the conference.

\section*{The Daily} Orange Vdvertising Information

The Daily orange adver 4ong hours are from 9:00 a:m
 teTo place an advertisement Inthe DO, the ad must bejat the: advertisin office before 9:m. two bus whess days
eefore you wan ever it to run.e cisall 443-979e
RHycurrent rates
spid applicable
discounts durige advertising bus vess hours rgess hous
"I've always done that, even in high school, "the Berryhill High School alum 18 said. "Senior year, I had 16 , 18 pins. Last year, I had 11, and that's high considering Even if you're up 14 was in. down 12, you can always or the win with a pin."

Joining Thomas in the lineup is the slumping Brett Cowen. The freshman hit his stride midway through the season buthas struggled since. He came up empty in three chances last week at the Rutgers Duals and saw

Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc Marshall Square Mall
Custorn New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors

Best Prices
Guarenteed Work
\[
\begin{gathered}
\text { Hours } \\
\text { Mon. Thur Fri. } \\
9: 30-5: 30 \\
\text { Sat. 10:30-2:30 }
\end{gathered}
\]

Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{1/2 OFF!}

4 More Days Today till Sat! Huge Clearance * Brand New & Vintage * Winter & Spring GOWNS TO CLUB CLEAROUT!
[BDDA IBANBIES on Westcott (off Euclid) 472-1949 orange singlet, Jerry Pacillo gers, Pacillo won two of three gets his chance at revenge. Pacillo transferred from Buffalo when he decided that he would not get a fair shot at the 141-pound weight class. At SU, Pacillo has turned a slow start into a productive season. He earned a place in last few weeks, and at Rut-matches.
rovemave seen great improvement," Thomas said of Pacillo. "Jerry has a lot of talent. When he decides to use it, he'll be very good. tled to stay close bu wres cently) he has wrestled to win points. has wrestled to win points.

\section*{A CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT clinton's BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE CLINTON WHITE HOUSE WITH}

Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President Clinton and now an executive with Oxygen Media, the women's cable channel, and Bruce Lindsey,
assistant counsel to the President.
They will discuss their experiences as the President's lawyers and advisors throughout the past year.
- Wednesday, february 23rd * -3:00 P.M. UNTIL 5:00 P.M. -- schine underground -

\section*{THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK}

\section*{The Teaching Opportunity Program}

Is Teaching On Your Horizon?
Are you a graduate with a bachelor's degree in mathematics. science er a related analytical field and a strong academic record? Through the new Teaching Opportunity Program (TOP) Scholarships you can build the foundation of a career as an educator teaching in New York City's public schools, earn your master's degree and guarantec a successful fuiure for thousands of students.

Apply to be a TOP Scholar today.

\section*{TOP Scholarships Provide:}

A Full Tuition Scholarship for a Master's Degree that will lead to New York State Teacher Certification
A Guaranteed Teaching Position in a New York City Public School
A Fully Supported Summer Preparation Program
For more information and an applleation call (2 12) 794-5444/5446 or visit our website at www.top.cuny.ecu

\section*{GAMPEL}
continued from page 16
that we're playing well, it opens up other places for people to play well also.

Syracuse cannot have a defensive letdown against the conch Marianna Freeman said the Orangewomen must break up UConn's transition game which is the focal point of their offense.

The transition game is paced by Big East presenson Player of the Year Svetlana Abrosimova. The St. Peters

\section*{- DP30} stippinc smivicis
- PACKAGING
- SHIPPING SUPPLIES
- ENVELOPES.
- GIFT WRAPPING -
- NEXT DAY SERVICE -
- INTERNATIONAL -

\section*{OPEN TTLL MIDNITE (M-F)}

\section*{coifr \\ 472-0546}
 ) CINEMAS
CAROUSEL 19
CAROUSEL CENTER GAZRGAIN MATNEES BEFORE GPM.

The Daily Orange
team in rebounding and blocked shots.

Center Kelly Schumacher adds to the UConn frontcourt The junior paced UConn with in Connecticut's \(49-45\) win at in Connecticut's \(49-45\) win at Rutgers last week, where she Rutgers last week, where she Sauer. Shea Ralph and Sue Bird backcourtas. Bird leads the Big East, shooting 50 percent from behind the 3-point line. Meanwhile, Ralph ranks seventh in the Big East in scoring at 14.7 points per game, third in shooting percentage at 61 percent, and third in steals with 2.58 per game.
"We have to try our best to get them into a half-court game," Freeman said. "They generate a Freeman said. "They generate a lot of their points in transition. The reason they are capable of doing that is their press. They generate a lot of turnovers, and they score off of it."

While Ralph, Bird and Abrosimova present a tough challenge, UConn's top adivan tage over the Orangewomen is players played at least 10 minutes in the Rutgers win and five players scored in double digits in Tuesday night's 85-43 shellacking of St. John's in New York City. The Husky bench alone outscored the entire Seton Hall squad \(3 G-34\) in UConn's 86-34 whipping of the Pirates on Feb. 5.

Another advantage for the Huskies will be the Gampel faithful. Women's basketball in the state of Connecticut is like

\section*{MicrotiEch}

Computer Center 2518 Erie Blvd. E Syracuse, NY 13224 315-446-5321

\section*{62 HEWLETT Authorized Hesclicr}

Apple, IBM, HP, Okidata, IBM and most Clones repaired and upgraded.

\section*{10\% OFF LABOR}
with student ID and this Ad
Order your NEXTEL phone today! Leam how you can communicate with your friends with the "free two-way radio feature" on this digital phone.

Free pick-up & delivery of your equip on Tuesdays and Thursdays when repaired or upgraded by MicroTECH. Call today! 446-5321

"GIOVANNI RIBISI SCORES AND BEN AFFLLECK HAS NEVER BEEN BETTER'
"WALL STREET' FOR THE NEXT GENERATION -IT'S RIGHT ON THE MONEY:
"ELECTRIFYING: EGUAL PARTS FRIGHIEENEGG AND FUN:
"INTENSE AND HAUNTING...IF MONEY AND POWER DOESN'T SEDUCE YOU...THE GUYS WHL.'

\section*{IBOOIILIEIR IROOMI}

\section*{STARTS} caroiisi 19 Shopringiown 10 high school football in Texas it's more of a religion than a sport. More than 10,000 fans are expected to pack Gampel far tonight's game. The expected crowd will be the largest that Syracuse has played aga this season, Frceman said.
After its meeting with UConn, the Orangewomen head south to the Garden State to challenge Seton Hall. The \(\mathrm{Pi}^{\text {+ }}\) rates are \(2-10\) in the Big East. and 3-14 overall. Sunday's 2 p.m. showdown is a game that was originally to be played Jan 22 but was rescheduled due to last month's dormitory fire on the Seton Hall campus.

But before the Orangewomen can worry about Seton Hall, Freeman said the team must take one game at a time and face Connecticut on Friday night.
Freeman said the Orangewomen will need to play flawless basketball to overtake the a reach, a win at Storrs is not entirely unimaginable. The Orangewomen shocked Storrs and the country on Jan. 2, 1996 , when SU upset No. 2 Connecticut 62-59 at Gampel. The loss was one of only four setbacks for Connecticut during the 1995-96 season when it went 34-4 and reached the Final Four.
"A couple of years back, we played a near-perfect basketball game," Freeman said. "To go to UConn and win, you have to play perfect. You don't go to Clrendy. Because if you you lost already. Because if you do, why go? Just call them up and give them a win."

\section*{Imagine}

> if every month you could earn money on the usage of long distance phone calls, cell phone, Internet Access and E-commerce purchases made by you, your family and friends!

Interested?
Call Marc Soriano -(212)725-5048

E-mail: marcito@yahoo.com

Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center
Of New York Chiropractic College
$10 Erie Bivg
yricuse, NY 13210
(on the cornet of Crouse & Erie Blva)

Hours
Mon-Fri.
9 a.m.-8 p.m.

New Location Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

\section*{Student Plan}

Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

CHECK US OUT ! Tel: 442-1100

\section*{Hell Deprivation}

by Eric Jones & Ben Gabriel \(\underbrace{\text { Look AT ALL THAT RAN }}\)

HEY. CIMON
PUDE.

Out of Town I'm not gonna bust you for the bong, but l'm taking it so you don't smoke again

No Point

Rasputin Presents
Chiba is gonna ruin your life, don't furn into another

by Ethan Schmidt
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate
by Thane Benson

Eat the Lettuce
by The Four Electrons

eat. lettuce Qhotmail.com

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Abercrombee & Fitch
Classic Goatee Style by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{NOTICE}

\section*{CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING} 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PERISSSUE E Are Pre-prid by: Cash. Check. Mastir G Gard. Vissa or Discover Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 13210;Att: Classifieds; OR Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\)

Notices
WeCLite.com Warts You The Internet's Most Notetious Audio. Videe. Journatism. Photography and Animation Perpetrators Aeward 56000 in the Submission Showdown Contest CWWWWeCLile.com

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{SUMMER JOASIRITERNSHIPS THAT BUILO} AESUMES! HORIZON CAMPS olter Training and Experience in Leadership, Teambuiding. Creative Problem Solving. Organization and Communication. Four CO.ED ctildren's camps in Comminncation. Four CO.ED cthildren's camps in NY ME, and PA seek buntowing. child locuse staf. Top camp Sataries, plus Aoom. more inlo.

ATHLEIIC JOBS THAT EUILD RESUMES!
HORIZON CAMPS seek lun-loving. expe HORIZON CAMPS seek lun-loving. experienced instruttors and directors in al alhietic aroas.
 at 4 CO:ED chitdren's camps in Achyry, Mpenings
Ton cand PA
Salaries, plus Hoom, Board, Laundry avel. Apply oruine at www horizoncimps.com or ARTS & MEDIA JOESIINT ERNSHIPS THAT BUnLoving instnectors and directors with Website Management. Desklop Pubbishing. Video. Jcurnalism, Pmotograpty, Graphic Design, Arte \(& ~\)
Cralls. Woodwo

 call ( 800 ) 544 -5448 to into. Record labelinternel contparyy seeking interns Juniors or below preferred. Call 606.389-9065 or Pant tine jobs delvery divers. dishwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshail St.
Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in Pocono Mtns. Over 40 activies-seeking specialist

CAmp CANADENSIS, Pocond Mountains, PA. lemier residantial coed summer camp. We are ennis, mounlain bikes, goll, matorcyctes, outdocy, phenoure, ropes, arche y, drama, lishing. WSI, waterforont activities, arts and cratts, cooking and much moret Excellent tacilities and great salary! 6/21/00-8/:800.
Call ( 800 ) 832.8228
OUTDOOR LEADERSHIP JOBShNTERNSHIPS seeks luntloving, instructors and directors, with experience leading ouTpoon activities. Ropes Course. Nature Stucty and Mock-Clintbing, wwiwhoriz.

more into.

AOUATICS JOBSINTERNSHIPS THAT BULLD
RESUMESI HORIZON CAMPS Seeks funtoving. experienced instructors and director, with centification, in afl WAFE RFFONT areas Swim Instruction, Sailing, Canoeing, Windsurfing and Waterscing. Many openings at 4 Co . ED thidronts camps in NY, ME and PA Top camp Salanes. plous Foon, Board, Laundry 8 Travo. Apply onine at

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Service Tech. Bieycle thawnmower Assembly +1epair Greal Pay +Berefits. FullTime. No Experience Required. Call \(1-800-852-2453\).
WANTED
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Stop ciean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplaces:
parking, laundry, semi-furnished, walk to sui, parking, laundry, semi-furnishee, walk to SU, low price \(435-4016\).

> ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOS.FURHSME,DISHASHER, PARKING SIFTFPER MONTH \(\mathbf{4 7 6 - 9 9 3 3}\)

\section*{NEXT TO CAMPUS 228 Euclid, 4 bedroom easonable rent, tree parking, cistiwasher,} Jerry or Tina -474-7541, 446-6318.
4Eedrooms. OaklandSL., 18lock ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals. fumished, parking, latundry, Universiy Area \(2 \cdot 3\) Bedroom furnished Apantments Single Houses tor rert. Call Jim 668-7473
University and Comstock Very ecose to Campus
Elficienjes and Two Gedroons Secure bofy.

Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished Heat intiveded, hanatwood foocrs, ponch, necenty remodeled, laundry, parking. 476-2982

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage, FREE Laundry facility in building.
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

August Lease
urnished House
Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths aundry: Shows Well, Rents Fas 10 Month Lease

\section*{Call 655-2175}
for more info.

Ackerman Ave. 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Fumished, 5000 -501 5/00-5/01 tease 446-7202
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 3 BEDROOMS 6 BEDROOMS \($ 250\) per month fireplace, dishwasher 2 cal garage tree laundry tacilties in basement Call Donns 449-4621 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Ackerman Boautiful Large Fumished Flats Rouses. 2,3,4,5,6 Becroonty. Porches, Fireplaces. Garages, Laundry. Pet OK \(446-3420\)

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

329 Comistock Av 604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave

Available for 2000-2001
Fully Fumished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet andor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #3 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

\section*{621 Euclid Ave}

871 Ackerman Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E.Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 lully Furnished, Laundry
Maintenance and Maragement. Wall to Wall Carpet andor Refinished Hardwood Floors

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 1011 E. Adams
\(479-5005\) www.universityarea.com

For Rent House 83 bdrm flats \(-$ 250-$ 300\). Very Nics - Walk to SU. Avalable
FM Realy Group 637.5195

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

LODK AT TVIS!
Three Eedroom Apatment
Spacious thres Becroom, completel bedroons, and barge parking. Launstreet. garage facility in tuiting. Five bedfoom House Spacious five Bedrom, completyly funished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kither. Living OPSHWASHER and tive lange bedrooms, and TWO FULL Eauthooms aft Ireet parking with gange. FREE Launcry lacitity in building.

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Wa!nut Avenue some 9 month leases
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982
 lo Carmous furnished launtry parking lease S875.0

\section*{Apartments}

Best Bery on Harrisonst Cliean Quiet. One-bedroom and studio ktne lease. Furnished Uilities ncured. 472 -s90.

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}
\(1,2,3,4+5\) bedrsom apartments. Furnished, all uilities inciuded, laundry. paiking. One block from campus near taw school +ESF. May. +A Megus availability 425-1883.
**********************
Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.

\section*{1017 E.Adams}

Carpeted, Air Condtioned. Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking Maintenance.

\section*{University Area Apts.}
www.universityarea.com
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
All utilities included
\($ 355\) per month 449-4621

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flat, furnished. Avall June ist 446-4229

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Urnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches Hardwood Fioors 476-2982

204 Ostrom Etliciency One and 2Bedroom Secure Adg Laundry Parking Very Clean Avaii June 446-51 1 66
Your off-campus
thome for 2000-01
Nicely furnished
3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer careet parkin off street parking
owner managed

CALL TODAY
PETER 427-0052
University 283 Bedroorn TownHouses 8 Fat Fireplace, finished basement, Call 449-0109.
ONE BEDROOM
APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE,SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO
PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT
LOCATION \(476-9933\).

Furnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Aparments Livingston, Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469.6665 Ackerman furnished spacious two BdRm oft stree parking laundry tacilities utitities incl. 446 -657

1,2.3,4 85 Edrm Apariments, Houses + Studios. Clean, Spacious, Superior Condiuion, some recently renovated. Walking distance, laundy parking \(474-6791\)

One and Two Bedroom
Fumished Apartmenis Corner of Walnut and Hatison Avenues. Leases Commenca June Last Month and Securti. No Pets Aflowed. Graduates Prelerred Call 422.7755
Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distanco S. off street parking. Laundry. Call 422-7305.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Eedroem Apt Ackerman Ave 6-1-00 \\
Fully Furnished Porches, Laundry Parking, Dishwasher Owner Alanager 682-2218
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR
WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
LANCASTER AVENUE
183 Badroom Aparinerts
Fully Fumished
Can Ampervis \({ }^{\circ}\)
while classmate Roger Donaghy ran a personal best in the 3,000 meters.

Donaghy plans to participate in the arduous 5,000 -meter run this weekend, a race he has looked toward all year for ICA want to try to qualify for IC4As, but I want to focus on scoring at the Big East said after the team's second said after the team's second meet of the year in usually really tourary score in the 5,000 meters, score in the s, would be big. "Hopefully, as a team, we do better than last year and with more experience and more depth, hopefully we will make more of an impact at the conference meet."
Other possible winners this weekend for Syracuse include two pairs of teammates that combine youth and experience.

In the pole vault, senior Graig Lundy will attempt to score big for the Orange in what could be his final meet of the indoor season. Freshman phenom Joel Carusone will put his conference-best mark of \(16^{\prime}\) on the line, competing head-to-head with some of the Big East's best. East meet, I know there are East meet, I know there are a lot of vaulters capable of a lot of vaulters capable of jumping much higher than "There are nationally-ranked jumpers from West Virginia and Notre Dame. However, my goal is to still win the Big East Championship.

February 18, 2000

In the throwing events, junior Alex Brown will look to score big for the Orange in the shot put along with his freshman protégé, Steve Bedard. The two throwers have finished \(1-2\) in the shot put ing lead a deep list of throwing lead a deep list of throwers.
"It is a very strong group with \(a\) lot of freshmen that could be competitive in the Candace Roberts said. "They needed time to develop and needed time to develop and like them all to make an impact and their presence felt at the Big East.

In addition to the individual events, the team could scoreinthe retay events, specifically the women's \(4 \times 400\)-meter. The squad will be composed of Alicia Crowd, Deniece Bell, LaPointe and Dyer:
qualify for Noal for us is to qualify for NCAAs," Dyer said. The four of us are reating up with them on the track ing up with them on the track as a team. There is definitely going to be strong people in going to be strong people in great competition overall."
triple-double against Pitt with 21 points, 13 rebounds and mine blocked shots. whumpert came off the bench 18-point game.

Agnainst SJU earlier this season, Thomas scored eight points and Shumpert tallicd six. Hart and winims each sthe Red Storm employed.

Boeheim expects the same treatment on defense and even stiffer treatment from the fans of New York City. the coach sad us beat here," they can come in here and play us that way, they're going to do the same thing down there-St. Said Thomas: "Playing St. John's in the Garden - we know it's going to be a battle the entire night. They want to beat us from the last game. 'so we have to bring in in with a lot of intensity" come The Orangemen will need the killer instinct to contain the Red Storm's starters, who scored 55 of the team's 57 points against Syracuse.

SU knows it faces a tough team in St. John's, which has bounced in and out of the Top 25 this season.

But nothing will deter the team's path, Shumpert said, and their goal is to win SU's first regular-season Big East title since the 1990-91 season.
what we've not satisfied with far," he said. "We want to go

\section*{[classifieds] \(]_{\text {Nancy Peck, Advertisings Desisn Director } 433-9793}\)}

1 Bedroom Furnished Unturnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundid avaliable. Ot Street
Panking. Cal \(422-7305\)
Clean quial 2-bedroom two blocks from SUI Chean quial 2-bedroont two blooks from SU/hospitals. Funished. All utilities paid. 472-5908 Aner ineat

825 SUMNER AVE
414 KENSINGTON RD
(near Lancsister Market)
(near Lancister Market)
2 and 3 Bedrooms
culate, Clean, FREE Lound

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.

\section*{Modern 2 bedroom} apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher.

Laundry. Low utilities
Competitive rents.
302 Marshall St.

479-5005

Large 2 bedioom. 2 futl bath. Walking distance
S.U. oft street parking. La undry Call 422 - 7305 .

\section*{SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS}

604 Wainut Ave. 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities inciuded. Fully fumished. Fents start at \($ 275\). Refinished hardwood fiocors. Wall to wall carpet. Fats. Townhouses. Remodfled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundiry. Parking. 24hour maintenance. www, universityarea.com University Area Apts niversity Area Ap 479-5005

\section*{ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcott Street area Launtry, farking, Lease Avail June, July + A \\ 445-0540}

2 Bedroon Apts 202. 204 Ostrom, 105 Eucdit Tarrace Larpa Roan
or Aug 46 -5 866

Availabie mid August. 3 bedroom ltat very near Avaiabie mid A.s.gust 3 bedroon hat ver

One Bedroom Apartments,
some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwrood floors, furnished, taundry, quiet building, close to campus, \(476-2982\)

Surnmer Special. Newty remodeled 4 bedroom llat. Surmer special. Newy remodeted 4 becroom lial. \($ 225.00\) per person. 2 full bathrooms, washer, diver. parking porch.
Aveilable 5/21- \(/ 17\) 472-8619
 Four Bedroom on Ackernan, Fumisthed Disnwasher, Two Porches, Oif
Laundn!Carpew Hantwood Fibors Cal Gordon 476-2932
4Bedroorns furnished flat with all uilities included!
One block liom campus near Law Schood +ESF. 2 lunt bathroms, calpet, laundiy, parking. Availabie
Mayor August \($ 305\) per person, 477 -1574

Houses

Large Siudio apartment. very nice, one blox from campus on ClarendonSt. Lors of room, quiel. pariatry fumished. \($ 475 /\) mo plus
June- June lease. Call \(423-0830\)
Large Single Famity fumished house. Parking. fireplace. Pree laundry. dishwasher, mature tenants
\(682-3304\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY Hill REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSIIE FORTHE LARGEST APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
LOOKAATHIS!
Spacious stibeariom, Fumished Huusa, garase, Waster and dryer in thuociong carcail 4305188 atier \(7:=00 \mathrm{pm}\)

(5) Bedroom House 721 Ostrom Ave sations ticarinpus (t)446-3693

Chaming English Tudor House on Comstack 6 Bedrooms. Firreplace. across from Womens Eldg.
Avail \(5 / 20\) 475-1012. (843)514-3881

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

\section*{SPRING BREAK 2000} CANCUN. AMAMICA-NASSAU Space is limited 800-293-1443
www.StudentCity.com

\section*{Spring Break 2000}

Jamaica, Cancum, Florida
Bartados, Bathamas

\section*{SPRING BREAK-GRAD WEEK}
\(575 &\) Up Par
1-600-645-3618 Spring Break Specials! Babamas Party Cruise! 5
Nights \($ 279!\) Includes Meals! Awesome Beactes, Nightile! Departs From Fiorinal Panama City
Reom With Kitcten Next To Clubs, 7 Paries 8 Room With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parlies 8
Free Drinks \($ 129!\) Daytona Room With Kitchen Froe Drinks S129! Daytona Room With Kitchen \($ 149!\) South Beach (Bars Open Until Sam!) 5159 ! $149! Soulh Beach (Bars Open Until C0cia Beach (Near Disney) siv9!

\section*{FOUND}

Found: A scant. Tuesday after 5PM in parking lot betind Steele Has Call 451.1116
MISC.
- NOTE FROMTHE DAIV ORANGE:

As always, ploase use caution when replying or | being replied from arty advertisement in Aach issue, 未or the Daily Orange does not lake responsibity Sor ary misconduct resuling in tact between yoursett and ativertiser.

\title{
[sports ]
} SU takes on Red Storm

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN}

Asst. Sports Editor
When Jason Hart talks, people listen.

And at halftime of Syrauses 83-62 victory against Pittsburgh on Wednesday Orangemen were all ears. Following a lackadaisi cal first half, the senior point guard stood up in the locker room and told his teammates exactly what he thought of heir effort.
"He was saying that we weren't playing well, and hat was the bottom hane, center Etan Thomas said ional way because that's the ronal way becaune the is But that's the kind of loader he hat's the kind of leader he pumped and ready and tells t like it is. He doesn't suerar the it is. He doesn't sugar Said Hart

Said Hart: "It was very intense in here in halftime Nothin out of the ordinary e spoke to each other about what we needed to do, and that was the end of it

Guys got riled upat ach other, and once saw hat, we were ready to go.. of a \(50-33\) second-half spurt, a \(50-33\) second-half spurt he Orange's first dominant alf since their 88-74 pound ng of Connecticut on Jan. 24 A week after the UConn win, the Orange faced the short but stout and certainly strong St. John's Red Storin. Surrier nowly escaped the Carrier Dome witha 63-5 spect for the Johnnies.

The Big East powerhouss clash agairr at 9 pm. Sat Madi in the world-famous Madison Square Garden, gache team.

Syracuse (21-2, 10-1 Big East) owns a one-game lead ver Seton Hall in confer ence standings. The teams are tied in the win column but the Pirates have lost two more conference contests

See GARDEN page 15

RACHAEL J. GOLDEN/THe Daily Orang Syacuse centor Eton Thomas Jeads the Orangemon into Madison Square Garden this Saturday to take on St. John's. The Red Stom gave \(S 4\) a huge scare in the teams' last meeting befone Syracuse pulled out a \(63-57\) vietory in the Carrier Dome.

Dave Curtis, cditor 16
ebruary 18, 2000

\section*{Huskies provide huge test}

BY KEVIN LEITZEALL
Staff Writer
The Syracuse women's basketball team plans to play with nothing to lose.

Coming off a \(56-51\) home loss to No. 8 Rutgers Tuesday night, a Friday night date with No. 1 Connecticut is now a matchup that the 10-12 Orangewomen no longer dread.

Syracuse travels to Storrs, Conn., for a 7:30 p.m. clash tonight with the UConn Huskies. The Orangewomen nearly knocked off Rutgers earlier this week and look to slay Gampel Pavilion.
"It's a great opportunity," junior forward Beth Record said. Not many people in the country get to play this. They can only dy Record and shooting guard Jaime James led the Orangewomen through a successful three-game homestand that included wins over St. John's and Georgetown and a narrow loss to RU.

James burned the Scarlet Knights for 20 points, drilling six shots from downtown and regaining the shooting stroke she missed during SU's recent four-game conference slide.

The 20 points were coupled with 12 points from Record, who fell in her own offensive hole during SU's midseason losing streak. In those four games, Record reached the dou-ble-digit plateau only once.

But in each of SU's three games since, James has posted 20 points. Record has come back as well, putting in 20 against St. Johns and 19 against Georgetown.

James said the duo's offensive funk had a negative effect on the toalteam pruld not once the domi players noes fell behind them

We were struggling," James said. it was hard for someone to expectations were not reaching. Now

See GAMPEL page 12

\section*{Matmen host duo to close regular season}

BY ERIC NATHAN
Staff Writer
The wrestling team will bid farewell to its last scholarship player Sunday afternoon when Shawn Thomas takes the mat for the last regu-lar-season match of his distinguished career. Syracuse faces Wagner College at 1 p.m. and Buffalo a few hours later at Mariley Field House. It will mark only the third home date for \(t\)

Buffalo is one of teams in the state, SU head coach Scott Miller said, while Wagner is suffering through a tough season.
a very good team," he said. "The Mid-American Conference is one of the top five or six conferences in the country. Buffalo is

See W/AGNER page 11

\section*{Dome hosts Big East finals \\ BY JOSH LUKIN \\ the shot put with a mark of 53 \\ student Adrian Woodley took sec-}

Syracuse's track and field princess returned to the weight circle last weekend and annihilated the competition Lincoln, Neb.

Senior Cheree Hicks utdistanced her closest competitor in the shot put by more than five feet, recording a national-best toss of \(55^{\prime}\) 11". The mark was the best of her career and also broke the school record in the event.

Hicks' performance qualified her for the NGAA Indoor Championships held in March in Indianapolis. In last year's championships, Hicks finished fourth in \(10.50^{\prime \prime}\) just try to win each meet and not try to concentrate on the competition." Hicks said. "All want right now is to win the na tional championship. It is my last year, and I want to go al out
Although she ranks No. in the nation in shot put Hicks contends her best event is the discus which she will try to prove against the best throwers in the world.

She sat out the first portion of the season, intent on peaking in July at the U.S. Olympic Trialarticks hopes for a chance to Games in Sydney, Australia.

On the men's side, graduate ond in the 60-meter hurdles in Nebraska with a Big East-best 7.90 seconds.

Woodley, who hopes to run for his native Canada this fall in Sydney, solidified his spot as the No. I seed in the event at this Weekend Big East Championships at the Carrier Dome. Last February, he won the 60 -meter hurdle

Fellowecord 7,81 second yer also recorded a conference best time in the 60 meter hurdles, finighing in 8.44 seconds les, The SU senior rantes in op 12 in the league in five events, and she will participate in each at March's ECAC Championships

Despite her versatility, Dyer
See TRACK page 15

\section*{movin'onup}

\section*{Orangemen in the} NFL
Kevin Abrams 1997 Detroit Lions DB
Gary Anderson 1982 K Mnesota Vikings K
Ernie Brown 1994 Pittsburgh Steelers DE
Rob Burnett 1990 Baltimore Ravens DE
Donovin Darius 1998 Jacksonville Jaguars DB
John Flannery 1991 St. Louis Rams C
Marvin Harrison 1996 Incianapolis Colts WR
Nate Hemsley 1997 Dallas Cowboys LB
Qadry ismall 1993 Ealtimore Ravens WR
Kevin Johnson 1999 Cleveland Browns WR
Daryl Johnston 1989 Dallas Cowboys RB
Tebucky Jones 1998 New England Patriots DB
Rob Konrad 1999 Miami Oolphins RB
Olindo Mare 1996 Miami Dolphins K
Donovan McNabb 1999 Philadelphia Eagles QB
Kevin Mitchell 1994 New Orleans Saints DT
Kaseem Sinceno 1998 Philacelphia Eagles TE
Jim Turner 1998
Carolina Panthers WR
Melvin Tuten 1995 Denver Broncos
OL
Roland Willams 1998 St. Louis Rams TE
Dave Wohlabaugh 1995 Cleveland Browns C

\section*{Orangemen in the NBA}

Derrick Coleman 1990 Charlotte Hornets PF

Sherrnan Douglas 1989 New Jersey Nets PG
Billy Owens 1991
Philadelphia 76 ers SG

Danny Schayes 1981 Minnesota Timberwolves C

John Wallace 1996 New York Knicks

\section*{davecurtis sportseditor}
 hey nun Coyne Fields bleachers pump iron in Manley Field House's weight rooms and wow thousands of fans for four years in the Carrier Dorme.
For most Syracuse University athletes, the gloFy ends in Onondaga County, the orange and blue jerseys serving as their last significant miforms.

However, some Orange sports stars prolong their careers at the professional level. Six former SU men's hoopsters play in the NBA this season, and 26 past \(S U\) football players maintained jobs in the Na Fookal ceague in 1999.
Subtract those SU alumni drowning in dol lars, however, and a cluster of former Orangemen tor lee, hoping to saivage learue.
Kevin Mason, a 1995 SU graduate who piloted the Syracuse gridiron offense in 1994, splits his year between the Bufralo bestroyers in the Arera Athletic quartertack hertors dreame of playing in the NFI someday, and his eforts lose year ing in him a possible invitation to the St Louis Ram minicamp this spring.

At every level, Ive played with guys who have gone to the NFL," Mason said. 'I played with a Pro Bowler in Buffalo. We run a very high-level offense here. I thunk it's a matter of tirne and luck before I get a shot"

Two Orange alumni join Mason playing north of the border, while six SU grads participate in the Arena league. The moot famous of the bundh, quarterback Marvin Graves, was dealt from the Iowa Barnstormers to the expansion Detroit Fury in December.

Players in the Arema and Canadian leagues Which play second fiddle to the NFL in fan support and financial backing, frequently struggle to make ends meet. While some earn as much as \($ 100,000\) per season, Mason said he knows players who don uniforms for as little as \($ 600\) per game, totaling only \($ 8400\) for the 14 -game season.

\section*{Be like Kurt}

Football minor leaguers discovered a model this season in Rams quarterback Kurt Warner. Two seasons removed from the Arena League. Warmer threw 41 regular-seasion touchitown passes

See PROSPORTS page 11 \\ \title{ hovering \\ \title{ hovering \\ \\ Upcoming graduates face the arduous \\ \\ Upcoming graduates face the arduous task of paying back student loans. task of paying back student loans. \\ arduous
}

hedihong staffwriter

athleen Mullaney is grateful but stressed. Like the majority of Syracuse University students, Mullaney, a senior nursing major, has taken out loans to help pay for her tuition, and she is already wondering how she will repay them. - "I know once I graduate, I'll have all these loans to pay back," Mullaney said -I feel pressured because I'll have to pay them back real quick. But without these loans, I wouldn't be able to go to school here.

Students typically borrow about \($ 18,600\) to cover four years of school, said Christopher Walsh, director of Financial Aid Services. Students have up to 10 years to pay them back, beginning after a six-month grace periad following graduation. The average payment is about \($ 200\) a month, he said. Every student is responsible for paying back the original borrowed amount, the interest and loan fees.
"It's always a tradeoff," Walsh said. "You hate to see people borrow, but it's an investment. College graduates earn more and more money each ment."

Walsh said there is a difference between viewing student loans as debt and as investments.

\section*{Financial frustrations}

Tuition at \(S U\) is \($ 19,360\) per year. Though loans for freshmen begin at \($ 3,000\), it increases with every year a student attends college and by senior year, a student can receive a loan for up to \($ 6,000\) from a bank, he said. The office of financial aid certiffes each student for eligibility, and the federal government guarantees the actual loan.
"We don't determine how much money a student receives," Walsh said. "The amount is determined by the Department of Education."

See LOANS page 10

Here are some little known consequences for colfege graduates who default on their loans:
- Your loans may be turned over to a collection agency.
- You'll be liable for the costs associated with collecting your loan. including court costs and attorney fees.
- You can be sued for the entire amount of your loan.
- Your wages may be garnished.
- Your federal and state income tax refunds may be withheld.
- Your defaulted loans will appear on your credit will appear on your credit record, making it difficult loan, mortgage or even credit cards. A bad credit record can also harm your ability to find a job.
- You won't receive any more federal financial aid until you repay the loan in full or make arrangements to repay what you already owe and make at least six consecutive monthly payments on time. You will also be neligible for assistance under most federal bene fit programs.
- You'll be ineligible for deferments.
- Federal interest benefits will be denied.
- You may not be able to renew a professional license you hold.

Avoid defaulting on a student loan with advice from the experts:
- Make sure you understand your options and responsibilities before taking out a loan.
- Make your payments on time.
- Notify your lender or servicer promptly of any changes that may affect the repayment of your loan.
- If you encounter financia! difficulties, consider applying for a deferment or forbearance on your loans. It is better to defer your payments than to go into default.
- If you are having trou ble making payments. your lender may be able to suggest alternate repayment options, such as graduated repayment, income sensitive repayment and income contin gent repayment.
- Consider using a conbine all of your to comtional loans into one big toan.
- Keep careful records
- Keep careful records copies of all your letters canceled checks, promis sory notes, notices of disbursement and other forms in a file folder.

\section*{movin' onup}

If working overseas is something you are considering, here are some resources to help you prepare for the experience:

\section*{Boaks}
- Managing in a Global Organization, by C. Gomas. Menlo Park, Ca: Crisp Publications, Inc., 1994
- The New International Manager, by V. Guy and J. Mattock. London: Kogan Page Ltd., 1996
- The International Businesswoman of the 1990 s, by M.L. Rossman. New York: Praeger Publisher, 1990
- Making Global Deals: What Every Executive Should know about Negotiating Abroad, by J.W. Salacuse. Random House.
- The Art of Coming Home, by C. Storti. Yarmouth, ME:
Intercultural Press, Inc.. 1997

Newsletters, pamphlets and articles
- Centers for Disease Control's "Health Information for International Travelers."
- "The Adams Report: Giobal Assignment Americans Abroad."
- US Customs" "Know Before You Go"
- US State Department's -Key Officers of Foreign Service Posts"
- "Transatlantic American: The Magazine for Americans in Europe" internet sites
- http://www.arthurandersen.com - Arthur Andersen International Executive Services
-http://pathfinder.com/@ e37ePRMFqEgIAQN1r/fortune/1997/970414/you. html - "That Overseas Job Could Derail Your Career," Fortune's Smart Managing
-http://www.nbew.com/o utside.html - "How to Find a Job at Home After an Overseas Assignment," National Business Employment Weekly
-http://member.aol.com/ aaroparis/aarohome.htm - Association of Americans Resident

Overseas (AARO)
-http://overseasdigest.co \(\mathrm{m} /\) - Overseas Digest: ezine for US Expats

Complled by: Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollall sonce: Mepy//ww.us expatriatenana-

\section*{shelbyhealy staff writer} or some Syracuse University graduates, the door opened when they walked through the doors of Syracuse University's Division of International Programs Abroad. For others, they found opportunities on their own. In whatever way they ended up in an overseas career, SU alumni have made the internation al business world their home.

said finding and maintaining a permanent of DIPA, job is not as easy as one mige a perm
"American citizens do not automatically have a right to work in other countries," he said. "You can get a short-term work permit, but a career is a dif ferent story."

If a student finds an employer that is interested while interning overseas, the employer would have to apply to that country's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and get an application for a work visa, he added.
"Sorne students have done internships through Buschman said. "But It's unusual."
Megat Ahmed Tahwil Megat Wah, president of the SU Alumni International Club in Malaysia, decided to return to his homeland after graduation from SU in 1980. Wah, considered a scholar to his Malay government, said it was his obligation to come back to his country and contribute to his nation.
"That time, our Malaysian economy was booming, jobs were in abundance," he said. "with MBA qualification, jobs were looking for you and not otherwise. I even got interviewed in the U.S. and offered a job before I graduated, especially with U.S. graduntes in high demand by our Malaysian government and companies."

Wah's story is unusual in the sense he was a citizen of Malaysia while enrolled at SU, making it easier for him to find a career.
"It's hard to get overseas jobs especially when countries like Spain have a 15 percent unemployment," Buschman said. "You shouldn't go into the internship thinking that you will be working overseas."

\section*{leaving the}

\section*{Students weigh the option of graduating early.}

\section*{maggiemcfadden staff writer}

what would you do if you could save a year of homework? While the grand majority of college students opt to graduate in the customary four years that constitute higher learning, there are some who choose to hit the books hard and graduate early.

With careful planning, graduating ahead of schedule is not always beyond a student's reach. The college road less travelled may mean less elecive choices and more intense work loads, but for some students,
\({ }^{-I}\) have a few more rough semesters to look forward to in order to complete all my reguireforward to in order to complete all my requirements, but in the end it will all be worth it," said State Uriv, a Stace University who plans on completing her demy foot into the business world before the rest of ny pers, not to mention the fact that I am snv-ing my parents a lot of money.*
Unlike Perry, there are some students who are not yet ready to meet the demands of the real world. SU freshman Stacey Moreau has earned sophomore standing, but said she has decided against an early graduation.

I was thinking of maybe graduating early, but instead I have chosen to take on a more diffshouse and the and graduacas a dual in NewMoreau. Had the \(S\). in the S. I. Newhouse School of Public

\section*{Movin'onup}

If you're thinking of graduating eariy, this often means you will need a job before your classmates. and maybe before companies are looking for new employees. Here are some networking tios to help ease the early job hunt.
1. Do not ask for a job until you know why you would like to work there, that you are asking the right person and that there is a job available. If you do not have all of this information, just ask for information or advice.
2. Ask people only for things they can easily give you - ask for 20 minutes of advice rather than an hour-long interview.
3. Have specific goals for each contact before you begin networking.
4. Respect people's time - don't call someone if they are on deadline and do not interrupt a meeting
5. Avoid asking "yes or no" questions. Openended questions will yield more useful information
6. Always let the other person feel like the hero - send thank you letters. make follow-up calls and inform him or her of your plans if they are not with his or her company.
7. Do not discourage easily. It may take multiple calls or tries to get the information you need or find the right person at the company.
8. Most rules are made to be broken, occasionally. You will have to make some of this up as you go. If you discover the contact you called has left the company, for instance, ask the person who answers the phone your questions.

\section*{Keys to Professional} Success
1. Be on time or, better yet, be early. This goes for everyday and special events.
2. Look busy, even when you're not. Be constantly looking for things to do.
3. Seek out responsibility and take it. Those who have initiative usually get promoted.
4. Develop the ability to make decisions. Bosses will appreciate this quality
5. Get clarification when needed. It's better to get the job done right than spend the time doing it wrong.
6. Do more than expected.
7. Manage your time well. Show that you do not need a baby sitter.
ostart searching for an internship earty bato least six months before least six months before time of anticipated emoloyment - Narrow your search by region, pay and field. - Create your own cus. - Pepara for the inter viembarticiotint employer needs. - Arrive at the interview with entaite of that the job entis and what the componyees. - After you get the job, dot riteat out inter.
ship without at least 10 suip withour ats and feferrass to others in the incustry. How to survive the interview from hell: - All employers have obiemions. to hiring future employees.
 tions" and work antidotes int your diog with the emoloyer. - Know questions that are aremat a ill against the taw for tial employees their taee healt marital tus and parents
toccuIf you are asked an iligyou are asked an tacituly ouestionsw
ite and am 24

eit is okay to have an employer repeat a ques tion. Beount to three silent/before answering a lough question. Tiurn negative ques itons into. positive - Before you leave the many others are interviewing ard when fatina decision will ee made. - Get the correct sperilig ant tite of the inteniewed. It's a plus to ask for a business card. - Follow up every interview with a thakk - -ou not note and a phone call inaurining if the positio has been filled.

Choosing between the more traditional professional schools and making your own business venture can be a difficult decision.

the beaten path \(\begin{aligned} & \text { su's pre-law and pre-med student } \\ & \text { battle the MCAT and LSAT exams. }\end{aligned}\) coreyhann asst. Iffestyleedito lt's nice to know I have a job waiting for when I graduatel: Brian Cohen, senior advertising major and one of the founders of Vifitualintem
- Average MCAT
- Average MCAI scores for firtyear mod students in 1997
2e Average McAT scores with ineryone
Highest acceptance rate 26.
of Noth
of Nortiversity
Dokota - Over 15,000 students are awarrace the M.D degree each year at one of 12 Stiodical schools nationive.
 \($ 6.875\) tor state residents at public residents at pub schoois.
- Mean level of

- Medical schools
end joinarae. opolicants to to join pre.medical societies at their undergraduate intern to boratories or to train medical temergency - Those pianning to acceptance into medical school and thereby exemption trom taking the MCAT

Averages for Law school students: - Average Gpa at the tor 1998: 3.53 highest:
h.8. Yale Llwestit 2.37 , Texas
Southern Univessity
- Average LSAT score

- Highest starting salary:
- In 1995 , there were
ata.o.o.
attorneys in iticier
in the United

- In 1997, \(\begin{gathered}\text { sit. } \\ \text { students received a }\end{gathered}\) s.D ortile degree a one of 179 law Mearlievel of indabeatedness was \($ 54.000\)
554,000
- Law schools
tono joinage candidates to

\section*{movin'onup}

With graduation quickly approaching and the job search becoming more intense, SU's Center for Career Services offers students an array of workshops to ease the transition from bookbags to briefcases.

The following programs, spansored by the career center, aim to ease the stress of moving into the work force. Preregistration is required for all programs at the center in room 235 at the Schine Student Center. All programs are in room \(304 B C\) in Schine.

Feb. 21
11 a.m. - Negotiating the Salary Your Worth Presenter: Mike Cahill, associate director of the center

Feb. 21
4 p.m. - Grace Under Fire: Mingling at a Networking Reception Presenters: Peggy Cahill. assistant director for career services in the College for Human Development, and Alexandra Bennett, assistant director for career tant director for career School of Citizenship and Public Affairs

Feb. 22
11 a.m. - Basics of 11 a.m.- Bay
Presenter: Suzanne
Presenter: Suzanne Williams, business dev opment specialist for CNY consumer credit CNY consu
Feb. 23
11 a.m. - Credit and Money Realities of the Job Search Presenter: Valerie Jones, program manager for college relations/recruiting for IBM
4 p.m. - interviewing for the Offer
Presenter: Nick Albanese and Anita Blue, unit managers at Philip Morris

\section*{Feb. 24}

11 a.m. - Knowing your Prospective Employer: Benefits and Salary Expectations
Presenter: Maria Calabrese, assistant clirector for Eastern Underwriting, CIGNA Corp.

4 p.m. - How to Conduct Business over Leisure Activities Presenter: Brian Carroll. executive sales represen tative, and Scott Lance. sales representative for Eli Lilly.

Feb. 28
4 p.m. - Managing your Career: Year One Presenter: Bennett Schuberg, manager of college relations at Bloomingdale's

Feb. 29
11 a.m.
Employer/Employee
Responsibilities:
Understanding Job
Expectations
Presenter: Todd A. Bradon, district human resources representative for Urited Parcel Services joydavia special projectseditor

a fter graduating from Syracuse University in 1998, Chris Arnold did not jump immediately into the job maring ternpormead took a year off w
Two years later, he is unemployed and living outside Boston, thyins to cover the gaping hole in his resume when applying for research positions in the city.

Most people see the year gap and think you can't do the job," said Amold, who graduated with a degree in his tory and a minor in education.

Not pursuing a minor that would complement his major was Arnold's second mistake, 'The said. Students and Sciences, more artsy majors in the College of Art a minor to use as an alternative If Arnold could do it all ver arain he would have selected a minor in informa tion studies.
have something concrete on paper," he added.
To avoid suffering a similar fate, he said, advanced preparation is key. Junior year is the time to start re searching the skills needed to pursue career goals, he said. This includes searching Web sites for employment advertisements to see what is needed for certain occupations.
"If I saw what skills were needed, I would have gone out and got them," he said. "It would have made my life a whole lot easier.

Arnold said he sent resumes out to companies nationwide, thinking that employers would bite. He added that employers are more likely to hire potential employ ees who live in the job area, and so he moved to Boston. Arnold said he may take a job at a bank or co back to college.

See GRADUATES page 11

\title{ the political
}

\title{
Fellowships offer college graduates the chance to work in the political arena.
}

ABROAD

\section*{Foreign insight}

Buschman said, however, that zens to live and work in foreign countries and suggested that inter ested \(S U\) undergrads visit pany which places college students in positions abroad

Buschman also suggested students try working in more temporary jobs while interning before com mitting to a career. of the DIPA centers," Buschman

\section*{EARLY}
continued from page 5
Communications and the School of Management without the credits she entered SU with, it would have taken her five years to complete the ever, with her advanced standing, Moreau will be able to complete her Moreau will be able to complete her dual degree in the traditional four \({ }^{\text {y }}\) "ars.

I had to decide if paying an additional year of tuition was worth graduating with a dual major," she in communication and business, would be able to secure a wider range of jobs and have many more opportunities than with a single

\section*{PSC}
continued from page 9
year, they search for diversity in applicants' fields of study as wel race and previous experience "Part of the experience for us and for them, and even for the elected officials they work for, is being able to bring together a group of people with different backgrounds and have them work together for a common cause," Friedlander said. "And I think we're lucky in that California itwe're lucky in that California itself is a very diverse place to begin well is.

But the program is not limited to Californians. In fact, none of the capital restricted to state residents.
"It's true that We like to have one with a California connec-

\section*{LOANS}

\section*{continued from page 3}

The government determines student's financial need primarily on information provided in Student Aid, including savings, carnings and parents' income. Walsh said there were two types of government-sponsored student loans - the Perkins student the Stafford loan.
wThe Perkins loan is a needbased loan that is for people who About a third of the students at Syracuse have it."

The Stafford loan provides a amount to help students in their

\section*{WEB}
continued from page 6
"I didn't want to be at the bottom of a tremendous corporate ladder," Cohen said. "IfI rate ladder," Cohen said. "If I was going to work long hours

Jason and Nathan Kuder have both taken a leave of ab-

\section*{thank yous \\ }

The 2000 Daily Orange Career Guide was edited by Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollali, Assistant Lifestyle Editors tor Joy Davia. Extreme gratitude to Editorial Editor Holly Auer for her patience and help. The guide was beautifully designed by Design Editor Tito Bottitta. Much appreciation to Signed by Design Editor Tito Bottitta. Much appreciation to tors Rachael 3. Golden and Lisa Caswell, and Art Director tors Rachael 3 . Golden and Lisa Caswell, and Art Directia Neva Austrew for all the pretty pictures. And a very special Neva Austrew for allor he pretty pictures. And a very special thanks to Copy Editor Laura Prabueki and Assistant Copy Editors Annemarie Bello, Ron Fooks and Jill Mercadante for their excellent behind-the-scenes work.
said. "Anybody who is thinking they would like study can."
o London people who have travelet to London with the DIPA program semester abroad.
"There has been new legisla tion in Britain that allows students to apply for part-time work withou a visa," he said. "Here, student service is enough to be able to qualify Many have worked at possition. mast foods, he added.

Buschman also suggested the possibility of teaching English over-major." Having a larger job pool to from which to fish also eases the ransition of making career changes later in life, Moreau added.

Another reason that Moreau decided against graduating early is because she plans on studying abroad, and a three-year program would not have been conducive to her academic needs, she.said.

It is not uncommon at univer sities for a large percentage of students to take longer than the traditional four years to complete thei degrees, said Ronald Cavanagh, SU studies.
SU does not encourage its stutheir de grees early, Cavanagh said.
tion and a commitment to our tate, because the program is unded by California taxpayers, means does that mean they hav o be a California resident."

Friedlander said he has received applications from across taly and Canada.

The selection committee also ooks for people who not only hav an interest in politics, policy and overnment, but who are well munication skills, committed to mubtic service, record of involve ment with community and voluneer organizations anthave show they are responsible and dedicat d, he said.
"Td rather have someone who may not have a perfect GPA but works hard and is involved rather academic progress. Most students qualify for a Stafford loan with the funds coming from the bank of the student's choice. There are subsidized Stafford loans, in which the federal government pays the loan interest, and un subsidized loans, where the stusubsidized loans, where the stu dent is responsible for paying the interest while in school. The \(\sqrt{1}\) nancial aid office has \($ 5\) million a year to distribute to students in the form of grants, scholarships tudent employment and short \({ }^{-B u t}\) it doesn't go nearly far nough to keep each student,

The Higher Education Ser vices Corporation has sugges tions for paying off the loans and not make a lot of money, wanted to do something that 1 lise's project

\section*{Opportunity knocks} a To go
go back to school is almos
Even h he is still a student, starting Virtualintern couldn't pass up
I never thought I would start a business my senior year of college," Jason Kuder said.
"But, I am convinced that busi"But, I am convinced that business and success is hinged on what you know, but more imwhat you know, but

Cohen, who plans Cohen, hans to make Virtualintern his full-time job after graduation, is banking on planned on using the Internet planned on using the internet said he has been a huge fan of the Web ever since his sophomore year of high school. He dge of the English language is very mportant, he said, and becaus English is spoken all over the world an asset.

\section*{ere tha} here is a demand for English teach ers," Buschman said. "The pay isn't great, but it is a valuable experi

Daniel Fietkiewicz, a 1973 Date of SU spent two year graduate of \(S U\), spent two years from 1977 to 1979 teaching English in Indonesia. Through a company in Indonesia. Through a company called Peace Brigade, Fietkiewicz found several jobs while in Southcast Asia and still travels to th country at least once a year work
"We offer programs which we anticipate will take \(X\) years," he said. "We encourage students to make the most of their educational opportunity. As an institution, we do not encourage Graduating early is a situation unique to each individual student and may not be the best choice for veryone, Cavanagh added.
he trade-offs," he soid conside trade-offs," he said

While for some students, at tending graduate school or entering the job held proves to be a positive experience, there are drawbacks. do not have the time to direct a student club, play on a sports team or than someone who has a 4.0 but they don't know anything about the said.
tal Felle not a part of the Capital Fellows program, New York fellowships for year-long Senate the state Assembly offers six, month paid internships.

Both programs are on-site in Albany and applicants must be a student or have just graduated at the time of the internship. Senate hows in the three programs Richard \(J\) Roth Joumarismam lowship and Richard A. Wiebe Public Service Fellowship - re ceive \($ 25,000\) for their work from September to July, and participants are prohibited from taking classes during the term of the fellowship. Assembly interns receive

They recommend attending the exit interview when leaving an institution, creating a budget for each month, contacting the plan startinge a repayment staying in touch with the lender,

I think loans are a great benefit for the student," said Rav Shukla, associate professor of fi finance without loans. havance without loans. They haver banks not associated with government loan programs

Students, generally, are perceived to be higher risks because there are no guarantees they'll get the jobs a back the joan.
sence from SU to work on the company in Columbus, Ohio, along with CEO Jim Hack barth, who initially backed the venture. However, they both plan on finishing their degrees \({ }^{\text {I }}\) believe strongly in our "To Ev ing as a translator.
lish-speakers, \({ }^{n}\) he said need for Eng ther work for the money or the cull tural experience or even to contribute to the country's development.

Fietkiewicz said that the de mand for English teachers is veryvi al in the international busines
"English is the language of international commerce," he said. "If you want to make it, you have to ortant." money, working overseas is an untudy abroad while in college, \(C\) vanagh said.

Colin McNally a frestman in the College of Visual and Porforming Arts, said he has ruled out a possibilities of graduating early. arly ture 1 would love to grament I have to complete, that's just not casible," he said.

While an early graduation may be attainable for some, stu dents often opt to follow the trad tional four year course for personal easons - Iik

Students who graduate early will not necessarily be lett out of the Carrier Dome commencement fe tivities come May, Cavanagh said.
a stipend of \($ 11,500\) for the Janu ary-to-June program, and also can ot take classes during their term It does involve spending large amount of time away from campus so students should cer tainly consider that when apply ing, said Helen Murray, director of the Syracuse University Intern ship Program. "But it's a reall ship Program. "But it's a really fun thing and its an excellent profram."

Students from all majors are encouraged to apply for both be cause, like the Capital Fellow Program, the selection committee is looking more for well-rounded people interested in government who has had formal training in those areas. These programs, however, are restricted to New York residents or those who attend a college or university in the state.
takes the risks," Shukla said ebody has to.
kovernment-sponsored said. a loan, the losses will be made by the government and ultimately the taxpayers. Penalties will ac crue on the student loans, and there will be serious penalties on the credit history of the student.

Interest and collection charges also add up if the student fails to pay back the loans. The government sets the interest rate on July 1 of each year. The 2000 rate is 6.32 percent. And while this greatly adds to the amount a student needs to pay back, Shukla said th off a student makes.
feels that the new technology is agr ness. and every, as far as signing up thin sery hing, it makes every thing so easy online," he said the companies want to change information or if they are looking for a different type and change that in two onds."
Although some other In periencing some probe been ex tampering recently. Coher said this is not one of his huge concerns.
hackinere has been a lot or hacking and all that and it's a problem, but it's not something we are expecting to have a problem with and to have move quickly, then wo will just pass us by and enat the real challenge. and that is that we stay on the right

In looking toward the fu-in that you learn the way people think about the world, he said.

Aulture really broadens you eign culture Fietkiewicz said. "You cannot understand a foreign cultur without knowing the language. But knowing a foreign language does no

Buschman emphasized that overseas careers were, in general, very difficult purs
"You shouldr't go into an in ternship thinking that you will be ternship thinking that you will "Jus think that it will be a valuable expe rience on your resume.
"Any student who graduates early may attend graduation with his or her classmates," he said

This reassurance is still not a sufficient incentive for some stu dents, who said graduating early is an academic option to be given care ful consideration.

People havę to realize that they might miss a lot of opportunities both academically as well as so

\section*{MEDLAW}
continued from pase
all in the legal or medical profes Sions, according to Medical Schoo Admissions (Mustang Publishing 0).

Graduate schools are increasingly looking for more well-rounded multi-faceted individuals. By using time wisely and participating in students can show they have comspassion, empathy and a work cthic It takes experience outside of the classroom to gain knowledge about how the legal and medical industries work, the book adds.

The student should evaluate three things when thinking about and myths, accordine to the Insider's and myths, according to the Insider's Admissions. If a student's talents Admissions. If a student's talents include being able to play the violin, and he enjoys it, there should be it. Students should be realistically gaining clinical or legal experience When possible. By doing so, students can become aware of what their intended profession entails.

The book also warns appli cants to be aware of myths. For example, many students believe they have to work in a lab or a lawyer's of fice to get worthwhile expenience. In valuable experience, however, can

\section*{GRADUATES}

Although preparation is key in landing a job after graduation, sejoying their senior year and the following summer lowing summer, said Stefanie
Drucker, who graduated in 1999 with a degree in advertising.

As a student in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, she said she often felt pressured to find a job by the time she sured to find a job by the time she graduated. But, she said students graduated. But, she said students immediately because one could al ays be found in the summer.

Drucker said she snagged a job at the New York City advertising agency, Lowe Lintas & Partners, as an account manager after sending out 15 resumes, engaging in a lot of interviews and enduring rejection
"It gets frustrating", she said.
go to a lot of interviews and be found outside of these venues it's just a matter of being creative and seeking them out.

Medical schools recommend joining pre-medical societies, in terning in laboratories or training to be an ernergency medical technician. Law schools steer candidates cian. Law schools steer candidates toward joining literary societies, interning in justice offices or participating in student government.

\section*{The medical way}

The medical school admission process is long and arduous, and the procedure can scare individuals from even applying. But for the from even applying. But for the 41,000 applicants, there arc factors 41,000 applicants, there are fal to help alleviate most worries.

One of the first bumps in the road in the MCAT, the all-important, make-or-break exam that schools so closely criticize.

There are no curve balls on the MCAT, and studying for it, as for any other exam, will boost your scores," according to Insider's scores," according to Insider's Guide.

for
For Greg Stechcken, a secondyear medical student at the SUNY Upstate Medical University, the ex
"As soon relas I kely stress-free. go to medical school, I applied to the arly assurance program," he said.
Medical schools offer a program that accepts undergraduate stu dents after their second year of col lege. These candidates then com college without having to years of MCAT. Individuals who plan to apply should complete and excelled in at least four science courses.
Service is also a crucial par
he application, Stechcken said.
Volunteer in a departmen you're interested in and make your presence known," he added

Applying to SUNY was one of his best decisions, hes said, but "The amount of work here will blow your mind," he said. "Time management is the key to succeeding at this level." at this level.

In addition, the incredible growth in bio-medical knowledge is making it harder for faculty to distinguish what is most important to tinguish what is most

The distillation of information an enormous process," he said.
To remedy this problern, many medical schoois curriculum, including SUNY, have been progressively changing from genera course more specific, integrated studies.
"Instead of gencralizing the in formation, entire courses are now dedicated to studying specific body parts and functions," Freedman parts and functions," Freedman said.

This allows students to become more specialized within their fields, viewers in which fields she was not interested.

To pursue a job in her target area of San Francisco, she contacted a friend in the area to see if she could connect her with someone in successful, introducing her to a Colgate University graduate who was aparticula agency, Conklin said graduates should try to contact an ulumnus in their field of interest. With graduation approaching, Conklin has al her at work and gave an informa tional interview to another.
Services in the Schine Student Cen ter is another option for seniors, said 1998 graduates Jennifer Iacovelli and Matt Barbour. Both Barbour and Iacovelli live togetherin Denver, Colo., and said the center was instrumental in the jobs they grabbed after graduation.
creating greater opportunities for \section*{Legal lowdown}

Just as science advances the changes in society and the law are constantly altering the face of the law school curricula.

To roster diversis and keep schools, including SU, offer the opportunity to link their legal education with advanced study in another discipline, resulting in a joint degree in both law and the specialized field of their choice.

Students can gain valuable experience by serving as a student attomey in clinics on campus, interning with a judge or participating in Bot court competitions.
nd-year law student, said the incredible amount of work and the mandatory curve are hard to get used to without extracurriculars. she said. "Twenty-five percent will be above the curve and 25 percent will be below it. The diligent pers will do well, but it is frustrating."
do well, but it is frustrating."
Peer competition can also tressful.

Law school is not about making friends," she added. "But if you do, choose ones thatill support you

Wanting to travel to a destination difierent from has ennessee upwas relatively problem free. When he graduated in December 1998, Barbour, who has a degree in accounting and public relations, landed a job as an auditor for the accounting firm Pricewaterhousecoopers. Although he admitted that it is easy to land a job as an auditor because the positions are in high the interviews.

His fiance, meanwhile, worked he center and used the knowledge she learned to land a job driving the Oscar Mayer Wienermobile and spent the summer driving child stars for its next commercial. "We were celebrities for the whole summer" said lacovelli, who graduated with an advertising and psychology degree. "You couldn't be inauspicious driving around in that thing."
rather than bring you down."
Nhhough work can be stressful. the LSAT was the most menacing Rachicle said

Unlike the MCAT, the LSAT mensures litue substantive knowl edge, said Dean Thomas White of School.
"Your knowledge of vocabulary grammar, mathenatical formulac computation, facts. opinions and other such information is not mea sured by the ISAT," he said.

Students should not think of the LSAT as a test, but as measure of your flexibility when it comes to distinguishing fact from opinion, distinguishing fact from opinion, relevant from irrelevant informa tion, your stability under pressure and adaptation to unfamiliar situa-

Both medical and law school have vast quantities of work, which can pul a damper on a student's social life and relaxation time. Stec-heken said he almost has to force hcken said he almost has to force himself to go out sometimes to try himself to go out sometimes to try to forget about exams and dead-

Rachiele agreed, but added
"Compared to under ife, my social life is marginally dif life, my social life is marginally dif rercnt," she said. "I just budget my time better and enjoy the weekcnds."

Oscar Mayer usually selects recent college graduates to tour the country and engage in media rela country and engage in media relaLions, including writing press releases, contacting the media and participating in media events such is food drives and parades.

When her four-month stint driling the wienermobile ended, Iacov th Colorado in January 1999.

After narrowing down her choices - she wanted to work for a portis tean - lacovelli said she ent out resumes and made repeat-d phonecalls to various sports businesises. She landed a job is itn ac count executive for a Major Leagu

Incovelli said the Cunter for Ca
Services helped a great deal.
I didn't think I would Eet my foot in the door that quickly," she said. "You just have to be in the right said. "You just have to be in the righ flace at the right time and be per sistent

\section*{PROSPORTS}
continued from page 2
and led the Ramis to a Super Bowl and led the Ramis to a Super Bowl Valuable Player honors for both the season and the championship game.
I think the whole Warner thing definitely has given Arena Foothall a boost," Mason said. "The NFL wants to get a hand in the Arena League now. They've got

On the stands at every game." nental Basketball Association, under the direction of new Chief Executive Officer Isiah Thomas, hopes to

Thomas, a former All-Star guard and ex-owner of the NBA's Theronto Raptors, wants to transform the independent league into a iarm Thytem for said, involves bringring frap, Chises from towns such as Lacrosse,

\section*{HUNT}
continued from page 12
"Even if you don't know them very well", he said, though the fact that I was talking to him should have demonstrated that I should have demonstrated that already knew this. "Get their advice," he advised.

Okay, I thought, check can do," he concluded. I think he forgot one little thing - to TEEL
ME SOMETHING I DONT ME SOM

A few days later, I received an e-mail from this same person, evering additional advice "If you ever have \($ 2\) milion to blow on a Super Bowl ad, it doesn't matter what you do so long as the ad what you do so long as the ad includes dancing monkeys."

\section*{then not get anything."}

90 minutes each day from her Long Island home, she hopes to move out soon and find her own apartment to stay in the advertising busines for long, citing its long hours. not what 1 can see myself doing in the next 10 years.
to But, students are not expected afer college, said Molly Conklin, a 1999 graduate who majored in policy studies and advertising.
age to pin down what they want to do," said Conklin, who landed a job as project manager of the San Francisco advertising agency Publicis & to know what "One big piece oradvice

Although Conklin was initially not sure which aspect of advertising she should pursue, she narrowed down her options by telling inter-metropolises such as Detroit.
Several Orangernen have paraded through the CBA en route to careers in the NBA or overseas. The list of CBA alumni with SU ties includes Dave Johnson, a 1992 SU gracuate, and Todd Burgan, who left SU in 1998 without graduating. Otis Hill (SU 1996) plays in the league, as he starts in the middle league, as he starts in the middle

In its inaugural season, the InIn its inaugural season, the Inserves as a domestic professional serves as a domestic professional basketball option as well. Operating with eight teams from Trenton, N.J., to San Diego, Calif., the IBL targets players just out of college. It encourplayes squads to draft local talent requires each team carry at least four players with no previous professional experience and offers to help ath-

Former SU they so desire. Former Lazarus Sims (SU 1996) stars for the St. Louis Swarm. The floor general of SU's 1996 Final Four squad, and a veteran of the CBA and the United States Basketball League, assists and averages more than sevassistints per game.
"We are very pleased with Lazarus' talent level," Swarm head was Berne Bickerstan said. He minicamp, and now he's one of our starters and leaders.

Similar opportunities exist in the world of lacrosse as well. A dozen former Orangemen suit up for teams in the National Lacrosse Learue, an eight-team professional entity in the northeastern United Sates and

Some of the
Some of the best lacrosse playto help keep the league alloat. Former collegiate player of the year Rochester Knighthawks, while the \section*{Thurn of events}

Sometimes during your job search, you call people you don't know, but they actually turn out o be people you do know.
For example, I'd been

For example, I'd been talk ing to an executive in a major investment firm for five minutes or so before we both realized that she was the mother of one of my she was the mother. of one of my face, this seems like it should have been a good thing. But when a relationship like this when a relationship lise this comes up as a surprise, you look looked like a fool. At such monnents, "I thought your voice sounded familiar," doesn't quite sounded tamiliar, doesn't quite She must think I'm either illiter-to have not realized who she is. Either w

The only real piece of advice I received was from another past co-worker, who told me he landed service.

\section*{jobs} obs online these days," he told Because of his advice, and

\section*{movin' onup}

The Internet offers a variety of sites to aid in the resume-making and job-searching process. Here are a few:

\section*{Monster.com}

Build and store up to five resumes and cover letters

Choose from three levels of confidentiality for your resume(s):
1. Searchable by all employers
2. Confidential: searchable by all employers, but with contact information, present company name and references hidden
3. Not searchable;
viewable only by you
Track your online applications

Create Search Agents that e-mail you when a job listing matches your criteria

Get news and articles tailored to your interests, free of charge

CareerMosaic.com
The leading enuployment site on the web, according to Nielsen1/PRO, an independent site auditor
- Over 135,000
- Over 135,000
resumes posted at any one time
- Averages more than 474,000 job searches each day and 56.9 million hits per month

\section*{Jobfinder.com}
"Job Alerts" will email you the moment your dream job becomes available - Free of charge for job seekers
- Build an E-profile with your work history, educational background, job preference and contact information

Compiled by: Asst. Lifestyle Editor Corey Hann Source: the internet

New York Senate Fellows Working as a staff member for the Senate.
Term: Sept 14 to July 18
App. Deadline: May 8 Eligibility: no formal government training but applicants must be a full-time student before, during and after the fellowship. Applicants must be New York state residents or attend a university in the state, have good communication skills and have some knowledge of public policy.
Benefits: stipend of \($ 25,000\) given out in biweekly installments. Interns may not register for classes during their fellowship. Many fellows have been hired back after completing their degrees for fulttime Senate employment. Contact: Helen Murray, director of SUIP, at 443 4261

Compiled by: Lifestye Editor.Sapna Kollali
Kallali
 Sonver and assenvory poberma

\section*{ESF student dies after crash}

BY SAPNA KOLLALI Lifestyle Editor

A State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry student killed himself with a 12-gauge shotgun Friday afternoon after striking another car and injuring Curtis Gerbig, 22 was a four Curtis Gerbig, 22, was a fourthyear forest biology and resource managemeling hajer afer his Friday lab class. Geling home after his Friday lab class. Gerbig was driving his Chevy pickun Route 5 and tried to turn left onto state Route 90 when he struck Harold A. Willett driving westbound in a Dodge Spirit.

Willett's wife, Kelly, was also in the car. The couple, from Seneca Falls, suffered minor injuries and are now being treated at Auburn Memorial Hospital. according to a police report.

The car spun off the road and into a parking lot at the intersection of routes 5 and 90 , where the Refuge Diner once stood. Gerbig drove a short distance northward on Route 90 before he pulled onto the shoulder of the road, according to the police raport the road, according

He then shot himself while still in the vehicle. He was pronounced dead on the scene, police said.
"The whole thing is really strange," said his brother, Chris Gerbig of Orlando, Fla.

Chris Gerbig said the suicide was a direct result of the accident. He said the couple was found unconscious at the scene.
Curtis just assumed they were dead, he said. That was a little more the best of him, and he got real hollow, the best of him, and he got real hollow. David Stebbins of the Auburn State Po-

See GERBIG page 6

\section*{Perspective painting}

Junior industrial design major Kristen White works with her painting Sunday in the Shaffer Art Bullding Mhite, an Ammapolis, Mid. native, is creating the work for her introduction to Painting class.

\section*{SU alumnus killed after weekend}

\section*{car accident}

\section*{BY EMILY KULKUS Managing Editor}

A 26-year-old 1998 Syracuse University graduate was killed Saturday morning when the car he was driving slid off the road and struck a tree in New Jersey.

Accelerating at specds of more than 85 mph on the \(55-\mathrm{mph}\) four-lanc Route 322, Thulasithasan Ooruthiran known as Thulasi, attempted to pass a pickup truck and lost control of his 2000 Ford Taurus, according to a Township of Hamilton Police Depart ment report and SU spokesman Kevin Morrow.

He was pronoun
al, the report said
Ooruthiran was travelings alone rom a friend's house to attend a pho ography class in Atlantic City when lice report and Morrow

Ooruthiran graduated with a mas ter's degree in computer enginecring from SU in 1998. A citizen of Sri Lan ka but a native of Nigeria, Ooruthiran received abacheior's degree in 1995 from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile Ife, Osun State, in Nigeria.

Residing in Ocean City, N.J. Ooruthiran was employed by Prosoft in Atlantic City, N.J., a software compa ny based in East Syracuse.

While at SU, Ooruthiran was ac ive with the international student community, organizing field trips to Florida and Niagara Falls. During those trips, he would often be the pho tographer, filming the group and their activities for a final documentary, said Alex Thevaranjan, a School of Management professor and friend of the family.
*Thulasi is affectionately remembered for his extraordinary kindness See OORUTHIRAN page 7

\section*{National colleges plan} SU rape center headquarters

\section*{BY SARAH OVASKA}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Syracuse University is working to become the national headquarters of an inter-collegiate rape prevention center, said Dolores Card, the director of SU Rape: Advocacy, Prevention and Education Center.

Colleges across the country are working collaboratively to form a group affiliated with the already-establistied New York State Intercolegiake Coalion Against Sexual Assault, Card said.

The coalition was created with aran given to the R.A.P.E. Center by the New York State Department of Health in November 1997 from provisions in the Federal Violence Against Women Federal The colencition has 150 differ ent campuses in New York state interested in increasing the resources for rape or sexual assaul victims as well as education on the issue, Card said.

SU is the only college in New York state that maintains a center focused on sexual assault ues.
While most campuses include services for victims in their health centers, they do not have separate rape counseling facili ties, Card added

The R.A.P.E. Genter continSee RAPE page 4

\section*{Student Government}

\section*{Candidates \\ debate financial issues}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Contributing Writer

There needs to be more communication between the Student Government Association Finance Board and each student organization, debated both candidates for SGA assistant comptroller Sunday night.

We need to have the finance board and the organizations work together," candidate David Gaulin said. "Instead of it being us and them, it can be we.

About 20 students attended the debate between Gaulin and Mery Vieira in the SGA office of the Schine Underground.

The candidates were given two minutes each to answer questions asked by current SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner.

The debate allowed the stu dent body to be informed of each student's view on the assistant comptroller position and the duties it would entail Greiner said.

We are your allies, we are here for you, to work for SU stu dents," said Vieira, an unde clared freshman in the College of Human Development.

Greiner asked questions about issues including the \($ 70,000\) mnnual allocation to Syracuse's New York Public In terest Research Group.

Students vote every four years to automatically allocate years to automatically allocate Activity Fee to NYPIRG. The Activity Fee to NYPIRG. The year from each student's \($ 114\) student fee payment

It needs to be looked into because the group does many things for the state, not specificall said. \({ }^{\text {II }}\) would have to investigate NYPIRG and see if \($ 70,000\) is overspending or underspending and what it is doing for SU students," she said.

Gaulin, an undeclared sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences, agreed and

See DEBATE page 9

\title{
[briefs]
}

Compiled from Los Angeles Tirnes, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

Historians rank Lincoln as top U.S. President

Historians who were surveyed about the leadership qualities of the 41 presidents of the United States judged Abraham Lincoln to be No. 1, for lowed by Franklin \(D\).
Roosevelt, George Roosevelt, George Washington, Theodore Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

The survey ranked a majority of the most recent presidents in the middle of the pack. George Bush ranked 20th; Bill Clinton 21st; Jimmy Carter, 22nd; Gerald Ford, \(23 r d\), and Richard Nixon, 25 th. Bunched in a higher category were John \(F\). Kennedy, eighth; Dwight D. Eisenhower, ninth; Lyndon B. Johnson, 10h; and Ronald Reagan, 11th.

Three of the top five presidents served in the 20th century. as did five of the next six. Among the 24 presidents who served before 1900 , only Lincoln. Washington and Jefferson were ranked in the top 10 .

\section*{Phony site solicits} monvey for McCain

John McCain's carmpaign has raised \($ 1.5 \mathrm{mit}\) lon over the intemet, offcially. Unofficially, it raised an additional \($ 170\) - on a Web site mirnic.

The campaign said a man who claimed to be a supporter had "spammed the country" soliciting online domations on behalf of "McCain, the premier underdog; of the current political scene, who trily intends to make a difference," as the junk email put it. Donors were directed to a site that closely resembled the official McCain site, according to MSNBC. which first reported the scam Friday.

Tipped to the phony site by a supporter, the mochain campaign contac ed the FBl. Accorcing McCain spokesman Howard Opirisky, agents said the mock-site creator claimed to be a McCain supporter just trying to heip, had raised \($ 170\) and "told the FBI he was going to give it all back.-
Sun's weather cycle boits to stomy peak The sun may seem a placid presence- purveyor of glowing sunsets and or of glowing sunsets and gent local star will enter the our local star will enter the peak of its mysterious furiyear cycle, a period of fuious activity and violent ous activity and

The solar maximum, as it is called, is an interval of months marked by wrenchmonths marked by wrenching solar activity that huris biltiortion blasts of \(x\) rays and radioactive particles can disable sateliftes, can cisable sateilites, krock out navigational systems and darken entire tems and darken endre enties Eids.

\section*{U.S. jets bomb Iraqi sites}

ANKARA, Turkey -U.S. warplanes bombed an Iraqi air-defense system Saturday in response to Iraqi artillery fire during patrols of the no-fly zone overnorthern Iraq, the U.S. military said.

Three Iraqi civilians were wounded, gecording to the official Iraqi News Agency said.
"Enemy warplanes at* tacked a civilian site, which resulted in the injury of three of our citizens,* an unnfmed Itaqi Air Defense

Force spokesman told the news The U.S. planes struck at an air-defensesystem north of the city of Mosul, 400 kilometers ( 250 miles) north of Baghdad, the Germany based U.S. European Command saidin a stateCommand said in a statement.

All of the planes left the area safely, the statement said. The planes are based at Incirlik air base in southern Turkey.
U.S. and British planes
ve frequently attacked have frequently attacked

Iraqi military sites since Iraq began challenging the patrols in December 1998.

Baghdad does not recognize the no-fly zones, which were set up shortly after the 1991 Gulf War to protect 1991 Gulf War to protect Shiite Muslims in the south and Kurds in the north from the forces of iraq; President Saddam Hussein.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Bar raid delivers 12 subpoenas}

One month after a deadly res idence hall fire, police raided a South Orange, N.J. bar Friday near Seton Hall University, chars-ing 37 people with underage drinking

One of those arrested, a Seton Hall student, had recently admitted to police that he had "trashed" a lounge at Seton Hall's Boland residence hall minutes belore the dan. 19 blaze, The Star-Ledger of Newark, NJ., reported Sunday.

The fre billed three students and injured 58. Four students remain in the hospital with severe ums.

Nearly a dozen others arrested in the sting were given subpoenas by police to testify Tuesday in front of a grand jury investigating te fre, The Star-Ledper reported

Charlotte Smith, a spolses woman for the Essex County prosecutor's office, declined to comment Sunday night on whether police were targeting students suspected for starting the deadly blaze.

In the raid, the bar, the New Hall Tavern, was cited with 52 charges for serving minors and other olfenses, the paper reported. Dave Levinthal

\section*{Pinochet injures himself in fall}

SANTIAGO, Chile - Gen. Augusto Pinochet suffered minor bruises after falling at the mansion in Britain where he is under house arrest, an associate said Sunday.

The accident happened Friday, when the 84 -year-old former Chilean dictator awoke from his daily nap, Monica Wehrhahn, spokeswoman for the loca Pinochet Foundation said.
"As he was getting up, he ap-ently lost equilibrium and parently lost equilibrium and fell," she said. "He suffered some bruises to the right side of his face and his right hand, but definitely nothing serious."

\section*{Bomb plot linked to Bin Laden}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - US. officials, in the midst of one of the largest counterterrorism probes ever conducted, have sensitive ina boont plot foiled a bomb plot fo laud bin Laden's terrorist ne Osama bin Laden's terrorist network, sources iammar with the investigation said Sunday.

The officials base their conclusion on information from confidential informants with direct knowledge of the bomb plot and bin by foreign police and intelligence officials monitoring of domence oficials, monitoring of domestic forms of clectronic eavesdropping forms of electronic eavesdropping, phone calls the FHZI needs approval prom callice Beparment oproval and a special court sources oncid. and a special court, sources said.

Major intelligence ageracies including the FBI, the Central Intelcurity Agency have been analysing vast amounts of data collyected since Ahmed Ressam, a 32 -yeargince Ahmed Ressam, a \(32-y e a r-\) old Algerian, was arrested attempting to enter the United States frompting Canada in mid-December in a rental car filled with bomb-malina rental car filled with bomb-makng materials and timing devices.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Nun talks about} Miami meeting

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Sister Jeanne O'Laughlin, the Dominican nun whose Miami home was the site of last month's meethis Cuban erandmothers, has told the Miam Erandid whe Miamilferald that one of the fect to Elian's father was abusive to his mother and that his Cuben fam mother, and wat his Cuban famof the boy's departure from Cuba.

O'Laughlin said the information was communicated to her in Spanish by the women when they spoke for several minutes after their meeting with Elian, and that it was the reason she has publicly opposed returning the boy to Cuba. She said she had not revealed it before, the Herald reported Sunday, because she family in want to endanger the family in Cuba.

Her new account of the meeting, which the Herald said she did not speak of daring a three-hour interview last Tuesday, was volunteered Friday after O'Laughlia met with Roger Bernstein, one of several Miami attorneys repreaenting the family of Elian's great-uncle, Lazaro Gonzalez.

The Foundation is a private group of supporters and former aides to Pinochet.

Pinochet was arrested in Oc tober 1998 in London on a werrant by a Spanish magistrate wanting to bring him to Spain for trial on human rights abuseg allegediy tatorahip.

\section*{Serb crowd pelts}

\section*{U.S. soldiers}

KOSOVSKA MITROVICA, Yuguslavia - Several hundred and bry, jeerizg serbs threw ritones and bricks at dozens of US. sol NATO search for illicit weapons in the northern part of this divid ed Keeove city Sunday, prompting a French general to order their reThe Uuspend the operation.
The U.S. Boldiers were sur* rounded by the mob only a few hours after they deployed, blocks from where at least five ethnic Allar mob Feb 3 Orderd by a similar mob Feb. 3. Onlookers said when someone - bassibly enraged when someone - possibly a U.N. police officer - used pepper spray on one ofits members.
As French and Italian soldiers helped block the crowd, the startled U.S. troops withdrew to their armored personnel carriers and sped out of the neighborhood, promptang exultant cheers by the

No seri
No serious injuries were reported; one American suffered a broken nose and another had a tooth chipped by a rock.

\title{
campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}

EAl-Anon meets at noon is,
Ene, Room 233 . Schine, Room 233.

\section*{TUESDAY}
\(\square\) The SU Investment Ciul, meets at 7 p.m. in the School Management, Room Oo3. Al Management, Room 003. Al
majors are welcome.

GU alumnus and sculpter Patrick Morelin speaks at 7 p.m. in Sims Hall, Room 219, as part of Martin Luther King Jr. Library's Black History Month Lecture and Slide Presentation.

ECazenovia College profex sor and author John Robert Greene speates at 7 p.m. in Cole. man Lounge of the college regarding "The Implications of Re cent Presidential Primary Elections." Cazenovia College is located at 22 Sullivan St., Cazenovia.
- Painter Gelsy Verna from the University of lowa speaks at 7:30 p.m. in the Shaffer Art Building, Room 121. The speech and Performing Arts Visiting Antist and Speakers Program.

T Navajo native Sunny Dooley presents An Evening of Navajo Storytelling a in Eggers, Room 220.

习 The SU Outing Club meets from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 214.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}

E Sportscaster and SU alumnus Dick Stockton speaks from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in the Eartlett Room of Newhouse II

■ Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President Clinton, and Bruce Lindsey, assis tant counsel to the president, speak from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Schine Underground regarding their experiences as the president's lawyers and advisors throughout the last year. Mills will also speak earlier at 1:15 p.m. in the Bartlett Room of Newhouse II regarding her posi tion at Oxygen Media.

\section*{WEDNESDAY-}
- UUGinemas presents "Boyz N The Hood" at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Admission is \($ 2\).

\section*{- Police Reports:}

\section*{Student assaulted, pushed down stairs}

Staff Reports
An unidentified man assaulted a Syracuse University student early Saturday morning on the 1000 block of Harrison Street, ac cording to a police report.

The victim got into an argument with the man who punched him and then shoved him down a set of stairs, the report said.
"He hit me three times and then threw me down the stairs," he victim said.
was transported to Crouse Hospital, 736 Irving Ave., for treatment to his face, the report said.

Police noted that the victim appeared to be disoriented and possibly intoxicated, the report said.

The victim, however, said that he was not intoxicated at the time of the incident

A friend of the victim told police that he knew the suspect, who lives at the scene of the incident, the report said.

The friend could not be reached for comment.
victim would not comment on his relationship with the suspect.
"I do not wish to talk about the situation anymore," the victim said. "I was assaulted. That's all I am going to say."

The victim did not press charges, the report said.
- Police ticketed two SU students, Renny McGauley and Karla Norgaard, Saturday night for sledding down a hill in Thornden Park, according to a police report.

Signs are posted at the park forbidding the use of sleds, the report said.
"We had no clue that it was illegal to sled there," said Mc Cauley, a junior television, radio and film major

McCauley added that Nor paord \(a\) sophomore in tho LC Smith College of Engineering and Computer Sciences brok and Computer Scien

Norgaard coul
ched for comment.
"We have to go to court for this," said McCauley, a columnist for The Daily Orange. "The fine will be \($ 15\), if we have to pay it."
- Sophomore Bevin Subocz's 1993 Toyota Corolla was broken into the night of Feb. 10 on the 600 block of Walnut Avenue, according to a police report. Sh also had her stereo stolen, the re port adided.
\({ }^{\text {at }}\) I left my car parked outside on the street" said Subocz an in formation studies major

The vehicle was last seen by the owner at 4 p.m. on Feb. 10 the report said. Subocz found the car broken into at \(2: 30\) p.m. the following day, she said.
"I was on my way to work,"

Subocz said. "I noticed that the door was open and I knew that I didn't leave it like that.

The suspect smashed the driver's side vent window. The dashboard and other panels wer alsobroken and mats in the trunk were ripped, the report said.
"When I saw the broken window, I flipped out," she added. The suspect stole a persona CD stereo and a Sony amplifier, valuing \($ 850\) total, from the trunk, the report said.

They even took the stereo remote," Subocz said. "It was clear that they knew what they were looking for.

There have been six other car break-ins around the SU campus this semester, according to police reports. No suspects were found for any of the incidents. "It sucks," Subocz added.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evans Boston

\section*{It's Bonus Time.}

Eorward Looking. Everything you love about Clinique: The latest makeup. The greatest skin care. Packed up in travel sizes.
Clariying Lotion 2, Dramatically Different Moisturizing Lotion. Cocoa Pearl Smudgesicle, Barely Nude/Cheeky Peach Sheer Powder Blusher Duo with Brush, Plum Brandy Different Lipstick. Clinique Happy Body Smoother, Cosmetics Bag.
Forward Leoking. Yours with any Clinique purchase of \($ 16.50\) or more.
One Bonus to a customer, please. While supplies last Study hard. Have fun. Look good.

Store Hours: Monday - Wednesday 8:30am to \(7: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)
Thursaday - Friday 8:30am to 11:00pm
Saturday Sunday 12:00pm to 11:00pm

\section*{CLINIQUE}

Allergy Tested. \(100 \%\) Fragrance Free.
(With the exception of Clinique Happy products.)

BY NICOLE ELLIOTT Contributing Writer

Syracuse Police broke up a party at about 2 a.m. Sunday at the Zeta Psi fraternity house, 727 Comstock Ave
'I really don't know how this all happened," Zeta Psi President Dave Lingren said.

Lingren said some close friends gathered Saturday night t Zeta Psi. Initially, it was a mall gathering of about 20 to 25 people, but as the night went on, more people began to arrive.
"People started showing up

\section*{RAPE}
continued from page 1 ues to offer students help in the form of counseling, medical attention and legal advice, Card said.
"I definitely think they let people know there's someone out there to turn to," said Adrienne LiBritz, a senior civil engineering major. "I've seen a lot of posters in mathrooms."

The center puts stickers with its phone number, 443RAPE, on bathroom doors in male and female bathrooms on campus.
The center also has a fund to pay for rape kits, Card said. The rape kit is a collection of evidence from a sexual assault victim's body through an involved pelvic exam, checking underneath finDNA evidence. The kit includes tests for blood, sexually transmitted diseases, HIV and pregnancy.
out of nowhere," Lingren said. "Droves of human beings started coming in.'

As more students entered Zeta Psi, the house became increasingly crowded and noisy, he added.

Police officers arrived, without receiving any prior calls, to break up the party that developed from what was meant to be just a small gathering of friends, Linbren said.

He said the event just went beyond the brothers' control, blessing in dis was actually a

A medication for post-exposure to IIIV is usually given.

The rape kit can cost up to \($ 2,000\), Card said

Although the rape kit is covered under most health insurance plans, students often opt to ance plans, students often opt to involved because it would be listed under their parents' insurance, Card said.
"They won't choose the kit because it will state that a sexual assault has happened, \({ }^{n}\) she said.

The R.A.P.E. Center plans on running a series of events for Reationship Violence Week in April, including having informational tables in the Schine Stulationship violence, sponsoring speakers and hanging shirts from the Clothesline Project, Card said.

The Clothesline Project is an organization that promotes sexual harassment awareness by said. "We welcomed them in." Officers issued a noise viola tion to Zeta Psi. Party-goers then began to leave, he said. Lingren said he was unaware of any seri ous damages or injuries, and added that the party had no con nection to pledging.

Zeta Psi, alons with other Syracuse University fraternities, is currentlygoing through a pledge period, when new mem bers are initiat community.

Lingren indicated that the event brought up concerns regarding future gatherings. He said the house will be more careful about who arrives at their parties and that brothers will monities how many people attend.

The Intrafraternity Council does not have any intention of taking action unloss a police report is filed, IFC President Brad Young said.

David Goldstein, IFC vice president, will work with the Office of Greek Life to decide what actions should occur in the event a police report is filed, he added
"Zeta Psi is a good chapter," Zeta Psi is a good chapter, standing with IFC and the Office of Greek Life.
The fraternity returned to SU this fall after losing its char ter in 1994 because of disciplinary problems. After losing its char er, Zeta Psi remained inactive on campus for the next four years to ensure that the brothers inolved with the problems had \(y\) to return to carp the fratern: charter and a clean record.

The Zeta Psi brothers moved into their present house on Comstock Avenue last August, after gaining university recognition in the spring of 1998.
showing T-shirts decorated by victims with powerful messages about assaults, she added

The center is also arranging to have former \(\mathbf{S U}\) quarterback Don McPherson visit campus to speak on violence against wornen, Card said.

The center said last month that the number of reported rapes on campus has steadily increased since 1996.

The rise can be attributed to increased student awareness of the importance of reporting incidents and the recent focus on reationship abuse by the center Card said.

Since we have done outreach for our next project, relationship violence, many people have come forward," Card said. That constitutes part of the overall statistics that weren't in previous year's reports."

\section*{1999 Rape statistics}

Somewhere in the United States, a woman is sexually assaulted every 2 minutes

One out of every four rapes take place in a public area
29 percent of female victims reported that the offender was a stranger

68 percent of rapes occur between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

At least 45 percent of rapists were under the influence of alcohol or drugs

75 percent of female rape victims require medical care after the attack

Compiled by Staff Writer Sarah Ovaska
SOURCE: The Rape, Abuse and incest National Network

\section*{Visit the all new Versity.com} Lecture notes . tutoRials . research center (we're even giving away A Brearh-taking trip to EuRope) - always

\title{
[editorial] \\ \\ Police secrecy won't \\ \\ Police secrecy won't deliver quick justice } deliver quick justice
}

The Daily Orange
February 21, 2000
Holly Auer, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com 5

When an arsonist's work leaves three students dead, there's no time to ask questions.

But only questions remain after an earlymorning raid at a Seton Hall University bar Friday. Police arrested 37 students for underage drinking while handing 12 of them subpoenas for questioning in the deadly Jan. 19 blaze that killed three and injured 58 .

The Essex County, N.J. prosecutor's office refuses to release information about the connection between the illegal-drinking sweep and the urgency to subpoena the students involved, leaving suspicions that the raid may have been a setup to blemish the reputations of potential suspects. The amount of time that elapsed between when the subpoenas were signed and when they were served remains a mystery.

Students, parents and Seton Hall administrators deserve better than an under-handed police investigation after the fiery tragedy. Bringing the perpetrators to justice is of utmost concern to the grieving campus, but dodging the public and the press underscores the investigation.

Police and prosecutors were given ample opportunity throughout the weekend to clarify their motives, but repeatedly ducked questions about the situation.

A tight-lipped prosecution won't hasten the judicial process.

Time is precious as the ashes cool and the trail grows cold. Only the student population holds the missing pieces to the fire's puzzle, and secrecy and scare tactics aren't the tools that should be used to unearth clues.

The testimony of students subpoenaed in the barroom raid may lead police to information and arrests, but police should have been forthright when slapping handcuffs to the wrists of the underage drinkers. Crafty police work may have been warranted, but the results deserve a clear explanation.

Deceit is a two-way street - only once the police start talking will witnesses talk back.
[dä]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor
Emaly Kulkus Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor

Justin Sawerman Editorial Editor Holly Auer Lifestyle Editor Special Projects Editor Special Projects Edito
Presentation Director Presentation Directo
Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst, Copy Editor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{American voting begins outside voting booth}

The American media often makes a fuss about the ow voter turnout in American elections. What it doesn't realize is that "non-voting" is a vote in itself. What smple answer. America is the most democratic nation in

HENRY Y. CHUNG the world that also enjoys substantial political stability and freedom.

First, American history proves that elections have always been arenas of political combat. Beginning with James Madison's discussion of factions \({ }^{\circ}\) in the Federalist Papers, the long-standing two-party phenomenon ties to this day. Gradually, sorne people have come to realize the two-party status quo is only an excuse for politi cians to launch fights against each other in search of personal gains. Therefore, the public ceases voting because they don't believe that their choices really make a differcnce. Also there are many Americans who have moderate political views or are tired of the two-party system. But for some diosyncratic reason, third-party candidates are often tions. Therefore, these people choose non-voting to protest tions. Therefore, these people choose non-voting to protest "non-voting" is a vote in itself

Inevitably, the notorious two-party system gives rise to negative campaigning - a traditional tactic that politi cians employ to disgrace one another on national television, force their competitors to resign from office and in some cases, send their opponents to prison. Instead of working together to build bridges and improve society, candidates engage in nasty debates aiming at one anoth political campaigns are destructive at best. Candidates pay only "lip service" to the notion of fuller participation political life, without really trying to mobilize new voters. Elections drive us away from politics.

On a technical level, the American voter turnout is low because, unlike most European and Asian countries, Election Day is on a workday instead of Sunday. Although the "non-Sunday election syndrome" has not proven to make a critical difference, it certainly has implications for American politics. Based on the recent voter registration tered Republicans. Statistically spealing, Republican voters tend to be wealthier and better educated than the population as a whole, while Democrats are more likely to be less affiuent blue-collar workers. So presumably if be less affluent, blue-collar workers. So presurnably, if Election Day were on a Sunday, Democrats might be more apt to get out to vote, since they don't work that day apt to get out to vote, since they don't work that day Chancellor Helmut Kohl encouraged voters to vote in exchange for a banana. Though this banana was seemingly irrelevant to the election, it made voting a fun and positive process for German voters. In America, voters are also given a souvenir for registering - they are automatically placed in the pool for jury duty selection. But many Americans feel that jury duty is a burden rather than an honor. Perhaps that explains why Germany's voter turnout is, on average, \(30 \%\) higher than that of America, However, non-voting is not necessarily detrimental to

However, non-voting is not necessarily detriment mocracy; it is instead a signal of a well-established democracy; it is instead a signal of a welhestablished country, the more likely that the country is experiencin a well-sustained democracy and that its citizens are living in political and economic stability.

Throughout the years, both the Annerican government and the media have attempted to find ways to ncrease the voter outcome. Such efforts are hopeless. No natter how candidates energize their base, create strong campaigming, the current election turnout will not sub tantially increase It would take another Great sub Depression or Civil War to completely transform thi existing trend.

Furthermore, election turnout is low in the U.S. because voters no longer feel they are part of the electoral system. As social satirist Michael Moore proclaims, Democrats and Republicans Iook exactly alike nowadays." Even though low voter turnout has ostensibly institutionalize mass influence in politics, it does not mean voters have lost representation. Instead they have mean voters have lost representation. Instead, they have Often, crucial policy choices are made outside the electoral realm. For example, concerned individuals form and join interest groups and unions to influence policy outcome. In reality, interest group politics have taken over party politics while democracy is still alive and well in America.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year student in the College Lau His column appears or Mondays in The Daily Orange E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{CMS official disputes claims of sensationalism}

To the Editor:
I hope that by responding to Mr. Erik Zimerman's comments in Fri days issue of The Daily Orange, I can of the students' integrity in me or Computing and Media Services.

Mr Zimerman is right, there is no evidence of a Denial of Service at tack on the Sunix servers. It was not the Sunix servers that were attacked. The servers that were affected were The outaix servers not related to CMS. The outage was first reported as an Incause that was where the initial evidence pointed.

Contrary to Mr. Zimerman's assertion, during February 12th through ing a large amount of data to the Internet. Since almost all universities have their own Internet connection, of course, other "eda" sites were not affected, any more than an attack on Amazon.com affects Barnesandnoblecom. The long outages referred to throughout the weekend. The appor throughout the weekend. The apparFinland. I admit, the motive of attacking Finland through SU is unclear.

I am certainly not motivated by a desire to get more money out of the SU administration. I have not asked any one for jncreased funding. In fact, I have stated that these attacks, while possibly criminal, do not justify any on the windows." My interest is to naintain high availability of computing systems, while balancing the deBe assured wen, learning environment. the proper authorities. If, after further analysis of the data, it appears that the FBI is the correct agency to report this incident to, then it will be reported. So far, though, there is, unfortu ing amply not enough evidence.
I am not interested in anyone jumping on the bandwagon." My reaange's inguiries is to provide SU's students with information they might find of interest. If that's a "quest for sensationalism," then so be it. Frankly, I would rather be charged with that than with being inaccessible.

David Bunter
Director, Network & System Services

\section*{Election 2000}

\section*{Supporters argue reason for Bush triumph \\ hing to do with it," Burns said.}

\section*{Asst. News Editor}

Campaign staff members for Arizona Sen. John McCain hope to bring their candidate back to the winners' circle in the upcoming Michigan and New York state primaries, said Howard Opinsky, a McCain spokesman.

The absence of right-wing supporters in these states wil help McCain

Texas Gov. George W. Bush beat McCain in the Feb. 19 South beat McCain in the Feb, 19 South Carolina Republican \(p\)

Bush's victory came despite the fact that 21 polling precincts in South Carolina's Greenville County were closed for the primary. Voters, however, were able to cast their ballots in other precincts.
Sow won every group in South Carolina except for the Christian Right because our message was distorted," Opinsky said.

He added that Bush's campaign focused on attacks towar
McCain's religious life in an effor to alienate devout Christian con stituents. The ad campaign in spired countless members of the religious right to make their way to the polls to vote against McCain, he said.
"Sen. McCain would have been able to win had it not been for the showing of that group," Opinsky said.

Gina Derossi, Syracuse University College Republicans secretary and McCain supporter, agreed.
"George Bush definitely has more support from the far right," said Derossi, a senior public relations major. "Probably, the negative ads did spark more interest in them."

Opinsky said he did not credit the win to Bush, but rather to right-wing conservatives the Rev. Jerry Falwell, Christian Broadcast Network founder Pat Robertson and former Christian Coalition Executive Director Ralph Reed.
"I think that the South Car-

McCain

Bush
olina primary was a great victory for Jerry Falwell, Pat Robinson and Ralph Reed," Opinsky said. George Bush turned his campaign over to them and they ran the kind of dirty campaign South Carolinians must be accustomed to."

Both Falwell and Reed have spoken in Syracuse in recent months.

Bush representatives could not be reached for comment.

SU College Republicans Chairman Joe Burns, a junior political science and history major, said that Bush's win was not because of negative campaigning. "I don't think that had any
"He got Republicans out to vote and he showed more conservative candidate."

Derossi said she was disap pinted with the results of the primary, but said she thinks Mc Cain still has a chance to win the nomination.
"I think it relies on how hard he campaigns, how clean he keeps it and who comes out to vote, it and wh she said.

She added that she believes the far-right has a larger pres ence in South Carolina than in ther parts of the country. so Bush may not have the luck he had in Saturday's contest in upoming primaries.

The Michigan primary is Tuesday, with the New York stat rimary following on March 7.

Opinsky said although Bush won, he made a critical mistak n alenating members of his own party beca campaign.
ter King, a U.S. represen tative from Long Island, switched to McCain because he did not agree with Bush's negativity, Opinsky said.

McCain still has a chance to win the Republican nomination Opinsky said. Voters nationwide namely those in New York state and Michigan, will not be swayed by Bush's campaign and his neg ative ads, he added.
\({ }^{\text {a }}\) I don't think people around the country are going to buy that," he said. "New Yorkers don't fall privy to those sorts of things.

\section*{Keeping momentum}

McCain's momentum sparked by his double-digit win in the New Hampshire primary Feb. 1, will not be slowed by hi oss down south, Opinsky said.
"I think our win in New Hampshire allowed us to join Bush in rock star status," Opin sky said.

He added that the New Hampshire win verified MeCain's campaign and made voters realize hat he had a chance in the rac the Republican nomination.

McCain skipped campaign ng for the Jan. 24 lowa Caucus focus his efforts on the New across the state to speak at more han 100 small gatherings and own hall meetings.

Because South Carolina is a larger state, the ability to do that sort of campaigning during a Opinsky said. Although Bush won in South Carolina, Opinsky said the McCain staff has no intention of changing their style.
"We're not going to retool ur campaign because of results in one primary," he said.

Even Bush recognized the effectiveness of McCain's cam paign tactics, Opinsky said. While campaigning in South Carolina, Bush adopted small-scale cam paigning in an effort to "becom John McCain," Opinsky added.

Burns disagreed that Bush molded his campaign to fit McCain's, however, and added that reCan was hoping to hrough the remaining primariea with his New Hampshire win. the future because most of the remaining primaries do not allow non-Republicans to vote, Buras aid. This prevents Democratio porters from infuencing the Republican primaries, he added.

\section*{GERBIG}
continued from page 1
lice are handling the ongoing investigation.

Curtis Gerbig lived in his Clifton Springs home and commuted to ESF for classes. Gerbig was slated to graduate in December.
"He was just finishing up," his brother said. "We were planning a party for him."
ing business also a landscaping business, Gerbig's Landscape and Tree Service, with branches in Syracuse and Delaware. Delaware.

After he graduated, he was planning to continue with his business, Chris Gerbig said. family is coping with Curtis' death. and "There were only two of us, and we were a close family. We said. "We were real close. He was my little brother."

The Gerbig family will cremate their son, an organ donor, and his remains will be taken to the Adirondacks, Chris Gerbig said.
talked abas 22. We never this is about this," he said. "But his is exactly what he would have wanted."

\section*{NYPIRG concludes voter registration drive \\ NYPIRG registered about}

BY BETH BRAVERMAN Contributing writer

Syracuse's New York Public Interest Research Group registered about 200 voters from the beginning of this semester to the Feb. 11 primary regisWild the eroup's project Eoordic Wild, the group's project coordi nator.

Wild said he is satisfied with the number of registrations during the drive, given cruit new voters.

Group members distributed more than 300 registration applications to students waiting in line for tickets to First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton's Feb. 9 speech in Goldstein Auditorium, Wild said.

The group hosted tables in the Schine Student Center and dining halls to register the students. NYPIRG representatives also spoke to classes, trying to encourage students to register for New York state's March 7 presidential primary.

750 students during the 1999 Fall Semester.

Registering student voters is important because it gives them a political voice, Wild said. \({ }^{4}\)
"Basically, if students want to empower themselves politically, they cannot do that without voting," Wild said.

Politicians will not work as hard for student-oriented isand students' riphts, if they do and students rights, if they da not seemany dents, he added Chris Dure
Chris Durej, a freshman engineering major, said he has Noven a registered voter since November

Ifigured it was my re sponsibility to make sure someis going to end up in orree who up," Durej said.

NYPIRG is non-partisan and therefore can not perform the drive with any party-affiliated group, Wild said.

The College Democrats

\section*{still lifes.}

As one of five boys, two of which live in Nigeria and the other two in Australia, Ooruthiran was always quiet and reserved, said Sutha, who is currently working for the Oracle Corp, a software company in California. Sutha and his brother, Kiruba, who is Studying at the Renssalear said their common Sri Lankan ated a close relationship between the students.
"He was probably the best example of a nice guy, " Kiruba said: "He had no bad habits."

The two brothers said they were attempting to contact the Nigerian Embassy to make arrangements for the body to be sent home to be with family. Because it was the weekend and Monday is President's Day, however, arrangements would not be finalized until Tuesday, Sutha said.

Upset by their friend's death, the two brothers said they had spent the day contacting mutual college friends about the accident.

In my religion, they say is so they can go be with God, planned to run their own voter drive, but Clinton's speech consumed most of their time before this year's primary deadline, said Christina Hinchey, president of the College Democrats. She said, however. that NYPIRG was very-thor: ough in their own project this semester.

Ithink NYPIRG is a wonderful organization. They do a fantastic job on said. said.

Joe Burns, College Repulicans chairman, said although NYPIRG's final registration numbers are impressive, he feels is the group's fiberal orientation.
"I think NYPIRG is an extremely left-wing organization," Burns said. "While registering voters is a good thing, we will not participate in activities run by such extreme organizations."

NYPIRG is the largest stu-dent-directed advocacy nrganization in New York stase, with 20 chapters on college campuses throughout the state, according to a NYPiRG report. The group's goal is to fight for issues important to students, as well as involve them politically. In addition, NYPIRG also fights for environmental protection, consumer protection, homeless and hunger prevention and an end ospor according to the eport

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse
DON'? BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com

\section*{\((5)\) Longley \(/\) ones}
4) 1) CEAT INCLUDED!

The group is currently working on a nonpartisanguide to help students become in formed voters, Wild said.
-We are also trying to get many student organizations on campus signed on to Student vote 2000," he said

This service will update the organizations about the election Via e-main. Groups interested in this service should contac
NYPIRG, Wild said.

Sutha said. "I guess that's what happened here."

\section*{WRITE \\ A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!} Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

Alpha Chi Omega is proud to introduce its Spring 2000
new Member Class

Lauren Albarano
Betty Alvarez Lindsay Bistis Heather Bowdring Allison Brigham Mary Beth Burke Lisa Cicala Michelle Elias Maria Firpo Suzanne Gasiorkewicz Kathryn Ashley Giombetti Kendell Gulya Stacy Hauger Kaitlin Herrmann Carolyn Human Denise Kahn Jacqeline Karis

Jessica Kelly Marni Landis Meghan Meehan Deena Moore Jessica Moseman Sarah Mustico Jenna Portanova Ariel Schulman Courtney Strand Kristen Thomason Victoria Tomlinson Kathryn Vakay Giacoma Venditti Melea Weber Naomi Weinberg Britt Wenzler Holly Williams

Katie Gerz

\section*{Congratulations!}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

\title{
Artist's work highlights non-traditional subjects
}

\section*{bY CAROLINE CHEN Staff Writer}

The image of a large nipple made of wood, wood putty and lacquer Mashed onto a screen
Friday night in the Hall of Languages.

This work, 13 inches in diameter and 14 inches tall, called "Nursing Missile," was one of 14 slides Maria Elena Gonzalez, a Brooklyn-based sculptor, pre sented to an a udience of about 50 students as part of the ninth annual Matrilineage Symposium.

In the gallery where it was shown, "Nursing Missile" hung on the wall above the viewers their heads up to see it, Gonzalez said.
"Forme, it was sort of like the relationship of nursing," she added.

Young artists should not be concerned with conforming their constantly shifting, Gonzalez said.
"Do what is important, not what will be the next flavor of the month," she said.

Gonzalez said she wanted her work to speak for itself instead of being eategorized.

Although she avoids labels, She said she is known as the "Ghetto Princess" because she frequently exhibits her work in alternative settings in Brooklym C Bronx Gonzalez said she participated in Latino, women and gay shows in the beginning of her career just to be noticed.

But she said she realized that she did not want her work identified only with shows focusing on specific types of nrtists.
"It was like dissecting my self into all these littie boxes, she said. "After a while, it be came reductive instead of amplifying audiences."

Gonzalez said she would not consider exhibiting her work in that type of show anymore. to show her work in an exhibito show Hicpanic articts sponsored by ATty, she added. sored by At or, she added. w . You're all Hernandez-

Youre all Hernandez-Fer-nandez-Garcia-Rodriguez, zalez said. "It was so insulting." Gonzalez said her traditional training in art was helpful technically but hindered her freedom to explore non-traditional subject matter.

The teachers I had were just very formally inclined," she said. "When I brought in ideas and imagery into my work that had to do with specific issues, primarily the queer issue or women's issues, it was dismissed as a subject matter not important enough to be explored in artwork.

\section*{Redefining normal}

In a piece entitled "Seesaw," Gonzalez incorporated two con doms with pubic hair from herself and her lover. She described

VIEW A RENOVATED MODEL APARTMENT AT SOUTH CAMPUS
121 WINDING RIDGE ROAD APT. 6
OPEN: MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1
MONDAY BE TUESDAY, MARCH 687
7:00 PM - 8:30 PM
TAKE THE WINDING RIDGE RD. BUS FROM COLLEGE PLACE TO WINDING RIDGE RD.
SOUTH CAMPUS OFFERS ALL THE PRIVACY OF APARTMENT LIVING WITH THE CONVENIENCE OF゙ UNIVERSITY OWNED HOUSING.

AN AREA ADVISOR WILL BE PRESENT TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS YOUMAY HAVE FURNISMED, UTILITIES INCLUDED (PRICES ARE FIXED SO BUDGETING IS EASIER) ACADEMIC YEARLEASE

OPEN THROUGHOUT THE ACADEMIC YEAR!!!
COME AND SEE WHAT
SOUTH CAMPUS APARTMENTS
HAVETO OFFER!!!
WHILE YOU ARE MERE, PLEASE VISTT YOURG GOIDSTEIN STUDENT CENTER E ENIOY THEFACILITY
the piece as "very playful," but added that the work was Laken down when children came into museum to see the show.
Gonzalez snid her work took on a serious note in "Persistence of Sorrow," a work she dedicated to friends who died or ADS. A wide band of black rubber stretched around the room with the names of deceased fiends embossed on it in Braill and covered with Vaseline.

So once you go up and read it, you have something in your, hands that you waik away with," piece to speak through the senses." Gonzalez said she olso "pushes the envelope" through the way her works are displayed.

In one exhibit, she stretched a 20-by-12 foot sheet of rubber over the actual artwork.
"As people kept rubbing it and rubbing it, the outines of the pieces surfaced," Gonzalez said.

The museum had to put up a sign to let people know they could touch the art, she said.

Viewer participation is very important," Gonzalez said. "Some of the installations are actually for people to touch and play with"

Gonzalez also addressed the role of funding in art, specifically in regard to a show featuring daring works by women "Bad Girks " took phow, called Now Museum of Contemporary Art in New York Contemporary Art in New York City.

Gonzalez said she proposed one of her own works, "Self-Service, "Gor the show, but curators considered the work too extreme "That
That has to do with being an institution that has to fisten ed," she said. "It undermines the function of a place like the New Museum."

For "Self-Service," Gonzalez created a bathroom-like chamber. On one side, two metal handles and a penis-shaped object protruded from the tiled wall. Small round mirrors were scattered on the walls of the reom. The artist said the work was "uncomfortable" but "humorous."

Artists Faith Wilding and Judith Barry were also scheduled to participate in the discussion wich Gonzalez. Wilding and Barry, however, were unable to attend because of inclement weather.

If felt really bad that the other two people weren't there." said Danielle Zezulinski, an unof Visual and Performing Arts.

Zezulinski said she did not know a lot about ferainist art and would have liked the opportunity to compare the artists.

The event was taped for the artists in absentia, whoare rescheduled to speak in March, said Cindy Moore, a graduate painting student and a member of the Committee on Women and Art, the group which sponsored the event.

After hearing Gonzalez speak, Zezulinski said she admired her for avoiding a label for herself as a woman, as a Latino or as a lesbian artist.
"She has so much diversity within herself," Zezulinski said. Gonzalez said she does not worry about how her work theories. "Wh
When I'm working. I don't really want to know what l'm doing," she said. "One of the best finding your way out of it.'

\title{
Jury suggests \($ 37\) million for Cayuga Nation
}

The Cayuga Indian Nation will receive \($ 36.9\) million as compensa tion in its 20-year-old land claim trial against New York state, a jury decided Thursday

But the case is far from over, said Daan Braveman, dean of the Thecuse University College of Law sthe judge stas a number of is Sues the judge has to determine, also appeal the decision because there have been rulings on both sidis that could be disputed."

The jury's verdict is not a final number, because U.S. Distric Judge Neal McCurn still must de cide several issues regarding com pensation in the case, Braveman said.

Some issues McCurn must examine could drastically increase the Cayugas' fanal compensation exceeding Thursday's jury ruling he added.

One of these questions is the is sue of prejudgment interest, Brave man said. Mocurn has said ie has nol dismussed the possibility chat payments for the more than 64000 pacres of Iand that New York state illerally abtained from the tribe in 1795 and 1807 he said

If you apply that and that was otatained of ruing of years aro, you could be talkin oryeut millions and millions and mil lions of dollars," he said. "I suspect that negotiations between the two sides will continue. It's not uncommon for settlements to be reached after the trial is finished."

McCurn may also decide if the Cayugas should receive money for physical improvernents made on the land since the time they lost it, Braveman said. Both these issues \section*{may alter the jury's verdict consid-} erably, he added.

U.S. Justice Department attorneys argued with the Cayugas' private lawyers for the tribe's intercsts in the trial while the state attorney general's office represented the people of New York state.
this case" have our noses buried in this case, said Mare Violette, state "We're worneral's office spokesman. Were working very diligently for what we believe to be the best inNew York, Justice Department attorneys dot be reached for comment
During closing arguments Hesday, the state's lawyers focused on destroying the credibility of the lustice Department's land appraiscr, Arvel Hale.

Hale-estimated the land's value as more than \($ 335\) million, while the state's appraiser said the land was worth about \($ 51\) million, Violette said.

Hale made critical errors in his calculations of the land's value by overlooking and ignoring numbers that would have reduced his final estimate of the land's value, Vilette said.

The claim, originally filed in 1980, said the tribe has a valid claim to 64,000 acres of land in Cayuga and Seneca counties becarcels without the consent of the Carcels without

In 1994, McCurn ruled that the nation's claim was valid. His uling led to a lengthy process of negotiations between the state and the Cayugas that ended without a compromise.

The stalemate in the years of aegotiations led to the current. triad, which began Jan. 24 in a Syracuse rederal district court.

The verdict in the Cayugas

\section*{DEBATE}
continued from page 1
said he wished for the organization's funds to be dealt with through the Finance Board.

Some student orgamizations. however, are currently funded by both SGA and their respective membership dues.
"It appears as though they are capable of running independently," Vieira said. "Either they should fund themselves and not charge or raise the student fee to \section*{make up for it."}

The candidates also expressed their views regarding the status of the Finance Board and the Finance Code.

The SGA budget reports have not been released to the student body since the 1970 s , Gaulin said. He said he hopes to soon have the reports available on he Internet. Pubushing the budet would allow students to see sed toward he added he added
To conclude the event, each

\section*{Cayuga Land Claim Trial}

The Cayuga Indian Nation filed a claim in federal district court in Syracuse in 1980 stating that New Yofk state illegally obtained more than 64,000 acres of land in 1795 and 1807 . After 20 years of unsuccessful negotiations and a monthlong trial, the jury recommentied the nation receive \($ 37\) milion in compensation for the land.

1795 and 1807: The State of New York obtains 42,000 acres of land in Cayuga County and 22,000 acres of land in Seneca County from the Cayuga indian Nation.

1980: The nation files a claim in federal dis trict court in Syracuse stating that they have a valid claim to the land because the treaties used to acquire the land violate the 1790 Federal Indian Non-Intercourse Act. The claim says that the state did not obtain the consent of the U.S government before obtaining the land and that the treaties signed for the purchase were not rat-角ed by Congress. The claim seeks retum of the land and \($ 350\) million in damages.

1992: The U.S. Justice Department joins the Cayugas' claim against New York state because of the alleged treaty violation.

1994: U.S. District Judge Neal McCurn rules that the Cayugas' claim on the land is valid and encourages settlement talks between the Cayugas and New York state.

May 1999: After years of deadiocked nego thations over a settlement. McCum sets Sept. 8 , 1999 as the trial date for the damages phase of the claim.

July-December 1999: McCum grants severa extensions in the sertlement talks and the state makes several cash offers as settlements, but all talks stall and the negotiations end in a stale mate. forcing the rial to begin.

Jan. 18, 2000: Lawyers and McCurn begin screening more than 135 potential jurors for the trial.

Jan. 24, 2000: Attorneys begin presenting evidence and arguments to the ninemember jury. The jury must decide how much compensation the tribe should receive.

Feb. 14, 2000: Closing argurnents begin in the trial.

Feb. 16, 2000: Jufy deliberations begin.
Feb. 17, 2000: After 12 total hours of deliberations, the jury decides the land's total value is \($ 36.9\) milion.

Complled by Asst. News Edtor Kevin Tampone case is the first of several similar land claim cases in the country to enter the damages phase and re turn a decision on compensation.
"This will definitely have an impact with the negotiations in other cases," Bravernan said. "Because at least one jury has gone closer to the state's appraisal, it could quit possibly influence future juries.

Even though other land cinim candidate used three minutes to summarize their view on the position.

Working with student groups to improve the finance committee would be Vieira's primary goal if elected, Vieira said

I think SGA is at its climax right now," she said. "The way I see it, I am going in to improve rather than make radica change."
cases in New York state are rapidly approaching the trial phase, no one can predict the effect the Cayuga decision will have in those claims, Violette said.
"It's improper for us to speculate on other pending land claim cases," he said. "It would ust be inappropriate for our office so say no impact We'll just have to wait for that day to determine that.
Violette added that an appeal is not out of the question, however. the stakes are still too high to discuss specifics.
lipped ere being pretty tightlipped about the future of this case," he said. "We might make the noge npsel and that sust not sornething we're interested in doing

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

SU lets key rebounds, win slip through hands
\begin{tabular}{l}
Br Dave curtis \\
Sponts \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{}

game notes

 cen winning tradtion

为 TEED off

 Matisun cheer echood through barkley collapses

sig East Results this weekend
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Miami \\
No. 18 Comnectiat & \({ }_{57}^{63}\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular} Notere Dame
No. 23 Selon
Hall Boston Collese
West Vivinia
\begin{tabular}{c}
Villanowa \\
Rlugers \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\(\underset{\substack{\text { Georgetown } \\ \text { putsury }}}{ }\) \begin{tabular}{l} 76 \\
74 \\
\hline
\end{tabular} ntsureh big east standings Syracuse
St. Johnn's Miami
Seton Hall
Notre Dame Seton Hall
Notrne ame
Connecticut Connecticut
Vilianove
Rutgers
West Virginia Rutgers
West Virinia
Georgetown Geargeowh
Pittsburgh Providence
Boston Co \(\begin{array}{llll} \\ \text { Boston College } & 2.11 & 9.10\end{array}\)

\title{
Orangewomen drop two over weekend
}

BY CHR1S
STORRS, Conn. - Beth Record couldn't do it all by herself. Syracuse's junior sharpshooter scored a career-high 35 points on Friday to try to lead her team to an unthinkable upset of No. 1 Connecticut.

Still, it wasn't nearly enough, as the best team in the land put on a fast-break clinic at Gampel Pavilion, sprinting past the Or angewornen for a 100-74 victory. half Midway through the first half, around the 10 -minute mark, their press really started to have an effect on us, SU head coach Manamna reeman said. Ithre we started to lose our composure credible team. In my opinion they are probably the best team ever assembled."

Despite snow and sleet making travel conditions treacherous, opproximately 6,500 fans turned day as the Huskies honored Stacy Hansmeyer and Paige Sauer on Senior Night.

For 10 minutes though, it ap-

\section*{MSG}
continued from page 10
18 points.
Barkley missed the front end of a 1 -and- 1 the next time down, and SU forward Preston Shumpert drew a foul. He hit 1-of-2 free throws, setting up Jessie's w and hoop.
We hit a couple big baskets, and we got back to tie and had a chance," Boeheim said, "but Postell got a bad shot and it went to the right guy."

Boeheim called the contest "a very well-played game," and the second-half numbers back up his sentiments.

While the Orange shot a bistering Ss. 2 percent (16-for peared Record and SU might steal the spotlight.

The Orangewomen trailed just 20-16 early on and forced UConn into a slow-down game that seemed to make the Huskies uncomfortable.

But UConn (24-1, 13-0 Big East) got out in transition and scorched \(S U\). The ball almost never touched the floor, except when it went through the net on lay-ups, as the Huskies went on a 19-1 run to pull away.
"It looks like they shot a great percentage from the field, but really we're taking three's and they re taking lay-ups," Record said. "t's disappointing and that's something that we'll work on.
uWe

We still have a young team, and we can carry this feeling right now and this experience over to the next game

While the Huskies shot 65 percent on the evening to remain undefeated in the Big East Record responded with an impressive 11-for-24 showing including 5 -for- 10 from 3 -point land.

In fact, her output was the season
Besides 12 points from Shanon Perry and four 3-pointers from Jaime James though, Record didn't have much help. The rest of the Orangewomen combined to make just four baskets and at times appeared to be in slow motion while UConn dominated play.

Connecticut's dynamic duo of Svetlana Abrosimova and Shea Ralph combined for 42 points, 17 assists and 15 rebounds.

Freeman said it's the best 1-2-punch she's witnessed since her tenure as an assistant at Iowa, when Laurie Aaron and Tia Jack son brought the Hawkeyes to the inal Four in 1993.

We just have so much offense when the two of them are on the floor," Connecticut head coach Geno Auriemma said When they're both playing the way they are, it's so difficult to eat us.

Offensively, the Orangewomen rarely got the ball inside, and when they did they were Husky defense. As a result, SU needed Record to connect from the perimeter.

Syracuse's leading scorer responded by challenging the Huskies to a make-believe game of around-the-world, launching and landing jumpers from all over the hardwood.
"It was great Beth had an oppartunity to have one of her 'A' games in front of a tremendous crowd," Freeman said. "What I would like her to do is consistently do that. Maybe 1 have to bring 10,000 people to Manley to make her bring that out.'

Fifty-eight points in the paint displayed UConn's offensive dominance, as it cruised to the century mark for the seventh time this season.

Regardless, it couldn't take away from Record's performance, as she lead the team in nine statistical categories.
"That's a great feeling," Record said about her performance. "I guess I have to do that mance. Providence and West Viragainst Providence and west give-and-take situation. I'm just going to have to become more consistent and each game increase my level of play until I get to that revel."

\section*{Another loss}

On Sunday, Record and the Orangewomen continued to strug gle on the road. Syracuse fell to 0 6 in league play away from Manley Field House with a 67-60 loss to Seton Hall at Wass Gymnasium Record led SU (10-14, 3-10 Big East) in scoring with 15 points but was just 5 -for-15 shooting.

Shannon Perry posted a dou ble-double with 15 points and 12 10 and s, whed 10 boards.
and grabbed 10 boards.
South Orange, N.J., native Jazmine Wright tallied 10 points and had 4 rebounds in a return to ber hometown.

The Pirates (10-14, 4-10 Big East) got 19 points from both Ar east) got 19 points from both ArLindquist.

The Orangewomen next play on Wednesday at 2 p.m. again againstuled because of the tragic residence hall fire at the New Jer sey school in late January. It will be SU's last Manley Field House contest of the season.
canning 17 -of- 30 field goals ( 56.7 percent)

SU turned the ball over six times and the Johnnies committed just four giveaways

Even the second-half assist tallies were even, with both teams booking 12 .

Still, Hart said, the Red Storm's bruising bullies pounded Syracuse underneath, forcing them to change its style of play; pretty", Hart a street game. It's not pretty," Hart said "That's how they play, and you've got to play to their level."

SU center Etan Thomas played right into the Johnnies hands, picking up his third foul with 14:08 remaining in Postell poitel, who finished with 14 points, capitalized on the

A CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT Clinton's BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE CLINTON WHITE HOUSE WITH Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President
Clinton and now an executive with Oxygen Media,
the women's cable channel, and
Bruce Lindsey,
assistant counsel to the President.
THEY WIL DISCUSS their experiences as the President's lawyers and advisors
throughout the past year.

\section*{- WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23rd •}
-3:00 P.M. URTL 5:00 P.M. -
- SCHINE UNDERGROUND • lack of a true big man 50 seconds later, capping a \(9-0\) run with an alley-oop jam from Bar lead

The duo hooked up for another sky-high connection later in the game. On a Red Storm fast break, Postell curled on the right wing and flew over Shumpert to stuff a pictureperfect Barkley pass and give St. John's a 61-49 advantage.

The open inside, however, would not have been available without the 3 -point touch of SJU's Bootsy Thornton.

The senior guard finished with a game-high 22 points, including four triples. He hit two early in the second half the first tied the game at 38 and the second gave the Johnnies a 45-42 lead.

I wanted to take advantage of the opportunities," Thornton said. "They tried to trap our guards at the top, and that left me wide open. I came out shooting.

Thornton, Postell and Barkley played 40 minutes each, as St. John's used seven players.
and reserves Shumpert and Griffin made important contributions, scoring 12 and nine points, respectively.

Griffin, a starter last season whose minutes have dwindled this year, added seven assists and turned the ball over just once.

He and Hart ignited an 18 2 first-half run that gave Syracuse a 29-22 lead late in the stanza. A Robeson High School graduate from Brooklyn, Griffin dished two assists and scored four points in the first half.
"I've had a tremendous two weeks of practice and done some good things in the last couple games," Griffin said Jason's going to get his 35 minutes, so i have to go out there and play, be a multi-per son, like I have three faces."

Even if Griffin had five faces, the Orangemen could not have overcome St. John's inspired play, Hart said
"It's disappointing because we had this game and we could have won," he said. "We could have pulled this out. And I think that's where the desire to win at any cost comes in. They had a little more than us, and that's why they got the victory."

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{EDGE}

Black and white The number of black applicants to the University of Virginia has dropped about 25 percent from last year, a decline that some university officials said may be attributable in part to a campus controversy over affirmative action. Officials said 967 black students have applied for admission this year. down from 1,287 in 1999. They noted that applications also have dropped among white, Hispanic and Asian students, although not as sharply.

\section*{Bithday hash}

Elizabeth Taylor's influt ence on film and fashion over five decades is examined by "Hollywood Fashion Machine" as American Movie Classics pays tribute to the actress at 8 p.m. Monday.
her 68th
birthday.
Famous for her clothes, jewels and beauty, Taylor has been hailed as the most beautifui wornen of the century and derided as the worst-dressed star.

\section*{Disturbing behavior} Out of sight is not out of mind for parents.
According to a national poll released by Parents magazine and Rob Reiner's I Am Your Child Founcation, nine out of 10 parents, regardless of gender, age, socioeco nomic status or race, are worried about violence. This concern tops all oth ers, including education, drug use, other social pressures and health.

\section*{Double trouble}

More than a year before Jonathan Taylor Spielbere began attending a catholic high school and pretending to be the teerrage nephew of Steven Spielberg, the Fairfax City, Va., resident wrote ( tion of Splelberg's foray into the porn industry in the summer of 1996 is raising concems among parents and officials at Paul VI High School where police arrested him last month.
quote of the day: "Light tomorrow with today!
Elizabeth Barrett Browning

Sapna
Kotlali,
editor
443-2128
life@daily orange.com

[lifestyle]MYSTERY
sclence
See what goes on in the Center for Really Neat Research See Lifestyle Tuesday

Sanostitorse

America's education system may be falling behind other nations'.

\section*{BY COREY HANN}

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Often preoccupied with thoughts of Pokemon and playgrounds, it doesn't come as a surprise that today's children have become unfocused in their studies. To combat this growing trend, legislators and reformers are doing their homework to improve the zation's schools.

But despite the increasing statistics against them, not everyone is willing to give educators a failing grade.

David Berlinger, a professor of education at Arizona State University recently took the offensive against claims that the public education sys tem is in crisis.
"The sorry state of student achievement in America is due more to the conditions of the students' lives outside the school than it is to what takes place within the school walls," he said in a 1998 article. "Sometimes teachers have to pick up the slack where homes leave off by creating a home-like atmosphere."

Being able to identify the source of a child's distraction - whether at home or in the classroom -will better enable teachers to educate, Berlinger said in the article.

Steven Bossert, dean of Syracuse University's School of Education, said he believes that while the current elementary education system has im proved, there are still reforms to be made, includ ing those that affect students with special educa tional needs.
"Integration of special education with elementary education will continue to be an important part of the changing system," Bossert said. "Un derstanding kids learning problems will be key in making the correct steps coward reform. Also, hav ing integration of social programs with health pro grams will help combat students problems.

But, Berlinger added, these policies will do little to stop the constant dumbing-down messages sent to children by the media.
"Our society celebrates anti-intellectualism and glorifies stupidity, he said in the article. A glorification of idiocy makes it hard for the o make the grade - feel com fortable with their abilities, he added.

While not losing their intellectual abilities, children may suffer a decline in self-esteem and

See EDUCATION page 16

\section*{'Beach' provides paradise of music}

In the final track on the soundtrack to Danny Boyle's new film, "The Beach, star Leonardo DiCaprio speaks over a steady, synthesized drum and basis beat.
Chris Plazza off the record that circles the globe in search for something we haven't tried before, \({ }^{\text {, }}\) he says. "Never resist the unfamiliar. Just keep your mind open and suck \(n\) the experience.
This aptly summarizes "The Beach" soundtrack. Director Danny Boyle has comprised an eclectic mix of semi-popular artists and lesser-known musicians into an exhilarating wave of fresh music. Not a mish-mash of popular artists like most mainstream film soundtracks, "The Beach" is far more daring and invites listeners into new and exciting musical locales.

The soundtrack kicks off with the propulsive "Snakeblood," by Lefticield. A mysterious echo behind the driving techno beat, gives the song a surreal edge. It is an apropos prologue for the soundtrack to follow - it starts off with pretty, tropical songs that slowly descend into brooding darkness by the album's finish.
The cheeriest song on the album is nore talent, by the Spice Giris much The song is counterpart, All Saints. Or, as the lyries of the song go: "It's call ing you my dear out of reach, dig into the beach." Such an invitation might sound like a travel agency jingle, but the song is entirely appropriate - the album is more about the consequences of temptation than it is a sales pitch.

In "Porcelain," another song of the album - not original - by Moby offers album - not original - by Moby offers an alluring tropical tapestry with a pret Voices," by Dario \(G\). and Vanessa. Quinones, offers a spectral chant from Quinones, offers a spectral chant from Thin Red Line" soundtrack and those "Come to Jamaica" ads on television.

Sugar Ray, whose inclusion on a slate of otherwise edgy artists may seem odd, actually delivers the best song on the soundtrack. "Spinning Away" has an infectious guitar riff over a beautiful orchestral arrangement, but is far more mournful than you'd expect from Sugar Ray. Mark McGrath sings about a sunset ushering in the end of a beautiful day. "The Beach" soundtrack then enters a transition period from carefree to dark See PIAZZA page 16

\section*{Wrestlers lose season-ending meet 47-0}

Fifteen minutes before matchtime, Shawn Thomas was absent from the bench.

The lone senior sat alone 20 yards behind the Syracuse bench, preparing for his last regular-season match.

Fifteen minutes after the dual meet, head coach Scott Miller stormed out of the lockscorer's table as the Manley Field House crew disassembled the mats.
these two Sitting Bull impressions, Buffalo whitewashed SU 47-0 Sunday afternoon in front 47-0 Sunday afternoon in front of 76 spectators, many of whom traveled East on the New York beloved Bulls.

On Friday, SU's second scheduled opponent - Wagner scheduled opponent - forfeited the match, citing too many depletions to its roster.

The noticeably upset Miller felt the Orangemen ( \(2-10,0-7\) EIWA) did not give the effort they should have given against Buffalo.
"That's all Everybody quit at some point or another during the match. That's what happens when you quit you get blown away. It's an embarrassment."

Said sophomore Jerry Pacillo: "Coach was pissed and said that everyone just quit out the match, everyone quit, and we didn't give it all the whole match. We just fell short, I guess. He was pretty pissed gues."

Pacillo put up Syracuse's best performance, losing a 14-8 match to Bill Jacoutot in which the final score didn't represent the bout's quality.

With a few ticks of the clock remaining in the second period, Jacoutot earned two points, surging to a \(7-5\) lead - one that Pacillo never recovone that red from. Pacilo is one of four wrestlers on Miller's preliminary list to head to the EIWA Championships during the first weekend of March, the coach said.
"I just died out in the second period," Pacillo said. "I gave too much energy in the beginning of the match. Trying all my energy. That shouldn't happen; I should be in shape."

\section*{REBOUNDS}
continued from page 10
that particular rebound. And that's something, at this stage of the year, I'm not too happy

While Boeheim said his team showed great energy, the the hustle plays. From an Anthony Glover steal in the game's opening moments to SalU keeping the ball from SU in a lastsecond scramble, the Red Storm beat the Orangemen to several loose balls.

While the rebounding sta-

Being honored for his career achievements before the match commenced, Thomas had a disappointing outing.

The Bulls' Ben Cooper defeated SU's captain 8-1, in a match for which Thomas s fa hometown of Tulsa, Okla.

Miller also listed Thomas as one of the wrestlers to trav el down to Annapolis, Md., for the EIWAs in two weeks.
"Like always, Shawn does everything good and all out," said Richard Thomas. "It just wasnt his day. At 174 , the EIWA has good wrestlers, just like throughout the country. He'll do just fine."

The other two wrestlers Miller will take to Annapolis are junior Ike Wennihan and freshman Brett Cowen.

Wennihan suffered a 15-3 \(10 s s\) to Joshua States. Wennihan, a Labette Community College (Kan.) transfer, is re covering from a series of knee injuries and slowly regaining is stamina. He'll compete at 184.

Cowen has had an up-anddown year, but he showed promise to find his midseason close 15-11 decision to Ryan tistics ended up a dead heat, St. John's prowess on the fast oreak hindered the Orangemen

In its \(32-13\) mid-game run, the Red Storm repeatedly limited SU to one look at the basket, fired accurate outlet passes and finished at the other end with layups and dunks.

Early, we took away some of the things they like to do, SU guard Jason Hart said. But they scored on some layups. We need a smooth run out there. We definitely did not play a solid game.
SU closed to \(55-49\) on an Etan Thomas foul shot with Bentley.

After spotting his opponent a few points, the freshman needed a pin late in the match to pull a victory. He nearly pulled it out, picking up three points for a near pin.
"Brett is explosive like he showed in his match," Miller said. "With eight seconds left, he almost won. He's in tough weight classes and in the toughest conference in the country. We can't go out there and wrestle ike we did today, or it'll be a short tournament.

The four EIWA qualifiers have a fortnight to prepare for the tournament, which is a gateway to the NCAA Tournament in St. Louis, Mo.

While they prepare for the trip, the rest of the squad has the same time period to prove to the coaching staff that they still deserve a chance to make the EIWAs.
"We will prepare the whole team," Miller said. "I won't rule out taking anybody else until we leave. The other guys have two weeks to prove that they deserve to go. They've got a hell of a lot of proving to do. feur burt preparing the other four, but for everybody else it is their last shot."

10:36 left. But the Red Storm responded with four straight fast-break buckets off three errant SU shots.

The Orangemen employed a full-court press after the free throw, but Bootsy Thornton broke on the left sideline. After a drive and a Thomas foul, he drained two freebies.

Following a Shumpert miss, Thornton pushed the dribble and found a cutting Postell for a 10 -point cushion. Blackwell then missed a baby hook in the lane, and SJU point guard Erick Barkley found Postell for a Garden-ratting dunk and a 61-49 advantage.

Thornton then collected another SU miss and found Jessie up the sideline. His wraparound pass to Glover forced Syracuse in a 14 -point hole and Boeheim into calling a full timeout with 9:07 to play.
"They got a lot of easy layups," SU guard Allen Griffin said. "We need to do a lot better job in transition. We send a lot of guys to the boards, but it's just getting back on defense."

The Orangemen sliced the margin to 74-67 when some hustle of their own narrowed the gap further. After a Barkley runner hit the side of the backboard, Hart drove the length of the court and kicked to Blackwel, wointer from the right ed 3-pointer from the right wing.

Barkley walked the ball back up court, but Griffin stole his pass to Postell and drove for'a layup, cutting the lead to a deuce.

Thomas, Blackwell and Shumpert owned the boards on switched up the spangemen also ing a press with straight man-to-man and an aggressive 2-3 zone.

But the heady plays that brought SU back became brain freezes in the last minute, costing the Orangemen a league victory away from the Carrier Dome.
Blackwe fought back hard, and got key turnovers. But they did a good job in transition, and we didn't get back well.'

\title{
Mon Feb 21 - Thur 24 Mon Feb 28 - Thur Mar 2
}

Last time this semester that photos will be taken! Upper Lobby of the Schine Student
\[
\begin{gathered} \text { Center, } \\
\text { 11AM - 3PM } \\
\text { 4PM - 7PM }
\end{gathered}
\]

\title{
Call 1-800-969-1337 for
}
an appointment, and to avoid the long lines.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{EDUCATION}
continued from page 15
conform to less academic peers.

\section*{New assignment}

Debates on education reform have elicited attention rom the national media and the political arena, becoming staple in every major pres dential campaign.

In particular, Arizona Sen. John McCain the Re publican hopeful, has made ducation reform a stepping tone on his road to the White House.
"The nation's education system is failing our children," according to McCain's campaign Web site, www.McGain2000. "American stu dents trail those of other countries in the skills of the future, including math, science and physics.
Forty percent of American fourth graders are illiterate, compared to 40 million reads

The 1996 National Education Reform Acthas set the nation's standards for year 2000. The federal law has established four specific goals for educators, including mandating teachers to have access to continuing development programs and encour aging teachers to develop more challenging teaching strategies.

Under the Act, school districts will create integrat ed curriculums and support further curriculum development while forging partnerships with communities and parents

Bossert said he feels strongly that the law should make significant improve ments on current education, but adds that the decrepit physical state of school buildings has the potential to impede teacher's efforts.

Many urban chool buildings cannot handle the fux of students," he said. "This pending bill will make it easier for communities to help pay for new buildings without having outrageous property tax increases.

\section*{Eastern competition}

For the past decade, Asian students have been out-performing their American counterparts in the classroom. A recent cross-national study conducted by psychologists Harold Stephenson and James Stigler compared test scores of students from both Asian and American chools
U.S. students exhibited a significantly higher self evaluation of their academic prowess than their foreign peers, Stephenson and Stigler reported in the study They combined a lousy per formance with a high sense of self-esteem.

According to the study one root of a child's failure to succeed in school stems from an overabundance of self-es teem. Certain programs and nitiatives that schools us to boost a child's ego may deract from the education pur pose, the study reported.

As a result, children may feel that they do not need a solid education in order to succeed later in life.

While teachers in the United States are focused on building a child's self-esteem teachers in Asia are more concentrated on strengthen ing a child's reasoning skills, the study reported. In turn, Asian students build self-esteem, not from the prodding of educators, but from actualy seeing the products of their work.
"Schools in Japan spend 30 to 40 percent longer in the classroom," Bossert said. It's a matter of time on task and more exposure to learning."

He added that the education system in countries like Japan do nöt make education available to everyone.
"Schools in Japan have a stratified system that leaves ome students with restricted access to higher learn ng," Bossert said. "No other country tries to educate all of their citizens like the United States."

\section*{PIAZZA}
continued from page 15 and downright threatening. Most noteworthy in this sec tion is "Yeke Yeke" by Mory Kante, an extremely catchy dance song punctuated by much more aggressive native chants.

Woozy," by Faithless, is a surreal, eight-minute marathon. The tempo goes from fast, to slow and back to fast again. This change, coupled with the echoed, distorted lyrics in the background, gives the song a very unsettling tone that will leave most listeners (appropriately) woozy. Barry Adamson's track, "Richard, It's Business as Usual," featuring DiCaprio's voice distorted to fit the song, is like a musical "Heart of Darkness.

More "Heart of Darkness" imagery pervades the next song, "Brutal" by New Order. "I'm a shallow man, in a hollow land," the lead singer muses. Sounding like an updated Depeche Mode, the song is fitting of the darls denouement of the soundtrack.
The last song of the album's dark section is "Lonely Soul," performed by UNKLE. The arrangement is more traditional guitar and drums, but the conclusion is completely orchestral. The nine-minute song is reminiscent of The Doors classic "The End," which was coincidentally used in the film "Apocalypse Now," which was based on the novel Heart of Darkness. Coincidence? I think not.
If Left.field's

If Leftifield's
"Snakeblood" was the album's prologue, Angela Balamenti & OrbitaI's track "Beached" is its epilogue. Sounding like Baz Luhrmann's "Everyone's Free (To Wear Sunscreen)' but not nearly as ridiculous, DiCaprio waxes poetic about the experience of the film over a catchy background beat. "Never refuse an invi tation," he says, "and if it hurts, you know what, it's probably worth it."

Unlike most soundtracks, which are either instrumental scores or shameless marketing ploys to make more money off a film, "The Beach" is an absorbing and cohesive musi cal experience. The songs all work together to convey the joys, dangers and ultimate pitfalls of greed and temptaion. As DiCaprio says, just keep your mind open and suck in the experience, and if you do, it will be more than worth it. My Grade: A

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc} Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors
Best Prices
Guarenteed Work
Mon. Thur Fit
9:30-5:30
Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and tele phone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{When in Hell...}
By Eric Jones
WEAH
HOW YOU
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Out of Town}
by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

No Point
by Ethan Schmidt

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

\section*{Eat the Lettuce}

CROSSWORD
By THOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS 46 Telegrarm 1 One with gilt DOWN teelings? 1 Rivera
6 Actor paintings
Eastwood 2 Stressed
11 Practical type
12 Esteern 3 PC one
14 Bracelet
4 Heady
15 Boxing 5 Some great Euro
16 Toronto Euro
18 Ignited
18 Brited bit
20 Print
21 Con
23 Church
5 Groups
27 Grammy category
28 Throw out
30 Rotten event
34 Collar
36 Fury wardrobe
39 Oui
opposer
40 Bouquet
41 Water
3 " \(^{\mathrm{M}^{} \mathrm{~A}^{} \mathrm{~S}^{*} \mathrm{H}^{n}}\) setting
44 Portiy
45 Unforeseen problems

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style Classic
by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{NOTICE}
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word
\(5 ¢\) extra each bold word
54 extra each CAP word

 ALSAREA Do maied with check to: The Daty Orange: 744 Otstram Avenue

\section*{Notices}
Wectiec.an Wants You The Incorer's Most

 owwweweclie com

Camp Counselors Top Owernight Camps in Pocono Mtns. Over 40 actwities. seeking specialion counselors i.
www. pinelotestcamp.com \(-533-c a m p\) Record label/intemet company seeking interns. duruors or below pretered. Call 606-385-9065 or send email to jasone hellorecords. com
"You live in North Jersey, love sunshine, wam heaver, kiss: would like to meet new friends and THE JOB FOR YOU COUNSELORS and SPECIALISTS -Large Symmer day camp, Mon-Fn, 8 wh season, Mornis Cotinty, NJ. Openings tor
General group counsellots, watertont & Boating

\section*{Job Opportunities}
Nomp Poymleile seens counselors lor co-ed
3 thouss from NYC-General, Sports, Drama, 120 8 Ats. \(1-800-973-3689\) Summers epayntelie.com or www. poymele.com
Service Tech. Eicycle +Liwnmower Assembly

\section*{WANTED}
Help Wanted
Sxpon weekly polentaat nailing our cricutars. No 202-452-7679.

\section*{FOR RENT}
Jniversity Ave Five bedtoon House one block from Marshall Sireet fumistied laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus uthities D.N.Drucker 445.1229

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom. completely fumished House with front and rear pors front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kttchen W/DISHWASHER and KHtchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building.
CALI \(430-5188\)
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
 University Ave Three Bedroom Fat Close Wall to Campus furmished laundry pazking lease 5875.00 plus utilues D.N.Drucker 445-12289 Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Fumished 4 Eedroons. OaklandSL, telock ESF, 3Btock Law \(\rightarrow\) Hospyitals, turnisheid, parking, Caundry, porches, Excellent condition, August, 475-0690
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 3 EEDROOMS
6 EEDROOMS
S20 per month
fiteplace. dish washer
2 car gage
Iree laundry faeilites in basement
Call Donna \(449-4621\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
some 9 month leases
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Ackernan Beautiful Large Fumished Flats
Houses. 2.3.4.5.6 Bedrooms. Porches. Firepiaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK 446-3420

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom} Homes /
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Eucild Ave
\({ }_{917}\) Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Piace
Available lor 2000-2001
Fulty Furnished, Laundry Parking. Fuli Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Harcwood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

For Rent: House & 3 bdim flats \($ $ 250\) - \($ 300\). Very FM Realy Group 637.5195
FM Realty Group 637.5195
University Area 2-3 Bodroom furished
Apartments Single Houses for rent. Call
Aparments Single Houses for rent. Call
Jitm \(668-7473\)
Jitn 668-7473
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
APACOUTMENTS
 476-9933

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS
302 Marshan St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
319 Euclid Ave 145 Avondale Place

Available for 2000-2001
Fuly Furnished uly Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Floors

University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www. universityarea.com
Ackerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 Begroom apts. Furnished. carpeted, walk to campus. Well maintained.
\(5 / 00-501\) lease 445.7200
University and Comstock Very close to Campus
Efficiencies and Two Bedrooms Socure bide furnienched laundry parking 5375.00 to 5700.00 jut Inclutes Al Utilities 445.1229 D.N. Drucker Lto.

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

Sate & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details

Apartments

\section*{}

204 Ostrom Elticieney One and 2Bedroom Secure Bidg Laundry Parking Very Clean ABedroms fumished flat whin all utilites inclucted! One block tom campus near Law School + ESF. 2 tuil bathrooms, carpet, launcry, parking. Available Mayor August. \($ 305\) per pertorn. 477-1574
Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom that. fumished. stove, refing. fauntryy, fireplace. garage.
Avail June 1 st 446 -4229 Aval Jane ist 446-4229
One Eedroont Aparments Close to Campus, utilities included, Oax tloors, lire place, lurnished, parking, very clean, laundry Call Gordon \(476-2962\),

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents 302 Marshall St.
 479-5005

\footnotetext{
1 Bedroom Fumishied Unturnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry available. OH Street
}

\section*{O.P.R. Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

\section*{SHERBROOKE} APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Rents start at \($ 275\). Refinished hardwood noors. Wail to wall carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Femodeled kitchens an baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry arking. 24 hour maintenance.
www_universityarea.com University Area Apts 479-5005
Two Bedroom Apartments
With utlities Included, Freplace, Funished, Hatwood Fioos and Carpeting, Pantry Porch, Lsundry, Parking,
close to Campus. Call Gordon
\(476-2982\)

2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large fooms Hardwood Floors Avail June or Rug 446-5186

\section*{APARTMENTS \\ CLOSE TO CAMPUS \\ \(1,2,3,4\) Bodroom Apartments
Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excelle Condition, Furnished, Some Exellent Four Bedroom on Atkerman, Fummished.
Dishwasher, Two Porches, oft streel Parking Laundy, Carpel. Hard \\ UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avall June, July + Aug

445-0540

\section*{One Bedroom Apartments, \\ some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, fumished, taundry, quiet buiding. close to campus, taundry, quiel buidding, close to campus, utilities inctuded 476-2982}

\section*{One and Two Bectroom}

Harrished Apartments. Comer of Wahut and Hences. Leases Commenca tune 2000

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS,

> 1011 E.Adams 509 University

Carpeted, Air Conditioned.
Carpeted, Air Conditioned.
Furnlshed, Secure, Laundry, Parking,
University Area Apts.
www.unlversityarea.com Large 3 bedroorn. 2 full bath. Walking dislanc
S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call 422.7305 . Furnished 2-5bedroom Houses Apartments Livingsion. Sumner, Ackemman. Euctic 469-6665 1.2,3,4 85 Bdim Aparments, Mouses+ Studios Clean, Spacious, Supenor Condition, scme parking 474-6791

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom
apartments.
Wall to wall carpet
Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alamms.
new rents for modruction.
low utilities
University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Available mid August 3 bedroom tlat very near Esf on OaklandSt. fumsthed or unfumished option. Livingroom with fireplace, diningroom, ne Summer Special, Nexty remodeled 4 betrom flat One block trom campus. All utilties inctivded \($ 225.00\) per person 2 full bathrooms, washer, dryer, parking. porch.
Avaiabre \(5 / 21-8178\)
Available 5/21-8/17 472-8613
\begin{tabular}{|c}
\begin{tabular}{c}
Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01
\end{tabular} \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PetEf s27-oos?
\end{tabular}

FOUR BEDROOM Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, \begin{tabular}{l}
H7ardwod Flioors. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1,2,3,4+5 bedioom apartments. Fumbshed, ath campus nest Iaw school + ESF. May + August availabitity. 425-2883.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline ******************** \\
\hline \multirow[t]{6}{*}{Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Janวa!}
continued from page 20 ëgtt times today. He has to ceep hia, braces clean, he ays. Cood Court where mel ood to thes SGA office in the Schino student Center the finallytoricarrier Dom prest conference whore met ard swaped busines cards with Gov. George Pata ki.

After the meeting with Elmore, James tapes his dents to be nired on Univer sity Uniontelevision. Amone the issuesiraised are getting the North-south campus bus es tö rundater, getting a 24 hoursatury y lounge and bringag morefoncerts to the Dome rou see all these concer tours going to Albany or Buffalo why arent they stop ping inereminstead? he asks rhetorically. "There's no reason we fhouldn't be having one major concert a week. And thatis what Im gonna talk'tollou about. in Lou is Louis Marcoccia, SUs.Vice, President for Busi nessifinancisi and Adminis rative Setvices. He s.atal man who cresses conserva tively and speaks with cau tion, perfectly contrasting the -foot-4 black, gay SGA pres dent who wears earrings and has bleached-blonde hair

James quickly launches
into a speech about bringing doing tangible things befor making his case on the issue of Dome concerts. But Mar coccia said that there are not bring touring groups that can Dome to justify the cost. You can feel James' heart sink.

Basically, he just gave me a lot of B.S.," James say while standing in line at the Goldstein Student Center's food court. "So now I have to do their job for thern. I have to go and find these tours and show them that they want to come to the Dome.

TV, an ad comes otching MTV, an ad comes on for an upeoming concert tour. As the dates scroll by, James points and says, "Look, Albany."

\section*{Strange beginnings}

James was a member of the Black Box Players when he attended his first SGA As: sembly meeting a year ago. Jen Dao, SGA's public rela. tions director, had invited representatives from Black Box to come to meetings as a way for the two organiza tions to get to know each oth er, 持保es was unimpressed.

There were so many altercations," he said. "It was like a soap opera.
nstead of walking away though, James decided to join. Pretty soon, he had colled to the 50 signatures needmid mid-session.

\section*{\([\) ClaSSifieds \(]\) Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}
ineffective," he said. "I felt like they weren't working hard enough to do things for the students.

Last fall, still unhappy with the way things were going, James decided to run for president.
he said "At to see if I'd win," he said. "And then (when I nfluence, that pople isten to me \({ }^{n}\) people like to James d wames decorated his ofce with over a dozen Broadway show posters, including Rent, Miss Saigon and graduation, he wants to go to New York City and become a casting director, adding that he had never considered a career in politics.

You ask me that a year ago, I'd say hell no," he said. Now, id say anything's possible. I think if I wanted to do it, I could do it.

LANCASTER AVENUE
18 3 Bedroom Apariments
Outsanicing Conctivion
Fully Fumished
Call Anne Cervini
\(424-0220 \times 428\)

Best Buy on Harrisonst. Clean Quiet Onebedroom and studio June lease. Furnished Urilities inctuded, 472-5908.

Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance
S.U. off street parking University 283 Bedroon TownHouses & Flats. Fireplace., inished basement, Call 449.0109 . Ackerman fumished spacious two BdRm oll stree parking laundry lacilities udilities inct \(446-8576\) Clean quiet 2-bedroom two blocks trom SW hospilals. Fumished. Al ulitities paid. 472-590 June 1 lease.

Houses
(5) Bedroom House

721 Ostrom Ave
otr atreet partifing sataring ess335 persan
(t) 446 -3693

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Clayencon SL, 4-bedroom, free Washer, dryet,

 Bectoons, Fireplace, across from Womens Eito 6 Avail 5720 475-1012, (843)514.3881

Spacibus six bedroom. Fumished House.
widishwasher nad six large bedroons and TWO
garace, Washer and dyet in buiding
CALi. \(430-5188\) atter 1:00pm
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} & Travel \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
SPRING EREAK - GRAD WEEK \\
$75 & Up Per Person www, retrealmyrlebeach.com 1-600-645-3618
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Large Studio apartment, very nice, one block from campus on Clarendansl Lots of room, quet. partially furmished. \(5475 / \mathrm{mop}\) plus utilities. \\
June-June lease. Call 423-0030
\end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l}
SPRING BREAK 2000 \\
CANCUN*JAMAICA"NASSAU \\
Space is limited \\
CALL TODAY!!!
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Large Single Family fumished house. Parking. fireplace, tree laundry, distwasher, mature lenants 582-3304 & \begin{tabular}{l} 800-293-1443 \\
www.StudentCity.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\[
682-3304
\]
mor

SERVICES

Spring Break Specials! Eahamas Party Cruisel 5 Nignts \($ 279!\) Incluces Meals! Awesome Beaches Nightile! Depars From Flonda! Panama City Free Drinks \($ 1291\) Daytona Room With Kitche \($ 1491\) South Beach (Bars Open Untl 5 aml) S 15 COCDa Beach (Near Disney) S179!

\section*{ \\ EARLY YiRO Discount Eupaession

 \(\frac{\text { www.aimich. org }}{\text { FOUND }}\) \\ Spring Break 2000 \\ samploa, Cancenn. Flicrida
Bartados, Bahimas
}

Found: A scart. Tuescay alker 5PM in parkng lot behind Steele Hall Call 45y-1116

\section*{MISC.}
- NOTE FROM TME DALY ORANGE:
 isme, toin in ily trane coes son ive to spansibiny lor any misconduct essulting tact between yoursetf and advertiser.
springbreaktravel com 1-800-678-6386

\section*{}
 00-293-1443!
www.StudentCity.com

\section*{Right stuff}

It's 3:30 in the afternoon, and James is sitting in Chan ellor Kenneth A. Shaw's plush outer office waiting to be called inside. After going addre issues he wants to addiress, James decides to fo area He 24-hour study ue has tenown that theil ofore he said but this does n't stop him from trying.

I have a different ap proach," he told both Eimore and Marcoccia. of person that whatever I do.

In the meeting, Shaw en couraged James to do a re rate and the costs involved but later said that every time the study area proposal has been tried in the past, not many students have made use of it - end of discussion, But James hasn't given up yet. The test of his presi-

Jamal James SGA President Junior Musical theater Bloomfield, Conn. Kimmel Food Court and S, Shoppingtown Mall

Ind issues that \(S G A\) can and should influence and whether or not he vill have the stamina to ro up arainst administrative inertia and get things done. Hemes believes he Hebelieves that his personal charisma is nough to put the student government's tradition of ritualized futility behind it.
ames \(4: 30\) p.m., and ging. The lack of coffee seems to be catching up with him, and he cancels the 5 p.m. cabinet meeting at Faegan's Cafe and Pub.
"I feel like ass," he says, even though there isn't much to discuss. Even the seeming-ly-tireless "Defender of the Students" needs to go home and take a nap

James has clearly earned some rest, having worked almost non-stop all veek on campus and has ton still get up on Saturday to go to his Job at TGi Friday's. But James will imely not give timself much of a break. He talked of going out to his raplace to be. place to be says, "I could tale what? he says, get up and watch two movies, still have enough left to go to Trexx."

I

\section*{Trexx, 323 N. Clinton St. y ano become a casting director \\ Favorite nightclub:}

\section*{[personalities]}

\section*{The \\ President \\ A day in the life of SGA president Jamal james}

TUESDAY
February 22, 2000

briefs.
cornics.......... 13
ifestyle........... 9
voume xux Number so Syracuse. New York 20008

\section*{WeirdSCIENCE}

A look at the center for Really Neat Research See Lifestyle.

\section*{Nation's Best}

SU thrower owns NCAAbest shot put toss.
See Sports.

Signing bonus

\section*{- Student Government}

\title{
Assembly prepares Campaign \\ TIFFANY LANKES
}

Asst. News Exitor
Members of the Student Government Association Asscmbly will visit dining halls next month as part of their Spring 2000 Campaign.

The campaign is an effort to increase student awareness of the organization, said Edwin Escobar, SGA director of public relations.

The program will begin at 5 p.m. March 2 at Brockway Dining Center ing Center, said Jamal James, SGA ing Center

It's going to be very informal," said James, a junior musical theater major. "I myself will be going around just chatting with the students. We're looking for people to converse with us."
SGA representatives will distribute brochures explaining topies including the Student Activity Fee, the Syracuse University Judicial Code and the University senate. Assemblymembers win also be giving coupons and Orange Wave towels, James said.

Students will also have an opportunity to write their concerns and suggestions for SGA on an easel board, James said.
we.rey can see on the board what we're doing for them," he said. "If they don't come to us, well corne to them."

The campaign also aims to encourage student involvement on cam pus, fimes have seen a decline in en-

New proposal rekindles student smoking debate BY STEPHANIE SIL.VER Staff Writer

The Student Government Association reported Monday support a new proposal fro Syracuse University Office of Residence Life to ban smoking in the vicinity of all North Campus residence halls.

The proposal would estab. lish a now-smoking area five feet around all the halls, said Jonathan Eisenmann, presisociation. Smoking is already. restricted inside all North Cad pus residence halls berianing in the 2000 Fall Semester
What are they going to do, puta y yellow tape around the building with some bayonettes to prevent students from smoking within the designatod area, said Chris Greiner, SGA comp said Chris Greiner, SGA comp troller.

The proposal is to preveat second-hand smoke from reachthe hret foors, Eisennaman said the fret hoors, fisenkann said. vere a policy as the alcohol pol icy, he said But there rieeds , See SMOKING page 6.

\section*{Family, friends begin services for ESF student}

\section*{Steff Reports}

The family of a State University or New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry atudent who died Friday will give a funeral service at 10 an.m. today at the Morrisville Community Church on Cedar Street, Morrisville.

Curtis Gerbig, a fourth-year forest biology and resource managernent major, shot himself following a car acsource managernent major, shot himself following a car accident Friday afternoon at the intersection of Route 5 and New York state Route 90 .
Gerbig, a Clifton Springe native, would have graduated in December.

When a young person is taken from the community, everyone slows down and thinks serious thoughts,", naid James Hefferman, vice president of student affairs at ESF. It changes the climate on campus."

Heffernan presented Gerbig'a family with a certif: cate of recognition Monday night, for Curtis Gerbig, noting that he was a degree candidate in good standing.

Hefigruan, who was notified by the Syracuse Univer
See ESF page 7

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{Syracuse argues new sewage facility}

\section*{BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS \\ Staff Writer}

Syracuse Common Councilors and environmentally-conscious students are concerned about a proposed sewage treatment facility on Midiand Arenue, leaders from both groups said.
The Council will meet Wadnesday night to discuss fhe facility, which is part of Onondaga County's plan to clean Onondaga Council president.

Members of the Student Environmental Action Coalition will attend the Council's meeting, anid Kelly Nagy, SEAC chairwoman.

SEAC believes there are logistical problems with the proposed treatment facility, Nagy
said.
issuen's an environmental juatice issue," she said. "Community property will be degtroyed. SEAC members in addition to SEAC members, are not sure whether the facility is necessary. dy the biggest problem in this dy the biggest problem in this region?" Driscoll asked. "I don't know yet."

The proposal isa henvy water fis a result of the crates around SU and from other parts of the city that cause seware parts of the city that cause sewage backups in the city. Between 50 and 60 times a year larg amounts of rainfall and melted anow are divertedinto nearby Onondaga Creek to prevent the backups - but only after mixing with the human excrement tha also runs through the sewers. Onondaga County would Iike to to construct the facility within an area bordered by Oxford Avenue and Cortland Avenue.

Although the construction of the facility is a debate in itself, the more pressing issue to be discussed is its proposed location, Nagy said.

The facility should not be built in a residential community. added Nagy, a senior environmental studies and biology major mental studies and biology major York College of Environment Science and Forestry.

Nagy said she wondered what influenced the county's proposal to build the facility on Midland

See SEWAGE page 6

[briefs]

\section*{tidbits}

Allegations of past abuse disgrace Fox LOS ANGELES - In less than a week, Fox's Who Wants To Marty A Multi-Millionaire" has been transformed from embarrassment for the Los Andelesbased netare scrambling to explain are scrambing to explain heir failure to uncover friend had obtained a friend had obtained a "groom" Rick Reciwell.

Fox moved quickly to ancel Tuesday night's rebmadcast of the show watched by 23 million viewers last week

The firestorm facing Fox is already sending a chill throughout an indus try that has increasingly turned to so-calied reality programming to fill prime time schedules
Newt Arnold, writer and director, dies LOS ANGELES Newt Arnold, director and winner of the Directors Guild of America award for his work as first assis tant director of the motion picture *The Godfather Part II," has died of leukemia.
Arrold, who would have been 73 on Feb. 22, died Feb. 12 at his home in Los Angeles, said his wife, Jucly. The filmmaker's career spanned 45 years and included acting in the 1983 firm "Table for Five," witing for television's "Bonaanza" and other productions, and lirecting motion pictures television movies, minis Ferret fan jailed for illegal ownership of San Diego, for an inc of San Diego, for an incident that began with his Mustela presius of a Mustela putorius furo, a common feret.

OTAY MESA, Calif. Patrick Wright, 41, was incarcerated at the George F. Bailey Detention Facility, south
After being comvicted and threatening a police door to seize the ferret Writht was sentenced to 45 days in jail which he began serving Feb. 8. wright said the onty Wright said the on scary morremt carne with other recent anivals about the crimes that led to their imprisonment. Bunglary, said one. Drunken driving, said another. Owning a ferret, said Wright.

One of the other inmates took offense at this remark, accusing Wright of making a bad joke and showing disrespect.

Luckily, his fellow prisoners decided that the grayingat-thetemples technician probably was telling the trith.

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{China threatens Taiwan}

BEIJING - China warned Monday it will use military force against Taiwan if the island's leaders indefinitely delay negotiations on reunification with the mainland, adding a new element of tension to East Asia's most volatile standoff.

The ultimatum significantly broadened China's long standing threat to invade the island under ously had said it would take Taiously had said it would take Taiwandence or is occupied by a forpeng power. Now an unspecified delay in reunification talks has been added to the list.
The warning was issued in an official white paper from the State Council, the highest organ of China's government. One of an irregular series of policy statements, it came just one month from presidential elections in Taiwan, which split off from China after the 1949 civil war that brought Mao Zedong and e Communist Party to power.

At the same time it issued the warning, the white paper fied in attacking Taiwan if the United States continues arms sales to the island, whose political system is becoming more democratic, or if Taiwan revises its the "one China" principle.

