START

MICROFILMED 2002

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES AND RECORDS MANAGEMENT

THE DAILY ORANGE

Funding for filming of The Daily Orange is provided by Syracuse University Archives and Records Management

THE DAILY ORANGE

COPYRIGHT

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, UNITED STATES CODE) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photo copy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Archives and Records Management

Syracuse University

Title: The Daily OrangePublished: Syracuse University, Syracuse, NYHoldings: Vol. 1 no. 1 (September 15, 1903)-Continues: The Syracuse Daily OrangeNotes: Funding for the microfilming of The Daily Orange is provided by Syracuse University Archives and Records ManagementMicrofilm no. 4854Location: Syracuse University Archives, Syracuse, NY

MICROFILMED BY CHALLENGE INDUSTRIES ITHACA NY

Film size: $\quad 35 \mathrm{~mm}$ microfilm Image Placement: IIB Reduction Ration: 20:1 Date Filming Began 12-30-002 Camera Operator hJilliam Rogers

The inconsistent assignment of volume, number, and date makes it difficult to accurately collate the Daily Orange and ascertain missing issues, therefore, this title has been filmed as is.

REEL NO. 103

REEL CONTENTS

Vol. 29 No. 65Vol. 29 No. 132

January 18, 2000 to May 11, 2000

$2000$

JANUARY

Pack man

SU finds few Y2K system failures

CMS replaces software, prepares'for new year GY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Syracuse University computer systems passed into the new year with only minor and temporary glitches.

To avoid any possible problems, older progranns, including MacMainframe and MANnewer, more up-todate software, said James Tompkins, executive director of Computing and Media Services.

SAS, a software program used in statistics classes, is no longer running on Dell GX1

Parent Joe Krahuls helps his daughter Kelly move packages into Dellpialn Residence Hell on Monday aftermoon. Kelly, a sophomore from Athany, was among hundreds of St students who retumed to campus Monday for the Spring 2000 Semestar.
computers in public computer labs due to its Somp faculty and staff members exper enced temporary difficulties Jan. 1 and 2 when they attempted to access old mail through Pegasus Mail 3.12 on the CS and SUMMON servers, he said. He added that he was among those faculty members who were hit with the problem.
"It wasn't a big deal," Tompkins said. "Whatever the problem with the e-mail was, it went away quickly and nothing was lost."

The S.C.O.R.E. system was also down until Jan. 4 - not because of a Y2K bug, but in order to avoid one. The Office of the Registrar decided to shut down that system, along with other university computer systems, in order to prevent any problems YZK may have incurred, said William Kessler, an SU computer consultant.
"It was a good precaution for the university to take, said Frank Shultx, a freshman television, radio and film major. "It seemed to take a long time to get grades online though."

Shultz added that when he did get back on See Y2K page 9

State Affairs

State welcomes tax cut

BY EMILY KULKUS  Asst. News Effitor

Consumers in 53 counties across New York state will shop this week without taxes on all clothing and shoe purchases. A permanent tax-free clothing law will then begin March 1.

The seventh and fingl tax-free week that began Saturday and ends Friday, applies to all clothing and shoe purchases of percent sales tax cut applies to all counties, however, the counties have the option of not cutting their local tax. The last tax-free week was Sept. 1-7.

The first tax-free week, which was in 1997, has been followed by the Aug. G. $_{\text {, }}$ 1999, passage of a law by Gov. George $E$. Pataki to permanently eliminate state sales tax on clothing and shoe purchases of $\$ 500$ or less. Neither cut apphes to accessories, jewelry or handbags.

The idea of a tax-free week first began when shoppers started going to nearby sales tax-free states to do their shopping, said Brian Vattimo, press secretary to Lt. Gov. Mary Domohue.
s and Verates, particularly Massachuclothing, Vermont don't have sales tax on New Yorkers and encal. This will benelit New York."

Local sales taxes vary from 6 to 8 per-
See TAX page 6

- University Senate

USen examines diversity in residence halls

BY TIFFANY LANKES

Asst. News Editor
The Syracuse University Seaate Committee on Student Life will further examine a new proposal designed to eliminate racial barriers in the residence halls at a meeting Wednesday night in Marwell Auditorium.

The proposal, written by a committee of students and faculty, incluces a switch to random housing placement for first-year students, said Robert VanGulick, a committee member and philosophy professor.

The proposal originated in the Chancellor's Comxaission on Plaralism,"' VanGulick said. They were looking at a whole range of issues of diversity on campus."

The cormmittee addressed the issue of diversity in the residence halls after receiving numerous complaints regarding the apparent segregation of racial groups into residence hails, vanGulick said. The percentage of minority students residing in 10 percent, versus a minority population of 28 percent in Brewster and Boland halls, he added.

II don't think that the university is at fault for it but the university wants to do something about it," VanGulick said. "Defacto segregation is something that has a long history at SU." and Bird Library ansociate librarian, anid students often choose residence halls where they know other people. This method of selection lesads to the pattern of ethnic segregation that has been prominent in freshman residence halls in past years, she added.
All of the minority studentg who wish to go up on the Mount can," VanGulick said. "But a lot of them want to be in Brewster/Boland. That's where they know a lot of minority students are."

This contrasts the rumor that the univeraity bases housing assignments on economic status, be added.

The propoaal will give Inrat-year stu-
See USEX page 3

Election 2000
McCain

seeks

NY ballots
BY KEVIN TAMPONE Stalf Writer

Republican presidential hopeful Arizona Sen. John McCain Siled legal papers in New York state Friday asking a feder al court to allow him to appear on the primary ballot in all of the state's 31 counties in the March 7, 2000 primary election.

The legal action cameaf ter McCain's volunteer or Ganization in ained almost tained almost 30,000 signa the senat statewide for the senator to ap pear on the primary wallot. These $10 t$ in only 25 counties New York lot ha only 25 counties. New York wishing to participate in the primaries to obtain the signatures of 1,000 party members or .5 percent of party members, whichever is less, in each county the candidate wishes to appear on the ballot.
candiciates, like McCain, who do
See MCCAIN page 4

[briefs]

tidbits

Voting via compurter

may boost turnout
SACRAMENTO, Calif. - We shop by computer, buy stocks by computer, keep in touch with old friends by computerNow, at the dawn of a new century, we may soon have the option of voting onine. Officials in one Northem Califomia courty are so gungho about he idea that they hope o November of casting Nollot via -This is somethins that might reengage this nation of nonvoters we've become," said Warren Slocum, who pre sides over elections in San Mateo County, on Valley. He says that Valley. He says that to vote from home in your pajamas by 2010 ."

Women prefer   taller men

   taller men}In case there was any doubt, tall men really do get more women, at least in Poland, accord ing to new research. British and Polish researchers analyze medical records for 3,201 men age 25 to 60 who underwent medical examinations between 1983 and 1989. Bachelors were about an inch shorter on average than married men and childless men were on average 1.2 inches shorter than men who had at least one child. ables are held contant childless meld constant, cantly shorter are signifiwho have at teast one child." the researchers write in the Jan. 13 issue of Nature. "We demonstrate that tatler men are reproductively more suc cessful than shorter men."
Asteroid collision risk cut in fral

The universe may be a safer place for planet Earth than astronomers had thought. A new survey has found that there are far fewer cangerous asteroids hurtling through space that could hit Earth and cause wid spread cievasta Previously, astronomers had estimated that there were between 1,000 and 2,000 asteroids that 2,0uld potentially stam could our planet that meant there was a 1 permeant there was a 1 p cerrit chance of a cata Earth in the next million years. the researchers calculat ed that the total number of potentially devastating asteroids is about half the earlier estimates about 700.

CIA posits Iranian nukes  WASHINGTON, D.C. -  Asked about a change in the  asterisk" in their analysis, he

An intelligence report indicating an Iranian official had said his country had enough auclear materials to build a bomb has led agency analystis recentily to hedge their bets about whether Tehran can produce such a weapon, according

A CIA spokesman on Monday would only say that the agency has had a "Iong interest in Iran's nuclear weapons research and has been "Watch-agency's assessment, he responded, "There are as many opinions as analysts on that ubject." The CIA's new view of Iran's nuclear potential was reported in Monday editions f the New York Times

A senior administration official who follows nuclear weapons activities said Monday that when the CIA repor on the Iranian's remark first circulated last year, it was not viewed as very significant. agency has "made it an added.
count we don't want to discount the possibility, he said, but no one is asserting they a bomb."

a bomb."

Tran has made no secret that it has had a nuclear weapons program for more than 15 years, driven primar ilyby Iraq's program and Baghdad suse of chemical weapons during their war. An weapons during their war. Another incentive was Israel's possession of nuclear weapons.

Mideast peace talks postponed

JERUSALEM - Historic peace talks between Syria and IsUnited States this week, were abruptly postponed Monday amid Syrian dissatisfaction over Israel's refusal to commit to a full withdrawal from the strategic Golan Heights.

The office of Israeli Prime Minitter Ehud Barak, in announcing the postponement, said it was an "indefinite" delay. Barak's spokesman said the talks were called off at the urging of the Clinton administration because of differences between the two sides that could not be bridged "for that:

Bradley, Gore jar on race issue

DES MOINES, Iowa - Vice President Al Gore and Bill Bradley appealed to minority voters in a de bate here Monday by promising to put racial issues at the top of their discredit each other on diversity and civil rights.
Their testiest exchange of the hour-long debate came over racial profiling, with Bradiey pointedly questioning why the Clinton-Gore administration has not taken action to ban the use of race as a factor in random searches by police.

An, I know that you would issue an order to end racial profiling if you were president of the United States," Bradley said. "But we have a president now. I want you to wis oftice and say 'Si his office and say:

Gore shot back: "I don't think President Bill Clinton needs a lecture from Bill Bradley about how to stand up and fight for African Americans and Latinos in this coun.

Gore and Bradley agreed broady on most issues during the held on the holiday honoring the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr, but their sometimes hastile rhetoric underscored the high stakes of the caucuses to be held here in a week.

world news

Although Israeli and U.S. officials sought to downplay the crisis, it was a stinging setback to what had been widely hailed as a breakthrough in the pursuit or peace in the Minter between Barik and Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk alsharan at the White House on Dec. 15 was the highest-level meeting ever between the two states and raised expectations that a half-century of conflict would fi-
Russia allegedly hides loss figures

MOSCOW - Russian forces in Chechnya, facing increasingly tough resistance from guerrilla fghters, are systematically underreporting their losses to pre-

campus calendar

TODAY

The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel mic at 8 p.m.

TODAY-MEDNESDAY  The OnCenter present

 "Grease on I ce" at 7:30 p.mCall $435-8000$ for tickets.

MEDNESDAY

The Green Party and the Student Environmental Ac tion Coalition hosts "The WTO and the Battle of Seattle: Eye Witness Accounts, What Really Happened and What it Means happened and What it Means at 7 p.m at the Westcott Com munity Center. There will b cver fils of the demonstra short films of the demonstra tions.

- The Latino-Latin Amer ican Studies Program faculty and staff p cussion on Economic Justic and the Latino Community 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the Bird Library, room 1916 .
- The Central Library presents a career advisement and education counseling sem inar from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. tration.
- SUNY Health Science Center hosts the Diversity and Affirmative Action for the 21st Century conference at 766 Irving Ave. Call 464-4829 for ticket prices.

WEDNESDAY-  SATURDAY

The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Georee at 8 p.m. Call 474-0969 for admission

THURSDAY-FRIDAY  - The Contemporary Theatre presents "Picasso at the Lapin Agilen at $7: 30$ p.m. at Square.

FRIDAM

E Sports Anchor and Newhouse alumnus Len Berman speaks 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in

MONDAY

Sports Broadcaster and Newhouse alumnus Sean Mc-house II.

To make a contribution to ampers calendar, callith news department at 443-2127 Submissions are also accepled via e-mail at news@cailyorange.com.

The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's acadernic year by tistributed on campus with the firs is is distributed on campus with the firs five copies complemencar Management 443.9798 $\begin{array}{ll}\text { Business } & 443-2314 \\ \text { News } & 443-2127\end{array}$
Lifestyle 443 -2128
Sports 443-2208
hotography 443 -979
E-mail editorial dailyorange.com
——n

[dö]

| Matnagement | $443-9798$ |
| ---: | :--- |
| Business | $443-2314$ |
| News | $443-2127$ |
| Lifestyle | 443.2128 |
| Sports | $443-2208$ |
| Photography | 443.9795 |
| Arr | 443.5938 |

vent public opinion from turning against the war, a prominent The Soldiers' Mothers Com. mittee, Fussia's most active anti-war organization, said it esRussian soldiers hore than 3,000 the 15 -week war have died in four times the official count. The group also contends that at least group also contends that at least been wounded, about twice the government figure.

The Soldier's Mothers Committee is Russia's largest grassroots organization and is widely respected for its independence and integrity. The charge that the military is understating the body count is echoed by soldiers on rare occasions, by the Russian press.

Buffet cashes in on Bell stake

LOS ANGELES-World famous "buy and hoid" investor taken the uffett has apparenting in a quick profit on his 5.3 percent stake in El Segundo, Calif.-based Bell Industries and joining other major stockholders in realizing of the company's shares.

In a telephone conversation
Friday with Bell Industries last Friday with Bell Industries President Tracy A. Edwards, Buffett said he had sold his 5.3 percent stake in the company because his "investment goals have been met," Edwards said. The executive said he called Buffett on a matter unrelated to the stock price, and Edwards said he did not know exactly when Buffett sold the shares or at what price. Buffett, Chairman and chief executive of his Ornaha, Neb.-based holding company Berkshire Hathaway Inc., Monday, he had not formant. As of Monday, he had not formally notified the Securities and Exchange ed the Securities and Exch onmission of the stock sale.

Bell Industries shares zoomed as much as 80 percent after it was ing that billionaire Buffett had paid roughly $$ 2.5$ million for paid roughly $$ 2.5$ million for manufacturer as of Dec. 1.

USEN
continued from page 1
dents a choice between living on themed housing floors or being andomly placed in a residence hall. This difters from the forme ystem where students were al hall they wanted to live in Wa vienko eoid Students would stil sylenkle to indiente a roommat reference she added reference, she added.
The new plan would be ef 2001 Semes ter, she said.

The proposal was revised very widely. It weat to different student organizations," Waylenko said. "This sort of arrangement is very popular on college campuses. A place to live is more than a place to sleep and shower. It's an extension of the learning community.*

New hall themes that are till in the plamping stages infude leadership, women in science and technology and muiticulturalism, she added.

Themed housing was devel oped to bring students together in ways that enrich their learn ng experience," VanGulick said Right now students have a plaed to live and socialize, but there's very little contact on an academic basis."

While the committee designed the proposal to apply to first-year students, it could eventually apply to all students, he added. Until it is instituted, however, future plans are indefnite.
${ }^{4}$ I think people are eager to see how it works," VanGulick said. "It's going to be tricky. This is a new model, but a model that is growing in lots of places."

While racial places.
While racial barriers may fault, the percentage of minority students percentage of mingority dence halls is ironic, said Melissa Malchoff, a freshman in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications.

Malchoff said she noticed the scarcity of minorities where she lives in Flint Hall
"I don't understand how all 600 people in this building could be so similar and all end up together," Malchofr said. "But I don't necessarily see it as racist." While diversity in the residence halis may help break some racial barriers, cliques will always form based on common interests and situations, she said. Taking away a student's choice of residence hall may not remedy this problem, she added.

However, many students base their hall selection on long-tanding stereotypes about the residents, Malchoff added

I think a ton of people hear about the stereotypes when they come to visit and pick their halls from there," she said. "This creates a huge boundary. Alike peo ple tend to stick together."

In other USen news

- Issues discussed at the Dec. 15 USen meeting were the establishment of new classes for the Spring 2000 Semester, the merging of the College for Human Development with the ColSege of Nursing and the Schoal of hocial Work and the awarding of of the by degrees for the victims 103.

Sen. Jonathan M. Taylor, a firth-year architecture major proposed awarding honorary degrees posthumously to the 35 students killed. The Senate's Committee on Honorary Degrees voted unamimously against the recommendation and explained that the university already awarded the students with many honors and recognitions.

The next meeting of the Senate will be Wednesdry evening in Maxwell Auditornum. Senators will further discuss issues regarding curricula, budget and student serviecs.

Student's Sale & Free Limousine Ride!

7arke 25\% Off...

Art Supplies, Engineering, Drafting & Architectural Supplies during our Storewide Sale The Limo Reuns...
From 12:00-5:00, Wednesday - Saturday the ist week of classes, and Monday the 24th 70 amd frome 5.4.
Our limo stops behind Schine, at Watson, Shaw, Flint, Day, Boland & Brewster every 30 minutes. Store flours...
Mon -Fri. 9am-6:00pm & Sat 10am-5pm

935 Erie Blvd. East, Corner Crouse 474-1000 Sale now through January 29th, 2000
Exceptions apply, see details in store. All major credit cards.

If You're Into Sofiware We're Into You.

Sottware Technicians Wanted

U you want more than just a job, why not start your career with the world leader in mission-critical business software? Right now, we're looking for new graduates with bachelor's or master's degrees in Computer Science or related fields for "Bootcamp." This outstanding ten-week program starts every January and June, and includes full salary, free room and board, complete benefits package, full use of CA facilities, and transportation to and from work. At Bootcamp. you will work to develop software in the hottest languages, investigate today's operating systems, and explore the newest technologies.

Why CA?

Just ask any of our over 17,500 employees and they'll tell you why. Computer Associates is the world leader in mission-critical business computing, and had revenue of $$ 5.3$ billion in fiscal year 1999. We provide sottware, support and integration services in more than 100 countries around the world.

We offer a generous compensation package with a tong list of benefits that nobody else can match, including $401(\mathrm{k})$ and profit sharing plans. company-paid medical and dental coverage, tuition reimbursement. onsite child-care and finess centers in various locations, and tremendous growth opportunity, Complimentary continental breakfast served daily.

Call us today and find out why Computerwortd ranked CA as one of the best places to work in the entire computer industry!

For Mora hifopmation, Please Write Fax or Gall: compuier assubates nicmanoma, Mc.
One Computer Associates Plaza, Isfandia, IY 11749 TeI: 1-600-454-3788 Fax: 1-601-962-9224 or Visit wwural.com cameer calobs him

MCCAIN

continued from page 1
natures to petition the court system in order to appear on the ballots. This is the right he is exercis ing, said Nancy Ives a campaign ## spokesperson.

"Despite diligent efforts by a volunteer army, McCain could not surmount the unconstitutionally high burdens that New York imposes for a Republican candidate to get on the ballot statewide," according to the brief McCain filed As in the past, New York's ballo access rules are the most burdensome in the nation. As in the past, New York's scheme creates organizational, financial, and legal burdens that cannot be overcome by anyone except the state party leadership's handpicked candidate or by a candidate with virtually lim tless financial resources.'

McCain is a viable candidate in New York and he believes voters should have the option to choose etween all candidates in the up coming primary, Ives said. Me Cain took a 37 percent to 28 per cent lead over Republican rival New Hampshire tho nation's first primary state according to a poll released Thursday by the Quinnip iac College Polling Institute. Mc Cain trails Bush 49 percent to 24 percent in New York, but those percent in New York, but those crease since a November poll, according to the Quinnipisc institute.

Senator McCain has demonstrated he is a legitimate candidate in New York state," Ives said. He has demonstrated it by the gains he has made in the polls and by the signatures he has gotten there."

New York's election laws often keep viable candidates off the ballots, she added.

The rules in New York are written to keep people off the ballot and to give preference to the establishment, ives said. Sen McCain believes the voters should have the choice. These tactics should end."

McCain believes New York election law and members of the Republican Party intend to restrict voter choices, did not make the ballot the senator is optimistic about his chances in New York and the rest of the in primary elections, she added. prima "He was disappointed that the blican Party would seek to rerepict ballot access to their own chosen favorites," she said. "But he's very proud of the gains he's made in New York.'

The disappointment expressed by the McCain campaign arose early last week when members of the New York Republican Party, iacluding State Republican Chairperson Bill Powers, filed challenges to McCain's petitions. The actions were a deliberate attempt by Bush supporters to pre vent McCain from appearing on the ballot, Ives said.

The challenges are only an attempt to verify that the people who signed the petitions are regis tered voters and confirmed members of the Republican Party,

Bush Campaign Spokesperson Ari Fleischer said
"I don't think the Republican voters want Democratic voters voting in their primaries," he said it's hard to understand his criti cism."

Both McCain's criticism of the Fepublican Party and of New Yorks use of petitions to deter tions are unfounded, Fleisel said. McCain will appear on ballot in several states requiring pet tions to appear on primary ballots including Virginia where he was able to obtain the 20,000 sign tures necessary for appearance
"Ten other states require $p$ titions to appear on ballots," he said. "Filing 20,000 sipnatures in Virginia is no small task and that's a credit to Sen. McCain's cause down there."

Through legal action McCain hopes to appear on the ballot in all 32 counties in New York, Ives said. Despite the setbacks, he did not alter his campaign plan, but will continue his schedule of appearances, events and speeches in all states with upcoming primary elections, she added.

He believes it's the right. thing for all the party members in New York to have the choice," Ives said. "He intends to fight for every last vote."

Take a FREE Test Drive and find out!

Now is your chance to take a practice test under real test conditions. Experience Kaplan's Test Drive and you'll receive individual feedback on your performance. Don't miss this free opportunity to find out how you would score on the real exam.

Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M.
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Hall of Languages

Or take it online from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

WRITE

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

SU plans weeklong remembrance of King

gY CAROLINE CHEN
Contributing Writer
Syracuse University will remember the leadership of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Sunday during the 15th Annual Martin Luther King $\mathrm{J}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Celebration.

The celebration begins at the Syracuse Northeast Cornmunity Center, 716 Hawra Dance Institute at 11:30 am followed by a keynote address by Lani Guinier.

Guinier was the first black woman become a tenured professor at Harvard Law School. She will speak arain at 3 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium, primarily about her book 'Lift Every Voice". The event concludes at the Carrier Dome with a sold-out dinner at 5:30 p.m.

The "Spirit of the Beloved Community" quilt, constructed by Syracuse residents and SU students and faculty in 1992, will be on display at the colebration.

Tm really excited about the event," aid Michaeljulius Idani, a junior information studies and technology major and forident Theys had it for Association preaanch year it's been trar several years and to be a good show as always.
"I hope people carry the message hrough the entire year."

SU students will have other opportunities to remember King and further his message of justice with the third annual "I Have a Dream Week" celebration, which begins Monday and includes a variety of free events sponsored by the Office of Residence Life.
"I really hope the student body goes out and attends these events," said current SGA President Jamal James, a junior musical theater major. "I believe Dr. King was vital to America and he made it possible for us to iscuss race issues today.

Junior Civil Engineering major Jared Green agreed.

Dr. King was a very inspirational individual," said Green, president of the National Society of Black Engineers at SU. lot of people Tifestyle and he influenced a attend the events this week. going to try to

The National Society of Black Engineers is sponsoring an international desien competition for a manument to King at the National Mall in Washington, D.C. The open competition emphasizes three themes: the man, the movement, and the message, of the society.
The come

The competition challenges entrants to design a living memorial encompassing Kings spirituality, leadership and personal sacrifice in his movement for social justice and his message of hope for all humanity, the pamphlet added.

"I Have a Dream" Week Events

Jan. 23 3:00 P.M. Maxwell Auditorium seminar led by Lani Guinier

6:30 P.M. Carrier Dome free performance by SU's Black Celestial Choral Ensemble short play entitled "I'm Every Woman" keynote address by Lani Guinier presentation of the Martin Luther King, Jr. -Unsung Heroes and Heroines awards

Jan. 24 7:00 P.M. Schhe Rooms 304 A-C showing of PBS documentary "Eyes on the Prize"

Jan. 25 7:30 P.M. Filint Hall study lounge panel discussion, "Restructuring the Civil Rights for the Next Generation"

Jan. 26 7:00 P. M. Grant Auditorium performance by the Martin Luther King Jr. Performers, a children's dance troupe

Jan. 27 7:00 P.M. Lawrinson Hall penthouse folktales presented by Francis McMillan Parks, director of Students Offering Service and African American Programs at Hendricks Chapel

Jan. 28 7:30 P.M. Hendricks Chapel steps candlelight vigil and performance by the Black Celestial Choral Ensemble

Complled by Contributing Writer Caroline Chen

EATE NIGETT AT TEIS GTM
Open Recreation until 2 am on Friday and Saturday Archbold-Flanagan Spring 2000 Activities

Date
Fri. 1/21

Sat. 1/22
Fri. $1 / 23$
Sat. 1/29

Fri. 2ia
Sat. $2 / 5$
Fris: 2111
Sat: $2 / 12$

Fin. 2/18
Sat-2/19

Fri. $2 / 25$
Sat. 2/26

Frî. 3/3
Sat. 3/4

Fri. 3/10
Sat. 3/11
Fri. $3 / 17$
Sat: 3/18
Fri. 3/24
Sat. 3/23

Fri. $\mathbf{3 / 3 1}$
Sa8. 4/1

Fri. $9 / 7$
Sat. $4 / 3$

Fri. 4/14
Sat. 4/15

Fri. $9 / 21$
Sat. 9y2z
Fri. 4/28
Sat. 4/29
$10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ 10:00 prn $10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$
$10: 30$ pm 10800 pr 10:30 pm

10:30 pm 10:00 pm 10:30 pm

10:30 pri 10:00 pm 10:30 pm
$10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ 10:00 10.30 pm
$10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ -10ssa pri

TAX

continued from page 1
cent per county in New York state, he said. Sales tax in Onondaga County is 7 percent. The counties usually decide to participate in the vote, Vattimosaid. Participation in the permanent law will be a much more drastic decision for individual counties, he added. "Some counties do not participate because the money that comes in from the taxes may have already been earmarked for something," said Suzanne Morris, a spokesperson for Pataki's office.
But the new

But the new permanent law should have been passed long ago, she added
${ }^{4}$ The fact that a lot of ecus-

We found it for $81.00!

Search Over 25 Stores to find the Lowest Price!

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 3 p.m. Sunday to meet the News editors and reporters. Free food and coffee for all. Call 443-2127 or email news@dailyorange.com.
Were in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.
comers are going to other states without sales tax was noticeable," Morris said. "So the governor thought it made sense to cut the tax to keep the money in New York."

The tax-free weeks have been met with positive reactions from retailers and consumers, both Morfris and Vattimo said. The tax-free periods save retailers paperwork and attract customers, while directly saving consumers money, Vattimo said.
"The consumers know that this exists and they have held back shopping until this week," he added.

Tricia Weds, a Lord and Thyfor department store associate, agreed.
"There has been a huge increase in business," said Weds, who works in the American Women de parament at the Carousel Mall store. "If they have to get a bunch of stuff, they wait until this week." The Carousel Mall store has been offering an additional 25 per cent off aires sale, Wede said. Although the tax-free week is after the holiday shopping period, sales are surprisingly high. she added.
With the markdowns and then the coupons and then no tax - you can't go wrong," she said. Sales in the store's men's de apartment have been high because prices are typically higher then any other clothing department, she said.

But several consumers are not aware of the encroaching law, she added, robing that when io goes into effect sain wing main at the same high level.
anent there wont be such rush."

New York State

 Tax-free WeekUntil Friday, New York state is suspending the state tax on suspending the state tax on clothing and shoe purchases than $$ 500$. The tax suspension becomes permanent March 1.

Items exempt from the tax cut

Hair accessories

Sports equipment
Jewelry
Non-preseription sunglasses Watches
Handbags
Compiled by Staff Writer Shelby featly Source: Gov, Geotice E. patahis office

Were Looking for A Few Bright Stars

FactSet is the leading provider of online financial, market, and economic information. Our product is used by over 10,000 investment professionals worldwide to research companies, industries, and economies.

Information Session  Monday, February 7, 2000

Interviews
Tuesday, February 8, 2000

ants - The ideal candidate is fascinated with Consultants - The ideal candidate is fascinated with computers and software and has an interest in learning about financial markets. Exceptional communication and interpersonal skills are also vital as consultants are in constant contact with clients worldwide.

FactSet is an equal opportunity employer www.factset.com
FactSet is an equal opportunity employer www.factset.com

To protect against ADDS and other STD. always use latex condoms.

For a free, full-color poster
\{18" x 24" $\}$, write:
AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000. Albany. N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Department

[editorial]   Braves' pitcher   Braves' pitcher needs suspension needs suspension  Not even a blazing $100-\mathrm{mph}$ fastball can save John Rocker from the mess he's gotten into.

The Atlanta Braves' closer tripped into the national spotlight after his insensitive comments in Dec. 27's issue of "Sports Mlustrated" were made public.

It doesn't matter if New York Mets fans threw batteries and heckled Rocker throughout last season while the Mets and Braves dueled for the National League East crown. His thoughtless, disparaging comments about minorities and gays have no place in society and in sport.

Major League Baseball has ordered a psychological analysis for Rocker. The league believes that the hot-blooded Georgian must have been insane to make the comments.

But a trip to a shrink isn't enough. Rocker needs to be punished.

Once he took the mound for the first time wearing a Braves' jersey, he became a part of larger whole, representing the entire team.

Rocker has the right to free speech, but his comments have ravaged the entire Braves organization and the team has full authority to punish its employee.

Rocker has offered an apology, but he has alienated a large portion of his fan base. Some teammates have even shunned Rocker's apology.
"He has no relationships with the black guys or the Latin guys on the team," Braves first baseman Randall Simon told Morris News Service. "He's lying to try and cover himself"

The Braves need to suspend Rocker to prevent further fallout.

Turning Rocker into an example with a minor suspension would show fans and players that this type of conduct is unacceptable.

The league should also set up a task force dealing with minority issues and come up with a concrete rules. The National Hockey League has already has such a group in place and has seen success.

It's tragic that 53 years after Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier, baseball still suffers from ignorance.

Instead of pouring all its resources into looking for the next Latin Annerican superstar, baseball should be preventing dim-witted comments,

[dä]  Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal  Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
dustin Sikorman Editorial Editor

Ashok Selvam Lifestyle Editor Holly Anver
Dave Curtis Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor Bill Ehninger Tom Nyez Asst. News Editor Laura Prabucki Laura Prabucki Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor Cate Stevenson fiany Lanke: Asst. Sports Editor Sapna Kollati Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Edito Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Connor Ennis Jeff Passan
Erin Boyle Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner
Tito Botitita Tito Boltitta Rachasica Cultier

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

opinions

Winter Break leaves questions about 'love'  "We are now leaving Syracuse. Make sure your seat belts are fastened. If you are sitting next to an exit door and are able to fulfill your duties we suggest you use the exit now before it's too late"

mCcauley

As the pilot's voice flowed through the cabin, I becarne restless with anxiety. The fear of returning home was now setting in. I searched drugs to soothe my nerves. Nothing heavy was available so I took four Advils and a double dose of extrastrength Sudafed. I washed the pills down with several hearty gulps of cough syrup. Thank God I had the fiu the week before. I tried to relax while I waited for the drugs to kick in.
Burl and Earl stood on the streets of Caracus watching the crowds mingle in masses. They both wore but-toned-up, vertically-striped shirts with a pair of docker's khalis. Earl held on to his laptop tighty, keeping it close khakis. Earl held on to his laptop tightly, keeping it close to hus body. They were here to do business and they were intimidated. It showed in the confused faces they wore. Suddenly, a young Venezuelan boy ran by and pulled at Earl's laptop. He held on, though, and the boy came up empty-handed. Earl smiled with accomaplishment and turned to Burl with an explanation. "I played basketball in high school. Good for grip, you know". Just then, the same boy ran by again and ripped Eari's watch right off his wrist-

Burl comforted Earl with a pat him the back. "Come on," he said, "let's get us some healthy Venezuelan girls." And they did just that. Earl ilopped open bis wallet and spread his wealth around until he found a girl he felt was perfect for him Burl did the same and when their bus Venezuelan girls.

I had the pleasure of meeting my new 25-year-old, non-English speaking, healthy Venezuelan stepmom the night I returned home. I tried to be nice. "Hi," I said. She looked at me in pure confusion. "What?" she countered. But things got better. After a nice 20 -minute conversation with the new stepmom, we firmly established how we were doing. She was good and I was bueno.
A few hours later, we had a similar conversation. This time she was sleepy and I was cansado. So we did the log ical thing. We retired to oirir individual rooms and had a good night's rest.

My father had outdone himself I concluded. She surely beat out my first stepmom, Carolyn. Caurolyn was an alcoholic who always seemed to be crashing our car into bippest jote of all stepmoms - a girl barely five years older than me

One day while I was riding in the car with my father, he asked me why I didn't talk to the Venezuelan lady, also known as "mom," more often.
"In what language?" I asked ny dad.
"Well, she knows enough English to answer questions like 'How are you?"'
"Well that's a bit phony, since I don't care."
"In their culture, Renny, it's considered very rude if you don't small talk with people. So I think you should pect that way of life.
"I don't much care
I don't much care for small talk. Is Venezuela filled with a bunch of phonies? I think it would be better not to conform to another culture's standards."
With that, the conversation was over

One night when I was sitting in my room, an old notebook piqued my attention. It was a journal I had kept for my high school English class. I turned to an entry filled with short thoughts that had been on my mind at the time and two screamed out at me. The first was "I don't believe in love" and the second was "The only way to keep people honest is to lie to them." I tore out the entry, keep people honest is to lie to them." I tore out the entry, folded it up and stuck it in my pocket. folded it up and stuck it in my pocket.

Burl awoke one night at 3 a.m. He coughed a few times, then downed a cup of water sitting on his night stand. He looked at his healthy Venezuelan wife lying next to him and thought about what a crock their marriage was. He didn't love her. He was just in the marriage riage was. He didn't love her. He was just in the marriage happy weren't they? And he didn't believe in love anyways. His wife suddenly woke up and mumbled, "Do you love me, papacita?"
"Of course I do, bebe," he quickly responded Renny McCauley is a junior television, radio and fulm maior His columan regularly appears in The Daily Orange E-mail him at nemocuul@syredu.

letters

University mishandles TA's adoption attempt

To the Editor.
Although very few people know about it, Syracuse University is blessed to have an extrennely progressive program to assist full-time employees who are adopting a child. Un-fortumately, as a graduate assistant and university fellow, I was bluntly and by Human Resources that I am told by Human Resources that I am gram. It seems that in this instance 1 gram. It soems that in this instance How ridiculous is it that with all the hours I have dedicated to teaching and servioe, the University would not assist my family in fiulfilling a lifelong dream. Moreover, how many graduate students can the administration actually imagine would participate in this program?

Undaunted, in July 1999, I headed to Ecuador with my wife and 21 -month-old daughter to conduct my dissertation research. While Eving bere, we have also begun the arduous we have also begun the arduous process of adopting a second child, at birth by his teenage mother for ecoat birth by his teenage mother for economic reasons. We are currently finalize the adoption by August 2001. Why is the adoption taking 80 long? Because without the university's assistance we have had to adopt on a shoe-string budget of personal savings and research grants. Since we cannot afford a "typical adoption" (international adoptions can cost between $$ 15,000$ and $$ 25,000$ ), we are forced to wait and pray that, Joaquin is not taken away from us over the next 18 months due to some legal technicality. This would have been so much easier if only we had the same support that other university employees and their tamilies have.

It seems that either the universi ty administration has a false image of graduate students, their goals, and us the same degree of support they provide other employees. Luckily, we provice other employees. Luckily, we without the university's assistance, but so, too, could most other employees. So I ask the administration, why not begin treating graduate assis tants like grown-ups and afford us the same respect, assistance and recompense that you provide other University employees?

Brian R. Seltrtesk Graduate Student

When you're broke, you look at things in a whole new way.
So for textbooks and stuff, hit ecampus.com. You'll save up to $50 \%$. And shipping's always free.

Y2K

continued from page 1
the S.C.O.R.E. system he had problems with scheduling for he Spring 2000 semester.
isappeared from ulsappeared from mes schedule Jen Zucc
levision radio, a freshman jor, discovered that her entire schedule had been erased when schedule had been erased when books online.
"When I tried to order my books, it said I had no classes," she said. "I went to the Add/Drop/Swap' page on S.C.O.R.E. and it said I had zero credits when I really had 16."

Zuccarelli said she called Rosanna Grassi, associate dean of Student Affairs at the S.I.
Newhouse School of Public Communications, to straighten out the problem. The clabs schedule showed up on Grassi's computer, Zuccarelli said, and she was told that for unknown reasons some students were not able to see their schedules.

When Zuccarelli went online the following day, she said her schedule was back to normal.
vil was pretty unevent ful, which is good," Tompkins said. Everything went pretty well. We spent a lot of time and money to prepare and it all worked out."

WANTED

- Note takers for every class

Run your own lecture note service on the web - Set your own price

- Sign up now to earn cash!

Point
Zero.com
"Better notes...better grades" www.4pointzero.com

www.northnet.org

Hey SU Students!

Now's the time to get on-line with NorthNet for the spring semester at a cost of only $$ 47.00$ pre-paid!

NorthNet will provide you with:

* 200 hours of connect time monthly
* Local access lines
* Toll-free technical support 7-days a week until 10 p.m.
* High speed dial-up
* There are no start-up fees

NorthNet is available to non-students for $$ 14.95$ per month.

Sign up with NorthNet today by calling 1-800-401-6954.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

IF YOURE MOI REGCEINE YOURE THIOMME II AL AWAY.

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at:

 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

Have you studied abroad?
Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA INVITES youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27th4:00-5:30PMAt the Underground in Schine

LEARN ABOUT LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTY.
Share your experience abroad.
RSVP AT X9425 OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

10 [sports monday] $]$

Running $W_{i} l_{\mathrm{d}}$

By dave curtis
Sports Editor

Orange seniors shine in finale ar convo enw

Led by James Mungro's MVP performance, Syracuse's ground gam racks up 276 yards in a $20-13$ Music City Bowl victory.
among thers. recruit players, we look for character, Syracuse head

game

summary

Syracuse 0-7-0-13 20
Kentucky 10-0-0-3 . 1
first quarter Khantucky 7 , Syracuse 0 shankiln yyard nun (Samuel kich) at 11.58. vire: 79 yards in 7
apys $(3: 02)$. Kentucky 10 , Syracuse 0

$\qquad$ at 11565 Drive: 89 yards in in 3 tays
kichin No Scoring fourth quarter

Syracuse 14, Kentucky 13
 Syracuso 20, Kentucky 13
Mungro 2Oyard run (un failed) at player of Mungro ushed for 162 yarts

game
notes

final ap top 25

 HERD'S THE WORD

 Law Laid down on brown

 big east bowl results

We realize we don't have to waste your thitsmalaining the virtues , 4 also receive them in just one to three business days. All on a Web site that's comptrtely reliable and secure.

What more do you need to know?

SAVE UPTO $40 \%$ ONTEXTBOOKS.

VarsityBooks.com

Syracuse looks to Y2K after bowl win

NASHVILLE, Tenn. The final gun sounded, and the Syracuse Orangemen invaded the Adelphia Coliseum playing surface for a short yet juUnlike then

Unlike their last three trips away from the comfortable Carrier

Dave

Curtis
sports
opinion
back David Byrd and safety Ian McIntosh will also play no more as Orangemen.

Add it up on your deluxe abacus, and the Orangemen need to find seven starters to help them score and four more to make sure the other tearn does not. Even with the bowl win, $S U$, a $7-5$ juggernaut, stands on shaky ground.

Early reports from the recently recruited Class of 2004 seem promising to Orangemen fans. But the heart of next fall's squad must come from the returners.

Quarterback - R.J. Anderson joins Madei Williams and Troy Nunes in the fray next year, with junior college transfer Chad Elliott expected to contend for the starting job as well. Williams took zero snaps in Nashville, a subtle snaps in Nashville, a subtle hint that Madei might trade hint that Madeimight trade helmet for baseball cap

Rumaing Back - Roommates Dee Brown and James Mates bo should combine for Mungro should combine to 2,000 yards in YRK. Young guns Chris Davis and Young guns Chris Davis and other year, unless they can throw on the run. Fullback remains a question mark, with local favorite George Scott and young Len Cusumano dueling Wide Receiver-Gutty, gritty Pat Woodcock leads a small group of returning receivers. Malik Campbell, with ceivers. Mandik Campbell, with Delaware townships, joins David Tyree and Jeremy Cooper in the fight for a starting er in spot.

Offensive Line - Grab your programs, boys and girls. Only one veteran started this season, but two others saw significant time. The quarterback raffle champion must survive with household names like Kaloyanides and LaVigne protecting his back. Orange rooters can only hope for crippled defensive lineman.

Defensive Line- The versatile Dinkins leaves, but this group continues its rise to prominence. Duke Pettijohn, if healthy for 11 games, could post All-American numbers. Eric Downing swallows tailbacks at the line, and Dwight Freeney speeds to quarterbacks like a pig-tailed 12 -year-old to the Backstreet, Boys.

Linebackers - Solid, underappreciated Morlon Greenwood returns as, well, solid, underappreciated Morlon Greenwood. Clifton Smith already disrupts offensive coordinators' sleep patterns. If J.R. Johnson mans the weak side half as well as he covers punts, this unit ranks tops in the conference.

Secondary - Will Al~ len's play on Michigan's David Terrell, Tulane's JuJuan Dawon and Pitt's Latef Grim make him a candidate for AllBig East. The sky remains the Harris, and snippets of Willie Ford, LaTroy Oliver and Will Hunter boosts the defensive backs' stock for 2000 .

Special Teams - Mike Shafer will kick, assuming a stud walk-on doesn't rip away the job. Mike Shafer will punt, assuming someone in the metropolitan area can snap him the ball. Allen and woodcock both broke impressive kick returns in the season's final chapters, and one likely will slide over

The horses appear to be in the stable for Pasqualoni and his staff for the coming year. A freshman here and a transfer there could turn the Orangemen into a nine-win squad.
mighty SUNY-Buffalo invade the Dome, while SU's Septem ber road trips take them to Cincinnati and pesky East Carolina.

Anything but a 14 th con secutive winning season would rank as a disappointment. But with a little luck - an ingredient this program deserves af er the last three months SU could end the first year of the century with a giddy celebration.

Spring practice kicks off April Fools Day, Y2K.

Dave Curtis is the sports editor of The Daily Orange, where his columns appear reg ularly. E-mail himat dgcurtis@syr.edu.

winfreestuff.com "Simple to Enter. Easy to Win."

JONATHAN CHAYAT MEMORIAL AWARD

Jonathan Chayat graduated cum laude from Syracuse University in 1976. He was killed in a bicycle accident that July, just before he was to begin graduate studies in English at SU. His parents established an award to be given to the junior or senior SU student most closely embodying the intellectual and moral qualities of Jonathan Chayat.

In addition to his academic prowess, Chayat was active in the peer advising and freshman orientation programs, played saxophone in area jazz groups, sculpted in metal, and worked as a photographer and carpenter.

He was concerned about the ethical and aesthetic dimensions of life, and lived with integrity and self-knowledge. He was unstinting in his contributions to the SU community.

Students may be nominated for the Jonathan Chayat Memorial Award, which will be $$ 500$ this year, by other students, by faculty or staff members, or they may apply themselves. A letter describing the student's character, ideals, achievements and contributions accompanied by the candidates resume should be sent to the Jonathan Chayat Memorial Selection Committee, 329 Hall of Languages, by Friday 4 , 2000.

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com. We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

VICTORY

continuect from page 10 Banewict, guard Sean O'Connor and wide receiver Quinton Spotwood, Mungro darted his 162 total yards. 86 of his 162 total yards.

Two plays later, Kyle bohnson banged off a pair of blue-shirted defenders and first trip to paydirt since a first-quarter touchdown Thanksgiving weekend in Miami.
"The offensive line was blocking very well," Mungro said. "We knew we were going to break one. The wide receiver had an excellent block, and I thought I was going to score."

After a scoreless third quarter. Samuel booted his second field goal of the game to give kentucky a $13-7$ cushTaking the ball at its $23-y a r d$ line, SU moved 77 yards on line, SU moved 77 yards on take the lead for good.

On the march, Pat Woodcock turned a short slantinto a 17-yard gain, Dee Brown took a pitch and scampered left for 22 yards, and Mungro found the endzone for the first time, sprinting 32 yards to the left pylon. A Nate Trout extra point put $S U$ up one with 9:08 left.
"Our kids fought extremely hard," head coach Paul Pasqualoni said. "There were a lot of things that didn't go our way. But we hung in there and found a way to do what

The Cats' attempt to rally late appeared handicapped by the loss of Whalen. The ju nior college transfer caught tingan NCA the season, setting an NCAA Division I-A record for tight ends.

He hauled in two balls on Kentucky's opening drive, a seven-play, 79 -yard blitz that put the Widcats ahead 7-0 UK's next possession, Whalen made an incredible grab down the right sideline, shielding All-American linebacker Keith Bulluck for a 20 -yard gain.

A snap later, Bonner found the tight end in the left flat. SU safety I an McIntosh upended Whalen, who tried to break his fall with an outstretched right arm. When hand hit turf, elbow exited socket, and standing college screeched to a halt.
"When you lose an All American it's tough, American, it's tough, Mumme said. "But they kind Mumme said. But they kind quarter. I think their maturity showed."

Handicapped with the loss of Whalen, Bonner brought minimal fear to the SU sideline in the fourth. After Mungro's touchdown, Will Allen picked off a wobbly Bonner throw at midfield and allowed SU to milk clock with its ground game.

The Orangemen's offensive front beat up the Wildcats as afternoon turned to night. With Brown and Mungro running and a veter276 yards on three eround uv eraging six yards per carry eraghedshirt freshman quar terback Troy Nunes played all four quarters - his co-quar terback this season, Madei Williams, did not take a snap efforts as ane of his premier efforts as a collegian. Th nected 11 of 15 passes for 128 yards without an intercep tion. Five of the throws found Spotwood, who gained 79 receiving yards.
"The offensive line blocked well and we ran hard," Pasqualoni said. "Troy was playing well, so we decided to go with him. Everybody played hard and had a lot of fun."

SU forced a punt with 3:23 remaining, clinging to the single-point advantage. On third and four, Brown kept the ball collecting and kept the ball, collecting a big With.
Wmath no timeouts, Mumme elected to allow the Orangemen a touchdown. Mungro obliged, darting 20 with 1:3I left.

SU missed a two-point try, but a forward lateral on the ensuing kickoff pinned Kentucky at its two. Bonner completed six passes and moved the ball past midfield, but his last-second heave failed to find a Kentucky receiver, giving SU its eighth bowl win in its last 10 tries.
"Things weren't going well, and everybody took that to heart," Bulluck said. "We had a chance for redemption 60,000 people. It's good to get 60,000 peo this win."

2
S.U.I.P Internships for credit

Listings, information, registration, and advice available at Syracuse University Internship Program
113 Euclid Ave.
Phone: 443-4271

LAST CALL  \section*{continued from page 10}

 Anthony White at the Syracuse five-yard line.On the offensive side of the ball, Quinton Spotwood stepped to the forefront for son's second same and led Or angemen receivers with five catches for 77 yards.

And there were others. Ian McIntosh and Derrick Corley continued their solid defengive play, while the se-nior-laden offensive line paved the way for an SU rushing attack that rolled up 276 yards.

The main thing for the senior class, however, was to go out with a win. It sent off the elder Orangemen feeling good about themselves and erased a lot of the memories trips to Blackoburg and New trips to Jersey.

Coming in, $I$ think everybody had a bit of a bad taste in their mouth for football in general," tight end "Wephen Brominski said. games, it's re not winning get that feeling back of win ning a big game, and winning a close game like it was, is tremendous. It sends everybody out of here who's leaving with a real good feeling for football.

That type of feeling was evident in everything from Bulluck's inspired play to offensive tackle Mark Ban iewicz - who started 37 consecutive games for the Or angemen - pumping his fist every time an Orangeair runner chewed up some more yards on the ground.

The excitement was a far cry from the deathly pall team seemed to rall over the and-a-half of the season.

During those weeks, the players seemed shell-shocked by several shockinglosses, the off-field stabbings of three teammates and the calling for Pasqualoni's head by many in the Syracuse com munity

With the victory, however, the seniors secured their legacy as a class that took the field for four consecutive bowl games, won three Big East 16 overall record. They also seemed to emerge rhey also bashing of the team that sub bashing of the team that su

More than anything, the win ended SU's season of horrors on a high note and gave the players who will return a positive to begin their preparation for next season.
"It's a lot for the program, said kicker Nate Trout, who added two points to his school-record total of 334. "I don't think people understand how much that does for the program going into next year. It really gives them that momentum that

| A little  reassurance for life's |
| :---: |
|  |
| To protect against ADDS ard other STDS always use latex condoms. |

Fobe

Heads up
Verticallychallenged men, beware. Tall men et more women - at east in Poland, according o new research. Bachelors were about an inch horter on average than married men and childless men were on average 1.2 inches shorter than men who had at least one child.

Livin' it up

Richard Bram, a termi nal cancer patient hoping to live until the year 2000, died Friday in Lexington, Mass. He was 68. Bram, who was diagnosed with liposarcoma six years ago, underwent
$\qquad$

- surgery and chemothera Farber Cancer Institute in Boston. After surviving through his son's wedding in November, he made a goal to survive until the start of 2000

Comic Relief

David Letterman underwent quintuple bypass surgery Friday and is expected to be off the air for weeks. Letterman told sur prised viewers of Thursday night's program that he was expected to undergo angioplasty, a relatively minor surgical procedure that clears clogged arteries. He is not likely to return to the air for two to three weeks, if not longer.

Just say no

Six major broadcast networks were given financial incentives by the White House Thurscay to pro vide anti-drug program ming.
However,
producers and studio execs claim no one told them about the enticement. A nurn ber of them were outraged after reading about the program in newspapers. But when asked if they would agree to insert anti drug messages in their programs in exchange for millions of dollars. they thought long and hard before finally deciding they wouldn't.

quote of the day:

W/riters are the engineers of human souls.
Joseph Stalin

Holly Auer, editor 443-2128 Iifecodaily orange.com
"This sucks. I'm losing money left and right." mike Panik of West End Snow Removal frozenassets

La Niīa brings a chilly financial forecast to local businesses.

 BY HOLEY AUER Lifestyle EditorOld Man Winter took the long road to Syracuse this year-

And while Central New Yorkers waited for him, they celebrated a green Christmas and skied down slopes of the made snow. Not un wippinee the characteristic icy, whipping winds began tearing across the state. Ther peratures for the first time-zero temperatures for the first time in a year children adorned snowmen with button childres noses.

As local residents strugsle into their down jackets and mittens for the ing why the chilly weather took so lon to swing into town. For those who count on the usual piles of lake effect induced snow to pad their pockets throughout the year, this season has been particularly harsh. nd Snow Removal, 1151 Erie Blvd. W is fed up with the dry weather, which the said is taking a major financial tol on his business.
"This sucks," he said, referring to the light dusting of snow covering the ground Sunday. Look out the window. I'm losing money left and right."

Bills for general operating costs continue to roll in even when the storm fronts don't. Fixed costs of Panik's busi ness include manpower, truck and plow payments, insurance and maintenance, Which he said must be paid even if plowing. More than half his business is determined on a contractual basis, at the beginning of the season. But since early forecasts predicted a mild winter some of Panik's usual clients backed away from the fees for a whole winter's worth of plowing.

But Panik said he's not worried about the lack of fluffy white stuff so far. Just one string of bad storms combined with his summer landscaping business - will probably be enough to replace the early season losses, he said
"Ten days of bad weather make all the money for the season," he said. the 'motherioad' - that's what we call

See WIEATHER page 16

'Sopranos' takes realistic view of family life

It has been said that "The Sopranos" is the television equivalent of the Beatles' "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" - a work that media freak ranscends an entire genre of popular entertainment. It has been listed as the best show on almost every critics "Best Of" list, and the show's acting troupe has graced the cover of nearly every major entertainment magazine in the last few weeks. The New York Times went so far as to call it "the greatest work of American pop culture of the past quarter-

Pete Beisser

So to praise the HBO drama "The opranos" for its second-year return would be redundant, but ILI do so anyway, just to make sure that it sinks in for everyone out here who chose not to read anything over winter break. The acclaim is well-warranted or creator David Chase's anga of mob ramily ife. It's a weekly event worth cooking the pasta and sauce up for each week - even if t's Spagettios heated up in a microwave.

James Gandolfini beautifully portrays roubled Tony Soprano, Mafia boss and loving father, trying to cope with both raising his son and daughter and handling the family business in New Jersey. Unfortunately, the pressure of dealing with his plethora of life turmoils becaune too much for Tony and he gan to see a psychologist.

Been there, done that? Nope. Even if your copies of The Godiather and "Goodfellas" have been worn down after multiple viewings, the Soprano clan has much to offer in that its not merely another worn out retelling of a crime story. It is a realistic treatment of family life unlike anything done before. Certain groups of Italian-Americans have protested the show in the press, stating that by putting the family in a mob setting, See FREAK page 16

WEATHER

continued from page 15
the biggest storms of winter." he said.

Weatherman's report

Much of the unsexsonably warm weather can be attributed to La Niña, a phenomenon caused by unusually cold temperatures in the tropical re gions of the Pacific Ocean, said Dave Eichorn, Channel 9 meteorologist.

During a La Niña year, the Northeast experiences unusually warm temperatures due to strong winds moving west to east across the continent. These create a "high-speed highway" of warm winds from the Pacific waters. In contrast, during El Nino years, air masses passing over the rortheast ohen origibrineing cold temperatures of briaging cold temperaturea a typical nter.
a Niña creates storms and cold blasts in northern Canada during the core of the wiater. But since New York lies south of this region, termperaal. It also affects the normal patterns of southern jetstreams, which are fast, highlevel winds, causing warm air from the southern states to be pushed north.

The Daily Oraze

Meteorologists predict that La Niña will coneinue hrough the remainder of the winter but will most likely end its two-year run in late May its twouear run in late May And for those hoping for a quics said the effects of the phenom enon should usher in warm spring, beginning in April.

But a cold jetstream from northern Canada recently dipped south, only over the Northeastern U.S., creating the current cold snap, which Ei chorn expects to last for the next several weoks. Nonetheless, Syracuse's snowfall thus far totals only 27 inches, which s nearly 25 inches less than the average amount for this point in the season. And the snow that has been dumped on the region has an extremely ow water content, which could cause probl this aumineral endeavors horn axid.

The precipitation is defiaitely not where it should be," he said. "We really need some more moisture - a good Nor'Easter would do the trick."

Tcicle acclimation

And on the SU Hill, students battle plunging temperaures and fierce winds as the second semester kicks off.

Though the weather won't hurt their wallets, most students dread bumbling out for the morning walk to class.

Walking down Marshal Street in front of Haven Hall at noon Monday morning, EmiIy Amitin tottered and steadied herself as a gust of wind ripped through her fleece jacket. And a mornent later, when she realized that the damp curls stick ing out beneath her wool hat had turned into frozen icicles, she threw her hands upin frustration.
"I hate cold," she shouted. "I can't deal with winter.

Fresh off of her semester break at home in Los Angeles Amitin was greeted by a blast of frigid air when her plane landed at Hancock Interna tional Airport on Sunday night Although the Eophomore biology and history major has become acclimated to snow by dabbling in skiing over the years, she noted the big difer ence between ag in the s tures.
"Snow isn't fun anymore," she said. "And I hate all the gray, ness. It's gray all the time here, Nonetheless, Amitin said the enjoys the mariced distincshe enjoys the mariced cistinc college life in New York provides she now appreciates the

Syracuse Weather facts

Top ten warmest Syracuse summers on record:
Year Average Summer Temp. Snow Following Winter

December 1999 statistics

| Temperature |  |  | Snowfall |  |
| :--- | :---: | :--- | :--- | :---: |
| Average: | 30.9 | Record: | $15.6^{n}$ |  |
| Normal: | 28.3 | Normal: | $26.8^{n}$ |  |
| Difference: | +2.6 | Difference: | $-11.2^{n}$ |  |

[^0]nuancea of each season, from crunchy, colored autumn leaves to wintertime sleet and hail to warm spring nights.

IInever realized it, but changes in weather really in luence your life and how you act, ${ }^{\prime \prime}$ she said.

FREAK

continued from page 15 the show's producers are merethe show's producers are merely perpetuating the stereotype
that all Italians are associated with the mob. Instead, they with the mob. instead, they for showing a family that is strong supportive and realistic. The Matia side of the story is secondary and exists only to provide some tension.

Nowhere else will you see a modern Axnerican family so accurately portrayed as it is on The Sopranos." All of this on television, no less, a medium of entertainment that has been notorious for the disposable nature of its content. For as much television as we watch on a regular basis, there is hardly anything that we remenber let alone acknowledge as a cer-

tifed classic.

Look at shows airing on TVLand - "Gilligan's Island," "The Brady Bunch" and "Hogan's Herces." 'They are examples of past television examples of past television shows that hardly came close with the help of "The Sopranos," television has been a wonderland that has allowed fow glimpses of entertainment that reflects reality.

By airing on HBO without the restraints of the conservative networks, Chase's show runs more like a film. With no cornmercials, the hour-long drama shows in realistic detail a quality drama without the interruption of advertising breaks. But while a two-hour movie ends and we forever say goodbye to the characters, Carmela, Livia and Dr. Melfi are given hours to develop. Emmy award winners Edie Falco, Lorraine Bracco and Vancy Marchand make their characters three of the characters three of the this sjde of Mary Tyler Moore Sis of Mary Iyler Moore Don't worry about what Don't worry about what you ve missed so far. The fir season only consisted of 13 episodes, and the second season premiere will be on again at 10 om. tonight, which is just one f the four weekly showings. The $$ 10$ you shell out each month for HBO will actually go oward something more worthwhile then "Real Sex Part 42" and repeat showings of

Titanic."

There's still a chance to catch up with the goings-on of the Soprano crime family, so don't worry - or more appropriately, fuhgetabout it.

So you want to be a millionaire? Is that your final answer??

We can't promise millions, but The Daily Orange is in search of dedicated students to deliver papers around campus. Deliverers work one or two mornings a week and may choose days that fit their class schedule.
Transportation is provided, and yes, you get PAID well. To apply, or for more information, contact Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale at 443-9798 or David Jack at 443-2315.

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Never Odd or Even
by Tim Dose

"Never Odd or Even" is Boycotting this Cold-Ass Shit

If you are reading this newspaper within $30^{\circ}$ of anywhere COLD AS HELL then "Never Odd or Even" will be covered by this message

Oh My Gawd

So This Is Life ...

by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

Area 52
by Sam Baker

Get Cuse To It by Damon Amendolara

 Tinl sioncle FCTMPMROME

YYES! Another Semester!

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer

18 [classifieds]

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 $$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 ¢$ each additional word 54 extra each bold word $5 ¢$ extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Pre-paid by:
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadiline 2pm 2 business days prior to rul ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE It ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE I! Ads can be mailed wilh check to:
The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Aenue; Syracuse, NY 132 10. AH: Classifeds; OA
Faxed with Credit Card to: $315-443-3889$

EMPLOYMENT

| * NEED* |
| :---: |
| SOME |
| EXTRA |
| CASH |
| Deliver |
| for |
| the D.O. |
| Next Semester |
| Between |
| 8:00am - |
| 12:00Noon. |
| Call |
| David Jack @ |
| 443-9794 |
| to Apply | Camp Counselors Top Ovemgnt Camps in Pocono Mtns. Over 40 activites. 5 cekangs specialis!

counselors $1+800-533-c a m p$ wwwinneforestcamp corn
 Wreckends and no lote niphts. Proase caf i- $\mathbf{1} 00-282-2233$ ex. 17 to set up an internew. 51500 weekly potental mating our circulars. No
Expenence Fequind. Free intormation packet. Cal $282-452-7679$

Job Opportunities

New DYNAMIC Internet startup is looking for Enthusiastic junior & senior students to work inior & senior students to work Responsibilities include hiring brand team, creating & managing promotions. WKIY SALARY SSS plus added incentives. Reps will be trained in NYC. all expenses paid. Please contact: Jen Hill 212-791-4033 or email hileb-12.com

WANTED
Child Care
Sabysitter Wanted-Single Dad needs netp will 62 8 year old boys Manday aftemoens $3: 30$ io $5: 30$ pme Wednestay mornings and every ather Monday moming 6:45 to E:15am, Wateh unem in my samestite nome. Call Rex e492-2110 protatis.
Baby stiter. Saturday nigh's for 2 yorrg chidren. Call $582-0766$.
Loolung for a Nanny to come to out home in Manlius to watch our one year old son, 8:00AM-
5:30PM M-F. Full time position. References noroughly thecked. Non-smoker only. Please call 432.8100 or $447-0034$

Cridcarontassekpeper Meeded Morday thoryh Thurscay tote attomsons, skast have Car please herher inlomation.

Seeking reliable babysitter for my 3 yt odid in my Ptease conlact Kallinn 446-5923. Car preterted but not nec.

Help Wanted
$1500 weekly potentual mailing our citalars. No Experience Required. Free intomauon packel Cal 202-452.7679.

Fratemities* Sororlies* Clubs'- Student Growps

Sludent organizations cam $51,000-52.000$ with the Work tor an exciting Cotiege focused hiternet company at yout schooll losikry to motrated incivituats wih strong feaderstip, entepreneunal experience, pay and options! Contact infoenconnections.com

Ate You Connerted? Intemet Users Wantedn 5350
-5800 Neek $1-800-234-4939$ nww.eamnow. net
Eam SSS promoting ants's hee Nine tnct kais, Fiona Apple. Fiter. Bush, and The Crystal Methoo No Experience Necessary. Please visi www noizepollitioncom For more intomaton.

Roommates
Roommates Wanted Female, Male for like Mousghoies waik Lo campus clean

Roornmate 715 Lancaster $$ 225+$ Washer. Oryer.
Misc. Wanted
NANTED: 50 Senious Peode to loose weighs Fust, Sate, $100 \%$ Naturat, Guaranteed
$1.88 \mathrm{~B}-686-9767 \mathrm{ww}$ Fitisim.con

FOR RENT
Nice furnished apartment Grads need roommate withises parking in month $478-2642$

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Roorns. Eff, /ApTs Homes & Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your b
MOST INCLUDING
Secunty Systerm with 1- Dead Bolt Locks $^{\text {S }}$

- Smoke. Heat & Spriniter Systern
- Prices Ranging from $\mathbf{5 2 2 5 - 5 3 7 5 i m o n t h}$

Kitchens includa: Goummet Self-eloaning ovens, Garbage Disposals, Mierowaves. Distwwasher Wall to Wall Carpets & Padding (like home) Laundry Facilities on Premisos Off-straet Parking
Snow a Lawn Malktenarice
Super insulated (means fow utiitios) Some Apts. include Ad Urikities $&$ Fumished Such as "Comstock, Ostrom, Marrison, Mactison Westcont, Clarention. Ackerman, Livingston. lancaster to check out your horse away from home? OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICE!
CALL 478-6504

Twa Bedroom Apartriente on Euclid Fumistied Two Bedroom Apartrrenti on Euclid Fumiste
Heat included, natrowood foos. poren, recenly remodeled, laundry, paiking, 476-2982
2 bedrcom Aplatritent right on Marshall SL Fall Semester onsy (1 Semester) August 200010 Apartimentis close to campus cloan 2-3.5
 Large Single Famiy furnished house Pating. trepace, then 682.3304
Ackerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Fumbithect, cappeled, walk to campus. Well maintained $500-5 / 01$ leate $446-7202$

Luxunkus zerory aptot, Gourmet kition

10 PTSI Negotiabie lease
Call tor appi $489-0780$
Ackerman Beautiul Large Fumished Flats/ Houses. 2,3,4.5.5 Bedroons. Porches, Fireplices, Garapes, Laundry. Pei OK $446-3420$ BEST LOCATMON REASONARLE RENT 228 Eucjid, actoss from Staw Dom, 4 b-droom, neew porth Jerry or Tina- 474-7541, 446-6315.
University nico quset fumished $1,2,3$ becroons aparments pinking withes included welk $5 U$ Hospitals reasonable. Foonntrate for grad needed $478-2642$.

1-2-3 Bedicom Apartments, Beauliful, Spacious, Ottstreet Pakking. Fully Fumished, Low UBilties, Sale, Quict, Close $475-0295$

Corstack nice quiet $1-2$ berroom aparmens turnished utidies parkang inciuded wak to SU hospitals reasonable 478-2642

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landiord Call Gordon 476-2982

University Area $2 \cdot 3$ Bedroom furnished Apantrients Single Houses tor tent Call $5 \mathrm{fm} 562-7473$ Stop ciean 3 tedroom spatiments Fireplace, parking, laundry zemi-turntahed, walk to $\mathrm{SU:}$ pawing, paundy 435 m is.
Beawhil 3 Betroom Twwrhouses, Walking ecsiance to Campus. 3 Large Eedroms, lois of eloset space, $11 / 2$ Baths, Diningroom, tivingroom. eloset space, $11 / 2$ Biths. Diningroom, thing
Kithen, Basement with Wather Dryer hookups. Off Street Paaking with Garage. A Must Seel! $469-8417$ or $476-5643$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISTT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW. UNIVERSITYHLLLCOM

Best Bry on tianisonsL. Clean Duies. Utilites included. $472-590$.

Fumished 2.58 ectroan Hourses' Apartments Lingstion, Surmer, Ackemian, Eucid AE9-5665 Apartment 4Br. 2tul bath t.place n.wood fioor
 junef200

| $* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *$ |
| :---: |
| Studio, One and Two |
| Bedroom Apts. close |
| to Campus. Laundry, |
| Parking, Lease, |
| Heated |
| $440-6200$ |
| $437-7577$ |

One Bedroom Aparmunts close 10 Campers, utubes inctuded, Oak thoors. Sire piace, fumished parting, very clean, laundry Can Gordoni 476 -2982

FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982
Clean quiet 2-bedroom two blocks from SU Clean quiel 2-bedroom two blocks from SU hospitals. Furnished. An utilities paid. 475-5908 June t lease.

2Beatroon, 2 car garage. 125 Kensingion Ra. comet of Lancaster 5550472 -2667.

Universiy 253 Bedroom Townho inexpenstwe and mind condition. Washer/Dryer, Fireplace, inished basernent, Call 449-0109.

Fous Badroom on Ackaman, Fumkined.

Looking lor a fernate to stablet apartreent, close to

| Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities inctuose, Froplacea Fumishod, Hartwood Foong ,nd clote to Cimpus. Call Gordon 476-2982 |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Stutio Apartments begimning at 5255 perfnonth with ututies, turniture. proate kitchen and bath, with ulities, furniture. prrvate kichen and baith, miscrowave, cappeting or oakwood fooss. taundify. pating 476-2982
One 42 bectroom tumished apartunens. Al ctalities Inctuded $$ 370, $ 460 \mathrm{mo}$. One mile from campurs

> One Bedroom Apartments. laundry, quiet buikling, ciose to campus. 476-2982

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

pLEASE VISIT OUR WEESIEE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHLLLCOM 12.3.4+5 bedroom apariments. Fimmished, al uewhese inclufed. laundry, parking. One bleck camous near canous near law scheo quatamaty. $446-9589$.

Houses

3.4.5 bedroom thames at reasonatis prices, close to campus. Inumaculate landlords. 682-7130
 Lidundry Parking Large Rooms 3 Balts Dishwasher
4
(5)Andid) Sedromi Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adfarent to campus starting as335 person
(i) $446-3693$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

bsb Sumber 4 Bedroom Handwood Fioors Laundry Parking Distwasher P Pemodeled $445-5186$
Now fenlrg For Far 2000 Large 5 sedroom house on $\in$ Adams St Niewty remodejed Bathrooms and paint. Heal inclutsect OH Street Parking, taund rom and Bar. Greal Locationt Call $637-5779$.

Rooms

January Graduate Students 2 targe pedromis

 emaining beautist home ciose to campus $682-7130$Fumished roan zvailabte tor Spring Semester Hthonget. One stack trom carrous. Patkisy orturnety, at usitites inctuded 446-9598

SUBLET
Hoom in 2 person Apt. available starting in Spring

SERVICES

Travel

Spitng Ereak speciatst Eahamas Party Cruise 5 Days $$ z z 51$ Includes Mealst A mesome Beacries.
Hightilel Cancus $A$ Jamaica 7 Nights From 5399 Nightilitel Cancusn $&$ Jamaica 7 Alights Florida $$ 1291$ inprngbreaktravel.com Florida $$ 1291$ ipp $1-100-678-6389$

The Daily Orange

minute span, igniting the gamedeciding run and causing the launch of free T-sirts into the Dorne crowd of 22,500 .

Two $3 s$ by fellow sophomore Tony Bland widened the gap and sent the Dome crowd into a frenty The excitable and quirky Bland jumped up and down, exhorting the faith ful who braved the bitter cold to watch SUS hardwood war riors.

Despite Bland and Jason Fart riling up the crowd, Sundiay was Shumpert's show. He finished with a career-high 26 points and invoked memories of long-range gunners like Downtown Freddie Brown and Steve Kerr.
"I kept hitting them and hit-

12 shots to help the Orangemen

 sweep a crucial midseason road swing."Whoever takes the lead out there, we just try to keep getting the ball to them," Hart said after the Notre Dame triumph. "We never lonow who it's going be when we get out there, but it's always somebody.

Hart notched his share of huge games as well, adding to SUTs outstanding balance. The se nior guard energized the Orangemen through a lethargic effort against LaSalle on Dec. 22 at the Carrier Dome, pouring in 19 points and handing out eight as sists in SU's 68-52 triumph.

Hart, who improved his shooting touch to boost the backcourt, added 11 points, five reting them and they kept giving them to me," Shumpert said. "I don't know why they kept giving loose I was just feeling like, 'Oh lhat's in there. That's going in.' $n$,

Throughout the shelling from hind the arc, Doherty kept his troops in a zone. The first-year head coach said he based his decision on Syracuse's overall athletic ability and the quickness of its guards.
"I don't think we're a team that can go out and chase real well against a Jason Hart and a Tony Bland," Doherty said. "Then all of a sudden you just open the basket up. I don't want to just expose the basket so much and let bounds and a season-high nine assists in SU's 93-74 victory over Rutgers on Jan. 5.

The Rutgers game, though, belonged to Brown. The junior from Buffalo showed superb offensive rebounding skills against inferior opponents early in the season. He also excited the Dome crowds with rim-rocking dunks off alley-oop passes throughout the nonconference slate.

But Brown's breakout game came against the Scarlet Knights. He battered Rutgers along the baseline for 21 points on 10 of 17 shooting and grabbed 13 rebounds.
"Brown killed us tonight," Rutgers head coach Kevin Bannon said after the game. "When you prepare for this team, you respect them have some dunks and some ayups like they did later in the same when we did more of that."

As has been the formala al season, one Orangeman stepped to the forefront but was supported mightily by several of his team mates.

Damone Brown tallied 14 points and snatched eight repoured in 12 points and dished out six and seven assists, respectively. Sophomore guard Kueth Duany came off the bench to provide a spark with sik points in 11 minutes, including a crowd-pleasing slam.

SU's even-keeled leader,
Ryan Blackwell, also played a Damone. He's a very good player but now he's taken it to another level and that's a lot of weapons to worry about."

By the time March rolls around, Big East coaches might echo Bannon's comments but direct them toward Bland. The 6 -foot-4 sophomore rescued the Orangemen at West Virginia last Tuesday night. Bland interrupted West Virginia rallies with key second-half triples en route to a 22-point performance.
"We have lots of guys on this team who can score," he said. "Tve known that since the first day of pickup games. There is an em phasis on getting the ball to the bot guy."

Bland's increased output comes from a more aggressive of

January 18, 2000
ajor role in the win while netting just three points. The senior forjust three points. The senior forward led the team with 10 boards and shared team-leading honors and shared team-leading hono

Blackwell's defense was also major reason for the subpar a major reason The victor tough Irish squad seems to be a good omen for an SU squad heading into the heart of its Big East schedule.

This is a good win," Boeheim said. "To play the way we did in the second half just makes it a real good win, in terms of the things that we did. ${ }^{n}$ fense approach After averaging a shade more than four shots per outing after five games, Bland jacked up 15 in Mareantown, W.Va., and 12 at Miami.

The road gets no easier for coach Jim Boeheim's charges, with six road grames remaining in league play plus a midweek trip to battle perennial power Louisville. With No. 8 Connecticut, No. 19 St. John's and No. 25 UCLA still to invade the Dome, SU must continue its balance to maintain its unblemished record.
"We're a lot more mature," Thomas said. "We're playing with a lot more emnotion and energy. It's definitely been a collective effort this season."

K.SATURN.  E. & - - -  The Largest Selection Of Used & New Textbooks ...

© follett's Orange Bookstore

orange  NOTES

No. 6 Syracuse 80 Notre Dame 57
Orangemen (140, 40) Player Blackwell Brown
Thomas
Hart
Shand
Shumper
Griffin
Duany
Williams
MeNeil
Celuck
Fignting $0 \quad 0 \quad 0$ Player
Murphy
Graves
Swanagan
Ditlon
Kartelo
Macura
Monserez
inglesty
Owens
FG Pet.
3-pt FG Pct.
FT Pct
Turnovers

| 0 | 5 | $a$ |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 22 | 10 | 0 |
| 16 | 3 | 3 |
| 12 | 4 | 1 |
| 2 | 2 | 0 |
| 0 | 1 | 7 |
| 2 | 3 | 0 |
| 1 | 1 | 0 |
| 0 | 1 | 1 |
| 0 | 0 | 2 |
| 0 | 3 | 0 |
| 2 | 0 | 0 |
| SU | 53 |  |
|  | ND | 38 |
| SU | 52 |  |
| SU | ND | 29 |
|  | ND | 75 |
| SU | 15 |  |
|  | $N D$ | 14 |

Chari toppers

Orzngemen lead the Big ast in statistical categories senior center Eian thoma 64.2 percent from the field. He also blocks 4.18 shots per game. good for tops in the league.
Point Euard Jason Hart ranks Ne. 1 in the league in assists, dishing out 6.9 per shumpert far out distan Shumpert far outdistances the competition in 3 -point cent from diowntown.
AP Top 25

1. Cincinatti (61) 16-1
2. Stanford (1) 14-1
3. Aubum (3) 15-1
4. Duke 13 -2
5. Syracuse (1) 14-0

Kansas 14-2
8. Connecticur $12-3$
9. Florida 13-2
10. Michigan St. 124
11. Indiana 132
12. Oklahoma St. 13-1
14. Texas 11.4
15. Tulsa 16-1
16. Tennessee 15-2
17. Oklahoma 142
18. Kentucky 11-5
19. St. John's $\frac{122}{12}$
20. Vanderbit 12-2
22. North Caroin
23. DePaul 12.4
24. Maryiand 11-5
25. UCLA 10-4

Big East
Resuutts Monday
Midmin 67, Vitancua 66
Comference Standiness
St Jonn's
Seton Hall
Moure Dam
Connecticu
Villanova
Boston College
Rurgers
Providence
Georgetown
Pitshureh

sports trivia

Q. Who was the las

Syracuse men's basketball player to average 20 points per game for an entire season?
9. Who played Sloth in the movie "The Goonies?" A. Former Oakland Rajder John Matuszak played everyone's favorite oaf with an extra-lange thead.

[sports] Dave Curtis, ditior The Daily Orange January 18, 20002 O Orangemen thrash Irish

 his inside prowess was his outsldo feme - Shumpert went 7fors from 3polnt land, tying Dave Johnson for the Syracuse record for 3 s in one game. Thw sophomore is shooting a blistering 56.3 porcent from downtown.

Asst. Sports Editor
Having the distinction of be ing the only undefeated Division I men's basketball team places a bull's eye the size of the Carrie Dome on Syracuse's back.

The only targets being hit on Sunday atternoon, however, wer by the Orangemen's outsid shooters.

Sixth-ranked Syracuse drowned Notre Dame in a sen of 143 -pointers and defeated the Fighting ifishi, who had beeng son, 80-57.

Sharpshooting sophomore forward Preston Shurapert led the trifecta barrage with a team record-tying seven from behin the arc. Four of Shumperts point bombs came dunioke the rame whal angemen ( $14-0,40$ Big East) from joining Ohio State and Connecti cut on the Irish's list of victims from the Top 10.

In the first half ... I don't think we really made it a point to get him the ball," SU head coach Jim Boeheim said of Shumpert. "But in the second half, I think we really made an effort to get him the ball. But the real key was our defense.

While the Orangemen shot a sizzing 58 percent from the field in the second half, the Golden Doming 23 zone hitiog but tifling $2-3$ zone, hit Starkly cont

Starky contrasting SU's lons-range bombing, Notre Dame shot an anemic 29 percent from behind the are

We really, I thought, covered their 3-point shooters ex tremely well." Boeheim said This is a team that's shooting 38 percent from the three, and we give them any Troy Murhy finished with 22 points, but was a non-factor throughout much of the second half

The Notre Dame sophomore poured in six points in the first four-and-a-half minutes of the second half, but scored just one over the next nine minutes while SU went on its run.

Syracuse's defensive wizardry came with its intimidatng man in the midale, Etan Thomas, on then for half of foul trouble. Thomas wanted to get Etan

See THREES page 19

Syracuse's depth leads to undefeated start

BY DAVE CUFTIS Sports Editor

Released early this past fall the 1999-2000 Syracuse men's bas ketball prospectus boasts three Or angemen seniors on its cover.

It hypes the talents of Jason Hart, Ryan Blackwell and Etan Thomas, suggeating their play would dictate the SU'e buccess for the coming beamon.

Yet 14 games into this Syracuse campangu, the public relations peonle could create a second cover with three other prominent faces.

The emergence of junior skywalker Damone Brown and sophomore sharpshooters Tony Bland and Preston Shumpert, combined with the expected efforts from the troiks of senior leaders, has pushed Syracuse to 140 and a No. 6 ranking in the country. "We're just real," freshman forward Kueth Duany said of the squad. We've got a lot of players on this team. We have big gools for this season, and we never let up."

In October, few doubted the Orangernen could contend for a Big East championship, if not an opportunity to play in the final weekends of March. But as 2000 hits, the Orangemen possess six weapons, ach of whonn can dominate a garne by himself.

Every one of the sextet took charge of a aignificant SU contest this seasan. Shumpert serves as the nobt recent example, with his bev-en-trey, 26 -point outburst Sunday afternoon at the Carrier Dome against Notre Dame.

The Floridan canned four 3pointers in a 3:01 span, helping to urn a one-point lead into a $55-40$ ushion.

Preston was on fire" said Blackwell, who tallied 10 rebounds and seven assists apainst the over. whelmed Irish. "We found him in a great rhythm. If teams concentrate on one guy, someone else will kill sous Blackwell paced the Orangemen aine weelcs ago in a crucial battle with Wreconsin. With SU up ust two early in the second half, the smooth senior sparked a game-

See Brisak page 19

Flu hits region, spares students

by caroline chen
Contributing Writer
Syracuse is experiencing only a limited outbreak of the flu, said local health professionals Tuestay as the national Centers for Sionals Control and Prevention declared New Disease Cone of 31 states with widespread fuacYork one of 31 states with widespread flu activity. vember, but there hasn't been a lot of it yet," said Kathieen VanVechten, the director of nursing at the Syracuse University Health from other places, over break they bring the from other places over break, they bring,"

VanVechten recommended that studen get rest, avoid alcohol, eat well, drink lots of fluids and wash their hands.

The elderly and people with weakened immune systems can develop serious and lifethreatening complications from the fu. As long as the fu vaccine is available and flu activity is continuing, the CDC recommends people at high-risk for serious complications from influenza to receive the flu vaccine.

I always get the fu shot because I'd rather not get cila, said Ana Diaz, a senior speech communications major.
flu, is the most effective preventive measure available, the CDC said.

Because Syracuse's flu season peaks this month, the Health Center will continue to provide flu shots for students, faculty and staff, VanVechten said.
"We did more flu clinics this year than any other year, and we're still doing flu shots at the Health Center. Even though it takes two weeks for the shot to take effect, it's worth it."

Mel Schindler, a pharmacist at Crouse
See FLU page 3
Hooked on books

Nina O'Erien, a junior television, madio and film major from New York City, humts through stacks of books Tuesday evening at Follett's Orange Elook Store in the Marshall Square Mall Students could also order their textboofs onime through the S.C.O.R.E system and have them defvered to their residence halls.

Perry's launches SU ice cream

Staff Reports
Syracuse University basketball fever hitgrocery store freezers this month with a new ice cream named Slam Dunk. The ice cream, made by Perry's Ice Cream in Akron, shows Otto the Orange on its carton.

Perry's released the new flavor Jan. 3 hoping to boost sales in and around the Syracuse area, said Mark Weigel, Perry's vice president of sales and marnorthern Pennsylvania, the company's market.
amount in royalty payments from the company, said Kevin Morrow, a univery spokesperson.

Based on the popularity of the SU basketball team this season, Perry's as popular, Weigel added.
Slam We are very encouraged that Slam Dunk will be just as successful," Weigel said.

Slam Dunk is a malt-flavored ice cream with orange colored mini-malt basketballs and chocolate peanut butter fudge swirk.
well in Central New York, making the partnership between Perry's and the university ideal, Weigel said. products that endorse collegiate and professional sports teams, including the SU Go Orange Bar, the Buffalo Sabre Sundae and the Buffalo Destroyers Crunch.
Dunk ine Go Orange Bar and Slam Dunk ice cream were created at the same time, but we wanted to bring out son" Weigel said "People dency to buy things they are familia dency to buy things they are familiar with.'

See PERRY page 3

Faulty alarms empty classrooms  \section*{Staff Reports}  Hall as a nine-person fire crew entered

The Syracuse Fire Department responded twice Tuesday to alarms in Syracuse University buildings with gitches in their fire security systems. City firefighters said the smoke detectors should be replaced after investigating the alarms in both Eggers Technolory But SU Fire Marshall Brian O'Hara said the university's electric shop conducted an examination of the detectors and found them to be functioning normally.

Firefighters determined that a smoke detector in a ground floo women's bathroom in Egger's Hall was activated between 2.45 p.m. and 4 p.m. by heat from an unknown source, Syracuse Fire Chief Dennis Cot said.

Within an hour, the fire department was summoned to SU again when a smoke detector on the fifth floor of the science and technology a

Although two smoke detectors were cleaned, OHara said he believes that heat from a bathroom sink in Eg gers Hall and construction on the roof of the Center for Science and Technology could have triggered the alarms. time," O'Hara said. wrom time to more activity with students back to class."

The day's low temperatures wer to blame for the errors, he said. 'It's not unusual for us to com here," Coty said. "There are a lot of buildings and a lot of alarm systems on campus. It's part of our responsibility to check everything out."
About 100 students waited in frigid temperatures outside Eggers the building to investigate the alarm. Bonhia Lee, a freshman newspaper major, was delayed for 15 min utes from a public attairs class in the Maxwell sch
"We just had to wait a few minutes until the professor showed up," she said. "When I was walking to ward the building I was wonderin what was going on, but everything In a

In a non-related call, the fire department arrived at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communicadent confused morning when a stuton with a building dergency Coty said. No charges were filed, he said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Magin McǨnna

City traffic rerouted for basketball season

BY SARAH OVASKA  Staff Writer

City officials are asking basketball fans to drive an alternate route to the Carrier Dome.

This is nothing really new," said Brock LaForty, senior transportation planner of the Syracuse Metropolitan Transportation Council. "It's a reminder to prevent Syracuse from exceeding a set of air quality controllers, the Na-

Fans should avoid the Adams and Fans should avoid the Adams and Almond streets intersection, park in the Ontrack lot at Armory Square and Special Events Traffic Management Plan. The plan is revised annually and suggests that fans ride the Centro bus service, carpool or travel to the game by foot.

The plan aims to control air quality and traffic, said Wayne Westervelit, communications director for the Council. By avoiding the intersection at Adams and Almond strects, the levels of carbon monoxide emissions will de-

See TRAFFIC page 3

[briefs]  Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

tidbits

Britain proposes  anti-spanling laws

LONDON -A flathanded swat on the bot tom would still be legal, but parents would be pro hibited from whacking or any whth a cane, bet or any other instrument posal released Tuesday Smacking a child on he head and boxing his the head and boxing his criminal offenses, with parents who do so sub ect to fines or jail sentences if the Health Department recommer dations become law.

New game shows
win fans
Owned by Sony, which produces the syndicated powehouses "Wheel of Fortune" and "Jeopardy!" the Game Show Network came along five years ago, before the expres sion "final answer" was being imitated - badly at that - by half the commercials on radio.

Suddenly. game shows are becoming the Scarlet Pimpemel of Scarlet Pimpenel of prime time: You see them here, you see them there, well heck, you see them everywhere. They begin, of course, with Millionaire" - to Be a Millionaire" - which, as only success can do, formed ABC from the formed ABC from the gang that cowldn't shoor of prostamming Einsteins.
In the last few weeks "Millionaire" has been joined by NBC's revival "Twenty One," CES" "Winning Lines" and, on a regular basis, fox's "Greed: The Series."

Casino merges Vegas and Native Americans

 A Las Vegasbased gambling company Tuesday announced plans to join with a California Indian tribe to build a $$ 100$ million cas no and hotel in San Diego County, the latest such prospective venture since Gov. Gray Davis made peace over gaming with the state's Indians. The deal between Harrah's Entertainment and the Rincon San Luiseno Band of Mission Indians for the project 35 mites northeast of San Diego comes just months after Anchor Gaming struck a similar $$ 90$ million deal with the Mearsion Indians Such dealsSuch deals depend on passage in March of allowing Indians to operate slot machines, card games such as blackjack, and possibly satel lite wagering on horse races.

Clinton proposes gun laws  added that "the drop in the na

BOSTON - Responding to critics who say that his administration has done too little to enforce gun-control laws already in place, President Clinton proposed $$ 280$ million in new measures 1 uesday to crack improve handpun safety

On a visit to Boston's Roxbury section, an area notorious for drus seen a marked drop in its has seen a marked drop in its crime rate, Clinton called for 500 new agents and inspectors to police gun dealers across the nation, 1,100 more prosecutors at the federal and state level and development of new technology for so-called "smart guns that can be fired only by thieves

Clin
Clinton soft-pedaled his embrace of a legislative position long espoused by congressional Republicans and the National Rifle Association - that the nation needs better enforcement of existing gun laws rather than restrictive new ones.
"It's a stale debate," Clinton said, declaring that "the real answer is we should do both." He tional crime rate has been due both to changing laws and to better enforcement and prevention."

The Justice Department released statistics on Tuesday showing an increase in federal gun prosecutions in 1999 over prosectist year, 5edera prosecutors brought 5,500 defendants compared with 4,391 cases against 5,876 defendants in 1998 - a 25 percent increase in firearms cases, the department said.

national news

Study shows wealth gap

WASHINGTON, D.C. The extraordinary U.S. boom has significantly boosted the prosperity of the American midthe Federal Reserve shows that me Federal Reserve shows that tom rungs are actually losing wealth instead of gaining.

Until now, recent studies of the gap between the rich and the poor focused exclusively on income. They found that the wages of even the poorest segments of the population were Erowing, although by much less than the earnings of the middle class.

The new Fed survey confirms this trend. But the Fed measured not only Americans' annual incomes but also their found that by this standerd, And ound that by this standard, the are not just falling further behind the more fortunate, they hind the more fortunate, they terms, in 1998 than in 1995.

The Fed survey, the government's most comprehensive look at family wealth, is done every three years. The new survey, being published in the Federal Reserve's monthly bulletin for January, was based on terviews with 4,309 families.

Putin ties with Communists

MOSCOW - Acting President Vladimir Putin's party made a surprise legislative deal with the Communists on Tuesday that angered smaller, re-form-minded factions previousprompted them to walk out of parliament in protest.

The lawmakers from three liberal and centrist groups complained that Putin's party, Unity, and the Communist faction had divided up the key leadership posts in the State Duma, or The turnabout raised ques The turnabout raised questions about Putin's commitment to economic and social re-

Microsoft execs dispute findings  WASHINGTON, D.C. -

Microsoft Corp. on Tuesday filed papers formally disputing the scathing antitrust findings issued by a federal judge in November, saying it has not used monopoly power to crush rival monopoly power to crush rival personal computer software

In a 70 -page brief, the RedIn a $70-\mathrm{page}$ brief, the Redant rejected U.S. District Judge Thomas Penfield Jackson's November findings that it had aggressively used its monopoly power to stifle innovation by rivals.

In flings that focused more on business conduct in the software industry than its dominant market share, Microsoft contended that Jackson overlooked evidence that the overall computer business is highly Microso

Microsoft said Jackson too narrowly defined Microsoft's disputed business market as just personal computer operating systa crosoft's flagship Windows prodof all personal compu percent of all personal company argued in its brief the chaving an axtremely popular product does not make a compa. pry 르 monopolist."

world news

forms, according to Russian political analysts. They said the bargain appeared to represent former president Boris Yeltain whom Putin succeeded Dec 31 and who had consistently battled the Communists.
Japanese cult apologizes

TOKYO - The doomsday religious cult responsible for releasing nerve gas in the Tokyo subway system in 1995, killing 12 people and injuring thou sands of others, dropped its guru, changed its name and apologized to its victims Tuesday.
Sending a statement to newspapers and posting it on

FBI admits deceiving Lee  WASHINGTON, D.C. -

 Federal investigators de ceived former Los Alamosphysicist Wen Ho Lee into physicist Wen Ho Lee into agreeing to a polygraph examagreeing to a polygraph examination last February and then mistreated him throughou the so-called lie detector ses sion, causing him to fail, his lawyer argued in a closed hear ing before a federal judge.

A transcript of the Dec. 29 nearing, newly released by the Justice Department, reveals some details of the govern ment's case against Lee but also shows that the FBI used highly aggressive tactics in pursuing him.

FBI agent Robert A Messemer acknowledged during the bail hearing in New Mexico before U.S. District Judge James A. Parker that investigators misled Lee about the polygraph session, telling him they needed his "help. with an investigation into China's alleged theft of informa tion about America's W-88 nu clear warhead. Only moments before the test did the investi before the test did the investigatorsinform the $60-y e a r-o l d$ onage suspect the Internet, the Aum Supreme Truth cult said that members would be asked to reapply to the group and must pledge to clear that. Hey will make it clear that, far from committing mass murder, they will not murder or injure anyone," the

The cult ha religious and business activitits religious and business activities since the subway killings, al though founder Shoko Asahara for the attack.

In response to fears that the cult was making a comeback pariament passed a tough new law in December that would al Low police to enter facilities and require the group to provide information about its members and activities every three months.

campus calendar

TODAY

- The OnCenter presents "Grease on Ice" at 7:30 p.m. Call 435-8000 for tickets.

The Green Party and the Student Environmental Action Coalition hosts The wro and the Battle of Seattle: Eyewitness Accounts, What Really Happened and What it Means" at 7 p.m. at the Westcott Comat 7 p.m. at the Westcott Community Center. There will be several speakers and three short films of the demonstrations.

The Latino-Latin American Studies Program faculty and staff present a panel discussion on Economic Justice and the Latino Community from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the Bird Library, room 1916. Refreshments will be served.
v The Central Library presents a career advisement and education counseling seminar from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Call 435-1900 for free registration.

- The SUNY Health Science Center hosts the Diversity and Affirmative Action for 12:30 p.m. in Weiskotten Hall, 766 Irving Ave. Call 464-4829 for ticket prices.

TODAY-SATURDAY

EThe Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuillips and Melvin Geors at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Call 474-0969 for admission.

THURSDAY

EArtist Dana Salvo speaks at 7:30 p.m. in the Lowe Art Gallery regarding his photograph collection entitled, "The Circle of Ritual: Transcendence and Remembrance."

THURSDAY-FRIDAY  W The Contemporary The atre presents "Picasso at the ## TRAFFIC

continued from page 1
crease, LaForty said.
The Council revises the trafic plan during the basketball sea son rather than the football season because the effects of carbon monoxide from idling cars are more harmful when combined With the cold winter weather, Westervelt said.

The city of Syracuse exceeded Ambient standards in past years, Westervelt said. But the levels have since dropped, putting the city in a maintenance category of air quality, he added.

The changes in routes for the basketball fans were also done to limit traffic flow in resi dential neighborhoods, Westervelt said.
"We want to keep the flow away from neighborhoods, as par of public outreach," he said.

Pat Campbell, managing director of the Dome, said he rarely gets calls from residents regard ing increased traffic during game times. The parking and traffi situation is typically an issue by the Dome, he added.
"Stadiums are always a concern with traffic - especially with a stadium on a campus on top of a hill", he said.

Some students said the increase in traffic is merely an in convenience.

FLU

continued from page 1
Hospital, 736 Irving Ave., said there is no shortage of Relenza or Tamilflu, the two available fin drugs, as other areas of the country have.

Central New York is experiencing blood supply shortages however, said Dagny Putnam, a spokesperson for the American and 20,000 people die from flu complications annually, according to the CDC.

Common symptoms of the fu include the sudden onset of fatigue, fever, severe muscle aches, joint pain, loss of appetite, a dry cough and chills. The virus, which infects the respiratory tract, is spread from person to person by coughing or sneezing into the air.
sylvania region

The flu, combined with the weather and the holidays, has contributed to a national blood shortage," said Putnom, a 1999 shortage," said Putnam, a 1999 36-hour supply of type $O$ blood."

Putnam said the Red Cross normally relies on at leasta three-day supply

Donors must be at least 17 years of age, 110 pounds and not experiencing a fever. Any eligible donors can call 1-800-272-4543 to schedule an appointment.

About $10-20$ percent of the general U.S. population develop the flu each year. More than 110,000 people are hospitalized from flu-related complications

PERRY

continued from page 1
The ice cream will bring a new enthusiasm for $S U$ basket ball, said Emily Agy, a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts.
"I would buy it and maybe send some home," Agy said. "It's sort of neat to have your own ice ream.

Matt Josephs, a freshman broadcast journalism major, said SU's image would help increase sales.
"I think people will buy it for the name," Josephs said.
The product will be popular in other areas besides Syracuse because of an extensive alumni population, he said. Sales will also escalate if the basketball season continues to go well, woseph "I would buy the ice cream," he said. "Anyway I can support games.

Compiled by Staff Writer Shelby Healy

There are more cars around but it isn't a problem," said Jen Coulombe, a Brewster/Boland Coulombe, a Brewster/Boland resident and freshman in The of Arts and Sciences. "I think it's good for the university to attract fans."

Other students around campus, however, expressed frustration with the traffic during to bump crafic is always bumper get around "nd makes it hard to burg, a junior elementary education major. "The people going to the game should park at Manley (Field House) and walk like the students do."

Kelly Pinkoske, a junior women's studies and international relations major, said the traffic pach baseball problem during Hall resident last year, she would return from work to find the entire parking lot full.

422 MARSHIALL STREET  Now Renting for Fall 2000    Off-Street Parking  *Laundry Room *Monitored Alarm System *Large 2&3 Bdrm. Apts.  CALL ANYTIME  637-5779  037-5770

 nience for the students because the outside community comes and shouldn't be allowed to park on campus - they should pay $$ 250$ for a parkine permit like I did
SYRACUSE

STUDY ABROAD

HAVE YOU StUDIED ABROAD?

Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA Invites youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27th4:00-5:30РMAt the Underground in Schine

LEARN ABOUT LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTY.
SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE ABROAD.

RSVP AT X9425 OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

Test answers for sale over the internet.

Texttooks have all the answens. we have all ypun texttooks, online.

Stop at: www.syr.edu/bkst

Ptis everysting ypu need. ACf in one place.

Owned & operated by Syracuse University
Schine Student Center, 303 University Place, Syracuse, NY 1324-4-2020 - Phone: 1-800-365-24.44 - Fax: (315)443-1683 - E-mail: bookstor(isyr.edu

When you're broke, you look at things in a whole new way-
So for textbooks and stuff, hit ecampus.com. You'll save up to $50 \%$. And shipping's always free.
ecampusicom
Textbooks & Stuff. Cheap.

[editorial]

The Daily Orange
January 19, 2000

Themed housing misses the mark

After months of pondering, University Senate may finally decide today the fate of themed housing in Syracuse University residence halls.

The brainchild of the Office of Residence and Life and the Office of Students Affairs aims to diversify campus housing by letting students live with peers of the same major. The plan responds to complaints that dorm floors are too homogenous; lacking racial and social variety.

Because of the lack of diversity in campus housing, stigmas have been attached to certain dorms. Some believe the Mount as a breeding ground for fraternities and sororities. Others say Shaw Hall is dominated by art students while athletes and minorities end up in Brewster/Boland.

Currently ORL's criteria for placing students in housing depends on whether a student applies for financial aid and if students have paid their room security deposit. Once the university receives the deposit, rooms are reserved. Subsequently, wealthy students live apart from the rest of the student population.

Some students may prefer themed housing. The chance to bond with students in the same discipline may sound appealing. SU owes its students to provide this lifestyle opportunity to its students. But the university should not force students into living with people with the same major-it should be the student's choice.

If SU is truly interested in ensuring housing diversity, the only viable option is random student placement.

USen needs to quickly address this issue. Today's meeting will be the ideal time.

While diversity is an important core value to the university, it shouldn't be artificial. College is a time when students venture away from home to learn and meet a wide array of people. Themed housing may spice dorm life up a bit, but the proposal fails to solve the problem.

[dä]
Editor in Chief Ron DePasqualo Managing Editor Dave Levirthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asss. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editar
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

opinions

Dalai Lama supporters lack ammunition

The recent exile of the Karpama Lama of Tibet is a modern day version of the movie, "The Sound of Music." Julie Andrews stunningly played Nun Maria, who climbed numerous hills and sang beautiful songs while

HENRY $Y$.
CHUNG trying to escape the totalitarian Nazi regime. There are many similarities between the two exiles. First, both Maria and the Karpama Lama are religious characters, and second, they both wander the where they are surrounded by beautiful music.

However, the precise reason still remains a mystery.
Buddha" intended to make a political statement. But how does a 15 -year-old boy know anything about threatening the Chinese government? If confronting Red China is the Lama's gaal, then the exile may not be his own choice, but perhaps the idea of some Tibetan religious leaders. On the other hand, others believe that the Lama's exile is not at all political. He only desires to encounter and explore the outside world.

It is rather premature for me to endorse one notion over the other, partly because my views about Tibetan independerace are ambivalent at best. I respect the Dalai Lama and his political struggles, because he and his people are under extreme pressure from the Chinese government, As ethnically Chinese, however, I Tibetan independence is only a step backward in achetan independen achat goal.

Now that I have declared my unique position, I will elaborate on my ambivalent views of Tibetan foreign policy. First, many Americans are overly sympathetic agree with the Dalai Lama's actions after becoming familiar with the continuous historical struggles between China and Tibet. Nonetheless, I vehemently denounce the so-called "Free Tibet" movement where artists like Richard Gere, Beastie Boys and The Smashing Pumpkins blindly advocate Tibetan freedom and turn these events into commercial orgies. Td wager that Mr. Gere and his lackeys fail to research Chinese and Tibetan histories before maling their ludicrous statements on TV.

Now I'd like to share some of my views about the impact of the Karpama Lama's exile.

First, the Living Budiha's exile serves as a test of Beijing's tolerance. In recent years, the Chinese government has frequently imprisoned political dissidents including Falun Gong members with no international intervention because such actions are deemed China's her World Trade Organization status and in the midst her Worid rade Organization status and in the midst of a gradual "democratization" in the country, the westChina has become Therefore, China must act with China has bec

Of course, China has been treating this incident with an unusually low profile, unlike her strong oppression toward local political dissidents. For example, Shina has not made official statements and opinions about the Karpama Lama's exile - Beijing officials have only declared that the Lama's exile is to search for religious relics. In addition, China has pressured India to prevent unnecessary embarrassment by refusing the Lama political refugee status. These actions demonstrate that China is extremely careful in handling this shocking incident.

Although the Lama's exile may not be of a political nature, it inevitably engenders political repercussions. As a political strategy, it is only logical for the exhausted 60-year-old Dalai Lama to find his successor before his remaining days in the world begin to wane. The enlightened 15-year-old Karpama Lama - reminiscent of the young Dalai Lama's energy and heartiness; seems to be a sensible choice. The Living Buddha's India in the 60's. In fact the public has already found India in the 60's. In fact, the public has already found many resemblances betwe It'a time for China to re-evaluate her domestic and foreign policies, in the meantime, if her goal is to not make matters worse. China's major problem is that she supgestion for China is that she should try to allow competing political views in the mainland.

Furthermore, since the Communist Party is still strong, introducing alternative opinions will not pose an imme diate threat to the alive and well Communist regime. It is more important to win people's hearts than making them act obedient.

In next week's column, I will provide a more thorough historical background about China-Tibet conflicts to educate readers about "the other side" of the story.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year low student. Mis colurnn appears weekly in The Daily Orange E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

letters

SU Judicial Board ad leaves many questions

To the Editor

Having read the advertisement placed by Dean Barry $L$ Wells in the December 10th issue of The Daily Orange, we must question De

In his adver
In his advertisement he states that the Judicial Board does not have unchecked power does not have unchecked power due to the oversight provided by versity Appeals Board. Dean

Wells however, does not explain why, with an Appeals Board in place, the oversight of the administration is required. That is, in fact, Why a process of appeals exists. If the Review Board hands down a decision deemed inappropriate, it can be appealed. This is where the checks and ba
When we begin to allow administrators to oversee decisions, however well intentioned the administrators may be, it undermines the entire process. It begs the question of why the process even exists. We do not, in any way, question the sincerity nor the integrity of either Dean Anastasia Urtz or Dean Wells. We strongly believe they have the students in mind in every action they take. The argument arises not from a question of interest in the good of the students, but from a fundamental belief in the best way to serve them. We believe the best way to serve the students is to allow the its own checks and balances, to work unhindered.

Zaven Saroyan
Syracuse University College of Law
Civil Liberties Union

SLUNP

continued from page 12
39-34 at halftime against the

The Daily Orange

Lady Eagles, now No. 20 in the country. The Orangewomen shot a blistering 58.3 percent from downtown 7 the first hal on 7-for-12 3-point shooting.

We Made It Through The Millennium Soooo... Now Let's Celebrate!

> Fired Up Productions

Presents The Annual

Welcome Back

 Bash!Friday, January 21, 2000

| $9-11 \mathrm{pm}$ | $11 \mathrm{pm}-12 \mathrm{am}$ |
| :---: | :---: |
| DJ's From The Hill  (Harry's. Faegan's. 44's. Darwin's. Lucy's. and Maggie's) | House, Techno, Top 40 and Hip-Hop |
| 12am-???? |  |
| Onc.Night Only! |  |

Doors Open At 9pm * 18 to Chill * 21 To Spill
The Country Club
Corner of Enie Blva & Bridgo St
This is the and to last huge panty at the Country Clug this Sehool Year. ARRIVE EARLY TO ENSURE ENTRY:

SU's Iead grew to six in the second half, but $B C$ tied the score at 50 with $11: 47$ remaining. From there, the Orangewomen frame.SU scored just four points in the final nine-plus minutes. in the final nine-plus minutes. Syracuse's failure to hold a lead cost them a win yet again
Jan. 4 in a $76-65$ home loss to Jan. 4 in a $76-65$ home loss to led by as many as 13 points in the first half but PC stormed back to take the lead for good with 11:10 to play. Record led with 19 points on the night. dings of our games and continue to play together as well as we do in the first half," Ervin said. "We've just got to Kinish that last five-to- 10 minutes. Execution is the biggest thing.

SU struggled with Atlantic

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rcorns. Eff./APT's Homes & Town Houses Everything you want and more for your buck There is something for everyone!

MOST INCLUDING

- Security System with $1^{-}$Dead Bolt Locks Smoke, Heat & Sprinkter System
Prices Ranging from $$ 225-$ 375 /$ month Kitchens include: Gourmet Self-cleaning ovens, Garbage Disposals, Microwaves. Dishwashers Wall to Wals Carpets & Padding (like home) Laundry Facilties on Premises Olf-street Parking
Snow & Lawn Maintenance
Some Apts include (means low utilities)
Some Apts. include All Utitities & Fumished Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Campus Such as Comstack. Ostrom, Hartison, Madison, Westcott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingston, Lancaster

CALL 478-6504

Coast Conference power Virgini: in the championship game of the wide Classic on Dec. 30, losing 70-59.

A day earlier, SU stomped struggling Radford 88.60 in the tournament's opening round. Record, who came off the bench in both games, tallied 41 points and 20 rebounds in the two contests, meriting a spot on the All Tournament team

Ervin joined her teammate on the All-Tourney squad, dish. ing out 12 assists in the Radford victory.

The win came on the heels of one of SU's most surprising losses this season, a $76-56$ setback to vermont. SU held a five point lead in the first five min er pulled away for the easy tr er pulled away for the easy tri umph.

The strength of SU's oppo. nents affected the team psycho logically, causing the subpar play, Legette-Jack said

II think our focus has been so much on our opponent that we forget about ourselves," she said. "So we've really been talk ing about Syracuse women's basketball. There are going to be great teams that we are playing against, but they have to defend us, too, because were a good team as well. We've changed our emphasis and, hopefully, that's going to give us some W's.

Etoce

Kid craze
The video and DVD of "Pokemon: The First Mowie" will hit stores March 21 Home Video

announced

Tuesday. Watch for kids to jump on the enormous promotional campaign right away. Suggested retail price of the video and DVD is $$ 26.98$. Both will contain a few minutes of scenes from this summer's upcoming "Pokemon: The Second Movie."

Last supper

One of Washington. D.C.'s mast elegant restaurants, Lespinasse, lost its top chef, Sandro Gamba, last week. After only 18 months at the helm, the 29-year-old Frenchman says his departure was preceded by requests from management to cut back on kitchen staff and downsize lunch service.

Sweet scents  Florida's Parlux

 Fragrances plans to introduce a Pez fragrance, eyeing potential line of Pez cosmetics. Pez - an abbreviation of "pfefferminz," Germanfor peppermint -has been part of American culture for almost 50 years. The sugary candies are consumed from their popular dispensers in the United States at a rate of 3 billion per year.

Rating rage

The movie version of the best-selling Bret Easton Ellis novel, "American Psycho," will premiere this weekend at the Sundance Film Festival - and, like the book, it's stirring up another round of controversy. The movie's distributors, Lion's Gate Films, are contesting the NC-17 rating assigned by the Motion Picture Association of America. The movie got the rating even though the producers insist there are no scenes of overly graphic violence. The restrictive rating. Lion's Gate claims, is because of a single scene depicting an explicit sexual encounter.

quote  of the day:

"Money can't buy friends, but you can get a better class of enemy." Spike Milligan

Holly
Auer,
caitor
$443-2128$
4ife-(9)daidy orange.com
$u p$
Tanning huts heat up cold weather.
See Lifestyle Thursday.

Lindsey Webster, a junior nutrition major from Chicago, shops for jeans during New York's taxfree week at I Michael Shoes, 173 Marshall St

Shoppers cut costs with New York state's tax-free week.

BY JOY DAVIA

Asst. Lifestyle Editor

4 rmed with only a credit card, Syracuse University junior Eilis Wagner did some heavy duty shopping yesterday at Carousel Center, taking fuli advantage of Now York state's tax-free week.
Two hours and $$ 250$ later, the biology major emerged clutching shopping bags chock-full of newly acquired items, including four pairs of Old Navy jeans, three shirts and her favorite purchase " silver glittered JC Penny sneakers. on my don't have any money," she said. "It's all

No, Wagner doesn't classify herself as a shopaholic, but instead, as an opportunist, jumping at the chance to use her credit card as winter native said the tax-frec wect was the main incen tive for her to push her credit rating to the max She added that she inherited her mother's philosShe ado hold out on making purchases until they phy to hold clearance.
"I would've come
"I would've come out anyway," she said. "But with everything being tax free, it gives me a better excuse to go shopping.
"!m broke as a joke."
Wagner estimated that she saved about $$ 250$ between a combination of clearances sales and tax exemptions.

The tax-free week, which applies to only shoes and clothing less than 5500 , began Saturday and will end on Friday. Fifry-three counties and 20 cities across the state are partaking in the one-week exemption, which will become permanent on March 1. It is estimated that New Yorkers will save 5500 million annually when the tax exemptions become permanent.
New York consumers

New York consumers and clothing and shoe week program which stancd in 1997 in lax-irec week program, which started in in other tax-free states. Store managers said sales increased last weekend, then dipped at the beesinning of the week weckend, then dipped at the beginning of the week as the weather got worse - but they expect the pace to piek up again as the week ends.

Don Coleman, assistant manager at Eddie Bauer, which was sporting an "ultimate winter sale," said sales usually increase 20 to 50 percent as store patrons purchase multiple items. He added that most of his customers waited until this week, when jackets and outer wear were on sale as well as tax exempt.
 said.

Stores across the shopping center pounced on See SHOP page 9

Cheesecake, cleaner score high  Philadelphia Cheesecake Snack Bars  lop of mouth-watering taste. Flavored  the very freshest. But

53.39 for six

The nuns of Nuskeet had better watch out - Kraft is bot on their heels with its newest snack sensation. Philadelphia Cheesceake Snack Bars,

| Holly Auer | promising "a little slice of heaven" in every bite, hit grocery store freezer shelves last |
| :---: | :---: |
| shelf life | month. And they are, in fact, quite an out-of-this-world dessert treat. Choose from four | cheesecake flavors - classic, strawberry. chocolate chip and white chocolate raspberry - to satisfy your sweet tooth.

Being the queen of all things cheesecake. 1 opted to be a bit adventurous and snag a box of the white chocolate raspberry variety. While the size of these mini-Sara Lee wonders is searcely more than a few bites, they pack a whol-cream cheese on a buttery crust, topped with drizzled white frosting and a ribbon with crizzled white frosting and a ribbon of raspberry jam - oh, yeah.

Watch out, though - each little bar contains 11 grams of fat, which adds up to about five grams per bite. Self-restraint is a virtue, especially when it comes to caloricladen desserts. Evidently I don't have much laden desserts. Evidently I don't have much of it - the whole box was gone in a halfhour. So be a smatt cheesecake connoisseu minis - share them with a few friends.

Dreel Hone Dre-Cleaning Kir
$$ 10$ for four dryer loads worth of materials

I have 20 wool sweaters. Unfortunately, none of them have seen the inside of a dry cleaner's since I was in eighth grade. After years of winter wear and tear, a few of them were hanging to my knees and the rest were, well, not srnelling thanks to the help of Proctor and Gambie's latest time and perny saver, me through another frigid Syracuse winter Dryel promises to reat all your fine washables and dry clean only-labeled clothes, from silk to mohair, to some laundry TLC.

Load up to four garments preferably all of similar fab-- preferably all of similar fabwhich is designed to protect clothes from shrinking, stretching or fading under the intense dryer temperatures. Toss in a "patented" pre-moistened cleansing cloth and sct the dryer for 30 minutes. After

See PRODUCTS page 9

What more do you need to know?

SAVE UPTO $40 \%$ ONTEXTBOOKS.

VarsityBooks.com

SHOP

continued from page 7
this philosophy, with signs screaming at patrons in shop windows to take advantage of everything from Ann Taylor's "Salc 2000" to The Childrens' Place's "Monster Sale."

As Ellen Hammer purchased a eversible winter jacket from Lord and Taylar's chilaren's section for her Tilt, she said saving tre Erica Leavits, she said saving the fourpercent sales tax was not enough to make hercome our and buy, The rax exemption, instead, served as an added down woods As her dayghmarkedersed her new acker to determine which color she looked best in - black or red - Hammer added that she snaged the originally priced $$ 86$ jacket for only $$ 60$.

But some clothing and shoe store employees admitted that sales during the tax-free weck were not os expected, blaming everything from the sudden figid weather to shifts in the ceonomy, a decrease in publicity and added competition. Employces at Nine West and Gantos, a formalwear shop, both reported slower-than-average sales during this tax-free week.

Maybe it's a lack of publicity," said Rosanne Earley, an assistant manager at Gantos. I had to search the paper myself to find the dates."

For those who aren't scarching for any special items, the tax-frec week is fruitless, said Binghamton

PRODUCT

continued from page 7
your clothes tumble their way to freshress, hang them up to smooth out any remaining wrinkles Chances are, though, they 'll be wrinkle free. Even a dainty silk camisole ernerged good as new.

You'll probably want to leave major stain operations - Wike the chocolate milk shake that landed in your lap - to the pros at the dry cleaners, but for a quick reshaping of resident Terry Jenson
"In the past, I have taken adyantage of it," she said. "But lately l've not been in need of anything.'

Her husband, Ed, added that in the pass he has traveled to Lancaster and Redding, Pa, to shop at factory outlets for tax-free items.

A Tax-Free Hill

Evenalong SU's Marshall Street, where out-of-state student were not aware of the tax-free week, sales at elothing and shoe stores have jumped.

Upon entering Manny's 151 Marshall St, store patrons are bom barded with everything from bright orange SU sweatshirts to warm-up pansincss has tripled Bil Mester said business has tripied as a result of the dormitories with parents ing back 10 helped sales, he said. And cven on Saturday when sude And ween on yet back to school business no booming due to local residenst who are more knowlcdecable of the state's tax exemptions state's tux excmptions. and take advantage of it," he said

He added that when he inform customers that it is a tax-ffee week. about 75 percent of students have heard about the savings.
"There wouldn't have been a dramatic increase if they were totally unaware," he said.

At 3 . Michael Shoes, 173 Marshall St., Manager Jim Hicks said the tax exemptions have served as an ex-stretched-out garnents or to zap the smoky remnants of your weekend bar tour, Dryel's a winner. Unless you're a big fan of your grandfather's cologne, though, watch out my sweaters came out smelling a bit like a bottle of Old Spice.

But hey, if Dryel canned the Good Housckceping seal of approval, who am 1 to judge - thousands of bluehairod ladies can't be wrong. right?

Lifestyle Editor Holly Aucr is a sophomore magazine major.

WANTED

- Note takers for every class

Run your own lecture note service on the web - Set yozar own price

- Sign up now to earn cash!

Point  , TPO, com

"Better notes...better grades"
www.4pointzero.com

6 weeks. 6 credits, as low as $$ 2.800$ (based on typical costs of tuition. room & board, books. and airfare)
Term 1: May 22-June 30 - Term 2: July 3-August 11 www.outreach hawaii.edu - toll-free 1 (800) 862-6628
University of Hawali at Mānoa. Summer Sessions

With the store's 30 -pereent mark downs. One area resident ordered a pair of $200 Birkenstock shoes, and would not piek them up until tax-free week started.
${ }^{*}$ But, most students are not aware." he soid. "They are here to

January 19, 2000
buy, regardiess." Freshman consumer studies major and Manhatian native Blake Elpisig perused the counter at $J$. Michael, noting that the tax exemptions have not influenced his purchasing decisions. But he says he is looking forward to the permanent implementation of tax savings beginning March 1, adding that he often accompanies his friends to shop out-of-state where clothing is already tax free.

If you are at the malls in New Jersey," he said, "practically cvery car has a New York license plate.

AUDITIONS

First Year Players is calling all first year, non-theater majors to audition for their spring production of:

A CHORUS LINE  Audition Dates:  January $22^{\text {nd }}$ and $23^{\text {rd }}$  10am - 5pm in Shaw Hall

- Prepare a two minute monologue (poems, shortstories, etc. also welcome) and a song (not from $A$ Chorus Line, please). Songs and monologues will be performed individually. An accompanist and tapeplayer will be provided.
- Come dressed to dance. There will be a half-hour group dance audition.
- Dancers with or withoul singing and acting experience are encouraged to audition.

Sign Up for Auditions:
Monday, January 17* - Friday, January 21 * at the Student Organization's main desk in lower Schine (acioss from the e-mail kiosks)

Questions?
Please contact Meghann Hill Phone: 443-8005
E-mail: manhillesyr.edu

[^1]
EMPLOYMENT

 ${ }^{\text {counsolors }}$ www.pinelorestcanp.com
Guxumet coctioe bar located inside Main Lobby of Weekends and ro tate nights Ploase call Weekencs and ro tate nigns Pease cal
$1-600-282-2333$ ext. 17 to sel up an interview. $$ 5500$ weekty potential mazing our ciculars. No Experienca Required
Call $202-452-7679$.

| NEED |
| :---: |
| SOME |
| EXTRA |
| CASH |
| Deliver |
| for |
| the D.O. |
| Next Semester |
| Between |
| 8:00am |
| 12:00Noon. |
| Call |
| David Jack @ |
| 443-9794 |
| to Apply |
| Job Opportunities |

 call (600)544-548. New DYNAMIC Internet stari junior & senior students to work Ph. Act as brand reps. Fesponsibilities include hiring brand team, creating & managing promotions. WKLY incentives. feps will be trained in NYC. all expenses paid. Please contact: Jen Hill 212-791-4033 or emai jhilleb-12.com

Wanteat-Speach Therapy Student to Tutor Child $-426-0207$.

WANTED

Child Care

Looking fox a Naniny to comne to our hame in Mantius to watch out one year old son, B:00AMMentius to watch our one year old sen, $8: 00 \mathrm{AM}$ -
$5: 30 \mathrm{PMM}$ M-F. Full lime poshion. Aeferences thoroughty checkod
$432-8100$ or $447-0634$
Seeking reliable babysitter for my 3 yr old in my home, Thuss 6 -to and other times. S6.50 hour.
Pibase comact Kathryn 446 -5923. Car preferted but nod nec.
Baty giter: Saturday nights tor 2 yourg ctildren. Neods transport Caill 682-076.
Babysittr Wanted Single Dad needs neip with 68 8 year otd boys Monday atternoons $3: 30$ to $5: 30$ pm , Wothesdzy momings and every other Monday moming $6: 45$ lo a:t5am. Waten them in my moming i:45 to 8:isam. Walch nhenn in Jamesvile home. Call Pick e $492-2110$ for details.
Chideare/Houseke日per Needed Monday :trough
Thursday late Atertoons. Must have Thustady late Alerrioons. Must have Car. Planse call 443.3024 or eman me at cal

Help Wanted

Work tor an exeiting Coliege tocused intemet

 company at yout schoo!! Looking for motivated individuals with strong leadership. entreprenearialand business skidis. Tect skills not required. Great exp busienese. pay and options! Contact inloe veconnections com
Eam 5 As promoting artists like Nine linct Nails, Eliman Apple. Filier, Bush, and The Cryssel Meitrod No Experience Neesessary, Plezse

Fraternites: Sororitias Clubs Studen Stude

Student organizationss eamn $51,000-$ S2.000 with ithe easy carmpustundraiser.com three hour fundrais event. No sales required. Fundrising dates are Are tru Connectad? intemet Users Wanted $$ 350$ Are Hou Connectad? Internet Usars Wanteor
-5800 Weak $1-800-234-4938$ ww.eamnownet $$ 1500$ weekly potential maling our circulars. No Experience $202-45 z-7679$.

Roommates

Aoommates Wanted Fornalo. Male tor like househadds walk to campus clean non- smoking households walk to campus clean ervironument cai Landort 445-24909
Roommate 715 Lancaster $5225+$ Washer, Oryer.
Semi-fum, 3 btooks to campus $263-0613$

Misc. Wanted

${ }^{\text {Fast }}$
FOR RENT
Larya tovely 3Ed $1,1 / 28 \mathrm{Aa}$ Hdwdificors outor Univ. idoal lor graa students 422-2940,416-1199 Bus-Service Walikngedistance SU

|  |
| :---: |

1 Bedroom and

Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon
$476-2982$

Stap cioan 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace: parking, inurder Pow price $436-4016$.
Two Bedroom Apartments on Eucid Furnished.
 LuxuRIOUS: 2siory aptiont Gourmet kividn,

L(.)(.)K

 First Week AdvertisedFurnished House Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths
Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast.

Ackeman Ave, 2.3,4,5,7 bedrocm apls, Furished,

L(.)(.) K
First Week Advertised Lancaster Ave. Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry

655-2175

University nice quiet furnishact $1,2,3$ bedrooms apartunents parding utilibes inciuved waik SU
Hospials reasorable. Acommate for grad needed Hospitals 478.2642.
BEST LOCATON -REASONABLE RENT 228 Euclid, across from Shew Dorm, 4 bedroom, reee pardijg, across trash Sher, taundry, mitrowave, Large Singis Faniy furnished house. Patking.

freplace, tree laundry, dishwasher, nature tenants | frinplace, |
| :--- |
| $602-3304$ |

Comstock nice quiet $1-2$ bodroom apartments
Cumstod nica quier 1-2 bodroom aparunents hospitals masornable 478-2642
Universiry Area 2.3 Eodroom lumished

Apartments

1.2.3 Bedroom Aparments, Beautika, Spacious, Oitstreet Parking. Fully Fumished, Low Utilities, Sale, Ouiet, Close 476-0295 Nice furnished apartunent Grads need foommate utidities parking in month 478.2642

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm

Eeautiful 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Waiking distance to Campus. 3 Large Eedrocoms, hats of closet space, 1 1/2 2 日aths, Diningroorn, Livingroom, Kitchen. Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups. OH: Sireel Pariong yith Garage. A Must See! $469-8417$ or $476-9643$ Apartments clase to campus clean 2.3 .5
bedtom
some with fifepluce laundy parking mifumished retsonablo price 487.561. 2 bedroam Apartment right on Marshall St Fall Ackerman Beautitul Large Furnished Flats: Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Bediooms Porches, Fireplaces, Garages, Laundy. Fet OK 446 -3420

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITEFORTHE LAFGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM
Apartments
${ }^{1}$ Bedrocm Fumished Unlurnishted. Walking fastarcs Su. Lunty

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHELARGEST SELECTNEN 3 EDD $45,6,7$ BEDROOM' HOUSES.
wWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
2Bedroom, 2 car 8 grage. 125 kersington Rd.
comer of Lancaster $$ 550472-2567$.

| NEW BURY APARTMENTS  Great University Area Beautiful  Modern 182 Bedroom Apt. All Brand    Hot Water included. Security  Buildings W/Intercoms & Door  Releases. Custom Made Blinds,  Choice of Porch or Patio. Off Street  Parking, Laundry, Storgge, Centro  Bus Lind. 24 Hour Maintenance. Ask for Parricia or Stop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Erighten)  Also...(Great Locationt) Beautiful 5 BEDROOM HOUSE. $21 / 2$ baths, 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 car garage, huge yard, washerld ryer hookups, private road off Layafyette road $1200.00 |
| :---: |
| Furnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Aparments Livingston. Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-666S |
| FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982 |
| One Bedroom Apartments, Fireplace, hardwood ficors, furnished. laundry, quiet building, close to campus, utilities incuded. $476-2982$ |

Large 2 bedroom. 2 fuil bath. Walking distance
S.U. of stroet parking. Laundry. Cal 422 -7305. Best Buy on Herrisonst Cliaan Quiet.
 utithes inctuded. 472.530 .
Universiy 283 Bodroom TownHouses & Flats. inexpensive and mint sondioion. WashernDryer, Fireplace, inished basement, Call 449-0109. Large 3 bedroom. 2 full batth. Walking distance
S.u. ot streot parding. Laundry. Call 428 - 705 .
 utiijes inctuced, Oak floors, fire place. Uurished.
parking, very dean, laundry Call Gordon $476-2982$. Looicing wor a fempale to substet apartment, close to Gall $J$ sassica ( $6077788-0675$
Studio Apartments bacinning at $$ 265$ petimonth with utatities, furniture, private kitchen and bath, mitrowave. carpeling or Dalkwood Foors, raumory, mutcuwave capporn parking. 478-29az
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT

Houses

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTIONOF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM'HOUSES.

WWw.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
LOOK ATTHIS!

 carago, Wacher and dyyer in building
CALi $430-5183$ after 1:00pm

GREAT HOUSES, GREAT LOCATION
BOO GLOCK OSROM 5 BEDROOMS
OFF STMEI PARKMNG, FMEFLACE
AUNDFY DISHWASHER HAROWOOD
LAUNDRY DISHWASMER HAROWOOD
CALL BRAD 424-0218 423.9142
818 Westroit \{near Euclid) 6 Bedrooms Carpe: 446.51.86 Panking Large Roorts 3 baus Dismash
(5)And(6) Bedroom Heuses $72 t$ and 725 Ostrom Ave acjecent to campus slaring
(1) 460.3693 3.4.5 bedroon homes at reasonatle prices, close lanclomples. 682 -7130
Now Renting For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroom hous on E. Adarns St Newy femooteled Bathroons and paint. Heat inciuded! Ont Street Parking, B63 Sumner 4 Bedroom Hardwod Fhors Laundry Raminodeled 446-5186

Rooms
January Graduale Students 2 lange bedrooms remaining beautiful home close to campus remaining 682.7130
Furnished room availatie for Spring Semester ortonges, one block from campus. Parking.
laundry, all utísties included. 446.9598

SUBLET
Hoom in 2 person Apt availabla starting in Sporing
2000. Furnished, carpeted, air conditioned. Low ulitifes, $1 / 2$ block from campus. 475-7938

SERVICES

Travel
SPRING BREAK 2000
Free Trips, Free Drinks. Free Meals
Jamaiza, Cancun, Floída Barbados,
Book now for Froe Meals 822 Fres Trips
Book by Decernber 17 thor lowast Rales
1-800-426-7710
www.sunsplashtours.com
SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN-JAMAICA"NADEAU

CALL TODAY!!
800-293-1443
www.StudentCity.com
it Spring Brank 2000 Vacations! Book Early Saval Best Pricos Guaraniepd!! Cancur, Elannica, Freal Now Hiring Campus Reps! $1.800-234-700$ ? wmme andelesssurninartours.com Browse ieptcom lor Springbreak Zoorr. AN destinatlons offered. Tfip Participants, Student Orge a Carmus Satos. Feps wanted. Fabuious parries, hoteris a pricess. Call tier-Campus Spring Braak Specials! Bahamas Pary Crisel 5 Nights sprogl Incuusos Meast Awesome Beaches
Nighulel Doparts From Floridat Panama City Nightulal Daparts From Ftoridal Panama City
Room With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties
 Cocia Beact (Near Disney) $$ 17791$

MISC.

AS MOTE FROM TRED DAILTORAMGE:
 sponsibidity tor any misconduce resulting to zact bemeen yoursed and adveriser.

Tartaruga Pate

Out of Town

Bat out of Hell (Classic)

by Union

$C_{c}$ Inquire by email of Magical Space Ninja High School

by Erik Lindberg

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTES

Men's Baskethall No. 6 Syra
Pittsburgh
pittsburgh

| $7: 30$ at |
| :--- |
| Hitzgerald |
| Hield | House

Orangemen (14-0, 4-0) Player Thomas Brown Blackwell Hart Bland
Shumper
Williams
Duany

Panthers (8-6, 0-3)
Player
Greer
Lockha
Seabrooks
Zavackas
Knight
Holmes
Taylor
Finneman
Abel
$\qquad$ ${ }^{8} .4{ }^{\text {a }}$
a. 7
0.7
2.0
3.6 sU travels to lowly Pitt

Dave Curtis, cditor The Daily Orange January 19, 200012

BY JEFF PASSAN

With many critics silenced and pundits eating crow, the Syracuse basthan the squad the past five years
Each season, the Orangemen enred the Big East fray with high expectations and, like clockwork, proceeded to lose an away game to an inferior opponent.

Last year, West Virginia caught Syracuse off-guard and booked a $73-59$ victory in Morgantown. Notre Dame proved the spoiler in the 1996-97 and 1997-98 seasons. In 1995-96, Miami nned SU: 5-66.

Now it's Pittsburgh's chance to mark the first themish on Syracuse's 14-0 record this season, as the Orangemen face the Panthers tonight at 7:30 at Fitzgerald Field House.

After jumping out to a $6-0$ start ast scason, Pitt fell flat on its face, losing 16 of its final 24 contests. To make signed following the year

Pitt's best player, Vonteego Cummings, graduated. Then the Panthers mings, graduated. Then the Pathers a broken leg

And as they stand at 8-6 (0-3 head coach Ben Howland face SU the only undefeated team in Division
"We've played St. John's and Connecticut already, so by now were used to the situation," said Pitt associated head coach Jamie Dixon.
all the big dogs coming in.
We're looking at it as a chance for an upset. Obviously, we're going to have to play our best game and hope that they re not at the top of their game. We know how good they are.

SU has exhibited its capability to dominate, climbing to No. 6 in the Associated Press poll. The Orangemen players score in double-figures and tw drop more than nine points per game. Criticized for its early season s. racuse went on the early season schedule Syracuse went on the road and defeated three quality opponents - Miami, West Virginia and Dame on Saturday only solidified SU's mention among the nation's elite.

I thought our defense was the key," head coach Jim Boeheim said. "We've been very ag gressive and we're rebounding well at the defen-

Preston Shumpert, the Big East's leading 3-point shooter, could shooting hand is evident, too, as the Or angemen dish out a conference-best 20.9 assists per game. Their assist-to-turnove also tops the Bif East Statistical advantages aside, Syra cuse evokes images of teams past and in vokes fear into its opponents.
heyre deep, theyre experienced they've got seniors," Dixon said. "Tradiand they've got everything. They present a lot of problems; there's not one you can dwell on."
It's a crapshoot which Orange man will go off on any given night. Sophomore sixth man Preston and poured in 26 points in the Notre Dame victory.

The Fighting Irish tried a zone de fense to cornbat SU's athleticism. While the Panthers will mix defenses against the Orangemen, Dixon said he is more concerned with getting a handle on his eam.

Freshman Donatas Zavackas, a 6 fome a $80-68$ loss to Seton $\mathrm{H}_{3} l l$ for dis garne, a $80-68$ loss to Seton Hall, for dis hree of his storters for unspecified mis conduct.

The coaches will evaluate the play ers in practice and then determine the meantime, Pitt will rely that much more on junior Ricardo Greer.

The 6-foot-5 forward, the secondtallest regular on the team, leads Pitt with 17.8 points per game and the conference with 10.9 boards per contest.

More incredible is the undersized forwand's prowess on the offensive glass, as he rips off more than four of his team mates' misses per game
'He's pretty much always the key for us," Dixon said. "He's doing everything and it's his strength that helps. He's a sive end. We're getting out in transition where we can do some things."

Whether it's running or rebounding, pressing or passing, the Orangemen's success in every facet of the game is what worries the Pitt coaching staff

SU shoots a blazing 49.2 percent from the field, good for second in the Big East. Holding opponents to a 37.1 percent clip from the field ilIustrates the Orangemen's effective mix of man to-man and $2-3$ zone defenses.

The team's philosophy of finding the hot very good athlete.
center Etan Thomas stands well with Pitt, as more Chris Seabrooks, and forward Ryan more Chris Seabrooks, and forw

Should the Orange come out col
Should the Orange come out cold, Thomas doesn't worry. SU's penchant for big second-half runs and its deep bench have been the team's allmarks.
"Sometimes we get off to rough starts, but I just try to keep my head up," said Thomas, averour bench is doipe more mature the mating it hard to double-team me."

Orangewomen struggle over break, drop to .500

BY KEVIN LEITKELL

Staft Writer

Like its male counterpart, the Syracuse women's basketbal team could have stood near the cop of the Big East entering it game against Villanova tonight.

But failure to hold secondhalf leads resulted in a forgetful 1 5 stretch - including an $0-3$ con ference showing - during the winter

With their only win coming against a 2-8 Radford squad on Dec. 29 , the Orange lost games East rivals Boston College and Providence.
"I think we've kind of resorted back a little bit to not playing a full 40 -minute game," junior forward Beth Record said. "In the beginning of the season, we wers really up to go and we could last the whole 40 minutes.
"But we've had some mental breakdowns and things like that during this Christmas break. Hopefully, it's over and we've watered the tide a little bit. Now we can start over and create a new atmosphere for ourselves going into new semester.

By failing to hold on to their leads, the Orangewomen crashed to the bottom of the Big East standings. SU shoots for its first league "W" tonight as it faces a hot Wildcat squad at 7 p.m. at Manley Field House.

Villanova has won five straight games and sits in fifth place in the conference at 2-1 (9-5 overall. One of the Cats' Big East then-No. 6 Rutgers $66-65$ on Sat then-No. 6 Rutugers in the Garden State.

Freshman guard Trish Juhline posted 14 points, while senior forward Jenea Skeeters had a iorward denea Skeeters had a team-high 24 points in the upset. Skeeters leads the team with 14.6 points per game.
The Wildcats' recent success could be attributed to an effective motion offense, SU assistant coach Felisha Legette-Jack said. "They execute well," point guard Jakia Ervin said. "They kind of remind me of Princeton (men's baskethall). They're always cutting and backdooring, so weye got to be aware of that. We have to go in playing defense. If we so happen to get a lead, we've got to keep it. We have to hit that killer instinct in this game."

The Orangewomen must strike early on the boards and capitalize on the leads they've let slip away. In their three Big East women jumped to a the Orangetage only to see it fade in the see tage only ond half.
"Weve got to play a heady basketball game," Legette-Jack said. "They areso disciplined Harry Perretta is one of the best Harry Perretta is one of the best in my opinion. He makes okay players into great players. In order to beat them, you don't have to be stronger than them, you don't have to be anything but smarter at that time. If we play a heady basketball game, this could be our game."

Winter break woes

Should they knock off the Wildcats tonight, the Orangewomen can lessen the blow of their disappointing $1-5$ showin over the break. Syracuse ended the stretch with a 71-56 loss at No. 5 Notre Dame last Saturday.

SU jumped out to a 10-4 lead in the first half and trailed by just two at halftime. But Notre Dame posted a quick 15-3 second-half run, squashing the possible upset Record led Syracuse with 13 Recorg in the Syr points in the loss.
Syracuse nearly upset thenNo. 25 Boston College on Jan. 9 as a six-point second-half lead fo to the Eagles.

Record scored 13 of her 19 points in the first half, as SU led

See SLUMP page 6
THURSDAY
January 20,2000

■ University Senate

Senate approves budget

Several allocations to spur

 two years of fiscal debt BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News EditorA budget for the next fiscal year, approved by the Syracuse University Senate Wednesday night win lity in debt for the first two years of the budset. versity in debt for the inst two years of the budget's Unde the bu percent for the $2000-01$ would ncrease and then return to 5 percent each year after year, and then return to 5 percent each year after Budget and Fiscal Affairs chairperson. The .27 per cent addition in the first year was made to pay for the new campus ice skating rink operating costs, as well as new student activities. Room and board is also slated to increase 4 percent per year, according to the committee's report.

Forty-five percent of the tuition increase will go to faculty salaries and fringe benefits. Thirty-four percent will cover student inancial aid; 13 percent will pay for academic and student affairs add-ons; and 8 percent will be received by physical plant operations, the report said.

SU's expenditure wishlist originally totaled $$ 18$ million, a sum that Wiggins said the committee was forced to pare down.
"It was truly a difficuit matter of choice making when so many needs prove to be worthy, yet so little funds are available," Wiggins said.

See USEN page 4

Skull's in session

Sophomore Erian Small fills out raffe tickets to win an SU sweatshirt at the Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center's table in the Schine Student Center.

Bowl money to fund repairs

Renovating facilities at Manley Field House and balancing the ath Ietic department's budget are among Syracuse University's plans for any surplus earnings from the Dec. 29 Music City Bowl in Tenessee. SU defeated the Kentucky University Wildcats in the howl Univer $20-13$.
final bills and a bottom-line sum mary, said Kevin Morrow, an SU spokesperson. A financial report will not be available until late March, Morrow added.
"Going in, our attempt was to break even," he said. "And if there is a surplus, it likely will be a very modest one."

Plans are ugerway to reno vate training and locker rooms at Maniey, regardless of whether th sible bowl payout, he said. "Those seem to be projects that have been desired to be completed," Morrow said. "And I believe they will be whether or not there is exess money from the bowl game." Morrow said that any additional money needed to cover bowl expenses beyond what the payout letic department budget.
"We do have a reserve fund,"
See BOWL page 9

Deadly fire mars basketball games  Staff Reports  volved in "ongring conversa

A deadly fire at Seton Hall University may prevent SyraUniversity may prevent Syracuse University men's and woming later this week. Seton Hall announced Wednesday that all classes and university events are suspended until Sunday

The possible rescheduling of the games is the result of $a$ fire that swept through a university residence hall early Wednesday morning killing three and injuring more than 50 . Seton Hall would not comment further on the fire.

The women's game was originally scheduied for 2 p.m. at Seton Hall but their athletic administration has explored Manley Field House for a 7 p.m. Manley Field House for a 7 p.m. game is scheduled for noon Saturday in the Carrier Dome.

SU and Seton Hall were in-tions" Wednesday following the 4:30 anm. fire, said Sue Edson SU's director of athletic com munications.

An official decision regarding both games is expected to be made by the Seton Hall adminsaid.

It's probably not going to happen," said Nathaniel Wojciechowski, a student employee in the Seton Hall administrative office.

Late Wednesday night, Wojciechowski said the university could not comment further about the games.
"If the men's game is rescheduled, all tickets will be honored on the new date," Ed son said.

Edson and SU Athletic Director Jake Crouthamel expressed their concern for the Seton Hall students, faculty and

See FIRE page 6

G Student Government

Assembly reviews applicants

BY CAROLINE CHEN
Contributing Writer
The Student Government Association will conduct elections Monday to fill remaining cabinet positions and appoint a director of public relations.

SGA President Jamal James, a junior musical theater major, will nominate candidates for the director's position, vice president and executive to president. The 70 -member Assembly will then vote nations.
James called for applications to the SGA As sembly and began accepting applications immediately after being elected in November. He closed the application Tuesday, he said. troduced by James during the 44th Session. "With all the work put upon the president and vice-president - because I plan on doing a lot - I felt the need for an executive assistant," James said. The new officer will help the president and vice-president with various duties and coordinate discussions with students, he said.

The candidates for vice president are freshman Darian Dorrell and sophomores Arish Gajiar and See CANDIDATES page 3

© State Affairs

Cayuga land claim moves to trial

Staff Writer
Jury selection began Tuesday in a Syracuse federal court for the compensation phase of the Cayuga Indian land claim trial. The case may have a significant impact on a similar suit to be filed by the Onondaga Nation which could include the Syracuse University Hill.

Lawyers continued the screening of 135 possible jurors Wednesday for what could be a groundbreaking case for other lroquois nations seeking from the The Cayugas claim two treaties from 1795 and 1807 that signed over more than 64,000 acres to New York state were illegal under the federal Indian Trade and Non-Intercourse Act of 1790 which stipulates that Congress must vote to approve such state purchases.

More than 200 years later, lawyers representing the Cayuca Nation are asking for as much as $$ 335$ million dollars from the state as compensation for lost property.

[briefs]

tidbits

Data suggests

wacky weather
New satellite data released Wednesciay show the Pacific Oce show the Pacificing a dra matic climate shift maich longer-fived than any El Nino - that could alter global weather pattems, disuupt fish stocks and perhaps lead Southem California into decades of drier than normal weather.

The changing cycle. known as the pacific Decadal Oscillation, was formally identified just three years ago. Their interest wa prompted by highly unusual temperatures throughout the Pacific throughout the Pacific Ocean. The most recent satelifte images indicate waters along the coast of the Americas are several mal while a massive mal while a massive of the Westem Pacific is abnomally warm.

New Web site

discusses politics Several heavy-hitting Washington, D.C., politiing aboard a new Silicon Valley political Web site designed to offer information to the public and give candidates a way to raise funds and campaign online.
Grassroots.com includes on its board of advisers John Sununu, former chief of staff for President George Bush former Clinton White House press secretary Mike MoCurry; and Vice President Al Gore's cur rent media consurtant Robert Shrum, among others.

The Web site, www.grassroots.com, will launch next month. Users will be abie to read news tailored to issues electronic petition, sieg tering their views, then volunteer time or money if they choose on issues or campaigns.

Bass fishing hooks

 televsion interest Television promises to chum the bassfishing waters with more cash. Nearly 2 million households tuned in to watch the Nov. 7 live broadcast of the Ranger Millennium M1 Bass Toumament, an audience equal to those that watched the Breeders' Cup horse Marathon.Those are modest nurnbers, but irwin $L$ Jacobs Operation Bass Inc., which stages bass dicts angling for finicky fish can make for com pelling viewing - especially with an audience hungy for everyday heroes.

Custody battle heats up  MIAMI - The international  on that point." ${ }^{\text {In Whashington, U.S. official }}$ custody battle over 6-year-old Elian Gonzalez moved to a federal courtroom Wednesday, as attorcle filed a federal lawsuit in the cle filed a federal lawsuit in the turn to his father in Cuba.

The lawsuit, which names Attorney General Janet Reno and Service Commissioner Doris Meissner as defendants, says they violated Elian's constitutional rights, as well as INS regulations, by refusing to consider petitions or political asylum filed on his be-

The INS ruled on Jan 4 that only Elian's father has the right to speak for the boy, and not the Miahie was rescued at sea nearly two months ago - a position backed by Reno and President Bill Clinton.

Elian's father, Juan Miguel Gonzalez, has demanded the boy be sent home.

At a news conference after the suit was filed in U.S. District Court here, attorney Spencer Eig said: "This lawsuit is not about what is best for Elian Gonzalez in the future, but how to get a hearing aid they had not had time to full review the lawsuit, copies of which they did not receive untilate in the afternoon. But they said that the Justice Department would vigor ously contest it and planned to re spond to the court as early as Thursday and would ask that the case be expedited

The INS said in a statement issued Wednesday evening that "It is important for the well-being of Elian Gonzalez that the status of this six-year-old boy be resolved as this six-year-old broy bes as possible."

national news

Missle misses test target  WASHINGTON, D.C. -

The Pentagon's ballistic missile defense system appeared to be working perfectly until the final six seconds of a $$ 100$ million test Tuesday night, when an infrared sensor failed to guide the "Idill vehicle" into an incoming missile, senior

Flying blind through space
Flying blind through space over the Pacific Ocean at 5,000 miles per hour, the 55 -inch-Iong inget, a dummy nuclear warhead. It eventually burned up as it re-entered the atmosphere, while the fake warhead fell harmlessly into the sea, the officials said.

Designed to protect the United States from a limited missile attack by a "rogue state" such as North Korea or an accidental launch of a few warheads by a major power such as Russia or China, the anti-missile system is said by both critics and supporters to be the most complex weapon ever

Whether the
Whether the failed test this week will prove to be a major setback, either technologically or podent Bill Clinton is due to decide in late summer whether to proceed with a plan to field the first battery of interceptors by 2005, at a cost of $$ 12.7$ billion.

Oil spill slicks Brazilian surf

RIO DE JANEIRO. Brazil About 250,000 gallons of oil spilled into bay waters of Rio de Janeiro lieve may be one of the country's largest accidents.

By Wednesday afternoon, the oil, which spilled from a ruptured pipeline running from a nearby oil refinery operated by the state-owned Petroleo Brasileiro SA, owned Petroleo Brasileiro SA, also known as Petrobras, had also known as Petrobras, had spread across a 24 -square mile spread across a 24-square mile anea of Guanabara Bay. Petrobras anea of Guanabara Ray- Petrobras 100,000 gallons of oil had spilled.

Miles of shoreline were black and slick with oil Wednesday as goverament officials began evalu-

Albright eyes
Middle East trip
WASHINGTON, D.C. K. Albright will probably return to the Middle East next month to try to recharge Israeli-Palestiniar peace talks. She may also call on Syria, which has balked in its own negotiations with Israel, a senior Clinton administration officia said Wednesday.

There is "a good possibility" that Albright will confer with Middle Eastern leaders on the need for a "Camp David" style summit between Palestinian Lib eration Organization leader Yass and Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak, the official said.

The Israelis and Palestinians face a self-imposed, ambitious Feb. 13 deadline for devising a "framework" for "final-status" talks such remaining issues as the political future of Jerusalem and Palestinian demands for statehood.

Arafat, who was due in Washington Thursday to meet with Al bright and Clinton, is also whhappy that Barak delayed the transfer of another 6.1 percent of the The hand-over was supposed to take place Thursday bposed to said he needed to delay it to foces on peace tallos with Syria.

world news

ating the darnage done by the spill, which occurred about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday
Offi

Officials were especially worried that, since Tuesday morning, winds had carried the light oil across the bay toward a mangrove sels, oysters and several species of

Putin's move

raises concerns

MOSCOW - Acting Pres ident Vladimir Putin's sur prise alliance with Communist legislators this week demonstrates his political inexperience just 10 weeks before a presidential election he is heavily favored to win, political analysts and commenta-

Court debates access law

WASHINGTON, D.C.Taking up a recurring clash and between the rights of abortion protesters and women seeking access testers and women seeking access to health clinics, the U.S. Supreme Court heard arguments Wednesday over a Colorado law that requires demonstrators to stay at least eight feet away from people

Jay Alan Sekulow cics.
Jay Alan Sekulow, representing three "sidewalk counselors" who mounted a First Amendment chailenge to the 1993 law, told restricts "free speech on a public sidewalk." But Colorado Solicitor General Michael E. McLachlan said the state was validly acting to srotect people needing medical treatment from hostile confrontations.

The case appears to be a close one for the justices. Several remarked that an eight-foot "zone" around people approaching a clinic is not likely to interfere with a protester's message. "You certainy can convey anything you want to convey orally from eight feet," said Justice Sandra Day O'Con-
$\qquad$ But some justices also raised concerns that the law was too broad and could, if upheld, set a bad precedent for other picketing and demonstrations.
tors said Wednesday.
In aligning his forces with Communists in the State Duma, the lower house of parliament, he may have been seeking an expedient means of dealing with a powerful party that otherwise might frustrate his democratic goals, analysts said. Or, they said, he just may be ideologically closer to the erammunists than people gen-

In believed. miscalculated the appears he ingly negative political reaction. "He didn't quite expect this situation," said Guite expect Seleznev, the Comennady speaker of the Duma whomet with Putin Wednesday to try to quiet the tumult raised try factions shut out of Putin's deal.

campus calendar

TODAY

Artist Dana Salvo speaks at 7:30 p.m. in the Lowe Art collection entitled "The Circle of Ritual: Transcendence and Remembrance."

- Al-Anon/AC Meeting meets at noon in the Schine Student Center, Room 234.
$\square$ Westcott Community Center presents a lecture titled, "Human Rights, the Environment and the World Trade Organization," at 7 p.m. in the center located on the corner of Westcott Street and Euclid Avenue. Admission is $\$ 10$. Call $478-8634$ for mission is \$10. Cal

Syracuse Stage presents The Smell of the Kill" at $7: 30$ p.m. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 38$, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for ticket information.

EThe Salt City Center for the Performing Arts presents "Othello" at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are students and groups. Call 474; 1122 for ticket information.

- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. There is open recreation, free aerobics, games and other activities.

TODAY-FRIDAY

The Contemporary Theatre presents "Picasso at the Lapin Agilen at 7:30 p.m. at Hap Endings in Armory Square.
$\square$ The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Bob Phillips and Melvin George at 8 p.m. Call 474-0969 for admission

FRIDAY

Sparts Anchor and Newhouse alumnus Len Berman speaks from 3 p.m. to $4: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ in A-I, Newhouse I.

- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. There is open recreation, free aer

SATURDAY

- Archbold and Flanagan Eymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. There is open recreation, free aer.

Guinier will address nomination, controversy

Staff Writer
As a nominee to hend the U.S. Justice Department's civil rights division, Lani Guinier, who is visiting campus next week, sparked a firestorm of controversy throughout Washington, D.C. about her views on minority voting rights.

The controveray that surrounded Gunier's 1993 nomination did not cause any hesitation for this year's Syracuse Univer* sity Martin Luther King Celebration Committee when they chose her as when they chose her as Sunday's Feynote speaker for Martin speaker for Martin Luther King CelebraLuther King Celebration, Hendricks Chapel tion, Hendricks Chapel
Dean Thomas Wolfe Dean Thomas wolre said. any conversation about Guinier it in our committee at all." said Wolie, co-chairperson of the celebration committec. "Every year we go through a long process. It takes us six months to decide.

A sold-out dinner begins at $5: 30$ p.ma. Sunday in the Carrier Dome with a free commemoration program and Cuinier's address to follow at 6:30 p.m.

President Bill Clinton, a Yale Law School classmate of Guinier, withdrew Guinar's nomination as Assistant Attorney General for Civil Fights one month after submitting it because of mounting opposition from Republicans who believed some of Guinier's views were radical. Democratic senators also called for her withdrawal when it became apparent that Guinier did not have enough support in the Senate Judiciary Committee for confirmation.

The opposition centered around law review articles and essays Guinier published suggesting such practices as giving black lawmakers special veto power when addressing issues affecing black constituents and requirg lophares to pay attention to black issues.
The turmoil Guinier endured during her nomination actaally makes hor a more atiractive speaker for the event, Wolfe said. Many subjected her to harsh criticism for her views, but the expericnce gave her a unique wisdom, he added.

She brings a perspective of contemporary political analysis," he said. "She's got a grod, keen sense of how to see issues affecting the civil rights movement."

Guinier will also help to remind those in attendance that the civil rights movement is not over, Welfe said. The event is a chance for people committed to racial equality to come together and commemoate one of the

The civil rights movement is a hisoric movement, but it's very much alive to day," Wolfe said. "It's good to feel the ener gy in one place of all the people committed to (King's) dream.

SUS event is not the first time Guinier has been asked to give a speech honoring King.

I just gave a speceh yesterday honoring MLK at Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas," Guinier said. It was well attended and well received Guinicr's impressive professional credentials also factored in her selection, said Sylvia Martinez-Daloia, co-chairperson of ine celebration commitee. In the fall of woman tenured as a full professor at Harvoman tenured as a ful proessor at Har vard Law Shool, where she currently Sehool in 1974 and then went on to become active in civil rights law with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Pcople and to teach at the University of Pennsylvania Law School before teaching at Harvard.

Guinier also published several books the most recent of which will be featured in a discussion seminar with SU students at 3 pm . Sunday in Maxwell Auditorium. The book, "Lift Every Voice: Turning a Civil Rights Setback Into a New Vision or Social Justice, discusses her nomination and how she attempted to use that experience to continue fighting for her causes.

Guinier never got the chance to defond her nomination through a confirmation hearing and this event is a chance for her to explain her opinion to the SU community, Martinex-Daloia said.
"This is an opportunity to hear other view.s," she said. "We all have to keep an open mind."
of This year marks the 15th anniversary of SU's Martin Luther King Celebration and organizers are hopeful that the event will continue to honor Kings vision and Martinez-Daloia said. Each year the dia-Martinez-Daloia said, Each year the din-net attracts a variety of faculty, students, staff and community members and the mix can only help to further Fing's work in the present, she added.
"It's just a beautiful picture," Mar-inez-Daloia said. Even though this is an enormous event, there's still a sense of togetherness. There's still a sense of unity.

Managing Editor Dave Levinthal conManaging Eatior Tributed to this article.

CANDIDATES

continued from page 1
Nicholas Maccarone. Dorrell and Maccarome are also running for the executive to president position. Sophomore graphics and international relations major Jennifer Dao and sophomore newspaper major Edwin Escobar are running for public relations director.

Dorrell, Gajjar and Maccarone could not be reached for comment.

Dao, who was the interim public relations director last semester, said she hopes ue working with James ue workang with James.
II want to work on integrating SGA with the rest of the organizations on campus and creating open lines of communicaget involved, they should come to the Mooday meetings."

Escobar, a staff writer for The Daily Orange, said he also wishes to break down barriers between SGA and the rest of the student population.
"My primary aim would be to improve SGA, relations with the SU community," he said, "I think that in the past, SGA has become alienated from the student body to a degree. I want to participate in improving the university community. SGA is in a position where it can initiate a James wil
James will present the candidates and offer his recommen-

SGA CANDIDATES  Name  Jennifer Dao  Position/Year public relations director; sophomore  Darian Dorrell vice president, executive to president; freshman  Edwin Escobar public relations director: sophomore  Arish Gajlar vice president; sophomore  Nicholas Maccarone  vice president,  executive to  president; sophomore  Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kate Stevenson

sitions at Monday's meeting, but he said the Assembly's vote is just a technicality.

II believe the student body had their say when they voted you elected a person who can make thouphtul decisions * James said.

Dwight Williams, a junior Finance major and SGA representative, also said he felt that ames' decision would be in the best interest of students.

Irm sure whoever he's going to recommend will be a good candidate because he's taken the time"." Williams said. -When I ratify his decision, it is representative of the student body."

Other students, however, question the fairness of this method.
"It does sort of upset me, because SGA members are voting for things that affect me and I think I should have a say in that," said Mike Baylis, a freshman illustration major. That's ike adding one more middle man, like having Congress pick our president.

Although James has not made his final decisions yet, he is seeking a high+caliber candidate, he said. urm looki
"Tm looking for candidates who took the initiative to seek me out about helping out, James sad. All hat was required was for people who go above and beyond."

Optimal officers would also think differently and move away from standard action, James said. Im expecting someone who Jamal, but who can work together well, even if they have radical ly different ideas," Williams said vice president should be someone who will take an active role to help him out."

Len Berman v68
Sports Anchor, wNBC-TV

Will be speaking on Friday, January 21st
$3=00$ p.m. until $4=30$ p.m.
Room A-1 Newhouse 1

Casimony.comm

1) what is Cosincily.com?

Casino:NY, com to a full serice sporsbowk and sirtual casino offring telephome and un-bine waytring. CavinoXY com's casino has over a dozen gicat casino games with no download and a sporstoolk which aceepes any wager, ant spor, घny jime.
2 Hiw does on-tre gating wers?
You simply st upyer account by loging onto Cavina.l:com and completing the registrion fom One somplete, you can deposi funds to your accouns wiht Visis. Mastercard. Westem Lnion or bank wire. Just mig easy steps. and your ready to wager on any spon or enjoy ours exciting casino games. You can also visii Casino:̈̀).com and play the casino games jusf for fun at no charge.

3/s my credit cads sole?
Our websie softuare has several builh in securivy features. Wi've been in monith winh ne ease of errdit card theff of fraud.

4. How do 1 get pad?

You con sequest parment 24 hours a day. ithys a heek. We presess ath withursuals even lionday moming. We can: credit hack vour credi card. xind

5 How do know iniger ty morev

 space and persomad. If we dent tras our cutanters the ryhat way. we will hise the valued customer to one of gur compeitiors: Mord of meuh is the bet adverising and any intemet casino that dow, not mahe pyyouts will not $k$ in adverising and any internet casino that des not make payouts will not the in business for long.

6 How is it legor?

We are a legal and licensed offshore corporation located in Costa Rica. Playing with CosinoYY.com is kepal becuuse all of the wagering takes phace offshiore. *some states have adopted cenain laws that myy pothibit internt wayeriny. pliane ctect yout lual liaws.

Casimony.com 888-333-PLAY

Sean McDonough
, 84
Will be speaking on Monday, January 24th
2:00 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.
Studio $B$ Newhouse 2

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

USEN

continued from page 1
Even with the omission of some needs, SU is projected to be in debt for the first two years of the budget's run, before breaking even in the $2002-03$ oreaking even in the $2002-03$. Donald Carter, director and associate professor of the Honors Program. said SU decided that it was wirth going into debt in order to obtain the desired programs.

Graduate student Darryl Smith suggested that SU decrease tuition to spark what he said would be an increase in enrollment. He said that with the reduced tuition cost, SU would also not have to distribute as much money for financial aid since a greater percentage of the able to foot their entire bill.

Smith said that decreased
Smith said that decreased tuition could solve University which the report projected at 8 percent over the next 5 years.

Admissions Dean David Smith, however, said that drops in tuition at other universities have received mixed reviews.

Some institutions have regretted reducing tuition deeply," Smith said. That action can be taken the wrong way - it can be interpreted as desperation. Price is not the only thing that drives students to enroll."

The plan also calls for an

Five-Year Budget Plan

Where the 2000-2001 tuition increase will go

| $45 \%$ | Faculty salaries and fringe benefits |
| :---: | :---: |
| 34\% | Student financial aid |
| 13\% | Academic and student affairs and addons |
| 8\% | Physical plant operations |
| Additional expense budget add-ons |  |
| $100,000 | Honors Program |
| $400,000 | Unspecified academic initiatives |
| $100,000 - $204,000 | SU staff training programs |
| $200,000 - $500,000 | Student affairs |

Cornpilted by Asst. News Editor Kate sitevenson
Source: Senate commatwe on Bucget and fiscat Affars redor increase in faculty salaries, plus library book and periodical budget increments of 5 percent per year.

Additional expense budget add-ons include $$ 100,000$ for the Honors Program starting in the 2000-01 scholastic year and $$ 400,00$ for unspecified academic initiatives in 2002-03. One hundred thoussand dollars will be given to SU staff training programs, an amount that will double by 2002-03, the report said.

The committee's report also allots $$ 200,000$ starting in $2000-$ 01 to student affairs. That amount will grow to $$ 500,000$ by 2002-03, the report said.

Amanda Brown, a USe
representative for SU's parttime teaching staff, also noted inadequate salaries for the part-time faculty menabers and called for an increase.
"We have teachers, good teachers, who are not getting compensated," Brown said. "I think it reflects poorly on the value given to teaching at this university."

Brown and Carol Lipson both part-time faculty members for the Writing Program, asked the committee to take another look into the need for part-tim faculty salary increases

USen accepted the request The issue will be discussed in April when more complete fig ures will be available.

[editorial]

The Daily Orange
January 20, 2000
Ashok Selvam, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com

Cayugas deserve compensation

The Cayuga Indian Nation and the state of New York have fought over land rights for years, but a resolution may finally be.in sight.

On Tuesday, jury selection began in a Syracuse federal court for the Cayuga Indian land claim trial. The trial's outcome will likely set a precedent for all other Indian nation land claim trials in the state of New York.

The state has offered $$ 120$ million to the Cayugas who have politely refused the offer, hoping a court payday will be much higher.

The Cayugas' claim goes back to 1807 when they say the state broke treaties and forcibly seized land from them.

While those actions caused turmoil for the Cayugas, all of the people directly affected by the treaty violation, which occurred 193 years $z_{z}$, are dead. Giving back land to the Nation not only would uproot current homeowners, it would send the area into complete chaos. Two wrongs don't make a right.

But that does not mean the Cayugas don't deserve at least some form of symbolic compensation. A court victory would provide exactly this.

The large sum of money that would come from a Cayuga court victory would also end this legal gridlock once and for all. The Cayugas would be satisfied, allowing them to buy back sections of their land using their freshly-filled bank accounts and further develop land that they currently own.

But the court may not hand money to the Cayugas. There is speculation that the Cayugas may receive land for a casino, much like the Oneida Nation has with Turning Stone Casino, forty-five minutes east of Syracuse.

If this is done, casino money and any other monies given to the Cayugas should be used to improve the livelihood of the Nation's people.

And the courts best give to the Cayogas and the other nations affected would be the money they deserve so New York state can put this ugly chapter of American history behind them.

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

| News Editor | Justin Silverman |
| :---: | :---: |
| Editoria! Editor | Ashok Selvam |
| Lifestyle Editar | Holly Auer |
| Sports Editor | Dave Curtis |
| Presentation Director | Bill Ehringer |
| Photography Editor | Tom Nycz |
| Art Director | Nova Acustrow |
| Copy Editor | Laura Prabucki |
| Asst. News Editor | Emily Rubius |
| Asst. News Editor | Kate Stevenison |
| Asst. News Editor | Tffany Larkers |
| Asst. Lifestyle Editor | loy Davia |
| Asst. Lifestyle Editor | Sapna Koilul |
| Asst. Sports Editor | Connor Enmis |
| Asst. Sports Editor | Jeff Pascian |
| Design Editor | Eria Boyle |
| Design Editor | Tomaty Fiorito |
| Design Editor | Elaine Skinnor |
| Design Editor | Tito Botitia |
| Asst. Photography Editor | Jesrica Cutler |
| Asst. Photography Editor | Rachael Colden |
| Asst. Copy Editor | Brendan Dalokowski |
| Asst. Copy Editor | Annemarie Bello |
| Asst. Copy Editor | Ron Foolks |
|  |  |

Neva Austrew/The Daily Orange

opinions

21st century depends on unconditional love

We have all survived the changing of millenniums, but have we learned anything from it? The events of the last millennium, and in particular the events of the 20 th century, have definitely taught me something. Seeing the destruction, evil and hate of the last millennium has shown me that the key to thismillenhas within themselves.Every year, we make idle promises to ourselves (calied resolutions) saying we would make ourselves a little better than the year before. Losing the acceptable amount of weight, getting the right grades or landing that dream job are all conditions for loving yourself just a little more. When we fail to achieve these goals, we either give up or the same empty promises the next year.

KAMIKA

MC DONALD

Sometimes, we even beat up ourselves when we haven't lived up to these often unrealistic expectations for ourselves.

Truly loving yourself in this millennium means accepting your personal best and feeling that you are worthy to have everything you desire. Loving yourself means making your own decisions and standing by them. You'll feel confident about who you are, not because of positive feedback from others, but from positive self-evaluation.

This self love will translate into an unconditional love for others. We usually love others when they fit a certain set of criteria. While I agree that we must be careful of who we bring into our personal lives, those we love by showing respect and care for their well-being should not have to fit a profile. Once we remove the conditions for loving ourselves, it is much easier to love others without boundaries.

Older people feel fortunate to have fallen in love in times past because today's romantic relationships are too complicated. They say that romance is an enigina, observed by the loss of fidelity and respect in many intimate relation ships. Often, people bring destructive baggage to People seem to be in love with the idea of love but not prepared for the hard work involved with making love work. Lies, cheating and deception making love work. Lies, cheating and deception unions. If you need some examples, take a look at a daytime talk show.
Self love can motivate you to make choices in romantic love that will help you to grow. This millennium it will be acceptable to marry your best friend and not just because you haven't married anyone else. This millennium will be a time when romance will not be the idealized Prince Charming on a white horse saving the damsel in distress. This millennium it will be equals who have amornal respect for everything that their counterpart is. Power struggles that plague relakindred spirits totally committed to each other.

A personal devotion to love on a grand scale an spill into the world. Years of wars and connicts based on the hate of another group of people have taken their toll on each of us. Like the Hatfields and McCoys, we have been fighting so long and don't even know what the conflict is all bout. It seems very cliche that we all need to get along-but if we don't we will all die togeth er.
The key to success in 2000 is a deep, unconditional love for self and others. Get the hatred out of your heart. The survival of the planet may Kamika Mc Donald is a junior broadcast journalist and African-Americarz studies major.

Her column appears on Thursdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail her at klmcdona@syr.edu.

letters

Suspension not needed for Braves' pitcher

To the Editor:

As a black man and New York Mets fan, I was personally offended by the comments made by Atlanta Braves pitcher John Rocker in "Sports Illustrated." fowever, I disagree with the edof The Daily Orange asserting that he should be suspended.

While I understand Rocker represents the Braves, I don't believe his comments will hurt their reputation. I think most fans realize Rocker's comments do not represent the views of the team. Besides, Rocker is enknow he's a racist and sexist. Bif deal. I'm sure there are other baseball players with similar leanings, but no one knows about them because they didn't make mag views known in a national magazine. We have to stop putting athletes and other celebrities on a pedestal. dust because they possess unique taliexpected to be model citizens. No one is infallible, even if they can throw a baseball 98 mph.

Rocker doesn't need a suspension to realize the insensitivity of his comments. No suspension will be worse than the treatment he will receive daily from teammates, opposing playstarts. They will make sure he never forgets the error of his ways.

Robert Ford
Class of 2001

Burns announces endorsement, meets criticism

BY joy bavia
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
In an effort to rally campus support for presidential hopeful Steve Forbes in the upcoming primary elections, Syracuse University's College Republicans Charperson Joe Burns announced Tuesday his endorsement of the magazine

Burns said the endorsement is only to spark activism among Republican supporters and is not meant to reflect the opinion of the College Republicans. Some students, however, find the endorsement a statement on behalf of the group nevertheles.

It's important to stay behind the person you think should be president, congress, whatever," said Burns, a junior political science and history major. Maybe some students now will want to be involved in the Forbes campaign."

Burns said he will soon annornce his endorsement over the group's list-

On the Democratic side of the tickct, SU's College Democrats president Burns' decision to vocalize an endorsement separate from the College Republicans.
"He is so vocal," Hinchey said of Burns. "Everyone sissociates him with the College Republicans. With him coming out, it is good to say the College Republicans did."

Burns said his motivation is to encourage those who are normally politically apathetic to becoming involved in the upcoming election.

Chris Ryan, the College Republicans former second vice chairperson who cans former second vice chairperson who said Burns' support will only help bolster Forbes' image on campus.

Burns is one of the most influential people on campus," said the sophomore political science and broadcast journalism major. "It will certainly make those Republicans on campus take a much closer look at Steve Forbes."

Ryan, who stepped down from his post so his pursuits will not conflict with the interests of the College Republicans, said Buras has not actively participated in Youth for Forbes, aside from friendly advice.

The majority of College Republicans are in favor of Forbes, including the student organization's first vice chairperson Timothy Greszler, Burns said

One member not supporting Forbes run for the presidency is Secretary Gina

DeRossi who said Arizona Sen. John McCain is the Republican contender capable of burying the Democratic opponent. DeRossi, a junior public relations major, said she is not surprised by Burns'endorsement because he has been an ardent supporter of the two-time presidential candi

Anyone who knows the College Republicans well enough knows we have our own opinions," she said

DeRossi added that Burns has a right to endorse the candidate he prefers.

Although it is hard to estimate what percentage of members are in favor of specific candidates, she said that about half of those students heavily involvedin the organization support Forbes.

Brooke Schiferle, head of the newly formed SU for Bill Bradley campaign group, remains skeptical.
don thow how he made his decision," said the junior. "To supporta group you need cohesion."
urns' decision to support Forbes also surprised her, noting that Forbes' less than encouraging resuits in his past two presidential elections.

But Burns said the Republican presidential candidate's role as a Washington outsider and as the only Reagan conservative with a chance of winning the country's top office led to his en dorsement. Forbes stance as a cornmit ted pro-lifer and his position on social security also enticed Burns.

A straw poll commissioned by the College Republicans in September asked SU students to yote for their preferred Republican presidential candidate. With 2 percent of the student population voting, Forbes garnered 31 percent of the vote, with his closest contenders being former Red Cross President Elizabeth Dole at 17 percent and Texas Gov.
George W. Bush at 16 percen
Ryan was also present at the straw poll, soliciting students to vote for Forbes in front orthe voting table. Daily Orange that the student organiza tion's support helped propel Forbsa d propel Forbes to the winers circle

Burns said his support for Forbes was not influenced by the voting results. A recent CNN/USA Today/Gallup Poll revealed that Bush is maintaining percent of potential votes. His closest ripal is McCain with 18 percent. Forbes garnered 5 percent of the vote.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

FIRE

continued from page 1 staff and are awaiting a decision to postpone events until Sunday.
"Students, faculty and staff will be faced with emotional and, in some cases, physical trauma stemming from this accident," according to a statement by Robert Sheeran, Seton Hall president.

What Seton Hall feels is appropriate for the school and the community is what's going to be done," Edson said.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Emily Kulkus

WANTED

- Note takers for every class
- Run your own lecture note service on the web - Set your own price
- Sign up now to earn cash!

Point
ero.com
"Better notes...better grades"
www.4pointzero.com

You'll be living in a down   by the   by the    Schine Student ## Center??

Apply now to become a miny fratige delvicita, get great pay, flexible morning hours once or twice a week and transportation in a vehicle big enough for a dozen Chris Farley's. After all, you won't need to visit a motivational speaker when you'll have enough cash in your pocket to buy one. Are you freakin' interested? Call Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale at 443-9798 or Advertising Director David Jack at 443-9794 for more information or to apply.

SEAC, Greens host WTO protest discussion

BY ShELBY HEALY Staff Writer

Syracuse University senor Kelly Nagy and graduate Steve Penn spoke of their experiences during November's World Trade Organization protests at a meeting Wednesday night in the Westcott Community center.

More than 20 people atended the discussion co-hosted by the Green Party and the SU Student Environmental Action Coalition.

More than 130 countries were represented at the Seattle Convention Center to discuss the principles of free trade. Demonstrators who disagreed with the conference protested for four days in the downtown area, suspending city services.

Green Party members Howe Hawkins and Yvonne Rothenberg also shared their thoughts and feelings about the protests and events leading to
"I think it's the beginning of a new kind of movement," Hawkins said. "This is underHawkins said. "This is

The Seattle protest shut down the WTO's Nov. 30 meeting, proving to demonstrators their attempts were successful Hawkins said.
"We were there because we were against corporate power taking over our cultures, our lives - everything," Rothenberg said. "It wasn't just against trade."

After showing film footage of the protest, Penn explained what it was like during his four days in Seattle. The protesters continued with nonviolent behavior demonstrations despite being attacked with pepper spray, tear gas and rubber bullets. Penn was arrested by Seattle police after marching down the streets in a no protest zone," he said.

When we were in one of our lock-downs, two cars within 15 minutes of each other Penn said. "The only violence was from police and a few ancry people trying to get dry peon through."

Penn explained the stategies demonstrators used to close the convention center The protesters divided themselves into "pie sections" around the center in order to block off major intersections and prevent delegates from reaching the center. Police eventually broke through the barricades, Penn said.
"People would fill in when someone needed medical atenlion because they were so outraged when they saw the police doing that," Penn said. "They could break our lines, but they couldn't break our will."

Nagy described many of the same scenes, adding she had been cold and wet for over 10 hours hike many of the er people shown in the film, but kept spirits up.
${ }^{\text {I }}$ got beaten a few times and got tear gassed," Nagy said. "But we kept protesting." Rothenberg said she urged

CONTINUINGTHEVISION...

Date
Event
Time
Monday. January 24, 2000 Eyes On the Prize film 7pm
Shine 304 A,B,C REMEMBERINGTHEDREAM

Date
Event
Time
Location
Tuesday, January 25. 2000
Panel Discussion: Restructuring the Civil Rights for the Next Generation 7:30 pm
Flint Study Lounge REFRESHMENT WILL BE SERVED

Date
Time
Location

Date
Event
Time
Location
Wednesday, January 26, 2000
MLK Dancers
Grant Auditorium

Thursday, January 27, 2000
Folktales with Francis Parks
7pm
awrinson Penthouse REFRESHMENTS AND HOT BEVERAGES WILL BE SERVED

Friday, January 28, 2000
Event
Time
Location
Candelight Vigil and Gospel Choir performance
7:30 pm
Steps of Hendricks Chapel

WRITE

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

Green Party member Steve Penn discusses his views gr the Seattle WTO protests during a meeting Wednesday at the wasteott Community Center.
the group to eat, shop and cooperate with small businesses to help prevent large corporations from becoming overbearing. Taking action against the large companies, even in small numbers, was an important step, she added.

Student's Sale & Free Limousine Ride!

Take 25\% Office
Art Supplies, Engineering, Drafting & Architectural Supplies during our Storewide Sale.

The Lime Rums.um
From 12:00-5:00, Wednesday - Saturday the 1st week of classes, and Monday the 24th To and from S. W. Our limo stops behind Schine, at Watson, Shaw, Flint, Day, Boland & Brewster every 30 minutes.

Store Hours--.
Mon -Fri. 9am-6:00pm & Sat 10am-5pm

935 Erie Blvd. East, Corner Grouse 474-1000 Sale now through January 29 th, 2000 Exceptions apply, see details in store. All major credit cards.
A little reassurance for life's ups and downs.

To protect against AIDS and other STD, always use latex condoms.

Multicultural Affairs

Staff Reports
A panel discussion led by Syracuse University faculty members met Wednesday afternoon to discuss nationwide discrimination against Latinos. "Employers hire non-His panic whites before Hispanics no matter their credentials," said Alejandro Garcia, a professor in the School of Social Work.

Psychological repercussions from this discrimination plague the Hispanic community, leading stance abuse, Garcia added

Garcia also spoke of wi
Garcia also spoke of widespread stereotypes, a prime reason for the job discrimination that many Hispanics must endure.
"The stereotypical Hispanic is set under a cactus taking a siesta. There are questions of siesta. There are questions of honesty, work effort, commit-

Panel examines discrimination
ment and ability," Garcia said. "We cannot allow these stereotypes to affect us."

The stereotyping and discrimination of Latinos stems partly from the poor education that many members of the community receive, she said.
"Educational attainment is considerably low in Hispanic communities. Schools are doing a poor job of keeping Hispanics enrolled and there are no role models for inspiration," Garcia said.

Gchool of Social Work professtressed the Schaffner Goidberg are an integral part of solving the problems in Latino society.

Goldberg is the executive committee chairperson of the Jobs For All Coalition, a group based in New York City that is committed to obtaining full-employment at decent wages. A family of four is considered to be living above the poverty line if they earn $$ 16,000$ a year ar more. Eight percent of Hispanics working full-time year-round still remain among the nation's poor, she said.
One houl

One hou
One hour a week of paid work is considered employment and the number of officially un6.7 million. In October 1999, unemployment numbers were the lowest in three decades, she said.
"Just a job is not enough. Livable wages are the key," Goldberg said. "In the year 2020 onefourth of the work force will be Hispanic, most expectedly with jobs at the bottom. The solution is to raise that bottorn."

Compiled by Contributing Writer Stephanie Silver
"The chancellor determines where that money goes," he added. "Recently, it's gone to help pay for new classrooms and advances in technology all over campus."

The Music City Bowl offers a payout of $$ 750,000$ per team. but that will go to the Big East Conference for distribution to its members. Syracuse did receive, however, $$ 1.35$ minion from the conference for travel and ticket expenditures $$ 550,000$ of which was on tickets alone.

Bowl participation is always beneficial to the universiMorrow said.
"It gives the seniors one more month together and an extra month of practices," he added. "So it's a great send-off. It gives the coaches the opportunity to look at more of the up-and-coming players and the national exposure is great for the team and for the school."

SAVE UP TO $40 \%$ ON TEXTBOOKS.
Savings off distributar's suggestod price. Books delivered in no more than three business days. Some restrictions apply. See site for dotails.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

LAND

continued from page 1
State lawyers contend that the claim area could be worth as little as $$ 31.5$ million, based on the condition of the land in 1795 , the date of the first treaty. The figure includes $$ 6.5$ million in rent.

The state reportedly made an offer to the nation of $$ 110$ million and 4,500 acres of land last bune. But the offer was rejected stead to take the case to court

US.District Court Jud Neal McCurn ruled in 1994 that the Cayuras had a legitimate the Cayugas had a legitimate claim to the New York land and had a right to compensation quired the property. Now, in the second phase of the trial, a jury will decide how much the state owes the Cayuga Nation, but will not be restricted by limits set by appraisers from both sides.

The outcome of the trial
the other land claims currently being made by members of the Iroquois Confederacy including the Oneida, Mohawk and Seneca Nations, as well as the claim to be Flled in the near future by the onos are included in 93 milion land claims

The Onondaga Nation will wait to file its land claim until after the Cayuga claim is resolved, said Joseph Heath, an attorney representing the Onondagas.

The Cayuga land claims raised stiff opposition from homeowners, especially in Seneca and Cayuga counties. Though the settlement will not result in the eviction of any property owners in the land claim area, homeowners are concerned that the Cayuga Nation will use the award money to buy up parcels of land which would become part of their reservation, eventually encircling small property owners, said Mel Russo, Seneca County chairperson of the Upstate Citizens for Equality, a homeowner's associa tion fighting the land claims

"What the tribes have traditionally done is called checkerboarding." Russo said. "They buy strategic plots of land here and there and force smaller landowners out."

Representatives of the Cayuga Nation could not be reached for comment.

The Cayugas have been adequately compensated for land that was sold with "good inten tions" on both sides, Russo said.
"They're landless because their ancestors sold their land and they have not used the money to buy land anywhere," Russo said. The Cayugas should probably be suing their ancestors, not the state of New York and particularly not the landowners."

The Cayugas have received some payment for their land, although the exact amount is in dispute. The Cayugas and the U.S. Justice Department have argued that the issue of past payments should not be heard by this jury since any such payments wer based on illegal treaties. McCurn, however has ruled that the testi however, has ruled thed.
McCurn has also ruled that a Toronto historian who is an expert on the Cayuga Nation will not be allowed to testify for the sharp criticiove that prompted said the history of the Cayuga Nation should be taken into consideration when determining the award owed the group.

The Cayuga Indians fought against the U.S. during the American Revolution and they burned Buffalo to the ground in the war of 1812," Russo said. "This is twice they asserted themselves as enemies of New York state. Are we bringing this up in the trial? No,"
In a letter circulated by UCE, Russo contends that the Cayuga Nation was compensated during a 1926 international arbitration between the U.S. and Great Britain on behalf of the invalidate the current land claim. Other legal problems also complicate the Cayugas' claim, he added.

The Cayugas were 200 years late in filing this claim," Russo said. "This is a precedent setting case and so far it has been built on a frivolous lawsuit."

Ulimately, it is likely that whatever decision is reached by the federal court will be appealed to the U.S. Second Circuit and later the Supreme Court. At present, both sides in the dispute seem to favor a jury trial to an out-of-court settlement.

Russo and UCE plan to fight the claim all the way to the high court if necessary, Russo said.
"Nobody wants a foreign nation with different rules and regulations in their backyard," he said. WThey can put a trailer in a place where it is not zoned and they can go hunting and fishing anytime they want."

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Cancer containment
New research ind:cates that cervical cancer, the second most cornmon cancer among women worlowide, shoul within the next two decades. New technologies for detecting that virus have made it rela tively easy to diagnose cervical cancer at its earliest stages, when the disease is virtually 100 percent curable. Vaccines have been developed that contain proteins from four human papillorna viruses that 85 percent of all cervical 85 percent of all cervical

Faking it

Medical devices, from artificial joints and breast implants to pacemakers and insulin pumps, are now a regular part of life for an estimated 25 mif lion people. But a University of Oklahoma panel concluded that consumers are not adequately informed of a (1) device's bene (3) potential complications and ty. They recommended that patient consent include such information prior to surgery and called for a national monitoring systern that would track implanted devices and retrieve implants that are no longer needed for stucy.
Older and wiser Although many people believe cognitive skills deteriorate with (53) age, older adults tasks bette people, researchers people, researchers test, older people expressed a comparable reaction time to younger participants, but made fewer errors than their youthful counterparts.

Miliky way

WalMart, the nation's largest retailer, is setting its sights on nursing moms. The move is cor sidered the first effort by a major retailer to seil to this market. The compafy is shipping 33 breast reeding products and 1 2,485 stores nationwide. The items - such as creams, pads and nursinge nightwear will be available by earty February. A special seotion in infant departments will be labeled the Lansinoh BreastFeeding Collection.

quote of the day:

"When you win, nothing hurts.

Holly Auer,
editor
$443-2128$ $443-2128$ orange.com

Grey winters lure

 students to seek artificial sunlight
BY MAGIN MCKENNA Staff Writer

We've all heard the horror stories. There's the naive high school girl who ventures into a tanning saon the day before the prom and emerges the same shade as a fried an tanner who strips down to her underwear only to find a creepy member of the opposite sex leering at her through a not-so-small hole in the wall.
while rumors like these as the tanably been around as long don't stop thougands of college students each year from seeking a little fun in the artificial sun during the cold winter months before spring break.

At Tropical Sunsations in the Marshall Square Mall, business picks up by the hundreds during the snowy Syracuse winters, the snowy Syracuse winters, where clients-both women and where clients - both women and men - often stop by to catch some rays before heading off to sumny beach destinations in the spring, said owner Carol Barker.
"Many women don't feel comfortable putting on a bathing suit with a white complexion," she said. base so they don't get so burned that base so they don't get so burned that they can't enjoy their vacations." they can't and for those who are worried about extra holiday calories, tanning

Sleepsex disorder perplexes, disturbs couples

She slowly turns to her side to see the inviting smile and securely closed eyes of her boyfriend. He becomes playful, reaching out to her from across the bed. Though it's late in the night and only a few seconds ago he was fast asleep, she goes along with the minught turns sour quickly. He overpowers her, and becomes more aggressive than ever before - al-
Corey
Hann

Hann
health
sleuth most as if he's possessed.
Surprised, she notices that his eyes are still closed and she can still hear wisps snoring under his breath. Frightened, she asks him to stop. But his aggression drown out her pleas, and she reluctantly concedes. Within thirty seconds, it's all over, and he falls to his side and returns to dreamiand - but was he ever actually awake in the first place? to, is a sleep disords most commonly referred ed 2.6.million people, sometimes costing relationships and sexual confidence.

We all dream about sex. It's the minds way of fulfilling its most egocentric, primitive desires. But in the case of sleepsexers, this desires. But in the case of sleepsexers, this desire is not only expressed in a mental state, but it is also the boundary into the physical world, though the patient has no way of distinguishing whether their actions are real or Researchers classify it as an arousal disorder, similar to sleepwalking, since it divides consciousness from unconsciousness. However, classifying and diagnosing it can be a difficult task. Dr. Mark Mahowald, director of Minnesota Regional Sleep Disorders Center, believes that the problem is far more common than people might think. But the biggest problem, he wrote, is that "nobody tallks about it and it's not the sort of thing you bring up at the neighborhood cocktail party."

Bump in the night

"I remember getting molested mid-sleep by my boy Archuves of Sexual Behavior "I kept pushing Eventually he stopped. We didn't have sex, just touchy feely. I made fun of him the next morning, but he didn't remember!"

It's confusing for both partners to be involved in such a situation. A study conducted

Archives of Sexual Behavior, sheds some light on the issue. Rosenburg.sought to distinguish what was the driving factor in the sleepsexer's actually in control of the body if the sleepsexers aren't fully immersed in their dreams.
"It would be easy and tempting to at sleepwalkers and sleepsexers are acting out behaviors that are suppressed by their conscious minds, but there's no evidence to support that," said Mahowald, a contributor to the study. But he does concede that the individual may be acting out their drearns.

These fantasies are most often acted upon during a part of the sleep cycle referred to as REM. This is the stage in which mental Ntivity continues in the nature of thinking rather than dreaming. Motor functions dull and one's heart rate slows, preparing the body to move into rapid eye-movement sleep or REM.This is the stage where most drearns take place - though they would never be actualized because of the deep sedative state the ndividual is in.

The N-REM is a perfect environment for acting out these dream-like thoughts and

See SLEUTH page 13

When you're broke, you look at things in a whole new way.
So for textbooks and stuff, hit ecampus.com. You'll save up to $50 \%$. And shipping's always free.

TANNING

continued from page 11 offers another perk: Although it's only an optical illusion, a golden-bronze tone can also make a person look between 10 and 15 pounds thinner, Barker said.

Before tanning, clients at Tropical Sunsations must complete a computerized survey that determines how much artificial light their skin can handle. To avoid burning, clients are not allowed to tan longer than their recommended limiteven if it means they pay less money.

The only difference between tanming indoors and outdoors is that there's no control outside," she said. "Here, you do what we tell you to do."

Lighting up

While Barker, too, has heard her share of terror tales in the industry, she said sun seekers can avoid unpleasant situations in salons by doing their homework. In particular, clients should pay attention to the level of training and responsiveness of a salon staff. It's sponsimeness of to make sure the salon is certified, she said. "You need to do research," said Barker, who stressed lhat the secret to tanning is moderation. "People should visit a salon before tanning and spend some time talking to the people who go there. Don't just plunk Who go there. Do down your cash."

Barker said she isn't worried that her clients will speed ried that ner chients will speed up the aging process or get skin up the aging process or get skin cancer from tanning in her salon, as long as they follow the lon, as long as they follow the directions of the staff. She directions of the staff. She notes that a majority of cancernotes that a majority of cancer-causing sun damage occurs in chusing su
"There's not a lot of sun damage you cando as an adult, she says. "You can't undo what was done as a child.

But Dr. Ronald Shiell, chief of dermatology at Upstate Medical University Hospital, denies the disclaimers that artificial tanning doesn't increase a person's risk for skin cancer.
*The ultraviolet and beta rays in heat bulbs can certainly contribute to skin cancer and the aging process," he said. "Sun exposure in adulthood is not irrelevant. Actually, the longer you live and are in the sun, the more susceptible to skin cancer you are.

Dr. Shiell, who oversees a group of skin cancer patients in a special referral program at the hospital, recommends tanning junkies kick the habit be-

SLEUTH

continued from page 11
fantasies because there is still some level of consciousness at work, guiding the person to performing the actions they do in bed. Rosenburg also motes that sleepsex will occur much more when one is under the influence of alcohol, drugs or even sleep deprivation. At those points, people are ten times as likely to have physiological or psychological skills altered or impaired both of which are elements of the disorder. These factors combined make this disorder more prevalent at the college level, due to the liberal, partyoriented lifestyle that many students enjoy.

Though they now understand the causes of sleepsex, experts are still at a loss on how to treat the disorder. Suggestive treatments have ranged from group therapy to having patients sleep with their clothes fore it's too late
The whole concept should be abandoned," he said. "It's going to cause problems later in life. Not everyone who tans gets cancer, but there is a risk involved. Self-tanning products are safer and they're risk free."

At your own risk
And not every salon owner is willing to take the responsibility for a bad burn. At Nexes Tanning and Hair Design in the Shop City Plaza, 105 Teall Ave., clients are adyised to tan at their own risk, without employee meddling, said owner Louise Procino.

From time to time, employ ees will warn fair-skinned clients about the dangers of baking too long in a tanning bed, but clients may do as they wish.
+You're allowed to goin there for 15 minutes, Procino said. "If they want to go for the whole half hour we tell them 'Don't complain to us if you bumn. It's not our responsibili-

One bad burn was enough for State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry freshman Kirsten Mueller to make her first tanning visit her last.

Be on the lookout for these warning signs of skin cancer

W Moles that discolor
Q Black moles that appear on the body
Q Brown moles that turn black
OOnce straight moles that become jagged OMoles with irregular borders
6 Moies larger than a pencil eraser
$\boldsymbol{\sigma}$ Moles that itch, burn and/or bleed
OAbnormal growths
$\circlearrowleft$ Small areas of roughness on the skin that do not heal

Although most skin cancers can be treated, people exhibiting these symptoms are encouraged to a physician immediately.
Compaifed oy Staff Writer Morfin McKenna
source: Dr. Ronata Snull, M.D. Uostate Metatal

II got burned because I'm fair-skinned"* she said, laughing. "I never did it again.

For most clients, however, when it comes to tanning it's all about sex appeal. Barker all about sex appeal. Barser freshman in the School of ManIreshman ind College of Human Development started mon Development, started tanning as a high school jumior.

Firpo, a native of Buenos Aires who grew up in Seattle said tanning salons were her only way to get a tan in a city where it rains most of the year. "You learn how to do it, she pasty white is a turnoff" Busty white is aturnon, freshman accounting major, disagreed.
"It's not natural, and it doesn't everi look real," he said. "It's not normal."
on to prevent the sleepsex activity. But the most effective treatment so far has been to classify it as normal insomnia ciassify it as normal Treat it as such. This type and treat it as such. This type of treatment can also vary. New drugs, such as Sonata or Dal mane, are currently being tested on patients experiencing a range of sleep disorders, including sleepsex. Less agtressive treatments include avoiding caffeine late at night, exercising regularly and establishing a regular bedtime and waketime schedule.

At this time of year, when the comfort of a warm bed and a loved one seem more appealing than braving the chilly winds for a night on the town, sneak a peak at your partner and give them a pinch to make sure it's not just a dream.

Corey Hann is a junior premedicine and philosophy major Emmail him at cthann@syredu.

Hey SU Students!!

Now's the time to get on-line with NorthNet for the spring semester at a cost of only $$ 47.00$ pre-paid!
www.northnet.org

NorthNet will provide you with:

* 200 hours of connect time monthly
* Local access lines
* Toll-free technical support 7-days a week until 10 p.m.
* High speed dial-up
* There are no start-up fees

NorthNet is available to non-students for $$ 14.95$

Sign up with NorthNet today by calling 1-800-401-6954.
per month.

DEFENSE

continued from page 20

"I don't think we were ready for how quick they were," Villanova guard Trish Juhline said. Our team is too slow. They cut down everything. They cut down the passing lanes. They outran us on the "They were quicker than we were in every aspect. They just destroyed us. It wasn't a game."

Syracuse limited the 'Cats to just 30 percent shooting during the game. Villanova (9-6, 22) hit only 26 percent in the first half on 6-for-23 shooting.

The Cats were unable to get passes down into the low post. The Syracuse guards pressured the Villanova backcourt as forwards Beth Record and Tara Trammell clogged the lanes and closed off possible inside passes to Wildcat forwards.
"We went through it for a

CATS

continued from page 20
With the Orangewomen clinging to a $25-20$ halftime lead, the team took aim at the rim it used in workouts.

And SU couldn't miss.
Syracuse (8-7, 1-3) scored on seven consecutive trips to open a 41-26 advantage with 14:22 left to play.

Sophomore Tara Trammell, who started in place of an injured Leigh Aziz, sparked the 16-6 run with a shot off the glass. Beth Record, who finished with a career-high 28 points, added a three-pointer and two other buckets during the spurt.

The run gave a confidence boost to an Orangewomen squad which has struggled when leading in recent games. Syracuse blew advantages at Notre Dame and at home against Boston College.
"It means a lot," said fresh man guard Shannon Perry, who poured in 15 points and ripped down 15 boards. "I don't know if we were down, but we needed to get a win to keep our spirits up."

Syracuse was literally down early in the game as Vil-

Brandi Barnes early lead.
is divered back Katie Davis delivered back-to-back threes to start the scoring. After a Jaime James jumper, Vilthe lane for an $8-2$ advantope

But Syracuse turned the e around thantes mainly to game around, tham the 5 -foot- 8 a giant efrort from the 5-foot-8Surrov ayers boasting by Wildcat players boasting heights of 6trated the lane all evening, wreaking havoc wherever she went.

The Orangewomen freshman drained a four-foot jumper导iving SU its first lead at $9-8$. She twice drew contact underneath trying to put rebounds back up, and made three of four free throws as the Orangewomen went ahead 12-8.
"I like to rebound," Perry couple of days," said rookie guard Shannon Perry, who pitched in 15 points and a ca-reer-high 15 boards. "We"ve that working on it. We knew lhat they liked the backdoor a lot. So we just played the way They play. We went rignt to it buey tried to curl and back cut, but we just knew what they frying to get.
Record's game high 28 points was eight points better entire Nova frontcourt vil lanova's leading scorer, Jenea Skeeters, entered the game av eraging 14.6 points per contest but scored just 11 on the night. Seven of Skecter's points came in the second half when Syracuse already had the game in hand.

Without much of an inside game, the Orangewomen forced the Wildcats outside. The Wildcats put up 3-point attempt after 3 -point attempt, hoping for anything to fall.
*They've shot more three said. "I just box out and with my vertical $I$ can jump high, up to 1-foot-7, and not a lot of people can do that.

Both of Syracuse's scoring runs featured a quickened pace, preventing Villanova from play ing its slow-down, pass-the ball-around style.

The Wildcats' other trademark, their three-point shoot ing, faltered as well. Villanova, who normally averages 32 percent, shot a dismal 4-of-21 from behind the arc.

Despite the poor longrange shooting, Freeman said she never expected them to change their game plan.
'Villanova has shot more 3 pointers than any other team in the conference, and that's their game," Freeman said. "It's pretty hard to Anytime the Wildcats attempted to come inside, Tram mell and Lorna McPhee made sure they didn't get far.

Neither Trammell or McPhee saw significant min 14 utes through the season's first 14 games, but the two combined or six points and six rebounds in place of Aziz.

Aziz, who leads Syracuse with an average of 8.6 rebounds a game, sat with strained tenons in her foot.

McPhee said she knew Az iz's numbers would be tough to make up for.

Leigh's shoes are hard to fill," McPhee said. "Tara and I nnew it would be a big effort because rebounding is her specialty."

Record also came through with a big performance for the orangewomen. The junior forwhile also tallying her 700th career point.

With their first Big East victory in the books, Syracuse players said they are looking to build from here. The Orangewomen were scheduled to play at Seton Hall on Saturday, but the game may be postponed due to Wednesday morning's fire at Seton Hall.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
pointers than any other team in conference so that's their game, nameeman. when you play someone When you play someone else. you do. Tonight they just didn't you do. Tonight, they just didn't that we had something to do with that."

The Wildcats failed to make their first backdoor cut to the basket until point murd Katie Davis fed Skeeters on the right side until the first minute of the second half. However, Villanova's night of misery continued as Skeeters missed an easy layup.

Villanova's slow-down style backfired on them in other ways. Trailing just 25-20, the Wildcats wasted their last shot opportunity of the halfas Davis held the ball for a good portion of 20 ticks of the 30 -second shot clock.

Villanova wasted two more opportunities in the second half. They turned the ball over on two consecutive possessions due to questionable shot clock tenaterme. On both at ferced the Wildanewom poor last second shots beror poor lack he clock hit zero.

Nimova slowed down then-No. 6 Rutgers in Saturdays 6G-65 upset of the Scarlet Knights in Piscataway, N.J were just too quick Wednesday night.
"We knew that we couldn't allow (Villanova Head Coach) Harry (Perretta) to stand on the sideline and dictate the tempo," Freeman said. "I think that's what happened with Rutgers when they lost to them the other night.

The Orangewomen played without their leading rebounder, Leigh Aziz. The junior for ward is nursing a sprained tendon in her right foot and is list ed as day-to-day. Without Aziz in the lineup, reserve centers

Trammell and Lorna McPhee stepped up their games in place of the fallen player.

Trammell and McPhee played large roles in the win, as ter Brandi Bared starting cener Brandi Barneg the entire game on the defensive end boints and only two defensive points and onfy wive defensive mell chip. Offensively, Tram mell chipped in four points boards and notched two points

In her season-high 20 min tes, McPhee stuck to Barnes and was a factor in SU's ability to take Villanova out of its game.
"Personally, Villanova's style of basketball kind of annoyed me," McPhee said. "As a team, we don't like to be out there just passing the ball around. I hope we keep that up the next few games, and just not because its Villanova's style, but it is ours.

Test answers for sale over the internet.

Texttooks have all the answers. we have all igoun teattocks, online.

Stop at: wwwosyr:edu/bkst

$7^{\frac{1}{2}}$ arenything ypur need. AEL in one place.

© BOOḰK̇́IORE

Owned E operated by Syracuse University
Schine Student Center, 303 University Place, Syracuse, NY 13244-2020

January 20, 2000

WILLIAMS

continued from page 20
Making shots is what kept No. 6 SU afloat. The Orangemen knocked down 57 percent of 63 percots, including a blazing The Panthers hit a solid 4
The Panthers hit a solid 48 percent of their shots and ham boards. grabbing 17. Syracuse's boards, grabbing 17. Syracuse's too much for the Panthers to overcome.
"We just made shots," Syracuse coach Jira Boeheim said. That's the only reason we wor Tome, it's like going home with a loss."

Boeheim's club showed litle of the form that delivered an 80-57 rout over Notre Dame on Sunday. And by not continuing heir strong efrort against the Panthers, they narrowly es caped a near-sellout crowd of 6,645 and a near-upset loss to Pitt (8-7, 0-4).
SU played sloppy baskettimes. SU played sloppy defense, allowing backdoor cuts and wide-open layups.

The Daily Orange
"Pitt just played harder They played better," Boeheim said. "We can't play like this and expect to be successful in this league."

The Panthers led for most of the first half, paced by the stellar low-post combination of Ricardo Greer and Chris Seabrooks.

The 6-foot-5 Greer poured in 11 first-half points and grabbed eight rebounds, four on he offensive end. He hit midrange jumper and followed that with a layup off an offen sive board with 5:06 remaining in the first half to put Pitt ahead 29-23

SU's Preston Shumpert canned a 3-pointer 20 seconds later, but a Scabrooks layup and a tip-in by Derrick Worrell gave the Panthers a seven-point adantage.

Williams maintained his hot band from earlier, however and hit consecutive triples from the right wing to close the lead to one. The teams went into halftime tied at 35
We rode it." Boeheim said, referring to Williams' 3-point barrage. 'He hasa't been playing well. He hasn't been shoot ing that well in practice. But as gnew he was going to be all right."

Said center Etan Thomas: "DeShaun is the kind of player who won't give up. He's some body that can really score. And he has to be ready whenever coach calls on him, because one day it's one guy, and the nex day it's another guy. That's the way it is because we have a lot of people who can play.

Thomas Finished with a tough 17 points, going G-forfrom the field and hitting 5 of 6 free throws.

Pitt's $2-3$ zone focused on Thomas in the first half, limiting him to just three points. When the Orangemen tried to dump the ball inside to the 6 -foot-9 center, all five Panthers converged and forced him to kick the ball out to the 3 -point are.

Therein lies the impor tance of SU's marksmanship, Thomas said. After the Orangemen continued to drop defense from zone to a man to-man.

Taking advantage of the man coverage, point guard dason Hart -- who inisied with a career-high 11 assists - pouraded the ball inside to Thomas. His layup followed by a 6 -foot jump hook with 9:49 left in the game gave SU a $58-49$ lead.

With only Seabrooks shadowing him, Thomas flashed a multi-dimensional offensive game. However, when teams ag. gressively press him with a zone, Thomas has a tendency to get flustered.

I can't even explain to you how frustrating it is," he said. "But that's why we need to have guys like Preston and Tony (Bland) and DeShaun shoot the ball well -- so we can make them come out of the zone."

Seabrooks finished with 17 points on 7 -for- 9 shooting, sucThomas in the post like few thers have this season. Greer led the Panthers with 18 points and 10 rebounds

Hart added 12 points for SU, and Ryan Blackwell and Shumpert each chipped in with 10.

But it was Williams evening to star for the Orange men, a role the team generously distributes.

It is also a part Williams knows well, as he averaged 28.2 points per game at Paterson Catholic (NuI.) High School. And after a few slow games at Syra cuse, many thought he had hit the same "freshman wall" Bland and Shumpert ran into last season.

But with some advice from Bland and playing time from Boeheim, Williams seized the opportunity and saved the game.

I guess freshmen go through that," he said. "But my teammates tell me that they went through it and that have o keep my head up, keep work ing hita the tond tonith when irs my turn, and tonight it was my turn."

Boeheim said. "And the only thing that saved us was, really, thing that saved

The Orangemen finished the game shooting a sizzling 57 percent from the Fitzgerald floor, including a white-hot 48 percent from behind the arc have been even more impreshave been even more impressive. However, Syracuse tailed offrom its s-of-15 long-range periormance in the first halr the second stanza.

In the tradition of Shumpert's Sunday show, DeShaun Williams played the Pied Piper Wednesday and led his teammates into the 3 -point battle.

The free-shooting freshman nailed five threes on the night including four in the Eirst hall when he kept Syracuse in the game, letting Pitt's lead grow to no bigger than seven.

We're very fortunate Deshaun came in," Boeheim said He is a streaky shooter, and each hit two treys, including a each hit two treys, includinga 4:58 remaining and SU holding on to a precarious three-point edge.

Much of the reason for the long-ball game plan from SU in the last several games has been a result of opposing teams focusing on center Etan Thomas and attempting to take him out of the game. After the Notre Dame victory, Irish bead coach Matt Doherty admitted that his strategy had been to get Thomas in foul trouble

With opponents focusing on SU's man in the middle, the floodgates have opened for the Orangemen's stable of outside shooters.
"We have a lot of great shooters on this team," Bland said. "Different nights different guys can knock it down for you. Last game it was Preston. Tonight it was DeShaun. We have guys who can really hit the outside shot. We've been having our feet set and Jason's > been doing a grood job of getting us the ball."

> While the perform from behind the blue line was errific for the Orangemen their performance inside it and on the defensive end was less than-stellar.

> A much smaller Panther team matched SU on the glass with 29 rebounds and dominat ed the offensive boards, led by 6-foot-5 Ricardo Greer's six Greer and center Chris Seabrooks also had their way with Orangemen defenders al night, scoring 18 and 17 points respectively.

> Boeheim said after the game he knew that Williams and the rest of the bomb squad had been the team's saviors

> If they had made a coupl more threes it would have been really difficult for us to win this game, the SU head mannta ${ }^{\text {m }}$

A little  $r e a s$ surance for life's ups and downs.    To protect against AIDS and other STDs, always use latex condoms.

LEARN ABOUT LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTY. Share your experience abroad.

SYRACUSE

 STUDY ABROADhave you studied abroad?
Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA Invites youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27th 4:00-5:30РMAt the Underground in-Schine

by Devin Clark

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles
by Neil Swaab

Never Odd or Even

Oh My Gawd

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever

Area 52

by Sam Baker

$18\left[\right.$ classifieds $\begin{array}{l}\text { The Daily }{ }^{\text {Orange }} \text { January } 20,2000\end{array}$

NOTICE
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 $$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 ¢$ each additional word 54 extra each bold word 56 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Prepaid by:
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discove Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover
Dcadine: 2om 2 tu siness days rrior to run Dcadtine: 20m 2 business days prior tor ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue:
 - A A A A

EMPLOYMENT

| NEED |
| :---: |
| *SOME |
| EXTRA |
| CASH |
| Deliver |
| for |
| the D.O. |
| Next Semester |
| Between |
| 8:00am - |
| 12:00Noon. |
| Call |
| David Jack @ |
| 443-9794 |
| to Apply |

Gournet cottee bar located inside Main Lebby of SUNY Heahh Science Crt. is seeking Pt employee. 1-800-282-2233 ext. 1710 set up an intentie Camp Counselors Top Ovemight Camps in

Job Opportunities
Summer internshipaljobs; meaninglut, rewarding, uniquat 4 GFEAT COed Chidren's Cewarding, uniquet 4 GREAT Co-ed Chidren's. chitbohocusad slati. Swim, waler-ski, boalingleninis, outdoor readers, media, tand spots. and Group teaciers. ACA accordited programs.
Benerits: Salary. Room, Boand. Travel & Laund

New DYNAMIC Internet startup is looking for Enthusiastic unior & senior students to work PTT. Act as brand reps. Responsibilities include hiring brand team, creating & managing promotions. WKLY SALARY $$ $ $$ plus added incentives. Reps will be trained in NYC. all expenses paid. Please contact: Jen Hil 212-791-4033 or email jhill b -12.com

Wanted- Speech Therapy Student to Tutor Child
-

$=$ WANTED

Baby sitrer Sawrlay nighis lor 2 yowra ctildren Needs transportation and relerences. Call 682-0766.
Looking for a Nanny to come to our home in Manlius to watch our one year old son. B00AM, $5: 30 P M$ Thotorghly checked. Non:smokes orly. Please call

ChildeareAHousekeqper Naeded Monday inrough thursday late Altamoons. Must have Car. Please thursday late Altemoons. Must have Car. Please all $4,43-3024$ or email me al listone $Q$ syredu for urther intomation.
eeking reliable babysitter for my 3 yT old in my home. Thurs 6-10 and other times. 56.50 hour jease conlact Kaihyn 446-5923. Car preferred dinot nee.
Sabysitter Wanted Singte Dad needs heip with 68 year old boys Monday atternoors $3: 30$ to $5: 30$ pm. Wednesday momings and every other Monday moming 6.45 to $8: 15$ am. Wate thern in miny ameswille hosve. Call Fick $\oplus$ 492-2110 jamessulle or details.

Help Wanted
1500 weekly potential maiiing our tirculars. N Experience Hequired. Free intormation packet. Ca 202-452-7679.
Work for an exciting Collenge tocused Intemet company at your schooll Looking for motivaled individuats with strong leacersnip, entrepreneuria. and business sxils. Tech skils not required Great experience, pay and options! Contac infoevecommections.com

Eam $$ 5 S$ promoting artists lixe Nina troth Nails. Fiona Apple, Filler, Bush, and The Crystal Method No Exponence Necessary. Pease

Fraternitios" Sarorities ${ }^{\circ}$

Student organizations eam $$ 1,000-52,000$ with the asy campus/undraisef.com tiree nouis fundraising illing quickly, so call today! Comiact campuslundraiser.com, (ce8)923.3238, or visit www.campusiundraiser.com.

Roommates

oommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom partment close to campus parking fireplace Hoomnales Warted Femate, Male tor jike households walk to campus clean non- smoking environment call Lancliord 445-2430 Acommate 715 Lancaster $\mathbf{5 2 2 5}+$ Washer, Dryer.
Misc. Wanted
WANTED: 50 Serious People to toose weight ast. Sale. $100 \%$ Natural, Guaranleet

- 88.6886 .9767 mmw FiNsi

FOR RENT

The Millennium is here. Now set a job.  Teach for Kaplan.

If you scored well on the SAT (math or verbal), GRE, GMAT, LSAT, MCAT, or DAT and would like to help others do the same, teach for Kaplan.

Call today for teaching position in your area!

KAPLAN

1-888-KAPLAN2 www.jobs.kaplan.com

Univarsity Area 2.3 Becroom fumishod Apantionts
Jimb 68.7473

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Two Bedroan, Apartments on Euclid Fumished

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

|  |
| :---: |

Apartments   Dishwasher. THo Porches, OH Laundry. Carpet Hartwood Foors  Apantment 4Br. 2tull bath f.place hiwood lloor 1.room d.room pornt tree laundry avaiabia $\stackrel{\text { rume/2000 }}{46 \text { 2 }}$

Ackerman Beauiful Large Fumished Fats
Howses. 2,3,4,5,6 Eedroms. Porches. Fireplaces. Garages, Laundry. Pet OK 446-3420
Large Single Family furnished house. Parking. fireplace, Ifee laundry. dishwasher, mature tenant 682.3304

Acturman Avg, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Futrished Cappotod. walk to campus. Well maintained. 5/00-501 lease 446-7202 BEST LOCATION -REASONABLE PENT 228 Euclid, across from Shaw Dorm, 4 bed free parking, dishwesher, laundry, microwave.
new porch Verry or Tina- 474-7541, 446-631Q.

Unive

University nice quiat fumished $1,2,3$ bedro Hospitals reasomabite. Roommata for grad neede 478-2642

| LOOXAT THIS!  Three Bedroom Apartment  Spacious the Berdroom, completely lumished  apatment with ron lht Living floom with fireplace, Dining trom, kitctien and three lame  bedroms. and Bath OH street, garage parking Laundry tacitity in buiuding.  Five bedroom Houses  Spacious five Bedroon, completely fumished House with tront and fean porches Living Room witt fireotace. Eatitn Kitchen Wi's RIOOM with fireplace. Eatin Kitchen WI TWO FULL Eatrionss OHf streat parking wit garage FAEE Laundey facility in building. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm |
| :---: |
|  |  |

2 bedroom Apariment right on Marshall SL Fall Semester onit (1 Semester) August 2000 to December 31, 2000. Great locasiont Call 637-5779.
Constock nice quiet 1.2 bedroom apartments furnished utitites parking incluctec walk to SU hospitals reasonatio 478.2642
1-2-3 Eedroom Aparments, Beautiful, Spacious, OHtsreet Parking. Fuly Futnished, Low Uuitities,

Red Storm, Pirates challenge SU for top spot  With favored teams falling back in the pack and doubted  didn't look anything like the de-  won 12 of 13 , St. John's re-  teams behind them in the  to 18 points, his second lowest

ndividuals helping to carry standings this week are full of standings surprises

First of all, the Orange-Chuck undefeated.
Petraccione Although
big east
notebook schedule leaves a little to be desired, they have won all their games and should be pumped up for

And how about those Huskies? Who would have conference play, they'd be in cighth place in the standings.

And who are they behind?
And who are they behind? Deton Hall? Rutgers? Notre Dame? Most experts picked before the season began.

So what's going on? Well, a few early season upsets have led to a great deal of unpreonly team unaffected so far.

Sick as a dog

OK, so it would definitely be hard to follow up last year's championship season, but no this much.

After a season-opening loss to Iowa, the Huskies ralied to win their next 10 games plagaed them of late.

In home losses to Notre Dame and St. John's, and even in its win over Texas, UConn fending national champions. If and don't find scoring from and don't find scoring from someone other than Khalid ElAmin, they could be in serious trouble against hungrier Big trouble against East opponents.

Ahoy matey

The most surprising story in the conference thus far could be Seton Hall.

The Pirates are $12-3$ standing in second place in the league. Coming off a big 78-70 appeared ready to invade thal Carrier Dome on Saturday the Carrier Dome on Saturday.

The game, however, may be postponed after Wednes days tragic fire

Against the Johnnies on Tuesday, SHU got solid efforts from many different places. Senior Rimas Kaukenas tallied 16 points, while sophomore Darius Lane added 14

The big story, though, was freshman Samuel Dalembert, who posted 11 blocks, just one fewer than Dikembe Mutombo's Big East record.

Coming into this weekend's matchup against Syracuse, the Pirates won nine of their last ten games. And another streak they'd like to keep in tact against SU at the Dome.

Red hot

After its unexpected loss to Seton Hall, St. John's finds itself looking up at the Pirates in the standings

Before that loss, however, they were scorching. Having bounded from some early season losses to crack the Top 25 $\stackrel{a g a i n .}{\mathrm{St}}$.
St. John's gets solid efforts from all around, but none more important than Erick Barkley. The sophomore guard leads the team in scoring, minutes, steals, and is second in assists. He'll try to up all those numbers this weekend when he takes on one of the nation's best point guards.

Scoonie Penn and the Ohio State Buckeyes visit the Red Storm this Saturday. The game will be a rematch of last year's spectacular Elite Eight game, 74.

If St. John's can get some revenge this time around, it will serve as a big lift for them and the conference.

Eye of the storm

The Miarni Hurricanes are quietly putting together a solid season. Far removed from the rest of the conference geoing to do the same thing in the standings.

With a 10-7 record, good for fourth place in the Big East, Miami seems poised to make nament. In arder to succeed in their quest, the Canes need to win the close games.

They received some good experience at Villanova on Monday night when Johnny Hemsley's buzzer-beating 3 pointer gave them a $67-66$ vic tory. With their next six confer ence games coming against standings, the Hurricanes have an excellent chance to put some space between themselves and

Frankly Scarlet
The Knights aren't that bad. Although most people ex pected Rutgers to fall after los ing its top two scorers from a year ago, they're actually right where they staod last season where they stood last season.

Thanks in large part to the play of freshman Todd Billet, positioning Knemsts are $10-6$, posia bid they missed out on year ago. year ago.
ames like they did against Names like they did agains should have no problem. Billet did his best Preston Shumpert impersonation dropping in 31 impersonation, dropping in 31 points, including an 8 of 12 performance from behind the arc. The other thing working in

The other thing working in Rutgers favor is its schedule This season, they only play John's once apiece. That means monn's once apiece. That means level teams, and hopefully for RU fans, more wins.

Ixish blues

After a nice seven game winning streak, including a 75 70 win at UConn, Notre Dame has suffered two lopsided Big East losses.

Syracuse first slapped the Irish 80-57 on Sunday. Then, just two days later, Rutgers put an even worse beating on perstar Troy Murphy was held output of the season.

Despite their recent struggles, Notre Dame stands at 11is sophomiy, the biggest reason phy, who's averaging 24 points and 10 rebounds a game. But the surprise for the Irish came from freshman guard Matt Carroll. He's averaging nearly 10 points per contest and was the only player other than Murphy in double figures in the win over UConn.

Cupcake capital

Thanks to a perfect December, Georgetown owns a 10-6 record and looks to improve on last year's paltry 15 wins. But agey have yet the stiffest of competition.

Although most of those December wins came with comfortable margins of victory, the and Bethune-Cookman. And afand Bethune-Cookman. And after opening January with a hit the skids with a three game slide.

After turning things around with a solid win over Miami, they needed a last-second 3 - pointer by fevin Boston College on Tuesday. In addition to his game winning season-high 27 points and 8 rebounds

The Hoyas host UConn this Saturday. Although they lead that all-time series 24-13, they haven't beaten the Huskies since Feb. 3,1997 .

Ono Bedroom Apartrasits Close to Campus, Hilibies included, Oak floors. fire place. fumished, palking, very dean, laundry Call Garton $476-2982$. One +2 becroom fumished apartments. All utilities Laundry, parking, carpeting mecurity campus. Available inmediatoly. May ondugust. 446-9596. Iniversily 283 Bedroom TownHouses & Flats. nexpensswe and mint concition. Washer.1Pryer.

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND $4,5,6,7$ PARTMENTS, AND 4,5,
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM

Clean quibet 2-bedroom noo blocks from SU hospitals. Fumishod. All utitities paich $475-5900$

 June 1 liease.| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT |
| :---: |
| Periect for ore person. |
| All uttitits inclurged |
| S35s par month |
| Call Donna |
| 4494621 |

2Bedroom. 2 car garage. 125 Kensingtion Rd. comer ol inncaster S S550 472-2667.

$I$ Bedroant Fumished/ Unlumished. Walking Pastance 5.U. Laundry

Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments Luingston, Summer, Ackarman, Eucid 469-5665

FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

Best Buy on Hanisconst. Clean Cuiel.  Onabedroont and sturio June loasa. Fumished.

 Large 2 bedroort 2 full bath. Walking distancoS.U. off street perking. Laundry. Call 422 -7305. Houses
(5)And(6) Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adfacent to campus starting os335/ person
(t)446-3693 (t) 446 -3693

8t8 Westeof (near Euclid) 6 Bedrooms Carpet 4465185 on E Adans SL. Nemy remooched dathroans and

$3,4,5$ bedreom homes al reasonable prices, close landlorts. 682-7130

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Rooms
January Gradkate Students 2 large bedrooms rarraining benutiful horne dose to campus
682.7130 682-7130
Fumished room avelable for Spring Sarnestar ortonger. One block from campuc. Parking. taundry, alt utilities included. 446-9599

SUBLET

Room in 2 person ApL available slaning in Spring 2000 . Fumished competad. ait condtioned. Low utilites, t/2 block from campus. 475-7939 SERVICES

Travel

ACT HOWI Lasc chance lo reserve your spop for SPRING EREAKI Discounts tor 8 of morel South

 CANCUN SPRING BREAK From $$ 399$ Includes 14

Spring Braak Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nights $$ 2791$ indudes Moals! Awesome Eeaches. Nightsifel Doparts From Floridial Panama City Room With Kithen Next To Clubs, 7 Parites Room With kiththen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties & $$ 1491$ South Beach (Bars Open Unsil Sarmit $$ 1591$ COCOa Boach (Near Disney) $$ 179$ ! springbrealdravel.com 1-800-678-6385

orange  NOTES

Men's Basketball No. 6 Syracuse 82

Orangemen (15-0, 5-0) Player Brown Blackwell Thome Bland Williarns Williarns
Shumpert Griffin $\begin{array}{ll}\mathbf{p} & \mathbf{r} \\ 4 & 5 \\ 10 & 5 \\ 17 & 10 \\ 12 & 4 \\ 6 & 0 \\ 23 & 1 \\ 10 & 3 \\ 0 & 0\end{array}$

Planthers
Plat
p
P Player
Greer $8 \quad 10 \quad 3$ Seabrooks Lockhart Kolmes Taylor Taylor

Women's Basketball Syracuse 66

Orangewamen (8-7, 1-3) Player
Record
Perry
James Trammel
Ervin
Wright McPhee

Wildcats (9-6, 2-2)
Player
Juhline
Skeeters
Davis
Barnes Druckenmilier
${ }_{5}^{1}$ nell
Baker $\begin{array}{ll}\mathrm{p}_{2} & \mathrm{r} \\ 15 & 8 \\ 18\end{array}$ 8 3
6
6 Schroeder

Lax Attack

Syracuse's chase for an 18 in consecutive men's lacrosse fin a 1999 national 4 with onship lame re match at the University of Virginia according to $\mathrm{SU}^{\circ} \mathrm{s}$ spring 2000 schedule released Wednesday.

The Orangemen host five games inside the Carrier Dome this spring highlighted by visits from perennial powers Johns Hopkins on Mar. 17 and Loyola on Apr. 7. SU also entertains Hobart, UMass and Georgetown Besides the opening jaunt to Charlottesville. coach John Desko's club visits Jowson, Brown Cornell, Rutgers and Princeton. The Pengempania meet Pennsylvania white

SU will atso pla in an annual Spring Break tussle Mar. 11 in Boca Raton, Fla.

sports trivia

Q. When did the Tennessee
Titans/Houston Oilers last lose an NFL playoff game?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. Which former Pitt guard coached Duquesne to the top of the Atlantic 10 standings earlier this week?
A. Darelle Porter

Freshman DeShaun Whliams scored 23 points, drilfing five shots from threepoint land, as 54 won its 15 th straight game 8272 at Pitt on Whodnosday BY JEFF PASSAN Asst. Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH -- Six minutes into Wednesday's showdown against Pitts burgh, DeShaun Williams quietly entered the Syracuse lineup.

The freshman, hobbled by an ankle last three contesto stepped onto the hardwood in the mids of a 12-2 Panther run.

Assuining his usual offensive posi on on the outside wing, Williams spotted up and popped a 3-pointer two minutes after coming into the game.

He then canned another triple, and finished the half with two more for a total of 14 points. His five $3 s$ and careerhigh 23 points saved the Orangemen from their first loss of the season in a sloppy 82-72 victory at Fitzgerald FieldHouse.

And in doing so, Williams continued a trend vital to SU's 15-0 (5-0 Big East) start-a different player stepping up every night and scoring clutch buck ets.
"Each night it's going to be different," Williams said. "It doesn't make a difference whether it's me or anyone else. (starting) five, but tonight I was the one making the shots."

See WILLIAMS page 16

Lon -range attack carries red hot Orangemen pastilowhivpittsburghis 24

 Wednesday nights Sr cetre fot from bebind the threepontyrandyroughtomedrionerangear

 Thtand Fitz̈geralafield Howse withtheiv recordetilanan viphemad

SU pummels Villanova

BY ALISON HISCHAK
Staff Writer
Syracuse women's basketball coach Marianna Freeman decided to try something new during practice this week - working out at the other end of Manley Fieldhouse.

Instead of running their plays at the near end of the court, the Orangewomen shot at the far basket during practice.

The bucket change helped Syracuse to a atrong second-half start, away late for a 66-42 victory over Villanova on Wednesday night at Manley Fieldhouse.
-We had been shooting there because the other basket has not been kind," Freeman said. "The last few days we have executed our stuff at (the far end). It's almost like it was foreign to us, and I think that had something to do with it."

See CATS page 15

su glard Jambe James helred hold Vllanova to a seasorlow 42 points as $5 U$ rollod past the Wildcats 66-42.

Quick pace brings first league win

BY KEVIN LEITZELL
Staff writer
After practice on Tuesday afternoon, Jakia Ervin compared Villanova's offense to Princeton men's lanova's offense to Princeton mets of backdoor cuts.

But during Wednesday night's 66-42 win over Villanova at Manley Field House, the Orangewomen made the Wildcats look more like a high school junior varsity squad.

The Orangewomen (8-7, 1-3 Big East) employed pressure man-toman defense and an up-tempo transition garme to confuse Villanova and style of offense.

See DEFENSE page 15

FRIDAY
January 21, 2000

Snow and rusty winds creating cold wind chill Saturday:
Snow 16/4 Sunday:
Snow 28/14
briefs............ 2
comics ....... 13
classifieds 14
editorial ......... 7

The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper paying RESPECTS
Seton Hall postpones visit to SU following deadly dorm fire.
See Sports.
On ICE
Syracuse Stage pres:
a chilling tale of nd , iage.
See Lifestyle.

Bradley gains SU support

GY NICHOLAS STEFFENS Staff Writer

With the primary election season beginning in less than a week, SU for Bill Bradley formally commenced last night in support of the former New Jersey senator's bid for the U.S. presidency.

There weremany students who supported Bradley on the Syracuse University campus but they were not connected in any way, group coordinator Brooke Schiferle said.
"We're all here because we want to see Bill Bradley nominated in Los Angeles," said Scott Lipton, a group member. "That's our goal."保 plete before the Feb. 1 New Hampshire primary.

The group is planning a trip to New Hampshire the weekend before the primary. People who volunteer to attend will work for the Bradley campaign by calling people, distributing literature and going door-togroup who has previously worked with the Bradley campaign in the first primary state.
"It's not going to be glamorous, but there's probably a chance you'll get to meet Bradley," said Schiferle, a senior political science major, to the group members.

See BRADLEY page 15

City Affairs

Urban League loses city center funding
BY ERICKA JONES
Contributing Writer
Eleven Syracuse community groups, announced early this month by the University Neighborhood of $$ 290,000$ from the City of Syracuse Fund for 2000 , of $$ 290,000$ from the City of Syracuse Fund for 2000 , an annual donation by Syracuse University. The Urever, was not among those recommended. ever, City legislation, not SU, named the groups Jan. 5 and shortly after released the amount of funding to be allocated, said Judy Schmid, Southeast University Neighborhood chairperson of UNSAAC.

See URBAN page 4

Rep. James Walsh speaks Thurs day to the Thurs day Morning Roundtable program at Drumlins Country Club. Walsh addrassed U.S. foralgn policy, the military and his personal endorsement for the 2000 presfidential election.

Walsh

BY KEVIN TAMPONE
Staff Writer
Rep. James Walsh (R-Syracuse) addressed topics ranging from U.S. foreign policy in Third World nations to his endorsement of a presidential candidate Thursday during a discussion at Drumlins Country Club.

The event is part of the Thursday club on 800 Nottinghnm Road. his speech focused comments during his speech focused mainly on the Unit-

State Senate debates

lobbying restrictions
BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Staff Writer
New York state Gov. George E. Pataki recently signed a bill into law that expands state limitations on lobbying practices. State senators, however, argue that the new law should now be amended to further restrictions.

Pataki signed the law Dec. 30 to override an older version that would have expired by the new year. It is also directly connected to the New York State Temporary Commission on Lobbying's investigation into the lobbying practices of tobacco giant Philip Morris, said Ralph Miccio, a spokesperson for the commission.

Lobbying is a political strategy used by public interest groups and corporations to garner support in state and federal legisla cies of its gif giving to the lammission of its gift giving to the commission.

The law increases the number of times a lobbyist must report expenditures to the commission and extends the length raises civil penalties for a lobbyist who fails to frle bi-month

See LOBBY page 5

City Affairs

City welcomes Census bureau
BY CAROLINE CHEN
Contributing Writer
A ribbon-cutting ceremony launched the Syracuse branch of the Bureau of the Census Wednesda morning in preparation for the 2000 Census.

The standing-room-only crowd gathered at 2 Clinton Square to listen to remarks minde by several community Ieaders, including Onondaga County executive Nicholas Pirro. Pirro spoke aibout the vaiue of an accurate census and the responsibility of every citizen to fill out the questionnaire.

The census is the way we ensure ourselves ofappropriate representation, but more importantly, bringing in fed public to participate in the censuts. "To all citizens out there, this is your re sponsibility, this is an important re sponsibility. Let's start off this new

See CENSUS page 3

TOM WYCz/The Daily Orange
Regtie Selelor (far lett), Mai Lan Purmam, Clank Billings, Mayor Roy Eemardi, Fanny Villarreatho Canavan, Coumty Executive Nicholas PIrro, Rov. Edmund Ryan and Dr. Ruben Cowart curt the nibbon Thursday for the new

[briefs]

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Past news service

tidbits

'Triple therapy' aids in HIV fight
intermittent drug treatment may actually be better than continuous treatment for some HIV-positive patients, researchers reported Thursday.

The research team, led by Franco Loni and Julianna Lisziewicz of Georgetown University in periodically stopping that periodically stopping ently boosted the ently boosted the immune systems of two studied, allowing the patients to safely fort patients to safely forgo antiviral drugs for prolonged periods.
The findings, reported o The Lancet, a European medical journal, raise the possibility that HIV patients may be able to take lengthy breaks from their pillbreaks from their pillheavy, occasionally unpleasant treatments, even if an outright cure even if an outright cure remains beyond reach.

Cinton proposes

tuition tax break

WASHINGTON, D.C. - With a New York senator wanna-be at his side Thursday, President Bill Clinton proposed giving families a tax break on college tuition bills and college tuition bilis and adding federa! funds for higher education schola ships. With a nod to Sen. Chartes Schumer, D-N.Y., and first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton, Clinton told Cabinet aides and a roomful of students and roomful of students and get he introduces in February will include $$ 30$ billion to finance a deduction of $$ 10,000$ a year in college tuition costs for middleincome families over the next decade. He also announced an expansion of programs targeted to lowand mid-dle-income students.
Study finds disruptive protein in heart cells Researchers have discovered an abrommal protein in heart cells that disrupts the heart's ability to contract normally and send the necessary amount of blood through out the body.

This condition, called "stunning," can be a complication of opert heart surgery, and could also be the trigger for the also be the trigger for the most common type of most common type of affecting millions of affecting mill Arrericans.

This is the first moleo ular glitch identified in the heart's "contracting" machinery in nongenetic forms of heart disease.

Clinton advises Arafat

WASHINGTON, D.C. With a blunt warning that no side can ever get all it wants at Bill Clinton on Thursday urged Bill Clinton on Thursday urged Palestinian Authority President ities for peace talles with Israel, ities for peace talks with Israel, important and preparing to compromise on the rest.

Clinton's White House meeting with Arafat came less than a month before the Feb. 13 target date for Israel and the Palestinians to complete work on a "framework" agreement sketch ing a resolution for all the main points in a comprehensive peace points in a comprehensive peace later.

In any process like this, there must be inevitable and difficult compromises," Clinton told Arafat during a brief public session before their private meeting. "No one can get everything that either side wants."

Although it might seem evident that negotiations require give and take, Clinton's emphasis on the point underlined Washington's growing frustration with the reluctance by the Israelis and Syrians, as well as the Palestinians, to compromise in U.S.-mediated peace taiks that to be on the brink of success.

Arafat and Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak agreed during a late-night summit this week to redouble their efforts to meet the February deadline for a don't consider the target date to be particularly important in itself, but they say the two sides must complete a framework soon if they hope to craft a final treaty before Clinton leaves office.

national news

Grandparents plan U.S. visit

WASHINGTON, D.C. Elian Gonzalez's two grandmothers plan to travel from Cuba to New York Friday and possibly then to Miami to meet with their six-year-old grand son.

The two women, Mariela Gonzalez and Raquel Rodriguez, received visas from the U.S. Interests Section in Havana Thursday afternoon, ac cording to Spokesman James P. Rubin. York with representatives of the York with representatives of the National Council of Churches porting demands that he be returned to Cuba.
U.S. officials said they made clear in issuing the visas that Washington could not guarantee that the two women will not be served with subpoenas, either by Congress or in two separate court actions in volving Elian. Both women had said they refused to participate in any legal proceedings and would come to this country only to pick up the boy. with his Miami great-uncl with his Miami great-uncle since the Thanksgiving holiday, after he was rescued from a and nine others.

Russian general hurt or killed

NAZRAN, Russia - A Russian general who is deputy commander of the army that ha spearkeaded the offrensive agains Chechnya was killed or captured Thursday while visitang a part of the Rinssians claim is under thei control.

Maj. Gen. Mikhail Malofeyev of the North Caucasus army is the highest ranking officer to become a casualty in Russis's five-month-ald War to pacify the breakawray region. Russian officials said he wras misaing and was either wounded or billed during fierce fighting in Grozny, while the Chec they had captured him.

Pope pleads for clemency

LOS ANGELES - Pope John Paul II has appealed to Republican front-runner George W. Bush to stay the execution of a Texas man scheduled to die by lethal injection on Tuesday for a murder he committed while he was a juvenile.

The pope's intervention, just a few days before the Iowa caucuses kick off this year's presidential race, puts the spotlight on Bush's strong support for the death penalty114 executions have been conducted in Texas during his five ducted in Texas during his five years in office, more than under any other governor in the Uer any other governor in the Supreme Court reinstated capital punishment in 1972 .
Moreover, the pending execution of Glen C. McGinnis, 26 , who shot and killed the owner of a dry cleaning shop north of Houston nine years ago, also focuses attention on the fact that the United States is one of only five nations in the world that permits executions of individuals for crimes committed while they were minors. The other four are Iran, Nigeria, Pakistan and Saudi Arabia - some of whose regimes are frequently crit

world news

Russian television reports said Malofeyev was visiting sol diers and urging them to stand up and fight instead of lying prone to ide from snipers. The reports which could not be confirmed, aid the general was shot in the anck and head while delivering the ecture.

Informant works

 with authoritiesMONTREAL - An Algerian living in Brooklyn, charged with assisting in a terrorist bombing plot, has begun to cooperate with U.S. investigators and has provided details about the small network that allegedily pian FBI affidavit, made public

Dorm fire causes scare at Cornell

Seven Cornell University students either slept through or ignored a fire alarm early Thursday morning after a trash room fire evacuated the Sperry Residence Hall, according to a statement by Douglas R. Viet, Ithaca Fire De partment assistant chief.

After extinguishing the trash fire, firefighters found the students while conducting a search of the building to ensure that all 100 resi-

Ten fireficuated the building.
Ten frefighters and officers responded to the 2:06 a.m. fire that activated the building's sprinkler sys term. No student or firefighter injuries were reported and most residents were allowed to

Fire and water damage was contained to the trash room and preliminary findings have ruled the fire accidental, according to Viet's statement. Damage from smoke circulating throughout the bvilding was minimal.

Based on their findings, authorities believe that a resident may have deposited charred papers thought to have been extinguished into a trash chute that probably ignited other trash, according to the nited other trash, according to the statement.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Emily Kulkus
here Thursday.
The informant, Abdel Ghani Meskini, spent several days in Seattle with Ahmed Ressam, before Ressam was arrested Dec. 14 while carrying 200 pounds of explosive materials, the affidavit said.

Meskini's cooperation came to light Thursday during a hearing in which a Montreal judge denied bail to Mokhtar Haouari another member of the alleged conspiracy, who has been indicted on charges that he aided and directed Ressam's activities on the West Coast. Meskini was arrested on Christroas day after bolice found his telephone num in Ressam's pocket.
The FBI also revea
it has at least one other that mant with close ties to the group.

campus calendar

TODAY

$\square$ Cancellation: Due to the basketball game cancellation, Len Berman will not be coming to Syracuse today and his 3 p.m. talk is canceled.

- The Contemporary Theatre presents "Picasso at the Lapin Agie" at 7:30 p.m. at Happy Endings in Armory Square.

EArchbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host. Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. There is open recreation, free aerobics, games and other activities.

TODAY-TOMORROW

W The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Bob Phillips and Melvin George at

SATURDAY

E Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 am . There is open recreation, free aerobics, games and other activities.

SUNDAY

EThe Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a Welcome Luncheon at noon. Ca

W The College of Visual and Performing Arts presents senior saxophonist Krista Santos at $2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. in Crouse College.

Cll Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill" at 2 p.m. and $7: 30$ p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets students and groups. Cail 443-3275 for more information.

T The Salt City Center for Performing Arts presents "Othello" at 7:30 p.m. at 601 S. Crouse Ave. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 18$, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 474 1122 for ticket information.

MONDAY

ESports Broadcaster and Newhouse alumnus Sean MeDonough speaks at 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Studio B, continued from page 1 stamps oversens. That's sad. If we're going to put these people in harm's way, we need to support them."

WALSH

Walsh also expressed a committement to n continued program of aid to Third World countries with high debts, in response to a later comment
"There's a lot of poor countries that have debts that can't be repaid, said Frank Woolever, 66, of Syracuse ge problems of its own at has large problems of it's own at home, we cannot ignore suffering coun thes because of our status as a world U. S. continues to force countries to continue to "devalue their mones," it will only cause larger problems, he added.

Election 2000

In addition to addressing issues in domestic and foreign affairs, Walsh endorsed Texas Gov. George W. Bush for the 2000 presidential owring his political career

CENSUS

continued from page 1
millennium by making sure we're all added."

Although the bureau officially opened todisy, preliminary operatons began a year ago, Burenu Ce sus Manager Clark Billings said.

The census is conducted once every 10 years and data tabulation takes place from April to June, said Jemn Fogers, assistant manager of prepared for the 2000 Census by verifying addresses and training employecs.
Special populations
College students will be counted at school, not at their permanent addresses, said Emilie Sisson, as sistant manager of administration because college kids ure in the area using that area's resources.

Questionnaires will be delivered to residence halls April 1, how ever, permanent residents will receive the forms in March and are asked to complete them by April 1.

Stuclents are traditionally a dif ficult demographic group to count, said Special Places Operations Su pervisor John Spring, Jr., a 1987 Syracuse University graduate. He said he has contacts in the housing office at SU and is working closely with university officials to make sure the count is as accurnte as possible.

Spring added that he is hoping to put together an event at the Schine Student Center to excour age students to fill out question Et Ethnic and language differences caused underrepresentation of Fanny Villarreal-de Canavan, a representative of the Spanish Action resentative or the Spanish Action termined to fix the problem, sh said. .
"Getting counted is important because it means federal funding is channeled to the right ploces," saic Mai Lan Putnam, a representativ of the refugee community of Syra cuse's North Side.

There is also difficulty in acecu rately accounting for the Latino community, Villarreal-de Canavan said.

The center will provide ane-on one confidential assistance to help overcome language barriers, Put nam added.

One of the bigest challenges or taking a census is the reluctance of the public to share information, which has resulted in underrepre sentation in post cenaus counts Sissom said. She added that the burealu is rensitive to the needs of special poprulations and will work as a partmer with the community.

As the ooly femsile manager at the berrean, Sisson also approaches battered women in shelters to maske sure they feel cormfortable filling oat the questionnaire.

Although the questionnaire does not allow for totral ancaymaily capable leader and the best candi date running, Walsh saic.
"I happen to think that gover ors make the best presidents," he xplained. "He has experience as rovernor of Texas, he was re-elected and by all accounts he has done a pretty good job down there. It's a big tate with lots of complex issues."

Bush can also help expand the Republican Party's voter base with his theory of compassioninte conser Party leadecause the Republican Party leadership is often reflected to cone Bative tor conntr Walsh sod. Bu peal, he added

Bush also deserves endorse ment because he proved be is a trong candidate in the Syracuse rea and throughout New York state, aish said. Unlike his rival, Arizona Sen. John McCain, Bush gained nough support to appear on the bal ot in all of New York's 31 congres onal districts, in spite of the state" demanding clection laws. MeCain was only able to gain the necessary number of petition signatures to ap number of petition signatures to "Our laws are awful." Walsh said. They make it next to impossi ble for someone to get on the ballot cause each of the responses' categories is separately tabuiated, Sis son said.

The information is not shared with the Immigration and Naturalization Service, social services, or anyone else," Billings said.

Rogers said census takers are typically reeruited from and as it is preferable for them to be famil iar with the area in which they are working

The nationwide margin oferror is less than 5 percent, Sisson said. To further optimize its accuracy, state and local governments verify the bureau's mailing list. She said is the government disagrees with the bureau's numbers, the data is reex amined, in some cases as often as three times.

This year the bureau is making major changes to improve the accu racy of its results, including an online questionnaire ww.census.gov.
The bureau is setting up abou 17 questionnaire assistance centers to provide language aid, information to educate the public and answers to any questions, said James Outlaw, a questionnaire assistance center supervisor.

Outlaw, a 1098 SU graduate, added that the census form is avail able in 37 linguages.

The Bureau of the Census is lookine to hire consus takers, Rogers said To qualify for a position, applicanization math and map readin soills To schedule a test reall $4 \%^{2}$ 6121 Census tale a test, call 422 work 25 hours per weak at $$ 1150$ an hour.
here, but until they are changed that's the way it is. If he was more or-
Walsh's Irish connection
TMR takes place every Thursday from September through June, Director Sandra Barrett said. The program, sponsored by Syracuse University Continuing Education and University College, celebrates its 35 th anniversary this year, she added. Yesterday's edition of 'TMR only drew 70 of the group's 200 members

The weckly TMR specehes, which begin at $8.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$., are only open to TMLR mernbers, who include community leaders and concerned citizens from the Central New York area, Barrett said Each Sunday at 4 p.m., 91.3 WCNY-FM broadcasts the week's full TMMR program.
vited Wrash to spenk about peace in Northern Ireland beacuse he is an active proponent of the United States' involvement and travels here regulariy. Walsh is chairper son of the Fnends of Ireland, a con ressional group working for peace in the area. He was also present in Northern Ireland for some of the most significant events in the peand process, including the swearing-in of the region's new, independent Na tional Assembly.

"The war is over. The politicians listened. The paramilitaries listened The world listened," Walish said. The fight in a sense still con tinues, but the real war is over. The farmies in Protestant and Catholic neighbornoods in Northern Ireland

Despite the cemarkable peace." hat recently ocoured in the proa the hew sesembly has a difficult tast in forging a lating end to violence Walsh said Both leaders in the trou and in the United States are opurnistic, however, that the re peace, he added

The major problems facing Northern Ireland now rest with the leaders of the various political par ties and their willingness to learn to work together and compromise fo the good of all their people, Walsi explained. Even in the earlies stages of the peace process, however leaders began to trust each other and engage in productive discussion, he added.

In order to get where we are the Republic of Ireland had to drop it's constitutional claim to Northern Ireland. Great Britain also had to drop it's claim. That was not easy for el wor the first time int sur. For the first the in its histo ry, a majority of the people living there will decide it's fate."

ALL OF US ARE RELATED, EACH OF US IS UNIQUE

To foster the continuing struggle against racism, SU's exhibition on the illusion of race is back in the Schine Center, following an international tour. Come to Schine 227 to view the panels and the videos that challenge the idea that our diversity reflects "race"

And... save Feb. 1, 7, pm for a forum in The underground on
"Why do we still have racism, if there are no biological races?"

Schine 22710 AM - 8PM everyday Free admission Sponsored by The Division of Student Affairs

Martin Luther King Celebration 2000

Seminar with

Lani Guinier

Announcing a "call and response" seminar with this year's MLK Celebration Keynote Speaker, Professor Lani Guinier. Professor Guinier, the first black woman tenured professor at Harvard Law School, was propelled into the limelight as President Clinton's controversial first nominee to head the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department. Cut through the media soundbites and come hear what this thoughtful and energetic scholar really has to say regarding representative democracy. The seminar is free and open to the public:

> Sunday, January 23
> 3:00 p.m.
> Maxwell Auditorium

Raception Jollowing

questions ancestry, human race

BY NICK SERRANO
Staff Writer
Fresh off a worldwide tour, an exhibit questioning the conentific evidence that all humans share a common ancestor, returned Monday to Syracuse University's Schine Student Center.

The exhibit, "All of Us Are Related; Each of Us is Unique," consists of 18 panels of graphics, photos and text, a $27-$ mied "Six Billion Rnces" entitred Six Billion Races" and a The panels and video, on display in room 227 of Schine, play in room 227 of Schine, cause people from different

LOBBY

continued from page 1
$1 y$ and quarterly reports from $$ 5,000$ to $$ 25,000$ and makes it a felony for a lobbyist to file incorrect reports more than once, Miccio said. Randorn audits of corporathe law, he added.

A spokesperson for state Rep. Michael Bragman (D-Syracuse) confirmed in October that Bragman accepted gifts from Philip Morris lobbyist Sharon Portnoy between 1993 and 1996. In 1993, Portnoy contributed $$ 500$ to the Bragman for Assembly Re-Election Committee, according to Philip Morris expense disclosure reports.

That same year, she gave an unspecified amount of funding to and Republican state Sen. John DeFrancisco's campaign. Portnoy parts of the world have different physical traits, all people "The thing that struck The thing that struck me the most was the dramatic and convincing evidence that there convincing evidence that there Marshall Segali, an SU profes sor who saw the exhibit in Europe and then translated it into English. "It's an illusion. That's got to strike you as quite a remarkable fact

The original exhibit, "Tous Parents, Tous Differents," was created by a team of European geneticists and biological an thropologists about 10 years ago. In January 1998, the SU The College of Arts and Sciences supported the production has since been barred from lobby ing in the state for three years by the commission

The major issue is that the commission now has the power to conduct random audits on lobbything," Miccio said.

The legislation, however, has the potential to alter the relationship between lobbyists and the commission, Miccio said. In past years, the commission has served as a source of information for lobbyists, but will now become a watchdog of their actions, he added.
"There's more pressure on the commission than there was beout the law and it puts a burden on the commission."

The eight-member commission requested additional staff from the state to fulfill these responsibilities, he said.
of an English version of the exhibit, which made its United States debut in Schine, said and political prychology ocia and political psychology.
ents," is still on display DifferMusé is de lillonome in Paris, Musee de Segall said.
SU, After being displayed at SU, the English version traveled to Bellingham, Washington; Cleveland; San Francisco; Winnipeg, Canada; Hong Kong and Melbourne, Australia.

The exhibit is expected to get a good response from students this year because of its success two years ago, said
Roland Shelton, event superviRoland Shelton, event sup sor for student programs.

Professors of subjects rang-
On Dec. 14, the Sennte unanimously passed the initial version of the bill, authored by state Senate Majority Leader Joseph Brano (ruaratoga Springss, which banned legislators from accepting free meals from lobbyists and rerree meals from lobbyists and reduced the value of gifts legislators though the bill passed unanimous$l y$ in the Senate, the rneal and gift restrictions were rejected by the Assembly.
"It addresses the negative perception of lobbyists," said Mark Hansen, a spokesperson for Bruno. The Senate felt it was an effective way to ban lobbying practices and restor re." The entire Senate agreed to ide by a voluntary ban on gifts and meals to pressure the Assembly to approve the legislation in its upcoming session, seid Hansen, a 1981 Syracuse University graduing from English to anthropology have asked to hold classes in Schine, room 227, later this Fres, Shelton said.

Freshman photojournalism major Kira Hinds said she whilosophy professor's urging. "It gave a differentper spective and I'll have more background information in class," Hinds said. "It was in teresting how our culture has separated us into groups when our characteristics may not ac tually be that way in nature."

Senior Melanie Grodanz said she initially thought the Luther King Day.
'It's an important message ate.
"Sen. Bruno has continued to raise the issue and we will push for it again in hopes that legislators added.
(R-Syra. Nancy Lorraine Hoffman (R-Syracuse) argued for tougher publicly voiced hs last session and in the new legisla disappoid Sarkis Harootunian, her spokesperson.

The purpose of the gift ban was to limit the appearance of leg islators being bought by lobbyists," Harootunian said. "And there is an appearance when the gift being given is valued at more than $25. We're going to keep pushing for it."

Assembly Speaker Sheldon Silver was strongly opposed to passing the legislation in the Asmeal bans, spokesperson Patricia Lynch said.
said Grodanz, a television, ra dio and film major. "It's a great message and certain people are ignorething like this opens your something But
But Ben Gabriel, a senior film major, said he knew mosi exhibit already
"It's nothing really new," Gabriel said. "I already understood that we were all related, but I definitely think the ex hibit is a nice gesture.

The Office of Student Affairs will hold a panel discus sion and open formm about 1 in derground.
"If you're talking about meaningful lobbying reform, there are three goals that should be accom plished," she said. "There should tougher penalties and tourher tougher peralices and campaign fnance reform

75 dollar can you compare a $$ 25$ dollars in soft money tiven of dollars in soft money given to bers do not add up.

Despite criticism from the Senate, the Assembly does not plan to approve legislation this ses sion that includes provisions on gifts and meals that legislators may accept from lobbyists, Lynch said.
"There's not one member of the the Assembly who can be influenced. They vote on behalf of Senate wants to she said. "If the separate from to do something, it sue is done, over, resolved. Next."

Have you studieo abroad?
Are you interested in studing abroad?

dipa Invites youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27th4:00-5:30РMat the Underground in SchineLearn about living in another county.SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE ABROAD.

RSVP AT X9425 OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

PREVIEW 2000

Summer Orientation Program

 is hiring Summer Orientation Leaders Nor for the Summer of 2000!Orientation Leaders (OLs) are key players in Syracuse University's summer orientation program for first-year students. OLs are representatives of Syracuse University who work with students and parents in small and large groups to answer questions, provide information, offer support and share first-hand experiences. In the selection process, PREVIEW 2000 is looking for undergraduate students who welcome responsibility and are enthusiastic, flexible, sensitive, resourceful and work well with others. This position offers more than just a summer job; it offers valuable experience, personal satisfaction, life-long friendships and a chance to make a difference at SU.

An application and job description will be available at information sessions on January 19 at 6:00 PM in 500 Hall of Languages, January 20 at 12:00 Noon in 232 Schine Student Center, and January 25 at 5:00 PM in 500 Hall of Languages, or from the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs
Division of Student Affairs
306 Steele Hall or Schine Student Center Information Desk.

Application and references are due by $\underbrace{8}_{\Omega}$ February 7, 2000

For more information, contact Mary Jo Custer, Director of Student Affairs at 443-4357.

Did New Year's Eve live up to your expectations?

Students react to the Y2K hype, media coverage and celebrations.

4 fell asleep during the party. People wanted to do something different, but there wasn't anything different to do.

IENNIFER PETRILLO Human Development Class of 2001

4 just stayed in with my family, the same thing I do every yeary

LATESHIA SMITH
Social Work
Class of 2002

61 made sure I came home early and hung out with ny mom, who made sure I was protected. $\%$

TOM RANGER
Class of 2000

61 was in Wisconsin and was embraced by a bunch of over-zealous Bears fans who were happy because I wasn't a Packer because I wasn't a Packer fan. I had no expectations fan. I had no expectations for Y2K. but I had a good for Y2K
time.

MATT ENTIN

Class of 2001

Armageddon fans missed out this year

We missed out. Sure, the media talked about how the nillennium celebration was a complete success, how nothing went Matt wrong, but those Kaiser see you next century become painfully clear to me. No sooner had I yelled "Happy New Year!" when it hit me like a skydiving monkey. I realized that for all of the hype, for all of the articles, countrowns and twenty-four hour extravaganzas, one thing was being saily overlooked. With the passing of the new millennium, God threw his sense of dramatic timing right out the window. Sure, there will be other chances for the apocalypse, but could they ever pack the emotional punch, the sensational tension and the climactic release of a Jan. 1 , 2000 holocaust? This was the time. People were mobilized, excited, prepared to meet their doom with a happy face and a glass of champagne. The cameras were ready, the tape was rolling, and the anticipation was palpable.

Think of the squandered opportunities. We had the chance to watch our fellow humans go up in smoke live on ABC. What could be better? With the time difference, we could have watched at least eight hours of rapture before it was our turn. If relatives lived to the east, we could find out if they went to heaven or hell before we faced judgement ourselves - how exciting and informative!

Now we are faced with the grim reality of a surprise apocalypse. One day, the world will just vaporize and most people will be asleep, in the bathroom, or waiting for the water to boil. No magazine articles, no countdowns, no TV specials - nothing. Just a boring old Armageddon without any hype, and really, what fun is that? So celebrate the new millennium all you like, but the fact remains. We missed out.

Matt Kaiser is a senior advertising major.

New York City fails Y2Khaos compliancy

"What are you doing for New tion a thousand times, but this year it seemed even more important.

bugged year.) So I had to deade was l going to spend a quiet night in my Y2K prepared shelter with a couple of cases of water and some cans of Spaghetti-Os? Or was I going to party my butt off and go out with a bang. Since I don't have a shelter and I hate Spaghetti-Os, I chose the latter.
Much to the dismay of many

Y2K concerned elders, I spent my New Year's Eve in New York City: Although I wasn't among the masses penned up for hours waiting to see the ultimate crystal ball fall. I did manage to scam my way past the road blocks and fine NYPD to see the crazy madness they call Times Square At five to midnight, my slightly inebriated butt went up to the roof to await the midnight hour. The countdown began and my usually skeptical side started to wonder would the fateful YRK happen?

So the YOK arrived. My lights were still on, my water is still flowing and my computer works and I have to ask was Y2K all just a bunch of hype? My answer from the clear vision of hindsight is yes. Iske

New Year's Eve itself, it was a Iet down. This craziness builds and down. This craziness builds and happens. Everyone toots their Yoarns" and screams "Happy New priced alooholic beverame overchampagne and you kiss called champagne and you kiss everyone hits and the party is just like ang other. And now that everything is said and done, I just hope to never hear the phrase" 'Y2K" again.

Stephanie Wu is a senior and president of University Union. Quotes compited by ASHOK SELVAM

61 went to a little gettogether to wateh the ball drop and people got messed up. It was strictly just a ploy by companies to sell stuff at higher prices.?

ANDREW FITTING

Engineering Class of 2000

There was a little trouble in New Zealand, but we were prepared. We expected tragedies, but they didn't tragedies, but they didn't happen because we knew happen because we about the problem.

MAGGIE HUANG
Class of 2001

4 was in bed. I got that flu that was going around the country.'

JULIANNA STOKES
Arts and Sciences Class of 2001

GCompanies just want to turn out a profit. Look at how many people who bought food and water, and nothing happened. KENDRA HEARINGTON fFor me it was nomal.My lights were on, riny money was in the bank - just like in 1998.?

SHAUNTAY CHERRY
Newhouse
Class of 2001

[editorial]   Seton Hall fire   Seton Hall fire raises SU issues raises SU issues  Every Syracuse student has suffered

The Daily Orange
January 21, 2000
Ashok Selvam, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com through the head-splitting inconvenience of a fire alarm, and each student reacts differently.

Some leave their dorm rooms and head for the staircases without hesitation. Others need a little coaxing and prefer the warmth of their beds rather than leave their dorms for the cal lous climate of Syracuse during the winter months.

Those residents who ignore the fire siren's call should be forewarned - their actions could be tragic. This was evident on Wednesday, when a dorm fire killed three students and injured 62 others at Seton Hall University.

Dorm safety has long been a cause for concern. A fire Thursday at Cornell University in nearby Ithaca failed to injure any students, but some were found sleeping in their beds and could have easily been hurt - or killed.

Like the Cornell fire, students from Seton Hall were slow to evacuate their dorms. This was the eighth Seton Hall fire alarm in two months, with the prior disturbances false warnings. A few students thought Wednesday's alarm was like the rest of them and decided to stay put.

SU students are subject to the same false alarms. Many of us know someone who has slept through a fire drill. It's only human nature, but as Wednesday showed, human nature can have deadly consequences.

SU's Office of Residence Life says that resident advisers are issued master keys to dorm rooms so they can unlock a dorm room and be certain no one is sleeping through an alarm. In fact, resident advisers are supposed to check on students and knock on dorm rooms to ensure every resident is accounted for. Unfortunately, RAs are often waiting outside the dorms for the residents instead of making sure they are safe.

As evidenced by last October's fires at the Brewster/Boland Complex, ORL needs to make sure both students and RAs alike better know fire drill procedure. The first fire drill last semester at B/B had students leaving the complex far too slowly, but students weren't notified of this fact. The next time to "practice" was Oct.. 26, the first actual fire

ORL needs to establish and reenforce a clear procedure and make sure RAs follow it and pass the information down to students.

[dä]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Ashok Selvam
Holly Auer Holly Aner Presentation Director Photography Edizor Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photograpiny Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger Tom Nycz Neva Austrew aura Prabucki Emily Kulkus Kate Stevanson Tifiany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Kollalit Connor Erunis Jeff Passan Erin Boyla Tommy Fiorito Elainc Skinner Thto Bottitta dasmer Cutter Bremilap Dabikowsidi Annemarie Bello Ron Fooks

neva austrew/The Daily Orange

opinions

Salt City discrimination exists on many levels  Though most people refuse to talk about it, there is  the facilities after the dinner through the bathroom win-

 serious problem that infects our society these days. Discrimination based on the amount of body salt content plagues each and every one of us. The worst part of this ## thirsty at the ballpark?

RENNY
MCCAULEY

 It may disturb you to find out that your beloved uni versity does this as well. They place large chunks of solu every classroom, dining hall and dormitory in the school The effects of this practice are two-pronged. First, the sell of tasty, refreshing beverages increases so beverage stations throughout the school reap enormous profits.The other effoct is much darker. People like myself with High Body Salt Content (HBSC) suffer in devastating ways from salt in the air. A simple beverage does not do the trick. My skin cracks, my lungs shrink up and my hair gets rizzy. The salt-pumping tactics are a way to keep people like me off this campus.
y at a gathering of the Marxist Teachers against ly at a gathering of the Marxist Teachers against Democracy (MTD) at the chancellor's house. The highlytalented Syracuse University High Body Salt Content Kylophone Ensemble (SUHBSCXE) was asked to perform at this function. The university decided that the function should be air-conditioned with a high-grade salt generashould be air-conditioned with a high-grade salt generator. This kept the ensemble vuildins during the dinner.

In a memo I have obtained through belligerent actions, the chancellor himself tried to accommodate the ensemble. The chancellor asked that "the ensemble be given a bus that could provide salt-free air where the members will rest during the dinner." The letter anly got worse as he went on to say that "the ensemble will enter dow. Their xylophones should be kept with them at all times so as to not intrude on the Marxists' space."

It is quite clear that SU has decided to take a position that is very saltist in its intentions. Saltism effects me every day. In my History 472 class, my teacher asked He sneered at me and laughed as he said this, Just He sneered at me and laughed as he said this. Just because Im a salty person doesn't mean 1 should know At other sime
At other times, salt discrimination is a little less intentional. The other day I was minding my own busi ness on the Quad when somebody came up to me and but the implications of this are serious. Our culture has taught us that HBSC people are constantly thirsty and helpless in their pursuit of beverages.
All I ask for is to be treated like a human being. Please don't purnp salt into the air. I have just as much right to attend this university as anybody else. There have been many great people who have overoome their bouts with HBSC and gone on to do wonderful things for the world. Baywatch hunk David Hasselhoff, New Age musiworld. Baywatch hunk David Hasselhoff, New Age musician Yanni and even former L.A. Lakers star Kurt Rambis all suffer from HBSC. Ironically, the death of half of pop sensation Milli Vanilli could possibly be blamed on HBSC These people are trailblazers for people like myself to go time, HBSC people must unite in order to fight the oppression we now endure. Stand up for who you are and don't let your salt content bring you down.

On a completely different subject, I need to make a short bibliography of people who helped me last semester so that I don't get sued for plagiarism. Thanks to all my fiends whose ideas I stole repeatedly. I would like to give a special thanks to my first-ever fan club member Meredith Potter and pseudo fan club member Jennifer Cawfield. You didn't have to dump your boyfriend for me Jenny. Thanks to all those three other people who wrote me e-mails last semester as well.

Renny McCauley is a junior television, radio and flum major His columns appear on Fridays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at remcoaul@syredu.

letters

SU should support area computer center

To the Editor.

On Jan. 5, while Syracuse University students and faculty were on versity students and caculy were on seme Westorty area were still celebrating the holidays, 11 graups became winners in the annual SU street-closing hood Service Agreement Advisory Committee.

They will share $$ 290,000$ that the university funds in exchange for privativing campus atreets for example, College and University Place in 1992).

Unfortunately for SU students and Westcott residents no UNSAAC grant was made to the Westcott Dove

II Computer Center, located in the This center is sponsored by the Urban League

The Westeott Dove Computer Center was opened to the public last year with free use of 15 computers, scanners and printers. It was made possible with funds from Yvonne Tasker-Rotherberg and the Community Foundation. However, financial setbacks for the Urban League resulted in the closing of Dove II last May.

In rejecting funds for Westortt Dove II, UNSAAC chair Judy Schmia said that the application "failed to meet the guidelines in addressing ways in which the university affects But other 8,000 in funds groups received $$ 78,000$ in funds for concerts, danoes, Center, the Community Choir, the Teen Center, the Street Fair and the soccer and foothall programs. In addition, the police patrols for Euclid and Westontt received $$ 46,000$. I have petitioned the Common Comes $$ 15,000$ for staffing of Dove $I 1$ by shifting grants from the University Neighborhood Preservation Association, which got $$ 166,000$ to pay for lawyers' closing costs for homebuyers in the Westoott area.

I urge students and others to support the re-opening of the Westcot Dove Conaputer Center. Please contact Mayor Bernardi and City Coun cilors william Sinmons and Chehae Atkins to for Dove II.

Austin ©
The Accoumtability Project

What's on the syllabus is what you're going to be reading What you're going iowny however, can be up to you. That is, if you shop at VarsityBooks.com. At VarsityBooks.com youcan save up to $40 \%$ on your textbooks, get them in one ta three business days, and all of this from a Web site that's completely reliable and secure. So there you have it, you decide.

SAVE UPTO $40 \%$ ONTEXTBOOKS.

dúloe

Comedic intellects Whether or not you've watched Steve Martin's movie about a meeting between Pablo Picasso and Albert Einstein and their musings about what the 20th century holds, don't miss out on the stage production "Picasso at the tapin Agile," based on the former wild and crazy guy's hit comedy. loining the intellects on stage is the worldly, wise old man Gaston and his incipient reminist wife, Germaine. The show takes the stage at 7:30 p.m. Thursday through Sunday at Happy Endings Cake & Coffee House. Tickets are $$ 15$. Call 425 0405 for more information.

Moor fight

Be one of the first to catch the opening of the Shakespearean classic, "Othello," before it closes Feb. 6. The moor king is back on stage fighting for both his country and his wife against the ruthless traitor lago. The play opens at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Salt City Center, 601 S. Crouse Ave. Tickets are $$ 15$ to $18. Call 474-1122 for more information.

Laugh track

 If a hearty chuckle is what you need to shed those winter and early-semester blues, then trek through the snow to Tom Anzalone & Andy Vastola's comedy act at Joe DeLion's laugh house. The duo are performing Friday and Saturday at 8 and 10:30 p.m. at the Viva Debris Comedy & Magic Club, Hotel Syracuse, 500 s. Warren St. Tickets are $$ 10$. Call 474 0969 for more information.
Art flash

Open only until Jan. 26, don't miss out on the opportunity to view the art exhibition, -The Circle of Ritual:
Transcendence and Remembrance. Photographs by Dana Salvo" and "Miracles of Mexican Folk Art: Retablos and ExVotos." The Joe and Emily Lowe Art Gallery, Shaffer Art Building, hosts this exhibition from noon to 5 p.m. Thursday to Sunday and from noon to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

IW Your weekend guide to events on Your weekend guide to events on and around campus 1 lifestyle]正 er元 ec kend

"The Smell of the Kill" provides an off-beat take on marriage in the 1990s.

BY SAPNA KOLLAL
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
If your marriage was on the skids and your husband accidentally locked himself in a meat freezer, would you rescue him?

This geemingly inane question is the central conflict in the Smeluction of the the frrgt Syracu millennium.
"Kill," a Michele Lowe production, opens in the kitchen, where three women discuss iffe and relationships over a few after-dinner drinks while their husbands $\rightarrow$ who are never seen on stage - bond through atogie er seen on in the living room. Eventually, the women admit to each other that their marriages are falling apart and they feel trapped. Meanwhile, the men accidentally become locked in a walk-in meat freezer. Once the women upstairs find out, they struggle to decide whether or not they should let their husbands out or leave them inside the cooler on the deep freeze.

Robert Moss, artistic director of the Syracuse Stage, said the show's appeal lies in the three women discovering who they are and making important decisions
"It's like 'Thelma and Louise,' but the women don't have to die at the end" he said "These women don't die at the end but they can't do whatever they want, they have to make difficult choices."

The show also reunites director Michael Donald Edwards and actress Suzanne Grodner, who worked together in "The Sisters Rasensweig" on the Syracuse Stage two seaBons ago.
ago," Moss said. "When we told him, he said 'Suzanne has to be in it.'

Grodner takes the stage along with Corrina May and Vicki Van Tassel as the passive Debra, playing strongWilled Nicky and ilighty May, respectively, Jim TrueGavin $D$ Dredid Dortray hus bands Jay Danny and Marty; the men's presence is acty; the men's presence is acknowledged only by their throughout the show.
"It was very difineult to Bitatill in the wings, said professor, who plays Danny. "I was hungry to take part in the action.

MacDonald said, however, that this is one of the strongest plays Syracuse Stage has put on in a few years. The consistently soldout performances support this claim.
Moss ere in shock at how well it's going," Moss said. "It's thrilling."

Playing aromnd

Plat is part of Syracuse Stage's New Play Festival, a program funded in part by National Endowment for the Arts.

In addition to "Kill," which will run through Feb. 5, Lowe's "Backsliding in the Sunday. Lowe was in Syracuse for the reading, which coincided with the opening weekend of "The Smell of the Kill.

Another staged reading - Stuart Spencer's "Resident Alien" -is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday at the Arthur Storch Theatre to be in Syracuse for the staged readine of his play staged reading of his play.

The Festival is rounded out by two workshops held by the two professional playwrights during their visit to Syracuse. Twenty students, who are preparing pieces for the Syracuse Stage's annual New Playwrights Contest, attended the last workshop, with Lowe; all are scheduled to return for Sunday's program with Spencer.
eyed "They were all wideeyed," Moss said. "It was really something. They got to make first-hand contact with professional playwrights."

The Festival also allows new and differ ent ideas to take shape on the stage, Mac Donald said.
"Someone's got to do it," MacDonald said. "We've got to keep bringing new things to the theater. Otherwise, we'd be watching Neil Simon plays for the rest of our lives. I think it's very brave of the stage to back a playwright (Lowe) with no established reputation, but it's how you expand.

After a long awaited break, the Cinemanincs have returned, rested and better than ever. A lotof things $\begin{array}{cl}\text { Eric } & \begin{array}{l}\text { lotof things } \\ \text { have hap* }\end{array} \\ \text { Rosenthal } \\ \text { and } \\ \text { and in the }\end{array}$ award nominations are coming out of the wazoo. "Tom Hanks took a long walk down "The made us believe that there is a made us believe that "Man on the Moon."

But besides these marks made on recent cinema history we have been dispatched to take on the film that's taking the world by storma.
Fromits vital sta
one would think that "Magnohla" is "Boogie Nights $2_{+}^{*}$ minus Marky Mark and Burt Reynolds, plus Tom Cruise and Jason Robards.

Interestingly enough, Paul Thomas Anderson's sophomore effort surpasses the intrigue and tackles an even more com plicated plot line. "Magnolia" is the woven inter-relationships of a group of individuals, struggling with the mendiag or breaking of these all-too-impor tant ties at the most crucial moments in their lives.

Yeah, it's a raouthful, but it's also an eyeful.

With one of the most interesting opening sequences on screen, P.T. Anderson hints at what are seen to be coincidences only found in movies, but are found to be even more fantastic in everyday life.

Anderson, going so far as to use a hand-crank camera to get a period look, details a murder taking place around the turn of the century (not the most recent turn), depicts a disturbing scene of a dead scuba diver sitting atop a burned tree and an attempted suicide turned homicide, all suicide turned ho

It certainly doesn't do justice as words on paper.

Character color

After Anderson's almostdisclaimer, we are introduced to a plethora of seemingly sin hanging siturtions. By seemchanging situations. By seem ingly singular, we mean not orful, but also seem not to have any relationship with each other.

There's Big Earl Partridge an elderly, bed-ridden man awaiting his death due to can cer, his trophy wife and his nurse, Phil, hired to ease the creeping death

Frank T.J. Mackey takes center stage next, on a television, as America's favorite
"how-to-pick-up-girls guy."
Jimmy Gator, celebrating 30 years as America's favorite TV kids' garme show host, is brought into the spotlight, a symbol of stability and homel values.

Jim Kurring, a devout Christian police officer and divorcee, whose lonelmess and lack of confidence give him an almnost child like innocenc not uncommon of certain not uncommon of cer
(

422 MARSHALL STRRENT

Now Renting for Fall 2000

耳2.
-Off-Street Parking
*Laundry Room
*Monitored Alarm System
*Next to Booth Hall
*Early Signing Bonus "Large 283 Bdrm. Apts. CALL ANYTIME 637-5779 ters sing with Aimee Mann the parts of the song that best fit Eir ernotional state.
Eerily illustrated, and unbeknownst to each other, the song flows from one part of town to the other, at Big Earl's town to the other, at Big Earl's bed to Linda's car, fromo Stanley's library table to Jim the cop's bedroom, almost mor than the des-move, all of the major charac

Quiz Ki Donnie Smith, as he's forever unfairly known, 30 years after his initial fame on the show that Jimmy still hosts, Gghts for not only his job, but his dignity and som source of compassion that he was robbed of as a child. Essentially experiencing Donnies life as a Stanley Spector. he of this financial y-abused child finds a way to wise up when hes And finally. for characters at for characters least, there's estranged and tormented daughter of Jimmy and Rose Gator, who is no only dealing with her cocaine addiction, but also her difficult relationship with her father.

Somehow,
someway, P.T.
taken each one the aforementioned characters and depicted their deeply rooted similarities and also very meaningful relationships with each other. As each character searches for their salvation, whether it's because of cancer or struggling with issues of the past, or even not being able to go to the bathroom while on a television set, Anderson finds it in the Aimee Mann song. "Wise Up."
Orchestral maneuvers
In an unprecedented move, all of the major charac-

The Verdict:
Exic "Suriflower"
Rosemhilt Quite porsibly the best film of the 1999 2000 film year and certain.$y$ worth seeing twice. "Magrolia".is an ambzing way of showing what are more than life's mere coincidences. it's not only an incredible story and fantastic storytelling, but maore han anything else, a mirror in the form of a motionpicture, showing society's borals and flaws impecca

Matt "Tigèrlily" Bray:
Magnolia accomplishes
what Iteel is the goal of all filmmaking: It comments on life by making the invisible parts of life visible peration that ey all share This also becomes the turning point where the where the take their lives into the own hands and must dea with the issues their pasts have presented them. In no scene look out of place or unsettling. so perfectl sews the film together to kaep as Also, it looked really cool The performance from this unbelievable ensemble cast is breath taking. Even though given some of the best dialogue ever, it is the delivery, both verbal and non-verbal, that never stops one from thinking that the characters before them is real and sincere.

Anderson is remarkable in showing each character in a different light, effectively dol ing out many sides of their psyche for them to deal with Tom Cruise, who plays

Mackey, and was referred to by Anderson as a director's. dream, shows such versatility and range of emotions never before scen, unless you count

Anderson, who not onl irected, but also had full con trol from New Line Cinema over this project, wrote some of he most poetic piece of every ay conversation ever heard lyric, which he admittedly and affectionately copied

Initially playing up his own character's phoniness, Cruise somehow finds some thing real to bring out as he is forced to deal with his own rejection of his identity

And he delivers a line hat's more powerfal, but not as G-rated as "Show me the money."

Not discounting their perormances, but repenting their brilliant work in "Boogie Nights," although taking drastically different roles, are Philip Seymor Hoffman, ulianne Modre, William $\mathbf{H}$ Macy, John C. Reilly, Philip Baker Hal Melora Walters and Luis Guzman.

Artistically, Anderson deserves kudos for his use of colors and shot selection in Magnolia" because of its mportance in creating purely visual meaning.

Although lengthy due to Anderson's utilization of creative control, he beautifully frames the film with two Mann songs that show the progression from alienation to desire for salvation with her version of "One," as in the loneliest number, not the awesome Metallica or U2 songs, and the chilling original, "Save Me.

The Dally Orange

Classified Advertising

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash, checks or credit cards. Call 443-9793 for more information.

For OUR SUPER BOWI SPECCILIS IN NEXT WEEK'S D.O.

Women's head coach Marianna Freeman said that Aziz is out indefinitely
"We know for sure that the two tendons over the top of her toes are kind of sprained, toes are kind of sprained, really sure if it may be a little hairline fracture in there. So we're going to keep her off it for a couple of days just to see if she can go on it. Right now, she's out for the time being."

TRAGEDY

continued from page 16 maining in the season, where he Seton Hall games could b rescheduled.

Both men's teams rest on Feb. 2-4, Feb. 6-8 and March 5 7, leaving three potential win The Carrier Domeremains open on those dates.

The extra break gives the SU men more time to prepare for their showdown with Connecticut on Monday at 7 p.m in the Carrier Dome.

Both teams enter the game ranked in the Top 10 , with Syracuse at No. 6 and UConn at No. 8. Syracuse remains the sion I at $15-0$

The Syracuse women's team will ride a one-game winging streak into its nex matchup on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Pittsburgh.

The extra break gives the Orangewormen a chance to heal their wounds, which include a foot tendon injury to starting center Leigh Aziz. The junior center averages 10.4 points and 8.1 rebounds per game. Aziz watched from the sidelines during SU's 66-42 win over Vil lanova on Wednesday.

Buyea, who unexpectedly left the team this offseason to pur sue his graduate studies at SU. 'I'm looking forward to this weekend," Pascal said. "It's my chance to put together what I have been working on in practice this year. I'm developing, and it takes time. I'm not going to let my young age get in the way of the fact that I am a good stler.
While the two freshmen are first dipping their toes into the wading pool, freshman Brett Cowen is ready for a splash off the high dive. Cowen was inserted into the lineup because of injuries and has been one of SU's top performers.

He stands at 5-8 with a 2-1 record in EIWA competition

through the Wilkes Open, bu

 he is tied for second on the tearn in points scored with 22 . While Miller expected gradual pro gression from this budding star, Cowen has exceeded all expectations and could make a run at qualifying for the NCAA tournament.He notched one of the Or ange's two wins in the Bucknell defeat and has been wrestling better than his sub-. 500 record indicates.
"Brett has made some tremendous strides in the past few weeks," Miller said. "His win versus Bucknell was huge. He was stuck at a 4-4 tie gind came through. At the beginning, or the season, he has learned to win that match."

Along with Cowen's unforeseen contribution, is senior captain Shawn Thomas stellar season. He has a teamhigh 16 wins with an astronomically high percentage of wins coming via pin ( $88 \%$ ). He also racked up an unmatchable 71 points in the team's first seven events this season.
"I expect Shawn Thomas to have a great tournament," Pascal said. "He's really dominating his opponents. Brett's having a great year and could make a run in Binghamton."

With so many young faces, the season seems all but tive. Despite the necessity to Both teams do not relish the extra time off, however, as the tragedy at Seton Hall looms in players' and conches' minds. man said after the Villanova victory as Orangewomen Lorna McPhee and Shannon Perry nodded in agreement. "That's a big tragedy. Our hearts go out to them."

raise $$ 2$ million by July at the risk of losing the program al together, Miller focuses on his wrestlers' progress.

With so many veterans lost since the beginning of the season, Miller has the opportunity to work on the individual development of the team. With the freshmen getting a Chance to prove themselves, they will suffer setbacks in this lost season but will trade it for success down the line.
"We've had to change our goals this season," Miller said. We have to become more individual. It sets up our younger kids for the future. Individual goals have taken precedence over the team's goals."

Rock the kasbah.

Bring the noise.

Lay down the funk. Get jiggy with... the D.O.van.

Good pay, short hours.

Have a swingin' good time delivering the D.O.

When you're broke, you look at things in a whole new way.
So for textbooks and stuff, hit ecampus.com. You'll save up to $50 \%$. And shipping's always free.

Textbooks & Stuff. Cheap.

When in Hell...

by Eric Jones

Tartaruga Pate

Out of Town

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

Meth (Classic)
by Dan Meth

$S$ ubmit

IM AFRAID YOURE $\frac{\text { GONG TO HAVE }}{\text { TO FORFET-HUH? }}$

 Phove me at 443-5938

Sleep Deprivation

 by Ben Gabriel & Chris TempasCROSSWORD

by THOMAS JOSEPH

1
1 Raw-bar
1 Raw-bar
item

5 Leonard
10 Tortoise's 10 opponent 11 Stone of 12 Terrible 12 czar 13 Buccaneer 13 Burcaneer 11 Tanker soother 15 Broblem
16 Disaster
20 To boot
23 Quilting -
24 Smallest
25 Micherangelo
27 Wing
28 "The Colo Purple character 29 Smoking pipe
36 Tomorrow
39 Love,
Latin-style
40 Brings rogether
41 Diana, in The Avengers" 42 Lassoed
43 Eank
DOWN
1 Stylish
2 Vesuvian flow

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

Enter your own punchline, theri color it

14[classifieds]

NOTICE
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 c$ each additional word 54 extra each bold word 56 extra each CAP word Charges arr PER ISSUE & are Propaid by: Deadine: 2 pm 2 business days prior torm ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Dalily Oarge; 744 Ostrom Avente. Syracuse NY 13210 ; Att Classijuds ion
Faxed viit Credit Card to: $315-443-3689$ AAAAAAAAAAAAA

FOR SALE
Tanning Red Exceilent tor Sorarity 24 (new) butbs

EMPLOYMENT

Gowne! conteb bat kocated inside Main tobey of SUNY fiealth Scienca Cur is seewing P emploge Weekents and coo las: rughts. Please cat

| * NEED* |
| :---: |
| SOME |
| EXTRA |
| CASH |
| Deliver |
| for |
| the D.O. |
| Next Semester |
| Between |
| 8:00am - |
| 12:00Noon. |
| Call |
| David Jack @ |
| 443-9794 |
| to Apply |

 counselors

Job Opportunities

Wantoct speech Therapy Student io futar Chid
VANTED

Child Care

Childcara/Housekeeper Noeded Monday through Thursday late Ahternoonss Must have Car. Pleasso call $443-3024$ or email me at Istone 5 syr.edu for urther intormation.

Babysither Warled-Single Dad needs help with 68 om, Wednesciay momings and every other Mondiay morning 6:45 to : : $: 5$ 5am. Watet them in my Jamesvils nome Call fich © 492 -21 10 tor delazas.

Looking for a Nanty to corne to our harte in Manlius to wath our one yeat otd son, 8:DOAM 5:30PM M-F.F Full time position. References unoroughty checked. Non-smokar onty Please cal
4328100 or 4470634 4328100 or 447634
Baby sitter: Saturday nights lor 2 young children. Noeds transpentation and relerences
Call $682-0766$.

Help Wanted

Are You Connectad? misemor tuers Wamed $$ 350$ - 5800 Woek 1 - $800-234-4939$ www, earnnow. net ARE YOU CONNECTED? internel Users Wanted! S250-S800/week $$ 1500$ waekly polential mailing our circulars. No 202-452.7679.
Fratemities- Sororities
Clubs:-Student Groups
Studemt ongrizationst ean S1.000-52.000 wh the easy canpushusoraisercom hite how fundraising evert. No sales required. Fundraising dates are mww campuskundraiser:corh
Work tor an exoling Coliege focused intame: compary at your schood! Looking for motivated incividuals with strong leadership. entrepreneutial and businass skills. Tech skilts not requiredt Great experience, pay and optionst Contac:
infoevconnections.com

Roommates
Roommales Wanted Female, Male for bise Roommales Wanted Female, Male tor blie noussenows walk to carrpus cean nen- smoking envinomment cat tandicry 445 -2480

Aoommaie 715 tancasier $\mathbf{5 2} 25$. Washer, Dryer. Semid-turn, 3 blocis to campus 263-0613 Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment clase to campua parking fiteplace aundry 497-5761
Sublef needed. 4 person Agatment Ackerman cks to campus cal Pete, 423-4025
Misc. Wanted
WANIED: 50 Serious Prople to teose weight. Fast. Sate. $100 \%$ Natural, Guaranteed
1 1-888-686-9767 mwntithslim.com

| FOR RENT |
| :---: |
|  |

Nice furnisher apartment Grads need roommate utifities parking induded walk SU hospitals $$ 300.00$ month 478-2642

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. Enf/APT's Homes & Town houses Everyining you want kind for everyprel
most including
Security Systam with 1* Dead Boll Lock Smoke, Reat 8 Spriniklor Systerm Prices Ranging from $225-5375/manth Remodeled Ful Custom Kicherveath Gione ncude. Gourner Salichaning ovens. Wall to Wall Cappets & Padding (like norne) Laundry Facilities on Pramisas
Oil-street Parking
Snow s Lewn Maintanance
Super lisulatod (meares fow utides) Sorne Aptc include Am Untinters A Furnithed Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Carnpus Westooth, Clarendon. Ackerman. Livingston. Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
o chack out your home away trom hornol

3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

329 Constock Ave 319 Euctid Ave

145 Avonds\% Piace
Available for 2000-2001
Fulty Fumished, Laundry Fuly Fumished, Laundry Maintenance amd Managenert, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Foor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #3 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

LOOX AT THIS! Thres Bedroom Apartment Spacious trae Becroom, complateh

 spacious drat kecroom, cmplelen apartment with porch Living ADom with bedrooms. and Hith. Olt slrect, grageparking Laundry tacify in builang.

Fivo bedriom House
 Housa with loorl and rear porches. LNing
Goom with Fireplace. Eat-ia Kitchen WII gataza FREE Leundry facidy in buide
CALI 430.5188 aftor $1: 00 \mathrm{~mm}$

Apartments close to campus clanan 2-3-5 sednifumished reseonabiop price $487+5761$. parking

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM

Aderman Geautiful Large Futnished Fibits/ Houses. 2, 3,4.5.6 Bedroons. Porches. Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pel OK $446-3420$

2 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
302 Marstrall St

| 604 Walnut Ave |
| :--- |
| 309 |

315 Eudid Avo
145 Avondaie Piace
329 Comstock Ave
Available for 2000-200: ully Fumished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Cetpet andfor Hemodied Kirturs and Eaths

University Area Apts 1011 E Acians St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Large Single Farrily lurnishod house. Parking ireplace, thee kundry, Gishmaster, malure tonants ne the fivion OSTROW/LADISON: All apis furn 8 haated. Call hor appt $469-0780$

Beatiliul 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Walking disianco to Carmpus. 3 Largo Bedrooms, Iots of closel spaco. 1 1/2 Baths, Diningrocm, Livingroom Kilehen. gasement with washer/Oryer hookups. Oft Streel Parding with Garagea Must Seel! $469-8417$ or 176-9643 Ackerman Ave. $2,14,5,7$ bedroom apts. Furristiod carpeted, walt to carpus. Weti maintaine s00-5.01 leasa $445-7202$

1 EEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
917 Ackerman 115 Redfield flace
1011 E. Adarms St
145 Anondale Place
Availabte for 2000-2001 Farking, Fuil Time Maintenance and Management
Wat to Wall Carpet antion Wo to Wall Carpet andior Pemodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
EEST LDCATON AEA SONAGLE RENT 28 Eucid

University nice quiat furnished $1,2,3$ bedrooms University nice quiat furnished $1,2,3$ bedrcom apartments pakking ustities inctuded walk SU
Hol Hospitals reasonabie. Roormata for grad needed 478-2542.
1-2.3 Eedroem Apartments. Eeasuiful. Spacious Sale. Orict Close 476 -0295
Uriversity Area 2.3 Bedrocm Aumished Apattrients sin
Jim $66 \mathrm{~B}-7473$

L(.)(.) K

First Week Advertised

> Furnished House

Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast
Call 655-2175
formore info.

1 Bedroom and
Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces,
near University on Euclid,
and Walnut Avenue
Mesponsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

2 bedrocom Apariment tight on Marshall St. Fal

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
SPCCIOUSARATMENTS
 476-9933

Comstock nice quiel 1.2 bedroom apartments hospitals reasonatly $478-2642$

Five bedroom House

 Spacious five Bedroom completely fumished House with Poom with fireplace. Eat-in Ktchen W/DISHWASHER and ive large bedrooms and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Oft street parking with garage. FREELaundry tacility in building.
CALL 430-5188
atter 1:00 pm

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577
ooking for a fermale to sublet sparment clase to Cail jessicis $60077786-0675$

Dest Buy on Harrisonst Clean Criet re-bedroom and studio June laase. Fumished Ulkities induded. 472-590.
geurrom, 2 car garaga. 125 Kensington Fid.
corner ot hancaster $$ 550472-2667$.
TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry, Low utilities Competitive rents.
302 Marshall St.
accoss from Haven

479-5005

. SHERBROOKE
APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, 4, and 5 Beciroom Apartments.
 statt al $275. Fefinished hartwood fioors. Wall to watl carpet Fhats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitthens and bachs. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24hour mainterance. wuw universityarea.corn University Area Ap心 479-5005

|  |
| :---: |

LANCASTER AVENUE
1838garivom Apartments Fulth Fumished CaIF Ante Cervin
$424-0220 \times 428$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND $4,5,6$, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking
Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Fioors.
476-2982

BRADLEY

continued from page 1
On the day of the New Hampshire primary the group hopes to hold an event to show upport for Bradey and watch the primary's televised results chiferle said.
This event also serves as an opportunity to promote the group and Bill Bradley, said ipton, a junior political sci ance and public policy major
"Themore exposure an get the better," he said The group is looking to hold the eventat an ofr-cam pus bar or other social facility, fort to save money and make it ort to save money and make is "Theoretionlly it's more active to people, . Lipton said

Mempors of
Members of the group agreed to start networking among their friends and con acting other campus groups.

The group hopes to work with campus groups Pride mion and hericty They also American Society. They also hope to make presentations to political science, women's stud ies and public affairs classes regarding Bradley and their roup.

They have already contact ed Syíacuse University Men' Basketball Coach Jim Eoeheim bout the possibility of having basketball-themed event on campus in support of Bradley group member Kevin Selh said.

Boeheim, a member of Bradley's Central New York campaign commiztee, is eage to support his friend Bradley,

Since
Since the group is not rec ognized on campus, the College Democrats are sponsoring a table for the Eradley rroup so they can distribute literature attract students to the Bradley group and for the trip to New Hampshire, register voters and bont Bradley about Bradley. Schiferle said The Eroup hopes to have the Centin the Schine Studen Wenter next Monday through

Although arnong
Although the College De mocrats are sponsoring the table, they have not endorsed Bradley, said Chrissy Hinchey, president of the College Democ: rats. Since the group is split between supporting Bradley or Democratic opponent Vice President. Al Gore, they are fotit's one of the many ways for students to get involved in civic and political life. In an ideal world, you'd have students organized to support all of the candidates.

KRISTI ANDERSON

 political science deparment chairpersoncusing their effort on supporting First Lady Hillary Clinton's New York sernatorial campaign and will later support the Democratic presidential nominee. Hinchey shid of the gradiey group. "It's the type of political involvement that this apathetic campus needs.

The Central New York Committee to Eiect Bill Bradley President is equally as enthusiastic, said James Sndyer, the group's spokesperson.
"They're terrific, an excellent group," he said. "We support them in every way.

Both the CNY and the SU Bradley groups would like to bring him back to the Syracuse area. When Bradley visited a Syracuse Boys and Girls Club in Oetober he said there was a chance he would return. The CNY group is hopefal that they can host a large-scale Bradley event.
-There's a good chance there is going to be a return trip to Syracuse before the New York primary," Snyder gaid.

Kristi Anderson, political science department chairperson, also believes the fact the group exists is positive.
"It's one of the many ways for students to get involved in civic and politicallife," she said. "In an ideal world, you'd have students organized to sup port all of the candidates.

Besides Bradley, Republi can candidate Steve Forbes is the only other presidentia contender with a campus group, the Syracuse University Campus Division of Youth For Forbes.

Much like the Bradley sroup, the Forbes group is go ng to be soliciting votes for Forbes and holding an off-cam pus gathering in support of Forbes on the night of the New Hampshire primary, said Chri Ryan, the coordinator of the group.
ro fact there are only two groups supporting presidentia contenders is not surprising said Joe Burns, chairperson of the College Republicans.

I have a feeling that these are the only two campaign that are reaching out to young people," said Burns, a junior political science and history major.
"It's disappointing."

[C1aSSifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

Clean cuiel 2 bediom two blods firm SU hospita's. Furnished. All utilities paid. $\mathbf{4 7 5 - 5 9 0 8}$ June 1 lease.

Large 3 bodroum. 2 full bath. Walking distance

| NEW BURY APARTMENTS  Great University Area Beautiful Modern 1&2 Bedroom Apt. All Brand New Appl. (AC, Dishwsshar) Heat & Hoit Water Included. Securlty  Eultinge Whatereoms & Door  Relesses. Custom Made Elinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. Off Street  Parking, Lsundry, Storage, Cintro  Bus Line. 24 Hour Malitenance. Starting at $$ 550.00$. Call 478-0271 Ask for Patricia or Stop by ourr Otfice at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Brighten)  Also...(Great Location) Beautiful 5 BEDROOM HOUSE. $21 / 2$ baths,  2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrtoms, 2 freptacas, 2 car garage, tuge yard, washerldryer hookups, private road off Loyafyette road $$ 1200.00$ |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

aly 2 sedionm 2 full bath Waiking dstance . Universiy 2833 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flats. Fiteptaco.linished basement, Call $449-10109$.

| ONE BEDROOW  APARTMENT EUCLID AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE MEAT, GREAT LOCATON 476-9933. |
| :---: |
| Four Badroom on Ackerminn, Fumished. Dishwashar, Two Porches, Off street Parking Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Fioors Call Gordon 476-2982 |
| Two Bedroom Apartments With uluitite inctuded, Firsplacs, Furnialhed, Mandwood Fioors mid Cmpoting. Pentry, Porch, Luundry, Paking. close to Campula, Cull Gordon $476-2982$ |

| G25 SUMNEA AVE 414 KENSINGTON RD (near Linceazter Market)  2 nod 3 Bedrooms Immaculate, Clasi, FAEE Laundy Leask messagu (428-4157 Before 3pm) |
| :---: |
| Apatment 4Br. 2tult bath f.place h.wood thoo froom droom porch tiee taundry availabie jurne2000 wakk toS. U. hospital's please call $486-195:$ |
| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT |

1 Bedroom Furnished Unfurnished. Walking distance S.U.Laundry ava lable. Of Streel Fatkrg. Call $472-7305$

One Bedrocm Apariments Close to Campus,

Cone 2 betrocm furzsthed spartrents, All withes indured 5770 . $5460 / m o$. One mile trom campus. Launtry, parking. carpeling, security buildin Available immediately. May orAugust. 446-9598.

Furnished 2.58edroom Forses/ Apartments
Uivingtion, Suminer. Ackatman. Euchid 469665

| COMSTOCR REIGHTS |
| :---: |
| APARTMENTS |
| 2 blocks from campus. |
| Modern 3 bedroom |
| apartments. |
| Wall to wall carpet. |
| Large bedrooms. |
| Laundry. Parking. Alarms. |
| Lowest rents formodern. |
| new construction. |
| ww. universityarea.com |
| low utilities. |
| University Arreas Apts. |
| Uners |
| 479-5005 |
| www.universityarea.com |

 cambes near law school +ESF. May +August availatitity 44 i -9599.

Houses  RENT YOUROWNHOME OUR OR FNE BEDROOM HOUSE. GREAT PORCHES. 476-9933

818 Westept (near Euclid) 6 Bedrcoms Carpen nundry Paking targe Hocres 3 gaths Distwasher $446-518 \mathrm{c}$
(5)And(6) Bedroon Howses 721 and 725 Datrom Ave adiacent to campus starting es3351 person (1)446-3693
$3,4,5$ bedroom hames al reasonable prices, choso o campus lmamacilala, updated, conscientions tandords. 692.7130
Now Renting For Fas 2000 Large 5 bedroom houss on E. Adans St. Nently remodeled Bathrooms and foom and Bat. Great Locziont Call fir-5779. 86a Sumner 4 Bedroom Hartwood Floors Laundry Remodeled 446.5tB6

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Rooms

Lanuafy Gractaze Studants 2 latig bedrocm remaining beautilut home riose is campus

Furnished room availabie tor Spang Semesiar

SUBLET
Foom in 2 person Apt. avalabla starting in Spring athties, 12 stock tron campers $475-7338$

SERVICES

Travel

Spring Erevk Speciais! Batamas Patty Cruset 5 Nights $5279!$ theludes Meals! Awesome Beasthes. Nighide: Degarts From Floaridal Panama City Foom With Kitchen Next To Clubs. 7 Paflies & $$ 149!$ South Beach (Bars Open Untid 5am!) $159!

SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK
S75 R Up Per Person www retreatrigytebeach com
 The Eiggest. The Best. And The Least Expensive.
Play White You Pay! 5 Month Payment Plan
Availablo!! Ask How! $800-395 \cdot 4896$ www conlegetours.com

SPAING BREAK 2000

CANCUN*JAMAICA*NADEAL
CALL TODAY!!!
800-293-1443
Www.StudentCitycom

MISC.

AF NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: issue, for the Daily Orange does not take responsibility for aly misconduct ressulting in contact batween yourselt and ajweriser

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or email life@dailyorange.com.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

[sports

Dave Curtis, editor January 21, 2000

Fire postpones games

BY GREG BISHOP
Staff Writer
Staff Writer
College athletics are a big business. Bowl games hejp renovate classrooms and athletes ple's hopes and dreams rise and fall with each win and loss Sometimes it takes a tragedy to help put big time college athletics in perspective. One such tragedy occurred when a fre broke out at $4: 30$ a.m. Wednesday in a dormitory at Seton Hall University in South Orange, N.J., kilining three and injuring 62 . On Thursday, 13 people remained hospitalized, five of whom remain in critical condition. senior administration Hall's cited the tragedy when it canceled athletic events for the weekend including men's and wom en's basketball games against Syracuse scheduled for aturday.
In light of the tragedy on campus and the overwhelming impact it has had on everyone in the Seton Fall community, we have determined that our athletic teams will not compete in any events this weekend," said Jeff Fogelson, director of athletics. We appreciate the understanding and support of our Big East conference partiners and regret the dis ruptions to their campuses."
The men's game wa scheduled for Saturday at 12 s.m. in the Carrier Dome, prm. in the Carrier Dome, scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m. in SHU's Walsh Gym. women would travel to take on

After the fire, there was a

Manler Orangewomen in Mandey Field House on Sat however have been postponed indefinitely $\quad$ nnd will be rescheduled later this season.

Fans who had tickets for the men's game will be permitted to use those tickets when the new game date is set.

Syracuse head coach Jim Boeheim expressed concern for the Seton Hall program and promised $S U$ would do everything in its power to cooperate. The tragedy was simply more important than the Orangemen's 15 -game winning streak he said.
"It goes beyond that," Boeheim said. "It's a tragic situadion down there. We're going to do whatever Seton Hall wants to do, and down the line, well reschedule the game.

Marie Wozniak, sports information director for Seton Hall, said she believes no athletes were injured in the fire.
She could not comment, how-

Back from Florida, SU hosts Mountaineers

BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

As members of the Syracuse swim teams look out their windows and see snow teams look out their windows and see snow blanketing the landscape, they probably wish over winter break.

The Orange, however, must put the memories of their 10 -plas days of sun, sand and hard work behind them as they host West Virginia at Webster Pool on Saturday. "It was just really hard work," senior Erica Bobrelk said of the winter excursion. We went down there, trained hard and enjoyed the sun when we weren't swimming five hours a day."

The trip to Florida provided several advantages for the Orange. Foremost was the opportunity to focus solely on swimming without the extra burden of schoolwork and other aspects of college life, SU head coach Lou Walker said.
"Obviously, without a school requirement, you can focus more on swimming;" he said. "It's the most intense training portion of the season."

A second advantage presented to the team was an eight-lane, si-meter pool like most of their Big East foes, as compared to SU's six-lane, 25-meter Webster Pool.
-We remain competitive with our competition that way," Walker said. "It gives us the chance to go to a facility so we can do the chance to go to a facility so."

As the Big Eant Championships approach, Walker plans to cut down the workload to keep the team fresh for the challenges ahead
w This is the time of year to get excited," Walker said. "Your training yardage begins to come down. This is a fun and interesting time of the year as you move from the heavy training to championship preparation."

The Mountaineers will provide a decent conference test for the Orange, especially on the women's side, Walker said. First-year head coach Eric Mcllquham boasts a team that excels in the freestyle sprints and butterfly events, whereas the Orangewomen tend to The women are in an even-up situation, Walker said. "If each team wins its strengths, then it all comes down to who wins where they are similar.

Walker said the SU men have a decided advantage over the Mountaineers. Four Orangemen - sophomore Djordje Filipovic, aenior Brett Bergmann and jumiors Josko Vucetic and Mia Mikhailov - have posted times in the Top 25 nationally this season.

It is the team's depth Walker cites as the factor that should lead the Orangemen to factor that should lead the Orangemen to "We've got a lot of veterans," Walker said. "They kriow the ropes and so forth. Frankly, for the men's meet, I would rate us as the favorite."

SU has not competed since defeating Massachusetts on Dec. 4 at home. The Orange sustained a competitive atmosphere in long layoff does not affectuin an edge so the long layoff does not anect them as greatiy. Bobrek said. "It's a competition we have to win. People compete with each other in practice, so we try to use that as competition."

Flying South for the winter is a tradition for most Northern college swim tearns; not just Syracuse. That includes the Mountaineers, Walker said.

Eecause of the conching change in Morgantown, Walker said it will be hard to judge just where WVU is at this time. This uncertainty might help create an exciting meet, which could draw a larger crowd now that the Su/Seton Hall men's basketball clash scheduled for that same time at the Carrier Dome has been postponed.
"West Virginia has definitely been getting better over the years"" senior Erin Libit said. "I think it should be a close meet"

Orange travel to NY state  tourney

EY ERIC NATHAN
Staff Writer
As the Syracuse wrestling team prepares ta grapple with its have a roll call to see who is avallable.

Sophomore C.J. MacNaught is out for the season with a sprained shoulder. Despite appearing in seven matches this season, he will receive a medical redshirt and should return at redshirt and should return at son, head coach Scott Miller said.

Heavyweight Graham Manley, the SU rootball team's thirdsaw tight end, never mat as he was injured during the waning days of the football season.

He failed to make the trip to Nashville, Tenn., for the Music City Bowl victory He, too, should be ready to wrestle following next year's football campaign, firmed.

Because of family circumstances, Sophomore Cesar Escobar did not return from San Francisco following long winter break. His return remains uncertain, Miller said.

The Orangemen continue to fight the injury bug, as junior ike Wennihan went down with a tweaked knee during Wednesday's practice. He is out for this weekend's New York State Collegiate Championships in Bingharnton

Because of the injuries, SU lost its lone mid-year break dual meet at. Bucknell by a score of 369. In two team tournaments, the Orangemen struggled, as they consistently lost points because of injury-induced forfeits.
"We're just in a situation that when you are giving up points, it's "Wugh to come back," Miller said. "When you have forfeits, it's not easy in these tournaments.
inserted into the depleted lineup are a host of green freshmen and sophomores. Replacing Wennihan at 185 pounds is sophomore Jonn Soden. He finished 1999 with a 3-7 record.

Joining Soden in the starting lineup is classmate Mike Noonan and a host of freath-faced newoomers.

See NEW YORE page II

Guinier speaks at Dome

 Law professor addresses race, affirmative action BY ENILY KULKUSAss. News Editor
Amid hundreds of candlelit tables Sunday night in a dimmed Carrier Dome, Lani Guinier urged mernbers of the Syraruse University community to heed the lesson of the canary when following the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

As the keynote speaker for SU's Martin Luther King Celebration Dinner, the Harvard University haw professor spoke to a sold-out crowd of more than 2,300 people. She addressed affirmative action and the use of standardized testing in higher education as examples of inequality in the United States.

Guinier explained how minors would use canaries because of heir weak respiratory syatems to test for have been symbolically treated in society, she said have been symbolically treated in society, she said. nary," she said. "Rather than fixing the canary, we need to fix the atmosphere."

Ynequalities in higher education, similar to the civil rights inequalities King fought to abolish, will not change if collegea and universities continue to use standardized tests See GUINIER page 5

Campus peddles tickets

EY DAVE CURTIS

Sports Editor
With one of the biggest basketball games in recent Carrier Dome history just hours away, thousands of tickets remain available to Syracuse University students and the general public.

When the Dome box office closed at 4:30 p.m. Friday, slightly more than 23,000 tickets had been sold for tonight's 7 p.m. game between SU and the University of Connecticut Huskies.

There are lots of tickets remainiag on the third level." said Pat Campbell, Dome geaeral 32,000 , we wa ca pacity of about 32,000 , and tend a little bit beyond that.

The box office opened Saturday morniag for three hours but remained closed Sunday. Inserested parties could stin purchase tickets through The Masing the weekend

Even with an expected walk-up crowd of between 1,200 and 1,500 today, Campbell anid he would be aurprised to bee a crowd of more than 26,000 .

II imagine the walk-up will be a little higher than usual," he gaid. "But I See TICKETS page 11

Students discuss nomination

BY SAPNA KOLEAL

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Lani Guinier dismissed her 1993 nomination for the U.S. Asmistant Attorney General for Civil Rights Sunday as being her worst experience.

Instead, her worst experience came when she published a study about gender diserimination at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, which "soiled the nest" and inadvertently created teasion among her fellow professors, she said to about 75 Syracuse University stadents in Marwell Auditorinm.
Guinithen it came out, it was worse than in-1993," Guinier anid. "My colleagues felt that I had betrayed them. But inave no regrets about doing the study. Women in law school gtill tell me they are grateful for the atudy."

President Bill Clinton, a Yale Law School classmate of Guinier, withdrew Guinier"s nomination in 1993 for the civil rights position because of growing opposition from conservatives who perceived some of her views as adical.

Guinier apoke during a question and answer seminar that would prelude her xeynote adiress at the 15 th annual Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration dinner Sun-

See SEMINAR page 4

- Police Reports:

Man destroys coffee shop door

Staff Reports
Two Syracuse men were arreated early Saturday moraing for criminal mischief after refusing to leave No Borders No Boundar, 171 Marahall St., auper ciosing hours, according to a Kendale Wilson, 23, threw a glass bottile and a light bulb at the coffee shop's atreet-level entrance, the report said. The objects put a hole in the glass shop employee. Wilson was accompanied by Jason Hassett.

22 , added the report.
Driscol said that two men canne into the shop during a band performance. The two men asked to play the band's instruments, he added.
*They thought they were drunk, so the band was cool about it," Driscol said.

Thirty minutes later, Driscol politely asked the two men to leave, the report said Driscol gaid the atrugeled to push the mon aud he struggled

Driscol callea
ter Wilson took a the police af
See cops page 8

City Affairs

Common Council to consider Mayor Bernardi's adult-zone proposal

BY MACEN MCKENNA

The Syracuse Planning Commission recommended Friday that the Common Council vote ggainst Syractuse Mayor Roy A Bernardi's proposal to relocate loeal strip clabs, admit exion follewn Tumdey's rejetion of the plan by the comamission.

The proposal, which was submitted to the commission in late November by The Office of the Mayor, gave local adult enter tainment businesses one year to relocate into a district near East Erie Boulevard or to the Onondaga Lake Shore near Geddea. Local artists and for-profit art organizations protested the proposal in fear that their practice of drawing nude models related business. in its detinition of a sex related business.

The commission rejected the legislation because it would lead to an adverse concentration of the businesses in one area, said Chuck Ladd, a zoning administrator for the city of Syracuse.
"Whatever you get from the elimination of the businesses from one place to another, you just transfer the problem someplace else," Ladd said. "It doesn't

The Coun.
The Council meets tonight but will not vote on the proposal because it was not submitted in time for the Jan. 14 agenda deadline. But it may be voted on at the Council's Feb. 7 meeting, City Clerk John Copanas said.

The proposal would serve as an amendment to the 1986 law which stated that sexually-related businesses must be at least 1,000 feet from a residence, school park or place of rele See RED LIGHT page 8

[briefs]

campus

 calendar
TODAY

WSports broadcaster and ewhouse alumnus Sean McDoNewhouse alumnus Sean MeDo-nough speaks from 2 p.m. to $3: 30$ nough speaks from 2 p.m. to $3: 30$ p.m. in Studio B, Newhouse II.

■A "Job Hunt" seminar be-

tidbits

Govemors predict

 Internet voting WASHINGTON, D.C. - Appearing via satellite at a symposium on vo ing over the internet Califomia Gov. Gray Davis predicted voters over the Web in five to seven years and that political ackvertising on the internet will rival television and racio within a decade.The symposium at the Brookings Institution on Thursday was the first in a series of panel dis cussions about the potential effects of the internet on democracy 21st century. Davis was 21 st century. Davis was joined by New Yor

Davis and Pataki sald they favor an incremental i.nplementation of internet balloting with voters still having the option o vote the old-fashioned way at the polls.

Pentagon wants

older soldiers
WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Pentagon has olds in the U.S. military out of combat under a draft international treaty on child soldiers approved in Genev Friday. If acopted by the U.N. General Assembly and ratified by its mem bers, the treaty would establish 18 as the minimum draft age for the world's armies and require signatories to raise the minimum age for volunteers from the current global standard of 15.
The United States joined about 50 other countres in approving at eliminating the amed child soldiers.

RNC ad attacks

 Gore statements National Committee will begin airing an ad begin aining an adMonday attacking Vice President Al Gore for say ing during a Jan. 5 ing duting at he would have a litmus test for the Joint Chiefs of Staff requiring that they sup port his policy of allowing gays to serve openly in the military. Gore quickly backed off the statement and said he would require only that the Joint Chiefs carry out his policy, not personally support it.
The RNC ad will air through Wednesday in Nashua, Concord and Manchester, N.H., and nationally on the Fox News Channel. The ad features rapid, black and white clips of Gore and -Heard Enough? Call A Geard Enough? Call Al Gore. Litmus Test."

Weizman refuses leave

JERUSALEM - Defying much of Israel's political elite and virtually ali the national media, President Ezer Weizor take a leave of absence as a or takinal investigation into his financial dealings began.

In a blunt, damn-the-torpedoes two-minute statement delivered live on prime time television, the 75 -year-old head of vision, the 75 -year-old head of state vowed to "fight to the end," insisted on his "honesty and integrity"and said if he had and integrity"and said if he had erred, it was a "human ming take, made in all innocence."

Looking drawn but determined, Weizman said he would not take a leave of absence, as urged him to do last week. He said he is ready to submit to a police questioning about his relationship with a French textile tycoon who reportedly gave him hundreds of thousands of dollars starting in the late 1980s.

Weizman read his statement at his official residence here. No journalists were pre sent to question him afterward. When he finished with his prepared text, the cameras cut away to a continuing firestorm of allegations and negative commentary directed at him from across the politica spectrum

Virtually every newspaper in the country has called fo Weizman to resign or take a leave from his mostly ceremonial job. In response, the presi dent apparently decided to appeal directly to the Israeli public, with whom his cranky perhave always struck a sympa thetic chord.

national news

Companies plan joint venture

WASHINGTON, D.C. Time Warner Inc. is expected to about $$ 1$ billion to form a jointventure record company with London-based EMI Group PLC, a don-based EMI Group PLC, a source close to the company said. source close to the company said.

Although earlier reports said two companies intended to merge, the deal will be structured as an alliance, with Time Warner and EMI pooling their music resources while remaining as separate entities. The two record labels will market music jointly and combine efforts to sell products over the internet.

Under terms to be announced, New York-based Time Warner will give EMI shareholders a premium of about $$ 1.65$ for each of their shares, a sum that comes to slightly more than $$ 1$ billion. The premium is to reflect Time Warner's ascendancy in the proposed alliance - the company would appoint six of the 11 seats to the point six of the 11 seats to the company's board, the source said, EMI would contribute all its assets, except for its stake in the sets, except for its stake in the record retailer HMV Media Group record retailer HMV Media Grouptribute its music division, Warner Mribute its music division, wap, which includes la. bels such as Elektra, Warner Bros. and Atlantic, and artists such Rock and Jewel.

Croatian voters set to elect

ZAGREB, Croatia - Voters are hoping to complete Croatia's quiet revolution Monday with the choice of a new president from three front-runners with one promise in common: Whoever wins $n$

The election to replace Franjo Tudjman, who died of cancer Dec. Tudjman, who died of cances three weeks after voters threw his Croatian Democratic Union government out of parliament in a stumning rejection of oldstyle nat an rule.

Opinion polls published over the weekend showed a centrist, former Yugoslav President Stipe

Clinton proposes equal pay plan

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton will team up Monday with Michelle Akers, a midfielder for the World Cup-winning U.S. women's soccer team, to propose spending $$ 27$ million for an Equal Pay Initiative, much of it to help the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission pursue cases filed by women seeking pay commensurate with men

Akers is one of 20 players from the women's national soccer team who declined to play in a tournament in Australia this month beCause of a contract dispute with the want their pay raised to match the want their pay raised to match the bers.

Nationwide, women earn about 75 percent as much as mando for comparable work, a White House oticial said Sunday.
official said, Clinton will present plan that cinton will present a plion that would provide $$ 10 \mathrm{mil}$ lion to the EEOC so it could handle wage discrimination cases based on gender, teach businesses how to meet legal requirements, and launch a publiceducation campaign for employers and employees.

That new money was already included in the $$ 322$ million new EEOC budget request Clinton unveiled last.

world news

Mesic, in the lead, with social democrat Drazen Budisa running second and Mate Granic, Tudjman's foreign minister, in third place.

None of the nine candidates in the race is likely to win the more than 50 percent of the votes required for outright victory, the top twogend. In will case, the top two candidates will compete

Noboa names cabinet members

QUITO, Ecuador - Newly installed President Gustavo his cabinet Sunday as his government began trying to restore public confidence in the political system of a country that has had

Richardson wants energy research

DENVER
The Department of Energy is scheduled to announce an initiative Monday that seeks to spur the development of the geothermal-energy industry, a highly productive but still evolving source of renewable energy.

Energy Secretary Bill Richardson will present his GeoPowering the West project and set out ambitious goals that call for geothermal energy to provide as much as 10 percent of the West's electricity by 2020 , supply the electricpower or heating needs of 7 milion homes by 2010 and with geothermal-power facilities to eight by 2006 .

Richardson also will announce $$ 4.8$ million in grants to advance research in geotwhich taps heat energy from reservoirs under the Earth's surface, officials told the Los Angeles Times. The West's unique geology makes this renewable energy source most easily accessible in that region.

The grant program will fund research in California, Texas, Utah, North Dakota, Idaho and Nevada.
six presidents since 1996
Noboa became president of this small South American country Saturday after Jamil Mahuad was ousted following week-long protests by thousands of Ecuadoran Indians that culminated in their taking over the Congress and Supreme Court uildings Friday.

He filled several cabinet posts, including education, health and tourism, but left some crucial positions open, including those

Along with purging corruption, Noboa must quickly find ways to unshackle the country from 60 percent inflation and high unemployment. Seven milpeople, including a large number of Indians, live in poverty. gins at 6 p.m. and ends at 9 p.m in Newhouse I, A2.

Al-Anon meets at noon in Schine Student Center, Room 232.
-Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a" Women's Roles in the Church" discussion at 7 p.m. in
TUESDAY
Wewhouse I hosts the "How to Find an Internship" seminar

WThe Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse hosts a comedy open mic at 8 p.m. Call 474-0969 for more information.

The Greek-Jewish Council meets at $7: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. in the Hi Lounge of Hendricks Chapel.

WEDNESDAY

-The College Republicans meet at 7:30 p.m. in Schine Student Center, Room 302.

WEDNESDAY-  SATURDAY

The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Darin Dillon and Bill Campbell at 8 p.m. Additional shows are p.m. Call 474-0969 for more ticket information.

FRIDAY

nA "Job Hunt" seminar begins at 2 p.m. and ends at 5 p.m.

1, A2

FRIDAY-SATURDAY

חUU Cinemas presents the Gulf War comedy, "Three Kings," starring George Clooney, Ice Cube and Spike Jonze at 7 p.m. and $9: 30$ p.m. in Gifford AuditoriAnd for $3. At midnight, Robert

University advertises new minority scholarship

BY KAFIN PATTENGILL Contributing Writer

The Gates Millennium Scholars, a program funded this year by a grant of one billion dollars from the Bill and scholarships for minority students nationwide over the next twenty years.

The program was established by Microsoft chairperson Bill Gates and his wife to provide tinancial aid to minority students wishing to pursue a higher education.
*Armerica must continue to address the challenge of making a college education possible for deserving minority students," according to the application. "With high sehool completion rates steadily rising, our nation must promote and improve access to higher education for these students."

An applicant must be of black, Amercan Indian/Alaskan Native, Asian Pacific American or Hispanic descent, said Anne Hamill, the associate director of scholarship programs for Syracuse University* An applicant must also be a permanent resident of the United States, she added.

Hamill said she will be available to assist students with their applications.

In addition, the applicant must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.3 on a 4.0 scale and be currently enrolled fulltime in an accredited college or university for the academic year of 2000-2001, Hamill said.
"Producing outstanding graduates will help sustain and advance our nation as a global, competitive democracy in the new millennium," the application said.

High school seniors who have applied oo or have been accepted at an accredited college or university can also apply, Hamill said. Students enrolled in a graduate program in mathematics, science, engineer ing, education or library science are also applicable, she added

The applicant must have significant financial need and dernonstrate leadership ability in the community or in other extracurricular activities, she added.

There is no minimum or maximum amount," Hamill said. She said the amount of money given to students will be based on their financial situation, and will be designed to meet their needs.

Applicants must submit a nomination from a dean or professor, a personal recommendation and a personal statement to the Scholarship Programs Office in Lyman Hall by March 3.

The program, in its inaugural year, is still operating on a "pilot basis," Hamill said. After the end of its first year, the program will be subject to changes following a thorough review, she added.

The scholarship is a great opportuni$t$ for any eligible student who wishes to apply and can play an important role in the success of a student, Hamill said
"It is a unique, one-time opportunity for students enrolled at SU," Hamill said. "There is a potential to fund a student'sentire higher education career."

CINEMAS
CAROUSEL 19 GAROUSEL CENTER BARGAIN MATINEES BEFORE E PM.

 - GREAT NORTHERN to 3 81 \& 31 RIGHT REAR OF MALL $652 \cdot 2130$

 CAMHLIUS 10
ar. 5 CAMILLUS MALL 4Ba-1122
MOMR TO YDupgize:

SHOPPINGTOWN 10 ERIE BLVO, $\varepsilon 449.22$

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name. class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, piease.

Date
Fri. 1/C1

Sat. 1/2z

Firi. 1/23
Sat. $1 / 29$

Fric 219
531. 2/5

Fri. 2/4 1
sat. $3 / 12$

Fri. $2 / 18$
Sat-2199

Fri. $2 / 25$
Sat. 2lat

Fri. $3 / 3$
Sat. 3/4

Fri. $3 / 10$
Sat. 3/11
Fri. 3/47
Sat. 3/78

Fri. 3/2a
Sat. 3/25

Fris. $3 / 31$
Sat. Afz

Fri. 9/7
Sat. $9 / 8$

Fri. $4 / 14$
Sat. 4/15

Fri. a/21
Sat. a/2z
Fri. a/28
Sat. $4 / 29$

TATE NKEM AT LHEIS GIN
Open Recreation until 2 am on Friday and Saturday Archboid-Flanagan Spring 2000 Activilies

Hearn how to Dance Swing Ping Pong/roosbalf Tourney Free Throus Shode Out
Aerobics
Momen then's 4 on a Vollayball Tourney
Learn how to Dance Swing
Aerobics:
Momen I Men's 5 on 5 Basketball Tourney
Learn how to Dance Swing
Aerahics
Wiffleball Night
Learn hou to Dance Sving
Aerobies
Momen & Men's 3 on 3 Easketbafl Tourney
Lemrn how to Danec Tango
Aerobics
Self Defense Might Learn hour to Dance Tango
Aerobics
Mrffleball Momeran Derby
Learn how to Dance Tango
Aerobics
Self Defense Night
Open Recreation
Open Recreation
Learn how to Dance Tango
Aerabics
Whfleball Night
Learn to Dance Salsa, Merengue, Aachata
Aerobics
Sports Triwia Night
Leara to Dance Salsa, Nerengue, Bachata Aerobics
Midnight Suxim
Learn to Dance Sallsa, Merengue, Bachata Aerobics
Improve your workoit routine: Personal Trainer Nighe
Learn to Dance Salsa, Merengiue, Bachata
Aeriobics .
Malf Court Shoot Out
Open Recreation
Open Recreation
Swing, Tango, Salsa, Merengue.
amd Bachnta Pance Comtest
Aerobics
Aergbics
Improve your wowkout romtine: Pbrsonal Trainer figtit

Time
10:30 pan 10830 pm 10830 pim 10s30 prn $10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ 10.30 pm $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ $10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ $10 \pm 30$ pm 10800 pm $10: 30-\mathrm{pm}$
$10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ $10 z 00 \mathrm{pm}$ 10:30 pm $10 ; 30 \mathrm{pm}$ 10 og pm $10: 30$ Pm 10:30 pin 10:00 pm $10: 30$ pm
10.30 pm $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ 10.30 pm 10.30 pm $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ 10:30 pm 10:00 prn 10:30 pm
10:80 prin 10800 mrs $10: 30 \mathrm{~mm}$ 10.30 pm 10500 mix 10 a30 pin 10:30 pm $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ $30 z 30 \mathrm{pm}$ $10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ $10: 30 \mathrm{pm}$ 10:00 pm $10: 00 \mathrm{pm}$ 10.30 pm T9800 pm. 10espom

SEMINAR

continued from page 1
day night in the Carrier Dome.
I liked how it was a conversation because it really gave the students a chance to ask her questions and really understand one-year Hillel fellow "She clar one-year Hillel fellow. "She clar-ified a lot of issues I thought of when reading her book. It was inspiring."

Many attendees read Guinier's book Lift Every Voice: Turning a Civil Rights Setback into a New Vision of Social Justice," a re-telling of her 33-day nomination for the U.S. Justice Department.

Customer Service Representatives

For USA Relay

- $\quad 2^{\text {nd }}$ Shift or Weekends Only
- Pay Rate $7.75-$8.25
- Must type 40 wpm
- No Selling!!!!
- Paid Parking
- Three week paid training

Call for appt or walk in!
422-8181 EEO.
'She was very good, very informative," said Nicole Young, a graduate public administration student. "She addressed a lot of racial concerns and other issues for law students.

But Guinier, the first tenured female professor at Harvard Law School, faced tough questions about her nomination and her political views.

She told a story about the time she spent in Phillips County, a highly segregated area of vidual has ever held a seat in loval government, although blacks comprise 43 percent of the population.

It was a textbook perfect case - they violated the Voting Rights Act, the minority was locked out," Guinier said. "But we lost. The judge said I was challenging democracy. The next thing he knew. I would be challenging the need for elections."

Guinier said she simply wanted to make elections fairer for minorities, regardless of race, religion or creed.

Former U.S. Sen. Alan Simpson (R-Wyoming) once asked Guinier what would happen if the white minority in South Africa read her ideas of proportional representation. Guinier was shocked, she said. "It's not about shutting anyone out," she said. "He thought I was out togetrevenge It's about one race into power. Ities in the decision-making process to legit-decision-making process to ${ }^{\text {imize the majority's power." }}$ Guinier said being called i-democratic was very painful and upsetting, but she has moved beyond that phase of her life, as her book title suggests.
"I don't think a lot about that experience anymore, she said. "For 33 days, I agonized and it was a kind of torture, really. It was a kind of a double blessing. It was a blessing because I'm now committed to making sure no one is voiceless. The second blessing is that I didn't have to go to Washington.
"There is a good chance that even if I had gotten the nomination, I would have still been voiceless, Guinier added. version of the were a condensed version of which point I would months, ave resigned.

In addition to her nomina-

| DICK VITALE'S  WHY THE GAME I LOVE IS  BREAKING MY HEART  * CLEAN UP GAMBLING  * CONTROL AGENTS & BOOSTERS  * KEEP PLAYERS IN SCHOOL  * REFORM RECRUITING  * RESTRUCTURE NCAA RULES  BOOKS SIGNED BY DICKIE V. IN PEREON AT SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE SCHINE STUDENT GENTER MONDAY, 24TH 1:30-3:30 PM  SIGN UP TO WIN ONE OF DICKIE V'S 3Pt PACKAGES W/BOOK PURGHASE |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

FOR ORDERS BY PHONE PLEASE CALL 443-1659
ion, she discussed her views on democracy, racism and education. She provided anecdotes and examples of her own experiences with these topics.
"These issues that she discussed today are essential to us, not only as Americans but as humans," said Michelle Johnson, a graduate sociology student and co-chairperson of the king steering committee responsible for bringing Guinier to SU. "This was a really good seminar. It will help these people, who are al ready committed to what Lani Guinier spoke about, be even more committed.

While many attendees agreed that Guinier is a wonderful speaker, there was some dis sent as to how well the seminax was received by the $S U$ commu nity.
"I think it's an embarrassment that only a fraction of the Maxwell School was here, said gion and politics studenti Princeton University "If Iani Guinier was speaking at Prince ton our entire public adminis tration school would be there squeezing in the doora. She is a great civil rights figure."

FOR PUELIC SERVIGE
Have You heard the "Buzz" around campus?

CAPS Nomination Forms are now available at CPCS
237 Schine Student Center 443-3051
cpcsesummon2.syr.edu or via Electronic Filing at http://students.syr.edu/depts/cpes completed forms due by 5:00PM 2/18/00

GUINIER

continued from page 1
Like the SAT, LSAT and GRE, sad Guinier, who in the fall of 1998 became the first black woman tenured as full professor at Harvara.
"What do they normalize?" she anked of the tests. Quick, strategic guessing with less than perfect information."

The tests are intended to assess the projected success of the student, but instead do the opposite by judging what the student has already learned, which is otten based on economic factors, she said.
-I am talking about the kind of test you give in kindergarten that tracks some hids to college and other kids to prison," Guinier said. These tests judge what your parents had to give you, not what you have to give back to the community.

Studies of students who have finished graduate school show that the students with the highest LSAT scores are the least likely to give back to the community, she said, citing that black and Latino students admitted with low LSAT scores are more inclined to do public service.

Guiniar questioned college acceptance policies and how affirmative action plays into the selection process. The purpose of higher edu cation should be to select and aid the students who will benefit society the most, she said.
"It is to give an opportunity to citizens to be able not only to support themselves and their own families, but to be citizens in a democracy who can raise their voice in public policy decision making," Guinicr said.

As an example of students succeeding against the odds, Guinier noted that the recently appointed black director of pediatric neurosurgery at John Hopkins University in Baltimore, Dr. Bemjamin Carson, was told by his college advisor he was not cut out for medical school. He is the exception, Guinier said, noting that there is one black man in a California state university for every five men in a prison in the state.
"We are willing to tolerate a society where there are not enough opportunities for people to learn," she said. There are too many opportunities to go to prison. We can prison and the other half is supportprison and the othe g those in prison.
"We can not waste so many Lives."

Gunier spoke of a successful policy signed into law by Texas Gov. George W. Bush that allows for the top 10 percent of every graduating class in the state to be automatical ly eligible for enrollment in either & $M$ The polity she said has been & M. The policy, she said, has been successful in accepting and retaining blacks and Mexican-Americans of the highest first-year of the highest frst-ycargrade poin installment of the policy

In a relinted policy alternative, Guinier addressed the use of black and Latino femule police officers who do not meet the 5 feet 10 inch height requirement to work in the inner cities she said But the women could often do their job working with inner-city youth better than men whose first reaction roight be to reach for a gum, she said.

Rather than dominate the men," she said. "hey mentored hem.

Alternative ideas about the changing roles of women and minorities will cantinue to grow in the 2lst Century, Guinier said, ending her hour-long speech.
${ }^{4}$ I am optixistic because I believe in Dr-King's vision."

Sumday oelebration

Following the speech, Guinier posed with the Phi Iota Alpini frateraty who along with Syracuse resiMitchell and Michelle Walker were homored as Unsung Heror Heroine honored after the dinner. The Black Celestial Choral Ensembie ofSU and Celestial Choral Ensembe on SU and tained the audirnce.

Guinier, a 1993 nominee to head the U.S. Justice Department's civil rights division, was selected by a 26-member committee of faculty and staff, to be the keynote spealser for SUs 15 th annual Martion Luther King colebration.

A 1974 graduate of Yale Law School and classmate of President Bill Clinton. Guinier was active with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People before going on to teach at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and then at Harvard.

Prior to her speech, Guinier led nn open disetission with SU students about her most recent book, "Lif Every Voice: Turning a Civil Rights Setback lnto a New Vision of Social Justice," which addresses the withdrawal of her 1993 nomination that has yet to be followed by a confirmation hearing.

The committee's selection of Guinier was successfil because she was able to voice her opinions on several issucs pertinent to university life, concommittee chairperson Sylvia Martinez-Daloia said.
"The good thing about her nomination process is that it has given her a process to talk about some important issues," said Mar-tinez-Daloia, SU's director of community relations. "She addressed issues about the majority and the minority - not just racial issues - but about those who hold power and those who don't."

SUChancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, who atiended his ninth cele bration dinner, said the keynote address improves each year.

Here's what some of our hundreds of SU laundry customers have said about us:

Awesome! You dont understand how much easier it makes my lifet?
-Anne Dandridge SU Sophomore
"it's unbelievable! A machine must fold!" -Topping Bowers SU Sophomore
"You guys are Great! My towels and sheets come back very soft and smell great."

Todd Brodsky, SU Freshman
"Just like Mon"
Jason Serapigifa SU Sophomore
"excellent completely accommodating to any special need I have"
-Lindsay Rowan SU Junior
"Auesome...my clothes have never been cleaner
-Hatt Heering SU Sophomore
Very Fieliable, I can trust you with any of my clothes!"

Brian SIgman, SU Sophomore

Lindsay Orr Sr. (right), a music Industry major, leads the Elack Celestial Choral Ensemblo at Sunday nlght's MLK dimer. Senior families studies major Courtrey Wragiff (left) conducts the group.

It creates a much needed dialogue with issues on race and ethnicity." Shaw said.

Her concers, however, about standardized tests do not directly resaid. Schools like Harvard and Stanford University, that soIcly base their admission on the tests, are what she is concerned about, Shaw said.

Tests at most universities are not used the way the public thinks," he said. The problem is when the tests are the fral determinant. Mos schools don't have that problem.
"If you had to throw out one deBut for Jerri Clark, a senior drama major, Guinier's views are so close to the center of our nation's problems, she stould consider running for public office, she said.
"All I have to say is why isn't she runing for president? I support all of her views," Chark said. "I feel like we woman and a minority president."

Staff Writer Kevin Tampone contributed to this article

get your laundry done PROFESSIONALLY

for just $139 a semester!

$\therefore$ Laundry, \& Storg ge always picked up and delivered

■AGIND NY   Nロ mOWNLERO

Open account and receive a FREE $10 Parlay! NO deposit required!
laffer exp. 1/30100)

Deposit $$ 200$ Receive $$ 50$ FREE (an initial depasit)

888-333-PLAY

 CasinoNY. Aom

When you're broke, you look at things in a whole new way.
So for textbooks and stuff, hit ecampus.com. You'll save up to $50 \%$. And shipping's always free.

[editorial]

The Daily Orange January 24, 2000

SU: seize the day, the census way

Syracuse University students, listen up - you won't get this chance for another 10 years.

The city of Syracuse's Bureau of the U.S. Census opened Jan. 21., in preparation for the survey's arrival in mailboxes in late March.

Census 2000 results will help determine everything including educational and other federal funding. But no matter how hard Census workers work to ensure accuracy, results are still skewed. Some critics say that in Census 1990, New York state's population was undercounted, which cost the state federal funds and representation in the House of Representatives.

This does not bode well for college students. With skewed results, politicians will have the ammunition to cut the programs that we care about.

The 1990 s were not the 1960 s . College apathy is at an all-time high and the future seems dim, but there is a simple solution to our plight. Take a few minutes to fill out the form yourself. Don't depend on your parents to fill out their forms, because their answers won't take your thoughts into account. Census takers will be stationed at residence halls, and offcampus students will receive the survey in their mailboxes. $S U$ is even sponsoring several activities to encourage students to participate.

The form is also completely confidential, leaving no reason for students to forgo this opportunity.

Politicians ignore college kids. The national media laughs at us, saying we're lazy and self-absorbed. Census 2000 affords us the opportunity to be heard. We won't see the results immediately, but without the voice of the future leaders of without the voice of the future leaders of America, the Census will be a sham. It's thy label of the 1990s. Pick up a pen, and send in your responses.

Your future may depend on it.

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Justin Sivermian Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Edito Asst. News Edito Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Ashok Selvam Holly Aver Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger
Tom Nyez Tom Nycz Nova Austraw Emura Prabuck Emily Kulkus Tiffany Lankez Tiftany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Konal
Connor Ennis Connor Ennis
Jeff Passan Jeff Passan
Erin Eoyle Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Rachael Colden Ron Fooks

opinions

Media distorts China's occupation of Tibet

This column serves to dispel the Tibetan myth by clarifying most Americans' misunderstanding of the long-lasting China-Tibet conflicts
I'd like to give major credits to Haw Jone Cheng, I'd like to give major credits to Haw Jone Cheng,

CHUNG who initiated researchin topic with me at Cornell University last year.

A significant portion of western media attention has been focused on the question of Tibetan independence from the People's Republic of China. Rather than dispassionately framework, the western media has presented a lopsided view of the issue, namely that of the Dalai Lama and his pro-independence supporters. Dalai's passion I proclaimed my support of his actions. Regretfully, movies such as "Seven Years in Tibet" and "Kundun" entertain audiences with simple black-and-white stories of good and evil distorting reality beyond recognition. Movies, country whose people are being exploited and abused by the evil, malicious Chinese commu nists. Some of these stories go even further to portray the pre-socialist Tibet as a semi-egalitar ian Shangri-la-type Utopia, an idyllic society whose inhabitants were blissfully happy under the benevolent theocracy of the Dalai Lama. Historians tell quite a different story.

To begin with, the idyllic image of Tibet under the Dalai Lama is a fantasy. Pre-Socialist Tibet had a primitive feudal syitem. Because of outside world, Tibet was a medieval society where the majority of Tibetan people were serfs. They were bound to furnish their lords with the bulk of their agricultural output and labor. They also owed heavy taxes to the government in Lhasa, Tibet's capital, and to the religious estab. lishment.

All of this constituted a heavy economic burden that left most living at barely a subsistence level. Thirty percent of the capital's population consisted of vagrants and beggars. Those who consisted of vagrants and beggars. Those who punishments. Being sold into outright slavery was not uncommon, in contrast with the nobility who lived in plush luxury.

As for present day Tibet, the Chinese govern ment is often accused of the economic exploitation of the Tibetan people. After asserting full control, the Communists devoted tremendous ize Tibet and raise her standard of living, as they did in the rest of China. The plan only failed because of Chairman Mao Tse-Tong's miscalcul tions. As a result, the PRC government has borne of ignorance and blind optimism, not malice and exploitation.
Case in point: In the past three years, the Communist Party donated over $$ 4.4$ million of government funds to improve education in Tibet. The result is that $67 \%$ of Tibetan children are now enrolled in schools. This is a drastic improvement from the feudal days where only aristocrats and monks received any education at accused of genocide in Tibet. There is no truth to accused of genocide in Tibet. There is no truth to this. There is some truth, however, to the allegapolicies. During the Cultural Revolution, between 1966-76, Tibetan religion came under fierce assault and most of Tibet's Buddhist monasteries vere destroyed.
However, during this period of intense internal stifle in Chinese history, anything that could be considered reactionary was violently attacked Many lives and historical/religious treasures across China were demolished. Tibet suffered with the rest of China. What transpired during deplorable, cannot be counted as genocide. Tibetan culture, let alone Chinese culture, was not targeted for extermination. Even today, the Chinese government still reveres Tibetan religion as sacred and a unique aspect of Chinese culture. The western media's romanticizing of Tibetan independence does no justice to its historical reality, as many stories of Tibetan atrocities by It all started with McCarthyite anti-communism when many reporters were under pressure to write sensational accounts of horrific atrocities to attract readers, with little regard for the truth. Since then, these biased images have rendered western journalists only to conduct interviews with pro-Dalai Lama exiles while neglecting to report what the current residents of Tibet think. By and large, depictions of the Tibet question in the popular media are at odds with the work of historians, many of whom are Americans. those who are skeptical of my view are welcome Grunfeld. Another honest and objective attempt Grunfeld. Another honest and objective attemp issue of "The Atlantic Monthly". Further sources from both sides and from other historians can be gleaned from its list of works cited.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year law student. His column appears in The Daily Orange on Mondays. E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

The Daily Orange wants YOU!

SU's premiere news source is looking for lifestyle writers. All majors are welcome! If you have any story ideas or want to know more call lifestyle at 443-2128 or stop by at the Daily Orange building, only four doors away from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.
Fun, fame and glory are all within your reach! Stop by today!

SAVE UP TO $40 \%$ ON TEXTBOOKS.
Savings off distributor's suggested price. Bocks delivered in no more than three business days. Some restrictions apply. See site for details.

© VarsityBooks.com

Keys to Your Success from IN TEXAS INSTRUMENTS

Texas Instruments Graphing Calculators support these math courses!

MAT 112- TI-83 for all students except those planning to take MAT 285-286
T1-89 only for students planning to take MAT 285-286.
(A TI-92 may be used instead of the TI-89.)

- MAT 121/122- Any calculator with a square root key is adequate.
- MAT 183- TI-83 required.
- MAT 194- TI-83- for students planning to take MAT 284 or MAT 295
Ti-89 for students planning to take MAT 285. (A TI-92 may be used instead of the TI-89.)
MAT 221/222- Any calculator with a square root key is adequate.
- MAT 284- TI-83 is required.
- MAT 285/286- TI-89-or TI-92 may be used
- MAT 295, 296, 397, 485-Any graphics calculator without symbolic algebra or symbolic calculus capabilities is permissible. Calculators with symbolic capability, such as the TI-89 or TI-92, are not permissible on exams and quizzes.
$=100 \times 160$ pixels witt $188 k$ RAM and 384k of FLASH ROM
- Trig and hyperbolic functions
- Graphing features include function parametric, polar, differenvial equations, 3D surfaces. 3D rotation contour and implicit plotting. zoom and trace.

RED LIGHT

continued from page 1
definition of what constitutes a sexually-related business was not clearly stated to the planning commission, Ladd said.

The proposal includes all for-profit organizations that use models who expose their breasts genitals, buttocks or anus.
"In the 1980 s when the city adopted legislation, they did it outside of the zoning ordinance in the alternative that if you didn't like the 1,000 -foot law, there could be fixed boundaries," he said.

Under the mayor's proposal, Barnes and Noble Booksellers and other mainstream business es courd be pena the ccope of the materrale, he said new rule, he said

If you're going to retain that clause with bookstores and video stores," Ladd said, "you shoald make it clear what you will need to be affected."

The city may be able to keep the wording, however, if it can make a distinction between adult make a distinction between adult mainstream businesses that sell adult materials, Ladd said.

In Friday's recommendamously rojected provisions in the proposal that restricted an artist's right to sketch nude models, largely in response to a Nov, 29 community meeting inside of City Hall that attracted more than 300 residents, he said.

During the meeting, Syra cuse residents strapped caution tape across their chests to warn local artists of the wording in the proposal that could restric the right to sketch nude models. Rick Guy, corporate council for the mayor, authored the pro posal and called the commis ment" and added that he does not ment and added that he does no expect it to pass through the "If
If there was that much furor over the drawings, we werent going to be high bound to include them, Ladd said. "It to includethem, Ladd said. "It just complicates matters. The protests brought the arguments to light. It wasn't a political thing."

The commission also elimi nated a clause in the proposa that categorized violations as Class A misdemeanors, Ladd said. Violations of zoning laws however, are not criminal offens es, but civil ones, he explained.

That was just a technical mistake," Ladd said.

If the Council comes under intense pressure to address the proposal, Ladd said the issu could be decided as late as Feb. 28
"They haven't had a chance to really discuss what they're going to do," he said. "They will have to have a few meetings to deliberate."
wouldr't get suspicious," said Darwish.

There are no suspects in the

COPS

continued from page 1
then a lightbulb from a garbage can and threw it at the door, the report said.
che glass shattered but door

Driscol said he was not injured and the door has since been replaced.

The case was closed with Wilson and Hassett's arrests, the report said.

EDiane Darwish, a Syracuse University second-year law student, had $$ 30$ stolen Friday night while playing pool at Planet 505, 505 Westcott St., accord ing to a police report.

Darwish said she placed her date planner containing credit cards, her identification and $$ 30$, on a bench with her coat next to the pool table.

She said she remembers watching her belongings while playing against a man, who she watching the game, she added When she noticed her plan

When she noticed her planner missing, Darwish asked the had seen it, she said. One of the man seen ic, she said. One of the men asked her if she had looked found behind the bar without the money inside, Darwish said.
I think they asked me to look behind the bar so the cops case, the report said
The manager of Planet 505 declined to comment on the incideat.

■ Two Pi Beta Phi sorority members witnessed a woman being pushed from a car early Saturday morning from their house on the 200 block of Walnut Place, according to a police report.

The sisters declined to comment on the incident.

Syracuse resident Phillip Abate, 25, pushed the woman from a 1999 Chevrolet Blazer, said the report. Police later stopped Abate on Euclid Avenue after being spotted near Waverly Avenue, the report said

Abate appeared intoxicated and admitted he had been drinking, the report said. After field sofor driving while intoxicated, reckless endangerment and harassmenst, the report added.

Police interviewed the victim at Crouse Hospital, 736 Irving Ave., where she was treated for a Ave, wheration to her lip, the report said. The victim admitted that she had also been drinking prior to the incident, the report said.

The case was closed with Abate's arrest.

Compiled by Contributing Writer Melisa Malchoff

the EDE

Caffeinated culprit Bill bradley announced his theory about the sudden increase in episodes of his heart arthyth. mia: The cream soda did it. He now says he has cut out his consumption of the caffeinated brew. In the meantime, Bradley's aides have found a use for their vast, unwanted stock of Diet AsW Sparkling Vanilla Cream Soca. The cans now can be found in the cooler on the press bus. Bradiey is orinking Sunkist die? orange.

Hot to trot

The February magazines seem to be generating an awful lot of heat. With less than a month until Valentine's Day, Movieline, Essence and Esquire, among others, are taking big. time notice of the holiday with themes of love, desite, and in the case of Movieline's annual More Sex Than Usual" issue, raw lust. But Essence magazine details the opposite of sex with a story on a woman who has forsaken bedroom activities since March 8, 1996. Most people, the magazine says, are holding out for sex "within an intimate. loving and compatible relationship. In other words, grood sex."

Book bust

John Grisham is back on the shelves, this time with his eleventh legaf thritier, "The Brethren." A first printing of the Doubleday book yeilded 2.8 million coples.
This
time,
Grisham's latest harccover will share attention with another new tion with another new work - A Painted work - "A Painted House," a semiautobiographical story about a boy growing up in Arkansas, which he is writing as a serial novel for the Oxford American, southerr literary magazine based in Oxford, Miss. The first of six instal!. ments appears in the January/February issue of the bimonthly.

quote  of the day:

"Work is more fun than fun."
Noel Coward

'Magnolia' tunes add dramatic touch to film

"Magnolia:" Music Erom the Motion Pictire

In "Magnolia, Paul Thomas Anderson's brilliant epic of human despair and loneliness, Chris $\begin{aligned} & \text { despair and loneliness, } \\ & \text { music plays an insirumen- } \\ & \text { Piazza }\end{aligned}$ tal role in the overall flow of Off the record the film. The music is so essential to the experience of the movie that some have described it as a filmic operz. Needlea ing soundtrack to accompany it.
And, for the most part, the musical counterpart of the film works quite well. It does so mostly on the strength of Aimee Mann's nine original compositions. Former meraber of the group T11 Tuesday and struegling solo artist ever since, Mann got the break of a lifetime having Paul Thomas Anderson as one of her few fans.

Anderson reportedly wrote "Magnolia" as a showcase for Mann's music, or at least drew a great deal of inspiration from it. The overall tone of the fims and Mann's music is strikingly similar - somber, lonely, yet also filled with ter in the film, her bruised, wispy voice echoing many of the characters' doubts and desires. The album begins with Mann's excellent cover of the Three Dog Night classic, "One. The song, os the films music so often does, clues us use of dialogue. Feflecting the song ("One is the use of dialogue. Kelecting the song ('One is Anderson has created are all achingly lonely but have love to give.

The next song, "Momentum," explains how all the characters in the film have, up to this point, wasted their lives and their love by

See RECORD page 10

COUNT

continued from page 9 Yorkers were significantly undercounted as a result of its large populations of young, mobile resihave stable, countable home lives Consequently, the state missed out on countless dollars of potential federal funds and may have been shortchanged seats in the House of Representatives.

Due process

Most U.S. citizens will be asked to complete the seven-suben households will receive the long form, which includes 27 additional subjects. Neither form, however should take longer than 35 minites to complete.

The Daily Orange

Questions on the short form include only inquiries about age, sex, Hispanic orgin and race. The information on languages spoker information on languages spoken at home, educational attainment status. Only one new item was added to the Census 2000 long form: grandparents as caregivers, which will be used to provide information pertaining to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act of 1996.

The U.S. Census is 100 percent confidential, and respondents are not asked to provide their social security to provid any identifying information othe any identir than their name, Billings said. In dividual census responses are not Service, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, credit bureaus or loan or police agencies, he added.
"People shouldn't have a feeling that this is big government or Big Brother looking at who they are or what they are," he said "It's just a research' tool, and every single part of it will remain confidential for 72 years.

The Supreme Court struck

JONATHAN CHAYAT MEMORIAL AWARD

Jonathan Chayat graduated cum laude from Syracuse University in 1976. He was killed in a bicycle accident that July, just before he was to begin graduate studies in English at SU. His parents established an award to be given to the junior or senior SU student most closely embodying the intellectual and moral qualities of Jonathan Chayat.

In addition to his academic prowess, Chayat was active in the peer advising and freshman orientation programs, played saxophone in area jazz groups, sculpted in metal, and worked as a photographer and carpenter.

He was concerned about the ethical and aesthetic dimensions of life, and lived with integrity and self-knowledge. He was unstinting in his contributions to the SU community.

Students may be nominated for the Jonathan Chayat Memorial Award, which will be $$ 500$ this year, by other students, by faculty or staff members, or they may apply themselves. A letter describing the student's character, ideals, achievements and contributions accompanied by the candidates resume should be sent to the Jonathan Chayat Memorial Selection Committee, 329 Hall of Languages, by Friday 4, 2000.

Voted Best Music Store bt The D.O. in 1998 THE SOUND GARDEN
$A R M Q R_{Y} S Q U A R E$

\title{

"The Most Recora store in Town."  - City Paper Best of Baltimore '94  \begin{tabular}{|c|}

\hline | organized selection of new and used CD's" |
| :--- |
|  |

\hline | "Overall, pound for pound, bin for bin, Sound Garden can't he beat." |
| :--- |
|  |

\hline "Superlative indie-vinyl section
\hline
\end{tabular}

Pick up the brand new releases from:

- Notorious B.I-G.
- DMX
- Beck

Lowest Price on Phish and Grateful Dead box sets.
down a Clinton-backed proposal last year to use sampling diata as an indicator for congressional allocation in lieu of the status quo practice of counting each U.S. resident during the census-taking process. As a result, the U.S. Census Bureau is taking extreme measures to provide enough census takers for an accurate count. In the Syracuse area alone, 1,500 people will be hired as census talsers, Billings said.

Billings said the key to census success nationwide involves making sure that counters work and live within the neighborhoods they are responsible for. Since people in lower socio-economic brackets often have less stable family lives and rely on public assistance, he said, they may distrust strangers who come to their door to collect. the census.
"I'm not going to send people from the inner-city out to Manlius, and I'm not going to send people from Liverpool into the city neighborhoods," Billings said.

Tough questions
The 1990 Census generated controversy over the racial identity portion of the survey, since it didn't allow for accurate measurements of bi-ormultiracial populations. But adjustments over the course of the past decade, Billings ine the census will be person to coring the census their be able bo corground, even if it means checking off several boyes.
"It's not a black and white issue any more, so we've responded to the need for additional identification characteristics," he said. "I imagine, though, that there's going to be some problems with interpreting this data down the road."

Andersen said, however, that some minority leaders have opposed the measures to increase identification options, fearing it would deplete statistical representation of their constituencies.

Another important question on this year's census may have a large impact on how curriculum is structured in American schools. Since the Spanish-speaking populations are growing quickly in

Census 2000 By
The Numbers
275 MILIION
Estimated U.S. residents
118 MILLION
Housing units in United States alone
1.5 MILION

Housing Units in Puerto Rico and U.S. Istand areas
$6,000 & 1,500$
Personal computers and printers (set up, used and dismanthed in one year)

8 MILLION
Maps needed for fieldwork
79 MILLION
Questionnaires returned over two-week period

8 TO 9 MILLION Blocks covered

Complled by: Lufestyle Editor Holly Auer
Source: U.S. Census Eurem
Texas, disputes have cropped up over the merits of bilingual educa tion, Andersen said. Data gath ered from census questions per taining to languages spoken in the home may help lend some clout to the push for expanded language offerings in schools.

The United States is the only country in the world with a con-stitutionally-guaranteed census Billings said, and he hopes stu dents value their right to be count ed. And, Andersen added, results of the census often dictate the flow of federal funding in areas ranging from trans portation to health care - issues that will re main important to U.S. residents long after computers tally the numbers.

The census is the bedrock of data we need in order to have good social policies."
the likes of Supertramp and Gabrielle. There is nothing particularly wrong with these songs - especially the ridiculously catchy "Dreams" - but they disrupt the distinct mood that Mann's songs so expertly created

My main complaint with the album is not what is included, but rather what isn't. Jon Brion's musical score is just as integral to the film as Aimee Mann's songs - in fact, his music plays uninterrupted at one point for nearly an hour - but only two minutes worth is supplied on the album. In place of the three novelty tunes, Brion's music should have figured more prominently in the soundtrack.

This, however, is a minor qualm. The soundtrack is an excellent supplement to the film, especially if you've seen it aready. As a subtext to the narrative, Mann's words add insight to Anderson's myriad of complex our lonely isolation Mever escape our lonely isolation, Mann seem wholeheartedly love others. Or, as she says more succinctly in one of the sonore succinctiy in to stop/Until you - Its not going My Grade: B+ next three cuts, retro tracks from

422 MARSILALL STRIET

Now Renting for Fall 2000

Only 2 Left
-Off-Street Parking
*Laundry Room
MMonitored Alarm System
*Next to Booth Hall
"Early Signing Bonus *Large 283 Bdirm. Apts.

CALL ANYTIME
637-5779

STATES

continued from page 16
During Friday's competition, Thomas dominated every intrastate opponent he mer ateristically won fe unhis opening three matches by decision.

Thom

Thomas won the third ateh plus the first match in the consolation bracket via pinfall, the way most of his matches end.
rosa good tournament for me," the All-State honoree said. "I would have much rather been in the finals. I am happy with the third-place finish but am by no means content with it.

Crangeman to join Thy othfor a second trip to Binomam ton. The freshman phenom posted a strong opening-day performance, as he defeated Hunter College's Taylor Roberts with a $1: 54$ pin.

Advancing to Saturday's competition, Cowen did not fair as well, taking home an eighth-place finish. The freshman's finish merited him All-State honors in the 149-pound weight class.
 tled very well," Cowen said. "I Was very pleased because I wrestled aggressively.

The second day I came dut at about 80 percent. I did the first day. I wrestled hard, but I wasn't on top of my game."
Phe work of Cowen and Thomas overshadowed the lingering problem for $S U$ wrestling - too many gaps in the lineup in the lineup.

Already having lost two top wrestlers to season-ending injuries, and with Ronald failing to make the weight cut, the Orange lost two more slots for the team totals.
slots for the team totals.
have to worry about members of the team making weight,"

TICKETS

continued from page 1
expected us to be a little rther along at this point."

The sales appear especialy bleak when season ticket holders are subtracted from the total expected attendance. More than 16,000 of the tickets in the 23,000 total come in some form of a season

Several factors could contribute to the lack of attendance at tonight's much-antici6 Orangemen and the No. 8 Huskies, Campbell said.

For starters, the game will be televised nationally on ESPN as part of its Big Monday package. The recent snow serve as a deterrent, as well as the day of the week and starting time for the game, Campbell said.
"Weekend games have a! ways sold better," he said. "It's an easier time for people.

The slow ticket sales for a 15-0 Orangemen squad are in mand for Dome seats in heyday back in the late 1980 s and early 1990 s

The Dome has hosted 52 SU basketball games with crowds in excess of 30,000 fans since the Orangemen began playing their home schedule in the Dome during the 1980-81 season.

Thirty of the $30,000-$ plus crowds came between 1986-87 and 1991-92, when Syracuse and went 26.8 wins per season the Dome. amazing 91-13 at Only
Only two of the overflow attendances, however, have cent occurred last season, when UConn beat SU 70-58 in front of 30,367 patrons on Feb. 28.

The recent crowd has left the Orangemen without the intimidating homecourt advantage they enjoyed in the past, a fact not lost on the program.
"Our fans are good when they wake up," head coach Jim Boeheim said after a paltry 22,500 fans turned out for an 22,500 fans turned out for an so-57 SU win against Notre Dame on Jan. 16 . If we played Dame on dan. 16 , if we played win a game."

Despite the apparent jack of support, the numbers show SU remains a formidable foe in the Dome.

The Orangemen own a 264-57 mark all time at the Dome, and the building ranked no lower than No. 2 in college basketball in attendance cach of the last 15 seasons.
in fact, several of the play ers who now enter the Dome grew up watching Syracuse de stroy Big East opponents on ts home court.
a lot of rene in our program hier Dome $n$ respect for the Car Voskuhl , "Wnn center Jake forkuhl said. "We've been very fortunate to come out with Whis the past couple of years. But it varies year to year how tough it is to play there."

The Dome box office opens at 8:30 a.m. and will remain open past its normal busines pected walk-up crowd.

SU students can purchase any remaining seat in the Dome for just $$ 10$, while members of the public must shell out $$ 16$ for an adult seat and $$ 10$ for youths.

Most of the vacant seats can be found in Sections 305 through 307 and 313 through 315 , located in the corners of the Dome.

A chunk of seats also can be found in the lower rows of sections 301 through 303 sections Campbell said.

Although Caimpbell's estinate falls far short of capacity, me said that the seating can be expanded to as large as 33,000 by pushing back the blue curtain that separates the playing area from a family fun center. "We can always extend capacity a little," he said. "We could sell more depending on the demand."

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

Cowen said. "It takes away rom your concentration. It puts on more individual pres. ur teand take

With Ike Wennihan lost this past week to a knee injury, John Soden wrestled up to 184 pounds from 165 and 174 , the two previous spots n which he has wrestled this season

He lost a pair of hardfought decisions on Friday and failed to advance to Saturday's placement competition. Although he struggled, he realizes that he may have a few more matches this season against heavier opponents.
"I have tried to get down
o 165 to fill C.J. MacNaughs spot," Soden said of the spot vacated by MacNaught's shoulder injury. "Injuries caused me to move to 174 pounds. Now with Ike's inury, I just filled in at 184 pounds. I'll be at 184 as long as Coach needs me there.
"As long as Coach needs me there" seems to be the notto of this year's edinan MASH unit appears to see no light at the end of the tunnel. Decimated by injuries the few remaining grapplers continue to improve as the season wears on. This past weekend in Binghamton helped out the progress of a few young wrestlers such as freshmen Cowen and Kalen Pascal and sophomores Soden and Mike Noonan.

Meanwhile, the matches benefitted the veteran Thomas, who hopes to take one more shot at qualifying for the NCAA Tournament.

Even with bits of hope Hoating through the program, SU must fight uphill the rest of the year, as ins wresters tead of competing "The competing.

The guys that were (in inghamton) wrestled well, ng in numbers becarche we only had six guys. Missing our spots was a bit disappointing."

Get away from the rush of campus and ioin us for a relaxing lunch in the student dining room of the Goldstein Alumni &

Faculty Center

Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA INVITES YOUTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27th 4:00-5:30РMAt the Underground in Schine

LEARN ABOUT LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTY.
SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE ABROAD.

RSVP AT X9425 OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

MARQUEE

continued from page 16 ington, D.C., and I read that we have won 47 of our last 52 Calhoun said. "Living in Connecticut, 1 didn't realize thatnecticut, 1 didn't realize that. Georgetown, and I thought we wert $3-12$ because all I kept were 3-12 because all 1 kept with the Huskies? ${ }^{n}$

The the Hisks?

the threc losses suffered this scason already surpass the season. One of those was a 59 42 loss to Syracuse at the Hartford Civic Center on Feb. 1.

UConn played that game without star forward Richard Hamilton and center Jake lecting paychecks in the NBA, but Voskuhl will match up with SU big man Etan Thomas for control of the paint.

A look at the numbers says that Thomas should win the inside battle, as he averages 14.3 points and 8.5 rebounds to Voskuhl's 8.6 and 6.3 .

SU's shotblocker extraordinare has struggied in recent games, however, mostly because of foul trouble, while Voskuhl has been impressive as of late, including a 15 -point performance in Saturday's 92-

The Daily Orange

71 win over Georgetown
The most intriguing matchup of the game comes on matchup perimeter. SU S point guard Jason Hart and UConn's Jason Hart and $\begin{aligned} & \text { Khalid El-Amin rank as ar- }\end{aligned}$ Khalid El-Amin rank as arpoint men and the emotional jeaders of their respective leams.
teamer

The two players lead physically as well. Hart averages 11.9 points and 7.1 assists a game, and the Huskies' portly point guard pours in 18.6 and dishes out 4.8.

Calhoun said El-Amin has become even more valuable to UConn this season after the departure of Fiamilton and the graduation of Ricky Moore.

This is his best season in three," the 13th-year UConn head coach said. "Other people we have had have allowed him to be more expressive. This season he's taken the burden of responsibility.
"I first noticed it in the Duke game against Jason Villiams. Khalid locked him up. Jason Gardner of Arizona went 2 -for-IO against him. He's put a lot more emphasis on his game. We have some weaknesses, but we also have strengths and he highlights thosestrengths - making sure the big guys get touches, getting the ball to shooters.
"After (Cincinnati's) Kenyon Martin, 1 don't know if there's another player doing as much for his team right now."

While El-Amin
s certainly valuable, UConn is no one-man band.

Albert Mouring hits 49 percent of his shots from behind the 3 -point arc on the way to averaging 13.4 points. Kevin Freeman is also in dou:ble figures for the Huskies with $11 . \overline{5}$. Thomas leads the SU team in scoring, but in the squad's last few games the perimeter game has been the key The Orangemen nailed 14 treys against Notre Dame and 11 against Pitt and were led by different players in each contest.

Sophomore sharpshooter Preston Shumpert led the Orange against the Irish with seven from downtown, while freshman DeShaun Williams

Syracuse Orangemen
Connecticut Huskies Syracuse plays Connecticut at 7 p.m. tonight at the Carrier Dome Syracuse Orangemen
15-0 (50 Eig East), No. 6 in the nation and leads the Big East by one game

Jim Boeheim (24th year, 564-193)
C Etan Thomas (14.3 ppg, 8.5 rpg . 4.2 bpg ). G Jason Hart ( 11.9 ppg. 7.1 apg ). F Ryan Blackwell (11.9 ppg. 8.3 rpg )

SU struggled in its last outing at Pittsburgh, defeating the Big East's last-place team 82-72 Wednesday. Freshman DeShaun Willams Daced the Orangemen with 23 points. The Orangemen will have to continue hitting outside shots if they hope to stay with UConn. The Huskies and Orange rank 1-2 in the conference in scoring per game, and SU leads in field-goal percentage, hitting at an ungodly 49.7 percent.
nailed five against the Panthers
One of the more telling signs of the importance of tonight's game is the presence of Dick Vitale - one of college basketball's most recognizable personalities - who will color commentate for ESPN.

The bald-domed broadcaster's appearance at the game is just one more indica-

Connecticut Huskies
13-3 (2-2). No. 8 in the nation and seventh in the Big East Jim Calhoun (13ih year, 317-123)

G Khalid El-Amin (18.6 ppg, 4.8 apg), G Albert Mouring ( 13.4 ppg . 3.2 rpg). C Jake Voskuhl ( 8.6 pgg 6.4 (pR)

Last year's national champs already have lost more games than last sea son when they went 34-2. El-Amin is back and as good as ever. and Voskuh returns with a newfound aggression (not to mention his enviable mop of hair). The 6 -foct-11 center coutd prove the most important player for the Huskies. SU's Etan Thomas was schooled by Pitt's Chris Seabrooks on Wednesday and has developed a penchant for earty foul problems.
tion as to how much the matchup means to the rest of the country.
"More recently, it's been on a national scale," Calhoun said. "We were fortunate enough to go to the Final Four last year and Syracuse was in the Final Four a few years ago. It's become a marquee game for the whole country."

VISIT US

www.Post-Syr.com

FREE...

- Classified Ads
- Download Software
- Chat Room
also get DISCOUNTS on...
- Cell-phones
- Clothes
- Tanning
- Car repairs
... and MORE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

www.Post-Syr.com

PAST

continued from page 16 cal. They had two 6-foot-11 cal. They (Seikaly and Coleman) Guys (Seikaly and Co

So?
You've got the three well scasoned seniors, a small forward in Damone Brown who ward in Damone Brown as though he's going to looks as though hes going to hit his head on the Carrier Dome roof every time he skies for a dunk, and three shooters for a dunk, and three shooter - Preston Shumpert, Tony Bland and DeShaun Williams laser sight on James Bond's laser sig.

Standing in the way now is UConn, last year's national champion.

The Huskies graduated All-American Richard Hamilton and Ricky Moore and still are trying to find their niche.
"I still think they're the best team in the conference," Boeheim said. "They're just, trying to find out how to replace the guys they lost Once they do that, they'll be very good."

UConn certainly can beat the Orangemen. It will be no surprise if the Huskies do. Point guard Khalid El-Amin is a lottery pick and the supporting class complements him well.
the The Orangemen ruined the Huskies' perfect season last year, spanking Connecticut - which entered the game 19-0 and No. 1 in the country, but played without Hamilton and Voskuhl - 59 ham 42.

Now it's UConn's turn to play spoiler. If the Huskies lish themselves as the team to beat in the Big East.

As for the possibility of Connecticut passing the torch Connecticut passing the of Big East elite back to Syracuse, Boeheim hesitates. At this point, he's not even sure of the Orange's place on the national landscape.
"People are way ahead of themselves," Boeheim said. "There are 30 or 40 teams that have the talent to go far. And 36 of 40 are not going to the Final Four.
"As Iong as people understand we are one of the better teams in the country, it's fine. But we haven't shown we're among the Top 3 or 5 or 8 yet," he added.

Boeheim underestinaates his team. The Orangemen can make it far in the NCAAs and the Final Four is a distinct possibility.
Still, the No. 6 ranking and 15-0 record still aren't enough to pack the Carrier Dome, as about 25,000 are expected tonight.

Four times in '86-87 the Orangemen drew 30,000-plus fans.
30,000 Phaps the day of the
Or maybe all it will take inspiring victory over a top team, something the '86-87 team failed to do at 15-0. "Really," Boeheim said, "it's too early to talk about comparing these two seasons."

Not if the Orangemen escape the Dome tonight at 160.

Jeff Passan is an assistant sports editor of The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at jspassan@syr.edu.

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

When in Hell...

(2)

Tartaruga Pate

Out of Town
by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

It's Jonwary, the Mall foesnt have Santa anymare.

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

Rasputin Presents

Eat the Lettuce

Classic Sleep Deprivation

CROSSWORD

by THOMAS IOSEPH

$\begin{array}{ll}\text { ACROSS } & 45 \text { Detect } \\ 1 \text { Can't stand } & 46 \text { Take the }\end{array}$ 6 Command wheel

 11 to F"ido DOWN11 Draw forth 1 "Something 12 "Gesund- Happened" heit" author
heit* $\quad$ author

| lead-in | 2 Fly |
| :--- | :--- |
| 13 Sheet | 3 Author of | material B-Down 14 Mating 4 -out

15 Game song
16 Behind the times
18 Ordinal.
19 Greek letter
20 Otfice-holders stopper
23 Brother, in Brittany roarer 27 Mayday" 28 Beg 30 Headline 33 Draw 34 Oscarwinner
Basinger 36 Yale player 37 Caffeinefree drink 39 Play part 40 Knight wear
41 Silver buy 43 Barter
44 Search

Classic
Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar Are you thinking what 12 m ?
Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

$14[$ classifieds $] \begin{aligned} & \text { The Daily Orange } \\ & \text { January } 24,2000\end{aligned}$

NOTICE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 $$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words 104 each additional word 54 extra each bold word $5 \%$ extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Pre-paid by: Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 2om 2 business days prior to run ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE II Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 132 10; Ant Classifieds: OR  FOR SALE Tanning Bed Excellent lor Sorority 24 (new) buto 5 Sunal bry Wolfe can ©etiver sosi $637-4741$  EMPLOYMENT  Gourmet cotite bar located insidy Main Lobby of Suny Health Scienco Ctr is saeking P1 employce Teekends and no tate nights. Ploase call Camp Counselors Top Overnight Carmp in  nww.pineforestcamp.com  itchen manager needect  Cr privale Summer Camp in Beautitul Pocono Experience preficted, 500 people 3 malls per day Experience precerted i-600-39-大AMP  Job Opportunities

BONUSES plus guaranteed hooutty rate tor Syracuse Stage "Angel Appral Campzign, Nice working atmosphere. On bus-line. Mon-Thur. wriking atmosphere. On bus-line. Mon-Thur.
$5 \cdot 9 \mathrm{PP}$.
$1 / 1 / 7 \cdot 3 / 19$. Required pleasant $s$ vace, goal oriented, posilive altitude. 443 -115日

WANTED

Child Care

Baby stter: Saturday nights for 2 young children. Call 682.0766 .
Batbysitter Wanted- Single Dad needs heip with 68 morring 6:45 to 8:15am. Watch them ia my sameswle home. Call Rick E492-21 10 tor destals. Childcare/Housekeeger Needed Monday inrough Thursafy hate Atemons. Must have Car. Please call 443.3024 or email me al Istone Cyyredu for lutther intormation.

Help Wanted
S1500 weckly potential mating our circulars. No Experience Required. Free intormation packet Call Experience Req $202-452-7679$.

Fraternitiex' Sororities Clubs'

Clubs Student Groups
Studeni organizations eam $51,000-52.000$ with the easyy carpusiundraiseetcom fricee hour functrising evelnt No pules required Fundraising dales ate filling quickly so call today! Contact campuslundratisar.com, ( 888 nact 923 -3238, of visit www camptesiundraiser.com.

Work lor an exciting College focused intemet company at your schooll Looking lor motivated individuals with stiong leadership. entreppeneurial and business skils. Tech skills not requirect Grai and business sxils. lech skils not required. Greal experience. pay and options! Conact intoe tuconnetions.com intoevconnections.com
 - Sx.00 Weak 1-d00-234-4931 wwwearnnow.nel

More than just SUMMEA EMPLOYMENT, Camp counselors needed for a private, residential camp in the beantilu Pbcono stivs. We bre locking fo people with a decieation to ctridren, enthu siasm for diversity, and a desire to share their passion and expertise in any of the foluwing areas: COMPUT-ERS. CIACUS ARTS, BASKETEALL MAGIC VOLLEYEALL, TENIS, SWIMMING. SAILING: FISHING. WATER-SKIING, THEAGA, DANCE: FISHING. WATER-SKIING, THEATE, SALING, VIDEO, GREATVE WRITING, ESL, SOCCEF, VIDEO, CAEATIVE WRITING, ESL, SOCCER
COOKING. AADIO, ROCK MUIC, GOLF SKATEBOARDING, ROLLERELAOING, HOCK EIRY, NEWSPAPEA, FINE ARTS, CREATVE CAAFTS, MOUNTAIN BIKING

CREATIVE CAAFTS, MOUNTAN BIKING, CLIMBING WALL

CLIMBING WALL
Piease call 1-b00-399-CAMP. Ask for Dan or Nigel. ARE YOU CONNECTED?
niternet
$882-217-4366$ wanted TabTearn2000 $\mathbf{c o m}$

Roommates

Roommate wanted to ahare 3 Iargo bedroom apartment close laundry $487-5761$
Aoommates Wanted Femala, Mato for like envirorment call Landiord $4<5 \cdot 2480$
Foommate 715 Lancaster $$ 225 *$ Washer, Deyer, Semi-hun, 3 blocks to carnous 263.6613
Sublet needed, a person Apaatment. Ackerman
Ave, 4 biocks to campus c3! Foto, 423 -9025.

Misc. Wanted

WANTED: 50 Serious People to loase weight. Fast, Sale, $100 \%$ Nalural. Guaranleed

FOR RENT
Large Single Family furnished house. Patking. fireplace, tree laundry, tishwasher, mature ienants $668 .-3304$

|  |
| :---: |

| LUXURIOUS: 2stery aptholt, Gournet kitrdin. Custom Ioungelv area. Shylight 1st ceiling. ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKING PARK: ist $s$ 2nd the ibidin, $i-2-3$ bdrms, ot'stucty, jacuzzil bath, porches.  OSTROMMADISON: All apis fum & neated. NO PETS! Negotiable leases. Call lor appt $969-0780$ |
| :---: |

Beautitl 3 Eedtoom Townhouses, Waiking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms. tots of closet space, $11 / 2$ Baths, closet space, $11 / 2$ Bahs, Diningroom, Livingioom.
Kitchen, Easement with Washarf(rycr hookups.

L(.)(.) K

First Week Advertised Lancaster Ave. Furmished 3 Bedrooms Porches, Laundry 655-2175 For details

Five bedroom House

Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHNASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
Two Bedroom Apartmenta on Euclid Furnished, Heat included, harthrood tionss, parch, recen remodeled. , aundry. parking. $476-2982$
University nice quiet furnished $1,2,3$ bedrooms apartmenis patking uilijises included walk SU Hospitals reasorable. Aocmmate for grad needed 478.2642 . 478-2642.
University Area 2-3 Bedroom lurnished
Anversity Area 2-3 Bedroom lurnished
Jim 668ent Sining Houses for rent Call Stop clean a bedroom epartments Fireplace, porking. taundry semi-Jurnished patking. laundry, semi-Iurnished, walk to SU low price $436-4016$.

2 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall S 604 Walnut Ave  604 Walnut Ave 309 Euclid Ave

309 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
329 Comstock Ave
Available for 2000-2001
Fuly Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management,
Wall 10 Wail Carpet and Refinished Hand Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

| LOOK AT THIS!  Three Bedroom Apartment Spacious inreo Bedroom, completely turnished  apartment with porch. Livirg floom with fireplace. Oining rocm, Kitchen and tnece large bedroons, any Bath Oft street, gardge parking. Laundry tacility in buibding.  Five bectrom House  Spacious ive Eedroom, completely lumished   OASHWASHEE and twe large bedrooms. and FWOFULL Bathrooms. Crt street parking with gargge FFEE 1 aurcet tacity in buildung. CALL 430.5188 after 1:00 pm |
| :---: |
|  |  |

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
1-2.3 Bodroom Apartments, Beautilul, Spacious, Sale, Quiet, Close 476 -0295

3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
329 Comstack Ave
604 Walnul Ave
379 Euclid Ave
319 Evclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished Laurdry
Parking, Fuli Time
Maintenarice and Management,
Wall to Wasl Carpet andfor
Hefinished Hard Wood Floor
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Apartments close to campus clean 2-3-5 bedrooms some with ifreplace laundry parking semifurnished reasonable prica $487-5761$.
Ackerman Beautiul Large Furnished Flats' Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK, 446-3420
2 bedroon Apariment right on Marshell St. Fall Sempstier onty (1 Semester) August 2000 to December 31. 2000 . Great location! Call $637-5779$.

Apartments  Clean quiet 2 -bedroom two blocks from SU  hospitals. Furnished. All utilities paid, 475-5908 June 1 leasa.  University 283 Eedroom TowniHouses & Flats. Inexpensive and mint concition. Wastigr/Drye Fiteplace, Inisished basement, Call $449-0109$  ONE BEOROOM APARTMENT EUCLID  AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR TWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933.

Large 2 bedroom. 2 tull baut. Walking distanc
S.U. olf sfreel parking

| One Bedroom Apartments, |
| :---: |
| some with 9 month feases, |
| Fropplace, hardwood floors, turnisheg, |
| laundry, quiet building. close to campus, |
| utifities inctuded, |
| $476-2982$ |

One +2 bedroom furnished apartments. All wilities included $$ 370, $ 480 / \mathrm{ma}$. One mila trom carppus. Laundry, parking. carpeting. security building Two Eedroom Apt 514 Euclid Parking Laundry
Best Location Call Now $446-6268445-2602$

SHERBROOKE

604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, 4, and 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Rents stant at $$ 275$. Relinished hardwood Tloors. Wall to wall earpet Flats.
baths. Distwashers. Forches, Laundry
Parking. 24hour maintenance. www universityarea.com
University Area 479-5005

Apartment 4 Br . 2full bath f.place th.wood thoo l.roon d.roorn porth free laundry availabie jurerroion walk tos 4 hospitals please call $4 ; 8-1951$

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated

440-6200
437-7577
Studio Apartments beginning at 5265 per monith some with 9 month leases, with wistec microwave carpetin
parking. $476-2982$
One Bedroom Apartments Clost to Campus, utithes induded. Oak noors. fire place. IUrnished.
parking, very clean, laundry Cal! Gordon $476-2982$. Fufnishegr 2-sBedroom Houses' Apartments Livingston, Surmeer, Ackerman. Euelid 469-6665 1 Bedroom Fumished Unfurnished. Waiking distance S.U. Laurtidy available. Oit Street Parking. Call 422.7305 2Eedroom, 2 car gargg. 125 Kensington Re.
corner of Lancaster $5550.472 .2 \in 67$.

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR
WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

| 5 Bedroom Apl Ackerman Ave 6-1 100  Fully Furnished Porehes, Laundry Parking, Dishwasher Owner Manager 682.2279 682-2210 |
| :---: |

COMSTOCK HEIGFTS APARTMENTS

2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Large bedrooms aundry. Parking. Alarm Laundry. Parking. Alarms. new construction. www.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts.
479-5005
w.universityarea.com

|  |
| :---: |

| Two Bedroom Apartments With utiaties included, Fireplace. Fumished, Hardwood Floors and Carpeuing, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking. close to Campus. Call Gordon $476-2982$ |
| :---: |

Larga 3 bedroorn. 2 full bath. Walking distance
S.U. of street parking. Leundry. Call $422-7305$
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
All titities lincludgor
$$ 355$ per montit 4494621 to bage Disposals. Microwaves. Dishwashers aundry Failities on Premiscs (hke hrome)
Off-street Parking
Snow Lawn Maintenance
Scine Apts incl (means low utilites) Sate Areas within whing Distance in Ched Such os - Comstock, Ostrem. Harrison, Madison. imeaster

ALL 478-6504
OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVIC

Prized Ohio running back chooses Syracuse  BY CHRIS SNOW  another 4.3 flat.  Noticing his undeniable  comfort level with the coaches,  well," he said, "because Syra-

With college football signing day rapidly approaching, symacuse back who leaves defenders retreating.

Waiter Reyes, a 5 -foot-11, 200-pound tailback from Youngstown-Struthers (Ohio) High School with 4.38 speed in the 40 -yard dash, plans to sign with SU on Feb. 2, national signing day.

And although he missed three games this scason with a hyperextended left knee, Reyes still posted 1127 yards rushing and 13 touchdowns. He's been and 13 touchdowns. He's been continuously ranked in most analysts' Top 10 running backs. Struthers head coach Gary Zetts deems Reyes the best Zetts deems Reyes the best back out of the Youngstown area ever.
"He is extremely fast and his strength is unbelievable," Zetts said of Reyes, who benches nearly 400 pounds and leg presses over 1000 . "Around presses over 1000. Around here, weve never seen anyone with his power and speed, and he has a nice, lean body so when hes running, herd,

Speed is a trait synony-spith Reyes, who stunned mous with Reyes, who stunned coaches at a Penn State summer camp during his sophotime in the 40 .

Shaking their heads and checking their stopwatches, up again. He proceeded to run

Prep Star Magazine's Rick Kimbrel likes Reyes' explosiveness.
"He is a guy who hits the hole hard, gets to a spot quickly and can outrace you," he Napoleon Kaufmon-tyon vapoleon Kaufman-type
These outstanding

These outstanding times combined with Reyes' superb tion entering this past seasonat which time Prep Star ranked him as the No. 2 running back in the Midwest.

After the mid-season injury setback, his stock dropped. 1100 -plus yardsinseven Reyes - many of which came against a stacked box with as many as 10 defenders - validate his ability.

Testament to his abilities came in a 20 -carry, 250 -yard explosion in his team's nirstround playoff win three weeks after he returned to the lineup.

He was injured, and before that he was one of the most explosive and sought-after backs in the nation," Zetts said. "A lot of people fell off him after that. Walter's a good, hard-working kid, and Orange fans everywhere should be excited about him because he is a speed deman, and you can't speed demon, an deny that speed."

Reyes' parents, Herb Tinsley and Marylou Reyes-Tins. ley, believe his outgoing and patient nature, coupled with Reyes with the mind-set to succeed at the collegiate level.
speed, uncoachable cutback moves and strong field vision while only in junior high. while only in junior high, Reyes parents bolieved he had Reyes pare
the ability.

Moreover, they knew he had the mentality
"He's a very driven and determined person," Tinsley said. "That injury put things into perspective, and he realized his carcer. So he became even more determined, and set more determined, and set short- and long-term goals. And tied to his success at Syracuse. ${ }^{\text {. }}$

While Reyes appears to have all of the moves on the field, it will take a strong and one physical science class over the summer to maintain his eligibility. Both Zetts and Reyes said he should have no problem meeting those requirements.

Members of the SU coaching staff cannot comment on Reyes since NCAA regulations prohibit them from discussing

Reyes said he hopes Reyes said he hopes to house School of Public Commuhoustions after a year at Syranications ater a year at Syracuse, eyeing broadcast journalcuse, eyeing brodeasor

He credits his decision to attend Syracuse to the school's legacy of winning teams, repeated trips to bowl games and Also important was his visit where he found a much higher players and facilities than at Indiana, his second choice.

During his recruiting trip Dec. 17, Reyes roomed with SU tailbacks Dee Brown and James Mungro, who next seautes in the Orange backfield.

Reyes acknowledges the current one-two punch estab lished itself last season as both powerful and agile backs. Howbreak oflone runs and outrace quick defensive backs should make him a contender for playing time at tailback.

If not, the versatile Reyes believes he could find a niche on special tearns. He said head coach Paul Pasqualoni does not plan to redshirt him, and the glut of $S U$ backs could force him to look at other places for playing time.

Sitting in on some of the Orangemen's December prepa rations for the Music City Bowl, Reyes said he enjoyed the highpaeed yet controlled nature of "He's a preatices.
"He's a great guy with a notolerance attitude, and you need that," Reyes said. "He's demanding and expects a lot from his players. But ithope Well come to establish a good relationship over the years.

Reyes played in a conventional Iformation offense in high school with a traditiona drop-back quarterback. He be drop-back quarterback. He beheves his speed and versatility will allow him to succeed in a pro option set.
"I think it suits me very cuse often runs that option at different speeds, and that can allow me to get to the outside and get downifeld."
Reycs also is thrilled about playing inside the Carrier Dome, a facility with which he turf and loud crowds.

And despite the negative publicity surrounding the Orangemen after a $7-5$ record and the stabbing of threc players at a local bar, Reyes said his faith
"I really believe in Syracuse and in what they are trycertain that SU's recruiting class - including QB Chad ELliot and WR Johnnie Morrant - is one of the Big East's best. "That incident seemed like a few players just being in the wrong place at the wrong time"

Meanwhile, Reyes finds himself in the right place at the right time, entering $S U$ when the hallowed No. 44 is available. The speedy tailback appears to be a candidate to next don the pretigious digits.

He sported No. 34 throughout his high school career and desires the challenge of living up to the expectations that accompany No 44 .
"Coach P said that a lot of responsibility comes with that number, Reyes said. chance, because it would bean honor for me knowing the history behind it.

[classifieds]

Nancy Peek, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

818 Weslcop (near Euchd) 6 Bedroems Carpet LLundy Parking Large Roons 3 Baths Distiwasher
$446-51$ git
2.4 .5 bednom hames at reasonatie priser. cose to campus. Immazalate , updated. conscientious lanclourds. $882 \cdot 7130$

RENTYOUR OWN HOME TWO FRREPLACES, FUANISHED

LOOK AT THIS:

Spacious six bedromm. Fiumished House. wdishwanher ant six lirge edroms and Two full batheoms w/dishwasher and six Large bedroms and Two full bathrocms. Of street parking wint garato Washer and dryer in buitoing. CALLL $430-5189$ atter $1: 00 \mathrm{pm}$

(51ARalif Eedroon Houses 721 and 725 Oturon: (1) 446 -3693
ges Sumner 4 Bedroom Handwood Fioors Laundry

| GREAT HOUSES, GREAT LOCATION 800 BLOCX OSTROW 5 EEDROOMS OFF STREET PARKHG, HREPLACE LAUNDHY DISHWASHER HAROWOOD CALL BRAD 424-0212 423-9142 |
| :---: |

UNIVERSITY HOMES
$\begin{gathered}\star \star \text { 大 } \\ 2+5=7 \text { Bedrooms }\end{gathered}$
2 Kitchens w/DW * $31 / 2$ Baths
$\begin{aligned} & \text { New Condition w.w. carpet } \\ & \text { fully furnished, perches, garage }\end{aligned}$
Paut large rooms. 422 -9997.
$\begin{aligned} & \text { Paut Wiliams 422-9997. } \\ & 10 \text { Years of Oualty Sevice }\end{aligned}$

Now Fenting For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroom house on E. Adams SL Newt remodeled Bathrownt and

476-9933  476-9933

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND $4,5,6,7$ BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Rooms

January Grabuate Sudents 2 large bedroems

 remaining beautith homa cose le campus682.7130 Furnished foom svaildale tor Soring Semester ortanget. One blook trom campus. Parking.

SUBLET
Foom in 2 persisu Apt avalabota startiong in Spring 2000. Furnished, carpeted, air conditioned. Low 2000. Furnished, carpeted, air condition utifties, $1 / 2$ block Irom campus. 475 - 7939

SERVICES

Travel

SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN JAMAICA'NADEAU CALL TSOMII CALL TODAY!! 800-293-1443
www.StudentCitycom

SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK $$ 75$ &

 Availablell Ask
wimicolegelours.corn

ACT NOWI Lass cranco to teserve wour spor tot
SPRiNG $B$ MEAKI Discounts tor 6 or meret Scxith
 800-6u8-8:20 wWw
 Nighnibel Deparis From Fiotions Panama city Foom With Kucthen Nexi To Clubs. I Patties a Free Drinks $$ 129!$ DartDn? Roon Win Kitchen Free Dinks $$ 129!$ Daridna Roon Whin Kitchen
$$ 149!$ Soulh Beach (Gars Open Unlit Sam!) $$ 159!$

THEDAILYORANGE Classified Advertising
The deadline for classified advertisements is 2.p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

orange

NOTES

ESPN/USA Today

Coaches Top 25

| 1. | Cincinnati (3i) | 17 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Stanford | 15 |
| 3. | Duke | 15-2 |
| 4. | Arizona | 16.3 |
| 5. | Syracuse | 15-0 |
| 6. | Connecticut | $13 \cdot 3$ |
| 7. | Auburn | 16-2 |
| 8. | Michigan St. | 13-5 |
| 9. | Florida | 14.3 |
| 10. | Ohio St. | 13-3 |
| 11. | Kansas | 15 |
| 12. | Indiana | 14 |
| 13. | Tennessee | 16.2 |
| 14. | Texas | 12-5 |
| 15. | Tulsa | 18 |
| 16. | Oklahoma St. | 14 |
| 17. | Oklahoma | 15-3 |
| 18. | Kentucky | 13. |
| 19. | Utah | 14.3 |
| 20. | ucla | 11-5 |
| 21. | Maryland | 13 |
| 22. | Vanderbit | 12-3 |
| 23. | St. John's | 12 |
| 24 | Temple |  |
|  | c. st |  |

Busted bribery

Horida State kicker Sebastian Janikowski was arrested Sunday after allegedly attempting to bribe a police officer.

Janikowski's roommate. Aaron Silverman, was taken into custody after refusing to leave a nightclub, police said.

> After Officer Chris

Knight took Siliverman to the patrol car, Janikowski approached and, according to the police report, "was smiling at (Knight) and counting out money. Janikowski stepped back to the car and asked. 'How much?'m Janikowski offered $$ 300$ to persuade knight to let his friend go, police said.

The 6-foot-2, 255 . Gounder, a wo-ime Lou best Award winner as the will kicker in the country the NL FS and enter. ed to be selected in the first two rounds.

Webster going pro? The University of Miami is working whi lie NCAA detemine the eligibility of linebacker Nate Webster document declaring himself eligible for the NFL Draft. Webster since has changed his mind and hopes to retum to the Hurricanes for his senior season.

Miami athletic director Paul Dee said there is no information whether Webster had contact with an agent. Should he have, all eligibility would be revoked.

If indeed the document subrnitted is ruled a petition to turn pro. Miami would have to declare him ineligible and ask the NCAA for his reinstatement.

sports trivia

Q. When was the last time North Carolina was unranked?
Thursday's trivia:
Q. When did the

Tennessee
Titans/Houston Oilers last lose an NFL playoff game? A. The Dilers coughed up a. $35-3$ lead at Buffato in a 1993 wild-card contest before falling $41-38$ in overtime.

[sports]
Dave Curtis, edicor_The Daily Orange January 24, 200016 Huskies battle SU

UConn fonward Kewin Freeman horses around naar the basket at the end of the Huskies' Sunday moming practice at the Carrier Dome. No. 8 UConn Invades the Dome to meet No. 6 Syracuse today at 7 p.m.

CONNOR ENNIS

 Asst. Sports EditorToday's date has been cir cled on the calendars of Syracuse basketball fans eveywhere since the announcement of this season's schedule.

It is the night when the undefeated and sixth-ranked Orangemen (15-0,5-0 Big East) can prove that just because some of their wins came against pataies such as Albany, Hartford, Florida Atlantic and Colgate doesn't mean SU doesn't deserve natonal respect.

And there is no better way to earn it than by defeating defending national champion Connecticut (13-3, 2-2).

Syracuse takes on the at 7 p.m. at the Carrier Dome. The game will be nationally televised on ESPN's Big Monday. "Everybody krnows this will be our toughest game of the season, SU head coach Jim Boe heim said. "Our kidis usually look forward to a challeage like this and hopefully they'll respond on the court.

The Orangemen remain the only team in Division I with an unblemished record

Yet many in college basketball land remain skeptical of SU's early-season schedule. Syracuse has yet to play a Top 25 team.

UConn, on the other hand, has already recorded victories over No. 3 Dume, No. 4 Arizona and No. 14 rexas. It has aiso dropped two out of its last five garnes - both home losses, to Notre Dame and St. John's.

The faithful in Storrs have been a little more critical of their squad this season due to the heights reached last March. I was reading the paper (Saturday) morning in Wash-

Thomas wins four matches at states

BY Efic NATHAN

 Staff WriterIn the battle for wrestling supremacy in the state, only a pair or orangeof the New York State Collegiate Wrestling Championships in Binghamton.

After finishing the initial day of competition tied for 13 th out of 24 teams, Syracuse moved up slightly to finish tied with Oswego State for twelfth place.

The finish fell just short of head coach Scott Miller's goal to "prove that we're one of the Top 10 programs in New York state."

While Milter only found six healthy bodies to travel down Interstate-81 for the two-day tournament, a third of those wrestlers Chas Shan went back for the placement competition Saturday.
competition Saturday.'s lone
Thomas, the team's loner captain and senior, took third place in the 174 -pound divi place in the $174-p o u n d$ aivi Rion by defeating No. 3 seed Thomas, the No. 4 seed, pinned his Ivy league opponent in under half a minute.

He fell into the third place mateh via a tough 7-2 decision against No. I seed and eventual champion Maurice Worthy of Army.

See STATES page 11

Orangemen's start resembles Final Four campaign

You cannot downplay a 15-0 start But Syracuse basketball coach Jim Boeheim is trying to do just that. Whatever sport it is -- baseball

| Jeff | squash, jai-alai or, in  this case, college bas-  ketball an undefeat- |
| :--- | :--- |
| Passan | ed record this deep into  the season signifies |
| Sports | something special. |

Opinion something special.
Boeheims sixth:
3 in this week's ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll) are $15-0$ heading into tonight's game against No. 7 Connecticut (No. 6 in the coaches' rankings) at the Carrier Dome.

Not since 1986-87 when the Orangemen opened the season with 15 consecutive wins has there been such regular-season buzz for an SU team.

That "86-87 team lost the NCAA Championship game to Indiana on a Keith Smart jumper in the final seconds.

Just like the Orange circa ${ }^{\text {2 }} 86-87$, SU's current edition possesses solid play at point guard, power forward and center.

And breaking the 15 -game wimning streak 13 yeara ago was, like Connecticut, a astional powerhouse Míchigan.

The comparisons match up favorably.

And they're fair.
Sure, the Orangemen have their bashers and doubters. Right now, even Boeheim downplays SU's start.
"How many Top 20 tearas have we faced thiss season?" he asked

Good point. None. or if we're 30-0," he said, "let's hold of on comparisons to Why?
Whana"

Syracuse defeated good teams from Notre Daxne, Rutgers, St. Joseph's and Wisconsin by at least 19 points.

Orangemen point guard Jason Hart dishes out seven assists per game, comparable to Sherman Douglas' 7.6 from 13 years ago.

Senior power forward Ryan Blackwell's 11.9 points per game are exactly what SU freshman Derrick Coleman averaged in " $86-87$. Blackwell averages 8.2 rebounds, one-half per game less than DC that season.

Etan Thomas, SU's ghot-blocking center, also pours in 14.3 points and grabs 8.5 boards each contest. Rony per crap, a junior in io-8., scored 15.1 per game and corralled 8.2 rebounds. talented team that played well together, Boeheim said. "They were big and physi-

See PAST page 12

Sophomore Prestan Shumpert helps losef a perimater attack that could propel $S U$ to al wictory tonight ageninst No. 8 Connecticut.

JA, Urtz report violation decrease

BY ERICKA JONES
Staff Writer Staff Writer

Syracuse University officials reported Friday a decline in judicial cases during the 1999 Fall Sea decline in judimal cases during the 1999 Fall Se-
During the first quarter of the 1999-2000 academic year, Aug. 25 to Oct. 15, the University Judicial System received 541 disciplinary referrals of Code of Conduct, said Anastasia Urtz, Office of Judicial Affairs director and associate dean of student relations.

The second quarter,
Oct. 16 to Dec. 27,
$\boldsymbol{\epsilon}_{\text {Public Safety }}$ appears to be patrolling a lot more lately. They seem much more aware of what's going on around campus ${ }^{7}$

GEDFFREY

 RISPOL:freshman in The Callege of Arts and Sciences

Oct. 16 to Dec. 27 , brought 273 disciplinary referrals, a 49.5 percent
"We were really excited," Urtz said. This is the first time that a decline in judicial cases has been reported during her six-year tenure at $S U$, she said.

The judicial system began several new programs in attempt to decrease the number of violations, Urtz said. Prior to this acadernic year, Judicial Affairs distributed information detailing the code of conduct for both parents and students to encourage learning and understanding SU's expectations, Urtz said. Explaining the judicial process and familiarizing students with university policies allows students to realize the consequences of their actions, she said.
"Students seem more aware of the response, where as in the past they did not know," Urtz said. The University Judicial System also reported a decrease in cases within specinc oinces.
first quarter versus 162 cases during the second fuar-
See 3A page 3

Dome erupts after SU victory

Hundreds of excited Orangemen fans nush the Carrier Dome court Monday night to colebrate sU's $88-74$ victory over dafending national champlons the UConn Huskies.

BY ASHOK SELVAM

 Editorial EditorBasketball junkies and bar patrons alike crowded Marshall Street bars Monday in an uncharacteristic celebration and preparation for hardwood action between Syracuse and Connecticut. The game was one of the most anticipated matchups on the SU campus in years. The Orangemen entered undefeated at 15 0 (5-0 in the Big East) and ranked fifth in the country. UConn (133, 2-2) was ranked sixth and held the distinction of being de ending national champions

Syracuse soundly defeated UConn 88-74 behind strong performances from seniors Jason Hart and Ryan Blackwell. SU

The victory, televised nationally on ESPN, touched off pan demonium in the Carrier Dome as students rushed the court at garne's end.
But preparations for the big game began some six hours earier.
All that could be heard at 44's Tavern, 113 Marshall St. were footsteps and people dragging bar stools until 3:45 p.m. when sports radio talk show host Adam Schein's crisp, familiar vice filled the smoky, legendary sports bar.
"This is my first time broadicasting here," Schein, who's nown as Prime fine wh been planning this for weeks.
pulse ${ }^{n}$ cant get psyched for this garae, then you don't have
The bar crowd roared at Schein's proclamation. Most left work early or ditched their weekday duties to watch the impor

See REACTION page 6

© Student Government

Assembly elects representatives, awaits Cabinet's VP decision

"Hopefully I will become the liaison in administration operations," ment student. There I can work on bridging the gap between the administration and the Assembly."

The four elected representatives, Williams, junior Larry Provost, sophomore David Gaulin and freshman Ken Gallardo, all ran unoppoaed. difference around here," said make a difference around here," said Provost, a student in The College of Arts and Sciences. The responsibilities do not ound me."
Junior M
Junior Melissa Huber and fifthyear architecture student Jonathan M. Taylor also ran unopposed for the positions of recorder and parliamenlor's sixth session with the SGA.
"I see great potential for the session," Taylor said. "I can say that it's more promising than last year's Assembly."

The Assembly passed a bill, pro-
See SEA page 3

 858 2
 Vkikna H

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

Find an Inse I hosts the "How to Find an Internship" seminar from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Room 20

- The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Call 474-0969 for more information.
- The Greek-Jewish Council meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Hillel Lounge of Hendricks Chapel.
- The New York Public Interest Research Group hosts a voter registration meeting at 7 p.m. at 732 S. Crouse Ave., above Faegan's Cafe and Pub. A Con. sumer Action Project meeting follows at 8:15 p.m.

E As part of MLK Week Winston Grady-Willis, an assistant professor of African-American studies, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Flint Hall Study Lounge regarding "Restructuring the Civil Rights for the Next the Civil F Generation.

WEDNESDAY

- The Gollege Republicans meet at 7:30 p.m. in Schine Stu dent Center, Room 302.

E The Munson Williams

Congress argues Cuban boy's fate  Heartburn drug linked to deaths

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The case of Elian Gonzalez drifted deeper into politics Monday as some members of Congress sought to upend an immigration ruling by legislating the 6 -year-old into a U.S. citizen or permanent resident.

On the first day back for Congress, lawmakers introduced two companion bills that would bar federal immigration officials from relegating it to a custody case in a relegating it to a cus.
Florida state court.

The bills were introduced in the House and Senate despite a plea by Elian's grandmothers during a televised interview in which him a U.S. citizen because it would further delay his return to Cuba.

Another group of lawmakers, led by Rep. Charles Rangel, $D$ N.Y., countered with a nonbinding measure that urges Congress to stay out of the matter and calls to stay out of the matter and calls for the boy to be reunited with his for the boy to be father in Cuba.

The legislative maneuvers
The raise unprecedented questions of procedure and law, congressional staffers and legal experts say, including one that pits the political will of the anti-Castro community against consistent court favor of parental rights.

Thai commandos end takeover

BANGKOK, Thailand Thai commandos Tuesday launched a predawn raid on a sprawling provincial hospital west of Bangkok and retook it from members of a Burmese rebel group - whose leaders are preteen twins - who had seized the sacility along with Large explosions could be heard as Thai soldiers raced insice the compound in trucks and jeeps. Afterward, Thai authorities announced that nine rebels had been killed and several Thai soljured, while one of the Burmese rebels escaped and was being pur-

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The popular prescription nighttime heartburn drug Propulsid has been linked to 70 deaths and more than since 1993 the Food and Drug since 1993, the Food and Drug ministration warned Monday.

The agency took the additional step of recommending that doctors test all patients before prescribing the drug to make sure they don't other ailments that would make other ailments that would make taking the drug dangerous. It also said the drug, which can cause lifeshould only be used as a last resort.

The action by the FDA reprents the latest attempt to warn doctors and the public about the possible dangers of Propulsid. The FDA has already strengthened Propulsid's label several times in recent years, with increasingly strong warnings to patients with certain heart rhythm disorders and those taking a wide range of other medications. When the agency significantly broadened the warning language in 1998, 38 deaths had already been associated with the drug.

But according to the FDA, 85 percent of the 270 adverse reactions occurred in patients with risk factors already outhoed on Propulsid's label, people who were in clear sid's label, people who were in danger of an adverse reaction.

world news

sued. None of the hundreds of terrified patients, hospital staff members and visitors who had been held hostage was injured, officials said.

The assault came 22 hours into the dramatic takeover. The crisis began Monday when the rebels burst into the facility demanding treatment for their Thanded comrades and an end to insur insurgency on the Burmese bor

Audit finds illicit Kohl party funds

BERLIN-Germany's Chistian Democrats said Monday that an independent audit found $$ 6 \mathrm{mil}-$

Supreme Court upholds limits  WASHINGTON, D.C. - A divided Supreme Court on

 A divided Supreme Court onMonday upheld strict dollar limits on political contributions, reaffirming its long-standing view that such restrictions do not impinge on free speech and are juscynical assumption that large cynical assumption

By a 6-3 vote, the justices endorsed a Missouri law barring individuals from fiving more than $$ 1,075$ to a candidate per election and rejected calls to reconsider the court's 1976 ruling that first the courts 1976 ruling that first upheld the constitutionality of contribution limits. A decision striking down the Missouri law would have threatened a broad would have threatened a broad state campaign finance rules and introduced a potentially explosive new factor in the 2000 elections.

Instead, Monday's ruling gives a boost to advocates seeking more controls on political contributions and provides some legal ammunition for legislative efforts to curtail so-called soft money, the huge contributions to political cent years.

The decision demonstrates that the coust is not hostile to government attempts to control the influence of money in elections.
whose sources cannot be traced, raising the possibility that secret slush funds managed by former chancellor Helmut Kohl could have chancellor Helmut Kohl could have knowledged.

Party Chairman Wolfgang Schaeuble called the discovery of the illicit funds "a very grave problera that represents an existential crisis for our party and a danger for our nation's democracy." He pledged that the party was deterained to enact reforms.

Schaeuble backed away from earlier threats to take legal action against Kohl, who has admitted running illegal accounts worth up to $\$ 1$ million during the last five years before he was voted out of office in 1998. Kohl has spurned all the crisis by complying with the law and identifying the donors. Proctor Institute presents "Regret to Inform," at $2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and 7:30 p.m as part of its January Film Serie at 310 Genesee St., Utica at 310 Genesee St., Utica.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Sruell of the Kill," at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $15-$38; discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more in groups. Call

E As part of MLK Week, the Martin Luther King, Jr. PerformMartin Luther King, Jr. Performe, ers, a childrens dance trins at 7 p.m. in Grant Auditorium.

E The New York Public Interest Research Group meets reEarding Homeless Outreach and Ave., about Faegan's Café and

WEDNESDAY-

The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hote Syracuse presents comedians Darin Dillon and Bill Campbell at 8 p.m. Additional shows are Friday and Saturday at $10: 30$ et information.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news mepartment at 443-210pted via e mail at news@dailyorange.com.
[dä]
The Daily Orange is published
Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's acadcmic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the first five copies complementary and each additional copy cosss $$ 1$.

Management 443-9798 Business 443-2314 News $443-2127$ $\begin{array}{rr}\text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Sporrs } & 443-2208\end{array}$
Photography 443-9795
Art 443-5938
E-mail editorial@dailyorange.com

ASU addresses the West's role in African war

BY VES LIVSHI
Contributing Writer
African Student Union President Ebrima Krubally described problems Monday plaguing African nations and detailed steps Syracuse University sta
dents can take to solve them. dents can take to solve them.
Civil wars, extreme pover and various epidemics ravaged the continent during the 20 th Century, said Krubally in the ASU meeting of the semester. Alstern mations have either remained indifferent to Africa's problems or encouraged them, he added.
world economic system, so tur

JA

continued from page 1 ter, a 45.5 percent decline. The of cases during the second quarter down from 229 cases in quarter, quarter, a 54 percent decline. The Office of Student Programs had no cases during the second quarter and only one case during the first quarter.
The State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry saw 50 percent fewer cases in the second quarter than in the first, Uttz said.
${ }^{-I}$ have seen a lot of enforce-

SGA

continued from page 1
posed by Taylor, to create an assistant parliamentarian position. Taylor said that he needed to train a representative to assume the parliamentarian posipointed junior Faith Tartaglia, former recorder of the 43rd Assembly.

I want to see an SGA that grows and better serves the students," Taylor said. "Faith has a breath of knowledge surely contained by no one else and her as she steps into the Cabinet position immediately following my departure."

SGA President Jamal James proposed that an executive assis assist position also be creat assist him with his duties. ving force in all aspects of campus life," James said. "I get remoil in Africa will not affect the prices on the New York Stock Exchange," said Krubally, a junior engineering student and native of Gambia.

He noted that Western arms merchants supplied weapons wars and Western democracies supported corrupt dictators that stole billions of dollars from their nations. Meanwhile, international lending bodies such as the al Monetary Fund have encouraged policies that helped produce aned economic dead end, Krubally said.
${ }^{\text {said. }}$ The West has pursued a strategy of giving with one hand and taking back with another," he

Instead of exploring free trade with Africa, Western nations put up tariff barriers, frubally said. The heavy burden MF debt discouraged investment in Africa - resulting in and capital flight, he said.

Krubally called upon African su students to join forces against the strife.
"We want Africa to become prosperous, exploit its tremento the forefront of development, he said.

Campus activism

alumnus Joseph Bagacwe, who attended Monday's meeting, said ASU could increase its visibility on campus by dents speakers to address students. He said that speakers would help to increase ASU membership and work with other student organizations.

There is great hope in increasing the awareness of Africa's problems on this campus, Bagacwe said.

He said ASU would be spreading its message among the United States who will someday walk through the corridors of power and shape the policies af fecting Africa.
"Then maybe these crucial decisions will reflect greater compassion and understanding," he
said.
Ultimately, however, the ASU members said they believe that only Africans are able to solve the continent's problems. Most members plan to return to Africa after graduation, said Nchimunya Magande, a juni international relations major. sider it our second home" Magaside said. "We've come herne," Magande said. "We"ve come here to get a quality education and go back and help." and help."

While helping improve the situation will not be easy, it car be done, Krubally said.
"I am very optimistic about hard times.

One On One, simulates choices made by a party-goer, she said, and tells "what happens if you take the next drink

Judicial Affairs also offers an anger management program, she said. One such program, Project Care, allows students to interact with the local residents as a form of mmunity service.
"We are trying to get people who may have done bad things get involved in good things," Urtz said. Judicial aftairs does not want a policy violation to take on the "snowball effect"-a student who could have been helped but instead continucs down the same negative path. she said.
ferent caure trying to isolate the different
said.
ferent causes and problems," Uriz quests to attend two to four meetings a day and adding an assistant will make us more effective."

The Assembly passed the bill unanimously and sophomore Nicholas Maccarone was elected to the position.

James Said that Maccarone's qualifications and energy will do great things for the organization.
"I was very persistent in tracking Jamal down. I had lots of ideas in the back of my mind that I wanted him to hear," Maccarone says.
ames announced his decision to nominate Arish Gajiar as bar as public relations director once he consults with the Cabinet this week.
hey were chosen based on their willingness to seek me out," James said. And our ability to work well together will compliment the session well."

Dolitical Communication in the U.K. and U.S.

Study in London, England This six-week program explores the merging worlds of consumer, political, and election campaign communications in the U.K. and the U.S. and will study the strategies and communication techniques essential for selling products and infuencing public opinion.

BOSTON

232 Bay Statc Rd., sth Floo
Boston, MA, 02215
617/363-9888 abroxdebu.cdu
ag on around campus.
The Options Program is another choice for students who violate the code of conduct, Urtz said The program begins with an evaluation sludents to determine whethe ay need therapeutic or education abuse problem.

A new computer program used in the Options Program, Alcohol

AVOID THE RUSH

Order your Superbowl party Food In advance and have them DELIVERED TO YOUR DOOR ON > Sundar evening! $443-1709$

SUpercard Food Only

FREE DELIVERY TO ON - CAMPUS hOUSING!

Sbarro Pizza

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { DRE-OMDER YOUR } \\ & \text { SUDERBOWL NEEDS!! } \end{aligned}
$$

4:30 P.M. TO 1 A.M. Weekdays 11:30 A.M. TO 1 A.M. Weekemds
443-1709

The Daily Orange January 25, 2000

Burger King attack fails at 'progress'

Coming to Syracuse University we're all exposed to different people, thinking, viewpoints and lifestyles.

Just walk into an SU dining hall. Take a look at the cuisine. There's Halal entrees for Muslims, Kosher selections for Jews and then there's soy milk and falafel for vegans.

If you're not familiar with vegans, here's a basic rundown. They're different from "normal" vegetarians because they don't eat any animal byproducts - not just meat. Their meal plan excludes dairy products as well.

Some vegans keep their diet because of political and ethical reasons. "Meat is murder," is a popular chant among these groups. Others stay away from the meats and cheeses because they feel better. Whatever the reasoning, vegans are entitled to eat whatever they want to.

But within this group, there are a few whose views are a bit more militant. These individuals scoff at the consumption of meat and will not hesitate to tell a carnivore to put their burger down and pick up a Gardenburger.

A group of such individuals are in all likely responsible for the vandalizing of Burger King in Oneida on Sunday night. The restaurant, along Route 5 , was covered with graffiti including the aforementioned "Meat is Murder" and "ALF."
"ALF" stands for "Animal Liberation Front," a nationwide underground organization that encourages its members to end cruelty to animals, from fur coats to the consumption of beef, by all means necessary - including violence.

It's outright ridiculous for vegans to target a Burger King. The restaurant's employees are only trying to earn an honest buck. Destroying their place of business accomplishes little for the cause, especially when there are thousands of franchises all over the world. The violence only harms innocent bystanders.

Just look at the two dreamers of racial equal-ity-Dr. Martin Luther King $\mathrm{J}_{\mathrm{r}}$. and Malcolm X. Dr. King's passive resistance transformed the United States, while Malcolm X's assassination left a dream unfulfilled.

If vegans want their points to come across, there are much more poignant ways of going about it. Violence is a knee-jerk reaction that will only alienate people.

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Ashok Selvam
Lifestyle Editor Holly Auer
Sports Editor Dave Curtis
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Assk. Lestrts Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Spats Eaitor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor Ball Ehninger
Tom Nycz Neva Austrew Nova Austrew Emily Kulkus Kate Stovenson Kate Stovenson
Tffany Lankes Joy Davia
Sapna Kolai Sapna Koltal
Connor Ennis Connor Ennis
Jeff Pastan Erin Boyle Tommy Fiorito
Elaine Skinner Elaine Skinner Jesshica Cutter
ondan Dablkowski

opinions

SU's female athletes prosper in Fall 1999

Millennium this, millennium that. All-time these, all-time those

From Major League Baseball's All-Century Team to ESPN SportsCentury's 50 Greatest Athletes to Syracuse's All-Century football team, Mark brains with "best-of" lists and La Monica countdowns from the previous hunred years.

And just because we're 25 days guest into the next century, don't think columnist it's too late to capitalize on this days of pure-premium Orange in women's athletics from Fall 1999.

Sept. $11-$ Chrissy Inman called the sign and Tara DiMaggio nodded in agreement. Eight seconds and one strike later, the Syracuse University's softball team's inaugural season began. It marked the first time in 27 years that varsity athletes donned the orange on the field of dreams. Baseball was eliminated as a varsitylevel program in 1972, the same year Title IX was enacted, giving these softball players an equal right to hook slide into second base and stop blazing ground balls at third.

Syracuse beat Binghamton 2-0. DiMaggio notched the complete-game victory as she went seven innings and scattered four hits, while walking three and fanning nine. Binghamton being the first and final out of the game. Pinch-hitter Cheryl Julicher hit the first home run for SU.

Oct. 11 - Women's soccer head coach April Kater stared at the latest fax to come across her desk. Kater, the only coach the program has known, learned that her team had just earned the No. 23 spot in the NSCAA/Adidas National Rankings. Though different from NCAA rankings, it was the first national ranking of any kind for the four-year program.

The ranking came during a four-game winning streak, capped by the 5-0 drubbing of Providence a day earlier. The Orangewomen netted four goals in the first 20 minutes of that game, while outshooting the Friars 18-2 over a 30-minute span.

The Orange's offensive onslaught was highlighted by junior midfielder Trisha Burch. From 20 yards out, she faked right and brought the ball back to her left. Before the Friar backfield knew what happened, Burch had threaded the defense and rifled a ball into the back of the net the game's second goal.
Oct. 17 - The field hoc
Oct. 17 - The field hockey gods focused their attention on a small 30-foot section of New within this miniature Sunday afternoon. Nestled man goalkeeper Audrey Latsko.

Making only her fourth career start, Latsko turned away 10 shots en route to a 1-0 blanking of 17 th-ranked Princeton. It was her first carcer shutout, and it was not without a little divine intervention. Princeton's Kate Carroll had a Wide-open net and somehow found the right post instead. The Tigers Melanie Meerschwam even trickled a ball through the Orange defense, but the net.

Senior standout Kelly Hambleton scored the game's only goal on a penalty stroke, setting a school record for most goals scored (15) and total points (36) by a senior in one season.

$$
\text { Nov. } 7 \text { Pay Paula Moore dressed in street }
$$ clothes. So did Shannon Perry. So did two others. With only eight players suited up for the game against Clondica Riga, a Latvian professional powerhouse, women's basketball head coach Marianna Freeman looked for someone to assume a leadership role on the court.

Leigh Aziz raised her hand. Both of them in fact, as she pulled down a career-high 20 rebounds. She also chipped in 20 points as the Orangewomen downed Clondica Riga 92-78 in an xhibition game at Manley Field House.
Playing all 40 minutes, Aziz routinely hit jumpers and free throws to keep the Latvians at bay. Aziz went 7 -for- 11 from the field and 6 -for- 10 from the free-chro the. She also grabbed fou boards in the last three minutes to secure the victory.
a shot.
Nov. 22 - In a military battle, 30 kills usual ly earns the soldier a medal or two. In the war tournament, it puts Dana Fiume in a prestigious circle. More like a triangle considering she is one circle. More like a triangle considering she is o reach the 30 -kill plateau while recording a triple double in the same game. Where she succeeded, 108 others failed.

The junior right-side hitter added 18 digs and 10 blocks as the sixth-seeded Orange edged No. 3 Providence $3-2$, in the quarterfinal round, avenging a 3-2 defeat at the hands of the Friars earlier in the season. After dropping the first game of the series, Fiume powered her team through games two and three.