The new warnings from Beijing seemed likely to increase support in the U.S. Congress for ment Act, which calls for inment Act, which calls for inthe U.S. and Taiwanese armed forces, and for suggestions by forces, and for suggestions by states endow Taiwan with a missile defense system.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton promotes patient safety \\ Police union seeks probe}

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton will propose Tuesday that all medical errors in hospitals that result in death or serious injury be publicly reported as part of a mandatory national error prevention system, White House sources said Monday

The recommendation, which is controversial among health care providers, is contained in a wide ranging administration initiative 98,000 hospital deaths caused each year by medical mistakes.
The plan also calls for creation of a new federal office to research of a new federal ofien tote research and promote "patient safety, for errors caused by similar-sounding prescription drug names, and for legislation that would allow hospi tals and doctors to investigate their errors without fearing that the in formation would later be used in malpractice suits against them.

While acknowledging some opposition to mandatory reporting was likely, he said the White House was confident the proposals would be popular among consumers, many health providers and businesses that pay for health care.

LOS ANGELES - In an unprecedented move, the union representing Los Angeles police officers called Monday for an independent review of the ongoing poce corruption probe.

The Los Angeles Police Protective League, which represents about 9,500 officers, joins a growing number of groups and officials calling for an independent review frongains withe department's Rampart station.

At least 11 officers have been relieved of duty, and 40 convictions have been overturned as a result of the scandal. The police erties Union of Southern California erties Union of Southern California day by City Councilman Joel Wachs seeking an independent investigation.

The union also has asked Uniersity of Southern California law professor Erwin Chemeringky to nquiry report on the scandal. The board, which was convened by Chief Bernard Parks, is due to release its report March 1.

The widening scandal could affect city services as the lawsuits continue to mount.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Russia celebrates Chechnya victory}

MOSCOW - Russia's lead ers declared victory in the war in Chechnya Monday, celebrating with a military parade and promoting the commanders who spearheaded the bloody conflict, a fighting against separatist guerril las continued Defense Minister Igor Sergeyev, presiding over a cere mony at che north oid that Chechen capital \(n\) al nal phase of the military opera "is another success." The conflict, wh

The conflict, which broke out thousands of deaths as Russian troops pummeled the rebels with heavy artillery and waged a street-by-street battle for Grozny which most of the capital in ruins by Acting president Vladimir Putin vowed anew to achieve the total liberation" of Chechnya and said the fight had saved Russia from collapse.

\section*{NATO troops}

\section*{tear-gas crowd}

KOSOVSKA MITROVICA, Yugoslavia - As Serbs cheered to artionalist songs on their side of led a surging crowd of about 70,000 ethnic Aibanians marchers with teargas on Monday to prevent

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

The SU Investment Club meets at 7 p.m. in the School of Management, Room 003. Al ajars are welcome.

EU alumnus and sculpor Patrick Morelli speaks at .m. in Sims Hall, Room 219 Jr. Library's Black History Month Lecture and Slide Presentation.
- Cazenovia College professor and author John Robert Greene speaks at 7 p.m. in Colenarding "The Implications of Recent Presidential Primary Elections." Cazenovia College s located at 22 Sullivan St. Cazenovia.
- Painter Gelsy Verna rom the University of Iowa speaks at 7:30 p.m. in the Shafer Art Building, Room 121. The speech is part of the College of Visual and Performing Arts Visiting Artist and Speakers Program.

Wavajo native Sunny Dooley presents An Evening of Navajo Storytelling at 7:30 p.m. in Eggers, Room 220.

DThe SU Outing Club meets from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 214

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- The University Senate hosts an open forum at \(4: 15\) p.in. in Maxwell Auditorium
- Sportscaster and SU alumnus Dick Stockton speaks rom 3 to 4:30 p.m. in the

C Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President Bill Clinton, and Bruce Lindsey, assistant counsel to the president, speak from 3 to 5 p.m. in dent, speak from 3 to 5 p.m. in garding their experiences as the president's lawyers and advispresidents lawyers and advisMills will also speak earlier at 1:15 p.m. in the Bartlett•Room of Newhouse II regarding her position at Oxygen Media.

Alpha Phi Omega sorority accepts \($ 2\) donations for Sadie Hawking Day carnations. The flowers can be purchas.m. and will be delivered on Feb. 29.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news departmentrat 443 2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at accepted via e-mail news@dailyorange.com.
[d.o.]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed Orange Cow with rhe firs five copies complemencary and each additional copy coses \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Bugement } & 443-9798 \\ \text { Business } & 443-2314\end{array}\)
News 443-2127
Lifestyle 443-2128
Sports 443-2208
Photography \(443-9795\)
Art 443-5938
E-mail editorialodailyorange.com
a potential blood bath.
Ethnic Albanian protesters marched about 25 miles from tal, to press demands for an end to the division of Mitrovica which they see as part of an attempt to partition Kosovo.

Violence erupted Monday Kosovo's central Drenica region the birthplace of the separatist Kosovo Liberation Army, broke through a cordon of NATO ar mored vehicles and barbed wire.

They tried to storm across the bridge to confront a crowd of some 4,000 waiting Serbs, but were repeatedly driven back with volleys of tear gas. Trouble continued after the 6 p.m. nightly curfispersed.

\section*{EM.TV to buy Henson Co.}

LOS ANGELES - Jim Henson Co., home to such popular family entertainment franchises as the Muppets and the "Bear in the Big Blue House" television show, has agreed to be sold for \($ 680 \mathrm{mil}\) lion in cash and stock to Germany's EM.TV & Merchandising, the companies announced Monday. companies announced Monday

EM, a fast-growing publicly held media company, has been looking to enter the U.S. market and has been seeking sources of children's programming for its Despite the a able and well-known Mits lov-

\section*{Senate establishes conference fund}

BY NICK SERRANO
StaH Writer
The Graduate Student Orga nization helped pay travel ex penses for 28 graduate student presenting papers, givimg speech es and aitting on panels at acade. mic conferences across the country earlier this month.
"It's critical," said Elizabeth Skewes, co-chairwoman of the GSO Finance Committee and mass-communications graduate student. "You have to be able to present papers and go to confer eaces. I'm in Newhouse and they help pay our way there for con ferences. Graduate students in some of the other departments aren't as lucky."

In the first month of the fund's existence, GSO received 33 requests for funding. GSO gave \($ 90\) to 17 graduate stu dents, \($ 42\) to 11 students and refused funding to four students Who submitted incomplete appli GSO s, said Francine Carter wrote two applications she added opplications, she ded.

Afer months of debate about the issue, the Senate voted Jan 27 to spend \($ 6,000\) of its roll-over funds to pay for the conference fund. The fund, proposed by the Finance Commitiee, allows grad cute students to apply for travel funds for conferences and re GSO sets aside \($ 1,200\) each month for the next fiscal year for the expenses.

Graduate students applying for money must submit an application to the Finance Committe by the first of each month, said Carter, a chemistry graduate student

Students must submit appli cation information including the amount of money needed, how the money will be used, the location of me colation from a person famil iar with the applicantis work and additional personal data, Carte naditio said. d.

Applications camnot exceed \($ 400\) per person, per conference and also must show that applicant sought other funding options, she said.

We see that people look for outside funding," Carter said "We hope you would look for other channels for money. We see that they try to get funding from other avenues, too. We want to help you out in some way.

The Finance Committee reviews each request and presents a suggested amount of funding : the GSO Senate. The Senate then votes on the final amount, Carter said.

Graduate students can reapply the following month if their application is rejected, said Trent nance Committee.

GSO spent \($ 2,000\) on graduate student requests for travel funds in February, and will spend the same amount on requests in March and April, Skewes said.

GSO will decide April 20 uring its final meeting of the during its final meeting of the year, whether to make the travel fund a part of the regular budget, said Sutton, a graduate student in public administration.
"It's my understanding that right now we have a fair amount of roll-over funds," Skewes said. I'd rather see that for things like this pilot program."

The GSO Exccutive Board recently contacted graduate departments to let them know the fund was available to their students and asked each senator to post information about the fund onid sehools listser. Sutton said.

We had a very large number of people apply," Sutton said. word got out. We didn't know what to expect. We did our best to get it out as much as possible."

More graduate students are More graduate students are ely to apply for travel fundine likely to apply for travel funding round of applications is complete. Sutton said.

We've been able to assist at east 23 people this month," Sut on said. "For us it's exciting to do that."
"New and Innovative Areas of Technology" Discussion Presented by ECS Faculty and Students MONDAY, FEBRUARY \(21^{5 T} \sim 6\) p.m.
"Motorola Salutes National Engineers Week 2000"
Discussion Presented by Motorola
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY \(22^{\text {ND }} \sim 5: 30\) p.m.

"Why Work?"
Discussion Presented by IBM
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY \(23^{R D} \sim 5\) p.m.

Presented By Joint Effort of the ECS Student Societies
Jeopardy: "Techie" Style
Student Competition
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY \(24^{T H} \sim 6\) p.m.

\section*{"Who Wants To Be a Competitor?" \\ Student Competition \\ FRIDAY, FEBRUARY \(25^{\text {TH }} \sim 6\) p.m.}

\section*{All Members of the SU Community Welcome}

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximurn 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{AAS considers department chairperson applicants}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

The search for a new chairperson for Syracuse University's African-American Studies department continues today with a lec

Carty is an associate professor of sociology and co-chairwoman of the Women and Gender Program at the University of Michigan in Flint. She will deliver a lecture at \(6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Bird Library, Room 1916, regarding the migration and dislocation of Caribbean domestic workers.

A search committee comprised of full-time department faculty, two SU students and two faulty members from outside the department are looking for a replacement for former defor a replacement for former department chairman Bruce Hare, dean of The College of Arts and Sciences.

Hare serves as a co-chairman of the search committee, along with Janice Mayes, an associate professor of AfricanAmerican Studies. Neither could be reached for comment.

The committee has recently hosted two speeches by potential applicants. Two more candidates, including Carty, will seak at SU in the coming wecks said Deborah Banks, a department administrative asistant.

Thau is now the interim chairman of the department.

The permanent position has been vacant for the past four years, Banks said

Many departments, not just African-American Studies, have leadership from outside the department, Thau said consenause we couldn't reach a inside ternal search

The search committee nationally announced the position's vacancy to attract applicants. Committee members also traveled to solicit potential candidates, Thau said.

The committee sought applicants not only at colleges and universities, but also at general places, such as education-oriented societies, Thau said.

When evaluating the appicants, the committee examines depth of scholarly work, refer ences, administrative capabili ties and the candidates' direct interest in African-American studies, Banks said.

But a scholarly focus on African-American studies is not necessarily a requirement for the position, she added.
"The department is multidisciplined," Banks said. "Each of the professors have disciplines in different areas - sociology, history, literature and so forth - but their focus is on African-Americans."

Thau said the multi-disciphinary nature of the departseek applicants from academic fields not generally associated with African-Arnerican studies. ormittee was not necoss arily looking for the best sch olar inaparticular discipline, but examined other qualities not related to academics, be added.
sides." Th rooking on two you-rilonau said. On one side, you"re looking for people who are good scholats, people who are involved in African-American stucies

But the committee also warets a chairperson with good leadership qualities, headded. not the best leaders" not the besteaders, Thau saia. iook for pod leaderg you look for good leaders and good scholars."

\section*{SGA}
contimued from page 1
rollment during the past year, he added.

James said he is hopeful the program will be an effective rethe 50 the 50 total seats in the Assem-

\section*{bly are filled, he added.}

There are 18 wonderful people on that I totally adore" James said. "What we'd like to see is more diversity on the Assembly though."

SGA should be a forum for would to to express needs that live and learn, James said. He said he has tried during his presidency to establish a student government that is avail. able to respond to these needs. When I ran for president, one of my ideas was that Assembly meetings would be a checkback point," James said. "We're in a very good place now where dealing with them at the same time."

\section*{In other SGA news:}

After meeting with SU Public Safety Director Robert Robinson, James reported that Robinson, James reported that students need to become more inJames said that if students reported concerns such as open doors and broken locks, incidents such as burglaries in the Booth Hall Garage may have been prevented.

Five cars parked in the garage have reportedly been broken into since the beginning of the 2000 Spring Semester.

The burglaries can be attributed to a number of reasons in cluding the garage door being left open and the tendency of students to leave compact dises and the faces of stereos in cars, Public Safety said.
"It is not just one man's job," James said. "Everyone has to do their part."
- Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor proposed an increase of the Student Activity Fee for the 2001-2002 academic year

In order to continue offering funding for student organization programs, SGA needs to increase dent Fee budget, said The Student Fee budget, said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture student.
to the exprease would be relat ed to the expected tuition increase that year, he added.
"By raising the fee, we're ac tuafly making it more comparable to other colleges whose fees range from \($ 200\) to \($ 400\) " T Telor rang Each student is charged an annual Student Fee to fund campus activities. The fee for the \(1999-2000\) aca demic year was \($ 114\).
- Assemblyman Adam Duffy, a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, anzo ounced he will bemeeting with Dave George, director of SU food services, to discuss student dininghall concerns.
"He"s willing to make changes if students want them," Tayplorsaid. "Every change you malse though costs moncy. We as an Assernbly need to determine whet costs we "re willing to take responsibility for."

The Assembly al so examined isscues including the quality of food in the Sebine and Kimmel Food courts and the availability of hea Ithy food options.
\($\) The Assembly voted David Gavalin to serve as a representative in thae University Scnate.

Gaulin, an undeclared sophomoxe in The College of Arts and Sciences, is currently an Assemblyman andserves on the Ad min 10 is also meranions tee. He is also running for the \(p^{0}\) sition of assistant comptroller co where thitgity Senate is a place where thingg can get done, Gability to hear 1 copl 1 ad \(e\) an abiniti bring thesir concerns forwaxd."

open to su and esf students no equipment or experience needed web.syr.edu/-suoc
your student fee...getting you out of the city and into the outdoors!

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\title{
[editorial]
}

The Daily Orange
February 22, 2000

\section*{County should revise sewage plan}

Something smells in Syracuse. It's Onondaga County's plans for a new sewage treatment center.

A New York state mandate calls for the county to erect a sewage treatment plant in order to purify sewage runoff before it's discharged into Onondaga Lake. Preliminary plans place it in a residential section of the city. If the county fails to begin construction by May 1, it will be subjected to hefty state fines.

After decades of industrial dumping, Onondaga Lake already tops the Environmental Protection Agency's Superfund list of polluted bodies of water. But a few extra weeks of planning, which could keep dozens of low-income families from being forced out of their homes to make way for the new plant, won't do it any additional harm.

A report from the Army Corps of Engineers, scheduled for release on April 1, may present options for alternate construction sites. The Syracuse Common Council hopes to bar the county from breaking ground until other solutions are examined.

Millions of dollars are at stake regardless. The city and the county should join forces to explore all possible options before committing to a seven-year construction plan for the middle of the city.

Although the section of the city slated for construction forms a natural basin for sewage runoff, it is also a notoriously poor neighborhood.

While it might be more expensive for the county to divert polluted water to an alternative location, neighborhoods like these need all the breaks they can get. Forcing residents into the shadow of a sewage treatment plant won't provide more opportunities for unemployed parents and underprivileged children.

Syracuse children can't swim in Onondaga Lake's filthy water, but they might miss their neighborhood playgrounds if they're razed to build a sewage treatment plant.

Prioritize saving what remains, not trying to salvage what may already be lost.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Mave Leving Editor Errily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor Editorial Editor Lifestyle Edito Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Presentation Director Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst, Copy Editor
fustin Siverman Holly Auer Sapna Kollati Dave Curtis Joy Davia Acleet Deshinulk Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Laura Prabucki Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampone Corey Hann Magin McKenna Connor Ennis Joff Passan Jasf Passan
Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Tons Mation pachaol Golden Lise Ciswoll emarie Bello Ron Fooks Jin Mercadente Morchey yeer by tha actcontioy yer by Tha

\section*{opinions}

\section*{'System' renders people powerless through labels}

Stereotypes bombard my life and there's not much I can do about it

Welcome to another day as a breathing, bleeding part of the system. Instead of earning monikers, we're handed them, straight off a conveyor
This shouldn't be anything new. I should be re-open that scab on your chest, where your heart ceased to ing that scab on your chest, where your heart ceasiduence took over.

The system is everywhere. My pal Newman Hauser is a cog. He's a public relations majo from an aftiuent suburb near Boston. He's a bright kid, too - made the dean's list and everything. Too bad he lacks cormmon sense. Hell remember what the professor was rattling off in lecture, but applied knowledge well, he's on a sinking ship. Newie doesn't share my pessimistic outlook. He thrives in the sys tem, nestling up to all those big wigs he's going to work with after he gradthose wheels, he's in for a smooth trip.

\section*{ASHOK}

SELVAM

\section*{There's nothing wrong with the system in his eyes}

Then we have my friend Vili Veepeeayer. She has short, bleached-blonde hair, body piercings galore and a tattoo on her back. Some would dare to call her "alterna tive," Viki's a surface pattern design major. I'm not sure what that means exactly, but it makes her an artist. She's going places. Someday we'll see her work in the background of a TV show like "V.I.P." or on some linen resting on J.C. Penny's shelves.

But despite Viki's upsides, she's immersed in her artistic sphere and pays little attention to the outside world.
"Does ethnic cleansing have anything to with soap?
If it weren't for her true innocence - ak.a. being naive - coupled with her cute voice, Id knock her head off She's either oblivious or infinitely comfortable with the system, but then again, nothing on would dampen her spirits.
ant with him a lot freshman year We played video hames and meke the opposite sex crive played video ror - perspective is the key).
Ever since he rushed his fraternity, I only see him in passing. He spends a lot of time with his brothers. I guess we all take different paths at college. The last time I saw him was late Thursday night at Acropolis on Marshaul Street. There he was in a booth with a couple of his frat brothers, chomping away at a gyro. rothers, chomping away at a gyro "Shcoook, how ya been, kid?" ong! Great night at the bars!
He spoke slowly and deliberately, pretending I couldn't smell the stench of alcohol on his breath.

Dmitri asked how New Hampshire was. I was there for a week, hot on Arizona Sen. John McCain's presidential campaign trail. Dmitri is as Republican as his name is Greek.
"McCain couldn't do as bad as that bum Clinton," he said. "He burns my butt - our president should have morals."

The system never satisfied Dmitri. He's always looking for improvement, for progress. Maybe if we went to school in the 1960 s , Drnitri would be more of an activist Instead hes relegated to making speeches chock brilliant ideas, but without any follow through.

My friend Joey would have a field day with Dmitri. I don't even know Joey's last name, I just see him around and army fatigues. You name a cause around campus and Joey's there, protesting it. Sometimes I think he protests only for the sake of protesting. He's been a hardcore vegan since sophomore year in high school. Nothing he owns is leather.
"There shouldn't be a day that you should be content," he said. "There's always something wrong with the world, and we have to be ready to take it on.

Those are my friends. As for me, before college, I was a 5-foot-7-inch math major. Miraculously, I shot up to 6 foot 2 inches before fresinman year. Imagine that. What is the system? Whoa! I m not even sure, but I remember one thing - stereotypes bombard my life and th Wall that last bit is a bit mi is a bit misleading. At least I can Ashok Selvam is a senior newspaper major. His col umn appears Thesdays in the D.O. E-mail him at aselvam@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Writer, president fail to display professionalism}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Three things at Syracuse Univer sity should never be thrown together again: Jamal James, Gene Maddaus and The Daily Orange. Why? Because Monday's article on Mr. James, our presiding SGA president, was more Joseph crossword puzzle. The only Joseph crossword puzzle. The only ing skills was Mr. James'complete lack of professionalism and wisdon.
As a friend of Jamal James, know of his passion and intelligence, his grace and charm and his homo sexuality - an apparent obsession with Gene Maddaus, the story's au thor The irrelevant and private facts of James' sexual preferences were tact lesaly abused throughout Monday's ar ticle. Maddaus could not have painted a more homosexual, and coincidently ignorant, picture of James as he did. But the oblivious nature of James' attitude and comments cannot strictly blamed on Maddaus.

James, according to the article, talked to two of the most powerful men at this school about student-related issues. Lou Marcoccia, SU's vice president for business, financial and ad me indirectly assaulted by James' ig be indireety assauited by dames igMaddaus quoted James as saying, \({ }^{\text {B }}\) Ba sically, he just gave me a lot of B.S. Now, that might true but it is unorthodox, nonetheless. However many argue that it is his unconven tional behavior that will make him so effective. Fine, but next James chal lenges Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw. Again, James comes across as insolent, disregarding the chancellor's suggestions on a proposal. It would be suggestions on a proposal. It would be unfair to completely blame James for his less than stylish tactics since MadJames' true ambianoe and dedication.

Now this letter is not meant to bash Maddaus. However, I will attack his indecent reporting skills. The reader does not need to know about James dental hygiene or about his automosive hysterics, nor do we care about his homosexuality - again, an daus' subconscious and subsequently his writing

What we do care about is what James has to say. Maddaus did this but in poor taste. However, duality of fault is as much a theme in this article as love and death is in a Shakespearzan sonnet, so James is at fault, too.

Whether or not it was poor writing or just a failure to understand the difference between (or should I say importance of "off" and "on" the little justice for James' grat potes tial.

\section*{- Election 2000}

\section*{Nader announces Green Party presidential bid}

\section*{Staff Report}

Green Party member and consumer advocate Ralph Nader announced Monday his bid for U.S. president.

Nader's platform focuses on issucs - such as academic grants and environmental policy - that students, said Howie Hawkins, Symence Gren Party chairman.

SU has about 100 registered Green Party voters, he added.

Nader plans to help students education, Hawkins said. He is hoping to provide students with an alternative to expensive loans, particular y those issued to lower income students, Hawkins added.
"More grants, less loans," he said. "Better terms on the loans.

A Connecticut native, Nader also works as an previously worked as a lec prever at Princeton Univer the University of Hartford in Cond necticut. He is the author of more than 14 books.
 icknamed "Nader's Raiders," Nader investi gates public interest issue such as corporate and go Nader is the found Nader is the founder of several groups including the Public Interest Re zen, Center for Women's Policy Studies, Connecticut Citizen's Action Group and the Disability Rights Center. This will be his third presidential bid.

Students need to be aware of things that are affecting the resoures around them, Hawkins said.
"They are going to have to live creating today," he said

Government is prey to corporate power and needs to be changed to a more democratic method, said Hawkins, reciting one of Nader's political philosophies.

Christina Hinchey, president of the SU College Democrats, said she believes Nader is an effective consumer advocate.
"I think Ralph Nader has been an incredible force of change for this country," she said.

Nader does not pose a serious threat, however, to the more popular Republican and Dernocratic candidates, she added.

Joe Burns, chairman of the SU College Republicans, said Nader is too liberal a politician and has no place running in the election.

Nader is using this campaign as a method to prornote the many non-profit organizations he is associated with, Burns said.
"I think it is simply a joke," Burns said.

Compiled by Contributing Writer Ashleigh Graf

\section*{SEWAGE}
continued from page 1
Avenue.
Why did they chose this community?" she asked. "It's a low-income, minority community that they feel they can push around."

Thereare vacant areas near the Midland Avenue location that should be used inquestioned why the facility would be built close to the city.

Driscoll said his main concern is that the county will begin construction on the facility before the release of a report Erom the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers - a federalorganiman Jim Walsh (R-Syracuse) in December to aid the cleanup of Onondaga Lake. The report, to be released April 1, could propose alternative methods for solving the city's sewage problems, he said

It might be in the city and county's best interest to wait for the report and then take action, Driscoll said.

One possible alternative to the current plan may be to enlarge the current sewage treatment plant on Hiawatha Avenue, said Samuel Sage, president of the Atlantic States Legal Foundation, a Syracusebased non-profit environmental group. would negate havin Avenue," Sage said.

The foundation is prepar ing a lawsuit against the U.S. Envirommental Protection Agency because the agency did not require a complete analysis of every possible solution to the county's sewage treatment problem, he added.

The county is mandated by a consent order levied by a New York state court, to begin work on the facility by March 1 , after the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers report is released, Driscoll said.

If the county does not begin work on the project, however, it may be fined for each day construction is delayed, said Joseph Heath, a private'Syra-cuse-based attorney who has been working with the Council regarding cleanup-related issues.

The construction's stateissued consent arder, however, might not allow the county to be fined if the city stopped the ork, he said.
The Council can deny per-

\section*{SMOKING}

\section*{continued from page 1}
to be more than a slap on the wrist."

Eisenmann said he is confident residentadvisors will be able to enforce the policy, if imple mented.
"Nothing is set in stone yet," he said. "But the main issue is to ensure the health of students especially from the effects of second-hand smoke."

The Office of Residence Life has discussed punishments for violating the proposed smoking policy, said SGA President Jamal James in a report released Monday.
One proposal states that students could be removed from campus housing after a third The office is considerin king lounges in the residence malls, Eisenmann the residence spite overwhelming student support for the lounges, the ventila tion systems in the residence halls would filter the smoke throughout the entire building, he added.

The non-smoking policy, however, is common in universities nationwide, Eisenmann said. The smoking policies are a result of complaints from SU students and parents, said Tom Eldence Life.

The policies deny students the rights they are legally entitled to, said Michael Nam, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences.
"It's our room and smoking indoors is legal," Nam said. "All the smokers are going to complain - no matter what they do, people are going to complain." is policy, said Mays of avoiding a junior international relatione, a jund policy studies major. When and policy studies major. When mission to the county to work under city streets, which is necessary for the project's completion, Heath said.

Representatives from the New York State Attorney General's office sent a letter to the city that implied the county would sue Syracuse if the city did not allow the work to start, Heath said.

But Heath advised the Council that would not neces sarily happen.
"The city would only be sued if they acted improperly," he said.

DO YOU WANT TO HAVE AN UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE?

Do you want to have an unforgettable experience in Australia this summer while earning six credits? DIPA is hosting an exciting traveling seminar in which you will get the opportunity to visit famous and fascinating sites such as the Great Barrier Reef. Alice Springs, and Ayers Rock.

For more information and an application, contact DIPA Summer Programs 119 Euclid Avenue
443-9420/9421

UNIVERSITY AREA APTS.
479-5005
www-universityarea.com
2 BEDROOM APARTMENT TOAD HALL
302 MARSHALL ST. (ACROSS FROM HAVEN)

\footnotetext{
* Wall to Wall Carpet
- Zoned Thermostats
* Air Conditioned
- Low Utilities
* Very Modern
* Dishwasher
}

The Daily Orange
Classified Advertising

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number.
Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorangecom Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{- Election 2000}

\section*{GOP prepares Arizona, Michigan battles}

BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Syracuse University College Republicans are waiting to learn the fates of leading Republican presidential candidates Texas Gov. George W. Bush and Arizona Sen. John McCain in today's Michigan and Arizona primaries. pull out a victory, \({ }^{n}\) said Gina DeRossi, College Republicans secretary and senior public relations major. Ithink it's going to

The conservative right-wing de up a large portion of voters made up a large portion or voters Carolina Republican primary. The McCain campaign said this was the main reason for Bush's triumph.

McCain's campaign also said the droves of devout Christians at the South Carolinian polls were largely a result of pro-Bush campaigning by members of the Christian Coalition and other conservative religious groups.

A spokesperson for Bush could ment.

College Republicans member Erik Jamba, a junior finance major, said he is also a McCain supporter. Jamba said he thought the race would be close, but believes McCain can \({ }^{\text {pull away with a win }}{ }^{\mathrm{H}} \mathrm{He}\) definitely has the charisma and personelity to win it," Jamba said. the relatively liberal nature of the Michigan population and the homestate advantage in Arizona could be ingredients for a McCain victory.
win in Arizons - it is win in Arizona-it is his own state," she said. up the primary tomorrow up the primary tomorrow the race."
McCain lost the South Carolina contest to Bush, 42 to 53 percent. That loss follows a dou-ble-digit win for McCain in the Feb. 1 New Hampshire primary and a fifth place finish in the Jan. 24 Iowa Caucus.

McCain garnered only 5 percent of the the lowa vote while Bush won the caucus with 41 percent.

Although Bush won in Iowa and South Carolina, he received and Republican party members

\section*{Bush}

NcCain

\(\qquad\)
\[
0
\]
e There is a differlike McCain and being senator nor like B and being a govergovernor Bush, Jambasaid. A governor concerns himself with state issues, while a senator deals with the entire country, deals with the entire country, he added.

McCain is much smarter and can better handle being and can better handl as a result of his advertising campaign against tising ca
McCain.

Rep. Peter King (RLong Island), a former Bush supporter, announced Sunday that he is now backing McCain's bid for the presidency. King cited Bush's dency. King cited Bush's negative campaigning as his reason for switching endorsements, reported the McCain campaign.
don't think (Bush) is capable of running the country," Jamba said. follink he's trying to follow in his father's footsteps."

Bush's father is former U.S. President George Bush, who held office from 1988 to 1992.

Upcoming Presidential Primaries and Caucuses
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{February} \\
\hline 22 & Arizona, Michigan (Republican) \\
\hline 26 & Guam, American Samoa, Virgin Islands (Republican caucuses) \\ \hline 27 & Puerto Rico (Republican) \\
\hline 29 & Washington, Virginia (bi-partisan), N. Dakota (Republican caucus) \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{March} \\
\hline \[
7
\] & Connecticut, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Missouri, Ohio, Rhode Island and California \\
\hline & Hawait, North Dakota, Minnesota and Idaho (Democratic caucuses) \\ \hline 9 & South Garolina (Democratic) \\ \hline 10 & Utah, Colorado \\
\hline 11 & \begin{tabular}{l}
Arizona (Democratic) \\ Mich. (Democratic caucus)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline 12 & Puerto Rico (Democratic) Nevada (Democratic caucus) \\
\hline 13-14 & Florida, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana and Illinois \\
\hline & Nevada (Republican caucus) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kate Stevenson

\section*{Former Clinton counsel to speak on campus}

GY KEVIN TAMPONE Asst. News Editor

Former Clinton defense lawyers Cheryl Mills and Brace Lindsey will visit Syracuse University Wednesday to disident's 1998 impeachment trial before the U.S. Congress.

The event, sponsored by the the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications Career Development Center, will take place from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Schine Underground.
"We thought it would be good for the whole university, but parand Maxwell" \({ }^{n}\) said Jenand Maxwell, said Jenat the CDC and coordinaat the CDC and coordina"They had interesting jobs in the White House and so we thought it would be great for stu dents to hear them."

Mills recently left the White House to accept a position as senior vice president of corporate policy and public programming with Oxygen Media. The company, founded in 1998, is focused on providing women with political information, news and entertainment through cable television and the Internet. Freshman Brian Edelman, whose father represented Mills when she left the White House in August, recently spoke over the her upcoming visit to SUT her upcoming visit to SU. They worked pretty good friends," said Edelman, a broadcast journalism major, of Mills and his father.

Edelman's father handled the legal aspects of Mills' departure after her seven years working as a legal counsel for President Bill Clinton.
gives her a unique per gives her a unique perspections industry Edelmon cations industry, Edelman said. She's moving into a new medium, so what bet through Newhouse," Edelman said. "This is really her field and her thing." Mills earned her law degree from the University of Virginia and then joined Clinton's transition team in 1992. She became deputy counsel to Clinton in 1993 and was offered the position of chief White Hause counsel. But she declined the position to move to Oxygen Media. If she

\section*{ESF}
continued from page 1 sity Department of Public Safety Sunday morning of Gerbig's death, said he sent out a notice of the accident and the suicide through e-mail to all ESF students and faculty. He also informed them of the funeral services. Ross Whaley, president of ESF, said he plans on attending Whaley, who was out of town all weekend and did not learn of Gerbig's death until Sunday night, added that he is still shocked by the incident.

"How do you get into somebody's head?" he gsked. "What motivates someone to take their own life?"

Compiled by Lifestyle Editor Sapna Kollali had accepted, she would have been the first woman and the first black in the position

Edelman said Mills' accomplishments esteern her as an excellent example to professional women

Lindsey has been a friend of Clinton's since 1968 when the pair worked together in Little Rock, Ark., for Sen. William Fulbright. Lindsey was subpoenaed several times to testify during investigaincluding the Monica Lewinsty and Whitewater affairs. He earned his law degree from the University of Califormia at Berkeley in 1966 and was part of the legal team that heiped defend Clinton during his impeachment proceedings. Although not all SU students are politically motivated, the event provides an opportunity to get an works, Edelman said.

"It's what the students want to take out of it," he said. "They're important people who were very close to president."

\section*{- Greek Affairs}

\section*{Delta Tau Delta begins belated Cupid Week}

\section*{GY BETH BRAVERNAN} Contributing Writer

Syracuse University Delta Tau Delta brothers are counting on Cupid this week to bring \($ 1,000\) in charity to the American Heart Association.

The fraternity asked all camipus sororities to participate in Milakofsky, a junior marketing Milakorsky, a junior marketing signed up, he added

Conf, he added
Connicting schedules prevented the fraternity from hostValentine's Day, Milakofsky said.

The week consists of several "friendly" competitions between the greek houses, Milakofsky said.

Sororities participated Monday night in an event designed after the television game show, Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?"

The brothers will also host a sorority skit competition tonight at Darwin's Restaurant and Bar, 701 S. Crouse Ave., Milakafsky 400 students to attend the events 400 stidents to attend the events, he added

Alpha Xi Delta sorority is anxious to begin Cupid Week, President Jessica Hecht said. She added that 30 AZD sisters tonight, and another 15 to 20 sisters have been working on decorations for the houses.
"We had a really good time last year," Hecht said. "We like to participate because it is a good cause. It is also one of the first activities for our new members to participate in."

Hecht said her sisters enjoy comparing their skit and banner with those of other houses.

Courtney Thompson, a member of Pi Beta Phi, said her sorority appreciates the philanthropic

Sorority sisters respond to questions posed at the Delta Tau Delta fratemity-sponsored "Who Wants to Be Cupld's Date?" The Monday night event was a takeoff on the geme show "Who Wants to Be a Miliontilne?" Junior Alpha Phi Alpha sister Bectay DeRollo (far rigit) won.
aspect of the event.
"We like to get involved in all fraternity philanthropy events and give to all of the local chari" she said.
Milakofsky said he and his brothers encourage students to be on the Quad at \(11: 20\) a.m. Thursday for the week's culminating event, Cupid's Run. The frateraisponsor brother Mike Cazzolli, who will dress up as Cupid and fun a: und the Quad.
D.rnors will pledge money for every girl Cazzolli kisses as Thursday morning. Cazzolli was chosen from interested sophomores i: , the fraternity.

The brothers will announce the sorority who won the most events at the end of the week. The prize, he said, is the honor of participating next year as the reigning Cupid Week champions.

In the past, Milakofsky said, the week has been a success. Every year the fraterait receives close to its goal of \($ 000\). ceives close to its goal of \($ 0\) las year, he said.

Cupid Week began in 1969 when a Delta Tau Delta brother, Jim Trance, wanted to talse his girlfriend out for Valentine's Day but did not have enough money. His brothers told him that if he would run around campus kissing girls, they would give him money for each girl he kissed.

Trance accepted their offer and earned enough money to take out his girlfriend.
"That's when it started, Milakofsky said. "It expanded from there and it has just gotten bigger and bigger since then."

\section*{A CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT clinton's \\ BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE CLINTON WHITE HOUSE WITH}

Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President
Clinton and now an executive with Oxygen Media,
the women's cable channel, and
Bruce Lindsey,
assistant counsel to the President.
THEY WILL DISCUSS their experiences as the President's lawyers and advisors
throughout the past year.

JONM AN ECOMNERCE CONPANY WITH AN EDGE:

BIGNOPDS.com seeks college student leaders to build a atusdent and faculty baged network at cempuses nationwide. BIGWOFDS will provide all needied materials and gupport

\section*{COMFENEATIONT}

Bame ablary, ceah bonuses, stock options.

\section*{INTEREETED?}

Send en email to ConsultentagBIGMORDS.com. include rasume or name, school, and contact info.

You need a roll-on with Pravak

To protent against Alos and ather sto: dlways use tatex condorns For a free, full-color poster \(\left\{18^{\prime \prime} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\right\}\), write:
AIDS Poster 2. Box 2000. Albany, N.Y. 12220 N.Y.S: Health Department

- wednesday, february 23mo -3:00 P.M. UNILL 5:00 P.M. * - schine underground •

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate departmerit.

News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.cc . . Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{HGE}

\section*{Classic find}

Archaeologists say the bones of as many as 250 men found at an Athens construction site may be the remains of Athenians who died fighting for the orator Pericles in the early battles of the Peloponnesian War The bone fragments of indricauals cremated and buried in three mass graves in what is now downtown Athens were taken to Adelphil University in Garden City, N.Y., for forensic analysis expected to take up to three years, the magazine Archaeology reported in its March-April issue.

\section*{Butit out}

The American Legacy Foundation has been vociferously criticized this week by the very antitobacco advocates wito lobbied to create it. The foundation's decision last week to pull two controversial television ads under pressure from the tobacco industry has caused public health and antismoking adnocates to charge that the group's independence and integrity have been seriously compro mised.

\section*{Not fur sale}

Lofty cashmere, spindly higrheeled shoes, per. fectly matched ensem bles and the sweeping. grand fur coats all delio ered one message to fashion critics on this month's runways: These are clothes for the elite. But for common folk, the coats also reignited the fur debate. Protesters from People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals crashed three fur shows, tossing a tofu pie toward Michael Kors, splattering red paint on the runway at Randoiph Duke's presentation and holding up "Fur Shame" posters at Oscar de la Renta's.

\section*{Gone fishing}

A pair of Cornell University biologists have tumed to studying plainfin midshipman fish to get insight into gender and behav behavior.

\section*{quote}
of the day:
"If you salk to God, you are praying; if God talks to you, you have schizophrenia. Thomas Szasz

Matt Carbone, a 1997 SU graduate and manager of the Center for Really Noat Research, operates a chalr that controls personal computer interface.

The Center for Really Neat Research's creative contraptions are unveiled.

EY ANNEMARIE KROPF Staff Writer
Brooke Kendrick has had a hard life - and she's only 9 years old from spastic quadriplegia due to cere brat palsy. This condition allows her to move, since it does not affect her spinal cord, but she has poor control of her muscles and her movements are not refined.

Unable to speak, Kendrick is only able to make some sounds and can sign the word "no" with her hands. She

See RESEARCH page 10

\section*{Danceworks \\ III admit it - I'm the farthest thing from} an expert on dance that youtl ever find anywhere on this campus.
Pete Beisser media
freak Seriously, id sooner choose to lapse into a drunken coma at shake my ass like a Travolta wannabe.

So why then am I, of all people, talling to you about Danceworks show, being perfurmed Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at Goldstein Auditorium, and ed my weekend watching? Could it bebabause I was given the chance to watch a bunch of cute

\section*{shows hard w \\ giris practice during their rehearsals? It be honest, originally that's why I did it - but as I sat and watched the dancers in action, I soon realFor the dancers, it's more than a show - it's a real joy that they have in their lives. It's their onoe-a-year chance to show their passion to their friends here at school. \\ What is Danceworks exactly? It's a Syracuse University student-run program, sponsored in part by the Student Government Association and Danceworks member dues, that gives participants a chance to dance in the spot show, whether they are beginners or seasone pros. Those who cannot dance are welcome to} join the organization and help with offstage aspects of the production.
"It fills a void for many of the girls who came to college and simply stopped dancing," said Danceworks co-director Sara Goldberr, a senior television, radio and film major in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications. "This is ther outlet.

Danceworks saw its first performance in 1987, and since then it has only gotten bigger and better This year's show, "Expressions," features 16 different dance numbers, all designed and choreographed by dancers involved in the show.

They've been working on putting the show See MEDIA page 10

\section*{RESEARCH \\ continued from pare 9}
doesn＇t have the dexterity to domuch else，says Marge Bardenett，Kendrick＇s occupa tional therapist．

Kendrick＇s cognitive skills have not been affected by the cerebral palsy．She at－ tends third－grade classes at and does well in school．
＂To be bright and trapped in a crumany body has to be frustrating，＂said Bardenett． This is where the Center for Really Neat Research stepsin． fithe core of what we do is finding a way for someone with a specific disability to communicate，said Matthew Center and a 1997 Syracuse University industrial design graduate．＂We＇re trying to im－ prove the quality of life for all people through sensible technology．＂

Dr．David Warner，a med－ ical neuroscientist，is the brains behind the Center for Really Neat Research， 500 medical student at．While a da University Medical Center in California，he started the original Center for Really

The Daily Orange

Neat Research in San Diego． in 1995，he was offered a Na son Fellowship at SU＇s North eastern Parallel Architectures Center（NPAC）．When he came to Syracuse，Warner was lookine to rest bone． bone．

In the fall of 1996，Warn er noticed an available build－ ing in the form of an aban－ doned fraternity house．After getting in touch with the na－ tional chapter of Phi Kappa Psi，they agreed to lease the building to the Center．Warn er was able to pull together a team of people and，by the spring of 1997 ，the Center only by manpower，the Cen－ ter has helped seven people so far，said Carbone．people so ＂There＇s a kind of blind following to him．In Dave we trust，＂said Tim Murphy，a ju－ nior computer science major at East Carolina University in Greenville，N．C．He came to the Center in the fall as an in． tern and is now contemplat ing a transfer to SU to keep working at the Center．

Creativity is encouraged Creatly in this environment，＂ Carbone said．We are able to plines to work towards a com－

\section*{回本語を学ぼら！}

\section*{LIVE AND LEARN Japanese！}

The Waseda Oregon Transnational Program，Fall 2000 and Spring 2001，is a comparative US－Japanese Societies study program that mixes US－based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University，Tokyo，Japan．Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US－Japanese Socicties courses in the humanities and social sciences．Scholarships of up to \($ 1000\) are available！For more information，contact：

Waseda Oregon Programs Office
（800）823－7938（503）223－7938
info＠opie．org
www．opie．org

\section*{www．dailyorange．com} ＊Daily news，sports and lifestyle updates
＊Hundreds of links to great Web sites ＊Answers to the daily crossword

\section*{Get wired to Syracuse University！}

\title{
Mon Feb 21 - Thur 24 Mon Feb 28 - Thur Mar 2
}

Last time this semester that photos will be taken! Upper Lobby of the Schine Student
\[
\begin{gathered} \text { Center, } \\
\text { 11AM - 3PM } \\
\text { 4PM - 7PM }
\end{gathered}
\]

\title{
Call 1-800-969-1337 for
} an appointment, and to avoid the long lines.

\section*{팹NE}
continued from page 16
All Star Sports Publications' Bob Gibbons believes Hhues will be "the heir apparEat to Jason Hart." He said Inues' success against city comPetition and in national summer leagues could translate into E higher initial maturity level chan the 6-foot-3 Hart.
of high school to be coming Sxat of high school to be further zlong than Jason Hart was," fair statement to say they DIay similar and are both very Etrong defensively. The size difFerential will be nullified becourse Thues is a little quicker." White believes Thues' playz 2 g time will hinge upon how Eruch he matures during the Temainder of this season and over the summer.

He said Thues ranks as the \section*{CARUSONE}

\section*{continued from page 16} senior, he won the pole vault at the coveted Penn Relays. We were used to him doing Well in high school," Carusone's exother Diane said, "We didn't ©ome so soon. Joel is excited, Suit not overconfident. He Exnows that he will have tougher Competition down the road."

The early success of CaruSone also surprised coach E.Iewellyn Starks. Starks said C:arusone's performances exCeeded the staffs already-high

\section*{The Daily Orange}
most athletic player to come out of Detroit in recent years, noting his uncanny ability to get his shot off, go hard to the hoop and protect the ball.
con told syracuse head coach) Jim Boeheim that James is going to play," White said. "It just depends on how much he matures. He possesses those keeping hime you cannot justify "He can hit the thot ball and hit the shot, stea the ball and do toomany things to help the team win. He would is shooting. He's a point guard with a jump shot."

A first-team All-City and All-State selection last season Thues faces the daunting task of returning his 15-1 squad to the Public School League Championship game.

Taking the team to its first poured in 27 points in the fires poured in 27 points in the first

The freshman enters his sixth year of pole vaulting this sixth year of pole vaulting this coaches boosted him to the high school track team so he could try out all the events. Pole vault is the one that stuck.

At the age of 13 , he was umping eight feet, Diane Carusone said. He liked the thrill of the sport and also that it is a total individual sport. He gets a lot of satisfaction out of Growing up, Garusone had a thrill for a lot of things. At cycle, and at four years old he learned to ride a skateboard, his

Youneed 0 roll-on with

To profect agiinst AlDS ard athar S7ps解
For a free, full-color poster ( \(18^{\prime \prime} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\) ), write: Alos Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany. N.Y. 12220 N.Y.S. Health Dcpertment round quarterfinal game, averaging 15 the rest of the way. Previously preferring to lead by exanmple rather than taking an outspoken approach, Thues is evolving into the leader White needs on the floor.

This season, the future Orangeman assumes a more forthright role, offering conforcement
"He has done a great job learning to be a consistent competitor and to come into every game and get the ' \(W\) ' while not worrying about statistics, White said. "He doesn't always want to take control verbally, but now he will tell us, 'Coach, I think we need to go with this or do that.'

In his spare time, Thues enjoys disc jockeying, bowling and spending time with his friends. He said he is looking forward to living on his own for the firgt time
"He is initially very quiet but will open up to you," added White, who said Thues is academically sound with a 2.5 GPA. "He is somewhat private and not a follower. He will never get into something because

No one is more.
No one is more sure Thues is prepared for college's expecmother, Cheryl Leggette.
"He's not a whiner. He's a very disciplined young person, and he has a very giving nature," said Leggette of her youngest of three children. "I've seen him in situations that, as a grown-up, I thought were hard situations, and he has been able to keep his composure.

He is the type who knows when to holler 'I need help.' hell be fine"

Leggette says her son loved basketball since childhood, geting chores done so that he could play. On snowy mornings, he would go out and shov el the driveway all the way to the garage, where the basket ball net hung.

Next year, the snowfall will get heavier and the lane to the hoop more congested.

But upon visiting with yracuse coaches and players earlier this season, Thues came way with a very positive feeling. He especially liked the strong dedication he saw by players, coaches and fans to the school.
"I really liked the atmosphere," said Thues, who wears No. 15. Damone Brown, Tony Bland and Jason Hart told me hat they are really enjoying ready for the challenge. mom said. As he got older, Carusone involved himself in bymnastics.
In his

In his early high school years, he stuck with soccer and lacrosse and picked up track. But during sophomore year, when he began earning state rankings in pole vault, Caru* sone deci

\section*{jumping.}

Now in college, coaches know there is no limit for Carusone's success
"Joel can the top can definitely be one of the top jumpers in college," year, but definitely the next three years, he will enjoy the company of the big jumpers and jump 18 feet.

Earlier in the month, Carusone hoped to hang with Freed and place in the top three at last weekend's Big East Championship meet at the Carrier Dome. In Saturday's pole vault finals, the SU frosh leapt \(16^{\prime 2} 7^{\prime \prime}\), six inches shy of Freed, but good for second preed

Down the line, Carusone also hopes to qualify for the NCAA Championships at the University of Arkansas. To do so, he must jumpat least 17' \(3^{\prime \prime}\) After college, the biology major would like to attend medical school, but he is no uling out a shot at the 2004 "If I ammes, the level I need to be in 2004," Carusone said, ee if I can qualify for the Olympics.*
If Carusone continues to improve, his coaches see work thic and raw talent placing him at the level it takes to rep"Sometimes.

Sometimes you need to jump start him a little," Starks front of him, he will do it."

\section*{Kan u spel goode?}䙹 sa, apply to become a Daily Orange ASSISTANT COPY EDITOR Letters of intent are being accepted until 5 p.m. Thursday an The D.0., 744 Ostrom Ave. For more information, please call Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal at 443-9798.

\section*{Hasa Basa}
by Devin Clark

Area 52

\section*{Never Odd or Even}
by Tim Dose
\(\square\)

\section*{Oh My Gawd}
by Jaci Price

So This Is Life ...

by Jen Szeto

Classic Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

\section*{Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles}

by Neil Swaab

Get Cuse lt
by Damon Amendolara
Yo DUDE!
Just Under 26,000 minutes

Euphoria or Against it? by Car! Deihl

Hard times

\section*{14 [clas}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 e\) each additional word 56 extra each bold word 5¢ extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Preepraid by:
Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 2pm 2 business days prior tor fun
ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE !! ADS ARE NOT TAKENBY PHONE !! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue:
Stacuse. NY 120 io Att Classitieds: 0 :

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Notices \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

WeCLite.com Wants You The Interner's Most Nototious Aucio, Video. Journalism, Photograpty and Animation Perpetrators Reisard \($ 6000\) in the Submission Showdown Contes: ewww.WeCLile.cor
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Autos \\
Scep Wrangler, 974 cylinder, Red whlack soft top 10,000 beat call 476-7097 see photo in Auto Finder Magazine musi sell.
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline EI \\
\hline Abcord tabelinternet company seeking interns. Juniors or below prefered. Ca:l 506.389 -9065 of send email to jason Ohellorecords.com \\
\hline  \\
\hline Part time jobs delivery divers, dishwasters apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marstall St. \\
\hline CAMP CANADENSIS, Pocono Mountains, PA.
Premier residennial coed summer camp. We are looking for an energetic, qualified and casing stal! to leach all generic authlelics, gymnastics, hockey, tennis, mountain bikes, goll, motorcycla photography lishing. WSt, waterfort activilies, atts and crafts, cocking and much more! Excellent facilities and greal satary! \(\mathrm{t} / \mathrm{D}^{1 / 00} \cdot \mathrm{~B} / 18 / 00\). Call (B00) 832.-8228 \\
\hline NEED EXPERIENCE (and monty?) Join a fun and growing company as your campus representalive. FtexiBie hours. responsibitities and compelifive pay. No experience, just ,personalif neeced. Visit www.mybres.comvStuden:Rep lor mora inlormation and to titl out an online application. \\
\hline Job Opportunities \\
\hline University Eartending Classas Slar Soon
Student
Discounts
\(1.800<1-C A N-M I X\) wwe.universitybartending.com Space is Limited Call For Intormation!!!! \\
\hline WANTED \\
\hline Help Wanted \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\($ 1500\) weekty potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Required. Free intormation cacket. Call Experience Required. Free intormation packe!. Call \(202-452.7679\).

\section*{FOR RENT}

\section*{ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM}

APARTMENTS
APARIMMENTS
SPACIOUSFARNISHED DISHWASHER,
PARKING 5175 PERMONTH 476-9933

Apartments close to campus dean 2.35 bedroms some with fireplace laundry parking demifumished reasonable price 437.5761 . University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Clo University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Watk to Camput turnished laundry parking lease 5875.00

For Rent: House & 3 bdrm flats \(-$ 250 \cdot $ 300\). Very Nice - Walk to SU. Avaitable Aug. Nice - Walk to SU. Avaitable
FM Realty Group 637.5195
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 3 BEDROOMS \\
6 BEDROOOMS \\
S20 per month \\
lireptace dishwasher \\
2 cargarago \\ free laundry facilisesin basement \\
Call Donna 449-4621 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

EDGE OF CAMPUS 228 EUclid, 4 bedrcom reasonable rent, free parking. dishwasher, laundry, mierowave, new porch-
Jerry or Tina \(-474.7541,446\)-6318.
University Area 2-3 Bedroom turnished Apiversity Area 2-3 Bedrom lumished Jimitments Single Houses for rent. Call

\section*{L(.)(.) K}

August Lurnished House
Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast

10 Month Lease

\section*{Call 655-2175 \\ for more info.}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS \\
\hline 302 Marshall St 329 Comstock Ave 604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclic Avo 145 Avondale Place \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Available for 2000-2001 \\
Fulty Furnished, Laundry Parking, Fuli Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Fbors Hemodeled Kitchans and Baths
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
University Area Apts \\
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Constock nicely lurnished quiet 1-2.3 badroom parking uitities included close walk SU hospitals reasorable 478-2642

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. Eff/APTs Homes & Town Houses
MO There is something for everyonel
MOST INCLUDING
Security System with 1* Doad Bolt Locks
Smoke, Heat & Sorinkier System
Pricoss Ranging fom 5225 - 5375
Remodeled Full Custom Kitehimenth
Kitchens inciude: Gourmenonsauth
Gartage Disposals. Microwaves, Distmashers.
Laundy Facilities on & Padding (like home)
Or-steet Parking
- Snow s Lawn Maintena

Super Insulated Mainienanco
Some Apts include All lill utilites)
Safe Areas within Waiking Distance 40 Cod Such as " Eomstock, Ostrom, Harrison, Madison Westcon, clarendon. Ackerman. Livingston. Lancaster
CALL 478-6504
to check out your home away from homel

Abderman Beautitul Large Furnished Flats! Houses. 2,3,4.5,6 Bedrooms Porches. Hireplaces, Garages. Launtry. Pet OK \(446 \cdot 3420\) 4Bedrooms. OaklandSt., TBlock ESF, 3日:ocks Lawt Hospitals, furnished, parking, laundry, University Ave. tive begroom House one block University Ave. tive begroon House one block from Marshall Streat turnished laundry parking lease \(51,30.00\) plus utilities D. N. Dnucker \(445-1229\) Stop elcan 3 bedfoom apartments Fireplace. Plopining, laundry, low price \(436-40\) is.

\section*{O.P.R.}

\section*{Developers}

4-5-6 Bedroom Homes /

\section*{Town Houses} Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Univarsity and Comstock Very dose to Campus Efficienciess and Two Bedrogns secure bidg. funished laundry parking 5375.00 to \($ 700.00\) Indudes All Utibiues 445-1229 D.N. Dnucker Lid.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709 \\ PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND \(4,5,6,7\) APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6, BEDROOM HOUSES. \\ WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM}

Two Bedroam Apartments on Euclid Furnished. Two Bedroom Apartments ont Euclid Furnist Heal incurved harwood lions porch , recenty remodeled, laundry, parking. 476-2982,
Ackermant Ave, 4 br 2feath apt Fumished,

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with tireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

\section*{1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS \\ \({ }_{871}^{621 \text { Euccirc Ave }}\) \\ 917 Ackerman Ave \\ 115 Redriel Place
1011 E.Acdams
145 Avondale Place \\ Avaiable br 2000-2001 uly Fumished Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Hefinished Hardwood Floors Fiemodeled Kitchens and Bath \\ University Area Apts \\ 1011 E. Adams St \(# 30\) \\ wwwuniversityar}

Apartments

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

\section*{329 Comstock Ave.}

2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpe Laundry. Parking. Alarms. owest rents for modern, new construction low utilities.
University Area Apts
www.universityarea.com Furnished 2.5Bedroom Houses' Apartments Livingston, Sumner, Ackerman, Euctic 469.6665 Summer Special. Newhy remodeled 4 bedroom liat. Ona brock trom eampus. All utilifies include \($ 225.00\) per person. 2 fuil bathrooms, washer. dryer, pasking. porch.
Avaitable \(5 / 21 \cdot 8 / 17472.8619\)

One Bedroom Apartments some with 9 month leases Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, quiet building, close to campus 476-2982

Ackerman Ave. nice 3betroom llat, Iurnished, stove, reftig. taundry, fireplace, garage.
Avail June ist 446 . 4229
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS \\
1, 2, 3, 4 Eedroom Apartments Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellent Condition, Furnished, Some :nclude Utilities. Call 422-0138.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, utilities included. Oak iloors, fire ptace, Purnished, witifies included, Oak thoors, fire place, iurnished, large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance s.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call 422 -7305.

1,2.3.4+5 bedroom apartments. Furnished, all _1itities included, laundry, parking. One biock fro tampus near law school. ESSF . May + August vatabithy 425 -1883. availabitity \(425-1883\).
204 Ostrom Efficiency One and 2Bedroom Secure Avail Laundry Parking Very Clean
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. 1011 E.Adams
509 University

Carpeted, Air Conditioned. Fumished, Secure, Laundry, Parking,

University Area Apts.
www.universityarea.com
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
cff street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER &27-0052
\end{tabular}

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM Furished,
Off Street Parkinash, Lar, two Porches, 476-2982}

Cloan quiel 2-tedroom two blocks from SU hospitals. Fumfished. All utilitias paid. 472-5908 June 1 lease.
Available mid Awgust. 3 bedroom that very near Esf on OakiandsL iurrished or untumished cptiar Livingroan with fireplace, dithingroom, new kitehen, porch, coin-op washert diyer. \(425-8168\) 2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrorn. 105 Euctid 2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostroth, 105 Euctid
Terrace Larpe Rcons Hardwood Floors Avail June or Aug 446-5186
Adiarman furnished spacious two EdRen off stree

5 Bedroom Apt
Ackermen Ave
Fully Fi-tornished
Porches, Laundry
Parking. Dishwashor
Owner Mannger
\(682-2218\)

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

\section*{ONE BEDROOM}

APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933.

University 283 bedroom TownHouses & Flats Inexpensive and munt condition. Washet.Drye Fireplace, inishod basement, Cail \(449-0109\). Large 2 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Wolking distance
S.U. if street parking. Laundty Call 422.7305 .

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive renis. 302 Marshall St.
(actoss from Haven)
University Area Apts
479-5005

4Bcarooms furnished flat with all utilites included One block fron campus near Law Schiool +ESE: tull bathoorns, carpet, titndry, parking. Available
Mayor August \($ 305\) per person, 477 -is74 One and Two gedroom Furnished Apartments. Corner of Walnut and Hartison Avenues. Leases Commence atune Hatrish Avenues. Leases Commence dit
Last Month and Securivy No Pets Albwed.
Graduates Preferred Col Graduates Preferred CaIl 422-7755

1 Eedroan Fumished Unfurnished. Walking oistance S . U Laundry available. Oil Street distance S.U. Laundry avaitable. Oll Street Parking. Cant 422.7305 Parking. Can 422 -7305

Four Eedroom on Ackerman, Furnished. Parking.
Dishwasher, Two Porches, Oil street
Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Fioors Laundry Carpel. Hardwood Floors
Call Gordon 476-2982

ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail 46 une, July 5 Aug
445-0540

\section*{SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS}

604 Walnut Ave. 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Fents start at $275. Relinished hartwood Townhouses. Remodaied kitctians. baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry Parking. 24 hour maintenance. www.Lniversityaraa.corn
University Area Apts 479-5005

\section*{The Daily Orange}
the event with a season-best ss of \(50^{\prime} 8.25^{\prime \prime}\)

On the other side of the field, the pole vault competition was narrowed down to two competitors when raised to \(168.75^{\prime \prime}\)

\section*{After SU fr}

After SU freshman Joel Carusone failed to clear the bar on his first two attempts, West his way over the top to take the his way over the top to take the tempt, Carusone hit the bar and fell to the mat with a secondplace finish.

The overall conference champions were the Georgetown men and Villanova's women. The victory by the Hoyas came on the heels of a decade of dominance in which the team claimed seven indoor titles at the Carrier Dome. On Richie Ashburn. After his playing career, Ashburn turned to broadcasting, and Musser retold a favorite story about how Ashburn kept a scorecard.

When a sub came in the game, he never bothered to put them in there, Musser said. Youst do like I do, he said, Of course be never know who Of course, he never was up at bat, either. He was a character."

Another player high on Musser's list of favorites is Pete Rose, who always gave his all Rose, who always g
according to Musser
"He loved baseball," Musser said. "He was a walking, talking encyclopedia of baseball. And nobody played harder on the field than he did.

After reliving his baseball memories, Musser took time to offer some professional advice to the crowd of students. The

February 22, 2000
15
the women's side, the Wildcats narrowly edged the Hoyas by a half point, \(101-100.5\), to claim the championship.

The meet brought an end to the regular season for SU. How ever, many of the Orange track sters will compete in postseason competition at \({ }^{\text {th }}\)

For the select few who make the cut, the NCAA Championships in Indianapolis will follow. It's a shock to know the Bell said. "It's all or nothin" right now. We have to step it up at ECACs and decide if we want our season to end in two weeks or if we want to make a trip to the Big Dance."
two biggest ideas he preached revolved around knowledge o the game and getting to the top in the broadcasting industry.

If a person lacks knowl edge about the game he or she calls, not even a great voice can save the broadcast, Musser said.

The final thought Musser wanted to impress upon the stu dents is the importance of reaching the premiere spot in your market

One of the things you really have to do is become a No. 1 broadcaster," Musser said. "I should have gone to be a No. 1 because there really isn't as No. 3 guy. So no matter what No. 3 guy. So no matter what your situation, make sure you are the top guy or gal."

\section*{}

\author{
O.P.R. Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504
}

1,2.3.4 85 Bdim Apartments, Houses+ Studios. acently ranovated. Walking distance paring 474-6791

Eest Euy on Hantisonst Ciean Cuie:
Oneitedincin and studio June lease. Funnished.

\section*{501 EUCLID STUDIO APT}

Parifact tor one person.
All utitites included
\($ 355\) per month
\($ 355\) per month
Gall Donna
449-4621

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
pLEASEVISTT OUR wesiterorthe lagaest SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Houses
```

RENT YOUR OWN HOME
FQUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE
WO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED
476-9933

```

LOOK ATTHISI
 w/arshwasher and six targa bedrooms and
TWO full bathroms. Sff street parking with garage, Washer and dryer in buiking.
CALL \(430-5188\) after 1:00pm

House For Rent 2minutes from Main Campus
Seven Bds of street parking Phone \(458-0483\) Seven Bds of streel parking Phone 458.0483

Large Single Family furnished houss. Patking. Larje Single Farmily turnished thouse. Fatking fineplace, free taundry, dishwasher, mature tenants
682.3304

Clarendon St., 4 -bedroom, free washer, dryer, off-street parting, available \(5 / 15 /\). Call \(492-3199\) Charning English Tuder Houss on Camstock 6
Bedioons. Fireplace, arress foom Wormens Bidg Avail 5/20 475-1012 (843)514-3881
University nicety furnished 5 bedroom stucty hous 3 car garage extra parking
SU hospitah law \(478-2642\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

GREAT HOUSES; GREAT LOCATION
EOO 日LOCK OSTROMS BEDROOMS
OFF SREET PARKNG, FREPLAEE CAID GRAD 424-0218/423-9142

SERVICES
Travel

Spring Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nights \($ 279!\) Inctudes Meast Awesome Beaches Nigntita! Departs From Florida! Panama City
Room With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties 8 Room With Kitchen Next to Clubs, 7 Parties
Free Drinks \($ 129!\) Daytona Foom With Kithen Free Drinks \($ 129\) ! Daytona Foom With Kitchen \($ 1499\) South Eeach (Bars Open Untul 5am!) $1591 Cocoa Beach (Near Disney) S179!
springbreaktravel.com 1.800 \(\mathbf{- 6 7 8 - 6 3 9 6}\)

\section*{Spring Break 2000 Jumaica, Cancun, Florida \begin{tabular}{l} Barbados, Bahames \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
}

SPRING BREAK-GRAD WEEK \($ 75 &\) UP Rer Persion wwwretreatryrllebeach.con FOUND Found: A scear. Tuestiay alter 5PM in parking los behind Steole Hal Gall \(451-116\) MISC.
NOTE FROM THE OAILY ORANGE: As aways, please use caution whan replying or being replied trom any atvertisement in each boing replied from any advertisement in each issue, for The Daily Orange does not take reissue, spor tibity ho daily Orange does not take relact between yourself and adverisef.

\section*{mimemivemat Classified Advertising}

\section*{NOTES}

AP Top 25
1. Stanford (6
2. Duke
4. Arizona (1)
5. Michigan St
6. Ohio st
7. Tenness
8. Femple
10. Oklahoma St.
11. Auburn
12. Tulsa
13. Syracuse
14. Texas
15. LSU
16. Indiana
- 17. Kowa St.
'18. Kentucky
20. Oklahoma
21. Purdue
22. Connecticut
24. Vanderb
25. Utah

\section*{Southbound}

In a mock NCAA Tournament bracket ESPN.com, the Syracuse men's basketball squad mas predicted as the No. 3 seed in the South Region. The Orangemen's first. round opponent is project ed to be the Ohio Valley Conference champion, most likely 20-7 Murray St. The spot in the South Region would mean a return to the site of the football team's Music City Bowl triumph - Nashville. Tenn.
Syracuse was one of six Big East teams in the predicted field of 64 , along with Connecticut, Miami, St. John's. Seton Hall and Notre Dame. Villanova found itself listed as one of the the last out of the field.
Arizona was the No. 1 seed in SU's region with the other No. 1 seeds going to Duke in the East Cincinnati in the Midwest and Stanford in the West

\section*{Lowe heads to GT}

Don Lowe, Syracuse's Coordinator of Sports Medicine for the past 25 years, was named Georgia Tech's Director of Sports Medicine on Monday. Lowe replaces Jay Shoop - Tech's Director 1987 - who recently took the position of head trainer for the Detroit Lions.

Lowe's career began at his alma mater, Kent St., in 1964 as an assistant trainer before becoming head trainer in 1969. He came to SU in 1975.

He lives in Liverpool with his wife, with whom he has three children, including Jeff, a member of the SU football and lacrosse teams.

\section*{sports \\ trivia}
Q. Who was the last men's basketball player to win both the Division scoring and rebounding crowns in the same year?

\section*{Thursday's trivia:}
Q. Which two SU alums called loe Carter's 1993 Wortd Series-winning home run for major media outlets?
A. Sean McDonough called the blast for CBS television, white Andy Musser called it for the Philadelphia Phillies radio broadcast.

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 22, 200016

\title{
Recruit hopes for time
}

With Syracuse point glard Jason Hart graduating aftor this season, recruit fames 7hues hopes to fill the Orange leader's vintage Nikes. The Detroit native is averaging 25 ppg and 13 apg this season.

SY CHRIS SNOW
James Thues believes he can leap right into the SU basketball lineup next season and contribute.

And, according to those familiar with Thues' game, the 5 -foot- 10,180 pound point guard sensation from Detroit's Martin Luther King High pos sesses the athletic prowess to do jus that.

He hopes to make up for his lack of height with quickness, an aggressive deensive style and a very impressive ver ical leap.

I think I can come in and help the team a lot as their style of player," Thues said. im quick andstrong shoot it and get back strong on defense." \({ }^{\text {" }}\) fall Thues will bring his 25 will bring his 25 Central New York along with high ex pectations. With Jason Hart graduating this spring, he likely will challenge Allen Grifin for minutes at the point.

What might get Thues into the lineup beyond his offensive ability is the quality that leads to comparisons between himself and Hart. Both play ex emplary defense.
im from the cical gifts really separate him from the competition," MLK coach Benny White said. "But what he does better than anything is playing the passing lanes. He does a great job of de get the steal.

See THEUS page 12

\section*{Musser speaks at SU}

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

Sportscaster Andy Musser decided to stick with the ideas he knows best when he ad dressed a group of students Newhouse lecture hall.
"We're going to treat this like a rain delay \({ }^{n}\) the Philadel like a rain delay, the Philadel phia Philies broadcaster said and well see how long it lasts, A 1959 graduate of Syra ase, Musser filled his hourlong "rain delay" with stories of his college days, favorite base ball players and some words of wisdom.

Musbers fraternity house is gone, WAER moved into Newhouse and the campus has added more academic buildings since Musser roamed the SU Hill.

Still here, though, is WOLF-AM 1490 radio, where Musser worked for \($ 1\) per hour during his college years.
jockey, Musser said as a dise jockey, Musser said he used to sneak into their back room for a can of soup or any other food from dining hall grub for night.

After graduating from SU Musser bounced from station to Musser bounced from station as a news reporter or a weekend sportscaster.

He said he never felt comfortable with the sports updates, trying to cram all the news into a few minutes.

See MUSSER page 15

\section*{First-year vaulter excels}

\section*{BY JASON SACKS}

Many times, student-athletes have trouble making the transition from high school to college life and competition.

After competing in it is safe to say is safe to say freshman Joel Carusone has made the tran
The 5 -fooll. 8 quition quite weleveulter won two of his initial meets and holds the second best jump in the Big East behind Casey Freed of West Virginia

In late January, at the Naional Open in State College Pa., Carusone won his event with a jump of \(16^{\prime} 6^{\prime \prime}\), tops in the conference before Freed bested him a week later.

Carusone captured another victory at the Syracuse Invitational on Feb . 5 with a clearance of \(16^{\prime \prime} 2^{\prime \prime}\).
"On the track, I have made the transition pretty well," Carusone said il didn't think 1 would be jumping as well as changed a lot of my approach. Now it is lot of my approach. Now it \({ }^{\text {a }}\)

In high school, the Slingerland native ranked as one of the top jumpers in the state. As a

\title{
Applicant speaks to students
}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
After personally interviewing about 100 Caribbean immigrant workers in New York City, Linda Carty relayed Tuesday night all she learned about the plight of domestic helpers.

Carty, a University of Michigan at Flint associate professor and lecturer, is an applicant for the chairperson position in the Syracuse University African-American Studies department.

To a crowd of about 50 people, she explained the difference between domestic help and nannies. Nannies are white women while only black women - specifically those from Jamaica - are put into positions of domestic help.
"These positions have not only been gendered, but racialized," she said.

The delineation between the two terms is very clear, Carty said. Nannies See CARTY page 8

Enloying Tuesday's wamm weather, Jonathan Sacks, first-year graduate student in the bioengineering program, frolics with his dog Madison in front of Link Hall. Temperatures reached into the mid-50s.

E Election 2000

\section*{McCain wins states}

BY KEVIN TAMPONE Asst. News Editor

Arizona Sen. John McCain trounced Texas Gov. George W. Bush in a primary victory sweep Tuesday in Arizona and Michigan Casweep that bolstered McCain's presidential campaign after a substantial blow in the South Carolina contest last Saturday.

McCain lead Bush 50 percent to 43 percent at 2 a.m. in Michigan with 97 percent of precincts reporting. He clinched 52 of the 58 total national convention delegates at stake there. Candidates receive three delegates for each of the 16 total congressional districts that large delegates awarded to the candidate who wins the overali vote.

Bush won in two congressional districts, securing only six convenwhile garnering 5 percent of the total vote, did not win a convention delegate.

In Arizona, MeCain was ahead of Bush 60 percent to 36 percent at midnight Mountain time with 83 percent of the precincts reporting. Arizona's primary is a win-ner-take-all contest, awarding 30 convention delegates to the candidate who wins the state. Keyes received three percent of the vote there.

The triumphs for McCain come despite the fact that Michigan Gov. John Engler and Arizona Gov. Jane Full both endorsed Bush.

The Michigan victory hinged on the large number of Democratic and independent voters that turned out for the open contest, said Joe Burns, chairman of Syracuse University's College Republicans. "You can attribute McCain's entire victory in Michigan to non-

See PRIMARY page 4

\section*{NAACP plans spring events}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

Plans for the upcoming semester took center stage Tuesday at the year's first meeting for Syracuse University's the Advancement of Colored People.

Members will host tables next week in the Schine Student Center atrium, said Marsha Style, internal vice president and senior marketing and management information systems major.

Group representatives will help students register to vote in the upcoming national elections and allow them to sign up for an NAACP membership, she said. "We want to make sure people are registered to vote so they can have a say in what kind of president they have, Style said.

In addition, members will place a comments and suggestions box in the NAACP office in Schine, Room 126D. Style said. They will also try to establish office hours so anyone looking to speak with a group representative will be able to do so, she added.

\section*{State Affairs \\ Senate considers tuition proposal \\ BY ASHLEIGH GRAF}

Staff Writer
The New York state Senate is considering a plan to aid middle-income families with tuition payments.

Although a date has not been set, the Senate will soon vote on the College Bound plan, said Art Levy, a spokesman for Sen. John DeFrancisco

See TAP page 6

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{Authority defends Centro}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

Centro bus line service is not hampered by vacancies on its Board of Directors, said a Centro spokesman Monday in response to harsh criticismby New York State Assembly Majority Leader Michael Bragman.

Bragman (D-Syracuse) questioned the integrity of the bus line in a Jan. 28 letzer, citing a lack of membership on the \(\mathbf{1 0}\)-person board.
"In addition to the two vacancies, there are four members serving under expired terms and at least two members who are absent from the region during the winter months," Bragman wrote.

Centro is "disappointed" by Bragman's statements, said David Ristau, director of marketing and communication for the Central New York Regional Transit Authority, the group controlling Centro bus service.
"Unlike a public board, this board has no ability to take control of its membership," Ristau said. Clearly there are two vacancies and there are members whose terms have expired. But on state boards, members continue to serve until they are replaced."

See CENTRO page 4

\title{
[briefs]
}

\title{
campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}
* The University Senate hosts an open forum at 4:15 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium. Chanelesent to answer student ques presen

W Sportscaster and SU alumaus Dick Stockton speaks Bartlett Room of Newhouse II.
- Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President Clinton, and Bruce Lindsey, assis. tant counsel ta the president, speak from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Schine Underground regarding their experiences as the presithroughout the last year. Mills will also speak earlier at \(1: 15\) p.m. in the Bartlett Room of Newhouse II regarding her position at Oxygen Media.
- Alpha Phi Omega sorority accepts \($ 2\) donations for Sadie Hawkins Day carnations. The Howers can be purchased in the Schine from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.
and will be delivered an Feb. 29.

EI The School of Social Work presents Career Fair 2000 from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Sims Hall Atrium. More than two dozen employers from Central New York will be in attendance.

EThe Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesce St. Tick ets are $15-$38, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call \(443-3275\) for ticiset information.

EThe Financial Management Association hosts Certified Managerial Accomntant Car Basso from 7 to 8:15 p.m. in the Sabkan Suite, th Floor of the will speak about "Career Plan ning in Accounting and Financial Management nefreshmal Management Refresh welcome.

\section*{correction}

Tuesday's edition of the D.O. incorrectly stated that SU's Student Activity Fee is $114 each year per student. \($ 106\).
In the same edition, an article regarding a proposed residence hall smoking policy in correctly stated that the proposal would establish a nonsmoking area five feet around actually be 15 feet.

The D.O. regrets the errors.

\section*{China wants to start negotiations}

BEIJING - While Asian stock markets fell and Thiwan reacted bluntly to China's ultimatum to the island to negotiate Beijing's arnouncement altack Beijing's announcement was portrayed here Tuesday not as a to Taiwan's next president ehat China wants gerious talks to take place soon.

Wiations Taiwan to start negotiations. It's that simple, ment offeial. This document was issued to get their atten. tion."

Despite its saberwrattling

\section*{world news}

\section*{Truck convoy \\ rolls to capital}

\section*{W jupgernaut of trucks} to seven miles long rumbled into Washington Tuesday to protest high diesel prices and then slipped away, roiling the national debate over fuel costs but leaving commuters undisturbed. turbed.
araing that escalating fuel charges are endangering their liveliood, independent truckers brought their month-old campaign to the marble terrace of the U.S. Capitol. Rally organizers, reflecting oil prices, demanded that Congress suspend the federal excise tax of 24 cents a gallon on diesel fuel and offer drivers a further rebate on diesel sales.

Diesel fuel prices started spiraliag upward after the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries slashed crude on production in March by 7.5 percent to boost prices that had fallen to 12 -year lows. Diesel prices in the Northeast, as estimated by the Automobile Assonearly double the nationwide average a year ago.

\section*{Iranian elections encourage U.S.}

WASHINGTON, D.C. -
Buoyed by reformers' vicBuoyed by reformers' vic-ory in Iranian elections, the Clinton administration is looking for ways to open a dialogue aimed at ending two decades of estrangement between Washington and Tehran, officials said TuesTehray.
The strong showing by reformers, who captured at least tiamenirds of the 290-seat par hament in Fridays elections, has been welcomed in washington as a potential shift in toward Iran's president, Moharmmad Khatami.

Administration officials said the elections appear to of gaging Tehran, yet for en United Stateshas long ac cused of supporting terrorism, undermining Mideas peace talks and pursuing nu peace taks and pursuing nuclear weapons. At least, officials said, the United States is likely to respond with gooding a presidential address to the Iranian people next month.
tone, China's statement Monday contains within it the seeds of compromise, according to Asian and Weatern analysta. The 11, 0 , some significant demands and substantially modifies China's negotiating poaition, possibly incheances for talks of Ciminishing

\section*{Group reports}

Russian killings
MOSCOW - Russian soldiers went on a deadly ramspage earlier this month in a neighborhood of the Chechen capital of Grozny, killing at least 60 civilians in the worst case yet disclosed of Russian military atrocities, an international human rights group charged today began the morning of which began the morning of Feb. 5 in the suburb of Aldi, soldiers "systematically" robbed and shot civilians, raped women and looted and burned homes according to a draft report on the events prepared by Hu man Rights Watch and based on interviews with witnesse and relatives of those killed.
Russian comman have denied that their troop muve denied that their troops mith continuing criticism faced Western organizations from Werstern organizations and Governmenta; acting Presiden pointed a new human rights commissioner for Chechnya.
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published Monday churough Friday during Symacuse University's academic year by The Daily Orange Cosp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the first hive copies complementary and each addicional copy cooss \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798
Business 443-2314
\(\begin{array}{rr}\text { News } & 443-2127 \\ \text { Liferyle } & 443-2128\end{array}\)
Liferyle \(443-2128\)
Sports \(443-2208\)
Photography 443-9795
E-mail editorial Ardailyorange.com

\section*{EMulticultural Affairs}

\section*{Storyteller shares}

\section*{Navajo folktale} her stories in English so that Navajo children can have an understanding of their culture.
\({ }^{\text {In }} 1992\) I started storytelling," Dooley said. "That's wher i wentinto a classroom full of Navajo children and nome of them had ever heard a Navajo story.

I found out that a lot of them had moved into bigger towns for economic purposes and the connection between them and their grandparents was cut off, she added. between the generations"

Dooley explained to her audience that she could not tell them a complete Navajo stary in the time allotted because Navajoional tale takes nine days and nine nights to tell. The part of the story she chose to share would have come around the sixth night, she said.

Dooley told the story of a man who goes off with his brother to battle the monsters that are attacking his moun tain. He finds the monsters when he falled with smoke and smells like stinky feet," Dooley said.

The monsters came in the form of virus and disease, sleep, humger, dirtiness and old age, Dooley said. Every time the monster slayer drew his bow to kill the monsters, the monsters offered to trade him a gift in exchange for their life.

Although he had gifts to share, the man escaped having never killed the monsters, Dooley said.
"The only way we will ever get into the next world is if we kill them," she said. II tell this story to reawaken the Sonny Dooley, a Navajo storyteller, relatess a traditional Navajo lagend 80 an audience of 80 students Tuesday night in Egters Half. stories in you, from your heritage, from greater appreciation for the Navajo culyour culture, from your land and your people.

"The next time you want to push your snooze button, think of what you are wasting. The next time you are hungry, ask yourself what you really want." Dooley added. "The only way these monsters can be overcome is if in our house peace abidcs. Maybe that is too deep for you tonight, but that is my calling in life.
radio, film major, said she gained a tare after hearing Dooley speak.
"It was a really good story," Fanala said. "I didn't know that stories from other cultures could be sointeresting and so entertaining."

Dooley's story encouraged students to examine theirlire choices, said Kat Kreuter, a junior magazine major.
"It made me think about my life about the time 1 waste and the things could be doing." Kreuter said. "How thos demons get to all of us."

Tix @ Schine Box Office or at door w/ SU ID
CILTME
Located In the Basement of the Schine Student Center

\section*{CENTRO}
continued from page 1
The Centro bus system has not suffered because of the board's membership situation, Ristau added.
"I haven't really noticed any problems arising from the vacancies on the board, but I think they need to fix that," said Centro rider Dave MeDo nough, a Syracuse University sophomore political science ma

The Daily Otange
jor. "There certainly need to be improve the system."

A Feb. 7 letter by Ceatro Board Chairman Vincent Cook addressed Bragman's concerns attempting to answer questions posed by the Assemblyman.

Cook could not be reached for comment.

Bragman, however, disputed Coak's reasoning in another letter sent Feb. 11، He claimed the Cook's answers were unac ceptable because they were without specificity. He called for a more directed response to the questions he posed.
\({ }^{-1}\) find many of your responses to be evasive, condescending and even offensive, not only to me, but l believe also to the people of Central New York, Bragman wrote. Relative to problems with recent capital purchases, I re main concerned that these are symptoms of an endemic lack of oversight by memberis of the Authority. I look forward to your detailed response to these concerns as soon as possible.

Bragman said he wants to know the number of women and minorities who have served on the board. He also questioned absences by board members and the status of projects he considers critical to developing Central New York as a trans portation hub

Bragman could not be

\section*{PRIMARY}
continued from page 2
Republicans." Burns said. "If you look at upcoming primaries in states like California and New York, that group does not have the same privileges. In California, at leabt, they can vote, but those votes don't count.

McCain recently called the surge of Democratic and independent support a movemeat similar to the Reagan Democrats, who supported former President Ronald Reagan during his term based on his ideology and message. The people supporting McCain in the current contest, however, are simentire Republican party, said

Burns, a junior political science and history major.

II think that most of the Reagan Democrats, if they voted today, then I think they voted for George Bush." he said. "If anyone voted for McCain today then it's because they don't like Gearge Bush or if they're from Michigan maybe they don't like Governor Engler."

CNN exit polls showed that more than 50 percent of the total voters in the Michigan primary were either Democrats or independents. Only 48 percent independents. Only 48 percent were registered Republicans according to CNN.

McCain secured 83 percent of the Democratic vote in the primary, while Bush garnered 4 percent. Independents also strongly favored McCain by Giving him 67 percent of their Gote, according to exit polis. Bush received 27 percent of the independent vote while Keyes earned 4 percent.
"These are people that are out to destroy the Republican primary," Burns said.

College Republicans Secretary Gina Derossi, however said that the non-Republicans voting in the Michigan contest Voted for McCain based on his philosophy, not out of disdain for Bush.

I think they tike him and would vote for him and want to see him in there," said Derossi, asenior public relations major ily that normaily vote and famratic and they have said they Would support MeCain in the general election."

maries mark and Michigan primaries mark the opening of which more than 20 states will host a Republican primary elec tion or caucus. New York state hosts its primary election March 7.

As the primary season comes to a close, contests on both the Republican and De mocratic sides of the elections have turned increasingly ag ressive

Pat Robertson, Christian Coalition president, recorded an automated phone call that targeted voters in several states With upeoming priattacked some members of M

\section*{wowhmbekeom/iree} Doyour iou0eztax fitery niluircer frite harblock

Introducing free online tax preparation from H&R Block. Just grab your W-2's and head to hrblock com/free. There, you can fill out and electronically file your \(1040 E 2\) form online. And get your tax refund fast. Best of all, it costs nothing. Nada. Zero. Zip. And it's only at hrblock. com/free. What are you waiting for?

YOU COULD WIN \($ 5,000\) IN SPRING BREAK CASH!

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{ORL misses mark with smoking ban}

There's no butts about it - the Office of Residence Life's newest addition to residence hall smoking policies is ridiculous.

Beginning next semester, all residence halls will be smoke-free. Fair enough: Smoking in residence halls creates fire hazards and makes allergy sufferers hack and cough when ventilation systems spit second-hand smoke into nonsmokers' rooms

But ORL's proposal to ban cigarette smoking for 15 feet around the perimeter of each residence hall takes the lights-out crusade a step too far. ORL and Residence Hall Association representatives say the measure aims to keep wayward smoke from drifting into first-floor windows when smokers congregate to puff outside dorms.

Syracuse University lies in the heart of Central New York, where the snow flies from October to April. It's doubtful that any windows will be left wide open during the chilly winter months, which nullifies the argument for protecting first-floor dwellers.

And anyway, a strong easterly wind is all that it takes to get lung-fulls of soot and pollutants from the city trash incinerator just beyond the west edge of campus. A Marlboro at 15 feet seems so deadly in contrast.

Being unable to light up underneath residence hall patios will force students away from dorms, perhaps into traffic or unsafe, unmonitored areas of campus, which is a safety threat in itself And if students can't safely go outside to smoke, they'l simply stuff a towel under their door and puff indoors, which negates the intent of the original smoking ban.

ORL, fails to produce the most vital ingredient to making their policies work: a mandate from students, In order to implement fair smoking policies, ORL must conduct more extensive campus-wide surveys about smoker and nonsmoker habits and concerns.

Good luck, too, to Public Safety, resident advisers and ORL personnel, who under this plan will be charged to police thousands of campus smokers.

It's nice to again see SU using its resources so wisely in the name of a pointless policy.

\section*{[dö̆] \\ Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus}

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor

Justin Silverman Editorial Edtior Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Edito Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Dírector Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Hovit Auar Sxpnim Konali Dave Curtis Joy Davia zat Erinimger
Adecet Deestruikh Nova Austrow/
Laura Prabucki Kate Stevenson Tiftany Lankes Kevin Trumpone Corey hann Magin McKenna Connor Enmis Connor Enmis Erür Boyio Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Tom Mason Tachnell Coldan
tisn Cxswen nemurio Eotio Row Fooks Design Editor Desien Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Original school morphs under administrative control}

Once upon a tirne, there was a school. It was a pretty good school. It had new buildings and equipment, qualified and knowledgeable teachers and most importantly, talented students. Obviously, these students were the school's top priority, because the school was evaluated on the competency of its graduates.

One day, one of the school's leaders said, "We should make this focus on students our primary objective, but still be mindful of maintaining a high level of research and scholarship." So the school officially became a "student-centered research institution." And time passed.

Other schools were getting a lot of money and overwhelming amounts of publicity because of a new discovery called Division 1 athictics." So the leaders of the school, now called trustees, called a meeting and decided to acquire these Division no matter what the cost.
MATT
WALTON
A few teachers raised their voices, cautioning that the young peoples' education should be the primary con cern, but they were quickly silenced. "You're standing in the way of promress, they were told. "Besides, the world the way of progress, they were told Besides, the woric able Division 1 athletics came to the school. And time passed.

Initially, the students had been the top prioxity of the school, because the public perception of the school was based on their scholarship. When Division 1 athletics came, that all changed. More people concerned themselves with the statistics posted by the members of the basketball and football teams than with the research being conducted in the classrooms. In response to this, the trustees slowly shifted their focus and more of their en ergies to the development of Division 1 athleties. And time passed.

By now the school had grown quite large, and in addition to the students and teachers, the trustees felt the need to create beings called "administrators" to keep the students and teachers in line. But soon the adminustra cors came running to the trustees, complaining that the ind for new teachers wanted too much, constantly ask ing for new supplies and more money for research and be right. After all, they were put in charge of the students and teachers and would know best how to handle the situation, so they slowly began to cut back on funding for educational programs. The students and tenchers were shocked, and went to the trustees for an explanation, but were told by the trustees' secretary that they needed to schedule an appointment with their administrators before they could talk directly to the trustees.

Frustrated, the students and teachers went directly to the home of the trustees, only to discover that they were in the midst of an expensively catered party in ap preciation of all the administrators. So the students and teachers did their best to learn and teach with the resources they possessed, while the administration flourished. And time passed.

Soon the administration had control of almost every aspect of student and teacher life. But there remained a small minority that still fought back, that dared to push boundaries and uncover truths. This frightened the ad easy if not for all of the pesky students and be rather exsy in and they plonded with the trustere to do soping to about the situation

So the trustees made a few calls and within weeks, the school was in the iron grasp of a fiend referred to as the judicial board. "Ignoring any conception of justice which its name might suggest, the judicial board quickly rounded up all of the free thinkers and social commenta tors, breaking down their resolve with petty accusations and psychological intimidation. By this time, many of the students and teachers were aligned against free speech, having been subdued by the subtle propagandist tool of "palitical correctness."

In a final, decisive move, the judicial board locked away all of the truth seekers and silenced the few re maining individuals, and sucdenly - all was quiet. There were no dissenting voices and the adrninistration (which had absorbed the judicial board and was by now virtual ly indistinguishable from the trustees) congratulated it self.

And time passed, but life didn't really continue, be cause knowledge and learning, those elements essential to the continuation of life, had died. Amidst the cold, gray similariz, alone in tower orbuzzord and cooperative what it had created, and smiled.

Matt Wallon is a senior music composition major Mis column appears Wednesdays in The Daily Orange. E. His column appears wednesday mail him at mjwalton@syredu

\section*{letters}

\section*{College of Law senator defends group's role}

To the Editor:
I am writing in response to Henry Chung's Feb. 15 opinion colHenry Chungs Feb. 15 opinion column. I must start by saying I am a member of the Law School Senate, and as such, one may wish to impute a bias into what say. Howin a good position to speak to Henry Chung soncerns.

First, Mr. Chung states the most "political" stance the Law School Senate has taken is to petition the return of the snack bar lady" to our college. While we did in fact petition for her return, I believe Mr. Chung is forgetting other stances the Senate has taken. One such instance was working in confunction with the GSO to bring about changes in the policies that exist within the University Judi cial Board, an issue Mr. Chung himself brought to the Senate.

Mr. Chung also states that the Senate should be getting involved in more national issues, through debates and by sponsoring prominent speakers. If Mr. Chung had checked, he would have found the working to bring Hillary Clinton and Rudy Giuliani together for a debate on our very campus. Fur: ther, the Senate is discussing a speaking engagement with Sam speaking engagement with Sam ter investigations, and the Law School Senate and the GSO are currently co-sponsoring an upcom ing speaking engagement with Ralph Nader Given these events, it is, at best, difficult to see where Mr Chung's accusations of apathy or lack of involvement have any mer \(\qquad\) If Chung had made the decision to attend our Senate meetings something anyone is welcome to do, he would have scen occur the very things he claims do not. That he chose co not see for himselr what disappointine Especially apten disappointing. Especially given his own complaints of apathy.

Zaven T. Saroyan College of Law Senate

\section*{Painter portrait} painter Gelsy Voma speaks to about 60 students Tuesday In Shaffer Art Building ther visit to SU is part of The Ninth Anmual Matrilineage Symposiumr: Women, Abt and Chango.

\section*{TAP}
continued from page 1
(R-Syracuse).
The four-point plan allows New York state residents to have more educational opportunities both in and out of the state, he said.
"For instance, if a student wanted to go to the University of Rochester or UCLA, he would still have funding," Levy said.

The plan will greatly affect many in-state students at Syracuse University and the Syracuse University and the State University of New York College of Environmental SciCollege of Environmental Sci

There is a tax deduction in plan to allow private and public tuition to be refunded to families. The Tuition Assistance Program, a grant given to also be expanded, he said.

The income cap for mid-de-income families applying for TAP is currently \($ 50,500\) for TAP is currently \($ 50,500\) and has not been altered since 1990 , Levy said. To account for inflation and other changes in the economy, the proposal would move the cap to \($ 80,000\). In addition, the proposal will increase the maximum grant to \($ 5,000\), he said.

The estimated cost for attendance at \(S\) for the 1999 This includes tuition health fee, Student Activity Fee, housing, meals, books, personal expenses, school supplies and travel, according to the SU Office of Financial Aid.
"I wouldn*t be here if it weren't for TAP," said Michelle Brooks, a freshman political science major. "I hope the proposal passes and helps students have more opportunities n and outside of New York."

Chris Wallace, a junior hisTAP, SU grants and Stafford Loans to pay for college expenses. Stafford Loans are exerally subsidized student loans "For myself and an older brother at \(S U\), without \(T A P\), it would be hard to afford a tuition like SU's," he said. "If they raised the TAP grant, that would be icing on the cake."

As part of an incentive program, college juniors and seniors whomaintain agrade point average of at least 3.5 , or are engaged in community service, will be entitled to financial rewards, Levy said.

If the proposal is passed, the plan will be phased in during four years. The government cost, when the plan is millian, according to be \($ 365\) millian, aceording to reports from DeFrancisco's office.

Any little bit helps," SUNY ESF student Josh Brown said. it." Senate did something about

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse
DON'? BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD!
ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com

\section*{Longfey/ones}
1) HEAT INCLUDED?
2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

continued from page 1
On April 4, the group will host a celebration in commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s assassination. It is a national event, Style said.

We're trying to promote peace, not onky on in the campus, Style said.

She added that the group is looking for people to speak at the vigil and asked members to search for interested persons.

During Tuesday's meeting. executive board members spoke of past events to inform new members of the group's history on campus.

Style said last semester the group participated in a nationwide boycott of national television networks to protest the lack of minority characters in programming.
NBC CBS and FOX b, such as joined the NAACP in the quest joined the NAACP in the quest Na diversify programming, said psychology major and the chapter's executive secretary. This is a promising development, she said.

But she also questioned whether the progress would continue.
" "Let's see how effective it is." Lambert said. "Maybe they'll start all over again when they don't get as much press. But right now it's a pos press. Bive thing." Members also discussed the possible organization or an by the NAACP.
"A lot of people on this campus can't afford the university's tuition," said Shakira Glenn, external vice president and senior information science and technology and marketing major.

The program would require students to write a letter explaining the reasoning for She added that the group would have to raise money to fund the scholarship and that any ideas for fund-raisers would be welcome.

Although only five people attended the meeting, Glenn said she is optimistic about the upcoming semester.
"I think this is going to be a good semester," she said. "I think we are more focused and more mature. I hope we can have a prosperous and positive semester."

Glenn said Tuesday's meeting information was sent out too late on the groups listtendance.

Congratulations to the Mewest members of Alpha @micran Pi \(^{2}\)

JENNY GLICKMAN
CHRISTA OTMAELEY JAMME SPJELLER ALLYSON SCHWFARTZ DANA HAUSER KIH MELSON
JULE KRNDEL
STACY 8USHINEER
EMILY PAUSHTER
MARISA SAVIA
ALLISON GREENBERG
AIINDY EORDON
JULES BAILEY
ELEMA COLDEERE
LINDSAY TOTOLO
TRACEY WEJNTRRAUS
BETH ANSEL

EMILY ROTTER
RENEE SAFIR DAPHNE LIAHAER RARDI STONE AMAMDA COHEN JENMHFER BROWN EMILY KAPLAN EMAMA WERNER SARA WOLSTEIN SLOANE SCAECHTER JODJ SANDLER MELISSA EAMNATA REBECCA MATT DEANNA BAREA degstca ente ALYX SHORE
stipha Llave and Rases

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyte: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

London Dublin Paris Nice Copenhagen Stockholm Oslo Amsterdam Berlin Frankturt Munich Zürich Geneva Istanbul
Special Low Student Airfares to EUROPE!

Fly now and get \($ 25.00\) off your next trip|*

More Than 100 Departure Cities!
Low Student Airfares!
Eurailpasses • Bus Passes • Study Abroad
www.StudentUniverse.com
1-800-272-9676
*Some restrictions and blackouts appiy.

The Daily Orange

PARTY
continued from page 1
only take care of children．Do－ mestic helpers care for the children but also have other duties that include elderly care，housekeeping，cooking and laundry，she said．

The interviewed women told stories of how they were forced to leave their homes to take low－paying jobs in New York City．
＂People just don＇t under－ stand，＂said Carry，quoting an interviewee．＂This is hard emo－ impossible choice．＂

Most of the Caribbean women employed in the United States as domestic help are il－ legal immigrants and have no working papers，Party said． U．S．immigration laws traci－ tionally have been restrictive to poorer countries，making it very difficult for the women to added．

These laws have been praised by New York state Gov． George E．Pataki and New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani，she added． added．
＂The city had too many poor people of color and these people wore draining the re－ sources，＂said Catty，mocking sources，＂said Cart，mocking what she said was the message sent by Pataki and Giuliani．

That message，however， has no basis，Party said．The largest group of immigrant we－ fare recipients is made of im－ migrants from the former Sovi－ et Union，not blacks，she said．

Caribbean women from poor countries come to the salary of \($ 350\) per week－low by U．S．standards．But it trans－ bates into more than double countries，Party said

These women cannot get work in their native countries because the United States and other industrialized，capitalist countries take advantage of these nations，she said．

As corporations make more and more money，the peo－ pile become poorer and poorer，＂ she said．

The need for domestic help in the United States is rising for a variety of reasons，Carty said．One cause is the increase in the number of holds with two working par－ cents．With both parents work－ ing，there is a need for inex－ pensive childcare，often coming from illegal immigrants，she added．
＂Black women are the cheapest of the cheap labor，＂ Carly said．

Sheikina Liverpool，a freshman broadcast journalism ty＇s lecture because her mother was employed as a domestic helper after moving to the United States．For this reason， she felt it was very important to attend the lecture and show her support for Caribbean ed－ cational programs，she said．

Kallima Clarke，SU Caribbean Student Association comptroller，also said there is a great need for the study of the Caribbean culture and struggles．

SU needs to know how in－ portent this is to the students， said Clarke，a junior account－ ing and finance major．
＂Hopefully this will be a stepping stone to more Caribbean－related courses，＂ Clarke added．

Dance Works expressions

1：30 pill
coldstrem audiortin
\($ 3 \mathrm{w} /\) arts adventure
\($ 5\) for students
\($ 6\) general admission

A little reassurance for life＇s ups and downs．

To protect against AIDS and of her STD， always use latex condoms．

How＇re we down＇？

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage．Suggestions，com－ ments，criticisms，and compliments are always welcome．Please direct your message to the appropriate department．

News：news＠dailyorange．com
Sports：sports＠dailyorange．com
Lifestyle：life＠dailyorange．com
Editorial：editorial＠dailyorange．com
Tidally Orange

2
2 za advertisement inched
－Whedadvertising office 6 dr

\＃䍂解for current rates，and \section*{foce}

Drug search
The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to decide whether police are violating motorists' constitutional rights when they set up road blocks to conduct random drug inspections. The case, to be heard at the Court next fall. could wide. ly affect police operations to implement an array of checkpoint programs to impede the flow of narcotic trafficking. The dispute involves a case from Indianapolis. where police officers checked drivers for signs of impairment, such as slurred speech, and led drugsniffing dogs around vehicles. A federal appeals court ruled what the practice wrongly detains motorists who have motorists who have done nothing to raise done nothing to rai

\section*{Depressed youth} Doctors are prescribing stimulants, like Ritalin, and ant depressants, for prescho Prozac, for preschoosrising rapidly, according to a new study released Tuesday. The study, which study, which examined the use of the use of such medicines in chilcines in children between 2 and 4 years old. found the use of such druss had doubled or even tripled between 1991 and 1995. The rapid increase in the use of these drugs in such young children occurred despite the little research that has been done on the medicines' effects on children so young.

Mountain madness
Researchers at the foot of Mt.
Washington are excitedly preparing to test the first laser instrument of its kind -a telescope that measures wind velocity and direction at altifeet. The to 40,000 feet. The mountain endured a record
231 . 231 . hour wind in 1934, and with its unique combination of ice, wind and old, it has earned New England's highst peak a welldeserved reputation or "The Worst Weather in the 100 people have died there during the tast 100 years.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"I try to take one day at a time, but sometimes several days attack me at once." Ashleigh Brilliant

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443-2128
lifedaily
orange.com

\section*{[lifestyle]}

\section*{BEFORE} their time
Premature balding hits college males.
See Lifestyle Thursday.

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange
are looking for the best students they can find, and our students hit the ground running.

To keep up with its competitors like Macy's and Nordstrom Inc., Bloomingdales has launched a Web site on which consumers way purchas products online. ut it stin the said. We will expand the brand" he said \({ }^{\text {" We will expand the brand," he said. }}\) home furnishings and buying by mail."

\section*{Past and future}

Bloomingdale's was founded in 1872 sec B Buommancmurss pege 10

\section*{Walking starts London education \\ Here in London, I am a full-time \\ me I could have a seat in the waiting \\ and the receptionist commented that "my} pedestrian. I walk to class. I walk to the grocery store. I walk to the tube (subway) station and through its winding \(\frac{\)\begin{tabular}{c} \text { Erica } \\ \text { Levi }
\end{tabular}}{\begin{tabular}{c} \text { making } \\ \text { strides }
\end{tabular}} train line to another. I stroll through museum exhibits and around London's parks.

I feel wonderful,
despite the pinching sensation that il started feeling in few weeks ago in my right ankle. I tried to ignore it until finally I broke down and went to a doctor. Ironically, I had to walk down four flights of atairs, up a busy city street to the station and again from the tube station to his office. My roommate, Claire, came with me to. ease my worries - I do not inke doctors

When I arrived, the receptionist told room, and that Claire could wait downstairs. I sat in one of three empty seat why she could not be with me. I was seen 20 minutes later by the doctor. He took down my patient information on a white piece of paper. I sat in a converted flat, and had my ankle examined in the kitchen. At the end of my seenningly awful trip to my first and hopefully last doctor, the general practitioner told me I have an overuse injury.

I walk too much and need to rest my foot, he said.

The receptionist told me she didn't take credit card for payment and sent me out to do more walking - four blocks to the closest ATM. I ausomatis but it was the doctor would take Visa, but it was returoed w follower" is with me. I can't help but mumble something about the fact that there is a waiting room of empty chairs as I leave, and realize as I walk out that, though we speak the same language for the most part, the English practice different customs.

I take my overuse injury and my bill for 50 pounds and begin my journey home. I walk back to the tube, passing the odd street signs and the painted curbsides with messages telling you which way to look for oncoming traffic. I make it down the escalator, which wasn't working, and the Cadbury chocolate machine in the tube station tempts me, ike the pizza places on Marshall Street do after a night out.

Here in England, you don't have to See DOCTOR page 10

RICOMINGDAEE'S Dcontinued from page 9 by brothers Lyman and Manph bloomingdale on torically the federated department store has focused its chains in New York and New Jersey but has expanded to the South Eastand California in recent years.

Despite its marked success in fashion, there are those in the fashion industry who question whether Bloomingdale's has what it takes to survive the coming decades of competition, because of its long time association with New York City and its small specialization.
"It's hard for any department store to compete right are mass merchants on ore
-4 CINEMAS

\section*{CAROUSEL 19}
: cAROUSEL CENTER BARGAIN MATINEES BEFORE SPM.

CICERO 13
Ssas E. CIRCLE OR. \(595-0299\) 1699-4291

 GREAT NORTHERN 10 S31 431 RIGHT REAR OF MALL \(652-2730\)

 CAMILLUS 10

 AMEMCEN SHOPPINGTOWN 10 ERIE BLVD. E 449-2210

 DOWNTO YOUPG 1 Hizios

 fosby 4tis avertisin
\}eadine for classhf Whenents is 2 pman pessidays priogtoxt: Ryict the ens

The Daily Orange
end and speciality shops on the other. The Bloomingdale's. Macy's and Lord and Taylor's don't have enough distinction among them and you're going to see a few drop out."

Unless stores like Bloomingdale's and Macy's establish a loyal consumer base beyond the Northeast corridor, Olivette said, they may well soon.
\({ }^{\text {un }}\) Unless they can overcome their regional image, they may have a very difficult time, he said.

But as far as the competition goes, Gould said he is not too worried.
"We'll survive it," he said. Little businesses are going to find it very difficult, and midale of the road business-

\section*{DOCTOR}
continued from page 9
tip the bartenders, so you an spend the extra pence on apaper. This can help you ind in on the tube becaus it is custom for the British co avoid eye contact. These tips are in travel books lones before you arrive, but until before you arrive, but until cult."
"The reality of it is, we do more business than the competition, he added. The customer is looking for a newness's what we stand forn

\section*{Fashion attraction}

But few can argue that Bloomingdale's - famous for its "Big Brown" shopping "Bloomies" - is not a proverbial synonym for New York City fashion finds, Olivette said.
"New York City is still the place to be in terms of being a center for fashion," he added.

Amanda Nicholson, an assistant professor in the retailing department, said that for many SU students, Bloomingdale's and New York City \({ }^{50}\) hand-in-hand "It's very much a demographic, Nicholson said. We Nave a who have grown up with Bloomingdale's. We have a very fashion-oriented student here, and there is an affinity for the store there.,

What makes Bloomingdale's attractive to college students, Nicholson said, is its young attitude and fastpaced ability to keep up with the trends.

Flo Firpo, a native of Buenos Aires who grew up in Seattle, never visited a Bloomingdale's until she came to SU, she said. The freshman retailing and management major scoped out a New Jersey Bloomingdale's New Jersey broomingale's wring the doctor in Palace or even the doctor imagine what it is like to have London as your campus.

Isit and wait with Claire for our tube to come and I wonder if my boyfriend is liking his new job, and if its snowing in Syracuse, and into the station, it all comes into pers pective.
This is a test. London way not be so different from New York City or my home outside of Washington, D.C., but it is unique enough to pose challenges, put up barriers and make a foreigner feel lost. I hear strange accents all around me and smell the aromas of ethnic cuisines, and know that this test of making it in a new riend.'s a really good retail establishment," said Firpo, who is employed by Nord strom in Seattle. proriety of products. If there was one here, I'd probably shop there."
During Thursday's lecture, Firpo said she hopes Gould will address how Bloomingdale's plans to shift its East Coast image into the midwest and West Coast.

Gould said he is most looking forward to interacting with SU retailing students.
"There's an excitement in Syracuse," he said. "Students thereseem to be incredibly committed to retail."
place is not new. But I can it have gladly learned that beyond currency conversions, new expressions and even varied medical procedures, the stamp in my passport has done more than let ne into this country.

It has let me become more in tune with myself

If so, apply to become a Daily Orange
ASSISTANT COPY EDITOR Letters of intent are being accepted until 5 p.m. Thursday at The D.O., 744 Ostrom Ave. For more information, please call Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal at 443-9798.

\section*{6 compacts.}

5 midsizes.
1 way of treating you.

Did you know that Saturn is growing? Our popular S-Series sedans, coupes and wagon just got some new, midsize companionsthe L -Series performance sedans and wagons. Of course, well love you just the same, no matter what model you buy.

Saturn of Syractuse
In the Heart of Historic Atatomobile Reme
716 West Genesee Street \(315-472-0021\)

Saturn of Rotutc. 31
Just west of the
Great Northern Mall
3855 Route 31
315-622-0054

\section*{\($ 11,125^{\text {man }}\) \\ through}
\($ 19,275^{\text {mant }}\)

The 2000 Sattmr fumily of cars ranges from $11,125 for SI through S19.275 for IWI. Mamufacturcr's Suggested Retail Prices vary per model and each retailer sets its onen price. Tax, title, license and optional equipment are extra. O2000 Saturn Corporation.

\section*{R.SATURN.}

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car.

\section*{VILLANOVA}
continued from page 16 rebounding with geven per contest.

The senior also blocks 1.6 shots per game, but his physical play last season at The bome limed enan Thomas to just four field goal attempts in a win.

Brooks Sales, younger brother of former UConn women's All-American Nykesha Sales, adds 7.4 rebounds per game and chips in 8.8 points

On the perimeter, the Cats hit just 34 percent of their 3-point tries. The cold shooting suggests a Syracuse one defense, an area in heim said his squad needs work. We've slipped a little bit n defense the last four or ive games," he said. "We need to get better defensively." Junior guard Jermain Medley owns the responsibility of penetrating the SU defense. With speedy sophomore Bobby Smith leaving the team Peb. 11 to transfer, Medley hopped into the startng lineup and scored 14 secwin last week againgt West Wirginia.*eek againgt West Sharps Lynch bolsters Villanova's scoring punch. The senior scoring punch. The senior leader pours in 12 points per game and logs almost 34 minutes.

\section*{The Daily Oringe}

Fredtinan Gary Buchanta emergedin Big star. The stud from St. Louris shoots 38 .percent from downshoots 38percent from downtown asa averages 11.4 points per geme.

Wheni the Wildcats appear on Syracuse's schedule, rear, thetefinior forward posted a pair of double-doubles, averaging almost 23 points and 14 rebounds in the season seriegs:

But. has tapered off over the past six weeks. His scoring average in conference play falls short of double figures, contributing to the tight games SU continues to play against inferior competition.
any teams, except one or two," Boeheim said. "We have good balance, and were ca pable of playing with anyone in the country, but 1 m not Be anybody's afraid of us.',
Besides Blackwell's Besides Blackwell struggles, lack of point production from the two-guard position irks the veteran slipped below sixth-man Pre slipped below sixth-man Pre erage for the season.
The SU sophomore failed score more than six points in each of his last seven games, shooting a woeful 2fames, shooting from behind the arc since Jan. 31.

Backup
DeShaun Williams averages 6.3 points per game but struggles in SU's \(2-3\) zone, Boeheim said making errors that could cost the Orangemen tonigh against Lynch, Medley and Buchanan.

Syracuse's 19-0 star locked up an NCAA Tourna ment berth, and a strong fin ish could make them as high as a No. 2 seed come selec tion Sunday.

The Wildcats, conversely, remain desperate, knowing a remain desperate, knowing

\section*{New Store} Hours 9-6pm YOUR @uALTVY S, M. CLOTMANG STORE

\section*{SU BAASEKDTBATL} - T-Shipts • Hats • Sweatshirts \($ 1.00\) off with this coupon on any item in store

Are you interested in: Spending a semester in New York City? Studying urban education policies and procedures? Working with inner city youth?
If so, you should apply to be an intern at the \section*{High School for oor forship and Public Service}

Interested Students should contact:
Michelle Walker. Administrator HSLAPS Internship Program 102 Maxwell Hall or 443-4683
By March 1, 2000 for the Fall of 2000

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 ค.m. two business days prior to the issue cashichecks or credit cards, Calls4 \(48 \mathrm{~g} / \mathrm{g}\) fornoiedicirne mion
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline & Syracuse Oramgemen &  \\
\hline Conference & Big East & independent \\
\hline This Season & 21.3 (10.2 Big East), ranked No. 13 in the country and tied for the Big East lead with St. John's. & 16-9 (6-6 Big East), rising fast and pushing for a possible NCAA Tournament bid after slow start. \\
\hline Head Coach, & Jim Boeheim ( \(570 \cdot 196.24\) th year) & Steve Lappas (155-93, 8ih ye \\ \hline Key Players & Etan Thomas ( 14.4 ppg .9 .3 rag. 4 bpg ). Jason Hart ( 12 ppg. 6.2 apg). Preston Shumpert (10.1 ppg. 45.3 percent 3.point) & Malik Allen (13.9 ppg. 7.0 rpe. 1.6 ppg), Brian Lytich \((11.8\) ppge rpg. 3.3 apg). Brooks Sales \((8.8\) ppe. 7.4 rpe) \\
\hline The Scoop & Atter reating off 19 consecutive wins to begin the season. Syracuse has lost three of its last five. including a 76.75 loss to St. John's in front of a soldout Madison Square Garden on Saturday. Ryan Blackwell showed signs of an emergence from his recent slump with a big first half but fell back into the funk with a slow second stanza. & \begin{tabular}{l}
With the 245 -pound Alten and \\ 220 -pound Sales standing 6 -foot- \\
10. the Orangemen foce two big \\ big Dan Gadzuric and athetic \\ Jerome Moiso. The Bruin duo \\ cleaned up in SU's 71.67 win. \\ combining for 27 points and 20 \\ rebounds. Allen and Sates need to \\ step up if the surging Cats - \\ they ve won five of their tast six - \\ hope to hand Syracuse its second \\ consecutive loss.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
nationally televised road win over a ranked team could push them off the bubble and into March's madness.
"We're No. (39) in the RPI and our schedule strength is and our schedule strength is n't the year where the con ference can carry in an team with 17 wins
"We need 19 or 20 to get in. You have to get to a cer tain number of wins where they have to take you.

\section*{Daily Orange}

Get wired to Syracuse University

O
Daily news, sports, lifestyle and commentary updates

Hundreds of links to great Syracuse sites

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on ermail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.
News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

Sleep Deprivation

by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Out of Town \\ Out}
by David Pollack
-1 come here today on a In the coming fiscal year Platform of Soup! Last i promise...Crackers! And year I delivered Potato! *We now join you live at the homeless electorate debates,
"My fellow homeless

\section*{No Point}
by Ethan Schmidt

Rasputin Presents

\section*{by J-Dog & Mariska}

\section*{Tartaruga Pate}

by Thane Benson
by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

Sx 1500 weekly potantial mailing our ciroulars. No
Exprience flequited. Free informaiion packel. Cal FOR RENT
\({ }_{6}^{3 B E D R O O M S}\)
5250 per moms
2
Call Donna \(449-4621\)
 Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry, Fol OK' \(446-3+20\)

APARTMENTS
302 Marshal St
604 Walnut Ave
145 Avondale Place
Avaiable for 2000-2001 Parking Fuil Time Walt to Wail Carpet andior Reinished Harruood froors

University Area Apts 479-5005

University Ave Thre E Eqdroom Fiat Closs Walk
L(.)(.)K
Furnished 3 Bedrooms vingroom, Diningroom
Porches, Laundry 655-2175

\section*{O.P.R.} Developers Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's 478-6504

Stop elean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace parking, taundry sombfurnished, walk to SU
4Betrooms, OaklandSt., 18lock ESF. 3Blocks Lawt Hospitats, humished, parking, laundry, Two Bodrom Montrmentio on Euclid Furrished termodeled, laundry. parking, \(476,29 \mathrm{Ez}\)

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. Eff/APTs Homes & Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your buck! MOST INCLUDING

Security Systern with t" Dead Bott Locks
Prices Rangin Sprinkler System
Ramodeled Full Custam Kitchenreath Kitchens include: Gournet Self-eleaning ovens, Garbago Disposals, Microwaves, Dishwashers - Wall to Wall Carpets is Padding (like home)
- Snowr 8 Lawn Maintenunco

Super Insulated (means low utlities) Sate Areas within Walking Distanca to Campus Westcott, Clarencion, Astrom, Marrison, Madison. Lancastor

OPR Devalope away from hour horme away from homet
s AT YOUR SERYICE

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Eucled Ave
971 Ackgrman Ave
115 Aectield Piace
1011 E. Adarms St
145 Avandale Place
Available for 2000.2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry Fully Furnished Laundry Maintenance and Maragement, Wall to Wall Carpet andjor
Relinished Hartwood Floors Relinished Hartwood FJoors
Remodeled Kithens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adarns St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

University and Comatock Vey close to Campus
Elficiencies and Two Bedrooms seure td d .

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND \(4,5,6,7\)
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Ackerman Ave, 4br 2Bahb apt Furnishoc,
 \(5100-5701\) lezse 446.7202
Aportments close to campuas eloann \(2.3-5\) bedrooms some with file place taundry parking Dedrooms some with fiteplace laundry parking senifumithed reasonable prise \(407-5761\).
For Rent: Howse 83 bcrm ftats - \($ 250-$ 300\). Very Nics-Walk to SU. Available ALy
FHA Realty Group 637.5195

University Area 2-3 Bedrocm Purnisthed Apartrients Salige housts for tent. Ca Jim 6
Universily Are five bedroom House one block from Marshail Street turnishad twundry patking
Tease \($ 1,300.00\) plus ulitites an Orucker \(455-1229\)
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM } \end{aligned}
\]
\(\begin{gathered}\text { AAKING } 5175 \text { PEAMO } \\ 476-9933\end{gathered}\)

Comstock nicely furnisted quiet \(1+2-3\) bedroom parking utilities inctec reasoxiatle \(478-2642\)
EDGE OFCAMPUS 2
EDGE OF CAMPUS 223 Eucld 4 bedroom teasonable renl, tree parking. ©shwasher leandry, miciowave, now porch
Jeny or Tina \(474-7541,446-641\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Apartnents \\
\hline \multirow[t]{6}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS \\
604 Walnut Ave. \\
2,3, AND 4, \\
Bedroom Apartments. \\
Ubilibies included. Fully furnished. Rents start at $275. Refinished hardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet Flats Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwasters, Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24hour mahtenance. wiw.universityarea. com University Area Apts 479-5005
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { UNIVERSITY } \\
& \text { HILL REALTY } \\
& 422-0709
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline  \\
\hline www.unv \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline TOAD HALL \\
\(1 / 2\) block from campus. \\
Modern 2 bedroom \\
apartments. \\
Wall to wall carpet. \\
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. \\
Laundry. Low utilities. \\
Competitive rents. \\
302 Marshall St. \\
(across from Haven. \\ Uwiversity Ara Apts \\
wwuniversityarea.com \\
\(479-5005\)
\end{tabular}

Available mid August 3 bedroom flat very nea SF on Oaklandst furnished or unfurnished option. Livingroom with titeplace, ofringroom, kitchen. porch, coin-op washert dryer, 425.8168 , One Bedroom Apartments Close to Carmpus, utifities included. Oak noors, fire place, furnishad,
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
PRIVATE FURINISHED STLJDIO APTS. \\
1011 E.Adams \\
509 University \\
Carpeted, Air Conditloned. \\
Fumished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance. \\
Universlty Area Apts. 479-5005 www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS 1,2,3,4 Bedroom Apartmans Surnher, Euelid, Ackerman. Excellent Condition Fumished, Some include Uuilities. Call \(422-0138\). \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

204 Ostrom Eficiancy Ont and 2Bedroom Secure Bidg Laundry Parking Very Clean Avaii June \(446-5186\)
Large one bedroom studio aparment available.
 29-3
2 Bedroom Apts 202,204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid or Aug \(446-5186\)

ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease \(445-0540\)

Furnished 2-5Eedroom HousesS Apartments Livingston, Sumner. Ackerrian, Euctid 469-6665 Four Bedroom on Ackerman, Furrished
Dishwasher, Two Porehes. Off street Parking. Dishwasher, Twi Porches, Laurdry, Catpet, Harrowood Fioors Cand Gordon \(476-2982\)
1 Bedroom Furnistrad' Un!umisthect Walking distance S.U.Laundry available. OH Suret
LANCASTER AVENUE

\(424-0220 \times 428\)

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. aundry. Parking. Alarms Laundry. Parking. Alarms owest rents for moder new constructio low utilities.
University Area Apts 475-5005
www.universityarea.com
1.2,3,4 85 Bdrm Apartments. Housest Studios, Clean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some recerily renovated. Walking distance. laundry, parking 474-6791
One and Two Bedroom Furnished Apartinents. Corner of Walnut and Harrison Avenues. Leasese Commence and 2000 Graduates Preferred Cail \(422-7755\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities included, Fireplace, Furnished, Hardwood Floors and Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking, dose to Campus Call Gordion
\[
476-2982
\]} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University 283 Eedroom TownHouses & Fiats. Inexpensive and mint conciiticn.Washer/DMer.
Fireplace, inished bascment, Call 449-0109.
Large 2 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Walking distanc s.U. of street parking. Laundry. Call 422.7305 . Sumrmer Special. Nevty remodeled & becroom rat \($ 225.00\) per person. 2 fell bathroms, washer, dryer, parkirgs. porch.
Availabie \(5 / 21+9 / 17472-8619\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
oft street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER 427-0052 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposat,
security systems
All Locations Prices 478-6504
abedromens furnished Hat with all latities incurded One block from carpus noer Law School tESF: 2 Meyor Alugust \($ 305\) per perron. 477-1574

\section*{The Daily Orange}

February 23, 2000

\section*{REMATCH}
ontinued from page 16
Hall. There's no reason for us to even have to struggle to win.

Aziz added a double-double against the Pirates with 10 points and 10 rebounds to help the Orangewomen keep t close. In the game's second half, Syracuse caught fire and went on a \(22-8\) run to even the score at 52.

Similar to the loss against No. 8 Rutgers, the Orangewomen went cold in the game's final stages. Se ton Hall ended the game on an 8-2 run, whereas Rutgers finished SU off with a 16-0 on Feb. 15

Pacing the Pirates were Arminda Moreno and Cecilia Lindqvist, who each scored 19 points. Freshman Leslie Arvidual contributions from the Pirates weren't as important as Soor slack of effort on the floor, Freeman said.
SU's head coach said. "Play hard, play with some passion play with some desire. We came out very flat against Seton Hall the first time and really didn't get started until the second half where we played with some energy.

Another problem for Syracuse this season has been playing to the level of been playing to the level of its opponents, regardless Fhat level that might be. forward Beth Record blasted No. 1 UConn for a career-high 35 points and SU left Storrs, Conn., with some respect despite a 100-74 loss. Earlier in the week, Syracuse nearly knocked off Rutgers.

The very same team that led the Scarlet Knights by 11 points also lost a 64-63 barnburner to Big East-basement occupant West Virginia, along at Seton Hall.

The Orangewomen also lost a rematch to Villanova after handily defeating the Wildcats earlier in the season, and played disappointingly in losses to Pittsburgh and Rutgers on the road.

Playing two top teams in one week before the Seton Hall matchup might have set up Syracuse to come out flat, Aziz said.
"I think it was a big letdown because we always seem to get up for the big teams like the UConns and the Virginias," Azizsaid. "But then we have a tendency to play to the level of our competition and we cannot continue to do that.
ple people show up every

\section*{DISAPPOINTED}
continued from page 16
finished fifth in 1999, could only manage ninth.
"We knew going in that we could get third or fourth," senior Erica Bobreksaid. "But we could easily get how well other teams swam.

Despite the poor team showing, several Orange swimmers performed well enough to reach other milestones.

Senior Brett Bergmann qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trinls in the 200 -yard hertestroke and junior Dustin Riley qualified in the 400 indi-idual medley.
Eight SU times earned consideration for a possible NCAA Championship berth, and 13 times were good enough for the U.S. Senior Nationals.

Sophomore Djordje Filipovic and Junior Josko spot in the Orangemen's cloudy water by winning two events apiece.

Filipovic won the 200yard butterfly and 200 IM , while Vucetic topped the field in both backstroke events, the 100 and 200.

Vucetic touched the wall in 49.07 seconds in the 100 to break his own school record of 49.43 and qualify for the Senior Nationals in Seattle next month.

The Croatian's winning time of \(1: 46\). 9 Iin the 200 was more than a second slower than the winning time last year and not fast enough to earn Vucetic consideration for the NCAA Championships, an honor which only goes to the 25 fastest swimmers.
the 100 '" pretty happy with n't very happy with the time for the 200 . I expected to make a high 1:45 to qualify for NCAAs.

Filipovic also placed second in the 200 freestyle and teamed with Bergmann and juniors Hia Mikhailov and \section*{fourth in the 200 medley re} lay.

Riley proved swimming is a sport in which hundreths of a second make a huge difference. Despite qualifying for Senior Nationals and provisionally for NCAAs, Riley missed out on first place in the 400 IM by five-hundreths of a second ( \(\mathbf{3}: 55.85\) ) to Pitts burgh's Mike Pron

The Orangemen finished with 407.5 points, 30.5 behind third-place Rutgers and more than 300 behind first place Pitt, which successfully defended its title.

The final result fell far short of the 600 -point mark on which Walker set his sights, Vucetic said.
"Maybe he overestimated the team as a whole," Vucetic said. "I didn't think we could score 600 points."

Losing talented seniors is a problem all teams in collegiate athletics face. Without Daniel Karlsson - the 1999 meet's Most Outstanding Swimmer or multiple-winame, picking and choosing games, because we all need to come for every game like it's a UConn or a ranked team, or else we're going to keep losing to teams th

There are some advantages to playing the two games against Seton Hall in such a close proximity, Record said
"Now we know them, we know what they're going to throw at us," Recordsaid. "Maybe we were a little tired (last time), but regardless, we should have won the game. It gives us that momentum now to just carry over into the next game."

Tonight's matchup against the Pirates could hold implications for the upcoming Big East Tournament.

Seton Hall and St. John's hold a slim lead over Syracuse in the conference standings. SU holds the tiebreaker ver the Johnnies, but for now Seton Hall owns it over For SU, though, handling the upcoming gam

Wherever the Orange women end upinthe Big East seedings, Record said he hopes a few late-season iew of the team and the team's view of itself.
"Hopefully, when we win, we'll get a little bit more respect for our sake," Record said. "Like maybe we'll respect ourselves a little bi more knowing that we can come back and fight hard even though we lost the firs ime. As for the Big East hopefully we'll just start season and play like maybe we should have played throughout."
said the team lost about 100 points from last year.

I think we did a pretty good job," Vucetic said, "but a ot of teams were better than we were.

The Orangewomen did not win any events, but they did manage to place enough swimmers in finals to score 200 points, more than 600 behind first-place Notre Dame, which, like Pitt, sucessfully retained its crown.

Fewer Orangewomen than expected made the event scoring opportunities.
"This year, we were nowhere to be seen in the finals," Bobrek said. "It was so different than any of my past experiences in the meet.

Senior Melanie Bryon made it to the finals in both breaststroke distances, placing seventh in the 100 200 (2:23.35).
(2:23.35)
Eleanor Thoet made the biggest impression on him, finishing fifth in the 100
reestyle and also makine he firials in the 50 free

The Orangewomen also caught a glimpse of the fu ture, as freshmen Jen Jonu saitis and Mary Kate Hagger y made consolation finals.

Despite the letdown of fin shing ninth, Bobrek said the eam maintained its compo sure and mental toughness.

I'm very disappointed with how we swam," she said On a positive note, we really came together as a team.
We kept our heads up and kept smiles on our faces despite how poorly we swam. ftill, Walker said the future rie team depends on how well the returning swimmers bounce back from this setback.

We have some people who will have to make some decisions and make the com mitment to do a better job, Walker said. "In terms of a to perform package, you hav to bottom, to be successful.".

\section*{}

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwssher, Two Porches, Off Streat Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT Patitectior onap person. \begin{tabular}{c} 535 por mont \\ cail inna \\
\hline
\end{tabular} 449-4621

Large 3 bedroom, 2 full bath. Walking distance S.U. of strear pakking. Laundry Call 422 -7305 1.2.3.4+5 berroom apartments. Fumished, ell usifties inctuded, laundry, panking. Ora block from esmpus near law school +ESF. May + Augusi avalabifity \(425-1883\).

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Firedrace, laundry, quiet building, cose to campus. utilities included. 476-2982

\section*{Houses}

Large Singio Farnivy tumished house. Parking. \begin{tabular}{c} firpplace, \\
\(6=62 \cdot 3304\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTONOF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Houze For Rent 2minutes foom Main Cam
Seven Bds ott stroel parking Phone \(458-0463\)
RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FTVE BEDROOM HOUSE WO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED 476-9933
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
GREAT HOUSES, \\
GREAT LOCATION \\
B00 BLOCK OSTHOM 5 EEDHOOMS OFF STREET PARKING, FIEPLACE LAUNDRY DISHWASHER HARDWOOD CALL BRAD 424-0218/423-9142
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Clarendon SL, 4 -bedroom, tree washed, dryer, oti-street parking, avaitabio \(5 / 15 /\). Call \(492-3199\) Charming English Tudor Housa on Comstock 6 Bedroons, Fireplace, across froxn Womens Bldg.
Avail 5120 475-1012, ( 8431514 - 3891

Universily nicely fumishad 5 bedroom study house 3 ear garnge extra panking inctuded close walk to SU hospatals law 479-2642

SERVICES

\section*{Travel}

SPRING DREAK-GRAO WEEK

\section*{}

Spring Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nights \($ 279\) I Includes Meals! Awesome Beaches, Nightife! Departs From Floridal Panama City
Roorn With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties 8 Free Drinks \($ 129\) ! Daytona Foom With Kitehen \($ 149\) ! South Beach (Bars Open Until Sam!) $159! Cocoa Beach (Near Disney) $179!

SPRING BREAK 2000
CANCUN:JAMAICA*NASSAU Space is limited CALL TODAY!!! 800-293-1443 www.StudentCity.com

\section*{Spring Break 2000} Jarmitez, Cancum, Firid
Batbados Batumes
Book Bartados, Batimaz

FOUND
ound A scart. Tuesdzy alter 5

\section*{MISC.}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As alweys. please use caution when replying or being feplied Irom any advertisement in each issue, for The Daily Orange coes nol take responsibility for any misconduct resulting in con-} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{orange NOTES}

Orangemen Stats
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|}
\hline Player & p & \% & 3 \\
\hline Thomas & 14.4 & 9.30 & 0.8 \\
\hline Hart & 12.0 & 3.06 & 0.2 \\
\hline Brown & 11.4 & 6.6 & 1.7 \\
\hline Blackwell & 10.8 & 7.5 & 3.0 \\
\hline Shumpert & 10.1 & 2.9 & 0.9 \\
\hline Eland & 7.8 & 1.8 & 2.1 \\
\hline Williams & 6.3 & 1.5 & 1.7 \\
\hline Duaty & 3.7 & 2.0 & 0.3 \\
\hline Griffin & 2.4 & 1.1 & 2.0 \\
\hline Celuck & 2.4 & 1.0 & 0.4 \\
\hline McNell & 1.5 & 2.2 & 0.0 \\
\hline - \({ }^{\text {a }}\) & & 0.0 & 0.3 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Orangewornen Stats
\begin{tabular}{llll}
Player & p & ? & a \\
Record & 17.5 & 6.7 & 1.2 \\
James & 11.5 & 3.3 & 2.3 \\
Perry & 10.8 & 7.6 & 2.4 \\
Aziz & 8.7 & 7.6 & 1.1 \\
Ervin & 7.1 & 3.3 & 5.9 \\
Wright & 7.1 & 4.0 & 1.0 \\
Pratt & 2.0 & 3.0 & 1.0 \\
Trammell & 2.9 & 1.7 & 0.3 \\
McFhee & 1.4 & 1.1 & 0.5 \\
Grossman & 0.3 & 0.6 & 0.1
\end{tabular}

\section*{Eye bye, Erian}

Syracuse wide receiver coach Erian Schottenheime resigned his post at SU to Hacket at Southem California.

Schottenheimer will run the Trojans" tight ends unit, and he said the position ing refe will add to his coach gesume as an assistant. Su coach Paut Pasqualon: now must fil two vacancies on his staff Secondary coach kevin kelly left in January to become Marshall's defensive coordinator.

\section*{TV time change}

This Sunciay's start time for men's basketball game between Syracuse and Georgetown at the Carrier Dome has been moved from noon to 2 p.m.

The time change comes because the rivalry matchup television.

\section*{Straw snorts agzin}

Darryt Strawberry, an outfielder for the New York Yankees, tested positive for cocane lan. 19, a high-rank ing baseball official said. lead to a suspension for Strawberry, who has been suspended twice before in 1995 and last season by baseball for drug use.

A seasontong suspersion remains possible. Major League Baseball commissioner Bud Selig declined The eight
The eight-time All Star, who underwent colon cance beine tested for truds two to being tested fordrugs two to result of a no-contest plea related to charges of cocaine possession and soliciting a prostitute in 1999.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When was the last time Villanova's men's basketball squad made the Final Four?
yesterdiay's trivia: Q. Who was the last men's basketball player to win both the Division 1 scoring and rebounding. crowns in the same year? A. Kurt Thomas averaged 28.9 points and 14.6 boards a game in 1995

Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 23, 200016 SU faces Wildcats at Dome

BY DAVE CURTIS Sports Editor

Ugly time arrived three weeks ago for Villanova coach Steve Lappas

His churning stomach kept him up well past the final airing of SportsCenter.

His aiready-thinning hair continued to grey and tumble from his head.

The well-groomed coach looked more disheveled after games, jacket some After a lackluster 74-60 home loss to Connecticut on Feb. 2, Lappas' Wildcats sat at 11 8 overall with wins in just two of seven Big East games.

But a three-game victory streak and triampks in tue of Yillamera's last cir contegts brought sleep back to the coach's nights and consistency to his scalp.

A happy, healthy Lappas and his Wildcats visit Syracuse for a crucial conference showdown today at 7 p.m. at the Carrier Dome. things," Lappas said. "Defensively we need to things, Lappas said. Defensively, we need to get our act together and get back to the way we were defending early in the year. But we, were defending eariyy we've had some big wins."

Villanova (16-9, \(6 \times 6\) Big East) and its happy coach however, remain in a precarious spot on the NCAA Tournament bubble

Since the UConn setback, the Cats beat up four league foes, including a 17 -point rout of surging Notre Dame. Their lone loss since the UConn collapse came at St. John's 11 days ago. logjam in the Wiln the center of the league standings, three of its final four contests to contend for a chance in the Big Dance.
"Our fate is definitely in our hands," Lappas shid. "We've been there each of the last five years, and we expect to be there again." ket Six-foot-10 Malik Allen leads the Cats with 13.9 points per game and sits second in

See VILLANOVA page 12 Viltano fonward Ryan byackwell hopas to esscape his slump for good tonight against Villanova. The senior feasted on the Widcats last season, sweraghg 23 points in two Elames.

\section*{Syracuse looks for revenge}

BY GREG BISHOP
Staff Writer
The Syracuse women's basketball team entered its game on Sunday against Se ton Hall look ng to stop another losing skid after dropping two Howeve in a them that women all SU played to its oppoarates sent them packing with a 67-60 victory that dropped Syracuse into 12th place in the Big East.

In a move usually reserved for the possession following a questionable foul on the playground, the Orangewomen (10-14, 3-10 Big East) will get an immediate do-over as SHU (10-14, 4-10) rolls into town for a \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). rematch this afternoon at Manley Field House.

Due to a tragic residence hall Eire, the first game was rescheduled for last weekend, placing the two contests only four days apart.

The short timespan, which head coach Mari anna Freeman has never experienced, allows little time for the defeat to linger.
irst five minutes of the whole farst half, the very gressive and play hard, forward Leigh Aziz said. "There was no reason for us to lose againge Seton

See RIEMATCT page 15

Formard Lebete D.O. FiE FHoTO EY TOM MMGZ
 Pirstes beat SU 67.60 on Sunctay.

\section*{Orange, coach disappointed with showing}

EY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

The Syracuse men's and women's swim teams came away from the Bis East Championships last weekend with a feeling of disappaintment in the feeling of disappaintm

Expectations of going into the Goodwill Games Aquatic Center on Long Island were high, both in the swimmers coach Lou Walker.

Altbough a few Orange swimmers won events and posted notable times, the end result fell short of what Walker predicted before the meet.

Looking to match their sec-ondi-place finish a year ago, the Orangemen fell to fourth place, while the Orangewamen, who

See bisAPPOINTED page 15

\section*{- University Senate \\  \\ }

Shaw speaks at forum

BY STEPHANIE SILVER Staff Writer

Syracuse University Chancel lor Kenneth A. Shaw sat Wednesday in Maxwell Auditorium trying to alleviate students of their campus concerns.

About 70 faculty and administrative members, Student Government Association representatives and students inquired of university actions regarding campus improvements, smoking in residence halls, fire prevention and the honors program.

The university plans to spend about \($ 150\) million in the next decade to upgrade computers and renovate facilities, Shaw said.

With the help of a consultant, the home colleges collaboratively devised a plan for campus renovations, he said.
student-centered research university," Shaw said. "We need state of the art facilities."

The School of Management is currently conducting an additional fund-raising drive that will deterpansion, he added

This summer, the university will begin a three to four-year project installing fire sprinklers in residence halls. Installation of the

See FORUM page 6

\section*{Flemma to submit appeal information}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
After learning last week that his appeal needed additional information for review by Syracuse University, former music industry professor Jay Flemma said Wednesday that he will submit the required documents.

Flemma, a 1993 graduate of the SU College of Law and an associate lawyer with Smith, Sovik; Feb 9. to the Department in Syracuse, appcaled response to a sexual harassment complaint filed by a former student. The student, an SU senior, filed the complaint with the Syracuse Police Department Feb 8 .
with the SUN Desiss nied harassment cemplaints investigated the case ant of Human Resources, who 13 on the grounds of failing to follow proper administrative procedures.
"As of now, he has been informed that his services are not required next fall," said Kevin Morrow, an SU spokesman.

University officials reported last week that Flemma's appeal was incomplete because of a lack of information on his failure to follow administrative procedures. Flemma's appeal focused solely on the sexual harassment charges, which were not the basis for his dismissal, Morrow said.

His appeal fails to recognize the reasons for which he was actually dismissed, Morrow said.
"As of right now Flemma has only filed one appeal dealing with the sexual harassment complaints," he said. "At this point there isn't anything mana said that he intends to submit the required materials and expects his appeal to be re"The appeal is valid. It's going to be heard,"

Flemma

See FLEMMA page 6

\section*{}

\section*{UNHERSTHES WTHH WEAK SECURTTY DEFINSES ARE BECOMING MORE SUSCEPTIBLE TO HACKERS: SEE SPECLAL REPORT PAEE 3.}

\section*{E Police Reports:}

\section*{Car break-ins continue near campus}

\author{
Staff Reports
}

An unidentified suspect stole a stereo system last week from a car belonging to senior Peter Szabo, according to a police report.

Szabo, a television, radio and Chevrolet, parked his car, a 1993 Chevrolet Lurmina, in front of his apartment at about 10 p.m. Tuesday on the 900 block of Oak Street,
the report said.
II went to open my door to go to school Wednesday, \({ }^{n}\), Szabo said. I looked up and noticed that my CD player was gone from the dashboard."

The thief attempted to pry open the driver's door, Szabo said. he cracked open the sliding do he cracked open the sliding door window," he added.

Stolen articles included the car CD player, an amplifier and a bass box, valuing approximately \($ 2,500\), the report said.
"The bass box was taken from the truak," Szabo said. "They took everything for the stereo."
- An SU student's 1991 Ford Escort was broken into during the See COPS page 8

\section*{Mills, Lindsey debate attorney-client relations}

\section*{BY ASHLEIGH GRAF} Staff Writer

Traditional attorney-client confidentiality is dwindling, said Cheryl Mills, former deputy counsel to President Bill Clinton Wednesday afternoon.

Mills and current White House deputy counsel Bruce Lindsey spoke to a crowd of about 30 students and faculty in the Schine Underground regarding the attorney and client relationship and their experiences working in the Clinton administration.

The Career Development Center of the S.I. Newhouse Sehool of Public Communications sponsored the event.

In the past few decades, the confidentiality a client may find in their lawyer has declined, Mills said. The relationships between high-ranking government officials and their attorneys provide a clear example of this, she said, noting that everyone is entitled to a guarantee of confidentiauity with his or her lawyers.
ing officials, lawyers tend to stray See MILLS page 7

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Politician Maurine}

Neuberger, dies Maurine brown Neuberger, the thind woman elected to a full term in the U.S. Senate, has died. The elder stateswornan of Oregon Democrats was 94. Neuberger died Tuesday in a Portiand. Ore., nursing home of a bone manow disorder. She had undergone surgery for intestinal cancer in 1961 . cer in 1961.
The pioneering woman politician served a single term in the U.S. Senate, from 1961 to 1967, becoming the 10 Th woman to serve in the federal body and only the third elect six-year term.

\section*{Behavior may offset} mewics! zevanees
Medicine will get bet ter and keep people alive longer in the next 10 years, but the behavior of Americans will worsen as they exercise less, put on more weight and fail vicdiseases according diseases, according to of national heath re of national hear. A stubborn 24 percent of the population cent of the population is persistent and the inciis persistent and the inct ing, according to the ing, according to the report.

The country's bill for health spending will soar from \($ 1.2\) trillion in 1998 to \($ 2.2\) trillion by 2010. with mueh of the growth coming in costly treatments for the vic tims of chronic conditions such as diabetes and hypertension according to the study, prepared by the Institute for the Future, a nonprofit forecasting and research firm in Menio Park, Calif.

\section*{Retired General}

Nichals dies at 93
WASHINGTON, D.C. retired Army major generat who as a civil engineer helped build plutoniumand uranium-producing facilities for the atomic bomb. died of respiratory failure Feb. 21 at the Brighton Gardens retirement home in Bethesca, Mc. He was 93.

Nichols was also an important figure in the development of guidedmissile technolog., efforts to establish a national defense against nuclear attack and advances in peacetime uses of atomic energy.

In the summer of 1942. Nichols was reassigned from a combas unit to a special Afrty Corps of Engineers' orgarization set up by President Roosevelt to pormb.

\section*{Prison riot kills inmate}

SACRAMENTO, Calif. Guards opened fire on warring inmates in an exercise yard at Pelican Bay State Prison on Wednesday, killing one prisoner and wounding 12 others before the racially tinged incident ended with the facility in complete lockdown.

State prison officials said 35 other prisoners at Pelican Bay were stabbed or otherwise injured in the fighting that enpted about 9:30 a.m. in the " \(\mathrm{B}^{\text {n }}\) yard, where some of the state's toughest convicts are housed. The prison, which is on 270 acres of foreat land 20 miles south of the Oregon state line, currently holds 3,300 inmates.

California Corrections Director Cal Terhune described the brief, furious episode as "one of the most serious incidents in the past three decades." The dead inmate, identified only as a Latino male, was the first to be shot to death by guards in nearly two years.

No correctional officers were injured.

Ever since it opened in 1989 , billed as a triumph of high-tech prison architecture, the facility

\section*{has been at the center of contro-} versy

In 1995, a federal judge ordered a series of reforms after testimony in a class-action civilrights lawsuit showed that brutality had spilled into the prison's " A " and " \(\mathrm{B}^{2}\) yards. At the time, guards had shot and killed prisoners engaged in fistfights.

Steve Fams, one of the attorneys who brought the action, said Wednesday's fatal shooting was the first since the judge's landthe first since the judge's landmark order. He said the prison scrutiny.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Service agents claim race bias}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A group of black Secret Service agents is asking the Equal Empionment Opportunity Commission to give them the nght to file a class action lawsuit that aitions and key assignments because of pervasive racial discrimination.

The agents and their lawyers intend to outline their allegations at a news conference here Thursday. If the EEOC gives the go-ahead, they soon could pursue their job-related grievances on behalf of all.black agents in U.S. District Court. The agents took their first procedural step late Wednesday afternoon by formally filing their complaint with the Treasury Department's equal employment opportunity program.
The black Secret Service agents contend they largely have been kept out of management jobs in the predominantly white agency. They have held a variety of positions in the Secret Service, Their attorneys. John \(P\) Relman and David \(J\) Shaffer declined to discuss the case Wednesday to discuss the case Wednesday, baying they would do so Thursday.

\section*{Patients advised to retest for HIV}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Georgetown University Medical Center is advising nearly 300 forand other infectious diseases, fear ing that an X-ray technician accused of commandeering painkillers for himself may have replaced the dxugs with saltwater using contaminated needles.

The regionwide alert is being monitored by public health officials from Maryland, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta. It comes three weeks after hospital officials say the technician, Jeffrey L. Royal, 40, was caught siphoning a patient's dose of fentanyl. The synthetic painkiller resembles morphine and is considered highly addictive.

Royal was arraigned Tuesday in federal court on a charge of tampering with consumer products, a felony that carries a maxi mum sentence of 10 years in prison and a jury or death results, the penalties

Royal's attorney, Jeffery B. Oriminal case Wednesday but said his client never harmed anyone.

\section*{Police examine} student's death

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A Georgetown University student died several days after suffering a died several days after sutfering a severe head injury, apparently during a late-night fight in a carn dents at the school, officials said Wednesday.

David A. Shick, 20, a junior business major, died at Georgetown University Hospital late Tuesday afternoon, police said about five days after he and group of friends argued, and then fought, with another group of men in a parking lot.

Police are investigating several explanations for Shick's death, including whether it may have been caused when he fell to the ground, said Sgt. Michael Farish. Police are awaiting re sults of an autopsy before deter mining whether the case should be treated as a homicide or accident. The medical examiner's of fice performed an autopsy Wednesday afternoon but is doing more tests that could take seven to 10 days

A police source said that the cause of the dispute appeared to be "a lot of testosterone and a little bit of beer."

\section*{world news}

\section*{Bridge hopes to bring peace}

KOSOVSKA MITROVICA, Yugoslavia - With this town's three bridges barricaded by NATO armor and troops, peacekeepers have a new plan to end the division between Serbs and ethnic Albanians. They're building another bridge. ag another bridge.

About 200 yards west of the main bridge between Kosovska Mitrovica's mainly Serbian north bridee that has come to symbolbridge that has come to symbolKosovo - French troops began construction on a footbridge across the Ibar River on Wednesday morning-

\section*{sions and violence.}

\section*{Chinese army holds warning}

BEIJING - The People's Liberation Army Wedinesday applauded Chmas warning to Taition or face attack, vowing that the ultimatum wack, vowing that
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}
\(\square\) UU Cinemas presents \({ }^{\text {T}} \mathrm{Boyz}\) N The Hood" at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Admission is \($ 2\).
\(\square\) The College of Law Federalist Society hosts a debate on affirmative action at 4 p.m. in Room 200 of the law school. SU prafessor Taylor will lead the discussion. A Taylor will lead the discussion. A question and answer period will follow the debate.

The Caribbean Student Association presents the Dominican Republic film Nuebo Yol" at 7 p.m. free and open to the public.

W The Martin Luther King, Jr. Library presents a lecture by pro-African-Americans in Black and White and Color Images on the Silver Screen" at 7 p.m. in Sims Hall, Room 219.

E The Technology Club of Syracuse hosts the second annual Celebration of Technology Awards the Holiday Inn Convention Center in Liverpool, across from Thruway Fxit 37.

Dinner is served at 6:30 with sound effects creator Ben Burtt speaking at 7:30 p.m. Dinner ticlsets are \($ 30\) per person. Call 434-1242 for more information.

The Career Development Center presents "How to Find an Internship" from 4 to 5 p.m. in Newhouse I, Room 20.

Newhouse I presents "Writing for Results" from 6 to 7 p.m. in Room, A2.

\section*{TODAY-FRIDAY}
- The Community Folk Art Gallery presents "Reenacting the Renaissance," an art workshop for children at 2223 E. Genesee St. Call 424-8487 for more information.

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Alpha Phi Omega sorority accepts \($ 2\) donations for Sadie Hawkins Day carnations. The flowers can be purchased in Schine from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will be delivered on Feb. 29.

\section*{FRIDAY-SATURDAY}
- UU Cinemas presents "The Films of Kevin Smith: A View Askew Marathon," in Gifford Auditorium for \($ 4\) admission. "Clerks" begins at 7 p.m. "Dogma" follows at 8:45 p.m. "Chasing Amy" and "Mall rats" conclude the night at 11 p.m. and 1 a.m., respectively. The ad mission price remains the same re gardless of when in the night one is to attend.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via email at news@dailyorange.com.

The Daily Orange is published
Monday through Friday during Syracuse Universiry's academic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distribured on compus with the first five copies complemencary and each additional copy costs \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798
Business 443-2314
News 443-2127
Liffestyle
Lifestyle \(443-2128\)
Sports \(443-2208\)
Photography 443-9795
E-mail edismistiodailyorange.com
[dä]

\title{
BREAKING
}

As the popularity of the fiternet grows, hackers are becoming more of a presence on the computer scene.

\section*{BY CAROLINE CHEN} Staff Writer
olleges nationwide are leaving themselves open to hacker attacks in order to preserve \(y\) access to the In-Computer networks on campuses lack "fortress-like" security making them vulnerable to hackers, said Dave Butler, director of Network and Systems Services for Computer and Media Services at Syracuse University.
I wern would use a university if I were a hacker," Butler said.

But this vulnerability to hacking is what allows users to learn freely, whereas tight security may deter visitors from out side the university, he added.

Networks with few security measures and computer savvy students are two factors that make university networks susSeptible to attacks, sard sured Schneider, a computer science professor at Cornell University.
with beth incrediente of \(a\) successful cyber-attack present fended target - one can expect to see attacks," he said.

Hackers attempted to break into SU networks on Feb. 14 and use them to attack outside Web sites. This denial of service at tack kept the systems busy for about an hour.

Earlier this month, hackers were also responsible for para yzing CNN.com, Amazon.com, Yahoo! and reportedly used computers at Three hackers reportedly used computers at three Californpuses are suspected in the attacks.

Universities have multiple high-bandwidth connections to the Internet that increase the amount of data able to be sent through the Internet, said Bob Mahoney, a senior network engineer at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. As a result, hacking attacks launched from a university can overwhelm a system, Mahoney said.

It is difficult for the university to detect if a hacker is using its bandwidth, which is the quantity of data that can be transmitted in a The large amou, he added.
akes it hard to distinguish which avalable tion is unauthorized, Mahoney said. One protective measure for university computer systems is to install fire walls - a security measure that can cost up to \($ 53,000\). A firewall acts like a gatekecper, scanning users to see if they are authorized to enter a site

But firewalls can also prevent people from communicating with each other, Mahoney said. Consequently, most universities do not use firewalls, he said.

Student records on SU's administrative computers are protected by firewalls. Most campus computers, however, are not as secure, said Peter Plumley, director of Computer and Information Technologies at SU.
walls," he sally don't have any firewalls," he said. "We're wide open." To address security holes, service patches are loaded onto programs as soon as they become available from the manufacturer, Plumley said. Service patches fix problems undetected before the program was distributed.
to date with service patches tay up to date with service patches because systems are constantly evolving, he added.

SU also uses equipmont to monitor Internet traffic and software that scans for sulnerability, Peter Mormsey senior netivark engineer for CMS said. These programs have been past two years.

While the university does try to address security issues in its systems, "an impenetrable wall is not the solution," Butier said.
lant," Butler said. Buti don't want lant, Butler said. But dont want to share information."

\section*{PROPER ETIQUETTE}

Students with technological knowledge can take advantage of weaknesses in computer programs, which can create opportunities for launching denial of service attacks.

Universities have concentrations of people who are technically minded, at an age See HACKERS page 4

\section*{© © WE REALLY DON'T HAVE ANY FIREWALLS. WE'RE WIDE OPEN. \()^{9}\) )}

\section*{Nation debates Internet crime}

BY KATE STEVENSON

\section*{Asst. News Editor}
n a world of evolving technology, federal officials are on the lookout for a new kind of criminal.

Called "hackers" by many, these people jump password barriers, scramble databases and send online security osts sailing.

Although hacking is illegal, some computer enthusiasts feel the practice is getting a bad reputation.
It is a form of trespassing, but on a lowar level," said computer enthusiast Tom Hume, a junior television, radio and film major.

He said there is a difference between hackers and the more

A hacter crackers. said is someone who Ans for knowledge about the inner workings of computers. A cracker, on the other hand, is someone who attempts to break into a system or Web site, not to learn but to destroy.

He said the basic difference between the

\section*{НАСК АТТАСК}

Attacks in which a hacker floods a network server with data to cause the system to crash.

2WGaty Attacks: A program that replicates itself to overload a system with a files and render it useless.
Logic bomios: Malicious pieces of code that lie dormant on networks or systems on which they are placed until detonating at an appointed time to crash the computer system.
Mail bos:icing: A type of attack in which unsolicited commercial e-mail is used to inundate a target. When opened, it has the capability to crash the receiver's system.
receiver's sysm muntomm

\section*{Campus history details scarce, minor hackings}

BY CAROLINE CHEN Statf Writer

5ackers began reaping Internet havoc more than a decade ago. But until Feb. 14, Syracuse University has only dealt with minor episodes.

II imagine we haven't seen the end of this," said Peter Plumley, director of Computer and Information Technologies, of this month's Denial of Service attack.

Although SU students are not suspected in the incident, some in the past have been found responsible for hacking.

The Office of Judicial Affairs resolved a case in the fall of 1999 in which a sophomore initiated a ping attack on the computer system and had to complete 20 hours of commuSee ATTACKS page 4

HACKING HISTORY

Universities with huge mainframe computers become the first staging grounds for hackers. Hacker is at first a posi tive term that defines a person with a mastery of computers who can push programs beyond what they were designed to do.

In one of the first arrests of hackers, the FBI busts six teen-agers from Milwaukee.

Working from a computer in the bedroom of a subur ban Chicago home, a 17 -year-old high school dropout becomes one of the first people prosecuted under the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act of 1986. This act makes it illegal to use another persen's computor passworet.

A promotional contest at three Los Angeles racio stations is manipulated by a hacker. He allegedly netted two Porsches. \($ 20.000\) and at least two trips to Hawaii.

Two hackers break into a New York state air force base and hundreds of other systems. Scolland Yard detectives arrested a 16-year-old British teenarer in connection with the crime.

Federal prosecutors for the first time charge a juvenile for hacking after shutting down an airport communications system in Massachusetts. Under a plea agreement, the boy is sentenced to two years probation, ordered to repay the phone company \($ 5,000\) and perform 250 hours of community service.

In a three-day period, hackers brought down leading Web sites including Yahoo, Amazon.com, Buy.com, eBay and CNN.com using "Denial of Service" attacks that over loaded the sites* servers with an inordinate number of data requests.

Compiled by Special Projects Editor Joy Davia

\section*{4 February 24, 2000}

\section*{HACKERS}
continued from page 3 where lapses of judgement are not unusual, and are trying to prove themselves," Schneider prove

The potential for these at tacks is a known weakness in lot of protocols the university cause the network was based on a standard of trust and good manners of its users, said Mark Iyst for Faculty Computing and

\section*{HACKING}

\section*{continued from page 3}
two terms is that "hackers build things and crackers break them." din the real world, various media 'hacker' and coerced it into meaning the same thing as acker,'" Hume said.

Regardless of the definition of haeking, FBI officials feel its threat is large enough to warrant

John Sennet, a special agent from the Albany branch of the FBI, said in the past the bureau tapped phone lines in some investigative cases. Tigative cases. of cases in the past fe made a lo of cases in the past few decades, nnete said.
Now that
Now that the Internet has become more infiuential, it is harder to build sases against cyharder to build sases

It is easy to determine who has access to a telephone account. Sennet said. But in the cult to trace criminals when that person goes by an online alias person goes the sabotage is done in ind the sabotage is done in strings of computer code, he said.

If someone sent an e-mail death threat, it would be extremely difficult to track - es-

The Daily Orange

Media Services.
Bat this etiquatte did not hold up as the system got bigger, he added.

The Feb. 14 attack affected one of 10 campus research computer labs, which use the operating LINUX is a popular choice for researchers because it can be downloaded of the internet at no Marge and is customizable, said Morrissey. Many of the Internet ble operating systern, Sun Solaris, he added.

The research labs are more at risk for hacking because some do not hire systems administra tors to keep their systems secure while others employ graduate short duration, said Piumley.

There are two systems ad ministrators in SUS L.C. Smith College of Enginecring and Cornsystem at all times, he said.

Butler said students are measures on the network.
pecially if that person was akilled at covering their tracks. Sennett said.

It takes time to go back ugh all of the codes, he added. 'It's much more cumber some than detecting the origin of a telephone call.

Internet vandals used computer networks this month at the University of California at Los Angeles and Santa Barbara campuses to route a Denial of Service attack to popular Web sites like eBay.com and Yahoo!.

A Denial of Service attack is when asite is flooded with so much information that Web sturfers are blocked from accessong it.

This blockage can make Internet sites lose money, such as retailer Amazon.com who relles on online sales. The mastermind behind the recent attacks is still being hunted.
Sennett said the FBI's suc-

Sennett said the FBI's success in tracking online sabotzurs depends on cooperation betw:en ternet is not exclusively a U.S. enterprise.

That cooperation isn't alays there, "he added.

The U.S. government has tions to avoid fraud, electronie vandalism and even terrorism, Sennett said. Some people are afraid that the government wil become overbearing, he added. Anternet is different, You can' allow the government to stifle the growth of the Internet,' Sennett said. "People will b afraid to use the Internet if they think Big Brother is constantly monitoring the use of the Inter met."

A major cause of this fear is, unlike telephones, the Internet did not experience regulations in its formative years, he said.
"For better or worse - and most people would say better kinds of regulations," he said.

Hacking is a haven for peo Hacking is a haven for people who have a yearning to van-dalize, but do not want to take the risk of vandalization in the the risk of vandalization real world, Sennett said.
"People who would not think of throwing a brick through a window or trashing an office mome database" he said wyou some database, he said. You can accompingh the same himu of thing from the safety of your family room. There aremore people who would be willing to try that.* The hacking community

There are students who tend to do things with the network we don't want them to do. Butler said. There's no way we secure.
secure. We just hope people are illing to live by society's rules. But authorities rarely find that members of the camput community are involved in hack ing attacks, Mahoney said. Students are not suspected as the perpetrators of the Feb. 14 denial of service attack at \(S U\).

It's usually a case where sometrmes does not appreciate the actual cost of interfering with databases, Sennett said. Because of online security breaches, agencies are forced to spend money on virtual deadboits to protec their information, he said.

But Hume said because hackers make a practice of find. ing holes in a security network, they are actually doing these sites a service by pointing out weaknesses.

They're doing a disservice by slowing down the system," he said. "But they"re also pointiag out a probiem that needs to be addressed."

Sennet
Sennett, however, said hack ing is still a security concern.
only a half a step away from cleconiy a half a step away from clec. Sennett said. -And that in turn is only one step away from eleconly one step and

The issue is best examined when related to the physical world, he said.

If you could sneak into a vault in a bank in the middle of get pass security and to look around, did you commit a crime?
"Well, kind of," Sennett said. "You went somewhere where you didn't have the authority to their password has been stolen, or some other situation has come about where it looks like a student or staff member," Mahoney said. "But usually we are able to rule out their involvement.
took advantage of the lack of security on the system, but were not trying to corrupt or erase files, Plumley said.
where don't know of any attack where we have had real dammostly a nuisance.

Once hackers penetrate a systern, they will soon grow bored just breaking in and lookag around, he added.
"To say that hacking is simply saiffing around, that it's one big online computer game, is a little bit naive," Sennett said. That is so close to giving someone the ability to destroy, re arrange and screw it up. It can be extremely time consuming

But the costliness of the se urity upgrades is not the hackcurity upgrages is not the hackthe ignorance of Web administhe ignorance of Web adm
"It's the Web masters" job to make sure security is at its best," Hume said. "The problem s incormpetent Web administra tors who don't know what the hell they're doing."

Hume said he thinks it is "pathetic" that Web masters are paid to maintain site security yet the sites are still broken into.

There are sites that have not been hacken into, Hump they have people who are on top of their garne.

\section*{ATTACKS}
continued from page 3
to a Judicial Affairs report
A ping attack is like an unsophisticated version of a Denial of Service attack, said David Butler, director of SU's Network and Systems Services in Durer and Media Services.

During that same semester a male freshman attempted to hack into SU's computer system and another attempted to hack tive system, reports said
All three students accepted responsibility and were put on disciplinary probation, reports added.

The establishment of the first campus-wide Internet connections in 1989 meant not only the beginning of ments, but well, said Mark Miller, a senior programanalystin Faculty progratingatyst in Faculty There has been hacking on the Internet since it started and Imsure SU is not an exception," said Peter Morrissey, senior network engineer in CMS. COnce you're connected to the Internet, anyone can access the system." anyone can access the system."
The earliest violations o SU computing policy was resolved in the spring of 1998 and invalved the stealing of additional computer connectionsand a copy of a computer program, according to Judicial Affairs reaccord.

\section*{COLLEGE HACKERS}

At the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, however, there are two to three incidents there are two to three incidents reported weekly, said Bob Mareported weekly, said bob MiT senior network enhoney.

Some or these are actual attackis, machines we believe rasay be compromised for one reason tr another, or just referon MIT machines,

In 1988, Robert Morris, then a graduate computer science atudent at Cornell University, launched a worm on the Internet that took adwantage of weaknesses on Cornell's UNIX operating systems. The worm overioaded the internet by rephicating itself, rapidy spreading damage was so extensive that about one-tenth of the young about one-tenth of the young Internet or 6,000 computers Internet or or 6,00

This "Internet Worm" incident was arguably the first large-scale cyber-attack, said ence Schneider, a computer science professor at Cornell.
that cornell learned a lot from said.

Cornell's student conduct code stipulates that those breaking into computers can be expelled and the most severe incidents are passed to federal pros* ecutors, Schneider added.

Hacking is a problem and has been a problem for decades," he said. "We must come to terms with it by making it difficult to be a casual hacker and by mak ing it expensive for a hacker to cause damage.

Hackers outside the university are rarely caught because i is often not worth the time and effort to track them down. Ma honey said.

Mahoney cited a case in Which a 16 yyear-old boy from Montreal was charged with hacking after an intensive in pending, but the alleged hacker faces only up to 240 hours of community service.

So at some point it becomes a not very profitable way to apend scarce resources, honey said.

\section*{COMBATTING THREATS}

On Feb. 15, President Bill Chaton addressed the rash of hacking attacks earlier this as Yahoo! and eBay.com. Experts, however, disputed whether governmentinvolve. meat is the beat way to maintain Internet security.

Butler said the government will try harder to prossecute hackers to maintain consumer andence in the Internet

Other experts were wary of increased government
tion with the Internet.
tion with the internet.
Itis a waste of what's the goverament going to what's the goverament going to do? Miller asked. I'd just as do? Milier asked.*
soon they butt out.*

Mahoney said he was concerned that some government authorities would take sdvan tage of the situation by arguing for stronger controls on encryp tions - or translating data iato secret powers. and enhanced
"As the old saying goes, 'A police state, \({ }^{\text {jo }}\) he added.
Providers and users, not the government, should work to gether to establish guidelines on how much responsibility institutions should hold in regards to the security of their systems. said Cynthia Sucher, director of corporate communications at the Florida-based CyberGuard Corporation.

Butif'a university is used

\title{
[editorial]
}

The Daily Orange
February 24, 2000
Holly Auer, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{Judge blinded to cop's brutal crime}

Parents and teachers tell children that police officers are their friends. In Syracuse, though, kids have to worry that these friends might hit them.

City Judge Langston McKinney dropped charges on Tuesday against Syracuse police officer James Mullen, who allegedly assaulted a 12 -year-old girl with his night stick during a domestic dispute last December.

Mullen's punishment, a four-month, unpaid suspension from the force and a desk jockey spot when he returns to the force, sends a subtle but clear message: He is too dangerous to be pounding the pavement as a street cop. The department fears what-he might do next.

The judge's soft stance is a crime in itself Society employs cops to protect endangered children from abusers, not bruise them further.

Mullen's actions strip him of the right to wear a badge.