Her second career triple-double came one week after she dominated Villanova with a previous season-high 26 kills.

Those were some memories from last fall. Let's hope this semester can live up to those expectations.

Mark La Monica is a first-year graduate student in public communications.

A century of wonder.

On Wednesday Jan. 26, grab a Dally Orange and share in a century of Syracuse memories as we unveil our special section: "Higher Ground -. A Century of Syracuse University." You won't want to miss out on this special keepsake edition.

E City Affairs

High school drug  by ERICKA JONES

Staff Writer

Local high schools have recently turned to voluntary drug testing programs to encourage students to remain substance free.

The Be Free Be Proud probram in place at Cicero-North Syracuse High School, Rte. 31, Cicero, began last month and offers year-round testing to its varsity Youth Court members. Those who want to participate at Cicero-North Syracuse High School, with parent Syracuse Figh School, with parent allowing them to be randomly tested throughout the school year, Principal Stewart Amell said. The program tests for marijwana, PCPs, opiates, cocaine and amphetamines through urinalysis.

Syracuse University athletes are required to submit to random urinary drug testing, but no voluntary testing program is available through SU.

I think a lot of schools are looking at drug testing," said Amell. "It's a positive way to approach abuse on any campus."

Other high schools in New York state, like Amsterdam High School in Amsterdam, have been offering drug tests to the entire stufent body, grades six through 12, or the past five years. Through positive peer pressure, grams highight a large number of students who do not use drugs, Amell said.

The program is funded by a Drant from the Onondaga County Tom Tatham, Cicero-Noth' Syracuse High School a thletic director. Starting small, they hope to eventually open their program to more of the student body. Incentives include a membership card that allows students to receive discounts at local stores, Amell said.
"We're trying to catch the good kids," Tatham said. "I think there are kids who want to be drug free.

testing rekindles debate  hide their drug usage, he said  testing," Chow said. "Then they

Even at the collegiate level it would help."

Drug testing of SU athletes was implemented because of a suspected rise in the use of cocaine, steroids and other performance enhancing substances among athletes, said Dessa Bergen-Cico, director of substance abuse prevention and health services. The tests tion and health services. The tests are used as a way of leveling playing field, Bergen-Cico said.
"The policy in the athletic o
"The policy in the athletic department of SU is that everyone is to sign a consent form to be tested Jake Crouthamel.

However, testing for the entire student population is not available, a doctor's note is required, BergenCico said.

But Crouthamel said that if SU were to offer voluntary drug testing to the entire student population as area high schools have, it may tarnish a student's reputation. Students who choose not to be tested may be accused of trying to
"It depends on what they mean by voluntary," SU Law Promean by Voluntary, Su Law. "It's presumptuous to expect anyone to submit to testing. You are subjected to intrusive invasion when you may or may not have done anymay or mayg."

In some schools, drug testing is mandatory for the entire student body.

It's very complicated," said Joanne Chow, an undecided freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences who experienced mandatory, random drug testing in her high school in Hong Kong. "Some students got really offended.

Several students felt they were being violated and judged because school officials selected students based on their looks or reputation, she said. But the school later implemented a new policy of selection.
"They switched the policy from urinary testing to hair strand started selecting students r ly , using their ID number."
Students at SU may not be as willing to submitt to similar drug tests if they are urinary, she added. Others students said they felt that a voluntary drug testing policy at SU would not help reduce the number of students who abuse drugs on campus.
"It would be a nice thought," said Richie Belle, a senior information studies major. "But I don't think it would work. They don't need a test to tell them they do drugs."

Drug usage is hard to detect because it is quiet and self-inflicted and not likely to cause disruption, said Anastasia Urtz, director for the Office of Judicial Affairs and associate dean of student rela tions.
"I think the drug culture is one we don't fully understand," Urtz said. "Individuals need to be motivated."

bombed." she said with an enthusiastic tone. "This is a big game."SU fan and Darwin's regular Tom Reilly sipped his beer and smiled. The 56 -year-old Reilly said he hasn't missed an Orange game in 25 years, and deemed tonight's game extra special

"There's electricity in the air tonight, even if you aren't a huge basketball fan," he said. "College basketball) is all about March Madness, but gam

However, Reilly showed disappointment regarding Orange faithful, saying support isn't as fervent as it used to be
"It's all about the Central New York economy," he said, shaking his head. "When factories closed, people Iost their jobs and the money they could spend on season tickets."

At Varsity Pizza, 802 S. Crouse Ave., workers prepared for the 26,000 -plus Carrier Dome crowd. In the window, a dry erase board read, "Wome event, open later at night." Inside, fans grabbed pre-game slices and chanted, "Let's go Orange!"

Fans weren't the only ones enjoying themselves. Ticket scalpers soaked up this rare, sunny January day in Syracuse by charging up wards of $$ 50$ per ticket.

II could go down to $$ 40$ a piece," said a ticket scalper on the corner of Marshall Street and University Avenue who would not identify himself.

As tip-off drew closer, the crowds thinned, departing for the metal benches of the Dome.

A few fans, like Ross Cooper, stayed back at the bars. Cooper, who traveled from his home state 44's.
"They're proving a point," Cooper said of the Orangemen's 44-26 first-half lead. 'They're going to get national respect.

With about five minutes left, the result no longer was in question. Fans' eyes no longer were affixed to the television screen. Only camera shots of the SU cheerlead ing squad garnered any response, which led to collective hoots and hollers.

As the final buzzer sounded, the TVs muted and the 44's soundsystem ignited with a song by 80s rock outfit Journey.

Senior Chuck Hadad left the game at halftime for the splendor of the M-Street bars.

When we went up 40-20, it was a high point - it got nasty," said Hadad, an English and textual studies major. "I'm just upset I left and I couldn't storm the court But not every
But not everyone was gung-ho about the game.

Juniors Carolyn Rose and Giovana Sansilippo sat quietly at comfortable television angle.
"We got here late," Rose said. We had to watch the end of "Seinfeld."

Sansilippo said the two were novice basketball fans.
"We don't know anything about basketball," she said. "We just like to drink - it's going to be crowded and a fun night."

Others took the action on the court a bit more serious.
"I haven't heard (the Dome) so loud since the Virginia Tech (foot ball) game last year," said sopho Kaplan, who attended the game. "I think that this was the Dome at it's best."

While bars like 44's, Faegan's Pub and Darwin's were packed with people, Marshall Street was quiet. There were five Syracuse Po lice squad cars on hand, and others patrolled, just in case.

The chaos exploding onto the Dome floor after the game did not translate into post-game M-Stree ruckus. Instead, fa

With the NCAA Tournamen fast approaching, sophomore Jared Gell expects SU to rise in the polls in cluse of the victory and pur regional No. 1 seed.
"This is the biggest SU basketball moment," he said, "since they went to the Final Four (in 1996) with John Wallace.

Stusty in London, England this Summer!

May 22 -Jure 30, 2000
A course on 19 th century English literature is combined with trips to the British Museum, the Tate Gallery, and overnight excursions to Tintern Abbey, the Lake Distriet, and other locales that

Banquet Servers Bartenders
Suite Hosts for Football Season

> Call the Carrier Dome Student office at 443-4029 today!

Meed flexible  hours, nights or weekends?

Carrier Dome Catering has positions open!
inspired the literature of the period.

BOSTON  UNIVEIRSITY  232 Bay State Rd., 5ch Floor  Boston, MA 02215 $617 / 353-9888$ 617/353-9888  www.bu.edu/abroad

תUMMER 2000

 days prior to the issue in which thead is ito appear prease pay in

■ Greek Affairs

Greek community readies for Spring Rush 2000

BY SHELBY HEALY

 Staff. WriterThe Syracuse University Office of Greek Life kicked offits biggest event of the year Monday with Spring Rush 2000, a two-week-long event expected to attract more than 400 men and 600 women - a substantial increase from last year's numbers, said Lisa Walsh, OGL graduate assistant.
shees, the numbers were impushees, the numbers were imyear's totals of about 500 women and 300 men, Walsh said.
"We had an incredible turnout," Panhellenic Association President Sarah Korf said. "I think the rushees are as excited as we are. Greeks have been on this campus for 125 years, and that is something to Trate about."
This year's rush theme emphasizes unity and tradition she added.

So far, we've got a third of he first day," said last year in trafraternity Council rush co chairperson. "The rushees have been primarily freshmen.

Rushees, regardiess of year are required to have a 2.3 grade point average and must have while enrolled at SU or the State University of New York College of Environmental Sci ence and Forestry.
"We're going to all the freshmen dorms as well as South Campus and will have a question and answer time," said Wolf, a sophomore. "This is the big one."
There are three rounds of sorority rush, the first of which begins Feb. 4 when rushees visit each house, Kappa Kappa said. During the second round, rushees select six or seven houses to re-visit before narrowing their choices to three sororities, Deacon said.

The women then submit their final house selection before Bid Day, she added.

Sigma Nu President Ryan Archer said his house will be seeing more people involved in seeing more people involved in the rush process than last year. "We're hoping to get more people," the senior chemical enpeople, the senior chemical ensaid. "We're really excited about it."

Mired feelings
Several rushees shared the same enthusiasm when ques tioned about their greek plans new people. ew people.

They do a lot of good hings," said Jenna Portanova, an undecided freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences it's not about buying friends It's just about being close to people you have a common in erest with.

Meghan Meehan, a freshman child and family studies major, said she will be partici the greek system ge greek system.
" Think it is a good experience," Meehan said. "I want to meet people - 1 just want know what it is all about.

Other freshmen said they have decided not to rush and are satisfied with life outside of don't want to be tied Bellins, a freshman public relations major. "It's such a time commitment and I don't want to be labeled like that.

Korf said she believes people just do not know what greeks do and do not give the shing process a fair chance.
"The greek system provides volved in what you may be missvolved in what you may be missIt gives you everything - academic support, community service, leadership and friendship. "The greek system puts it all at your fingertips."

CABINET

continued from page 1
tory major, accepted an at-large Cabinet seat. Burns, College Republicans chairperson, said he wants to increase communication between SGA and the Syracuse community - specifically with city, county and state govment officials.
Burns added that he would ke to -There doesn't seem to be coration between SGA and students," Burns said. "I'd like to see that change."

Edwin Escobar, nominated for director of public relations, said he also hopes to improve SGA relations with the student body.
"I want to help refine SGA's image," said Escobar, a freshman newspaper major. It has been ineffective, and I want to change it to make it more accessible and productive."

Escobar, a contributing writer for The Daily Orange, also said he wants SGA to invite controversial speakers to campus.

Charles Skinner, a senior political science major, and Joni Weber, a freshman speech comthe new members in the Administrative Operations Committee, strative Operations Committee, gality
Weber said she will push or more classes available each semester and plans to talk to professors and the registrar's ofions. ndatory mid-term evaluaions of professors and courses, a topic addressed last session and expected to remain an is${ }^{\text {sue. }} \mathbf{T}$

The Office of Judicial Affairs' recent changes to the alcohol and substance abuse polibated, Skinner added.

Skinner is pushing for joint program with the Bios phere II facility for Environmental Research and Study at to bring SU and Columbia University students to work toceth er, he said.

James* goals for the new SGA session include "shorter meetings and being there for the students."
rm very thrilled by the fact that we were able to fill up all the positions," said James, junior musical theater major. " think people are thrilled about it to

James' recommendations for vice president and director of public relations will go before the Cabinet this week. If the Cions a vote by the Assembly will confirm the appointments.
"I always want to be optimistic," said Dwight Williams, mistic, said Dwirht Wiriams, the Cabinet and the AdOp Committee. "We were efficient last semester, but I always want to strive for perfection. That's the key to it all.
"I'm comfortable with Jamal's choices," added Williams. a junior finance major. "They about them."

SAVE UPTO $40 \%$ ONTEXTBOOKS.

VarsityBooks.com

8 [sports tuesday] $]$

$\qquad$

big east standings

Orangewomen look for two straight wins

BY GREG BISHOP Staff Writer

The Syracuse women's basketball team gained a short winter siesta when its game against Seton Hall, scheduled for last Saturday, was postponed due to an SHU residence hall fire.

It allowed the Orangewomen (8-7, 1-3 Big East) an extra day of practice and an extra day to rest in preparation for their midseason matchup tonigh at the Fitzgerald Field House in Pittsburgh at 7 p.m.

Last season, the Lady Pan thers finished a dismal 12th place in the Big East, racking up 3-1 conference record. In ad dition, Pittsburgh lost three starters and seven players overall to graduatio

As the season's midway point passes, though, the Pitt game holds a different story for the Orangewomen. Pitt secondyear head coach Traci Waites has guided the program through a 180-degree turnaround.

The Lady Panthers (11-6, 24) bolstered their roster with four freshman standouts that have made large contribut
"They've played some tough teams," SU head coach Marianna Freeman said. "They're much improved. They have four freshmen that do a lot of good things for them, and so we've got our hands .
"It's always been a tight ballgame and I figure it will be another tight ballgame down there."

Last year, SU topped off an upset-minded Pitt squad 70-69 at Manley Field House on a Beth Record hoop in the final seconds. win, while now-injured Paula Mcore grabbed 15 boards.

This game, freshmen Brooke Stewart, Dallas Williams, Laine Selwyn and Amanda Wittenmyer will try to stop Record and the Orangewomen. All have played valuable minutes for the Lady Panthers, who continue to win

SYRACUSE STUDY ABROAD

HAVE YOU Studied abroad?
Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA INVITES youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27Th4:00-5:30PMAt the Underground in Schine

LEARN ABOUT LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTY.
Share your experience abroad.

RSVP AT X9425 OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

Who says that money doesn't make the world go round?

We know that financing a Summer Program Abroad can be tricky. That's why we award tuition grants shortly after acceptance into a program. If you are interested in spending Summer 2000 abroad. call or stop by for a catalog and application.

Summer Programs Abroad
Division of International Programs Abroad 119 Euclid Avenue
443-9420/9421
without a true star.
Wittenmyer, who averages 11.2 points and 7.5 rebounds per game, is Lady Panthers' leading scorer. Stewart pours in 8.8 points.

Williams is a pure athlete who can shoot the rock from anywhere on the court, including 53 percent from the floor and 40 percent from 3-point land.

Selwyn has started 11 games for the Lady Pand in steals with 20
"I know they are quick," SUs lone freshmen Shannon Perry said. "They have a lot of fresh men on their team that are step ping up. ... We'll just have to rely on the run. It will be a good matchup."

The run that Perry speaks of was evident in the Orangewomen's last game, a 66-42 win against Villanova where SU dictated the tempo of the game with its transition offense and pressure defense.

Perry posted a double-double in SU's first Big East victory as she swooped, slashed and dipped for 15 points while garnering 15 boards. The rookie play helped cover the absence oistar ing center Leigh Aziz, who missed the tilt with a foot injury.

Record aded 28 points in the win, as she and Perry earned recognition. The junior received onference player offie wance while Perry was named rookie of the week in the Big East.

The awards come as no shock to point guard Jakia Ervin who expects Record and Perry to pile on the accolades.

It's not a surprise at all," Ervin said. "Beth's been playing wonderful. She's been taking it on the wing. She's been playing down low. She's been doing whatever we need her to do to win.
"Shannon has been doing great. Whether she starts or comes off the bench, she's ready It's not a surprise at all to me."

STIFLINC

continued from page 9

off 35 before halftime to take complete control of the game. locked him got into him and locked him up pretty good," UConn head coach Jim Calhoun said of his point guard's performance. "They cut the head off of the dragon. I thought we'd react better, but obviously we didn't."

Hart's defensive shutdown of El-Amin - and his five steals - certainly came as no surprise to those who have followed his career.

The SU senior already holds the school's career thefts record and snatched 23 in the 15 games previous to Monday. Hart also acts as the spearhead for a defense that combined for 148 steals coming into the UConn game.

I think Jason's the best defensive guard in the country," Boeheim said. Thave for a long time. I don't think he's had as much credit because we do play zone, he's a key guy there."
Containing El-Amin was a key to the game coming in, Hart said, and the SU senior seemed to relish the challenge.
"My job is to try and make it hard for him, and I did," Hart said. "I went right at him with my defense. He's the best offenbest defensive player and the wanted him to come right at me."

The rendering of El-Amin into an ineffective onlooker proved to be just one of the highights for the Orangemen deense.

Etan Thomas continued his

As for Aziz's foot trouble, the starting center, who averages 10.4 points and 8.1 rebounds a game, is listed as day-to-day, though she practiced Monday.

Sophomore center Tara Trammell will start against Pitt. Senior Lorna McPhee, who contributed significant minutes of the bench against Villanova wil also see time in the paint.

The Orangewomen believe that the win over a Villanova squad that beat rop 10 power them confidence, especially against a young team like the Lady Panthers.
"I think we are confiden that we can play at this level," Perry said. "We're ready to play with the bigger guys, the UCon n's and at the top with everyone else."

The key appears to be SU's ability to control the tempo. The Orangewomen possess a squad with many second- and third year players who need to contro the ball against a green Pitts burgh team
"That's important," Freernan said. "With Pitt, we want to be medium speed. I definitely think hat athiete-co-athlete we math up well, and we want to continue change our offenses and our defenses a little like we did and try to Them ofrabuard.

The extra break may have een just what the Orange women needed. Syracused whan ter losing

Without
Without Aziz and center didn't dress against the Lady Widcats, Syrause must use coaches
"Sometimes it's better to just continue to play," Freeman said But 1 think that we could appreportunity to practice them opportunity to practice them on home and rest and rest all day Sunday. I think it will do us some good."
shotblocking ways with four and also contained the Huskies' other nside threats. UConn center Jake Voskuhl finished with 19 points, but 13 of those came in the game's last eight minutes.

The Huskies only put three players into double ncures, as op posed to SU's six. Voskuht led the way, while Kevin Freeman fol lowed with 14 points, only fou of which came in the second hal Edmund Saunders squeaked into double digits with 10.

UConn's top two scorers this season, El-Amain and Albert Mouring, combined for 16 points half of their combined average.
"We weren't able to get to the spots to get good shots off, El-Amin said. "They played great team defense. We just weren' the Connecticut team we have been. We played more one-on-one than five-on-five.

The Huskies' shooting statistics showed the lack of team play on the offensive end. The Huskies' final field goal percentage was a respectable 46 percent An inflated second-half ain helped by SU guarding agains Hus 3-pon to Huskies.

In the first half, Syracuse harassed UConn into shooting an absymal 35 percent from the build an insurmountable
"Our man-toman lead. was the best l've ever seen since I played here" Hart said "We limited everythart said like to do. We knew Khalid wanted to. Wome off Khall and-rolls and ofi the pick give them a chance to get go-

RUN

continued from page 8
the first half.
From there, UConn canned just five more field goals in the opening stanza, the Huskics 35-12 includin the Huskies $35-12$, including "I thought the s our defense difference was our defense early, SU head coach Jim Boeheim said. from everyone on defense and rebounding."
With the score knotted at 18, DeShaun Williams stole Jake Voskuhl outlet and drove for a uncontested layup.

The Huskies would never sniff the lead again, spending the rest of the night inhaling Orange exhaust. $S U$ then ran off 16 consecutive points with the 26,474 in attendance raising its volume with each bucket.

The fiery fans reached crescendo when Williams drilled back-to-back triples putting SU ahead $40-20$ with 5:11 left until intermission

It was a lot of fun ous there tonight," center Etan Thomas said. "We were all pumped up, and they were behind us on every play, every basket, every blocked shot. The crowd was great tonight."

Switching defenses and owning a 47-31 edge on the backboards. Syracuse sunk every Connecticut rally. SU stretched the lead as wide as 25 points on an Etan Thomas fast-break dunk with 11:18 left.

The Huskies shot 57 percent from the floor in the second half and whittled SU's cushion to $75-64$ with $2: 02$ remaining. Eut the Orange men buried 13 of 16 down the-stretich free throws to seal win.
Blackwell teamed with Thomas and Damone Brown underneath to pound the physical attack unrelenting physical attack. The SU points and 28 rebounds 4 points and 28 rebounds and Khut down interior threats Voskubl for most of the evening Vos.

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m to 4:00 p.m. - To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be atthe advertising office: before 2 pim.two business days béfore you want it to runt x, Call $443-9793$ for currentrates and applicable dis counts during advertising busit ness hours:
with a game-high 19 points, 13 coming with UConn trailing by 20 in the final third of the contest. Kevin Freeman, most valuable player in last year's Big East Tournament, added 14 but made just two field woals after the break.
beat us or the outside beat beat us or the outside beat us." Freeman said, "They just -around punked ns.

Syracuse's backcourt, the team's bright spot of late after burying 25 of 50 threes in its last two contests, outplayed the pesky husky guards. Jason Hart posted one his best performances of the season, racking up 14 the season, racking up 14 steals with just three turnovers.

Tony Bland poured in a dozen and corralled three boards while freshman sharpshooter Williams chipped in 10 points in 13 minutes of action.

The highest-profile guard entering Monday night's tussle, UConn junior Khalid El Amin. found himself suffocat ed by SU's man-to-man and patented $2-3$ zone defenses.

The UConn point man shot 3 of 13 and tallied just nine points, all on triples. At one point, he went 34 min. stes without a point.

Jason (Hart) had him all night," Boeheim said "Khalid hit one of the threes in transition and one against the zone. Besides that, it was all Jason."

Although both teams shot more than 40 percent for the game, they struggled to get production from behind the arc. The Orangemen made just five attempts from 3-point land, and their most prolific marksman, sophomore Preston Shumpert, hit iron on all three of his tries.

UConn shot just 4 -for- 1 from downtown, with leading perimeter threat Albert Mouring taking just one shot from deep. The Huskies recived zero first-half points rom their shooting guard pasition, with Mouring and freshman Tony Robertson blanked in the opening 20 minutes.
"What was disappointing was the way they came out and ball pressured us* UConn head coach Jim Cal houn said. "We missed a couple easy layups and easy plays. Then we stopped playing defense.

Syracuse is a tremen. dous basketball team. They handed us for that tominntestretch in the first half. We had the opportunity to plas Duke, Arizona and Texas, and Syracusc can play with anv of those teams.

Back by Popular Demand! 3for 3 Basketball Sale Save up to 30\%

In Our Collegiate Department  The Day After Each SU Basketball Game!

For every 3-point shot scored by the Syracuse University Men's or Ladies Basketball Team, The University Bookstore will offer a $3 \%$ discount (Lip to $30 \%$ or 10 baskets!) on Collegiate Department purchases!

This offer is good at all University Bookstore locations the day after each basketball game.

We are your bookstore!
BÖOKOSTOCOME
Owned & Operated by Syracuse University
Schine Student Center, 303 University Place. Syracuse, NY 13244-2020 Phone: (315) 443-9900 • Fax: (315) 443-1683 - e-mail: bookstor Ssyr.edu

LEVELTHEPLAYMNG FIELD IN

STARTING WITHTHEONESTHAT DON'THAVEAPRAYINGFIELD.

Come laum fow you can join the corpe of oustanding and divorse rocont calloge graduatios of

INFORMATION SESSION
Thursday, January 27, 2000 - 7:00 p.m.
Syracuse University Schine Student Center Roon 235 G

FINAL APPLICATION DEADLINE 15 FEERUARY 22. 2000

1-800-7FA-1230 - wwwisehtorameriew.ore

SU proves itself among elite with win

A few minutes after 9 p.m. on a frigid Syracuse Monday, the perfect college basketball

Have You heard the "Buzz" around campus?

CAPS Nomination Forms are now available at CPCS
237 Schine Student Center 443-3051
cpcs@scrmmon2.syr.edu or via Electronic Filing at htrp://students.syr.edu/depts/cpes completed forms due by 5:00PM 2/18/00

rier Dome.
An army of orange-clad students descended from the tables before stomping on press tables before storming the hardwood. The hometown tearn dominated an impos. ing opponent and were hoping to hop in the rankings. Richard Vitale, the Mad Hatter of college hoops, even lent his fa miliar boisterous routine to the carnival atmosphere.

Images such as these usually appearin images via satellite on Central New York television screens, carrying Durham, N.C., and Lawrence Kan. Yet for one night, as Vitale ingrained in the minds of millions of viewers, "The bas-

Dave Curtis  sports opinion

Syracuse."
Respect, complete with all the fixings, arrived at the Dome Monday night as the No. 4 Orangemen waxed defending national champion Connecticut 88-74 before 26,474 congregants. Fans nationwide - and those within an hour's drive of the Dome - now own no excuse for ignoring the Orangemen. The fans danced with glee as they watched the nation's premier squads exposing its plaws and deliv, erine a 40 -minute massacre The pomp from triumph No. 16 will soon disintegrate the excitement swept away like trampled soft drink cups in Section 105.

But the true significance of the win looms for the Or

It's been $\mathbf{1 0 0}$ years in the making!

On Wednesday, look for The Daily Orange's Higher Ground: A Century at Syracuse University special edition. Chronicling the most notable moments and eras of SU history, Higher Ground serves as a living record of them. For additional copies, please call 443-9798. -G3 Computer Labs

- Digital Printing
With This Coupon

Community Darlsooms YOUR STUDENT FEE AT WORK

winfreestuff.com  "Simple to Enter. Easy to Win.

angemen and should stay with them until they expire in March or early April. SU dein the making, a conference victory over a skilled team with the world looking on.
"This was a statement game, ${ }^{\text {SU }}$ forward Ryan Blackwell said. "People criticized us for playing a cupcake schedule. Now they realize we're one of the top teams. ${ }^{\text { }}$

Syracuse last boasted the right to cherish this sort of wint's buzzer-benter lifted the Orancemen past St John's in Orangemen past St. John's in themifinals.

Last season's lackluster campaign brought 21 wins, few of which surprised SU supporters. The Orangemen finished 1998-99 with a 2-6 mark against NCAA Tournament teams.

One win came against the vaunted Huskies, a 59-42 whitewashing at the Hartford Civic Center. But UConn starters Richard Hamilton and Jake voskuhl spent the game on the bench in street squad's 19-game winnin squad streak end streak end.

Stiumphs. trials far outweighed its triumphs. UConn's full arsenal spanked the Orangemen twice, once in the East Tournament finals. Miami and St. John's, both NCAA Tournament teams, took wins out of the Dome as well.

This season's crop of Orangemen played exorcist against the Huskies, shredding any remaining underachiever label to stay undefeated and continue to push toward the nation's No. 1 toward

In its perfect run, SU has navigated several paths to viotory. Some nights a tenacious defense harassed young ball handlers into a myriad of turnovers. On others, a poship perimeter-post partner opposition.
If they miss with the right, they connect with the left. And always, so far, for a punishing knockout.

Monday night's disman tling of the Huskies meshed several of SU's strengths. For hauled in the Orengemen collected the the collected three Jason Hart, Syracuse's maligned pauper, overPrince of Storrs, Conn. SU tal lied 88 points, 23 more than the Huskies give up to the average opponent.

Syracuse clicked in every aspect of basketball Monday creating a rift between itsel and the Big East's inferior dozen. It broke through to the national picture, greeting the rest of America with precise exd und earto and thunderous dunks

This night, no one could accuse them of playing a juwith Albany and Florida At with Albany lantic.

This night, the Huskies sent their full squad to battle and still came up short.

This night, Syracuse shut down the Huskies and shut up the critics.

Dave Curtis is the sports editor of The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at dgcurtis@syr,edu.

Dublin, ireland

SUMMER 2000

Irish Theatre and Culture Study the work of four major Irish dramatists: Synge, O'Casey, Beckett, and Friel and immerse yourself in lectures at Ireland's premier drama school, the Gaiety School of Acting. Class also includes theatre visits and excursions.

BOSTON UNIVIRSITY

232 Bay State Rd., 5th Floo
oston, MA 0221
$617 / 353-9888$
abroad@bu.edu
www.bu.edu/abroad
An equal uppurtunity, affirmative action institutiom.

PRISM TRAVEL

I
For the best student ainfareof cail 800-272-9676

VIsit us at prismitours.com
Get your rail pass from Prism Travelu
Student ID carda avallable.

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Never Odd or Even

by Neil Swaab

by Tim Dose ...but nobody likes Mikey. ecterse cese

Oh My Gawd

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever

Area 52
by Sam Baker An

Get 'Cuse To It by Damon Amendolara

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer
Things that they never said but should have.
(Match the quote to the celebrity best suited to have said such a thing)
-"You can cum on my face and you can cum in my shoe, but just don't get any in my open wound."
_-I Don't care what the banana smells like, Fm still not going to taste it!"
-"Marsupials?! Sorry I must have been drunk"
-"15 year old girls."
-"I was so excited, that I even got it in his wound"
a. John Wilkes Booth c. Par Buchanan
b. Mahatma Gandhi
d. God
(asked what he winks of to e. Abe Lincoln (after being keep his mind off of hunger) shot)

14[classifieds]

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

315-443-9793
$\$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 \%$ each additionai word $5 \phi$ extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE \& are Pro-paid by Cash , hineck, Mastier Card. Vias or Discove Ads can be mailed with ctreck to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue; Syracuse. NY 132io; Att: Cassifieds; On Syracuse, NY 132i0; Att: Classilieds; of

Notices
$$ 500$ milition is spent on adverisising lactucs aimed a Youl want a pleece Log onto eam money now.

FOR SALE

Tanning Bed Excelient for Soronity 24 (new) Duibs

Autos

'92 SVX Subaru AWD Loaded. Snow & Regula Tires, Car Cover, Fast $$ 7900443-9400$

EMPLOYMENT

Camp Counselors Top Overright Camps in Pocono Mints. Over 40 activties

 $\begin{array}{ll}\text { counselors } & 1-800.533-c a m p\end{array}$
Kithen manager neeted!

For pivale Summer Camp in Beautitul Pocono Mounlains. Feeding 500 people 3 meals per day 1-800-399.CAMP

Job Opportunities
Music Business! The Metropolitan Entertainment Group is seeking reliable reps on grasstools marketing as campaigns Tor emerging recording artists. For more information email miken@ metroent com

BONUSES pius guaranteed hourly rate tor Syracuse Slage -Angel Appeal Campargn. working almosphere. On bus-ine. Mon-Thur. $5-$ gPM. $1 / 17-3 / 19$. Required pieasant speaking voice, goal onented, posilve atitude. $443-1158$

WANTED

Child Care
Babysitter Wanted-Single Dad needs help with 6 8 year old boys Monday attemoons $3: 30$ io 5.3 pm . Wednescay mornings and every other Monday torning 6.45 bo e: 15 an. Watch unem in for delails.

Help Wanted
$$ 1500$ weekly polental mailing our circutars. No 202-452-7679.

More than fust SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camp counselors needed tor a Divale resicental camp in the beautiul Pocono Mins. We are looking tor people with a dedication to chidren, enthusiasm lor diversty, ane a desire to share theri passion and expentise ti any of the following areas: COMPUT VOLLEYBALL TENNIS, SWIMMING, SAILING. FISHING, WATEP-SKING, THEATER, DANCE. VIDEO, CREATIVE WRITING, ESL, SOCCER. COOKING. RADIC, ROCK MUSIC. GOLF. ETRY, NEWSPAPER. FINE ARTS.
CREATIVE CRAFIS, MOUNTAIN BIKING
CUMBING WALL
Please call 1-B00-399-CAMP. Ask for Dan or Nigel. ARE YOU CONNECTED?

Fratenilices* Sororibes*
Clubs
Student Groups
Sludent organizations eam $51,000-$ 2,000$ with the easy campuslundraisercom three hour fundraising evvert No sajes required. Fundraising dates are caling quickiy, so call today! Contact www.campustuncraiser.com.

Roommates

Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment close to campus parking fireplace laundry $487-5761$ Subret needed, 4 person Aparment. Ackeman Ave. 4 blocks to campus caill Pete, 423 . 9025 . Roommate 715 Lancaster $\mathrm{S} 225+$ Washer. Dryer. Semi fum, 3 blocks to campus $263-0613$ riversity nice quiet turnished $\mathbf{1 , 2 , 3}$ bedrooms partments parking . 478-2642.

FOR RENT

L(.)(.)K First Week Advertised  Furnished House Livingroom Diningrm 2 Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast 10 Month Lease

Call 655-2175

for more info.
2 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
302 Marshall St
604 Wanut Ave
309 Euclid Ave
604 Wanut Ave
309 Eucid Ave
415 Eucid Ave
145 Avondale Place
329 Comstock Ave
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management Welin to Wall Cappet andor Relord Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www. universityarea.com

Luxulious: 2story apuot gournat kivan

 NO PETSI Negotiathe leases.
Call 10 I 1 appl $469-9780$

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom. Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with completely furnished House with tront and rear porches. Living tront and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO five large bedrooms, and Two FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. FREE Laundry faciity in builing. CALL 430-5188
CALL $430-518$
after 1:00
Large Single Famity fumished house. Parking. hireplace, ree laundry, dishwasher, matue tenants
682.330 S

BEST LOCATION REASONABLE RENT 228 Euclid, across trom Shaw Dorm, 4 bedroom. Hee parking, dishwasher, laundry. microwave.
new porch -Jery or Tina - 474.7541, 446-6318. 4 Bedrooms. OaklandSL. 1Block ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospials, lumished, parking, laundry, Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace parking. laundry, ow price 436-016.

```
```

3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave
604 Wanut Ave
319 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Flace
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Parking. Fuli Time
Maintenance and Management,
Wall to Wall Gapet andlor
Refinished Hard Wood Floors
Remoceled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30
479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Unversty Atea 2.3 Bedroom lurnishec Apantments $\mathrm{Jim} 658-7473$ Beautul 3 Bedroom Towihorses, Walking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedinoms, Iots of closel space, $11 / R$ Eatits, Dina Broom, Livingroom, Kilcten, Basement with Washerdryer hookups, Kitchen, Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups
OfI Street Parking with Garage.A Must See!! 469-6417 or 476-9643
RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. Enf/APTs Homes & Town Houses Everything you want and more for your buek MOST INCLUDING

Secunty System with $1^{1-}$ Dead Bolt Locks - Smoke. Heat \& Sprinkler System Prices Ranging from $\mathbf{3 2 2 5 - 5 3 7 5 / m o n t h}$ Kitchens indude: Goumbet Self-cleaning ovens. all to Wall Cappets \& Padding (like home) - Laundry Facilities en Pramisos Oll-street Parking
Snow a Lawn Maintenance
Super Insutatad (means low utilities) Some Apts. incluce An Uuifites a Fumished Such as " Comstock, Ostrom, Harrison, Madison Westcott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingstpn. Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your thome away from thomel

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease,
Heated
440-6200
437-7577

BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave

917 Ackerman Ave 115 Redfield Place

Available for 2000-2001 Ully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Remodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Ackerman Beautiful Large Fumished Flats/ Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Per OK $446-3420$

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
LOOK AT THIS!
Three Bedroom Apartment Spacious three Bedroom.
aparment witely turnisthed aparmen with porch. Living foom wiln fireplace, Diming soom, Kithen and tiree large bedrooms, and am, kain OHf Ifreet, garage parking. Laundry tacilly in buil

Five bedroom House Spaccious live Bedroom, completely fumistied House with front and rear porches. Living Room mith tire patace. Eat-Inches. Kithen Wing
R OSHWASHEA and frve large bedrooms, and WO FuLL Eathrooms OOHt street parking nith garage. FREE Laundry facity in butileing. CALL 430-5188 atter $\mathbf{7}: \mathbf{0 0} \mathrm{pm}$

Two Eedroom Apariments on Euelid Fumished, Heat included, hardwood lioors. porch, recently semodeled, taundy. parking, 476-2982

Apartments Clean quiet 2 -bedroom two bloks from SW hospilals. Fumished. Al utilities paic. 475 -5908 lune 1 lease.

5 Bedroom Apt
Fully Furnished
Forch Fs, Launished
Parking, Dishwasher
Owner Manager
$682-2218$

One +2 bedroom furnished apartments. All utiites included! $5370, $ 480 \mathrm{~m}$ mo. One mile trom campus. Laundry, parking, cappeting. secunty building.
Avalable immedialely, May orAugust $446-9598$.

Large 2 bedroom 2 full bath. Walking distance
S. U. off street pasking. Laundry. Call 422.7305 .
Best Buy on HarrisonSt. Clean Ouiet One-bedroorn and studio dune lease. Fumished. truities incleved. 472-590.

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS  604 Wainut Ave.  2,3, 4, and 5 Bedroom  Unilites included. Fully lurnished. Rents slors. Wall to wall carpet Flats Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry.  www. Universityarea com University Area Apts 479-5005

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTIN OF 3 bEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Apartment 4Br. zfut balh I,place n.wood tloo Aroon d.room porch ree laundy avalace tune2000 walk tos. U. hospitals plase cail 446 -1951
Ackerman Ave nice 3bedroom llat. Fumished, slove, retrig, laundry, Lireplace, garage

1 Bedroom Furnished Untumished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry available. Of Siree

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus. usitities inctuded, Oak lloorss , fire prace, lumished.
parking, very clean, laundry Call Gordon $476-2982$.

| APARTMENTS CLOSE TO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS  1. 2. 3. 4 Bedroom Apartments Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excelient Condition, Fumished, Some Include U4ilities. Call 422-0133. |
| :---: |

University 283 Bedroon Towntouses & Fats nexpensive and mint condition. Washerdrye Fireplace,titished basement, Call $449-0109$.
Furnished 2.5 Bedroom Houses/ Apartments
Livingsion, Sumner, Ackemman, Euchd 669.6665
ONE BEDROOM
AVEARTMENT EUCLID
LOCATION 476-9933.

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.

Wall to wall carpet Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents 302 Marshall St (across from Haven) University Araz Apts.
mwwuniversity areacom 479-5005

Slucfo Apartments beginning at 5255 peti month some with 9 month leanes, wath utilities, umiture, privale kttcreen and batis nucrowave, carpel $1,2,3,4+5$ bedoom aparments. Furnished, al ubilities included, taundry, parking. One block from carnpes near law sch availability. $446-9598$.

| Modern 2 bedroom |
| :---: |
| apartments. |
| Wall to wall carpet. |
| Air conditioned. Dishwasher. |
| Laundry. Low utilities. |
| Competitive rents. |
| 302 Marshall St. |
| (across trom Haven. |
| University Araz Apts |
| wowuniversityaneacom |
| $479-5005$ |

Abstract

| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT |
| :---: |
| Two Bedroom Apartments With utilition Incurcied, Fireplact Furniabed, Handwood Foops and Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Lundry, Parking. elose to Campus. Call Gerton $476-2982$ |

The Daily Orange

Internet. But, for most cusomers, the deal wont pro or a faster Internet connec tion just yet

The merger is hardly an open-and-shut deal, Elin said. While the companies have symbolically joined forces, the actualmerger won't happen for a year, dur ing which time the Securities and Exchange Commission will work to approve the col laboration

Elin, however, said that If the merger isn't finalized, it will most likely be due to in vestor disapproval, not gov ernuent action.

Since AOL is buying Time Warnerin stock, Time Warner shareholders will now own AOL shares, and that might not appeal to some wheelers and dealers.

What a lot of industry analysts are predicting is that as the stockholders of Time Warner look closely at this merger, they'll realize is out of sync with reality, Elin said.

AOL's stock price has fallen and Time Warner's has fallen and Time Warner's has of the merger, a phenomenon that tends to be normal quisitions of this kind ing acquired, ing acquired, its stockholders, on average, gain twenty, thirald Madden a visiting fir nance professor in the School nance professor in the School added that the share prices of the acquiring company stagnate or drop slighty.

Elin thinks the dispro portionately high-priced AOL stock will continue to fall in value until a fair price is reached.
"One writer in "The New Yorker" commented that the only convergence he expects to see this year is the conver gence of AOL's market value with reality. I agree with that " Elin said.

If AOL's price continues to plummet and Time Warner's value stays on its current upswing, the deal might could put the merger, which could put the merger on hold Turning old into new Although this merger is one of unprecedented size, a bigger challenge may involve the incorporation of an Internet company with an old media company

AOL is accustomed to the tremendous gains in market cial success during the past few years. But by combining with a more conservative conventional media company and diversifying those days may be over, Madden said. may be over, Madden said. down the possibility of greater reward, and it also brings down the risk," he said.

Although the pair is bucking the recent business trend toward specialization and not diversification, Madden said, AOL and Time Warner look inke a good fit.
Time Warner attempted to bulk up on Internet influence with its Path finder.com portal, but that plan soon failed and made it more necessary for it to acquire an established company to distribute its information. And as Elin noted, a partnership With AOL provides Time Warner with access to 20 mil that can access Time Warner mag-

January 25, 2000 band Internet access market offering high speed or free connection to the Internet connection to the internet. Broadbandinternet access of fers high-speed access ble lines. Time Wirner Cable reaches over is million households, and 420,000 al ready subscribe to the Road Runner high-speed online service. As a result of the merger, AOL now gains Time Warner's one billion broadband Internet subscribers.

At the crux of the deal ies the power players Steve Case, CEO of America Online; Gerald Levin, CEO of Time Warner; and Ted TurnWr, vice chairman of Time Warner, are the proposed chairman, CEO and vice chairman, respectively, of the new company. Industry analysts speculate thiat clash betwean these three inthe deal's men may hamper the deal's frocress, perhaps ion of the inulti-billion dollar ion or the inullion dollar venture, Elin said.

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

4 and 5 Bedroom Apartments
${ }^{604}$ Wainut Ave ${ }_{510}^{319}$ Euclicid Ave
925 Maryland Ave
Avaiable lor 2000-2001 Mantenancon. Full Thne Heinisished Hard Wood Foors Remodeled kithers and atits

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30

479-5005
www.universityarea.com
targe 3 bedroom. 2 full baik Waking distamne
s.U. olt street paikng. Laundry Call $422 .-7305$.
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
2 blocks from campus. Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Laundry. Parking. Alams. Lowest rents for modern new construction www.universilyarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts. 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
2Bedroom, 2 car garage. 125 Kensinton Rc Four Bedroom on Ackernan, Furnished. Lazndy, Carpet. Harth

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

One Bedroom Apartments,
some with 9 month leases. some with 9 month leases.
Fireplace, hardwood lloors, turnished, Fireplace, hardwood lloors, turnished,
laundry, quiet building, close to campus. 476-2982

Two Bedroon Apt 514 Euclid Patking Laund
Best Localion Call Now $446.6268446-2602$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

pLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM'HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM 818 Westontt (near Euclid) 6 Bedrooms Carpet Laundry Parking Large Rooms 3 Baths Distiwasher
446.5186 446.5186

B88 Sumner 4 Bedroom Hardwood Floors Laundy Parking Dishwasher Porches Aval Aug Newly Remodefed 446.5186
$3,4,5$ bedroom homes at reasonabie prices, close lo campus. Immaczul landiords 682.7130

|  |
| :---: |

UNIVERSITY HOMES
$2 \begin{gathered}2+5=7 \text { Bedroorns } \\ 2+5 \text { Kitchens widW } \\ =31 / 2 \text { Baths }\end{gathered}$ New Condition w.w. carpet fully furnished, porches,garage Paul Williams 422.9597 . 10 Years of Quality Service.
Now Rening For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroom house on E. Actams St. Newly temodeted Bathooms and peint. Heal included OH Street Parking. laundry room and Bar, Great Locat on' Call 637.5779
(5)Andf6) Bedioom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom cent to campus staring Cs335/ person (1)446-3693

Roorns

Funished roon avalable tor Spring Semester orlonger, One block from campus. Parking. aundry, all ubities incluted. 4469598
January Graduale Students 2 lage bedrooms emaning beaultil home close to campus 682.7130

SUBLET
hoon in 2 person Apl. svalable starting in Spang 2000. Fumished, carpeted, ait conditioned. Low utillies, $1 / 2$ block liom campus. 475 - 7938

SERVICES
Travel
SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK $$ 758$ Up Per Person wwwretreatmyntedeach.com

Sping Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5
Sping Break Specials! Baharms Party Cruise! 5
Nignis $279! indurdes Meals: Awesome Beaches. Nignis s2zal incurdes weals: Awesome Beaches. Room With Kitchen Next To Cubs, 7 Parties & Free Dnnks $$ 129!$ Daylona Poorn Whith Kitchen 51491 South Beach (Bars Open Uniil 5ama) $$ 159!$ pringbreaktravel.com 1-800-678.538 CAHCUN SPRING BREAK From S399 lichudes 14
FREE meats. 23 Hours of Fre Drins. We Are The Eigeest, The Best And The Least Expensive Play While You Pay! G Month Payment Plan
Avalifule II As How! $800-395-4896$

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com
> Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

The Daily

 Orange Advertising InformationThe Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want titito runs Call4439793 duning advertis ingibusiness. hours (8 a.m. 4 pmil for cur rent-rates and applieable dis counts
 Bore than just SUMHER EMPLOMMENT. Camp tounselors needed Ior a private, residential camp in the beautiful Pocono Mins. We are lookng tor people with a dedcation to children, enthusiasm tor diversty, and a desire to share theit passion and expertise in any of the tollowing areas: COMPUT. ERS. CIFCUS ARTS, BASKEIBALL. MAGIC. VOLLEYBALL TENNIS. SWIMMING, SALLING.
FISHING. WATER SKING. THEATER, DANCE, VIDEO, CREATIVE WRITNG, ESL, SOCCER, COOKING. RADIO, ROCK MUSIC, GOLF: SKATEEOAADING, ROLLERELADIN
ETRY, NEWSPAPER, FINE ARTS ETRY, NEWSPAPER, FINE ARTS, CREATIVE CRAFTS, MOUNTAIN BIKING.
CLLMEANG WALL
PJease call $1-800-399$-CAPMP, Ask for Dan or Nig ARE YOU CONNECTED?
 Fratornitics ${ }^{\circ}$ Sororities ${ }^{*}$
Fratornitics ${ }^{\circ}$ Sororities
Cubs' Suudent Groups
Sludent organizations earn $51,000-52,000$ with the easy campustuntraiser com

Roommates

Aoornmate wanted to share 3 large bedrom apantrment elose to

 apstrment eloselaundy $497-5761$

Sublet needed. 4 person Apartment. Ackerman Sublet needed. 4 person Apartment. Ackemm
Ave. 4 btocks to campus call Pete, $423-9025$. Acommate 715 tancaster $$ 225+$ Washer, Dryer, Serri-fun, 3 blocks to campus 263 -0at13 Serri-fum, 3 blocks to campus 263-0613

FOR RENT

 Jniversity nice quies furnished $1,2,3$ bedromapanments pazking utilitise incluced wak SU Hospilals reasonable. Roommate tor grad needed 78-2642.

L(.)(.)K

First Week Advertised  Furnished House

 Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast.
10 Month Lease

Call 655-2175
for more info.

2 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
302 Marsha: St
604 Watnut Ave
309 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
329 Comstock Ave
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Fumished Laundry Parking. Full Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Floors

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

LuxURIOUS: 2story apthotit Gournet kitdin, bain porches. NO PEISI Negotiabie leases.

Cal tor appt 469-0780

1 Bedroom and

 Studio Apartments 2000-2001Completely furnished, parking, laundy, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Five bedroom House

 Spacious five Bedroom, completely fumished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188after 1:00 Fm Large Single Family lumished house Parity lifeplace, itee taundry, dishwasher, mature tenant best location reasonagle rent BEST LOCATION -REASONABLE RENT 228 Euctid, across fiom Shaw Dorm, 4 bedroom tree parking, dishwasther, laundry, microwave, new porch - Jerry or Tina- $474.7541,446-6318$.

4 Bedrooms, OaklandSt. 1Block ESF. 3Elocks porches. Excellent condition. August. 475-0690 Slop clean 3 bedtoom apartments Fireplice, parking, aundry ${ }^{\text {an }}$

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Eucid Ava

917 Ackerman Ave
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished
Fully Furnished Caundry Maintenance and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hardwood Floors Refinished Hardwood Fioors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Ackernan Beautitur Large Fumished Fials
Houses, 2,3,4,5,6 Bedrooms. Porches
Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK' 446-3420

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Thre Look AT THIS! Spacious three Bedroom. completely fumished aparthent with porch. Eving Room with fireplace, Dining room, Kithen and tivee large bedroons. and Bath. Off stieet, garage

Five bedroo House
Five bedroom House
Spacious fre Eedrom, completely tumished
House mith lront and tear porches. LWing House with tront and tear porches. Lhing
Room with fitepace. Eat-In Kichen W/
 TWO FULL Bathroons. OHt street parking wilt garage FREE Laundry achity in building.
CALI $430-5188$ atter $1: 00 \mathrm{pm}$

Two Edroom Apartments on Euclid Fumished, Heat incluced, nartwoon floors, porthi, recently remodeled, Jaundry. parking, $476-2982$

Apartments
Ciean quiet 2 bedroom two blocks from $$ \omega$ hospilas. Fumished. All utiuties paid. 475-5908 June trease.
*************************
Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry,

Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577

| University Area 2-3 Bedroonn furmished Apartinents Single Houses tor rent. Call Jim 668-7473 |
| :---: |
| Beautitul 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Waking distance to Campus. 3 Large Becrooms, lo's of closet space, $11 / 2$ Balhs, Diningroom, Lhingroom, kichen, Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups, Off Street Parking with Garage.A Must See!! 469-8417 or 476-9643 |
| ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS, FURNISHED, DHSHWASHER, PARKING $$ 175$ PER MONTH 476-9933 |
|  |
| Ackemtan Ave, 2.3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Fumisthed. carpeled, walk to campus. Weil maintained. 500-501 lease 446-7202 |
| Apartments close to enmpus clean 2-3-5 bedroorns some with fireplace laundry parking sarmiturniahed reasonable price 437.5761. |
| 2 betroom Apartment right on Marshall St. Fall Sermester only ( 1 Semester) August 2000 to December 31, 2000. Great locationt Call 637.5779. |

12,3,445 bedroom aparments. Fumished, all carneus neal law school tESF. May +August from vaitability, 446-9598.

TOAD HALL

$1 / 2$ block from campus.

Modern 2 bedroom

 apartments.Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
caundry. Low utilities
302 Marshal
302 Marshall St.
Univerally Area Apts
479-5005
Studfo Apartments beginding at szas pery month sorne with 9 month leases, month torne with 9 month leases, with ulibtie microwave, cappeting or oakwood' floors, taundry.

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM ARTMENTS, AND 4,5, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Apartment abr. 2tull bath tiplace niwood tioor l.room difoom porch free laundry available june200
$446-195$

Ackemran Ave nice 3 bedroom flat, tumbshed, stove, reting, laundry, tireplace, garage.

Bedroom Funished Unlurnished Waking distance S.U. Laundry available. Oif Street arking Call 422 -7305
One Bedrom Apartments Close to Campus, utbities included, Oak floors, tite place, fumished, parking, very clean, laundry Call Gordon $476-29 a 2$.

| APARTMENTS  CLOSE TO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS  1, 2, 3,4 Eedroom Apartments Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellent Condition Fumished, Some Include Utilties. Call 422-0138. |
| :---: |
| University 283 Bedroom TownHouses a Flats. Inexpensive and mint condition. WasherDryer, Fireplace,finished basement, Call 449-0109. |
| Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments Livingsion, Surner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6665 |
| ONE BEDROOM  APARTMENT EUCLID  AVE,SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR TWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933. |

| 5 Bedroom Apt  Aekermun Ave 6-1.00  Fulty Furnished Porches, Laundry Parking, Dlahwasher Owner Manager 682-2218 |
| :---: |
| One +2 bedroorn fumished aparments. All utilities included! $$ 370, $ 480$ mo. One mile trom campus Laundry, parking. carpeting, security builiding. Available imturediately, May orAugust 446-9598. |
| Large 2 becioom. 2 full balh. Walking distance S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Coll $422-7305$. |
| Best Ery on Harisonst. Clean Qufet. One-bedroom and studio June lease. Fumished Utilities Included. 472.590 . |
| SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS  604 Walnut Ave.  2,3, 4, and 5 Bedroom Apartments.  Utilities included, Fully furnishod. Rents start at $275. Refinished hardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24hour maintenance. www.universityarea.com University Area Apls 479-5005 | parking, very clear, laundry Call Gordon 476-29az

CLOSE TO CAMPU $2000-20001$ RENTALS Sumner, Euclid, Ackerman. Excellent onitium $/$ shed , Some Ubill 422 -0138.
 porace,finished basement Call 4490100 Fumished 2-58edroom Houses/ Apartments
Livingsion, Suriner, Ackeman, Euclid 469-6665

PRSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT
LOCATION 476-9933

One +2 bedroorn fumished aparments. At utilities licluded! $$ 370$, subunh. One mie trom carnpus. Large 2 bedroom. 2 full balh. Walking distance S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call 422 -7305

Best Bry on HarnisonSt. Clean Qufet. Onebedroon and studio June lease. Fumished

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
Perrect for one person. AJ utilities included 355 per month 4494621

MERGER
continued from page 16 ers, and they're bound to pass those profits onto their employees.

And for First Amendment crusaders, the merger raises tion flow is controlled in the tion llow is controlled in the tions commerce.
"There is a potential for monopolistic control of content, and the possibility of infringements on Aidan White, general secretary of the International Federation of Journalists, re cently addressed this poten tial threat to free speech.

"Unless action is taken to ensure journalistic independence, we face a dangerous threat to media diversity," he said.

Technology tightrope
AOL and Time Warner's pairing combines interests in munications industry, in munications industry, in television, cable television, cable systems, music and the Internet. But, for most customers, the deal won't provide in-home video streaming or a faster Internet connection just yet.

The merger is hardly an open-and-shut deal, Elin said. While the companies have symbolically joined forces, the actual merger wont happen for a year, durand Exchange Comecurities will work to approve the col laboration. approve the colElin, however, said that if the merger isn't finalized, it will most likely be due to investor disapproval, not government action.

Since AOL is buying Time Warner in stock, Time Warner shareholders will now own AOL shares, and that might not appeal to some wheelers and dealers.

What a lot of industry analysts are predicting is that as the stockholders of this merger, they'll realize that merger, they'll realize is out of sync with reality," Elin said.

AOL's stock price has fallen and Time Warner's has risen since the announcement

The Daily Orange
the incorporation of an Inter net company with an old media company.
$A O L$ is accustomed to the tremendous gains in market cial success during the past few years. But by combining with a more conservative, conventional media company and diversifying, those days may be over, Madden said. "Diversification brings down the possibility of greater reward, and it also saidgs down the risk," he said.

Although the pair is bucking the recent business trend toward specialization den said, AOL and Tim Warner look like a good fit.

Time Warner attempted to bulk up on Internet influence with its Pathfinder.com portal, but that plan soon failed and made it more necessary for it to acquire an established company to distribUte its information. And as with AOL provides Time With AOL provides $T i m e$ lion Internet customers. And lion Internet customers. And that group of people, in turn, can access Time Warner magazines, movies and music from their computers.

January 25, 2000

AOL, on the other hand needed to crack the braad. band Internet access market to fend off other companies offering high speed or free connection to the Internet Broadband Internet access of fers high-speed access through a DSL modem or cable lines. Time Warner Cable reaches over 13 miltion households, and 420,000 already subscribe to the Road service. As a result of the merger, AOL now rains Time marner's one billion broadband Internet subseribers.
At the crux of the deal lies the power players Steve Case, CEO of America Time Warner; and Ted Turn er, vice chairman of Time Warner, are the proposed chairman, CEO and vice chairman, respectively, of the new company. Industry clash between these three in fluential men inay hamper the deal's f roeress, perthaps even preventine the firalization of the multi-billion dollar venture, Elin said.

4 and 5 Bedroom Apartments ${ }^{604}$ Warnu Ave 319 Euclid Ave
50 Eurid Ave
925 Maryland Ave Avaiable 10r 2000-2001 Puly Funished Laundry
 Retiniso Wincal Wood Foors Remodeled Kithens and Gaihs

University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Large I betroom. 2 till batm. Waknig distance
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
2 blocks from campus. Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Laundry. Parking. Alarms Lowest rents for modern. new construction. www.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts. 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Bedroom 2 car gaage 125 Kensing ton Rd comer of lancaster $5550472 \cdot 2667$.
 Dishwasher, Two Porches, On Laurdy Camet, Hartwood fioors
Call Gordon 476-2982

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking,
Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

> One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood fioors, turnished.
laundry. quiet tutiding. ciose 10 campus, laundry. quiet butiding. ciose to campus, 476-2982

Two Bedroom Apt 514 Euelid Parking Laundry
Gest Location Cal Now $446-626$. $486-2602$
NEW BURY APARTMENTS
Great University Area Beautiful Great University Area Beautiful
Modern 182 Eedroom Apt All
Mrand New AppL, (AC, Dishwasher) Heat
Hot Water tnefuded. Security Buildings Whintercoms & Door Releases. Custom Made Blinds, Cholec of Porch or Patio. Off Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro starting at 5550.00 . Call 478-0277 Ask for Paticial or Stop by our office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located Also..(GGreat Localion) eeautiful
5 BECROOM HOUSE. $2 / 2$ baths, 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, washerldryer hook huge yerdivate roa off Layatyette road $$ 1200.00$

Houses

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM 818 Westeoth (near Euclid) is Bedrooms Carpe Laundy Pa $446-5185$
e68 Sumner 4 Beoroom Hartwood Ficors Launcry Parking Dishwasher Porches Avail Aug Nowl
Femodelet 446.5185 . Remodeled 446-518
3.4 .5 bedroon homes at reasonable prices, ciose 10 carmpus. Mmmacu landlords. $682-7130$

| 2000/2001  Lovely Furnished 5-Bedroom House. Fireplace Free Laundify Hardwood Floors 2Porches $$ 330 /$ bedroom Also 4 -Bedroom House 5255 / Bedroom $446-7611$ |
| :---: |
|  |  |

OOK AT THIS

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOU OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE gREAT PORCHES,

UNIVERSITY HOMES

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \star \star \star \star \star \star \star \\
& 2+5=7 \text { Bedrooms }
\end{aligned}
$$

2 Kitchens w/DW $31 / 2$ Baths
New Condition w.w. carpet fully furnished, porches, garage
Paul williams 422.9997.
10 Years of Quality Service

Non Renting Fof Fall 2000 Large b betroom house on E. Admes SI. Newly remodeted Bathoom ho und parnt. Heat intlused! Oll Strect Parkng. taund room and Bar. Great Location! Cail 637.579 . (5) And(6) Bedroom Housos 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adiacent to campus slaring es33s/ person (1)446.3593

Rooms

Funished room avalable tor Spnng Semester
 January Gaduate Studenss 2 lage bedrocms ${ }_{\text {lemanining bealtelt home close to campus }}$

SUBLET
hoom in 2 person Apl. available staring in

SERVICES
Travel

SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK S75 SiUp Per Person www.evealm

Spana Break Speciats! Bahamas Party Cruise! $S$

 Free Drinks $$ 1296$ Daytona Room wah kitchen 5149 Iscues Beach (Bars open unid) samy) 159 Coc0a Beach (Near Disney) $179!
CANCUU SPRING BAEAK From So99 includes 14

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com
> Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two busi ness days before you wantit torun: Caid 4439793 ding adveitis ing business hours 8 a m. 4 pen ) for cur rent rates and applicable dis couts

${ }_{\text {Hoge }}$

Skimpy wear
Dresses for the Big Day have not only gotten simpler over the last few seasons, but they've gotten skimpier up top as well. Who is the actress with the style that best describes the look for today's wedding dresses? It's Jennifer Aniston, with her bare and sophisticated look. First there were classic sheaths, then spaghett straps a top tulle balle rina skirts. Now gowns are going strapless. Other hot items for those planning to take the plunge include sunset colored roses bound with yellow and golden ribbon and bridal hair in a flurry of jeweled or pearl-scattered pins instead of a veil.

Ad backlash

Benetton's advertising alliance with Talk mag azine has had its intended effect: The debate over the clothing maker's controversial anti-death-penalty ads is going on over the airwaves, in print and in internet chatrooms. But it has also prompted a debate Benetton didn't expect Thursday - negotiations over the ad campaign with a major retailer, Sears Roebuck and Co. Calls from angry customers, including relatives of murder victims, prompted Sears to begin discussions with Benetton.

Big beauty

Mr. Bijan and a fat lady are the talk of the town in New York magazine circles. The hugely successful Beverly Hills clothier and his rotund model named Bella based magazines. The controversial advertisements, meant as an homage to painters Peter Paul Rubens, Henri Matisse and Fernando Botero, feaure a high-heeled nude Bella and a fully clothed Mr. Bijan.

quote  of the day:

Love is two minutes 52 seconds of squish ing noises. It shows your mind isn't click ing right."
Johnny Rotten

Holly
Auer, editor 443-2128 life 3 daily life@daily range.com [lifestyle] PATRIOTIC professionals Graduales participate in Teach for America.
See Lifestyle Wednasday.

BY DOMINIC FRANCESE

 Staff WriterJust as the sun rose on the new millennium, America Online and Time Warner shook hands alter the face of modern-day ammunications.
Although the impact of the $$ 162$ billion deal could be felt worldwide, the implications of the merger also struck home for the merger also struck home for at Syracuse University. While at Syracuse union may offer customers more choices for home and office communications tools, some media mavens predict that those with newly-inked diplomas may be left out in the cold when searching for a job in the competitive industry.

Following the lead of the 1999 CBS and Viacom merger, $A O L$ and Time Warner's deal continues the growing trend toward an international media market controlled by just a handful of companies. If other media moguls follow suit, the number of companies searching for new talent will continue to be whittled down, leaving job seekers with less options for empioyment. the ability to raise bargence has entry into the field entry inco the field, said Larry the television, radio and fild partment.

But some students disagree. Since the blockbuster merger unites the high-speed Internet papers, magazines and television media, brand-new opportunities in the job force may appear as the the cutting-edge technology takes over. jobs This will probably open up cause film is just beginning to converge with the Web and (industry professionals) are beginning to see the power it can have," said Seth Robbins, a freshman TRF major.
(to be shown on the web. As soon as the Internet gets a little bit faster, you could be watching all your movies on the web, he added.

Ryan Fisher, a junior broadcast journalism and political science major, is confident that the joint effort will benefit employees throughout the industry.
'Once someone's hired into one of these huge companies, there should definitely be more opportunity for advancement," he saidies like see pronts for comand bigger because of these merg-

See MERGER page 15

Actors lighten up at Golden Globes

If the Oscar ceremony is the movie industry's yearly prom, then the Golden Sunday night's event brought out the usual suspects of Hollywood's
Peter Beisser media
freak elite society for the 57 th annual awards ceremony. But unlike the stuffy and pretentious atmosphere that usually surrounds March's Academy Awards the Gl And whenever there's an open bar, you never know what to expect. Sunday's show was a way to take a glimpse at those perto what they truly are - real people with jobs simply hanging out with each other. rey, if you forgot that they're all rich. famous and beautiful, you might have confused them with regular folks like us. OK, maybe not, but still.

Here's an example: When asked during a pre-show interview how his life has differed in the two years following his first Globes awards for "Good Will Hunting, Matt Damon responded that everything had changed, and that he was upset to have lost touch with his college friends

Hey, Ive been working just like you guys and I have a break coming up, so call me up and well do something."

Michael J. For
ter announcing his retirement from the business last week, won for best actor in a television comedy for his work on ABC's "Spin City" Holding back tears, Fox asked the crowd, "Isn't this a great job to have?

Besides the heart-warming stuff, the Hollywood Foreign Press is a little more liberal in their choices for awards, which makes the show worth watching in itself. You know most of the time those actors and actresses who put on the best performance are going to win, not those who the industry people feel should win for business's sake. That's not to say that the H.F.P. isn't bribed, bought and sold. Either way, their awards are better-selected than the competing award shows. And there aren't any awards given to unimportant categories, just the biggies on this one.
$18 / 8$

Gusty winds and low wind chills; more snow | Thursday: |
| :--- |
| Snow 16 | Friday: Friday:

Light snow 21/8

\author{

| briefs........... 22 | elassifieds 14 editorial $\qquad$ |
| :---: | :---: |
| Jifestyle......... 9 | sports ......... 16 |  tyle.......... 9

}
volume xoxx sumber 71 syrocuse, New rom 200000
higherGROUND
The Daily Orange celebrates a century's worth of history at SU. See Special Section.

Education NATION Recent college graduates participate in unique teaching program. See Lifestyle.

Buying books, baby

Groups debate caucus

BY EMILY KULKUS

Asst. News Editor
With the Iowa Caucus ballots counted and the New Hampshire Primary just days away, the 2000 presidential race is far from over - in fact, it has only just begun, several Syracuse University political organization leaders said.

Or the six candidates jockeying for the Republican presidential nomination during Monday's caucus, magazine publisher Steve Forbes trailed frontrunner Texas Gov. George W. Bush with 30 percent of the vote. Bush garnered 41 percent of about 180,000 Iowa Caucus yoters. Former ambassador and radio talk show host Alan Keyes gained 14 percent of the votes, with Gary Bauer at 9 perof the votes, with Gary Bauer at 9 percent and Arizona Sen. John McCain with cent and Arizona Sen. John McCa

Vice President Al Gore led the Democratic race with 63 percent of the voters, nearly doubling former New Jersey . Bill Bradley's 35 percent showing.
Speculation surrounds Utah Sen. Orrin Hatch, who garnered only 1 percent of voters in Iowa, that he will announce his withdrawal from the race today.

Debates in the New Hampshire Primary begin Thursday night in Manchester, N.H., with the elections following on Tuesday.

Forbes's second place finish in Iowa is a surprise to College Fepublican Chairperson and Forbes supporter Joe Buras, a junior political science major.
"I was thrilled but I was absolutely shocked that Steve Forbes did as well as he did," Burns said. "It proves that it is a three-person race on the Republican side.

On Thursday, Buras publicly anSee IOWA page 3

The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

Eroadcaster Dick Vitale signs copies of his new book "Campus Chaos" Monday afternoon in the SU Bookstore at Schine.

$\square$ Police Reports:

Break-ins continue near campus  Staff Reports  person smeared a substance - believed

An unidentified person broke into a Syracuse University student's vehicle Jan 13 and stole materials valuing about $$ 210$, according to a police report.

The theft, occurring on the 1200 block of Madison Street, marics the tenth car break-in since Sept. 16 in the university area. Six break-ins occurred during the week of Dec. 4.

In one such incident, an unidentified to be acid - on the passenger side of a to a police report.

Other burglary-related damages included smashed windows and slashed tires, reports said.
Items most commonly stolen included credit cards, money and stereos.

The most recent car, a 1985 white Volkswagen Jetta, belongs to SU graduate Volkswagen Jetta, belongs to SU graduate student Stephen T. Buckman, the report

The thief smashed the rear passenger side window and stole an Old Navy down jacket, a pool cue in a black case and eight compact discs in a black case were reported missing, the report said.

The cost to replace the broken window was estimated at about $$ 110$, the report said.
Coms was in the process of moving to Comstock," Buckman said. "The window
See COPS page 8

- City Affairs

Investigation ends Bernardi rumors

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Staff Writer
A six-month investigation into domestic violence rumors involving Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi ended Friday, Onondaga County Dist A Atrorney Winam friend or bermarded.
found unded.
There is no evidence of any visits to domestic violence shelters, police reports or emergency rooms, Fitzpatrick said. He added that the investigation probed the admittance records of 37 New York state hospitals, with Alice Bernardi's permission.

Because many of the rumors placed Bernardi and his wife in domestic altercations during specific times, the District Attorney's Office checked out a variety of leads during the investigation. Fitzpatrick said those leads, "just did not pan out."

Last month the District Attorney's Office faced a See BERNARDI page 4

- Multicultural Affairs

Civil rights forum calls for student activism

-The Civil Rights Movement has not ended, panelists reminded about 30 people Tuesday night during a forum in the Flint Hall Study Lounge.
"What have we done?" asked panelist Robert T. Robinson, Syracuse University Public Safety director. "We're sleeping through anrevolution. It's time to wake up."
Robinson once marched for equality in Alabama alongside Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. generation partly because young people do not know of a cause for which to fight.
${ }^{*}$ We have forgotten from whence we came," Robinson said. "We forgot to teach our kids. We are the people that were supposed to teach you.
"But that doesn't give you the right to be ignorant. We got here on the backs of others and we shall not forget that. If we lose this generation we are doomed to fail."

School of Social Work Dean Eill Polland speaks to studerits Tuesday about his experiertces during the Civil Rights Movement

[briefs]

tidbits

NASA and the Army to join forces
LOS ANGELES - The U.S. Army and NASA are expected to announ Wednesday in Los Wednesday in Los Angeles that they will Angeles that they will work together to develop work together to develop simulation technologies simulation techno to that can be used to develop weapons $$ y s$ develop weapons sys. tems to train soldiers tems to train soldiers and astronauts and to

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration partner ship extends an Army program to collaborate with universities and the private sector to develop technologes such as vistual reality, artiricial intet computer neworks. Last year, the Amy estab year, the Army established the $$ 45$ million institute for Creative Technotogies at the University of Southern Califomia to tap the entertainment industry's expertise in computer models and simulations.

Study encourages controlled rest

Don't call it a nap.
The word nap can get pretty tricty." said Curt Graeber, boeing's chief engineer for human chief engineer for human resources. inall controlle

Whatever you call it, experts have found that pilots who grab 40 winks duning the cruise portion of a night, when there is little to do, are more alert approach and landing. approach and landing, on top of things.

Schwarzenegger splits with restaurant Actor Amold Schwarzenegger and Pianet Holywood said Tuesday that they are Tuesday that they are ending their formal association after neaty nine ciation atter neany nine years, just as the resta rent chain is emerging from bankruptcy reongani zation.

Schwarzenegger in 1991 joined fellow action stars Bruce Willis and Sending their names and lending their names and in exchange for stock. in exchange for stock. it Planet hollywood said it Schwarzenegger's "name and likeness ${ }^{\prime \prime}$ in its and likeness in it but that the actor had sold his ownership interest. As part of its recently completed Chapter 11 reorganization, Planet Hollywood closed nine poorly performing restaurants and said it will soon unveil new performers to join its "existing superstars.

Blizzard blankets East

WASHINGTON, D.C. - An unexpected blizzard stunned the eastern United States on Tuesday, snarling traffic and shutfrom South Carolina to Maine. from Soukh Carona to Maine. Most federal agencies in tion's capital were closed.

Packing winds up to 40 miles per hour; the fast-moving storm disrupted air travel and closed many major airports, including New York's La Guardia and Washington's Ronald Reagan National Airport. Flights were canceled up and down the was.
Amtrak canceled operations south of Washington, including auto-train service to Florida, because of the storm, spokesman Cliff Black said. He said that rail travelers faced delays along the Washington-to-Boston corridor.
At least four people were kiled in weather-related traflic accidents in the Carolinas, and a 5 -year-old cirl was missing and feared dead in Massachusetts after falling into a river while walking to school in heavy snow. Schools were closed from South Carolina to Mane, includng nearly all schools in New Jersey and Maryland.

It was the worst snowstorm to hit Washington in four years, turning the downtown area into a ghost town. While the capital's Metro subway system remained operating, some commuters on cross-country Skas could bersing near-empty streets.

Fourtzen inches of snow had fallen by early afternoon at Petersburg, Va., and snow piled up foot had fallen at. Jaffrey. N.H.

national news

Candidates start N.H. debates

MANCHESTER, N.H. The seven surviving presidential candidates converged Tuesday on New Hampshire for debates Wednesday night that will give them their last chance to make an impression on the Republicans and Democrats who will vote in the state's primaries next week.

Seeking to either exploit or atone for their performances in the Iowa precinct caucuses, several of the candidates kept to frantic campaigrn schedules despite a snowstorm that closed schools and airstorm that closed schools ports and snarled tratmc both parties tried to assess the efboth parties tried to assess the the fects of the lov

Among Republicans, there were two questions: Would the lowa winner, Gov-George W Bush of Texas, be able to gain some momenturn from that success to overcome the lead held here by Sen. John McCain of Arizona? And could Steve Forbes use his strong second-place showing in lowa to become a serious factor af in New Hampshire?

For the Democrats, the question was whether Vice President Al Gore's nearly $2-1$ triumph in Iowa would give him added mo mentum over Bill Bradley.

U.N. seeks head for Iraqi probe

UNITED NATIONS - Hans Blix, former director general of the International Atomic Enersy Agency, is now the leading candidate to head a new UN. weapons inspection agency for Iraq, diploinspection agency f mats said Tuesday.

Blix, a 71-year-old Swede emerged as a compromise candi date atter several members of the U.N. Security Council - including Russia, China and France - of to jected to the nomination of Rolf Ekeus, a fellow Swedish diplomat Who had been he irst choice or nan. Ekeus, now serving as Sweden's ambassador in Washington,

California schools test poorly

LOS ANGELES - Eighty. eight percent of Califormia's public schools fell below a state target for achievement, according to the state's first ever ranking of elementary, middle and high schools released Tuesday.

Pockets of excellence emerged in predictable areas, notably the affluent, high-tech Mecca of Santa Clara County. In Los Angeles County, the best performing districts included Manhatan Beach San Marino and the Palos Verdes ermsua

The state's top-scoring high school was Whitney High School in Cerritos ABC Unifed School Dis trict. Entry into the Los Angeles area magnet school is highly competitive.

The giant Los Angeles Unified School District fared dismally dominating the bottom raniss. Thir-ty-four percent of the district's 435 elementary schools and 34 percent of its 136 secondary schools ranked 1 on a scale of 1 to 10 , and overall more than two-thirds landed at 3 or below.

Indicating the extraordinary level of public interest in the unprecedented ranking of 6,700 schools, the California Department was nearly paralyzed by 4,000 hits soon after the data were posted Tuesday morning.

world news

was strongly backed by the United States because of his experienar as the first chairman of the earlier U.N. weapons inspection agency, known as UNSCOM.

According to diplomats here, France first proposed Blix last week, and the United States, Britain and Russia agreed to support him as a consensus candidate. China has yet to respond but is not

Belgium argues

 Pinochet releaseLONDON - Six human rights organizations and the government of Belgium will go co court here Wednesday in a ong-shot eftort to block the exChilean president Auguato

Judge overturns police convictions

LOS ANGELES - A judge on Tuesday overturned the convictions of 10 people who were allegedly framed by officers from the Los Angeles Police Department's Rampart Division, bringing to 23 the number of cases that have been thrown out in the wake of an ongoing corruption investigation.

The convictions were vacated after former officer-turnedinformant Rafael Perez told authorities that he and his thenpartner Nino Durden falsified arrest reports, planted evidence and perjured themselves in court.
tions we believe these convictions were wrongfully obtained," District Attorney Gil Garcetti said at a news conference before the afternoon court session. for crimere wrongfully punished for crimes they did not commit." Ad served their of the victims had served their sentences and were on parole or probation When their convictions were overturned by Superior Court Judge Larty P. Fidler. The judge ordern custody immediately.

Since September, there have been 22 convietions overas a result of case dismissed probe.

Pinochet. The groups decided to bring a legal action now because they feared they would not be able to reach a judge fast enough to stop Pinochet from returning to Chile once an order to free bim is issued.

Home Secretary Jack Straw said two weeks ago that he is inclined to let Pinochet go home to Chile without facing a trial on charges of torture and conspiracy brought by a magistrate in Spain. Acting on reports from a medical examination, Straw said the 84 -year-old former genral is too sick to stand trial.

The human rights groups have challenged that conclusion and demanded a hearing into Pinochet's mental and physical condition. A hearing was sched uled for Wednesday moraing.

campus calendar

TODAY
The College Republicans meet at $7: 30$ p.m. in Schine Student Center, Room 302 .

EThe Munson Williams Proctor Institute presents *Regret to Inform," at $2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and 7:30 p.m as part of its January Film Series at 310 Genesee St., Utica.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill," at 2 p.m. and $7: 30$ p.m, at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 38$; dis. St. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 38$; discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more in formation.

- As part of MLK Week, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Perform ers, a children's dance troupe. performs at 7 p.rn. in Grant Audi torium.

TODAY-SATURDAY

- Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Darin Dillon and Bill Campbell at 8 p.m. Addi tional shows are Friday and Sat urday at 10:30 p.m. Call 474 0969 for more ticket information

THURSDAY

Al-Anon/AC meets at noon in the Schine Student Center. Room 234.

- Paul Charron, board chairperson for Liz Claiborne, New York, speaks at 3:30 p.m. in Room 108 Slocum.
- Donald Brown, senior counsel for sustainable development for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, speaks regarding How Environmental Ethical Questions Continue to be Hidden in Disputes Over Environmental Science, Econoraics and Lawn at 5 p.m. in the ESF Moon Library conference room.

Erancis McMillan, director of African American and Students Offering Service Programs at Hendricks Chapel, tells folktale at 7 p.m. in the Lawrinson Hal Penthouse. The presentation is part of MLK Week. Refreshments will be served.

FRIDAY

A "Job Hunt" seminar begins at 2 p.m. and ends at 5 p.m in Newhouse I, A2.

Syracuse establishes safety programs

BY CAROLINE CHEN
Syracuse law enforcement is heeding the advice of New York state Gov. George E. Pataki and creating programs to better relations between police and the community, Syracuse Police Department officials said. On Dec. 15, Pataki called for more interaction between local law enforcers and city residents.

We go to neighborhood watch meetings constantly," said Joe Cecile, a sergeant of the Policing. "We're always trying to Preate more groups and get more create more groups and get more and more people involved. They goes in the neighborhood.- s, poughout the past several years, police departments nationwide have established programs to familiarize the community with its operations, said John Hierholzer, SPD officer of commu nity relations.
It's for the people who don't really know anyone who's a cop and to show them what we do

IOWA

continued from page 1
nounced his endorsement of Forbes, but said his ideas do not necessarily renect those of the College Republicans.

Taking 26, 198 votes at Monday's caucus, Forbes is running the more organized and popular campaign, Burns said. McCain's lacked the other candidates he helped the olher said.

I really didn't think we would get much over 25 percent, but his campaign in Lowa was much better than McCain's," he said. "I think we surprised a ton of people.
"Really just a couple days ago, he was looked at the same way Alan Keyes and Orrin Hatch were looked at - now he's a frontrunner.

SU's Youth for Forbes coordinator Chris Ryan said although Forbes did much better than worked for his Iowa votes.
"It's a surprise, but it's not that much of a stretch because he put a lot of work and money in the state," said Ryan, a sophomore political science and broadcast journalism major.

Undecided Republican voters in New Hampshire will now throw their support behind Forbes because of his strong lowa showing, Ryan said.

A third actively campaigning candidate would have divided the vote," he said, "but it gave Forbes a window to pick up steam going into New HampThe early Iowa and New Hampshire votes are not indicators of party nominations or elections, argued Christina Hinchey, president of the SU College Democrats.

Burns said he disagreed, noting that the Iowa Caucus and the New Hampshire primaries can be indicators of GOP outF

Forbes' showing in Monday's vote is not an accurate telling of the Republican nominot make an active effort in the state, she said.
"I would be shocked if Steve Forbes gives George Bush that much of a run for his money," said Hinchey, a semior public relations and political science major. "Bush has the party machine behind him. They say party polisaic.
SPD will host presentations at McKinley-Brighton Elemenbery Schoor 1 crime scene investigations, criminal law and hiring and training practices, Hierholzer said. Other events will include speakers, such as judges, he added.

In response to Pataki's announcement, Syracuse officials created the Triad program to reduce the number of crimes against the elderly.

Triad started as a joint venture between the police, sheriffs and seniors to educate seniors on sace chairperson of the Onondon, Triad and district coordinator of This American Association of Retired Persons Administration.

Forty-six states have established Triad branches, with New York being the 34th state to have a formal statewide agreement, said Scott Steinhardt, spokesperson for the Now York state division of criminal justice services.

Onondaga County founded King, program monitor at the Onondaga County Department of Aging and Youth.

The local chapter distributed deadbolt locks in Solvay in 1997, Bolton said. Also in that year, several municipalities sold 911 locators, flashing lights to lead emergency personnel, King said. Since Jan. 1998, the Manlius Triad chapter has been distributing large-size house numbers to the elderly, also in case of an emergency, Bolton added.

Triad works to build a trusting relationship between senior citizens and law enforcement by every two months.
every two months. and police together to come up vith a way to educate seniors about fraud and scams," said Marilyn Pinsky, commissioner of the Onondaga County Department of Aging and Youth.

Several police departments take turns giving tips on WFBLAM radio on ways seniors can protect themselves from cringe, Pinsky said. The tips, which change every week, are broadcast twice a day, Boltori said.

Campus initiative

SPD and Syracuse Universi ty Public Safety are working to gether on the Neighborhood Pa rol Initative, which started at the beginn emester.

They wanted to form a col aboration between Public Safety and the university to curtail loud

The initiative, which was rranged through a Westcott business development group, was he result of complaints from resdents and homeowners in the Vestcott area, Cecile said.

Complaints from the neigh borhood have gone down dramat ically as ar

During a three month period n 1998 , there were 92 phone calls rom residents to the police rogged, Cecile said. However, during that same time period in 1999, there were only 36 calls rom residents, he said.
"It has definitely resulted in more communication between po ice and students," he said. "We try to educate students that the homeowner next door doesn't ap preciate a party at 3 a.m

Senior forestry major Kimberly Miller said she supports the neighborhood patrols:
"Patrolling keeps things under control. It really has been a

Miller said she called the police to report a loud party in the apartment above her own, which was subsequently broken up. "It's a privilege to live of campus," Miller said. "In a dorm room there were rules abou noise. The same should apply to off campus."

Thor Nelson snid he ques dent Thor Nelson said he questions the values and ethics involved with the neighborhood patrols. If find a problem when the university and the institution that claims to support the health and well-being or students pay police to find students guilty of crimes," Netson said. "I think that the university should look to oth er ways rathor than just make them fearful of the law."
lics is dead,
but George Bush has the Republican Party machine behind him. ${ }^{4}$ This is the first time when it becomes real dia jumps all over it - but over it - but it's just too early to tell." Although Hinchey is a personal Gore supporter, she said the College Democrats have endorsed a candidate in fear of alienating interested students, she said. The group is focusing on the Hillary Clinton 2000 New York state senatorial 2000 New she added. However, the College Democrats are supporting the SU for Bradley group to heip their members attend the New Hampshire primaries.
$\mathbf{2 0 0 0}$ Presidential Race Iowa Caucus results Candidates Votes Percentage of votes Democratic

Al Gore
Bill Bradley
1.269
698

63
35

Ucommited
33 35
2 Republican
George W. Bush $35.231 \quad 41$
$\begin{array}{ll} & 26,198 \\ \text { Alan Keyes } & 12,268\end{array}$
Gary Bauer
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Jonn McCain } & 4.045 \\ \text { Orin Hatch } & 882\end{array}$ 30
14
9
5
1

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Emily Kulkus

If Hatch, a "staunch conservative," drops out of the race, his support Forbes and possibly McCain, Hinchey said.

But Burns said Hatch's minimal support would be spread evenly between the top three Republican presidential nomination candidates.

McCain's centralist views and Bush's reluctance to command a strong stance on abortion is attracting voters, Hinchey said.
"Americans lean toward cenralist views," she said. "Basical$y$, that's how you win. That's Vith the New.

with the New York state pri-

PRISM TRAVEL

For the best student airfares, call,
800-272-9676 prism tours.com
Get your raill pass from Prism Travelr

- Gellor Studcntid cardo avalinable.
mary more than one month away comes, Burns said.
it wrone media has been getting it wrong for months that it is only a two candidate Republican race With Bush and MeCain," he said "Forbes is a real candidate

BY KEVIN TAMPONE Staff Writer

Wastewater from surrounding communities and industries has flowed into Onondaga Lake for more than 100 years. And the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said contaminants in the lake include lead, pesticides and mercury and lists the lake as one of the most polluted in the United States.

But the Syracuse City School District applied for a $$ 500,000$ EPA grant last April to study the lake and just weeks ago the city received it.

The pollution is intolerable and the Syracuse community must correct it through careful study and cleaning of the lake, said Steven Emer, a faculty memBerat the State University of New York College of Env
"This is certainly an area "EMer id " tal information," Effler snid. "It's an urban area that needs moni

To help realize this goal, the city school district plans to use their share of $$ 3.4$ milion in EPA funding - distributed to 86 urban vide for floating instruments capable of measuring various factors indicating the general health and indicating the general health and Effler said.

Researchers, students and others involved in the program will access the instruments from land-based computers and control where studies occur in the lake and what aspects of the water the devices examine, he added.

We sec it as a combined research, management and educa tion program," said Effler, who helped the city apply for the grant. "It's going to meet a vari ety of needs. It's a way for in creasing components of the community to get involved in what's going on up here.

The school district began implementing the program this week, said Anthony Meggesto, as sistant superintendent of city schools.

There's a number of schools that have already expressed interest," Meggesto said. "It's something we're very excited about We're developing curriculum so the students would be able to ac cess science.

The program will involve students in grades kindergarten throug said. A committee began meeting said. A committee began meeting his week to determine which schools will house the program's computers and Meggesto said that he expects an announcement participants later this spring.

The school district plans to develop special science units for all the schools in Syracuse involving the information available from the new technology, Meggesto said. The units will probably begin next fall and will focus on Onondaga Lake's condition and impact on the community, he added.

It becomes relevant to our youngsters. This is something we've been wanting to do for a lot of years," Meggesto said. "We want to use the lake as kind of a science lab for students.'

Although the money from the grant only provides funds for two years, it could continue indefinitely, Meggesto said.

We'll already have the computers in place," he said. "I don't see any reason why we wouldn't inue if it's successful

The Upstate Freshwater Institute, which is a non-profit research organization that monitors water quality throughout New York state, Syracuse Unisersol district in the sects of the application process.

Those institutions will continue to help the school district in scientific areas of the program, said Effler, Upstate Freshw te research director.
The grant is part of the EPA's Environmental Monitoring for Public Access and Community Tracking program. The project began in 1998 and each year proides millions of dollars for programs like the one in Syracuse. Its goals include educating the gencral public and students about the environmental health of their area by providing data on a Web site centered around the individual projects, according to EMPACT
${ }^{\text {nes }}{ }_{\text {It }}$
It's a competitive grant that was professionally advertised," Ermer explained. $t$ focuses around innova

In agy implementation
In addition to providing the methods to collect sientinc data the project focuses on translating complex information into com monlarsinge ford in studying members interested in studying quality, according to application quality, actines ${ }^{\text {LLaying out streams of thou- }}$ sands of numbers is of limited in terest. One of the major chal-

BERNARDI

contimued from page 1
minor stumbling block in the investigation when witnesses refused to speak about the alle gations to the District Attor ney's Office. The witnesses were subsequently threatened with subpoenas, Fitzpatrick said.
ed," he said, whey chose to speak."

Fitzpatrick refused to fur ther elaborate on those rumors The investigation cost tax payers a total of $$ 100$, Fitz patrick said, with a majority of the cost incurred for postage. It was a minimal cost," he Worried that the probe day work of the District Attorney's Office, Fitzpatrick appointed one assistant distric attorney, Christinc Garvey, to the case and instructed her to conduct much of the investigation after regular office hours Garvey could ched for comment

Because he is a longtime friend of Bernardi and a city employee, Fitzpatrick acknowledsed involvement in the perceive his involvement in the investigation as a confict of interest.

I got a letter a couple of is absolutely convinced that I is absolutely convineed that he said. "But 1 had an established job to do and l didit. tions to be true, I would have conme down hard on him," he added. "He would have beet prosecuted vigorously.

Fitzpatrick began the ist vestigation independently, after he received a phone call from a source who was absolutely certain that the mayor had a violent altercation with his wife, lent alte hesaid.
ing out if it was an organized ef fort of spreading gossip about public offrcials," he said. "If so, charged with criminal conduct."

Fitzpatrick would not speculate on who he thinks initiated the rus. Those ine ew names. Those involved in pileading the rumors will most criminal charges, he bid
"There's a whole panel of emotions involved," Fitzpatrick said. "It"s mostly stupidity and All the to feel you're on the in vate gossip make a person feel better. I can't prosecute people better. I can't prosecute people Meing idiots.
allegations from their denied the allegations from their onset and matter said tim Parentio Bernardi spokesperson.
"She was too upset to even comment on the rumors," Parenti said.
For a three year period the Office of the Mayor has lenges is communicating this in formation to the general public and the students, Enler said. "It"s the old challenge of making sci ence understandable and useful.

The information on the pro ject's Web site is for the entire community's use. Continuiag to produce and study the lake is an other purpose of the EMPACT program, Effler said. Creatin community activism about th lake is essential to its health, he added.

When the grant ends, we're not just going to roll it all up and stick it in the garage, Effler said "Were going to find ways to keep it going and hoperully well even tually rely on components of the comm

Onondaga Lake is potentially one of the area's most important assets and caring for it is the en tire communitys responsibility and research associate in onviron mental and forest biolosy at ESF mental and forest biology at ESF about the quality of the lake and about the quality of the lake and wers, director of the public eduen ders, director of the puble cduca tion aspect of the EMPACT pro ject. tention.'

4 got a letter a couple of weeks ago from somebody who is absolutely convinced that I am covering up for the Mayor. But I had an established job to do and I did it.

WILLIAM

J. FITZPATRICK

Onondaga County District Attorney and friend of Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi calls from local jcurnalists who have been contiacted by anony mous sources detailing allega tions of abuse, Parenti said.
"Unfortunately so much of our society is driven by gossip and there are people out there who have ulterior motives," he said. "It's quite another to call the media day after day. I received call after call ranging from such things as the mayor quit his job and is taking a position with Pataki, to allerations that he had abused his wife Parenti said he thinks the rumors could be motivated by Bernardi's political enemies who seek to "tarnish the Mayor's polished image as a suc cessful politician.

Since the investigation began in August, Parenti said phone calls regarding the mat ter have stopped.
"The mayor's happy it's completed. We knew these rumors were false and malicious. Parentisaid. "We hope those involved learned something and involived that rumors and gos sip of this nature hurt people and do not belong in politics."

Syracuse Common Cou cilor William Simmons, a Dc mocrat, said he never gave much thought to the rumardi. about the Republican Bernardi. rumors came from or what the motivation was," Simmons said. ${ }^{\text {motivation was, }}$ I just thought they were silly."

[editorial]  Senators dishevel college betting ban  When March Madness sweeps the campus this spring faster than a Jason Hart cross-over dribble, tournament pools will pop up throughout dorm floors and offices.In the pages of this issue of The Daily Orange, "Battle for the Bottles" lists point spreads for major college basketball games.

These traditions may go the way of the underhand free-throw and thigh-hugging shorts if two U.S. Senators have their way.

The High School and College Gambling Prohibition Act sponsored by Sens. Sam Brownback, R-Kan. and Patrick Leahy, DVt., seeks to eradicate any form of betting on amateur sports. It would also prohibit the listing of point spreads in newspapers.

Wiping the amateur sports slate clean of all traces of gambling is a noble yet unrealistic goal. Sens. Brownback and Leahy are crafting a public relations scheme and one that duplicates the 1992 Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act. This act severely limits betting on amateur sports.

Rather than Congress creating new laws, the government should look for ways to enforce the ones already on the books.

In sports' purest form, athletes should converge in an arena of untainted competition. An athlete should never be swayed by the lure of dollars that can come from point shaving - a practice that keeps a team within the point spread, altering contest scores for a quick buck.

When fixing or shaving occurs, such as at Northwestern University, Arizona State University and Boston College in recent years, the NCAA has harshly punished the schools and their athletes. Careers have been ruined, schools' reputations tarnished, teams torn apart.

The NCAA has proven that when teams and players violate the law, they will not be dealt with lightly, lending evidence to criminal investigations.

The federal government should take its ball and go play somewhere else.

[dä]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Capy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Edito
Design Editor
Design Edito
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst.- Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

Ashois Selvan Holly Auer Dave Curtis Bitl Ehninger Tom Nycz Neva Austrew Emily Kulkus Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Kollati Connor Ennis Jeff Passan Erin Boyle Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner
Tito Bottitta Tito Bottitta Rastica Cutior Rachael Golden Erendan Dabkowski Anmernaria Bello axadonc yoar of the

opinions

I survived Y2K and all I got was this column

On New Year's morning i saw a flying car.
A few of us decided to ring in the New Year in Atlantic City at my friend Chris beachhouse. The place comfortably fit more than 16 of us, and

THOMAS

 HOBANgot to love flying cars! the ocean was right outside our front door. At about 11:30 a.m., some sort of bizarre buggy contraption raced past the window, hovering some 20 feet above the surf. We all choked on our coffee.

Needless to say the car did not fold up into a briefcase, a-la "The Jetsons." It was actually no more than a large go-cart But it was still pretty cool to it

Then it came over me in a rush. That flying buggy, an obviously cheap stunt concocted for the turn of the milennium, brought with it the une plainable terrifying realization that Y2K had previously referred to as "the future."

Okay, maybe that is a bit overstated. But, at this point it would be cliche to harp on the fact that nothing really happened. It seems universally recognized that on Dec. 31 even the most wily terrorists were sitting at home watching Carson Daly in Times Square, eagerly waiting to see if anything was going to explode. Everyone was so busy waiting for something to happen that no on did anything, except for the guy with the fying go-cart.

But let's look past the madness that spawned a Y2K store in the Fayetteville Mall and see What is actually happening. We are still pretty far off from hooking computers up to our brains, and teleportation seems - if you pardon the expression - light years away. But there is some pretty exciting stuff going on.

In the past ten years, the Internet has changed the world. Honda just announced the release of a futuristic-looking car called the

Insight that runs on a long overdue gas-electric hybrid motor that gets 70 miles to the gallon. Airlines are gearing up for sub-orbital travel that will transport people from New York City to Tokyo in about 45 minutes. Two weeks ago, Tokyo in about 45 minutes. Two weeks ago, scien tists wielding new genetic engineering techniques cloned a monkey.

One of the things I'm most excited about in the new millennium is a resurgence of interest in space. It seems utterly clear to me that we have to get off this God-forsaken rock if the human race is ever going to evolve any further. Hilton Hotels may take one small step. Rumor has it that there are plans for a Hilton in space by the year 2017.

However, NASA may take the giant leap Currently, plans are in the works for a manned mission to Mars. It was recently announced that a plasma-powered rocket will cut the travel time from four years down to three. Apparently theyr also working on a recycling technoiogy that w their own waste.

A trip to Mars would probably be a lot like college. The astronauts would live in an expensive and isolated environment for a few years, and return to the world with absolutely no idea what is going on. The only difference would be when the Mars travelers come back they won't be able to walk for a few months.

But I guess the future is something that is always there, so we should try to enjoy ourselves while we're here. One day, when we have to team up with our genetically-engineered mutant-mon-key-men-servants to battle the hyper-intelligen will look back with teary nostalgia at the turn of the millennium. What a time to be alive!

Thomas Hoban is a junior political science and television, radio and film major His column appears in The Daily Orange on Tuesdays. E-mail him at tphoban@syr.edu.

letters

Vegan activist dispells editorial 'misreadings'

To the Editor:

As a coramitted vegan and longtime animal rights advocate, I feel compelled to respond to some of the misconceptions and misreadings that raark the editorial in The Daily Orange on Jan- 25 on vegan activism, "Burger King attack fails at 'progress.'" in the Animal Liberation Front in the Animal Liberation Front have never, in their long history, committed acts of "violence" against iving beings. Such acts are diametrically opposed to the ALF's fundamental conviction: violence should not be committed against animals in any form be it the consumption of animal products, the wearing of skins, or ALFpractice of vivisection. The ALF does, however, commit acts ofillegal animal rescue and, more to your point, property damage, in response to the conof innocent animals. There is of innocent animals. There is, property damage and violence: if property damage and violence: if the sabotage of a lab or the de facing of a Murder King fur thers the cause of animal liberation and prevents the further perpetration of violence, one can olent." One ought to save that designation for the supposed "victims" of property damage. I am equally concerned by your misreading of the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, who ad vocated public defiance of un just laws; the ALF steps in to lib erate the animals whose ex ploitation is protected by laws that serve to keep research labs funded and pubicisciosure at a minimum. Like King, the ALF activist is willing to circumvent unjust laws for just social ethics. ishould hope that such ethics are not lost on journalists like Hands off the animals.

Brian MeCord graduate student

Grant funds audio player, enhances history archive

Contributing Wrater
Students can soon close their textbooks and listen firsthand to famous speeches made by 19 th century celebrities and politi cians.

The Institute for Muscum and Library Services in Washing ton, D.C. allocated a $$ 158,076$ grant last month to Syracuse Uni versity's Bird Library for the con struetion of an audio player with the ability to play extremely delicate audio cylinder than 100 years old.

The player, nicknamed the Radius Project, is expected to be completed in December, said Su an Stinson, Bird's Belfer Audi Belfer was the first buildin.

Belfer was the frs buiring in the United the preservation of sound recordligs. Famous recordings iromiate celebrities and U.S. presidents have been callected in the archive. Some fragile recordings on wax cylinders are extremely rare and valuable.
"I think it will be a little bit different. Instead of reading information in text books and listening to teachers' lectures, it's more interactive," said Jeremy Viens, an undecided sophomore who intends to major in history. "It's a different way of learning - from a firsthand source."

Some recordings include poLitical speeches by 1925 Scopes Monkey Trial attorney William Jennings Bryan and former U.S. presidents William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt.

Bill Murphy, a U.S. history graduate student, teaches History 102 . The class focuses on $\mathrm{T} . \mathrm{S}$. history since 1865

The recordings are very useful for teaching purposes, Murphy said. "If you have a recording of one of Bryan's or Roosevelt's speeches and you're telling 's'ucents about it, it's great to be able to hove them actually listen able to have them actually histen to it. "It's a great way of bringing things home to students a little things.

PREVIEW 2000

Summer Orientation Program

is hiring Summer Orientation Leaders for the Summer of 2000 Orientation Leaders (OLs) are key players in Syracuse University's summer orientation program for first-year students. OLs are representatives of Syracuse University who work with students and parents in small and large groups to answer questions, provide information, offer support and share first-hand experiences. In the selection process, PREVIEW 2000 is looking for undergraduate students who welcome responsibility and are enthusiastic, flexible, sensitive, resourceful and work well with others. This position offers more than just a summer job; it offers valuable experience, personal satisfaction, life-long friendships and a chance to make a difference at SU.

Application and references are due by

February 7, 2000
Formore information, contact Mary Jo Custer, Director of Student Affairs, at 443-4357.

Murphy said his area of expertise rarely gets that opportunity.
"People dealing with 20th century history have a lot of ma terial - JFK's speeches. FDR's fireside chats, the kind of things you can't really do with late 19 th century and carly 20th century stuff," he said.
U.S. history graduate stu dent Jim Eichsteadt added that the Radius Project will attract more visiting professors and scholars to the campus, as wel as being useful to SU students.
"It's great for more than just history students, he said. 'It'' great for the whole university to be able to use historical record ings like that.

There won't be a line of students outside (Belfer) tomorrow, but it's certainly a good investment," Eichsteadt added. "For any field, more is better when it comes to having access to materials.":

The century-old audio cylinders are rarely ever played due to the high risk of permanently damaging the recordings. With the help of the grant, the archive will be able to play and remaster SUs collection, the second largest audio archive in the nationbrary of Congress, the SU Office of National Medin Relations said. The machine will use weak laser beams to create a "frictionless playback of the recordings. creating no marks and leaving the brittle wax cylinders unscathed, Stinson said. Project will pleted, the Radius roject will begin the process of copying the fecordingsital quality for distribthen to dirital aumity for distribution.

Belfer holds more than 22,000 cylinders, and more than 300,000 individual sound recordings. The archive began its colection in the 1980 s and early 1990s, with the majority of the cylinders donated to Birdin 1993.

Martha Hanson, SU library preservation administrator and Belfer director, helped found the Radius Project in 1996. The project began with Stinson, three SU professors of electrical and comrold Wiltiam Penn and Frederick rold, Wiltuam Penn and Frederick dents. Hanson then continued to dents. Hanson then continued to pursue the grant on help with costs, Media Relations said.

The Institute for Museum and Library Services is an independent federal agency that aids educational benefits in museums and libraries across the country. SU was one of 50 recipients na-ionwide to receive a grant from the institute this year.

This is a very expensive, yet very unique eftort," Stinson said We have so many recording here, it makes sense to find a way to put our archive to use."

Some of Belfer's rarest recordings include early 20th century actor Dewolf Hopper, perhaps best known for the firs public recitation of the poem "Cubic recitation of the poem also contains a cylinder, circa. 1905, of internationally-known opera singer Adelina Patti. Popu lar jazz and folk music are also in cluded in the archive, as well as recordings of foreign languape di alects that were originally used during the country's mass immigration from Europe duriag the late 19 th century.
*These cylinders represent the first documentation and dissemination of the sounds of a bygone erg," Stinson said.

The Library of Congress expressed interest in the outcome of the Radius Project, and is she added

THink that this is a historical artifacts collection." Stinson said. 'It will be an important window to an important time in America. It should be very interesting and exciting."

Looking for work?

The Daily Orange is now accepting applications for all editorial and production positions during its staff transition period. Applications for managing editor are due to 744 Ostrom Ave. by 5 p.m. Friday. Applications for all other positions are due at 5 p.m. Monday. These include: news editor and assistant news editor, lifestyle and assistant lifestyle editor, sports and assistant sports editor, photography and assistant photography editor, copy editor, special projects editor, editorial editor, design editor, presentation director, art director, computer systems manager and online editor. For more information, please call Managing Editor Dave Levinthal at 443-9798.

Experience a little uncommon courtesy. A lot has been said about how enjoyable it is to buy a new Saturn. Well, just to let you know, things don't change after you become an owner. We still go out of our way to make you happy. Sometimes that means returning your car clean after an oil change. Sometimes it means lending you a hand if you lock yourself out of your car. (Oh, admit it, you've done it before.) But mostly it's just about common courtesy. And when you think about it, that kind of courtesy is far too uncommon.

Satum of Syractse
In the Heart of Historic Automobile Rotu 716 West Genesee Street 315-472-0021

Satum of Route 31 Just west of the Great Northern Mall 3885 Route 31 315-622-0054

> LS $$ 229 /$ month $1,495 due ar lease signing 39 months No security deposit required (tax, title, license and registration are extra)

Payments based on 2000 Saturn SL, LS with an M.S.R.P. of $$ 12,085$ for SL, and $$ 16,310$ for LS. Thirty-mine monthly payments total $$ 6,201$ for SL and $$ 8,931$ for LS. Option to purchase at lease end for an amount to be determined at lease signing. Delivery must be taken from participating retailer by $1 / 15100$. Mileage charge of 5.20 per mile over 39,000 miles. Lessee pays for excess wear. Payments may be higher in some states. ©2000 Saturn Corporation.

R.SATURN.

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car. whinesaturncom

PANEL

continued from page 1
School of Social Work Dean Bill Pollard recalled trowing up in a segregated society. He was bornin 1944 at a blacks-only hospital in Raleigh, North Carolina. ( came (into the world) kicking and screaming - probably because I knew it was going to be catching hell the rest of my life because $$$ was born born pre-destined to be a secborn pre-destined to be a second-class citizen. Weve come a ond-class citizen. Weve come a got a heck of a long way to go."

Pollard, the first black SU dean, challenged students, regardless of their race, to call their parents and grandparencs and hear the conditions of the Civil Rights Era and their elders' involvement in it. These first-hand accounts will add in formation that textbooks and history classes do not share, he said.

Students must do their own research in libraries and books Pollard and Robinson able Pollardand Robin , his said.

This appreciation for strug an inspiration for the present,

they added.

heep your eyes on the habitual prize," said Winston Grady-Willis, an assistant professor of African-American studies. "It's up to you to figure out what the nature of the struggle is today.

Grady-Willis said the Civil Rights Movement really helped to ignite a spark that would spread a worldwide movement on behalf of freedom."
The $1960 s$ had the civil rights fight: the 1980 b brought the anti-apartheid movement; and now it is ip to students to and now it up to stadents will fight for their generation,

Thinking about a career in law?

Syracuse University College of Law will markNational Minority Law Student Recruitment Month with a Visitor Program open to undergraduate minority students who wish to fearn more about kaw sehool.National Minority Law Recruitment Month at Syracuse University College of Law is funded by the Law School Admission Council (LSAC) to raise awareness of minority recruiting issues facing law sehools.

What: Visitor Program for Undergraduate Students of Color When: Friday, February 11, 2000, 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Where: Syracuse Uniwersity College of Law

The Program will include:

- Reception with Dean Daan Braverman
- Attendance in a first year law class

Presentation by current law sehool students on preparing tor law school
Presentation by an alumna who will share her personal experiencens of law school and the tegal profession

- Presentation by Gina Soliz, Director of Financial Aid, on financial preparation for kaw school
- Lunch with current law students

Space is limited due to classroom seating
Please RSVP by February 9, 2000
Syranuse University College of Law, Office of Admissions, 315-443-1962

Grady-Willis said. Nevertheless, students" willingness to sacrifice for the good of others is what will keep the movement alive, he said.

The recent protests in Seattle regarding the World Trade Organization and the international movemen Abu-Jamal are prisely led by students, Grady Wiargely led by students, Grady Villis said.

There are issues on the table now that you know better than any of us," he said. "So now it's up to you.

The lone student voice on the panel was freshman Gezzer Ortega, who sought advice from

COPS

continued from page 1
was punched dut, then the loek was popped.

The incident occurred while the car was parked at a house on Madison Strect during Winter Break, the report said. Neighbors noticed that the car was broken into the following morning, Buckman said

Buckman said no itema have been found.

W A wallet was lost and pre umed stolen from the steps of Bird Library the afternoon of Jan 18, according to a police report.

A Frankfort resident was the panelists on haw to become more involved in civil rights kictivism

You can get many different people in a room, Ortega said but to get them to work together is samething we haven' achieved yet."

The Civil Rights Movernent uis everything that we are today," said audience member Shanell Manning, a senior African-American studies and sociology major.
"Sometimes people feel like it was the be anl and end all, but it was really just a map to figure out what we can do today.
walking from his car on the corner of Waverly Avenue and Walnut Place towards Bird at about 2 p.m., the report said. The victim was on his way to Bird from Link Hall when he noticed his brown said

The wallet contained credit cards, a goverament identification card, membership cards, a blank check and a driver's license.
The victim suspects that somebody took the wallet, the report said.

Compiled by Contributing Writer Evans Boston

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

Looking for work?

The Daily Orange is now accepting applications for all editorial and production positions during its staff transition period. Applications for managing editor are due to 744 Ostrom Ave. by 5 p.m. Friday. Applications for all other positions are due at 5 p.m. Monday. These include: news editor and assistant news editor, lifestyle and assistant lifestyle editor, sports and assistant sports editor, photography and assistant photography editor, copy editor, special projects editor, editorial editor, design editor, presentation director, art director, computer systems manager and online editor. For more information, please call Managing Editor Dave Levinthal at 443-9798.

thige

Combat crankiness . Leslie Charies, the author of "Why is Everyone So Cranky? The Ten Trends That Are Making Us Angry and How We Can Find Peace of Mind Instead" recommends life management as a way to com crankiness.
Some of the top trends that drive Americans into emotional tailspins include: compressed time, communications overload, the rise in the cost of living and increased competition. Practicing small acts of kindness daily is a good starting point to countering the crankiness.

Hot stuff

Hypothermia, an abnormal drop in body temperature, is a bigger threat during frigid weather, but it can strike even in moderate weather. Hypothermia can strike at temperatures around 60 degrees, if inadequate clothing, dampness, high winds or prolonged exposure overcomes the body's ability to conserve heat. Alcohol also worsens the risk by impairing judgment. During a recent 15 year period, nearly 12.000 deaths occurred in which hypothermia was the underlying cause.

Anger release

 People must learn to handle their anger effectively. says Sandra Crowe, the author of "Since Strangling Isn't An Option: Dealing With Difficult People, Common Problems and Uncommon Solutions." The trick is tofind ways express
anger that free people from it rather than enslave them. Where to start? Crowe suggests physically or verbally expressing your anger, but don't make it about the other per son, make it about yourself.

quote of the day:

"Anxiety is fear of one's self.
Wilhelm Stekel

Holly Auer editor 443 -2128 443-2128 liferadaily liferadaily orange.com   lessons for   lessons for lifetime

 lifetime}

BUILDING oones
Osteoporosis threatens women's health. See Lifestyle Thursday.

College grads head back to the classroom with Teach for America.

BY ANTHONY SOLAZZO
Contributing Writer
Last September, 1,400 recent college graduates hit the books again.
Armed with undergraduate degrees ranging from English to ranks of the Teach for America program. Jumping into teaching positions in the often understaffed classrooms of urban and rural schools across America, they will spend the next two years helping improve the educational experience of children nationwide.

Teach For America presents a unique opportunity to college studeers in public service and education, but who aren't pursuing dotrees in education. Students accepted into the program are sent after some training, to one of 13 re gions in the United States, from the inner cities of New York and Los Angeles to the rural flatlands of the Mississippi Delta. Sprinkled in classrooms across the nation, the corps members work with students in both elementary and secondary schools.

While some newly-liberated students opt to take jobs in a field specinic to their major, others predifferent careers and explore where they'd like to make a home. And Teach for America offers them the perfect opportunity for this type of experimentation, while providing a valuable service.
"Teach For America is a way
See TEACH page 11

Generic American offers handy health tips

Well, we are at the beginning of a new semester here at SU, or Snow Unlimited, for those of you new to upstate New York. And upstate New York. And James at the beginning of every Smith with full wallets and bel lies thanks to Mommy and Daddy. But we bring other things back to school with us, and I am not talking about the new Mandy Moore/Britney Spears/Christina Aguilera compilation CD. I am talking about sickness.

In case you haven't noticed, college - dorms especially - is a haven for bacteria. Bugs are all over the place, and by bugs I don't mean the chreer your bed. feeding off Dominos crust and spilled Amaretto. Yours truly has a nagging cold that just won't go away. I think I picked that just won't go away. I think picked en-naked frisbee Saturday night on the Quad, but who knows. Anyway, I think I have a few crisp ideas to keep your thoughts off of your ailments.

Something that always works for me when I get a little under the weather is to drink plenty of liquids. But, last year I drink plenty of liquids. But, last year I made gallon after gallon of OJ would make ing gatrong enough to run thousands of yards and slit my ex-wife's throat. Alas, my $C$ in Nutrition shows how much I know about the subject. So, if you want to forget about your cold and be spending all day in the john, go right ahead.

They also say that a good night's rest can do wonders for the sick. If you really want to utilize this strategy, say you have mono. I know you won't get much play from your girimiend, but sleeping 19 The only thing I haven't figured out is how to fake a blood test, but don't worry gang, I'm working on it. gang, Iheard the other day that there is some kind of spiral meningitis going with this one, but if it gets me out of my Intro to Romanticism course, hey, I'm up it.

Iguess doctors also recommend that you eat healthy when you're under the weather. Well, I guess doctors haven't penicillin is good for you when you are ill, but I don't like ingesting it when it's growing on my meatloaf. My suggestion for a healthy diet is Easy Cheese on any thing. By the way, my doctor says I am the most fit 480 -pound 19 -year-old he has ever seen, so heed my advice.

A final suggestion for beating those back-to-college sicknesses is to exercise. I don't know too much about this category me or stop by my suite in Sadler, which is still known as the Channpagne Room.

As for myself, I am going to fix mysel the old fashioned way - by tripling my usual dose of NYQuil and passing out on the floor.

Jimmy Smith is a sophomore English and textual studies and education major. E-mail hïm at jdsrit05@syr.edu.

What more do you need to know?

SAVE UPTO $40 \%$ ON TEXTBOOKS.

VarsityBooks.com

TEACH

continued from page 9 to be in a completely different city or state with lots of people to support you, said Aisha Carter, a Trinity University raduate now stationed in a rouston Te gram.

Since the program doesn't equire participants to have a America appeals to students of all academic disciplines. In tead, college graduates of all tead, college gradual of all donate their time and expertise o educating the nation's youth.

What the corps members ack in practical teaching experience, however, they offer in dedication and community spirit. The majority of the members are placed in schools with other members, so they can collaborate when necessary.

The members are profoundy affected by their classroom experience and are serious about making a difference, said Yael Aufgang, a University of Pennsylvania graduate and current program member in the South Bronx.

Aufgang said the experince has exposed him to a dif erent side of life n work with people hands

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

The Daily ©range Advertising
侽formation de Dalily Orange advertising hours comp:00 a.m 409 P :m.
Hopplace an adver Fisement in the Dod head must beaty the Edveitising office betole 2 p.m. two husiness days befor xogriwant it to ruin' entrates and applice abordiscounts dưing : dqeetising busine Rous?
neighborhoods before the program," he said. "But I'm learning a lot as I go along.

Broadening horizons The Teach for America program counts alumni from nearly every college in the nation, from Stanford Universi sy to the University of Chicago to Syracuse University. To be considered for acceptance, the applicant must have a Bachelor's Degree and a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 . Because Teach For America is affiliated with the national service program AmeriCorps, applicants must also be a U.S. citizen. While this restriction is fimiting, the program's coordinators aim to build a diverse corps ethnically, racially and culturally.

Upon acceptance to the program, corps members are sent to Houston for a five week crash course in education. During this rigorous training period, the participants really have to take advantage of their time and learn, Aufgang said.
articipating in the Teach For participating in the Teach For America program are remote, corps members are not randomly assigned. The applicants are asked for their teaching location preferences, but they are also encouraged to be fexible when making their choices. Applicants are asked to consider new areas of the country to live in, and salary is based upon this decision. Corps members earn a regular, full-time and benefits paid by their respective school districts.

Annual pay ranges anywhere from $$ 20,000$ to $$ 34,500$. After taxes, rent, transporta tion and utilities are deducted from these salaries, the net pay for a year falls between $$ 11,500$ and $$ 7,100$.

Most students interested in the program, however, are not concerned with the financial aspects of it. If participants se lected jobs within their choser field of study, most would be making more than a starting teacher s salary. Teach For America President Wendy Kopp attrerest in the program to the growing desire of students to make ought that $I$ could make a more significant impact on people by working directy with them, rather than sitting behind a desk or a computer for ten hours a day, said Autgang who studied sociology during his years at UPenn.

Long lessons

Although most of the corps members do not enter the pro gram with education back field in one way or anainer the their two-year tenure Mark Levine-Suarez, a New York City corps member from 1991 to 1993 started a credit union in the community he worked in to address unfair economic conditions. And Martin Winchester another corps alumnus, recent ly received a $$ 1$ million grant to begin a charter school in the Rio Grande Valley, where he com pleted his initia! teaching experience.
"Teach For America can cultivate a generation of citi zens that not only longs to re dress the inequities in Ameri ca, but one that has educated itself in how exactly to do so, said Michael Johnston, a New Orleans program alumnus

The progen began 1989

Princeton University senior Wendy Kopp. As her senior thesis, Kopp proposed that a national corps of teachers, from different academic fields, be created to dedicate two years to teaching in the country's most under-privileged schools. Work ing with a grant, Kopp was ablo shortly after graduation.

In its first year, 2,500 peo ple applied for 500 positions areas hired the corps members as beginning teachers, while S2.5 million was given by foun dations and corporations to daver the program's expenses

During its ten years of ex During its ten years of ex
ence, Wendy Kopp has re mained at the helm of the Teach For America program, and has overseen 5,000 teachers lead classes in schools across the United States. The program has been kept afloat by almost $$ 60$ million in grants from founda tions, individuals and the fed eral government. In addition the program hopes to expand its service into five new regions within the next two years Johnston said

If Teach For America suc ceeds in its mission, we will go on to lead a generation that is a hobby or recreation but as a a hobby or recreation, but as a lifestyle."

ups and downs.

To protect against AIDS and other STDs, always use latex condoms.

Connecting ideas and action
Get Engaged

The Century Institute Summer Program

June 25th to July 15 ${ }^{\text {th }}$ at Williams College in the Berkshires

This threeweek fellowship is intended for undergraduates with an interest in civic engagement and public policy. Students, scholars, and prominent policy practitioners together will explore the challenges America faces in building a just and prosperous society.
The Institute will cover all the expenses including transportation, and students will receive a $$ 1,000$ stipend.

For more information or to apply, visit: www.centuryinstitute.org or contact Ann Stinson via e-mail at cisp@tcf.org or by phone at (212) 452-7705

The Century Fundation
The Signce Family Foundation

12 January 26, 2000

TIRED

continued from page 16
complete basketball game
Entering the game in the midst of a three-game losing streak, the young Panthers game against a sliding SU same

In front of 544 spectators on clubplayed 40 minutes of 15 -for-21 from the foul line and turned the ball over just a dozen times, 10 below its season average.

RELAY

continued from page 16
the team's prophecies have been fulfilled, and its questions answered by one of the deepest and most talented group of newco
"This is the biggest group of freshmen since I've been here," senior Roger Donaghy said. "And it is also one of the gories, including sprints, distance running, and throws.

With strong performances at the Father Diamond invitational on Jan tional on Jan. 15th and the tional on Jan. 15 th and the 24 h , both the men and in imen's teams discovered how important deptt. can be to a team's success.

The Orangemen have been led by outstanding indiboth their veteran seniors

The Daily Orange

A quartet of the Panther players scored in double dig its. Entering the game, only reshman Amanda witen meyer (1se points) was averag But more han 10 per contest and Morique Toney combined and 31 point foncyuding 4 for for 31 points, including 4 -for 4 on 3 -pointers.
play, Perry beiled Pitt's solid play, Perry bailed out an Orgled in its offensive set throughout the first half

Pittaburgh matched the 5-foot-5 Toney against Perry and SU's gritty guard used her size advantage on the interior

They had Toney on me and she was real little, so ust posted her up a couple of times," Perry said. "They side, and l just snuck in side, and lijus

Perry continued her strong showing early in the inal 20 minutes with a quick layup. But on surs next posas she she banged her head as she reached cor her ( 14 points) miss.

Perry, also battling tenishing only 46 points behind Albany and a mere seven points ahead of host Army

At themeet, Syracuse claimed seven first-place finishes including relay wins in both the $4 \times 400$ and $4 \times 800$ meter races

In a coming out party for SU's talented freshman class, three first-ycar tracksters took home titles from the competition. Richard Pelidore, Eugene Giles, and Steve for Syracuse in their respective events.

Pelidore claimed victory in the 400 -meter dash with Giles victorious in the 500meter. Bedard took first in the weipht throw with a in of 14.65 meters 3 meters of 14.6 meters, 3 meters anead of teammate Tim

Seniors Donaghy and Graig Lundy provided the veteran leadership for the team as each took home victory on the day

Donaghy took first in the 1,600-meter run, with a time of 4:20.7. The event was unique for Donaghy, whose dominance is usually reserved for the 3,000 -meter and 5,000 -meter runs.

The victory came in only his second race of the year after missing the entire 1999 cross country season due to a strained left quadriceps.

1 felt as though I was in pretty good shape coming into the year because I was able to start training before the cross country season was over, dinitis in her knees, re-entered the game with a little more than 12 minutes re. maining.

The wounded Aziz saw some action as well, playing just two minutes. But neither appeared 100 percent. and the Panthers had already regained the momentum with the quick eight. point burst.

After the game, Perry said the Syracuse trainer could not diagnose whether or not she sustained a con cussion

Beth Record, who leads

SU and the Big East in scorag, tried to rally her mates by registering a double-dou ble with 19 points and 11 re James played nearly 40 min utes and dropped in 10 points for Syracuse points for Syracuse.
In the game's final min utes, however, fatigue hinthey wilted to the Pittsburg onslaught.

I think we tried to rush a lot of stuff," Perry said. "Pitt played a lot of players They are a very good team."
three races in three weeks, the training has helped, and I'm just excited to be racing again.

Lundy dominated anoth. er facet of the competition, claiming the top spot in the pole vault with a height of 4.45 meters

The showing was extremely important to the group of Orange jumpers, as 1999 triplejpen Allimori can, Sam O'Kantey.

Veteran leadership dominated the team's first event of the season as well. Graduate student and top scorer Adrian Woodley shined at the Father Diamond meet, winning tine 60 -meter hurdles and finishing second in the 200 -meter ing se dash.

Woodley ran for the Canadian National Team at both the World Championships and Pan American Games last year and has a chance to compete for his home country in the Olympics.

In addition, Woodley was overpowering in both the 60 meter hurdles and the 110 -meter hurdles last spring, win ning both events at the Big nering All-American honors

Seniors stand out
A mix of youth and experience carried the women's team in its first two competitions as well.

SU's two relay squads took victories in Virginia, and the success carried to the next weekend at West Point, where the $4 \times 400$ unit won again

The day also featured seven individual victories for Syracuse, which finished fourth as a tearm. Dyer led the charge with wins in the ss meter hurdies and the 200 neter dash
"Coming into my final season, I wanted to go ou wich a bang, said Dyer. end it has been evident in andit has been evident in my pimistic about the year, op 'm hoping it only gets bette 'm hoping, rom here outlook for the Or ange is bright for the remain der of the indoor season, as hey have yet to benefit from some of their top scorers. The eam can look toward seni heree Hicks in the weigh throws and Sarah Schmidt in distance running, as they come into the season as two of he more dominant track ath letes in the conference.

With veteran talent on both teams, the SU winter rack squads feel they have he experience to be competi ve. And now, with a wealt foungsters providing much eeded depth, the Oran the Big East
"Asa team, we all want to do better than last year, ple of years we added a lot o new faces, and hopefully we will be able to make more of in impact at the next few vents and the conference meet."

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@daiyorange.com
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

When in Hell...

Tartaruga Pate

Out of Town
by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

| Knock, Knock, Knock |
| :---: |
| Police, open up |

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

CROSSWORD By THOMAS JOSEPH ACHOSS 1700 5 Good 10Boring 11 In the 13 Basp 4 opposer credit

15 Works
the party
Brewfo beverag cactus neighbor
20 Museum
21 Stir
21 Stir up
2 "Jaws 5 Actor 6 Aiello 26 Grasped counterpart 28 Tenn Meighbo 29 Podin sculpture 33 Vigor 34 Overact 35 Excitingly 37 Strange 10 a пй̄о 38 Debt medium
39 Pleased
40 Looks ior

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Eat the Lettuce

Sleep Deprivation

Classic

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style

by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 $$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words 10c each additional word 50 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word

 Adscan be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Aver

FOR SALE

Tanning Bed Excellent for Sorority 24 (nem) bulbs

Autos

92 SUX Subaru Awo Loaded. Snow \& Fegular fites. Car Cover, Fast. 57900 4 $4 \times 3.8460$

EMPLOYMENT

Camp Counsclors Top Oitnight Gamps sin
 *wn.pineforesticamp com

 Experience preferered. Jinne, Juty 8 August | Expecience prefer |
| :---: |
| $1:-600-399-C A M P$ |

Job Opportunities BONUSES plus gyarrameed hounty rate tor Syatuse Stage Anggl Aopeal Campaign: Nice 5-g.pM, 1/17.3/19. Required pleasant speaking vies, goat triemed, positive atulutce. 443 -1158 Music Businoss! Tha Metupabitian - music wiss students to work as coliciege ${ }^{\text {reps on }}$ grasstopts in tor emerging racorpining grists. For more information email miken metroent.com

WANTED

Child Care

Babysitter Wantad. Single Dod needs help with $G 8$

 a year otd boys Monday atternoens $3: 50$ to $5: 3$ marning s:45 to B:15am. Watch them in my Jameswile home Cas fixc $0492 \cdot 211$ for colailsHelp Wanted

Fraternities" ${ }^{\text {So }}$ Sororitios* Clubs Student Groups

Student organizations eam $\mathbf{5 1 , 0 0 0 - 5 2 , 0 0 0}$ with ine event No sales required. fundraising catos ara

More than just SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camp counselors needrded tor a private, residential camp in the beauliful Pocono Mins. We ate looking tor diversity, and a desira to share their passion and expartise in any of the tollowing areas COMPUJT ERS, CIRCUS ARTS, BASKETBALL. MAGIC. VOLLEVBALL, TENNIS, SWMMMING. SALING.
FISHING, WATERSKING, THEATEA. DANCE. VIDEO. CAEATIVE WRITING. ESL, SOCCER. SKATEBOARDING, AOLLERBLADING, BOCKETRY NEWSPAPER, FINE ARTS, REATIVE CRAFTS, MOUNTAINBIKING.
Please call 1-800-399-CAMP Ask lor Dan or Niget, $$ 1500$ weakly potential mailing out circulars. No Experienco Re 202452.7679.
ARE YOUCCNNECTED?
$88-217-4366$ www TabTean $5800 /$ week

Roommates

Sublet needed. 4 person Apartment. Ackerman Sublet noeded. 4 person Apartment. A Ave. 4 btocks to campus call Pete, 423-9025 Roommate wanted to share 3 largs bedroom aparlment close
laundry 487 - 5761
Foommate 715 Lancaster $5225+$ Washer, Dryer. FOR RENT
Ackerman Ave. 2.3.4.5.7 bedroom apts. Furnished. carpetec. waik to campus. Well maintained

> ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS, FANISHED DISHWASEE, PAKKING SITFPER MONIH $476-9933$

BEST LOCATION-REASONABLE RENT
R2G Euclid. actoss tiom Shaw 228 Euclid, acioss thom Shaw Dorm, 4 bedrocm, trea parking, distiwasher, laundry, ricrowave.
new porch -Jery or Tnia- $474-7541,446$-6316 LUXURIOUS: 2story apthol, Gourthet kivtin, Cusiom Ioung oniv area, Skyight 15ftereiling 2nd Ir, IVldin, 1-2-3 bdrms, olefstudy; jacuzzi baih. potchet.

NO PEIS! Nagolizble lease
Call for appl $469-0780$
1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
115 Hedtield Place
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001 ully Furnished, Laundry taintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Refinished Hardwood Floors

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 www.universityarea.com

3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave

Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management,
Wall to Wall Carpet andoo Fefinished Hard Wood Floors Femodeled Kitchens and Eaths
University Area Apts 1 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Ackerman Beautitul Large Fumished Fials/ Houses 2.3.4.5.6 Bedrocons. Porches.
Fifeplaces, Garages, Launcry. Pet OK 446-3420

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 bEDROOM BEDROOM AND 4,5ES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

2 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

> 302 Marshali St
> 309 Euclid Ave
> 415 Euctid Ave
> $\begin{aligned} & 145 \text { Avondale Place } \\ & 329 \text { Comstock Ava }\end{aligned}$
> Avallabte for 2000-2001
> Fully Furnished, Lzundry $\begin{aligned} & \text { Mainfenance and Management. } \\ & \text { Wall to Wall Carpet andor }\end{aligned}$ Fetinished Hard Wood Floors
> Uernodeled Kitchens and Bath
> 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
> www.universityarea.com

Two Bedroom Apartments on Eucitd Furnished - Heat incluged, hartwood floors, porch.
rerroodeled. laundry. panking, $476-2982$

Aparimente close to campuz etran 2-3 semifurnished rame with fireplace laundry, parkin

L(.)(.) K
First Week Advertised Lancaster Ave.
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Porches, Laundry
Poom, Diningroom
655-2175
For details

|  |
| :---: |

Unversim aice quier furnished 123 bedroons apartments parking utilties incududed walk SU Mospitals reasorabia. Roommato for grad needed
$478-2642$

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001
Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord 476-2982

Three Bedr Al Ais! Spacicus ưree Bedroom, completety apattment with fornishod Living foorn with fireplace, Dining room, Kithen and three bedioons, and Bathe Off street, garage parking. Laindry taily ia buillang.  Five bedroon House Spacious five Eetrom. completely funished

niversty Ave. five bedroom House one block from Marshall Street furnished laundry parking lease $$ 1,300.00$ plus utidites D.N.D Ducker $445-1229$

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with Room with fireplace. Living Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
University Ave. Three Bedroom Flet Close Walk Oampus lurnishad launcry parking base $$ 975.00$ 2 bedroom Apartment right on Marshall SL Fall Decerriber 31, 2000. Great location! Call $637-5779$
University and Comstock Very close to Campus

Lirge Single Family turnishod house. Parking Fireplace, iree laundry, ofshwasher, matura teriants $682-3304$ deaulitu 3 Eedroom Townhouses, Walkin sitance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms. lots ol closel space, 1 1/2 Baths, Giningroort. Livingroom, Kilchen, Basement with WasherDryer hookups 469-8417 or 476 -9643 Stop elean 3 bedroamp apartments Fireplace parxing le lendry, low price $436-401 \mathrm{t}$.
4Bedrooms, OaklandSI., 1Block ESF, 3Blocks porches, Excetient condition, August, 475-0690 University Area 2-3 Bedroom furnished Apartmenis Singia Houses for rent Call Apartuments S
Sin 669.7473

Apartments

collegehome

your home away from home
2-3-4-5-6-7-8 Bedrooms furnished carpeted dishwashers laundiry off-street parking close to campus!
John O. Williams
Quality Carrous. Area Apartments
For Over 25 Years
canJohn orJUDY
478-7548
www.collegehome.com

 Calf Gordon $476-2982$
Apartment 4Br. 2full bath I.place h wood lloo Unet2000 walk 105.U. hospilals please cal $446-1951$

> NEW BURY APARTMENTS Great University Area seautiful New Appt (AC, Dishwasher) Hrand Hot Water Ineluded. Security Buildings Whatercoms & Door Feleases. Custom Made Blinds Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line. 24 Hour Maintenance. Starting at $550.00. Call $478-0277$ Ask for Paiticia or Slop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Brighten) Also... Great Location) Beautifu 5 BEDAOOM HOUSE. $21 / 2$ baths 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 garage, huge yard, asherd dryer hookups, private road off Layafyette road $$ 1200.00$

One +2 bedtoom furnished aparments. AD utilitie induded! $370, $5480 /$ ma. Ore mide from campus Launcry. parking, carpeting. Security building Available immediatery, Mary orfugust. 446 -g5s98.

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

pleasevisit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 beDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
2Bedroon, 2 car garage. 125 Kensington Al 仿
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
ail mitro
All utifies included 4494621

Large 3 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Walking distanc S. W. Off street parking. Laundry. Caff 422-7305.

Best Eury on HarrisonSt. Clean Ouie One-bedroom and studio June lease. Furnished Ubilities inducted 472-5509.

LANCASTER AVENUE
183 Bedroonn Aparments
Outstanding Corvfion Ontstanding Consfion
Fulty Furnishdion
Call Anne Cenvinio Call Anne Canvini 9
$424-0220 \times 428$

1 Bedroom Fumished' Unfurnished. Walkin distance S.L. Laundfy a

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwod flyors, fumished, laundry, quiet building, close to campus, laundry, quiet building, close to campus, 476-2982

FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

ONE BEDAOOM APARTMENT EUCLID  AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTHO  PEASONS FREE HEAT, GAEAT LOCAIION 476-9933.

The Daily Orange

After that. McDonough often sat in his living room driving his parents nuts doing play-by-play into a tape recorder while he watched Boston sports teams on television.

Once he decided to be a broadcaster, McDonough knew he wanted to go to Syracuse and hoped he would be one of those alumni Newhouse boasts about.

McDonough's wish came true, as his picture now hangs with those of Bob Costas, Dick Stockton and Mike Tirico on the college's wall of alumni.

When I came here, that was sort of my dream, that someday when they listed of the names of the ramous shartscasters that went here name into the list," he said.

A group of the famous alumni met this past summer in New York City to discuss coming back to campus. Sev-

Austin and has the Longhorn Austin and has the Longhorn (13-5, 5-1) primed for anoth It all starts with 7-foot scouts project as the No. 1 scouts in the NBA Draft. Mihm is the Longhorns' leading scorer and rebounder, averag. ing 17.6 points and 10.1 boards per game.

The Sooners' Eduardo
Najera ranks second in the Big 12 in scoring at 19.6 points per outing. Although Najera shoots just 22 percent from outside the arc, 3 -point shooting has not been a problem for the Sooners ( $15-3,3-2$ ) overall. OU leads the Big 12 in 3-point shooting at 41 perPent. Texas

Temple (-5.5) at
Massachusetts. Feb. 1 (9:30 p.m. ESPN2)

Temple basketball might not be the prettiest brand Owls (13-4, 5-1 Atlantic 10) Owls (13-4, 5 -1 Atiantic 10)

January 26, 2000

eral were invited back to help broadcast Syracuse football and basketball games on the Syracuse University Radio Net Although McDonough gets emotional during his vis as to Syracuse, he said it did meeting last summer.
"It was sort of the culmination of the realization of that dream to be included in that group. I started to cry When I was telling the story, McDonough said "It story, Mike a validation that I had done something worthwhile in my professional life, and I remain enormously proud of be ing a graduate of this school."

happy (although you would never know it from the look on his face)Chaney owns many lowscoring victories, including one against Penn last Thursday. It took two fire extinguishers to after the Owls scorched the Quakers 44-40.

There has been a quick decline in Amherst, Mass., after John Calipari took the in 1996 before bolting for the NBA. Coach Bruiser Flint has not won a postseason game at UMass, and last year the Minutemen were a disap pointing 14-16.

Despite eight non-conference losses, the Minutemen ( $9-8$ ) still have hopes of postseason play after starting Atlantic 10 play 3-2. Dayton and St. Bonaventure, two of the three Arperence loss, dealt UMass its two in-league blows.

Pick: UMMass

$[$ [1SSifiedS] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

NOTES

Women's Basketball

Pittsburgh 80
Orangevomen (8-8, 1-4) Player
Record Perry James Ervin Trammell Wright MePhee Grossman Aziz
Panthers (12-6, 3-4) Player Toney $\begin{array}{llll}\text { Wittenmeyer } & 16 & 1 & 5 \\ & 15 & 10 & 1\end{array}$ Montesano Katkowski Alexander
Melvyn
Stewart
Camplell
Williams

A second too late

 Two 25-member NCAA basketball committees voted Monday to allow officials to consult television replays insituations.

The present rule defines a buzzer-beater as a judgment call by the officials and prohibits them from a second look. Eut the adjustment makes an exception for the game's final second in an effort to rect call.

In mid-January, both Miami and Texas A&M wo games on ouzzer-beaters counted by referees. In both instances, slowmotion replay appeared to show shooters unable to beat the horn and the red light.
The new rule, approved for both the men's and women's game, takes effect Friday.
Snowed in
The East Coast feit the wrath of Mother Nature on Tuesday, as a severe snow storm canceled a bushel of athletic contests.

The NBA postponed a New York KnicksWashington Wizards contest, while the NHL pushed back a Phoenix-Carolina matchup in Raleigh, N.C. Seven college basket ball games slated for Wednesday also fell victim to the inclement condifly out of a Philadeld not fly out of a Philadelphia airport for its scheduled battle win Fittsburgh, prompting the game to be moved

North Carolina*s duel with Maryland and North Carolina State's date at Carolina State's date at Clemson will also take clace Thursday night. Nearly two feet of snow fell in the Carolinas on Monday night and Tuesday.

sports trivia

Q. When was the last time Syracuse won the Big East men's basketball tournament?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. When was the last time North Carolina was not ranked in the Associated Press poll?
A. The Tar Heels appeared in 172 consecutive rankings from 1990's presea. son poll until last week.

sports]

 Dave Curtis, cditor. The Daily Orange January 26, 200016 Pittsburgh outlasts SUBY CHRIS WOJCIK Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH - With 17:46 left to play in Syracuse's battle with Pitts. burgh on Tuesday night, a loud thud echoed through a quiet Fitzgerald Field House.

Orangewomen Treshman Shannon Perry tumbled to the ground after she skied to grab a rebound, smacking the back of her head on the Steel City hardwood. vision and a headache sent her to the bench for five minutes. There she sat with an ice pack to her skull, unable to help hold back the Panthers.

With the 5 -foot- 8 guard sidelined, run that immediately went on an 8-0 and an $80-66$ victory into a $27-9$ barra "Shannon was phenomenal tonight, and when she came out of the game, we fell apart. And we shouldn't have," Syracuse coach Marianna Freeman said. "We are a much better team than that. It was a lack of effort, and we gave up."
When

When Perry left the game, SU owned a 44-36 lead thanks to a 7-0 run to start the second half. But the Orangewomen appeared to run out of gas down the stretch.

Syracuse center Leigh Aziz played sparingly with a sore left foot. With the reigning Big East Rookie of the Week joining her on the pine, SU (8-8, 1-4 Big East) had just seven players at full strength.

Pittsburgh ( $12-6,3-4$ ), on the other hand, shuffled 11 different players in and scoming as they wore down the Orange-
"We just kept trying to rotate people around to find what worked," Pitt head coach Traci Waites said. "When wedid, we just kept going and never looked back. But I think at the end we wanted it more and played a more

See TIRED page 12

Beth Record paced Syracuse with 19 points and 11 nebourrds in Tuesday 's $80-66$ loss at Pritsoburgh.

Battle starts with five league tests  Trying to feed off their best performance in Race for

Ryan Stalzer
battle for the bottles
the Cases history, The Daily Orange sportswriters will put their handicapping skills to the test once again in the put their handicapping skils to the test onc

During the most heated Race for the Cases ever, seven staffers had a chance to win the title on the last weekend of the football season. Plus, 12 of 15 participants finished with winning records.

The attention now shifts to basketball. Starting today, the sportswriters at The Daily Orange will pick the winners of five college basketbal games each week. We'll play through the conference championships and NCAA Tournament, and whoever finishes with the best record wins enough hard liquor to make the last Syracuse football season enjoyable to watch.

Without delay, it's time for tip-off.
North Carolina (-.5) at Georgia Tech
North Carolina (-.5) at Georgia
North Carolina is one of those teams that basketball fans either love or hate - there's no middle ground. It seems that since Dean Smith has left, more and more people have begun to despise the Tar Heels (11-8, 2-3 ACC), who are out of the Top 25 for the first time since Feb. 6 , 1990.

Georgia Tech (9-8, 2-3) needs to get on track soon if it has any hopes of making the postseason. The ACC is not one of the dominant conferences this year, and the NCAA

McDonough returns to roots

BY ALISON HISChaK

Staff writer
Similar to many of the major leaguers he covers, Sean McDonough's career began in the minors.

MeDonough remembers sitting in the outfield of old MacArthur Stadium, holding his tape recorder and calling Syracuse Chiefs'games.

He was auditioning to be WAER's play-by-play announcer for the local AAA baseball club.

McDonough's tape was selected as the best, and he spent three summers broadcasting Chiefs' games during his days as a Syracuse University student. Getting hired as the broadcaster at such a young age acted as a stepping stone for his career, McDonough told stone for his career, McDonough told about 100 Syracuse students Monday afabout 100 Syracuse students Monday afternoon.
"That was an unbelievable experience," the SU alum said. "One level below the major leagues. I think that really got me on the fast track to have the chance to be a major league announcer. first opportunity."

See MCDONOUGH page 15

Orange look strong in January events

EY JOSH LUKIN  Staff Writer

Coming into the season, the veterans on the Syracuse winter track teams predicted they had enough talent to be successful in individual events.

They did not know, however, whether they had enough athletes to keep them competitive as a team.

After the first three meets of the year.
See RELAY page 12

TIMELINE

 1900Students pianning to leave campus for a weekend are required to receive permission from his or her acad emic dean

The then un-coached SU men's basketball team plays its first game. losing to Rensselaer 21-8.

From the SU student handbook: -A student is expected to show both within and without the University such respect for order. morality, personal honor, and the rights of others, as is demanded of good citizens and gentlemen. One who fails to do this will be removed from the University."

1901

The L.C. Smith College of Applied Sciences, the forerunner of the College of Engineering and Computer Science, is founded.

1902

SU tustees grant permission to conduct summer academic sessions.

1903

Born Sept. 15, The Daily Orange quickly becomes the nation's first colle. giate newspaper with car toons. Among its first editorial messages: Don't hit other students when playing golf on campus.

Chancellor James Roscoe Day atlows his cow to graze in the open field on the eastern portion of the Quad.

1904

An Su-University of North Carolina basketball game is canceled due to an influenza quarantine at the Chapel Hill, N.C., school.

1905

Industrialist Andrew Carnegie makes a surprise donation of $$ 150,000$ to erect the library that will bear his name.

The Boar's Head dramatic society is founded. Early campus theatrical produc tions include King Lear and Macbeth. The society entertains auctiences for more than 50 years.

YOU'VE COME A

For decadtes, Syfacuse University mandated that women and men sit apart during foothall Game at thesy of Aurchives This was just one example of gender inequality at a university that has strugeled last century to improve ofd Archbold stadiuml.

EY EMRILY KULKUS ASST. NEWS EDTTOR

The state-of-the-art facility, one of the largest cement structures in the world at the time, was built wheachers for women and men -m but on different sides or the arena.

Although SU was the first college in New York state to be co-educational since its founding in 1870 women have and continue to struggle for their place on the Hill.

With a 10 p.m. curfew and explicit instructions in the 1903-04 student handbook, the women of SU from 1900 to 1910 learned to follow the rules.

Never let a door close in the faces of women or of the faculty," the handbook reads. "Never smote on the campus, in the athletic field or when in the presence of women.

Today, men and women live together in residence halls throughout campus, attend classes to-

Eether and cheer on the Orangemen in the Carrier logether side by side.
women whe Orangemen were extended to incetball in the with the first rnention of women's basketball in the student handbook. However, according studies, the wpiled by the SU department of women's quent hand women's team disappeared from subseBut the wors until later that decade.

But he women of SU from 1900 to 1910 develfor womereated social and educational organizations of their lin campus, several of which were the first of their kind at U.S. colleges.

From 1908 to 1909 , women and men formed the Women's League, a group later known as the Women's Student Governing Association. The group was responsible for legislation, administration, student at SU, rules and disciplinary action among wornen at SU.
the women of the in every way the spinit of unity of the women of the University, to increase their sense

See 1900 s page 12

1910s Tradition leads to SU backing prohibition efforts, but students have other ideas. by bradley white stafmamer

Courtesy of SU Archives
Dinners at Syracuse University during prohibition wore missing a common staplo wine. Even table settings lacked goblets, with water glasses all that remalned.

?n 1919, the United States was recovering from the losses it sustained during World War I. The nation readied to replace President Woodrow Wilson. Citizens unknowingly entered a decade of unprecedented economic prosperity and social change - the Roaring Twenties. And Americans prepared to drink their last legal drops of alcohol.

The House of Representatives and the Senate passed the 18th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution that year, and the states ultimately ratified the ruling as well. According to the mandates of that amendcording to the mandates of that amendtion of intoxicating liquors ... is hereby prohibited."

On Jan 16, 1920, the cause that generations of Americans had fought for - a ban on alcohol -wecame a reality. Ulimately, 13 years would pass before the ratification of the 21st Amendment, a measure that repealed the prohibition of alcohol.

It was a ban that Syracuse University's hen-Methodist administration hailed. From its inception, the miversity sought to squelch alcohol consumption on carnpus. And in the 1910s, the administration openly supported Prohibition.

The fight to ban alcohol in the United States began many years before the advent of the amendment that would outlaw it. As early as the mid-1700s, American che excess use of intodicazing substances haid Norm H Clark euthor of the book Deliver 4 from Evilh, An Interpreta American Prahibition * Interpretation of bition.
By 1851, Maine became the first state to prohibit the marufacture and sale of ${ }^{2}$ spirituous or intoxicating liquors." By 1855,13 of the 31 states in the Union had passed such legislation, Clark said.

Many people believed a close relation" ship existed between drunkenness and the rising incidence of crime, peverty and violence, concluding that the only way to procect society from this threat was to abolish the drunkard-making business," he said.

But the effort to ban alcohol - or the temperance movement - didn't gain atten tion at the national level until after the Civ in War, said Elisab

By the end of the Civil War, drinking laws were strictly criticized by the public Most of the state bans on alcohol sales were modified, repealed or ignored, Clark said.

For many years, alcohol consumption experienced few restraints.

Soon there were more than 100,000 saloons in the country, or about one for every 400 people, Clark said. They becarn increasingly competitive for the drinkers wages. Many of them permitted gambling prostitution, sales to minors, public drunk enness and violence.

The effects of the unrestricted barrooms, lise loss of earnings due to gambling becarne a focal point for the people who be gan to fight against alcohol - especially men.

Frances Willard, a 19th Century ferminist and a leader of the temperance move ment, played one of the most crucial roles in tran was dealt with in private homes to a national political movement

In 1879, Willard became president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union. During her time there, she helped convert the temperance movement from a national to an international movement. In 1882, she helped establish the Pro-

1906
The Teachers College, the predecessor of School of Education, is founded.

The SU Board of Trustees proposes the creation of a twin structure to the hall of Languages.

One hundred spectators are injured and one is killed when bleachers col lapse during a Syracuse Colgate football game at New Star Park, the team's temporary home.

Chancellor Day"s home is gutted by fire after a defective chimney causes the blaze.

1907

The 25,000-seat Archbold Stadium opens. It is named after philanthropist and Trustee John D. Archbold, whose maniy donations also help build Archbold Gymnasium and Sims Hall and eliminate the University's $$ 60,000$ deficit in 1910.

Students are assessed a $$ .50$ tax by SU for damages caused to property after an SU-West Point football game.

The first university band is organized.

1908

A time capsule is put in the comerstone of the since-demolished SU gymnasium, containing pictures of various campus buildings, a Daily Orange newspaper, alumni records and university financial report.

Marquis F. "Bill" Horr, a tackle. is the first Su football player to be named an All-American.

1909

The Senior
Council forbids undergraduate men from accompanying women to any intercollegiate athletic contest. Separate seating lasts 40 years at SU sporting events.

1909

Traditional Moving-Up Day exercises - during which graduating seniors are excused from mandatory chapel attendance, juniors take their empty seats. and each class subsequently "moves up" - are temporarily abolished after celebrating freshmen

LIMLEL_L
D paint Sims Hall, streetcars and campus monuments.

Campus buldings are fumigated after a scarlet fever scare.

1910
The Daily Orange conducts a three-day editorial campaign to promote campus friendiness.

A campus circus is conducted in the campus gymnasium to raise funds for a trophy room.

1911

The Graduate School is founded.

The New York State Senate approves a bill appropriating $$ 55,000$ for the creation of a School of Forestry at SU.

SU student Chartes Reidpath breaks the world record in the quarter mile with a time of 48 sec . onds.

1912

The senior class donates a stone bench to the university, which places it on the west lawn of the Hall of Languages. It later becomes known as the Kissing Bench. Tradition holds that if a couple kisses while sitting on this bench, they will eventually marry.

1912
Junior Elizabeth Reed, unhappy with the quality of dining hall food, is expelled after organizing a food strike.

The Syracuse University Redhead Club is formed. All members must have red hair.

Admission requirements are raised to a minimum of four years of high school.

1913

New York state approves the creation of a forestry school, which would later become the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

Ruth Colter, SU's

1920s ADMINISTRATORS BANK THE RELIGIOUS HEALTH OF THE UNIVERSITY ON BECOMING SECULAR. by holly AUER uesme edroa

Hendricks Chapel, which builders completed in 1930, serves as a central place of worship for students of all faftiss.

uilt high above a thriving industrial city in 1873. Syracuse University was dubbed "The Chapel on the Hin"
Erected by the Methodist church, the college was intended to serve as a shining beacon to those searching for educational and spiritual enlightenment in the Methocist tradition Today, however, an SU education comes hand-in-hand with the opportanity to worship in a wide variety of religious faiths.

Chancellor James Roscoe Dny, a Methodist minister who served SU from 1894 to 1922, came to Piety Hill with a mission. Addressing university trustees emr. ly in his tenure, he explained his intentions to mesh religious observance with the educational process. The two, he believed, were intrinsically linked and equally necessary to a successful college career
"We exact nothing but sound morals and good work ... without godliness, learning will fail," he said. Chancellor Day, Hendricks Chapel Dean Thomas

Wolfe said, was a revolutionary thinker for the era. While he advocated the continued celebration of Methodist tradition within the university, he preached the importance of inclusiveness as a basic church tenant Since Christianity embodies a general spinit of hospitality, Day said, all people should be welcome at SU.

During Day's inaugural address in 1894, he emphasized that although SU was borne of the Methodist faith, he hoped it to be holistically Christian rather than denominational.

It will be a university Christian eoough to malce a Hebrew as much at home as a Christian, to afford equal facility to Catholie and Protestant," Day said. There is no creed in mathematies or in natural seience. Syracuse University will be a brain manufactory, taking its material from all souroes of usable brains.
"It will be Christian not by exclusion, but by inclu-
See 1920s page 14

Courtesy of SU Archives Fromer President Herbert Hoover (center), whom many Americans blamed at the time for the Great Deprossion, was on hand in $\mathbf{2 9 3 7}$ to dedicate Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs.

BY JUSTIN SILVERMAN NEWS EorTor

he Roaring '20s quieted and the Great Depression arrived. A new era tightened its grip on the United States and those who were previously content found themselves unemployed.
But President Franklin D. Roosevelt began to wield his New Deal policies to restore confidence in a jobless country.

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Afrairs moved into a building or its own to discuss those policies and students at Syracuse University began to question an astringent unspoken policy women's inequality with men.

Students at SU were Roosevelt-supporting New Dealers, said Chester Hansen, Sr., who enrolled at Maxwell in 1936. They had confidence in the government and believed strongly in the president's pledge to pull the country from economic despair, he said. later hiwas a lme or belle, sald Hansen, whe thaiIy Orange. -Whatever we believed in, we believed it strongly. We took great pleasure out of that."

Hansen transierred to $S U$ as a sophomore after a year of taking night classes at New York University and a job working at a city bank. The poltical science major accepted a scholarship working as a delivery man, delivering copies of the D.O. to academic halls and residences each morning.
"I had a 550 a month job, so I got in my $$ 75$ automobile and drove up," he said.

Hansen spent the next three years studying poitical science in Maxwell, an institution he said fostered the national and international awareness of the 1930s.
"Maxwell helped us find out what was going on in the world," he said. "We were all involved in politics unlike most of the kids right now. The school helped us sustain those interests."

As New Dealers began to improve conditions on
See 1930s page 15
$\square$ oldest living alumus at 106, graduates.

1914

The current School of Information Studies is founded.

1915

The chancellor's residence is built at 300 Comstock Ave.

1916

The honor systern. which mandates academic honesty, is approved at SU , but not adopted untila student vole in 1921.

The SU lacrosse team plays its first game ever. a 3.2 win over the Syracuse Lax Club.

1917

Bray Hall opens as the first public institution dedicated to the study of forestry.

1918

Twelve students die, emergency hospitals are erected in dormitories and the campus is quarantined for more than two and-a-half October weeks during a Spanish Flu epidemic.

Enrollment declines by more than 30 percent after more than 1,000 students are drafted during World War 1.

The College for Human Development is founded.

1919

The College of Business Administration, forerunner to the School of Management, is founded.

1920

SU loosens its ties with the Methodist Episcopal Church with a change to its charter, which now defines the institution as "nonsectarian."

1921

J. Herman Wharton, dean of the College of Business Administration, is shot nine times and killed by Professor Holmes Beckwith, whom Wharton recently fired. Beckwith subsequently kills himself.

1921

Under financial duress.
the university solicits students for donations

TIMELINE

D totaling $$ 60,000$. The drive raises $$ 36,243$.

Dancing is banned for the final two weeks of the spring semester by Chancellor Day, who says, We are close upon examinations and have no time to dance."

The University Senate raises the mandatory retirement age for professors to 70 from 65.

1922

Charles Wesley Flint, former president of Cornell College in lowa, becomes SU's fifth chancellor.

The city of Syracuse condemns the Hall of Languages. SU responds by making repairs to the ailing structure.

The SU lacrosse team goes $17-0$ and is declared national champions.

1923

The night before an SUPerin State football game, a crowd of SU students vandalize the campus. break streetlights and traffic lights and assault police officers.

1924

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs is founded.

1925

An SU alumnus, Rev. Stanley Copeland, is arrested for violating prohibition laws. Copeland had begun a cultlike organization called the Joy Christians, which drank openly for purposes of "good health, good fellowship and the virtue of true temperance."

1926

Chancellor Flint, after personally witnessing hazing activities by SU sophomores on freshmen. instates an anti-hazing policy.

1927

Due to a lack of funding and participation, minor sports at SU are abolished by the university. These include soccer, hockey, boxing, golf, rifle, tennis, wrestling and fencing.

Orange roundballer $\square$

War classes were cornmon for SU ROTC cadets during World War II. After the war, an influx of GIs led to the university tripling in size.

1940s GIs FLOCK BY THE THOUSANDS TO THE SALT CITY SEEKING EDUCATION. ALMOST OVERNIGHT, SU SCRAMBLES TO ACCOMODATE THEM. BY dANIELLE KOST staf writer

. . . e sat still on the front line - scared, dirty and tired. Bomb shells flew overhead, men fell dead around him, reminding him that he was human. - For Col. Lewington Ponder, this was his first five minutes of combat in World War II. - "I think most of us were naive,"

Ponder said of his fellow soldiers. "We knew people were going to get killed and wounded but none of us thought it would be one of us."

Ponder, 78, joined the war effort immediately after graduating from Syracuse University in 1943. He fought through Europe in the infantry, meeting Russian soldiers in Austria on May 5, 1945 - the war's end.

Just a year earlier, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, guaranteeing GIs one free year of college or vocational training for each 90 days of service and one additional month of paid education for each month of service up to 48 months. The bill was meant to help returning soldiers ease into civilian life. Millions of veterans would take the opportunity, altering higher education in the process, especially at SU

When the war ended, New York state Governor Thomas E. Dewey asked New York state schools to welcome back returning GIs. Many university officials scoffed, but Chancellor William Pearson Tolley vowed to make SU, a smali $$ 200-\mathrm{a}$-semester college with 6,000 students, a haven for returning Gls. Fie even loosened entrance standards to allow high school drop-outs to catch up.

It was a relatively sleepy, little place - it transformed the ambience of the university. SU became a major player," said Ron Cavanaugh, current vice-president of undergraduate studies.

Enrollment boomed the following year. More tha 7,000 veterans attended $S U$ in 1946 with almost 10,000 attending in 1947, according to SU recurds. Total enrollment peaked in 1948 at 19,698 before leveling nearly six times the enrollment in 1943 . About 80 percent of the players on the 1947 football tean were GI ceterans. Veterans made up half of the student body in 1946.
"This is higher education's most crucial period," Tolley said in 1946. "It has a responsibility to American youth which it must meet. Regardless of the risks invoived, we at Syracuse will do all in our power to educate the veteran and non-veteran. We don't know how we're going to do it, but well do it-"

Between 1945 and 1950, the Gr Bill sent about 2.3 million veterans to college. SU had the highest GI encollment in New York state.
${ }^{-}$For them, it was the excitement of having made it through World War II and to have this kind of opportunity in a society that felt no limits," Cavanaugh said.

After serving as an army nurse during the war, Barbara Novotny Barnett, 76, used the GI Bill as a chance to study education and public health.

School was a welcomed change from the 12-hour days she spent nursing wounded soldiers in an Augusta, Ga., orthopedics unit.

War left them wiser, older and more mature. Like Bamett, many lived apart form the rest of the student body on campus and were not held to restrictions such as curfews.

See 1940s page 18

ROTC cadets and cadet bands mareh across the SU Quad during a parade in 1943. Sites such as these were commonplace.

 HETA An
$f$ they created the coaching mastermind on the first day and made the golden quarterback on the second, they surely molded the perfect tailback on the third.
The gridiron gods conjured up a fierce warrior - redwood highs, hands the size of hubcaps and a chunk of Soldier Field sod glued to his face mask

They blessed him with Payton's durability, Sanders' jukes and jives, Campbell's speed, Sayers' toughness and Simpson's nose for the end zone.

They would also give him bulky shoulder pads, tight-fit ing metal cleats and, to cover the battle gear, a flimsy nylon jersey.

With a No. 44 on the back
In the 1950s, with Syracuse's suburbs filling up with foot-ball-craving GIs, No. 44 took SU football from gory to glory. It brought three Lambert Trophies, seven All-Americans and made a new coach's radical I-formation and offensive attitude work in the face of harsh criticism.

But most of all, it dragged an
But most of an, it dragged an unwilling campus and a burgeoning community on a fun-filed, life-changing 100-yard tensions and the postal codes to reflect the number. A sports bar also sprung from the nigure, two digits soon to be mean ingful to more than just orange pom-porn wavers on Piety Hill

It started a legend, the legend of No. 44.
And No. 44 began with two men.
James Brown sauntered into the Syracuse University equipment room on an August afternoon in 1953, hoping for See 1950s page 20

urtesy of Su Archives
The 1959 Orangemen team was the most dorninant in Syracuse University history. Spurred by running back 1950 s.own's hacredible performances in the midhelped to create to their own naw heiphts, punnint back Erie Davis, whom Erown personally necruited, would utimately lead the 1959 team to a national champlonship.

IE HE CAN'T CATCH HMM."
Penn State Coach Joe Paterno on SU running back Ernie Davis

TIMELINE
D Victor Hanson is named National Basketball Player of the Year and gamers AllAmerican honors for the third straight year.

1928

A drive for a student union begins, soliciting donations from alumni despite SU's mandate that students refrain from doing so. A student union would not come until 1985, with the construction of the Schine Student Center.

1929

The SU administration bars students from driving cars to campus.

1930
A Daily Orange story declares college is a waste of time for women -For an average girl who intends to make marriage her chief business, to waste four precious years that ought to be devoted to romantic adventure seems tragic."

1931

A 40-year-old Indian chief graces the cover of a campus magazine and leads to the creation of SU's most famous mascot, the Saltine Warrior. The story about unearthing ancient Indian artifacts beneath a campus building is a hoax, but the Warrior remains SU's mascot until 1978, when American Indian students com plain that the mascot is offensive.

1931

WMAC, a campus radio station, launches its first broadcast.

1932

An unofficia! survey taken by students cites SU admin istration as having racist policies. Only 18 black students attend the university.

In a Daily Orange interview, Dr. William E. Mosher, director of the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Administration, predicts that Mohandas Gnandi "should be successful, though doubtless not in 1932," in freeing India. He also predicts that $\square$

TIMELINE

D communism will slowly spread throughout the Far East.

1933
Faculty members agree to take a 10 percent salary cut as part of the university's program of retrenchment during the Depression. The Joseph Slocum College of Agriculture, the only private agricultural school in the country, is eliminated 20 years after its founcing.

Fascist Italian dictator Benito Mussolini presents the SU Italian Club with a commendation and plaque.

1934

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Commurnications is founded.

An underground textbook bartering system is founded by students in the men's gim.

1935

Aviator Amelia Earhart speaks on campus.
The registrar imposes fines for registration tardiness.

1936

The SU administration sanctions an all-university war protest.

1938

More than 93 percent of students unwittingly sign a petition, not reading the fine print that commits signers to spend five years doing hard labor on a chain gang.

1937

William Pratt Graham becomes SU's sixth chancellor. In November, Graham and former President Herbert Hoover preside over the dedication ceremonies of Maxwell Hall.

SU suspends three students after they use false addresses to register.

A Bunsen burner starts a fire in Lyman Hall that injures seven firefighters and guts the building.

1939

Daily Orange Editor Elizabeth Donnelly gains widespread attention as the nation's first female editor of a major college newspaper, the D.O. D

Polfce launch tear gis at striking students, who blocked off roads, occupiad buildings and shut down much of the earmpus during 1970 . Student sitins and strikes in the early 1970 s were borne in large part from the revolutionary spirit of the 1960 s.

BY RYAN DONOHUE staf writer

In 1965, a handmade banner saying simply "God is dead" hung from the roof of Huntington Beard Crouse, flapping against the side of the building in the wind.
Conditions at Syracuse University were ripe for the deity's burial. With anti-Vietnam War sentiment rising, it became harder to side with any kind of establishment. People more than 30 years old were not to be trusted, and Christ was nearly 2000 . The message was the ultimate sign of the times for a genersage was the ultimate sign of the times for a generation of students who had largely, sometimes vioation of stucents who had largely, sometimes vio-
It signified the mid their parents. change. SU, like many other colleges in the United States, was experiencing a rising tide of student awareness that something was wrong with the way cy of mistrust of authority political aws left a legamaybe most importantly for future students and idea that the university was not in complete control.
Hall Witness another banner that hung from the message: "Fuck NATO." ${ }^{\text {Hen }}$, with an equally pithy

1970s COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY TAKES A GIANT LEAP FROM OBSCURITY TOWARD MAINSTREAM EDUCATION. bY ASHOK SELVAM єотовцц втов

eyond disco and the hordes of polyester clothing of the 1970 os , a new way of thinking emerged that would change the landscape of how technology and information were perceived.

In 1974, Syracuse University's School of Library Science changed its name to the School of Information Studies and Technolagy under the leadership of then-Dean Robert S. Taylor. However, the name change needed faculty, administrative and alumni approval first. Taylor was ultimately placed in charge of the ing the new name.

But more important than a name change was the technological direction in which the school, and SU, was going. IST wout uitinately become one of way from the world of library science into the world of information techmology - and computof information techmology - and computers. "U was the leader," said Marta schools did not want to make the feap from library to information. But our philosophy of change is we don't want changes for changes sake - they shouldn't just be cosmetic or superficial.

While courses about computers were offered before 1974, the school's focus was still on preparing students for careers as librarians. The name change made it ominl. By dropping he wardials hoped that the label signifind a school fohoped that melaber. cused on computers.
said Sucan Mark changed drastical, said Susan Markowitz, who received her master's degree from $S U$ in 1975 and is now a library director at Cornell University. "I was in the very first database class."

Computers are now the norm for students, but back in the 70 s, they were only reserved for computer science majors and those interested in the technical aspects of the machines.

Prior to 1974, the School of Library Science offered only one type of degree a master's in library science. Now, IST ofmanagement, telecommunication management and networking.

The addition of the new majors drew the interest of students who weren't nec essarily interested in being librarians.

Take SU alumna Maxine Davis. Afer graduatingr from $S U$ in 1973, Davis became an information broker. She would advertise her skills on the radio, in print and by word-of-mouth She was one of the nations frst in her field. getting hired to track down figures and quotes -whatever a client's heart desired.
Davis played her role of data mercenary for a year and a half until she witched careers to work in film produc swite tion.

I had no intention of being a librarian," Davis said. "I couldn't even stand casses like cataloging and using the Dewey Decimal System. I couldn't have done it without the IST education. Their new thinking created a new field."

Before the creation of $1 S T$, before laptop computers and before the World Wide Web, SU had the BBM Model 650. The Model 650 was SU's first computer and one of IBM's vaunted second-generation computer terminals. It hit the campus in 1956.

Interestingly, unlike modern computers, the system lacked a keyboard. Students would use special cards to tell the computers what to do.

I remember my roommate with huge stacks of papers and paper cards," Davis said.

And the machines her roommate used were more modern than the 650 . The cutting edge machines of the 1950 s and 1960 were far from the sleek desistop models that now fill SU computer clusters.
"The Model 650 was as powerful as your hand," retired computer and engineering professor Otway Pardee said.

These computers' capabilities ri valed graphic calculators, except they swers swers.
would megatyte of mernory back then would cost millions of dollars," Tomkins

See 1970s page 22
 Class registration was once a primanyly paper-and pencil ritural, with computer punch cards the Computers would replace this method in the eary 1980 s , but students still had to wait in long lines. But in 1999, regtstration went online, and students begnn registering via the intermot

The Corner Store, a soda fountain on the corner of Crouse and University Avenues and a campus landmark since 1908, is gutted by a fire.

Buses replace trolleys at SU as a means of public transportation.

A Nazi flag is flown by a group of students outside of the Hall of Languages and subsequently torn down by angry onlookers.

1942

William Pearson Tolle becomes chancellor. During his 27-year tenure. enrollment soars from 5.600 to 16,000 , assets rise from $$ 15$ million to $$ 200$ million and more than 20 buildings are erected.

1944

Goon Squad members patrol campus looking for freshman not wearing their mandatory "freshmen beanies."

More than 2,000 Air Force cadets come to campus for specialized training. From 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., they are not allowed to stroll the campus alone or say anything but hello or thank you to a coed. The punishment for disobeying this order is a 25 -hour walk.

The College of Nursing is founded.

Sports are canceled during the $1943-44$ school year as World War II rages on.

1947

The worst fire in school history guts Archbold Gymnasium. Destroyed are the university's bowling alley, swimming pool, crew room and $$ 75,000$ worth of athletic equipment.

1945

The School of Architecture is founded.

1946

Sophomore Charlotte Heers is named Miss Nobody by The Daily Orange after a campuswide hunt is completed to find the woman who best represents the average coed. Heers says she's pleased by the honor.

1948

New York state proposes making SU a state university.

1949

The estate of Mary
Margaret Shaw donates $$ 1.5$ million to SU for the construction of residence halls atop Mount clympus.

1950

SU's College of Medicine becomes part of the State University of New York system.

Harvard professor Kirthley Mather cancels a speech at SU after chaplains at Hendricks Chapel accuse him of supporting communists.

Edna Brandau, a professor of applied arts, says better eating habits are the main reason why Syracuse coeds are prettier than they were 10 or 20 years ago. -Girls today eat a rounded meal, merely cutting out those foods which would make them plump or give them a bad complexion."

1951

The senior class commissions Luise Meyers Kaish, a 1946 graduate of the School of Art, to sculpt a 3.000-pound statue of the Saltine Warrior.

Guard Shemman Douglas drives throues a University of Kentucky foe during a 1987 Carier Dorme showdoun. Douglas, along with teammate and future NEA star Derrick Coleman, helped lead the Orangemen to the NCAA Final Four.

1980sSPORTS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN DEEPLY INGRAINED IN THE FABRIC OF SU CULTURE. BUT IN 1987, SPORTS BECAME THE CULTURE. BY CONNOR ENNIS asst. sports editar

arkus Paul stood in the Syracuse locker room, exIt was Oct 17 .
It was Oct. 17, 1987 of his Syracuse mates just finished blasting eastern rival Penn State 48-21, creating pandemonium in the Carrier Dome and hroughout the SU campus. Across the seampus.
Paul saw his defensive bactory bodies, strong safety Jeff Mangram The ta mate their way through the locker room frenzy and gave each ouher the requisite congratulatory embrace.
Then Paul noticed something strange - they were both totally naked.

What's was like, 'Wait a minute now. What's going on here? ${ }^{4}$ Paul said with a laugh.

What was going on was the best 13 months in the history of Syracuse Universi the only ones to get so caught up in weren ment that they sometimes forgot - or didn't realize - just what they were doing. It would have been impossible for anyone to know they were entering the pinnacle of SU sports history when the 1986-87 basketball season tipped off on Nov. 29,1986 , However between that Lay and or 1, 1988 -when the Orangeman on Aubum in the Sugar Bowl - Syracuse found itself with n basletbell team in the NCAA national championship game, an undefeated foothall team in a New Year's Day bowl garne, a Heisman Trophy runnerup, a new legion of fans and a prominent national identity.
"It was the most exciting time in Syra cuse sports in recent memory," ESPN and ABC broadcaster and SU graduate Mike Tirico said. "It's hard to find a year to rival that one from an athletic standpoint at Syracuse."

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, Syracuse University's ninth, quickly put into action his vision to improve the way the university operates itself.

ing for Syract ing for him.

It was 1990 and Shaw was president o the University of Wisconsin, responsible for all the schools in the large state system.
"They contact you and you do a little dance. I wasn't very interested," Shaw said of SU s offer.

He was a world away from a mid-sized private university in Central New York. But the relationship that began with "a little dance," would grow until Shaw was the hancellor of SU, charged with leading the chool thro Sha

Shaw came to $S U$ at a precarious time in he school's history. Retiring Chancellor Melvin Eggers had carried SU through a peMelvin Eggers had carried SU through a peof the Carrier Dome, the Schine Student Center and the Sci-Tech building changed the face of the campus, and in all, 19 struc ures were erected by SU between 1970 and 1989.

The economic boom of the mid-1980s also caused SU's student population to inon campus increased with it SU Grew until the end of the decade, when a recession caused enrollment to level off.
"We had an " 80 s bubble and then a contraction," said Robert Van Gulick, a philosophy professor who served on the University Senate for several years. "When that deflated, we were left with the fact that we had 20 percent less students and 20 percent less tuition."

SU gleans about two-thirds of its revenue from undergraduate tuition.
Shaw's arrivgl on campus, Eghortly before committee to on campus, Egers formed a committee to examine the university

It was apparent that we faced a large deficit if nothing changed, projected at between $$ 30$ to $$ 40$ million," Shaw said.

But the committee also had some en-
See 1990s page 26
"HUSTRENGTH IS IN THE AREA OF THE

1952

On successive October days, presidential candidates Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson conduct cam pus rallies before audiences exceeding 10,000 In a campus poll, students choose Eisenhower.

1953

Yates Castle, former home to the Classical School, School of Journalism and Teachers College, is razed. Built for private use in 1852, it reportedly served as a preCivil War stop on the Underground Railroad, by which thousands of slaves escaped from the South to Canada.

The football Orangemen lose their first bowl game 62-6 against Bart Starr-led Alabarna in the Orange Bowl.

1957

With his pro foot ball career beckoning, Jim Brown wins two events for the track Orangemen to help beat Colgate. On the same day, he scores seven goals to lead the lacrosse Orangemen to a win over Army and a 10-0 finish. He is seen waving goodbye to an empty Archbold Stadium.

1954

Early spring water fights, a campus tradition among students in the '50s, '60s and 70 s , feature open hydrants and soaked visitors. This year's targets include police cars and officers, who make 31 arrests.

Biology professor Arthur Phillips arrives from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and starts the first germ-free animal research laboratory dedicated to studying medical problems.

SU wins the national College Quiz Bowl.

TIMELINE  1．The massive Yates

 Castle，last used by SU as a journalism school，is demolished to make room for the State University of New York Health Science Center＇s Weiskotten Hall．
1955

Ivan Mestrovic，considered by some the greatest sculptor of religious sub－ jects since the Renaissance and a sculp－ tor－in－residence at SU since 1947，leaves for Natre Dame University．He wants to take Supplicant Persephone with him，but the senior class purchas－ es it for the University．

SL＇s Coliege Quiz Bowl team earns $$ 1,000$ in a national radio competition with four other colleges．

1961

Two－time All－ American running back Ernie Davis becomes the only Orangeman－ and the first black man－to win college foot－ ball＇s most presti gious award，the Heisman Trophy． Two years later． he dies from leukemia．

1956

The School of Social Work is founded．

Running back Jim Brown scores an NCAA－record 43 points in the football team＇s 61－7 rout of Colgate．

1957

U．S．Senator John F
Kennedy speaks at Commencement．

1958

John Deveaux becomes the first black president of the men＇s student govern－ ment．

1959

An early－morning fire at a Skytop Air Force barrack kills seven student airmen and injures 13.

1960

Use of the Alpha Tau Omega cannon，fired after SU touchdowns in Archbold Stadium since 1922，is indefinitely sus－ pended after an accident injures five students dur－ ing the Penn State game． The unbeaten football team culminates its only national championship with a 23－14 win over Texas in the Cotton

Wornen during the early part of the 20th century participated in Elaborate May Day events such as this．

1900s

continued from page 2
of responsibility toward each other to be a medi－ um by which the social standard of the universi－ League＇s self description in the 1908 stu the hand book．

This sense of unity，sparked by the women＇s league and later by the WSGA．helped women students，faculty and stafl work together to fight for women＇s rights on and off campus．

Just 90 miles outside of sight of the first National Wonen＇s Rights Convention in Sencea Falls in 1848，SU and its fellow Northeastern coilegrate institutions have long been the site of controversy，sitid Dizune Murphy，chairiserson of the Women＇s Studies department．

This area has been consistently known for its role in supporting women，＂Murphy said． The women who inved and fought for women here are anlazing，It＇s astounding to think of the women sitting at their kitchen table，plan－ ning the Seneca Falls Convention，with kids running around，just saying we＇re kids runnin sick of this．＂

This mentality，she said，is what was aecessary for wornen to take chances and ucceed in the fight for women＇s rights

SU and its faculties，however，were in the forefront of higher academic institu－ tions for publicly supporting the women＇s suffrage movernent．In February of 1913 ， SU Chancellor James Roscoe Day spoke to a packed crowd of undergraduate students in the chapel of the Hall of Languages．
＂Do I believe in women＇s rights？＂Day asked more than 85 years ago．＂Certainly I do．I was born in the home of a Prohibi tionist and the home of an Abolitionist in mother was just as capable as voting as mother was ＂Women will win the vote when the time arrives and she will win it through

Daperior ways of management，he said the changing attitudes of women in the area at the time．
＇T＇m not the least bit surprised about． the comment in 1913 because of what was going on in Seneca Falls，＂Murphy said． Certainly it was in concert with what was going on in the area－this whas the hotbed of the suffrage movement．

Murphy has been employed with the university since 1979．A native of this area ，Murphy was politically and socially in volved during the 1960s．
＂I＇m pleased to say and pleased to know that Syracuse was on the progres SU has typical men＇s rights，although not alwport of the forefront of the issue．It was not until the arrival of Chancellor Kenneth A．Shaw in 1991 that the SU Women＇s Studies pro gram got the funding it needed，she said．
＂I don＇t think we saw a significant blip in anything in particular，＂she said．＂We＇re not a women＂s institution by any means for those of us who have been in front of the women＇s movernent，it was women＇ studies against all odds for 25 years．＂

The women＇s studies department and program today offers more than 15 classes．But less than 15 years ago，it operated with less from both Shaw and the Maxwell School of Citi－ zenship and Public Affairs has helped the de－ partment thrive，she said．
＂There＇s a very important message ther that the feminist on the campus，off their backs did women＇s studies，＂Murphy said．There was eally no top down support until Chancellor Shaw and when he came here he gave us a ma jor budget．＇

Today＇s generation of students，both men and women，are socially and politically aware but have been fortunate enough not to have to fight for their rights on campus，becaus they exist，Murphy said．

I thank we have a very loyal and long term feminist community both male and female a Syracuse University，＂she said．＂It＇s just that things right now are good．＂

Karen DeCrow，a Jamesville resident and former 1972 SU School of Law graduate，agreed for，but would if presented with divisive issues like students from her and Murphy＇s generation． DeCrow has long since been a public advo－ cate for women＇s rights．Serving as the president of the National Organization for Women from 1974 to 1977，she brought women＇s rights issues to the attention of people in this area simply by being a Central New York native，she said． rea it was a tirne of progressive change，this area has always been surrounded and support－ ed by women＇s rights activists，＂she said．

An independent lawyer specializing in em－ ployment law，gender and age discrimination and civil liberties DeCrow was the only wornan in her class of more than 200 men during her three years as a law student．
＂Being alone in a class of men was unique，＂ she said．＂The men looked at me differently I think．They were surprised I was there but they accepted me．

Regardless，my face is easy to spot on the law school composite，＂DeCrow said with a laugh．

At the time，DeCrow was aware of her unique position as the only woman among when she became a very public figure．

In 1969，DeCrow ran for the position of Syracuse mayor，while still enrolled in law shool．She was the first waman in New York state to run for a mayor＇s office．
＂I was not the first and I am not the last woman to take strides among men， were employed ot that female profess

Since her time at SU，the female facul－ ty at the university has nearly doubled．But DeCrow agreed with Murphy that SU still has a lack of women in its administration．

Serving on the University Senate corr－ mittee on women＇s concerns，Murphy and the committee urged Chancellor Shaw two years ago to search for a woman to fill the position of vice chancellor and provost to re－ place Gershon Vincow．Shaw responded this summer by hiring Deborah Freund，former ice chancellor of academic anairs and dean of the faculti Bloomington，

Syracuse University was doing what was going on all over the country，they wore slowly changing their ways，

Changes in views about women and women＇s issues have drastically evolved in the last century，culminating in faculty and students like Murphy and DeCrow，but graduates Like Ruth Colter from the SU class of 1913，still remember when times were different．

Colter，who was born in 1893 and at－ tended SU from 1909 to 1913 attended pri－ vate schol before her time in Central New York
＂My private school was very big on what fork to use，but not on education，＂ said Colter，who now lives in Vermont．

Like Murphy and DeCrow，Colter reit－ erated that SU was ahead of its time for its iews on women＇s issues． when it came to women for thas very good said．＂Obviously，we are better off now．＂

It's a long way from Marshall Street to the Middle East. but some things travel well: and endure. A third of a cen tury ago, in 1966. I first entered jourEver since, I have been guide School. Ever since, I have been guided by the profound yet practical values that I absorbed in paricular from one man whom Twas blessed to have as a teacher and friend - the late Andre (Andy) Fontaine friend - the late Andre (Andy) Fontaine.
He has been a lifelong model for me of journalistic techniques - the -craft $^{-}$of writing, as he called it - and the human value of selflessly sharing with others our own expertise and life lessons.

On the personal side, he imbued me with a finely balanced sense of questioning authority in a respectful manner, of being humble yet assertive before those who wield power in society. To this day, whenever : interview politics business or the arts it hear politics, business or the arts. I hea that "they ain't necessarily so smart." He helped my generation of journalists appreciate our multiple roles as craftsmen and women, artists. entertainers. purveyors of facts and instry poinical accountabiity on the craft side. I retain the impact of a single powerful exercise that writing classes. It drove us nuts at the time, but it made us better wordsmiths and more effective communicators. He asked us to write a one-page editorial. Then he asked us to cut the text down to half its original length, which we thought was pretty difficult, given the extended brilliance of our writing. And then - impossibly - he asked us again to cut down the text to a single short paragraph. His point was. we could say what we wanted to say in a rew words. if we identified the essential message I still use this technique in the communication training courses that I run in Jordan and Palestine. Through the many people whose tives he touched Andy Fontaine in fact still teaches young

I was able to the world
I was able to locate and visit nim in Syracuse shortly before he died of cancer. I'm glad that I had the chance to tet him know how much he influ enced me, and to thank him for making better person - probably the highes measure of a great teacher, in a great school.

Rami G. Khouri '7o is an internacionally syndicated weekly politica columnist, a book author, host of the 'En counter' public affairs interview program on Jordan Television, former editor in chief of the Jordan Times newspaper for the Financial Times, 'The Washington Post' and 'The Boston Gfobe.

19105

continued from page 3
Inibition Party. And in 1883, Willard founded the International WCTU.

Throughout her campaign against the bottle, Willard and the WCTU showed that alcohol abuse was a major cause of violence in society and proved that men were more likely to leave their ives if they were alcoholics, Lasch-Quinn said.
And when Willard presented these beliefs to mainstream America, the fight for prohibition began to grow, she said. ide concern - and it became a widespread wide concern - and it became

While many people fought a war against alcohol because of its effect on the family, others' efeven xenophobic - thoughts, said Ephraim H. Mizruchi, a professor emeritus of sociology at SU.

Mizruchi, who focused his professional research largely on alcoholism, said that prohibition was an answer to years and years of virtualIy unlimited irnmigration.

As foreigners flooded into America's cities and towas, social changes occurred, he said. Poverty increased. Crime rates went up. Employment ll.

And more and more, the government needed a scapegrat - or a group that could be blamed for of permits from Jewish rabbis for sacramental wine. So we only drank the good stuff, and we did it more or less legally," the student said.
But it wasn't until 1930 - just a few years before the 1933 repeal of prohibition - that SU before the 1933 repeal of prohibition -

During September of that year, a professor in SU's Teachers' College was thrust into the limelight after he announced that he would run for New York state governor.
Robert Paris Carroll became a top choice for Prohibition Party candidate after New York WCTU President D. Leigh Colvin indicated that her organization would only support a candidate prohibition of alcohol.

The only other prominent candidate - U.S. Attorney and Republican hopeful Charles H. Tuthe may not support the continuation of prohibihe m

After a WCTU convention in September, how ever, Carroll still had not been endorsed by the organization of women - and he certainly was far from receiving the Prohibition Party nomination. A staunch "dry," Carroll was vehemently opposed to not only the re-introduction of alcohol in the United States, but to its illegal use by every day Americans. And throughout his campaign were rooted in an anti-communist sentiment.
form for reform in New York. His "eight points to a dry platform" would be easily attainable, Car roll said, because he would get rid of public officials who refused to enforce the 18 th Amendment. "The first thing to do would be to replace of ficers of the lawless with officers of the law," Car roll said. "A man who takes a solemn oath to do his utmost to enforce the laws of the land and then ila grantly disobeys them and openly defies them hould be regarded as a traitor and a 'red.''

Just a few days later, however, Carroll's can didacy was again in limbo. His largest supporter - New York WCTU President Colvin - an nounced on Sept. 26 th of the candidate pool.

Undaunted, Corroll made clear that he was Undid WCTU. He pointed out that nearly 17,000 people signed petitions to get his name on the ballot. signed The office sought me," Carroll said. "I neve sought the office. WCTU leaders came to my when they pointed out it was a moral and not a political question."

Support for Carroll by anti-alcohol factions returned a short time later. On Sept. 30, Henry Castor, Carroll's campaign manager, announced that Carroll was the official gubernatorial nomi nee for the Prohibition Party.
held a conference in New York today and after

1961

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr addresses more than 700 students in Sadler Hall.

The student handbook insists women must never wear pants or Bermuda shorts to class, dinner or in public living rooms. "When merely crossing campus to attend a function where slacks or Bermuda shorts are the appropriate dress, a long coat is required."

1962

Publisher Samuel I
Newhouse donates $$ 15$ million to construct a com munications center.

1963

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity revokes a Jewish pledge's bid, explaining that the fraternity was tra. ditionally Christian.

1964

President Lyndon B. Johnson dedicates Newhouse 1 and addresses the attack on United States warships in the Gulf of Tonkin. His speech concerns the "Communist challenge in Southeast Asia" and foretells the escalation of the Vietnam War. "The world must never forget that aggression unchallenged is aggression unleashed."

1964

Four SU students are lost for six days in New Hampshire's White Mountains after being stranded by cold and 100 mph winds. Navy helicopters ultimately rescue them and return them to safety.

Seventy percent of students join a food boyeott called by the joint student legislature in protest of su's food quality in its dining halls.

1965

The Brewster/Boland Complex is set to be built over St. Mary's Cemetery.

Dr. Gabriel Vahanian, an associate professor and ordained Methodist Nietzche by declaring the "death of God."

1966

More than 42 inches of unexpected snow and 50 mph winds begin pummeling the campus Jan. 30. Traffic is halted, dining hall food is rationed and registration is delayed three days. Francis Wingate, SU's vice president and treasurer, borrows his son's snowshoes to travel to work.

All-American basketball player Dave Bing leads SU to the NCAA Tournament and its most wins, 22, since 1946.

Orange running back Floyd Little is named AllAmerica for the third time.

1967

The Passion of Sacco and Vanzetti. Ben Shahn's three-panel marble and enamel mosaic on the east wall of Huntington Beard Crouse Hall, is dedicated. Created in France, it depicts two Italian immigrants, draft dodgers and radicals on a street corner demonstrating, in custody. and in their coffins after being executed in 1927. They were convicted of robbery and murder, though no evidence ever linked them to the crime.

SU student Kathy Switzer is the first woman to run in the Boston Marathon. She finishes in 4 hours, 20 minutes.

Campus concerts are given by Martha and the Vandellas, Neil Diamond and Marvin Gaye.

Dr. Edvardo Mondlane, an SU anthropology professor, is killed in Tanzania after taking leave from the university to lead an armed rebel group in Mozambique against Portuguese occupation forces.

1968

The Placement Center is closed by protesters pick eting Dow Chemical officials recruiting at SU. Led by Dr. Timothy Leary, the protesters decry Dow's alleged manufacturing of napalm. D

1920s

continued from page 4
sion; not by magnifyizg a sect, but by magnifying human learning and contributing to the same."

In 1920, SU moved away from its roots, declaring itself independent from its founder, the Methodist Church. But the decision to break ties with the church was by no means dramatic or spurred by conflict, Wolfe said. As early as three years after the university was established, administration discussed the possibility of allowing the school to stand alone, without direct church involvement.

By moving away from its Methodist ties, Wolfe said, SU sent a clear message that it was open to diversity.

Although formal relations with the church were abolished in 1920, loose ties with Methodism endured for more than 50 years. It was not until ister, John Corbally, became SU's chancellor.

Prior to Day's installment, university administration mandated daily chapel attendance in the Methodist tradition, which took place midmorning during a time when neither classes nor other campus events were scheduled. During services, faculty members sat on the rostrum in order of seniority, while students were divided either by class or gender.

Although student attendance at chapel was monitored closely by a special card system, SU maintained a policy of religious tolerance and excused those with doctrinal opposition to church practices.

In 1898, Day called for the establishment of a "Christian associations" building to house the growing religious groups on campus. Since an ever-changing group of student personnel ran each organization, Day suggested the new building be staffed by a permanent secretary to handie records and finances. He stressed that the new building should operate as an "undenominationbuilding should operate as an "undenomination

After the turn of the 19 th century, the need for a such a building became more pressing, as dozens of religious organizations sprung up across campus. The Churchmen's Society catered to Episcopal men and women, Roman Catholic students began the Brownson Club Clater the Newman Club and Newman Association) and Jewish students met together at the Menorah Society. But as late as the 1930s, the Kolledj Klan - the Methodist student club - remained the most prominent religious group on campus.

But hampered by complaints from students, faculty and the surrounding community, the Day administration made little progress toward building a free-standing religious center on carnpus.
those questions which explore the very depths of tife's meaning, value, and purpose."

At the turn of the 19 th Century, the Methodist Church, now known astishment of Methodist Church, funced the establishment of colleges across the nation, including $S$ w. Whale most of these institutions cut ties with the church at some point during this century, a few universities are still strongly connected to the Methodist tradition - Emory University in Atlanta is among the most notable.

The Methodist Church put more education al institutions on the ground than any other mainstream religious sect, Wolfe said.
"They knew how to make productive communities," he said. "Where they put a church, they put a school."

Even until 1980, SU policies also required the dean of Hendricks Chapel to be Methodist. Now, chapel deans can be ordained in any religious body, but they cannot be involved in the daily functions of any one faith at SU, Wolfe said.
"We want a dean who is inclusive," he said. 'Not a dean who has no faith, but one who can Not a dean who has no faith, but one who can, out of ${ }^{\text {of }}$

Coincidentally, Wolfe noted, the last several Hendricks Chapel deans have been United Methodists. In addition, four current members of the SU Board of Trustees are Methodist, includ int Hae-Jong Kirn, the Central New York United Methodist leader.

Although the church worked hard to build Methodist colleges nationwide, they didn't expect to remain tied to the institutions forever, Wolfe said. As colleges built monetary endowments and attracted more students, they became capable of standing on their own, without fiscal support from the church.
"It's like birth - the church gave birth to these colleges - and eventually, growth," he said. WThe institutions gain enough momentum to stand on their own, without support. It's a natural evolution."

At the turn of the 19th Century, Wolfe said, Methodist colleges struggled to decide whether to remain church-sponsored or establish independence as a secular institution. Although continued affiliation with the church would allow for financial benefits, severing ties would allow the university to follow 19th-century Germany's increasingly popular model of higher education - the modern research university.

Hendricks Chapel currently houses ight different ministries, ranging from Southern Baptist to Islam. Wolfe believes SU's chaplains leaders and serving as friends and colleagues.
"The chaplains here are the people who yo tionship with the university While this allows SU to support a cross section of faiths port a cross section of faiths each group must seek fund ing for programming and staffing from outside source such as local faith communi ties or national organizations In recent years, however some religious groups hav struggled to survive financially when longtime sources of funding sources began evaporating. Seeking unu dion canot techni ic burden, and although SU cannot technically allocate money to any one religious group. Wolfe said it often directs groups to alternate funding sources if they're having trouble.

All campus religious groups initially shared space under Hendricks Chapel's 99 -foot-high rotunda, but as the years passed, some campus ministries began collecting funds to branch out and establish roots at another on-or off-campus location. The Roman Catholic Alibrandi Center, for instance, has occupied a building on Walnut Place since the tate 1930s, and the Islamic community later established a mosque on Comstock Avenue. Strategic planning sessions have also begun for Strategic planning sessions have also begun ior the establishment of an off-campus

But these moves have not weakened the reationships between various faiths at SU, Wolfe said.
"Collegiality is not based on geography, it's based on chosenness," he said.

About 40 percent of current SU students identify thernselves as Roman Catholic, 40 percent consider themselves members of a protestant sect and nearly one-fifth of the student population is Jewish. Less than two percent of student identify as Moslems, Buddhists, Hindus or other religions.

The earliest incarnations of Catholic organizations on the university campus, prior to 1910, look the shape of informal dinner gatherings and Biblical readings, with an emphasis on developing fellowship within the community, Lang said. Not until the conclusion of World War II, however, when thousands of soldiers flocked to SU on the G.I. Bill, did the Catholic community's population swell to its current status.

Lang believes the early departure from Hendricks Chapel allowed the Catholic student community to establish its own identity and design programming to suit its unique needs.

The high Jewish population at SU is unusually large for a private, secular university, said Sivan Kaminsky, Hillel director. But Jews have always had a healthy presence at SU , he gaid, noting that while other universities placed quotas

"IT'S LIKE

AND, EVENTUALLY,

The Rev. Thomas Wolfe, dean of Hendricks Chapel, on Syracuse University

Between 1910 and 1920, the Day administration battled charges that the university was slipping into the trend of secular-based education, as an increasing number of faculty hires had been trained at secular universities. Others found fault with general student conduct, "offensive" material printed in campus publications and an increase in liberal faculty members.

Although Day continued to work toward deepening religious life on campus, the administration ultimately contended that such complaints were ethical in nature and not related to Figion on campus.

Funding for Hendricks Chapel ultimately came in 1920 as a gift from Sen. Francis Hendricks, a former Syracuse mayor and long-time SU trustee. But it wasn't until 10 years later that the $$ 600,000$ building took shape - in the form of an interdenominational house of worship. The administration and Board of Trustees, Wolfe said, sought to erect a structure that would provide for all faiths to worship in their own tradition, then join together for various dialogues.

But it was never the goal, Wolfe said, to lump all faiths together or create a conglomerate house a faith for every student's individual needs.
"We don't want to merge and become some of mushy, nondescript thing" he said "We're sort of mushy, nondescript thing, he said. We're the community". and celebrate the differences of e community."

A portion of the Hendricks Chapel Covenant Statement echoes this mission: "Hendricks Chapel promotes no one religion or one religious answer. Rather, in an environment of free in quiry, it aerves as the keeper of the questions;
nvite to your house for dinner," he said. "When dinner is over, they'll stay to help you do the dishes. And if you ask them to, theyll even stay Fore care of the lids."
For some students, the college years are a time of religious and spiritual exploration. Some students sever ties with the faith they were raised with and find new ways to worship. Others abdicate a belief in a higher being altogether and still others redefine and strengthen existing religious beliefs.

And Hendriciks Chapel affirms these exploration processes and provides a safe space for questioning students, Wolfe said.
"We want students to feel comfortable here, to know that they won't be manipulated or coerced inappropriately," he said. "When you're seeking religion, you're making yourself vulnerable, and we want to respect that."

Father Jim Lang, formerly t
the Alibrandi Catholic Center's, the chaplain at ages questioning students to explore encourages questioning students to explore different faiths from a variety of perspectives and search for solutions that are good for them. He said he hopes chaplains of all faiths help students address their religious and spiritual concerns without judgement, by building trust and friendship.

Universities also provide unique opportunities for diverse groups to work in conjunction with each other, Wolfe noted.
"We have a value system of needing to learn from each other and care for each other, so we cross lines that we might not normally cross," he said.

Each campus religious group maintains and restrictions on the admission of Jewish students until after Worid War II, SU embraced the faith from its earliest days.

Problems did crop up on campus during World War II, however, when some Jews clashed with other students over potentially anti-Semitic speech and acts, Kaminsky said. But he believes the Jewish community has developed a strong accord with other campus groups through years of hard work. Kaminsky notes, however, that some prejudices still exist toward Jews at $S U$, often spurred by cliques and stercotypes.

Ifyou go different places on campus, you can clearly draw lines with a magic marker," he said. "There's this perception of what represents Judaism, and that's really sad."

Hillel's national organization, dedicated to supporting Jewish campus life, began 80 years ago, and SU's Fifllel chapter - preceded by half a dozen other incurnations of Jewish students groups - opened around 1950. SU's Hillel, Kaminsky said, faces the challenge of catering to strict Orthodox Jews as well as liberal reconstructionist Jews. And at the same time, the organization strives to maintain its links to the cul taral and religious history of Judaism, he said.

Even religions counting relatively few SU tudents among their ranks have been recognized by the university more than in the past. In 1995, SU made Eid UI-Fitr, an Islamic holy day marking the end of Ramadan, a campus holiday. By doing so, the university also strengthened its original mission to unite faith and Iearning.
"Students come here to get a degree, not to build a stronger religious faith," Kaminsky said. "But those two things often work together."

1930s

ontinued from page 5

the home front, a second world war loomed on the horizon. Maxwell, founded in 1924 ound enrollment increasing and rumors be ban to spread around campus th

A possible creation of Maxwell Hall beA pubibly known in 1932 when the Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint spoke of tho eath of alumnus George H. Maxwell and the allocation of his estate

On Sept. 27, the D.O. published a statement by Flint which confirmed the avail ability of funds to erect the building in the name of its benefactor, Maxwell.

Ample provision has been made to meet all their commitments to the School of Citi enship and Public Affars in the matter of the endowment and building, the final con ummation awaiting only more favorable general financial conditions," Flint said

Constructed using the $$ 500,000$ endownent, the largest ever university gift at the and was dedicated month later by former president Herbert Hoover

The building was built in the colonial style, with the most impressive part of the uilding being the lobby off the main en memorating the 75 th anniversary of the hall The 40-by-70 feet antechamber became the nost remembered part of Maxwell, distin ruished by its Ionic columns and dark ter azzo floor, the newsletter said.

It is a wonder that construction ever be gan, Maxwell Senior Associate Dean Rober MeClure said, noting that Mr. Maxwell los much of his fortune during the Great De pression.

The construction of the building was basically a result of the unwavering com mitment by Mrs. Maxwell to celebrate he usband's faith in the fledgling school," Mc lure said.

Students quickly regarded the building as a state-of-the-art institution. The funding allowed the building to be wired for ra ing allowed dio, he said.

As the school was beginning, we wer in the forefront of elevating education," McClure said. "And as we head into the next century, I think we still aspire to in

Betty Donnelly Angelino, a Class of 1940 alumna, said she remembers the construc tion well.
"We watched the building go up. We were very proud of it," Angelino said. W We had a top of the line political science program and we took this very seriously. The country, ortant.
Angelino, who at the time went by Bety Donnelly, attended SU while she lived in yracuse. journalism and social studies major, Donn her home to the Maxwoll class the bus from her home to the Maxwell class ooms

Donnelly valued her country and its politics more than most students did, she aid. Her mother and father both immigrat ed from Ireland and Portugal, respectively As immigrants, Donnelly's parents never ok for granted the opportunities presen in the United States.
in my family, government and voting ame next to church," she said. "God was a the top of the line, of course, but we never missed a vote. Never.

Although most stidents at the time kept updated of politics and consistently voted during the New Deal era, Donnelly said she learned to love the United States more than the average student. Pursuing a political sci ence major at Maxwell meant more than just education, she said.

I was just so happy to be part of that world," Donnelly said. "We never took for granted the wonderful citizens we had in FranHin Delano Roosevelt, then govemor of New York state and later a four-term U.S. presiden was on hand in 1930 for a Maxwell School graduation. To his left is Chancellor Wesley Fint the United States."

At Maxwell, however, not all professors were supportive of the New Deal policies Mosher called Roosevelt's style of leadershi "startling," and charged that the United States' free-market conomy was disappear ing.

It is a more complex school than it was in the 1930 s, " McClure noted. "Its scholarly and graduate dimensions are broader, deep

Unfazed by philosophical opponents Donnelly coupled her deep appreciation for politics with a desire to take advantage of her constitutional rights, specifically free dom of speech. Althous Iy Orange during the 1930 s, Donnelly began to Orange durite for the paper
While cha deht

While she debated public policy at Maxwell, Donnelly began at the D.O. to chal lenge the unwritten policy, at SU and be yond, of restricting women's rights.

It was there that Donnelly met a budding young editor named Chester Hansen The two became good friends. A year later Hansen became editor in chief. Donnelly, as a reporter, continued to cover her beat a Hendricks Chapel and Hansen, as editor began to write editorials.
"Betty was a great girl," Hansen said ${ }^{4}$ She is a great woman, very outspoken. We wrote edits about things we knew nothing about, but we had strong opinions on them. Donnelly and Hansen continued to work together on The D.O. shan whij 1940 paper needed Hansen to help choose a suc paper needed Hansen to help ch.

The university ultimately had discretion in who would become the editor in chief since the D.O. did not become independent until ly, knowing that if she were hired, a new policy regarding gender would be made.
"I used to joke with Betty and tell her that the biggest mistake God ever made wa to take the rib out of Adam and begin the female gender," Hansen said. "Women knew their place at the time, but Betty came along and inundated the feminist movement by 40 or 50 years.

On April 29, 1939, the D.O. proclaimed in itly Named DO Editor."

For the first time in the history of the paper, a woman would lead the editorial staff. Believed to be the only woman in th or college nes ever to head the staff of ama y shattered 35 paper, when she was elected editor of The Dail Orange," Hansen wrote in an article on the issues iront page. It was the first time since The Daily Orange was incorporated in 1903 that a woman was chosen to head the staff. The campus received the news well said both Hansen and Donnelly. Students especially the women, welcomed her with open arms, Donnelly said. Ironically, Mar first frst wornan faculty member whe rer hearin any gasty comments re member hearing any nasty comments from cepted much more on campus at this time. I cared a lot about it and I was up for th challenge."

The greatest challenge would come next emester for Donnelly. A war began over seas and men enrolling at $S U$ dicnt expec to gras.

Hansen graduated and within a year he enlisted in the U.S. Army and began serving time in North Africa, Normandy and Sicily.

You were sort of prepared for it." Don nelly said. "We knew our men classmate were going to war and that we would lose some of them.

When the students came back to the campus that fall, there was not much time othink woman editors. Just hard work and headlines" she wrote in a reflection piece, printed in D.O. decades later. "Hitle invaded Poland Sept. 1 and World War I was a fact."

Before graduating that year, Donnelly used the paper to crusade against studen apathy and encourage a larger student gov he fourt. She wrot

Donnelly graduated a pioneer for women rights, Hansen said. The year she graduated SU's Onondagan yearbook hired an edito and business manager, both women. Donnel ly found an opening as one of the first women reporters for The Wall Street Journal.
"It was a different time," Hansen said. ine was very good and it was very exciting in the wor

GIHIETTACTMTI

Ah, youth! It was 1965 when myself and my Dellplain Hall dormmate, along with several fellow students formed the "Syracuse University Friends of the Student. Non-violent Coordinating Committee." The need was very real. We were freshmen still donning our new freshmen beanies. Coed dormitories were a futuristic dream. The snarling police dog frenzies of the opposition were quite vivid in the headlines across the United States. Americans were subject tacks for Some brutally murdered

SNCC was the offspring of Dr.

Martin Luther King's organization and had been involved with the Freedom Riders in the South. The movement had its martyrs that in cluded Dr. King and Andrew Goodman.

As students, we could not ascertain what the future would hold for us. A lot of events includ ing Vietnam-death, war and de struction, hung over us. Much like Within the group do me we did Within the group, we made mis tions, looking back, that I would oot repeat today. We were 18 . years-old, no longer in the safety of our back yards, trying to make a difference.
I can recall setting up a rickety old card table on M Street waiting for sympathetic students to come by and sign up. We raised money, held food drives and invit, all while controversial speakers, all while volvement.

It is gratifying seeing the diverse mix of today's $S U$ population.

Chet Machlin '68 was a leading political activist as a student. He now resides in Syracuse, where he works at Syracuse University's

TIMELINE
D 1969
About 100 black students demonstrate peacefully. demanding that SU meet their needs. The protes eventually results in the formation of the Afro. American Cultural Center, he Afro-American Studies Program and a Martin uther King Jr. Memorial library collection.

John E. Corbally becomes SU's eighth chancellor, but resigns 18 months ater to become presiden of the University of Illinois

1971
Interim Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers, who joined SU n 1950 as an economics professor, becomes the ninth chancellor.

A program for intercollegiate athletics for wome is established. Varsity eams begin competing in basketball, swimming, div ng, volleyball, tennis and encing.

The Daily Orange declares ndependence from the university administration.

More than 100 students ake over ROTC offices as pert of a protest of the United States' invasion of Laos. The protest was just one of cozens in 1971 decrying the United States' role in the Vietnam War.

1970

A massive student strike shuts down SU amid violence and protests. More than 100 students are arrested in a draft protest and fined $$ 25$ a piece. Two students are arrested for taking pictures of the other arrests. The strike shuts down the campus for weeks.

1972
More than 1,000 students stage a sit-in at a military recruiting center on Erie Boulevard. After police break it up, 31 students are arrested.

1973

A 52-hour-long campus dance marathon, orga nized by Delta Tau Delta, raises $$ 21,342$ for mus cular dystrophy research $D$ citing poor pay, benefits and poor contract. The strike vote is 79-29 among union workers; it lasts 58 days.

1974

A rash of drug-related arrests prompt the Student Association to campaign against police on campus and the New York state drug law.

1975

The men's basketball team reaches the NCAA Tournament Final Four for the first time, losing in the semifinals to Kentucky.

1976

To combat escalating energy costs, the university supplies student washing machines with cold water only. Business booms at local laundromats.

The NAACP alleges that SU uses racist hiring prac tices. The allegation leads to a class action lawsuit in district court.

Ernie Davis* Heisman Trophy is stolen from a display case at Maniey Field House. It is later

ecovered

The thenunnamed domed stadium, which replaces Archbold Stadium, is named the "Carrier Dome" when the Carrier Corp. donates $$ 2.75$ million to its construction. It opens the following year.

1977

The residents of the ostrom Co-op organize a march of 350 students to protest the closing of their residence by SU

1978

The Student Association launches a boycott of the su Bookstore, demanding lower prices.

Liz Vilbert becomes SU's first female All-American athlete. A swimmer, she would attain the same feat in each of her next three seasons as well.

1940s

continued from page 6
"I never had a big feel for campus life," she said. "We did our own thing.

Partying, rushing fraternities and sororities and joining clubs were not part of

Robert Decker, 71, narrowly
Robert Decker, 71, narrowly escaped having ogo to war. The fighting ended days before he was study mechanical engineering. He remembers being one of the few non-veterans in his classes.
"The GIs made us fecl very young." said Decker, who graduated in 1949.

Catering to the swell of students forced SU to find space for students and teachers to teach them, Decker said.

Decker worked as a surveyor in erecting 200 Quonset huts - crude metal buildings that resembled a can cut in half lengthwise - where Manley Field House now stands. Windows cut into the sides of the buildings were covered with

In total, more than 600 prefabricated build iners, old barracks Quonset huts and trailers were installed across the campus, even between buildinstalled across the carnpus, cven between buildarea, such as the New York State Fairgrounds, area, such as the New York State Fairgrounds, porary housing served as classroom space, residences and cafeterias.

What is now South Campus used to be covered with 600 housing units, barracks and twofamily homes. Though designed to be a temporary answer to the student influx, the last Quonset hut was torn down in 1991.
"It was like teaching in half a tunnel," said Cavanaugh, who in 1967, taught his first class at $S U$ in a Quonset hut across the street from the School of Management, where the S.1. Newhouse School of Public Communications parking lot is now located.

The campus was crowded, but it did not afWhile standecation, she said.

While standard freshmen classes, 位e phiosophy and psychology, were packed, more ad-

The only time Bannett felt the not, she said.
The only time Barnett felt the largess of the chool from her Westchester County home after vacations. Students traveling northbound from New York City and Long Island sometimes filled the train to capacity, forcing it to skip its Westchester County stop.

But sometines Barnett lucked out
"They were students and wild, so they vould puil you aboard. You stood or sat on your suitcasc," she said, breaking into laughter.

After graduating in 19-19, Bamett went on to run clinics and inspect tenements, especially those in poorer communities.

The GI Bill still exists in the form of the Mont gomery Gi Bill, a $$ 19,000$ tuition grant that servicemen may use within 10 years of finishing gomery GI Bill is not only a recruiting tool, but a vayery to improve armed services recruits, said Sgt. Zane Pierce, a local recruiter for the U.S. Army

The original GI Bill program cost $$ 14.5$ bilon and more than tripled the number of U.S. citizens who graduated from college between 1930 and 1950.

More than 20.7 million veterans have par icipated in the program since $1944 \rightarrow 7.8$ million from WWII alone.

There's a person who has seen the worst hat life can bring." Pierce said. "A person gives five to six years of their life and they should get

For Tolley SU,
For Tolley, SU's ability to accommodate hose who risked their lives for their country stood as one of the university's most outstanding ac complishments.
made," he said in 1949 . "No in the record we have nation met the veterans' challenge as did Syra cuse."

Tolley believed in a citizen-lead militia and sought to provide for them before and after combat, Cavanaugh said. SU collaborated with the U.S. Army to train airmen through its Army Special Training Program at the time. Three days after the School of Nursing was established, the U.S. Cadet Nurse Corps was established in 1943 Nurse 80 torp. 90 pernt of nursing students joined the
"I think Syracuse has had a tradition of opening doors to the citizen-soldier," said Ca anaugh, who identified the ROTC program at the military.
${ }^{4}$ I know that SU trained more army gir corps officers in World War II than any other institution," Cavanaugh said.

Though only 23 at the time, Ponder remembers soldiers who were as young as 18 -yearsols and many plucked from their books and many

With
With patriotic fervor abound, A Blair Knapp, dean of Mer's Afairs, til called to serve.
"They became known as Dean Knapp's Zip Tight Army," said Ponder, who joined ROTC and studied business administration.

In combat, Ponder endured the Battle of the Bulge and spent the duration of the war in the 71 st Division, 5 th Infantry regiment ground troops who were usually on the front lines.
"It was a defining moment in our lives. I still don't talk about it much other than to veterars," he said.

He is neither nostalgic nor re morseful. The war does not haunt him like some vets, he said.
"The man in the foxhole - eye a miserable experience.

Ponder did not use the GI Bill and opted for a military career, conducting weapons testing. He has not visited $S U$ in 10 years, but fondly recalls dancing to Tommy Dorsey and Les Broan at SU's "Vic-dances" ("Vic" short for Victrola, a record player) and football games at Arch bold Stadium.

The decades following WWI would transform attitudes toward war and the military. The Vietnam War tore apart perceptions of the all-American soldier. tperation Desert Storm brought tow rmed Forces face record lows in Armed Fo
In

In recent pop culture, WWII has been re-examined and romanticized through films such as "Saving ine." Books like journalist Torn Brokaw's "The Greatest Generation" and his new "The Greatest Genera tion Speaks," both on the New York Times Best Sellers list, have resur faced WWII patriotism.
"If you were in World War II, you were a hero, no matter what you did," said Ponder, whose 37-year military career also brought him through the Korean War and the Vietnam TET Offensive

These people are incredibly patriotic and not a blind, flar-waving patriotism," said Suzanne Mettler, asMettler, 36 , studies the implica-of the GI Bill. Its the mplications of the GI Bill: Its effect on the policy-making. She began by sending out 2,000 questionnaires to veterans from different regions and various ethnic, religious and socio-economic backgrounds.
"A week later, the mail came in and my phone starting ringing," she choked up talking about this.

She received 73 percent of the surveys back - a high reply rate for random questionnaires; he sxid.

In the third year of her study, Mettler is compiling survey results, archival research and data from 30 in-depth interviews she conducted with her results, she can conclude that the GI Bill did her results, she can
'It's rare in a social policy to make such a fference," she said.

Many would have attended college even whout the program, but about 20 percent would not have gone at all, she said.
"Before that era, higher education was for White, upper-ciass males of Anglo-Saxon hertage," said Mettler, who noted the increase of Jewish, Catholic and first-generation immigrants who benefited from the program.

The GI Bill lef most with a sense of owing back, Mettler said.

Social scientists know that WWII was a remarkably civic generation, these people participated tremendously in public life," Mettler said Barmett, a Warwick, RI. resident, spent most of her career in public health. Decker has kept hamton after retiring from TBM in 7989 in Birg ame in Find Pell Ponder whin Sund near hol at his church and leads a hiling croup in his mtirement community in Black Mountain Ni World War II was an incredible turning point in their lives," Mettler said. "They were citpoint. in their lives, Mettler said. They were citprice for their citizenship."

But Ponder has a simpler theory. nuch - we did what we were told to do. We were more innocent then," Ponder said. "This generation is more cynical."

Hearing veterans recount memories of bloodshed, sacrifice and triumph has changed Mettler's perspective, she said.
"It's given me a real appreciation of a generation who took the obligation of citizenship seri-

1979
The 106-year-old Hall of Languages reopens after $$ 4$ million worth of renovations are completed.

SUjoins the Big East athletic conference.

1960s

ontinued from page 8

The atheistic banner in $\mathbf{1 9 6 5} \mathbf{w}$ as one mall raised fist in an era of student empower that point. And it would not get any smoother afterwards.

John F. Kennedy rode into Syracuse luring the first weak of $S U$ classes, 1960
Kennedy on that late September day: "His hair Kennedy on that late September day: "His hair ange reported. "The surging, milling crowd poured through police barricades as the motorcade reached Clinton Square and completely surrounded the car bearing Kennedy.
see him A mbed up on a nearby building ledge in Kcrnedy as a new type of leader, one who would capitalize on the optimism of a winning decade in American history and at the same sime bring bout some much-needed social change.
asked the crowd. GU Tnst halr or the decade was full of promis trong leadership, the university embarked on an normous building spree. Tolley broke ground on 5 new buildings in the 1960 s .

The Civil Rights movement was fairly strong on campus. Later that year, a letter in support of racial integration at the University of Georgia was signed by more than 300 people on campus. And on the same night as Kennedy's visit football star Ermie Davis and rest of the 1959 naional championship team would face Kansas University in a nationally-televised game. Davis, he running back, carried the team's hope for anarried the genme-winnine touchdown into end one that evering on ABC, in black and white. Yet all the momentum that SU carried into the sixties would be rerouted by the changing imes and ultimately would take the school in a irection that Tolley could not have seen - and

The atmosphere was
The atmosphere was at times repressive for Students of color at SU in 1960, as John Robert Cotton Bowl against the University of Texas, Allmmerican Davis and black teammates Art Baker and John Brown were spit on by Texas players. The three black Syracuse athletes had to stay in eparate housing from their teammates.
Back on campus, greek houses - which dominated social life at SU - were racially segregated, and they remain so today. White fraterniies and sororities throughout the 1950 s discrimi nated not only against blacks, but also against simply take a fow more years of festering until the racism would spark major protests.

Meanwhile, as conflict heated east Asia, protest on campus began increasingly who served as SU chancellor from 1969 to 1971. Ithink probably there was so much concen that the Vietnam War was so intense that ever hingelse was subsumed beneath it," Corbally said In August of 1964, an intensely serious Pres house I and in his speech dedicating the building nnounced for the first time the country's plans to came just four days after the first US I mis remar al ercation with North Vietmam in the GulforTontcin

By the following year, Davis was dead. Kennedy was dead. And hanging from the roof of "God is dead." The decade had tumed.

The catalyst that brought about resurgence in Freidrich Nietzsche's message was SU religion professor Gabriel Vahanian. The theologian actu and believe in God but felt that the age of

For many students another
For many students, another era in SU histo nts" was the har ard students throughout his 28 -year reipn
Tolley was a member of the old school of aduthoritative He had steered the unversity widid cantrol duming the unive
In the 19606 , students would try to grab from the administration power over the dorms, the admission process, the food services. But what dey reaily reached for was control over their own as their generation increasingly was siphoned into duty in Vietram.

Tolley would resist, finally handing over the university to Corbally in 1969, right in the midst of ne of SU's most turbulent days.
But Tolleys attitude had never wavered. A the Vietnam War escalated, students began to see the ROTC as a sign of military influence on th campus. At the time, ROTC was a mandatory clas timent turaded ach tuent turaed ag uriverty

At a studdent protest against ROTC in 1964 Tolley came down from a stand where he was watehing cadets march and struck a student with his cane, bruising the young man's arm. The D.O. report

Wrote Greene: "In 1968, Tolley's inflexible response to a series of demonstrations - most no tably the March lock-in at the Administration Building to protest the university's allowing of a$\frac{30}{\sin } \mathrm{man}$

The thing ' enjoyed the most and being most exciting, was being a part of a huge community of people my own age, from all over the country and the world. It was my first time away from home, of responsibility, no one telling me what to do, and being pre sented with lots of different choic es - What to study, who to be friends with and how late to stay up, whether to go to a certain class; being presented with the opportunity to make mistakes, for.
66 formember the Blizzard of 66 for four to five days. There even being able to go to Marshall Street.
weekenember certainly the fall weekends, the fall games. the grayness that descended over lift until May remember going to The Dai ly Orange and spending time a 10 to 11 and waiting for the edi or, Tom Jones. to finish to go conk and get breakfast at ike's nvariably had a hole to fill. so would sit down to write press re would go to damesville to the pinting plan

One of the memories that re ally stands out was my broad casting class, when we were re auired to write some narration and tell a story usine music. I re member writing about 10 minutes at the beginning using Gersh win's Rhapsody in Blue, buildin at the time, it was very good. at the time, it was very good, surprised myself at how good it was. The teacher and other stu dents were impressed, and 1 saw alent I had that I should devel op. It was the first real sign tha adio and TV. but that I could have a career in it.

Stephen Kroft ' 71 is a corre 60 Minutes companies such as Dow Chemical, then the lead ing supplier of napalm, to recruit on campus ed a committee made up of both faculty and

By the end of the decade, the cam ome to know its share of radicals sus would come to know its share of radicals. Students university's Methodist roots. Without the right to vote or to be heard even within their own univer sities, some young people would become pit bull for justice.

In student politics, no one person was more vocal than David Ifshin, who won the student gov ernment presidency in 1969. He beat Lou Jacobs that year, who whe campaigning said, Im com ng out against revolution, the kind that puts a wn"

Jacobs wore a tie, Ifshin a turtleneck
In 1969, Ifshin had mangy hair, recessed dark eyes and a goateed, pockmarked face. He was a norm in the side of the administration and a ded cated activist that spent the $r$ ing for change through politics.

His first goal that year was not to end racism or to protest the war. Instead, he fought for resi dence hall autonomy - a movement that had captured the campus' support because it allowed for the freedom or alcohol consumption in dorn cood callin for the resignation of food service head Utrula Pettingill

But as Ifshin tol told the D.O., his vendetta against Pettingill was about taking traditiona emversity control out of the hands of ration. Ifhin fet that students pos sessed the right to "significant control over supportive services that mercilessly exploit us," he wrote to Corbally,
'I think David (Itshin) was doing what he wa supposed to be doing, and doing it Loudy, said David Tatho who now wors as a fine arts fessor at SU, was often in the role of disciplinari $r$ in his office an. Ifshu a new demand, Tatham said.
"I found him to be quite typical," Corbally said. 'I didn't have an extremely high regard for they represented more than they really did.

But Ifshin also organized a 10,000 -person march against the Vietnam War from Walnu Park to downtown Syracuse on Oct 15, 1969. On that day, students gained some ineasure of repre sentatives became full-voting mernbers of the University Senate, Greene wrote.

It was the first of two moratoriuns on the war that Ifshin organized. He would spend his tenure as head of the SU student government travelling to national conventions and lessons learned there to SU. "Because he kept at it for quite a while after he "Because $h$

In fact, Ifshin went on to become an adviser to President Bill Clinton and worked for the Israeli lobby in Washington.
in is where he encountered Sen. vohn Mc Cain in the mid-1980s, as the Arizona senato and presidential candidate told a reporter. McCain recalled Ifshin - knew Ifshin - from a speech Ifshin had made in favor of the communists on a trip to North Vietram

McCain, a Navy pilot, had been shot down and captured by North Vietnamese troops. He Spent five years as a prisoner of war. The North propaganda in McCain's cell morning to night to propaganda in McCain's cell morning

Ifshin, in his work 15 years later in Wash ington, D.C., encountered McCain at a politica function, where he went over to apologize to the senator. Ifshin felt intensely sorry for the role he had played in McCain's torture, Ifshin told the reporter. Ifshin wanted to apologize for the speech and for his suppart of the communists.

I think looking back on it now,"Tatham said "though those were very emotional times for stu
But before Ifshin could say anything to McCain, the senator apologized first for a speech he onciled and became fast. friends. They later re onciled and became fast iriends. They later re Democracy there.

Ifshin died of cancer in 1996.
In 1969, the football team would be torm apart by charges of racism from black players, which would eventually lead to their boycott of which would

Daniel Carver, now a history teacher at local Phoenix High School, was a freshman linebacke at SU in 1969 .
"Most of us were taken by surprise by it," wer, who is white, said of the boycott. "All of a sudden, you start getting referred to as a racist.".

Nine black players boycotted Coach Ber Schwartawalder's team begioning in spring prac ice of 1969
Schwartzwalder had repeatedly promised a lack coach yet never delivered. IVe black ath letes reported racist treatment by fellow players a patronizial treatment for white players.
Negotiations between the boycotting players the coach and the university failed miserably. "(The players') leadership wasn't very good and certainly, the athletic department wasn't very cooperatis compromiser.* The university brought in already legendary ex-foothaller Jim Brown to bring the black players back onto the team, but after talking to players a contract was proposed the boycotters.

A contract was proposed that called for apologies from the black players for spliting with was Iatly rejected.
"Anybody with any real pride would not have done it," Corbally said. City residents became pas sionately involved in the boycott. This was unique to any protest of which Corbally ssid he has been

protests in which $\Gamma$ ven

 protests in which ive been involved because out inCorthally said.

The ensuing season saw threats of game dis ruption if the demands of the boycotting players were not met. Those demands were the employ the tices on the team. The medical and academic prac Kansas on Sept. 26, 1970 was preceded by rumors of violence.

A barbed-wire fence was set up around the A Geld in Archbold Stadium
Protesters outside the game clashed with police, who tear-gassed them down Marshall Street an attacis on police chief Tom Sardino's car. The D.O. reported that mounted police rode down M reet cracking heads with batons.

A council was set up to review the athletic department and came to the conclusion after a 10 week investigation that racist harassment was Kemnedy's question in 1960, Is this lead ership good enough? had been answered by the students of SU in the course of a decade. No, they place were not sstisfactory. And they had worked hard to shape their destinies out of a nebulous era of rebellion

"Every generation has something that tests them," said Carver, the linebacker turned teacher. "It opened your eyes to a lot of things."

TIMELINE  \section*{T 1980}

The men's basketball team culminates Beat Siena Week with a 99.64 win. Beat Siena Week fea tures a campus-wide blitz of tee shirts, drink specials, pranks and record sales. A week later, the euphoria subsides as SU bids farewell to Manley Field House - and a 57 game home winning streak - with a loss to Georgetown.

The popular Orange Café closes.

1983  Junior Vanessa Williams becomes the first black woman to be named Miss America. She later is forced to relinquish her crown after  Penthouse magazine publishes nude photographs taken of her years before.

1981

The University Senate approves a 12 percent tuition increase

1982

More than 800 angry students jeer Evangelist George "Brother Jed" Smock, and two people in the crowd assault him as he stands preaching on the Quad. Smock told students that they would "burn in hell" if they drink. do drugs or hiss before they are married.

1983

Raymond Carver, professor of English, renowned author and the driving force behind one of the nation's best creative writ ing programs, takes a leave of absence. He never returns to SU, dying of lung cancer in 1988.

Coming Back Together, a reunion of SU's AfricanAmerican and Latino alumni, attracts more than 300 former students and guests. The reunion is the first of its kind in the nation. Successive eunions are held in 1986, 1989 and 1992.

The lacrosse team rallies to defeat Johns Hopkins in the NCAA championship game and earns its first of five NCAA championships.

1984

D Waaser dies when a Day Hall elevator door pins his head and legs, moves upward and opens, dropping him to his death.

1985

The Schine Student Center opens, more than 73 years after The Datly Orange first addressed the need for a student union.

Led by freshman sensa tion Felisha Legette, Syracuse upends Villanova $57-56$ to win its only Big East women's basketbal championship. It marks the first Big East title for an SU women's sports program.

1986

SU and the City of Syracuse settle a five-year dispute over taxes on nonscholastic events in the Carrier Dome. The city keeps $$ 1.2$ million in previous university payments but exempts the stadium from real-estate tax. The city gets 75 cents a ticket for major concerts and sports events and is guaranteed at least $$ 100,000$ a year.

Students form Undergraduates for a Better Education, an activist organization aimed at improving both SU's academics and student relations with university administrators.

College of Arts and Sciences graduate Elliott Portnoy accepts a scholarship to attend Oxford University as SU's first Rhodes Scholar.

Members of the student group People for Peace and Justice interrupt CIA recruiters conducting student interviews, distribute leaflets condemning CIA activities and attempt to place the recruiters under citizen's arrest, all the while chanting, ${ }^{\text {ch }}$ CIA, go away! How many have you killed today?"

1987

Ralph Ketcham, professor of political science, history, public affairs and American studies, is named national professor of the year by the Counci for Advancement and $\square$

1950s

continued from page 7
jersey No. 33. Without inquiry, an equipment maifback a loundered Syracuse uniform completing maybe the most significant pass in Orangemen history

Adomed with No. 44, Brown led the Orangemen to the 1957 Cotton Bowl and went on ing records. As his he started to communicate with a smooth tailback from nearby Elmira.

The All-American spent hours with a tenage Ernie Davis, taking more than a year to convince him that staying home to wear orange beat suiting up for the football empire mighty Notre Dame lost the battle, and surgmighty Notre Dame lost the battie, and surging Syracuse acquired the foundation for its national title

SU faltered a tad after its $28-27$ loss to Texas Christian on the first day of 1957. With Brown's eligibility exhausted and his protege still a schoolboy, SU slipped to a $5-3$ - 1 record.
Wit

With Davis toiling on the freshman squad a year later, Syracuse posted eight wins, enough to earn a trip to the Orange Bowl and a meeting with legendary Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners. Despite the 21-6 New Year's Day setback, Syracuse coach Ben ing toward a run at a national title.
ing toward a run at a national title. "The coaches expected to have andefeated season or a national championship in 1960, said Ger Schwedes, the lone captain of would mature as quickly as we did."

With Davis running with the varsity, the players sensed something special from tions loomed around the tight-knit bunch.

The anointed starting quarterback for the 1959 campaign, veteran Bob Thomas, underwent back surgery and failed to recover in time for preseason workouts. Over the summer, Schwartzwalder phoned Schwedes, his starting halroack, telling hirn to workout his right arm and prepar primary signal-caller.

Schwedes, under center, left a gaping hole in the backfield. With a pair of sophomores, Dave Sarette and Dick Easterly, as the season unsure of a leader for their dynamic offense.
left us we of the last preseason scrimmages Joe Szomby disappointed, eer spanned more than four decades in SU athletics. "Our scout team ran through us with Kansas" plays. But we regrouped and made some personnel changes."

All-American quarterback John Hadl and the Jayhawks helped write the opening chapter of SU's memorable season. All three quarterbacks saw action, but Sarette shined win at 20,000 -seat Archbold Stadium.

Sarette's emergence sent Schwedes to complete the full house backfield. The duo joined with Davis and fullback Art Baker to behind the "Sizable Seven", a clique of five offensive linemen who all starred as ends in high school and two of Szombathy's pupils bookending the line.

The seven plus the four equaled what Sports Illustrated deemed "Orange Hell on Piety Hill," the 11 greatest Orangemen to line up on one side of the ball at once. SU led the nation in total offense (452 yards per game), rushing offense ( 314 yards per contest), points scored (39 an outing) and touchdown passes (22). The entire first string down passes (22). The entire first string led by Schwedes, who tallied 16 touchdowns and finished second in the country in points

Since 1992. I have been a clown in Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey in Ringling Bros. and Barmum oventer United States performing for millions of people with The Greatest Show on Earth. My job is making children of all ages smile and laugh.
In 1991. I went to Ringling's Clown College where I leamed to spit water. throw a pie, fall down and get back up again - all very important skills for a clown to have.

But the most important thing leamed about clowning, the one skill use most everycay an circus, did while a theatre student at Syracuse while a University.

My acting classes in the SU dra ma department stressed the method acting technique, tapping into the real emotions within you to bring a charactruth instead of just play acting

To me. clowning is no different My sophomore year at SU, 1 performed in a show called "The Rivals." played Bob Acres. a pathetic little country bumpkin trying to be some thing more than he was - a real ger tleman. He tried with all his heart to fit in with the upper class, yet he just Found up making a fool of hirnself From my point of view, it was really gut fragic. I knew how this poor lille guy ielt. I was this Euy, wanting to in, to be accepted. And yet the audi ence laughed and laughed.

It was a revelation to me. Yeah, falling down is funny and so is getring hit true reactions that spark the real, trom the audience You must be true and honest if you want the au dience to respond to you

When I told one of my acting teachers. Professor Edward Greer that after I graduated from SU I was going to Ringling Bros. and Bamurn me. II have trained you to do Shakespeare!

He absolutely did train me to do Shakespeare. And everyday at the circus, I still use that training.

David Solove ' 90 has performed with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus since 1991. He resides in Virginia.

scored.

Davis, crafty end Fred Mautino and large guard Bob Yates garnered All-America honors, and Schwartzwalder, the Rockne of of the year plaque.
of the year piaque.
"Nobody could
"Nobody could stop us," Schwedes said. We just knew we were going to win games ers that year."

From California to Carolina and South Florida to South Bend, a slew of teams boast ed talented squads that could compete with Syracuse. But besides a remarkable team chemistry, SU owned a distinct edge over each of their foes.

With most players competing on both of fense and defense, substitution rules dictate that a player could re-enter a game just once per quarter. Save sarette, all the Orangemen fatigue never became a factor, regardless of fatigue never became a factor,

Near the halfway point of each quarter, Sch wartzwalder would signal in 11 reserves, a group of under-recruited, big-hearted tough Euys who picked up the slack for a footbal Gerlick led the sacond tea. Easterly and Ai some writers dubbed it the No. 2 team in the nation.
"The first and second team each played halr the game," Schwedes said. "The second unit was all specialists, but everybody did their job on the field.

The momentum from the opener against Kansas carried into a clash with Maryland Experts assumed the Terps, six years re moved the Orangemen at Archbold But SU ne stymied Maryland, coasting to a $29-0$ triumph Davis busted out with 77 yards and his first ginsity touchdown, one of the improving offense.

Another Saturday meant another win as he last whispers of summer surrendered $t$ fall's chill. Navy became Victim No. 3, a 32-6 loser on a muggy afternoon in the Oyzter Bow at Norfolk, Va. SU returned to Archbold the next Saturday and overwhelmed Holy Cross 42-6, holding the Crusaders to minus-28 yards on the ground.

The crest of the roaring offensive wave came a week later on home turf. The Orangemen ran up 589 yards in a $44-0$ whitewash促 he yards ca Called ers say they could still run it blindfolded 40 years later. Fake to the fullback off tackle, shifting the defense toward massive Art Baker. Davis or Schwedes would swoop in from the wingback slot, take Sarette's give and bar rel through a ward paydirt.
"It was a delay draw, running it up the middie like that," Szombathy said. "It was in novative, and we did a lot of innovative things. ft was extremely successful."

SU ran its mark to 6-0 the next weekend, blitzing helpless Pitt 35-0 and jumping to No. 3 in the country. A showdown with Penn State lay half a fortnight away, two unbeatens battling for the top spot in the polls.

On a dreary afternoon in State College the Nittany Lions almost shattered an Orange dream season. Penn State scored early off o lumbering tackle Andy Stynchula's blocked 12 lead.

A 96-yard kickoff return by Roger Kauf mann left Penn State down a deuce with a hair under six minutes to play. Davis added to the tension by stepping out of bounds after fielding a kickofr at the seven.

But Schwartzwalder's ground attack prevailed, draining the clock with a 92 -yard drive that ended on the Penn St. 1-foot line as time expired. On the final possession, Davis frustrated the Nittany Lions, moving the chains and suffocating Penn State's Orang uspirations with his blazing speed.
"He's a great back," Penn State backfield coach Joe Paterno told reporters after the game. You can't nstrue

Now No. 1 in the land, the Orange rolled undefeated in November. The victories piled up: now seven, then eight, nine and ten. In the final regular season troika, the Orangemen pulverized Colgate, Boston University and UCLA by an aggregate 153-8.

A 71 -point shutout of the Red Raiders saw eight Orangemen score and prompted the rivalry to end mercifully in 1962 .

See 1950s next page

ERRIN NETF

The Daily Orange had such a rich his tory covering campus news. sporting versity policies or student organization stances that it became abundantly clear in 1991 that the newspaper could not ieop ardize such a storied past by continuting to receive furding from those under our scruti-

The year's events, ircluding the Gulf

 tion, perthe upcorning presidential elec the time in a put the 26 editors of the DO at making As crossroads of our own historic responsibility to ensure fair was party mty news coverage, but also my role to make certain decisions regarding the papers $f$ nancial thealth.Perhaps my studies focusing on American history under Professors Scott Strick heiped put a bit of rebellious spouk into my leadership of the paper. With the assistance of then-Editor in Chiel Jodi Larnagna, and takine seriously the notion of dumping stu dent funding.

We had already been subjected to the shenanigans wielded by the Student Government Association during budget time and by other studert organizations during years that the D.O. referendum (about whether to allocate student-fe

We agreed to finally becorne an independent newspaper, free of any monetary string's tying us to the student puppeteers in an organization more concerned - at than the pood of the campus at large We than the good of the campus at large. We were not finance majors or math whizzes and a part of me feared such a mownizes and a part of me feared such a move might acted more on emotion and the necessary role of the Fourth Estate and the Firs Amendment in our future caxeer paths.

Guidance from Newhouse Dean Devid Rubin and Professors Joel Kaplan, Joan over the edge and tell the SGA we didn' wart the studen fee money an we didn actual events happened so suddenly it seemed difficult to capture the importance of the moment at the time. What I do re member vividly is celebrating our freedom with a case of Sam Adams upstairs at 744 Ostrom Ave. With the knowledge that we were finally on course to a future of com pletely independent coverage.

Erin Neff 92 was the managing editor of The Daily Orange when the paper broke away from Student Govemment Association stopy and brosdcast foumalism and worts as city hall reporter for the "Las Vegas Sur."

ITCHINRTR

1950 s

continued from previous page
In a 46-0 win in Beantown, Schwedes called the offensive sets in the second half af ter noticing the Terrier sidelines could under stand Schwartzwalder's signals. Meanwhile, the SU defense stoned BU, and the Terriers left Nickerson Field with an incomprehensible minus- 88 rushing yards.

Hidden beneath the offensive onslaught, the Syracuse defense struck fear in the most cohesive scoring attacks. Schwartzwalder preached multiple defenses, a concept somewhat radical to the late 1950 s .

His unit thrived on last-minute switches along the line designed to confuse the offense's blocking schome. He loved blitzing and hard blocking schome. He loved blitzing and hard hitting, and the physical style of play bullied all his foes between the oceans.

The Orangemen nnnihilated opponents, intimidating the meek and bowling over college football's big boys. The unit yielded fewcr than 20 yards rushing each time out and held its 11 challengers to less than 100 total yards per game.
by and large, fantastic,* said Roger Davis, an offensive and defensive lineman. "No one grined anything on the ground against us.n

After the BU win, the Orange Bowl in formed SU it wouid select the school to play in Minmi for the second straight year, provid in Minmif for the second straight yoar, providing they flushed UCLA at the Los Angeles Colineum.

SU rolled the Bruins $36-8$, and soon after the players voted for a weck in South Florida and a probable cakewalk over 6-3 Missouri in the New Year's Day game.
-fled vod media the Orangemen open for a full-fledged media bombardment. A trip to the Orange Bowl meant SU would duck No. 2 Texas, who waited in Dallas' Cotton Bowl. In late November, Schwartzwalder nsked his players to reconsider, and the second ballot shipped SU to the Lone Star State.

Never ducking a test, the SU head coach knew he led a unit courageous enough to fight athletic and social obstacles in the south A 97-pound ninth-grade quarterback and a 152 -pound center at the University of West Virginia, Schwartzwaider left coaching in his late 20s to leap out of planes with the 82 nd airbornc. He soared over Normandy on D-Day his bravery earning him a silver star and re tirement with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

The parachute pack went away, but the military value remained. A mesh of Lombordi's will and IIalas' savy, the disciplinarian became a father, a gridiron mentor and a personnel manager for his green Orangemen.
"He had a huge impact on me personally," said Ed Bailey, a defensive back who played from $1954-57$ and lined up alongside Jim Hrown. "He was so tough, so demanding, yet he knew exactly when to give you a pat on the back. That kind of discipline and direction was exceptional."

A trip to Texas also brought a culture in Dallas, a local Caucasian barber refused Brown a haircut. A Cotton Bowl matchup signified a staredown between Syracuse and its three black players, Baker, Ernie Davis and second-string oifensive tack.
and a segregated Deep South.

Syracuse never blinked. Schwedes met

"WE JUST  ,  WE WERE GOING TO WIN GAMES. VTRTD S

trode toward midfied captain Roger Davis rode toward midfield for the coin flip, the UT band broke out "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," and several Longhorns burst into tears. But a fired-up team and a pro-Texas d fell silent three plays later.
SU faced a third-and-13 from its own 13 yard-stripe, and Schwartzwalder took a risk on his squad's first possession. He called the halfoack pitch pass, a play that started with a toss to Schwedes, who then could dart a toss to Schwedes, Who a hole, hit end Gerry Skonieczki on an out pattern, or Ioft a bomb for Ernie Davis farther down the sideline.

A Texas corner blanketed Skonieczki, eral players inspired high school teams by speaking at postseason banquets, real life he. roes preaching footballs gospel of hard work and teamwork that carried SU to college football's blue ritbon.

The Orangermen returned home kings of a region.

Winning the big prize placed an exclamation point on Syracuse football's revival, the program's coronation as a member of the Eastern Elite. SU's nine-point triumph legitwho took some lumps to make Syracuse a winner.

One of my best friends at Syra cuse University. Joel Swerdlow. had a strange but interesting hobby collecting "quotes" on three-by-five cards. In my campaign when I was elected president of the Student As sociation as an SU junior in 1966. selected and printed some of his quotes that epitomized my political philosophy and hung them all over he campus as my campaign posters. My favorite quote. by George Bernard Shaw; "There are those who see things as they are and ask WHY, and there are others who dream of things as they might who dream of things as be and ask. WHY NOT?

My role as a student leader at SU sought to change to improve the university environment as we asked ourselves. WHY NOT? Let me highlight some of the intiatives beeun by me and the studerss of my era, and you decide if we affected our ives, and possibly yours.

The pass/fail system of gradng did not exist when we enterced SU. So, we asked why can't courses be taken for the pure pleasure of learning without "the grade" dissuading students from taking nonmajor courses. We convinced the faculty to test this radical idea of pass/fail, which has continued ever since, both at $S U$ and then nation. wide.

In the mid-1960s, school segregation was prevalent. and students at SU asked why? So, we set up the at SU asked why? So, we set up the Leadership Through Education Scholarship Fund for disadvantaged students funded solely by annual student meal sign-aways. The first scholarship recipient was a black student named Elbert English from Selma. Ala., the site of serious race riots at the time.

When 1 took office in 1966, the Student Government had absolutely NO funds provided by the university. student each semester as a stu dent fee." This money was simply added to the university general bud added to the university general bud student pressure. the administra tion allocated a portion of this money to the Student Association to fund many worthwhile student-managed projects.

Our burgeoning maturity notwithstanding. SU treated students as children when I came to he Hill under the theory, "in loco parentis. The unersity acted as a Daren and imposed 10 o clock curtews drinting no cars for st dorms. no drinking. no cars for students arid no student participation in the Se, ulatory affairs of the university. So, we asked why cant the system be chaneed to alrow siudents ta par ticipate in the process which reguated their lives. After student protest rallies, mass petitions to alumni and trustees and much "warfare," the University Council came about (now called the Undersity Senate).
Subsequently, students began partieipating in changing the rules and regulations.

During my struggle as Student Association president to change the wis it wes, ! was places on discipl. nary probation by the administration. The student court resiened in protest, the student senate called for class boycotts and The Daily Orange was told what 10 print and what not to print ... leading to the birth of an off-campus student newspaper. The Promethean. Thereafter, The Daily Orange became an independent paper and is still running strong today. And as for me. I was reinstated as a student in good standing, became president of the Senior Mens' Honorary and led the 1968 graduation ceremony as student class marshal

To the students at SU in the year $2000 \ldots 1$ ash you to dream of things as they might be and encourage you to ask yourself if your initia tives today will affect the Class of 2030. My answer to you ... "WHY Not?"

Peter Jeffer 'GS was one of SU's most influentide student leaders. actiotsts and poiticians in Long Beach, N.Y.

WE COULD'VE BEATEN THE

with his head coach, athletic director Lew Andreas and Chancellor William Tolley to devise a team strategy. The squad linked up with an open-minded minister at the University of Houston, which became SU's home away from home in mid-December. SU rallied behind the discriminated players, even departing early from the postgame bancuet after Baker Hotel officials asked the black trio to leave.

The season's lone racial scar came part way through the bowl matchup. After a Syra cuse running play, a handful of Texas players shouted slurs toward John Brown near the Longhorn sideline. One spat, provoking Brown to charge. Coaches stormed in to break up the ruckus, but the message sent by UT represented a nation heading for more ever desired.

We had no trouble in Texas until we got on the field," Schwedes said. "No trouble with food or rooms or anything. It Still, the 60 winutes of football masked the 15 -secort Longhorn brain freeze. As Gary "Air" Gait graduates from SU as the NCAA's all-time leading lacrosse goal scorer with 192, a record that still stands.

1991

Kenneth A. Shaw, former president of the University of Wisconsin system, becomes SU's 10th charcellor. Shaw will institute sweeping changes; cutting faculty positions, student enrollment and setting a goa! for reforming SU's financial health.

Philosophy professor  Laurence Thomas spends $$ 108.03$ on a quarter-  page advertisement in Th  Daily Orange to

D Support of Education. SU completes its most successful athletic season ever, as the men's basketball team loses the NCAA tournament championship game to Indiana on a last-second basket, the football team goes undefeated and ties Auburn in the Sugar Bowl, and the lacrosse team wins the NCAA championship.

1988

Playboy magazine officials cause a mild furor wher they spend several days on campus interviewing and photographing female students.

Four days before Christmas. 35 students in SU's Division of International Programs Abroad are killed over Lockerbie, Scot|ana, as a result of the terrorist bombing of Pan Am Flight 103. The tragedy leads to the creation of a campus memorias, scholarship fund and anrual campus "Remembrance Week" in memory of thuse who died.

The gold-plated scissors used in every formal rib-bon-cutting dedication of an SU building since 1952 are lost amid the confusion of a student protest during the dedication of the Center for Science and Technology.

1990

Five years after the Schine Student Center opens on North Campus, the Goldstein Student Center opens on South Campus. and Schwedes, colling left, found himself almost optionless. On a fated motored pasta bewildere yards, Davis hauled in Schwedes' lob and galyards, Davis hauled in Schwedes lob and galloped down the heart of the field for an 87 yard score.
halfir had thrown 15 passes that year as a halfback, so we ran the play a lot," Schwedes said. "But Ernie Davis ran a different pattern. There's a lot of impro

Davis scored another touch down, and his third quarter interception set up SU's third score. Slowed by an aggravated hamstring pull that almost kept him out all together, pull that almost kept him out all together, an undisputed national championship.

In the Salt City, bedlam reigned. All season, greek house parties emptied into Walnut Park for postgame delirium each autumn Saturday. When the Cotton Bowl bid announcement reached the student body via radio, a train of undergrads paraded through a downtown movie theater in celebration. Sev-

Davis, who led SU to a 15-14 Liberty Bowl win over Miami a year to the day after the national title win. Although no bowl came and only Orangeman and the first AfricanAmerican to win the Heisman Trophy.

In his acceptance speech, Davis lauded his teamrnates and coaches for their support. A look at the stat sheet shows an Orange cast of college boys helped Davis gain his acco-

But zero teams in zero sports dominated a season and garmered the label of "champion" without a full-fiedged superstar such as Ernie Davis. Syracuse boasted a pair in the Ermie Davis. Syracuse boasted a pair in the 1950 s, a duo that bore them to greatness. 1950s, a duo that bore them to greatness. tions and a two-digit number, Brown and Davis today go down together as the leaders of the brightest run in SU athletics lore.

We could ran and we could pass," Szombathy said. Ben Schwartzwalder and his staff were very competent, and we played in front of full, excited crowds. It truly was the golden age of Syracuse football. ence.

The Daily Orange becomes fully independent from SU by rejecting Student Government Association funds.

1996

SU basketball team plays for the NCAA national championship, ultimately losing $76-67$ to the Kentucky Wildcats, coached by former SU assistant Rick Pitino.

1992

The Muscular Dystrophy
Association Dance Marathon celebrates its 20th anniversary and more than $$ 1$ million in contributions.

1993

Eggers Hall opens as part of the Maxwell School. honoring deceased Chancellor Melvin Eggers.

1994

Seana Laplace becomes the first black woman elected president of the Student Government Association.

1995

For the first time, no classes are held in recognition of the istamic holy day Eid Ul-Fitr.

1996

Led by freshman quarterback Donovan McNabb. the Orangemen thrash Clemson 41.0 in the Gator Bowl.

1997

Several SU students, most of whom are Asian, are allegedly denied service at a local Denny's restaurant and subsequently beaten in a nearby parking lot. Litigation is still pending.

William Cooper, a former Navy official turned speaker, cancels a planned lecture at SU, Still receiving more than $$ 4,000$ in student funds due to a binding contract, he speaks several blocks off-campus at the University Best Western and callects several thousand more dollars in speaker fees.

1998

University employees including some faculty and most food service

19705

continued from page 9

said.
Pardee, who carne to SU in 1948, said there was a movement in the university to hinder the growth of campus curnputer technology. Not only was the cost of computing an issue, but some administrative members questioned the computer's merit in the classroom.

In fact Chancellor William P. Tolley, who served at SU from 1942 to 1969, said that computing was "a ball and chain around the neck of the university."

Before students owned computers, courses were taught differently.
"Classes were being taught about the computer, not on them," Dosa said.

Youth tended to be a tremendous advantage when learning about computers os they were eager to plug into this new and excting field.
"Back in the 6os, the students and adults had to be separated and taught in different classes," Pardee said. "The kids didn't come in with any preconceptions and they picked up the stuff faster."

There was also the fear that these younger, more technologically savvy students would use their computing skills and break into student their computing skills and break into student records and change grades. records and change grades.
That's why to this day the administrative system is separate from the students" Pardee said

These machines of the 1960 s and 1970 s came equipped with software, which could handle simple mathematical functions - a much simpler, archaic version of a computer database.

Because of the computers' limitations, classroom projects were also basic - at least compared to today's standards. According to computer media service newsletters from the 1960s, some greek system members used the computers to sort out who made long distance phone calls.
 databases," Dosa said. "But this was a pre-Internet campus."

Before SUS move to a more complex computer network, students primarily worked with a series of terminals all connected to a single mainframe - in essence, keyboards wised to monitors.

Technology has come a long way since the Model 650 . Students routinely use the Internet for both recreational and academic uses. By the Fall 2000 semester all South Campus apart ments, along with all North Campus residence halls, will be wired directly into the school's system, so students can receive network access without a phone line.
"There's nothing like the feeling of getting email from students or friends," Doss said.

Garth Foster, professor of electrical and computcr engineering, has been at SU since 1967 , when he was a graduate student. Foster said that since then, computers have not only dominated culture here at SU, but also global culture.
"Computers are clearly the century's biggest story," he said.

Even though pioneers like IST's Taylor blazed a revolutionary path, it was not until the early 1980 s that computers were accepted into mainstrearn society.

Nincteen-eighty-one was the year when IBM ushered in a new era with the advent of its version of the personal computer.

Equipped with two noppy disk drives, and what curreat computer users would call a meager 16 kilobytes of random-access memory (RAM), In the was a retail success.
In the first year and a halr of sale, 136,000 units were sold, according to IBM Ggures. Busi-- nesses like Sears Roebuck and Co and Computnesses hese Sears, Roebuck and Co . and Computrland capitalized at a price of $$ 1,565$ per systern,
After enjoying great success for several years

With me. I loved the broadcasting courses that irook. But what was so valuable was being able to work with The Daily Orange as a freshman and sophomore, and I was working in the city as a oise jockey and spent one year coing the Syracuse Chiefs. They allowed flexibility and they encouraged it. Seven of us were fortunate enough to get jobs at real radio stations. and you can'tget better jobs. My most vivid memory was the thrill of being at The Dally orange as a freshman and being thrown right into it.

There was a special program they had at the state fair and invited prospective jourralists to work on the State Fair News. I was right out of school in Erooklyn, it blew me away. Bob Barker was there, boxers. Syracuse athletes. nationally known entertainers. It was an amazing experience which led to a jumpstart at the 0.0.

I remember late dinners at the Varsity and Cosmo's. I enjoyed the whole sense of going down to Marshall Street, was the whole package. for me it was the perfect schoot. You just don't have that at a lot of campuses. If they asked me to come back again as a freshman, would. Those were the best years of my ife. of my life.

Marv Albert 63 is the voice of the NBA's New York Knicks for Madison Square Garden Network. He won the Cableace Award for Outstanding Play by Play Announcer six times for Play by Play Announcer six times for his work with MSG. In 20 years with NBC, he covered two Olympic Summer Games and six NBA Finals.
with its line of Apple II computers, Apple Inc. was the first company to introduce a practical windows-based operating system, doing so in 1984 on the new Macintush computer.

These two computers not only transformed businesses, but also education institutions like SU, Pardee said.

The personal computer took full advantage of micro-transistors and cnabled what at the time would be powerful systems. They also fit neatly on a desktop, compared to carlier computers that would literally take up rooms worth of space. cient. The computers then were mean and antheir own little package because they made so much noise -- they drove me crazy.

In 1984, SU initiated a $$ 70,000$ project to install underground cable lines connecting the administrative computing system with the rest of the campus. Wiring computer systems together was a key step for the university, Foster said.

And while the computer revolution was conquering the hearts of were forsing alliances.
"Professots ased to hop on an airplane to तBBM's plant in) Poughkeepsie and teach night classes," said James Tomkins, SU's director of Computing and Media Services. More IBM employees had SU degrees than any other university in the world."

That relationship, however, has deteriorated over the years as more and more companies have ofered better products at competitive prices, Tomkins said.

The early 1980s saw a few buildings receive network connections, including Bird Library and Watson Hall.

But as the decade progressed, a sudden inClux of computer clusters sprouted up on campus. Clusters opened up at Huntington Beard Crouse Hall and Kimmel Hall to satisfy the students' increase in computer use.

Kimmel Computer Cluster, the university's first 24 -hour computer center, even traded New Wave for the next wave. Kimmel was once home to the Jabberwocky, an SU-owned nightclub. Students who once danced with their feet on the loors of the Jabberwocky were now dancing with floors of the Jabberwocky were now dancing with their fingers on the keyboards of the Kimmel their fingers on th

As personal computers became more and more popular, typewriters were thrust onto the endangered list. In 1985, the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications closed its one remaining typewriter station and replaced it with a computer cluster.

There is irony in SU switching from typeriters to computers.

SU's L.C. Smith School of Engineering was actually founded by Lyman Comelius Smith, cofounder of Smith Corona, and the once prosperous typewriter/word processor company that filed for bankruptcy in 1996. Smith Corona was vietimized by the computer's popularity.

In fact, SUs ties with typewriters go even further than the university. L.C. Smith and Brothers Typewriter Company, which would merge in 1926 with Corona Typewriters, formed in 1903 in the city of Syracuse.

But perceived advancements in computer technology were not always warmly weleomed at SU. As with all endeavors, SUS budget for computers was closely scrutinized.
"Desktop computers were a lot more expensive than they are loday," Tomkins said. Fen years ago, it cost $$ 3,000$ for a typical machine, compared to $$ 1,500$ right now."

But after budgets were allocated, students and faculty alike became mesmerized by computers' ability to store and process data.

Computers were well received early on at SU and other campuses as well," Foster said.

The 1980s also marked the first generation of students growing up with computers. No longer was this technology "new." Before then, colleges were students' first exposure to computing, and professors possessed equally limited knowledge. Computers also become more affordable, allowing students to become acquainted with their systems in their own dorm rooms.

Now that computers are a viable part of today's culture, the future looks bright.
"I envision all students bringing laptops to lass,"' Tomkins said.

Others are excited about so-called digital technology.
"Students want as much full text as possible, said Susan Palmer, an IST graduate and Comell University librarion. When I was an undergrad, I would have to make photocopies and pull out documents. Databases don't do these mechanical steps for the students."

But fret not librarians. Students can't depend on machines alone.
There's so much more information out there give us this look - as if theyre lost
"Students still need to know how to use it."

My first glimpse of this big campus. crawling with Goon Squaders and students when I arived from a small town of 3,000 was thilinge. I won't forget my lively creative was the workshops tauget by the tate Donald Wnting worksto Ds taught by the late Donalo A. Dike. I sat between classmates Joyce Carol Oates and Judint Eloomingdale. I be came a helong friend and comespondent with the former and eventually married the latter. It was a blast attencing the Cotton Bowl garne as a mernber of the SU Marching Band and watching Jimmy Brown at most tead the Orangemen to viciory. Who could forget hearing Robet Frost read and recite his poems in Hendricks Chapel of Aaron Copland conduct his work in Crouse Coltege? A very different pleasure came when being tapped for one of the two senior men's fonoraties, late on autumn evenine on the fromt steps of my fratemity house.

But pertaps the single most vivid itt pression was made by Delmore Sctwartz, as a visiting protessor in 1962, when I was a teaching assistart in Engish. Farnows ard disheveled, Sctwartz tauglt fiction witing and courses in Mitton, Eior and Yeats. I was read in Louls Untermeyer's and Osca read in Louls Untermeyer's and Oscar Williams' anthologies, including -The Heavy Bear Who Goes with Me.- In the Heavy Bear Who Goes With Me." -In the Naked Bed, in Plato's Cave" and "Starlight Naked Bed, in Plato's Cave" and "Starligh Whes intuition Pierced the Tweive." Schwart with the exception of Oates. Bur she wet with tre exception or Oates. Bur she was 50 reticent as an undergraduate, her genius was yet aloux in workshop.

To my delight. Schwartz and 1 became triends, or as much as two can when one suffers periods of severe par hoia. It was Sctwartz who first quipoed Even paranoids have real enemves. - Du ing his Syracuse years, which tasted until 1965, he was comvinced he had been giv en an upstate appointment to clear the path for Nelson Rockemeller to conduct an affair withs his exwife. Elizabeth Pollet, in New York City. But during his good days, Sclwartz was incredisly witty and a brilliant comersationalist. th could be said of him, as it was of Oscar Wide, that he put his trik. He loved to hold forth before students in The Orange Bar on Crouse Avenue.
Some nights he slept on the sofa in the Some nights he slept on the sofa in the basement lounge of the Hall of tanbasement lounge of the Hall of Today, I am Delmore Schwart's literary executor, th has been my pleasure to edit and plblish a book of his last poems, volumes of his verse and humorous essays ward to his nephew and heir some hand ward to his nephew and heir some handsome royalty checks, especially those from Japan. Japanese readers are crazy over this Brookinntorn Jewish philosopth cal poet. So even today, Deimore Sctw.

and Syracuse are muchion on mind.

Fobert Philics " 60 ss the author or ed kor of some 27 whimes of poetry, fiction. criticism and belles lettres $A$ professor of

The members of The Syracuse University Alumai Club of Sarorota/monatee. Inc. Congratulate Syrocure Univerrity a Century Of Succers. from the s.U. fioridion. we with you another 100 years to Tet the sunchine in".

Good Luck to Syracuse
University from
The SU Alummi Club and Alumni Admissions Representatives of Greater Cleveland. You'll alway have support in Northeast Ohio.

The L.C. Smith College of Engineering $\boldsymbol{\&}$ Computer Science Alumni Association thanks all of the Alumni and friends who have contributed to the Engineering College Scholarship Fund.
For further information please contact the Dean's Office. Kathy Pollard @(315)443-2545 or e-mail kfpollar@syr.edu

http://www.bcpl.net/~sualum

> e-mail - sualum@bcpl.net

Warm wishes an the New Millennium

 Fram Ghe Syracuse Alumni Club of Greater P3altimare. (20)

The first meeting of Naples Alumni Association was held April 1, 1978 at the Ramada Inn with our Speaker, Chancellor Eggers, introduced by Ellie Ludwig. Over 21 years we have been honored to have Chancellor Shaw, Coach McPherson and many of the College Deans as our featured speakers.

D workers, strike for seven days before reach. ing an agreement with the university. Many faculty members cancel their classes or conduct them off campus.

An all-day party turned-riot on Livingston Avenue ends with Syracuse emergency response team police arresting 39 peo. ple, mostly SU students.

A Labor Day derecho storm, packing winds in excess of 120 mph , rips though the SU campus and the city of Syracuse. More than $$ 4$ million in damage is done to the university, several students are injured and three Syracuse residents die in the chaos.

Athletic Director Jake Crouthamel announces the termination of the Syracuse men's gymnastics program, a varsity sport since 1947.

SU lacrosse great Casey Powell graduates as a twotime National Player of the Year and the school's alltime leader in points.

1999

More than 70 students protest on the lawn of The Daily Orange, accusing the paper of publistring an edtorial cartoon depicting SGA President Michaeljulus idani as a "sambo."

SU head tennis coach Jesse Dwire resigns amid allegations of sexual harassment by former piayers and a $$ 762$ miltion lawsuit against the university.

The SU men's lacrosse team crashes the NCAA finals as the lowest seed ever. No. 8. It is the team's record ninth trip to the big game, and 17th consecutive appearance in the Final Four. (it loses to Virginia 12-10.)

2000

Amid much hype, su escapes without major Y 2 K computer bug problems.

Timeline compited by former News Editor Evan Thies, Mand Soorts Editor Dave Curtis and Sborts Edilor Dave Curtis
Source: SU Arehives and Daity Orange anchwes

On the G.1, Bill, 1 arrived in 47 . 1 wanted to become an actor, and studied under Sawyer Falk. It was a very rewarding period for me, having been given not only an academic backeround, but allowing me to per. form for audiences both on campus and in Syracuse proper. The kind of learnine that took place went beyond the picking up of a book or going to allowet me to prepare for ralo in allowed the to prepare for a role in the professional theater. Some of the classroom and in performances. the classroom and in performances. What I would waerience when i decided to hit Broadway and California. cided had studied as a kid at the Henry Street Playbouse in New York, Henry Street Playbouse in New York, house that woutd sectuit people in house that would recruit people in the neighborhood to do productrons and administrator was Esther Porter ane, who had worked with Halle Flannigan Davis, a member of Federal Theater, the precursor of the NEA. They would go into neighborhoods and teach people who were interested in performing. and at 15 years old, I got hooked. She said one of the places to consider vias Syracuse, because of Professor Falk. I trusted her

He was a person I wanted to wofk with. There was something about him that said the theater was his life. the theater was the common man's pulpit, and I realized when thinking could change He had a great intuitive grasp of what theater was supposed to be the didn't want students to take it as a minor. He worked with people who wanted to be actors. His criticisms were designed to keep out people who weren't dedicated He didn't want to waste the lives of people who were not serious about being aetors. 1 was made aware of what the ater was - great academician - he knew theater's Greek history, the oots or theatef. li was a him, and at times we were in touch in the middle of the nitht He took me under his wing and saw that I had some serious dealines When I left we stayed connected for When l left, we stayed connected for many years, meople who got me profsional shows.

When he died in 1961. they asked me to be one of the pall bearers. I named my daughter alter him. Belle Sawyer. I stiff keep in touch with his family.

Jerry Stiller '52 starred as Frank Costanza in "Seinrela" He now stars on the CBS show Hing of Queens, is finishing a memoir and his wife.

1980s

continued from page 10
For Syracuse in the 1980s, sports success began with the Dome

The largest on-campus, domed sports facix ty in the country, the Carrier Dome immediately became Syracuse's most farnous symbol after its opening in 1980.

With its position in the midde of SUS cannpus, its noise level for football games and the amount of fans that filled it for basketball, the Dome also became arguably the most famous college sports facility in the nation. Syracuse finished first in the ration in basketball attendance for nine straight years beginning with the $1984-85$ season.

Another major factor in the success of the athletic programs, according to then-SU head football coath Dick MacPherson, is SUs athletic director Jake Crouthamel.
"Two things made Syracuse a prominent athletic program," MacPherson said. "The Dome being on campus and take coming. He's an ideal boss."

Crouthamel came to Syracuse in March 1978, and two years later, SU found itself with the Dome and in the Big East, which at the time was solely a baskethall conference.

Before the Big East formed nobody knew Where Syracuse was," SU head basketball coach Im Boeheim said. "You had to tell recruits. When [ went out to California, recruits didn't even know what stiste it was in."

When basketball season rolled around to the Hill in late 1986, recruits from the Left Coast had figurd out where SU was, but the expectahigh for that years squad were less than sky high.

Gone was the leading scorer from the season before -.. and perhaps the most talented player in Syracuse history - Dwayne "Pearl" player in Syracuse history - Dwayne "Pearl" Wastington, as well as standout forwards Rafae? Addison and Wendell Alexis.

Looking to fill the voids were untested sophomore guard Sherman Douglas, raw junior center Rony Seikaly and college newcomers Derrick Coleman and Stevie Thompson.

Douglas was still three seasons away from leaving SU as the NCAN's all-time assists leader, and Coleman and Thompson werd still a few and Coleman and Thompson were still a few weeks away from their first college final exams, weeks away from their furst college final exams, ict alone any acomplisfuments on the hardwood.

Seiknly was alone among the four in terms of aving established himself for the Orangemen.
SU did, however, boast two seniors on the squad - Howard Triche and Greg Monroe.
"The two seniors were really the catalysts of the team," Boeheim said. "It was a good combination between young players and seniors."

It was such a good match that the Orange roundballers ran off their first 15 games in a row betore falling $91-88$ at Michigan.

After that little stumble, SU went $9-4$ the rest of the regular season and limped into the cision to archameat afor cown in the finals of the Big East Touraament.

In addition to the Hoya loss, Central New Yorkers were troubled by the fact that the Orangemen had failed to advance past the second rourd of the tournament since their 1975 Final Fou.' run, including a second-round loss to Navy in the Dome the year before.

So SU again took its home foor for its open-ing-round matches. However, this time luck went the way of the Orange. Syracuse snuck by Ceorgia Southern 79-73 in the first round and then blasted Western Kentucky to advance to the Sweet Sixteen against Florida in the Meadowlands.

The Gators boasted outspoken 7-foot-2 freshman center Dwayne Schintzius, and many ex-

This glant cake, created by Wegman's employees In late March 1987, was presented to the Orangemen as a gft for competing in the NCAA Final Fout.
perts saw the game as the one that would spell the end for the Orange.

Behind a monstrous 23 -point first-half performance from Seikaly - the Orangeman center ate Schintzius "for lunch," according to Tirico, who broadcasted the game for WAER-FM 88.3 - SU found itself in the Elite Eight against a North Cambina team that had been ranced No. I for a majority of the season.

Again facing long odds, and a pro-Carolina
wd, SU dug down deep and beat the Heels 79 75 to "That's the ultimate to be able to get to the Final Four, Boeheim said. "It's the one event everybody gets invoived in, even non-basketball everyb

The national semifinal game proved somewhat anti-climactic with SU squaring off against conference foe Providence, led on the court by current Floridn head coach Billy Donovan.

The Orangemen had already downed the Rick Pitino-coached Friars twice during the Big East regular season, once at Providence and once in the Dome.

The Big Easy proved no cakewalk for the Rhody boys, as SU marched into the championship game with a decisive 77-63 victory.

On that Championship Monday, the Orangemen faced off against a 29-4 Bobby Knightled Indiana squad, the No. 1 seed out of the Midwest region.

A back-and-forth game came down to the wire. Coleman found himself at the line with $S U$ up one and less than 30 seconds left on the clock. The frosh mised the front end of a one-and-one, however, and the Hoosiers' Keith Smart hit an offbalance baseline jumper that has since become one of the most famous Final Four shots in history, giving Indiana the 74-73 victory and the national championship.
"Looking back, we should've won," SU assistant conch Eernie Fine said. I thought we played better than Indiana, and if we make a couple of free throws, we win the national championship.

Keith Smart hit a tough shot I still have nightmares of that ball going in."

Miny who were then on SUs campus also have had dreams about the riots that broke out on Marshall Street following the loss. About 8,000 fans filled the offeampus hot spot and broke several store windows, forcing police to move in and restore onder

Despite the less-than-ideal outcome of the contest against the Hoosiers and the rackus that ensued, those involved with the hoop squand still look back at the sucoessful streak with fondness. I mainly remember the wun through the toumament and how well we played," Boeheim said. "It was a very memorable experience."

It proved beneficial as well, since being able to reach the Final Four carries a huge weight with recruits, as evidenced by schoolboy standouts such as Billy Owens and Lawrence Moten Docking to SU in the following seasons.
"You don't have to say anything, they all know," Fine said. "The NCAA Tournament has gotten huge, and everybody looks at it. Everybody knows who the Final Four teams are."

Even more memorable to many of the people in the Syracuse community was the 1987 football team's undefeated season, if only for the fact that it happened over several months inSU cagers "Getting to the Final Four was a great, magwho ride, but it was a quick ride," said Eric Cally, wo covered both teams as The Daily Orange fun. Every Mongotball was a multi-week nide people were talking about"

If the expectations for the basketball team were a bit low coming into the season, nobody was expecting a perfect season from SU 's gridiron warriors.

Fresh off a $5-6$ campaign, which included a shellacking by Penn State and some of the 42-3 shellacking by Pens State and some of the public calling for head coach MacPherson's job, the program was not one considiered among the cop in the East, let alone the country,

As the 1987 season dawned, unranked Syracuse seemed far removed from the heroics of Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little.
MacPherson tradition, just not recent suocess," bring the foothall program back up."

The 1987 season brought the tradition back with gusto.

With little fanfare, and almost no national attention, SU racked up wins in its first five games to set up an undeteated showdown with deending national champion Penn State in the Carier Dome.

Wrth the Nittany Lions coming to town, the City of Syracuse got behind its team, setting up cep rallies and creating an air of excitement in the city.

1980 s

continued from previous page
Then the decimation of PSU followed, and SU was thrust into the national spotlight.

When we blew out Penn State at home, that's when we started getting national recognition," pand said.

The community embraced and got behind us They encouraged and supported us. I can remem saying 'Good luck,' and I couldn't remember that happening more than once or twice before."

Many point to that sixth-game win over the Lions as the turning point in the season. However, MicPlerson said the difference for him came in the season's fourth game against Virginia Tech.

The Hokies led the Orange 21-0 at the half when Syracuse offensive coordinator George Deleone gave what McPherson called "one of the best speeches I've ever heard."

Deleone called the Orangemen out and told them, in no uncertain terms, that they possessed the talent to go undefeated, and they were letting it slip away.

Tes richt," McPherson said. More all thinking cll and you're just like said. "Most times coaches we were like 'He's rigit.' That moment we realized we had the ability and the coaching to turn it around."

Syracuse swarmed the Holcies in the second half and left Blacksburg 35-21 victors. From there, it was on to victories over Missouri, Penn State and the rest of its independent schedule until the regular season finale against West Virginia.

With the knowledge that they had already been guaranteed a date in the Sugar Bowl, the Oringemen downed the Mountaineers 32-31 in the finat seconds with a two-point conversion pitch from McPherson to running back Michael Owens.

With the victory, and the perrect regular season, the 1987 team cemented its place in SU lore.
"It used to be basketball winning every year and it would be drudgery watching football," Paul said. "That football team started something. Now Syracuse has something to look forward to in football season and something to be proud of."

After the win over WVU it was on to New Orleans for a New Year's Day date with sixthranked Auburn. But first it was time for the Orangemen to soak up some national attention.

MacPherson had national coach of the year awards to collect, and McPherson traveled around the country receiving accolades of his own, including a second-place finish to Notre Dame's Tim Brown in the Heisman race. In fact, the quarterback estimated he practiced only two or three times with the team before the bowl game. Then SU returned to the site of the basketball team's heartbreabing loss just over 10 months before.

The New Orleans people were happy to have Syracuse back," MacPherson said. Their sayine was They might wear orange, but they spend green."'

After whooping it up on Bourbon Street, the Syracuse faithful marched into the Louisiana Superdome to watch their beloved SU take on sixthranked Auburn.

The Orangemen fell behind early, but battled back, and after a Tim Vesling field goal held a $16-$ 13 lead over the Tigers with 2:04 left to play. Auburn drove down the field and, with one second left on the clock, Tiger kicker Win Lyle hit a 30yard field goal for the first tie in the 54-year in the history of the Sugar Bowl. It was also the only Derrick Coleman (44) and Derek Brower (30) helped thwart opposing offenses all season long Stingy defense was a key aspect in the Orangemen's rise to national prominence.

black mark on Syracuse's 11-0-1 record.
The Syracuse community responded to Auburn coach Pat Dye's perceived cowardice by sending the Tiger head man thousands of orange neckties.
"They milked it all winter," MacPherson said of the fan's response. "We ended up getting more out of that game than if we had won the thing"

As it was, SU finished fourth in the polls behind Miami (Fla.), Florida State and Oklahoma and No. 1 on the list of many top recruits in the nation. The Orangemen's wide-open offense, combined with the enthusiasm of MacPherson and the community and the attraction of the Dome, lured many prep standouts to one of the sports capitals of the nation.

Syracuse was also helped by the fact that the media attention surrounding collegiate sports had begun to intensify. ESPN was becoming the world's leader for sports information, and the major networlcs were beginning to branch out in their coverage of the college game.
It happened at a time when the industry of sports was exploding. McPherson said. "It hap pened at the right time. The timing was phenomenal. From that so many things have come.

Those things include a football team that built a tradition and did not have a losing season since the 5.6 campaign in 1986 , money that has helped the university fund the construction of several academic buildings, an increased national profile that has attracted athletes and non-athletes alike to the Hill and a rabid local community that supports and criticizes the Syracuse sports teams with fervor.

After the fairy-tale 13 months beginning in 1986, the people of Central New York have come to expect national prominence from their football and basketball teams year in and year out.
of hit the jackpot certainly, Crouthamel the biggest thing and mayte our worst enemy."

IENMME Chas oriasin

1 remember early-morning rowing, hot slices a Varsity, taking trays from the dining hall and sled ding with them. flipping and falling on the wooden stairs by the Dome before they were covered, going to incredible concerts at the Dome, reading the D.O. at class, Wimpy Wagon trips. One of most important things was meeting my husband, along with a tot of really wonderful people.

There were a lot of experiences gerting a good foundation for what I wanted to get into with New house there, and speech com.

Drinking cold beer at Faegan's.
There are many more buildings, lots of fraterni ies gone, the boathouse is gone. Everything changes; that's what happens as the years go by. always love going back, staying with friends, seeing a game. There's nothing like the Dome and a bas ketbali game. I've even seen them at Madison Square Garden, and there's noth go ballistic and party afterwards.

I really miss that.
Emme '89 is known as the world's premier -plus-sized' model. 'People Magazine' selected her twice as one of the 50 Most Beautiful People in 1994 and 1999. The E! Network fashion expert was invited to the US. Olympic trials after competing with the SU to the U.S. $O$ crew team.

A. classotions

My most vivid memories are of a student advocate who became a good friend, and a capable professor who guided my initial attempts at expressive writing

Gary Gordon, as president of the Native American Student Association, worked to create a noticeable and influential presence for Native students at SU. He befriended me and the other Na tive students and advocated for and obtained an of fice and a budget for the association. We had one of the old houses - nothing fancy by any means. But more inpond we we had acheved a place and pres and produce some recognition. The bonding lies and produce some recoghtion. The bonding and congentaly cary socialization camaraderie provided instrumentan socialization, camaraderie

Professor Marearet Himley aiso made
Professor Margaret Himley also made an indelible ic and stye " consisted of thre major par, Rers. I had done little writing before sa the first pers. I had done littie writing before, so the first end of the term, and the third paper I felt that I could convey amphing ! wanted to thmugh a new found cornmand of the written word Professor Him ey validated my sense of achievement by telling ey validated rry sense of achievement by telling serious writer. That was a very inspirational moment for me.

Arthur R. "Ray' Halbnitter' 85 is the nation repExecutive Officer of Oneids Nation Enterprises.

$\therefore$ ALUMNT

Andrew Burns '79
The happiest day for me at SU was the day I was approved to be the Saltine Warrior. I remember a game announcer exclaiming, "Is that all you are wearing? (Referring to the pants, loincloth and sleeveless vest.) You're a maniacl Not a maniac. but rather a Warrior cheering on the team." No liquor, no drugs - just team spirit to keep me running around half-clothed in the Syracuse snow.

At the last game in Archbold Stadium, 1 met Native American students forming Onkweehoweeneha (the future Native American Student Group). They wanted to discuss with me why they were against the Warrior. At first. I thought they were jus doing the "protest shuffle, but as I got to know them. I realized they had some legitit mate concems. They were never abusive but quite informative. was greatly honored when Chief Oren Lions. ihrough the students, invited me to the Long House. Erian Masters, a brother and past Warrior, explained that few, if any whites, have been to the Long House. I had my eyes opened by the visit to the Long House. Once inside, I was asked questions about my Russian heritage and whether I would be upset with someone dressed as a Cossack and dancing around. "Not if it was done with respect," was my answer. A child then asked if I knew that I was wearing a Sioux headdress. not an Onondagan. That was the convincing point.

Later that year, while starting Chapter 69 of Ammesty International on its 25th anniversary, members of the Onkweehoweeneha asked us to help get them funding from the Student Assembly. We got them the most funding we could. It was not because it was the politically correct thing to do; it was because it was the right thing to do for fellow students and human beings.
Political correctness is, in my opinion, the most covert form of racism and degradation in this country. People do not change in their hearts and minds through political correctness. Rather, they only mask their feelings in words that are safe in society's eye.

I count the question, in earnest by that child in the Long House over 20 years ago, as the strongest action on behalf of the Onondagan Nation and the Native American students - and the action that really changed my outlook. As the father of a 6year-old daughter, I hope she will make me proud by standing up for her beliefs.

Andrew Bums 79 was the last Syracuse University student to portray the mythi cal Saltine Warrior. He is now a mafor in the U.S. Army serving in Korea.

ATMAMNI  Bob Costas ' 74

remember all the steps up and down Mount Otympus, WAER was in a hut at the foot of the steps, which were then across from the old gymnasium. If you pulled an all-nighter, and it was snowing and the wind was blowing and it was 30 below, you're climbing back up those stairs to your pantheon suite in Fint, and began to feel like Sir Edmund Hilary trying to scale Everest.

At the first sign of sumshine in spring, it was like that scene in the Wizard of Oz. when there's no people and suddenly it fills with people from nowhere. The Quad teemed with people, like they came out of the surshine, Frisbees flying, windows open and the same songs coming from open windows. Crosby, Stills, Nasi and Young - you did. n't even have to own the album, you could hear every cut just by taking a walk through campus. It seemed like every step you take you hear "tin soldiers and Nixon coming." I still hear it in my sleep.

When I arrived at SU, was not sure if I wanted to be a broadcaster, I thought maybe l'd go into newspapers. I still have an interest in writing. I'm finishing a book on baseball, and on TV. 1 write more of my own stuff han many broadcasters. But at that time, I didn't know if wanted to be a broadcaster or writer, and my experience at WAER convinced me. seemed to have a knack for it. I was doing $S U$ games on redio, both basketball and ootball, and covered the Syracuse Blazers on WSYR while I was still a senior Doing those broadcasts pushed me in that direction. Dr. Alten pushed me in those directions. He was the first professor who encouraged me. He said 1 had talent and could be a professiona ## roadcaster.

He's still there and we still stay in touch.

Obviously, there's friendships with people I still stay in touch with, and like everyone else, you get together, you start telling oid stories that would be pathetically boring to anyone who was spouses head for shelter. Nobody thinks these stories are as charming as those who were there, they think they're fas-cinating- There oughta be a ule that when old high school or college friends get together, anyone who wasn't there shouldn't be allowed in the room for their own good. No one understands a story about a disgusting roommate except people who knew the disgusting roommate, and I'm not talking about my own roommate. I want to make that clear in case someone shows up after 30 years looking for my scalp.

Bob Costas ' 74 has cov ered just about every major sporting event, including Wortd Series, Super Bowls NBA Championships and the 1992 Summer Olympic Games in Barcelona.

19905

continued from page 11
couraging news. At the time, SU had very ittle det substantial timancial hadvery and little deferred maintenance.

Shaw set to work to right the situation from his first day on the job. The actions the university took were sweeping - capping enrollment to 10,500 undergraduates; cutling the budgets of some schools while increasing the budgets of others; laying off about 350 staff; offering an early retirement program to about 150 professors.

Such events can be traumatic for a university community. But some professors argue that the openness of the Shaw adargue that the openness of the Sh ministration holped ease the sting.
"It was done in a way that wa and secmed to minimize the pain rational and secmed to minimize the pain," Van Gulick said. "Shaw was very candid about abountiversitys situation and very open abount
"It was hard, but it could have been worse, Shaw said. "We knew we had to do something :

What may also have helped was leadership by example. The administration's budget was cut by 22 percent, except for those services such as public safety and counseling that directly affected students. Shaw said.

Though the economy returned to favor able conditions in the mid-1990s, changes at $S U$ were still necessary.

There's a theoretical possibility that we could have said, 'OK, we'll take our lumps and keep rolling, but now we'd be facing a $$ 40$ million budget deficit. Now wed have $$ 160$ to $$ 200$ million less in our endowment," Shaw said.

The size of the endowment has doubled under Shaw's administration, in part because of a strong emphasis on fund-raising dowment's investments

Ironically, the administration cut costs by putting a cap on student enrollment. Increasing enrollment would have improved SU's financial situation, Shaw admitted. But it also would have decreased its academic reputation.
${ }^{\text {"It }}$ is financially better to increase your enrollment each year. But as you get bigger you become a different kind of place," he said. "Our being smaller has made us better in an interesting kind of way. With an institution that charges what we charge, we run out of reasons to be big. If you increase by 2,000 students, people pay less but it's more like a large, impersonal state school."

These financial changes were far reaching, but difficult for many on the funding end - the students - to detect. Roy ly Orange in 1991 . Though Gutterman vas more informed about the university adminmore informed about the university administration than most students, he said it was difficult to ascertain SU's financial situation and how decisions would affect students.
cet every a student perspective, we didn' get everything. We coulon't quite get the been felt by the students anyway," Gutt man, now an SU law student, said. "I do re member faculty members were really scared about it. They were angry and hostile - uncertain."

Capping enrollment was a financial decision but it was also integral to the new academic direction toward which Shaw in making SU a student-centered research in making ,

The student-centered research university was a result of the university's ideological shift toward undergraduate education a name.

The university had to redefine itself, find its niche on the national university ene, Van Gulick said.

It was Gershon Vincow, then vice-chancellor and now a chemistry professor, who came up with the term "student-centered research university, a blanket label for the administration's entire initiative. "We were starting to rewrite the mission and the vision of the university," Vincow said. "We all put our ideas on little scraps of paper.
"I guess I won."
me mame would provide a context for the major institutional changes that would ur at SU throughout the 1990 s.
Decisions would now be based on the founch was of always the case before, Vin which was not always the case before, Vin-
"We w teaching, but not exactly how well students were learning," he added. be placed on undergraduate education: requiring all professors to teach undergraduates, teaching-assistant training programs, smaller classes and the freshman forum, to name freshman just a few

As much as Shaw touted the new idea, it was Vincow who became the leadcenteredness, said William Coplin, a public policy professor.
or.
Vincow, by his own was that sion, was an administrator most associated with research.
was the right thing to do and that it was the only way SU was going to survive in the long run," he said. "It was a novel, creative solution for a very difficult probtion for a very difficult problem." Convincing the faculty f Convincing the faculty cerity was trying, Vincow said. But faculty support was necessary to supcess fully face both the financial and ideological changes.
"What made it work was the faculty's underTherew was leadership by the administration to a faculty tinat was willing to work to make it succeed," he work
said.

Some faculty members feared the early changes under Shaw, said Linda Al coff, a philosophy professor. aculty, caused ahuge amount of anxiety about our getting tenure here," Alcoff said. "There was a sense that people who could get out got out. It led the toprated faculty to leave the university for greencr pasuniversity for greencr pas tures. ization about shrinking reization a

Hiring Shaw as chancellor did not encourage Alcellor did noten
"The choice of chancellor we got was the writing on the wall. His strength is in the area of budget, not an educational vision or mission that you find at better in-

Rons, she said
Roger Sharp, an SU history professor since 1966, considered the administraat SU.
f people was a sense that large numbers people were participating in this change and that made it a lot more palatable," he said. The circumstances dictated the necessity for some kind of change - how it occurred and how you got faculty to go along was dependent upon leadership."

Some professors were troubled by the lack of attention paid to undergraduates in higher education and welcomed the chalenge, including William Coplin.
tion," he said. "It's controlled by instituthat does not see education as a primary goal. In that context, SU is probably one of the best - if not the best - institutions for research and education."

Universities are not noted for teaching, though that is changing. But it is research that draws money, prestige and bigname faculty in academia. The result is bankrolling a distinguished research university without gleaning many of the benefits.

SU has taken steps toward equity in research in teaching, but it would be surresearch in teaching, but it would be surprising if it went much further, Coplin
"It used to be 80-20 research and now t's $60-40$. Where we are now is pretty good. We're going to plateang to go much further.

In calling itself "student
In calling itself "student-centered," SU consider the title a joke. Some professors did as well, going so far as to refer to it as "SCRU," Alcoff said
"Some people felt it was a meaningless Sharp said. "We do more than simply give lip-service to teaching - we value it more. Research is still an important part of what we do, but teaching plays a more important role than it did 20 years ago.

The "overall outcome" is what Shaw calls "qualitative improverments," and what he considers his biggest job at SU
"It has to be the driving force of every institution," he said. "Everything comes under the umbrella of wanting to improve qualititatively."

But others question Shaw's priorities especially in highy -publicized matters such SU head women's tennis conch, Josse Dwire. Two SU students sucd Dwire and SU in 1998. The case was settled out of court in January for an undisclosed , the case represented the worst of SU.

It really underscores the really fucked up priorities of this university where students can be sacrificed in this kind of way for worries about money and sports. That's not student-centered if you ask me," Alcoff said

These improvements - some subtle and some sweeping - are marks of a leader with vision, Sharp said. It was Shader with vision, Sharp said. It was Shaw's unique position
"Eggers was an insider who became chancellor," Sharp said. "Shaw came from the outside and brought an outside per spective to the campus that Mel simply Shaw's influence on campus is often difficult to discern. He does not build big decisions Shaw makes directly affect students, and that is how it should be, he stu "It's not just me - it's an institution, Whaw said. "Changes occurred under my nost important things I do student* shouldn't see very often.

versial spealng the right to bring controopen to theakers to campus - our being ty is. I defend defending what a universiversity a university in the best interests of student development."

COLTER

continued from page 32
made. Being a Theta, she said, allowed her to fully enjoy her college experience.
"I loved to dance, and the $P_{\text {si }} U$ boys were always taking us out," Colter recalled. "I had a beau with an automobile, and to have a beau with an automobile in 1909 was unbelievable. We'd sneak downtown with the boys, and they would go and drink. Most of them were Delta Kiappa Epsilons - the naughty Dekes, as we called them."

After graduating from SU and marrying her college sweetheart John, an SU graduate of 1912 and the first person she met on camling in New Jersey, where she became a schoolteacher. She took a jusition as a part-time hospital worker after retiring from teaching fud used her newly-found free time to travel and visit her three - HAD A BEAU WITHAN

1909 THAT WAS

adren

My sense is that she lived for others," said SU Alumni Associain President Mike Somich, who visited with Colter on several occavery giving person and she's a very amazing lady."

On Dec. 31, 1899, the Morrisons sent their young Ruth to Brookyn to stay with an aunt and uncle while Mrs. Morrison gave birth to anwher child. It was a cold night, and the coal furnace in the house was whe generating enough heat for Ruth to be comfortable.

She tried to sleep. She tried to curl up inside blankets. She tried oignore her uncie, who urged her to stay awake as evening waned. A very important moment was about to arrive.
"I wastant in the dining room sitting on the dining room chair. Ay uncle kept telling me to keep up, but I could not understand why," Coltcr says, "But i didn't care about the turn of the century. I was tired and cold!" fet and people shouting from street cars. There was such a to-do."

More than a century later, the way in which people live has become More than a century later, the way in which people live has become a wonder to her, Colter said. The advent of the airplane and the radio. a wonder to her, Colter said. The advent of the airpla

It is vital, however, that people do not abuse the technology they have developed, she cautioned. To do so is to stunt the moral growth of an ever-expanding society.

All these things are wonderful and they are great if they are used in the right way. I have heard things on that machine ow I shouldn't hear," Colter said, pointing to her television.
Two U.S. institutions that have been used well are the stoc ket and space travel, she said. The stock market has allowed familios ket and space travel, she said. The stock market has allowed families to make money to travel or educate their children, and space travel has opened the United States up to new frontiers. tas opened the United States up to new frontiers.

Colter said she is especially proud of Lt. Col. Eileen Collins, a fellow SU graduate, who was the first woman to pilot a space shuttle, doing so in 1999.

As long as the sun still rises above the massive Green Mountains hat encircle her valley dwelling, Colter said she will remain loyal to her ideals. And for as long as she lives, Colter said she will take great pride in being the oldest alumnus from SU , a place that was instrumental in the shaping of those ideals.
"I never dreamed of being the oldest," she said. "Now, I just want to be the best I can."

$\mathrm{KEHf}_{\mathrm{TH}}^{\mathrm{T}} \mathrm{OR}$

After months of planning and hundreds of hours worth of research and interviews, Higher Ground: A Century at Syracuse Uni versity is ready to stand in testimony to SU's remarkable history. Each story was conceived, reported, written and edited by a distinguished staff of Daily Orange editors on the basis of its topic's profound affect on the university - both in the time in which the story took place and years afterward. They refiect the best and worst of SU: Institutionally, her greatest challenges, darkest days and most glorious of triumphs. It also aims to tell the tales of some of the more notable personalities to have napped on the Quad, studied in the Hall of Languages, shared a beer on M-Street and left the university with an orange and blue streak through their souls.

A debt of graditude is due to all the writers who constructed their articles from what initially were no more than shreads of ideas, a couple of lofty goals and the dedication to mold the pieces together. A special thanks to SUs Archives and Records Management department and Office of Alumni Relations for your kindness, time and help; also, all of the alumni whose participation made Higher Ground come alive. To the Daily Orange editing staff, present and former, the deepest of thanks: Brian Angell, Annemarie Bello, Brendan Dabkowski, Lene Dahl, Ron Fooks and Laura Prabucki a job well done editing the copy ... Photography Editor Tom Nycz, who was instrumental in the digital reproduction of archived photographs ... Presentation Director Bill Ehninger for his direction, skill and vision throughout the project ... Design Editor Tito Bottitta for conceptualizing and designing Higher Ground. This work, which took him days to complete, is easily his best ever ... Daily Orange Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale served as a conduit through which all effort for this project traveled. From the first idea to the final period, Ron, Higher Ground's co-editor, was there every step of the way.

Here's to another $\mathbf{1 0 0}$ years of SU memories.

- Dave Levinthal, managing editor

Cover photo: A lone HOTC bugler trumpets a solemn tune on the steps of SUs Carnegie Library of World War II. (Courtesy of SU Archives.)

I graduated from the School of Speech and Dramatic Arts with an E.F. degree. While B.A. meant Bachelor of Arts and a B.S. degree was Eachelor of Science, the letters E.F. stood for Eric Faigle. He was the dean of both my school and the Liberal Arts school. One received an E.F. degree when Dean Faigle majored in you. Many of us owe our presence at eraduation to the inter est he took in us. He gave us the opportunity to go on and achieve our success es because he refused to let us fail.

It would be more than 40 years af. ter graduation before I learned why this man charnpioned the cause of those who struggled. Eric Faigle, unable to read or write. left his log cabin home in Hiawatha, Penn., at the age of 14 and, ly ing about his age. got a job on the O&W Railroad breaking freight trains. One day. he was atop a 54 -car freight headine up Westboro Mountain when he saw smoke coming at him. He realized there was about to be a head-on collision with a passenger train coming down the moun(ain and ran across the tops of the 54 cars all the way to the front before he could bring them to a halt. The two trains stopped less than 200 yards from each other. Realizing that Faigle had saved the lives of many people, the president of the railroad asked how he could reward the young hero. Eric replied= "I can't read or write. 1 ve got to get an education.

His life changed at that moment. Ulimately, he went on to wyoming (Penn.) Seminary before entering Syracuse University at age 28. After graduating. Faigle obtained a doctorate from the University of Michigan before returning to SU to teach in the geography department. Later, as a dean. Eric Faigle understood the true measure of a student was far more than a grade point average. If you needed a push to reach the finish line, he was there to provide it. Long before the popular TV show came along, many SU graduates knew that touched by an angel.

Hank Greenwald ' 57 is the legendary voice or Major League Baseball's San Francisco Giants, also announcing several years for the New York Yankees and the National Basketball Association's Golden State Warriors.

As the first member of the Nelson family to go on to higher education, September 1949 was the beginning of a wonderful and rewarding experience. As I prepared to take the next step in my formal education, 1 had many questions. Most notably, could I succeed academically? Secondly, did 1 have the athletic ability to compete on the intercollegiate level?

In 1952 . I joined a select group of Syracuse University athletes by being awarded three letters - in soccer, basketball and baseball. As a member of these teams. I had the pleasure of competing with and against some special one in that I was named to the All-New York State, All-East and AllAmerican teams.

With my success at SU in soccer, 1 was invited along with teammate Sig Wirth to try out for the U.S. Olympic soccer team in 1956 . Though I made it o the final the team. However to have ected this opportunity was truly a re warding experience.

Reflecting on the years that have transpired since entering SU. I would say my academic and athletic experisay my academic and athletic experipositive manner. And, yes. the quespositive manner. And. Yes, the question could I succeed academically and athletically?" has been answered thanks to the opportunity Syracuse University afforded me.

Bill Neison ' 52 graduated from Syracuse University in 1952, going on co referee soccer in NCAA competition and international tournaments. He is be named a first-team All-American.

Having the chance to get a college education was in itself memorable Without the help of the university and other Syracuse University benefactors, that would not have been possible and my life would have been very different.

Leading the marching band when we went to the 1953 Orange Bowl was a highlight for me, although Alabama crushed us.

There were so many highlights: Leading the marching band when we went to the 1953 Orange Bowl was a highlight for me, although Alabama crushed us. l've rooted against them ever since. My friends at Sigma Chi nominated me for International Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, then pitched in to help me win the title. We had a marvelous time doing that. Being on the cover of Look magazine, traveling worldwide as halftime entertainment with the Harlem Globetrotters, being named Miss Drum Major of America, were all opportunities that came to me because of SU. If you think it sounds like fun, trust me, it was!
i received a priceless education at SU and had an extraordinary time in the process. My liberal arts experience prepared me to handle graduate school, also at SU, and the wide range of professional challenges that followed. Professors like Mary Marshall, who infused us with her love of Shakespeare, and A.E. Johnson, the poet, were incredibly inspirational. How did they do that day after day, year after year?

Developing rich and stimulating friendships. some of them lifelong. with the young women of Kappa Alpha Theta provided a stable core during my college years.

A priceless education and an extraordinary time - how lucky can you get?

Dorothy "Dottie" Grover Bolton '53 is retired and tives in Amelia island. Florida.

"ATMMITI  Warren Kimble '57

Sounds very corny, but when I see an orange sky, orange leaves or when 1 'm squeezing orange from a tube of paint, my thoughts go back to Syracuse.
Memories as captain of the SU cheerleaders from 1954 through 1957 return and 1 think of my fellow RahRahs and wonder where they are now and how their lives played out. My life has been greatly influenced by a wonderful Syracuse experience. The memory of being on the field every Saturday, cheering on fellow art student Jim Ridion and, of course. Jim Brown. Timing is everything in life and - wow - was that a great time to be cheering for winning teams.

I remember especially our trip to the Cotton Bow in 1956. The university hired a special train to take all the cheerleaders, the 100 Men and a Girl Band. all the student leaders, the men's and women's deans, social director and several football players to Dallas. What a party! We were treated like celebrities by the Cotton Bowl committee with free taxis, meals, a special luncheon, a Black Tie New Year's Eve dance and an exciting game. A memorable event made more so because Jim Brown was the first black man to play in the Cotton Bowl, and he made us more than proud with his many touchdowns.

Steve Allen Tonight, the TV show, invited the SU and Fordham cheerleaders to appear on the show in New York City the night before the game. We drove to New York and made our usual rendezvous under the clock at the Biltmore Hotel. Unfortunately, thieves stole all our luggage from our vehicle parked in front of the hotel. We appeared on the TV show in street clothes - no orange. Oh, well - it was before color TV.

Time creates change and change must be accepted to enjoy the good memories of the past. A few years ago. we started a cheer leader reunion at the Homecoming game. You can't imagine the feeling this old guy gets running out in front of the team, seeing old RanRahs and being totally accepted by the young student squad. it makes one feel young again. I encourage all excheerleaders to come back to the reunion - just for the fun of it.

Thanks, Syracuse, for helping me have these memories and this wonderful, interesting life.

Warren Kimble '57 served as head cheerteader of the SU Cheerleading Squad from 195457 and class president in 1957. He now resides in Brandon, vi:

TURN

continued from page 31

opment of a loyal college spirit, the presence of the fairer sex certainly stimulates a love and devotion that nothing else could."

Nothing enlivened that school spirit more than school's three major sports teams, football, baseball and especially track. The football Orange lost to Cornell, $6-0$, for a sixth straight shutout loss to the Big Red. The sport was an even more rough and dangerous game then, and Cornell cried foul, alleging the Orangemen played dirty and had professionals on the team. The two teams would not meet again until 1921, when the feud finally ended.

The new University Weekly encouraged even more support from the student body, stating in a November editorial, body, stating in a November editorial,
"When the team laves to play on another gridiron, our college spirit will take us there in a body to the depot to give our men an encouraging send-orf, even if, following the chancellor's advice, it is necessary to cut all recitations to do it."
The students responded by traveling in a pack of 300 on Nov. 21 to see the team ff for its game in Providence, R.I.

Thousands packed the Oval each time the Orange played, and the team finished the scason 7-2-1. Coach Edwin R. Sweet but therigors of both jobs led to his demise.

Coach Ten Eyck stunned the nation by leading his crew charges to a varsity and freshmen sweep of the 1904 Poughkeepsie races. The rowers were greeted by thousands downtown at Hanover Square when they returned, and a spontancous The varsity basketball team began in 1900, though a team beat Weslyan 4-2 in 1899, inspiring students to start a bonfire on campus.
A women's basketball team sprung up in 1898 and played sporadically for a cou ple years before disappearing. But a women's athletic association founded in 1904 provided an annual field day for women to showcase their abilities in several sports.

With no dormitories at the turn of the century, most SU students lived in greek houses. This was a constant headache for Chancellor Day, as he would declare, "I prefer that every chapter should leave the university than that any should deter university th

Years of squabbling ensued as Day ook a hard-line stance on freshmen rush ing. He never did succeed, however, in banning the practice.

Delta Kappa Gamma became the university's first fraternity in 1871 , and Kappa Alpha Theta started the first sorority

Rule
Rules governing the conduct of greeks was strict, and allowed only small, informal dances with chaperones and only one annual formal for all Greeks. Gentlemen
"Students now have a lot more freedom. There were strict rules of conduct, OBrien said. Certainiy no one is locking on Saturday for ladies. There were greek on Saturday for ladies. There were greek houses of course, with the same sort of enthusiasm belonging to clubs."

incilim (rimporan
For the 1950s, I was a very good soccer player for an American. I was born and raised in Britain and had played varsity soccer for two years. But after my sophomore year, i quit the team sophomore year, I quit the team to become program director of Schwartzwalder was the head Schwartzwalder was the the football team then. and after he led the team to the and after he led the team to the No. 1 ranking. decided to wanted see Ben.
said I could kick the extra points, not knowing that there was no such thing as an extra waint kicker. having never played point kicker. having never played 135 -pound soaking wet British kid offering myself to the coach of the best footbalt team in the country. And he turned me down

Who knows where my footI could have gone somewhere? could have been somebad. don't know where Ben Schwartzwalder is where now, ben hope he knows he made a terrible mistake.

Dr. Edward J. Koppel '60 has hosted ABC News' Nightline since it began in 1980, and is in his 35 years with ABC News, ne has covered 16 presidential conventions and has won 30 Emmys.

As editor of The Daily Orange
As editor of The Daily Orange years ago, in 1928, I'm glad 71 years ago, in 1928 , I'm glad to have had a part in its proud to have history.

Over the years. The Orange has always been at the very center of the campus and all university life. One of the major happenings during my time as editor was the acquisition of a linotype machine to set type, eliminating necessity for the associale editown day to take copy down the type set then bringing it back on the steer then bre g night to the Orange of fice then at the southern end of irving Avenue O Scasionally trays lrving Avenue. droped on the ways causing considerable problems for the printers Even so papers the printers. Even so, papers were out the next moming, though quite late.

As for my activities as an undergraduate other than editor of Onondagan yearbook my junior year and chairman of the convocation committee and member of the SU band. I was also president of Delta Tau Delta - my social fraternity - of Tau Theta Upsilon, of Pi Beta Sigma, of Pi Delta Epsilon and a member of Monx Head, Janus of Alpha Kappa Psi.

I was also elected president of my senior class and still conknow countless class members the majority of whom including my very best friends have pasiny away So far l've had the plea. sure and privilese of leading our class in 14 reunions every tive class in 14 reunions every five years.

Forrest Witmeyer ' 28 has served the City of Syracuse and Syracuse University in dozent of private, and worked almost 25 years as president of Excelsior in. surance Company. He resides in Rochester.

For the musically inclined, there was the touring men's glec club, along with the Ladies Glee and Guitar Club and mandolin clubs. A drama club called the Fakers performed, eventually becoming the famous performed, eventually becoming the famous Several debate elubs and literary sociies existed, alon with the Classical eties existed, along with the Classical phy Club, among others.

The students showed their strongest sense or unity, for betier or worse, during ment Week. Moving Up Day, the last day of chapel, served as a symbolic changing of the guard, as seniors left their seats in the front which were taken by the juniors, followed by the sophomores and finally, the exuberant freshmen, who could at last take off their green beanies, which were mandated by university administration.

Tradition also dictated that the freshmen run wild the night of Moving Up Day In the spring of 1901, they chose used some ingenuity to celebrate.

The next morning, wagons, with freshmen class years painted on them, were top of the library.

KARTIN K Chass ornat
it takes no time to find my photo in the composite of the Class of 1971 at the College of Law. Only one woman is in the picture.

I was a student at the College of Law, at the age of 31 , staring in 1969 . As unbelievable as it seems 1969. As unbelievable as it seems today, when about half the students in law schools are female, 1 was the in law schools are fernale. I was the only woman in my class.

During our freshman year, we were to sit for our class picture. The instructions stated that each of us instructions stated that each of us should wear a coat and tie. I did that, wearing my (then) husband's finery. So who predated Annie Hall!

During my three years as a law student, l did not have a single woman teach any of my classes. (My undergraduate degree is from Norththe modern dance instructor, 1 did not, during my first four years there have even one woman professor)

This career move, from being writer and editor, was inspired by my writer and editor, was inspired by my National Organization for Women was started in 1966, and I became active starting in 1967. While I was first year law student - whereas it is generaily acknowledged there are a million pages to read - 1 was also the Eastern Regional Director of Now. This took me, driving through the snow in my blue Pontiac convertble, throughout the Northeast, organizing NOW chapters and making speeches.

In my spare time, I ran for mayor of Syracuse on the Liberal Party ticket in November 1969. Although I lost (Lee Alexander was elected), my campaign was exhilarating: I was the first woman to run for mayor in Syracuse, the first woman to run for mayor in New York state and one of the first women to run for mayor anywhere in the United States. The Aslets identified me as a housewife, alets identied me as a housewife, alfirst kear law student that I was Some of the stu some of the students in my class were less than kind. They would slot away from some nice tuy whe planned to be a lawyer, Some were wonderful. Between the mayoral race, and the NOW traveling, 1 missed many classes, and would never have kept up without the careful note-taking of my friend Jeffrey, who would pass on his notebooks to me.

Becausel was 10 years older than most of the students, I had some hilarious adventures. For example, one classmate asked if there were ball point pens when I was young. "Ball point pen?" I asked. What are those?

Do I. or did I, consider myself a victim? Absolutely not. Ithought of myself as a pioneer, and only hoped that no one would hit me. In a world with so much boring work, law school was intellectually stimulating everyday, as, thankfully, is the practice of law.

Karen DeCrow' 71 served as president of the National Organization for Women from 1974 to 1977. She now lives in Jamesville, where she author of four books and numerous oolnion artictes and opinton columns.

Open fields and wide roadways marked the university landscape at the turn of the 19 th century. Students ambled from building to buildine in bulky costumes even during summer months, and what few automobiles existed on campus were parked on lawns.

CITY

continued from page 30
Languages clock.
But this architectural "grande lame" was not without problems. In 1922, some students demanded that the building be demolished. They felt the building was unsafe, with broken and oil-soaked steps. Aheadline ran that yearin the Feb. 2 issue of The D.O. stating that the lives of the 1,500 students may be in danger if the report was true

The most significant changes to the structure came in 1978, during a $16-$ month period. The Hall of Languages was closed as the building was gutted to improve classrooms, add air conditioning and an elevator. The building that cost only $$ 136,000$ to build was renovated at a price of $$ 4$ million. The 104-year-old structure was rediedicated Sept. 6, 1979.

During the latter part of the 19th century, the Hall of Lan*

Olympus. This never occurred. However, in 1991, a move was or dered to make room for Eggers Hall. The $$ 200,000$ move took three days as workers could only move it four inches an hour in taking care not to damage the landmark.

One of Syracuse's most impressive buildings for 100 years, and one that SU owned until the mid-1950s, no longer exists. Cornelius Longstreet, who made his fortune manufacturing civil war tiniforms, put architect James Renwick in charge of the construction of a 24 -room replica or a Norman castle. At the time, Renwick was in Syracuse building the First Presbyterian Church on Eas Fayette Street. Renwick's most fa mous works are St. Patrick' Cathedral in New York City and the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

The castle, constructed in Tudor Gothic style, sat at the foot of the bluff of Crouse College. It was constructed out of brick but sanded over

Whk

1 met my wife Helaine toward the end of my junior year. I was helping her take her suitcase from the lobby of Day Hall to the first floor. It was a great investment of and have been married for 36 years. I am just giad that her room wasn't on the second or third floor. Things might have been different.

Marvin Lender ' 63 is the former president of Lender's Bageis.

TOSFBMF

 ЭПDI:The blizzard of '66, was one of the most memorable things. I had started law school and there were 60 inches in Syracuse; everything was shut down.

The law school was small enough that a lot of people knew everyone in class. It was a great environment. I went there largely because I wanted to go to Cornell and get a scholarship. and couldn't afford tuition. Syracuse was the same, but my wife Nema was at Cornell majoring in English, and she was from Skaneateles. She was teaching in Bellevue in Syracuse, and after my interview at Cornell - it was a Friday, and : was still a senior in Delaware - was driving to thaca to 'eachers' meetind so i had a couple hours to kill Dean karros was there hours ond l walked in just looking around and Mrs Hagan his executive assistant, a fregarious woman said you can get money here, Delaware had no law school, so there was a scholar ship avallable for taw students, which could pay half my tuition. She knew about it and arranged through the dean to get a job as a resident advi. sor. They gave me tuition; all of a sudden Syracuse gave me my education.

Sen. Joseph Biden ' 68 has served in the U.S. Senate since 1973 and is the senior senator from Delaware. He is the ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

ALUMNI  Foyd Little '67

It was a time when things were a little different in the world, from ' 63 to ' 67 , even the summers. It was a fun time, I enjoyed the campus in summer. I liked SU and ny teachers, the most being Mae Foster, an English 101 teacher, who taught me to understand and translate certain poets in English literature. It was really a growth for me, coming out of a military school being recruited by Ernie Davis, and I was shown around campus by John Mackey. He had a lot of influence on me. We've kept in touch for 30 years. One of my mentors was Dr Phillips, the Hendricks Chapel chaplain, one of my instructors in religion. He challenged the likes of Dave Bing at basketball; we would get together in the gym and play.

Ben Swartzwalder .... had some injury problems my senior year, and I thought I'd quit. I told Ben I was leaving Syracuse, and he gave me his paratrooper wings that he got in the war. He said I meant more to him than anyone who'd ever played for him, and he wanted me to stay and graduate. because he made a promise to my mom that I would graduate. He told me $\mathrm{l}^{\circ} \mathrm{d}$ done enough and I didn't have to play anymore, 1 just had to graduate because he had made that commitment to my mother. So I came back against Forida State that weekend and scored (three) touchdowns.

I had some great teachers, in zoology, Dr. Root, in political science, Joseph Julian. He was a revered name. He was sharp as a whip, an outstanding instruc tor. Dr. Horace Landry has been around SU for 50 years. He was my teacher and my accountant. He's still very visible around and in town, a friend of Syracuse University. When you sit back and remember, Dr. Charles, Father Charles. The first game we played up at B.C., at that time we didn't know it was a Jesuit school. We lost that game, we should've beaten them. was so distraught. They had a section just for priests. I remember looking up at them and saying to Father Charles, "How did you expect us to win? They have all those priests; we only have just you." He still remembers me saying that to him. There were 100 priests, and it would take several hundred to replace Father Charles. He was spectacular.

I've been gone from Syracuse for 30 years, but 1 still have more friends in Syracuse than anywhere in the world.

Floyd Little '67 was threevime AllAmerican and had 35 career touchdowns and 14 TDS in 1965 , both team records. He retired as the alt time teading rusher and scorer of the NFL's Denver Broncos, who retired his No. 44 after his nine-year career.

ALUMNI  \section*{Dan Schayes '81}

The most exciting game of my basketball career happened during my senior year at SU. We played Villanova for the championship of the Big East Tournament in the Carrier Dome. It was the first year in the new building and we were having an average season. The garme drew a "small" crowd of around 16,000, but the energy was high and the game was televised locally. Both teams played a great game and it remained close throughout Regulation time ended with the teams tied, and we went to overtime.

By now, the tension level had been raised. We were playing not only for league bragging rights but also a berth in the NCAA Tournament. This win would go a long way toward salvaging a disappointing season for us all. One overtime became two and then, incredibly, three. Finally, after a Leo Rautins tip-in. the final seconds ticked away and the Dome erupted in celebration of an exhausting triple-overtime victory.

However, the most intriguing part of the win was yet to come. After the game, my family and I went to the Scotch and Sirloin restaurant in DeWitt to celebrate the big win. By then it was pretty late, but for some reason the restaurant lobby was still packed with people trying to get a table. As 1 walked in, I was greeted with a huge ovation. We didn't have a reservation because we came right over from the game, so we asked the hostess what was going on. It tumed out that the game was so exciting, the dinner guests refused to leave the IV in the bar when their tables were available.

As the game wore on. more and more people had found their way into the bar to watch the game until everyone was jammed into the bar glued to the TV! The game dragged on for so lorig, by the time it ended there was a huge backup for peo ple to get a table. I later heard stories that the reaction was the same all over town. Even with a relatively small attendance, the game was one of the mostwatched in Syracuse and SU history. I've always believed the 1981 Big East Championship Game was a turning point for Syracuse basketball and helped propel the program forward to the era of 30,000 plus crowds.

And that's why it"s the most exciting game l've ever played in!

Dan Schayes' 81 plays for the Minnesota Timberwolves in his 18th National Basketball Association season, making him the oldest active NBA player. Only three other players in league history - Kareem Abdulfabaar, Moses Malone and Robert Parish - have had longer careers.

WE BHIT THIS

EY LAURA PRABUCKI COPY EDTOR

One hundred years ago, at the last turn of the century, Syracuse University was a differentinstitution in every sense. just 10 buildings on the land once occupied by George Comstock's farm. Today, more than 50 structures make up SU.

Among them all, a notable few stand out due to their longevity, strength and beauty. They have become more than just buildings, but architectural symbols of SU.

The first building ever built on SU's main campus is also the most recognizable - the John Dustin Archbold Hall of Lan"It's It's the home of the heart of the university. H.L is as close to an 'Old Main' as we have at Syracuse," Chancellor Melvin Eggers once said.

On the same day the university's first class met in the Myers block - East class met in the Myers block - East Genesee and Montgomery Streets - workers were laying the cornerstone for SU's first Main Campusbuilding, the John Dustin Archbold Hall of Languages. About 6,000 people took part. August 31, 1871 at the dedication of the building, which was led by Methodist Bishop Jesse Peck.

Horatio N. White, a Syracuse native, designed this building, named for John Dustin Archboid, then president of Standard Oil Co. The building was built in modified Renaissance style and made of Onondaga limestone.

On May 1, 1873, 41 students, including seven women and five faculty, met for the last time on the Myers block and made heir way to their new home on "Piety Hill. With the exception of a few farmsheds, the Hall of Languages sat alone on the Hill.

An article published in The Daily Orange in 1940 stated that "H.L." must have given its first students a "sense of pride that the glorious history of a university was unfolding before their eyes."

More was added to the original structure throughout the years. Frances Trowbridge, Class of 1882, donated money for class of 1885 was responsible for the Hall of

See CITY page 29
year
1989 1989
1990 1990
1990 1990
1993 1998
 Lora & Alfred Flanagan Gymnasium Sháffer Ar Bulding Goldstein Student Center Egers Hally McNaughton Hall

TURN OF THIE CENTIURY

BY RON DEPASQUALE emmorin chief

?ith the grit and concentration of the Varsity football team, the freshmen strategize at the bottom of the hill that Crouse College looms atop. They strategize, shout words of encouragement to each other, and remind themselves of all the taunting they have endured from their bitter rivals, the sophomores.

The juniors and seniors are there too, inten sifying the coming battle by jeering the firstyear boys. And the sophomores encircle Crouse, with bags of salt at the ready for any frosh who gets near.

The freshmen take off up the hill at a frenetic pace, screaming their class cry. They meet the sophs and a melee ensues The freshmen must sophs and a melee ensues. The freshmen must while salt rains down on them

The Salt Rush, a popular tradition at the last turn of the century was not a university-wide student the century, was not a university-wid student hazing ritual - it was rully endorsed the winners Out of it grew the Flour Rush and the Snow R. Snow Rush, similar custo

It was a custom that could grow only a at a small, tightly-knit school in an era when school spirit ran thick through a college student's blood. The contempt for each other shown during the rushe contempt for each other shen the two classes of YMCA Most of the boys that rushed the hill YMCA. Most of the boys that rushed the hill affluent enough to attend school before financia aid existed.

The Syracuse University of 1900 bore little resemblance to the SU of 2000 - a large, secular, corporate school with a sizeable endowment. The university 100 years ago, with only 1,467 students, was a collegial, Methodist institution that had to borrow from its endowment to pay the bills and build to keep with its growing student body. Enrollment jumped 24 per James 1900 alone, leading Chancelor areat Roscoe Day to begin planning the buildingansion that cuminated ind six other buildings in 1907.

Men led a very different collegial existence than the women did. There were far more men, who worked toward degrees so they could win bread after graduation. Few women worked then, so the female students took courses that interested them and did not trifle over a degree, unless they planned on teaching "Women came to get degrees to teach, and went to the Teachers College or the College of Fine Arts," said Mary O'Brien, assistant director of archives for SU. "They even didn't have to be enrolled to attend fine arts. They could take lessons and classes if they were going to be a painter."

The College of Liberal Arts dominated the university's physical and academic landscape then, and gave rise to the Lyman C. Smith School of Applied Sciences (Engineering) in 1902 men and women led distinctly different lives of scholarship, school spirit narrowed the rift.

Amid criticism that women dampened school spirit, the University Herald came to their deread, "Instead of being a hindrance to the devel-

See TURN page 28

Courcesy of SU Acchives Prior to the earty 1900s, Syracuse University was a desotate hirtoph, mith inte then dazen buldingts. Bert a constriction project by Chancedor Lames Roscoe Day changed this.

ALUMNI

Ted Gregory '87
What stands out is the Nebraska win in '84 because during the late "70s and early' 80 s we weren't experiencing much success. Nebraska was a milestone for us as far as Syracuse University football climbing the plateau it had once been atop.

The following year, making it to the Cherry Bowl was a nice progression to bring Syracuse University football back to national prominence. In ${ }^{86}$. 1 missed the whole year, and we remained status quo. It was Donnie Mac's (Don McPherson) first year as a full-time starter, so they actually won five of their last six. But there were injuries and I missed the whole sea son.

In '87, I have to say that we finally got to the top, we reached the summit, and thanks to the university itself for dedicating itself to having a top football program. We were able to get to the top and have been dedicated from that point on. It was the culmination of four to five years of hard work from the top down, from the head coach to players to trainers. t was a team effort We all found our way and realized what it took to be a top program. I take great pride in being one of the players who helped bring Syracuse University football back to prominence, and I thank the university and players for maintaining the tradition we helped bring back.

All the principles that we eamed and applied to become a winning program are the same values that help you live a successfu life. You leam about life through your relationship with God, from your parents, and coaches.

People don't understand it, they draw too much of a line between the field and the classroom and personal life. I don't see the line. It's a complete circle and one spills into the other, and through the personal relationships that made at Syracuse University, I got to meet some real qualiy individuals and I maintain relationships with many of hem to this day.

SU gave me the opportunity to meet these people by offering me a scholarship. A lot of people think it's the oottom line - making revenue through TV and the ticket gate - but we also play to win. Syracuse wins by getting these funds, play ers win by getting the oppor tunity to play against other quality football programs, expanding our horizons. At SU, you experience the full gamut, especially on a team, you meet people from offferent economic, religious and geographical backgrounds that come together and work towards one common goal.

Ted Gregory ' 87 was drafted by the Denver Broncos in the first round of the 1988 NFL draft He was a consensus pick for the 1987 Allamerican Team as a nose guard. He now works in construction in East Islip.

Raquel Nurse '98
The friends you make, are the thing that stands out most. of all things 1 miss. 1 miss hanging out with friends. We keep in touch but it's not same over email. It's different than when you were around them all the time. 1 miss the camaraderie.

My closest friends were my teammates. With the amount of time you spend in practices and traveling with them, they become a family.

Raquel Nurse ' 98 is the sU women's tasketball țum's all-time assists ieader with 530 tor 4.9 per game. She いorks in Big East headquarters in Providence. R.I.

Scoreboards are meaningful, but off-field involvement with all the wonderful student-athletes has a more meaningful memory for me.
Roy Simmons Jr.

Roy Simmons Jr. '59
My most memorable moment was the chance to take the 1990 and the 1995 national championship teams to Lockerbie. Scotland to help mend the sorrow caused by Pan Am Flight 103. Scoreboards are meaningful, but off-field involvement with all the wonderful student-athletes has a more meaningful memory for me.

I will now dedicate my time as a member of the Syracuse University Library Association and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Everson Museum while continuing to work in my private studio as a visual artist.

Years ago, when asked what my goats were. 1 said I wanted to be a national champion and be seen in the Museum of Modern Art. t'm now working on the second half of my goal.

Roy Simmons Jr. '59 retired in 1998 as head coach of the Syracuse University men's lacrosse team. He is the only col-legiate-level coach to win six national championships.

ONE

TO

Ruth Coiter (center), pictured here in 1997 at her 84 th collega cfass rounion, says that learning is a fifetong endeavor, even when one is a centurian.

BY DAVE LEVINTHAL mWaging edror

Thirty-eight years to the day before the Empire State Building opened its doors for the first time, a newborn child across the New York Harbor first opened wide her eyes.

Despite being born into an affluent Staten Island family, little Ruth Morrison's home lacked a computer, a televi${ }^{\text {sion, }}{ }^{\text {a phon }}$ $\qquad$ Thirty-eight minutes after 3 p.m. on a crisp October afternoon, an old, old lady across a lifetime peered curiously Despited yet vibrant ice-blue eyes. sidence home in Manchester, Vt., Ruth Colter's home was filled with smiling photographs, a tape player, bright decorations ... unique electricity. It was Oct. 22, 1999.
"If I make it, and I hope that I do, I'Il have lived in three centuries," Colter said, gently leaning forward in her chair. I want to do it. It will be fun to do it. And I am going to do it."

She did. And at 106 years old, Syracuse Unate of the Clasest living alumnus, a graduate of the Class of 1913 , lives every would be foolish to stop learning, stop enjoying the world now, she says, citing her daily "readings" of audio books, the topics of which range from Homer's Iliad to essays on modern Chinese government policy. Eighty-seven years after receiving her degree in history, Colter is still bent on proving she deserves it.
"I'm now trying to learn the 41 presidents in sequence before the year is over," she said, noting that 13 th President Millard Fillmore is giving her diffring. I have to keep $n y$ mind going try Ive just always been learning Why stop now? ?
A noble goal for a woman who has seen 20 of them come and go. Noble like any opportunity to enrich one's life with learning and love, Colter explained.

The core of this attitude was born during her four years on the Hill. Although admittedly not a "diligent" student who failed a couple of classes, Colter took great interest in history and classics. She became a sprinter for the wornen's athletic club. She also sat in the front row in all her classes, afraid that if she didn't, she'd fall asleep.

Her freshman year, Colter joined kappa Alpha Theta, describing the deci-

See COLTER page 27

Thousands of Orangemen fans swarm the Canier Dome basketball court Monday after SU defeated UConn B8-74. The fans, mostly students, rushed the court following the win. Several items of SU equipment and phoperty mere damaged, destroyed or stolon during ## the rush.  SU discusses damages, video

BY EMILY KULKUS
Asst. News Editor
Orangemen fans found themselves caught on videotape Monday night when they damaged, stole and destroyed thoucquipment while celebrating SU's victory equiprment while celebrating scticut, said Patrick Campbell, managing director of the Carrier Dome.

SU officials couid not say, however, if the tapes would be used to prosecute any students or refer them to the Office of Judicial Affairs.

More than 2,000 fans, mostly stu dents, streamed from their seats when the final buzzer sounded, trampling media tables and chairs to surround SU players on the Dome court and climb the basketball hoops. Fans bent one basketball rim, forcback repair personnel to repiace it and its from people hanging or standing on the hoop, Campbell said.

In addition, fans destroyed a laptop computer, damaged a printer, six media tables, several chairs and the electronic scoreboard controller. Up to six of the team's bench seats and the possession arrow indicator were also stolen, Campbell said.

Dome representatives met with the SU Department of Public Safety and Judicial Affairs twice since Monday's game to discuss the incident, Campbell said. Use of he post-game vieotape to dentiry students who may have caused the damage vas "discussed," he said.

Judicial Affairs and Public Safety could not be reached for comment about the use of the videotapes.

Campbell estimated the costs of the damages to be a few thousand dollars, he said.
on lhe fans were really pumped up and it only takes a few people to put a damper See DAMAGE page 4

Students advocate political support

BY JASON VOLACK Staff Writer

The Syracuse University College Republicans planned a political brigade Republicans planned a political brigade
Wednesday night that is expected to attack voter apathy both on and off cam pus.

About five members of the group met in Schine Student Center to ad dress Central New York GOP support. "Our current answer is to canvas the community in hopes of getting a broader support in the Syracuse area," said Chris Ryan, a sophomore political said Chris Ryan, a sophomore politica science and broadcast journalism major. campus making themselves available campus mak

Involving younger people is a prob lem facing the Republican Party, said Joe Burns, College Republicans chair person.
students trying to get feedback that the pars about this issue in hopes that the party can use the information to get more people active and vote Republican," said Burns, a junior history and political science major.

Ryan, a supporter of candidate Steve Forbes and coordinator of SU's Youth for Forbes, is using his group to relinquish GOP frontrunner and Texas York support, he said. gates in the area so we feel our chances are very good," Ryan said. "As we look now, it's a Bush versus Forbes race." Though Arizona Sen. John McCain has proven successful in New York state polls, his eligibility to appear on some district primary ballots is yet to be determined, Ryan said.

McCain filed an appeal Jan. 14
See CR page 8

$\square$ State Affairs

Pepsico contract spurs local debate

BY MAGGIE MCFADDEN

 Contributing WriterAs the Rochester Institute of Technology prepares to switch its beverage selection from CocaCola Company to. Pepsico Inc., many Syracuse University students continue to debate their university's contract with Pepsico that may expire by the year's end.

RIT signed a contract last summer with Pepsico to serve and sell the company's products undisclosted financial benefits, said William Batchler, director, of business services at RIT. The change sparked a heated debate on campus between those who favored Coca-Cola beverages, he added.
najority of the overwhelming majority of the student popula-Coca-Cola drinkers were very vocal," said Patrick Bavaro-Phelan, president of the RIT Student Government Association. "Many RIT students felt that this monopoly was more an issue ing taken away of choice getpany's beyerage tastes better " pany's beverage tastes better.

Bavaro-Phelan added that the contract With Pepsico sparked other questions and cluding whether or not the school would enter into other contracts, namely with computer companies. Several student organizations also brought up the question of whether or not the epsico contract would directy the college, he added.

In the end, students were upset enough to hold a public forum for administrators and students to debate the subject," Bavaro-Phelan said. At the set but it is not really were upic anymore." AIthoug Alhough some students expressed concerns at the beginbate has become more of a joke, Batchler said.

Pepsico establishes a mo-
See PEPSI page 3

- State Affairs

Pataki bill funds research, bio-technology industry

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS
taff Writer
University officials throughout New York state are lauding Gov. George E. Pataki's Jan. 5 introduction of a tax plan deand aid scientific research and industry.
Within the plan is a grant to Cornell University and Rensse laer Polytechnic Institute. The money will aid the two upstate New York universities in the development of bio-technological pp to $$ 300,000$ and $$ 400,000$ year, respectively.

Althouch the ty of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry did not receive any funding for Nakas a professor of microbioloEy, said the state's money could yield commercially viable products.
Many companies in the biotechnology field are ventures that, Nakas said, are making profits and making capital."

RPI hopes to use $$ 2$ million during the next five years to create the National Science Foundation Materials Research Science and Engineering Center in nology sgid Bruce Adams, an PPI nology, said Bruce Ad Bis, an RPI

[briefs]  Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

tidbits

'NYPD Blue' burns

city's firefighters
NEW YORK CITY
City firefighters called Wednesday for a nation wide boycott of TV's "NYPD Blue" after it depicted them robbing a corpse.

A spokesman for the show's production company, Steven Bochco Productions, said that while the stories are based on real life. this was the first time that it was the first time that it had portrayed firefie in a negative light. depicted city frefighters stealing an expensive -NYPD Blue" and ABC Network have spit in the face of every New York City firefighter and our comrades nationally," said Matthew James, the Brookiyn trustee of the Uniformed Firefighters Association, which represents about 9,000 members.
The network referred questions to Steven Bochco Productions.

Faint signal shows possible contact

 Leaders of the Mars Polar Lander mission said Wednesday they are optimistic that their errant craft - declared officially lost only last week - is still alive and trying to contact Earth.On Friday, project managers received a phone call from a perse vering Stanford astronomer who detectastronomer who detected faint signals coming space antenna

Thurman's team  began sending new commands to Mars Wednesday, asking the lander to send a pattern of three long signals back to Earth. But Thurman said it would be several days before they could analyze the antenna data and determine if the signals from the missing lander are present within the data. A definitive answer expected next week.E-Stamp to begin testing ín Canada Online postage retailer E-Stamp is expected to announce Thursday that Canada Post Corp. will begin testing its interne postage system in early February. The market trial in Calgary Aberta trial in Calgary, Alberta, represents the first test an international market. Customers of Canada's federal mail service wilf be able to send letters and packages throughout Canada and the United States as part of the pilot program.

Grandmas meet Gonzalez

MIAMI - Amidi heavy security and with many guidelines, the Cuban grandmothers of Elian Gonzalez had an emotional reunion Wednesday with the 6-year-old boy, who has become the focus of a heated international custody battle.

The much-anticipated meeting took place at the gated Miami Beach home of Sister Jeanne O'Laughlin, a Dominican nun who is president of Barry University, a local Catholic college. OLaughlin, a longtime children's General Janet Reno, described as an old friend, to provide a neutral setting for the get-together after here failed Monday night, said Barry spokesman Joe MCQuay. Beach small army of Miami Beach police officers stood guard Wednestiay afternoon outside O'Laughlin's cream-colored estate with black iron gates that sits on Indian Creck. Several hundred people waited on the street outside, shouting, "He's Cubang flag. One man held a sige that said ane man held a sign love your

As the vehicles pulled into the property Wednesday The women came to the meeting understanding that they would not be allowed to take the boy away with them. "The purpose of the meeting is a family visit, with no bearing on the legal matters, said Spencer Eig, a lawyer on the legal team.

After the reunion, Elian returned to his great-uncle's house, and the grandmothers left with out commenting to reporters.

national news

Students find new evidence

GHICAGO - A law school professor and his students claim in a motion filed in the Illinois Supreme Court that they have uncovered evidence that a Death Row inmate was wrongfully convicted of a 1982 murder on testivicted of a 1982 murder on testimony by witnesses who now say Chicago police detectives coerced them into falsely identifying the suspect as the killer.

The Chicago-Kent College of Law students contend their investigation into Edgar Hope Jr.'s conviction in the shotgun slaying of an off-duty sheriffs deputy at a South Side McDonald's restaurant found evidence implicating the real killer, who is serving a life sentence for the 1982 murlife sentence for the 1982 murders of two Chicago police offiders of two Chicago poling

The motion filed by law professor Richard S. Kling accuses a former South Side police commander and his detectives of coercing witnesses, destroying police records and withholding evied Hope in the slaying.

If the law students' efforts on behalf of Hope succeed, he would become the 14 th Death Row inmate cleared of a murder charge since Illinois reinstat capital punishment in 1977.

China decries defense sales

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A senior Chinese general strongly objected to the possible U.S. sale of theater missile defenses week that ended a nine-month hiatus in military exchanges between the United States and China, administration officials said Wednesday.

Lt. Gen. Xiong Guangkai, director of intelligence and deputy chief of the general staf of the People's during a three-day visit agreed during a three-day visit to-military talks, which China to-military talks, which China Chinese Embassy in Belgrade

McCain vexed by abortion issue

MANCHESTER, N.H. - Republican presidential candidate John MaCain said Wednesday he would allow his own daughter to decide whether she would have an abortion, then changed his poplagued by the same controverplagued by the same controverGeorge W. Bush.

McCain, whose campaign hopes hinge on defeating Bush in Tuesday's New Hampshire prihis campaign day here clarifying his comments on the abortion his comments on the abortion question, saying he initially was saying and intended to sa is that this is a family decision, McCain said. "The family deci sion would be made by the family not by (his daughter) alone. And other than that I believe that it is a private family matter."
the McCain's comments were the latest hesitant, sometimes confusing remarks he has made like Bush, is opposed to abortion like Bush, is opposed to abortion except in cases of rape, incest or When the life of the mother is endangered. But like Bush, McCain portance of the issue, which tends to hurt the party among many swing voters.

world news

during the war over Kosovo According to U.S. officials, Xiong warned that a sale of would, in China's view Taiwan the 1979 pact in which the United States agreed to recognize Beijing's government, sever its defense pact with Taiwan and withdraw U.S. military forces from the island.
American officials used the meetings to urge China to use restraint in the weeks before the March presidential elections in Taiwan.

China attempts Internet control

BEIJING - China banned discussion of state se-

Coca-Cola cuts work force

ATLANTA - Coca-Cola Co. said Wednesday that it will slash 6,000 jobs - about 20 percent of its work force - in a bid to reduce the power of its Atlanta headquarters and transfer more authority to local units in more than 200 coun ries.

About 40 percent of the headquarters work force - 2,500 jobs will be eliminated. About 2,700 jobs will be cut outside the United States (about 14 percent of the company's jobs in U.S. operations outside Atlanta.
"This is probably, in the long run, going to make Coca-Cola more nimble," said Skip Carpenter, a beverage industry analyst with Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette. Still, Carpenter said, the layoffs will be painful and the company's outlook might include slower growth.

Coke shares fell more than 4 percent in heavy trading after the announcement, partly because of the short-term profit outlook, anaysts said. In trading on the New York Stock Exchange, Coke closed t $$ 63.06 \mathrm{~V} / 4$, down $$ 2.81 \mathrm{~V} / 4$

Daft has moved quickly to change Coke's approach to managing the business "with a decentral ized focus on local markets," said Carpenter, adding that he expects more changes. more changes.
day in the latest in a recent series of attempts to control an information industry that is fast spinning, out of the

The State Bureau of ${ }^{\text {S }}$
The State Bureau of Secrecy issued a circular saying from sending e-mail containrom sending e-mail containing state secrets, discussing state secrets in internet chat The circular also said Internet content and service providers based in China must undergo a "security certification" before they can operate.

The 20-article circular was the most recent in a spate of attempts by China's authorities to control the Web and limit its effect on China's closed political system

campus calendar

TODAY

-The Student Environmentil Action Coalition meets at 7 p.m. in Marshall Hall's Niffkin Lounge on the ESF campus. Food and beverages will be served.

- The Syracuse Area Domes. tic Violence Coalition hosts a daylong conference regarding "Community Oppression and Domestic VioIence: Expanding Our Understanding" from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Marley Education Center, on the corner
- Al-Anon/AC meets at noon in Schine Student Center, Room 234.
$\square$ Paul Charron, board chairperson for Liz Claiborne, New York, $\square$ Donald Brown, senior counsel for sustainable development for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, speaks regarding "How Environmental Ethical Questions Continue to be Hidden in Disputes Over Environmental Science, Economics and Law" at 5 p.m. in the ESF Moon Library conference room.
- Francis McMillan, director of African American and Students Offering Service Programs at Hendricks Chapel, tells folktales at 7 p.m. in Lawrinson Hall PentMLK Week. Refreshments will be MLK served.

The College of Visual and Performing Arts hosts the Setnor School of Music convocation from Auditorium, Crouse College.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill" at 7:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets students and groups. Call 4433275 for ticket information.
$\square$ The Salt City Center for Performing Arts presents "Othel$10^{n}$ at 8:15 p.m. at 601 S. Crouse Ave. Tickets are $\$ 15-\$ 18$, disAve. Tickets are $\$ 15-\$ 18$, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 474-1122 for ticket information.

TODAY-SATURDAY

-The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse presents comedians Darin Dillon and Bill Campbell at 8 p.m.

PEPSI

continued from page 1
nopoly on fountain beverages in SU's dining halls and allows for only a small percentage of shelf space for other companies' drinks. such as juices and teas, said Lou Marcoecia, SU vice president of business and finance.

Marcoccia said SU based its decision to swith from a previous contract with Coca-Cola to Pepsico because of financial benefits and upgraded vending machines.
-We went out and thoroughly evaluated all the factors in-olved, Marcoccia said. "In the end, Pepsico Corporation proved more beneffial to the institution on all fronts.
*We are always laoking out for the interest of the students and in this case, Pepsico provid ed the institution with an overall better package, allowing us to focus the dollars we saved, elsewhere."

The controversy with bever age preference is a major topic at SU, said Danidie Schearer, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences

One student, Janet Morri son, said she strongly opposes the current contract with Pepsico. "I hate Pepsico," said Morrison, a meshman lelevision, radio and film major. "Personally, dislike the fact that it monopo lizes the campus. If Pepsico is going to capitalize the dining halls, at least allow Coke products to be sold at Schine.

Leslie Coe, a freshman marketing and retail major, said students should not take the decision
"Some people like Coke Some people like Pepsico," Coe said. "That's what it all boils down to, and it is just a drink.

How would you score?  LSA: GMAD CTI MCAD DAT

Take a FREE Test Drive and find out!

Now is your chance to take a practice test under real test condirons. Experienco Kaplan's Test Drive and you'll receive indwithal leedback on your pertormance Dont mass this treo opporturity to lind out how you woud scom on the teat ekam

Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M.
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Hall of Languages

Or take it online from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

1-800-KAP-TEST
kaptest.com

DAMAGE
continued from page 1
on things," Campbell said.
One woman fell off a chair while in the crowd but refused to be treated by medical staff. No otherinjuries were reported, Campbell said.
pull down one of ly attempted to pull down one of the basket-

The Daily Orange

ball hoop stards, SU Spokesperson Kevin Morrow said. The stands weigh about 2,500 pounds and can be extremely dangerous if moved in a large crowd, Campbell said.

People ran out of things to celebrate, so they started doing stupid things." Campbell said of hardwood for about 30 minutes.

The court is for the players, coaches and officials - not the fans."

An SU student who rushed the court and took one of the team bench chairs on Monday, said the thefts and damages involved in the celebration are "not a bis deal."
necessarily from that game, but the fan, who wished not to be identified. It was kind of a joke I thought we would set some would say someand someone would say some SU fans are neith
SU fans are neither encouraged nor forbidden from rushing the court after n basketball game, versity is looking into enhanced

포NN NY

 NOWOWNERD

Open account and receive a FREE $10 Parlay: NO deposit required!
labfer exp. 1/30100)

Deposit $200 Receive $$ 50$ FREE (an initial depasit)

Gasinoly.an safety procedures to prevent rurther problems, he said.

"There will be some noticeable changes," Campbell said. At Duke University, Durham, N.C., students historihigh profile games during a season, but typically there are no injuries or damages, sald Neal Morgan, sports editor of The Chronicle newspaper at Duke.
"There are no rules against rushing the court," Morgan said. "But the press row knows enough to get out of the way."

$-11 \cdot 50$ SHPPIG sERVIGES

- PACKAGING -
- SHIPPING SUPPLES - ENVELOPES•
- GIFT WRAPPING -
- NEXT DAY SERVICE -
- INTERNATIONAL - open til midnit (M-f)
centry
472-0546
Marshall Square Mall
문 표 표
$\Gamma \Phi B * A \Gamma \Delta * A \Phi * A X \Omega * A E \Phi * A O \Pi * A \Xi \Delta * \Delta \Delta \Delta * \Delta \Gamma * K A \Theta * \Pi B \Phi * \Sigma \Delta T * \Delta \Sigma \Theta$

This is where it allbegan...

The Apha
Triad consists of the only three sororities that were founded at Syracuse University

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA
est. 1904
ALPHA PHI
est. 1872
GAMMA PHI BETA est. 1874

And a century later the Alpha legacy continues.. . Go Greek!

[editorial]

The Daily Orange
January 27, 2000
Ashok Selvam, editor 443-2128 editorialodailyorange.com 5

GOP rules prevent fair state primary

Sen. John McCain said New York Republican voters have less voting choice than the Russians

That may not be much of an exaggeration. Only two candidates - party favorite Texas Gov George W. Bush and magazine magnate Steve Forbes - will be on every ballot in the New York state GOP presidential primary. In at least three of the state's voting districts, Sen. John McCain has been kicked off of the ballot for failing to meet the party's standards.

With the money and muscle of the New York state GOP behind him, front-runner Bush ensured he would be on every ballot. Steve Forbes spent $$ 750,000$ on lawyers and signature-getters.

But Sen. McCain, who ranks No. 2 in most national GOP polls, has been challenged by state party bosses who want him off 16 upstate ballots. Those same party heads who want to push their strongest candidate into the White House are trying to make it as easy as possible for Bush by blocking McCain.

In the New York GOP primary, candidates must get on the ballot of all 31 congressional dis tricts by getting thousands of signatures in each one. The archaic system is known as one of the country's most complicated and one that goes against the democratic principles Americans agains.
The Arizona senator made it farther than other GOP hopefuls - Alan Keyes and Gary Bauer will skip the primary altogether.

While New York's system has some merit it forces candidates to campaign across the entire state - its restrictions and rigors favor the rich and make a victory nearly impossible for candidates who are less wealthy but viable nonetheless. The primary's rules were created to prevent less. The primarys rules were created to prevent from appearing on the ballot, not credible politicians like McCain. More importantly, primaries in general were created to take power out of the hands of political bosses and give it to state citizens.

In a political landscape that is being dominated more and more by big spenders, the New York state GOP should follow the lead of its Democratic state counterparts and loosen its rules so more serious candidates have a fighting chance.

Otherwise, the Empire State might as well nominate an emperor.

[dä]

Editor in Chief Ron Depasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Estabished in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Justin Sifverman Editarial Editor Lifestyle Edito Sports Editor Presentation Directo Photography Editor Art Director
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Assi. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Assi. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Edito
Asst. Sports Edito
Design Editor
Design Ecitor
Design Editor
Asst. Photograply Editor Asss. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Holly Auser Holly Auser

Dave Curtia Bul Ehninger Tom Nycz Neva Austrow Lepra Prabuckd Emily Kulikus Kate Stevemson Tiffany Lankes | Soy Davis |
| :---: |
| Sapar Kollarim | Connor Enulis

Jeff Passin Joffinassan Boyla Tommy Fiorito Tomsmy Fiorito
Elaine Skinner Tito Botitity Remsica Cutiar Mun Dabikownal Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

opinions

Full-figured women must love themselves

I spent another boring winter day watching song called "No More Rain." grgeous and niced that the only view of the singer, Angie Stone, shown up close was her face. When they did show her whole body, it was as part of a larger scene. They also showed driving a car.I am against objectifying women's bodies, but chis singer has a body that few people woul see as sexy or appealing. showed another diva in short shorts washing a car wearing a tight white T-shirt. The difference is that Angie Stone is a larger woman and very confident in her body, but the videomaker apparently went to great lengths to hide it.

KAMIKA

MC DONALD

This is so reflective of what happens in our society. I have been full-figured all my life and I went through the public ridicule that goes along way, "Oh! You look... healthy!" which translated means "Wow! What have you been eating because you look like the Goodyear blimpl?" Often, when a person sees a woman of substance with an attracperson sees a woman of substance with an attrac"Why is he with her?" Often, larger women are stereotyped as comedians in their circles of friends.

While not everyone is ridiculing big, beautiful women or BBWs, there are those who have an inaccurate image of what it means to be large and lovely.

I want to send a newsflash to everyone who may have these innages about those of us who are pleasantly plump. We can live very well and not be a size six, size 12 or even a size 20 . Most women in size 14. Designers may ignore big women or make plus-sized clothes that would look good only on an elephant. But we do have style that is too phat for many clothiers.
Losing weight does not have to be a fashion decision because there are clothes for women who are bigger but want to look fashionable. Some people are starting to get the picture. Magazines like Mode, Girl and Belle are catering to the confident larger woman who wants to be supported in our alumna Emme are spicing up runways that were formerly the domain of waif-like or emaciated supermodels. Entertainers like rapper Juvenile real women in their videos; not the traditional, skinny, video bimbos. There are also those ads with Camryn Manheim suggestively posed to show other large women that they can be sexy, too.
There are even legions of men who are finding BBWs to be the most gorgeous of all women. They are quick to remind people that the quintessential sex symbol, Marilyn Monroe, wore a size 16. Many men are looking for larger features on women instead of the anorexic look.

Celebrities are even making it clear that they are not using bulimia and anorexia to lose weight. are just a little too lean for the hearty observer are just a little too lean for the hearty observer. For all my plus-size sisters, keep on doing and don't let anyone tell youch differently. Being big means that you have a power that can intimidate most men. There are several men who will find the confidence you exude to be incredibly sexy. Stand tall, ladies, because the truth is thin was never in but luscious was always beautiful.

Kamika Mc Donald is a junior broadcast journalist and African-American studies major. Her column appears on Thursdays in The Daily Orange. Email her at klmcdona@syredu.

letters

Education is key to animal rights activism

 To the Editor:As a vegetarian and animal rights activist myself, I take issue with those groups and people who aim to aecure animal rights through property destruction. Indeed, what good does such behavior do? In my view, it does very little good. Who learns anything from such behavior? Perhaps you ens, but then millions of animals are slain and/or tortured every day - and the atrocities certainly don't stop, so what good is it really doing?
much believe that education is a much better solution. I used to eat meat and use animal tested products - and I had a very negative view of animal rights advocates. Then I met someone who actually OLD me the sorts of things that cs, etc, industries. If people only knew what really goes on, I bet many more would become vegetarians and use non-animal tested products. Go check out the PETA

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals) Web site and learn a little bit and then make your own moral decision. Using non-animal tested products, at the very least, is easy to do and well worth it. Many groups publish lists of companies that don't animal test, and all you have to do is go buy a different brand of toothpaste, laundry derhaps you'll even feel good about yourself because you helped make the world a slightily better place.

Marcus Arvan
Graduate Student

BIO

continued from page 1
spokesperson.
Nanocomposites are plastics filled with micro-sized materials to bolster strength. The school expects to garner $$ 10$ million in funding from the National Science Foumdation to complete the project. RPI is aiso planning on spending $$ 1.5$ million of its own money and may receive an additional $$ 2.5$ million in corporate donations, Adams said. The center will make flameretardant plastics for automobiles, trucks and airplanes; decrease the size of telecommunications systems and createmi-crosystems that could be entered into the human body to produce insulin, Adams said.

"You can create materials hat have never been created before," he said. "This is the point of the center."

With help from the grant, major breakthroughs in hame-resistant plastics and telecommusoon, Adams said Other developments could take as long as 10 years, he added.

Cornell will found the Technological Enhancement and Access Laboratory, said Carl Batt, cosdirector of the center and a food science professor.
"Wa want to build a structure that will tie nanocomposite Batt said.

University-level research rarely reaches the maturity that the private sector needs, he added. This is a problem that the thering basic research.

Much ine Cornell, there are several biomedical studies taking place at ESF, Nakas said. One of them involves examining the possibility of using fruit fly chromosomes as a model system to study human genetics," he added.

Along with the two grants, the initiative also contains economic measures that are aimed at increasing bio-technological in dustry within New York state.

The plan ineludes a $$ 10 \mathrm{mil}$ Gon Biotechnology Industry Grown Fund which will encour ageid Charles Diester a Patak spokesperson The fund provides spokesperson. The fund provides ing to sell their ing to sell th

The Empire State Technology Employment Program will also begin, allowing high-tech compa Gies in New York state to give $$ 3.400$ a year to prospective erm ployees who are studying engi neering, computer science and other science-based programs. The program aims to encourag more graduates to pursue high tech careers in the state.

For the state to grow and prosper, you need your best brightest and talented to stay here," Diester said. "Things are only going to get better, but it's important that we keep sciencerelated professionals in New York."

In the 1980 s and early 1990 s many students from New York state would leave after graduation to pursue high-tech jobs in Calilormas Silicon Valley, he said.
"People would get a great education in New York and then take a look around them and de cide that their future was not in New York," Diester said. "We're reversing that."

Carrier Dome Concessions/Catering
Do you love...

Football?

Basketball? Lacrosse?

Concerts?

If so, have we got the job for you!
Concessions positions are available immediately at the Dome.

We Pay $6.00 Per Hour!

Call 443-4029 or 443-4020 or stop by the Student Office. We're located at Aisle 109 in the Carrier Dome. Enter through gates B or E.

SUNDAY & MONDAY
LET LUCY'S CATER YOLR PRTVATE PARTIES (MUST TNCLLIDE AMPLE FOOD) CALL RC OR BEN AT 476-9990
TUESDAT
-X-TREME TUESDAYS
S1.50 MOLSON EOTTLES
S150 LAEATT BOTTLES
S1.50 EUMWETISER DRAFTS
REGISTER TO WIN A MAYAH. BEACH
BILE, TOBOCGAH, ROSSIGUAL SKIS ©R
SLED

WEDNESPAY HALF PRICE LONG ISLAND ICED TEAS S2 RED STRTPE BOTTLES ISLAND DRINK SPECIALS

THURESBY CORONA BAL LOONNHEHT: S2CORONA BOTITES S2 FOSTER'S BOTTLES TREEE BALLOONS WITH FREEPRIZE TICKETS INSIDE AT 12:00

FRI HAPPY HOUR $5 - 600z IMPORT DRAUGHT PITCHERS FOR $$ 3$ - KEEP THE GLASS PITCHER

FRIDAY
S2 TEQUIZA BOTTLES $1.25 ROLITNG ROCK splets

SMTURPAY

 OUR FAMOUS LADTES NTCHT LADIES: 12 PRTCE DRAFTS, WINES & WEL DRTNXS UNTII 12PMI DOOR CHAREE BEFORE 11PM GETS GALS 4 FREE WRNES OR DRAFTSTDONTH FORAET WE HAVELUCY'S T-SHIRTS JACKETS POSTERS & GIFT CERTIFICATES

CR

continued from page 1
asking a federal court to allow him to appear on the primary ballot of all New York state dis tricts after failing to obtain the necessary number of signatures
The issue of political apsthy among youth affects the Democ said Christina Hinchey SU Col lege Democrats chairperson senior public relations and public policy major. She noted that the arge amount of campus interes broups create a comperinive envi tions. ions.
"We have always attracted ery liberal, opinionated students, but other groups are vying or these people's attention, wes to be our biggest problem." wes to be cur biggest problem,

Democrats have not faced lege Demorrats have not faced minorities, however bocause of the historically liberal policies of the party.

Some of the ideas that have aeen proposed by the College De mocrats to remedy the prablem include establishing political information stands and beginning a listserv that is available to all Democratic party members, Hinchey said. The College Democrate hosted a table Monday and Tuesday in the Schine Student Center advocating the campaign of Democratic candidate and former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley, she added.
"It's absolutely important that Syracuse students who wish to vote in the New York primary register to vote now," Burns said. of the March 7 New York state primary election.

Burns said he will be serving as a delegate on behalf of the Youth for Forbes campaign. The College Republicans, however, do not ofncially support a candidate. he added.
"Although Forbes doesn't look phenomenal to voters now. he will in March for the New York primary," he said.

Want a chance at $25,000 to help launch your hot, new business idea?

The Syracuse University Entrepreneurial Competition offers a first prize of $$ 25.000$ to help launch a promising growth business: Open to SU student teams, see complete reles and info at http://www.som.syr.edu/competition
Deadline for executive summaries is Tuesday, February 1, no later than 1:00pm!

> Call the Carrier Dome Student office ot 443-4029 today!

Carrier Dome Catering has positions open! Banquet Servers Bartenders Suite Hosts for Football Season
How about $$ 6.00$ an hour to start?

Tuesday, February 1, no later than 1.Oopm.

the

Flu blues ff you're one of the millions of older adults who decided not to get a flu shot this winter, there are two important things you should know: The flu can kill and it's not too late to change you mind. In the United States, flu season runs from November until April, which means the virus will be around for several more months. Statistics show that the flu kills 20,000 Americans each year most of them older than 65 .

Seeing stars

Even when it comes to fighting disease. celebrity sells. Dick Clark will host the National Parkinson Foundation's International Gala for Hope this March and Michael J. Fox, who recently announced that he would leave Spin City" at the end of this season, will lend his name and fame to the fight against Parkinson's. Both stars join the litany of celebrities who have gone public with their own afflictions in order to humanize an illness, raise money for research and hijack their media spotlight for a good cause.

Lather up

Washing your hands incessantly and thoroughly is probably the most effective way to avoid catching a cold Lather up, preferably not with a bar of soap Germs can lurk there from the cold suffere who used the bar before you. Keep wash ing long enough to sing the first verse of the "Star Spangled Banner." Don't share hand towels with the others in your household. Even if no one seems to have a cold, sufferers can be contr. gious several days before symptoms

quote of the day:

"The genius of Einstein leads to Hiroshima."
Pablo Picasso
$\mathrm{Holl}_{3}$ Auer,
editor
443-2128
life daily
orange.com
RAP attack

Method Man storms SU. See Lifestyle Friday.

bones

 inPlemaineg satay can prevent tomorrow. BY ANNEMARIE KROPF Staff Writer

It's known as the silent thief With bones slowly weakening over mime, a fracture is often the first warn ing sign of the disease. But by that time the damage is irreversible.

Osteoporosis, which means 'porous bone, is a debilitating disease that afelects older women and men. But provendative measures can be taken when peoplea are still in their twenties. Osteoporosis afflicts about 10 million people in the United States today, according to the National Osteoporosis Foundation.
"A lot of people don't think of it as a disease, that it just happens when you NOF, referring to the stooped posture of some osteoporosis victims Whit White there are multiple risk factors to this disease, osteoporosis poses the biggest threat to females. Eight million women currently have the disease. Postmenopausal Caucasian and Asian women are most at risk for osteoporosis, not only because of the loss of estrogen which plays a large role in keeping bones strong, but also because of their bone density, which tends to be lower than that of other races.

Boning up

Bones are not lifeless structures. New bone is constantly being made as old See OSTEOPOROSIS page 11

$\rho$

Shyness leads to social peril, loneliness

It is the ghost on one's shoulder, constantly shrouding the individual in self-doubt and unnecessary worries. Most everyone has experienced shyness. In a recent poll conducted by U.S. News and World Report, nearly one-half of the respondents claimed it
Corey
Han or $\qquad$
health
sleuth be some, shyness can eve be an endearing trait Princess Diana captured the world's heart with her "Shy $\mathrm{Di}^{\prime \prime}$ mannerism.

And if it were not for our innate weariness of other individuals or situstins, the human species mingy not have anevived - a mechanism to make us aware of dangerous situations is lodged in the most primitive regions of the lorain. But in some cases, this social phobia can cause withdrawal from society and lead to a host of destructive behaviors ranging from low self-esteem to chronic drug use to suicide, in the most extreme cases.

Shyness has been a part of recorded history since the days of Hippocrates, though up until 1980 it was a nameless affliction. By definition, shyness is a form of social anxiety that may range from feelings of mild stress in the presence of others to absolute fear. One of the saddest aspects of this disorder is that the patient is never satisfied with their social situanion and they feel anxiety when around ohloneliness of only a forty relationships the the Since the problem of shyness 84 million Americans in some form, researchers have been making strides to clarify the nature of the disorder and deterane whether it may be inherited.
University of Oregon, shyness appears to have a genetic component, and there may also be a genetic component, and there may also be the phobia. Furthermore, the study indicates that ahyness is probably influenced more by heredity than by any other personality trait.

People who experience this social phobia during adulthood, but were previously outgoing, were usually more influenced by social and environmental factors. This portion of the shy population has risen from 40 to 50 percent over the last decade alone. Research blames technology for this trend.

See SLUETH page 10

BY LORI BISTIS
Contributing Writer
Syracuse University students are invited to lace up their dancing shoes and hop onto the dance floor as Guster, onto the dance foor as Guster, an acoustic rock band from Boston, takes the stage at Styleen's Rhythm Palace, 314 S . Franklin St., tonight.

The band plans to give Syracuse a performance equal to the caliber of a much larger to the caliber of a much larger venue, as they will be warming up for their Friday show in up for their Fridag show in Worcester, Mass, where they expect a crowd of more than 3,000 people.
things in Syracuse that we want to put into the Worcester show," said Gusterfrontman Ryan Ailler. Crooner Miller is joined Miller. Crooner Miller is jomed by Adam Gardner, another guitarist and singer, and Brian Rosenvorcel, who plays the bongos. The trio met during their freshman orientation at Tufts University and formed a band called "Gus."

As it turned out for "Gus," there were already too many bands with that name. But a friend of the group suggested adding the "ter," and Guster was born.
"The name didn't really come from anywhere," Miller said. "Someone just sort of pulled it out of their ass.

Guster's first album, "Parachute," debuted in April 1994

Hy" two years later. "Airport Song," a single from the sccond album, was performed on "Late Guster's first prime time gie. In Guster's first prime time gig. In 1997, Guster signed with Sire belas the Dave Matthews Band and U2. Guste "Parachute" and "Goldfty," sold 65,000 copies, mainly through word of mouth. The band estabis shed a "Guster Rep" program where fans sold CDs for the spot performance fuest list. spot performance guest hist.
Tom Gallagher, a senior adverTom Gallagher, a senior advertising major from Westfield, for four years.
could help get Guster's name could help get Guster's n.
out there, Gallagher said.

Growing up

Gallagher and other longtime Guster fans have witnessed an enormous growth in the fan base over the last three years. And with the release of the band's latest album, "Lost and Gone Forever," a performance at Woodstock 99 and increased radio play, the band in the music industry. in the music industry.

We always play in New York City after Thanksgiving. hhe size of that show has bone from 1,200 to 3,200 to 3,700 just irom 1,200 to 3,200 to 3,700 just over the last three years" Miller said. "Our fans are great."

Jack and Jill went up the hill, to join the Community Darkrooms.
They each signed up, and saved five bucks, while they handed over their coupons.

This offer is good thru February 18. With this coupon, Community Darkrooms is knocking $5 off semester memberships for SU undergrads.

Community Darkrooms

Watson Theater Complex - 315 Waverly Avenue - 315.443 .2450
Full Darkroom Facilities - G3 Computer Lab * Digital Printing - Classes & Workshops YOUR STUDENT FEE AT WORK

SYRACUSE

STUDY ABROAD
HAVE YOU STUDIED ABROAD?
Are you interested in studing abroad?

DIPA Invites youTO JOIN US FORA REENTRY RECEPTIONThursday, January 27Th4:00-5:30PMAt the Underground in Schine

Learn about living in another county.
SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE ABROAD.

RSVP AT $\times 9425$ OR GAPELLAM@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

But what is it draws in the tans dur ing a time when bands like Limp Bizkit, Kid Rock and Korn are dominating the scene? "They're just great guys and have so much energy when they're up there on stage, said Kari Arnold, a se nior political science major: a uniquenes about them.' The on

The on-stage presence of Guster brings fans back to their again. Not only is the group fully energized and clearly loving what they do, but they seek out audience participation and perform impromptu cover songs.
"Their performances are never dull." said Kendal Podgurski, a senior speech pathology major from Cumberand, R.l, who has seen five guster shows. The stunts range fom playing shows suits to bringing a stuffed animal (known as "The Bie Friend") onstage, to crowd surfing in the audience whete singing a rendition of "American pie." The band usually meets with fans and signs autographs following their shows.

Despite recent success and

SLUETH

continued from page 9

The new generation of Cyberspace addicts and lounging teens and adults has ounging teens and adults has fostered a new age of pass online shopping and other onime shopping and other con veniences have led many to even have the need to interact with others on a regular basis. Though some shy individuals nay thrive upon anonymity and the structured, controlled features of e-rmail and other technological instruments, th real problem is the person who begins to substitute their cyber-1ife with the reality of human connectedness.

Our society has come a long way, whether it's been progressive or not, since kids have looked forward to chatting with friends online rather We're playing kickball at recess. other for support bosic meeds and knowledge about the world However whent the world. However, when one cuts line, they leave themselves ine, they leave themselves vul serious mental disarders including schizophrenia. sive-compulsive disorder and severe narcissism, according to a Stanford University study.

The mere physical charac teristics of shyness are disturbing.
"The average reaction for me walking into a room full of people would be a rapid beart rate, sweaty hands, that kind of racing feeling in my head and an sort of nzziness, I found it anythine" said Mariss Tu
a participant in a University of Oregon study

Sufterers of shyness also report trembling, shaking, dry mouthor're removed from th situation, similar to an "out of bituation, similar to an "out of

They also per
Tructive also perpetuate the destructive cycle by internaliz ing blame and neglecting to The credit for their successes eventually leads to loneliness isolation and depression.

But there is hope for the chronically shy. Existing treatxnents include exposure to feared situations, called positive coping, which experts hope will ncrease the sufferer's tolerance to such situations. Clinical treatments sometimes include MAO inhibitors and the ever popular Prozac which yields cure rates as high as 30 percent.

Though the correlation between shynd similar technolosy may sound similar to otior manilestoes recently published Which blame technology for most of society's ailments, it is not entirely the case. Granted, we are becoming more detached as the years go on, but there is no reason to believe that we're going to become entirely based on nonnteractive communication.

In fact, as technologica growth leads to increased einure time, we may have an even greater opportunity to express our feelings to one another, which might elimiante or impede the progress of this debilitating disorder.

Corey Hann is a junior pre medicine and philosophy major E-mail him at cthann@syredu.

| Ralph Ci. Martell Proficssional Art Phertog |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | Female Nude Models Needed $25.00 THour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will pay Traveling Time |
|  | (315)893-7779 |

she, like, shrunk," PierreLouis said. "I don't want to be a bent-over old lady when $I^{\prime} \mathrm{m}$ 50 $\qquad$ Pierre-Louis advises college students against using lege students against using calcium supplements as their calcium supplements as their only source of calcium only source of calcium. ave to buy out the drugstore to supplement enough," she said.

While some choose to take calcium supplements, Van Vechten said she recommends that college students pop a daily multivitamin to kick the right dose of all vitamins and minerals into their systems.
Plan ahead
Often thought to be an inevitable product of aging, osteoporosis is actually a prod uct of poor planning on a young person's part. But new technology is helping to wage war on what was once considered inevitable.

The LUNAR Corporation, basedin Madison, Wis. was established in 1980. The company works to develop bone densitometers, which detect osteoporosis in its earliest stages.
"Osteoporosis is visible on X-ray film, but only once 40 percent of the bone mass is lost," said Brad Herrington, director of marketing at LUNAR Corporation. "There was no effective way to tell before bone densitometers."

The LUNAR Corporation developed the most widely used bone densitometer, the dual-energy X-ray absorptiomDEXA scanners are used mainly in major academic centers, the LUNAR Corporation put together a Bone Matters Tour in 1997. The program features a touring van, which travels from city to city with a bone scans to people. A bone bone scans typically posts $$ 40$.

January 27, 2000
11

Eighteen million people currently have low bone mass, which puts them at risk for osteoporosis. One in two women and one in eight men over age 50 will experience a fracture due to osteoporosis sometime in their life, according to the NOF.
"It's a disease whose results you don't see until you are older," the spokesperson said. "If you're not following bone-healthy behaviors from the time you are young, then of this disease at any aes"

Tun from one class to the next often don't have time to stop formeals, let alone worry about getting the right amount of calcium. This is where calci um supplements come in handy. Sold over the counter products such as Caltrate, OsCal and Tums offer one alter native to getting calcium the traditional way.

Kendra Pierre-Louis, a sophomore at Cornell University, has been talcing Caltrate sity, has been taking Caltrate With Vitamin $D$ since October mother cope with osteoporosis mad a strong impact on her had a strong impact on her, mindful of her calcium intake. "I saw my grandma and

S.U.I.P Internships for creditListings, information, registration, and advice available atSyracuse University Internship Program113 Euclid Ave.Phone: 443-4271

Yeah, we know that Coffee car keep you awake. However...

Starting Thursday, January 27th, The University Bookstore's hours of operation will be extended every Thursday through Sunday until 11:00 PM.

Yes, 11:00 PM! Every department... Books, Art and Office Supplies, Market, Framing, Clinique, Collegiate... need Pajamas, Photography, Computer, Bus Tickets... need to get of town quickly, with your Pajamas?

Every Department, every Thursday through Sunday... until 11:00 PM!
"Sunday. 10:14 PM. Seventh cup o' Joe. Locked up in the Studio... just ran out of Oil Paint and I still need to copy this 30 MB file. No Zip Disks in sight. Everything is due in the morning. Panic setting in...can't breathe ... everything's turning black..."

Hey, Relax Eolks! The University Bookstope now has Extended Fours!

INTERESTED IN STUDYING

 in Australia?Come to the Info Meeting at what good is Coffee if you don't have the supplies?!

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu DIPA

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27TH
AT 3PM
u

MCNABB

continued from page 16
38-31 victory over Super Bowlbound St. Louis. ffensing with a struggling offensive line, McNabb spent most of his season eluding oncoming rushers. After the Rams win, McNabb joked, saying even though he wore a knee brace, he though he wore a knee brace, he still darted away from defenders wanting to pound him into the turf.
"I don't fear anyone," McNabb said. "There are big guys that it as they can't catch what they it as they can't catch what they their vision, then they can't get you."

McNabb struggled early in the season for the Eagles. In three appearances in relief of beleaMcNabb completed just 13 of 29 ## passes.

Pederson lost his job after leading Philly to a 2-7 start. Making his first NFL start against Washington, McNabb led the Eagles to a $35-28$ win, their thind victory of the season. He connected on eight passes for 60 yards and scrambled for another 49 yards Until then, a Philadelphia start since Mile Boryla in 1974 Start since Mike Boryla in 1974. to cynical Eagles fans from the upper deck to the owner's box
"This is a quarterback league," Philadelphia owner Jeffrey Lurie said. "We think we'll have one of the terrific ones for the next 10 or 15 years."

Two weeks later in Washington, McNabb returned to the form Syracuse fans knew well.

With the Eagles trailing 17-3, McNabb engineered two 91-yard scoring drives to tie the game. He hit tight end Luther Broughton with touchdown passes of three and 26 yards.

It was the rookie's first mul-ti-touchdown NFL game, and he also racked up 71 yards rushing eight carries McNabb finished the season with a $24-9$ win over reeling New England and the triumph over the NFC champion Rams. In the season finale, he threw for 179 yards arti three scores, including a fiveyard, fourth-quarter strike to put Philly ahead for good.

Any time you throw three touchdown passes, it's something you could build on," Eagles head coach Andy Reid said. "It was productive for him. He made strides forward, and he's done a nice job."

Although MeNabs is experiencing success in the NFL, he hasn't forgotten his boys from Syracuse. He boeps in touch with several of his former teammates who remain on the fil, ofen asking about a particular MoNabb also tried

McNabb also tries to speak with other Syracuse grads in the receiver Kevin Johnson and Miami running back Rob Konrad

To see that those guys are doing well, that they're successfill in football and successful in life," McNabb said, "you definitely know that you have great friends that you can fall back on in any situation. You know that they'll be there

Already preparing for his second season, McNabb said he knows his play must rise with the ncreasing expectations on him

MeNabb hasn't decided Where he will spend most of the Philadelphis said he will be in Philadelphia often to watch films and work out

The SU grad hopes to better his morie-ceason state especislly the quarterback rating of 601 . The higher-tier NFL quarterbacks own ratings of 80 or higher.

As a young quarterback and a team leader, McNabb makes no secret about what he wants to guide the Fagles toward - a postseason berth.
"I would love to play in the playoffs," McNabb eaid. "We all have a positive attitude about going out ard just trying to change this thipe around."
by Devin Clark

Never Odid or Even
by Tim Dose

$\therefore$ -
Oh My Gawd

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

by Jen Szeto

by Neil Swaab

Get 'Cuse To Rabbi by Damon Amendolara
SU Made Sure Dick VItale Promoteo
Syracise Everywhere on Campus
DiNNER'S
ANESOME
BABY:

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer

$14\left[\right.$ C1assifieds $\begin{array}{l}\text { The Daily Orange } \\ \text { January } 27,2000\end{array}$  More than just SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camp counselors needed for a

| CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING  315-443-9793  $\$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 e$ each additional word  5 c extra each bold word Charges are PER $15 S \cup E$ a are Pre-paid by; Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: $2 p m 2$ business days prior to run ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BYPHONE I!   |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Notices

 ewarm money now

FOR SALE
Tanning Eed Excelient tor Soronty 24 (new) bulbs
Sunal by Wofic can defiver $$ 950637-4741$

Autos

'92 SVX Subaru AWD Loaded Snow & Regular Tires. Car Cover, Fast $$ 7900443.9400$
Leave Message. Message

EMPLOYMENT

Camp Counselors Top Ovenighi Camps in Pocono Mtris. Over 40 acivities caunselars coww pinefore
titchen manager ntar
For privale Summer Camp in Beautitul Pocono Mountains. Feeding 500 people 3 meals per day. Experience peierred. June. July & August
$1-800-399$-CAMP

Job Opportunities

BOnuSES plus guaranteed Mourty rate lor
Syracuse Stage -Angel Appeal Campaign." Nice Syracuse Stage Angel Appeal Campai working atmosphere. On bustline. Mon-Thu $5-9 \mathrm{PM} .1 / 17.3 / 19$. Required pleasant speakin voice, goal oriented, positive atitude. 443-1158

WANTED Child Care
Cicero couple seeks responsible, dependabte.
 call 6984331 or emall: raynsemmillacs.com

Help Wanted

Fraternities ${ }^{*}$ Sororities
Clubs
Sutuden Groups
Sludent organizations eam $$ 1,000-52,000$ with the easy carnpustundraiser.com three hour fundraising liing quickly, so call loday! Contact campustundaisercom, 8888 ) 923 -3238. or visit wimpampustundraisarcom. campusflunderaiser.com, www.campustundraisar.com.
51500 weekly potential mating our circulars. *o Experience Required. Free information packet. C $20^{\circ}-952-7679$. 20"-452-7679.
counselers needed for a private, residential camp in the beautitul Pocono Mins. We are locking for people with a dedication to children, enthusiasm lo diversiry, and a desire to share their passion and expertise in any of the following areas: COMPUT. ERS, CIRCUS ARTS. BASKETBALL, MAGIC VOLLEYBALL. TENNIS, SWIMMING. SAIEING FISHING, WATER-SKIING, THEATER. DANGE VIDEO, CREATIVE WRITING. ESL, SOCGEA, COOKING. RADIO, ROCK MUSIC. GOLE. SKATEBOARDING. AOLLERBLADING, FOCKETRY.NEVE CRAFTS, MOUNTAIN CREATIVE CRAF
CLIMBING WALL
CLIMBING WALL.
Please call 1--800-399-CAMP Asix for Dan or Niget. ARE YOU CONNECTED?
thternet Users Warted $$ 350 \cdot $ 800$ week
$888.217-4366 \mathrm{www}$ TabTeame00.com

Roommates

Roommate 715 Lancasier $$ 225+$ washer, Dryer, Roommate 715 Lanteasier $$ 225+$ Whas
Semi-furn, 3 tiocks to campus 263 -0613
Sublet needed, 4 person Apartment. Ackerman Ave. 4 bocks io campus call Pete, 423 -5025. Roommate wanted to share 3 targe bedroom noptrtment elose to campus parking firep apartment elose to campus parking fireplace
laundry 487.5761

Misc. Wanted WANTED: 50 Serious People to loose weight Fasl. Sato. $100 \%$ Natural, Guarante
$1.898-686-9767$ umw Finstim.com

FOR RENT

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walrut Ave
319 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
Avalable tor 2000-2001
Fuvily Furnished Latndry
Fuly Furnished Laundry
Maintenance and Management.
Wall to Wall Carpet antlor Wall to Wall Carpet anclor
Refinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Two Eedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished Heat incluged, hardwood llogrs, porch, remodeled, laundy. parking. $475-2982$

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms, Eff/APT's Homes & Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your buckI
Everything you want and more for your bu
There is something for everyonel
MOST INCLUDING

- Security Systern with 1" Dead Bolt Locks Smoke, Heat & Sprinkler Systern - Remodeled Full Custom Khcher/Baths Kitchens include: Gourmet Self-cieaning ovens. Wall to Wall Carpats & Paddtng (like Domenasher - Wall to Wall Carpets 2 Padding (like horne) - Laundry Facinties on Promisas

Snow 1 amking
Super tnsutated (means low utillies)
Some Apts, include All Utilities & Furnished
Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Campus Such as Comstock, Osuom, Harrison, Madison Westeoth. Clarendon, Ackerman,

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home
OPR Developers AT YOUIR SERVICE:

Five bedroom House

 Spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms and TWO five large bedrooms, and TWO pulk Bathrooms. Off Streetparking with garage. FREE parking with garage. FRE
Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm

LUXURIOUS: 2siory apthoit. Gourmel kivcin,

 Cusiom Loungeniv area, Skyligit tifis ceiting:ELEGANTY OVERLOOKING PARK: 1 st balh, porches.
OSTROMMADISON: Al apts lurn & healed. NO PETS! Negoliable lease
Call for appl 469-0780

University Ave, five bedroom House one block lrom Marshall Street turnished laundy parking lease $$ 1,300.00$ plus utities D.N.Dnutker $445-1229$

| 1 Bedroom and |
| :---: |
| Studio Apartments |
| $2000-2001$ |
| Completely furnished, |
| parking, laundry, |
| dishwasher, fireplaces, |
| near University on Euclid, |
| and Walnut Avenue |
| Responsible Landiord |
| Call Gordon |
| $476-2982$ |

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS. FURNISHED. DISHWASHER, 476-9933

Aderman Beautiful Large Furnished Flats Houses. 2,3,4.5,6 Bedrooms. Porches, Fireplacos. Garages, Laundry. Pel OK 446.3420

Ackeman Ave, 23,4,5,7 bedrom apts Furnishec carpeted, walk to carmpus Well maintained. $500-5101$ lease 446-7202
4Bedroams. CaklandSL, 1Block ESF, 38lock
 Large Single Family furnished houss. Parking. fireplacha 682.5304

L(.)(.) K First Week

 Advertised Furnished House Livingroom Diningrm 2 Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast 10 Month Lease
Call 655-2175

for more info.
1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave

871 Ackerman Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
115 Aedfield Place
1011 E. Adams St
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fulty Furnished, Laundry
Fuly Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet andfor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

BEST LOCATICN -REASONABLE RENT

 228 Euclid, across from Shaw Dorm, 4 bedroom, free parking. dish washer, taundry, microwave,new porch Jerry or Tina-474-7541, 446-6318.
Beautital 3 Bedroom Townhouses. Walking Beautilul 3 Bedroan Townhouses. Walking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms, lots ol closet space, $11 / 2$ Baths. Diningroom, Livingroom, Kitchen. Bassmemt with Washer/Dryer hockups, Off Street Parking wilh Garage.A Must See!!
$469 \cdot 8417$ or $476-9643$ 469-8417 or 476-9643

Universty Area 2.3 Bedioom fumished Apartments singte Houses tor rent. Call Jim 658.7473

University nice quiet lurnished $1,2,3$ bedrooms apartments parking utilities included waik SU apartments parking uiulies included waik sud needed
Hospitals reasonabie. Hoommale lor grad neter 478-26A2.
University and Comstock Very elosa to Campus Elficiencies and Two Bectooms Secure bldg.
lutnished laundry paiking $$ 375.00$ to $$ 700.00$ Itunished laundiy paiking 5375.00 to 5700.00
Includes Ail Ufilites $445-1229$ D.N. Drucker Lid.
Stop clean 3 bedroom apartmants Fireplaee. parking, laundry,

Apartments

4 and 5 Bedroom Apartments

Anailste ier 2000-2001
Fuly furing, Fui Tman

University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St #30
www.universityarea.com
FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

Clean quiet 2-bedroom two blocks from SU hospitals. Furnished. Al utilitias paid. 472.5908 dune 1 lasase.
1 Eedroom Furnished Unfurnished Walking distance S.U. Laundy amailabla. Of Streek
Parking. Call 422-7305
2Bedrom, 2 car garape. 125 Kensinglon Rd.
Furvished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Aparmments
Livingsion, Surmner, Ackerrmar, Eucid 469-6685
501 EUCLID STUDIO APT

Apartment 4Br. 2tull bath I.placa hwood floor june/2000 mak toS. LL hospitals plense cal

| $448-1951$ |
| :--- |

| Two Bedroom Apartments With utilltian included, Fireplace. Furnished, Mardwood Floors and Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Loundry, Parking, close to Campus. Coll Gordon 476-2982 |
| :---: |

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus. Uuiities induched, Oak Hloors. fire piace, Jumsisned, parking. very clean, laundry Call Gcrion 476 -2982.

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases.
Fireplace, hartwood lioors, fumished.
laundry, quiet builcing, close to campus, $176-2988$
aking distanc -... Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bain. Walking distance

ONE BEDROOM

APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.sPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO
PEASONS FREE HEAT, GREAT
LOCATION 476-9933.

our Badroom on Ackerman, Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off street Parking Laundry, Carpet. Hardwood Fhors
Call Gordon 476.2962
$* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *$
Studio, One and Two
Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577

Two Bedroom Apt 514 Euctid Parking Leundry
Beast Location Call Now $446-6268$ 44G-2502

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom liat, Iurnishee stovo, retrig, launtri, Freplaca. garaga.
Aval jure 1 is $446-4229$

Boss Euy on Harisonsl Clean Quiet
One-bedromn and studion fune lease. Furrishect.
Utidites inctuded $472-5909$.

1,2,34+5 bodroom apartuants Fumistied, all campus near tasw sctrod +ESF. Mzy + August  avalantitity 466 -05sia.

BIG EAST

continued from page 16

Rising storm

Mamis 63-49 victory over Notre Dame helped put a little distance between itself and the next tier of teams an the conference. The Hurricancs are now 4-2 in the Big East, 11-7 overall.

UM wins games this season with its defense. Against the 1rish, the Canes held Troy Murphy to just 14 points on 4-for-13 shooting.

Miami guard Johnny Hemsley led all scorers with 18 points. The early success for Miami has been surprising, as many expected the Canes to falter after the graduation of Tim James. But bulky forward Mario Bland boosted the inside game, reaching the 1,000-point plateau for his career against Boston College last weekend.

Close calls

The last two conference losses for Rutgers have come by a total of six points.

That's hov clase the Scarlet Knights are to being 5 1 and in total control of second place. Instead, they are 3-3 and mired in the middle of the pack.

Against St. John's Dahntay Jones posted a dou-ble-double with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Freshman Todd 10 rebounds. Freshman Todd Billet was held to five points Billet was held to five points, bis most anemic output of late Last week, Billet dropped 31 points on Notre Dame and points on Notre Dame and shared conference rookie of the week honors with SU's DeShaun Williams

Inconsistenticish

After suffering back to back double-digit losses, Notre Dame came back with a 15 . point victory over Pittsburgh. nected on ame, the irish conthrees and shot 60 percent from the field for pert this season They followed that this season. They followed hat ugly 14-point loss to Miami

And just a week after Miamis Bland, Troy Murphy Iikely will reach 1,000 points for his career. He needs just four points this Saturday against St. Jom's. If he does it, he will have achieved it in ust 48 games, the fifh fastest in ND history.

UCan't

After a horrendous first hall against Syracuse, the Connecticut Huskies battle back to make the final score respectable. The act remains that they tiant look too good, and weir chances or repeatime is national champs nre in seri ous jeopardy

The loss marked their third conference setback this season. They only had two all of last year.

Against SU, Huskies center Jake Voskuhl registered a career-high 19 points. He still has never scored 20 points in a game at any level of play, and ar and defender scoring con tinues to be the major question mark for the big man from Texas

Voskuhl will get another hot tonight against Providence. UConn shouldn't have a problem with the Friars; a Lemm hat lost at State.

Sister Act

Although Villanova hasn't xactly been having a season exactly been having it season to remember, one whideat is And that's not easy to do in his family.

In a recent loss to Rutgers, Brooks Sales posted his second consecutive double. double, with 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Sales is the brother of former UConn women's star Nykesha Sales. You may remember her from the controrersy surrounding her two "free" points that allowed her to become UConn's all-time leading scorer.

Well, this season Sales is stepping out of his sister's shadow, In just 26 minutes per game, he leads the Cats in and thirig. is second in locks and thirx in scoring and will make any family prowber

Streakers

After a recent three-gamt losing streak, West Virginia has put together three consec utive wins and is climbing up tiribute most of the Mountaneers' success to forward Marcus Gorce.
In WVU's wit over
Providence on Sunday, Goree Providence on Sundis had 17 points and 10 had 17 poin rebounds.

For the season, he averages 14.3 points, 8.9 rebounds ages 14.3 points, 8.9 rebounds and nearly three blocks per and nearly three alo also leads the team in steals.

The Mountaineers edged Georgetown 69.64 Wednesday night tor their fourth stranght win. They welcome Providence to their temporary home in Wheeling, WVa., for a matchup this Sunday.

[classifieds]

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Dircctor 443.9793
collegehome

```
2-3-4-5-6-7-8 Bedrooms furnished double beds carpeted dishwashers laundry off-steeet parking close to campus!
```

John O. Williams

Ouality Campus.Anea Apartments

enJohn o.JUDY 478-7548
www.collegehome.com

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS

 APARTMENTS2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Patking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. www.universityarea.com Row utilities.
University Area Apts.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com
One 2 bedroon furnisthed aparments, All ulities included 5370 , stisominc. Ona mila fom eampus Avaiabie mwnocitety May ofAugust 446-9598.

SHERBFDOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave.

2,3, 4, and 5 Bedroom

 Apartments.Unities included. Fumy furnistied. Rents stan at 5275 . Relnimhed handoce floors. Watlo wall carpet. Flats. Fownhouses. Remodeled fichens and baths, Dishwashers. Forches. Latnodry: Paths, Pishwashers. moing. 24 hour maintenance. www universtiyargacom University Area Apts 479-5005

$$
1
$$

| Your off-campus home for 2000-0t  Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.  double beds dishwashers microwave washerfdryer carpeted off street parking owner managed  CALL TODAY  РЕРЕ $427-0052$ |
| :---: |
| APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS  1,2,3,4 Sedroom Apartiments. Sumner, Euchid. Acherman. Excelisent Condition, Furnighed, Some inelude utilities. Cad 422-0132. |

Sfudio apartmants beginning ${ }^{\text {ni }} \mathbf{$ 2 6 5 \text { pert }}$ month some with 9 momin leases, with stithes. furnule, privite ktathen and bath miorov $3 v e, ~ c a p p e t n ~$ patrang. 476.2982

TOAD HALL

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry Low utities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall SL: Ucioss irdn Haven.
Uniwerstr fras Apts 479-5005

2 Eedrocin Apts 202. 204 Ostrom, 105 Evetic Ferrace Large Rooms Hartweod Figors Avan live - Aug 446 -5186

University 26.9 Sedroxen Towntrowses 15 Flats. nexperswe and mink condion Wastherfoye

NEW BUAY APARTMENTS Great tiniversity Area Beaunitul
 Hot water included. Security Buidings Wantertems & Door Feleases. Custom hade Blinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. Ot Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line. 24 Hour Haintenance. Bus Line. 24 Hour hamenance. for patricia of Stop by our Otfice at 116 Nowbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Brighten) oft E. Brighten) Aiso._(Great Location) Beautifut 5 BEDROOM HOUSE 2 i/2 bath, 5 georoon housse 2 in baths, diningrooms, 2 freplaces, 2 car garage, huge yard, washerd $\begin{gathered}\text { ryar hookups, privete road } \\ \text { off Layafyette road } $ 1200.00\end{gathered}$

Nzw Aenting for Fah 2000 lage 5 bedrom house paint Heat included' On Stree: Parking. Iauntry
3.4 .5 bedroom homes at reasomable precs. eloss oamous mmibuale, uptated, consomious Rooms
Furnshed roon avotats bo Spling Semeste buacry, al utatres nduced, 44ó-529 linuay Growate Studens 2 is emaning teastitu hore close to cumpu

SUBLET
Room on 2 person Apt. zwatable siation in Spang 2000. Funnishes, caipeted, air condithoned. Low SERVICES

Travel

CANCUN SPAING 日REAX From S399 Incluces 14
FREE meats 23 Houts of Fife Drink. We Ase

 $850-838$-8203\%wwleisuretours com

SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK

Spring Breais Specass Banamas Paty Crisar 5 Room Whith kichen Nexi To Cubs, 7 Pattes 6 $$ 149$ Sowh seact (Eass Open Unit 5ant 5159 : sprisgoreatitavet.corn 1-800-679-53a6

MISC.

As NOTE FRCM THE DAllY ORANGE being repled from any advertisement in each sponsibity for any mosconduct resulting in con taci between yourset and acvenist.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

The Daily Orange

Classified Advertising

The deadine for-classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash, checks or credit cards. Call 443-9793 for more information.
orange
NOTES
Big East Standings syracuse 6-0 16-0 $\begin{array}{lll}\text { Seton Hall } \quad 5-1 & 13-3\end{array}$ St. John's Miami West Virginia Rutgers Notre Dame Connecticut Villanova Georgetown Providence Boston College $\begin{array}{ll}1-4 & 8-10\end{array}$ Pittsburgh

Results Wednesday

seton Hall $\quad 74$ Boston Coll

West Virginia 69
Georgetown 64

Games Thursday

Providence at UConn Villanova at Pittsburgh

Cowboy Dave

Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones named former Syracuse University secondary coach Dave Campo as his new head coach at a press conference Wednesday.

Campo started his coaching career at Centra Connecticut State and worked in 10 other collegiate programs before ex Miami coach Jimmy John him to the Compo in 1989. Campo worked at Syracuse from 1984-86. coaching three of Dick McPherson's secondaries At SU, he helped develop Markus Paul into one o the East safeties.

Campo signed a deal worth between $$ 800.000$ and $$ 1$ million. He eplaces Chan Gailey, fired after leading Dallas to consecutive playoff appearances and winning the NFC East in 1998

Orangemen Stats

Player

 Brown Blackwe Hart Shumpert Bland Williams Duany Griffin Celuck McNeil $P$14.4 12.7
12.3
12.0
9.4
9.2
6.2
3.6
1.7
2.5
1.5 $\stackrel{a}{6}$ a 0.8

Orangewomen Stats

$\begin{array}{lllll}\text { Player } & \text { P } & \text { P } & \text { a }\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Record } & 18.6 & 6.8 & 1.1 \\ \text { James } & 10.8 & 4.2 & 2.3\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { James } & 10.8 & 4.2 & 2.3 \\ \text { Perry } & 10.3 & 7.1 & 2.4\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Aziz } & 9.7 & 7.5 & 1.1 \\ \text { Wrignt } & 7.8 & 4.5 & 0.9\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Wright } & 7.8 & 4.5 & 0.9 \\ \text { Ervin } & 7.4 & 3.4 & 5.9\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Ervin } & 7.4 & 3.4 & 5.9 \\ \text { Trammell } & 3.6 & 2.1 & 0.3\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { McPhee } & 2.0 & 1.5 & 0.9\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Grossman } & 0.4 & 0.8 & 0.1\end{array}$

sports trivia

Q. How many men's bas ketball coaches has Syracuse University had? yesterday's trivia: Q. When was the las ime Syracuse won a men's Eig East basketball titie?
A. The Orangemen beat Georgetown 56-54 to win he 19

[sports]

 Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange January 27, 200016 McNabb caps first year GY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

As Philadelphia quar terback Donovan MeNabb rode off the field in a cart ollowing the Eagles' las game, he received shouts of the Veterans Stadium fang.

The rcokie quarterback sat back, took it all in and smiled.

The ending of the 1999 NFL season differed drastically from the start of McNabb's pro caree

On draft day last April, Ea gles fans welcomed the former Syracuse star to the team with a chorus of boos. Needless to say, Mc Nabb wasn't smiling.

In the eyes of Philly rooters, McNabb's stock drastically improved from spring mini-camp to "Thing Sundays.

Things are going to get bet ter," he said. "I feel very confident in t.

One season with Philadelphia provided as many obstacles for Orangemen, three of which ended Orangemen, three of which ended sive Player of the Year.

While the rookie played four times in December and once in early January, the Orangermen practiced hard but played just once. beat Kentucky in the HomePoint.com Music City Bowl, McNabb said he realized just how long the NFL season runs. of being lenders letting good job that we had to suck it up be toued and go out and play football," the No. 2 draft pick said.

Toughness proved key for the 6-foot-2, 226-pound signal-caller In Week 14, McNabb sprained his Former Symetrie star quartertack Donovar McNabb finishad off hig rookte aeason with the Philadelphia Eagfog with a threctouchdown performano against the Super Boutbound St Louis Rams. McNabb took over startine dutios miducy throueh the season and led the taam to three victorias.

Syracuse separates itself from Big East foes

Just a week ago, many doubted which meally was tops in the Big East. After all, Syracuse hadn't played any ranked teams, defending champio Connecticut was struggling and games.

But everything changed Monday.

When Syracuse handed UConn a solid thumping in the Dome, the Orangemen made their claim as the top team in the confer ence and possibly the nation. If they can John's, there will be no doubt in anyone's mind who the beasts of the East are.

Avoiding the heat

Due to the residence hall fire at Seton Hall, the Pirates hadn't played a game in over a week before Wednesday's ninepoint triumph over Boston College. And thanks to St. John's loss to Ohio State, they now have sole possession of second place in the Big East.
ck Seton Petruccione face another big 1992 this weekend big east when they meet UConn in big east $\quad$ Hartford. That starts a stretch of notebook five games in 10 days for the SHU, including the rescheduled game against the Orange on Feb. 7.

Déjà vu

St. John's had a chance to exorcise one of its biggest demons in recent years when it played host to Ohio State this Buckeyes in last year's Elite Eight, and a morale-boosting victory would have been huge. Instead, SJU fell flat on its face and anded the game to OSU.

With a 10-point lead and only three minutes remaining, the game seemed like a lock for the Red Storm. However, a late surge pushed the Buckeyes to a $65-64$ victory.
Fore were some bright spots, though. For the game, St. John's committed only eight turnovers, and Bootsy Thornton lit up the scoreboard for 28 points shooting 6 -for-8 on 3-pointers

In its rebound game from that loss, Su struggled before beating Rutgers on Tuesday Consecuti FRIDAM,

FRIDAY
January 28. 2000

[dö]
Feisty folktales

Students listen to folktales told by Francis McMillan Parks Thurs day night in the Lavinson Hall penthouse. The storytelling was part of the annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. "I Have a Dream" week.

Election 2000

McCain fights for state ballot  BY KEVIN TAMPONE Staff Writer  mary ballot in New York state, he said.

 Staff Writer

The New York state Republican Party is in shambles, State Democratic Party Spok day.
day.
rent debate regarding Arizona the curcan Sen. John McCain's status on the pri-

Earlier this month, Texas Gov. George W. Bush supporters filed 16 challenges to petitions that McCain's organization collected in support of a ballot spot for the senator in the M state primary election.
${ }^{\text {state }}$ Thimary election. . peration of Bush loyalists," Kauffman

Plot a COURSE

The 2000 Daily Orange Travel Guide shows you the way.
See Special Section.
House PARTITION
Is themed campus housing good for students or simply segregation? See Perspectives.

Staff grows in diversity  BY STEFANIE KRATTER  account for 15 percent of the full-

Contributing Writer

More women and minorities are slowly joining the faculty and staff of Syracuse University, according to a report released early Budget and Planning.

The office reported that women represent 31.3 percent of ber is an increase of almost 6 percent since the 1994-1995 school year, when women represented 25.6 percent of the faculty the office reported.

Minority faculty members time instructional staff this year, according to the report. The number of minorities from $1995-$ 1996 was not available. 1996 was not available.
"We have tried very hard to be sensitive to needs in the recruiting process," said Deborah "Also we are beginning to make great strides in the sciences and Ireat strides in the sciences and I believe we can attribute our success to the leadership of the women in science and engineering programs.
Chancellor Gershon then-Vice See FACULTY page 7

- Graduate Student Affairs

Senate approves Nader funding

BY NICK SERRANO Staff Writer

The Graduate Student Organization decided Thursday night to spend $$ 10,000$ to bring Green Party 2000 presidential candidate Ralph Nader to Syracuse University in April.

The Committee For Hosting Ralph Nader, a sub-committee of inally proposed allocating money from the GSO budget to help cover Nader's fee of about $15,000. But after rejecting the proposal, the finance committee sent it to the Senate, which passed it Thursday, 13-6 with 6 abstentions.

The Nadar committee has already raised $$ 2,500$ from organizations outside GSO, meaning it will need to collect another $$ 3,000$ with need to collect another $$ 3,000$ bring Nader to SU, said Kayla

See GSO page 3

AAS reviews candidates

BY CAROLINE CHEN Staff Writer

The Syracuse University AfricanAmerican Studies department this week reviewed two candidates for a chairperson position. The review comes after a twoyear nationwide search for a permanent replacement.
firo years ago, we went through the first round, but we didn't land a chair, said Stewart for the department and associate dean of The College of Arts and Sciences.

As a part of his review, candidate and professor Jacob Olupuna gave a lecture on black and African religious expenight at Bird Library. About 30 people attended the lecture.

Dorothy Drinkard-Hawshawe, the second chairperson candidate, lectured Tuesday.

Thau said the department tries to minimize the effects the absence of the position has on students.

A search committee composed main-

CEO details industry success

BY MAGIN MCKENNA

It does not take a rocket scientist to save a failing business, said Liz Claiborne CEO Paul Charron Thursday

To succeed as a Fortune 500 company, one must push past the safety of the status quo and head full force into the future, baid Charron to about 200 College of Human Development students in a filled Genet Auditorium.
"If you're not into change," Charron said, "you'd better not go into business because that's what it's all about."
The college invited Charron to campus because of his work to broaden the company's consumer appeal, said Karen Bakke, retailing department chairper* son.

We need to give the reality of consumer business to our students," she said. That's where they'll most likely be spending the next 40 years of their careers."

Charron, a Schenectady native who grew up in Kentucky, also worked at Cannon Mills Co., General Foods, Proctor

See CLAIBORNE page 9

City Affairs

Jones calls for school improvements

BY EVANS BOSTON

Contributing writer
The Syracuse City School District needs to improve the academ ic level of students in mathematics and language arts, said Superintendent Dr. Stephen C. Jones Thursday morning at the Drumlins Country Club.

City schools have made improvement in those two areas its dience of about 30 community members.
${ }^{-}$My goal is to make sure every one is moving in the same direction," he said. "I don't believe in tion," he said. "I don't believe in throw-away kids or throw-away throw-a

Jones, a graduate of Morgan State University in Baltimore, was a social studies teacher and area superintendent in Baltimore and superintendent in Baltimore and Washington, D.C. before becoming washington, D.C. before becoming year.
It is critical that the school district works hard to help its students, Jones said, noting his reliance on standardized tests. He proposed developing a system that See ROUNDTABLE page 9

Syracusa City School District Suczerthe Daily Orange Steven C. Jones addiresses the need to improve local schools' acadomic standards Thursctay mom-

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

- A "Job Hunt" seminar begins at 2 and end in Newhouse I, A2.

Eam The Inn Complete host: a Sam Adams Beer Tasting Dinner at 7 p.m. Tickets cost $$ 1$ in advance or $$ 15$

- Hendricks Chapel presents a candlelight vigil and a performance by SU's Black Ce estial Choral Ensemble at $7: 30$ p.m. The event is part of MLK

TODAY-TOMORROW

The Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hote! Darin Dillon and Bill Campbell at 8 p.m. Additional shows are at 8 p.m. Additional shows are Friday and Saturday at $10: 30$ Friday and Saturday at 10:30 p.m. Call 474-096

Gulf War comedy, whree Gulf War comedy, "Three Clooney, Ice Cube and Spike Jonze at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium for $$ 3$. At midnight, Robert Altman's protest film "MASH" will be shown.

- The Upstate New York Ballet at the Civic Center perorms Aladdin at 7 p.m. Call 488-5734 for ticket information,
- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at recreation including free aeroecreation inclu

SATURDAY

- Landmark Theatre presents "Mahalia," a musical about the life of gospel singer Mahalia Jackson, at $7: 30$ p.m. Mahalia Jackson, at 7:30 p.m. 475-7979 or Ticketmaster at 472-0700.

SUNDAY

- Hillel hosts a Super Bowl Sunday Bagle and Lox Brunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.in the Hillel Lounge. All are welcome.
"The Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill"" at 2 and 7:30 p. Theat 820 E . Genessee St. Tickets are $15$$ 38$; discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 4 3275 for more information.

MONDAY

- CusePac, Syracuse's Israel public affairs committec, meets at 7:40 p.m. in the Hille

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-212 Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyor-viage-mait ange.com.
[dä]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O is distribured on campus with the first five copies complementary and each additional copy costs $$ 1$.

Maragement 443-9798

| Business | $443-2314$ |
| ---: | :--- |
| News | $443-2127$ |
| Lifestyle | $443-2128$ |
| Sports | $443-2208$ |
| Photography | 443.9795 |

Art 443-5933
E-mail edirorialodailyorange.com

China cracks down on Internet

BEIJING - With its latest series of rules regulating Internet use, the Chinese government has sent another strong signal of its desire to control the burgeoning ative inability to do so.

In recent weeks, the Communist regime has stepped up its drive to clamp controls on the Internet, making it a crime to leak quiring companies to register their sensitive encryption software and warning "dot-coms" against hiring reporters to provide news not approved by the government.

Yet such is the fast-changing ture of the Internet in China,

Charges against chimp dropped

LOS ANGELES

y's mad about Moe. Ca. are angry that the 33-year-old chimpanzee mauled an officer's hand and chomped off a visitor's the police had their pet taken away and they've faced charges of harboring a menace to society

And city officials are frustrated that constituents consider them heartless pet-haters who have squandered at least $$ 65,000$ in taxpayer money to discredit and prosecute Moe's keepers.

On Thursday, officials bowed under that pressure and announced they would seek to drop the charges against Moe's owners - provided the chimp stays out of

The news is sure to please many people around the world who have become mad about Moe in a

They don't care about his long ngs, Herculean strength or the fangs, ierculean strength or the the fence and savage their grandche fence and savage their granding chimp of Hollywood movies, with delicate feelings and almost human intelligence.

They mostly agree with Moe's owners, St. James and LaDonna Davis, who call the city's fears and reaction exaggerated.

world news

and the spottiness of the governregulations, that Internet and computer companies are continu ing with business as usual in spite of the new measures.

Since Internet acoess began to grow here, the Beijing regime has shown itself to be deeply ambiva lent about the medium, acknowl edging both its economic impor tance and its potential for undermining Communist Party su premacy with the unfettered flow

Former PM  smells a rat

MOSCOW - Raising questions about the Kremlin's justification for the war in Chechnya, former Prime Minister

Bradley stews over 'issue ad'

LOS ANGELES - Democratic presidential candidate Bill Bradley has asked a New Hampshire TV has asked a New Hampshire station to stop running what he station to stop running what he says is a misleading ad by a New says is a mis.
Jersey group.

The 30 -second ad sponsored by Hands Across New Jersey first aired fuesday; it attacks Bradleys which he has made a cornerstone of his campaign.

The spot is the latest of several dent groups targeting candidates, in a year when candidates themselves have been loath to use attack ads for fear of voter backlash.

Issue ads are supposed to discuss a particular concern, such as mmigration, or abortion, without engaging in electioneering. While several genuine issue ads are airing, observers say many others are ing, observers say many oth thinly disguised attack ads.

The ad says the former senator from New Jersey was forced to reurn an illegal contribution from an tervened with the Commerce in partment for a contributor. "Bill Clinton makes the Linooln Bedroorn available to contributors, and Bill Bradley does favors for his big money friends. It's gotta stop," the commercial declares, with no mention of Bradley's foe and Clinton's vice president, Al Gore.

Sergei V. Stepashin said Thursday that Russia planned its inlic in March separatist repubChechen attack in southern Russia that the government cited in sending in troops.

After an August attack by Chechen rebels on Dagestan ings in Mes of apartment bombRussia in August and Southern ber, anti-Chgust and Septemwas at an all-time high. Russian leaders, launched an offensive in the republic soon after.

But concrete evidence that Chechens were behind the apartment bombings has never emerged.
which Russian authorities conts, denied, are fuel for the conspir denied, are fuel for the conspir-

GSO

continued from page 1
Drogosz, a committee member.
"It's not yet guaranteed that he's coming." said Drogosz, a graduate student in public administration for non-profit orgamizations. But we wanted to digm of someone who is a para digm of getting an alternative public voice out. He's created pubic interest activism as we know it today:"

Nader graduated from Princeton in 1955 and Harvard Law school in 1958 before purs ng a career in public service.
$$ $ 10,000$ of GSO funds by not ing the $$ 100,000$ available in the ing the Sioo,000 available in the arganization's budget, Drogosz said.

A number of GSO senators questioned the proposal, however, because paying Nader to speak might make it appear as though GSO was endorsing his presidentinl candidacy. Sen. Darryl Smith proposed an amendment to the initiative stating that CSO was in no way supporting Nader's run for president.

The expenditure is too expensive for just one spenker, said Smith, a physics graduate student.
"I was against it for the amount of money they had allocated for it," he said. If feel it will inherently take away from the potential for inviting other candidates to speak."

Fund debate ends

After months of debate about this issue, the Senate voted, 20-3, to spend $$ 6,000$ on a graduate tudent travel fund. The fund, proposed by the finance committee, will allow graduate students to apply for travel funds for con ferences and research in their ar eas of study. GSO will set astide $1,200 each month for the nex iscal yeat for the expenses.

Although the travel fund issue circulated within the organipresident Eric Hunn said he was President Eric Funn said he was not surprised about the Senate's ote becision before the end of the Fall 1989 Semecter al

At the last meeting, it appeared as though there was al nost unanimous support for it, aid Hunn, a law and eraduate student in public administration I knew once somebody actually called the question that there would be enough support."

But Dan Neal, one of three senators who voted against the travel fund, said he did not think the Senate would pass the expen-

AAS

continued from page 1
ly of faculty members will review one or two more candidates before making a final selection, Thau said. The recommendations are sent to Arts and Sciences Dean Robert Jensen, who then confers with the vice chancellor of Academic Affairs before finalizing his choice. Jensen hopes to make an offer in the spring so that there will be a permanent chairperson by the 2000 Fall Semester, he added.

The position, which serves as both a faculty member and administrator, is responsible for conducting staff meetings and overseeing the budget, stanf and the curriculum, Thau said.

The position also oversees the Community Folk Art Gallery and the Paul Robeson Performing Arts Company located on E. Gernesee St. Both are directly linked to the department, funded primarilyby SU and employ mainly university faculty and stant, That said.

We deliver traditional academic services, but also reach out to the community." Thau said.

The African-American Studies Department has 10 full-time professor positions, he said.
"It's one of the smaller departments in Arts and Sciences, but it's one of the larger departments in the country," he added.

About 20 to 40 students major and 30 students minor in African-American studies each year, Thau said. The department also serves many students who

diture

"I'm somewhat surprised because last time it seemed people were arguing about $50-50$," said Neal, a graduate student in psychology. "And I didn't see that many changes made since last

The fund also should have been voted down because it would be impossible for the finance who should receive funding for travel and who should mot Nor travel and who 5 at

Despite debating intensely about the travel fund, the Senate took only five minutes to pass about 800 changes to the GSO Constitution.

All of the changes were spelling and grammar errors that the special initiatives committee had corrected. Hunn said. GSO neede to lix titution would look ly so the constiation would look morc professiona, something it probably could not the past, he said.

I was happy that the sonators decided they could trust the cood judgement of the (special initiatives) committee," Hunn said. in years past, a different didn't trust then issuebhip didn't trust the leadership."

Sunday Jan. 30th SUPER BOWL BASH

OPEN 5:45

ERETE TOCI!

no cover eefore a

Do 4ou 5now 4oup CREtK R1PHABEt!

ALPHA BETA GAMMA DELTA EPSILON ZETA ETA THETA IOTA KAPPA LAMBDA MU NU XI OMICRON PI RHO SIGMA TAU UPSILON PHI CHI PSI OMEGA

duemenered

Should SU create more themed housing floors?

University officials are proposing them. Students have mixed feelings.

4 think it would be all right. The only thing is freshman get rowdy. The upperclassman might get upset. $\%$ PAYMAN
YADOLLAHPOUR ECS ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{O}$

$41^{\prime} \mathrm{m}$ in favor of it.
Freshman year, ichoose Flint and Day and I ended up getting Brewster/ Boland because my financial aid got in late. The students, no matter what, will find their own group.
That's the way it is.? ADRIAN HERNENDEZ

ECS ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{O} 1$

6/ think it sounds like a wonderful idea. I think a lot of kids come in feeling insecure and themed housing would help ease the freshman transition. SEAN TAYLOR

6) think that a floor tike the women in science would be a good thing because it gives students a chance to work together and bond together.g

NASHONIE CHANG
ECS ${ }^{\circ} 02$

Communities spur freshmen unity

As the issue of themed housing at Syracuse University has been a topic of discussion in Eric
Nestor

Let's get togecher recent editorials, it is important that students are aware of the potential benefits of living in a themed community. With the housing reservation process beginning in February, students need to have the neces sary information to make informed decisions for their future. fits fore are numerous benefits for students living in themed communities. Living on a floor focused on a particular issue, major or lifestyle, fosters a smaller, stronger community for the students. $S U$ is a large university. Themed communities can help it seem smaller and more intimate.

Secondly, themed housing increases faculty, staff and student interaction. This increased interaction helps connect the academic and co-curricular experience for students. When a seamless learning environment such as this is created, research has shown that students become more actively involved in their learning and their community Not only do students enjoy spending time with their friends, they also enjoy time spent together on the floor in both academic and non-academic pursuits.

Finally, for students who apply to live in themed housing, there is an opportunity to live See NESTOR page 9

Exclusive floors restrict friendships, variety  When I arrived on my floor  and I watched as commonalities  closest friends are often the ones

of Brewster Hall for the first time as an entering freshman in the fall of 1998 , I became part of Faith L. a group of Tartaglia females that Park the entire spectrum themes of personalities, of well as ethnicities and cul tures. In those first few days and weeks, I was amazed to see were discovered among floormates whose backgrounds were seemingly as different as night and day.

Themed housing is not required to create a sense of community or a more positive environment. Instead, floors dedicated exclusively to one area will be more likely to damage the overall range of a student's friendships and relationships during their first yost student during their first year, their with whom they share a floor and common living space. With a more narrow variety of students, the opportunity to branch out and develop relationships with different types of people will be lessened. While the formation of cliques among members of the Syracuse University community should be inhibited grouping people together based on a specific interest or idea will only foster that kind of limited See TARTAGLIA page 9

Quotes compiled by TIFFANY LANKES

6 think it would help people get to know about each other better. It would also help students get to know people of different know pe races.

REBECCA RUIZ Newhouse '03

41 don't think it's really going to work. Students should be able to choose what dorm they want to be in without picking a floor.! SELOME ARAYA Management 'O2

GFor people that want to pursue an interest they thing they're interested in, it would be positive. ANDREA HURWITZ Newhouse ${ }^{\circ} 02$

©Personally, I like the themed housing idea. It would definitely help the students have a better soudents have a bent you might want to have You might want to BRYAN DUHANEY
ECS 'O1

6) think especially with the multicultural floor it would have great effects. They have great effects. Thnite should do things to people besides homework. Homework does work. Home

[editorial]   Clinton needs better   Clinton needs better education proposal

 education proposal}

In his final State of the Union address Thursday, President Bill Clinton proposed an ambitious, bipartisan financial plan to put more U.S. youth through college.

The proposal calls for a $$ 30$ billion higher education opportunity tax cut. If approved, middle-class families would be eligible for an annual tax deduction for up to $$ 10,000$ in college tuition costs.

In the Republican-controlled Congress, the cut stands a fair shot at approval. But it is unfortunate that educational funds must be parceled out through a middle man - parents - when most college students are on the cusp of learning to manage their own finances.

Instead of doling out money through a complicated bureaucracy, as the tax credit system would, students would best be served by funneling more funds toward existing loan programs and federally-funded grants.

Grants and low-interest loan programs have proven the test of time as a means to put college diplomas in the hands of the nation's youth.

Providing government-subsidized loans to students is a win-win situation for the United States: The nation gains a pack of educated citizens and earns its money back over time. Relaxing restrictions on loan co-signing rules would allow students greater financial autonomy, ease the burden on middle-class families and create new opportunities for low-income students.

As the 2000 U.S. Presidential election looms, signs indicate that Congress may remain in the Republican party's tight grasp. And under the GOP's thumb, a direct allocation of budget surplus funds to higher education grants seems unlikely. Plans for educational improvements may get lost in the shuffle of other pending legislation.

The nation faces challenges across the board as it moves into the 21st century - from health care to Social Security reform. But to adequately plan for the future, the U.S. government must make sound investments in its most precious asset - the minds of its young.

[dö]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

News Editor

Editorial Editor

Lifestyle Ecitor
Sports Editor
Presentation Director
Photograpty Editor
Ant Director
Art Difecior
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Assi. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Oesign Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

Justin Silverman
Ashok Sielvam Holly Auer Dave Curtis Bis Ehninger Tom Nycz Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Emily Kulkus Kate Stavenson Tate Stavenson
Tiffany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Kollat Connor Emmis Erin Eloyle Tommy Florite Elaine Skinner Tom Mason Jessica Cuther Rachael Colden
Annemarie Bello Ron Fooks

 The Doly oryen watry

If heaven came down to Billy, he'd ask if it was real." So go the lyrics to "Billy's Obsession" by Ian Mathis Brown. The legendary guitarist from Nebraska died Sunday after battling brain cancer for over a year. He was 40 years old. He was best known for his experimentation in blending elernents of jazz, blues and polka. Brown, created entire-and polka. Brown, created entirely unfamiliar to you.But when he spoke, I spoke. Brown has now become my voice. I had the exciting opportunity of meeting Brown five years ago when I was standing in line at a grocery store. I recognized him immediately and began a conver sation. By the time we had both bought our groceries, we had craved to learn more from this genius philosopher. craved to learn more from this genius philosopher.

MCCAULEY

He allowed me to come over to his house for some hot choculate and pumpkin pie. The stories he told me that day have changed my life forever. e that day have changed my life forever eb. He always felt left out in school because he Neb. He always telt left out in school becanse he kids were all spectacular at something, but Brown kads were alled spectacular at sornething, but Brown excelled at distinguish him from wallpaper was his tendency to get easily obsessed over things. Sometimes his obsessions would last a week, sometimes a yea ut he was always obsessed with something.
In Brown swore he could find the meaning of Dylan. Brown swore he could find the meaning of Iffe if he studied Dylan's lyrics closely enough. Since Dylan rarely published his lyrics, Brown was forced to write down the words on small pieces of paper. After this, he took each of the songs and taped them to his wall. At night, Brown locked himself in his room, turned on his Dylan records and studied his wall for hours. Brown made conmections and drew diagrams of what he saw each night. He always felt like he was getting somewhere, but just before his brain could make the tinal step, everything fell apart. One night in a frustrated rage, Brown tore down all his Dylan lyrics and burned them. "If only I was smarter," Brown thought.