Mullen is white. The girl he allegedly assaulted is black. But a child is a child. It shouldn't take accusations of race-based police brutality and NAACP crusaders for the public to cry foul on this. Calling Mullen a racist won't justify bis indecency as a human being.

Police officers struggle daily to meet the demands of a high-pressure job filled with challenging situations that test their personal limits. It's not easy.

But this doesn't give cops a license to snap, especially at the expense of an unarmed child, and walk away with just a slap on the wrist.

If Syracuse is serious about keeping its streets filled with dedicated, top-notch cops, theyll have to keep a closer eye on targeting similar issues before they explode.
Implementing better stress management seminars and counseling programs would help law enforcement agents cope with their emotions and the rigors of their jobs.

A uniform and a shiny badge should be synonymous with benevolence.

But Syracuse's actions have tarnished the badge.

\section*{dä]}

Editor in Chief Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Edito
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor
ustin Silvermman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Edito Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News EditorAsst. News Editor Asse. News Edind Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Cacy Editor
Asst. Cody Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Sapna Ko
Dave Curtis
Joy Devia ana Ehungeer Bat Ehninger
conet Deatimekh Nova Austrew Lauka Prabuckd Kate Stevenson Titfany Lurices Kevin Tampone Corey fimm Mogin Rickeount Cominor Enuris Jeff Pasyan Eriny Boyle Elaina Slifinmar Thto Eottitt Town Mamon
cheo: Goldion Lisp Caswell Emaria Betlo Rion Fooics

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Media undermines plight of women in workplace}

Two weeks ago, a headline in The Wall Street Journal read, "In Today's Workplace, Women Feel Freer To Be, Well, Women."

Devoid of any real social science, scant on legitimate studies, and consisting mostly of candid intermate studies, and consisting mostly of candid interincreasirgly use sex to further their careers

The Journal failed miserably in trying to maike the arricie seem completely innocent, painting a piciure pletely innocent, painting a pictu tages \({ }^{*}\) in the workplace. But the whole piece sets off more bells with me than Jerry Falwell suddenly liking gay people.

THOMAS
HOBAN

First, reporter Ellen Pollock fails to point out that no matter what ends these supposed "advantages" serve, women still make about three quarters to a man's dollar and there are only three female CEOs of

\section*{Fortune 500 companies.}

With sub-headings like, "Floppy Bow Ties Give Way To More-Alluring Attine; Sex Banter Has Its Place," and "Flirting - or Good Business?" the intentions of The Journal ane very clear. Women are sex objects, men are not capable of seeing them in a non-sexual light and any fermale achievements are obviously somehow related to sex.

Citing an ambiguously accredited writer named Warren Farrel, The Journal digs its own hole. Farrel mourns how in the modern workplace "one mistabe" explains that for a man, working around wornen is "life being an alcoholic and seeing drinks all around him." ing an alcoholic and seein
The Wall Street Journal's new theory about women is obviously some kind of weird, Ally McBeal, sexist pipe is obvioumy some kind of weird, Auy Mciea, sexist pipe dream. Without any academuc research to back up broad conclusions, it's obvious that once again, the mainstream media decides what it wants to say before the finds "evidence" to support it.

But often it's even scarier when the mainstream media does attempt to use academic research, especially in dealing with issues of a sexual nature. Last week, evolutionary biologist Randy Thornhill appeared on NBC's "The Today Show."

Thornhill is the co-author of a book entitled "A Natural History of Rape," which proposes that rape is a biolorical impulse that males have as a result of evolu. biological impulse that males have as a result of evolution. He claims the instinct evolved as an effective way fion. He ciaims the instinct evol

NBC, of course, says nothing of the fact that Thornhillt research is widely criticized in the scientific Tommunity. Evolutionary Biologist. Dr. Jerry Coyne community. Evolutionary Biologist Dr. Jerry coyne called hus work "irresponsible and "tendentious." He called tis work irresponsible and tuxaty ariicie and the seience is slopy," Pulitzer-prize winning science journalist Natalie Angier said that Thomhill's rescarch was severely lacking. Apparently much of the evidence he uses to draw con clusions about human behavior is based on the mating habits of scorpion flies.

Now, I'm no evolutionary biologist, nor have I read the book, but something seems a little odd about anyone who draws clear parallels between human conscious ness and the behavior of insects.
The following day, NBC's Dateline aired a segment discussing Thorrahill's work. The teaser ends with the shocking question "are all men born rapists?" Reporter Lisa Rudolph even suggests that Thornhills theory may prove that rape is a crime of sex, not one of violence.

Now I've never been raped, but it seems like it would prohably be pretty violent. I'm also pretty sure it has very little to do with sex. If Randy Thorninill were in prison, I think sex would probably be the last thing he'd want to think about.

But rather than ask any serious questions about the nature of rape, NBC chose to focus more closely on a lot of women in mini-skirts, while Thornhill implied guilt on the part of the victims of sex crimes

The clever slight of hand pulled by the Wall Street Journal, NBC and other major media outlets in covering the battle the sexes is bad joumalism poised on Neandertha logic. Their evidence is sketchy and their attitudes a my businessmen at the oftce is not a violation of any my businessmen at the oflice is not a volation of any one's rights. Rape is a violent crime sold 10,000 copies of A
Be vigilant.
Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and film and history major His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange E-mail him at tphoban@syredu

\section*{letters}

\section*{UU executed Panther speech responsibly}

To the editor:
Jumping to conclusions and propagating assumptions are often the source of unnecessary and unfounded animosity. In an effort to reduce any such dianpprobation. 1 would like to address and correct several careless staternents regarding Elaine Brown's lecture made by Nafsalaam Aniran in last

First, University Union's First, University Union's lice "Euard" or any other type of se curity for Ms. Brown's lecture. Any events held in Grant Auditorium employee to unlock the building.

This employee stood in the rear of the auditorium during the 90minute lecture, waiting to lock the building again upon its completion. Several accounts in recent SU publications have referred to this gentleman as "security" without any basis in fact. The blatant disinterest in truth is irresponsible enough, but further chastising UU as "reckless" for hiring said "guard" is completely unfounded. Secondly, Event Productions is not involved with venues preequipped with sound systems. The responsibility for the proper functioning of the equipment lies wit Classroom Presentations, who gave instructions for using the system, but did not send a technicia bance caused by a short period a feedibacis during the fecture was minimal, and Ms. Brown's speech ran uninterrupted
Finally, the event was advertised by an advertisement in The D.O., Ewo posters in the atrium of the Schine Student Center and flyers distributed to all residence halls, Race Dialogue Circles and African-American studies professors. This advertising drew about 30 people.

Those are the facts, and I hope any ill will felt toward the UU Speakers Board by Aniran and others can be allayed. UU's goal in bringing an interesting, intelligent historical icon to campus was to raise the consciousness of those who cared wo isten. From the com meal was achieved goal was achieved.

Elisabeth Stone UL Fresident and Speakers Board

\section*{FLEMMA}
continued from page 1
Flemma said. "But it's going to take a lot longer than we expected."

Flemma has yet to confirm his intent with the university, Morrow said.

The ball is really in his court, though, if he decides to pursue those interests," Morrow added.

In addition to the senior.s
harassment complaint, Flemma's behavior was questioned by Syracuse resident John Kondakoffin a 1998 lawsuit.

Kondakoff sued Flemma in a \($ 2.2\) milion case for defamation of character, slander and libel. Flemma was appointed legal guardian of Kondakoffs damghter during the custody battle between Kondakoff and the child's mother.
"The way he presented himself, I believed he wasn't acting in the best interest of my daughter as her legal guardian,* Kondakoff said. "He scemed very one-sided. He seemed to be a controlling person - trying to be superior.

In letters written to the udge presiding over the custody case, Flemma accused Kondakoft of being in need of psychiatric therapy, according to court reports.

The case was settied out of court on the terms that Flemma no longer serve as the legal guardian of Kondakoffs daughter and Kondakoff pay Flemma $3,000 for his legal fees, both Flemma and Kondakoff said. Flemma refused to comment further on the case.
"My object wasn't to pursue him." Kondakoff said. "I agreed to drop it for him to get him off the case. I put him back in his place."

Morrow refused to comment of the university's knowledge of his case.
"It would be inappropriate to talk about this matter: Morrow said. "I personally was not aware of the case - bu that doesn't mean that the uni versity didn't know."

Kondakoff said he disap. proved of Flemma's professional procedures and wanted toremove him from his position of le gal guardian of his daughter.
\({ }^{n}\) He K made our infe miser able," Kondakoff said. "Whatever happens, he'll get what he de serves."
ablish an improvement sys tem for the merchants. They are secking legislation that will allow private tax revenues to be used for renovations of the university's buitdings on Marshall Street, Shaw said

It would be difficult to mandate the owners of the private business to improve their buildings, however, Without irst providing underground wires. adecent sidew ights, he addid hopefulty the renovations will encourage other vendors to move in," Shaw said.

A Starbucks Coffee shop and a new movie theater in the Marshall Street area wilt add o the quality of university life, he said.

The improvements will be effective when they are finally complete, SGA A
"It is a long time and coming," said Gaulin, a sophomore political science and history major.

\section*{Smoking bans}

Tartaglia voiced concerns of the recent proposals from the Office of Residence Life to ban smoking within a 15 root perimeter of each North Campus residence hall. She said many students will be unhappy with the new sanctions.
*A lot of students will be upset because this is infringing on their rights," Tartaglia said.
The Office of Residence Life conducted two smoking cessation meetings rhis week o encourage students to quit smoking. Though student attendance was poor, a better aid K hthy VenVerhext week, ar of Health Services. or of Fiealth Services.

Low attendance could indi sop mating said Jant James, SGA president and ju "It's good that the residence halls are finally making renovations, not only for study purposes but for safety," said SGA Assistant ParliamentariAn Faith Tartaglia, a sophomore chemieal engineering major.
The university also hopes o acquire funds to cenovate the Marshall Square Mall, which s owned by SU, Shaw said. The Syracuse Common Council recently voted to es.

nior musical theater major.
Smoking is a persona choice, Shaw said. But where smoke affects other people, rules need to be enforced, he added.
"Even before research was done, you had to be living in a vacuum not to know smoking is bad for you, Shaw said ripht even thoumh it harm right even though it harms other pople

An ORL committee has discussed where students can other students' richt for clean other students risher flean air, Vanvechten said

The committee is also revicwing other university smok ing policies, VanVechten said.

SGA plans to elicit student response on the sanctions that would restrict smoking

A final decision on the implementation of the sanctions is yet to be determined, Van Vechten said.

\section*{Fire safery}

Student apathy toward fire safety should be addressed through increasing awareness SGA Executive Directer Nicholas Macearone said.

A fire safety meeting was advertised at watson Hall, he said. But few students showed upto the event, Maccarone added.
"There is a tremendous amount of apathy among stu dents," said Flint Hall Resident Advisor Ryan Fisher, a junior broadcast journalism and political science major. "It needs to be stressed that what happened at Seton Hall can happen here.

A Seton Hall University residence hall fire last month killed four students and injured 58 others.

The difficulty will be in presenting fire prevention in a way that students can learn that is, Shaw said. the people subject are the lesst likely to sttend any meetines he added attend any meetings, he added.

Face-to-face contact" with a resident advisor is the most He suggested distributing picHe suggested distributing pic* Lures of a th floor room in grated* in a 1994 fire.

\section*{The Honors Progiram}

A student questioned the cifferences between hopors courses and other liberalarts courses. He gecused students and professors not in the honors program of being "unmotivated."

Admission standards have cone up considerably in the past eight years, Shaw said. The higher standards would prevent 400 current \(S U\) students from being accepted had they applied this year, he added.
"Not everyone in the liberal arts elasses wants to be there which is unfortunate," he added. We can't motivate all make it important for need to make it important for themselves."

\section*{Sound designer Burtt to speak at technology banquet}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

The voice of R2D2 from "Star Wars" is visiting Syracuse today to share stories from behind the scenes of Hollywood blocithuusters.

Sound designer and Syracuse native Ben Burtt will speak as part of the Technology Club of Syracuse Awards Banquet at the Liverpool Foliday \(\mathbf{I n n}, 441\) Electronics Parkfor the laser guns, lightsabers and space cruisers in the "Star Wars" series, and sounds used in the Indiana

\section*{MILLS}
continued from page 1 from, bend attorney-client confidentiality," she said. "In my experience in washingtion, it seems

Several points sum up the rea-
Several points sum up the reasons for the confidentiality probproblems is the desire for self-promotion, she explained.

This desire leads attorneys to break confidentiality just to show off their knowledge, Mills said.
'If you aren't speaking, you don't know and hence, you aren't a player and this is a terrible, terrible place to be in Washington," she added. "You can only demonstrate what you know by telling what you know.

Both Mills and Lindsey opted not to speak with the media as a general practice during their tenure in the Clinton administration, Lindsey said.

This decision did not hurt Linusey" said. Instead, his refusal to talk to the media elevated his "playerness" because the media always assumed he was involved, he added.

An attorney's reputation, particularly among other lawyers, is also a reason for the betrayal of trust, Mills said. Lawyers often judge the performance of their colleagues in high profile cases in offices and in the media, she added.
"In Washington, there is a constant omnipresence of an immediate watch by the media, by jour os, by everyonc, hils said.

A lawyer may also feel compelled to disperse information that is in the client's best interest, Mills said This practice nids in a botter cflection of the client in the history books and in the media, she added wooks and in the media, she added find yourself talking about you find yourself talking about your chent, you are probabl wrons place," Mills added.

Mills used examples from the Clinton administration presented in jouraalist Bob Woodward's in journalist Bob Woodward s Legacy of Watergate 1974-1999" in order to support her claims. The order to support her chations. given to attorneys in confidence and then betrayed by an unnamed source, she said.

Both attorneys and the general public should not take the current conditions in Washington, D.C. for granted, Lindsey said. There is an "investigative mentali ty" that is at its peak, he said.

The controversies surrounding the Clinton administration helped to cause that mentality, he added.
"Impeachment took it to its ultimate level," Lindsey said.

The event allowed audience members to see the inner-workings of the nation's capital, said Lor Campbell, a freshman magazine major.
I thought it was interesting and gave me insight into what is going on politically in Washington," she said.

Despite the recent decay in the attorney and client relationship, Mulis said lawyers can stinhelp improve society. Her seven year career as deputy counsel of that fact. They reminded me everyday Why we are here and that we have Mills said.

\section*{Jones trilogy.}

We are very excited to have such a film great give us insight into special effects," said Dr. John Oldneld, a member of the Technology Club Board of Directors.

The banquet begins at 6:30 p.m with Burtt's speech scheduled at 8:15 p.m., said Al Brandenburg, master of will be on display evening the event and awards and scholarships will be given to people whose work helps celebrate technology, he added.
"Ben is a little different from other sound editors," said father

Mills' largest accomplishment in her time spent in the capital in her representing Clinton in the impeachment trial, she said.

Benjarnin Burtt, a former Syracuse University chemistry professor. He designs and creates sounds, docters them up, changes their speed and in all thines in sound"

As a boy, Burtt and his family went on vacation in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains, his father said. They climbed a hill to record the sound of the wind blowing through cables at the base of a tower. .is faing a sound similar to a laser gun.
When working with producer Gcorge Lucas on Star Wars years
"I stood and defended the most important defendant I will probably have in my life," she said.
later, Burtt found this sound again and helped make it common for laser guns in movies, his father said.

I think it would be interesting to go and see how he used the technology of the time of Star Wars, as compared with the Phantom Men ace, said Ken Gurel, a junior inclucas' most recent film.

Burtt's father said he hopes the speech will give students the opportunity to ask questions and get a better sense of the work that goe into movie soundtracks. \({ }^{\text {I }}\) grew up watching Star Wars "I grew up watching Star Wars, Indiana Jones and all those movies," said Mike Bosco, a sophomore adto see somebody who was behind the scenes working on those pro jects."
\(\qquad\)
Tickets cost \($ 15\) for students The S.I. Newhouse School of Communications and the L.C. Smith College of Engineening are providing bus service to the event for those students interested in attending.

The Universtry of Aruzona.
GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL IN MEXICO SINCE 1952 2000

6-week sessions Intensive Spanish
3-weeksessions Intensive Spanish

5-week session

July 3 - August 10 or July 10 - August 17, 2000 (1st hru 6 th semesters) * Eam: 6 -8 units of credit
July 3 - July 21 or July 10 - July 28, 2000 (1st thru 4ul semesters) • Eam: 4 units of credit

July 10 - August 9, 2000
Upper-division Spanish, Literature & Cinema as well as Mexico-related courses in Anthropology. Politcal Science. Sociology, and Biingual Education
For information or apptication, contact:
Guadalajara Summer School - The University of Arizona P.O. Box \(40966 \cdot\) Tueson. Arizona \(85717 \cdot\) Phone: (520) 621-5137 E-Mail: gssturarizonacdu

\title{
DañeeWorks
} expressions

pebruary \(24,25,26\)
1:30 pm coldsteeth autitiortum

\section*{\($ 3\) w/ arts adventure}
\($ 5\) for students
\($ 6\) general admission

\section*{\(\square\) City Affairs}

\section*{Residents dispute sewage treatment plant}

EY MAGIN MCKENNA
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Bearing signs and flyers more than 50 city residents asked Wednesday night to vote against the ingtallation of a 700-foot sewage pipeline near Midland Avenue.

The pipeline would allow the construction of a \($ 75\) million sewage treatment plant in the area.

Currently raw sewage and storm water hows into Onondaga Creek from nine overflow points in the Midland Avenue project area, said Michacl Cunhingram pondaga lake The plant p

The plant proposal is a result of the sewage contamination and is required by a 1998 New York Cunningham said.

Throughout the council meeting, community members displayed signs criticizing Onondaga County Executiv Nicholas Pirro. They read: "Don't Let Nick Pirro's $ and Power In timidate You. Do The Right Thing. Stop The Sewage Treat ment Plant."

Residents also donned stick ers reading "Hello, My Name Is Niek Pirro. I Hate The South

\section*{cops}
continued from page 1
morning of Feb. 4 on the 100 block of Ostrom Avente, accord ing so a police report.
broken, causing about \($ 220\) wort

\section*{side.*}

Pirro attended the meeting but did not respond to the protest. Common Council Majority Leader Kate O'Connell invited audience members to respectfully voice their concerns about the facility to Cunningham.

I don't like the idea that every time they have something dirty they put it on the South side," resident Joanne DelVerchio said. There are a lot of poor peo pie living there who don't have the resources to fight this. They don't put these kinds of things on the North side, do they?

The Council does not have the authority to vote on the sewage treatment plant's con struction and lacation and can only decide on the matter of the pipeline. OConnell said. If the Council does not approve th pipeline's instillation, however, i tion. The Council will most likely e issue in three wecks. she snid

But the county expects the Council to approve the pipeline installation for construction in May, Cunningham said.

We felt it was important to Give the community a chance to ask questions," O'Connell said. "The Common Council has no le gal authority other than the easement of the pipeline. We have easement of the pipeline. We have treatment plant."

\section*{Questioning the Council}

Richard Puchalski, execu tive director of Syramise United Neighbors, shouted at the Council Neighbors, shouted at the Councito table the vote on the installafion until alternative location for the sewage plant can be investigated. A report on alternative sites will be released by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in April.

He then presented the Council with a "gift" - a scuipture of 11 screws with the words "Don" Screw Our Neighborhood. Vote 'No' On The Raw Sewage Treatment Plant" written on its base.
"SUN is steadfastly opposed to this," Puchalski said. "Why shove this plant down our throats before exploring the alterna Puchalski also displayed sign that read "Throw Nick Pirro Off The 14th Floor.'

Jim Resti, an attorney representing Citizens for Fair Treatment, urged the Council to vote in the best \({ }^{2}\) There is a question here of political powerlessness," Resti of tamaze, the repure said
The unidentified suspect stole the car's CD player, valued at \($ 200\), the report said.

There have been seven other car break-ins around eampus this ports. No suspects were ident fied in ony ofthe inciriont
- Two cars were towed early Monday morning on the 200 block Monday morning on the 200 block of Comstock A police reports.
parked facing the wrong direcsaid. There is no one in the elected government who wants to stand up and say 'No. But the grant of an easement has enormous power. Don't give in to political pressure.

Cunningham acknowledged that the city is still working out the final details for the proposal and will only be ready to begin the first phase, the installation of the pipeline, in late May

To me we don't have all the details and that doesn't sound plausible," resident Walter Eiland said. "My grandchildren and my children are going to have to deal win this. You al the people posed to be working for the people they don't want you to bring this mess in their bactyards." mess in their backyards.

If the plant is constructed in the area near Midiand Avenue residents asked Cunningham if the city would buy their homes so borhoods.

Cunningham contested that there is mo other logical place for the plant to be constructed other than the Midland Avenue location because that is where the sewage naturally flows.
"I understand the issue the residicnts have," Cunningham said. "But no matter where the project is, we're going to disrupt Cunningham also denied claims of environmental injustice, citing that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency already approved the sewage treatment plant propossal. Residents, however, have filed individual complaints against the plant's proposed location with the EPA, he added.

Because the majority of residents living near Midland Avenue are black, audience membeunty is being racist in its pre county is being racist in its proposal.

Cunningham said that no complaints have been filed to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Merrilee Witherell, executive director of the Fair Housing vised the Council to contemplate the potential ramifications the construction of the sewage treatment plant could have on an economically disadvantaged neighborhood
-It is a viable possibility that this is racist," Witherell said. The effect of this is overwhelmingly against one group of people. I wouldn't be satisfied until this issue is brought up before a Civil Liberties Union."
tinn on the road, the report said. The vehicles, a 1997 Dodge Neon and a 1995 Pontiac Sunfire, were towed between \(12:\) a.m., the report said.
me Syracuse City Police Department called ror hore than 20

\title{
VIEW A RENOVATED MODEL APARTMENT AT SOUTH CAMPUS 121 WINDING RIDGE ROAD APT. 6
}

OPEN: MONDAY, FE日RUARY 21
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY \(2 A\)
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1
MONDAY & TUESDAY, MARCHG& 7
7:00 PM - 8:30 PM
TAKE THE WINDING RIDGE RD. BUS FROM COLLEGE PLACE TO WINDING RIDGE RD.

\section*{SOUTH CAMPUS OFFERS ALL THE PRIVACY OF APARTMENT LIVING} WITH THE CONVENIENCE OF UNIVERSITY OWNED HOUSING.

AN AREA ADVISOR WILL EE PRESENT TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE FURNISHED, UTILITIES INCLUDED (PRICES ARE FIXED SO EUDGETING IS EASIER) ACADEMIC YEAR LEASE

OPEN THROUGHOUT THE ACADEMIC YEAR!!!
COME AND SEE WHAT
SOUTH CAMPUS APARTMENTS
HAVETO OFFER!!!
WHILE YOU ARE HERE. PLEASE VISTT YOUR GOLOSTEIN STUDENT CENTER & ENJOY THE FACILITY from neighborhoods surrounding he university, according to police reports.

The owners received citations for illegally parking and obstructing roadways, the reports said.

Police targeted areas including Clarendon, Ackerman and Livingston avenues, the reports added.

EAn unidentified person entered a Watson Hall room Sunday afternoon and stole sophomore Jacalyn Price's IMac computer, according to a police report.

The thief stole the computer. valuing \($ 1,400\), off a desk that was in plain view from the door, the report said.

II didn't notice that the computer was missing right away, said Price, an architecture major and comic artist for The Daily Orange. "There was no evidence of the door being tampered with.

Price said she belleves the computer was stolen while she was out and her roommate wa in the shower, she said locked," she said.
- A Syracuse University student found Wednesday her apartment on the 800 block of Sumner Avenue was broken into unit, valuing \($ 300\), was missing according to a police report.
"When I got home, all of the doors were open," said Rebekka Kuhn, a fellow resident of the apmrtment and junior communi eations design major. We live on the second floor, and even the door to the actual apartment was open.

The door may have been un locked, Kuhn said.

There was only a 10 minute period that no one was around which is really weird, she said.
the report gata
ing. the report said.
said. "And the only thing," Kuhn sand. And the only thing we coule Gud that was missing w writh the buile-in VCR."
with the buiti-in ver. 10 reported break-ins since September in res. idences near the university.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evars Bortan

\section*{\(\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{GEE}}\)}

See you
Researchers are now using a computer model to analyze the cost-effec tiveness of annual eye exams for patients with Type II (adult-onset) diabetes, the most com\(\nabla \square^{\text {mon form. }}\) B Because \(\Delta \Delta>\) is a major bindness, an annual eye exam has been the standard recommendation for all diabeties. But a new compurer analysis suggests that such a recommer ation "may be verzealous." The nnual eye exam may not be worth the any or the trouble for ow risk with a relatively from diabetes, researchers said, and tailoring recommendations to individual circumstances may be preferable.'

\section*{Guess again} When it comes to estimating how long a termi nally ill patient will survive, doctors often are dead wrong. a Chicago study shows. Usually the ermer is on the ontimistio side. In a study of 458 patients referred to five Chicago hospices, docors predicted that their tying patients would ve, on average more than five times longer than they actually did. The doctors' predictions were accurate in only one out of five cases. In the 80 percent of cases naccurately predicted. researchers found tha survival was overestinated nearly four times as often as it was

\section*{Culture shock} According to the American Medical Association, many foreigribarn doctors experi ence a cultural joit when they come to work in the United States. Foreign-trained doctors, foreigntborn doctors and U.S. residents and citizens who receive med ical training abroad make up nearty a quarter of the 700,000 icensed and practicing physt \(>\) cians in the United States. They form a vita cog in the nation's health care system. tending to the very poor and very sick in places other physicians often void. American-trained doctors typically seek work in private hospitals or the suburtos.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"If only we'd stop trying to be happy, we could have a pretty good time."
Edith Wharton

\section*{BY DANIBLIE KOST}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Michael Jordan shaved his off. Elton John coverred his up. Kevin Costrier tried to get his producers to "digitally" touch his up in the film "Wacerworld." From sports stars, to rock stars, to movie stars, to the common "Joe," everyone han dles hair loss differently.

In the United States, 40 million men lose their hair, according to the Johns Hopkins University Wes ak, wh thinning stress hormeral factora can cause thing. atres, hormonal changea, medica. It, che one proceses, dis shortly after puberty.

And hair loss faces more college-aged men than most think.

I used to have a really thick head of hair," said Kuss Blaymore, as he lifted up his hat to stroke his light brown hair. Blaymore, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences, first noticed his hair thinning after a haircut, revealing less hair than there used to be, he said.

Sitting next to Blaymore is Todd Brosky, who said he started losing hair in high school.
here," he said. "Everyone's a stud around here it here," he said. "Everyone's a stud around here" jor, gets angry when people casually joke about his

See BALDING page 10

\section*{Lyme disease carries AIDS traits}

Lyme disease and AIDS have more in common than you think

According to a report by the Corey Hann
health sleuth

National Ingtitute of Allergy and niechous Diseases, symptoms that result from chronic Lyme immune system tharning Aprinst itself, life in the travic case of EIV sufferears This finding is a major adivance for Lyme disease researchers and their patients \({ }^{\text {" }}\) said Anthony Fauchi, director of the institute. "We now have a powerful new tool to investigate what role autoin mune mechanisms play in the development of the diseases' chronic symptoms." The theoretical tool that Fauchi discusses is the theory that the bacterium cauries Etself within perts ofT buries itself within parts of T-cells, a terium-and-T-cell pair go on to attack the immune system in varied and radical ways,
In addition to this new stardy, the Food and Drug Adrainistration on December 21, 1998 approved a vaccine for this potentially debilitating ailment But the debate remains whether this socalled cure is worth it.

In spring of 1999 , the University of California at Los Angeles School of Medicine found that test results for the wecll a did not necessarily indicate how ment It is virtusily rospible for the sub ect has an infection harbored in the abin ret has neither a rash nor overt the skid finfection. This condition may reavit in "partial immunity" that could "potentialy mask Gail McGuire Gisco, and two-time sufferer of the dis

\section*{BALDING}
continued from page 9
hair thinning. Though he used to have long hair, he now keeps it short.

Their friend Eric Atanasio, also sharing their table at the Schine Student Center, does not have much to worry about, he said. Though his brother's hair is thinning, he is confident that he will keep his dense, dark hair. He is the only one out of the three who is not wearing a hat.

Joseph B. Neiman, M.D. of the Neiman Center for Hair Transplantation in Williamsville, treats men of all ages for hair loss - a potentially traumatic condition, he said.
"Most of the time, they are ex-

The Daily Orange
remely upset or panicky, Neiman said of young clients. Some people will not take off a hat because they are so self-conscious."
Signs of aging
00 average human loses 50 to 100 hairs a day, but balding is more rapid and noticeable cinds of said. There are several common is male pattern balding. in which the front hairline recedes while the top becomes sparse.

A combination of three factors cause male pattern balding: genetics, hormones and aging. The younger the balding begins, the more drastic the thinning, Neiman said.

If they start losing hair early on, chances are they will be very bald later on in life," he said.

Treating a peek-a-boo scalp can mean anything from hair weaves to surgery. If it s going, there are only two medicinal options for bringing it back or slowing the process.

There's Minoxidil, made famous by the over thesounter topical solution Rogaine, and nnasteride, better known as Propecia, a pill taken once a day. Both must be used consistently throughout the rest of a patient's life to be completely effective.

Though Rograine only works for a small percentage of cases Neiman said, Propecia proved 88 percent effective in clinical trials for either stabilizing hair loss or causing hair growth. The drug

\section*{Summer ín London}

British Life and Culture
A six credit seminar that allows students to study British culture while visiting sites off the beaten path.

\section*{July 2 - July 29, 2000}

For more information and an application, contact DIPA Summer Programs 119 Euclid Avenue
443-9420/9421

An evening with.....

\title{ moe
}

CD release party Celebrating the new live album "L"
Landmark Theatre
Friday, April \(14^{\text {th }}\)
Tickets on sale at all Ticketmaster locations and at the Landmark Theatre Box Office was first used to treat enlarged prostates, but acientists found that it helped bald men to grow hair, Neiman said. Now men can buy it for about \($ 50\) a month.

Judy Kenyon, owner of the hair replacement clinic Genesis II, 405 E. Taft Road, North Syracuse, pairs medicinal help with laser therapy for her younger clients, she said.
"It treats men that are just starting, and it may help cease the hair loss by increasing blood circulation," said Kenyon, who has been in the hair replacement business for 35 years.

If a person has more than half of his hair, it's best to stay with a non-surgical remedy, Kenyon added.

Blaymore's balding father has gotten results from Rogaine, he said. Though Blaymore's hair loss is not noticeable, if it became visible, he would try it too, he said.
"But I wouldn't wear a toupee or spray stuff on it, "he said.

Neiman recommends hair transplants for people who want a permanent solution to baldness. In transplants, hair follicles are taken from the back of the head on strips and are cut so that the hair follicles are grouped from one to six hairs per piece of skin.

These hairs are geneticallyprogrammed to grow anywhere and always, Neiman said. They are surgically "planted" in slits carved on the scalp, usually in the front of the head first. Other exposed areas are covered gradually, as needed.
"You do look older when you loose hair in the front area first," Neiman said. "The crown is less noticeable."

For young men, hair replacement at the crown is risky and will require a commitment to more hair implants as the bald spot grows and forms a ring around the new hair, Naman said. This technique costs \($ 4,000\) to \($ 7,000\) at Neiman's practice.

Genesis II also offers hair replacement, or "hair grafting," Kenyon said. But for coverage without the cutting, Kenyon recormmended "folligrafting," a procedure that arheres a layer of skin bald spots. Folligrafting, which costs \($ 1,500\) to \($ 3,200\), is permanent and requires no maintenance, Kenyon said.

Some men opt for toupees or weaves, which Kenyon and Neiman discourage as an option for their patients. Toupees are high maintenance and require cleanings and re-applications, making them pass, compared to current treatments, Neiman said.
"They always look the same, whether you're 25 or 65 ," he said. "When you're young, an artificial rug or mop doesn't look bad, but they get obvious when you're old." Though there are a variety of treatments, nothing will bring back the thick locks a person nuay have had as a teenager, Neiman said. In dealing with hair loss, it is important to be realistic.
"This is not the end of hair loss, this is only the beginning," he said.

Those looking to treat their thinning hair or baldness should hunt for a qualified physician, not a bargain, Neiman said. Board certified and trained physicians, dermatologists or plastic surgeons who are members of the International Society of Hair Restoration Surgery are generally good choices, he added.
"This is an ongoing process," Neiman said, referring to the necessary repeated visits, consultatons and stages of treatment. Through the process, a patient's progress can be emotional, Neiman said.
"They're socially inhibited," said Neiman about balding men. He referred to a segment on the TV show "20/20" where two balding men were sent to a nightelub with hair pieces. With full heads of hair, they were confident and atrgeted o crowd. Without the wigs, they were wallflowers and virtually ignored by others.

Many men worry that they will not be as appealing to others, Kenyon said.
"Some men are attractive without hair, but the majority of men are not," said Kenyon, who considers hair replacement anther facet of the appearance-sen sitive modern society, she said.
"It's a secret. It's like a quiet tragedy," Neiman said. "If you gain weight, you can diet. You can't control hair loss."

\section*{SLEUTH}
continued from page 9
ease, is sikeptical about the vaccine's potential success rate.
"I wouldn't even have my pets vaccinated, let alone myself," McGuire said. "I'm much more careful about where I am and if I'm at risk for getting it."

Risk factors for contracting the disease are fairly easy to avoid unless you're a lumberjack or full-time woods hermit. Stay away from moist, shaded environments, especially leaf-littered vegetation areas - these are the breeding grounds for the spreaders of the disease, the nymphal ticks.

The disease is physically characterized by a small, red "bulls eye" rash that is revealed within one to two weeks and is accompanied by tiredness, fever, headache, stiff neck and joint pain.
It has infected 150,000 people in the last three years, wit approximately 50 percent of calone, according to a report by alone, according to a report b the National Institutes of Health. But the disease is often misdiagnosed because of its simimisdiagnosed because of its sity stages. As a result, the diagstages. As a result, the diagnosed population represents only the tip of the iceberg - the total number of Lyme disease cases could be closer to 2 million accouding to the 2 millon, according to the Centers for

If the vaccin
If the vaccine is a success, it couid increase the cost Lyme dis ease has on society - about \($ 1\) al and mrofessional devastationthat hrve been oechal devastations lies across the United States.

Anne Moran, a resident of Katonah, contracted the disease in 1986, and is still suffering the consequences.
"I was at a concert at a park, five days later I was debilitated by headaches, muscle pains. It was hell," Moran said They caught the discase early however, five years later I was experiencing side effects that dramatically altered my life."

Her side effects represent a rare case of when even proper diagnosis can go wrong. She went to experts at Long Island University and New York University Medical Center, and still no definite root of her problem was uncovered.
"No one thought to blame it on Lymes. 'They thought I was cured of it," Moran said. "In a last ditch effort, it was found that the initial strain that I had never was filly cured and damaged my nervous system over the years, resulting in chronic ymes."

The Lyme Disease Foundation indicated that people often think there is only one corm of the bacteria.

There are over 100 strains of the Lyme disease bacterin he bacteria can even mutate once inside the host's body," according to a report by the foundation.

According to an informal study conducted by the American Lyme Disease Alliance, most patients diagnosed with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) are actually uffering from Lyme disease.

The symptoms can be so closely related to the fir that it can be easily missed and passed off," said McGuire- "If you're uni formed, you're in danger."

\section*{ASSISTS}
continued from page 16 night long, whoever had the ball." Hart's defensive efforts against the Wildcats ( \(16-10,6-7\) ) sparked Syracuse's first-half ofHe stripped Villanova point guard Jermaine Medley and drew contact froing to the basket. After Hart surik both free throws, SUled 29-10 halfway through the first 29-10 haltway through the first.

Marveling at Hart's play at both ends of the courc, Vinanova head coach Steve Lappas saids
"I see the confidence fa him it's just unbelievable factor for him, it's just unbelievable" Lappas said. Hes in control out there, and ne controlled the ga There's no doubt about that."
"I just let the game come to me. I didn't get too overexcited or too overanxious, iust let the too overanxious, Ijst let the hit the shots, and that was key in hit the shots, and that was key in me getring all those assists," Hart \(\qquad\) Syracuse sharpshooters Preston Shumpert and Deshaun Williams led the scoring with 15 points each.

With the Orangernen leading 13-6, Shumpert caught Villanova's zone in a lapse and fired up a three from the left corner. His bucket sparked a 19-4 Syracuse run that suggested blowout. Williarns added two triples during the stretch, his second basket putting SU up 32-10 with 9:42 to play in the first half.

Syracuse finished 6-for- 16 from behind the arc, but drained fue of its 10 first-half attempts, Which "The bottom line, still, is when you make some threes, it's just all heim said wwhen you heim said. When you make those shots, it's huge, no question.

The Orangemen also played strong in the paint. With Villanova doubling down on Thomas, it freed up Damone Brown and Ryan Blackwell. Brown, who finished with 12 points, took advantage, hitting a baseline jumper and kissing a shot off the glass during the Blackwe Blackwell, meanwhile, crashed the boards and recorded two putbacks. He tallied 10 points It was Black

It was Blackwell's second consecutive solid outing, as he scored 15 points and pulled down five boards in SU's 76-75 Ioss to \({ }^{\text {"He's }}\)
"He's back to where he was," Boehem said. "He missed some shots tonight that I think he'll

\section*{PERIMETER}
continued from page 16
fense instead of its 2-3 zone -harassed the Wildcats into committing 22 turnovers and shooting just उo percent fīm the ficld.
"This was strictly a great defensive effort," Boe-heim said. "We haven't had heim said. "We haven't had this in a long time Our perimeter tremendous.

Even more impressive, Syracuse (22-3, 11-2 Big East) limited Nova to an anemic 3 -point shooting percentage of about six percent (1-of-18).
"I'm shocked that we got off 18," Villanova head coach off 18, Villanova head coach Steve luppas said, "They weren't very good ones, that's for sure, because the pressure on the perimeter Was tremendous. That's why they got their hands on so many balls and denied so many balls and denied s many passes.
SU's stalemate of Villanova ( \(16-10,6-7\) ) on the perimeter were the Orangemen guards. Jason Hart, who hada terrific all-around game with 14 assists and nine points, notched threesteals and pestered each Wildcat handling the ball on the outside. \(\mathbf{w}\) Williams and Preston Shumpert - who both had Shumpert who both had pace SU-each grabbed three steals and continually, stepped into the Wildcats' passing lanes, cutting off Villanova's scoring chances before they could develop.
"We just got in the passing lanes tonight and created some steals," Williams said. "Whenever you create steals, most likely you're going to win.

The Orangemen racked up 14 thefts for the game to the Wildcats five. Most of the ateala led to easy hoops for SU, which went on a \(26-6\) run early in the first half for a sizable lead it wouldn't give up.

When the Orangemen weren't taking the ball away from their Wildcat foes, they simply made Villanova heave shots that didn't have a prayer of tickling the nylon.
-They didn't mist shots, we made them miss shots," Boeheim said. "It was our defense.

For the Wildcats, winners of Eive of their last six. the ahooting percentage from the field matched the lowest during the six-game stretch

Nova freshman guard Gary Buchanan entered the game averaying 11.4 points per contest and already bolding the schnol record for most 3 -pointers by a frosh.

However, Buchanan fin. ished with just five points on l-of-6 shooting, mostly due to the pressure of Orange men guard Tony Bland.

Bland made a narme for himself early in the season with some deadeye shooting from behind the 3 -point arc. But his shooting touch has gone somewhat sour lately so the sophomore turned to ther aspects of his game like defense - to contribute to the Orangemen.
"I think I did real well," Bland said after finishing with seven points. "I played against one of the best shooters in the league, and 1 made every shot tough for him."

The result of the defengive pressure on the perimeter was an overall performance by SU that Williams said was the team's best since its 88.74 victory over Connecticut on Jan. 24.

Since that nationally televised win, Syracuse has been inconsistent on both the offensive and defensive ends.

The Orangemen players, however, said they realized getting their defense up to snuft was the first step in returning to the form that let fiem rattle off wins in their first 19 games.

We wanted to come out and really put it to somebody because we haven't done that in a while," SU senior forward Ryan Blackwell said. And the key was getting out and pressuring people and playing the kind of defense that broupht us of defense that brought us so much success early on." defensive effort obvious in defensive effort obvious in the 28 -point victory, \(S U\) the 28-point victory, SU hopes to continue its high-pressure ways coming down pressure ways coming down son. We were in people's

We were in people's face, cutting thanes, Shumpert said. I think we defnitely need to do stuif on defense like that. That's going to lead to easy buckets, fast-break buckets. When we get our transition game going we're pretty hard to going, were pretty hard to make. But. he's looking to shoot, and he's looking to make plays.

The Orangemen played a tenacious man-to-man defense, mixed with a little bit of zone, to hold Villanova shooters to a just 34 percent from the field, compared to their 42 percent average. SU also forced 22 Wildcat turnovers.

While the Orangemen celebrated the victory, Villanova mourned the loss for several reasons. The defeat dropped the Wild cats into a seventh-place tic with Rutgers in the Big East. It also does not bode well for Villanova's hopes at earning one of the 64 spots in the NCAA Tournament.

Syracuse, however, is on the upswing for tournament time, After losing three of its last five games, the squad turned in its best game in a while Wednesday night, Syracuse guard Tony Bland said.
"We haven't heen playing well lately." Bland said. WVe lot a couple games slide away from us but we're still one of the best teams in the country. We're still going to be in there and not let anyone count us out."

\section*{2000 SUMMER EMPL OYMENT}

\section*{RESIDENTIAL/NON-RESIDENTIAL Conference Support Positions Available}

\section*{-Assist with arrangements for Academic/Sport Camp Programs-}

\section*{Qualifications Include:}
-Customer Service Experience
-Clear, Effective Communication
-Familiarity with Campas facilities helpful
For further information or to obrain ant application packet, please contact:

\section*{THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCE SERVICES}

621 Walnut Ave., Syracuse, N'Y 13210
443-1347

\section*{LET TIAA-CREF HELP YOU BUILD A SECURE FINANCIAL FUTURE.}

FTor over 80 years, TIAA-CREF has been the leading retirement company on America's campuses. But experience is just one reason why so many smart investors trust us with their financial future. Here are a few more:

\section*{Superior strength}

With over \($ 250\) billion in assets under management, TIAA-CREF is the world's largest retirement organization --and among the most solid. It's one of the reasons why Morningstar says, "TIAA-CREF sets the standard in the financial services industry." \({ }^{\prime \prime}\)

\section*{Solid, long-term performance}

We seek out long-term opportunities that other companies, in pursuit of quick gains. often miss. Though past performance can't guarantee future results, this patient philos* ophy has proven extremely rewarding.

\section*{Surprisingly low expenses}

TIAA-CREF's operating costs are among the lowest in the insurance and mutual fund industries. \({ }^{2}\) So more of your money goes where it should - toward ensuring your future.

\section*{Easy diversification}

We offer a wide variety of expertly managed investment options to help build your assets. We make it simple, too, with stock, bond, moncy market, real estate. and guaranteed options.

\section*{Unrivaled service}

We believe that our service distinguishes us from every other retirement company. In the most recent Dalbar survey. TIAA-CREF ranks tops in participation satisfaction. \({ }^{3}\)

Call today to find out how TIAACREF can help you build the financial future you want and deserve.

To find out more - give us a call or visit our website
\(1800842-2776\) www.tiaa-cref.org

\section*{MISCUES}
continued from page 16
Aziz did not fare any better, contributing to the Orangewomen's sloppiness with four miscues apiece.

The 16 turnovers, however, did not faze SU. The Orangewomen drained shots and got big baskets from Jaime James.

The sophomore guard shot 4 -for- 6 in the first half for nine points. James and Record each hit key jumpers during a \(23-12\) un in an SU-dominated half.

Most of Syracuse's thin bench saw action, as little-used reserves Missy Grosman and Lorna McPhee each hit jumpers during the spurt, which saw \(S U\) jump to a 31-18 halftime lead.

But despite the advantage, turnovers haunted the Orangewomen in the second frame. After a Record jumper gave SU a 39-26 lead, the squad gave SU a 39-26 lead, the squad remaining. The Pi
The Piraten ( \(11-14,5-10\) ) capitalized on costiy SU turnovers to go on a 20-6 run maining in the game.

Seton Hall took its first lead of the game on a 3-ball from the corner pocket by guard Cecilia Lindqvist.

The 3-pointer was one of only two shots Lindquist made the entire game.
"She wanted the ball," Seton Hall coach Phyllis Mangina said. "Plus she played really good defense. When someone wants the basketball like that, you get it to her.

After the Lindquist shot, Ervin followed with a jumper to regain the lead for SU at 47-46 with 2:19 left.
After two free throws by Naimah Smith, Record drove the other end and launched an off-balanced three with 55 sec onds left.

On the next \(S U\) possession - with the SHU lead stretched to 52-47-James made her best Scott Norwood impression by bricking a long 3 -pointer wide left from two feet behind the arc.

SU would foul, and Seton Hall sealed the \(55-49\) win.

Increased energy in the second half on the defensive end gave the Pirates the victory, Mangina said.

SHU also used its inside game more effectively. Power forward Arminda Moreno scored 19 points, 14 of which came in the second half. Seton Hall pulled down 21 second-half rebounds, with 16 on the defensive glass.
Mangina said the improved interior play was a result of the defensive presence of the Seton Hall guards in the second half. LindqVist and shooting guard to just two points in the second half.

We started to post up our guards," Mangina said. "We thought we could take thern off the dribble. We went inside early in the first half but we weren't hitting our shots. We started getting scared and rushing jumpers. We just told them to be more patient, to look inside and go to the rim, get fouled."

Seton Hall's win against the Orangewomen was their second defeat of SU in four days. The Hall beat Syracuse 67-60 in the Garden State on Sunday afternoon after the Pirates finished the game on an 8-2 run. Sunday's contest was a nakeup for the original, postresided because of last month In the two ames against the Pirates, SUs Shannon Perry impressed Mangina

The Big East Rookie of the Year Candidate led the Orange women with 13 points in SU's inal home game of the year on Wednesday aiternoon. She pulled down four rebounds and swiped two steals.

She was just unbelievable," Mangina said of Perry's performance Wednesday. 1 put our different people on her She's strong. She can take it of the dribble. If she can develop an even deeper jumper, I think she's going to be one of the best winge in this league."

Feb. 25, 26, Mar. 1*, 2, 3, 4 at 8 p.m.
Feb. 27, Mar. 5 at 2 p.m.
*Mar. 1 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517

\section*{WAKE AND BAKE \\ WITH KEN AND AL ON \\ AL'S PSYCHEDELIC BRUNCH}

CLASSIC ROCK ON 1570 AM WERW
EVERY FRIDAY FROM 11AMー1PM PRIZES, CD GIVEAWAYS. CONTESTS

Area 52

Never Odd or Even

So This Is Life ...

Classic Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Get Beer!

by Neil Swaab

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damon Amendolara
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{5}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Headlines
by Stephen Carr
MEADLINE: "S.U. students donate"

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

\section*{315-443-9793}
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE 8 are Pre:paid by: Deadline: :2em 2 business days prioi, io run ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE Ads can be mailed with check to:
he Daity Orange: 744 Ostrom Aven Syracuse. NY 13210; An: Classifieds; OR axed with Credit Card to: \(\mathbf{3 1 5 - 4 4 3 - 3 6 8 9}\)

\section*{Notices}

\section*{Autos}

Jeap Wrangler, 974 gylinder, Red whiliack sclt top 10.000 beat call \(476-7097\) see photo in Auto Finder

EMPLOYMENT
Camp Counsclors Top Overnight Camps in Pocono Mins. Over 40 acivities -seaking sp counselof s \(1.800 .533-c a m p\) wimp pandorestcanp.com

TEED EXPEPAEMCE (and maney) Join a tast in and grow.ing company as your campus repercmative. Fiex ble houts. responsibites and compontive pay wo expencnce, fist rommaton and ws bil out an onire

CASAP CANADEISIS, Pocomo Mounlans. PA Premier residentat coed sumaner camp. We are lo teach all gerenc athercs, Gymnastics, hockey entis. mulus:ath bikes, goll, matorcycles, outdoor eotog:ap:y. fishing. WSI. watefliont actwities. sits and ciatis, cookng and much morel Excelent achities anc \(g^{\prime}\) eal salary! 6/2t/00-8/18/00. Call (600) 832-8228 Sumet Cottec Shop tocased at SUnY Hospia Cali: \(800-292-2233\) ex nights. Fun tor alt ages.

Job Opportunities
Camp Poyntelle seeks counselors lor co-ed Avetheas! PA, overaight Jewish Federation camp -
3 tours from fyyc- General, Spors, Drama, 420 a fis. 1 -800.973-35en Summers Epoyntelle.com or www.poynteile.corn Universty Barteriding Classes Start Soon Student Discounts 1-800-U.CAN-MIX Call For Intormation!!!

\section*{WANTED}

Child Care
Cicero couple seeking student to provide part-tume chid care in our home lor 4 year-old and 1 year-otd. 699-6175

Help Wanted
\($ 1500\) weekly potential mailing our circulars. No Expenence Required. Free intomation packet. Call 202-452-7679

Roommates
Roommato wanted for fall semester 200 only in a 2 bedroom apartment on Euclid Avenue.
Heasonably priced. \(476-29 a 2\)

FOR RENT

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnui Ave
319 Euclid Av
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 Fuly Fumished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Fioors Remodeled Kitchens and Bath

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Ackerman Beautul Large Furnished Fats Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Bedroons. Porches, Fireplaces, Garages, Launcry. Pet OK \(446-3420\) 4 Eedrooms, OaklandSI., 1Btock ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hosplals, turished, parking. laundry, porches. Excellent condion, August, 475:0650

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYBILL.COM
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
 476-9933

Ackerman Aue, 4br 243alh apt. Fumistacd cappeted. wak to campus. Well mainlaned 5:00-501 leasc 440-7202
Comstock nuely furnished quie: 1-2.3 bedroom patkint utaties inclucted close walk SU hospials reasonable \(478 \cdot 26+2\)
University Ave Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk toC Campus turnsted faundry parking plus uthtres D.N.Drucker \(445-1229\)
EDGE OF CAMPUS 228 Euctid, 4 bedroom, ressonable rent, troe parking, dishwasher, Jemy of Tina -474-75+1, 4466.631

University Ave five bedioom House one block from Marshalk Street fumished taundry parking lease Si. 300.00 plus uthites D.N.D oucker \(445-1225\) Two Bedioom Apartments on Eurlid Fumished.

Apartments close to campus clean 2-3-5 3-5 University and Comstock Very close to Campus University and Comstoek Very close to Camp
Eticiencies and Two Bedrooms Secure bldy. tumished laundry panking \($ 375.00105700 .00\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
O.P.R. \\
Developers 4-5-6 Bedroom Hown Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems All Locations \(/\) Prices \\
478-6504
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Unkorsity Area 2-3 Bedroom turnished Jim 668-7473
Stop clean 3 bedroom apertroentu Froptact,

For Pent House & 3 ditm flats - \($ 250\) - \(\mathbf{$ 3 0 0}\). Very FM Reaty Group 637.5195

\section*{1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS}

621 Euclid Ave
\({ }^{\text {871 }}\) Ackerman Ave
115 Redrield Place
1011 E. Adams St
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry Parking, Full Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Capet anctor Wall to Wall Cappet and/or Refinished Hardwood Floors

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

August Lease
Fumished House Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast 10 Month Lease

\section*{Call 655-2175}
for more info.

1.2,3,4+5 bedroom apartments. Furnished, all compus near law school +ESF, May +Augusi avalabilis. 425-1883.

2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. 1 Bedroon apl with 2 car garape 125 Kenslingtion Rid.
comer of Lancaster \(5550472-2667\).
University 283 Bedrporn TownHouses & Fats. Inexpensive and mat condition. Washer/Dryer, Freplace, inished basement, Canl \(449-0\) to9.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\ apariments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
mashowave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
Peter 427-0052
\end{tabular}

4Bedrooms fumished flat with all ultities included! One block from campus near Law School +ESF. 2 ull bathiooms, carpet, laundry, panking. Availatte Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. 477-1574
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline ONE BEDROOM AVEARTMENT EUCLID PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT Locaton 476-9933. \\ \hline 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE \\ AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.}

Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease

445-0540
204 Ostiom Entiency One and 2B Bidg Laundry Paking
Aval June 4it.5186
1 Bedroom Futrished/ Unfurnished. Waking Gistante S.U. Laundty

Four Bedroom on Ackerman, Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porenes. OH slifhet Parking piundy, Carpel. Hardwiod Floors Fumished 2-55edtoom Houses/ Apartments
Limingston. Surrner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-5665

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.

> 1011 E.Adams 509 University

Carpeted, Alr Conditioned Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, iversity Area Ap 4795005
www.universityarea.com
Sumrner Special. Newly remodeled 4 bedroom llat One block trom campus. All wathies included dyer, parking, porth.
Available 5/21- \(8 / 17\) 472-6619

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS}

\section*{APARTMENTS}

329 Comstack Ave
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern new construction. low utilities.
University Area Apts
wwu university

\section*{Bedroom Apartments Close to} milites inctuded, Oak floors, tire place Camp H- ng, vey cleath, taundry Cal Gorden 478-2982. Avtilatie mid Aupust 3 bedroom fiat very near AF on Oadancest bumished or untumished kitchen, porch, coix-op washert dyer. \(425-\)-Bi6e
```

Two Bedroom Apartments
With ulitidise ineluded. Firteplace. Furpeing, Paintr, Porch, Laundry, Parking, 476-2982

```

\section*{TOAD HALL}
```

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet Air conditioned. Dishwasher Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven) Untiversiry Area Apps.
untuiversilyara.cor 479-5005

```

Large one bedtoom slucio parment ayilabe Very nice, spacious, fumished, one block fro campus. \(5475 / \mathrm{mo}\) plus utities. Call 423 -0830

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Fioors. 476-2982}
123.485 日im Aparners, Hosist Clean, Spacious, Superior Condtion, some Clean, Spacious, Supetior Condtion, some parking 474-6791
Ackerman Ave. nice 3 bedroom flat, furnishec. stove. selrig, laundry, firepiace, garage.

Ackerman lumished spacious two BdRm oll streel parking laundry lacitlices utilhtes inel. 446-8576

Cumished Apariments. Corner of Wainut and Harrison Avenuess Leases Comunence June 2000
Lasi Monh and Secunty. No Pets Aljowed. Lasi Monit and Securty, No Pets A Gractuates Preterred Cail 422.7755

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, security systems All Locations / Prices 478-6504 \\ UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5.6.7 BEDROOM'HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
arge 2 bedroom 2 full bath. Walking cistance U. ofl street parking. Laundry. Call \(422-7305\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS \\
CLOSE TO CAMPUS \(2000-20001\) RENTALS \\
\(1,2,3,4\) Bintroom Apartments Surnner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellers Condivion, Fuminhod Soms include Utitives. Call 422-0735.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Large 3 bedroom 2 full bath, Walling distance S.U. of street panking, Laundry, Call 422-7305. \\
\hline 2 Bedroom Apls 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclld Terrace Large Rooms Hantwood floors Avail thene or Aug 446-5186 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Houses

continued from page 16
Mike Jarvis his 300th career win.

So after the emotional high of that victory, St. John's now must travel to a hostile Cameron Indoor Stadium to battle the nation's No. 2 team.

Duke came into Madison Square Garden late last year and dealt a \(92-88\) overtime blow to the Red Storm. The last inae St. John's beat Duke was in 1979. Although this will he eighth-ever meeting between the teams, it's the first home contest for the Blue have been at neutral sitev.

\section*{Road Warriors}

Who says home court is an advantage? Certainly not anyone who's played Miami in the past few years.

The Hurricanes have clinched their third straight vinning conference record, performances away from the Sunshine State. They have won 15 of their last 17 Big East road games.

Two of those wins came at the expense of the defending national champion Huskies. Last year, Miami was the only team other than Syracuse to knock off Connecticut, doing so 73-71. This year, they became the first opponen ever to win back-to-back games at Gampel Pavilion when they bested the Huskies 63-57 on Saturday

The remaining schedule has some ups and downs for the Canes. Saturday, they host Notre Dame, who they trounced \(63-49\) in January. Then they travel to Pittsburgh, who they struggled to beat. 64-60 earlier at home against first they close at home against first place St. John's. Last season, they split a pair of three-point decisions Another factor f Another factor favoring tency. They haven't lost consis utive games since early consec utive games since early December. And with a defense nents under 70 points, it doesn't look like theyll be dropping two more regular-season pames for the rest of the year

Slide
Before last night's out-of-conference victory over Airlines Arena the Seton Airlines Arena, the Seton Hall games during the stretch \(n\) for the Bir East title. After win ning five big games to pull within a game of Syracuse, the Pirates lost back-to-back home dates and sit two behind SU in the loss column.

Although the loss to UConn came on one of the Pirates' weaker days this year, they had no excuse for losing their game against Notre Dame. SHU defeated Syracuse three weeks ago because of their stellar shooting. But the Pirates live and die by Darius Lane and the outside shot.

Against the Irish, they shot a measly 39 percent from the floor while surrendering 50 per cent shooting. And the story was even worse from downonly 6 wfere they connected on only 6-of-26 attempts.

Although four Pirates scored in double figures, no one Murphy The reioning Murphy. The reigning player of the week poured in 35 points also added three blocks, two steals, two assists and a 3pointer to his stat line. Thanks to his heroics, Notre Dame got away fr victory.

\section*{Speaking of the Irish}

Notre Dame has now won two of its last three games, and they're doing it agrainst the best. The win over Seton Hall marked the fifth time this season that the Irish have beaten a ranked opponent.

However, it's the outcomes such as last night's \(89-79\) home loss to Providence and a setback at Pittsburgh that keep them from reaching the next plateau.

Although it is eliminated from a chance at the regular season title, Notre Dame still must be happy with its progress. Before this season, ND had never won more than eight games in conference play, Miami, Syracuse or Georgetown Miami, Syracuse or Georgetow reach nine Big East wins.

\section*{Overrated?}

Although the Huskies stand in just sixth place in the conference, they are one ofonly two Big East teams with a national ranking. However, fol Miani and St \(S\) ion's thes good chance they will fall out of the rankings come next week of

There is this week some
There is this week some Huskies. First, they host West Virginia on Saturday. Then, they travel to Rutgers for a Monday night game. Although they haven't played either of those teams yet this season, they beat them last year by a combined 48 points.

If UConn wants any shot at repeating last year's national itle run, they need more consistency from their guards. Last year's dominance stemmed from the play of guards Khalid El-Amin and Richard Hamilton. This season, it appears their guards occasion

In the lose night off.
In the loss to Miami, ElAmin and Albert Mourning played well, combining for 30 points. But against st. Johns, nield woal attempt and two El-Amin fiee throws were the entire point total. That kind of erformance just won't get it done.

\section*{[clasSifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \(\qquad\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University nicely tumished 5 bedroom study house 3 car garapa extra payking incluced close walk to Unospinids taw 478 -2642

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE} TWO FREPLACES, FURNISHED 476-9933

Charring Enplish Tudor Houst on Comstock 6 Bedroms, Freplace, across trom larendon St 4-bedroon tiee washer drer oit-street parking, available 515. Call 492-3199
Large Single Fannily fumished house. Parking. reptace, ifee laundry, dishwasher, malure tenants

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM'HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the adisto appear Please pay in cash; checks or credit cards. Cally \(443-9793\) for more information.

SERVICES
Tiavel

Sping Ereak Speclatsl Bahamas Party Cuisel 5
Nrghts \($ 2791\) Indudes Maalsl Awesome Beaches Nights 52791 Includes Meals! Awesome Beaches Nightuliet Departs From Fiondal Panama City
Room with Kithen Next To Clubs. 7 Parties a Free Drinks 51291 Daytona Roorn With kithen si49! South Beach (Bars Open Unii 5am!) \($ 1591\) Cocoa Beach (Neas Disney) \($ 1791\)

EARLY URD DISCOUNT Europe S289 Mexicol'caibbean s159 (sf thaxes):80-32-2009 \({ }_{\text {whw.aithitheorg }}\)

Spring Break 2000
Jamalc, Concurity Frie

CANEMAS
CAROUSEL CENTER

CAROUSEL CENTER BARGAIN MATINEES BEFORE B PM.

\section*{SB85 E. CIRCLE DRR 13}
 HURRICNNEIR112:15:0:0:

 GREAT NORTHERN 10
is 831 RIGHT REAR OF NALL \(652-213 \mathrm{~d}\)

\section*{}

 CT. 5 CAMMLLLLUS MALL 10
\(48 \mathrm{~B} \cdot 112 z\)

NOTES

Men's basketball \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { No. } 13 \text { Syracuse } & 91 \\ \text { Villanova } & 63\end{array}\)

\section*{Orangemen}
(22-3, 11-2)
Player
Brown
Thomas
Bland
Shart
Shumpert
Duany
William
Weluck

Wildcats
(16-10, 6-7) Player Lynch
Buchanan Sales
Medley Medley
Matthews
Wright
Sullivan
Holley
Caouette

Women's basketball \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Seton Hall } \\ \text { Syracuse } & 55\end{array}\)

Orangewomen
(10-15, 3-11)
Player \(\quad\) P1
Pecord
McPhee
Perry
Grosman
James
Pirates (11-14, 5-10) Player
Moreno
Jefferson
Murray
Townsend
Lindquist
Burgess
Ardon
Smith
Hayes
Willis
Passing Joey
Jason Hart's eighth assist at the end of the first half in SU's \(91-63\) demoliion of Villanova lofted him player Joey Brown into fourth place on the alltime Big East assist list.
Hart tacked on six more, pushing him to 371 conferences dishes for his career.

Prep school problems Cincinnati freshman DerMarr Johnson, the Bearcats' thirc-leading scorer, was suspended one game by the NCAA for receiving improper funds from an AAU coach. Johnson accepted \($ 7,000\) from the coach to help pay tuition at prep acaderny Maine Central Institute.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. What's the men's basketball single-game high for assists at Syracuse?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. When was the last time Villanova's men's basketball squad made the Final Four?
A. 1985, when the underdog Cats upset Patrick Ewing and Georgetown for the national title.

[sports]
Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 24, 200016 Orangemen defeat Nova

Syracuse point guand Jason Hart shown here converting a fastbreak layup, controlled the pame during

BY AIISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

Just five minutes into Syra Just inve minutes into Syra cuse's game with Villanova, guard Jason Hart was running on his way to something special.

Villanova turned the ball over and Hart sprinted up the court leading the tast break. He drove the lane, drew the delender and amed home while being fouled.

The pass to Thomas was one of Hart's career-high 14 assists in Syracuse's 91-63 blasting of Villanova on Wednesday night in front tans at the Carrier Dome

Although all 14 passes obviousy produced points, the dish to Thomas brought the most reaction from the team.

I saw our intensity was up, and when Etan gets a dunk, that gets everybody up," Hart said. The ener gy was high, and we just fed on that from thone on cit.
(29-3 Thomas' dunk lifted Syracuse (22-3, 11-2 Big East), which abliterated Villanova's 2-3 zone. But the night didin't belong to Thomas. It was Hart's night. The senior guard tallied nine points and three steals to go along with his assists. his best floor games here," head coach sim Roeheim said "He' Ket the ball to people all night long and did a nice job pressuring the ball defena nice job pressuring the ball defensively. He just harassed them all

See ASSISTS page 11

\section*{Seton Hall rallies late to down Syracuse}

BY KEVIN LEITZELL
Staff Writer
When a team has 16 firsthalf turnovers and leads by 13 points, something isn't right.

The turnover problem caught up to the Syracuse women's basketball team on Wednesday afternoon, and the Seton Hall Pirates overcame a 13-point deficit in the second \(55-49\) on Senior Night Man ley Field House.

The assist-to-turnover-ra tio proved to be the Orangewormen's Achilles heel.

Syracuse (10-15, 3-11 Big East) turned the ball over 27 times, including 16 giveaways in the grst half

We turned it over just an ncredible number of times without there being great pressure on us, SU head coach Marianna Freeman said. "There were times when we didn't make good decisions with the basketball.

Jakia Ervin had a teamhigh 11 turnovers, including 8 in the tarst stan in the game to lead SU. Beth Record and Leigh

See MISCUES page 12

SU center Etan Thomas' swets away su center Etan Thomas swens away a shot attempt by Nova's Brooks Sales.

\section*{Perimeter defense key to SU victory}

BY CONNOR ENNIS Asst. Sports Editor

Moments after Saturday's loss to St. John's, Syracuse head coach Jim Boeheim sowed the seeds for his team's next victory. Addressing his Orangemen in the bowels of Madison Square Garden follow ing their one-point defeat, the \(S U\) coach delivered a speech questioning his squad's toughness, intensity and desire to win.
"He was just saying basically that we were jus Shaun Williams said, "that people were just chumping us. "Right after the game he just let us have it," the freshman Orangeman said. "He was telling us that we weren't playing hard, that if you're going to play like that, you might as well quit now. That speech woke up a lot of people.
91-63 Wednesday night's 91-63 win over Villanova, the unit that seemed to respond the best to Boeheim's alarm clock talk was the Orangemen's defense.

Syracuse - using primarily a man-to-man de-

See PERIMETER page 11

\section*{Foursome battles for conference supremacy}

As we approach the final two weeks of the regular season Big East Baskethall title. What looked like a cake walk for Chuck Syracuse two Petruccione big east notebook now an allout war:

The tough ent game left for the Orangemen is their season finale in Storrs, Conn. Although Connecticut has been a major disappointment this season they are still a Top 25 ball club. he season sweep can complet void sean sweep there, and Georgetown, they will take their frst regular-season champi onship in nearly 10 yedrs.

\section*{Storm Brewing}

A few weeks ago, St. John's was in a slump. The Red Storm lost four of five, and it appeared their chances of winning a Big East title were all dried up.
hasn't lost a game since
Six straight conference wins, including the two most recent over Syracuse and Connecticut, have vaulted the Fed Storm to within a half-game of the Orangemen. Although the game against Syracuse came down to the wire, the UConn match-up was a different story.

Three St. John's starters scored 20 or more points, and its starting backcourt outsconed that of the Huskies 42-2. The 7964 final also gave head coach

See EENB page 15

\section*{E Election 2000}

\section*{Keyes to campaign on campus}

Ast News Editor
For months, most Republicans trying to decide where to throw their support for the the party's presiden-

Keyes
"I never really understood why Alan has been written off for the race," said Noah Goldman, coordinator of New York state's chapter of Students for Keyes and member of SU's College Republicans. "Many people don't know who Alan is and that's a shame in and of itself."

The Keyes campaign called Goldman Wednesday night to inform the sophomore of the campaign stop.
"Things have been pretty hectic," said Goldman, a philosophy and television, radio man." major. "Alan's a busy man.

Although the race still involves three candidates, the najority of the attention at men point targets only two Cain and Texas G . John McW. Bush. Neither, George candidates, however, are as talented and qualified as Keyes, Goldman said.

See KEYES page 7
- City Affairs

Ross Whaley, State University of New Yonk College of Envinonmental Science and Forestry presiftant, explalns the mission of charter schools Thursday morning at Drumlins Country Club in Syracuse.

\section*{City discusses charter schools}

\section*{BY MAGIN MCKENNA} Asst. Lifestyle Editor

Charter schools are often misunderstood in their mission to publically educate "at risk" children, proponents of the schools argued Thursday.

There is a real knowledge gap about what these schools are all about," said Bob Bellafiore, State University of New York Charter Schools Institute executive director. 'It's a new idea in an area that everyone cares very deeply about."

Although private compaaies often manage them, charter schools are still public schools that have to meet the highest standards of the state, Bellafiore said to an audience of about 100 civic and community leaders during a Thursday Morning Roundtable discussion at Drumlins Country Club, 800 Nottingham Rd.

Made legal in New York state last year, charter schools receive state funds to offer an educational focus different from public schools. They someschool year or an extended day schedule.

A school's charter expires after five years, Bellafiore said. At that time, the school is reevaluated for operation by the SUNY Board of Trustees, he said.

See SCHOOL page 8

\section*{Sound expert} reveals secrets
BY ASMLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
LIVERPOOL - The man responsible for the sounds heard in the "Star Wars" and "Indiana Jones" movies, detailed guns and robot voices.
"In a business which is highly visible, if you do well, you are written up and called a wizard," sound effects technician Benjamin Burtt said during the second annual Celebration of Technology Ban-

See BURTT page 8

Ben Burtt axplaint Thurstayy how the movemortit for the "Star Wars" burtto drokds were recordod usings sovions on his owis body.

■ Computers & Technology

\section*{Time Warner temporarily pulls UU programs}

University Union Television will temporarily lose most of its programming on Time Warner's local public access station, said David Vagnoni, UUTV general manager.

UUTV failed to submit the appropriate number of tapes over Winter Break to ensure its on-air spots, said Vagnoni, a junior political science and broadcrst journalism major. Only some of the news and sports segments will still be aired, he added.

Time Warner's station requires that production teams submit a minimum amount of tape every week. UUTV normally produces extra tapes before breaks to meet this requirement, Vagnoni maid.

This year, however, they failed to do so because of a change in the position of production manager, he said.
-We understand where they're coming from, Vagnoni said. The new program director is currently working on rectifying the situation he said.

UUTV also had trouble getting its programs aired on campus because of confusion with the Schine Student Center, said operational manager John Ambrogne, a sophomore broadcast journalism major.

Schine should air UUTV's See UU page 3

Greek Affairs

\section*{Greeks investigate Zeta Psi citations}

EY EVANS BOSTON AND KATE STEVENSON Staff Writers

Police arrived at the Zeta Paifraternity house early Sunday morning and gave seven Syracuse University students noise violation citaaccordinguig a loud poport There were about 500 people at the house, the report said.

At 2:30 a.m. the party at 727 Comstock Ave. was un controllable" and "un mannable," the report said.

City court summons are scheduled for today, said Dresident and senior speech premmunications major

The case is major.
The case is also being examined by a judicial commit tee comprised of the vice ternity Council and the Panhellenic Association, said Brad Young, IFC presiden and aenior political science and public relations major.

Lisa Walsh, an Office of Greek Life graduate assistant, will also take part in the tant, will also take partin th WaIsh was out of town Wednesday night and could not comment on the case not commentre still reviewing it at this time," said David Goldstein, IFC vice president and sophomore finance major. "Nothing has really been done yet." He declined to comment further.

The SU Office of Judicial Affairs will conduct its own investigation, Young added.

Judicial Affairs representatives could not be reached for comment.

Zeta Psi returned to campus this fall after losing its campus charter in 1994 because of disciplinary problems.

For the previous disciplinary problems, a four year expulsion was necessary so all members involved with the incident would graduate al-

See ZETA page 7

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Blacks on television} limited to comedy Despite their relative ylarge numbers on net work television, blacks on shows: primarily rele gated to situation comedies, series on the fledgling WB and UPN networks, and to programs that air on Monday and Friday nights, according to a Screen Actors Guild sponsored study released Thursda The African American Television the most comprehensive study of black portrayals and casting in primetime television, concluded that blacks account for nearly 16 percent of characters seen on the networks. even thoush they represent 12.2 per. cent of the population.

Harding charged with assaulting boyfriend CAMAS, Wash. Former Olympic figure skater Tonya Harding pleaded innocent today o charges she threw a hubcap at her boytiend and bloodied his face by punching him.

Harding looked sullen as she appeared in district court on the domestic violence assaut charge. Her lawyer. Steve Thayer. entered the plea on her ehalf.
Judge Randal Frizier released Harding without bail but ordered her to avoid boyfriend Darren Silver.
Fritzler set other conditions. inctuding banning her from drinking alcohol and using weapons, and he ordered her to check in with court officials

\section*{Student dead in Georgetown fight}

WASHINGTON, D.C. A Georgetown University student died several days after suffering a severe head injury. apparently during a latenight fight in a campus parking lot with other students at the school. officials said

Wednesday.
David A. Shick, 20, a junior business major. died at Geofgetown University Hospital late Tuesday afternoon. olice said.

Schick died about five days after he and a group of friends argued and then fought, with another group of men in parking lot.
Police are investigatfor Shick's explanations ing whether it may have ing whether it may have fell to the fround, said Sgt. Michaet Farish.

\title{
U.S. faces spying charge \\ dismissed European alarm over
}

PARIS - A report released today describing massive U.S.-Ied eavesdropping on private telephone conversations, haxes and e prompted a wave of concern and indignation in Europe.

The report by a special European Parliament commission said that the electronic intelligencegathering network had the potential to violate the privacy of millions of European citizens and suggested that it has been used to benefit U.S. corporations in ecenomic and industrial espionage.
based intercept system, which is known as Echelon, was designed primarily for use against nonmilidary targets, such as terrorists, derers, the report says.

The system, which is operated by the National Security Agency in partnership with the intelligence services of Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, intercepts "billions of messages per hour," said Duncan Campbell, the report's principal author, in Brussels. "We are not talking about a trivial thing here.
U.S. officials routinely have Echelon as unwarranted, saying the system is strictly for national security use.

Intelligence officials also dis pute the economic espionage charge on practical grounds, claiming that the sheer volume of intercepts makes targeted industrial spying all but impossible.

The surveillance network dates to 1947 but has aroused deep concern among Washington's European allies in recent years as the scope of the surveillance of for eign telephone calls, faxes and email became more apparent.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Texas executes old woman}

HUNTSVIT 62-year-old woman was executed by injection Thursday after Gov. George W. Bush rejected her claim that she killed her fifth husband in self-defense and deserved a reprieve

Bush refused to employ his only option, granting Betty Lou Beets a 30 -day delay since the state parole board did not recommend that her sentence be commuted to life in prison. During his five and a half years as governor, 120 convicted killers have been executed in Texas. He has spared one condernned inmate Beets and her lawyers in sist the formerbartender waitress, convicted of fatally Shooting fifth husband Jimmy Don Beets nearly 17 years ago and burying his body under a flower Earden, was the victim of years of domestic abuse should be allowed to live. hould be nllowed to live.
According to the governor's office, Bush had received 2,108 phone calls and letters Opposing Beets execution by calls and letters favoring it.

\section*{Police arrest reputed mobster \\ PHOENDX - He was a mob-} ster. He confessed to murdering 19. He squealed on his Mafia boss, who got life in prison. At dawn this morning, Salvatore "Sammy the Bull" Gravano opened another bad chapter in a worse life, when police arrested him for running an ecstasy distribution ring in Phoenix.

The U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, the Phoenix Police Department, the Arizona Department of Public Safety and the U.S. Customs Service served 14 search warrants this morning and are in the process of arresting 54 people as part of the ring today in Phoenix, according to those currently in custodityong Grose currenty in custody are Gravano and his daughter and son, Karen and Gerard Gravano.

Gravano becarne notorious during the New York federal prosecution of John Gotti in 1992. Gotti was known as The Dapper Don because of his fasTeflon Don" because of "The Teflon Don" because of three lailed prosecutions prior to his hife ben serving.

\section*{Leap Year Bug causes concern}

\section*{WASHINGTON, D.C. -} While most major systems tran sitioned smoothly into the New Year. officials are concerned that some computer software has been written in such a way that it will not recognize that 2000 is a Leap Year, meaning that on Feb. 29, next Tuesday some programs may actually think it is March 1.

In a briefing this morning, John Koskinen, the head of the President's Council on Y2K Conversion, said that the government was not expecting any major problems but warned that some software may come up with the wrong date, meanng interest payments on loans could be off by a day, bills could be mailed early, paychecks could be issued missing one day of work, or some transac ions may simply fail to process. In the briefing, Koskinen said that most federal and state agencies, as well as most major financial institutions, were welliprepared for Leap Year having accounted for it in all of their updates to recognize th four digits in the year 2000 .

\section*{world news}

\section*{Nigerian riots kill 200 residents}

KADUNA, Nigeria Residents started returning to the debris-strewn streets of this northern city today, as Christinn and Muslim leaders met to work out a truce after two days work out a truce after two days of bloody clashes left at least of bloody clashes 200 people dead.

Schools and most stores remained closed, but hawkers were back in he streets wher police and soldiers maintained

With life start
Wormal state sting to return to normal, state nuthorities tween 4 p.m. and 7 a.m. and set up a panel to investigate the reasons for the fighting.
Christian and Muslim leaders, who met Wednesday, condemmed the rioting and were continuing talks today to work ous an agreernent, staterun television reported.

\section*{Colombian army abuses rights \\ bOGOTA, Colombia} The Colombian army, which the Clinton administration proposes to supply with up to \($ 1\) billion in training, equipment and other assistance over the next two years, maintains close operational ties to Colombian right-wing paramilitary groups responsible for extensive human rights abuses and escalating involvement in drug trafreking, according to a report eleased yesterday.

Compiled by Human Rnvestigation after a yearlong bian government pros Colom the report comes prosecutors, the report cornes at a particuministration's effort to ad approval for a massive aid package it hopes will stem the flood of cocaine and heroin entering the United States from Colombia.
U.S. law prohibits assistance and training to any military units or individuals impli cated in human rights viola tions, and all troops involved in U.S. anti-drug assistanee programs are individually vet-
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}

The Community Folk Art Gallery presents "Reenacting the Renaissance," an art workshop for children at 2223 E. Genesec mation.
m Alpha Phi Ormega sorority accepts \($ 2\) donations for Sadie Hawkins Day carnations. The flowers can be purchased in Schine from \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). to \(4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and will be delivered on Feb .29.
A.S.I.A. meets at 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 21.5.

Global Nomads International features "Global Nomads Cultural Bridges For the Future, a video showcasing students from a variety of globally no madic backgrounds. The video will be shown at 6:30 p.m. in the Office of International Services.

\section*{SODAY-}

UUCinemas presents The Films of Kevin Smith: A View Askew Marathon,* in Gifford Auditorium for \($ 4\) admis sion. "Clerks" begins at 7 p.m "Dogma" follows at 8:45 p.m. "Chasing Amy" and "Mallrats" conclude the night at 11 p.m. and 1 a.m., respectively. The admis ion price remains the same re gardless of when in the night one is to attend.

Dance Works performs in its 14 th annual show at 7:30 p.m. n Goldstein Auditorium it Schine. The performance is enti led "Expressions" and includes more than 100 State University mental Science and Forestry mental Science and Forestr

\section*{SATURDAY}

The SU School of Music and Arts Adventure presents Gloria Cheng and Vicky Ray in a duo piano recital at \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Setnor Auditorium in Crouse College. The program consists of works by Edmund Campion, Henri Dutillewx and Olivier Mes siaen. Tickets are \($ 10\) for the general public and \($ 7\) for students.

E The Mental Health Asso ciation hosts a class for separat ing or divorcing parents regard

\section*{Forum poses affirmative action debate \\ BY JOHN ARWEILER}

Staff Writer

Affirmative action comes with great costs - stemming from the large amount of money spent on its research and the so said Jamic Taylor a Syracuse Tniversity College of I nus. nus.

And an effective policy has yet to be established, Taylor added.

Taylor, with about 40 stu dents and ficulty, debated the ontroversial policy Thursday afed by the SU College of Law Federalist Societ

Once we get an affirmative action law that works, the problem of racial discrimination in hiring practices will cease, said William Wicek, an SU law professor.

Affirmative action is any effective step taken to benenit underrepresented people, Taylor said. The practice is generally minorities get into universities and workplaces.

\section*{UU}
continued from page 1
programming, but rarely does, he added.
"It ends up being unfair to us," Ambrogne said.

UUTV is the nation's oldes and largest student-owned and operated telcvision network. It aims to provide a variety of programming and offer educational resources for Syracuse University students and faculty.

Time Warner is among the nation's top-grossing multimedia companies. Based in New York City, the company operates cable networks, print media, music companies, film systems.

Ambrogne said all the shows are still in production. Though not being aired on cable righ soon resume, he added.
"I'm sure they'll all be made up," he said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Beth Braverman

\section*{2ke Daily Orange Advertising information}

2mepaily Orange advertising hours alatrom 9:00x r64 00 p.m. Hoplace an adietisement (GeDO, the add ratist be at the addertising office thetore 2 p.mytho woushess days fedore you wantut totruin.
Call 443-9793 5 current rates and appicable dis-4 counts during advertising busie gess hours.

But policies based on econ been because I was helped out by nomic situations rather than someone white, not because of race or gender might be a better way to promote equality, said Rob Raffety, an SU law student and member of the Law Fed eralist Society
"I don't agree with affirmative action because black, " said Luke Cooper, a secondyeaper, a second "I agree with it because it makes sense."

Black students in the audience said they feared discrimination in the business world after their graduation because 90 percent of upper ployees at major corporations are white men
-Everything I have achiov in my life, from the time I ad vanced to the third erade has Everything 1 have achieved in \(m y\) life, from the time I advanced to the third grade, has been because ! was helped out by someone white, not because of what I've done.

WILLIAM WICEK
SU law professor

Wiecek said.
Wiecek, a proponent of affirmative action, said the "good old boy netbe done away with be done away with, be made open to minorities and women as well, Wiecek said. "The networks don't promote unqualified people, people," he added. Taylor dis agreed.
"It's stronger to deal with individuz als and individual accomplishments," Taylor said. Things can go roup people together, even in a group people
The forum
nity to promum was an opportu-

Luke Cooper, a First-year law student, participatos in a forum about affimative action Thursday aftemoon in Room 200 of the law school.
mative action and to discuss it in a strictly academic and objective manner, said second-year law Society president and the event* moderator.
"I went because I was curi ous to hear both sides of the ar gument," said Joel Bennett, a wasn't really familiar with all the opinions on the issue."

\title{
Should ORL ban smoking outside residence halls?
}

\author{
Students talk back about plans to prohibit smoking within 15 feet of dorms.
}

4it does seem to make a lot of sense - no one wants to hit a wall of smoke when they watk out the door. \({ }^{\text {g }}\)

TRACY HASKETT Arts and Sciences Class of '03

6 It's a good way to start, out people will still do it. It will probably be really hard to enforce.

EMILY WILSON
Newhouse

GIt's absurd. Banning smoking in dorms is enough.
LAUREN MCLEAVEY Newhose
Class of ' 02

dif they want the air to be so clean, they might a; well move all the narking garages, too, so there's no emissions.;

\section*{Residents must respect community}

It has been nearly a year since the Office of Residence Life announced plans for all Syracuse University residence halls to be smor, out discussion of this issue conter, out discussion of this issue conmary intent of Jonathan mary intent of Eisenmann the new policy is butt upon rights but OUL to protect the live and breath clean air free from second-hand smoke. As a student actively involved in the residence halls, I have heard many of the objections students have addressed regarding this policy.

Many have objected to the policy in the name of student rights. Residents have claimed that this policy violates a student's right to smoke in his/her "own" room. This premise represents a misunderstanding by students into the tenant/landlord relationship that a res idence hall experience involves. Students are in effect renting the room they reside in for the academ ic year, like a tenant wishing to rent an apartment off campus. dack student agrees to a set of conditions in the hall when they choose to reside there

First-year students were made aware of the new smoking policy before they arrived last semester and were aware that this was on expected to abide by the bepinni expected to abide by the beginning of next year. Some students object previous policies allowed smoking previous policies allowed smoking by both roommates. But the unique by both roommates. But the unique ventilation system existing inside where one room's air becomes everyone's.

Also, many question the discussion pertaining to a perimeter requirement for students wishing sinoke outside of a residence hall. The concern here is that if stu dents smoke directly outside the hal, first foor residents who ma have the in the smoke No wlear breathe in the smoke. No clear policy has been approved on this issue, establistied for policy offenders Students also claim that there was no student input before this policy was implemented. This is not true L ast Spring ORI created a committee composed of students and staff to address concerns of res idents regarding the proposed policy. Further, the aforementioned implementation committee has actively sought input from the Residence Hall Association to receive feedback regarding proposed penalties and accommodation for residents who do choose to smoke.

The essential element of the ORL smoling policy is that of preserving the public at the expense of to smoke and I support the policy St smoke and I support the policy. smoling have been implemented nationally. We as students must nationally. We the we do not live in private residence but as a part of a public community residing with as many as 550 other members.

Jonathan Eisenmann is the president of the Residence Hall Association.

\section*{Smoking ban robs students of personal freedom}

Just say no. Better yet, how about a resounding, "Hell no!" followed by a swift lick in the pants lowed by a swift lick in the pan injury. That's about how I - and managed to pass a rule prohibiting smoking in residence halls, effective fall of 2000, the Office of Residence Life has decided to make the message unabashedly clear by pushing to outlaw smoking within fifteen feet of the dorms. When I found out about this, I was so shocked that my cigarette fell straight out of my nouth. Well, almost

Where did all of this come rom? Recently, there seems to be a witch hunt to banish all these ude, smoke-spewing vehicles of death from che face of the earth chacked.) I.nt as far as I can tell, there's still a plume of smoke flowing from M-Street on Saturday nights, and backpack-toting locomotives still trudge across the Quad. Who is it complaining? If quy memory serves me correctly, a big group of people made quite the big group of people made quite the right under our smoke-filled noses But hey, smoking stinks, right? I mean, it's totally under standable that people don't like it - that it's an inconvenience and t's unhealthy. And in their own home? For shame! But how about this: Your car is malcing it dangerous for me to walk outside. I've heard enough guys make jokes about how everyone pees in the shower that I've started eyeing the stalls and trying to guess which is cleaner. And judging from the music spewing from down the hall, the Backstreet Boys have opened a recording studio on my floor. And I've found in the started on what

My point is we've all
My point is, we ve all got our "thing" that annoys the hell out of than not it's unhealthy. Why is it that smoking has been singled out? We all live together. This is our home, like it or not - as ridiculously high the rent may be. don't complain about everyone's of heal quiks, no create. This is the rooms they may create. This is the room they com back to every night after a long day, and they should be able to kick back.

Smokers already lost that privilege. Now ORL wants us away from the building? Are we that unsightly and dangerous? Maybe we need "Maintain Safe Distance" t-shirts. Maybe smoking should be totally banned totally from campus, period. After all, it our fault the unyersity forces us tolive in SU housing our first two years here. We live on private property where they can legally deny us use of a product legal under federal law. Seems kind of like a smoke screen to me.

Yeah, smoking stinks. But so does the kid down the hall - and ORL isn't kicking him off campus

Rob Gullixson is a sophomone illustration photography major.

Qucles ared Photos compiled by HOLLY AUER dit seems pretty ineffective and I'm sure it'll be more trouble than it's worth. 9

MARCO IACONO
Engineering
Class of \({ }^{\circ} 02\)

4Fifteen feet won't really make any difference. If they're really serious about this, they should make it further, like 100 feet. 9

KATIE FIFIELD
Arts and Sciences Class of '01

GThey should do more sur- veys in the dorms to make sure this is really a problem for students who live there.?

AMY BEAULIEU
Management
Class of \({ }^{\prime} 01\)

6People will probably just smoke indoors now. it be more of a nuisance than it's worth. 9

CHRIS JACOBS

\title{
[editorial]
}

The Daily Orange
February 25, 2000

\section*{Local business flunks asbestos test}

Someone needs to remind Northern Environmental Services that cheaters never win.

The East Syracuse company pled guilty Wednesday to violation of federal asbestos removal laws. During the past three years, eleven public and private Upstate New York buildings that Northern Environmental serviced were found in violation of federal codes.

The prosecution predicts that the plea may begin a chain of similar suits statewide, exposing corrupt practices throughout the industry

The Environmental Protection Agency's lawsuit against Northern Environmental is no cause for public panic, but it should serve as a wake-up call for the company to tighten up their dangerous and lax practices.

Prolonged exposure to asbestos, a construction material used to make thermal insulation and roofing shingles, has been linked to lung cancer. Asbestos use was outlawed in the 1970s, but remnants still linger in buildings constructed during the first half of the century.

Asbestos particles only become dangerous once they're airborne - often through removal processes or construction projects so they don't pose a health threat under most circumstances. But employees of companies like Northern Environmental may be exposed to the carcinogens on a daily basis.

Asbestos removal is the company's forté, and by performing sloppy work, they risk not only public health, but their own credibility.

Looking out for the safety of their own workers should be a top priority for asbestos removal companies. Taking shortcuts during the removal process might help profits soar today, but payments for court settlements or employee cancer treatments down the road would put the bankrolls into a nose dive.

Professional conduct demands protection of the public's health, no matter how minimal the risks may be. Reckless, unmonintored asbestos removal processes benefits no one.

Take out the trash the right way - don't leave a bigger mess in its place.

\section*{the}

Editor in Chief bave Levintha Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Exitor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Edinor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. LIertyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Desien Editor Desien Editor Design Editor Desifin Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editer Asst. Copy Editor

Justin Sikverman Holly Aver Sapna Kollan Dave Curtis
Joy Davia Bin Ehringer Adeet Dethroulch Neva Austrow Lurare Prabucid Kwte Stevenuon Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampone Mighor NeKCinaz Connor Erunis Ioff Patan Elalne Skiruter Tito Eoftity Ton Nimon Lisel Cowwell Annemario Emblo Rot Fook Asst Copy Editor甶 Mercadmots Asst, Copy Editor m Morcedimet

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Foreign roommate offers profound cultural insights}

I am living with a tall, beanded Danish man. His name is Claus and, at 25 , he is the keenest cultural scientist I know. He is honest and observant, and can drink an entire botile of Jack in one sitting. í trust his jucigment implicitly.

\section*{EVAN}

THIES

When I moved to Washington D.C. a little more than a month ago, I planned on learning a lot about mysell As an arrogant Amencan, so mever, I never counted on learring Within hours of meeti

Within hours of meeting my talented new roommate, he had taught me to open a beer bottle with a butch

Over the last month had begun. band guitarist turned Web site programmer has provided his perceptions of the Arnerican society and iven me a new, unpolluted view of this nation. Foreigner hat he is, Claus off-hand remarks about our culture carry more truth than the sude observations of satirists from generations A through \(Z\)

Such truisms can be hard to take, but 1 insist we examine them together.
Observation 1: American drinking laws are crazy.
Notice of this, as Claus said, "doesn't take a foreigner to figure out." Damn right. But just how ridiculous are these laws, Claus? I mean, what are the drinking laws in Denmark? "Evan," he pauses rolling his eyes, "there are one." Oh

Observation 2: Every grame in America is based on a grand prize of a million dollars.

The whth pang of this, of course, is that Americans are greedy ba parg of the the ther Case in point is the recent rash of money pit pim Case time game shows. "Who Wants to be a Millioxiaire, wenty-one," Winning Lines" and, never to be out-done when it comes to smack-television. Fox's Who Wants to Mary a Multi-milionaire? All foliow the minonaire mantra: opulence equais audience. As with our drinking ishness. In our unparalleled wealth, we are pharaohs lamoring for bigger pyramids.

Observation 3: Every American food product is ither vitamin enriched or fat reduoed.

I have noticed this before, but it took a trip to Europe to see how far over the edge we ve gone. In Ireland, they actually have food products with calories purposely added. Try to sell that in the United States. It's funty, Liuubin - Anmericants are fenterally more obese than any other nation I have visited. Maybe it's because we drive everywhere

It is insane that Claus and I could not find a carton of whele cream anywhere in the District. Where was low t, haif-iat, latless-fat, two percont, one percent and so n. Sorne guy outside the Metro stop even offered me a aty, bly why can't I avoid calcium?
And why can't I avoid calcium? I swear to you that even my favorite brand of hot dog - the main character of my D.C.menu - has 200 percent of my daily requircment. Same thing with vitamin C. A regular glass of rounge risk for reverse-scurvy Tap wat one servingy puts保

Observation 4: Every lunch in America comes with a pickle.

There are two possibilities: Americans are eating way too many pickles, or we're throwing millions away each day. Personally, I believe there is a pickle conspiracy. We all eat them for some reason, but why?

Who thinks "salt, cucumber, brine bath" and then yum"? From now on, I'm strictly a pig-foot man.

Observation 5: "Alf" rules.
"It was the best show ever," Claus explained. "He was laid back and he didn't give a shit."

But the lesson here is not Alfs demeanor, Claus added. It's his dance moves.
"Alf set a precedent for dancing in our family," he told me as we sat, belly to bar, at our usual pub. "I would how you now, bull we should wit.

Claus' overall point is simple. This nation's hypocrisy, greed, gluttony and waste are all symptoms of he same problem: an inability to relax. In other words Alf-dancing is not frowned upon in Danish bars

After promising to show me the jig outside on 24th street- the one place he still can in this city-Claus wonder and asked, "Where did Alf go anyway?"

I didn't have the heart to tell hirn.
Euan T7ies is a third-year newspaper and political science major and a former news editor at The Daily Orange He is a reporter for Scripps Howard Neus Service in Washington, D.C

\section*{letters}

\section*{- State Affairs}

\section*{EPA charges local \\ removal of asbestos in Central and Upstate New York. \\ The announcement concluded a more than yearlong investigation into asbestos removal that began when a worker in the industry leaked information alleging falsifica tion of records by asbestos compa} asbestos nies, said Craig Benedict, lead prosecutor in the case.

Asbestos is a material that the construction industry used for years as fure-proofins and buiding insula tion. Studies found the material to cause cancer during long-term exposure to asbestos dust.

\title{
La Dolce Vita!
}

\section*{worlds on Stage: \\ Politics and Theater in Italy}

Live "the good life" in Italy this summer and earn six credits. You will explore the worlds of politics and theater on location in Florence, Naples, Pompeii, Ravello, Sicily, Siracusa, Agrigento. Palermo, and Monreale.

For more information and an application, contact DIPA Summer Programs

119 Euclid Avenue 443-9420/9421

\section*{Need some extra money?!!}

\author{
Campus Delivery is looking for delivery drivers. Weekend \\ hours are available. Pay rate of \($ 6.00\) per hour to start, plus \($ .60\) per delivery.
}

\section*{Other positions available are people to man the phones and supervisors}

> Please inquire at Goldstein Dining or call \(443-1514\) > to apply

The agency pursued the claim by launching a sting operation in Watertown, Bencdict said.
"We very easily and quickly talked people into falsifying tab results," he said. "We found that the problem is extremely widespread. It's an extremely pervasive problem in Central and Upstate New York.
"At least until today it was," Benedict said Thursday

The EPA said they are hoping he indictment and gulty pleas will care blegal removal of asbestos Benedict said.
Asbestos removal companies rom Utica Schenectady Albany and Fast Syracuse filed guilty pleas, he added

Northern Environmental Services, Inc., 6838 Ellicott Drive, was one of the companies that pleaded guilty to charges of illegal asbestos removal. The EPA charged the company's directors with telling their employees to "rip and run" - quickly removing and transporting as bestos without taking the necessary legal steps for environmental pro tection while working on several buildings in Central and Upstate New York, Benedict said.
"They do it as fast as they can There are no safeguards," he said.

John Phelps, 247 Pangborn Road, Hasting, and Thomas Strong. 5994 Jerusalem Drive, Cicero, pleaded guilty to charges. Phelps pleaded guilty to violating a Clean Air Act and Strong pleaded guily to wsinits rueps cover up activit gation.

Phelps and Strong own Northern Environmental Services, Benediet said.

Phelps faces a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a

The Syracuse University Drama Department
Presents

\section*{Much Ado About Nothing}
by

\section*{William Shakespeare}

Directed by Gerardine Clark

Feb. 25, 26, Mar. \(1^{*}, 2,3,4\) at 8 p.m.
Feb. 27, Mar. 5 at 2 p.m.
*Mar. 1 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517
PraMT
Storch Theatre
820 E. Genesee St.
Congratulations to this week's news department Staff Writer of the Week:
a Staff Writer of the Week?
We thought so.
Come join the D.O. news team.
Stop by our staff meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday at 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{Law School Republicans return to political action}

Staff Reports
After several years of dormaney, the College of Law Republicans are emerging on the just in time for the US. just in time for the U.S. presidential elections, members said.

Bill Petrick, chairman of the club and a first-ycar law studeut brining the organought back to campus last August back to campus last August. ally disappointed to discover that there wasn't a College of Law Republicans group," Petrick said. "I figured a law school, of all places, would have people who were politically involved."

He then talked to friends and together they decided to start the group again, Petrick said. The totai membership is about 35 people, he added.

About 25 of those mem gathered for their first meeting at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday to appoint upcoming events, said Larry Basham, College of Law Republicans community relations officer and first-year law student.

Thegroup hosted Scott Armstrong, campaign manager for Onondaga County Executive Nicholas Pirro, who spoke about the basics of running poitical campaigns, Basham added.

The College of Law Republicans previously became inaclive mainly because of the students, Basham said \({ }^{\text {II }}\) think people have been too busy with law studies to devote a lot of time for it," he said. "I don't know if it was a lack of interest or people just didn't think being involved in the orsanization would bencfit them."

The group is hopeful that law students of all party affiliations will involve themselves in the wpeming campaigns and politics in general, Petrick said. With the 2000 elections here, it's a great opportunity to cet people involved

Included in the list of events planned for the semester are a voter registration drive and speaker presentations. The speakers have yet to be determined, but the group has several options available. Basham said

The next few meetings will be informal because law school mid-terms are approaching, Petrick meeting will be after Spring Break, he added

Compiled by Asst. Neus Esitar Kate Stevenson

\section*{KEYES}
continued from page 1
Keycs' obvious intelligence, eloquence and ability to clearly define his stance on campaign issues makes him the most attractive candidate, he added.

He has very innovative views on issues," Goldman said. squabblingr candidates are is better and trying to get people to run for their calculators."

Keyes' appearance on camable alternative to Bush and McCain, Goldman said. The two leading candidates are becoming increasingly difficult to distinguish, he added.

"People on campus, all they see are the front runners," Goldman said. "Candidates have become so mainstream, they become ambiguous on issues. Love where Alan stands,

Feyes has not yet dropped out of the race even after losing both of the most recent Republican primaries. He did not take any national convention delegates in Tuesday's Arizona and Michigan primaries, winning only 5 percent of the Michigan vote and 3 percent in Arizona.
"His campaign at this point is just about getting his message out to Republican voters, as well as all voters, said Joe Burns, College Republicans chairman. "He's still in this race because he doesn't believe the other two candidates in the race adequately represent his ideas."

Although the Student Activities office lists the College Republicans as the current sponsor for the visit, the group cannot advocate any candidate until voters decide the GOP nomination, said Burns, a junior political science and history major.

In addition to his U.N. post, Keyes' governmental experience includes serving as an aide to former President Ronald Reagan.

Keyes stands for the traditional conservative values that the other candidates abandon in their quest to move toward the center of the political spectrum, according to a Keyes campaign report. He advocates abolishing the current income tax system in favor of a tax code based on tariffs and duties on the products we buy, the report stated.
He also favors sichool prayer, a total ban on tabortions er's life is in danger, a strong national defense program and American sovereignty and economic issues rather than involvement in bodies such as the World Trade Organization, according to the report.

Regardess of Keyes' political beliefs, the speech will be interesting to hear, Burns said. "He's one of the best orators in America," he said. "He's also one of the most intelligent men l've seen."

\section*{Z투T}
continued from page 1
lowing the fraternity to return to campus with a clean record, Young said.

He added that he is "fairly confident" that the IFC will not seriously punish the frater nity for Sunday's citations.
"Since they've been back on campus, they"ve been a very "They've been very good witi

Rush and have sponsored a number of risk management programs.

Actually, I think this is the first time they've had a so-cial-related problem."

The university, however, may view the incident differently, Young said. Even if Zeta Psi does not receive sanctions from IFC, the fraternity can still be punished, he said.
"If the university is really upset, they're Syracuse University - they can do whatever they want." he said. "In terms of FCC, the incident is not serious enough to get them kicked off. But IFC-imposed sanctions cannot be ruled out, he added. "From an IFC standpoint, (Zeta Psi) is not going to be able to party for a while," he said. Sunday's party started With 20 to 25 close friends, Lindgren said. But the house was soon overwhelmed with party-hunters, he said.
"We were very pleased to see the police," Lindgren said.
"We happily helped escort people out of the house.

Derek Wallace, Zeta Psifinancial chairman, said he arrived at the house the moment police arrived.
Wallace received one of the seven citations.
"Many people were forced to leave the bars," said Wallace, a senior policy studies and public relations major. "They were looking for some place to party." More than 100 people were already being turned away from the house when the police arrived, Wallace said.
"I think the number of people police reported may be exaggerated," he added. "But I'm aot positive. I'm not going to argue about it

Drinks for the party were brought by the group of friends, Wallace said.
"There wasn't anything to drink," he said. "What started as a small party turned intc a huge problem."

\(\square\)

\section*{you take care of the patients, we'll help take care of the [tuition].}

Qualify for an Army ROTC nursing scholarship, and you'll not only get hands-on clinical training, you'll develop leadership skills that can open doors for you throughout your career. Stop by the Army ROTC department. We'll take care of you.

ARMY ROHC Unlike any other college course you can take.

\section*{NURSING MAJORS CALL CAPTAIN DOTSON FOR MORE INFORMATION 443-1752}

\section*{BURTT}
continued from page 1
quet. The Technology Club of the Liverpool Holiday Inn.

Son of a retired Syracuse University chemistry professor, Burtt was first employed by producer George Lucas to begin sound work for the "Star Wars" series. Burtt said he thought it was a simple task at the time. said. "Space is a vacu um," he said. "There is no sound in space. physics and I apologize to you for physics

Some sounds must be taken from the real world, often to be

\section*{SCHOOL}
continued from page 1
If a school does not meet SUNY standards the banrd will shut it down, Bellafiore Ne
New York state law also allows for an unlimited number ed to charter schools, which is not commonly done, Bellafiore said.
distriny public school in any charter school, he said a handful have converted in New York City. In Upstate, they have not caught on yet."

Abenefit the state sees in charter schools is that they give low to middle-income fameffects in a film, Burtt said. For example, the recording of a walrus and a baby bear were the "Star Wars" character, Chewbac ca.

Many of the sounds he uses came from SU, Burtt said. With his father as a chemistry professor, Burtt found that many sounds could be obtained in university labs, he said.

Liquid mitrogen once spilled on the floor in Bowne Hall and the sound was later recorded and used for when the ightsabers in Star Wars passed through doors and walls, Many SU students falsely ilies more options in the publi ilies more options in the public educ
"The notion of competition in public schools still applies," he said. "Who is it that has a choice of a place to educate choice of a place to educate money can afford private education, but a lot of people don't have the economic means."

But critics of charter schools argue that the institutions take valuable funding away from public schools that can barely afford to maintain their budgets.

Bellafiore said the argument, however, is not as "apoc alyptic" to public schools as it seems.

A school district with hap saber was recorded in the Carri er Dome, Burtt said. The sound is actually a wedding ring hitting the metal wire of a bridge. he said.

Burtt most recently worked as the sound editor for the 1999 Academy Award nominated "The Phantom Menace," the fourth in stallment in the "Star Wars" series.

To explain the use of sound in a raovie to the audience, Burtt narrated a short film called "Ad tures in Sound Design.
Sound needs to be built in layers, starting with production sound, Burtt said. Production sound is mostly the dialogue of record on a set, he added.

The second level is adding the sound effects, he said. Looping, or Automated Dialogue Replacement, is used to re-record lines that could not be heard on the set. Foley effects, such as foot steps and prop movements are added next.

Finally there comes sound design, he said.

\section*{A. sound edercation}

A well-rounded education and computer skills are the basis for pursuing a firm career in sound, Burtt said.

Certainly we are in the computer age and almost all the tasks are now done on computer," he said.

An issue surrounding sound in films is the lack of language available for discassing it, Burtt. said. Sound engineering is a very inconspicuous, yet difficult job, he added.
describere are many words to describe what we see. but not for sound," he said. "It is fascinating to see what kind of language results for the filmmak:
ers to communicate their ideas.;

Tom Ragonese, a senior Tom Ragonese, a senior bioengineering major, said he was intrigued by Burtt's work.
bhind the scenes," he said ehind the scenes, he said. Jason Snyder, a sophomore jor, agreed. \({ }^{\text {I }}\) thought the presentation was excellent," Snyder said.
py customers where parents are happy has nothing to fear," Bellafiore said. "If that is not the case, smart businesses need to re-evaluate what they're do-

\section*{ag.}

Rather than divert funding from public schools, charfor schools use the state money purposes, he added.

\section*{Competing proposals}

M Former city school teacher to Brooks applied last spring Sy the SUNY board to open the Syracuse Charter School, an ehementary school f

The board gave Brooks' school preliminary approval Last June, but rejected the proposal last month.
challenged mears ago, a friend challenged me to shinle nbewt what a school should be," Brooks said. "I had been dreaming about this for years." Brooks said she believes an ideal school offers students small class sizes with an emphasis on parental involve-

During the past few years,
During the past few years, Board of Education meetings and researched national charter schools. She later founded the Syracuse Charter Schools Institute, Brooks said.

Brooks Iast year secured a location for her proposed Syracuse Charter School and established a line of credit with a local bank and purchased furni\(\triangle N D\) THO GTOAT BTATO OP NOW JOTBOM

\section*{GOPPOLD} AODRTMOTROMS \(\triangle L B\) POOP PIDAB POF 8
 AT EVERM RTOWOMGU 3.006M
ture for the school, she said.
There's an old saying that you're never old until regrets take the place of dreams," she said. I have no regrets beThe Syracuse Char dreams The Syracuse Charter School is still vi able. able The SUNY board did, however, approve State University of New York College of Environmeatal Science and Forestry President Ross Whaley's proposal to open a 542-student elementary school i Syracusenext fall.

The first through sixth grade school, formally called the Central New York Math and Science is the city's first charter school. Beacon Man agement, a for-profit group located in Westborough, Mass. will operate the school.

I wish I had the experience and pasapproaching it," Wha ley said. "Anybody

4 The notion of competition in public schools still applies. Who is it that has a choice of a place to educate their children? People with the money can afford private education, but a lot of people don't have the economic means. \({ }^{5}\)

Bob Bellafiore
SUNY Charter Schools
Institute executive director

The profit question
Audience members questioned Betlafinore as to whether a charter school has a better chance of being approved by the SUNY board if it is partnered with a management company Brooks propased school nered with a management a company. company.
The schools approved by the proved bothe chis year were all partnered with such companies, Bellafiore said. "There have been entities and individuals making money off of publicschools since the first school "bus," he caid. What we have here are the idea of prothe idea of providiag for a charter school that I went to in approaching it in primary and secondary education didn't want to touch

But Whaley's school could take at least \($ 4\) million dollars in funding from city public schools each year, said Anthony Meggesto, assistant schools superintendent

The board of direct
The board of directors for Whaley's school does not include any person with a backtion, Whaley added.
for less than the district.
Syracuse Teachers Association President Kate McKenna, who deems Whaley's charter school "a conflict of interest" because Whaley is employed by SUNY, questioned the effectiveness of charter schools.
a new wat we've done is create a new level of bureaucracy at the state level," McKenna said. Money is being diverted from the betterment of public education, and from what I can tell, it hasn't worked so far."

\section*{WFCROTECK}

Computer Center 2518 Erie Blvd. E Syracuse, NY 13224 315-446-5321

Apple, IBM, HP, Okidata, IBM and most Clones repaired and upgraded.

\section*{10\% OFF LABOR}
with student ID and this Ad
Order your NEXTEL phone today! Learn how you can communicate with your friends with the "free two-way radio feature" on this digital phone.

Free pick-up & delivery of your equip on Tuesdays and Thursdays when repaired or upgraded by MicroTECH. Call today: 446-5321

\section*{duile}

\section*{Valley' girl Syracuse}

University senior Fabiola Charles is featured in rake a look at life in post Africa through th ayes of a young lack woman and black woman and two Athol Fuetard's -Valt Song." The show, presented by Contemporary Theatre of Syracuse, features Syracuse University senior Fabiola Charles. See the show at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday at Happy Endings cake and coffeehouse, 317 s . Clinton St. Tickets are \($ 15\). Discounts are available to stu dents for advance 0405 for information.

Our very own SU senior John Murray and junior direct "Search and Destroy," a play by Howard Korder which runs this weekend at the Black Box. Tickets for the show. featuring 11 SU students, are free but must be reserved in advance. Limit of two tickets per person, and reservations can only be made by calling 443-8506 between noon and 4 p.m.

Comic relief
Free live entertainment will be held tonight in Perc-Place. A comedy show begins at 9 p.m. An improv show, an hicensored, an of "Who's Line is it Anyway? put on by the Broken Compass Players 2000 , begins at 11:15 p.m.

\section*{Cinema sounds The Syracuse} Symphony plays music from classic movies today and Saturday in -salute to the Silver Screen. The show will feature music from "Prince Valiant," Alfred Hitchcock's -Spellbound," Aaron Coplanid's "The Red Pony." "The Adventures of Robin Hood," and Leonard Bernstein's -On the Waterfront." The concert begins at 8 p.m. Concert. Theater of Concert Jofin \(H\). Mutroy Civic Center. Call \(424-8222\) for infor mation aboưt tickets.

\section*{Poetic evening:} Listen 20 su stu dents Nic Darling, Dector Fadraga, and -What's in Your Pockets?: An Undergraduate Poetry Reading" today from 4 to 6 p.m. at 500 Hall of Languages. Graduate student Janet Ridgeway is the guest. There will refreshments.

\section*{Your weekend guide to events on and around campus \\ e kend}

\section*{In Love}
 tinerica. Despite the changed setfolly and games of the heart also fits into the turbulent post-World War I era, said artistic directo Gerardine Clark.

The play's setting represents a moment of great change in the United States, said Clark, who is an SU drama professor. In putting the Old world play into a tuth cen tury context, Clark looked to her own familys heritage for inspira tion, she said. tion, she said.
"(The year) 1919 was a big mythological year for my family, er, who was 18 years old, saw women win the right to vote and her own father die in the War Clark's father's family was also ravaged by a flu epidemic.

These pivotal events - suffrage, World War I and the flu epi demic - frame the play's plot. The dark tragedy of war provides a sharp contrast against the light ness of the comedy, Clark said. "Much Ado" portrays the mischief of two couples in their ro mantic shenanigans.

There is strength in the char acter Beatrice, one of the play's ro nett, a senior in the College of \(V i-\) sual and Performing Arts. Bentrice is too proud to admit her love for Benedick, played by Reid Weiner a soldier who has just returned home from the war. Weiner is also a senior in VPA.

Both characters hide their love and vulnerability behind sarcasm and wit, and it takes the trickery of others to make the two revea. their emotions.

In contrast, Hero, another romantic lead, played by Sarah Cook, cannot wait to marry the sol he hes returned home But the couple must untangle issues of trust before,taking a trip down the aislet Cook and Sapp are both seniordin YPA.
 family relationgrat long therthe age-old batterdedrack to choo selves and having aranily totixic said.

See MUCH ADO page 10

\section*{10 February 25, 2000 The Daily Orange}

\section*{'Boiler Room' fares as unlikely winter hit \\ February is a strange \\ "Boiler Room" still deserves \\ between the soul-lacking \\ nat they become invigorat} month for movic releases. verbial dumping ground Chris studio films
Chris
Piazza flick
pick for shelved studio film hope can turn a profit in a less petitive wi ter month. There are also holdovers and re"issues of Oscar contenders. But once in a while, a worthy new release somehow finds its way into the new release slate. 'Two years ago, it was the incredibly underrated
"Dark City," Alex Proyas" it was Doup Liman's ener getic "Go.

Of course, most often, no one groes to see these new releases, and the movies all too often fall through the demographic cracks - too hip for adults, too smart for teens. I have no doubt a sim ilar fate is in store for the stock tradine drama, "Boiler stock trading drama, "Boiler Room." Although the movie Room." Although the movie is not nearly as good as the two aforementioned films, praise, especially coming from first-time, 26-year-old writer-director Ben Younger. The story deals with a college dropout, Seth (Giovanni Ribisi), who enters the fast-paced world of stocks in order to please his judgmental father (Ron Rifkin). Sethjoins a small, start-up brokerage firm, called J.T. Marlin. The firm hires young, ambitious men who want to make millions who want to make million and aren't afraid to work around the clock.
Greedy veterans, such as Greg (Nicky Katt) and Chris Greg (Nicky Katt) and Chris (Vin Diesel), routinely trade ethnic insults, and a Gestapo-type executive, played by Ben Ameck, gives the new recruits the low-down on the high-octane down on the high-octane world of stock swapping. world of stock swapping.

The scenes with these young men - who have more money to blow than they know what to do with - selling stocks to potential, unwitting clients are the Ylm's best seguences. Younger's script contains quick, pointed exchanges will be from I to 3 p.m. today at the Community Folk Art Gallery and is open to alt Galles.

Sinicity baliroom
The Syracuse Chapter of the United States Amateur is looking for new members is looking for new members who enjoy dancing and are activity. An informational and activity. An informational and held from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Liverpool Public Library.

\section*{MUCH ADO}
continued from page 9
Clark researched the new setting by listening to old Victrola recordings, reading up on suffrage issues and leafing through old photographs, she said.

Io capture the mood she her cast and crew a picture of her uncle from that era - a dapper in a white suit and slicked back hair. The simple photo made her point.
"It"s a time that is far removed but with many of the same themes and social mores, said Jason Herbert, a hat will somad familiar to on the phone.

Filmed in eerie blue tones by cinematographer Enrique Chediak, the fing appropriately known as the boiler room is siven a cold, forbidding feel that matches the hollow words spewed over the phone.
Within these fast-paced confines, the actors hold their own respectively well.

Ribisi, who exhibited much promise in "Saving Private Ryan," shows himself perfectly capable of car rying a film on his own. His transition from the "new guy" to a fast-talking sales man is completely convineing, Vin Diesel, a fellow Private Ryan" alum, shows some heart beneath his character's amoral exterior.

Affleck, who only appears in three scenes, goes over the top with reckless abandon, nearly stealing the how.

As a writer, Younger shows an adept touch with dialogue, especially in Affleck's misanthropic speeches and the exchanges

\section*{Musical endeavors}

Leslie Feist will perform at 9:30 p.m. Friday at Happy Endings to support her solo CD, wonarch. Feist is formeriy of the band By Divine Right, which taured with the Tragical Hip. Tickets for the show are Hip. Tickets for the Show are \($ 5\). Erica Wheeler will also visit Erica Wheeler will also visi happy Endings, at 8:30 p.m. Happy Endings, at 8 , 30 p.m. CD "Three Wishes." Wheeler has been likened to Roseanne Casn. Shawn Colvin, Mary-scenic designer and senior in VPA. "It's a time when soldiets are still heroes, not hated.

Setting the play at the end of World War I also allows the audience to reflect on a crucial moment of the past century, said Karen Munkel, the show's stage manager curse \(a\) War I wag, of courae, a major event with so many social changes, said Munkel, a senior stage management major.

Much of the task in bringing the show to 1919 was visual, Herbert said. Rather than set the play in a palatial Italian garden, Herbert set out to creste a "little Italy"

This setting meant design-brokers. Less success the emotional scenes between Seth and his father, whose sentimentality seems increasingly out of place as the film moves forward. Yet, the relationship between Seth and a lovely between Seth and a lovely secretary (Nia Long) never really goes anywhere. "Boile Room" also has noticeable direction faults that are probably due to Younger's inexperience. Such glaring technical errors like incon technical errors like incon sistencies in camera focus sistencies in camera focu can sometimes interrupt narrative.

Younger's tendency to rely on the same shot-counter-shot pattern breeds monotony. I would even go so far as to say that when the actors seem to do something out of character, it is more Younger's fault than it is theirs. Although his inexperience occasionally shows, Younger still holds "Boiler Room" together surprisingly well.

Entire sequences, usually stock trades, are Filled with such greedy giddiness ing. The film also has its funny moments, especially when Seth fields a telephone pitch from a newspaper salesman and tells him everything he is doing wrong.

But what "Boiler Room" - like "Fight Club" - does best is present a vivid portrait of aimless twenty somethings at the beginning of a new century. This is pre cisely why "Boiler Room will go the way of "Dark City" and "Go." The film boasts young, appealing stars, a hip-hop soundtrack and has plenty of booze and drugs. But it also intelligently comments on stocks, iPOs and the bull market. With the former likely to turn off adults and the latter "Bikely to intimidate teens, "Boiler Room" seems destined to occupy that unfortunate niche between demographics. It doesn't deserve to.

It is far more accomplished than most of the reck we get in February.
My Grade: 3

Chapin Carpenter and Cheryl Wheeler. Tickets for the event are \($ 8\) in advance. \($ 10\) at the Cickets for the April 14 moe. concert at the Landmark Theater go on sale today. Theater go on sale today.

Tickets are \($ 18.50\) in advance and \($ 22\) the day of the show. and \($ 22\) the day of the show. They can be bought at the Landmark Theater Box Office, Ticketmaster and Ticketmast phone at \(472-0700\). Call 475 - ing a simpler backyard, complete with a red, white and blue draped gazebo, tomato garden and statue of the Virgin Mary. The senior set design major looked locally for inspiration for colors and styles, he said.

The strokes of color on the fence enclosing the yard resemble a sunset. The house facade replicates a house on Erie Boulevard. The skyline is based on a dingy New York cityscape in winter.

Thowgh the characters come from Elizabethan times, their story is universal, said Cook. Cook also said ahe want ed the part of Hero from the skart.
Cook said wants to be in love, Cook said. She added that the heroines in "Much Ado" are some of strongest.
strongest.
Beatrice is so smart and funny;" she said. "Hero aligns herself to become like Beat rice."

Adaptiag the role of Leonato, the play's father figure, was no problem for Dan Kolodny, a junior musical theater major. But learning the Elizabethan language was a bit

7980 for more information.

\section*{Rustic adventures}

Winter Wonders Week ends today at Beaver Lake Nature at 1:30 p.m. and "Showshoeing in Search of Wildife Signs" is at 2 p.m. Showshoes are available for \($ 1\) per hour. All activities are tree of charge but there is more information, calt the ce ter at 638-2519.
more challenging, he said. "With Shakespeare, you have to decode everything, Kolodny said. "You have to try to get the message to the audience without beating them over the head.

The cast focused on correct voice inflection and the rhythm of their speech to express the words. Shakespeare's plays are written in iambic pentameter.
"There are some things they won't understand by the words themselves, but by the way that it was said," Kolodny explained.

Though Kolodny said he used to hate Shakespeare's work, the more he studied the Bard, the more he warmed up to the poet, he said.

Kolodny and Cook admitted to having opening night jitters, but both said they are ready to perform for an audience.
Kolodny deñitely strung out," Kolodny said. "It's been a long process.

Clark said she is pleased with the work of her crew. "American everything that "American Beauty" has," she said. "But it's Shakespeare."

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLDI ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN" Call 424-for more infol http:www.longley-jones_com
(5) Langley fones
(1) HEAT INCLUDEDI
* 2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

\section*{\(\square 5\)}

\section*{PIINAL 4 DAYS TEISS} SIMISYHFB TO ELAVIO SFITOR PETOTOS TAETH

\section*{MON 228 -}

\section*{IFIUR 3/2}

\section*{UPPOR LODBE (DF THEIT} GOLDSYMOT

AUDIIDRTUM, SCEIINTO SIUDDJIT Convymim,
IIAM-3PM, 4-7PL. CATL I-800-969-1337 PDI AT APPDINMMITNY, AND ADOLD LIEİ LONG MINTOGg

Strnadova BY ERIC NATHAN Staff Writer

Two days after Syracuse hired former SU assistant Mac Gilford to succeed the retired Jesse Dwire，the search started for a new assistant coach．

Gifford＇s list contained just one name－Jana Strnadova－Ba－ ova．

Known by her maiden name， Strinadova，Syracuse＇s new assis－ and one of the best－if not the best－tennis player to ever prace the courts for SU at Drumlins Tennis Center．

Gifford coached Strnadova during her final two years at Syracuse and knew she was the person to fill his old job．
＂At the ond of July，right after I got hired，＂he said，＂I knew I vanted to hire her．＂

From that late－July phone call to her arrival at Hancock In ternational Airport two Satur days ago， \(\mathbf{t}\) was not an easy roke it to Central New York
After deciding she wanted accept the job，she convinced hus－ band David they should come back to the United States from Prague， Czech Republic．Strnadova－Baco－ va resigned from her job in the marketing department at Sara Lee．\(S\)

She then waited for her pa pers to go through the bureau cratic Imanigration and Natural ed more than three months．Her ed more than three months．Her tact with the INS until January， remains in Prague．

Once he gets his papers from the INS，he has a job waiting for him at SU as a computer pro－ grammer，Strnadova－Bacova said．

Strnadova likens her situa－ to that of new Pittsburgh Pen－ tion to that of new Pittsburgh Pen－ guins associate head coach Ivan Hlinka．The former Czech Repub－ lic National Team head coach faced the same troubles dealing with the INS．
＂It＇s been taking a while，＂Str－ nadova－Bacova said．＂It＇s boring， a lot of paperwork．We knew that it would take a while，but we did－ n＇t know it would take this long． year 2000，and it wasn＇t happen－ to alma mater as tennis coach ing because of the waiting．I act ally quit my job in December．＂
As for Strnadova－Bacova＇s job，there is no challenging her qualifications．She holds numer－ us Orange records．

Tops on her list are 202 ca－ reer wins， 41 more than SU＇s ca－ reer second－place holder，former eammate Erica O＇Neill

As a freshman and sopho－ nore，Strmadova recorded back－to－ back 50 －win seasons，the first 58 singles wins as a freshman are also tops in school history．

In 1994，she garnered All－ America honors．Strmadova domi－ nated Big East competition from the beginning－evident by her 1993 Rookie of the Year award－ and on the way out of school，as her 1996 Lucille Verhulst Sports－ wornan of the Year signifies． ＂Everyone respects her be－ cause she is a former player，＂se－ nior Shareen Lai said．＂She is one of the best in SU tennis history．＂ Lai and fellow senior Anna Khvalina know the Strnadova family very well．During their freshman year，the two current captains lived with Strnadova＇s

Nicole Strnadova and Khvali－ Nicole Strnadova and Khvali－ aa even teamed as doubles part－ ners．T friends．

Strnadova－Bacova＇s impact on the team should extend to more court slills qualify her for the on court skills qualify her for the job， not more，weight．
＂Jana＇s a role model for women athletes－actually all good work ethic trains hard and is a delightful person to know．

Said Strnadova：＂I was hon ored to have him offer me the job． I was like，＂They want me there？ since ray thought was that they wouldn＇t hire someone from over seas．I am very excited to go back seas．I am
Sixth straight on Sunday？
The surging Syracuse wom en＇s tennis team looks for its sixth consecutive dual－match victory against Dartmouth College at 11 a．m．Sunday at Drumlins Tennis lub．
Leading the Orangewomen owns a \(32-13\) record playing No． 3 singles and doubles．The junior has won 16 consecutive matches， including a \(7-6\)（7－5），6－4 victory in SU＇s victory against Rice last Sat－ urday． urday．

Lai holds the No． 1 singles and doubles position，excelling in dual meets．This season，she ran the table in singles（ \(7-0\) ）and teamed with Khvalina for a 7 mark in the top doubles flight Junior Zuzanna Boruck looks for her 80th career win Sat－ urday．Her .571 winning percent－ age this season is sixth best on the squad，and Borucka＇s career record is 79－75．

Khvalina wins 67 percent of her matches and is tied with Neveklovska for the most victories on the team．Freshman Shervin Saedinia，a pleasant surprise for Gifford，has won 11 of her 15 sin－ gles matches．

Dartmouth opens its dual－ match season Saturday against Temple．Senior captain Allison Taff，an All－Ivy League selection in 1999，paces the Big Green

Assl．Sports Editor Jeff Pa

\section*{Charity basketball game pits SU football against media}

BY KEVIN LEITZELL
Staff Writer
The Syracuse University foot－ ball team has lost to the Media annual Jam Session charity bas－ ketball game．

While the Orangemen get their chance at revenge Saturday， the game will sit secondary to the The fifth－annual Jam Ses The fifth－annual Jam Ses－ sion，a cormmunity service event held Saturday at \(11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\) ．at Man－ hey Field House，features a chari－ ty hoops contest between the SU football team and the Syracuse media．

Other activities，including a slam dunk contest and a live disc ockey，ensure a fun－filled few ours for local youths．
Former \(S U\) and current St．

\section*{New Store \\ Hours \\ \(9-6 \mathrm{pm}\)}

YOUR＠UALITY S．U．CLOTMNNG STORE

\section*{SU BASKPTBALL}
．TSHIRTS • HATS ．SWEATSHIRTS
\($ 1.00\) off with this coupon on any item in store

Williams founded the original Jam Session in 1996.

Williams＇goal was to develop a positive interaction between SU student－athletes and coaches and the children of local Syracuse community．Williams，Super Bowl ring in tow，will be in ＂Roland wanted to create an open forum for the student－ath letes to be able to positively inter－ act and give back to the Syracuse community，＂SU fullback and Jam Session event coordinator Kyle Johnson said． still is，The event was initially，and youth of Syracuse who often to the chance to see SU athletics from a distance but seldom get the opportunity to come to a uni versity facility and spend a little time with the SU athletes．＂ s3 Portionsion for the event is w3．Portions of the proceeds from will be donated to the Boys and Girls Club of Syracu and reading program．

Past recipients h．
Past recipients have included the Make－A－Wish Foundation，
the Southwest Community Center

\section*{ulfoh quality and low prices \\ are guaranteed at \\ Meineke：＂ \\ －EXHAUST SYSTEMS －brake systems －SUSPENSION SYSTEMS c．．o．oms －STATE INSPECTION －trie alanacing \\ －All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY \\ You won＇t pay a lot，but you＇ll get a lot}

\section*{FREE Undercar Inspection \＆Estimate CICERD 8313 S．Main St． 699－9654 \\ }

OPEN MON－SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM

LIFETIME BRAKE PADS \＆SHOES； \(50 \%\) DFF
， －2・ール

\section*{「STATE MNSPECTIONTIス PRICE ONIY \($ 7\) \\ meineke \\  \\ }

\section*{万OIL CHANGE ONIY 519.95} and the Urban Sports Hall of Fame．

Johnson said Jam Session would not be possible without the Student－Athlete Council（SAC） The student－athletes work behind the scenes to guarantee the even－ the scenes t．

The SAC is the gasoline in the Jam Session mobile，＂he said． the Studente are the engine，but fuel．So many members work so very hard to keep the event going and growing．

The 2000 Jam Session will in－ clude an autograph session with SU student－athletes．Additionally， the SU Cheerleaders and Dance Team will appear．

The Mascot All－Star Game is the newest feature added to this year＇s Jam Session slate．
＂Lucky＂from Lucky Charms cereal and the mascots from the Syracuse Crunch，the Syracuse Smash and other local outlets will participate in the five－on－five bas

Thame
These mascots are going to play each other，＂Jam Session pub－ lic relations coordinator Nikhi Kim－ brough said．＂Otto is going to be the referee．Its going to be funny be cause half of these mascots can

The Copy Center SU Sur Fest highlights the halftime fes－ tivities at Saturday＇s event．For－ mer SU basketball player Malik Campbell heads the list of partici－ pants in this year＇s events． an Campbell makes his return to an SU basketball court Saturday to lead the Football All－Stars． Campbell played hoops for two years before switching to football this fall．
Dee Browbell joins running back Dee Brown，quarterback Troy Nunes and 12 others on the foot－ ball squad．

The gridiron stars hope to use their athletic advantage to beat the Media All－Stars and take back the Jam Session title．

I don＇t think theyre going to make it three，＂said Nunes，whose squad dropped an 83－81 heart breaker last February．I have a

While the Football All－Stars might have the size advantage， might have the size advantage， miliar names of Syracuse basket ball＇s storied past．

Dwayne＂Pearl＂Washington and SU assistant coach Mike Hop－ kins look to drain the long ball against the football players．

The Media All－Stars under stand the target sits on their backs Saturday．
WTVH－TV WTVH－TV＇s Kevin Maher said．\({ }^{\text {I }}\) hope not to get a black eye，be－ cause I have to be on the air five

Sleep Deprivation

by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Out of Town}

\section*{No Point}
 SO, I FINALLY GET. JEWISH GIRLFRIEND. MONI! MTGHT NOT BE JEWISH, BUT I KNOW ABOUT JEWS. bu David Pollack -sit back and watch some MTV I think Serena Altschul is on

by Ethan Schmidt
.OVER THERE YOU HAVE A MENORAH FOR MEZUZA ON EVERY DOOR FRAME, AND OVER THERE YOUS HAVE COLUMBIA HOUSE HAME COFFEE KNOW THAT DIDN JEWISH...

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog \(&\) Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

by Thane Benson

by The Four Electrons

Eat the Lettuce

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Rvan Wickstrand

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \\
\hline \multirow[t]{14}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \\
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word \\
 ADSARE NOT TAKEN BYY PHONE! ! The Dajly Orange; 744 Dstrom Avente:
Syracuse, NY 13210; Alt: Classifieds: OA
Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\) \\

\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Notices
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Attention \\
Fraternities * Sororities * Clubs * Student Groups \\
Need to eam 51.000-52,000 lor a student organization? CIS, the onignal tundraser since 1995, has the solution with an easy three-hour tundraising event. \\
Accept no imitations. \\
Dates are tilling guicky! Contact us tor innmediate resultis at (B8B) \(69 \mathrm{~g}-1858\) or apply on ine at lundraisingsoiutions. net
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Autos}

Jeep Wranglet. 974 cylinder, Red whlack soft top 10,000 beat call 476-7097 see photo in Auto Findet

\section*{EMPLOYMENT} AQUATICS JOBSINTERNSHIPS THAT BULLD RESUMESI HORIZON CAMPS SEekS funfoving. expenersed instruclors ang drectors, with camps ind. MEE apen PA Top camp Salaries, plus Room, Boarc, Luundry & Trivel Apply wrww. ionizoncamps.con or call (600) 544.5448 for

Gourmet Coftee Shop located at SUNY Hospital needs PTFFT. Ho late nights. Fun tor als ages. Call. 00 -202.2233 cris ATHLETIC JOBS THAT BUILD RESUMES! HoRizon CAMPS seek un-lonng. expenenced insinetors and directors in all alteice areas.
 Volleybail Weeghis/Ftness and Archery, openings al 4 CO .ED chudren's camps in NY , ME and PA . Top camp Salanes, plus Room, Boasd, Laundry & Traved. Aoply online at wwworizoncamps com or call (800)544-5448 tor more inlo. Camp Counsclors Top Ovemight Camps in pocono Ntns. Over 40 activites - - ceking specialist counselors \(1-800-533-\mathrm{camp}\) or www.pretoresticamp.com NEED EXPERIENCE (and money?) Join a tast, fun and growing company as your carnpus representialive Flextble hours, responspilties and competitive pay. No experience. just .personalhy needed. Visit www. mytyles comisludentiep for more information and to till out an online apolication
SUMMER JOBSANTERNSHIPS THAT GULLD
AESUEESI HORIZCN CAMPS Ofler Training and Expenemce in Leascership. Teambuilding, Creative Poblem Solving. Organization and Communication. Four CO-ED anilten's camps in Communicalion. Four CO-ED childten's camps in NY. ME, and PA, seek tentovin. child tocused stath. Top camp Satanes, plus Room. Board, Laundry 8 Travei. Apply online at www horizoncamps.com or call ( 000 ) \(544-5448\) for more inta.
Part time jobs delivery divers. dishwashers apply
Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshat SL.
WANTED Child Care
Cicero couple seeking student to provide part-lime 1 year-old. 699-5175

\section*{Help Wanted}
\($ 1500\) weekly polential maising our circulars. No 202-452-7679.

Roommates
Roommate wanted for tall semester 200 only in a 2 bedroom aparment on Reasonably pricec. \(476-2982\)

FOR RENT
Universify and Comstock Very ciose to Campus
Enficiences and \(T\) wo Bedroms Secute bdo Eficence and and Two bedrooms Secure bldg.
tumistied laundy parking 5375.00 to 5700.00

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM
302 Marshall St
302 Marshall St
604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave 45 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 Parking, Full Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Capet and/or Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
SPACIOUS. FURNISHED. DSHWASHER, PARKING 5175 PER MONTH 476-9933

L(.)(.)K Safe & Secure

Fumished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
Unversity Area 2-3 Bedroam fumished Jim 668-7473
1-2.3 Bedroom Aparments, Beautitul, Spacious, Sale, Ouiet, Close 476-0295 University Ave. live bedroom House one block rom Marshall Streel lumished laundry pakking lease \($ 1,30000\) plus ulifites D.N.Ducker \(445-1229\) Apartments close to eampus clean \(2.3-5\) bedrooms some with fireplace laundry parking semifurnished rea sonable price 487 -5761.
4Bedrooms. OakiandSL, 18lock ESF, 3Blocks porches, Excelterit concition, August 475.0690

For Rent: House 83 bdrm flals - \($ 250-$ 300\). Very FM Pealty Gio Su. Avantable Aug.
FM Realty Group 637-5195

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

Ackeman Beautul Large Fumished Fals
Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Bedrooms, Porches, Fireptaces, Garapes, Laundy. Pet OK 446-3420 EDGE OF CAMPUS 228 Euckit, 4 bedroom reasonable rent, Ires parking, dis tenty or Tina \(-474-7541,446-6318\).
Stop cleann 3 bedroond apartinents Fireplaces, parking. laundry \({ }^{\text {tomL-furnished, walk to }} \mathrm{SU}\), low pice \(438-1\). Univeralty Ave Threa Bedroon Fat Close Walk to Campus lurrished laundry parking plus thities D.N.Dructer 445-1229
Two Eedroom Aparmentio on Euclid Fumished. Heat included, naruwcod fioors, porch, rece

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E. Adams St
Availabie for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management. Wall to Wall Camet and/or Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGES SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Ackerman Ave, 46r 2/Bath apt. Fumished, carpeled, walk to campus. We!! maintained. 5.00-5:01 lease 446-7202 parking ulitities included close walk SU hospila reasonable 478.2642
Apartments

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT S355 per month
Call Donna 449-4621

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM} Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Pcrehes, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

Four Bedroom on Ackerman, Furnished. Laundry, Campet. Martwood Foors
Call Gordon \(476-2982\)

Ackernan fumished spacious two BdRm oil stre parking laundry faailities utilities incl. 446-8576

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

ONE BEDROOM
A APARTMENT EUCLID
A PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT
Locaton 476-9933.
One and Two Eedroom Fumished Apartments. Comer of Walnut and Harmson Avenueg, Leasas Cormmence June 200 Lantson Avenues, Leases Contrent and Securty. No PetA
Graturates Prelered Cal 42027755
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
TOAD HALL \\
\(1 / 2\) block from campus. \\
Modern 2 bedroom apartments. \\
Wall to wall carpet. \\
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. \\
Laundry, Low utilities. \\
Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven). Universiny Area Apls www.undiverstiy area.com 479-5005
\end{tabular} \\
\hline One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, quiat building. close to campus. utilities included.
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline 1,2,3,4 85 Edrm Apartments, Houses+ Studtios. Crean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some recently renovated. Waking oistance, laundry parking 474-6791 \\
\hline 1 Bedicom Fumished Unfurnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundy available. O# Street Pauking. Call 422-7305 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Your off-campus home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments. \\
double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer carpeted off street parking owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER 427-0052
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS close to campus 2000-20001 RENTALS \\
1, 2, 3, 4 Eedroom Aparments Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellent Condition, Fumished. Some lnclude Usilites. Call 422-0138.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Ackerman Ave. nice abedroom lial, furnished. stove, relfig, laundry, fireplace, garage Avail June 1st 445-4229

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. 1011 E.Adams

Carpeted, Alr Conditioned Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking

\section*{University Area Apts.} www.unlversityarea.com
Fumished 2.5 eedroom Houses/ Apanments Lvingsion, Sumner, Ackemran, Euclit 469-6565 2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euctid lenace Large Rooms Hartwood Floors Avail June or Aug 446 . 5186
Summer Special. Newty remodeled 4 bedroon that: One brock from campus. All urities incuded \($ 225.00\) per person. 2 full balhroons, washer. dryer, parking, porch
Available 5/21-8/17 472-8619
1.2.3.4+5 bedroom aparments. Fumished, all btilities included, taundry, parking. One block from campus near law sched +ESF. May +Augus vailablity. 425-1883.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR
WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\
Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Two Bedroom Apartments With uttitites included, Freplace, Fumished, Hartwood Foors and FYumished, Hartwod, Hoors and carpein, Pantry, Porch, Hưndry Parking close to Camus. Lall Gordon 476-2982

Becroom apt with 2 car garate 1 Bertom apl with 2 car garage 125 kensingion Ro. comer at tancaster \($ 550\) 472-2667.

Great University Area Beautiful Modern 182 Bdrm Apts.for \(2000-2001\)
Come now & get your choice All Come now & get your choie. All Now Appl.
(AC. Oishwashar) Heathot Water Inc. Secure Buildings whiterecms, Door Releases. Custom Blinds, Porch or Patio.
OH-Str. Prkng. Lidiry, Storage, Centro OH-Str. Pfkng, Lndry, Storage, Centro Bus
Hine. \(244 r\) Maintenance. Starting at 5550 . Call 477 -9643 ar Stop by Otice at 116 Newbury Hollow (oty E. Brighten)

Large 2 bedroom. 2 lu!l bath. Walking distance
S.U. Oll streel parking: Laundry. Cail 422 - 7305 .
Large one bedroom studio aparment avalable. verf nuce, spacious, turnisned, one boock trom campus. 5475 mo plus utilies. Call 423 -0a3
204 Ostrom Eficiency One and 2Bedroom Secure Bidg Laundry Parking Very Cleant
Avail June \(446-5106\)
4 Becrooms fumished flat with all uthiues inctudedt One block from campus near Law School + ESF. 2 tull bathrooms, carpes, laundry, parking. Avalable Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. \(477-1574\)
Available ridd Autgust 3 bedroom that very near ESF on OaddandSt tumished tor unlunished ESF on OakdandSi. turnished or unlumished xitchen. porch, coin -op washert diret. 425 -Bi68 are 3 tetrom 2 tul bath L.U. off street parking Laundry Cal 4 ? 7305 \(\longrightarrow\),
Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS

\section*{329 Comstock Ave.}

2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms
Lowest rents for modern new consiruction
University Area Apts
www.universityarea.com
One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, parkes inclubed. very clean, laundry Can Gordon \(476-2982\).
University 283 Bedroom TownHouses \(&\) Flats. Fireplace, linished basement, Call 449-0109. \\ \title{ fla \\ \title{ fla \\ Bubble could burst as tournament approaches
}
eoruary slip away, its impossiMarch Madness.

Ryan Stalzer battle for the bottles

\section*{In the} weeks, some teams will jockey for better tournawhile others will try to play their way into a post-season invite. Let's examine the NCAA Tournament outlook for the major conferences. ACC - In: Duke, North Carolina and Maryland. Almost In: Virginia, Bubble: North Carolina State.

Atlantic 10 - In: Temple.
Almost In: None. Bubble: Dayton
Big East - In: Syracuse, St John's, Connecticut and Seton Hall. Almost In: None. Bubble: Miami and Notre Dame.

Eig Ten - In: Michigan State, Ohio State, Purdue and Indiana. Almost In: Illinois. Bubble: Wisconsin, Iowa and Penn State.

Big 12 - In: Oklahoma State, Iowa State and Texas. Almost In: Missouri, Kansas and Conference USA.
Conference USA - In: Cincinnati. Almo

Mid-American - In: Kent. Almost In: None. Bubble: Bowling en, Ball State and Akron. Pac-10 Almost An Ona and Stanford. Almost In: Oregon.

SEC - In: Eloride,

Bubble: Arkansas.

St. Fohn's (+14.5) at Duke Sat., Feb. 26 at 4 p.m. (CBS) Devils played one of the most entertaining games of the 1998 1999 season, a \(92-88\) Duke over time win at Madison Square Garden. Although Duke stars Elton Brand and Corey Magret and SJU's Ron Artest graduated to the NBA, both teams have enough talent to also make this year's contest memorable.

Erick Barkley is the Red Storm's leading scorer with 16 points a game. But Bootsy Thornton, with his deadly shoot ing stroke, might be St. John's most valuable weapon. Thornton averages 14 points a game while hitting 48 percent from the field The Duke party remembers "Marvis" well - he scored a career-high 40 points against the Blue Devils last year.

Despite having four players selected in the first round of last year's NBA Draft, the No. 2 Blue Devils barely skipped a beat. Freshman Jason Williams averages 14.5 points a game and might already be the ACC's best point guard. Meanwhile, fellow frosh Carlos Boozer is chipping i 13.1 points and 5.9 rebounds a game from his frontcourt positio Pick: Duke

Notre Dame \((+4.5)\)
at Miami
Sat. Feb. 26 at 7 nm

Both teams need a win to help their chances of making the Big Dance. It will be hard for the loser of this one to get in withou E stellar performar

Nothing this year is certain with Notre Dame except uncertainty. The Fighting Irish have and Connecticut twion They have also lost to Miami of Ohio, Rutgers, Pittsburgh, Providence and Villanova.

Notre Dame will probably go as far as Troy Murphy can carry 23.4 points and 10.6 rebounds pe contest and should be a candidate for national player of the year.

Miami has a better overall and conference record than Notre Dame, and the Hurricanes won the first meeting between the teams this year. The Irish, how ever, hold the edge right now when it comes a NCAA Tournament bid. Notre Dame has the win against OSU to complement its tough stretch of early non-conference games. Miami hurt its NCAA chances with a 47 45 loss to Providence on Jan. 16.

Pick Notre Dame
Georgetown \((+15.5)\) at Syracuse

Sun., Feb. 27 at 2 p.m. (CBS
R)

It's nice this game is still on national television considering the luster has worn off the rivalry. The teams don't meet twice

\section*{basket."}

Freshman Shannon Perry and sophomore guard Jaime and sophomore guard sively to take the pressure off Sively to take the pressure of Record. Perry, averaging 10.8 Record. Perry, averaging 10.8 points and 7.6 boards, comes es to Seton Hall.
opportunity to hoo John
Craig Esherick's first full eason as head coach at Georgetown has gone as expocted The Hoyas, a team with a lot of young talent, are right in the middle of the Big East pack and can hope for an NIT bid at best. Jameel Watkins and Rhese Gibson, Georgetown's two seniors, The not even major contributors. points and six reboundse fur Georgetown has the best Georgetown has the best rebounding margin in the Big lield poal percentage ( 40 percent). Shooting the basketball has not been a problem for Syracuse, though. The Orangemen's 47 percent mark is the best in the Big East.

Pick: Georgetown
Auburn ( +7.5 ) at Florida R)
, Feb. 27 at noon (CDs.
'The Gators' up-tempo style of basketball leads to 85 points an outing, the most in the SEC. Billy Donovan's team is deep, as nine players contribute better than five points a game. Keep your eye on Donnell Harvey. The freshman is one of the most exciting young players in the country. baskethall better than all of the other teams in the conference. The 'Tigers, who are in first plac in the SEC West, average only 13 urnovers a pame Auburn has a turnovers a game. Auburn has a \section*{points and 7.3 rebounds every} he takes the floor

Picke Florida
Kansas (+6.5) at Texas

\section*{Mon., Feb. 28 at 9 p.m}

PN
The Longhorns are right at the top of the Big 12 standings and well on their way to an The postseason outlook is The postseason outlook is not so

Kansas finishes the seal
Kansas finishes the season with games against Nebrask Assuming the Jayhawks get past Assuming the Comhuskers and Bears, a road victory over the Ionghorms could solidify a NCAA bid.

The Jayhawks are near the bottom of the league in 3-point shooting percentage ( 33 percent), but they are at the top of the Big 12 in several categories. Kantas leads the conference in points per game ( 80 ), rebounding margi steals per game (nine) and blocks per game (five). Statistically, Kansas looks like a NCAA Tourney team. The Jayhawks just need a couple more wins to wrap up a bid.

Texas had won four games in a row until it lost to Iowa State on Tuesday night. Marcus Fizer it up the Longhorns for 35 points in that one. Luckily for Texas, Fansas does not have a player

Pick: Kansas

Keeping Perry and the other Orangewomen oft the boards is another key for the Miami defense. shot each trip up the floor. Harmony said.

Although Syracuse doesn't boast a glowing record, Harmony remains cautious.
"They can be a tough team, Harmony said. "We need to jump on them right away and play with a lot of intensity. In the Big East yhat will hurt youn." Staff writers Greg Bishop and Kevin Leitzell contributed to this aricle.
as he scores 14.2 points per garne. "Ruben has become a very efective low-post scorer, esherick said. 'That's besides being a good hot blocker and rebounder. Were going to have to get the ball dows.

Esherick said his squad
Esherick said his squad will play man-to-man, zone and pressure derense Sunday in order to Orangemen offense.

In the meantime, the Hoya coach hopes his team can get back to the way it played in its three victories before it fell to Rut gers 88-71 on Tuesday

With his intimate knowledge of the rival it has produced Boe ing games it has produced, Boe hem said he exp from Georgetown rame out last sen queeked the game out last season, and they're said "Like always it's going to be a very diffecult game." going to be the defensive end.
Kevin Braswell leads the Georgetown ournwive charge. The sophomore guard - who Esher-ick calls the Hoyas' best player this season - ranks first on the squad with 14.6 points and 5.1 as sists per contest. Braswell also 4.6 rebounds per game.
The leader on the gla

The leader on the glass for Georgetown, however, is Rube Boumtje Boumtje. The 6-foot-11, with 8.4 boards a game. He also with 8.4 boards a game. He als

The long-armed Boumtj
The long-armed Boumtje challenge for Thomas down low,

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave. 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
 tiocos. Wall to wall cerpet \(t\) Hats Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers Porthes. baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry.
www.universityarea.com University Area Apts 479-5005

\section*{Houses}

University incely humished 5 bedroom study house
3 car parago extra parking included close walk to 3 car garago extra parking
SU hospitais law \(478-2642\)

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OA MVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO AREPLACES, FIRNIIHED 476-9933

Large Single Family tumished house. Panding. Lireplace.
\(882-3304\)
houme For Phent 2nirantes from Main Cantiou even Bds of streel parking Phone \(458-0+83\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITEFOR THE LARGEST SELECTONENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 APARTMENTS, AND 4,5, BEDROOM HOUSES.
wWw.universityhill.com
GREAT HOUSES,

Charming Engish Tudor House on Comslock 6
Bedrooms, Fiteplace. across Irom Wornens Eldg.
Aval \(5720475-1012 .(843) 514-3891\)

Spring Break 20000

Bartados, Bahamas
Book a group now tor 2 tree Trips!
s00-426-770 Sping Break Specials! Bahamas Party Crise! 5
Nights \($ 2791\) Includes Meals! Awesome Beaches Nights $2791 Includes Mealsl Awesome Beaches $149f South Beach (Bars Oper Until Cocoa Seach (Near Disney) \($ 1791\)

\title{
 \\ Dave Curtis, editor
February 25,2000 \\ \\ Syracuse \\ \\ Syracuse welcomes old rival to Dome \\ BY CONNOR ENNIS Asst. Sports Editor \\ The names involved became legend.
}

The games played became part of campus lore.
The games played became part of campus lorethan a grizzly bear defending its young.

The teams are the Syracuse and Georgetown men's basketball squads, and at 2 p.m. on Sunday at the Carrier Dome, another chapter will be added to the storied history between them.

The Big East matchup was moved to 2 p.m. from noon because CBS Sports will televise it.
"It's helped to define the league," Georgeiown head coach Craig Esherick said. "There's a reason CBS wants to televise it. It's a game that's attractive for fans - and not just Syracuse and Georgetown fans."

The game's appeal stems from the many great moments - including former Orangeman griciron fictory over the Hoyas in 1997 - and the terrific players that have participated, such as Patrick Ewing, Derrick Coleman, Alonzo Mourning and Billy Owens.

For some, however, the rivalry doesn't seem the same now for several reasons.

Beginning in the 1996-97 season, an expanded Big East conference dictated the two teams meet just once a year. Then, 13 games into last season, legendary Hoya head coach John Thompson - the winningest coach in Georgetown history and the one of the all-time favorite focuses of Dome fans' heckling - retired.

Thompson leaving made SU head man Jim Boeheim the lone Big East bench general left from the conference's start back in 1979

The fact that the Hoyas haven't been a national power since the departure of Allen Iverson in 1996 also dimmed the rivalry in the eyes of some.

This season, the Orangemen (22-3, 11-2 Big East) come into the game looking to solidify an argument for a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament. On the other hand, Georgetown ( \(15-11,5-8\) ) hopes to make itself more attractive to the committees that hand out the post-season invites.
"Obviously, we would need some more wins and to do well in the Big East Tournament," Esherick said. But beating a team like Syracuse on its home coust While the good for our team's post-season chances, makeup changes, it doesn't seem to be affecting the mindset of the current crop of SU players.
"It's the same for us" Syracuse sen rerward Ryan Blackwell aaid. We go out and look at it as one of \section*{Orangewomen head to Miami, hope to break skid}

\section*{BY ALISON MISCHAK}

Staff Writer
Nothing seems to change for the Syracuse Orangewomen haskethall team. Holding steady at the 10 -win mark, the Orangewomen prepare for their final two regular season matchups, hoping to find No. 11. The team sat at the same point last year and failed to pull an 11th win out of its last ive contests.

The way Syracuse has played lately. the squad might not find another victory his season either

Whether the team struggled due to poor shooting or costly turnovers, the retive losses. The latest debacle featured 22

SU turnovers and a blown 13-point halftime lead as Seton Hall stole a \(55-49\) victory Wednesday afternoon at Manley Field House.

Syracuse forward Beth Record blamed part of the loss on the team's mentality. We sometimes try too hard to grab on to anything," Record said. "We just need a kick of energy to grab on to the next gear." Fast) will ty to gnap out of their funk Sat urday when they travel to Miami for a \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). tilt.
tilt. "We need just a win," Record said. "We need just a little feeling of success. We can't throw in the towel. We have to play like we did in the beginning of the year.

SU showed potential early in the season during its non-conference schedule. It won its first four games, downing opponents such as Northeastern, Brown and Akron.

The Orangewormen found the right mix again two weeks ago, when they posted back-to-back wins against St. John's and Georgetown. Now they look to rediscover their touch at Miami (11-14, 5-9).

The Hurricanes return home after a road trip that featured a 66-61 loss to and an \(83-68\) blowout by Notre Dame.

A couple of youngrters sit Dat the.
A couple of youngsters sit at the top of the Hurricane scoring list Sheila James, a form after a wrist injury and is averad to 15.2 points per contest. Freshman forward

Alicia Hartlaub chips in with 10.3 points and 7.3 rebounds a night.

Senior Gina Gragiani, the lone returning starter from a year ago, brings six assists per game to the table. She is Miami's alltime assist leader with 714 and ranks secand in the Big East for her career.

Graziani's counterpart, senior Jakia Ervin, just notched her 300 th career assist for SU. Miami associate head coach Robin Harmony compared the two players.
"Gina has been trying to break the Big East all-time assists record, so she may be a mony said "We might ating the ball," Harmony said. We might not match them up guarding each other, but Ervin is very quick.

See CANES page 15

\section*{SUNY board nears decision \\ BY KATE STEVENSON}

Asst. News Editor

A Syracuse engincering executive is one vote away from becoming versity of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

SUNY Chancellor Robert King announced Wednesday his recommendation of Cornelius Murphy to replace current ESF President Ross Whaley.

Murphy is the president and director of O'Brien and Gere, a Syra-cuse-based design, engineering and consuliting firin that specializes in The SUNY Board of T will make a final vote Tuesday to approve Murphy, said Curtis Bauer hairman of ESF's board of trustees, The presidential search begar more than one year ago, when Whahis position of 15 years, Bauer said. is position of 15 years, Bauer said.
Whaley resigned to pursue the stablishment of Syracuse's first harter school. He received permis sion in January from the SUNY Board of Trustees to open the school, serving 542 students from kindergarten through sixth grade. The school, set to open this fall, will focus on math and science.

He said he plans to remain in the Su ESF byear as a prifessor. licited candidates for Whaley's re

See ESF page 6

\section*{- Police Reports:}

\section*{Student shatters window at Faegan's \\ Staff Reports \\ When police arrived, Warzynski}

Police arrested Syracuse University senior David Warzynski on Friday night after he broke a window outside Facgan's Café and Pub, according to a police report

A bouncer escorted Warzynski from the pub, at 734 S. Crouse Ave., because he was intoxicated and the bar refused to further serve him. Warzynski then shattered the window with his fist, causing damages totaling $150, the report said.
"I was upset because I was cut off and 1 acted irrationally," Warzynski said. "And I regret it."
refused to be handcuffed. Officers wrestled Warzynski to the ground and forced the handcuffs on him, the report said.
"I didn't want to go to jail," Warzynski said. "I made a foolish de cision. I realize that because of be ing intoxicated I behaved in a way that was not in accordance with who I am.
- All I can do now is make up for Faegan's Manager Brian Peters said he will not press charges against Warzynski, according to the report.

See COPS page 4

\section*{Greek Affairs}

SAM returns to campus

\section*{Greek Affairs \\ Sororities discuss dry policies}

\section*{by kate stevenson}

St. News Editor
Several national sororities are banning alcohol-related events with fraternities in order to cooperate with a recent National Panhellort nitiative to support dry hous-

> 造

\section*{Students protest SU 'sweatshop' affiliations}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
Carrier Dome security officers cut short a protest Sunday by the Student Coalition on Organized Labor.

The group displayed a banoer saying, "Sweatshop University," for about a minute during

But because not all sororities are participating in this ban, Syracuse University greeks do not have a common policy regarding alcohol at cosponsored events. The SUPanhellenic Council is calling for an agreement.
live like we do, it to help men that are homes instead of other things," said Sarah Korf, SU Panhellenic Council president. In response to the national council's suggestion, about eight of the 26 national and international sororities passed resolutions outlawing co-sponsorship of alcohol-related the Syracuse University men's basketball game before being escorted out of the stadium by Public Safety and Dome personnel, said Brian McNamara, a member or the coalition. We just tried to get it out nior in The College of Arts and Sciences.

See PANHEL page 7

The coalition is alleging the university of using sweatshops to produce their athletic apparel.
The display aimed to encourage participation with the Workers' Rights Consortium, said Andy Prediletto, a senior international relations and See PROTEST page 7

\section*{AY NICOLE ELLIOTT}

As campus fraternities began initiating new members last week, Sigma Alpha Mu brothers met Saturday afterinto Syracuse University's greek system.
\({ }^{-T h i s}\) is something we really want to be successful," said Zach Lowe, SAM vice president. "We hope to become one of the most active fraternities on campus. We want to change the current frat image, and be looked to as the model for other fraternities.

Adam Haenel, recently elected SAM president, remonths ago asking him to help months ago asking him to help Lowe said.

Haenel got in touch with several friends from Brewster Hall and together they decided to pursue the offer, Lowe said. "We didn't know if we could do it. Secretary Adam freshmen to was a big task for were excited about restarting frateraity that had been so raterait in the past"

The close friendships among the Brewster Hall resi dents on floors five and nine made the process much easier Abdi said.

There is definitely a lot of energy among the new SAM members, he added.
"I'm excited to be meeting so many new people," said Ryan Naumann, a member of working to establish relations

See SAM page 3

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}
L.A. debate will go on without McCain Sen. John McCain has pulled out of a Los Angeles Times/CNN debate planned later this week in California, With his aides saying Sunday he could no alter his schedule.

McCain agreed to the debate several months ago, but his campaign staffers Changed plans after Gov. George W. Bush aides said earish wis month that Bush was not reac

By the time Bush agreed last week to the Thursday debate at the Los Angeles Times, McCain staffers said they had already made plans to go to New rotk.

McCain's no-show means that Bush and before March 7, when 12 states will hold Republican contests.

Study says thinness can be harmful

Despite the adage too thin or too rich results of a study io be released Monday show that people age 60 and older who have a certain type of high blood pressure and who are particularly thin face higher risks of stroke and death than their moderately overweight counterparts.

This twist on the notion that thinness is invariably linked with invariably linked with better health suggests that a few more pounds may in some cases provide greater hardiness. The Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York caution that their study is not an invitation to pack on pounds. Rather, they say, it is a prescription for controlling blood pressure and following a sound, nutritious diet

\section*{Arntrak adds long} distance services
Antrak this week will announce a surprise 10 percent increase in longdistance passenger ser vice, including new routes that will give the Washington area its firs Washington area its first direct train senvice to Sallas and will restore service to resorts the East Coast of the East Coast of Ftorida that was halted Fiorida that was halted during a violent 1963 during a violent long-dis strike. The new long-dis strike. The new long-distance moutes and trains tance routes and t include New York-Washington-Dallas se vice via Atlanta, two vice via Attanta, two
New York-to-Chicago trains, Chicago-to-Des Moines service, and return of rail service to Las Vegas from Los Angeles.

\title{
U.S. expels Cuban official \\ WASHINTON, D.C.-
}

Cuban diplomat Jose Imperatori was forcibly expelled last night from the United States after he refused to comply with a 1:30 p.m. deadline to leave, saying he wanted to stay to clear his name of espionage charges.

FBI agents arrived at Imperatori's Bethesda apartment building at 8:40 p.m. Two agents pent five minutes inside his apartment before returning to the basement garage with the diplomat, who wore a blue trench not handcuffed. Accompanied by his attorney, former Baltimore mayor Kurt Schmoke (D), he was driven to Reagan National Airport, where a bureau plane was waiting to fly him to Montreal. He was booked on a Cubana Airlines flight tonight from Montreal to Havana.

State Department spokesman James P. Rubin released a statement saying Imperatori was being expelled from the ly departing by the appointed

\section*{time.}

The State Department issued the expulsion order on Feb. 19 after accusing Imperatori of being the Cuban government contact of a U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service official in Miami charged with spying for Havana. In an unprecedented act of diplomatic defiance, Cuba replied that Imperatori would not leave and that he was prepared to tes tify that both he and the INS off cial, Mariano Faget, had been falsely accused.

The 48-year-ald vice counsel at the Cuban Interests Section in Washington told reporters yesterday morning that he was the "victim of a major slander."

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton requests more school aid}

WASHINTON D.C Offering a lesson plan for failing schools, President Bill Clinton urged Congress yesterday to approve \($ 250\) million to help states prove \($ 250\) million to help states radically improve troubled public schools or close them and start over.

Clinton also offered the option, already on the books, of permitting a student at a "chronically failing" public school to transfer to a public school with a better record of achievement. But he emphasized ing a poor job.

Republicans pushed their plan for education savings accounts to pay the costs of transferring to private, parochial or public schools, an idea Clinton has twice vetoed, in part as a threat to the nation's tem of public school education.

The Senate is scheduled to rote next week on a bill that would allow parents to place as much as allow parents to place as much as \($ 2,000\) per year, per child, in educational savings accounts. The taxfree money could be used for expenses, including transportation and tutors, associated with any school - public, private or parochial from kindergarten through 12th grade:

\section*{Bush apologizes for college visit \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. -} Allegations of religious bigotry dominated the Republican presidential race Sunday, as George W. Bush declared his "profound respect for the Catholic Church" and spect for the Catholic Church" and apologized for his appearance at Bob Jones University in South Carolina.
"On reflection, I should have been more clear in disassociating myself from anti-Catholic statements and racial prejudice," Bush wrote about his visit in a letter to Cardi

Rival John McCain struggled in a television interview to explain conflicting statements about mass telephone calls his campaign ovade in Michis an criticiziog Bush over his appearance at Bob Jones.

Bob Jones, in Greenville, S.C., is a powerful force among South Carolima religious conservatives - but it prohibits interracial dating and has leaders who have made anti-Catholic statements. In a speech there the morning after his loss in the New Hampshire primary, Bush said nothing about those issues, although he did criticize them later when asked by reporters.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Pope visits Mount Sinai}

ST. CATHERINE, Egypt Realizing a personal dream of John Paul II prayed Saturday for religious tolerance in a simple tree-shaded garden under the peak revered as the place where Moses received the Ten Commandments.

The visit to Mount Sinai was the highlight of his trip to Egypt and the first major stop of his planned millennium travels to biblical sites. Doing as millions of pilgrims before him, the pope entered St. Catherine and prayed for 10 minutes before the thorny evergreen that the monks revere as the remmants of the burning bush that the Bible says was used by God to summon Moses and ask him to lead the laraelites to the Promised Land. The pontifi also performed mains of \(S\). Catherine of Alexanmria, who converted to Christianity in the 4th century and was be headed for directly accusing the Roman emperor of idolatry.

Next month, the pontiff is scheduled to visit Jerusalem,
Bethlehem and other places in Is. rael and the Palestinian territo-

\section*{ries. \\ German party}

\section*{loses vote}

BERLIN - Germany's troubled Christian Democratic

\section*{Diallo case} debates continue
NEW YORK CITY Recriminations continued to fly Sunday in the wake of Friday's acquittals of four white police officers tried for the murder of an unarmed black man.