At the age of 18, Brown picked up a guitar for the first time. Immediately, his mediocrity vanished. He was now spectacular at something.

Without ever taking a lesson, Brown mastered the guitar. His hands glided smoothly up and down the neck. The sound that he produced made the connection for him that the Dylan experiment came short of. He was now obsessed with some thing that could make him different from everybody else.

Early in his career, Brown picked up another obsession. He became very concerned about his own opinions. How could he ever justify his opin ions? He felt that nobody was aver completely sure of what they believed in. He certainly wasn't sure. His basis for this was that it was impossible to justify opinions. No matter what he believed, there was surely somebody who belleved the exact opposite. And if he believed very strongly about something, there was certainly somebody who believed even stronger about the opposite idea. Free will, even stronger about the opposite idea. Free will, areas that came under his suspicion. Did he think something was right or wrong just because somesormething was right or wrong just because

Though the process of destroying everyone's opinions was fulfilling to him deep inside, it made opinions was fulfiling to him deep inside, it ma it nearly impossible to write songs. At first, he it mearly impossible to write songs. At irst, he always referred to himself as the driving force within his songs- "I'm going down South where the Within his songs- I'm going down South where the white man will hate me." Now he felt too attached to mask his thoughts behind fictional thitd person to mask his thoughts behind fictional third person characters. After 1982 , the word "I never again appeared in an I.M. Brown song. He was then able to express passing notions and ideas without attaching an opinion or even a real person to the ideas. I found this philosophy very intriguing.

After my meeting with Brown, I kept in touch. I felt he had something to teach me that a professor couldn't. Just a few weeks before Brown's death, he sent me a letter from his hospital bed. broupht himself past the fear of death "Hum brought himself past the fear of death. "Humans are three-dimensional," he wrote. "We all feel that We have seen everything, but the truth is we havent. We must simplify life to one dimension and then all understanding can be focused on that one idea." Seeing in one dimention, he said, was the hard part.

Renny McCauley is a junior televistion, radio and film major. His column appears on Fridays in The Daily Orange. E-mait him at remecaul@syr.edu.

letters

Students must be conscious of safety when attending Orangemen games

The UConn/Syracuse game last Monday was tremendously exciting. I am proud of our team. as I know you are. But the acene turned frightening as the game ended, when hundreds of jubilant fans, many of them students, disregarded their own and others' safety as they erupted onto the court.

We were very fortunate that there were no serious injuries. I know that fans were just caught up in the moment - it was a very exciting moment indeed - but there is a very great potential for disaster in such displays and we must avoid them in the future.

Join me in cheering the $O r$ - ange until our throats are hoarse, but please refrain from storming the court. Don't risk your safety, or the safety of other Dome patrons, sports commentators and our student athletes.

Robert T. Robinson
Director of Public Safety

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Vick Prenident fok Ihman Stiruces and Governament Ramations

To the Students of Syracuse University:
Last semester, Syracuse University, the City of Syracuse and the University neighborhood associations formed a new partnership to benefit students and residents living in the neighborhood east of campus. The goal of the University-Community Partnership is simply to cnhance overall safety and improve the quality of life for everyone who lives in the neighborhood.

This year, a major focus for the partnership is the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative (NPI). It features special Syracuse Police Department patrols in the University area to deter crime, provide rapid response to any criminal incidents that do occur, and address other safety and quality-of-life issues, such as excessive noise, illegal parking and other city ordinance violations. City Police officers call our Public Safety officers to assist with specific incidents that involve Syracuse University students. Consequences do often result for those who violate the law or show disregard for the rights of others.

The neighborhood patrol concept was developed in January 1999-five months prior to the Livingston Avenue incident-by community residents, the Police Department's Community Policing Office and the University in response to increasing crime in the neighborhood and increasingly disruptive behavior by a relatively small number of students living in off-campus apartments. At that time, the Westcott Community Development Corporation recommended a small grant to pilot the NPI for fall 1999. The Office of Judicial Affairs was not involved in the formation or implementation of this program; Judicial Affairs becomes involved only after alleged violations of the Code of Student Conduct are documented by Public Safety.

I want to emphasize that the NPI is not an attempt by the City or the University to single out students, or to punish students for the Livingston Avenue incident. The NPI is one part of a much larger effort begun several years ago to improve overall living conditions in the University's east neighborhood for both students and permanent residents. And, these efforts are working-crime statistics recently released by the Syracuse Police Department show a significant reduction in the number of calls to the area, confirming that the special patrol is deterring crime. Moreover, the number of students documented for misconduct as a result of the NPI is very small-on average, less than five students per weekend of operation. We expect to continue this program, which all members of the partnership agree has had a beneficial effect on the neighborhood.

In addition to the NPI, the partnership has two other areas of focus. One is enforcement of underage drinking laws. The University continues to address the very real issue of binge drinking among students and will support efforts to entorce underage drinking laws, both on and off campus.

The other area of focus is enforcement of fire and safety codes in off-campus apartments. Syracuse University is engaged in dialogs with landlords and the City to address safety and other issues to halt deterioration of rental properties, and we are working to develop model leases that students can use to protect themselves. Students can help maintain and improve the quality of off-campus housing by calling the University's Office of Community Relations (443-3919). Or the City Code Enforcement Office (448-8695) directly, to report apartment safety concems. The Office of Commmity Relations also is a good resource for general information about off-campus life.

In addition to lessons learned in the classroom, Syracuse University remains focused on helping all members of our community become responsible citizens. Off-campus living, while providing a measure of independence from the University, also results in increased responsibility for students as adult citizens and members of a larger community. Student residents have an important role to play in positively affecting the east neighborhood environment.

I invite all members of the University community to discuss these issues further. On Tuesday, February 8, at 7 p.m. in Hendricks Chapel, Dean Thomas V. Wolfe will moderate a campus meeting on issues related to the University-Community Partnership and student safety. I hope you will attend.

300 Tolley Administration Buliding / Syracuse. New York 13244 -1100
315-443-3500 / Fax: 315-443-3503 / E-mall: EWARE@SYR.EDU

FACULTY

continued from page 1
nounced his retirement, the University Senate Committec on Women's Concerns urged the Senate and Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw to actively recruit and hire a woman to succeed Vincow. A selection committee rosponded this past summer by choosing Freund as SU's first woman vice chancellor.

Alejandro Garcia, a professor in the School of Social Work, said the university changed for the better.

I think that the university realized the need for a more mul-ti-racial faculty because that is the way the real world is," Garcia said.

When he first started teaching at SU 23 years ago, Garcia said the university faculty was dominated by men. But now, due in part to an expansion in the women's studies program, the numbers are beginning to change, he added.

The university must continue the trend of hirimg more women and minorities to provide students with contacts from various backgrounds, Freund said.
"Having a more diverse faculty will make the university a more real and welcoming place, mircoring the global world around us," Freund said. "It will make us a richer intellectual environment by helping us confront our differences."

The male to fermale ratio at SU is 47 percent to 53 percent, although worren only account for 31.3 percent of the faculty, according to the report. There are few women among the highest paid university officials. And College of Nursing Dean Cecilia Mulvey is the only woman dean at vey
SU.
"Personally, I think any university should emulate what their vision is - and in the case of SU t's diversity," said Anthony Quinn, president of SU's African Male Congress

Students look to the faculty, staff and student body makeup to arrive at a decision when choosing a school, Quinn said.

When you go places, the people like you have a sense of what you go through as a person,", aid Quinn, a sophomore political science and Spanish major. "Not.
Youneed $\begin{gathered} \\ \text { Hol }\end{gathered}$ roll-on with mponteration

> ilways use tolescenders
> For a frec. full-colar poster $\left(18^{\mathrm{F}} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\right)$, write: AlbS Poster 2. Box 2000 . Albany, N.Y. 12220
> N.Y.S. Health Deparment

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
just because of race, but because they are people of color and there is a vibe there."

Although the new figures are progressive, SU's recruitment efforts to attract women and minorities could still improve, he said. The faculty demographics should be proportional to national population figures, he said.
"I think Syracuse should recruit more people on an academic standpoint, not just from an athletic standpoint," Quinn said. "I want to see my professors referenced in my textbooks, not just those from the Iveys."

Kelly Rose, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences who is considering a women's studies major, said she has been taught by an equal number of men and women during her time at SU. All of the professors Rose has encountered within the women's studies department, however, have been women, she said. Thestudents in her women's studies classes are primarily womed.

SU established the Women in Sciences and Engineering program in 1996 to identify and recruit talented female candidates for job positions.

Shiu-Kai Chin, a professor of electrical and computer engineering, noted the success of WISE. The program influenced the hiring of three women this year in the engineering department, he added.

Having a diverse faculty that students can identify with is extremely important in encouraging participation from various ethnic groups. Chin said. Since there are a variety of projects to build and design, students encounter different kinds of problems and may need the assistance of faculty members from a wide range of backgrounds, he added.
"The United States is changing demographically and we must reflect that diversity" Chin said.

A diverse faculty provides students with different views on situations, said Ysanne Harper, a sophomorc advertising major.
"It is nice to see more diversity among the faculty because it gives you a different perspective on the world," Harper said.

Tejani Mendiz, a freshman biology major, said she has not noticed a change yet, but it is comforting to know the university is becoming a bit more diverse. Sometimes minority students feel singled out when dealine fed singled out when dealing Mendiz, who is black. 'The statistics are very encouraging, Mendiz said. "And it to prove ourselves is paying off"

Breakdown of 1999-2000 SU Instructional Staff

| Rank | Men | Women | Total | Percentage |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Protessor | 278 | 55 | 333 | $40.5 \%$ |
| Associate Professor | 172 | 86 | 258 | $31.4 \%$ |
| Assistant Professor | 105 | 108 | 213 | $25.9 \%$ |
| Instructor | 9 | 4 | 5 | $0.6 \%$ |
| Lecturer | 1 | 4 | 5 | $0.6 \%$ |
| Overall Total | 565 | 257 | 822 | $100 \%$ |

Full-time SU Instructional Faculty by Race and Ethnicity

| Race/Ethnicity | Number | Percentage |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Black | 40 | $4.9 \%$ |
| American Indian/Alaskan Native | 2 | $0.3 \%$ |
| Asian/Pacific Isiander | 61 | $7.4 \%$ |
| Latino/Hispanic | 20 | $2.4 \%$ |
| White/Non-Hispanic | 699 | $85 \%$ |
| Overall Total | $\mathbf{8 2 2}$ | $100 \%$ |
| Compiled by Asst. News Editor Emily Kulkus |  |  |
| Source: Syracuse University |  |  |

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Emily Kulkus Source: Syracuse University

S2 BUUW WISEIR PINTS

Enter the Bud Hockey Tournament and Win Prizes!

B ecause
D eserve
What
E very
I ndividual
$s$ hould
E mjoy
R egularly

Students ready to support Bradley in N.H.  BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS  ton, a group mermber. It shows the  delegate position in New York's  supporters expect him to win in

Steff Writer

More than 25 Syracuse University students will join hundreds of college students this weekend in New Hampshire to campaign for presidential candidate and former

The students are part of Bre students are part of SU for Bill Bradley, a $90-$ member group Which began last week wilh only 10 people wh meoting, suid Brooke Schiferle, the groups and
"['m ecstatic," snid Scott Lip-exact opposite of what everyone, including myself, thought about this campus six months ago."

The group will advertise Bradley's platforms by going door-to-door in New Hampshire neighborhoods, calling residents and distributing literature, said Schiferte, a senior political science major. They will also attend a get-out-thevote pep rally, she said.

The students will be traveling into "polities at ground zero," said Stephanie Miner, a Bradicy sup porter who is running for a Bradley 25th Congressional District, includes the city of Syracuse.

"This is a tremendous oppor. tunity for them," she said. The Bradley supporters will experience a"once in a lifetime" New Hampshire primary because the Republican and Democratic contests are competitive, Miner said.

The SU students, who will be accompanied by four St . Lawrence University students, will leave Sytacuse at 8 a.m. Saturday and weturn late Sunday night, Schiferle

UP TO 1/2 OFF
Clearance Sale
Save $20 $30 $40 Even up to $$ 60$ off Big Large Group

Diesel Vests and Coats 1/2 PRICE
Bubbles * Down * Fleece
Open till 7:00 www.Post/Syr.com
Marshall St.

Carrier Dome Concessions/Catering
Do you love...

Football?

Basketball? Lacrosse? Concerts?

If so, have we got the job for you!
Concessions positions are available immediately at the Dome.

We Pay $6.00 Per Hour!

Call 443-4029 or 443-4020 or stop by the Student Office. We're located at Aisle 109 in the Carrier Dome. Enter through gates B or E.
chester, N.H., at homes of Bradley supporters and at a local Boys and Ginls Club. Several Central New York Bradley supporters are renting cars for the trip

I think it's going to be an experience we will soon not forget," Schiferle said.

In addition to supporters from SU and St. Lawrence, students from more than 100 universities across the country will work in New Hampshire for Bradley, said Steve Nachtel, the Bradley campaign s New Hampshire internship coordinator.
-One thing we've known all along is that we have a lot more support on college campuses than the vice president," he said of Democratic opponent Vice President AJ Gorc.

Heavy collegiate support will be coming from the Washington, D.C. area. More than 60 George Washington University students will work on the campaign, he said.

You can see in his eyes how enthused he is," said Wachtel of Bradtey and his youth supporters. "I think it energizes him a lot as well as the rest of the staff."

Despite Bradiey's loss in Monday's Iowa Caucus, SU Bradley

New Hampshire. Bradley only garnered 35 percent of the caucus votes, compared to Gore's 63 percent. Tm expecting Bradley to win," said Lipton, a junior political science and policy studies major -Iowa is not an indicator of New Hamphire or the rest of the country.

The caucus process, which in volves public voting, is biased to ward established party candidates Miner said. People will often vote to appease a party leader, instcad of voting for who they want to, she said.
"It's extremely difficult, if not impossible, to go against the grain in Iowa," Miner said. "That's what Bill Bradley stands for."

Bradley's anti-establishment message will resonate much better in New Hampshire, a state that usually supports upstart candidates, she said.

Recent polls from the Quinniprac College Polling Institute show a close Democratic race in the New Hampshire primary

The Jan. 25 Quinnipiac poll shows a tie in the primary, with Gore and Bradley each receiving 44 percent. In a poll taken Jan. 13. Bradley had a 10 -point lead.

POINT OF VIEW OPTICAL MARSHALL SQUARE 720 UNIVERSITY AVE UPPER LEVEL

425-0373
DR. KAREN A. WINTERS

UP TO $75.00 VALUE WITH PUCHASE OF EYEGLASS FRAME

OFFER EXPIRES $11 / 30 / 99$

CLAIBORNE

continued from page 1

and Garnble and VF Corp．He was hired by Liz Claiborne in 1994 as a chief operating officer，after the company underwent a financial and leadership crisis in the 1980 s ， he said．

After six months，Charron was promoted to CEO to trans－ frompy image into a bupanys that would appeal to wornen and men of all ages and backgrounds he said．

The company became the fargest fashion，occessories and apparel company in the United States and is now worth $$ 2.8$ bil－ ion，he said．

I＇m not going to tell you hat 1 walked in there ready to swing from the trees，＂Charron said．＂I was confident，but I did not know how screwed up the company was．

Charron，a Vietnam War vet－ eran and graduate of Harvard Business School，recalled his first ays on the job，when he noticed Liz Claiborne designers using magic markers and paste－up tech－ aiques to craft designs．It was then he realized the company mployed more people than it could afford，he said．

He subsequently laid off 25 percent of his work force and re placed the workers with $$ 65$ mil ion in computer technology．
＂We had so much success in the early 1980s that we got smug and arrogant，＂Charron said．＂I needed to develop a vision and articulate it．＂

Charron blamed the compa－ ny＇s unstable leadership and the rise in popularity of competitors Hifiger，for Liz Claiborne＇s loss of appeal in the carly 1990 s ．
＂We were doing

Wl＇m not going to tell you that I walked in there ready to swing from the trees，＂ Charron said．＂I was confident，but 1 did not know how screwed up the com－ pany was．

PAUL CHARRON Liz Claiborne CEO things，＂he said．＂The world had fundamentally changed since 1976 and we were boring．

Charron transplanted 80 em ． ployees from the company＇s head－ quarters in Manhattan to a ware－ house in a small town in New Jer－ sey with the task of bringing Liz laborne into the next century．

He also interviewed as many people in the industry as he could

ROUNDTABLE

continued from page 1
would base curricula on the tests and wauld help develop－ ment in basic skills，Jones added．

The district needs school principals and faculty to be in yolved with the students lives both inside and outside o chool，he said．Safe and clean learning environments are nec－ support between the school and support between the sch
the student，Jones said．
＂We expect the principals to be model teachers，not someone who just tits in not someone does the paperwork，${ }^{\text {n }}$ he said ＂A belief system is important in A belief system is importan

Faculty members need to create a sense of family with their students and parents most encournge furthering their child＇s education，he said． heir childs education，he said．
whe should go out of our way to get parents involved pos－ itively，＂Jones said．＂We have to convince kids that a high so convincekias that a high tant than a driver＇s license．＂

Jones said the future of lo cal education depends on using

NESTOR

continued from page 4
annong others who differ from themselves．Since stu－ dents would apply based on a particular interest，there is great potential to have stu＊ dents of different backgrounds and acad

It is important to realize district resources more effi－ ciently．The district，which has more than 23,000 students， spends $$ 240$ million to $$ 250$ million annually，he added． loring ways to keep students ploring ways to keep students out of trouble when they are riot in school．The district just received a $$ 3$ million grant from the YMCA to aid after school and summer programs
he said．

Robert Hanson，executive director of the Interreligious Council，said he appreciates to working with him．
＂He loves being an educator and administrator，＂Hanson said．But he also loves kids．

But as Jones said，all changes and improvements take time to complete． mI believe that with the Hht work，the school district right work，the school district can achieve any goal possible， he said．

Jones＇discussion came as part of the weekly Thursday Morning Roundtable program at Drumlins， 800 Nottingham Road．The roundtables feature community leaders and con－ cerned citizens．

TARTAGLIA

continued from page 4
interaction．
The University prides itself on the principle of diver sity，stressing the importance of acceptance and underatand ing．However，a policy of 25 percent hemed housing do not support this idea，but rather contributes to an atrnos－ There are hundreds of student organizations pregent on this organizations preaent on the involved and there is at least one to cater to nearly every interest or personality． that therned housing offers students more choice in their housing options．Traditional methods of selecting a room／apartrnent still exist． However，themed housing is offered to the students of SU ．

Eric Nestor is residence director of Booth Hall．E－mail him at emnestor＠syr．edu．

It is the purpose of student organizations to bring those people with common interests together．The residence hall is senting the entire scope，of the senting the entire scope of the spectrum，comes togecher and learns to live in a community The Office of Residen
＂Community．．find it here＂but the community that they speak the community that chey speak of needs to encompass every－ of student

Faith L Tartaglia is the assistant parliamentarian of his observations，he said． After running up a $$ 25$ mil－ lion dollar debt，Charron deter－ mined seven principles of busi－ ness that would lead the company into the future．
＂Product is the most impor－ tant principle，＂he said．＂If we do product right and screw up every－ thing else，we＇ll be OK．If we screw up product，we have noth－ ing．＂

Charron then faced the task of building a consumer base that reached beyond middie－aged ca－ reached bey reer women．

The company spent about $$ 400,000$ conducting consumer research－the first of its kind in Liz Claiborne history－to dis－ multi－faceted consumers would want in the coming years．

By 1999 ．Liz Claiborne， which is the only Fortune soo company to have four women on to men＇s clothing lines and began selling less expensive labels to stores like WalMart，J．C．Perny and Sears，Charron said．

It also acquired women and men＇s fashion lines from DKN and Kenneth Cole，he added． The company continues to maintain strong markets across Western Europe，Charron said．
＂We＇re definitely looking for more businesses to buy，＂he said． buying acquisition．But if I said the anme here，my lawyers wouldn＇t be very happy．

In recent years，however， Charron recognized that Liz for not hiring received criticism ber of minority employees espe ber of minority employees，espe－ the company could improve its he company could improve its said that it hires bosed on talent said that it hires based on talent and not race．
＂We＇re working diligentiy with predominantly black schools o get more people into the com pany．＂he said．＂But we don＇t go ut looking for people．

Joanna Cary，a junior retail ing major，attended the lecture and said Charron was a more dy nam
＂It was interestings＂she said， especially because women are in especiany because women are in charge of fashion lines for men．＂

WOODY ALLPNS BEST PICTURE IN A DECADE OR MORS ＂THIS IS ONE VEFY TUNDFUL Sean ean miniag OF LOVE！
 2 Sweet and Lowdown

Written and Directed by Woody Allen

HxCluxsinve
Westcott Cinerina
479－9911 Emy

號號號

LOORTIN ${ }^{p}$ POR质IDVENTUREB

Come meet Harley Stevenson and the rest of The Daily Orange News Staff at our weekly news meeting．

Come one．Come all． Writers and bikers alike．
Vrrmmm．Vrrmmm．

News Meeting

Sumaysiak

MCCAIN

continued from page 1 said. "It's sad to see what they've been reduced to.

The New York State Board of Elections in Albany overturned the challenges Wednesday in eight upstate congressional dis. tricts. The state board hears challenges for districts that overlap county borders. County elec* districts contained completely districts conta within counties.

The State
immediately Republican Party immediately appealed the Alm bany decision to the State Supreme Court and a judge over* day afternoon, removing McCaia from the ballot in all eight dise tricts. "You can't let it upset you, but it's very disturbing that such a thing would still happen it the freest nation in the world, ${ }^{*}$ McCain said at a town hall meeting Thursday at Nashua High School in Nashua, N.H. It's just really very, very unprofessional.

Bush must lead the Republican Party in restoring true democratic ideals to the primary process, he added, asking for George E. Pataki to help remedy George E. Pa his situation.
"I wish that Gov. Bush would pick up the phone and call Gov. Pataki and say, 'Let John McCain on the ballot," McCain said. "We all know that I'm a qualified cise this kind of Communist behavior by keeping a qualified candidate off the ballot."

The challenges originally because of actions by the two Democratic members of the board. The board has four mernbers, two Democrats and two Republicans. or a challenge to succeed, it must receive the support of

While both Republican members voted to remove McCain from the ballot in the eight disrom the ballot the eight dis pats abstained from voting The abstentions made it impossible for the board to reach the three for the board to red for the three ote total required for removal. mbers, however, were inde. members, however, were independent of the state party and aize the abstentions, Kauffman said.
"The state party had nothing to do with that," he said. "The State Republican Party can self* destruct by itself, it doesn't need our help."

SAVE UPTO 40\% ON TEXTBOOKS.
解 Sovings of distributor's sugpested price. Bo
Some restrictions mpply. See stte for data is.

VarsityBooks.com

Earlier this woek, the New York City Board of Elections removed McCain from the ballot in two districts. Three other challenges there are still pending. Two county election boards on Long Island also removed McCain County board voted to allow Mre Cain to remain on their ballot.

The petition challenges are a deliberate attempt to keep McCain off the New York state ballot, Kauffman said. Bush supporters, including Pataki and State Republican Party Chair person Bill Powers, filed the challenges to create an casy win for Bush, their favored candidate, he added.

McCain and his supporters said they praised the positive ruling by the state board, but are disappointed in the judges deci sion and New York state laws that continue to hamper legitimate campaigns.

Were pleased that the state board would make the right decision, said Howard Opinsky, a McCain campaiga spokesperson. "But it"s unfortunate that New York maintains election laws that are so byzantine and restrict voter's choices so much."

The fairness and constitutionality of the state's laws will take center stage in a lawsuit McCain filed with a federal court to secure his appearance on the ballot in all of the state's 31 districts. McCain filed the lawsuit Late in December and hearings are set to begin next week

The law deprives New York voters of a choice they should be able to make," Opinsky said. "It's ironic that voters in Moscow will have more choice in their upcoming election than voters in New York."

Repulblicans refute
The New York state Republican Party denies any intentional attempt to keep McCain off the ballots and is simply trying to verify his petitions' legitimacy, said Daniel Allen, state Republican Party spokesperson.
"It's the position of
"It's the position of the party that we have to get each candidate to verify their validity," he said. it's our responsibility to Everything was checked out"

The state party filed no cha lenges against Bush's petitions, however, because there was no reason to suspect his petitions* legitimacy, Allen said. In the 16 districts where the state Republicans filed challenges, there was arready evidence that McCain did not have the required numof signatures, he added.
The state laws exist for definite reasons and it is the state candidates realize the ceasons for

GIFFORD AUDITORIUM 7FOOPMM: & 9&30PMA 53 ADM/SSION

YOUR STUDENT FEE... I WONDER HOW

SUCH A DEGENERATED PERSON REACHED A POSITION OF AUTHORITY

the laws and follow them, Allen said.

Our rules are set up because our state is so diverse. The con cerns of families in Buffalo are ot the same as in families on Long island, he said. "We have nake sure all those

Despite the rulings by vari us election boards, MeCain may appear on the ballot in all th state's districts because of his awsuit, said Lee Daghlian, New York State Board of Election spokesperson.

If the judge in McCain's upoming case agrees with the can didate's clam that the state laws re unconstitutional, then the udge may overturn all dexisions rom the state boards, Daghlian said
"I don't see the unconstitu. tionality of it," he said. "It's al ways been up to the states to pre pare and regulate how people ge on the ballot, but the judge may change everything.

McCain's New York state dif iculties began in December when his state campaign group collect d nearly 30,000 statewide vote signatures on petitions support ng his place on the March 7 pri mary election ballot. New York state election law requires candi dates for the primary elections to collect signatures from registered Republicans in each distric where they wish to appear on the ballot

Candidates are required to collect 1,000 signatures or .5 per cent of the signatures of the total number of registered Republicans living in the district, whichever $s$ less. Becawse candidates are re quired to collect petitions in all districts, a candidate may appear on the ballot in some districts but not others.

McCain's organization man aged to file enough signatures to piace him on the ballot in

Students defend McCain

Both Republiean and Demo cratic students at Syracuse University support McCain's cause for voter choice

The state's current election laws are unfair and can deny vot ers legitimate choices in the primary, said Joe Burns, chairper son of SU's College Republicans.

Burns recently endorsed Steve Forbes and works for the Forbes campaign on the Internet
"Some people have said to me it would be better for Steve orbes if McCain was not on the ballot ine said. Regardess hat, it's not fair and he should be there"

Even more disturbing than the state laws, however, is the at tempt by Bush's supporters to seep McCañ off the ballot. Burns said.
*Simply because he's a candi date, he should be on the ballot, he said. "Gov. Bush should order his supporters to stop harassing McCain over this.

Christina Hinchey, president SU's College Democrat agreed.
"I think he's a viable choice for New York state Republicans," she said. "Im kind of torn because you should follow the rules But if the rules could be bent they should because there are a lot of McCain supporters in New York and they should be able to vote for hind th

Staff Writer Ryan Donohue contributed to this article.

the

Here at last
Want to take advantage of the snow? Head over to Four Seasons Golf and Ski Center, 8012 E Genesee St., Fayetteville, for some snowtubing this weekend. The Center will be open at 10 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday, and tubing costs $$ 10$ for four hours. Call for four hours. Call $637-9023$ for more

Pub crawl

The New York State Fairgrounds will host the Central New York Brewfest Saturday at the Pepsi International Building. Visitors can or 6109 p.m. session. $$ 15$ per session in advance. $$ 18$ at the doot. For more information, call 4?1-9989 or go to www.nysfair.org.

Superbowi

Alternatives

If you don't really enjoy the hype surrounding the Superbowl, Borders Books and Music can help. The bookstore will host Understanding American Football," a seminar from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Don't really want to learn about foctball? Stop by Borders between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Sunday for a free chair massage and from 2 to 5 p.m. for a psychic reacing. Call 466 -0314 for full detalls.

Got Rhythrm

The Southwest Community Center, 401 South Ave., will host Rhythm Roots: A Drumming. Song and Dance Fest* on Saturday. Drumming and dancing workshops are from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Workshop registration fee is $$ 10$ for students. There will also be an "Evening Celebration" from 7 to 9 p.m., admission is $$ 5$ for students. "A Drumming lam Session ${ }^{-1}$ will immediately follow. The jam session is free, but you must bring your own drums and instruments. The day's events will help raise money for Beyond Boundaries, a volunteer awareness project in Ghana, West Africa, Paerto Rico and on the Dakota. Call 478-4571 for more information.

Comic Relief

See a live comedy Dillon & Bising Darin at the Hotet syracuse. Viva Debris Symense's Masic club 500 S . Warren St Shows ar at 8 and 10.30 p are today and Saturday. Call 4740969 for mor information.

See GuIDE on page 12

WV  Your weekend guide  to cuenes on and around campus er

BY ANDREW PARKS
Contributing Writer
Tonight, the Wu-Tang Killah Bee known as Method Man, will be flashing a gold-plated smile and his gravely Wu-Tang style in a sold-out concert at Goidstein Au* matched flow of hard beats and rhymes.

Mr. Meth's current small-venue tour comes after an eventful year which first saw him coupling with Redman as the tag$18 millionis act for the record brea tour headlined by Jay- $Z$ and DMX. The two New York natives from the Bricks and Shaolin first collaborated on the cut "How High" in 1995

They clicked so well together on the tour that they also released an album titled "Blackout" last fall. The pair's machine gun rap energy is rare today and comparable to that of legendary old school duos like Eric B. and Rakim.

Along with finding a partner in rhyme

METHDD MAN AND FRIENDS

STロRM SU. street credit in the burgeoning "rap-met. al" scene beginning with Gangstar's DJ Premier-produced track "N 2 Gether Now" on Limp Bizkit's "Significant Other." Band leader Fred Durst was so impressed with the seasoned rapper during recording sessions that he invited him and Redman to tour with him on the annual "Family Values" outing featuring Limp Bizkit, Staind and a rotating cast late in 1999.

Students with a wide variety of musical tastes will flock to see Method Mantonight. Chris Preczewski, a freshman architecture major, said the performer has a broad crossover peal for all types of audiences.
"Meth can be as appealing to someone from the Mamphire as someone from the streets of New And the streets of New York are exactly where Method Man, born Clifford While living with his mother and two sisters in the Park Hill projects of Staten Island, Smith freestyled and forged friendland, Smith freestyled and forged friendGrice (GZA, who made a stop at the Schine Underground last semester)

The Daily Orange

No kid gloves for Washington, 'Hurricane'

Here comes the story of The Hurricane. Sorry, we had to write it. Anyway, we were referring to the movie, not to the man, aithough the story of the man is depictedin the movie.

But we could also have

Eric

 Rosenthal & Matt Braycinemaniacs been referring to the Bob Dylan song, which is played is played throughout the film. Finally -a which song been resuscitated and will not be mistaken for a Guns ' $n$ Roses or Jimi Hendrix tune. The song itself tells the races the path of Rubin Carter's life. It's not, though, the only film to do this - see "Man on the Moon" in recent cinematic history.

Denzel Washington plays Rubin "Hurricane" Carter, the former championship boxer and notorious vietim of a racially-motivated unlawful mprisonment. He is the center of this story - a most ordinary person with the most extraordinary heartfelt intentions.

A true story, the film follows Carter's life of hardships through a number of prison stints from a juvenile to adult. In way of his autobiography. In reading his story, an innercity youth, Lesra (Vicellou opportunity to change his life opportunity to change his hrough his own education.

This youth's illiteracy is obliterated early in the film and leads him to the discovery of his first book, The Sixteenth Round," by a thenseasoned inmate, Carter.

Lesra is enamored not only by Carter's story, but also what his own life brought to the book as he readit. Taking the advice of his young Canadian mentors, Lesra decides to contact Carter and profess his thanks for this spirual connection between them. strangers become family, as both Lesra and Carter maintain the quest to free an innocent man and their search for truth.

The case itself is shown on screen a number of times.

retracing the steps of both Carter and multiple witnesses of the night in question, when thrce bar patrons were slain in an alleged botched-robbery. Finally, Lesra and his northern friends concentrate all of their efforts to free Carter, going so far as to move near the prison in order to maintain close contact with him. As the new team in town re-examines the case, it is brought to light that the inves tigator of the case, vincent framed Carter in an elaborate web of lies.

The proof lies in the garage of a now-deceased former investigator, too afraid of local politics to let the truth be known, and whose resignation comes directly following the investigation in question.

Bringing to justice

These ordinary folk, so enveloped in the case, find loopholes and cover-ups that have never been addressed by racially-biased juries in the two prior trials, and triumphantly accomplish what more famous people who "wield sufficient power" could not. They bring Rubin "Hurricane" Carter to justice.

Throughout the film, the strength of the protagonists'. inter-relationships lie in their ability to educate themselves. Carter, influenced by the Harlem Renaissance, specifically the works of Richard Wright, and Lesra's influence - Carter hirnself - allow him to share this idea of self-betterment. Rubin Carter's selfdetermination, both in the ring and in the cell, is something to and in the c

Although not the first time seen in a boxing film, it's effectively portrayed in a style "Raging Bull" "Rocky" and which also shares a visual style in the ring with

The Verdict:

Eric "Typhoon" Rosenthat: This interesting tale of stick-to-it-liveness is a must-see, if only for the brilliant Denzel Washington. The real life commitment to justice and jife supports the cathartic process of freeing the Hurricane.
Matt "Tornado" Bray: Maybe it's just me, but I went into this movie expecting "Twister biographen heard it was a yeah, Beastie Boys' DJ. Sericusly though, this film surpasses the cliched reenactment style footage from old "Unsolved Mysteries." A tear-jerker with heart.

"Hurricane."

This is seen so much so that it could be viewed as a homage to the Scorsese classic Other filmic styles include the beautifully-lit scene of Carter in solitary confinement at the beginning of his murder sentence. This scene shows both the pity and the fear that Carter, as a living tragic hero must have gone through in this most trying of times.

This is the part of the fllm where Denzel Washington's performance only begins to Golden Globe carlier this a Golden Globe earlier this year disappearing into his worth, disappaner ter and emerging as an actor's actor.

W

full spectrum on showcases a full spectrum of emotions. At the outset, he harbors a stub born anger toward everyone too much for him as a younger man. But eventually, he man. But eventually he he becomes a a peacefully-enlightened adult who utilizes his situation in a way he sees fit and people down for the count.

GUIDE

continued from page 11

Cheap flicks

Gearge Clooney. Mark Whiberg and ice Cube star as American soldiers in traq searching for gotd in "Three Kings." University Union Cinema presents the movie at 7 and 9:30

CALLING ALL SOPHOMORES TO ## AIM HIGH

EXPRESS SCHOLARSHIPS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR SPRING '00 TUITION!
ELIGIBILITY:

Graduate in 2002
Pass Finess Test and Physical
GUARANTEED JOB!
Cum GPA of 2.65
EXCITING CAREER:
Pursue One of the Following Degrees:

Engincering: Acronautical

Acrospace

Ctremical
Civil Computer
Electrical Environmental Industrial Mechanical Nuclear

EXCELLENT BENEFITS!

cis
Computer Science
Mathematics
Physics
Foreign Area Studies Foreign Languages

COMPETITIVE PAY:

SCHOLARSHIP INCLUDES:
$15,000 Annual Tuition
S6,000 Annual Chancellor's Grant $$ 480$ Annually for Books $$ 200$ Monthly Stipend

FREE 1SMINUTE PHONE CARD WHILE SUPPLIES LAST TO ALL INTERESTED APPLLEANTS:
p.m today and Saturday night in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is $3. UU will show "M*A*S*H" free at midnight at Gifford both nights as well

Art appreciation

Picasso at the Lapin Agllecontinues this weekend at the Cayuga Community College Theater, Written by actor and comedian Steve Martin, the play speculates on an imaginary speculates on an maginary and Albert Einstein. The Show will be performed at 8 p.m. today and Saturday. Call 258 8275 for more information.

Nyuk-nyuk

Dying to see some of the Classic antics of Larry, Curly and Moe? The Landmark Theater presents a variety of "The Three Stooges* movies at 3 p.m.
Saturday. Call 4757980 for more information.

The Big Picture

The Museum of Science and Technology, 500 S. Franklin St. presents two IMAX movies this weekend. "The Living Sea" can be seen at 3 p.m. all weekend and at 7 p.m. today em-1 Saturday and at 3 p.m. Sunday. -Amazon will be shown at noon and $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. all weekend. Call 425-9068 for more information

Genie in a bottle

The Upstate New York Ballet, Inc., performs "Aladdin" at the Mulroy Civic Center this week end. Shows are today at 7 p.m Saturday at 2 p.m. and 7 pm. and Sunday at 7 p.m. Call 488 5734 for more information.

RHYTHM METHOD

continued from page 11

and Russell Jones (the lovable. oll Dirty Bastard).

RZA and GZA soon founded the Wu-Tang Cian with Meth, ODB, Ghostface Killah, Inspectah Deck, U-God and Raekwon releasing their first single wProtect Ya Neck/Afterthe Laughter ${ }^{\text {Pr on Wher }}$ Wher the Laughter, on Wu-xang Records in 1992. The classic LP Eeleased soon after, in the Dereleased soon after, in the December of 1993 . Meth hinted at his potential as a solo artist throughout the album, namely during the infectious theme song, "M.E.T.H.O.D. Man." a million copies, the troupe went on to release solo joints including Method Man's "Tical." It netted three hit singles: "Bring the Pain," "Release "o' Delf" and the Grammy Award winning duet with Mary J. Blige, "You're All I Need." Soon after, he appeared on numerous tracks with other

Clan Members, Notorious B.I.G. ("The What"), Boyz II Men ("Vibin ${ }^{m}$ ) and even added some skills to Shaq's "No some

Wu-Tang, Clan released its second alburn, "Wu-Tang For ever," in 1997 after each members solo projects were com pleted. It sold three million conies and was nominated for conies and was nominated for a Grammy. After a short, turbulent tour with Rage Against the Machine (damn that crazy ODB) the group disbanded again. Method Man putout his second solo record, "Tical 2000 " in November $2000{ }^{n}$ in November 1998 to a public ready for another dose of Meth.
Rock the house
Since then, he has become one of the most popular MCs in the hip-hop game today. C.J. Strock, president of University Union Concert Board, said he is pleased to host such a class act. "I am anticipating a great, high energy show," he said Webrought in a top of the line stereo system and lighting just for this concert."

In addition to blasting some great tunes across campus, the show also bencfits a werthwhile cause. Proceeds from ticket sales - $$ 4,800$ are going toward funding 16 families for one month in the Ronald McDonald House rock said.

The student response to Meth's arrival on campus has been overwhelming. The concert sold out in two days, as students emerged from the box office with stacks of tickets in hand.

Freshman management major John Cimino, also born and raised in Staten Island, said he cantt wait to bust through the crowd and watch Method Man's performance. the sichest rapper od Man is he said. us rapper out there, to him sinco been listening when Wu-Tang was selling the 'Protect Ya Neck' single out of their trunk down on Bay Street in the worst part of Staten Island. This is gonna be a phat concert and anyone who can get their hands on a ticket should go."

Jon Lehman, a freshman

Method Man and Friends take the stage at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Goldstein Auditorium in the Schine Student Center. But uniess you ve already shagged a ticket, you're out of luck - the show sold out in just two days.
n the School of Visual and Performing Arts, said he's sure the show will be one of Gold stein's best concerts in years. "We are fortunate as students to have him come here and we should take ardvantage of it all," hesaid. "Meth is gonna tear the roof off Schine.

For those lucky ones who grabbed a ticket. doors open tonight at 7:30 p.m., and the lights will go down promptly at 8 p.m. The official lineup of the cryptic Method Man and "Friends" will be released later today. Anyone could be there even ODB straight out of his parcle hearing. So arrive early, get up to the front and get ready to try Jonny Blaze's WuTang style.

Snow cutting into your fun time? Come in from the cold and get a life. Want to write about arts and entertainment, health and science, business or anything else? Come to the Do at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Meet the Lifestyle crew and get the scoop. We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. Call us at 443-2128 or e-mail us at life@dailyorange. com The DO is located at 744 Ostrom Ave. It's the red and white building, four houses down from Shaw Hall. It'll be well worth your trip.

SHANNON

continued from page 20
was almost non-existent.
"We had a talk with her, and we told her we needed her to step up. She's not a freshman anymore in ouf minds. She's a player.

Bento said Perry's potential is so large that she will be a vital cog in SU's run toward the Big East tournament in March.

Perry said her love for rebounding stems from chasing after the ball and battling against different types of opponents:
"I like to jump," Perry said. "So wherever the ball goes, lil step up at the botom and try to get the rebound. I just like rebounding."

For her efforts, Perry was named the Big East rookie of the week on Monday. She was co-rookie of the week the week of Nov. 29 with Villanova's Trish Juhline, but this is her first solo act.

Perry took home the conference's top honors for a newcomer by aiding the Orangewomen with a doubledouble of 15 points and 15 boards against the widicats win, Perry shot 4-for- 6 from the field and 7 -for- 10 from the charity stripe.

Perry joins teammate Beth Record in a Syracuse sweep of conference honors.
Record scorched Villanova for Record scorched Villanova for a career-high of 28 points in last week's win.

She leads the team and points per game. She followed her Villanava performance with a double-double of 19 points and 11 reboundis in Puesday night's 80-66 loss to Pittsburgh

After dismantling the Wildcats 66-42 last Wednesday at Manley Field House, the Orangewomen looked to regain the stroke which enabled them to start the season 4-0.

But Syracuse had a weeklong layoff due to the postponerment of Saturday's game at Seton Hall, and failed to reat Seton Hall, and failed to

The Orangewomen held a two-point lead at halftime but saw Pittsburgh goon a 27-9 second-half run en route to a $80-66$ victory over $S U$ in the Steel City on Tuesday night.
"In crunch time, the last six or seven minutes of the ball game, we really didn't put the effort out, Bento said. "Pittsburgh just straight outplayed us. It wasn't anything in particular that we thing in particular that we did as ar as execution goes. We just didn't have the effort and intensity that we need-

As Syracuse strives to regain the form it held against Villanova, West Virginia is just trying to regain some diglooked more lost than a five-year-old separated from his parents at a shopping mall.

West Virginia has dropped eight straight games and is winless in six conference matchups.

The Mountaineers rank near the bottom in most of fensive tearn categories. They do not own a single player in the top five of any Big East offensive category.

The Mountaineers enter the Salt City on the heels of a $61-43$ loss to Georgetown on Wednesday.

Senior guard Mandy Ronay paces the Mountaineer offense with 10.9 points and 4.8 assists per game. Syra* cuse and West Virgimia spli last year's season series, with each team winning on its own court.

West Virginia does not exactly have a true home court to call its own this season.

Due to an asbestos problem, the Mountaineers have been forced to play their home games at three different sites. including nearby Morgantown High School.

The Orangewomen follow the Mountaineer game with a road trip to southeastern Pennsylvania to face Villanova.

With the Pittsburgh loss behind them, a conference win over a hapless West Vir ginia squad this weekend would prove beneficial in SU's efforts to move up in the Big East standings.
"I think these next couple of days of practice, well be concentrating on ourselves and getting back to where we need to be," Bento said. "Go ing into West virginia, it's going to be a good opportuni ty for us, we feel, to redeen ourselves and get back on track."

protect against AIDS and other STDS, always use latex condoms.

Listings, information, registration, and advice available at Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Ave.

Phone: 443-4271
( S.U.I.P Internships for credit

BELL
continued from page 20 making the Big East's biggest freshman splash this season. Bell will need his best effort of the season Saturday at noon, as the Eagles face surging Syracuse (16-0, 6-0) at the Conte Forum in Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Right now, he's the crown jewel of a dynamite Big East freshman class. Pouring in 18.8 points per game will do that for you. Running point guard and drawing comparisonsto another elite Minhelps, too.

Khalid El-Amin, a Minneapolis native, scored 16 points per game his freshman season. His seamless transition assured Bell he could make the move east His love of BC convinced him.
"I really liked my chances here," Bell said. "I didn't change at all. I've been playing the same way since fresh man year. I never really got noticed."
Bell's transition has hit a traffic jam on the Mass Pike. He plays for a strugeling Eagles team that has lost five consecutive games, including three - to Miami, Georgetown and Seton Hall-in which they blew leads.

BC is $1-5$ in the Big East (9-9 overall), with its only con ference win coming against Providence, when Bell dropped 13 points on the Friars in the last 3:03.

His penchant for spurts is nothing new. Bell scored 35.9 points per game his senior year in high school to lead the state. He hit for more than 40 ive times and scored 30-plus 15 times.

In high school, anytime he needed to take over the game he did it by scoring. because he didn't have anyone else to go to," BC head coach Al Skinner told The Boston Herald. "Here, he's responsible for one else does offensively, and he's responsible for how effec-

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department. News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com tive our defense is going to be."

This season parallels Bell's freshman year at Holy Angels. Scoring 18 points per game, Bell led Holy Angels to an 8-0 start.

This year's Eagles squad began equally hot, rattling of eight wins in their first 11 games. This came after last season's 6-21 disappointment, a season in which BC won just three conference contests.

It took Holy Angels until Bell's senior season to go deep in the Minnesota $2 A$ playoffs. He wants to drasticallycut the turnaround time at BC
"I'm not trying to wait that long," he said

Bell, a big fan of college basketball, knows Syracuse graduates its senior leaders this spring and Connecticut might lose El-Amin to the NBA. He recognizes the young mentally and physically - can succeed in the conference. ucceed in the conference.
though, is simpler - win as many games as possible.
Right now we're just trying to win, but we can't seem to be able to pull it off in the end, Bell said. "We need to play more solid basketball, to exe cute.
"I come into every game with no expectations. Whatev er happens happens. When I think about things, I don't play well. But when I don't, they seem to drop for me.

Said Skinner: "A year from now, two years from now, he'l be a much better player, a more complete player. What he brings to the table, there's a lot to work with. He's not alone in this. As a team, we all have to mprove.

Along with junior transfer Xavier Singletary - who at Howard University was ninth years nation in scoring two years ago - Bell has injected a last season was plain offen last seaso sive.

Add freshmen Uka Agbal and sophomore Kenny Walls potential - and until they start winning, that's all it is.

Bell will do his part. His shot needs little polishing, as he hits a solid 40.7 percen from outside the 3 -point arc.

His free-throw shooting needs even less work. At 89.4 percent, Bell ranks among the best charity-stripe shooters in the nation.

Bell knows the chance of BC shocking Syracuse is minimal. Although it would be a big confidence boost, he said, it still would not salvage a diffi cult Big East start.
"If we beat Syracuse, I hope it would be a turning point," he said. "But, I don't Bel Bell's voice faded. His teammates play hard, but Bell is tired of losing. He's tired of a overall record. verall record.

He wants to win. Just like he did in backyard football. aid "Everybody frustrated," ho said. "Everybody tells me it's trust them."

2000 SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

RESIDENTIAL/NON-RESIDENTIAL Conference Support Positions Available

-Assist with arrangements for Academic/Sport Canjp Progranns-

Qualifications Include:-Customer Service Experience- Clear, Effectivc Communication- Familiarity with Campus facititics belpful

For further information or to obtain an application packet, please contact:
THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCE SERVICES
621 Walnut Ave., Syracuse, NY 13210 443-1347

If you didn't sign up for ROTC as a By the time you have graduated frcm freshman or sophomore, you can still college, youll have the credentials of catch up to your classmates by attending Army ROTC Camp Challenge. a paid six-week summer course in leadership training.
 an Army officer. You'll also have the self-confidence and discipline it takes to succeed in college and beyond.

ARMI ROTC
TiE SMARTEST COLIDEE COURSE You CAM TAEE.

The Daily Orange is now accepting applications for all editorial and production positions during its staff transition period.

Applications for managing editor are due to 744 Ostrom Ave. by 5 p.m. Friday. Applications for all other positions are due at 5 p.m. Monday. These include: news editor and assistant news editor, lifestyle and assistant lifestyle editor, sports and assistant sports editor, photography and assistant photography editor, copy editor, special projects editor, editorial editor, design editor, presentation director, art director, computer systems manager and online editor. For more information, please call The Daily Orange at 443-9798.

When in Hell...

by Eric Jones

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

Eat the Lettuce

by Thane Benson

18 [classifieds]

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793

$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 ¢$ each additional word 54 extra each bold word $5 \%$ extra each CAF word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Pro-paid by: Denditine: 2 2m 2 business day prior to ru
ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue:
Syracuse: Ny 1320; At: Cassided: OR Syracuse NY 13210; Att:Classifieds: OR Faxed with Credit Card to: $315 \cdot 433-3699$

Autos
$\overline{92}$ SVX Subaru AVD Loaded. Snow \& Regular Tires. Cas Cover. Fast. 579004439500

EMPLOYMENT

Kicteren manager needed! For private summer

For privata Summer Camp in Beautiul Focone Mounains. Feeding 500 people 3 meals per day | Experience pretert |
| :---: |
| $1-800 \cdot 39-$ CAMP |

Camp C. Cunselors Top Ovenight Carrus in

Job Opportunities

BONUSES plus guaranteed hourly rate br

Sytacuse Stage Angel Appeal Campaign: Nice wotking ammosphere. On tus -line. Mon-Thur
 Music ausiness! The Metropolitan Entertainment Group is seevingreliable "music wise
students to work as coilege reps on grassroots maketing for emerging recorofign arists. For more

| WANTED |
| :---: |
| Child Care |
| Cicero couple seeks tesponsible, cependable, loving student to care lor our two ctildren, ages $9-1 / 2$ and 3 , approximately $12-15$ hours per week. call E98-4331 or emait: raynaemillees com |
| Help Wanted |
| Fralernities" Sorotites*  Clubs- Student Groups  Student organizations eam $$ 1.000-52,000$ with the easy eimpusfundraistr. com three hour fundraising event. No sales required. Fundrasing dales are ILling quidkly, so call today! Contact  carnpustundraiser,com, (88B)923-3238, or visit www campustundraisericom. |
| 51500 weekly potertal mailing cus oirculars. No Experience Required. Free inlormation packel Call 202-452-7679. |
| More than just SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camp counselors needed br a private, tesidential camp in the beautitul Pocono Mins. We arc looking for people with a dedication to childien, enthusiasm tor diversity, and a desire to share their passion and expertise in any of the following areas: COMPUTERS. CIRCUS ARTS, BASKEIBALL. MAGIC. VOLLEYBALL. TENNIS. SWiMMING. SAILING. FISHING. WATER-SKIING. THEATEA, DANGE. VIDEO. CREATIVE WHITING. ESL. SOCEER. COOKING. RADIO. ROCK MUSIC. GDLF. SKATEBGARDING. ROLLERBLADING. ROCKETAY, NEWSPAPER, FINE AATS,  CREATIVE CRAFTS. MOUNTANBIKING, CLIMBING WALL.  Ptease call 1-800-399-CAMP. Ask ior Danor Niget. |

Roommates

Subtet needed, 4 person Apartment. Ackerman Foommate 715 Lancaster $$ 225+$ Washer, Dryer Semi.furn, 3 blocks to campus 2630613 Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment close to campus parking fireplace apartment close taundry 497-5761

Misc. Wanted WANTED: 50 Serious Poople to laose weight Fast, Sate. $100 \%$ Natural. Guarante
$1-888$-666-9767 www.FitNslim.com

FOR RENT3 BEDROOMS 6 BEDROOMS5250 per month singlireplace, dishwasher 2 car gragaree laund la lacillies in baseme Call Donna $449-4621$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplacé, parking, laundry semi-lurnished, walk to sui, Paw prici 436 -40 $\%$.

Beautiful 3 Bedroon Townhouses. Walking closet space, 1 1/2 Baths, Diningroom, Liningroam,

Kitchen, Basement with Washerloryer hookups. | Oitchireet Parking with Garage.A Mus! See!! |
| :--- |
| $469-6417$ or $476 \cdot 9643$ |

Five bedroom House

 Spacious five Bedroom. completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL. 430-5188after 1:00 pm

O.PR Developers

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms, Eff/APTs Homes & Town Houses
There is something for averyone!
MOSTINCLUDING
-Security Systern with 1" Dead Bolt Locks $^{-5 m n c k}$
-Smoke, Heat & Sprinkler System

- Prices Ranging from $$ 225-$ 375 / \mathrm{month}$
ermodeled Full Custom Kitherfilaths
Kitchens include: Gourmet Self-cieaning ovens, Garbage Disposals. Miferowaves, Distwashers - Wall to Wall Carpets $&$ Padding (like home) - Laundry Facilities on Premisos - Off-streer Parking
- Snow & Lawn Malntenance
- Super Insulated (means low utilitios) 5 \& Furnished Such as ${ }^{\circ}$ Comstock, Ostrom. Hartison, Madison. Westcotu, Clarendon, Ackerthan, Livingston.
Lancaster Lancaster

CALL 478-6504

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS  621 Euclid Ave  917 Ackerman Ave  115 Redtield Place  1011 E. Adams St 145 Avondale Place  Available for 2000-2001  Fully Furnished, Laundry Paiking. Fuli Time Walt w Wall Carpet andlor Pefinished Hardwood Floors Retinished Hardwood Floors Memodeled Kitchens and Baths  University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005

rge Single Family lurnished house. Parking fireplace, iree laundry, dishwasher, mature tenants 682-330-4 Ackerman Ave. 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Furnished. carpeled, walk to campus. Weil maintained.
$5 / 00 \cdot 510 \mathrm{t}$ lease $446-7202$
Apartments ciose to carpus clean 2-3-5
 University and Comstock Very close to Campus Eficiencies sand Two Bedromoms Secure bidy.

EEST LOCATION-REASONABLE RENT 228 Euclid, across from Snaw Dorm, 4 bedroon thee parking, dishwasher. laundry, microwave,

4 Alecrooms, OaklandSt., 1Bleck ESF, 3Blocks Law+ Hospitals, Iumished, panking. laundry, porches, Exceilent condition, Augusi. $475-0690$

Three LOOK AT THISI
Three bedrom Apartment
Spacious thee Bedroon, compretely aparment with porishentiving Room with tireplace. Dining roon. Kitcten and hiree large bedrooms. and Satti. OH street, garage parking. Latmory laciliy in building.
Five bedroom House,
Spacious fire Eedrom, completely turnished
House with Iront and raat porches. Living

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM SPACIOUS, FURNISHED. DISHWASHER, 476-9933

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid,
and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

University Area 2-3 Bedroom furnished Aparments St
Jim 668.7473

| Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished, Meal included, hartwood floors. porch, recently remodaled, laundry, parking. 476-2982 |
| :---: |
| University Ave. Threa Bedroom Flat Close watk to Campus humished laundry parking lease $$ 875.00$ plus utilities D.N.Ducker 445-1229 |
| 2 bedroom Apartment right on, Marshall SL. Fall Semestar only (1 Semester) August 2000 to December 31, 2000. Great localion! Gall 637-5779. |
| Ackerman Beautitul Large Fumished Flats/ Houses, 2,3,4.5.6 Bedrooms. Porches. Fiaplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK 446-3420 |
| LUXUPIOUS: 2story apthot, Gourmet kívin. Cuslom loungeriv arsa, shylight 15 th ceiling. ELEGANILY OVERLOOKNG PARK: IS1 & 2nd fir, Fiv/din. i-2.3 bdims, of c/study, jacurzi/ hath. porchest OSTROMHADISON: All epts lurn 8 heated. NO PETSI Negotiabla lanses. Call for app1 469-0780 |

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS
302 Marshall St
329 Comstock Ave
604 Walnut Ave
319 Euctid Ave
145 Avondale Place
Availabte for 2000.2001
Fully Furnished Laundry
Parking. Full Time
Maintenance and Management.
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Retinished Hard Wood Flors
Fiemodeled Kithhens and Baths
University Area Apts
to11 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Univarsity Ave tive bedroom House one block trom Marshall Streel furnished taundry parking lease $$ 1,300.00$ plus utihties D.N.Drucker $445-1229$ 1-2-3 Bedzom Apartments, Beautilul, Spacious. OHstreet Parking. Fully Furnished, Low Ufilities. Sate, Ouiet, Close 476-0295

| Apartments |
| :---: |
|  |

Aparment 48r. Whats bath f.plate h.wood lloot 1room d.roonn porch free laundry available 446-1951 clean quiet 2-bedroom two blooks from SU, hospitats. Furnishod. Afl vilities paid. 472.5908 Jung 1 lease.

Two Bedroom Apartments
with utfitios included, Fireplaces
With utifitioe includid, Firmplece.
Furnishod, Hardwood Floors and arpoting, Paniry, Forch, Lsundry Parlity
close to Campus. Call Gortion 476-2982

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS

2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpe Large bedrooms Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern. new coniversityarea.co low utilities.
wwwniversityara.com
University Area Apts.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Large 3 bedroom. 2 Iull bath. Walking distance
S.U.oul street parking. Laundry. Call 422 -7305.
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Utisities included. Fully furnished. Rents start al $$ 275$. Hefinished hardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats.
Townhouses. Remodelad kitchens and Townhouses. Remodalad kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porthes. Laundry. Parking. 24hour maintenance. wwwuniversityarea.com niversity Area A 479-5005

Furnished 2-5Beoroom Houses Apartments Livingstion, Surmper, Ackerman. Euctid A69-6665 University 283 Bedrown Townifouses & Ftats Fireplace, linished basement, Call 449-0109.

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom llat, Iurnished, sckerman Ave. nice relrig. laundry ineplace, garage. Avail Jume ist 446-4229

Two Bedroon Apt 514 Exelid Parking Laundry
Beat Location Call Now $446-6264449-2602$

Lerge 2 bedroom. 2 fult talth. Walking dis.
S.U. of street parking. Caundry. Call 422 -7305.

Your oft-campus
home for $2000-0$

Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers microwave washer/drye off street parking owner managed CALLTODAY

PETER 427.0052

FOUR BEDROOM

1 Bedroom Furcistred Uduturishhed Weaking disiznce S. U. Laundry a Parking Cal $422-7305$
$1,2,3.4+5$ tedroom apartumenls. Fumished at tulities included. laundry. parking. One block campus near law school +ESF. May +August availabilit. 446-9598.
NEW BURY APARTMENTS
Great University Area Eeautiful Great University Area Beautifu Modem 1&2 Eedroom Apt, All Brand New hopl. (A) Included. Security
Hoter Buildings Whntercoms & Doo Relanses. Custom Made Blinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. OHf Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line, 24 Hour kaintenance. Starting at $$ 550.00$. Call 478-0277 Ask for Patricia or Stop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E. Brighten) Also..(Great Location) Beautiful 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 c garage, huge yard, off Layafyette road $$ 1200.00$

One +2 bedicom included! $$ 370,5430 / \mathrm{mo}$. One mie from campus. Laundry, parking, carpeting, security butilding Avalable immediately, May orAugust. 446 - 9599 .

| ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR JWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933. |
| :---: |
| One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. laundry, quier building, close to campus. $476-2982$ |

Best Buy on Harrisonsl. Clean Otiet One-betroom and studio Jung lasa. Furnished Hitities included. 472-5908.

Lancaster avenue
183 Bedrown Aparments
Outsanding Condition
Fully Furnished
$424-0220 \times 428$
One Bedroon Apartments Close to Campus,

TOAD HALL

$1 / 2$ block from carmpus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. aundry. Low utilities.
Competitive rents.
302 Marshall St.
(gacoss tran Hexn).
wruntryizisratecom
479-5005

Orange travel to Connecticut for water duels

The Syracuse men's and vomen's swim teams head to Connecticut Huskies after tav take on the tur ng them in many ways only seven days before.

SU head coach Lou Walker aid his swimmers hope to use ast week's meet against West Virginia as a model for their performances against UConn. Last Saturday, the SU men dominated the Mountaineers, while the Orangewomen needed to come from behind to win.

Honestly, it's very much the same thing as West Virinia," Walker said. "Our guys are clearly the stronger team. The women's meet again this weekend will be close.

Last season, the Orangemen finished third at the Big East Championships, four places anead of the Huskies and three ahead of West VirGinia. On the women's side, SU, WVU and UConn finished fifth, sixt ly.

Syracuse should enter the meet fresher than it did against West Virginia, as Walker is beworkload in preparation for the conference charation for the con lot of peoplonships.

A lot of people are still tired zaunio Dustin Riley well. ${ }^{\text {s. }}$ But we should do pretty

Last Saturday, the Orangemen spanked the Mountaineers $142-93$ to pus

The women, however, had more of a challenge, as they heading into the last two events players averaging between aine and 15 points per game, led by Thomas' 14.4.
Those six players don't include freshman guard DeShaun Williams who scored in double digits the last two games. Williams blew up for 23 against Pittsburgh and hit two key 3 -pointers on his way to netting 10 against UConn. "Different nights, we have different guys that can hurt you," sophornore guard Tony Bland said. "If one person's not doing well, we have six other guys that can step it up and put that can step it pressure on you, Eagles will Bell said that the Eagles wil offensive firepower by switch-to take a 128-113 victory. We had a lot of people ting tough in there and getWalker said tinued to fire up and keep the score close.

The Orangemen won nine events, led by two apiece from junior James Loveless and sophomore Djordje Filipovic.

Loveless ruled the longer distances, winning the 500 ( $9: 44.951$ ) and $1,000-y$ yard (9:44.95) freestyles. Filipovic von the 200 ind 200 ual medley 1:54.71) and 200 butterily "We

We really just dominated the meet across the board," Walker said. "It was really a team effort."
The Bryon sisters, Melanie and Kelly, held their own in back from a 104-101 deficit by winning several events late in the meet. Melanie, a senior, won the last solo event, the 200 breaststroke, and also touched first in the 500 free.
kelly, a sophomore, won the longest event of the meet, the 1,000 freestyle, in a season best time of 10:23.90. She then came back after a two-event break to win consecutive events, the 200 individual medley and 200 backstroke.

Junior Sara Mastropole Inished first in the three-me ter dive and second in the one meter to give the Orange that Walker said may have been the key to victory

The wey to victory
The West Virginia meet But it didn't take lone for the But it didn't take long for the "It was a little bit tough for me to get back into the swing of things," said Riley, a junior dis tance specialist for the Orangemen. "Once you hit the water on the nirst swim, it all goce away an Walker said his team hopes to keep the momentum going in Storrs on Saturday. impro improving again the coach said. "To me, the kids appear to be fired up for the meet on the ekend.
The Orange head to Storrs this weekend only davs afte on the Carricr Dort bas court.

However, Walker sees the timing as mere coincidence and nothing to get worked up about.
"It's a nice kind of thing," he said. But obviously, it's ir relevant."

BOSTON

continued from page 20
They're just a really good team,", Bell said of the Orange. "They're really athletic. Theyve got Etan (Thomas) just shoot a little jump hook, but he's really expanded his game. They've got Jason Hart, who's averaging more than seven assists and who can shoot the ball really well. It's going to be tough.
The toughest thing about playng the Orangemen is the nability to focus on stopping just one player. SU has six ing defenses. BC has played a lot of zone lately, but will likely try some man-to-man to defuse SU's outside barrage In the win over UConn, Syracuse's dominance was also evident on the glass. SU outboarded the Huskies 47-31 and had head coach Jim Boeheim comparing the team's rebounding to the Orangemen's - and the NCAA's - most prolific rebounder Derrick Coleman. The fourth-ranked Orangemen, led by point guard Jason Hart, have also played rabid defense. On Monday, Hart and his mates shut down UConn's AilAmerican guard Khalid ElAmin, holding him to a measly nine points.
"This team has just done everything they've had to do, Boeheim said.
With the winning comes more national exposure for individ ual members of the Syracuse team. Thomas, despite strug gling at times, hears his name consistently mentioned along with the Kenyon Martins and Chris Mihms of the college bas ketball world.
Hart, who Boeheim calls the best defensive guard in college basketball, is also starting to break into the group of points guards - such as Mateen Cleaves, Scoonie Penn and ElAmin - that are considered the nation's best.
What separates me from them is that they've been winning in the past and I haven't," Hart said. "But we're winning now, and we're getting better. We've just got to continue to play, and I've just got to continue to play With SU seemingly on a mis sion and Boston College in the midst of an ugly losing streak Saturday's outcome would seem preordained. Bell, however, is one person not counting out his team's chances.
"If my shot's falling, there's no telling what could happen," Bell said. "Everything's going to have to be going right. If we play the best We can, we can We have the people" shooters We have the people."

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |

|  |
| :---: |

| APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS 1,2,3,4 Eedroom Apartments Condition Farnished, Some incurde utifitios. Call $422-0138$. |
| :---: |

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT Allitirios inclusson.
 4494621

 Laundry Caipet Hrownos iocosStudio Apartments beginning at $\mathbf{5 2 5 5}$ perf month some with s month Jeases, with uthities, month some with g monh microwave, carpetin parking. $476-2982$

| UNIVERSITY |
| :---: |
| HILL REALTY |
| $422-0709$ |
|  |
| PLEASEVISIT OUR |
| WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST |
| SELECTION OF 3EDROOM |
| APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 |
| BEDROOM HOUSES. |
| www.UNIVERSITYHILL.com |
| ************************* |
| Studio, One and Two |
| Bedroom Apts. close |
| to Campus. Laundry, |
| Parking, Lease, |
| Heated |
| 440-6200 |
| $437-7577$ |

Houses
Charming English Tutbor House on Cornslack
Beciooms, Firaptace, across from Womens Elidg

3,4,5 bedrom homes al reasonabie prices, clos to campus. trminact
(5) Anclic) Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom (t) 446 -3693

RENTYOUR OWN HOME
FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE.
TWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES
476-9933

2000/2001

Fireplace Free Laundry Hardwood Floors
Porches s330hedroom Also 4-Eedroom
446-7611
Rooms
Furnished room availabie for Spring Semester orkonge. One block Irom eampus. Parking. taundry, all utiities included. 446-9598

January Graduate Stucienis 2 large bedrooms remaining besutit ' home close to campus 682.7130

SUBLET

Room in 2 person Apt. available starting in Spring
2000. Furnished carpatad, air conditioned. Low 2000. Furnished. carpated, air conditic utilities, $1 / 2$ block from campus $475-7938$

SERVICES

Travel

SPRING BREAK 2000

CANCUN-JAMAICA NASSAU Space is imited 800-293-1443
www.StudentCity.com
Spamg Ereakt Unoemade dals to Dominizen ocaupance, pul meels and unimimed tanks!日eaches. Goll, watersports, Horseback Ridixy elc.
Contact: Springbreak topholidays.com (212)289-8052.

Sping Break Specials! Bahamas Patty Cruise! 5 Nights S279! Inelutes Meals! Awesome Beates, Nightlite! Departs From Florida! Panama City Room With Kilchen Next To Clubs. 7 Palties $a$
Free Drinks S 129 ! Daytona Room With Kitchen Free Drinks S129! Daytona Room With Kitchen
S149! South Eeach (Bars Open Untid Sam!) S159! C0e0a Beach (Near Disney) S179! sp:ingbreaktravel.com 1-B00-678-6386 EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT EuTODE SR8B
 Mexical Caibbean S159 (fh + taxes)
CHEAP FAhES WORLOWDE! Call:900-326-2009 CHEAR FARES WORLOWDE.! Cali:800-326-2009 CANCUN SPRING BREAK Ffom $\mathbf{3 9 9}$ Inclutes 14
FREE meals. 23 Hours of Free Drinks. We Are FREE meals. 23 Hours of Free Drinks. We Are The Elgegst The Best, And The Least Expensive. Play While You Pay! 6 Honth Payment Plan
Avaitable1! Ask How! $800-395-4895$ SPHING BREAK - GRAD WEEK SPRUNG BREAK - GRAD WEEK
STS & U PEer Persion wwwretreatryytlebeach.com
1.600 .645 .3618

MISC.

TF NOTE FROM THE DAIY ORANGE: As always. piease use caution when replying or being replied from any adverisement in each Asing replied front any adverisement in each sssue, tor The Oaily Orange does nol take responsibility ior ary misconduct resulting in contact between yoursell and adveriser

[sports SU faces Beantown showdown  BY CONNOR ENNIS

Asst Sports Editor
There will be no ESPN cameras, no loud, bald-headed announcers and no nationally ranked opponent. Connecticut on Monday and the Orangem Connectice on Monday and Coge is that SU's unbeanrecord will once again be on the line.
Syracuse (16-0, 6-0 Big East) looks to keep its record without blemish when it faces the Eagles (9-9, 1-5) at noon Saturday at Conte Forum.
A win would also put this SU team into the record books with the best start in school history. Right now this version of the Orangemen is tied with the 1917-18 squad.
The BC game might seem a prime opportunity for the Orangemen to let down. They come off an impressive $88-74$ nationally televised win over No. 6 UConn On the other end of the spectrum, Boston College limps into Saturday's contest on a five-game losing skid. Huskies and say, however, that the win over the Huskies and their status as Division I's only undefeat ed team has in no way made them complacent Shumpert said "We feel that we're a preat Preston whe've got mide to accomplish. I think were not sati Wed." got more to accomplish. I think were not satisBoston College's record would look much more impres sive ha
After beating Providence 67-62 in the Big East opener the Eagles lost consecutive games to Notre Dame, Villanova, Georgetown, Miami and Seton Hall.
Before the conference falter, however, BC spanked both Michigan and Massachusetts for quality out-of-confer ence, early-season victories.
Leading the Eagles is freshman guard Troy Bell, who has appeared in all 18 of BC's contests. The rookic ranks first on the team in scoring, with 18.8 points per game, and assists, with 2.1. He also has 26 steals, good for second on the squad.
Bell's backeourt mate, junior Xavier Singletary, is the only other Eagle with a double figure scoring average. Singletary, a transfer from Howard University, pours steals.
Bell and Singletary also lead the Eagles 3-point shooting, hitting 37 and 33 shots, respectively, from behind While this will be Bell's inaugural game against SU, the frosh sensation knows he and the rest of the Eagles

See BOSTON page 19

Jason Hart will lace up his 1986 Nikes in Boston this weekend when Syracuse faces Boston College. Angered by trash-talling BC conter Brian Ross, Hart lit up the Eagles for 17 points in SU's 90-51 thrashing on Jan. 21, 1999. This season, Hart averages 12 points and a Eig Eastbest 7.2 assists per game.

Bell leads Eagles

BY JEFF PASSAN

Asst. Sports Editor
Troy Bell fondly remembers the glory days of his youth

He played the part of the little guy who

Bell

Perry, Syracuse host reeling Mountaineers

BY KEVIN LEITZELL

Staff Writer
Someone should tell Shannon Perry point guards don't usually reound well

Most players under -feet tall in women's col ege basketball are known more for s ributing.

But the 5-foot-8 Per ry bas introduced her knack for rebounding to the Manley Field House crowds.

Behind her 7.1 rebounds per game, Perry eads Syracuse (8-8, 1-4 Big East) into a game against West Virginia at 2 p.m Saturday afternoon at Manley Field House. As the lone freshman on the team, Perry has ex ceeded the expectations placed on her by the Syracuse coaching staff.

Perry is second on the team in steals with 26 But more impressively her rebounding average is second on the squad and 10 th in the Big East

She started off the season on a great note," Michelle Bento coach Mad about four said. "She there where we felt she See SHANNON page 14

In the loag
Travelers are advised to pack a small first aid kit for their trip including supplies such as: E Bandages, gauze, tape, scissors and tweezers to remove stingers or foreign bodies - Antibiotic ointment to prevent infection of minor wounds and abrasions Elastic bandages for strains or sprains

- An anti-inflammatory drugs such as aspirin or ibuprofen $\square$ An antihistamine like Benadryl to cut down on sniffles from allergic reactions and relieve itching from insect bites - Decongestants to combat colds or sinus congestion - Dramamine or ginger tablets for motion sickness

Take note of these little-known ilnesses before heading off on vacation ventures:

Know Konr ABCs

Travelers to developing coun tries where sanitation habits are poor are at risk of contracting Hepatitis A. Most episodes of infection are spread by infected food handlers that may not yet have any signs of illness. By failing to wash their hands adequately after a bowel movement, such disease carriers can spread the virus to food in the preparation and serving process. Transmission can also occur by drinking sewage-contaminated water or by eating cont aminated raw shellfish.

For protection, travelers may eceive one of the two Hepatitis A vaccines (administered as a single dose at least two weeks prior to departure, followed by a booster dose in six to 12 months) or an injection of immune dobulin.

TcEtalk

- Lyme disease is the most common disease spread by fnsectin the United States. Whit more than 90 percent of casescocuring In the northeast and north centralistates: While avachagainst igheqdeeste Was apprava by theroAn 1998 morathan 1,600:cases were still reported last year.
chene disease is transmitted only through bites of infected: deetuks whose peak actuity freported from Aprin through. apheredto the skin for at atachedto the skingoratleast 243048 hotisin onder to ymendsease symptoms wity than tiexo transmission wo diatothess edsecanterato athitisand may mincotherdiseases But therciseasacanusuably be: reater andieatif center tion ind ate wodintict habi: tion incuqe evoling, ict hably tatsisuctas zal erassesin wooded aress usorporptective and frequentryctectin for and pronptry fenovis any attached aschath

foreign

Educate yourself about the health hazards of a dream vacation.

dEvin CLARK/The Daily Orange

As the sun slips beyond the horizon, you slouch deeper into your beach chair and listen to the crashing waves. Memories of Syracuse are distant the snow shoveling, slippery ice and howling wind seem like they were all part of some bad dream. But this socalled paradise has the potential to bring on disease or injury at any point. Having a great time on vacation includes being smart and looking out for your Behind the gairour of

Behind the glamour of exploring new places, seeing new faces and get ing hidden an many hidden dangers. Dr. Mary Vettleman of the University of low one-half of visitors to the tropics will spend a large part of their journey jumping from toilet to toilet. And others ean incur diseases that although rare, could potentially be deadly. The most common disease found south of the border is traveler's diarrhea.

This ailment, though not extremely dangerous, poses much more of a hassle than any traveler would like to encounter when trying to enjoy their fun in the sun. According to the Centers for Disease Control, traveler's diarrhea can be caused by a plethora of things, which is why the problem is viruses, bacteria parasites or insects may cause it, it is usually caught through a host such as contaminated water or mishandled food. This is why there is such insistence on drinking bottled or boiled water. But when nei ther option is available, there are $H_{a}$ ther still ways to avoid trouble. $ Filtering water through an "Absolute 1-micron filter" and dissolving iodine tablets in the water effectively removes 99.9 percent of contaminates, Nettleman said. After that, the water should be as clean or clean er

Diarrhea can most definitely put a cramp in vacation plans but it's one of the mildest things in the harmful bag of traveler's illnesses.

Biting back

Malaria is classified as one of the most infectious diseases worldwide, and infection among exposed travelers is growing at an alarming rate, accord It is the World Health Organization toes transmitted by female mosquitoes, and even if briefly exposed - just one night in a malarious area - pro tective measures are imperative.

It's possible to contract malaria during brief stopovers at airports in malarious zones if officials have not taken proper measures to rid the area of mosquitoes. But this matter can be cleared up by taking the problem into your own hands before it even becomes an issue. Chloroquine is the most common drug taken for malaria prevention, but it only serves to limit the extent of infection and suppresses the symptoms. The infection itself is char acterized by flu-like symptoms, including fever, body aches and diarrhea, though it can have much more dangerous consequences if left untreated.

If these symptoms aren't recognized or go untreated for weeks or months, complications can lead to shock, liver and kidney failure, coma and even death. The most practical way to avoid the disease all together is to stay away from infected areas, but when thats not possible, always wear ed soops and deodorant, which can se bise, and always, which can nsect repellent with a high DEET con centration.

CDC recommends various immuizations travelers should have before eaving the country. Cholera, Hepatitio Typhoid Tetnus and Influenza top their list of the most important.

While infectious diseases certainly pose a vaid threat to travelers, mere accidents kill many more people than all other diseases combined, according to WHO resources. The endless boardwalks of clubs, bars and shops can lead to slightly irresponsible behavior during the vacation ventures, but com mon sense should always prevail.

Be aware of your surroundings at See HEAETH page 10

The

 piffalls on the road.

The road trip - a classic component of the American Dream. From settlers crossing the continent to fulfill their belied in works fest destiny to modern-day works like Jack Kerouac's beatnik classic "On the Road" or the mas the open road has al- il ways, the open road has al- rile to the American point Bers from Point A wirit ${ }^{2}$, Harned said, someoneat ake advantage of spring take advantage of spring break to grab a map and the into this spirit, and tion fill with migrating students. This part of the American Dream, however, can become a nightmare when automobile troubles crop up. And for those mechanically-challenged college students who have never known a tions even the most minor gas troubes can send them into a paric at a moment's notice.

If drivers aren't careful and conscientious, even small car problems can quickly become large car problema, said Hilary Harned, manager of Sears Auto Center, 3649 Erie Blvd. The only way to deal with car trouble, he said, is knowledge of the car and preparation for trouble.

Knowing how to turn the key in heignition may not al to Point B. For example, empting to jump-start a ca battery to blow cause the grenade in their face. Lack grenade in their face Lack of preparation will also since students familiar with changing a tire might be surprised to find their spare tire de flated and is unsuitable for use. The best policy anyone can follow on a road trip, Harned said, is to use common sense.

Spending a little time and effort checking the car before leaving the driveway can save a lat of hassle ater on. Harned recommends hav ing a professional inspect any car before it is taken for an extended trip. Many auto shops, he said, wil give quick, yet thorough inspections for no charge. Some items that should be on the mechanic's checklist include the inflation levels for all the car's tires (inciuding the spare), engine belt wear and flujd levels. Even cursory checks of these items can identify and prevent potential problems.

Ktt and kaboodie
Harned also advocates the use of a car safety kit, which includes common tools to use in the unfortu nate event of a breakdown. These safety kits generally include flashlights, reflectors, tire irons, help signs and jumper cables. Such kits are available at most auto and many general stores. Prices range from $$ 20$ to $$ 50$
"It'll come in handy, whether on a long road trip or a short trip to "Eve grocery store," Harned said Worth if you never use the kit, it's

Car problems tend to come at the worst time, Harned joked - at night, in the cold, alone. But he

See CARS page 10

CHANGING A TDRE

1. Make sure that your vehicle will not move or roll. If you have a manual transmission, put the gearshift in 1 (First). Set the parking brake and place a block under the wheel that is diagonally opposite the tire that you are changing-
2. Get out the spare tire and jack, if you have not already done so.
3. Remove the wheel covers to expose the bolts on the tire. 4. Loosen the wheel lug nuts by turning the handie of the wrench one half-turn counterclackwise. Do not remove the wheel lug nuts until you raise the wheel completely off the ground.

5, Fit the jack under a solid part of the car. Use the jack to raise the wheel completely off the ground.
6. Remove the lug nuts by using the lug wrench assembly.
7. Replace the flat tire with the spare tire.
8. Replace the lug nuts. Do not fully tighten the lug nuts until after you lower the vehicle. If you do, you could force the vehicle off the jack
9. Lower the vehicle, using the jack.
10. Remove the jack and fully tighten the lug nuts, alternating tightening the nuts across from each other.
11: Put the tire, jack; wrench and any other items away in the trunk.
12. Unblock the wheels

IUHPSTARTING

A. CAR

1. Park the second vicie close to the hood of the stat cose to the hood of the stalled vehicle but make sure the yehiSet the partoucheach oterer Set the parbing brake on both vehicles and stay clear ofthe engine cooling fansernat. 2 atim on theheaterblowiter Sothvendomber both vehicles. This helpstrot tect the electical system tom other swithes and lightimp Both venicles to prevent posst: ble darage to either velicles electrical systemss
2. connectone end ofthefirst jumper cable to the positive $(t)$ terminal of the dead battert Most Jumper cables have a red cable and a black cable. The' red cable is generally used for the positive terminals and the black for the negative ones:
4 Connect the other end of the cable to the positive ( + ) temp: nat of the booster battery.
3. Connect one end of the sec and cable to the negative $(\theta)$ ter minal of the booster battery. not the dead battery:
4. Connect the other end of the cablé to a good metallic sur face on the engine or frame of the veticle that needs firip starting making sure tis clear of any rotating engine components. $x$ yon T. Start the stalled car Win Toplotinsthrerveres 1. Make sure you have a signed valid passport (and visas, if required Also, before you go, fill in the emergency iffomatloni pase of your passport:

2. Read the Consular Information Sheets (and Public Announcements or Travel Wamings, fapplicable) for the countries you plan to visit
3. Familianze yourself with local laws and customs of the courtries to which you are traveling. Remember; the U.S. Constitution does not follow youl While in a foreign country, you are subject to its laws.
4. Make two copies of your passport Identification page. This will facilitate replacement if your passport is lost or stolen. Leave one copy at home with friends or relatives. Carry the other with you in a separate place from your passport
5. Leave a copy of your itinerary with family or friends at home so that you can be contacted in case of an emergency.
6. Do not leave your luggage unattended in public areas. Do not accept packages from strangers.
7. If you plan to stay abroad for more than two weeks, upon arrival,:you'should notify by phone or register in person with the u.S embassy In the country you are:viting This will facilitate communication in case someone contactstre embassy lopking for yout yertsont brobuodibeine aitargetof crimeroynotto wear conspici ouscoptug and expenstio jewel or nod donot camy exces ste

 97nore to avold volatinglocal wag wishen you exchargetag moneyor purctasertorisus

 thenderestusembasyut
整

 595514 men Foutas Stuechaper and the yosentrong amsyou withthe toons indice yourselghrouth: theyrestargmisemmin the:

 loorig of the homown on art

 Hoxed

 onows

 00 an yontry 10 conderd rail

With a reputation for exquisite restaurants and expensive attractions, Europe is not often a hot spot for penny-pinching students.

Rick Stevers
Kick Steve's Europe Through the Back Door is travel company that has been helping people with tips and short cuts for budget travel for nearly 20 years Julie Coen travel manager for the company said the key to making a visit to Europe affordable is researching and exploring ways to get around high price tags before the trip even begins.

Coen said the price can be cut down in a variety of areas. She said that one of the main ways to bring down cost is to cut back on money spent on food. She suggested finding university cafeterias or all-you-caneat buffets for cheaper dining options. When shopping, Coen said to bargain and buy directly from locals.

You have to be creative," Coen said. "If you are traveling with a big aaid if you are traveling with a big your own picnic. Not only is it less expensive than eating in a restaurant, but it is also a great way to ex perience the culture.

When sightseeing, Coen said there are also ways to cut down on the prices of attractions, such as museums. Many European countries offer student ID cards that give dis counts on flights, museums and other tourist attractions. Paris offers a apecial museum card with discounted admissions to museums, including the Louvre.

While special tours and trips are often very expensive, Coen added that it is important to aplurgein some

If it is a beautiful day, take that one special chair ride up in the Alps," she said. "It is so worthwhile A scenic trip can be one of a kind Certain cost.
Certan countries also have a higher price tag than others do. don, Paris and Venice pull hardest on the purse strings, while Portugal Greece and Turkey are relatively in expensive.

Shacking 4 ip

Catrded

Stash this plastic in your wallet for vacation steals and deals.

For those with a walletful of maxed-out plastic, doling out the cash for a spring break to foreign lands leads to cumbersome airfare expenses and other draining necessities such as food and lodgiag. The new world traveler also has to struggle with fluctuating exchange rates, which don't always favor the American dollar.

But for the student, there is one saviorthe International Student Identity Card Association - that attempts to ease the burden international travel can have on the walle

The International Student Identity Card, or and 26 years old with discounts and services in more than 90 countries, including the United States. Cards cost $$ 20$, and discounts of up to 50 percent apply to airfare, hotels, restaurants and attractions such as museums and clubs.

Discounts vary among cities and countries, said Lisa Carter, marketing and discount development manager for ISIC. Depending on students' specific interests some may use the card more frequently than others, maling the quently than others, maling the card a better investment.

Students recerve a handbook that details the discounts available when they purchase researched on the ISIC Web site www.isic.com. The site can be warched by city and country for be W to those areas.

The ISIC is a good investment even if students use it only for their airfare, Carter said. Council Travel, which works with travel agencies worldwide, offers substantial discounts on plane tickets to ISIC cardholders. Students re-
The ISIC on the airfare alone, she added. cheaper. Through a program called ISICon nect, students can use the card as a pre-paid nhone card. The phone card service is activated attractions.
"It saved me a few pounds here and there," she said. For example, full admission to Edinexample, full admission to Edinburgh Castle in Scotland is six pounds, but Corco

Corcoran primarily used her ISIC hile traveling, especially during her 10-day trip to Italy. She recommends that students traveling abroad purchase the ISIC, but said discounts can be hit-or-miss. Some places don't care that you're a student, she said.

When Corcoran was in Iondon, she flashed her card less frequently than when she traveled See CARDS page 11

Passports:
For biges 16 and up cost $$ 45$ plus"a' $$ 15$ exocution tee, for a totar of $$ 60$ :

Passportrenewals cost $$ 40$ if the followne citernare met: the polowing citera are met.
 2ryour previoust pasisportiwas is sued on or aftery your 16 blithday and was is the pest 12 yearsurar por las ininternaverstass woit Sericeran bo exedted: for an additonal 335 porder tóobtaniadstpas portyou must provide:

1) A property completed, but unsigned, passport application (DSP-11), available at county and city clerks' offices. But do not sign the fom until you apply in personl
2. Proof of U.S. citizenship any one of the following:

- Use your previously issued passport or one in which you were included.
- A certified copy of your birth certificate, which must have a registrar's signature and raised, impressed, embossed, or multicolored seal. If your certificate has gotten lost in the shuffle over the years, certified copies of birthirecords can be obtained from the Bureau of Vita!
Statistics in the city, state. county, or territory where you were bom:

3. Proof of identity - must include a photograph and signature (Social Security cards. leamer's or temporary driver's licenses, credit cards or any expired identity card or doent ment are NOT valid forms of identity.):

- A Certificate of Naturalization or Citizenship
- A valtd driver's license

Asovenmentissued (Federal, state, municipal) identification card.
4. Protographs two identical, recent photographs of yourself, not to exceed $2 \times 2$ inches in size, - + atora

Lost and forind

It is important to make two coples of your passport identificatlon page and take them with you on your trip. If your passport Is lost or stolen abroad, having extra copies on hand will speed up the replacernent process. Leave one copy at home with friends or relatives and cary the other with you in a separate placé from your passpoirt if your passport is lost or stolen, go to the nearest U.S\%Embassy with your passport information.
:- One way to avoid leaving your passport open to theft is to avód leaving it unattended in your hotel ${ }^{2}$ or hostél room For maximum protection, camy your masimum protecton, camy your of sight of thleves and pickpockof sight of theves and pickpockets and where you can constantly keep añey on itctor instance pone poven method is to keep valuables in a pouch that is tied anound your neck and conseated under your shit:
 sourpe us stado Deterting sourge us samp Docemper

Sweet stuff

 st C CHOCOLITE WORLD

Road Game

Rowdy MTV Spring Break participants live it up under the sun during the 1999 festivities.

For those of us lacking the funds to travel to an exotic locale for our spring break vacations, there is MTV's Spring Break programming to save the day and at least allow us to look at a beach. It's the cheap way to visit the tropics without leaving the comfort of your own living room bonus points if you sit under a.sun amp on the couch

But just like most of what's $Q$ on TV, MTV's Spring Break is to its bored - and ultimately horny - television audience. Large jugs and wash board abs = large numbers of viewers $=$ solid advertising for the network.

Whipped-cream bathing suit contests and guys and gals switching their clothes in the back seats of cars - MTV is selling sex and we gladly lick it up each and every year as quickly as we would like to lick some of that whipped cream. Yummy! For the last 15 years, we havebeen welcomed as coolest and best-looking people who would 't give a typical person the time of day an nt give a typical person the time of day on Wit breasted gals swimming in drunken excesses, we, the viewers, waste away the dull hours of break at home feeling sort of let down. At no other time of the year do kids Be; feel so insecure of who they are or Bhes what their bodies look like. It fun while we sit in front of the boob tube vegging out - something most of the waifish girls shown during Spring Breakonly dream about in their sleep. Have you ever noticed that only genetically mutant, wanna-be Abercrombie models are allowed to participate in the programming during the the fat kids? Aren't they allowed to about on all the fun or should they just go hide away somewhere. Seriously, even the audience is jacked beyond belief, which gets me thinking - is Spring Break really like this?

MTV Spring Break showcases boobs, brawn and beer.

Could MTV be targeting our lustful hearts and eyes, populating our screens with only the best-looking people for a reason?

West, San Padre Island and Palm Springs have been past shooting sights for the network, and this year's spot is bound to be just lots of jacked-up guys and hour glass-figured chicks

Even a few lucky Syracuse University students got in on the orgy taping last break. MTV followed three SU frat boys as they wandered around aimlessly with a handful of MTV's cash trying to show us how to have a good time. Camera crews observed them around as they drank, hookedup with strange females, drank some more, participated in wet t-shirt contests and then, ultimately, drank even more. I was week let me toll be an Orangeman that week, let me tell ya.
ii) a mumes if you're lucky (and this is a big if, a musical act or two will pop up durand the Beach or Springer Break to Beauty a new song. Usually, the acts are new and trying to get some airtime, so it's nice to see them perform in front of a live audience.

Clotheshorse

Scour the store racks for these resh-off-the-runway spring fashion trends:

The one musthave accessory of the season is a romantic, womanly blouse with lots of extra materiat, usually in the form of ruffes or a gathered neckline. Casual styles slope off one shoulder and straightlaced, schoolteacher styles sport bows near the neck. Frills, embroidery and beaded embellishments add just the right amount of female frivolity.

Handkerchief-point halter tops, ike those sported on Jennifer Aniston and Celine Dion last season, make the perfect top for nighttime beach parties or outdoor dances. When there's nip in the air, hide the bare back by throwing a cardigan or a dinner jacket over it.

Siliky. stretch jersey or halterstyle dresses win the portable prize for the season - the low maintenance fabric packs perfectly even in the tiniest of suitcases. Pair it with a pair of strappy mute sandals and hit the town.

For the casual traveler, Jeans of all shapes, sizes and pat terns will be a big hit this spring From 1970 sinspired suinay, stitching to firecolored ermbroider tósequin and Though brisk winter winds and show- been something. Anything goes. ars of snow have hit Syracuse, fashion capitals nationwide have been warming up to new clothing lines for the spring season.

At a time when puffy coats and boots are standard essenials, it's hard to Iook ahead to sundresses and bathing But if you're planing. But if youre plan ing a trip for apring tart tart brighter the better.

A lot of the major desien on the West Coast seem to think color is going to be hot" said Symacuse Universiy fashion profersor Jan Wright "But the East Coast is always going to stay a littie on the black side, even in the spring.

Bold shades of orange, blue and yellow will be seen in lines by major designerg this sping. Wright said. The rule for this aeaon is Amia-inspired patterns in these daring colors, ahe added.

I think that the aqua and fuchsia will also be hot," said Lauren Bascue, a senior fashion major. "Last year we saw a lot of pastels. Since early fall it's warmed up and it's going with a more vibrant pink"

Look for these colors in knits and prints this season, said Iodd Convover, a ashion prolessor. Patterns may have nos talgic remnants of lies, he added.

Other styles, including very fitted and contoured skirts, will be reminiscent of the wenties.
is a comforting thing that "ll seek back to," Conover said. "I thin pell see a little of everything that's really

Centeny style

And with the millennium fire dying out, designers are squeezing in one last season for reflective pads and mirrors on clothing. Though bold will be big the traditional floral skirt in the back of your wardrobe. Conover said that floral skirts and sundreases will be back this year in all lengths. year in all lengths. very sweet, very feminine, Wright agreed.

Bascue said that A-line plaid skirts will be coming darker shades

Hang on to last year's capri pants as well, said

Wright, because they will also return to the spring scene, this year fitting with a hare around the calf.
Along with flowers, stripes and other exctic patterns will hit the fabric this season.
covered in tots " Wris that Im seeing now are overed in dots, Wright said.

For those heading out to the beach ver break, checic the stores for a return of the tonkini will return for another succene tin trip down the rungy, the added nSo many women love that look on * Bancue said "Bathi suits on don't move as quickly as other clothing does They're also recreating the seventies look with some fuchsia and orange."

In the accessory department, keep feathernifituere at andity your eyes open for more beaded handbags, this year with added trim and fringe, Bascue said

Also, expect to see bigger, flashier accessories to go with any outfit, Conover seid.
"We're heading to an era of opulent wear: Conover said. "What we design today may be dead tomorrow. It's very important that the fashion industry keeps changing to stay alive."

And if you're planning
Catch a sneak by the sea this spring brealc, fashion forecasts indicate that you may be bringing alone a few ocean-native pals in your suitcase. A spinoff of last year's popular butterfly jewelry, Wright said designers plan to introduce a new kind of insect to the accessory scene this spring - the crustacean.
"A lot of lobsters and crabs and such are coming up on accessories all over," Wright said. "I think we can expect to see a few whimsical, fun little things, accesso-

If you're looking for these new styles from major brands including Hillfiger, Polo and Calvin Klein in Syracuse, check Lord and Taylor or Kaufinanis Also try shopping online from other industry leaders including, Macy's and Bloomingurale's, Bascue said.

So while winter may be turning things white outside add a litule color to your and start stocking up for spring break.

preview of the season's hottesttrends.

HEALTH

continued from page 2 all times and never travel in a new area zlone. In Mexico taxi cabs target lonesome cobts. Catching ande with a cabby off the street can leave ane subject to robbery or assault. One should also be crowded situations increases the chances of trampling, especially under the influence of alcohol - one slip can leave you on the floor with a foot in your face.

If you're forced to seek medical attention whil worry if you're in a relatively popular area. According to he CDC, Mexico and most of treatment facilities. The only catch is that most hospitals expect cash payment once they treat you. Medical insurance is not always valid outside the United States, so it's important to check with providers before you travel. In cases where medical insur ance doesn't suffice, travel er'sinsurance provided by another company agency or plant most needs, from psyplant most needs, from psy removal.

Almost everyone complains about the financial costs of spring break, and the thought of an empty wallet or a butchered credit rating. But almost no one considers the potential cost to their livelihood that can incur. Spring break tales should be about hot nights on the town and sunny days on the beach, not bouts with the toilet and lifethreatening illnesses.

Corey Hant is a junior pre-medicine and philosophy cthann@syr.edu

Travel Safety 101
All travelers should take the following precautions, no matter where they're headed:

- Wash hands often with soap and water.
Re Always use latex condoms to reduce the risk of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases.
won't eat or drink dairy products unless you know they have Don't share needles with anyone.
Eat onty thoroughly cooked food or fruits and vegetables you have peeled yourself. Remember. boil it, cook it, peet it or forget it Wever eat undercooked ground beef and poultry, raw eggs and unpasteurized dairy products. dangerous to persons who dangerous to persons who mised immune systems. mised immune systems. and fountain drinks. Eroid eating food purchased from street vendors.

Complled by: Lifestyle Editor Holly Auer

CARS

continued from page 3
preaches a clear message prepare for the worst. When cartrouble does occur, the first priority should be to get the vehicle as far to the side of the road as possible. Blowof the road as possible. Blowing a tire or warping a wheel ing a tire or warping a wheal rim are inconsequential rim are inconsequential prices to pay for pre Harnced also stressed that waiting for the proper help to arrive is a smart course of acover to $h$ elp a broken-down car has the best intentions. Women in particular are at risk for violence if they leave the car. It is better to wait for authorities inside a locked car, safe, than to take a prematurexisk. The "call for help" signs contained in the safety kits can also be handy in situations like these

Learin the ABCs

Some travelers guard against potential problems with an American Automobile Association membership. AAA's 24-hour 51 per year, AAAs 24-hour roadsideservill always that members come to their assistance AAA provides comprehensive roadside assistance, including five service calls per year five miles of free towing ( $$ 3$ per mile afterwards), free jump starts, free tire changes, free gas delivery and up to $$ 50$ of locksmith fees. A $$ 74$ Plus membership, which offers additional services, is also available.

AAA also provides their members resources for planning road trips. Personalized home-to-destination flip maps, mileage calculations, ratings and locations for food and lodging and various discounts are all benefits of the service. AAA membership can be created in a matter of minutes, over the phone with a

Those s
Those stuck on the side of the road without AAA still have help available

You can always call 911 to get assistance," said an dispatcher. Through 911 owners of side-lined cars can contact the police. What roadside assistance tools the police carry depend on the town, and insurance problems can imit the direct help police 'Car tool kits come in handy, whether on a long road trip or a short trip to the grocery store. Even if you never use the kit, it's worth the price for peace of mind."

Hilary Harned

manager of fears Auto Center can give in some areas. But the dispatcher assures that the police are an excellent resource for help, either from the police department directly or through a referral to find additional help.

If you are stranded and automobile repairs are necesary, a few simple checks can helpyouget the best deal. Cer-

Automotive Service Excellence or from the Better Busines Bureau, will helpensure you get a good price, according to Federal Trade Commission consumer pamphlets.

Making sure the owner's manual is in the car before the trip begins is also a good idea. Owner's manuals generthe have guides and tips for the care and maintenance of about something, check in the about something

The excitement of a road trip may prevent one from taking all the proper precau tions. But the extra effort problem from becoming a big one.

And don't forget to pack the common sense in the glove compartment.

GOODWILL

continued from page 12

Hackl; and 1999 Half Pipe World Champion Snowboarder Tricia Byrnes.

Gamesorganizers are also expecting big crowds to watch ski competitions at Whiteface Mountain. With athletes like Chad Fleischer, a two-time Olympian and reigning U.S. downhill champion, and veteran aerialist Eric Bergoust, a 1998 Olympic Gold medalist, the action promises to be top otch and thrilling. dangerous feature the 2000 games offer is the skeleton competition. This year will mark only the third time in 72 years that the skeleton has been on the schedule of an international, multi-sport event. Skeleton is similar to luge, except that the athlete rides the sled face down, head first and approaches speeds of up to 80 mph . Skeleton competition will take place on Van Hoevenberg track on Mt

Bangs for your buelk

If the Games are what it takes to get your winter blood pumping, you can still make reservations at a few area hotels in and around Lake Placid, but most are asking people to commit to four or fivenights. Vacancies are available at The Holiday Inn for Feb. 19 and 20 for $$ 199$ a night, and at The Ramada for 189 for the same two nights.

From town, it's about a 30 to 35 minute drive to the Olympic Center, where skating events will be held. Both Whiteface Mountain and Mt. then rest of the skig - where herest of the sking, luge, comped and snowboarding competitions will be held -

If you're looking to get way from Old Man Winter for a bit, there are a few local watering holes in town to check out. Tonya Soloski, a representative for the Lake Placid Visitors Bureau recommends Mud Puddles, on School Street, which has a dance club and a sports bar and Rumors, on Main Street, which is "more of a bar than a dance club."

And if you're interested in one of the many ski packages available, check out the Lake Placid Visitors Bureau or www.lakeplacid.com. If you don't ski but gtill want to take advantage of the winter taking a toboggan ride out taking a tobogga
"I've gone quite a few times and it's always a rush," she said
"The wind hitting your face it's an incredibly wild ride.

You canalso tour the MacKenzie-Intervale Ski Jumping Complex on White face Mountain for a great view of the Adirondack Mountains. Or take a bobsled ride with a professional brakeman down Mt. Van Hoevenberg for $$ 30$ a pop.

The Games begin Feb. 17, and tickets cost between $$ 10$ and $$ 46$ depending on the event. Fickets are availabl the Olympic Center Box fice.

The 2000 Daily Orange Travel Guide was edited by Lifestyle Editor Holly Auer and Assistant Lifestyle Editors Joy Davia and Sapna Kollali. It was designed by Design Editor Elaine Skinner with help from Tommy Fiorito. Special thanks to Photography Editor Tom Nycz, Assistant Photography Editors

Jessica Cutler and Rachael Golden, Staff Photographer Adeet Deshmukh and Art Director Neva Austrew. As always, sincere appreciation to Copy Editor Laura Prabucki and Assistant Copy Editors Brendan Dabkowski, Annemarie Bello and Ron Fooks for their tireless attention to detail.

Skeleton competitor Jimmy Shea, a Lake Flacid resident, prepares to compete in the 2000 Goodwill games.

CARDS

continued from page 5
through Europe. It just seemed more like home, she said

The ISIC can provide dis counts at home - whether home is in Londion or here in the Unit ed States. Although more dis counts exist in Western Europe than in the United States, Carter said, students traveling here con save money in about 20 cities, in cluding New York, Miami and Los Angeles.

Corcoran, like all participants in the SU semester abroad programs, received her ISIC al Programs Abroad Students al pitide the DrPA programe can outso obthin Drard thograms can office.
To apply for the card, stu dents should bring a 1 -inch by 1 inch photograph of themselves from the of their full-time status DIPA ofregistrar's office to the Kest offices, said Lucerne Van Kesteren, who processes the cards for the office, Most cards are ready within two to five days, but that time can be extended to two weeks near the end of the semester as DIPA prepares to send mester as DIPA prepares to Send stude

Students who need an ISIC in less time can obtain one at Advantage Travel irs Nettleton Commons in Syracuse. The office is tion and, as a Council Travel of fice con take photographs for an additional $$ 5$

Flash your Plastic

 With some research and the use of their international Student ldentity Card, stu dents can find substantial discounts around the world:Airfare: up to 50\% off Lodging: up to $30 \%$ off Transportation(buses, trains): up to $15 \%$ off Museums and Culture $50 \%$ off
Skiing: up to $50 \%$ off Attractions: up to 10\% off Phone calls: up to $70 \%$ of

Compiled by: Staff Writer Michele Mariani

The card is valid for up to 10 months if it is purchased in Sep tember, Carter, ofISIC, said. For example, a card purchased be tween September 1, 1999 and Au gent 31, 2000 is valid through De mber 31, 2000.
The card remains valid unti December 31 if a student gradu ates in May or August, Carter said.

People 26 or younger who are currently not encolled in col lege or are enrolled as part-time students can obtain the Interna The IYTC offers many of the same benefits and services as the ISIC. Advantage Travel issues both the ISIC and IYTC, while the DIPA affice issues only the ISIC.

BREAK

continued from page 8
But we all know that's sec ondary to the real reason we watch - to see the drunken es capades of a bunch of kids who have one motive for an entire week: to get laid - as early and often as possible and with as many partners as possible. It's kids having fun the old-fashioned way, like they did way before there was MTV. Not that I'm advocating all that premarital sex, but if it's going to happen, it may as well be broadcast into our living rooms for repeated viewing, right?

Sure, MTV Spring Break
raises our expectations of beauty, fun and ultimately, what a "typical spring break should consist complain to the sponsors. Even my own grandmother sat in awe as some blond college student poured honey all over herself last year. Spring Break 2000 will be no different - the programming is set to air starting March 24.

Like a bloody car wreck, I will be adamantly watching until the very end - it's just human nature to love this kind of stuff, whether you secretly love it or hate it. After all, when the hot sun sets and all the wasted kids pass out on the beach, it's probably a little bit of both.

EUROPE

continued from page 4
Regardless of the country, however, a very popular way to cut cost acruss Europe for many students is to stay in hostels, as opposed to inns or hotels. Donald Foley, a cus* tomer service representative asid that while hostel prices ary by country they pricer ally cost between $$ 15$ and $$ 20$ nightly.

Foley said hostels were started in Germany by a man named Richard Sherman to provide places for students to stay while traveling. Current1y, there are over 2,000 hostels in Europe that are a part of the International Youth Hostel Federation. They range from castles to dormi-tory-style ranches or even ships.

While hostels are affordable, they do not provide the amenities that a hotel might Poley said that hostels in fows ond there are have cur ty bathroome that ere usually divided by sexes are usually also not always provided and also not always provided and quired. Guest can bring their own or rent them at each hostel.

However, overall, Foley said young students used to sharing a room at college often find hostels a great way to travel and meet people.

Most people who stay in hostels could afford something else, but they like staytels tours and discounts. It's a great way to travel."

Coen, who often works in Europe as a tour guide, has stayed in many hostels and prefers them for many reasons.
"I love them because they are a great way to meet people," she said. "I'm still in con tact with many people I've met while staying in hostels over the years."

Coen said the best hostel she ever stayed in was a cas tle on the Rhine River called the Stahleck, which had a great view from hat and poople may run into prob

People may un into problems with are run independent Youth Hostel Federation.
"Because independent hostels have no stringent rules or guidelines, you never know what you are going to get," Coen said.

Many hostels require their guests to obtain a membership card before their stay According to the Eurotrip Web site, a person must get a membership card before staying in any hostels that are part of Hostelling Interna ed States you con et a ed States, you can get a card Adult cards (ages 18 to 54) 1 $$ 25$ and youth cards (under age 18) are free. Eurotrip also explains the importance of explains the importance of rail passes, which allow trav. elers unlimited travel through Europe for a set amount of days. Rail passes can be pur chased over the Internet at www.railconection.com.

Recommended guidebooks for traveling Europe on a budget include Rick Steve's Europe Through the Back Door and books in the Lonely While Let's Go series.
While there are many Ways to make travel in Europe less expensive, Coen said it is important for student travelers to cut back on costs but not experiences. costs but not experiences.
ver there, you should take in as much as possible," she said "Simply, if given the opportu nity to be in Europe, take ful advantage of everything it has to offer.

Hostels 101

Hostels, or dormitory-style housing, cater to budget travelers, especially students, worldwide.
Over 5,000 associated hostels all over the world belong to a parent organization called Hostelling International (HI). Many have restrictions such as lockouts during the day and early curfews, and you generally must be an HI member to stay, although some let you in if you pay a surcharge. You can obtain an HI membership at your local Council Travel office. Independent hostels are also run in almost every popular destination these hostels tend to have better room options and fewer or no restrictions, and prices are generally the same as HI hos tels.

Pros

- Cheap accommodations
- Facilities such as kitchens, cafeterjas, bike-rentals and facilities for travelers with special needs.
- Opportunities to socialize

Cons

- Don't expect fancy décor, room service or a TV in your room. - Most hostels are bar-racks-like facilities with rows of bunk beds. - The specific restrictions and curfews can be limiting.

2000 Winter Goodwill Games Highlights

Wednesday, Feb. 16
7 p.m.
Opening Celebration

Thursday, Feb. 17

10-11:30 a.m.
Downhill Alpine Skiing
11 a.m. - 1 p.m
Women's and Doubles Luge
1-2:30 p.m.
Women's Halfoipe
Snowboarding
8:30-11:30 p.m.
Men's and Pairs Figure Skating Technical Program ice Dance

- Rhythm Dance

Saturday, Feb. 19
10-11:30 a.m
Men's and Women's Super G
Snowboarding
10-11 a.m.
Sprint Ski Jump
11 a.m. - 12 p.m.
2-man Bobsled
1-3 p.m.
Men's and Women's Moguls Skilng
1-2:30 p.m
Men's and Women's Cross Country Skiing
Sprint Semifinals and Finals
7-9 p.m.
Men's and Women's Aerials

Sunday, Feb. 20

11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. Men's and Women's Cross Country Relay
1-3:30 p.m.
Men's and Women's Dual Moguls Skiing
2-3:30 p.m.
Ski Jumping
8:30-10:30 p.m.
Figure Skating Exhibition

Sinowed In

Lake Placid has long been thought of as a winter sports paradise. Situated in the Adirondacks and having hosted both the 1932 and 1980 Winter Olympic Games, skiers and snowboarders regularly flock to some of the tallest mountains on the East Coast.

There are more than 65 trails available to skiers and snowboarders on Whiteface Mountain and other nearby slopes. The more adventurous can try the highest vertical drop on the East Coast: New this year is the fastest gondola In North America.
Skiers and snowboarders can: also check out the powder on close-by Mt. Van Hoevenbers ortest their skills on the Mackenzlelntervale Ski Jump complex Notintothe downhillthril? Hokefacto has exceilent coos couniny sking through ycehterditondackparkithere ontotyaxotindthetatern Placidrobogat chitekento Placidrobogganchutert a Forthosewhodon'tskor snowbord" or for a break of a few hours peoplecan tour the Eake Placid Olymple Complex.
akracis

Hey, you. Yeah, you with the skis Looking to get away and hit the slopes a fow weeks further. If timed right, you can turn a four-day weekend getaway into t winter sporting extravaganza by checking out some of the world's most talented winter athletes at the 2000 Winter Goodwill Games

Dab, The inaugural The inaugura Winter Games wil Placid from Feb. 17 to 20.
Slated

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { kickoff with an }
\end{aligned}
$$ opening ceremony on Feb. 16, the games will take place in a town that's only about a three-and-a-half hour drive from Syracuse, deep in the heart of Adirondack Park. Host to both the 1932 and 1980 Winter Olympic Games, Lake Placid has a rich winter sporting heritage and boasts some of the finest winter sports facilities in the eastern United States

"A lot of cities, even in the wiater regions of the world, are venue-de; prived when it comes to winter sports," Plant in Jan 16 article in The Albany Plant, in a Jan. 16 articie in The Albany pobsed ruen or sheleton eracks in the world That's one of the things which sete Late Placid apart"

Thanles to papt
hanks to past Olympic competitions, Lake Placid has no shortage of great Winter sites. Facilities like the Olympic Center, the MacKenzie-Intervale Ski Jump Complex and the newlybuilt, refrigerated luge/bobsled/skeleton track on Mt. Van Hoevenberg provide optimum conditions for athletes and spectators alike to get the most out of the sports they love.

And with 11 different sports packed into the exhilarating four-day sched ule, the games offer something for practically every strain of winter sparts enthusiast. Sportsinciude alpine skiing, bobsled, cross country skiing, figure skating, freestyle skiing, luge, nordic combined, short track speedskating, skeleton, ski jumping and snowboarding.

Snow stars

Athletes are invited to compete in the games based on performances at world championships and other major international competitions in each sport, including the Olympic Games. ed medals for firs, athetes are anaird ed medals for first-, second and thirdplace about 500 contestants will also be com peting for $$ 647,600$ in prize

Some of these highly-touted ath
tes include: two-time European Silver Medalist Figure Skater Oksana Baiul; two-time Olympic Figure Skating Champion Katarina Witt; 1988 Olympic and U.S. National Champion Figure Skater Brian Boitano; threetime Olympic Champion Luger Georg

Take a gold medal voyage to the 2000 Winter Goodwill Games.

Iucore Gordy Shoor and Chris Thomp propan for compettif in the 1999 GoodwII Games.
?

recod RREAKING  SU beans Boston College for 17th straight victory.

See Sports.
Point of re-entry
Some students have more difficulty returning from abroad than they thought. See Lifestyle.

- Student Government

Cabinet appoints VP

BY STEPHANIE SILVER
Contributing Writer
The Student Government Association Cabinet Friday unanimously appointed Arish Gajjar as SGA vice presipublic relations. The Assembly will vote to approve the appointments today at 7 p.m. in Maxwoll Auditorium.

The 10 -member Cabinet made their decision at Faegan's Pestaurant and Pub, 734 S. Crouse Ave. The informal setting for Cabinet meetings is a new ided to im-nization and the surrounding community, said Jamal James, SGA president. James last week nominated Escobar, a freshman in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications with no prior SGA experience, for the public Gaijar, Gaijar, a sophomore economics major with three sessions of SGA experience, was selected from a pool of three appinJames, a junior musical theater major, said he stood out from the other candidates when Gajiar would yell at him if he did not return his phone calls.
"He's been there longer than me so I obviously don't have to train him or wor ry about his ability to make connections, James said. "Gajjar was also awarded the equivalent of M.V.P. in the Assembly for his work in the 43rd term."

If the Assembly approves his appointment tonight, Gajjar said he plans to meet soon with Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Council to establish an open Common ship. 'T'm going to find out what is wrong with the community and then I'm going See CABINET page 7
 Chapel for the annual Martin tuther King Jr. "I Have a Dream" week The performance attracted about 40 people.

Vigil at Hendricks Chapel concludes MLK week

BY CAROLINE CHEN  Staff Writer

Students and faculty gathered Friday night in Hendricks Chapel to reflect on the life of Dr. Martin sions of an ideal world. About 40 people attended the vigil that concluded "I Have a Dream" week.

A panel of 12 people, including Syracuse University Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, Student Government Association President Jamal James and Hendricks Chapel Dean Thomas Wolf, shared their direams of a perfect world. The audience repeated "I have a dream" after each statement.
"I imagine a world where we all celebrate our differences yet seek be one, said Jon Eisenmann, a senior studies major. Where we do not take our freedom for granted and where our leaders do not take us for granted.".

Jennifer Levine, a senior inclusive elementary education major, said she imagined a world where people could attend college regardiess of their economic status.

I want these students to be able to go all the way if they choose to," Levine said. "College is something people need if they want it.-

James, a junior musical theater major, said he envisioned a place where "we can band together to help

Shaw said he hoped for people to confront the reality of individual differences.

I imagine a world where friendship is sincere and a stranger isjust a friend you haven't met yet, " said had Jeffries, a junior biology majorThe vigil helped students understand many of today's challenges, cial work student.
"It was very reflective and spiritual, and it made you think about a lot of the things that go on in society," Wright said.

Junior broadcast journalism major Kevin Cooke said he came to show support for King's legacy.
"I think they did that nicely tonight because it was short and con cise and to the point," Cooke added. hree years ago through the efforts of three years ago through the efforts of Leveral resident advisers from ki, a senior Spanish major who helped organize this year's event.
"It's been just as good this year as it was in the past." Kotowski said. "I was hoping there would be a ot more people," said Nicholas Mena, a freshman television, radio and film major.
Mena, a contributing writer for The Daily Orange, said he came to henr the Black Celestial Choir Ensemble who performed hymns after attendance was probably due to the cold weather and the concurrent Method Man concert, Mena added.

City Affairs

Board approves Syracuse's first charter school

BY MAGIN MCKENNA  Staff Writer

Ross Whaley, president of the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, received permission last week to establish Syracuse's first charter school. The State University of New York Board of Trustees approved Tuesday Whaley's proposal to open the Central New York Charter School for Math and Science this fall. Math and Science this fall.

Lil O'Rourke, Syracuse University associate vice president of alumni relations, and former Sisting Whaley in the endeavor. The school assisting Whaley in the endeavor. The school will provide 542 students from kindergarten through sixth grade with a focused education in math and science, Whaley said.
"Science and math is on a national decline," he said. "Here's something we can do that will be a compliment to the public schools."

Whaley and his staff will begin interviewing candidates for principalship next month and are reviewing three locations for the school, he said. ment, ${ }^{\text {a for }}$ ough, Mass.
ough, Mass.
his position who is in the process of resigning his position at ESF, would not disclose the name of the locations.
Charter schools, made legal in New York state last year, are privately run institutions that receive state funding. They are open to all students and provide a free alternative to public schooling, usually offering a specific educational focus. Some schools operate on extended day and yearly schedules.

See CHARTER page 6
Police Reports:

Students receive noise citations

Staff Reports

Police cited three Syracuse University seniors with noise violations early Sunday morning, according to a police report.

Johnathon Greone, a physical education major, Patrick T. Driscoll, an electrical engineering major, and Kelly Paric, a communications graphics major, all heard two houses away, Driscoll said.

Driscoll said he arrived at their residence at 810 Livingston Ave. about 15 minutes before the police arrived. Y knew there would be some people there," Driscoll said. "It definitely cleared out right after the police came."

The residence has been cited in the past for partyrelated violations, Driscoll said.
"It's a little bit of an annoyance that the police concentrate on parties rather than other things like though it was handled fairly well"
The university increased off-campus patrolling in August under the Neigiborhood Patrol Initiative.

E A party at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, 206 Walnut Place, was broken up late Saturday

[briefs]

calendar

TODAY

■The Student Environmen. tal Action Coalition meets at 7 p.m. in the Moon Conference Cenbrary on the ESF campus.

ECusePac, Syracuse's Israel public affairs committee, meets at 7:40 p.m. in Hillel Lounge.

TUESDAY

-Modelquest hosts an open call talent search at $6: 30$ p.m. in the Clarion Hotel, I Sheraton Drive, Ithaca. For more information call 1-877-663-3587.

Wewhouse I hosts a job hunt seminar from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Room A2.

WEDNESDAY

■Dzvinia Qrlowsky shares poetry at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Au ditorium as part of the Raymond Carver Reading Series.

■UUCinemas presents "The Insider, ${ }^{\text {mat }} 8 \mathrm{pm}$. in Watson Theater. Tickets are $\$ 3$.

Whsan Wadley speaks at 1 p.m. in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapel regarding "Issues Facing Women in India at the

THURSDAY

The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spring Rush 2000 Expo at 7 p.m. in Goldstein Auditori um.

Modelquest hosts an open call talent search at 6:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn Arena-Bingham For more information call 1-877For more $663-3587$.

- The Development Office features a lecture by SU industrialdesign graduate Gianfranco Art Building, Room 121 . He will discuss the "Design of Infovation Interdisciplinary Process for Innovation Research and Concur rent Design Development."

Newhouse I presents "Writ ing for Results" from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in Room A2.

■The Everson Museum of Art presents swing musicians The Percolators from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at 401 Harrison St. Call ПUUCinemas presents "The Insider," at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets are $3.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyorengecom. ange.com.
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published
Monday through Friday during Monday through Friday during Syracuse Universiry's academic ycar is distributed on campus with the first five copies complementary and each additional copy costs $$ 1$.

Management 443.9798
Business 443-2314
$\begin{array}{rr}\text { News } & 443-2127 \\ \text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Sports } & 443-2208 \\ 443-9795\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{rr}\text { Photography } & \text { 443-9795 } \\ \text { Art } & 443-5938\end{array}$
E-mail editorialodailyorange.com

TRAC program expands Web site

BY EVANS BOSTON

Staff Writer
Syracuse University's Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse is creating a new Web site to give students a look into federal government. The Web site, dubbed FEDPROBE, is expected to be operational in February.

The site is designed to give the U.S. public a window into the rederal government, allowing access to information that was unavailable before its crewas unavailable before its creation, said David Burnham, clearinghouse co-director and a member of the S.1. Newhouse School of Public Communications research faculty.
FEDPROBE is derived from TRACFED, a Web site created by the clearinghouse and designed for the distribution of federal enforcement data to the news media.

I know a lot of people, other than people in the news media, are interested in the information posted on formation $\quad$ posted on TRACFED." said Steven

COPS

continued from page 1
night by Syracuse Police, according to a police repart.

SAE risk management chairman Brian Carter was cited for serving alcohol at a party with more than 100 people, the report said.

Carter was unable to be reached for comment.

- Syracuse resident Erik Dunn, 20, was arrested Saturday night for eriminal possession of marijuana during an Alcoholic Beverage Control check at Planet 505, 505 Westeott St, according to a police report.

Police entered the age 18 and over dinnce club to perform random D checks, the report said. An officer noticed a young man, later identfied as Dunn, put his drink down quickly, the report said.

The officer followed Drann and appraached him asking for D , the report said. Dunn told the afficer he did not have any and began to walk away. The officer then escorted Dunn outside the club, the report said

Dunn appeared uncomfortable while being interrogated by police, the report said. After repeatedly sticking his hands in his pockets and removing which he used to enter the bar, the report said

After searching Dunn, police discovered a small packet of marijuana, the report said.

The case was closed with Dunn's arrest.

Last week an SUlaw student had $$ 30$ stolen from her date planner at Planet 505. She had been playing pool with two men when her money was stolen, a report said.

Fralich, a junior psychology major who works for the clearinghouse. "I think FEDPROBE is going to be very popular."

The clearinghouse is a nationally renowned organization started at SU and known for its pursuit to release federal enforcement data.
"No other public or private agency or institution provides this type of service, said Susan Long, an Srofessor in the School of Manprofessor in the School of Management. "Clearly, federal information is of interest to all kinds of people in all sorts of areas. It is important for people to find out what is going on inside our government."

The clearinghouse provides the public with information about federal enforcement in order to determine if the government is spending our money wisely, Burnham said.
"We have a couple of indications that this can be a very powerful tool," Burnham said. tions is the fact that more than 200 news organizations already subscribe to TRACFED
Students studying public policy in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs commonly research the work of the government, said Andrew Schwab, a freshman who will declare a public policy major by the semester's end. He said the Web site would be very helpful to do research for hi classes.

The work gets tedious," he said. "The Internet becomes your best friend."

Schwab also emphasized the importance of federal record disclosure, he said.
"You've got to see how the government spends the tax money," Schwab said. "The government should discuss what's going on because we elect them to be there.

The new Web site will make TRACFED and certain federal government informa willing ta pay subserintion fee, Long said. But the fee as sociated with the site might wrongfully deter researchers.
she added.
The fee has yet to be demined, Long said.

The interworkings of our government should be available with out any cost," she said.

Long said the site was created with help from a grant given to the clearinghouse from the Rockefeller Family Founda## tion.

FFEDPROBE will be different from TRACFED. You get an account, and you will be able said.
The site is being tested before it is released to the public. Burnham said he hopes to get test reports back soon.

The clearinghouse has been an important resource to many different organizations in the past two years, Burnham said.

The clearinghouse posted a public Web site on the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms last summer. The report showed that ATF prosecutions were down during President Bill Clinton's adminis tration by more than 40 percent. A commercial later showed this report on national television, citing the clearinghouse as the information provider, Burnhamsaid.
"This year, Clinton has increased funding for the ATF," Burnham said. "I don't think that is merely a coincidence.
ment oversight," he said.
The clearinghouse has
The clearinghouse has a umber of similar public $W_{e} b$ number of similar public Web sites, he added. They give insites, he added. They give information on agencies such as Bureau.
"We get more than three million hits a year," Burnham said, "and the information we distribute has generated hundreds and hundreds of news artieles."

Burnham said that FED. PROBE will attract more users and visitors to the clearinghouse Web sites

We believe in good data," Burnham said. "I think we're beginning to gain some traction."

Internship Fair

Wednesday, February 2, 200011:00 AM - 3:30 PMGoldstein AuditoriumSchine Student Center

Companies Attending

American Cancer Society Bell AtlanticBristol-Myers Squibb CompanyCIGNA SystemsCongressman James T. WalshDeloitte & Touche LLPEastman Kodak Company ENABLEGeneral Electric CorporationJ C Penney CompanyKohl's Department StoresLockheed Martin CorporationMacy's EastMerck & Co., Inc.Microsoft CorporationObserver-DispatchPenn Traffic CompanyPhilip Morris USAPricewaterhouseCoopers, LLPRodale, Inc.Sears, Roebuck & Co.Syracuse NewspaperTarget StoresThe GapTiffany & CompanyToys "R" UsTrackMeets.comUnited WayUTC Carrier CorporationWal-Mart Stores, Inc.

NBC

Collaboratively sponsored

School of Architecture, College of Arts and Sciences, Center for Career Services, School of Education, L.C. smith College of Engineering and computer Science, College for Human Development, School of Information Studies, Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, College of Law, School of Management, Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Coltege of Nursing. School of Sacial Work, SUNY Callege of Environmental Science and Forestry. Syracuse University Internship Program. University College, College of Visual and Performing Arts

Students  BY STEFANIE KRATTER Contributing Writer  The fourth annual Share the Warmth Blanket Drive begins Tuesday. The Students University's Hendricks Chapel and the Church Worid Service and the Church Worid Service which ends Feb. 20.  The groups will collect blankets and monetary contributions in an effort to ensure a warm night's sleep to citizens of Syracuse and needy families worldwide. The service wil Work With student groups from La Comne College and Ononda ga Community Collega.

Colleen Locke, a junior broadcastjournalism major and a co-chairwoman of the event, said she expects this year's drive to be better than

GREAT GIFT IDEAS!

CALENDARS
YOUR 2000 OR ARTWORK HRE
MOUSEPADS
full Color, Fast Service, Great Ouality previous years. Last year the drive raised $$ 500$ and gathered 212 blankets, including 50 from the SU Food and Housing Zone. dents and faculty, as well as people from the community people from the community common goal, which is to give the poor people a chance to be warm," Locke said.
Although she said she is "thrilled" with last year's results, semior environmental design major Emily Borland noted that the increasing support of the surrounding community is encouraging. Borland is hopeful that this year will surpass last year's numbers, she added.
"Donating blankets may seem like a trivial concept, but you are really sharing love with people at the same time," said Borland, a

This ycar's drive will be

city blanket drive

sites off the SU campus with a drop-off site added at Kahunaville, a tropical-themed in the Carousel Center, rant in the Carousel Center, receptacles were only in the Hendricks Chapel dean's office and in Schine Student Center, she added.

Each week in February, blanket donors will be entered into a drawing for a $$ 50$ Kahunaville gift certificate. Also during the month, all donations made to Turtle Pond, a wishing fountain at Kahunaville, will benefit the drive.

Kahunaville is also offering a limited number of free appetizer and dessert coupons students in Schine. Tables will at tables in between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Feb. 8-10 and Feb. 15-17. Local hotels and motels are Local hotels and motels are Locke said. This is the first year that area hotels were asked to donate extra blan-

Direct Placement in English Universities

OXford ~LANCASTER (SCIENCES) ~LEEDS (EARTH SCIENCES)  COME TO THE INFO MEETING AT DIPA  For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or  baprucha@summon3.syr.edu    Tuesday, February 1st at 3 pm

Interested in Studying in Ireland? Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA

Monday,

 January 31st at 3pmFor further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

kets. "Every little bit makes an impact," Locke said. "It really doesn't matter how much a person contributes because the bottom line is people are still being helped.

Last Thanksgiving there was a blanket drive at SU to test student interest for the cause, Borland said. The drive collected 63 blankets.

The idea to have a blanket drive was initiated by SU alumnus Kim Wilcox. It began as just a simple gesture to help the needy, especially during Borland said. Each wear re, Borland said. Each yearrebecause of the Church World Service's assistance and other community service agencies in the Syracuse area, she said.
This year the blankets w be distributed to Central New York community service agencies including Unity Kitchen, the Migrant Farmworkers Advocacy Group and the Dorothy Day House, among others.

All the monetary contributions will be forwarded to the Church World Service, which will then be sent to assist people in places such as Mexico, East Timor and Turkey.

Whaley's charter raises questions

The old boys' network strikes again, or so it seems.

Ross Whaley, president of the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, was awarded Syracuse's first charter school over three other candidates. Giving him its stamp of approval: the SUNY Board of Trustees.

Whaley may have gotten to the head of the class on his own merits. But since SUNY still signs his paychecks, its decision to grant him this landmark approval shrouds him in suspicion.

Making matters worse, Whaley has refused to address the conflict of interest issue, and SUNY also has offered no explanation. If the decision was legitimate, what have they to hide? Refusing to speak about Whaley's ties with SUNY only make his victory more shady.

SUNY also reversed its preliminary decision to grant former Syracuse city school teacher Meg Brooks a charter for her proposed Syracuse Charter School. Brooks, who raised $$ 156,000$ and bought new furniture for the school, would have emphasized technology and foreign language for 120 students from kindergarten through third grade. Whaley's school, in contrast, will stress math and science for 542 students from kindergarten through sixth grade.

Apparently, SUNY found Whaley's curriculum more attractive than Brooks'. But as late as Jan. 14, SUNY told the Syracuse Charter School board that they were further ahead than Whaley's school, Brooks said. Brooks had every reason to believe that SUNY favored her bid, she said, and was assured her she would receive final approval, barring extraordinary circumstances.

SUNY has the right to turn down Brooks and accept Whaley. But as a public entity of great influence, it owes the public an explanation.

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Editorial Editor
Sports Editor
Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Art Director Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Edifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

Justin Silverman Ashok Selvam Holly Auer Dave Curtis Tom Nycz Neva Austrew Neva Austrew
Laura Prabucki aura Prabuck
Emily Kulkus Emily Kulkus Kate Stevenson Titfany Lankes
Joy Davia Sapna Kollali Sapna Kollali Connor Ennis
Jeff Passan Erin Boyst Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner Tito Botitita Jessica Cutier Rachael Colden Brendian Dabkowsk Annemarie Bello
Ron Fooks

The Daily Orange
January 31, 2000

Latent racism taints Hollywood film industry

Who says racial discrimination no longer exists?
ecent films aptly illustrate the opposite.
To further its mission as a movie empire,
Hollywood is generous enough to acquire talents from across the grobe. Asian direc

HENRY Y.
CHUNG tors like John Woo and actors like Jackie Chan are now making the big bucks in America. However, Hollywood takes certain privileges away from these people. For example, 20 th Century Fox recently denied John Woo's R-rated cut of Mission: Impossible 2. While blatantly disregarding the filmmaker's artistic insights, the film company demands Woo to submit a PG-13 edition so that the film can attract more adolescents this summer. That shows how little say Asian in the American filmmaking process.
the American filmmaking process.
What is more alarming is that non-Caucasian males are discouraged to perform sex scenes with males are discouraged to perform sex scenes with white female leads. Not even Denzel Washington and white female leads. Not even Denzel Washington Morgan Freeman, the two most respectable black performers in American cinema, can surpass that thin line of taboo.

In the film "The Bone Collector," Washington plays a homicide detective with an expertise in foren sics. After an accident in a tunnel, he is left quadriplegic and able only to move his head and one finger. The film suggests that a young female cop (played by Angelina Jolie) admires the detective's intelligence and passion. Because of the sensitive subject of inte racial love, the film only subtlety illustrates such admiration through Jolie's touching of Washington's only moving finger in one scene.

Similarly and ironically, in "Kiss the Girls," then is no kissing between Freeman and Ashley Judd, between the two. The theory of "non-white males cannot have sex with white females" has long been a tradition in Hollywood. Crossing the line will result in box-office disasters. For instance, in "Jungle Fever and "One Night Stand" (incidentally starring Wesley Snipes), the interracial subject matter rendered both films cinematic flops (they did not gross more than $$ 30$ million).

Asians receive even worse treatment than blacks in Hollywood. Asian actors are not entitled to having sex scenes with white actresses while Asian actresses cannot refuse having sex scenes with white actors. In movies like "The Year of the Dragon" and "Red Corner, "Chinese women serve merely as sexual play things of scumbags like Mickey Rourke and Richard has some steamy sex scenes with Woody Harrelson in has some steamy sex scenes with wood y Harre

In "Anna and the King," there is minimal ro tic connection between Chow Yun-Fat and Jodie Foster (a situation that would be altered 180 degrees if the leads were Leonardo DiCaprio and Kate Winslet). The closest to a love scene is perhaps when Yun-Fat and Foster share a moment in the garden palace after dancing a waltz. In that scene, Chow expresses his affection for Foster by offering her a ring, but the feminist politely refuses it by mentioning her love for her dead husband. Perhaps it is the refusal to have sex with the King of Siam that angered the Thai government. As a record, the movie

Is it fair that Asian males are denied the socalled "sex scene privilege" while Val Kilmer (who reputedly has bad breath) kisses and shags every white girl on screen? Is it just that Asian women are always depicted as white men's sex objects?

The premise is simple: The more of an active sex role one takes, the more power one assumes. On one hand, Hollywood ostensibly enhances its diversity by embracing non-white actors, simply because the consumer power of blacks, Asians and overseas viewer is gradually increasing. On the other hand, the industry will do anything to eradicate non-whites bargaining power by stripping their rights to an Western media, is not ready to let non-white entertainers take charge of the movie business.

By and large, the practice of interracial relationships is still narrowly, if at all, accepted in the Western eye. This reality is unfortunately yet fittingly reflected in films. It's time for Asian and black per formers to fight for their "active sex role" in movies, even if it takes courage to turn down million-dollar offers. It's okay to say "no" to a script that neglects one's dignity.

letters

Size matters not for women and men

Bravo to Kamika MeDonald for her editorial in support of full-figured women. Let's face it, the majority of women, no matter how hard they women, no matter how hard they Naomi Campbell. And why should they?

Personally, I fail to see what is so attractive about models who look like they weigh about as much as my neighbor's 6 -month -old son. I would, however, add one thing to Kamika's column, and that would be my unman. Despite what the media would have us believe, there are some very sexy men who don't quite fit into one of Leonardo Dicaprio's T-shirts. Furthermore, if I see one more movie centered around some actor who wears smaller jeans than I do I will wears puke.
have seen thin does not equal beautiful. I have seen thin, hard-bodied women who are as ugly as a mule's butt and large women who Crawford to shame.

There are certainly some lean, lovely women out there but there are just as many plus-sized hotties. I wear a size 18 but I refuse to chalk this up to some flaw on my part. I will not allow America to convince me that if I am not a size 10 or less than I must be obese and should immediately take measures to remedy the situation. There are some nice things out there for plus-sized people, but not enough. What the fashion in dustry needs to do is treat us with mer folks. That means don't make us mail order our pants or buy shirts and dresses that look suspiciously ike something our grandmothers things we are and watch your profits soar! And to all those larger than life guys and gals out there, I salute you!

Natalie Ochman

Junior,
5.1. Newhouse Schoo of Public Communications

CHARTER

continued from page 1

Whaley's school could take up to $$ 4$ million from the city's public schools each year. Students leaving public schools take a certain amount of state aid with them, said Anthony Meggesto, assistant superintendent for the Syracuse City School District. The state annually gives $$ 7,500$ to public schools for each student.

"It's going to make an impact on the programs we're going to provide," Meggesto snid. "There will be program cuts. We have such a tight budget right now we're just looking for maintenance next year. "If we have to utilize re-

VINCENT APTS.

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF sources to be more competitive, we'll do it." he said. "We have a number of math and science programs. Many of the things they talk about in charter schools we're already doing." Eight city schools operate on extended days and a longer and a longer Meggestosaid. Nextyear that number will expand to 15 schools, he said.
"We're not closing the door on these schools, " he said. "It's something that we want to share."

On the same day it approved Whaley's school, the SUNY board rejected former city school teacher Meg Brooks proposary school. The board had mentary ser apreliminary apgiven her a prehminary ap proval last year.

Proposed Syracuse Charter Schools

| School Organizer  Ross Whaley, ESF president | 542 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |

THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-0250for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com

(5) Longtey fones

- 1) HEAT included:

2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

CALLING ALL SOPHOMORES TO AIM HIGH

EXPRESS SCHOLARSHIPS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR SPRING '0O TUITION!

GUAR-ANTEED JOB!
EXCITHG CAREER?

EXCELLENT BENEFITS!
COMPETITIVE PAY'

"I was very sad and disappointed," Brooks said. "They told one of our board members at a meeting on Jan. 14 that we were further ahead than the math and science school."

The SUNY board rejected Brooks' final proposal, submitted in October, because of concerns over curriculum and fispokesperson for the SUNY board.

ELIGIBILITI:
Graduate in 2002
Pass Finess Test and Physical
Cum GPA of 2.65
Pursue One of the Foltowing Degrees:

Enginecring:
Aeronautical
Acrospace
Chemical Civil Computer
Electrical Environmental Industrial
Mechanical Nuclear

Chemistry
Cls
Computer Science
Mathematics
Physics
Forcign Area Studics

Foreign Languages

-

Why Do We Have Racism If There Are No Biological Races?

Open Forum Tuesday, February 1, 7 p.m. in The Underground, Schine Student Center

Participants include

Professors Sam Gorovitz, Bruce Hare, Daniel Holliman, Allan Mazur, Jerry Miner, Cathryn Newton, Dean Irma Almirall-Padamsee, Dean William Pollard, and Dean of Hendricks Chapel Thomas Wolfe

Hear reactions prompted by All of Us Are Related, Each of Us Is Unigue, the provocative exhibition that asserts that biological race is an illusion, on display in Schine daily, and open to all. Be sure to see it so that you might present your own reactions at the forum.

Admission free.
Sponsored by the Division of Student Affairs.

CABINET

continued from page 1
to work with our Assembly and the Council to make it better," Gajjar said. "Since rve been in SGA there's always been too much internal conflict to make any significant changes.

This term works really well together and it excites me to think of what this Assembly will accomGish, especially with Jamal."
Gajar said he plans on proposing tonight plans for a $24-h o u r$ similar study room but it is only open to architecture students, he sidi.

Escobar, a contributing writer for The Daily Orange, said he plans to increase the student body's relationship and cormmunication with the community as well as internally, by inviting speakers to meetings.
"I plan to help SGA stand out among a clutter of 8.5 by 11 flyers," he said.

James chose Escobar because of his persistent inquiries into the public relations position, James said.

- Because the position is career oriented for Edwin, he is more willing to contribute a greater amount. of energy than others in the past," James said. "I am confident that he will be able to keep the public informed as to what the SGA is up to. In the past, SGA has done things but no one knew about it.

I want

In other SGA news:

- The Cabinet is also working to pass changes within the SyraConduct. The group discussed making first time driving under the influence offenders subject to austomatic suspension from the university for up to a year.

According to statistics, DUI offenses have reached record numbers during the first half of last fall semester, James said.
"I mostly attribute this to the freshmen who have just been messing around," he said. "But there shouldn't be any objections to this proposal because driving under the uence endangers tives.
The group also addressed a lack of plowing on South Campus, Schine Student Center and a blinkSchine traffic light on East Adams Street.

Dolitical Communication in the U.K. and U.S.

Study in London, England This six-week program explores the merging worlds of consumer, political, and election campaign communications in the U.K. and the U.S. and will study the strategies and communication techniques essential for selling products and influeneing public opinion.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY

232 Bay .htate Rd., 5th Floor
Boston, MA, 62215
617/353-9888
abroad@bu.edu
in cqual opportunity, aifirmative netion institurion

Want an internship for credit this semester?

There is still time!

For further information, contact Ellie Shinherr, Syracuse University Internship Program, 113 Euclid Avenue. Phone 443-4271.

Today is the FINAL day to apply for a position at The Daily Orange, which is now conducting it's annual staff transition.

Letters of intent for the following positions must be dropped off to The D.O. office, 744 Ostrom Ave., by 5 p.m. today: News editor and assistant news editor, lifestyle editor and assistant lifestyle editor, sports editor and assistant sports editor, copy and assistant copy editor, photography and assistant photography editor, special projects editor, art director, presentation director, design editor, online editor and computer systems manager.

Please call Managing Editor Dave Levinthal at 443-9798 for more information.

8 [sports monday $]$

Boston

Despite a late BC charge, SU runs and guns down the Eagles 73-65.

BY Jeff passan

$\qquad$

Thomas leads Orange in win

Wethrarman

big east standings

| Syrause |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Seton Hal | 5-2 |  |
|  | $5 \cdot 2$ |  |
| mi |  | 12-8 |
| Connectic |  |  |
| st Virgin |  | 退 |
| 通 |  | 8 |
|  |  |  |
|  | $2 \cdot$ |  |
|  | 1-5 |  |
| Boston College |  |  |
| vidence | 16 | 8 -12 |

Red

Last year, when Syracuse prepared to host St. John's in the Carrier Dome, the then-No. 16 Orangemen were not on top of the Red Storm's agenda.

With the Syracuse game
andwiched between a SJU oversandwiched between a SJU overtime loss to perennial powerhouse with eventual national champion with eventual national champion bigger fish to fry.
behind 21 points from shooting guard Bootsy Thornton to snag a 75-70 victory under the bubble. The loss was frustrating to a Syracuse team that dabbled on the fringe between solid and mediocre basketball throughout a 21-12 season.
"It shouldn't have come down to the last few minutes," Hart said after the game. "We didn't do the things we needed to down the stretch. We played well enough to win, but they did what they to win, but they had to at the end."

Red Storm (13-5, 5-2 Big East) roll into town for SU's second consecutive Big Monday showdown on ESPN, the Orangemen rom be in a different position from last season, with a large their-chests

After ail, the No. 4 Orangemen ( $17-0,7$ - 0 ) come off an 88-74 throttling of UConn and a 73-65 victory at BC on Saturday.

Gone from the Red Storm is playmaker Ron Artest, who went or 19 in the Dome last season.

$\frac{H A I R T R E N D S}{\text { special offers }}$

727 S. Crouse Ave.
(Next to Breugger's Bagels)
476-1942

WALK-INS WELCOME

Haircut $$ 200$ off ANY Haircut or Service from $$ 13.95$ HAPRTRENDS
No appointment necessary Not valid with any other offers. Certain with any other offers. Certain Restrictions Apply Expires $2 / 22 / 00$

Highlights or Colors
Perms Perms $$ 500$ OFF ANY Hair color or Perm services from 4000
HAIRTRENDS
other offers. Certain Restrictions Apply other offers. Ce
Expires $2 / 2200$
disnuptions to business activity

Hair Products

 15\% OFF
ANY Haircare product sharmpoo

 condition ALL STYLING AIDS

Carrier Dome Concessions/Catering
Do you love...
Football?
Basketball? Lacrosse? Concerts?

If so, have we got the job for you!
Concessions positions are available immediately at the Dome. We Pay $$ 6.00$ Per Hour!
Call 443-4029 or 443-4020 or stop by the Student Office. We're located at Aisle 109 in the Carrier Dome. Enter through gates $B$ or $E$.
ear's NBA Draft and is averagng 13 points per game for the Chicago Bulls.

Couple that loss with a shoulder iniury Thornton suffered in St. John's win over Rutgers rendering him at less than 100 percent - but still in the lineup and St. John's simply isn't the same as a year ago: a team that ost to Ohi State in the Elite If of the NCAA Tournament.

If one thing continues for Syracuse thus season, though, it is every other team in the nation gunning to hand SU its first loss. BC valiantly tried Saturday but didn't own the firepower.
"They know they have to get better," head coach Jim Boeheim said. "Games like this are object lessons. And if this was an NCAA 20 team and game against a Top 20 team and we don't play better than this, were not going to

The Johnnies are led by one of the nation's top backcourts, with Thornton and point guard Erick Barkley.

The sophomore point man leads the team with 17.5 points a game and distributes 4.2 assists per game. His backcourt mate, Thornton, scores 13.5 points per game and can explode offensiveagainst Duke last season.

Forward Lavor Postell, who had 18 points off the bench in the had 18 win, returns. He averages 14.6 points and 7.7 rebounds per game.

This season, St. John's holds a win over UConn, and most of cluding a one-point loss in a rematch against the Buckeyes and an eight-point loss at Seton Hall. games re losing some tough games like last year when we lost tough games early," he told the Associated Press. "But you learn from games like this.
ing experience on another learning experience on Saturday when 73 -60 spanking at the hands of a Notre Dame team Syracuse beat 82-57 earlier in the season.
"Unfortunately for us, Notre Dame took advantage of the opportunities when they were presented whereas we didn't,"St John's head coach Mike Jarvis said. "They deserved it.

The Red Storm conJd not keep Notre Dame star Troy Mur phy in check, surrendering 30 points on 11 -for- 13 marksman ship.: The Orangemen kept Murholding the star to 22 ugly points on 6-for-17 shooting.

Jason Hart, one of SU's top defenders, is recovering from a sinus infection and played sparing ly against BC but is expected to try and clamp down on Barkley. The added bonus for SU is guard Allen Griffin's eame against the Eagles, where the ju nior made ## heim said.

Griffin realizes his position on the team and knows there's a chance he will see limited minutes against St. John's.

It's a positive effort on my part," Grifinn said, "I might not got to keep focused on everything and wait my turn."

CENTER

continued from page 8
kept the SU offense together with buckets inside and stymied $B C$ at the other end. "I was hoping Etan would foul out," Bell said. "He killed us. We were going to try to get down on him, but we didn't want to leave their shooters open too much.

Boston College played man-to-man for 40 minutes against the Orangemen, leavThomas' interior dominance. The Eagles started the game with Agbai guarding SU's primary post threat.
The freshman matched Thomas early, scoring two of BC's first three baskets and deflecting two SU shots in the game's first dozen minutes. the Bronx picked up his third the Bronx picked up his third ond half.

His fourth came less than five minutes later, and foul No. 5 disqualified Agbai with 6:53 remaining.
Thomas destroyed 6-foot-7 sophomore forward Jonathan Beerbohm

He beat the Eagle forward to a loose ball early in the game give SU a 9-6 lead it would never relinquish.

In the second half, Agbai played a mere seven minutes. Meanwhile, Thomas tallied 13 points and collected five rebounds, mostly against Beerbound

bohm.

"They had a tough time with Etan inside," SU coach Jim Boeheim said. "They just don't have a guy to play him, did a relatively good thing we Ginding him and getting him the ball." Thomas altered several shots and forced the Eagles to bomb 2 threes. On the game's first possession, Agbai tried to spin past Thomas, but the Orangemen senior swatted the shot toward midcourt.

Later in the half, Thomas blocked an Agbai jump shot, prolonging a 2:37 stretch in which BC failed to score and SU stretched its lead to 28-15.
and "We have a lot of talent, and everybody knows what it takes to win," Thomas said. well onether will step up to the plate."

The four blocks gave Thomas 58 for the season. He averages 4.1 blocks per contest, tops in the conference and fourth in America. He also sits at No. 4 in the league's career blocked shots standings, 17 blocked shots standings, 17 short of former Villanova star Jason Lawson and 49 behind all-time leader Patrick Ewing.
"Anybody coming in there to challenge him, he's going to one of the best shot-blockers one of the best shot-blockers done, he's going to be close to Patrick."

Thomas gained national notoriety last geason with his shot-blocking prowess. But Saturday's victory highlighted improvements the 6 -foot-9 senior made in his offensive attack.

Relying in part on his right-handed baby hook and a pair of dunks, Thomas canned 8 He also drilled all six

He also drilled all six of his tries from the foul line and made two second-half jumpers bow, forcing BC big men to mark him at the high post in the game's final minutes.
While his soft touch and charity stripe perfection helped against the Eagles, the assets strike more fear in the eyes of opposing coaches and might potential ## potential.

We're talking about a guy who's clearly going to be a firstround pick, BC coach Al Skinhimself stronger, he's worked on his offensive game. We had no solutions how to stop him."

Orangewomen drop close game to Mountaineers

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

While her teammates fought their way back into the came against West Virginia on Saturday afternoon, Syracuse orward Beth Record sat on th idelines and watched.

The Big East's leading scorer took a seat between Lor Trammell on the OrTrammell on the Orangewomen bench ror last four minutes.

Record re-entered or the final 45 sec onds, but her presence mad inin hiference, as West Vir ginia hung on for a 65-63 v

Although some observer vondered why the team's lead wondered why the team's lead ing scorer wasnt on the floor, Freeman had her reasons. cernan had hof reasons

We needed a greater do fensive effort and, quite frankly, she wasn't giving us that," Freeman said. "We needed more defensive pressure, and she just wasn't there defensively for us, so I had to think about who was going to help us better on the defensive end."

Record was not the only player who struggled with defense, as Syracuse failed to get a stop down the stretch. Ina stop down the stretch. Instead, the Orangewomen ( $8-9$, 1-5 Big East) committed several fouls in the closing minutes, allowing West Virginia to seal the victory

Trailing 60-53, Syracuse's Jakia Ervin launched a 3-pointer to trim the West Virginia lead to three. But the Mountaineers sunk 4 of 6 chances from the charity stripe to go ahead 64-58 with 40 seconds left.
Ervin struck again from behind the arc, making it 64 61. Record then stole the inbounds pass, and a wide-open Jaime James fired a three, but it banged off the back of the rim. The miss, for all intents and purposes, ended the Orangewomen's chances and gave West Virginia (6-13, 1-7) its first conference victory.

After dropping its last eight games, West Virginia coach Alexis Basil said her team was determined to come away with a win.
"They decided when they came into the gym," Basil said "I could tell when I walked into the locker room there was a different kind of feeling. I think they felt that, too.

While the Mountaineers exuded energy, the Orangewomen started flat. They turned the ball over on four of their first five possessions and remained scoreless until James' three at 16:18 of the first half.

West Virginia forward Stephanie Pannell sparked a 12-4 spurt, powering her way down low and giving the Mountaineers an 18-7 lead with 8:40 left in the half.

The Syracuse offense finalIy showed signs of life. Jazmine Wright drained a 3 -pointer and a mid-range jumper to start the comeback. She finished with 11 points in 34 minutes.

Shannon Perry and Ervin also proved important in the first half, slashing to the hoop for baskets as the Orangewomen went in to halftime down just 21-20.

Perry tallied a game-high 18 points and 13 boards, while Ervin scored 15 points.

The play of Wright, Perry and Ervin kept Syracuse alive, while Record and James struggled to find the bottom of the net. The two combined to go 3-for- 29 from the field. Record finished with six points, well below her average of 18.6 , and James finished with the one 3pointer.
"It's not often that you are going to find both Jaime and Beth off, but it will occur," Freeman said. "Shannon was phenomenal, but we need more. We need a better offensive effort when Jaime and Beth don't come."

Part of Record's troubles can be attributed to the defensive attack she faced. The Mountaineers constantly pressured her, and keeping Record under control was part of their game plan.
"Her name was just something we talked about the whole practice and pre-game," Basil said. "Everything that we dealt with, we knew that we had to take care of her wherever she was, inside, outside. We concentrated on staying on her.

In order to compensate for the lack of offensive production, Freeman said the defense needed to be strong. But that wasn't the case - especially in the post.

West Virginia forward Brandi Batch, who averages 10.8 points a game, helped the Mountaineers rebuild their first-half lead. The junior scored 14 of her 17 points in the second half.

Her movements were too quick for Trammell to keep up with, and she overpowered SU center Leigh Aziz. West Vir ginia continued to feed the ball into Batch, who said she let the game come to her.
"In the first half, I was trying to score," Batch said. "In the second half, I just relaxed. They passed me the ball inside more, and I shot the ball. They put it into me, and I hoped that it went in."

After two consecutive conference losses, Syracuse has plenty to work on before Tuesday's game at Villanova. The lack of scoring and the post defense are two serious weaknesses, but Freeman said she also will evaluate different options for starting lineups.
or people te got to get some other people to step up and fill in the blanks when our normal shooters aren't hitling shots," Freemansaid. "My coaching staff and I are going to have to take some chances on some people that perhaps we don't necessarily depend on, but giving them that opportunity, you never know what you can get."

BEANTOWN

continued from page 8
triple from the top of the key.
The Orangemen led 31-26 at intermission, losing the momentum they gained midway through the half.

But after back-and-forth play early in the second, Hart - who played just 12 minutes picked up his fourth foul.
In came backup point guard Allen Griffin, who after guarting at shooting guard for Starting at shooting guard for gated to Hart's backup.

Griffin said he was elated to play and it showed, as he immediately altered the game's tempo

Damone Brown ripped a ebound off a Troy Bell miss and immediately pushed it to Griffin. He found a streaking Bland for an open layup.

Half a minute later Bland stole the ball from Xavier Singletary and went the length of the court for a two-handed flush, gi
Orange a 48-40 lead. that we get up faster than them going down the court, Griffin said. Coach was like Allen and push the ball up or Allen and push the ball up, or f you've got it, push the ball up and create. Create some opportunities for everyone

Said BC coach Al Skinner
"They take advantage of the opportunities that are there If they get turnovers, they will take the ball and attack the basket. They will fast break if they get steals and blocked shots.

Thomas took care of the blocked shots, rejecting four Eagle tries. He paced SU with 22 points on 8 -for- 13 shoot ing.

It was his anchoring of the defense, though, that helped Syracuse extend its lead.
Up 52-47 after BC's Troy held BC without a field goal for the next five minutes.

Bland, the only other Orangeman in double figures, scored his 14 th point with a putback of his own missed payup.

Preston Shumpert contin ued the inside trend - SU took only 15 shots from outside the paint - with a side the paint off a Ryan smooth tip-in of Blackell miss to give the Orange a 60-47 lead.
When you're undefeated, I think you have the responsibility to come out, execute, do the things you should do, every time, every game," SU coach Jim Boeheim said. "This team has been in a position up team or two in the last 10 min one or two in the last 10 minutes about eight times this put our heads down and go to

HFMMiEMJGEGMMA MOVI: TLE:OMNAT RIL AWAY.

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

Working the hardest, Boeheim said, was Griffin. He played a season-high 28 minutes, dropping seven points and dishing out four assists.

Griffin also had three steals, the most important with 2:03 remaining. With SU leading 66-58, he snatched an inbound from Jonathan Beerbohm, allowing the Orangemen to milk about a minute off the clock and seal the win. Griffin's play earned the praise of his teammates. "He stepped up unbelievably today, Thomas said. "But we know what he can do. We see him in practice. It wasn't a big shock to us that, Oh, he can come in and play important minutes.' Without him, we don't win the game." knowing he helped keep Syra cuse undefeated. The next school record in the Orangemens sight is the lo-game winning streak achieved by Boeheim's 1978-79 squad.

It's a great situation, it's a great team to be on," Griffin said. "You can't be in any better situation. What if I were to transfer? I might be on a team that's $0-10$. I'm just happy to be here. That helps me ease my pain."

Direct Placement Meetings

Australia -Thursday, Jan. 27th Monday, Feb. 7th Thursday, Feb. 3rdIreland Monday, Jan 31 stLancaster (sciences)/Leeds (earth sciences) $\boldsymbol{\&}$ Oxford -Tuesday, Feb. 1 st\section*{E. Europe/Russia/Germany-}Wednesday, Feb. 2ndJapan/Hong Kong - Tuesday, Feb. 8th ISRAELWednesday, Feb. 9th London College of Fashion- (6:00 pm) Tuesday, Feb. 8th Wednesday, Feb. 16th

Meetings are at 3pm at DIPA

 119 Euclid Ave*Application deadline is March 10th*
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

RECORD

continued from page 16 Metallica with a slight orchestral flavor and songs thot are mostly orchestra witha little Metallica.

Songs from the first category tend to be more invigorating and energetic. After two instrumental tracks, the performance crescendos into Master of Puppets," a Metallica classic blown up into nine-and-one-half minutes of head-banging delight. Also impressive is the new version of "Fuel," which is a great improvement over the original song

However, tuncs from the second category, the ones more dominated by the symphony, help "Metallica S&M" transcend mere novelty. The orchestra, conducted by Michael Kamen, adds rich layers to Metallica's already stirring "Nothing Else Matters" and "Blecding Me. "Metallica $S & M "$ reaches its high point in the album's most somberly-paced song. "Hero of the Day," off the bandis "Load" album, works brilliantly with the new arrangement, the dramatic sweep of the original enhanced by Kamen's orchestra.

The dise also offers two arand new tracks. "Minus Human," off the second half of the album, was directly written with the orchestra in mind, and although it overwhelms the band at points in this song, the melody is so expertly arranged that one can hardly complain.

More successful is "No Leaf Clover," a better blend of the Metallica and symphonic sounds. The hook is

How wotla SOL SGORE? LSAD GMAD GFI MCAI DAI

Take a FRPE Test Drive and firnd out!

Now is your chance to take a pracuco test under reat test condions. Experience Kaplaris Test Drive and you'll receive individual feedback on your performance Don't miss this tree opponunity to find out how you would score on the real exam.

Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M.
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY Hall of Languages

Or take it online from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

1-800-KAP-TEST kaptest.com

Get away from the rush of campus and foin us for a relaxing lunch in the student dining room of the Goldstein Alumni &

Faculty Center

lumis Goldstein Alumni & Faculty Center Student Dining Room

Monday-Friday, 11:30-2:30 Supercard, Mastercard, & Visa are accepted!

$$
443-3102
$$

addictive, perfectly mixing electric guitars, heavy drums, and orchestira sweeps. Lead vocalist James Hetfield alternates fullvoiced singing with more intimate whispers as the background music grows and shrinks in volume and tempo.

The only drawback to "Metallica $S \& M^{\prime \prime}$ is its length. The first album, although it has its share of terrific songs, sometimes suffers from too-lengthy instru mental solos that sound too similar to be distinguishable Several songs carry over the eight-minute mark, and even though they are expertly arranged and performed, they can feel like a burden. Because it is more streamlined, the second dise outdoes the first in almost every way. The arrangements are leaner and more Cocused. The balance between old and new songs is much more consistent. Plus, it features two of the "Whection's best tracks "Wherever I May Roam" and For Whom the Bell Tolls. For a live album, the performances are all unexpectedly disciplined. Hetfield keeps his voice in check, keeping in balance with the new orchestral arrangements. Lars Ulrich on drums shows great skill and control throughout, especially on One," where his relentless drum roll helps propel the song into a blistering, furi ous climax.

In fact, the discipline displayed on "Metallica S&M" is even more apparent when the band lets loose during their encore performance at the end of the sec ond disc - "Battery "The band and orchestra let it all hang out, leading to an ener getic but unfocused tune

But, despite this and other occasional haws, Metallica S&M" works seamlessly. Although the double-album probably will play best to Metallica enthu siasts - obscure tunes and old favorites collected all in one place - this album has merit for anyone looking for a wholly original rock experience.
like The Verve's
"Bittersweet Symphony," only extended to epic length, "Metallica S&M" combines wo elements that don't seem ike they would work togeth $e r$, and somehow they become more than the sum of their already accomolished parts.

My Grade: A-
Chris Piazza is a freshman television, radio and film major. E-mail him at kelzeck_7@yahoo.com.

ork expericnce?
Job training?
Positions in radio?
Zs) is for you:
Expertence Avaltable in:

$2 \mathrm{R9}, \mathrm{cont}$
Computer Oper
Informational Meeting:
Monday, January 31
Hall of Languages 207
7 P.M.

- For more information call WJPZ Radia: 443-4689 or cmuil tecruituilizag, corn. - WHPZ Radio, Ine. is an equal opportunity, affirmastive action orgunization and doks statiak ase, handicap, of mexual oricniation

```
        A little reassurance for life's ups and downs.
```

To protect against AIDS and other STDs always use latex condoms.

When in Hell...

"Classic" Sleep Deprivation

by Eric Jones

Out of Town

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

Eat the Lettuce

Classic
Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words
$10 ¢$ each additional word
56 extra each bold word
$5 ¢$ extra each CAP word Charges art PERIISUE& are Castorpaty by:
Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover
Deadine: 2pm 2 tusuiness days prior to run Ads can be mailed with check to:
The Daily Orange: 744 O strom Avenu
Syracuse, NY 13210; Att Classifieds: OR
Faxed with Credit Cart to: $15-443-3689$
$\triangle \triangle A \triangle A B A M A B A$
Autos
92 SVX Subaru Awo Loaded. Snow & Regular Tres. Car Cover, Fast 57900443.9400

EMPLOYMENT

Job Opportunities

BONUSES plus guaanteed houtty rate for working atmosphere. On bus-line. Mon- Thur: 59pm. t/17-3/19. Required pleasant speaking amp Poynelle seeks counselors for comd Nonheasi PA, cvernight Jewish Federation camp A ww.pognielle. cum

WANTED
Child Care
Cicero coupla seaks tesponsible, dependabie.
oving sturgent to care for our two ctidden, aces $-1 / 2$ and 3 , approximately $12-15$ hours per week cal 698-4331 or email: caymaerninecs.con
Pobyitrer Noeded Dayime Evening and Weekent Hours Tio Girls 5, and2 Universiry Area
Wage Negoliatle $428-9813$

Help Wanted

$$ 1500$ weekty polential maiting our girculats. No Experience fequired. Free information packet. Cal 02-452-7679.
Fraternitios" Sorovities: tudent organizations eam $$ 1,000-$ 2,000$ with the muverampusturdraisercom.

Are You Connected? intermet Users Wanted $$ 350$ S600 Woek 1-500-234-4938 www.earnnownet More than just SUMMER Emplơment. Camp In the beautitud Pocono Mins Whe ara looking for poople with a dodication to chiddren, enthusiasm lor diversity, and a desire to share their passion and experisa in aly of the collowing ateas: COMPUFF
ERS. CIRCUS ARTS. BASKETBALL. MAGIC. OLLEYBALL, TENNIS. SWIMMING. SAILING. FISHING, WATER.SKIING. THEATER, DANCE, VIDEO, CREATIVE WRITING. ESL, SOCCEA. SKATEBCARDING, ROLLERBLADING, ROCK:EIFY, REWSPAPER, FINE ARTS,
CREATVE CRAFTS. MOUNTANGING, CREATVE CRAFT
Please call $1-800-399-c a M P$ Ask tor Dan or Nigol
 taundry 4日7-5761

Aoommate 715 Lancasyer $$ 225+$ Washer, Dryer, Sublat needed, 4 porson Apartment. Ackermon

Misc. Wanted WANTED: 50 Serious Peopte to toose weight. Fast. Sale, $100 \%$ Natura!, Guaranteed
$1-888-686-9767$ mww FiiNslim com

FOR RENT

t-2.3 Bedroom Apariments, Beautiful, Spacious, Ollstreer Parking. Fully Futrished, Low Uwitites, Sate, Quiet, Chose 476.0295

4 Bedrooms. OaklandSt. 1Bloek ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals, Iurnished. parking. laundry, porches, Excalent condition. August. $475-0690$

L(.)(.) K

First Week Advertised

Furnished House Livingroom Diningrm 2 Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast

Call 655-2175

for more info.

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

University Ave. Three Bedroon, Fal Close Walik to Campus furmished laumdry parking lease $$ 875.00$ to Campus funished haumdry parking phus ulities D.N.Drueker 445 -1229
Stop riean 3 bedroom apartments Firaplace:
parking, teundry, semb-fumlated, walk to SU'. mpitaicin

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTYHILL.COM

LUXURiOUS: 2story actiont Goumet kivdin.  Baih porches :  NO PETS. Negatiable leases. Can 10120924690700  pavimersity Area 2.3 Bedroom lurnished | Apartiments |
| :--- |
| Sim 668.7473 |  Five bedroom House  Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE taundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188  after 1:00 pm

I BEDROOM APARTMENTS

${ }^{621}$ Evclid Ave
871 Ackerman Ave
${ }_{115} 15$ Redified Place
1011 E. Adars St
145 Avondale Place.
Available tor 2000-2001
Parking, Fuil Time Maintenances and Management. Wall 10 Wall Carpet andor Remodeled Kitchens and Eaths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
2 bedreom Apartment right on Marshall St Fall Sernester enty ( 1 Semester) August 2000 to December 31, 2000. Great Locationl Call 637-5779. Two Bedroonn Apartments on Euclid Furnished remodeled, taundry, parking, 476-2982

| 2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS  302 Marshall St 329 Comstock Ave 604 Walnut Ave 319 Euclid Ave 145 Avondale Place  Available for 2000-2001  Fully Fumished, Laundry Parking, Fuli Time  Maintenancs and Management,  Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Fefinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths  University Area Apts  1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005  www.universityarea.com |
| :---: |
| ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS, FURNISHED, DISHWASHEF, PARKING S1TS PER MONTH 476-9933 |
|  |

Boautitul 3 Bedroon Townhouses, Walking distance to Campus: 3 Large Bedrooms, lats of distance to Campus ciosot space, $11 / 2$ Baths, Diningroon, Livingroom, Kitchen, Basement with Washaz/Dryor hookups 469-8417 or $476-4643$

University Ave Five bedroom House one block trons Marshall Streat furnished taundry parking tase $$ 1,30000$ plus utities DN.Drucker $445-1229$

Ackerman Ave. 234,5.7 bodroom apis. Fumished.
 500-501 leaso 446-7202

Appritrents cione to campus ciean $2-3$

| Threa Bedroom Apartment  Spacious three Bedrom, completely  apartment wiht porch. Living Room with fireptace, Dining toon, Kitchen and threa large parking, Laumdy facily in tuilding.  Five bedroom House  Spacious live Bedroom, cornpietaly lurrished    OISHWASHER and five large betrooms, and TWO FULL Eathrooms Off siret  garage FAEE Laundry tacility in buildang. |
| :---: |

Large Single Farnily furnished house. Parking, hreplace, tree laundry, disthwasher, mature tenants University and Comstock Very close to Campus

Acxernan Eeautilui Large Furnished Flaty Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry, Pet OK 446-3420

Apartments

Apartment ABr. 2fult bath iplace h.wood lloor .room d.room porch lree laundry avalabie Lnfer2000 walk tos. U hospitals please call 446-1951
University 233 Bectroom Townitouses & Flats nexpensive and mint condition. Washerforyer Fireplace,finished basement, Calt 449-0 109.

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

LANCASTER AVENUE
83 Bedroom Aparments
Outsianding Condition
Futilindying Condidic
Call Ams Cervini ${ }^{\circ}$
$424-0220 \times 428$
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS

2 blocks from campus. Modern 3 bedroom wartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Laundry, Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. www.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts.

479-5005

www.universityarea.com

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECHON OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES,

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHLLLCOM

Apts For Rent  3 BR Clarendon June $250 Per person umished, Laynd Parking Micro Nice places BEN TUPPER 637-0978

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.

Utilities inclucjed. Fully furnished. Rents start at $$ 275$. Fefinished hardwoo townhouses. Femodeled kitchens baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. arking. 24 hour maintenance.wwinersityarea.com University Afea Apts 479-5005

| Your off-campus |
| :---: |
| home for 2000-01 |
| Nicely furnished |
| 3 BEDROOM |
| apartments. |
| double beds |
| dishwashers |
| microwave |
| washer/dryer |
| carpeted |
| off street parking |
| owner managed |
| CALL TODAY |
| PETER 427-0052 |

Two Bedroom Abt 514 Eudid Parking Laundry
Best Location Call ${ }^{2}$ Now 445-6268 446-2602 2 Bedroom Apts 202.204 Ostromn, 105 Euclid Tarrace Large Roorrs Hantwood Floors Aval June or Aug 446-5186
Four Eiedroom on Ackerman, Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches. Off street Parking zundry Carpet, Hartwood Fibor and Gondon 47t-29se

ONEBEDROOM

APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSUNS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933.

One +2 bedroom furnished apartments. At utilities Laundry, parking, carpoting, security building. Avaiable immediatoly May ookugust $446-9598$.
$1,23,4+5$ bedroom apartnems. Fumished, at unilisies incudod, taundry. parking One block from ampus near law schoot + ESF. May + August availablaity 446-9598.

HIP HOP

ontinued from page 16

gy, Street Life, came on stage to introduce "America's Most Blunted." Emerging from backBlunted." Emerging from backstage wearing winter coats fit for an Eskimo, the duo took Goldstein for a wild walk through their respective discographies.

First up: a history lesson. Meth and "Funk-Doc", gave short renditions of classic hits from both their solo outings and a welcome reprise of the WuTang track, "M.E.T.H.O.D.

ADJUSTMENT

continued from page 16

has not been too difficult. Law, a photojournalism major, said he is accustomed to moving back and forth between cultures and spent forth between cultures and spent ast summer in Boston between Semesters abroad. Law grew up in migrants and said he grew up in m different culture not typical of American life.

Old friends

Another adjustment, Booth said, is the realization that the lives of friends who did not study abroad have continued while you were away. These same friends may not understand or be able to relate to many of the experiences you have encountered while abroad, he added.

Erica Rychwalski, a junior marketing and public relations major, said her relationships with friends that did not go abroad has changed.
"Ive seen and experienced a lot more and different things," she said. "But nothing has changed for those who stayed in Syracuse for the semester.

Although junior Deb Reitan said she cannot always relate to experiences her friends had while she was in London last semester, her friendships have not suffered.

You can always catch up with your friends," said Reitan, a hits "I'll Bee Dat!" and "Judgement Day" got everyone rapping along as one unit and even yelling "Fuck you" at Redman upon his request.

Other cuts, which got Street Life and Redman's signee, Icarus, into the fold included "Dangerous Ground" and "Suspect Chin Music." "Da Goodness" was also performed without the help of cartoon character Busta Rhymes, who appears on the tune's original version on Redman's "Doc's Da Name" album.

Finally, Redman and Method Man dipped into material from their album "Black-marketing and television, radio and film major. "When are you goagain?"

It is also hard for friends who stayed at SU last semester to listen to stories and peruse through pictures of people and events they can not relate to, oth said.
Tsai agreed.
"Theyre the ones who ask to see the pictures, she said. "But after you show them, they don't after you show them, they don't seem to have the same excitement that you have."

Students studying abroad, however, are not the only ones who experience reverse culture shock. Lawrence Mason Jr., a professor of visual and interactive communication at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, taught photography students last semester at SU's London Center

I'm not adjusting particularly well," he said.

Although this is the third con Center, getting back in the swing of things has still been difficult.

He said he was very close to the group of 13 students he taught in London, and the fact he ly basiteract with them on things more difficult. Being away from home in London helped the photography group become really close and included weekly "dining trio they ripped through a trio of platinum-coated singles "Da Rockwilder "Y. O.U.," and "Da Rockwilder." In an unprecedented move, they actualsecond time due to the electric crowd response, while Method Man crowd surfed his way to the back of the venue.

The Daily Orange

Ten minutes later, the group orchestrated an encore of sorts - Redman rapped his erse from Def Squad's cover of "Rapper's Delight" while inviting the captivated audience to their hotel after the concert. By this point in the concert, both were too stoned out of their minds to paste rhymes togeth er. Surprisingly, they did not perform "How High," their first single together.

The last time we played it, the response was bad,"
Method Man said in a pre-show interview.

For a hip-hop show, Mr. Meth and Funk-Doc were extraordinary. While some rappers are content with just standing on stage and giving exact renditions of their studio work, the wo were decidedly unpredictable. They leaped into the crowd repeatediy during the night, climbed along railings and were fondled and robbed of January 31, 2000 hungry women fans. Putting their all into the performance paid off, and some students said Meth's show was the best concert they'd seen in a while.

The duo just has that rare chemistry between them. According to Method Man, the two are a perfect match.
"We are tighter than aman who can't shit a b.b. out of his ass," he said.
That is pretty damn tight.
and it's surely the reason why and it's surely the reason why Method Man and Redman are two of hip-hop's most promising artists at the outset of the new century.
with the doc" meetings - his students would come to his flat and he would cook for them.

Leaving one of the greatest. cities in the world is another reason for making re-entry difficult, he added.

You wake up in the morning knowing that you can do or see something amazing, he said "Syracuse is just not London.

Change for Life

The first month of readjustment is the worst, with students struggling to redefine themselves in light of their abroad experiences, Booth said. The student has to reevaluate their opinions on American life after spending the semester soaking in a different culture and sometimes different language. Even in London, where many people expect society to resemble that of America, students are exposed to a totally different culture. As a result, the career and personal goals and interests of the student are often altered.

Living in London for a semester and traveling throughout Europe has instilled in Rychwalski a greater desire to experience life. This summer, Rychwalski said she is not going to stay at home and save money, but rather take an internship away from her small Massachusetts town to experience another part of the country.
changed," she said. "I just want to do and see everything. I am bored with an ordinary life.

Reitan said she also feels changed by her experiences broad, making her realize how much she enjoys traveling.
"After İ graduate, I don't want to get stuck in a nine-to-five job," she said. "I want to travel when I graduate and do a lot of other things before I settle down."

Being exposed to different opinions that contrast her American upbringing helped Sarah Blumer, a junior international relations major who studied last semester in Strausbourg, become more open to cultural differences, she said. Paul added that aside from perfecting his Spanish, his tme in Madrid made him a more relaxed individual. He also expressed an added interest in seeing more of the world, including living on the West Coast one day. Law, however, said it was not London itself that made him hange. With London serving as the "hub of Europe" and one of the world's most international cities, he said he was exposed to many different viewpoints.

London is a great place to redefine yourself," he said. "But I am not saying that is something you could not do in America.

He added that living in New York City or Los Angeles would also introduce him to a wide array of people, but London made hirn learn more about the European

vay or life.

When your mind drifts back to your past experiences abroad, how do you cope with these wist ful feelings? Booth said chatting with friends you met abroad who understand what you are going through, following current events in your host country and continuhel interests that stressful adjustment period

Another alternative is volunteering time to help international students adjust to life at $S U$, Booth added.

People reached out to you while away," he said. "Why not give something back?"

Mason, meanwhile, has his own personal approach to reliving his London experience. He bought a a cookbook from Waga-mama-a popular Japanese cafeteria-style restaurant in Lonself - and cooks pituis family. of comfort, he added.

As a photographer, I have thousands of pictures to relive the memories," he said

Blumer, too, enjoys pouring aver
"Every time I miss France, 1 out pictures from all the dif. ne of my friends who's coming out of the same culture shock as I have," she said. "It's great to share stories and reminisce together."

[C1ASSifieds] Nancy Pcek, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

Two Bedroom Apartments Furnistied, Hardwood Floors and Corpeting, Pantry, Porth, Laundry, Parking. close to Campus. Call Gordon 476-2982

One Bedroom Apartments,  some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwond floors, turnished, laundry, quiel buidding, elose to campus. 476 476-2982

Besl Alry on HatisonSI. Clean Quiet One-bedroom and siudio June tase. Futrnished Uidities included. 472-5906.
2Bedroom, 2 car garage. 125 Kensington Ft corner of Lancaster $$ 550472-2667$.

Clean quiet 2 -bedroom two blocks from SUt

 hospitals. Furnished. Al utilities paic. 472-590 June 1 lease Studio Apartmients beginning at $$ 265$ per month somee with 9 manth leas furniture, private kitchen and bath,microwave, carpeting or oakwood loors, laundry, parking. $476-2982$

Houses

Charming English Tudor House on Corristock 6 Eedrocms. Fireplace, across from Avail 5/20 475-1012, $(843) 514-3881$ 15)And Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave açace 3693
Now Renting For Fanl 2000 Large 5 bedroom house Now Renting For Fail 2000 Largg 5 bedroom house on E. Adams Sz. Newty remodeled Baihroons and 3.4,5 bedroom homes at reasonable prites, close to campus. Immaculate. updzted, conscientious landords. 682-7130

RENTYOUR OWN HOME

 FOUR OR FIV BEDROOM HOUSE GREKTPORCHES,476-9933

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709  PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.  WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Rooms

January Graduate Students 2 large bedrooms

 remaining beauiful home close to campus 682-7130Furnished room available for Spring Semester or onger. One block trom campus Parking. laundry, all utiaities induded 446 -95si SUBLET Foom in 2 person Apt available starting in Spring 2000. Furnished, carpeted, sir condision utifities, $1 / 2$ blook trom carnpus. $475-7939$

Poom in 2 person Apt available starting in Spring 2000. Furnishec. carpeted, air condition ulities. $1 / 2$ block from campus, $479-5005$

SERVICES
Travel

Spring Areak Speciats! Banamas Parry Cruise! Nights $279! Includes Meats! Awesome Beaches Nightife! Daparis From Florida! Panama City
Room Whit Kichen Nex! To Clubs, 7 Parties & Frae Drinks $$ 1291$ Oaytiona Room, With Kitchen
$$ 149!$ South Beach (Bars Ooen Until 5 am!) $$ 159$ $$ 149!$ South beach (Bars Open Unt:1 5am') $$ 159$ COcOa Aeach (Near Disney) $179)

EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT EUIOPE $$ 289$ $(14+$ taxes) TRAVEL ANYIME IN 2000:

 MexicolCanbeean $\$ 159$ (fr + taxes)CHEAP FARES WORLDWIDE! Call: $800 \cdot 326-2009$ www.aithiteh.org

the $E D G$

Nasty nails

Last year U.S. women spent more than $$ 4$ billion on artificial fingernails, and business appears to be booming right into the new century. But underneath that glossy veneer is a chaotic scene of unanswered health questions.
brutal competition and even claims of racism. At issue is a chemical called methyl methacrylate, or MMA. Millions of women who paid for acrylic nail services in recent years may have been exposed unknowingly to the chemical, which has been blamed for fungal infections. nail deformities and other problems.

Perfect pair

Monica and Barbara: together again. Monica Lewinsky will appear on the ABC daytime talk show "The View" on Feb. 22, nearly a year after her prime-time interview with Barbara Walters. Lewinsky will sit for an interview with Walters, then speak with the other cohosts. The intended topics: her role as a Jenny Craig spokeswoman and her line of handbags.

Making a mint

It probably will never replace the dollar bill. But at the very least.
the Golden coin hat makes its national debut Saturday won't be confused with the quarter, which was the unfortunate fate of its predecessor, the Susan B. Anthony dollar. The Goiden Dollar is distinguished from the quarter by its slightly targer size, smooth edges and wide border. The U.S. mint struck a deal to introduce 30 million of the coins Saturday at more than 2,900 Wal-Mart stores and Sam's Clubs nationwide. Customers will have the option of getting change in the new currency.

quote of the day:

"Courage is fear holding on a minute longer."
George S. Patton

Holly Auer
editor
443-2128
life(2daily
orange.com
 BY JOY DAVIA Asst. Lifestyle Editor

Last month, you were living life as a bonafide Londoner, munching on fish and chips, clinking pints of Guinness with triends at a neigh
Now you're back at Syracuse University, trampling through a foot of snow to enjoy some fine Kimmel cuisine.

Whether you spent the last four montiss studying bull fights in Madrid or pursuing adventures in Harare, Zimbabwe, relocating to the United States can spur sympcoms of reverse culture shock.

Reverse culture shock can be worse then the initial shock felt when first setting foot on foreign land because the latter is more expected, said Jon Booth, deputy direc tor of SUS Division of International Programs Abroad.
"You may take on some elements of the host culture," Booth said. "Some things that didn't bother you before you may find irksome when you return."

Whether you crave the wines that complemented every meal in Florence or Madrid's slower lifestyle, adusting is not without obstacles, Booth said.

For Noah Paul, a junior Spanish and marketing maor who spent last semester in Madrid, readjusting to life as a college student at SU has been a challenge.
"Life back here is tough to deal with, very depressing and much more difficult," Paul said.

SU's binge-drinking atmosphere has been tough to reacclimate to, especially since Paul has spent the last four months consuming

Returning to SU after studyng abroad is like going from one extreme to another, he added. Madrid's nightlife and "very sunny and cheery" demeanor contrast Syracuse's dreary weather and limited social scene.

Cindy Tsai, a junior marketing and advertising major who spent last semester in London, agreed. "Before I thought this campus was kind of boring" Isai said. "But after London, there really isn't anything to do here."
But after spending three sernesters in London fifth-year senior Wesley Law said readjusting to life in the United States

Metallica and full orchestra offer old tunes, new twist

Album Review: "Metallica S&M" Metallica featuring Michael Kamen and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra

Chris

Piazza

off the record

Rock music sure has changed over the last decade. Alternative rock peaked in the early '90s and basically died with an uneasy time in the an uneasy time in the where critics thought rock was dead The recent fusion of rap and rock, however, in bands such as Limp Bizkit, has brought the sound back into the mainstream.

Throughout all these changes, though, only a few bands have maintained their original hard rock sound. One of these groups is Metallica, a fearsome foursome that has never compromised their original sound - until now.
mance Metallica S&M," a live performance featuring the quartet and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, is works astonishingly well. The band's works astonishingly well. The band's sweeping, often cinematic tunes blend fawlessiy, often briliantly, with new album, a marathon clocking in at more than two hours, offers two types of tunes - songs that are mostly

See RECORD page 12

Method Man shakes up SU

BY ANDREW PARKS
Contributing Writer
"Who in here truly loves hip-hop?" shouted Wu-Tang Clan alum, Method Man, to the crowd of about 1,500 students in Syracuse University's Goldstein Auditorium on Friday night. From the looks of the seething mass of gyrating, slam-dancing, smoking fans out there, a steady helping of beats and rhymes was what they came for.

The beats first came from the turntable wizardry of DJ Scoop, a card-carrying member of New York's Hot 97, an epicenter of hip-hop radio in the country. After a session of waxing, mixing and scratching, everyone was ready for Method Man and Redman to join forces on stage.

After about twenty minutes, Meth's prodiSee HIP HOP page 15

FEBRUARY

Student's family to repay SU

JA will not actively seek students after court rush BY EMILY KULKUS Asst. News Editor

After seeing a front-page photograph in the Jan. 25 Post-Standard of his son hanging from a basketball hoop, John Pennisi decided to reimburse Syracuse University $$ 200$ for to reimburs his son John Pennisi Jr. may have in curred. sement SU receives, however, because the SU Office of Judicial Affairs said Monday it will not actively seek out students who rushed the court after SU's win last week against the University of Connecticut.

Pennisi Jr., a sophomore at Ithaca College and a Syracuse native, was one of more than 2,000 fans that rushed the Carrier Dome than 2,000 fans that rushed the Carrier Dome court on Jan. 24 after SU defeated the Uni versity of Connecticut.

Fan-incurred damages, including costs of two replaced rims and backboards, are estimated at "a few thousand dollars," said Catrick Dome.

After seeing the photograph and hearing reports of the damage on the radio, Pennisi Sr, e-mailed Campbell and said it was his sea-son-ticket holding son that appeared in the photograph, Campbell and Pennisi Jr. said. tographs to further identify fans associated with the damages, however, is up to the SU Department of Public Safety and Judicial Af fairs, Campbell said.

Judicial Affairs will only investigate submitted claims regarding the Jan. 24 game, said tor. None have yet been submitted, she said. tor. None have yet been subinited, she said. udents are we'd be happy to help him," Vacher said. "If someone would come to us with that name it would begreat."
In his e-mail to Campbelt, Pennisi Sr. did not apologize for the damages but did take See DAMAGES page 3

In preparation for the fourth annual Share the Warmth Blanket Drive, Syracuse University students Alyssia Bisol, Phill Wilson, EmIly Borland and Colleen Locke make blanket pirs to distribute on campus.

- Student Government

SGA rescinds A.S.I.A. funds

BY JOE PIRANEO
Contributing Writer
The Student Government. Association retracted funds Monday night from Asian Students in America, reprimanding the group for misusing allocated funds.

SGA's Code of Statutes states that money given to any student organization by the Assembly cannot be used for social expenses such as food and equipment. A.S.I.A., however, spent $$ 1,651.57$ for catering in the 1999 Fall Semester. The group's account balance the time was only $$ 839.25$, leaving $$ 812.32$ owed to SGA.

SGA President Jamal James said A.S.I.A. President Christine Ho and her group knew of their limitations.

Christine Ho clearly understood what she was doing when she signed Request," James said.

The expenditure request that Ho signed states that the money borrowed for social expenses would be payed back from ticket sales for the Autumn Bazaar.

The bazaar is an manual event funded by A.S.I.A. that usually attracts 200 public relations manager. Only 100 pen ple attended this year. As a result the ticket sales did not cover the social expenses incurred by the group and resulted in the violation.

In addition to repaying SGA, the group must now be placed on funding probation for six months.

This does not mean the organization will not receive funding," James said. "But the comptroller will be watching them very carefully for a while."
SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner said many times organizations do not understand the finance code and do not seek explanation.

Greiner said he is creating a liaison program between SGA and student organizations to aid in following the finance code.

Student organizations should make an effort to comprehend student government policies, James said.
in a textbook, you ask the teacher ${ }^{*}$, in a textbook, "If you don't get the finance rules, you ask us.

First Lady to speak, campaign on campus

EY SHELBY HEALY

Staff Writer
First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton will follow up last summer's listening tour with a campaign tour that will bring the New York state senatorial candidate to the Syracuse University campus next week.

Clinton will speak at noon on Feb. 9 in SU's Goldstein Auditorium regarding improvements to New York state public education. Her visit is sponsored by the College Democrats.

Cinton "We have been working with the campaign all year and they knew it was our desire to have her come to campus," College Democrats Presiter of finding the right time.*

See CLINTON page 6

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

m Modelquest hosts an open call talent search at 6:30 p.m. in the Clarion Hotel, I Sheraton tion call 1-877-663-3587.

E Newhouse I hosts a job hunt seminar from 6 to 9 p.m. in Room A2.

WEDNESDAY

- Dzvinia Qrlowsky shares poetry at $5: 45$ p.m. in Gifford Auditorium as part of the Ray. mond Carver Reading Series.
* UUCinemas presenta "The Insider" at 8 p.m. in Wat son Theater. Tickets are $$ 3$.
- Susan Wadley speaks at 1 p.m. in the Noble Room of Hendricks Chapeiregarding Issues Facing Women in India at the Millenium.

THURSDAY

- The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spring Rush 2000 Expo at 7 p.xn. in Goldstein Auditorium.

E Modelquest hoste an open call talent search at 6:30 p.m. in call talent search at Arenday Inn Arena-Bing. hamton, 2-8 Hawley St., Bing. hamton. For more information call 1-877-663-3587.

- The Development Office features a lecture by SU indus* trial design graduate Gianfranco Ziccai at p.m. in the Schatwill discuss the "Design of Innovation: Interdisciplinary Process vation: Interdisciplinary Process Concurrent Degign Develop. ment."

Newhouse I presents "Writing for Results" from 6 to 7 p.m. in Room A2.

Whe Everson Museum of Art presents swing musicians
The Percolators from $5: 30$ to $7: 30$ p.xa. at 401 Harrison St. Call 474-6064 for more information.

UU Cinemas presents "The Insider," at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets are $$ 3$.

FRIDAY

The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spring Rush 2000 Kickotat 6 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium.

The Light Work Gallery, in the Watson Theater Complex, hosts a "Visual and Performing reception from $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to $10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. For more information call Ver* non Burnett at 443-2450.

To make a contribution to campuss calendar, call the news department at 143-2127 Submissions are also accepte via e-mail at newsedailyorange.com.
[dँ̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday throush Friday during Symacue Universiry's acadernic yeas by The Daily Orange Corp. The DO five copies complementary and each additional copy costs $$ 1$.

| Managernent | $443-9798$ |
| :---: | :---: |
| Business | $443-2314$ |
| Newn | $443-2127$ |
| Lifestyle | $443-2128$ |
| Sports | $443-2208$ |
| Photography | $443-9795$ |
| Art | $443-5938$ |
| E-mail editorialedailyorange.com |  |

DAMAGES

continued from page 1
responsibility for them, Pennisi Jr. said.

He wasn"t ashamed of anything," Pennisi $j_{r}$. said. "It was out of being a true Syracuse fan."

Increased security measures to prevent people from being injured during such an incident have been discussed, Campbell said Wednesday. Campbell did not know the hescifics.

Fans did not rush the court following Monday's game when 63 to 57 . Pennisi Jr., a speech communications major who attended Monday's game, said he saw an increase in the number of security guards in and around the court.

In a letter to the editor that appeared in the Jan. 28 issue of The Daily Orange, Director of Public Safety Robert T. Robinson urged students to refrain from storming the court," nfter such an event.

Robinson could not be reached for further comment.

Campbell said Robinson's letter was appropriate and necessary, but students should be able to rush the court when an important event like the UConn game occurs, he said.

From the moment we opened up the doors everyone was sky high," Campbell said of the UConn game. "When the stars line up and it happens, it's a good way to get all of the emotion out. I just hope it isn't a trend.
"They"re a good team, they're going to win a lot of games - court rushing is for special games."

Ithaca College sophomore Joha Sigmund, who boosted Pennisi Jr. to the rim, also appears in the photograph.

I remember seeing all the people with laptops trying to close them up and get out, major. "It was a little terrifying because there were people all around me and I couldn't breathe."

At about center court Sigmund fell to the floor and was trampled but later pulled up by another student, he said.
"I would do it again," Sigmund said. "You just have to be careful."

Do you want to SAVE BIG CASH?

With this Coupon, Save $$ 5$ On Community Darkrooms SU Undergrad Semester Memberships!

Take advantage of our top of the line facilities and these great features:
Full Black & White and Color Photo Darkrooms
G3 Computer Lab with Flatbed and Slide Scanners, CD Burner, and Film Bumer - Digital Printing Facilities - Classes & Workshops

هُّ

Where it matters most.

As one of the world's leading diversified technology companies, we're breaking new ground in everything from defense and commercial electronics to aviation, to engineering and construction. As a Raytheon employee, you'll contribute to the development of exciting, revolutionary technology designed to make life better, easier and safer throughout the world. Such as our STARS air traffic control system. And our award-winning Nightsight ${ }^{\text {mo }}$ technology.

But it all starts with you. Your creativity, Your knowiedge. And enthusiasm about the future in return, we offer exceptional training and professional development opportunities. A supportive down-to-earth work emwironment. And incredible benefits including flexible schedules designed to respect your quality of life.

So you can still show off all those great qualities of yours outside of work, to0
We'll be visiting your campus soon - contact your carees placement office to schedule an interview. If you are unable to meet with us, please e-mail your resume to: resume ©rayjobs.com (ASCl text only; no attachments) or mail to: Raytheon Company, Attn: National Staffing Data Center, P.O. Box 660246, ms-201. Dallas TX 75266. U.S. citizenship may be required. We are an equal opportunity employer.

Opportunities are available for exceptional students with the following majors:

- Aeronautical Engineering
- Chemical Engineering
- Civil Engineering and

Construction Management

- Computer Engineering
- Computer Science
- Electrical Engineering
- Finance/Accounting
- Human Resources
- Mecha
- Industrial and Labor Relations - Physics
check out our website at WWY.rayjobs.com/campus for further information including a calendar of recruiting events. At Raytheon, we stive to be the employer of choice for a diverse workforce by attracting. retaining, and recognizing the most talented, resourceful and creative people.

Bringing technology to the edge

Daily Orange hires new management

BY MAGGIE MCFADDEN Contributing Writer

The Daily Orange Corp. hired a new management staff this week as part of the newspaper's annual transition process.

A selection committee, comprised of six graduating staff memjunior newspaper and political phijunor newspaper and political phiin chief position. Levinthal then hired Emily Kulkus, a sophomore newspaper major, Monday as managing editor.

As editor in chief, Levinthal will be responsible for making sure all aspects of The D.O. function properly, Levinthal said.
"Basically it is my responsibility to, metaphorically, be conduc
"I need to set ambitious goals for the paper and above all, we as a paper need to serve our readership. If we can fulfill these goals I will feel that our staff, as a whole, has been successful.

During high school, Levinthal served as editor in chief of his school's newspaper. He also spent time as a staff writer at The from 1994 to 1998, Levinthal said. Though Levinthal often Though Levinthal often spends about 60 hours a week time to participate in other activities. He serves as a lector at the Alibrandi Catholic Center. Last year, Levinthal played on the Syracuse University rugby team, he said.

Levinthal started at The D.O.
as a staff writer in August 1997 and began an assistant news editor position by that December. In February 1999, Levinthal began working as the publication's special projects editor. After four hours of interviews early last week, Levinthal was named the new editor in chief. He will replace curren Editor textual studies major.
"I love newspapering," Levinthal said. "It is the type of business in which you can come to work every day with a whole new set of challenges, and 1 could not be more enthusiastic."

Kulkus said she is just as enthusiastic to take the reins of managing editor.
"I am really excited to bring a

fresh perspective to The

Her duties include working with the staff to make all departments run efficiently, as well as "including editorial the busin

Kulk
Kulkus began her journalism carecr at The D.O. as a staff writer last fall, her freshman year. Kulkus worked as an assistant news editor before Levinthal selected her for the position, she said.
"I am very excited to work with Emily, as well as the rest of the staff," Levinthal said.

Kulkus said she foresees a career in the newspaper industry thet knew corning in to Syracuse major, however, I didn't know how or why. I just fell into it," Kulkus said. Kulkus replaces Paige Alkin, a newspaper major who graduated ing position at the Post-Standard The new management team said it is anxious to begin fulfilling its new role.

We want to make The D.O. more accessible to everyone," Kulkus said. It needs to be an inviting place for people to come work for us as well as to come talk to us."

Magin McKenna, a freshman staff writer, said she welcomes the change.
'I am looking forward to working with Dave and Emily," said uThey both have a tot of talent 10 They both have a lot of talent to share."

Spring '00 Career Fair

Thursday. February 3, 200010:30 AM - 3:30 PMGoldstein AuditoriumSchine Student Center

Companies Attending

Aerotek
Aldi Foods
American Express Financial Advisors
Anheuser-Busch, Inc.
Arthur Andersen Business Consulting AstraZeneca
BAE systems
Battalia Winston
Bell A.tlantic
Bloomingdale's
BusinessEdge Solutions
CIGNA Corporation
Clark Patterson Associates
Continental Broker-Dealer Corp.
DHL International Air Express Co.
Duncan & Miller Design
Enterprise Rent-A-Car
Federated Merchandising Group
Ferguson Enterprises
Fujitsu Nexion, Inc.
Gaylord Information Systems
Globix Corporation
Graybar
Guess, Inc.
[8M Corporation
LLX Systems

I C Penney Company
Kohl's Department Stores
Lockheed Martin Corporation
Macy's East
Mandee Shops/Annie sez
Maxim Group
Merck & Co., Inc.
Microsof Corporation
Modem Media
Mutual of Omaha
NBC
Northwestern Mutual Life
NYS Dept of Taxation & Finance
OfficeMax
Old Navy
Onsite
Penn Traffic Company
Philip Morris USA
Phillips-Van Heusen
PricewaterhouseCoopers, ILP
Prudential Individual Financial Sves
Raytheon Systems Company
Savings Bank of Utica (SBU)
Sears, Roebuck & Co.
Shaw Industries
Shawmut Design and Construction
SmithKline Beecham

Social Security Administration St Joseph's Hospital
Standard Register
Staples, Inc.
Sterns Department Store
Target Stores
TEKsystems
The Gap
The Sutherland Group
The TJX Companies, Inc.
Tickets.com
Tiffany & Company
Toys "R" Us
U. S. Navy
U. S. Peace Corps

Unisys
UTC Carrier Corporation
Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

Collaboratively sponsored by:

[^2]

[editorial] Politics fun? Bet

 your ballot on itJoe Burns and Christina Hinchey are hardly the student-striking, tear-gas dodging, anti-government rebels of the 1960s. Chancellor Shaw, do not fear: The Tolley Administration Building is safe from their wrath.

But what Burns, chairman of the College Republicans, and Hinchey, president of the College Democrats, have collectively done is inject some desperately-needed political serum into an otherwise anemic SU campus.

The likes of Pat Buchanan, William F. Buckley, Ralph Reed and Oliver North have spewed their conservative diatribe here in the past three years, thanks to the College Republicans. Quirky presidential candidates Bill Bradley and Steve Forbes have little legions of organized support here on the Hill, with members of the Bradley faction traveling this week to New Hampshire to aid campaign efforts. And now, the previously lowprofile College Demorrats have sprung from oblivion to bring First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton to SU on Feb. 9.

Politics are suddenly fun in Syracuse.
Maybe it's the natural result of a pop culture that spawned television shows like Politically Incorrect and magazines like George, where the fine line between entertainment and politics isn't blurred, it's obliterated. Be this right or wrong, students are responding to the Election 2000 campaign as a result.

So criticize not a good thing: The entertainment value of politics is creating a student electorate that is more educated about U.S. policy and government issues than it would be otherwise. Our generation doesn't have a Vietnam, a Roe v. Wade, a Martin Luther King Jr., a "cause." We're not baby boomers and hardly catch the tail end of Generation X. We don't even get a name.

But SU students are proving that war, death and disillusionment are not prerequisites for participation in the democratic process.

[ d.ö]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

ustin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

Ashok Selvarn Holly Auer Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger Tom Nycz Nova Austrow Laura Prabuck Emidy Kullius Kato Stevension Tiffary Lankes Joy Davia | Sapna Kollaif |
| :--- |
| Connor Ennis | Connor Ennis Jefi Passan

Enin Boyle Tommy Fiorito Elalne Skinner Tito Bottitta Jesesica Cutter Rachael Golden Ron Fooks

CLINTON

continued from page 1
Clinton is a strong oppor nent of sehoal vouchers, which help public school students to attend private schools, and she aublic school students and em* publes Clinton also calls for ployees. tion funding to allow schools to form student programs and scholarships.
ult should be good to get some exposure for her cam. paign," said Stephantie Sprague, a sophomore political science major. Although she is not well informed of the clinton campaign, Sprague said she thinks it will be beneficial for students to attend Clinton's speech.

College Democrats will ad erise extensively lor the free event, Hinchey said
"We are thrilled to bring such a prominent political fig ure to campus," College Democfats Vice President Anthony Quinn said. "We see this as an

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.News: news@dailyorange.com

Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com
excellent opportunity for both SU students and the Central New York community.

But notallSUstudents have the samo enthusiasm for Clinton's visit.
"You have to be wary of ber,* said Andrew Schwab, a freshman policy studies major "You don't know if she is for New York or if she is just say ing things. The only way to see if she really is good is if we put her in oifice.

Schwab added that the speech will be an opportunity for the community to consider Clinton's public education poli cies.
-Depending on when it is, I'll probably go," said Michael Cohen, a junior television, radio and film major. "I don't buy into much of her stuff.

Cliaton is expected to begin the campaign tour on Feb. 6 when she will visit State University of New York's College at Purchase.

This will be the second stop on Clinton's statewide "announcement tour." Hinchey said.
"We enthusiastically support Clinton"s Senate campaign," she said. "We think she is an extraordinary candidate."

SGA

continued from page 1
"We don't want these things to happen, but when an organization signs, they state that they understand the rales.
A.S.I.A. board members are cooperating with SGA and are working to make amends, said Fong Yen Lan, treasurer of the group.
"It's totally OK," Yen Lan said. 1 understand. We violated the rules."

Aaron Eng, A.S.I.A. Vice president, said the group will attempt to pry off the debt by cutYing funding for a Lunar New ear events in March
"It was our mistake and we deserve to be punished," Eng said.

In ofher SGA news:
James presented Arish Gajjar to the Assembly Monday as vice president of the SGA

Gajsar, a sophomore economics major, said his main lishing a 24 -hour student study area and working with the city government to remedy problems caused by the East Adams Street stoplight.

The stoplight has been scene to several car accidents in recent years.

I also feel it is important to improve contact between SU and the Syracuse community, Gailar said.

Freshman Edwin Escobar also greeted the Assembly as the new SGA public relations director.
expect to improve SGA relations with the public at large as well $8 s$ the various student organizations," Escobar said. "I want the public to know what the SGA is up to."
Escobar said that in the past, SGA has been accused of being too bureaucratic.

For an organization to thrive, it needs to establish a rapport with the public, ${ }^{n}$ Escobar said. "That's how it will be successful."

- Freshman biology major Joe Sauer joined the Assembly as a representative for The College of Arts and Sciences.
wants to sce "I want to see

I want to see people going othe Sauer more than proberoblems with security iearning problems wh securiby coming or teachers. Suler is Sauer is trying to get the Resident Hall Association to work with SGA this semester to solve campus-wide problems.
"I don"t totally know the limitations of my position." Saver said. "But I will do as much as I can."

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

Want an internship for credit this semester?

There is still time!

> For further information, contact Ellie Shinherr, Syracuse University Internship Program, 113 Euclid Avenue. Phone 443-4271.

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN E. Europe, Russia or GERMANY?

Come to the Info meeting at dipa
Wednesday, February 2nd AT 3PM

Direct Placement in English Universities

OXFORD ~ LANCASTER (SCIENCES) ~LEEDS (EARTH SCIENCES) COME TO THE INFO MEETING AT DIPA

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or
baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

Tuesday, February 1st at 3 pm

REPORT

continued from page 1 results.

Financial management includes how each city allocated its budget and whether the money went to fulfillits intended need. The financial facet of the reportaiso examined debt management and in-cestment, according to the report.

Human resources management includes workforce planning, hiring practices, employ ee reward and reprimand, em ployee turnover and trainint practices, the report said.

Leslie Carsman, a student in the masters of public administration program, worked on the project. Stie said the staff also looked for correspondence between the subjective surveys and actual documentation the city sent to the institute.
"We'd look at a budget report, for instance, and if the survey said the city did all these things with human resources and the budget didn't show it, something was wrong,

Carrier Dome Concessions/Catering

Do you love...

Football?

Basketball? Lacrosse?

 Concerts?
If so, have we got the job for you!

Concessions positions are available immediately at the Dome.

We Pay $6.00 Per Hour!

Call 443-4029 or 443-4020 or stop by the Student Office. We're located at Aisle 109 in the Carrier Dome. Enter through gates $B$ or $E$.

Take a FREE Test Drive and find out!
Now is your charce to take a practico test undor real test conditions. Experience Kaptan's Test Drive and you'll recoive indivitual leedback on your pertormance. Dont miss this tree opportunity to find oul how you would scose on the real exam

Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Hall of Languages

Or take it onllne from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com: geles, which received a $C$ in the report. She said she worked for the city government, and though she did not workin some departments the report focused on, she felt the gratie was a fair assessment of conditions in her home town.
"There were a lot of things wrong," she said. "l couldnt really argue with the grade. There's definitely a problem with potholes, taking care of buildings, etcetera. There's a lot to improve on.

The institute surveyed city officials about the quality of hardware and software used in management systems. It also looked at the programs integrated with other networks, as well as the training and cost of these systems, the report said.

The institute also looked at capital management within the cities, which deals with longterm financial planning, initial construction or purchasing justification, capital and operating budget interaction and maintenance, the report said.

Finally, the institute ex. amined the quality of the city's strategic planning, performance measurement and information, the report said.

Cutler said he handled many of Monday's phone calls to the Buffalomayor's office from medin asking for the city's reaction to the low grade.

They don't pay me enough for days like today," he said.

When looking at the report from one perspective, Cutler said, it shows that there is a serious problem with management in the city. But he added that it also shows room for improvement within the city's government.

The state of New York governmentally plays a big role in the city of Burfalo's ability to manage itself efficiently and respor.sibly," Cutler said.

Scott Phelps, press secre tary to Phoenix Mayor Skip Rimsza, cited the bipartisan structure of the city's government as the main reason for being the top-ranked city.
"Phoenix is just a very professionally run city.' Phelps said. "There's not a demucratic or re publican way to fix a pothole."

In 1993, Phoenix was named Best Fun City in the World by Germany's Bertelsmann Foundation, an honor that came with a $$ 180.000$ grant. Phelps said.
"We'rekind of used to being recognized."