Mayor Rudolph W. Giuliani criticized Hillary Rodham Clinton for speaking without knowing enough about city police policies, while black leaders criticized Giu liani for fostering a gung-ho men tality among police such as that exhibited by those who were tried for killing Amadou Diallo in a hail of 1 bullets last year.
One of the 12

One of the 12 jurors said the verdicts in the case were inevitable considering what the panel had to work with. Like other jurors who have spoken to the media, Helen Harder said that the jury of eight whites and four blacks never touched on issues of race during "It was completely un-racist," Harder said in a telephone interview. "Un-racist. I don't think it's a view. Un-racist. I don't thank it's Harder said the jury's notguilty verdicts were the only possible outcome "because the prosecution didn't prove its case. That's the big thing."

Union suffered a crushing de feat in elections Sunday in the northern state of Schleswig Holstein, as voters revealed the depth of their dismay with the country's mainstream conservative party in the wake of masIn the first elect.
Ince the scandal brokal test since the scandal broke three months ago, early returns showed the Christian Democrate finishing a distant second mocrats, who looked set Sud mocrats, who looked set Sunday night to continue their day night to continue their govislature with the environmen talist Greens.

The Social Democrats won about 43 percent of the vote, while the Greens won 6 per.

\title{
campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}

ERepublican presidential candidate Alan Keyes speaks at 8 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium. Tickets are free at the Schine
- Alpha Phi Omega sorority accepts \($ 2\) donations for Sadie Howers can be purchased in nowers can be purchased in Schine from 10 a.m. to \(4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and will be delivered on Feb. 29.
© Chuck Reutlinger, associate director of the Center for Career Services, presents "Negotiating the Salary You're Worth" Schine, Room 304B and \(\mathbf{C}\).
- Al-Anon meets at noon in Schine, Room 233.
- Bennett Schuberg, manager of college relations at Bloomingdale's, speaks from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Schine, Room 403B 5:30 p.m. in Schine, Room 403 B and C.

\section*{TUESDAY}
- ESF's Women's Caucus and the Faculty of Paper Science Engineering hosts Jeannine Siembida, superintendent of Technical Services for International paper, from 4 to 5 p.m. She will speak on "From Bark to Boxes A A career in the Paper Industry" in Moon Conference noom on the ESF campus.

ETodd Bradon, United Parcel Service district human resources representative, presents "Employer/Employee Responsibilities: Understanding Job Expectations" from 11 a.m. to \(12: 30\) p.m. in Schine, Room 304 B and p.m. in Schine, Room 304B and
- David DiMaggio, General Electric manager of education and development, speaks from 4 to 5:30 p.m.
304 B and C .
- Alibrandi Catholic Center meets from 7 to 9 p.m. in the center for a bible study.
- Dr. Carol Blackshire-Belay speaks at 6 p.m. in Bird Li"Acknowledging Their Presence Acknowledging Their Presence in the Pan African Struggle: Afro-Germans Speak Out." She partment of African-American Studies chairperson.
© New York City Artist Alan

SAM
continued from page 1
with other fraternities and sororities."

More than 20 alumni brothers from Rochester and Cornell universities came to President's Initiotion of Sam and its threc returning SAM bers and 37 new members, Evan Salama public relation chair for SAM.

The Natio
The National Supreme President's Initiation is a ceremony in which an individual chational fraternity Salam said.

About two years ago, SAM lost membership and did not return to campus, Salama said The brothers sold the house on

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
CICERO 13 \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{Aucevis} \\
\hline \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{SNOWOAY(PG112:10.2:5S.9:40,} \\
\hline \\
\hline  \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

GREAT NORTHERN 10 4a1 is 11 RIGHT REAR OF MALL GS2-213C

CAMLIESS 10 RY. 5 CAMLLUS MALL A0A.112

SHOPPINGTOWN 10
gria aivo E 4ss-22to

Ostrom Avenue that had been owned by the fraternity for more than 30 years, he added. -It's a very prestigrious fraernity and we want everyone o know it's back," Salama said. SU alumni, including sports-caster Marv Albert and Heisman trophy winner Eraie Davis, Salama said.

Bernie Fine, SU assistant men's basketball coach, helped the fraternity return to campus and is now working as SAM's advisor, Treasurer Allen Yesilevech said.

Currently, the brothers are considering a philanthropic event with Kappa Kappa Gam. ma sorority to host a meal for the homeless, Abdi said. They are planning activities throughout the semester, he added.
We're all very excited about Samy's return*" Salama said. We plan on making a big impression on Syracuse University. We are a very diverse Eroup of people.

\section*{Get on 'trak!}

\section*{Visit your local travel agent or call 1-800-USA-RAIL} to make your reservation.

- Student Advantage Mermbers* get an additional \(10 \%\) OFF the already discounted fare of \(15 \%\) when you present this coupon and your Student Advantage Card.
- Non-Student Advantage Members receive \(10 \%\) OFF your fare when you present this coupon and your student ID.

To join Student Advantage call 1.8oo.96.AMTRAK.
 arex Not valic on Acela'- Metrotinero or cerizin Thruway seevicet. Otter ind detimation 34, xooo Original coupinn must be turrendered at time of tikket purchase No photocory of oupon accepted Not redertrabic for cash. orhet remmet TRAVELACENTS: access your CDS for completw detailsi CIPROMEN/P-Ps; Sabre:

 ARC # 855427000000212 Mention Code: Ho21
- Regular Student Advantage discount is is 5 .

ASTA
ATtisem
Amtrak \({ }^{\text {® }}\)

\section*{WRITE}

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\footnotetext{
\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com
}

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1
The case was closed with his arrest, the report said.
- Jason Turner, a Hotel Syracuse employee, assaulted a fellow employee and SU graduaccording to a police report. according to a police report.
ith Turner when Turner punched the student in the face, the report said.

When police arrived at the hotel, 500 S . Warren St., and attempted to arrest Turner, he walked away and attempted to attack the student a second time. He appeared intoxicated, the report said.
Police eventually managed to handcuff Turner and arrest him on charges of disorderly conduct, the report said.

The case was closed with Turner's arrest, the report said
- An SU sophomore reported Tuesday that he found his apartment's second floor bath apartments second floor bath ing to a police report.

Nothing appeared to be missing from his apartment, the report said.

The sophomore lefthis apartment on the 200 block of Kensington Road at about 9:30 p.m.and returned about 40 minutes later to find the screen of the window torn, the report said. The student found the window unlocked, the report added.

Police observed a single set of footprints in the snow outside of the window on the roof of the house, the report

The footprints indicated that someone walked from the bathroom window to the edge of the roof and jumped off. The roof is 8 feet high, the report said.

Several days after filing the report, the sophomore informed police that his roommate was the person who damaged the window. He offered no further information on the incident.
The case is closed, the re. port said.
m An unidentified person broke the windows of a car be longing to an SU employce ear ly Friday morning and stole a compact disc player worth \($ 300\), according to a police report.

The housing department employee parked his 1983 Pon tiac Grand Prix on the 800 block of Park Street when he went to visit a friend, the em ployee said. He returned to the car and found the windshield, passenger side wind and stereo missing, he added.

\section*{CAREERS IN HEALTH CARE}

\section*{Wednesday, March 1, 2000 Time: 6-8:00 p.m. Schine Student Center Underground}

Explore job and internship opportunities in the emerging fields of nursing, treatment/extended care facilities, research, health education, HMO /insurance, administration, public health, advocacy, and product/service fields.
- Cayuga Medical Center at Ithaca
- CBORD Group
- CNY Dietetic Association
- Crouse Memorial Hospital/Crouse Help
- James Square Rehabilitation Center
- Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center
- St. Camillus Health && Rehabilitation Center
- St. Joseph's Hospital
- SUNY Health and Science Center
- Syracuse University College of Nursing
- Syracuse University School of Social Work
- US Air Force
- US Army/ROTC
- US Army Medical Department
- Uniprise-United Health Care
- Univera
- Visiting Nurses
- AND MORE

\section*{NETWORKING RECEPTION}

For more information contact the Center for Career Services at 443-3618235 Schine Student Center. Sponsored by: Syracuse University Career Services Network
"Anything can happen," the employee said. "It's not a good side of town."
- An SU professor found both driver's side tires of his Ford Expedition slashed on the morning of Feb. 18 in what he believes was a deliberate act of violence against him, according to a police report.

The culprit slashed the tires with a knife and did not attempt to enter the vehjele, the report said.

The professor and his wife discovered the damage to the car, parked at their residence on the when they were preparing to go out of town for the day, the professor said.
"We couldn't go," he said. "It was a big hassle. Little things like this add up.

The professor said that he believes that he was the deliberate target of the act. He has recently been the target of previous incidents involving suspicious behavior.

Therewere three other cars parked on the street that were not disturbed, the report said.
"It's not the kind of place you have one car's tires slashed in a whole line," the professor out of vengeance."
- An unidentified person stole property valuing $975 from an SU student's Plymouth Acclaim that was parked in the lot at Manley Field House, according to a police report.

The thief took a compact dise player, 25 eompant discs, a radar detector and a pair of sil ver Oakley sunglasses, the report said.
- An SU employee discovered Feb. 9 that her car was scratched from the front to the back with a key according to a police report. The car was parked in the backyard of the employee's home on the 1240 block of Court Street.

The employee reported that she thought the incident was a deliberate act of vandal ism against her, the report said
"I'm having an alarm put on my car Friday," the employed said.

The damage totalled about \($ 1,500\), the report said.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{Diallo verdict leaves questions of trust}

Dollars won't bring Amadou Diallo back from the dead.

A harsh verdict in a likely civil lawsuit may be the only remaining act of punishment after four New York City police officers were acquitted Friday of murder and other charges in the Feb. 4, 1999 slaying of Diallo, an African immigrant.

Our justice system forces us to place all of our trust in the jury's judgement. The 12member Diallo jury sat in a box for one month and listened to each piece of testimony presented to them. They cloistered themselves in a room for 20 hours and emerged with a verdict: The officers did not murder Diallo

But the fact remains that Diallo died needlessly. He was unarmed, defenseless and alone. While the jury found the four officers criminally innocent, this cannot justify the fact that they killed an innocent man.

An imminent wrongful death suit by Diallo's survivors and action by the New York Police Department could - and should - cost the officers millions of dollars and their jobs.

Police departments build their strength on the community's trust in them. And when officers put 41 bullets in an unarmed man, it shatters this precious trust.

New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani stepped forward in defense of the department. He sticks by his belief that the NYPD should serve as the world's model for law enforcement. But justice cannot be served, however, by ignoring problems or glossing over them with a list of excuses.

When police officers draw their guns and open fire on a man without the certainty of a clear and present danger, something is most certainly wrong. When juries return "not guilty" verdicts like these, it removes responsibility from the force and assures the community that they are safe.

City dwellers should put their own fingers on the trigger of justice by demanding accountability from those who protect the streets.

\section*{[dö]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor

Justin Siverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyte Editor Asst. Sports Editor Holly Auer Holly Auer
Sapna Kollali Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger Bil Ehninger
Adeet Deshriukh
Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Kavin Tampona
Coroy Hann Corvy Hann
Magin McKentia Asst. Sports Editor Connor Enaita Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor Erin Boyle
Elaine Skinner Thto Bottitia Tom Masont
Rachael Golden Rachasel Golden
Lisal Caswell Annernario Bello Rau Mon Fooks the Duy Ozen Jill Mercadante

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Unique people teach best lessons in Syracuse}

The self-proclaimed "Futuristic Tanning Center" in the Marshall Square Mall has always puzzled me. I wonder if it's a secret CIA headquarpuzzled me. I wonder if its a secret Clated in tanning oil and surrounded by bronzed sorority sisters. As my friend Catfield Sinski proclaims, "What's the thrill of getting Sinski proclaims, "What's the thrill of getting middle of winter? We know they never went to the Caribbean."

Catfield saerns to be the typical American in the neighborhood Upon closer inspection, howeve he is the most unique human being I've encountered in Syracuse.

Catfield is a 35 -year-old retired hippie who fought briefly in the Gulf War. Though he is of a Russian descent, he often ciaims to be French. "My great-great-HENRY Y.

\section*{CHUNG} He immigrated to this country from St. Petersburg when he was twelve. Catfield got his first name from his alcoholic father, who rell in love with a cartoon character. My father was couldn't spell Garfield, he quips.

Catfield speaks with a Russian accent because he has "elected to do so." In America, he says, people are better off with a European accent. "But if you are Asian, you better learn to speak with no. accent, he says. "That's the main survival skill." His one-liners are priceless. When we discussed His one-liners are priceless. When we discussed President Bill Clinton's impeachment trial in No President Bill Clinton's impeachment trial in Borders, No Boundaries, on Marshall Street, Catfield whispered, "I wouldn't do Linda Tripp with Ted Kennedy's penis." I found that hysterical.

This is my favorite Catfield Sinski one-Iiner: "We are in Year 2000, when the Internet is the way of the future, but Michael Jackson's still the ugliest mutherfucka in the world." I cannot agree more.

Though Catfield is currently unemployed, he claims that he is a professional stamp collector.
While there is some truth to this, I have discovered that he actually collects cans of Spam for a living.
"I love Spam," Catfield explains. "I don't like eating it, but I enjoy collecting it. It's just so nice to look at."

\section*{letters}

\section*{Forbes supporters must now turn to Bush camp}

To the Editor:
Steve Forbes, the man I originally supported for U.S. President, is no longer in the presidential race Forbes fought hard for conservative principles, but, in the end, he was unsuccessiul. Supporters of Forbes must remember that while our candidate is ideas of tax reform, Social Security reform and the protection of the unborn live on.

It is now time for the former supporters of Steve Forbes as well as all conservatives to unite behind a conservative candidate. The candidate conservatives must unite behind is Gov. George W. Bush of Texas. Gov. Bush deserves conservative support for a number of reasons. First, he is committed to keeping the Republican Party pro-life. The Governor has been endorsed by the National Right-to-Life Cormmittee, but his chief opponent, Sen. John McCain, is an ally of pro-abortion liberals in the Second, Gov Bush Reaganesque tax cus has proposed a Reaganesque tax cut that will allow millions of families to keep more of their hard-eanned money. Senator McCain's tax cut proposal is virtually identical to the liberal proposals put Vice President Al Gore.

Thirrd, George W. Bush will oppose any campaign finance reform bill that limits the First Amendment rights of American citizens. Senator McCain, on the other hand, has made his McCain-Feingold campaign finance reform bill the centerpiece of his presidential campaign. The Me-Cain-Feingold bill is opposed by Leveryone from the American Civi Right-to-Life Committee because it Rould be an unconstitutional restricwould be an uncon tion of free speech.

I believe the choice is clear. Any American who believes in less government, lower taxes and protection George W. Bush for President.

Spring study

Kerrigan Clancy, a junior nursing major, and Samantha Egsteston, a junior anthropology major, prepare mid term work Saturday on the porch of their house, on the comer of Maryland and Euclid avenues.

\section*{ESF}
continued from page 1
placement through advertis ing, Bauer said.

We used the normal methods used for hiring." Bauer said. "There are publications for advertising read by nearly everyone in academia.

About 40 applicants responded, he added. The com sponded, he added. The comto four candidates, Bauer said.

Murphy was joined by finalists William Cale Jr., exec utive vice president for academic affairs at Lamar University; Stephen Jones, director of the Alabama Cooperative Extension System; and Larry Nielsen, director and professor in the school of forest resources at Pennsylvania State Univer sity.

The committee made their recommendation to the ESF Board of Trustees at a Feb. 11 meeting, said Matthew Re naud, the student representative to the ESF board.
The ESF board then ranked the four applicants by preterence. Their first choice usually reflects the final decision unless there is a major conflict with the preference of the SUNY board, Renaud said "Usually, from what I've gathered from hearing stories from other board members, the school's board of trustees' rec ommendation is usually what happens," he said. "Especially for ESF, which is a specialized chool, they really listen to what the board has to say because we know the school best.

The ESF board's rankings were sent Feb. 23 to King, who is a member of the SUNY board. King suggested Murphy as a first choice to the board followed by a second candidate. Bauer declined to name the second candidate.
"They seemed to have the attributes we prescribed in the beginning for the kind of person who could fill the bill for the presidency," Bauer said.

The board must now ap prove King's recommendation to formally appoint Murphy as president, he said.

When Sanjay Garla left college, he doubted whether his classroorn lessons related to the real world. But joining AmeriCorps helped him make the connection he had been lacking. By the end of the year, he had launched a public education drive to help community residents get the health care they needed. "AmeriCorps challenged me and helped me grow," Sanjay says. "After that year, I returned to school with new skills and a better sense of direction."

For best AmeriCorps"VISTA Placements beginning Summer/Fall 2000. We recommend you submit your application by March 15th. Applications available online at www.americorps.org or by calling 1-800-942-2677

> Amerioorps: Are you up to the challenge?

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
 europebyair.com
or call 1.888•387•2479

> The Daily Orange is looking for a talented, dedicated student to coordinate updates for Daily Orange Online, the Daily Orange's Web site. The position, which is paid, is temporary and will last through the end of the Spring 2000 semester. Please contact Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal at 443-9798 to apply.

\section*{PROTEST}
continued from page 1
Spanish Latin American studies major. The consortium is an organization that monitors that ping conditions in factories versities, Prediletto said.

SU, however, uses the Fair Labor Association to monitor its factory conditions. This group is operated by corporations and includes no unionized representation, Prediletto said. It also does not have a code regarding women's rights or the right to organize, he added.

Prediletto called for a switch in allegiance.

The Syracuse New York Public Interest Research Group began the campaign last fall to support it this comester

PANHEL
continued from page 1
events between sororities and fraternities at the fraternity houses, Korf said.

Three sororities, all SU chapters, even extended the resolution to outlaw alcohol-related events between all greek houses, whether in the actual house or-other venues, such as a bar, Korf said.

She declined to comment on which houses made this resolution.

The other sororities have not passed any resolution yet, she added.

She said she met with other university Panhel presidents and discussed the initiative during a National Panhel eral of the smaller schools* representatives were not aware of the issue, she added.
"This is something that has been in progress for a while on a national level, but not yet on a university level," Korf said.

The reason behind this delay was the lack of publicity the national conference gave the initiative, she said.
"They haven't done a good job getting it out to people," she said.

The national conference oversees each national sorority.
SU's Panhellenic Council has SU's Panhelienic Council has a

Prediletto said.
Members sent more than 200 postcards this semester dally to the university's Auxiliary Services. The postcards are signed by different students expressing concerns about the Fair Labor Association, Prediletto said.

He added that members foresaw the protest being more successful.
"A lot of time and money was spent for something that wasn't really seen," Prediletto said. "We hadn't planned it out very well."

The protesters were not upset about being escorted out They did not Prediletto said. ulations of the Dome before egtempting the protest and atderstood security officials' reason for scorting them out he added. added.
similar job, but instead oversees each individual chapter at the university, Korf said.

Each sorority's national headquarters drafts their own set of resolutions that are followed by the individual chapters. Every sorority's rules may be different, and this is the main reason why the effectiveness of the new anti-alcohol initiative is in question, Korf said.

Korf said she expects to receive a packet of information soon regarding the issue. She said she plans to discuss it with the sorority presidents, after which they can reach a collective decision regarding he initiative.

Panhel and as can sit down as Panhel and as presidents and reach some sort of resoluhow it's going to affect things here. There's so many details in each sorority's resolution."

SU's Panhel hopes to encourage every campus sorority to agree on an action so they will not have one sorority following one set of rules, and another sorority following a different set of rules, Korfsaid.
"My job here is to discuss it with the presidents and make a decision that is fair for want all sororities to be on the want all sororities to be on the same level."

Public Safety and Stadium Control refused to comment. Students only displayed the banner for a short period of time and as a result the message was not clearly relayed, Prediletto said.
"I didn't really see it," said Libby Ryan, a freshman retail major. "I just saw them rolling it up after security made them take it down."

But even for students that did see the sign, the message Was still not conveyed, said megan Auman, ajreshman tributing photographer for The Daily Orange.
"It looked like they were trying to get people to sign something," said Auman, who something, said Auman, who tor.

The coalition first opposed university involvement with the Fair Labor Association last year when negotiations with the organization were taking place, Prediletto said.
"Now that there's an alterative, we should support that," he said.

\section*{Have you always had that urge to iust leave everything behind, hop in a car, and see the country?}

\section*{Well how ahout hopping in a van and seeing Syracuse?}

The Center for Public and Community Service is looking for Fresmman. sophomores, and suniors to drive the community service van. There are several key requirements in order for you to apply.

You must:
- hava 9 vallid drivars lterasse (makes sense)
- tava a clasn trifin reched (after all. we are hiring drivers)
- have sambithat if a sanse of tirgetion (if any of these requirements have surprised you so lar...don't bother reading on)
-hava a good spmsa of hurbor' (1 guess you don't have to have one. but it makes it easier for everyone if you do)
- Fiks lomg romantic waiks on a moonft baath (what?)
- haye Fadaral Work Sturty (sorry, those are the rules)

That's all! If you meet these stif requirements come to room 237 Schine and fill out an application. For specific questions email Andy Hirsch at epessoideummen2.syr.edu game sumninary Syracuse 27-40 67 Georgetown 25-27 52

\section*{game} notes

\section*{BACK INTO THE TOP 10} Wint five of the toop 10 teams in the ESPN 4 SA Toay Coaches dropped trom the top 10 Soct losses.

For the second consecutive

 Shooter suffers inury striped him early in the second half Shumper lef the Eame for three minutes. receiving a tape

 ing hand.
sIMPLY the best

 nouse.
centins noticed tie 6 .foron 11 center efore eneer him when took shand sean tor tour minutes into the game. \(\underset{\text { Syracuse }}{\text { bigst standings }}\) Syracuse St. Jonn's
nem St. John's
Miani
Seton Hall
Connecticut Connecticut
Villanouz
Notr Dame
Rutgers Notre Dame
Ruturs
Reorgetown
West Virginia Georgetown
Weats
Pitstringinia Pittsuugh
Providence
Boston Coin
Provicence
Boston Colle

\section*{DDIAT 4 DATCS NTES}

\section*{SIMIDNHMP LO IGAD} SITTOIS PETOLOS MAETUT

\section*{N(1)T 2/28 =}

\section*{MEDUR 3/2}

\section*{UPPNR LOBBT OF TEIT} CDLDETM HIN
AUDHIDINUM, SCEIINT STUDINTE CHTMFi,
ITAMEBPIK, 4-7PM. CATL I-800-969-1337 FOR AN APPDINMMMONT, AND ADOID MEIJ LOMG MINOG9

\section*{TRIO}
continued from page 8
Senior Sunday.
Georgetown (15-12, 5-9) shot 31 percent from the floor for the game- including 8-for-27 (29 percent) in the second half - and clank The Hoyas \({ }^{\text {P }}\) Kevin Braswell scored 11 points in Braswell scored 11 points in the first half to send the visitors into the locker room down by just two. The sophonore in the second half how ever, and none of his Georgeever, and none of his GeorgeLee Scruggs, who finished with 22 points - picked up the slack.
ound Braswell and didn't let him get anything," Boeheim said. "Their other guys haven't been shooting it well all year."
In sharp contrast to the Hoyas, Syracuse got red hot from the floor after halftime. The Orangemen nailed 12 -of19 shots from the field (63 percent, including 3-of-5 rom 3-point land.

With game tied at 40 with 9:40 left, SU went on a 27-12 run to close out the game.

Five free throws and a layup started the run, but it kicked into high gear when the Hos stripped Scruggs as move Hoya center attempted a nove inside. Williams picked Brown ball and fed Damone Brown for a fast-break layup and nine-point lead.

Hart rattled off the next eight points for the Orangemen - including his threepoint play - and Syracuse recorded its sixth straight victory over the Hoyas.

Georgetown played zone

\section*{POINTS}

\section*{ontinued from page 9}
later when he whacked a diri ing Nat Burton. That misde heanor earned the 6-root-3 near Boeheim on the bench Hart reappeared with 14:16 to play in the first but timained pointless at the remained pointiess at the four first-halfassists and three steals, harassing Braswell and Georgetown center Ruben Boumtje Boumtje.

After halftime, however Hart separated himself from his court colleagues in his play and spirit.
Herward really stepped up, "He started getting inell said defense and playing with a lot of emotion. He got the rest of us into it.

He comes off as a hardnosed basketballer, but Hart at his best, is an entertainer as well. Most every game he darts from the locker room for pre-game warmups waving to the crowd, begging them to applaud or boo his efforts.

Throughout the second half against the Hoyas, he yapped at his bigmen, en rant hoyg passes snager thant Hoya passes and push the bail up the floor. After buckets. Hart hounced down court, again enticing the Dome crowd to grow noisier

But Hart's jump sho and fearless penetration made the loudest impact of al Sunday afternoon. With SU pulling away in the second half, Hart took charge on offense, scoring 12 of the team's 14 points in a game-breaking second-half spurt.

The Orangeraen led 4340 when Hart hit Damone Brown for a transition layup. The next time down, Hart tipped a Hoya entry pass and took a hit from Braswell in the ensuing scramble. A pair of free throws later, SU led by seven with 7:53 left.

Hart recorded five of Syracuse's 12 steals, and the added defensive pressure sparked SU's surge, several players said.
"In the second half, we turned our defense up," guard DeShaun Williams said. dhey couldn't stop us on the defensive end from getting and scoring."

The teams traded bas Kets before Hart struck again.
Off an inbounds, he curled to the right baseline and drilled a short jump shot.

After a Braswell brick, SU ran the shot clock down and Ryan Black well found himself in the left corner. The senior forward hit his classmate with a crosscourt pass, and Hart buried an 18-foot jump shot that put the Orangemen up 11 and forced Hart hit the dit Hart hit the deck after the make, skidding on his rump into the SU bench. He popped up in jubilation, delivmates and waving his arms in mates and waving his arms in "Istill tried to do the hings I always do, like get the ball to my teammates, Hart said. "I found my niche in the zone, and I stepped up and hit some shots. We needed the points."

Hart's coup de grace came a shade more than a minute later. Williams snagged a ioose baij at the top of the key and lofted a pass toward a streaking Hart. He caught the pass and laid the ball in, absorbing a slap from Nat Burton in the process

The successful free throw that followed stunted a burgeoning Georgetown rally and placed SU ahead by 10 with 4:26 left.

Hart posted two more assists on the day, one an alleyoop to Thomas that evoked a smile accompanying Hart unButamid all ading and giddy gis cheerleading and giddy gyrations, Hart posted a Senior Day one of his best ever.
II knew this was going to be my last opportunity to have a good showing in front of the Syracuse fans," Hart said, "and I just wanted to give thern a good memory of me."
for much of the game, limiting Thomas inside offensively by guarding him with big men like Ruben Bounatje Boumtje and Jameel Watkins, both 6-foot-11 and 255 pounds.

The Orangemen got most of their points out of transition baskets caused by their own defense.
"Coming into the game, we were attempting to keep hands, and think the rone hands, and I think the zone accomplished that," Georgetown head coach Craig Esh did a very good job at all in transition defense. I thought that really killed us. That's why they made such a high percentage (of shots) in the second half.

After alternating between man-to-man and zone defense in the first half, SU played primarily man in the second, forcing seven Hoya turnovers and the bad shooting percentage.
St At the game's beginning, SU was the squad not shooting well. The Orangemen shot 34 percent from the field, including just 2 -for- 11 shooting from behind the arc.

Syracuse's bench corps of Preston Shumpert and Williams kept the Orangemen ahead, however.

Shumpert led SU with 10 first-half points and five rebounds, while Williams added tive points. Each hit a trifecta men's output from behind the arc before halftime.
"In my mind they're the same as starters," Boeheim said. "They're the equivalent ability-wise to starters."

Georgetown made up for what it lacked in shooting Hoyas beat the Orangemen to loose balls in the second half and engulfed any Syracuse player who dared to pentrate their zone defense.

The spirit of the Hoyas came as no surprise to those who know the history of the rivalry between the two teams or to the Orangemen players.
going to come they weren't get this come here and let us get this game," SU guard Allen Griffin said. "We knew knew we hed to pley, with wo knew we had to play with all For the trio of
For the trio of seniors, Sunday's victory provided a feasons wearing the Syraned uniform.
the win were able to gut out played hard This is a good way to go out.

\section*{Great lunch Buffer FREE DELIVERY}

\section*{(min \($ 8.00\) order)}

\section*{Win Hope}

Chinese Restaurant

907 East Genesee Syracuse. NY 13210
(315) 478-3050

\section*{Open 7 days a week Mon-Thurs: 11 lam-11pm \\ Fri-Sat: \(11 \mathrm{am}-12 \mathrm{am}\) Sunday: 12noon-11pm}

THE SISTERS OF DELTA GAMMA WOULD LIKE TO CONGRATULATE THEIR SPRING 2000 NEW MEMBER CLASS

CATMLYN AHLQUIST
STACEY BADER
STEPHANIE BRESSLER
AMELIA BROWN
ELIZABETH CAGEN
NICKI CONGELLI
CORRINE D'ALLESANTRO
COLLEEN GRETO
ERIN GROHS
TANYA HALL
MEGAN HERON
RORY JOHNSON
CHELSEY KNAUER
MEGAN LANTIER
MARISSA LEVIN
LISA MANNINO
MEGHAN MCKEEGAN

LAUREN MCTAGGART
CELLOE MILDE
LAURA PHELPS
DIANA ROCCO
MERRILL ROTH
GINA SCHULMAN
STEPHANIE SHERSHOW
SHANA SILBERBERG
MARGOT SIVAN
JENNLFER SMITH
LAUREY SOUTHWICK
LYNNE SPONENBERG
WENDY SWERLING
BONNIE TURCOTTE
MELISSA WATTER
LUCLA WEEKS
ALLISONZWEIMAN

\section*{Jam Session provides smiles, donation}
ay kevin leitzell
Staff Writer
Smiles flled the faces of hundreds of area children and laughter filled the air at Manley Field House on Saturday afternoon.

The Syracuse football team made the local children feel right at home during the Fifth Annual Jam Session.

Jam Session is a community service event featuring a charity SU football team and the Syra. cuse media.

Former SU and current St. Louis Rams tight end Roland Williams founded the event in 1996.
"This whole event was initially started to give the kids a chance to interact with the athletes, come up on the Hill and see What a piece of college life is about, Wids laughing sand saying how of kids laughing and saying how about, letting the kids come up and have that kind of experience." While the game was for charity, the football squad had revenge on its mind, having lost the previous two games.

SU gained its vengeance, using an array of special 20 -point hoops to down the media 146-133. The Orangemen jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead. Easy jumpers and 3 -pointers by the football squad put the media down early. Bor five teams traded baskets for five minutes until the long ball proved effective for the media mer Syracuse basketball forRoosevelt Bouie each hit 20 -point Roosevelt Bouie each hit 20-point outside the 3 -point line - forcles media, pushing it to a 44-38 firsthalf lead.
The football tearn led 66-59 at halttime, as wide receiver Maurice Jackson bombed away on a 20-pointer.

The media kept the action close in the second half. SU basketball legend Dwayne "Pearl" Washington pushed the squad ahead, nailing a half-court, 50 point shot for a 111-66 advantage. The football squad came back to tie the game on 20 -pointers by Malik Campbell and Duke Pettijohn, cutting the media lead to 117-111.

ry guard-turned- an SU shoot
"We had a better chance of getting 20s," Campbell said. "We didn't need the 50 s . We had a better chance of picking up the points that way."

With the football squad building momentum, center P.J. \(133-125\) lead with five minutes remaining lead with five minutes re-

While only members of the football team participated in the game, the slam-dunk contest at halftime was open to all competitors.

In between leading the football team to victory, Campbell stuffed a 360-degree, one-handed slam to qualify for the second round of the contest.

In the first round, SU high jumper Marc Gagnon earned a standing ovation for one of his footer did not know if he could participate in the contest until two

\section*{Orange lose fifth straight game}

\section*{Staff Reperts}

Different year, same results. The Syracuse women's bas ketball team lost its fifth consecutive game Saturday, dropping Gables, Fla.

With the loss, the Orangevomen (10-16, 3-12 Big East) drew even closer to last season's disappointing 10-17 mark.

In Big East play, they sit two games ahead of woeful West Virginia, which lost 100-28 against Connecticut last Wednesday. The Lady Mountaincers' lone confer SU win came against Syracuse.

St hing the lead with \(10: 32\) canes, taking the lead with 10:32 remaining on a Shannon Perry guard finished with a team-high 15 points.

Miami (12-14, 6-9) rallied to tie the game at 62 and took the lead on an Alicia Hartlaub layup with 46 seconds left.
Off-guard Jaime James missed a 3-pointer the next time down the court, and madness then ensuea.

Syracuse forward Jazmine Wright grabbed an offensive rebound but had it stolen by UM's bound but had it stolen by UM's Dalia Clarke. Perry intercepted rookie was called for a charge on the Hurricanes' senior Gina Graziani.

She went to the free-throw line and sunk two of her 15 points, sealing the Miami triumph.

Hartlaub led Miami with 19 points, and Clarke chipped in 15 points and nine rebounds.

While Perry shot 6-for-9 from the field, the rest of the Orangewomen could not match her proficiency.

Beth Record, who dropped 35 points on UConn in Syracuse's \(100-74\) loss Feb. 18 , scored 11 points on 4 -for-14 shooting.
James fared no better, hitting 4-of-17 field-goal trom 3-point range. ed the glass, outboarding the ed the glass, ou Hurricanes \(45-34\)

But, as has been the case so many times this season, turnovers did in SU. It committed 21, including six from Perry and five by point guard Jakia Ervin.

The schedule gets no easier for the Orangewomen. Syracuse finishes the regular season against No. 17 Boston College on Tuesday before heading to Storrs, Conn., for the Big East Women's Tournament on Saturday Tournament on Saturday.

Compiled by Asst. Sports Editor Jeff Passan

\section*{The tasty Bacon Cheddar Whopper}

Think of it as a Whopper that is dressed up with someplace to go!
 Available at Kimmel Food Court, Goldstein Dining & Brockway Food Court days earlier.
With little preparation, most magnificent some of the ternoon.
"It was a lot of stuff rve done just playing around with my brother," Gagnon said. "I didn't have time to make anything new or work on any harder stuff."

Gamnon failed to make any of his second-round dunks to qualify for the title.
the 5 foot not have mattered as the 5-foot-8 Jackson took the

The Syracuse junior, who re turned to the Orangemen after a year at Monroe Community College in Rochester, excited the crowded with his off-the-backboard, single-pump, two-handed jam.

While the festivities entertained the crowd, the interaction between the fans and the athletes was the trie reason behind was the trie reason behind Jam \(\qquad\) Before and during the game, hundreds of children walked up ed pictures and autographs from their favorite players.
Known for his outgoing personality, Alexander made the children laugh by wearing sunglasses during the game and dancing to the beat of the music heard around Manley. Alexander did his best Harlem Globetrotters imitation, running into the stands, sitting down and talking to the fans. ont over to the wids the athletes went over to the kids and took the initiative to talk to them," said
Kyle Johnson, Jam Session director and SU fullback. "All the groups took the initiative, and they made something happen rather than let the kids corne up to them and be dazzled by their athlete mystique."

A plethora of activities greeted the children, from the Mascot All-Star game to the EA Sports Interactive Booth to the games set up by Syracuse fraternities and sororities.
"I think the kids had more fun than ever this year," Johnson said. "I think you can honestly say that. I've never seen them smile so much. I've never seen them interact so energetically."

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc}

Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs
PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors
Best Prices
Guarenteed Work
\[
\begin{gathered}
\text { Hours } \\
\text { Man. Thur Fri. } \\
9: 30-5: 30 \\
\text { Sat 10:30-2:30 }
\end{gathered}
\]

Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{VINCENT APTS.}

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse
DON'T BE LEFT'OUT IN THE COLD!
ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com
(5) Longky Jones
1) HEAT INCLUDEDI
2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

When in Hell...

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Classic Out of Town}

\section*{No Point}

Rasputin Presents

by J-Dog & Mariska

\section*{Mr. Skizz}

Eat the Lettuce

by Thane Benson

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
14 [classifieds] \\ The Daily Orange \\ February 28, 2000
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word 54 extra each bold word \(5 &\) extra each CAP word Charges are PEAISSUE & are Pro.paid by: Deadine: 2pm 2 business cdays prior to un ADS ARENOTTAKEN BYPHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check 10: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue; Syracuse, NY 132 10:Att Classifieds: 1 AAAAAAAAAAAAA

\section*{Notices}

Fraternities *Sororities * Nelubs *Student Groups 1995, has the soduthon with an tunara sing event.

line allundaraisinngsolutions net

\section*{Autos}
 Magazine must seil.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

19 yous live in North Jersey, lova sunshine. warm weatiter, kids: would fixe to meet new titends and have weaks and evenings oft... DO WE HAVE THE JOOFOR YOU COUNSELOAS and

 Canpus Rep. 473 -1264
Gournel Coltsea Shop licaled in SUNY Mospital control. cash handling, traiting cusiomer service skills. Heallh care benefils and salary negotiabla. Fax rosume to 757-565-6354
Camtip Counvalora Top Ovemight Camps in Pocono Mtrs. Over 40 ativities-seeking specialist counselors 1 .800-533-camp
Gourmet Colfee Shop hocalad at SUNY Hospital neets PT/FT. No late nights. Fun tor all ages Call:800-282-2233 ext. 17
NEED EXPEPIENCE (and money?) Join a fast. lun and growing company as your cannous representaive. Flexible hours, tesponsibities and competitive pay. No experience, jus! personaty needed. Visi mwo.mytrytes.com/StudeniRep fer more nformation and to fill out an online

\section*{Job Opportunities}

BONUSES plus guaranteed hourty rate to Syracuse Stage "Angel Appail Campaign": Nice working atmosphere On bus-line. Mon-Thur. 5.sPM. 1/17-3/19. Requited pleasant speaking voice, goal oriented, positive atritude. 443-1158 BONUSES plus quaranteed hourty rate for Syracuse Slage "Angel Appeal Campaign.: Nice 5 . 9 PM M atmosphare On bus-line. Mor-Thur. 5-9PM. 1/17.3.19. Required pleasant speaking voice, goal oriented, positive atuitude. \(443-1156\)

WANTED
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[b]{2}{*}{Cicero coupla soeking student to provide partime child care in ous nome for 4 year-old and 1 year-old. 699-6175}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\($ 1500\) weokly petential mailing our circulars. No Experience Re
\(202.452-7679\).} \\
\hline & Roommates \\
\hline & \\
\hline & FOR \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / \\
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University and Comstock Vary close to Campus Etrieinocs and

Ackerman Beautitel Large Furnisted Flats

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave \({ }^{604}\) Watnut Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 Uly Furninshed Laundry Maintenarce and Managament Wall to Wall Carpet andor Refinished Hard Wood Floors Retinishece Harc Wood forms
Remodeled Kithens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

3 EEDROOMS
6 BEDROOMS
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { ree laund yargianase inasement } \\
& \text { Call Donna } 449-4621
\end{aligned}
\]

Univeraity Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Wation picanmus turrished buridity panting
Comstiock nicely furnished quiet 1.2.3 bedicom panking utritities induded close walk su hospitats reasonable \(478-2642\)

Bedrooms. DaklandS.. Dilock Lawt Hospoitask furnished, patting, laundry, \(1-2 \cdot 3\) Bedroom Apartmonts, Beautitul. Spacious,

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclid Ave
917 Ackarman Ave
115 Reediele Place
1011 E Adams St
145 Avondala Place
Avaitable for 2000-2001 Fully Fumished, Laund Maintenance and Managemen
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Harctuod fico Aernodeled Kitchens and Bath

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS PACIOUS. FURNISHED, DISHWASHER, 476-9933

For Rent House & 3 bdirn flats - \(5250-5300\). Very Nice - Wak io SU. Avalable Aug
FM Fealy Groxp 637.5195
Two Bedroom Apartmentis on Euclid Fumishe Heat included, hardwood fioors. porch, recently remodeled, laundry. parking, \(476-29.92\) GREAT LOCATION 228 Euclid, across from dishwasher, laundry. mictowave, porch -jerty or tina -474 -7541, 446-6318
Stop clann 3 bedroom apartunents Fireplace, parking. 1mundry.
Ackerman Ava, 4br 2/Bath apl Furnishied, carpetod walk to campus.
\(5 / 00-501\) lease \(446-7202\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Universtiy Ave. five bedroom House one bloct Trom Marshall Street furnished laundry parking leaso \($ 1.300 .00\) plus utilities D.N.Drucker \(45-1229\)

L(.)(.) K
August Lease Furnished House
Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast.
Call 655-2175
for more info.
Unimersity Araa 2-3 Bedroon turnistod
Apartments Singlo Houses for fent Call Jim 668.7473

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. Eff/APT's Hornes & Town Houses erything you want and more for your buckl MOST INCLUDING
- Security System with 1" Deas Bolt Locks Smoke. Heat a Sprinkler Systam
- Remodeled Full Cusism Kitchen/Bath

Kitchens include: Gourmet Self-cleanint © E.ns.
- Wall to Wall Carpets \(\boldsymbol{A}\) Padding (like home)

Laundry Facilities on Premises
- Off-st:eet Parking

Snow & Lawn Maintonance
- Super Insutated (means low utitites)
- Some Apts. indude All Utilities & Fumishcd

Such as \({ }^{\mathrm{m}}\) =omintock. Ostrom. Hartison. Madison Westeott, r:arendon. Aci:orman, Livingston. Lancaster
CALL 478-6504
Lreck out your home
OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVI

Surnmer Special. Newty remodeled 4 berdroom tlat. One block from campus. All utilities included dryer, parking, porch
Availabe \(5 R 1\)-B17 472-8619

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Your off-campus
home for 2000-01
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM
apartments.
double beds
dishwashers
microwave
washer/dryer carpeted off street parking owner managed CALL TODAY PETER 427-0052

\section*{ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID} AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933

1 Bedroom Furnishod/ Unturnished. Walking distanca S.U. Laundry
4Bedrooms fumished flat with all utilifes included! One blook fom campus near Law School +ESE 2 Mayor August, seos per persor. 47/1574

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS} APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.

Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wail to wall carpet Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. low utilities.
University Area Apts 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

\section*{arge 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance}

1,2,3,4+5 bedroon aparuments. Furrizthed, all ubilitios inctuded, taundry, parking One biock from ampus neas iaw schood +ESF. May +Augusi

One Dedroom Aportmemas Clope to Canmpus, utititios inchided. Oak fioors, fire place, furnished, parkirg. very dean, taundy Cii Gordon \(476-2982\).

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry,

Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
2 Bodroom Apts 202, 204 Ositom, 105 Eucid
 or Aug 446 -5186

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher aundry. Low utilities Competitive rents. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St (across ritom
Univerity Area Apts 479-5005

2Bedroom LargeFlat available June Jety Aurus 28edroom LargoFlat available June,July,Au some-fumature on-busline SElocx-to-campus S420 Secure 445-9570
ooking for a place to Yfee moomanate subbiet listings
1,2.3.4 \(& 5\) Edrm Apartments. Housest Studios
1,2.3,4 \($ 5\) Bdrm Apartments, Houses Ceacently ranovalea. Walking distance, laundry parking \(474-8791\) parking 474-6791

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}
umished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartment Livingston. Sumner, Ackerman, Euchic 4696665 Ackerman furnished spacious two BdRm off stree parking laundry tacilities utilities inct. 446-6576 2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. 1 Bedroern apt with 2 car garage 125 Kensington Fd.
corner ol Lancasier \(5550472-2667\).

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM} Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porthes,
Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, 476-2982

Avaitable mid August. 3 bedroom that very near ESF on OadandSt fumished or unfurnished option. Livingroorn with Gireplace, diningroom, ne witchen, porth, coin-op washer+ diyer. 425-816a Large one bedroom studio apartment available Very nice, spacious, furnished, ona block fro campus. \(5475 / \mathrm{mo}\) pus utitities. Call \(423-0830\)

\section*{ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.}

Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540

\section*{15 February 28, 2000}

\section*{CD REVIEW}

\section*{Dinued trom page 16}
background guitar work.
The August Project brings to mind The Dave Matthews Band without the violin and flute. "Mighty Mighty" and many other tracks, such as "Don't You Ever" and "Beat Feet," sound like they would fit right in on Dave's first album, "Under the Table and Dreaming." Even the disc itself looks like The Dave Matthews Band debut album, with the song titles written around the edge of the CD.

If you like the Dave Matthews style, you will probably like "Looking for

\section*{The Daily Orange} sound very similar, are a lot of fun to listen to and \(I\) 'm sure even more fun to see performed. None of the party songs stand out as wonderful, but only one sticks out as subpar - the silly Friday night anthem "Fake ID."

\section*{Sweet songs}

Ironically, the best songs on the album are the ones most ill-suited for a party One wouldn't expect to find a solid, original ballad on a college band's debut album, but The August Project has "Bittersweet" and "From "Bittersweet" and "F
Here to the Moon."

In "Bittersweet," Klug laments a tumultuous relationship: "Bittersweet is one part bliss that's shadowed by three parts pain. \({ }^{-}\) The six-minute song never runs out of steam refrain, and steady drum work by Brownsville High School senior Chris Kirkegaard, and passionate ocals by the lead singer Even better is "From Here to the Moon," a wonderful single that if given radio play could become a a love that just can't be expressed in words: "Wish you could read my mind...Sometimes words will die but the sincerity never will." Even though Klug occasionally goes out of his register, his delivery is thoroughly engaging.

Any criticism I give to The August Project must be put into perspective. age is probably around 20 they display an impressive amount of talent without showboating. There are no long-winded instrumental solos to disrupt the flow of the album, an action that even Dave Matthews is guilty of. Most of the tunes on "Looking For Some Fiction," even though they too often sound alike, are impressive for such young artists.

However, the two previ ously mentioned ballads would be impressive even if The August Project was already a well-established group. Their Dave Matthews-type music may not distinguish them from hundreds of other young acts out there, but their slower songs should make people sit up and take notice

The quartet shows plenty of talent and promise in their debut album, although mixing things up a little more in future efforts would be advisable. There are plen out of other talented groups against the college band stereotype, as they do every so often on "Looking For Some Fiction," The August Project could really go places. Grade: B
Chris Piazza is a fresh man television, radio and film major. His column appears Mondays. E-mail him at kelzeek_7@yahoo.com

\section*{WINE}
continued from page 16
to the proper way to open a champagne bottle.
ng it up and you see shakfly: Amateur hour, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Barr said, noting that such a technique bruises the champagne bubbles while popping the cork violently can also be dangerous. yes half-knoople get their fying chamnocked-out by a said.

He recommends that students open champagne bottles gently while being careful not to spill the wine.

The irist 20 minutes of each class is devoted to the lecture, and the remaining hour is spent examining, smelling and tasting four or five different wines. Students line up single file to collect the samples, then return to their seats to evaluate each one in turn. They write their observations on appearance, sheet which is handed in at sheet which is handed in at the end of class.

\section*{Extreme exams}

But the class is not as easy as it seems. Students who signed up for the class thinking it would be an easy elective oftenget a shock during the mid-term.
loved the class and say they loved the class and they hated the tests," Beransaid noting that of the 65 stu dents who took the course for agrade last semester, only four received A's
"The class has a reputation for being tough," he added. "It's a two-credit elective course and most people don't think twice about it But it's a lot more rigorous than they expect." than they expect.

Wine tasting has been offered in the past, but the combined wine and beer tasting class is relatively now. Rarr was teaching the wine class When students suggested that ing beer

Barr and Beran put the course together and began offering it three years ago on a provisional basis. It proved oo be very popular, they said, have it listed as a permanent have it listed as a permanent course for next year.
"'ve heard that it sells outin ten

The only course in Human Development which seems to be more popular is CFS 388, also known as Human Sexuality, he added. in to get a waiver the come tary always asks, the secreyou here for wine or sex?' Barr said.

Some of the students in the class have spent years waiting for their 21st birthdays, when they'd finally meet the enrollment requirement.
"I've been waiting to take this class for three years," said Brian Mattiaco, a senior biology major in the College mean, who the hell doesmean, who the hell doesn't want to take where you drink?

\section*{Restaurant savvy}

Barr has owned the Glen Loch Restaurant 4626 North St. in Jamesville for 28 years. tablishment, he said, which means that if they want to, diners can order a bottle of wine

If they do decide on an expensive bottle of wine, a manager, not a waiter, will generally tell diners they are there are no refuods.

Barr said that many people will order an expensive bottle of wine just because they like the sound of the name. He said he hopes his students will come away from the course a little more hrewd than that.
"I like to see how they progress," he said. "A lot of people come in thinking Lambrusco and wine cooler is good wine."

A test of a good wine is whether it expands and changes flavors in the mouth, he said, and whether its flavor lasts on the tried tried a high-end Gossett champagne week, Barr told them: week, Barr told them. ploding in your mouth, kind of like Pop Rocks."

\section*{Beer necessities} One would think would be a bit more astute when it comes to beer, but Beran says that students come into that section of the course with a lot to learn, as well.
"Most people, you ask them what's in beer, they say Alcohol and bubbles,'" Beran said. "Most people just don't know what's in beer."

Beer is actually made of the flower of the hops plant, water, yeast and malt. The flavor comes from the balance of hops and malt, with more hoppy beers being more bitter. The type - whether lager, lambic or ale - derives from the way in which the beer is fermented.
"I like teaching people about products they use, see and know about, but don't understand," Beran said

The section on beer won't begin until after Spring Break, but students are already anxiously awaiting it. "I hope to really expand Malkoff said. I hope I don't Mast order the cheapest thing in thenter the bar.
Often it seems that students who sign up for the course because they want an easy elective ir semester with a whole new perspective on wine and beer.
"When the parents come, I'll go out to restaurants and I'll see a student of mine swirling the wine," Barr said. "And they're teaching their parents about it. And I that kid \({ }^{m}\). 1 got through to that kid."

\section*{\([\text { ClaSSifieds }]_{\text {Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793 }}\)}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hartwood floors, furrished, laundry, quiet tuildign, coose to campus, utilities incuuded, 476-2982 \\
\hline University 283 Bectroom TownHouses a Flats Inexpensive and mint condition.Washerdryer, Fireptice, inishod basemment Call 449-0109. \\
\hline APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS \(2000-20001\) RENTALS \(1,2,3,480\) droom Apartments Sumper, Eucidid, Actom, risn Excatient Huition call 62.0133 . \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. \\
1011 EAdanss \\
509 University \\
Carpeted, Air Conditioned. \\
Fumished, Secure, Latudrdy Parking. \\ Maintenance. \\
University Area Apts. \\
49-5005 \\
www.universityarea.com \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
 Wh Laurdy Parking Very Crean
Avai , Ame 448-5188
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS \\
604 Walnut Ave. \\
2,3, AND 4, \\
Bedroom Apartments. \\
Utilitios included. Fulty fumished. Rents \\ start at $275. Refinished thardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet, Flats. Townhouses. Pemodeled litichens and baths. Dishwasters. Porches. Laundry. \\ Farking. 24 hour maintenance. Www. mniversityarea.com
Univorsity Area Apts 479-5005
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Houses

\section*{}

Charming English Tudor House on Comstock \(\theta\)

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

> UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLLCOM
Large Single Farrity furnished house. Parking. \begin{tabular}{l} Tireplace, \\
\(682-3304\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

GREAT HOUSES, GREAT LOCATON
 CALL BRAD 424-C21818 423-9142

University nicaly turnished 5 bedroen study house
3 car garaga extra parking incuuded cosa walk to 3 car garaga extra parking
SU trospitals law 478-2642

\section*{RENT YOUROWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDRODM HOUSE GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933}

\section*{SERVICES}

Travel
SpRGG BaEAK- GRADWEEK 1:800-445-3618

 wwwairtutch.

\section*{Spring Break 2000 \\ Juruaics, Cancun, Florida
Barbedos, Gatianas
 \\ MISC.}

As NOTE FROM THE QAILY ORANGE: As always, please use caution when replying or being replied from any advartisament in each being repied hrom any advertisament an each issue, tor Tha Daily Orange doos not take responsibitiay for any misconduct resulting in contact belween yoursel and acvertiser.

\section*{Ehe}

Mysterious mass After more than three years of data gathering. an Italian team of scientists said it has found indirect evidence for a massive particle about 50 times heftier than the proton that could be a component of postulated clouds of invisible matter that may account for much of the mass of the universe. A physics experiment involving researchers from 10 American institutions failed to find evidence for mysterious particles that would help account for the "dark matter" astronomers believe makes up 90 percent of the universe's mass.

\section*{Cyber crackdown}

During the next few weeks, the Internet will be deluged with a different kind of attack - the hot and heawy law-making of a Congress trying to make cyberspace safer In recent Senate testimo ny, Attorney
 Janet Reno suggested changing the \($ 5,000\) damage requirement to prosecute an attack. toughening privacy laws against those who hack and steal personal information, such as credit card numbers, and allow ing traces of computer communications across several telephone sys terns with one court order.

\section*{Easy way out}

High school students nationwide are taking advantage of colleges early admissions programs to reduce their work load and settie for lower grades in their senior year, The College Board reported. As a result, educators say, the seniors are missing out on work designed to help prepare them for college level studies. This has fueled a backlash against the early admissions option, and some teachers have started telling their stur dents not to apply for early admission. The College Board and the Nationa Association of College Admission Counselors have formed a task foree to stucty complaints about the system, and some colleges have decided to set limits on the number of students they will accept early.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"In three words I can sum up everything I've leamed about life. It goes on." Robert Frost

Sapna
Sapna
Kollali
editor
\(443-2128\)
443-2128
life@daily
range.com MISSING

Out
The Carrier Dome doesn't ge big name the entertainment that it should.

\section*{Students hope} to gain an appreciation for wines and beers through a Human Development by gene maddaus
Contributing Writer
By senior year, most students have taken their last auditorium class. On Thursday nights, however, more than 100 seniors and graduSlocum Hall's Genet Auditorium for NFM 400 - one of the most popular electives at Syracuse University, and one of the most difficult to get into.

The course is called Wine and Beer Appreciation, and students spend much of each class period sampling a variety of alcoholic beverages.
"It's a surreal experience, said David Makkoff, a senior television, radio and film major in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, who is auditing the course. "Actually, I can't believe a class like this exsts.

The course is teamtaught by Tim Barr and Brad Beran, both of whom are professors of nutrition and food management in the College for Human Development. Barr teaches the first half of the course, which covers Wine, and Beran spends the wis dis. ussing beer.

Last week, Barr gave a much-anticipated lecture on everything from the types of grapes used in winemaking,

See WINE page 15

August Project reflects DMB savvy

Most college bands sound exactly alike - a couple of guys, moderately talented on drums and guitar, Chris Piazza
off the record ally coming up withes and occasionally coming up with original materi al.
At first, local Syracuse band The August Project would seem to it the bill perfectly. The cover let- ter in the press kit accompanying Some Fiction," reads: "The August

Project is a rock and roll original and cover band whose driving rhythms and powerful, catchy tunes are guaranteed to get people out of their seats and onto the dance

Indeed, The August Project does provide the obligatory party tunes that you'd expect from a college band. Many of these songs are blandly catchy and serviceable, but where this local band distinguishes itself from most others is when it slows things down.
"Looking For Some Fiction" kicks off with the bouncy "Mighty Mighty. Lead singer and Syracuse Gluersity junior voice major Jason aug sings hopefully, im just wait ing for the big times, Mighty,
 Bradford Turkey provides skilled See CD REVIEW page 15
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\begin{tabular}{l}
TUESDAY \\
February 29, 2000
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
41/24 \\
Mostly sunny \\
Wednesday:
Showers \(55 / 36\) \\
Thursday: \\
Scattere
\(43 / 23\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
classifieds.-14 \\
edititrial...... \\
sports..... \\
\hline 16
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

ForeignFLAVOR
Orangewomen tennis team jumps to 7-3 start. See Sports.

Low Frequency
The Carrier Dome misses out on bands' tour stops. See Lifestyle.

\section*{Election 2000}

Alan Koyes, Republican presidential candidate and U.S. Ambassador to the Unitod Nations Social and Economic Council, criticizes the lack of religion in politics and education Monday. Keyes said that the moral state of the United States is suffering because of the foss of religfous values in saciety.

\section*{Keyes}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Staff Writer

The United States is eroding with the fall of morality, support of abortion and the lack of God in politics and education, said Ambassador Alan Keyes Monday night.
"All of us live together in this house," said Keyes to a crowd of about 400 in Goldstein Auditorimi. house is on fire, and they are gothe to burn to death if I don't tel

Soc
Society has completely discountry the morality of the \title{ questions morality

}

Keyes, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Social and Economic Council.

President Bill Clinton made these issues of morality as im portant as they are, he said.

Keyes spent a large amount of time explaining the mora dilemma of the country in his 1996 presidential campaign.
"He has made my job in that regard so much easier," Keyes the existence of Bill Clinton and everyone understands me why on earth was Clinton ever presi

See KEYES page 6

\section*{Candidate discusses Diallo case aftermath}

 Whatheogaysaftaraury,

Student Government Board
warns
Greiner, Quinn
BY STEPHANIE SILVER Staff writer

The Judicial Review Board issued warnings Monday night to College Democrats Vice Pres dent Government Association dent Government Association Cumptroliter Chris Gienimer. ing to Quinn in response to ing to Quinn in response from Mery Vieira, complaint from Mery Vieira, a Board.

During a meeting between the SGA Finance Board and the College Democrats regard ing First Lady Hillary Rodham

Griener earlier this month, Quinn gave Vieira a note to call him, said Vieira, an un declared reshman in f Arts and of Arts

The Fi
later denied funding to the Col lege Democrats for the visit be cause their finance code states that SGA cannot fund visits from non-campus political fig ures.
said that Quinn called her the night of the meet ing and questioned the board decision and her personal polit ical affiliations
"I really shouldn't have talked to him," she said. "He should have asked his representatives that were at th meeting.

Quinn called Vieira to find out the board's motivation for the decision, she added.

See SGA page 7

\section*{A.S.I.A. president resigns, Eng assumes position}

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON}

Asst. News Editor
Asian Students in America are without a president, but members said Christine Ho's Friday resignation will not have dire effects on the organization.
"It's disappointing to have a president resign but at the same time it's going to make Paul Dien, A.S.I.A. public relations director. "We have to pull together.

Hopefully it will produce more leadership among the ex ecutive board and the mem bers," added Dien, a sophomore public relations and interna tional relations major.

Ho said sheresigned to pursue academic obligations and internship opportunities. She declined to comment fur ther.
"It's hard to hear she's resigning, but she had personal reasons, Dien said
A.S.I.A. Vice President Aaron Eng is currentiy the acting president. He could not be reached for comment.

Eng will perform presidential duties for the remain der of the semester, Dien said.

These duties are mainly organizational, said A.S.I.A. more public policy major The president is obligated to \({ }^{-k e e p}\) everyone in line and keep people on top of things," Lew said. A.S.I.A.'s event-planning of a newe delays the placement of a new president, Dien said. an official decision aneboard yet" hesision "We're really busy with our activities now."
A.S.I.A. is hosting "Enter the Dragon," Saturday night event includes fashion show dance performance and dance party, Dien said. A popula New York City DJ will run the music for the party, he added. The group is continuing to prepare for this event, their biggest of the year, despite Ho's resignation, he said.
"We're trying to pull to gether and come up with a good event," Dien said.

Lew said she doubted someone from the executive

See ASIA page 6

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Ultrasaund may \\ \section*{replace needles}}

The needle sting may become a thing of the past for diabetics who need to monitor blood glucose levels daily, scientists said Monday.

By harnessing the power of ultra-sound, and four colleagues found they can draw bodily fluids right through the skin withthrough the skin with and without pain. Their new technique has been tested successfully in humans, although further testing for safety is required.

\section*{New dorm sprinkler} bill approved
TRENTON, N.J. -
\(A\) Senate committee Monday endorsed a bill requiring every college dorm room in New Jersey to be equipped with fire suppression sprinklers.

Seton Hall University, the site of a January 19 fire that claimed three lives and left six students critically injured, had no sprinklers in its dorm ooms.
The bill passed by the Law and Public Safety Committee calls for the state to spend \($ 50\) million for the sprinklers, part of which would be a loan schools must repay, schools must repay, two years. The full Senate will vote on the proposals later

\section*{U.S. balloonist reaches Africa}

CHICAGO American engineer Kevin Uliassi was soaring high over Africa on Monday, the seventh day of his quest to become the first per son to circie the globe alone in a hot air balloon.

Uliass! reached Mauritania, on Africa's 5.900 miles from his iftoff point near Rockford, Illinois.
Uliassi was moving at 62 mon Monday afternocn at an altitude of 29,800 feet.

As Uliassi, 36 approached
Mauritania, the volunteers at his flight center in the Chicago subter in the Chicago subtrouble communicating with French-speaking air traffic controllers in Africa.

Uliassi's mother quickly catled his for within 15 minutes within 15 minutes, a French teacher was in ready to translate.

\title{
FBI Internet site attacked
}

WASHINGTON, D.C.Yet another World Wide Web site was temporarily blocked in a "denial of service" attack, the FBI said Friday

The site was the FBI's Denial of service attacks flood the target computer with requests for information. The FBI incident was apparently launched from a single computer, and so is not the kind of massive "distributed denial of service" attack that recently blocked access to sites such as But even the FBI assault, which occurred last Friday, was enough to shut down the site for several hours, agency spokeswoman Debra Weierman said. "At no time did it affect our internal computer systems," she said.

Security experts also warned that a new version of trin 00 , one of the programs used to mount the recent attacks, has been rewritten to run on computers with Windows NT, a far more common operating system than the UNIX found on many Internet computers. Security publicity in publicity in light of the new threat; David Remnitz of IFsec issued a statement that the new trin00 "might be responsible for the attack earlier this week against Microsoft," but offered no evidence.
"You could just as likely say deep-cover agents from the plan et Uranus were behind the at tack," scoffed Purdue University security expert Eugene Spaf ford. The culprits in the FBI at tack were not likely to be tracked down, Spafford said, "not be cause of any lack of ability on (the FBI's) part - the problem is just intrinsically hard."

\section*{national news}

\section*{New use found for missles}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Navy's top officer is challenging Pentagon plans to rely solely on land-based interceptors to shield the United States against missile attack, urging that ship-launched interceptors also be used to knock enemy warheads out of the sky.

In a confidential memo to Defense Secretary William S. Cohen, Adm. Jay Johnson argued that ships, which promise a mowould make the proposed an, would make the proposed a

The appeal by the four-star chief of naval operations marked the first time a Navy leader formally has pushed for a role in national missile defense, although Navy authorities have argued privately for some time that ships would provide a cost-effective substitute - or at least adtive substitute - or at least adjunct - to basing interceptors on junct.

The admiral's arguments reflect the scramble by the armed services and defense contractors to win a piece of this huge defense program, which is budgeted at \($ 12.7\) billion over the next six years and could end up costing far more in the decades ahead.

\section*{Officials debate Smart Ginin use}

SAN JOSE, Calif. - While the possibility that smart guns might someday be a reaity has heartened many safety advocates, the Violence Policy Center, are dismayed by the new technolom dismayed by the new technology.

They fear that working smart guns might prompt people The notion of
The notion of a personalized gun began to get official scientific study in 1993 when Sandia National Laboratory in Albuquerque, N.M., decided to try to find a way to prevent police officers from having their own guns turned on them.

Between 1988 and 1998, 57 police officers in the United States were slain with their service weapons. An additional 113 had their guns taken from them. the National Institute of Justice, the National Institute of Justice, Shat some sort of radio transmitthat some sort of radio transmitter worn by an officer would be the best approach with existing technology.

Since then, Smart:Links also has developed a prototype for Smith & Wesson. Now it is working with neither company.

\section*{Diallo case breeds cxiticism}

NEW YORK CITY Recriminations continued to fly here today in the wake of Fri days acquittals of four white police oficers tried for the ring.

But one of the 12 jurors at the center of the controversy said the verdicts in the case were in evitable considering what the pariel had to work with. Like oth er jurors who have spoken to re porters, Helen Harder said that the jury of eight whites and four blacks never touched on issues of race during their 21 hours of deliberations.

Seated in Albany because of a change of venue from the Bronx, the New York Supreme Court jury cleared the four officers of the six charges each faced, ranging from second-degree intentional murder to reckless endangerment.

Diallo, 22 , an immigrant from Guinea in West Africa, died of 19 gunshot wounds on Feb. 4, 1999, when police of the city's street crimes unit" confronted him in the vestibule of his Bronx apartment btrilding on the suspicion that he was a criminal suspect.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Serbian rebels cause concern}

MUCIBABA, Yugoslavia NATO officials are growing increasingly concerned that ethnic Albanians who fought to separate Kosovo from Serbia are now trying to orchestrate the political Serbian land, exacerbating tenSerbian land, exacerbating tensions along Kosovo's eastern borsions

In recent weeks, a growing number of ethnic Albanians has been fleeing the southern Serbian municipalities of Presevo, Bujanovac and Medved a and crossing into Kosovo near here as Yugoslav police and Serbian special forces launch aggressive searches for ethnic Albanian separatists.

Ethnic Albanians comprise 80 percent of the population in those areas, and Belgrade believes they want to break away and join Kosovo.

Such a move could add 480 square miles to Kosovo, an increase of roughly 10 percent.

\section*{Commissioner} urges war's end

GROZNY, Russia - Standing in the rubble of downtown Grozny, Europe's top human rights advocate called today for an end to Russia's war in Chechnya.

Alvaro Gil-Robles, the human rights commissioner of the Council of Europe, said Russian authorities had agreed to having a human rights group open a mission in the Chechen capital in the next few weeks. However, he said he did not know which organization might be represented.

Accompanied by Russian presidential aide Sergei Yasporters, Gil-Robles visited a bare-bones market and a soup kitchen providing food for thousands of civilians who had remained in Grozny throughout the war.

He appeared overwhelmed by the devastation in the city, population a top Ruseds of its mander, Lt.-Gen. Gennady Troshev, told said the military Tropaign would soon be over.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- ESF's Women's Caucus and the Faculty of Paper Science Siembida, superintendent of Technical Services for International paper, from 4 to 5 p.m. She will speak on \({ }^{\text {cham }}\) From Bark to Boxes - A career in the Paper Industry" in Moon Conference Room on the ESF campus.

ETodd Bradon, United Parcel Service district human resources representative, presents bilities: Understanding bilities: Understanding Job Exp.m. in Schine, Room 304B and

E David DiMaggio, General Electric manager of education and development, speaks from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Schine, Room \(304 B\) and C.
\(\square\) Alibrandi Catholic Center meets from 7 to 9 p.m. in the cen ter for a bible study.
- Dr. Carol Blackshire-Belay speaks at 6 p.m. in Bird Library, Room 1916, regarding "Acknowledging Their Presence in the Pan African Struggle: Afro-Germans Speak Out." She is a candidate for the SU Department of African American Studies chairperson.

New York City Artist Alan Chields speates at \(7: 30 \mathrm{pm}\) in Hall, 121 Schaffer Art Building.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- Charles Kernaghan, director of the National Labor Com mittee, spea Auditorium.
- Melanie Littlejohn, Nia gara Mohawk director of diversity management and compliance, speaks from \(10: 30\) a.m. to noo in Schine, foom 304 B and \(C\).

Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane," at 2 and 7:30 p.m. at 820 E Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15-$ 38\) discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more information.

Assistant professor Bryan

\section*{1 State Affairs}

\section*{New York officials call for oil price relief \\ \section*{BY JOHN ARWEILER} \\ quences, said Debra Martinez.}

Staff Writer

Spiraling heat oil costs are having a devastating effect on the Central New York economy said John Simmons, legislative assistant for U.S. Rep. Jim Walsh (R-Syracuse)

Crude oil prices rose to \($ 30\) per barrel in January triple the cost at this time last year, Simmons said Monday As a result of the rising cost of crude oil, the cost of heating a home d added.
"I have no money to begin with" have no money to begin with, said Matthew Steiri, a major and offecampus resident. "You've got to save money to have some fun
"Now all my money's going to driving around and heating my apartment. I don't turn the heat up, I tell my roommates to wear jackets

The current shortage is because member nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries are refining two million barrels of oil iess than are demanded each day, said Maura Dougherty, spokeswoman for U.S. Sen. Charles woman for U.S. Sen. Charles Schumer (D-N.Y.). Schumer (D-N.Y.).

The shortage is approaching levels the region has not seen since the 1977 oil crisis, according to a report from Schumer's office.

Mild winters in the Northeast over the past few years decreased demand for heating oll, Simmons said. OPEC nations agreed to limit oil production this year to drive up prices to recover to drive up prosses from the mild winters he added.

Theharsh weather this year inhibited oil shipping and the surprising streagth of Asian economies has increased drove oil prices even higher Simmons said.

Local leaders are scrambling to alleviate the price problem and are calling for President Bill Clinton's administration to release oil from the stabilize prices

The United States holds a reserve of 470 million barrels of crude in Texas and Louisiana in case of extreme emergencies, such as embargoes and shortages. Walsh, Schumer and New York state Gov. George E. Pataki are all asking for Clinton to open these oill reserves, It would send a message to will not tolerate antiocomp Will not tolerate anti-competitive practices, Simmons said. long-term solutions to these lones of problems" Simmons types of problems." Simmons w

Walsh has proposed a home heating oil reserve, so that refined oil can be immediately released in times of excessively high prices, Simmons added.

Clinton is delaying on the chairwoman of Pataki's New York State Consumer Protection Board.
"The government does not want to release the oil to influence market prices," she said. U.S. Secretary of Energy William Richardson is meeting with OPEC leaders in March to talk about the organization's production plans for next year. Local politicians have urged Richardson to threaten the release of reserves if oll output is oot increased, Martinez said.

If OPEC decides to produce more oil, lower prices will Martinez said. "Unfortunately that won't happen until next season. The Northeast is becorning more and more depencorning more and m

Schumer tried to solve the problem by introducing the Oil Price Safeguard Act with U.S. Sen. Susan Collins (R-Maine) would allow the president to re lease oil from reserves in times of economic crisis, Dougherty said.

Pataki requested aid from the federally-funded Low lncome Home Energy Assistance Program earlier this month to help reduce prices for families. Low and fixed-income households have received \($ 28.3 \mathrm{mil}\) lion in assistance thusfar. Pataki asked the federal gov ernment on Feb. 21 for an emergency amendment to the plan that would increase eligible income levels, Dougherty said.

He also encourages consumers to buy oil at a fixed price from suppliers before the inate the risk of paying hipter prices later Martinez said prices later, Martinez said.
"We're working to make sure decision between buying milk and heating their homes, Martinez said.

Visit the all new Versity.com lecture notes . tutorials . research center (we're even Giving away a mino-blowing trip to Europe) -always (1440.365) open-

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
A former Syracuse University School of Education em ployee will return to the class room this fall to give city chil dren a lesson on tolerance

Janice Grieshaber. execu ive director of the Jenna Foun dation for Non-Violence, raised bout si,00 at a fund-raising ish saturday to help estab mh a mentorship program promoting tolerance

Grieshaber and former SU football player Don McPherson plan to berin the program pring of 2000 .

Mepherson
MePherson's Mentors will partner elementary school stumentors. Baldwinswilte Ele mentary School piloted the program which aims to strengthen a child's character and social skills, rather than unst their academic needs Grieshaber said.
"It's just spit in the ocean" Grieshaber said of the fundraiser "We always need more money.

McPherson, who finished his SU football carcer in 1987 s involyed in various mentor. ing programs across New York tate. He could not be reached for comment.

Grieshaber's daughter, enna, ior whom the fowiad tion is named, was murdered Nov. 6, 1997, by a paroled felon convicted for several crimes.

In response to Jenna's George E. Pataki enacted Jen na's Law in August 1998. The law requires all violent felons in the state to sarve sixth-sevenths of their sentence before being considered for parole.
"This is the way we raised our kids." Grieshaber said. "Jenna was always out there trying to make the world a better place."

The foundation will rnce with Syracuse City Schools As sistant Superintendent Antho ny Meggesto this week to discuss implementing the program in 11 city schools by next fall.

The district currently has other mentoring programs in place, but is looking to expand, Meggesto siaid.
of "Mentoring has been one of the most riable imitiatives in rublic education," he added. hopeful that efindren in the hopeful ihat chaldren in the programi will butid tolerance othnicities different from their own that will lead to a future reduction in violence
"Ve're going in the classrooms and talking about how important words and attitudes are," Grieshaber said. "When you talk to a bunch of little boys, what's the biggest insult you can say? 'You hit like a girl.' And why should that be insult?
New York State Assemblyman Harold Brown, Jr. is working as an honorary member on the foundotion's beard of direc. tors along with Pataki.

Brown said the program is important to public schools because it may reverse the satureceive from the national me-

SU football head coact Paul Pasqualoni and an unidentified man chat at a charity ovent for a new mentoring program in Syracuse city schools. The evert raised about \($ 6,000\) for the mew progtrarn, wfich is set to bogft this spring dia.
"We're trying to eliminate violence from public schools," Brown said. We have bo mach abuse of women. The sooner you can educate young peopie, you're going to be better off."

Brown said the mentoring programs do not impart morals on students that conflict with the mission of public education.
"Now there are so many dysfunctional families these days, it's a different school systea," he said. "There are changes in what is important in educationa."

While sorting through Jenna's possessions after her death, Grieshaber and her husband found a childrens' book titled "The Old Turtle," which had been long-treasured by their daughter, Grieshaber said.

The book's theme now serves as the foundation behind

It taiks about diversity and accepting people for their beliefs," Grieshaber said. "It's what denna stood for.*

\section*{Greg Rogell from The Tonight Show}

Tix @ Schine Box Office or at door w/ SU ID

\section*{CuIUB A}

Located In the Basement of the Schine Student Center

\title{
[editorial]
}

The Daily Orange
February 29, 2000

\section*{Keyes misplaces political ideology \\ Alan Keyes has an unwelcome running} mate on the 2000 Presidential campaign trail: God.

To an enthusiastic audience in the Schine Student Center's Goldstein Auditorium on Monday night, Keyes again made the dangerous mistake of mixing polities with religion.

It's a recipe for disaster at the polls.
Keyes, an incredibly charismatic and articulate speaker, presents a sound ideology. But his message gets lost when he clutches the almighty hand of God on his way down the campaign trail.

The former ambassador's views on abortion, capital punishment, school choice and race relations would appeal to a much broader bloc of voters if they didn't come packaged as the holy Gospel.

Keyes is a man of unrelenting principle. His firm stance on issues across the board help him outflank most of his wishy-washy competitors in the race to the White House.

It is his unwillingness to compromise that makes him unelectable.

Pandering to the whims of interest groups often paves the way to Washington, and Keyes' refisal to budge from his holy pulpit alienates most of the electorate.

The U.S. Constitution did not spring from a divine mandate. It embodies the vision of the Founding Fathers - a vision intended to cut through all lines of religious worship. But Keyes pushes a conditional agenda, inclusive only to God-fearing Christians who share his religious ideals.

Keyes' platform forces Christianity down the throats of a religiously and ethnically diverse voting population. And it doesn't look appetizing on the plate.

While his campaign slate may echo genuine moral goodness, he'd have better luck peddling it as an off-shoot of the Golden Rule, not the word of God. United States' leaders don't rise to power through divine right.

Jews, Muslims, Buddhists and atheists pull the lever, too. And they won't give Keyes' name a second glance.

Edtor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor Presentation Directo Photography Edito Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyie Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Edito
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editar
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photoggraphy Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst, Copy Editor
me Deny orawso is publ

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Impending graduation causes panic for single seniors}

You eye a frisky freshman phenom at a party. You ask her to dance. She obliges, and the two of you shake your bon-bons until the wee hours. You get her digits you're in. You call her. Everything is on the up and up, that is, until you realize she lives in Florida and you live in Pennsylvania. She"ll have SUpercard money next year and your SUID will be an ancient relic reminding you of the glory days. Welcome to the early stages of Wenioritis. Senioritis.

Sosicritis .- the sbility to gn out to the bars on a weekdiay. Senioritis the goal so many strive for at school. Unfortunately, theres a downsid is anticipacive phenomenon.

1 began to realize the detractors in my Communications Law class last week. Our professor declared t course was one-third finished.
course was onethird anished,
This couldn't be true. Three pl

\section*{SELVAM}

ASHOK
This couldn't be true. Three plus years of fury, friendships and headaches were all but arrived.

Like many seniors, once I make that walk through the Carrier Dome in May, I'm tail lights. The Salt City is alright, but I wouldn't want to live here So where does this leave our love lives, where does this leave our relationships?

Unless you'te in a serious relationship presently. graduating semors have htie hope. Theres precious hitle time left to forge bonds. I'm not talking about finding some cute little cupcake to spread frosting with - flash-in-the-pants hook ups are a dime a dozen. I'm talling about finding someone that you won't mind being seen with during daylight hours without the ambience of a keg and red plastic party cups.

For seniors, the quest to find someone special, or at least competent, is difficult. One of my friends, who graduated last spring, started dating a sophomore about this ime last year. He told me: To her, Fm a guy with termi-

He wasn't talking about any physical ailment. He was talking about the fact that he was graduating, leaving his girlifriend behind. Any relationship involves the courage to say good-bye, but it was just too early for those

A popular solu
A populas solution is for semiors to date other seniors. of you is looking for a long-term remedy. But if you've cnown sorneone since freshman year, and still have ye make a move, a relationship could be a sign of desperation. But to the cynic, for single seniors, the choices are simple:
a. Pawn yourself tike the merconary that your are and take what you can get. Carpe diem and forget about the future and the long term.
b. Cling to the fairy-tale hope that you'll find someone, and have the strenght to have (drum roll, please) ... a long distance relationship
c. Find an underclassman, bite the bullet and come back for the vaunted post-gradunte year.
"Carpe diem," you, the optimist, asks, but doesn't "omnia vincit wnor?
For those of you who don't speak a dead hanguage, "carpe diem," tiken from the Latin, means "seize the day"

Ill concede that point. Though time is the ultimate riable, love, from brotherly to loving your dog, overfow ers the grains of the hourglass.

But some "love" needs to be avoided. Take last week when Syracuse was treated to unseasonably wann termperatures. As we shed winter for the fancy-free frivolity that is spring. I suddenly had the yearning to upchuck a little more than the gourmet sandwich that was lunch from Food.com.

I stumbled upon a couple eyeing each other like witd prey after class Thursday. The two assaultod each other with vigor, passion and blatant disnegard for the rest of us, as their lips met with full force.
Now, 1 don't have a thing against public displays of affection, or couples, but the display I witnessed struck a nerve.

I turned to one of my colleagues, a fellow senior, and expressed my dismay, who in turn replied: "I don't want to have to watch that sort of crap."

Unfortunately, I must report that Thursday's incident was not isolated. Throughout the pseudo-spring week the entire campus has been subjected to happy, loving couples

HSnookums, how are you? Yes, that's ripht baby co
"Snookums, how are you? Yes, that's right, baby, come over here: \({ }^{*}\)

I'd rather have a razor blade cocktail then be forced to listen to this

Maybe Senioritis has no downsides.
But then again, "omnia vincit amor."
Ashok Selvarn is a senior newspaper major and for. mer editoriul editor at The Daily Orange His columns appear in The Daily Orunge on Thesdays E+mail hitr at aselvam@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Hoops fans display old-school spirit}

Io the Editor:
Much has been said and written about the lack of fan support in recent years. Why do the fans sit on their hands? Where are the Crazes ? Where is all the noise? What happened to the intimidatDome? It was all there on Sunday Dome? tinas all there on Sunday Joha and his towel.

As quick as we may be to criticize, we should be equally responsive when our fans reenact the good old days. The Dome racked on Sunday. People had fun. It was grod entertainment. CBS had a great show. And you folks made it happen. On behall team wear's men's basketball team, we applaud YOU.

Jake Crouthamel Director of Athletics

\section*{Local waste plant poses minimal health risks}

To the Editor:
Your recent editorial on smoking bans missed the mark on representations about the waste-to-energy plant serving our community.

The Onondaga County Resource Recovery Agency's Web site wwwocrra.org, publishes a comprehensive annual emissions summary.

The health risks associated with a lifetime of maximum expo sure to the waste-to-energy plant are roughly half of the risk associ ated with one average diagnostic \(x\) ated with one average diagnostic \(x\) ray. The health risks of smoking severe. Even the second-hand smoke from Marlboros drawn fifteen paces is several orders of magnitude more dangerous than a lifetime in the shadow of this community's trash system.

\section*{KEYES}
continued from page 1 dent of the United States？＊

The morality crisis is not be－ cause of the leaders，such as Clinton，but of the American peo－ ple，Keyes said．

If there is a failure in soci－ ety，it must be traced back to its beginning and examined serious ly，he added．

The nation is living in a time where the system of checks and said，noting Clinton＇s seandalous

\section*{DIALLO}
continued from page 1 police officers to single out one group as being more likely to ommit a crime．

Four white New York City police officers shot the African immigrant Diallo 19 times as he stood，unarmed，in the cers were patrolling Diallo＇s cers were palrollias Diallo＇s Bronxtieighborfood lookiag for al brought the policy of profil al brought the policy of profil－ Protests followed the not－ruilty verdict，returned Friday．

\section*{behavior．}

It is disturbing that Ameri－ cans are living without objection in a society that exhibits charac－ teristics of tyranny，Keyes said．

The cause for this lack of morality is the idea that the Corn－ stitution and the Bill of Rights guarantee people their rights－ Gut this is not the case，he said．
＂Our rights come from God and must be respected as the au－ thority of God，＂he said．

People now look to govern－ for their moral conscience and government is failing in this mission，Keyes said，citing the gun control debate． ＂Violence does not come from the guns，it comes from the hearts of those yielding the guns，he said．

The role of the government in deciding the morality of the country is also a factor in abor tion，Keyes explained．Women now believe that they have ab solute power over their body and the government gives them the right to do with it as they please， he said．

This creates a situation where some lives are perceived not as important as others，he said．
＂We now believe that there are uctual persons and potential persons．I don＇t see how anyone can tell me the unborn arent mentioned in the Constitution， Keyes said．＂Every life is pre－ cious．＂

But Erik Levis，a senior broadcast journalism major，said although Keyes is a gifted orator， he is too conservative to win the GOP nomination． ＂t think he is never going to vin an election，he alienates so nany people，＂he said．

Nicole Kalian，a senior broadcast journalism and history major，atreed．
＂He is definitely too opinion－ ated to be president，＂she said． He is the anti－politician．＂

Keyes criticized the majority of the country for contributing to the moral decline．There is stil hope，however，he said．

I think Annerica still has a decent heart，＂Keyes said．＂We will stand for justice because God does prevail．＂
a
klled＂simply because of who they are－＂

In his response，K゙eyes blamed black criminals for making racial profiling a reces－ maky evil．They give other blacks a bad reputation，he said．He supported police use of said．He supported police ascon general physical descriptions， such as skin color，to conduct broad searches

Keyes compared racinl pro－ filing to police profling of unt－ versity students，if crime oc． versity studenks，if at a higher rate around a college． notice these things？＂he asked．

MacDonald tried tore－ spond，saying，＂It should b spono，saying， deeper than just students．＂

In a ten－minute－long an－ In a ten－minute－long an－ the sophomore and cut off her follow－up questions． ollow－up questions．
＂I stand for the victims，＂ Keyes said．
＂Do you stand for Amadou Diallo，too？＂sophomore Gideon Rafel shouted．
＂Forty－one shots，＂chimed in senior Caliph Brown，refer－ ring to the total number of bul－ lets the police officers fired at Diallo． \({ }^{4}\) Individual officers should be judged by their individual actions，Keyes said in re－ ponse．

After leaving the auditori－ um，Rafel struggled to recon－ cile what he said was an incon sistent message from Keyes．
＂In a sense，he wants to group everyone together，＂Rafel said．＂He wants to say all blacks are doing it．But when all cops are doing it，suddenly we have to look at them on an individual basis．

Brown offered a simpler esponse．
＂He just blamed every thing on blacks，＂Brown said．

Applications are available in 323 Hall of Languages．The Visitor＇s Center（Hall of Languages），and Schine．

\section*{Write for the DO！}

Stop by at 3 p．m．Sunday to meet the News editors and reporters．Free food and coffee for all．Call \(443-2127\) or e－mail news＠dailyorange．com．
We＇re in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p．m．until mid－ night．
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall， 744 Ostrom Ave．
manent president，she added． ult is of course a shock to a lot of people，＂Lew said of the resignation．＂But we so far have been doing fine．Our vice president is well off enough to be carrying the weight of a president right now．

Lew said Eng is currentiy Aving a teiter jot than He was at the time of her resignation． off at the end，＂she said．

\section*{ASIA}
continued from page 1
board would soon permanently take the president＇s position． There are many freshman， however，who are interested in becoming involved with the ar－ ganization and that riay iater phe cause，Lew added．
Femaining A．S．I．A．mem－ bers plan to conduct business as ustal，Lew said．Leadership

\footnotetext{
都

號
 ．
} －

Before Monday＇s speech to aboust 400 people，Keyes said， 1 I will not make a stafement o But in ession afterward poke at length about profiling． demograpbically ir youknow what 1 mean said Kamite MacDonald，formar columnts for The Daily Orange，in th first question of the nipht MacDonald，who is black， continued to ask why black people should be shot and

\section*{The College of Arts and Sciences}
and
The Student Peer Advising Program

\section*{invite you to join the Student Peer Advising Program and make the difference．The application deadline is Wednesday，March 8.}

\section*{YOU can make a} an

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR！}

Let off a little steam．Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave．，and make sure to mention your name，class and telephone number． Maximum 250 words per letter，please．E－mail your lettes to editorial＠dailyorange．com．

SCA
continued from page 1
"He asked what my personal take was," Vieira said. "I didn't answer him.

The Judicial Review Board found that questioning Vieira's political affiliations was intimidating, said Bryan Legaspi, JRB director and a junior international relations and eco Greiner.
warning stemmed from a confrontation with Quinn Feb. 9 in a Schine bathroom regarding the board's the downfall of the College De mocrats, Legaspi said.

During the confrontation, Quinn said he did not beliey that his call to Vieira should be representative of the College Democrats, Greiner said.

I reacted poorly to being called petty and unprofessional by someone who was acting unprofessional," Greiner said.

Greiner said that as a vice president of a prominent organization Quinn's actions always represent his group and the possible downfall of that group, he said. Quinn misinterpreted his words, said Greiner, a senior major. major.

After Quinn filed a complaint against Greiner, JRB deing. to issue Greiner a warn ing. Quinn could not be reached for comment.

Since no other person could attest to the situations, both got warnings," Legaspi said.
Hiaithe warnings suggested be more professional as public servants, but carried no penal ties, Legaspi said.
In other SGA news: Vieira's appointment to SGA comptroller next fall also sparked debateamongstudents at Monday's meeting in Maxwell Auditorium.

A group of 20 students claimed that the appointment process is "one-handed" and not representative of what the student body wants.

A debate was conducted March 21 between Vieira and David Gaulin for the vice comptroller position. The candidates answered questions from Greinthen collected and tallied the votes.
cand wanted to know how the Greiner said "Han their feet," is position.
- Students claimed that their votes had no effect on the vice comptroller appointment and that the decision was made despite overwhelming support for Gaulin.
"SGA is supposed to be representative of the student body, said Ryan McAllister, sophomore in The College of doesn't get to clect the people that are going to be in positions of majorauthority."

The vice comptroller appointment was based on the and their honesty in the debate, Greiner said. Vieira's experience with the Finance Board and with Black Voice magazine made her the most qualified candidate, he said.
were tack votes benguse votes were taken with me and I suspect that it allowed (Gaulin's)

\section*{Assembly retracts student groups' funding}

\section*{EY JOE PIRANEO} Staff Witer

Four campusetudant organizations loot Student Govelmment Association finding Monday night.

University Unioci, The College Republicans, The Syracube India Association and the Haitian American Student Organization all incurred debts with SGA after being unable to covier the costs of various events last semester, Greiner added.

Nowly sppointed assistant comptroller Mery Vieira said all of the retractions resulted from of a lack of communication

T's all about communication," Vieira said "Organizations did not communicate properly with the comptioller and vice versa" Thie SGA Finance Board approved and allocated \($ 50,000\) for UU to host actor John Cusack this semester, Greiner said.
. Cusack; howover, was unable to come to SU as planined citing scheduling conflicts, he added.

As a result, SGA retracted \($ 42,000\) of the allocated sum because UU has yet to guarantee another speaker, Vieira said. UU, however, has aiready spent \($ 8,000\) as a payment toward a replacement speaker:
"We're not punishing University Union," Vieira said. The issue is \($ 42,000\) foating around and they don't know what to do with it?

The money that SGA retracted from UU will be put back in to the Student Activity Fee pot for other student organizations to apply for, Greiner ssid.

Elizabeth Stone, UU president and speakers board coordinator, said finding speakers is a very pest speakers that would be educational and togetherthe board deternines whether or not finding is possible.

This semester, we had one name and that name couldn't come," Store said. "I understand where SGA is coming from. From the stance of a programimer, it's a nightmare. There are constantly conflicting schedules."

\author{
Stone said current SGA policies give the UU } speakers board tronble bec
the availability of speakers.

She said she talked to Greiner about the funding situntion and hopes to sit down with SGA today and come to a compromise with the organization

The current system throws a monkey wrench into programming," Stone said.

The rernaining three organizations spent money on personal expenditures, Greiner said. SGA can only give loans for such expenditures, and the student groups did not know they had to pay it back, he Th
The groups, however, suffered low ticket sales, adding to the financial burden, he said.

The College Republicans lost \($ 175.10\) after experiencing a snag in ticket sales for speaker William \(F\).

Buckley addressed issues inclu
Buckey adressed issues including U.S. foreign policy and the protection of international democracy attracted about 100 people.

The Syracuse Indin Associntion and the Haitian American Student Organization lost \($ 104.60\) and 183, respectively, also after low ticket snles during various semester events, Greiner said.

Asian Students in America had \($ 812.32\) retracted by SGA in February due to a lack of funds from ticket sales for their Autumn Bizarre event during the 1999 Fall Semester.

SGA also took back funding from the College Democrats the same month after miscornmunication about who would pay the \($ 1,000\) rental fee for Goldstein Auditorium for First Lady Fillary Rodham ClinOn's Feb. 10 speech

Vieira said that regardless of who is at fault, miscommunication is a serious issue with fund allocation.

If an organization makes contact with the comptroller then it is his fault if a misunderstanding octhe comptra said. "If the organization doesn't approach the comptroller, it is the organization's fault."
supporters to believe they had supporters to believe they had won it for him," Greiner said. Gauifim tunlu mui ched for comment Vieira belicved that the appointment process was fair, she said. People were welcome comptroller has the authority to appoint whomever he wants to
"It's his assistant." she eaid "And once you're in thers you can always get taken out."

\section*{The Student Coailion on Organized Labor and NYPiRG Present:}

Charles Kernaghan
Director of the National Labor Committee

Meet the man who made Kathie Lee cry...
...when he exposed her label's use of SWEATSHOP LABOR.
Find out more about the anti-sweatshop movement: what has been aceomplished, what more there is to do, and how you can get involved

\section*{Wednesday, March 1 \\ 7:00 PM \\ Grant Auditorium}

The daily orangeradvertising howisigare from 9 am to 4 p no weelady
 admust be at the advertsing office before 2 p mutwo businessid ays betore go uvanty
 Cail \(443-9793\) dingadvedising busines st hours ( 8 am 4 pm ) for orrent ates ande applicable discounts

\section*{- Public Safety Reports:}

\section*{Student injured in fight outside Booth Hall}

Staff Reports
A Syracuse University student was injured at about 2:30 a.m. Friday during an argument outside Booth Hall, acPublic Safety Department of SU ambulance

SU ambulance responded to the call and treated the student at the scene, the report said. The argument started be tween two SU students and wo other men, one of which wasalso an SUstudent, in front of 302 Marshall St., the report said.

One of the men, whose dentity is unknown, threw a bottle at another man in the not hit anyone, the report said.

One student and his companion, who was not from the university, Ieft Marshall Street and went to Booth. The other two students followed them to the hall and the argument con tinued until one student became injured, the report said. Public Safety reported to Booth to investigate the incident.

Neither party desired prosecution or Syracuse Police De part said.

The case has been turned over to Judicial Affairs for fur ther investigation, the reports said.
- The Syracuse Police De partment and the Syracus University Department of Public Safety broke up a party on Ackerman Avenue Saruinay a Public Safety report

Several underage SU stu dents were referred to the Office of Judicial Affairs by Public Safety for charges of unlawful possession of an alcoholic beverage with the intention to consume, the report said. Judicial Affairs will investigate the cases, the report said.
- An unidentified person attempted to light fire to an \(O s\) trom porch early Sunday morn ty report.

The suspect threw a morotov cocktail," a bottle stuffed with towels and lit on fire, onto the porch of the house, the report said.

The case is being investiGated by the Syracuse Police and Fire departments the report said.

During Sunday's SU basketball game against Georgetown, two spectators became engaged in a fight that ended when one man punched the other in the eye, according to a Public Salety report.

Public Safety, Carrier Dome security and the Syracuse Police Department reportDome to investigate the incident, the report said.

The case is being investirated by the Syracuse Police Department, the report said.
- An unidentified person unlawfully entered and stole five pairs of boots Feb. 22 from an SU student's South Campus apartraent, according to a Pub c Safety report.

There were no signs of forced entry into the apartment on the 130 block of Winding they left the front door inse cure, the report said.
- An intoxicated student entered a Shaw Residence Hall room Wednesday and urinated on the floor, according to a Public Safety report

SU Housing and Food Services responded to the complaint, the report said.
The case was turned over review, the report said.

FTwo unidentified individuals threatened an \(S U\) student Sunday after the three were engaged in a verbal confrontation, according to a Public Safety report.

The incident took place on the 100 block of Farm Acre Avenue. A search of the area for the report said. Public Safety is investigating the incident, the report said.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to \(400 \% \mathrm{~m}\). *To pláceian adver tisement in the Do, the admustbe at the advertising office before? 20m \(n\) two business days before, Wou wantlttortint Call \(443-9793\) for cur rent rates andeaplic-3odyenting bushess howrs
\(\qquad\)

\section*{Write} for the DO!
Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{bage}

Not so cool
The cousin of rapper LL Cool J Monday admitted she swindled more than \($ 125,000\) of his money meant for non profit activities for youths and that she charged registration fees for camp that was sup posed to be free. Cynthia Cooper-Brown, 31, of Hempstead, N.Y., ormer executive director of \(2 L\) Cool \(J\) Inc., pleaded guitty to grand larceny in State Supreme Court and will be sentenced to six months in jail, plus five years probation. If convicted after a trial, she could have faced five to 15 years in prison.

\section*{Cell out}

An experimental caner vaccine, made by using a patient's umor cells with specialized cells of the mmune system, has produced dramatic shrinkage of tumors in a small study of petients with advanced kidney cancer, researchers eported Monday. Although the results must be confirmed in arger studies, they are encouraging enough that doctors in several countries are launching experiments using the same approach to treat other malignan cies, including skin cancer, breast cancer and ovarian cancer

\section*{Crack down}

Delving into the tingering controversy the Supreme Caurt said Monday it would rule on whether public hospitals may test pregnant wormen for drup use and provid the results to police. A roup of 10 women bho had been sub who had been sub ected to such testing at a Chareston, S.C. tolated their consti utional protection tutinal protectionab gearches The hospi al's practioe dates to he 1980 s wher maternal crack use was a hish-profile was a high-profic he medical staff took te mediative with ocal prosecutors caferuard babies to health.

\section*{quote of the day:}

We can do no grear thing - only small things with reat love."
Mother Teresa

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443-2128
life@daily
orange.com

The Daily Show's Lewis Black heads to Goldstein Auditorium. See Lifestyle Wednesday.

John Rzeznik and Robby Takac of The Goo Goo Dolls played for a sold-out Goldstein Auditorium In March 1999. Eands, promoters and Camier Dome organizers are hesitant to bring popular musical acts to the Dome because they may not have enough of a draw to fill the venue's \(4 O, 000\) person capacity. Eilly Joal geve the last Dome concert in December 1998.

\section*{note}

\section*{The Carrier Dome has not hosted a major concert in a year and a half.}

\section*{BY CHARLJE RUSSO}

Staff Writer
Something is missing from the Carrier Dome repertoire

Each year the Dome hosts many exciting sporting events, like this year's footbal ames against Michigan and Weat Virginia and the basketball gam ut and liongetown. music concert since Billy Joel hit the December 1998.

Student Government Association President Jamal James said that students perceive Syracuse University as more interested in putting on sporting events than concerts, and that the Carrier Dome is often an nder-utilized resource for entertainment.
Regardless, there are a variety of factors that deter side Corrier Dome Manager are Campbell. ampbell.
"The number one reason that the Carrier Dome exists is for SU athletics," he said. Kat Widden of Concert Ideas, a concert promotion company in Woodstock, likens concert promotion to a chess match bands play where they will get the best deal.

The venue's size, location and logistics naturally influence a band's decision to per form there, but other factors axe involved can fill the venue, the last time the band

See DOME page 11

\section*{UU brings good films to campus}

If you look hard enough for ontertainment, you may find that there really are alternatives to punching out a window at Faegan's. My weekly job in these pages is to figure out what exactly these mysterious activities are and tell you guys about it But, to tell you the truth, it's really difficult and sometimes I get a ittle frustrated when trying to entertain myself at Syracuse

University.
in Back in a column that ran in a November Daily Orange, Pete Was a mean and bittle media freak when I Peiser frote: "Ive seen better grade biology class.' Lately, Ive been trying to keep a more upbeat attitude, and I'd like to issue an apology this week to University Union Cinemas for trashing their oon tributions eqrlier in the school year. Surprisingly, the UU Cinemas people didn't seem to hold a grudge against me when I ventured down to the base ment of the Schine Studen Center to talk about their thankless job of bringing new movies to us all here on the SU campus.
lot \({ }^{-}\)Yeah, we get bitched out a lot," said Matt Singer, a sophomore television, radio and film major in the S.I. Newhouse Cormmunications and co-chair of the UU Cinema Board. "But we laughed at that one

I ended up hearing only two horror stories about angry audiences, after "South Park" and "The Matrix." Most of the other films went off without a hitch. Singer's defense for the low quality of some of the film presentations has to do with the subpar theaters on the SU campus and blunders made by the distributor, not the nice UU Cinema team themselves.

See MEDIA page 11

\section*{\(\infty \rightarrow 0\)}

PDTAL 4 DATCS MEIE

GMTICI PIE(DICS LAETOU

\section*{NON \(228=\)} MEiण1 3/2

\section*{UPPMR LOBBR OF MEİ} EDLDSTHFIN
AUDILDRIUM, SCREITIO GIUDINTI CJNMFR, IHAMEBPM, 4-7PN. CAML I-800-969-1337 2011 ATV APPDINMMITNY, AND AVOID MEIF LONG MINTSE

\section*{DOME}
continued from page 9 played in a certain geographical area, relationships between the different parties and what the band wants to do

But because stadiums gen erally give priority to athletics, the football schedule must be determined before Campbell can attempt to schedule music concerts
"Everything is on hold until the football schedule is released," Campbell said. This scheduling usually occurs some time in January, he said

After the football schedule has been determined, Campbell schedules recurring annual events, such as the local high school football and soccer championship games, preventing concerts from coming on certain weekends. Campbell said that, while ticket sales at these games make up for the expense of running them, the majority of any profits made are given to the high school

\section*{MEDIA}
continued from page 9
The UU films are shown during the week at the Watson Theater Complex and on the weekends at Gifford Auditorium.

UU Cinemas provides sec-ond-run Hollywood films on 16-millimeter reels, as opposed to the larger 32 -millimeter that we see in the theaters. Believe it or not, but the reels of film that are shown often cost a few hundred dollars to rent. That's why it costs a couple of bucks to go see them. Without a multiplex movie theater or a Blockbuster-type video store in walking distance, students' options to see newer films are limited to what's in their own worn-out athletic associations and therefore, the Dome does not make money at these events.

James noted that the SU trustees may frown upon the Dome holding events during the week, because of their concerns over the event's possible negative impact on learning, he said.

Only after all of these events have been scheduled can Campbell begin considering scheduling a music concert on the remaining free woekends.

But planning a weekend concert is not like planning a weekend party.
Logistically speaking
One of the Dome's most impressive features - its size - can work against it in trying to book concerts.
C. J. Strock, the University Union Concerts executive director, said that of the big name artists capable of filling the Dome, "not many play indoor arenas of that size."

Promoters consider the video collection.
"People kept warning us about that theater they were supposed to build on Marshall. But I think it would be worse . if someone built a video store," Singer said. "Most of our movies are just about to come out on video.
Pounding the pavement Singer and other UU Cinemas people are working hard to provide us with a second chance to see movies that we may have missed when haty originalify came ont theaters. You're sure to see the fyers up wherever you roam on the SU campus.

These kids don't even get paid for the hours of work that they put into this job, but they know it's worth it because they

Dome to be a large venue in a small to fill to capacity, is diffiult to fill to capacity.

Also, a major sound system cannot be hung from the Dome's roof. For concerts, the Dome rents a ground-supported sound systern from an outside company. The cost of this rental comes out of the artist's profits, a further deterrent.

In addition, Campbell said that the types of concerts that bands put on have changed.
"There are not as many stadium shows as there were 10 years ago," Campbell said.

Widden agreed. In the past decade, smaller outdoor amphitheaters have replaced stadiums as the major summer concert venue. Not many acts can fill stadiums with capacities of 30,000 or more, and the Dome's maximum concert capacity is 40,000 . Because am phitheaters are generally smaller than stadiums, a single artist can continue his or her tour year-round, staging the same show in an amphitheater in the summer as in an arena during the winter.

Ironically, the domed stadium bearing the name of one of the world's largest air conditioning manufacturers is not air-conditioned. This prevents the Carrier Dome from hosting concerts in the summer. To be included in a major summer stadium tour, the Dome must catch either the tour's front end in April or May, or its tail end in September or October, said Campbell. But few tours begin or end in Central New York.

I'm looking at why the Backstreet Boys went to Albany and not to Syracuse, James said.

James also noted that the band N Sync played to a crowd of 30,000 in Hartford, quickly selling out the stadium. He said he hopes to achieve similar results at the Carrier Dome.
lames said he is "informal ly" contacting promoters and looking to create partnerships to better market the Dome to promoters. One example of possible partnerships include using WJPZ 89.1 FM, the student radio station, to promote concerts.

Strock said he would like to see more concorts at the Dorne, but is aware of the difficulties.
"I understand the business complications," he said.

Strock believes that if artists had a greater awareness of the Dome's capabilities, they would be more likely to include it on their tour. Though its maximum concert capacity approaches 40,000 the Dome can also be config. ured to hold as few as 5,000 to 10,000 attendees, Strock said.

And appearance isn't everything, he added.
"It's not a bad thing to sell half the tickets in a capacity of \(40,000, "\) he said.

James said he isn't giving up either and said he will "work with the administration cooperatively on improving the number of concerts at the Dome."
provide somewhere to go for a lot of non-drinking students on the weekends that have little social alternatives.
"Sometimes people like don't like to sit in their dorms. They like to get out and be in a crowded room to watch a movie on a large screen,"
Singer said. "And a lot of people come to see a movie before they go out to a party too."

UU Cinemas works hard - the only source of campus entertainment provided on a weekly basis. But we only soem to sue that ewr somplaints rather than some welldeserved praise for effort.
They're still doing their part to ease the Syracuse monctony for us, the ungrateful audience. It's hard to believe but

Attend one of the world's great centers of knowiedge, American Universitry in one of the world's great centers of power. Washington, D.C.
* master's degrees in five schools: arts & sciences. business, communication, international service, public affairs \(\star\) connections with distinguished faculty \(\star\) cooperative education & internship opportunities available * small classes & personal attention * diverse student body \(\star 84\)-acre campus in a safe, beautiful neighborhood \(\star\) free parking after 5 p.m. open house for prospective graduate students, or call for more information about our programs!
they show movies four times a week, and lately there have been themes that tie their movie presentations together. A showing of all four of director Kevin Smith's Jersey Films was welcomed to large audiences this past weekend. The folks at UU Cinemas, however don't understand why other independent films do so pooriy and have such low attendance, especially on a campus with so many film majors.

Expect UU Cinemas to keep on trying their demnefest to prevent hoody fists by showing "Boys Don't Cry" this week, "American Beauty" this weekend and "The Green Mile," "The World is Not Enough" and "Sleepy Hollow" after we get back from Spring Break.

Let's not forget to be nice to Matt and the gang if you end up going to one of the showings - don't bitch them out if something ends up going wrong with the movies.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major. His column appears Mondays. E-mail him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.

\section*{The Daily Orange is looking for a talented, dedicated student to}

\author{
yaw bramab
}

the Daily Orange's Web site. The position, which is paid, is temporary and will last through the end of the Spring 2000 semester. Please contact Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal at 443-9798 to apply.

\section*{HISTORY}
continued from page 16 vision I student-athletes, checked his post moves and his physical strength at the door and showed he can simply be 6 -foot 9 human being. No agents, no AAU coach es, no unspecs. Just 8-yearolds mesmerized by Thomas enormous Nikes.

How counte
But even more remarkable is Thomas' inspiration He started visiting Potter at the shop as part of an entre preneurship class. Potter works with SU students each semester, even allowing two business majors to volunteer to run her store last Sunday.

But beyond her maga-

\section*{The Daily Orange}
zines and fax services, Potter also serves as the proprietor of the black spirit on the of the black spirit on the city's South Side. She hands out school supplies to underprivileged youth, and her newsstandincludes arechildren and an AIDS awareness wall.

Shesaid she looks for diligent workers to help at the store, but she also searches for young people in touch with the struggles of the black race. Thomas fit the bill.
SU basketball star, \({ }^{\text {² }}\) Potter said. "It's one of the few places I think he can escape. I think it's the mother within him, wanting to reach out to the kids."

On eternal Oklahoma afternoons just outside Tulsa, Deborah, a special education teacher, preached the stories of black heroes to her young son. He read Alex Haley's epic "Roots" and studied from "Kafir Boy," a tale of a young black man's fight against adversity.

The written and spoken words stuck with Etan as he arrived in Syracuse. Introspective by nature, Thomas continues to write thoughtprovoking poetry and rap lyrics.

He penned a eulogy for Malcolm X in a public speaking class in the School of Visual and Performing Arts that professors still show today. While signing posters and homemade signs at the newsstand, Potter and the children begged for him to bust out a few rhymes.

The humble Thomas failed to oblige Friday, but his trip to the newsstands in the past helped to break through his shyness. Meeting with Potter, a figure nearly identical to his mom, ignited a synergy in Etan that spilled into the essay contest.

They both have a passion for black heritage," Etan said. "My mom does a lot of the same things with little kids. I think that's what got me drawn to do more stuff with (Carol). I got to know her, and she tries to do a lot of things for the community."

The next project, the essay contest, will last until summer. Children ages seven through high school can submit pieces before the May 19 (Malcolm X's birthday) deadine. The topic must center around one of 21 black individuals, from Colin Powell to Maya Angelou to Jesse Owens to Queen Latifah.

Thomas will help select the contest winners, and the best writers will receive prizes at a June 19 celebration at the newsstand. But Thomas told the youngsters every participant wins a new knowledge of the men and women who shaped their past.
And Potter appreciates his little-recognized work.
"I know him as a man who loves to write and enjoys poetry," she said. "He comes down here, and he started to get a feeling. This was all his thing - he wanted to do something.

Despite Friday evening's snub, Deborah still accompa nied Etan to midcourt at the Carrier Dome for Sunday's Senior Day ceremonies. She joined the 31,009 who lauded his efforts with a thunderous standing ovation.

Buther cheers, the com munity's cheers, went to a black man who mixed basket ball and a strong community conscience to brighten a Feb ruary Friday for 60 Syracuse boys and girls.

Include Thomas' name with Rony Seikaly, Roosevelt Bouie and Derrick Coleman as great SU big men. But be sure to also mention him with community leaders, men and women from Oklahoma to Onondaga who change the lives of young people and exemplify heroism.

Like mother, like Carol, like son.

Dave Curtis is the sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at dgcurtis@syr.edu.

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

\section*{Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles}

CROSSWORD

\section*{bY THOMAS JOSEPH}

\section*{ACROSS 40 Old cal-} 1 "Over culators Therel sorkriter 42 Wanderer
43 Is furious 6 Fongwriter 43 Is furious 6 fer- 44 waiting rice drink 45 That is 10 Honolula hello 11 Track 11 Track legand Jegend
Jesse
14 Wide- 4 Cry of

15 Adame
16 mate
16 Agent.
18 for short
18 Goll goal
19 Old
Faithful's 8 Gate sign
22 Reverent words
23 Emb
23 Eraces
24 ldiots
27 Is overly fond, with 28 Actres
28 Actress
29 Rowing
30 need
30 City on Canada's Great Slave
35 Whopper
36 Dog doc
37 Painter
Einsi
38 Make speeches

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damon Amendolara
Hi, IM JOE
ZONE... AND NEXT ON FOX NENS AT TEN... GETMNG
AOB AT SOME DINKY LITLE TV STATION...
WIJHOUT TALENT OR TV LOOKS!
VOU WON'T WANT
TG MISS IT.

In "Other" Words
by M.D.

\title{

}
NOTICECLASSIFIED ADVERTISING315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words109 each additional word5\% extra each bold word\(5 ¢\) extra each CAP wordCharges are PER ISSUE & are Pro-paid by:adiline: 20 m 2 tusinessADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE!Ads can be maited with check to:he Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue:Syracuse NY 13 3io. Att: Classifieds: ORA A A A A A A A A A A AutosJeep Wrangler, 974 cylinder, Red whalack solt top 0.000 beat call 476.7097 sce proto in Aulo Finder Magazine must sell.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{Gourmet Colfee Shop located at SUNY Hospital} eeds PT/FT. No tate nights. Fun tor all ages.
Coilega Reps Needed Earn \($ 1200\) Next Week
Pant Time www tranchiseyoursill.com NEED EXPERIENCE (and money?) Join a tast. un and growing company as your carnous representa tive. Flexible hours, responsibilitic nd competitive pay. No experience, just ersonaly needed. Visit tomalion and iolludentRep for more apporication.
Gourmet Coltee Shop localed in SUNY Hospitat hiting manager. Expetience needed in inventory control, cash handling. training customer service skills. Heatrs case benelits and satary negotiable.
Fax zesyme 10 . \(757-565-63544\)
Camp Counselors Top Ovemignt Camps in Focono Mtns. Over 40 activities -seeking s counselors \(1.500 \cdot 533\)-camp

\section*{Job Opportunities}

\section*{AONUSES plus guaranteed hourly rate lot} Horking atmosphere On bustine. Mon- Thus.' Nice 5-9FM. 1/17-3/t9. Required pleastant speaking are. goal oriented, posifive atitude. 4+3-115
Bymucuse plus guaranteed hounty rete tor voikuse Slage Angel Appeas Campaign." Nice 5-9PM. \(1 / 17-3 / t 9\). Required pleasant speaking Student Disccunts Satt Soon wwinnive dity counts 1-80J-U-CAN-talx wwwunivetsitybartencing com Space is Limuled Call for informalionili Callfor inormalion!!

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Child Care}
Cisers couplo seeking siudent to provide patr-ime child cale in out home lor 4 year-old and
Help Wanted
\($ 1500\) weekty potential mailing our circulars. No Exporience he 202-452-7679.

\section*{Roommates}

\section*{Roonmate wanted for falt semaxitar 200 on in a 2 bedrom aparmenton Eucid Avenue.
Reasonaby priced. \(476-2982\)}

\section*{FOR RENT}

University Area 2.3 Bedrom fumished

\section*{Apartiments Sing
Jim 668.7473}

4Bedraoms, OaklandSI., 1Block ESF. 3Blocks Lawt Hospitais, furnished. parking, tauncry, Stop eloan 3 bedroom apartments Firepface, Stop eloan parking. laundry, semi-furnished, walk to SU ,
low price 436-4016.

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

\section*{621 Euclid Ave}

17 Ackerman Ave
115 Fectield Place
1011 E. Adtams St
45 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 uly Furnished. Laundry Maintenance and Managerment. Wall to Wall Carpet andor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Three Bedroom Apartment Spacious three Eediocm, completely funished \\ apartrient with porch. Living Room with fireplace, Dining room, Kitchen and tiree large \\ bedroons. and Bath. Oft street. garage parking Laundry lacitity in building. \\
Five bedroom House \\
Spacious live Eedroom, compietely furnished House with tront and rear porches. Living Foom with lireplace. Eatin Kitctien W/ DISHWASHEA and live large bedrooms, and garage. FREE Lasndry laciity in building. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
```

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM AFARTMENTS
302 Marshall St 604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave

```

Available los 2000-200 Fully Furnished, Laundry
Parking, Fuli Time Maintenance and Management
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Hefinished Harc wood Flogr Remodeled Kitchens and Sads
University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
UNIVERSITY AREA APTS. 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

2 BEDROOM APARTMENT TOAD HALL
302 MARSHALL ST. (ACROSS FROM HAVEN)

\footnotetext{
*Wall to Wall Carpe
* Zoned Thermostats
* Air Conditioned
}
* Low Utilities - Very Modern
* Dishwasher

Univeraity Ave, five bedroom Houso one block

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms ivingroom. Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
GREAT LOCATION 228 Euclid, across trom

Adhoman Ave. 4br 2/Bath apt Furnished. carpeted, walk to campus. Wet maintained.
500-501 laase 456.7202 .
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes / \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations /Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments. Beautilul, Spacious. oftstreet Pankirg, Fully Furnished. Low Uitilites. Sale, Quiet, Close 476-029

For Fent: House & 3 betm llats - \($ 250-5300\). Very Niee - Walk to SU. Avaitable Aug.

Apartments close to campus clean 2-3-5
Apariments ciose to campus clean \(2-3-5\)
bedromms some with fireplace fourdry parkins

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
University Ave. Three Bedroom, Flat Close Walk
io Campus fumished laundry parking lease \($ 875.00\)年Campus tumished laundry park
Twa Bedroom Apartments on Euccid Funished, Heal incluted, hardwood itsors, perch, recently
Ackerman Beautiful Large Furnished Flats
Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Bedrooms. Porches.
Fireplaces, Garagas, Laundry. Pel OK 446-3420

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcolt Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug \\ 445-0540 \\ O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts \\ dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom Hal. Jurnished tove, reing laundry. ireplace, gatrage. Avail June 1st \(445 \cdot 4229\)
One and Two Bedroan
Furnished Apartmens. Cormer of Watnul and Hatrison Avenues. Leases Commence June Harrison Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000 ast Month and Security, No Pelis Allo
Graduates Preteriec Cail \(422-7755\)

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.

\section*{1017 E.Aasms}

Carpeted, Air Conditioned Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking Maintenance.
University Area Apts. www.universityarea.com

Large 2 bedroom. 2 tull bath, Walking dis 204 Ostrom Eltciency One and 23edroom Secure Avait June 446.518 .
2Badroom LargaFlat available June.July, Augus: Off.st. Farking distwasher launtry NewCarpet meck-to-campur \(\mathrm{S4} 20 \mathrm{~S}\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline S Bedroom Apt \\
Ackerman Ave \\
G-1.00 \\
Fully Furished \\
Porches, Lishordry \\
Parking. Dishwasher \\
Owner Mannger \\
582.22tB \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.

Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. low utilities. University Area Apts www.universityarea.com

Your off-campus
home for 2000-01
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers washerfdrer carpeted off street parking owner managed

CALL TODAY PETER 427-0052

\section*{BATTLE}
continued from page 16
February than Florida. The Gators won seven of their eight ames, with an average ma Florida's only slip-up was a 76 73 loss to SEC East leader Tennessee in Knoxville on Feb 12. That dropped the Gators to econd place in the division

The Kentucky offense has struggled this season, ranking last in the SEC in shooting (42 percent on field goals), and it is also near the bottom of the ECC in scoring ( 68 points per game). The Wildcats need to make shots to stay close to the Gators, who are the fourthhighest scoring team in the country ( 85 points per game). Kentucky is in third place in the SEC East, but the Wildcats have not lost a conference me game this year.

Pick: Kentucky
Syracuse ( + 5) at Connecticuit Sat., Mar. 1 at 2 p.m. (CBS) One of the most memorable images of this college basketball season was the Syracuse students flooding the Carrier Dome floor after the

\section*{INTERNATIONAL}
ed a perfect 8 -0 record in dual matches at the No. 1 one singles on her past four singles matches.

The decision to come to Syracuse was easy for Lai because her brother already atward to a change of environ ment.

Other schools offered her a spot on the team, but none tendered her a scholarship, so she stuck with Syracuse.

The transition to the school here wasn't that bad because I schools," Lai said. "I also have lived in four different countries, Orangemen dismantled UConn 8-74 on Jan. 24. Syracuse ominated the game from start to finish, as all five SU ures and the Orangemen figrebounded the Huskies \(41-29\).

The defending national ampions have won just four of their last eight games, including a \(72-71\) struggle to beat West Virginia at home Maybe Khalid El-Amin's buzzer-beater against the Mountaineers was what the Huskies needed to rekindle some of their magic from last year.

UConn is ranked 24 th and appear to be destined for a seed lower than No. 5 in the NCAA Tournament If Connecticut starts to play better down the stretch, it could be a dangerous matchup for a top-four seed in the NCAA ournament's second round.

Pick: Syracuse
North Carolina ( +12.5 ) at Duke
Sat., Mar. 1 at 3 p.m. (ABC)
This game always seems to bring out the best in both teams, and there's a good reason for that. If you can't get excited to play in the Dean

Dome or Cameron Indoor ketball's as part of college basketball's greatest rivalry, you In Duke's \(90-86\) win in Chapel Hill on Feb 3 the Blu Chapel Hill on Feb. 3, the Blue sion. Junior Shane Bation sion. Junior Shane Battier led points on 8 -for- 9 shooting, points on 8 -for- 9 shooting, while senior 23 points.

Ed Cota, North Carolina's senior floor general, poured in 21 points in the first meeting. But I'm sure he'd like to cut lown on his seven-turnover erformance from last time, ketball game is college basas you read this, Duke students are camping out in tents n an effort to get the best seats Saturday

Pick: North Carolina
Maryland (-1.5) at

\section*{Virginia}

Sat., Mar. 1 at 7 p.m. (ESPN)
The Terrapins are quietly finishing the season strong. having won their last eight. conference games. Maryland's ast ACC loss came Jan. 27, a 75-63 defeat at North Carolina
Juan Dixon paces

Maryland offensively with 18 points an outing, good for second in the ACC. The Terrapins also have the league's secondbest rebounder, Lonny Baxter, who grabs over eight boards a game. Teammate Terence Morris also hits the glass for He ranks third in the ACC in that category. Seeing glass-eaters Morris and Baxter on the floor is bad news for Virginia. The Cavaliers are at the bottom of the ACC in rebounds per game (32) and rebounding margin ((32).
2).

Virginia is one of those teams sitting right on the The Cavaliers must overcome tubbing their toe at Florida State last week with a 71-64 oss. A win over Maryland certainly would help.

By virtue of their second place standing in the ACC and heir huge road win over Duke, the Terrapins should have no trouble making the NCAA ournament.
Pick: Virginia
Oklahoma \((+5.5)\) at Okiahoma State
Sat., Mar. 1 at 9 p.m. (ESPN)

The state of Oklahoma has as good a reason as any to be excited for the NCAA Tournament. Oklahomans are probably happy Tulsa is having a good year, but I am sure they are much more excited about the play of the Sooners and Cowboys.

Oklahoma is tied for fourth place in the Big 12 with Kansas and Missouri. The Sooners lost their only meeting with the eayhawks but won their lone affair with the Tigers. A victory over the rival Cowboys in the regular season finale might not be enough to Tournament selection commit tee, though. Oklahoma does not have any big non-confer ence wins to brag about.

Losing to Iowa State last week might have cost Oklahoma State the Big 12 title and a chance for a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Desmond Mason struggled against the Cyclones, hitting just 2 -of- 11 field goal attempts and finishing with eight points, 10 below his season average.
Pick: Oklahoma State
so I am used to adapting to new places."

Lai was joined by another international player her sophomore year. Junior Zuzanna tive singles matches. Her most recent victory - Borucka's 80th career win - came Saturday against the Big Green.

Rorncka was drawn to the school because of its good reputation for tennis and academics She also liked the fact that the climate was similar to that in Poland.

The final member of the in ternational trio, freshman Masha Kabanova, has been playing in the No. 4 spot for the Orangewomen this year.

Despite the quantity of international players at SU , the process for getting them to the United States is not easy, Gifford said.

Sometimes it takes six months before players receive admission to school. Often imes, Gifford said, they won't core well on the SATs, so on fuplify. Once they are ac cepted, though, the players tend to be very good students he said.

Most of the time, interna tional players are located through word of mouth among coaches at national tournaments.

You want to try to get the best American players, bu that's not always possible because none of the top players want to play tennis in the Northeast," Gifford said. "Syracuse University isn't the tennis mecca of the Northeast, so we need to look harder to find talent"

Once the international players get to campus, tennis helps them adapt to the new environment. The sport usually gives the international rlayers a sense of belonging, Gifford said.

The international impact has led the Orangewomen to a 7 3 overall record this season. Before Saturday's close loss to Dartmouth, the team won five consecutive matches.
this The women will have to put this loss behind them quickly, as they travel to College Park, Md., to face the nationally ranked Maryland Terrapins on Saturday. The next day, SU faces Biz East foe Georgetown.
"In the loss to Dartmouth. we didn't play that bad," Lai said. "There are just a few things that we need to work on this week, but I am confident about the upcoming weekend."
winter the mid-Atlantic wing, the Orangewomen compete in five more matches to Championships

In order to qualify for the NCAA Tournament, Gifford said, the Orangewomen will have to win the conference title. Last year, eventual champion Notre Dame ousted SU in the semifinals.

\section*{[classifieds]}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

2 Bedioom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euchid

t.2,3,4 85 Edrm Apartments, Housos+ Studios. Clean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some parking 474-6791 . Walking distante. laundry. University 283 Bedroon Town Houses & Flats. Fireplace, frisished basement, Call 449-0109.
ooking for a place to live? wwwhousing101.neL. Your move off campus!
1.2,3,4+5 bedroom apartments. Furnished, all utilities included, laundry, parking. One block from campus near law school +ESF. May +August

One brock fromished fiat with at utifities inctuded fill bant from campus near Law School +ESF. 2 Mayor August. sxorp per person. 477-1574.

\section*{TOAD HALL \\ 1/2 block from campus.}

\author{
Modern 2 bedroom apartments. \\ Wall to wall carpet. conditioned. Dishwashe Laundry Low utilities. Laundry Low utilities.
Competitive rents Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven).
Univernity Araz Apta
wwwiniverityarea.corn 479-5005
}

\section*{} Large one bedroom studio apartmant eveliable. Very nice, spacious, furnished, one block carmpus. \($ 475 /\) mo plus utities. Call 423 - 0830 Furnished 2-58edroon Houses/ Aparuments Livingsion. Surnner, Ackarman, Eucid 469-6665

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS

604 Wainut Ave. 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
Uiilities includad. Fully turnishad. Rents statt at \($\) P75. R. Refinished hardwood start at \($ 275\). Refnished hardiats.
floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. Townhousas. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashars. Porches. Laundry.

Parking, 24 hour maintenance. www.universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Fumished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, 476-2982

One Bedroom Apartments,
some with 9 month leases.
 \(476-2982\)

Houses

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

\section*{WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM}

Big House for rent. 813 Comstock. Newly Call 424-7867, 682 2 304 roup ar mawn shudents Call 424-7867, 682-3304

GREAT HOUSES,
GREAT LOCATION
BOO BLOCK OSTROM 5 BEOROOMS
OFF SIMEEI PARKING, FIREPLUCE
AUNDEYDISHWASHER HAROWOOD
LAUNDRY DISHWASHER HAROWOOD

University nicely furnished 5 bedroom study house 3 car garage extra parking included close walk to Houre For fent 2 minutes from Main Campu Charining English Todor House on Comstodx 6
Bedroms, Fireplace, across from Wornens Eidg. Avail 5/20 475-1012, (843)514-388t Large Single Farsity furnished house. Parking. lireplace, iree laundry, dishwasher, mature tenants
RENT YOUR OWN HOME
FOUR OF FVE BEDROOM HOUSE,
TWO FREPLACES,FUANIHED GREAT PORCHES,
\(476-9933\)

Rooms

NOTES

\section*{AP Top 25}

Stanford (70)
Cincinnati
Arizona
Duke
Temple
Michigan St
Florida
9. Syracuse
10. Iowa St.
11. Tennessee
13. Oklah
13. Oklahoma St.
15. Tulsa
16. Texas
17. Maryland
18. St. John's
19. Auburt:
21. Oklahoma
22. Kentucky
23. Kansas
24. Connecticut
25. ullinois
24.1
\(26-2\)
244
224
22.4
20.5
21.7
22.5
233
242.4
22.5
23.4
224
196
26.3
21.7
21.7
206
21.6
21.7
22.5
208
21.8
208
188

Big East
Results Monday
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { No. } 24 \text { UConn } \\ \text { Rutgers } & 74 \\ 69\end{array}\) Rutgers
74
69
69
Monday night without key Mondayy night without key reserve Edmunc Saunders, who stayed home after an unspecified violation of team rules.
'Canes drop sports
The University of Miami (Fla.) dropped its men's crew programs Monday to comply with Title IX genderequity laws.
The 'Canes produced 15 Olympic divers in their program's history, including fourtime Olympic gold medalist Greg Lougainis.

Miami athletic director Paul Dee said the university hopes to add a varsity women's volleyball team by

Problems for Porter All-American forwar Chris Porter admitted Monday to accepting \($ 2,000\) in cash from a sports agent.
Two sources told the Associated Press that Porter accepted the money after learning his mother sat on the verge of eviction from her Abbeville, Ala., home.

Porter missed Auburn's \(88-59\) loss at Morida on Sunday. He faces disciplinary action from his school and the SEC for the infraction.
New York, New York
Su students can purchase Big East Toumament tickets Wednesday afternoon at 1p.m. at Gate E of the Carrier Dome

Students must be sea-son-ticket holders and present a valid SU ID to buy a \($ 10\) ticket to the Orangemen's quarterfinat game on Mar. 9 . The tickets are, first-serve basis.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. In men's basketball, who is Notre Dame's alltime leading scorer? thursday's trivia: Q. What is the SU men's basketball singie-game assist record?
A. Sherman Douglas had 22 assists against Providence in 1989.

\section*{[sports]}

Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 29, 200016

\section*{Internationals pace SU}

Syracuse senior captain Shareen Lai owns an unblemished 80 record in the No. 1 singles spot for the Orangewomen this season. SU visits Marydand this Saturday and travels to Georgetown on Sunday.

\section*{BY JASON SACKS}

Not even the boundaries of North America can restrict recruiting for the Syracuse tennis team.

Of its top seven players three come from different continents and another from Canada.

This team is very international," said coach Mac Gifford. "They all have their own story of how they ended up here, and even two of the girls tigh school originally came from outside of North America."

The trio of players from overseas includes senior Shareen Lai from Malaysia, junior Zuzanna Borucka from Poland and freshman Masha Kabanova from Russia. Junior Michelle Neveklovska hails from British Columbia and was born in the Czech Republic.

Two of the international players won singles matches, and Borucka seagedia to win at third doubles in SU's \(5-4\) loss to Dartmouth on Saturday afternoon at Drumlins Country Club

Lai has made the bigest impact since arriving at Syracuse. As a freshman, she walked on the Orangewomen squad. This year, she has postSee INTERNATIONAL page 15

\section*{NCAA seeds taking form in closing weeks}

\section*{Every college basketball game} eft this season, except for maybe a few contests in the Pac-10 and Ivy League (the two leagues with out post-season tournaments), is mportant.
seeds in their confay for better

\section*{Ryan ers shoot for high Stalzer er seeds in the batrle for NCAA the bottles Based on the way teams are playing right now,} this is how the NCAA Tournament could shape up No. 1 Seeds - Michigan State (South), Duke (East), Cincinnati (Midwest) and Stanford (West).

No. 2 Seeds - Arizona (South), Ohio State (East), Temple (Midwest) and Tennessee (West). No. 3 Seeds \(\rightarrow\) Florida Oklahoma State (Midwest) and Oklahoma State

No. 4 Seeds - St. John's South), Texas (East), Purdue (Midwest) and LSU (West).

It's the last weekend of the regular season, and there are take a look

Florida ( +2.5 ) at Kentucky Sat., Mar. 1 at 12 p.m. (CBS) It will be hard to find a team that played better basketball in

See BATTLE page 15

\section*{Thomas remains true to roots}

His mother stepped off the plane at Hancock International Airport at about 5 p.m. Friday

She traveled halfway across America, from the plains to the Hill, to see college basketball game against Georgetown on Sunday afternoon.

She likely expected some quality time with her boy, maybe even a quick iotsout befor lights out that night. dreck, Deborah Thomas' NBA-bound son, elected to please mom in another way. SU's All-Big East cen er spent almost 90 minutes Friday nigh

DAVE
CURTIS
Street at the South Side Newsstand, a tiny bland plaza on Salina

He signed autographs for five dozen youngsters, not mentioning Sunday's showdown with the Hoyas nor urging them to fire jump shots on chilly nights until their fingers freeze. kids, ebony and ivory alike, to write an essay profiling a hero in black history.
He spoke few words, allowing tore owner Carol Potter to do the should overshadow his school blocked hots record and glisten brighter than any Big East Championghip ring Bug he didn't enter ap ring
Sure, he didn't enter a segregated the second row of a Detroit bus.

But Thomas, one of those evil Di See HISTORY page 12

MARCH
March 1,2000

dö
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

MarchingON
su visits Notre Dame to kick off huge month. See Sports.
One night stand JSU brings stand-up comedians to campus. See Lifestyle.

\section*{SUNY}

\section*{appoints} new ESF president
Murphy to assume position March 15
BY JOHN ARWEILER
Staff Writer
Dr. Cornelius Murphy, Jr. is the new president of the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.
"I'm very excited," Murphy said after Tuesday's announcement by the SUNY Board of Trustees. "I really look forward to serving as president.

The decision came during the SUNY board's monthly meeting in Albany. It was followed by a dinner reception at the Nelson Rockefeller Empire State Plaza Hotel in Albany.

His appointment by the SUNY board follows his endorsements by the ESF Board of Trustees and SUNY Chancellor Robert King. Trustees and SUNY Chancellor Robert King. presideat, said Ross Whaley, the school's curpresident, said Ross whaley, the schools current president. He has rich experience in leading large organizations. He has a strong technical background and knowledge of environmental issues."

Murphy is president and director of O'Brien and Gere Limited, a Syracuse-based design, engineering and consulting firm that specializes in environmental conservation. specializes in environmental conservation. O'Brien and Gere employsmore than 1,000 people in 29 locations worldwide, according to ESF.
"I come from a corporation that dealt with all the disciplines taught at ESF," Murphy said. "My goals are to apply them to solve social problems.*
long search to replace Whaley president of 15 years. first charter school for children in kindergarten through sixth grade. The school curriculum will focus on science and math.
"It's the right time for a change in the college," Whaley said. "I'm excited for a new adventure."

Murphy will assume the presidential
See ESF page 4

\section*{Multicultural Affairs}
 Carol Aisha Blackshire-Belay, an SU African-American Studies department Chair person candriate, critizes discrimin speech Tuesday night in Bird Library.

\section*{AAS candidate details Afro-German racism}

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON \\ Asst. News Editor}

Carol Aisha Blackshire-Belay came to Syracuse University on Tuesday looking to and a more than chairperson for the department of African-American Studies.

Blackshire-Belay spoke to a crowd of about 20 people in Bird Library about black discrimination in Germany. Her lecture was the last in a series of speeches by the four candidates for the department position.

Although there is a large population of blacks in Germany, most white Germans deny their preswoman of the Indiana State University African-American Studies department.
Afrone of the first times the Afro-German population took notice

See BLACKSHIRE page 6

\section*{- Greek Affairs \\ Greeks \\ commence pledging}

BY NICOLE ELLIOTT Staff Writer

Campus greeks said they are making quality time with pledges a priority during the six-week pledge period.

During the pledge period, which began Feb. 10 and concludes with initia tion, students interested in joining a fraternity or sorority participate in a vafraternity or sorority par riety of house activities.

As part of the pledging, each chap ter must provide a greek education program to their pledges, said Lisa Walsh, Office of Greek Life assistant director. in Ani in phedees muit ahse take part hol prohaing programs and anti-alcocampus by OGL which are offered on by the end of this week, she said.

The pledges are participating in events, ranging from house dinners to bowling, to get to know the brothers and sisters of each respective house.

Delta Delta Delta sisters recently went bowling and then to Varsity Pizza, 802 S . Crouse Ave., with their 24 new pledges Tri Delt President Jenny Lippledges, Tri Delt President Jenny Lip
There are also events at the house for new members and seniors, Lipstein added.
hav Seniors share the experiences they have had and what the house means to us," she said.

The 14 new Delta Kappa Epsilon pledges are very excited because there are a variety of majors among them Deke President Brad Young said. This makes for a diverse group of students he added.

Several Deke brothers and pledges met with children from the Syracuse afternoon and tock ihem to Syracuse Unternoon anc the Manley Field House.

Jam Session featured a charity basketball contest between the SU football team and members of the media. The children were able to meet with sev eral SU football players and take home autographs, Young said.
house and hung thea came back to our house and hung out there for awhile," he added.

Kappa Kappa Gamma President Missy Deacon said she is anxious to work with about 35 pledges in her soror ity's introductory activities.

See PLEDGING page 4

\section*{Local authorities discuss drug abuse}
\({ }^{4}\) America used to be a drug subculture and like it or not, today we are a drug culture.

\section*{LT. GRANT \\ WILLIAMS}

SU Public Safety

Syracuse police and Syracuse University Public Safety officials came to South Campus Tuesday night not to confiscate drug paraphernalia, but to construct their own. By creating a crack cocaine pipe out of a soda can and a piece of tin foil, Syracuse Lt. John Corbett showed students the accessibility of tyrg-related tools in the communibett, addressed drug-related issues, including drug paraphernalia, legal ramifications and side effects. Corand displayed a collection of common drug apparatuses.
"People are very enterprising as far as drugs go," Corbett said to about 25 students at a drug awareness forum in Goldstein Student Center. "I like to offer a show-andtell kind of presentation because it the implements associated with.

See FORUN page 7

City Affairs
Common Council invites professors to aid city review

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
The Syracuse Common Council wants Syracuse University professors to help revise the city charter.

An advisory board will assist the newly-created City Charter Commission in re evaluating the 40 -year-old charter, a series of codes uncharter, a series of codes under which the city operates, der which the city operates, spokesman for Mayor Roy A. Bernardi.

The board will be composed of members of both the city and university community, specifically SU's Maxwel School of Citizenship and See COMMISSION page 3

\title{
[briefs]
}
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}
- SU Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund speaks at 4:15 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium a. part of the State of the University address.
© Equal Justice Initiative of Alabama Executive Director Bryan Stevenson speaks at 3 p.m. in the Bond, Schoeneck and King Courtroom, Room 300 in Winifred MacNaughton Hall.

宜 Atlanta-based architect Merrill Elam speaks at 6:30 p.m. in the Sue Ann Genet Auditorium, Hall.

E SU for Bill Bradley meets at 8 p.m. at Coach Mac's Sports Bar and Grill, 500 S Warren St., for a candidate de bate watching party.
- Hillel Lounge hosts a Holocaust Remembrance Week planning meeting at 7:30 p.m The meeting is in the basement of Hendricks Chapel. All ar welcome.
- Charles Kernaghan, director of the National Labor Committee, speaks at 7 p.m. in Grant Auditorium.

Melanie Littlejohn, Nia

\title{
First-grader shoots peer
}

MOUNT MORRIS TOWNSHIP, Mich. - A first-grade Michigan classroom on Tuesday became the latest bloodstained stage in the United States rash of school pointed a gun at a classmate and then fired. A girl, 6 years old, crumpled to the floor, fatally wounded.

Officials in Mount Morris Township- A working-class community 60 miles north of Detroit the two children had quarreled on the playground at Buell Elementary School on Monday. Relatives identified the dead girl as Kayla

Unsure whether the shooting was planned or accidental, police also sought to interview the young suspects parents to fin
"We want to get to the bottom of how that gun got into that little boy's hands - who had that gun and where it was left," Genessee County Prosecutor Arthur A. Busch said.

Those are the sort of tangible evidentiary questions that emerge each time a quiet campus is niven by gunfre. But the question of pect and his victim. The suspect's age makes it unWely that he will be charged as an adult, Busch indicated during a news conference late in the day. Despite Michigan's toughening of statutes to allow authorities to pursue adult prosecutions of children, American common law virtually rules out the possibility of establishing criminal intent in those so young.

The boy was taken into the custody of Michigan's child welfare agency "for his own protection," Busch said.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Bush wins Virginia vote \\ Bradley aids tell him to quit \\ LOS ANGELES - Several}

RICHMOND, Va. - Texas Gov. George W. Bush walloped Arizona Sen. John McCain Tuesday in Virginia's Republican presidential primary with the strong support of women and a unified Christian right, as well a 2 million electoral organization that energized across the state.

With 99 percent of precincts reporting, Bush captured 53 percent of the vote to McCain s 44 percent, riding a wave of solid Republican support comers. Alan Keyes won 3 percent of the vote.

The state party's binding presidential primary for 56 national convention delegates Bush's largest single haul so far - went as well as many of hoped last summer when they approved the historic experiment. Democrats did not turn out in numbers large enough to control the outcome, partly to control the outcome, partly sign a pledge to stay out of another partys nominating process.
breast implant safety WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Food and Drug Administration will ope an inquiry Wednesday into the safety of saline-filled breast implants filled breast implants the only breast implant still generally available - and ultimately wil decide whether they are safe enough to

Part of the deliberations almost certainly will revolve around the delicate issue of risks compared with benefits compared with bene changes dramatically when debating cosmetic endargement versus reconstruction after mastectorny.

The investigation comes eight years after comes engy the agently restricted the use of silicone gel implants in the aftermath of an intense and emotional national debate about the devices.
members of Bill Bradley's inner circle are urging him to drop out of the presidential race to avoid humiliation on Super Tuesday but the candidate has refused, according to a Bradley campaign official familiar with the discussions. Several Bradley aides said they have become convinced that the former basketball star and New Jersey senator may not win even one state curing the March 7 primaries, when about one third of the Democratic delegates will be up for grabs. And these officials and Now York Bradley will lose and Ne President Al Gore by mose to Vice Pres.
than 2 to 1.

The Bradley campaign official faniliar with the discussions, who spoke on condition of anonymity said the advice to pull out is coning to Bradley from several people "who have his ear."

Gina Glantz, Bradley's carnpaign manager, denied that such discussions were going on. "No one has advised him to get out,", she said. Pressed with specifics of the conversations, she said, "I'm not going to talk about withdrawing:

\section*{world news}

\section*{Mozambique relief continues}

MAPUTO, Mozambique Heavy rain has turned to drizzle most everywhere in this flooded African country, but with rivers still rising and rescuers faced with the baunting task of choosing whom to usave, the heartache is far from over-

Helicopter crews from neighboring South Africa and Malawi, working for the third day Tuesday rescued thousands of stranded people from tree limbs and rooftops along the bursting Limpopo and Save rivers. The waterways are still being fed by record rainfall over the past three weeks rushing downstream from Zimbabwe, Botswana and South Africa.

But for each desperate person snatched from near-certain death, untold others had to be left behind because there were too few rescuers. Often when a helicopter does return, relief workers said, those who had been left to fend for themselves are nowhere to be found.

\section*{Germany seeks three U.S. teens}

BERLIN - A German prosecutor announced Tuesday that he is seeking murder charges against three U.S. teenfesged to hurling boulders from \section*{Maryland teen gets life sentence \\ PRINCE GEORGE, Md. - A} Prince George's County Circuit judge this morning sentenced Travis Lionel Savoy, believed to be the youngest person in Maryand ever convicted as an adult of murder, to life in prison plus two 20-year terms for two murders and other crimes the teenager vas convicted of last year.

Savoy, who turned 15 on Dec. 31, was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Graydon S. McKee III to life in prison for murdering a pizza deliveryman last Feb. 17 Mckee also sentenced Savoy to 20 years in prison for using a hand gun in that crime, plus another 20 years for his second-degree murder conviction in the shotgun slaying last Jan. 16 of a former claying la

McKee ordered that the sentences are to run consecutively. Savoy, dressed in an orange jail jumpsuit, did not show any emotion as McKee announced his laden, hour-long of an emotion laden, hour-long hearing. Howevwho filled on Savoy's relatives, Who filled one side of the Upper Marlbore courtroom, spoke out in anger as the judge passed sentence.
a highway overpass in a dan gerous game that killed two gerous game that killed two gers.

In a troubling incident that could undermine relations be theen American troops and - all children hosts, the youths diers - told police invertiga tors in Darmstadt investiga had been lobbing stones as big as soccer balls from the pedestrian bridge for weeks before the deadly strikes \(\mathbf{S}\) beiore night.

Falling stones hit at least four cars on the busy stretch of the A3 autobahn connecting Frankfurt and Heidelberg shortly after 9 p.m. Sunday, Darmstadt police spokesman Heiner Jerofaky told reporters.
gara Mohawk director of diver sity management and compli ance, spenks ficm \(10: 30\) a.m. ic noon in Schine, Room 304 B and \(C\).
- Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane, at 2 p.m. and \(7: 30\) p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tick ets are \($ 15-$ 38\), discounts for seniors, students and groups mation.

Assistant professor Bryan Stevenson, executive di rector of the Equal Justice Ini tiative of Alabama, speaks at 3 p.m. in the faculty
- Chris O'Connor, Ford Motor Credit branch opera tions manager, speaks from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Schine, Room 30 \(B\) and C. He will address Buy ing an Auto from a Dealer Know Your Options."
- The SU Drama Department presents "Much Aco About Nothing" at 8 p.m. in Arthur Storch Theater at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 16\) for aduits, discounts and students. Cal
- Newhouse I presents "Interview Etiquette" from 6 to p.m. in Room A?
[d.̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic The D.O by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is discribuced on campus with deach additional copy costs \($ 1\).

Man copy coses 43
Management 443-9798
\(\begin{aligned} & \text { Business } \\ & \text { News } 443-2314\end{aligned}\)
News 443-2127
Lifestyle 443-2128
Lifestyle \(443-2128\)
Sporss 443-2208
Photography 443-9795
E-mail editoriatedailyorange.corn
Online www.dailyorange.com

\section*{COMMISSION}
continued from page 1
Public Affairs, Parenti added.
We hope to have some members that do not live in the city, which would include some representative from the Maxwell School," he said.

Bernardi first presented the plan for the commission in his Feb. 9 State of the City address, Parenti said. Bernardi discussed the proposal Sunday night with members of the Council.

The mayor quelled some skepticism regarding the effectiveness of the commission after he detailed the plan, Parenti gaid.
"They were fairly positive and anxious to see what the commission will recommend," he said.

The commission will examine merging the city and county purchasing division as well as other government offices, he said. This merger would help both the city and the county operate more efficiently, he added.

Council Minority Leader Steven DeRegis said he agreed only partially with the mayor's proposal.
I think we should study it and it needs to be llooked at," DeRegis said. "l favor some charter reform.

The Council needs to be presented with the jdeas and determine if they make sense, DeRegis said. But the curremt charter is outdated and a revision must occur, he added.

City government needs to work more like the county government, DeRegis said.

In the county system, the legislative body has most or the power. In the city of Syracuse, the mayor has more power than what is good for the people, DeRegis said

The mayor has the ability to arrange items in the budget as he likes because of the support he receives from the pre. dominantly Republican Council, he added.

If anything is going to be merged or changed, both the county legislature and city council must first approve it, Parenti said. The proposal will also be slated in the form of a referendumquestion in the November 2001 elections, he added.

It needs to be kept in mind that the people are important to the decision, Parenti said. We are sort of putting the art before the horse the other way, he acided.

Akhough the commission has not yet been establishea. several potential candidates are being considered, Parenti said. The mayor is optimistic the referendum will pass in 2001, Parenti added.
"After speaking with the mayor, the committeemem. bers were much more receptive to the idea," he said.

Tix @ Schine Box Office or af door w/ SU ID
MTITBS:
Located In the Basement of the Schine Student Center

\title{
Write for the DO!
}

Stop by at 3 p.m. Sunday to meet the News editors and reporters. Free food and coffee for all. Call 443-2127 or email news@dailyorange.com. We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

You need o roll-on with \(m \geqslant\) M. Mn un

To protect against AIDS and other STRs always use latex condoms.

For a free, full-color poster (18" \(\times 24^{\prime \prime}\) ), write:
AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Department

\section*{The Diily Orange}

4

\section*{ESF}
continued from page 1
position March 15，when he will begin to lead a staff of 425 at a campus with more than 1，800 students．

A Marcellus resident，Mur phy earned his Ph．D．in chern istry as a NASA Fellow at Syra－

\section*{PLEDGING}

\section*{continued from page 1}
＂It＊s going really，really well，＂Deacon said．＂This is an incredible group of women．＂

Kappa sisters and new members are also participating in clase nights－when upper－ classmen sisters partake in ac－ tivities such as Jeopardy tour． anamens－with new mem bers，Deacon said．

There are several philan thropy events planned in addi－
cuse University in 1970 and ctudied at the SU School of Management．

He earned his bachelor＇s degree in chemistry from St． Michael＇s College，Vermont， graduating magna cum laude in 1966．He also received an honorary Doctor of Science de－ gree from Clarkaon in 1997.

Murphy authored about 50 ingtructional publications and presentations and lectured at ESF，SU and Cornell Universi－ ty．He is currently a member of ESF＇s President＇s Council and the Advisory Board of the SU College of Engineering and Computer Science．

Murphy said he has plans

\section*{tion to the bonding sessions，} said Amy Mellon，new nember educator at Kappa．These in－ clude working Saturday with Habitat for Humanity and com－ peting next week in the Physique Beauty Company makeovers．

Two sisters will send＂be－ fore＂and＂after＂pictures to the company to compete to win a \($ 2,500\) prize，which will be do－ nated to the winner＇s philan－ thropy cause． pledges also applied and

Physique Beauty Company makeover contest and spent time doing makeovers Friday gight at a house sleepover， said sister Karoline Wightman， vice president of social ad－ vancement．

On Sunday night at Mag－ gie＇s Tavern， 720 University Ave．，Pi Phi hosted UScrew Your Sister，＂an event when sisters fixed each other up with dates， Wightman said．

Pi Phi will host Pride Day on Thursday for all new mem－ bers who are encouraged to to use ESF resources，includ－ ing the newly－created environ－ mental labs in SU＇s Link Hall， to help clean up the polluted Onondaga Lake．
＂I want all graduates to have their best ability to help society，＂Murphy said．

ESF students are awaiting the new leadership with anticipation．

\section*{wear the sorority＇s shirts and} pins，Wightman added．
Delfa Tau Delta President Mark Karelus said their 10 pledges are adjusting to greek life through different activities and several mandatory pro－ grarns．
＊They＇re going to study hours every night from 7 p．m． to 10 p．m．＂＂Karelus said．

Alpha Chi Omega sisters participated in activities with heir 35 pledges，inciuding nowling and ice skating，Alpha Chi President Katherine Biro

The Student Coalition on Organized Labor and NYPIRG Present：
Charles Kernaghan Director of the National Labor Committee

Meet the man who made Kathie Lee cry．．
．．．when he exposed her label＇s use of SWEATSHOP LABOR．
Find out more about the anti－sweatshop movement：what has been accomplished，what more there is to do，and how you can get involved

\section*{Wednesday，March 1 7：00 PM Grant Auditorium}
＂Ive read a little about him，said Nick Channing，a jumior ESF landscape architec－ ture major．＂He seems like a good guy and he knows what
＂But we＇ll have
＂But we＇ll have to wait and see，＂he added．＂Running a business is achool wifferent than running a school．＊ said．Everyone is getting to know each other，she added．

Pledging is going so great for our house，＂Biro said．＂The girls are wo

Alpha Chi Rho Presicient Chris Dobi said he wants his pledges to know the purpose of A irateraity and to give new members a better understand ing of the house． ing of the house．
＂We＇re just trying to get to know the guys better，＂Dobi said．

> The Daily Orange Advertising Unformation

稝he Daily Orange waderising Hours are 0fom 9：00 5atim．to 4：00 \(\mathrm{c} \cdot \mathrm{m}\) ． 旗To place紋n advertise ment in the EDO，the ad must be at the advertis ing office before 2 p．m．two business days before You want it torun． eall 443－
9.93 for ctu rent rates 5月d applica de dis－ counts dury Hig advertis Mg busine Sours．

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR！}

Let off a little steam．Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave．，and make sure to mention your name，class and telephone number．
Maximum 250 words per letter，please．E－mail your lettes to editorial＠dailyorange．com．

\title{
[editōrial] \\ Candidate friends
}
belittle SGA process

An odd thing happened during the Student Government Association's Feb. 21st assistant comptroller debates: students came to watch.

But they were friends of assistant comptroller candidate Dave Gaulin, rather than eager SGA parlicipants, who packed the seats of Maxwell Auditorium. Their thinly-veiled intentions were clear. They hadn't suddenly been moved to observe Syracuse University's campus leaders in action, they were there to cheer on their buddy.

During the debates, Greiner passed out ballots to solicit audience opinions on who would make a better appointment to the position. He noted, however, that the choice on who would fill the spot rested solely in his hands, and that he only hoped to get some audience reaction to the debates.

After Greiner announced his decision to appoint current Finance Board member Mery Vieira to the post during Monday night's meeting, Gaulin's friends appeared again and cried foul at the selection process, charging that their "votes" had been discounted.

The only thing that has been discounted, however, is the importance of student participation in the SGA election process.

Greiner, previously the association's assistant comptroller, ran unopposed for his comptroller seat last semester. It's no secret that the comptroller chooses his own assistants. And if the student body - or Gaulin's friends - questions Greiner's judgement, then perhaps they should have considered challenging him during the last election.

Granted, the assistant comptroller doesn't hold anywhere near the same amount of clout as other SGA officials. It seems wasteful to award so much procedural fanfare to a position that is little more than a glorified Finance Board seat.

However, the assistant comptroller often rises to power as SGA comptroller - who controls the entire \($ 1.5\) million Student Activity Fee - in the following election.

Students hand over \($ 106\) every year to SGA. Now, they just need to learn when not to toss in their extra two cents.

[d̈̈]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Sapna Kollali Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor Dave Curtis Joy Davia Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editar Asst. Lifesyyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Bill Ehninger deet Deshmukh Neva Austrew Laura Prabuckj Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampone Corey Hann Magin McKenna Connor Ennis
Joff Pastan Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Elaine Skinner
Tito Bottitta Tom Mason Rachael Golden Annemmrie Bello Ron Fooks Jill Mercadante Ont poss \(443-2314\). Al recartad wathout tre expresed witin pernisuon of min evicr in ctief. Tre Deoy oreryo is

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Black History Month further stratifies society}

Another February has come and gone, and with it another wildly successful Black History Month. What a great idea this is, responding to years of isolation and segregation by allotting a separate month just for the celebration of black history.

I suggest we take a look at the reasoning behind
Black History Month and examine its positives and negatives. This should help us to prepare

MATT

\section*{WALTON} for next year's celebration - after all, we only have eleven short months to get ready

I would argue that not only is the existence of a separate month for the celebration of black history an ineffective solution to problems of racial incquality, but it is also an indication of the sad state of our quick-fix society Instead of making an attempt at changing our basic views on history and acknowled ging the integral roles and acknowledging the integral roles to separate and segregate black history from the rest of history.

This implies that historical information specifically dealing with black people is either so much more important than other historical occurrences that it needs to be addressed separately, or so much less important that it does not deserve to be included in general history, neither of which is true. I know that personally, the isolation of specifically black history in school rubbed me the wrong way: "All right, class, here's what was going on in America during the 1950 s . And here's what was going on with black people during that time."

Why were most of our history classes taught like this? Because, my friends, history is written by the victors, and like it or not, oppressive white males were the "victors" throughout most of modern Western history. But the question we should ask is why are most of our history classes still taught like this? Now that revisionist history is in vogue, it is important that we set the record straight on what really happened, and in the process create a history that belongs to all of us - a history that for once isn't about labeling or categorization.

Segregation and isolation, whether they be on racial, economic or cultural grounds, do not work. Everyone is more likely to embrace something new if they feel includ. ed in it. That is why I believe that activists should be working to integrate what is considered "black history" into a subject simply called "history".

People will argue that attempts were made at just this type of integration, and were met with apathy from the educational community and from American society in general. This may be true, but to respond by creating an artinial, us inct celebration of black history runs contrary to the final goal of racial harmony

If one is trying to draw attention to or subvert the system, then renegade, separate organizations can be effective, but if the purpose is acceptance into and unity with the status quo, then one must work within the syssiveness.

Make no mistake, I am in favor of learning about black people who have made contributions to society or led interesting lives, but I am opposed to an isolated, forced celebration of "Black History Month." I am interested in local black history as much as I am a member of this community. As an American citizen, I would like to leari more about the contributions African-Americans have made to our country. And I embrace the development of African culture and its place in the world because I am a member of our global communits.

But I don't want to learn about black history, or white history, or any other categorization of history. I just want to learn about history. to learn about history

Matt Walton is a senior music composition major. His column appears Wednesdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at mjualton@syredu

\section*{letters}

\section*{SGA comptroller ignores voice of concerned students}

To the editor:
Monday night I saw democracy at its worst. I attended a meeting of the Student Government Association and was extremely disappointed with what I saw. For an association established to voice the opinions of Syracuse did a poor job.

Article III Section C of SGA's constitution states, "all students have the right to address to Assembly" students who attended the meeting. In fact, one student was interrupted mid-sentence by the Comptroller Christopher Greiner and not allowed to continue with his question.

On Sunday, reb. 20 a debate took place between assistant compDavid Gaulin to determine who would be appointed to the position.

At the debate, people from the student body voted for the person they filt would best carry out the du ties of the assistant comptroller.

Gaulin had overwhelming support from the student body at this de difference in the decision at all. In fact, Greiner stated that he asked the members of the Finance Board if they thought Vieira or Gaulin would do the job best. He said that these mernbers chose Vieira. It was an obvious decision for the Finance Board to this committee.

I think that it is an injustice that this was a determining factor in deciding who would fill the position because Greiner went to a biased source and ignored the student voice. Greiner is not representing the student body, but instead his own selfish agenda.

Ketly Kane

\section*{To the editor.}

The affice of SGA Comptroller is going to be changing, and I'm conInterested in talking with the Interested in talking with the people who would be in charge of miSions of student dollars, I went to the SGA Assistant Comptroller Debate on Feb. 2lst. The debate was supon Fed. 2 gist. stardents the chance to posed for one candidate or the other, but it turas out that current Comptroller Chris Greiner is ignaring the staxdent body:

Obviously distressed at this disregard for the student body's voice, 1 went to the SGA Assembly meeting on Monday. At the meeting. Greiner accused David Gaulin of stacking the audience with his supporters, and used that as reason to justify ignor ing the results. That's funny. I thought that was the whole point of politics? Imagine Sen. John McCain and claiming it wasn't fair brimary George W. Bush got everybody to come out and vote for him.

Regardless of campaign strategy, the simple fact remains that allowing Greiner dictatorial rights over deciding the next assistant comptroller is atrocious.

While expressing my concerns to the assembly, I was called belligerAssembly was taken away after Greiner became argumentative and rude, interrupting me mid-sentence. Please understand: this isn't about candidates. It is about a process. This is no way to decide on Greiner and comportant offce. you want to be taken seriously by the students, start taking the students seriously.

\section*{BLACKSHIRE}
continued from page 1 of them was when a German television station aired a documentary about their lives. The reporters interviewed several about their about their experiThe day aft

The day after the broadcast, noticed explicit stares from the white Germans, she said.
friends of my friends was approachedin asupermarket and asked by an elderly German man, Are German man, Are you African or are Blackshire-Belay said. "It was a day that no Afro-German, nor could I, forget."

Afro-Germans often face a challenge when confronted by white Germans about their heritage, Blackshire-Belay continued. Many whites, like the elderly ket, simply do not believe that there is such a person as a dark-skinned German, she Jamaican or American.
said.
\({ }^{\text {said. As an Afro-German told }}\) me - and I quote - 'I have darkskin too butiam German. No one believes itwithout further explanation. I used When to say I was from When I said I was American, the Germans said \(i\) was trying to better myself, that I was really from Trinidad. They couldn't believe I was

CAROL AISHA BLACKSHIREBELAY Indiana State University Professor and SU AfricanAmerican Studies" chairperson candidate the Ivory Coast and wouldn't get any quesknow the Ivory know the ivory Coast, but it Coast, but it and far away. Germans believe that. They are that ignorant. They would never believe I was German," Black-shire-Belay quoted.

BlackshireBelay said she experienced this same kind of prejudice in the telling white Germans she was from the United States. "When 1 said I was American, the Germans said I was trying to better myself, that I was really Jamaican or from couldn't believe I was Ameri can. Their vision of the United States was white" the United States was white.,

\section*{Candidates for AAS department chairperson}

Carol Aisha Blackshire-Belay professor and chairwoman in Indiana State University's African-American studies department

> Linda Carty associate professor of sociology and co-chairperson of the Women and Gender Program at the University of Michigan at Flint
> Jacob Olfponadirector of Religious studies and professor of History of Religion and African and African-American studies at the University of California: at Davis
> Dorothy Drinkard Hawkshawe history professor and director of the African-American studies program at East Tennessee State University

Afro-Germans are highl discriminated against, Black shire-Belay said. Many whites do not believe that blacks can hold academic jobs, she added. Though she received her college degrees in U.S. univer sities, Blackshire-celay also studied in Germany during the lime, she said she noticed the glaring absence of black stu dents at the German university. One day she asked her roommate, a white German, where the blacks at the university were, she said.

Her roommate's response was, "Oh, they don't go to school."
"At the time \(I\) went to \section*{betirement insurance mutuat funds thust services tultidn financing}

It's a simple calculation:
TIAA-CREF's low expenses mean more money working for you. expense

The equation is easy. Lower expenses in managing a fund can equal better performance.

How much? Just take a look at the chart. Then call us. We'll send you a free, easy-to-use expense calculator so you can see for yourself that no matter what your investment, you'll benefit from low expenses. And CREF expenses range from just \(0.29 \%\) to \(0.37 \%{ }^{1}\)

For more than 80 years, we've been committed to low expenses, superior customer service and strong performance.

Add it all up and you'll find that selecting your retirement provider is an easy decision:TIAA-CREF.

THE IMPACT OF EXPENSES ON PERFDRMANCE

EXPENSE5 \({ }^{2}\)
Total actumulations after \(\mathbf{2 0}\) years hased on initial mestment of \($ 50,080\) and hypethatical annual returns of \(11 \%\).

CTAE
Ensuring the future
for thase who shepe it.

1800842-2776
www.tian-cref.org
school, there were noblack students, period," BlackshireBelay said. "I was a rarity. I didn't think I was a rarity- But when I look back, I seel was in a very special group of students.

She cited a survey taken by whites, in which the general consensus was that occupations meant for young black women workers, phers. Young black men are best suited to be artists, musicians and auto workers, the respondents said.

Young blacks in Germany are often confused when they see their German mother and take note of their German identification and German passport -igners despite their undeniable German identity, Black-abire-Belay said.

Blackshire-Belay recounted a stoty her Ariv-Cētoman ficiend shared about her experiences being labeled as an outsider.

The friend was raised by her white German mother who would send her to the house of an aunt and uncle for babysitting. A line would be drawn around the inside of the house and Blackshire-Belay's friend would not be allowed to cross the line because she would be too close to a window.

The uncle did not want the neighbors to see a black girl in the home of a white couple, "Despite their Despite their historical presence, Afro-Germansare still looked at today by Germans as foreign or, at best, odd-Afro-German children are born every year, and still, Germans refuse to recognize them."

The speech was well-received by the audience, said Christiana Awosan, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences.
"I really liked it," Awosan said "I've never heard of AfroGermans before. It was very interesting to hear about their heritage - being black and at citizens." time being German

A decision by an SU African-American Studies department search committee regarding the chairperson position is expected in about a month.

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fiuff for all. Call 443-2128 or email lifeqedaily orange.corn.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursctay after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744
Ostrom Ave.

The Daily Orange
Williams conducts yearround drug awareness forums in residence halls in an effort to prevent students from trying drugs. Both Williams and Corbett warned students about certain drugs that seem to be gaining popularity on the \(S U\) campus.
"MDMA (Ecstasy) and GHB, the second generation of 'date rape drugs, are blowing up," Cor-
He said his department once confiscated 40 vials or GHB from a South Campus apartment.
"Sexual predators are using this stuff - it's not to be reckoned with," Corbett said. "America used to be a drug sub-culture and like it or not, today we are a drug culture.

The forum is an effective means of conducting the message of drug awareness, said Michael Riecke, a sophomore broadcast journalism and policy studies major. "It was definitely a learning experience," Riecke said. "I think for me, being a resident advisor, that I should know what's popular and how to recognize these drugs and be aware that they're Syracuse Police LL John Corbett Eives three South Campus area advisers tips for drug prevention during a forum Tuesday night in Goldstoin Student Center.

\section*{VIEW A RENOVATED MODEL APARTMENT AT SOUTH CAMPUS 121 WINDING RIDGE ROAD APT. 6}

OPEN: MONDAY, FEERUARY 21
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1
MONDAY & TUESDAY, MARCH 687
7:00 PM - 8:30 PM
TAKE THE WINDING RIDGE RD. BUS FROM COLLEGE PLACE TO WINDING RIDGE RD.
SOUTH CAMPUS OFFEFS ALL THE FRIVACY OF APARTMENT LIVING YITH THE CONVENIENCE OF UNIVERSITY OWNED HOUSING.

AN AREA ADVISOR WILL BE PRESENT TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE FURNISHED, UTILITIES INCLUDED (PRICES ARE FIXED SO BUDGETING IS EASIER) ACADEMIC YEAR LEASE

OPEN THROUGHOUT THE ACADEMIC YEAR!!!
COME AND SEE WHAT
SOUTH CAMPUS APARTMENTS
HAVE TO OFFER!!!
WHILE YOU ARE HERE, PLEASE VISTT YOUR GOLOSTEIN STUDENT CENTER & ENJOYTHE FACIITY

\section*{WRITE} A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in casth or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{EDGE}

For the record Adolph Eichmann's manuscript - 1.200 pages of flow charts. revisions. ruminations and selfiustifications written in antiquated. nearly illegible longhic Tuesday nearly four lic Tuesday, nearly four decades he was abducted abducted, tried and tried and 7at han Israel for his role in the extermination of six million European Jews. While the memoirs shine little new light on the history of the Holocaust, they do add some grotesque personal touches. Eichmann was kiónapped by Israeli agents in Argentina in 1960 and brought to trias in Israel the next year.

No bones about it Bone marrow testing may provide vital clues to the spread of Cancer, according to a study released this week. When wornen are diagnosed with breast cancer, treatment options are generally determined by the size of the tumo and by and by looking at the car-the carcer cells may have spread via the lymph system in the body. check tymph nodes to see how far the cancer has spread As many as 40 percent of women with cancer cells in the lymph system survive 10 years. and 20 to 30 percent of women who have cancer in the breast but not in the lymph systern go ori to see the malignancy spread to other parts of the body within 10 years.

Changling times The New York area's new media industry has grown explosively in the past three years. according to a wideranging new survey that found that the number of jobs in the sector has more than doubled to nearly and gross revenues have tripled to \($ 16.8\) biltion. tripled to $16.8 bitson content design and development remains the ieading specialty among tocal newinedia firms.

\section*{quote}
of the day:
"Imagination is the highest kite one can fly. Lauren Bacall

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
iffotail:
lfeodaily

\section*{NTM 4. 1.}

\section*{EY SAPNA KOLLAL: \\ Lifestyle Editor}

1,cyis Black doesn't really like polities. He has beca keepngup with this year's cam paigns though, for his own peace or truind.
much as 1 can withontitics as much as I can without falling asicep, suid be stind-ap co: median from Comedy Central's median from Comedy Central's that \(I\) can joke about it, for my own sanity."

Black will make his firstever appearance in Tho Salt City at \(7: 30\) p.m. Thursday in Goldstein Auditorium, along with Gress Rogell of Whe Nanny* and "Comic Strip Live. as part of the Syracuse Iniversity Inwish Studart Inion's Comedyfest.
the Blate of pold he is appalled at the state of polities today.
I've been buting campare and boliticiang, campaigns and politicians have goten worse," he said. "For once, I'd like to actually know the people who are rumaing instead of just seeing lheiz image, reintroduce themselves if the rin again instead of just rummint on theit manue, he contin-dent Ajy Gore is icason enough to belicur dent.
that.
As a performer. Black said one of the big draws of stand-up over other typer of merformance is petting to interiatt with the audience and being able to immediatels sec their reaction
"Its jusi wou and the atudience," hy

\section*{Laughter's allure}

Dave Malkoff, a semior television, madio and film major in the S. I. Newhouse School of Public Cemmunicalions who has per*- formed in finiversity Union comudy sifoves and atlos comedy reer it SU, agreed about stind-up's ap\(\qquad\) awareness of desis in the en tertainment industry:"

HSU has previously hasted Henry winkler, Alan Dershowitz, Wolf Blitzer and Adam Sandier.

Gotilieb said that, in the past, some guests have tailored their performance toward a Jewish audience but Black who is receiving said he doesn't like doing that. Comedy should appeal that. Comedy shouid appeal background.

He did commend JSU for getting him to perform at SU. though.

It really docsn't take much to get me, " he said. Whe Jews were just smart enough Rozell is a semi-regular to college campuses, Gottlieb said. And Black suid he was excited to perform with Rogell. - "Gregs is terrific." he satid. "I've played with him before and it was great. He's a funny guy. It will be a pleasure. Black has begun playing colluges more now, he said, especially because of his papularity with younger audiConces throunh his w peal. Youget from the audience that pou pet, whet her it's good or bad," Je said. "That's addictive. It's a great recions Mfalkoffe member of ISl!, apened last semester for Siaturdits Night lives Jimmerallon and "qot to slvive Norm ralacDomild) to the airpport." me perform and think that limat and shaner" he said. "['m thrilled to work with such talentedpeople known act to whimg retatively wellpresident Jianmat Polthed, i somphemere po-

"Colleges are wheremy natin atidience seems to be," he salid. "They know who I am, and they think I'm funny. Other audiences don't really get it.:

\section*{Tough times}
fiack sitid there once was at time wen he wouldn't play colleges becatuse his

There is: a big difference now than 10 years iga playing it colleses," he sitid. "Yous oo a brick wall. I wanted to ask schools to subinit a collective SAT score before I accepted an offer.

See
GRIND pase 10

\section*{Zimbabwe provides insight}

BY BOY DAVIA
Special Projects Editor
As she walked through the crowded streets of Harare, Zimbabwe, University of Notre Dame senior Amanda Gentile began to understand how racial minorities may sometimes feel in America.

To Gentile, walking though a public market place and not seeing another white face crme as a shock. A student in SU's DiVision of International Programs Abroad her presengram in Spring 1999, Gentile said the white, ruling class did not associate with the black midile class in the African country.
"They stayed in big houses behind gates, she said of the white elite.

Gentile, who wanted to study in Africa ever since she met a woman from Uganda in a homeless shelter, added that the white population still controls Zimbabwe economically and is not a "minority in the same sense" as in America.

While riding on the city's bus line, Gentile said she felt misplaced among the locals. But when she spoke to the passengers in their native language, Swahili, the native language of Zimbabwe, the locals accepted her.
"I was willing to speak their language and not the language of their oppressor, she said.

But Gentile is one of a handful of SU students who participate yearly in SU's A abroad in Harare.
Africas image as a dangerous continent, however, makes it an unpopular choice for students with a desire to study abroad, said James Buschman, associate director of SUT DIPA.

Referring to the media's portrayal of Africa as a war-torn continent plagued by starvation and AIDS, Buschman said these images often deter students from venturing to Harare.

The typical student does not want to study there," he said. "They are afraid. One

See AarDAD page 10

\section*{Washing hands helps students prevent illnesses}

The food in the Syracuse University dining halls may not always seem edible, but at least you don't have to worry about it killing you.
"Ive never seen a case of food poisoning from dining hall food" said Kathleen VanVechten of SU Health Services.

\section*{Jane}

Rushmore
carefree philosopher

But the food may not be the source of the problem. Did you ever stop to contact with all day long? The grimy Syracuse slush Heck, the newsprint on this paper. Your hands probably have a nice collection of bacteria on them by now

One simple action cax help reduce the risk of food poisoning: washing your

\section*{THATKY \\ continued from page 9}

The star of the one－man New York comedy club show，＂Black Humor， Black travels extensively and almost con－ stantly．This week already，he has been to Los Angeles，New York City and Washington，D，Cx，and will head to Cleveland after finishing his perfor－ mance in Syracuse．

Black said he agreed to play SU not only for the smart college audience but for the sports

I＇m a huge college basketball fan and Syracuse is doing pretty well，＂he said．＂But like sports in gencral． mean，I went to UNC．I like to watch big guys push each other around．＂

Black graduated with a theater de－ Gree from the University of North Car olina and attended Yale Drama School With playwriting aspirations in mind Aiter Yale，he rented a room in New York each week for eipht years unt plays joined Craig Kilborn on＂The Daily Soined how．＂ ＂It＇s a lot of fun，＂he said of his regu－ lar Comedy Central stint．＂It＇s a consis－ tently well－written show and I get to work with a lot of talented people．It＇s nice to be on it．It＇s better than being on The Weather Channel or the Home Shop－ ping Network．

In addition to＂The Daily Show＂and regular stand－up routines around the country，Black has appeared in several television shows and movies，including ＂Hannah and Her＇Sisters＂and＂Jacob＇s Ladder．＂He also regularly played Bernie on＂The Days and Nights of Molly Dodd．＂ With such varied experience，Black was not sure what be would speak about Thursday night．
＂Some of it will be about college， some improy，who knows，he said． Maypert place to buy alcohol in the uni－ verse．＂ Black has high ho performance，he said． ＂You＇ve had a few nice days up there， so you should all be over your winter de－ pression，＂he said＂If nothing else，it got me out of Cleveland for an extra day．＂

\section*{ABROAD}
continued from page 9
of the first things they ask is，＇Is it safe？＂

DIPA would not operate an academic program in a city that was not safe，he added

Out of the 730 SU students atudying abroad this year， eight of the 30 students enrolled in the Zimbabwe program were this year atracted 358 to its London Campus and 169 stu－ dents this year enrolled in the Florence program．
f Horace Campbell，director 1993 Harare program from bou to 1996，said ignorance about Africa was one of the when the program was incept－ ed in 1993.

In the past，when there has been a problem in a part of Africa，like Somalia，SU has re－ ceived phone calls asking why the university placed the stu－ dents in danger，when the city is actually over 5,000 miles from Harare，he said
＂I am sure that if there are problems in one European city， the media does not treat Europe the same way that Africa is presented，＂said Campbell，an African－American Studies pro－ fessor in the College of Arts and Sciences．This is the biggest problem and the good thing is that the students who go offer the best antidote to the media vilification of Africa and Africans． Transcending barrists
Those students who do look beyond the negative imagery are usually from various ethnic backgrounds and are inverested in taking Arrican courses Buschman said．

Classes BEGIN MAY 30 REGISTRATION BEGINS MARCH 27
This summer Bingharnton University is offering over 200 day and evenings courses in over 30 areas of study

Term I May 30 －June 30 Term II July 10 －August 11 Term III Variable visit us at http：／／summer．binghamton．edu or call
1.800 .523 .2105
 SESSION BINGHAMTON

Campbell described the typical SU student travelling to Zimbabwe as intellectuals open to studying its rich history． at Weak students were not atcracted to the program be－ cause of the intellectual rigor，＂ he said．

SU senior Krissa Blumre－ ich＇s adventures in Zimbabwe made her realize how much Americans take things for granted，including tasks such as laundry and grocery shop－ ping she said．

Harare is far from a con－ sumerist cuiture，said Biumre－ ich，noting the slim brand se－ lection of food at the grocery also non－existent and a majori－ ty of the population washes laundry by hand．

Blumreich，a political sci－ ence major in the College of Arts and Sciences，taid her de－ cision to study abroad in Harare from the Zimbabwe friends she made as an exchange student in Switzerland．She never consid－ ered looking at other programs ontcinle of Africa，ahe adied．

Students hoping to learn more about Africa were instru－ mental in starting the program in 1993.
＂The work was that of a group of very bright students who felt that if one had the op－ portunity to go to London，Flo－ rence，Madrid there should also be the opportunity to go to Garare，Kampala or Dakar，＂ Campbell said．

The students lobbied DIPA， stressing the importance of earning more abotion that the vercoming the nolion hat ountry was in poverished，he added．

Zimbabwe＇s stable govern－ ment and friendly relations to the United Stateg prompted DIPA to locate in Harare， Buschman said．

Gentile＇s experience as a minority in Zimbabwe alerted her to biases in the media，in－ cluding the black character in the movie＂The Green Mile＂ who could not spell，talk and had a large frame，she said．
＂I can＇t even watch movies，＂she said．＂I can not be－ lieve how racist they are．＂

\section*{目本語を学なぼら！}

\section*{LIVE AND LEARN JAPANESE！}

The Waseda Oregon Transmational Program，Fall 2000 and Spring 2001，is a comparative US－Japanese Sociecies study program that mixes US－based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University，Tokyo，Japan．Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US－Japanese Societies courses in the humanities and social seiences．Seholarships of up to \($ 1000\) are available！For more information，contact：

\footnotetext{
Waseda Oregon Programs Office （800）823－7938
（503）223－7938
info＠opie．org
www．opie．org：
}

sketchy," but she wasn't too worried about it. In general, she avoids the food, "mostly because it doesn't look appecizing, not because of my health," she said.

Stabile is a resident adviser in Walnut Hall and her experiences with food ser vices give her a little extra peace of mind.
thnow every program we do they have to check the stuff with a thermometer so 1 fig-

The free meals she gaid. he dining hall with her RA position are a plus too.

Trovel always knows when it's time for dinner because the fumes drift up to his room on the sixth foor of Haven, "especially all the fried stuff," he said.

For the most part though, he trusts Food Services.

The cooked food doesn't worry me too much," Trovel said. There are always super tuff and it's reassuring on stuff and it's reassuring to see that.

\section*{Hot and cold}

What about those thermometers? Tony Cincotta, the head cook at Haven Dining Hall who has been a Food Services employee for more than 20 years, makes sure that the meat is cooked to temperatures between 140 and 165 degrees, he said. Thermometers are at every food station and the dishes are checked every half-hour. What about the macaroni salad? Anything with mayonnaise is protentiany danazerous 40 degrees, Cincot to be kept at 40 degrees, Cincotla eplained. The cold cuts and salad fixings are placed at the are iced to be kept cool. Anything that has been a room temperature for more than four hours is pulled.

As soon as Cincotta is done with the cutting board it goes in the back room to get sanitized, he said.
"We use a product called Quat Sanitizer Two," he said. The product cleans and disinfects without using bleach.

Everything in the kitchen s stainless steel, making it easier to sterilize at the end of the day. Cincotta is responsible for putting all the leftovers away.
ay. four hours, I have to drop the temperature of the heated dishes) between 50 and degrees to store it," he said.

Kathy Hellinger, the supervisor at Haven Dining smallest containers possible store the food.
We put all the rood away in two-inch-long black pans called chaffing pans for the food to cool down evenly," she said.

These precautionary measures, the thermometers and the attention to keeping things clean, are as much for continued from page 9 ands. Mom knew what was good for us when she made u at the dinner table.

\section*{JANE}

Forty-four percent of Americans forget to wash according to a recent press release from the American Dietetic Association.

Francesca Stabile, a gradute law student, said she only remembers to wash her hands when she goes to th "My mom got me into the habit when I was younger, but guess it wore off, she said. Andrea Palumbos, a junior English and textural studies mor in the College of Arts a Sciences, realized that hashed her hands only three times she ate.
"Gosh that sounds disgusting, doesn't it? I guess I never really think about it, she said. "I just wash my hands after I go to the bathoom."

Chris Trovel, a third-year architecture major, said he tries to raake a more conscious effort. He washes his hands
"I'd want to hope that averyon

In addition to washing your hands, the American Dietetic Association recommends three other methods for preventing food poisoning. Americans should cook their ood to proper temperatures, from ready-to-eat foods and refrigerate lefovers promply at 40 degrees Fahrenheit to urther reduce the risk of food poisoning.

Most students have a meal plan, and therefore the responsibility of the safe food preparation is left to the campus dining halls.

Palumbos described din-hall food as "definitely

\section*{Guy Talk}

So how was that \(\qquad\) . I heard the music was \(\qquad\) .

Yea it was \(\qquad\) . The cops came at like \(\qquad\) , which sucked. At least by then I had drank \(\qquad\) beers so I was doing alright. So I saw you \(\qquad\) with that verb ending ing chick, \(\qquad\) Yeal stayed at her \(\qquad\) It was cool girl's name till she pulled that 'no' crap. I knew she wanted it.

Rape. It's not fun and games. It does happen.
Sexual confact with someone who has not consented or who is unable to consent is sexual assault. Sexual assault that involves penetration is known as Rape.
\(68 \%\) of rapes occur between the hours of 6pm and 6am.
No means No period. Learn more about the definition of rape and sexual abuse and the University's policies by coming to the University R.A.P.E. Center or visiting us on the web.

We're here to help.
University R.A.P.E, Center
111 Waverly Avenue
(315) 443-RAPE
http://students.syr.edu/depts/rape design by, Cara Gardner '00 students' health as for their peace of mind. The dining halls take care of three out of the four food poisoning prevention measures. It's up to So, listen to your mother and wash your hands.

Jane Rushmore is a junior magazine major. Her column appears Wednesdays. E-mail her at jrrushmo@syr.edu.

\section*{Congratulationf Della Della Delta new members 2000}

\section*{\(\Delta\) \\ \(\Delta\) \(\Delta\)}

Anne Bamann Elissa Brown Shanna Bruno Laura Carder Julie Carp Melissa Cossman
Dana Delisa
Melissa Dios Ashley Dombeck Jessica Edelman Sara Finkelstein Sarah Fox Lucy Freda Jessica Hackel Allison Hopke Dana Jolly Lucia Knight

Maria Kwesiga MaryAnne King Missy Kurek Jen Kraeger Julie Korner Amanda McDonogh Brianna Michaels Megan Nelson Jessica Osickey Christitine Procopio Kimberly Sperber Kristin Sheehan Genevieve Sloup Juli Trush Alexis Wall Sarah A. Williams Callie Elizabeth Wolk

\section*{The Daily Orange}
"Regardless if it's Senior Night or not," SU junior Beth Record said, "we should come out like it was our last game. If we play every day like it's our Senior Night, and reverse the roles a little bit, we could use it to our advantage."

Record tallied 15 points for the Orangewomen, while Jaime James added 14 points on four 3-pointers.

SU's toughest defender, Jakia Ervin, managed to shut down BC's leading scorer, Cal Bouchard, who poured in 28 points in the first meeting beson. The senior from Canada scored just a half-dozen points on the evening.

SU's biggest struggle, though, came inside the paint. Centers Leigh Aziz and Tara Trammell, who grabbed a ca-reer-high 10 rebounds, shot a combined 4-of-15 from the field.

Neither player could do much to slow down Cournoyer on the interior whe made 11-of-17 attempts from the floor.
"She shot over 50 percent," BC head coach Kathy Inglese said. "She's capable of doing What's nice about it is that we spread the floor a little bit more, and that enabled her to get the ball.

BC had plentiful spacing and created several easy baskets by dighing out 21 assists while the Orang aged just six.
We weren't patient with the basketball," Freeman said. us, we made one pass and shot us, we made one pass and shot the ball. Tcalled we need to make told my team we need to make them defend."
With the loss, Syracuse fell to \(0-8\) in conference road games, while BC finished the campaign 14-0 on its home floor.

Syracuse finishes the year 12th in the conference and will play Georgetown at 2 p.m. on Saturday in Storrs, Conn., in the first round of the Big East tournament. Syracuse defeated the Hoyas 77-62 at Manley earlier in the season.
"When the Big East tournament comes, it's a whole new season," Record said. You kind of start fresh. Thats kind start fresh and get out and come with the same determination we did early in the season."

\section*{LEAGUE}

\section*{continued from page 16}

Rutgers, Notre Dame, Connecticut and Virginia Tech enter the league along with SU next spring. The decision stemmed from the introduction of automatic tournament bids for particular conferences beginning this season, Notre Dame conch Tracy Coyne said.

Currently, only the AtIantic Coast Conference and the top Division II squad receive automatic qualifications. But if the current plan to increase the tournament from 12 to 16 teams gains NCAA 12 to 16 teams gains NCAA approval, the total number of approval, the total number of conferences formed and \(A Q s\) distributed might reach eight, Syracuse head coach Lisa Miller said.
"With changes in the game the NCAA is making in terms of conference champs earning AQs," Coyne said, "it definitely influenced our opinion on forming a league. I've always been in favor of it because it's a wonderful opportunity for student-athletes in good media markets like the Big East to be well-respected nationwide.

Miller believes playing for a league title should give her team added motivation and create rivalries for regu-lar-season games.
"Conference play is exciting in that little steps come within big ateps," she said. "In the past, we looked to regional games first, and now we have to take care of the conference games. If we can win those, then we should have a shot at an AQ. We are a viable conference, and I would assume the NCAA will give us one."

Last spring, future Big East squads Rutgers and Georgetown qualified for the NCAA Tournament. Miller said the bids - and the quality of upstart programs such as Virginia Tech, Notre Dame and UConn - should give Big East teams' schedules greater weight when tourney selection time arrives.

Miller foresees two or

\section*{S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications}

GRAMMAR, PUNCTUATION, AND SPELLING EXAM
Saturday, March 25
10:00A - 11:00A in A1 NCCI
A review session will be held on Monday, March 6, at 5:30 p.m. in A1 Newhouse I. This is the last exam offered this semester. A passing grade is needed for admission into ADV 207, NEW 205, PRL 205, and TRF 255. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.

\section*{Comedyfest}

\section*{three teams coming out of the Big East for next season's NCAA tournament, proving the league worthy of an \(A Q\),} she said.
\({ }^{\text {MIf we schedule intelli- }}\) gently as a conference, which I think we are conscious of, then we should get a few teams in after next season," Miller said.

Coyne said the formation of new conferences and awarding automatic qualifications will allow the Big East to challenge traditional powers from the ACC and earn national attention.
"It's fair to say that the status quo is not happy with the formation of conferences within women's lacrosse," Coyne said. "For example, I don't know if the preseason rankings express the strength of the game. A lot reflect hiscory, and people need to expand their view and give newer teams a look.

Miller said she believes the Big East can rival the ACC in competitiveness in a edgeable coaches and talented student-athletes.

Also to the Big East's advantage is the location of many of its schools, Coyne said. The fact that Syracuse, Georgetown and Virginia Tech are located in three top lacrosse hotbeds should help the conference gain media attention and land top recruits, she said.

Additionally, Coyne believes the youth movement among coaches adds a fresh approach to young teams.
"The Big East is increas ingly becoming known as a premier all-sport conference. not just a basketball or football league," Coyne said. "Both the more-established and the up-and-coming programs are well-supported by their administrations and all have strong coaches. This can be a conference very competitive on the national level. Many teams are on the verge of stepping into the lime light."
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Digital Printing} \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{hi-res color/bsw output} \\
\hline XEROX DocuColor 40 & CANON CIC 700 \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{2 Great Choices for Color Printing From Your Mac or PC Filles} \\
\hline \[
\text { centers } 4720
\] &  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{This Sunday March 5 \(18+\) older \\ BLEAGHERS VERSION OF SUNDAY SGHOOL Hip Hop the night away ( Syith DJ C-mix \\ Classes start at Spm Old Liverpool Rd. \\ \(451-4.841\)}

Academic couple seeks EGG DONOR 21-28
for East Coast clinic. Right candidate compensated apprx \($ 7500\) plus expenses. Outstanding SAT's and academics, analytical, even-tempered, dark hair and eyes, olive complexion, even-featured, \(5^{\prime} 7^{\prime \prime}\) or taller, and lean/athletic build. Please describe motivation along w/ several [returnable] photos to: POB 22, West Kingston, RI 02892. all serious replies answered.

Sleep Deprivation

Out of Town
by David Pollack

No Point

by Ethan Schmidt

THE POPE QUESTIONS PRIESTS ABOUT CONTRACTING AIDS

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

by Thane Benson MR SkRzT? YEAH,LKE

Mr. Skizz

Eat the Lettuce

the Letuce

Classic
Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 &\) each additional word \(5 c\) extra each boid word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word
 Deadline: 2pm 2 bustiness days prios to run ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daiay Orange; 744 Ostiom Avenue;
Syracuse, NY 13210; Ati: Classifieds: OR Syracuse. NY 132 10; Alt: Classitieds; OR Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315 \cdot 443-3689\)

Notices
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Attention Fermales: \\
- Is your eating out of control? \\
- Are you at least 21 years old \\ and a scoial drinker? \\
Cali 443.g462 to EARN \(\sin\) \\
a ConFIDENTIAL study. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Autos}

Jeep Wrangler, 974 eyinder, Fed whlack solt lop io,000 beat call 476 -7097 see photo in Auto Funder Magazine must sell.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT \\ NEED EXPERIENCE (and money?) Join a fast.}
tun and growng company as your canpous representative. Fiexibie hours, responsibilitie and compettire pay. No
.personaly needed. Vist information and to fill out an online application.
Cruise Lines Hiring, Cnuise Lines now hiring als pasitions. Call \(1-800-669-6430\)
II you live in North Jersey. tove sunshine. wamm weather, kids: would like to meel new frends and weathet, kids: would like to meel new friends and have weeks and evenings Oit., DO WE HAVE THE JOB FOR YOUCOUNSEI hIVE weeks and evenings OH. DO WE HAVE THE JOB FOR YYU COUNSELOAS and SPECIALISTS -Latge summer day tamp, Mon-Fri, SPECIALISTS -Laige sumnmer day camp, Mon- Fri, a wk season, Morns County N, Openings tor
Gineral group counsellors. waleriforit \(&\) Rooting
 Campus Rep. 473-1264
Camp Couns elors Top Overnight Camps in Gourmed Colfee Shop located in SUNY Hospita Fing manager, Expenence needed in inventoy control, cash handing. trantang customer servico skilts. Heasth cate berefits and salary negotiable. Fax tesume to \(757.565 \cdot 6354\)
Goumel Collee shop located at SUNY Hosplial noeds PLiF1. No sate ny
Call 800 - \(282-2233\) ext 17 .

Job Opportunities
BONUSES pius guaranteed hourly rate tor
Syracuse Stage "Angel Appeal Campagn.: Syracuse Stage "Anget Appeal Campagn.: workng atmosphere. On bus-line. Mon-Thur. 5-9PM. 1/17-3/19. Requised pleasant speaking vorce. goal oriented, postive attude. \(443-1158\)
Unvessity Sartencing Classes Star Soon
Sludent Discounts i-Boo-U-CA nwwuniversitybartencing com Spuce is Limiter Cala For mismation!!!!
CALLING ALI SCREENWRITERS, ACTORS. OIRECTORS! Jurnp start your careert For a getascovered hot-shot com BONUSES plus quaranteed heufy rate tor Syracuse Slage Angel appeal Campign: Nice 5-9PM. 1/17-3/19. Requred pleasant speaking voice, goal orienlod, posilive atilude. \(443-1158\)

WANTED
Child Care
Cicero coupie seeking student to provide part-time child care in our home tor 4 year-old and

Help Wanted
\($ 1500\) weekly polential maiting our circulars. No Expenence Required. Free intomation packeL Call \(202-452-7679\). SFUNDPAUSERS Open to surdent groupa & organizations. Eam ss per MC app. We supply al

\section*{Roommates}

Roommate wantad for falt sempstar 2200 only Hlepsonably pricect 476-2982

FOR RENT
Consticer nicely himished quiet 12.23 bectromm paking ubilies included close waik SU hospitais reasonable 479-2542
```

Three Eedroom Apartment

```

```

bedroms, and bath. of sireet garage parking. Laundry tacity in Duilding.
Five bedroom House Five bedrocm House
Spacious wive Bedrom, completety furnished House with front and tear porches. Living Rom with litepaci Eation Kitchen WI ISHWASHER and five are bedroms, OISHWASHER and five large bedroorns, and
TWO FULL Bathroons OH streel parking with garage. FREE Laundry lacility in buiding.
CALL $430-5188$ after $1: 00 \mathrm{pm}$

```

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
pLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM

BEDMENTS AND 4,5,
HOUSES.
WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
3 is Euciud Ave
145 Avondale Place
Availabla for 2000-2001
Futly Furnished,
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Parking. Full Time
Maintenance and Management,
Wall so Wall Carpet andfor Refinished Hard Wood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Westcon/ Euct:d renovated \(3+4\) bedroom avall \(6 / 1\) $550-5720 Pill parking DNW Pat 263-3415
Universty Area 2-3 Eedroom tumisthed
Anorments Single Houses for rent. Call
Sim 68.7473
BEDAOOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Fuly Furnished, Laundry
Maintenance ard Management,
Wall to Wall Capet and/or Refinished Hardwood Flowrs
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St #30
479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Apartments ciose to campus clean 2-3.5
bedrooms some with fireptace taundry bedrooms soma with iireplace landicy zemiturnished reasonable price 487-5761.
Univertily Ave Three Bedroom Flat Close Watk
 plus tivities D.N.Dnucker \(445-1229\)
4 Bdrm House \(5300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 borm lats s250'rm. Avai Aug. Ver
Group 637.5195
Ackernan Beausilut Large Furnished Flats Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Bedroonss. Porches.
Fireplaces, Garapes, Laundry. Pel OK 446-3420

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom} Homes /
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems
remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices
478-6504 University Ave. five bedroom House one block
Irove Marshall Street lurnisted laundry pakking tease Si.300.00 plus utitues D.N. Dnuker \(445-1229\) GREAT LOCATION 228 Euclid, arross from Shaw, 4 bedroon, reasonable rent, parking, dishwasher Landy. microwave, porch Jerry or Tina -474-7541, 446-6318

Ackerman Ave, 4br 2 beath apt, Fumished, carpeted, walk to campus. Weat mainlained.
5.00-5.01 lease \(446-7202\) 5000-5.01 lease 446-7202
4 Bedrooms. OaklandSL. 1 Elock ESF, 3Block Lawt Hospitals, Lumished, parking. Laundry, porches, Excellent condition, August, \(475-0650\)
1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments, Beautiful, Spacious, Sale, Ouieh, Close 476-0295
Stop cloan 3 bedroom apartmenta Fireplace. parklng, faundry, se.
University and Comatock Very close to Campus Efticiencies and Two pedroms Secure bldg.
turnished laundry parking \($ 375.00\) to \($ 700.00\)
Incluces All Uulities 445-1229 D.N. Ducker Lid.
Two Eecitcoun க̇pariments on Euciidí Fumisinedi, Heat included, hardwood foors, Doith, recently remodeled, laundy. parking, 476-2992 remodeled, laundry. panking. \(46 \cdot 29 B 2\)
\begin{tabular}{c}
ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM \\
APARTMENTS \\
SPACIOUS, FURNSHED. DISHWASHER. \\
PARKING \($ 175\) PER MONTH \\
\(\mathbf{4 7 6 - 9 9 3 3 ~}\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Apartments
Your off-campus
home for 2000-01
Nicely furnished
apartments.
double beds
dishwashers
microwave
washer/dryer
carpeted
off street parking
owner managed
CALL TODAY
PETER 427-0052
Looking lor a place to ive? wwwhousing101.net..
Yout move of campus!
Free roommate subler istings

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.}

Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug

445-0540

1,2,3,4+5 bedroom apatments. Funnished, all cainites Inclusded, laundry, parking. One block avaitability. 425-1883.
Ackeman fumished spacious two Bdrm ott streel Ackemman fumished spacious two Borm onf sBedrooms fumished rat wilh all utifies inctuded One block from campus near Law School +ESF. 2 Fitl bathrooms, carpet, laundry, panking. Ava
Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. 477 -1574
One and Two Bedroom
Fumished Apartments. Comter of Wainut and Available fnid August. 3 bedroom llat very near ESF on OaklandSt. furnished or unfumithed option, Livingrom with fireplace, diringroom, new kikhen, porch, coin-op wastert dryer, \(425-\mathrm{aiba}\)

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus,

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Studio, One and Two Bedroom Âpis. ciose to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom tlat, furrished, stove, tefng, taundry, fiepptace, garage.
Avail June ist 446 -4229

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Eedroom Apt Ackerman Ave 6-1-00 \\
Fully Furnished Porches, Laundry Parking, Distwasther Owner Manager 682.2218
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Furnished 2-58edroom Houses/ Apantments
Livingsion, Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469.6665
University 283 日edroom TownHouses & Flats. inexpensive and mint condtion. Washerforye Fireplace, linished basement, Call 449-0109.
2Bedroom Largeflat available June, July,August Oil-st.parking dishwasher layndry NewCarpet sone thmature on busline
2 Bedroem Apts 200 20s Ostrom 105 Eusid Terrace Large Rooms Hardwood Hoors Avail June or Aug 446-5136

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
1,2,3-4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
microwaves, \\
disponal. \\
secritems systens \\
All Locations / \\
Prices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS

604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Usilities included. Fully lurnished. Rents start at \($ 275\). Relinished hardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats.
Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry.
Wig. 24, mantenance.
University Area Apts 479-5005

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comsteck Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wail to wall carpet.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms.
Lowest rents for modem,
new construction
University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, DIshwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking, Landry,
Off Street Parking, Lzundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

TOAD HALL
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher Laundry. Low utifities Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven)
Unlversity Aras Apts
www.unlvorathyaras.eom 479-5005

1,2,3,4 85 Edrm Apartments, Houses
Clean. Spacious, Superior Condition, some recently renovated. Walking distance, taundry, parking 474-6791 Surroner Special. Newty remodefed 4 bedroom flat. \($ 225.00\) per person 2 tull ballurams, washer. dryer, parking. porch

\section*{Avalable 5/21-a/17 472-5819}

\section*{MURPHY}
continued from page 16
"Filligg out the Big East ballots for Player of the Year ... you can't choose your own player," Doherty said. "But when I can with player," Doherty said. "But when I can with the All-American ballots, I put Troy's name down. He's the focal point of the other team's defense, and he's still been able to put up some great numbers.

Despite his gaudy stats, Murphy does not worry about numbers. He wants to take the Irish to the NCAAs.

The squad's chances looked good at one point. Quality wins against Top 25 tearas Ohio Suate, Connecucut and Sk.John's put them in position for a solid RPF rating

The ball was in the Irish's hands, but they fumbled and, hence, tumbled in the standings. An 89-79 loss to Providence a week ago - Friars reserve Danta Wade canned 10 threes and scored 38 points - did not help the Fighting Irish cause.

Neither did a 55-52 loss to Miami in which Murphy and Matt Carroll missed lastsecond shots to tie the game.

After hosting SU, Notre Dame hops to Washington, D.C., for a showdown with Georgetonn and Square
ment.
but the Irish must increase their intensity if they harbor any remaining NCAA Tourney hopes. "We haven't played with a lot of energy and amotion the last couple games," he said. We have been lackadaisical with our execution.
"We're a young team, and a lot of times we play to the level of our opponents. We competed with UConn, and we were in the Syracuse game until (Preston) Shumpert went off."

In the game Murphy speaks of, Shumpert torched Notre Dame for seven 3-pointers and Gished with 26 points, exploiting the Irish's \(2-3\) zone delense.

Doherty plans to stick with the defensive scherne, saying it is the Irish's hallmark

With SU hitting \(\mathbf{3 6 . 4}\) percent of \(i\) ts 3 pointers, Doherty's scheme is risky.

And if Syracuse continucs to play like it did in the second half in Sunday's \(67-52\) win against Georgetown, head coach Jim Boeheim thinks the Orangemen can show well against the Irish and at No. 24 Connecticut on Saturday.
"I think we're getting better in some areas," Boeheim said. "We have two very difficult games left. I think these are games that will help us to become a better team. This league is very difficult. The teams in the middle of the pack can beat you."

\section*{Each game is significant, Murphy said, \\ [classifieds] \\ Chaming English Tudor House on Contstock 6 Bedrooms, Fireplace, across from Wormens Bidg. Bedroonts, Fireplace, across from Avail 520 475-1012, (B43)514-3881 \\ RENT YOUR OWN HODE FOUR OR FVE EEDROC H HOUSE WO FREPLACES, FURNISHED 476-9933}
 \begin{tabular}{l} renovaled. Perfect lor a \\
Call \(424.7887 .682-3304\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
GREAT HOUSES, \\
GREAT LOCATION \\
800 BLOCK OSTROW 5 BEDROOUS OFF SITEET PARGNG, GIAEPLACE LAUNDAY DISHWASHER HARDWOOD CALL BRAD 424-0218: 423-9142
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University micely fumished \(S\) bedroom sluty house 3 car garage extra parking included close walk to su hospitis SU hospitals law 478-2542

\section*{UNIVERSITY Hill REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHLLLCOM Large 1 bedroom House, Huge of Street Parking House For Rent 2 minutes from Main Campus
Seven Bds ott street parking Phone \(458-0483\) large Singie Fantily funkhed house Pandug. tirepiace, Bez 3304

Nancy P Uk. Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\section*{THEDAIEXORANGE} Classified Advertising
Thedeadine for classified advertisements is \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). two business days orio to the is sue in whith the ad is to

菲
Notre Darne Fighting Trish Syracuse meets Notre Dame at 9 p.m. tonight at the loyce Centef.

23-3 (12.2 Eig East), ranked No. 9 in the nation and leading the conference by one game over Miami and St. John's.
Jim Boeheim (572-196, 24th year)
C Etan Thomas 13.8 ppg .8 .8 rpg 3.9 bpg . G lason Hart \((12.0 \mathrm{ppg}\) 6.5 apg ). F Fyan Blackwell (20.5 ppe. 7.4 rag

A win for SU tocks up at least a tie for the Big East crown. In their meeting in South Bend in lantary 1999, Elackwell held Notre Oame's Troy Muphyy to just frive points and zero field goals. The Orangernen own three straight wins over ND, the last an 80.57 triumph jan. 16. Preston Shumpert camned 7 -af.9 threes against a passive frish zone in the game.

Big East
\(16-12\) (7.7 Big East), tied for sixth place in the league with with villanova

Matt Doherty (16-12. Ist year)
F Troy Murphy (23.1 ppg. 10.5 rog\(). \mathrm{G}\) David Graves (13.2 pDE. 4.9 rag. 3.0 apg). G Jimmy Ditlon (4.0 ppg. 5.9 apg)

With a precarious seat on the NCAA Tournament bubble. Notre Dame needs a win to squeeze back into the touney face. The fish own quality wins over Ohio State. Connecticur and Seton Hall, but fell to Pittsburgh. Providence and Miami of Ohio. Donerty's charisma and Murphy's talents boosted student attendance and energy. making the JACC an even tougher environment to book a win.

\section*{Alpfia Pfiides} pronafly anmoumces its new members

Emify Brucato Kntie Burleson Laryssa Butfovicfi Emily Carfivatif Lourren 2:tfer Kcóceca D'Aurlato Sepfiera Dasufinaraf Findry Daviáson Kaitfint Derderiart Cfristina Finigan Emify Gerfzotaf Amírca Hiflack Cyutefia Iffingu'ortfi AGGy Katictia Erizz Mafortcy Marissa McGowars Rence Mefira Micfurfe Mandara
Klai Messiza
Mofly Molloy
Lindsay Nowaf
Jessica Orof
Arsent [Peters
Tracy Feff
Mara Radkovicla
Cfuristiatha Rfice
Hrandi safford
3rcium Sisulote
Cfirista Solfanefli
Lataren Sofomon
Itcatier tiafarico
Kelfy Thambulf
Jemuifer Way
Micficffe Wurtz
Kristifa Wyati

Welcome pirls!

The Syracuse University Drama Department Presents

\section*{Much Ado About Nothing}
by

\section*{William Shakespeare}

\author{
Directed by \\ Gerardine Clark
}

Feb. 25, 26, Mar. 1*, 2, 3, 4 at 8 p.m.
Feb. 27, Mar. 5 at 2 p.m.
*Mar. 1 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517
Drava
Storch Theatre
820 E. Genesee St.

\section*{orarige NOTES}

Women's baskethall No. 19 Boston Coll. 80

\section*{Orangewomen}
(10-17, 3-13)
Player
Aziz
James
Perry
Ervin
Wright
Trammell

Eagles (23-7, 12-4) Player
Few Murphy Cournoyer Stepherson abanion Conway Shields Spears Magarity

\section*{Rushing back}

The NCAA recluced the suspension of UCLA's JaRon Rush from 29 to nine games Monday, leaving the sophomore forward eligible for Saturday's game against Stanford. Rush allegedly received benefits from his AAU coach. Myron Piggie, while stiil in nigh schooi. The NCAA suspended Rush on Feb. 1 for 29 games, the equivalent of a full season. Rush would sit the final 12 games this season and the first 17 next season.

He also must pay back the \($ 6,525\) he allegedly received, with th going to charity.
going to charity.
UCLA coach Steve Lavin said Rush's return should spark his squad "We've had a really tough season," he said "and this is a huge lift fo the team."

Racket in the gracket
The closer we come to Selection Sunday, the less variation we'll find in the tournament seeding predictions.

CBS SportsLine's Dennis Dodd pencils the Orangemen into the No. 3 slot in the South, facing a dangerous Central Connecticut St. team in the first round in ESPN com's.

Lunardi flies SU to Lunardi flies Siz., in the West as a No. 4 seed, taking on as a No. 4 seed, taking which he says should be Siena.

Should all go accordingly in Lunardi's bracket, SU would face the fifth-seeded Indiana Hoosiers in the second round. The Orange would face the Fightin Illini of Illincis in the second round of Dodd's bracket.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. With which active coach is Jim Boeheim tied for 10th all-ime in NCAA Tournament wins? yesterday's trivia: Q. In men's basketball, who's Notre Dame's alltime leading scorer? A. The sweet-shooting Austin Carr scored 2,560 points over his illustrious fouryear career at ND.

\title{
[sports] \\ Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 1, 200010 Murphy, Irish take on SU
}

Syracuse's Ryan Blackwell has the number of Notre Dame's Troy Nurphy. The SU forward fimited the Irish's potential Alfirmerican to 6-for-17 shooting in their first game this year.

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN \\ Asst. Sports Editor}

The Golden Boy under the Golden Dome has done everything but shine against the Syracuse Orangernen.
Troy Murphy, Notre Dame's should-be All-American, averages 23.1 points and 10.5 rebounds per game.

He shoots a blazing 50 percent from the field, a workmanlike 80 percent from the foul
But as Inish in blocks and steals. 9 p.m. tonight at the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center - a must-win game for the Fighting Irish and their NCAA Tournament hopes - it will bank on Murphy to deliver one of his typically huge games.

Problem is, the sophomore can't figure out how to flaunt his stuff against SU forward Ryan Blackwell.
"I think he is the toughest guy I've played against in my college career," Murphy said. "He's a great competitor, and I look forward to playing against him. I'm going to have to be on top of my game.
ont-10 Murphy drapped 22 pints and on Jan. 16, the -foot-10 Murphy droppedizpland grabbed 10 re But his 6-of-17 shooting - 2-of-4 in the second bal

Buth 6 - 17 percent 0 its second-half shots.

Murphy's subpar shooting numbers were an improvement upon his earlier showings against the Orangemen.

He hit nary a feld goal in first game against SU last season, going 0 -for-11 from the field and scoring just five points in as 75-63 loss. cult to find open shots, let alone hit them.
"He never falls asleep on defense," he said. "He stays alert the entine game. He is a great defender and he's real tough."

Syracuse's senior forward has a backup plan in the middle with Etan Thomas, who stands fifth in the na ion in blocked shots per game. The 6-foot-9 center's presence provides plad
"It's the same as alwaid
(I make him take tough shots and let Etan help me when he gets inside.

Murphy's troubles against SU (23-3, 12-2) have not translated onto other courts.

He led ND in scoring 23 times and in rebounding . He scored 30-plus points eight times. And his coach, praise to Murph

The ebullient Doherty talks about Murphy like a son, bragging of great on-court play and an affable offcourt demeanor.

See MURPHY page 15

\section*{Big East lax now reality for women}

BY CHRIS SNOW
Staff Writer
When the 2001 lacrosse season opens, the Syracuse women's team will have an added prize to play for - the first-ever Big East women's lacrosse championship.

Commissioner Michael Tranghese announced last week the formation of the Big East women's lacrosse league, approved unanimously by all 14 of the conference's athletic directors. The decision introduces women's lacrosse as the league's 20 th sport and 11 th for females.
"Women's lacrosse is agrowing sport within the NCAA, Tranghese said. We have schools institutions want to compete un der the Big East banner."

Boston College, Georgetown,
See LEAGUE page 12

\section*{Eagles down Orangewomen}

\section*{BY CHRIS WOJCIK}

Staff Writer
BOSTON - The Syracuse Orangewomen looked beet red in the face as they walked onto the Conte Forum parquet Tuesday night.

SU was battling its new sunburn after a weekend trip to the Sunshine State.

And even though it was 40 degrees cooler in Beantown than Miami, the Orangewomen got scorched again.

This time, Boston College's Alissa Murphy and Jamie Cournoyer Eambles singed Syracuse 80-60.
"We have to learn how to defend," SU head coach Marianna Freeman said. "Defensively, we never picked up the type of intensity that we needed to play mainst them. We just didn't do a good job defensively, and they exploited our weakness:

The Eagles played unselfish basketball against a lackadaisical SU defense en route to a school record 23rd win.

Despite shooting 54 percent from
See ORANEEWOMEN page 12

SU fonvard Beth Record scored 15 points and grabbed aight nebounds in the 80-60 loss to Bostion Colloge on Tuesday. Syracuse's laading scorer, howeve could not help contain Aussa Murphy, who scored polnts.

[do.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

Championship Chase
SU lacrosse teams start national title runs. See Lacrosse Preview.

Decision 2000
New Yorkers prepare for Super Tuesday primary. See pages 4-6.

\section*{Freund assesses university}

BY NICK SERRANO Staff Writer

Syracuse University stands only five steps away from future success, Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund said Wednesdiay.
Freund, who came to SU in August from Indiana University at Bloomington, presented a five-point-plan to a facof her State of the University address. her State of the University adaress.
"She has an understanding of the iversity," suid Chancellor Kenmeth A. Shaw, who introduced Freund. "All five points she made were all right on target." Freund called for improvements to faculty recruitment and retention, as well as graduate and undergraduate programs. She also proposed campus renovation plans and called for a higher level of diversity in students and faculty.

Her speech was effective because it had only these five points, Shaw said. "I was pleased that she didn't have 15," he said. "I think they're all things on which we have to take initiative. There will be trade-offs as far as what to emphasize, but the vice chancellor is notgo ing to bring things up just to taik about thern.
and do them want focus on a few things Making room

SU has \($ 170\) million to spend on establishing more physical space for academic departments. Freund said.

Many departments, particularly in the humanities, need this space, she added. Since the university does not have to build more buildings and make addiSee UNíNEESITY page e
 Wednesday for improvernents to the umhersity.

\section*{Star studded}

\section*{- Police Reports:}

\section*{College details embezzlement \\ Staff Reports \\ said was an excess of \($ 11,190.10\) for work that he}

The Syracuse University School of Architecture reported Thursday \($ 12,738.85\) missing from ture reported Thursday \($ 12,738.85\) missing from their work study budget, according to a police se-

\section*{port.}

Police are investignting two SU architecture tudents, Brace Sparano and Mark Fhonds, on charyes of emberzlement, the report said.

The two students are suspected of collecting the money by lying on time cards about the actual number of hours they worked, the report said.

Sparano allegedly received what the school did not do, the report said. Sparano has worked for the school zince 1998, the report said. Rhoads, who started working for the school last semester, allegedly took \($ 1,548.75\), the report said. Neither atudent could be reached for comment.

W A resident of the Apha Phi sorority honse, 308 Walnut PL, reported Tuesday repeated harassment calls, zocording to a police report.

See COPS page 10

\section*{Speaker attacks sweatshops}

College students drive the U.S. anti-sweatshop movernent, said a National Labor Committee official Wednesday.
"Don't underestimate the enormous power you've got." Charles Kermaghan, executive director of the committee, toid 200 stulents assembled in Cran is lying. Thi hattle is orly soing to be otherwise is lying.
\(n\) by pressure.
The New

Group and the Studentic Interest Research Labor invited Kernagtan to speak about his role

See SWEATSHOP page 8

SThey don't tell you that children made the clothing. It's criminal. 2

CHARLES KERNAGHAN executive director of the National Labor Committee

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Report states Asians} as ant 'alien presence' Open hostility and bis otry against Asian Americans may have declined since Wordd War II when Japanese Americans were incarcerated as security risks, but the United States' estimated 11 States' estimated 11 million people of Asian ancestry still cannot escape from being perceived as "foreigners," a far-reaching public policy report released Wednesday said.

The 507-page study entitled, "The State of Asian Pacific America: Transforming Race Relations," was reported and written by more than and written by more than a dozen scholars in disciplines from political science to urban planning at institutions ranging from the University of Califomia system to Califomia system to Harvard and Brown.
Intended to reach policy makers, the report cy makers, thet the prevait ing narrow view of race as a white-olack issue Asians and other popuia tion yroups.

\section*{Nationally known} lawyer Janofsky, dies

LOS ANGELES Leonard S. Janofsky, Los Angeles law firm of Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker and president of several county, state and national attomeys orgenizations, has died. He was 90.

Janofsky died of heart failure early Wednesday in his home, said his son, attomey Join \(S\). Janofsky.

A respected trial lawyer in labor relations, Leonard Janofsky guided the firm from its criginal four partners in the \(1950 s\) to more than 650 attomeys. Janofsky's attorneys. Janofsky's tities as head of legal tities as head of legal associations mounted as associations mounted regulaty as his courtroom victories, giving the lawyer political clout far

\section*{beyond his Angeles.}

Angeles. Duming, composer for film, dies

George Duning, proGeorge Duning, prolific composer of for television and for television and motion pictures who motion pictures who was nominated for Academy Awards five times, has died at the age of 92.
Duning, who scored such classic films as "From Here to Etemity" and "Picnic," died Sunday at Alvarado Hospital in San Diego of cardiovascular disease.

During his 15 years with Colurnbia, Duning composed music for about six motion pictures a year, including "Let No Man Write My Epitaph," "My Sister Eileen," and "Houseboat."

\section*{Gunman kills 1, wounds 4 \\ WILKINSBURG, Pa. - \\ investigators try to piece togeth-}

A gunman set fire to his apartment, killed one man and critiWaly wounded four others ing hostages, the second consecutive day that sudden gunfire rattled an American community and jumped into national prominence.

One of the injured victims appeared unlikely to survive, medical authorities in nearby Pittsburgh said after 39 -year-old Pittsburgh said after 39 -year-old suspect Ronald Taylor released suspect Ronald Taylor released the hostages and surrendered. the hostages and surrendered.
He is awaiting arraignment as investigators try to piece togethhis motive.
Wilkinsburg Police Chief Gerald Brewer declined to respond to questions about race as a poos press conference. Nor would he reveal the race of the victims. which was confirmed by hospital officials.

The shooting - centered on a pair of fast food restaurants before the lunch hour - was folbefore the lunch hour- was followed 24 hours later by the lowed 24 hours later by the shooting of one first-grader by another in Mount Morris Township, Mich. In that case, prosecutors are secking a fugitive who kept under his pillow the stolen 32-caliber pistol that they say became the 6 -year-old's homicide weapon.

Nationwide, the news media and their pundits dissected the latest spate of gun violence as President Bill Clinton spoke of the "terrible shooting" and called on Congress to limit access to handguns. He said the shootings show "that we simply haven't done everything we can do to keep guns away from criminals and children."

\section*{national news}

\section*{Boy suspect lived in crack house}

MOUNT MORRIS TOWNSHIP, Mich. - The 6-year-old boy who allegedly shot and kad been living in a drug-inhad been living in a drug-infested flophouse where police found stolen guns and a cache of drugs, authorities said Wednesday. The child had a history of violence at school, his father reported from his jail cell, and he did not even have a bed to sleep on.

Police said the boy found a loaded handgun under blankets in a bedroom at the dilapidated wood-frame house and took it with him to school, where he shot and Eilled a 6-year-old girl Tuesday. The boy had been living there with his 8-year-old brother and an uncle. The boy's mother had been living elsewhere in the week living elsewhere in the week since the family had been evictSince the family had been evicted from a home nearby, au-

Police on Wednesday arsted the boy's uncle, Sir Marrested the boy's uncle, Sir Marfelony warrant, and took another man who lived at the house into custody.

\section*{Gore, Bradley tone debate down}

LOS ANGELES - Vice President AlGore and Bill Bradley set aside the personal animosity that has marked their previous debates and their previous debates and spent most of 90 minutes agree--spent most of 90 minutes agreeday night during their last joint appearance before Tuesday's primaries, which is likely to settle who will be the Democratic presidential nominee.

Gore appeared to have his eye as much on the general election as on the primaries, using every opportunity to attack Texas Gov. George W. Bush, and appealing to supporters of Arizona Sen. John McCain by saying they largely agree on campaign-finance reform, cleaning up special interests and reining in "big tobacco."

The only real disagreement between Bradley and Gore came in the last 20 minutes of the debate, when Bradiey could not resist reprising one of his most the vice president had voted to the vice president had voted to preserve the tax-exempt status of universities that discriminate on the basis of race.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Flood fears thousands dead}

CHIAQUELANE, Mozambique - At last count, the names of 150 children spilled across the pages of the camp across the pages of the camp of their parents listed as unknown.

The plight of the scared and lonely children of the Limpopo River flood plain is easily lost amid the chaos of this impromptu settlement set up in a chestnut grove several miles from the flood waters' edge.

Two shallow wells, meant to serve 100 local families, are worked around the clock by an estimated 30,000 refugees from flooded areas where thousands are feared dead.

Aid agencies, rushing to keep up with the movement of people, are only beginning to World Food Program used three small planes and a helicopter Wednesday to deliver 30 tons of flour, beans and cooking fat to the oceanfront town of Beline, where the food must be hauled away by trucks to Chiaquelane and other refugee areas.

\section*{Dumas resigns amid scandal}

PARIS - Facing criminal charges along with his former \section*{Clinton certifies} fight against drugs

WASHINGTON, D.C. Colombia and Mexico again won tresident Wednesday as fully certincaing partners in the war on drugs, despite government figures showing that the flow of illicit narcotios from the two countries has reached new heights.

The stamp of approval on the nations' anti-drug efforts came as no surprise. The Clinton adminisno surprise. The Clinton administration has long argued that Mexican officials are doing their best to combat powerful traffickers within their borders. U.S. and Colombian authorities have joined forces to battle drug lords in the South American country, and last month the White House sent Congress a proposal to provide Colombia with Wednesday's announcements vere made against a backdrop of growing discontent with the ened by Conction process. Mandat tion requires the 1986 , certificaevaluate the level of countert to cotics cooperation counter-nar cotics cooperation by countries deemed to be major producers or drug trade.

dals in recent French history, Roland Dumnas, the president of Wednesday that legal body, said Wednesday that he has resigned after battling for nearly a year to eep his job.

Sumas, a confidant of the Mitterrand, is accused Francois his influence while forei using ister to get his mistregs min time a job as consultant with the Aquitaine, a large oil company then owned by the government Under investigation for more than two years, Dumas, who denies any wrongdoing, took leave without pay from the Constitutional Council last March. But after judges ordered Durch. But Deviers-Joncour on Feb. 18 to stand trial, his position looked unattainable.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Syracuse Stage presents The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesce St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call \(443-3275\) for ticket information.
\(\square\) The Contemporary Theater of Syracuse presents "Athol Fugard's Valley Song., at 7:30 p.m. at Happy Endings Theatre, 317 S . Clinton St. Tickets are \($ 15\) for evening performances. Call 425 - 0405 for more information. 0405 for more information.
- Lenny Kohm, environinental photographer and conservationist, speaks at 7:30 p.m. regarding Hamilton College's KJ Audin at Hamilton College'sill Aoad, Clinton.
- The Drama Department presents "Much Ado About Nothing at 8 p.m. at Arthur Storch Theater, 820 E . Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 16\) for adults, discounts for seniors and students. Call 443-3275 for ticket information.

The Tating Disorders Support Group meets from 5:30 to 6:30 for the location.

The Office of Government and Community Relations and the 2000 Awareness Program from 9 2m. to \(2.30 \mathrm{~F} . \mathrm{m}\) in Schine.

E Sam Affinito, manager of college relations at Macy's East, speaks regarding "Relocating to New York City" from 11 a.m. to New York City, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Schine, Room 304 B and \(\mathbf{C}\).
- Mary Ann Calo of Colgate University presents a slide show about "African-American Art and Artists: 1800-1950 \({ }^{\circ}\) at 5:30 p.m. at Everson Museum of Art, 401 Harrison St.

\section*{corrections}

In Wednesday's issue of The Daily Orange a news article incorrectly stated that Dr. Cornelius Murphy, Jr. will begin as the new president of will start on May 15.

Also in a news article it was incorrectly stated that 412 men and women are pledging within SU's greek system, Ho

In a lifestyle article, it was stated that the Jewish Student Black \($ 9,000\) for his services. The Black \($ 9,00\) for his services. The the event.

The D.O. regrets the errors.
To make a contribution to campus calendar; call the news missions are also accepted via e mail at news@dailyorange.com.

\section*{National greeks debate campus hazing, punishments}

\section*{By jor davia \\ Special Projects Eaito}

The action of one Sigma Chi brother at George Washington University ended that chapter's presence on that campus last month -- and symbolized a threat facing greelc houses across the nation.

Drawing on a history of chapter viola tions going back to 1997, Sigma Chi'a interafter a brother thiter a bottle out a fraternity house window' and at a maintenance wor The Strin Chi incident is one in a vari of alleged incidents by greek individuals. ety of alleged incidents by greek individuals George Washington University - ended a Greek chapter:
"Sigma Chi believes in the philosophy that one individual's actions refects on the entire chapter," said Ryan Roseleip, the director of chapter development for the fraternity's international organization. "For that reason we hold the chapter accountable.

Greek international and national onganizations direct the policies of campus chapters, and not all of them suspend a chapter for the actions of one member.

At the University of Wisconsin earlier this semester, five Delta Delta Delta sisters were suspended from their sorority for hazing, said Katherine Helmas, chapter service coorclinator for the international TriDelt organization.
Only those involved in the incident were disciplined after a hearing by the interna tional chapter executive board; and not the entire sorority, she said.

Helms baid she could not comment on the spocific hazing activity:

At Kansas State University, the university judicial branch recently fownd the entire Delta Tau Delta fraternity guilty of hazing aic Garth Eberhart, assistant director of the fraternity's international organization.
the ged incident and said in ternational officials are in the process of evaluating this incident.

The:Kansas State University chapter faces puinishments ranging from campus sus persion to fines and membership review, he padded.

At Syracuse University last spring. Al pha Chi Omega sorority was placed on an in erim suspension after a freshman had to be anspitalized for an excessive use of alcohol a ter attending an event at Lucy's Retirad Surfers Bar, 721 S. Crouse Ave.

Combating baxing
Society is hearing more about haming cas es than they did in the 1970 os, Helms said This rise is a result of more education about the definition of hazing and not an increase in actural cases, she added.

Education teaches its members that hazing is more than just physical abuse, she said.
"Hazing is not always what is put on t.v." Helms said. "They are not beating anyone." For the University of Wisconsin TriDelts, haring consists of anything that separates a member apart from others and includes any thing that subjects a person to ridicule.

It'a not cut and dry physical harm to \(n\) member," she added.

To help combat the problem. TriDelt chapters nationwide are not allowed to refar to new members as pledges and do not hold separate stady hours for them.

Eberhatt said haring incidents are becoming more emotionally oriented.
"They are a lot less physical," he said. o physical aspect is gone."
Despite the alleged hazing incident at ansas State University, risk management violations concerning Delt chapters decreased this year by 45 percent, Eberhart added. These violations ranged from breaking alcohol policies to harsing cases.

Roseleip, who said cases of physical haz ing are rare, said more members are reporting cases because society is becoming more "le galistic."
"Today society is more individualistic," he said. "When people join an organization, they expect it to practice what they preach."

\section*{GREEK}
continued from page 1
said.
If finds sufficient evidence of hazing, the university will take action against both A Prind the girls found in Flint, Walsh said.

The investigation, comprised of interviews with the six new members and current sorority members, is being supervised by oGR and Chuck dert for Student Afrairs Mor ent for S row said.

Merrihew could not be reached for comment

A representative from the national A O Pi office is visiting cident, Goldenberg said

National representatives ere unable to be reached for comment.

The investigation process will "hopefully" conclude by the end of the week, Walsh said.

A O Pi is not suspended at this time. Goldberg said. But the new members are not alowed to participate in sorority she added.
\({ }^{\text {adight now our pledges are }}\) temporarily inactive," Goldenberg said. "We hope to have them back in a few days once this is all cleared up:"

The Daily Orange
Classified Advertising
The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{Bush campaign propels student activism}

\section*{TFFANY LANKES}

Campaign strategies target d at college-aged voters make Texas Gov. George W. Bush the students' choice for president, said Scott Stewart, chairman of the College Republicans National Committee.

This has been the most acive youth campaign in years," Stewart said -Just look groves of young people coming to ple have votod in this year's primaries then ever before."

Republican presidential hopefuls Rush and Arizona Sen. John MeCain made extensive campaign efforts to encourage youth participation in government. Stewart added.
"They're specifically addressing young people," Stewart said. They re actively going out and aski.:
Already garnering eight state Republican primary wins, Bush now prepares for 11 more state contests, including one in New York next week on "Super Tucsday.

An advocate of tax relief, educational reform and economic advancements, Bush has also won the support of New York state Gov. Gcorge E. Pataki and Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi.

Student interest in issues induding tas rolicfand econcmicor portunity upon graduation are key factors influencing young vot er turnout, said Joe Burns, a Bush supporter and chairman of the Syracuse University College ReSyracuse

\section*{Bush supports a} reduction of federal income taxes, a plan that would entitie working citizens to receive more from their wages, said Burns, a junior political science and history major.

George Bush's tax relief plan will put real money in the hands of real people," Burys important in very important in cially for college stucially for college students who will be out in the working world

Bernardi spokesman Jim Parenti agreed, saying that cutting taxes by decreasing government spending has been a long-standing, yet unsuccessful goal in New York state.

Bush's tax cuts in Texas during his governorship returned about \($ 2\) billion to the working class, he added

Thats very impressive to be able to cut the cost at which gov ernment operates, Parenti said. "That's something we'd love to do in New York. (Bush) has indicated that if elected he would implement similar programs nation wide."

Bush's integrity and ability to defend his stance on controversial issues such as affirmative action also make him an appealing can didate, Burns said

Principles are a key component to any presidential carmpaign, he added.

\section*{On the issue of \\ . Health Care \\ plans to expand medical savings accounts proposed strengthening tax incentives to small would consider charging wealthier Medicare recipients more for coverage \\ Affrmativa Action \\ - opposes racial preferences \\ - Educatlon \\ supports a plan where schools that show improvements would receive additional federal funding and those that show no improvements would have funding shifted to charter schools proposed a plan to build 2.000 charter school - pationwide \\ supports using federal dollars to help parents send their children to private schools}

Bush is a pro-life candidate who opposes abortion laws, except in the cases of rape, incest or when a woman's life is endangered.
"He has the courage to say what he believes and not back down from it," Burns said. "A lot of people don't agree with him but they respect him for voicing his opinion."

In regards to affirmative action, a policy established in the 1960 s to prevent discrimination, Bush opposes any racial preferences.

This opposition, however, has not resulted in a loss of support rom minority groups, Parenti said. In his 1994 gubernatorial win, Bush garnered the majority of votes from the Hispanic population, one of Texas most prominent racial groups, he added.
That speaks of his vision of opportunity for all people," Parenti said.

McCain leads Bush 47 percent to 40 porcent in a poll released Wednesday by the Quinnipiac College Polling Institute and 51 percent to 44 perMarist Colle released wednesday by the Marist College Institute for Public Opinyoters in Tuesday's New York state Republican primary.

\section*{} beating Texas Gov. George Bush in several state polls.

McCaln ,

McCain's fight for ballot access began in January when Bush supporters challenged petitions supporting his place on the state's primary ballot. His quest for ballot access forced him to file a lawsuit in federal court in Brooklyn asking for a statewide spot on the ballot on the grounds that the state's laws are unconstitutional Afer.
After a judge ruled in Februconstitution bil because they deprive are unconstitutional because they deprive voters of the choice between all legitimate candidates, McCain was guaranteed a spot on the ballot. \({ }^{-W}{ }^{-W}\)
We've just got to keep doing what we've been doing, said Bryan Flood, spokesman for McCains New York state

See BUSH page 9 a one-day trip to Syracuse.

gy McCain is creating out there."
The energy surtounding McCain's campaign began aftar he crushed Bush in the New Hampshire primary Feb. 1. McCain beat Bush 49 percent to 31 percent. The other candidates in the race at the time, Gary Bauer and Alan Keyes, only combined for 7 percent of the vote

Aftor the New Hampshire victory, McCain began to gain on Bush in polls nationwide.

McCain grabbed victories in Michigan and his home state of Arizona on Feb. 23, while Bush won this week's contests in Washington, Virginia and North Dakota. The current count for national convention delegates has McCain trailing Bush 104 to 208.

Candidates need a total of 1,034 dele gates to secure the Republican nomina-

Although McCain has lost the most recent primary contests and lags in convention delegates, Flood said the nomination is still a realistic possibility. The main weaknesses in McCain's campaign are his status as an underdog and Bushs strength among more conservative Republicans, he added.
Bush could never compete with the Bush organization in states like Califorthe Bush campaip, he said. increasinging a classic, sonthern consarvative message. We paid the price in Virginia."

The recent losses make the 11 primaries on Tuesday extremely important to the survival of McCain's nomination hopes, Flood said. New York state claims 101 delegates of the more than 600 at

See MCCAIN page 9

\section*{Keyes conveys steadfast principles \\ BY ASHLEIGH GRAF} in shambles," Legahis said
Government and religion should not be completely separated, he added. Children should have moral guidance in school. Even families of lower income should have the opportu nity to send their children to a school that rellects their faith Legakis added
"You can't force people to pray, but you can give people the option to have that option," he said

Keyes finds the country living in atheism, but said during sending theiry to Syracuse University that parents are stil "Could it be that to religiously affiliated schools.
Could it be that even though you don't believe in God, you would rather live in a society of people that do?' Keyes asked. lic edue goverament should its current monopoly on pub Keyes is in favor said.
Keyes is in tavor of eliminating the U.S. Department of Education in order to give parents a stronger influence in their Yen's education, he added.
the coou need a cooperative gathering between parents and The countrys Keyes said.
fall in the level
ing far lower than other said. "This is America where we should be on top of the pile. said.

See KEYES page 9

\section*{Gore uses policies to combat image \\ BY KATE STEVENSON \\ Asst. News Editor \\ national parks. The money for this pro}

Being stifr in front of the camera should not take precedence over the realissues, said Christina Hinchey, Syracuse University College Democrats president, in support of Vice President Al Gore.

In these days of short evening news profiles, Gore's lack of congeniality can easily alienate voters, Hinchey said.
"They say he comes off as wooden," she said TV cues what helacks in TV cues and ratings, ho more than makes up for ability as a legislator" Gore a Democra Gisy as legishater ad presidential hope. and presidential hopeporter of environmental porter of environmental protection and has authored a book entitied Ecology and the Human Spirit."
In the past. Gore has

In the past, Gore has being anti-environment. In 1998 he o portedly blasted Republicans for trying to "sneak through" environmentally damaging legislation and said the Clinton administration will not tolerate such stealth attacks.
reparation include fundiag to expand

\section*{On the mental human righ ing tion \\ - Education ers. eachers \\ size to 20 students \\ - Gun Contro}
- feets that abortion is a funda. - supports Medicaid avortion fund Copposes nominating Supreme gram will come from charging mining companies for digging on federal lands. ion \(u r i n g\) the Clinton administra
- more stringent testing for teach
- monetary bonuses for aspiring
- favors chaice among public schools. but opposes fecteral fund ing for private school tuition tory photo los to purchase a fora -supports ban on "Saturday Night Specials." a cheap handgun easily bought on the streets
- wants to require firearms dealers to submit purchase reports to aid gun be used in a crime .ment grams came to fruition, including tougher standards for air quality and the conservation of such fragile ecosystems as the Florida terns as the Florida Everglades. Everglades.

To better the classroom environment, Gore favors ment, Gore favors raised standards in raised standards in education, including education, ineluding more stringent more stringent screening of teachers

Gore is in tavor of expanded choice among pchools, but arainc schools but agains asing U.S. caxmonschoal vouchers to help provide private education for stu dents.

Gore also plans to take steps to re20 students or less.

On the university level, he wants to provide \($ 10,000\) bonuses to students interested in pursuing a career in eduagree to work in underprivileged schools will receive an extra monetary bonus.

He is a man who cares about edu-

\section*{Bradley strives for more party leadership, voters}

\section*{Staff Writer}

While recent polls suggest that former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley's popularity is waning, supporters believe that his policy proposals would lead the counhis policy proposals would 1 try toward 2 Ist century.
Bradley makes that Bill Bradley makes people believe that big problems can still be solved in this country, said Steve Wachtel, Bradley's Onondaga County coordinator. "People view him as someone with a lot character and integrity" Agbecording to a March of 40 Zob nternational poll of ers, Bradley is trailing op ponent Vice President A primary, 32 percent to 51 primary, 32 percent

But people find Bradley appealing because he is no afraid to fight for legislation Chat would be unpopular in a leader takes on ha ssues and gets them done he said.

One such issue is gun control. The Bradley campaign has billed his proposal as the boldest one on the issue to date.
"Senator Bradley's program balances the protection we need with the Constitutional privilege of gun ownership," said Jim Snyder, the spokesman for the Central New York Committee to Elect Bill Bradley President.

Bradley's plan calls for eliminating "Saturday Night Specials," handguns that are typically used in street crimes and bought for less than \($ 50\).

The proposal also includes limiting handgun purchases to one per month, requiring trigger locks on handguns and obligating background checks of potential gun buyers at gan shows.

Anyone who tells you a background check can't be done with a national database, such as the FBI has, is selling a line to the public." Snyder said. "It's just bull-

\section*{On the issue of ..}
* Abortion
- supports federal funding for abortions for women on Meditaid - opposes nominating only pro - Education
-increase federal funding of Head Start and after-school programs - supports alternative teacher cercareet professionats to become teacners
- wants to allocate more money for community colleges
- Gun Contrel
- favors mandatory background checks ar gun snows
-proposes ban on "Saturday Night
Specials
guns a person camber of hand. one a month would reauie tita hangeguns

Gun violence in schools is one of the many reasons why tough gun legislation s needed, he said.

Fecent circumstances, such as a 6 -year-old girl being killed by a stolen handgun, can lead us to one inescapable conclusion -
Bradley's proposal is Bradley's proposal is and safety of our chil and safety of our chil dren," Snyder said.

Another issue Bradley is decreasing taxes for the middie and lower ciass, said and lower class, said campaign's Onondagampaigns Onondaga County coordinaga tor.

\section*{Bradley wants to complete his work of} hesing corporate working citizens that he started when he was a member of the U.S. Senate Finance Committee

When you think about Democrats, you think tax and spend

One of the biggest parts of Bradley's senatorial legacy is his work on the Tax Reform Act of 1986, he added.

The bill closed corporate loopholes and reduced tax rates for middle-class and lower-class families, Wachtel said Bradley would also work to make health insurance premiums tax deductible, he Whe Presldent at Gore speaks at Buffato"s Marfne Midiand Arens with Prestdent bill Cllnton and Hlllary Rodham Cllnton last spring to dlscuss economic revitalliation.

cation." Hinchey said. "He doesn't try ports the banning of "Saturdizy Night to take money away from us. We need a college education. You can't compete in society without an education."

In regards to gun control, Gore is highly in favor of restricting access to irearms. He belicves in the requirement of photo identification for handgun buyers when making purchases.

During the 1980 s , however, Gore voied dgainsi a mandatory waiting period for gun purchasing, as well as voting against gun dealer licensing.

But during his campaign he has called for the reporting of gun sales by federally licensed gun dealers to aid in police investigations, should the gun be used in criminal acts. He also sup Specials," inexpensive and quichly accessible handguns.

Continuing the common DemocraGic Party policy regarding abortion: woman's right to choose

He supports Medicaid funding for women who wish to have abortions but do not have the monetary means

Gore also supports affirmative action, a program that gives an advantage to minorities and women when applying for jobs and colleges.

Although Hinchey said she admires both Goro and his Democratic rival former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley, she added she still believes Fommer Now Jersey Sen. BIII Bradfey discusses providing weffare for disjudvantaged fam Hes and ralsfing the swinimum wage at an Oct. 25 campalgn appearance at the Syracuse Boys and Giris club.

\(\qquad\)
His most courageous proposal may be his plan to change health care in America, said Brooke Schiferle, coordina tor of SU for Bill Bradley
"I think it's absolutely incrodible," she said. "He's very bold in that effort.
fradey's plan is divided into propos zens.
"The first part of Bradley's health care proposal would guarantee health car for all children until they are 19 years old, said Schiferle, a senior political science major

Bradley would also work to have af fordable health care access for all adults, she said.

This plan would cover more than 44 million Americans - 11 million children and 33 million aduits who are not cur rently part of a health care plan, she added.

In America, we have the best medi cine avaitable and the problem is we have people who don't have access," Schiferle said.

Bradley is also calling for the protec tion of Medicare for the elderly. The plan would also call for the expansion of Medicare so it would cover prescription drugs. \(\quad\) This helps the elderly deal with the unique obstacles that confront them a that point in their life," Schiferle said. Bradley is looking to make changes at all levels of the education systerm, he added.

Bradley is looking to make the U.S educational systom more accountable and better able to serve students, said Scoti Lipton, a member of \(S U\) for Bill Bradley.

Bradley would allocate \($ 3\) billion a year to early education programs like Head Start.

Head Start allows the youth or America to get the early education they need," Lipton said.

He would also work to open Beacon Centers, which would provide after-school activities for children. Occupying children of youth violence seid Lipto the instance of youth violence, said Lipton, a junior po Lipton also praised the \($ 400\) miltion Lipton also praised the \($ 400\) million increase in funding Bradley would give each year to community colleges. Commu in federal funding, Lipton said.

See BRADLEY page 9

\section*{Health care reform plan boosts Bill Bradley}

It takes a strong man to gain respect on both the hardwood of a professional basketball court and on the floor of the United States Senate.

Bill Bradley did both with ease. The former New York Knick and New Jersey Senator's leadership skills and forward-thinking ambition prompts The Daily Orange to endorse him as the Democratic nominee for U.S. President.

Bradley brings the politics of equality to the polls. He has separated himself from the White House establishment through his bold health care reform plan.

Bradley's plan is gutsy, and it paves the way for sweeping changes in the managed care systern. When President Clinton's health care plan faltered on the Senate floor six years ago, 33 million Americans remained uninsured. Today, the number has leapt to 44 million. Bradley's plan, over time, would provide tax breaks and government subsidies to bring quality health care to even the poorest communities in the nation.

But its success depends solely on funds from the projected \($ 3\) trillion budget surplus. Although Bradley hopes the program will eventually become self-sustaining, he admits that it will be a black hole for government dollars in the meantime. He's taking a risk - treading a slippery slope. There's no guarantee that today's strong economy can be sustained through a Bradley term in office, and a recession could swiftly wipe out the funds on which he is banking.

There's a crafty method behind Bradley's seemingly pie-in-the-sky proposal, though. His liberal plan for universal, government-subsidized health care will surely meet a nasty firewall in the Republican-controlled Senate, but the ambitious starting point ensures that it will roll back across Bradley's desk with substance and bonafide potential to alter the nation's ailing health care system.

Bradley's competitor at the ballot box, Vice President Al Gore, faces the burden of carrying the shadow of the scandalous Clinton adminittration into office. The New Jersey Senator, how-

\section*{Righteous Reformer Bill BRADLEY}
* Dares to propose a universal, government-subsidized healthcare plan
* Brings sound fiscal experience from tenure on Senate Finance Committee
- Exhibits leadership excellence
- Develops creative solutions for education reform \(\star\) Champions environmental initiatives
* Offers compelling race relations improvement Offers plans
ever, ambitiously bucks the status-quo trend that Gore supports. A Bradley presidency would fortify the United States' future, not spew out immediate, short-term changes to placate antsy voters

Ivy League and Oxford educations molded Bradley into a quick thinker who doesn't fluster easily. He has consistently remained true to his ideals, championing abortion rights, race relations and environmental causes. He offers a compelling vision to overcome the nation's racial divide and a plan to harness the nation's unprecedented technological productivity to make an even greater mark on the global economy.

And Bradley knows dollars and cents, having spent 18 years as a Senate Finance Committee member. If elected, he vows to put national debt reduction high on the agenda and expand the Earned Income Tax Credit in order to funnel more money toward the nation's poor.
ker in the Senate substantiates his promises to work across party lines to make change. He to work across party lines to make change. He backs efforts to experiment with school choic programs and is a supporter of Republicanbacked campaign finance roform legislation like the McCain-Feingold bill, which seeks to ban all soft-money campaign contributions.

Politics as usual aren't Bradley's game. He's realistic, honest and he embodies the best of the Democratic party. Never one to water down his liberal policies to pander to Republicans or more moderate members of his own party, Bradley can be trusted to develop new ideas and take a stand when carrying them out.

\section*{McCain_offers Americans reform, leadership \\ Arizona Senator John McCain brings a familiar \\ faith in government. He is a person of genuine \\ McCain has made plenty of enemies in his tenure in} face to politics. Americans see a piece of themselves in him.

McCain offers Americans the chance for a integrity, not a poker-faced candidate, and The Daily Orange endorses him as the Republican nominee for the U.S. presidency.

Unlike his Republican competitor, Texas Gov. George W. Bush, who pundits pegged as the heir apparent to the presidency, McCain has worked to earn every penny and achievement he's made. McCain's Vietnam-era military decoration didn't come without a struggle, nor did his seat in the U.S. Senate.

He's a fighter, and he's not afraid of hard work. McCain knows how to strong-arm his way to change. He is a man of exemary intellect, honor and authenticity. And with his disarming candor and quick wit, McCain has won a place in the hearts of Republicans, Democrats and Independents alike.

The oft-mocked "Straight Talk Express" that characterizes McCain's campaign is perhaps his best asset. He gains support by bringing polities to the level of the common person, to the level of the common person, cutting through the drivel and double-talk that usually mark political campaigns.

With only \($ 9.5\) million in campaign fund-raising receipts - a paltry budget for the high-stakes race to the White House - McCain has already scored several key primary victories over Bush, posting wins in New Hampshire, Michigan and his New Hampshire, Michigan and his home state of Arizona. Considered a distant underdog for the Republican nomination just a few months ago, McCain's persistence is remarkable.

Often pegged as a "loose cannon,"

\section*{The Real Deal John McCain}
* Willing to work with Democrats and liberal special interest groups \(\star\) Knows the value of hard work - Runs a no-nonsense campaign \(\star\) Committed to campaign finance reform \(\star\) Exhibits leadership excellence Dedicated to strengthening Social Security and Medicare programs the Senate, even alienating members of the GOP who coddle Bush as their favorite son. He is blunt he is brash. His campaign just might be good enough to incite a political revolt.

McCain has torn away from conventional GOP ideology in championing campaign finance reform and calling for the elimination of soft money. He is tired with candidates bolstered only by their giant, party-subsidized bankrolls.
He also plans to fumnel budget surplus dollars toward strengthening the ailing Social Security and Medicare systems. This is a wise move, since the 65-plus population will more than dauble within the next decade

His program of ctailored reforms" for the health care system as a whole, including a plan to subsidize prescriptions for the elderly, points to his obvious attention to the nuances of issues that often get lost in the midst of politically-correct buzzwords.

While advocating the pure, conservative values - McCain favors loose gun control laws, targeted tax cuts and allows for abortion only in cases of rape, incest or when a woman's life is in danger - he remains flexible and open-minded. His willingness to lean to the center and deal with issues outside of his comfort zone is a character trait presidential candidates often lack. He knows cooperation with diverse groups will hasten progressive change. McCain, for groups wil hasten progressive change. McCain, instance, gained the endorsement of the National Gay Lobby last month after Bush refiused to meet with gay Republican groups.

McCain is prepared to restore integrity to the presidential office. He offers the nation's conservative voters a chance to vote for the upstanding character and solid set of ideals that has always alluded them at the polls.

\title{
\(\underset{\text { Greces must thep }}{\text { Ceditoria }}\) pledges in check
}

It shouldn't take a pair of hospitalized pledges for greeks to keep a closer eye on their new members.

After a series of anti-hazing seminars urging Syracuse University's 2000 pledging period to be free of alcohol- and drug-related mishaps, the greek system is scrambling to explain why two Alpha Omega Pi pledges ended up in the hospital Sunday night after an evening of reckless intoxication.

The A O Pi president reported that the two freshmen - along with four other A O Pi pledges who were found drunk in Flint Hall hadn't been drinking during a sorority-sponsored event.

But the fact remains: While all members of the greek system should strive to maintain their independence, they must also be aware that they wear their letters everywhere. Just one unmonitored slip-up can cast the whole greek system into the shadows of a hazing scandal.

Greeks pride themselves on their strong sense of brotherhood and sisterhood. But when a wuple of freshmen drink themselves into an oblivion on a Sunday night, it's clear that no big sister has been looking out for them.

And if the Office of Greek Life or Judicial Affairs determine that the incident was hazingrelated, then the burden also falls on the pledges to take responsibility for their actions Some greeks don't drink, and nothing forces new members to fall to peer pressure.

Women, especially, should strive to engender a sense of personal responsibility in their pledges where drugs and alcohol are concerned Dozens of women are sexually assaulted each year, and spending weekends in a drunken stupor won't slash these harrowing statistics.

Building bonds with greek brothers and sisters isn't about lining up empty beer bottles on a counter top. It's supposed to help establish friendships and a sense of community.

Greeks, keep your eyes open all the time, or the walls of that precious community could collapse around you in no time.

\section*{the}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Justin Silverman Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photograply Editor
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

 Holly Awer Sapma Kollail Dave Curtis Jay Davia Bily Ehninger Adeet Deshmukh Nova Austrew Latura Prabucki Kate Steversion Tiftany Lankes Kevin tampone Corey Hana Magin McKenna
Connor Ennit Connor Ennis Jeff Paxen Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner
Tito Bottitta Tito Bottitita
Torn Mlawon Ruchasel Coldien Lisa Caswell nemaria Bello Ron Foolh Jill Mereadante

\section*{Daily Orange lauded for positive coverage}

\section*{To the editor:}

We all know about the lunacy of the SU Hill. This reality of college life seems like a weird dream to me more than anything. Wh it's sitting or sleeping through its siting or sleeping through ing with the ridiculousness of the bars on the weekends, Syracuse University never ceases to amaze me with all of the utter bullshit that takes place.

I was actually glad to read The Daily Orange on Tuesday. It brought out two good stories that depict the decency of some of the people who care about society. Mag

\section*{opinions}

\section*{History Channel offers semi-truths, new lessons}

Taking television classes makes it exceedingly easy to put off schoolwork. As soon as I put down the books, can immediately rationalize watching sorme T'V. "After all," I say. "this is just like schoolwork."

This rationalization is even easier thands to the wealth of "educational" prorramming offered by fifty \section*{THOMAS} HOBAN some-odd channels of cable television. I could watch PBS, The Discovery Channel, C-SPAN, or even The Learning Channel. I can get history science, geography, politics and just general "learning" without ever cracking a book. If I rationalize hard enough, I can even convince the little voice that says "you should be studying," into saying "you are studying!

There are certainly a lot of pro grams on television that have great educational value, but clutching the ting a master's degree without leaving my couch is a bit delusional.

Often, in these hallucinogenic states of procrastination, I flip to The History Channel, hoping to be educated by what Homer Simpson calls "television's warm, glowbrain into learning which is mush asier than putting in any effort.

But beware, in the televerse, things are not always what they seem. The History Channel, by name alone, seems like it would be a respectable authority on hustorical matters. The ominous " \(H\) " logo, etched in the lower right-hand corner, almost seems like a label saying, "this is history." Without consulting my better judgement, my brain just assumes that we're about to be educated.

Sadly, this is not entirely accurate. In researching a paper I wrote recentiy about The History Channel, I unearthed the awful truth. My heart sank when Professor levine from the history department calmly iniormedme of the difference between popular history and academic The
The main goal of The History Channel is entertainment, not information. Just. like television news programs, they are usually more concerned with the ratings is a business, and not subject to the formal methods, pro-

\section*{letters}

Again, much of the programminer on The Hictory Channel is very informative and certainly entertaining but it isn't always the whole truth. I knew from the star of the project that The History Channel was quite mili aristic. Almost a third of their programs contain over knew that they tended or combat in their ticles. Fals the valiant battles of World War II, while shying away from shame of Vietnam.

I was somewhat unprepared for what I found. In my research I discovered everything from twisted fact o outright lies. One program about the Tokyo wa crimes trials made unsubstantiated statements about the mindsets of Japanese officers. A show about the Korean War didn't contain the viewpoint of a single \(A\) sian person

The worst of all was "Infermo: The True Story of Dres den." I would have assumed that even popular history would consider the bombing of Dresden, Germany, to be This is a topic important enough to warrant the atten tion of profescional documentarians Instead The Histo Channel cional documentarians. Instea, The fisto company that is better known for programs like" Bustud on the Job." 'To give you an idea of 'Termaite's qualifica tions, "Busted on the Job" once featured a woman urinating on her bosses' office furniture in retaliation for being fired.

In addition, the only historian consulted in "Inferno" is David Irving, a well-known Nazi apologist. Irving, who wrote the introduction to "The Leuchter Report," a famous denial of the holocaust, has denied that Auschwitz was ever a death camp. He has also said Anne Frank's diary s not "a historical document of any value.

Despite all this, "Inferno" only identifies Irving as a controversial historian" and fails to mention any of his best known views on relevant topics such as the holocaust.

You can learn a lot from television, but like any hing else, it cannot be taken at face value. Keep pro crastinating, but try to loaf critically.

Thomas Hoban is a junior velevision, ralio and film and political science major. His column appears Thursday in The Daily Orange. E-mail hims at tphoban@syredu.
in McKenna's article about McPhereson's Mentors touched a piece of news that deserves recognition.

I personally worked with Don MePhereson throughout my four years in high school as part of a cudent-Athlete Leadership Team, hat involved hiet schoolers tallin about real-life is abudents in our district MoPhereson spent many hours with us EO ng over how to relay strong values and good decision-making techniques to youngsters who looked up to us. Sometimes, we found, they ust didn't feel comfortahle talking about the racier topics with their parents, teachers or any other adults for that matter. I encourage SU to give as much support as possible to this program.

Etan Thomas' exploits at the South Side Newsstand, too, deserve the print that is usually taken up by scandals and violations. It is a nice breath of fresh air to read such a story. Not just athletes, but all Eroups on this campus get plenty of thing positive published Stereotye published.
but I give kupes to the rue the Hill but I give kudos to the staff of the D.O. for finally rising above all of this nonsense and printing the good this nonsense and printing the good taking a hand in. The capajority of students on this campus have not realized yet that it is necessary to give back to society as much and even more goodwill than society has given to you.

Jordan Garfinke

\section*{SWEATSHOP}
continued from page 1
in the anti-sweatshop movement. He's probably the foremost expert on labor practices in the coordinator for Syracuse University and the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry. "There's really no better person to ask to campus."

Known as the "man who made Kathie Lee Gifford cry." Kernaghan achieved notoriety when he exposed the sweatshop practices used by Gifford's clothing label in the late 1990s.

During a routine trip to Honduras to investigate the labor practices of Wal-Mart, Kernaghan acciKathie Lee Gifford women's clothKing line was being manufactured ing line was being manufactured tions. bel was in the palm or my hand,", Kernaghan said of his discovery. "She said that she would sue me if I kept talking about her. But I can't help myself."

During this time, 15 -year-old Wendi Diaz, one of the children employed in the sweatshop, traveled to the United States on behalf of the National Labor Committee to speak about the sweatsfiop conditions to both Gifford and the public.
"She tells Kathie Lee Gifford what it's like to earn 31 cents an Charles Kernaghan, executive diractor of the National Labor Committee, visits campus Wednesday to educate students about the effects of sweatshops.

hour, go to bed hungry, what you feel like when the manager throws pants in your face and calls you a shithead." he added. "It's only and that Wendi was in Honduras and you're sitting here."

Gifford publically denied any prior knowledge that her label children and now donates a percentage of her profits to children's charities.
"They don't tell you that children made the clothing," Kernaghan said. Wal-Mart needs to learn - and Kathie Lee Gifford help children in the United States off the backs of children in Honduras. It's criminal."

Throughout the 90 -minute lecture, which was followed by a 30 -minute question and answer labor practices of Wal-Mart and abor practice Nike Apparel.

Wal-Mart denies all allega tions of unfair labor practices.

In October, Nike released 42 factory locations that produce apparel for five colleges and universities in the United States.

Kernaghan described women working more than 80 -hour workwages by corporations like Wal-Mart and Nike.

Armed "thugs" with sawed-off-shot-guns guard the factories and enforce rules on workers who often live in impoverished conditions, Kernaghan said.

Female workers are sometimes molested by managers and are coramonly allowed room breaks and one drink of bacday, he added.
"They have aspirations and dreams," Kernaghan said. "They still have ambitions. You can be the voice of these women who are voiceless."

The National Labor Committee is not a boycott movement, and advocates that American compaaies publically disclose the names and addresses of ove

It also asks that colleges and niversities across the country demand higher standards of labor practices of companies like Nike, Kernaghan added.

You should not allow Syrause University to continue purchasing clothing that are made in factories all over the world," Kernaghan said.
upport human rights and basic support \({ }^{\text {dignity. }}\)

\section*{Student awareness}

Kernaghan described a situation last summer when he took a student group to an alleged Nike weatshop in El Salvador.

Although carrying camera equipment and notebooks, the group was initially allowed into But five minuts.
But five minutes after entry, the students were physically at tacked by the factory s manager destroyed Ko anh cameras wer destroyed, Kernaghan said.
"It left a deep impact on the students," he said. "If they trea us like this, imagine how they at the El Salvador workers."
Marika Wissink, a senior music major in the College of Visual the lecture on behalf of Sanized and Kevin Cooney, a senior televi sion, radio and film major, worked for NYPIRG.
"I thought he did an excellent listened to bink said. I could have During for another Kayl Drogosz, a graduate student in the Maxwell School for Citizen ship and Public Affairs, questioned Kernaghan about the role religion should play in the anti-sweatshop movement.

If there's one message you should learn from Judaism and other religions is that all people are made in the image of God, Drogosz said. "That is something that demands respect."

Keraaghan called religious people "key" to his movement which often asks Catholic nuns to petition corporations about their labor practices.
"Our secret weapon is the Catholic nuns." he said. "When they go after a company, forget it.

\section*{UNIVERSITY}

\section*{continued from page 1}
tions and renovations to existing ones, Freund said.

The space problem is an important issue on campus, especially now since the SU Board of Trustees approved borrowing money for building construction, said Tom Mekay, chairman of the philosophy department.
"There are big issues for the sciences as far as space," Mrkay said. Insbeen something thats makes sense to borrow money and \section*{then pay it off."}

\section*{Campus diversity.}
ncreasing diversity is another prevalent issue Freund raised in her speech, McKay said.
"I certainly wasn't surprised," he said. "There are still many ethnic groups that are under-represented among professors. It's something we need to look at. I think it's valuable for students to see that many different kinds of people san be profes sors and can be professionia's in general." eral."

Freund said she heard people on campus continually talking

\section*{Ralph G. Martell}

Professional Art Photographer
 Female Nude Models Needed \($ 25.00\) "Hour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time
(315)893-7779

about diversity when she arrived. The nonversity nende to wort on entablishing a more welcoming atmosphere for different ethnic groups, she said.

She said she wants to set aside \($ 1\) million anonymous donation for 20 to 30 endowed professorships, an increase in the total number of chairpersons and professorships and the retainment of individual professors who are consideriag working for other universities.

Freund named about 20 "distinguished" professors in attendance who the university hopes to dowment of Jo announced the endownent of John Baldwin, chemistry professor, and Laurence Nafie, chairman of the chemustry department. professorships will be added soon.

\section*{Freund said.}

\section*{Academic opportunity}

SUJ should offer greater financial aid and incentives to attract graduate students and provide them more opportunities to have their woris published. Freund said.

On the undergraduate level, the university must turn its students into "life-long learners." she said.
"One key to inspire learning comes rirom recognition that learning takes place 24 hours a day, "Freing takes place 24 hours a day," Freund said. "There are teachable moments throughout the day."
"The university shoald pursue a "seamless" undergraduate education, where students and faculty members from different disciplines work tagether on similar areas of interest, Freund said.
This method would benefit both students and taculty, said Judy Dyne, a nursing professor

I like her idea of having dif ferent groups together across differ ent disciplines," Dyne said. "I think it's a great concept. They would form a community so it would cros all the schools and they could learn from each other. It would also help faculty because faculty would learn from other faculty across schools too."

Freund said she was not nervous about delivering her firs speech to the faculty.
"I felt I knew the things I wanted to say." she said. "And I was grateful for an opportunity to say

\section*{The tasty Bacon Cheddar Whopper}

\section*{Think of it as a Whopper that is dressed up with someplace to go!}
 Available at Kimmel Food Court, Goldstein Dining & Brockway Food Court

\section*{The Daily Orange}
"Think specifically he likes to make them feel that is the only way they can succeed.

Bush, the first presidential candidate ever to raise more than \($ 50\) million in campaign funding, supports a ban on soft money and a raise in the \($ 1,000\) limit on individual campaign contributions Soft money refers to funding filtered through political parties to candidates.

Other items on Bush's carnpaign agenda include raising the legal age for handgun purchases ing the 1960s to promote racial equality.

This good-intentioned policy only succeeds in making women and minorities feel inadequate that they cannot succeed solely on the basis of their skills, accorcing to Keyes' campaign.

Several military issues also need to be closely examined, Legakis said, such as employing women in the military

There are many men fresh out of high school, with hormones raging, and they are not able to concentrate on national defense if in the ranks, he said.
politics as usual," Flood explained "That's a direct appeal to young voters and students."

Some of the actions and pandering by politicians like Bush contribute to the lack of political motivation among college students, Flood said. McCain does not tell young voters what they want to hear for political gain, but rather tries to eliminate apathy and ex cite students about the political process, he added
"This is a different kind of message, Flund said. "I think McCain is saying that politics is above all that pandering. This is about omething bigger.

If McCain wants to win New York state, however, he must appeal to all members of the Repubdents, said Gina DeRossi, secretary of SU's College Republicans. "Right now he's getting this image that he's not a true Republican," DeRossi said. "That's obviously causing problems, especially in these closed elections."

Some of McCain's primary to 21, increasing the minimum wage by one dollar and encouraging volunteer and religious organifor the disadvantaged.

To improve education nationwide, Bush proposed a system where individual states would receive additional federal funding for taking the initiative to make school improvements. Bush would shift financing to charter schools in areas where standards are not improved.

\section*{Gays in the military also pose a very large problem, he added.} "There can't be a guy in one stall worrying if another guy is looking at him funny," Legakis said.

This is a sign of moral decline in the U.S. military, as wel in the United States itself, he said
"You need to have a fighting machine with strong morale," he said.

These principles are applicable to all U.S. citizens, Legakis added.
Wenefit collings he would do to benefit the nation," he said.
victories came in states with open elections where Democrats and independent voters were allowed to vote in the Republican contest. A majority of his supporters in those victories were moderate Republicans, Democrats and indeof the voters in the Feb. 23 Michigan primary contest, open to any party member, were non-Republican voters. McCain took 82 percent of the \(D e\) mocratic vote and 67 percent of the Bush, however, won the maBush, however, won the maority of registered Republicans jority of registered Republicans with 66 percent of cording to exat polis. in the fall, if he gets the nomination, many of these traditional Republicans may vote for a third party candidate," said Burns, a ju party candidate, said burns, aju major. "They may even vote for a Democrat."

McCain's greatest assets, and potential to improve the Re

Stewart said. "College students know that the education is not all it

A Texas native, Bush served in three Texas Legislative sessions before successfully winning the position as state governor in 1994.

During his legislative tenure, Bush supported proposals to improve public schooling, cut taxes, curb frivolous lawsuits and encourage economic development.

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc}

Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs
PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors
Best Prices
Guarenteed Work
Hours
Mon. Thur Fri.
Mon. Thur Fri.
\(9: 30-5: 30\)
Sat \(10: 30-2: 30\)
Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Site: computerdoctorsyr.com

He also proposed strategies to incorporate public service as a re quirement for welfare recipients. Bush now looks to the nation especially college students, for sup port in his endeavor to follow his father, former president George Bush to the White House, Parenti said. The college vote is very imrtant," he said. "We would hope portant," he said. "We would hope every student at the university would take the time to look at the candidates and decide for themselves who best fits their needs.

\section*{On the issue of} \section*{Heath Care}

-does not support govemment funded health care
-wants to move away from the socialist health care system created by the Clinton administration
* Affimative Action
-does not support programs in any forms
-believes that affirmative action programs cause women and minorities to feel inadequate in securing positions
- Education
- wants abolition of the U.S. Department of Education favors school vouchers believes in more parental involvement in educational choices

\section*{On the issue of}
* Health Care
favors reforming and improving current govemment health care programs rather than establishing new programs that would lead to increased bureaucracy wants tax incentives for businesses offering comprenensive insurance plans ment health care programs are enrolled
- Arimathe Action
-favors limited programs such as awarding government construction contracts to minorities
- Eckucation believes in leaving more decision making power and funding with local govemments and school districts instead of federal involvement supports school choice and vouchers to heip disadivantaged iamiiies pay ior private education wants federal tax doltars to help families send their chitdren to private scmools favors state and local. not national, educational standards publican Party, DeRossi said. These abilities far outweigh any drawbacks his issue stances pre sent, she added.

Burns agreed that one of Mc. Cain's most important strengths is his ability as a leader. His back. ground as a soldier and prisoner during the Vietnam War gave during the vietnam war gave that is hard for other candidates to match, Burns explained.
"He's trying to fight for the future and he's trying to reform the party," DeRossi said. "He's moderate enough so that some of the people that are Democrats that want to see a little change and have now, might consider voting for him."

\section*{Digital Printing} hi-res color/b&w output
XEROX DocuColor 40
CANON CLC 700
2 Great Choices for Color Printing From Your Mac or PC Files cotiry 472-0546
F. 7 om -Midnite salurdoy: \(9 \mathrm{am}-7 \mathrm{pm}\)
Sunday: \(10 \mathrm{am}-11 \mathrm{pm}\)

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1
The victirn was unable to be reached for comment.

An unidentified suspect stole two bicycles, valuing \($ 1,100\) total, Sunday from the basement f a house on the 800 block of Lancaster Avenue, according to a police report.

Carolyn Rose, a junior industrial design major, said she kept her bike in a neighbor's basement, laundry facilities.
"I went to do my laundry on Sunday, and I saw that it wasn't \section*{there," Rose said.}

The basement doorknob was broken and a key was.needed to get the door open, she added.
"It couldn't be opened without the key," she said. "But I guess they found a way."

There was no fored entry the report said.
"There were no broken windows," said Stephen Cislo, a resi dent and senior at LeMoyme Col lege. Hopefully there's a chance they will find it"
- Two SU students found their shared computer missing their apartment on the 500 block

\section*{Congnatulations}

\section*{to the new membens of} JKappa JKappa Gamma

Courtney Alexander Natasha Barton Burchic Benton Lori Bongiomo Jennifer Buonantony Kaitlin Creager Sarah Dewey Carlynn Finn Brittany Gray Carolyn Greener Taylor Guilmene Laturen Helfor Heather Hinckley Courtney Hyde Meagan Jones Bryanne Kelleher Elizabeth Keller Tracy Kenealy

Sophic Link
Annika Loo
Jennifer Maclure Kathleen Malliarakis Jesssica Maltz Kristen McClenahan Shannon Mercurio Amelia Morten Christine Munding Elizabeth Neiner Lauren Pomerantz Stephante Pollock Maria Sansone Jackie Shutack Abby Sims Stephanic Trussell Tracy Whiting

\section*{Reader's Poll}

The Dally Orange Lifestyle Department is putting together its annual "Best of Syracuse" gulde. We want to know what you like about Hiving in Syracuse. Thanks for your help and enjoy the gulde!

\section*{What do you think is the best:}

Bar on the Hill?
Day/weekend trip?

Bar In the elty?
Dining hall?

Coftea shop?
Place to get your halr cut?

Plza place?
Place to get firm developed?

Ethnic food eatery?
Florist?

Athletic shop?
Hotel?

Place to buy musle?
Bed and breakfast?

Place to buy/rent videos?
Adult entertainment site?
of University Avenue, according to a police report.

The victims told police that the suspect entered their apart ment between 9 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday, the report said.

The back door may have been unlocked, the report added. The victims found the door slightly open, the report said.

The victim first thought that a friend had borrowed the IBM computer valuing \($ 800\), the report comp.

The students later found a $200 Sony Playstation video game also missing, the report said.

The students refused to comment on the situation.
- An unidentified person shattered a window Tudsday of a house on the 1000 block of Euclid Avenue, according to a police report.

Residents heard glass break and found a dining room window broken by a small rock, the report said.

The rock, thrown from the sidewalk or street, broke through the screen and window pane, the report said.

There are no witnesses, the report added.
- Senior Greg Nason's car was broken into on the 500 block of Euclid Avenue for the thind time since he came to SU, according to a police report
"This is the third time my car was broken into in Syracuse, and the fourth time in New York state," said Nason, an imaging major.
The culprit broke the rear or window, the repori said.

The same window was broken last time." Nason saic.

The suspect stole the stereo from the car, despite the stereo faceplate not being there, Nason said.

Nason said he believes that the thief is someone who has driven in his car before, he added.

The trunk was opened, but they didn't take the VCR that was in there, Nason said. The VCR is broken. It looks fine, but it eat this knew the VCR was already this knew the broken."

The stereo, valuing \($ 250\), was the only thing missing, Nason added.
"I have an idea of who it is," he said. "But I can't prove anything."
- A Syracuse basketball fan found his car, parked in the Alibrandi Catholic Center parking lot on University Avenue, broken into and his cellular phone missing Feb. 23, according to a police report.

Raymond Meiner, owner of the 1998 Toyota Forerunner, was attending an SU basketball game at the Carrier Dome, the report said.
"I parked in good light and close to the road, Meiner said. "The passenger side window was shattered."

The car alarm sounded, Meiner said.
"There was a wrench in the front seat," he said. "The thief must have panicked at the sound of the alarm."

The cost to replace the broken window is \($ 250\), he added.

There have been eight other car break-ins this semester, according to police reports.
- An SU sophomore lost her wallet containing seven credit cards with an estimated limit of \($ 7,000 \mathrm{Mond}\), \({ }^{2}\) according to a police report.
"I guess it fell out of my hand or I cropped if," saici Benoran Donarummo, a sculpture major. I'm really not sure how I lost it.

The student lost the wallet somewhere on the 100 block of Marshall Street, Donarummo said.

Her SU identification and driver's license were also in the wallet, the report said.
E Dorian's Gourmet Pizza and Deli customer lost her celinlar phone Feb. 15 in the restaurant, 534 Westcott Ave., accordin to a police report.
"It's a case of me walking in with the phone, and not leaving with it," said Cindy Cappa, the phone's owner.

Cappa ordered pizza at Dorian's and then satin a booth, hanging her coat over the seat, The phone was in her coat pocket, the report added.

Cappa called Dorian's the bext day to see is the phone had been found, the report said.

The phone, however, had not turned up, Cappa said.

An unidentified person found a damaged parking meter leaning against a utility pole Saturday night on the 100 block of Marshall Street, according to a police report.
aissing the rep the meter was nissing, the report added.

No other meters on the block were tampered with, the report were
said.

A car was towed Sunday afternoon on the 400 block of Clarendon Avenue, according to a police report.

The car, a 1993 Jeep Grand Cherokee, did not have a front license plate and the car license ex-

The Syracuse City Police Deartment called for more than 20 cars to be towed this semester from neighborhoods surrounding the university, according to police revoris.

The owners received citations for illegally parking and obstructing roadways, the reports said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evans Boston

\section*{Ebge}

Hacking away
As members of Congress get down to the details of how to toughen federal statutes against cybercrime, they are wrancrime, they are wran\(\sqrt{4} 5\) issue: What (2as 14.35 teen-age Sengex The usual suspects for computer haciking have been teen age boys who are alienated from high school classmates and have inept social skills and want to show off their computer expertise, legal experts say. But legal experts say. But mast federal computermost federal computer-crime cases are filed crime cases are filed and won against adults and won against adults Following last month's Follawing last month's attacks against several commerclal Web sites. federal lawmakers are considering ways to crack down on teer-age hackers.

\section*{Marsh laughter}

A baby's first laugh should bring only joy. But for a small number of children, some early grins and giggles can sidnal a rare brain abnormality characterized by seizures and an unprovoked urge to burst out laughing. It's caused by a congenital brain lesion called a brain lesion called artoma. The urges don't toma. The urges don't always produce laughalways p ter, and many patients find the feeling unpleasant, scientists say. The disorder can last throughout the patient's lifetime and though drugs can control the seizures, sufferers can seizures, sufferers can feel the unge to laugh feel the urge to laugh up to 10 times a day.

\section*{Coming up roses}

The English garden's image is of honeyed Cotswold stone framed by cherry-red climbing roses. But icons change, and although

Britain's National Trust may have done a great job of preserving the quaintest of these models for tourists. the privately designed space today is more likely to be as edgy as the latest track from Oasis. The English fascination with plants and the preoccupation with garden crafts both yield to a bigger idea of the to a bigger scuipture: garden as sculpture:
land art for the back yard.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"A modest man is usually admired, if people ever hear of him."
Edgar W. Howe

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
life 34 daily
orange.com

\section*{Olestra is a butter and fat substitute with some negative side effects.}

BY DOMINIC FRANCESE Staff Writer

Late-night snacking stakes a claim in almost every college student. All the will power in the world sometimes for that tempting bag of chips or another tasty treat other tasty treat nack food ingredient relatively new gences may not mean bulging out of those black pants or forming a potbelly. Olestra, fat alternative better known by it's brand name, Olean, is showing up more and more in the snack food aisle, and lately more often in students' diets. to the public by Proctor and Gamble in early 1996, after 25 years and \($ 200\) million in development. It is a man-made fat composed of vegetable composed of vegetable oil and sugar. Aloil and sugar. Although made of natthough made of natural ingredients, uralingredients, the Olestra molethe Olestra mole-cule is too large for the body to absorb. the substance, thereugh the body and is excreted without being digested

The benefit of Olestra edds no fat to foods, allowing people to snack more people to snack more * much guilt as before. Unfortunately, this snacking doesn't bring about the desired effects.

People think that fat-free means 1 can eat more," Syracuse University Food Services Nutritionist Julia Salomon said.

While many products have low,
See OLESTRA page 12

\section*{Patients pay price for doctors salaries \\ compensation at just about the level}

Corey Hann health sleuth

As big business swarms the medical community with subsidies, human test subjects are charged their livelihoods in order to pad doctors' decreasing salaries.
very "Doctors providing test subjects is very widespread," said Glenn McGee, director of the Center for Bioethics at the University of Pennsylvania. "In fact, more than 40 percent of urban doctors do it."

The concentration of these doctors seems to be among the younger, less experienced and most debted physicians just out of medical school, according to a Pennsylvania Bioethics Department

Human testing is an integral part Human testing is an integral part ical disorders, according to Marti Benedict, chief compliance officer for the SUNY Upstate Medical Center's Institutional Review Board.

"We often get human test subjects referred to us by doctors," said Benedict. They are the basis for a great deal of testing that goes on - everything from diabetes to breast cancer."

The board is a 22 -member committee composed of faculty, researchers and members of the Syracuse community and is the governing body of all medical research projects, Benedict said.

We are charged to review and protect the rights of human patients," she said.

In some cases patients can get lost among the wealth of paper work and become victims of their own endeavors, with college students being prime targets.
ize Pharmaceutical companies capitalallure them by pricing their research needed to pay off the average monthly credit card expenditure.

There is some resistance to this draw towards getting out of debt. aid "think 1 d say No personally," said Ogechi Opara, a freshman computer science major. unnecessary risks happening to my body"

It remains that doctors, however, are continually referring students, children and the elderly to studies that may not improve their health. In some cases, the ramifications of these referrals can pose serious danger to individuals.

Last spring, 2,000 experiments involving human subjects at Duke University Medical Center were halted by the National Institutes of Health. The administration was shut down for

\section*{AMERICAN EAGLE OUTFITTERS}

\section*{GROOVINEIS}

Swing, skank, mosh or break your way into a pair of AE Flight Shorts Take \($ 5\) off"

Shop in Your Underwear- ae.com
For the AE store neares. you call 1.888.A-Eagle-5

AE Spring Break

\section*{Take /5\% off}

All the gear you need to get your Groove on this Spring!
AE
Spring Break
expires \(3 / 28 / 00\)
 11100015910074 AUTHORIZATION CODE 91

\section*{OLESTRA}
contiriued from page 9
reduced or no fat, they usually have a similar number of calories, and that's what gets many people in trouble. cookie is the same cookie is the same as an 80calorie full-fat cookie, Salomon said. In terms of weight, people have been too quick to brand fat as the ene. all You have over energy intake.
that fat is an intemind us that fat is an integra part of a balanced diet. sential nutrient," as Salomon puts it, is responsi be for helping absorb vita mating, cushioning adding lating, cushioning, adding vor to foods, and providing a ing enrgy to hurnans

One of the big problems with fat replacers like Olestra \(s\) that those who eat it may suffer from a deficiency in some of the fat-soluble vitamins. Vitamins A, D, E and K require fat for absorption into the body.
"If all our diet consists of fat replacers, there is a potential risk of not absorbing nutrients that need fat for absorption," Safat for abso

\section*{Side effects}
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { e effects } \\
& \text { Olestra also prevents } \end{aligned}
\]
the body from absorbing cartenoids - nutrients that prevent certain types of cancer and heart disease. Little information on these nutrients is known, so the long-term effects of deficiency are presently unknown.

Olestra has received some opposition from consumers and the food industry. Since before it was apAroved by the Food and Drug Administration, Olestra has been known to cause some some people, including diarrhea, gas and pain. Because of these effects, foods containing Olestra have had to include the warning: "Olestra may cause abdominal cramping and loose stools" on food packaging.

The Center for Science in the Public Interest, a nutrition advocacy organization, has logged thouands of complaints about Olestra since the sub Olestra since the sub stance was introduced to consumers. The Center claims that over 15,000 people have complained about adverse reactions to Olestra. These reactions have led to embarrassment, missed. embarrassment, missed room at work and emergency room visics. A woman even had to be rushed to the emergency room after Wating only an ounce of Lay's ported. red.
In a December 1998 press release, Michael F . Jacobson, executive director of the Cen-Olestra.

Severe side effects might be acceptable from a cancer drug, but they are completely unacceptable from a food adlitive consumed by millions of people," said Jacobson.

Some food companies are also angry because foods containing Olestra are labeled fat-free," even though Olestra contains indigestible fat.

Even with the fat free label and lower calories, consumers don't seem to want to suffer the ble consequences.
By late 1999
By late 1999, Olestra sales were 30 to 40 per. ent below expectations, ac cording to Proctor and Gamble executives.

Some believe that this is because of a trend away from being fat free and going towards being healthier.
Only a handful of companies including Lay's, Proctor and Gamble and Utz are making snack foods containing Olestra, and it is mainly contained to fried snacks.

Studies have shown that fat intake and calories from fat do not greatly affect weight gain or loss. A study done by the National Dict Heart Study Research Group found that reducing the amount of fat calories from 35 percent of the diet to 30 percent of the diet yielded a less than two pound weight loss after 12 to 20 qionthis.
"The very obese people. the people who have a bodymass index of greater than thirty, they would benefit from lat substates, sa lomon said. A low fat diet is not for everyone." , \($ 1,600\) down to \($ 900\) over the past decade," said Dr. Joel Shalowitz, director of the health services management program at Northwestern University"The fee-schedule is now the gold standard."

Reimbursement is the term generally given to the amount of money a doctor will receive upon successful completion of a certain procedure periormed on a patient. This tradition is the main factor in sliding salaries,

To make up for this drastic change in their lives, doctors are now looking toward alternatives to supplement their incomes.
ing it up with clacal mesearch care system, for better or for worse.

Partaking in greed-driven or a new sub-specialty practice, like plastic surgery on the side." McGee said.

Moonlighting for other companies is a somewhat common practice for health professionals and can be quite rewarding. The bulk of subsides, nowever come from pharmaceutical com panies related to the doctor's specialty or research.

These companies have their hands deeper in doctors' back pockets than frisky nurses.
Physicians should realize that they are married to the heaili age already tarnished reputa tions.

Corey Hann is a junior philosophy and pre-medicine major. He is also an assistant lifestyle editor at The Daily Orange. His column appears Thursdays. E-mail him at cthann@syr.edu.

Some great destinations from syracuse
- New York - Toronto Buffalo -.and many more

\section*{"Hifg quality and low prices are guaranteed at Meineke:"}

\author{
- EXHAUST SYSTEMS - BRAKE SYSTEMS } - SUSPENSION SYStems
- c.V. JOINTS
- state inspection
- tire balancing
- All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY You won't pay a lot, but you'll get a lot.

\section*{FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate CICERO 8313 s. Main St.
\(699-9654\) \\  \\ Ask about \\ (US Rt E17. Must South 90 days same as cash.}

OPEN MON -SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM

\section*{This Sunclay March 5 18+ older \\ BLEAGHERS VERSION OF SUNDAY SGHOOL Hip Hop the night away

}

\section*{ 5 O\% DFF}

meinelre

\section*{STATE INSPECTION \(1 / 2\) PRICE DNI S7}

SNverictir ivilugitin
Heinetre

COLE CHANGE \(\overline{8}\) TIRE ROTATION ONIV 519.95

\section*{ STI DFF}

Mirtaiz ㄱun

\section*{IRISH}
continued from page 20 A Thomas three-point play temporarily silenced the raucous Dame pulled to 65-64 on Macura's final trey of the game.

He took a pass from Graves, who had penctrated through the Orangemen's defense and buried the right-wing shot.

The stage was set for anoth-back-to-bar to take over. On used a high double-screen to free himself for driving layups that pushed the lead back to five Hart finished with 16 points and six assists, even though he picked up his fourth foul with more than 14 minutes to play. stretch) and we've been going to him all year," Boeheim said. "He's made big shots and big plays for us."

With the game still in doubt, the noisy Notre Dame crowd impacted on the game. Upset with the officiating, Irish fans tossed a variety of objects toward the floor: Af
After the first object hit the hardwood, ND head coach Matt

Doherty addressed the capacity wd and issued a warning. However, the actions continued, and the team received a Bechnical foul following a foul on maining and SU clinging to a two-point lead.

Blackwell hit two of the four free throws, and seconds later, Damone Brown hitanother to extend the lead to five points.

Murphy, who finished with 20 points, drilled a final-second 3-pointer to close out the scoring.
The technical, however, did not play a roll in the outcome of the game, both coaches said I warned them to stop after first, but it's (the teams) fault, Doherty said. "If we had played the first half like we did the second half, it wouldn't have mattered. We would have been up 10 points."

Syracuse continued to get strong play from its bench. Although he didn't record gaudy numbers, Allen Griffin played a tremendous floor game, Boeheim said.

Irish-killer Preston Shumpert - who scorched ND SUr 26 points on six 3 -pointers in Dome - continued to shoot the ball well. He drained three first half threes, including one 2.9 seconds before halitime to give SU at 45-31 lead.

Preston Shumpert was ridiculous," Doherty said. "I'll have to look at the tape to see how closely he was guarded on some of those shots.

He's paying me back for not recruiting him to watch him play at camp to replace Paul Pierce, and now that lid is paying me back \({ }^{*}\)

\section*{Big games loom for conference teams \\ We're less than a week away} from the Big East. Tournament, and hardly anything is set in stone. Fans know one thing about the Orangemen - they will have a first-round bye.

By virtue
Chuck of Wednesday Petruccione nights win Dame, they Big East pushe, they their Notebook lead to a full game over St. John's and Miami. With just one game left on the schedule, Syracuse (24-3, 13-2 Big East) should roll into Madison Squar Garden with the No. 1 seed. Garden with the No. 1 Showdown f Syracuse does beat Connecticut on Saturday, the game between Miami and St John's will be a battle for second place. It should be a fun contest, as the two teams have split their last four mectings.

St. John's (21-6, 12-3) is on a roll, having won eight in a row. And the Johnnies have done it through some serious adversity. Their latest win, 66-60 over Seton Hall, came in the shadow of the NCAA again suspending point guard Erick Barkley

The sophomore guard was declared ineligible Tuesday when the NCAA determined the Riverside Church AAU program paid for part of his prep school tuition. St. John's has appealed the suspension.

Bootsy Thornton stepped up in Barkley's absence and tied a season high with 28 points. He also grabbed eight boards, dished out three assists and knocked down a pair of threes in 40 min utes of action.

As for the Hurricanes, they haven't had a full compliment themselves lately. Johnny Hemsley just returned from his puspension to drop 21 points at. Tuesday night Center Mar Bland also dominated in the 74 66 win with 20 points and 10 rebounds.

Miami (19-9, 12-3) has won 10 of their last 11 conference battles. In fact, they have the best league record of anyone in the Big East over the past two seasons. The only recent loss came against Providence (11-16, 4-10) on Feb. 16.

With just, one game left, it looks as if Miami point guard Vernon Jennings could steal the Big East assist title away from Jason Hart. Although the SU senior has led the category most of the season, a late run by Jennings put him one assist ahead of Hart.

In the game against Pittsburgh, Jennings posted 10 assists, his fifth double-figure output of the season.
Walking the plank
That popping sound you hear could be Seton Hall's bubble bursting. The Pirates (19-8, 10-6) finished the season by losing four And everyo games.

And everyone knows the NCAA selection committee likes well coming into the tourney

Since they are done playing until the Big East Championships, the Pirates have to sit and watch to see where they will be seeded.

Seton Hall has received good individual efforts lately, but teammates just can't get on the same page. Against St. John's, Shaheen Holloway tallied 22 points, six rebounds and four assists.

The game before, an 87-74 loss to Villanova, was Darius Lane's turn to shine. The sophomore scored a career-high 32 points and snagged nine rebounds.

Lane's race with Boston

College's Troy Bell for Rookie of the Year should be tight. Bell played phenomenal basketball early in the year and still ranks as the second-leading scorer the Big East. However, 1 ane leads the conference in 3 -pointers leads the conference in 3-pointers made and is the top scorer on a made and is the top scorer Tourney-bound.

\section*{Winning ways}

Although it hasn't exactly played up to expectations this season, UConn has still been successful. After all, the defending national champions had a tough act to follow.

The Huskies' 74-69 win at Rutgers on Monday night guaranteed a winning record in the conference this season.

Atainst the Scarlet Knights (15-13, 6-9), sharp-shooting guard Albert Mouring led the way with 16 points. Jake Voskuhl also had a solid game, scoring 15 points and grabbing 13 rebounds. the Hucke bad news has fallen on to fuskies (20-8, 9-6), though Sophomore Edmund Saunders, who started 21 games for UConn this season, has been suspended indefinitely for an undisclosed volation of team rules. The forward averages seven points, five rebounds and ranks second on the team in steals.

Clawing their way up the Big East standing its nove in the Big East standings. The team just better hope it's not too

The Windeats (18-10, 8-7) have won Give of their last six, Seton Hall. Villanova's recent Soton has helped the team pass Notre Dame in the standings.

It's middle of the road teams like the 'Cats and Irish that make it anyone's guess as to how many tournament bids the Big East will earn. John's big four - Syracuse, St locks. But Seton Hall Novia and Notre Diseton Hal, Nova have slight chances to mate it. If the Wildcats can Ginish with a few nore wins and then make a strong run in the Big East Championships, they might be able to make it at least five conference teams in the Big Dance.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{ETAN}
continued from page 20
tosaurus bones, loomed large in the lane all throurhout Wednesday night's matchup.

The SU center roamed the paint for much of the evening, rendering the drives of Irish guards as useless as a brokendown Dodge Shadow.

He was also there backing up teammate Ryan Blackwell, who drew the assignment of covering ND top dog Troy Mur phy. Blackwell did an admirable job on Murphy by himself.

But Thomas gave one more obstacle for the Big East Player of the Year candidate to deal with on his way to the hoop.

He's tough," Murphy said of Thomas. "It's hard because you have Blackwell, and you do a move to get by him, and all of a sudden you're dealing with Etan Thomas. It's a hard onetwo punch.

The Notre Dame forward finished with 20 points but found himself unable to take over the game. Much of Murhy's inability came as a direat result of having to expend energy in his defensive coverage of Thomas in the low post.

The Irish superstar and the SU strongman battled all game, throwing elbows and trash talk in equal measure The defining moment of the duo's matchup came with 8:40 remaining in the game. With the Irish in the midst of a 5-0 spurt that brought the deficit to 11 and the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center crowd 11,418 to its feet, Thomas swatted a baseline jumper by Murphy. Atter grabbing the loose ball, the SU center made sure the ND forward knew exactly what had happened.
said fier the game, Thomas said his matchup with Murphy is typical of the way the \(S U\) center likes to play.
Thomt was agood battle," Thomas said. "It was the kind of battle that's fought in college basketball. Those are the kind of battles that you want."

While ripping rebounds off the glass and rejecting Irish shots out of the air came easily to Thomas on Wednesday, the Syracuse senior worked extrahard for his points.

Like many teams, Notre Dame played primarily zone against the Orange, allowing Murphy to lean on Thomas while his ND teammates provided defensive help from behind.
for The zone did make it tough Thomas bu get the ball inside to Thomas, but the SU center still managed to take 13 shots, secand on the team only to Blackwell's 15.

Most of Thomas' points came after penetration from his teammates drew the ND defenders, leaving the SU center unguarded in the post. Almost all of those scenarios ended with the SU center using the hoop as a chin-up bar and the Orangemen with two more points.

Chink we did a good job looking for him," Boeheim said. I think we can still do even a better job. He was active."

The Irish's focus on Thomas also opened up the out side for SU's 3-point sharp shooters, who took full advantage, hitting 10 treys.

Time and again, however it was Thomas who silenced the rowdy crowd at the JACC Whether it was with one of his im-rattling dunks or one of his ferocious rebounds that had the Irish checking if they had all their limbs, Thomas made it clear to allin atten dance that his ownership of the paint was not in question.

And while Boeheim called the game "not for the faint-ofheart," Thomas grinned and laughed when recalling it.
"It was fun," Thomas said. "It's especially more fun when you win."

SEASON
continued from page 20 attributes make SU the great team it can be.

The No. 2 Orangemen commence their season Saturday at No. 1 Virginia, a rematch of last season's national championship game the Cavaliers won 12-10.

Both squads return their vital cogs and renew a rivalry started with SU's climactic 22-21 victory against UVain a 1996 regular-season contest.

It's No. 1 vs. No. 2, the nation's best attackman (Powell) vs. the nation's best defenseman (Ryan Curtis)

The two best teams in America face off Saturday and the winner emerges the favorite to win the national title.

Along with their abundance of talent, the Orangemen have personality. They have flair.

They have what it takes to win their first championship since 1995. No opponents, Powell's No. 22 is like Hester Prynne's 'A,' a revealing sign that says: watch out.

Ceglia's stick-handing and checking instills fear in SU's foes.

Thursday March \(2^{\text {nd }}\) 7:30 pm Goldstein Auditorium tickets \($ 2\) (e) Schine Box Office following the show, discount admission to Club Abyss

E SU's own Dave Malkoff

And as for Stessen's hair - if a helmet didn't cover it, the Cavaliers might flash back to Gem cartoons from the '80s.

Instead, they will see Syracuse's traditionally strong offense, a muchimproved midfield and a defense that could be among the nation's best.

The camaraderie among the Orangemen lends to a cohesive unit, a necessity shown by last season's run to the title game.

Syracuse entered a No. 8 seed and faced Princeton. The Orange's mid-season slump jeopardized its run of 16 consecutive Final Four appearances.

But goalie Robby Mulligan - now a team captain as a junior - led the team with his commanding voice and outstanding play.

The Tigers went kaput.
Bye-bye No. 1 Loyola in the next round, and hello 17 Final Fours in a row.

A festive see-ya to Georgetown in Round 3.
Poon Syracuse is back in the finals.

Things happen in the most roundabout ways, and the Orangemen come full circle Saturday

Powell, Mulligan, Byrnes and seniors Sam Bassett and Devin Darcangelo captain Syracuse, helping run practice and maintain a constant on-field tempo.

They like to run-n-gun and play for fun. High-scoring offenses are priority at Su-amosi a birthright handed to the attackmen and offensive middies upon arrival on the Hill.

If you like style and substance, these Orangemen are for you.

Watch Powell whip a behind-the-back pass - or even better, a behind-theback shot.

Mulligan complains attackman Mike Springer's textbook shot is so fast, the goalie wants to play other teams so he can avoid facing it in practice.

Each Syracuse player delivers passes as straight and precise as a ruler-drawn line.

On the other hand, if you like hard hitting and trash-talking, thesc Orangemen are for you, too.
Hey, UVa, here's SU's take on a childhood poem: Flailing sticks may break your bones and words will always hurt you.

Ciose defensemen John Glatzel and Billy St. George whip their long poles, crack whatever else is in their way.

When Mulligan isn't scrambling for a ball, he'll scrambling for a ball, he'll run smack that wo

SU possesses the whole package, the delicate mix of bruisers and finesse players

Syracuse will win the majority of its games. That's a given. Last season's five osses were the most sinc SU dropped five in 1979

With a schedule ranking third-toughest in the nation, a lineup with All-Americans a lineup with All-Americans dition dating back decades the Orancemen demand respect.

And they get it.
Uniess, of course, with a mop of purple hair Who knows what to think then?

Jeff Passan is an Asst. Sports Editor at the Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at jspassan@syr.edu

Never Odd or Even
by Tim Dase

by laci Price

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever

by Jeff Feligno

"Classic" Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles
by Neil Swaab

CROSSWORD
by THOMAS JOSEPH
ACROSS \(\quad 42\) To this
1 Misbe-
1 Misbe-
have \(\frac{\text { time }}{}\) Parking
6 Confis-
10 cate
10 Gallows
loop 11 loop 13 Circus
14 Arabian 5 city material jazz 8 Krazy 19 TV medical drama 22 Gl's 23 Actor 4 Karate tevels 27 Computer units 28 Oodles 29 Naughty 30 Ca TV series 35 Chess Mreat Mikhail
Actor
36 Actor
37 Porch
38 Bring together Still kicking

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 $\) each additional word \(5 \%\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE \(\mathbb{Z}\) are Pre-paid by.
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Oiscower Cast, Check, Master Ciars, days prior to rum ADS AAE NOTTAKENEYPHONEII Ads can be mailied wilh check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue:
Syracuse. NY 1320 Att
FIassiens: AAMAAMAAAAAAA

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Attention Females: \\
- Is your eating out of control? \\
- Are you at least 21 years old and a social drinker? \\
Call \(443-9462\) to EARNS in a CONFIDENTAL stucy.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Autos}

Jeep Wrangler, 974 cylinder, Red whlad solt top to,000 beat call 476 -7097 see photo in Auto Finde Magazine must sed.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{Cruise Lines Hiring. Cruise Lines now hiting all} positions. Call \(1=800\) - 869 -6430 NEED EXPERIENCE (and money?) Join a tast. furn and growing compary as your campus, representative. Flexibie hours, responsibilities and competitive pay No experience, just .personalty neejed. Visit information and to fill out an ontine application.
Goumet Coltiee Shop located in SUNY Hospital hiring manager. Experience neederd in inveniory controt, cash handing. Iraining customer service skifls. Health care benefits and salary negotiable. ax resurre to 757-565-6354
CAMP CANADENSIS, Pocono Mountains. PA,
Premier residential coed summer camp. We aff Premier residential ceed summer camp. We arf tooking lo an energetic, quasified and caring staff to teanth all generic athetics. gymuastics, hockey. teanis, mountain bikes. golt, motorcydias, outtoor dvenure, ropes, archiry. diama video, phorografirf, listhing, WSt, waterfiont activilies, tajeilities and great salay!! \(G / 21 / 00-8 / 800\). C anl \((800) 832 \cdot 8228\)
College Peps Naoded Earn \($ 1200\) Next Weck
College Feps Naoded Eam \($ 1200\) Nert
Part Time www.Ianchiseyourselticom

\section*{\(\square\)}

UNIVERSITY AREA APTS.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com
2 BEDROOM APARTMENT
TOAD HALL
302 MARSHALL ST. (ACROSS FROM HAVEN)

\footnotetext{
* Wall to Wall Carpet
- Zoned Thermostats
- Air Conditioned
}

Camp Counsalars Top Onmight Camps in coumpinelotestcamp.com part time pobs delivery dimers, dishiwashers apply Casmop peat 143 Marshal 5 St
CAMP COUNSELOAS-NEW YORK Caiskill Mountains, yer onty hist from NY Cily

 Job Opportunities calling all screenwritefs, actors. DIREGTOAS! , Mmp sisn your camed for a BONUSES SLL S guaranted houth riot for Syrizuse Stage "Angel Appeal Campaign:- Nice 5.9PM. 1/17-3/19. Required pleasant speaking 5.9pM. goal oriented. positive alitivele. 44311558 BONUSES plus guaranteed houtly rite for Syracuse Slagy Angel Appeal Campaign: Nice 5. working ammosphere. On bust tina. Men. Thur 5.9pM. \(1 / 17.3 / 19\) Required pleasant spoaking vices, goal ofiented, possitive attitude. \(443-1458\) whw universilytartending.com Space is Limited

Call For Intrmation!!!

\section*{WANTED Child Care}

Cisero covolete seeking student to provide pastime ctilld cara in our home lor 4 yoar-dd and

Help Wanted

\section*{SFuwDRASERS Open to studen groups}

51500 weekly potential mailing our ciralars. No Experiences required Free intormation packel Call 202-452-7679.
 it's that easy wilh no gimmicks:

\section*{Roommates}

Roommats wantod for fon semester 200 only in a 2 bedroon apartment on Heasombly pricad. 476 -2982
Roommate Wanted kor June 2000 to 2001 Female non-snoker comerne ol Ostrom and Eucial 442 -6525 FOR RENT

\section*{Ackemian Ave, 4br 2Bath apt Furrishec,} carpeled. walk tocanpus.
5100 -50i 1 lasse 446.7202
Apartnents cloose te campusg cean 2-3.5

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes/ \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations / Prices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{
 \\ bodroons, and bantich sirel qunge \\
 \\ }

4Bedrooms, OaklandSL, 18lock ESF, 3Blocks Law Hospials. Tumishod, parking laundry, 4 Edrm House 5300 mm and 3 brdm Ratis s2500/m. Avail Aug. Very Group 637 -5195

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Eucid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
\({ }^{871}\) Ackerman Ave
917 Ackemman Ave
1011 E.Adams St
Avalable for 2000-2001 furking. Fuli Time Maintenance and Maragentrent, Wall to Wall Carpet andtor Wall to Wali Carpet andior
Hefinished Hardwood Floors Refinished Hiarcwood fioors Remodelod Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{UNIVERSITY} HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments, Beautilut, Spacious. OHstreet Parking. Fuly Furnished, Low Utilities, Salo, Owiet Close 4 University Ave, five bedroom House one block Irom Marahall Street lurnished laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus ulilities D.N.Drucker 445-1229 Siop cloan 3 bodroom aparmenta Firephice, pawking. Ieundry, GREAT LOCATION 22E Euclid, e eqross from Shaw, 4 bedroom, raasonable rent, parking.
dishwasher, lansty of Tma 47
Univertivy and Comratock Very ciose to Campus
Eiffoiencies and Thro Bedroons Secure bldg.
 furrished Aauncry parking 123 D....Drwiker LLid. Two Eudrpom Apartmenta on Eudid Furrish
Heat inch remodeled, laundry, parking. 476-2992
University Area 2.3 Bedroom furnished
Aparmments Sinde Hourses for rem. Call
Apartments Single Houses for rent. Call
Jim 668.7473

\section*{Jim 668.7473}
2,3 and 4 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS
302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Watnut Ave
319 Euclid Ave
145 Avondala Place

Available for 2000-2001
Fuly Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carper ancloor Refinished Hard Wood Floors Ramodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Comstock nicely fumished quier \(1 \cdot 2 \cdot 3\) bedroom parking utitities inctuded dose w

Wastoow Eucid renovaled \(3+4\) bedroon avail \(6 / 1\)
\($ 650-5720\) PMM pakking \(D W\) Pat 2633415
\[
\square \longrightarrow
\]

Apartments
Four Bodroom on Ackemmen, Furnished, Paking, Oishwastet, Twa Porches. Olf steei Pater Dishwaster, Twa Porches,
Laundry Carpet Hart
Cithood Fiocrs Laundry, Carpet. Hardi
Call Gordon 476-2882
2 Bedroom Apts 202204 Ostrom, 105 Eucidd

\begin{tabular}{c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
macrowave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALLTODAY \\
PETER 427-0052
\end{tabular}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
One and Two Bedrom
Furtisted Apartinents Cornar ol Walnut and Hattison Avenues. Leases Commenoe June 2000. Hartison Avenues Leases Commenor ast Month
and Seculity No Pels Allownod. Last Month and Secuitiy No Pels Allown Graduates Preferred Cail \(422-7755\) Large 2 bedioom. 2 tulf bath. Walking dista s.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call \(422-7305\). University 283 Bedroon TownHouses a Flats. Fireplare.finishoo basement, Cali \(449-0109\). Ont Bodroom Apartments Clase to Compuzs ytitites inctucod, Oak noors, fure plece, turnished ytitites included, Oak noors, fite place, furnished.
parking, very clean, laundry Call Gordon \(476-29 B 2\).

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS

329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.

Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms
Lowest rents for modern new construction.
low utilities.
University Area Apts
www.universityarea.com
2 2Bedroom LargoFlat availabie June, July,Augu Ot-st Parking bistwashor taundry NewCar 5ome-hymaturo on-bustine
5 Btock-to-carmpus \($ 420\) Secure \(445-9570\) Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distan s.U. of street parking Laundry Call 42277305 . Available mid Ausyust, 3 bedroom that very naar option. livingroom with fireplace, diringroom, new oplicon. Livingroom with firsplace. diningroors, 2 Betroom apt with 2 ear garape. 1 Bedroomt apt with 2 car garage 125 kensington Rd.
comes of Lancaster \($ 550472-2667\).

\title{
SU softbalt Staff Writer \\ "Our first game was awful, but we \\ ern Illinois. Junior pitcher Missy \\ "It's a great reward when
}

\section*{BY JASON REMILLARD}

\section*{BY JASON REMILLARD}

The Syracuse Orangewomen took the first steps of their collegiate softball infancy two weekends ago at the Mardi Gras Classic in Louisiana.

Like a child learning to walk, the Orangewomen fell a few times, but by the end of the weekend they were ready to let go of their mother's hand.

SU took its bigrest spill of the weekend in the program's first official game, an 8-0 trouncing against Wisconsin on Feb. 18. Tothough, the Orange took huge steps, holding the same Badger team to only one run in a 1-0 defeat.
"We got stronger as we went through the tournament," head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said.
got a lot of the jitters out of our system and buckled down and On the second day the On the second day, the Orangewomen found their groove and kept plugging away. SU en two opener trailing 3-0 of their day sian a-Mon roe and plated tou runs to cut the deficit to one. How ever, the Orange could not scone in the final frame and took a 3-2 loss.

Persistence paid off in the second game of the day, as the team made Syracuse softball history with its first win, defeating Louisiana Tech G-2. SU scored three runs in the fourth and sixth innings, and freshman pitcher Tara DiMaggio shut down the

The Orang
the team's first winnin started with a I-O squeaker over streak

Bieman held the Salukis to four hits in earning her first victory and shutout as an Orangewoman. The lone SU run came in the sixth inning. \({ }^{\text {In }}\)

In the rematch against Wisconsin, the Badgers scored their only run in the top of the first inning. Syracuse catcher Chrissy Inthe team managed jut the rest of The lack of offensive support overshadowed a strong pitching performance from DiMaggio, who gave up only two hits and fanned three. "Our offense was kind of asleep that weekend," Firnbach said. "You have to score runs in this game to win.
for her stron received recognition for her strong pitching with a selection to the All-Tournament Team. She went 1-1 with a 1.62 ERA and struck out five.

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793
you're done," Bieman said of her selection. "I just go out and try my for myself well for my team and 100 percent. The results were good." Magrio snid the team knew little about its opposition entering the tournament, which might have been to the Orange's advantage.
"I think that was good for us, not knowing what we were going up against, whether they were have scared us if they were could

The Orangewomen's growth
cess continues Sundiay when they venture down to West Point for a doubleheader with Army. Fimbach said the Cadets possess an experienced bunch with several returning starters, in contrast to a Syracuse team that consists of mostly freshmen.
"The problem with the younger ones is that they're inexperienced in the college area," said bieman, who played junior college to SU. "Worida before transferring lots of games to gain that playing ence. We have a lot of potential ence. We have a lot of potential to have the mental aspect of the game."
or the Orangewomen's major advantages is the use of the Carmier Dome for practice during inclement weather The team can still play full-field scrimmages and spread out for drills instead of sium as most teams do nom as most teanis do

No other tearn in the country has a facility like this," DiMar. games in here and just go all out."

\section*{Two Bedroom Apartments Fumished, Hardwcod Floors and Carpeling, Panify, Powth, Laundry Parking, ciose to campus, Call Gordon 476-2982}

Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Campetitive rente. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven). wwunuiversityarea.com 479-5005

 Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood hoors, tomishe, laundry. quiet building, elose to campus, utilifies included.
\(476-2982\)
 Sutaizs inciuded, laundry, panking. One blo Campus near law shool + ESF. May + August availability. \(425 \cdot 1\) 18E3.

\section*{Houses}

Larpe Single Family turnished house. Pakking. ireplace, Iree laundry. distwasher, mature tenants
\(682-3304\) 82-3304
Uninersity nicsly furnished 5 bedroom stery house 3 car grage extra parking inducded cose walk to SU hospitalis law 478.2642 large 1 slock to campus 721 huge of Streer Parking m Ave. 446-3693

\(\longrightarrow\) OOTMISL

\section*{LOOK AT THIS!} Spacious sio bedroom, Fumished House, whdishwasher and six targe bedrooms and TWO lut batroors of streel parbing with garaga. Washer and dryer in buidang. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00pmp
\(\qquad\)
Clarendon S1., 4-bedroorn, Iree washer, dryer, of-street parking available \(5 / 15 /\) Call 492.3199
UNIVERSITY
HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,5,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.
www.universityhill.com

Big Houso hor rent. 813 Comslock. Newty rencvaled. Porfect lor a group of mature students Charming Engwish Tudor House on Comstock 6 Bedroonzs. Fireplace, across from Wormens Bldg. Avaĭ 5/20 475-1012, (843)514-3881

GREAT HOUSES,
OO BCOCKOSTROMS EEOFOOMS OFF STREE PARKING, FIREPLACE
LAUNDYYISHHASHEA HARWOOD
CALI BRAD LAUNDRY DISHHASHEA HARDWOOD

\section*{Rooms}

\section*{hoom in Private Home, furnishey wikitchen uso} laundry and phone. Grads preferred. Juns ist or August ist 9 monih lease or longer 479.9617 John

Summer
5 bedrocm house wa sherddyer dishwasher, bachyard. 250 /month utilies included \(422-6169\)

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

SPAMG BAEAK-GRADVEEK

\section*{MISC.}

As NOTE FROM THE EAATY ORANGE: As always, please use caution when replying or being replied from any athertisement itsue, bor The Daity Drange does not take responsibitity tor any misconduct resulting in con-tate Detweon yoursell and adventiser. sact between yoursell and acoveriser.

\title{
The Sraduate Eudent Orqanization is \\ Requesting all Student and Service Organization Budget Proposals for the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year be submitted to the GSO Office by
}

\author{
March 29, 2000, 4:30pm in 131 Schine
}

If there are any questions pertaining to the budget proposal format or the budget process, please contact \(443-3961\) or e-mail fjcarter@syr.edu.
orange NOTES

Men's Basketball No. 9 Syracuse 73
Notre Dame 71
rangernen (24-3, 13-2) Player Brown Blackwell
Thomas
Bland
Shumper
Shiffin
Griffin
wallism
\begin{tabular}{lccc}
Fighting Irish (16-13, & (-8) \\
Player & 0 & \(r\) \\
Graves & 9 & 6 \\
Palmer & 3 & 0 \\
Murphy & 20 & 6 \\
Dillon & 9 & 4 \\
Owens & 2 & 2 \\
Kartelo & 0 & 0 \\
Carroll & 0 & 1 \\
Macura & 12 & 2 \\
Monserez & 6 & 2 \\
Ingelsby & 3 & 1 \\
Swanagan & 7 & 0
\end{tabular}

Big East Basketball Fina: Women's Standings uConn 27-1 16-0 \(\begin{array}{lll}\text { Notre Dame } & 24-3 & 15-1\end{array}\) Rutgers \(\quad 20-6 \quad 12-4\) Boston Coll. 23-7 12-4 Georgetown 16-11 9-7 \(\begin{array}{llll}\text { Villanova } & 14-13 & 7-9\end{array}\) Miami
Pittsburgh
St. Joh Hall
Seton Hall
\begin{tabular}{ll}
\(11-15\) & \(5-11\) \\
\hline \(10-11\)
\end{tabular}
10-16 5-11
West Virginia 6-21 3-13

\section*{Sarkley, Porter} sidelined
St. John's guard Erick Barkley and Auburn forward Chris Porter were both suspended indefinite iy Wednesday.

Barkley's suspension sterms from financial aid sterns received while a prep student at Maine Centra Institute. SJU's investiga tion concluded no rules violations took place. But the NCAA disagreed, forcing school president the Rev. Donald Harrington to declare Barkley ineligible.
"Our focus now is getting Erick Barktey reinstat ed," said SJU athletic director Ed Manetta. We will work with the NCAA to come to a resolution.
Auburn lost Porter for an undetermined time period for taking \($ 2,500\) from a sports agent. He sat Sunday's game tore but atended tice but at onday.
ggents have hounded the Tiger players all season, Auburn coach Cliff Ellis said. Team officials chased suspicious peo ple out of a hotel lobby State ea lo Louisiana and the school season aliases to check Porter into hotels on the road.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When did Notre Dame last play an NCAA Tournament game?

\section*{yesterday's trivia:}
Q. Who sits tied with Jim Boeheim for 10th in NCAA Tourney wins among active coach? A. Eddie Sutton, whose Oklahorna St. club knocked SU out of the 1999 Big Dance.

\section*{[sports] \\ Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 2,2000 20 \\ Syracuse outlasts Irish \\ BY ERIC NATHAN}

Staff Writer
SOUTH BEND, Ind. - Let the madness begin.
On the first day of March, Syracuse and Notre Dame duked out a classic 12-round bout, previewDarne duked out a classic month ahead for both basketball squads.

The Fighting Irish waived goodbye to three seniors in their final game at a packed Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center but it was an Orangemen senior who stole the show in a \(73-71 \mathrm{SU}\) win. The victory gave Syracuse (24-3, 13-2) a share of the Big East regular-season championship. SU senior Ryan Blackwell tallied 24 points 15 in the first half - on 9 -of- 15 shooting

He frustrated the Irish defense with 11 of SU's first 15 points, knocking down two 3 -pointers in the stretch.
"There are times when he gets the ball at the top of the key and he's looking in to me, and they sag off," SU center Etan Thomas said. "We always tell him, 'Shoot it.' He can make that shot, and it's just a matter of him having the confidence to do it." blackwell added seven rebounds, six assists and four steals along with his excellent defensive efort Murphy scored leading scorer, 1 roy Murphy.

Murphy scored 20 poins, well and Homas, the Bie Easts leading shot-block er. The 6-foot-9 centermenace Blarphell's an-the ball pressure.

The Murphy-led Golden Domers (16-13, 7-8) fell possible NCAA Tournament bid - but did so with a strong fight.

Entering the second half faced with a 14 -point deficit, they staged a huge comeback to pull with in a point in the end, however, SU's first-half lead was too large for ND to make up

The Orangemen built a 16 -point lead - the largest margin of the game - with 11:39 remaining thanks to the hot-handed Blackwell's bank 3-pointer.

ND then fought back with a \(15-2\) run covering six minutes to trim SU's lead to 62-59. The spurt fea tured 3-balls from David Graves, Jere Macura, Mike Monserez and Jimmy Dillon.
that's the way it roes" SU point guard come back said. "They hit some big time thr guard Jason Hart ly we were able to hold them off."

See JRISH page 14

Ryan Blackwell's alharound effort paced Syracuse in its \(73-71\) victory against Notre Dame on

\section*{SU big man torches ND in low post}

BY CONNOR ENNIS
Asst. Sports Editor
SOUTH BEND, Ind. - Notre Dame head coach Matt Doherty calls the players on the Syracus

All that is, except for one
SU senior center Etan Thomas whom Doherty said is the Orangemen's only true low-post player, came away from Wednesday's 73.71 victory over the Fighting Irish with 15 points, 16 rebounds, four blocks and the admiration of the Irish head coach.
"He's a man," Doherty said. "I mean, he's a man. He's a big-time player, a big-time athlete. He's very impressive.

It comes as no surprise that Thomas showcased his talents in a game Syracuse head coach Jim boeheim called the most physica he's seen in the big East this sea son. bench press and biceps like bron

See ETAN page 16

\section*{Orangemen mix personality with business}

Meet Ryan Powell, the man of two faces. He runs around the Syrrier Dome during the team practices, flashing rilliant game and flappint his lips at teammates He laughs if they He laughs if they screw up. He yelis they get cracked with a hard check.
He screams

He scream
when he beats a

JEFF
PASSAN The senior captain personifies this eclectic 2000

Syracuse is part rock-n oll, part three-piece suit. roll, part three-piece suit. of the blonde dye-job with patches of pink hair scat tered on his scalp

Meet Joe Ceglia, the smooth-talking 5 -foot-8 goalie and deposits a ball in the back of the cage. Talk t him on the sideline, and he is a laidgoing guy.

Syracuse's annually strong offense, led by Ryan Powell, looks to regoin some of its axplosiveness of years past by injecting sophomones Liam Banks, Josh Coffman and Mike Springer into larger roles. Powell is a three-time Alf-American and a pre-season first-tearmer this year.

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

Threeseasons are gone, but Ryan Powell's hands remain bare.

The senior attacker starts his final go-around with the Orangemen this Saturday at Virginia.

But well before the beginning of the 2000 campaign, Powell prepared o make onelast and the ring that accompanies it. accompanies it.

Powell and Syracuse came close year but dropped a \(12-10\) decision to the Cavaliers in the national title game.
The graduates from last season became the first class since 1983 to leave Syracuise without a ring, and Powell said he does not want to see his class come to the same fate.

Felping Powell lead the SU attack most likely will be sophomores three players overnow with talent but Banks said it's Powell's play that sparks the unit.
"He's an incredible player," Banks said. "My job gets easier every week because he gets the best defense, and he still does his job every wedy ell on the team."

Powell, a pr
Powell, a pre-season All-American, earned that type of praise in his returning first-team All-American and led the Orangemen with 85 pointe last year.

See uttud page 10

DO. File photo by STEVE RUARK
Liam Banks, one of a sterling group of freshmen last year, glamored a load of minutes toward the end of the season when coach John Liam Banks, one of a sterling group of freshmen last year, kamerad a load of minutes toward the tho of the season when coach John Desko saw his playmaking abilities. Each of this season's 17 freshm into the deep Syracuse Hreup Hike Banks and others did hast season.

BY JOSH LUKIN Staff Writer

Every August, a new crop of Orange athletes are shipped in from all over the country.
High school stardom led them to the SU Hill, as they inherit the pride and frabern of the Carrier Dome, a famous nom er and numerous Final Four appearances.
From Donovan McNabb to John Wallace, high-profile athletes have built a foundation that the SU student athletes of today try to emulate and duplicate.

However, it is not the fresh faces on the football field or the diaper dandies on the basketball court who endure the most pressure from a tradition standpoint.

The Syracuse University lacrosse program - the one of 17 consecutive Final Fours and led by the No. 22 , most heralded collegiate athletics programs in the nation.

Subsequently, the level of talent pouring in to the team each year is among the nation's best.

This year, the tradition continues, ard working." group is very athletic and See frestmon page 10

Hailing from St. Louis to the Salt City, SU's freshmen

\title{
4 \\ The The DollyOrange
March 2．2000 INDEPENDENT
}

2000 Face－Off Magazine Pre－seasoriv Meys Lacrosse Poll
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Sthool & Leat Sexpor \\
\hline 1．Virginio & 13－3 \\
\hline 2．Srocres & 12－5 \\
\hline 3．Johns Hopkins & 11－3 \\
\hline 4．Princeton & 9－4 \\
\hline 5．Duke & 13－3 \\
\hline 6．Georgetown & 13－3 \\
\hline 7．Loyolo（Md．） & 12－1 \\
\hline 8．Maryland & 9.5 \\
\hline 9．Holsira & 13－3 \\
\hline 10．North Carolina & 6.9 \\
\hline 11．UMBC & 11－4 \\
\hline 12 Navy & 7.7 \\
\hline 13．Penn St． & \(8-4\) \\
\hline 14．Notre Dame & 8－6 \\
\hline 15．Massodusetts & 4－8 \\
\hline 16．Hobart & 6－7 \\
\hline 17．Delaware & 14－3 \\
\hline 18．Cornell & 7－6 \\
\hline 19．Towson & 5－8 \\
\hline 20．日rown & 4－9 \\
\hline 21．目utler & 8.7 \\
\hline 22．Penn & 6－8 \\
\hline 23．Ohio St． & 10－3 \\
\hline 24．Army & \(8-6\) \\
\hline 25．Harvard & 3－10 \\
\hline 25．Rutgers & 4－10 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Despite an offer to join a fledgling conference and the lure of NCAA Tournament automatic bids，Syracuse men＇s lacrosse remains without a league．

BY Chris Snow Staff Writer

The formation of a new conference and the introduction of automatic qualifications for league champions will shake up this year＇s Division I men＇s lacrosse tournament picture and could hurt independent pro－ grams such as Syracuse．

Next month，seven teams begin play in the newly formed Eastern Collegiate Ath－ letic Conference Lacrosse League．

ECAC commissioner Phil Buttafuoco aid the NCAA Lacrosse Committee＇s move ffshoot of thew conference sprouted as an season conference champ an automatic tour－ nament spot．

In addition to the ECAC，the America East，Ivy and Patriot Leagues，as well as a team from the West，will receive automatic qualifiers（AQB）this season．The Metro At－ antic Athletic Conference also will receive an AQ beginning in 2on，Butanoco added． eams stronger than any of those in some conferences might not reach the postseason under the new format．Many of the bubble teams，he said，will be independents．
＂The traditional powers，including in－ dependent schools like Syracuse that have raditionally supported the sport to the greatest extent，may be getting punished under the new system，said Virginia head conch Dom Swarbia，NCAA Executive Coach on the \({ }^{12-m e m b e r ~ N C A A ~ E x e c u t i v e ~ C o m-~}\) \({ }^{4}\) Hopefully，automatic bids go hand－in hand with an expansion of our tournament． That would be best for our sport．

The NCAA Budget Committee is han－ dling the decision passed by the body＇s Championships／Competition Cabinet to ex－ pand the postseason from 12 to 16 teams or the 2000－2001 budget cycle，Starsia said． This resolution ranks eighth on the Cabinet＇s priority list developed during its neetings Feb．1－3，the NCAA News report ed reb．14．The NCAA estimates the cost of Lacrosse Committee believes it will gener ate \($ 85,000\) in additional revenue．

While Desko does not know the odds of this proposal coming to fruition，he believes the planning stages are headed in the right direction．

The expansion of the tournamen field would be wonderful for the sport，and AQs will get the tournament more atten－ tion nationwide，＂he said．That hopefully will add a little spark to regular－season games，especially within the conferences．＂

1998，Buttafuaco took commissioner in to work toward adding excitement to those games．Sending a letter to the then－i7 in dependent programs inviting them to Rut－ gers for a meeting，his efforts culminated in laying the groundwork for the new confer－ ence．

Within months，the plans were final－ ized．Desko，though，said he felt uncomfort able with the atmosphere at Rutgers，sens ing an attempt by particular programs
＂What I didn＇t like was these coaches and people all getting together in little groups with similar teams and saying ＇Why don＇t we think about this because it could be our way into the playoffs，＂he said．

Desko suggests a committee be ap－ pointed to deal with conference formations， making sure balance and a strong commit ment to maintain scholarships are key in gredients in the formation of any future leagues．
Big Ehere was some discussion of forming a Big East conference eight to 10 years ago Desko said．He rules out that pobsibin，Rut－ gers，Notre Dame and Providence all joined conferences．

While he does not cite any one confer ence as the most dominant，Desko＇s bigges concern is the fact that the Patriot League and the MAAC failed to place a team in last geason＇s tourney－ league a trade off，because being in a league may help somebody，＂Desko said， ＂but the tournament might not represent the best teams．That was the beauty of Des． Desko＇s fears are unfounded when ap－ plied to the ECAC．Georgetown，Maryland－ Baltimore County and the Naval Academy， three of the seven schools joining the league， qualified for last beason＇s 12－team tourna－ ment．Penn State，Massachusetts，Stony Brook and Rutgers round out incoming ECAC members．

Starsia＇s solution to the increased dif ficulty for independent teams would be to See rofiond page 11 defense are preseason Ah-Amerieans Marshall Abrams and John Glatzol. At an intimidating Gfoot 3 , redshirt frashman Solomon Biss could also see playing time.

\section*{ong stick}

BY ERIC NATHAN
Staft Writer
With an astounding six national titles and 17 consecutive trips to the Final Four, the Syracuse men's lacrosse team demands attertion.

Opponents and experts normally notice a potent offensive attack led by a Powell brother:

But the 2000 edition of the Orangemen will also feature a talented and deep defensive front as they make a rum at Nos. 7 and 18 .

A solid defensive corps returns for the national runner-up, a corps that alyear "go. "The defense is a good group." head coach John Desko said. "We can put five six guys out there, and depend ing on the matchups on attack, we can move people around. We're just trying to improve and eliminate some of the penalties."

The close defense goes seven deep and is led by celebrated senior Marshall Abrams. Last year, he racked up a collection of postseason hardware, garmer ing NCAA All-Tournament Team and STX/USILA second-team All-America honors.
The accolades continue to roll in for the senior captain, who finds himself on Face-Or Magazine's pre-season first-team All Americs quad.

Without heavy-hitting Josh Fuhle Ahrams' whaluated - to patrol the crease, more importance.

Abrams possesses the uncharacteristic ability to transform his game into that of a midifielder It is common to see him take off down the field cradhing like a attackman - and head straight to the crease for a transition shot or the set-cup of a wide-open teammate.
Despite the plaudits, Abrams remains down-to-earth and hurable, and does not allow the expectations to tinker with his psyche, assistant coach Roy Simmons III said.

Marshall is a funny kid like that, said Wimmons, who works with the close defense "He has such confidence in his skills. He hears the pre-season hype, and it doesn't enter his head.
"He's a captain, but he doesn't do a lot of hooting, hollering and yelling. When he speaks, people listen. He works great with the younger kids."

\section*{- M-IIGhtfu®}

le'sintim-idation is John Glatzel.
The junior sat out last season, suspended for his roll in a Manley Field

The touph last fall.
the SU lan season, is behind Glatzel both player and team seem said, and cus con the upcoming campaign.
"It's been a long year for all of ns," Simmons said "He's well aware how he hurt himself, his family and the Syracuse lacrosse family. He's made strides since last year. Weire ecstatic that he is backe"

While Glatzel sat out last year, he played heavy minutes as a freshman. He and Abrams form one of the best defensive tandems in the country, Sirnmons said. While Abrams is the athletic part of the duo, goalie Rob Mulligan gaid Clatzel would just as soon lay the wood down and decapitate an attacker near the creaise.

Attackers around the country will not be fooled when they duel with Glatzel His reputation for being a solid defender earned him Face-Offs pre-sea son second-team All-America honors.
"John is a very strong defensive player," Deako said. "He's a good one-on-one player John doesnt make strength at the defensive end or the streng

Said Abrams: "He's gonna help us out a lot. He's one helluva player and I'm glad he's back. Fie played real good (in the Fairfield scrim mage) and had an assist. Fm looking forward to playing with him."

With the two pre-season All Americans solidifying two of the starting spots, an interesting race is developing for the third slot. Sophomore Billy St. George appears the "odds-on favorite \({ }^{-}\)for the spot, Simmons said.

As a freshman, he was pressed into duty beiore he was ready to play, Simchoice to step into that position again having played admirably during his mavirg plapaign he will not do so with out a fight

Nippi
reshman Solomon Bliss, a 6-foot-3 bruiser with solid stickhandling skills and jumior Tom Nee, who Simmons said makes up for subpar athleticism with exceptional smarts.

Senior captain Matt Caione paces a strong SU midfield. A year after placing third on the squad in scoring he folns cfassmates Tim Eymes, Sam Elassett, Joe Ceglia, Kevin Kelley and Stu Smith on the Orangemen's midine. The comp' depth is slgnificant, as past SU midfields have lacked the manpower of this season's.

\section*{two midfield lines.}
"It should be a good advantage," Bassett said, "so no one gets tired, and we can be able to rotate all good players."

Senior Matt Caione heads up the offensive midifeld uni third-leading scorer on the team behind Matt Cutia and Powell last season, scoring at least one point in all but two contests and earning himself honorable mention All-America honors. His 10 points in SU's post-season run to the NCAA title game was also third on the squad.
Senior co-captain Tim Byrnes brings a balanced game to the table. Arer starting his off specialist Byrnes as a facegressed to offensive and defen sive midfield roles. He scored 15 goals in 1999 and scooped up 37 ground balls. "Last \(y\) nicker yend (Chris) Cercy having some good success (on face-ofis), it enabled us to use Timmy more in the midfield offensively and defensively, sec-ond-year head coach John Dealico said. "Timmy's a real good athlete, and thit gives us more lete, and thit gives us more depth in the midrield.
Add Solliday and his 17 goals, and you have a 6 -foot 3 , 215 -pounder who is one of the team's biggest players, giving the midfield an imposing physical presence

But the best chance for ofensive production out of the midfield could corne when Desko moves sophomores Josh Coffman and Mike Springer from attack in order to provide extra scoring threats.

Cotiman came to Syracuse as a highly touted recruit last season who made several preseason All-America teams before ever stepping on a collegiate field.

He finished his inaugural carnpaign with 19 goals - tying him for fourth on the team and Desto said

Devaluste he would carefully evaluate opposiag teams Coffman's skills would best be used at midfield. Coffman played mostly midfield last season but was moved to attack on occasion.

Springer will see his first NCAA action this spring arter missing all of 1999 after he was

See middies page 10
 After playing with Josh Ruhle for three seasons, sonior Marshall Abrams meshes with Junior John Glatzel and sophomore Billy St George on the Orangermen's starting defensive line. Abrams is also a threat on offense, with 12 points in his last two seasons.

Roy Simmons Sr. credited the tribe for keeping the game going during World War II.

Abrams, however, elects to keep a duality between the Onondaga Nation and the Orangemen and seemed reluctant to speak about the style of lacrosse played on the reservation.
"They have a spiritual game that's only played by memI guess it's given more importance, since they do it to help peo it at that."

At Syracuse, Abrams switched to close defense as a sopho more and hopped into the starting lineup. In his third year a the new spot, hbrams game still miriors that of a speedy mid fielder rather than a lumbering defender.

But coupled with bruisers John Glatzel and Billy St George, Abrams can roam a little more and take chances up the field.
"Agile is the word to describe him," \(\mathrm{SU}_{\mathrm{g}}\) goaltender Rob Mulligan said. "He can take the ball away, run down the field and stick the ball into the goal. He plays a different game, and it's an awesome asset for us,"

As a sophomore, Abrams scored five goals and three asadded another output for an SU defender in the 1990 s . He added
The numbers and the reputation bring Abrams bushels of national honors. A high school All-American, he made secondteam All-America last year and received several similar preeason honors this winter

But Abrams said he never placed weight on the accolades and gives them even less emphasis this season. For one, this SU senior class owns three Final Four appearances but no national championship ringe.

Watching last year's seniors become the first group in al most two decades to depart without a ring hammered that point home.

Last year, we hit reality," he said. "The last four years we ve been to the Big Dance every time, but we've never won it all. All the seniors feel that.

But the pressure looms off the field as well. Abrams should finish his academic work as a biology major this summer and hopes for a job with a pharmaceutical company:

In January, Abrams became a father as well. He now pends his evenings caring for MeCoy, sacrificing time with his teammates to study and watch his infant sleep.

After five straight empty trips to the Final Four, the Orangemen look to bring home a national title.