Last year's project focused hot on cities, but on state governments. Alabamn received

Report

Management grades as ranked by the Government Performance Project

Anchorage
Atlanta
Austin
Baltimore
Boston
Buffalo
Chicago
Cleveland
Columbus
Dallas
Denver
Detroit
Honolulu
Houston
Indianapolls
Jacksonville
Kansas City
Long Beach Los Angeles Memphis Milwaukee Minneapolis Nashvilie
New Orleans
New Yosk City Philadelphia Phoenix
Richmond
San Antonio
San Jose
San Francisco
San Diego
Seattle
Virginia Beach
Washington, D.C.
he lowest grade in the state government analysis, Stacey said. The project prompted the state to make constisutional changes in an effort to improve their status, he said.
${ }^{\text {Concs }}$ Cases like this are excit ing to hear," he said. "They show that states are not taking the information and putting it aside, but looking at it objectively to see the areas they can really improve on.
"The report is not a fingerpointing exercise," Stace added, Its intent is to identify areas of weakness within the covernment and improve them."

POINT OF VIEW OPTICAL MARSHALL SQUARE 720 UNIVERSITY AVE UPPER LEVEL 425-0373
DR. KAREN A. WINTERS

UP TO $75.00 VALUE WITH PUCHASE OF EYEGLASS FRAME

OFFER EXPIRES 2/29/2000

the

Health 2000
The federal government last week set the first national health goals for the new century, targeting a list of persistent health problems, including obesity, inactivity, tobacco use, substance abuse and asthma. Since 1979, the government has set similar goals for each decade. Successful efforts in past decades have reduced teen pregnancy, homicides, cancer mortality, motor vehicle deaths and deaths from heart disease. However, only 60 percent of the government's set goals have been reached, and there have been troubling increases in asth ma, physical inactivith ma, physical inactivity.

Food outrage

There has been a dramatic escalation in the grocery industry's demands for slotting. or fees that food com panies pay in exchange for supermarket shelf space. Manufacturers space. Manufacturers shell out $$ 9$ billion a shell out $$ 9$ billion a year in slotting fees, representing more than half of the supermarket industry's total profits, analysts estimate. This has concemed regulators because small suppliers say they of cannot compete and pay such high prices. Critics are are also wary that shoppers are getting gouged most heavily, since slotting fees are built into prices.

Oldie but goodie
The Material Girl ... driving a Chevy to the levee? And hanging out with good old boys drinking whiskey and rye? Dance-music icon Madonna's latest career surprise will artive Wednesday, when ractio stations across the country begin playing her new song: a reworking of "American Pie," Don McLean's 837 -word. eight-minute 1971 epic of lost innocence and rock ' $n$ ' roll history. Though there are skeptics, many industry insiders predict the new dance-beat version will be a hit.

quote of the day:

The eye is the jewel of the body.
Henry David Thoreau

Contestants and viewers alike win hig with prime-time game shows.

 BY MELISSA MORGANStaff Writer

What is the latest trend to hit the prime-time television airwaves? Television game shows, and they have taken over in a big way.

Is that your final answer? Yes, Regis, it is.
how "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" has soamed in popularity. According to the Nielsen ratings for in popularity, According to the Nielsen ratings for the week of Jan. 17 to 23 , the popular quiz show ranked number one, two and three in the ratings charts. The Jan. 12 airing brought the highest rat ings ever for the series and the highest for any show during the whole 1999-2000 season.
With the dominance of "... Millionaire," other major networks have spawned their own versions of prime-time game shows - "Greed" on Fox, "Winning Lines" on CBSand wwenty ane sit coms have been pushed aming contestants. Thourh rame shows in prime-time may for Generation $X$, said Robert Thompson, a television, radio and film professor and the head of Syra. cuse University's Center for the Study of Popular Television, but they are not a new trend in prime. time television.
said "The miracle isn't that they are so popular," he said. "The miracle is how long they took to come Gam

Game shows peaked in the 1950 s, with 22 shows See GAME SHOWS page 11

Students campaign for N.H. primary

GY ASHOK SELVAM  \section*{ditorial Editor}

MANCHESTER, N.H. - The 1996 presidential election turnout for voters aged 18 to 24 sunk to an all-time low, but cated students are trying to solve this problem.
The bustling atmosphere of the days prior to the Feb. 1 New Hampshire presidential primary draws both college and high school students to the campaign train. e signs to peaceful, bow-tied high school Republicans, students are out and about this week.

The red, white and blue jackets of the nationwide Citizens fotings and debates, shadowing all seven presidential candidates. Although CSE does not endorse a single candidate, it belíeves Americans can better mak a choice through their efforts.
arket economy groal is to encourage a free awareness. The group targets teenagers, saying they are the country's most precious resource. Bombarding candidates with economic-based questions will ensure American citizens a president who will live up to their trust, according to campaign literature.
ow up in packs, all outfitted with. They show up in packs, all outfitted with their aforementioned jackets. They silently a candidate is finished with their speech, one or two members may ask a question.

Ozone Action and the Campus Green Team do business in a slightly different manner.
Both groups came armed with loud battle cries, signs and costumes for presidential candidate Sen. John McCains ar ham, N.H on Saturam
Members of the Ozone Action were dressed in pink spandex pants with purple underpants. Some even wore purple masks over their eyes and brown capes, which they said represents an environmental su-per-hero.
Amy Livingepare the costumes ourselves, Amy Livingston, a field coordinator, said. it helps get students excited.

Warming up

Global Warming is the burning issue outfitted with a two-foot-tall cylinder-

See CAMPAIGN page 10

Super Bowl highlighted by clever ads, cold pizza

By the time our $$ 15.95$ Cosmos cheese pizza and Buffalo wings special arrived at our little super Bowl gettogether - two hours late and in a Pete cold and Beisser mangled state media of the freak biggest sporting eventin the new millennium, thus far, had already settled down. Attentions had already begun to wander, and the fates of the Titans and the Rams really didn't seem as crucial for some as the home work and readings for that work and readings for th 8:30 a.m. Monday class.
a.m. Monday class.
For those of you who feel asleep listening to that Disney halftime show, Kurt Warner and the rest of the Rams would go on to win the game 23-16 in one of the biggest Cinderella stories in FFL history.
With a few exceptions, this year's Super Bowl, the 34th annual battie between the NFC and AFC, lagged With those of the past in Entertainment value. Sure, tion of the national anthem and the game was pretty close toward the end, but did you notice how lousy the advertisements were this year?

With the exception of the e-trade ads (the monkey and the freaks in the garage was genius) and the sneak peek at "Mission to Mars" and Gladiator," two cool summer movies that looked cool. But there wasn't that much that jumped out to impress those who get more excited when the action ends.

No cute animals or babies selling booze this year. The biggest advertising day of the year wasn't that day of the year wasn memorable after all. Actually, all I really rememswear, he was in almost every commercial. Enough is enough - I don't want to be a millionaire anymore!

But for most couch potatoes, it's the game that matters most in the end not the ads. The Super Bowl is watched by more people than even organized religion draws in - it is our nation's obsession. The NFL has replaced organized religion as the reason why most Americans believe that God rested on that seventh day. I you don't believe me, go ask ne of those cheese heads in their church

Although it never fails
A every TV is tuned in to the action annually, the Super Bowl - the most holy event in America -has become just as monotonous as standing through a crowd ed Sunday mass.

Viewers are forced to endure the six-hour pre-game show, the dragged out introductions and coin toss and show that no one ever watch show that no one ever watch-junk sprinkled in to cover the quality of two great teams playing a game in which on Willor while the the absolute utter defeat. Hearts do break at the end of the game at the end of McNair's being helped up off the turf by coach Jeff Fischer wasn't scripted, that was life.

In the end, the Super Bowl is a nice excuse to get friends together, talk about old sports memories and to eat large amounts of unhealthy food - even if it does arrive by the time you're ready for bed.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major. E-mail him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.

CAMPAIGN

continued from page 9 shaped hat that looked like a factory smokestack. The were written on the smokestack in black marker.

The two groups quieted down once McGain took the down once McCain took the stage. They chose a sole representative to question the senator and peacefuliy disover.

McCain even praised the ## group

I complement you on the passion and dedication you have in regard to this issue," McCain said. "It's obvious that you deeply care about this cause."
The Green Team paid a isit to Gary Bauer's camp prior to McCain's speech and was en route to Gov. George W. Bush's appearance alongside country singer Travis Tritt.

Volunteers are often the lifeblood of political campaigns, and offer students prime opp Eis.
Eighteen-year-old Ruth McDonald volunteers for Democratic candidate Bill ternoon she made an appear ance outside of one of Mc Cain's town hall meetings equipped with a large, white cardboard sign reading "Meet Ernestine Bradley.

McDonald graduated from high school in Washington, D.C. last May and is curton, D.C. last May and is cur been on board Bradley's campaign for two weeks and plans to enroll in college this fall.
"I get to work visibility from 7 to 9 a.m., which is walking with signs on the road and getting cars to honk their horns," McDonald said.

She credits her family and living in Washington's wild political climate for cultivating her political interests. Even high schoolers are in on the action

At McCain's Friday town meeting, high school senior Cliff Olsen offered his kind "You've to McCain.

Y me," said OIsel
vated me," said Olsen
High Sen atcends Exeter He said that beter, N.H. visited he hadn't yet made up his mind about which candidate to support.
"Our school tries to keep us informed," he said. "We even discussed the candidates for a whole math class, and he teacher didn't even take part in it. the town meeting a Republican recruiter ap proached Olsen. Olsen said cecruitment is one way the GOP can improve relations with young people.
Even "Seventeen" magazine sent three young reporters out to help their tee-ny-bopper clientele sort out their three reporters will be worling on anorters will menting teenage which will appear in The Philadelphia appearer in Weiphia inquirer
While students may not e as active as the long haired, hippie youth of the 60s, they're not exactly slackers.

Ithink it's important that we get the word out," Livngston said. "It's our respon sibility, after all.

The Daily Orange

are jumping up and down, winning money and acting crazy. My earliest television memories are watching game shows."

Not only does Farncini enjoy watching game shows, but he has also made an effort to keep it as his greatest hobby. He has a collection of more than 400 tapes of game shows, including more than 3,000 episodes. He also atcends and hosts game show conventions where junkies gear to meet friends, play games and watch classic shows.
"The Price is Right' is my favorite game show, who goes there is a total diehard. I've been in the audience five or six times.

Farncini has also been in the audience of "... Millionaire." He is a fan of the show and also believes that it works because it is so simple. He also said that a great thing about game shows is that the audience can relate to the contestants.

Game show contestants come from all walks of life," he said. "You can root for a 300-pound baker from rural Pennsylvania. These are not all attractive actors that are mas."

Farncini believes that sitcoms are currently on the downswing because viewers begin to get bored with the same prime-time format.

Thompson agreed.
"Game shows are not original, but for most of America, they are something different," he said.
Lights, camera, action
While Thompson doesn believe that the rise of primetime game shows will autamatically signal the death of the sitcom, he believes that most of the prime-time game shows have the potential to be around for a while.

Though all of the networks quickly came up with their own versions of prime sume sitcoms, banking on the Thompson said that over-sat Thompson said that over-satdem. While all of the other game shows have fairly decent ratings, Thompson sugcent ratings, Thompson sugg and possibly "Greed" are the ones viewers can count on to be around for a while.
More importantly, Thompson said that the cur rent game show craze signals

$y^{4} 3^{3}$
$y^{2}$

February 1, 2000

much more than just a change in prime-time format -it has changed the way America watches television.
"Just when we thought (audience fragmentation) was over, this one game show brought usback to the mid dle of the 20 th century, he dle of the 20 th century," he said.

Farncini calls"... Millionaire every day trying to reserve himself a spot in the serve himself a spot in the winner's circle. However, he wincers circle. However, said his love of game shows said his love of game shows will probably outlive the cur rent prime-time trend.
"When I was a kid, it was all about the set and tho lights," he said. "Now, iust want to find people I can roou for and questions I can answer. If a show has that, I am hooked."

|  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |
|  |  | CARossiock |
| ${ }^{\text {OPPY }}$ |  | 두룰 |
| nters | 472-054 | - | Open Minds open Doors Hopera

House.
Become a part of a dynamic company voted as one of the top 100 employers by Fortune magazine. We offer a creative and enthusiastic work environment hat empowers you to contribute in building a successful business. We currently have the foliowing opportunities avaitable at our Syracuse University location: Syracuse University location:

HOLRLY PARTNERS
SHIFT SUPERVISORS
HIFING FAIR
APPLY IN PERSON

| HIFINE FAIR APPLY IN PERSON |  |
| :---: | :---: |
| Wednesday, February $2^{\text {mo }}$ Thursday, February $3^{\text {rt }}$ Friday, February $4^{1 \text { m }}$ 12pm-8pm |  |
| Sheraton University Hilton 801 University Ave., Syracuse |  |

Get your rail prass from Prism Travelt student id carde avaliable.

For a free, full-color poster (18" x 24"), write:AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany, N.Y. 12220

N.Y.S. Health Department

WRITE

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

> Here's what some of our hundreds of SU laundry customers have said about us:
"Awesome! You don't understand how much easier it makes my life!" -Anne Dandridge SU Sophomore
"Ir's unbelievable! A machine must fold!" -Topping Bowers SU Sophomore
*You guys are Great! My towels and sheats come back very soft and smell great."
-Todd Brodsky, SU Freshman
"Just like Mom"
-Jason Serapigita SU Sophomore
"excellent...completely accommodating to any special need / have"
-Lindsay Rowan SU Junior
"Awesome...my ciothes have never been cleaner'
-Matt Heering SU Sophomore "Very Reliable. I can trust you with any of my clothes!'

Brian Sigman, SU Sophomore

For MANAGEMENT opportunities, please send/ fax resume to: Starbucks Coffee Company, Attin: Recruiter, Dept. SHF, 439 Main St., Rochester, MI 48307 or FAX (248) 634-0181. E-mail: midwestjobsङstarbucks.com

for just $129 a semester!

get your laundry done  PROFESSIONALLY

www-starbucks-com

Laundry & S tor a ge always picked up and delivered.

- 426.9523

HART

continued from page 16
Johnnies' offense like a veteran, swinging the ball around the are and finding the open man. But the scrapping for hung ralls and hitting key free throws. 18 of of fied

SU buried 18 of 25 frec Red Storm hit just 2 of 9

Center Etan Thomas, held in check for most of the game by beefy Anthony Glover, hit all six of his free throws to keep the Orangemen close.
"I knew I wasn't able to get it going offensively," Thomas said. "When I was on the freethrow line, I knew those were $\qquad$ The Orangemen needed

The Daily Orang

every point they could get. SU shot a pitiful 38.5 percent from the field in the first half - 25 percent excluding the 6 -for-13 on 3 -pointers. The squad fared a little better in the second half, connecting on 9 of 21 shots ( 42.9 percent).
onch Jim Boeheim said stemmod from the Syracuse's imability to feed the ball into Thomas.
Enaith Glover and Donald Emanuel grabbing the 6-foot-9 center's jersey, Thomas could not establish inside position. If he did muscle up against the Johnnies' center, a wing man would drop back and double-team Thomas, forcing him to kick the hall outside to kick the ball outside. Boeheirn said, because stopping

Thomas will be central to Big East opponents' game plans. "We're going to see that," Boeheim said, "and we've got more than enough weapons to In the

In the first half, SU used its 3-pointers. After scoring their first six points on two jumpers and two llart free throws, the Orangemen went on a long-distance barrage.

Ryan Blackwell dropped a three from the left wing and Hart followed with a triple of his own.

SJU countered with buckets by Reggie Jessie and Barkley, but the Orangemen poured in four more 3-balls.

Sophomore Preston Shumpert and freshman Deand Shumpert's with $5: 18$ left in he first half gave SU a 24-21 ead.

Backdoor cuts into the eart of SU's zone killed the Orangemen early, as Barkle Orangemen early, as Barkley hit two layups late in hed firs

SU, however, remained confident. The halimark of an undefeated team, Thomas said is the aura accompanied with winning.

This team knows what it takes to win," said Thomas, who scored eight points and grabbed 11 rebounds. "We come together and in the end, we pull it out. "It was something that we couldn't do last year. It would be a close game, and we wo

Hart's presence keyed th Orangemen's win, Boeheim said. Slowed by a cold at Boston College on Saturday, he proved a non-factor against the Eagles, logging just 12 minutes. But Hart played 36 min . utes Monday, scoring a teamhigh 12 points (along with Brown and Willians) and dishing out five assists with just one turnover.

As time expized and $S U$ walked off the court, a cameraman approached Hart. He put his index finger and thumb together, making azero-and signifying to ESPN's national audience how many losses this Orange team has.
"It's going to be on anybody's mind," Hart said of the undefeated streak. "But I waited until the clock said o.0. I When it was 0.0 , we still had a zero in the loss column."

DISMAL

continued from page 16 mal 19 percent from beyond the arc in a 65-63 loss to a West Virginia team that entered the skid. The Orangewomen will look improve on their poor shoot ing performance when they trav el to the City of Brotherly Love today to take on Villanova at 7:30 p.m. in The Pavilion.

Frustration looms in the Orangewomen camp after the Lady Mountaineers dealt them a Lady Mountainee devastating loss.

"There were a couple of times the ball was passed into the interior and we missed easy layups," head coach Marianna Freeman said. "Those types of things, when the game is on line if you get a high percentage shot, the shot has to go down. That didn't happen for us (Saturday)."
had an off ics show Syracuse

Virginia, which included only five points in the first 10 minfive points in

Last year's Orangewomen squad broke the school record for 3-pointers in one season, amassing 109. Current starters James and Record accounted for 103 of those treys.

Ironically, it was the same dangerous duo that struggled the most against the Mountaineers, combining for an eyeopening 3 -of-29 shooting performance. Worse yet, James and Record connected on only one three all day in 19 attempts. James' woeful night includ ed 1 -of-13 shooting from down own and 1 -of- 16 shooting over from the floor. After ex eling behind the arc last sea chool including breaking the chool record for 3-point field ent average - poor shootin has left the sophomore guard has lerated.

Freeman said she believes that the frustration can be

One World Celebration 2000 February 2-12

- Grand opening ceremony at Hendricks Chapel, Feb. $2^{\text {nd }}$ (Wednesday) 5-6pm:

Drumming, welcome, music, candlelighting Chancellor Shaw proclamation Marshall Segall "All Of Us Are Related, Each Of Us Is Unique"

- A variety of celebration events, displays, films: Sponsored by both academic departments and student groups!

- International Menus at Schine Dining

- Visiting speakers, including Paul Stubbs of Croatia: "International Organizations and Transcultural Tangles: some thoughts from post Yugoslav countries"
- International dinner & dance parties, Feb. 11 & 12!

Initiated by

 Phi Beta Delta> Go to our webpage for details on the many great events planned!
> http://cstl.syr.edu/oneworld/

Hasa Basa

by Devin Clark

Area 52

Never Odd or Even
by Sam Baker

by Tim Dose things that sount like inseases
$# 3$

Oh My Gawd

by Jaci Price

So This Is Life ...

by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

The Dally Orange
$\square$

Rehabilitating Mr. Wrgsies

by Neil Swaab

Get 'Cuse To Rabbi
by Damon Amendolara

$18-0$

Thank you,
Syracuse Basketball.

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 ¢$ each additional word $5 $$ extra each bold word $5 c$ extra each CAP word Chargas are PEFI ISSUE $&$ are Pre-paid by:
Cash Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadinine: 2pm 2 business days prion to fun
ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE ! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 7440 strom Avenue: Syracuse $N Y$ 13210: Aft Classifieds;
Faxed with Crecit Card $10: 315-443 \cdot 3689$

EMPLOYMENT

 Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in wnw inetarestamp. corm

Job Opportunities

BONUEES plus guaranteed houry rata br
Syracusa Stage
Angel Appeal Campaign." Nice

WANTED

Child Care
Babyiter Meeded Dayime Evening and Weekend Howis Tima Girls 5.ance Univerity Acea Wage Nesoctiabe 428. geq13

Cicero capple seeks responsitio. dependable.

Help Wanted

More than Husl Summer Enplorment. Camp counselis neeced lor a prrate, residenial cantp in the beazidu focono tins when enthusiasm tor divectsity and a dessio 10 share their passion and VOLLEYGAL, TENNIS, SWMMMNG, SAILING
FISHHG, WATEA-SKING, THEATER, DANE VIOEO, CREATIVE WRITING. ESLL SOCCEA COOKING, RADIO. ROCK MUSIC. GOEF SKATEBOARDNG. MOLLEABLADNG. HOCK. ETAY MEWSPPAEA, FINE AATS climeng wall
, Are tou Comected? internet Users Wanted! $$ 350$ - 5800 Week 1-800-234-4939 wwwearnnow.net
$$ 1500$ weekly potential mailing our circulars. No Expenienca Re

Fraternites' Sororibes Clubs St

Sturent orgunizaions earn $$ 1,000-$ 2.000$ with the easy carporstind draiser.com tivee hour fundraising evenl No sales required. Fundraising dales are esmpuslundraiser.com. (88Blat $923-3238$, or visit unw.campustuncraiser.com.

Roommates

Rocammate wanted to share 3 targ* bedroom

 pparturent closelaundry 407.5761
Roommate 715 Lancastier $$ 2225+$ Washit, Oryes. Semifum, 3 blocks to campus 263-0613
Sublet neadad, 4 person Apartment. Ackerman
Ave. 4 blods 10 campus can Pote $4 z$. Rve. 4 blods to carmpus call Pete, 423-9025.

Misc. Wanted
WANTED: 50 Serious Peopla to loosa weight.

FOR RENT

Five bedroom House

Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living front and rear wireplace. Eat-in Koom with Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and Kive large bedrooms, and TWO parking with garage. FREE Laundry facijity in building.
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Apartments close to campus clean 2.3-5 bedrooms some with fireplace hayndry parking semiturnished reasonable price $487-5761$. 2 bediom Apartirent rigition Marshall 5: Fill

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM

 APARTMENTS 476-9933

Luxumious: 2siary aptivit. Gourmel kitdin,

MO PETSS: Negoiable leases.
Cail ber appl $469-0780$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM PARTMENTS AND 4,5,6, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. EIf/APTs Homes & Town Housea
Everything you want and mora for your bucks
MOST INCLUDING

- Security Systern with- Deax 3olt Locks - Pricess Ranging from $$ 225-$ 375 /$ month
-Romodeled Full Custom Kitcher/Bath
Kitchons incluco: Gourmel Seli-claaning ovars, Wali to Wa Carpets a Padding (like homo) - Laundry Fer ilites on Promisots
- On-street Parking

Snow & Lawn htaintenance

- Super Insulated (means low utili as) Some Apts. inclurde All Ulilities er cumished Sueh as * Comstocic, Ostrum, Ha-rison, Madison Westeot, Clarendon, Ackorman, Livingston, Lancastar

CALL 478-6504
on check out your home away from homet OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICE

| 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS  621 Euclid Ave  871 Ackerman Ave 917 Ackerman Ave  115 Fedfied Piace  1011 E. Actams St  Avaliable for $2000 \cdot 2001$  Fully Furnished, Laundry  Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet andfor  Werinished Harctwod Flons  Remodeled Kithens and Baths  University Area Apts  1011 E. Adarms St \#30 479-5005  www.universityarea.com |
| :---: |

Large Single Famity furnished house. Panking, fireptate, Ifee laundty, dishwasher, mature tenants bireptate, E82.3304

4Bedrooms, OaklandSL. 1Block ESF, 3Blocks Law+ Hospitats, turnished, panking, laundry, porches, Excellent condith, Angust, $475-0690$ FOUR 日EDROOM-EDGE OF CAMPUS

Adkerman Beautiful Larye Fumished Flats Fiieplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK. 446-3420

|  |
| :---: |

$\overline{\text { University and Comstock Very close to Campus }}$ Etticiencies and Two Bediocrns Securg bddg. Includes Ail Uaifies 445-1229 Dit.Drucker Lid.
Universiy Area 2.3 Boctoom funished
Apartments single Houses tor rent. Call
Jim 668.7473
Beautitul 3 Bedroom Townhousces. Wailking
Beautitud 3 Bedroom Towinouscs, Waiking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms, closet space, $1 / 1 / 2$ Bairs. Diringroom, Livingroorn.
Kithen, Basement with Wrasher/Dryer hookups, OH Street Parking with Gage AMusy See! 469.8417 or $476 \cdot 9643$

First Week Acvertised Lancaster Ave. Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom
Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details

| 2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS |
| :---: |
| 302 Marshall St 329 Comstock Ave 604 Wahut Ave 319 Eucird Ave 145 Avordale Place |
| Available tor 2000-2004  Fully Fumished, Laurndry Parking, Fuli Time Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet andlor Refinished Hand Wood Floors Femodeled Kitcherss and Baths |
| University Area Apis 1011 E.Adams St. 130 479-5005 www.universityarea.com |

Adxerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apts. Furnished. carpeled walk lo carnpus Well maintained.
$5100-501$ lease $46-7202$
1-2.3 Bedroom Apartments, Baautifu, Spacious Stistreet Parikng, Fully Fy
Two Bedroom Apertimentis on Euclid Fumished,

Stop clonn 3 bedroom aparments Fireplace pow price 433 40itic.

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |

Best Buy on HanisonSt Clean Quiet. Uuikies incurn and siudio uno iesse. Furnished.

| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT |
| :---: |

Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distnnee S.U. off street pationg Laundry Call 422 -7305.
FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking,
Laundry, Carpet, ardwood Floo
476-2982

| LOOX AT THIS!  Three Bodiroom Apartment  spacious threa Bedroom, completely lurnished  aporment with porch. Living Room with fireptace. Dining room. Kithen and thee hige becroons, and gath. Otf streat, garage pasking Laurdry lacility in bullding.  Five bedroom House  Spacious five Bedioom. completary turnishad  House wint ront and rear porches. Livima Foom with firepiace. Eatin kathen W/' DISHWASHER and Five largo bedronis. and TWO FULL Bathrocms OH Street parking mith gamge, FAEE Laundry taciity in building CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 prn |
| :---: |
|  |  |

Apartments

 One and Two BedroomFurnished Aparments. Comer of Walnut and Furnished Apartments. Comer of Walnul and Harrison Avenues. Leases Commence Juna 2000. Last Month and Secturiy. No Fets Allowed.
Gratuates Prelerred Cail 422 - 7755
Four Badroom on Aekerman, Furnished, Farking.
Dishwasher. Two Porches, Of Laundry Carpet. Hardor
Cull $\mathrm{Gordon} 476-2982$
Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Waking distance
S.U. oft street parking. Laundry Cal $422 \cdot 7305$.

Studio Apartments beginning at $265 peril month some with 9 monih leases, with vulties, month some wint Purniture privata kitchen andt tath

microwave, cantetin 2Bedroom. 2 car garage. 125 Kensington Rd.
cotner ol tancastar $5550472-2667$.

| ************************* |
| :---: |
| Studio, One and Two |
| Bedroom Apts. Close |
| to Campus. Laund ry, |
| Parking, Lease, |
| Heated |
| $440-6200$ |
| $437-7577$ |

Two Bedroom Apartments
With utilities incladed, Fireplace,
Furnished, Hasdwovd Floors ands
Carpeting, Pantry, Porth, Lưurdry, Park
close to Campus. Call Gortion 476-2982

ONE BEDROOM
APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE. SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREA
LOCATION 476-9933.

One Bedroom Apartments,

 some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, harcwood floors, fumished,laundry, quiet building, close to campus, laundry, quiet building, close to campus.
utilities included,

476-2982

University 283 Bedroom TownHouses $&$ Flats inexpensive and mint condivion, Washeroryer. Fireplace, firished basement, Call 449-0109. 2 Bedroon Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Aooms Hardwood Floors Avail June Terrace Lange Ro
or Aug 446.5186
Clean quiel 2-bedroom two blocks from SU haspitals. Furnished. All utilitios paid. 472-590e Jung 1 lease.
One Bedroom Apartments Close to Camput
 paiking very dean, laundry Call Gordon 476-2 1 Bedrocm Furnisthed Un!umished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry available. Oft Sireet
Parking. Cal 422-7305

COMSTOCK HETGHTS

 APARTMENTS2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms Lowest rents for modern new construction www.universityarea.com low utilifies.
University Area Apts.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com

TOAD HALL

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilities Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven)
Univertity Area Apts wwuniversity racea.com 479-5005

1,2,3,4+5 bedroem aparments, Fumished, all canpus near law valability. 446-9598.

ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.  Westoott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Alug  445-0540

Broadcaster entertains fans at Newhouse  \section*{ey mai ima}

Staff Writer
Making his way through the slush and snow on the Syracuse University campus, Mar Albert vividly recalled his memorable days at Syracuse.

He remembered attending classes, working at The Daily Orclasses, and WAER-FM 88.3 and hosting his own rock-n-roll radio show between 6 and 9 p.m.

Then there were times when he and fellow SU alumnus Dick catacombs at the Onondaga War Memorial with their tape recorders to practice calling games for the NBA's Syracuse Nationals.

Before the legendary commentator took his spot as a guest announcer for the SU-St. John's game for WAQX-F'M $95.7^{\text {" }} 95 \mathrm{XX}$," Albert addressed more than 100 students at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications on Monday.
"Just being back here brings so many memories-starting with the weather," Albert said.

He reflected on his involvement in the sports scene covering variety of on-air experiences at the local radio strations.
"I lived for the hourly newscasts where I could give sports scores," Albert said. "And I think I

TIGHT

continued from page 16 ond.
"In the first half, we were patient and had great spacing," Red Storm head coach Mike Jarvis said. "We were able to find people who were open and make something happen. In the second half, they pushed it up a little bit, and we didn't get into (the zone) deep enough.
"Thats why they are as good as anybody in the country."

An Anthony Glover dunk compounded by a Damone Brown foul with $5: 23$ to go in the game put $\mathbf{S U}$ in a five-point hole. drove them crazy, because I had this very high-energy delivery at a low-key, classical station. They

Following his jumior yea
Following his junior year at Syracuse, Albert was offered a job as a writer and backup announcer for WCBS radio. The Brooklyn native accepted the position and wound up completing his college egree at NYU in 1965.
old was unbelievable 20,21 years was a perfect opportunity", said. "It was a perfect opportunity.
Albert's call of New familiar with And Rangers games on the radio his first break actually came as his iurst break actually came as among three participants on a chil among three parmipants on a chilhosted by Howard Cosell.

His love of sportscasting started in third grade. When Albert's teacher asked him to write a comteacher asked him to write a comWant To Be Wher You Grow Up" theme, he ambitiously wrote how he wanted to call the Kricks and Rangers games on radio and write for The New York Times.
"I figured two out of three isn't bad," Albert said. "The passion is everything. You have to have a strong desire.
ounded a lot like the started out, I sounded a lot like the guys I listened to and admired (liko) Marty Glickman," Albert added. "Even at home I would drive my parents crazy, because I was answering the phone sounding like Marty and doing imitations. But eventually you get away from that."

Albert's famous "Yes - and it counts!" catchphrase stemmed from childhood basketball games with his friends. He recalled hearing his friend echo the call after each game, and later incorporated it into his play-by-play.

The broadcasting bug rubbed off on Albert's brothers. Al is a Indian-by-play commentator for the nounces boxing.

Marv said the Alberts often announced their ping-pong matches in the basement. Whoever was oid man out announcod the garne on a tape recorder.
on and was all this racket going on and our parents thought we were crazy," he said. "We were each shrieking away and even plugging in commercials. All we wing-pong, which was an interestping thing to attempt."

Despite his absence from the broadcast booth following a sexual harassment scandal in 1998, A1bert said television networks still supported him.

Albert said he is happy with his current position at the MSG Network and is intent on staying there as long as possible.

JESSICA CUTLER/The Daily Orange Mary Abert, one of America's best known sportscasters, shared some of his expleriences
Monday aftemoon at Newiouse.

Albert's list of memorable career moments ranges from the 1969-70 Knicks/Lakers series to the Rangers winning the Stanley Cup in 1994. But the one standout, he said, was the 1988 Olympic boxing matches in Seoul, South Korea

It whes the most bizarre situation where every bout was a different controversy," Albert said. "One was where a Korean fighter would not leave the ring because he thought it was a bad decision. I remember going back and forth 49.
"He played defense well," said Hart, who picked up his fourth foul with eight and a half minutes to play- "In the second half, DeShaum didn't let Barkley rive by him and didn't let him get the open three. That's what

While opposing c
Wor the SUsing coaches prepare for the SU zone, the man-toman defense has been equally effective in Syracuse s undefeated start.

Hart and Bland have pressured ball handlers, knowing Thomas is a shot-blocking insurThe Policy.

The Orangemen opened up with my host, Bryant Gumbel, and they shut the lights out."

One event he regrets not being able to cover, however, involved a postseason NFL game on NBC with partner Bill Parcells. "We were assigned a wildcard playoff game, and for whatever reason, Bill didn't want to do it," Albert said. "If you're selected to do the postseason game it's a honor and people don't usually say, T don't want to do it.

Albert and the Tuna missed out on the greatest comeback in NFL history, as the Buffalo Bills rallied from a $35-3$ deficit to upend the Houston Oilers $41-38$ in overtime.
in remember calling Bill at halfime at home and saying, 'You halfarne at home and saying, You nnow, I'm really glad that we didmy voice would have been sore mirm doine this hame with all the from doing this game with all the thrills and highlights.

Through it all, Albert still thrives on the basios of broadcasting. from days of watching game tapes and highlights to talking with coaches and players.
"I don't think that you can ever think that on an everyday basis. There are times just before a game during the opening and II say, This is it I wouldn't want to be doing anything else.' " in man-to-man and showed their full-court press at key times.

But after the Red Storm frequently freed shooters with brickthe zone in hopes of cutting down the zone in hopes of cutting down open looks.

The 2.3 shut down any SJU attack, giving the struggling offense enough support to earn the victory.

The 2-3 zone has been working for the last 20-some odd years," Brown said. "This year we are an excellent man-to we are an excellent man-to-man team, but if that's not working can fall back on."

[C1ASS1f1eQS] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

collegehomeTHREE BEACIOUSOOMS SPACIOUS& DELUXE BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHEDCALL JOHN © JUDY 478-7548 wwu.coliegehenome.com

One +2 bectroom furrishod apartments Al utititios indurod 5370 . siavimo Ona mile trom canmeus Laundry, parking. carpoting. Security building.
Avaitabio immociatoly, May orAuguse 446 -9598. Availabio immodiatidy, May orAuyuse 446-9598.

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom Aat, Lurnished, stove, tetrio lation

Your off-campus
home for $2000-01$
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments,
double beds
dishwashers
microwave
carpeted
off street parking
CALL TODAY
PETER 427-0052

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

Houses

Now flenting For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedrsom house paint Heat included! Ott Stree! Parking, laundry room and Bar: Greal Locationl Cal 637-5779.

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
(5)And Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adjacent to campus starting $0 $ 335 /$ purson (1)446-3693 2000072001 Lovely Furnizhed 5-Bedroom Houss.
Fireppiace Froen Inundry Fardwood Floors Porches $$ 330$ bedroom Also 4-Bedroom House $$ 255 /$ Bedroonn 446-7611

Charming English Tudor House on Comstock 6
Bedroons, Firsptact across from Wormens Bidg.

RENTYOUR OWN HOME
FOUR OR FIVE ESDROOH HOUSE. GREATPGCHES, 476-9933

SUBLET

 ubifties, 1/2 block from campus 475-7938

SERVICES  Travel  SPRING EREAKI Unbeatable deals Io Dominican Meplubic and Lsla Marganta, 4 Slar resorts, double occupancy all meals and unimited drinks! Beathes. Goli, walersports, Horsoback Riding atc Contact; Springbreatelopholidays.com (212)289-20552.  SPAING BREAK - GRAD WEEK $55 & Uo Per Persen wWwrelreaurymebeach.com 1-.000-645-3618  SERVICES

Spring Break Specials! Baharnas Parry Cruise! 5 Nightile! Departs From Florida! Panama Cit Noom With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties 8 Frem Drinks $$ 1291$ Daytora Foom With Kitchen $$ 1491$ South Eeach (Bars Open Until 5ami) $$ 159$ COCOa 8eath (Near Dissey $$ 1791$ spingoreaktravel. Com 1-800-678-6386

|  |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

MISC.

orange NOTES

Men's Baskethall

 $\begin{array}{ll}\text { No. } 4 \text { Syracuse } & 63 \\ \text { St John's } & 57\end{array}$| Orangemen |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Player | $\rho$ |  |  |
| Brown | 12 | 5 | 1 |
| Blackwetl | 7 | 4 |  |
| Thomas | 8 | 11 | 1 |
| Hant | 12 | 3 | 5 |
| Bland | 6 | 2 |  |
| Williams | 12 | 1 |  |
| Shumpert | 6 | 2 |  |
| Griffin | 0 | 0 | O |

Red Storm (13-6, 5-3)

| Player | P | r | a |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Glover | 12 | 3 | 1 |
| Postell | 10 | 2 | 1 |
| Jessie | 8 | 8 | 5 |
| Barkley | 12 | 1 | 5 |
| Thontion | 13 | 6 | 2 |
| Gray | 2 | 6 | 2 |
| Emanuel | 0 | 0 | 1 |

| AP Top 25 |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Cincinnati (29) | 20 |
| 2. | Stanford (1) | 17-1 |
| 3. | Duke | 16-2 |
| 4. | Syracuse (1) | 18-0 |
| 5. | Arizona | 17-4 |
| 6. | Michigan St. | 15-5 |
| 7. | Connecticut | 15-4 |
|  | Ohio St. | 14.3 |
| 9. | Tennessee | 18-2 |
|  | Aubum | $17-3$ |
|  | Indiana | 15-3 |
|  | Fiorida | 15-4 |
|  | Texas | 145 |
|  | Oklahoma St. | 16-2 |
|  | Kansas | 16-4 |
| 16. | Tulsa | 20-2 |
|  | Kentucky | 15-5 |
| 18. | Oklatoma | 17-3 |
|  | Utah | 17-3 |
|  | Temple | 14-4 |
| 21. | Maryland | 14.5 |
|  | North Carolina St. | 14.4 |
| 23. | Vanderbilt | 13-4 |
|  | Iowa St. | 18-3 |
|  | LSU | 16-3 |

Women's basketball

Syracuse at 7:30 p.m. at The Pavillion

Orangewomen (5-9, 1-5)

Player $p$ r
$\begin{array}{lllll}\text { Record } & 17.9 & 6.8 & 1.1 \\ \text { Pery } & 10.8 & 7.5 & 2.1\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llllll}\text { Perry } & 10.8 & 7.5 & 2.2 \\ \text { James } & 10.4 & 4.0 & 2.5\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { James } & 10.4 & 4.0 & 2.5 \\ \text { Aziz } & 9.7 & 7.4 & 1.1\end{array}$
Wright
Ervin
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Trammell } & 7.8 & 3.3 & 6.0\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { McPhee } & 1.8 & 1.3 & 0.3\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{llll}\text { Grossman } & 0.4 & 0.8 & 0.1\end{array}$

Lewis charged

Baltimore Ravens line-charged with murder in the deaths of two people outside an Atlanta nightclub following the Super Bowl. Police arrested Lewis after a day-long investigation into the murders that occurred outside the cobatt lounge at 4 a.m. Monday.
Lewis told reporters police had questioned him
Monday but cleared him of any wrongdoing.
he Pro Bowler is the secand NFL player to be charged with murder this month. Former Carolina Panthers receiver Rae Caruth was charged with killing his girlffiend. Cherica Adams

sports trivia

Q. Who did Marv Albert dub -The Czar of the Telestrator" and "The Dean of Sideline Reporting"?
Thursday's trivia:
Q. How many men's basketball coaches has Syracuse University had? A. Seven coaches have roamed the Syracuse sidelines.

[sports] SU holds off St. John's

Ass Sports Editor

Four years after arriving at Syracuse University with a smuggrin on his face and an indelible swagger in his game, Jason Hart has not changed. game, Jason Hart has not changed.

Time after time this season, Hart's chuteh shots what looked like a angemen from what loo

The senior point guard reached into his black top hat again Monday, this time pulling out a late came-tying 3 -pointer and a Houdini-like pass to give SU the lead and an eventual 6357 victory against St. John's at the Carrier Dome.

Trailing 54-51, the Orangemen (18-0, 8-0 Big East) came out of a television timeout and found Hart in the right corner. With $3: 31$ remaining, he popped a long triple, electrifying the ,632 Dome lans.

When I'm open, I feel like I can hit the shot," Hart said. "That's the practice and work I put into it."

A minute-and-a-half later, with the game tied at 56, the Red Storm (13-6,5-

Nudging himself free Hart slipped between the two Johnnies and skipped a pass crosscourt to a wide-open Damone Brown.

The junior juked inside and laid the balf in while being fouled by Bootsy Thornton. His free throw gave the Orange a three-point lead they would not relinquish.
"The trap was something we wanted to do, but we needed all the people in all the right places," St. John's coach Mike Jarvis said. Unfortunately, one know how he saw (Brown) but he did"

Syracuse hit four late free throws, and its 2-3 zone defense limited the Red Storm to $\mathbf{1 - f o r}-8$ shooting in the final four minutes

Until Hart emerged late, though, the Orangemen's unblemished record looked to be in jeopardy.
st. John's led most of the game, hoiding advantages as large as six in the second half. Thornton canned a three with 8:55 remaining to give SJU a 49-43 lead.

Sophomore point guard Erick Barkley, who scored 12 points, ran the

See HART page 12

Tom NYCZ/The Daily Crango
Jason Hart breaks through the foubla-toam of Chudnay Gray and Bootsy Thomton to fire a pass to Damone Brown. Brown's layup gave the Orangemen a throe-point fead or thelr way to a 63-57 victory

Zone stifles Red Storm

BY ERIC NATHAN

Staff Writer
Opposing coaches fear the trademark Syracuse 2-3 zone like a young reporter fears a Bobby Knight press conference.

If not for the hot hand of Kentucky's Jeff Shepherd, the $2-3$ would have had Jim Boeheim's 1995-96 squad cutting down the nets concluding March Madness.

Like No. 44 or heckling Jake Voskuhl, the SU tradition of the $2-3$ was out in full foree when St, 22.632 onlookers watched the zone limait St John's to just six points in the final six minutes of SUs 63-57 victory.
(Boeheim) teaches great fundamentals of the zone defense," SU guard Tony Bland said. "We had guys out there playing real active, and we made some great deflections and good plays."

St John's found the backdoor open in the first half, but SU shut it - and any chance to put a blemish on their perfect record - in the sea-

See TIGKT page 15

Etan Thomas doffocts a shot by Levor Aostell

Errant shots bring losses for Syracuse

BY GREE BISHOP
Staff Writer
It started with an errant Jaime James jump shot and painfully ended with a fadeaway 3 -point toss by Beth Record.

Easy layups, mid-range jumpers, and 3-point attempt after 3-point attempt failed to find the bottom of the net.

Echoes resonated through the bleacher seats at Manley Fieldhouse as a chorus of clangs filled the air. There were enough bricks to build a new arena and enough left over to Invate the excisting one.
In its worst shooting performance baskethall team shot a paltry 36 per cent from the field, coupled with a dis

See DISMAL page 12

do.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

KosherCREATIONS

Students struggle with strict dietary needs. See Lifestyle.

Biding TIME

Allen Griffin searches for minutes in a crowded SU basketball lineup.
See Sports.

Gore galore

Supporters of Damocratic presIdential candidate Vice President AI Gore wave signs of support in Bedford, N.F. during Tuesday's primary, Gore namowly edged Democratic rival Eill Bradlay 52 to 48 percent.

Fiscal report reveals growth in SU earnings

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Staff Writer
Syracuse University's earnings grew during the last fiscal year by more than $$ 89$ million, a sum spurred by a greater collection of student tuition and fees, according to Internal Revenue Service documents.
The figure includes all income generated from university-owned buildings, equipment and other SU business and property investments, said Lou Marcoccia, senior vice president for business, finance and administrative services.

The 1998 fiscal year report includes all money accumulated between July 1 , 1998 and June 30 , 1999 . By the end of the $$ 1,405,026,272$ compared to just more than $$ 1,3$ billion at the end of the same period a year before.

Income collected from tuition and fees in 1998 mainly contributed to the growth in revenue, Marcoccia said. The university gained about $$ 15$ million from the tuition and fees, compared to the 1997 fiscal year, according to the report.

See BUDGET page 9

© State Affairs

Thruway Authority raises tolls, prepares for construction

The New York State Thruway Authority is asking drivers to pay more in tolls this summer to help fund a $$ 1$ billion highway improvement project.

The Thruway Authority will begin an increase of up to 3 percent on index tolls in June, said Anya Frost, a spokeswoman for the Thruway Authority. York state since 1988 , she added.

The improvement project includes widening traffic lanes, restoration of pavement and safety improvements to thruways across central and upstate New York, Frost said.
"There has been a huge increase in trafic in the state, she said. The thruway has been identified as a high priority for improvements and it would be impossible to get these badly aeeded projects underway without an increase in tolls."
ting systems will be rounded to the tick-nickel for the next three years, Frost said. At bridges and barriers stations, where tolls are collected in increments of 25 cents, the increase will not take effect until the collection requires an additional quarter Frost said.

The Thruway Authority will make about $$ 42$ million in improvements to the 1 481 Interchange and the Westmoreland Interchange, Frost said.

Improvements will also be made to the Syracuse Inner Harbor, she added.

See THRUWAY page 10

Multicultural Affairs

Panelists discuss

race exhibit

BY LUCY SANCHEZ  Contributing Writer

The war of race haunts the conscious of American people, panelists said Tuesday in the

Syracuse Universit
Syracuse University faculty panelits emotionaly debated an tled, "All of Us Are Related Each of Us Is Unique."

The exhibit stresses that race is only an "illusion" and biclogically does not exist. Many of the panelists, however, agreed foundation of race relations in the United States.
"I am a firm believer that something called 'race' exists and that something called racism affected a large part of Pollard, dean of the School ors Pollard, dean of the School of So Polla

Pollard asked, Why now am I suddenly being told that 1 am no different from the white guy next door?*

See RACE page 8

[briefs]

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news senice

tidbits

Scientists conclude origin of AIDS

SAN FRANCISCO -cal analysis using the worid's largest comput er, scientists have corncluded that the virus that sparked the AlOS pandemic first surfaced in people sometime around 1930, probably in Central Africa.

That conclusion, presented Tuesday by Bette Korber of Los Bette Korber of Lo Alamos National Laboratory, had been highly anticipated here af this year's Conference on Retroviruses. The origin of HIV, and accusations that it was inadvertently introduced in contaminated oral pollo vac cines in Africa from 1957 to 1961 . have been hotly debated for been ho

Lyme disease study

shows promise
In the largest study of its kind, most people who have had Lyme dis ease and were lueate or were tound to be as healthy years later as biten by an infected deer tick.

To date, few studies have looked in a wide population at the long. population effects of Lyme disease - which me disease - which me fear less for its short tear less for its shor the specter of chronic neurological and arthritic complaints that appear to plague some. At root is a controversy over those patients who develop chronic Lyme disease: Some believe Lyme is a serious and difficut-to-treat disease that can in some cases elude current diagnostic tests; others believe that most people recover and that in those who have persistent complaints, Lyme disease was a misdiagnosis.

Schools for hormeless migit violate faw WASHINGTON, D.C - A Erowing number of separate and substan dard schools are being established for hometess children around the country, possibly violating a federal law that guarantees them equal guarantees them equar access to an education an actrocacy group
Since the first sepa rate school for home less students was formed in Utah in 1984 . the number of such institutions has frown to at least 40 in 19 states the National Law Center on Homelessness and Poverty found in the first national survey to spot the educational trend.

McCain, Gore secure N.H.

MANCHESTER, N.H. -Arizona Sen. John McCain rode his "Straight Talk Express" to a stunaing victory in the Reto astunning victory in the depubitcan presidentan primary hore Tuesday night, swamping $G O P$ front-runner George W Bush with an outpouring of support from the Granite State's in dependent voters.

In the Democratic primary; Vice President AI Gore defeated former New Jersey senator Bill Bradley with about half the vote counted, handing Bradley two losses in the Irst two events of the 2000 nominating process.

The close contest in the Democratic race foreshadows five mocratic race foreshadows wecks of campaigning between Gore and Bradley as they twead toward a decisive round of primaries on March 7 , which inciudes votes in Califormia, New York and Ohio.

The Democrats now face a potentially bitter split between the two candidates the longer the race continues, and carly Tuesday night Bradley challenged Gore to weekly debates that could intensify the personal attacks that Illed the final days here.

In the Democratic primary Gore had 53 percent of the vote with half the precinctss counted, while Bradley had 46 percent. McCain had 49 percent of the vote to Bush's 31 percent. Magazine publisher Steve Forbes, whose strategy of using a second-place finish in Iowa to snap his candidacy to life here failed, ran a distant third. Alar Keyes, who made the issue of America's moral decline the centerpiece of his campaign, was fourth, while Gary Bacrer, the former president of the Fa

national news

Crash leaves some clues

PORT HUENEME, Callf. -
The pilots of Alasha Airlines Flight 261 struggled with mechanical problems for at least six minutes as they descended over the Pacific Ocean finally brenking radio contact and plunging into the waters off the Ventura County coast, a federal safety investigator said Tuesday.

Although the cause of the crash will not be officially deter mined for months, sources close to the investigation said they were focusing on the likelifood that a con trol system used to stabilize the plane's altitu out of control.

Several pilots saw the doomed plane in its final minutes, and investigators are hoping to laln more about the crash by merschmidt of the National Transportation Safety Board, who is overseeing the investigation.

Flight 261 , en route from Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, to San Francisco and Seattle with 88 people aboard, crashed Monday af ternoon after the pilots reported diffeculties and asked for permis sion to land at Los Angeles Inter national Airport. The plane, a twin-engine MD-83 built by Mc Donnel Douglas, crashed about 40 miles north of the airport.

Austrian union concerns EU

VIENNA - Ignoring threats of diplomatic isolation by Austria's European Union part ners, leaders of the country's far right and of more mainstrearn con Tuesciay night to form a coalition Tuesday nigh

The agreement between Joerg Haider's far-right Freedom Party and Wolfgang Schuessel's conservative Peogle s Party stil Tiustident Thomas Klestil.

But with both Austria and the European Union now backed into Haider's party in partional govern ment, few here expect Mlestil to re-

Virginia allows prayer in schools

RICHMOND, Va.-

 A measure requirme pubicschools to observe a minute of silence for meditation, piayer or reflection at the beginning of every school day was overwhelmingly approved by Virginias Senale Resday, and even oppo

In a 28 to 11 vote, senators agreed to legislation halled by social and religious conservatives as a way to instill values in young people and reduce vioyoung people and reduce violence in schools. Many civil liblence in schools. Many civil libthe constitutional line dividing church and etate.
Gov. James S. Gilmore III (R) said in an interview that the measure would not infringe on any student rights and that it was a good way to help *instill character in the lives of young character in the lives of young people."

Since the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1962 that orgamized school prayer is unconstitutional, civil libertarians and religious leaders have engaged in a tug of war over what is per* massible on school grounds.
Thol the Vireinia Genblicans control the Virginia General Assembly for the first time, creating a favorable environment for legis-ject the caatition and risk a backLasth for caving in to foreign presure.

The European Union has threatened to downgrade diplomatic links with Austria to "technical" contacts and to impose other diplomatic sanctions if Haserder's party participates in a national

Report sheds doubt on IRA

BELEAST, Northern Ireland -.. A report by an independent Irish Fepublican Army has fuled to begin turning over its weapons Britain's Northern Ireland minister said Tuesday, leaving the British government to ponder its

Pentagon seeks stronger policy

WASHINGTON, D.C. -
The Pentagon moved Tuesday to strengthen its controversial homosexual conduct policy with a new training program that calls for troops to receive iastruction repeatedly and uniformly across the serices.

Six months after the beating death of an alleged gay soldier thrust the subject again into the national spotlight, decall for oricials issued rules that call for briefings on the "don't as troops enter boot camp and as troops enter boot camp later in refresher courses.

Other personnel, including military lawyers and commanders, will receive additional in Military officials save oped a patchwork of developed a patchwork of programs since the "don't ask" polgrarns since the don't asis pol

Yet many troops have said that they receive little or no instruction on the policy and that it gets far less attention than, for example, guidance on such issues as equal opportunity treatment of women and safety. Gay advocates have argued that this lack of understanding has led to mistreatment and harassment of homosexual serharassment of homosexual service members.
options over how to salvage the province's power-sharint governThe IRA's refugal to catarics. The IRA's refusial to start clisarmament by this month means that Northern Ireland's largest party, the Ulster Unionist Party, Whar carry out its pledge to quit the four seats it holds in the governthe cabinet cannot function without participation by all maion without participation by all major parture would bring an end to the local government just two months after it began.

Monday's report from the in. ternational commission that is supposed to oversee "decommissioning that is, voluntary disarmament by the province's various the British and frish governments.

campus

 calendar
TODAY

The Z Morning Zoo on WJPZ-FM 89.1 welcomes gues Fran Baskerville, The Singing Psychic," at. 9 a.m.

E Dzvinia Qriowsky shares her poetry at $5: 45$ p.m. in Gifford Anditorium as part of the Ray mond Carver Reading Series.

- UUCinemas presents "Th Insider," at 8 p.m.in Watson Theater. Tickets are $$ 3$.

W Susan Wadley speaks at p.m. in the Noble Room of Hen dricks Chapel regarding "Issuc:
Facing Women in India at the Millenium.

E Raices Dance Troupe, Latino dance group, hosts an au dition at 9 p.m. in the Aerobi Room of Archbold Gymmasium one is welcome.

EThe Holocaust Awareness Group meets at $7: 30$ p.m. in th
Hillellounge. All are welcome.

THURSDAY

WJPZ-FMe 89.1 Morning Zoo on Davis, "Matchmaker to the Rich and Famous," at 8 a.m.

T The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spring Rush 2000 Expo at 7 p.m. in Goldstein Auditort um.

- Modelquest hosts an open call talent search at 6:30 p.m. it the Holiday Inn Arena-Binghom ton, 2-8 Hawley St., Binghamton For more information call $1-877$ 663-3587.

EThe Development Office features a lecture by SU industri al design graduate Gianfranco Ziccai at 1 p.m. in the Schafies Art Building, Room 121. He wil discuss the "Design of Innovation Interdisciplinary Process for In novation Research and Co rent Design Development."

- Newhouse I presents Writing for Results" from 6 pm to 7 p.m. in Room A2.

The Everson Museum of Art presents swing musicians The Percolators from 5:30 p.m. to $7: 30$ 474 - 6064 for more information.

E UTICinemas presents "The Insider," at 8 p.m. in Watson Insider, at 8 p.m. in Theater. Tickets are $$ 3$.

FRIDAY

EThe Office of Greet Life

McCain, Gore grasp N.H.

Primary heeds surprises

BY EVAN THESStaff Writer

MANCHESTER, N.H. - Vice President AlGore and Arizona Sen. John McCain scored key victories Tuesday in the nation's first presidential primary.

McCain surpassed the greatest of expectations by trouncing Republican front-runner Texas Gov. George W. Bush by 19 percentage points - the largest candidate in New Hampshire in 20 years.

The win gives the McCain camp a much-needed boost after a serious loss in the lowa caucus last week. It also breathes new life into the campaiga just before the Delaware primary next week and the South Carolina primary Feb. 19. poll "I think we finally have a margin of error," McCain said Tuesday nightat his victory rally in Nashua, N.H.

Bush conceded the primary win to MeCain just 20 minutes after the poils closed at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and shrugged off his defeat by describing it from a long-term perspective.
"New Hampihirehas long beenknown as a bump in the road for front-runners and this year is no exception, Bush said at St. Anselm's College in Manches$\mathrm{St} . \mathrm{A}$ ter.

McCain secured an early lead over Bush by spending more than twice as much time campaigning na New fampshire. But Gore overcame if weeks in second overcame lu weeksin second plate's Democratic ticket.
His opponent, former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley, deJersey Sea. Bill Bradiey, described his narrow loss of 4 perscribed his narrow loss of 4 percentage points in the primary as a centage points in the primary as a poor showing in Iowa.
"This campaign is a choice between philosophies of leadership,* New Hampshire College in Man. chester, "It's a fight about the kind of America we can become." Republican hopefuls Steve

See PRIMMARY page 4

SU for Eill Bradley members eather at Tully's Good Times to watch the results of Tuesday's New Hampshire Primary. Bradley lost to Democratic opponent Al Gore 48 to 52 percent

McCain campaign deemed a success  BY RYAN DONORUE AND ASHOK SEI.VAM

 Staff WritersNASHUA, N.H. - Arizona Sen. John McCain waited Tuesday night to take the stage for a victory speech in his New Hampshire hotel's kitchen hallway. Advisers, dressed in suits, shook his hand.

The count at midnight had McCain beating Busi 49 to 30 percent, according to CNN.

Conceding the state about $8: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Republican opponent Texas Gov. George W. Bush called his loss a ront runnera speed bump.

A McCain supporter scoffed at Bush's analogy and said, "Speed bump, more like a train wreck."

McCain plowed through the crowd of supporters at the Nashua Crowne Plaza ballroom to reach the stage. The swing band missed its cue to launch into Anchors Away, bui he crowd improvised on its own

At 8:39 p.m., the senator bin
At 8:39 p.m., the senator brushed away the red, dishing his landslide victory, Mchain promised truthfuiness and carnpaign finance reform in his victory speech.
"We have sent a powerful message to Washington that change is coming, "he said to the cheering crowd. "Today the Republican Party has recovered its heritage of reform.

He spoke, as he had at 114 town hall meetings in New Hampshire, of putting money into Social Security and Medicare, cutting taxes and reducing the naional debt.

McCain's strategy of ignoring the Jan. 24 lown Caucus and concentrating on the New Hampshire Primary made his victory in the Granite State the

Republicans look to retain momentum

BY NEVIN TAMPONE
StaHf Writer
Stafl writer
Arizona Sen. John McCain bet his hopes for the Republican presidential nomination on the New Hampshire primary, said Guy Molinari, chairman of McCain's New York state campaign.

The victory in Now Hamp Ehe victory in New hampshire is just ple a reason to get involved. It's really energized ple a reason to get involved. It's realy energized

By concentrating most of his campaign resources on the New H1ampshire race, McCaim was Mole to easily defent Teans Gov. Gedrge W. Bush, Hampshire leaves McCain behind in other state polls, he can use this strong showing to reverse polls, he can use this sumbers, he adided.

The risk of focusing on one state was a culcuLated reaction to Bush's advantage in campaign funding, Molinari said.
They had to make some tactical decisions," he said. They realized that's where they had to nalice a stand."
McCain"s stand sent the message that Republican voters will not hand the nomination to Bush as expected, Molirsari added.
"George Bush threw everything he had into tha election", he said. "FIe thought if he could stop MeCain there, then the campaign would be over. That didn't happen."

The victory in New Hempehire will carry its positive momentum into upcoming primaries in New York, South Carolina and Delaware, Molinari said. Carnpaign organizers are hopeful that to win will autivate enough support in New York mary ballot in inllof the state's 31 congression firi mary ballot in alf of the state's 31 coagressional districts, he added.

McCain's lawsuit to overturn New York state's election laws beeause they exclude legitimate candidates from the process began this week in a federal court in Brooklya.

We've got calls coming in from all over the state from people wanting to get involved and do-nate,- Molinari said They're upset they may not

See REPUBLICANS page 4

Texas Gov. George W. Eurh adfoteses reporters at the New Hampshire Primary. Bush lost to McCain, having only giomerad 30 pencent of the vote.
biggest win ever by a non-incumberat in New Hampshire.

Republican National Committee member Mike Helon of Tueson, Ariz., said the victory in New Hampshire should prove to voters in McCain's home state that he could win the presidency.
"This clearly establishes his viability." Helon said. "He will win in Arizona."

See Mccaln page 4

Bradley supporters await N.Y. primary

GY NICHOLAS STEFFENS
Staff Writer
Supporters of former New Jersey Sen. Bill Bradley said Tuesday they are optimistic about the candidate's future despite Vice President Al Core's New Hampshire Primary win.
"We're obviously disappointed, but not discouraged," said Jim Snyder, spokesman for the Central New Yoric Committee to Elect Bill Bradiey resident. "It was an extremely close result."

With 98 pereent of precincts reporting, Gore won the first national primary with 52 percent of the vote, according to CNN. Bradley garnered 48 percent of the vote.

Gore's narrow victory may be attributed to Republican primary victor and Arizona Sen. John McCain's success in gaining independent vaters, Who can vote in either the Democratic or Republican primary, Snyder said. McCain beat his Repub-

4 February 2, 2000

DEMOCRATS

continued from page 3
lican rival Texas Gov. George W. Bush by 19 percent.

If Bush had made it a race, more of the independents would have voted for Bill Bradley," he have Syracuac University student members of SU for Bill Bradley said they were not discouraged by Bradley's consecutive losses in the Bradeys consecutive losses in the New Hampshire Primary and in the Jan. 24 Iowa Caucus.

"We don't look at it as two losses in a row" said Ben Remier, a sophamore policy studies major. The gap has continued to nar row.

About 10 members of the SU Bradley group watched the primary results Tuesday night on television at Tully's Good Times restaurant, 2943 Erie Blvd.

The fact that he was running agringt Gore - who's afriliated with the Clinton administration that has such a high approval and was coming off the momentum in owa P- Bradiey did well, said Dave Polazzi, a sophomore politithe SU for Bradley group.

Bradiey is projected to be

The Daily Orange
more successful in New York state's March 7 primary because the state is more demographically diverse, Snyder said. The Bradley Cnmpaign does not anticipate New Bradley because of his loss in New Bradley because of h Hampshire, he said.
"They'll understand a strong campaign. They won't shy away from it," Snyder said of the atate's Democratic voters.

New York state Assemblywoman Joan Christensen does not believe that New York state residents will bage their vote on the outcome of Tuesday*s primary. Christensen said.
'I really don't think what happens there is going to affect what people in New York already think," said Chistensen, a Demothink," said Christensen, a D crat who is supporting Gore. crat who is supporting Gore.

The Republicans have impending Feb. 8 and Feb. 19 primaries in Delaware and South Carolina, respectively. But Gore and Bradley will next battle March 7 in New York state in addition to other states on Super Tuesday. Super Tuesday is the name Given to the first Tuestay in can Somon host primaries or cail can Somoa host primaries or cau-primaries on March 7 are Califor Massachusetts and Ohio.
Eradley, who lagged in polls before the New Hampshire Prima 5y, gained considerable ground at ter hit most recent debate with Gore. The campaign will use that Gore. The campaign will use that as a guide for its strategy for the as a guide for its strategy for the remainder of primaries, Snyder sama.

The senator picked up voters by standing next to the vice president and going at him," Snyder said. "Bradley wants people to take the measure of the two of said.
take them."

Before the primary, Bradley challenged Gore to weckly debates starting Sunday and continuing through Super Tuesday

The close race should benefit New York state and the rest of the United States, said Peter Kauff Mank, a spokesman for the N York State Democratic Party.

In coming weeks, candidates will distuss methods of improving health care and public education New York state residents, KauffNew Hork state residents, Kauff mann said. This should translate nampai interesting before Super Tues day, he said
"It's going to be good."

Cain's request was Leo Gagnon of Concord. Outside of the local ele mentary school where he cast his vote, Gagnon said McCain's diver gence from the Republican Party won his support.
"I'm one of those people who vote more for the incividual, Gagnon said. "It seems Republicans are running off in a certain dire tion and he's bringing it back.

McCain supporter Kathleen Flora, a state representative from Bedford, said the senator brought people to the polls that had never voted before. Bedford saw recoro

We had in Bedford more people register at the polls than ever most of them came for McCain."

PRIMARY

continued from page 3

Forbes, Alan Keyes and Gary Bauer collectively received just 0 percent of the vote. All three ampaigns will likely reasess heir futures in preparation for next round of primaries.

Both Bauer and Keyes experenced embarrassing public mo ments while campaigning in New Hampshire. Bauer fell ofi stage Monday in an unsuc cessful attempt to catch a flipped pancake and Keyes was hided for crowd surfing last week at a Rage Against the Machine concert.
"The mosh pit will never die," quipped political comedian Michael Moore at the McCain victory party Moore dared Keyes to stage dive at the concert, promisiag to endorse

Study at The Cannes Int'I Film Festival

Learn & work in the South of France this May as part of the American Pavilion/Kodak
Worldwide Student Program
For an application: mkirk@ampav.com Or call 310-837-0183 whomever leapt into the band's udience.

While candidates traded the break-neck pace of this week's speeches and bus trips to shake hands and serve coffee to constituents Tuesday, campaign vorunteers continued to push for their picks. Fran Darin trav eled from Tampa, Fla, to stand in a middle sch.

When I got on the plane to New Hampshire, the fight at tendant told me I was going the wrong way," said Darin, resting on an eye-high snow bank and clutching a six-foot-long Bradley sign. "I had to buy a coat, gloves ad a hat when 1 got here.
Kevin Buchholz, a Bedford resident, had never been in volved in politics before he met Strong chara

REPUBLICANS

continued from page 3
be able to vote for McCain.
MoCain defeated Bush in New Hampshire 49 percent to 31 percent with 98 percent of the precincts reporting.

Bush still strong

Despite McCain's strong showing in New Hampshire, Bush is not out or contention for his partys nomination, said
$\operatorname{Jim}$ Waish of Syracuse, who recently endorsed Bush

The victory is a credit to McCain's arganization in New Hamp shire, but he lacks similar efforts in other states, Walsh said. Bush works on a much broader scale and his wider organization will win him the nomination, he added.
"McCain really put all his eggs in one basket," Walsh said. "Now he goes to South Carolina where he's behind and where Bush has a superior organization. Think of all the people who won in New Hampshire and never went anywhere after that Past New Hampshire victors include Republican Pat Buchanan and Democrat Paul Tsongas. Both eventually lost their party's nomination.

Bush's loss in New Hampshire is a disappointrment, but not a setback, Walsh said. McCain's effort there was obviously superior and the governor was prepaned for the loss, he added.

He would be much happier if he had won, but I don't think he expected it" Walsh said. "It's important to McCain obviously, but Tm not sure how important it really is in the long run.

Walsh endorsed Bush beeause he can broaden the Republican party's voter base and improve its image among minority groups,
said.
Bush's experience as governor also makes him the stronges candidate, Walsh said

They have experience with the legislature. They have to coax and conjole to get legislation through, he said. I see Bush as a bridge builder. He has a great respect for the process, being the son oridge builder. He has

The biggest chailenge for the McCain campaign now is to try and match Bush's funding level, said Republican Steven DeRegis, Syracuse Common Council minority leader.

The effort McCain applied in New Hampshire won him a large victory, but now he is faced with the difficult task of transferring the success to the rest of the nation's primaries. DeRegis said.
"Obviously in a presidential campaign you're talking a lot of dol lars. He'll get a tremendous bounce off that," he said. "He's going to be challenged to carry this into other states."

Bush's organization and funding outmatched McCain so much that putting all his resources into one state was his only option, DeRegis said. McCain could not afford to rum a national effort like his rival, so he had to run a massive campaign in one place, he said. Capitaizing on the win is essential to contanued primary ic havwang ballot access in New York state. Derkegis for the primaties. They should be loosened up," he said. The candidate that has the support of the brass has the advantage of the committee structure. Competition is a good thing. The more legitimate candidates on the ballot that Republicans like me can vote for, the bet ter."

MoCain must continue his focus on localized grassrocts polities to duplicate Thesday's success, DeRegis said.

With me, all polities is local," he explained. The issues for me that are important are health care, education, social security, taxe and the economy." and the economy.

Forbes campaign looks ahead

Publisher Steve Forbes, who received 14 percent of the New Hampshire vote, must now focus his efforts on adding a truly con servative voice to the primaries, said Jim DiBlassi, Onondaga County legislator
"Kie's a long shot. I wonder if he's running just to get his ideas into the Republican platform," he said

DiBlassi is running as a Forbes delegate to the Republican Na tional Convention, but believes the defeat in New Hampshir sealed Forbes' fate. The defeat is not because of Forbes' position on issues, but because of voter concern over the candidates' images, he added.
"People just wanted to vote for John McCain the war hero more than anything else versus George Bush, the president's son," Di lassi said.
Any of the current candidates, however, will make grod presiints, he said.
Whoever wins the Republican primaries is going to get my vote Chris Ryan, Syracuse University Youth for For disagreed
"It's not much of a setback. Forbes was expected to finish around 14 percent," said Ryan a sophomore political science and threacast journalism major. "It's encouraging because now its a ish, has widened the avenue for Forbes to pet in there."

Forbes' efforts to involve college students in polities and his en couragement of young adults to express their political views initial ly drew Ryan to Fortes, he eaid. His conservative economin stance, which emphasizes placing domestic interests first, als an attractive candidate, Ryan added. McCain's victory in New Hampahire actually helped Forbes cause, Ryzn said. A B pletely, he explained
-IBBush had won in New Hampshire, I wouldn't have as much optimism as ido now," Rypn sati. Theres a lot of primaries com ing up and they're going tof lecide the nomination.
further contribute to McCeg is in South Carolina and Delaware wil College Republicans sec enior publicicly relations ma" " "People definitely net," said Derassi, nior public relations ma, "People definitely need MoCain didates, but becruse henot out of disagreement with the other candidates, but because hbrepresents the best chance of defeging the two Democratic leaders in the general election, Derosiziex plained. MoCain has the pitential not only to unite the Repubticin party, but also to draw in conservative and moderate Democrats, she added

The only way for him to realize that potential and win his fight for statewide ballot access is by continuing the pace of his New It's a shame he's not poins said.
tate, but I'm going to write himg to be an the ballot in all of New York success, he neots to write him in," Derossi said. "He can't ride h

[editorial]

Gamble pays off for McCain in N.H.

Throughout Sen. John McCain's storied life, courage has been a common theme.

He had his fighter jet shot down twice over Vietnam and spent five years in a Viet Cong prison. He consistently waged idealdriven battles with establishment-minded politicians on the floor of the U.S. Senate.

When the odds are against McCain, he is usually at his best.

His 2000 presidential campaign is no different, as proven Tuesday by his crushing of Texas Gov. George W. Bush in the Republican's New Hampshire state primary. Clearly outmatched by Bush in national publicity and money, the U.S. senator from Arizona skipped last week's-Iowa caucus to campaign with incredible fervor in the tiny New England state. McCain conducted town meetings even when only 40 people showed up, traveled from sleepy town to sleepy town delivering speeches and showed the homey New Hampshire citizenry that he was worthy of their vote.

It was a brilliant, albeit risky strategy. If Bush would have beaten McCain in New Hampshire, McCain's Republican presidential nomination hopes would be dashed. Instead, McCain's victory-or-bust gamble in New Hampshire worked, elevating him from distant second to legitimate contender status in the Republican primary race. And he did intimately.

Primary contests this month in Delaware, South Carolina and Michigan will determine whether Republican voters fling their support behind McCain or view his New Hampshire victory as alien - a threat to the GOP establishment and its chosen son, Bush.

Regardless of what one thinks of McCain's views, a politically healthy McCain will make the Republican presidential primary a real contest, especially when New York's turn comes March 7.

[dä]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Ron DePasquale Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor Editorial Editor

Sustin Silverman shok Selvam
Holly Auer Sifestyle Edito Presentation Director Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Art Director Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sparts Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger Tom Nycer Nova Austrew Nova Austrew Emily Kulikus Emily Kulicus
Kate Stevenson
Tiffary Lankes Ttfarly Lankes
Joy Davia
Sapna Kollall Sapna Kollali Sonnor Passan Erin Boyle Tommy Florito Elatre Skintier Tito Bottitta Jessica Cutier Rachaed Golden
Adan Dabkowskic

opinions

Giant corporate merger should be prevented

Remember how you read George Orwell's 1984 and thought, "Gee, I'm glad that one all-powerful force doesn't control almost everything. Unfortunately, that sent ment became a little less reassuring on January 10 , when America Online announced its intention to purchase media giant Time Warner-

I can't help but ask, is anyone

THOMAS

HOBAN

ution comes.
lecide where to shoot when the revo$t$ hand.
This deal is bin $r$ in economic historg called the largest business mergicient word. The AOLTime Warner merger makes Ma Bell look like a school girl. Time Warner is the most powerful media conglomerate in the world. They own cable systems, television networks, newspapers, magazines, record companies, publishing houses, film studios and movie theatres in almost every country worldwide.

AOL's erip over Arnerica's Internet connections is all too familiar in business and popular culture. "You've Got Mail" is not only a hallmark of AOLS Internet mail service, it was a Tom Hanks movie. These days it seems like America can't get enough of the Internet or Tom Hanks.

One of the strangest things about the merger is who is purchasing whom. Time Warner's sales last year were somewhere in the neighborhood of $$ 28$ billion, dwaring AOLs $$ 5.2$ billion. However, AOLs buying which, like other Interget stocks, is highly speculat

So, AOL is worth a lat more money than they actually make. So much more, in fact, that they are able to buy the company that owns and distributes more sounds, words and images than any other company in the history of the world. If this doesn't sound like Big Brother, I don't know what does.

One hot button issue of the merger has been the topic of open access to broadband cable lines. AOL fought to insure that lime Warner's cable lines would be available to other Internet service providers the same way phone lines are open to competing long distance companies. Now that AOL will own Time Warner's cable lines, their commitment to open access has been called into question.

On Nightline, Time Warner CEO Gerald Levin said, "We're going to take the open access issue out of Washington, and out of city hall, and put it into the marketplace." Levin is obviously musing over the marketplace." Levin is obviously musing over the obscene amounts of money he could make selling access to the cable lines, not about any sort of farly regulated "selling" access. You'd think a high level CEO would know the difference. As usual, with corporate America it's not about being fair, it's about making money.

Levin went on CNN several days before the merger announcement and prophesied the new age of global media. "[It] will be and is fast becoming the predominant business of the 21 st century. In his view it is "more important than government. It's more important thaing to need to have these corporations redefined as instruments of public service, and that may be a more efficient way to deal with society's problems than bureaucratic governments."

First of all, I don't know if big business should be lecturing the government on the demerits of bureaucracy. Secondly, the only purpose of governmental, educational and non-profit organizations is public service. They are organizations created to do a job. Levin may complain about how they are doing that job, but suggesting that power be shifted to a corporation is preposterous. The fact that it is his company sheds even more light on his true motivations. Levin's are the words of a sinessman bent on corporate control of an industry. Warner deal warrants immediate antitrust investigaWarner deal warrants immediate antitrust investigathat happens my only advice is: be afraid.

Thomas Hoban is a junior political science and tele vision, radio and fum major. His column appears in The Daily Orange on Thesdays E-mail him at tphoban@syredu.

letters

SU alcohol policy hurts innocent students

To The Editor:

In the beginning of last semester, my roommate and I had a few people in our room late on a Saturthere were no nobohy was drunk, around when my roommate yelled aro "Schwab I need a beer." The next thing I know, there is an RA knocking on our door asking us for our IDs because he heard "references to beer." Does the 1st Amendment mean anything? Did my roommate sign that right away somewhere over the summer in one of those silly little packages we got?

Another stupid thing that occurred this past weekend: Some people were having a party in the suite on my floor and yes, there were drunken people this time and a lot of beer out all over the place. The tragedy of this event is that one of the guys who lives in the suite didn't have anything to drink that night. He now has to face alcohol charges that now have most likely ruined his chances of saving his parents $$ 9,000$ a year in room for an RA position for next year

The question I ask is: How can public safety or RAs accuse students of being intoxicated without breathalyzers or any type of "walk ingetter is they can't! Chancellor Shaw listen loud and clear: You will never ever get students at any college in America to stop drinking no matter how many ads you run speeches you give or how many people get hurt! Take our parents hard-earned money and spend it somewhere else!

Andrew Schwab
Class of 2003
Arts and Sciences

- Computers & Technology

Students await $1.5 million Web site deal

by shelby healy

 Staft WriterVirtualintern.com, anew Web site created and operated by four Syracuse University students, will this weck close a $$ 1.5$ million deal with start-up firm Venture Capital site crefirm Veature Capital, site creator Nathan Kuder announced ator Nathan Kuder announced uesday he site, launched last week, allows students, businesses and carcer counselors to search forinternship positions registered with Virtualintern can also look for specialized applicants by grade point average.
university, major, skills, focahon and availability. We were interning for my older brother's e-commerce company." said Kuder, a sophomore political philosophy and conomies major.

Nathan and his brother Jason began planning for the project in August. Kuder said. ments had to find replacements for ourselves and hought about how much easier it would be if we could do this Each U Each of the site's creators had thenr anternships, said Brian Cohen,

They decided to create an online method that would be easier for businesses and students to find internships, Cohen said. "We bounced the idea off of a few people and they really liked it." he said. Venture Capital, a company that financially assists new businesses, will invest in the company. Cohen said.

Virtualintern includes Cornerstone Partners, an execuColumbus, OH, and Netvendor an internet commerce company. Ryan Spratt, another partRyan Spratt, another part hopes to see companies such as Dreamworks, Disney, MTV and Nickelodeon on the site as it becomes more advertised. Wecomes me aiming to be the premiere internship site," Kuder said. "We want people to think of us as the internship site.

Kuder added that E*Trade, an online stock brokerage, registered for the site and will be added to the database soon.

This site will be agreat help for internship hunters as well as business and non-profit organizations, Kuder said.

Previous sites have excluded organizations in charging to added.
Some SU students are eager to use the new site once it begins to expand, said Mars Rabinson, a freshman psycholoEy major.

deb site like chat would be very helprul to undergrads. especially those who are clue ess to the process of finding an nternship," Robinson said. "th cuts down the work and eradicates the fear of having to go ask someone for an internship. "It's like a job, you know they want you, and that makes it a lot easier.

http://cstl.syr.edu/oneworld/

■ Multicultural Affairs

Students ready for One World Celebration

BY CAROLINE CHEN

 Staff WriterThe School of Management is bringing a world of culture to the Syracuse University campus today as part of its One World Celebration.

The school will begin the celebration by featuring international food in the Schine Student Center dining hall. There will also be presentations by the Division of International Programs Abroad and display tables in the Schine Atrium.

The celebration, which continues until Feb. 12, preludes International Day this Friday.

International Day -a free event running from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the atrium of the CrouseHinds Management building offers food, entertainment and cultural exhibits from around the world, said Joshua McKeown, director of student services and programs in the School of Management's masters program.

The primary reason for having International Day is because we want people from different countries to appreciate what other countries have to offer," said Peter Koveos, School of Management associate dean.

There will be 20 to 25 booths set up by students representing their native countries, which include India, Brazil, Thailand, Turkey and Malaysia, Koveos said.
"It's an opportunity for international students to display what makes their culture unique." McKeown said.

Business students involved in planning the event are also practicing different marketing strategies, said Wen-Cheng Chen, a junior entrepreneurship emergent enterprise major.

You have to try to make people interested in your country and culture," Chen said.

Taiwan native Lino Li, a first-year business administra* tion graduate student, said he will give SU students a presentation regarding the importance of computers and technology to Taiwanese industry.

The more people to visit our booth, the more people to introduce Taiwan to," Li said.

He added that it is especially important for business students to experience other cultures because they will work on a global scale.
-You will need to go abroad for your business, so you will need to understand other cultures," Li said.

The event is sponsored by the School of Management, the Werner Heumann Institute for Cross-Cultural Understanding in International Business, the Kiebach Center and the MBA Student Association, McKeown said.

dreveos said about 300 hundred students attended International Day last year.

I think from the comments weve heard from students, they had agreat time last year, Koveos said. "It's been growing every year.

Now it has become a tradition. We wouldn't think of having a year without International Day."

Where it matters most.

As one of the world's leading diversified technology companies, we're breaking new ground in everything from defense and commercial electronics, to aviation, to engineering and construction. As a Raytheon employee, you'll conuribute to the development of exciting, revolutionary technology designed to make life better, easiet, development of exciting. revolutionary technoiogy designed to make iffe better, easief, and safer throughout the world. Such as our STARS air traffic control system. And our award-winning NightSight ${ }^{7 w}$ technology.
But it all starts with you. Your creatiwity. Your knowledge. And enthusiasm abaut the future. In retum, we offer exceptional training and professional development opportunities A supportive, down-to-earth work environment. And incredible benefits including flexible schedules designed to respect yout quality of life.
So you can still show off all those great qualities of yours outside of work, too.
We'll be visiting your campus soon - contact your cateer placement office to schedule an inferview. If you are unable to meet with us, please e-mail your resume to: resumeerayjobs.com (ASCII text only; no attachments), or mail to: Raytheon Company, Attn: National Staffing Data Center, P.O. Box 660246, MS-201. Dallas TX 75266. U.S. citizenship may be required. We are an equal opportunity employer.

Opportunities afe available for exceptional students with the following majors:

- Aeronautical Engineering
- Chemical Engineering
- Civil Engineering and

Construction Management

- Computer Science
- Electrical Engineering
- Finance/Accounting
- Human Resources
- Management
- Computer Engineering
- Marketing/Communications
- Math
- Mechanical Engineering
induding a calendar of recruiting events. Asjobs_coimfcamplis for further information attratuing, retaining, and recognizing the most talented, resourceful and creative people.

Bringing technology to the edge

Raylinedn

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorialedailyorange.com.

RACE

continued from page 1
He added that blacks have always known that race is only a social construct. But race has continued to exist because "people are programmed to think about themselves and others" in a cerLain way.

Bruce Hare, a professor of African-American studies, said this programming comes to life through people like former Ku Klux Klansman David Duke and baseball player John Rocker, who has recently been criticized for comments he made regarding ethnicity.

Hare said they "represented the deep-seeded mental illness that represents America.

Countless dialogues and forums are not the answer to addressing the problem, he added. Hare quoted author W.E.B DuBois, saying that the 20th century's problem was the color line and "perhaps the 2 2 st century will bring a solution."

Being white is a state of mind that exists only as an opposition to being black, he said. sition to being black, he said.
Therefore, appronching each per. Therefore, approaching each person as an individual rather than son as an individual rather than as a representative of a race may be the most effective solution Allan Mazur, professor of solive solution.
All

Allan Mazur, professor of sociology, argued that disregarding the concept of race is not the answer because genetic differences would be also be ignored.
"I don't think we should go to the extreme of saying there are no racial categories," Mazur said.

He cautioned the audience that the category of race may be replaced with non-pleasing words such as sub-species, breeds and a variety of stock or strains to de seribe a type of human being.

Political science professor Daniel Holliman stated the hypocrisy in erasing a socio-historic problem of racism because now stience thas suddenly gotten a clue that there is no such thing as race"
"Science got us into this problem," Holliman said after quoting noted scholars from the $17 t h$ Century Age of Enlighten ment, such as Thomas Jefferson, Emmanuel Kant, John Locke and David Hume that created the notion that "blacks" and whites werc born with biological heir natural capabilities and intelligence.

If you want to know where the idea of race comes from," Hollimun said "it comes from our intellectual giants."

Scientific theory was used as a justification for oppressing the uinferior race" and now it is supposed to be eradicated because science says they made a mistake, he said.
"We inherited a legracy of intellectual discourse that gives us tellectual discourse that buing but race," he said.

Cathryn Newton, earth sciences department chairwoman, urged gatherers to celebrate racial diversity rather than focus on the cultural and societal evils that have been associated with them.

Dean of Hendricks Chapel

Want an internship for credit this semester?

There is still time!

For further information, contact Ellie Shinherr, Syracuse University Internship Program, 113 Euclid Avenue. Phone 443-4271.

Thomas Wolfe said there was no easy solution, even though the exhibit tries to capture it.

There is a temptation in the simplicity to ignore the complexity in this idea we call race, Wolfe said.

Yolanda Arrington, a senior broadcast journalism major, said the categories of race and racism will continue to flourish because of this complexity.
"I don't think there is a clearcut resolution for racism," she said. "We're too far into it to put an end to it.

Sophomore Sandi Pessin said that although race is not a biological reality, it still has a great effect on society.
"People say you can ignore race," Pessin said. "However our society is based on that. You can't ignore it because it does exist. People are treated differentist. People are treated differently. Race is something that's at knowledge it or not."

Youneed $\begin{aligned} & \text { no }\end{aligned}$ roll-on with $m$ zwainchan Prowt exttion.
a free, fult-color poster (18' $\times 24^{\prime \prime}$ ), write:
AIDS Poster 2. Box 2000. Albany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Department

The Daily Orange has a fully redesigned Web site, providing Syracuse University with all the news, all the time. In addition, the day's news, sports and lifestyle coverage, Daily Orange Online offers:

* Crossword puzzle answers * Hundreds of links to great Web sites * Campus event listings
* Special sections and special projects * Contact, subscription and advertising information
* Daily Orange archives

Daily Orange Online: Wiring you into Syracuse University.

BUDGET

continued from page 1

Financial aid granted to students from the university, how ever, increased by about $$ 4$ million, the report said.

But SU Student Government Association President Famal James called the numbers disproportional. The discrepancy financial aid is an issue of and ing dispute for SGA and of ongo student body said James, junior musical theater major, a ju ${ }^{-I}$ believe financial should go up," James said.

A concern for SGA is that university tuition rises without comparable financial aid increases, he said.
"The university is a business before it is an institution of learn ing," James said. "It has to make money. I think it's a shame.'

Marcoccia, however, said the tuition and financial aid numbers are proportional because from the 1997 fiscal year from the 1997 fiscal year.
the university is tuition source for the university is tuition and fuition and fees were given out in financial aid there would be no money for instruction."

James suggested that stu dents inform local legislators and university officials of their financial concerns.

Ask yourself how many classes you have that are taught by teaching assistants," he said. "Where's the big distinguished faculty?"

Residence Hall and

Food Services

The report cited dining services and residence halls at the top of the university's income producing activities.

During the 1998 fiscal year, SU garnered more than $$ 30 \mathrm{mil}$ lion in total revenue from resi-

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.metwo business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours 2at dence halls, about an $$ 870,000$ increase from last year. Income from dining services is about $$ 20$ million in revenue both years, the report said.

Although the numbers are labeled as income producing activities in the report, they do not represent profits for the university, Marcoccia said. He added that the majority of the money reported goes to covering university expenses.

Marcoccia declined to disciose the net amounts, citing univarsity confidentiality policies.

The university does not make money off of residence cia said. "Any amount in residence halls or dining services that is not used to pay for salaries or other expenses gets returned to the university's budget.
"We could lower the prices on residence halls and increase tuition," he added. "We still need to come up with an ' $X$ ' amount of money."

Several SU students are critical of the amounts of money generated by residence halls and dining services because they say "I can't speak on behalf of my organization, but personally $I$ think the quality of our food services is not worth that much money," Residence Hall Association President Jonathan Eisenmann said. could think the food services could improve," he added. "They are not very responsive to students. They eithor need 2 im price.

SU residence halls, however, are of comparable quality to other universities, said Eisenmann, a political science, economics and policy studies major.

One reason for SU's ability to generate a great deal of income

SU financial tax reports

| Source of income or debt | $\mathbf{1 9 9 8}$ fiscal year | $\mathbf{1 9 9 7}$ fiscal year | Difference |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Income generated from tuition and fees | $\$ 295,820,840$ | $\$ 280,267,007$ | $+\mathbf{+} 15,553,833$ |
| Financial aid granted to students from SU | $$ 99,610,524$ | $$ 95,292,346$ | $+$ 4,318,178$ |
| Revenue from residence halls | $$ 30,253,674$ | $$ 29,384,141$ | $+$ 869,533$ |
| Revenue from dining centers | $$ 19,340,637$ | $$ 19,793,841$ | $\mathbf{+ $ 4 5 3 , 2 0 4}$ |
| Parking service revenue | $$ 2,022,248$ | $$ 1,990,242$ | $+$ 32,006$ |

Compiled by Staff Writer Magin McKenna Source: intemal Revemue senice document from food services is a policy that mandates freshmen living on campus purchase a minimum of 14 meals perweek, Eisenmann said.

Parking revenue

The university collected about $$ 4$ million in total revenue from parking services during the 1997 and 1998 frscal years.
"It doesn't surprise me that they made that much money," said Stefanie Pollock, an undecided freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences. "They charge so much to do it."

Pollock, who pays about $$ 330$ a year to park in the underground Brewster/Boland garage, said her parking spot is not guaranteed
"When I tried B/B garage I found out the university had rented it out for the basketball game," Pollock said. "It's kind of frustrating when I'm paying that much to park and I can't even find a spot.

Another frustration is a fear that her vehicle will not be safely guarded in the area that surrounds the B/B Complex. Pollock
said.
tered the garage because endoors were wide open," Pollock said.

James recognized that parking concerns are often brought to SGA by students. But there is no simple solution to the problem, he said. "Our school is in the city," plain to me, I say "What do you want me to do, knock down Newhouse and build a student parking lot?'"

PRISM TRAVELT

For the best student airfares, conl

Get your raill pass from Prism Travell Student id carde avallable.

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN AUSTRALIA?

Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA

THURSDAY, February 3rd

AT 3PM

The Daily Orange has a fully redesigned Web site, providing Syracuse University with all the news, all the time. In addition, the day's news, sports and lifestyle coverage, Daily Orange Online offers:
> * Crossword puzzle answers
> * Hundreds of links to great Web sites * Campus event listings
> * Special sections and special projects
> * Contact, subscription and advertising information * Daily Orange archives

Daily Orange Onfine: Wiring you into Syracuse University.

RAPE

continued from page 1
cidents last year, according to the report.

The date-rape drugs are more accessible now than be ore," said Dolores Card, the cenr's director.

Card added that the drugs' endencies to exit a victim's blood cream quickly is combined with the anonymity the drugs give the attacker. This gives that attacker a false sense of security and makes that person think they will not be caught, she said.

The use of the date-rape drugs first began to appear at SU three years ago, Card said. Since then evidence of the drugs' usage has been prevalent, she said.

To avoid daterape drugs, students should watch drinks being poured - whether they condrinking from open containers like pitchers of beer or punch Card said. It only takes a second Card said. It only takes a second drink, she added.

The Daily Orange

"One of my close friends had something put in her drink," said Amanda Cohen, a freshman international relations major. "We were just really glad we were here to bring her home.

Card advised that students who think they are suffering the the center immediately. The number of the center is posted in both men and women bathrooms on campus and counselors are available at the center during all hours.

Medical evidence needs to be gathered within 72 hours of a rapein order to be usedin a criminal prosecution, because of the crime's 30 day statute of lim: itation, Card said.

Punishment

Victims, after contacting the center, are given the option of ment for the accused rapist, Card said. Punishment can cither come hrough criminal prosecution or disciplinary action through Judi-

THRUWAY

continued from page 1
"This is just the beginning of the proposal," Frost said, adding host four public meeting win Syracuse, Buffalo, Albany and the Hudson River Valley region before beginning the project.
${ }^{4}$ This process requires public input," she said. "We will take all input, she said. We will take all ments."

Increased tolls, however, will eventually add another exbudgets, said Lauren Williamson, a sophomore surface pattern design and art education major.
cial Affairs. Only a fraction of the people utilizing the center choose to prosecute their attackers, Card said

Judicial Affairs gives sexual assault victims and accused atackers the choice of having a tudent or faculty board hear the case.

In Urtz's experience, all casdicial Affairsalt brought to du ulty board, she said.

Disciplinary action ranges rom separation of the two involved students to the attacker's dismissal from the university, Urtz said.

Ruling can be difficult in sexual assault cases because of the emotions involved and the in uences of alcohol, Urtz said ff campus are treated equally, she added.
"Students think Judicial Affairs only applies to (SU) real estate," she said. "The Code of Student Conduct applies to students no matter where they are, even if they're studying abroad."

1999 SU sexual assault statistics
Cases of assault or counseling
Reported incidences
On-campus incidences
Off-campus incidences 20
Off-campus incidences 22
Number of incidences involving date-rape drugs
14
Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kate Stevenson
Source: SU R.A.P.E. Center

Despite the difficulty of determining consent, punishment would more likely be given by Judicial Affairs than a criminal in vestigation by the city police, Urtz said. A criminal rape trial re quires that guilt is proven without any doubt.

Judicial Affairs operates by standard of proof, as in a civil tri al, where an event needs to be proven it most likely happened she said.

Sexual assault is the most rapidly growing violent crime in the United States, according to tion. The association added that fewer than half of all apes are re ported.

Card said even fewer rapes are reported on college campuses - about 4 percent. She said the rape statistics at SU are consis tent with other colleges, but she stressed their seriousness.
"Rape is a lifelong concern," she said. "Anywhere you live, be aware and learn to trust your in stincts."
"Tolls are already too expensive, especially in New York state," said Williamson, a Long sland resident. "You wonder why they're so much higherin New Yorik."

But despite the inconve. mence of increased tolls Williamson said road improve ments are especially important in a state that is subject to weathering by heavy snow.
increasing tolls is the best method to raise revenue for those road repairs, said Renee Hanhart, a senio major.
major. ${ }^{\text {"The }}$ way the economic system is set up, the tolls are the only way to go," Hanhart said.

Many students will not be affected by the increased tolls, however, because of infrequent trips home, she said.
"It only affects me twice a year really, said Hanhart, a Chicago resident. "It's not some thing I would notice until I wen home."

the EDE

No hope

The federal government provides free tests for low income women with no health insurance to help determine whether they might have breast or cervical cancer. But if the tests determine that you do have such a cancer, you'll be left pretty much on your own. Although the disease is often fatal, women who get the free tests often can't afford such treatment without help. Abundant research has shown that low-income, uninsured, black and Hispanic women. while less likely than the general population to get breast and cervical cancer, are more likely to die of these cancers once they contract them.

Tug of war
No one can say for sure how the ongoing custody dispute between Elian's Cuban father and his U.S. relatives will ultimately affect him. But Dan Reidenberg, 33, one of the first children in the United States to be given to a father in a custody dispute, affirms the researchers who say the long-term fallout of such battles can be devastating for children.

Cold snap

Snow requires folks to rethink their wardrobes. It shoves fashion to the back of the closet in favor of comfort, practicality and endurance. When you're layering, the lower layers should be hidden by the top layer. If you"re going to wear warm, furry boots for your commute, take shoes to change into at your office or school. The fashion industry manufactures all sorts of items designed for bad weather. But often these items are so expensive that one hesitates not only to buy them but also to traipse through muck in them.

quote  of the day:

"Moralicy is simply the atritude we adop towards people we. personally dislike." Oscar Wilde

Holly Auer, editor 443-2128 life@daily life@daily orange.com [lifestyle] SUGAR Students struggle with diabetes. See Lifestyle Thursday.

Every day last year, Zach Pollack ate frozen airline meals. But he wasn't busy rackiag up frequent-flyer miles. As an Orthodox Jew, Pollack struggled to adhere to the strict dietary regulations of mosphere full of hot dors and french mosphere full of hot cogs and french ries.

Although Syracuse University runs a kosher kitchen, the supervision procedures just weren't cutting it, he said. So instead, Pollack, a seplan to order frozen airline food for his three square meals a day.

Kosher dietary laws, which govern both the selection and preparation of food, originate in the Oid Testament. Kosher kitchens must include separate sets of cookware and dishes for dairy and meat products. Authentic kosher goods must bear the certification of a rabbinical organization that has overseen their production and can vouch for their purity.
population nearly 20 percent of SU's population identify themselves as Jewish, only a small handful - just four or five students - eat meals from Shaw Hall's six-year-old Brandt, Shaw Dining Hall manBrandt, Fhaw Dining Hall manager. For Friday night Shabbat services, however, about 90 students gather for a kosher meal in

Shaw. Additionally, about five students also take advantage of the university's Halal meal option, which caters to Islamic students in a similar manner.

SU's Hillel, a Jewish student organization, and an area rabbi jointly supervise Shaw's kosher kitchen alongside SU Food Services. The three parties deal with questions or problems from Kosher stu dents like Pollack on a one-to-one basis, Finkel director Sivan Kaminsky dietary needs can be found only when the groups work together, he when th added.

We want to find a way for the kitchen to meet everyone's needs, no matter what their definition of kosher is," Kaminsky said, "We or say 'Either you eat here under this plan or you don't eat."

Noting the dining halls' new vegan selections, Brandt said food ser vices personnel always strives to learn about alternative eating habits and provide appropriate options. "We try to accommodate all kinds of people," he said. kinds of people," he said.

Comfort food

Since Pollack was wary of the kosher kitchen's preparation practices, he looked elsewhere for his food, even though the university required him to carry - and pay for a standard meal plan in the dining halls while living on campus halls while living on campus.

See KOSHER page 14

Coplin touts good deeds  BY SAPNA KOLLALI  initiative to help others and the commu-

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
A Iittle teasing doesn't really bother Bill Coplin.

The director of Syracuse University's Public Affairs Program and a policy studies professor in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Aftairs, Coplin is well aware of the stigma surrounding, and he welcomes the joking among his friends and colleagues.
"When they make fun of me, a lot of times it's because they're afraid of becoming a 'do-gooder,' Coplin said. "And hey, if that's the case, then go right ahead."
Coplin's new book, "How You Can Help: An Easy Guide to Doing Good Deeds in Your Everyday Life," is his first trade book. It hit bookstore shelves about one-and-one-half months ago. It aims to combat the negativity surrounding the term "do-gooder," which sometimes prevents people from taking the nity.
"The term has such a negative connotation, and I really wanted to change that because I think it's important to give part of yourself "ack to the community," in our society." just not a positive term in our society."

How You Can Help" details simple good deeds readers can incorporate into their everyday lives. The book also lists more han 100 accredited charities and come involved.

Coplin, a life-long volunteer and author of 14 previous public policy books, wrote his first trade book as a resource for people looking for ways to become involved in the community. He added in profiles of people - from Ralph Nader and Nelson Mandela to Wendy Kopp, a Teach for America worker, and Susan Anderson, a member of the Literacy Volunteers of America in Wisconsin - who are good citizens and have made contribu-

See COPLIN page 13

Readjustment proves difficult

I was in London last semester. It seemed like a four-month-long dream. It was hard to believe that I still attended Syracuse University while studying in a mansion in the center of Notting Hill instead of the depressing,Annemarie Bello

london
calling snowy SU Hill. It's hard to believe that life goes on without you for family and close riends. The normal, everyday life you are ceased, and you ar ceased, and you are thrown into a new, exciting city life. You are expected to find a fat, flatmates, start classes and search for a group of people who could maybe substitute for those you left behind at campus - all in one day.

It didn't really work; it's impossible
See LONDON page 13

The Daily Orange

that's at home or at school.* Coplin said he began his book, in part, because he wondered why there is in fact such a negative air abou "do-gooders." He said he looked up "do-gooder" in Web ster's Dictionary and found "an earnest often naive humanitarian or reformer," a definition he found troubling. People who merit recognition often try not to stand out as "do-gooders" for fear of this label.
"It's almost like they"re embarrassed," he said.

In an attempt to create a sense of normality to doing good and to ward off the shyness and modesty of "do-gooders," Coplin encourages everyone to become involved in something

Students in Coplin's PAF

101 class must complete five hours of community service in order to pass the class.
"It's just to put their toe in it, get a taste for it," he said. "They can go over but this is just to help them get started. Five hours during one entire semester is not much. And many of them continue after their five hours and after they have finished my class."
Sandra Derstine, a fresh man policy studies major fulfulled ber community service requirement last semes ter at Wilson Parls Community Center on McBride Street She is now taking Coplin's PAF 416 , which also works with Wilson Park.
"I have a feeling I'll keep working with them for next three years," she said.
"How You Can Help" is required reading for PAF 416, and Derstine said she enjoyed reading her adviser's book.
"It has a lot of good ideas for people," she said. "A lot of people think that to do good, you have to drop everything. You can be successful and rich and still help the community."

To further publicize his ideas, Coplin started a Web site, www.genuinedogooder.com, with information about his book, and helpful hints on becoming involved in community service.

He has also begun marketing a "Genuine Do Gooder" designer logo. Some students have already put the logo on shirts and will expand it to other items, incIuding hats.

Coplin said the products will be sold at the SU Bookstore, and the proceeds will go toward Web site maintenance and resources for his students' projects.

Some of Coplin's colleagues, friends and Manlius neighbors say he may have taken his enthusiasm too far, Coplin said, and people sometimes mock his Lexus, which sports "Do Good" on the license plate. But he said that this not only gets the word out" about doing good, it clearly supports fis ideas of "doing good.
"You don't have to be 100 percent pure," he said. "None of us are Mother Teresa. We all have time constraints. Anything you can do is something."
side of the road or stand on the extreme right side of the escalators in my local mall expecting to see Londoners whiz by to catch the Central Line tube.

I suppose I have adjusted to shopping in a mall, but it hardly compares with my routine Sunday browsing and bargaining in Camden Town. I continue to adjust to dorm life versus living in a flat, where I made my own food and could walk anywhere with a beer - or a wine bottle, for that matter - in my hand and not think twice. I continue to struggle with driving my car that needs a week in the body shop versus the quiet, "library" atmosphere of the tube.

And there's hardly any sense in comparing weekends in Syracuse versus those in London. And what happened to the holiday season? When I came home, Christmas was all of a sudden thrust upon me, and I felt the usual expectation to get gifts and resume my role as a daughter, sister and best friend.

I am terrified that I will forget my memories of last semester because the dis heartening, miserable Syracuse weather causes me to realize just how much I miss London.

If reading this causes you to think twice about studying abroad, ignore my insanity and pack up your life in two suitcases and a carry-on. Be sure to kiss the Blarney Stone, visit the Eiffel Tower and capture every angle of Stonehenge on film. And don't forget to visit your local Tesco and bring me back some Hobnobs and Hula Hoops.

Asst. Copy Editor
Annemarie Bello is a junior psychology major. E-mail her at abello@syr.edu.
you finally get in your car, you open the passenger side expecting to see the steering wheel.

The old don't know what it's like to sit through a three-hour production of "Candide," walk through Leicester Square on a Saturday night. They will never know what it's like to keep looking over your shoulder while walking on Portobello Road, expecting to see Hugh. They will never understand the severity of missing my train to Holyhead, Wales, and having only two hours to race and catch a ferry across the Irish Sea or miss my entire pre. paid trip to Ireland.

It's a good thing I made that ferry, or I would never have known how perfectly U2 songs complete a drive through the Irish countryside. I remember my friends pulling me away from my last sight of the famous Florentine cathedral, The Duomo. I remember my last day in London, when I walked all over the city attempting to see everything one last time. I did forget a little bit of Amsterdam, but all things considered, who doesn't?

Before I left SU, no one told me about reverse culture shock. I never thought an American accent would sound foreign. This awareness wouldn't have kept me from getting on the plane, but it felt like a slap in the face when I landed at New York City's John F. Kennedy Airport.

I no longer spell organized with an 's' or behavior with a 'u' or write the date with the day before the month. There is no more Guinness pie or traditional fish and chips at my fingertips. And how many times in my first week back did I look for cars coming on the right

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN E. Europe, Russia or GERMANY?  Wednesday, February 2nd AT 3PM  For further information,

 Come to the Info Meeting at Dipa contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 orbaprucha@summon3.syr.edu

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

KOSHER

continued from page 11
Pollack advocates allowing kosher students to be exempt from typical meal plan requirements, so they can spend their meal plan funds on certified kosher food and cook it themselves rather than worrying about the dining halls" kosher practices. tions," he said "Sto be exceptions," he said. "SU is a human organization, and theres no reason for technicalities to get in and financially.
"It says all over the handbooks and applications here that $S U$ is a student-centered doesn't feel the said. "But it can't even eat what I need to."

Ariel Wolinsky, a sophoore undeclared major in The College of Arts and Sciences, said she became frustrated with Shaw's rules for obtaining kosher meals. In order to get a kosher breakfast, lunch or dinner, students must call several hours in advance. Her busy class schedule, however, pre vented her from planning in advance, and she generally stuck to eating vegetarian selections and pasta, both of which also meet kosher standards, in the dining hall.

The Daily Orange

After a year of struggling through the monotony of pasta dining hall dinners, Wolinsky obtained a waiver to move offcampus, where she can maintain her own sosher kitchen. But dietary needs, it lockers to her dietary needs, it locks her that usually accompanies college mealtimes.
"I end up cooking alone every night," she said. "After a while, that's not so fun."

But Kaminsky said he hopes that the small number of student complaints doesn't set the tone for the entire kosher

\section*{Digital Printing  hi-res color/bsw output  XEROX DocuColor 40  CANON CLC 700  2 Great Choices for Color Printing From Your Mac or PC Files  | Phen | Marihail Squarc Malt | M-F: Tam-Midnile |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Saturday: Yarn-7pm |  |  |}

VINCENT APTS.

105 Smith Lane, Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN"
Call 424-0250for more info!
http:www.longley-jones.com
(5) Longley Jones

1) heat includedi
2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

To Beal Inflation

 There's Really ()nly
One Choice

Invest in Series I Bonds. They're safe. They're guaranteed to stay ahead of inflation for 30 years. And you can get started with just $$ 50$. Visit us at www.savingsbonds.gov to find

Mrwosevingstonds.gov
A public service of this newspaper dining program, which he said is flexible enough to cater to most people's definitions of kosher eating.
"There will always be two or three unsatisfied customers, everywhere - from the kosher kitchen at SU to Amazon.com,' he said.

Branching out

Students at other universities also struggle to meet kosher dietary needs.

Only a few predominantly Jewish univergities in the nation boast extensive kosher dining plans. While schools such as deis University have and Brandeis University have large Jewish populations, most mall pockversities have only a small pockgenerally makes the establish. ment of kosher kitchens costprohibitive.

Some schools, however, find ways to provide for all students without breaking the bank. The eaking the bank.

University of Pennsylvania, for instance, strives to provide inclusive dining options for all its students. Penn offers comprehensive kosher meal plans and snack bar offerings, served in the campus Hillel, for about the same amount of SU's semesterly meal plan rates.

After being unimpressed with her school's kosher offerings, Maryanna Silverman, a senior economics major at American University to a steady angton, D.C. resorted to a steady chips and candy bars potato are generally kosher. AU, she are generally kosher. AU, she penses incurred by a kosher penses incurred by a kosher

Kam
Kaminsky, too, believes oss that kos fear the monetary lishments usually lead to wasted dollars from leftover food and salaries for kosher cooks and supervisors. But he said schools should treat the process as a service to students with special needs - not like a business.
"Kosher kitchens are certainly a black hole for money, but it's a losing prospect if universities are counting the dollar as their bottom line, ${ }^{\text {n }}$ he said. Instead of bearing the bur den or purchasing kosher food for preparation and providing proper supervision for cooking schools examine the possibitities of bringing in private restau rants or snack bars, like Pizza Cave a national kosher pizze ria chain.

But it's a cyclical problem she said. Since most colleges don't offer kosher meal plans they don't attract a large Jewish population, and then the few Jews who do attend aren't given the proper options.
"With this kind of problem, you really don't know what came first the chicken or the egg," she said.  \section*{}  \section*{}

Take a FREE Test Drive and find out!

Now is your chance to take a praclice test under real test conditions. Experience Kaplan's Jest Dtivo and you'll receive individual leedbeck on your pertormance. Don't miss this free opportunity to find out how you would seore on the real exam. $\stackrel{3}{2}$
Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M.
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Hall of Languages

Or take it online from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

1-80B-KAP-TEST kaptest.com

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

Slumping Orangewomen lose third straight at Nova

Staff Reports
The slide continued for he Syracuse women's basketball team Tuesday night as it dropped a 57-44 decision at Villanova.

The loss was the Orangewomen's third in a row and dropped their record to 8-10 The Blg East)

The Orangewomen's last victory came on Jan. 19 to the them by 13 at The Pavilion. In the previous meeting. Syracuse downed Villanova 66-42 at Manley Fieldhouse.

SU started quickly against the Wildcats on Tuesday, scoring the games first seven points. However, VU battled back and with 7:19 left in the first half, sophomore forward Stephanie Baker hit a layup to give the Wildcats an $18-17$ advantage. The Orangewomen would never see the lead again

23-21
at halftime, mainly because fthe Orangewomen's continued shooting woes.
SU, which suffered through a horrid shooting afternoon Saturday in a 65-63 come loss to West Virginia, hot just 33 percent from the ield in the first half against Nova.

The wildcats used a 12 -0 un early in the second half to pull away from SU. VU senior guard Jenear Skeeters keyed After the seven points. Wildcats' lead ballooned to as much as 18 before the even tual 13 -point final margin
Freshman guard Tris Juhline led the way for Nova with 20 points, while Skeeters chipped in 14
Junior forward Beth Record led the way for the Orangewomen with il points. The team-high performance comes on the heels of Record's worst outing of the season, when she scored just six points in the Ioss to WVU.

Shannon Perry, who had

SPANKED

continued from page 20
The closest Syracuse came to winning a match was in senior Shawn Thomas ${ }^{\text {7-3 }}$ man Kalen Pascal - still adman Kalen Pascal - still adtion lost a $17-2$ decision.

The seven SU competitors lost to the Bears by an aggregate 75-18, and seven of those points were courtesy of Mike Noonan.

Another grappler trying to find his niche is sophomore John Soden. He suffered SU's lone pin - in 42 seconds.
"Anytime you're shut out, it's just unacceptable," Miller said. "Brown just beat us up wrestling match

Despite the poor showing against Brown, SU had a chance to pull its first dual meet victory a day earlier against BC. The Orange lost 12 points to forfeit, but gained half of them back as Noonan picked upa no-contest win in the 133-pound slot.

Continuing his stellar freshman season and gaining ome revenge, Brett Cowen defeated the Eagles Evan viously decisioned Cohen $7-4$ in the Wilkes Open in early January.

It was an important win for me," Cowen said, "because he beat me last time. It was a good experience for me. (The first time) I wrestled extremely poor. I was out of position, not offensive and weak on defense. This time, I wanted to keep him off balance."

Also continuing with a great individual season amidst team chaos was Like Like Cowen, SU's captain faced a rematch - with BC's Dan Degan. Unlike Cohen, however, Thomas scored a pin in their first showdown, the Mill Degan in 1:31 at Wrestling Tournament. This time Thomas put Degan orr his back in 2:08.
"Shawn pinned Degan a wrestler BC coaches think highly of - for the second time in a month," Miller said. "Shawn proved it was no a double-double with 18 points and 13 rebounds against West Virginia, gave against West Virginia, gave another strong outing as.she down seven boards.

Sophomore guard Jaime James, the poster girl for SU's poor shooting against West Virginia as she hit just 1 of 16 shots, finished with eight points against the Wildcats.

Entering the game, James was hitting just 29.2 percent of her shots, includ the 37.9 perint arc O-point arc.
Overall, the Orangewomen continued to shoot poorly, hitting just 27.5 perleld. SU will try to from the hooting - and wingin touch when it travels to Rutgers for another conference battle Sunday at 2 p.m.

Compiled by Asst. Sports Editor Connor Ennis.
fluke.'
With seven dual matches remaining in the season, SU has little to fight for in terms of the postseason. Cowen and Thomas can make runs at rest of the young wrestlers can gain much-needed experience for next year, when they should be ready to reload with a rull injury-free roster, Miller said.

The Orange get their next chance to improve in matches against Cornell and Col umbia on Saturday. The Columbia dual is Surst hume m months.
'It's the end of the season," Cowen said. "People have to suck it up and go all out. There are no excuses for a poor job."

GEAR SWAP

syracuse university outing club At the Outing Club Equipment Barn

Climbing,

Hiking and  Skiing equipment.

call $\mathbf{4 2 6 - 1 9 6 1}$ for info

GEAR: Anything relating to the outdoors can be sold: boots, rain gear, books, climbing shoes, headlamps, cross country skis, clothes, etc. All in good condition.

DROP OFF: Equipment to be sold can be dropped off at the Outing Club equipment barn (Back Door) from 6-9 pm Wednesday $2^{\text {nd }}$ or Thursday $3^{\text {rd }}$. Establish prices, fill out seller's form, and leave equipment to be displayed the following days.

BUY: Equipment can be purchased at the Outing Clut equipment room, in the red barn, from 5 to 9 pm on Friday the $4^{\text {min }}$ or 10 to 4 pm on Saturday the $5^{\text {¹ }}$.

WHERE: The swap is in the Red Barn on South Campus just betow the Goldstein Student Center.

Q&A

continued from page 20 A: You bet. Jason Hart is the court-savviest point guard the better point men in the country. Ryan in the country. Ryan maneuver his 6-foot-8 frame maneuver his 6 -foot the right spot at the right time. Why do you think right time. Why do you think sive rebounds against Connecticut?
Q: How about Etan
Thomas?
A: Thornas plays on instinct. Man drives, Thomas moves with him. Man jumps, Thomas jumps with him. That's what gets him all the blocked shots. That's aliso why he is in foul trouble so often.

Q: What's his problem?

A: Sometimes Thomas doesn't move his feet. He carries 255 extremely solid pounds. If he can learn to honestly, is dependent on his development from the waist down he and Hart will carry this team far.

Q: How far?
A: As far as they want. The only team in this country that is a head above $S U$ right now is No. 1 Cincinnati. The Bearcats matci: up well with the Orangemen, running a solid seven-deep. Kenyon Martin against Etan certainly would be fun to watch.

Q: No it wouldn't. Martin would throw him around like Chris Seabrooks did at Pitt.
ther case of
Thomas not moving his feet.

Q: Is it chronic?
A: Nah, I don't think so SU assistant Bernie Fine does wonders with big men. does wonders with big men.
He developed Rony Seikaly He developed Rony Seikaly Otis Hill. He must have talked with Thomas and straightened him out.

Q: Fine didn't make J.B Reafsnyder into an all-conference center.

A: True.
Q: Billy Celuck?
A: Point taken.
Q: And Jeremy McNeil?
A: OK!
Q: Seriously, why else are you confident in this team? 'They've got the seniors and

A: And a bunch of kids who can shoot the lights out Exact A bunch of kids actly my point
A: So what if they're

Wild things are happening

Bell Atlatic knows which way the future is headed, and we want you tea go with us. We are one of the top perfortiners in the trody competitive communications and information industry ... essentially a one-stop sliop for all of our costomers' communication needs.

Werc looking for bright, innovative, high-energy people to join us in positions fronn Maine to West Virginia and belp us design a wildly different world. I Iere, yon'll use yent bachelor's degrec in Civil, Electrical, Industrial or Mechanical Enginecring: Computer Science: Teleconmmonications; or Math to play a key role in designimp. supporting and/or mantaining out of the antion's mose styphistiented tefecom networks. Business, Aecounting and Operations majors are aise encouraged to appy for operational support positions. To fint out more, contact your Cateer Scrvices office. and sec us at the following events:
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Information Session: } & \left.\begin{array}{l}\text { February 9th } \\ \\ \\ \\ \\ \text { Schine Student Center } \\ \text { On-campus Interviews: February 10th \& }\end{array}\right\}\end{array}$
Or for more specife information ahout the entry-level positions avaibable, visit our Wel site at www.BellAthntic.eom. Bell Alantic is an equal opporthaty/affirmative action employer.
www.BellAtlantic.con
oung? Sophomores Tony Bland and Preston Shum are not afraid to take 3 pointers, and freshman he's not afraid to take any shot.

Q: Couldn't that pose a problem, the fact that $S U$ might be too reliant on its outside shooting?

A: The Orange drilled 6 of 13 threes in the first half against the Red Storm but attempted just two in the second half. SU's reliance on he triples is limited; a solid $2-3$ zone can - and does work against SU. Before Williams and Shumpert began canning bals, the seven points.

Q: And th started to fall? it busted th
A: quicker than Eric Williams was relegated to the bench last season.
Q: Why'd Jim Boeheim sit Eric down? He had potential.

A: He had potential potential to anger Boeheim. Anyway, the coach liked this skinny kid out of Seneca Vocational in Buffalo, Damone Brown.
$Q$ : All 6-foot-9, 185 pounds of him?

A: Same Damone who's scoring 12 points per game and providing $S U$ with the prototypical '90s basketball player it needs. He's like a Donnell Harvey at Florida or a DerMarr Johnson at lincinati. umps, he dunks.

Q: And sometimes he seems lost.

A: That's because sometimes he is. Brown looks for the alley-oop too much and needs more diversity in his game. When not in the zone on defense, he has a tendency to lose his man. Still, Brown's job this season is as a supporting player. Boeheim leaves the leadership to Hart.
You? : You like Hart, don't you?

A: I do. He's tall (6-foot4), confident ("I think I'm the best defensive player," hame) and a grizzled vet (four years starting).

Q: And, uh, his shooting?
A: Hart's a point guard. He passes the ball - and the passes season he's passing it to this season he's passing it game. He plays great game. He plays great defense. Shutting down Khalid El-Amin is no easy task.

Q: Uh, his shooting? A: All right, so he connects on just 39 percent of his field goals. Remember, though, it's not about his overall percentage. Hart hits big shots. His triple against St. John's tied the game at 54 and eventually helped Syracuse eek out the victory $Q$ : Will $S U$ win the Big East?

A: Wrong question, buddy. I think this one is more appropriate: "By how many games will SU win the Big East?"

Jeff Passarz is an assistant sports editor at The Dally Orange, where his columns appear regularly mail him at jspassan@syr.edu.

IF YOU'RE NOT RECYCLING YOU'RE THROWING IT ALL AWAY.

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

When in Hell...
by Eric Jones

Sleep Deprivation

Out of Town
by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

|  |
| :---: |

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

Eat the Lettuce
by Thane Bensọn

Classic
Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style by Ryan Wickstrand

18 [classifieds] ${ }^{\text {momatione }}$

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 c$ each additional word $5 c$ extra each bold word $5 c$ extra each CAP word Charges are PRERISSUE $&$ ar Pro-paid by: Cash check, Master Card, Visa or biscover
Deaditine: 2 pm
2 business days AOS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE # Ads can be malled with cheok to. Tha Daity Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 13210 : Att Classifieds: OR Faxed with Credit Card to:315-443-3689

EMPLOYMENT
Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in Pocono wins.
counser 40 activities -seelking speciajist
$1-800-533$-camp

Job Opportunities

BONUSES plus guaranteed hounty rata lor
 5-9PM. $1 / 17-3 / 19$. Requited pleasant speaking
WANTED

Child Care

Cisero touple seeks reaponside, depercabie oning studend to care lor our two childaran, ages 1.1/2 and 3. apprcaimately $12-15$ hours ber cail 698.4331 or emait: ramaemelecs com Eabysifter fiteded Daytime Evening and Weekend hours Two Giffs

Help Wanted
More than just SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camo consobiots maded tos a privale, residential carro he peautul Pocona kins. We are boxing to dversty, and a desere ta share peir passion and axertise in any of the following areas: COMPUTEAS, CIRCUS AATS. BASKEIBALL, MABIC GISHING WATER-SKIING THEATHE, SALING, IDEO. ChEATIVE WRITING, ESL, SOCCER ADIO AOCK MUSIC. GOL ETAY, NEWSPAPER. FINE ARTS.
GEATIUE CRAFTS, ROUNTAIN BIKING civina wall

Fratemities ${ }^{*}$ Sorcoities

Siutent organizations earn $$ 1,000-$ 2.000$ winh the vent. No sales tequited. Fundraising dotes ase lling quickly, so call tedioy! Contect whw.campusfundraiser.com.
St500 weekly potendial mailing our citculars. No 2028-452.7679.
Are You Connected? inuemet Users Wantect $$ 75$

Roommates

Reommate wanted to share 3 lerge bedroom

 paundry 457 -5751Suble! needed, 4 person Apartment. Ackerman vee 4 bocks lo canpus call Pole. 473-9025

Misc. Wanted

WANTEO: so Sarious Poopla to Ioase meight

| FOR RENT  Univarsity Area 2.3 Bedrogm furnished  Apartments $ingie Houses for rent. Cal  Jim 668-7473    Semester coly (1 Semester) Augusi 2000 to  December 31. 2000. Great location! Call 637-5779.  LUXURIOUS: 2story apyolt, Gourmat kivgif. Custorn lourgentiv area, Shylight 15 tt ceiling. ELEGANTLY OVERLGOKING PAPK: ISt   bath, porches.  OSTFOMAMADISOA: A apts fum 8 hoaled.  HO PETSI Negotiabla lazess.  Call for apot 469-0780 |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Two Bedroom Apartmenta on Euclid Funsished

4Bedrooms, OaklandSt., 18lock ESF. 3Blocks porches, Excellient condition. Augusti, 475 F-0690
Univarsity Ave. tive badrom House one block

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

302 Marshall St 69 Comstock Ave 319 Euclid Ave 45 Avondale Place

Available for 2000-2001 ully Furnished, Laundry Mamtenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet antlor Fefinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Bath

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Apartments close to campus clean 2-3-5 bedrooms same with fireptice laundry purking semiturnished fontarabie price $487-561$. 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave

917 Ackerman Ave
115 Redfield Place
1011 E Adams St
145 Avoridale Place
Availatle tor 2000-2001 Fulfy Fumished, Laundry Mainlenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Fefinished Hardwood Floors
Femodeled Kitchens and Baths University Area Apls 1011 E. Adams St ${ }^{16} 30$ 79-5005 www.universityarea.com

Large Eingle Farniy furrishot house. Parking freplace tree liwnity, distiwneset manturg ienan

 682-3304University Comstack nice furnished quist ciean 2-3 bedroom apartments panking Litilies included toasonable others 478-2642

Houste nicely fumisher grads need romma: $$ 3200$ month 478.26 .42
Univerity Ave. Three Eedroom Flat Case Walk to Cancus fumished taundy parking fease S875.C0
pless trities Qu.Drucker 445 -1229

Beautilus 3 Bedroom Townhousas. Wakikno distante to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms, lots of closet space, 1 1/2 Ealhs, Diningroom, Livingroom Ofl Streel Parking wity Garage.A Must See!! 469.8417 of 475.5643

FOUF EEDROOX -EDGE OF CABPUS 228 Euctio, across trom Shaw Domm. treo parking. dishwaster liund , microwave. new porch- Jerry, or Tona- 474 -7541. 446-631. 5 top clean 3 badroan agniknents Fiteplace parking. Manndfy t*mi-fumishtyt, waik to SU,

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS
SPACIOUSMARISHED, DUSHWASHER PARKMG S175 PER WONTH 476-9933

\section*{L(.)(.)K  First Week  Advertised  AdVertised Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast  Call 655-2175

for more info

}
for more info

}

Adcorman fisausitul Largo Fumistred Flats Horeses 2,3,4,5,6 Becruoms. Forches. Fireptacess, Garagas, Laundyy Pot OK $446-3420$.
Adcermsn Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroom apes. Furtishec crapated, walk to campus. Wel mainainect. lanse 466-7202
1-2-3 Bedroom Aparmmenta, Beaudital, Spacious, Fumished Low Utirition

Apartments
Lug 2 bedroom, 2 tub bath Walktry distance
 Answin Cerper fermoed Foces

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709
please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGES SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4.5,6,7

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM
Eniversity and Comatocik Very dose to Campus
Efiecences and Two Sedroons Spart

1 Bedroom and

 Studio Apartments 2000-2001Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Gall Gordon 476-2982
-
Rooms, Eri.AAT's Homes & fown housas

- Socurity System with - Doak 3oh Locks - Remodefed Full Custom Kitchen/Baths Kitchens include: Gourmet Seff-cleaning Overs, Garbage Disposals, Microwaves, Disłwashers - Wall to Wa carpets & Padding (dike home) - Some Apts include Al Unitios $E$ Eumishad Saft Aroas within Walking Dlistance to Campust Westcolt, Clarendion, Ackorman, Evingstion.
o chock out your homa away trom homet
AI Your SERVCE:

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
most including - Smoka, Hapt a Sprinkici Svstem * Laundry Fbuilites on Premisos On-atrees Parking Super inzulated imenance Lancuster

CALL 478-6504

Apts For Rent  3 BR Clarendon

 June$250 Per person Parking, micro
BENTUPPER 637-0978

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walrut Ave.

2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Uiilities included. Fully furnished. Rents start at $275. Relmushed hardwoos Townhouses. Remodeled kitctens and baths. Dishwasters. Porches. Laundry Parking. 24 hour maintonance.
www.universityara Unwiversityarea.cori 479-5005

| APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000-20001 RENTALS  1,2,3,4 Bedroom Apartrients Sunmer, Eutiot, Ackermant Excmitent Condition Fominhed. Some inciude Utilities. Cali 422-0138. |
| :---: |

Sest Duy on Hamsonsl Clean Ovee Ona-bedrom and swait lune fease. Furnished widties inctuded. 472-5906.
Ona and Two Bedroom
Furrished Apartrients. Corner of Walnut and Hanison Avenusis Leases Commenco June 2000. Hamison Aventuss Leases Commence June 2000.
asti Month and Socyrity No Pets Alowed. Graduates Prelerred Call 422 - 7755 One Sedroom Apartments Cione to Camputs
 $1,23,445$ bedroom apantrents Furnished, all carnpus neas taw school + ESt way + kegiss avalability. $446-9598$.

collegehome

THREE BEDROOMS

BEAUTIFULIY FURNISHED
CALI JOHN Or JUDY
478-7548
478-7548

LANCASTER AVENUE

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS

2 blocks from carnpus.

Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest fents for mode new construction. www.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts.

479-5005  www.universityarea.com

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Oft Street Parking Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

ONE BEDROOM

APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933.

2 Sodroon Apts 202.204 Cstrom wo Euclid Ex Aveil or Aug 446-5186

| Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577 |
| :---: |
| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT |
| Your off-campus home for 2000-01 |
| Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments |
| double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer off street parking |
| call today PEIEA 477-5052 |

Studio Apartmonte beginning at $\mathbf{5 2 6 5}$ poe, month sorme with 9 month lasess, with utities. furnitures. private kittitien and bath. microwave, carpliting or oakwood lioors, taundry

One +2 bedrom futhished aparements. Al wiltie nctuded! $$ 370$, $480/ma One mile trom camplas. aundry, parking. carpating. security beäding Avalabie immedituet. May craucust $446-9598$.

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Au
445-0540

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM

February 2, 2000

 ocused for next year, and I chance on the court I have to un the team. I've got to be a big part of thint next year."Griffin appears to have every reason to be upset, but keeps the positive attitude that is the key to a team's success

Former SU forward Eric Williams spent three years being upset over lack of playing time, until he transferred to UMass

But Griffin is no Eric Williarms, and transferring is out of the question. Grifin a year. a year. should be unhappy, Griffin should be unhappy, Griffin said. not tough situation. Only cow. ards run away from tough situations. Only people who don't know what adversity is. Adversity is what makes you become a stronger person and what makes you become a man.

[classifieds]

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flat, furnished stove, retrig, laurdry, fireplace, garage.
Avai June $151446-4229$

NEW BURY APARTMENTS Great University Area Beautiful Modern 182 Bedroom Apt, All Brand
New Appl. (AC, Dishwasher) Heat & New App. AC, , Dishwasher)
Hot Water Included. Security Buildings Whntercoms & Door Releases. Custom Made Slinds, Choice of Porch or Patio. Of Street Bus Line. 24 Hour Maintenance. Starting at $550.00. Call 478-0277 Ask for Patricia or Stop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located Also Of E. Brighten) Also...Great Location) Beautitul 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 c garage, huge yard, oft Layafyette road $$ 1200.00$

1 Bedroom Furnished/Uniurnished. Waking distance S.U. Laundry availabte. Off Street Parking. Call 422-7305

| TOAD HALL  1/2 block from campus.  Modern 2 bedroom apartments.  Wall to wall carpet.  Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven). wwwuniversityarea.com 479-5005 |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

| One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood fioors, turnished, laundry, quiet building, close to campus, utilities included. 476-2982 |
| :---: |

University 283 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flats. Inexpensive and mint condition. Washernoye Fireplace, finished basement, Call 449-0 Large 3 bedroom. 2 lutl bath. Walking dislance S. U. oft street parking. Laundry. Call 422-7305.

Houses

UNIVERSITY
HILL REALTY 422-0709
please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL_COM

(5)And Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostaom Ave | adjaca |
| :--- |
| 3633 |

Charming English Tudor House on Constock 6

RENT YOUR OWN HOME OUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933

Now Renting For Faul 2000 Large 5 bedroom house paint. Heat ircluded! Olt Slreet Parking, laundry romm and ear. Great Location! Call $637-5779$.
2000/200 Lovely Furnished 5-Bedroom Housc.
Fireplaco Free L-aundry Harwood Fioors
2-Porches 2.Porches s230hedroom Also 4-Eedroom House $5255 /$ Bedroom 446-7611

SUBLET

Room in 2 person Apl. availabte starting in Spring 2000. Furnished. carpeted. air condil utilfies, $1 / 2$. block lrom campus. $475-7938$ Room in 2 person Apl. availabie starting in Spring 2000. Furnished, carpeted, air conditioned. Low utitfies, $1 / 2$ blook from campus. 479 -5005

SERVICES Travel

SPRING BREAK 2000

 CANCUN*JAMAICA*NASSAU Space is limitedCALLTODAY!! 800-293-1443 www.StudentCity.com

CANCUN SPRING BREAK From $$ 399$ Includes 14 FREE meals, 23 Hours of Friee Dtinks. We Are The Eggast. The Bost. And The Least Expensive The Eggest. The 8ost. And The Least Expensive Play While You Pay! 6 Month Payment Plan
 SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK
S75 8 UQ Fer Person wrwertreatmy rilebeach con
$1.600 .645-3618$ -800.645-3618
SPRING EREAK! Unbeatable deals to Dominican Republic and Ista Margarna. 4 Siar resorts, coubie
 Contact: Spring breake topholidays com

Spting Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nighls $$ 279$ t tncludes Meals! Awesome Beaches. Nightlife! Departs From Florida! Panama City Foom With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties & Si49! South Beach (Bars Opent Until Sam!) $159! COcOa Beach (Near Disney) St79! springbreaklravel.com $1-$ - $00-678-6386$

MISC.

As NOTE FROM THE DAILY OFANGE: being reppied trom ary acverisement in each issug, bor The Daity Orange does not take responsibility for arfy misconduct rosulting in contact between yourseth and advertiser.

Daily Orange Online: Wiring you into Syracuse University.

The Daily Orange has a fully redesigned Web site, providing Syracuse University with all the news. all the time.
In addition, the day's news. sports and lifestyte coverage
Daily Orange Online ofiets:

* Ciossworl puzzle amswers
-inadicds of linis to gieat whosites
$\therefore$ Cain?is event listings

NOTES

Orangemen honored Nine SU football players earned Big East All Academic nonors. Named to the team were: offensive lineman Mark Baniewicz; fullback Kyle Jonnson; wide receiver Jeff Lowe; safety lan Mclntosh; tight end Mike Bennett; offensive lineman Erik Katoyanides: quarterback Troy Nunes: offensive lineman Sean O.Connor; and wide eceiver Pat Woodcock. Baniewicz was one of two our-time recipients in he conference. Johnson a junior, has been named to the team three times.

Rush to the bench
UCLA forward JaRon Rush received a 44-game suspension from the NCAA for taking money from a sports agent and AAU coach.
Rush, who plans to appeal the suspension, received $$ 200$ from the agent during the 199899 season and an additional $$ 6,125$ in various benefits from the AAU coach.
The sophomore has missed 15 UCLA games his season and is scheduled to miss 12 more. Rush also will not play in the Eruins' first 17 games of the 2000 01 season.
The Kansas City. Mo.. native scored a career high 23 points in last year's $93-69$ home victofy against Syracuse. As a freshman. Rush averaged 11.4 points and a ream high 7.4 rebounds per game.
His brother Kareem, a freshman at the University of Missouri, is suspended indefinitely for also allegedly accepting iftegal benefits.

Wolverine woes

Michigan's Jamal Crawford was suspencted for the Wolverines' Tuesday night loss to Michigan State while the NCAA investigated his liv ing arrangements in high school.
Crawford, with his mother's permission, lived with a man who wasn his legal guardian for three years white attend ing Seattle s Rainier Beach High School. Essentially what the NCAA) is saying is that this could be simfar to an athlete having a sponSor, and an amateur said Perry Eates.
Michigan's NCAA faculty representative.
The freshman leads UM with 16.6 points per game.

sports trivia

Q. Where did Super Bowl XxxIV MVF Kurt Warner attend college? yesterday's trivia: Q. Who did Marv Albert dub "The Czar of the Telestrator" and "The Dean of Sideline Reporting"?
A. Mike Fratello and Ahmad Rashad.

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 2, 200020

Griffin battles for time

After startine last season at shooting ghand for Syracuse, Allen Gritfin JEssicA CUTLER/The Dally Orange cant time in Syracuse's $73-65$ victory agninst Roston Colloge on Saturdey aftemoon.

No question: SU as good as advertised

Talking to myself about this year's Syracuse men's baskethall team

Quention: So they're No. 4 in the untry and 18-6, huh?

Answert The Orangemen showed Monday against St. John's that they deserve all the plaudite. Great teams come back late, and SU did exactly

Jeff Passan

sports
opinon
in the 63 -57 victory.
Qu returning from last season, the same team that went 21-12 and got run by Oklahoma State in the NCAA Tourney's first round?
A: Yeah, yeah, same team (without. thankfully, 6 -foot-11 center Elvir Oveina hanching cockeyed 3-pointers). But the Orangemen have a year's worth of expe rience and knowledge.

Q: A mmart athlete?
See GRA page 16

Froshman Doshaun TOW NYCZ/ine Daily Oraned than tix points per eqme, is one of 5yracuso's triumirate of 3 pooirt threates, along with sophomore Tony Bland and Preston Shumpert

BY ERIC NATHAN

Staff Writer
He's a yeart older. Stronger. Quicker. More experienced. So what happened to Allen Griffin?

Last year, Griffin played in all 33 games and each time was on the floor when the official tossed the ball in the air.

In 1998-99, he posted a solid season as a sophomore with 7.9 points per game and 104 assists versus just 71 turnovers. While his shooting was a subpar 39 per cent from the field, including 35 percent from behind the 3-point arc, he still layed better than 27 minutes a game -

Griffin had anly one 20
Griffin had only one 20 -plus minute game this season - ageinst lowiy Richmond - before he logeged 28 against Boston College on Saturday. He mlled in for Jason Hart, who played i2 foulplagued and flu-ridden minutes, with a leading SU to its $73-65$ triumph.
wy is no surprise be can com
It is no surprise he can come in and run the team," Hart said. "He played point guard last year. A lot of people on t realize that played the two (shooting guard) a majority of the time. He started all the games. There is no why he can handle the pressure."

This year, head coach Jim Boeheim has reduced Griffin's minutes by more than half. While the Brooklyn native continues to play the point guard slot, he has been relegated to the pine because Hart slid over to his natural position.

Griffin's numbers have not disappointed this year. While Hart has an impressive 2 -to-1 assist-to-turnover ration, nior guard has also snatched 10 steals, three of which came in the BC game.

But whose minutes should suffer to give Griffin a spot on the hardwood?

Tony Bland is playing the best basketball of his career, and DeShaun Williams is draining threes from all over the court. Hart is easily having the best year of his celebrated career.

Boeheim cannot take out Hart. The proven floor general seems to either

See GRIFFIN page 19

Wrestlers lose pair of duals

GYERIC NATHAN

Staff Writer

With neither Syracuse nor Brown fielding a wrestler in the 197 and 285pound divisions last Eriday, the score sheet read "no match."

That phrase could have described che whole meet for $S U$, as Brown ghut out the Orangemen in the remaining eight matches on its way to a 36-0 victory.

Orangemen (0-5, 0-3 EIWA) pent the previous day an hour north on Interstate-95, losing a meet to Boston College 27-15.

As has been the trend in $S U$ wrestling, the Orangermen forfeited 18 points between the two dual meets.

Brown thoroughly dismaneled SU, winning the 125 -pound match by forfeit and the remaining seven on the mat six by decision and one by pin.
"Brown'a just that much better than us," SU head coach Scott Miller said. "They are in the top four or five in the EIWA. We're in no shape be a top EIWA team.*

See SPANKEB page 15

Latino rhythm

TOM NYCZ/The Daily Oreng
Sophomore Cesar Yoc dances with junior Lourdes Rodriguez at the RAICES dance troupe tryouts in Archbold Gymnasium. The latino dance group hosted auditions Wednes day night for future performances.

Nielson seeks ESF presidency

BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Professor Larry Nielson spoke to State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry faculty members Wednesday, imploring them to support his pursuit to become the school's president.

The position opened in November when current President Ross Whaley announced he would resign to establish a charter achool in the city of Syracuse. SUNY's Board of Trustees granted Whaley permission last week to open the school which will focus on math and science.

Nielson, a natural resources pro fessor from Pennsylvania State Uni versity, outlined his plans for ESF, as well as personal characteristics which he said would compliment the job.

I could say I was bringing a $$ 10$ million deal into the university, or 1 have this, or I have that," Nielson said to about 200 faculty members. "But I couldn't do that. What I do have to offer is 22 years working with a wide variety of people and organizations."

Nielson cited the importance of diersity in universities, and said that all people possess unique qualities to offer society. He propased plans for the betterment of undergraduate recruit ment at ESF, the crux of his plan be ing a strong Internet face.

ESF needs to become as visible as possible nationwide," he said. "It strikes me that there's a tremendous opportunity in New York state to re cruit in an urban environment. That's where a lot of students are, a lot of op portunity, a lot of representation for underrepresented groups."

The common university strategy of "marketing" - trying to talk students into taking interest in a univer sity - does not work, Nielson said Instead, he proposed a method of "sales" when searching out minority recruits.

See ESF page 6

- Police Reports:

Student discovers silver coins missing

Staff Reports
Syracuse University gradu ate student Michael Larcono noticed that a vodka bottle filled with about $$ 250$ in silver coins was missing Monday from the dresser in his room, according to police report.

Larcono said he returned to his home on the 700 block of Clarendon Street Sunday after being away for the weekend and noticed the large bottle missing. He called the police the following morning, he said

Police questioned his roommates, Larcono said His roommates could nat be reached for comment.

The case is still under investigntion.

- Six seniors received citations for noise violations Friday after hosting a party at their house at 710 Euclid Ave., according to police reports.

The party consisted of 50 people including residents, David Colbourn, Jeff Watts, Timothy Lustig, Gregory Agle, Steven Granelli and John Dipolvere, the

See COPS page 7

City Affairs

Bragman leads Centro review

BY VES LIVSHI
Contributing Writer
The Central New York Regional Trans portation Authority is operating at a sub-par standard, said Syracuse Representative Michael Bragman in a Jan. 28 letter to the authority

Bragman, the New York State Assembly majority leader, addressed the letter to the authority Board of Directors Chairman Vincent A. Cook.

The authority is a publicly funded corpo ration which operates more than 200 buses in Onondaga, Cayuga and Oswego counties. It serves more than 41,000 customers daily, in Centro buses to travel between North and See CENTRO page 7

[briefs]

 calendar
TODAY

San Francisco media activist Craig Baldwin speaks at 7 p.m. in Shemin Auditorium of the Shaffer Art Building. He will speak about his work, art and politics.

The Z Morning Zoo on WJPZ-FM 89.1 welcomes Robert Davis, "Matchmaker to the Rich and Famous," at 8 a.m

- The Office of Greck Lifo hosts the Spring Rush 2000 hosts the Spring Rush 2000
Expo at 7 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium.

E Modelquest hosts an open call talent search at 6:30 p.m in the Holiday Inn Arena-Bing hamton, $2-8$ Hawley St., Bing call 1-877-663-3587.

- The Development Office features a lecture by $S U$ indus trial design graduate Gianfranco Ziccai at 1 p.m. in the Schaffer Art Building, Room 121. He will discuss the "Design of Innovation: Interdisciplinary Process for Innovation Research and Concurrent Design Devel opment."
- Newhouse I presents "Writing for Results" from p.m. to 7 p.m. in Room A2.
- The Everson Museum of Art presents swing musicians The Percolators from 5:30 p.m to 7:30 p.m, at 401 Harrison $S t$ mation.

E UUCinemas presents "The Insider" at 8 p.m. in Wat son Theater. Tickets are $3.

FRIDAY

The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spring Rush 2000 Kick offat 6 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium.

The Light Work Gallery, in the Watson Theater Complex hosts a "Visual and Performing Arts Student Exhibition 2000 reception from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.
For more information call Vernon Burnett at 443-2450.

T The Career Development Center hosts "How to Find an Intermship," from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m in Newhouse I, Room 20.

E Hendricks Chapel hosts the second annual Sojourner Storytelling Conference from a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

- UuCinemas present "Fight Club" at 7 and 9:30 pm. in Gifford Auditorium. Tickets ar $3. "Enter the Dragon" begins at midnight with no admission fee.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submíssions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyorange.com.

[d.̈]

The Daily Orange is publishad Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic year is distrituted on campus with the first five copies complementary and each additional copy costris $$ 1$.

Management 443.9799
Business 443-2314
News 443-2127
Lifertyle $443-2128$
Sports
Sports 443-2208
Phowography 443-9795
E-mail editorialdedailyorange.com

Students organize leadership summit

BY SHELBY HEALY
Staff Writer
staff Writer
The Schine Student Center Under ground is hosting an all-day summit Saturday to teach Syracuse University stu manazement skills needed both durin college years and after craduation ege years and after graduation.
The Leadership Education Summit, sponsored by Leadership Experience, Achievement and Development and the place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
"This conference-style event will provide students with a diversified toolbox of leadership skills and abilities," Assistant Director of Stadent Activities Chris Johnson said. "It aims to help them effectively and efficiently manage theix day-to-day lives as college students and eguip them to be suecessfullife-long learners."

The day will be divided into four sessions, each of which will last one hour and incorporate three different workshops. The workshops wintocus on munication motivation and time management LEA member Emily Chin said. said.

Brealfast and lunch will be provided during the workshop. Paul Buckley, as sociate director of the SU Center for Academic Achievement, will deliver the keynote address duriog lunch.

This is open to all students on carmpus interested in leadership possibilities," said Ching, a senior sociology and public relations major. "It's free to all students - all you have to do is register." Students are not required to attend the entire day of scheduled workshops. hing said.

She said the coordinators of the summit aim to provide all SU undergraduates, graduates and faculty memshops. This is in contrast to having the meetings stretched out in weekly sesfions is they were last semester during the first summit Ching added. first summit, Ching added.
Leadership is important in the sense of taking the initiative and being brings on a lot of issues of responsibility and accomplishment."

Ching said that even if students are not in leadership positions, the skills taught at the summit. such as planning. ethics and team building, are useful in the real world.
"That's where I really screwed up," said Courtney Young, an undeclared sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences. II think it could be beneficial or freshmen."

Some students, however, said the summit is trying to teach skills one can only be born with.
"I conld use help with time management," said Jonathan Hoster, a sophomore broadcast journalism major. "But I don't think that is something that can be taught - it's something you have to learn for yourself.

the daily orange online www.dailyorange.com updates daily

PREVIEW 2000

Summer Orientation Program

is hiring Summer Orientation Leaders
7 for the Summer of 2000
Orientation Leaders (OLs) are key players Syracuse University's summer orientation program for first-year students. OLs are representatives of Syracuse University who work with students and parents in small and large groups to answer questions. provide information. offer support and share first-hand experiences. In the selection process, PREVIEW 2000 is looking for undergraduate students who welcome responsibility and are enthusiastic. flexible, sensitive, resourceful and work well with others. This position offers more than just a summer job; it offers valuable experience, personal satisfaction, life-long friendships and a chance to make a difference at SU.

Application and references are due by

$8 \rightarrow$  February 7. 2000

Formore information, contact Mary Jo Custer,
Director of Student Affairs, at 443-4357.

MOORE

continued from page 1
der of the semester, Moore said. that one time I called him and said I was going to be late and he said 'Your participation in this class is over', Soore said. ${ }^{*} \mathrm{He}$ told me to 'shut up.' I was very upset. I was crying a tittle bit."

Short said he told him not to return to class because he

There's really no basis of fact because Mr. Moore gave me no written work and l'm not in the habit of plagiarizing. It's the worst attack you can make in academics and I think that's why he's made it. ${ }^{2}$
JOHN RENNIE SHORT geography professor did not complete the required work for the course. Short added ruesday that Moore was disruptive.
Duriag the summer of 1998, Moore said he denied 1998. Moore said he denied paper Moore had written with paper Moore had written with

Last year we won THE CHANCELLOR'S CUP This year we got CABLE RUSH BETA One success after another  Beta Theta Pi at 208 Walnut Place

and a post-doctoral student. Short submitted the paper to the "Professional Geographer journal, despite Moorc's objec tions, listing Moore and the classmates, plus himself as its authors, Short said.

Moore complained to John Mercer, feography department chairman, in December 1998, citing that the idea for the paper was his, not Short's. The article was accepted for publication and is now in the "in press" stage, meaning it has been cleared for printing but has not actually been printed yet, Short said.

Short said Moore's name was removed from the authors list in the fall of 1998, however, because Moore did not come up with the topic for the paper and was not involved in any of its writing.
"He hadn't done any of the work," Short said. "He had made no written input so we thought we were doing him a favorby puiting hindort done it even though he hadn't don any work.

Last summer, Mooresaw Short's book "Globalization and The City," which was published last year and co-aum thored by Yeong-Hyun Kim, a post-doctoral student who also GEO 815 Moore sid Ho found what he believes is a paragraph of his own words. pariginally writton for the class, taken verbatim in the book. Moore said.
"I saw this book," he said. "I felt completely outraged, as though my rights were being violated and the university was helping it happen."

Moore is making an outra. geous clairn, Short said.
"There's reaily no basis of fact because Mr. Moore gave me no written work and I'm not in the habit of plagiariz. ing," Short said. "It's the worst attack you can make in academies and think that's why he's made it."

The three other student authors are the real victims, Short said.
"I'm saddened by his attack on the other graduate students in the class," Short said. "They are exceptional stu* dents and their work is being called into question by his ## statements."

Moore said he and his classmates were victimized by Short, not the other way around.

Ht seemed as though we were producing the labor and he was going to stick his name on it," Moore said. "He's using three students and raping their ideas. He's stealing their ideas."

But Mercer decided Friday that Short's decision to expel

Eit seemed as though we were producing the labor and he was going to stick his name on it. He's using three students and raping their ideas. He's stealing their ideas. 5

ZAC MOORE

SU graduate student and former GSO president a poor grade is adequatebecause the missed a lot of class es, Moore said

Mercer also downplayed Moore's claims of plagianism by saying the charge would be too difficult for him to prove anyway, Moore said.

Mercer declined to comment.

But Chris Burke, an attoraey from SU Student Legal Services who is counseling Moore, said Moore may have a strong case even though courts are reluctant to hear plagiarism cases and tend to let universities enforce their own policies.
rithink, from what he tells me, it sounds like he has a particularly strong case, especially with regard to plagiarism," Burke gaid. "On my basic knowledge, I would think he already has a case there."

Moore said he also plans to file charges of abusive language against Short through the Office Judicial Affairs.
"L think it's part of the picture," Moore said. "Abuse of students, abuse of power."

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your ietter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention yout name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

[editorial]

The Daily Orange Februaty 3, 2000 Ashok Selvam, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com

Starving student will open SU eyes

Zac Moore's blitakrieg fast that started last Monday ends tonight at midnight, but it's yet to be seen if it has benefitted the Syracuse University graduate student.

In the summer of 1999, Moore accused geography Professor John Renie Short of plagiarism. Moore contends that a paragraph in Short's book, published in 1999, was directly stolen from Moore's own work, in the form of a paper submitted to Short for Geography 815 in the spring of 1998.

This was just the latest chapter in the conflict between Moore and Short. In the very same spring, Moore says that Short threw him out of class without proper cause. Moore received a " $D$ " in the class.

Claiming wrongdoing, Moore says he has taken his case up with the university. He wants his grade transcript changed and for Short to be reprimanded for stealing a portion of his work. The university has yet to respond.

Expressing his displeasure with the lack of administrative action, Moore is determined to grab headlines, student support and pressure the administration with his stunt. Already groups like the Student Environmental Action Coalition are distributing flyers and petitions to garner support for Moore.

However, this spectacle has yet to facilitate direct action from the university. Conventional knowledge says once students hear about Moore's crusade, the school will respond quickly to protect both its image and Short's.

But the school's silence lends suspicion. Four deans at the Maxwell School of Citizenship, home of SU's graduate geography program, are mum on the case. If the school has investigated Moore's accusations, they should freely share their findings with students. Their reluctance to communicate does not help the school's reputation or Professor Short's.

If Moore has gone through the proper channels, only to be ignored, the university has failed its students. It is unfortunate that the university needs a gun held against its head to perpetuate change.

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

opinions

Guilt's torture should bring actions, not apologies  It is the first Black History Month of the new millennium. The concept was started by Carter G. Woodson as "Negro History Week." I believe it is a time to reflect on the determination of a people that were forced to abandon

KAMIKA MC DONALD ple that were forced to abandon their humanity, yet struggled against their oppression. This month inspires me to let go of the myth that because I am black I will not be able to succeed.

This February, I want to see a current phenomenon end. I am so tired of apologies from those who blatantly and repeatedy disrespect people of colorHow many times is a person supposed to believe somes them again? Ignorance apologizes yet slaps them again? Ignorance may be a reason for it, but it is not an excuse. No be a reason for it, but it is not an excuse. No mave been in your American history class, ther is a general understanding that life for blacks in the Americas has been and continues to be incredibly difficult. Apologies from whites for past and present offenses are old and now have an insincere ring to people of color.

If nothing more, turn the apologies into concrete actions. Teach your children to respect all cultures. Teach your children to believe that prejudice and racism are wrong. These are learned behaviors that cannot be reversed with age. Whites should let people of color know how sorry they are by raising children that will not repeat the mistakes of the past.

Daily, black men and women suffer because of the institutional racism in this country and globally. The best way to say "I'm sorry" is to police brutality affects many people. But blacks, especially black males are targeted by law enforcement simply because of their skin color With the Rodney King trial, people started to look more closely at this problem but few now see ally at the hands of white cops. It is hard not to ally at the hands or white cops. It is hard not to see innocent, unarmed people like West African immigrant Ahmadou Diallo killed for "looking like" a rape suspect. It is easy to give sympathy but it is much harder to demand that law enforcement become accountable for their deadly power trips.

The United States has reimbursed the Japanese people unfairly placed in internment camps during WWII. The United Nations gave reparations and even a country, Israel, to Jews for the past 400 years, blacks have been subject for the past 400 years, blacks have been subject ed to inhumane treatment both legally and as a fact of life and haven't been given any tangible skirted in any government discussion of blacks. Blacks have not even been given a chance to state their cnse against the United States. Personally, I don't need any tears of shame over the way my people have been treated - just show me the money!

I don't think that whites will ever understand what it is like to be black. The understanding that everything is not all right for everybody is key to going beyond the shame of racism to effective action against it. Just because life is okay for you does not negate that there is a larger problem of racism and discrimination that no laws will ever end. There is a privilege that whites enjoy but it does not require guilt. I am

Kamika Mc Donald is a sophomore broadcast journalism and African-American studies major. journalism and African-Americin studies m
Her column appears Thursday in The Daily Orange. E-mail her at klmedona@syredu.

letters

Campus snow removal receives icy reception

To the Editor:

Once again, I am completely disgusted with the care (or lack thereof that Syracuse University shows for its students. For a school that costs us so much money, they can't clear off the sidewalks and stairs that we need to use to get to class. Here is a news flash for SU: it is against the law for sidewalks and stairs not to be cleared of snow in a timely fashion.

Of course, something like this does not seem to be a big deal, until you actually have to deal with it. I am disgusted to learn how a school that worries so much about partying off campus does not seem to care that themselves walking through snow that they have failed to remove. It's dangerous for us to have to walk down cement stairs that haven't been shoveled, or down a sidewalk that hasn't been cleared. I have seen people fall and almost fallen myself on the way to class.

This is a lawsuit waiting to happen. I know that if I were to fall and seriously hurt myself, I would have no problem slapping cover iny expenses for the next couple of years. Something needs couple of years. Something needs someone gets hurt.

Erica Anderson
Class of 2002

[^3]
ESF

continued from page 1
"You have to go to the student population and find out their interests," he said. "Then, look at the current programs, and whent programing true to the current program, mold some to meet students needs. into the me need to do is go ando the minority community and ask not how can we talk but 'How can we change to ueet your interests? ${ }^{*}$

Nielson stressed his personal style of administration as being ready to try new things. He said ready to try new things. He said although he says nom to colleagues when he must, he dislikes turning down any new ideas.
"Mistakes you'll find in me are mistakes of commission, not mission." he said. Talk is nice, but action I lite more is to make things happen. ${ }^{n}$ more is to make

Clanging education
Nielson said universities generally hold fast to tradition and are slow to change - a quality that can be both beneficial and detrmental to its com. munity.
"Traditional disciplines and professions are essential, but they're not sufficient." he said We need to build on our strengths and core disciplines. and to support them with other interdisciplinary programs for tomorrow's programs, not yesterday's."
He added that public education, namely in the United States, is a major step in improving society by providing everyone education.

Once students enter ESF Nielson called for more more hands-on and fieldwork oriented classwork to not only form a classwork to not only form a but also to break the monotony of packed lecture halls.

The use of visuals in a classroom, even if only videos, will spark students' interests, he noted.

We stand up and lecture students with overheads, ${ }^{\text {m }}$ he said. *Then they go home and turn on the Discovery Channel and see guys chasing elephants around and jumping on alligators and they're like, 'Wow!' "That's what stimulates them.". Nielson acknowledged although not all teachers subscribe to that manner of instruction, it is better to take time and teach students the "right way."

When asked his reason for leaving Penn. State to pursue the postition. Nielson said he wished to further achicye his career goal in the field of higher education - to be part of a leadership position, something he said ESF could give to him. My wife and lare very careful at looking at opportanities based on quality programs, quality of life," he said. "ESF fits those needs."
He said the presidential seat he hopes to gain at ESF is a great job, an absolutely fabulous position.
"Why would anyone not want it. I think is a better question," he said.
'Tom Schuster, an ESF employee who graduated from the school in December, said he agreed with many of Nielson's ideas. He noted Nielson's priori y of cateriag to students* needs nstead of the "skewed" methods currently in place at ESF.
"I was impressed with the way he talked about the urban aspect, about the attraction or minority students instead of telling them 'Yes, you do want to come here."

Want an internship for credit this semester?

There is still time!

For further information, contact Ellie Shinherr, Syracuse University Internship Program, 113 Euclid Avenue. Phone 443-4271.

Rain Forest Rescles: To Helr Save The Birds Outside Your Window
 dratraction by jcining The Nstiossal Arbor Day Foundatian and wupportiox Rein Fowert Rescue threnturad rain forest in your name. To monthane zo Exin Forty Reseyp, cald 1-800-222-5312 (9) $\qquad$ Dny

for all your printing/copy needs

- COLOR COPIES
- TRANSPARENCIES
- BINDING/STAPLING
- UPS SHIPPING
- PASSPORT PHOTOS
- MAC/IBM RENTALS
- FAX SERVICE
- laminating
- DRAFTING FILM
- LABELS/ENVELOPES
- WORD PROCESSING

CAMPUS COPIES
Marsinall Square Mall
Just down the hill from the Schine Center 472-0546

the daily orange online www.dailyorange.com updates daility

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

COPS

continued from page1
reports said.
Around midnight, police reported to the house after receiv ing complaints of loud noises coming from inside and outside the residence, the report said.

The students could not be reached for comment.

E Sophomore Gerald Brow discovered his dark brown wal let containing $$ 400$ missing Jan 18, according to a police report. d classes throuphout the day and came back to his apartment on University Place to find his wallet missing. He said he rewallet missing. He said he rehis back pocket and may have lost it in a bathroom.

The wallet also contained his ID, ATM card, Social Security card and various business cards, the report said.

Compiled by Contributing Writer Melisa Malchoff

CENTRO

continued from page 7
South campuses.
A board of mine directors appointed by New York state Gov. George E. Pataki operate the authority under seven-year terms.

Bragman questioned the effectiveness of the board, which he said has weakened with the end of five of the member's terms. One of those members had their term expire in 1991, but that member, as well as the remaining four, work on the board Bragman said.

Two members also live in Florida for much of the year, while another has been too ill to regularly attend board meetings, he added.

These factors undermine the board's oversight of various projects and cause mismanagepany, Bragman added

I question whether those in charge are complacent or even complicit in perpetuating this situation," he said. "Absent compelling information to the contrary, I can only assume that the board has been serving its own interest rather than its ridership and the Central New York community."

CENTRO did not receive needed equipment because of the incompetence of the directors, Bragman said. Some of the buses ordered by the authority experienced mechanical trouble and could not be used. The board, however, did not contact the manufacturer, he added.

Authority spokesman David Ristau denied Bragman's accusations and maintained fective service for its customers

The CENTRO buses arrive
ThetIy 97 percent of the time promptly 97 percent of the time, Ristau said. The buses expericident per 100,000 miles, he added.

Bragman requested that the authority submit its financial records for review.

Dan Weiler, a public relations advisor for Bragman, said the request could commence an investigation into the board's operations.

Campus busing

Many SU students are also tical of the bus service.
"Sometimes the buses are so jammed with people the bus driver will just pass you right by," said Stacy Rich, a sophomore speech communications major.
While bus service is generally reliable during mid-day, it is rarely dependable during the morning, the evening and week ends, students said.
"I waited half an hour for the bus one morning," said Suzanne Ronnholm, a sophomore "Ther bus just wouldn't major.

Especially during the winter, CENTRO users grow impa tient with the sometimes lag ging service, students said.
"Some people seem to think we have all the time in the world," said Jaime James, a sophomore pre-medicine major comes late. Ther, you are late to class. You get marked absent. You get in trouble."

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

Who says that money doesn't make the world go round?

We know that financing a Summer Program Abroad can be tricky. That's why we award tuition grants shortly after acceptance into a program. If you are interested in spending Summer 2000 abroad, call or stop by for a catalog and application.

Summer Programs Abroad
Division of International Programs Abroad 119 Euclid Avenue 443-9420;9421

TONANG

continued from page 1
Towing， 226 Teal Ave．
＂People have a tendency to more or less park closer to where they＇re going because it＇s so cold out，＂Roskoff said．＂Parking is also more difincult in the winter because of the snow．＂ ways abide by parking restric－ ways abide by parking restric－ tions so they may park closer to their destination．
＂It＇s a problem when people don＇t park where they＇re sup－ posed to，＂Roskoff said．＂People get lazy at times．It causes haz－ ards and people then get in acci－ dents．＂${ }_{\text {Vio }}$

Violations，however，are not always the fault of the dri－ vers，he added．Syracuse city vers，he added．Syracuse city hoods around SU，are narrow， he said．

Parking in non－restricted ar－ is not always easy during a eas is not always easy during a time when more drivers and snowplows are on the road，said Kevin Garrett，a junior informa－ tion studies and technology major． tion studies and technology major．
＂Some of the street parking is just annoying，＂Garrett said． ＂There＇s snow on the road that＇s sometimes hard to get around．＂ Though parking may be dif－ ficult，it is usually not impossi－ ble，Garrett said．The city does stricted parkingarking re added．parking areas，he

Snowplows also have a ten－ dency to push snow into areas where students generally park， said Jason Sherman，a sopho－ more advertising and market－ ing major． ＂Compared to last winter， this winter is far worse，＂Sher－ man said．The plows do a good they do is push it on the curb where people park．${ }^{\text {on }}$ the curb Sherman said
ften use his car this semester often use his car this semester， problem at most places around the university． ＂A lot of people get frus－ trated with the weather and having to find spots，＂Sherman said．＂I＇m just avoiding the said．＂I＇m just avoiding the

THIS WEEKEND． YロU FRE THE SRME DELAYINE DRGFNIL MRTTER FS EVERYTHINE ELSE．
 FRIDAY，FEBRUARY 4 TH SATURDAY，FE日RUARY 与TH GIFFDRD FLDITIRIUM フ：ロロ fND 크：ヨロ尸M

Yapir stupent rex． EELFMPRDVEMENTIS MRSTUR日ATIIN

Bruce Lee

 ENTER THE DRAGON FREE FT MIDNILGHT

the EGE

Diversifying

millionaires
Frustrated by its inability to put mare minorities and women on the show, -Who Wants to Be a Milionaire?" delivered an on-air plea Tuesday for more nonwhites and wornen to try qualifying. Executive Producer Michael Davies said he may change the contestant selection method to increase diversity, attering the blind phone-in process that has been employed since the program premiered in August.

Safer sex?

At least eight percent of all cases of HIV infection result from oral sex, according to researchers from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. The finding is disturbing because many gay men have switched from anal to oral sex due to their perception that it is a safe practice. The CDC stucty said that eight of the 100 men sampled practiced only oral sex without protection. If any other risk behaviors were identified by the subject, oral sex was excluded as the route of infection. But because some of the excluded cases could have been caused by oral sex, the actual percentage may be higher.

Westernizing Japan

Japan has always readily embraced English. teaching it to students. But it still fails at communicating in English. After many years of mulling over this condition, Japan is suddenly being swept by a sense of erisis, almost panic, over the nation's lack of facility with English in the Internet age. Some critics have labeled Japan as a failed state for its low English proficiency, saying it will fall further behind in all areas untess more Japanese learn to speak it. Prime Minister Keizo Obuchi recently said one of Japan's goals for the 21st century is to make English the country's official second language.

quote of the day:

"Never go to bed mad - stay up and fight." Phyllis Diller

Holly Aucr, editor 443-2128 life@daily
orange.com

DANCE

 feverSchine sports a new dance club. See L.Ifestyle Friday.

bittersweet

Diabetics must adhere to a strict dietary regimen.
 population, according to can Diabetes Association.
Unfortunately, of thoss lion they have, 5.4 minhon do not know should. With its complication they betes is the seventh leading cause of betes is the seventh leading death in the United States.

Diabetes occurs when a person's pancreas produces insufficient amounts of insulin. Insulin is the hormone that allows the body's cells to convert sugar into energ. Diabetes convert sugar into energy. Diabetes strikes in two forms - Type 1 and Type 1 is considered more severe of the two types of diabetes. vere of the two types of diabetes. It generally manifests itself before the age of 30 . The causes of Type 1 are play a role. A family history of diaplay a role. A family history of dia-

Also, diabetes is more common among minority ethnicities tive Americans, and Latinos - which supports the theory of a genetic cause. ory of a genetic cause.
or a college-aged person to bediagnosed with Type 1 " to said Christina Brassie, RN and certified diabetic educator at Crouse Hospital. In Type 1 diabetes, the pancreas stops producing insulin completely. The onset of Type 1 is sudden, almost like shutting off a light switch, Brassie said.

When this happens, the symptoms hit fast and furious, she said. Symptoms include extreme thirst. frequent urination, weight loss and fatigue. Some of these symptorns may sound familiar to college students, but their extremity is such that the student would be forced to seek medical attention.

Peaple with Type 1 diabetes must receive daily injections of insulin, usually three or four per day. The first method of insulin delivery was by syringe, but now insulin pens and pumps can be used, as well. Insulin pens look like ordinary pens, but have needles to inject the insulin.

Pumps are beeper-sized devices cathetered into a person's abdomen, so injections are unnecessary. The purnps contain a reservoir of insulin, and the amount of insulin it delivers can be adjusted. Pumps often offer greater hexibinty in diabetes management, but require more responsiagemen bility.

Type 2 diabetes generally affects people over the age of 45 . In these cases, the pancreas still produces insulin, but not in normal levels. Its symptorms are similar to those of TYpe 1 , only less sudden and less severe. Riabetes include developing Ype 2 diabetes include having a family history of diabetes, being 45 or older, obesity and poor general health. BeType 2 diabetes can ofen be managed through a combination of nutrition, exercise and medication.

Diabetes treatment focuses on keeping the patient's blood sugar levels within normal ranges by prop-

The keys to living with it involve simple moderation and understanding your limitations, he said.
"I thought my life was over when I first found out, it was scary to know I've had it for four months prior," he said. "But with it. I remember when it was that I first showed symptoms. I that if pee showed symptom regardless if I drank anything

See SLEETH page 10

SLEUTH

continued from page 9

beforehand. My thirst and hunger were out of whack, too." His scenario is typical in many aspects. Olten when first coming down with the disease, people find themselves weak, battling spells of sleepiness, thirst beyond control, abnormal hunger and also having to mak constant runs to the bathroom. While these tell-tale symptoms of being overly tired and having the munchies at odd times does n't always mean you're contract ing diabetes, it's smart to be aware of what your body might be telling you.

Up and down

Even experienced diabetics face unforeseable dangers. Christopher Brower, a Hartiand, Vt. native and a diabetic for nearly 10 years, recalled a time where he fell into an epileptic where he fell into an epileptic coma during a friend's wedding

I had no idea it was com ing, one minute I was dancing,

The Daily Orange
he next I was on a stretcher the highs and lows of this disease are hard to predict."

The highs and lows he refers to are the controlling facors for diabetics - the allmportant blood sugar level. The toughest part of maintaining the right balance is a healtiny diet. Remnants of late-night pizza runs, liters of Mountain Dew and Soft Batch cookies usually stock collegiate kitchen cabinets. An overwhelming amount of grease-stained fast-food wrappers and Ramen noodile packets usually complement this host of roodies and convenience foods.
But eating sweets an reats in mocieration and restraint is essential to manag"I love che
I love cheesecake, but I know now that I can only have it once in a great while," Moore once i

The challenge of eating on he run has been a constant must cope with budgeting his time around when he must eat, not when his next class is. That's why it's wise to whentain a healthy diet even of the disease. In an environment full of junk food temptations, it's not always easy to stick to a strict diet, but it's an important preventative measure for many diabetes-related ailments.

Thirst quencher

Alcohol consumption can be the trickiest balancing act for diabetic college students. Alcohol and diabetes don't mix very well. Prolonged alcohol consumption over time can lead diabetics to numbness in extremitiez and visual problems like cataracts. Again, moderation is key.

The American Diabetes Association recommends that patients consume no more than he has almost entirely eliminated drinting from his lifestyle.
"One drink is my limit wit
One drink is my limit, with an occasional splurge of two or now, it's even kept me more focused on my academics. Though most diabetics have a good understanding of their limitations in these situations, those who don't face an even greater risk.

Binge drinking is a com mon college practice. Most party-goers can handle the perils of a drunken stupor, including the treacherous hangovers that follow. But if diabetics drink mass quanti ties, their blood sugar level can dip dangerously low, resulting in hypoglycemia. Hypoglycemics exhibit signs mimar to drunkenness, such as slurred speech and mpared walking. So as a ruie of thumb, eating a meal rich pasta, can help keep sugar pasta, can help keepsugar the town. Diab ease; it can cause students to put their lives on hold for a lifestyles, so they can avoid probiems in the future. At Syracuse University, the ailment is considered a disability because of its impact on the individual, said Susan Cullen, director of the SU's Office of Disability Services.

Since the disease has a significant impact on a major life function - something as important as breathing, eating or thinking - it is considered a disability acconding to the Americans with Disabilities Act, Sec. 504.

Diabetics, however, are ucky, since they generally have the knowledge to combat what ate steps to ensure the appropri are steps to enia ther sarety. is the non-diabnosed and unaware of the dangerous nawts of the disease who are ments of the disease who are at risk
There is no cure for the disase and it continues to kill 193,000 Americans each year. weapon to combat its deadly toll.

DIABETES

continued from page 9 erly balancing insulin and bloodsugar levels. A person's bloodsugar level increases after he or she eats, so a diabetic needs highDr levels of insulin after meals day, though, insulin levels should be lower.

Hypoglycemia - too little sugar in the blood - is one of the biggest problems for diabetics. Simple exercise or missing just one meal can cause this sudden dip in blood-surar levels. The onset happens quickly, said Mary Ann Middlemiss, an associate professor in the College of Nurs ing.

Symptoms include faintness, shaking and irritability. Fast acting sugar, such as a half-cup of orange juice or some hard candies, can balance blood sugar levels quickly.

Too much sugar in the blood - hyperglycemia - takes longer to develop. Taking insulin can bring blood-sugar levels back to normal Exercise and nutrition are mportant parts of treating diabetes because they help diabetlevels. This in tur blood sugar evels. This, in turn, helps preplications that may arise from plications that may arise from caused by diabetes affecting other body systems.

This increases a diabetic's risk for kidney failure, heart disease and stroke. And because the disease affects the circulatory system, a diabetic has greater risks of amputations and blindness. Diabetes is the leading cause of new causes of blindness in people ages 20 to 74 , according to the ADA.

Taking care of business

Syracuse University's Health Services acts mainly in supporting role for students with diabetes, said Kathleen VanVechten, director of nursing for Health Services.

VanVechten said that students at SU with diabetes generally manage their diabetes very well on their own and need little assistance, though some stu dents obtain their insulin prescriptions through Health Services.

She does acknowledge that the irregularities of college life put added strain on a diabetic person's health. Student eating habits, stress and all-night study sessions - never positive impacts on a person's health - are especially detrimental to the management of diabetes

Plus, alcohol affects a person's nutrition and can cause problems for diabetics,

But if drinking is an important part of the student's quality professor of nutrition in the ColMost diabetic students, VanVechten said, are aware of the symptoms and know to get help when they need it. She help when they needit. She open 24 hours a day, seven days a week when classes are in session, and that an ambulance service is available for those who feel too sick to walk down to the center.

Another resource for local diabetics is the SUNY Health Sci ence Center's Joslin Center affiliate. A nationally-recognized cen ter for diabetics, the Joslin Cen ter treats diabetics and participates in diabetes research. The center performs research studies for diabetes management, including a current program ex ploring the use of insulin-deliv ery inhalers.

Crouse Hospital has also partnered with Wegmans to create a diabetes outreach program within the grocery store. Diabetes educators, nutritionist and exercise specialists are on hand to offer advice and raise The imp of dabetes.

The important thing for students to remember, Brassie said, is to keep health care at the top o their priorities.
"everything else $t$," she said everything else will slip, and they won't perform as well as

The DAILY ORANGE Classified Adveitising

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-200 There is something for everyone! - Prices Ranging from $$ 225,5375 /$ month Remodeled Full Custom KitchenfBaths Kitchons include: Gourmet Seli-cleaning ovens, - Wall to Wa Carpets & Padding (like home) Super Insulated (means low utih es) Some Apts. include All Utililies 2 Eumished Such as - Comstock Ostrum, He:rison, Madison westcot, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingston. said Kay Bruening, an assistant

Advertise with the daily

 orange online call 443-9794
for information and ratesThe deadline for classified advertisements 12 of of wo business days prior to 4439793 for more infomation

Rooms. Eff.JAPTs Homes & Town Houses

 MOST INCLUDINGSecunity Systern with:- Deac 3ott Locks - Smoke. Heat & Sprinkica System - Laundry Fálitites on Premisos

- Ont-street Parking

Snow a Lawn xiaintenance Lancaster

CALL 478-6504

BAKER

continued from page 16
jor. "I feel good about the period I've had to sit out. It's been a big test, but it's made me even stronger and made me realize what I've got to do, which is work hard and focus."

Also recruited by football powerhouses Penn State, Auburn, Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State, Baker saw his options drop in accordance with his grades.

Orange recruiting coordinator Jeff Stoutland, however, informed Baker of the HEOP grant, a New York state financial assistance program for students attending private universities.
couldn't rean sher at most universities, ${ }^{\text {Baker }}$ said. "I spoke with the coaches at Syracuse, and they stuck by me and introduced me to the HEOP program."

Putting up top-notch numbers in the classroom remains a constant challenge for Baker, who said he did not know his first semester grade point average.

But scoring on the field came naturally at North Babylon, where the 6-foot-2, 205 pounder dominated Long Island gridirons.

Baker, who runs a 4.5 in the 40-yard dash, compiled 4,038 rushing yards and 77 touchdowns over three seasons as a featured tailback. His ground total ranks third in Long Island history, with former West Virginia standout Amos Zereoue holding the record.
"I can honestly say that Barry is the best athlete ever to come out of this school," North Babylon coach Terry Manning said of the two-time All-Long Island selection. "There's nothing he can't do. He is an athlete from start to finish, and he's a hard-working kid. If you give him a football or a baseball bat or a badminton racket, he will excel."

Baker said his offensive success stems from his vision, body control and pass-catching ability. And if he has a leg up on the other SU tailback recruits - Walter Reyes, Diamond Ferri and Troy Swittenburg - it is his prior success in an optionoriented attack.
"Once I get my feet wet, I should feel very comfortable in that type of an offense," Baker said. "I'm convincing in my cuts, and I see the field well. And I'm not selfish. I don't mind blocking or doing anything along those lines to make the team better."

A Prep Star Magazine preseason All-American as a senior, Baker also started four seasons at strongsafety, the position he said SU coaches reruited him to play.

During his senior season, Baker registered 69 tackles and five interceptions, two ol dhich he returned for touch downs. As a junior, he piled up ackles and six picics.
Manning first noticed Bak er's uncanny athletic ability in physical education class, when versus his five-year-old Baker versus his entire kindergarten class of 150 in a game of tag. strength is playing defensive strength B.

Baker is a model teammate who takes criticism as well as he positions himself on opposing receivers, Manning said. And at 18, Baker has plenty of time to fill out physically he added.

Leading his team to a combined 30-2 mark his final three seasons, Baker proved his agili ty as a regular kick returner field goal kicker and punter, as well as part-time tight end quarterback and linebacker.

Prep Star's Rick Kimbrel said Baker is "an outstanding two-way football player.

But despite his offensive prowess, Kimbrel thinks the versatile playmaker has the ability to be a game-hreaker on cefense.
Donovin could be the nex safety), but you never know, Kimbrel said. "But it depends on the individual, in that some kids take a year off, grow and become even better.

Manning firmiy believes that Baker understands the importance of maintaining his grades and will not allow anything but an injury to sideline him again.

No matter where he lines up on the field next fall, Baker said he simply desires the opportunity to prove his worth to the Orange.
"It hurts to sit up there in the stands while you know you're supposed to be out on the field," he said. "It's a lesson you have to learn. No matter how good you are, if you don't have the grades, you aren't going to be doing anything."

Baker currentiy studies with the team and uses the football wing's weight room, but he is unable to involve himself further until next season.

The coaching staff keeps him informed of team happenings, he said, which helps him focus.

Finding the willpower to succeed on the field is never a problem according to Baker's father. Baker uses the memory of two late grandparents and an aunt -all of whom passed away four years ago - as motivation. "He is a good and very quiet kid," said Barry Baker Sr. He's been through trial and tribulation, and that motivates keep his head down because hings happen for a reason "He's set goals, and he is ocused on showing that what he accomplished in high schoo was not a fluke.

Baker can't wait for that opportunity.
"Right now, I'm thirsty," Baker said, "and, when I get out on the field, all of the energy will come out."

Take a FREE Test Drive and find out!
Now is your chance to take a praclice test under real test conditions. Experience Kaplan's Test Orive and youll recoivo individual feedback on your performanice Don't miss this Iree opportunity to find out how you would score on the real exam

Saturday, February 5, 2000
12:00 P.M.
SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
Hall of Languages

Or take it online from February 15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

1-800-KAP-TEST kaptest.com

ARE YOU PLANNING TO GRADUATE THIS YEAR?

DID YOU FILE YOUR DIPLOMA REQUEST CARD?

Qualifications to participate in Commencement on May 14, 2000:

- Bachelor's and master's degree candidates who will complete coursework by August 2000.
- Doctoral degree candidates MUST be certified by May 14, 2000, to participate.

To receive Commencement information:

- Fill out a DIPLOMA REQUEST CARD NOW.
- Questions, call your college recorder, or the Registrar's Office-443-2422 (undergraduates), or the Graduate School-443-3425 (graduate students).

SIGNING

continued from page 16
he old holes are now overflowing with new prospects as SU prepares to 5 campaign.

You won't know exactly what you have for a couple years, ${ }^{\text {" }}$ head coach Paul probably as excited as we've probably as excited as we ve (seasons), of having this group come in."

Last season, only Clifton Smith and Mike Shafer received any sort of significant playing time, while coveted quarterback and redshirt the season holding a citp board.
member class - plus former Orangeman Maurice Jackson - will not only compete or playing time next season but improve the quality of pract

Most likely to make an impact in the fall is Johnnie Morant. The receiver from Parsippany Hils, N.J., is the most heralded recruit or a tal

The Parade All-American was rated the best receiver in the East and third best in the nation by Prep Star Magazine. Last season he caught 8 passes for 784 yards and ny Hills High School.

Morant looks to fill the year-old gap Ieft by Johnson, fially with speedster Quinton Spotwood graduating in May

I don't know how many eceivers you have out there

The Daily Orange that are 6-foot-5, weigh 225 pounds and can run like John "On run, pasqualoni said. Or can make things happen with the ball after he catches it. He's a rare type of prospect

Despite the fac
Ding quarterbacthat returning quarterbacks Troy Nunes and Madei Williams split snaps at quarterback more signal callers. Junior more signal callers. Junior and New Jersey standout Jared Jones will challenge Nunes, Williams, and Anderson next season for the start ing job.

Elliot, who began his career at Arizona State, comes to the Hill with no expectations of starting, but plenty of buzz surrounding his abilities. The Sacramento, Califnative passed for 47 touchdowns with only three inter ceptions in high school.

He has also proven he can play at the college level by completing $16-o f-32$ passes for 157 yards and a touch down against Stanford in 1997.

Elliot said he just wants to play football after landing to play football after landing at his third college in only at his thir four years.
five quarterbacks that I know are going to be bere are really talented, El liot said. "Iknow well all be competing for the job, but I tearn.n ${ }^{n}$.

Elliot joins fellow junior college transfers tight end JeKwazi Leverette and former SU deep-threat Maurice Jackson, who took a year away from Syracuse to improve his academic perfor-

BATTLE

continued from page 16
poured in 61 points in a 111-108 win over California on Jan. 8. He of-10 3 -pointers and drained 18 -of-19 free throws.

Best League: Big Ten
Runners Up: SEC and Big 12 Michigan and North Carolina

That's enough looking back. Now it's time to push ahead to the big games of the week.

No. 3 Duke (4.5) at North Carolina, Thursday, 9 p.m. (ESPN2)

The Blue Devils have won
29 consecutive ACC games, a streak that stretches almost two years to the day. Duke suffered ts last conference loss on Feb. 5, 1998, when North Carolina points. S

Since, the Blue Devils (16-2, 7-0) have not just beaten their them. Only four times has Duke not won by double figures and the Blue Devils more than 20 points 15 times.
Duke in 16 of the games point mark. Chris Carrawell and Shane Battier are the only Duke players to have played in every game of the record-setting everyga
The Tar Heels (13-8, 4-3) lead the nation in field goal percentage (50 percent) and the ACC in 3 point field goal percentage (37 percent).

UNC point guard Ed Cota tops the conference in assists per game with eight, and he also is frst in the league in 3-point shooting (47 percent). far for the The rough season so far for the Tar Heels. Nothing the rival Blue Derils upsetting the rival Blue Devils.

Picke Dulce
Stanford (-4.5) at UCLA,
Thursday, 10:30 p.m. (FSN)

Top 5, but most fars on the East Coast are proba Stanford (17-1, 6-1 P 10) beyond veteran Mark Madsen (10 points and eight rebounds a game) and freshman sensation Casey Jacobsen ( 13 points a contest).
The development of senior David Moseley, however, might be one of the most importan keys to Stanford's success. Moseley's improved shot selection and leadership have helped him lift his scoring average to 12 points a game and his team to a No. 2 ranking.

With four teams - Arizona Stanford, Oregon and USC off to 6 -I starts in the Pac-10, the Bruins ( $12-6,3-4$ ) have a lot of catching up to do. Improving on its league-worst 59 percent free-throw percentage could be a Pick Stanford

No. 7 Connecticut (+4.5) at No. 8 Michigan State, Saturday, 1 No. 8 Michi
p.m. (CBS)

mance, in an uncharacteristiy large JC class.
Syracuse also added tal mond Ferri and Walter Reyes to compete for car ries with a deep backfield that includes returners in Dee Brown and James Mungro.

Last season, Ferri amassed an eye-popping l,650 yards coupled with 25 stranger to winning, having led his Everett, Mass., team to two state championships in the last three seasons.

Hailing from Struthers, Ohio, Reyes was ranked the yrd best back in the News. pasqualoni noted Reyes; peed, which included the state record in the $55-m e t e r$ sprint. Speed remaineda common theme in the backfield.

You're talking about guys that can take the ball from 80 yards, 75 yards, 60 yards away," Pasqualoni said. we saw game what a big play like that can do for you. It can turn the game around.

Another SU hole exists up front, where four out the ive starting offensive Iineman graduate, including AllBig East First Team member Mark Baniewicz

The theme for the offenwas tall and athletic was tall and athletic. Pasqualoni's incoming line stable includes 6-foot-8 stable includes 6-foot-8
Adam Terry, 6-foot-6 Matt Adam Terry, 6-foot-G Matt
Tarullo, 6 -foot- 7 Jermey McCorkle, 6-foot-7 Brad Leyenaar, and the midget of the group, 6-foot-4 John Glass.

Each of these lineman weighs near 300 pounds and looks to put dents in the team buffet while adding depth to a position that lost the most experience after last season.
"They're just a very good would say the common thread there is that they re very athletic. They're very, very athletic

After aslew of diasp pointments last fall, the Or angemen appear pleased with

He year's recruiting class Last season the holes were here, and this season's re Coaches are never sure how it will pan out, Pasqualoni said. earned about this recruiting usiness is that you can't judge how the recruiting is going to go based on the season you've had," Pasqualoni said.

You just never know.*
the residence hall fire at Seton Hall - kicks off a tough three bame stretch for the rangemen.
After taking on the Pirates Syracuse ( $18-0,8-0$ ) goes to Syracuse ( $18-0,8-0$ ) goes to Louisville and hosts UCLA. As thousands of coaches and players have uttered before, the key for the 'Cuse is to "take it one game at a time"

Picls: Seton Hall

No. 14 Kentucky (+3.5) at No. 12 Florida, Tuesday, 9p.m. (ESPN2)

Just as it is in football, the SEC East is much stronger than the SEC West. Kentucky, Florida, Tennessee and Vanderbilt all have winning records in conference play and their sights set on the post-season.

While Steve Spurrier has put Florida foothall on the map with his fun-and-gun offense, the same can be said for Billy Donovan and Gator hoops. Florida's 85 points per garne are the best in the SEC and the Gators (16-4, 5-2) are the best shooting team in the conference 49 percent.

Florida can also play defense, grabbing 11 steals per outing. With 11 underclassmen could be a major force in Gators could be a major force in the SEC or several years.

While most Kentucky teams of the late 90 s were deadly from the outside, shooting has been a problem for the Wildcats this year. Kentucky (16-5, 6-1) sits at the bottom of the league in field is last in thage ( 42 percent) and shost in the SECC in 3-point

Jamaal Magcent
Jamaal Magloire ( 13 points Tayshaun Prince ( 13 points and six rebounds per game) have to carry Kentucky almost every time out.

Pick: Florida

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Area 52

by Sam Baker

by Jen Szeto

Oh My Gawd

Yeah Whatever

The Daily Orange

CROSSWORD
By THOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS 38 Use TNT 1 Computer 39 Pole er 39 explorer 5 Eager 9 Truman's birthplace 11 Without city help
12 Cancert 13 Pitcher 2 Writer Ryan Ellison 14 Badly 3 Mis. 15 'G0s TV Marcos series set 4 Bad 17 "B Africa 17 "Border- 5 Oodles singer 6 Hit song 19 Maitai $\quad 7$ Needing base change
20 Christened 8 Jeans
21 Filming 10 Comic 22 Kind of 10 Gilda coffee or coffee stew
24 Barracks
26 Ged
perhaps 29 Chemist's
30 Slace
bane
32 Battleship that's a Pearl Harbor memorial 34 Pronoun type:
35 Lawn
36 Rodeo rope

Get Cuse To It
by Damon Amendolara

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
$\$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words 10c each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE a are Prepaid by: Cash, Check, Master Cars, Visa or Discovet Deadllae 2pm 2 business days priontorn ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE II Ads can be mailed with check lo: Syracuse, NY 13 iof Att Classifieds; 0 A $\rightarrow \Delta \Delta \Delta \Lambda \Delta \Lambda \Delta \Delta \Delta \Lambda \Delta \Lambda$

Notices
Warted: 50 Serlous People Needing to Lose Weight $100 \%$ Site a EHectivel Guaranteed! Weight 100\% Sile a EHectivel Guaranteed!

EMPLOYMENT

Job Opportunities Carmp Poyntelie seeks counselors tor co-ed Norfheas PA. ovemight Jewaht Fedseration camp-
3 nous trom NYC. General Spons. Orma, H2O of mwe poyntele.E0m BONUSES plus guaranteed hourly rate tor Syracuse Slage Anget Appeal Campaign. Nice working almosphere. On bus-line. Mon-Thur. 5spM. $1 / 17-3 / 15$. Requised pleasant speaking
WANTED
Child Care Batyaltter Needed Daytime Evening and weekend Hours Two Glits 5 , andz University Area

Help Wanted

Wore than Fast SUMMER EMPLOYHENT. Camp onnselars needed for a private, tesidental camp prople with a dedication to chiddren, enthusiasm for drensity, and a desifa to share their passion and expertise in any of the following areas: COMPUT-ERS CIACUS ARTS BASKETBAIL MAGIC ERS. CIRCUS ARTS, BASKETBALL MAGIC, FISHMNG WATEASKHISS. THEATER. DANCE, WDEO, CFEATIVE WhIING, ESL SOCCEA COOKING. RADID. ROGK MUSIC. GOLF SKATEBOAPDING. ROLLEFRUADING, ROCI THY, NEWSPAPER, FINE ARTS.

Piease call 1-800.399-Camp. Ask for Dan or Niges.

Roommates

Poommate wanted to ahare 3 large bedroom spatment elose to compun parking ireplace tixnimen 487.5781

Sublet needed, a person Apanment. Ackem
Ave & biocks to canpus call Pete, 423-9025.
FOR RENT
L(.)(.)K
First week Advertised Lancaster Ave.
Furnished 3 Bedrooms
Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details
ackeman Ave. 2.3.4.5.7 bedroom ados. Furnished, capeled. wajk 10 campus, Well mainlainoc
S00-50i lease 446.7200

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7

BEDROOM HOUSES.
wWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM
University Area 2.3 Bedroom tumisted Apartyents Sangie Houses for sent cant J m 668-7473 bedroormis sorne with froplace launcky parking Unlveraly and Comatock very clase to Cimpus Eficiencies and Two Bedryons Secure Byclo Inciudes All Uutitite 445\%-1229 D.N.Dnucker Lid.
Luxumious: 2story anhoin, Goumel ivoin, Cestom kung ivarea Sky it 15t teting balh, porches.

NO PETSI Pteqotabie leases
Call for $2091469-0780$
1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments, Beanitu, $pacious Sars, Quiet Close 476-0a95
Univeraty Ave. Five bedroom House one block

 Heal induded. harrwood licorn. porch.
remodeded, laindry, parking. 476 .2982 FOUR EEDROON EDGE OF CA*
228 Euctr, across fiom Shaw Domb, fre

Unlversity Ave Three Bedroon Fiat Crase Walk to Campus fummished hundry parking lease sp75.00 to Campus furnished caundryparking plus utuities D.N.Drucker 445-1229
Ackerman Beautitul Large Furnished Fiats Mouses. 2.3.4,5.6 Bedrooms. Porches, Frepiaces, Garages, Lzundry, Pet OK $$ 46-3420$
4 Bediooms, OaklandSt. 1Biock ESF. 3alocks Lawt Hosclats, humished, paikine, lashory.
Stop clean 3 bedroom aparments Fireplace, parkIng, tayndry, semiturnishod, walk to SU .
ow price $435-4016$.
Tow price شo-406.

> 2,3 and 4 EEDROOM PARTMENTS
> 302 Marshall St
> 604 Watmul Avs
> 319 Euciad Ave
> Availabte for 2000-2001
> $\begin{aligned} & \text { Fully Fumished, Laundry } \\ & \text { Parking, Fuil Time }\end{aligned}$ Mathenance and Managernent, Fefinished Hard Wood Floor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths > University Area Apts $\begin{aligned} & \text { EAdams } \\ & 479-5005\end{aligned}$
> www.universityarea.com

University Comslock nice tumished qulet ctean 2.3 bedroonn apartments parking

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS
621 Euclid Ave
977 Ackamman Aye
115 Redfield Place
1011 E. Adams St
Available for 2000-2001 why Fumshed Laurds fanking, Fuil Time Maintenanca and Manzgement Wall to Wall Carpet andor Pefinished Harcwood Floors
Remodeled Kitctiens and Baltrs
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.unfversityarea.com house nicely funished prids need roommate 532.00 manilh $478-2612$

ONE OR FQUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS
 476-9933 Large Single Family funished house. Panking.
fircepace. frea lauchery, dishwasher, malure tenant: 588-3304
2 bedroon Apartment nght on Marshall SL. Fail
December 31,2000 . Great tocationt Cail 637.5775

1 Bedroom and

 Studio Apartments 2000-2001Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Wainut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon 476-2982

Beaulitill 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Waking dslance to Carpus. 3 Larbe Bectroms. 1015 of Kitenen, Essement with Washer/iryer hookups 459.64170476 .5643

Apartments

2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom. 105 Euclid or Aug 446-5186
One and Twa Bedroom
Murrished Apartments. Comer of Woinut and Lasison Avenules. Leases Commence June 200 Last Month and Security. No Pets Alowed
Graduales Preferred Call $422-7755$

| Two Bedroom Apartments Whth utilities included, Fireplace, Furrished, Hardwood Focers and Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking. closo to Campus. Call Gordon$476-2982$ |
| :---: |
|  |  |

Four Bedroom on Ackeman, Furtshed, Danwasher. Iwo Poxthes, Of, wheet Pa Laundry, Carpet Hardwood Floors
Can Gordon 476-2s&2

| ONE BEDROOM  APARTMENT EUCLID  AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR TW PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCATION 476-9933. |
| :---: |
| One Bedroom Apartrent witeties inciuded, Oak noor parkidg, very clean, tauncry |
| Apts For Rent  3 BR Clarendon June  $250 Per person  Furnished, Caundry Parking, Micro Nice Places  BEN TUPPER 637-0978 |

1 Bedroom Furnishedr Untumishecd Walking disklance S.U. Laundry
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Watur Ave.
2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities incluxded. Fully turnished. Rents start at $275. Refinished hardwoo foors. Wail to wall capel Flats. Towntouses. Remodeled kitchens and basts. Distwrashers Porches Laundry.
www. universityarea.com University Area Apts 479-5005

FOUR BEDROOM

Furnished, Dishwasher,

 Two Porches,Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

| $* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *$ |
| :---: |
| Studio, One and Two |
| Bedroom Apts. close |
| to Campus. Laundry, |
| Parking, Lease, |
| Heated |
| $440-6200$ |
| $437-7577$ |

| Great University Area Beautltul    Hot Water Ineluded. Security  Euildings Whrtarcoms & Door  Feleases. Custom Made Buinds, Choice of Porch or Patlo, On Street Parking, Laundry, Storage, Centro Bus Line 24 Mour Malitenance. tarting at $550.00. Call 478-0277 Ask for Patricia or Stop by our Office at 116 Newbury Hollow Lane (Located off E Erighten)  Also...(Great Location) Beautlfut 5 EEDROOM HOUSE 2 th baths, 2 kitchens, 2 Ivingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 ear garage, huge yard,  washerfdryer hookups, pilvate road |
| :---: |

| 501 EUCLID STUDIO APT  Perfect for one person.  All utilities included  $$ 355$ per morth Gall Doma 4494621 |
| :---: |
| APARTMENTS CLOSE TO CAMPUS $2000-20001$ RENTALS  1, 2, 3, 4 Eedroom A partment: Sumner, Euelld, Ackerman. Excelliont Condilion Fumisatiad, Sorme treluda utilites. Call 422-0138. |

Clear guvet 2 bedroon two blocks homs SU hospitas. Fumisheri All thities priat 472-5908 June 1 lease.
Furrished 258 edroom Houses/ Apatments
Livingston, Surrser, Ackerman, Eusid 469-6665

| B2S SUMNER AVE 414 KENSINGTON RD (naar Lancamter Markat) 2 and 3 日edroorns  Immaculato Craan FAEE Luncty ask for Ed 44-8961 Atree 3pm and |
| :---: |

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry, Low titities. 302 Marshall St . 302 Marshall St. (unvest tion heven. 479-5005

Your off-campus home for 2000-01
Nicely fumished 3 BEDROOM apartrrents.
double beds dishwashers microwave washer/dryer carpeted of street parking

CALL TODAY PETER 427-40S2

Large 3 bectroml. 2 fudi bald. Walking distance
S.U. oft street parking. Luumdry. CaI 422.7305.
32,3,4+5 bedroom appotmments. Furnishech of Lifites triluciod laundy, pating. Ond block from availabity. 465-953a.

Best buy on Marmsonst. Ciean Oniet.
Orie-begroom and siutio Jure lease. Furnishec Uwities inctuded 472-5908.

| 5 Batroom Apt  A Ekurman Ave  8-1-00  Fuly Furnishad florches, Liundy Parking. Disthwather Owner Hinasy $682-2218$ |
| :---: |
| Studio Apartrients beginning at 9265 per   humiture, privale kathen and bath. microwtye, cappting ar asfocod foors, leandry. purking, 476-2982 |
| One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fiveplace, hartwood fibors, tumished, laundry, quit buikding, close to campus, utilites incuded. 476-2982 |

Universtly 283 Eesroom Towntionses & Fats himenora iniento pasement cos 4t90109

Aekerman Ave nice 3bedroom lat, fumished. stove, reltifg, taundry, firepiace, garage.
Avail June $151445-4229$

ONE, TWO, THREE
AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcoti Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540

collegehome

THREE BEDROOMS
BEAUTIFULLY
FURNISHED
CAL JOHN or JUDY 478-7548
wнw.coliegehoma.com

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISTI OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHIL_COM
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom aparments.
Wail to wall carpe
Laundry. Parking. Alams.
Laundry. Parking. Alams. new construction.
www.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Houses

Syracuse dominates league's first half  The Big East race has reached the haliway point, and the rest of the pack

A few pesky stragglers like Seton Hall and Miami refuse to hot at the Pirates this Monday

Every Big East team except Syracuse has at least two conference losses and should pose no threat to the Orange. Barring a total collapse, SU should take nament for the first time since 1991 .

Crazy train

After a Tuesday night victory over Providence, the Seton Hall Pirates are on rack for a hectic few days. They start things off with a home date against West Virginia; then a day off; then a Monday night visit to the Dome; another day off; Jersey for a showdown with Rutgers. If Jersey for a showdown with Rutgers. If theyre still in second place in the con ence after the RU game, the Pirates should have no problem getting into the NCAA tourney.

Their matchup against $S U$ will be great at a number of key positions. A point guard are SUS Jason Hart and SHU's Shaheen Halloway, whose rivairy has spanned four years.

The battle in the pivot, however, might be even dicier. Orangemen center Etan Thomas, the Big East's fourth alltime shot blocker, will go head-to-head with Samuel Dalembert. The SHU frosh is challenging Etan's swat title this year, averaging four a game. He's already knocked away 11 in one game, and stopped seven shots against UConn last week.

Close calls

After dropping a three-point game to No. 14 Kentucisy last week, Miami edged out a 64-60 victory over Pittsburgh on

Chuck Petruccione
big east
notebook

Hemsley, had 18 in both games. fer those close games, though. They're tops in the conference when it comes to knocking down Iree throws. Over their last three games, theyve made good on 44 of games, they
The upcoming schedule looks pretty good for the 'Canes too. Over the next week-and-a-half, they play three games against teams with losing conference records, and two of those are at home.
After that comes their big February test After that comes their big February test - UConn. Last season, Miami was the only UConn. Last season, Miami was the on other team besides $S U$ to $k$ eventual national champs.

Home sweet liome

St. John's is 8 - 1 at Madison Square Garden this season but barely above .500 on the road. In fact, their only home loss was that ridiculous finish against Ohio State last weekend - where the Buckeyes scored the game's last 11 points to pull out a one-point win.

Factoring in their loss to Syracuse on Monday night, the Red Storm have dropped four of five and are reeling. To save face, they must take advantage of the home-court advantage over the next ew weeks.

After the terrible twosome of Boston College and Villanova invade the Big Apple, the Johnnies have two solid tests at home. In one three-day span, they host Syracuse and then UConn. That weekend in February will make or breals the Red Storm's season.

Another key for St. John's will be to keep it cool. It needs to play its game, which has four players averaging double figures in scoring and two others on the brink

Point break

About the only thing keeping the UConn Huskies from falling apart this El-Amin.

Much like last year's squad that relied on the leadership of backcourt mates El-Amin and Richard Hamilton, this year's edition needs scoring and poise from its point man.
Other than the Syracuse game, the

Other than the Syracuse game, the UConn guard's play has been stellar. Abainst Seton Hall on Sunday, El-Amin led the Huskies to a 66-56 win with 16 For the season the
For the season, the junior paces the toam in scoring, assists, steals and freethrow percentage. In fact, he's 28-for-28 from the line in conference games. El-Amin the line in the Hushjes face

El-Amin and the Husties face one of their biggest challenges of the season Saturday when they travel to Michigan State. Last year, UConn rippod the Spartans $82-68$. El-Amin frustrated Spartans 82-68. El-Amin frustrated MSUS Mateen Cleaves into 2 -for- 15 shooting, and outscored the superstar 20-6. If he can take control again, UConn could pick up a much-needed win.

Climbing up

The Mountaineers of West Virginia are living up to their name and scaling the Big East standings.

They recently won five garmes in a row, including an overtime thriller over Providence. Leading the way in that game was Marcus Gorce. He lit up the Friars for 15 points, 18 rebounds, six blocks and four steals. But that's not all.

Goree joined Etan Thomas as the Big East's co-player of the week. He also joined Troy Murphy of Notre Dame and Mario Bland of Miani in another club: Goree's big game against Providence saw him top the 1,000 point mark for his career.

West Virginia, who got hammered Wednesday by Notre Dame 79-65, will get some national air time during its chase for an at-large bid in the NCAA tourney. On Feb. 10, the Mountaineers host Pittsburgh Villanova for an ESPN 2 game. A couple of bige wins can put some thoughts in the

Tough competition
The crazy formula for picking which teams bounce off the bubble and make the NCAA tournament always includes strength of schedule. That certainly will help Notre Dame this season.

The Irish have lost games to highly regarded teams like Syracuse, Arizona, Maryland and Indiana. As for big wins, the Irish have knocked off St. John's, UConn and Ohio State. That marks the first time they've beaten three ranked teams in a season since 1991-92.

Of course, the major reason for their success is sophomore Troy Murphy. He sparked a $17-2$ run in ND's $73-60$ victory against St. John's. Against the Red Storm, he scored 30 and grabbed a career-high 18 boards. With his dominance, and the improved play of freshman point guard Matt Carroll, the Irish could be another surprising Big Fast team in the postseason.

Legacy

In the 1980s, the Georgetown Hoyas were famous for the great play of their centers.

Patrick Ewing passed the torch to Alonzo Mourning and Dikembe Mutombo, and even Othella Harrington made his presence felt in the middle.

Now it looks like the Hoyas may finally have an heir to the throne. Though $G$ Town has been led by guards Kevin Braswell and Anthony Perry for most of the season, their man in the middle is finally taking over.

Ruben Boumtje Boumtje scored a career-high 19 points in each of the last came over Louisville on of those victories televicame If the Hoyas want to return to past glory, they'll need continued improvement from Boumtje Boumtje and a cou ple more big wins. A road win over either Miami or Syracuse would certain ly help.

SPORTSOP

continued from page 16
But Pasqualoni did it.
He got Johnnie Morant He got Johnnie Morant, the mammoth wide receiver with 4.4540 -yard dash speed.

He got Walter Reyes and Diamond Ferri, the best running backs from Ohio and Massachusetts, respectively.

He got Chad Elliott, a junior college quarterback who's a solid 6 -foot-3 with a annon of an arm.

He got his targets, and he got them under the most

And for that, Pasqualoni and recruiting coordinator Jeff Stoutland deserve praise.

Their efforts to plug holes with junior college transfers leave SU in a much better posianticipated season than many

Elliott co
arterback a 6 -foot-6, 250 -pound tight end, a 6-foot-6, 250 -pound tight end, should gtart.

Wide receiver Maurice Jackson is back at SU from the exile of academic difficulties. Kwazi Leverette, also a victim of academic troubles, could see some time on his way from SUNY-Morrisville.
The picces are back in place.
Syracuse won't be dynamic like the Donovan McNabb or Don McPherson years. They might not even be good.

But while Pasqualoni is filling the tight end spot and trying to fill the quarterback spot, he's also planning for the future.

And, above all else, he's And Syracuse's name out getting there.

Morant was the biggest catch - maybe the biggest catch since McNabb committed to SU.

He is an impact player, a player high school guys look at nd look up to.

Why do you think Jim Boeheim's Syracuse basketball team landed top recruits like Derrick Coleman and Billy Owens in the late ' 80 s?

The Orangemen had Pearl Washington, and Pearl was the man. People wanted to be like Pearl. be like Johnnie?

They can. If SU posts a nine-win seasons or even reaches the illustrious 10th win, it will garner the high ranking and the massive publicity accompanying it.

Top 10 recruiting classes will pour in. New York state is not the richest area for football talent, but SU will land its top prospects.

This year, the Orangemen lost New York's top three running back Sam
Maldonando, offensive lineman Shane Olivea and linebacker
Will Smith - to Ohio State.
Maybe the three knew a little more about the stabbings than the other recruits. Maybe they didn't care and thought OSU better served their needs.

Either way, the incident churned through the thoughts of every person with whom Pasqualoni spoke.

The question was, how much did it factor in? It's tough to tell.

Remember, it's rocruiting season, and nothing's as it seems.

Jeff Passan is an assistant sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columins appear regularly. E-mail him at appear regularty.
$j$ jpassan $@$ syr.edu.

MAG TARE Beculis  Syracuse Orangemen Football 2000 Recruiting Class

Colin Barber
William (B.J.) Damell
James Dumervil
Cedric Edmonds *Chad Elliott Diamond Ferri Andre Fontenette
*Jeremie Frazier John Glass Greg Hanoian Jose Harris David Hohensee Brian Hooper - Máurice Jačksón Jared Jones Antwan Lewls *Kwazi Leverett Brad Léyenáar Jeremiah Mason Jeremy McCorkle Johnnie Morant Johnnie Moran
Jullañ Pollard. Walter Reyes Brän Sanks Ifoy Swittent Matt Tarullo Matt Tarullo
Adam Iemy:

| Pos. | Hil. | Wt. | Hometown |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| P/K | 6-2 | 186 | Lexington, Ky . |
| DB | 5-10 | 180 | Paducah, Ky. |
| DE | 6-0 | 240 | Miami, Fia. |
| 5 | 5-11 | 181 | Tampa, Fla. |
| QB | $6-3$ | 200 | Sacramento, Calif. |
| RB | 5-10 | 200 | Everett, Mass. |
| WR | 6.3 | 205 | Churchville, N.Y. |
| TE | 6.6 | 250 | Havilanc, Kan. ${ }^{\text {- }}$ |
| OL | 6-4 | 325 | Wayne, Pa. |
| RB | 63 | 225 | Marion, Mass. |
| RB | 64 | 225 | Medford, Mass. |
| TE | 6-3 | 260 | San Antorito, Tex. |
| DT | 6-3 | 275 | Auburn, N.Y. |
| WR | 5-8 | 158 | Rochester, N.Y: |
| QB | 6-1 | 185 | Somerville, N.J. |
| DT | $6-3$ | 275 | Port St. LucieWest; Fla. |
| WR | 6-0 | 205 | Yonkers, N.Y. |
| OL | $6-7$ | 280 | Palm'Harbor, Fla. |
| CB | 6.3 | 173 | Chester, Pa. |
| OT: | $6-7$ | 300 | Freeporti, Pa. |
| WR | 6.5 | 225 | Parsippany, N.J. |
| OEP | 6-5: | 250 | Bloomfield, Ct: |
| Re | 5-11 | 205 | Struthers. Ohio |
| DTE | $6 \cdot 1$ | 275 | Härisbüg pa: |
| DB | 6-1 | 180 | Trenton, N.J. |
| ARB\% | 5-11 | 185 | Norristown, Pa: |
| OL | 6-6 | 285 | Albany |
| OL- | 6-3' | 275 | Quéensbury |
| es iunor colleze transfers who enrolled at SU in Jam. 2000. |  |  |  |

RENT YOUR OWN HOME
TWO FREPLACES, FUANISHED gheat porites,
476-9933
Chaming English Yudor House on Corstock 6
Bedrooms. Fireplace, across Irom Womens Etidg. Bedrooms, Fireplace, across Irom Wornens Bidg
Avail $5 / 20$ 475-1012. $(943) 514-3881$

SUBLET

Room in 2 person Apt available starting in Spring 2000. Furnished, cappefed, air condioned. Low 2000. Fumished, cappeled, air condioned. triitios, $1 / 2$ block from carmpus. 479 -5005

 SERVICES
ThEE meals, 23 Hours ol Froe Drank. We Are The Bigpest, The Best, And The Last Expensive The Bigoest, The Best, And The Least Expensive.
Play wie You Payl 6 Monk Farment plan
Avallabie 11 Ask HowIt $800-395-4896$ Sping Brear Speciat Batramas Paty Crisel 5 Sping Break Specialst Bathamas Party Cruise! 5
Niophts $$ 279$ Includes Meals! Awesome Beaches Niprits $$ 279!$ includes Meals! Awesorne Beaches
Nightife! Departs From Flondal Panama Cit
Room With Kitchen Neat To Clubs, 7 Parties & Foom With Kitchen Nert To Clubs, 7 Parties &
Free Driks $$ 1291$ Daytona Room With Kithen $$ 1491$ South Beach (Bars Open Unill Samt) $$ 1591$ Cocta Beact (Near Disney) $179!

MISC.

orange NOTES

Men's Basketball Results Wednesday No. 7 Connecticut 74

Notre Dame 79
West Virginia 65

Rutgers
Boston Coil.
Big East Standings
Syracuse $\quad 80 \quad 18-0$
Seton Hall Miami St. John's Connecticut Notre Dame West Virginia Rutgers Georgetown
villanova
Pittsburgh Boston College Providence

National RPI Rankings

1. Cincinnati
2. Kentucky
3. Arizona
4. Duke
5. Tennessee
6. Indiana
7. Syracuse
8. Stanford
9. Texas
10. Kansas
11. Aubum
12. Temple
13. Kent
14. Oklahoma
15. lowa St.

NCAA lowers standards A new set of rules will allow individual high schoots to detemine if their student-athletes have fulfilled course requirements for collegiate eligibility.

Sehools will now be able to determine which courses are acceptable, giving high school principals far more leeway in setting a curricu lum.

The old, stricter regulation hurt the chances of thousands of students to receive athletic scholarship. The NCAA regulated which courses counted toward it core requirements. For example, one previous regu lation disqualified social studies courses that devoted more than 25 percent o classroom time to current affairs or independent study.

The new rules require courses to be college preparatory and applicable to a graduation requirements in one of seven graduation categories. Independent studies classes and courses taken over the internet can now count toward the core subjects rule.

An NCAA committee approved the changes last spring, and Division I and II membership ratified the motion recently.

sports trivia

Q. Who ranks ahead of Karl Malone on the alltime NBA career scoring list?
yesterday's trivia: Q. Where did Super Bowl XXXIV MVP Kurt Warner attend coilege?
A. Northern lowa

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 3, 200010

SU lands blue-chip class

BY GREG BISHOP Staff Writer

After ascending to the Bowl Championship Series in 1998, the graduation of several key starters left Shoes to fill Future NFL players Rob Konrad and Kevin Johnson finished their respective caabb took his legendary Central New Yorkstatus and moved on to the Philadelphia Eagles.

In spite of the new openings, several of Syracuse's recruits failed to projust two true freshmen playing in 1999.

This year, things appear to have changed. Syracuse has completed its 200 zecruiting class with mediate contributions, espe cially at the skill positions.

See SIGNING page 12
 Syracuse rebuilds Orangemen overcome recruiting odds

Jeff Passan

sports opinion

Paul Pasqualoni sat in the cafeteria at the Petty-Iacolano Football wing, arms crossed, and, in his own matter-of-fact way, seemed - gasp! —excited.

E didn't equal mcand Monday, and the Syracuse football team's apple floated high in the air, choosing not to drop and bop Coach $P$ on the noggin.
Pasqualoni his best class in 10 years as SU's coach. It even caused the coach to crack a smile.

Three months after the worst spell of bad luck, and bad play, and bad everything plagued the Syracuse football team, a change took place.

Everything was right.
Ninety-two days after three Orangemen were stabbed outside Sadie's Place, Pasqualoni and his coaches did the impossible.
And they did so with the stabbing incident looming over the program. licity than John Rocker could handle.

Wrong place, wrong time, people justifiably said.
It was also the wrong time for Pasqualoni and his staff.
They had recruits to meet and greet, and convincing them to come to SU turned into a feat.

Coaches faced a myriad of awkward situations.
Mothers voicing their concerns.
Mr. Pasqualoni, I know your team is nationally recognized and you certainly can give my boy a good education, but is he safe?"

Paul, I know you have a reputation for grooming NFL players, but what kind of crowd is he going to be involved with?
Players voicing their doubts.
Coach, can what happened to them happen to me?"
The tiniest shred of doubt - all that's necessary to wreck not only a recruiting class, but an entire program - elicited questions about the Orangemen's ability to score elite players.

See SPORTSOP page 15

(top) SU canch Paul Pasqualonl discusses the 2000 recruiting ciass Wedrescay night. (above, from left) Chad Elliott, Maurice Jackson, Kneal Leverethe and Jenemie Fravier field questions about attending SU.

Baker waits his turn

BY CHRIS SNOW

Staff Writer
Barry Baker, one of the top running backs and all-around athletes to ever come out of Long Island, currently attends Syracuse University.

Problem is, he's not playing football.
A standout tailback and strong safety in high school, Baker put up monster offensive and defensive numbers while winning hree Long Island championships.

But the North Babylon High star's academic struggles prevented him from accepting an athletic scholarship from the Orangemen.

Ineligible this year, Baker is attending SU under the Higher Education Opportunity Program (HEOP) grant for financially struggling families. He took a full schedule of classes this academic year while he waits to start playing again in August.
-Basically, it's all about discipline," said Baker, a retail maSee BAKER page 11

Tobacco Road matchup highlights second week

Ryan Stalzer
battle for the bottles

It's way too early to talk about bubble teams and NCAA seedings, so let's take a look back at the first three month son. Here's basketball sea report.

Surprise Team:
Oregon - The Ducks' 15-3 overall record and 6-1 Pac-10 mark includes wins over Wake Forest, Gonzaga, and league foes UCLA and USC.

Runners Up: Vanderbilt, Iowa State, USC

Most Disappointing Team: Depanl - Quentin Fichardson is getting the job done ( 19 points and nine rebounds a garne), but the preseason Top 25 Blue Demons are just 3-4 in Conference USA play. Depaul gets some credit, though, for close losses to Duke and Texas and a win over St. John's

Runners Up: Illinois iami (FL), North Carolina Best Game: Ohio StateIllinois - For 39 minutes it was kind of dull, but the Fighting Illini's answering a late Buckeye 3-pointer with their own game winner at the buzzer provided the season's best finish.

Runner Up: The Tennessee-Florida doubleovertime affair in Gainesville.

Best Individual
Performancer Eddie House (Arizona State) - House See BATTLE page 12

Campaign neglects programs

Fundraising effort provides $300M for select initiatives BY KARIN PATTENGILL Contributing writer

Syracuse University's Commitment to Learning Campaign may have surpassed its $$ 300$ million goal, but not all programs in need will be fully funded, acrding to Division of University Relations officials.

The shortage is due in part to benefactors' requests for specific fund allocations, said Lansing Baker, senior vice president for university relations. Some pledges have not yet been collected, he added. "There are many more priorities than there is unding and in six years priorities change in imporfunding and in six years priorities change in importance," Baker said. "We will continue to raise money for the academic priorities that the deans have established.

Baker declined to comment on the SU programs that will not receive funding from the campaign.

The university targeted four areas for funding: meeting student needs, upgrading educational technologies, providing a competitive environment and preparing for future needs, Baker said

Funds from the campaign will go toward the esSee CAMPAIGN page 6

Ready, set, Rush

Members of Apha Tau Omega recruit Rush eandidates Thursday in the Schine Student JESSICA CUTLER/The Daily Orange Membors of Apha Tau Omega necruit Rush candidates Thurs day in the Schine Student Center atrium. The fraternity was reinstated earfier this week, after being suspended from campus in 1998 . This year maris the 5 Oth annivers ary of their SU charter. From left to night sonior health and exercise science major Jeff Wells, semior finance major Jay Perillo, senior bio-engneering major Rohert Swunes and senior VPA ad design major fosh Zimdahl. Spring Rush 2000 officially hicks off today.

- Police Reports:

Officers

investigate

 bomb threat
Staff Reports

Syracuse police searched the Schine Student Center last week in response to a 10 -day-old bomb threat telephoned in to the Schine Box Of fice.

On Dec. 18, a female caller told a box office employee that if she did not get tickets to Friday's Method Man concert.she to Syracuse Uniway in, according to Syracuse University Department of Public Safety reports.

SU Public Safety and a police bomb squad used dogs to search Schine and Goldstein Auditorium for suspicious packages on Dec. 18 and again last Friday, according to reports. Both checks were negative and there were no incidents reported at the concert, which began at 8 p.m. Friday in Goldstein Auditorium.

Schine Box Office, SU Public Safety and Syracuse police could not be seached for comment.

Compiled by Staff Writer Ryan Donohue

Westcott forum to discuss educational equity

BY MAGIN MCKENNA

 Staff WriteLocal Socialist Party members hope to use a forum Sunday afternoon to encourage community dialogue about education.
The forum begins at $3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. at the Westcott Community Center, 826 Euclid Ave. It will feature a panel discussion on the topics of economic and racial inequality in New York and state public organizer.

There are portions of the state that have disproportionate amounts of funding in suburban areas compared to urban ones," said Edelstein, a former Syracuse University professor of sociology.

There are schools in New York City and the city of Syracuse that do not re counterparts, he said. SU economics pro
SU economics professor Dale Tussing will speak at the forum about his research on educational equity.

Tussing studied school financing in both the United States and Ireland for more than a decade, he said.

Public funding too of ten benefits the education of the economical and socially privileged, while virtually ignoring those who are less fortunate, Tussing said. ${ }^{\text {uIf }}$ I could put it in a nutshell, there are some functions that primarily benefit the havidual learner who will through higher learning, achieve a high er income," he said.

But some aspects of education serve to benefit all of society, such as literacy, quantitative skills and moral values Edelstein said. These are not given enough emphasis in public schools, he added.
"The younger the child is, the more
See SOCIALIST page 8

Students to grade SU campus in nationwide survey

BY JOHN ARWEILER Contributing Writer

The Pew Charitable Trusts foundation encourages students this semester to speak their mind and grade the Syracuse University campus.

The foundation's National Survey of Student Engagement will give 700 members of the freshman and senior class the opportunity to voice their concerns about life at SU. The foundation this week released a report of the 35 largest revenue-producing U.S. cities, through the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affair's Government Performance Project. It will give a student perspective on what really happens at $\mathrm{SU},{ }^{\text {" }}$ said Bill

Notte, a senior culinary arts major, of the student survey. "If it's answered STuthfully, SU students and prospective students as SU
SU is one of 250 universities invited to take part in the the survey's College comparable to SU in size and academics, including Boston College and Villanova, are also participating in the survey.

The survey will accomplish two goals, said Mike Scanlon, a graduate student in the Office of Student Affairs. The survey will both accommodate students in and out of the classroom and establish an educational standard for U.S. universities, he said.
"If we can learn superior methods from other colleges or if Syracuse can introduce effective policies to others, it would benefit everyone, ${ }^{\text { }}$ he said.

The survey is a collaboration be tween the SU Division of Academic Affairs and the Division of Student Affairs. Both Ronald Cavanagh, vice president of undergraduate studies, and Barry $L$. Wells, vice president of student affairs and dean of student relations, are leading the project on carmpus. The SUIQ Measurement and Benchmarking subcommittee will also coordinate the survey.
The survey will allow SU to compare itself against other universities of comparable size, an opportunity never before presented, according to $\boldsymbol{S U}$ offi-

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

The Office of Greek Life hosts the Spritig Rush 2000 Kick off at 6 p.m. in Goldstein Audito rium.

Whe Light Work Gallery, in the Watson Theater Complex. hosts a Arts Student Exhibition $2000^{\prime \prime}$ reception from to 10 p.in. For Burnett at 443-2450.
-Thë Global Collaboratory in Eggers Hall hosts the Copyright to 4:30 p.m. Syracuse versity Library, Cornell Univer sity Library and the National Initiative for a Networked Cul tural Heritage are-sponsoring the meeting.

- The Career Development Center hosts "How to Find an Internship, from 2 to 3 p.m. in Newhouse 1, Room 20.
- Hendricks Chapel hosts the second annual Sojourner Storytelling Conference from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. a UU Cinemas presents "Fight Club" at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Tickets are $3. "Enter the Dragon" begins at midnight with no admission fee.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill," at 8 p.in. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 38$, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 4433275 for more information.

SATURDAY

- SU's Leadership Experience, Achievement and Development program hosts the Leader. ship Education Summit from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Schine Stution call Chris Johnson at 443 2718.
© UU Cinemas presents "Fight Clab" at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is $$ 3$. "Enter the Dragon" begins at midnight with no admission fee.

Syracuse Stage presents "The Smell of the Kill," at $8: 30$ p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $$ 15-$ 38$, discounts for seniors, students and groups. Call 443-3275 for more information.

- The Residence Hall Association presents the Campus Cabaret from $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to $10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. in Goldstein Auditorium.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyorange.com
[dँ̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during byracuse University's academic year is The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the firs five copies eomplementa additional copy coses $$ 1$.

Management 443.9798 Business 443-2314 News 443-2127 Sports $443-2128$
Sport Phocography 443 -9795

E-mail editorial@dailyorange.com

Maxwell professors begin health care endeavor

BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer

A New Jersey-based foundation in beeking Syracuse University faculty members to help write health care studies.

The Scholars in Mealth Policy Regearch Program, ereated by the Robert Wood Johnated by the Rabert Wood John12 former graduate students natormer graduate students faculty members are currently working in the program, and wo others already completed their two-year sessions.
"It's a great organization from top to bottom. They do everything well and really go out of their way to be helpiul to people in the program," said John Moran, assistant profesJor of economics and former participant in the program. port provides a boost to young pcholars who are just beginning to get their research programs off the ground."

The program calla for its participants to spend two years engulfed in the study of health care. The participants are expected to contribute to a number of publications by the program's end.

The program does not require a background in health care policy, only an interest in the subject, said Grant Reeher, professor and a former progerm participant.

Moran said he had little exposure to health policy prior to taking part in the program. But he did write a disol ragar during graduate school regarding a related subject, he said. gram, and the position was very attractive" Moran said $=1$ felt that it would be a oreat opportunity to supplement the port theoretical training I had in graduate school." in graduate school. The program funda the members for a leave of two years from their current positions.

It gives these young people a great opportunity to learn more about the policy, and the program also gives you full support of your full-time research," Reeher said.

Some participants start working for the program imme. diately after graduate school. diately aite
"I started in the program in the summer of 1997," Maran gaid MIt was my firgt real job after graduate school.
Fhat I got out of the program was a much better understanding of how thinge in derstanding of how thingsin institutions operate " he said

The participants are oplit into three sub-groups and sent to the University of Michigen the University of California at Berkeley or Yale University Moran and Reeher toth worked Moran at the Gaversity of Michigan they said.

Rogan Kersh, an assistant professor of political science at SU, is currently working at Yale.

Reeher used his time to research health care reform and distributive justice. He also interviewed Vermont legislators about many health care concerns.

His work with the program led to his book Narratives of Justice: Beliefs About Distributive Fairness."

The program also led to other projecta, including a atudy involving hesith care polcy and aging. He is currently lor Deborah Freund on a project reparding pharmaceuticals and the elderly.
*Now try to integrate health care policies intomy teaching ${ }^{\text {a }}$ Reeher added my teaching, Reeher added.
axwell Sclool of Citizen of the and public Affeirs, was also chosen to lead a 12 morth oval uation of the actual program, with help from adjunct profes sor of sociology Elaine Wolf.

The foundation asked for outside help in the evaluation to make sure things will operate within the program, Reeher said.
"I was asked to undertake the task because i have ajready bridged the kinds of experience the Robert Wood Foundation was trying to inte grate." Palmer said. He said that his evaluation of the project has been fully funded by the foundation.

Palmer said he is excited about the program and what it means for SU
"This will bring some resources here that are very beneficial," Palmer said.
-It's one of the largest national foundations dealing with the biggest schools," he added. I think that is's great that SU has had a number of people involved."

Is rushing the court a proper way to celebrate?  Students respond to fan jubilation following the Jan. 24 UConn game.

41 feel like the celebration gets students excited, but once people get hurt, it goes too far. 7

CLINT BREWER
Arts and Sciences
Class of 2003

4t's a fun thing and it's something you can't really stop unless you get a riot squad at games and no one wants to do that.'

DAVE CAMPBELL. Arts and Sciences Class of 2000

el den't think it is appropriate. If someone rushes the court, it doesn't repsect the discpline of the sport.7

ROMIT DASGUPTA
Engineering Class of 2002

Sif it's monitored so theft wouldn't happen it would be okay.!

RAVEN ROMAN Human Development Class of 2001

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

Fans should observe common sense

Syracuse University students have the right to be royally pumped when their basketball team is undefeated. The Orangemen are Andrea off to the best Hurwitz start in school colert - history and are marshal and stronger with each game. However, there is such a thing as showing too much spirit.

For example, take a look at the wake of SU's lop-sided victory over UConn on Jan. 24, where ecstatic fans rushed the basketball court. Some overexuberant fans even hung like monkeys from the bas## ketball rims. It is refreshing to see  'Fandomonium'

The tradition of storming the court after a big win by a college basketball team dates back many years.

One reason
Josh Gross cheer with for the continuation of this form of celebration is that it allows for fans, mainly the students, to feel like they are a part of the victory. And, students, as members of the university, are part of the team.

A huge advantage in any sport should be home-field advantage. The main advantage comes from Gan participation and involvement. While I truly appreciate the effort that our basketball players give every second that they're on the such a demonstration of SU spirit, but was this appropriate? Tall tales were passed around the day after SUs victory about students who thought they were going to be victims of "death by trampling." What would have happened if a student were severely injured as mobs of people pushed him or her down, or if he or she grew entangled in a folding chair? What if one of the basketball players got injured from this rush of people? Or an injury to an elderly SU alum? It seems that the only time we stop to face issues, such as student safety, are when an incident occurs or a situation gets out of hand.

It's time that we start to act responsibly, even in times of high emotion. Of course, there are historical moments in basketball history when fans have stormed the court to celebrate a win, but we have never heard about the people who could not breathe or felt threatened by the pushing of his or her body from all directions. I am not trying to be a stickler who says students are not allowed to have fun, or students are not allowed to celebrate and demonstrate their SU spirit. I am simply requesting that students think before they act, so that Syracuse University is not renamed Syra-chaos University.

Andrea Hurwitz is a sophomore public relations & sociology major.
floor, I also feel the need to give it my all.

After such an entertaining game as the one between SU and UConn, in which all of the Orangemen and their fans gave it their all, storming the court was only appropriate. The win was so emotional that the greatest celebration imaginable seemed necessary. It was a way for the fans to thank. the team for their greatness, as well as a way for the players to thank the fans for theirs.

The SU victory over the Huskies means so much more than just a win. It means respect. After 16 straight wins, we finally received our much-deserved respect. Rushing the court was our way of celebrating a great win, a great. team and the national attention that any undefeated team should have.
about have only one complaint about the incident. The safety of the players, students, SU employees and the media was compromised. If done properly, storming the court can be magical.

However, the near-breaking of well as the stealing of anything well as the stealing of anything that students could get their hands on. So, lets work tagether the next much as I hate Duke court. As much as I hate Duke, lets learn Celebrate, enjoy be safe and Josh Gross is a sophomore broadcast journalism major.

6 wouldn't rush the court for sports, but for a movie, that's possible.?

LARA TOBIN
Arts and Scinces Class of 2000

ait's a good way for students to have fun - party on!?

ZUGELY SAEZ
Arts and Sciences Class of 2000

WThey have the right to celebrate after the week of tough courses. After all. there's nothing much to do in Syracuse in the snow. 9

MEHMET YUCEER
Engineering
Graduate student

61t tells a lot about the university and how we might not be responsible enough and need to be in a more controlled environment.?

CHRISTINE HOSTETTLER
Architecture 2nd year

GIf they're not disturbing society, it doesn't matter what they do. 9

OGUZHANA OZTURK
Arts and Sciences
Class of 2000

[editorial]

Christian college draws Bush, GOP

Texas Gov. George W. Bush began picking up

 the pieces after his stuming defeat in the New Hampshire Republican primaries Wednesday by visiting Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C.$B J U$ isn't a normal college. Mostly white, conservative Christians compose the student body of 5,000 . The college began admitting blacks in the 1970s. The government revoked the school's tax-exempt status over this controversy. Currently, the college employs a ban on interracial dating and marriage. So much for forward thinking in the new millennium.

Democrat presidential hopeful Bill Bradley lambasted Bush on Thursday, insinuating that by appearing at B-JU, Bush and his conservative brethren support the school's archaic policies. Republican candidates Steve Forbes and Alan Keyes have already scheduled appearances in Greenville. Arizona Sen. John McCain's camp is negotiating a stop.

For the GOP, stopping at schools like BJU distances the party from the "liberal" Clinton administration and tells ultra-conservative groups that they should continue to place their faith in the Republican party. The Republican candidates' moves make perfect sense and even better press clippings.

On the other hand, criticizing Bush for ditching his "compassionate conservative" platform is a brilliant move for Bradley, who lost a hotly-contested race to Vice President Al Gore in New Hampshire. Bradley has made race relations an integral part of his platform and his comments reaffirm his commitment to improve race relations.

But just because the Republicans are stopping at BJU doesn't mean they endorse the ban. The candidates are merely attempting to reach a pool of untapped voters they feel are crucial for victory next Tuesday.

However, by appearing at BJU , the GOP is associating with an establishment whose thinking damages both diversity and progress. Republican campaign strategists need to carefully weigh the consequences before going to bed with an institution that threatens a core value that makes the United States special.

[dä]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor

Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

Ashok Selvam Holly Auer Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger
Tom Nycz Nova Austrew Laura Prabucki Emily Kulkus Cate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Hoy Davia
Sapas Koltar Sapna Kollat Cormpor Ennis Ioff Pasian Erin Boyle Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner
Tito Bottitta Sesricica Cutiter Jescica Cutior
Rachmel Colden

neva austaew/The Daily Orange

opinions

Inane chatter transforms America into puppets  few ways you can respond to this question. You can

I saw that damn girl yesterday. I was walking along in the Geology building minding nothing but my own business when she came into sight. I feared for my life. I jolted to the closest door and violently for my life. I joited to the closest coor and violently jiggled the handle. Her footsteps

RENNY

mCCAULEY got louder and that flopping pons tail came into plain view. The door didn't seem to open. I cursed the school for using the locks. There was no haven from her happiness. I knew she saw me when that disgusting devil-red lipstick formed a gigantic smile, She's that girl I've never truly talked to before in my life but for some reason we always have to enter into that customary discussion.
"Hi, Renny! How are you doing?"
And we went through the motions making sure we knew exactly how we were doing, how classes were going and where exactly we're living this year. shed in order to make room for more useful informa tion. ${ }^{* * * *}$

If there's one thing I've picked up in my two years at this school, it's that the people in power, whoever they might be, use all methods possible to seep people like me in my place. Everything we do, say, or are exposed to is probably a plot to keep us from taking power away from the people already in power...whoever they might be. So it's my conclusion hat greetings are part of this conspiracy.

From our youth, the people in power train us to use small talk. We were all critics of this unnatural dea when we were young. Do you remember when you came home from school and your parents asked of the shoulders accompaniys resporded with a shrug We were battling for our rights as younont know lowly we gave up and now we small talk just like our parents.

There's no practical reason for small talking to people every time we see them especially if we don't really care. Let's break down a customary greeting for a second - "What's up?" Now there's truly only a say "nothing" or "not much." The most illogical but most common response is just to repeat "What's up?" gained no insight in to what is actually "up." The question has not been answered and we've just wasted a good four seconds of our life.
The four seconds does not seem like much by itself but when this happens numerous times everyday, we lose significant portions of our life. In a very scientific calculation, I estimated my total loss of life to small talk to be around one full year. Small talk is encouraged by those in power so that we will waste our lives and never truly know how oppressed we are. There is no small talk in the Pentagon. If you go there, you will merely see a bunch of guys sticking out there tongues at each other when somebody is approaching. They don't sleep either, but that's in What I propose is an clim

What I propose is an elimination of small talk. I suppose the word "hi" can remain, seeing as it's hard to get somebodys attention when you just start talk split second wasted. Then get down to business. Tell the person why you have approached them in the first place. If you need to borrow toenail clippers, simply say, "Hi. I need your clippers." That's all you need to do.

This isn't meant as an attack on people who say phony things. I am just as guilty of phoniness as any body else and I don't have the guts to stop. I am also not trying to wage an attack on acknowledging unfamiliar people. Without this, it would be hard to make friends. I just don't think it's necessary to waste my time with information that has no use to me. This should be viewed more as a calling to somebody braver than I to change the way things are. I would love to have somebody come up to me and simply stick out their tongue. In return, I would gladiy extend my own tongue in greeting.

I will dive further into conspiracies next week with an article titled "Sleep - Necessity or Government Conspiracy?"
Renny McCauley is a junior television, radio and lim major: His column appears in The Daily Orange on Fridays. E-mail him at remcaul@syredu.

letters

Student shows support for geography professor

To the Editor:
I am currently a work study student in the geography office here at the university, and have been in that posirion for almost two years now. Whern 1 Short, 1 was appalled to hear such accusations. Dr. Short is one of the most intelligent, hard working, motivated, and friendly individuals that I have ever been in contact with, and I know a majority of the people who have been in contact with him will agree enthusiastically.
His job, along with every other caculty member at Syracuse Universispire the information to the student in their class. And I am sure we all know that most of the professors don't care whether you do the work or even show up at all. Dr. Short told Zac Moore that he had not cone the work and gave him all the relevant information that was needed in order for the student to make an informed decision on what be should do about the situation he was in. And I know that Dre Short would have not just let this Deglect of the work load go unnoticed. Merefore, the situation that Mr. Moore put himself in was of his

I do agree with Mr. Moore when concerning the protection of students' nights against plagiarism, but I know copies of a number of Dr. Short's works, that he always gives proper recognition for thouphts that aren't his own. The "original" thought that Mr. Moore himself said was taken "verbaim" was more than likely not an original thought of his own, and once he realizes the foundation of writing is one that is based in a combination of originals thought to produce your own, he would begin to question his own ideas before "throwing stones."

CAMPAIGN

continued from page 1 tablishment of scholarships. fellowships, computer clusters, ectures and campus improvements, he added. Baker said he will also focus subsequent funding on areas such as more undergraduate scholarships, new space and building needs and the renavation of existing research laboratories.

SU extended the campaign in order to raise $$ 350$ million by Decermber, Baker said.

The fundraising began in 1993 to help SU becomethe nation's leading student-centered research facility, according to a campaign report.

The campaign resulted in 68 new scholarships and $$ 60$ million in contributions for future scholarships. Several alumni who had scholarships during their time at $S U$ confributed to the merit-based Chancellor's and Dean's Scholarships, Baker said.

Our highest priority is scholarships," Baker said, "They are what keep us competitive."

Many domations durimg the last several years contributed to the success of the campaign, Baker said.

There have been more than 61 gifts of at least $$ 1$ milion, he said. Four of these donations were of $$ 4$ million or more, Baker added.

As of Dec. 31. individuals and corporations contributed a combined $$ 302.3$ million. Individuals contributed $$ 192$ million while corporations and foundations donated $$ 110.3$ million, according to a campaign report
Ruth Freeman Meyer, a 1950 SU graduate, donated $$ 14$ million, the largest individual sum. The majority of this contribution went toward scholarships, said Wiliam Pre ston, an SU manager of public relations.

SU Vice Chancelior Debo. rah Freund said she is pleased with the success of the cam. paign.
"Wonderful things helped take us where we needed to go," she said.

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN AUSTRALIA?

Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA

Monday, February 7Th AT 3PM

Commitment to Learning Campaign

Source of Contributions July 1. 1993 to Dec. 1, 1999
$$ 302.3$ million - total
$$ 144.8$ million - individual gifts and pledges
$$ 110.3$ million -corporate and foundation pledges
$47. 2 million - bequests and life insurance

Distribution of funds
$$ 35.5$ million - annual unrestricted
$$ 9$ milion - endowed faculty $$ 51.7$ million - endowed sehools
$$ 24.2$ million - endowed program support
$$ .6$ million - endowed equipment
$$ 29$ million - capital equipment gifts-in-kind $13.3 million - capital building endowment s9.1. annual financial aid
$4.1- annual program support $25 million - other

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes Sourte: Commitement to Leaming campays Sowte:
repons

The Syracuse University College Democrats Present:

Goldstein Auditorium February 9, 2000 at 12:00 p.m.  Doors open at 11:00 p.m.

Free tickets available to students 12:00 p.m. Saturday, February 5 at the Shine Box Office One ticket per valid SUID No backpacks, bottles, signs or cameras allowed

SURVEY

continued from page 1
cials.
Survey topics range from students' scholarly activities to social life. Some students, however, argue the validity of the survey.
*This is a great opportunity for the students at Syracuse to give their input about the institution and about the univerhopefully change it for the bet er," said Allison Scuderi, an undeclared freshman in Tho College of Arts and Sciences. Joe Ingram, a senior mar eting and finance major said he is skeptical of how much change will result from the sur vey. ${ }^{\text {ey. "The survey in question }}$ probably won't do any good. Ingram said. Wm not sure that lngram saiditm not sure that anything wilm be done in re swers."

News Meeting All new & interested writters are welcome

Sunday 3:00 The D.O. Office 744 Ostrom

staff writers and beat writers are encouraged to attend

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

andrisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertis

SOCIALIST  continued from page 1

 society benefits," Tussing said. "Why do we put money into fi nancing med business school for education or businein to mako peoplo money? more money?There's a lot of evidence that the way we pay for education helps the wealthy stay wealthy," he added.

The socialist group decided to organize the forum for various reasons, including an October proposal by the Urban League of Onondaga County and Edison Schools, Inc. to establish a charter school in Syracuse next fall. Edelstein said.

In December, the State University of New York Board of Trustees rejected the league's proposal.
"One of the factors that interested us was the push for charter schools," he said. "As a socialist, I am opposed to a central bureaucracy limiting the flexibility of what parents and faculty can do in running a school."

In order to promote equity, public schools should be democratized at the district level, with more administrative power placed in the hands of teachers, he said.

The involvement of political partics that differ from the mainstream, like the Green Party and Socialist Party could improve public education because of their organizational structure, Edelstein said.

Some things could improve if teachers had the powor to make more decisions," he aide be consid erable autonomy.*

ELIGIBILITY: Graduate in 2002
Pass Fitness Test and Physical
Cum GPA of 2.65
GUARANTEED JOB!
EXCITING CAREER:

Pursuc One of the Following Degrees:
EXCELLENT BENEFITS!

Ensineerins:
Aeronautical
Aerospace
Chernical
Civil Computer
OR Electrical Encironmental Industrial
Mechanical
Nuclear

EXPRESS SCHOLARSHIPS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR SPRING 'OO TUITION!
CALLING ALL SOPHOMORES TO

Io Beal laflation Theres Really ()nly One Choice.

the $\tan$ E

Foxx trot
Humor is the best medicine, so trudge through the snow to Landmark Theater and let actor/comedian Jamie Foxx cure your winter blues. His urban-flavored quips, made famous on his self-titled WB sitcom and Oliver Stone's "Any Given Sunday," will fill the stage 8 p.m. Saturday at the theater, 363 S. Salina St.
Tickets are $$ 27$. Call $475-7980$ for questions.

Local comedians

Come support local talent this weekend at No Borders, No Boundaries, 171 Marshall St. Songwriter trio Ty Marshall, Joshua Collins and Jason Vatter entertain coffeehouse folk at 10 p.m. Friday for $$ 4$ For more information call 474-2277.

Magic awaits

This weekend is your last chance to watch the mischievous street urchin Aladdin befriend a magical genie and nub his way into Jasmine's heart. The Upstate New York Ballet-sponsored play closes this weekend with final shows 7 p.m. Friday, 2 and 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. It's making its final debut at CrouseHinds Concert Theater, Mulroy Civic Center, 411 Montgomery St. Ticket prices range from $$ 14.50$ to $$ 16.50$. Call 488-5734 for more information.

Men in peril

Saturday is your last chance to watch "The Smell of the kill" - a production centering around the troubled mar riage of three women and their struggle to decide whether or not to free their trapped hus bands from a walk-in freezer. Michele Lowe's provocative dark comedy is playing at the Syracuse Stage, 820 E. Genesee St. Friday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 4 and 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $$ 15$ to $$ 38$ and call $443-3275$ for more information.

Snow fun

Take advantage of the piles of snow covering the ground and go snow tubing! Starting at 10 a.m. Saturday and Sunday at the four Seasons Golf and Ski Center, 8012 E. Genesee St., Fayetteville. Only $$ 10$ for four hours. Call 6379023 for more information.

Day of love

Searching to whip up a little pre-Valentine's Day romance? The Highland Forest in Fabius offers a romantic dinner in a 1850's Community House and horsedrawn sleigh rides. The price is $$ 55$ a couple and starts at 7 p.m. Saturday. required so call 683 5550 for more informa5550

Eric

 Rosenthal 8 Matt Braycinemaniacs
we felt it apropos that for this week's column, we would throw down over "Eye of the Beholder"

To keep it from getting a "Tadd" out of hand, our referee, Tadd from Buffalo, joined us for the showing.

So, Budweiser girls, march those numbered placards around the ring, 'cause here we go.

The Split Verdict: Round II
In this corner, in the Abercrombie and Fitch trunks, Eric "Eye of the Tiger" Rosenthal:
"Eye of the Beholder" is the story of a spy called The Eye (Ewan MicGregor, and his absurdots aftr seeing her brutally kill a who he meets after seeing her brutaly kill a man he wass spying on. He subsequently stalks he across the country.

See CINEMANIACS page 10

The Daily Orange

CINEMANIACS

continued from page 9

Joanna, played by Ashley udd, not knowing that she is being tailed for most of the novie, moves about in trains planes and automobiles across the United States, killing any man who introduces himself to her.

In a ridiculous move by director Stephen Elliot, The Eye's e took with her years ago somehow joins him on the ride. The daughter, who can only be seen and heard by The Eye, is utterly annoying in her effort to et him to follow Joanna. And, ake this firm, The Eye picks up and blindly follows.

Eye is not a memorable or vorthwhile film at all. Even hose who were drawn to the movie for the voyeuristic value, o to speak, can't get too much out of it: one minute of a topless ganna and 108 minutes of utter boredom and confusion - liko hy McGregor's character leave his job working with a technical-y-idwanced spy unit of Wash ington, D.C.'s British consulate office to chase lustfully after a

ABYSS

ontinued from page 9
the $56,000 start-up capital for the club, which will be open Thursday and Friday nights for the remainder of the year. The money will fund the club's opera tion for the remainder of the se nester, retrardless of the club's success, Tyler said. ially were doesn't do well a providine this sery committed dents on campus," he said

Tyler hopes that as word of the club spreads, greek organizations, student groups and per haps residence halls will work serial killer in search of her "good side."

It's ridiculous how little character development there is, not to mention that it's missing a Hollywood staple" - a character to care about.

Cinematically, nothing is too special. There is one nice shot where Joanna and The Eye lie in bathtubs adjacent to each other, but in neighboring apartments. Even that shot is overshadowed by the question of why is he doing what he's doing. The Eye caresses the wall between them while Joanna lies there innocently taking her bath. And it's not like he tilks to her anytime soon either. It takes him to the end of the flick and a whole trip across the United States to say hello.

No one can be this pathetic.
But, performances, specifically McGregor's, might be. An admittedly poor role is no exuse. Ewan is a belter actor than what's on screen. He was great in Trainspotting," and from what I heard about "Episode I, re was excellent as Obi-Wan.

No, I still haven't seen it. Color me left out

Ashley Judd received a lot with the Student Activities office to co-sponsor dance party events. These collaborations will be free of charge to the partner ing group, he said, but they will be asked to help advertise the be ant ahead of time.

Dance fever

The name for the club cropped up during a brainstorming session after evaluating student suggestions. "Abyss" was a spin-off of another initial was a spin-on of anoth."
sugestion, "blackhole."
"We think that name is great," Tyler said. "It really captures the sense of the room.
of critical acclaim for this performance, but she did not perform spectacularly in the movie. Maybe it was the poor script, but her lines had very little impact. Beyond that, her role in the novie was to walk around with a scowl on her face and a new wig on her head every five minutes.

One interesting casting choice was Jason Priestley as a villainous druggie, which was definitely a change for 90210's Brand-o, but very good and unfortunately too short Simply said this film was an Eye" sore and not worth the money or time.

And in this corner, in the Dickies workwear trunks, Matt "Private Eyes" Bray

OK, I'll admit it - this isn't the strongest of titles. Really, it sounds as if it could have been a Meat Loaf song.

Although, "Eye of the Beolder" sounds like it would be on a one-way track to cliché land, it has some redecming qualities.

First of all, because it is a film about surveillance and infatuation with a subject of surveillance, it runs the risk of being a gadget film. And you al what I am talking about.
hat an talking about.
However, this is not all you get for your eight bucks. Although technology infects the movie as it does almost all contemporary cinema, the focus is placed mostly on the relationship of the two main characters and their psychological profiles.

Ewan McGregor and Ashley Judd (obviously cast for their ability to put butts in seats) create performances that enthrall the viewer to reel initalso an odd compassion reminiscent of other dark romances, such as Leaving Las Vegas, not this type of story developed by this type of Judd shows an array of emotions as she goes on as the oberved. Because she is in conrol, she must also actively deal ith the situations at hand ather than just observe them from outside.

McGregor's character, never addressed by name, gives him an anonymity only tapped by technological means.

said

Tyler and Hills worked hard to spread the word about Club Abyss' debut. Their heavy advertisement campaign which will continue for the at least the first month of operation - included full-page ads in The Daily Orange, on-air ads on radio station 289 and a flurry of flyers plastered throughout main campus buildings and residence halls.

Their next step, Hills said, will be to advertise in dining halls, where they can target a "mass of people" all at once.
"There isn't a non-alcoholic club in the country that has ever

February 4, 2000

Embassy, and on an assignment runs into a brutal and psychotic murderer associated with a case

Eye is also struggling with his rocky past, which involves the kidnapping of his own daughter by his we because his demand ing job was affecting their mar riage. He creates his daughter in his mind when he is working him encounter with him to solv serv

He gradually finds out that Joanna was abandoned in the street by her father when she was just a young girl. McGregor sees in her the answer he has sees in her the answer he has her guardian angel with a mohive until he finally confronts her tive until he finaly confront

But the psychological voyeuristic romance addresses difficult issues of humanity that are usually ignored

Maybe it's not the Metallica song from "Justice," but it has its moments that give me a reason to find "beauty in the 'Eye of The Beholder.'" Sorry I had to say it it is a law in some states, think.

It's dark, it has no windows and it's mysterious, in a curious and fun sort of way."

Eventually, he said, organizers hope to tailor the club to student suggestions. Possibilities that have been raised so far include confetti cannons full of money, video-projection screens and product giveaways.
and product giveaways.
But Tyler said the venture isn't intended to make money, but instead, to provide non-alcoholic entertainment alternatives to students.
"If we're full to half of our capacity - 450 people - then we've gained something and given people something to do," he made money," he said. "But that's not why we're here."

While the chilly weather and Greek Rush activities may have kept party-goers off the dance floor Thursday night Tyler said he's confident it won't be long before the dance floor is on fire.

We know it will take time for it to become popular, for the word to get out," he said. "We know it won't happen overnight or even in a few weeks."

CICERO 13 saes E. CIRCLE DR. 6ss-0299 f69s-4291

GREAT NORTHERN 10 al a 31 RIGHT REAR OF TMALL G52-213

CAMILLUS 10

Virginia Tech forces Big East hoops shuffle

Staff Reports
Significant change officially hit the Big East Conference on Thursday, much to the dismay of several league coaches.

Big East commissioner Mike Tranghese announced Thursday morning a twosketball and a 12 -team conference tournament for both men's and women's basketball.

The changes will take effect next season when Virginia Tech enters the league as its 14th basketball member. Syracuse's men's team will join Georgetown, Notre Dame, and West Virginia in one suband West Connecticut, Providence, Boston College, St. John's, Miami, Villanova and Virginia men's division compor the other Each men. divisional rivals will play its divisional rivals home and 16 league games. The remaining four will come against the opposite division, meaning SU will not play three Big East teams each regular season.

League coaches voiced concerns about the revisions on Thursday's Big East Conference man Jim Boeheim said such an of league expansion.
"Georgetown has always been a big game for us, but oeen a big game for us, but years," he said. "Connecticut has come up, and that's a bi has come up, and that's a big game for our fans. In time, you develop some new rivalries."
In addition, the last-place team in each conference will not advance to the Big East Tournament at Madison Square Garden. In the 20 previous tourneys, every confer ence team qualified to play at least once in March in New York.
"It's a recruiting tool to tell a kid he can play in New York," SU coach Jim Boeheim said ing. We've had sever recruitbuild their way up from the bottom of this league and climb to the top. It's harder when you put that kind of roadblock in front of them."

On the women's side, the 14 teams will remain in a oneivision format The lone change comes in the postseaon tournament, where the top our teams will receive firstund byes and teams ng fifth through 12th will play in a preliminary round.

Compiled by Sports Editor Dave Curtis.

FRIARS

continued from page 16
"Our guards are inexperienced now. They're still trying to get used to playing with each other and knowing where hey need to go on the floor.

As Providence struggles, Syracuse 18-0, 8-0) continues to soar, toward a spot as one of the Big East's all-time standout teams. A win Saturday matches UConn's 19-0 start last year on-opening sprint

A victory also would equal the SU program's longest undefeated run. The 1978-79 Orangemen reeled off 19 consecutive triumphs en route to a 26-4 record and a Sweet 16 appearance.

The streak appeared to sneak up on several national experts, and recent Dome victories over Connecticut,
Notre Dame and St. John's bolstered Notre Dam
SU's stock.

But the Orangemen routine looks much like the one exhibited in November at the NABC Classic. Great offensive balance, ferocious defense and lethal scoring spurts continue to propel SU to victory.

Our only goal is just to win the game," SU coach Jim Boeheim next game," SU coach Jim Boeheim said. "We just want to go out and play well. Our attitude is more 'Let's keep this going." I think that's a good attitude. We're going to try to do that, and that's all you can ask for."

Even without Linehan, upsetminded Providence will likely pressure the veteran SU guard corps. Junior a Wade will man the top of the Friars'

full-court press.

Friars fast-paced tilts this season, the Friars hung with some of the nation's close to Michigan St. and Virginia before late runs sealed its fate.

A halfcourt game would seem to favor the Orangemen. SU owns size avor the Orangemen. Suickness advantages at almost and quickness advantages at almost every position and boasts the depth to wear down the young Friars, eight of wear down the young Friars, eight of whom wore different uniforms a year who.
"We're facing toughness on the inside and outside," Welsh said. "They have the best defense I've seen in a while. I think we have to be patient. Hart disrupts you in the open court, and (Etan) rupts you in the open court, and

The Friars strengths lie in the low post, where undersized Erron Maxey and 7 -foot-2 Karim Shabazz can dombnate play. Maxey tallied 16 points and nine rebounds aganst Connecticut Kevin Freeman last inursday night in Hartford and serves as PC's emotional Hartford

Shabazz, the gigantic transfer from Florida State, became eligible for the Arkansas win and posted a triple-double against Long Island in his second game as a Friar. But Big East foes have shut him down on PC's winless skid banging his 230 pounds off the blocks and out of position
"He's getting better on offense, but he's still trying to find a rhythm out there," Welsh said. "He's definitely a defensive presence for us, but he's still trying to get his timing down.

The Orangemen will counter the frenetic Friar defense with one of the

Confereince This Season Head Coach Key Players The Scoop

5

Syracuse meets PC at 8 p.m. on Saturday night at the Providence Civic Center Big East 180 (8.0 Aig East), ranked No. 4 in the nation and leading the Big East by two games.
Jim Boeheim (567-193, 24th year)
Etan Thomas ( 14.5 ppg, 8.8 rpg. ppg. 7.9 rpg. 3.3 apg), Jason Hart (11.7 ppg, 6.7 apg )

SU last lost at the Civic Center in lanuary 1994, and the squad owns a 34-8 all-time series tead over th Thomas was named Bis East Co Player of the Week (with West Virginia's Marcus Goreol after Virginias Marcus Goree) after aver and five blocks in two games.
nation's most diverse offensive attacks. Four SU starters average in double figures, and three more average double figures, and three more average at least six points per game.

Five Orangemen shoot better than 50 percent from the floor, and two bury more than half of their 3-point attempts. In addition, six of SU's top seven players shoot better than 71 percent from the free-throw line.

Defensively, SU suffocates opponents, limiting them to just 61 points per game. The Orangemen average a plus-five rebounding advantage and plus-five rebounding advantage and rack up five more assists than turno
each time they take the
The numbers overwhelm Welsh, but the most impressive figure of all can be found at the top of the conference standings. And as the teams make final battle preparations, Welsh said he knows his Friars might not see a better team this year.
"They have great senior leadership, and they look theyre on a mission to do something very special," Welsh said. "They come in to town, and you feel like you're playing the world champions."

STRINGER

continued from page 16

ed as assistants.
Freeman picked up and left her head job at Delaware State and ventured west to join Stringer at Iowa.

I was just overwhelmed," Freeman said. "I saw my role as just a player. She saw the work ethic. She knew she needed someone who would support her, believe in her and preach her philosophy, and she knew that would be me."

As an assistant coach, Freeman dabbled in every aspect of the game, from budgets to public speaking to recruiting. Three of the classes she helped sign ranked first in the nation, and she earned a reputation as one of the leading recruiting coordinators in the country.

With Freeman recruiting and Stringer coaching, lowa national contender During their 10 seasons together, Iowa ran its record to $237-60$, competed in record to 237-60, competed in eight NCAA tournaments and sharing six Big Ten titles.
The partnership broke up in 1993 when Freeman accepted the job here at Syracuse. Stringer left lowa two years later, choosing to take the helm at cutgers. Even though the two Coach at rival Big East schools, Freeman employs a philosophy comparable to Stringer's beliefs. "Her approach to the game
"Her approach to the game is a lesson I will hold onto dearly, Freeman said. It don't think message across as she was getting the message across to me and my teammates.
"I've tried. I have a very high standard of myself, but I know that I can do better and $m$ trying."

Freeman gets a chance to watch her former mentor on the opposing sideline this weekend when Syracuse (8-10, Big East 1-6) takes on No. 10 Rutgers (144, 6-2).

The Orangewomen are coming off a 57-44 loss at Villanova, their third straight defeat, while the Scarlet Knights are celebrating a $58-50$ win over No. 16 Old Dominion. ODU drubbed Syracuse 71-46 on Dec. 5 in the finals of the Carrier Classic.

SU's biggest concern with the Rutgers squad is the

The team plays a 1-3-1 zone and limits the oppo points per game.

This doesn't bode well for Syracuse, considering their shooting troubles of late

Big East leading scorer Beth Record has struggled, scoring six and 11 points in the last two contests. Lack of point production in the post is allowing teams to be tough on the perimeter and shut down Record and guard Jaime James, Freeman ter and guard
said.

If Record and James don't get the open looks, the Orangewomen will have to rely on scorng points in the paint. Center Leigh Aziz remains slowed by a foot injury, but should be able to play solid minutes against Rut gers.

Whether it's Aziz or sopho-

VINCENT APTS.

105 Smith Lane ,Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLDI ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO
ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTIGN PLAN"
Call 424-0250for more info! http:www.longley-jones.com

- 1) HEAT INCLUDEDI

42) 2) CHECK OUT OUR more Tara Trammell, Freman hopes someone will take charge down low.

We need a couple points inside," Freeman said. "We need someone to step it up a little and give us eight to 10 points inside and play good post defense."

Offensively for Rutgers, senior guard Shawnetta Stewart leads the way averaging 15.1 points per game. Tasha Pointer, a junior point guard, is the only other player averaging double digits with 11.1 points. Although Tammy Sution-Brown doesn't put up big scoring numbers in the post, with 6.9 points per game, she demands defensive attention.

With the pressure defense variety of scoring option and variety of scoring options, the Orangewomen have a tough task waiting for them in Piscataway, N.J.
but they hovet our hands full, Freeman said. "So we're trying to look at those and exploit thos and see if we can find a way to win a basketball game."

The ring pull.

It's convenient. It's efficient. And it's simply brilliant.

Want to learn more about a career that fosters this kind of thinking?
Consider this an open invitation for open minds.

Global Operations Information Session
Thursday, February 10, 2000

> 6:00-8:00 p.m.

304 Schine Center
Business Casual Attire

Global Operations Campus Interviews

Global Operations will be holding closed interview sessions at this campus. If you have been preselected, you must attend this Information Session.
Note: No exploratory interviews will be given to anyone who has not attended an information session.

When in Hell...

Sleep Deprivation

Out of Town

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

For 50 years they've been abducting individuals whik they sleep, $\geqslant 55$ ) $\quad$ having no one $\longrightarrow$ story.

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher
by Steve Pilot

Rasputin Presents

Tartaruga Pate

Eat the Lettuce

by Thane Benson
by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

 315-443-9793$$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words 104 each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word

 ADS AAE NOTTAKEN BYPHONE I! Acts car bo mailod with chect to: The Daly Crange 7440 strom Averue: Syracuse, NY 132iD:AA Classineds

Notices
Wanted: 50 Sarious Peopla Neading to Lose Weightl 100\% Sale E Ellactive! Guaranieed

EMPLOYMENT

tamp Counction Top Ouemion Cumps in

 counsiors
wivepinelorestramp.com
Frogan'a needs Senior Sunday Disc Jockey. Must al Faegan's

Job Opportunities

EONUSES plus guaranteed hourty rate ior Syracuse Stage 'Angel Appeal Campaign,' Nice working atmosphere. On bus-line. Mon-Thur.
$5-9 \mathrm{FM} .1 / 17-3 / 19$. Required pleasant speaking vies, goal onenled, positive atilude. 443-1158

WANTED

Child Care
Babysitter Needed Datime Evening and Weekend Hours Two Giris 5 ,ante University Ara

Help Wanted

Mose than just SUMMER EMPLOYMENT. Camp corrsetors needed ior a pivate. residential camp in the beautilil Pocono Mins. We are looking tor tiversity and a desirt to share their passion and expertise in any of the following afeas: COMPUT. ERS, CIRCUS ARTS, EASKETBALL. MAGIC. FISHING WATER-SKIING, THEATER, DANCE, VIDEO, CAEATIVE WRITINF. ESL, SOCCER. SKATEBOARDING, ROLLERBLADING, ROCKETRY, NEWSPAPER, FINE ARTS, CREATIVE CRAFTS, MOUNTAIN BIKING CLMBING WALL.
$\$ 1500$ week $\begin{aligned} & \text { potential mailing our circulars. No }\end{aligned}$ Expenence Re 202-452-7679.

Roommates

Roommate wanted to share 3 largo bedroom apartment cose to eampus parking fireplace Raommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment clase to campus parking fireplace handry $487-5761$

FOR RENT
University Constock nice Jumished quiet clean 2-3 bedtoom apartments parking ulifitios included easonable others 478-2642
2 bedroom Apariment right on Marshall St. Fall Semester onty (1 Semester) August 2000 to Decrember 31, 2000 . Great location Call 637.5779

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landiord Call Gordon 476-2982

House nicely furnished grack need roommute $$ \mathrm{parking}$ rikikes induded

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM

APARTMENTS
PMR, FUGHISHED, DISHWASHER. 476-9933

4Bedrooms, OakJandSt., 1 Block ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals, tumished, parking, laundry, Adkerman Beautitul Large Furnished Flats/ ousses 2,3,4.5.6 Bedrooms Porches - Sedrom Aparnent on wo Redroom Apartrients on Euclid Furnishe
 Qeautiful 3 Bedroon Townhouses. Walking distance to Campus. 3 Largo Badroans, lots a cosel space 1 1/2 Baths. Diningroom, Livingroem Kitchen, Basement with Washisf/Dryer hookups. in Street Parking with Garage.A Must See!! $469-8417$ or 476.9643
FOUR EEDROOM -EDGE OF CAMPUS 228 Euclid. across trom Shaw Dorm, tiee parking. or Tina-474-7541, 466-6318.
Ackerman Ave, $2,3,4,5,7$ bedroon apts. Fursisted arpeted, walk to campus. Well maintained. 500.5/01 lease 446.7202

Apartments close to campus elean 2-3-5 sedrooms some with firteplace landry parking Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace parking, laundry:
1-2.3 Bedroom Apartments. Beautidul. Spacious Dttstect Parking. Fully Furnished, Low Safe. Quict. Close 476 -0290 University Ave. Theree Bedroom Flat Close Walk o Campus futrished laundry parxing tease $$ 875.00$ plus utilites D N.Drucker $445-1229$

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS
302 Marshall St
604 Walnut Ave
319 Euclid Ave
Avondale Place
Fully Furnished, Laundry
Parking. Fuli Time
Maintenance and Management
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or
Wall to Wall Carpet and/or
Refinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts
1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Roorns, Eni,APT's homes a Town Houses There is something for evgryonel
MOST INCLUDING
-Security System with :- Deak Jolt Locks

- Prices Ranoin from $$ 225-5375 /$
- Remodeled Fuil Custam Kitchan/Baths

Kitchens indude: Gourmet Seli-cleaning ovens. Garbage Disposals, Microwaves, Distwashers - Wall to Wa Carpets $$$ Padding (like home)

- Ot-street Parking
- Snow Es Lewn pitaintenance
- Super Irsu"ntod (mesias low utili es)

Sama Apts. include All Uitities $z$ Curnistrod Safe Areas vil. it Walking Distance to Campus Such as Consin in Asirum, His.ison, Madiso Lencaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home OPR Developars AT YOUR SERVICE

Univarsity Area 2-3 Badroon furnisher
Apartments Single Houses for remt Cail

| 3 BEDROOMS  6 BEDFOOMS 5250 per month  Ifitplace. dishwasher 2 car garay  tree laundry facitidees in basernert Call Donra 449-4621 |
| :---: |

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSIE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
University and Comatock Very close to Campus firnishod $1 \times 14 n d r y$ parnking $\$ 775.00$ to $\$ 700.00$

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave  917 Ackerman Ave  115 Redfreld Place  1011 E. Adams St 145 Avondale Place

Available for 2000-2001 Sarking. Futil Time Maintenance and Nanagement, Wall to Wall Carpet anduor Remodeled Kitchens and Bath

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

LUXURIOUS: 2story apthoty. Gourmet kitdin Gustom bungentrara, Skyight 15it ceiling. ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKING PARK: Isi 8 batn, porches.
OSTROMMAD

NO PETS: Negotiable feases 8 heated. Call tor appl $469-0780$

Apartments

One Bedroom Apartments,
some with 9 month leases. Fireplace. hardwood figors. furnished, laundry. quiet building. close to campus, utirities included, 476-2982

Large 2 bedroorn. 2 tull bath. Walking distance
S. U. off street parking. Laundry. Call $422-7305$.
One +2 bedroom fumished apartments. All utiities nduded! $$ 370$. $$ 480$ inta. One mile from campus. laundry, parking. carpoting. security building.

| Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities included. Fireplece, Furnished, Hardwood Floors and Carpoting, Pantry, Porch, Lnundry Parking. elose to Campus. Call Gortion$476-2982$ |
| :---: |
|  |  |

Four Bedroom on Ackernnen, Furnished, Parking.
Oishwasher, Two Porches., Off street: Pat Dishwasher, aund. Carches, OH Laundry. Carpet. Hand

| LANCASTER AVENUE |
| :---: |
| i & 3 Bedroorn Apartments |
| Outstancing Conction |
| Fully Firnished |
| Can Anos Cervinio |
| $424-0220 \times 428$ |

Studio Apartmenta beginning at 9265 pert mornith same, priviet fich 9 monenth bett, miciprive ctappot

UNIVERSITY  HILL REALTY 422-0709

please vist our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Apts For Rent  3 BR Clarendon

 June$$ 250$ Per person Parking, Micro Parking, Micro Nice Places
BENTUPPER 637-0978

SHERBROOKE
APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Uifities included. Fulty furnished. Rents start at $275. Refinished hardwo Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens an baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry.

Parking. 24 hour maintenance. ww.universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
Penfect for one person
$$ 355$ per month
Call Donna 4494621

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flat, turnished, tove, refrig. laundry, fireplace, garage

collegehome

THREE

BEDRROOMS
BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
CALLJOHN or JUOY 478-7548

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS

 APARTMENTS2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms.
Lowest rents for modern
new construction.
ww.universityarea.com low utilities.
University Area Apts.
479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Your off-campus home for 2000-01
Nicely furnished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
doubla beds dishwashers microwave washer/drye carpeted off street parking CALL TODAY

PETER 427-0052
FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcolt Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540

Large 3 bedroon. 2 tuall bath. Walking distance
S.U. ott street parking. Laundry. Call 422.7305 . Bedrocm Furnished Unlurnished Wuiking distance S.U. Laundry avaitable. Otl Sireet Farking. Call 422-7305

825 SUMNER AVE
14 KENSINGTON RD
(near Lnncaster Market)
2 and 3 Bedrooms
Immaculate. Cloan FREE Laundry msk for Es 445-8961 After 3pm and eave messige (440-8949 Beforn 3 pmin
One and Two Bedroom
Harrison Avenues. Leases Commenco Junce 2000 ast Month and Security No Pers Allowe
Gradueles Preterred Call $422-7755$

> APARTMENTS
> 2000-20001 RENTALS
> 1, 2, 3, 4 Bedroom Apartment
> Sumner. Eudid, Aekerman, Excallen Condition, Furnished, Some Include > Unition, Furnished, Some In Unil 4270138.

2 Bedroom Apts 202. 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Rooms Hartwood Floors Aval June Torrace A46.5186
University 283 Eedroom Towntouses 8 Flats Fireplace.linished basement Call 449-0109. $1,2,3,4+5$ bedroom apartments. Furnished. at ulities included, laundry, parking. One btok from availability. 445-9598.

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.

Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilities.
Compettive rents.
302 Marshall St.
(across from Haven).
Univeritit Atrizapls
479-5005

ONE BEDROOM

APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR TWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT
LOCATION 476-9933.

The Daily Orange

Syracuse track hosts meet at Manley  tions and goals for the season.

BY IOSH LUKIN
Staff Writer
The Syracuse winter track teams host their lone home meiet of the season this weekend and they come into it soaringSU hosts the Syracuse Initational on Saturday at Manley Field House

In Syracuse's last competition, freshmañ Joel Carusone carried the Orange with a firstplace finish in the pole vault at the National Open in Universithe National ty Park, Pa.

Carusone soared with a arance of $16^{\prime \prime} 6^{\prime \prime}$ the top clearance of $16^{\prime} 6^{\prime \prime}$ the top son. The height was also a personal best for the Slingerland native, who beat out the talented field to take the title:
"I was surprised by the victory," Carusone said. "I didn't did. I have been training hard all season and it was just time for me to-jump well."

The meet was Carusone's second of the year, as an injury sidelined him for the majority of the first half of the season.

Coming into his first year on the collegiate level, Carusone said he had many expecta-

But winning this early in the year was unexpected.
"Coming into the season, I just wanted to qualify for the NCAA Championships." Caru NCAA Championships," Carusone said. "I have great coaches sone said. "I have great coaches make more improvements than in high school. (Assistant coach Llewellyn) Starks is great and goes out of his way to better all of the jumpers."

In addition to Carusone's Olights through the air, other events combatted the laws of gravity on their way to leading the team.

Junior Alex Brown took second place in the shot put with a distance of $53^{\prime} .25^{\prime \prime}$. The third-year thrower continued third consecutive second-place finish.

Freshman upstarts Steve Bedard and Tim Biever also placed high in the event. Be er rounded out the Top 15 .
"This is a very strong group of throwers," assistant coach Candace Roberts said. Alex job and is ahead of schedule of where we thought he would be.
He has the capabilities of setting some big marks.
of all the throwers, marveled at the talent level and depth of the freshman class on the men's side. She said that this group could make its presence felt in the conference immediately.

Fellow first-year Orangeman Tim Polidore added to the tearn's succession the day with a leap of 22' $9.75^{n}$ in the long jumpt.

On the women's side of the track, senior Veronica Dyer continued her successful start by earning third-place honors in ishing fourth in the long jump.

Dyer has placed high in every competition this year, and the meet in Pennsylvania proved no different. She cemented her position as one of the top hurdlers in the Northeast, and has placed high in numerous other cvents, displaying her all-around athletic abilThe relay teams also fared well at the meet, with two topwell at the meet, with two topfive finishes, including a narrow loss to Big East rival Pittsburgh

in the $4 \times 400$.

The SU women's relay teams head into the Invitationfavorites to score big for the Orange. The showcase will be on the 400 -meter relay squad. The event is the last on Saturday and could make the difference overall championship.

In the men's competitions, Brown will look to repeat his performance of a year ago when he took first place in the shot he took first place in the shot

In addition to the hosting Orange, the meet will feature schools from all over the Northeast who will make the trek thraugh the snow to South thraugh the snow to South Ithaca, Binghamton, McMaster, Oswego, Cortland, Geneseo, Erie Community Coliege, Hartwick, Delhi, Mohawak two independent teams the Syo independent teams, the Lions.

Each team who has previously competed in the Invitaprior dominance.

Many of the Orange are favored to score in their respec with the wealth of young talent who hope to make a mark in Who hope to make a mark in harriers will compete in thieir last Syracuse Invitationat.

In addition to Dyer, fellow seniors Deniece Bell, Cherec
Hicks, Meredith Keerañ Micks, Meredith Keeran Willard and Sarah Schinizaz will compete for the final time at Manley.

For the men, Roger Donaghy, Thomas Howard, Phile. Wagner, Jonathan Wenger and Adrian Woodley will part Saturday. Some athletes will not urday. Some athletcs will not compete, resting for the Big "For the younger runners," assistant coach Teressa DiPerna said, "this will be a great experience and opportunity for perience and opportunity where they stand.
"For a lot of the seniors, I just want them to have fun and use the Invitational to prepare ing the Big East, IC4As, and NCAA Championship competitions."

Swimming seniors take last

BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

Last month, the Syracuse men's and women's swimi da and left snowy Syracuse behind.

On Saturday, Florida Atlantic comes to the Hill's frozen ange. to swim against the OrThe Owls are SU's final dual meet opponents of the season. Syracuse hopes to write a suitable last chapter for its eight seniors, who will be honored before the meet. It aiso gives them one last crack at gives them one last crack at reaching Webster Pool records.
"Certainly, for any senior in their last home contest to be in their last home contest and be recognized is somecoach Lou Walker said. "It's a time for them to be recognized by their friends and family in the stands and for them to take a deep breath, look

Walker said Florida Atlantic poses an adequate challenge for his squads' final competitive test before the Big East Championshe previous weeks. St won the previous the last of which came in 1995the 96.
"Coach (Steve) Eckelcamp does a tremendous job with that program," Walker said. You want to be challenged and have a lot of great races to test yourselfafew weeks before your onship."

The final regular-season Big East test for Syracuse came last weekend at Connecticut. The Orangemen continued to dominate their opposition, rolling past the Huskies could not hold off the UConn charge and lost 141-102.

The Huskies only managed to win one event against the Orangemen, the $100-y a r d$ freestyle. The rest of the meet was a rout, with four swimmers winning two events each. Junior James Loveless continued his winning ways in the distance events, sweeping the 500 and 1,000 freestyles with times of $4: 42.4$ and $9: 38.8$, with times ospectively.

Two mernbers of SU's European contingent shined, as junior Josko Vucetic won the 50 free ( 22.11 seconds) and 200 backstroke ( $1: 50.84$ ) and sophomore Djordje Filipovic won the 200 free ( $1: 42.75$ ) and

plunge at Webster

200 butterfly ( $1: 53.46$ ).
Rounding out the Orange's contingent of multiple winners Was junior Dustin Riley, who netted victories in (he 20) and 200 breaststroke (2:07.46). Sophomore Adam Earle swept the two diving events.
"The guys completely dominated from start to finish," Walker said.

The difference in the women's meet for SU was 20 points that went UConn's way since at least 122 points are needed win a meet.

Senior Branka Sustic and sophomore Kelly Bryon led the Way for the Orangewomen. Bryon won the 1,000 freestyle in 10:26.10, followed by teammate Stacy Wells in second. Sustic won the 200 backstroke in 2:05.64, with Bryon right behind in 2:06.54
Walker said he was impressed with junior Eleanor Thoet's showings in the reestyle events. Thoet wo 100 in 52.90 and placed second in the 200 in $1: 54.46$.
"I thought the women's meet could go either way," races that didn't go our way and we came up a little short."

The veteran SU swim guru aid the real test for his squaru said the real test for his squads comes when they race the Huskies again at the Big East Chasmes again at "Connecticut is a school we're competitive with at the Big East meet, and that (win) gives them a boost going into he championships," Walker said. "But definitely, if you're going to win one, it should be at the conference championship."

[classifieds]  Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

| $* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *$ |
| :---: |
| Studio, One and Two |
| Bedroom Apts. Close |
| to Campus. Laundry, |
| Parking, Lease, |
| Heated |
| $440-6200$ |
| $437-7577$ |

Clean quiet 2 -bedroom ma books from Suw hosp itals. hospitals. Furnished. All utilities paid. 472-5908 Juni il leases June 1 lease.
Best Suy on HarrisonSt Clean Ouiel.
One-bedroom and studio Utikfies included. $472-5908$.

|  |
| :---: |

[^4]One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, utiities included, Oak floors. Gire place, lusnished, parking, very dean, laundry Cill Gordon 476.2982 .
Houses
Charming English Tudor House on Comsiock 6 Badroons, Fireplace, across Irom Womens Bild Avail 5 R20 475-1012, (843)514-3881 (5)And Bedroom Houses 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adiacent to campus starting ess35' person (1)446adjacent to campus starting ess33 3693
UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOMM APARTMENTS AND $4,5,6,7$ APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Now Renting For Fall 2000 Larga 5 bedroon house on E. Adams SL Newty remodeled Bathrooms and paint. Heat included! OH Sitreet Parking.
poom and Bar. Great Location! Can $637-5779$.

| RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OH FIYE BEDROOM HOUSE. TWO FIREPLACES, GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933 |
| :---: |
|  |  |

| GREAT HOUSES,  gREAT LOCATION BOO BLOCK OSTHOM 5 BEDROOMS OFF STREET PARKING, FREPLACE LAUNDY DISHWASHER HARDWOOD CALL BRAD 424-021/4/423-9142 |
| :---: |
| Large Single Fandily furnished house. Parking. Iineplace, free laundry, dishwasher, meturn tenants 682-3304 |
| 2000/2001  Lovely Furnished 5-Bedroom House. Fireplace frot Laundry Hardwood Floors 2-Porthei 5330 bearroom Also 4-8edrooln House $255' Bedroom 446-7611 |
| SUBLET |

Room in 2 person Apt avaiable staring in Spring
2000. Furnished carpeled ai conditioned. Low Lusities, 12 b block foom campus. $479-5005$

SERVICES

|  | MiSC. |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As always. please use caution when replying or peing replied from any advenisement in each issue, tor the Daily Orange does not take responsibilty for any misconduct resulting in contact berween yourself and adventiser. |

[sports

Dave Curtis, editor 16
February 4, 200016

Freeman opposes mentor at Rutgers

SU coach assisted Stringer at Iowa
BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

An empty chair in front of the television and videotapes on her desk - sure signs that Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman is logging extra hours preparing for the Orangewomen's basketball game at Rutgers on Sunday.

Freeman can't help it.
She's a workaholic.
The Orangewomen head coach learned her work ethic by watching her grandmother. Freeman describes her as a handicapped, single parent on a fixed income, who successfur raised here and her brother. and "Sher had

She had that drive, that will," Freeman said. That's what made her special. able. That's what made her special. that being African-American, we always had to be better, which meant you had to work harder."

Freeman carried her grandmother's ideology with her to the basketball court. When Freeman arrived at Cheyney State, she played a tentative style of basketball, not knowing set plays existed.
But then-head coach Vivian Stringer, who now coaches Rutgers, introduced her to the theories and ideas behind the sport.

One memory that remains vivid 20 years later is the first jump-ball play. ump-ball play.

If you could have seen the look on my face, I was like, 'Oh wow! You mean you can make this happen the way you want it to," Freeman said. I just usually got in the circle and tapped the ball. game. She actually taught me the game."
Once Freeman learned the finer points of the game, she climbed the ranks to stardom. The young center developed into Stringer's first All-American player, and earned the College President's Award of Excellence her senior season. Freeman was inducted into Cheyney State's Hall of Fame in 1993.

Stringer watched Freeman's progression in awe, realizing she had something special.
"She is very giving of herself," Stringer said. "She is one of the most unselfish players I know. She had a very mature approach to things and she was extremely knew she would make a great coach."
Stringer got a chance to experience Freeman's coaching ability first-hand at the University of Iowa. When Stringer was hired as the head coach in 1983, Freeman topped the list of people she want-

See STRINGER page 11

February 7. 2000

|  | $31 / 4$  Mostly cloudy and very windy; snow showers. Tuesday: Sunny 29/21 Wednesday: Snow 40/23 |
| :---: | :---: |
| briefs............ 2 | classifieds 18 |
| comics ....... 17 | editorial ........ 5 |
| lifestyle ...... 20 | sports........ 10 |

Valume loxix Number 795 5yacuso. New Yark 200000

Students support professor

 GSO president questions Moore's claims, protestBY NICK SERRANO
Staff Writer
A former Syracuse University doctoral student denied accusations Friday that she and an SU professor plagiarized the work of graduate student Zac Moore, calling Moore's claims "ridiculous" and "based on nothing."

Yeong-Hyun Kim, an assistant professor of geography at Ohio University since last summer, said the accusations of plagiarism in her book, "Globalization and The City," are completely false. Kim wrote the book with geography professor John Rennie-Short student at SUlast year.
student at SU last year.
"What he has argued is not true," Kim said. "The book is based on my work and John Short's work, and our knowledge and our reading and our research. No one can argue for plagiarism there.

Moore, a former Graduate Student Organization president, recently accused Short and Kim of plagiarizing work he turned in for a GEO 815 class he took during the 1998 Spring Semester.

During the following summer, Moore also said he denied Short permission to publish a paper Moore wrote with two other graduate students and Kim. Short submitted the paper to the "Professional Geographer journal, despite Moore's objections, listing Moore and the ciassmates, plus himself as its authors, Short said.

Moore said he contacted the editor of the "Professional Geographer" in November 1998 to

See MOORE page 8

Dragon dance

KAZUHIRO YOKOZEKI/The Daily Orange
Public administration research assistant Jiannan Wu and graduate student Zhalin Liu shane a dance Sunday night at a Chinese New Year celebration in the Schine Student Center Underground. Whis year is the year of the Dragon.

Trash fire scares B/B

BY SHELBY HEALY AND MAGIN MCKENNA
Staff Writers
Residents of the Syracuse University Brewster/Boland Complex evacuated early Saturday morning when a bathroom fire activated alarms.

The small fire started around midnight in the fifth floor bathroom of Boland hall, said Kevin Morrow, an SU spokesman.

A resident was alone in the bathroom on the management-themed flacr and noticed smoke coming out of a bathroom trash can, smoke comin

The resident then extinguished the fire with the assistance of two other residents, Morrow added.

Fifth-floor resident Michael Ioanilli, who said he first witnessed the fire, ran out of the bathroom and down the hall, knocking on residents' doors for help, Ioanilli said.

I opened the bathroom door and smoke was everywhere, ${ }^{*}$ said floor resident Matthew Lencsak, a freshman management major. "I was like 'Oh, shit."'

Ioanilli noticed paper towels in the trash can were on fire, Ioanilli said. He and Lencsak

See BOLAND page 8

Patakiannounces safety task force

staff Reports
WN Yók staterGov George E Pataki is askifig col feges and universities across the state to address fire safety concerns with a atatewide task force for a task force Saturday in re for a task force Saturday in re Bponse to the all an I 9 . Seton Hal University fire that killed three students and injured 58 . ment of State's Offices of Fire Prevention and prominent fire safety experts to identify new procedures for fire prevention in college residence halls, according topataki' ofnce. Thishetask force till oncrut unyergitypenalties for false alarms misuse offire Hownes SeeFRREpage 8

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

The engineering sorority Alpha Omega Epsilon, hosts Spring Rush events at 6 p.m. in GThe Syracuse Men's Bas. ketball team plays Seton Mall University at ${ }^{3}$ p.m. in the Carrier Dome. All tickets from the

TUESDAY
Whe engineering sorority, Alpha Omega Epsilon, hosts Link Hall, Room 30 .

FThe Mental Health Association of Onondaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing parents from $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to $9 \mathrm{pm} . \mathrm{m}$. will address parenting, emotional and legal issues.

Famous Artists at the Civic Center present "Smokey 424-8210 for ticket information.

WEDNESDAY

- Munson Williams Proctor Institute Auditorium presents at $2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and $7: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. at 310 Genesee St., Utica.

THURSDAY

CThe College for Human Development hosts Michael Jeffries, chairman of the board and $3: 30$ p.m. in 108 Slocum Hall.

The Mental Health Association of Onondaga County hosts ation of Onondaga for separating or divoreing parents from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. ing parents from 3049 E. Genesee St. The class will address parenting, emotional and legal issues.

Whandmark Theatre presents The Moody Blues at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Call 475-7979 for ticket informa tion.

FRIDAY

Newhouse I hosts a "Job Hunt Marathon" from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Room A2.

FRIDAY-  SATURDAY

ESyracuse Symphony Or chestra performs with clar: Center at 8 p.m. Call 424-8200 for ticket information.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accept ed via emaill at news@dally orange.com [dँ̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday chrough Friday during Syracuse Universiry's aczodernic yeat by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distribured on campus with the first five copies complementary and each odditional copy cosrs $$ 1$.

Mandervent $443-9798$
$443-2314$ $\begin{array}{ll}\text { Business } & 443-2314 \\ 443-2127\end{array}$
$\begin{aligned} & \text { News } \\ & \text { Lifestyle } 433-2127\end{aligned}$
Sport 443 -2208
Photography $443-9795$
Art 443.5938
E-mail editorialodailyorange.com

T Student Government

SGA denies College Democrats funding

BY STEPHANIE SILVER Staff Writer

The Student Government Association Finance Board unanimously voted Sunday to unanimously voted Sunday to College Democrat's request for money to host First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Clinton, a U.S. Senate candidate, is scheduled to speak at aoon Wednesday in Goldstein Auditorium.

The College Democrats requested $$ 1,000$ after the unicosts of Goldstein Auditorium, said Christina Hinchey, presi, dent of the College Democrats. Clinton's events staff con. tacted the Chancellor's Office Jan. 28 to schedule a visit, Hinchey said. The Chancellor's Office, not able to support a partisan candidate, passed the offer to Director of Student Programs Michael Elmore, who suggested the College Democ rats sponsor the event.

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, however, requested that the College Democrats con Goldstein, said Hinchey, a se nior political science and public relations major.

But Hinchey said the university initially agreed to pay for the entire cost. She noted a university policy that promises funding for all first-time visits by candidates.
"We were under the impression that the university would pay for everything," she said.

The SGA Finance Code however, states that no funding will be given to non-campus political organizations or candidates.
are interpretations of those rules," Hinchey said. "The requested money was for the production cost of an educational event' and will be paid to GoldSin, not Hillary Clinton."

SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner recommended denying because of its politicalties with Clinton.

We have never funded campaigning candidates for political office in our recorded history," Greiner said. "I cannot in good conscience recommend funding a campaign tour of any kind with Student Activity Fee monies."

Clinton is expected to speak on public education in New York state, Greiner said. Clinton's campaign platform, does not need funding from student fees, he added.
Greiner said he was also skeptical of the amountre quested by the College Democrats for the event.
"Financial contribution is not at all required to sponsor I've seen what it costs groups to tve Geen what it College D.
College Democrats plans to raise the $$ 1,000$ privately by programs, Hinchey said.

Scott Lipton, a College Democrat, said campuses need to encourage political activism because it is an aspect of life that is lacking in the United States. Clinton's visit will change the wandidates themselves view SU, said Lipton, a junior political science and policy studies major "Denying support would be a gross disservice to our students and our generation," he said.

While Clinton's visit may send a message of political activism through SU's student body, it cannot be done at the cost of SGA policies, Greiner said.
"That message has already been sent," Greiner said. "The offer for first time university other campaigns and chances are nothing is going to happen on any of the other sides. We will not allocate funds from the student fee if the activity does not encompass the entirety of the student body."

While the denial of the request was not a surprise, it was a disappointment, Hinchey said.

Eshort -sighted and was short -sighted stretching for rational.
retching for rational.
o's coming, it's what is the benefit for the campus," Elmore said. "I think the board misunderstandingly in their overzealousness to remain non-partisan made a mistake."

Where it matters most.

As one of the world's leading diversified technology companies, we'te breaking new ground in everything from defense and commercial electronics, to aviation, to engineering and construction. As a Raytheon employee, you'll contribute to the development of exciting, revolutionary technology designed to make life better, easier, and safer throughout the world. Such as our STARS air traffic control system. And our award-winning NightSight ${ }^{\text {TM }}$ technology.
But it all starts with you. Your creativity. Your knowledge. And enthusiasm about the future. In return, we offer exceptional taining and professional development opportunities. A supporive. down-to-earth work environment. And incredible benefits including flexible schedules designed to respect your quality of life.

So you can still show off all those great qualities of yours outside of work, 100.
We'll be visiting your campus soon - contact your career placement office to schedule an interview. If you are unable to meet with us, please e-mail your resume to: resume rayjobs.com (ASCII text only; no attachments), or mail to: Raytheon Company, Attn: National Staffing Data Center, P.O. Box 660246, Dallas, TX 75266. U.5. citizenship may be required. We are an equal opportunity employer.

Opportunities are available for exceptional students with the following majors

- Aeronautical Engineering

Chemical Engineering
Civil Engineering and Construction Management

- Computer Engineering

Computer Science
Electrical Engineering

- Finance/Accounting
- Human Resources
- Human Resources

Check out our Website at WYYYREayjobs.comicainpus for further information including a calendar of recruiting events. At Raytheon, we strive to be the employer of choice for a diverse workforce by atracting, retaining, and recognizing the most talented, resourceful and creative people.

Bringing technology to the edge

- Management
- Marketing/Communications
- Math
- Mechanical Engineering

Classified Advertising

Thine deadine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad fsto 2use

E Pan Am Flight 103

Accused Pan Am terrorists plead not guilty

by shelby healy Staff Writer

Two Libyan defendants charged with the 1988 bombingrged wan Am Flight 103 pleaded not guilty Wednesday in ed not guilty Wednesday in Scotish High Court at a preScotland.

Abdel Easset Ali alMegrahiand Lamen Khalifa Fhimah are held on charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder and breaching the 1982 Aviation Security Act for the alleged terrorist attack. The bombing killed 270 passengers

- includine 35 Syracuse University students.

Defense attorneys Bill Tay. Ior and Richard Keen relayed lor and Richard Keen relayed not-Eunty pleas to Scottish Sutherland. Al-Megrahiand Fhimah chose not to attend the hearing.
"I'm not surprised they pleaded not guilty," said Heten Englehardt, wife of one of the bombing victims. They've been stalling since 1991 - why should they change their story now?"

Some victims' relatives, how ever, said they are surprised the defendants pleaded not guilly so early in the proceedings.

Generally, pleas are entered several days before trial, not several months, said Judy Dios, a sister of one of the bombing victims.

It has to do with sentencing," said Englehardt, editor of Truthquest, a newsletter regarding the trial proceedings. -It's meaningless. I was worried that they would plead not guilty and all the cyidence would not come out to the public."

Dios said she expected the Libyans' not guilty plea.

With the evidence we've hard, 1 think the charges will be appropriate," she said. "I hope the world will find out the truth." The May 3 trial, initially scheduled for Feb. 2, will take place at Camp Ziest, a former U.S. military base in Holland. The trial's move to the Netherlands began through an agreement between Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi and the U.S. and British governments. "It's pretty frustrating that it's taken so long, said Lesley Gouger, an SU Remembrance Scholar and senior English and philosophy major. "I don't think they will get off completely." If found guity, al-Megrahi and Fhimah could face up to a life sentence in a Scottish prison for the bombing.

Although the trial is in Holland, it will be conducted under Scottish law and will be presented before a panel of four judges instead of a jury. They will reach one of three verdicts - Eronty, not buily or no not enforce the death penalty not "'m not for the penalty.
r'm not for the death sen tence, Gouger added. "But do think their punishment will be justified."

London College of

 FASHION

Fashion Design, Retail, Retail/Management
Come to the info meeting at DIPA
Tuesday, February 8th AT 6PM
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or
baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!

 Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.Do you like to write?
Due u lyke two korrekt speling aynd gramir?

Apply to become an assistant lifestlye editor or assistant copy editor at

The Daily Orange!

Both are paid positions. Applications are due to The D.O. offices at 744 Ostrom Ave. by 5 p.m. Tuesday. For more information, contact managing editor Dave Levinthal at 4439798.

\title{

[editorial]

The Daily Orange February 7, 2000 Ashok Selvam, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{SU must target

SU must target DWI at source

A drunken joy ride has always been a recipe for hefty fines and a criminal record. And if a new University Senate proposal gains support, it could also put a kink in plans to get a Syracuse University diploma.

Director of the Office of Judicial Affairs Anastasia Urtz and Dean of Student Affairs Barry Wells submitted a proposal outlining changes to the Student Code of Conduct including one that would make students charged with driving while intoxicated susceptible to at least one year of suspension from the university.

The university has the right to be concerned. Drivers under the age of 21 account for 6.7 percent of the driving population, but they constitute 13 percent of the drivers that cause fatal alcohol-related crashes. Despite stringent, zerotolerance laws for young drivers in New York state, alcohol-related traffic fatalities continue to rise.

But the university's efforts to thwart drunk driving are misplaced. Exposure to a panel of people who have lost loved ones to drunk driving fatalities might hit home more effectively than a mark on students' disciplinary records. And instead of doling out harsh punishments after the fact, the university should strive to institute prevention programs at the root of the problem:

In the cold Syracuse weather, intoxicated students often opt to hop in their own cars rather than wait for a bus or a taxi. Students might not be so quick to grab their own keys if late-right escort and shuttle services were available to loop frequently between the M-Street watering holes, South Campus and off-campus neighborhoods.

SUS alternative weekend activity offerings like Late Night at the Gym and Perc Place aim to curb binge drinting and the reckless behavior that often accompanies it. But the activities are not well-publicized, and they only scratch the surface of potential programs.

While SU students are expected to positively represent their school both on and off campus, university punishment for off-campus misdeeds is a slippery slope. This is especially true when state and local court procedures already exist.

SU's double jeopardy justice system is not the solution. Squashing mistakes before they are made is a more viable course of action.

Established in 1903 ,
Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor Editorial Editor Lifestyle Edito Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst: Lifestyle Edito Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports
Design Editor Design Editor
Design Editor Design Editor
Design Editor Design Editor
Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

fustin Silverman Ashok Selvam Holly Awer Dave Curtis Tom Nyer Neva Austrew aura Prabucid Kate Steverson Kate Stevenson
Tiffany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Kollall Connor Eranis Ieff Passan Erin Boylo Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner Tito Battitta Jesssica Cuther Riachael Colden Brentian Dabkowrski Angemarie Bello
Ron Fooks

Learning campaign continues beyond goal

To the Editor.

I want to correct some misunderstandings apparent in "Carnpaign neelects programs," in the Feb. 4 issue of The Daily Orange.

In preparation for our highly suc cessful Commitment to Learning campaign, the schools, colleges and the university at large identified 170 "pri orities," ideas that would serve and support students and faculty Providing full and perpetual finding for all those ideas would cost in excess of $$ 1$ billion, well beyond the reach of our campaign.

Our donors, most of whom are

opinions

Digital chats breed innocent'fibs, fantasies  For those who are unfarniliar with $I C Q$, it is an instant message computer device that enables computer the world. This convenient device immediately contracts the distance among human beings and unites strangers together more comfortably. But the very nature of ICQ's closeness has given rise to many so-called "heinous conducts" such as cybersex and untruthfin behavior, like lying about one's age and physical appearance.

There's a line about cybersex in the movie "You've Got Mail" which I found particularly humorous - an old Iady says to Meg Ryan's character, "I tried having cybersex once, but all I got was a busy signal"" all' I got was a busy signal."
While I am no expert at cybersex, I want to share some of my thoughts about the untruthful behavior aspect. According to a recent poll, $80 \%$ or more of ICQ users tell lies when they chat with 5 , users tell hes when they chat with strangers on the web. They lie about their age, gender, height, weight, hair color Ties. Many recent psychology reports written by ties. Many recent psychology reports written by respectable authorities identified that the "lying on ICQ syndrome" will likely turn people into compulsive liars in the future. However, there is no basis for such publications to make these grandiose and frightening statement
Of course, 1 am not condoning lying on an hourly basis. But if a lie is intended to protect and to liberate peo ple from loneliness, then lying is not a malicious thing, per se.
First, there are two main reasons why people lie on ICQ. from associating with bad people to protect themselves there was a bevy of cases where innocent teenage girls were or almost became victims of horrendous sex crimes after meeting their "TCQ Web friends" in real life. In a recent interview with Hong Kong's TV Industry, Information and Technology and Broadcasting Bureau Secretary Kwong Ki-chi, he confesses that he lies when using ICQ. "It's okay to give false information," said Kwong. He also encourages his children to lie on ICQ because "there are dangerous people out there."
Second, we lie in cyberspace because we wa

Second, we lie in cyberspace because we want to fulfill a certain metaphysical fantasy. ICQ is a modern-day version of the classic 1980 s computer game, "Leisure Suit Larry." In "Larry," we, as the player, would arrive at a drugstore and type in words like "Inced Viagra" and the host would respond with something like, "We ran out of that upon popular demand." Needless to say, since all the responses are pre-programmed, "Larry" is simply a game of chatting with the computer.

With ICQ, however, you are chatting with live human beings who respond with real passion and sentimentality: You can share your innermost feelings with these imaginary friends without having to wonty about knowing their names. There are no strings attached. Once you have spent enough time discussing your pain, suffering, happiness and pride, all you need to do is hit the "disconnect" button. From then on, everything starts from scratch again. In short, ICQ is the newest human vehicle of liberalization, a mechanism that resembles a long chat with a bartender.

Moreover, ICQ allows Ionely people to be sorneone else. Recent movies like "The Talented Mr. Ripley" and "Being John Malkovich" illustrate that humans have a desirable tendency to become someone other than themselves.

In "Ripley", Matt Damon plays a chnrming American who specializes in forging signatures, telling hes and impersonating almost anyone." In "Malkovich," protagonists of the futm John Cusack and Catherine Keener develop a business that allows an ordinary person to crawl through some kind of temporal-spatial portal, end ing up inside the brain of the actor John Malkovich, seeing what Malkovich sees and feeling what Malkovich feels. There she stays for exactly 15 minutes, before falling from the sky next to the New Jersey Turnpike.

Both movies demonstrate an inner drive for human beings to explore their darkest sides. Rather than engaging in illegal activities, ICQ makes this desire come handy All we need to do is turn on our computers, find a random chat partner, tell a few healthy lies and hope for some good dreams that night. ICQ is indeed our beautiful stranger.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year lau student. His column appears Monday in The Daily Orange E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

letters

alumni, have stepped forward in record numbers to support the univer sity, so that well ahead of schedule, we passed our initial goal of $$ 300$ million. In addition to the more than $$ 60 \mathrm{mil}$ lion the campaign has raised so far for scholarships and financial aid, more than $$ 130$ million has been targeted to our academic units, research centers and multidisciplinary programs.

And rather than letting the campaign end at $$ 300$ million, we're continuing past our goal and working to raise another $$ 50$ million by the end of this year The campaign has generated a great deal of enthusiasm and inshare our vision of becoming the who share our vision of becoming the nation's leading student-centered research university. We want as many tunity to add their support to the outstanding progness we've made.
There is also one piece of incorrect information in your article. Alumna Ruth Freeman Meyer, who gave milhions of dollars for scholarships before her death, and whose bequest afforded support for even more students, was a member of the class of 1924 , not 1950.

Nothing has been "neglected." The chancellor, the board of trustees and all of those who work to raise money for Syracuse University are committed to strengthening what is already an excellent institution - and Thenk you for allowing me to clarify these points.

Lansing Baker Senior Vice President. Senior Vice President.
University Relations

- Police Reports:

Student reports missing car, police make arrests  customers who did it."

Staff Reports
A Syracuse University junior's vehicle was stolen last week, according to a police report.

Police later recovered the 1994 Chevrolet after spotting t being driven on Midland Avenue, the report said.

The student parked the vehicle in Thorndon Park Friday before going to class, the report said.

The vehicle was locked. The studentreturned from class to find his car missing, the report said.

Police observed the stolen vehicle occupied by three youths Saturday afternoon at the corner of South Salina Street and West Brighton Avenue, the report said.

They pursued the vehicle, driven by a 15 -year-old Syra cuse resident, the report said. The driver refused to pull over, neglecting several stop signs, according to the report.

The vehicle finally stopped after the driver ran a stop sign on Midland Avenue and struck a snow bank outside of McKinnley Park, the report said.

The three suspects exited the car and ran from the police through the park, the report said. Police eventually apprehended and arrested the suspects, the report added. No property was stolen said.

- A Dorian's Gourmet Pizza and Deli employee found the passenger window to his car smashed Wednesday after returning to the shop to pick up more deliveries, according to a police report.

The vehicle was left unattended in a parking lot on the south side of the store at 534 Westcott St., the report said.
"There was no one around. It was late and it was snowing.
and there were very few customers," said Kostas Petkopoulos, the store's owner. "One of the other drivers pulled up, and pointed out that the car's window was missing."

The victim reported the incident after replacing the dam aged window, the report said.

There were no witnesses the report said

The victim was unable to be reached for comment.

Petkopoulos said incidents like this happen several times a year.
"I'm not sure 100 percent," Petkopoulos said, "but it is possible that it was one of the

- The Syracuse City Police Department towed three cars parked near the SU campus Thursday, according to police reports. More then 20 cars have been towed from near-campus been towed from near-campu ocations since Jin. 30 , the re ports said.

The cars were parked illegal ly and obstructing the roadway, the reports added.

Thursday's towings took place on University Place and Livingston Avenue, the reports said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Euars Bostor

| CALLING ALL SOPHOMORES TO ADMMEM - EXPRESS SCHOLARSHIPS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR SPRING '00 TUITION!  ELIGIBILITY:  Graduate in 2002  Pass Finess Test and Physical  Cum GPA of 2.65  Pursue One of the Following Degrees:  Ensincering:  Aeronautical  Aerospace  Chemistry  CIS  Chemical  Civil  Computer Science  Computer OR  Mathematics  Electrical  Physics  Foreign Area  Environmental  Studies  Indusiriai  Foreign Languages  Mechanical  Nuclear  GUARANTEED JOB:  EXCITING CAREER!  EXCELLENT BENEFITS!  SCHOLARSHIP INCL UDES:  $15,000 Annual Tuition  $6,000 Annual Chancellor's Grant $480 Annually for Books $200 Monthly Stipend |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN AUSTRALIA?

Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA
Monday,
FEbRUARY 7TH
AT 3PM

Write for the DO!

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or email life@dailyorange.com
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m.
until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall,
744 Ostrom Ave.

Got thoughts?

Tell us ... and all of Syracuse University.
The Daily Orange is in search of some regular editorial columnists for the second semester - brilliant intellectuals, rowdy troublemakers and the common man and/or woman are all welcome.
Please submit two 300 -word sample columns to incoming Editorial Editor Holly Auer by Thursday at the D.O., 744 Ostrom Ave. Questions? Call 443-2128

Election 2000

McCain wins entire New York state ballot

BY KEVIN TAMPONE Staff Writer

The decision in Arizona Sen. John McCain's lawsuit for ballot access in New York state will place all Republican candidates on the March 7 primary election

McCain
Mccaí
The decision is a victory for McCain, who has struggled since December to get his name on the state's ballot. The judge's ruling ends the lawsuit McCain filed in early December claiming New York state's election laws unfairly robbed Republican voters of the ability to choose from all the legitimate candidates.

Gov. George E. Pataki and other state party leaders announced Thursday that if the judge ruled in McCain's favor, the party would not continue to block McCain's attempts to gain ballot access. The state party's promise not to appeal the decision in the lawsuit and the judge's subsequent decision in favor of McCain guarantee him a place on the arch 7 primary ballot.

Rejoice citizens of New York, your chains have been removed," McCain said in a statement regarding Pataki's announcement that he would not challenge the courts decision. I am delighted that Governors Bush and Pataki and now favor my inclusion on the New York presidential ballot."

A spokesperson for Pataki could not be reached for comment.

Although McCain praised the final outcome of his struggle for ballot access, he believes that a victory for fairness should never take this long, said Heather Mirjahangir, a McCain campaign spokeswoman.
"He's absolutely delighted, but he's disappointed that it didn't happen earlier," she said. "A simple well-placed phone call could have ended all this."

McCain will not change his campaign platform or strategy at all before the New York state primaries, Mirjahangir said. His plan worked in New Hampshire and will work in New York state she added.

It's very important to Sen. McCain to have one-on-one contact with voters," she said. "It's a winning strategy and eventually it will win him the nomination. The Bush campaign did not order the State Republican Party's decision to stop the challienges and appeals to McCain's ballot spot. Bush applauded it as the fairest outcome, said Scott McClellan, a Bush campaign spokesman.
"It's always been totally up to the New York Republican Party," he said. "Gov. Bush has said he believes this is the right decision and he welcomes the compe tion. We confient that Gov Bush will win there."

The most recent poll from the Quinnipiac College Polling InstiBush released on Jan. 19 shows state 47 percent to 28 Nercent te 47 percent to 28 percent.

A CNN Mme poli released Saturday, however, shows that McCain opened a small lead over the next major Republican primary on Feb. 19. The poll shows McCain leading Bush 44 percent to 39.9 percent.

Despite the new South Carolina poll, Bush will not change his campaign strategy, but will continue to focus on the same issues he has discussed since he announced his candidacy, McClellan said.
"He's going to continue talking about the thingshe's improved in Texas," McClellan said. "He'll be talking about his tax plan, reforming education and saving Social Security."
U.S. District Judge Edward Korman, the judge who ruled in McCain slawsuit, is the same judge's laws were unfair in 1996 in a similar lawsuit by publisher and a simidential hit by publisher and presiderman's ruling places Me. Korman's ruling places McCain, Forbes and all other Repubthe time of the New York state primary election on the ballot.

How're we doin'?

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department. News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange_com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editoria!@dailyorange.com

LET TIAA-CREF HELP YOU BUILD A SECURE FINANCIAL FUTURE.

FTor over 80 years. TIAA-CREL has been the leading retirement company on America's campuses. But experience is just one reason why so many smart investors trust us with their financial future. Here are a few more:

Superior strength

With over $$ 250$ billion in assets under management. TIAA-CRIEF is the world's largest retirement organization - and among the most solid. li's one of the reasons why Morningstar says, "TIAA-CRIEF sets the standard in the financial services industry." ${ }^{1}$

Solid, long-term performance

We seck out long-term opportunities that other companies. in pursuit of quick gatins, often miss. Though past performance can't guarantee future results, this patient philosophy has proven extremely rewarding.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it:" Bume Armomi.

Surprisingly low expenses TIAA-CRIEF's operating costs are among the lowest in the insurance and mutual fund industries. ${ }^{2}$ So more of your money goes where it should - toward ensuring your future.

Easy diversification

We offer a wide variety of expertly managed investment options to help build your assets. We make it simple, too, with stock, bond. money market, real estate. and evaranted options.

Unrivaled service

We believe that our service distinguishes us from every other retirement company: In the most recent Dalbar survey. TIAA-CREIF ranks tops in participation satisfaction. ${ }^{3}$

Call today to lind out how TIAACREE can help you build the financial future you want and deserve.

To find out more - give us a call or visit our website
1800 842-2776 www.tiaa-cref.org

BOLAND

continued from page 1 pat out the fire with a residence said

Everyone was acreaming Puil the alarm," he added. "We cilled that fire.

After the two residents ex tinguished the fire, the alarms sounded, loanilli said

Residents had difficulties vacuating because snow on the walkways outside the fire exits had not been completely shoveled, said Terrence Cush, a freshman management major

It slowed people down because most of us hastily put on ur shoes, he added

Morrow said he did not know if the snow banks had cen a fire hazard.

Typically the physical plant oes a good job," Morrow said.

The Syracuse Fire Department arrivod on the scene ward Scott declined to comment on the fire, but said SU Public Safoty department would conduct an investigation

The fire department spent about 10 minutes inside the building.
"It's just our job to get here, d we did," Scott said.

Public Safety deelined to comment on the investigation and would not say if the fire was connected to three fires, believed to be arsons, in Brew fall.

In late October and early November three stairuell fires evacuated the Complex The fires were sinted in the stairwells between the betw cen the ninth and twelfth fleors of Brewster hall.
"Public Safety is continuing its rounds once an hour or Brew ster/Boland as we have been since last semester," Public Safety Sergeamt Drew Buske said.

Public Safety arrived on the sene of the fire after the Syte use firefighters exited the building. Public Safety officers spent about 15 minutes inside the bathroom with the doors clesed have been accidental. and fresh.
Public safety is not con- man man sidering this as an act of arson. It seems that someone was extremely careless.

Mevin Morrow an SU spokesman n act of arson. It seems that omeone was extremely careless. Because SU residence hall safety rules discourage hall residents from using fire safety equipment, Ioanili and Lencsak could be reprimanded for their actions, said hall resident Chad Prior, a sophomore management major.

Technically you're not supposed to put a fire out." Prior said. But if somethe big? He made a Why let it become ig. He made Early last semester, the foot
Earlylast semester, tie foor had problems with cesidents moking in hallways, but disings, Prior said.

Since that time, there has een no smoking in floor hallways, he added.

Boland residents said they are relieved that a great deal of fire damage was prevented.

The boys on the management floor did a great job putting it out," said Mona Johnson, a ixth floor Boland hall resident. I am proud of thern. I live right above them and we are so close. After they put the fire out they made sure we were all safe.

AJan. 19 fire in Seton Hall Uniuersity's Boland residence hall killew three students and injured 58
l'm just scared and worried Seton Hall could have ended up like sophomore marketing mojor "We don't need another Boland hall to be burned.

SU's Boland hall Residenc Director Mary Triano spoke with Director Mary friano spoke with a group of more than dents of Boland's fith floor Sun day night. During the meeting Triano and residents discussed fire safety and smoking privileges.
"I don't want anyone thinking they're responsible for putting out a fire," Triano said.

She added that resident advisors do not have the right to moke anywhere on the foor, ex cept in their own rooms.

SU residence halls will undergo major renovations this summer to prepare for potential fires, Triano said. Contractor will install sprinkler systerns in $3 / B$ rooms, she added.
"This is carelessness," she added. "Smoking is a privilege. Next year, there will be no smok ing in residence halls."

But 1 have no objection for anything that's going to make anything safer."

UU Resident Hall Association President Jonathan Eisenmann agreed, calling the task mann agreed, calling the task force "a good move" on behalf of the state.
"I think our university is taking some positive steps in fire taking some positive stepsin fire are taking a proactive approach as far as addressing conceras."

SUstarted installing fire prinkiers residence halls thi year, nli Eisemmann added "I think

I think students take fire drins ser often he said "Peopl cur that often, he said. "People

Compiled by Staff Writers Shetby Kealy and Magin McKenna

MOORE

continued from page 1
deny its publication, on the grounds that he was anon-consenting co-author. Soon after, Moore's name was removed from the author's list and the article was accepted for publiarticle was accep cation, Kimsaid.
cation, kimsaid.
We were nice enough to have his name on it," Kims said. Later he contacted the editor passing by all of us. That's ex ally undermining our interrity.
butts left smoldering in the bathroom trash can, Morrow said.
been accidental that this may have ar accidental," he said. "Public (1) semester's Brewster/Boland fire alarms frustrated her, she would like to see more safety procedures, including sprin kler system halls.

With my experiences with the fires in B/B in general everyone didanythang they could do," said Kalen Pascal, an Lndeclared freshman in the ident of Bolandis fifth floor

That's very vicious to do."

Moore said he confronted Kim about publishing the article that foll
"I asked her why she was doing this." Moore said. "She said something along the lines that it was a group project. We

Direct Placement Meetings

Australia -

Ireland -

Lancaster (sciences)/Leeds (earth sciences) & Oxford -

E. Europe/Russia/Germany-

 Japan/Hong Kong - Tuesday, Feb. 8th IsraflLONDON COLLEGE OF FASHION- (6:00 pm)
Meetings are at 3pm at DIPA at DIPA

 119 Euclid Ave*Applicarton deadelne is March 10 oth*
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or
baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

Wednesday, Feb. 2nd Tuesday, Feb. 8th Wednesday, Feb. 16th
Thursday, Jan. 27th Monday, Feb. 7th Thursday, Feb. 3rd Monday, Jan 31st

Tuesday, Feb. 1st Wednesday, Feb. 9th have student rights and we have intellectual property pights. You cant take away peoples rights.

her' editor e-mailed Geographer editor e-mailed Moore, giving him two wecks to respond or his name wowld officially be removed from the article, she said, but Moore never responded.
${ }^{4} \mathrm{He}$ was given an opportunity to appeal," didn't. After a year, where has he been?

Current GSO president Eric Hunn agreed that Moore neglected to seek the proper outlet for his charges. failed to has haust the administrative remedies and to take it court of public opinion," Hunn said. "He hasn't taken advantage of the appeals processes number of them.

Moore, an international relations and social science three-day hunger strike Truesday and organized a sit-in at the Maxwell School or Citizenship and Public Affairs' Dean's Office.

He demanded the poor grade he received in the course to be removed from his transcript, his money be refunded for the course and his rights in regard to plagiaristo bere-

Kim said she
Kim said she could not comment on Moore's grade or his performance in the class because those are issues between

Moore said h
Moore said he was not surprised by Kim's denial of his is included in those ace she > ions. "She is also at risk because she is the co-author of the book in which the plagiarism occurred," Moore said. "Her nam is on it too. It's a non-issue to me - of course she's going to soy that.

> In response, Kim called Moore's allegations "slander In an e-mail sent to The Daily Orange, Kim said Moore began to miss classes after he first few weeks. She was disraptive n the classe he did attend, to the point where the class project could not progress. Moore participated in the brainstorming of the project, but contributed nothing to the data collection, literature review Kim seid ing, Kim said.

> Mooresaid he only missed fore Short told him not to return in April. One absence was due to an iliness, Short changed the time of the class without telling him. Moore said

Mooresaid he came up with the idea for the class project and his behavior in the was calm and scholarly. One of the graduate scubaid hemoticed a changein Moore's relationship with Short a few weeks into the semester.
"Thefirst few weeks he was a good atudent but later on, I don't know what hap. pened. Sometising happened beween them and the professor was not satisfied with his work," the graduate student said. "Since then the professor thought that he did not put his full effort into the class.

Multicultural Affairs

South Asia lecture series discusses singer's legacy

BY CAROLINE CHEN

 Staff WriterThe human voice is the best indicator of feminine identity in modern India, said Indian native and lecturer Dr. Sanjay Srivastava Friday.

As part of a six-part lecture series regarding South Asia, Srivastava spoke to 24 people who attended his discussion in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. He reflected upon Lata Mangeshkar, a prominent Indian singer and topic of his most-recent dissertation.

Early in Mangeshkar's career, filmmakers dubbed her singing voice into Indian films during the 20th century when during the $20 t h$ century when public singing by women was cot dieredinacceptable and not domesticated, said SrivasSchool of titerary nication Studies at Deatin nication Univers tralia
"Lata sings in public, but in a respectable manner," he said. "When she performs, Lata stands rigidly on the stage, her She presents a respectab usewife persona and couples housewife persona and couples the Indian images of entersaid.
*In Indian society, most people look to the woman to be caring, nurturing - basically caring, nurturing - basicaliy someone you can turn to for emotional helpand support, said Andrea Abba, a sophomore psychology major and cultural director of the Syracuse Indian Association.

This homemaker responsibility, however, does not fit working women who live in India's major cities, Abba added.

Mangeshkar was allowed to sing because her young ferninine voice did not threaten the men, Srivastava said. Men, however, did write her lyrics to control feminism in this time change, he added.

As a result, women's identities continue to be presented through masculine ideologies Srivastava said
"It was a good work and he had a point," said Gouree Bhave, a freshman electrical enginecring major. "But it's kind of ambiguous because you can use the same points to argue different sides.

Bhave agreed. Traditionally, middle-class men are insecure about women's roles, she said.

Mangeshkar chose to sing in a such a voice to be submisSive, Srivastava said. But Manceshkar's voice has more to do with inherent vocal range to do with inherent vocal range than umost of the decture had specific Indian context so most people not from that background would have difficulty grasping the concepts," Bhave said.

Sanjay Kuharajahsingam, a freshman computer engineering major, said the lecture should have included more background information on the singer for those students who are not Indian.
"I'm notan Indian, so I couldn't relate to what he was saying." he said. "To me it was like he was speaking Greek or something.*

COLLEGE IS THE BEST 4 YEARS OF YOUR LIFE $B \square \square \square \square$ AND STAYFOR 5 OR 6

Thinking about a career in law?

Syracuse University College of Law will mark
National Minority Law Student Recruitment Month with a Visitor Program open to undergraduate minority students who wish to jearn more about law school.

National Minority Law Recruitment Month at Syracuse Uriversity College of Law is funded by the Law School Admission Council (LSAC) to raise awareness of minority recruiting issues facing law schools.

What: Visitor Program for Undergraduate Students of Color When: Friday, February 11, 2000, 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Where: Syracuse University College of Law

The Program will include:

- Reception with Dean Daan Braveman

- Attendance in a first year law class
- Presentation by current law school students on preparing for law sehool
- Presentation by an alumna who witl share her personal experiences of law school and the iegal profession
- Presentation by Gina Soliz, Director of Financial Aid, on financial prepraration for law school
- Lunch with current law students

Space Is limited due to elassroom seating
Please RSVP by February 9, 2000
Syracuse University College of Law, Office of Admissions, 315-443-1962

10 [sports monday] $] \substack{\text { The anity Ongese } \\ \text { recruane }, 2000}$

Cix

game

notes

ROB'S RETURN
 coll

 atuempl. as abopine from the leg wing in the tinal seconcts. technical difficulties bad call he was arging. but it was his mess

plas.." SUSPENSION SERIES

Orangemen struggle to secure 19th win gyoum uns game Sumimary

Syracuse $36-38 \quad 7$
$\begin{array}{lll}\text { Providence } & 29-29 & 58\end{array}$

| on |
| :---: |
|  |  |

 Urow winn to the times.
sinking nine. Thomes

 big east standings Syracuse
Setoon Hal
Miami Seton Hall
Miam. Jonn's St. Jonn's
Connecticut Notre Dame
Wetse Virginia
Rutgers West Virginial
Rutgers
Vilanove
Georgetown Geargetown
pittsturgh
Boston colle
Providence Bostongh College
Providence
$1-8$
1.8

STUDYINLONDON!

Dipa Info Meeting Tuesday!

February 8th
4:00 PM AT
Schine rm. 302

FOR MORE INFORMATION
PLEASE CONTACT DIPA AT
443-3471 OR
SUABROAD@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

students Create

Spending hours putting up posters and fliers on campus just wasn't making it Penn State students Ben Mandelf and Jim Szewe createct a better way to buy and sell-SyracuseAuction.com-a free, bocal Internet auction site. In fact, they've started a company to create hundreds of these sites in university towns, Villageauction.com

Hera's how it works. Log on to SyracuseAuction.com and register by typing in your name, a nick. name, home address, and e-mail address. You'll see the agreement and be provided with a passwore. After that, you can buy and sell as often as you like, absolutely FREE.

Items are arranged in simple categories for buyers and sellers use. In addition to new and for rentals, professional services for remmates, jobs swaps, ent other categories, setlers, and a starting sale price and a deadline for blds. The highest bld at the end of the auction period gets the goods.

One of the nice things about a local auction is that you can pick up or deliver your auctioned thems locally. No shipping or waing. You can soe the buyer or and trading to face, paying locally ties are greater ton. Try arranging a sublet or selling a used sofa on a national auction site!

There are opportunities for every one at SyracuseAuction.com. Local businesses are encouraged to. list even charities can benefis For and new repistered user you sign each SywracuseAuction.com your charity can receive $$ 1$. Charitable auctions can also be arranged. Currently, we are also looking for a student marketing representative.

The site will be monitored for legallty and honesty in trading and adver tising. Students and townspeople are encouraged to tog on and try out this free auction Web site at SyracuseAuction.com it's like we say
"If you don't want it, somebody else does! ${ }^{-}$

PROVIDENCE

continued from page 11 not painful, pace. Both teams rushed offensive sets, crashed missed dozens of easy shots. missed dozens of cas struereles showed in the first minutes. Afshowed in the first minumes. Ahot opencd the scoring, PC's Roopencd Aure stin hit the bottom of the backboard with a 3-point try.

After Jason Hart misfired on an alley-oop connection with Brown, Augustin airballed a triple from the left wing. S (19-0, 9-0 Big East) recovered, but Bland lost his dribble to Erron Naxey, who drove the lane and got to the foul line.
Providence $(8-14,1-8)$ failed to graze the rim with a field goal attempt until Augustin tipped in an Abdul Mills miss with 17:44 left.
"We were playing messy," SU forvard Preston Shumpert said. "It was a really hard game to get into. They felt the exchange was great with a highspeed game and their trapping ut we got it under control."
As the first half drapged
As the first half dragged on, Syracuse tore off a $30-12$ run to take a 14 -point advantage. Shumpert each tallied at least five points in the spurt.

But Providence's full-court pressure fipped the game into a helter-skelter affair, as the Frioutburst.

Augustin drilled a turnaround on the left side of the lane to start the rally. Hart turned the ball over on a palming violation, and Mills made two 10. 10.

The Orangemen inbounded to Thomas, but the Friars hounded the All-American candidate, and he flipped a lazy shovel pass wide of Hart and out of bounds.

Mills scored on the ensuing possession, and the Friars possession, and the Friars steal a two freebies to slice the lead to $34-28$ with 54 seconds left. "It was a scrappy game," Williams said. "It was all over the place. There were lots of turnovers. We were playing the way they wanted to play.

Hart tried to outrin the Friars' press, but he completed his dash up court with an out-of control, 22-foot heave that crashed against the backboard Providence rebounded, and Llewellyn Cole broke open, get ting to the line and cutting the deficit to five.

SU led 36-29 at the half, and PC shaved the lead to four less than two minutes into the second stanza. The Orangernen Friars wearing down with foul roubs whi lack of talent

Despite making ius
Despite making just 17 field goals and shooting 18 per prevailed for the 19th consecu prevalied for ive time.

In that kind of game, with the pushing and grabbing and people coming at you, we did What we had to do to win," SL coach Jim Boeheim said. You in this sort of thing. And we did."

While struggling from the field, Syracuse clung to the lead at the charity stripe.
Syracuse scored 14 of its first 31 points from the foul line. In the first 16:45 of the second half, SU made 20 of 30 shots from the charity stripe, hit just ive field goals and increased its advantage from four to 18 points.
er finy-one free throws (at tempted) is because they're an aggressive team, PC coach Tim Welsh said. "They took the ball to the basket, and they're great passers. They create good angles and good opportunities for one another."

UGLY

continued from page 11
and tied the 1978－79 team for the longest one－season winning streak in school history．

The frantic，foul－plagued matchup came about because of the Friars＇Big East inexperi－ ence and the need for PC to force turnovers in order to score，SU head coach Jim Boe－ heim said．
＂They have to play that way，＂he said．＂That＇s the way they＇re going to play，and i think that＇s the only way they can play at this stage．They don＇t shoot the ball well，and they＇ve got to come at you and trap．＂

Early on，the attacking， gambling style of play seemed to fluster the Orangemen．

Just $2: 49$ into the contest， SU center Etan Thomas had al－ ready committed his second oul，and the normally com－ posed Boeheim was whistled for a technical after arguing a foul call on center Bill Celuck．

Syracuse，however，settled down and went on a 19－6 run that gave the Orangemen a lead they would never relinquish．

Aware of the Friars＇anemic shooting and motivated by Thomas＇early foul trouble， Boeheim switched SU＇s defense from man－to－man to the $\mathbf{2 - 3}$ zone．
The results were obvious， as PC finished the game hitting just 29 percent of its shots．

Even with the horrendous shooting，the Friars were buoyed by Syracuse＇s own struggles and stayed within 13 points until the last few min－ utes．
＂You know，we gave some effort and we huing around for a while，＂Providence head coach Tim Welsh said，＂but you＇ve got to make some shots．And we just couldn＇t make any shots against the zone．＂

The lack of outside shoot ing for PC was augmented by SU＇s interior defense，which rendered 7 －foot－2 center Karim Shabazz ineffective．The junior finished with eight points on 3 for－11 shooting．

On Syracuse＇s offensive end，Thomas returned from his early foul trouble to dominate The senior finished with 19 points and grabbed 14 re bounds．

Thomas said Shabazz＇s height posed a different chal－ lenge than many he＇s faced this season．
Thomas＂It was a good，hard battle，＂ Thomas said．＂He＇s a tall guy． had to really be aware of him all the time．＂

The contributions of SU＇s frontcourt－including Da－ mone Brown and Ryan Black well，who finished with 11 points and seven rebounds and seven points and 10 rebounds， respectively－proved a huge factor in a game where SU＇s normally reliable outside game was off．

The Orangemen finished the game hitting just 35 percent from the field．Sharpshooting guard Tony Bland was notice ably cold，going 1 of 10 from the ${ }^{\text {floor．}}$
＂You＇re going to have games like that，＂Thomas said ＂You can＇t shoot wonderfully all the time．You＇re going to have games when the ball does－ n＇t go in the hole．＇

Forward Erron Maxey was PC＇s lone offensive bright spot． He finished with 18 points，but like three of his Friar mates，he battled foul trouble throughout the garne．

Both Maxey and Murray picked up three fouls in the first half，enabling $S U$ to go on its early，decisive run．

While the Friars remained within striking distance in the second half，they never truly threatened the Orangemen．

Both teams seemed struggled to find continuity，as almost－con－ stant whistles routinely stopped e action．
In keeping with the game＇s overall ugliness，Boeheim felt that it was his team＇s worst shooting performance of the season．The previous season－ low shooting had been 40 per－ cent aganst St．Johns on Jan． ${ }^{1 .} \mathrm{H}$ head man said that 24 th－year are picture－perfect．
You just have to find a way to wins these games and wet on the plane and go home and get ready for Seton Halln

Greau Lønch Boffer FREE DELIVERY  （min $$ 8.00$ order）   Win Hope   Win Hope  Chinese Restaurant  free Parking  For Eat In or Take Out

907 East Genesee Syracuse，NY 13210
（315）478－3050
Open 7 days a week Mon－Thurs： $11 \mathrm{am}-11 \mathrm{pm}$
Fri－Sat： 11 lam－12am Sunday：12noon－11pm

$10 \%$ off with purchase of $$ 15^{00}$

IN THE OPINION DF BETA THETA PI THE GREEK SYSTEM IS IN TFOULBLE．NOT BECALSE DF THE ACTIDNS DF BETA AND DTHER FRATEFNITIES BUT THE CDMMLNITY＇S PEFCEPTIDN DF THEM． CHANGES MUST DCCLJR．IF THIS IDEA STICKS ARロUND THE GFEEK SYSTEM MAY BE IN JEDPARDY．THE COMMLNITY ロFTEN SEES EACH FRATERNITY MAN AS A D：UMB，ALCOHOLIC，ABLJSIVE，SEXIST PIG TAKE AN ACTIVE PART IN HELPING TO UNDERMIINE THIS NOTIDN DF GREEK＜S

BETA THETA PI
EロB WALNUT PL．
SO GREEK IT HURTS
This public service announcement reflects the opinion opt the Beta Theta Pi Rush Chairmen and not necessarity those of the Syracuse Greek System

$\xrightarrow[\substack{\text { BY JASON REMILLARD } \\ \text { Staff Writer }}]{\sim}$ Staff Writer

After honoring its graduating seniors before their last home meet, the underclassmen on the Syracuse men's and women's swim teams showed their elders the team will be in capable hands next season.

Four Syracuse underclassmen won three events apiece as both Orange squads defeated Florida Atlantic on Saturday at Webster Pool.

The men and women switched roles from what SU when the men's team had set the tonc. This time, the Orangewomen were the ones dominating the meet, winning 179-119, while the men pulled out an 11 point victory, $149-138$.
"I think it shows that we're on the way to the Big East meet, and we'll do well," said junior tri captain Dustin Riley, who was one of the four SU swimmers who pulled off trifectas. "It was good competition, and I'm glad we came out on top."

The Orangewomen (4-2) won 11 of 16 events over the Owls. Senior Melanie Bryon made the most of her final meet in Syracuse by winning three events, the grueling 66-lap, 1650 freestyle ( $17: 24.26$ ) and the 100 and 200 bre
"It's hard to believe four years have gone by," Bryon said. "It was goed to go out positively like that."

Junior Eleanor Thoet also won three events for the Orangewomen. She sprinted her 100 freestyles and anchored the victorious 200 medley relay team.

Bryon's sister Kelly, a sophomore, won two events, the 200 backstroke (2:05.59) and 400 individual medley (4:35.15).

On the men's side, Riley and classmate Josko Vucetic set pool records for Syracuse (5-1). Riley's showing in the 100 -yard breaststroke ( 58.30 sec ) shaved more than a whole second off the previous mark set last season by junior Ilia Mikhailov (59.42).

Riley also won the 200 breaststroke (2:06.30) and 400 individual mediey (4:03.70). He was part of a winning effort in the 200 medley relay (1:35.01) as well.
"I felt real good in the water." Riley said. "Hopefully, I can keep it up a week and a half from now (at the Big East meet) and swim well for us.

Vucetic set his record in the 100 backstroke, touching the wall in 50.61. The Croatian also won the 200 backstroke (1:50.45).
"I think they took a look at (the pool records) and where they are and took a shot at it, head coach Lou Walker said of Riley and Vucetic. "Building on that confidence is a positive thing."

Sophomore Djordje Filipovic won three events for the Orangemen, the 200 freestyle ( $1: 41.66$ ) and 100 butterfly (50.54), as well as joining Riley on the victorious relay squad His chance for a fourth win was spoiled in the 200 fly, as he los out to FAU's Dariuz Szymanski by .2 of a second.

Besides Melanie Bryon, several seniors captured one last victory on the Hill.

Brett Bergmann and Dylan Malagrino joined Riley and Fil ipovic on the winning 200 med ley relay team, and Branka Sus tic was part of the sarne race for the Orangewomen. Erica Bobrek touched first in the 200 freestyle (1:54.54).

The next 10 days for the Orange are important, Walker said, as he gets his swimmer ready for the Big Eant Champl on the . The ill Gais F . 1 ris at the Goodwill Games Aquatic Center on Long Island
"I feel grod about this week as we prepare for the conference championships," Walker said.

3 Days Only
Fri, Sat, Sun: Feb. 11-13 11 am start Huge Clearance - Winter & Spring Clothing Brand New & Vintage from gowns to casual clearout!

489 Westcott Street Off Euclid 472-1949
Minutes from Campus 472-1949
Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center
Of New York Chiropractic College
910 Erie Blva.
(on the corner of Crouse $&$ Erie Blvd)

Hours
Mon-Fri.
9 a.m.-8 p.m.

New Location Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community

Student Plan

Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

Upstart Pirates invade Carrier Dome  BY JEFF PASSAN

Asst. Sports Editor

If anyone still doubts 19-0 Syracuse, this is the Orangemen's week to erase the reservations

SU faces a laundry list of f big-name opponents this week, starting with Seton Hall at 7 p.m. tonight at the Carrier Dome.

The fun for SU doesn't stop there, though. The Orangemen travel to Freedom Fall on Thursday to face an up-anddown Louisville team and foloin gainst oon at the Dome.

As the country's No. 4 eam, each challenge becomes more important for the Orangemen.

Barring an upset against SHU (15-4, 7-2 Big East), Syrause also would eclipse Connecticut's conference-record 19 consecutive wins to commence Fe fast regular ear path to a Big East regular in pionship.

But, SU coach Jim Boeheim said, the Pirates could interrupt the run for the Orangemen's first title since the 199091 season.
"We're in the middle of a really tough week right now," he said. "Seton Hall is playing as well as anyone in the league."

Senior point guard Shaheen Holloway and freshman center Samuel Dalembert lead ond place in the Big East with Miami.

Holloway, a Queens-born and bred point man in the mold of New York City legends Mark Jackson and Stephon Marbury, came to South Orange, N.J., with lofty expectations.

In his three seasons there, however, SHU underachieved. The Pirates never broke the .500 mark in conference play, failing to reinvigorate a program that saw its glory days in the early 90 s with Terry Dehere pacing the P.J. Carlesimocoached team.

Last season was his low point-Holloway averaged just 9.3 points per game, almost seven below his career average. He shot 22 percent from 3-point range and dished out a careerlow 141 assists in 28 games.

Holloway's role this year though, has changed. He need not take the scoring load upon himself, as sophomore guard Darius Lane leads the team with 15.1 points per game.

Concentrating on his overall performance, Holloway is racking up solid numbers 12.1 points, 6.1 assists and five rebounds per game.
"He's been a leader first of all to any success we've had," SHU coach Tommy Amaker said. "He's invested more and our players feed off him. We'll go as far as Shaheen takes us.
"He's demanding more of himself and his teammates," added Araaker, in his third season with the Pirates. "He's been our most consistent player, and I think he's proven to be one of the best point guards in the conference this year.

While Holloway roams the wings, Dalembert creeps around in the paint, intimidating epponents with his 6-foot-11 size and downright scaring them with his 91-inch wingspan.

The likely heir to SU's Etan Thomas as Big East shot-blocker extraordinaire, Dalembert averages 3.8 blocks per game, a tad below Thomas' 4.2.

Like Thomas in his early days at Syracuse, Dalembert has yet to find an offensive rhythm.
He a

He averages 5.2 points per game, shooting 44.2 percent from the field. Thomas, con versely, hits for 14.8 points and shoots a robust 63 percent.

SU, despite an awful shooting performance at Providence on Saturday, leads the confer ence, hitting 48 percent of its field goals.

The Pirates drop 44.7 percent, a number that could be better considering all of their weapons, said SU forward Preston Shumpert.
"They're a great team," he said. They have a lot of good shooters, and they beat us (once last season).

Seton Hall could be without one of its main weapons. Senior sixth man Gary Saunders, fourth on the team in scoring at 9.4 points per game, was sus pended for SHU's 97-66 victory against West Virginia on Saturday.

Saunders' suspension, according to a university press release, stemmed from "non compliance with team and uni versity rules." The university, vacy, would not comment further

The Saunders incident follows a traumatic few weeks on the Seton Hall campus.

On Jan. 19, three SHU students were killed in a dormitory fire at Boland Hall.

The game between the Orangemen and Pirates, originally scheduled for Jan. 22, was postponed until tonight.
And as the teams face off, Amaker hopes his squad's mind will concentrate solely on bas ketball.
We've been dealing with a lot of issues on campus," he said. Any time we can get back to basketball and have the kids play at a high level, we're happy."

The Art of Message

stress raduction - pain relicf - sports performance
Griffin Nolan, LMT
Geraldine Crelot, LMT
Marshall Square Mall, and floor
475-9164
www.art of massage.baweb.com
Gift Certificates Starting at sto

VINCENT APTS.

105 Smith Lane ,Syracuse
DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS!
RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTION PLAN" Call 424-0250for more info! http:www.longley-jones.com
4 Longtey fones

- 1) HEAT INCLUDEDI

2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPECIAL

What is Success?

We know..

In fall 1998 our portfolio was at $$ 35,000$... now we're over $$ 110,000$ ! (Real Moncy)
We are sponsored by Steve McClellan fitrst VP. Merrill Lyuch Over the life of the elub, we have delivered $100 \%$ return year after ye I lay, we are beating the pros at their own game!
Leam how to trade stocks, be successful and boost up your resume.
Visit the New Yark Stock Exchange (uasling floor!) every semester Visit JP Morgan. Merrill Lynch and other institutions for one-day seminar, networking and recruiting.
"With over $$ 100,000$ under management are we bullish or what?" THESYRACISE UNIVERSITY INVFSTMENTCLUR www.som.syr.edu/som2/invest

WEDNESDAY FEB 2, 2000 School of Management Rin 323 8:00 p.m.

RECORD

continued from page 20
The closest Heck gets to self-importance is "Beautiful Way," about an ex-girlfriend who is lost and alone. While hardly serious in tone, the song is a nice break from the

The Daily Orarge
complete pointlessness of the first half of the album. The arrangement is dense and the piano, while Beck the piano, whie Beck repeats the refrain "Oh, such heart."

But, on the whole, any-

Oppr oavelogers

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Reoms. EfflAPT's Homes & Town Houses Everything you want and more for your buch MOST INCLUDING

Security System with Deak 3olt Locks Smoke, Reat a Sprinkte, Evstern Remodeled Full Cur $$ 225-5375 /$ monts Remodeled Full Ci.atom Kitchentlaths Kitchens include: Goumet Sell-cleaning ovens, Warbaje Disko ials, Microwzves, Disitwasthors - Laundry Fzulities on Premisos - Off-streat Parking

Suow ar Lavi sulnkenance
Super Irensited (mezas low util es)
Some Apts. include An Ulitities ${ }^{2}$ Curcistod Such as ${ }^{\circ}$ Cownth Wilking Distance to Campust Westicott, Clarendon. Acizerman. Livíngston. Lancaster

CALI 478-6504
one looking for deep meaning in "Mionite Vultures" is going to be sorely disappointed. However, despite its whimsical tone, the aboum actually features impressive Beck mixes everything from electric guitar to harmonica with synthetic beats and random sound effecta that manage to blend seamlessly. Although his voice does n't have much range, Beck keeps it in perfect harmony with the heavy instrumental proceedings around it. orether historted or Even his ridiculous falsetto on "Debra" fits in with the rest of the package. "Midnite Vultures" calls to mind the sexual freedom of the pre-AIDS, pre-Reagan 1970s with vivid conviction. This sexual freedom is hilari ously expressed in "Peaches & Cream" with lyrics such as "Give those pious soldiers/another lollipop/cause we're on the good ship/menage a trois." And the album's final song, the hilarious Debra, is a that centers on foreplay between Beck and two sisters Beck has taken his post-modernist act to its peak with this album, an audacious music geares. Although he is not exactly the most vocally talented or deep musician, Beck is still probably one of the most creative artists working in the music business. He is completely unin hibited in his art - and his lack of trepidation is our musical gain.

My Grade: A-
Chris Piazza is a freshman television, radio and film major. E-mail him at kelzeek_7@yahoocom.

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9 a.m. to $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. weekdays.To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before $2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. two business days before you want it to run.

Call 443-9793 during advertising business hours ( 8 a.m- 4 p.m.) for current rates and applicable discounts.

What Kind of "Impression"

 Are You Gonna Make at Spring Break?ASK ABOUT OUR STUDENT SPECIAL

UNIVERSITY
CNY Medical Ctr. Suite 340 739 Irving Avenue Syracuse 470-5854

DOWNTOWN 205 S. Salina St/ 426-8917

FIND OUT WHAT A PERSONAL TRAINER CAN DO FOR YOU!

MENTION THIS AD FOR A FREE CONSULTATION INGLUDING BODY FAT ANALYSIS. WITH THE PURCHASE OF 10 SESSIONS on more

When in Hell...

Sleep Deprivation

by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

Out of Town

I's true, the Governments spent billions to Keep Aliens a secret, its why they

That's a Paranoid Fantasy, Don't believe that Pale Horse crap

Ed Riley: High School Gym Teacher

by Steve Pilot

by J-Dog & Mariska

Tartaruga Pate

by Thane Benson

Eat the Lettuce

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style

by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE  CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

 315-443-9793 $\$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 c$ each additional word54 extra each bold word $5 \notin$ extra each CAP word Chafges ard PEAISSUE \& are Prepaid by.
 Ads can be mailed will check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue; Syracuse, NY 1321C; Aft: Classifieds: OR Faxed with Credit Card to: $315-443-3689$

Notices

Wanted: 50 Serious People Needing to Lose Weight! $100 \%$ Sate & Ettective! Guaranteed! Local interior Design Shop ofters internship to student looking for crectit. Call Lisa

EMPLOYMENT

Faegan's needs Senios Sunday Disc Jockey. Must

 ae outgoing 8Camp Counselors Top Ovemigni Camps in Job Opportunities Camp Poyntelle seens counselors for co ec Hortheast PA. Overnght Jewish Feteraton, camp-

3 hours 170 m NYC-General. Spots. Dram, 42 O & Arts. 1 -800.973-3683 Summers E poyneie e com or unw posmielle com crawngs May be used as mann tor creet or as part tme wook. Call Lisa 472.8937 tor inferven, must provice portel:io.

WANTED
Child Care
 Weerend Hours 7 wo gits

Help Wanted Laryones inc. looking for part-time + full uime drivers staning al $8nr. Can 426 -9523
S1500 weekly potental mating our circulars. No Expencrie Requited. Free information packet. Cath 202-452-7679.

Roommates

Foommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom apartment closo to eampus parking fireplace apantment closio to eampus parking tireplace
tiondry $487-5761$

FOR RENT

House nicel, fumshed grads need roommate parking ututics inctuded close walk to S.U. 532.00 month 478-2642

Stop clean 3 bedroom partments Firoplace, parking, hayndry, semi-turnished, walk to SU, low price $436-4016$.

University Area 2.3 Bedroom fumished partments Single Houses for rent. Cal Jem 660-747 University Ave five bedroom House one black trom Marshatil Street furnished laundry pasking lease $$ 7,300.00$ prus usfities D N.Drucker $445-1229$

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Respansible Landiord Call Gordon 476-2982

4Bedrooms, OadiandSL. TEtrock ESF, 38iocks Lawt Hosplals, Iumished, parking, teundry, porthes, Excettent condlion, August, $475-0650$ Porthes, Excettent condivion, August, 475-0650 bedtoom apartments parking uldities inctuded reasonable olhers $478 \cdot 26+2$

L(.)(.)K  Just for you!  Furnished House

 Livingroom Dintingrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast. 10 Month Lease
Call 655-2175

for more info

University Aue. Three Bedroom Fat Close Wialk

1.2.3 Bedioom Apartments. Beautitil. Spacioss. Sote, Guiet, Close 4760295
2 bedroom Apartment right on Marshall St. Fall Semester only (1 Semester) Augus: 2000 to

December 31, 2000 . Great location! Ca1 $637-5779$. | LUXUAIOUS: 2story apthoft, Gourmet kutidn, |
| :--- |
| Customi loungeniv arca. Skylight 15it ceiling. | Custom oungenly arca, Skylight 15 ft ceiling

ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKING PARK: is NO PETS! Negoliable teases
Cat 10 r

Acxerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedrom apts. Fumished. 5 00-501 lease $446-7202$

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS AND $4,5,6,7$ BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Beaujilul 3 Bedroom Townhouses, Walking distance to Carmous. 3 Lage Bedroants, closet space, 1 i/2 Batis, Viningroom, tivingroom, Kitchen, Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups 459.8117 or $476-9843$

Aparments close to campus elean $2.3-5$ bedrooms soma with tireplace laundry parkin cemiturnlahed reasonabia price 487:5761. Ackerman Beautilut Large Furmished Flatal Houses. 2,3,4,5,6 Eedrooms. Porches, Fireplaces, Garages, Laundry. Pet OK Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished.

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave  871 Ackemnan Ave

 917 Ackerman Ave 115 Aedifield Place 145 Avondaie PlaceAvailable for 2000-2001 Parking Futil Time Maintenance and Management. Retinished Hardwood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Battis
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Apartments

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS

 APARTMENTS2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms. new construction. new construction.
ww. universityarea.com low unversityarea utilities.
University Area Apts. 479.5005
www.universityarea.com
Four Eedroom on Ackerman, Furnished.
Oushwasher. Two Porches, O:f stsed Oshwasher, Two Porches, Off striet Pating.
Launery, Caipet, Hardwood Floors Cauncty, Calpet, Hard
Call Goidon $47 \mathrm{G}-2982$

Eest Euy on Hamsonst. Clean Ouret
Letites includes. 472 -55ce.

| Your off-campus |
| :---: |
| home for 2000-01 |
| Nicely furnished |
| 3 BEDROOM |
| apartments. |
| double beds |
| dishwashers |
| microwave |
| washer/fryer |
| carpeted |
| off street parking |
| owner managed |
| CALL TODAY |
| PETER 427-0052 |

One and Two Bedroom
Fumished Apartments. Comes of Walnut and Harrison Aventes. Leases Commence June 2000. Last Month and Secuirys Nom Pesence Allowed.
Graduates Pretered Cail $422-7755$ One +2 bedroom furnished aparments. All utitites included! $$ 370, $ 480 / m o$. One mile from campus. Available parking, carpeting, securtity suilding Available immedialely, May orAugust. 446-9598.

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Avail June July + Aug 445-0540

Ona Bediroom Apartments Close to Campus, parking, very clean, lautndry Call Gorden $476-2982$. Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments
Uvingsion, Surmer. Ackeman. Euclid 469-666

University 283 Bedroon TownHouses 8 Fass.
Inexpensive and mint condtrion. Washerforver. inexpensive and mint condiuon. Wasserfinyer.
Fireplace,隹ished basement, Call $449-0109$.
2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid is Hartwood Foors Avail June or Aug 446.5186

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT  Perfact for one person. All utilities included  Als utidites included $$ 355$ per month Cail Ooma 4494621

Two Bedroom Apartments Whith utititios innluded, Fireplace, Furnished Hardwood Floors and CarpeUng, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking. clore to Campus. Call Gordon

 476-2982Ackemin Ale nice 3bedicom that turnishe stove, retrig. liundiry, Eifeplace, garage. Avail June $15 t$ 446-4229

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982 collegehome THREE SPACDROOMS
beautifully
FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY 478-7548
www.collegehome.com

TOAD HALL

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St: (across romin Havenit
 479-5005

chean quiet 2 -bedroort two blocks from SW

 hosptals. Fumished. All uthilies paid. 472-5908June 1 lease.

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Futly furnisthed. Rents start at $$ 2275$. Refinished hardivood iloors. Wall to wall carpet Fals. thoors. Wali to wall carpel. Flats.
Townhouses. Aemodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry wow univers ityarea com University Area Apts 479-5005

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated  440-6200 437-7577

LANCASTER AVENUE

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { & 3 Bedioon Apartments } \\
& \text { Outisncing Condtion } \\ & \text { Fwill Fumished } \\
& \text { Cast Ame Cervini } \\ & \mathbf{4 2 4 - 0 2 2 0 ~ X 4 2 8}
\end{aligned}
$$

Stuatio Aparmments beginning at 5265 pert Stuan Aparments beginning at s265 perf month some with 9 month leasez, with utilies, fumiture, private kitchen and miture, private kitchen and batt microwave, carpel
parking, 476-2992
One Bedroom Apartments some with 9 month leases. laundry, quiat buikding, close to campus, utilities included, 476-2982

1,2,3,4+5 bedroom aparments. Fumished, all campus near law school +ESF. May + August availabilty. 446-9598.

Houses

Now Rening Fof Faz 2000 Laves 5bedion house on E. Adzans SL Newty remodeled baitrooms and room and Bar. Great Location! Cail 6375779 .

|  |
| :---: |

Large Single Famity fumished house. Parking. $6.92-3304$.

University and Comstock Very close to Campus
Elicienches and Two Bedroorss Secure bidg.

DEMIORRATS   continued from page 20

   continued from page 20}goal that is keeping the group together getting a Democrat elected to the presidency

Christina Hinchey, group chair woman and Gore supporter, said each Democratic candidate embraces issues vital to the College Democrats, including pro-choice and pro-women stances, of splitting us apart," said Hinchey, a se nior political science and public relations major linchey said she enjoyed conversing with the SU for Bill Bradley group about their experiences at the New Hampshire primary, despite her support for Gore, at of Citizenship and Public Affairs. The Col of Citizenship and Public Affairs. The Col lege Democrats met there to hear firs lady Hillary Cinton's formal announce York senate seat.
"I love the Bradley group," she said. "They are involved, they write letters, and they even went to New Hampshire. We love working together."

To help the Democratic plight, the group pledges support behind each camp when needed, including sponsoring a table in the Schin the Bradley group. "There are certain things we cannot do because we are not a recognized student group," said Brooke Schiferle, president of SU' for Bill Bradley. "The College Democrats have offered to let us use their name to be able to actor things."
Public Relations Director Scott Lipton, a junior political science and public policy major, worked losely with the SU for Bill Bradley group to coordinate their recent trip
New Hampshire.

Eighteen col lege students, including three from the State University of New York at ty of New York at Potsdam, traveled to New Hampshire Bradley came Bill Bradley campaign just days before the New Hampthe New HampThey participatdrops, visibility efforts and phone banking in Sullivan County on January 29 and 30. Though Bradley narrowly lost the Democratic primary to Gore, he did receive the majority of Democratic votes in Sullivan County.

$\underset{\text { Hinchey said }}{\text { Igniting }}$

Hinchey said her involvement in De in an enviranirs stems from growing up in an environment where her parents encouraged political discourse. Although her couraged Hinchey to express ideas that veered away from their conservative ideologies.

And when Hinchey, 28, took 10 years off after high school before enrolling in colous Democratic of Gore and Sen. Charles Schumer.

After brieny attending community college and the State University of New York at Stony Brook, she transferred this York at Stony Brook, she transferred this year to SU, entering into an apathetic po litical climate that has plagued universities nationwide.
One method of resurrecting political activism among students, Hinchey said, is to attract high profile speakers to campus to create a larger forum for political opinions. Although she can not accept credit for Hillary Clinton's visit to SU - the for Hillary Clinton's visit to SU - the First Lady contacted the university and asked to come - the group is trying to bring Rev. Jesse Jackson to SU.

The Student Government Association has already approved the funding for this endeavor, although the Democrats have not been assured of Jackson's commitment, she said
mitment, she said.
While the Gore
ingent of the group is less organized, many Gore supporters have put their efton's upcoming speech on campus, Quinn said.

The group quickly formed a "Hillary 2000" committee to Group members have aided in ticket sales for the speech and promoting the event around campus. Clinton plans to speak about ucation. Last year, former surgeon general Dr. Jocelyn Elders spoke to Syracuse students about education, as well.

Outside of campus, the College Democrats work closely with Onondaga County officials to help out voter registra tion drives and various other community service projects. The group works to promote on and off-campus such issues as gun control and pro-choice abortion poli cies.

Specifically, the group has fought attempts to decrease scholarship and financial aid funds for higher-level education, namely the efforts to forts to decrease available crease available
Tuition AssisTance Program tance Program money. The Col money. The Colhave also addressed the prodressed the proposed voucher pystem for elementary and sec-

> While proud of their efforts,

Lipton insists that the group is most effective because of its existence.
political provide an outlet, just as owner commanganizations do, fence, to speak their minds," he said.

As the presidential elections heat up, there is more student involvement creating a political buzz on campus. Hinchey added that she gets excited whenever she receives random e-mails from students inquiring about memberfrom students inquiring about membership to the College Democrats. This excitement and added involvement is needcitement and added involvement is needed to make the group a larger force on ed to make the grou campus, she added.
Although Hinchey will be graduating in May, she said Anthony Quinn, a sophomore political science and Spanish major who doubles as the vice president officer, is the College Demorats' nancial officer future lead so confident with him leading the organization," she said.

REPUBLICANS $\begin{gathered}\text { howev- } \\ \text { er } \\ \text { did }\end{gathered}$ er.
not fol now the
 TV speaker to the SU Hill -

Instead of being complacent, Burns decided to take action to change the group, being elected chairman of the College Republicans at the end of his freshman year. Since he stepped up to his leaderslip post for the College Republicans two years ago, the group has brought Patrick Buchanan, Ralph Reed and William Buckley to SU.
work on," said speakers to campus about getting better

Few students who were on this campus in the fall of 1998 could forget Buchanan's speech at Hendrick's Chapel. The event was the first large-scale College Republica
"It was great," said Burns about the experience of meeting the conservative experience of meeting the conservative headline-grabber. "What the leftists did."

Indeed, the liberal camp staged a large protest outside the chapel and crazy ing a lesbian "kiss-in."
ed by the protests," Burns said
ed by the protests, Burns said. harmful effect on the group. Instead Burns said the behavior actually helped strengthen it, he said. Burns said he met Ryan, a future member, at the speech.

Although the Buchanan speech was his first College Republicans event, much like Burns, Ryan immersed himself in local politics during his adolescent years.
Whether he was working on local campaigns trying to pass Republican ideas during Model Congress competitions or using "the bully-pulpit" of being the editor of his school paper, he got his conservative message out to anyone willing to listen.
"I didn't know that there was an avenue to get active in the group until I met Joe," said Ryan, a sophomore political science and broad casuld impact that could have. was not some thing I thought of before."

Branching out

Much like Burns, Ryan quickly rose through the ranks of the group and won the spot of second vice chairman during his freshman year.

Ryan recently left the position to head the Syracuse University Youth for Forbes, but is still active with the College Republicans.

Ryan got involved in the Forbes campaign after meeting a Forbes official at a New York state conference. His experience with the Forbes campaign and the College Republicans has taught him that there is a business end to politics and that being a staunch conserv help him in the long run.
${ }^{\text {"I }}$ have a more savvy, political mind now," said Ryan. "It has made me a lot less of an ideologue.

Both Ryan and DeRossi are very thankful to Burns for the experience that the College Republicans has given thern.
"He has taken me under his wing," Ryan said. "He has helped me see politics in a professional light.
that DeRosssi is thankful for the speakers that Burns has brought to campus.
"That's been the really exciting part for me, getting to meet the people," she Althougb the other leaders of the College Republicans are quick to pat Burns on that back, he is not.

a natural leader, ${ }^{\text {n }}$ he said. "I'll leave that to other people to decide."

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS, AND $4,5,6,7$ BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM

Claxendon St, 4-bedroorn, Iree washer, dryer,  51And Bedroom Houseas 721 and 725 Ostrom Ave adfacent to campus stating es335' person (i) 446 -

$\stackrel{3}{3} 9$

| SPRING BREAK 2000  GANCUN*JAMAICA*NASSAU  Space is limited  CALL TODAY!!!  800-293-1443  www.StudentCity.com |
| :---: |
| GANCUN SPRING GREAK From $$ 399$ theludes 14 FREE meals. 23 Hours of Free Drinks. We Are The Biggest, The Best. And The Least Expensive. Play Wite You Payt 6 Month Payment Plan wnw. collegctours.com |

> SUBLET
> Sprino zooo need temale subleter. aparimen turrishect, close to campus (607)
> SERVICES
> Travel

| Sping Break Specalas! Aahamas Party Cuisel Nights 52791 Includes Measi Awes Pa Beacke Foom With Nithen Nex To Clubs, 7 Parties Free Drinks $$ 1291$ Daytona Room Wath Kitche $1491 South Beach (Ears Open Unal Sant) 5159 C0coa Beach (Near Disney) 51791  springbreaktravel.comm 1-800-678-6396 |
| :---: |
| SPRING BREAK - GRAD WEEK  $$ 758$ Up Per Person www,relreatmyrtebeach.con 1-800645-3618 |
| EARLY EIAD DISCOUNT EUNOPe 528 .   Mexicorcaribbean 5159 (m+taxes) CHEAP FARES WORLD WDEAI Cal www.ahtiutctiorg |
| MISC. |
| As NOTE FROM THE DALIY ORANGE,     |

EhbGE

AIDS
breakthrough
A handfut of male patients were on the minds of AIDS esearchers last week, because they have found a way to keep sufferers off expensive and bur. densome AlDS drugs for tong periods. The men are walking advertisements for a new approach to HIV infections called structured treatment interruption (STI), a controversial tech. nique that at least some clinicians think can induce the immune system to combat the dead!y virus. STIs involve intermittently taking patients off their drug regimens in the hope that increased exposure to the virus during such periods will stimulate the immune system and thereby aid in control of the infection.

Political rivalry

A new tetevision com mercial from George w. Bush's campaign drew an angry response from Sen. Joln McCain's campaign this weekend. in a sign of the escalating warfare between the two rivals for the Republican presiden tial nomination. The ad, which began air ine in South Carolina on Friday night, says McCain knowingly distorts Bush's tax plan by claiming that it does not set aside money from the projected budget surplus to save Social Security.

Hepatitis progress

 Researchers are reporting major progress in combating Hepatitis $\mathbf{B}$ and C . which threaten to overtake AIDS as a national health crisis Studies reported in recent months at medical conferences suggest doctors might soon be able to eradicate the viruses or send them into sustained remission in a majority of infected people. The studies are the cuimination of years of work in developing medicines against Hepatitis B and Hepatitis C. About 1.5 percent of Americans carry one or both viruses.
quote of the day:

"Curiosicy is a lust of the mind." Thomas Hobbes

Holly
Auer,
editor
443-2128
life (basily
orange.com

[lifestyle]

 CLOTHESAbercrombie and Fitch CEO comes to speak at SU. See Lifestyle Tuesday.

ERICA CAMPANEL+AA/ The Dally Orange

College

 Democratsay kristina heiligenthaler AND JOY DAVIA Contributing Writers

As presidential hopefuls Bill Bradley and Al Gore run neck-and-neck in the race to capture the Democratic presidential nomination. Syracuse University's College Democrats find themselves equally divided and unable to throw their support behind one candidate.

But instead of allowing this division to tear the group apart, members have embraced these differences and rallied behind the one

See DEMOCRATS page 19

Campus political activism groups make their mark.

College Republicans

GY NICHOLAS STEFFENS

 Statf WriterAlthough liberal politics may be the rage on college campuses across the nation, the Syracuse University College Republicans believe a conservative ideology makes more sense.

While members' back grounds and reasons forjoining the Republican party are dif ferent, they tend to hold similar beliets - less government ind an, taxes should is a life worth preserving. Many of them, is hard to pin down because it's ambiguous nature is a large portion of its defin ferent ferent genres thrown together ronic package.

See REPUBLICAN page 19

Beck album blends musical genres  What is post-modernism? The answer  hardly one of the year's most profound  thetic beata and new age sound effects.

Chris  Piazza

off the record

No one does musical post-modernism like behind the critically behind the critically acclaimed "Odelay." After "Odelay" Beck de slow things down a bit on me more introspective, low key "Mutations," a critically-acelaimed success but commercial bomb.

After his stab at folk music with Mutations, Beck is back in full post modern force with "Midnite Vultures," a mishmash of ironic homage to everything from new-age music to 1970s disco and funk. The album bubbles with wacky synthesized beats and deliriously inspired non-sequitor lyrics. Even though it is albums, it ${ }^{4}$ probabiy the most fan.
"Midnite Vultures" kicks off with the superfly lead single "Sexxlaws." Sporting a maddeningly catehy hook and lyrics ike "Midniphthags mausoleum/Where pixilated doctors moan," the song sets the mood for the James Brown in his vocals, has createa ames Brown in his vocals, has created here one of the funkiest singles since the 1970s.

The next two tracks continue Beck's tribute to pure funk. "Nicotine & Gravy" has completely inane lyrics, but Beck": falsetto delivery and percussion-heavy background makes it totally absorbing Mixed Eizness" is full of wacky lyrics ("I mix business with leather ... freaks flock together and make the leabians gcream") and funked-up soul.
"Mixed Bizness" ends with what sounds like a robot trying to dance and malfunctioning halfway chrough. This is the perfect segue to the rest of the album, which relies more heavily on syn-

The best way to describe the rest of Midnite Ruitures" is retro-futuristic. digitized and warped to sound like a digitized and warped to sound like a female roborsinging thursaay night think in one pregnant again. Beck even but it is more of' Holiywood Freaks, rap of the late 1970 s and early 1980 s Ore just has to look at the lyrics, "People look so snootyftake pills to make them look so snooty/take pills to make them moody/Automatic bzooty/zero to tutti rapping too seriously.

In fact, Beck doesn't take much of anything too seriously on "Midaite Vultures." After the release of Mutations," Beck said he wanted to make a fun, funky party album with crazy lyrics. Indeed, songs such as "Pressure Zone" and "Broken Train," with their hip, bouncy arrangements would fit ideally at party.

E Police Reports:

SU student robbed at gunpoint

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Three unidentified men robbed a Syracuse University enior at gunpoint Sunday cording to a police report.

The senior
valking was from class at 10:30 p.m when he passed a small blue car near the rootball field in the park on Ostrom Av enue, the report said. The car is thought to be a Nissan, the re port added.

While passing the car, the man threatening mim from be himd, the report him the tepor said. He turned and saw a what appeared to be a silver colored, semi-automatic hand

Eun, There was another man near the car and a third in the driver's seat, the report said. The victim then got on funman his wallet containing Eumman his wallet containing $$ 25$ and his driver's license, the reportsaid. the report said. Then second man then approached the vicimand took his black nylon shoulder bag that contained a textbook and a Panasonic personal stereo, the report said.

Before driving away toward South Beech Street, the men told the senior to climb over a wooden rail and Walk through the snow to the cenfield, the report

The victim described his attackers as black, about 5

See SAFTEY page 7

- Student Government

Assembly calls for RHA alliance

BY STEPHANIE SHVER statf writer

The Student Government Association discussed Mon. day night the advantages of strengtheaing ties with the Residence Hall Asgociation.

Dwight Williams, an As. sembly representative from the School of Management, said a stronger relationship with RHA will break down barriers between Syracuse University students and SGA.
"Virtually every under* graduate has contact with che corms and this is a good wepte hear - what williams denta jur finance major

SGA Preaideat Jamal James described past rela tionships with the orgeniza. tion as nonexistent. James said he is looking to better the situation, especially with the help of newly appointed Public Relations Director

Edwin Escobar, who is car rently forming a public rela. renliy form tions board.

RHA President Jonathan Eisenmann said communication with SGA during his tenure was never strong. He semester in hosting the Campus Safety Forum but response from SGA was disappointing, he said.

No one showed up. But I have high hopes for this semester because an SGA officer approached me at the end of the Campus Talent Show and wanted to meet With me, Eisenmann said of Joe Sauer, a freshman Assembly represeatative from The College of Arts and Sciences.

The Assembly plans to run Spring Campaign 2000 With the guidance of Escobar, Williams and Sauer.
*The tour will run for
See ScA page 3

The Syracuse Orangemen entered the Canter Dome on Monday as the mation's only undefeated Division Iteam. Thay left with their first loss, $969-67$ sethaek to Soton Hall. SL clawed batick from a doublo-digit deficit and owned the lead with less than a minute to play. Burt Darius Lane, the Pirates' shapshooting sophomont, nailed a long game-winning 3-pointer from the top of the are with 39 saconds remaining, phoul sem Hall senior Shoheen Holloway held Hart to no nseist and forced four tirmovers See sports, page 16.

- Multicultural Affairs

Grants improve campus race relations

BY JOHN ARWEILER Contributing Writer

The Office of Multicultura Affairs recently awarded $$ 5,000$ to strengthen ethnic and racial to strengthen one Syracuse Uni versity campus

SU began awarding Fein stone grants to students, faculty and staff in 1996. Those interest ed in a grant submitted a formai proposal to the Multicultural initiatives Committee in December.

An endowment by SU alumnus Sol Feinstone made the grants possible.

Shauntay Cherry, a senior television, radio and film major, acted as student chairwoman for the review committee. She said proposals to include ideas that would move race relations beyond the level of toleration and would realize the advantages of a diverse community.
*Our forum looked for proposals with actual skill-building components and achievable goals co break racial barriers and prej ces, Cherry said.
The review committee heard 14 proposals and awarded the grants to seven applicants.

Poinf Zero member Sand Pessin, sophomore internation al relations and politieal science major, received a grant for her organization. She plans to set up

See FEINSTONE page 6

[briefs]

campus calendar

TODAY

The engineering sorority, A pha Omega Epsilon, hosts Spritp Room 30 .

EThe Mental Health Associ: tion of Onondaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing Genesee St. The class will addres parenting, emotional and legal is. sues.
succeed in school, the researchers found.

Hormone may raise

 nisk of breast cancer A second major stucty of breast cancer including progestin including progestin in therapy over a period of therapy over a period ofyears increases the risk of developing the disease.

The study, by researchers as USC. found that taking a combination of estrogen and progestin increases breast cancer risk by 24\% for each five years of use.

For wornen taking estrogen alone, the risk of breast cancer rises $6 \%$ for every five years of use.

The study will be published tater this month in the Joumal of the National Cancer institute.
able. Their identities were not released, and no passenger list was drawn up before the flight. The Defense Ministry said Monday it had opened an inquiry to determine the cause of the crash. The helicopter apparently was overloaded: it had a capacity for 35 people and was carrying 42 .
42.

Poor aircraft maintenance during two decades of fighting between the government and UNITA rebels has led to dozens of plane and helicopter crashes in Angola. The overall death tol

national news

Clinton plans final budget

WASMINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton unveiled his final budget plan today, focusing largely on the size of the surplus in an effort to thwart Republican calls for steeper tax cuts.

In short, Clinton portrayed the likely government surplus as comparatively modest - if you can call $$ 764$ billion over 10 years modest. Congressional Republicans, meanwhile, are embracing projections of a 10 -year surplus that could easily exceed $1 trillion, a scenario that could help justify an argument for substantial tax relie?

White House officials say the GOP estimates are unrealistic because they rely on projected govermment spending cuts for countless programs.

The federal debt is about $$ 5.7$ trillion. Clinton said his budget plan would eliminate it by 2013. $$ 256$ billion in prot tax reductions over 10 years, mostly aimed at lower-income and middle-class families. Congress should resist calls for deeper cuts, he said, because theres greater benent to be然anned from

   LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LU  LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LU  LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LUA  LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LUA  LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LU          LUANDA, Angola - An Lat miles to the north, officials LU     tims were not immediately availair base at Lubango en route to

- Famous Artists at the Civic Center present "Smokey Joe"s Cafe" at 7:30 p.m. Call 424-8210 for tick et information.
- Point Zero meets at 7:30 p.m. in Link Hall, Room 103 to discuss race relations. Call 442 6082 for more information

WEDNESDAY

- Munson Williams Proctor "Xintitute Auditorium presents and 7:30 p.m. at 310 Genesee St. Utica.
$\square$ The SU Investment Club meets at 8 pra. in the School of Management, Room 323. All ma jors are welcome.
- The School of Management presents Anthony Arcuri and Kathleen Slate of Merrill Lynch in Syra. cuse from 7 to 8:15 p.m. in Babikiad Management.
- Delta Sigrna Theta sorority in conjunction with F.A.C.E.S. sponsors an HIV education work shop in Coldstein Student Center on South Campus. The event is free and there will be free safe sex kits distributed.
- Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity presents "Ethnic Notions," a documentary detailing prejudices and racism in the United States, at 7 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 207. A discussion will follow.

WEDNESDAYTHURSDAY

- UU Cinemas presents "Monty Python and the Holy Grail" at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Admis sion is free

THURSDAY

- The College for Human Development hosts Michael Jeffries chairman of the board and CEO o Abercrombie and Fitch at 3:30 p.rn in 108 Slocum Hall.

To make a contribution to campus calendar. call the news department at 443-2127. news department at $443-2127$ acepted Submissions are also accely viae-mailat news@dailyor. ange.com.

Gunman kills Serbian figure

BELGRADE - Yugoblav Defense Minister Pavle Bulatovic, an associate of President Slobodan Milosevic, was gunned down in a Belgrade restaurant tonight in what the government called a classic act of terrorisma."

The killing marked the secand assassimation of a Sertian fig ure here in the past three weeksZeliko Razratovic, a Serbian militia leader, was shot in Belgrade on tan lead.

Milosevic's government held an emergency meeting here shortly after the assassination. In a statement afterward, it praised the slain defense minister "with

Attorneys seek death penalty

WASHINGTON, D.C. Federal prosecutors announced this morning that they will seek the death penalty agaist Carl Copper, people at a Starbucks coffee shop in Georgetown.

Cooper, 30 , showed no reaction as U.S. Attorney Kenneth L. Wainstein revealed the government's intentionss at a hearing this morning in U.S. District Court. He is scheduled to stand trial May 2 on murder, racketoering and other charges contained in a sweeping 48-count indictment. He has pleaded not guilty.

The case against Cooper would be the first death penalty matter brought to trial in the District in nearly 30 years. The last execution in the District took place in 1957.

The Starbucks killings took place July 6,1997 , in the 1800 blods of Wisconsin Avenue NW, when a robbery went awry in the coffee shop. Prosecutors allege that Cooper acted alone in the slayings of manager Mary Caitrin Mahoney, 25, and employees Emory Allen Evans, 25, and Aaron David roodrich, 18.

If Cooper is convicted of a cap-

world news

gratitude and respect" for his role during the Kosovo war last spring. A gunman wielding an AK-47 assault rifle killed Bulatovic shortly before 7 p.m as he dined with a banker and the restavirant's manager, police reportec. Police said the gurman fired a short burst at each of the three men, fatally wounding Bulatovic and lightly wounding

the other two before escaping.  Hijackers free  eight hostages

LONDON -- Britain's hijack negotiators settled in today for the armed group still holding 157 passengers and crew on the 157 Afghan airliner that was diverted ital offense, the jury then begins a separnte set of proceedings to consider punishment.

Vandals attack Yahoo Web site

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. Computer vandals yesterday at tacked Yahoo, the warld's most popular Web site, bringing it down for about three hours, company officials said, in one of the most serious known acts of sabotage on the internet.

At 10:20 a.m. Pacific Standard 'Time, the servers at the comapany's Mountain View, Calif., data centers were bombarded with mock requests for information "portal" site. The demands apparently came from "multiple" computers around the world, the com pany said, and jammed the system so that it was nearly impossible for legitimate users to get through.
Mallett said the attack did Jeffrey clude any penetrack did not in ciude any penetration of data stored in Yahoo's computers. stored in yako
Rather, he said.

The attackers did not leave a message explaining why they chose Yahoo and no one has yet disruption, Mallett said.
[dँق]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during by The Daly Orsity acadernic year is distibuted On cange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the firs five copies complem additional copy costa $$ 1$

Management 443-9798
Business 443 -2.314
Lifestyle 443-2128
Photography 443 -9795
Art 443-5938

Road Runner users find temporary e-mail glitches

Rather than retricving their campus e-mail Thursday, several Syracuse University stadents received only error messages.

The error messages signaled technical problems that prompted about 20 complaints from students with restricted e-mail access, said Jim Hopkins, mannger of SU Compuing and Media Ser vices.
'It was one of rny biggest concerns of the week," said Joseph

SGA

continued from page 1 two to three weeks at all of the two to three weeks at all of the dorms, ${ }^{\text {said Escobar, a fresh- }}$ monns, newspaper major.

SGA will sit down with students and talk to them about what should be accom plished on campus, he said.

James, a sophomore musical theater major, said the tour is akin to his campaign for president. He expects this campaign to be as suecessful as his own because the tour will also attempt to capture students at dining halls, where he says they are most "attentive.

The campaign also re quests that an SGA represen.

Schmitz, a freshman civil engineering major. "I was waiting for an important e-mail about a class and an e-mail from my girlfriend It was a real pain.

The complaints began Thurs day at about 6:30 p.m. There was a configuration error at Time Warner Cable, the distributor of Road Runner, an Internet service provider, Hopkins said.

The main server Time Warner uses is called the Domain Name Services server, he said.

The error that caused connection difficulties occurred in that server, he added.

What happened was the Road Runaer DNS configurations got changed, and Time Warner was unable to aczess our domain," Hopkins said. "What this means is that customers were unable to make the connection to the Road Runner system because the server wasn't directing the calls to the right place."

Problems like this occasion. ally occur when Road Runner exHopkins said.

Time Warner Cable, which recently merged with imternet provider America Online, began distributing Road Runner to the Central New York area in June of 1998 . The service allows high specd Internet connections hrough a cable wire.

Once Time Warmer identified he error, Road Runner employees worked with SU technicians tative be present at RHA meet ings and vice-versa.
"We have similar toals. We just haven't gotten together because our mectings were always at the same time on Mondays," sajd Eisenmann, a senior political science, economic and policy studies major. SGA meets at $7: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. every Monday in Maxwell Auditorium.

The prospective public relations board is expected to change the appearance of SGA by conducting various mectings in residence hall lounges, Escobar said. He added that by bringing the meetings there, students will be more expressive because the Assembly representatives appear more as peers than officials.

In other SGA news:
Comptroller Chris Greiner motioned to discuss the appointment of a new advisor after reading comments said by current SGA advisor Michael Elmare about the finance The D.O.

Elmore, dean of student programs, commented on SGA's decision not to ald the College Democrats in funding U.S. Senatorial candidate Hillary Rodham Clinton's visit to SU Wednesday. Elmore called the decision short-sighted and stretching for raional."
"We need someone who is behind us whole-heartedly and not so driven by personal igendas." Greiner said.

WThe Assembly approved funding for the publication of Comix Plus." The magazine is printed by students to showease comics that do not appear in The Daily Orange, Greiner said.
"It's going to cost $$ 938$ and I think it is a good investnent because there is a good group of guys in leadership that will do a good job," he said.
ve the problem. Technicians resolved the problem Friday afternoon, Hopkins said.

The error was definitely not a computer virus, he added.

This is an unfortunate, but normal problem," Hopkins said. "There is mothing to worry about."

Compiled by Staff Writer Euans Boston

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

The Daily Orange  Classified Advertising

The Syracuse University community is invited to attend a campus meeting on issues related to the University-Community Partnership, the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative and student safety. The meeting gathers our community for the purpose of sharing concerns and information in order to clarify these matters, which affect our campus life together.

> Tuesday, February 8 7 p.m.
> Hendricks Chapel

Thomas V. Wolfe, Dean of Hendricks Chapel, will moderate the event.

E Greek Affairs

Phi Kappa Theta establishes university charter

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

As established greok houses recruit pledges this week for Spring 2000 Rush, a new frater. Syracuse University campus.

Greek Expansion Board members - officials from the Office of Greek Life and representatives from the Panhellenic Council and the Intratraternity Council - approved Phi Kappa Feb 1 after the chupter made a Feb. Lafter to the foard on Jan pres.

Junior political science major Sal Piscopo said the response to the request was "kind of with us," he added

Piscopo said he came up with the idea to start anew fraternity at SU during Fall copo brought up the idea of starting their own fraternity one night as he and hin on during he said.
"We didn't want to conform to any present ideal." he said. We wanted to set cur own standards."

Piscopo researched during winter break that year what he and his riends would need to d

I did the rescarch and brought the information back to the guys and they were all gungho buout it," Piscopo said. "So we took it from there.?

Piscopo approached the national headquarters of PKT after the break and inquired about starting an SU chapter, he said. Representatives from the nationRepresentatives from the natquarters came to SU and interviewed students who expressed interest in joining the fraternity, he said.

Sophonore environmental engineering major Justin Joslin was among the would-be brothers viewed.

They asked us about involvement on campus, academics, what we want in a fraternity, ronmesth, a sophome major mental engineering ives also ked about his opinions of greek life in general, he added. Joslin said he feels there is a stereotype that accompanies many greeks. one he wishes to shed with PKT "I see a close-knit group of guys who trust each other and help each other through college, Joslin said of his ideal fraternity. "It's basically about meeting new people."

The national PKT headquarters contacted SU to finalize the plan after interviewing students and deciding the proposal was serious, Piscopo said.

Although SU granted recog nition to the chapter, it was too late to participate in this semester's Rush. This is because the chapter is still a "provisional group," meaning that they have been recognized as a fraternity but they are not fully chartered and are not yet required to pay membership fees, Piscopo said.

Piscopo said, however, the fraternity will be ready to partic tpate in Fall 2000 Rush. The group currently includes the 15 to 16 students that worked to es tablish the chapter, he said.

The executive board includes Piscopo as president, Joslin as vice president of membership. WJPZ FM 89.1 personality Mike McDonough as vice president of programming and Matt Roman as vice president of commanica tions, in addition to a variety of chairmen, Piscopo said.

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

Youneed o roll-on with $m$ zoatiknan

Some restrictions and blackouts apply.

WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a littie steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
or a free, full-color poster ( $18^{\prime \prime} \times 24^{\prime \prime}$ ), write:
Alos Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Heath Department Save $$ 20, $ 30$, $$ 40$ even $$ 60$ Off! Diesel Vests & Coats $1 / 2$ price Bubbles - Down • Fleece Mon-Sat 10-7, Sun 12-5 Marshall St/SU Campus 471-4237 www.post-syr.corn

[editorial]   Grade school tests   Grade school tests fail to gauge truth fail to gauge truth   Elementary school isn't just about hopscotch

   Elementary school isn't just about hopscotch}

The Daily Orange
February 8, 2000
Ashok Selvarn, editor 443-2128 editorial@dailyorange.com 5 and dodgeball anymore. For some New York state fourth graders, one bad day could stymie their visions of strolling through junior high halls.

Fourth graders statewide took a new standardized language arts test last week that requires literary and grammatical analysis. This is a departure from traditional multiple choicebased aptitude questions.

In the New York City area, 67 percent of students failed the test last year. New York state school officials plan to use this year's results to help determine if students will be promoted to fifth grade.

Reports of fourth graders fearing a marred "permanent record" or a botched shot at lvy League entrance circulated throughout local newspapers. Parents served up power breakfasts and packed their kids off the to school with crossed fingers.

The majority of elementary schoolers have never been exposed to standardized tests. The sight of endless rows of answer bubbles and a thick, sealed test booklet is surely enough to shake the confidence of even the brightest student.

The New York City Board of Education and the State Education Commissioner, Richard P. Mills, need to put dollars on the docket for remedial education programs and establishing a standardized curriculum.

Increased testing without the appropriate training won't paint the state's youth as intellectual superpowers. Repeated failures will only continue to draw lines between children of varied abilities and perpetuate low morale for underachievers.

If students are held back, teachers will be forced to water down curricula to prepare for the test. Learning in an overcrowded environment will shortchange kids the benefit of educational enrichment.

Only a combination of parental input, teacher feedback and realistic performance indictors can truly determine students' educational fate.

Testing scare tactics won't add interest to the nation's brain trust - but a vested interest in a quality learning process will.

dö]

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Exitor

Iustin Silvermon
Editorial Editor
Ashok Selvan
Lifestyle Editor Holly Auer Dave Curtis
Sports Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Edisor
Art Director
Asst News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Assst. Sports Editor Bill Ehninger Tom Nyex Asst. Sports Editor Neva Austrew Emily Kulkus Assi. Sports Editor Design Edtor Design Edror Design Editor
Asst. Photogrophy Editor
Asst. Photogrophy Editor
Assst. Copy Editor Asst. Capy Editor

opinions

D.O. editor in chief recalls inspiring comrades  As I end my tonure as editor in chief of The Daily  patiently worked with every writur, how they ugonizud

Orange at the end of this weck, it seems like whiling away the last two years at this place was some sort of pre destined fate.

RON DEPASQUALE
I can't imagine not watching contributing writers turn into dedi cated editors who spent night after hight in the trenches. But at one ind the was the contributing writer and the D.O. was just a place I came to write about the cross-coun-ifnot
If not for three sports editors Whove since moved on to less gray pastures, who knows if I would pastures, who knows if I would have ever wanted to become a part D.O.? And without their encoura ment, who knows if I would have had the confidence I needed to apply for editor in chief?

I left for summer break at the end of my freshman year with my D.O. future in limbo. I hadn't written much that spring, but the sports editors, Fete Thamel, Kirk Woundy and Jason Notte, gave me a good beat anyway, the Big East notebook.

I came back that fall determined to prove myself to them, to emulate them. I saw the way they clicked, professionally and personally - how they were like brothers. They argued like brothers, they stood by each other like brothers. They bitched about each other behind their backs, and then fought over who would stay the latest, who would type in agate and who would help the fresh men
They that they blended so intrinsically diferent. It's no small feat that they blended so well together

Pete was the confident leader, the wunderkid who took over the department as a freshman, who had a nowledge of SU sports that was downright scary.

Kirk was the consummate editor, who handled stories and the fragile freskmen egos with care, who knew how to switch around just enough words to make a sentence sound perfect.

And Notte was the gentle giant, the incredibly talented witer who could make the Winthrop backdoor offense sound like the most exciting thing ever to hit carnpus.
i couldn't help but look up to thern, study how they over their stories until they felt they were permissible. When the next day's paper came out, after I rippod apart. my own article, I broke down theirs, trying to get a feel for exactly what went into a good story.

Suddenly, spending all my time in the cramped, dingy quarters of the D.O. seemed like the best way I could commit the better part of my collegiate years. These guys went on road trips together, they drank together, were the best thing for earch other and they were were the best thing for each other, and they were the best thing for me. thing for me.
iremember the pride I felt that fall when, one by one, they asked me if I wanted to be a sports editor. Kirk and Notte were leaving in February, and the opportunity would be there And I wanted it like nothing else.
fohn Jiloty and myself joined Pete to form the new tearn, and in August of 1998, "Sports Illustrated" ranked our spors.

Ihat was a testament to all the work Pete, Kirk and Notte did molding the sports staff, especially me and John, and setting a high standard the sports section still strives for today.

After an eventful year in the sports department, that took us from Lexington for the NCAA Baskethall Tournament to Miami for the Orange Bowl, I decided I wanted to apply what I had learned from my mentors to the entire paper. One by one, they told me I could do it, 1 should do it. And in one short year, I went from staff writer to editor.

I don't see nearly as much of those guys now as I'd like to. Pete is still in Syracuse, covering Orangemen bas ketball. Kirk, after bumming around Britain, is writing, news in Rhode Island and Notte is the editor of "Go Out," the Jersey Journal's weekly entertainment rag. And in a few months, who knows where I'll be?

So now that I'm dome managing the D.O., it's time I go back to what I started doing as a freshman - Ilaying catch-up to three guys who have set an example It always by to follow.

Ron DePtusquale is editor in chicf of The Daily Orange He is a scrior newspaper and English and tertual studies major

letters

Greek advertisement perpetuates stereotypes

To the Editor:

I am writing to publicly call at tention to the hypoeritical and nauseating advertisement for Beta Theta Pi in the Monday, Feb. 7 issue of The Daily Orange In the ad, the brothers of Beta Theta Pi encourage interested men to rush their fraternity if they are interested in changing "the community's perouption" of "each Fraternity $\operatorname{man}$ as a dumb, alcoholic ;abusive, sexist pig. Their self-described puiblic service announcement" cal

However in small print at the bo tom of the ad, instructions appear to fold the ad in half Afer doing so, the message "RUSH BETA CHICKS DIG US" appears. This sexist phrase completely undermines the content of the well-meaning ad and simultaneously destroyed any remaining shred of re spect that I had for the brothers of Beta Theta Pi and their place in the greek system in general.

The greek system nt Syracuse University not only perpetuates rape and jock culture, oppressions that exist ass a result of the heightened ernphasis on masculinity and devaluation of women by some members of social raternities and the women themseves, but itaso fosters a sense of acaan institute of higher learning that is trying to raise its acrdemic standards. In the words of the Beta Theta $P_{i}$ Rush Chairmen themselves, the greek system is in trouble Students who abhor these sexist and classist organizations will not tolerate the brainwashing of otherwise intelligent, tulented men and women for much longer. In my opinion, I doubt the university would either if it did not depend so heavily on alumni donations om former greeks.

As rush approaches, the usual, redundant eriticism of the greek system and defensive rebuttals will appoar in campus publications and in dialogues among interestid parties. I hate to be the one to start this tired conversation, sive ad for a fruternity whore repulsive ad or a fruternity whose motto is, sogreek innotiond. to pass through the

Angela Gaud
Class of 2001

- Multicultural Affairs

ASU discusses low attendance, spring events

BY KEVIN TAMPONE Staff Writer

Low attendance plagued Syracuse University's African Student Union meeting Monday night as the group discussed plans for the Spring 2000 Seun.
"Last week we had almost 20 people in here," said Ebrima Krubally, a junior engineering major and ASU president. This place was packed. There were people all over the place.

The low attendance at the meeting resulted from factors out of ASU's control, he added, citing Monday night's SU men's basketball game ugainst Seton basketball game ugainst Seton Hall University and the poor Heather as main deterrents. Despite the attendance, th four members present made final preparations for an upcoming lecture by Nigerian literature professor Ben Obumselu entitled "Africa: Beyond the Dancing and Killing Field."

ASU tried to get Obumselu to speak last semester at their annual Afrifest, a self-awareness campaign for international African students. Because of Embassy, however, he was not Embassy, however, he was not allowed in the United States until December.

The lecture will be from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday in Bird Library, Room 1916, with refreshments served prior to the speech.
"We have to get people into the meeting, into this talk," the meeting, Boye Adepoju, ASU secretary. "I mean this guy came all tary. "I mean from Nigeria."
ASU members also discussed events for the spring secussed events for the spring semester and thought of ways to attract more active

The members agreed to or-

FEINSTONE

continued from page 1 a "Point Zero Evening," to expose racial issues on campus pose racial issues on campus through skits, comedy, readings and poetry.
and poetry.
We hope to make people more sensitive to other races and more sensitive to other races and to things that happen on campus to things that happen on campus that don't directly affect them," Pessin said.

The Caribbean Students Association is using its grant to screch a free movie every Thurs. day night during February, which day night during February, which is Black History Month. The movies will be shown in hopes of informing students about black informing students about black Caribbean culture, said Nashonie Chang, a member of the group.

Other projects funded by the grants include a campus-wide essay writing contest, a ribbon campaign and a screening and discussion of the race-related film, "Skin Deep."

Four training workshops for SU library staff to help elfectively understand and respond to diversity issues in the community are also planned.

David Coryell, student serices coordinator for the SU Honors Program, received funding to set up a day-long event inviting ganize a formal dinner with entertainment that coincides with an African spring harvest festival.

ASU must try to engage as many student organizations as possible for the event to increase its visibility on campus and unify black student organizations, Adepoju said.
"It can't be something too religious. Just a friendship festival, 1 think, is something that could work," she said. "We've got to invite other groups. We're too segregated as black societies on campus."

Krubally proposed that

ASU sponsor a trip to Washington, D.C., so African students at SU could have the opportunity to visit the U.S. capital.
${ }^{4}$ It would be a good thing to go on a visit and see how the U.S. govermment is run," he said. "It's also the home to a lot of museums. They just opened a museum of just African art and its supposed to be out. standing. ${ }^{\text {m }}$

Members made no decision on the Washington, D.C. trip Monday, but agreed to discuss the details at future meetings.

Native American students in area high schools to spend the day on campus.

The students, primarily Onondaga Nation members, will go through the average day of an SU honor student by attending classes, eating lunch together and visiting residence halls, Coryell said. The program aims to help Native American youths gain a sense of college life, he said.
"We are looking to establish another link with the Onondagas, who are just south of SU, to exchange insights into each other's cultures," Coryell said. "We want to promote diversity on campus which is sadly lacking, especially with the Onondagas who are very close.

It's only right to help out our neighbors."

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or

Interested in Studying

 IN ISRAEL? baprucha@summon3.syr.edu
Come to the Inf DIPA Wednesday, February 9th

London College of

The Daily Orange Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu for the DO!Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorarge.oom We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

Write

Council approves annual parental involvement day

The Syracuse Common Council is asking black parents to suppart their children's education throurh a city-wide parenta involvernent day wide pareata Feb. $14 . \quad 1$

During its $\mathbf{2 0}$-minute Monday meeting, the Council approved a resolution for the observance, Councilor-at-large Kate OConnell said. The city cuse began obscrvid.
"It's a day set aside to encourage African-American families to support engagement in education," O"Connell said. "The council feels it's extremely impor. tant to be respectful of the diversity in the district and to support any effort in regard to educaany ef

The day will cuiminate at $5: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. at the Oncenter Com* plex, 800 S. State St.

City residents are invited to show their support for the obser + vance through a community gathering, OConnell said

Syracuse University African

Student Union President Ebrima Krubally said he hopes the day will promote equity in education hroughout the city.

If parents are taking part in their children's education, society will benefit as a whole," said Krubally, a junior engineering major.

Historically, blacks have not been given the same opportuniies in public education races and in turn have suffered hign iliteracy y added
"If you look at both sides, you know there has been a disadvantaged group," he said. "That grouphappens to be African Americans.

In other Council news:

The Council did not vote on Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bernardi's proposal to redistric adult entertainment businesses into an area east of Erie BouleGard or the Onondaga Lake hore, O'Connell said.

Members of the city's zoning commission rejected Bernardi's proposal last month because they feared it would adversely concentrate adult entertainment businesses in select areas of the city. Board members also worried the proposal would restrict the rights of artists to sketch nude models.

The Council did not vote on the issuc because the proposal has not been forwarded to councilors by Rick Guy, corporate counsel to The Office of the Mayor, O'Connell said

Compiled by Staff Writer Magin McKenna

SAFTEY

continued from page 1
foot 12 inchestall, medium build and between the ages of 16 and 21 , the report said.

One man wore a dark hooded sweatshirt that covered his hooded sweatshirt The gray man remained in the car during man remainedin the car during could not provida a detailed de couldiot providea derailed The senior then walk walked to he SU Public Safety office and aotinied the Syracuse Police De
The Police Departm
minal Investigation Depart Crimimal ment is nesses, the report said.

Sergeant Joseph Sweeney, f the investimation depart ment said the incident was most hikely an isolated one.
"This was purely a case of being in the wrong place at the wrong time ${ }^{-}$Sweency said wrong time, Sweency said very safe place to be."

About 90 percent of crimes involving students both on and off campus occur randomly, Sweeney said.

Othergun-related incients this year include an assault in Shaw Residence Hall and a break-in on South Cam pus.
ghaw tirmed man entered and broke inta the roam o his ex-wife. When the woman returned home and asked him to leave, he struck her head with the handle of a small handgun.

Three men ontered the apartment of three $S U$ students Nov. 17 and tied the women with clothing and Christmas lights and locked them in the bathroom of their home. The women were able to free themselves and contact the police, but only after the men leff with a laptop computer, cash, ATM and credit cards

It is not likely that some. one is targeting university students in a particular area. Sweeney said.

Students living in both Booth and Dellplain halls, how. ever, have heard numerous ru* mors about dangers in the park, said Megan Kelly, a sophomore nagement
"I livex street live right across tho street and wouldn tro there by myself, said Kelly, a Dellplain resident. "hey can try to make it safe but it's kind of common knowledge that it's not. It's ind of scary.

Sophomore film major Scott Adams said he leaves his car in the park during the day but makes a point to move it at night because of the area's bad reputation.
"I personally didn't fect safe leavingmy car there at night," Adams said. "I enjay the park, but have told myself not to go there alone.

Many students visit Thorndon Park, especially to go sled ding during the winter, with. out being aware of its potential dangers, said David Polazzi, a sophomore political science major.
"Me and my friends have been going sledding and wo haven't had any problems," Po. lazzi said. "We should probably be more careful.

SUPublic Safety should in. form the student body when such incidents occur, Adams

said

"I think it's important that the university make known that this did happen," he said.

Kelly said she is alarmed that the university has not informed students of the robbery.
"Any incident like that should be alerted to the students, Kelly said. "I don't now why they didn't tell us.

Public Safety declined to comment on the case but did release a report Monday of the robbery to select faculty and publications.

The incident should re. mind students to look after their personal safety, especially in areas that present a poten tial danger, Sweeney said.
"Everyone should be diliGent when walking through a dark area," he said. "If something doesn't feel right, trust your feelings."

If students see someone or something that appears suspi. cious, they should report to Public Safety immediately, Sweeney said.

Students must also be careful to secure their property. he said.

You can't leave things out in the open," Sweency said. "You can't leave yourself to be the victim."

WRITE

A LETTER T0 THE EDITOR!

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

INTERESTED IN STUDYING IN Japan or Hong Kong?
Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA

Tuesday, February 8th

AT 3PM contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

The ring pull.

It's convenient. It's efficient. And it's simply brilliant.

Want to learn more about a career that fosters this kind of thinking?
Consider this an open invitation for open minds.

Global Operations Information Session
Thursday, February 10, 2000

> 6:00-8:00 p.m.
> 304 Schine Center

Business Casual Attire
Global Operations Campus Interviews
Global Operations will be holding closed interview sessions at this campus.
If you have been preselected, you must attend this Information Session.
Note: No exploratory interviews will be given to anyone who has not attended an information session.

EDGE

The latest buzz Honeybees have a keen ability to ravigate over very long distances and lead companions to sources of food. Two new studies have produced new researchers sent honeybees on a search for food inside a narrow tunnel decorated with different black-andwhite patterns, then analyzed the dances and waggles they performed to communicate the location of the food to other bees. The bees danced differently depending on the pattern in the tube, indicating they judged distance with visual cues.

Like cocaine? A decade after thenPresident George Bush's request for science to devise a vaccine to render addictive drugs harmless, Donald W. Landry may have come up with the solution for cocaine. Using methods seldom applied in drug abuse research, he built a ${ }^{4}$ catalytic antibody ${ }^{-}$ that eats cocaine in a lab rat's bloodstream and biotech companies may further develop the antibody to treat human cocaine abuse. The President's Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP) estimates that there are 5.2 million users of some form of cocaine in the United States, and 3.3 million addiets.

Seeing the light

"Near-death experiences" may be caused by a normal psychologi cal response to the intensely stressful experience of almost dying, according to new research.
In a study from the University of Virginia Health System in Charlottesville which was published in the Feb. 5 issue of the medical journal Lancet, almost 72 percent of people surveyed reported having many more symptoms than normal that fit the signs of "disassociation" - the separation of thoughts and feelings from the normal stream of consciousness.

quote of the day:

One man with courage makes a majority." Andrew Jackson

Holly
Auer.
editor
443-2128
lifeedaialy
orange:com
ONE aKIND
SU's Florence Center turns 40.
See Lifestyle Wednesday

"I think we portray American college liferealistically. We have faith that you are responsible people."

Michael Jeffries, CEO of Abercrombie and Fitch

Photo lllustration by ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange

Abercrombie CEO discusses "building a brand."

BY DANIELLE KOST Staff Writer

Mix one part sex appeal with two parts status. Add beautiful people in cargo pants who have money to blow

It's the Abercrombie and Fitch profit potion - made especially for college students.

Whether it's the aura of status or nude phoographs in a catalog, it into sales. As chief executive officer of Abercrombie and Fitch, he re-centered the company's focus and resurrected its image of prestige.

Jeffries will reveal his branding strategy as part of the Genet Lecture Series through the College for Human Development at $3: 30$ p.m Thursday in 108 Stocum Hall at Syracuse University. The essence of the company's financial boom rests in knowing its customers, Jeffries said.
"We've built a business that is totally focused on this andience," said Jeffries from his Reynoldsburg, Ohio office, where the company is

See ABERCROMBIE page 10

Freak offers indoor fun for cold weather

So, you're already bitching like a baby cause there's nothing to do and you're going to be stuck in the dorms for yet another to be stuck in

Hey, you did it to yourself by choosing Syracuse, so don't whine!

You're going to need
Pete some help from a certifi-
Pete able media freak to get Beisser through the next few days media sitting around this exciting freak yompus. What else have into playing "hide the banana" or "ookie cookie" or don't happen to be one of the 59 percent of SU students that have 0 to 4 drinks when they party or - my God! - don't like college hoops? You'd probably sit and drool on yourself waiting for Spring Break.

Here's a list of new entertainment items encompassing a variety of media, from movies to Web sites, that I feel are decent enough for you all to check out while you're dreaming of real meat and taking baths.

The Sims - available now at stores Instead of designing a virtual city and watching its progress unfold on your computer screen, the developers of those wacky Sim PC games have gone one step beyond. Now with The Sims, computer gamers have the chance to create a virtual family. You help influence every aspect of their lives from what they look like and how they act to where they work and who they're friends with. It's a sick cyber voyeurism that creates a God-like complex in its users, but it looks like a hell of a fun waste of time.
"The Beach" - opens Friday at a heater near you

Beautiful sandy locales off Southeast

Asia, a wickedly scrumptious French beauty in a teeny bikini and that guy from that boat flick - you'll find it all in "The Beach." Director Danny Boyle ("Trainspotting") helms Leo DiCaprio's much anticipated fol low up to "Titanic." The movie is based on Alex Garland's novel about Westerners who find a lot more than paradise on the secret island of their dreams. Dark and exotic, this might not be what all those 13-year-old girls were expecting, but it should be great entertainment for us. With a bunch of beautiful, half-naked people on a tropical waterfront and a great crew handling the pic, it all adds up to be a film perfectly suited for this blustery time of year.

The NBA All-Star Game - Sunday 6:30 p.m. on NBC

Without the joy of the NFL, Sundays aren't even worth waking up for anymore

See FREAK page 10

FREAK

continued from page 9
But thanks to the good folks who play professional basket ball, we'll settle for the 49th annual NBA All-Star Game and get out of bed.

There should be lots of fun this year, with Eastern Conference starters Vince Carter, Allen Iverson, Grant, Mourning going and Alonzo Wourning going against the Western line-up of Shaq, Kavin Garnett, Tim Duncan, Jason Kidd and Kobe Bryant. Plus, this year, the slam-dun contest is back to delight us fans. Sweet!
"Blue Streak" - available on tape Tuesday All "Blue Streak" consists of is comedian Martin Lawrence trying to do the whole "Beverly Hills Cop" be nominated for any awards? I don't think so, but it's worth renting for the multiple laughs it'll puli out of you Despite the idiotic premise that Lawrence is a burglar pretending to be a cop in order to get back a diamond that he stashed in what is now a new police station, "Blue Streak" ain't half bad. If anything, will make you remember why you miss "Martin," Lawrence's popular Fox comedy show, so much.

Bubble Wrap and Bell Labs Text to Speech Synthesis Www.urban75.com/Mag/bub blehtml & www.bell-labs.com/project/tts/voic-
The
The Bubble Wrap is a vir tual version of that timeless amusing bubble popping that thing fragile and get your thing fragile and get your your mouse over the bubbles and they will pop, making that wonderful noise that w crave. What constructive end will this meet for you? To tell you the truth, it won't do anything for you, but it's amusing.

Bell Labs has one of the most interesting web gadgets, too. Whatever you type into the text box is converted to sound in eight different voices, including Child, Coffee Drinker and Big Man. Amuse yourself, your friends or people you don't even know on the phone with these ridiculous computer voices.

Pete Beisser is a freshman magazine and political science major. E-mail him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.

ABERCROMBIE
continued from page 9
headquartered
The college crowd wasn't always central to A&F, Jeffries said. Though A&F has years it targeted an older, up per-class market.

When Jeffries joined A&F as president in 1992 , the company was floundering. It needpany was audience to revitalize sales: the American college student. With focused advertising strategies directed at 18 to 23-year-olds, A&F secured more than $$ 800,000,000$ in sales during 1998. Last year, it was named as a Top 100 company in Advertising Age magazine.

Following the trends are about 400 recent college gradu ates who work at the compa ny's headquarters. Abercrom bie and Fitch specifically re cruits fresh minds to stay in tune with youth culture.
brand," Jeffries said to this But it

But it was a delivery wrought with complications.
Legal wrangles
Last fall, A&F allegedly withheld financial information from investors for five days, sparking 11 class action suits and a doubletake from the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But A&F is best known for its magazine/catalog, A&F Quarterly. The publication has been criticized for showing semi-nude models and printing alcoholic drink recipes. It more than 200000 . Thon of shrink-wrapped and designed for an R -rated and designed for an R-rated audience, the magazine has inspired boy Against Drunk Driving and Against Drunk Driving and Undaunted by the attacks Jeffries writes off the criticism because it is not from their buyers, he said. tray American por ege life realistical ly,"Jeffries said. "We have faith that you are responsible people."

National retailers, Iike Abercrombie and Fitch, aim to sell more than sweaters. Through slick adverising and maybe a hit pop song, they promote a lifestyle based on their prod uct, said Amy Falkn er, assistant profes sor of advertising, who teaches a course in retail advertising.
"If you looked at numbers only, they aresuccessful, Falkner said. "From a social responsibility standpoint some high school parents vould say no."

But this is not the first time sexual innuendo has hocked consumers

Elvis shook his hips. Abercrombie and Fitch shows porn stars," she said. "As the ears go by, things become more and more sexual."

With controversy comes hype and curiosity - perhaps fueling profits, Falkner said.
"Fve seen the catalog," she said. "I don't know what a nude woman sitting on a horse bareback has to do with selling T-shirts."

Jeffries' focus comes perhaps from a lifetime in retail. Growing up, Jeffries worked in his family's chain of party supply stores. After attending Columbia University he jumped into clothing.
"I'm the oldest living retailer, I think," said Jeffries, 55 , who now gets inspiration from his son, a college freshman.
his With a CEO as a father, his son doesn't not have to pair of shorts. But these sky-co
Michael Jetfries, CEO of Abercrombie and Fitch will speak at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in 108 Slo Hall. The speech is free and open to the public.
igh price tags are what makes A&F an aspirational brand, Jeffries said.
"There's a status appeal - no question, said Amanda Nicholson, director of Sus retailing pro gram. She compared der s prominent lo sos printed on its ching to the Guccs craze in the 1980 s , n't mind paying a lit tle extra for the Gucci symbol. paying think you're paying a premium for the name," she said.

Name recognition is the precise reason why Jason Hansen, a senior internation al relations major, avoids the brand.
"I don't buy it because they charge five dollars extra because they put their name on it," he said.

Nearing a billion dollars in sales, though, A&F can't be totally off.

Ray Capone, a junior phi losophy and sociology major is a loyal and Fth. He, buying the brand. Capone said. "I wear it all the time."

Though Capone conceded that the price was a little high, he feels that it is worth it, since

Quality fabrics and well. made clothes aren't enough to made clothes aren't enough to wenior fashion design major Gina Calderone "A $$ 20$ shirt $$ 40$ because it says Abercrom bie and Fitch, ${ }^{m}$ she said.

Though A&F takes pride in its narrow age range, can appeal to a broader audi ence, like The Gap.
"But for what he's target ing, I guess it's working."

 3 Days Only
Fri, Sat, Sun: Feb. 11-13 11 am start Huge Clearance - Winter & Spring Clothing Brand New & Vintage from gowns to casual clearout!

What Kind of "Impression" Are You Gonna Make at Spring Break?

ASK ABOUT OUR STUDENT SPECIAL

UNIVERSITY
CNY Medical Ctr. Suite 340 739 Irving Avenue Syracuse

470-5854

downtown

205 S. Salina St/ 426-8917

FIND OUT WHAT A PERSONAL TRAINER GAN DO FOR YOU!

MENTION THIS AD FOR A FREE
CONSULTATION. INCL UDING BODY FAT ANALYSIS. WITH THE PURCHASE OF 10 SESSIONS OR MORE

Yon need a roll-on with $m$ 2308ting un prothestrion. -aluays use latex condangs For a free, full-color poster (18" $\times 24 \%$. write: AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000 Albany, N.Y. 12220 N.Y.S. Health Department

NEVEKLOVSKA

continued from page 16

Shareen Lai, to injury does not bother her either.

And Neveklovska certainly does not chomp her nails over the pressure of playing in two championship matches.

The pressure never fazed Neveklovika in Ithaca last week, as the Syracuse junior led the Orangewomen to three titles at the Cornell University Winter Indoor Classic on Jan. 30.

Neveklovska won the Flight $B$ singles and doubles titles at the weekend event.
"Ihad a good tomrnament," Neveklovska said. "It was an improvement from the first week. I was making my shots and moving my feet. After the second set, I picked myself upagain and managed to pull it off.

Neveklovska needed three sets to beat Rebecca Ho of Penn State.

She defeated Ho 6-2 in the first set. While trying to put Ho away, Neveklovsha let down and dropped the second set 6-2. She came back to beat top-ranked Ho in the third set with a 6-1 win.

Michelle cleaned up," SU head coach Mac Gifford said. In the championship, she played well in the first set. She had to come on and take charge in the third set. That is her trademark."

Gifford said playing a higher seed did not take Nevekiovska out of her rhythm.

Like Neveklovska who hails from Vancouver, Ho is a Canadian, which proved to be a motivating factor.

Michelle has this way about Canadians," Gifford said. "She beats them all. She has this attitude. She's not even worried."

Neveklouska and Ho faced each other four years ago while in high school. The SU junior defeated Ho then, too, triumphing in a three-set match.

You get to know the player while growing up, Neveklovska said. "It's easier in a match knowing your opponent."

Neveklovska earned a second title for the Orangewomen over the weekend as she combined with freshman Masha Kabanova to win the Fight B Doubles.

Neveklovska and KabanoVa, pasted Columbia Universiva pasted Columbia UniversiMital $8-4$ in the champi onship, a round after upending Cornell's Jodie Hurley and Daniela Delprete $9 \sim 7$. The Orangewor ved their third title of reweekend from title of the Shervin Saedinia, who won the Flight $D$ singles. Saedinia dropped Dana Reinitz of Penn State 6-1, 6-2.

Gifford said Saedinia is playiag her best tennis of the season and is making a rur at the higher-seeded players on the SU squad.
"She"s more confident and is starting to show the rest of her game," Gifford said. "I'm going to be looking for it.

Others on the tesm are not looking forward to playing her. They feel she might replace them in the seeds."

Syracuse's No. 1 singles player for the weekend, Anna Khvalina, lost to Pean State's Pilar Montgomery 1-6, 6-4,63 in the finals of the Flight A Singles bracket.

Gifford still deemed the tournament a success, even without the services of Lai The senior co-captain pulled out of the tournament with a sore shoulder, Gifford said.

A week of rest should be enough for Lai, as the Or angewomen host Cornell in a dual match Wednesday at Drumlins Country Club. The Orangewomen should face many of the same players they did last weekend.

Cornell's recent success against Syracuse has been minimal. The Orangewomen downed the Big Red 6-3 last seasonin lthaca.
"They could be charged up," Gifford said. "They don"t like us. We beat them badly last year.

Cornell will be the next test in a tough winter sched ule. The Orangewomen have three consecutive home matches with Cornell, St. Bonaventure and Rutgers Lefore facing a tough Rice University squad at Ithaca on Feb. 19.
of SU. "They have confi"I know this team can be very good, Gifford said dence and a lot of tricks. Individually. they've upset a lot of people. Now, we have to do it as a team."

THE SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY INVESTMENT CLUB www, som, syr.edu/somz/invest

- In fall 1998 our portfolion was at $$ 35,000$... now we're over $$ 110,000$ ! (Real Money)
Over the life of the club, we have delivered $100 \%$ retum year after year.
- Hey, we are beating the pros at their own ganne?

We are sponsored by Steve McCleltan, Fifst V.P. Mcrill Lyncis.

- Learn how to trade stocks, be suecessitil and boost up your resume.
- Learn how to trade stocks, be surcestist the New York Stock Exchange (trading floor!) every seinester
- Visil ip Morgan. Merrill tyneh and ofier institutions for one-day seminar, networking and recrutting.
- Et Cetera

School of Namaremenn Rini. 323 א:()0 p.in. Feb 9, 2000

 [Free Drinks and foud)
STUDYINLONDON!

Dipa Info Meeting Tuesday!

February 8th
4:00 PM AT
SCHINE RM. 302

FOR MORE INFORMATION
PLEASE CONTACT DIPA AT
443-3471 OR
SUABROAD@SUMMON3.SYR.EDU

Got thoughts?

Tell us ...

and all of Syracuse University.

The Daily Orange is in search of some regular editorial columnists for the second semester - brilliant intellectuals, rowdy troublemakers and the common man and/or woman are all welcome. Please submit two 300-word sample columns to incoming Editorial Editor Holly Auer by Thursday at the D.O., 744 Ostrom Ave. Questions? Call 443-2128.

BUS
continued from page 16
selves."
Syracuse and Columbia traveled back to SU for a night date after both lost in Ithaca.

At Manley Field house, the Orangeman's struggles continued, as they managed to tally justa single win on the day. SU captain Shawn Thomas pinned Columbia's Jeff Anderson at 4:10.

The Lions diefeated Syracuse 43-6 in front of 54 patrons, most of whom cheered for Baldwinsville native Mark Prince, who pinned SU's Kalen Pascal in 2:35.

The battered Wennihan.

The Daily Orange
meanwhile, lost a physical 5* 3 match to Columbia's Pat Kuznia, which featured mul tiple stoppages to clean up both wrestlers' blood. Wennihan had cuts on his back, while his opponent had fre quent nosebleeds.