\section*{attack} continued from page 2 Powell came on es pecially strong during the NCAA Tournament, tallying four goals and 10 tallying four goals and 10 nering All-Tournament Team honors.

Two keys to Powell's strong season were senior Devin Dar cangelo and the since-graduated Matt Cutia. Darcangelo most likely will leave the attack unit and move to midfield, assistant Cutia's days of distracting defenses will be missed.
Cutia finished second in scoring his senior year, with 80 points. After having Powell and Cutia guide the attack last season, head coach John Desko said he hopes for similar leadership this season from the returning players.

They (Powell and Cutia) were kind of the quarterbacks of our team last year," Desko got tough, they kind of took con trol and settled things down They handled the ball a little bit more than the other guys and helped us call out the offenses run things.
Although Powell might be the only attacker with seasoned one with experience.
Banks played in all but one of SU's contests last season. He scored nine of his season's 16 points in the NCAA Tournament, including a goal and two assists in the championship contest.

Even though he possess great scoring ability, Banks biggest asset is his play without the ball, Donahue said.
"He's always moving," Don ahue said. "He's got great eyes that he can always see what's going on around him."
Banks' confidence also got a boost this past summer. He represented Syracuse at the World University Games in chance to, where he got the from England, Canadaand Japan. Banks topped the American squad's scoring list with 18 goals and 18 assistes during the ment.
Springer is the other prominent underclassman in the attack unit. The 6-foot-4, 210 pound sophomore missed all of ed for off-the-field incidents.

But since Springer became eligible, the coaches wasted no time insertinghim into the lincup. The only question is

Doमahue and
. Donahue and the other coaches agree Springer is best move to midfield to make room for classmate Josh Coffman.

The Carthage High School graduate - who played with Powell in his prep days - played Powell in his prep days played primarily at midfield in his first year at Syracuse, but Donahue said Coffman is an attacker at heart. Wherever the two players land, Donahue said, he def ly wants them on the field.
Besides the questions
where he will play, Springer's shot is also creating a buzz veteran Powell.
"It's probably the fastest shot I have ever seen, as far as one of my teammates, Powell said. "It's got to be one of the fastest shots in the country, fastest shots in

As both veterans and fresh faces mix on the attack, one Theme is left out - Darcangelo. The senior attacker scored 22 last season, but might watch from the sidelines this season. The coaches are trying to fit him into the mix and said the solution may be for Darcangelo to mostly play at midfield.
attack a little bit, especially in some of our offensive sets," Donahue said. "I'm going to try and move Devin up to the mider, and it's tough to take him off er, and it's to

Regardless of whether he plays midfield, attack or not at contribute something

II just want to be a role player, whatever I can do to help out," Darcangelo said. "I con't get down. I just do what \(I\) can when I get in there."

Once all the pieces fallin to place, the to spurring Syracould be a key to spurring Syranal Four, giving the seniors on the squad the one thing they want most.
"We all have one goal, and that's to have a ring on Memorial Day," Darcangelo said. "That's been a goal since I was a freshman. It's going to be a to Memorial Day and win."

\section*{freshman}
continued from page 3
mons III said of this year's frosh "They all are excited to learn the game and have a lot of talent." A majority of the newcomers noted the history of \(S U\) as a main attraction to the school.
ike in previous classes many of this year's newcomers hail from such hotbeds as Central New York, Leng Islan Freshman attackman Gary Bacon often made the \(20-\) minut Brive down Interstate- 81 from his hometown of Cicero to see the Orangemen in action.
"I always wanted to go to SU to play lacrosse," Baconsaid. "I went to a lot of games at the Dome growing up, and once SU made me an offer, I stopped lookmade me an offer, I st
Bg at other schools. frosh who have had the chance to taste the level of competition on the collegiate level, as he played his past fall in the Infiniti Invi tational at Princeton University.

He seemed to handle the aster-paced game, registering a roal and an assist in the tourna

\section*{middies}
continued from page 6
suspended for illegally breaking into Manley Field House.

Springer's return to the team should strike fear in the hearts of opposing goalies. When the ball mates said, it is among the fastest mates said, it is among the fastest all of college lacrosse.

Desko said he hopes to take advantage of Springer's laser by placing kim in the midfield to launch shots from farther out, whereas traditional attackers are better suited creating plays from behind the net and at close range. Any time you have someone,
ment.
In addition to Bacon, firstyear midrielder Pat Hogan also saw time in New Jersey.

Hogan's journey to SU, however, was far different than his freshmen cohort. He was plucked out of the St. Louis sub play for the Orangemen.
play for the Orangemen. to come out of the St. Louis area." Simmons said. "He has great speed and is an excellent athlete He really impressed a lot of people at the 19 -and-under tryouts."

The 19 -and-under tryouts were part of an East Coast camp Hogan attended during his senior year of high school. He said the only way to play lacrosse on the collcgiate level coming from camps and make a good impres sion.
Another freshman, Nick Fleischer, joins the team from a more traditional setting. The first-year goalie cultivated his skills on the lacrosse fields of Maryland.

Being a part of Syracuse has been a goal of mine since I was a little kid," Fleischer said. "I was always drawn to SU and watched the Gait brothers (Gary and Paul) when I was younger. Being part of something this big is just great."

Fleischer enters as the thirdstring goalie and knows his chance of seeing substantia playing time this season is mini

Despite the lack of game ex perience, Fleischer said he has already gained a lot in practice and hopes to continue doing so in the future.

He said junior netminder Rob Mulligan serves as an excellent role model and has taught him techniques since the beginning of the year.

Fleischer said his level of play has already increased by depractice, and he hopes that in time, his role will increase to an on-field spot during games.

He has surprised a lot of people and is pushing hard to move up the depth chart," Simthe ball. He has made excellent the ball. He has made excellent been impressive. He is absolutely fearless in the net.

Among the numerous freshmen possibly earning playing time are a pair of Mekeels brothers Rich and Keith - who continue the tradition of lacrosse Grotherhood laid down by the the past.

Simmons characterized the brothers as hard-working with a strong desire to play. The Wantagh natives, who room together, stand a stout 5 -foot-8 and weigh 165 pounds.

Another freshman angling to win time on the deep squad is midfielder Bill Perritt out of play in practice could eara Pim in play in practice could stant playing time.
stant praying time.
Other newcomers on include midfielders Mike Smith and Michael Thomas and defenseman Dan Farley.

Redshirt freshman Solomon Bliss, an imposing 6-foot-3, 215 pounder from Tully, impressed many observers in the Great Pumpkin Stickout tournament in the fall at Coyne Field.

Last seas on, Simmons felt Bliss was ill-prepared for the competition. The redshirt served a good purpose, simmons said, as Bliss filled out during his year of and readied himself for Division I lacrosse.

The exceptional athletes don't end with Bliss. The coaches expect attacking mideles to contribute steadily in the future.

The Marblehead, Mass., naing 6 -foot- 5 and 200 pounds with a burst of speed to boot.

In comparison to last year's class - which included two of the country's top-ranked recruits in Josh Cofiman and Liam Banks as many blue-chippers, Simmons snid. value spite the feels this year's class is loaded with talent.
With this season's rookies and a sensational sophomore class, the future of the team is extremely bright, despite the inevitable loss of a wealth of AllAmerican talent to graduation, "We sare real kind of people they ared with the kind of people they are," Simmons said. "They don't complain about lnnow what it will take to break in."

Bassett said, "they're forced to ace guard him, which frees up ther parts of the offense."

The Orangemen could refield, as assistant coach Kevin Donahue hinted Devin Darcangelo might move from attack to offensive middie.

The 22 -goal scorer's switch uld free up more room for would free up more room for Coffrman and Springer to roam the frontline, Donahue said.

With the focus and praise field, the defensive middies quietly pose a vicious threat to the opposition.

They enter the game and ball back when the opponent has possession. Bassett leads the eam in that role. The shortticker picked up 49 ground ball ast season and also managed wo goals.
or us the st played real strong on," Desko said. "He's very diffiult to run by because of his speed."

Junior Dan Stessen and senior transfer Kevin Kelley should also join Bassett on the first deensive line. Stessen played in three goals.
"I'm just out there to clo my job," Stessen said. "Like Mully (goalie Rob Mulligan) making the save, or (Joe) Ceglia bringing the ball down, I'm just there to clear it and get it to the attack."
The Orange might also receive another boost to its defen sive midrield if Jeff Lowe recov foot he injured during football season. The two-sport athlete scored two crucial goals in SU's 13-9 win over Georgetown in the semifinals of the Final Four last season.
lot of action a junior, should see a lot of action taking face-offs. He teamed with the since-departed a number of players will rotate face-off duty in order to keep everyone fresh, though Cercy might take the majority. Nine freshmen also will compete for playing time. The Or> angemen might have lost one set of twins last year when the Cordiscos departed, but they gain Rich MeKeel from Wantagh

> No matter how many players make it on the field, several Orangemen said the cohesion among teammates is such that there are no weaknesses from line-to-line.
> "The chemistry is so good among all of us," Stessen said. We're all good friends off the field, and that really transcends onto mi think

\section*{szyluk}
continued from page 12
lacrosse. She's really one of the top leaders on the team. She really keeps us together."
While Szyluk a

While Szyluk and DeRosa both played soccer and lacrosse this year, a third Orangewoman dabbled at both sports. Junior defender Sheri Shirren played played soccer and lacrosse
"It was tough," Shifren said. "It's a lot of discipline. You don't have an out-or-season, so you restudies and be in shape all the time.

The ties between the two teams brought th

The soccer coach reflected on \section*{tears}

continued from page 9
of his brother and lacrosse legend Casey, Ryan Powell needs a title to escape the confines and said he is willing to do anything to get to es he is it.

Overmid-year break, the younger Powell worked out with Casey in Rochester to make improvements on his All-American game. Specifically, Powell worked hand shot and his shot speed.

Despite stepping into a captain's role this season, Powell's role as a leader in the locker.
"I don't think that my roles on the team have really changed that much," the senior attacker said. "Even though I wasn't a was still a vocal leader."

Joining Powell in his role as team leader will be co-captains Mulligan, defender Marshall Abrams and midfielders Tim Byrnes and Sam Bassett. Desko Byrnes and Sam Bassett. Desko said the change in leadership will the lacrosse team's fervent support for the soccer players. Kater returned the favor, watching a lacrosse game last season and seeing nearly three-quarters of her team in the Carrier Dome stands.

The lacrosse squad is only in its third year of existence under Miller. With lacrosse a year younger than the 4-year-old soccer program, Szyluk has another fellow lacrosse players.

She graduntes this May with a degree in advertising design but will return to SU for a fifth year to earn a master's degree.
"I came in with the soccer team, with the freshman class, so I was determined to graduate with them on time" Sayluk said with them on time," Szyluk said.
"I came in with them, and I leave with them in a sense.
Szyluk said she always held the thought of coming back for a fifth year in the back of her mind. A shot at the NCAA Tournament persuaded her to stay.

She is one of the vital cogs in a powerful Orangewomen scoring attack. Syracuse lost only one player to graduation and welcomes eight freshmen to the

But it will be the veteran leadership of Szyluk and junior forward Katrina Hable that helps pace the Orangewomen attack.

Hable led SU in scoring with ago. Szyluk tallied 38 goals and 4 assists for 42 total points.
"I'd like to build my assists rather than my goals," Szyluk said. "I think my game can benc-fit a lot if I can get the ball to my teammates more and start working off of them.
becomer said while Szyluk has become a force on the offensive end, it is her defense which makes her a solid player.

Szyluk is a top one-on-one defender on the fast break. Her defense often allows the Orangetion game.

The Carrier Dome crowds, however, might have to wait a couple of weeks to see Szyluk excel on both ends. She missed the bulging disk in her back.

She is listed as day-to-day, and Miller remains unsure when Szyluk will retura. Her status for the squad's season opener this Saturday at Virginia remains up in the air.
"It's one of those things," Miller said. "She might wake up tomorrow and feel a lot better. Good teams absorbinjuries. That's what we'll do.

With soccer now a memory, a healthy Szyluk will concentrate full-time with Miller's \(x\) squad.
If she plays as well as she did last year while focusing on two sports, then the one-sport Szyluk should be more dangerous against lacrosse opponents, coaches said.

Especially when she is at the place she calls home. "I just feel happy when I'm on the field," Szyluk said. "It's a feeling that you can't ever imagine."

\begin{abstract} be small, and expects the same of this year's captains as he did one year ago last year was because of we had last year was because of our seniors and our captains," Desko said. Those guys are gone now and we're looking for these seniors and these captains to take the same kind of role.

Despite losing Cutia, the attack returns a solid nueleus. Teaming with Powell up front are Liam Banks, Devin Darcangelo and Pat Kennedy, who look to put plenty of balls in the back of the net.

When not manning the midfield, sophornores Josh Coffman end Ninhenel Springer will joint the veterans up front.

Darcangelo netted 22 goals last season, while Coffman chipped in 19 and Banks added another eight. Adding Springer, who was suspended last season who was suspended last season in at Manley Field House, will in at Manley Field House, will es. "We're just really deep on the offensive end of the rield," defender Joe Ceglia said. "I don't think there's enough balls that can be out there in one game for all the guys out there that can put

The same
The same amount of depth also lies in the midfield. Syracuse graduation last season but returns enough middies to field three full lines.

Spearheaded by returning lettermen Brian Solliday, Matt Caione and captains Byrnes and Bassett, and coupled with the addition of Springer, darcangelo mains a dangerous weapon.

Orece noted os papon. weakness, depth in the midfield also leaves starters scrambling to retain their spots and returners fighting for playing time.
strong line and one weaker line," strong line and one weaker line," Solliday said. "Everyone's solid Everyone always says that Syra cuse's weak point is their middies cuse's weak point is their middies year. This year, I think that we're \end{abstract} pretty strong."
The defense is led by the intense Mulligan in goal. The junior took the summer off to recover from the loss to Virginia but started every game last season, garn tio.

Protecting Mulligan from harm will be Ceglia in the midfield and pre-season All-American Abrams, who will look to step into more of a leadership role on close defense after the departure of Josh Ruhle.

John Glatzel also returns to the defense after sitting out last season for his role in the Manley break-in. Glatzel was named a nrm-season sacond-team All-American heading into the season.

The defense will look to dictate the tempo of games throughout the year, Ceglia said.

We're all very aggressive players," he said, "We're all pretty aggressive guys that like to get up and down the field. We're get up and down the field. We're hands, we're going to make offenses play the way that we want them to play.

Syracuse won't have to wait long for its first test. The Orangemen kick off their season this Saturday in a rematch at No. 1 Virginia. Players and coaches down. play the revenge factor, but maintain Virginia will be a good meastain Virginia will be a good n
SU's strongth of schedule includes all Final Four teams from a year ago and is highlighted by home matchups against Johns Hopkins, Loyola and Georgetown, and away bouts against Princeton and Towson.

The depth the Orangemen possess enables them to be confident heading into another season with soaring expectations, Mulligan said. "The only thing that can kill the team this year is ourselves. If selfish play comes into it or maybe some rens that's all. It's going to be interesting. The team camaraderie this year is good, it's up and it thing to look forward to."

\section*{national}
continued from page 4
Starsia's solution to the increased difficulty for independleague of the top six or so independents. This might happen in pendents. This might happen in additional conference bids.

The idea for this type of conference has been discussed over the last year," Starsia said. "We need six strong-willed schools to come to gether in that thinking. There is the possibility of that happening."

Desko, though, fears losing traditional rivals if the Orangemen are to enter a conference.
SU's current schedule, ranked fourth-toughest in the nation by e-fourth-toughest in the nation by e-Iacrosse.com, includes clashes with nine teams in the Top 25 , including top-10 powerhouses Virginia, defense
continued from page 5
Others who will see considerable action in man-down scenarios are sophomores Brian Elerloski ers will contribute to be the second-to-last line of defense.

Mulligan anchors the SU backOne ast year, the junior netminder played all but 17 minutes of the stopped 224 shots and had a save With the Orrange offense finding the back of the net with regularity, his 9.9 goals agzinst

Like \(a\) handful of his teammates, Mulligan is a pre-season All-American.
And he is not afraid to follow Glatzel's aggressive cue - MulliWhather to start a run upfield or knock down an opposing attack-

Loyola.
conferene diluted schedule many conference teams play is the whole snid. "Being independent does better to prepare is for the postseason."

Buttafuoco understands this, but notes the formanion of new conferences adds attention and excitement to the sport on the whole, enlarging its fan base away from lacrosse hotbeds. New conferences allow for better promotion of athletes through awards and honors that serve as visibility programs, he added.
think it helps the sport grow," Buttafuoco said. "It creates some excitement during the regular season that, for most independents aside from syracuse cause there just aren't many big games."

The SU coaches noticed Mulligan's tendency to wander, and they hope the junior win use his exper ence to make the correct decision.
"When I get too excited and too revved up, I want to come out (of net) and make the big hit," Mul(of net) and make the big hit," Mulligan said. We taiked about conup and start running around like a on the defense We want to be more steady and have less ups and downs:

With its balance, Syracuse thinks it has the tools to make yet another trip to the Final Four.

But Mulligan takes it upon himself to fire up the defense and achieve the s
"I have to address the defense as a unit," ssaid Mulligan, a team captain. "It'Il be tough this year and a good offense It'll be an inter: esting year:"

\section*{Men's lacrosse results iv 1999}

\section*{sophs}
continued from page 8
don't know how they do it, but every year, come playofr time, Syracuse is baek at it again." The Final Four isn't good enough pionship, the sophomores suy. They want the title that eluded last year's seniors, the first class to leave Syracuse without a the Class of 1987.

They want multiple championships like the Gaits, who led the Orangemen to three consecutive titles from 1988-90.

The future is a private perception for each player. Banks mentions it briefly and generally to Coffman and other teammates.

But inside his head, Banks ponders can be, what might be.
yourself," Banks says. "Maybe a word here or \(a\) word there. A look in the eye here or or a word there. A look in the eye here or look in the eye there.
Banks' and Coffman's, and their eyes in the Carrier Dome. The feeder and the scorer. The duo good enough to carty on the Syracuse legacy.

\section*{abrams}
continued from page 7
After flogging Fairfield in a scrimmage last month, Abrams cradled his baby a corner of the Carrier Dome.

MeCoy will grow up in the Onondaga ion tradition, learning the tribe's sacred ay his ancestors have for hungame the way

Syracuse senior Jenna Szyfuk ranks as one of the alltime preat Orancewomon athletas. She recefved the 1999 women's soccor team most File Photo by ADEET DESHMUKH int the program as one of its hiehest scorers. In lacrosse. Styluk fills the role of finisher in one of the country's premiere attacks, She enters her third year on the SU lacrosse squad in hopes of leading it to fts secont consecutive post-season appearance after helping the soccer team to its first toumarmant bid in 1998.

BY KEVIN LEITZELL Staff Writer

Jenna Szyluk can drop the "two sport athlete" label from her résume.

And that can't be pleasing news to pposing lacrosse coaches.

With her Syracuse soccer career completed, Szyluk now concentrates fulltime on helping the SU women's lacrosse team reach its goal of an NCAA Tournament berth this season.
"I want my team to do well," said Szyluk, who has a year of lacrosse eligibility left after this season. They always come first for me. I would really like to which I think we really have a good chance of making."

In her three years on the Hill, Szyluk has become one of SUs most celebrated tudent-athletes. She rarely knows the meaning of the term off-season, jumping rom the Soccer Stadium of the Lampe thletics Comple he spring.

The senior from Longmeadow, Mass. nded her soccer career last fall with 25 goals and 24 assists. Her 74 points rank second on the Orangewomen's all-time scoring list.
Howe ability te play two sports has allowed Szyluk to grow as a lacrosse playr. She said the ability to adjust to two better player mentally Wo player mentally.
ach April Kater re to help start the SU soceer program.
sayluk played one full season with he soccer team before the lacrosse pro gram was instituted. When someone sug gested she join the team, Szyluk jumped at the chance.
Alter her sophomore soccer season, Szyluk joined the lacrosse squad. The time away from soccer, Kater said, made her nervous.

The soccer coach wondered if Sxyluk of the fall season. Kater said Szyluk had potential to be a great soccer player and needed the off-season to develop.

But the 5-foot-9 Szyluk gave the coach a pleasant surprise when she showed improvement in both sports.
"After that first spring, I was like, "Go play lacrosse again,' Kater Szyluk's love for both sports was ev ident in the two seasons during which she moved from the soccer field to the lacrosse field.

Kater often scolded Szyluk for her yearning about lacrosse and how she missed handing the stick.

And during lacrosse season, Szyluk has been known to drop by soccer practice to check up on her fall teammates.

Last year, she would come, and I Water said. "(Lacrosse head caach) Lisa Miller would kick my butt."

The successful transition between the two positively effected Szyluk's lacrosse teammates as well.

Sophomore midfielder Jessica DeRosa played for Kater's troops during motivator in soccer and lacrosse -With both sports, she really takes charge," DeRosa said. II think more so in

See srifotk page 11

The Jenna Szyluk Filet

\section*{She helped}

\section*{bring SU to its}

\section*{first NCAA}

\section*{Tourney in} \section*{women's soccer.}

\section*{Now Jenna}

\section*{Szyluk looks to} \section*{repeat the feat}

\section*{on the lacrosse}

\section*{pitch.}

\section*{Following an ECAC Championship, the Orangewomen want more namely, a trip to the NCAA Tournament.}

BY ALISON HISCHAK staff writer

Usually, coaches whine about arrogant athetes who boast too much of an attitude.

You won't hear that complaint this spring from Syracuse Milier.

Instead, Miller argues her team doesn't have enough attitude. The Orangewomen don't taik trash to their opponents. They don't puff out their chests and walls with a swagger.

Miller wishes they would.
"All good teams have a certain amount of attitude," said the third-year coach. "My team tends to be humble. Which is nice in a that attiture a little bit more" Just in its third season of ence, Syracuse has proven it self among the country's best. The team posted a \(12-4\) mark last year, missing the NCAA Tournament by just a single game. Instead, SU settled for a spot in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference playoiss and took advantage of its opportunity.

Syracuse downed No. 17 Boston University 9-8 in overtime the ECAC title. Playing in the ECAC Tournament helped the Orangewomen learn to play with championship pressure, Miller said.

SU graduated just one sen Ch, Carrie Bolduc, from its ECAC Championship squad and added several talented freshmen who Should contribute immediately. said the team acts humble and does not feal acts humble and "I don't think we reail we really are " Hable haid "We have to realize that we are a really good team. Every other team knows that. Now we just have to realize it for ourselves."

Hable is one reason the Or angewomen should believe. The West Genesee High School grad uate garnered pre-season Allfirst on honors after finishing with 57 last season, recording 37 goals and 20 assists.
"She's one of the best attackers in the country;" Miller said. She's just every coach's dream in a lot of ways. Her teammates like her, she's nice and she's unselfish on the freld.

Senior Jenna Suyluk is another Syracuse scoring threat. Hable Szyluk found the net 38 times last season. The Orangewomen might be without Szylul for a short time, though, as she is out indefinitely with a back injury.
Seniors Lauren Brady, Kara
Hanover and Karen Healy will round out the attack unit.
round out the attack unit.
believe that it's not all about (Hable) and (Szyluk)," Miller said. "Our attack is balanced. It's designed to be that way. We expect all of them to keep the derense honest.

Another player who can help build Syracuse's confidence is senior goalkeeper Clothilde Ewing. After starting all 16 games looking for more consistency and better presence in net "I'm pretty in net.

3 Ewing said "maju," the 5 . oot-3 Ewing said, "so just having just being bigger (is important) Whether that means coming out more - I have to appear bigger than I am.

If Ewing finds her rhythm and the offense clicks, the Orangewornen should be able to con. ince themselves of their poten

Syracuse wi
Syracuse will be tested eary, however. The first three games pit the squad against Virginia, Georgetown and Maryland, each of whom finished last year in the top eight.

The Orangewomen open their season at Virginia as part squads Saturday. The women then travel home for contests with the Hoyas on Wednesday and the Terrapins four days later.

After taking a beating from Maryland the last two years. falling 21-7 and 18-8, Ewing said it's time Syracuse notches a victory against the Terps.
tential to beat them, but we haven't done that," Ewing said. "So this year, it's time. I definitely think we can do it. It's just a matter of believing we can do it."

Last May's ECAC Championship planted this winning seed in the minds of the players.

To improve, the team needs to bit and purh itself to thenext oaid, and push its if to the nex "Our goal is to make the NCAA championships and becorne champions," Hable said. "This is a huge step. and people don't really think we can do it. I think we really showed them (in the ECACs) we can play with the top 10 teams."

With one of the hation's best offensess in front of her, SU senior co-captain Clothilde Ewing anchors the Syracuse defense from her goaltender position.

\section*{Head coach Lisa Miller bolsters her Orangewomen lineup with nine freshmen.}

\section*{ookie \\ BY DAVE CURTIS \\ Sports Editor} einforcements

The printed roster tells its readers that and 2, respectively, for the 2000 Syracuse Or angewomen lacrosse team.

Fittingly, the jersey numerals match the players' lacrosse class rank, as the two freshmen highlight a crop of nine newcomers that hope to boost SU from regional bully to national contender.

The fresh blood face a rough road to crack head coach Lisa Miller's starting 10. With just one senior gone from last season's ECAC Championship squad and a veteran-laden lineup in place, the new Orangewornen might knock heads with each other for precious playing time.

This freshman class will contribute as a group," Miller said "We're a very balanced well in the scrimmages in the fall."

When Miller hit the recruiting trail a year ago, a stud goalie ranked high on her priorities. With three-year starter Clothilde Ewing graduating in May and unproven Tegan Leonard and Sabrina Harvey behind her, the SU staff sought a keeper who could play right away.
Mass, Mass., and Gigon. The 5-foot-6 frosh received honorable mention All-America honors and Maryland and Georgotown

In high school, the fiery Gigon said she excelled by coming far out of the cage to play balls, a style somewhat unorthodox to the women's game.

Miller, who said she feels Gigon should be one of the nation's premier keepers by the time she leaves, said her rookie's active style meshes with her veteran defense. For this season, Miller labeled the Gigon as a competent backup.
"Tm came here because I fit in poplay and I'played a bunch in the to play, and I played a bunch in the fall. this season."

Perhaps the most athletic SU recruit mans the front line. Tiny Sami Stock starred on defense for Radnor High School for three years before moving to attack last season.

The adjustment seemed to take mere seconds, as Stock busted out wissists in her and 59 season

Miller said she planned to move Stock with the switch coming a year premature, the freshman became a more viable candidate to play this season.

Stock, a Wayne, Pa., native, turned down chances to play soccer and lacrosse at Con necticut and Temple before settling on SU.

She planned to joisica DeRosa on the ST Jenna Szyluk and Jessica DeRosa on the SU lacrosse at the 11th hour \({ }^{-1}\) I didn't know what id, "but I tried out for the national te. Stock lacrosse, and I felt burned out. I'm glad I played lacrosse at SU in the fall."

Seven other freshman join Gigon and Stock in the Class of 2003 . Miller said she noticed freshman Kim Wayne clicking with senior midfielder Stacy Brown during February practices.

Elsewhere, Christina Nockunas adds another weapon on attack, while Penn Yan Academy ger dessica Trombley arrives from what lacrosse programs.

In addition, Sarah Rodgers boosts a veteran defense anchored by Erin Boyle and Carrie Soults.

From the moment she took over the infant Orangewomen program, Miller emphasized recruiting the Central New York area. Two years ago she landed finisher Phoebe Burns and All-American playmaker Katrina Hable. Last year Miller added Erica Mathew son and Kara Hanover to her attack.

Three more local products hop on board for the 2000 campaign. Ellen Rust and Stacie Rosati, tearamates at local powerhouse West Gense, Miller said. Erin MacDonald a Henninger High grad, joins the attack as well

With SU's on-field success, Miller said the local lacrosse landscape no longer belongs to Central New York recruiters.
"We pull a lot from West Genny," Miller said. "But I would say the kids are getting more attention from other schools. The kids have always been overlooked up here. Tha makes me feel good about our program."
field hockey and soccer teams froshma lacrosse players receive a tew mon, freshman justment to college before the seasons

Although practice and conditioning tills the time, it also allows the team to grow closer and set its collective goals, Stock said.

As the snow melts away and intengity builds toward the opener, the SU freshmen find themselves part of a mission to bring national notoriety to Syracuse women's lacrosse. "We won the ECACs last year, but we want much more than that." Gigon said. "We still don't get respect. We all want to break the top 10 ."

Women's cecruiting clats
ADEET DESHMUKK/The Daily Orange \begin{tabular}{lc} ploper & position \\
Stacia Rosati & D \\
Ellen Rust & D \\
Sami Stock & A \\
Jessica Tromblay & M \\
Kim Wayne & M
\end{tabular}

\title{ triple \\ GY ERIC NATHAN
Staff Writer
}

In its two years of existence, the Syracuse women's lacrosse team has survived by the same game plan - attack, attack, attack.

This year, head coach Lisa Miller hopes for the defense to catch up to the offense's

Like the previous two years, the offense will arry the team, and it centers around Katrina Hable

While opposing offenses put pressure on ie Clothilde Ewing with 134 goals on 397 goalie Clothicle Ewing with 134 goals on 397 shots, the Orangewomen offense put even more on their opposition.

In 16 games, Syracuse slung 479 shots at the cage with 180 finding the back of the net. Their 11.25 soals ner game ranked No. 22 in the nation, and they outscored their opponents by an average of 2.88 goals a game, ranking 19th. ing 19 th.
loaded up front and we understond ceally loaded up front, and we understand (how to

Three-headed monster
Katrina Hable, Jenna Szyluk and Lauren

Brady lead one of the nation's most potent offenses. play) the game. They're having more fun with away from our transition came" then't move

Opposing defenses will set to defend Hable, a West Genesee High School graduate. She has been one of the SU attack's centerpieces since her freshman season. lied 72 her Stellar career, the junior has tallied 72 goals and 31 assists, with 37 and 20 coming last year. Her 1.25 assists per game tied for 29 th in the country.

Her assists total skyrocketed last year, as defenses tried to single her out. Like facing a double-team in basketball, the Former high School point guard Brady Last year Hable was

Last year, Hable was a third-team AllArmerican and this season, Street & Smith Magazine named her a pre-season honorable mention All-American.

But with the awards and rewards come \(\therefore\) an increased sense of leadership, a role "She definitely hypes things \(u\)," Triumphant triumvirately Brady said When wescos her on a a inin scoring two, three goals at which isninning of the game which isn't unusual - it pumps everyone else up. Some of her everyone else up. Some of her goals are pretty, and shes fan to watch eves."
with her."

- Storrad dil 29 of ihe Orangewomen's gomes

\section*{Syiluk}
- Led Syrocuse in gools (38) in 1999
- All-time leading gool-scorer with 75
\(>\) Started each of SU's 29 gomes

Brady
\(>\) Third on team with 20 gools lost stasan
- Fourth in school history in poats (37) and points (45)
- Started ell 16 games last season

On the back end of most of Hable's assists was Szyluk, also a star soccer player. also a star soccer player.
She is preparing to play in her seventh season (four soccer, three lacrosse) as , a college athlete. Szyluk stepped up Last lacrosse season and wok the heat off Hable, netting 38 goals to bring her career total to 75. Tuk has been an unsung hero for the team in its development. Perruited as a soccer player she hoined the lacrosse teom in her sophomore year.

The aenior is nursing a back injury and has not practiced this season, but she hopes to be ready for the opening faceoff this Saturday at Virginia. Right now were definitely "," Brady said, "because she imilar to Katrina in that she gets us all fired up. She knows when we have to buckle down, worls hard and get the job done in games or practioe. Were definitely looking forward to getting her back."
The Orangewomen - the defending in the fall seagon, when both of a tough test in the fali season, when both of their stars did not participate in the exhibinion games. with

Two years ago, 1 teammato callod her "a Casoy Powall for Elfls." Last season, she led the team with 37 goals and 20 assists and snagged thlrd-team All America honors. In 2000, star playmaker Kalins Hable wants an NCAA Tournament berth for the Orangeworren. the soccer team, and Hable did not suit up due to a foot injury, which has since healed.

However, Brady's emergence late last season added much-needed balance for Syracuse. Playing off the attention defenses paid to Hable and Szyluk, Brady netted 20 goals.

With the stars absent in the fall, Brady stabilized the front line. Because of her autumn leadership, she has been honored as Ene of three ng.
Brady also assisted on five SU goals, and her 25 points were good enough to tie Carrie Bolduc for third best on the 1999 squad.
"Lauren stepped it up really big," Hable said. "She started of in this program and had to come off the bench. She's a very hard worker, and she'll work until she gets what she wants. She came in and made big plays at the end of games. Overall, she is turned into a very good lacrosse player.
One thing Miller will not have a problem with is depth. Besides the talented trio of Szyluk, Hable and Brady, SU returns juaior

Freshmen Sami Stach Kit
oss Trombley should also be Wayne and Jess Trombley should also be able to contribute throughout the year, Muler said.

The team also welcomes back Karen Healy, who spent last season away from the tremendous athlete and is the team's best power shooter, Miller said.

While Miller strives for a balanced team of offense and defense to charge past the ECAC championships and into the NCAA elite, she can always rely on a potent attack to outscore opponents.
"We should be difficult to cover," Miller said. "We can come at you in all different we blend styles. We have a couple kids who like to 50 one-on-one and a couple who like to pass the ball
"It's going to be fun this year."

\begin{tabular}{l} \(35 / 25\) \\ partly cloudy with \\ 40\% chance of
\end{tabular}
Snow showers
Salturday:
Sloudy 44/30
Slouday: \(49 / 33\)

\section*{do. \\ The Daily Orange \\ SU's student newspaper \\ ConeTRITION Huskies seektent ige for embarraste See Sports. \\ Call numbers 311 comes to Goldstein Auditorium on Sunday. See Lifestyle.}

\section*{Cafeteria Campaign}

\section*{College revises work} program

School of Architecture reports embezzlement GY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Ecitor
After reporting last week to the Syra* cuse Police Department more than \($ 12,000\) missing from their work study budget, adlege of Architecture chanerd policies on recording student work hours.

Professors in the school will now have to sign for the total number of hours that students complete regularly during the semester in the work study program, said
Charles Savage, a computer consuliant at the Chnrles Savage, a computer consultant at the College of Architecture.

College administrators sent faculty members a letter Monday informing thern that they must sign for all students hours propriate oftice Savaee added Previously professors working with students in the pro gram were allowed to submit the total hours worked at the end of each semester without a signature.

Though the letter did not state the resson for the change, it might be due to the recent reports of suspected embezziement through the work study program, he added. "They wanted to tighten down on the system," Savage said "Now anytime students work for us, we ned to sign a stip." Work for us, we need to sign a slip."
lice department \($ 12,738.85\) missing from price department \($ 12,738.85\) missing from lice report. Police are eurrently investigating See EMBETZLEMENT page 7

McCain

Student Government Association President Jamal fames talks to students Thurs day evening in the Brockwosk Dining Center During the fick-off event for the Sprine 2000 Campaign, The campalen is an affort to fincrease student 3 wareness of the arkanization, Jamal will be visiting dining halls throughout the next two meoks encouraging student participation in activities on carmpus. He will be promoting student partcipation in campus activities and efving students tia opportunity to ask questions about SGA procedures.

\section*{■ Election 2000}

\section*{McCain to visit Le Moyne \\ BY KEVIN TAMPONE \\ Moyne College. The 300-person}

Asst. News Editor

John McCain's Straight Talk Express will roll into Syracuse this weekend for one of the Arizona genator's town-hal ing-style campaign stops.
dential hopeful, will hos presimeeting at 5 p.m. Saturday in the meeting at 5 p.m. Saturday in the Henninger Athletic Center at Le venue will be the site of one of the last campaign stops McCain will make before Tuesday's New York make before Tuesday's New York national convention delegates are at stake.
pricn other states are running primaries Tuesday, with more than 600 convention delegates up See MicCAIN page 8

Party leaders decry corporate policy
 Arsen fabs about corporate gheed in polfics.

BY DAVE LEVINTHAL
Editor in Chief
Thare really is only one major political party in the United States - corporate greed, asaid Green and Socialist Party representatives to supporters Thursday.

It is therefore vital, they said, that members of minor political parcorporate domination" of Democrats, and instead vote their conscience in November's U.S. presidential election.

It doesn't matter if it's a Republican candidate or a Democrat because big business money rules both parties," said Howie Hawkins, co-chairman of the Syracuse Green Party and a 1997 candidate for Syracusse mayor- "Aligning with the wing capitalists? That's a dead end." wing capitalists? Thats a dead end. ideologies incorporate elements of popaliaro, socialism and Marxism,

See SOCIALISTS page 8

\section*{marcurio}

White the taternet is making tit easier for students to access information, it also serves as a temptress for desperate students searching for an easy way out of work. Professors, however, are fust as wise to the ways of the linternet, and tose in to check the the authenticity of their students' work. See Special Report on page 3.

ECity Affairs
Starbucks

\section*{opens,} locals leary

BY DANA DOWE
Contributing Writer
Afler months of waiting, opposition and anticipation, Starbucks Marshall \(S_{t}\)

In the time leading up to its opening, activist groups pasted anti-Starbucks signs on the store windows and knocked down the logo sign on the comer of the building, said Brenda Milanette, manager of the new store.

The Seattle-based company headquarters addressed the problem and contacted all hose thougnt to be involved, she said. Mianetwe any incidents pocuring today.
any Audrey Taylor-Smith. of the Coffee Cave, 161 Marshall St., said she is both excited and concerned about the Starbucks arrival on Marshall Street.

I am looking forward to it because I'm hoping it will bring more people out on the street to coffee awareness, I'm sick of wniting and wondering what's goine to happen" But she added that she is also But she added that she is also business to small area coffee shops because of Starbucks' visible corner location in the building that once

See STAREUCKS page 7

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{DoubleClick reviews} privacy standards
Faced with a nation al furor that is helping shape Internet privacy policy, online advertis ing firm Doubleclick to having "made a mis to having mace a mis take" in its plans to link users' Web habits to their names and per sonal data, and vowe to forestall its plans until privacy standerds are in place.

The promise, which drew faint praise from privacy advocates, appeared to draw line in the sand line in the sand between acceptable and unacceptable pracand unacceprable prac tices in a medium that tices in a medium that lated.

Doubleclick secretly tracks.users' movements across a netpopular Internet sites by placing identifying by placing identifying tags called cookies puters.

Infamous hacker addresses Senate WASHINGTON, D.C. - The government is seeking advice from he world's most infa mous computer hack er. just weeks atter his release from rederal prison, about keeping works safe from intrud ers.

In a bizarre twist to the federal prosecution of Kevin Mitnick, a asked him to explain asked him to explain sensitive computer sys sensitive computer sys solutions to lawmaksolutions to lawmak-

Vitamin C pills, artery clogs linked SAN DIEGO - A new study raises the disturbing possibility that taking vitamin \(C\) pilis mardening of the ap hard Researchers called their discovery a sur prise and cautioned are needed to know for are needed to know for es of the vitamin actu ally are harmful.

Still, they said the finding supports the recommendations of health organizations, which generally urge people to avoid high and to get their nutriand to get their nutriMany people load on vitamin \(C\) and other nutrients on the other nutrients on the supplements are good for their heath, even though there is little scientific evidence this is true.

\section*{TV ads attack McCain}

WASHINGTON, D.C. A mysterious group called Republicans for Clean Air is broadcasting more than \($ 2\) million worth of television commercials in presidential primary states attacking Sen. John McCain and defending Texas Gov. George McCain campaign manage Rick Davis said Thursday he be Rick Davis said Thursday he believes the ads - which are runlieves the ads Work, California, ning in New York, Oing in New York, California Ohio and possibly other states are the work of someone closely are the work of someone closely involved in Bush's campaign But Davis offered no proof, and the Bush campaign denied involvement.

One person who was involved in the ad campaign said Thursday evening the Bush operation had no connection to the commercials, but he identified two people who played some rale in putting the ads on the air: in putting the ads on the air: Sam Wyiy, a wealthy Dallas investor in aiternative energy sources who is a major financial sources who is a major financial backer of the governor; and Jeb Hensarling, a Wyly consultant who used to work for Republican groups.

GOP consultants said the ads cost more than \($ 2\) million, in cluding \($ 1\) million in New York state.

The controversy over RepubJicans for Clean Air is a sign of the times: anonymous groups with bulging bank accounts are increasingly using the airwave to launch harsh denunciations of political foes without revealing who they are or the source of their money.

These groups say they don't have to reveal their conors or spending because they don't explicitly urge voters to support or defeat any candidate.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Judge convicts Gore supporter \\ Feds promise Diallo review}

WASHINGTON, D.C. A Los Angeles immigration consultant was convicted Thursday on five felony counts stemming from her role in a Buddhist temple fund-raising event attended by Vice President Al Gore, handing Justice Department attor neys a major victory in their prosecution of fund-raising abuses.

Maria Hsia's conviction on charges that she caused false re ports to be filed with federal election officials - coming as prosecutors near the end of a three-year effort - arises from a fund-raiser that netted more than \($ 100,000\) for the ClintonGore reelection drive.

A federal court jury rejected arguments that Hsia's channeling of political donations from alleged persons later reimbursed largely from foreign funds did not cause Democratic officials to file false donor lists with the Fed eral Election Commission.

The jury deliberated less than two days.

Prosecutors put 27 witnesses on the stand over a three-weel period to convince jurors tha Hsia knew about the scheme.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Federal prosecutors Thursday pledged a stringent review into the acquittal of four New York police officers in the shooting of West African immigrant Amadou Diallo, as busloads of protesters seeking federal action rallied outside the Justice Department.

The demonstration halted lunchtime traffic on Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues between Ninth and 10th streets NW as activist Al Sharpton led an estimated 1,000 protesters around the Justice Department building, urging them to march as the biblical "Joshua's army walked around the walls of Jericho seven times."

An Albany, N.Y., jury acquitted the officers last Friday in the February 1999 killing of the unarmed street vendor on the front stoop of his Bronx home.

The four white officers Sean Carroll, Edward McMel lon, Kenneth Boss and Richard Murphy - testified they thought Diallo's wallet was a gun and fired at him 41 times.

Diallo had no criminal record.

\section*{world news}

\section*{British return ailing Pinochet}

LONDON - Former Chilean dictator Augusto Pinochet headed home Thursday a free yet broken man after British Home Secretary Jack Straw blocked his extradition and ended a contentious 16 month saga that overturned le gal conventions, hampered diplomacy and divided world opinion

Pinochet, 84, ailing after suffering several strokes last fall, took off in a medicallyequipped Chilean plane from a British air force base hours after Straw said the former dictator was medically unfit to stand trial on human rights charges.
to unprecedented extradi fion to unprecedented extradition requests from Spain, Belwhich sought to try Pinochet for Which sought to try Pinochet for crimes committed during his bloody. \(17-y e a r\) rule that began bloody, 17-year rule that began When he seized pawer in a 1973 coup that toppled an elected

\section*{Israelis thwart} Palestinians

JERUSALEM - In a daylong drama punctuated by shootouts and bomb blasts, Israeli commandos lay siege Thursday to a cell of suspected Palestinian extremists, killing as many as four of them and

\section*{U.S. tallies Internet retail}

WASHINGTON, D.C. In the government's first official measure of a key sector in the new economy, the Commerce Department said Thursday that consumers spent \($ 5.3\) billion buying computers, apparel and other retail goods over the Internet in the fourth quarter of 1999.

For an industry that began to blossom only six years ago the new government benchmark represents a watershed.

The old pigeonholes we use for retail sales don't work for cy ber-shopping," Commerce Secre tary Bill Daley said in unveiling the number at a Washington news conference. "E-tailing has come of age."

However, some private studies from firms such as Forrester Research of Cambridge, Mass. have placed Internet retail sales as high as \($ 10\) billion in the fourth quarter, or nearly double the government's estimate.

The government e-commerce figures represent 0.6 per cent of the \($ 812.2\) billion in total retail sales and is more conservative than private estimates, said Daley.
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}

The School of Social Work, School of Education and Study Council host "Building Healthy Relationships with Adolescents," a daylong workshop from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m, at Goldstein Student Center. Registration is \($ 45\) for SU students, \($ 65\) for SU alumni, \($ 60\) for groups of two or more and \($ 70\) for others. For more information contact Jeanette Nels at \(443-9723\).

Newhouse I presents "Networking for Spring Break" from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in Room A2
- The Office of Greek Life hosts a Women's Leadership Conference in Schine and fea tures keynote speaker Jane Adams. Registration forms are available in Schine, Room 231 Registration is \($ 20\) for the en tire conference or \($ 15\) for lunch and the keynote.

The National Association of Negro Business and Profes sional Women's Clubs, Inc., presents Men on Pedestals V. Doors open at 8:30 p.m. Event begins at 9 p.m. Tickets are available at the Schine Box Ofavail
- Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. Executive Vice President Darlene Kerr speaks at 10 a.m. in the Crouse-Hinds School of Management \(\qquad\)

\section*{TODAY-SATURDAY}
- UUCinemas presents "American Beauty" at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is \($ \mathbf{3}\). Following at midnight for free is Falling Down.

\section*{TODAY-SUNDAY}
- SU's Black Box Players presents "Uncommon Women and Others" at 8 p.m. Friday, and 8 p.m. Saturday, and 5 p.m. ater located at Syracuse Stage. Admission is free with reserva tions. Call 443-8506 for more information.

\section*{SUNDAY}
- Delta Gamma sorority hosts Anchor Splash, a synchro nized swimming, race and relay competition between campus fraternities, from 1 to \(3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\) in the Women's Building.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at \(443-2127\). Submissions are also accepted via e mail at news@derilyorange.com
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic yeaz by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is disuributed on campus with the first five copies complementary and each additional copy coses \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798 Buriness 443-2314 News 443-2127 \(\begin{array}{rr}\text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Sporrs } & 443-2208\end{array}\) \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Photogrophy } & \text { 443-2208 } \\ \text { 43-9795 }\end{array}\) Ark 443-5938 E-mail editorial edinilyorange.com

\title{
Colleges form individual plagiarism policies
}

Each college on campus has their own policy when plagarism, whether it be dealing with a student caught purchasing a paper online or copying mork frorr a reforence book

BY JOY DAVIA Special Projects Editor

When a Syracuse University se nior revealed in her 1992 Honors Pro gram thesis that 28 percent of upper classmen in the School of Manage ment plagiarize, the school revamped entire academic integrity policy. the faculty said Elletta Callahan, asseciate professor of law and public policy at the School of Man agement.
and administered the urvey in 1991 and the school imple mented a new policy during the 1993 994 academic year, she added for drofingege corrying responsibl or drafting and carrying out its own policy regarding plagiarism - terricoulates, said Saira Rhodes of Judi egulates, said Saira fhodes of udioge having its own advisory board to hear cases.

The policy at the School of Man agement encourages professors to re part ang academic integrity cases the school's administration. This in cludes those cases that are resolved between the student and professo and do not involve the school's Acade mic Integrity Committee.

Tracking repeat offenders and nforming students of their right to appeal is one aim of the reporting pol cy, she said.

During the 1998-1999 academic year, 16 instances of plagiarism were reported out of 41 academic dishon cases include both plagiarism and is

See COLLEGE page 6

\section*{Internet's simple access changes face of plagiarism}

BY BETH BRAVERMAN Statf Reporter

Although the prominence of the In ternet supplies scholars with an array of academic resources, it also provides stu-: dents with a new.

It's easiertó access but it's also easiertó get caught

\section*{2, , ROSANVA} GRASSI associate dean for stuident affairs at triet St Newhotuse Fif W Communicatión's
\(\qquad\) ternet Witten ontrely by someone else hlincua

 4 Thechang fromprint Bources to elec some; students, Ryson said Both college and graduate students ala result oonot mproperly attribute theirinternet oriother

 Whonheintroanction ofthe internet to detect Rlagianm, eaid Glletta Callahan

cy at SU's School of Management.
Now you plüg in keywords and generate a match;" she said. "It's easier to de tect."

Professors no longer have to sift through actual texts to double-check a student's information, she added

Rosanna Grassi, associate dean for student affairs at the S.I: Newhouse School of Pubur Communications at SU teriet-related plagiarism cases: Bit Grassi a areed that more dishon-students could be found through using Internet works.
the easier to accese butits also easi-
 Computer resourcestat
Numerous sóftware programs; avail able throuth' Wordcheck-KEYWORD sof ware Glah Plagiarismn' Services, Ince:and Pligiarismecom have energed to help professors combat Interíet plagiarism. or one groüp usin the Wordcheck soft Ware program is the National Science Foundation, Baid Richaid A Aistin of KEYWORD frequencof of wareines keywords and their trequencyion usenirelectronic acuments weencocuments suchinormation al owipprofessorsto fnawebisites, whose, mentordinnach as Professors? warefror \($ 300\) to \($ 500\) phrerter this softwarerror suan permills ape another avenue forptudeptato purchase ppeers online, said Mary Hriko the Library, Director at Kant State Uniter ity nohios and author of saferal essays jegardink such mills.

 of ran abundace of research papera for \section*{Proposal to direct appeals}

BY NICK SERRANO Staff Writer

The Syracuse University Graduate School's appeals process should not be revised - just given a little guidance.

During the past three years the school has considered improvements such as revaraping the entire process. But the Board of Graduate Studies' Student Committee is askng to instead build on the current process for student grievances, such as plagiarism
In a proposal to be submitted Tuesday, the Committee calls for he Graduate School to appoint a taff member responsible for informng students of which appeals process is best for each case. If im have more direction in filing grievances.

Earlier this semester, former Graduate Student Organization president Zac Moore approached the

See GRADUATES page 6

\section*{PLAGIARISMFACTS}

O- Most foms of cheating nationwide remain at or near record levels.
\(\Leftrightarrow \Rightarrow\) Menadmit to cheating more than women Fraternity and sorority members cheat more than non-greeks and stu dents with lower grade point averages say they cheat more than hose with hig chas.
\(0 \rightarrow\) oum nalism, ocomunication businesstanc engineering students report cheating morethan those in the sciences social sciences or humanities.

QPY 97 percent of students reported that they have plagianzed a paper using the liternet

> 0888 bercent of facuilty reported that they observed somernimfor seriou's cheatíne, but \(32 \%\) never did anything Obout 1

\title{
Who do you plan to vote for in the N.Y. primary?
}

Students weigh the pros and cons of U.S. presidential candidates.

G'm not sure yet, but 1 think this campaign has shown a return to the morality and integrity of politicians. The ads and things have been a lot less scathing.

KIRK RICHTER VPA
Class of \({ }^{\circ} 01\)

6There hasn't really been enough publicity for the candidates around cam pus, but rieht now CARLYNN FINN Arts and Sciences Class of 03

4) think l'tl vote for McCain because he has done a good job of publicizing himself on TV. \({ }^{7}\) BRIE KELLEHER Newhouse Class of '03

41 'm probably not going to vote because I don't know enough about any of the candidates.:

MARK COHEN Arts and Sciences Class of 'OO

\section*{Super Tuesday highlights tough battles}

New York state primary tallies will have far-reaching effects

In the years past, by the time the New York state primary rolled around, there is little doubt about who will win the party nomination. In 1996 pundits declared Bob Dol veritable shoo-in for the Republican nomination even before primary season began. before primary season began Meanwhile.
\begin{tabular}{cl} Dmitry & \begin{tabular}{l}
President Bill \\
Bam
\end{tabular} \\
\begin{tabular}{ll} Clinton (long \\ before the
\end{tabular} \\ primary & Monica \\ importance & Lewinsky \\ & scandal and \\ subsequent \end{tabular} impeachment trial), riding high on his presidential successes, was the obvious candidate for the Democratic party.

But this year the state is riveted by the primary proceedings - the race is unlike any year in recent recollection. As Super Tuesday (referred to simply as "Tuesday" by politicos nationwide) approaches, neither the Republican nor the Democratic nominations are certain.

The conservative carap has the whole nation sitting on the edge of their seats. Arizona Sen. John McCain went from a virtually unheard of candidate, known primarily for tales of his years as a Vietnam POW, only a few months ago before puling off a string of impressive primary wins in New Hampshire, Arizona and Michigan.

Texas Gov. George W. Bush, the GOP's predicted favorite son since early in the race, has struggled to hang onto his lead after the early defeats. He has also recently begun to disassociate himself from his father, former presicont George Bush, in attempt o prine himself worthy of the Yet despite on his own merit. Yet despite having been pubrumbling over the names of the Ieaders of countries such as India and Pakistan Bush has built momentum poing into the New York primaries after convincing victories in South Carolina, Washington, Virginia and North Dakota.

The third candidate in the Republican race is the ultraconservative, Bible-spouting Alan Keyes, who spoke Monday night to an enthusiastic crowd in Syracuse University's Goldstein Auditorium. Despite finishing in last place in most of the primaries, Ambassador Keyes has decided to stay in the race because, he says, he "has noth ing better to do with his life." Among the democrats, the showdown is between Vice President Al Gore and former New Jersey Sen. and New York Knick Bill Bradley. Bill Bradley has struggled lately, but still believes he can garner enough support in New York to win the March 7th primary, which could then set a precedent for victories further down the primary line. And indeed, a New York win would be Bradley's last hope in setting the stage to secure the Democratic nomination.

Gore, however, now occupies the spotlight of success within the party, after sweeping victories in Washington and New Hampshire. Gore has an obvious advantage over Bradley, although he does carry the burden of Clinton's Scandalous tenure in the responsibility for the can claim responsibility for the great And after last year's shameful And after last year's shamef impeachment proceedings, Dems can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that either candidate offers them a chance to bring the party back to its bring

The nation's eyes will be on New York state this Tuesday when the polls close and the election results roll in mary will sure of the state's pri point in the fast-paced charge toward 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Dmitry Bam is a jurizor psychology and political science major.

©Nobody has really proved themselves to me yet. I'm still waiting for someone to say or do something that gets my attention.?
ELIZABETH CROWLEY
Social Work
Class of 03

4'm from Ecuador, so this isn't at all like politics at home. But I think all the publicity for the candidates is really annoying.y

GABBY MERRIHEU Human Development

Class of 'O3

i'm from Texas, and think Bush has done a pretty good job as governor there. But 1 guess voting for him would be lik voting for the least of three evils.

снRI
SWHALEY
Managemen

4'll vote for Bradiey when I vate at home in illinois. like his views and atti tudes on things. And he used to play basketball. so that's really cool.!

NASHONE BECTON
Managemen
Class of '01

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Lack of checkpoints leads to cash loss}

The School of Architecture's piggy bank feels a bit lighter these days.

The college reported \($ 12,738.85\) missing from its federally-subsidized work study budget Thursday.

That's not chump change.
Now, two work study students in the college are being investigated on charges of embezzling the lost money.

If the two students did, in fact, distort hours on their time sheets in order to siphon extra funds from the budget, the university is left holding the bag for their costly dishonesty.

College students are certainly mature enough to handle the responsibility of properly filling out their time sheets each week. But when thousands of dollars disappear, an essential piece of the payroll pie is clearly missing.

The crafty work of the students who found the weak link in the chain of command will surely outlive their tenure at Syracuse University. Supervisors university-wide will now be forced to keep their eyes peeled for liars and cheaters out to make a quick buck.

Sure, students should be held accountable for ballying their own hours, but exaggerations and lies in their time cards should be ferreted out long before a fat check hits the teller's window at the bank.

Installing time clocks would take much of the guesswork out of the process, and eliminate most of the accidental mathematical errors - or intentional fudges - that students might make when totaling their time.

Dishonesty is part of human nature. Someone will always attempt to cheat the system and put some more pennies in their pockets.

Blindly rubber-stamping time sheets when they roll across administrative desks is what leads to "losses" like these.

It doesn't take a master's degree in calculus to keep cash from disappearing - a little common sense and a few punches on the calculator would go a long way.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levinthal
Managing Editor Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor
Editorial Editor

Iustin Silverman Holly Acer Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Dapna Koilati Jay Davia Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Dinector Copy Editor Asst. News Ecitor Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lews Lifestyle Edito
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Ecitor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Ecitor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
mo pay orages is puoblut

 Avinots 443-2314, An cortions crever

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Israel offers hope, promise for new millennium}

Two days before the turn of the century, I sat in a dimly-lit coffee shop in an Isracli kibbutz in the Golan Heights. I sat with perfect strangers. 30 years had raised his family in the kibbutz that he and 140 other Israelis built from when the country captured the land from Syria in 196\%. Míy 15 cotapanions and I sat silently, captivated by this man whose rough hands told of hard work and whose bright eyes told of hope. He asked us to understand his situation, but as much as we tried, we could do only that: try. The Israeli government has already started moving out of the Golan, but for 20,000 people it's the only home they have ever known. But the Golan is so much more than a home. It is a mination. The jagged landscape

\section*{KULKUS}

EMILY is symbolic of the Jewish struggle for peace, success and well being. The people who live in the Golan are there because their government asked them to be, and now they will move for the same reason.

Their profound dedication to the Jewish religion and people is fascinating and honorable beyond words. We as Syracuse University stu dents as can read our newspapers and watch our CNN to stay up to the date about the people and places around the world, but until each and every one of us can sit in that standing is a struggle.
anding is a struggle.
We have it good - plain and simple.
We don't have to worry about waking up on morning and learning that we are LeMoyne College students because Chancellor Shaw wants to make peace with the Common Council.

Looking out over the Golan, you don't think of tanks and.possibility of invasion. You think of the beauty of the land. The Sea of Galilee lies calmly below and the sun sets and rises there each day, as it does above our own campus. But the events of the day in the Golan do not include class and Kimmel breaks. They include peace class and Kimmel breaks. They include peace strategic thinking-
Standing atop the Golan, you can feel how close the Syrians are in their capital of Damascus. And if the wind is blowing right, you can hear the labored breathing of the 18-year-old is raeli soldier lying silently in the Lebanese jungle. You don't think about how you're going to get your midterm todny or whers youre Ening to future and the future you are going to leave to your children. Each day, the Israelis shape their country and its future. It's an amazing characteristic of the 52-year-old country that, unfortunate\(y\), the majority of us will never experience.

Israel is like the Amarylis flower left on the shelf at Ames after the holidays. It comes in a nice box from the United Nations. A box filled with hope and anticipation. A flower assured by on the clearance rack. So you place the delicate pot on the window sill and care for it. You give it pot on the window sill and care for it. You give it ove and dedication because you hope and know somewhere in the dirt.

So you give it more time. One day the dog takes a bite of it, three beetles make a home in it and once, it even gets knocked off the table. But you pick it up and put it back on the sill and con tinue to cultivate it.

Israel's strong green stem has grown tall and thick. It has endured hardship and war but it continues to grow. The soft but vibrant petals are are destined to bloom because the people of ple of the world are yearning to see the true people of the world are yearning to see the true

So keep reading about
So keep reading about Israel and keep reading about Chechnya, because the flower remains on the window sill, as far away as it might seem. man's eyes: If I don't see the flower bloom myself my children will. The enduring hope of the people of Israel will make their nation blossom

Emily Kulkus is managing editor of The Daily Orange and a sophomore newspaper major. E-mail herateakulkus@syriedu

\section*{letters}

\section*{Student activisim leads to ESF stock reshuffling}

To the Editor:
In recent weeks there have been a number of insinuations and outright attacks on student activism published in this paper. In response to these attacks, I will not simply cry foul or rail against the status quo. Instead, I wourd tike to give you an ex stirred into action, rallied the forces of change and achieved success. In the fall, many of us read The Daily Orange artiele which exposed Daily Orange article which exposed anti-enviranmental investments by anti-environmental investments by the State University of New Yorks College of Envirommental Science and Forestry. This was actually an outcome of a Student Environmental Action Coalition campaign focused on Socially Responsible Investment SRil) on both the ESF Nonetheless, this article was an important catalyst for begirning the now unstoppable motion of SRI on the ESF campus. SEAC raembers and other activists, myself included, stepped up our carmpaign on the ESF campus. We brought the issue to the administration, the ESF Undergrad uate Student Association, the ESF student newspaper (he student body of the collepe. As a result, USA conducted an Aspth investigation, the administration conducted a financial feasibility study and in a USA survey, 86 per-dent of the students responded in favor of investment change. USA then oted to elect a representative to the nvestraent "foundation" and issued But that's only the half of it. Last week, the ESF "foundation" announced that they had shifted \($ 100,000\) of their money to a socially esponsible investment fund that they found actually outperforms their current funds. Victory - with more to come.

SEAC and other student activists will continue to fight for SRI on the ESF campus. What's more, we bigger target: Syracuse University.

\section*{March 3, 2000}

\section*{COLLEGE}

\section*{continued from pate 5}
sues such as forgery or copying Many colleges on campus however, do not mandate that pro fessors report plagiarism cases to the school if the case is resolved

At the College for Human De velopment, Interim-Associate Dean Norm Faiola said if the stu dent and professor cannot arrive at a resclution, the next step is to boproach thes than five cases of pa bard. Lass than Lue cases of pla he said.

But if a student is caught pla giarizing in a class at another col lege on campus, the College for not become aware of the case Faiola added.
'There is no formal campus sues," he said.

It is also difficult to know if a student is plagiarizing in multiple classes within the College for man Development, he added Dr. At the School of Social Work, undergraduate programs, said about two cases of plagiarism are reported each year. These cases, however, are usually not deliberate attempts to plagiarize but rather come from not knowing rather come from how to properly how to properly

The Daily Orange

\section*{cite infor}

Either we aren't catching them't or students said of the plagiasaid of the pi

> Buenses. But McPeak d students in said students in Work usually base their papers on personal experiresearch
"You can't plagiarize your life," he added.
Colleges also have the option of suspending students from their program of study.

At the School of Information Studies, second offenses may prevent the student from being allowed to finish a degree, said Barbara Settel, associate dean.

In one such case of plagiarism, the student did not challenge the punishment and eventually withdrew from the university. If a college called to check on that student's record at SU, the School of In formation Studies would not hid also be the reaction if a studen also be the reaction if a studen tried to enrol in another program at the university, Settel said. "We make it clear that we are not going them to other programs in she said.

There are cases of plagia-nming from the 1,100 students, she added.

Not all cases of plagiarism
vever, are malicious in intent.
Corinne Smith, associate dean of education and professor of teaching and leadership for the School of Education, said she has only dealt personally with one case of plagiarism - when it happened in her own classroom

Reading through a student's take-home exarn, Smith said she noticed that it sounded like her own work. When she confronted the student, Smith said the student was not aware that he did anything wrong. 'He thought I' enjoy reading my own words," Smith said. "He was sincere about being clueless." As punishment, the student wrote a 25 -page research paper cational agenda.

In her 28 years as a professor, she said this is the only case of plagiarism she encountered. During her eight years as associate dean, there were about two or three cases a year of plagiarism and no instances that reached the school's appeais board, she said.

In The College of Arts and Sciences, faculty members inform the college's administration when a resolution is formed with a student caught plagiarizing, said Richard Pilgrim, an assistant dean and associate professor.

A letter is sent to the student informing the student of the appeals process. The first step is trying to resolve the problem with the professor, who can appeal the case in an informal manner with the college. The student can then go before the college's Student Standards Committee or appeal to the dards dean. To

To appeal a case to the dean, however, criteria must be met - new evidence must have surfaced since the student's meeting with severity of the penalty must be questioned, Pilgrim said.

Undergraduates caught plaGiarizing in the Maxwell School of referred to Arts and Sciences, said Associate Dean Michael Wasylenko. Graduates, however, appeal their case to the University Senate Committee of Academic Freedom, Tenure and Professional Ethics.

He said zero to one graduate
"If they cheat, we do
"If they cheat, we don't catch he said.
Graduates working on their dissertation or master thesis are less likely to plagiarize then an undergraduate, Wasylenko added.
"They're jeopardizing more than their course grade."

The School of Management readministered a survey to seniors on plagiarism in the spring of 1997. four years after its new policy was administered, Callahan said. The results showed that 26.98 percent of seniors have plagiarized at least once.
"There was no change at all," she said.

Students who realize their papers will be graded by a teaching assistant may plagiarize because they are less worried about being caught by an assistant than by a professor, she said.

Where is so much information and there is information on absolutely everything," said Melissa Marquand, a freshman ashion design major. "It is so ccessible.

It is difficult for a professor to catch students plagiarizing because it is hard to find the specific Weh site used by the student, said Renee Reinert-sen, a freshman biology major. sen, a freshman biology major.
"You can go anywhere and print anything and no one would ever know,

\section*{GRADUATES}
continued from page 5
University Senate Acadernic Freedom, Tenure and Professional Ethics committee with the accusation that a professor plagiarized his work. Moore originally brought this case to the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs two years and

The case, however, was never settled, prompting Moore to go before the USen committee. University's Graduate School University's Graduate School, the administrative body that oversees graduate students. oversees graduate students. asked the board to help prevent students from approaching ad-

\section*{Rede \\ - PACKAGING . \\ - SHIPPING SUPPLES - \\ - ENVELOPES. \\ - GIFT WRAPPING . \\ - NEXT DAY SERVICE - \\ - INTERNATIONAL • OPEN TTL MIDNITE (M-F) \\ colis \\ 220:20} someone else was using my suit.

Authors willing to relinquish their distribution rights by making their sources available online are still protected by able onine are still protected
Michael von Plato, president of ASM Communications, paid the papers sue produced ss reference material that give more precise information then an encyclopedia would.

His company charges anywhere between \($ 8.95\) and 6,000 for the essays fessional research writers all with advanced degrees such as a retired professor or one under \section*{financial pressure might have, \({ }^{n}\)} von Plato said. "This is in contrast to dissertation submitted by professors in academia, who by professors in academia, who commonly have their research done for them by grad stu dents."

\section*{Easy access}

Online sources entice stu dents to plagiarize because of lye case students accoss infor mation and the way it appears untraceable by professors, said Donald McCabe, a professor of organizational management at Rutgers University in New Jersey and founder of the national Center for Academic Integrity.

McCabe said students plagiarize work from the Internet because they can "just click away" anonymously from the privacy of their own home.
"This reduces at least the belief that they might get vaught," McCabe said.

High school students, however, are more likely than college students to attempt to pass off someone else's complete essay as their own, he said
College students regard their ph the ratern raore fir lar with the Internet than high school students do, so they wil rarely turn in a document straigh added.

Traci Conrad, an SU freshman psychology major, said whether or not a college student plagiarize es, said Phil Doughty, a member mmittee and education professor

The students did not know how to go about filing their grievances and the school was not equipped with an appeats process, he added. is to ensure that students have due process and that they have a place to go to where their is sues and concerns can be heard," said can be heard," said sistant dean of the Graduate School are designed to do are desig just that John Rennie Shar John Rennie Short a geography profes sor, told Moore not 815 class because of 815 class because of his disruptiveness dance, Moore said.

Moore is accusing Short of unjustly giving him tempting to publish a paper containing his work in a scientifie journal and plagiarizing his class work in a book.

Moore's case would have progressed more quickly if each graduate department had process, said Kayla with Moore on Nexus a graduate-run peace journal.

USen committees are not always familiar with the specifics of intra-de partment grievances ike Moore's grade appeal, said Drogosz, a public administration graduate student. ach graduate de partment is also not required to disclose processes workeals processes work, or even to have its own appeals process in the place, she said. playing field that doesn't "Ost," Dro gosz said. "Ordoes ex-to include more students at al levels of the process, Moore said "Any new mechanism and all our existing old ones should have students present," said Moore, an international relations and social science graduate stu and social science graduate siu college grade appeal and demand that students are present."

\section*{Crafting the proposal}

The proposal to appoint a professor in the Graduate School to deal with appeals cases will graduate studies, said Eric Hunn, a member of the board and president of the Graduat Student Organization.

It will not require the school to set up an entirely new ap peals mechanism, he added.
"Anybody who has an issue could come to the Graduate School and be greeted by someone who could be very knowl edgeable of the appeals processes," Hunn said. "The person would just present information

\title{
State surplus to cover city budget deficit
}

BY KEVJN TAMPONE Asst. News Editor

A projected New York state budget surplus of more than \($ 700\) million drew a collective sigh of relief this week from Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi's office.

City officials are hopeful the surplus will help fill in the city's \($ 15\) surplus wiu help fill in the citys sis ti, spokesman for the mayor's office. ti, spokesman for the mayor's office. Wednesday by the New York State Wednesday by the New York State Division of Budget, surged beyond previous projections of a \($ 625\) milion surplus.

The increased surplus comes from higher-than-projected income get division spokesman.

Now that the state is on even more stable financial ground than prevously expected, the mayor's ofchances of getting the \($ 15\) million in state aid needed to cover its expenses during the next fiscal year, Parenti said.
whether the money is available or Parenti said. The money is there, it just hasn't been budgeted."

The state is hopeful the legislature will meet the April 1 deadline for its budget, but the new surplus estimate does not guarantee Syracuse the nid it is asking for, Ahart said.
"Addressing the needs of cities is obviously part of the budget deliberations, but I think it's too carly to speculate on what this means for cities," he said. "We'll just have to see how the debate in the legislasee how the d

Syracuse has needed state aid or the past several years to cover the city's budget, Parenti said. Last year the city received about \($ 8\) million in aid. While developing the lion in aid. While developing the budget this year, Bernardi's office budget this year, Bernardi's office counted on at least that much and discovered the city would need an adscovered the city would need an

The city needs the extra cash o cover basic operating expenses such as employee salaries, Parenti said. The current version of the year, he added.

If state aid does not come through, however, citizens could rapidly and intensely, said Republican Steven DeRegis, Syracuse Common Council minority leader
"The mayor's going to have to estimate how much state aid we're going to get. Say he puts 12 or 15 million dollars down and that doesn't come through," DeRegis said. "There's only one way to cover that cost and that's to cut services."

No one on the Council wants to reduce services, DeRegis said. The best way to ensure that govermment can continue improving quality of life for its citizens is for the stite to create a consistent program of aid create a consistent program of

Other large upstate cities, such as Rochester and Buffalo, are proas Rochester and Bulialo, are projecting even larger budget gaps jecting even larger than Syracuse, he said.

The mayors of upstate cities with budget problems visited the With budget problems visited the State House in February. They will State House in February. They wion return later this month to petition consistent aid program that cities can rely on in their budget planning. "The mayors of the upstate cities have pitched this idea in A1, bany, but it really hasn't taken," DeRegis said. "The state should work with all upstate cities."

Council President Matthew

Driscoll agreed.
"The state must provide us with a steady revenue stream that we can bank on for three or five we can bank on for three or five years," he said. "All of the big cities years," he said. "All of the big cities share the saune problem of declining revenues. The budget deficit in Buf alo and Rochester is upwards of 30 million dollars."

Driscoll also agreed with Deregis' belief that if state aid does not come through then city services could decline, but added that budget gaps that have plagued Syracuse during recent years may have alduring recent years ready caused damage.
"We've scen a decline in the level of services that we pay our taves for and that's had a huge effect on people," said Driscoll, a Democrat "If you've got less money, you've got less money to do the things needed. ass money to do the things needed.
You end up doing a lot of Band-Aid apon end up \({ }^{\text {d }}\)

The reason for the city's budget gap is a substantial reduction in the city's most important revenue areas, DeRegis explained. Shrimking ancome from the Onondaga County aid, caused some of the city's bud geting challenges, he said.
percent of the total revenue from the 4 percent Onondaga County sales tax. County officials have slowly cut that percentage over the past 10 years so that today the city only receives 25 percent of the county siles tax revenue, Derfegis said.
"That was a drastic cut and the past lo years, we've lost over 72 mallion dollars because of that," DeRegis said. "The city obwi ously needs some help, not a hind-out, but sonme help from the county."

One remedy city officials are not considering is a property tax hike, Parentisaid. If property taxes hike, Parenti said. If property taxes are too high, then residents and are too high, then residents and businesses will leave the city and businesses will leave the city and take their tax revenues with them, he explained.

This would completely defeat the purpose of raising the taxes in the first place and would also discuse, Parenti said.
"If we're to grow ourselves out of the cconomic state were in, the last thing we wint to do is to raise taxes," he said. "It's just counterproductive to what we're trying to accomplish."

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{Common Council plans Clinton Square renovations}

The Syracuse Common Council is targeting Clinton Square in downtown Syracuse for a facelift, carrying town Syracuse for a facelift, carrying a price tag of about \($ 6\) million. The Council accepted Mayor Roy A. Bernardi's proposal to expand and improve Clinton Square in January. The new square will extend north from Water Street to West Genesee Street and east from Clinton Street to Salina Street

The new renovations will cut Erie Boulevard in half during the construction process and prevent drivers from going straight down the driver

The Council voted 9-0 in favor of closing the section of Erie Boulevard where construction will take place and eliminating a dangerous and Erie Boulevard connect.

\section*{STARBUCKS}
continued from page 1
housed Archie's Place.
Herstore is underground and is only advertised by word of mouth, he said.
"If they run a good business and have a good product, their business is theing tocal coffee shops. "It has been proven over and over. Because of Starbucks, more people will know what a cappuccino and latte is and

To try a different atmosphere
Maylor-Smith said Starbucks

\section*{EMBEZZLEMENT} continued from page 1
two architecture students, Bruce Sparano and Mark Rhoads, on charges of embezziement, the re port said.

It's in the hands of the university and the police now ", said Bruce Abbey, dean of the school. The School of Architecturre no longer has anything to do with it \({ }^{=}\)

Abbey refused to comment further on the incident.

Sparano and Rhoads could not be reached for comment.

Police suspect the two gtudents of lying on time sheets about the actual number of hours they woriced, the report said. Sparano allegedly embezzled \($ 11,190.10\) and Rhoads
"Currently, the intersection of Salina and Erie is averaging two accidents per week, said Charles Everett, commissioner of aviation in Syracuse and member of the 1995 committee that began the renovation program. Whis is one of the most dangerous intersections in the city.

Democratic Councilor Van Robinson personally experienced the danger of the intersection.

I was involved in an accident of that corner, and I think something needs to be done," Robinson said. "The streets are too short there and the lights change quickly
'sjust not set up well right now."
Plans for the square include Plans for the square include uilding a portable ice skating rink building a portable ice skating rink in the center of the enlarged space. The open rink can be used for skating in the winter, and removed to create a large space for downtown activities like the JazzFest, the est in selling her balced goods in their store. She said she is considering it and waiting for them to approach her and tell her the specifics.
"We hope to work with merchants on Marshall Street to better business for everyone," Milanette said. "We hope to help them by besaid. "We hope to help them by beSarah Malloy, owner of No Borders, No Boundaries, 171 MarBorders, No Boundaries, 171 Marshall St., said last month that she Was initially worried about the Starbucks arrival and even considered selling her shop. But she later decided not to give up her business.
"We have a very strong busi-

Blues Festival and Oktol
ing the summer and fall.
By expanding Clinton Square,
Council hopes to encourage vendors and more business into downtown Syracuse.
\({ }^{\text {"Hopefully, }}\), it will attract visitors to the downtown area, and hopefully they will leave some of their hard earned cash in the city," Robinson said. "Ideally, the added business at Clinton Square will spread over to Armory Square and attract more retail and private investment to the area."

Clinton Square currently hosts two historical monuments, the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument and the Jerry Rescue monument. The Council's plans include cleaning, enlarging and enhancing the monuments, but not moving them.

Hopefully, they will be maintained to a higher degree than they have been in the past," Robinson ness due to a number of devated reg. ulars and I honestly do not think we will lose too much, except for some possible walk-in customers," Malloy said last month.

\section*{Behind the counter}

The Startrucks staff of 25 has attended training sessions, focused on how to make each drink, the history of the store and customer service.
"Starbucks is really big on our "All of the employee training keeps our Starbucks culture.

Employee perks include three coffee drinks per shif and one free coffee drinks per shift and one
said.
All monetary figures for the redevelopment of Clinton Square are currently only estimates, but the Council has already secured a \($ 5.9\) million federal grant from the surface transportation and congestion mitigation and uir quality program.
Robinson estimates the city will pay about \($ 300,000\) for the project.

Syracuse University senior and City Hall intern Jim Gaffey said the Council is considering ways to make the new square accessible to students.

They were hoping a rink would draw students down from the hill in the wintertime," said Gaffey, a senior policy studies major They're talking about starting a shuttle service than runs from a park in DeWitt to the university to Clinton Square, Arm and the Carousel Mall.

I think it might work, especially for the freshman and sophomores and students without cars, he added.
Howard/Stein Council hired Howard/Stein-Hudson, a national firm that specializes in comrnunity involvernent, to work with both the Council and city residents on the project. The firm is planning a large public meeting April 27 regarding the square reconstruction, although a time and place have not been decided on.

The demolition of current structures in Clinton Square is scheduled to begin in July. The Council is already discussing temporary sites for this summer's festivals and events normally held at the square. The new Clinton Square the square. The new Clinton Square is scheduled to be finished by Memois scheduled to be rial Day of 2001 .
free pound of coffee beans per week They are also offered discounted stock options, said Jackie Karis, a Starbucks employee and freshman magãzine joumalism major.
porstarbuck wants their employees to be happy," said ermployee cast joumalism maior. "If the employees are happy, it affects the customer."

Since every national and international store is operated the same, at Starbues get the benefit of worions should they move or leave the uni versity area during the summer, Mi-said. Sparano was an employee of program since 1998.
Several university offices will most likely review the case, said dent of business, finance and administrative servicea.

Right now it's allegations," Marcoccia said "They've got to do some investigating work to take

Savage said that in his Savage said at in his three the need to keep a daily \(\log\) of his work study hours.
"I worked closely with my students," he said. "Unfortunately attention to what's gaing on in other areas of the college \({ }^{\text {g }}\).

Savage said the university had not told all the faculty of the inci-

\section*{dent.}

Some students in the architec ture program said that the college should have informed the faculty and staff lot of mone lot of maney," said Jogh Sandals, a first-year architecture major. "It's kind of surprising. It's alarming to ing.

\section*{Researchers probe ancient viruses}

\section*{By LINDSEY SAVIN}

Contributing Writer
A team of local researchers are using a discovery they made last year to hep provs.

Several State University of New York College of Environmencuse University researchers found a 140,000 -year old plant virus frozen more than a mile beneath the Greenland icecap.

The implications of the disare pressing questions regarding what else might be trapped in the ice and whether dormant viruses may some day be re-released into the environment, said Dr. John Castello, a professor of biology and tree disease specialist at ESF. "There are lots of implica tions, not the least of which is what other organisms are in this ancient demonstrate that bacteria and fungi are capable of surviving in such an extreme environment here on Earth, why, for example, couldn't you expect to find these organisms other planets?
The discovery of the virus, known as Tomato Mosaic Tobamovirus, received international barnovirus, received international attention. Castello said people conattention. Castelio said people continue to ask if there are ancient viruses in the ice that can affect humans, and whether global warming will cause the ice to melt warming will cause the ice to melt and these viruses to be recycled. "It is important to remember that glaciers are always melting, have been for thousands of years," Castello said. "Anything that's entrapped in this ice is going to be trapped in this ice is going to be ment as these glaciers melt and as they erode.

A problem would arise if a vinus were relensed that man had been unexposed to for thousands of years. In this case, it could possibly cause an epidemic, because no one on Earth would have developed a natural immunity, Castello said. Not everything in the ice, howeve added.
"How do you know some living arganism trapped in 100,000 yearold ice isn't producing the world's

\section*{Beyond the surface}

The idea to look for microorganisms in ice began in 1982 by fessor of biology and genetics, and hessor of biology and ge

Starmer and Fell were doing research in the Caribbean and took a moment to relax and order a cold drink. They stared at the ice in their drinks and beran to wonder out loud about what types of der out loud about what types of little cubes.

It was this thought that search in glacial ice exploration that was to take place throughout the next decade, Castello said.

When they returned to Syra-Starmer obtained ice core cuse, Starmer obtained ice core samples from Greenland and besamples from Greenland and be gan studying them to see what types of organisms they contamed
He hired 1982 ESF graduate He hired 1982 ESF graduate Cathy Catranis to help look for organisms in the ice cores, Castello said.

After melting the ice and culturing the organisms left in the water, they found what they were searching for - fungi and bacteScott Rogers, a professor of molecScott Rogers, a prof ular biology at ESF.
"Roophe who otudy evolution usually concentrate on organisms from the present to study the past," Starmer said. "Rarely is from the past can be compared to from the past can be com ones that we know today.

Starmer and Catranis began to wonder if there were other microorganisms present in the melt-waters that could be not cultured. For help, they contacted Rogers.

While Starmer, Catranis and

Rogers were looking for bacteria and fungi in ice, Castello was inand fungi in ice, Castello was instroying the red spruce population stroying the red spruce population on Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks of Upstate New York.

\section*{Finding support}

After doing a series of experiments, Castello found the Tomato Mosaic Tobamovirus in the soil, Mosaic Tobamovirus in the soil, stream water and clouds surstreanding the mountain. The virus rounding the mountain. The virus the most stable known to man, he said.

Castello said he heard about the research being conducted by Starmer and his team. Castello said he reasoned that if any virus was likely to be preserved in an

He joined the team of Starmer, Catranis and Rogers and together they wrote a research proposal to the National Science Foundation, based on Starmer's prior results. A special panel of the foundation called LEXEN, the foundation called LEXEN, which stands for Life in Extreme which stands for Life in Extreme Environments, agreed to fund the Environments, agreed to fund th group's research, Castello said.
group's research, Castello said.
LEXEN typically funds scientific research examining life in the harshest environments on Earth.
The group received a \($ 375,000\) The group received a \($ 375,000\) grant payable over a three-year pegrant payable riod, he said.

The team analyzed 42 ice cores - 26 from Greenland and 16 from Antarctica - they obtained from the U.S. National Ice tained from the U.S. National Colo. They were looking for ancient bactaris, funt and virusos that masy in the ice.

Some of the cores were extracted from deep within the ice sheets. Geofrey Hargreaves, laboratory curator, said the deepest ratory curator, said the deepest core came from Lake Vostok in core came from Lake Vostok in meters - about two miles - beneath the surface and is 500,000 years old, he said.

In the meltwater of every ore examined, the team found some form of fungi, bacteria and even ancient viruses. Some of the micro-organisms discovered within eam beern sowing the ancient organisms in their lab on the ESF campus, Rogers said.

\section*{Looking ahead}

Rogers said by far the most impressive discovery they made was the presence of the Tomato Mosaic Tobarnovirus in one of the virus ever to be detected in ice and is estimated to be more than 140,000 years old.
"I think that the discovery of the virus points out the longevity of some of these organisms," Rogers said. "There is a huge repository of microorganisms that exist in glaciers and polar ice caps all around the world, and people now realize that these organisms can be stored in ice and released ater into the environment.

The challenge now, Rogers said, is to look for other viruses that might be trapped in ice.
"Small Pox is a virus that was supposedly eradicated from Earth back in the 1970 s , but \(\mathrm{I}^{\prime} \mathrm{m}\) Earth back in the 1970 s , but \(\mathrm{I}^{\prime} \mathrm{m}\) not so sure that in the, Rogers said

Similar research is now being conducted nationwide using ice cores from the same drill sites in Greenland and Antarctica to find Greenland and Antarctica to find ancient mi

Rogers and Castello both said the discovery of the virus in glacial beyond detecting ancient life on Earth. They agree that if life can exist in such extreme environ ments on Earth, there is the possi bility that life could have evolved

Rogers and Castello said.
ope that, based on their findings, they may be able to work with life on other planets.

\section*{© Multicultual Affairs}

\section*{New Multi-cultural office opens in Schine}

BY KATE STEVENSON
With the cutting of a red ribbon, the new Syracuse University Multicultural Affairs office opened Thursday in the Schine Student

Irma Almirall-Padamsee, director of the Office of Multicultural Afrairs and associate dean of Studentrele to the new center and people to the new center and thanked those who helped in its development.

The office used to be home to University Union, now located in Watson Hall.

Because of OMA's rapid wth, office members decided last summer to expand their operations from the confines of their old one-room oftice in Steele Hall, Almirall-Padamsec said.
"There was a need for physical space," she said. "The need of space was precipitated because the activities

The office employs 15 people, many of them students, AlmirallPadarnsee said. They work in such areas as Web site development, inareas as Web site development, inprograms. The employees are paid programs. The employees are
The students who work in the office, they don't just do peripheral work, she said. They get experiin fairly serious committees

OMA also works with the \(\mathrm{Fe}-\) instone grants, she said. The grants are given to different individuals and groups to establish programs promoting multicultura

Junior Connie Macaluso parents. Sparks, an SU senior, contacted the campaign about two weeks ago to arrange a visit to campus, said Williams, a it to campus, said Williams, a senior broadcast journa Recain campaign visited the McCain campaign visited SU to examine the university's facilities, but decided to have the becting at Jesuit-run Le moyne because their venue is more in style of campaigning, Williams said.
"There's been a lot of talk that he picked Le Moyne because he's losing the Catholic vote in New York," he said. "SO has great facilities, but they re works in the offices Transition to Graduate School program. She helps aspiring graduate students research financial aid packages, deal with acceptonce and rejection deal with acceptance and rejection and work through the application and work through office bjor renovations to the new office began last fall, Almirall-Padamsee said. The said.
The room at Schine originally was onflices along one side she small offices along one side, she said. But the SU Physical Plant said. But the So Physical Plant the front of the room and built three larger offices.

The ceiling and the air-conditioning system were removed and the room with new cabinets, Almi-rall-Padamsee said.

In addition to construction

\section*{others. They just picked Le Moyne because} Moyne because it's a more intiSparks.

Sparks could not be
The hectic pace of political campaigns and the upcoming Super Tuesday primaries preented the McCain campaign from confirming thilliams said.
"You really can't do stuff too much in advance," he said. Every.-

SU College Republicans worked with the local and national McCain organizations to possible, Williams gaid. Depossible, Wiliams gaid. Despite short notice of the event, all files and supplies from the Steele Hall office to Schine, she added.

The total cost of the renovations is about \($ 35,000\), AlmirallPadamsee said. The university paid the bill in its entirety, she paid th
added.

Increased office space will facilitate the job of the office, Macalu so said.

It was hard to have everyone working at once," she said. "Now spread out.'.

But the changes to the office are not just physical, said Macaluor. "It's also growing in that there are a lot more programs the stuculturalism is becoming bigger, be ing recognized more."
organizers expect a large and diverse crowd of both steadfast ers, he added.
"His message really transcends age lines," Williams said. "A lot of young people said. "A lot of young people have become disconnected with the political process and then you get someone like John Mc-Cain who just speaks his mind Cain who just speaks his mind it sparks interest.
McCain will speak to the audience for about 30 minutes and then answer questions for another hour, said Joyce Spokeswoman.
spokeoman.
ly," she said. "It's going to fill

SOCIALISTS
continued from page 1
challenged a Westcott Community Center audience of 30 people to vote based on their ideals, no matter how lofty.

During the forum, each party leader spoke on behalf of a minor party presidential candidate who is in Tuesday's Green and Socialist in Tuesday's Green and Socialist Party primaries. Consumer advocate Ralph Nader is overwhelmingly favored to win the New York ingly favored to win the New York state Green Party primary and state Green Party primary and eventually, the party's presidential eventually, th \({ }^{\text {'It's a choice between a dream }}\) and an illusion," Ron Ehrenreich, a former Socialist Party vice presidential candidate himself, the illusion is the we audience. The illusion is that we have a democracy in our society have now."

The drearn, Ehrenreich said, is a U.S. society that prioritizes its citizens Welfare above any other interest. This is also the dream of terest. This is also the dream of David McReynolds, the 2000 Socialist Party presidential candidate whom Ehrenreich represented.

McReynolds, for example, supports a 50 percent cut in mintary spending, military bases, governmentfunded universal healthcare and funded universal healthcare and usinesses.

These are similar to the aims peting for their party's nomination. The candidates include Nader, former Dead Kennedys lead singer Jello Biafra, former U.S. Senate candidate and college professor Joel Fovel and self-proclaimed "hippy priest" Stephen Gaskin.

All four candidate representatives agreed that the Green Party will almost certainly nominate Nader.

But Nader, who officially ran for president in 1996 but did not actively campaign, must do the opposite in 2000 . posite in 2000.
widely known or charismatic person," said Mark Naef, speaking on \section*{\(d\) \\ GUIDE \\ Getting warmer} Chilly down there? Say goodbye to gray Skies and mudale on Field House for the fourth annual Chili Bowl Festival on Sunday. Eat your heart out from noon to 4 p.m. The event will also teature wagon rides, sing-a-longs, music and an outdoor treasure hunt for chitdren. Funds raised from the event will support the Thornden Park Association. Call 234 1234 for information.

\section*{Bare bones}
stion About the Ends of Our Beginnings" examines the dark side of the prehistoric era this weekend at the Metaphorestry Gallery, 218 w . Genesee St The group exhibit seeks to expose the hidden truths of man's past. The mixed media exhibit features everything from sculptural illustration to photogra phy to textured collage paintings. For gallery.
hours, call \(430-3398\).

Public good
American art funded by the Public Works of Art Project instated during the Great Depression portrays scenes of urban land scape, traditional views of rural life and social problems of the 1930s.The Everson Museum of Art, at the corner of South State and Harrison streets. will present "Public Works of Art Project of 1934: Works on Paper" beginning Saturday. Culled from the Everson's permanent collection, the exhibit features the works of 20 artists, including Mabel Dwight, Victoria Hutson and Georges Schreiber. The exhibit runs through May 14. Call 474-6064 for information.

\section*{Latin love song}

Venezuelan singer songwriter Irene Farrera brings her passionate percussion show to Happy Endings Cake and Coffeehouse, 317 S. Clinton St. Farrera combines English and Spanish in her lyrics. Show starts at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and also features Latin percussion tunes. Tickets are \($ 7\) and can be bought at the door. Call 475 1853.

\section*{All that jazz}

Got The Salt City wintertime blues? Chill out from the freeze on Sunday with the "Pacale Jazz Party" at the Pacale Wine Bar and Restaurant, on the corner of East Fayette and South Clinton streets. Syracuse native Tom Brigandi performs cool jazz off his new CD "Late Night New York." All proceeds from the event, sponsored by the Central New York Jazz Arts Foundation, Inc., will go to the Ray Shiner Fun. Everything happens at

See GUIDE page 10

\section*{Weekentind}

\section*{Douglas \\ Michael Douglas has been} one lucky bastard this year. After successfully proposing year-old actress, Catherine year-old actress, Catherine \begin{tabular}{cl}
Pete & \begin{tabular}{l}
Zeta-dones, \\
Douglas pulis \\ off his second
\end{tabular} \\ Beisser \\
miracle of \end{tabular}, it's only March

Douglas plays Grady Tripp - a role for which he gained as substantial amount of weight - a cruative writing professor at a small liberal arts college who's been attempting for who's been attempting for seven years to write the followBut he' irst successfat novel. site of writer's block Throurt a mist of thick pot smoke and handfuls of codeine pills Grady has 2611 pages of in absolutely horrible and uncompleted manuscript sitting in

\section*{Much Ado About Nothing}
by

\section*{Wiiliam Shakespeare}

\author{
Directed by Gerardine Clark
}

Feb. 25, 26, Mar. \(1^{*}, 2,3,4\) at 8 p.m.
Feb. 27, Mar. 5 at 2 p.m.
*Mar. I pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517
laugh when it drops down on the ground in a funny oddball sort of way. Unlike the poor pooch in "There's Something About Mary, this dog is not help of any lamp.

As we are taken through a agic weekend in this man's mid-life crisis, it becomes clear that it's never too late to start over again for any of the characters. Douglas takes on a role devoid of the crass materialism and sexuality that dominate most of his other memorable characters in films like "Fatal Attraction," "Wall Street" and "Basic Instinct." By breaking typecast, the role of Grady, pathetic washed-up, overweight, pot-head professor is a year-old actor.

\section*{Show stopper}

The film belongs to Douglas all the way, even though the supporting actors are top-notch talents. But while no character overpowers Douglas, Katie Holmes, playing one of Grady's students, is never without a pair of red cowboy boots, and that almost did it for me.
"Boys," based on Michael Chabon's 1995 novel, is direc tor Curtis Hanson's follow-up to his breakthrough success, 1997's drama "L.A.
Confidential." Unlike the character of Grady, Hanson manages to equal the success of his first big work. The differences of the two works are striking, despite the overall similarity in genre. Although "Confidential" is a multi-layered story, it is also a character study, just as "Boys" turns out to be.

Instead of the 1950 s Hollywood crime scene, "Boys" takes place in a slightly less glamorous world - modernday wintery Pittsburgh which you would think would make for a dull picture. But thanks to Hanson's eye for

The Graduate Student Orqanization is

\section*{Requesting all Student and Service Organization Budget Proposals for the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year be submitted to the GSO Office by}

\author{
March 29, 2000 , 4:30pm in 131 Schine
}

If there are any questions pertaining to the budget proposal format or the budget process, please contact 443-3961 or e-mail fjcarter@syr.edu.
"Boys" is filled with the contrasts of black and yellow and is strikingly beautiful. What I really loved about both "Confidential" and "Boys" is that Hanson made sure each shot was perfectly framed and flled for audience eyes to take in - they are both great a visual films with superb characterization.

Interesting mainstream films like this one rarely show any significant box-office take because most people that go to the movies are just plain stu poo smart and intelligent to last more than a few more last more theatars a mity b weeks in theaters. A pity, but Douglas is having, we still may not have see.l his best work yet. My grade: \(\mathbf{E +}\)

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major \(E\)-math h n at pjbcisse@syredw.

\section*{GUIDE}
continued from page 9 4 p.m. The first 50 people to arrive will receive free signed copies of "Late Night New York." Tickets are \($ 16-$ 17.95\). Call 461-8343 for information.

\section*{Yard sale}

Abott 60 artists from New York state and beyond the Empire region will show their goods Sunday at Temple Adath Yeshurun when the synagogue hosts its sixth annual Fine Arts and Crafts Fest. The show features contemporary art work including paintings. drawings, ceramics, glass, jewelry, pewter and porcelain. Some pieces donated by the artists will be raffled. The Temple is located at 4550 Kill Ra. Admission informa. information

\section*{Windy cilty}

Believe it or not, but there was life in music prior to Pearl Jam and the Beastie Boys. Open y little bit more traditionat when The Syracuse Friends of Chamber Music starts its 50th anniversary season Saturday with a performance b the New York Chamber Soloists at the H.W. Srrith Auditorium, 1130 Salt Spring's Rd. Made up of string and wind instruments, the ensemble will per form a repertoire of chamber music, seldorn heard in live performances. The group will perform the works of Mozart Handel, Prokofiev and Ravel at 8 p.m. Tickets are \($ 10-$ 12\). Call 637-4848 for information.

\section*{Hollywood hills}

Some of the best songs in music history come from the silver screen. The Syracuse Symphony Pops will perform works from motion pictures like "West Side Story" and "Batman" tonight at the Civic Center, 411 Montgomery St. The show runs through Saturday and will be conducted by Grant Cooper. Tickets are $15-$31. Student discounts are available. For information, call 424-8200.

\title{

}
laden stand-up of Cornedy Central's "The Daily Show" regular Lewis Black came to Goldstein Auditorium Thursday night for the Jewish Student mion's "Cornedyrest."
"I'll admit that I have a problem with say-Andrew
Parks on the edge

Honors Fraternity, but the idea of being locked up in a basement doing calculus without a calculator for a night was just too much, he admitted.

After four years of entertaining his peers at SU, it is clear that this young comedian has built up his confidence and developed a sistent, stable comedy routine.
After Malkoff exited the
After Malkoff exited the stage, the audience learned that Gregg Rogell of "The Nanny" was not coming. Evidently, Rogell to the weather a favorite excuse to the weather, a favorite excuse Not one entertainment busines Not one groan, however, was heard among the crowd, who was clearly here for the eccentricity of Black

\section*{Taking the stage}

The confident comedian emerged from backstage and began to ridicule SU, to the joy of many.

Beautiful weather you are having, maybe tomorrow we can make snow angels," Black said, lifting his middle finger to the ky. "I have never been here before, and I really do not know where 1 am," he added.

His trademark no-bullshit style continued from there. Nothing was safe from the scorn of the man made famous by Black." He began by talking about Valentine's Day. Valentine's Day.

'Why put it

Why put it in February when it is just shitting gray in the sky to make us all more depressed?" he asked.

Then Black followed by questioning the validity of the Weather Channel. "We are all just wondering about the weather just wondering about the w.

Another topic that garnered much laughter was sun block. "We put that shit on our face and it could just be zebra cum," Black said.

Short bits and one-liners such as these made for easy laughter, but the focus of the show was politics, and Black's dislike of it. Every candidate in the upooming election was analyzed and torn apart by Black's sarcasm: the "new lively version" of Al Gore, the "arrogant" George W.
Bush and, of course, John Bush and, of course, John "Joh
John McCain may have spent six years in a Vietnam camp, but he voted against putting safeties on guns. I don't kne rights of 5 -year-olds to have the righ, Black said.
Black gave his answer to the election quickly.
dates, 50 to the \(z 00\) the candidates, go to the 200 , get a baboon

Lewis Bfack of Comedy Cantral's "The Daily Show" delivered his take on the presfdential race, collego and Iffe at Thurs day's Comedyfest and shave it," he suggested.
He also gave his spin on the overused, derunct Bin Clinton and Monica Lewinsky saga. Congress was clapping for him they were saying yeah you got a they were saying yeah you got a blow job,' something we all could use," Black quipped.

Apparently last night, Lewis Black did not take his Nyquil, "the moonshine of medicine," as he calls it. He rarely paused for the duration of his act and exhibited a demeanor similar to that of actor Christopher Walken, unpre dictable and unstable. This rast audience enthralled with Black and from being offended when be and of the city of and its weather

Andrew Parks is a freshman magazine major: E-mail him at adparks@syredu.

\section*{Go}

If you already have tickets, 311 plays for a sold-out crowd Sunday at Goldistein Auditorium in the Schine Student Center. Doors open at \(7: 15 \mathrm{p.m}\). and Doors open at \(7: 15\) p.m. and Jimmy's Chicken Shack, the opening aet, is scheduled for 8 p.m. 311 will immediately follow.
release of several of their alburns and developed a liking for performing live.
"We love playing shows and interacting with our fans - so it's great to be on tour." Hexum said. 311 tries to look for bands with similar philosophies to join them on their tours. Hexum said that in addition to putting on a good live performance, the bands and be able to spend the entire tour together. He said they found these qualities in Jimmy's Chicken Shack. They opened up for us a few times back in 1995 and we really liked them," he said. "They're really nice guys, and their live show is great. I think it will be a really fun tour together:"

Touring has its drawbacks though, Hexum addod.

The hardest part about touring is being away from our homes, our pets - we all have dogs and our friends," he said.

All the band members except for Hexum also have girlfriends, and P-nut recently got engaged.

Another difficult part of being on the road for so long is that all the stops seem to mesh together, Hexum said.
"When you're on the road for several months, it's hard to remember where you are and where you've been," he added.
Back beats
But Hexum said that he and his bandmates like the uncertainty of constant travel because it makes for more interesting stories. Much of their music comes what is happening around them
"Our music comes from life experience mosily, andi irvm our imaginations," he said. "We're inspired by each other, by music, movies, nature, science, philosophy, whatever."

As with many professional musicians, music is an integral part of the band members' lives. Hexurn said he mixes and remixes for artist.s like Lenny Kravitz and No Doubt, and he likes writing and recording electronic music. Even when Hexum had a fleeting thought of not being a professional musician, his aspirations touched upon music.
"If I wasn't making music, I think I'd probably be doing something with computers," Hexum said. "Hard-drive recording or something,"

This wide range of interests among the band members helps give the group internal diversity, allowing them to put on a show unlike any other band.

Ziegler, like Hexum, said he expects a party Sunday night.
"It's going to be loud and fun," he said. "It'll be a damn good time."

\section*{Snow culites thio your fin tine? \\ Come in from the cold and get a life.}

Want to write about arts and entertainment, health and science, business or anything else? Come to the DO at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and pick up a story.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
Call us at 443-2128 or e-mail us at:

The DO is located at 744 Ostrom Ave. It's the red and white building, four houses down from Shaw Hall. It'll be well zorth your trip.

\title{
Orangewomen face stiff challenge at UVa
}

\section*{BY Chris snow Staff Writer}

Overmatched and overwhelmed in last season's firstever mecting with perennial pow erhouse Virginia, the Syracuse vomen's lacrosse team aims to oss Saturday in Charlottesville Va.

The season opener for the Orangewomen pits two of the top offenses in the nation, with Syra cuse scoring 11.25 goals per game last spring, nearly one better than

But SU must weather a hos ile crowd and a veteran UVa squad to defeat the 1-0 Cavaliers and likes to pressure the ball, hurry opponents into bad deci bus and then use its bread-and momentum, SU coach Lisa Miller said.

Syracuse succurnbed to that intensity in the previous meeting. now can remain within striking distance, however, if it plays solid one-on-one defense and showcases the confidence to attack lose balls.

Basically, we're working on double (teaming) in the midfield, junior midfielder Katrina Hable said. "Off our missed shot, Coach Miller wants the attack to play upple. She wants the double there to stop the transition."

Veteran leadership and timely scoring are a must to upset the Cavaliers, said Miller, who be lieves her top guns are poised to establish SU's third-year program as one of the nation's elite.

Hable contributes third-team All-America status and 37 goals as one of many SU midfielders with an attacker mindset, Miller said

Attackers Jenna Szyluk (38 goals), Lauren Brady ( 20 goals) Kara Hanover ( 10 goals), Phoebe Bums (10 goals) and Karen Heal take charge on the field, she said effectively directs traffic Virginia returns 10 from a \(15-6\) team that lost

Maryland in the national title game. Coach Julie Myers said carrying the tempo and exhibiting olan should dictate a strong UVI performance
"Our game is hard, heavy pressure on defense and turning that into fast break opportunities hat offense \({ }^{n}\) Myers said. "The kids really work well off each other and ad-lib off different scenarios. We're hard to match up with offensively because we're very creative. We'll need to build that edge."

Miller believes SU's athletic defense and experience between the pipes in senior goalie Clothilde Ewing provide the Orangewomen the greatest opportunity to roadlock UVa's freewheeling offense. Ewing said a key component to SU's confidence level is a readiness and willingness to comr
"We need to work together and we need to talk a lot, Ewing said. "We ve got a great defensive we can do it and trust one anoth-
"I have complete confidence Miller ran practice late Tues. Miller ran practice late Tuesday, working primarily on set ofenid her team experiences even more success creating opportunities in the open field and capitalzing on those chances.

In a scrimmage against No. 4 noving the ball downfield and making crisp passes while on the run, Brady said.

Attention to that aspect and bettering the team's settled attack are the squad's focus for the opener, she added.
"We need to realize how much time we have and be deliberate, \({ }^{\text {M }}\) Miller said. "We need to get ettled, and then see our options and check them on. We have to anake a decision to go to the cage and get our shots. And then we need to cone back, be and force them into a half-field game." Dominated on the draws and failing to find any rhythm passing and catching against the Blue Devils, SU found itself in the catch-up mode for much of the 16 10 loss, Hable said "On attack, Duke's defense really frazzled us," she said. They went after us hard, they stepped up, they bodied us and we weren't used to that because our defense wasn't doing that in practice. That's what we need.

Myers does not believe intenshould be a problem for \(\mathrm{SU}^{2}\) sity should be a problem for SU, noting the Orangewomen's re lening this young squad Syracuse, expect a battle from Syracuse," said Myers, whose as sistants scouted the Orangewom en's pre-season loss. "They're tough as nails. They don't go away, and they will play every min "A the their last chance.
"And that is very unnerving for an opponent because if you build a lead, you hope the other team will crumble. But I don't think Syracuse would, and we to that intensity until the las minute."

\section*{FINISH}

\section*{continued from page 16}
gan six weeks ago with a SaturNotre Dame in Hartford.

But the dam sprung a severe leak jan. 24, when the Orangemen used a 22-2 first-half of a national television audience.

UConn shot just 35 percent in the first stanza and trailed by 18 at the break. Six Orangernen scored in double figures and crushed the Hukies 47-31 on the crushed the

Despite the lopsided loss, SU head coach Jim Boeheim still lauds the Huskies. On the Big East coaches' conference call two o play a major role in determin. ing the national champion.
"The game here just wen our way," he said. "It happens once in a while-a fluke game

They're physical, they have eterans and lots of experience. They re going to be a great team by the end of the year.

After three straight wins, the Huskies lost four of seven, including embarrassing setbacks

Michigan State and St. John's. Since the beginning of the calendar year, UConn fell from
No. 2 to No. 24 , settling for a No. 2 to No. 24 , settling for a week at fifth, eighth, \(13 \mathrm{th}, 18\) th and 2and on the way down

But in the past six days,

UConn halted and reoled halted losing ways An El-Amins runner 20 . final horn pushed UConn past West Virginia on Saturday night, and the junior point guard's steal and free throws cemented a 74-69 victory at Rutgers on Monday.
tories on their push toward the vietories on their push toward tournament play, but heir attitude in tight games appears far diferent from last year's confident air

Losing was my biggest rear," shooting guard Albert Mouring said of Monday's closing seconds. "I just didn't want us to

Beyond on-floor failures, discipline problems hampered discipline probest month. Freshmen Tony Robertson and Doug Wrenn missed the 85-66 collapse at Michigan St. after allegedly trying to exchange tickets for merchandise at a Farmington, Conn., department store. Calhoun reinstated the duo Feb. 7. Roberston hopped back into the rotation, averaging 19 minutes per contest.

But Wrenn remains an enigma, absent from every game since the suspension. He prac ticed with the team since the suspension but failed to travel with the team before Sunday's with the team befo

Wrenn made the trip and dressed for the game, but reserve forward Edmund Saunders re mained in Storrs. Saunders was reinstated Tuesday after a lengthy conversation with Calversation with Cal houn about the notorious temper that torious temper that technical fouls in December and sparked several sparked several Skirr tice.

Despite the turmoil, some bright spots exist for Cal coached since late form or with a form of mononucletinues to play like tinues to piay like guard, scoring 16 points per game and dishing out Iive and-a-half assists.

Mouring joins El-Amin in the backcourt, shooting 51 percent from behind the arc in conference play and averaging nearly 15 eraging nearly

Down low, seniors Kevin Freeman and Jake Voskuhl combine for 19 points and 12 rebounds per contest. Voskunl canned 6-of-7 field goals in the his way to a 19 -point perforhis way

The highlights for the Huskies, however, get shrouded

\section*{5}

Conference Syracuse meets UConn at 2 p.m Sa

\section*{Big East}

24-3 (13-2 Big East), No. 9 in the nation and first in the conference. Jim Boeheim (24th vear. 573-196)

C Etan Thomas (13.9 ppg. 9.1 pg . 3.9 bpg ). G Jason Hart ( 12.2 ppg. 6.5 apg ). F Ryan alackwell (11.1. ppg. 7.4 rpg\()\)

The Orangemen return to the site of one of their biggest wins of last season, a \(59-42\) triumph over the then-undefeated huskies on Feb. 1, 1999. A win gives SU the Big East regular-season title, its first outright league championship since 1990-91. Brackwell shined in the scoring 18 points and grabbing 12 rebounds white holding Kevin Freeman to just one hoop. SU's senior forward busted out again against Notre Dame on by their struggles on and off the floor. In November, expectations lay in the stratosphere. Instead, the eight-lass Huskies, in the eyes or most fans, came up miserably short to this date.

Continuing his season-long ptimism and patience, Calhoun coffs at those wegrade his

Still, the veteran coach

Big East
20-8 (9-6). No. 24 in the country and ifth in the conference.
Jim Calhoun (14th year, 290-126)
G Khalid EfAmin (16.3 ppg, 5.4 apg), F Kevin Freeman ( 10.6 ppg , 6.4 pg )

Bashed by local media and its statewide fan base, the Huskies need a boost heading into the Big East Tournament. UConn tacks a quality win - its last triumph over a proba ble NCAA Toumey squad came Valentine's day at Seton Hall. In their 88-74 loss at the Dome in January, SU out-rebounded UConn b
16. The Huskies need better efforts 16. The Huskies need better efforts on the boards from Voskuhl, Freeman and subs Ajou Deng and Souleymane Wane to eek out win
No. 21. UConn last beat Syracuse in No. 21. UConn las.
Hartford in 1996.
hopes a win Saturday can cata pult the Huskies toward a successful March.
"Bottom line in a real struggling season - we're 20-8 now," Calhoun said with an hint of sarcasm after the Rutgers win "We got one more game to go on Saturday, and maybe we can salvage something out of this season."

\section*{TOURNEY}

\section*{continued from page 16}

Record finished second in the Big East in scoring, averaging 17 points per game. FelJow backcourt bomber Jaime James has played better than earlier in the season, and Rookie of the Year candidate Rookie of the Y

One Record remains important for Georgetown, and it isn't 10-17.
"Beth is a very good player," Knapp said. "I voted her on one of the three Al-Big Enst teams. But there are other people on that have to play our offensive game much better as well.

Since losing to the Orangewomen, the Hoyas have played well and still harbor hopes of post-season play. In fact, Georgetown has svon three of its last four games, inclucing victories over Miami and Providence.

Smrcka-Duffy reigns as the conference scoring champion, averaging 18.4 points a game.

Flanking Smrcka-Duffy is Nathalie Bourdereau and Nok Duany, sister of Syracuse men's swingman Kueth.

When in Hell...
by Eric Jones

MTHE BOUNCER AT THE WMOSN OVER SUR SHIFT IN G66 YEARS

Mr. Skizz
by Thane Benson

Out of Founiin
A new 3rd Party Candidate has emerged, let's go live to his Press

Soon my blood rain shall begin, all shall Kreal to by Pavid Pollack He's getting high numbers with young men, that energy is really paying off!

sn wow, he's already

\section*{No Point}
by Ethan Schmidt
\(\therefore\) I KNOW THAT KID IS HE SEES. HE SAID THAT

ONLY SIX, BUT HE BETTER HAVE AN EXCUSE IN COURT.'

Classic Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

\section*{Eat the Lettuce}

\section*{}

by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
\(14[\mathrm{Classifieds}] \begin{aligned} & \text { The Daily Orange } \\ & \text { March 3，2000 }\end{aligned}\)
}

NOTICE
ナナナナ＋ナ＋
Whats up for Spring Break？
The Daily Orange will Not print from March 10 thru March 20. We will resume printing on March 21 with a Deadline of March 17 by 2 pm ． Have a SAFE and WONDERFUL
Spring Break！

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315－443－9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 c\) each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word 5 E extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE \(&\) are Pre－paid by： Cash Check，Master Card，Visa or Discover Deadine： 20 N 2 2 2 usiness days prior to tun
ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE！！ Ads can be mailed with check to The Daity Orange： 744 Ostiom Avenue：
Syracue．NY \(1320 ;\) att：Classifiegs：

\section*{Notices}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Attention Females： \\
－Is your eating out ol control？ \\
－Are you at least 21 years old and a social drinker？ \\ Call 443 －9462 to EARN 5 in \\ a CONFIDENTIAL sludy．
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Attention \\
Fraternities＊Sororities＊ \\
Clubs＊Student Groups Need to earn st 0.00 －52．000 ior a sudurent \\ since \\ fundraising event． \\
Accept no imitations． \\
Dates are fliting quidetet Contact us tor imrrediate resulits al（B88） 696 －1 1558 or apply Lne al fundraisingsolutions．ret
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Autos}

Jeep Wranglet． 974 ．Glinder．Fied willack solt： 109 Magazine must sen．

\section*{EMPLOYMENT} \(\xrightarrow{\text { Camp Counselors Top Oremight Carpss in }}\) mmw pinetorxestcamp．com
NEED EXPERIENCE（and money？）Join a tast， lun and growing company as your campus and compatitive pay．Noex ppersmanaly needed．Visit inimamaibor．and to fill out an onlinte application．

application．
Goumen Cottre shop located in SUNY Hospital himing managar．Expariance neecoed in inventiong contro，cash fancling．training customer sevvice

Part lime jobs delivery diviver
Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshal st ．
 Pant ilme wwiranchicerourselicom CAMP COUNSELOAS－NEW YYAK

 Wannt La beccome an entrepreneun？Here＇s your cpporturity tol learn and profit ty working for tepresentaive．Syracuseauction com is a tiee local auction weo site，designed by sludenis to serve the University community．Syra cuseAuction．com is trady Io en enploy acive．outtocing Syracuse

Job Opportunities
Syracuse Slage Angel Appeal Campaign．＂Nice working almosfhere．Cn bus－line．Men．Thul．
5 －9pR．
\(1 / 17-3 / 19\) ．Requrid pleasant speaking 5．9pht．1／17．3／19．Requrred pleasant speaking voice，goal oriented，postive antuvode． \(443-1158\) Calling all scaienwriters．actors． DiRECTORS＇Jump start your cateet for a complimentary consultation，ema：l us at complimentary consulital getuiscoveredat ho：shol com
BONUSES pius guarameed hourty rate tor
Syracuse Susee Angel Appeal Cate toraign－Nice

WANTED Child Care \(\overline{\text { Cice：co couple seeking student to provide purtime }}\)

Help Wanted Groovy Dudet Get paid while you surn the interneen！ tits that easy with gimmicks：
 S1500 weekty potential mailing our circulatis．No Expenienceen Fequired．Frea information packel Cati
202－452－7679．

\section*{Roommates

 Foommate Wanted tor June 2000 to 2001 Female non－smoker comer ol Ostion and Euclid．． 442 －6525 \\ FOR RENT \\ Stop clean 3 bedroom pparlments Firepplace： parking，laundry，semi－furnished，walk to sut： parking，laundry \({ }^{\text {s．}}\) ， tow prite 436 ．－4016．}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
2，3 and 4 EEDROOM APARTMENTS \\
302 Marshall St \\
329 Comstock Ave \\
319 Euclid Ave \\
145 Avondale Place \\
Available for 2000－2001 \\
Fuly Furnished，Laundry \\
Parking，Fuli Time \\
Maintenance and Managernent， \\
Wall to Wall Carpet andor Refinished Hard Wood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths \\
University Area Apts 1011 E．Adiams St．\＃30 479－5005 www．universityarea．com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline &  \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
Five bedroom House \\
Spacious five Bedroom，completely furnished House winh font ond rear porthes．Living DISHWASHER and five large bedroors．and TWO FULL Eathroonss of street parking with CALL 430－5188 after 1：00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Westicotl／Euctid renovated 3．4 bedroon aval 6／1
\(5650-5720 \mathrm{PM}\) patkiny S650－ 5720 PM patking D \(W\) Pat \(263-3415\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4，5，6，7 ，

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
University and Comstock Very close to Campus
Eficiencies and Two Bedroons Secure Horo．
Eliciencies and Two Bedrooms Secure bldg． turnished laundry parking \($ 375.00\) to \($ 700.00\)
4 Edrm Houso \($ 300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 odrm flas \($ 250 / \mathrm{mm}\) ． Avail Aug．Very Group 637.5195
Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished Heat included，hardwood fioors．porch，re
remodeled，laundry，parking． \(476-2982\)
GREAT LOCATION 228 Euclid，across from

Comslock nicely lumished quiat \(1-2.3\) bedroom parking utilities incuudad closo walk SU hospitals reasonabio 478－2642
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O．P．R． \\
Developers \\
\(4-5-6\) Bedroom \\
Homes \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves， \\
dishwasher，washer， \\
dryer， \\
secury \\
remodeled systems \\
All＇s \\
Aocations／Prices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\footnotetext{
Ackernan Ave，4br 2ßBath apt Fumished， carpeted，waik 10 campus
\(5100-501\) jease \(448-7202\)
Univentity Ava．five bedroom House one block Iram Marshall Street furnished Laundry parking leaste \($ 1,300.00\) plus utities D．N．Dncker \(445-1229\)
1．2－3 Bedroom Apartmants，Beautiful，Spaclous， Sabe，Quiet，Close 476 －0295 4Bedrooms，Oaklinedst，18lock ESF，3Blocis： Lawt Mospitals，humished，palking，laundix， porches，Excolent concition，August， 475 －06s0 University Aven \(2-3\) Becircon turrishod Apermantis Sin
Univertity Aun Throe Bedroom，Fiat Gose Whak

}

\section*{1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS}

621 Euclid Ave
B71 Ackerman Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
1011 E．Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000－2001
Fully Furnished，Laundry Maintenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet andor Refinished Hartwood Fioors Remodeled Kitchens and Gaths

University Area Apts 1011 E．Adams St \＃30 479－5005
www．universityarea．com
Apartments clasa to campus clean 2－3－5 bedroons some with fireplace laundry pa
semifurnished reasonable price \(487-5761\) ．
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Apartments \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline ＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊ \\
\hline Studio，One and Tw Bedroom Apts．clos \\ \hline Parking，Lease， Heated \\
\hline 440－6200 \\
\hline 437－7577 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Large 3 bedroom． 2 tull bath．Walking distance
＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊＊
ONE，TWO，THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM
APTS．
Westcott Street area
Laundry，Parking，Lease
Avail June，July＋Aug
\(445-0540\)

Furnished 2－5Bedroom Houses／Apartments 2 Bedroom apt with 2 car gange． 1 Bedroom apt Bedroom api with 2 car garage 125 Kensington Ad．
cornor of Lancaster 5550
472 －2667．
2Bedroom Largeflat available June，July，August ath－st Farking dishwacher taundry NowCarpet SBno－humatura on busline Available mid August． 3 bedroom flat very near ESF on OadandSt furnished or unturnished ption．Livingroom with lireplace，diningrocore opicon．Lingyoom with ireplace，diningroom，new

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUOIO APTS．
1011 EAdams
509 University
Carpeted，Air Conditioned． Furnished，Secure，Lzundry，Parking，

University Arset Apts． wowninvoratyarea．com
Universily 283 Bectroom Townhouses 8 Flas Froplace，frished basement Call 419－0109．

Rooms，Eff．APT；HoOL YEAR 2000－200
Rooms．Eff．APTs Homes 8 Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your buck：
MOST INCLUDING
－Security Systern with 1－Dead Bolt Locks Pricas Reanging from \＄225－\＄375／ －Remodeled Fult Custom Kitcher／Baths Kitchenss include：Goumnet Self－deaning ovens，
Garbage Disposals．Microwaves，Distwashers －Wall to Wall Carpets 8．Padding（like home） －On－street Parking
－Snow 8 Lawn Maintenance
Super Insulated（means low utilities）
Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Cod Such as＊Comstock，Ostrom．Harrison，Madison． Weatroett，Clarendon．Ackorman．Livingstorn． Lancaster

Summer Special．Newty remodeled 4 bedroom flat One block from campus．All utillies included \($ 225.00\) per person． 2 hul bathroorns，washer، difyer．parking．porch．
Available \(5 / 21-8.17\) 472－8619

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campun， utitities induded，Oax floors，firtre placa，，turnishad， parking，very clear，laundry Catl Gordon \(476-2982\) ．

One Bedroom Apartments，
some with 9 month leases． taundry，quiet builcting，close to campus， \(476-2982\)

Ackerman Ave，nice 3bedroom Hal．lu：nished stove．refrig，laundery，fireplace，gatage．
Avail June ist \(446-4229\)
Four Bedroom on Ackerman，Furnished．Parking， Dishwasher，Two Porches，Oll
Street Laundry，Carpet，Hard
Call Gorcon 476－2982
\(1,2,3,4+5\) bedroom apartments．Fumished．al utilities included，laundry，parking．One slock from campus near aw se
Large 2 bedreom． 2 full bath．Walking distance
S．U．oft slreet parking．Laundr．Call \(422-7305\) ．
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O．P．R． \\
Developers \\
\(1,2,3-4\) \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers， \\
microwaves， \\
disposal． \\
securits sysems \\
Ail Liocations i \\
Prices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1 Bedroom Fumished＇Un！urnished．Walking distance S．U．Laundry available．Of Street Parking．Call 422.7305 Parking．Vaif 422 －730：
204 Ostrom Elficiency One and 2Bedroom Socure eldg Laundry Parking Very Clean One and Two Bedroom Fumished Apartments．Corner of Walnut and Harrison Avenues．Leases Cormmence June 2500 Lasi Month and Socurity No Pets Allowed． tes Prefarred Call 422.775

Looking ler a place to
Your move off campus！
Free monn Free roommate sublat listings

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS} APARTMENTS

\section*{329 Comstock Ave．}

2 blocks from campus．
Modern 3 bedroom apartments．
Wall to wall carpet．
Large bedrooms．
Laundry．Parking．Alarms．
Lowest rents for modern，
new construction．
University Area Apts
479－5005

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422－0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST APARTMON OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES．

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILL．COM

\title{
SU tennis team looks to restart win streak
}

Staff Reports
The Syracuse tennis team looks to get back on the winning track this weekend as it travels Maryland and Georgetown
The Orangewornen.
verall, come off their first loss in six matches. Last weekend they fell to Dartmouth 5-4.

Maryland is ranked No. 52 in the nation despite losing its last four matches. The match against SU on Saturday win be weeks and their first home match in over a month.
"This match will probably come down to a few doubles matches," head coach Mac Gifford said: "I think we might have to win the mateh before doubles, but then again, this team (Syracuse)

A key match for the Or-angewomen includes senior cocaptain Shareen Lai, who has won four straight singles matches and owns an 8-0 record at the No. 1 spot.

She will face either freshman Jessica Johnson, who leads Maryland with a 5-2 record, or vic, also \(5-2\) this Season.

On Sunday, Syracuse faces Big East enemy Georgetown (33 overall), which also comes off a loss. Both the Orangewomen and Foyas have a \(1-0\) record in the conference.

Other Orangewomen look to continue streaks this weekend. Junior Zuzanna Borucka won her 80 th career match against Dartmouth and continued a three-match winning streak. Sophomore Katie Thompson has won five straight singlesmatches and needs the Go-win plateau for reach Despite coming off a diffcult loss last weekend, the Orangewomen hope their road trip breeds success and starts another winning streak.

"In the loss to Dartmouth, we didn't play that bad, \({ }^{\text {Lai }}\) said. "There were a few things we had to work on this week, coming weekend \(n\),

Elite tracksters compete
A select group of Syracuse tracksters will compre this weekend at the ECAC/IC4A Championships in Boston.

Seven women, including the distance medley relay team will compete at the ECAC event. The team finished sixth overall last season, led by senior overall last season, led by senior Cheree Hicks' victory in the shot put.

In addition to Hicks, seniors Veronica Dyer, Deniece

Bell, Michelle LaPointe and Sarah Schmidt will compete at the mect along with freshmen Alicia Crowd and Jennifer Moreat.

Throughout the season Dyer posted high enough mark. in five different events to quali fy for the championships, incuring the 60 meter hurdies in Bir chast dimpionships th Big East Championships.
the 800 -meter and 400 race in the 800 meter and \(400-\mathrm{me}\) Sch midt and Moreau will com pete in the distance events

A mix of youth and experince will represent the Orange at the IC4As, with six members of the men's track team making the trip to Beantown as well.

The qualifiers include a trio of freshmen to go with three ex perienced veterans. Junio Alex Brown, senior Roger Don Adrian Woodley strive for titles at the meet.

Woodley will competein保 the Goter hurdles and the 200-meter dasi alter winning the Big East Championship in both events at the Carrier Dome two weekends ago.

In addition, freshmen Steve Bedard, Joel Carusone and Richard Polidore will compete this weekend in the first piate careers.

Both Bedard and Brown throw the shot put, and Polidore joins Woodley in the 200 meter. Donaghy will run the 5,000-meter, while Carusone ries to continue his sensational freshman season in the pole vault competition.

Siaff reports compiled by Staff Writers Jason Sacks and Josh Lukin.

\section*{UVA}
continued from page 16 great deal of pressure.

Mulligan is used to it. Va dropped an eight-spot on him in the first half of the title game, riding its kahalftime lead.

The now-junior played stellar between the pipes in the sceund half and anid tho game gives him a chance to redeem a poor first half. "I've got a lot to prove," of shots in close early on, and that pulled our defense off our game and me off of my game.
walked away with a good feeling because I played so well in the second half. G0-minute effort and bet the job done this time." get the Powell, too, looks for reBeage against the Cavaliers. percent, he faced UVa AlIAmerican Ryan Curtis, scorng two goals and two assists in the two-goal loss.

Still, Powell the perfectionist thinks he can improve upon the performance.

Banks - a dynamic passer with the ability to thread er with the ability to thread the needle to Powell - will the needle to Powell will start at attack. Midfielder Matt Caione assisted on 22 goals last season.
Powell said the plethora of passers will aid his difficult battle against Curtis.
"He's a great player, and it's going to be a great game," Powell said. "It's going to be evenly matched, but I'm confident and convinced that 1 'm going to go down there and do what I need to do to help this team get a win.

Beating UVa at Klockner is no easy task. liers ran the table at home their tilts.

Their
thoupheir main advantage, which they lie in the sod on whacticed all winter in the Cracticed all winter in the Field, both turf surfaces.

Still, Starsia is leery about the scheduling of the game. Facing a titie contender like Syracuse in the first game is a dangerous proposition, he said.
"I've gone back and forth about it," he said. "It's a weekend that works for both of us, and we really want to play the game. It me game. It January and February more exciting, but I wake up every morning with a knot in my stomach about playing Syracuse

TheOrangemen suiter from different pains than Starsia they're aching to play, play now and play agai > Cavallers. Desko said he tries to take the tries to take the players. focus players focus away from the reonto the X's and O's portion of the same. narker diagrams say only so much

The Orangemen are jonesing for a stiff check, a hard shot and a chance to show UVa - and the nation team in the land.

\section*{En Syracuse Orangemen} Syracuse plays Virginla at 2 D.m. on Saturday ar Klockner Stadium nclependent
-0, No. 2 in the nation and last eason's national runner-up
John Desko (2nd year, 12-5)
A Ryan Powell ( \(39 \mathrm{~g}, 46\) a), D Miarshah Abrams ( \(64 \mathrm{gb}, 11 \mathrm{pim}\) ). G Fob Mulligan ( 9.90 gaa, .571 save pct.)
Nine months later, it's go time. The Orangemen took to rebound and look for revenge at Virginia. A reinvigorated SU team comes replete with a frightening attack, deep midfield, fear-inducing defense and stalwart of a goatie in Mulligar. Putting all the potential into on-field success is the chal lenge Syracuse faces. The detenses iast year and being zone detenses last year and, being the Starsia could resort to one.

They want to avenge the champianship loss and give ll-time docket \({ }^{4}\) It did leave in our mouth for sour tast

ACC
\(0-0\), No. 1 in the nation and last sea son's national ehampion.
Dom Starsia (8th year, 79-27)
A Conor Gill (22 g. 30 a), M Jay Jalbert ( 31 g .10 a ), DRyan Curtis ( \(42 \mathrm{gb}, 12.5 \mathrm{pim}\) )

Chartotesville is the place to be this weekend for any hard-core lax junkie. The talented - not to mention canfident - Virginia Cavatiers defend their pride and national title against a hungry Syracuse squad in the chamm pionship game, the team's big guns negated each other, but one man was forgotten. UVa's Gilt the only freshman scored a roal and tallied trree assists in the final Oon't forger about Jalbert and Drew Mcknight, two more standout scorers.
mer," Mulligansaid. "But you can't do over the national championship game. It's a It's going to show us how good we are."

\section*{}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
TOAD HALL \\
1/2 block from campus. \\
Modern 2 bedroom apartments. \\
Wall to wall carpet. \\
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utiifties. 302 Marshall St . (aceross from Haven).
Univenty Aran wwurrivaritityete com 479-5005
\end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l}
Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments. \\
double beds dishwashers washer/dryer carpeted off street parking \\
CALLTODAY
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{}{} & \multirow[t]{2}{}{\begin{tabular}{l}
4Bedromans fumished hat mitit an wilibes induthon Ona bock trem canous naan Lriwsuring Avilatio \\
 \\
1,2.3,4 8.5 8drrm Apartments, Housest Sudios. Clean, Spacious, Superior Concition, some la parking 474-6791
\end{tabular}} & \begin{tabular}{l}
PETER 427-0052 \\
Houses
\end{tabular} \\
\hline & & Largo Singie Farnily turnished house. Farking. Girepiace, Irea taundry, oishwashey, rivalure tenart \(682 \cdot 3304\) \\
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{2 Bedroom Apts 202,204 Ostrom, 105 Eucic Terrics Larpe Rocms Handwood Floors Aval hume or Aug 448-518S} & & Chamming English Tuidor House an Constoct Bedrooms, Fropleas, across fom \\
\hline & & Lerge 5 Bedroom Houss, tuge on Surst Parking Lot, 1 block to campus 721 Ostrom Anes. 46 -3693 \\
\hline & & Bin thouse for rent. 1313 Comstoct Nerety ronorated. Pormad tor a group of mandind sutudertis Call 424-7867, 682-3304 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Hous, For Rent 2 minutes from Main Campu
Seven
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline GREAT HOUSES, GAEAT LOCATION \({ }^{500}\) GLOCK OSTROMS 5 BERROOMS OFF STREE PARKINGG FREPLLCE LALINDHT DESHWASHER HARDWOOD CALL ERAD 424-0218/423-9142 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 EEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL_COM
Unversity nicely turnished 5 bedroom sundy houso

Clarmicion 5 s. 4 bedrocont tree washor, dyyot, ot
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
6 GEDROOM HOUSE \\
Spacious six bedroon, Furrished House, w/dishwashet end six larpe bedrooms and TWO hill bathroorns OH streat parking with garage, Washer and dryet in buiding. CALL 430-516t after 1:00pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Rooms}

\section*{Aoom in Privale Horne, furrishatd whictichen use
}

\section*{Summer}

\section*{ \\ SERVICES}

\section*{\(\frac{\text { Travel }}{\text { Sprawg }}\) \\ } MISC.

\title{
Orangemen seek revenge
}

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN}

Asst. Sports Editor
The stakes are high, the odds even and the implications heavy.

It's a lacrosse game pitting Virginia against Syracuse this Saturday at Klockner Field in Charlottesville, Va

It's a rematch of last season's national championship game the Cavaliers won 1210 and a reset of a rivalry currently tied at six.
, said \(S U\) players, is the reason they chose to come to Syracuse

It's two powerhouse teams going ggainst each other," SU captain Tim Byrnes said. You can't paint a better picture than this"

Said goalic Rob Mulligan: What can you say? It's going to be the matchup of the year.
Echipaing the previcus SU-YVa shew. downs will be a difficult task. The lore of the game - dating back to 1939 - is deeprooted

After their second face-off in 1950, the squads waited 36 years to take the pitch again. In the 1986 NCAA semifinals, the Cavaliers defeated the Orangemen.

The score: 12-10
Fourteen years later, and a year after the NCAA title game ended with the same lights burning on the scoreboard, both teams boast loaded squads.
"These two teams are remarkably similar," Virginia coach Dom Starsia said. "We have great scoring on attack and balance in the midfield. We're both more certain of ourselves (than last season) on the defensive end

Both also miss an integral scorer from last season. UVa's Tucker Radebaugh, now an assistant for the Cavs, graduated, as did N s leading goal-scorer Matt Cutia.

No matter for either tean. While Syracuse All-American Ryan Powell will man the attack with sophomores Liam Banks, Josh Coffman and Mike Springer, the Cava iers counter with a combo just as lethal Midfielder Jay Jalbert, a 31-goal scorer last season, returns with sophomore Conor the best freshman in the country last season. Factor in Drew Mcknight and his 47 points, and the \(S U\) close defense will face a

See UVA page 15

\section*{Syracuse meets Hoyas in round one}

BY GREG BISHOP
Staff Writer
For the Syracuse women's basketball team, the road to continuing what has become a disappointing campaign cannot get much longer.

After wrapping up the regular season at 10-17 (3-13 Big East), the Orangewomen and their thin bench travel to Storrs, Conn., this weekend to take part in the Big East Tournament.

Looking back, Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman said her team can play two very different extremes.

Sometimes, like in a near-defeat of No. 8 Rutgers, Syracuse looks like a conference contender. Other times, like during a downright embarrassing loss to West Virginia, SU looks more like a Big East pretender.

Against some teams we played very well," Freeman said. "Against some teams we played very poorly. Looking back at the number of players I had on my bench.
we did what we could with what we had." Syracuse enters a conference tournament that Rutgers head coach C. Vivian Stringer called a preview of the Final Four The conference is home to three top 10 and four Top 25 squads, all of whom have beaten the Orangewomen this season.

As the No. 12 seed, SU will play No. 5
Georgetown (15-11, 8-7) in a first-round winner-moves-on loser-goes-home bout winner-moves-on loser-goes-h

Fortunately for the Orangewomen, the last win the squad picked up was a 7562 victory against the Hoyas on Feb. 12 at Manley Field House.

A slumping Jaime James experienced a resurgence during the contest, scoring 20 points and hitting four 3-pointers. Coupled with 19 points from Beth Record, the Orangewomen cruised to victory.

Forward Leigh Aziz contributed an 11-point, 11-rebound performance in the win.

Katie Smarcka-Duffy, the leader of the Hoyas, paced her squad with 23 points and five rebounds in the loss, but Georgetown's play left much to be desired, head coach Patrick Knapp said.
"We did not defend well. We did not rebound well. We did not shoot the ball well either," he said. "There are other places that we can score. We can play a much-improved game. But SU played well you have to give them credit."

Since the win against the Hoyas, Syracuse has been sliding hard like Pete Pose toward the Big East basement.

A close loss to Rutgers, which scored the final 16 points in a \(56-51\) win at Manley, followed by a loss at UConn were expected.

The slide continued, however, as Syracuse dropped back-to-back games against Seton Hall and then two more against Miami and No. 19 Boston College, raising the losing streak to six.

The weapons remain for Syracuse, though, especially on the outside, Knapp said.
to solvage theirseason with s deep rime ir w savage theindeason win a doep rim in the lasgre trumbment.
aime James a. Fitho

Supporters of Texas Gov. George W. Bush surround the Republican presidential hopeful at a rally Fiday afternoon at Hancock Intemational Aiport in Mattydale. Those attending the rally included, from left to right, New York state Gov. Georgs E. Pataki, Bush's wife Laura, U.S. Rep. Jim Walsh, Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Berrardf and New York stats Lt Gov. Mary Donohue. Bush's chief Republican rival, Arizona Sen. John McCain, visited tho area a day later. McCain conducted one of his townhallmeetingstyle campaign events at Le Moyne College in DeWitt See News Extra, Page 3.
- Police Reports:

\section*{Students robbed at gunpoint}

BY RYAN DONOHUE
Staff Writer
Friday night partying ended for two Syracuse University seniors when they were robbed at gunpoint on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue.

The two seniors were walking at about 12:30 a.m. from one party on Ackerman Avenue to another on Lancaster Avenue when a man approached them and asked for money.
"He said he had a proposition for me," said kich Bianculli. The man asked for \($ 5\) then pulled what looked like an automa Bianculli said.
Bianculli said. I shitting my pants - I've never seen a gun before," Bianculli said. He lost \($ 15\) dollars in the robbery, and his friend lost \($ 20\). Neither were injured.

Too scared to go home and pass by Ackerman Avenue again, the two students went on to the Lancaster Avenue party. There they met Aurelio Guzmán, a junior with a See ROBBERY page 6

\section*{Tax evasion closes 44's}

BY EMILY KULKUS Managing Editor

Droves of thirsty students had one less happy hour option when they headed to Marshall Street on Friday afternoon.

New York State Department of Taxation officials seized and closed 44's Tavern, 113 Marshall St., at about 3 pording to sirns posted in, ac cording to signs po tavern's windows.
But the closing is only temporary, said Marc Albert, Fours'owner. Managing the bar from a distance while working at an additional job in New York City since Octaber, Albert said the bar will reopen on Tuesday, pending paperwork to be filed with the state today.
financity-fours is in the best financial shape it's been in in a long time, Albert said.

The New York State Department of Taxation could not be reached for comment.

The weekend's closing is because of poor management, Albert said. Although he noticed problems in the business See FOURS page 7

Police Reports:
Officers catch thief on video
Staff Reports
A Syracuse man stole \($ 250\) and a credit card early Thursdaymorning from the South Campus apartment of two Syracuse University sophomores, according to a police report.
of John Gent, a mutual friend of the two women who were

Greek Affairs

\section*{OGL examines alleged violations}

KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

The Syracuse University Office of Greek Life is investigating three greek houses following reports of conduct violations at two houses and an alleged hazing incident at the Results of a national inburgiarized, entered their Winding Ridge Road apartment with another woman, said the report. At the time, dents was sleoping and the other was out one of the resi er was ou dents said.

"Somebody who we both know was in our apartment," the student said. "He took the \section*{Students urge safe Spring Break}

BY SARAH OVASKA Staff Writer

As many Syracuse University students are making plans to be in the sun, four SU public relations seniors are promoting dents when they begin Spring vestigation into a reported Delta Delta Delta sorority conduct violation are expected this week, said Lisa Walsh, OGL assistant director. An investigation of another conduct violation at fraternity Zeta Beta Tau began Friday, she added. The investigation of an alSee GREEK page 6

Break.
The four seniors developed Party Smart Communications an organization promoting travel safety and the dangers of alcohol, drugs and unsafe sex - for a public relations class project that re-

See RAPE page 11
stuff and later 'fessed up to it.'
One roommatelater returned home to find \($ 250\) missng from her wallet that ina her bagin

The other roommate realized her credit card was missing when she received a call

See COPS page 9

\section*{Greek Affairs}

Author
encourages self-reliance
BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor
"Women should take charge of their own lives instead of waiting for someone else to give them direction," said author and psychologist Jane Adams Friday. Adams used fairy tales to criticize the role women take when running their own lives. tales we know have one thing in tales we know have one thing in during Syracuse University's 7 th Annual Women's Leadership Confercnce. "We get that messare really early on and we wait for a very long time. What do we wait for?
*Women wait for milestones
See CONFERENCE page 9

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compied from Los Angeles Times, wastingion Post news senice
}

\section*{tidbits}

Writers Guild honors film winners HOLLYWOOD
-American Beauty" and winners Sunday night at winners Sunday night at Guild of America Awards, while episodes of "The while episodes of "The Sopranos" and "Frasier" Sook home honors for \(T V\) took home hon

Alan Ball won for best screenplay writen directly for the screen for his bleak satire "American Beauty," at ceremonies scheduled to take pla at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles and Hotel in Los Angeles and the Plaza Hotel in New the Pla York.

Ball, a TV sitcom writer, won the Golden Globe for "American Beauty" and is nominat ed for \section*{Scaifit \\ California teads nation} in contributions

WASHINGTON, D.C.
- Fush with renewed economic confidence. increased wealth and a growing sense of political entitlement, individual Califomians pumped a record \($ 17.8\) milion into presidential campaign coffers last year, an analysis of Federal Election Commission date shows.

That sum, representing contributions of between \($ 200\) and \($ 1,000\) donated in just the first year of the 2000 the first year of the 2000 election cycle, more than doubled the total donations made by Califormians in previous election cycles and once again made the state the again made the state the nation's No. 1 source of campaign cash for presidential candidates. Puerto Rico honors U.S. citizenship SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico-Concerned that Puerto Rico is gaining ant-American image, leaders of the pro-state leacers of the pro-state nood New Propressive Party and tens of thousands of supporters celesands of supporters celebrated their U.S. citizert brated ship Sury
Sunday in a raly on ship Sunday in a raly
the grounds of the the grounds of th

Waving U.S. flags. participants danced to salsa and merengue music from enormous loudspeakers

Resident
Commissioner Carlos Romero Barcelo, Puerto Rico's nonvoting member of Congress, criticized islanders who wear their citizenship like a piece of clothing which they put on and which they put on and take off when it is convenient." and said that U.S. citizenship carries with it responsibilities as well as opporturities.

Puerto Rico Police Assistant Superintenclent Jesus Garcia estimated attendance at 90,000 .

\title{
Clinton attends march
}

SELMA, Ala. - Thirty-five years after America's Bloody Sunday, when police beat and at the Edmund Pettus Bridge, at the Edmund Pettus Bridge, modern-day civil rights figures maced the same path Sunday traced the same path Sunday with Bill Clinton - a white Southerner who credited the march with his rise to be president.
"I am a son of the South, the old segregated South. Those of you who marched on Bloody Sunday set me free too," Clinton said before walking across the bridge arm-in-arm with Coretta Scott King, widow of Rev. Martin Luther King, and Rep. John Lewis, D-Ga., who was badly injured in the 1965 march.

Lewis, who marches every year to mark the anniversary, invited Clinton to join him this year, Clinton's last in office.
Brutal images of the ugly violence on the bridge galvanized many far outside the South to the civil rights movement, and helped win sup
ing Rights Act

On March 7 that year, Alabama state troopers and sheriffs deputies used tear gas, nightsticks and whips to break up an attempt by blacks and white integrationists to march 50 miles to the state Capitol in Montgomery to protest the denial of voting rights to blacks in Selma.

Some marchers retaliated with bricks and bottles. Lewis, then chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee was among 17 blacks who were hospitalized.

Two weeks later, under the protection of a federal court, the long walk to the capital.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton attacks mayor's work}

NEW YORK CITY - First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton criticized Mayor Rudolph W. criticized Mayor Rudolph W.
Giuliani's leadership of this Giulianis leadership of this him for a refusal to reach out, to work with a commumity that is in pain over the fatal police shooting of West Afric

The Democratic Senate candidate also took aim at what is regarded as one of Republican Giulian's greatest political as sets in his likely race against her - New York's plunging Crime rate during his tenure. While acknowledging that "crime is down dramatically," Clinton said this trend has needlessly come at the cost of urising mistrust between communities and police."

Speaking from the pulpit of Manhattan's Riverside Church, on the outskirts of Hartern, the first lady made her most extensive remarks so far following the acquittal last month of four New York police officers, who fired 41 bullets at unarmed Diallo after mistakenly concluding that the wallet for was a gun.

\section*{\($ 3\) million buys time for customs}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Just days before a cash shortfall would have forced the fall would have forced the shutdown of a computer prototype system used to speed imports through three border stations, the Treasury Departstations, the Treasury Department has found \($ 3\) million to keep the sy

The prototype, which De troit automakers rely on to troit automakers rely on to quickly obtain parts and supquickiy obtain parts and supplies from Canadian suppliers, torns Service in 1998 as a first toms toward a large-scale computer modernization project. Customs suspended work last month on the overall project because of funding problems.

The computers at Cus torns collect about \($ 20\) billion annually in duties and fees on imports, making the agency the second largest source of in come for the government after the Internal Revenue Service. old, suffer from breakdowns and suffer irom breakdowns and have difficulty keeping pace with the nation's ever increasing volume of imports.

\section*{College decision stuns students}

GREENVILLE, S.C. Bob Jones University's decision to lift its half-century ban on interracial dating has stunned interracial dating has stunned students and the fundamentalist Christian school's supporters wholearned about it Friday night in a national television night in a national television interview Jones III.

Thousands of students and supporters gathered at the university's auditorium to watch versity's auditorium to watch
Jones's interview on CNN's Jones's interview
"Larry King Live."

Jones said the extraordinary national scrutiny the school has received since Texas Gov. George W. Bush made a campaign appearance led to the move.

Bush appeared at the school last month and later apologized for failing to criticize the school's anti-Catholic views and racial policies.

The Greenville school banned interracial dating in the 1950 s, when an Asian family threatened to sue after their son, a student, almostmarried a white girl, a school spokesman has said.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Israel approves Lebanon pullout}

JERUSALEM - Israel's cabinet decided unanimously on Sunday to pull Israeli troops out of Lebanon by July and Prime Minister Ehud Barak signalled he would bring them home even without a peace deal with Syria. Lebanese Prime Minister Se\(\lim\) al-Hoss responded swiftly to the cabinet move, saying he welcomed an Israeli pullout from occupied Lebanese territory "at any time," regardless of whether the decision was a manoeurre.

A spokesman for U.S. Secre-
y of State Madeleine Albright tary of State Madeleine Albright restart U.S.-hosted peace talks

\section*{suspended in January.}

At the end of a two-session debate, a cabinet statement said: The Israeli Defence Forces will deploy on the border with Lebanon by July 2000 and from there will ensure the safety of the northern ns and villages."
But the statement, read by Cabinet Secretary Yitzhak Herzog, suggested that, if no peace accord were reached, the government would meet again to discuss how, but not whether, to implement the pullout.

\section*{U.S troops join flood relief}

JOHANNESBURG
Nearly 600 U.S. troops arrived Sunday to begin delivering food, medical supplies and tents to seighboring Mozambique, where a month of flooding has left an estimated 1 million people fomeless.

After a week in which more than 12,000 people were plucked from roofs, trees and utility poles by South African defense forces Western countries Sunday joined the final phase of the operation Teams from Britain, Germany, Spain and France sent helicopters out on rescue missions, but with the floodwaters receding, relief workers said no more than 600 people remain marooned.

Concern has shifted to providing food, clean water and medical care to nearly 250,000 people squeezed into 64 refugee camps some no more than a stretch of dry land manned by a handful of medical workers.
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}
- The College of Visual and Performing Arts presents "The Role of the Designer in ManuChristine Woodard of Hardeia Manufacturing, at 11 a m. in L. C. Smith College of Engineu. ing.
226.

Al-Anon meets at noon in Schine, Room 233.

■ Sierra Club presents "The Last Great Wilderness" at 7:30 p.m. at the May Memorial Unitarian Universalist Society at 3800 E . Genesee St. The presentation will look at the e oil drilling on U.S. land.

\section*{TUESDAY}
- Marina Skrabalo, a public administration graduate student, and Ron Brown, a Globil Affairs Institute fellow, tell of peacebuilding work in Croatia at 1 p.m. in the Noble Room at Hendricks Chapel. They will speak as part of the "Future Professors and Professionals" segment of the Millennium Women series.
- Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a Bible Study from 7 to 9 p.m.
- Syracuse Stage presents The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St Tickets are \($ 15-$ 38\), discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more information.

The SU Outing Club
Suts from \(7: 30\) to 9 p.m. in the meets from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in th
Hall of Languages, Room 214 .

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents "The Winslow Boy" at \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and 7:30 p.m. at. Boy at 2 p.m. and 7:30 310 Genesee St., Utica.
- Denise Duhamel and Nick Carbo read poetry at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. The event is part of the Raymond Carver Reading Series.
- The School of Architecture presents "Modern Architecture and Places of the Everyday" at 6:30 p.m. in Slocum Hall, Room 108. Hilde Heynen from the Department of Architecture at Catholic University Belgium, will speak.
- Dr. Bernard Poiesz, from

\section*{Bush, McCain seek final Upstate support}

\section*{© Greek Affairs \\ BY KATE STEVENSON:
Asst. News Editor
Fraternities hit the pool and the stage last week as part of sorority Delta Gammans annual Anchor Splash competition.
The competition was a combination of threc events water contests, a skit competition and a} beautiful eyes contest.
Brothers competed
Brothers competed in water relay races, water polo and synchronized winming sunday at On pool in the Womens Building. an Tuesday, Delta Gamma hosted a non-alcoholic skit night at DarCrouse Ataurant and bar, broth ers performed lip syncs and acted.

It was basically which house is Mr. Anchor Splash," Delta Gamma sister Courtncy Tillson said. \({ }^{\text {man }}\) That was kind of the theme."

Another part of the Anchor Splash competition was a table Splash competition was a table set up in Schine Student Center set up in Schine Student Center photos taped on them for the Most photos taped on them for the Most

There are opportunities for everyone at SyracuseAuction.com Local businesses are encouraged to list itoms and become advortisers; and oven charitios registered user you sign-up Syracuseauetion.com your charity can recoive $1. Chari zuctions ean glen the arranged. Just emall jszowe@villageavetion.com.

The sito will be monltored for logality and honesty in trading and advortising. Studonts and townspoople are encouragod to log on and try out this freo auction Wob stito at SyracuseAuction.cam it's you don't olse does" want it, somobody else does"

Items ara arranged in simple catogorias for buyers and sellers to uso. In addition to now and used rontais, profossional sorvicos, roommatos, jobs, swaps, and other categories. Sollers can s a starting sale price and a deadline for bids. The highest bid at the end of the auction period gots the goods.

Ono of the nice things about a local auction is that you can pick up or dalivar your auctioned items locally No shipping or watting. You can seo tho buyor or sollor face to faco, paying locally and trading locally the possibilling a sublet or selifing a used sofa on a national auction sltel

Spending hours putting up postors and fliers on campus Ben Mandoll, Nicolo Wright, and Jim Szewc created a better way to buy and soll -- SyracusoAuction.com, a froo. local internet auction site. In fact, ata hundrods of these sitos in universityfowns, ViliageAuction.com
Hore's how it warks. Log on to SyracuseAuction.com and registor by typing in your namo, a nicknamo, home address, and micknamo, home address, agreement and be provided with a prassword. After that you can buy and soll as often as you tiko. absolutoly FREE.

\section*{Local}
vidual fraternity houses submitted photos of the brother they thought had the best eyes, said Tillson, a senior public relations major.

The event raised money for Service for Sight, a national organization that benefits the blind. Service for Sight is the national Delta Gamma philanthropy, which means that every Delta Gamma chapter raises money for that cause, Tillson said.

Lyra Manning, the director of the event, said she was not sure how much money the event raised because the tallies have yet to be tabulated.

Competitors had to pay an entrance fee for the event. In addition, money was collected from the Most Beautiful Eyes penny war, alumni donations and contribution from area merchants, Manning said.
"It varies every year," she said. "This year we had a lot more participation. It looks like we're going to raise a lot more moncy than in the past."

Manning attributed the increase in participation to not only the widespread publicity, but also the timing of the event If it occurred later in the year there would have been a possibility of scheduling conflicts with other houses' philanthropy events, she said.
"We were able to not have it conflict with anything else other houses were doing," she said.

Alpha Tau Omega won the overall competition, Manning said. Zeta Psi came in second place overall and Delta Kappa Epsilon and Pi Kappa Alpha tied for third, she added.
"It was close between all of the houses," Manning said. "They all participated and they all did a great job. It's always fun every year."

Another improvement this year was the strengthened support for participants by their brothers, she added.
"What was really exciting this year was that a lot of the fraternities showed up to cheer on their brothers," she said. "I spoke to some of the guys after and they said, 'Yeah we had a blast. It was so much fun."

\section*{IF YOURE NOT RECYCLING YOU'RE THROWING IT ALL AWAY.}

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

\title{
LEAVING FOR SPRING BREAK? Lazybones
}

Laundry and Dry Cleaning Service and get your gear spring cleaned before your big trip! We'll have your clothes looking their best and smelling great - and the neatly folded clothes (right down to your undies and socks) will be easy to packl Always with next day or even same day service!

Spring Cleaning Special: Just 99& per Pound - picked up and delivered AND Get \(10 \%\) off all dry cleaning!

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m.
until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

\title{
[editorial \\ \\ Gore's N.Y. neglect \\ \\ Gore's N.Y. neglect will harm campaign will harm campaign \\ Polls show that Vice President Al Gore will
}

]
The Daily Orange
March 6, 2000
score an easy victory in Tuesday's New York state Democratic primary.

But it's far too early for him to get cocky and lay off the gas pedal of his campaign bus. Gore remained notably absent from Upstate New York as Texas Gov. George Bush and Arizona Sen. John McCain made last minute campaign stops last weekend in Syracuse.

Republican candidate Alan Keyes and Democratic contender Bill Bradley have also made recent appearances.

Gore is the only major presidential candidate who hasn't visited the Salt City during the primary campaign sweeps.

It's a glaring slight. And itll hurt him. Perhaps not now, but a few months down the road, Gore will wish he'd put trips to Syracuse, Buffalo and Rochester on his agenda.

New York state is the second most populous state in the nation, and it boasts the second largest number of Super Tuesday delegates, behind only California. Trips to the Big Apple don't scratch the whole state off a candidate's agenda. Upstaters puil the lever, too.

And inty puil ii powerfully: The seat of the Empire State's agricultural, manufacturing and industrial prowess lies north of Westchester county.

If Gore thinks he has the Democratic nomination locked up, he may be right. But a seat in the Oval Office is far from a sure thing. He neglects the inevitably tough race in the general election against whomever garners the GOP nomination.

Both Bush and McCain could halt the vice president's plans if he fails to follow their lead on the campaign trail.

When election day comes this November, Gore's lip service won't be enough to match the face time the other candidates have offered Upstate New Yorkers.

As McCain quipped during his Saturday town meeting at LeMoyne College, he plans to "beat Gore like a drum" in the general election.

If Gore doesn't start marching in time, he or Bush just may.

[ dö]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Suverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Edito
Sports Eaitor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Directo
Photography Editor Art Director Art Director
Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Ectitor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Edito Design Editor Sapma Kollat Sapna Kollain Dave Curtis
Joy Davis Bis Ehninger Adeet Deshmulich Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Kate Steventon Kate Stevenson Kevin Tampone Magin Mekenna Connor Ennis Jeff Passaan
Erin Boylo Design Editor Desien Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Assi. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editar Asst. Copy Editar

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Americans misinterpret meaning of Chinese culture}

Sometimes I feel ashamed to be Chinese in America. We Chinese still give the public a mysterious image as those yellow people who speak "Charlie Chan English." Chinatowns in large cities are often depicted as centers of prostitution and street gangs.
iviy coliege roornmate says that peopie from Pittsburgh regard the word "Chinese" as a type of cuisine sweet and sour chicken, Tofu and LoMein. These stereotypes have long been ingrained in American culture, and we arestim foreign to most of country Unlike Unlike blacks who fought for their rights during the Civil Rights Movement, Chinese Americans are still silent in the political scene. We celebrate Black History Month here at Syracuse University, but there are few events that promote awareness HENRY Y. CHUNG few events that promote awarene Chinese New Year dinner at various dining halls).

Perhaps that is why the typical African-American icon is Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a notable civil rights activist, while the typical Chinese-American icon is Bruce Lee, a martial artist, or Martin Yan from "Yan Bruce Lee, a martial artist, or Martin Yan from "Yan Can Cook," a culinary expert on TV.

I must admit that the situation has improved slightly in recent years when Chinese actors and directors are entering hollywood and authors like Amy Tan have written novels to portray Chinese Americans in a different ght. Chinese Americans have also made con siderable contributions in the acadernic arena - our scholars have wonts in math enonomics and biochern istry. achievements in math, economics and blochemmerican governor, one Chinese-American Congressman And one Chinesc-American federal judge. That is by no means an optimistic progress, after we have left the railroads and worked on Wall Street for several decades.

Of course, there are many internal causes contribut ing to our lack of political involvement in the American political process. First, many Chinese Americans consider themselves "expatriates" and outsiders of American politics. As one of nay uncles says, "Politios in America is the white man's game." Most Chinese are susceptible to the Confucian teaching of passive involvement in political development. All we care about is malding money and dressed, we have little else to worry about.

Second, there aren't many ethnic organizations in America that are Chinese-based. Unlike blacks who join ethic groups like SNCC, NAACP and Black Panthers, Asians have no habit of forming interest groups that mobilize the mass and endorse party candidates. That is perhaps why mosi eiecied represencatives ofloin ignore he Asian voice.

Not long ago, Professor Tien Chang-Lin of the National Science Committee called on Chinese Americans to form groups to influence presidential election outcomes and to "become the master of our own college level That is why 1 intics, we must start at the college level. That is why applaud A.S.A.s ellor in combating the discriminatory treat

The underlying factor for a disunited ChineseAmerican involvement can be explained by the power tructure's demonization of China. In essence, this is the aws and literary tests to prevent establish Jim Crow ng in politics. Each year, Conent. blacks from participathistory of China's human rights record aduces a negative deny China's Most Favored Nation status.

According to CNN, FBI agents employed even nastier methods to interrogate Lee Wen-Ho, the ChineseAmerican scientist who allegedly disseminated classified nuclear information to China. CNN reported that the feds compelled Lee to admit to his crime by deliberately misleading the lie-detecting machines, threatening to harm his family and placing him in the electric chair. It ironic to see such flagrant infingements of human ights happening in a country that glonties its respect
I condemn such barbarism and a
I condemn such barbarism and atrocity, which is an insult to democracy and the principle of "all are equal before the law." It is time for Chnese Americans to ests. We must demand that the U.S. government stop ests. We must demand that the U.S. government stop also encourage our children to study history, politics and law to make them realize that they are American citizens who must be free from racial discrimination.

A starting point is to clean up Chinatowns and ensure that people do not only associate Chinese as merely ethnic cuisine. Only Chinese Americans with dignity can contribute to justice and social progress in the United States.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year student in the College of Lau His column appears in The Daily Orange on Mondays E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Generation warrants labels of apathy, vanity}

To the Editor:
If there is one thing that Syracuse University has too many of, it's students who don't want to know and don't care. Our generation is looked down upon by many older generations.
They claim we are apathetic, and they have good reason to do so Our generation is probably the most vain, lazy and selfish when it welfare of our future.

We are too preoccupied with looking good, being popular, having the most expensive jeans and impressing others. We are commercialized victims. We are prey to governments and corporations who rely on us to act exactly the way rely on us to act exactly the way they want us to: vain and apathetthey
. They assume our disinterest in political, economic, social, environ mental and rights issues. Meanand corporations that assume our and corporations that assume our ments and corporations that are the largest violators of our rights.

The "fuck-the-world-I-only-care-about-myself" attitude is played out, and because of it, our generation has fallen victim to such greed. It is not good enough to simply acknowledge an issue, which many people are ignorant of in the first place! We must do something about it in order to bring about change.

I praise and thank those of you who truly do your part. To those of you who feel you can't be bothered, i urge you to reconsider your apaworld and become more active. The future is ours! Take action now!

Joshura Katcher
SARO President
Class of 2003

\section*{GREEK}
continued from page 1
leged hazing incident Feb. 27 at sorority Alpha Omicron Pi is nearing its end, Walsh said.

A OPi's national office is expected to submit their re port today. Walsh said. A decision about the status of \(A\) O Pi on campus will be made sometime during or after Spring Break, she said
"Nothing has been decided yet," Walsh said.

Representatives from the national and international A Pi offices visited the SU chapter this weekend to discuss investigation, Walsh said.

SUand national A O Pi representatives could not be reached for comment

The AOPinational office's investigation must be completed before OGL can finish their own investigation, Walsh said.
"We can't finish until we have all the pieces," she said. "One of those pieces is the national investigation.

The national office is supporting the chapter through the investigation, though they do not support their alleged act of hazing, Walsh said.

Six new members, or pledges, of A O Pi were found intoxicated at. Flint Residence Hall on Feb. 27. Two of the girls were intoxicated to the point where they had to be transported to Crouse Hospital, 736 Irving Ave. They spent the night there for observation.

The sorority's new member program is suspended until further notice.
Every investigation is taken seriously and performed thoroughly, Walsh said

There is no investigation of any university-recognized traternity in connection with the alleged hazing, she added.

Oricials are still trying to determine the exaci circumsaid, and may question members of an unrecognized fraternity.

If an unrecognized fraternity is revealed to have participated in the alleged hazing, the individuals - not the whole fraternity - will be prosecuted, since the fraternity is not a part of the university, Walsh said.
"The rumor mill is working very hard," she added.

The sorority had scheduled a mother-daughter dance for this past weekend, Walsh said. The event was cancelled by the national office in an effort better focus attention uThey also wanted
"They also wanted to wait and have it at a time when pledges could be present, n't be able to"

The TriDelt investigation is in response to a Feb. 23 inciis in response to a Feb. \({ }^{\text {dent of a student conduct vio- }}\) lation involving alcohol, Walsh said.
"We're still looking into the said.

National TriDelt represento discuss the circumstances of he investigation, she added. Representatives from the TriDelt national office and the SU chapter could TriDelt at SU has not been cited in recent years, Waish said. Its new member program is currently suspended because of the Feb. 23 incident, she added.

Investigators still have some additional interviews to conclude, she said. The national TriDelt office will most likey submit their report on the incident Wednesday, she said. The investigation into ZBT will run later, Walsh said.
"It will definitely take into this week," she said. "It could go beyond Spring Break, but hopefully not.

The fraternity is being investigated in response to a report that alcohol was served at an unregistered social event March 1 , she said. Underage people are suspected ho have been prese

All SU fraternities and sororities are required to regoraritis are required to res istern with Council or the Panhellenic Council prior to hosting social events. The inve tiday afternoon, Walsh said As with A O Pi and TriDelt, As with A O Pi and TriDelt, ZBT is suspended until the investigation is complete, she said.
cived a citation Walsh added.

ROBBERY
continued from page 1
similar story to tell
Guzman told them how a man with a "proposition" had approached him at about 10:30, ask ing for \($ 5\). The man fit Bianculli's description: black, late \(20 \mathrm{~s}, 5\) feet 8 inches and about 240 pounds. The location was also the same - outside 875 Ackerman Ave.

The man put his arm around Guzman and said how broke he was.
"I didn't even realize I was getting mugged, Guzman said "He was really polite about it."

But when Guzmán hesitated to give the man the money, he said, the man pulled something out of his pocket. Guzman was unsure if it was a gun. Though Guzman had two more dollars in his wallet, the man took only the five he had asked for

After filing a police report, Biancuili said he accompanied the Syracuse police to 875 Ackerman Ave. as they cleared out the house's residents in search of the robber.

One resident of 875 who would not give his name said no one in the give his name said no The police report listed no suspects in the case.

Bianculli said he wants to know where the police and Public Safety neirhborhood patrols were when he was robbed

These patrols combine campus and city police for late night prow and through student neighborhoods, keeping watch for loud parties and parking violations.

While the patrol has been tevgh an moice and alcoho! in-fractions-it netted 74 violations during its first two weekends Bianculli said he wondered if serious crime has also been target ed.

The 12:30 a.m. robbery of curred during prime time patrol hours.
"I think they're more party patrols," Bianculli said. "They seem to try to bust parties in stead of watching out for suspicious characters.

But SU has seen its share of violent crime since the patrols began in August.

In November, three students were robbed at gunpoint in their South Campus home. Armed with a handgun, robbers took laptop, cash and credit cards.
In October, four stude

In October, four students were beaten and robbed on Euclid wie and Redneld Place.
The university drops all this money on the pal semior said. And it's no working."

Matus, who lives at 823 Ack erman Ave., remembered the re cent time when his downstair neighbor's car was broken into.

Nine cars have been broken into around the university this semester, according to police reports.
Police Spokesman David
kett defended the patrols.
"You can't always be in the right place at the right timen he said, "It goes back to the old say ing - you would have to have a policeman on every corner and then you wouldn't stop every thing from happening."

The increased visibility of the officers should deter crime Sackett said.

Students who live on Acker man expressed shock that th srmer
"That's scary," senior Amy Harrington said. "We walk up and

\section*{Spring Ereali Misions}

\section*{FOURS}
continued from page 1
two weeks ago, Albert said he thought those whom he left in harge while he was away would take care of the tax sit uation.

Albert said he has since eturned to the Syracuse area to amend the tax problem.
"I've never trusted the bar o anyone else," he said ul made a mistake by putting someone else in charge.
"I can't have a life outside Forty-fours I guess."

Changes in management ave already been made, Albert said.

The bar's locked doors is nly a minor setback, he said, noting that the bar did not ose much money during the hree days it was out of opera-

Someone placed a "Rest in peace poster on the door in honor of the bar, called by many the "Syracuse Tradition." But Albert is optimistic about the bar's re-opening. The bar will be moving to a larger, expanded location by all, he said. The new location will be on Marshall Street and will include a kitchen, Albert said.

Friday's closing was a surprise to everyone associated with the bar, said Corey Banning, a Fours bartender.
"None of us had any clue what was going on," said Banning, a Syracuse University junior economics major. This two years. two years.
oothlything was running smoothly and then this happened."

The closing was also a surprise to sophomore and Fours regular, Erika Johnson, who headed tothe bar on Friday friends, she said. Johnson said Friday afternoons at Fours are always "ridiculously" crowded.
-We didn't know what it was about but we knew it was money related," Johnson said. "So everybody just headed to Lucy's (Retired Surfer's Bar)"'

But Chris Raslan, manager of Maggie's Tavern, 720 University Ave., said he saw no change in his business this weekend from Fours being closed.
"I heard what happened," Raslan said of Fours. "But my business doesn't increase or decrease because of them being closed.
"But that's not healthy business "he said of the tax evasion. "It's not proper. It's not right."

The Peace Corps has immediate openings for volunteers in Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan, and Kyrgyzstan.

Call your recruiter now. Interview

\section*{www.peacecorps.gov (800) 424-8580}

Peace Corps.
The toughest job you'll ever love.

\title{
Live and work in countries that have been around a thousand years, but few Americans have ever seen.
}

\section*{and apply by March 8 and you can} be in Central Asia by May.

\section*{Classified Advertising}

\section*{The cueadiline for ciassified advertisements is 2.0 .mat} tuo f usiness days prior to the issue in which the ad Stopappear Please pay in cash, checks or credity

-
\(\because\)

Enter the Shopnow.com Hoops Hoopla Basketball Toumey.
Head to www shopnow,com/hoops. Then pick the winning teams before tipoff on March 16, 2000 and \(90 \mathrm{u}^{2}\) could find yourself staring at a brand new Fujitsu PlasmaVision 42" flat screen. So what are you waiting". for? After all. you. like Xena, have many skilis. Come find out if picking the winning team is one of them.,

\section*{MCCAIN}
continued from page 3
"I actually like them better unknown, they re more real people, rather than fany names, he said.
Several Empire State pollshave McCain deadlocked with GOPrival and Texas Gov. George W. Bush. The two have jostled through television advertisements and verbal attacks. McCain kept the pressure on Bush Saturday, bashing him for alin negative television ads.

\section*{Looking to November}

Though the Bush-McCain battle is yet to be decided, dent about his chances in the general election.
like a could beat (Al) Gore mocratic hopeful Vice President Al Gore.

To criticize the Democratic party, McCain introduced his wife Cindy.
de her vow to never, ever, ever, ever, ever run for Senate, said McCain, in reaction to First Lady or the New York state seat in the U.S. Senate. The statement elicited boisterous applause.
ght focused int media spotenin Cain because of his accessiin the New Hampshire primary, his picture graced the cover of Newsweek magazine and he has also been feaiuredin Rulifigg Siont. IIe has said that if he wins the presidency he will conduct

When Republican press
When Republican presidential candidate Alan Keyes Visited SU on Feb. 28, the former ambassador condemned McCain's past comwho says he is anti-abortion, who says he is anti-abortion, seemed to waiver when he said in January that he would allow his daughter to choose abortion. \({ }^{4}\) I would never support someone who isn't pro-ire, Keyes said during his SU apsider (McCain) conservative." McCain, as he has during several town hall meetings abortion, decided to clarify his stance, saying 90 percent of Americans are against par-tial-birth abortions.
"I would sign a ban on partial-birth abortions in a New York minute," he said. Secretary Gina DeRossi said that McCain's past comments on abortion were confusing.
"That comment about his daughter seemed out of character," she said. "I don't really know why he said that about his daughter.

DeRossi stood to the right of the stage, holding McCain's book, "Faith of Our Fathers," before the senator arrived. She hoped that McCain would give her an autograph. thumbsupand winked at

\section*{McCain attracts young Republicans}

\section*{BY EMILY KULKUS}

\section*{Fourteen-year-old} Christian Brett does not talk about sports with his friends at his eighth-grade about politics

Brett, with friends Greg Collier, also 14 and Joe Zurro, 13, headed to Le Moyne College in neck ties and Arizona Saturday to hear Arizona Senator and Republican presidential hopefore a crowd of more than fore a crow 850 people,

MoCain visited Central New York on Saturday, just three days before the New York state primary this Henninger Athletic Complex at the college attracted people of allages most weoring McCain 2000 stick ers in support of the candidate. selves Briet Collier and Zurro said the event only enhanced their new found enthusiasmabout politicis: Brett, whose father Tom is a McCain delegate Thia, is the first time, we, ve ever really been interested in poliWith at least three years, before thenthree ng bothomccainhoperato Wreserve theisenthuastic presidential heroes includingrabraham Rheodorefrooseveltrand Ronaldreggan for their ability to motivate America's Youth McCain vowed Saturday that if he is presi dent the young peopleof mamerica willhave no rea gon to pe cynical about US politics.

Young people todayare alienatedobythepolitical process, McCain \section*{me," said DeRossi, a senior} public relations major. "He's very sincere.

As a former prisoner of maproved treatment of military veterans.

It's a tragedy the way our government has treated its veterans, he sail not have a food stamp army \({ }^{\text {m }}\)

McCain added that work-ing-class families would bene fit if he is elected to serve in the White House, saying they should receive tax reductions, not the rich upper class. Trump needs a tax cut righ now," McCain said Supporters hail McCain for his dedication to cam paign finance reform and honesty.

Aniona sen. John Mcominalles hs Contraluew iof suppotors.
 Moyro college If DaMMt old, on Doug onthe side

26 duringthe 1998 gection
Would work torevere this
Besides a lack of faith in the USSpalitical Mystem; young people have an over govar

Whey say, Whys, Bhould rote? No one reflects my hopea, my dreams, yaspirations, he said quoting gbout youncer zenerations about the political procegs. McCain promptediaughter and applaus from the and

\section*{Williams, who distrib-} uted 2,000 flyers publicizing McCain's visit, said he was character
. He vowed to always tell the truth," he said. "That's important after the Clinton administration and just a whirlpool of lies."

\section*{Missing the Hill}

When McCain's press office released his weekly campaignschedule with Syracuse as a stopover, many thought the senator would visit SU ticular" "There's no reason in particular," New England Politi cal Director Michael Den nehy aaid of stopping at Le Moyne rather than SU. "Le Moyne had a long-standing invitation to McCain."
Dennehy is in charge of McCain's campaign in Cen Le Moyne College Repub lican President John Sickinger extended an invitation to McCain last November.
"I received a short e-mail saying we got your message, Sickinger said.

Sickinger, a senior, said that it was only Feb. 26 when McCain officials telephoned and told him they were inter ested in coming to the Jesuit university.

DeRossi said the reason McCain failed to appear at SU was the stronger campus support at Le Moyne.
publicans are really split on who to support," she said.
young people. Reward, but not making the existence of a reward the reason for the service."

Should he be elected. giving back to those who served the United States is served the United States is a cause McCain intends to focus on, he said. That mission includes creating benefits for those who have or are serving in the military and their families, he said, noting his own military tenure during the Vietnam War.

Andrew Smith, a 25-year-old U:S. Army lieutenant who came to hear MeCain speak just two days after returning from an eight-month tour in Bosnia, said hecould not agree more tle "Soldiers have very little money, said Smith weáring*a McCain 2000 T weáring*a McCain \(2000 \mathrm{~T}-\) shirt. Wo much is expected of us when we are deployed all over the world. He really understands that.
Maverick He goes on is a Maverick He goes on what he believes in:

Althóngh he emphaa sized theirychitical role in thepolitical Chepolitical process Mc二 Cain is not pandering to Yyinski, arunnsuile resis dentandifther of fourtitut *McCaniphutaritysadapn paopletox econizes whe

SU College Republican Chairman Joe Burns had been a vocal backer of Steve Forbes, who dropped out of the race before the Feb. New Hampshire primary can Vice Chairman Chris Ryan have since thrown their support to Bush.

DeRossi also thought Le Moyne's religious affiliation may have influenced Mc Cain's decision.
"Maybe because (Le Moyne is) a Catholic school and he's trying to get the Catholic vote, \({ }^{*}\) she gaid.

Whatever the reasoning may be, Sickinger was pleased with McCain's visit. going to win New York."

\section*{CONFERENCE}
continued from page 1
- marriage, children and more money," she said. "They do not often take charge and make things wait for these milestones to arrive on their own""Adams said to about 230 people in Goldstein Auditorium.
"Sleeping Beauties feel that their lives are only a frame for a more important life," she said.

That more important life can be the result of several things, such as a man or a greater philanthropic cause, she added.

Adams said she put off her education for marriage. Later in her life, after her divorce, she struggled to decide whether to go back and pursue the higher degree she had put on hold.
"I told my daughter, 'I'll be 60 by the time I get my Ph.D'," Adams said. "She said, You know, what mom? You'll be 60 anyway.'

Her daughter gave her the courage to go back to school, she said. Adams said she will turn 60 this year and receive a Ph.D.

There has been a shift in the average age of women when they tributed this to fear uBaby Boomers Baby Boomers wanted to do everything they could before they got married," Adams said. "Then 40 and can't find the perfect man.

The younger gencration sees this happening and becomes so frightened that they marry at a young age," she said. "Much of that fear stems from levels in a person's conscious and sub-conscious minds that govern what women say, think and do," Adams said.
Mindful of society
"There are three levels to the mind," she added.

WThe first, small mind, hous es a series of 'files' containing the stereotypes that dictate what women do in their lives," Adams said.

One of her own mind files is labeled, "Boys don't like girls who hit home runs."

She recounted a story of a schoolyard baseball game during which she hit a home run, thinking she would impress her "crush."

But after the game, he walked another girl gome from school instead of her. She ran school instead of her. Sheran what happened after her ballpark triumph.
"She looked at me and said, 'Boys don't like girls who hit home runs. Yourre going to have to learn to bunt,' " Adams said.

Adams said she previously kept quiet during conversations with men, even if she knew more than he did about the topic.

The next level in the mind is what Adams referred to as the "big mind." This level is not as personal as the small mind -it is controlled more by culture and environmental conditions rather than past experiences, she said.

A major influence of the big mind is gender," she added. "Women in particular mold their actions according to what is decmed attractive or acceptable societal standards, she said.

The final level is the greater mind." "This level is the connecton with whatever we recognize ligion birth and creative pur suits,", birth and creative pur .

Adams encouraged the audience to take control of their own mind," to not be swayed by what society thinks is proper. "The end result may not be what was once envisioned, but it was arrived at without outside pressure," Adams said.
"At least you can say, 'I made these choices willingly and I didn't wait for anyone to give me a

Sarah Korf, SU Panhellenic Council president, said Adarns' speech emphasized the message of the leadership conference.

Whether you agreed or dis agreed with what she said, she made you think, Korf said. "I liked the stories she told and the examples she gave really kept
The SU Oftice of
The SU Office of Greck Life sponsored the conference, hosting several workshops dealing with powerment and diversityon campus, said Lisa Walsh OGL assic. tant director.

Walsh said Adams was chosen as the keynote speaker because of her relevance to the is. sues discussed at the conference.

We were looking for someone, obviousiy a woman, who embodies leadership," she said.
by the Department of Design and Construction, the report said.

During the move, Facility Coordinator Patricia Swaites, noticed the equipment was missing, the report said.

While police were able to recover the missing keyboard and mouse, the hard drive and monitor are still missing. the report said.
"It's still missing at this point." Swaites said, adding affect the school the have affectends of computers in this building."

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes
straightened out and the right person was blamed, the stuThe case was closed with Gent's arrest, the report said.
n The Syracuse Police Department arrested Anthony Lacini, a Syracuse University student, Friday afterioon on charges of criminal possession of a contained substance, unlawful possession of marijuana and assault, according to a poice report.

Police went to Lacini's apartment; 1013 Harrison St., to arrest him on assault harges, the report said.
himself and police hand-cuffed him, the report said.

When searching the apartment, police found a bag of coment, police found a bag of cocaine and a green smoking caine and agreen smoking pipe with marijuana

Lacini was unable to be reached for comment.

The case was closed with

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com his arrest, the report said.

\(n\) An unidentified person stole a Dell computer ThursHall, according to a police report. The computer was being moved, along with other equipment, from Hinds Hall to Link Hall, in a procedure organized tuition financing.

\section*{}

\title{
TIAA-CREF's tax-deferred solutions can help you reach your retirement goals faster.
}

When you're investing for retirement the adage -never put of until tomorrow what you can do today* doesnit apply so taxes.

That's because investments that arerit eroded by taxes con add up to significantly more money for you-money you can use to supplement your pension and Social security.

Let our consultans show you an the deferral, or call us for a free tax-sinings cakculator.

Supplemenrat Metirement Annuities (SRAs), RAAs and other rax-saving solutions-akong with Tha-CREFs low expenses and solid hrvestrnent performance-can help you hivest eax smart todidy so that you can reach your retirement gosis faster in the years to come.
tax deffiral makes a difference

Inthis hypothetiral example, settion aside 5100 a monditit

L1AA
Ensuring the future
for those who shape it.

\section*{BY JOY DAVIA}

\section*{Special Projects Editor}

Gov. George W. Bush's presidential candidacy will atRepublican party, predicted former presidential contender Elizabeth Dole Friday night. sweep Bush into the White House," said Dole at a rally in the ExecAir hangar at Hancock International Airport.

Emphasizing Bush's record as a reformer who "works both sides of the aisle," Dole pointed to his ability to garner support from different groups. In the 1998 Texas gubernatorial election, two-thirds of women, one-half of Hispanics and about half of Hispanics and about one-third of blacks voted for one-third of blacks voted for Bush, she said.
Hite will bring people to"He will bring gether." she added.
with 53 percen

With 53 percent of the electorate being women, and swing voters traditionally being older women and middle class mothers, women will play a larger role than normal in the ing primaries, Dole said.

Dole, who is a potential vice presidential candidate along with Now York state Gov.
George E. Pataki, said her support of Bush stems from his abilty to lead and his accomplish ments as governor of the second largest state in the country.
"He has executive experience and that is very important States, " shes said.
New York state Lt. Gov. port for the the Republican presport fortial contender, adding that it is the Republicans, not the Democrats, who believe in compassion and in the power of the individual.
"For too long we have heard the other party claim to be compassionate," she said. "We know it is not compassionate to raise taxes on hard working families to build the government.*

Bush spokesman Ari Fleischer said one of the reasons that women traditionally vote for Bush is because of his focus on health care, the plights of single mothers and his record on education - a centerpiece of his reign as Texas governor.
"Issues vital to women are the cornerstone of his presidency . \({ }^{\text {F }}\) Fleischer said.

Fleischer said Bush understands the hardships of a single mother making only \($ 22,000\) a year. Under Bush's tax cut plan, the deductions a parent can claim for each child would increase from \($ 500\) to \($ 1,000\).

Bush's dedication to modernizing and improving Medicare is another issue that appeals to women, Fleischer said. Middle-aged women are usually the ones worrying about health care for their parents, he added.

\section*{Women and abortion}

Pointing out that Bush's communication director is a the Texas governor's pro-life stance will not deter women from voting for him.
"Women fall squarely on both sides," he said.

Maxine Babcock, a Syracuse University alumnus and ron, said Bush's pro-life stance should not be an issue for vomen voters.

Babcock, who came to the rally with her three children, said the only time Bush might make a judgement based on his abortion stance would be in appointing Supreme Court Justices.

But Babcock added that it is often difficult to tell which way a judge would vote on an abortion-related issue.

Gina DeRossi, SU College Republicans secretary, said many women may be turned off by Bush's pro-life stance. Most women voters are not only pro-choice, but hold more liberal choice, but hold views, she added.
"I'm a woman and I'm conservative, but there aren't many of us," said DeRossi, a senior public relations major,

Bush's pro-life stance should not be the primary issue for voters, especially because he is not committed to overturning the 1973 Roev. Wade decision which legalized abortion

DeRossi said she would vote for Bush in the general presidential election. In the primaries, however, she is casting her vote for Arizona Sen. John Ker vote for Arizona Sen. John McCain. McCain

My problem is, is that like Bush a lot," she said. "But I think McCain would win in a general election:"

Brooke Schiferle, coordinator of SU for Bill Bradley, said because many women view abortion as an important issue al candidates. If women vote Republican they may lean toward McCain because he is more moderate then Bush, she added.

But if Dole was selected as Bush's running mate, the duo would attract those women votwould attract "People see Elizabeth Dole as a strong woman," said Schiferle, a senior political science major. "They see her as separate from her husband.
They see her as Elizabeth Dole They see her as Elizabeth

Although Dole did not have enough support to get elected to the presidency, DeRossi said she would make a good vice presi dential candidate.

She added that Doie may also be supporting Bush because she has intentions of becoming his running mate.

Dole's image as a strong and honest woman who spearheaded the American Red DeRossi said. When Bob Dole ran for president in 1996, many ran for president in 1996 , many people said that she should have been the candidate,
Schiferle added. nany people would vote for many people
Bush," she said.

\section*{can make different choices,"} Bush said. "Our vision says there are no second rate children in America and there are no second rate drearms."

While fixing education is one part of making the American dream more accessible to citizens, tax reform is also a necessary measure to attain this goal, Bush said.

Bush wants to put the majority of the federal budget surplus into tax cuts and use the remainder to save social security and decrease the national debt.
"They said it's risky when they heard my plan," he said, referring to Vice President Al Gore and Bush's chief rival, Arizona Sen. John McCain. "Leaving unspent surplus in W ington, that's what's risky."

Middle-class families can expect as high as a 50 percent tax cut if he's elected, Bush said. He also wants to reduce taxes on people with high incomes to encourage neurship, he added.
"I can't wait to take this message all around America," Bush said. "I can't wait to remind the working people that mind the working people that youre boing to have a iriend in the White House in George Bush."

With regard to national security, Bush said even though we live in a penceful world, the armed forces must be prepared has global enemies. The country must rebuild its military to ward off these foes, Bush said Besides expanding military preparedness, the morale of the armed forces, whicin is ain an all-time low, needs to be raised, Bush said. Morale is depressed because there are soldiers on food stamps and the mission of the military is unclear, he said. "It's im portant to have a commander-in-chief, in order to have high morale, who respects the men and women in uniform, and a commander-in-chief who in turn earns the respect of the men said.

Besides his policy agenda, Bush said he has greater responsibilities. Presidents must strive to lift the spirits and sights of America, he explained.
"My responsibility is to Usher in the Responsibility Era, a culture which will stand in stark contrast to the last in stark contrast to the last decades that said, 'If it feels good, do it and If youve got a problem, blame somebody else,

He add.
tant part of his plan for societal tant part of his plan for societal accountability is to be a leader "It's incredibly imp to have a president who will to have a president who wild fathers of the children on this stage," said Bush, who was flanked by Iocal toddlers, children and teenagers during the \section*{speech}

Another large part of this goal requires that citizens take action against local problems instead of turning to the federal guvernment, he addod.

Federal government can play a role in this by passing laws and allocating money, but it cannot take the necessary step of changing the spirit of the country, he said.
"The truth of the matter is that the federal government can hand out money, but it canBush said. "It can't put a sense Bush said. "It can't put of purpose in our lives."

The greatest force in this country is not the government but helpful citizens across the country, he added

Mobilizing humane Americans to help the less fortunate would be a major goal of his presidency, he said the well work hard to close

\section*{Bush boosters}

JI think he's great," said Joan Schmeling of Syracuse, regarding Bush. "If he gets in office, we won't have a third of the problems we have now.

Bush's call for governmental accountability also impressed Joan's husband, Kurt. hilosophy that people are going to be responsible for what they do," he said. "It seems like if you're a Democrat, nobody is responsible for anything."

The Schmelings agreed that John McCain, Bush's ri val, was more closely aligned with the Deroorratic Part.
issue of accountability.
Bush's ideas were accom panied by an effective presen panied by an effective presentation, said Les Blair from Syracuse.
"I think he was much more ffective than in the past," Blair said. "I especially liked his

Oneidn County
Oneida County Executive Ralph Eannace said he is supporting candidate's stance on educa tion.
"He has a strong feeling that has been shown consis tently for education," said Ean nace, who brought his two the bhlly, "I thin than, to e rally. I think that's great. Bush's tax cut proposal will also point the country in the right direction, he said.

As for Tuesday's election, Bush has an excellent chanc of winning, Eannace said. The Bush the more likely they are to vote for him, he said.

Although Bush predicted victory in New York state, winning the primary is not guaran teed, he said
"It's by no means a sweep," Eannace said. "His supporter have to get out and vote.?

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

\author{
News: news@dailyorange.com \\ Sports: sports@dailyorange.com \\ Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com \\ Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com
}

The beach pails will include samples of Hawaiian Tropic sunscreen, Blistex chapstick, leis, Band-Aids, Trojan and Lifestyles condoms, stickers and pamphlets provided by the SU Health Center on drinking and safe sex.

A raffle will be offered for students to win a \($ 300\) certificate toward Spring Break 2001 or a tanning package. The proceeds will go sources.

The event will also feature appearances by "Condom Man," who will dress upin a condom and distribute samples. \({ }^{\text {SU Computing and Media }}\) Services will videotape students talking about their plans for Spring Break, Perez said. The tapings will be shown Wednesday to show students where their peers are headed for Spring Break and for research at the SU Health Center. The Health Center wants to learn where students are going in order to offer information for next year's Spring Break, Harvey said.

Students need to be aware of possible situations but also enjoy themselves, Michelli said.

Spring Break is an excuse to let go and people should let \(\stackrel{t}{\text { go." }}\)

Students should be concerned with sexual predators and ly placed in a drink and frequently placedin a drink and frequentout without any recollection, Harvey said.

She added that students should know how to access their health care insurance before they go on break and should be aware of the circumstances and laws around them.
"When you're away, you have to take prevention strategies with you," said Dolores Card, director rention and Education Cere

\section*{- PACKAGING *} - SHIPPING SUPPLES
- ENVELOPES.
- girt wrapping -
- NEXT DAY SERVICE -
- INTERNATIONAL -

OPEN THL MIDNTIE (M-F)

\(472-0546\) marshall square mall

Be aware there could be sexual predators waiting for students to

Also, some students who are not familiar with drinking and driving laws in other states find themselves in trouble with the law.

Both Florida and North Carolina, common Spring Break destinations, have low blood alcohol limits.
In New York state, the limit is 10 for people of legal drinking age, whereas the limit is .08 in rida and North Carolina.
The limit for underage drinkmany states have sobriety checkpoints on major interstates to check the blood alcohol contents

Michelli said the group hopes that its presence in Schine will encourage traveling safely:

The events in Schine will provide information on how to be safe during Spring Break and how to have fun.
From 10 a.m.

From 10 a.m. to 3 pm, Monday, ruesday and Wednesday, Atrium offering information and beach pails with items for stu dents' Spring Breaks, said Amanda Perez, a senior public relations major who helped organize the group.

\section*{VIEW A RENOVATED MODEL APARTMENT AT SOUTH CAMPUS 121 WINDING RIDGE ROAD APT. 6}

OPEN: MONDAY, FEBRUARYZ1
THURSSDAY, FE日RUARY Z&
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1
MONDAY & TUESDAY, MARCH 687 7:00 PM - 8:30 PM

TAKE THE WINDING FIDGE RD. BUS FROM COLLEGE PLACE TO WINDING RIDGE RD.
SOUTH CAMPUS OFFERS ALL THE PRIVACY OF APARTMENT LIVING WITH THE CONVENIENCE OF UNIVERSITY OWNED HOUSING.

AN AREA ADVISOR WILL BE PRESENT TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE FURNISHED, UTILITIES INCLUDED (PRICES ARE FIXED SO BUDGETING IS EASIER) ACADEMIC YEAR LEASE

OPEN THFOUGHOUT THE ACADEMIC YEAR!!!
COME AND SEE WHAT
SOUTH CAMPUS APARTMENTS
HAVE TO OFFER!!!
WHILE YOU ARE HERE, PLEASE YIST YOUR GOLDSTEIN STUDENT CENTER & ENJOY THE FACILITY

\title{
Shoot for the D.O
}

Join Adeet "Hot Pants" Deshmukh in his quest to photograph campus news while upholding the highest standards of style. If you're interested in shooting for the D.O., call Adeet, Rachael, or Lisa at 443-9795 for more information.

\section*{Syracuse lacks killer instinct in loss \\ HARTFORD, Conn.- \\ on the glass in the first \\ fidence with which they} frothy Guinness and a can of Beast or a warm summer afternoon and a snowy wintor morning.

The Syracuse Orangemen came here Saturday a confident baturday a confident bunch, trying to prove the \(88-74\) whooping they laid upon the Connecticut Huskies on Jan. 24 was no fluke. around, though, Syracuse was a different leam.

The Orangemen didn't have the spring in their step. rid the eftort needed to grab the important rebound or hit the big shot - the Eouheim calls it. ballgame.
UConn dictated the pace in its \(69-5.1\) victory in front of a craty 16,294 at the Hartford Civic Center. The Huskies hit the boards hard, outrebounding Syracuse by one after getting demolished meeting 47-31. balls, hit those big shots and took care of the ball-all the intangibles needed to beat a top 10 team.

Indeed, they wanted it more. Comin" into the game"UConn point guard Khalid El-Amin said, the guys were said, the guys were very excited about playing. They had a lot of energy. And they wanted to win tonight. They wanted to end our regular season with a win. WThey definitely anted to beat the team that embarrissed us on tearm th ESPN."

El-Amin spoke with Fengeance in mind, a hint of onship teams must have. onship teams must have.
UConm won the national title last season. On Saturday, the Huskies were hungry.
But

But in the waning minOtes of the loss, the Orangemen - No. 9 in the land and, at one time, as high as No. 4 come only in spurts.

The clock read 4:36, the scoreboard 53-47 in Connecticut's favor, UConn pressured the SU inbound, with El-Amin doing jumping jacks in Tony Bland's face. four ... five. Turnover, Syracuse.

Twenty-four seconds ater, El-Amin pops a 3-El-Amin fouls Hart the next time down. SU's senior point guard misses the first half of a 1 -and- 1

UConn boards and runs. Ajou Deng misses a jumper, but swingman Tony Robertson pulls a Superman and drops in the change for an easy basket

Syracuse can't do anything against the Husky defense, and Ryan Blackwel orces up a three. Off the Shumpert snags the rebound and lofts the ugliest attempt of his sweet-shooting carcer, bricking it bad off front iron Connecticut runs and gets the ball to Jake Voskuhl. The 7 -footer drives the lane and nets a layup. drawing a foul from Etan \(\mathrm{He}^{2}\)

He misses the ensuing free throw, but Connecticut grabs the offensive
\(2: 58\). Scoreboard: Connecticut. 60, Syracuse 47

So, let's see. A five-second violation, missed half of a 1-and-1, two neglected box Sounds like a fifth-grade CYO team, not the No. 9 team in the country They went after it a little more in those last seven "Tinutes," Boeheim said. "They got the loose balls and the offensive rebounds that were big in the game, and I thought that was the differ-

Syracuse did not play Syracuse basketball.

Only two Orangemen Bland and Etan figomas, Th scored in double figures. The booked six double-digit scorers.

SU shot an abominable 1 -for- 12 from 3 -point range. Their defense could not hardle the double- and triplescreens thrown at them. Their passes weren't crisp. Shaq. aq.
The follies combined to cause a meltdown. Still, said Orangemen retained the conntered the Civic Center.
Retention for five days, however, is a different task Syracuse makes the jaunt this week to New for the Big East
Tor the Big East Tournament, a bracket ri implications.

Boeheim spoke of the team's different phases. Phase 1, the regular season is over. Phase 2, the confer ence tournament, beckons

And Phase
And Phase 3, the NCAA Tournament, is all anyone cares about.
trong Big East showing folstrong Big East showing followed by a Iong NCAA Tourney run, the sting of the by-win.
"It's really painful right now," Thomas said, "but we"ll be able to regroup from
. Maybe. It just depends which Syracuse team decides to show up.

Jeff Passan is an Asst. Sports Editor at The Daily arange, where hegularly. E-mail him appear regularly. Eat jspassan@syr.cdu
"They played tough defensively and made us take some tough shotis and took is out of think our confidence is there It's just the fact that we missed shots. For us to be successful we need to shoot the ball well. Preston was off tonight, and he's probably our best shooter The perimeter game is going to be a big asset for us."
for-12, and SU hit only 7 -of-14 free throws

While the Huskies shot only 40 percent, they excelled fundamentally. Their 17 as sists more than doubled SU's eight, and the UConn commitpared to the Orangemen's 73 .

Connecticut's aggressive econd-half play allowed them to outrebound Syracuse \(24-18\) in the half. After grabbing only four on the offensive glass in the first half, UConn hit the boards hard and snagged 14 second-half offensive boards.
"They crashed the boards well," Thomas said, "and really made it hard for a lot of guys to get in a flow offensively, includ\(\qquad\) Add Hart to the list.
After scorching El-Amin for 14 points and eight assists in the first meeting, he dropped eight points and handed out five assists, allowing UConn's point man to get the better of battle. "We didn't execute," Har said. "We lost our poise. And that's something we haven't done all year."

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{orange}

\section*{NOTES}

\section*{Men's Lacrosse}

No. 2 Syracuse 13 No. 1 Virginia OT

\section*{Orangemen (1.0)}

Player
Powell
Coffrman
Banks
Springer
Caione
Hardy
Cavaliers (0-1)

\section*{Player
Bruce}

Mcknight
Shure
Shannon
Hard
Hard Rotelli
Rotelli
Jalbert

Handling Hanley
Early in the third quarter of Saturday's game, defenseman John the handle.

After chasing Virginla midfielder Hanley Holcomb for a loose ball, Glatzell became tangled with the Cavalier junior.

The Orangemen defender tried to yank his cross away and ended up wih the top quarter hanging limp
While his teammates crambled to get him a eplacement. SU assistan equipment manager Gary Audet mended the cross owner after it back to its Holcomb found himself in the middle of another third quarter scuffle. After Syracuse goalie Rob Mulligan charged a loose ball, Holcomb impeded his Noth back to the cage. No flag came, and Mulligan voiced his displeasure. The Orangeman drew a penalty of his own, and the Cavs scored twice with hirm in the box.

\section*{Women's Lacrosse}

No. 3 Virginia 16

\section*{Orangewomen (0.1)}

Player
Healy
Hable
Brown
\(\begin{array}{ll}\mathbf{E} & \mathbf{a} \\ 2 & 1 \\ 2 & 0 \\ 1 & 0\end{array}\) Cavaliers (2-0)

\section*{Player
Hook}

From Sambus
Cangen
Lau. Aumiller
Lac. Aumiller Allenbach
+OOHトOOO』

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When was the last time the Syracuse men's basketball team won the Big East Tournament?
thursday*s trivia: Q. When did Notre Dame last play a NCAA Totrnament game?
A. The Fighting lrish lost to Virginia 75-67 in the first round of the 1990 NCAA Tournament.

\title{
[sports] Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 6, 200015 \\ SU wins in classic
}

An emotional Ryan Powell ran circles in Kockner Stadium after depositing the geme-winning goal in overtime past Virginia groalio Derek Kennoy. SU's senior AlfAmerican scored four goals in the victory.

\section*{BY DAVE CURTIS} Sports Editor
CHARLOTTESVILLE. Va. - When Saturday's 13-12 overtime epic ended, victorious Syracuse head coach John Desko and his Virginia counterpart Dom Starsia called it the game everyone wanted, and expected, to see.

Sure enough, on a central Virginia afternoon so beautiful it belonged on a postcard, the No. Cavs and No. 2 Orangemen hoded to in of tacrosse's top rivalries.
op rivalries.
ohinguarters brought crunching checks, precision heroes. But 60 minutes of regulation left the teams locked at 12 apicce.

The mame's terminal play shed the supporting casts and efl the two superstars in the Ryan Powell, ball in his crese behind the net, chroked by UVa superstar defender Ryan Curtis. A battice of sea batile of All-Americans.

This time, SU's King Ryan won, driving to his left against Curtis. A deke, a dodge and a dive later, Powell hicked a shat past Curtis and UV'a goalie Derek Kenney at the 2:07 mark for thesuddendeath win.

Powell's tally capped a another personal draw between the duo, matching last year's a \(12-10\) Cavalier triumph.
"It was two players battling each other like crazy," a

See EXPECTED page 18

\section*{Orangewomen} drop tourney game to Hoyas BY KEVIN LEITZELL
Staff Writer Staff Writer

STORRS, Conn. - The good news for the Syracuse women' basketball team is its seven game losing streak has stopped. the the bad news is that it took the Georgetown (17-11, 9-7 Big East) withstood a late run by the Orangewomen (10-18, 3-13) and a last-second miss by Beth Record to slip past SU 67-65 Pavilion in the first round of the Big East Tournament

Record missed the potential game-tying basket as time ex pired, ending the No. 12 -seeded pired, ending the No. 12-seeded setting fifth-seeded Georgetown.
"It was just make it you're a hero, and if you miss it, you go onto next year." Record said "Unfortunately, I just missed it." Trailing 67-63 with 18 seconds remaining in the game, Record grabbed the rebound of a missed Hoya free throw. Guard Shannon Perry drove inside to cut the lead to two with 7.2 sec onds left.

See OVER page 19

\section*{Glatzel, Mulligan pace defense}

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - Entering Syracuse's game with Virginia, Orangemen head coach John Desko knew matchups could be a determining factor.

The matchup on which most people concentrated involved cans, SV atacker Ryan Pow
tis. While Powell and Curtis
While Powell and Curtis provided excitement and faccored into the end result, a part - virginia attackman Conor Gill against Syracuse defender John Glatzel.

Gill, the first-ever freshman to capture NCAA Tournament MVP honors last year, faced off with Glatzel, who hadn't played NCAA lacrosse in nearly two years after missing last season due to his role in a Manley Field House breakin.

Despite the contrast in credentials, Glatzel got the better of Gill on Saturday in the No. 2 Orangemen's 13-12 overtime victory against the No. 1 Cavaliers.
in the wathe score tied at 12 in the waning moments of the game, Syracuse keeper Rob Mushed out of the net to check Gill.

Gill saw an open net and took a shot, but Glatzel stepped in to the rescue, moving infront of the net and taking Girs hot off his leg. Glatzel would have been the gamewinning shot, winning shot, allowing for Powells overtime goal and the \(13-12\) victory in a rechampionship game.
"That wasmy first save ever," said Glatzel, while Mu. ligan patted him on the back *Right spot, right time, 1 guess."

The junior defender harassed Gill throughout the game, holding him to only one goal. Gill notehed an unassisted score with six minutes left in the second quarter, cutting

Junior groalie Rob Mulligan's outstanding saves Junior gralie Rob Mulligan's outstanding save helped Syracuse escape Virgiaa with a \(13-1.2\) win.

SU's lead to 8-5.
More important than the coring, Glatzel didn't allow Gill to break free and feed the ball to his teammates.
\({ }^{4}\) (Gill) really does a great ob distributing the ball, and a ot of things go through him, finding the open man, so we knew we were going to have to get on his hands.

Glatzel followed Desko's See GLATZEL page 18

\section*{Br ALISON HISCHAK} staff writer

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - In preseason chatter, the Syracuse women's lacrosse dent. They said they had the ability to play with some of the best teams in the country.

A matchup against the No. 3 Virginia Cavaliers gave the No. 16 Orangewomen a chance to show they could back up those claims.

But neither Syracuse's confidence nor their ability showed in a \(16-5\) loss to Virginia in the season opener Saturday at Klockner Stadium.

Instead, in their chance for recognition, the Orangewomen at best mustered a sputtering offense and a virtually non-existent defense.
"It was just a poor effort all the way across the board, start to finish," Syracuse head coach Lisaittle sard. we dinc and the little things in practice, and t catches up to us.

The Cavaliers (2-0) showed their offensive prowess from the get-go. On three consecutive trips up the field, Virginia attackers found the back of the net, as the Cavaliers took a 3-0 lead before any of the Orangewomen even cradled the ball in their sticks. Gina Sambus drove to the cage for the first score, and preseason All-American Amy Fromal capitalized on a free position chance - a rree shot on goal after a penalty - from the right side for the second goal.

Just 30 seconds later, Molly Cangemi hit Jamie Haas crossing in front of the net for a 3-0 UVa lead two minutes into the game.

When Syracuse finally settled into its offensive position the players faced an attacking Cavalier defense that denied any attempt to get the ball even close to the cage.

Miller cited a lazy attitude and lack of effort as part of her team's early troubles.
"I'm not sure they even started, so how do you give up when you con't start?" Miller said. My team can overwhelm when they actually have to when they actwally have to work, they might not be willing to do it." to find motivation the Cavalier offense continued to roll.
Mills Hook connected on another free position opportunity, and Fromal notched her second of four goals on the afternoon to put Virginia ahead 5 0 with 23:09 left in the first half.

Virginia played full of emotion, Hook said, which helped spark the quick start.
\({ }^{4}\) We came out really intense," Hook said. "We played with lots of guts and desire. Throughout the whole team, we were fired up for our first home game. That's what made the real difference:"

SU finally settled after the opening rush. Junior attacker Karen Healy used a nifty move to shake free from defenders and skip the ball into the cage for the Orangewomen's first score. Healy paced SU in the game, finishing with two goals and an assist.

Lauren Aumiller answered for the Cavaliers, taking advantage of another Orangewomen roul and scoring on a free position goal.
te getting back, Virginia was found All-American Katrina

Hable open down the left side of the field.

Hable scored the first of her wo goals, cutting the lead to 6 2 with 6:25 to play in the first.

Virginia quickly squashed any chance of a rally, scoring three goals in \(1: 24\) span before halftime. Hook notched goals No. 2 and 3, while Sambus added her second score of the game, sending the Cavaliers to the break with a \(9-2\) advantage.
"We wanted things to go this smoothly," Hook said. "We knew it was a big game for them. We felt like if we took it to them, we thought they might fall."

The second half featured the high-powered Cavalier offense continually firing away at Syracuse keeper Clothilde Ewing and opening up a 14-3 lead lowed 15 goals (as opposed to owed 15 goals (as opposed to sor saves) berore being puled or backup Tegan Leonard in Ewing strugrled Miller didnt Ewing struggled, Miller didn overly mance don't think Clo played particularly well," Miller said,
"but our defense didn't protect her either."

SU was whistled for 20 fouls, and Virginia capitalized on 7-of-9 free position opportunities. In comparison, the Cavaliers committed only 12 fouls, with the Orangewomen scoring on 2-of-6 frec chances.

SU's offensive output wasn't much better. The team took only 11 shots on goal and struggled with passing the ball up the field and around the cage.

Attribute part of the offensive woes to the noticeable absence of Jenna Szyluk. The senior attacker is nursing a back injury and is on the shelf indefinitely

But between the dropped passes and intercepted reeds. the Orangewomen coln an of said.

She traced all the problems, great and small, back to attitude and intensity.
"Until we start to be more ageressive day in and day out and do the little things," Miller said, then when wo play an elite toam this what hap elite team this is what happens."

\section*{Orangewomen display heart in 67-65 defeat}

\section*{BY GREG}

STORRS, Conn. - In a nail-biting Big East Tournament loss, the Syracuse wom en's basketball team proved that men's point guard Jason wasn't the only heart in the Constitution State for the weekend.

And while the Hart-led Or angemen lost to UConn in near by Hartford, Conn., the No. 12 seeded Orangewomen played their hearts out in a seasonending 67-65 first-round loss to fifth-seeded Georgetown.

The setback extended the team's losing streak to seven games.
"I thought we played with a lot of heart and desire," SU head coach Marianna Freeman said. "We came back to make it a close the ballgame. We had a shot to go up, and it didn't go down, but that's the way a lot of games have gone for us this season. It was a great team effort, but we came up short.

With Syracuse trailing \(51-\) 36 with 13:40 left in the game, most of the knowledgeable fans at Connecticut's Gampel Pavilion remained quiet. Contingents from each school sat in the stands either silently watching the game unfold or waiting for their respective teams to take center stage.

Then, something happened. The Orangewomen ( 10 18, 3-13 Big East) stormed on a 13-2 run, stealing the crowd along the way.
Beth Record, who finished with 20 points and 15 rebounds on the afternoon, hit two jump shots and two free throws during the stint.

Forward Leigh Aziz, who added another 20 points, also hit two 10 -foot jumpers to bring the fans to their feet.

All-Big East rookie selection Shannon Perry muscled her way inside to grab offensive rebounds, where SU held a 23 8 advantage. She slashed to the hoop with silky drives after smooth cuts to finish with 14 points, 12 of which came in the second stanza.

When Perry drove the right baseline with under a minute to go, the fans in Gampel Pavilion held their respective breaths.
And after the undersized Perry - sandwiched between 5 -foot-9 Dani Ilic and 6-foot-10 Suzie Bendegue - doublepumped a layup, the Orangewomen had the normally stoic the gap to 64-61.

Georgetown (17-11, 9-7) refused to die, garnering a 67-65 advantage and the ball with five seconds left on the clock.

Ilic's inbound pass deflected off the Hoya's leading scor er, Katie Smrcka-Duffy, who finished with 22 points, and car ried out of bounds.

SU had another chance, and Boston College fans, Connecticut fans and every fan ex cept Georgetown's let out a col lective scream that left the Hartford Civic Center shaking 30 minutes away.

The Orangewomen's last shot by Record, though, fell short. Still, the never-say-die attitude accomplished a diffi cult task, as it turned Syracuse into fan favorites on a neutral court.
"Today, I thought we had great team chemistry," Aziz said. "We wanted to win more than anything. It's all we've been talking about. It's all we've been waiting for. It was really exciting to be here."

Record, Perry, Aziz and point guard Jakia Ervin exemplified the squad's heart in its last game of the season.

Record, a third-team AllBig East selection, combined with Aziz, who played like she had in the beginning of the season, for 40 points and 24 rebounds.

The undersized Perry continued to snag offensive rebounds, grabbing six while continually cutting through the Hoya zone to allow players like Aziz to get open jump shots.

The Orangewomen's sec-ond-chance efforts kept them in it, Freeman said.
"On the boards, they gave us quite a bit of difficulty, Georgetown head coach Patrick Krapp said. "Record played well, and Aziz stepped it up. But the second shots killed us and made this a very ugly game."

Pacing the offense in the comeback was Ervin, who might be granted another yea of eligibility for next season.

The senior point guard who was placed on academic probation her first year for her standardized test scores, will get another year of eligibility if she graduates in May, which she plans on doing.

Against Georgetown, Ervin dished out six assists, with no turnovers, while hitting two key free throws down the stretch to keep the Orangewomen in the game. Ervin, who went O-for-10 from the field, also ran the Syracuse offense like a sea soned veteran.

The strong effort of Syra cuse, which finished second-tolast in the conference, is indica tive of how good the conference is from top to bottom, Freeman said.
"Any given night, any team can come away with the win," Freeman said. "We are capable of playing well, we just haven't done that consistently. Our record may be a little different than what we are capable of. Today, we gave as much as we could give.

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc \\ Marshall Square Mall \\ Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Data Recovery \\ Repairs / PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors \\ Best Prices
Guarenteed Work \\ Mon. Thur Fri 9:30-5:30 Sat. 10:30-2:30 \\ Phone: 315-423-9284 \\ Web Page: cdoctor/@computerdoctor.Syr.com}

\section*{GET HIGHEII EUROPE}

Пo trains. Mo pain.
s99 finywhere

\section*{16 firlines seruing 127 European cities in \(\mathbf{2 7}\) countries. Is that a trip or what?}
www.europebyair.com
VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR MORE INFORMATION ON PARTICIPAIING airLines, route maps and flight schedules

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

> There comes a time when each of us has to give up our dependency on this place. Working at the D.O. was one of the best experiences of ny life. I can't believe it's finally over. I have met some of the most unique, amazing people I will ever know at this house. I want to thank you all for being a special part of my life. And dan't blame me for leaving because, really, how LONG can someone work in copy? I will never read a novel, paper, newspaper or even a syllabus without copy editing it. I have been cursed.

> Saps - Will I ever see you againz7? You're always here. I was pissed off when we hired you but I guess I'm cover inco. Thank \% And thanks for copy editing my duck. Want some chicken?7?

ANIMALI!I!!!!
Yinka - Ok, so you need the most thanks because who was there to thear my constant spazz, day in and day out from this place for a year-and-a-half. You have always been there for me, even when you didn't want to be. You know so much, you should have worked here. College wouldn't be complete without you.

Khristian - Thank you for ahways being proud of me. Remember my mom's 'proud of you'song?77 You hired me, you taught me and you brought Whitney to the porch. When was the last time i heard "ABC" in here? Thanks for always having faith in me-

Bilfy - Who else but Bily was more of a sparz than me?? I miss those Barbara Streisand/Celine Dion days. You know I love you.

Ryan - I am so glad that I met you. I rementher the first day you walked in here, when you looked over my shoulder all night, as if you were trying to learn something. From then on, you always spent at least 20 minutes on each story, and were successful in finally ending Bity"s Streisand/Dion escapade. Thank you for keeping the "go's at 8" alive. Remember the good ol' days? ... don't make me cry.

Shokie - I thank you for being as crazy as I am. You have always been the most fun, and 1 still can't figure out why pinching does not harm you.

Joy - I will call you for your fleeting thoughts. Try not to miss me too much. Just look at the Pope and think of me. Or the pigeons. There was always that night of rain in Venice ... ok sorry.

Tom/Adeet - I am leaving because I do not see that disco ball that was promised. It's just not fun anymore! I will miss seeing you both on an everyday basis, but I will come in for a voice of reason once in awhile.

Sports - I have read your stories for over a year. I still do not understand anything. Obviously, ti's just me. I am a disgrace.

Em - How could I not thank the best managing editor in the world! Next time we go to Denny's, I'II give you my butter.

Ron - 1 will never forgive you for not hiring me as the staff psychologist. Maybe we can go talk about that in the batturoom?

To my friends outside of this place trou know who your are...-- I ans sorry I was gent for so long. Thank you for being so supportive. 1 love you.

I leave the D.O. officially smokefree. You've finally gotten rid of us fiends.

\section*{EXPECTED}
continued from page 15
dejected Starsia said. "Over 60 minutes, they look for a little edge to use at a critical moment of the game. Maybe Ryan Powell found out he could leave Curtis (behind the net) on a quick change."

The change, a change of direction, gave Powell the crack he searched for all game. After darting left, he paused, buckling Curtis at the knees. Powell then accelerated left and fired a shot Kenney said he hardly saw.

Wh Coffried to get the ball to Josh Coffman, who had been doing a great job all day, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Powell said. "But that's when I wo cine to shinc. I want the ball on my

The overtime goal, PowThe overtime goal, Powells fourth of the game, capped a wild extrasession. After trading turnovers with UVa the Orangemen settled and the Orangemen settled and the four-minute period.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

When play resumed, mid fielder Matt Caione broke free from David Jenkins and chucked a one-hopper toward the net. SU's attack celebrated an apparent game-winning goal, but no official made a sig nal and play continued

The Cavaliers regained possession and charged toward the other end. With defense the ball Starsia told officials we ball, Starsia told officials he vanted a timeout.

The referees granted the oreak, but Desko pounced, arguing Virginia made the request while the ball remained in its defensive zone.

The officials agreed with the SU bench and whistled the Cavs for illegal procedure Or the ensuing possession, Powell slithered past his marker and scored, setting off an Orange scored, setting off an Orange pigpile near the center circle alone at the net.
"This was a hard-fought Ryan wanted to win this one for the team today."

The thrilling finish did little to drown the events that set the stage. After seething for nine months over the national championship loss, zed UVa in the game's opening stages.

On the Cavs' first offensive trip, Joe Ceglia creamed midrelder Jay Jalbert, and goalic Rob Mulligan grabbed the loose ball.

Three minutes later, Mike Springer snuck a one-hopper past Kenney for the season's past ken first goal.

At the 1:36 mark of the first quarter, Coffrnan hit Pow ell on the doorstep, and the tho-time All-American put SU up 4-0.
"I thought we only played half the game," Starsia said. "We were so amped up that we just couldn't function in the first half. We were so excited that we were tentative."

Virginia clawed its way back to 5-4, scoring twice on rebounds near the cage. But the Orangemen tallied the next four, including a goal and assist from sophormore Tom Hardy. Led by Mulligan's 14 saves and and UVa's lackluster 0-for 5 showing on the man-up, SU took a 9-6 lead to intermission But boosted by a sold-out filled the aluminum bleachers and a grass hill on the opposite sideline, the Cavs scored four straight in the third quarter to jump ahead

With SU up 9-8, Mulligan ran his mouth to an official and drew a one-minute unSportsmanlike conduct penalty. UVa freshman attacker A.J. Shannon scored twice in 48 seconds.
\({ }^{4}\) I was trying to run back to the goal, and (UVa junior midfielder Haniey. Holcomb) was setting a moving pick, Mulligan said. "It's my fault. I lost my cool. I was frustrated the call wasn't being made."

The third-quarter horn saved the Orangemen, and Coffrman's goal 2:01 into the fourth set the stage for a frantic final stanza.

Each team led by a goal in he next six minutes. Virginia senior David Bruce finished the coring in regulation with diving finish off a Drew McK night feed.

Both teams saw chances slide by the boards in the final few minutes. Virginia received a man-up after officials caught Springer offsides with \(3: 41\) reSpringer offsides with \(3: 41\) reHolcomb from 10 yards out.

SU's best chance came on a Sam Bassett rush, but Kenney matched his opposite num ber with a tough stick save.

Virginia possessed last in regulation, but Bruce saw his shot deflected en route to the cage and McKnight's buzzerbeater skipped wide.

Next came overtime, a forum for SU's biggest player to make the biggest play in maybe the season's biggest game.

He didn't even give us a chance to slide to him," Starsia said. "We couldn't support (Curtis). It was such a quick move."

\section*{GLATZEL}

\section*{continued from page 15}
orders, shadowing Gill's every move, following him around the crease, behind the goal and out to the top of the offense. Glatzel said he played Gill as tightly as the defensive scheme would allow.
"(Gill's) always been the man who stays back behind the goal somewhat," Glatzel said. "He's a pretty good feeder, so I tried to press out on him and make him throw the bail pretty quickiy so he didin't get many open looks."

Playing against Gill is nothing new to Glatzel, as the two grew up playing in junior leagues together in Maryland.
"i've been playing against him for a pretty long time," Glatzel said. "He's still a very good player, I respect him very much. He's a great feeder, just like (SU attacker) Liam Banks."

In addition to controlling Gill, Glatzel and the other Syracuse defenders shut down the Cavaliers during six of their eight extra-man oppor-

\section*{——————meout technicality \\ Syracuse's 13-12 overtime victory Saturday afternoon turned on a controversial call in overtime. \\ As Virginia defender Court Weislander charged toward midfield, coach Dom Starsia asked an official for a timeout. \\ The referees whistled the timeout when Weislander still stood in his own zone, a violation of Article 122 under Section 28 in the 2000 NCAA men's lacrosse rule book. \\ The rule states that a team can not call timeout in an overtime period without possessing the ball in its offensive end. \\ Starsia said before the overtime he told the officiating crew he wanted a timeout when his team had the ball in the offensive end. \\ The coach repeated the request to official Tom Brannock as Weislander carried the ball toward the center stripe. \\ "I told the official running up beside me that I want a timeout," Starsia said. "I think he thought that Court was about to step over the line, so he called the timeout. If Court stepped one foot on that line, I wanted a timeout." \\ On the SU sidelines, Desko noticed Weislander's feet short of the line. Sprinting toward midfield, he screamed for a penaity, whicin, Starsia said, should have come in the form of a technical foul. \\ Desko admitted in a postgame press conference he likely informed the officials of the infraction. \\ I don't know what the eventual call would have been." he said. "The one official came over and said he probably shouldn't have called it, but you could hear the [Virginia] coaching staff calling for the timeout. I think all we did was point out the fact that the ball was on the defen-} tunities.
UVa attacker Drew McKnight said the Cavaliers missed quality chances in the man-up situations.
"It wasn't what their defense was doing as much a our offense," McFnight said.
"We didn't initiate anything. We were just passing, waiting for them to fall down or something:"

The two man-upgoals Virginia did score happened during Mulligan's one-minute unreleaseable unsportsman-

\section*{Don't let Spring Break put Summer Abroad out of your mind.}

Pick up a Summer 2000 catalog at DIPA today!

\section*{dIPA Summer Programs} 119 Euclid Avenue 443-9420/9421 like conduct penalty.
Mulligan came out of net to make a play and said he thought a Cavalier attacker interfered with him getting back to the net. He said he asked the referee why there was no call, and then the fiag was thrown.

Backup keeper Bob Rust entered the game and gave up the two Cavalier goals, which put Virginia ahead 10-9.
arsia said the coach Dom Starsia said the Mulligan penalty gave the Cavaliers a ance to grab momentum.
rine timen \({ }^{n}\) Starsia said swing timae," Starsiasaid. We started to seize control of the game. I thought we would hold them to nothing in the second half."

But Mulligan got his emotions under control during his time in the box, and then regrouped the defense.

I think once I cooled off went back in there, and I settled the defense back down," said Mulligan. "It was almost a blessing in disguise, because we were losing our cool coming down the stretch. We were getting out of our team defense."

Other than the penalty Mulligan turned in a solid performance, stopping 19 Cav alier shots. Unlike the last time the two teams met, Mulligan started strong and didn't give up a goal until Jason Hart scored with \(1: 28\) left in Hart scored with the first quarter.
first quarter.
-The fast start made the difference in the game," Mulligan said. gan said.
"I thought it was huge for my confidence," Mulligan said. Just to come out and make ew saves and get in the rhythm. That was the thing, got in the rhythm early, and carried it on throughout the game."

LAST CNIMNCETOENIEREDWWINGFOR

game ending 9-3 run. Despite shooting just 34 percent as a team in the first half, Aziz kept the Orangewomen in the game offensively. Aziz shot 5 -for- 6 in the first frame for 13 points. She drove to the hole on several ocand battled reckless abandon town forwards for position on the offensive for position on punched onsive boards. She in the first half The Orang
The Orangewomen needed Aziz s production in the first Jaime James and Jackia Ervin combined for zero points in the first stanza.

As a team, the Orangewomen held a \(46-35\) rebounding advantage over the Hoyas desite Gcorgetown's taller presence in the middle.

The Hoyas' frontcourt boasted 6-foot-10 inch center Suzy Bendegue and 6-foot-3 Bourdereau, who combined for only eight boards, while Aziz and Record had 24 combined boards.

Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman said the rebounding edge, especially Aziz's first half performance, kept the game close.
(Aziz) really addressed the boards for us, Freeman said. It's always tremeadous when you have someone that's scoring for you as well as going to the boards. I know that kept us in the ballgame.

The team was without senior forwards Paula Moore and Erin Pratt for much of the season due to injuries. With the injuries, Freeman faced the task of worleing with a rineplayer bench.

Plagued by the lack of depth, SU dropped 15 of its last 18 games after a promising 7-3 beginning.

Yet the Orangewomen nearly upset Rutgers at home and lost five other conference garmes by seven points or fewer, including Saturday's twopoint setback.
"If we were capable of playing as consistently well as we did (Saturday) every single bailgame, our record would certainly be a little different," Freeman said. This team experienced a lot of different throughout the season. We felt that this team came out and just gave as much as they had to give"

SU's Beth Record turned in a solfd performance in the 67-65 loss to Georgetom, scoring 20 points and grabbing 15 rebounds.

\section*{} is Requesting all Student and Service Organization Budget Proposals for the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year be submitted to the GSO Office by

\author{
March 29, 2000, 4:30pm \\ in 131 Schine
}

If there are any questions pertaining to the budget proposal format or the budget process, please contact \(443-3961\) or e-mail ficarter@syr.edu.

\section*{The Daily} Orange Advertising Information
The Daily Orange adver tising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m
- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicabile dis counts diuring. advertising business hours 2ct

\section*{RECORD}
continued from page 24
as "Nothing" and especially "Sweet Oblivion," they sound like a pale imitation of 311 . Many songs are maddeningly inconsistent in their tone. Sado" has a promising apocalyptic beginning before succumbing to the same generic guitar and drum arrangement. Occasionally in the song, the band will abruptly get quict, then irnmediately get loud again, Because of this, "Sado" is a jarring headache. It's try-

The Daily Orange
ing to be three songs at once. Since the songs can never find a comfortable internal that it only stands to reason hll over the map Giving all over the map. Giving homage to different groups and genres is fine (see Beck's brilcopying is a different story. For copying is a different story. For track "Time" for a minute or two, but then I realized it sounded exactly like Alice in Chains' "Man in the Box." The first 11 songs on The Deadights debut have plenty of screaming and deafening guitars but are strangely devoid of passion. The band just sounds like it is going everyone the motions, copying in hopes everyone they can in hopes next (fill in the blank)-" Which next (fill in the blank)-" Which is what makes the final track Falling Down," such a welFame and unexpected surprise The melodic, creepy arrangement relies on acoustic guitars and sitars. Duke's voice is solid and disciplined. Whereas the yrics throughout the rest of the album are generic - often unintelligible - rants, here they are mournful and poetic: You are just a fleeting dream/created by me/We all fall down/as time slowly slips away," alling Down" shows that The Deadlights can be a disciplined, creative, engaging band. This makes the rest of the album even more annoying in retrospect. It seems like all the hollering and banging was just a way to get people's attention. Ironically, the only song from the whole disc that stuck in my head was the slow est, quietest one
In the end, The Deadlights arre with a decidedly under experiment with many differ ent styles, and most of the time they fail. But, "Falling Down" offers hope. One song can not redeem this album, but it offers promise for the future of The Deadlights. When they Ginally decide on a style, here's hoping they get over their KoRn fixation and just calm down.

My Grade: C

\section*{311}
continued from page 24 Music, and the crowd followed the band's command by simulta neously hopping and slamming nto each other at ful tilt. Duning several numbers, lead guitarist Tim Mahoney shone with a guitar solo. His Shone with a guicar solo. His for melody kept these extended solos from becoming tiresome. Lead singers Nick Hexum ad Martinez's voioss meshed and complimented each other throughout the show. Their high, airy tenors soard above the crunching guitar and bass. Songs like "Sever","Flowing" and "Eons," all from their new album, bencfited from the vocal interplay.
Dharing "Applied Science," drummer Chad Sexton launched into an extended drum solo which concuded with the other four members joining him onstage, each with their own drum. They continued into an all out "Stomp"style jam, with each member contributing to the triba madness

Goldstein doesn't have the best acoustics for loud rock bands, and when 311's guitars went into overdrive, some of the 3 melody was lost in the mix. But with their brazen enthusiasm When the guitars and bass started to melt into sludge, they kept dancing about the stage, and the frowd bounced with the band ust the same.

Sonically, their reggae and funk-based material fared better During these songs, everyane. took a break from slamming into ach other and sharing sweat it was time to get your own groove on. "All Mixed "p'
"Strong All Along" and "Who's Got the Herb" gave the party Got the Herb"gave the party people a chance to dance and confront their lack of rhythm.

Last call
Near the end of the show, Nut to "beat that thang!" P-Nut is famous for his bass-slapping solos, and the band followed suit with the fun-kay Feels 50 Good. P-Nut did not disappoint - in mid-song, he proceeded to slap iss bass like a red-headed stepchild, and the crowd erupted nto cheers.

The crowd dernographic con. sisted of two majoritiest One, Syracuse University students and two, local high-school chil dren with history papers due tomornw. The SU lads were there to see the first REAL roc thow at Goldstein in months; the show at Goidstein in months; the ing Virginia's finest on a school ng Virginas inest on a school was full of die-hard fans who were at least familiar with the

Introducing free online tax preparation from wrumbloweom/ire
 FREE HaRBLOCK H&R Block. Just arab your W-2's and head to hrblock comfiree. There, you can fill out and electronically file your 1040 EZ form online. And get your tax refund fast. Best of all, it costs nothing. Nada. Zero. Zip. And it's only at hrblock.comflree. What are you waiting for?
hits, and the group had no trouble getting them to sing along. 311 ended with "Whos Got the Herb" and "Down," their biggest hit to date. During "Down," the entire floor erupted into song and the lunkheads hurled themselves into each other with concussive force. This was perhaps their favorite way o expressing their approval, much to the chagrin of the smaller statured concert-goers Opener Jimmie's Chicken Shack held their own throughout their set of funky pop rock They warmed up the cold crowd with warmed up the cold crowd with their current radio hits "Do Right." Once arain, the funky-rroovy numbers fared best, but they had sufficient enerry to propel the harder songs.

312 is a fan's band. They even braved the cold to sign autographs for the fids ater the show.
ake care guys," they yelled as they enally left in their tour bus. They made sure to give them the best damn rock show they \(\approx\) ould. The resplt vase blise for any 311 fan and pretty swell for your average rock fan.

Ted Alvarez is a juntior mag azine major, E-maii him at ejalvare@syr.edu.

\section*{Yon need o roll-on with \\  \\  \\  \\ Pralest aybinst Alos ard ather $Ths.} lways use lellex condoms.
For a free, full-color poster ( \(18^{*} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\), write
AlDS Poster 2. Box 2000 Albany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Deparment

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@daiyorange.com We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Out of Town
by David Pollack

\section*{No Point}

Step 2: Switch apparatus' Repeat step 1

by Ethan Schmidt

\section*{Classic Meth}
by Dan Meth

by The Four Electrons
by Thane Benson

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
\(22[\) classifieds］\(]\)
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315－443－9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE \＆are Pre－paid by： Cash，Check，Master Card，Visa or Discover Deadiline：：PM 2 business days prior to nun
ADS ARE NOTAKEN BY PHONE： Ads can be mailed with check to． The Daily Orange； 744 Ostrom Avenue： Syracuse，NY 13210；Att：Classifiods；OA
Faxed with Credit Card to： \(315-443-3689\) axed with Credit Card to：315－443－3689

\section*{Whats up for Spring Break？}

The Daily Orange will Not print from March 10 We will resume printing on March 21 with a Deadline of March 17 by 2 pm ． Have a SAFE and WONDEREUL Spring Break！ \(\rightarrow\) ナーケ

Notices
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Attention \\
Fraternities＊Sororities＊ \\
Clubs＊Student Groups Need to earm 51 ovi－ 52,000 lor a sludent organizalion？CiS，tiog original fundraiser 1995．has the sofuthon with an easy three－ fundraising event． \\ Aecept no imitations． Dates are liding quicity＇Contact us for immediate results at（B85） \(98-1558\) or apply line at funcraisingsolutions．net
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Autos}
 Magaina must sell．

EMPLOYMENT
Gourmet Coltee Shep tocated in SUNY Hospital hiring manager．Experience needed in inventory controd．cash handling．training customer service
skils．Heath care benefits and salary negotiatie． lax resume io 757－565－0354

NEED EXPEAIENCE（and money？）Join a last． lun and growing company as your campus epresentative．Flexitble hours，responsibilities personalty needec．Visi www．mybyles．comiStudenifepp ker mere intormation and to fill out an online application．
Coliege Reps Needed Earn 51200 Next Week Part Tume www．ranchiseyoursell．com
Camp Counselors Ton Overnight Carips in Pocono Mins．Over 40 activities－seeking \begin{tabular}{ll} cauns & lors \\
\(1 \cdot 600-533-c a m p\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular} art lime jobs delivery drivers，dishwashers appky cosmo Pizza 143 Marstrall St．

Wanto becomo an anterspromurf Herrs vour Syracusofuctioncom as a studont marketing reprosentative．Syracusafucion．com is a tree toca university community．SyracuseAuction．com is ready to emoly active，ourgoing Syracuse Untersfy students to help preir business grom it email tem at into Ovilageauctioncom

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Tired of the same boring summer job？ vemight camp 45 rinutes from Prizadelothia． speicialists in sports artherx tomins go paintbail，photograpty，videa，woodshop， ouldoor adventuremopes itikefront 8 pod，

Call Brett or Bobbi
（800）543－9830 or
E－mail：ckweebeceaol．com
GALLING ALL SCREENWRITERS，AGTORS， DALLEGTORS！Jump start your careent For a complimentary consultation．email us at complimentary consultation．email us at getdisoovered not－shot．com

BONUSES plus guaranteed hourty rate tor Syracusa Slage＊Ange！Appaal Campaign：Nice 5 wring atmosphere，On bus－line．Mon－Thue， 5－9PM．1／17－3／319，Required pleasant speaking voice，goal otiented，positive aritude． \(443-1158\)

1.2 .3 Bedrocm Aparments，Beautilut，Spacious， Oftsreet Parking．Futly Fumished，Low Utilities， Sale，Ouiat，Clos Kersington Place 1stfloor large 3Bedroom bliningroam DiningRoorm Modarnkictiten dishrazasher microwive disposal freplac：
GieiNeinthorthood arilate the CaП7an－9pm 247－7851 or426－1894
Apartiments coce to cimpus chaen 2．3－5

```

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

```

> 621 Eucid Ave 871 Ackerman Ave 917 Ackerman Ave 15 Aedield Placa 1011 E. Adarns St 145 Avondale Place

Available for 2000－2001
Farking，Fuil Time Maintenance and Management
Wall to Wan Caspet andyor Wall to Wall Carpet andlor Femodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apis
1011 E．Adams St \＃30 479－5005
www．universityarea．com
University Ave．Five bedroom House one block trom Marshall Street furnished laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utilics D．N．Drutier 4451229

2，3 and 4 BEDROOM
302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
145 Avondale Place
Avaliable tor 2000－2001
Fully Furnished，Laundry
Parking，Fuli Time taintenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet and／or Aemodeled Kitchens and Bathis

University Area Apts 1011 E．Adams St．\＃30 479－5005
www．universityarea．com

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4，5，6，7 BEDROOM HOUSES．

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILL．COM
University Ave．Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk to Campus humished lausidy parking Univerrity and Comstock Yory elose to Campus Efificiencies and Two Berforoms Socure bldg fumished laundry parking 5375.00 to \($ 700.00\) unduries All Uliiblos \(445-1229\) D．N．Oruder Ltad Ackeman Ave Abr 2／Bath apl Furnished， carpeted，watk to carnpus
\(500-501\) lease \(446-7202\)
4Bedrooms，OaklandSt，1Block ESF，3Blocks Lawt Rospitast，Hurrished，parking，taund5x．

\section*{O．P．R． \\ Developers \\ 4－5－6 Bedroom Homes／ Town Houses Microwaves， dishwasher，washer， dryer， \\ security systems \\ remodeled Apt＇s \\ All Locations／Prices 478－6504}

4 Bdrm Houst \($ 300 / \mathrm{m}_{\mathrm{m}}\) and 3 bdran lints \(5250 \% \mathrm{~mm}\) Avail Aup Very nice．Walk to SU．FM Realty
－

Westcorl／Euctid renovated 3＋4 bedroom avail 611
S650－5720 PM parking OWW Pat 263－3415
Apartments
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000－20001 RENTALS \\
1，2，3．4 Eedroom Apartments Sumner，Euelid，Ackerman．Excelient Condition，Furnisherd，Some Include Utilitiea．Call 222－0138．
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities includec，Firsplace． Furnizhed，Hardwood Floors and Carpeting，Panty，Porch，Latundry，Paxking． clost to Campur Call Gordon
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Great Untwersity Area Beautiful Modern 182 Edrm Apts．for 2000－2001 Corra now a get your choice．All New Appl． \\
（AC，Dishweshet）Heat／Hot Water Inc． Secure Buildings Wintercoms，Door Feleases Customi elinds，Porch or Patio． Ott．Sut．Prikng，Lndry， 5 torage Centro Bus Line． 24 hr Maintenance．Starting at \($ 550\). Call \(476-9643\) or Stop by Oftice at 115 Newbury Hotlow（oH＇E Brighten）
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Four Betroom on Ackerman，Furnished，Parking．
Oishwasher，Jwo Porches．Ofl street Par Laundry Carpel．Hindwood Floors
Can Gorten 476．2962

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1／2 block from campus．
Modern 2 bedroom apartments．
Wall to wall carpet．
Air conditioned．Dishwasher aundry．Low utilities 302 Marshall St （across from Haven）． Gacross ifrom Haven）．
University Area Apts 479－5005

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS．
1011 E．Adams
509 University
Carpeted，Air Conditioned Furnished，Secure，Laundry，Parking

University Area Apts
www．universityarea．com
Your off－campus
home for 2000－01
Nicely furnished
3 BEDROOM
apartments．
double beds
dishwashers
microwave
washer／dryer
carpeted
off street parking
owner managed
CALL TODAY
PETER 427－0052
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O．P．R． \\
Developers \\
1，2，3－4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers， \\
microwaves， \\
dirposal． \\
All Locastems \\
Pricios \(/\) \\
P78－6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

FOUR BEDROOM Funished，Dishwasher，Two Porches， 476－2982

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave．
2 blocks from campus．
Modern 3 bedroom apartments
Wall to wall carpet． Large bedrooms． Laundry．Parking．Alarms． Lowest rents for new construction． new constructio University Area Apts
www．universityarea．com
2，3，445 bedoom apatmenis．Furnished，all tilities included，laundy．parking．One block from campus near law sctiod ESF．May＋August svailability．425－1883．

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM PARTMENTS，AND 4，5，6，
BEDROOM HOUSES．

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILL．COM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \(\qquad\) \\
\hline Ackerman furnished spacious two EdRm off parking laundry lacilities utilities incl．446－6576 \\
\hline 1．2．3．4 \＆5 Bdrri Apartmenis．Houses＋Stu Cleon，Spacious．Superior Concition，some recenty renovated．Walking distance．lau parkinc 474－6791 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Studio，One and Two Bedroom Apts．close to Campus．Laundry， Parking，Lease， Heated 440－6200 437－7577

1 Badroom Furnished／Unfurnished．Walking Parking．Call 422 －7305

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave．
2，3，AND 4
Bedroom Apartments．
Uulities included．Fully furnished．Fents floors．Wall to wall carpot Fats Townhouses．Remodeled kitchens a baths．Dishwashers．Porcthes．Laundry．

Parking．24hour maintenance． www．universityarea，com
University Area Apts 479－5005

Large 2 bedroom． 2 fult bath．Walking distance
S．U．of streat parking Laundry．Call 422.7305 ． ． nee and Two Bedroom Harison Avenues Leasos Companct and ast month and Securik．No Pets Ahlow
Graduates Prolerred Cail \(422-7755\)
Available mid August． 3 bedroom tlat very near ption．（ivingroom with fireplace，ofiningroom kitcteen，porch，coin－op wastrer + chyer． \(425-8168\) ．1／2 Bedroom attic apartment on quiel street． applianceas Suitable tor single or couple．Avaiiable une \(13 t 5350.00\) per month plus viritios．

2Bedroorn LargeFlat availabio June，duly，Augus OtistParking dishwasher buindy NowCarpet 5810ct－10－ampus \($ 420\) Se

Works dy Syracuse University students Nik Moore and Aubree Murray are also featured in the group show.

Moore, a sophomore illustration major, said he sought to convey the violent destruction of the Native American culture in his mixed media sculpture, titled "Race Traitor.

The composition includes two abstracted figures made of a newsprint collage set against a stark Eray and black background Materials in porated various materials in the piece, including copper wire and a wooden ruler

Moore drew inspiration from his experience in tattooing Native American images, which tend to be very \(\quad\) rabt,

All three aspects of his life - showing work, illustrating and working as a tattoo artist Moore said.

When he graduates from SU, Moore plans to open an art stud three directions, he added. This show represents the fourth time Moore has exhibited his work at the Metaphorestry Gallery.

Brett Krauss, a senior illustration major, admitted that he does not understand exactly what Moore's work is trying to portray, but said he likes the mixed media presentation.

Krauss complimented the circular composition created by tall figure leaning over a smaller, seated form. going," he said. Murray, a senior cultural anthropology major, showed a series of four black and white photographs from her travels in London, and two color photographs from a visit to Lockerbie, Scotland. bie, Scotland.

In one photograph, a grafliti streak rips across a concrete wall. Several of Murray's works incorporate crumbling bricks and other signs of non-organic decay.

Murray said she wanted to capture London from a different angle. Through the camera lens, Murray aimed to capture quality of ordinary industrial quality of ordinary city life.
unted on bhotographs are mounted on blocks concrete plate of glass. The idea for this plate of glass. The idea for this the owners of the came from Michael Barletta and Michael Swatt, Murray said.

\section*{late sarl}

Murray was only introduced to photography while miThis is in the subject at SU. she has exhibited her photography, she said.
m especially impressed by the black and white photography because she captures the mundane images in a really unusual and artistic way," said sociology major who attended the gallery opening.

The Skull" by Aubree Murray, a senior cultural anthropology major and photography minor, is another fea tured piece at the Metaphorestry Gallery's Origin extibit

Sheila Pitt, a coordinator at the Visitors' Center of The College of Arts and Sciences, visit ed the Metaphorestry Gallery for the first time, especially to see Murray's photography, she said.
"It's a great opportunity for students to get involved in the community and a great opporworks by students" Pitt to see works by students, cludes works in various media ranging from ceramics, to acrylic paintings to photography."I' ety of mimpressed at the variety of work the gallery offers," Nadelman said. "There's also a nice mixture of people here that makes it a really nice atmosphere."

But not everyone is as impressed with the art scene that yracuse has to offer.

It sucks," Williams said.
Independent galleries such as the Metaphorestry Gallery and Gallery 210 are trying to revitalize the scene in the city. \(t\) is important to have a community for artists to better associate themselves with each ther, Williams added.
he SU grad, who applied to the SU graduate school, remained optimist scene's potential.
definitely not an the moment is definitely not a great scene," he definitely not a great scene, he said. "But it's getting better."

\section*{[C]aSSIfieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Dircetor 443-9793}

\author{
ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease \\ Avail June, July + Aug \\ 445-0540
}

Surnmer Special. Newiy remodeled 4 bedroom llat. 225.00 per fom campus. All utilities includ dryer, parking, posch.
Availabie \(5 / 21-8 / 17\) 472-8619
One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, taundry, quiet building, close to campus, laundry, quiet buildifg, colose to campus, 476-2982

Latge 3 bedroom. 2 lull bath. Walking distance S.U. oil street parking. Laundry-Call 422-7305.

Universiry 283 Bedroorn TownHouses \(&\) Flats. Inexpensive and mint condition. Washer/Dryer, Fireplace, finished Dasembit, Call \(449-0109\). 204 Ostrom Eficiency Ons and 2Bedrom Seare Blog Laundry Parking Very Clean
Avail sund 445.5186
2 Bedroom apt with 2 car grage. 1with 2 car gaage 125 Kansingion Rcorner of Lancas:er \($ 550472.2667\)
One Bedroom A partments Close io Campus,Whilites inciuded, Oakik ficors, fite place, furnished parking, very clean, laundry Cat \(G\) Grdon \(476-2982\).parking, very clean, laundry Call Gordon 476-2982.
Fumisted 2-5Bedroom Houses Aparments Fivingston, Sumnet, Ackerman, Euciid 469-6665 4Bedrooms lumished laat with all utilices induutedOne block from campus near Law School +ESE, 2 lull bathrooms, carpol. 2 aundlull bathrooms, carpol. laundry, parking. AvailbleAlayor August. 5305 per person. 477-1574
Bedroom Apts 202. 204 Ostrom. 105 Euclid Torraca Lange Rooms Hardmood Floors Avail tunteor Avg 446.5186bur move of campus!Four move oincampus!
Houses

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5,6

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Large 5 Bedroor House. Huge off Streel Parking
Lol. 1 thoek to campus 721 Ostrom Ave. \(446-3693\) Wanted! (2) Non-smoking Prol/Grad temates to Wanted! (2) Non-smboking Prol/Grad share lurnished house w/owner /comrnuter Westcott St. buslinel laundry! utilities included Avail. 41' yriease \($ 4004478.1506\) Charming English Tudor House on Comstock 5 Bedrooms. Fireplace. across Irom Womens Eldg. Avail 520 475-1012, (E433514-3681 Large Single Family ftrnished house Parking. fireplace. free laundry, dishwasher, mature tenants 682-3304
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Lovely, Spacious \\
Five Bedroom House \\
ceramic tile, fireplace, hardwood filoors fumished. garage, free laundry good loeation s3asibetroom: also smalier Four Bedroom Houso \($ 255 /\) /Bedroem 446-7611
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Big House lor tent. 813 Comstock Newly renovatet. Perfect ior a group of mature students. Call 424-7867. 6e2-3304

\section*{LOOK AT THIS!} Spacious six bedrom, Furnished Houcn wdishwasher and six large bed fooms and two full bathrooms. Olf streel parking "1h

GREAT HOUSES, GREAT LOCATION BOO BLOCK OSTROM 5 BEDROOMS LAUNDRYDISHWASHER HARDWOOD CALL BRAD 424-0218/ 423-9142

University nicely furnished 5 bedroom study house 3 car garage extra parking included close walk to SU hospitals law \(478-2642\)

\section*{Rooms}

Summer

\section*{}

PERSONALS Sports Lines
Are you in charge of ordering TStirts or Party Favors lor your organization? Visis ouf website Fawors lor your organization? Visit out website www.progra phicssportswearcom tor inousands www.pro of ideas.

\section*{SERVICES}

Travel

SPRING GREAK. GRAD WEEK
S75 & UP Per Person www.retreatriyrtebeach.corn
t-800-645-36tB

\section*{Misc.}

A NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As-always, please use caution when replying or teing replied from any advertisernent in each teing replied from any advertisement in each issue, for The Daily Orange does not take reissute, for the Dally Orange does not take respansibility tor any misconduct resulting in contact between yourselt and adventiser.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{Ebce}

Right on
During the next eight months, state legisla tors, the U.S. Supreme Court and voters will help determine how gay and lesbian relationships are recognized. how effectively civil rights taws can be used to promote homosexual equality and which side is ascendant in the culture war over America's most controversial California voters will decide on Thesday's bitterly con tested ballot initiative on whether that state should recognize something so cuttingedge that it's not yet legal: marriage between members of the same sex.

\section*{Eat up}

Executives at FritoLay Inc., Seagram Co. Gerber Products Co. and H.J. Heinz Co. have announced they will not use genetically modified crops in their products. Vandals protesting the technology, meanwhise have trashed researci labs from California to Maine. On Friday, it was leamed that the Clinton administration plans to seek a ban on genetically engineered grains in a food labeled "organic.

\section*{Cyber vote}

Americans have mar aged to do a remarkable number of things over the internet - buy cars, book vacations and find spouses. One thing they haven't been able to do however, is cast a mear ingful ballot. That is about to change. Nex Saturday. Arizona Democrats plan to complete the firstever binding online vote as part of their presidential nomsnating caucuses. Attomey General Janer Reno recently approved the plan that will allow Arizona Democrats to vote via the party Web site any time between Tuesday and Friday. The party plans to install computers for interne voting at 125 poling places. Reno cautioned that the Justice Department intends to monitor the voting close hy to make sure it does not amount to discrimination against minorities and the poor.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Imprisoned in every fat man, a thin one is wildly signalling to be et out.
Cyril Connolly

Sapna
Kollali,
cditor life(2daily orange.com

\section*{[lifestyle]}

"Dreaming Angel" by Aubree Murray, a senior cuftural anthropology major and photography minor, is one of the featured works at the Origin extibit at ne Motaphorestry Gallery.

\title{
Ihe eve of the neholicer Iocal aft gallery ehnibil shows unustal forms ol art and beauliy
}

\section*{BY CAROLINE CHEN}

\section*{Staff Writer}

In artist Chris Williams \({ }^{*}\) multimedia sculpture "Origin," the phrases "hard life," "easy life" reen squardecision appear on a serics ofresent the artist's creative process.
, "I want people to look at the texture, to feel it, Wiliams said. "And say, "How the hell did he get that?

This idea of the origination of thought and the destructiveness of human nature represents the theme for the current show, which opened last Thursday at the Metaphorestry Gallery, 18 W. Genesee St.

The "Origin" show, which runs through April 13, includes submissions from area artists Colette Copeland, Ben Ogden, Aimee Gerde, Kevin Hewitt, Michael Barletta, Chris Williams, Robert Morache and David Lisi. Morache and David Lísí.

See METAPHIRESIAY page 23

\section*{0}

Metaphorestry Gallery is ocated on the second floor of Genesee St and is open Mond is open Friday from 2 Friday from 2 -Origin \({ }^{-}\)exhibit uns through April 13. For more information, call 423-0192.

\section*{Deadlights' debut album lacks originality, energy}

There is a certain irony in debut albums. Often times, the young artists are unsure of the sound they are looking for and experiment with many differ styles. As their careers progress, the bands

\section*{Chris stick with it, never dar-}

Piazza ing to experiment again.
tainly experiment with different sounds on their self-titled debut album, often within the same song. So why do the majority of the tracks sound so familiar? Probably because The Deadlights rip off every successful hard rock band they can get their hands on. They try to be everyone else at once, and consequently form no identity of their own

From the look of the disc itself, which looks exactly like "The Downward Spiral," you'd expect The Deadlights to be a rip-off of industrial rockers Nine inch Nails. But from the very beginning of the album, the inspiration for The Deadlights is apparent KoRn.
"Bitter," a brief introductory track, focuses on heavy metal guitar, pounding drums and a lot of shouting. Front man Duke (no first or last name, just Duke, because he is cool) even sounds like KoRn's Jonathan Davis when he is growling at the top of his lungs.

The next track, "Amplifier," follows the same mold, but is carried by its furious energy. The verses are a chaotic mishmash of guitar, drums and shouting, which segue into surprisingly well-arranged choruses. It's derivative, but it is fun to listen to.

Up to a certain point. The Deadlights seem to lose their energy after the first two songs. There is no snap in the guitars, and Duke's growling just becomes monoto nous. Even when the band slows things down in the middle of certain songs, such down in the middle of certain songs, such

See RECORD page 20

\section*{311 gives fans a good show, signs autographs}

Rock/rap band 311 are renowned for their live show, and they rocked and rapped their way through a vigorbus and entertaining set at relied on strong musicianship and pure ene
"I think the show went
Ted pretty well," said vocalist Alvarez and turntablist S.A.
\(\qquad\)
sound man our new material onstage. gives us a chance to mix things up."

311 is on tour promoting its new album, Soundsystem, but sampled evenly from the Ive studio aibums. all has always been a genre-bending band, and its ingredients ran he gamut from sweaty thrash-rock and white boy hip-hop to sleepy reggae riddims. They opened with "Freak Out" from their album

\title{
Police neglect initiative promise
}

Robinson uninformed in wake of robberies THFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor

While two Syracuse University seniors found themselves robbed at gunpoint early Saturday morning, SU Public Safety found itself left in the dark.

The Syracuse Police Department agreed when the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative was established in August that it would inform Public Safety of any ed incidents involving \(S U\) students.

The department, however, failed to notify Public Safety of Saturday's incident, Public Sarety Director Robert Robinson said.
Robine would certainiy want to kno that anytime something affects our students, they contact us. It seems right now that no one has done that."

Syracuse Police Spokesman David Sackett confirmed that the police department normally informs Public Safety of incidents involving SU students.

The two seniors were walking on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue at about \(12: 30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). when a man reportedly approached them and asked them for money. When the students refused, the man pulled out what appeared to be an automatic handgun from his sweatshirt pocket, a police report said. The seniors gave the man lice \($ 35\).

See ROBBERY page 4

\section*{Cappuccino corner}

Starbucks Coffee patrons lounge Monday inside the newly opened shop on Marshall Street. It opened Friday in the fommer Archie's Place, despite concems from area merchants.

BY SAPNA KOLLALI
Lifestyle Editor
Syracuse University-area porches will begin to seem a bit more bare in the coming weeks. Council unanimously passed a law last week prohibiting people from placing upholstered furniture or mattresses on any part of their property that is visible from the surec. Stadents living tioning the law they say was made to target them.
"It's to improve the quality of life in the area," said Harry Lewis, president of the Southeast University Neighborhood Associ ation, who lives at the corner of Lancaster and Buckingham av enues.
SEUNA Lewis and other members of legislation said they support the Majority sponsored by Counci Connell beader Katharine ture outside houses and apart. ments makes the neighborhood look run-down.
"If you see upholstered furniture in front of a house, it doesn't look like a conducive place to live," Lewis said

Lewis said that this is detri. mental to a city that is trying to attract people to move in.
"This is the most densely said. "If everyone has theirlivint said. If everyone has theirliving problem. People don't want to probe there."

Lewis said the furniture See FURNITURE page 3

\section*{Fours reopens on Marshall Street}

It was just a big misunderstanding.
Everything was taken care of and we're back in business. \({ }^{5}\)

\section*{MIKE DISCO} Fours bartender. senior policy studies major

\section*{BY EMILY KULKUS}

Managing Editor
Just three days after New York state tax officials seized 44's Tavern; the popular Marshall Street bar will eopen its doors today to the public.
aration and Finance issued three ortaxanding warronts for sales withholding and corporate tax evasion by Fours, forcing the state to seize the property at 113 Marshall St. at about 3 p.m. Friday.

The warrants include outstanding sales tax debts of \($ 7,315.08\) from Oct. 21, 1998, \($ 113,730.07\) from Dec. 14, 1998 and an additional \($ 5,438.96\) from Jan. 12 of this year, said Michael Bucci, assistant director of communications for the state tax department.

The state tax department and See FOUFS page 6

\section*{Student Government}

\section*{Assembly votes to increase Student Fee}

SGA Partiamentarian Johnatian M KazUHIRO YokOzEKI/The Daity Orange increase the Student Activity Fare by 4 parcont in the \(2001-2002\) school year. The Assembly unanimously accepted the bill, that will Increase the fee in conjunction with the university tuition increases.

BY STEPHANIE SILVER Staff Writer

The Student Activity Fee will raise by 4 percent in 2001 with a motion made Monday by the Student Government Association.

This revision is part of a referendum process that requires a Unajority approval from Syracuse by students, the fee will be increased in the 2001-2002 academic year, said Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor, who proposed the revision.

The students, such as that are graduating within the next two years won't see any benefits," said Taylor, a fifh-year Iy part of a ten-year plan that ly part of a ten-year plan that ensures a positive response to in

See SGA page 8

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Featherbeds surge} in popularity
Luxury... Comfor .. Every inch of your body will be soothed sage." With bedding that makes claims like this, who needs a part ner to have more fun in bed?

Luxury pillowtop mattresses, individually customized "sleep surfaces, \({ }^{-}\)and anything that looks warm. plushy and deliciously indulgent are proving irresistible to comforthungry consumers. Featherbeds are, in fact, flying off the shelves. So are spe cialty beds that can be adjusted for firmness with the push of a buton, as well as expensive, high-thread-count sheets to cover them.

\section*{Baboons don't \\ answer call}

Anyone who has watched one of those nature specials on tele his heartstrings tugged by scenes of young ani mals callines out after being separated from their mothers and the mothers calling back.

New research, how ever, suggests that mother baboons do no call back to their offspring when they are semarated. baboons don't care about their young.

Instead, they may not have the capacity to understand that other animals have knowiedge, thoughts and feelings apart from their own, a group of scientists proposes.

\section*{Flashing lights}

Two years ago, flasting lights in an episode of the "Pokemon" television cartoon reportedly triggered seizures in 685 Japanese children. Italian researchers think they have figured out why it happened.

Vittorio Porciatti and colleagues at the University of Pisa sus gest that the event mient have been an example o "photoreceptive epilep sy," a condition that makes 0.5 percent to 0.8 percent of children ages 4 to 14 prone to seizures from visual stim ulation.

The researchers corm pared 12 normal volurt teers to 11 children and young adults suffering from the condition. When patients with the disorder were exposed to patterns of high contrast, they experienced abnormal activity in a part of the orain involved in the con trol of responses to visu al stimuli.

\section*{Jet skids, crashes into car}

LOS ANGELES - A Southwest Airlines jot carrying 137 passengers and ive crew members careened of a Burbank Airport runway Sunday night, skidding to a stop on an acjacent street where slightly injured.

The jet, a 737 arriving from as Vegas, was landing at about 11 phe. PSi when it shrough a barrier at the end of the runway and came to a stop on Hollywood Way, a few yards from a gas station.

The pilot suffered cuts to his scalp and was taken to a nearby hospital where he was listed in fair condition. Two passengers were also transported to the hospita complaining of back pains.

As the plane skidded across Hollywood Way, it struck a Ford Taurus, carrying a woman and an infant. But officials said neither were injured.

Federal Aviation Administra tion officials said it was too soon to determine the cause of the accident, but a spokesman said it ap peared the pilot overshot the runway.

Several passengers and witnesses said the plane appeared to and too fast

Althoug the landing was rightening, passengers said no one on board panicked as the plane came to a stop and the crew begran evacuation. The inflatable chute functioned, forcing the passengers to exit from tric rear chute.

Onceall 132 passengers were on the ground, they began to weep and hug early other.
The plane came to a rest only a few yards from the gas station.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Class resumes in Michigan}

MOUNT MOREIS TOWNSHIP, Mich. - Greeted by teddy bears and extra security, Buell Elementary School children returned to class Monday for the first time since a first-grader was shot to death in her classroom.

Room 6, where the shooting occurred, had been cleaned and repainted. Trauma counselors with teddy bears were in each room to help the children, and by the lunch break, some childrea were skipping on the sidewalk out front. Plainclothes and uniformed police officers were inside and outside the school. School officials wovid nat give attendance figures.

The 6 -year-old boy ac. cused of killing Kayla wasn't at Buell, or any other school, on Monday, and officials are determining hi

The U.S. and Michigan flags remained at half-staff, and a nearby evergreen tree with stuffed animals at its ribbons in memory of Kayla.

\section*{Judge convicts N.Y. officers}

NEW YORK CITY - Three white officers were convicted of conspining to cover up an officer's role in the precinct house torture of Haitian immigrant Abner Louima.

A federal court jury reached its verdict on the fourth day of deliberations in the second trial stemming from the 1997 incident that horrified an already race-conscious city. The case went to the jury less than a week after four other white officers were acquitted in another racially charged case: the February 1999 shooting death of African immigrant Amadou Diallo

Former officer Charles Schwarz, officer Thomas Wiese and Thomas Bruder were found guilty of conspiracy to obstruct justice because they had claimed that Schwarz was not present couring the attack on Louima. They could be sentenced to five years in prison.

Schwarz already faces a possible life sentence for his 1999 conviction for violating Louima's civil rights by holding him down as Officer Justin Volpe sodomized him a Broaklym stationhoom handle in on Aug 91097. on Aug. 9, 1997.

\section*{world news}

\section*{China hikes military budgets \\ BEIJING - The Chinese} economy will grow by 7 percent, and the painful task of reorganizing money-losing state enterprises will move ahead during the year 2000 , the government said Monday in its annual budget presenAt.

At the same time, the People's Liberation Army, the world's largest military force, will get a sizsble boost in spending. Its budget will be up almost 13 percent from last year, even as the government hays off bureaucrats, scales down social welfare programsial institutions.

The 7 percent growth target is considered crucial for China to generate enough jobs to absorb new entrants into the labor market, and also millions of workers who have lost their jobs due to reforms in the state sector.

\section*{Child murder shocks Japan}

TOKYO - Mitsuko Yamada made her first appearance in made her first appearance in court today, tearfully pleading gling the two-year-old danghter of a woman who was once her close a woma

The murder last November has been attributed to a variety of motives, including school competi-

\section*{Court rejects} nil tanker laws
WASHINGTON D.C-The Supreme Court rejected Washington state repulations of oil tankers adopted after the disastrous 1989 Exxon Valdezspill, in a unanimous decision that said federal laws covering tankers geal ally take precedence.
Theruling is a reversal for Washirgton state in its effort to protect Puget Sound and other waterways from oil pollution and a victory for international tank owners, as well as the Clinton adminis. tration, which articed the state had created conflicting, stricter regulations where national ix niformity was required.
Justice Anthony M. Kennedy acknowledged in his opinion for the court that states have vast powers in the cederal structure \(=\) a domi nant themefor this court But, Kennedy emphasized, maritime trade and vessel regulation havelong been controlled by the federal gov* ernment.
tion, snobbery and bullying. The prosecutor cloarged today that Yamada felt spurned by Naomi Wakayamz, the mother of Haruma, and began tohateher. He said she was tormented by having to appear friendly with Wy Waving ma because they both Wad two-year-old daughters as well as five year-old sozas who attended the same kindergarten and had the plied to the same elementary school.

So she took Elaruna from the kindergartem playgrounci last Nov. 22 while ber mother was chatting carried her into a neartoy public toilet and strangled her. She buried the body at her mother's house in the countrysiale. Theree days later, she went to a police station with ber husbandi and confessed.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

2 Marina Skrabalo, a public administration graduate student, and Ron Brown, a Global Affairs Institute fellow, tell of peacebuild. ing work in Croatia at 1 p.m. in the Noble Room at Hendricks Chapel. They will speak as part Of the "Future Professors and Professionals" segment Millennium Women series.
- Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a Bible Study from 7 p.in. hosts a B to \(9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).

Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at \(7: 30\) p.m. at 820 E. Genesec St. Tickets are \($ 15-$ 38\), dis. counts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more
-TM SU
■ The SU Outing Club meets from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the from \(7: 30\) p.m. to 9 p.m. in \(t\)
Hall of Languages, Room 214 .
\(\square\) The College of Arts and Sciences hosts Allison Rogovin, the regionai recruiter from Teach for America, at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500 , and Gifrord Auditorium, respectively. Rogovin will speak about the opportunities for Salaried teaching position without teaching degrees. All majors are invited, The session is aimed at juniors, so studerits.
- Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a Bible study from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.
- Stephen Browne, Pennsylvania State University associate professor, speaks at 2:30 p.m. in regarding "Rhetoric and Public Megarding

T The Career Development Center hosts "How to Find an Internship" from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Newhouse 1, Room 20.
- Newhouse I hosts "Writing for Results" from 6 p.m. to 7 D.m. in from A2.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- Lambda Upsilon Lambda and La LUCHA present "Elian Gonzalez and the Conspiracy to Keep fim in the United States"at 7 p.m. in the Schine Student Cen7 p.m. in the Schine Student Cenbe served.

\section*{Professor dies at 58, school mourns}

BY KEVIN TAMPONE Asst. News Editor

Jeffery Katzer, associate dean and professor in the Syracuse University School of Information Studes, died Saturday at the age of 58 .
"Fe really emboded the spirit of this ored the spizit of tion," said Raymond von Dran, school dean. "He was the kind of person that anyone could confide in."

Katzer joined the chools faculty in 1968, when the school was just beginning at SU. He found the school a loosely grouped mix of faculty focused on library science and helped to transform it into a national leader in the in-
"There's not a faculty mem ber here in IST, including myself, that he didn't have a hand in interviewing, hiring or mentoring," von Dran said. "He helped us all."

Commitment to students was one of the most important things to Katzer, von Dran said. He was always able to see the posistudents and colleagues and strove to help them improve themselves, he added.

Despite his relatively young age, Katzer was wised his intelligence to used his inteligence to work for the school and those surrounding him, von Dran said.

He always helped other people compete," von Dran said. self."

As associate dean, Katzer was responsible for curriculum development, faculty develop ment and research within the school. During his tenure at the doctoral prorram and directed doctoral prob during several dif the pragram during several dif ferent periods

Katzer's presence at the school was a constant uplift for all his colleagues, said Barbara Kwasnik, a professorat the school.
"What I remember the most about him is what an incredible colleague he was," she said. "He was a very gentle person with a great sense of humor."

Katzer's wit was one thing both von Dran and Kwasnik said people throughout the school will remember. His joking manner has been helping many of his colleagues work through this difficult time, Kwasnik said.
liners that he might say right now," she said. "I saw him last Thursday and he was still acting very smart."

Former and current students of Katzer's have sent more han 20 messages to the school listserv during the past several memories of Katzer and his per onality Kwasnik said Common onality, Kwasnik said. Common Katzer's dedication to his students, kindness and ability to hallenge his students' mental capacity, she said.
\({ }^{4}\) He could teach a brick wall to think critically," Kwasnik quoted one student.

Kwasnik said that Katzer's oughness in the classroom was well known throughout the chool.
"He was brilliant, but never gotistical. He always used his tudents think," she said. "He told me once that was his goal."

A memorial service for Fatzer will be held at \(2: 30\) p.m Wednesday in Hendricks Chapel. School faculty and staff are planning to read some of the messages from students at the service. Kwasnik said. Katzer is survived by his wife Linda. and his children andrew and Jill Kitzer was diarewosed with Katzer was diagnosed with cancer in Octover, but continued until he was not able to Kwasnils said.

That dedication and love for the school, as well as the improvements he made to the program, ensure that Katzer leaves a legacy for all future students, faculty and staff in the school, Kwasnik said.
"One of the things he did really woll was he engendered a sense of community in our school," she said. "He was so fair and so balanced.

As for the rest af you, you're still on your own.
For your recommended daily allowance of study resources. look no further than WebCT.com it's an e-learning hub. where you can get help studying. find research materials. and take practice tests and quizzes. Or join online academic forums and communicate with students and faculty around the world. Visit www.webct.com/nourish. and satisfy that hungry brain of yours. On the other hand. if it's your body that needs feeding. better call for takeout. Again.

\section*{Pan Am trial prosecutor resigns, new counsel takes role}

BY JOY DAVIA
Special Projects Editor
The newly appointed prosecutor in the Pam Am Flight 103 case traveled from Scotland to the Boston area Saturday to alleviate the victims' family members' concerns that the change in leadership would weaken the trial.

Bob Ilunt, who lost his daughter when the plane exploded in Dec. 1998 over Lockerbie, Scotland, said he is concerned that the new prosecutor, Scotland's solicitor-general Colin Boyd, will not have enough time to prepare for the May 3 trial against the two L:byans suspected of the bombing.
"I would rather delay the trial and have the new prosecutor well-versed in the case and not make any errors, said urday's mecting.

Eleven Lockerbie residents on the ground and 259 passengers, including 35 Syracuse Unigers, including 35 Syracuse University students returning from a semester abroad in London, died in the bornbing.

The Saturday meeting was with the Vietims Families of Pan Am Flight 103 group, which meets about four times a year.

Boyd replaced his former superior in the trial, Lord Andrew Hardic, who stepped down from the trial last month to become a judge.

Helen Englehard, who lost her husband in the explosion, said Boyd's priar role as the number two" man on the proseution team should help him prepare for his new leading role.

There have been speculations in the media, however, that Hardie stepped down because the case against the two Libyans was Dios, a freshman business major at SU.
But the media speculations unfounded, she added.
"The media doesn't know what they are talking about," she said. "They keep saying, "There is no case, there is no case.' But no evidence has been released."

The Scottish have been "tight-lipped" about the case, which includes 10,000 pieces of evidence and 1,000 witnesses, Dios added.

Her aunt, an SU masters student in the College for Human Development at the time, died in in the bombing.

Dios said she did not expect Hardie to resign, especially because of the constant communication he had with the victims amilies, includig "I was cards
"I was surprised," she said. But when I read that he took a judgeship, it's understandable."

Hardie's resignation is one more complication in the fami lies' 1l-ycar struggle to bring those responsible for the bombing tojustice.

In November 1991, Scotland issued warrants for the arrests of Libyans Abdel Baset Ali Mo hamed al Megrahi and Lamen Khalifa Fhimah. The two Libyans suspected in the bornbing were not brought into custody until the fall of 1993 because Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi refused to hand them over.

But Gadhafi agreed in 1998 to release the suspects if they would be tried by a Scottish judge in a neutral country.

The contents of this agreement was never revealed, Hunt said, leadine him and other fami ly members of the victims to wor yy members Gadhafi may have been cranted immunity if he became suspect during the trial.
"There are certain things no one wants us to see," he said. "I am afraid the people who were the mastermind behind it will go unpunished."

Englehard, who runs a Pan Am newsletter for the victims' families, said her goal for the trial is for new evidence to surface that may point to Gadhanis inshe added, if the two suspects plead guilty and are sent rigects plead guilty and are sent right to preventing now evidence to sur face.

Dios agreed with Englehard's concerns, and referred to the victims' families groups sloGan titled, "The Truth Must Be
"I hope the truth comes out and they don't run us around the bush," she said. "I hope the evidence directs them toward Gad hafi."

\section*{ROBBERY}
continued from page 1
Earlier Friday night, Aurelio Guzmán, another SU student was approached in the same location, wh man of a similar description, cave the man the money and the bave the man the mo man drove away

Guzmán said he called Public Safety to report the incident around 2 a.m.

Public Safety told him it was an off-campus incident and suggested that he call Syracuse police, he said.

The street is one of many off-campus neighborhoods that is being policed as part of the patrol ing policed as part of the initiative, Robinson said.
"That's an area we highly patrol," he said. "When I say highly patrolled, I would guess it's patrolled fairly regularly under the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative."

SU Public Safety, however, has little influence patrolling the area, Robinson said. Because it is not on SU property, most matcers in these off-campus neighborhoods are dealt with by the police department.
we are powerless to go off work with the city," Robinson said. "I would think that the poice department will take a good ook at what's happened and beef up patrolling there."

While the police department can make extensive efforts to patrol the area, they cannot be in all places at once, Sackett said.
"You could have a patrol on every corner and if something happens between, there's nothing happens between, there's nothing you can do," Sackett said. "You're can't always count on that. All you can do is try."

Saturday's robbery is the fourth this year involving \(S U\)

\section*{students.}
"Even one is too many," Robinson said.

On Feb. 7 , an unidentified man robbed an SU student at gunpaint in Thornden park. The gunpaint in Thornden park. The robber took the student's wallet cense. November, three SU seIn Novembe niors were robbed at gunpoint in Two men entered the apartment. Two men entered the apartment, in their bathroom. The men left with a car, cash and a laptop computer.

In October, a group of men robbed and beat four SU students on Euclid Avenue and Reddents on Eu field Place.
"Off campus, these things happen," Robinson said. "What I do know is that sometimes our chances. Some things ares coing to happen. Thornden Park is not the best park at night. We know that. But people aren't going to stop going through there.
"When you're young, you don't think thiñ 学s will happan to you."

\section*{Syracuse University}

FOCUS on the FUTURE Win \($ 500\)

FOCUS on the FUTURE

\section*{Campus}

\section*{Directory}

\section*{Cover Contest}

\section*{1. Print entry form: \\ http://www.syracuse.edu/common/directory-contest/}
2. Create design:

Original art work
Photographs
Computer-generated images
3. Submit entry form and design:

211 Machinery Hall
by Friday, March 31, 5:00 PM

\section*{Any member of the \(S U\) community can participate.}

If you have questions, please call Telecommunications at 443-1228 or send an email to daerwin@syr.edu.

\section*{UNIVERSITY AREA APTS.} 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

2 BEDROOM APARTMENT TOAD HALL 302 MARSHALL ST. (ACROSS FROM HAVEN)

*Wall to Wall Carpet
Zoned Thermostats
* Air Conditioned

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. Email your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call \(443-9793\) for more information.

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Off-campus patrols miss crucial crimes}

Crack open a beer on your porch and the cops will be there in no time. Run into a hooded man with a gun in the street, and you could be waiting for help all night-or worse.

Three Syracuse University students were robbed at gunpoint last weekend on Ackerman Avenue while cops broke up parties just blocks away.

SU spent \($ 46,000\) last year to form the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative with the Syracuse Police Department. But it was gripes about student noise from community groups, not safety complaints from students, that led SU to step up their "security" measures.

The university says that Public Safety's union with police aims to protect SU students. But it flunked the test.

SU students' tuition fills the city police's coffers, but students still can't stroll down their own street after dark without watching their back every step of the way.

On the university's dime, the Syracuse police prowl for loud parties and raucous drinkers while armed predators jump students on the same darkened streets. Students living off campus must also contend with frequent break-ins to their cars and apartments.

SU should prioritize student safety, rather than pacify vocal community residents fiurious after last year's Livingston Avenue student riot.

Dollars would be better spent if police kept their eyes peeled for the real crimes that plague the SU Hill - car break-ins, muggings and apartment burglaries.

Instead, SU collaborates with police and doles out punishments through Judicial Affairs for noise violations and underage drinking done offcampus. The Student Code of Conduct, SU says, applies to students no matter where they are.

SUs efforts to keep the peace are thwarted, however, when the most dangerous criminals escape penalty-free.

Hopefully, it won't take a robbery gone awry and a bullet in a student's brain for SU to figure out what real safety threats are.

\section*{The}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Edito Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Sports Editar Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Directo Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Design Editor Design Edtor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

Holly Auer Sapna Koliati Joy Davia Bifl Ehninger Adeet Deshmukh Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki
Kate Stevenson
Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampone vin Tampone
Corey Mann Magin McKenna Connor Ennis Jeff Passan Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Tito Boteitta
Ton Marson Rachael Eovifen

Lism Caswell Ron Fooks Marisa Gordon

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Block Party lineup fails to meet goal of campus unity}

A wave a relief passed over me as I read through the list of stops on MTV's Campus Invasion Tour. The tour, headlined by those English wankers Bush and technocrat Moby, will sludge its way through Providence College and the State University of New York at Oswego. Syracuse University failed to malse the illustrious cut.

Last year, the corporate chords of Sugar Ray and Orgy screeched into South Campus for a cheap imitation of Block Party:
What uscd to be a time when students would spend the day in the sundents would spend the day in the sunshine with other students was spoiled by MTV's hideous seal of approvai.

Not only did booths close early, but the event was ransacked by acnesaturated teen-agers. Students from Jamesville-DeWitt and Nottingham high schools crowded the stage as their parents chaperoned, heavily out numbering SUs contagion. This left several SU students scratching their

\section*{ASHOK}

\section*{heads, wondering if this free concert was worthy of the} price they paid.

For years Block Party was an event SU students looked forward to. Even myself, the professional procrasti nator, would mow through pages of reading and other nane assignments ahead of time just so \(I\) could join in on I ca
I can only imagine the difficulty Student Government Association and University Union has in choosing a lineequation.

So I decided to stroll into Maxwell Auditoriun Monday night for SGA's weekly meeting. Sunely sorneone would be on hand to address my Block Party concerns. After all SGA was the "students' protector" - they'colld quickly and efficiently answer my questions.

I remember this school year's first SGA meeting. Maxwell was filled with many wide-eyed freshmen, want ing to make a true difference in their community.

Monday's meeting lacked that eagerness. Of the 23 people present, only a few seemed to care.

SGA President Jamal James, Comptroller Chris Greiner and Parliamentarian Jonathon M. Taylor form a At six-feet-five-inches tall Greiner hovered a
At six-feet-five-inches tall, Greiner hovered around Maxwell's upper atrium with Darth Vader-esque pre
He moved up and down wearing a gray sweatshirt.

Tayior most resembles Luke Skywalker, without Jedi master training. He has thorough knowledge of SGA code, but lacks the charm to convey his points. A fow seasoning sessions with Yoda would cure his blues.

James is the Han Solo of the bunch - sans Chewie. An irreverent maverick, James sits in SGA's captain's seat rather than the Millennium Falcon's. SGA feck, George Lucas has nothing on these guys. While SGA fails to move with the speed of a galactic soap opera, here are some truly touching moments.
like when Taylor started swearing. By the looks of the matter, you wouldn't think that Taylor would use obscenities, but he did so twice.
tressed about Taylor's filthy tongue
"This is the SGA Assembly, not a bar," exclaimed Greiner, as he sat in the front row with his feet raised up on the stage.
I mulled over whether to leave or not. SGA's drama may not have been Sophoclean, but I needed answers. Finally Greiner came clean, the mask came off and Anakin emerged.

He said that Block Party will be a three-day event with speakers and a variety of artists. UU was trying to lure South Park creators Matt Stone and Irey Parker. tantly, MTV is not currently part of the picture, Greiner ranty, M

But I had further questions.
During early spring 1997, I remember walking with my roommate to use the automatic teller machines on the for my roommate to finish his computerized banking I overheard a conversation between a group of black students, discussing Block Party.
"What they need is something like Wu Tang (Clan)," one of the girls said. "And something for them ... what do you call, what do you call it ... Motley Crue?

I had the usual shocked and appalled reaction ingrained in my head. I envisioned Block Party as the chance for the entire campus to share a moment together. I shared these concerns with Jarnes, who said he thought Block Party could represent a spectrum of musical genres. my head. At least I didn't have to put up with Jar Jar

Ashok Selvam is a senior newspaper major. His columr appears Thesdays in The Daily Onange. E-mail him umr appears tuesda

\section*{letters}

\section*{SU students volunteer, work for local causes}

To the Editor:
Many letters which have appeared in The Daily Orange have angered me, but none has inspired me to submit a response so much as a letter Which appeared in Monday's issue entitled Generathy; vanity.

Mr. Katcher, I have a few things to say. First of all, speals for yourself Perthaps you are" "too preoccupied with looking good, being popular, having the most expensive jeans and impressing others." But I'd argue that the majority of our generation does not share these shallow values.

Your letter whas full of unsubstantiated claims. Where are the statistics to show that our generation is "probably the most vain, lazy and seifish when it comes to any issue concerning the welfare of our future"? Ironically, your letter was preceded by an article about a group of students who are promoting safety awareness for stuother about a Delta Gamma fundraiser.

Were you aware that student athletes held a Jam Session fund-raiser earlier this month? Did you realize that UU Concerts contributed over \($ 4,000\) to the Ronald McDonald House in January? The Matrilineage Symposium took place a few weeks ago and was produced entirely by hardworking students who were not paid for their eftorts. All over campus, Youll find people in all walks of You'll find people in all walks of life who dont care, aren't generous and have a fuck-the-worid, 1 -only in our generation.

Mr. Katcher, why don't you stop buying into the negative images the media is feeding you and start trying to change the perception or these older generacions you refer to. We are group of people, its just unfortunate that you don't realize that.

Finally, thank you for your "praise and thanks" to those of us who truly do our part. I don't know who put you in charge of the gratitude committee, but people chose to better the world in their own individual ways, and you don't need to bother yourself with determining who is doing their part and who's not. It's not for you to decide.

Beth Stellato
Women in Music Industry. President University Union Concerts. Director of Publicity
Class of 2001

\title{
Hidden \\ viruses \\ infiltrate computers
}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Staft Writer

They are called the "Buddy List" virus and "Pretty Park."

And several Syracuse University students recently found them in their computer accounts, causing their systems to frecze, virus out to their friends.

Both viruses are a type of Trojan Horse, according to a report by McAfee, an anti-virus computer software company. A Trojan Horse is a program that enters a computer user's account disguised as a harmless file or an e-mail from a friend.

The Buddy List virus originated from America Online and affects only users of that interne provider, according to the report.

Mis han works as a pass word stealer, funking memory, montoring inour Aocioing to McAfe. The information is then sent vis cmail to the author of the virus the report added

This program is sprea ough program is spreac through e-mail to line members of the infected computer. A Buddy

List is a list made by an online subscriber to locate their friends online and to set up chats with them.

The virus e-mail is titled "hey you," It contains a letter, semingly from an acquaintance of theaccount holder, about canned photos, according to McAfee.

David Butler, director of SU Network and System Services said he was not informed of the virus.

Amy Burstyn, a sophomore psychology major, said she was infected by the Buddy List virus and cannot operate AOL or turn the computer off normall Burstyn contacted SU Computing and Media Services and is currently waiting for service.

The Pretty Park virus is also ransmitted through e-mail, said Claire Tafelski, a victim of the virus and a freshman political sci ance major.

The virus was first discov ered in mid-February, according to the McAfee report.
"My friend sent it to me," Tafelski said. "The virus e-mails itself to all the people in your address book."

Trojan Horse virse
Trojan Horse" viruses file or an e-mail from a friend.

Name Buddy List

Pretty Park

Disguise
an e-mail, supposedly sent by a friend, that says, "hey i finally got my pies scanned..theres like 5 or 6 of them. .so just download it and unzip it..and for you people who dont know how to then scroll down.,tell me what you think of my pics ok?"

Compiled by Ashleigh Graf
Source: McAice

This virus arrives in the in box of an online mail account disguised as an e-mail sent by a friend, Tafelski said.

Attached to the e-mail is a file titled, "PrettyPark.exe" with an icon of Kenny, a character an icon of Kenny, a character from the television series, "South Park," according to the report.

Once the virus is down loaded, it forces the computer to connect with another Internet server. The virus is then sent out every 30 seconds to all the people in the user's Internet address book, said the report.

After a connection to the server is made, the author of the Pretty Park virus can access information from the infected computer such as credit card numbers, the type of computer used, the name the computer is registered under and dial-up network-ng user names and passwords, according to McAfee.

A couple days later my brother sent me a warning, but it was too Iate," Tafelski said.

Tafelski said her computer will currently turn on, but Windows and the program icons do not work. She said she is taking her computer home this weekend to let her brother try to fix the problem.

Public Safety Reports:

\section*{SU student suspected in Maryland arsons}

\section*{Staff Reports}

Officials from the Montgomery County Fire Departrnent in Maryland interrogated a Syrain Maryland interrogated a Syrain regards to a series of January arsons in the Montgomery area. according to a public safetyreport.
"The MontEomery County case is still open," SU Public Safety Director Robert Robinson said.
"No charges have been filed as yet." SU Public Safety also investigated the student in relation to the series of arsons in Brewster Hall during the 1999 Fall Semester, the report said.

Public Safety, however, was unable to find enough evidence to Brewster Hall fires, the report said.

The student was implicated in the series of Maryland arsons and was referred to SU Judicial Affairs for review, the report said "What happened was they came across some evidence that they drew back to Syracuse University," Robinson said.

The Brewster Hall fires are still under investigation, the report said.
- A Lawrinson Hall resident reported Friday that her car parked in the Standart Street Lot, had been stolen, according to a public safety report.

The student had last seen the car Feb. 27, the report said.
- An unidentified person wrote lewd comments Friday in the dirt on an SU student's car, according to a public safety report.

Public Safety investigated the vandalism incident, the report said.

There are no suspects and no other damage \(w\)

The case is closed until more information can be uncovered, the report said.

A inre extinguisher was thrown Thursday from a fifth floor window of Day Hall, accord ing to a public safety report.

There are no suspects or witnesses, the report said.

Public Safety and the Office of Residence Life were notifled of he incident, the report said
- An SU student was inolved in a fight Friday in front of Maggie's Tavern, 720 University Ave., according to a public safety report.

The student was pushed to the ground by an unidentified person and treated by Rural Metro ambulance service for minor injuries, the report said.
- On a routine patrol of Boland Hall, Public Safety officials discovered an exit sien hang ing from the ceiling by its wires, according to a public safety report.

The officer also noticed several broken ceiling tiles around the sigri, the report said.

The case, considered an act of vandalism, is closed until more information can be uncovered, the report said.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{FOURS}

\section*{continued from page 1}

Fours owner Mare Albert are discussing paymentagreements, Bueci said. Albert said Sunday he would file the appropriate paperwork regarding the tax evasion with the state Monday in order to reopen the bar Tuesday

Bucci could not comment about the specifics of the war rants, however, because of taxpayer privilege restrictions, he said.

Albert confirmed the reopening of the bar but could not be reached Monday for furher comment.

On Sunday, Albert said the bar's failure to pay taxes was because of a miscommunication We those he left to manage been managing the bar froma distance while working at an additional job since October New York City.

Although he noticed prob lems with the business two weeks ago, Albert said be thought those he left in charge during his absence would take care of the tax situation.
On Sunday, Albert decribed Fours as being, "in the best financial shape it's been in n a long time.

And the weekend's closing did not affect his business, Albert said.

But it was one less night of work for Mike Disco, a Fours bartender who was scheduled to work Saturday night. Disco attended a staff meeting Monday might at the bar, when all of the staff was informed of the situation and welcomed back o work.
"It was just a big misunderstanding," said Disco, a senior policy studies major and "Ererything was employe and werte back in business." and we're back in business."

Disco said he was initially very surprised and disappointed to hear of the the bar s closing Friday, but was please I can understand if (Albert) didn't want to discuss his bert) didn't want to discuss his personal fingnces with us, very relieved to hear we're back open.*

\section*{Bernardi, \\ Councilors debate city-country lawsuit \\ aegotiate the issue with the \\ committee that would make rec-}

BY CHRISTINA DENARDO Staff Writer

With Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi sitting a few feet away, Onondaga County Executive Nicholas Pirro denounced the city's decision to sue the county Monday, calling it a "transparent way to create a distraction and transfer blame."

In his annual State of the County address Pirro acknowl edged the unfair situation in which the city is sometimes charged for certain county services twice, but he said the problem should be settled through meetings between the two sides - not lawsuits.

The excess charging occurs when Syracuse residents are charged twice for county services such as 911 and inmate housing at the Justice Center.
"Rather than filing lawsuits and playing the blitme game, I strongly encourage the city to work towardinteligent an proven solutions," Pirro said.

In the lawsuit filed Wednesday, the city, which is running with a \($ 12\) to \($ 15\) million budget with a \($ 12\) to \($ 15\) milion deficit, disputes nearly \($ 15\) mildeficit, disputes nearly \($ 15\) million in county tax charges that came as a result of the doublecameas charging.

The city's lawsuit was filed just days after Pirro himself threatened to sue the city over the county's request for permission to build a sewage pipeline on Midland Avenue.

Although both city and county officials agree the city is unfairly taxed, some county legislators say the only solution would result in higher city taxes. That solution would be to allow the city to contral those services for which they are charged twice.

Following Pirro's address to legislators, Bernardi responded to the county executive's criticism that the city was trying to shift blame to the county for its finnncial problems.
"I am representing the people of the city," he said, adding that city officials are willing to county.

Some members of the Syracuse Common Council and the egislature, however, said they have doubts as to how well the city and county could work together if lawsuits are being wn around.
"It is kind of difficult to have negotiations when your being sued," said Republican Martha Sued, said Republican Martha lator from Syracuse, who is also a lawyer. "If this gets stuck in the courts, it's going to be a nightmare."

Democratic Councilor Joseph O'Hara called the lawsuit "bad manners," and compared the city to a child who wants to take his ball home if he does not get his way.
"We are elected to do a job. As elected officials we should be able to work things out." he said.

The dispute over the doublecharging, however, is not the underlying issue of the city's financial situation, said Joseph Nicoletti, the city's director of operations. City officials are also concerned whew the lerislature will soon debate The distribution of the \($ 175 \mathrm{mil}\) The distribution of the \($ 175 \mathrm{mil}\) county's 4 percent sales tax is an important issue for the city, whose share of the revenue has been shrinking for the past 10 years.

The city would rather negotiate a settlement concerning the double-charging, but if the county fails to give the city a larger proportion of the tax revenue, it will press forward with the suit Nicoletti said.

The county's current sales tax distribution system favors the suburbs instead of the city, Demorratic Floor Lender Sidney Oglesby said.

On Monday, county legislators Oglesby, Clyd OhI, DD-Camillus), William Finne, (D-Syra cuse), and William Sanford (RLiverpool) sponsored separate resolutions to create a sales tax committee that would make recommendations to legislators about distributing sales tax revenue.

A resolution was also introduced by Ed Ryan, a Democratic county legislator, that criticized Oglesby's and Sanford's resolutions as politically motivated. tions as politically motivated.
Ryan's plan calls for involvement from outside the county government to include opinions that would not normally be considered in county government.

The resolution that passed, Sanford's resolution, gives the majority party - the Republicans - more power in appointing committee nembers.

Oglesby said he believes that because most Republicans represent suburban districts, they will be hesitant to give up any revenue to the city.

Sanford, however, said that regardless of who makes up the commitice, the county will consider all opinions before making any decisions. any decisions.

\section*{S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications}

\author{
GRAMMAR, PUNCTUATION, AND SPELLING EXAM
}

Saturday, March 25
10:00A-11:00A in A. NCC!
This is the last GPS exam offered this semester. A passing grade is needed for admission into ADV 207, NEW 205, PRL 205, and TRF 155. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.

To protect against AIDS and other STDs, flways use latex condoms.

\section*{RUTGERS \\ NEW BRUNSWICK} SEM \(200 \square\)

\section*{Fegistiption megines. Feb zep}
```

MANY ER-MMULY E
HEINE EPE-ALUEUGT F
HLLYY TR-AELGESTE 1E

```

Three six-week sessions
A variety of 3, 4 and 8 week courses Undergraduate/Graduate courses Day, Evening and Saturday A.M. classes available

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadine for classified advertisemerts is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash, checks or credit, cards. Call 443-9793 for more information.

SGA
continued from page 1
flation as well as an increase in services provided by the universi-

The Student Fee for the 1999-2000 school year was \($ 100\), plus an additional \($ 6\) for New York Public Interest Research Group activities. It will remain the same next year.

The fee supports student activities including club sports, community darkrooms, Student Legal Services and Syracuse University Ambulance services.

Organizations eurrently request about \($ 2\) million in funding each year and only \($ 1\) million is available, he added.

The fund has been increased six times in the past 20 years in an "inconsistent and sporadic fashion," Taylor said.

The new clause in the bill connects the Student Fee to SU students tuition. Tuition is expected to increase by 5 percent each year for the next two years, Taylor said.

The Student Fee will not increase by more than 4 percent in response to those increases, Taylor added.

\section*{Greiner presses SUNY ESF for more activity fee sup- \\ \section*{Staff Reports} \\ to than SU," said Greiner, a junior finance \\ rently no SUNY ESF representatives in the}

Syracuse University and the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry both pay a Student Activity Fee to fund events and programs run by student organizations on the SU campus.

But the two schools do not pay equal amounts.

The SU Student Fee is \($ 100\) and because of a bill that passed in the Student Government Association Assembly Mon day night, the fee will increase each year parallel to tuition increases starting in the 2001-2002 academic year, SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner said.

SUNY ESF students, however, cur rently pay a $23 Student Fee. But SGA has no authority to raise the SUNY ESF fee because without approval by the New York State Assembly.
"ESF has a higher authority to answer major. "SU can change their Student Ac vity Fee without responding to the state. As a result, while SU students are pay ing an increasing amount of money each year for the Student Fee, SUNY ESF students will continue to pay \($ 23\).
"I can't say that I thinkit's fair," Greiner said. "But it is obvious that the two schools are very different. One is public and one is private.

SGA Assistant Parliamentarian Faith Tartaglia said she may write legislation in the Assembly attempting to increase SUNY ESF fees.
"Right now, they are receiving benefits that they are not paying for," said Tartaglia, a junior chemical engineering major. "Any program that SU runs can be attended by anyone on either campus. The difference is SU has to pay more."
While SGA is a representative body of both \(S U\) and SUNY ESF, there are cur-

Assembly. As a result, no ESF representative was available for comment

David Perritano, a freshman broadcast journalism major, said that the issue is unfair.
"I think they should pay their fair share," Perritano said. "If they receive the exact amount of programming we do, they should pay the exact same Student Activity Fee."

Jason Panus, a freshman landscape ar chitecture major in SUNY ESF, said that the schools are different and therefore the fees should reffect that fact. He also cited a general lack of interest among his fellow students for SU events as a reason for a lower fee.
"Many ESF kids don't go to SU events anyway," he said. "I don't."

Compiled by Staff Writer Joe Piraneo cent, the fee will raise by 2 per cent," he said. "But the increase will never surpass 4 percent. At least until someone else decides o make a new revision."

State University of New York College of Environmental Sciences and Forestry students pay a fraction of the student fee nat SU students pay.
23 in the \(2000-2001\) school payed \($ 23\) in the \(2000-2001\) school ycar whereas \(S U\) students payed \($ 100\). whereas SU students payed \($ 100\). But students of both sch ceive the same services.

These students should be subject to the same fee increases as SU students, SGA Assistant said said.

They have not recognized the last two increases, Taylor said. This is becauscincreases in the SUNY ESF tuition and fees must be approved by the state, he added.
\({ }^{4} \mathrm{I}\) is most likely that this increase will only affect SU students," Taylor said.

Assemblymember Joe Burns, a junior history and political science major, suggested that SUNY fee services until they recognized the increase In 1997 the Student Fee for SUNY ESF students was increased from \($ 21.40\) to \($ 23\).
But they didn't really receive the increase until 1998 because they simply didn't recognize it until "It's something that needs to be addressed."

Assemblymember Dwight Williams, a junior finance major, suggested that SUNY ESF stucent every year until it is compacent every year until it is compa rable to what \(S U\) students pay.

In other SGA news:
SGA members kicked off the Spring 2000 Campaign Thursday at the Brockway Dining Center, said NicHolas Maccarone, SGA exccutive assistant.

Maccarone, Taylor, President Jamal James, Comptroller Chris Greiner and Public Relations Director Edwin Escobar gathered student concerns and recruited SGA Assemblymembers.
"Students felt us," James said. "I told them,'I'm going to get you guys thin crust pizza' and get you guys thin crust pit they were like 'Rock on'!

This was the most successful event that SGA orchestrated in event that SGA orchestrated in the Iast five years, Taylor said. the last five years, Taylor said. based on a Monday night meeting," Taylor said. "This event got

\section*{OPR Developers}

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. Eff/APT's Homes & Town Houses
MOST INCL There is something for everyonel
LUDING
Security Systern with 1" Dead Boll Locks
Smoke, Heat & Sprinkler System
- Smoke, Heat & Sprinkler System
- Remodeled Full Custom Kitcher/Gaths

Kitchens include: Goumnet Self-cleaning ovens, Garbage Disposals. Microwaves, Dishwashers - Wall to Wall Carpers & Padding (like home)

Laundry Fadilities on Premises
Off-street Parking
Snow & Lawn Maintenance
Super Insulated (means low utilities)
Some Apts. include All Utities & Fumished Such as - Comstock, Ostrom, Harrison, Madison. Westcott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingston. Lanceste
CAL 478-6504
to check out your home
away from home!
OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICE us out there to relate with the people that we represent." SGA will have a table in the Schine Student Center Wednesday and Thursday where they hope to get more reedback to drug, alcohol and smoking ban policies, James said.
- Assemblymembers passed three bills Monday allocating money to Asian Students In America, University Union and a America, University Union and a theatrical prod Floyd's The Wall.
"We've got plenty of money to cover tonight's allocations," Grest of my term to making it a lit rest of my term to making it a litfunding.". A. was given \($ 3,673\) for A.S.I.A. Was given \($ 3,673\) for campus this Spring.

SGA approved funds for UU to bring South Park creators Matt Stone and Trey Parker to speak at their annual block party on South campus.

These "creators of a cultural phenomenon" may not be available to do the speech, Greiner able to do the speech, Greiner Witch Project and The Matrix are among other speakers in the \($ 40,000\) to \($ 42,000\) range who could fill in.

A student production of The Wall requested \($ 26,000\) in SGA funding. Arts Adventures is willing to sponsor the event as long as SGA makes a contribution, Greiner said.

The Assembly approved a bill allocating \($ 5,000\) to the production of the Pink Floyd remake

Greiner justified the ex pense by saying that the stu dents could take the show on tour off campus which could b the start of something more lu crative.
\(\square\) SGA had their first presi dential round table discussion with student organizations Satur day to address isswes surrounding the finance code.

James will conduct several discussions throughout his term in an effort to become acquainted with the organizations.
"Basically, (Assistant Comp troller) Mary Viera and Greine explained how to get money and answered questions on what cr ferin the organizations must ful in The Collegrone, a sophom Sci ences.

The meeting was very successful, Maccarone added. About 35 people attended.

The next mecting that will take place in April.
- The Student Life Committee is deliberating changes \(t\) their domestic partnership poliey Thaylor said.

This policy allows married couples to live together. All other relationships are not recognized as valid reasons to live together.

The changes may incorporate recognizing these non-marital re lationships as well as all gay and lesbian relationships, Taylor said. lesbian relationships, Taylor said

ONE STOP for all your printing/copy needs
- COLOR COPIES
- TRANSPARENCIES
- BINDING/STAPLING
- PASSPORT PHOTOS
- FAX SERVICE
- DRAFTING FILM
- LABELS/ENVELOPES

CAMPUS COPIES Marshall Square Mall
Just down the hill from the Schine Center 472-0546
OPEN 7 DAYSAWEEK
- DIGITAL OUTPUT
- UPS SHIPPING
- MAC/IBM RENTALS
- Laminating
- WORD PROCESSING
ter

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deacline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call \(443-9793\) for more information.

\title{ en EDGE
}

\section*{New knight}

A new transtation of "Beowulf" by Nobel Laureate Seamus Heaney is creeping up the book charts, stun ning those who think the American reading public is a bunch of barely literate self-help diet and sex book-addicted fools. The book ranked No. 3 on Arnazon.com's fiction list this week, and is "hover ing below list" on both the New York Times and Wall Street Joumal bestseller lists, according to publishers Farrar, Straus and Giroux. They've ordered a fifth printing. which means about 45,000 copies total, and spokesman Pete Miller proudly predicts a sixth.

Church and state Public prayer may retum to America's schools this year, thanks to the determined efforts of Santa Fe, Texas, a strongly Baptist town near the state's Gulf Coast. The district school board here is asking for student-led prayer at school events, ranging from assemblies and graduation ceremonies to Friday night football games. Later this month, the school board's case will go before the U.S. Supreme Court, and it could trans form the school-prayer issue nationwide. If the justices uphold studentled prayers, the decision could clear the way for all schools to put the question of public prayers to a vote their

\section*{dents}

\section*{Chips ahoy}

Advanced Micro Devices popularly known as AMD officially announced release of the first one gigahertz microprocessor for personal computers on Monday, scoring a big technical and marketing triumph. The latest version of AMD's Athion processor decisively beats com parable wares from archrival Intel, the top setler in the market. And it's a historical signpost of sorts, operating more than a thousand times faster than the one that powered the first popular personal computer, the Apple lie.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Think wrongly, if you please, but in all cases think for yourself.
Doris Lessing

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443-2128
lifemdaily orange.com

Backus Ford, 6400 Basile Rowe in East Syracuse, is one of the many car dealerships in the university area. Colfege students can often receive special deals when buying new or used cars, especially around the time of their graduation.

\section*{For college students, buying a car is a big deal.}

BY TON HOWES Staff Writer

After being stranded one too many times on the side of the road by an aging engine, junior paintingmajor Mike Sedelmeyer realized he needed a now vehicle. Like most college students, his opbut wise fionited had been worn thin by bis his parion sedan. his mid 1980 sedan

Sedelmeyer is not alone in his automobile woes. For college students, the process of purchasing a car from a dealership is often confusing, said Dave and a sales and leasing from Village Chevrolet in Fayetteville "Usually in high school, students get a hand-me-down from someone they know, like a friend or a relative," Harr said.

He estimates that 10 to 15 percent of his customers are college students be. tween the ages of 18 and 24 .

College is a time when students are usually buying their first "nice" car, either brand new or only a few years old, Harr said. Therc are many differences between dealer and buying a used car and Has dealer and buying a used car, and Harr mands a different vehicle.
"College students are usually looking for something economical, something easy for something economical, something easy to maintain, but also something that Many college stude many college students opt for the Geo Prizm or the Chevrolet Cavalier, two vehicles on the lower end of the price range, ent. Harr added that some people come into the dealership with money to burn or a gift from their parents, while others are looking for something extremely cheap.

Numerous automobile manufacturers offer college graduates substantial rebates if they buy or lease a car around the time of their graduation. General Motors offers college graduates a \($ 400\) rebate on brand finance rates, no down payment and iower day deferral on the day deferral on the first payment, accordfer the stud report. o qualify for this o two or four year college or nursing school two within two years after araduation and finance the vehicle throurh the dealer ship. ship.

For keeps diestion that prospective automo

See CARS page 11

\section*{44's hiatus broadens SU social life}

For many at Syracuse University, last weekend could possibly have been the most awful in recent memory. Was Pefe blizzard that Pete

Beisser left ten feet of media Was there a freak tragic incident that involved a number of SU students? Was there possibly a huge midterm test slated for Monday morning?

No, it was much, much worse! 44's Tavern, the Syracuse Tradition" - cough cough - was closed down for the weekend because some idiot forgot to pay taxes. Entire social calendars had to be rewritten for the regulars, who practically call "Four's," 113 Marshall St., home almost every day of the week.

With tears being shed by students left and right on " \(\mathrm{M}^{\prime}\) Street, I figured that I'd take this misfortune as an opportunity to help out those "Four's" groupies with their entertainment in the future, if this situ ation should reoccur. You never know, one day someone any wake up to the fact that most of the ciientele of these places are nowhere near the age of 21 . Like that will ever happen!

By the way, "Four's" is supposed to reopen today. Sure you could just change your preference and go to Harry's Bar and Grill, 700 S Crouse Ave. - don't forget to bring your illegal substances and bad attitudes - or Lucy's Retired Surfers Bar, 721 S Crouse Ave. What the fuck is a retired surfer, anyway? But hat would be way too easy Here are a few tips on what else you could do to pass the weekend if "Four's" gets shut down again.

Do more things that you like

Hit up the mall and pick up replacements for your colection of black pants. You know, there's not much to do with black pants unless you're wearing them at one of the "M" Street bars. Personally, I feel that they should all be sewn together and used as a patch next time the Carrier Dome rips. It will save us lots of See MEDIA page 11

\section*{ESF president steps down for charter school}

BY KEVIN TAMPONE

Asst. News Editor

Ross Whaley, president of the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, did not know what conservation was until he went to college.

Growing upinside the concrete and asphalt jungles ing did not convey the kind of ing did not convey the kind of ESF students and faculty revere.
My farnily had no interest in the outdoors whatsoevhis Bray Hall office Nowadays, the room is covered on several sides with panels of various wood indigenous to the United States, a far cry from the asphalt and concrete that surrounded Whaley in his youth.

This summer, after nearly 16 years at "the best job in the world." Whatey will leave the SUNY ESF presidency to chair a board that is founding Syracuse's first charter school. Charter schools are publicly-funded schools that typically focus on a specific academic area. Whaley's school, the Syracuse Math and Science Charter School, is sct to open in the fall and will enroll about 500 kindergarten through sixth graders.

The sollege stary the loss of their president, said Connie Webb, vice president for administration at SUNY ESF.

Whaley possesses all the things one could hope for in a

D.O. FLE PHOTO BY ADEET DESHMUKH Ross Whaley steps down from his position as president of SUNY ESF in order to help run a new chatter school in Syracuse.
"When I first learned that he was leaving, i went through my own sort of personal grieving process, as I think a lot of people at ESF did when they heard," she said. "After I got over being selfish, I realized he has other thingsinhis career he wants to accomplish.

Whaley has left his mark on both the institution and the people he has worked withatSUNYESF, Webb said.
"He has a great ability to look at problems from all angles," Webb said. "He is open to all kinds of arguments and persuasions, and that's iust a wonderful trait for anyone to have, but especially for someone in higher education."

\section*{Education pioneer \\ Whaley's career and interest in education began long before he ever set foot in}

Syracuse or on the SUNY ESF campus - Whaley was the first member of his family to attend college.

Whaley said he truthfully did not know what to expect when he enrolled in the University of Michigan in 1955.
"I knew doctors went to college and ministers went, but who else went to college? I didn't know," he said. "It was all foreign to my experience. Hi

His interest in environmental issues sprung only from bits of broken conversation he heard around campus, Whaley said. Once he listened to those conversations about things like wildife management, conservation and forestry, however, he was hooked.
"I had no idea what those were all about, but they sounded intriguing to me and certainly different than the life I had in Detroit," he said. If a student today told me that this was how they made that this was how they made their career choices, 1 thell them that they better think it through a little more careully."

After earning his bachelor's degree in 1959 and a doctoral degree in resource ty of Michigan in 1968, Whaley entered the realm of higher education. Aside from the six years he spent working for the U.S. Forest Service, Whaley has been a teacher'or administratar at a college or university ever since.

Call it good luck or call it providence, it has just shaped the most marvelous career imaginable," he said. You always have the seid hat you're dealing with realaging our resources.
Working for SUNY ESF allows people to deal with two of the most important issues facing the human race, Whaey said. The education of young people and the management of natural resources are not just interesting, but critical to the world's survival, he added.

\section*{Tough choices}

Whaley said that his decision to leave such a significant educational institution comes as the resuii of̀ a deep elief that public schools. math and science education can improve. Stepping down from the presidency also al lows Whaley to return to ane of his longtime loves - teach ing.
"Those of us in the acade

\section*{The Graduate Audent Organization is}

> Requesting all Student and Service Organization Budget Proposals for the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year be submitted to the GSO Office by

If there are any questions pertaining to the budget proposal format or the budget process, please contact \(443-3961\) or e-mail fjcarter@syr.edu.

\author{
\section*{March 29, 2000, 4:30pm in 131 Schine}
}

damn capitalists. And if you get really ide of the Schine Student Center and heckle people th one of these days probably will buy a T-shirt made in a sweatshop. These people may be annoying and bothersome, but they might change the world.
Fraternities and Sororities n change their scenery Instead of having every major kind of social function at one of the bars, they could be held - wait a second - in the houses, themselves?

Maybe if boredom hits hard, those who don't already, could invite some peons that aren't in houses to come have a good time in basements.

You'll also have a lot more time to haze people, if you're into that kind of shit - more bowling, oh yeah!

Help Marshall Street's other stores out - they

The
The McDonald's needs all the help it can get. It has the worst food and service of any I could spend an beentire, and umn on that If you've cot free time, go in and teach

\section*{CARS}
continued from page
whether they want to buy or lease their vehicle. GM says the benefits of buying a vehicle include owning the vehicle for more than a few years, unlimited mileage - most lease agreements include stipulations and limitations regarding mileage - and the satisfaction of owning your own vehicie. Many students. however, cannot afford to purchasea brand-new vehicle and must opt to lease or finance.

When financing a vehicle, students must be prepared for a lengthy investigation. A better finance rate can be offered by a dealer, but it all depends on the situation, said David Whitney, a branch manager for Dedham Savings Bank. He added that each vehicle has its own unique finance rate, and certain offers such - as the GM graduate offer - may apply. Though car dealers and local banks do offer similar finance rates, the consumer must investigate the matter by examining the rates for the model they are looking to buy, Whitney said.
said, "is to get approved for said, "is to get approved for an automobile loan at a local bank before talking with the dealer."

Sometimes dealerships offer special rebates in the or a cash-back bonus. If rate dent has already been approved for a lower rate at the bank he or she can get the cash instead Whitney said bash instead, Whitney said.

Banks are required by to offer the same interest law to offer the same interest therefore not allowed to offer special rates to college stu special rates to college students. This should be taken dents. This should be taken chaser qualifies for a special rate from a dealer, Whitney said.

\section*{Safety net}

Another issue facing car buyers is how to choose an tions exist for insurance: buying from an agent or buying directly from a large compaay, such as Geico Direct. The matter is worth careful invesfigation, and it once again comes down to the individual situation, said Scott Campbell, a representative for Winslow Warren Insurance Agency.

Most of the time, the direct companies offer cheaper rates, but often the agents said. The role of an apbell to . The role of an agent is to defend and assist the buycr in the case of an accident, and to provide service for the customer.

If you have a claim filed against you and you have direct insurance, you're on your own," Campbell added.

Different insurance com panies distinguish their customers by their driving records and cater accordingly to different types of drivers. Better drivers generally pay less, Campbell said.

In the end, buying a car comes down to individual preference and a decent preference and acecent Smount of whoyer, wherently purchased a smaller-sized pickup truck, said he knew what he wanted in a vehicle right away.
\({ }^{\text {"I }}\) I knew I needed a truck because I'm always hauling around art projects and equipment," he said.
he added that he decided that financing the vehicle, as opposed to leasing, was his best option.
brushaz bought an airbrush, and lplan to go to town on this thing," he said. "You can't retura' a leased them how to be polite and speedy. They really need it speedy.

You could also po help the one-hour developers at CVS really get the film developed for you in an hour. I oped for you in an hour. I think they may need help, cause when you question why develop your one-hour film they just look at you funny.

Take a trip off the SU Hill Take a trip down to Pep Boys, buy a big economy sized bottle of Turtle Wax, and go shine up your car, probably a sport utirity vehicle, that your parents bought you. Kids should make cars look real pretty.

March 7, 2000
11
a bar in the city that had a a bar in the city that had a big sellection of beers, didn' smellike piss and wasn't tending to be their older brothers and sisters.

Acadernics
Maybe you could study and read for your classes, and then actually attend them in the morning when you're supposed to.

Go to the library. Wait, what the hell was I thinking? Forget these last two, why would anyone e

Pete Beisser is a sopho more magazine and political science major. Mis column appears Tuesdays. \(E\)-mail him at pjbeisser@syr.edu

\section*{Don't let Spring Break put Summer Abroad out of your mind.}

Pick up a Summer 20000 catalog at DIPA today!

DIPA Summer Programs
119 Euclid Avenue 443-9420/9421

5trin ANTMPAL \($ 1.50\) MOLSON BOTTLES $1.50 BUDWEISER PINTS SI HELLO SHOTS

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER FOR TONIGHT'S SKI. TOBOGGAN E SLED RAFFLE AT 1:00 AM

\section*{\(6 \odot\) FREE LUEY'S T-SHITRTS}
-ENTER THE EUD FROZEN T-SHIRT CONTEST FOR FREE PRIZES-

\footnotetext{
SO COME TO LUCY'S TONIGHT - YOUZLL BE HAPPY AS A CLAM...
}

\section*{Thomas closes SU career with 1-2 record at EIWAs}

\section*{BY ERIC NATHAN}

Staff Writer
While the careers of four Syracuse wrestlers began to blossom last weekend, the sun set on the career of one SU senior.

Five Orange grapplers craveled to Annapolis, Md., for the EIWA Tournament.

Only two recorded wins, but the experience was worth the trip for all five.

Junior Ike Wennihan, hobbled all year by knee injuries, battled his way to a victory. Sophomores Jerry Pacillo and

\section*{MARYLAND}
continued from page 16
"I could definitely feel something different before the match on Saturday," Gif ford said. We all were a little time we felt something like John Soden didn't earn a win but earned tough experience at a top level of competition Freshman Brett Cowen capped off a strong season with two close losses.

"It's a great conference, and we don't have the horses to compete," head coach Scott Miller said. "But our guys did as well as they could. We were better at the end of the season. You can see steady improvement since our for his distinguished career. "I'm disappointed," Thomas said. "I would have liked to finish in the top four and go on to the Nationals.
"Right now, I'm pretty sure I'll take some time off and get my weight back up. It was a good career. It could have been better. It's good that I stuckit out, but you cant help but have been. That's the have been. T way it goes."
ay it goes. Mikewise, Miller

The one horse many thought could compete was senior Shawn Thomas, but into losses after an opening-round losses a

The 174 -pounder defeated a familiar opponent in the first round of the conference tournament. In \(6: 39\), he pinned Franklin & Marshall's Tom Brizner, a wrestler Thomas has met numerous times in his four years at Syracuse.

Thomas went on to lose to two top-ranked opponents, both of whom will progress onto the National Championships in St. Lauis. After his victory, Thomas lost to No. 4 Ed Mosley of Harvard and Navy's Mark Newman.

With his losses in Annapo lis, the Orangemen finally wave goodbye to their lone senior. Thomas closes out his career at SU with a \(58-46\) record, including \(27-13\) in his senior campaign. This year alone, he recorded 23 pins, totaling 41

Lkewise, Miller is not anxious to see the back of Thomas' dyed-blonde head walking out the door.
"The thing about Shawn is that he kept getting better," Miller said. "Shawn could have transferred, but he stayed here to compete with the Orangemen. That speaks the Orangemen, about loyalty and character. Above all, I had the most fun coaching Shawn."

Aside from Thomas, only Wennihan recorded a win, a 53 decision in his first-round consolation match against Princeton's Anthony Debartolo. Pacillo, Saden and Cowen, though, all had chances to pull out a victory.

The four non-seniors struggled against the military academies. At 141 pounds, Pacillo learned first hand the toughness of the military schools. He lost to No. 4 seed Mark Conley of Navy and Charles Russ of Army.

While the first match was close for a while, Conley even tually pulled away from his Syracuse opponent.

Pacillo fared much better against Russ. He tied the Cadet late in the final round sending the match into sudden death overtime. In the ex tra session, Russ scored a takedown to secure a \(10-8\) victory, but shoul come.

I was doing pretty wel against (Russ), but those Army boys have a lot of wind, Pach long time. But just watching the EIWAs and the finals with the crowd is big. It's just a little more motivation to try harder next year."

Around midseason, Cowen emerged as one of SU's top wrestlers but tailed off toward the end of the campaign. He had a chance at redemption in the final tournament of the year.
Cowen drew a tough bracket, facing No. 1 seed Dave round.

Esposito overmatched the freshman, pinning him in 1:09 Cowen bounced back to battle Columbia's Chris Felicetta to a 4-2 loss.
"As a freshman, Brett just struggled, Thomas said. "There were no expectations for him, but he did well. It's a tough tournament and the toughest turn it up. It's a dif ferent mind-set for Brett to learn."
that was against William and Mary:"

The Orangewomen lost to nationally ranked William and Mary 8-1 on January 22. Gifford and StrnadovaGifford and Strnadovawill start playing better against top teams, when they get used to playing under pressure.
In order to win the big matches, everyone will have to play well," Strnadova-Bacova said. "That is why we are stressing the importance of playing well and having a high intensity level at practice."

\section*{EXPLORE A NEW CAREER EARN COLLEGE CREDITS}

June 5-July 13/July 17-August 24
Day, evening, and weekend undergraduate and graduate courses

Low ruition for visiting students:
Undergraduate: NYS residents $160/credit; nonresidents \($ 325 /\) credir
Graduate: NYS residents $185/credic: nonresidents \($ 320\) /credit
To request a Summer Session Schedule, call \(212-802-2056\)
or fax 212-802-2190
To downioad the Summer Session application or for more information abour our programs, visit our website at www.baruch.cuny.edu

\footnotetext{
Baruch College/The Citv Universitv of New York 17 Lexingron Avenue (at 23rd St) New York, NY 1001 C
}

\section*{Baruch college}

\section*{THIS \\ SUMMER IN NEW YORK}

by Sam Baker

Never Odd or Even

by Tim Dose

Oh My Gawd
by Jaći Frice

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles by Neil Swaab

CROSSWORD
By THONAS JOSEPH
ACROSS
1 Fix pologist Margaret 11 Slate
12 M cannot tell-" 3 Sigourney 5 Moron Weaver 6 Chimed film 7 Cham15 Type a pagne \(\quad\) botrle size \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { password } & 8 \text { Inventor } \\ \text { 16 Painter } & \text { Whitney } \\ \text { Mondrian } & 9 \text { Broadcast }\end{array}\) Mondrian 18 Jamaican 10 Singer
 23 Aviv 35 In the 1 Mouth- 14 Illustrator wash 14 Ediustrator 28 Reno's Etate
Edward
Stad flavor 16 Locker art 29 Subtract 37 tree 22 Sidewalk 17 Silly 31 Vexed 38 Mer 24 Gasteyer 20 Kind of 33 One of maid home \(\begin{array}{llll}\text { of "SNL" } & \text { preview } & \text { the Fed- } & 39 \text { Light } \\ \text { Sunbeam } & 21 & \text { Small rug } & \text { graves }\end{array}\)

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones
COMIC HAS

Oatmeal
by Lousy Brown
- FRED FORGOT WHAT

HE WAS WAITING FOR AND WETHIS
PANTS.

Cicero coupte sseking sludent to provide part-ume chdd care in our nome tor 4 year-old and 1 year-old. 699.6175

Help Wanted Gloovy Ducte Get paid white you sun the internet!
It's that easy with no simmicks: II's that easy
whw groovende.com
51500 weekty potentiat maithg our circulars. No Experience Requited. Free information packel. Ca 202.452 .7679 .

Roommates
Roommate wanted for tall semester 200 only in a 2 bedroom apartment on Euclid Avenue.
Ressonably priced. \(476-2982\) Rocmmate needed lalt 001201 Harrison fumished \($ 290\) a month call Steve 476 -6677 great to students going abroad 2nd semester

FOR RENT

\section*{Whats up for Spring Break?}

The Daily Orange will Not print from March 10 We will resume printing o We will resume printing on March 21 with a Deadline of March 17 by \(2 p m\). WONDERFUL Spring Break!

Notices

Curiows auvut yous credal repon? Everyone else sees it, why not \(y\)
Creatisimple.comi

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{Want to becorne an entreprencur? Here's you} opportunity to leam and prolis by wotking for representative. SyracuseAuction.com is a free foc auction web site, des igned by studenis to seme the univers:y community. Syracuscauctioncam is university community. Syracuscauction.com is ready lo employ active. outgoing Syratuse Unversity students to help wher business grow. email them at inlo Ovilageaucuon.corn Part time jobs delvery drivers, distwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshail St.

Gourmet Cottee Shop socated in SuNY Hospital hiring manager. Expenence needed in inventory kiolls, Healith care benefits and satary negotiable. Fax resume to 757-565-6354
Camp Counseiors Top Overnight Camps in Poccho Mins. Over 40 actuities. stekng special

Job Opportunities
BONUSES plus guazanteed hourly tate for vorking amosphere. On bustine Campaign. working ammosphere. On bus kine. Mon. Thur. voice. poal onented, postive antitude. 443-1158 Jiversity Bartending \(C\) Student Discounts 1-600-U-CAN-MIX Call For Intormation!!!!!

\section*{Tired of the same boring summer job? Joun us at camp Kweebec, an excellent co ed ovemight camp 45 minstes from Pridadelphia. Pa Openings tor peneral counselors & specialists in spors archery, ternis, golt,
 \\ Call Brett or Bobbi \\ (800)543-9830 or \\ E-mail: ckweebeceaol.com}

CALLING ALL SCREENWRITERS. ACTOAS. OIFECTORSI Jump star your cateert For a omplimentary consultation. emal us at eldiscovered enot shol.com

WANTED
Child Care

Slop elean 3 bedroom, aparmentis Fireplace, Panking, laundry, \({ }^{\text {s. }}\)
Westcon Eucha renovaled \(3+4\) bedroom avalt \(6 / 1\)
Westcon/ Eucha renovaled 3+~ bedroom av
\($ 650-$ 720\) PMA pakking DNW Pat 263.3415
\[
\begin{gathered}
\text { LOOK AT THIS! } \\ \text { Three Bedroom Aparment } \\
\text { Soacious thre Eedroom, completely turni } \end{gathered}
\]
 aparment whth porch. Living Foom with firepiace, Dining toom, Kitcten and hree large bedroms. Ind dain. Oif street. garage parking. Launary facilty in building. Five bedroom House Sive bedrom House Spaus tive Bedorom, completely furnished House with iront and rear porches. Living House with front and rear porches. Living Room with treplace Eatin Kichen Wi DISHWASHER and five large bectooms, and garage. FAEE Laundry tacility in build
CALL \(430-5188\) atter \(1: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)

Kensingtonpizce isthoor tatge 3Bedroom TgLivingroom Dining Focom ModernKitchen dishwasher microwave disposal fireplac hardwoodfions porches nearsusine
OuetNeighborohood avauable Junelst 2000-20 Call7an-spm 247.7851 or426-1894

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM'HOUSES

WWW.UNIVERSTYHILL.COM
1-2-3 Becroom Aparuments, Beautilu, Spacious Ollstrest Panking. Fully Fu
Sale. Ouiet, Crose 476-0295

Unversity Area 2.3 Bedroom turnished Apartments
\(\operatorname{Jim} 668-7473\)

Apartments
ONE, TWO, 'THREE
AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Ackerman fumished spaciout two Bidem of stre

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction University Area Apts www.universityarea.com \(1,2,3.4+5\) becroom apartments. Furnished, all uutiiies included, laundry, parking. One block availability. 425-1883.
    Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Latge 2 bedroon, 2 full bath. Waking distance

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches
Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, 476-2982

Unversity 283 Eedroom TownHouses 8 Flats nexpensive and mint condrion. WasheiDrye Fireplace,finished basement, Call a49.0109.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities included, Fireplace, Furnished, Hirdwood Floors anc Carpelling, Paniry, Porch, Laundry, Parking, close to Campus. Call Gordion 476-2982 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{One and Two Bedroom} Harrison Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000. List Month and Securiy. No Pets A
204 Ostrom Eniciency One and 2Becroom Secure ldg Laundy Parking Very clean

2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. 1 Bedroom apt with 2 cat ghage 125 Kensinglon Fd.
comer of Lancister \($ 550472 \cdot 2667\).

Available mud August 3 bedroom fiat very near ESF on Oaklandst. lurnished of unfumished option. Uvingroom with lireplace, diningroom, new kuthen, porch, coin-op wastert dryer. 425.8158 whenen, porch, coin-op wastert dryer. 425.8168
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS \\
604 Walnut Ave. \\
2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments. \\
Uhities included. Fully furnished. Hents start at $275. Relinished hardwood floors. Watl to wail capet Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24 hour maintenance. www.universityarea.com University Area Apls 479-5005 \\
One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, quiet building, close to campus. utilities included. 476-2982
\end{tabular}}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. (across from Haven) (across irom Haven).
University Area Apts
ww.universilyare2com 479-5005

Surmer Special. Nemiy remodeded 4 bedroom flat. One block tram campuis. All ulilities includedi dyyer, parking, porch.

\section*{Availapie \(521-8 / 17\) 472-8619}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
masrowave \\
washerdryer \\
carpeted \\
off street parking \\
owner managed \\
CALL TODAY \\
PETER 427-0052 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

i Bedroom Furtished Unlumished. Waking distance S.U. Laundry avaimble. On Street ranking

28edtcom Largefat avaltable June,July,Augus OIt-5t.Parking dishwasher laundiy NewCarpet \(5810 c k-10\) carpus \($ 130\) S

2 Bedtocm Apts 202. 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Roorns Hardwood Floors Avail June
or Aug 486 - 5186

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, utilities included. Oak lloors. fice place, tumished.
parking, very clean, luynery Call Gordon 476 -2982.
1.t/2 Bedroom atic apartment on quiet street appliances. Suitable lor single or couple. Availabte appiances. 1 st 350.00 per montith olus ulitites. One year lease. No Pets 243-0754
\(1,2,3,48.5\) Bdim Aparments, Houses+ Stuctios. Clean, Spacious, Supenor Condilion, some parking 474-6791. Waiking distance, laundry Four Bedroon on Aekerman, Fumished,
Dishwasher, Two Potches, oft slieet Park Laundry, Cirpel. Hardwood Fioors
Call Gordon \(476-2982\)

Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartment
Livingston. Surnner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6665
Looking for a place to live? mww.housing101, net.
Your move oft campus
4 Bedrooms furnished llat with ail ubities included One block Irom campus near Law School +ESF. 2 iuln bayhrooms, carpet, laundry, parking. Av
Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. 477.1574
Large a bedroom. 2 full ball. Waking distance
S.U. Oft sreel parking. Laundry. Can 432.7305.

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease,
Heated
440-6200
437-7577

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST APARTMENTS, AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDROOM'HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

\section*{Houses}

Large Sincte Famity fumished houss. Parkhing. \begin{tabular}{c} simpace, \\
682304 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{BATtLE}
continued from page 16
The Tree's five-year suspension (for Stanford students fixing the last contest) was cut down to four years and he is back in the competition.
Syracuse students fans in college sports, but this is something the apathetic SU student body can partake in without even leaving the comfort of its dorms, apartments or frat houses

Otto should have no problem defeating the Cincinnati Bearcat in round one. However Otto will face a huge test in the quarterfinals - it will likely take on Wisconsin's intimidating Bucky Badger. If Otto makes it to the finals, he'll most likely go against the winner of the pivotal showdown that could develop in the lower bracket between Stanford's Tree and Penn State's Dany Lion.
Defend your school pride and cast your votes. Otto takes the field in round one on March 7 at http:/ /promotions.go.com /espn/
Now it's back to the
Now it's back to the action

\section*{Big East Tournamnent}

March 8-11, New York City
Syracuse gets the No. 1 seed since Mami beak St. John last Sunday. However, I think the Orangernen woula have had an easier road if the thed Storm seed. That way, Syracuse woul seed. That way, Syracuse have been lined up to play Miami in the semi-finals Instead, the Orangemen get a tougher draw in my opinion, potentially facing the Connecticut-Seton Hall winner Vith Tro
Vith Troy Murphy and Dame could win a few -point shooting, Notre Rutgers also appears Rutgers also appea to be a potential problem, consid ering the Scarlet Scariet
Knights can play witha nothing-tolose attitude.
Villanova might need to win a couple of more games to make the NCAA Tournoy - a in the first round would certainly help. The Orangemen should ake care of the West VirginiaGeorgetown winner, Boston Conege poses inttle threat to hould handle Providence

A Syracuse-St. John's clas at Madison Square Garden in the Big Fan Square Garden in great ending to the regular sea great ending to the regular sea-

Pick: Syracuse

\section*{Big Ten Tawrnament \\ March 9-12, Chicago}

Ohio State and Michigan State, the Big Ten co-champions, are the favorites in Chicago. The Bucksyes are ranked fuuril in the nativi while the Spartans are ranked fifth. Both teams have a legitimate shot at returning to the Final Four.

Purdue and Indiana are the squads most likely to challenge the Buckeyes and Spartans.

Gene Keady's Boilermakers quietly put together a successful year, and Bob Knight's Hoosiers are a tough team when A.J.
Guyton catches fire from tho Guyton catches fire from the outside. Illinois put together a nice tun in last year's Big Ten that the Fighting Illini are a that the Fighting Illini are one-mian Wisconsin's methodical play can frustrate any opponent, Iowa has shown some signs of life under first-year head conch Steve Alford and if Penn State plays well, it could give somebody a scare. Minnesota, Michigan and Northwestern are barely above the high school varsity level.

Pick: Ohio State

\section*{ACCTournament}

March 9-12, Charlotte, N.C. The conference as a whole is down this year, but the ACC Tournament always provid which upset Duke in Durham, N.C., appears to be the favorite to knock off the mighty Blue Devils.
North Carolina and Virginia could use another win or two to secure a NCAA Tournament bid. The postseason atmosphere might help the Tar Heels finally find their groove. If they do, you can be sure they'll give Duke a good sure theyll give Duke a good run if they meet again. run if they meet again. Meanwhid, the Cavatiers have to avoid flopping out in the Forest North Candalina State Forest, North Carolina State out quietly. However, the Yellow Jackets could be the team to sting one of the league's top sting cne of the leagues top Jason Collier, Georgia Tech has Jason Collier, Georgia Tech has some talen The Yellow Jacket - this is Bobby Cremins" last year on the Tech bench. Pick: Duke

\section*{SEC Tournament}

March 9-12, Atlanta
Tennessee and touisiana State finally get the chance to show if they can live up to the hype. The Volunteers have an impressive record (24-5) but have not received the national highlights, meanwhile, have been nothing more than a compilation of dunks by Stromile pilatio.

Florida's offense has been impressive and fun to watch, do the Gators in. Kentucky is climbing back up the polls and Vanderbilt sits on the NCAA bubble.

Arkansas could easily win a ew and Alabama, Ole Mississippi State are not necessarily gimme garnes. Auburn not much without South Carolina is the league doormat.

\section*{Piels: Kentucky}

\section*{Big 12 Tournament}

March 9-12, Kansas City
This conference rendezvous could sort out more NCAA Tournament dilemmas than any other.

First, is lowa State really the best team in the league? Sure, the Cyclones finished with the best record, but their poll rankings indicate there are some skeptics out there.

Next, can this league get six teams into the Big Dance? The answer is yes. Okiahoma helped its cause with a road win Ver Oklanoma state, and hansas should make it by virtue Missouri. The Tigers are the team still on the fence I fay wins over Texas Tech Ind Oklahoma will get them in.

Finally, is there a legitimate national title contender in this league? 'The Biz 12 could bo one of several conferences to zet six teams into the NCAA Tournament. For poople across the country to believe this i truly il power conference, a team like Texas, Okiahoma survive deep into the NCA Tournament

Even the best teams in the Big 12 appear to be upset-prone and Texas Finnsas State and Baylor don't scare anyone.

Pick: Oklahoma State
Stanford (-.5) at Arizona
Thurs., March 9 at 7:30 p.m Thurs., March 9 at 7:30 p.m (Fox Sports)

There's no need for a Pac 10 conference tournament con sidering the league's best two teams are scheduled to meet on the final weekend anyway.

The Wildcats handed the Cardinals one of their two losses on Jan. 8. Arizona's trio of Jason Gardner, Loren Woods and Michael Wright combined for 53 of the team's 68 points in its wree-point victory. Stanfor that one, connecting on just 6 -of that one, connecting 253 -point attempts.

A war could develop down low between Stanford's Mark and Wright Madsen is the to cebounder in the Pec-10 with over nine a game while Wright is second in the league with ove eight rebounds an outing. Woods is a force in the paint also, as his four blocks per game玉密 a Rac-10 best.
The league championship and likely a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament go to the winner.

Picks Arizona

\section*{BLAND}
continued from page 16
winning it outright."
Whether the Connecticut loss stays in the back of SU's mind is a matter of the team's performance in this week's tourney, Hart said.
"It depends," he said. "If we come out and win the Big East Tournament, then no. If we come out losing, yeah. It won't be the end of the \section*{world."}

\section*{Coach's corner}

Boeheim foresees the Big East Tournament presenting a difficult challenge for the Orangemen.
"It's game to game pretty much," he said. "I think St. John's is going to be very difficult in New York the way they played, and the way they played this month has been incredible. They've had an

\section*{incredible run.}

But Miami is very tough Connecticut, I think, will be there. They've won three in a row. I think we'll be good. It's going to be a heck of a tournament

The Hurricanes, who tied SU for first in the conference at 13-3, enter the tourney as the hottest squad. They have won five consecutive games, Connecticut and Sunday's \section*{74-70 overtime victory against the Red Storm.}

\section*{Crowd out loud}

The normally tepid Hartford Civic Center crowd erupted into a crazy mass of 16,294 on Saturday, surprising even UConn guard Khalid The

The Huskies play the majority of their home garnes on but reserves the big ones for the Civic Center, 30 minutes from the UConn campus in Storrs, Conn

I don't even know what words to use to describe the crowd," El-Amin said. "They were just so excited, so into the game. Every time we needed them, they Were cal UConn crowd. That is the type of crowd we'll need to type of crowd we'll need to win the big games."
[classifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\author{
UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709 WESSITE FOR THE LARGEST SEEECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM'HOUSES. \\ WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM \\ \begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Spacious sta bedroom, Furnished House. Whoshwrasher and six large beafrooms and TWO fuil bathrooms. Of street paiking with garaco. Washer and diyer in bulding.
CAL \(430-5188\) nfter \(1: 00\) pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline Wantedl (2) Non-smoking Proftred females share tumished house whwner kominuter
Westcon SL busined' laundry' utinies in Avait. 411 ywhease \($ 400\) 1478-1506 \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Large 5 Betroam House, Hyse on Street Paxking Lot. 1 block to campus 721 Ostrom Ave. 446-3693 Charming English Tudor House on Constock 6
Bedrooms. Fieplace, across Irom Womens Bidg. Eedrons, Freplace, across rom
Avail \(5720475-1012 .(843) 514.3881\)

\section*{Summer}

\section*{5 bedroon house washerfdryer rishwasher.
backyath. 250 mononth utilites inculded 422.6169}

PERSONALS Sports Lines
Ara you in charge of orrevino T. Tsitios of Party Favors tor your oryarizalion? Vist our websile of ineant.

SERVICES
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Travel \\
\hline  \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l} SPFUNG BREAK - GRAD WEEK \\
yritebenchco 1- 400 -645-3618
\end{tabular} \\
\hline MISC. \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{orange} NOTES

\section*{AP Top 25}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline  & & 28-2 \\
\hline 2. Stanford & (2) & 25-2 \\
\hline Duke & & 24.4 \\
\hline 4. Ohio St. & (2) & 22.5 \\
\hline 5. Michigan St. & & 23.7 \\
\hline 6. Temple & & 235 \\
\hline 7. Iowa St. & & \(26-4\) \\
\hline 8. Tennessee & & 245 \\
\hline 9. Arizona & & 24.6 \\
\hline 10. LSU & & 25.4 \\
\hline 11. Forida & & 23-6 \\
\hline 12 Syracuse & & 24.4 \\
\hline 13. Texas & & 22.7 \\
\hline 14. Tulsa & & 27.3 \\
\hline 15. Oklahoma & & 24.5 \\
\hline 16. Kentucky & & 228 \\
\hline 17. Oklahoma St & & \(23-5\) \\
\hline 18. Indiana & & 207 \\
\hline 19. St. John's & & 21-7 \\
\hline 20. Maryland & & 228 \\
\hline 21. Connecticut & & 21.8 \\
\hline 22. Purtue & & 218 \\
\hline 23. Miami, Fa. & & 20.9 \\
\hline 24. Kansas & & 22 \\
\hline 25. Mlinois & & 19 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Big East}

Postseason Honors
First-team
all-conference
*Etan Mhomas, Sr., SU
Khalid El-Amin, Jr., UConn Erick Barkley, So., SJu Jason Hart, Sr., SU Second-team all-conference Johngy Hemsley, Sr., UM Ricardo Greer, Jr., UP Shaheen Holloway. Sr., SHU Malik Allen, Sr., Nova

\section*{Third-team}
all-conference Ruben Boumtje-Bourntie, Jr.,

Mario Bland, Sr., UM Bootsy Thomton, Sr . SJU Ryan Blackwell, Sr., SU
Marcus Goree. Sr.,

\section*{All-rookie team} *Troy Bell, Fr., BC
Darius Lane, So., SHU Anthony Glover, So. - SJU Gary Buchanan, Fif.. Nova *unanimous selection
Over the rainbow No longer a college football weakling after an \(8-4\) campaigh in 1999 , the University of Hawaii might need to find a new opening opponent for this fall. Citing economic reasons. Texas athletic director DeLoss Dodds is trying to back out of the Sept. 2 cort test at Aloha Stadium

UT officials claim the team charter will cost more than \($ 400,000\) but Hawaii head coach June Jones said he does not buy Dodds' argument.
- They do not want to play us," Jones said. "They have nothing to gain and everything to lose. 'rm sure they and realized we had a chance to win.
I've never known a Texan to back down from a fight before. They know we can beat them. and they don't want to take that chance."

\section*{sports trivia}

\section*{Q. Before this season,} who was the last Orangemen basketballer to gamer first-team All-gig East honors?
yesterday's trivia: Q. When was the last time the Syracuse men's basketball team won the Big East Tournament? A. The Orangemen took me confrewn in 1992 with a \(56-54\) win over Georgetown.

Syracuse tennis head coach Mac Gifford knew the efforts of his singles players would make or break the match with hationally-ranked Maryland on Saturday.

Unfortunately, the Orangeback before the first rally of the match. Neveklovska, Syracuse's No. 3 singles player, was not able to compete because of a sickness that made her very weak, Gifford said.
Without Neveklovska, each Orangewoman played a spot higher, matehng Maryland s higher seeds with SU's lower seeds.

This setback eventually led to a 6-3 Terrapins victory. The loss was SU's second in a row.

The Orangewomen rebounded Guithiy fiou the defat, shating sit Georgetown the following day \(9-0\).
For the ease with which they bead equal trouble with the 52 nd ranked Terrapins.

Syracuse's lone win on the court came from the No. 1 doubles team of seniors Shareen Lai and Anna Khvalina, who beat Jessica Johnson and Stacy Walkowitz 8-6.

The Orangewomen (8-4) also earned points by default in the No. 6 singles and No. 3 doubles positions.
beaten almost continued her unspot, but she fell to Johnson in an exciting three-set match 7-6, 1-6, 7 . 6.

At the No. 2 spot, Khvalina lost to one of the top freshman in the nation, Delila Causevic, 6-3, 6o.

Freshman Masha Kabanova shifted from her normal No. 4 position to fill in for Neveklovska at
No. 3, where she was defeated by Walkowitz 6-2, 6-1.

We had high expectations go ing into this match, like we always do," Gifford said. "It is always fun to play a better team, but the loss f Michelle hurt us.

The following day, though, Neveklovska surprisingly returned to the lineup and had a strong howing with a-o, 6-1 victory ggainst Mendes.

Lai might have started another winning streak, racking up a 6-0, 64 victory at No. I singles against Lakshmi Ravindra.

Khvalina beat Ravindra's sis6er, Sarada, at No. 2 singles, 6-4, women took care of the Orangein straight sets. Katie Thompson, yracuse's No. 6 singles player, shut out Ayana Brooks 6-0, 6-0. Syracuse will rest until March 16, when it travels to Florida to take on Southern Illinois and Central Florida, two teams Gifford believes compete at about the same evei as Syizewic.

These matches will be good tests for the Orangewomen, who need to get used to playing better teams so theyw Dame in the Bir pete with Notre Dame in the Big

Assistant coach Jana Strnado
Assistant coach Jana Strnado-va-Bacova said the tearn hopes to practice more and at a higher inpared for the better competition.

In addition to their normal practice schedule, the Orangewomen now have weekly one-onone sessions with Gifford or Str-nadova-Bacova

We want to be the giant killers," Gifford said. "We need to learn that practice has to do a lot with personal performance.

This weekend would have been a great time to be giant killers. But with a match against a nation-ally-ranked team looming, SU did not have its normal pre-match feeling.

See MARYLAND page 12

\section*{Bland snaps out of funk}

BY IEFF PASSAN AND CHRIS SNOW Staff Writers

Tony Bland, Syracuse's struggling two-guard, finally found his shot in Saturday's 69-54 loss at Connecticut.

The sophomore from Los Angeles went 4 -for 5 from the field, scoring all 10 of his points in the first half.
"I tried to come out and let my deense dictate my offense, said Bland, who added a steal. "I came out aggressive on defense, and it gave me shots and got me going offensively.

The last time Bland got going was all the way back on Jan. 29, when he scored 14 points against Boston College-

In the 10 games after that, Bland shot a combined 13 -for- 52 - including 3 of 22 from 3-point range - and scored only 33 points.
erformances and a 1 -for-10 shooting performparinst and a \(1-\mathrm{for-10}\) clunker
But Bland said SU head coach Jim Boeheim urged the shooting guard to do exactly what his position says.
"He told me I'd have to step it up for the team to go far, Bland said.

The team saspirations remain the same, he said. And with the Orangemen sitting at 24-4 and co-champions of the Big East, they become the hunted in the conference tournament in New York City ference tournamen

SU, the No. 1 seed, will face the winner of the first-round matchup between West Virginia and Georgetown.

The Orangemen, after starting 19-0 this season, lost four of their final nine games. Nevertheless, the season ranks as a great success, Bland said, and he expects the Orangemen to make a good showing at Madison Square Garden.

We set our goals at the beginning of the season, and we think we accomplished a lot," Bland said. "We still want to get the (championship) ring and show we're No. 1 in the Big East, regardless of what anyone says."

\section*{A Hart take}

With the regular season concluded, SU point guard Jason Hart gave his overall analysis of the team.
did OK, Hart same losges, but I think we into the Big East Tourn we need to head of confidence.
"It wasn't a disappointing season. Let me get that straight. We didnt have a disappointing year. Hey, it came down to losing a few games that cost ua a chance at See BLAND page 15

\section*{Top teams fall as tournament play beckons}

The plethora of recent upsets should warn college basketball fans the madness is coming.
Stanford, Arizona,
Ryan Florida, Oklahoma State
Stalzer
battle for the bottles and Syracuse ail went. here's sure to be more surprises throughout March as tournament play It's only appropriates. ESPN is bringing back its "Battle of the Mascots" just in time for the NCAA Tournament. Syracuse fans can be proud that their beloved Otto the Orange is among the 16 contestants.

hio State's Brutus Buckeye, Alabama, Bip Al and Miami's Sebastion This are no Big Al and Miarnis Sebastian lbis are not SU's fuzzy navel. He won't be able to roll to an easy victory, especially since Stanford's Tree is back (thanks to some forgiveness from the contest organizers).

See BATTEE page 15

\section*{Bush, Gore score wins}

ADEET DESHMUKH/TME Dally Orange Voters flooded to polling stations In New York stato and across the county Yuesday to help decide the Republlcan and Damocratie presldential nominees. New York was one of 16 states that conducted primary elections for one or bott major parties. See primary election coverage, page 10 and 11

BY JOY DAVIA
Special Projects Editor
NEW YOFK CITY - Presidential contenders Vice President Al Gore and Texas tenders Vice President Al Gore and Texas day in the race for their party's nomination. in the race for their party s nomination.
Both Arizona Sen. John McCain and rmer New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley, howformer New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradey, howaver, said they were not conceding defeat ciding the future of their candidacy.

The fact that we have not succeeded in tonight's primary makes the cause no less just, no less honorable and makes the goal no less reachable." Bradley said to supporters in a Sh

Gore made a Super Tuesday sweep of delegates nationwide by capturing majority votes in each of the 13 states hosting Democratic primaries.

The vice president's 2 to 1 Dernocratic margin of victory in New York state buried

Bradley in his own backyard, where he established himself as a Hall of Fame basketball player for th

After recent primary wins in Michigan and Arizona, McCain's mormentum was stagnated with Tuesday's losses in delegate-rich Ohio, California and New York state.

One-third of delegates to the Republican convention were at stake Thesday.

The amount of Democrats and independents casting their vote for the Arizona senator in the presidential nomination races have been one of his most critical assets. This appeal across party boundaries is what prominent New York atate Republicans said they hope will propel Bush to the winner's circle in November.
"I would like to congratulate Senator McCain for including more people in our party, New York state Gov. George E. Pataki anid to a crowd of Bush supporters

See PRIMARY page 6

\section*{Campus NAACP plans King remembrance}

EETH BRAVERMAN
Staff Writer
Only seven members of the Syracuse University chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People met Tuesday night because of a lack of notice.

Those attending the biweekly general body meeting sal in the Hall of Languages to dis cuss upcoming events, said Nah esi Lambert, a sophomore psy chalogy major and the chapter's executive secretary.
The message was not sent out until about 3 o'clock (in the afterncon) \({ }^{-1}\), said Shakira Glenn NAACP external vice president and senior information science and technology and marketing major.

She added that the NAACP chapter has 35 to 40 members and the meetings usually bring a crowd of 20 to 25 people.

During Tuesday's meeting, the group began organizing a vig. il for the Rev, Martin Luther King, Jr. The vigil is scheduled for April 4 and will include speakers, Lambert said.

Other plans have not ye n determined, Glean said.
Members also discussed the recent Amadou Diallo case. Lambert said the group felt the verdict was unfair. The NAACP plans to send at least three board members to a discussion about the case tonight in Goldstein Student Center, Lambert said.

They shot a human being 41 times because they thought he was pulling out a gun or something. Personally to me, I thin that is horrible," Glenn said. On Feb. 4, four police officers were charged with murder after they shot Diallo 19 times as he stood on the porch of his Bronx home. The white officers were patrolling the neighborhood searching the area for armed criminals when they saw Dinllo, a West African immigrant. The

See NAACP page 3

■ Greek Affairs
A O Pi pledges suspended

Staff Writer
Investigations into two Syracuse University greek chapters ended this week, while campus officials continue to probe members of a third house. office suspented Alpha Omicron Pi inte sururity cies, said Kendra Goldenberg, presi dent of the SU chapter of A OPi.

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity is on social probation for the duration of the semester after a March 1 conduct violation, said Brad Young, president of the S Interfraternity Council.

Meanwhile, OGL is still looking into a reported incident at Delta Delta Delta sorority, said Sarah Korf, presi dent of the SU Panhellenic Associa tion.

Investigation concluded
The national \(\mathrm{A} O \mathrm{Pi}\) office re leased regarding an alleged hazing incident,

See GREEK page 4

\section*{Freund appoints interim A&S dean}

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPONE} Asst. News Editor

Cathryn Newton will take over as interim dean in Syracuse University's College of Arts and Sciences, announced SU Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund on Monday

The current dean, Robert Jensen, retires July 1, ending a 36-year career at \(S U\).
"I am delighted that Cathryn has taken on this assignment and I look forward to working with her in the months ahead," Freund said in a wated for this position by many facul nated for this posion by many racuity and staif and she has their great support.
sacademic background includes a bachelor's degree in geogter's degree in versity of North Carolina and a doc toral degree in earth sciences from the University of California at Santa Cruz.
She joined the SU faculty in 1983 See NEMTON page 3

[briefs]
Compited from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{California voters ban} gay marriages Beyond the presiden tial battlefields, voters passed a controve ballot measure in Califormia on Tuesday Califormia on Tuesday that would forbid recog. nition of gay marriage in congressional candicongressional candidates in several imporCalifomia and Ohio.

The ballot measure, Proposition 22, declares that "only marriage between a man and a woman is valid and recognized in California." Exit polls indicated that the measure, sponsored by Republican State Senator William J
-Pete \({ }^{-}\)Knight, would "Pete" Knight, would pass.
Foters in celifornia also addressed 19 other ballot questions, including controversial measures to reform the state's campaign finance laws, protect clean air and water and change the way the schools.

\section*{Hockey player faces} assault charges
British Columbia authorities charged Boston Bruins forward Marty McSorley yesterday with assault withday with assault with a weapon for his stick attack on Vancouver Canucks for ward Donald Brashear ward Donald Brashear, who suffired a severe played since.

This is the first time 12 years an NHL player has been prose cuted for an on-ice incident. A hearing in the matter is scheduled for April 4 in Provincial Court in Vancouver, but McSorley will not have to appear.

McSorley was informed of the charge yesterday through his attorney, according to Geoffrey Gaul, spokesman for the criminal justice branch of the Ministry of Attorney General in British Cotumbia.

Clapton, others
join Rock Hall
NEW YORK CITY Eric Clapton, whose between pop hits and between pop hits and joined the Rock and Roll joined the Rock and R third time Monday with third time Monday with Taylor and Bonnie Raitn. The Lovin' Spoonful's sunny series of 1960 s hits, and Earth. Wind & Fire's inspirational soul also ushered them into the hall during a ceremony Astoria.

\section*{Arizona votes via Web}

PHOENIX - Arizona Democrats on Tuesday started what they believe is the future of voting - using the Internet in the nation's first such ballot public office.

Maricopa County Supervisor Mary Rose Wilcox cast the first vote from state party headquarters at 12:01 a.m. join in. About 13,000 people join in. About 13,000 people the party's Web site recorded about 200 yotes perminute during the supper hour," Bill

Taylor of election com said. As a result, some computer users may have experienced slow responses from the Web site, but there were no problems with hackers, said Tayor, vice president for the tion pany hired to run the elec-

To vote, registered Democrats visit Election com page where they can vote They have to enter a personal identification number along with state and date of birth. Early voting continues through Friday for Saturday's primary.

On primary day, other voters will have to go to one of 124 polling places where they can use either a traditiona paper ballot or computer.

The Voting Integrity Project had sued to stop the online election, arguing that it would harm the voting rights of the poor and minorities who have less computer access than wealthier whites. A judge refused to stop the elec tion, but the group plans to challenge the results.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton will visit Pakistan}

WASHINGTON, D.C. After weeks of hand-wringing, the White House announced Tuesday that President Bill Clinton will stop in Pakistan for talks with the country's military Ieadership during a five-day visit to South Asia later this month that will also take him to India, Pakistan's archrival.

The decision to add Pakistan to the itinerary ends a pro longed debate within the admin istration and is bound to alter the flavor and substance of what promises to be one of the more unusual, and potentially more importanc, overseas trip White House official
White House officials told reporters that Chnton will spend several hours in Islamabad on March 25, the final day of a trip that includes a stop in Bangladesh. By visiting the Pak istani capital, Cinton will place a tense political standoff between India and Pakistan, two nuclear states that have already fought three major wars over the past half a century and still en gage in frequent military clashes.

\section*{Tokyo trains crash, kills three}

TOKYO - Two subway trains carrying more than 1,500 rush-hour commuters collided rush-hour commuters colinded Wednesday, killing three people and injuring more than 30 others The impact sheared off the wall of one of the train's rear cars ripping out the cushioned seats Buckled metal and other debris lit tered the scene.

The cause of the accident was not immediately known, said spokesman Ryuichi Kinoshita of the Tokyo Rapid Mransit Authori ty. An initial press report blamed officials - including the prime

\section*{Mexico remains on anti-drug list}

SAN DIEGO - In a visit to the international border Tues day, a key congressional critic of Mexico's efforts to stem narcoties trafficking all but ruled out trying to scratch Mexico from the Clinton administration's list of nations helping in the war on nations helping in the war on drugs.
Countries that fail the cer-tification test can lose foreign aid tification test can lose foreign aid U.S. endorsement for loans by international banks or face other sanctions.

Rep. John L. Mica (R-Fla.) said election-year politics dimmed prospects for challenging the government's certificatio last week of 19 as an anti drug partner. A 1986 law, au thored by Mica, requires the pres countries that are major producers or ferry routes for narcotics.

The administration's anmual The administration's arnual fire from Mica and other congressional critics who accuse the White House of coddling a key trading partner. That congres sional challenge petered out last year and it was unclear whether opponents would mount a new campaign.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Hatch balks at gun bill talks}

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton's hopes of breaking a congressional impasse on gun control after last week's fatal shooting of a Michigan firstgrader met a stern Republican re buke yesterday, as a key senator refused to convene House-Senate negotiations and accused the ad ministration of trying to eliminate gun shows.
"We're poles apart on what can or cannot be done," Sen. Orrin G. Hatch (R-Utah) told reporters after emerging from a White House meeting with the president and three other lawmakers.

Clinton has repeatedly cited last week's shooting of Kayla Rol land by a G-year-old classmate near Flint, Mich., as a reason fo Congress to enact the st age of gun restrictions.
"How many more people have to get killed before we do some thing?' the president said.

The day's sharp exchanges foun control leconslation in ress, whose mernbers are divided between strong advocates of ownership and those increasingly appalled by shootings such as the one in Michigan.
minister-quickly denied that. There were 240 passengers on the train that derailed, and 1,300 on the oncoming train that hit it, the fire department estimated. One of three passengers in aritucal condition died in a hospiand a woman were killed in the and a woman were killed in the \section*{Syrian cabinet} officials resign

DAMASCUS, Syria President Hafez Assad named a senior ofricial of his ruling Baath Party as the new prime minister Tuesday in ernment first Cabinet shake-up in about eight years.

Assad picked Mohammed

Mustafa Miro, the governor of the northern Aleppo province, to orrn a new Cabinet, presidential spokesman Jibran Kourieh said, adding that the outgoing government would continue working in meantme.
Media reports in past weeks hinted of a reshuffe, speculating that Foreign Minister Farouk alnier. It was not clear whew preShier. It was not clear whether alMideast peace talks would of the role in the coming Cabinet.

The shake-up was seen as a move by Assad to improve his working team in an effort to press ahead with promised social and economic reforms. It also reflected the leadership's desire to inject new blood in the aging

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

EThe SU Investment Club meets at \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\) in CrouseBuilding, Room 215.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Beauty Queen of Leenane" at \(7: 30\) p.m. Admission is \($ 15\) to dents and groups. Call 443 3275 for more information.
- Lambda Upsilon Lambda and La LUCHA present "Elian Gonzalez and the Conspiracy to Keep Him in the Schine Student Center, Room 227. Refreshments will be served.

Hocal newspaper and broadcast stations meet from 7 to 9 p.m. in Newhouse I, A1 of Professional Journalists seminar.

E Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents "The 7:30 p.m. at 310 Genesee St., 7:30 P .

E Denise Duhamel and Nick Carbo read poetry at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. The Carver Reading Series.

EThe School of Architecture presents "Modern Architecture and Places of the Everyday" at 6:30 p.m.in Slocum from the Department of Architecture at Catholic University in Leuven, Belgium, will speak.

Br. Bernard Poiesz, from the Upstate Medical University, speaks at 7:30 p.m. in Gran Auditorium regarding "The Hunt for Human Retrovirus es."
- Paul Brantley, director of orchestral studies, conducts concert at 8 p.m. in Setnor A ditorium. Admission is free.
- UUCinemas presents "Being John Malkovich" at p.m. in Watson Theater. The comedy stars John Cusack, Keener. Admission is \($ 3\).

Comedians Buddy Flip and Scott Bruce periorm at p.m. at the Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the fotel ticket information.
- The Central Library sponsors a Literacy Program Computer Lab at 10 a.m. and ing 435-1835. The Library also hosts an English Conversation Group at 12:15 p.m. For more information on the conversa tion group, call 435-1900.

\section*{[dö]}

The Daity Orange is pubtished

\section*{NEWTON}
continued from page 1
when she was hired as an assistant professor of geology. She was then promoted to associate professor in 1989 and named chairwoman of the Department of Earth Sciences in 1993, according to the university.
"Spirited in all things, Cathryn has an infectious enthusiasm that touches all who meet her, Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw said in a written statement. She inspires coleagues and students to put orth an extra burst of ener gy.

In 1991, Newton received the University Scholar/Teacher standing teaching ability andintellectual contributions to the university, according to SU. Her past scholarly achievements include publication in professional journals and several research grants from the National Science Foundation. Newton also serves as editor in chief of Paleogeography, Paleoclimatology, Paleoecology, aninternational academic ournal.

Newton served in an administrative capacity prior to Monday's appointment as Arts and Sciences interim associate dean for programs, curriculum and instruction.

Jensen's career began long before he took the reigns as dean in 1994.

He was first hired as a ge-

\section*{NAACP}
continued from page 1 officers were later acquitted of all charges stemming from the incident.

The case caused a stir in the community as a whole, not just minority groups, Glenn said. The public wants to know how anyone can get away with this, she added. Lambert said the members also discussed their opinions about the upcoming presidential election, but added that they were not supporting any particular candidate. Glenn said they talked bout their voter registration drive continue to encogroup's plam to continue to encourage minority nembers to vole.
me Nalso plans to send members to next month's Manley Field House in which var ious campus ormanizations interact with children from the Syracuse community. Glenn said the group might perform skits for the children.

The group also spoke of chaper committees that they wanted to establish. They plan on organizing committees to focus specifically on political action, scholarship and community service, Lambert said.

Thursday night, the SU chaper of NAACP will send executive board members to a city chapter meeting. They plan to ask the city chapter for help in organizing the Glenn said.

The city chapter has goals that do not directly affect college ine to help the university chapter she added. "They always have their ams out to us and we always have our door is always open."

ography professor in 1964 and continued to serve as a profes sor until 1979. He was also appointed chairman of the geography department in 1973 .

Jensen served as dean of the Graduate School from 1990 until 1994, when he took over Arts and Sciences.

Jensen said his decision to retire is because he accomplished his goals during his tenure as dean and from a lifelong desire to retire at age 65 , which he will tura in June. He also cited the transitional period SU is going through that began with Freund's replacement Gershon Vincow Chancelyear as a reason for his retire year as ment. ment.

During his tenure as Arts and Sciences dean, Jensen helped to create several pro grams in the school including Research and Innovative Learning, which focuses on creating more undergraduate research, and the Freshman Lecture Series, which brings speakers to campus each fall to address the year's incoming freshman class.

Peace of mind

Marina Skrabalo, public administartion graduate student, reflects on working for lasting peace in the former Yugoslavia on Tuesday in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel. Shabalo told the proup of the problems and reward's of working with non-govermmertal institutions, grassroots organizations and the governments themselves to help bring permanent stability to the regfon.

\section*{4 March 8, 2000}

\section*{SPJ invites local media to discuss politics}

BY SAPNA KOLLALI Lifestyle Editor

Political reporters need to be skeptical of everything they encounter, said Frederic Pierce of The Syracuse Newspapers.

Picrec, a city hall reporter, said skepticism is almostessential when covering politics. everything," he said. "No matter how much you trust a source, there is a chance they're spinning the story, not telling you everything or out right lying."

Pierce warned, however, that reporters must make sure their skepticism does not be come cynicism
"It's important to question but you have to be open to ideas and not automatically assume everything is wrong., he said.

Pierce and other Syracusearea journalists will participate in a panel discussion focusing maries and elections.

The Syracuse University fessional Journalists sponsors the discussion, scheduled for 7 p.m. today in the Al auditori p.m of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications.

Other panelists are Greg Munno of The Syracuse Newspapers, Bill Carey of Channel 9 , Paula Garrell of Channel 3 , Chris Bolt of WAER-FM 88.3 and Robert McClure, assistant dean of the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. Joel Kaplan, chairman of Newhouse's newspaper departmert Therve as the moderator.

The panel coincides with Tuesday's elections, which included the New York state primary. tunity to discuss politics oppor tunity to discuss politics, the day after one of the biggest polificar days, said Jessica Cauffman, a junior newspaper major and SPJ vice president. so it will all be fresh in their minds. And, hopefully, the students were paying some attertion to the coverage. We should be able to get a good discussion going. \({ }^{*}\) Cauffman said she hopes panelists will address how they have covered elections in the past and the ethical issues election coverage.
"Something I want to know is how different candidates get different coverage," Cauffman said. "I mean, should Alan Keyes get more coverage than he does. even though he's not going to win?"
The type of coverage a candidate receives in a particular geographic area often depends on the media outlets that are available, said Bolt, WAER's news and public affairs director.
"I think public radio stations, like we are, have a little different approach and put politics and electionsinadifferent light, he said. We put more emphasis on education a lot of mercial radio stations might mercial radio stations might Bolt added

Bolt added that public radio reporting is also different than television reporting, and he wants to make sure that students understand those differences.
"I'd like our point of view to be represented, although not everyone may think it's right or good," he said. "Students are not ferent it is, and maybe this will be a carcer option for them."

Katrina Irwin, a junior broadcast journalism major and SPJ secretary, said even if people are not interestedin erntering politics or journalism as a career, this seminar useful and informative.
useful and informative.
"Something like this can help, you no matter what your major," she said. Everyone will be \({ }^{\text {a }}\). ing at some point in their life.

With McClure on the panel - he will give his view on the media and politics as an outsider to the journalism field Sider to the journalism field dents of all fields and academic dents of allfields and academic cially political science students. cially political sciencestudents. Maxwell people come," she Maxwell people come," she said. "It will hopefully give the journalists a different perspective on things."

Irwin said learning about coverage will help people make \section*{informed political decisions in} the future.

"It's a difficult thing to understand because there are so many aspects," she said. "People criticize the media all the time for emphasizing the horse personal life but there are personalire, but there are rea-cons a reporter does that Forums like this are one of the few ways students can earn about the inner workings how politics and journalism, and gether Bolt said gether, Bolt said.
rood ways to learn really have good ways to learn about this stuff," he said. "Sometimes a candidate will come to campus candidate will come to campus group is a little bit out of things. They have other priorities." Once students begin learning about politics, they may become more active, concerned and interested, Bolt added. "The college-aged block is a big block," he said. "Something like this won't immediately change things but it's a start."

\section*{GREEK}
continued from page 1
Goldenberg said.
On feb. \(\dot{2} \bar{f}\), six new pledges of A \(O\) Pi were found intoxicated at Flint Residence Hall. Two of the pledges were brought to Crouse Hospital, night under observation.
night under observation.
"The four sisters have been suspended for three years," suspended for three years, public relations and finance major.

The national office is supporting the claim that the incident was a case of individual misconduct rather than "The nationals came Life is still doing its own investigation."

OGL should reach a decision this week, she added.

Representatives from OGL could not be reached for com inemi.

The national office is helping OGL arrive at a university decision, said Melanie Doyle from the AOPi national office
"I can tell you that we are operating with SU and work cooperating with Doyle said.

Goldenberg said she is optimistic that OGL will reach the appropriate decision.
"I have a feeling that they will agree with the national's actions," she said.

Goldenberg, however, said she has mixed feelings about the decision.
"They were my pledge sis ters, so love them to death," she said. "But it's for the better of the sorority.*

\section*{ZBT}

Any Zeta Beta Tau social phań Mave emued fer thic zemester, Young said.

ZBT \(\operatorname{can}^{\prime} t\) have any social events such as parties at the house this school year," said Young, a junior in The College of Arts Sciences. "I believe things have been wrapped up." ated because of a report of an gated because of a report of an unauthorized social event on March 1 at the chapter's house. ZBT reportedly served alcohol tended by minors.

All fraternity parties must be first approved by the IFC, Young said. He added that he is unaware of any action taken by the national ZBT office in response to the incident.

The national office's investigation is still underway, said tigation is still underway, said
Jonathan Yulish, executive diJonathan Yulish, ex
"We should reach a decision sometime next week," he said. The office is also working with OGL in the investigation, With OGL in -Right now we are cooperating." said Jason Serapiglia, more president and a sopho. major.

The national office could react differently
"They are investigating the same charges," Serapiglia said. "But there could very well be two different decisions.

There is little opportunity for protest regarding the national's decision, Young added.
by the frats themselves," he said. "These are all rules that were voted on, 50 it's hard for them to argue about their pun-

\section*{TriDelt}

No new developments occurred this week in the TriDelt case, Korf said. The investigato an involves a Feb. 23 response invabind a
"Hopefully, things will be wrapped up by Spring Break," wrapped up

The sorority is acting on their own accord regarding the incident, said Jenny Lipstein, TriDelt president
"This is an internal matter," Lipstein said. "Things are being dealt with within the sorority according to our polisorority according to cies and procedures."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\title{
Wrigh quality and low prices are guaranteed at \\ Meincke:" \\ - EXHAUST SYSTEMS \\ - BRAKE SYSTEMS - SUSPENSION SYSTEMS \\ - C.V. JoInts \\ - STATE INSPECTION \\ - tire balancing \\ - All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY You won't pay a lot, but you'll get a lot. \\ \\ FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate \\ \\ FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate BIEER BIEER 8313 S . Main St.
\(899=9854\) 8313 S . Main St.
\(899=9854\) "USAL Al1. purat South
} "USAL Al1. purat South
}

OPEN MON -SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM

\section*{ \(51 \%\) DFF} meineks En-

\title{
[STATE INSPECTION 1/2 PRICE DNLY 57
}

meineires

\section*{ ONIY \($ 19.95\)}

\section*{ ST1 DFF}

OMDMsi 2000

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{New political spirit falls to status quo}

The results of Super Tuesday's presidential primaries caused irreparable damage to the nation's political process.
U.S. voters asked for change. Arizona Sen. John McCain and former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley offered them the chance to seize it. But Americans faltered at the polls. They failed to deliver themselves the new politics they craved.

They caved to big names, big money and empty promises, rejecting the chance to elect a president who wears the real face of the nation. And they will undoubtedly pay for it throughout the next four years.

McCain and Bradley - both considered dark horse candidates just months ago have run class-act campaigns and ushered a fiery, dynamic spirit down the campaign trail. Casual political observers and disenfranchised voters suddenly sprung to action, hoisting signs and toting petitions in support of these insurgent candidates.

Texas Gov_ George W. Bush and Vice President Al Gore, however, rally for the status quo and trailed behind these maverick competitors in some state polls. They epito mize the aristocratic, family-name politics that Americans love to hate.

But when the establishment-backed, busi-ness-as-usual candidates score big wins at the ballot box, the nation still scratches its head.

Eight months before the general election, the die has already been cast in the shadow of traditional party politics. Within days, both Bradley and McCain will concede to their respective parties' favored sons and drop out of the nomination race.

Democracy exists to foster competition between candidates, to give citizens a choice. Voters slap the political process in the face, however, when they cling to the past and jettison innovation.

Next fall, the United States will elect the first new president of the millennium. But it has robbed itself of the chance to pick the best candidate.

[dä]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kelkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editar
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Phatography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

Justin Silverman Holly Auer Sapna Kollali Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger
Adeet Deshmukh Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Kate Stevenson Titfany Lankes Kevin Tampone Corey Hann Magin MeKenna Cormor Ennis Jaft Passann
Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Trto Bottitta Tom Mason Rachael Golden Lsa Caswell Ron Fooks fid Mercadante Marisa Condon

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Risks accompany Spring Break fun in the sun}

Hey, campers! In anticipation of the conse-quence-free Spring Break hedonism, we'li be playing a special Choose Your Own Adventure game. For those of you who don't know how to play, it's very easy.

Read the first section and make a choice, which will lead you to another section. Keep going until you win or until you reach one of the hutible ahteranate endings. But zemember, the real Spring Break isn't all fun in the sun. There's tough choices to be made. Make sure you choose the right ones. Spring Break trip and you have Spring Break trip and you hav the option of spending more money on a ticket from a known alcohol and going with a sketchy airline you found on the Internet. If you choose to take your chances with the unknown airline, go to #Il. If you'd rather airline, go to #11. If you'd rather dish out the cash and fly Delta, go to #6.
WALTON
#2-You get back to your hotel room and although you're wasted, you succeed in doing whatever it is that college kids do when they go home together from a bar. If you get up the next morning and stay to talk and have breakrast the beach looking for your next conquest, go to #15 beach looking for your next conquest, go to
#3 - You get to the hotel and go directly to decide where to so for the evening. If yoed to to go to one of the bars that'sing. If you ching Break special, go to #7. If you'd prefer to take some local advice and try a place a bit more adventurous, go to #9.
#4 - You walk to the beach and things start to get physical. Unfortunately, neither of you has brought protection. If you decide to put it off until the next night, go to #8. If you've just got to have it, no matter what, go to #14.
#5-Big mistake. You wake up the next morning naked and chained to a palm tree with strange symbols tattooed all over your body. some fatal tropical disease.

THE END. Lesson: Don't take drinks from strangers.

Congratulations! Your flight arrives step off tinsext tropical location here). When you says he was sent by the hotel to help you with says he was sent by the hotel to help you with your bags so you can explore the island. Do you trust him? If you give him your bags, go to #12. If you'd rather hang on to them, go to #3. #7 - With your vision beginning to get hazy, you walk into the bar and immediately start to party. After a few more drinks, someone approaches you and offers you a drink. If you take it, go to #5. If not, go to #13.
#8 - You wake up on the beach the next morning plone. Tonks as if this is poing to be the pattern for your Spring Break. Oh well, better uck next year.
THE END. Lesson: Always make sure your hotel gets the adult movie channel.
walk into the bar and immediately all eyes are walk into the bar and immediately all eyes are on you. A stumning island native comes up to you not, go to #13. tionship. Looks like just got yourself in a rela Spring Break orgy for you.
THE END. Lesson: Spring Break hook-ups should be just that: hook-ups.
\(# 11\) - Bad choice Your #11 - Bad choice. Your outdated Soviet military prop plane explodes within seconds of takeoff, sending you to a fiery death.
the Internet. Lesson. Never buy anything over the Internet.
#12 - After giving the man your bags, you Walk down to the beach to check out the action. You're approached by yet another local who opens his coat and displays a stunning array of hallucinogenic drugs. If you purchase some of his more powerful wares, go to 1 ike to buy a joint, go to #7. If you'd prefer to stay substance free this week, go to \(# 3\).
#13 - The coed you've been grinding with on the dance floor asks you if you want to go back to the hotel to "get to know each other better." If you agree, go to #2. If you'd rather take a moonlight walk on the beach, go to #4.
#14- You chose … poorly. Two weeks after break, you start to feel a burning sensation around your genitals, and you're constantly itching. Welcome to the exciting world of STDs.

THE END. Lesson: Always use protection
#15-Suecess! You got to the beach, got wasted and hooked up with no strings attached wasted and hooked up with no strings attached
If you can just make it through the rest of the week without any trouble, you will have officially kicked Spring Break's ass!

THE END.
Matt Walton is a senior music composition major His column appears in The Daily Orange on Wednesdays. E-mail him at mjwalton@syr.edu.

\section*{letters}

GOP coverage highlights party shortcomings

To the editor:
This is in response to the editorial stating that Al Gore Was "neglecting" Upstate New York. Can I point out that. Al Gore delivered a speech at a campaign rally in Williamsville, (a suburb of Buffalo, and my hometown) live on CNN Saturday. How can the editor be so

\section*{oblivious to this fact?}

This paper's lack of political coverage is obscene. Is this paper the reason for the increasbly For the editor of the most widely read newspaper on campus to not do this simple research (it was on national television!), is an example of how horrible this pseudo-journalistic newspaper has become.

Secondly. The D.O.'s coverage of the GOP is sickening. are so far right, it is painful to read of their travels.
They are anti-gay rights, anti-women rights and anti-personal liberties. These conserva they continue to allow childr to be killed by guns, for that the NRA are filling their wallets too heavy to get up and take action. Keep Wornen's Choice alive:
Vote Liberal. Vote Liberal.

Jeffrey Wisniewski

\section*{Students plan week of sweatshop dialogue \\ to be made under certain envi}

\section*{BY STEFANIE KRATTER}

Syracuse University's Student Coalition on Organized Labor met Tuesday night to prepare for sweatshop awareprepare for ness week.

Members will use the week after Spring Break to inform stadents of sweatshops and stueir practices. their practices.
Tuesday's New York Fublic Interest ReNew York Public interest Research Groups office on South Crouse Avenue, was one of the largest turnouts in recent years, sidid \(J . J\). Butts, SCOOL member. The increased student support might be a result of labor speech in Grant Auditorium last week on the anti-sweat. last weck on the anti-sweatshop movement, Butts added. About 350 students attended the event.

Sweatshop awareness awill begin March 20 and week will begin March 20 and end March 24. SCOOL will run teach-ins across campus to educate students and explain how sweatshops relate to universiies nationwide, Butts said.

In addition, SCOOL will organize rallies during the week and set up model sweatweek and set up model sweatshops to further educate students about the poor working conditions that workers aro

In previous years, SU had sweatshop workers speak to students about some of these man rights violations, lack of unions and power to negotiate contracts, said Butts, a gradu-
"Students should be concerned about what is groing on yond university prounds," he said. Fellow SCOOL member Marika Wissink agreed.
"Students have enormous potential to bring sbout change in sweatshops," said Wissink, a senior in the College of Visual and Performing Arts.
wissink and other members of SCOOL are urging students to help in convincing the University to stop using the Fair labor Association to mon factorics that produce SU apparel. SCOOL watio the ers Rights Consortium s Rights Consortium.
SCOOL supports WRC because it is more effective in monitoring the sweatshops, Wissink said. The WRC also has a system that allows a worker to easily file grievances against their formpany warassed she added.
"An employee should not haveklisted for filing a complaint about unsafe working conditions," she said.

SCOOL members are working to have the university change affiliations by April 1 . so it can participate in the founding conference of the WRC that is scheduled in New York state on April 18.
"The sweatshops are making the clothing we wear cuery day, including the materials the university puts its logo on. Therefore, it should be the uni versity's responsibility to as sure that worker's rights are sure that worker's rights are "Clothes should be made under decent conditions.

FLA was created as a partnership between unions, non government associations and corporations, Butts said. SCOOL opposes FLA's code of conduct because they feel the corpora tions are dominating partnerships and their monitoring standards are weak, he added.
"You can have a factory monitored once every 10 years and have it labeled sweatshopfree, \({ }^{\text {B Butts said. }}\)

The United Students Against Sweatshops, along with SCOOL, has been camwith SCOOL, has been campaigning to persuade universities other than \(S U\) to sign the new code of conduct. The code will require university apparel ronmental and safety condi tions, Butts said.

The University of Wisconsin at Madison, the University of Michigan and the University cently held sit-ins in an effor to get their respective adminis to get their respective adminis swation to respond to antiget the message out to the sursaid.
secrelothing is being made in secret and appalling condi human rights arebeing de nied," Wissink said paigns are in the wortes camWissink wants to moke it clear that such action is not a boy cott.
"We are trying to use the university to put pressure on corporations to reform labor corporations to reform labor practices and putan end to humanrights violations at the man rights violations at the sweatshops, Wissink said.

\section*{LOCAL}
continued from page 1 Syracuse), Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi and New York state cuse), all Bush delegates, hosted Cuse), all Bush delegates, hosted a celebration party at Twin Trees Too restaurant and bar, 1029 Milton Ave., at which more than 40 Bush supporters anxiously anticipated election results over pizza and beer.

Their anticipation paid off, with Bush defeating Arizona
Sen. John McCain in New York state 51 to 43 percent.

But even after what Central New York Bradley Campaign Coordinator Steve Wichtel called ordinator Steve Wachtel called Bradley support areas, the candidate garnered only BLANK delegates, losing contests in all 16 states, some by more than 40 states, some by more than 40 percent.
"Bill Bradley campaigned as a gentleman and he ran a good race but he did not make a strong enough showing in any of the states," Bernardi said. Based on sarl.
Based on early results, Bernardi said he was confident that his candidate would run strong through the conven

Bush gained BLANK delegates, McCain BLANK delegates lowing Tuesday's contests. Mc-Cain scored victories in ConCain scored victories in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Island and Vermont.
"He obviously has the New England ability to win," Bernardi said. This will give McCain the reflection he needs to withdraw

McCain is not the only one who needs time to refleci, \(w\)

Employed by the Bradley said the loss has been disappointing but not shocking. "Obviously we're not happy because we didn't do that well nationally," he said. "But we got a candidate who brought up some important issues for the country." Wachtel said he was confi-dont McCain will drop out of the dont MeCain will drop out of the spokesman for the CNY Commitee to Elect Bill Bradley President Jantes Snyder said Bradley's withdrawal from the race is not definite. definite.
his position over the coming days," Snyder said. "But you have to acknowledge the fact contest, in every state

But Snyder said Bradley is not "throwing in the towel" right away, despite a post-New York state results speech in New York City that sounded to him like a concession speech.

The speech, Snyder said, may have been Bradiey's last optry. And although Bradley failed to wind a single Super Tuesday to win a single Super I uesday Upstate star did a thorough job. Snyder attributed Gore's New York state defeat of Bradley scribed as a snowball effect" of states and support and a high percentage of elected official endorsements, he said.

Bradley campaign supporter and Baldwinsville resident Mary Stevenson agreed.
people do not always vote with their consciences, they vote for the candidate who they perceive to be winning," Stevenson said. "I heard so many people say they liked Bradley and his platform but say they won't vote for him because he can't win.

Stevenson's participation in the local campaign was based on her belief in Bradley's message, not on his ability to win the nomination, she said.
"You can't give up," she said. -Sometimes you have to go against the popular candidate.

While going agoinst what is popular is what attracted Steven son to Bradley, that trend may have hurt his Republican coun terpart, McCain.
publican conservatives like Jern

Falwell and Pat Robinson, may have affected him Tuesday, said have affected him Tuesday, said Adam Beasley, a Syracuse Uniand Bush supporter.
"I think he really hurt himself this week by alienating that part of the conservative party, part of the 문 in states with onen pri-maries-in which voters may cast support for either party McCain swayed Democratic and independent voters that Bush did not. This fact accounted for McCain's New England victories, Beasley said.

steam But Bush is picking up on until November," he said.

Bush did not win eight states by his platform alone, said Dan Gage, Bernardi's director of public affairs. Americans are tired of scandal after eight years of President Bill Clinton, Gage said.
"I think people are seeking a change from the Clinton perception of politics," he said, "Americans are looking for more traditional family values and more

Following Clinton's presidency, voters are longing for the previous presidency, Gage said. In this case, it is former President George Bush - an added benefit Gov Bush will succeed in the race within his own party based somewhat on his father's legacy, but can also count on a distrust of those associated with Clinton and Vice President Al Gore to lead him to victory, said Jim O'Connor, Walsh's executive assistant.
"Gore is Clinton," O'Connor said. "They are one in the same. Both losers.

IInfortinnately for the Renublican Party, many Americans believe the success the country has seen during the last eight years is because of Clinton, when responsibility actually lies with a Republican Congress, said Jim Sparks, a Syracuse resident and friend of Walsh.
SU College Republicans
Chairman Joe Eurns, whose Chairman Joe Eurns, whose name appeared on the Now York state ballot as a delegate for former presidential candidate Steve Forbes, said he is not counting anyone out of the race. Although hemay have lost Republican Party support, Burns said he believes McCain may possibly move on as an independent candidate. Bush, Gorc and MeCain. It might be McCain splitting the Democratic ticket, said Burns, a junior political science and history maspelled "Burnes" on the Forbes spelled "Burnes" on the Forbes ballot. But regardiess, Ithink undoubtedly if Bush wins New stoppable."

\section*{PRIMARY}
continued from page 1
at the Women's National Republin Club.

New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani agreed that McCain's cans in the presidential race. "I know we're going to see McCain campaigning for Gov. Bush," he said.

Charles Gargano, former needed to win the Demacratic omination.

After grabbing a majority of delegates in New England states Getts and Rhode Island, McCainemerged with 210 delegates comemerged with 210 delegates compared Republican nomination, 1,034 delegates are needed.

One contest that helps determine each candidiates' strength in a general election is the Cali-dependents, Republicans and Democrats are able to vote for any candidate. California has the argest number of delegates.

Only votes cast by party members, however, count in the winner-take-all contest.

With 91 percent of precincts reporting in California, Bush had 60 percen - grabbing all 162

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{March 8, 2000}

\section*{BUSH}
continued from page 10
top in November."
In a speech from his national headquarters in Texas, and particulariy Patala, state, overwhelming support.

The nation must e
The nation must embrace a
"Tonight we have said.
ws from sea to shining sea, Bush said. "We have been challenged, and met the challenge. We have been tested, and passed the test.

Bush addressed the importance of a unified Republican Party to combat the return of a Democrat president.

Electing a Republican to the White House would end the eight-year reign of the ClintonGore administration, Pataki said.
"To the Clinton-Gore administration and the White House - hold your breath because help is on the way," Pataki said. "This battle for the nomination is over. The battle win, however, goes to the McCain's losses in Tuesday's primaries leave him as potential supporter for Bush, Pataki said.

His strong character chalenged Bush and heated the race between the top two Republican candidates, Pataki added.
"I think that he helped Gov; Bush stand as a candidate," Pataki said. Competion has date," him improve as a candiate.

Giuliani used the primary party as an opportunity to campaign for his own senatorial Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton

He complimented Bush's personable campaigning methods and said he hopes they will aid the Republican party in their quest for the White House. This is a great night for New York and a great night for the Republican Party \({ }^{n}\) Giuliani said. "Nobody gets the crowds Gut- nobody likes it like Gov. George Bush. And to Al Gore Former New York Sen. Alfonse D'Amato said Bush's Altensive education and welfare reforms would be brought to the national level if he is elected.

Bush is a man of strong integrity, whose record as governor is a strong basis for the executive position, D'Amato said.

It hasn been easy," D'Amato said. "Bush has the energy. He has the record for educational reform. He's a man of passion.

Bush's passion extends beyond just voicing ideas and policies, said Bruce Gleb, former New York City dir

Gleb, who worked extensively with Giuliani, said that Bush is a "doer," and his reforms in Texas exhibit his dedication.

When he says he's going to do something, he goes out the does it, Gleb said. This is ple. I hink he's going to win New York

An advocate of improving minority rights, Bush received strong backing from many Hispanic political groups in New member of Cubans for George W. Bush.

After meeting with Bush in Virginia last fall, the organization decided to support Bush because of his dedication to include all people.

We are a party of principle," Bush said. "We must also welcome a new America. An Gomez added that Bush's proposed reforms to education, welfare and taxes make him appealing to minority populations.
"This is what we minorities are looking for in the Ameris America and this is why wh come to this country. I believe from all the candidates, he is Ste one hat looks to the United America."

Other supporters at Tuesday night's primary party commended Bush's recordin reform as governor and as a spirited campaigner.

Standing on the brink of the ned a leader who can invigorate the people of the nation, as well as its economic and political stand ings, said Tom Basile, a mem ber of Rockland County Repub lican Executive Committee.
"He has a genuine passion," Basile said. "That is what we need in this country. There is a positive energy around this man that can oring this coun try into the 21st century."

\section*{KEYES}
continued from page 10
and media, Legakis said
I actually bought four New York papers today and I have yet to see his name," Legakis said Tuesday evening.

Legakis spent Tuesday at a poll near his Long Island home. A few voters suggested Keyes should be the vice presilent, Legakis said.

Legakis said he chastised one man for admitting to liking Keyes, but not voting for him. Keyes supporters nervously watching the election results for New York state, Legakis aid. He said he knew of no planned events
"It's kind of hard to muster ip the enthusiasm when you know the results aren't going to be in your favor," Legakis said. A lot of us will be ecstatic if he pulls 10 percent.

Legakis categorized Keyes' New York state campaign as brief."

The campaign in the state was short on money and experience, said Legakis, who is a urst-time hiphlight might have on a Tuesday morning apbeen a the crowd at the Today Show filming in New York City, Legakis said.
"This whole campaign up here has been put together quickly," said Syracuse University sophomore Noah Goldman, who connected with the Keyes campaign to bring the candidate to the SU campus on Feb. 28.

Goldman did not watch the election results Tuesday night, he said.
"I think I've gotten past the point of being upset," Goldman ent single digit showings in the polls. polls.

On Tuesday evening, as the results from 16 Republican pri maries and caucuses rolled in Goldman pondered the possithe race
"It would be a little upsetting," said Goldman, a sopho more philosophy and televi sion, radio and film major. "Be cause I still do think he has something to say

Goldman said he doubts Keyes will withdraw from the race.

If Keyes takes his strong pro-life message to the Repub ican national convention in July, "he will be doing his job," Goldman said

Keyes spent Tuesday nigh in his home state of Maryland where he received 7 percent of the vote.

\section*{The Daly Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisementsis: pm. two business dayspor to the issue miz which the ad is to appear Please pay in cash, checks or credit cards. Cail 443-9793 for more information:

\section*{THE \\ LALLY SCHOOL \\ AT RENSSELAER \\ }

Management and technology.
Application
and innovation.

\section*{GET THE JUMP On The New Economy \\ }

The Lally School at Rensselaer. Business savvy for a world gone digital.

The MBA@Rensselaer

\section*{McCAIN}
continued from page 10 Wednesday his organizers would meet to "re-evaluate" his campaign.
fight." he said And with.
And with that, all the momentum McCain had built during his victories in New Hamping his victories in New Hampshire and Michigan had seemingly disappeared, said Sister ingly disappeared, said Sister Vlavimlira Havelock of the VirViavimlira Mavelock of the VirMary Church in Brooklyn.
McCain lacks the strength McCain lacks the strength of a political war chest stocked by establishea Republicans, like will he have earned enough money to continue his campaign, Havelock added.
"The Republicans made it she said.

The news vanquished what was once a vibrant crowd of state supporters.

Up until 9 p.m., the brawl between McCain and the Texas governor had yet to be resolved.

After several earlier primaries last month, McCain trailed Bush by a large margin of delegates. But a big showing of delegates. But a big showing Tuesday could have closed the gap.

The battle in the Empire State reached great proportions as the Republican race intions as the Republican race intensified during the last few weeks. McCain and Bush entered the arena of negative campaign advertisements, chiding each other's character and integrity.

Staten Island burrough President Guy Molinari claimed MeCzin rese nbove Each's tactics. paign in New York," he said. "But I have no problem with Gov, Bush."

For Molinari, McCain's campaign was already a success.
"If you could tell me two months ago we could carry the entire state of New York with all the establishment on the other side, I'd tell you you're While hith.

While high-profile Republicans such as New York state Gov. George E. Pataki and former New York Sen. Alfonse D'Amato appeared at the gathering for bush, few big names were present to support Mc U.
U.S. Rep. Peter King (RN.Y.), perhaps the most-widely

\section*{Underdog supporters cope with primary election losses}

\section*{BY RYAN DONOHUE} Staff Writer

After Super Tuesday losses for unCordog candidates John McCain and Bill Bradley, their supporters at Syracuse University nursed their wounds and, in McCain's words, "reassessed" their strategies.

In primaries and caucuses in 16 states and one territory, former New Jersey Sen. Bradley did not win a single one.
"He won. I lost," Bradley said Tuesday night of his opponent, Vice President Al Gore. Because Democrats earn national convention delegates on a proportional basis, however, Bradley still got about a quarter of Tuesdays delegate to New Hampshire with 20 other "hardliners" to work for Bradley before that state's Feb. 1 primary.
"We were out there in the snow, doing the dirty work, putting up signs in ing the middle of the night," Riemer said.

But Tuesday's losses ended Bradley's campaign, he said.

As results roiled in Tuesday, both Bradley and Riemer spoke of the campaign in the past tense.
Christina Hinchem, Gore supporter, will invite Bradley supporters to support the vice president, she said.

The party's over," Hinchey said.
Bradley brought universal health care, race relations and strict gun control to the forefront of national discussion, Riemer said.

The ex-New York Knick's primary loss was worse than expected, Riemer saic.

Riemer blamed the defeat on a poorly run campaign. Bradiey did not listen to advice when perhaps he should have, he said.

But he still does not completely understand why Bradley's campaign faltered.
"I mean, they were neck and neck in New Hampshire and there was a lot of momentum, \({ }^{m}\) Riemer said. "It just kind of petered out."

Now Riemer is calling himself "the newest Gore kid on the block."

On the McCain side, the future is less clear. Texas Gov. George Bush on Tuesday won major states like New York, Californis and Ohio - good for 340 more delegates than Arizona Sen. McCain. Bush beat McCain

But McCain took four states of his own, winning Connecticut, Mass setts, Rhode lsland and Vermont. Still, McCain, too, spoke of his cam-Still, McCain, too, spoke of his campaign in the past tense at a Tuesday night speech in California. He also vowed to never, ever abandon herters to paign. McCain advised his supporters to \section*{Bucking the odds}

One extraordinary McCain support. er now rated his candidate's odds for winning the Republican nomination at 5 -to2.

Scott Malkie, a graduate student in music, plays in the pep band at basketball games, enjoys drinking with his friends and is in other ways a typical colisge student. His living room decoration is a row of em

But among all students in the city of Syracuse, Malkie was the only one to doSyracuse, Malkie was the only one to do2000 presidential campaign.

He paid \($ 1,000\) from his credit card to McCain, according to Federal Election to McCain, according Late Tuesday night, however, Malkie said he doubted that McCain would win the nomination.

"I'm disappointed," Malkie said. "But I think that the point was made. You can I think that the point was made. You can special interests.".

As a pro-choice member of the National Riflo Association, Malkie did not always agree with McCain.

Bays agree wilh McCain. in education reform and campaign fiin education reform and canpaign reform to make the donation out nance reform to make the donation out. of earni'gs rym a summer mos citizen; he said.

In early November, Malkie con. tributed the most money that a person legally can to one candidate. At that point in the race, McCain was a self-described the senator's surge in popularity made him a contender in Tucsday's New York state primary.

It made Malkie's donation seem prophetic.

After McCain's New Hampshire
trouncing of Bush, he raised \($ 1\) million in 24 hours through the Internet.

Malkie remained casual about McCain's setback. aid said. Even if he just goes back

McCain will keep fighting in the primaries, Malkie said, if for nothing else than to avoid being a "quitter.

In the months since he contributed to the campaign, Malkie turned down requests from local McCain organizers to volunteer his time.
"My life is busy enough without trying to convert the heathens," Malkie said What I do have is some extra money lying around.
On the other end of the spectrum from Malkie's "armehair" support is seior Brendan Williams.

Prior to McCain's appearance at Le Moyne College on Saturday, Williams posted fliers on cars in mall parking lots. He got chased away from Carousel Center by a security truck.

He handed out fliers while walking to class and tried to talk strangers into voting for McCain along the way

For a week he worked with a McCain youth coordinator, driving her around Syracuse to look for speaking venues and calling about 40 registered Republieans to promate McCain.

Sometimes, he would get a Bush supporter, an experience he called "a little disconcerting.
"I usually say, Well, McCain is a strong alternative to Bush,"' Williams said. \({ }^{\text {I }}\) used to be a Bush supporter before McGain threw his hat in the ring.

Though he would support Bush in a general election against Gore, Williams blameu the Lowe Stas otate Eovernor's party support for McCain's New York tate defeat.
"He lost in New York mainly because of the hard-line Republican vote," Williams said.

Williams discussed the possibility of McCain dropping out of the race. Barring any surprise victories, McCain will campaign for another week or so, Williams said.
"He;has auch a strong character," Williams aaid.:"I truly don't see how be can kowtow to Bush until it's absolutely a statistical impossibility for him to win."
recognized McCain delegate, ripped into Bush's and Pataki's efforts to support the Texas governor. In late January, Pataki and other fellow Republicans supported a measure to keep \section*{McCain off the New York state} ballot.

Mo

Molinari was the only other attraction in addition to King and 'Tuesday night's media blitz.
"If we want to end the current era of the Clinton-Gore administration, John McCain's our guy." he said

Anxious McCain supporters began chanting, "We want McCain," at 10 p.m. with New York City televisi

As the swin.
As the swing band took a break, the crowd continued to stir. Energized by hearing "Johnny B. Goode" piped they clapped along with their battle cry, adding the word "now."

About 15 minutes later, the crowd disbanded and headed to the \(T V\) monitors - the roar would never be restored. defeat broke, the ballroom cleared while, supporters and media alike rushed out of the media.

The stage, adorned with a large American flag and Mc-

Cain 2000 posters, remained empty throughout the night.

But the Bush campaign re mained exuberant as New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani took center stage only blocks away, grinning from ear to ear.
"We want John McCain to support G.W. Bush. And hope fully me," said Giuliani, a like ly U.S. senatorial candidate.

Sister Havelock, an ex-Ma rine, continued to root for Mc Cain \({ }^{n}\) I like everything about him," she said.

Havelock said McCain would make a great world leader because of his persever ance.

She also said that McCain doubters could not point to a lack of support from the tholic yote.
"I think he's doing very well among us," said Havelock, who is Greek-Orthodox.

She added that she felt the Republican Party turned its back on McCain and that Bush stood no chance in a genera election against Vice Presiden pian
Pianist Al Warner of the Bob Hardwick Band, the swing ensemble performing for the crowd, is a veteran to the polit ical scene. His band has played for former presidents George Bush and Ronald Reagan

"I've played for Bill Clinton too, but don't spread that around," he said, cracking a smile while sitting at his bench. Even though Warner, a Manhattan native, does not consider himself a Republican, he said he admires McCain and his supporters.
"I'm really impressed with the crowd," he said comparing the audience to other political parties he has attended. II was in the crowd and they were al polite, not one was rowdy."

But Tuesday night proved a short performance for Warner. Not an hour after the election results were announced, he ceased tickling the ivories, got up, yawned, locked up his black grand piano and shrugged his houlders.
"Maybe next time."

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com
> Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com
continued from page 11 porters said they knew that they were fighting a losing battle, at least for Tuesday's primaries.
"I think he is going to drop out," said Rachel Koss, a freshman at Barnard College in man at Barna

Campaign volunteer Ezra Friedlander, a resident of Friedlander, a resident of Brooldyn, said he is not sure of Bradley's chances in the race. Bradley's chances in the race. Bradley for over 10 years, \({ }^{n}\) he said. "I knew from the onset he couldn't win the nomination" \(n\)

Cornell West, a Harvard Cornell West, a Harvard professor and social activist, spite Tuesday's defeat.
"I think students ought to remain idealistic," said West, who visited the Syracuse University campus last October. "Gore is a dishonorable campaigner."

Bradley is the best candidate for the job, especially for college students because of his backing for education, Koss said. She added that she will be disappointed to see him end his campaign.

Sarah Slobodian, also a freshman at Barnard and a New Jersey native, said Bradley's own dedication makes him deserving of the dedication of his supporters for as long as he wants to stay in the race.
"He was my senator for the past billion years and I wanted to see him continue his work," Slobodian said.

Laura Schooler, a former empioyee of Bradley during his upset because she was unable to vote in a booth because of a registration error. Instead, she was forced to use a paper ballot, which she said she suspects are not counted anyway."

An employee (of the vot-

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ Advertising Information} adyeitiseme
 adomust bet the divertising office before p.m. two busi ness days before you want it to run.
Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hôur is 6tin int \(x^{2}\) ing precinct) was supposed to photocopy my signature so I can vote at the polls, but they didn't," she said.

Each year, voting registrars tell Schooler to re-register to be able to vote in a booth rather than with a paper ballot, she said. "Every yea

Every year I do what they tell me to fix it and every year I have the same problem," she said.

Despite her difficulties at the polls, Schooler still managed to cast her vote for Bradley. She conceded, however, that she will throw her support to Gore if her candidate borls out of the race cancidate But not all Brad
But not all Bradley supporters are so quick to abandon their candidate.

Marc Pelka, a freshman at New York University, said he will continue to support Bradley long as he can.
He is the first candidate I feel strongly about," he said. He cares about social issues, weh as gay rights, he added.
Pelka and his friend, Sara Motejl, both members of the NYU College Democrats, organized activities at their school in support of Bradley. Their efin support of Bradley. Their efthe campus dining halls.

Motejl agreed with Pelka's belief that Bradley deserves support untilhe says he is ready to leave the race

He is the most truthful but I think he pushed Gore in the direction he should be going."

\section*{The tasty Bacon Cheddar Whopper}

Think of it as a Whopper that is dressed up with someplace to go!
 Available at Kimmel Food Court, Goldstein Dining & Brockway Food Court

> The Sraduate Sudent Organization is Requesting all Student and Service Organization Budget Proposals for the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year be submitted to the GSO Office by

\author{
March 29, 2000 , 4:30pm in 131 Schine
}

If there are any questions pertaining to the budget proposal format or the budget process, please contact 443-3961 or e-mail fjcarter@syr.edu.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

\section*{Bush secures close race}

\begin{tabular}{l}
by tiffany lankes \\
Ass. News Edior \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Keyes trudges along despite little attention \(\underset{\substack{\text { BY RYAN } \\ \text { Staff Whtier }}}{ }\) earned 20 percent of the vote and beat Arizona Sen. John Mccain, he was.

\section*{NEW YORK NUMBERS}

\section*{Democrats}

34\%
85 delegates

\section*{Gore dominates all states}

Republicans

Bradley faces uncertain future

Br hate stevenson
Asst. News Editor

 See GORE page 12
syathleigh graf

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{}

\section*{GORE}
continued from page 11
CNN estimated that Gore won 158 New York state delegates, compared to Brad

The elected delegates w vote in August for the candidates they support, doing so at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles. It is at the party convention where the Democrats will officially nominate their candidate for president. Jon Adams, a graduate student at Columbia Law School, said he first started becoming heavily involved in the Gore campaign when he and several other Columbia students boarded a bus to New Hampshire in February. There, they passed out fliers and cam paigned door-to-door just be fore the state's primary.

\({ }^{\text {"We banged on doors in the }}\) cold and tried to get the votes out, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Adams said. \({ }^{\text {New Hamp- }}\) shire was a place that was really close, I think we identified a lot of undecided voters."

Adams' friend, Columbia graduate Melinda Gesell, agreed.

It's important to be visible, even if you do provoke a negative reaction," Gesell said, a cup of celebratory beer in hand. Food and beer in ice-filled metal drums were abound at the party. "They know that the candidate generated enough support from you that you went out banging on doors."

New Hampshire residents were generally "very nice," Adamas said.

In contrast, Adams said he encountered some "very negative" pedestrians while fliering in New York state.
"One guy took a pamphlet and put it in right in the trash can, he said. So, I walked and handed it to the next person."

Despite some negative reactions, both said Gore is the person for the job. Bradley's crushing defeat may soon cause their favorite candidate to be the only Democratic candidate for that job, they added.

A Bradley withdrawal may come soon, Gesell said, something Adarns said would be the best thing for Bradley to do.

For him to linger in the race is futile, Adams said. The only thing it would do is inflate costs for the Gore campaign and steal resources, he added. bout the peneral election to not about the general Gesell added.

\section*{Group support}

The Republican Soutin Car olina primaries of severai weeiss ago actually strengthened win in November's general win in November's genera election, said New York state Attorney General Eliot Spitzer, City rally.

Republican candidates Texas Gov. George W. Bush and Arizona Sen. John McCain reAentlessly fought with each other during the South Carolina er during the south carolina the more right-wing Republican.

\author{
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu
}

I see a sure victory for the Democratic party in November," he added.

Gore will also be helped if and when Bradley concedes defeat. Many Bradley aupporters will likely swing their alle. giance to Gore, said Kate Black, a Gore volunteer.
Bradley may want support Bradley ray want Bradey for their candidate but theyre De mocrats and want a Democrat

Both Black said
Both Black and her friend,解 door-to-door in New Hampshire dor that primary, an experience that "rocked," Ron said.
'They were pretty receptive to it," said Ron, a sophomore at the State University of New York at Albany. "If they were Republicans though, they basically slammed the door in your

The Democrats were much more accommodating, she added.
"A lot of people don't even know the issues," Ron said "They were curious. They would ask, "What is his stance on that?" It was pretty cool to be that informative

Door-to-door campaigning in New York City, however, is not possible, she added

People get scared," Ron said. "You don't invade people's personal space here."

A lot of the campaigning done in the city was accomplished by using telephones, Black said.

A rash of volunteers just recently begon jumping nn the Gore bandwagon, Black said adding that she expects more to come as the carnpaign progresses.

David Kula said he just started becoming involved in politics about a week ago.
"This is my first campaign," Kula said. 'It's the first time I've gotten passionate about political issues."

He said his main job as a volunteer is to hand out leaflets on street corners.
"I agree with the issues he's fighting for," Kula said. "He has a deep commitment to society, abortion rights, universal health care and protecting ou naturalresources.
plans to continue heavy campaigning in the future, a plan that works well because he works for himself.
"I sign my own paycheck," he said. "I still have to pay bills, but I'm working harder now than I've ever worked in my life."

Some volunteers, however, sacrificed a steady job to help push Gore into the White House

Carter Bundy, a voluntees at Gore's New York City field of fice, said he recently quit his job at a law firm to work full time for the Gore campaign.
"I've been a lawyer for four and a half years and I felt this was a great segue from being a lawyer to doing something in the White House, hopefully in the Gore administration."
It is a bold move, he said, but a risk worth taking.
rience, Bundy think Gore experience," Bundy said. "I'd much rather have him run for ofince than (Bush), who doesn't Slovenia and Slovakia."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{EbGE}

AIDS alert
The global AIDS epidemic has suddenly become a frontbumer issue in Washington, D.C., with at least 11 bills and a multi-million dollar proposal pending on Capitol Hill. President Clinton his State of the Union address last week. stating that the solution to rising HIV. tuberculosis and malaria rates "must include the develop-, ment and the delivery of effective vac cines." The proposed \($ 1\) billion tax credit would go to drus companies that develop vaccines for these dis eases, and \($ 50\) million would be used by the private, Geneva-based Vaccines and Immunization to purchase those products and distribute them in needy countries.

Overwhelmed wonncn
By a wide margin, fresh man stress is a wormen's problem. Thirty-nine percent of the freshman women surveyed reported feeling stressed. Among male freshman, 20 pe ed feeling frequently overwhelmed, percent in 1985 accord ing to a report released last week by the American Council on Education and UCLA's Higher Education Research Institute. Linda 1. Sax, the UCLA education professor who directs the American Freshmen Survey, says the gender differences result from the fact that women spend their time on more stressful activities, while men use ties, while men use leisure time playing leisure games.

\section*{\({ }^{1}\) Net tax}

The savings typically found with ecommerce may be no more. Given the rapidly drowing number of internet purchasers and the increas ing headaches from tax) losses, the (本) ($) nation's govemors, govemors mayors and coun ty exectdebating in their annual succession of Washington conventions whether an intemet tax is justified. George Pataki of New York wamed against imposing any taxes that might stifle the evolution of electronic commerce and tronic commerce and

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Ninety percent of this game is half menal." Yogi Berra

\section*{BY CAROLINE CHEN} Staff Writer

A peachy-pink piglet, already sprouting the beginnings of eyebrows and eyelashes, laid on the hard table.

The biology student picked up her sealpel.
This is how Michele Cronin, a senior magazine and English and textual studies major, re members dissecting a fetal pig the spring of her freshman year in General Biology 2.

He had little teeth, and I had to break his jaw," Cronin said. "It was terrible. I thought it was the worst thing I'd ever done.-

For several months, Cronin stopped eating meat. She subsisted on bagels, cereal and honeydew melon.

On March 20, animal rights activists will encourage people like Cronin to become vegetarian as part of the 16th annual Great American Meatout.

The Meatout began in 1985 when a group of consumer activists became outraged by a U.S. Senate resolution supporting National Meat Week, said Laurelee Blanchard, director of communications for the event.

Dr. Alex Hershaft, founder of the Farm Ani mal Reform Movement, was one of the activists

See MEATOUT page 14

\section*{New exhibit disproves 'artsy' images}

\section*{Jane Rushmore}
carefree philosopher

I'll admit it, I was scared. Those "artsy" types can be so mean and bitter.

After looking at Leigh Adamson's work in her exhibit at the Zoid Gallery in the Comstock Art Building, I apprehensively asked someone to point me toward the artist. I followed his gaze and spotted her - yellow and pink hair, a body piercing, holes in her clothes and army boots.
"Great," I thought. "This is reassuring."

But my fears quickly dissolved.
"A lot of people get turned off from art as a whole because it's from art as a whole because it's stereotyped as elitist, Adamson said a few minutes after we started talkng. Tthink everyone is artistic not to be."

A junior sculpture major, Adamson is a down-to-earth artist with an unusual sculpture exhibit. Funky stuffed animals with crazy stitching attached to television sets or hanging in empty frames - fill the space of Zoid Gallery.

The gallery was opened two years ago, said Lawson Smith, a professor in the College of Visual and Performing Arts. It holds about 10 exhibits a year.
'It's called 'Zoid' because the shape of the walls is so strange," Smith said. "It's a trapezoid."

Adamson's work gives plush toys a little twist. Think: Beetlejuice as a friendly stuffed animal. Now you're getting the idea.

Smith said Adamson has "a fondness for making critters with unique personalities."

There's a lot more than just that

14 March 8, 2000

\section*{MEATOUT}
continued from page 13
who initiated the first Meatont. FARM, a non-profit animal rights organization, now coordi National Meat Week was bolished 13 years ago, but its opponents continue to advocate vegponents continue to advocate veg2,000 groups in the United States and Canada organized events promoting this diet, event organizers said.

Meatout organizers will hold a congressional reception March 20 in Washington, D.C. Last year's event attracted about 300 members of Congress and their staffs, she added.

The Meatout relies on grassroots support from environmental activists, animal rights activists, health professionals and college students, Blanchard said

A group of Syracuse University students founded the Student Anti-Anthropocentric Reasoning Organizntion this year to address rights issues. SARO. hosts tables rights issucs. SiA. So. hosts tables about every two weeks as part of about every two weeks as part of its on-going campaign to raise the student body.

Responses from students in regard to animal rights issues ranged from curiosity to rudeness to receptivity, swid Josh Katcher, a freshman film major and co-president of S.A.R.O. But, he added, the nature of college students i one characterized by apathy. ne charncterized by apathy.
"People just don't want to be othered with issues that they bothered with issues that they don't have to be concerned with," don't have to Sarah Watson, a freshman film drama major and S.A.R.O. member, has distributed literature advocating animal rights chine several times this year.

"I try to get other people to understand, but I don't force what Veganism-a lifestyle reject-\(g\) the use of any animal prod-

\section*{Tlue Daily Orange}
ucts - takes a great deal of selfdiscipline and self-control at first, said Elizabeth Cline, a junior polS.A.R.O.

Cline, who is has a 7 -meal plan, said she shops at Wegman's see St. and works with SU dining halls to make sure there are culinary options for both vegetarians and vegans.
"They've actually gotten a lot of good vegan stuff now," Cline said.

A meat-free diet is healthy, minimizes harm to animals and slows down destruction of the environment, advocates argued.

Vegetarians are less prone to erectile dysfunction because eating meat is linked to cloged arteries, including those leading to on gerticle by an Purle by C. Neal Bar fard of sponsible Medicine.

The American Diabetic Association and the American Heart Association recommend plantAssociation recommend pl based diets, Blanchard said.

A plant-based diet consists mostly of vegetables and grain and a limited amount of meat. Vegetarianism can be a healthy eating lifestyle, agreed nuhealthy eating ifestyle, agreed nutrition professor Tanya Horacek. mal products are the only complete sources of protein - they have all the necessary amino acids in the right proportions - a comination of vegetables and grains can serve as an alternative.

Vegetarians, however, have to be careful when planning their meals to make sure they get all the essential amino acids, vitamins \(B i \hat{2}\) and \(\bar{D}\) and minerais

Vegans, she said, are at a reater risk for a B12 deficiency ecause the vitamin is naturally found in animal products such as meat, milk and eggs.
healthiest diets, Watson said the healthiest diets, Watson said. Veof heart attack, she added.

Vegans live 10 years longer than non-vegans, and are at low er risk for Alzheimer's disease and duabetes, Cline said.

Over the long term, vegans run the risk of irreversible nerve damage and eventually paralysis fied with vitamin B12, Horacels said.

\section*{Making the switch}

Watson said she stopped eating meat during her sophomore year of high school and became a vegan when she entered college.

Animals are mistreated because they are seen only as commodities, Watson said.

In the beef and dairy industry, 90 percent of the animals live under inhumane conditions, some in spaces so confined they cannot even turn around, Cline said Their life span is cut to one-fifth of the normal average, she added Animals raised for slaughter are pumped with hormones and antibiotics with reckless disre gard for their health, Cline said. Cows are genetically manipulated to have oversized udders, which causes blood and pus to mix with causes blood and p

These hormones can be raced in milk sold for human consumption, Cline said.

Producers are prohibited by law to label milk as containing ovine growth hormone, she said.
"Beef and dairy is a huge industry," Cline said. "They have a lot of money and a lot of lobbyists."

The meat industry has made tremendous strides in the last 20 years in its treatment of animals, said Jeremy Russell, communications manager at the National Meat Association.

Russell cited efforts by Dr. Temple Grandin, a designer of livestock handling facilities, at improving animal treatment in slaughter-houses, and McDonald's mplementation of higher stanples of improvements.

JANE
continued from page 13
to her work, though. One of the strengths of Adamson's work, Smith said, is that it mental, political and social mental

The exhibit, which closes this Friday, has three titles: Green for Pets, Semi-Mute Rations and Remote.
"I did that out of variety and indecision," Adamson said.
The theme of the exhibit is a consumption of media, people, animals, fashion and eminism, Adamson said. object," she said. "Art itself is consumed in different ways."

\section*{Modest proposal \\ It was hard to get}

Adamson to talk this much about her work.
ple figure things out let peothemselves", she said for

So I decided to see what her pieces were all about. I cautiously stepped onto the newspapers covering the pand tried to avoid the black ink prints framed with elecnis prints framed with elecfloor. I walked over to the loor. I walked over to the closer look at the yellow frame.

Dangling on a piece of in the center of the frame. Toothpaste-green fabric

Advertising from the meat industry still blankets media consumers with slogans such as "Beef. It's what's for dinner" the ever-popular "Got Milk?" and The dairy industry provides nutritional information for schools, a conflict of interest that may influence curriculums, Blanchard said.

Students are taught the mantra: drink three glasses of milk a day for "strong bones and healthy teeth." T tion its veracity. tion its veracity.
erate bon accel"erate bone loss," Horacek said. "Calcium excretion rises as animal derived protein reaches excessive levels."
S.A.R.O. is sponsoring a lecture by Robert Cohen on safety and health issues related to milk. Cohen, an investigative reporter, Education Board, is tentatively scheduled to speak April 11

There are also environmental concerns that go along with tal concerns that go along with meat consumption, Watson said. one polluter of the environment because of leftovers from cattleraising and leather production she said.

That was important to mekeeping things a little cleaner," Watson said of her decision to "go vegan.

The meat industry produces 86,000 pounds of waste per sec ond, Katcher said. Katcher called raising animals for slaughter an inefficient use of land.

Twenty thousand pounds of potatoes can be grown on an acre of land, while only 165 pounds of beef can be produced in that same area, he said

Eighty-seven percent of the land in the United States is used to raise animals for food, he added.

\section*{Beefing up}

Sarah Friedman, a former vegetarian, said one of the rea ing high school was her concer formed the insect's body, and formed the insect's body, and yellow dots were sewn on it yellow dots were sewn on it

The white wings wer attached with purple stitches, and braided yellow wires were bent for the little feet.

There's a poem written in fine-point black marker around the edge of the frame titled "Static in blankets." It contains a bunch of fragby arrows, like a journal entry.
entry, Adamson lets the viewer fill in the gaps between her experiences and deduce the meaning.
Adamson said. "I was sitting at work in the library, and all these issues came together and made sense.

The work uses the mosquito as a metaphor hated need I was a kid, I hated needles," she said.
"And the dentist used to "And the dentist used to always say, it's just a little always say, it's just a little sting, like a mosquito bite." sting, like a mosquito bite."
Not much changes over time. "That's what the guys say too." Adamson added. "And, well, you know it's not true.* The piece was also a ance for Adamson to rea to the prominence of masculine sexuality in art these days, but "in a muffled sort of way," she said.

Adamson's artwork also provid. "If I have something to say, this is how I do it," she that animals were a waste of re-
"I was starting to get into an environmental stage," said Friedman, a senior environmental University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

Friedman began eating meat again in college, however, "mainly so had, I was afraid I'd starve." Her reintroduction to meat was a happy rendezvous.
said. "Wow, what was I missing all these years?"

Filling animals is part of the natural order of the food chain, said Jason Leipzig, a sophomore in the L.C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science. "It's in your blood to eat instinct. That's what they were instinct. That's what Canines and incisors in the human dental structure are evidence that humans were designed to eat meat, said Douglas Armstrong, chairman of the anthropology department.

"All you have to do is take your tongue and feel your teeth," your tongue and feel your teeth, elegant and diverse mouth."

Meat substitutes, such as vegrie burgers, pale in comparison Thanksgiving turkey, Leipzig said.
"It just wasn't the same thing," Leipzig said. "The substitutes just cost more and don't taste as good."

Brian Small, a sophomore marketing major, said eating meat makes him happy.
"I like meat on a stick," he said. "There's something primal about it."

Small said he had a close friend who couldn't eat anything with a face because she could not ook it in the eye.

Id always feel bad," he said, "but then I'd go and have a burgsaid. "It's like writing a letter to a friend that you never send."

\section*{Creative outlet}

Art has been a part of Adamson's life from the beginning.
"I can remember carrying around my Big Bird sketch book and I'd scribble in it, she said. Ithought it was the greatest thing in the Chi Childhood themes have a strong influence on

\section*{Women sweep weekend doubleheader \\ BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer \\ shortstop Lindsay Richards drove home both SU runs \\ only 16 in its five previous con- \\ ing phase. \\ The Orangewomen hope to}

Three weeks ago, the Syracuse softball team wrote the first entries into its record book first entries into its record book win. Last Sunday at West Point, the Orangewomen were able to add "first doubleheader sweep" to the first-year program's list of accomplishments. different routes to victory different routes to victory in each game against Army

They shut out the Cadets 2 0 in the first game, but had to score three runs in the final inning of game two to take a 6-3 ning of g

Syracuse (4-3) slapped sev en hits in the first game, including two apiece from fresh man inkelders Jackie Herrman and Leah Hansen. Freshman

\section*{WEBSTER}
continued from page 20
The NCAA proved it's no Abercrombie and Fitch, howev er, and ended Webster's collegiate career.

In this day and age, with players leaving the college. ranks like lemmings jumping into the sea, the NCAA should be down on its knees thanking caliber of Webster chose to stay caliber of Webster chose to stay for his senior campaign.

The Hurricane backer led the squad with 150 tackles ( 92 of them unassisted), 19 tackles for loss and five forced fumbles.
drove home both SU runs.

I've been struggling a lot at the plate this year and haven't been hitting the way I'd like to," Richards said. "Getting a couple RBIs makes my confi* dence a lot higher."

Junior Missy Bieman continued to lead the Orange on the mound, striking out four and giving up only two hits. She earned her second shutout of the season to improve her record to 2-1 and lower her ERA to 1.05.

In the second game, the Cadets (2-2) scored two runs in the second inning and one in the third before the Orangewomen chipped away at the lead.

SU scored one run in the third, fourth and fith innings before exploding for three in the top of the seventh to take the
"I think a lot of times once we get down, we stay down," Richards said. "That time, we got the hits going and got the runs going, which was real good for our confidence."

Freshman catcher Cheryl Julicher plated two of her three RBIs in the decisive final inning on a double. Freshman battery mate Tara DiMaggio evened her record to \(2-2\) with a fivehit, four-strikeout performance. - "I think they did a good job," head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said of her pitching tandem. "Some of their pitches weren't working. Thereare some things we're working on to get them a little more consistent and getting ahead of batters a little more."

SU broke out of an offensive funk with its 14 -hit output in the two games after getting tests.

It's starting to come around a little bit, Firnbach said. We hit the ball hard, right at people. We're starting to take advantage of some of these pitchers who might make mistakes.

Syracuse faced some local competition Monday night, hosting Cazenovia College in an informal scrimmage.

No scores werc kept, but Firnbach said her squad showed improvement from their ast encounter with Cazenovia In a tournament in Liverpool last fall, which the Wildcats won.
"I think we stayed focused, which is good," Firnbach said. "We didn't play down to their level. I think we showed some adjustments from the fall season and the winter condition- take the momentum with them this weekend when they travel to Tuscaloosa, Ala, to face Al abama and others in the Crim son Tide Classic.

SU will tangle with West ern Illinois and the host team on Friday, and take on Radford Find Long Island on Saturday Firnbach said the Tide are : strong offensive teme though she knows litule clac allout the other squads
"Whatever team we're going up against, it's just a matter of which one of our teams ter of which one of "ur teams shows up," she sad, "If we're confident team and were consistent and dont have a lot of sistent and don't have a lot of errors, we can hiang with any errors, we can hinng wi team we go up against."
ly be a fat paycheck from a NFL squad. Webster's draft position remains up in the air, however, as he won't get a chance to work out for scouts until March 23.

There are those who don't have the benefit of Webster's physical maturity and playing experience, though, and after overestimating their own talents find themselves with their earenerg in limbo

That's why the NCAA should allow college football players a grace period where they can assess their draft position.

Football players fall victim to both their own overconfidence and the flattery of hang-ers-on looking to make a quick dollar off them.

It's no secret that many athletes go to college simply as a stop over before the next level Why doesn't the NCAA allow them to find out what their market value is?
Students all over college Students all over college campuses frequently visit job fairs where they meet with potential employers and discuss job possibilities. For what reasom are athletes restricted from this process?

If the NCAA set up a month-long period where collegiate athletes could talk to NFI scouts and personnel directors to learn what their status is, the players could make an edu cated and thought-out decision whether to declare for the NFL Dratt

It would also eliminate the scumbag element that currently hangs around D-I athletes with hopes of monetary grin.

The system set up for the players now is a crapshoot.

Each year, there are several players -- like Penn State's LaVar Arrington - that know if they come out they will be a top draft pick and a multi-millionaire.

But for every one of those sure things, there are dozens of players like Webster, whose draft position is unsure and therefore, his future unclear

They may be confident in their own abilities, or they may have heard a rumor that the pro scouts like them. However, rumors and innuendo aren't exactly a firm basis from which to make a life-changing decision.

The period of contact with those in the professional ranks, howevor, would give collegiate athletes evidence to make their decision from.

Players would have no need for agents during the period of direct conversation and candid evaluation with professionas personnel olficials. They would just neqd a telephone and an open mind.

And if they didn't like what they learned, they could return ... without any receipts.

Connor Ennis is an Asst Sports Editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at ceennis@syr.edu.
and he tied for the team lead with four interceptions.

Webster's swarming style of play garnered him first-team All-Big East and second-team All-America honors.

Eis curiosity, however, ribility with the tag of ineli b. "I'm disappointed," Webster said. "I really wanted to stay, and have another season with my tenmmatos and ret my edis cation. Unfortunately, it didn't work out that way, so I have to look ahead and take whatever comes next.

Fortunately for Webster. what comes next will mast like

Every Sunday
\(18+\) older
BLEAGHERS VERSION OF SUNDAY SGHOOL
Hip Hop the night away

> P/ sexith DI C-mix
> Classes start at 9pm
> Old Liverpool Rd.

\(451-4841\)

\section*{Get ready for MARCH AD MADNESS!!}

Advertise with The Daily Orange during the Orangemen's run to the NCAA championship and waith your business or organization win. Advertisements in The Daily Orange net thousands of people - people who will see your advertisement. For rate and placemient information, call Daily Orange Advertising Director David Jack at 443-9794. Go Orange!

\section*{FRUSTRATING}
continued from page 20
- the inability to finish games they should have won.

For point guard Jakia Ervin, the lowa game started the team's season-long skid.
an themember the lowa loss, and things pretty much turned around from that," she said. "We just didn't finish games, and that was the start of us not finishing games.
just had to ghout the season, we just had to finish games and play halves. It just didn't happen that way.
acing a six-game losing streak heading into the Big East Tournament, Syracuse had little left to play for but pride.

Still, the Orangewomen displayed heart and an oft-lacking to Georgetown, Legette-Jack said \({ }^{\text {I }}\) think they came out so determined," the seventh-year assistant said. "They decided to step it up. The clock just ran out on \({ }^{\text {"If }}\) If they played like that all year, you never know what kind of year we could have had. It's just unfortunate that we waited

The Daily Orange
until the last game to play like that. The determination of which Legette-Jack speaks appeared sent throughout Big East play. Expected losses at Notre Dame, Connecticut and Rutgers were coupled with two losses against a seemingly inferior Seton Hall squad. West Virginia's lone Big East conference victory also came against SU and proved to be the Orangewomen's low point.

Season-ending drubbings by Miami and Boston College left SUs final record at \(10-18\), including a 3 -15 stretch in the last 18 games.

Poor effort in practice contributed to poor effort in games, LegetteJack said.

I am a true believer in the way that you practice is the way you play, Legette-Jack said. came to practice, and we weren't came to practice, and we weren time to warm up.
"I can tell when it's going to be a struggle in the game because of the way that people come to practice. You don't win a game (just by) showing up."

After losing leading scorer and rebounder Paula Moore and Syracuse was left with a nine-person bench. The squad used transfer Leaf Newman or an assistant coach to run five-on-five drills in practice.

Only seven of the nine Or angewomen played regularly, translating into marathon-like minutes.

Six players logged more than 20 minutes a game. Ervin played the most with 34, while Beth Record played 33 and Jaime James ran for 31.
"The seven or eight that we had didn't necessarily come ready to compete at times, and that was the downfall," Legette-Jack said. "I'm disappointed that we ooked at our numbers, and we decided that we were outnum bered, and we played that way in

The
The evident talent on the Syracuse squad only added to the R fustration Record averaged 17 points per game, good for second in the conference, and secured a spot on the third-team All-Big East squad.

Shannon Perry made the AllRookie team, while finishing second in the conference in offensive rebound

James showcased streaky shooting but finished with 613 - pointers and remained a vocal leader, while Ervin dished out 5.6 assists, good for third in the Big East.

The talent level just didn't said.
the could have been one of the best teams in the Big East," the senior point guard said. "We had the talent, and it just didn't happen that way. I see the talent on the team, and I know we can do better. It's very frustrating that we didn't come out as one of the top teams."

For Perry, a freshman, this season proved a learning experience.
he 5-foot-8 guard from Rhode island showed she could rebound at the collegiate level, where shal saw to

The hg hov wo handle losing. The heavily recruited Perry who scored over 2,000 points in high school, said she hadn't lost more than six games in the Hill Syracuse lost 18
"I'm not used to losing," Perry said. "To come here and lose so many was different, it was 360 (degree) turnaround. It was so different. "I think we could have won a Iot more games. A lot of the games we just let slip away. know we should have been like ence. Next year, with everyone coming back, that's where we'l be."

Next year looks promising for the Orangewomen. Syracuse returns Ervin, who gains anoth er year of eligibility by graduating this May, and the rest of its tarting five.

Moore returns from her leg injury, and the sharpshooting Newman will also compete for playing time.

The thin bench will be full Another media day will come and more potential will be discussed. But Ervin is weary of the alk. The talent cant remain on paper-i.
"I'm looking forward to next ear." Ervin said. "Each year, I ook forward to it because we al ways have ereat talent. We can't ways have great talent. We can't ver say that we gave it all we had, and we played each game wreat record for this season great record for this season.

Next year, I would love to have us say, 'This is a great year We had many wins, and the ones The ones we lost, we can accept.' \({ }^{\text {n }}\)

\section*{BOUNCE}
continued from page 20
"Hopefully it doesn't make too big of a difference," Szyluk said. "I think that all the players out there now are great they don't need me.

The team tries not to dwell on Szyluk's absence, Hable said, but instead, it remains confident in the players who are on the field.
really do about it "Hable said We're just trying to do what we can, and our attack's been focused without her for right. now."

Szyluk finally was able to get in the pool and do workouts this week, but said she still has some soreness in her back.

So the Orangewomen will again be without one of their eading scorers when No. 7 Georgetown comes to the Carrier Dome for a 3 p.m. game toWhile SU is struggling to put its loss to Virginia behind off a \(15-7\) victory over Vander off a \(15-7\) victory over Vander-

Junior All-American Shee han Stanwick tallied four goals and two assists against Vandy Sheehan combines with All American sophomore Erin Elbe and second-year Hoya Kate Ahearn to lead a triumvirate of returning attackers that helped any Geviretuwa io the MVAA Tournament last season.

I think that's probably where our strength lies, Georgetown head coach Kim Simons said. "When you have a couple really talented attack players, you look to create some things off of that."

Unlike the Hoyas, Syracuse didn't get to show too much of its attack against Virginia.

A poor transition game and turnovers in the attack zone plagued the Orangewomen, who tallied just 11 shots on goal against the Cavaliers.

Besides the overall attack Hable said she was disappoint ed with her personal perfor mance. Hable fired on goal wice - both shots resulting in enough. but said thatisn
"It wasn't really a good game overall for me, Hable said. " was very timid. Once just wasn't playing smart lacrosse.'

Senior goalkeeper Clothilde

\section*{Academic couple seeks}

EGG DONOR 21-28
for East Coast clinic. Right candidate compensated apprx \($ 7500\) plus expenses. Outstanding SAT's and academics, analytical, even-tempered, dark hair and eyes, olive complexion, even-featured, \(5^{\prime} 7\) " or taller, and lean/athletic build. Please describe motivation along w/ several [returnable] photos to: POB 22, west Kingston, RI 02892.
all serious replies answered.

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 pm Wwo business days prior to the issue in which the ad 5is to appear: Please pay in cash, checksor credit Cards. Call 443-9793 for more information

Ewing is another Orangewoman who knows she needs to play better. Ewing made only six saves, gave up 15 of the 16 Virginia goals and didn't fare well on free position shots.
"I jubit have tu furget aidut "I'm confident going in. I know our defense can do it.

Georgetown doesn't have the same leadership in goal, featuring sophomore Bowen Holden, who returns after winning 11 games last season as a freshman.

The defenses will be test ed, as players and coaches know both teams are loaded on attack. They also expect a close contest as opposed to last year's 17-9 Georgetown victory.
"I Hink it shouth be a bi game, Simons said we match up pretty well agains one another. It's going to be a matter of who's a little bit more prepared and who really takes it to the other team early.'

A motivating factor for Syracuse to start strong against the Hoyas is the feeling stern-

\section*{Women:}

\section*{Earn \($ 40\) in a study at SU and help me finish my dissertation!!!!!}

If you are a 21-29 y.o. social drinker
& you are worried that your eating is out of control (you go on eating binges) call 443-9462. Everything is confidential.

ming from the Virginia loss.
"It sucked," Ewing said. "It didn't feel good after a loss like that. No one on this team ever wants to experience that again and I think most of the intensily is cumiä from the feeling of duplicate it."

When in Hell...

Mr. Skizz

Sleep Deprivation

by Ben Gabriel and Melanie Grodanz

Out of Town

No Point

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog and Mariska

Eat the Lettuce
by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
18[classifieds]
}

NOTICE
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word \(5 c\) extra each CAP word Chatces aie Pe日 1 ISUE & are Prepaid by: Deadine: Zim 2 business days piot Io run The Dais can be mailigd with check io:

\section*{}

Whats up for Spring Break?
The Daily Orange will Not print from March 10 We will resurce printing on We will resume printing on March 21 with a Deadlline of March 17 by 2pm. Have a SAFE and Spring Break!

Notices
Attention
Fraternities . Sororities Clubs * Student Groups
 tigs. nas the solitan win an easy imeenhout Accept no imitations.
 Lne allundrasisngmosulions., ele Curious about your eredit report? Everyone elso sees it, why nol you? Order ti online.
Creditsimple.com

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}
 piza spintier counter help. muss Camp Counselors Top Ovemight Camps in
 mww. pretolotesticamp.com
Pant time iobs delvery difiers. dishwasners apply
Cosmo pliza 143 Marshan St.
Wand to become an enyepreneur? Here's your opportunity io leam and profis by working lor SratucuseAuction com as a sududent makeing representative. Syracuseauction.com is a tree focal auction web site. designed by studenis lo serve the uriversity communty SyracuseAuction com is uriversity conmuntry. SyiacusseAucioiscom is ready to employ active, outgoing Syracuse University sudents to help their business grow University sludents to help their business grow. It inierested, call \(114-237-5545\) loday or email them al into eviliagearcion.com Job Opportunities
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Tired of the same boring summer job? \\
Join us at camp Kweebec, an exceellent co-ed \\
ovemight camp 45 minutes Irom Philadelpria.
Pa Openings for general cownselors a \\ specialists in sports, archery, ternis, gotl, \\ paindball, photography, video, woodshop. outdoor actverturefropes, takelront & pool, lor more details: \\
Call Brett or Bobbl (800)543-9830 or E-mail: ckweebeceaol.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University Bartending Classes Start Soon Student Discounts \(1=800\) UU-CAN-MIX Call For Informationll!!
CALLING ALL SCREENWRITERS, ACTORS. DLRECTORSI JUmp stan your careent For a complimentary consulizit
BONLUSES plus guaranteed hoully rata for Syracuse Stage "Ange! Appeal Campaign." Nice 5-gPM. 1/17-3/19. Recuited oleasant speaking voice. goal orsented positive atitude. 443.1158 WANTED
Child Care
Cicero couple seeking student to provide part-lime 1 year-010. 699.5175

Help Wanted Groovy Duter Ger paid while you surt the inteme it's that easy 51500 weekty potential mailng our circulars. No Expenence Requited. Free inlormauon packel. Call \(202-452.7679\).

Roommates Moommate wanted for tall semester 200 only in a 2 bedrom apartment on Euclid Avenue.
Aeasonably priced. \(476 \cdot 2982\) Roommale needed tatl 001201 Hartison lumushed. \($ 290\) a month catl Steve \(476 \cdot 0677\) great for sludents going atroad 2 nd semester

\section*{FOR RENT}

Univarsity Ave Three Eedroam Flat Close Watk to Campus fumished laundyyarking pius tullies 0. .i. \(\mathrm{Orucker} 445-1229\) Apartments close to campus elean 2.3.5 bedrooms some with fireplace laundry parking semilutnished reasonable price 487.5751 . Westootr/ Eucl:d renovated \(3+4\) bedroom avail \(6 / 1\) Westcont/ Eucl.d renovated \(3+4\) bedioom avail \(6 / 1\)
S650- \($ 720 \mathrm{P} / \mathrm{M}\) parking D W Pat 263.3415 KensinglonPlace 1stfloor lape 38edroom IgLivingroom DiningRoom ModetnKitchen dishwaster microwave disposal firetace dish wastrer microwave disposal itrepia handwoodfioors porches nearbusine OuietNcighborohood available June 1 st \(2000-2001\)
Call

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclit Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
115 Redifield Place
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnisned, Launary
ully Furnisnee, Launary Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wail Carpet andor Wall to Wall Carpet antlor
Retinished Hardwood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Fumished
 University Area 2-3 Bedroom tumished Apartments Single Houses for rent. Call Jim 668-7473 4Bedrooms. OaktandSL, 1Block ESF. 3Blocks Law+ Hospilals, tumished, parking, Faundry, porches, Excellent condition, August, 475.0690
1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments, Beautitul, Seacious, Oitstree! Parking. Fully Fumished, Low Unities Sate, Ouiet, Close 476 -0295

2,3 and 4 EEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall St
329 Comslock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
145 Avondate Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Parking, Full Time
Maintenance and Management.
Wall to Wall Carpet andfor
Felinished Hard Wood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes /
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations/Prices 478-6504

Ackernasi Ave, 4br 2Reath apt Fumished, cappeted walk to campus
\(5000-5 / 01\) lease \(446-7202\)
Stop claan 3 bedroom apartunents Fireplace.
panking, tundry. temi-tumished, walk co SU .

4 Bdrm House \($ 300 / m\) and 3 bodm hats \($ 250 / \mathrm{mm}\). Avail Aug. Very nice. Wak to SU. FN Realty Group 637.5195
Univeraity Ave five bedroom House one block Uram Marshall Street fumished laundry parking rease 51.300 .00 prus utiulies D.N. Diucker \(44 \mathrm{~S}-1229\) LOCATION LOCATION LOCATLON 228 Eucle, arross from Shaw, 4 bedroom, reasonable ren paking, dishwasher, laundry, misno
Jerry or Tiaa \(-474-7541,446-6318\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Three Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious thee Bedroom, complelely lumished aparment muth porth. Leving Room with tireplace, Dining toom, Kitchen and three large bedroms, and Bath. OH street. garago parking. Laundry lacility in building. \\
Five bedroom House \\
Spacious tive Bedroonn, complelely fumnished House with front and rear porches. Lwing Room with fitepiace. Eat tin Kitchen W/ OISHWASHER and five large bedroons, and garage. FREE Launcry tacility in buibling. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY} HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHLLLCOM Universily and Camstock Very close to Campu
Eficiencies and Two Bedroors Secure bidg. umished laundry parking \($ 375.0010 $ 700.00\)

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

Safe & Secure
Fumished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom
Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
Apartments
Large 2 becroom. 2 full bath. Walking dislance
S.U. ofl street parxing. Laundry. Call 422 - 7305 . Four Bedroom on Ackemrman, Fumished.
Dishwasher. Two Porches, \(\begin{aligned} & \text { oft streed Parking }\end{aligned}\) Laundry. Carpet, Hardwood Floors Caundry. Carpet. Hand
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.

1011 E.Adarns
Carpeted, Alr Condifioned.
mished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance.
University Area Apts.
www.universityareacom

Bedroom Fumished Unlurnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry
2 Betroom Apls 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid errace Latge Rcoms Hardwood Floors Avail June 204 Ostrom Etticiency One and 2 Becroom Secure Bidg Laundry Parking Very Clean Avail June 446-518s
2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. 1 Bedfoom apt with 2 car garage 125 Kensington Rd.
comer ol Lancaster \($ 550\) 472-2667.

Ackerman lumished spacious two Bdim ofl s parking laundry facilites tritities inct. 446 -8576 One and Two Bedroom urnished Apaimitists. Comer of Watnut and arrison Avenues. Leases Commence Juffe 2000.
ast Month and Securty. No Pels Altowed. Gracuales Prelerred Call \(422-7755\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS \\
329 Comstock Ave. \\
2 blocks from campus. \\
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. \\
Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. \\
Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. low utilities. \\
University Area Apts 479-5005 \\
www. universityarea.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Unfurnished. Air conditioned walt to wall cant appliances. Suitable for single or couple. A June 1st \($ 350.00\) per month pius utilities. One year lease. No Pets 243-0754 \\
\hline \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Your move off campersl \\
Free roommate sublet listings
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Fumishet 2-5Bedroom Housesf Aparments Uwingston, Sumner, Ackemran, Euclid 469-666 \\
\hline One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, turnished. laundry, quiet building, close to campus, utillies included,
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Summer Special. Newty remodeied 4 bedroom flal One block trom campus. All utillies included! s225.00 per person. 2 full bathroons, washef. dryer. panking, porch.
Avatable 5/21- B/17 472-8619

Available mid August 3 bedroom nat very near ESF on OaklandSt. fumished or unlurnished opfion. Uvingroom with fireplace, diningroom, new kithen, porch, coin-op washest dryer, \(425-8168\) \(1,2,3,485 \mathrm{Bdmm}\) Aparments, Housest Stutios. Clean, Spacious. Superior Condition, some recently renovated. Walking cistance, laundry. recently renovated

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline t********************* \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apts. close \\
to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
\(440-6200\) \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline Your off-campus \\
home for 2000-01 \\
Nicely furnished \\
3 BEDROOM \\
apartments. \\
double beds \\
dishwashers \\
microwave \\
washer/dryer \\
carpeted \\
offreet parking \\
owner managed \\
call ToDAY \\
peren az7-oosz
\end{tabular}

2Bedroom Largeflat availiable June, July, Augur some-fumature or-busline 58lock-lo-campus S420 Secure 445-9570

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, 476-2982 \\ \begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline 5 Bedroom Apl Ackerman Ave Fully Furnished Porches, Laundry Parkling, Dishwasher Owner Manager 622-2218 \\
\hline
\end{tabular} \\ Two Bedroom Apartments Furnished, Hartwoed, Fireplace, Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Park close to Campus. Call Gordon 476-2982}

Uriversity \(2 a 3\) gedroom TownHouses & Fiats. Inexpensive and mint concilion, WastherDrye Fireptace.tinished basement, Cill \(449-0109\).

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540

SBedrooms furnisthed nat with all utihtean inctudedil One block form campus near Law Sctiool +ESF. 2 Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. \(477-1574\)

Houses

\section*{Tourney Time}

The 13-team Big East Tournament begins today in New York City's Madison Square Garden. Top-seeded Syracuse must win three games on consecutive days for its first conference tourney title since 1992.

(3) St. John's

\section*{[classifieds]}

\section*{orazige \\ NOTES}

Tourney tix at Dome Syracuse University sudents can purchase ckets to SUn NCAA and secondrount Neme Tournament Eames next An allotment of tickets or students wilt be put on sale starting Tuesclay from saien until 50 m at the oon until 5 .
Tickets will go back on sale when the box office pens Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Since students might be away on Spring Break, hey can order tiekets via elephone starting Wed Tickets will not be sold via the Internet or at Ticketmaster.
When buying tickets in person. students must present a valid SU student dentification and may pur chase only one ticket. Phone orders must give a vaid SUID number when calling and can use Visa or Mastercard to make their purchase.
SU's first NCAA game will be Mar. 16 or 17 at one of six subregional sites across the country.
Battie for the Bottles Standings
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Standings & \\
Pc & \(19-12\) \\
Chuck & \(18-12\) \\
Ali & \(18-12\) \\
Nathan & \(17-13\) \\
Jiloty & \(16-14\) \\
Stalz & \(16-14\) \\
Remillard & \(15-15\) \\
Leitzell & \(14-16\) \\
Mai & \(13-17\) \\
Connor & \(12-18\) \\
Bish & \(12-18\) \\
Josh & \(12-18\) \\
Passan & \(10-20\) \\
Wojo & \(7-23\)
\end{tabular}

Irish football
Circle Nov. 22, 2003 on your calendars.

The Notre Dame Fighting lrish, arguably co ege football's most sto ried team, are tentatively Scheduled to face Syracuse in a Carrier Dome showdown a mere , 354 days from now. The fish went 5-7 this past season, ending their ampaign with a fou ame tosing streak.
Syracuse will beef up its out-of-conference chedule in future years. This season, the Orange oppose Buffalo, East Carolina, Cincinnat In 2001 syracuse in 2001, Syracuse goes against Ce Tennessee and ECU.

The Orangemen face their toughest docket in 2002 with AU UCF, ECU, BYU and North Carolina.

The next season SU takes on ND. UNC, UCF and Toledo.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who led the Big East in scoring average in the 1998-99 campaign?
yesterday's trivia: Q. Before this season. who was the last Orangemen basketball to garner first-team All-Big East honors?
A. John Wallace was a two-time first-teamer, the second coming in the 1995-96 season.

\section*{[sports]}

SU ends year frustrated

Syracuse point guard Jakin Ervin sounded off about her disappointment with the Orangowomen's 10 18 finish this season. SU, which began the year \(7-3\), lost 15 of tts final 18 contests.

\section*{BY GREG BISHOP} Staff Writer

Ripe with the potential of youth, the Syracuse wornen's basketball team entered the 1999-2000 season displaying confidence.

On preseason media day, the team seemed excited, even downright giday, and quickly jumped to a \(7-3\) start.

Citing a lack of effort, a lack of game preparation - especially in practice - a thin bench and an inability to finish of near-wins, the Orangewomen then sild ike an avalanche.

In late December, the snow began to fall in Central New York and, like dirt with Charlie Brown's Pig Pen, it gathered around the Orangewomen.

Nothing could stop the sprint toward the basement. With SU tumbling down the Big East standings, the losses mounted and frustration set in.

Syracuse managed a meager three wins after winter break with five times as many losses.

For assistant coach Felisha LegetteInel, ㅇyzacuse's a! time leaning ocorer and rebounder, the season was frustrating, especially since the effort needed wasn't always present.
"At times, it's tough for me to be here at Syracuse because I'm always comparing, LegetteJack said. It all ials down to effort. For me, being from Syracuse and knowing how much blood we shed and played on a day-in and day-out basis.
"To see kids that are wearing the same Syracuse uniform, and they don't compete, and they don't take as much pride in the University and the school colors as I did That is the most frustrating thing at times. I have to figure out how to let that go."

In November, Syracuse sat at 4-0 heading into the Gazette Hawkeye Challenge at the University of Iowa. After a rangewomen met the host team in the chapnpionship game.

The 76-73 loss, in which SU led often, showcased a glaring weakness that would hamper the Orangewomen all season long See FRUSTRATING page 16

\section*{NCAA should change policy \\ The NCAA, the organization supposedly look} ing out for the best interests of college athletes, has screwed a player yet again.

Last Thursday, the NCAA declared Miami (Fla.) linebacker Nate Webster ineligible for his senior season.

Websters crime: applying for the NFL Draft on Jan. 10 his mind.

The NFL agreed to take players that had declared early for the draft. Apparently, the Hurricane linebacker's few hours of indecision were a mortal sin in the eyes of the holier-than-thou NCAA.
CONNOR
ENNIS "It's really a very tragic situation," Miami head coach Butch Davis said. "Nate made a mistake, but the mistake that he made did not hurt anybody. There were no agents, and there was no money exchanged. It just seems like the penalty is considerably more severe han the infraction.

The infraction itself is almost laughable. Webster changed his mind the same night that he applied. Even clothing stores let you return your merchandise if you still have the receipts.

See WEBSTER page 15

\section*{Syracuse faces Hoyas}

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

Jenna Sxyluk attended Syracuse women's lacrosse practice Monday afternoon at the Carrier Dome.

But she sported a gray No. 42 sweathirt and navy sweat pants instead of a practice jersey and shorts.
Her hands rested at ad ofbeing tiphtly at her sides, in tick ofeing tightly gripped on a lacrosse stick

The senior midfielder continues to nurge a back injury, which has kept her ff the field for about six weeks, including Syracuse's 16-5 season-opening loss to No Vhe on saturday.

She must watch her team from the sidelines, with words of encouragemen he only source of support she can offer.
s is not a role to which team com petes is but after Saturday's trip to Vir ginia, the SU senior is adjusting
"As hard as it was to sit on the sidelines and watch, I was glad to be there with them and support them," Szyluk said. I'm trying to refocus and make my situa ion more productive and try to help them from the sidelines a little bit more."

What Szyluk contributes from the ench won't match herimpact on the field.

She finished the 1999 campaign with 38 goals and four assists for 42 points.

Captain Katrina Hable and the Orangevomen hope to recover from the 16 5 shellacfing against third-ranked Vrginia on Satrirday.
second on the team's scoring list to AllAmerican attacker Katrina Hable.

Szyluk also aids the Orangewomen's transition game, utilizing her soccer speed to keep pace with opposing attackers and blaze past opposing defenders

Despite her impact, Szyluk and the team don't use her absence as an excuse.

\section*{- Police Reports:}

\section*{Students arrested on larceny charges}

BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer

The target of an embezzlement investigation, Syracuse University senior Bruce Sparano turned himself in to the Syracuse Police Department Wednesday morning, a cording to a police report.

Sparano was arrested and charged with grand larceny of the third degree for allegedly embezzling more than \($ 11,000\) irom the Schooi of Architecture, the report said.

The Syracuse Police Department also arrested architecture senior Mark Rhoads Wednesday for fourth-degree grand larceny. the report added.

Police were investigating accounts of embezzlement reported by the School of Architecture Feb. 24. The schoolreported \($ 12,738.85 \mathrm{missing}\) rom their work study budget.
Sparano had participated in the school's work study program since 1998. During that time, Sparano ailigedly embezzied \($ 11,190.10\) from the program by recording false numbers of working hours. Rhoads, who worked in the program since last semesSyracuse Police Spokesman David Sacket said he could not comment about the situation.

Bruce Abbey, dean of the School of Architecture, could not be reached for comment. architen Spanier, a fifth-year pated in the work study program with Sparano and Rhoads. He did not know that See ARCHITECTURE page 3

\section*{Syracuse media criticizes election coverage}

Lacal joumalists discuss coverage of national elections at a fortm hosted by the Society of Profossionat fourralists Wednes day nietht About 110 people attended the event to questfon the reporting technigues used by jourralists.

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPONE \\ Asst. News Editor}

There are fools in the national and local news media, said a panelist at a Society of Professional Journalists discussion Wednesday night.

Robert McClure, associate dean of the Marwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, insisted that no matter Where you look in the news someone who is botching political coverage.

McClure and several local journalists were members of a panel on local press coverage of national elections. The discussion in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communica: tions attracted about 110 people. the level they're at," McClure said. "It has to do with how hard they work or how lazy they are."

All the fools running around the news media are helping to distort our view of what the president's duties should be and the kinds of knowledge that presidential candidates should learn, McClure explained. The type of newspage candidates receive in newspapers and on television too much of them he added. When presidential cand

When pregidential candidates such as United Nations Ambassador Alan Keyes or Texas Gov. George W. Bush ten press the presidential hopefuls into answering questions that they do not need to know, McClure aaid. If the candidates do not produce a sufficient answer for the journalists, the media automatically brands them as evasive or unintelligent, he added. peoplebig problem is that people running for the president of the United States should not be running around allowing people to ask those questions," he said. "You're turning the presidency into just another local boss. That ain't the job." ain't the job."

An example of this brand of journalism, is Keyes' answer to a question about the Amadou Diallo case that areporter asked during a press sador visited Syracuse University on Feb. 28, said Bill Carey, a reporter at Channel 9 in Syracuse.

Diallo was a West African immigrant shot 19 times by four New York City police offi-

See SPI page 4

\section*{Election 2000}

\section*{Bradley calls end to presidential bid}

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS Staff Writer

Former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley will formally end his presidential bid today, campaign officials said, citing a combination of bad huck, poor strategy and lack of public support in Wtila ange, New Jer ange, New Jer sey, the Democratic hopeful will announce his decision to withdraw from the race - a decision reflecting a drop in support both on the na tional level tional level and on campuses suchas Syracuse University, said Brooke Schiferle, University, said Brooke Schiferle coordinator of SU for Bradley.

"In the past week, when we had a lot of work to do, I had very few students helping me out," Schiferle said of her campus campaign group. "The support was definitely waning. I think we could have had a bigger impact."

Bradley's poor performance in national and local polls. coupled with students preparing for midterms, is to blame for the groups recent apathy, said major.

Schiferle said she believed Bradley could have served as the next U.S. president, but his poor Super Tuesday norformance pre vented him from continuing his staggering campaign.
"I'm very disappointed, but that's the dignified thing to do," she said.
Democratic challenger Vice President Al Gore won all 13 states Tuesday, including Missouri and New York state - despite Bradley's Hall of Fame status as a former New York Knicks tus as a former New York Knicks

See BRADLEY page 6

\section*{- Pan Am Flight 103}

\section*{BBC banned from broadcasting trial \\ Staff Reports}

A Scottish court on Tuesday rejected the British Broadcasting Company's attempt to televise the Pan Am Flight 103 trial.

Chester Phillips, father of one of the Syracuse University victims, said he was not surprised by the decision
"I don't know of any logical reason why they would allow anyone other than the family members to view a broa courtroom," he said.

The trial of two Libyans suspected of bombing Pan Am Flight

103 is scheduled to begin May 3. The bombing killed 259 passengers aboard the flight, including 35 SU students returning from a semester abroad in London, and semester abroad in London, and 11 Lockerbie, Scotland residents 11 Lockerbie, S on the ground.
Because of the trial's unusual nature, the court is allowing family members to view a broadcast of the trial- setting a precedent in Scottish law. This decision prompted the BBC to try and lobby for their rights to televise the trial.

See PANAM page 6

\section*{■ State Affairs}

\section*{Students condemn Diallo case, professor finds trial a 'travesty'}

BY BETH BRAVERMAN Staff Writer

Despite what the media say, the Amadou Diallo case is mot an isolated incident of police brutality, professor Winston Grady-Willis said.

Grady-Willis, a professor in the African American Stud ies department, said he chose to lead a Wednesday night disally dealt with issues of polic harassment.

He began by asking partic ipants, including students, residence directors and two local detectives, to answer questions regarding their relationship to New York City and their law enforcers.

Grady-Willis then began the discussion, engaging in a dialogue about incidents such as the Diallo case and the effects such incidents have on society.

See DIALLO page 3

\title{
［briefs］
}

\section*{tidbits}

Ford warns of faulty parts fera weter \(C=\) ．N spenc at least 5200 Whilien to pacif，oimers of 700.600 setars arc Tirmars sisieerec havirg cefectie ve ergmes atter z weve compiain＇s thorn ser surfers． surfers．
Abectec verue：es incuce Ferc Teurs． Mercury sesi：anc Lincoin coninental secans farifecturec secans manluacturg for riccel years \(295:\) form：cce years igga ec is \(\mathrm{re} \pm \mathrm{ses}\) Fore Wircstar mirier． Thers nave Esen nc injumes sermeing form the defect winct ree governimert sces not regarcas a areas to whe envirgnmen． Thus，Fore＇s acticr is not a recait．

King releases e－book

PORTLAND．Maine －Stephen Mins whose serial：zén novel a saibe ：o～ubi．snines wastis r－w s－cracirs torersin＇s＂escricg． cy ofer－g -5 E：Es Irteraet．
a 66－page ta＇ニua King descites as a ghost story in the grand manner，will be available Tuescday as an＂ebook，＂which buy ers can download for \($ 2.50\) and read on a computer．personal organizer or dedicated e－book device

King completed －Riding the Bullet while recuperating from nearfatal injuries afte he was struck by a minvan last June while walking on the shoul－ der of a country road near his summer home in Lovell．Maine

\section*{Scientists map}

Opening a Opening a new win－ cow into the memtal mysteries of youth． researchers at the researchers California，Los Angeles for the first time have directly mapped gro revealing a cascad revealing a cascade of changes． recorded neural growth spurts that coincide with important leaps in earty learning ability－

The findings，made public in Nature Thurscay，may help lay the foundations for a best to teach tan－ guage，mathematics and other erucial men－ tal skills．

\title{
Man kills cop，fireman
}

Firenghters fesponcing to a house fire wedfesday were azbushed bza zunzan who steppec ott of ine sarage and openec fre，auriorities saic． Three people were killec and three otiners wounded． ceati inside the buraing Eouse，Ei－e Inspector Richari also iound ctacin the Eotuse， butitwas unclear how she was rilled．

Anotier firefighter，a by－ stander and tie gutan we ョericusiz rounded，\(A\) sulc． iuries，ミロiourar saic．

 to tiatcte ajo：＝cc．NEe？
 a

down the weapon，but he re－ tujed and fired at another coputy．The deputy shot the三ispect，the fire inspector ラヨ：C゙

Poilce Fere not sure xi＝the the fire was set to crer up tie roman＇s death． Sojurater said he did not Sojcurate said he did not sum tite suspect lived at \(\mathrm{s}=\mathrm{c} x\) EEtit suspect lived a ze Ecise． The siboting occurred in a コニOBFEzous zeighborhood of Fosuy one－story brick houses acc watine dity A golf course

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton grants trade privileges}

Wresiden＝Eill Clinton D．C．－ 17 called on Conctess Wゼこもた day to grant permaner：：Fá ing privileges to China，ie＝：－ ing a debate thatwill \(\hat{6}=\) ；－ चave the House for wexis \(a=\)

析 reporters ce expected 5ine House to approre the measurg b：late Juce

Unless Congress approves the trade pact，Clinton and others say，tine Linited Stases will not ghare in a greater ac． will not ghare in a greaser ac－ cess to Chinese mariete that the World Trade Organiza－ tion，ar expected later this tion，as expected later this year．That would be a huge year．That would be a huge and consumers，Clinton has and consumers，Cinton has would play into the hands of Chinese hardliners and anti－ democracy forces．

Bush campaign spends milluns spends milluris

 Эuas tha 新

 a－sisest 5

 Fected \(\mathbf{3}\) werni monisg agy，Nhor in con－iuen in extir ererze as isg．Bto Brosic could quiction im
 Having decidect nor to talce sedera matioung fums，tien Teras gever nor is free from the \($ 40\) million spending limit imposed on Gore for the perimary serson．The Busin eampaign is aiming to raise an ocher \($ 15\) million to \($ 20\) raillion by the time of the GOP convention．

\section*{world news}

\section*{Mideast peace talks to continue}

JERUSALEM－Israel and the Palestinians agreed Wedness－ day to bold intensified peace tallics in Washington later this month， had threatened to destroy any hope of reaching a final peace deal by a September deadine． Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak and Palestinian Authority President Yasser Arafat held their fecond face－to－face meeting in less than 14 hours in an effort to rebuild trust damaged by the deadlociced negotiations and by a spate of angry worts from officials on both sides．

\section*{Oill hike inhibits enomomic growth}

 areess ar the pas puane．On tise

 vanc zaparay 3urgarae bext manth．Evar tife sty Wo deliv AEJizar is complaining about

Fixi－frices itr oil and gaso－ inhe acwever，mean more than Fain 36 tine fump．A3 the higher Fraces Dorr tineir wiy into the crima af criner grocis and services cresurit anci hamper economic craseriz

Ecencarista generally agree Gaz oil costa do not have the 3．3．2e inpact on the economy When enery accounted for 87 Wercent ar every dollar of forss do percent crevery dolar of gross do for approcimately 3 percent．

On Tuesday consumer prod－ vers giant Procter \＆Gamble Co． warned that earnings would fall below expectations because of higher costs for raw materials，in－ ucts uged in cleaning products such as Tide iaundry detergent

\footnotetext{
Inrael later announced that Barak and Arafat will hold a sum mit Thuraday with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak at the Egeyptian resort of Sharm el Sheik， where they signed an interim ac frearlong timetable for reaching a permanent peace treaty．Mubarak has joined U．S．officials of late in urging the two leaders to make mem

\section*{Floods raise \\ land mines}

MAPUTO，Mozambique－ The landmines have begun to surface，flushed from the earth and scattered along the Mozam－ bican countryside or merely floal－ ing aimlessly acroes farms where peasants have begun to return． The relief efforts here this wreek have focused on providing food，water and medicine to the neariy 1 million people who were forced from their homes by the worat floods in southern Africa in perhaps a century．But Prasi－ Went Joaquim Chingano saic Wednesdny that the flood＇e most vexing and enduring curte may jubt be beginning to nse from th

Eight years after a ruingu 16－year civil war ended，Mozam－ bique remains one of the most heavily mined country＇s on earth． Government soldiers and rebels planted mines so casually during the conflict that no one knows for aure how many there are．
}
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}
－Al－Anon／AC meets at noon in Schine Student Center，Room 233.
－Jack Manno，executive di－ rector of the Great Lakes Re－ search Consortium，speaks at noon in Maxwell Auditorium re－ Earding＂Privileged Goods：The quences of Rampant Commoditi－ quences

E Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts Fettuccine with the Fran－ ciscans at 5：30 p．m．
－Syracuse Stage presents The Beauty Queen of Leenane＂ at 7：30 p．m．at 820 E ．Genesee St．Tickets are \($ 15-$ 38\) ，dis－ counts for students，seniors and information

EDoris Sage，a former Syra－ cuse city schoolteacher，hosts a literacy symposium from 4 to 6 p．m．in the Noble Room of Hen－ dricks Chapel．For more infor dricks Chapel．For more infor mation call 443－5045． －Pianist Frederick Marvin performs works by Soler， Beethoven and Schubert at 8 p．m．in Crouse College＇s Setnor p．m．in Crou
Auditorium．
－Samuel Gruber，architec－ tural and urban historian speaks at 7：30 p．m．regarding his new book entitled，＂A Walk Around the Block：An Explo－ ration into the Universe of Everyday Living．＇

\section*{FRIDAY}
－Syracuse Stage presents The Beauty queen of Leenane at 8 p．m．at 820 E．Genesee St Tickets are \($ 15-$ 38\) ，discount Call \(443-3275\) for more informa Call．

\section*{SATURDAY}
－Monroe Community Col lege Foundation hosts the 2nd Annual Gold Star Gourmet Gala at 6：30 p．m．，featuring an auc then or pors For more，informa other goods．For more informa－ tion 1500.

To make a contribution to campus calendar，call the news campus calendar，call department at 443－2127．Sub department at 443－2127．Sula missions are also accepted via e－mail at news＠edailyorange．com．

\section*{NOTICE}

The Daily Orange will not publish from Friday，March 10， vance of Syracuse University＇s Vance of Syracuse University ness office will remain open next week during normal business hours．

\section*{［dä］}

The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University＇s academic year is diseribured on compus with the first is discribured on campus wich the firsx five copics complementary and each Manapopy coses 143
Management 443.9798 Business 443.2314 News \(443-2127\)
Lifercyle Hescyle \(443-2128\)
Sports 443.2208 Phorography 443．9795
E－inail editorialodailyorange．com
E－tnail editwialodailyocangerec

\section*{DIALLO}
continued from page 1
Because so many students for Syracuse are from New York City and other metropoli tan areas, especially students of color, these issues really hit close to home," Grady-Willis said. We're not talking about ality for scveral of the stud a rewho go to school here ho go to school here.
Diallo, a 22-year-old West African immigrant, was shot to death by four white officers outside of his Bronx home Feb 4 , 1999 . The officers fired 41 bhots at the Diallo, hitting him 19 times. They justified the shooting by claiming Diallo was reaching for a weapon, when he was really reaching for his wallet.

A national controversy about police brutality and race relations between the law en forcerment and the public imme diately ensued.
Albany. The jury, comprised of Albany. The jury, comprised of eight whites and four blacks, charges Feb. 24.

Dredd Scott revisited Grady-Willis said he realizes the jury faced much pressure and received strict guideBut he still called the case a "travesty."
"It really speaks to the spirit of the 1857 Dredd Scott decision in that still, in terms of the relationship between people of color and the state, the people of color still have no rights, Grady-Willis said.

The Dredd Scott case involved a slave whose master had taken him from Missouri to consin Territory. Since Illinois and the Wisconsin Territory outlawed slavery, Scott sued for his freedom on the grounds that his residence in a free state made him a free person.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that slaves are property and no territorial or state legis lature could deny a citizen of his or her property without due process.
case illustrates the continuing disparity be tween the rights of whites and the rights of minorities, Grady. Willis.
"It's devastating for me, personally, and yet not all that surprising because it is part of a larger pattern of police abuse in New York City and across the country," he said.

\section*{Campus condemns}

Forum participants said they began and continued to be displeased with the Diallo case, from the time bany until th
"I think it was a complete fiascow said Reba Hodre a junasco, said Reba Hodge, a jujor. "I think it was wrong for the cops to be acquitted. I thinls it's very symbolic of the way things are in our country."

The two detectives at the forum, Frank Fowler and Virgil Hutchinson, co-founders of the Central New York Association of Minority Police Officers, fielded student questions regarding police brutality, the the training programs of offi-

No white officers were asked to attend, said Sheli Hicks, Area Director for South Campus and forum coordinator. Fowler said the Diallo incident upset him.
"I was surprised by the decision," Fowler said. "I'm saddened that the entire thing happened, that a human being could lose his life over the fact wallet. He hadn't committed any crimes prior to his interaction with the police and he ends up dead in a hallway."

Cases like Diallo's threaten the trust between police and the public. When a case such as Diallo's ends as it did, whether in New York state, or Los Angeles, they have effects on every police department, he added.
"People within the community that we serve are going to Fowler said. "So we ne issues, Fensitive to that we need to be period of time until people have period of time untir people have

Hicks said she organized the meeting because she heard here was a need for such a discussion among South Campus residents.
in students needed a forum n which to talk about it, she said. "People could have chosen to be somewhere else. It's midterm time, people are busyTo still have so many students come out and show that they were concerned about the case, spoke wonders to what they

Hod
Hodge said she attended because there is a need for dis\({ }^{4}\) Idi
I didn't feel like the university had taken any kind of stand against it. They hadn't they felt it was unimportant because it didn't happen here," she said.

Students need to become more involved in condemning the incident, Hodge added.
"I think everybody is feeling it and they all have their own opinions on it but the opina way that shows that we care" she said "I don't see anybody doing anything" see anybody doing anything.

\section*{ARCHITECTURE}

\section*{continued from page 1}
the embezzlement was occur ring at the time, he said. "I could see how a situation like this could have happened with the old system of recording hours," Spanier said. "But they've changed the system

The school revised their work study program policies last week, requiring professors to sign for the total number of hours that the students work. Previously, professors working were allowed to submit the totnl number of howrg worked a

\title{
 \\ \\ LIVE AND LEARN \\ \\ LIVE AND LEARN JAPANESE!
} JAPANESE!
}

The Waseda Oregon Transnational Program, Fall 2000 and Spring 2001, is a comparative US-Japanese Societies study program that mixes US-based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US-Japanese Societies courses in the humanities and social sciences. Scholarships of up to \($ 1000\) are available! For more information, contact:

Waseda Oregon Programs Office
(800) 823-7938 (503) 223-7938
info@opicorg
www.opie.org

\section*{OFFICIAL NOTICE}

\section*{WJPZ Executive Staff Elections}

General Manager*
VP Business
VP Programming
Engineering
Public Relations
News
Promotions
Research
Resear
the end of each semester without a signature.

The problem had nothing to do with the school or SU, Spanier added.
the school reported the thong the school reported the money missing, said Scott Mandeville, a first-year architecture chitecture students are good chitecture students are good

They realized they had made a mistake.

Josh Sandals, a first-year architecture major, agreed.
"Something still has to be addressed, program." \({ }^{\text {a }}\) loopholes in the program.
es thals added that he hopes that the school has earned from this incident.
"It cost them more than $12,000," Sandals said. "They really have to look at the structure of the program.
The recont change is a positive step, he added. had similar situationst have past, Sandals said.
"They found a loophole and took advantage of it," he said. School of Architecture's fault."

To protect against AIDS and other STDs always use latex condoms.

\section*{■ Police Reports:}

\section*{Faulty wiring sparks student car fire}

Staff Reports
Student Chris Leonardo said he was driving home early Wednesday morning when he noticed smoke coming from the hood of his car.

Leonardo, a Syracuse University junior, pulled over near the intersection of Ackerman Avenue and Stratford Street to ind "a big flame" underneath he hood, he said.
"I was like 'holy shit.' It was weird because I had only been driving for a few minutes," Leonardo said, describing flames of about three inches in height

He said he ran to his apartment on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue and called 911 . The Syracuse Fire De. partment arrived to extinguish lice faport Active wires disconnected from the car's main battery caused the fire, the report said. But the flames caused only "minimal damages" to the car, Leonardo said.

It kind of sucked because Im going to Florida. I had al this money set aside, he said adding that "it could have been a lot worse."

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

Kalph Ci: Meartell
Professional Art lhost agerapliter Female Nude Models Needed $25.00 *Hour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time
(315)893-7779

\section*{SPI}
continued from page 1
cers in February 1999. A jury acquitted the officers of mur dering Diallo on Feb. 25. A re porter asked Keyes whether or not he believed the verdict was fair, Carey said.

Keyes responded by stating he did not have enough information to answer the question because he was not a member of the jury and did not have all the facts of the case, he said "He doesn't have to kñow everything," Carey said. "You shouldn't be afraid to just say, 'I don't know.' The problem is that we demand that they ha a response for everything.

McClure said that by asking candidates about such specific incidents as the Diallo case and disrogarding larger hemas and incur, we ignore the founding principles of our nation.
"There is no way that the president's view has any bearng on the outcome of this cese McClure spid *We need to understand our Constitu tion We need to understand the nature of our roverament Elizabeth Lo, a graduate Elizab Maxwell graduate student in Maxwen and New house, disagreed and said that requiring political candidates events in valid. In fact, we should expect that they are knowledgeable about the region they are visiting, she added.

It all depends on how you define trivial," she said. "Does this mean that he just doesn't an swer local questions? That just doesn't make sense. If they're running for president, they should be somewhat prepared to answer those questions.

Not only should candidates be prepared to answer those questions, but journal ists can and have a responsi bility to the rest of the public to ask local issue-related questions of visiting candidates, said Greg Alunno, a reporter for the Syracuse Newspapers.
"If you come to Central New York and you're not prepared to answer a question that impacts Central New Yorkers, that says a tremen dous amount, he said. They should at least be able to send their press guy ahead to check out a few newspapers before they got here.

Local journalists face a particularly daunting chal lenge because they must seek diferent angles than the na tromal media from which to cov ex candicater sor Pierce, a reporter for the Syra cuse Newspapers and adjun journalism professor at New house.

When you're a local reporter, that's part of your job," he said. "You're going to approach things differently from the Associated Press or the New York Times."

Jouraalists must take care, however, not to get caught up in the excitement of visiting national candidates, Carey said.

"There's no better way to guarantee place on the air than to sit down and give each of the local media outlets a one-on-one," he said.

When covering national campaigns, reporters also face the task of sorting out what is real in campaign appearances from what is staged, SPJ President Megan Coleman said.

She said she ran into this problem while covering Arizona Sen. John McCain's Saturday town hall meeting at Le Moyne College in DeWitt.

At the McCain event, there was a man that was crying and he was very emotional. Fe had been a Democrat all his life and he had just changed parties, said coleman, a sophomore broadcast journalism major. We wereat really sure whether this was alid or not.

The journalists on the panel said the best way to deal With such situations is to maintain a healthy, but not yncal, sense or skepticism.

Mecrure, however, sug gested hat part of the medias for was to act as a mouthpiece politicians campaigns.

You gotia be whing, if you wank co tell the world the to make those mistakes and tive with it \({ }^{2}\) he said akes and racy is all about letting people acy wall about to say unfiltered tet people sort it out themselves."

\section*{New York Lity Board of Education}

\section*{LOAN FORGIVENESS PROGRAM}

We will help repay your student loan!

The New York City public school system needs qualified staff to fill vacancies in critical shortage arast. If you possess, or will possoss New York State certification fanvd a bilingual extension, it applicabie) effective seplember 1,2000 or
It you wotld tike a tact sheet and application tor the Loan Forgiveness Program, plaase retum the coupon below no fater than April 28, 2000 with a self-addressed stamped envelope (legal size) to include 77e postage to:

Bureau of Recrultment Programs
65 Court Street - Room 101, Brookiyn, NY 11201
N.z. Current Board of Education pedagagues are not eligibte for this program.

PLEASE XAPRINT IN BEACK INK

 SHORTAGE AREAS - Please check the box in which you possess ar will possess the appropriate

BILINGUAL
- SPECIAL EDUCATION - SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY - SCHOOL SOCIAL WORK - SCHOOL COUNSELING MONOLIMGUAL OR BILINGUAL - SPEECH & HEARING HANDICAPPED - DEAF & HEARING IMPAIRED - VISUALLY IMPAIRED - OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY \(\square\) PHYSICAL THERAPY

IMPLEMENTATKON OF THE SCHOUARSHP PHOCRAM IS CONTUGENT LPON TME STAFFMN HEED OF THE NEW YORK CTTY PUELIC SCHOOL SYSTEM NNO THE AVALLBLLTY OF FUNOS

An Affirmative Action / Equal Opportunity Employer
U.S. Permanant Residert Staturs or U. S C Citizonship Required.
\(\qquad\)

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Students must decry} Council's couch ban

As the thermometer shoots up and the sun peeks out from behind those gray, winter clouds, students emerge from their cold weather refuges to kick back outdoors.

But don't get too comfortable.
Authorities might come by and yank that ratty front-porch couch out from underneath you while you lounge in the sunshine.

The Syracuse Common Council passed a city-wide law last week prohibiting use of upholstered furniture on front porches or lawns. Pending Mayor Roy A. Bernardi's signature, police will now be allowed to patrol the university area and ticket anyone perched on their Lazy Boy.

The Council claims outdoor furniture devalues property and makes houses look more run-down. But it doesn't take a licensed assessor to realize that most of the universityarea residences aren't hot real estate, anyway.

Year after year, students pay rock-bottom rents to turn dilapidated houses into their own cozy - albeit often filthy - homes. It's all part of the charm, right down to the motheaten, beer-stained couch on the rickety porch.
it won't be enough, however, for siudents to get riled up at city councilors for passing this ridiculous piece of legislation. The couch law, undoubtedly, resulted from pressure by university-area groups who would prefer to eradicate rowdy, loud students from their peaceful neighborhoods.

We're not leaving, though. And while we're here, we'd better make some noise.

SU students comprise a substantial portion of the city's population, but our interests are rarely reflected in city affairs. Only when students come down off the Hill to participate and begin a dialogue with city officials and residents will the Syracuse government serve us best.

So take a trip downtown to meet the people who inked the new law. Invite them over to share a cold one on your deck. Get off your couch and tell them what's really on your mind.

\section*{[dढ̈]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levinthal
Managing Editor Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Spectal Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Protostraphy Editor: Alt Director Copy Editor
Assti: News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifiestyle Edhor
Aaset Lifestrie Ecitor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Edtitor
Desisn Edtior
Design Editor
Desitn Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Edito
Asst. Copy Editor
Justin Stiverman

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Dr-Laura preaches dangerous conservative values}

Every so often I turn on the radio. Yeah sure, it's an outdated medium. The music blows, and with the exception of a few NPR shows, the programming is even worse. But that's exactly why I turn it on. even worse. But that's exactly why I turn it on.

Rush Limbaugh is a personal favorite. His pseu-do-redneck, ignorant, right-wing

THOMAS HOBAN rhetoric has amused me for hours on end. Sometimes I rry co imagine what it would be like to be a "ditto head, hating Mexicans, loving ist jargon just right of a John Ford Western.

Although an incredible specimen of the idiocy available on radio, Rush doesn't hold a candle to Dr. Laura Schlessinger. Better known as "Dr. Laura," Schlessinger hosts a syndicated radio show where immense losers from all over the country call in so she can tell them how to solve their problems.

Every day, over 20 million listeners tune in to hear Dr. Laura yell at callers, forcing her incredibly narrow view of life and family on these poor people who were stupid enough to ask her for advice in the first place. Most of the times that I tune in. Dr. Laura is telling some poor woman that she shouldn't leave her husband, or that she absolutely must stay at home with her children. Schlessinger's concept of "family values" makes Ward Cleaver look like Ike Turner.

But perhaps Dr. Laura's most famous atrocity is her stance on homosexuality. She has called gays and lesbians "deviant," and suggested that homosexuality is a "biological error that inhibits you from relating normally to the opposite sex.

When discussing the topic or "gay rights," she even went so far as to say "that's what I'm worried about with the pedophilia, and the bestiality, and the sadomasochism and the cross-dressing. Is all this going to be 'rights' too?"

Schlessinger not only ignores legitimate medical science and modern psychology when forcing her apd spews outright lies. She maintains that wa step portion" of American gay men prey on young boys. I truly hope that even her most ignorant and homophobic listeners know that simply isn't true.

Just when you thought it couldn't possibly get any worse, Dr. Laura is currently scheduled to have her own syndicated television show. The show is slated to start in September and will be distributed by Paramount, a Viacom Corporation. This means that the same people who fund, among other things, MTV in response io Dr iaura's staternenis airuui mosexuality and her upcoming television debut homosexuality and her upcoming television debut Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation and the Lesbian Alliance Against. Defamation and the David Lee, executive producer of "Frasier," has helped to set up StopDrLaura.com, a Web site informing the public of her positions, as well as her upcoming TV show.

"It is outrageous that Paramount chooses to be in business with a woman who is literally dangerous," Lee said.

Norman Solomon, a nationally syndicated columnist, author and executive director of the Institute for Public Accuracy, said of Schlessinger, "sitting at a powerful microphone, she spews abuse at those who ive outside the circle she has drawn around humani."

In an interview on gaybc.com, a gay online radio show, presidential hopeful Eill Bradley said that Dr. Laura "makes him sick to his stomach." Even though agree. With the recent death of Wyoming college stu dent Matthew Shepard, it is imperative that American culture moves forward in promoting not only tolerance for homosexuality, but acceptance and respect.
will By putting Dr. Laura on television, Paramount will be leading the fight against tolerance, acceptance and respect. Visit www.StopDrLaura.com for more information on how to tell Paramount what you think about Dr. Laura's views on homosexuality Schlessinger does not need to be censored, but paramount needs a know that by reaping the profits rom her audience, they must take responsibility for er message.

Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and fulm and political science major. His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at tphoban@syriedu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Columnist propagates stereotypes, insults}

To the Editor:
I am writing this letter in response to Pete Beisser's column in Monday's Daily, Orange, "44's MiaBeisser's failed attempt at humor and sarcasm lent me insulted and, moreover, appalled that any editor would publish what Mr. Beisser also labels "crap""

I think Mr. Beisser is very quick to judge and should, in redents are probably judging him dents are probably judging him lack of tact. Or maybe I'm wrong, and his column was purposely

Written in poor taste and fashion. It is amazing to me that on a campus where people try to pro Mr. Beisser wovid feel so free to sterebtyppe.

He notes that at Harry's, one should not "forget to bring your il legal substonces and bad attitudes, and at Lucy's - well, I'm not going to quote something that has an obscenity in it. I'm glad to see that the D.O. supports quality writing. Mr. Beisser ignorantly continues that cheres not much You're wearing them at one of the Youre wearing

He also encourages us to "fially use up all the hours on your precious cell phones." And finally. he suggests that "kids should make their overpriced cars [that your parents hought] look real pretty" He is quick to put himself on a pedestal and degrade those who Work at McDonald's, CVS my suggestion for you is that you cease writing and apply for a position as manager - then you'li see the changes you so desire.
And Any final offer to you is this: On the next Split. Day at the reoperied Four's, I will call you on my cell phone to pick you up in my shined-up Explorer and, wearing my black pants, I will proceed douse you in beer.
For whatever reason you wrote your article - jealousy, insecurity, boredom - please security, boredom - please know that someone did not find the huwhat you also call "crap."

\section*{PANAM}
contimued from page 1
The private viewings for the victims' families are considered room, wherc all of the rules of the court are applicable, Phillips explained. Viewing cites include plained. Viewing cites include New York City.
"No one will be allowed to react loudly, or they will be removed," he said.

Melissa Dios, a freshman business major, said she expected the court to ban BBC cameras. Dios' aunt, a masters student in the College for Human Development, died in the explosion.
\({ }^{4}\) I found it kind of trivial that they would bring that up in the first place," she said.
Televising the trial would negatively affect the case because viewers may make assumptions without knowing all the facts, she added.

Judy O'Rourke, vice president of undergraduate studies and coordinator of Remembrance Scholars, said she did not know why BBC was even interested in televising the trial.
ald am assuming the media would just want to cover it as closely as they can," she said. closely as they can," she said. The court's decision to allow ings caters to their right to see the trial if they are unable to the trial to the Netherlands O'Rourke said. Netherlands "They couldn't have a cour big enough," she said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Ashleigh Graf

\section*{BRADLEY}
continued from page 1 basketball player and Missouri being his home state.

Although Bradley had a strong base of supporters, his campaign did not display the confidence necessary to garner their Onondaga County campaign coorOnondaga dinator.
nator.
"They didn't vote their conscience," he said. "They voted for Gore because he was more popular."

Wachtel, however, said he could not point to the time when Bradley's support began to dwindle.
"I'm the eternal optimist," he said. "I did think that going into last night we had a chance to win last night we

Instead of entering the Iowa Caucus - where he would lose to Gore by an almost \(2-t 0-1\) margin

\section*{2000 SUMMER EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{RESIDENTIAL/NON-RESIDENTIAL Conference Support Positions Available}
-Assist with arrangements for Acadenic/Sport Camp Programs-

\author{
Qualifications Include: \\ - Customer Service Experience \\ -Clear, Effective Communication \\ -Familiarity with Campus facilities helpful
}

For further information or to obtain an application packet, please contact:
THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCE SERVICES
621 Walnut Ave., Syracuse, NY 13210
443-1347
- Bradley should have followed the Iead of Republican presidential hopeful and Arizona Sen. John McCain, said Barry Shatz, a full time campaiga volunteer.

As McCain did to overcome his opponent, Texas Gov. George W. Bush, Bradley could have spent more time in the Granite State to triumph over Gore's 4 per cent lead, Shatz said.

But he campaigned in both towa and New Hampshire and would lose both contests, Shatz said, finding the first primary loss ther's faltering carnpaign tor's faltering campaign
"I always thought we had to win New Hampshire," he said.

Although losing, Bradley did provide a strong showing, Shatz said. But there were no primaries mamediately following, New mentum slowed, he added.

Washington state's Feb. 29 non-binding primary provided an non-binding primary provided an his viability as a candidate despite hational polls saying otherwise, he natded. aded.

But investing heavy monetary and time commitments in provid a state, only to lose proved a mistalse, Wachtel said.

Campaign polls should have but did not, show that Bradiey ington A decision at that time shoold have been made to focus in stead on Super Tuesday states, he added.
"Playing 'Monday morning quarterback' - it doesn't look like he best decision," Wachtel said.

Gore beat Bradley by 7 per cent in the Washington primary where residents could vote for any candidate of any party.

Wachtel also blamed Bradiey's inadequate response to attacks on his healh care proposal for the downrall of the cam paign, Shatz said.
"Bill Bradley had no choice but to respond," Wachtel said. "He just didn't respond quick enough."

Gore's constant attacks made Bradley operate an undesired defensive campaign that would eventually damage his credibility, Shatz said.
"Al Gore pulled us down into an area where we didn't want to go with pettiness and name callgo with pett.
ing," he said.

Bradley's campaign will continue to affect the general election, Schiferle said.

Schiferle said Bradley brought issues such as campaign finance reform and universal health care into the public arena and the candidates in the general election must discuss them, she said.

His campaign will be remembered for how it energized people, both young and old, Wachtel said. "Looking back, the best thing about this campaign was how it made people believe they could make a difference," he said.

Many of those people, however, may now abstain from voting in the general election, Wachtel said.

I think the general election is not going to be as exciting and participation is going to be down, he said. "People are going to think it's the same old politics."

\section*{Inticroticlen}

Computer Center 2518 Erie Blvd. E Syracuse, NY 13224 315-446-5321

Apple, IBM, HP, Okidata, IBM and most Clones repaired and upgraded.

\section*{10\% OFF LABOR}
with student ID and this Ad
Order your NEXTEL phone today! Learn how you can communicate with your friends with the "free two-way radio feature" on this digital phone.

Free pick-up & delivery of your equip on Tuesdays and Thursdays when repaired or upgraded by MicroTECH. Call today! 446-5321

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at:
257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

\section*{Latino students argue Elian Gonzalez case \\ BY CAROLINE CHEN}

Staff Writer

For the past several months, a 6 -year-old boy stood in the center of an international custody battle beWhether Elian Gonzalez should be returned to Cuba or be should be returned to Cuba or be allowed to remain in the States became the focus of a forum Wednesday night sponsored by La Unidad Latina Lambda Upsilon Lambda Fraternity and Latino Undergraduates Creating History in America.

The U.S. Coast Guard rescued Gonzalez off the shore of Florida on Nov. 25. The boy's mother, along with 10 other refugees, died on the voyage from Cuba.

We want to bring to light the difference between goverament and justice," said Alberto Dominguez, a senior political science and international relations tioning who it is that calls the shots."

Gonzalez is being used as a banner by politicians, said Dominguez, the chapter advisor Unidad Latina Fraternity.
"You see this nice little 6 -yearold kid and all you think is Cuba, Communist," Dominguez said. "We're trying to save someone who doesn't really need to be saved."

The international custody battle over Gonzalez became a war between socialism and capitalism, said Alejandro Garcia, a social wúth pin ofessoù áila ùne óf 30 stu-

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange Students and facuity mambers gathered Wednesday night in the remain in the United States.
dents and faculty members attending the event.
"In the political world, all objectivity is lost," Garcia said. "The kid is just a pawn."

Garcia said that children do not always know what is best for them. Even kids who are physically abused by their parents often say hey want to return home, he added.

The Cuban boy has been placed in a fishbowl, Garcia said. A cult has even developed around "Jesus Elian," he added

You're making him something very special and holy and he doesa't know what's going on," Garcia said.
venge on their enemy - Cuban President Fidel Castro - by keeping Gonzalez in Miami, said Radhames Dominguez, a sophomore international relations major who is half-Cuban. They also support keeping the boy in Miami because he will have abetwer stancard oll ing in the United States, RadThe Dominguez added.
The media distorts the information they present to the public, he said.
"Poor Elian is the biggest loser in this," he said.

Tracy Perez, a junior English and Textual Studies major, called the medin focus "disgusting."

As soon as I saw his image, I

\section*{New York City Board of Education}

\section*{SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM We Will pay Your Full Tuition!}

\author{
Make A Difference
}

\section*{Teach New York!}

The Nene York City Board of Education needs qualified staff in a number of critical areas. You may be aligible for a Scholarship in one of the areas listed below.
If you are interested in receiving a fact shest and application for the Scholarsinip Program, plaase no later than March 31, 2000 to:

Bureau of Recruitment Programs
65 Court Street - Room 101, Brooklyn, NY 11201
PLEASE STPRINT IN BLACK INK
TEAR HERE ©
NAME
\(\qquad\) SOCLAL SECURTTY *
ADDRESS (TEEPA영:
CTY STATE ZIP MOST RECENT DEEREE
SHORTAGE AREAS - Pieme check ONL Y ONE box: BILINGUAL
- BILINGUAL SPECIAL EDUCATION
- BILINGUAL SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY
- BILINGUAL SCHOOL SOCIAL WORK
- BILINGUAL SCHOOL COUNSELING
MONOLINGUAL OR BLLINGUAL
C DEAF & HEARING IMPAIRED
- SPEECH & HEARING HANDICAPPED*
- VISUALLY IMPAIRED*
- OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY*
- PHYSICAL THERAPY*
* Schoiarships are offered at the undergraduate (Gunior status) or graduate level.  Scholarships are offered at the gractuate level only.
(Check One): \(\square\) Greduate Level Undergradurte Level
If you are bllingual, pitase Indicate the language (other than Engilsh) In which you cian demonatrate oral and writuen proficiency:

HAPLEMENTATON OF TNE SCHOLARSHIP PFOCGRM IS CONTINGENT UPON THE STAFFING NEEDS OF THE NEW YOFIX CTY PUELCC SCHOOL SYSTEM ANBD THE AVALLABRTTY OF FUNDS.

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daity Orange
Brian Brown, a second-year intemational relations graduate student, examines Images and brief blographies of famous Latino figures.
cause the media has been manipulating him," she added.

But Brian Brown, a graduate tudent in international relations said that people who advocate sending Gonzalez back to Cuba are supporting right-wing anti-immigration groups.

Send him bacis, send everybody back," Brown scoffed.

Under the media's watch, be ween trips to Disney World and through time playing with his puppy, Elian is too busy to mourn the death of his mother, said Raven Roman, a junior retailing major.
"Keep the kid busy so he won't speak," she said

Wednesday's forum showcased a variety of opinions because the respect between participants facil tated their expression, Alberto Dominguez said

It's beautiful when you can see a bunch of Latino students come together and learn from each other," he added.

The event is the first of two workshops hosted as part of the fifth annual Imagenes Latinas cultural exhibition, which is funded by he Syracuse University Latin American Studies Department

The purpose of the exhibition, which displays items of Latino culture, is to raise awareness of the Latino-American movernent in history and Latino-Americans at SU, Alberto Dominguez said.

Students are invited to view the exhibition between 8:30 a.m. and 10 p.m. Friday in the Schine Student Center, Room 227. La Unidad Latina Fraternity will also host a poetry reading at \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in the same location.

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc}

Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Data Recovery
Repairs / PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors

\title{
Best Prices \\ Guarenteed Work
}

Mon. Thur Fri.
9:30-5:30
Sat. 10:30-2:30
Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Page: cdoctor/@computerdoctor.Syr.com

The sisters of Gamma Phi Beta are happy to welcome their new members for Spring 2000
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Becky Antinozed & Heather Ioset \\
\hline Dhalya Baker & Sarah Kearns \\ \hline Jenwifer Brom & Coroline Lorimer \\ \hline Leeorm Canmon & Nickd Laupis \\
\hline Allison Chanin & Shums Malhotro \\
\hline Emily Chernick & Erica Manoff \\
\hline Leslie Coe & Amy Martin \\
\hline Heidl Corcoran & Jen Mreeht \\
\hline Sara Curcio & Rachel Perzan \\
\hline Sarah Davis & Stephante Priskle \\
\hline Allison Eisreer & Shamon Soent \\
\hline Michelise Elwood & Alf Shodeluek \\
\hline Chrissy Fartell & Rachel Shusman \\
\hline Any Gold & Liz Siegel \\
\hline Ann Marte Grimbery & Janine Sprague \\
\hline Sumana Hervera & Massy Steinleín \\ \hline Sorah thunt & Alison Terzyk \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Enter the Shopnow.com Hoops Hoopla Basketball Tourney. Head to www.shopnow.com/hoops. Then pick the winning teams before tipoff on March 16, 2000 and you could find yourself staring at a brand new Fujitsu PlasmaVision 42" flat screen. So what are you waiting for? After all, you, like Xena, have many skills. Come find out if picking the winning team is one of them.

\section*{\(\mathrm{FbGEE}^{2}\)}

\section*{Spreading out}

Burma's booming heroin industry is helping to kindle the AIDS epidemics in nearby countries, including China, India and Vietnam, with out breaks of the infection flaring like a fuse along routes used by traffickers to transport the drug. A new study by American, Chinese and Indian researchers shows different strains of the AIDS virus have followed the path of heroin in communities along four separate trafficking routes in the region. The spread of the HIV virus accompanies a rise in local drug use that reflects the flooding of the market with Burmese heroin.

\section*{So long}

\section*{NBC resigned}

Tuesday from the National Association of Broadcasters, a TV industry lobbying and self-regulating agency headquartered in washington, D.C. Although several nined in a letere out- NAB !ined in a letter to NAR president and CEO Edward O. Fritts, the main sticking point cited was the limit on how many local television stations a single company can own. Under current taw, no group or individual can own stations with 3 access to more than 35 percent of the nation. NBC, whose network-owned affiliates broadcast to just over 25 percent of the country, would like to see that cap increased or abolished.

Sweet indulgence Induigences, the Roman Catholic spiritual practice that irked Martin Luther and proReformation many C gnored by many Catholics for years. As part of the church's Jubilee Year 2000 celebration, Pope John Paul it is offering an inctulgence, which an incluggence, which ment for \(\sin\), to Catholics who journey to Rome or the Holy Land and fusfill requirements such as going to confession, saying prayers and doing charitable acts. Those who don't travel can go to local Jubilee churches.

\section*{quote \\ of the day:}
"Travel is facal to prejudice, bigotry and narrow-mindedness." Mark Twain

Sapra
Kollali,
editor 443-2128 life@daily orange.com

K[lifestyle]
guide later this month.

\section*{Memory-enhancing drugs are not all \\ they're cracked up to be.}

\section*{BY ERIN CORCORAN}

It's the night before your psychology midterm, and chapter upon chapter of textbook jargon beckons to be read. Not even Sigmund Freud himself could remember all this information.

Sound familiar? The solution used to be relatively simple: Sítting up all night with a carafe of hot coffee. Nowadays, however; college students are presented with another option: Popping a brain booster pill - a memo-ry-enhancing drug designed to help even the most stressed student.

Brain boosters are organic pills designed to sharpen memory. Some advertisements even claim that there is no need for studying at all.

The pills are chemically-enhanced herbs that may stimulate memory and brain cognition. Memory boosters increase the flow of mation to be stored and remembered with mation to be st

Ginkgo, for example, is a powerful antioxidant herb best known for its ability to enhance blood circulation. It has the ability to squeeze through even the narrowest of blood heart, brain and all other body parts to the This ability aids in montal function helps to relieve muscle pain. It also low and helps to relieve muscle pain. It also lowers blood pressure, inhibits blood clotting

Fran Ma, a junior English
Fran Ma, a junior English and textual couple times last semester to study, he said. "I noticed a difference after taking it," he said. "I remembered what I had read earlier in the semester and I was able to answer questions correctly."

Brain boosters entered the American market in the early 1990s. Many of the popuintended for elderly people who could not remember were they placed their car keys.

See MEMORY page 11

THANE BENSON/The Daily Orange

\section*{The DeCoding of a country begins \\ The population of an entire country is \\ signs a document indicating that they are \\ the ethical laws and considerations of the} whoring ita medical records and letting go of their privacy for a price.
Code Gede Genetics, a subsidiary of bought the medical histories of the people of Iceland for a cool \($ 200\) mil-
Corey lion in order to further
Hann genetic research. chase has brought about healch many ethical concerns sleuth about whether patient-do breached and also whether exploiting these people for the good of the whole is more important than the interests of the individual.

The doctor-patient relationship is one of the most sacred and honored traditions in right, would be a travesty. There are exceptions to the tradition, in that sometimes patients can offer their medical histories for studies on the terms of informed consent.

In this type of agreement, the patient aware of the proceedings that will be undertaken and are made conscious of even the most remote repercussions of the study. In has been violated.
The Icelandic approach flips this issue by including individuals in the study unless they object to it. Also included in the bill is a mandate that the people should remain anonymous.

That's anything but the case. "Legal experts have pointed out that the database, as described in the bill, consists of personal information, which, though deidentified by encryption of names, will not be anonymous," according to a report by This is one of the loopholes that DeCode and the is one of the loopholes that DeCode other being the fact that they're outside the borders of the United States.

In a report released by DeCode, they claim that they are a "private limited company registered in Iceland," not bound by United States. The fact remains that its corporate sponsor and main branch are based in Delaware.

\section*{Placing blame}

In some respects, this is more the sponsor's fault for letting this research company exploit people in this manner, though DeCode should recognize this as well. They berning informed consent, and make a case for the citizens to reject the companies offer.
"The government is trying to bully us into accepting this bill, and we are deeply concerned that politics are being seen to have a greater bearing than the protection of patients," says Dr Gudmundur Bjornsson, chairman of the Icelandic Medical Association.

One of the most controversial and relatively scary parts of this issue is the exclusiveness DeCode was given to this information.

As if the extra door didn't make it easy enough to get into. As improvements go, the Saturn engineers came up with a good one. A third door, right there on the driver's side, that makes it easy to get dogs, tubas, even people into the back seat of our coupe. And, continuing on the whole "easy to get into" theme, you can get the Saturn three-door coupe for a very impressive lease payment. So drop by your Saturn retailer. We'll show you how to get into a great car. Without cleaning out your bank account in the process.

Saturn of Syracuse
In the Heart of Historic Avtomobile Row
716 West Genesee Street 315-472-0021

Saturn of Route 31
Just west of the
Great Northern Mall
3885 Route 31
315-622-0054

\section*{$228/month}

39-month lease/38 monthly payments \({ }^{5} 0\) due at lease signing No security deposit required
(tax, title, license and registration are extra)

Payments based on 2000 Saturn SC2 and an M.S.R.P. of \($ 14.945\). Thirty-eight monthly payments total $8.664. Option to purchase at lease end for an amount to be determined at lease signing. Primary lending source must approve fease. Delivery must be taken from participating retaller by \(3 / 31 / 00\). Mileage charge of \($, 20\) per mille over 39,000 miles. Lessee pays for excess wear. Payments may be higher in some states. © 1999 Saturn Corporation.

\section*{R.SATURN.}

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car.

\section*{MEMORY}
continued from page 9