I would have liked to have that one back," a visibly dejected Wennihan said. 1 wanted to win coming back (from the injured knee). My shape was better than 1 ex. pected, but it doesn't matter Won't win.
Wennihan held a 2-0 lead over Kuznia, when he made a fatal error. Shortly after Kuznia cut his dericit in half, gave Kuzria an extra shove after the whistle blew. The extra point gave Kuznia the momentum he needed to win
With Wennihan in a onepoint hole and 1.5 seconds left on the clock, Kuznia made an escape for a 5-3 lead. He wresled defensively for the last 15 seconds to secure the victory. "I thought that (Wennihan) did a very nice job on cop," Miller said. "He has to be a little more controlled. Take a look at that match he loses by a point, and that's a penalty point. Youcan't give away points or it'll come Miller said you.
Miller said he fels uncomfortable letting Wennihan compete in two matches, so the junior only wrestled in SU's home meet. He should be ready to wrestle in all three dual meets next weekend, Miller said.

Thomas continues to be the nightlight in SU's nightmare season. After dropping a 6-2 decision at Cornell, he pinned Anderson for his 20th pin of the year in 22 wins.

As usual, I'm disappointed with the team," Thomas said, "but it's almost as if I'm getting used to it and expect it. It's not fair to expect too much more from these guys and what they're able to give. I say that's the struggle for me, so inave to ind my own focus to continue."

Along with lopsided scores, SU wrestlinghas also become all too familiar with forfeits. The Orangemen gave up three forfeits in each match, putting them in an $18-0$ hole before the first competition.

Syracuse's Manley appearance marked its second home meet of the seasan and first since a November 23 loss to Binghamton. The Orangemen head back to the road this weekend, facing Rutgers, Franklin & Marshall and Coppin State in dual meets at RU.
"We just have to take the steps necessary to where we are scoring points, Miller problem We just ean'tgest

365 Whate of Massage  ETGEiffin Nolan, LMT   475-9164  She

The Daily Orange
Classified Advertising
The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

Area 52
by Sam Baker

Never Odd or Even

Oh My Gawd

by Tim Dose

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

by Jeff Feligno
by

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

| it's ho peless. the only women who like me are warse off than myself. im a magnetfor the mors oflyodese ang shut-ins. you know $V T$ p people who - ofant leave their homes ase to $\therefore$ distic $\square$动 47 |
| :---: |

| and when i do |
| :---: |
| meet a nice |
| girl, they wont |
| return any of |
| my phonecalls |$|$

| CROSSWORD by THOMAS JOSEPH |  | STUIMIP | AIAINIC:H |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |
|  |  | by THOMAS JOSEPH |
| ACROSS  1 Florida team | DOWN |  | E!CIH:O |  |
|  | 1 Type of | BiUDIDIHILSIM |  |
|  | reaction | A'RA! ${ }^{\text {a }}$ | SISTINIGS |
|  |  | RIA!DIA:H | EXII:LE |
| 7 Heming* | 2 Fire | STLO!GAA: | N:ELLEE |
| way nickname | 3 Golf need | A.SIKINOTEIEP |  |
| 11 Depleted |  | A+C: | LTATN. |
| 12 Sighed | finger" baddie | COOREEIS | DUCA AT |
| S |  | H:A:I:Til |  |
| cry |  | ELL.MAAN |  |
| Under the | 5 Whirl | Yesterday's Answer | AISIPIEN  's Answer |
| Boardwalk' | 7 Best | 20 breaker | 29 Trio |
| singers |  |  | doubled |
| 15 Actress | 1970 | 21 athernative | 31 River craft |
| Leigh | 8 Heady |  | 33 Barts |
| 16 Chilted | brew | bark | sister |
| 18 Hay's | 9 Golf goal 10 Donkey | 22 Game | 34 Road goo |
| place |  |  |  |
| 21 Swift | 14 Oscar's roommate | Cube 23 Mighty | tool 36 Finish |
| horse |  | 23 Mighty |  |
| 22 Moolah | 16 Vinegar bottle  17 Western | 25 Philadel- | 37 Blunde |
| 24 Dull routine 25 Mend |  |  | 38 Old auto |
|  |  | player | 39 Mayday |
|  | 19 Law | 28 River craft |  |
| 26 Actress Thompson |  | 15 | $\left.]^{8}\right]^{9}$ |
| 27 Weak | 11 | 12 |  |
| 29 Enjoy the tub | 13 |  |  |
| 30 Waiter's | 15 |  | ¢ $\because \%$ |
| aid |  |  |  |
| 31 Budget | 176 | $\because{ }^{18}$ | 1980 |
| item |  |  | 123 |
| 32 Take it | 21 |  |  |
| easy | 24 | 25 | $11$ |
| 341990 |  |  |  |
| Anjelica | 27 \| 29 | 31 |  |
| Huston | $\because \quad 30$ |  | $\because \quad \because$ |
| 40 Top-noteh | $34-35$ | 133 |  |
| 41 Sound |  |  | $\square \because \because$ |
| system | $34 \quad 35 \quad 36$ |  | ${ }^{37}{ }^{38}{ }^{38}$ |
| 42 Cincinnati | 40 |  |  |
| 43 Houston | 42 |  |  |
| tearn |  |  |  |

Get ‘Cuse To Rabbi by Damon simendolara

Soap Box Cooze
by Mike Sedelmeyer

NOTICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315－443－9793 $$ 3.50$ for the first 15 words $10 ¢$ each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE \＆are Pre－paid by： Cash，Check，Master Card，visa or inscover
Deadine： 2 pm 2 business days prior to fun Deadine：2pm 2 business days priont I！ Ads can be mailed with check 10 ： The Daily Orange： 744 Ostrom Avenue：
Syracuse NY 132 in：Att：Classifieds：

Notices Local interior Design Shop ofters internship to stutentionking tor $\begin{aligned} & \text { cedil．Can Lisa } \\ & \text { a1 } 472 \text {－893 tor imeview．}\end{aligned}$

EMPLOYMENT

Comp Counselors Top Overight Camps in

Job Opportunities
 ath ime weik Call

| Help Wanted |
| :---: |
| Lazyoones inc．looting for partitime＋fulf tirre drivers slarting at \＄8hr．Call 426－9523 |
| $$ 1500$ weekly potential mailing our circulars．No Experience Required．Free inlormalion packet．Call 202－452－7879． |
| Roommates |
| Roommate wanted to share 3 large bedroom spatment close to campus parking fireplact Jaundry 487－5761 |
| 2 Guys in their $40^{\circ}$ s seek housemate for greal Groad SL．Apl．lireplage，harctwood．parchess． s：iorage，quitt， $5250+1 / 3$ utilikies． $425-9235$ ． |
| FOR RENT |

1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000－2001

Completely furnished， parking，laundry， dishwasher，fireplaces， near University on Euclid， and Walnut Avenue Responsible Landlord 476－2982

University Constock nice lurnished quiet craan 2 －3 bedroom apatments parking uititities inctuded reasonable others 478－2642
Apartments close to campus elean 2－3－5 bedrooms some with fireplice laundry parking ， 1－2－3 Bedroom Apartments，Beautidut，Spacious， Oltstrect Parking．Fully Furnished．Low Utilities Sate，Oulet．Close 476－0295
Ackerman Beautitul Largo Furcished Flat： Houses．2，3，4．5．6 Bedroams．Porches．
Fireplaces，Garages，Laundry．Pet OK $446-3420$

```
Stop clean 3 bedroon, apartments Firepiace, parking, laundry,
```

4Bedtooms，Oakianosi．，1Block ESF，3Blocks Law＋Hosp，tis，furrished，parking，laundry，

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

621 Euclid Ave

917 Ackerman Ave
$$ 15$ Fedieid Place
1011 E．Adarns St
Available for 2000－2001 ully Furnished，Laundy Maintenance and Management， Wall to Wall Carpet and／or Refinished Hardwood Floors Femodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E．Adams St \＃30 $479-5005$
www．universityarea．com

Ackerman Ave．2，3，4．5．7 bedroon apls．Furnished． carpeled，watk to campus．Well maistoined 5000－5／0i lease $446-7202$

ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS，FUUNISHED DISHWASHER．
PAFIKING $$ 175$ PER MONTH 476－9933

| Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center Of New York Chiropractic College |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |
|  | New Location Moving to a larger， state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse commu－ nity |
| Hours  Mon－Fri．  9 a．m．－8 p．m | Student Plan Desality Chiropractic care available for students |
| CHECK US OUT：Tel：442－1100 |  |

| 2，3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS 302 Marshall St 329 Cornstock Ave |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  | $L(.)(.) K$ |
|  | Justor yout |
|  |  |
| versity Area Apts  E．Adams 5. ． 30 |  |
| www．universityarea．com | Apartments |
|  | UNIVERSITY |
| 边 | HILL REALTY |
|  | 422－0709 |
|  |  |
|  | wwwunversitryllicom |
|  | Reto Aom Aap |
|  | 隹 |
| 隹 | 4 |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  | cosm |
|  |  |
| UNIVERSITY | Oin |
| HILL REALTY |  |
| 422－0709 | Your |
| likavilir our | ${ }_{\text {Nical }}$ |
|  |  |
|  | doub |
|  |  |
| 㑑 | $\begin{aligned} & \text { neemb } \\ & \text { Ref } \\ & \hline \end{aligned}$ |
|  |  |

Eeautiful 3 Eedroom Townihouses，Walking distance to Campus． 3 Large Bedroons，lots of Kitchen．Basement with Washer／Dryer hookups． Off Steett Parking wilh
$469-8417$ or $476-9643$

L（．）（．）K

Just for you！ Furnished 3 Bedrooms ingroom，Diningroom Porches，Laundry 55－2175

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS，AND 4，5，6，7 BEDROOM HOUSES．
－＿＿一＿

> One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, quiet buiding, elose to campus. utifities included, $476-2982$
ckerman Avo．nice 3bedroom flar vaii June $151446-4229$

Studio Apartments buginning at $$ 265$ perf furniture．private kfthen and bath， Aurniture．private kithen and bath， microwave，carpeting or oakwood mierongave，carpetio $476-2982$
One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus， utities included．Ozk noors．fire place，turnished

NEW BURY APARTMENTS Great University Area Bealfiful New Appl．（AC，Dishwasher）Heat d Hot Water included．Security Buildings Whintercoms \＆Door
Feleases．Custom Made B linds Choice of Porth or Patio．Off Stre Parking，Laundry，Storage，Centro Bus Line． 24 Hour Maintenance． Starting at \＄550．00．Call 478－0277 Ask for Patricia or Stop by our Office at for Patricia or Stop by our Office a 116 Newbury Hollow Land（Locate 16 Newburf E．Brighten） Also．．．（Great Location）Beautiful
5 BEDFOOM HOUSE， $21 / 2$ baths， 5 BEDROOM HOUSE， 2 1／2 baths， 2 kitchens， 2 livingrooms， 2 diningrooms， 2 fireplaces， 2 car garage，huge yard， washerdryer hook ups，private road oft Layafyerte road $$ 1200.00$

collegehome

three BEDROOMS beautifully FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY
478－7548
ww．collegehome．com

ONE，TWO，THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS．
Westcott Street area Laundry，Parking，Lease Avail June，July＋Aug 445－0540
$1,2,3,4+5$ bedroom aparments Furnished．all wilities included，taundyy，parking．One block trom campus near law school＋ESF．Mzy + August 446－9598．

ONE BEDROOM

 APARTMENT EUCLIDAVE．SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO
PERSONS FREE HEAT，GREAT
LOCATION 476－9933．

| APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2000－20001 RENTALS 1，2，3，4 Bedrocm Apartrients Sumner，Euclid，Ackerman．Excelient Condition，Fumithed，Sompe inciude Utilities．Call 422－013a． |
| :---: |

TOAD HALL

1／2 block from campus．
Modern 2 bedroom apartments．
Wall to wall carpet．
Air conditioned．Dishwasher．
Laundry．Low utilities． Compeitivive rents． 302 Marshall St （acarosstrom Haven）． winumiviva Alyazation 479－5005

One and 7 wo Badroom

 Lzundry，Carpal．Haxtron

Fumingod 2－5Bedrcom Houspas Aparimens
Livington，Surnor，Actermam，Eucild 485－6665

The Daily Orange

We talked about not giving hem an offensive rebound At that point, you just have to lay and live and die with who you are."

The Pirates derive a reat deal of their identity from the play of senior point guard Shaheen Holloway The 5 -foot-I0 veteran abused Syracuse, tallying 12 points, 11 rebounds and nine assists.

Amaker said his point guard's penetration helped open up Lane and the Pirates bombadiers. The Hall drained 12 of 28 threes, including six rom the sophomore marks man and two apiece from Hol oway, Kaukenas and Ty Shine.

In addition, Seton Hall's opening five field goals of the second half came from down town.
"I think we fought until the end," Holloway said. "Every body contributed, and we came away with the victory.
Syracuse, conversely, suf fered its first setback since the first round of last March' NCAA Tournament Thomas paced the Orangemen with 15 paced the Orangemen with is Gart led the Orangemen with 14 points.

The remaining three tarters - Blackwell, Damone Brown and Tony Bland - combined for seven point on 1 -for- 15 shooting.

A quartet of SU reserves aved the stumbling starters ed by Shumpert, DeShaun Whinms and Kueth Duany The SU bench combined to core 33 points, grab eight rebounds and hand out six assists.
he was encouraged with (Duany) came of the bench and played tonight," Boeheim said
"Allen did well and Preston was there also."

Much like its past two outings against St. John's started in sluggish fashion $S U$ scored just nine points in the game's first eight minutes, missing 10 of 13 field soals.

Sparked by 14 points fom Kaukenas, the Hall took its largest lead at 35-24 With rert in the first hall G-love red the stanza wa mone Brown 3-point play with a second left.

The Orangemen hung close throughout the game's first 25 minutes, but the Hall answered every SU attack with a 3 -point counterpunch. The Orangemen finally busted the seal with 12:08 left, as a Shumpert layup put them up 44-43.

February 8, 2000
The Pirates reset their lead to nine points, but SU chipped back, and DeShaun Williams' three with 1:58 left sliced the margin to a point.

The squads traded buck ets, and after a Shaheen Hol loway brick from the charity throws to give SU its last lead at 67-66 with 1:07 left.

With the 23,735 at the Dome on their feet, Seton Hall wound the shot clock down in search of an open shot. Holloway penetrated SU's 2-3 zone and kicked the ball to Lane, who knocked at least a yard behind the arc.
"We were happy to get the win, Lane said. W knew they were a very good eam, but if we came in her and worked hard, we would get the win.

STARTERS

continued from page 16
combined for 34 points.
Hart scored a sloppy 14 , anning just 1 of 4 point land. Etan fhomas nd 13 Demond and scored 13 . Damone , in the sect the game y in the second half with a bruised right thigh, played 15 minut Sp.

Spelling the sputtering tarters was SU's deep bench, which uccess ive minutes into the second half, with the Orangemen having scored just seven points, the bench brigade enered the game.

Trailing 43-37, SU ratled off a 7-0 run capped by a Preston Shumpert layup to give the team its first lead ince 2-0

Shaheen Holloway's
triple from the left corner helped the Pirates regain the ead at 46-44.

But Shumpert, who cored eight consecutive points for the Orange, drew a oul on Rimas Kaukenas while hitting a layup. He knocked down the free throw with 11:36 remaining and put SU up 47-46.
"If guys are having a bad night," Shumpert said, "it's the bench's) job to come up big scoring, and we did

The Orangemen's peak performances came with the unlikely lineup of four bench unikely ineup of four bench Griffin, Kueth Duany and DeShaun Williams - and Thomas
"Q (Duany) and Allen, I thought they both played well. And certainly Preston well." Boeheim said. "But we need to utilize those guys as we go down the stretch, and we need to get a couple of guys playing better.

Bland and Blackwell's hooting slumps have ren ered them non-factors re cently in the Orange offense.

The sophomore shooting guard has done everything but shoot well the past few games.

In a sloppy win against Povidence on Saturday Bland hit just 1 of 10 shots.

The previous game against St. John's he went 3 . for-7, including 0 -for-3 from 3 -point range.
"It's all mental," Bland said. "I'm so anxious, and when I'm not able to get that first one in, I can't relax.

Like Bland, Blackwell cannot seem to find any rhythm.

After exploding for 18 points against Connecticut two weeks ago, he scored sevthree games

On Monday, Blackwell mustered two late-game free throws - which gave $S U$ a 67-66 lead - as his only points.

After SHU's Darius Lane bombed his game-winning trey with 39 seconds remaining, Blackwell's drive and bank fell short.
attributes Blackwell's lack of success to the after-effects of a flu bug suffered 10 days back.
"He's an enerEy player," Boeheim said. "He's got to have his legs, and he hasn't been as active as he was earlier in the year."

The lanky Duany played 20 minutes and spelled Blackwell for a majority of his time on the bench.

Showing an athletic flair, uany made several strong points Blackwell found the Bloomington, Ind., native sneaking behind the hoop, and Duany's layup with $7: 43$ eft to within 22-19.
But the Pirates stretched their lead to 29-22, and led t hallime 35-30

The Orange trailed by as nany as nine late in the Fame, but fought back with

He stole the helm
He stole the ball from Ty for a tough layup on SUs or a tough layup. Wilsu faced up with Kaukenas and popped a three in the senior's pappe.

Still, SU could not come back from the deficit created by the starters' play Williams said.

The starters have got to do other things to make the team win," he said. "If you're no shooting well, you've got things. We didn't do the little things.

[C1assifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

| COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS  2 blocks from campus.  Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Lowest rents formorms. new construction. www.universityarea.com low utilities.  University Area Apts. | * | Untruersity 2 A 3 Bedroons Townilouses \& Flats inexpensive and mint condition. Washer/Drye Fireplace, linished basement Call $449-4109$ $\qquad$ |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | oom Apts. close | FOUR BEDROOM |
|  | ampus. Laundry, | nished, Dishwash |
|  | arking, Lease, | Two Porch |
|  |  | ry, Carpe |
|  | 40-6200 |  |
|  | 437-7577 | 476-2982 |
|  | Best Bury on HarrisonSt Clean Quiet  One-betroom and studio June tease. Furnished  sinduce 472.5908 | Houses |
|  |  |  |
| www.universityarea.com |  | oft street paxking starining exsus porson  (t)446-3693 |
| SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS |  | UNIVERSITY |
| 604 Walnut Ave.  2,3, AND 4, 5 Bedroom Apartments. | 2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom. 105 Euclid Terrece Large Foorns Hardwood Floors Avai June or Aug 446-5186 | HILL REALTY |
|  | 501 EUCLLID STUDIO APT | 422-0709 |
| Uilities included. Fully fumished. Rents start at $275. Reffinushed hardwood floors. Wall to wall carpet Flats. Towrhouses. Remodeled kitchens and batts. Distwashers. Porches. Laundry.  www.universityarea.com:  University Area Apts  479-5005 |  |  |
|  |  | LEASEVISIT OUR |
|  |  |  |
|  |  | Dhoom houses. |
|  | Nospiats. Fumishod. All ulilitios paid. 47.5908 |  |

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED 476-9933

Charming Engtish Judor House on Comstock 6 Avail 5/20 475-1012, ( 843 )514-3881
Now Fienting For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroon house on E. Adzms $L. Newhy remodeted Bathrooms and room and Bar. Grear Location! Call 637.5779 .

| 2000/2001  Loveiy Furnished 5-Bedroom Howse. Firepiace Free Laundry Hardwood Fioors  2-Porches 533 M hedroarn Also 4-Eedroom House $$ 255$ Bedroom 446-7611 |
| :---: |
|  |  |

Clarendon SL. 4-bedroom, Iree washer, diryer, ofl-street parking, available $5115 /$ Call $499-3199$ Large Single Farnity furnished house. Parking, Lireplace, free laundry, dishwasher, mature tenant 682.3304

GREAT HOUSES,
GREAT LOCATON
B00 BLOCK OSTROM 5 BEDROOMS
OFF STREET PARKNG, FIREPLACE LAUNDRY DISHWASHER HARDWOOD
CALL BRAD 424-0219/ 423-9142

SUBLET
Spring 2000 need fernale subletter, apartment furnished, ciose to earnous 6 (6077786-0675

SERVICES

Travel

CANCUN SPRING BREAK From 5399 Induces 14 FREE meals. 23 Hours of Free Drinks. We Are Play Whit, You Pay! 5 Mont Payment Pian
Availablen! Ask How! $800-395-4896$

Spring Break Specials! Qahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nights $5279!$ Inctudes Meals! Awesorne Baaches, Foom With Kitchen Next To Clubs, 7 Parties 8 Free Drinks $$ 129$ ! Daytona Room With Kitchen $$ 149!$ South Beach (Bars Open Unta 5 mm ) $$ 159$ ! springtreaktravel.com 1-800-678-6386

MISC.
NOTE FROM THE DAILY OFAANGE:As aiways, please use caution when replying or being replied from any adverisement in each being repied Throm ary adverisement in each issue, tor Taily Orange does not take tesporsibibity for ary misconduct resulting

NOTES

Men's Basketball
Seton Hall 69
Orangemen (19-1, 9.1) Player
Blackw
Thomas
Bland
Hart Shumpert Griffin Duany

Pirates (16-4, 8-2) Player
Morton
Dalembert Holloway Kaukenas
Lane
Shine
Harris
Wilkins
Big East
Results Monday
Miam
Georgetown 55

Standings

Syracuse Seton Hall Miami St. John's Connecticut Notre Dame West Virginia Rutgers Villanova
Georgetown
Pittsburgh
9-1 19-1
$\begin{array}{lll} & \text { Boston College } 1.8 & 10-13\end{array}$ Providence $1.8 \quad 8.14$

AP Top 25

| 1. Cincinnati (63) | $22-1$ |
| :--- | :--- |
| 2. Stanford (4) | $19-1$ |
| 3. Duke (1) | $18-2$ |
| 4. Syracuse (2) | $19-1$ |
| 5. Ohio St. | $16-3$ |
| 6. Michigan St. | $17-5$ |
| 7. Arizona | $19-4$ |
| 8. Tennessee | $19-3$ |
| 9. Auburn | $19-3$ |
| 10. Indiana | $17-3$ |
| 11. Kentucky | $17-5$ |
| 12. Forida | $17-4$ |
| 13. Connecticut | $16-5$ |
| 14. Oklahoma St. | $19-2$ |
| 15. Tulsa | $22-2$ |
| 16. Ollahoma | $18-3$ |
| 17. lowa St. | $19-3$ |
| 18. Temple | $15-6$ |
| 19. Texas | $16-4$ |
| 20. Kansas | $17-5$ |
| 21. Utah | $17-4$ |
| 22. Vanderbilt | $15-4$ |
| 23. Maryland | $16-6$ |
| 24. Oregon | $16-4$ |
| 25. Lsu | $17-4$ |

sports trivia

Q. When was the tast time Syracuse beat Seton Hall in the Carrier Dome?

Thursday's trivia:

Q. Who ranks ahead of Karl Malone on the all time NBA scoring list? A. Wilt Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 8, 200016

Danius Lane skes over SU's Etan Thomas in the second half of Monday night's contest at the Carrier Dome. Lane, a sophomore, finished with 20 points, including six 3 -pointors.

Pirates upend SU

SHU hands Orangemen first loss of the season

BY DAVE CURTIS
Sports Editor
The run that arrested the imaginations of thousands of Central New Yorkers con cluded Monday night among a myriad of wayward layups and errant 3 -pointers.

A gritty Seton Hall squad outshot the Syracuse Orangemen and halted SU's 19. game, season-opening winning parade with a 69-67 triumph at the Carrier Dome

The streak-stopping hoop came on a long-distance bomb from SHU guard Darius Lane. His sixth triple and the Pirates' 12th of the night put them ahead by a deuce with 39 seconds remaining.

No. 4 SU took five cracks, four from within the painted area, at tying or winning the battle after Lane's backbreaking bas ket. But each time, the Orangemen (19-1, 9 1 Big East) scrambled after a rebound in tead of celebrating a score.

Syracuse made just 2 of 13 treys on the evening and shot a mediocre 37 percent from the field. Seton Hall (16-4, 8-2), meanwhile canned a dozen 3-pointers, several of which suffocated SU rallies
"When you play in a game like this, one that comes right down to the wire, you just have to make shots," head coach Jim Boeheim said. "When you're playing a team hat's making shots, you have to make some long the way.

After Lane's go-ahead three, Syracuse ton Shumpert open in the left corner. The ton Shumpert open in the left corner. The and Ryan Blackwell and Etan Thomas each missed point-blank putback attempts.

Lane corralled the rebound and was
See Loss page 15

Starters slowed in loss

BY IEFF PASSAN
Asst. Sports Editor
As the clock hit triple-zero and the Seton Hall Pirates whooped it up in the epicenter of the Carrier Dome, a dejected Ryan Blackwell sulked off the court.

Less than 10 seconds earlier, With SHU leading 69-67, an open lane on the right wing greeted Syracuse's senior forward.

Blackwell, 0 -for-6 at that point filled that lane with two strong dribbles and lofted up an off-balance bank shot.
A rim rattle later, his line read 0 for-7, and SU's season line read 19-1.

Blackwell's night epitomized the Orangemen starters' struggles, as SU suffered its first setback of the season on Monday night.

The goose egg put up by Blackmer.
Other notables - Tony Bland's 0 -for-3 shooting and zero points, and Jason Hart's zero assists (with four turnovers).
"We're just in a slump," Bland said. "Good players go through slumps, and unfortunately, it was more than one player tonight.

The starters shot a combined 7 of 32 (22 percent) from the field. They See STARTERS page 15

Shaheen Holloway dribbles past SU gurard Tony Eland.

Syracuse wrestlers drop two more

Staff Writer
Everything beat up the Syracuse wrestling team on Saturday - Cornell, Colum bia and the bus.

Continuing its fall into The Abyss, the SU wrestlers dropped lopsided decisions to Cornell and Columbia

But the misery continued ofr the Cornell SU's bus river accidentally opened the cargo hold door into Ike Wennifinn's forehead.

Wennihan still wrestled returning for his first match following a knee injury, de pite needing three stitches above his left eyebrow to mend the bleeding. He has een out since the Penn State Open two months ago.

After Wennihan's latest injury, the Orange suffered their second consecutive shutout, 43-0 to Cornell. SU (0-7, 0-5 EIWA) and crushed Columbia 30-6 in Ithaca.
"Cornell is one of the top teamsin the country, and our talent is nowhere near their talent level." head coach Scott Miller said. "We did some things better, like better movement. But the final scores speak for them

See BUS page 12

Orangewomen win three titles
BY KEVIN LEITZELL
Staff Writer
Michelle Neveklovska does not worry about much on the tennis court.
not frracuses No. 2 player does seed.
The loss of her teammate and the team's senior captain.

See NEVEKLOVSKA page 11

- Police Reports:

Senior reports lewd behavior

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
A Syracuse University senior filed a harassment complaint Tuesday with the Syracusse Police Department against former music industry professor Jay Flemma for repeated lewdness in unwanted e-rnails and phone calls, according to a police report.

Flemma was removed from his position Jan. 13 due to related complaints from at least five unidentified SU students, the report said.

The senior, a student in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, said Flemma repeatedly harassed her since early October, the report said. She notified the university of the situation and requested that they investigate the case against Flemma, the report said.
cials $n$ response to the complaints, SU offisenior, the report said
"We interviewed individuals from the class and others who attested to Flemma's area of expertise," said Donald Lantzy, VPA dean. "We came to a decision that was very well informed.

According to SU's policy on sexual harassment prevention and procedures, complaints against faculty, administrators and staff with instructional responsibilities will be referred to the chairperson of a University Senate committee. The committee will then appoint a two-person investigative team from a pool of faculty and administrators trained for this duty.

Because his university contract expired, See HARASSMENT page 3

Knight moves

Jufien Renaud, a senior advertising major and Swizarfand native, comtamplates a chess move Tuesday nieht at No Eorders, No Boundaries, 171 Marshall St

SU campus

 anticipates Clinton's visit
Staff Reports

First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton brings her campaign to Syracuse University today after officially announcing her bid for a seat in the U.S. Senate Sunday at the State University of New York at Purchase.
"It was a lot of good press," said SUC College Democrats member-Scott Lipton regarding the announcement. "It was a big event, a big name. For the First Lady to make a candidacy announcement at their large event a Lipton, junior politi-cinton
 and policy studies major, said he was chosen by Collor, said mocrats President Chege De. Hinchey and Vice President Anthony Quinn to introduce Clinton during today's speech noon in Goldstein Auditorium.
"I feelvery honored and very excited about doingit," Lipton said.

Clinton is expected to speak about her ideas for improvements to the New York state educational system. She is a staunch opponent of school vouchers, which help pubic school students to attend private schools. She also advocates higher standards for public school students and employees. In addition, Clinton calls for nation. wide support of education funding to allow schools to form student programs and scholarships. Clinton's Secret Service agents will perform a sweep of See CLINTON page 8

GSO president criticizes Moore

BY NICK SERRANO
Staff Writer
Former Graduate Student Organization President Zac Moore's protest and accusations of plagiarism against a Syracuse University geography professor reown GSO presidency, said Eric Hunn, current president own GSO presiden
"He has chosen to fight this battle by these tactics that are very radical and not becoming of the serious nature of graduate students on campus," Hunn said. "His platform within the GSO was similar to the way he's dealing with this in that he was very public, very radical and very aggressive."

Moore said he attempted to post a description of his case last week on the "gradist" listserv that reaches up to 1,000 graduate students, but GSO Vice President Joe Roser refused to post it.

See MOORE page 8

Community examines safety issues

BY EVANS BOSTON
Staff Writer
Syracuse University is evaluating and improving campus safety for everyone, said Eleanor Ware, vice president of Human Services, during an open forum Tuesday night in Hendricks Chapel.

Ware informed about 25 students and local residents about the state of public bafety on campus, just two days after a robbery at gunpoint was reported in Thornden Park.

SU Public Safety Director Robert T. Robinson said safety precautions in that area are the responsibility of city police.
"We are taking all necessary precautions to prevent this from happening again," Robinson said. "We have sent out a campus alert e-mail, warning all students of the situation.*

The forum, mediated by Hendricks Dean Thomas Wolfe, included several SU department directors who attended to answer questions.

See SAFETY page 6

IESSICA CUTLER/The Daily Orange SGA Vice President Arish Gailar addresses safety issues at a forum Tuesday night in Hendricks Chapel. Syracuse University officials answered students questions on topics including fire safety and attended the discussion.

［briefs］

campus calendar

TODAY

Wunson Williams Proctor Institute Auditorium presents＂Niz Xiu：The Sent Down Girl at 2 pm Untica．

풀 The SU Investment Club meets at 8 p．m．in the School of Management，Room 323．All ma jors are welcome．

The School of Managemen presents Anthony Arcuri and Kath－ leen Slate of Merrill Lynch in Syri－ cuse from 7 to $8: 15$ p．m．in the cuse from Babikian Suite， 7 th Fioor of the School of Management．

EDelta Sigma Theta sorority in conjunction with F．A．C．E．S． sponsors an HIV education work－ shop in Goldstein Student Cente on South Campus．Sire safe se： kits distributed．
－Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity presents＂Ethnic Notions，＂a docu－ mentary detailing prejudices and racism in the United States，at 7 p．m．in the Hall of Languages，

WEDNESDAY－ THURSDAY

where he was taken by ambulance after his wife， Liza，called 911 when he Plaza hotel．

Couple drives into

Potomac River
Loudoun County，Va． Sheriffs Sgt．Ed Leonard pulled into a popular＂lovers＇lane－ near the Potomac R
just after midnight just after midnight Tuesday and flashed tris blue lights to wam the couple in the parke That was all it to That was all it took for the startled man in the driver＇s seat，who hit the about 100 feet before about 100 feet before plunging off a boat ramp water at Whites Ferty

Within minutes，res cuers pulled the cold and cuers pulled the cold and jured－－m pair from the river and took them to Loudoun Hospital Center．

Bush wins Delaware vote

WASHINGTON，D．C．－The smail state of Delaware sent three publican Party．Voters in its pri－ mary gave George W．Bush a much－needed victory，confirmed the contagious enthusiasm for ab－ sentee Arizona Sen．John McCain， and signaled publisher Steve Forbes that the end may be near for his second self－inanced presi－ dential bid

With all precincts reporting， Bush had 51 percent of the vote in a small－turnout contest－a boost to his sparits after the drubbing he took from McCain on Feb．I in New Hampshire．McCain，who skipped campaigning in Delaware to focus on his Feb． 19 showdown with Bush in South Carolina，beat out Forbes 25 percent to 20 per－－ cent．There were hints from inside the Forbes campaign that his with－ the Forbes campaign that his Bush drawal might be imminent．Bush told reporters he was grateful he told reporters he was grateful he had won＂quite substantralty，and then，revealing his frustration with then，publicity bonanza McCain has the publicity bonanza New Hamp－ enjoyed by winning New Hamp shire，he added shire，he added，mill put me on the cover of every one of the major news magazines．＂

Plane may have lost piece  may have come of the plane was

LOS ANGELES－Radar data Shows a piece of Alaska Air－ mines Fight 261 may have broken plunged into the Pacific，investi－ gators said today．
Gight data recorders portray a the rifying final 12 minutes，during mhing inal MD minutes，during into a 7,000 －foot dive，then re－ gained some semblance of control for about nine minutes．Then it pitched nose－down，rolled upside down and plunged 17,900 feet int
the ocean in just over a minute．

National Transportation

Safety Board Chairman James Hall＇s detailed description didn＇t ax a cause for the Jan． 31 crash 10 milles of Southern Californa that killed all 88 people a board the co to San Francisco and Seattle were killed．

The new data showed the pi－ lots struggling with the plane＇s horizontal stabilizer－the part of the tail that controls up－and－down motion－and a part suspected in the crash from the start of the in－ vestigation．

There was no immediate in－ dication whether the part that from the stabilizer．

Hall displayed a chart at a Washington，D．C．，briefing show ing the plane＇s path as deter mined by radar．The chart marks a point just before the final plunge where radar picked up a reading that could indicate a piece sepa rating from the plane and driming with the wind as it fell into the with t
＂These primary radar hits might be indicative－and I em－ phasize might be indicative－－ at this point，＂Hall said．

national news

Russia defends reporter＇s arrest

MOSCOW－The Ruasian government Tuesday strove to de fend itself against：a rising chorus of criticism over its treatment of Anssing Radio Liberty reporter Andrei Babitsky，saying Babit skys arrest and release into the not deserve international atten－ not d

Russian Foreign Minister gor Ivanov said he regretted that he West，lacking other grounds on which to fault Russia，has seized upon Babitsky＇s case for propa－若餏da reasons．Russian Interior Babitsiky is＂safe and sound，＂al

Clinton limits use of genetics

WASHINGTON，D．C．－ President Bill Clinton on Tuesday signed an executive order limiting the use of ge－ netic information by federal agen

The order prohibits feder． al agencies from collecting ge－ netic information from their 2.8 million civilian employees or using such information to make hiring，promotion or placement decisions

But ethicists and privacy advocates said that，without comprehensive federal legisla－ tion，people－including feder＊ al workers－will remain vul－ nerable to the misuse of such information．There are now many entities other than em－ ployers that can collect and store DNA information，they said．

Clinton said that new ge－ netic information，which is rapidiy becoming avallable as scientists finish mapping the erode our sacred walls of to erode our sacred walls of prim have envisioned a generation have

Suit filed against tobacco industry

LOS ANGELES－In a new line of attack against the tobacco industry，cigarette makers Tues－ day were accused in a class action suit of engaging in a long－running scheme to fix cigarette prices in the United States and overseas． The suit was filed in federal court in Washington，D．C．，on be－ half of tobacco wholesalers and distributors allegedly harmed by being forced to pay more for ciga－ rettes＂than they would have in the absence of the illegal
the complaint says． complaint Says．
Battered tobacon stocks sank further on news of the case，with shares of industry leader Philip Morris Cos．reaching a fivewyear low．

The charge of conspiring to prop up prices is a new wrinkle in Tobacco immense legal assault on Big Tobacco．Up to now，many anti－to－ bacco suits，including those filed by the states，have had the stated goal of discouraging smoking by to cover heavy lery to raise prices cigarette consumption has droped， nearly 10 percent in the past yped nearly 10 percent in the past year， due partly to price hikes stem－ ming from court settlements and

world news

trough he has not contacted any－ one for more than three weeks． The 35－year－old Russian citi－ zen was covering the Chechen war for the U．S．－financed radio station when he was detained by the Russian military，for lack of accreditation and on suspicion of collaborating with Chechen rebels．

Barak irked by peace talks

JERUSALEM－This is not the script that Ehud Barak had in mind．

The Israeli prime minister， who took power last summer de－ termined to forge historic peace agreements with Israel＇s Arab neighbors－and to do it while the Clinton administration remained in office－is facing a sharp dete－ rioration on all fronts simultane rioraty．

In Lebanon，where Barak promised to end Israel＇s two－ decades－old intervention by July，a atritiong，low－intensity war of and both has suddenly caught fire， rillas of Hezael and Islamue guer－ ing their attacks ine intensify－ reprisals．

Early Tuesday，Israeli war－ planes bombed power stations across Lebanon，injuring a dozen people and krocking out electricity for hundreds of thousands of Lebanese．Scarcely 12 hours later， Hezbollah guerrillas struck back by killing an Israeli soldier in southern Lebanon，the sixth is－ raeli soldier to be killed there in two weeks．

TUU Cinemas prosents＂Mon－ ty Python and the Holy Grail＂at 8 p．m．in．Watson Theater．Admis－ sion is free．

WEDNESDAY－ FRIDAY

The Chabad House Jewish Student Organization and broth－ ers of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraterm－ ty host the creation of the＂Wall of Good＂in Schine Student Center． Students are encouraged to affix a paper brick to a display in Schine ness．

EThe Sarah A．Coine Gallery hosts＂3 Presses，＂an art show dis－ playing a group of recent monoprint works，in the Com Art Facility．

THURSDAY

EThe College for Human Do－ velopment hosts Michael Jeffies， chairman of the board and CEO of Abercrombie and Fitch at $3: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ ． in 108 Slocum Hall．

The Mental Health Associa－ tion of Onondaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing parents from 7 to 9 p．m．at 3049 E． Genesee St．The class will address parenting，emotional and legal is－ sues．

To make a contribution to campus calendar，call the news department at 443－2127．Sub－ mail at news＠dailyorange．com．

［d．ô］

The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Symacuse Universiry＇s academic year is distribured on campus with the first in Dange Corp．The is distributed on campus with the first additional copy conts $$ 1$ ．

Managertent $$ 43.9798$
Business $443-2314$
News
News
Lifestyle
$443-2127$
443.2128
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Sports } & 443-2208\end{array}$
Photography 443－9795
E－ctail editorial庆dailyorange．csm

Bradley supporters discuss debate, activism

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS

 Staff WhterSyracuse University is at tempting to schedule a campus debate between Vice President Al Gore and former New Jersey Sen. Bill York state presidential primary, said the Bradley campaigr.

Nationwide debate plans for the two Democratic presidential hopefuls are stalled because the two candidates cannot agree on the Iogistics of the debates, said James Snyder, a spokesman for the Central New York Committee to Elect Bill Bradley President.

Many areas across the state, however, are also competing to host a debate, Snyder said.

There's tough competition around the state," he said. "But we're trying."

The university would be a good choice for an upstate location because it is a large media market, he said. But there is a strong possibility that the only state debate will be in New York City and will focas on racial issues, Sayder added.

Bradley will make campaign stops in Buffalo and Rochester be ore the New York primary, County campaim onranizer County campaign organizer.

When Bradley visited Syracuse last November, he said he would likely visit the SU campus. y planned, a prominent Bradle y planned, a promineat Bradiey supporter - such as Nebraska Sen Supporter - such as Nebraska Sen Wellstone-may come to campus on Bradley's behalf, Wachtel said.
"We'll get someone up here to speak," he added.
Campis connections
SU for Bill Bradley met Tues day night to plan a voter registration drive and prepare for the New York state primary

The voter registration drive is planned to begin today and continue Thursday, said Brooke Schiferle, the group's coordinator.

Group members will work with residence hall directors to set tables by campus dining halls.

Both Democrats and Republicans can register at the tables, chiferle said.

The majority of the meeting. however, was spent discussing with Wachtel programming idens to realize after the voting drive.

Wachtel said he will also work with Comell University, Ithaca College and Elmira College in campaigning. The Syracuse area will take up the majority of his time, he added.

The group plans to contact all the now Democrats they register, in addition to those who have already registered, he said.
"There will be an especially big focus on the people we register, the said

The CNY effort will not be supplemented by advertiscrments, sign and literature, Wachtel said.
"We get nickeled and dimed with a lot of things and it's a pain in the ass," he saud. Unti we get com wercials, we have to do everythin wecan."
SU for Bill Bradley, with Whe candidate's name into the com. Lhe candidates name into the community by writing letters to the ed up signs at media events, such as SU men's baskethall games.
"If Gore rears his ugly head in this part of the state, we should have someone with a sign there." Wach tel said

The efforts of college students are important for the campuign, smid Rob Walther, the New York state campus coordinator for the Bradley campaign.

In New York state, there are 28 college Eradley groups with 10 or more active members, he said

The campaign hopes to have 29 ad ditional campus froups established soon, Walther added.

We have the machine in place," he said. "Now they hate to move from nember ecruitment to The campn

The campaigen is asking campus groups to inform students of the education-related aspects of Bradleys phatform.

College students are more im portant to our ciampaign than any other, Walther sizid. Students have an energy that a pollical machine can't mimic."

SU for Bill Bratley is espectat dy important because there are sev eral thousand potential voters on campus. Wachtel sidid. Winning the New York state primary is criscial to the future of the campaign, lize said.
"If we don't win New Yurk we're in deep shit." he said. "But I think we have agood chance here.
tance of the victim, told police that Flemma was "weird" and had no business coming into the office, the report said.

The student will not seek legal prosecution against Flemma, the report said. that I can't say this is something that I see happen frequently at the university," Lantzy said. "It's our job as senior administrators to look into that."

Women's tennis coach Jesse Dwire resigned late last spring after being the target of sexual harass ment charges from two of his playors. SU hater settled out of court with the former students in a confiden agreement.

Although Flemma was dis. missed from his position, the music department granted tim the right to privacy when the isspe arises, said Lantzy, who declined to commen further on the incidents.
"He is entitled to privacy just as the young lady who raised ques tions agkinst him. "he said.

Flemma could not be reached for comment.

Do you love life? Apply to become an assistant lifestyle editor for The Daily Orange.

Letters of application are due to The Daily Orange office by 5 p.m. TODAY.

For more information, call Managing Editor Dave Levinthal at 443-9798.

Student lights up Short fuse

Professor strives to uphold SU's academic honesty policies, takes interest in students

To the Editor:

I am currently a work study student in the geography office here at the university, a position $I$ have held for almost two years. My work has allowed for me to develop a multitude of relationships with the professors in this prestigious department. So when I read the attack on Dr. John Rennie Short, I was appalled to hear such accusations. Dr. Short is one of the most intelligent individuals that I have ever been in con tact with, and I know the majority of the people who have been in contact with him will agree enthusiastically.

His job, along with every other fac ulty member at Syracuse, is to do the the student in their class. And $I$ am sure we all know that most of the proessors don't care whether you do the work or show up at all. Dr. Short told Mr. Moore that he had not done the Work and gave him all the relevant information that was needed in order decision on what he should do about the decision on what he should do about Dituation he was in. And I know that neglect of the workload go unnoticed. Therefore, the situation that Mr. Moore put himself in was of his own doing. I do agree with Mr. Moore when concerning the protection of students rights against plagiarism, but I know first-hand, because I have made copies of a number of Dr. Short's works that he always gives proper recognition for thoughts that aren't his own. So before Mr. Moore makes such outrageous attacks on a person's integrity as an author, take a couple of English and textual studies courses where the questextuality" would shine a ligy or "inter thoughts that the vast majority pawn thoughts that the vast majority pawn of as their own.

The "original" thought that Mr. Moore himself said was taken "verbatim" was more than likely not an original thought of his own. The foundation or writing thoughsed on a combination of your own new thoughts. Only once Mre Moore understands that should he begin throwing stones.

Keith Newvine
Class of 2002

Got thoughts?

Tell us ... and all of Syracuse University. The Daily Orange is in search of some regular editorial columnists for the second semester - brilliant intellectuals, rowdy troublemakers and the common man and/or woman are all welcome. Please submit two 300-word sample columns to incoming Editorial Editor Holly Auer by Thursday at the D.O., 744 Ostrom Ave. Questions? Call 443-2128.

SEAC's support of Moore's charges undermine credibility of professor

To the Editor:
Zac Moore's attack on the academic credibility of Professor John Rennie Short is disturbing. I have been a student of his for the past year and have been fortunate to have him as an advisor for my senior thesis. His forthright style and honest character are evident in all he does. With all of this now suspect, Professor Short is forced to defend himself against Moore's baseless argument that has since gained the support of the Student Environmental Action Committee (SEAC), a group whose "blind activism without a cause" credo cloaks itself within the noble aims of liberalism. Moore's claims and SEAC's cluelessness speak for themselves. Their attack on Short should be thoroughly dismissed.

Moore's statements hold empty hyperbole, unfairly attack professor

To the Editor:

After reading Feb. 3's issue of The Daily Orange and the story about Zac Moore's protest, I am very disappointed The D.O. neglected to contact the other students involved to get their take on Mr. Moore's out landish claims. In no way does Mr. Moore speak for me when he states, "He's (Professor Short) using three students and raping their ideas." I would like to take this moment to shed some light on his allegations.

Mr. Moore alleges that Professor Short dismissed him from the GEO 815 seminar after only one truancy. The fact is that in the first several week of the seminar, Mr. Moore often failed to complete the required readings and assignments. This scant output was followed in later weeks by several late arrivals to class and a string of consecutive absences. In a grad uate-level seminar based primarily on student discussion and participation, Mr. Moore's failure to complete the required work and attend class was unfair to the rest of the students. Professor Short, with the students' best interest in mind, asked Mr. Moore to drop the class.
Mr inrough his statements, Mr. Moore makes it appear as if he were the principal author of the published paper in question This is ironic, considering that the paper contained not one iot of Mr. Moore's work. The paper was the outcome of a collabora tive effort between Professor Short, the other two students and myself. Mr. Moore did not contribute one paragraph nor did he assist in the data collection. Once written, the other two students and myself, not Professor Short, chose to include Mr. Moore's name as a sign of graduate student colle giality. In light of his recent actions, I greatly regret our ges ture.

Finally Mr. Moore alleges that Professor Short and Yeong Hyun-Kim plagiarized work he contributed during GEO 815 "Although I have yet to read "Globalization and The City," I know both authors on a professional level and have no reason to question their academic integrity. I and the other stu that Professer would concur "hat Professor short did Professor Short guided Proressor Short guided a collab orative effort that allowed o ideas to be shared with the entire geography academic com-$\mathrm{Mr}^{-}$

Mr. Moore has made a number of irresponsible allegations during the last week that only stand to damage the reputation of a credible academic in Professor Short, as well as unnecessarily drag his fellow graduate students into an ugly personal grudge. Keep in mind that this incident took place during the spring of 1998 but is only now, two years later, concerns. It appears to me that Mr. Moore waited until the all the witnesses have left Syracuse before engaging in his smear campaign.

[editorial]

Genetics measure proves premature

While searching for employment, people take pains to leave past criminal deeds off their applications. The 21st century may force them to tuck away evidence of their genetic composition, too.

President Bill Clinton announced a decision Tuesday prohibiting federal agencies from using genetic test results to make employment decisions.

The order, which covers nearly two million civilian federal employees, ensures that the U.S. government can't strike workers from their payrolls if they're proven to carry potentially deadly - and costly - genetic mutations.

The measure follows a pending Congressional bill to prohibit insurance groups from refusing to offer coverage to people who carry potentially life-threatening diseases.

Clinton's legislation is far ahead of its time. Progress on the Human Genome Project will pave the way for early detection of potentially fatal genetic diseases. But the day when employers will require genetic testing of their workers is still a long way off.

While sickly people won't be denied coverage outright, insurance companies may instead opt to boost their rates to unaffordable levels to absorb the rising costs of treatment. And since dollars remain the bottom line for many struggling HMOs, price hikes may be their last resort.

With healthcare and welfare reform already at the top of Congress' "to do" list, this trendy, futuristic piece of legislation seems a bit premature. Certainly, policies must be implemented to safeguard the sensitive information gleaned from scientific progress, but they shouldn't bump more pressing issues off the Senate floor.

It is wise to keep a close eye on the ethical dilemmas that may arise as science streaks into the new millennium.

But protecting the nation's present-day reality - not its science-fiction future should still be first on the government's agenda.

[dö.]
Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Edito
Sparts Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editar
Asst. Copy Editor

Justin Silverman Ashok Selvam Holly Awer
Dave Curtis Dave Curtis
Bill Ehninger Bill Ehninger
Tom Nyez Tom Nyce
Neva Austrew Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Ernily Kulkus Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Joy Davia Sapna Kollal Connor Emnis Jeff Passan Erin Boyle Tommy Fiorito Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Jessica Cutler Rachael Eolden ondan Dabicowsk Ron Fooks

opinions

Race dialogue ignores class, economic struggles  meaning. Americans speak of race in rhetoric, not in February is Black History Month and there is a race-relations problem in the United States of America.

Armerica has supposedly reached a point where the law requires equal treatment for everyone, regardless of race. This is the objective legal truth

THOMAS HOBAN But it seems that the people enforcing the laws, the people charce of the businesses and the people on every street corner still hold same conceptions of race that don't mateh this ideal.

A big part of Ameriea's race problem is directly linked to our lack of class-consciousness. Since Alger-nonsense that plagued the early part of the century, Americans have had a distorted idea of what economic power is, how it is achieved, and what it means to large sects of the population. Generally, Americans have a poor understanding of the way economic problems affect other areas of society.

The struggles of class and race in America are inextricably tied. In "Strivings of the Negro People," W.E.B. DuBois said: "To be a poor man is hard, but to be a poor race in a land of dollars is the very bottom of hardships." That was in 1897 and it could have been said yesterday. Since Reconstruction, coming out of slavery, discrimination, segregation and oppression, blacks in America never had a fair shot to catch up with whites economically. Now that all Americans are equal in the eyes of the law, the legacy of those hardships remains, affecting the eco nomic and educational opportunities of blacks, adding to cultural tensions and inequalities in the justice system.

But this is not news. It is common knowledge that blacks are disproportionately poor to whites. But we don't seriously talk about the historical reasons for it. Instead when we talk about race we talk about a vague notion of equality. We ambiguously decry bigotry and hatred. We talk about racial harmony in such a broad sense that it loses all of its solutions for real inequalities.

The mainstream media perpetuates this problem by creating hype around storics charged with racial tension. Television news paints picturess of racial problems in terms of black and white, instead of in terms of the real social and economicissues stake. What is going on is a complex network of issues and events, spanning every aspect of life and dating back hundreds of years. What we see on $T$, is stock footage of Watts with an exphanation only is stock footage of Vatts with an expmanation only slightly more complicated than, "some people don' like other people because of their skin color."

In "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" Martin Luther King Jr. wrote of those whosaid that time would heal the wounds of racial inequality. These would heal the wounds of racial inequality. These people saw how much race relations have improved people saw how much race relations have impr over time, and figured it would only get better. With more cloquence, Dr. King said these people vere full of it.
"Time is neutral." he said. "It can be used either destructively or constructively

What Dr. King meant was that if there is injustice in the world, then those who want to change will act, and those who want to keep it will stand still.

In February, we are supposed to celebrate Black History Month and it feels phony. Those who use it honestiy to remember important events of the past are mocked by the indifference of mass culture. The rest are white people who only take notice of Dr King's birthday so they can close their eyes to inequalities that they know still exist.

We cannot continue to ignore the realities of the situation. We need to redefine our concept of race and the problems associated with it. Two facts tell us all that we need to know in order to get started. The first is that there is no significant biological difference between the races other than skin color. The second is that there are real inequalities that exist on a number of social and economic levels.

Thomas Hoban is a junior political science and television, radio and film major. His column appears in The Daily Orange on Tuesdays.

letters

Fraternity refutes claims  of poor taste, misconduct

To the Editor:
Speaking on the behalf of the brothers of Beta Theta Pi, I would like to publicly respond to Angie Gaul's scathing remarks concerning our rushadverisement in the Feb. follow brethren and I are extremely offended at the completely unfounded assump at the completely untounded assumptions made in her letter, which ran in Tuesday's D.O. While I agree that many greek stereotypes exist, it is my contentions that their existence is perpetuated not by its members, but with the inner-workings of the greek

system at Syracuse University

Concerning the advertisement itself, we would have to be completely ig. norant not recognize its inherent hypocrisy. That's the whole point. The advertisement, which is obviously the ridiculous stereotypes surrounding fraternity life. Anyone acquainted with the members of Beta Theta Pi would recognize the ad for what it is - funny - realizing that none of us even vaguely resemble the fraternity man" described in the ad.

I would also like to comment directly on some of the erroneous conclusions this letter draws about the greek system. Gaul's comment that greek life fosters a sense of academic mediocrity" is surely open for debate. Last Spring the all-greek average at SU was 2.949 , compared to the alluniversity average of 3.039 . I think the numbers speak for themselves.
On a more serious note, I am outraged by the ludicrous and potentially dangerous accusation that we are "per petuate(ing) rape." We recognize, as you apparently do not, that the word ly in this day and Such slanderous comments do nothing to further the understanding and awareness of a very serious issue, but only serve to promote fear and mistrust among university students. Furthermore Beta Theta Pi, as a house, takes an ac tive role in bringing this issue to light

In summation, because of all the principles that each brother of Beta Theta Pi upholds, the female gender enjoys our company.

David Campbets
Beta Theta Pi Rush chairman
Class of 2000

SAFETY

continued from page 1
"The goal of this meeting is to clarify assumptions or questions, and to create a sense f community." Wolfe said.

Three speakers - Barry Wells, vice president and dean Louis Marcoccias, Ware and president orbusiness finance and administrative seryices addressed various aspects of campus security durine the foramp.
"Crime on campus not only hurts the victims," Wells said "but it also threatens every student on campus."

State and city involvement in August 1996, the city of yracuse passed an ordirance o improve the safety of parkto improve the sarety of parked to renovate campus garages and parking lots in response Ware said. The garages and ots now have more lighting and the university hired seven new Public Safety officers t monitor them, she said

The Public Sarety office continued to increasein size through last semester, when the university hired five more 24 -hour coverage of provide Campus coverage

Wells discussed the Campus Security Act, a New York state taw prssed in 1990 which requires colleges to make in formation regarding campus crime available to students.
"New York state requires that colleges have an advisory committee that evaluates how Public Safety is ruaning." wells said.

Neighborhoodinitiatives
Marcoccia addressed the safety of campus dormitories including fire alarms, traffic lights and street lighting at night.

All of the resident halls have fire sprinklers in staircoccia said. "New additions also have sprinklers in the rooms All the residence halls will be fully furnished with sprin klers in every room by the 2004 Fall Semester, including all the dining halls and park garages, Migh-rise dorms are first priority he said. New sprin. priority, he sald, Neded first klersystems will be added first Boland and Day halls, starting this summer."
The speakers allowed the

Tence to skers allowed the a udience to state questions or event.
$\qquad$ The predominant topic was the safety of off-campus neighborhoods where SU students reside. Public safety is current ly involved with the Syracuse veillance of these off-campus areas.

The problem with Public Safety getting involved is that the victims get in trouble twice, said Dwight Williams amomber of the Student Gov ernment Association. "Once by Syracuse police, and once by the university police.

Williams discussed the advantages and disadvantages of the situation with Arastasia Urtz. Office of Judicial Affairs director.

Essentially what neighborhood Public Safety does is help avoid students from getting in trouble in the firs place," Urtz said. "Calls of disturbance will goto the Syracuse police, and those calls will be directed to the university.*

The audience asked vari ous questions about fire safety and fre prevention, hebu services and the effect of the Blue Light emergency call system.

The Blue Lights do not de ter crime," Robinson said. "They are aides in case you need assistance of any kind. As for bus services, SGA Vice President Arish Cajjar discussed the potential benefits of establishing a 24-hour bus servicc, as wellas a 24 -hour

For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu

Interested in Studying

in IsraEl?

Come to the Info Meeting at DIPA

Wednesday, February 9th AT 3PM

ulligh quality and low prices are guaranteed at Meineke:"

Genge For

- EXHAUST SYSTEMS
- BRAKE SYSTEMS
- SUSPENSION SYSTEMS
- C.V. JOINTS
- state inspection
- tire balancing
- All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY You won't pay a lot, but you'll get a lot FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate CICERO 8313 S. Main St. 699-9654 (US At min, hust Sount
OPEN MON -SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM

```
Encincres
```

Askabout
90 days same as cash.

「STATE INSPECTIONTV- DRICE DNIY $$ 7$

study building
Gajiar has a valid point, Wells said, and added that improvements can be made.

Residence halls

Students also expressed concern regarding resident advisers responsibility for stu. dent safety.

Director of Residence Lifo Tom Ellett said he is not im pressed with the current system. More should be expected out of the advisers, he added. We would potentially like co have a better candidate pool." Ellett said. "Realistically, many students' decision in becoming an RA is affected by the financial aid policy.

II just think the policy is old, and needs to be reviewed. he added. "We need significant advancement in the quality of RAs. We are behind in having student peers that help criti cally in the dormitories.

Students said the forum was a success for those in at tendance.
"I thought the discussion was very grood," Gajjar said. "A lot of issues were covered, and there was a decent turnout. The right people were here to answer questions.

Williams agreed.
"Hoperully, people within the community will be more in formed about what is going on and we can get some of these ideas up and running. Williams said.

Alpha Phi Alpha to show race-related film

Filmmaker Marlon Riggs produced and directed a film in 1987 meant to open people's eyes to blatant forms of racism. The Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity of Syracuse University will use Riggs' work tonight versity will use Riggs' work tonight in hopes of doing the same.

The fraternity is hosting a 7 p.m. showing and discussion of film exploring the depiction of blacks in American popular culture dating back to 1820 . The film examines racial stereotypical referamines racial stereotypical refer"piskaninny" and how they contribute to the oppression of minorities throughout history.

The showing will be in Hall of The film also add The $n$ im also addresses more recenting Aunt Jemima of blacks, Ben, as two common faces on popular food packaging, said Michaeljulius Idani, the fraternity's philanthropy chairman and former president of the Student Government Association.

Chey just perpetuate these stereotypes that have been inin this country," Idani said. withThe 58 -minute, Emm ning documentary explores depictions of race in media and artistic outlets varying from caricatures, novels, Vaudeville entertainment and films. Riggs graphic examples ty brother Jared Green by surprise, they said.
it was very disturbing the things that it looks at," said Green, a junior civil engineering major. The same things are going on now - it's just done in so many subtle ways."

Green, president of SU's National Society of Black Engineers and secretary and public relations ty, said several of Riggs' stereotypical pop culture examples were things he had never before realized.
"A lot of the stereotypes and the cliches -it tries to show some "Simple things like Jim Crow. It's a name we've all heard of but this video explains all that information." The showing will be preceded and followed by a discussion, Idani said. The discussion before the film what allow the audience to share what they already know about depider to illustrate what the fllm teaches its audience.

teaches its audience.

views change before how their showing:" Idani said. "There's no way you can walk away from this and not learn something."

Both Idani and Green worked to publicize the showing among both students, faculty and administration, they said. A large turnout is expected, they added.

The fraternity will also promote the event at a table today in the Schine Student Center to attract those visitors on campus for First Lady Hillary Rodham Clin ton's speech at noon today

Following Riggs' AIDS-related death in 1994 at the age of 37 , the Sundance Fim Festival awarded work, "Black Is... Black Ain't," the 1995 Filmmaker's 'Trophy.

Link Hall  BY JOHN ARWEILER Contributing Writer  Syracuse University is putting the finishing touches on a $$ 4.5$ million endeavor to pleted by March 1 , Watson said. SU is in the process of ribbon-cutting ceremony to offi-

transform Link Hall's fourth floor into a laboratory center. The construction of new lab facilities for the L.C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science shows the department's importance, said Patricia Swaites, the project's financial advisor and design consultant.
"This was a very large project. I couldn't tell you how many miles of duct work and piping there are up there, waites said.

The top floor of Link was completely gutted and reconstructed, clearing 20,000 laboratory space. The renovated space includes a large teach ed space includes a large teach ing lab, several wet labs and a computer cluster. The interior a hall of offices and large classrooms will now be walled with glass, said Pat Watson, director of development for the college

This should give the new labs the benefit of natural light, as well as a great view of the campus, she added

The construction, which has taken nearly a year to con plete, did notgo unnoticed.
"The noise made by th construction really disrupted class discussions," said Michael Bosco, a sophomore advertis ing major who has a history class in Link Hall this semester. "I hope the investment was worthwhile.

While the initial construction is complete, the labs still need work, waites said. When maintained at a certifiable level of cleanliness, in order to give experiments a high level of purity, she added.

The chemical engineering department will share the added space with the depart ment of civil and environmental engincering, said Shobha Bhatia, environmental engiwornan. The project, funded entire yby the universinging students, Watson said.

There are plans for using the advanced facilities to help clean up Onondaga Lake, with the help of Honeywell Allied, a high-tech engineering company based in New Jersey, Watson said.

SU will look to alumni and other sources for campaign construction and future lab projects, she said.

The labs should be com- cially open the site this spring, cially open the site this spring Edwar the college, recently toured the site with several students, showing the new facilities, said Steven Trojanowski, a junior computer engineering major and member of the Theta Tau engineering fraternity.

We were shown the new labs by Dean Bogucz, and they're very nice," he said. "Hopefully they will bring more engineers to Link Hall."

What Kind of "Impression" Are You Gonna Make at Spring Break?

ASK ABOUT OUR STUDENT SPECIAL

UNIVERSITY
CNY Medical Ctr. Suite 340 739 Irving Avenue Syracuse

470-5854

DOWNTOWN 205 S. Salina S4 426-8917

Programsin

FIND OUT WHAT A PERSONAL TRAINER
CAN DO FOR YOU!

MENTION THIS AD FOR A FREE
CONSULAATION.
FAT ANALYSIS,
WITH THE
PURCHASE OF 10 SESSIONS or more

February 9, 2000

Dome vendors accept counterfeit money

An unidentified man used $140 in counterfeit money to make purin counterfeit money to make purchases during Monday evening's basketball game against Seton Hall cording to a police report.

The suspect used a counterfeit $$ 20$ bill at the ticket booth at about 720 bill at the ticket booth at about 7:30 p.m., the report said. Carrier Dome employee Rachel Clere, who Dome employee Rachel Clere, who ment on the situation.

Later that evening, the man used another bill at two separate beer stands, the

Alan Weinberger, manager of Carrier Dome ticketing services, told police that Syracuse University had experienced several other forgery incidents in the past, but had not reported any incidents to the police department.

Police recovered the bills, which were confirmed counterfeit because of their abn

Weinberger ref ment on the situation.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

MOORE

continued from page 1
"If Eric had taken the time to read that briefing or ask about the basic details of the case 1 don't think he wo ${ }^{\text {n }}$ Moore said. "I these comments," Moore said. "I clearly have fited formal grievances and appeals. It would be clear to anyone that the process of aministrative remedies has broof an abuse of power" ${ }^{-1}$
Roser refused to post Moore's message because the gradlist is mot for those kinds of messages, said Roser, a graduate student in physics.
Gradlist was not set up to allow one member of the graduate student community to seminate to the list subscribers in a onesided way," Roser said. "If he wanted his story with his allegations to be presented to the stu-

DIPA - 119 Euclid Avenue - Syracuse, NY 13244-4170
443-3471•suabroad@syr.edu•http://sumweb.syr.edu/dipa

To earn a million dollar bill such as this one working at the Syracuse University Literacy Corp's

$8/Hour Pay Rate

you would only have to work 125,000 hours. That is pretty good compared to the 190,476 hours you would have to work at the average work study job. Besides, working for the Syracuse University Literacy Corps allows you to do something good for yourself and the community. The position involves helping children learn to read and being a part of an exciting new literacy initiative in Onondaga county. In addition to being serious about literacy and having experience working with children, you must also have the following availability to apply:

Two days a week from 10 am-2 pm or Two days a week from 1:30 pm-4 pm If you are interested, come to the Center for Public and Community Service, room 237 in the Schine.
dents he could have talked to the GSO. Gradlist was not the appro priate forum for that message."

Moore, an international relations and social science graduate student, refused to eat and organized a two-day sit-in at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs dean's office Feb. 1. Moore began the protests after accusing geography professor John Rennie Short of ex pelling him from a GEO 815 class in the spring of 1998 and of pla giarizing his work from the clas in his book, "Globalization and The City."

Short wrote the book last winter with Yeong-Hyun Kim who was a doctoral student in ge ography at the time.

Both Short and Kim denied Moore's plagiarism accusation.

Moore is demanding that the university remove the low grade from his transcript, refund his money for the class and re view his rights in regard to pla giarism. Moore said he is consid ering beginning another hunger strike and vigil next week depending on how much formal cor respondence he receives from the dean's office.
Moore will meet with Diane Murphy, chairwoman of the Uni versity Senate committee on aca demic freedom, tenure and pro fessional ethics, Wednesday morning to find out how he can file a complaint through USen Moore is meeting with Murphy because the dean's office has no policy on plagiarism, he said.

Moore said he does not know how soon he can file his com plaint, but that he will be devas tated if his case does not progress through USen.

That's my worst nightmare and probably the worst night mare of this university," he said I think a lot of people, especially students, are going to wonde why they re going here, wonde why the university would trample on their rights and steal their la bor."

Moore said he is optimistic about USen because it should present a more level playing field than the other channels he has tried.

Hunn, a law and public administration graduate student noted a connection between the way Moore conducted his protest and the way he conducted his GSO presidency.
"He came into office and basically used it as a platform to get his political agenda across, Hunn said. "When he has a problem with this professor, he choos es to do it in a similar fashion Very in your face and political about it rather than being very serious and professional about it.
"There's obviously a common thread of how he deals with things. Considering there's so many people on campus who have disputes and only one who is continually on the front page of the newspaper."

Moore said he filed many formal complaints about his case in writing, but added that the versity system does not work.
In December 1998, Moore entered his GSO presidency with a list of about eight social activism initiatives ranging from creating

CLINTON

continued from page 1
the entire Schine Student Center The SU Coles.
The SU College Republicans had planned a protest of the event that recently fell through, said Joe Burns, chairman of the group.

The College Republicans planned to stand outside Schine holding signs supporting Clinnent New Yor senatorial opponent, New York City Mayor Rudolph Giuliani. The event, however, was unable to be organized in time for Clinton's visit, Lipton Lipton said the group's protest plans did not bother him.
bike lanes to establishing a credit union for graduate students Hunn said.

Moore's ambitious attempts to take up larger social issues through GSO had some merit, but he tried to achieve too many of them, said Michael Johnson, GSO secretary.

Zac had some good qualities about him," said Johnson, an ex perimental psychology major who was a GSO senator during Moore's presidency. "He liked to go out and find some big issues to grapple with. But he brought so many things to the table they ended up being kiod of stagnant too many things to work on."

Moore was passionate about the initiatives on his agenda said Francine Carter, GSO comptroller.
"Zac had a lot of ideas and he put a lot of time into imple menting his ideas," said Carter, a raduate student in chemistry "He had things he wanted to get done and he worked hard to get them done."

The GSO Senate did not pass any of Moore's initiatives, said Hunn, who defeated Moore to be come president in April 1999

He's known within the Maxwell School as having a very radical brand of politics," Hunn aid. "And that's not good or bad but the question was 'Is it what he GSO needs?' My argument was no."

Moore disagreed and said his administration did spend a large amount of time on GSO issues as well as student activist issues.

After Moore's presidency Moore failed to meet with Hunn's incoming administration, Hunn said.
id was chaotic because didn't have any instruction from the previous administration, Hunn said. "They're supposed to write a report but he mever gave me any information on it. I saw him on my first day of work and he didn't say one thing, just gave me the keys and that's it.

Moore was elected GSO pres dent after bitter fighting be tween then-President David Hoisington and Vice President Tracy Bernson resulted in their imultaneous resignations in De cember 1998, Hunn said.

The sudden resignations o Hoisington and Bernson pu Moore's administration in a lead ership role during a time of ma or transition for GSO, said John son.

Moore cannot be held reponsible for mistakes made dur ing the inter-GSO fighting of his predecessors, said Roser, who was the organization's secretary for the first few months of Moore's term.

Moore's administration helped build trust within GSO by not fighting like the previous ad ministration, Roser added.

Mistakes were made at that time in terms of things that were done that perhaps shouldn't have been done," he said. "When the president and vice president had gerved, mistakes were the faul of various members of the $E$ board. I don't think Zac can be held liable for the mistakes his predecessors might have made."
"That's what we have the First Amendment for, ${ }^{*}$ he said.

Hinchey said the group managed to independently come Cp with the funds to finance Governs visit. The Studen Government Association an nouncedat an Assembly met ng Sunday night that they would not help cover the HI sinisit.

"I sincerely disapprove of the finance board's decision, ipton said. "It sets a dangerou precedent that encourages stu lent apathy on campus.

It was a gross disservice to tudents and the entire Syracuse University community."

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kate Scuensor

bag

Deadly doctor
Or. Harold Shipman was found guilty of killing 15 female patients with injections of heroin in Hyde, England. Shipman was given 15*. life sentences for the: killings between March 1995 and June 1998. Nobody is sure how many people Shipman killed during his 28 -year career. Some have sug gested that he killed for power, is play God. Others say he simply enjoyed it.

Insurance incentives

 The Department of Health and Human Services has proposed a $$ 421.2$ billion budget to help extend medical coverage for 44 million people who are uninsured. It would increase efforts to sign up children who are eligible for Medicaid and, for the first time, offer states incentives to insure those children's parents. The administration also wants to devote an additional $$ 817 \mathrm{mil}-$ lion to help tow-income parents afford childcare.
Enviro-dollars

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is seeking its largest funds increase since President Clinton took office. It would include an 11 percent spending hike to improve air and water quality, mitigate global warming, produce healthy foods and enhance > - access to $9{ }^{\circ}$ access to new $\$ 50$ million program to improve the waters of the Great Lakes and a $\$ 45$ milion increase in efforts to hetp states clean up other waterways.

Big loss

Chris Franciosa, a 31-year-old substitute teacher and actor from Los Angeles and contestant on the Jan. 24 episode of NBC's "Twenty One," has a gripe. He is contesting a question involving countries ruled by queens, the answer to which cost him the game. An NBC spokeswoman said the network sticks by the orginal answer, adding that all contestants sign an affidavit saying they will concur with the producers' determination on any disagreement.

quote  of the day:

"Berter be quarrelsome than lonesome." lrish proverb

BY JOY DAVIA
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
When Syracuse University sent 15 undergraduate students to study in Florence, Italy in the fall of 1959, it dispelled the notion that studying abroad was only for rich Americans who wanted to perfect their language skills.
The SU students could not speak Italian well and underwent intensive language training on the 12 -day boat ride across the Atlantic Ocean. They were to be enrolled in an American university and take Englishspeaking liberal auts classes at the European campus while living with an Italian host farnly. The program was the first of its kind by an American university in a foreign country.
Forty years later, this pioneering pro gram has expanded to attract 300 student each semester from und in 1998 The New Yorl Times reported that SU is the study borod program educators usually mention abroad progra first.

SUs Division of International Programs Abroad has planned events to commemorate he program's four decades of existence, inWeekend a celebration during Homecoming San Francisco and Washington, D.C., with the final grand celebration in Florence in April.

John Clark Adams, a professor at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Af fairs, initiated the program after his experience in Italy during World War II.

He is the one who said, Lets have a pro gram in Italy so these American situdents can see another country," said Sue Shane, DIPA's assistant to the director.

Adams initially set a limit of 60 students per term to enhance the type of language training and quality host families each student would receive, according to The Syracuse in Italy Program After Its First Thirty Years," a report Adams published in 1990. He said he believed" "a sraaller program was a better program.

But the program grew. As the curriculum expanded beyond fine arts to include architecture, studio art, women's studies and other liberal arts classes, the academic center, the Villa Rossa, has remained a fixture for the past 40 years.

Rented from the Gigliucci family for four years, SU officially purchased the villa in 1963 after one of the Gigliucci daughters died. But, SU did not have the villa to themselves - Bona, one of the Gigliucci daughters who never married, continued to live on the top floor until she died in 1981.

Referred to as "The Contessa," she often descended from her upper level residence to mingle with the students and greet new facelegance that she sustained throughout the school years with occasional teas and meals for directors and faculty" according to a pamphlet on the Villa Rossa.

As the first program of its kind, Adams did not have a previous model to follow. Shane said the main obstacles Adams encountered were mainly with the logistics of countered were mainly with the logistics of tablishing contacts in the city and finding housing for students. But, the largest obstacle was for the first groups of students, who

See FLORENCE page 11

"Its size has

$\qquad$ n (0)

$$
\square
$$

They're back!
MTV, which I seem to mention almost every other week, returns Thursday to Syracuse University students. The music network which auditioned willing stu dents for its "Real World" and "Road Rules" shows this past fall, returns in an attempt to discover more crazy kids to follow around. A new group of Orangemen or Orangewomen will possibly have their 15 minutes of fame and shame on "MTV: Spring Break Undercover.

A casting crew for the show will be looking for the "wildest group of friends willing to have a rreal World'-type show created around their spring break venture."

MTV typically showcases the rowdy side of college students on spring break in some beautiful southern beach resort. It's a week of wet and wild adventures, wet and wind adventures soaked with aiconol sprinkled with sex. prinkied with sex.
Between 1 and Between 1 and 4 p.m. Thursday in the lobby of Schine Student Center and 11 p.m. and 1 a.m. at Harry's media freak Ave., Willing contestants will be able to register for their shots at being the subject of this year's Spring Break. Anyone willing to have his or her lives taped and act like a fool for the whole nation can stop by the casting call. Two years ago, four lucky SU guys got the honor of baring all for the cameras during the Spring Break "98 festivities.

Pete Beisser
"MTV has a good relationship with SU" said C.J Strock, University Union oncert Board director.
Strock has worked close ly with MTV in the past, y with Miv in the past, helping to bring the Campus

相hedrt of Massage

ers bed dction * pairi relief * sports performance TE2UGUffin Nolan, LMT Stialdine Crelot, LMT be yourself

Invasion Tours to SU. He jumped at the chance to have them return again.
"They're real cool with us, and it's nice that they're coming back to involve us in their programming," he said.

Daytrippers
So whos down with having MTV spend each waking moment of break with a camera up their ass? There seems to be a number of varying opinions of the idea.

Joe Schildhorn, a sophomore communications design major, still has no plans for Spring Break, but he said he would surely not miss an opportunity like this.
${ }^{\text {-Hell yeah, }}$ I'm going to bring my friends to try out. It might be my chance to go on break for nothing,"

Schildhorn said, You know with MTV you're only going to get the best of everything - and hey, it's a shot at being a celebrity.

But some students, like junior photography major Nick Putignano, are going just to sit back and enjoy watching the process.
'I'd go down and just check out the people that are going to show up. You know they're going to be real whacked out people, he said
Then you've got others, like Brooke Cambi, who isn't going anywhere near the auditions.
"Not me," said the sophomore political science major Who is headed to Cancunin March. Id be too intimidat ed to have them follow me around. Plus, they probably tell them to act it up and be wild.

If you're up for the chatlenge, you'd better get prepared between now and Thursday afternoon. Come up with a routine that'll make you a definite pick. Do something different - wear a bathing suit in the freezing temperature.
"If it's the same this year as it always is, why not?" said Sarasola, Ma.-bound Lauren Musso, a freshman "Usually it's just a bun peot peopie taking time. So, yeah, I may go down.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major. E-mail him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.

Are you a top caliber student. who is interested in pursuing a career where you will manage a business, lead others and have tremendous opportunity for future growth? Have you considered a career as a Retail Executive with one of the nation's premier retailers?

That's more like it.

Internship Program 2000
Hear more details

```
Date: Tue., Feb. 15 Time: 6-7:30 pm
``` Location: Goldstein Auditorium

\title{
"Pride Can Stand a Thousand
}

\section*{Trials; the Strong Will Never}

Fall" -Des'ree

ample, house their students together in villas.
"But that is not a way to experience a foreign country," he said.

Katey Hansen, a junior international relations major, said she took a few Italian classes at SU and initially struggled to hold a conversation with natives Florentines. And although she is not fluent in the language, after the first few weeks, she picked up enough to hold her own in restaurants. Her stay with her host family. where anly the 30 -year-old daughter spoke English, helped her become immersed in Italian culture.

By attencing an American university in Florence, Hansen was also able to meet a diverse group of people because many of the students were from other American universities besjdes SU. Most of her classes were taught by local professors who spoke and taught English, exoept for her Italian ciass where English was not spoken.

But when Radke returned to teaching, students were staying With ony one host tamily per sewith the same host family shaving with the same host farnily gives the student a sense of stability in a forcign country, they should not be ex posed to only one way of living.

Smaller universities, he added, are also more likely to send their professors abroad to teach instead of luring Florentine professors. Professors from the American host college are some times barely aware of what is going on in Italy. At the SU Flo rence program, local professors mingle with SU professors who have an in-depth knowledge of Italy.

But many students don't really have the chance to learn about Italian culture in-depth. A recent trend among students in flo rence, and other overseas programs, over the last fow decades is exploring Europe instead of spending the majority of the semester in Florence, he added.
"When I went, I was not al lowed to leave Italy," he satid "I had a friend that skied over the Aps to France. I thought, Oh my god, he went over to the other side."'

He said he discourages stu dents from traveling too much out instead should wait for a lond instead should wait for a long

\section*{VINCENT APTS. \\ 105 Smith Lane, Syracuse DON'T BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD! ENJOY THE WARM, COZY COMFORTS OF THE VINCENT APTS! \\ RENTS STARTING @ $410/MO \\ ASK ABOUT OUR "OPTICN PLAN" \\ Call 424-0250for more info! \\ http:www.longley-jones.com}
(5)LongleyJones
-1) heat includedi
(2) 2) CHECK OUT OUR NEW MOVE IN SPEEIAL

2

\section*{February 9. 2000}

11
muddled its way through its first years and expanded, other abroad programs were modeled on the Italy prograrn. SU's London Cen ter opened in 1973, Harare, Zim babwe opened in 1993 and 10 . Kong in 1996. DIPA allso offers in rect placement programs in Eu rope and Asia.

After spending time at SUs Florence program as a graduate student in the late 1960 s , Fred Frohock, an SU political science professor, helped get the ball rolling for a SU center in Nladrid Two years later, in 1974, SU opened a center for French, business and government in Stras. bourg. France.

Wibl the various programs available to stubents, Shane urges students to take advantage of SU's abroad opportunities.
"Nobody should graduate without secing another culture and experiencing it first hand."

\section*{WHAT DO HARLEY \\ LOVERS DO ON VALENTINE'S DAY? \\ LOVERS DO ON}

They go to their favorite Harley-Davidson dealer, and get gifts for all of their loved ones.

Bring this ad in and receive a \(15 \%\) discount on Men's & Women's Black Hills Gold Jewelry or $2.00 off any T-Shirt. Saving through-out the store!
breatk or extended period to truly experience another country. By not spending enough time in Florence, students are not truly becoming emersicd in its culture. gaining something else," he said.

Contrasting programs
The Florence program may have been the first American abroad program with a campus in a foreign country, but it was not Syracuse Uriversity's first shot at Eitors to sensl graduate stu nis to China in 1922 and 1947 were thwarted by World War I and the turnover of the country to communism. Other short-lived programs in Asia and Mexico placed students as voinnteers in foreign national organizations. Graduate summer programs were also run from 1952 to the 1960 s in Paris, Japan and Sweden.

\section*{As the Florence mogram}

\(\qquad\)
were not properly trained for life abroad and had to "fumble" their way through the initial adjust

\section*{The gatimation} The gaaisies that initialiy years ago continue to separate it rom other study abroad prorams uvating principles remain the same, samd Gary Radke, a fine arts protessor who attended the lorence center in the eariy 1970 s . hadke returned to the Fioren 1980s.

Adarns encouraged the Flo ance program to offer uncergrad uates with little or no loreign laur uage experience a chance to tugin a loreign countiy. 20 bet the Itraliant lane students wide of their Arnerican-run center, each stadent stayed with two different host famives per semester, to ac Italian lifestyles.
"The students had the best of both worlds," he said.
Radke sqid when

Radke staid when he arrived in Florence, he had only one semester of Italian under his belt But, the outgoing nature of Ital ians - whether it was the natives trying to strike up conversations with him on the train, hotel maids initiating small talk or his host farnily talking to him constantly - forced him to learn the lan guage,
"I had no idea what they were saying," he said. But by mid-semester, he was finally beginning to grasp the language.
faving students live with host farnues instead of every student living together in a dormiory Ating is unia lie, he added and Stanford universities for ex

Premium Roses, all colors
Spring Flowers
Wild Flowers
Balloons
Candy
Teddy Bears, all sizes

WORLD WIDE DELIVERY
All Major Credit Cards accepted over the phone

Go straight for the heart. Hamiltan's Flaral Garden

\section*{Syracuse tracksters win 11 events at Manley}

BY JOSH LUKIN
The SU track teams made use of their home field house advantage this past weekend as the squads claimed 11 first place finshes at the Syracuse Invitational.

Ten different Orangemen and women took home titles from the competition held inside Manley Field House last Saturday.

The victories encompassed all facets of track and field, with success in sprints, distance, throwing and jumping events.

In the men's competitions, freshman phenom Joel Carusone took home the pole vault title, outjumping an experienced group of vaulters who forced the firstyear star into a lengthy competition.

The pole vault became a showcase as the day wore on, with the final rounds taking place while the running events were just getting under way.

In a rare occurrence for a track meet, the spectators began to root on the Syracuse vaulters, which included senior Graig Lundy in addition to Carusone. The crowd clapped in unison, increas: ig in pace as the vaulters raced down the runway. Three competitors made it to what would be the final height attempted.

After failing to clear the 16 foot-2 mark on his first attempt Carusone was given a second chance and made it count as he arched over the top of the pole to take first place.
"I was feeling sick all week, but I felt good on the last few vaults," Carusone said. "I couldn't get as much runway speed as I did last week, but I was hoping to do well."

In addition to Carusone, Syracuse's athletes claimed victo ry in several jumping competitions. The Orange leapt to victory in the men's and women's long jump and in the men's high jump as junior Mark Gagnon garnered his first win on the year.

Senior standout Veronica Dyer failed to disappoint as she entered the day favored to score big for SU. In addition to the long jump crown, Dyer claimed victory in the \(55-\mathrm{meter}\) dash and qualified for the ECAC tournament in both events.

Following Dyer in the 55 m were a pair of teammates, as sophomore Alison Culley took third and junior Shaunte Beauchamp-Sheard placed fourth.

Be Piggish!

Hm:šRAClisl: thaverssmy invermmint Club
 (Real Moncy)
Geer the life of the chat, we have delivered foon: retum year ather year
Hey, we are beating the pros at their owne game?
Weare sponsured by Steve MeClellan, Firsi V.P. Merritl I,ybelh. Visit the Now Yoork Stock lixehange frading thoor! fevery semume. Visit JP Morgan. Merrill Lonelh and onfler institutions for seminar. networking and recruitiog. It Cetera

\section*{Shool of Management Rin. 323 8:00 p.in.Feb 9, 2000} (Free Drinks and Food)

3 Days Only
Fri, Sat, Sun: Feb. 11-13 11 am start Huge Clearance - Winter & Spring Clöthing Brand New & Vintage from gowns to casual clearout!

Dyer will be one of five Syracuse representatives at this weekend's Cornhusker Invitational in Lincoln, Neb. She will compete in Lincoln, Neb. She will compete in the 60 -meter hurdles, an event she has dominated all season, as she attempts to qualify for the NCAA Championships in March.
"I love to compete," Dyer said. "I'm glad I don't have the weekend off, and I'm looking forward to the competition. I know its going to be tough, but it is exactly what I need right now to help bring down my times."

Another event dominated by the blue and orange was the 800 meter run. Junior Alicia Crowd won a hard-fought race on the women's side of the track, as she burst out of the pack of lead runners in the final lap of the race to take the title.

On the men's side, sophomore Naeem Smith took first place in the event, fending off teammates Antony Mberia and Ryan Wagner who placed third and fifth respectively.

Inside the confines of Manley, SU runners dominated the shorter races as well. Junior Opal Jones won the 55 -meter hurdles with a time of 8.19 , low enough to qualify her for the ECAC championships.

Senior Michelle LaPointe rounded out the women's winning ways with a triumph in the 800 meter run. LaPointe will be running that race once again this weekend, as she will take the trip to Ne anc. ange.

In the men's events, gradu ate student Adrian Woodley put up an overall strong performance, as he qualified for the IC4A cham pionships in both the 200 -mete and 55 -meter dash

His 21.70 time in the \(200-\) meter was his fastest of the season and was also good enough to take first place in the competition.

Along with Dyer, Woodley will be competing in the 60 -meter hurdles this weckend in Lincoln.
"Adrian is regarded as one of the top hurdlers in Canada and is No. 1 on the Big East list," assistant coach Teressa DiPerna said. "This is definitely an excellent opportunity for him to earn a spot at Nationals and prepare for the [Olympic] trials coming in the spring and summer.

The Orangemen received strong performances in yet another event at the meet as they swept the top two spots in the shot put.

Freshman prodigy Steve Be dard beat out teammate and 1999 winner Alex Brown to take the title with a toss of 15.49 meters. The mark also qualified Bedard for post-season competition as he joined Brown in qualifying for the IC4A's.

In addition to the myriad of strong showings by the host teams, who practice at the field house facilities on South Campus, two meet records were broken by visiting competitors.
Kate Afullins of SUNY-Binghamton broke her own record in the pole vault as she cleared the 11 -foot mark, a full foot higher than the height she set at last year's Invitational

Syracuse University graduate assistant coach Windy Dean, who competed Sa tached to a collegiate team, also set a record on her way to winning the women's welght throw Dean brok both the Invitational and Manley track toss of 19.37 meters.

Joining Dyer, Woodley, and aPointe in Nebraska this week end will be seniors Roger Donaghy and Cheree Hicks.

The meet will be the season opener for Hicks, who enters the year as one of the top female throwers in the country. Hicks, who is a four-time All-American in the discus and shot put, looks to garner such acclaim once again, as she wraps up her Syracuse career.
Similar to Woodley, Hicks will be looking to qualify for Nationals as well as prepare for the competition she will encounter at the Olympic trials later this year.

We are still looking toward the Big East meet and the IC4A/ECAC event, but we can't look past this weekend," DiPerna said. "Those in Nebraska have a chance at Nationals and a shot at All-American honors."

\section*{FRUSTRATION}
continued from page 16 conference play. But may be better than their records indicate, Syracuse head co ianna Frceman said.
think that we're both in the same boat," Freeman said after practice on Tuesday. "But, Weve been losing, and we'd like to get a win. This one is a no-call."

One key for Syracuse will be stopping Latasha Thompson. The junior guard enters the contest averaging 13.5 points and 2.5 rebounds per game.

She also ranks second on the team in steals with 36 . the team in steals wing Thompson will be im stopping Thompson will be im portant for SU, Freeman said. Thompson has been play ing extremely well for them, freeman she was player of the fact, she was player of the week a couple of weetes ago. I

COMPUTER OUTPUT
MAC/BM
200/88/44mb SYQUEST
Zip Drive/Joz Drive M.F 7am-Midnight

\section*{Syracuse Chiropractic Health Center \\ Of New York Chiropractic College \\ 910 Erie Elva. \\ (on the corncr of Crouse & Erie Eiva) \\  \\ New Location Moving to a larger, state of the art facility to better serve the Syracuse community}

Hours
Mon-Fri.
9 a.m.-8 p.m.
Student Plan
- Designed to make quality Chiropractic care available for students

CHECK US OUT: Te!: 442-1100 think that what theyve done overall is that they've been playing better altogether and in a couple games that they've lost, they really have been in."

Syracuse's only close loss in the four-game drought was to a dismal West Virginia squad. The Orangewomen did not play well in recent losses to the road.

Most recently, the squad raveled to Piscataway, N.J. and scored only 14 points in the first half en route to loss to No. 10 Rutgers.
"We've got to get that confidence back, we're really struggling," shooting guard Jaime James said. "We have nine players, and it hurts to lose. It hurts mentally and physically. Then to come back the next day and lose again. But we should be all right if we play hard."

James epitomizes the Orangewomen's struggles this season, but she turnedin a 15 point performance against Rutgers. James must work on relaxing and contributing to the game in other ways, Freenan said.

An Orangewomen who has been playing with confidence recently is Ervin, who broke the 300 -assist plateau against the Scarlet Knights, moving her up to No. 8 on SU's career leader list. Her matchup against Giani Bowles should also be key to tonight's contest.

Bowles averages 12.7 points per game, but just went for 19 in SJU's 56-47 victory over Pittsburgh. Bowles also eguides a quick St. John's team that should match Syracuse's speed.
"I know from last year they're a very quick team," Ervin said. They have a lot of athletes. They have a lot of tough defense that they like to play.

For Ervin and the rest of the Orangewormen, the time for a turnaround of mammoth proportions appears to be now.
"I would love to see us turnaround and play good the rest of the games, Ervin said. If we play hard, maybe I can say we lost. But a lot of games we lost, and I don't feel like we played. If we play hard and we give it all we have, that's a great accomplishment.

\section*{When in Hell...}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Sleep Deprivation}
by Eric Jones

\section*{Out of Town}

by Ryan Kovac and David Pollack

\section*{Bat Out Of Hell}
by Union

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog & Mariska

\section*{Tartaruga Pate}

Eat the Lettuce
by The Four Electrons

 \(y\) address is one Mt. Olympus Drive. Yes it is! Do you think 1
\begin{tabular}{|l|l|}
\hline\(G \cdot A T D I R: S\) & \(P: A P I A\) \\ \hline\(U S E D I U P\) & \(A\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

 16 Construc- 27 City on the tion-site \(\begin{aligned} & \text { Rio Grande } \\ & \text { waming }\end{aligned} 28\) Illinois city \(\begin{aligned} \text { warning } & 28 \text { Illinois city } \\ & 29 \text { Arsenal Makes }\end{aligned}\) 18 Arsenal 29 Makes supply
Sound 21 Higntailed 30 Sound 23 Heir, often 31 players 23 Heir, often 31 Bow's
24 Singer counterpar \(\begin{array}{cc}\text { Robert } & 33 \text { Give off } \\ \text { Canada } \\ \text { Capital }\end{array} \quad 37\) Golfer \(\left.\left.\left.\because \therefore \quad \therefore \theta^{5}\right|^{5}\right|^{7}\right|^{8}\)

CROSSWORD
DY THOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS
1 St. Lolsis
landmark
5 Hip-hop songs 9 Worth 11 "- Pass 12 Singer 13 Bla gold coin 14 Church 15 sch. 1977 Nick 17 Cardigan.
\(19 \frac{\text { e.g Vegas }}{}\)
20 Apia
21 Modern message Work the 4 Sticky stuff 6 Catch Some z's 30 Rain pools 32 Muse of music 4 Cook's need 3 Teed mission 6 Rude look 38 Clark's 39 partner Love" 40 ERA or 1 RBI 1 Sound of

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

NOTICE
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10e each additional word 50 extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word Chasges are PEA ISSUE \(&\) are Pre-paid by: Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine:2pm Bustiness days prior 10 IUn Ads can be mailed with theck to: The Dait Orange; 74 Osumo Avenue: Syracuse, NY 132 i0: An: Classitieds: OA Faxed wht credit Card to: \(315-443-368\)

Notices
ccxal Irlerior Desigh Shop otiers internstip :o 4 Sudenit todingotor credi. Call Lisa

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}
y you tre an Noth jersey, keve sunstina, watm

 danee. Connact igrnnastics. viaco Radio ann Campus Rep. 4731264 Ounspers i-800.533.camp
 aif ratgants

Free me zut fistait Vars.ity can use you
Pint ing aces foinctry orvers, oismashers apply

\section*{Job Opportunities}
meemensemr masiar maned or metrar

\(\frac{\text { WANTED }}{\text { Child Care }}\)

Help Wanted
 202 - 52.7679
lazbornes Inc. lookng lor part-time o t lill bine

\section*{Roommates}
aoornmate wanted to share 3large bedroom apanment Eliose
2 Cuys in mar 405 seek noustmate bor qreat

FOR RENT

\section*{ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM
 476-9933}
1.2.3 Bearoen Apasiments. Beaut/al, $pacious. Stwe, Cuies, Ciose 476.0255

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Two Bedroon Apartments on Eudid Furnstec.

4Bedrooms. Dakianosi.. Block ESF. 3Btocks Lawt Hospials. Hu inished. parking. Iaundry. FOUR GEDROOM-EDGE OF CAMPUS 228 Euclid, across from Shaw Dorm, tee patking, oishwasher taundry mictowne new perch- jery

\section*{Five bedroom House}

Spacious five Bedroom.
completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO tive large bedrooms, and street FULL Bathrooms. Oif parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
Ackelman Elastifui Laige Furnsted Ftals;

\section*{L(.)(.) K}

Just for you!
Furnished House Livingroom Diningrm 2Full Baths Laundry. Shows Well, Rents Fast. . 10 Month Lease *

\section*{Call 655-2175 for more info.}

2 bedroom Apartment tight on Marshall 51 Fafl Semester only (i Somester) Auggust 2000 to December 31,2000 . Great location! Call 637-5779.

\section*{O.PR Developers}

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. Eft/APT's Homes & Town Houses Thero is something lor everyone! most including

Sceuniy Sysiert win 1 Dead Boin Locks
moxe. Heat & Sprinkier System
- Remodeled Fwll Custom Kithesitith kitchens include: Goumet Self-cleaning ovens. fall to Wall Carpets & Padding (like home) Laundry Facillies on Premises - Off-sireat Parking
- Snow a Lawn mainlenance - Super insulated (means low utilitios) - Somb Apts incluco All UWitios & Fumistied Such as \({ }^{\circ}\) Cornstock, ostrom. Harrison. Madison, Westcont, Clarencion, Ackemman. Livingston. Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
to chech out your home away trom homel
OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVICE:

1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

Bayutul 3 Bedrocm Townhouses, Walking

 \(663.8 \pm 17\) or 476 - \(9 \hat{6} \cdot 3\)
Apantronts close to compus clean 2-3.5
 Stop sion 3 bedroom apartmmenta Fireppange

\section*{1 Bedroom and Studio Apartments 2000-2001}

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces, near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon
\(476-2982\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk 1 Carpous furmished laundy patking lease 567500 Dlas vililes DN. Drucker 445 -1223 \\
\hline Adxerman fore, 2,3,4,5.7 betroom apis. Fuhnished. catpeted, wak to carcous. Wey maintained. 5/00-501 lease 446-7202 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Univerity and Comstock Very dose to Campus Elioiencies and Two Begrooms Soare bldg. \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline University Aras 2.3 Bedrocom furnished Aparmonts Sange Houses tor rent. Call fin E68-7473 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Luxurtous: Zsory apufoth Gournet hulion, \\
 2nd tis, intorn, \(1-2-3\) bdims, olcishuch, jacurzil zatth porctios \(\qquad\) NO PEISI Negobizotel hanses. Coll lor 1 app 46 S9-0780
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Apartments \\
\hline \multirow[t]{10}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Latge 3 becroom, 2 tull bath. Walking distance S.U.dt steeet parking, Laundry. Cati \(422-7305\). Unwersity 783 Bedroont townHouses \(&\) Flals Onc +2 tedroom furnkred apantments. An uitives inclusect 5370 . \(5480 / \mathrm{ma}\) One mile from campus. Avaiabie witnesiately, stry orfugust. 446-9588. 2 Bedroort Apts 202, 204 Ostrom 105 Euclid Terrace Large Ro or Aug \(446-5186\)

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across trom Haven)
University Area Apts University Area Apts
www. univetsityarca.com 479-5005
\(1.2 .3 .4 \times 5\) bedipom apantments. Furnished, aid utilities induded, laundry, parking. One biock trom campus tear law schod +ESF. May +August availatitit. \(446 \cdot 9598\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. \\
1011 E.Adams \\
509 University \\
Carpeted, Air Conditioned. \\
Furnishet, Secure, Launtry. Paking. \\ Naintenance. \\
University Ares, Apts. \\
479.5005 \\
www.universityarea.com \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{collegehome}

THREE SPEDROOMS beautifully FURNISHED CAL JOHN or JUDY 478-7548
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS

\section*{Westoot Street area} Laundry, Parking, Lease
445-0540

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST APARTMENTS. AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
One Bedroom Apartments close to Campus.

FOUR BEDROOM
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches,
Off Street Parking,
Laundry, Carpet,
Hardwood Floors.
476-2982

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
 Lundry Cappe: Haxs
Caí Gotion \(47-2982\)

SHERBROOKE
APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Uilites included. Futy furnished. Rants start at \($ 275\). Re efinshed hargwoos foors. Wall to vill carpet. Flats. toors. Wall to vial carpet. Fiats.
townhouses. Remodeled Nichenis and Paking, zthout maintenance.
whw.universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

501 EUCLID STUDIO APT
Parfiect ior one person
all utritios included
\($ 355\) per month \($ 355\) per monto
Calit
Onna 4494621

Clean quiet 2 bedroom two blocks from \(S\) ospitals. Fumished All utilities paid. 472-5908 teme 1 hase

One Bedroom Apartments,
Some with 9 month leases. laundry. quiet buikfing, close to campus. thties included. 476-2982

Furnished 2-58edroom Houses/ Apartments Livingston. Sumner, Ackerman, Euctid \(469-6655\) One and Two Euedroom Fumished Apat treents Comet of Waincat and Hirison Avanues Leases Compence Hogison Avonues Leazes Commence
Lat Montin and SBconty No Post Alowed.
Gracuates Prelered Cal \(422-3755\)
COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms Lowest rents for modern new consiructor. how utilities.
University AreaApt www.universityarea.com

\section*{The Daily Orange} first loss of the year. It was SU's third consecutive home loss to Seton Hall. The way the Orangemen play against the Cardinals should say a lot about their heart and character and the SU coaches' abilities to keep the team focused. Unlike Denny Crum's hairdo, which has been consistent for ov decade, has been erratic has been erratic have had some success at Freedom Hall, beating North Carolina, Utah, DePaul and Alabama. Louisville has had some problems on the road, though, posting a \(1-3\) mark in Conference USA away games and suffering a defeat at Virginia Commonwealth Picks Louisville
UCLA (+13.5) at Syracuse
Sun., Feb. 13 at I p.rn. (CBS)
Although he's proven him self worthy of the starting position at the two-guard, Tony Bland has been in a slump for the Orangemen.

Bland has scored a total of 12 points over the last three games while grabbing just two rebounds and hitting only 4 of 20 shots. Meanwhile, Preston Shumpert and DeShaun Williams have picked up their games, providing scoring oft the bench. Over the last three contests, shumpert is a averaging eight points a game adding nine. Making the NCAA Tournament † appears to be an unrealistic expectation for UCLA. The Bruins have lost three games in a row and still have to travel to Stanford and Arizona. At 59 per cent, UCLA is the cent, UCLA is the worst Pac-10 team from the charity stripe. Pick: UCLA
DePaul (+18.5) at Cincinnati
Sun., Feb. 13 at 3:30 p.m. (ABC-R)
The top-ranked Bearcats have been blasting through Conference USA, and if not for a 66-64 loss to Xavier on Dec. 18, they would probably be everybody's No. 1 team

Kenyon Martin's 17.8 points an outing leads Cincinnati, but Bob Huggins' team is far from a one-man show. Pete Mickeal scores 13.8 points a game and freshman DerMarr Johnson tosses in 12.9 .

Cincinnati shoots the ball well, hitting 50 percent of their field goals and with a 38 percent mark from 3-point USARE, The Bear seconave two gunners in Johnson and Steve on 34 of his team-high 94 threes, and Logan leads the team with a 47 percent clip from long range.

Despite high prescason expectations, the Blue Demons have not exploded onto the national scene this year. With Conference USA not being overly strong and DePaul barely having a winning league record, the Blue Demons are a NCAA Tournament bubble team at best. DePaul needs a big win to boost its case for a postseason birth.
Pick: DePaut

\section*{Connecticut (-.5) at Seton Hall}

\section*{,} fourth-ranked Syiacury over their biggest win under third year coach Tommy Amaker, whose most significant win' to date had been last year's win over the Orangemen when they were No. 12 in the nation.

The victory in the Carrier Dome was also Seton Hall's biggest win in almost a decade. The Pirates had not beaten a Top 10 team since they beat No. 8 Arizona in 1991.

\section*{February 9, 2000}

These are the best 3 -point shooting teams in the Big eague at 39 percent while Seton Hall is a close second at 38 percent. The Iluskies were 66-56 winners when these two tearns met Jan. 30.
Pick: Scton Hall

\section*{Ohio State \((+7.5)\) at}

Michigan State
Tues., Feb 15 at 7 p.m. (ESPN) in the Bige game of the yerir are in the Top 10 and the winner gets the inside track to the Big Ten regular season championship.

The Spartans were one of the hottest teams in the country before their 70-67 loss at Purdue on Tuesday Michigan State was on a sixgame winning streak that included an 85-66 dismantling of UConn.

OSU's George Reese, one of the most improved players in the nation, led the Buckeyes with 19 points in their first meeting with the Spartans. Reese and Brian Brown, who combine for 20 points a game, have been instrumental figures in several Ohio State wins. Scoonie Penn and Michael Redd have struggled with their outside shooting. Ohio State is the worst 3 -point shooting team in the Big Ten at 31 percent. Pick: Ohio State ment that comes with missing the crucial shot in a tight rame or being upset by a team that doesn't belong on the same court College basketball season are long affairs. They stretch from early November until the luckry few - early April.

It is the psychological equivalent of beating your head against a wall to hope that your favorite team will prance through its schedule with nary a scratch.

In a basketball environment that today includes the 3 -point arc and the parity of player tal ent, the old adage of "on any given night any team can beat you" is more truthful than ever. Syracuse's given night came Monday.

The shooting that had been white hot cooled to icy.

The starters, rock solid through the first. 19 games, fal-

\section*{tered slightly.}

And, the fact of the matter , it was bound to happen. The big question that remains is how SU's baskettaste of adversity to touch their collective palate.

The team has shown it certainly has the ability to become a No. 1 or 2 seed when the NCAA Tournament brackets are announced.

Several major tests remain however, beginning with Thursday's ESPN showdown with Louisville at the unfriendly confines of Freedom Hall.

Road matchups versus Connecticut, Notre Dame and St. John's also loom.

It would be surprising if the Orangemen did not enter March's single-elimination dance with at least one more loss.

In fact, another taste of defeat right before the tournament might be productive.

Lasses remind tearns how losing feels - just slightly worse than stabbing your own eyeball with a pencil
It makes teams hungry. Hungry to win and keep winning.

The Seton Hall loss - and before the field of 64 is announced could make the Onnounced - could make the that they devour opponents like they're just another meal on an unlimited SUpercard account.

And that's when the true test of a team is seen.

Every squad reacts well to winning. It's easy, and everybody involved with the team is happy the blame starts flying like errant 3-pointers, the spirit of a squad can be truly be discovered Mediocre teams let the defeats fester and eventually pile up like garbage at a dump. Champions use Iosses as a springboard to vault them as far away as possible from the probability of every experiencing defeat again. What type of team Syracuse is remains to be seen.

One thing is for certain, though. The squad's legacy wasn't secured on Monday Let's wait until March for that.

Connor Ennis is an assistant sports editor at The Daily appear regularly. E-mail him at cennis@syr.edu.

\section*{[Q]dSS1fieq] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

Ackerman Ave, nice 3bedroom llat, Iurnished, stave, retrig, laundry, tirep Avail lune ist 446-4229
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With utilifies includod. Firtoplace, Furniahed, Hardwood Floorz and Carpating, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking. clowe to Carmpes. Calf Gorcon
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Latge 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance
S. U. off stroet parking
ONE BEDROOM

\section*{APARTMENT EUCLID}

AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE ORTWO
persons free heat, great
LOCATION 476-9933.

\section*{Best Buy on HarisonSt. Clean Owiet.} \begin{tabular}{l} Ulisbebedroom and studia \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
: Bedroom Furnished Uniurrished Waking Farkince S.U. Laundry on
Call \(422-7305\)

Charming English Tudor House on Constock 6 Bedrooms, Fiteplace, across from Womens Eveg.
Avail 5200 475-1012, ( 843 ) \(514-3881\)

Clarendon St., 4-bedroorn, iree washer, dryer, dt-street parking, evailabte \(5 / 15\). Cal \(492-3199\)
Now feating For Fall 2000 Large 5 bedroom house Now E.ening For Fallans S . Newty remodeled Bathrooms and paint. Heat inctuded! Oft Street Parking, Jaundry room and Bar. Great Locationl Call 637-5779.

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR DR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. TWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED

476-9933

\section*{GBEDROOM HOUSE
Spacious six bedromm, Furnished House, widishwaster and six lange bedrooms and widishwaster and six large bedforms and garage. Washer and dryer in building.
CALL
\(430-5188\) after \(1: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)}

Large Single Family lurnished house. Parking fireplace, Itee laundry, dishwasher, mature tenants 682.3304

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM
APARTMENTS, AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHHLL.COM SUBLET

SERVICES

\section*{Travel}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
SpRIGG 日REAK- GRAQ WEEK \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN.JAMAICA'NASSAU Space is limited CALL TODAY!! 800-293-1443
Bww.StudentCity.com

\section*{Spring Break 2000 \\  \\ ank}

Spring Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 Nights 5279 I Includes Meals! Anesome Beaches Nightile! Departs From Florida! Panama City Room with Kitche:. Next To Clubs. 7 Parties Free Drinks \($ 129\) ! Daytona Moom With Kitchen $149! South Beach (Bars Open Until 5amy $159 COcOa Beach (Near Disney) $179!

\section*{MISC.}

\section*{AF NOTE FROM THE DAILY OAANGE:} As always, please use caution when replying or being replied trom ary advertisement in cach issue. tor The Daiy Orange ooes not take re. issue, tor the Daly Orange ooes not take re sponsibility tor any misconduct tesulting in con tact berween yourselt and actertiser.

\section*{NOTES}

SIU star suspended The NCAA suspended St. John's star point guard Erick Barkley for three games tuesday

The punishment reportedy came about atter Barkley traded his Jeep Cherokee for a bigger but older Ford Expedition that belonged to a family frienc.

St. John's is appealing the ruling. saying that Barkley and the family mrend had a pre-existing relationship.

We're not happy with it," SJU head coach Mike Jarvis said. "It's not fair There's no appeal process. Even if you do, the kid doesn't get the games back.. he suspension will include the Red Storm loss to boston College Past sakurday, its win at ond sate ons arinst villano

UConn duo reinstated Connecticut freshman basketballers Tony Robertson and Doug, ed after have been reinstat pended last was Huskies head coach \(m\) Cainoun has cot to decide when - or if to will allow the players to return to the team

Both are still being vestigated for being charges stemming from an incident where the players might have gotten mer chandise improperly from workers at Timberland. a etail store in Westfarms mall.
According to several eports, no tickets were ever exchanged for the merchandise. If tickets were exchanged. it would be a NCAA violation

\section*{Hawkins arrested}

Continuine a series of fi-court incidences for the itt men's tasketba! team, Isaac Hawkins was arrested Monday for charges that might involve marjuana possession.

Neighbors complained about the strong smell of marijuana coming from Hawkins' apartment. When police responded, marijuaaa was found in the home. Hawkins was redshirted this season after breaking is leg in November
Last fall, center Chris Seabrooks pleaded guilty harassment and disor o 0 day suct and received ooday suspended sen Rava. Freshan Donat eartier this season for an anker his season for last year former Panther Fred Primus was arrested on theft charges during a road trip to vilianova.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who holds the NFL record for most sacks in one game?
yesterday's trivia: Q. When was the last time Syracuse beat Seton Hall in the Carrier Dome? A. The Orangemen defeat ed the Pirates \(93-60\) on Jan. 28, 1997.

\title{
[sports] \\ Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange Fcbruary 9, 200016 \\ BY GREG BISHOP
}

Beth Record, showr last year ageinst Notre Dame, leads the Orangrowormen aghinst St John's

\section*{Loss brings reality to SU \\ Stop crying in your beers, Syracuse bas-} ketball fans, and wake up to reality.

The Seton Hall loss was about as n as \(a\)

Sure, now SU can't brag about its elite status as the proud owne

Connor Ennis
sports

\section*{opinion}
maintains is its very the six or seven terams with ans extrenely egritimate shot at a trip to the Final Four and a spot in the national championship game.

And let's be honest - people remember the games that happen before March like hey remember their Science for the 21st Century notes the day affer the final.

The 1999 Orangemen could have set all he regular-season records they wanted and drawn comparisons to the \(1586-87\) national But this team's lecracy will come from its performance in the thind month of the now

See WAKE page 15

Preston Shumbpert and the rest of the Oramgernon suffered theif first loss

\section*{St. John's

\section*{St. John's invades invades Manley Manley tonight} tonight}

Staff Writer
The Syracuse women's basketball team is frustrated and sick of losing

More importantly though, players and and hat has not played up to its potential while and dressing the nine players left on an injury depleted squad.

With just eight games remaining in its egular season, Syracuse (8-11, 1-7 Big East ooks to piek up its first win since jan 19 When it hosts St. John's \((8-12,3-7)\) at 7 p.m. tonight in Manley Field House.
it's frustrating, but were also trying to Urr it around, point guard Jakia Ervin said. We still have to have high spirits and high ex pectations of ourselves because I still think were a great team. It's just a matter of show ing it gameday.

Both teams enter tonight's game in a posi tion that mirrors their matchup in the Big Last fournament one year ago

After finishing one game behind St. John' in the regular season, Syracuse found itself fac ing the dohnnics in a first-round contest. SJU put an end to the Orangewomen's season with a \(79-62\) victory, where Syracuse struggles coninued.

Beth Record posted a valiant effort with 17 points and seven rebounds in the loss, but SU played poor basketball throughout the afternoon. Tonight, both teams enter the game near the basement of the Big East. St. Johns rides a wo game conference wing streak inta the contest comparsd Esh See FRUSTRATION page 12

\section*{Big men highlight third Battle week}

Point guard was the featured position during the 1998-1999 college basketball season Floor generals such as \(\qquad\)

\section*{Ryan Stalzer} battle for the bottles hald Ei-Amin put upbig successful seasons.

This year, though, it's the big men who are grabbing the attention. It seems like the blocked shot is a bigger factor than it has been for several seasons.
Here's a look at some of the centers who are making a bif impact.

Loren Woods (Arizona) - Woods tied the NCAA record for blocks in a game when be swatted away 14 Oregon shots Feb. 3. He's the Kats leading bcorer at 15.2 points a game. Ken Johnsion (Ohio State) - Despite not playing organized basketball until high school, center has cieveloped into a atartiog Big Ten nation in blocked shots. 5.4 bper leads (5.4 bpe) but lacks diver

Kenyon Martin (Cincinnati) - Martin has See BATTLE page 15

\section*{Under COVERS}

College students deep into work need to make time for sleep.
See Lifestyle.

\author{

}

[do.

\section*{Professor contests accusations}

Former music law TAs question harassment charges against Flemma

\section*{BY TIFFANY LANKES}

\section*{Asst. News Editor}

Former music industry professor Jay Flemma appealed his case to Syracuse University at the close of the 1999 Fall Semester in response to harassment complaints filed aggainst him with the Office of Judicial Aftairs and the Syracuse Police Department.

An SU senior had been receiving unwanted e-mails and phone calls from Flemma since October, according to a police report. A complaint concarning the incidents was reported to Judicial Ahairs at the end of the fall semester, Flemma said.

The senior declined to com ment. Judicial Affairs removed Flemma, who is a lawyer for music companies, from his position Jan. 13 af ter several students from his class filed complaints of sexual harass nissal in a one paragraph letter Flemma said.

His appeal to Judicial Affairs asks them to reconsider his position, he srid.

I have been informed that they have accepted my appeal and it is valid and running," Flemma said. "I absolutely deny everything that is in the young lady's complaint. There were a lot of ties that were told." The senior filed a harassment complaint Tuesday with the Police Department because Flemma repeatedly stopped by her place of employment looking for her. Flemma formerly was an adjunct professor that instructed a weekly music law class of about 60 students during fall semesters.

Flemma said that he had not been aware that the senior was filing a report against him with the Police Department

He went to the senior's place of employment because he was using the building's resources for his appeal, he added.
"I was there on legitimate business," he said. "Also to bring the lady up on charges for filing a false complaint.

Flemma appealed to Judicial Affairs in an effort to clear his credibility as a professor and what he said are false accusations against him, he said

TVe been at the university too long to let anything go by without fair process," he said. "I love Syracuse and I love teaching. My appeal is in and I want this to be done fairly and by the rules."

In the senior's 14 -page complaint to Judicial Affairs, she listed one of Flemma's former teaching See FLEMMA page 6

\section*{- Police Reports:}

\section*{Car break-ins plague campus}

\section*{Staff Reports}

Two unidentified men attempted to rob a 1989 Jeep Cherolee Monday on the 200 block of Euclid Avenue, according to a police report

A neighbor walking his dog witnessed two black men break ing into the car, the report said. ing into the car, the report said. suspects off,' said the car's owner, a Syracuse University senior information studies major. "I had noticed the suspects' cars earlier, noticedally parked. I really didn't think anything about it at the time though."

The owner said the men used a hammer to break the window of the Jeep.
"They left the hammer in my car," he added.

Police arrived at the scene at about 3 a a.m., the owner said. The suspects took nothing of value from the car, the regort

The only thing the suspects took was a bottle of windshield washer fluid," the owner said
- An unidentified person broke into a car the morning of Jan. 3i at SU's West parking lot off Van Buren Street, according to a police report.

A law school student parked her 1995 Jeep Cherokee in the lot at 9:30 a.m., the report said. "When I came back to the West lot. I noticed that the vent window was broken," the student said.

See COPS page 8

Campus campaign

First Lady and U.S. sematorial candidate Hillary Rodhan CInton spenkes to a sold-out crowd Wednesday aftemoon in Gold'stein Auditorium. Clinton spoke of issues regirding education reform. See Nows Extra, page 3.

\section*{- Multicultural Affairs}

Obumselu describes myths

BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Many misconceptions of African culture exist outside the continent, one of them being the perceived frivolity of African myths, said Nigerian newspaper director Ben Obumselu Wedaesday.

Obumselu, the director of Post-Express Newspapers in Lagos, Nigeria, described a superstition in his village that provides an unorthodox cure for snakebites. The story was part of a lecture hosted by the African Student Union in Bird Library.

The snakebite cure is based on the belief that the snake follows the victim home after it bites. When the snake arrives at the home of its victim, it hides under See OBUMSELU page 8 an African Student Union sponsored event Wednes day night.

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

Arnold Small, author, dies at 73
LOS ANGELES Amold Small, an authority on the birds of California and author of books that became staples in the backpacks of dedicated bird watchers, has died at age 73.

Smaill, a veteran teacher of biology, zooloEy and omithology, died Monday in Los Angeles after a long iliness.

The witer and photogs rapher, himself an avid birder, was so highly respected that his name was often cited beside John Jarnes Audubon as an authority on Califomia and Westem birds.

Small's wellHoved books included "Birds of the West," and "Birds of Califormia". Small tawght for more than 35 years, moving from high school classrooms to Los Angeles Harbor College and then UCLA.

Sister Ida Peterfy, pioneering nun, dies LOS ANGELES Sister Ida Peterfy, wio founded a forward Hooking order of nuns that was one of the first in the country to eschew wear ing the traditional habit, died Tuesday after a long struggle with Peterfy began the Society Devoted to the Sacred Heart, dedicated to religious education, in her native Hunglary in 1940. During Wortd War I she helped hide several Jewish farnilies from the Nazis, and when Commurist rule came to Hungary she was able to keep the group together by creating a cover organi zation - a secretarial school for typing and shorthand.

Low-fare airline set to make its debut When David Neeleman's newest ven ture, jet Elue Airways, takes its maiden flight Friday from John F. Aitport to Buffalo \(\mathrm{N} Y\) Aitport ta Butfalo, N.Y., will have a \($ 130\) million will have a \($ 130\) milion to keep it aloft That seed money has That seed money has allowed Neeleman o create a low-fare air like no other in the like no other in the United States, for only United States, for only \($ 49\) to \($ 159\) each way $169 to Fort Lauderdale and Tampa, Fla.

Despite charging low fares and facing intense fares and facing inte competition for New competition for York travelers,
Neeleman, 40, said Neeleman, 40, said jetBlue should start becoming profitable by becoming profitable by next year. His formula for success is based on for success gior service, including on time departures and friendly crew members.

\section*{Forbes bows out of race}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Steve Forbes abruptly quit the presidential race Wednesday after spending more than four years and \($ 76\) million on a quest that helped shape Republican thinking but won him little personal following.

The multimillionaire publisher made his decision after finishing third in Tuesday's Delaware primary, which he won in 1996 ing his first try for president.
ghis first try for president.
By abandoning the race, Forbes sets up a two-man contest for the Republican nomination between Texas Gov, George W. Bush and Sen. John McCain of Arizona.

Both immediately laid claim to Forbes' modest base among antiestablishment Republicans and foes of the Internal Revenue Service. Alan Keyes, the former Reagan administration diplomat, also remains in the race.

With the Forbes vote there for the taking, analysts differed over which candidate would benefit most. Many thought Bush would quickly gather up Forbes conservative support. But McCain could also make gains by consolidating those anti-Bush voters who favored Forbes.

In a larger sense, Forbes' departure represents a setback for the social-conservative wing of the Republican Party, which has lost considerable influence and now lacks a viable candidate heading lacks a viable into Alone among early Republican dropouts, Forbes does leave can dropouts, Forbes does leave some legacy. The ideas think tanks from conservative think osinaand pushed to the fore - most notably his flat-tax proposal and adtably his flat-tax proposal and advocacy of medical savings accounts and privatization of Social counts and privatization of So Security - will likely endure.

ecurity - will likely endure. to endorse Bush, McCain or Keyes.

\section*{national news}

\section*{FBI launches computer query \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. - \\ Drug possesion cancels flight \\ LOS ANGELES - A Dallas} FBI officials said Wednesday they are launching the largestever computer crimes investigation to catch the perpetrators of a series of cyberattacks that have temporarily crippled some of the world's most popular Web sites.

The attacks disrupted service for millions of Internet users by temporarily overloading Web sites starting with Yahoo.com on Monday, sweeping through others including auction site ebay on Tuesday and, on Wednesday, pummeling Ieading financial sites such as ETrade.com and Datek, plus the ZDNet news site.

The aggressive government response, involving Attorney General Janet Reno, reflects not only the Internet's central role to the nation's economy, but a sense among officials that it is also an communications tool.

Authorities said they have not identified any suspects, and some FBI officials speculated that the crimes could be the work of overseas terrorists "trydetriment of the United States."

\section*{Hijackers let 85 hostages go free \\ LONDON, Feb. 10 - Armed} hijackers holding an Afghan jetliner at London's Stansted Airport released about 85 of their 151 hostages early today - including most of the women and children - but then they sealed up the airjack dramn continues into its fifth day. Cay. Essex County Police spokesman Joe Edwards said the ficials began their first faco-to-face talks with two of the hijacisers.

Despite continuous radio negays, police said Wednesday they man carrying two bottles of the hallucinogen PCP ahoard an American Airlines flight departing Los Angeles International Airport forced the flight's cancellation Wednesday after fumes from the chemical filled the cabin with an odor shortly before takeoff, authorities said.

Police arrested Ryan Redd, 25, on suspicion of possession, transportation and intent to sell an estimated 16 ounces of the illegal drug - called phencyclidine - after he was detained by members of the flight crew. Redd is believed to have been under the influence of the drug when he was arrested, police said.

Redd was aboard American Airlines Flight 690, which was scheduled to leave Los Angeles International Airport at 1:15 a.m. Wednesday. As the plane began moving, several crew members and passengers reported a strong chemical odor that was making them nauseated, police said.

Crew members told police Redd began pouring the contents cushion, police said, apparently afraid he would be caught with the \section*{world news}

still had received no clear demands from the group holding the Ariana Airlines plane.

There has been considerable speculation, both here and in Afghanistan, that the whole episode is a plot to escape from Afghanistan by people who could not get out any other way.

\section*{Priest arrested for} bishop's death

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador - The Roman Catholic priest who is a key suspect in the death of a crusading bisinop was arreated Wednesday, further raising expectations that the murder may be solved before the two-year anniversary of the killing in April.

Father Mario Orantes was drug. Redd faces felony charges. American Airlines officials could not be reached for comment Hillary shocked by rival's accusation

NEW YORK CITY - An angry Hillary Rodham Clinton, leveling her most direct attack yet, said Wednesday that she was "appalled" at a fund-raising letter signed by New York Mayor Rudolph Giuliani that accused her of "hostility to American religious traditions."

But in what has becomean almost daily slam against her from City Hall, Giuliani stood by the letter, first sent in October, as "making very, very clear the difference that exists between Hillary Clinton and me."

The fracas involving churchstate distinctions began with a story in the Village Voice about the eight-page letter, which calls her "an agent of the which calls her says the "left-wing elite" supports says the left-wing elite" supports the posting of (who) have banned the posting of even the Ten Com-

It was at a hastily called ear. ly-morning news conference in y-morning news conference in Methodist, called Giuliani's letter to conservatives "outrageous" for "injecting religion into this race."

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

The New York Public Interest Research Group hosts a general interest meeting at 7 p.m. in the Hall of Languagus, Director Chris Meyer will speak.
- UU Cinemas presents Monty Python and the Holy Grail at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Admission is free.
- The College for Human Development hosts Michael Jeffries, chairman of the board and CEO of Abercrombie and Fitch at 3:30 p.m. in 108 Slocum Hall.
\(\square\) The Mental Health Association of Onondaga County hosts a class for separating or divorcing parents from 7 to 9 p.m. at 3049 E. Genesee St. The class will address parenting, emotional and legal issues.
- Landmark Theatre presents The Moody Blues at 8 p.m. Call 475-7979 for ticket information.

The Caribbean Student Association presents "Voices from Robben Island," a film about a South African political prison, from 7 to Maxwell Auditorium.
- Sigma Iota Alpha sisters host "A Night of African Dance" at 7:30 p.m. in Schine Student Center, Room 304 B . Certified dancing instructor Kishema Malik will present to teach dances.

\section*{TODAY-FRIDAY}

The Chabad House Jewish Student Organization and broth ers of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity host the creation of the "Wall of Good" in Schine Student Center. Students are en couraged to affix a paper brick to a display in Schine to celebrate friendship and kindness.
- The Sarah A. Coyne Gallery hosts "3 Presses," an art show displaying a group of recent monoprint works, in the Com Art Facility.

\section*{FRIDAY}

Newhouse \(I\) hosts a "Job
Hunt Marathon" from 2 to 5 p.m. in Room A2.
- Perc Place presents the Big Comedy Show at \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Schine Dining. The show features SU stand-up comed Dave Malkoff. Admission is free.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443.2127 . Submail at news@dailyorange.com.
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published Monday chrough Friday during Syracuse Universiry's academic year by The Daily Orange Cop. The D.O. by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the fish ive copies complementary and each additional copy costs SI.

Management 443-9798
Business 443-2314
News 443-2127
\(\begin{array}{rr}\text { Liferyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Sporrs } & 443-2208\end{array}\)
Photography 443-9795
Art 443-5938
E-mail editorialedailyorange.com

\title{
Clinton addresses education
}

The First Lady sighs a photo Wadnasday for Julia Cotton, a freshman from East Greenwich, R.f aftor her speech. Cfinton, \(a\) candidate for the U.S. Senate, spoke about education reform.

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Staff Wrter
First Lady Hillary Rotham Clin ton called politics the art of making ton called politics the art of making possible what first scems impossible possine what furst seems impossible to Syracuse University.

Clinton, a U.S. Senate candidate for New York state, accepted an invitation to campus by the SU College Dernocrats to speak of her public education proposals.

During the hourlong speech, Clin ton also urged the more than 2,600 students and community members in attendance to actively engage themselves in the country's political process. "I want this to be a people's camprign, especially a young people's campaign," Clinton told a filled Goldstein Auditorium. "We have mare to do for your life and my daughter's life to set the tone for what we do as a ration.

Audiences also viewed the speech via-satellite in the Schine Underground and Hendricks Chapel. Clinton made brief visits to both the Underground and Hendricks to speak with audience mernbers following the speech.
"I very much echo the importance of youth involvement in politics," Clin ton said. "It is the price we pay for progress in a democratic nation.

Clinton also rebuked a letter, dis tributed by likely kepublican opponent New York City Mayor Rudolph Giuliari's campaign this week. The lett

Barry Wells, SU vice president of student affairs and dean of student relations, welcomed Clinton to the podium, where she was seated with Collcge Democrats President Christina Hinchey mond Vice President Anthony Quirn.

State Assembly Majority Leader Michael Bragman, who endorsed Clin Michact run for the Senate seat, disputed Clinton's "cappetbagger' criticism.
"There are some who say that Hillary Clinton docs not deserve our support because she was born in Ihi nois, she lived in Arkansas and Washington, D.C.," Bragman said. "I say non sense. Have you ever heard anyone tel Etan Thomas You can't be an Orange man because you're from Oklahoma?"

\section*{Education proposals}

Throughout the speech, Clinton outlined ways to improve U.S. public education. She advocated smatler class sizes, greater emphasis on technology, more al location of kesources and higher educa-

See CLINTON page 6

First Lady dismisses anti-religion allegations

\section*{GY KEVIN TAMPONE}

Staff Writer
U.S. Senate candidate Hillary Rodham Clinton accused New York City Mayor Rudolph Giuliani of false

Wersonal attacks noon during her specch in Syracuse University's Goldstein Audito rium:

I want to talk about the issues New Yorkers about," Clinton aid to an audi Gilliant 1500 - I want to run a campaign based on issucs. I want to bring people together. I want to unite New Yorkers, not divide them.:

Clinton, a Democrat, officially announced her candidacy Sunday at State University of New York at Purchase for New York state's U.S. Senate seat in the November 2000 elections. Gíuliani, Clinton's likely Republican rival, has not ollicially announced his candidacy

Clinton's accusations of personal attacks are a response to a fundraising letter Giuliani sent to potential canservative donors in October. The letter accuses Clinton of having anti-religious views. for rar statements like that," Clinton said. "I ask all New Yorkers to take a stand against that.

The letter described Clinton's criticism or Giuliani's withdrawal of subsidies from the Brooklyn Museum of Art because of an exhibit he tained a painting that depicted the

See GIULIAN: page 7

\section*{Bragman endorses Clinton, aids in campaign}

\section*{BY TIFFANY LANKES}

\section*{AND MAGIN MCKENNA}

\section*{AND MAGI
Staff Writers}

New York state Assembly Majority Leader Michael Bragman delivered a speech Wednesday advocating his aupport for First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton's senatorial campaign.

Before Clinton spoke in Goldstein Auditorium Bragman, a 1963 Syracuse University graduate, ad dressed her political expertise and crive for success.

Hillary Clinton has the experience, vision and dri ve to be a winner this November," Bragman said. There is no better place for her to be.
"How fortunate we are in New York to have a person believe in our dreams.

The SU Office of Government and Community Re lations selected Bragman to give the introduction be cause of his close political and personal ties with Clin ton, said Kevin Morrow, an SU spokesman.
"The office maintains a regular dialogue with Rep. Bragman" Morrow said. "They worked closely together to coordinate the event.

Bragman was an obvious choice to present Clinton to the SU community because he is from the Syracuse area and has SU Collece Demperats President Christina party, said SU College Democrat and policy stadies ma jor. Bragman hosts campaign events for Clinton in the Central New York area, said Dan Weiller, a Bragman spokesman.
"I thin

Ithink you could describe Rep. Bragman as Clinton's most important supporter in this area," Weiller said. Throughout all this time, he has been in regular ural at introducing her.*

ADEET DESHMUKKH/The Daily Orange Cimton speaks to an audience of 1,500 in Goldsteln Audforium after an Introduction by Rep. Ahchael Braghan.

WU students seemed to also respond well to Clinton, Weiller said.
"She is an exciting candidate," he said. "People want to be around her."

He added that Clinton's address was a good chance for students to become informed of her policies.

The College Democrats, the SU Office of Student Affairs, Public Safety and other departments, worked to gether to organize Clinton's visit, he added.

While the exact cost of the event has yet to be determined, it is about \($ 10,000\), Morrow said

SU absorbed all of the event's costs, with the excep to be paid by the College Democrats. The Student Gov-erament Association, however, denied the College Demornent Association, however, denied the Coliege Deolated the finarice code and was not processed in time.

The College Democrats paid the fee with private funds, Hinchey said.
aid "verything went according to plan." Hinchey Clinton's visit positively demonstrates the university's ability to host major political figures, Mor row said.
is certainiy an historical event whenever First Lady comes to the university," he said. "Especially one who is pursuing a Senate seat."

In addition to her stop at SU, about 200 people attended Clinton's \($ 500\) per-plate fundraising dinner on Wednesday night at the Militon J. Rubenstein Museum or Science and Technology, Hinchey said.
it went very well," Hinchey said. "It was very positive. She's a dynamic speaker.

Bragman's olfice orgamized the dinner
City of Cortland Mayor Bruce Tytler attended the vent to endorse Chinton as New York state"e Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate seat.
"The Bragmans are close friends of ours," Tytler said. "I am a very big supporter of good Democrats runaing for office."

Although Clinton is an Illinois native and has never lived in New York state or held public office, Tytier said she is a stronger candidate than her likely opponent, New York City Mayor Rudolph Giuliani

Consider the source," Tytler said. "They cannot atack her ideas and abilities. She knows more sbout Upstate than her opponent. She hasn't been living in a vacumm for the past eight years."
Hinchey said

\section*{Fraternity discusses race, shows documentary}

BY JOY DAVIA
Asst. Lifestyle Edito
An Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity film presentation and discussion Wednesday night explored how society's stereotypical portrayals of blacks are embedded in images of their past.

From the image of the Sambo, toiling away for his master on he plantation, to that of the brute, preying on innocent vir gins, such portrayals still exist in subtle forms, according to the film
"No matter how far I climb up the corporate ladder, Ill al ways be a Sambo or a coon," said Michaeljulius Idani, the fraternity's philanthropy chairman and Govermest Aent or the Student Government Association.

About 30 students and faculty members in the Hall of Lan guages discussed how images of the past continue to exist. They then watched Marlon Riges' documentary describing the country's deep-rooted stereotypes Ethnic Notions.

Beginning in the late 1820s. the jovial Sambo image emerged to dispel the notion that slaves were unhappy in their oppres sive state.

Other images also emerged to support this theory, including that of "Mammie," the protecto of the plantation who would do anything for her masters.

Void of any sexual allure, Mammic also served as the controlling force in her own family This pertrayal of a black woman as domineering and ugly contrasted that or the depe and sensual white woman. Minstrel shows emerged in the early 1840s, with Thomas Dartmouth Rice's exaggerated imitation of a crippled black man dancing, later called Jim Crow. White men with black corked faces would perform in these The shows became widely popular and brourbs a stereatyp ical portayal of blacks to groups whodid not interact with them on a daily basis.

To earn a living, blacks also began to play the role of minstrels, aplying cork to their faces, enlarging their lips and wearing white gloves. Although one of the most farnous biack minstrols Bert Williams, earned a lot of money, he still could not

Walk into the local pub and order a drink without facing harass ment
"It's not a disgrace being a black man, but its terribly incon venient, said an actor in the doc umentary imitating Williams.

When the civil rights move ment arrived years later, these images began to change. It became advantageous for the white dominated society to portray blacks negatively because white did not support their new free dom.

Blacks were portrayed, espe cially in movies, as a menace be cause they were no longer unde the g ter.

One image that emerged from blacks challencing the whit black or " coon." Black children were also portrayed udren aninnys" - animal-like, unkept creatures These images predaminant in certoos and chit predominant

These images still exist, but in an altered form, the film expressed. Current versions of the images include the black cop, who is more likely to engage in vio lence than their white partne and Aunt Jemima, a characte spin-off of the "Mammie" image.

\section*{Moving forward}

In a discussion that followed the film, graduate student Alberto Dominguez said most television shows do not feature many black characters.

Those that do are usually reatured in comedies - reinforc are characters to laugh at, stu dents said.
dani said he remembered watching Amos ' \(N\) ' Andy as a youth and laughing at the char acters on the show. Only when the show attempted a return to the television screen in the 1980 s did an older Idani realize that it was racist.

Ias laughing with the characters, but (whites) wer laughing at them," he said.

Even when movies like Saul Food and Love Jones that presented blacks in a positive man ner were released, other movies come along to tear apart tha progress, like the newly release movie Next Friday, Idani said.

One show that did portray blacks in a serious and dramatic role was the "Cosby Show." But it was argued that the Cosby show did not portray the typica black family, with the father as a doctor, the mother as a lawyer and children who avoided trouble With those in attendance arguing that negative and positiv portrayals of blacks on television rately represent them Cynthia Fulford the Center for Career Servios said she under cands why said she urdersands hy black trayal in the media. trayal in the media.
she said awe tive to racism, Fulford gaid the everyday.blacke to be pro-active rectify false imat when expresed by peers. peers.

Others in the audience said they felt obligated to present themselves in a way that will en hance society's images of blacks. Onten they said they find them selves as the or employee

Although some group mem bers said they were discouraged that blacks are atill combatin images of inferiority, Idani urged them to not give up and heed what they learned from the fim.
fyou don't know wher you've been, you won't know where you're at and where you're going." he said. "It's up to you to make the next step forward.

What Kind of "Impression" Are You Gonna Make at Spring Break?

\section*{ASK ABOUT OUR STUDENT SPECIAL}

DOWNTOWN
205 S. Salina st/
426-8917

FIND OUT WHAT A PERSONAL TRAINER CAN DO FOR YOU!

MENTION THIS AD FOR A FREE CONSULTATION INCL.UDING BODY FAT ANALYSIS WITH THE PURCHASE OF 10 SESSIONS

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Clinton makes up for previous snubs}

Hillary Rodham Clinton finally took a trip to the Hill - the Syracuse University Hill. It's about time.
After two snubs on last summer's listening tour, the newly-announced U.S. Senatorial candidate addressed the university community Wednesday in SUs Goldstein Auditorium.

SU boasts Central New York's eighthlargest employment force. Combine that with its hefty core of young voters from throughout the state, and a stop on the Hill should be a no-brainer for any political candidate.

Clinton caught on a bit late. But now, she's cashing in on the strength of SU's voting population, which could surely help stuff the ballot boxes in her favor this November. Calculated campaign move or not, Clinton's choice to hit SU during her preliminary upstate sweep was a natural, and smart, choice.

Critics slapped Clinton with the nasty moniker of "carpetbagger." Indeed, she has traveled a long way from the affluent Chicago suburbs of her youth to economically lagging upstate New York.

But along the way, the first lady made pit stops at the Watergate prosecution counsel table, on the boards of countless public ser-vice-minded organizations and in the firstlady pulpit on the Senate floor, where she pushed hard for health care and educational reforms.

Her experience alone makes her a viable choice for New Yorkers in the voting booth, regardless of where she called home before Chappaqua. However, she has only nine more months to make her mark in the Empire State.

Her slick campaign tour thus far, traversing the state to listen to and learn about its residents, is a well-oiled plan. It sets her a few steps ahead of her Big Apple-based competitor, New York City Mayor Rudolph Guiliani.

Clinton's quest for a slot on Capitol Hill won't be a smooth ride. But she's getting used to the map, and her recent maneuvers show that she has buckled her seatbelt and cleared for campaign-trail takeoff.
[dồ]
Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levinthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor} Editorial Editor Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor
ustin Stiverman Ashoik Selvam Holly Awer
Dave Curtis Asst. CoDy Editor Bill Ehninger Asst. Copy Editor Tom Nyer

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Media perpetuates black stereotypes, violence \\ Many of us received meager educations about}

African-Americans. In fact, many people have no clue about African-Americans beyond the information we see

\section*{KAMIKA}

\section*{MC DONALD} in the media. This not only limits a person's worldview but this is also dangerous. The media has no incentive to present acccurate-much less positive - images of African Americans. This is nothing new, but the inaccuracies are having a greate impact on the lives of black people.

Throughout history, black men have been presented as animaistic, violent and savages. Often, they were shown as subhuman beings preying shown as subhuman beings preying on the fragile white woman. With the advent of radio and television, black men were depicted as buffoons and criminals. Today, few images are presented showing what black men are really like.

Unforturnately it is easier for most people who are not black to build their assumptions from media depic tions rather than go out and meet the actual people.

These images have influenced the most violent treatment that this country has ever seen. Over the course of the twentieth century, thousands of black men were lynched for often false rape allegrations by white women. In the 1930s south, for instance, 14 year-old Emmitt Till was murdered for maling an innocent comment to white woman. Black men have been repeatedly denied access to opportunities for education and employment. And to this day, black men remain perceived as a "threat" and are the targets of sometimes fatal acts of police brutality:

Is it a coincidence that African-American men are imprisoned and given stiffer sentances than their white counterparts? I think not.

Black men are not the only victims of harmful stereotypes. Black women are perceived as stonewalls of strength. This is a fact that a number of black women are proud to admit. The black women we see in the media tend to be powerful, nurturing figures. With exception of a handful of supermodels, black women are often viewed as umnattractive by the popular eurocentric beauty standards.

In mainstream culture, people would fist mention Oprah Winfrey as an example of a black woman that is

\section*{letters}

\section*{Student unfairly outlines SEAC support, goals}

To the Editor:
I am writing in reaction to the article regarding Zac Moore. Student Environmental Action Coalition never took a stance that was in defense of Moore. Many members of the campus activism groups acted on their own to defend him. Moore never brought his issue to the groups and did not ask for support. More impor did not ask for support. More importantly, I would like to react to the blind statement of Mark Chorazak. He stat ed, a group whose blind activism Without a cause credo cloaks itself within the noble aims of liberalism. Within the noble aims of fiberalism ness speak for themselves."

The only blind and clueless subject in this statement is he who made the statement. Maybe before he speaks he should investigate what is speaks he should investigate what issues and ideas SEAC stands for before sues and ideas SEAC stands for before calling them on their actions. SEAC plays a very important role in the campus community and throughout campaigns are directly related to the students and their actions. One of SEAC's goals is to inform the student body about how their actions have larger consequences. I don't think that's the idea behind SEAC:

Fight environmental degradation
Recognize the impact of the environment on human individuals and cormmunities:
- Support human rights
- Support animal rights
- Demand corporate responsibility
- Fight class inequalities
- Fight racism
- Fight homophobia and hetero-
- Fight imperialism and militarism
- Have a diverse membership
- Develop an activist rather than a volunteer approach
- Link our issues to local, community concerns

SEAC National exists to empower the grassroots through training and education. We view national campaigns as one of the tools to accom plish these goals.

Maybe, before Chorazak chooses to malse "blind" remarks about the or ganization, he should open his eyes to the issues that directly impact himself and the future of our planet. Do you see what I am saying? Get involved and stand for what you believe int

Chad Mason
Class of 2000
both strong and powerful not only economically but also personally An overwhelming view of black women is that they are stern, perhaps even dominecring.

These images of black women has led mainstrear society to ignore the concerns of black women. Feriaps, they tend to be depicted as superhuman creatures. Black they tend to be depicted as superhuman creatures. Black women are scen as being able to withstand any personal of life. Medical research on diseases such os heart disease, that lill more black women than any other group are oniy that hill more black women than any other group are ondressing that black women should play a more now addressing that black wo

The role of black women as emotional towers of strength has made black women shy away from the needed counseling and psychiatric help they may desperately need. While young girls of all ethnicities doubt their nor malcy, young black girls deal with these worries even more trequently bespite statistics showing that young and their bodies in comparison to other racial groups, they are their bodies in comparison to other racial groups, they are target. I doubt these surveys took that fact into consideration.

The hurtfinl aspect of these distinctions is that they are accepted as fact across the board. There is no room these perceptions here at Syracuse University. People assume that certain groups dress and act in similar ways. Some whites have given "ghetto" parties where they have all dressed in clothes commonly worn by those who are into hip-hop music. The party attendees adopt a way of speaking that is ofter heard in black circles but not characteristic of all black people.

Few people take time to see the truth behind these stereotypes. If you really want to know about African Americans, the education that personal interaction and books provide a much more valuable insight than the medias misrepresentations

Kamika Mc Donald is a sophomore broadcast journalism and African American studies major. Her column appears on Thursdays in The Daily Orange E-mail her at himcdona@syredu.

\footnotetext{ Fight sexisin
}

The Daily Orange

\section*{CLINTON}
continued from page 3
tional standards for teachers and students.

Clinton also called for an end to social promotion, the practice of advancing students who do not have the necessary skills to the next grade level.

We only cheat our children when we expect less of them than we should," Clinton said. "But we cannot raise standards without making sure schools have the resources they need."

State teachers who are not qualified to maintain a classroom should be removed from the school system, Clinton said. Teachers must be tested for qualfication skills and evaluated by their peers, she added.
"We need to remove from the classroom anyone who is not making the grade and not turn to gimmicks like school vouchers," Clinton said. We have tried vouchers and seen that they make no real difference. They divide communities and provide a distraction."

Clinton is a proponent of charter schools, however, and recognized their potential to better public education.
"If they're properly done, then run with them," Clinton said. "Im for choice in public schools."

Charter schools, legalized in the state last year, are privatelyrun institutions that receive public funding. They often offer a specialized educational focus not taught in public schools.

\section*{Recruiting teachers}

Clinton proposed a program to provide annual scholarships to 60,000 college students if they com mit to careers in education. The program aims to eventually build a national corps of 75,000 teachers.

There are students in college who would like to be teachers but can't afford it because they have to pay back so much debt when they graduate college," Clinton said.

She proposed another program to provide financial bonuses for 15,000 professionals interested in making a career switch to education, Clinton said.
"We've seen this work in the Defense Department, when retired military officials teach in schools," Clinton said. "There's nothing like a retired army sergeant to bring order to the schools of New York."

The creation of a national research clearinghouse that lists nationwide job opportunities in education would also aid in re cruiting teachers into the profession, she added.

People with interests in becoming educators are often not aware of available job opportuni ties in the ficld, she said.

A moreserious threat to public education is the loss of qualified teachers to retirement or higher paying jobs, Clinton said. New York City alone could lose 72 percent of its teachers to retirement next year, she added.
"I've met a lot of teachers who say they don't get enough respect to stay in a classroom," Clin ton said. "No teacher should be afraid of their students.

More often than not, public educators spend more time disciplining insubordinate children than they do in front of the chalkboard, Clinton said. She proposed sending these students to alternative schools where they can get the help they need without disrupting their classmates' studies.

\section*{2000 SUMMER EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{RESIDENTIAL/NON-RESIDENTIAL Conference Support Positions Available}

\author{
-Assist with arrangements for Academic/Sport Camp Programs-
}

\author{
Qualifications Include: \\ - Customer Service Experience \\ -Clear, Effective Communication \\ - Familiarity with Campus facilities helpful \\ For further information or to obtain att application packet, please contact: \\ THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCE SERVICES 621 Walnut Ave., Syracuse, NY 13210 443-1347
}

To earn a million dollar bill such as this one working at the Syracuse University Literacy Corp's

\section*{$8/Hour Pay Rate}
you would only have to work 125,000 hours. That is pretty good compared to the 190,476 hours you would have to work at the average work study job. Besides, working for the Syracuse University Literacy Corps allows you to do something good for yourself and the community. The position involves helping children learn to read and being a part of an exciting new literacy initiative in Onondaga County. In addition to being serious about literacy and having experience working with children, you must also have the following availability to apply:

\section*{Two days a week from 10 am-2 pm or Two days a week from 1:30 pm-4 pm} If you are interested, come to the Center for Public and Community Service, room 237 in the Schine.

Clinton shared an experience with the audience about her visit to Buffalo earlier this week. Clinton met a young girl who had once lacked interest in her tion and future, she said.
"She told me how her life was turned around by an afterschool program," Clinton said. "It just clicked for her. There was a woman there who believed in this girl and it made a big difference."

But the first foundation for strengthening a child's education begins in that child's home, Clinton said. She said that even if her programs were put in place, they would only work if children come would only work if child

Clinton recalled the beginning of her career as an attorney when she worked for the Children's Defense Fund. In the early 1970s, Clinton participated in a study that evaluated enrollment in public schools and investigated why students were not attending class, she said

I met children who weren't in school because they were taken out at the age of ten to help their family make a living," Clinton said. I met children who were kept out of schools because they were disabled. I met children Who were so poor that their families could not afford to buy them lies could not afford to buy them jackets and boots for the winter.Clinton urged constituents to demand more federal money to be spent on restoring dilapidated schools and updating curricula in schools and updating curricula in terms of technology and the context of topics studied.
"I have been in schools where plaster is literally falling of the walls," Clinton said. "If we believe we can make possible what appears to be impossible, that's what we will do. We will improve our schools."

\section*{Speech reaction}

Fayetteville resident Eileen Tobin travelled to SU with her 17-year-old daughter Melissa to hear Clinton speak. A longtime Clinton supporter, Tobin agreed with Clinton's ideas to raise standards for teachers.

I have a daughter in her third year in college and a daughter in her third year of high school," Tobin said: "It's nice to know my youngest daughter has a potential to receive more financial aid."

Bonnie Carver, a graduate student in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, called Clinton's speech "inspirational."
"I think it's important that we have more women representing us," she said. "The personal trials she"s been through show that she has an understanding of life.

But Justin Wolfort, an undeclared freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences, questioned Clinton's chances of winning the Senate seat in a primarily conservative state.
"She didn't touch too strongly on why she's decided to make her political leap in New York" Wolfort said. "She could have explained why she thinks this is the right place for she thinks this is the right place for her to start, especialiy in regard to the "carpetbagger' accusations."

\section*{FLEMMA}

\section*{continued from page 1} assistants as a witness. The TA, however, said the victim did not consult her before using her name in he report.
"I wasn't aware when she filed any of the complaints," the TA said. II feel very strongly against false accusations. I don't want to be a part of any of this. It's bullshit."

Senior Lucas Roclclin, another TA for Flemma's class, said that Flemma had kept him well-informed of the complaints being filed against him by the senior.

The victim's complaint contained many fabricated incidents, Rocklin said.
"There's a lot of ulterior motives behind what she did," Rocklin said. "Because of this case, she did n't have to tase the final. She didn't have to do the final paper. She saw a way to get around him.

Flemma's relaxed teaching style and friendly relationships with students may have discour aged some students from trusting his teaching abilities, he added.

Students were frequently invit
terial that had not been discussed in class, Rocklin said.
\({ }^{4} H\) is style of \(t\). tremely tremely unorthodox," he caid. "Tve never had a professor talk to me like he could before. He's been my teacher and my mentor."

Flemma's dismissal by Judicial Affairs was not attributed to the sexual harassment charges, but to various other complaints brought against him, Rocklin said. The decision to release him was based more on pressure from the family of the victim than on fact, he added
"They didn't know what to do, so they released him," Rocklin said. "It's upsetting and depressing watching him go through this out." "He's really hurt he got pushed out."

John Vacanti, a junior television, radio and film major, also worked as a TA for Flemma's class.

While he had heard rumors of Flemma's alleged encounters with female students, Vacanti said he had never taken them seriously.
"I never saw anything that led ed to local restaurants to cover mame to believe female students would be uncomfortable around him," Vacanti said. "No one really knew something was going down."

\section*{}

\section*{GIULIANI}
continued from page 3

\section*{Virgin Mary smeared with ele-} phant dung.

Clinton attacked the mayor's actions as a violation of the artist's right to free speech protected by the First Amendment, Giuliani said in the letter.

Giuliani's letter also accuses Clinton of unfairly criticizing Texas Gov. George W. Bush's opinions of the role of religious charities in government and politics.
Clinton denied all the ach SU , Clinton denied all the accusations and criticisras in the letter. In addition to the sold-out audience at Goldstein, about 1,100 people in Hendricks Chapel and 250 in the Schine Underground watched the speech on a closedcircuit television system.
" Clinton said of then I read it, Clinton said of the letter. "It not only contained false informabut it did so in the context of rais. ing money," Giuliani supports all the claims he made in the letter and believes his opinions are the accurate truth about Clinton's views, said Kim Serafin, a Giuliani spokeswoman.
"The mayor is opposed to using hard-earned tax payer dollars for the desceration of religion," she said.

Serafin said Clinton is now using the letter to unfairly criticize the mayor's fund-raising technique and run a negative campaign. Clinton has no business accusing Giuliani of unethical fund raising. Serafin added. "She's the one that brought it into politics, not him. He didn't it into politics, not him. He didn't go and put that letter on the front "page of a newspaper," she said. "She also has a pretty checkered past as far as fund raising is concerned.n

Clinton's fund raising techniques are questionable because she uses the same network as her husband, President Bill Clinton, Serafin said. The Clintons' network had several scandals during the president's 8 -year term inthe president's 8-year term, including accusations of selling bedroom of the White House, she added. added.

Republican students at SU agree with Giuliani's views on religion and believe he is the stronger candidate.

Dean Schuler, a member of SU's College Republicans, disagreed with Clinton's candidacy so strongly, he protested her campaign dur
"Yeah, I was out there with

\section*{ \\ 3 Days Only \\ Fri, Sat, Sun: Feb. 11-13 11 am start Huge Clearance - Winter & Spring Clothing Brand New & Vintage \\ from gowns to casual clearout!}

Clinton's entire campaign is only a method she is using to eventually run for the presidency in 2004, he said.
"I feel that Hillary Clinton is a carpetbagger and she doesn't know what's good for New York state," Schuler said. "She hasn't lived in New York and she does n't understand what New Yorkers need."

Clinton's home state does not affect her potential talent as a lawmaker, however, said Amy Ferraro, a Dernocrat and public The Senate is a body where experience and skill is more important than where you live," Ferraro said. "She adequately put out why she's running. She's more than qualified."

While Clinton's approach to solving New York state's probems is not the best one, her campaign does have some value, said Bernard Schulz, a Republican and public ad
"I think she brings some really important issues to the table that are really of importance to all New Yorkers, even though I don't personally agree with her stances on them," he said. "The two of them will have some very engnging debates."

\section*{It's not too late to SAVE \($ 5\) \\ You have until February 18 to bring this coupon in and Save \($ 5\) On Community Darkrooms \\ SU Undergrad Semester Memberships! \\ Take advantage of our top of the line facilities and these great features: Full Black & White and Color Photo Darkrooms \\ G3 Computer Lab with Flatbed and Slide Scanners, CD Burner, and Film Burner - Digital Printing Facilities - Classes & Workshops \\ Community Darkrooms-Watson Theater Complex-316 waverly Ave. 443.2450}

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1
The student's purse containing an ATM card and jdentifica Lion was stolen, the report said. The purse was recovered by police at an ATM at Sam Dell Dodge on West Genesee Street, the report said.

The suspect destroyed the dashboard and took her JVC tape player, which has not been found, the report said.

Police estimated the costs of car damages at about \($ 200\), the report said.
- A 1992 Volkswagen Jetty was found broken into at about 5 p.m. Jan. 14 on the 700 block of Walnut Avenue, according to a police report.

\section*{The Daily Orange}
var's side rear window and police found the car open, the report said. The dashboard was damaged and a Sony radio/compact disc player was stolen, the report said.

Police estimated the costs of the CD player and vehicle repairs at \($ 1,150\), the report said.

An unidentified suspect also broke into a car on Livingston Av* enure that night, according to a police report.

The car, a 1998 Jeep Cheroked, owned by a junior communications design and visual performing arts major, contained several personal items that were all reported missing, the report said.
back it was the first day I got back to school," the student said. "All of my stuff was still in my car."
the student said she woke up the next morning to find the car's rear driver's side window smashed.

A Sony Discman, a Nintendo Game Boy, a USB Zip drive and a North Face fleece jacket were missing, the report said. The total cost of all missing items is est mated at \($ 1,495\), the report said.
- Police arrested two Syriasuse residents Monday night for breaking a local city ordinance at the Pita Pit on the 100 block of Marshall Street, according to a police report.

Pita Pit workers observed the suspects shooting at the store with paint bail guns.
\({ }^{\text {sA driver and }}\) I were working on Monday night making pizas," said Chris Anagnostopoulos, Pita Pit owner. . thump. When we realized what it was, we called the police.

Police found the suspects seated in a 1997 white Ford Mustang, the report said. In the car were two Vulcan ball peraphernaand other paint ball la, the report said.

Inspection of the car revealed that one of the guns -was loaded with wet paint on the barrel, the report said. The color of the paint on the gun matched the mark on the Pita Pit, the report said.

Police handcuffed and arrested the suspects. They received tickets for missile violation, the report said.

Anagnostopoulos said there is no permanent damage to the building
The two were just horsing said.

■ A car was towed Saturday night from Thornden Park, according to a police report.

Police observed a black Jeep stuck in a snow pile at about 9 pm., the report said. The car was on snow-covered grass 25 feet off of the road, the report said.

The vehicle had no occurpants. The doors were locked and the car alarm was activated, the report said.

Police issued it a parking ticket and then towed the car the report said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evans Boston

Valentine's Day
- Roses

Pick up or Campus Delivery
To Order Calf: 443-9910

\section*{OBUMSELU}
continued from page 1 the house's thatching, waiting for the family to fall asleep, Obumselu said.

At that moment, the snake pounces and removes a vital lock of hair from the head of the vida of life obumelu sid tread of life, obumselu said.

Because of this superstiion, he said, when a snake bites a villager, he does not go directly friends literally run dy and friends literally run away.

At a steady pace, the group runs nonstop for eight to nine hours, climbing walls and humbering through sand to evade the pursuit of the snake. At the enalf-dead from lack of sleep finally from lack of finally returns home, Obum self said.
"This is African superstiion at its glorious best," he said. "Does it work? Yes. If you are bitten by a snake, you should try it."

After laughter from the audience, he went on to explain how this superstition is not tohow this supers

The venom from some snakes near his village contain poisons that require victims to maintain a high level of active ty for eight to nine hours to ty for ellywork the poison out of gradually he body.
In a great many things what we call myth is really a shadow of some sort of truth," Shadow of some Obumselu said.

Many of the 40 audience members were required to atmembers were required to at tend the lecture as part of a WRY 205 class requirement.

FRT 205 class requirement.
cresting except some parts I teresting, except some parts I didn't really follow," said Becky Collins, a freshman speech communicationsmajor and Wei 205 student. "It was a little unstructured. He had a lot of good things to say, it just took a while to get going.*

After the lecture Obumselu invited audience members to ask questions and share their own experiences.

Jennifer Biribwamugumu an area resident who hopes to study at Syracuse University, said a myth in her home village in Africa does not allow women to eat chicken or fish, for fear they will grow beards.
they will grow beards.
may eat all of the chicken en may eat all of the. chicken or have it aten chicken and fish and have eaten chicken andish and I have not grown a beard."

She continued to tell of her first experience with the U.S. tradition of Groundhog Day.
"When I first came to this country, I thought they had no myths," Biribwamugumu said. Then a few days ago, I hear of his hog that comes out of the ground and says we will ix more weeks of winter
- It is like a nightmare for me," she added. "I look out the window and I see it is still mowing and the hog has said we still have six more winter."

\section*{Bbat}

Athletic assurance Some people are natur alborn athletes. Researchers have discovered a genetic reason that may explain why some people are more adept at sports than the rest of us. An article in Nature reported that some people have a slightly different form of an enzyme that helps muscles be more efficient after人 दurn DNA training. as the angiotensin-converting enzyme it is found in human sketetal muscle. Through the genetic lottery, some people inherit a slightly different version of the gene that makes A.C.E.

\section*{Think positive}

Optimists tend to live longer, healthier lives according to a study by the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MI. The study found that opti mists had a better-than-expected surviva rate and the pessimists had a 19 -per cent increase in the risk of death.
Researchers could not explain how pessimism is associated with a risk of early death, but suggested a mind-body link with optimists more positive in seeking and receiving med ical hetp.

\section*{Drinking dizziness} Even social drinking can sometimes cause \(\Theta \Theta^{\Phi}\) healthy people to faint no drunkenness but due to the way alcohol impairs the body's ability to tighten blood vessels.
Standing briefly cuts blood flow to the brain which can be why some people feel dizzy or lightheaded if they stand too quickly Normally, blood vessels adjust by narrowing or constricting to keep blood pressure steady and prevent fainting. But alcohol relaxes blood vessel walls, diminishing the ability of drinkers to adjust easily to the bloodpressure effects of standing after being seated. This change occurs even at mild intoxication levels.

\section*{quote of the day:}

From exror to etror one discovers the ntite truth.
Sigmund Freud

BY DOMINIC FRANCESE Staff Writer

A student sits in his 2:30 p.m. lecture. The professor's monotonous voice is like a lulslightly and him to slam pulls his eyelids down like window shades.

This scene shows an overworked, exhausted student- - a familiar sight on any college campus. With early classes, loads of homework and active social lives, college students are prime candidates for sleep deprivation.

at both ends," said Tom Maurer, supervisor of the Sleep Services Department at Crouse Hospital. "They stay up late at night and hey have class in the morning. College stu they have class in the morning. Col

A 1999 study conducted by the National Sleep Foundation indicated that 40 percent of adults report that daytime sleepiness af fects their daily routine.
"I'm always tired," said Erin McGivney, a senior advertising major. She admitted getting to bed at 2 a.m. during the week and much later on the weekends. This lack of sleep sometimes affects her mood.

Depriving oneself of sleep has many detri mental effects including irritability, memory loss, depression, a weakened immune sys tem, loss of libido, and becoming hyper-emotional, Maurer said.

When sleeping, the body performs essential maintenance. It rejuvenates organs replaces cells and organizes thoughts. Good sleep should be a part of a healthy lifestyle, as a good diet and exercise are, according to the Better Sleep Council.
"With eight hours of sleep, people function much better," Maurer said.

\section*{Oral sex presents HIV transmission risks}

The shades are drawn, the candles are lit - the atmosphere is warm with desire and anticipaall the way and persists that he's perfectly clean, claiming there isn't a notch on his bedpost denoting a promiscuous past. She abstains for a moment, looking sternly through his boyish charm, and replies with a no

But she's not entirely prudish: She has experience down-under and her He concedes and she proceeds. Though it may seem like a safe alternative to pregnancy and sexually-transmitted disease worries that accompany sexual intercourse, oral sex is not entirely safe. In fact, a report by the Centers for Disease

Corey
Hann health health sleuth sleuth

Control claims that the fastest growing segment of the HIV phrough oral sex.

Although the study was composed of gay males, the results can be applied to heterosexuals as well, said Dr. Fredrick Hecht of the University of San Francisco
"The main message is that while oral sex is safer than anal or vaginal sex without a condom, it is not risk-frec," he said.

Though it may seem that practicing oral sex is a safe alternative to intercourse, there are still a number of dangers that many couples are not aware of.

Jessica Hackel, a freshman education major has noticed that oral sex isn't something that students worry about much.
"I know some girls that'l use protection all the time

See SLEUTH page 11

Experience a little uncommon courtesy. A lot has been said about how enjoyable it is to buy a new Saturn. Well, just to let you know, things don't change after you become an owner. We still go out of our way to make you happy. Sometimes that means returning your car clean after an oil change. Sometimes it means lending you a hand if you lock yourself out of your car. (Oh, admit it, you've done it before.) But mostly it's just about common courtesy. And when you think about it, that kind of courtesy is far too uncommon.

Satturn of Syracuse In the Heart of Historic Aittomobile Row 716 West Genesee Street 315-472-0021

Saturn of Route 31
Just west of the Great Northern Mall 3885 Route 31 315-622-0054

\author{
SL \\ $179/month \\ LS $259/month Zcro due at lease signing 39 months No security deposit required (tax, title, license and registration are extra)
}

Payments based on 2000 Saturn SL, LS with an M.S.R.P. of \($ 12,085\) for SL, and S16,310 for LS. Thirty-eight monthly payments total \($ 6,802\) for SL and \($ 9,842\) for LS. Option to purchase at lease end for an amount to be determined at lease signing. Delivery must be taken from participating retailer by \(2 / 29100\) Mileage charge of \($ .20\) per mile over 39,000 miles. Lessee pays for excess wear. Payments may be bigher in some states. ©2000 Saturn Corporation.

\section*{R.SNTURN.}

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car.
woutu-saturn.com

SLEEP
continued from page 9
Most experts recommend between eight and 10 hours of sleep per night. That amount of come reenergized because it goes through a whole sleep cysleep helps students perform better on tests.

Maurer recalled an experiment in which 50 students were allowed to sleep seven hours other 50 were allowed to sleep as long as they could. The average sleep time for them was nine and a half hours. The students that were allowed to sleep scored six points higher than the group that slept seven hours.

Dangenous dozing that accompanies sleep dard that accompanies sleep deprimore than 200,000 accidents each year, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety

Administration.
It's also harmful to be sleepy on the job. Most indus trial accidents reportedly happen in the first 15 minutes or last hour of work, said Frank McIntyre, a registered polysomnigraphic technician at Crouse Sleep Services.

The Exxon-Valdez oil spill was believed to have been caused, in part, by reduced concentration due to lack of sleep. But many students don't realize they're more tired than they they'remore tired than they feel due to the pressures of a demanding schedule.
"When I get going on something and I'm extremely busy, there have been thinking clearly," said Matt Siket, a senior psychology major.
But toss and turn-filled nights don't have to be the norm insomniacs can easily One thing you shouldn't do is just lie awake.
"You should get up and do something boring to you," Maurer said.

He also does not recommend going to sleep watching television. He added, however, television. He added, however, that if watching TV helps you fall asleep, then that's okay.

Some things that people think will help them sleep actually have the opposite effect. For example, alcohol, can help a perexample, asleep, but it doesn't lead to quality sleep.

Alcohol fragments your sleep. It helps you go to sleep but makes you wake up carli-

People dream less frequently when they consume alcohol, Mclntyre said. Having fewer dreams is indicative of less rapid eye movement (REM) sleep, the phase where many dreams occur.

Exercise is a sleep inhibitor if it is within hours of bedtime. Maurer recommends not exercising less than two hours before to going to sleep.

Caffeine also prevents sleep for some. Maurer suggests not consuming anything with"cafly affected by caffeine, then he

The Daily Orange
February 10, 2000 suggests they do not consume any, including coffee, tea and soda.

Corporate naptime world, more and more people are napping during breaks in is becoming more accommodating to that siesta time. Yarde Metals, a company in Connecticut, has gone so far as to build a quarters. can take a nap very good, you can take a nap and feel refreshed," Maurer said. He recommends napping from 70 to a merson to go through an entire sleep cycle and wake out of REM sleep. awake and vital," Maurer wide Awakening from delta will cause "sleep drunkenness," groggy tends to take more time to bounce back to consciously trying time to get enough sleep. Students often stay up very late and sleep in the following morning.

If you create a sleep debt, at some point you re going to have to pay that debt back," Maurer said.

Many students choose to sleep in on Saturday and Sunharmfullater on when they might suffer from what Maurer for the sleep deficit catching up. If someone goes to bed ate on on Sunday, he or she will not be tired until late Sunday night or possibly early Mondiay morning - which means the person ing - Which means the person sleep that night and be sleep deprived Monday morning. The best way to combat sleep deprivation, Maurer said, is to have good sleep hygienc. thing every night, go to bed at the same time and use the bedroom only for sleep."

SLEUTH
continued from page 9 when it comes to sex, but they won't think twice about job," she said.
oral the tendency to take son to other sex acts is not uncommon. According to the many young people don't want to hurt the feelings of to use protection during oral sex. "It's almost as explicit as saying 'I don't want your

Andrew Decour, a junior civil engineering major to remember to use a condom during intercourse, let alone "It doesn't seem to come up when we're doing it," he This is part of a growing trend of young people who think they're immune to the dangers of frivolous sexual behavior. The odds are not in their favor though, and the risk factors are numerous. Risky business Ancording to Columbia Education Program, if an HIV-positive man abstains from ejaculating in his partners' mouths, the risk of transmission is lowered confluid may still carry the virus in small but deadly by In one case documented by the American Journal of Public Health, the infected woman had toyed with deep kissing and oral sex without having to swallow her partner's love potion. Later, she found out that she had been tended that she had taken every precaution that she could think of. Though her intentions may have been proactive, the bottom line is ject is the key factor to combat it. transmission of HIV through oral sex has been alarming, cautions and things to keep in mind to make things more between partners. In fact, one of our least considered defenses is an invaluable weapon.
Saliva plays a key role in blocking infection. It has the unique property of degrading virus. The enzymes in saliva that start to digest your food actually start digesting parts chance to do harm. But when an individual has canker sores or other abscesses, the virus will make its way into the bloodstream.

Prevention pointers of transmission, conventional methods of prevention such as condoms and dental dams are super-thin and soft. They have a siky natural feeling when placed against the skin and act as a perfect hygienic barrier, according to Condommania, an online distributor of sexual novelties. Condoms can be also used to perform oral sex on a woman. Although they're not ideal it is easy to cut one in ideal, it is easy to cut one in half and use it as a pseudobarrier. Hackel claims that But Hat using such methods aren't on her mind and are distracting. nitely takes a condom deftI'd never ask a fuy to put one on, \({ }^{n}\) she said.
This feeling of awkwardness usually oceurs when couples participate in casual, These individuals become less apt to use methods of protection and become complacent, because their partner is supposedly having relations with them exclusively. the time. Research conducted by the Journal of College lege men, in order to obtain sex, lie to their partners So, obviously, short-term, serial monogamy is not effective in preventing HIV infection, especially in light of these findings. tinue to run rampant conthrough our society, shocking for years to come. For the most part, efforts to prevent halt the deadly spread.

But it's when we let our guard down - like during oral sex events occur.

Corey Hann is a junior pre-medicine and philosophy cthann@syr.edu.

\section*{SPARK}
continued from page 16 left on the shot clock, Record launched a three and found nylon for a.67-66 lead.

On the next play, the Syracuse press attacked the Red Storm offense, as Record stole for an uncontested layup. The for an uncontested layup. The with \({ }^{\text {b }}\) second left in regula with 42 seconds left in regulaBut 12 seconds later, the Red Storms Latasha Thompdribble and found net for a 69 69 tie.

After a jump ball gave possession to SJU, the Red Storm had a shot for the win. But Giani Bowles launched a rattled off the backboard, and the game went to the extra session.
Syracuse and St. John's traded baskets in the extra session before James nailed her sion before James nailed her last with 2.27 remaining in night 75-70 lead that it wouldn't a linquish. Aziz Aziz and freshman guard Shannon Perry seemed to be the only two SU players who found their stroke in the first half. Perry led SU with eight points, while Aziz turned in a monstrous performance with rebounds.
Aziz and Perry kept the Orangewomen within a 34-32 deficit at halftime. But Record and James came on in the second half with 11 points apiece adding the spark that SU needed. James finished with 21 points, while Record tallied 20 . "I gave Leigh a hand be-

Saturday, February 26, 2000 8:00 pm Eastman Theatre Tickets: \($ 20.00\) UR undergraduates with UR ID \($ 25.00\) general public Seats reserved.

Tickets on sale at Wilson Commons, UR and Mi. Hope Record Arcliive. Avaitable tickets.com after Jamairy 31 actorns for further iaformation ont call 275-5911.
cause in the first half, she was the one that was doing the majority of work, her and Shannon," Freeman said. "All of a sudden it was Beth, Shannon, and Leigh that were rebounding for us. Then Jazmine Wright came in, and she got a couple of boards. And Jaime got a couple. It then becomes a team thing, and now we're in the While ball the Red Storme. not get their last-second onnot get their last-second op, portunities to fall, St. John's head coach Darce, Estep said in rebounding was the differin rebounding was the difierigh 12 rebounds to add to \(A z\) iz's 15 boards, which included eight off the offensive glass The 15 rebounds were four shy of Aziz's personal best of Aziz's personal best. Aiysha led St. John's with four boards apiece.
"It didn't come down to the last 4.5 (seconds), \({ }^{n}\) Estep said. "It didn't come down to another player in the end. It came down to the beginning of the game. We set the tone by. not boxing out."

The Orange
ig games fromgewomen needed to knock off the Red Storm on Wednesday night.

Aziz had been hobbled by a foot injury, causing her to sit out parts of several recent games. She came back to log 33 minutes in Wednesday's win.

James had been in a horrendous shooting slump, but her 21-point performance against St. John's may have brought back the attitude that James had tast yearas as S's freshman floor general.
"Everybody has certain things that's going to spark their energy and get them to play well," Aziz said. "1 think that last year, Jaime James came out and she was real spunky and kind of cocky. She spunky and kind of cocky, She had no conscience. Sometimes that can hurt you, but, hey, if are winning, you don't care."

MENTAL
continued from page 16
ter, but basically, (SU assistant coach Michelle) Bento has told me that she has all the confidence in the world in me. The only thing she fears sometimes is my mental strength."

Aziz kept her focus against St. John's as the Or angewomen posted an 84-77 angewomen posted an \(84-77\) night. She finished with il night. She finished with 14 points and 15 rebounds in 34 minutes to help SU end its four-game skid.

The junior center seemed focused from the opening tip focused from the opening tip, as she scored the Oran women's first four points.

Aziz put back an errant Jaime James shot for her Jaime James shot for her first deuce of the game, then rebounded her own miss and scored on the floor.

Aziz's buckets sparked SU's 12-4 opening run, and Syracuse head coach Marianna Freeman said that was what her team needed.
"It was just great to see us get back in that groove again," Freeman said. "I think the person who ignited that and got us started was Leigh Aziz, who came out and started to , \(h o u n d\) for us she had a lot of energy had a lot of energy and

After SU's fast start, After SU's fast start, St. John's closed to within two at 12-10. But Aziz came up point play. She muscled her point play. She muscied her way down low for a and sank the foul shot.

Aziz only scored those seven points in the first half, but she also helped SU dominate the boards. The 6 -foot- 1 center corralled 10 rebounds,

She also played solid defense throughout the game against the 6-foot-4 Tynisha Myles, holdingher to 12 points, half of which

Freeman said she expects this sort of performance out *pain relief * sports performance EGe GUA ffin Nolan, LMT (3ieftudine Crelot, LMT 475-9164

of her post players.
"There is no question on the rebounding end, we got exactly what we needed, Freeman said. "We still need to work on the defensive end, but at halftime I said to our post that we had to pick it up post that we had to pickit up played better defense."

Aziz continued her strong offensive play in the strong offensive play in the ing to a three-point lead, Aziz faked a shot, drew the de. faked a shot, drew the de* fense and dished off to Shan non Perry for an easy layup, Two offensive sets later, Aziz took a pass from Beth Record and kissed a basket Record and kissed a basket off the glass. The hoop put the Orangewomen anead

But that would be Aziz's last field goal of the game. last field goal of the picked up her fourth foul with 11:37 remaining and went to the bench.

Aziz's leadership seems to stretch to all facets of basketball. With Jamie James struggling mightily over the strugging mightily over the pase from Azizhelped the vice from Aziz helped the sophomore guard points against SJU.
point "In the second half of Rutgers, shemade a comment to me, \({ }^{\text {u }}\) James said. "She told me 'You need to be cocky again. Youneed to be the cocky freshman you were And actually, it helped. It did something to me, and it

Once Aziz helped Ja
Once Aziz helped James rediscover her shooting touch, the junior center said it was time to fix her own game.
"I really feel that for me to be able to look at Jaime, and say, Jaime, you gotta do this and you gotta do that, in order to get herin her game, I have to make sure that \(I\) am doing my part," Aziz said. "I don't want to be the pot calling the kettle black."

Aziz showed Wednesday she can carry her concentration all the way through a game, coming up with two key plays down the stretch. the game, she grabbed a loose ball and kicked it out to Record, who sunk her first three of the game, to push SU ahead 67-66.

After a layup by Record and a 3-pointer by Latasha Thompson sent the game into overtime, Aziz got one last chance to shine.

In the first minute of overtime, Aziz and Thompson jumped up for a loose ball. Aziz came away with the ball and Thompson walked to the bench with her fifth foul.

Aziz went to the free throw line and hit both shots for her final points of the contest.

With a solid game to build upon, Aziz is now in search of a consistent style of play.

I don't care if I'm not scoring double. digits all the time," Aziz said. "Like Coach (Felicia) Legette said, I want to be able to go in the locker room, and look in the mirror after the game, and be able to say that I left it all out there on the floor."

So This Is Life ...

Yeah Whatever

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles
by Den Szeto

by Jeff Feligno

by Neil Swab

Get 'Cure It by Damon Amendolara

Submit BOX comics ( 5 " \(\times 5^{\prime \prime}\) or \(6^{\prime \prime} \times 6^{\prime \prime}\) ) to ME (Neva Austrew) in the DO office.
Call 443-5938 or email at nmaustreesyr.edu

\title{
14 [classifieds] \\ The Daily Orange \\ February 10, 2000
}

\section*{NOTICE}

\section*{CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING \\ 315-443-9793 \\ \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \\ \(10 c\) each additional word 5 extra each bold word 50 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & aie Pre paid by:
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 2om 2 business days priof to run ADS ARE NOITAKEN BY PHONE !! Acs can be mailed with check lo: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostrom Avenue; Syracuse, NY 13210; Att Classifieds: OR
Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\)}

\section*{Notices}
oxal interior Design Shop oilers intemship to Sturent tooking tor cretit Call Lisa

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Camp Counselors Top Ovenight Camps in counselors \(\quad\) 1.800-533-camp mume pinelorestcamp.com
Faegan's needs Senior Sunday Disc Jockey Must Faeganis

Part time jobs delivery drivers, dishwashers apply Cosmo Pizra 143 Marshal SL

Free: wed. and Fiday? Varsity can use you elween 11:30a.m. and 2:30. Stop in between 11.00a.m. and t:30 see Ted.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Achitecture student or itlustrator wanted for interior dramings. May be used as intem lor credil or as parl time work. Call Lisa \(472-8937\) for interview must provice portholio

Camp Poyntelte seeks counselors lor co-ed Northeast PA, overnight Jewish Federation camp-
3 hours from NYC- General, Scorts Drama 8 Ats \(1-800-973-3688\) Sumurers 9 poyntelle.cem

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Child Care} Babysitter Needed Daydime Evening and Weokend Hours Two Gits 5 5andz University Area
Waga Negotiabe 428-9813

\section*{Help Wanted}
\($ 1500\) weekly potential mailing our circulars. No 202 -452.7679 Woxk tor an exciting Coilege focused tnlernet company al your school! Looking for motivated indivituals with strong leadership, entrepreneuia and business skilts. Tech skills not required. Grea experience. pay and options! Contac inloguconnections.com Larybones Ine. Iooking lor part-ime + full time drivers starting at s8/hr. Call 426-9523 Groovy Dude! Get paid while you surl the internet It's that easy with no gimmicks

\section*{Roommates}

Roommate wanted to shave 3 large bedroom apartment close to eampus parking fireplace apantment closse to campus parking fireplace laundry 477.5761 2 Guys in Ineir \(40^{\prime}\) s seek housemate for great Broad St. Apt. tireplace. hardwood. porches.
storgge. quiet. \(5250+1 / 3\)-uthities. \(425-9235\).

FOR RENT

Ollstreet Parking. Fully Furnished, Low Ulitities, Sale, Quiet. Close 476-0295

Ackerman Ave, 2,3,4,5,7 bedroan apts. Furnished, carpeled. walk to campus. Well mainained \(500 \cdot 5 / 01\) lease 446-7202

University and Comstock Very close to Campus
Efficiencies and Two Bedroons Seare to Elimiences and Two edroms seane blog.
fumished daudry parking 5375.00 to 5700.00 Inciudes All Uuilites 445-1229 D. N. Orucker Ltu.

2 bedroom Apartment right on Marshall St Fall Semestar only (1 Sennester) Acgisn 2000
December 31. 2000 . Great location! Call \(637-5779\).

Five bedroom House
spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in builcing. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm

L(.)(.) K
Just for you!
Lancaster Ave.
Furnished 3 Bedrooms
Livingroom, Diningroom
Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details
Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace Pawing, taundry,

Luxunious: 2ticry aphant, Geurmat kitucn, bath porthes OSTROLMADSON: All apts turn & heated NOPETSI Negotiable leases.

Can tor apft 469.7980

Completely furnished, parking, laundry, dishwasher, fireplaces; near University on Euclid, and Walnut Avenue
Responsible Landlord Call Gordon

\section*{O.PR. Developers}

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001
Rooms. En./APTs Homes & Town Houses Everything you want and more for your buck!
MOST INCLUDING
- Security System with \(1^{-}\)Dead Bott Locks

Smoke, Heat & Sprinkter System
- Remodeled Fult Custom Kiteherviaths

Kitchens include: Gourmet Self-cleaning ovens,
Garbage Disposals. Microwaves. Disthwashers
Wall to Wall Carpets & Fadding (like home)
Laundry Facitities on Premises
- Oft-streel Parking
- Super Insulated (means low utilites)
- Some Apts. include All Utilities & Furnished
- Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Campus Such as ' Comstock, Ostrom. Harrison. Madison Westcott, Clarendon. Ackerman. Livingston Lancaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home away from home!
AT YOUR SERVICEI

University Area 2-3 Bedroom fumished
Asartments Single Housas for rent. Call Jim 668 -7473
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOKAT T'HIS! \\
Threa Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious three Bedroom, completely turnished \\ apartment with porch. Living Room with fireplace, Dining room, Kictien and three targe \\ bedrooms, and Batin. Otl strent, garage parking. Laundry lacitity ia builong. \\
Five betroom House \\
Spatious five Eefirocm, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Fiocm with fireplase. Eat-in Kiteten Wi DISHWASHER and ive large bedrooms, and
TWO FULL Eanroorns. Off streer parking with garage FAEE Laundry factity in buitding. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline & Apartments close to campus clean 2.3-5 bedrooms some with fiseplace laundry parking semifurnished reas onablie price 497.5765. \\
\hline & Beautiful 3 Bedfoom Townohouses, Walking distance to Campus. 3 Large Bedrooms, lots of dosel space, 1 1/2 Eaths. Diningroom, Livingroom. Kithen, Basement with Washer/Dryer hookups. OH Street Parking with GarageA Must See!! 469-8417 or 476-9643 \\
\hline & ONE OR FOUR BEDROOM APARTMENTS SPACIOUS, FURNISHED, DISHWASHER, PARKING $175 PER MONTH 476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

4Bedrooms, Oaklandst., 18lock ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals, Iurnished, parking, taundry. Univeraity Ave, five bedroom House one block Irom Marsha:l Sireet furnished laundry patking igate \($ 1,300.00\) phus utilites D.N.Druckar 445-1229 \(\tau_{\text {Two }}\) Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished, Heas included, hardwood foors, porch, recently remodeled. laundry, parking, 476-2982 Apartments 825 SUMNER AVE 414 KENSINGTON RD (rear Lancaster Market)
Immaculate, Clean, FREE Leundry

Best Buy on Harrisonst Clean Oluiel one-bedroom and studio June lease. Furnished. vitioes included. 472-5908.

\section*{collegehome \\ THREE \\ BEDROOMS \\ SPACIOUS & DELUXE FURNISHED CALL JOHN Or JUDY \\ 478-7548} 476-2982

2,3 and 4 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

\section*{302 Marshall St}

329 Comstock Ave
664 Walnut Ave
145 Avondale Place
Avaiable for 2000-2001
ully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management, Wail to Wall Carpet andfor Reinished Hard Wood Froors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E.Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

Ackerman Beautith Lerge Furrished Flats
Howses 2,3,4.5.6 Bedroome Porches: Fireplaces, Ganges, Laumiry Pet OK \(446-3420\) Univerrity Ave Three Bedroom Flat Closa Walk to Carrous funnished launcty parking lease \($ 975.00\)
puus ulifies IN.Drucker \(445-1229\)

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. aundry. Low utilities.
Competitive rents.
302 Marshall St
(across fifom Haven).
479-5005
One Bodroom Apartiments Close to Campus, Sutibes induded. Oak floors, fife place, furished

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982

ONE BEDROOM
APARTMENT EUCLID
AVE.SPACIOUS FOR ONE OR TWO PERSONS FREE HEAT, GREAT location 476-9933.

\section*{Studio, One and Two} Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577

NEW BURY APARTMENTS Great University Area Beautiful Modern 122 Bedroom Apt. All Brand New Appl. (AC, Dishwasher) Heat 8 Hot Wator Included. Security Buildings Whntercoms \(&\) Door
Releases. Custom Made Blinds Choice of Porch or Patio. Off Stree Parking, Laundry, Storege, Centro Bus Line. 24 Hour Maintenance. starting at S550.00. Call 478 -0277 As for Patricia or Stop by our 0 ,fice or or Patricia or Stop by our Office a 116 Nowbury Hollow Lano (Located of E. Erighten) Also..(Great Loceation) Beautiful 2 kitchens, 2 livingrooms, 2 diningrooms, 2 fireplaces, 2 cm garage, huge yard, off Layatyette road \($ 1200.00\)
University 283 Bedroon TownHouses & Flats. nexpensive and mint condilion. Washerfleter Ireplace, inished basement. Call 449-0109.

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.}

Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July' + Aug
445-0540
One Bedroom Apartments,
some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hartwood floors, furnished, laundry, quial building, closes to campus, 476-2982

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

\section*{BIG EAST}
continued from page 16
As for the rest of the Big East, they're all singing "Ding, Dong the Orange are dead!" The Se Seton Hall

Not only were they the ones o deliver the furst blow to SU, bu heyre also just a game out of first place now.

\section*{It takes three} hough MC Rob Base and Dat E \(Z\) Rock would tell you i takes two, Seton Fial has to be leve three's the magic number In its win over the Orange on Monday, the weapon of choice for SHU was the 3-pointer.

The two biggest assassin were senior Rimas Kaukenas and sophomore Darius Lane Kaukenas dominated the first half, while Lane took over the second

Their performances in the Dome follow an award-winning week for the two

After SHU's wins over Provi dence and West Virginia the week before, Kaukenas and Lan ook home player of the week and tively. Their heroics against SU tively. Their heroics against SU have

After a tough overtime victoy at Rutgers on Wednesday, The Hall have a warm-up game be ore its next big test. The Pirates host Boston College before a huge Valentine's Day meeting with

\section*{LOUISVILLE}
continued from page 16
betrayed by their own ineptness at the charity stripe in several defeats.

In a 52-48 loss to Saint Louis, UL missed seven foul hots in the last two minutes. Against Big East foe George own, the Cardinals went 4 from the line on the way to alling 61-59

A result of the close losses the fact that some squads go he amount of respect having

The Huskies took the first neeting between the two teams this year 66-56. The loser this ime around is most likely out of the running for the Big East title.

\section*{Takin' care of business}

Although the Miami Hurricanes are just 7-6 in non-conference games, they're doing what needs to be done in the Big East.

Their 8-2 record has them in a second-place tie with Seton Hall. A lucky bounce here or there could see Miami sneak away with the Big East title.

The 'Canes have won six of seven, but haven't been playing the toughest of competition. Their last three wins have come against Pittsburgh, Rutgers and Georgetown. The Hoyas barely shot 25 percent from the floor in their loss to UM.

Someone not suffering from shooting woes is Miami's Johnny Hemsley. With 17 points against Georgetown, he's now netted double figures in 46 straight games.

The Hurricanes will need him to keep it up if they really want to capture the Big East. They've still got games left against UConn, St. John's and pesky Notre Dame.

\section*{Down and out}

Many experts say you need a good point guard in order to sucTh oollege.

There seems to be evidence supporting that. Floor leaders from Khalid El-Amin to Bobby Hurley have taken their teams

\section*{perhaps warranted.}
"It would be a bad decision for a team to look at (our four losses) and think we're not playthey did that it could be a bad night for them."

Williams leads the Cardinals in scoring with 15.4 points a game. Senior forward Nate Johnson ranks No. 2 with 13.3 a contest.

Johnson proved instru mental in UL's 17 -point victory over the Tar Heels, as he scored 31 points.

The problem isn't scoring, all the way to the top Maybe that's why St. John's is so furious that its point guard has been suspended by the NCAA Erice games.
Erick Barkley"s recent car swap isn't as blatantly felonious as Peter Warrick's shopping spree last fall, but the NCAA is laying down the law. St. John's is ap pealing the ruling, saying Baricley outcome, the damage is done.

In the first game of his sus pension, the Red Storm struggled mightily before escapin from mightily before escaping from tory. The Eagles almost came tory. The Eagles almost came away with the win because of the stellar play of their point guard Troy Bell.

For the Johnnies, Barkley will be back in action after their game against Villanova on Saturday. First up for him - Boston College. Watch out for a little re venge.

\section*{Sweet revenge}

Michigan State avenged their worst loss from a year ago when it crushed UConn las weekend. The Spartans rushed out to a 46-17 halftime lead and cruised to an \(85-66\) win in Lans \({ }^{\mathrm{inm}}\)

Although El-Amin and Albert Mouring both scored in dou ble figures for the Huskies, they got almost no support from the in side. In fact, no one else tallied more than seven points.

Against Michigan State, the Huskies' bench was a little thin ner than normal

\section*{however, Crum said}

We've beaten some pretty good teams," the 28-year head coach said, "But I don't think we've beaten anyone as phys cally talented as Syracuse."

Crum said he believes the Cardinals have to at least compete with the physically intimidating Orangemen in the redating Orangemen in the rechance at victory.

Senior forward Dion Edward ranks first for Louisville in the rebounding department with 7.3 a game. Williams and Johnson follow with 6.6 and 4.9, Freshmen Tony Robertson and Doug Wrenn stayed in Storrs because of a violation of team pol icy. The two are being investigat ed for possibly getting merchanthe The dity of Connecticut.

the To was reinstated to the team Tuesday and played ind Robertson scored two points Boston College aight's win over more Troyone knows that sopho more Troy Murphy has been a this season. But is it fair to say he's been the whole team?

\section*{Murphy's law}

Actually, it's not that far off In the Tuesctay loss at was held to 14 points. Freshman Matt Carroll led the team with 17.

It marked just the fourth time all season that Murphy did n't lead the team in scoring. Notre Dame is only 2-2 in those games, \(12-8\) in all others.

The rest of the season will be a very difficult test far the young team.

With games left against Syracuse, Seton Hall, Miami and UConn, the Irish can make or break their tournament chances. If theyre able to knock off three of those teams, it will be tough for the selection committee to pass them over:

\section*{Exposure}

NCAA Toumament trail tonight

\section*{respectively.}

Added motivation for the Cardinals comes in the form of the NCAA Tournament bubble, on which they find themselves firmly planted. Louisville needs several quality wins down the tretch if it hopes to make the field of 64 .

We know they're in a must-win situation," SU center Etan Thomas said. "We know they're going to come at us with everything. We've just got to be everything:
The motivation for the Or angemen lies in the primetime against Pittsburgh on ESPN. Because the Big East isn't ranked as one of the better conferences in the nation, it's hard to picture more than rour teams making West Virginia will attempue Vest Virginia will attempt to open s games.

Back-to-back nationally televised games (they play Villanova on ESPN2 next Tuesday) will give the Mountaineers a chance to get their name out there.

Since Syracuse, UConn, St John's and Seton Hall look like locks for the tournament, the Mountaineers really need to im press over their next few games.

A possible fifth bid would be Miami's right now, but WVU hosts the Hurricanes on Feb. 22. If they can win six of their last seven games, it's possible that they could sneak in the tournament through the back door

\section*{Rollercoaster}

Rutgers hasn't won or lost more than two games in a row since November. That inconsistencyle has the ropped

About the only thing left for the Scarlet Knights this year is to play the spoiler.

They have yet to beat a ranked team, but with a game against UConn upcoming, they still have a chance to affect the Big East standings. And a few more wins could at least get them into the NIT, a place they were disappointed to visit last year.

ESPN matchup against UL that gives them a chance to show gives them a chance to show the country they can bounce the country they can

That's something last season's team wasn't always able to do, as SU had three two-game losing streaks, including drop ping the final two contests of the year.
ball Last year we kind of snow balled after we lost one," Blant said. "We'd be down and lose another one. It was streaky This year we have to prove tha be a team that fights.

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

Clean quiet 2-bedtroom two blocks from SU hospitals. Futnished. All utilities paid. 472-590 2 Bedroom Apls 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Eurlid errace Large Rooms Hartwood flocrs Avail June urnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Aparmenis Histon Surner Adturan, Eudid 469.6665

Your off-campus home for 2000-01

Nicely fumished 3 BEDROOM apartments.
double beds dishwashers
microwave
washer/drye
carpeted off street parking
owner managed

CALLTODAY
PETER 427-0052

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Wainut Ave.

2,3, AND 4 Bedroom Apartments. Utifities included. Fuly furnished. Rents floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled titchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laund Parking. 24hour maintenance. arking. 24thour maintenance University Area Apts 479-5005
COMSTOCK HEEGHTS
APARTMENTS
COMSTOCK HEEGHTS
APARTMENTS
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Nall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. new construction. low utilities. University AreaApt.
www.universityarea.com

\section*{501 EUCLID STUDIO APT}

All utilities inciuded. \($ 355\) per month 4494621
Modern 3 Dedroom
st rents for modern,

Aexerman Avo. nice 3bedroom flat, Iurnished. Avail teme ist \(446-4229\)
1,2,3,4+5 bedroom apartments. Furnished, al campus near law scthool +ESF. May +August s.U. off street parking. Luundry. Call \(422-7305\).

One +2 bedroom furnished apartments, All utilities induded \($ 370, $ 480 / \mathrm{mc}\) Ong mile from campus laundry, patking, carpating, security builditing Betroom Funished U Ufumishe Warion distanco S.U. Liundry a

———

\section*{NOTES}

Surprising Orangemen In a poll conducted on ESPN.com, Syracuse was voted the most surprising men's basketball tearn of the season

The poll attracted 65,098 responses throughout Wednesday, of which the Orangemen received a whopping 45.5 percent.

The poll's second-place finisher was Indiana with 12.2 percent of the vote. Seton Hall, which handed Su its lone loss, checked in at third with 11.2 percent.
lowa St., which owns a \(19-3\) record, garnered 10.9 percent, while perennial national contender Duke got 10.1 percent. LSU finished sixth with 9.7 percent.

\section*{Top 10 shakeup}

The men's basketball Top 10 took a major beat ing Wednesday night, as four of its members fell to ower-ranked opponents.

Perhaps the most shocking of the losses was visiting Maryland's \(98-87\) defeat of No. 3 Buke. The loss stopped a 31-game ACC winning streak for the Blue Devils. The 22 nd-ranked Terrapins also put an end to Duke's 46-game home winnine streak at Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Blue Devils' 18 game winning streak - which led the nation - was also broken.

The Big Ten saw two of its Top 10 reps fall. as both No. 6 Ohio St. and
No. 9 Indiana lost.
Kyle Ganoways 3 -pointer with four seconds left gave low a \(67-64\) victory vers the Buckeyes. The first place in the cont or first place in the confer exactly a day after nor exactly a day after no
The thar eight years. The Hawkeyes have ow beaten three ranked opponens wh earker vic tond Kavsas Indiana went down in a nailbiter similiar to Ohio St.
Minnesota's Joel przybilla hit a layup with 3.9 seconds left to give 75 triumph over the visiting Hoosiers it's A ing hoosiers. Us A.J. Guyton missed a potential game-winning 3-pointer as In a battle of Top 25 eams in the SEC. No. 25 No. 8 Auburn \(83-68\) to round out Wednesday's Top 10 massacre.

Auburn star forward Chris Porter was held in check by LSU. Porter finished with 10 points and ouled out with six min utes left in the game.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. How many times has a Denny Crum-coached Louisville team been to the Final Four?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. Who holds the record for NFL sacks in a game? A. The tate Kansas City Chiefs linebacker Derrick Thomas notched seven sacks in a game against Seattle.

\section*{[sports]} Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange February 10, 200011

\section*{Syracuse \\ BY CONNOR ENNIS}

Asst. Sports Editor
No team enjoys a loss
Syracuse's men's basketball squad may have a case, however, when saying its loss Monday night Seton Hall felt more disappointing than most

It marked the first defeat in this campaign for he Orangemen (19-1,9-1 Big East) and snapped the 19-game winning streak that had the team tied for tops in school history.

SU's loss means there are no more undefeated eams in Division 1 .
"One loss doesn't hurt us," SU sophomore guard They played us and we bear Connecticut was 19-0. p winning the national championship. One loss doesn't make the season.

The Orangemen will try to take Bland's attitude and not feel sorry for themselves as they travto take on Louisville at 9 p.m. tonight in the less-han-inviting setting of Freedom Hall.

The Cardinals (12-9, 4-5 Conference USA) have dropped their last two games at home - to North Carolina-Charlotte and No. 1 Cincinnati but were a perfect \(9-0\) before that.

Coming into the season, Louisville had won 83 percent of its games at Freedom Hall.
t's definitely an advantage to play at home," Louisville senior forward Tony Williams said. "Our ans get there about an hour before the game and get their Budweisers in them. They'll do anything and say anything. They motivate us.

Tho just be up against the rowdy UL faithfud.
The Cardinals own Freedom Hall victories over perennial Top 25 tearns Utah and North Carolina. Louisville also gave the top-ranked Bearcats a scare before bowing 75-65

UL's only blowout loss came on the road at the hands of Kentucky, 76-46.
"I think that playing that kind of schedule is beneficial," Louisville head coach Denny Crum said. "You hope that the more good teams you play, the better you'll be at year's end.

Crum said the fact that the Cardinals dropped our straight games before Saturday's victory over Memphis is deceiving.

Louisville played well but inconsistently in the osses, according to Crum. The Cardinals - who shoot 70 percent from the foul line overall - were

See LOUISVILLE page 15

\section*{SU tops SJU in overtime}

reshman Elard Shannon Perry scored 18 point and added nine rebounds and six assists in SU's victory

Staft Writer
All it needed was a spark. The Syracuse women's basketball team just required a boost to help break a four-game losing streak.

Syracuse guard Jaime James 3-pointer with 2:27 remaining in overtime broke open a two-point SU edge and led to an \(84-77\) victory on Wednesday night at Manley

I touse.
th a of my team played With a lot of heart and a lot of moxFreeman said "I thought was reeman said. I thought it was a both halves and then some played great to see us get back into that great to see us get back into that

The total team effort was the difference in a game which saw four ties and five lead changes in the second half alone.

With just over a minute left in regulation, themomentum hifted toward the Orangewomen (9-11, 2-7 Big East). With SU trailing by two, Syracuse guard Jakia Ervin drove towards the opposite basket, but the ball rattled off the rim and into Leigh Aziz's hands.

The SU forward grabbed the rebound and kicked the ball out to Beth Record. With three seconds See SPARK page 12

\section*{bound from Monday's loss to Seton Hall.}

\section*{Aziz rebounds for} Orangewomen

\section*{BY ALISON HISCHAK}

Staff Writer
An old cliche suggests sports require more mental than physical effort.

For Syracuse Orangewoman center Leigh Aziz, the grame truly is in her head.

With athletic abilities that allow her to run the floor, sky for rebounds and muscle for position, the only thing that slows Aziz is her concentration.
"It's all mental," Aziz said. "I think that my biggest weakness is lack of maturity as far as being assistant coach Michelle) Bento has told me that See MENTAL page 12

\section*{Conference title race heads down to wire}

\section*{CHUCK PETRUCCIONE}

Big East Notebook
The end of the yellow brick road has been reached, and the Syracuse Orangemen are looking fry some recognition from the wizards of the country reganding its 19 -game win streak.

Instead of a great reward for their incredible run, the Orangemen are now faced with two tough non-conference games.

A loss in either one could find SU completely losing the respect they've worked so hard to earn this year.

\section*{cardinalSIN}

Hot-shooting Louisville hands SU second consecutive defeat. See Sports.

Creative COLLECTION
The Matrilineage
Symposium exposes SU to female artists.
See Lifestyle.

Abercrombie agenda

Abencrombie and Fitch CEO Michael Jeffries discusses the company's marketing strategly to a standing room only crowf during a 3:30 p.m.fecture Thurs day in Slocum Auditorium. The lecture was a part of the Genet Lecture Series, sponsorad by the College of Human Development

\section*{Colleges vie for funding}

BY CAROLINE CHEN Staff Writer

Colleges within Syracuse University are seeking to increase funding for existing programs by using the more than \($ 300\) million raised during the last five years by the Commitment to Learning Campaign.

Directing a portion of the fund toward merit scholarships for students is a common priority among several schools.
"Our hichest priority is scholorship so we con attract the best students," said Donald Lantzy, dean of the College of Visual and Performing Arts.

School of Education Dean Steven Bossert agreed, adding that he hoped the school would be able to garner 1 million for the Bur ton Blatt Scholarship Fund. There is currently about \($ 700,000\) in the fund, he added.

We had very high expectations and we have made considerable progress," Bossert said.

Eileen Jeng a sophomore advertising and fine arts major, said she is the recipient of a \($ 6,000\) Chancellor's Scholarship "Ithink giving out scholarships should be a primary goal," Jeng
"It definitely affected my decision to come to SU."
In addition to increasing scholarships, the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks funding to create new programs and faculty chairperson positions in the Campbell Public Affairs Institute and the Global Affairs Institute, said Robert McClure, se nior associate dean in Maxwell

VPA hopes to host more visiting artists and to create produc tion funds for the drama department, Lantzy said.

Robert Jensen, The College of Arts and Sciences dean, said his school is seeking more funding for the center for undergraduate re search, the career services program and for a professorship in the writing program.

See CAMPAIGN page 7

\section*{Library crimes drop after arrest}

BY SARAH OVASKA

\section*{Staff Writer}

Following the Nov. 24 arrest of Syracuse resident Charles Haynes on charges of larceny, the number of thefts in the Syracuse University Bird Library has significantly decreased, according to Tom House, security coordinator for the library.

There were nine reported larcenies in Bird Lirary and the Schine Student Center in November. Three larcenies were reported in September and two in October. Since the beginning of the spring semester, there have not been any reported larcenies at either location, according to SU Public Safety records. The Public Safety Department and the Syracuse Police Department worked together to investigate a See ROBBERIES page 4

\section*{Garage burglaries continue}

\section*{BY SARAH OVASKA} Staff Writer

Five cars parked in the Booth parking garage have reportedly been broken into since the beginning of the spring semester, said Robert T. Robinson, director of Syracuse University's Department of Public Safety.

Junior Chris Pappas walked to his car parked in the Booth Garage the afternoon of Jan. 22 and found the passenger side vent Window of his 1987 Volkswagen Jetta broken and his stereo missing. Pappas said. There are no suspects in the case

Pappas, a neurology and psychology major, said he felt angry and upset at the burglary and dam age to his car, which could have been prevented by simple security checks.

The amount of snow has made security an issue in the garages because the door tends to stay open when the snow catches it. said Jay Oda, director of SU Parking Services.

Pappas said he has seen Public Safety officers pass by the open door without closing it.
"Someone opened the door to the garage and the snow caught it and left it open, right next to wher Public Safety drives by," Pappas said. "Not one of the Public Safety officers decided to close the door."

Robinson said he has not seen uch a high number of car break ins at any time during his six-year SU tenure.

The robberies can be attrib ated to a number of reasons in cluding the garage door being left open and the tendency of student to leave compact discs and th faces of stercos in cars, Robinson said.

Oda said the robberies may stem from student laziness in leav ing the pedestrian door open to avoid entering pin codes and in students sharing pin codes

The parking lots at Booth and Lawrinson are considered secur lots, Oda said. The lots have door that are only accessible by entering

See BOOTH page 5

\section*{Greek Affairs \\ Greeks conclude Spring Rush}

Staff Reports
Greek houses are attracting more tudents this Spring Rush than Last year, he Syracuse University Office of Greek Life said.

Fraternity Rush completed Thursday and sororities will conclude the greec vent Sunday.

About 580 students participated in Spring Rush - a bi-annual event that al ows students to tour and express interest in fraternities and sororities, said Lisa Walsh, an OGL graduate assistant.

The total is 60 more than last year, she added, noting that only 20 students have dropped out of the process this spring.

More than 300 men visited the houses, at least 30 more than last year, Walsh said.

For many of the rushees, the twoweek event is an opportunity to meet people and get a first-hand experience of greek life.

I was going to do it just for the experience," said Katie Getz, a sophomore magazine major. "My friends told me that it was a great thing to do, even if I didn't pledge. \({ }^{\text {a }}\)

Pledging, the time when students vie
See RUSH page 10

RACHAEL J. GOLDEN/The Daily Orange Sudorrs regesior to vono ar Thursiday's NYPIRG meeting:

\section*{Meyer questions Supreme Court case}

\section*{BY JOE PIRANEO \\ Contributing Writer}

Student activism began with the establish ment of universities, said Chris Meyer, execu tive director for the New York Public Interest Research Group.
"Activist groups are no new idea," Meyer said. "We just have new and better ways to go about using them \({ }^{*}\)

It is only in the last 10 to 15 years, howev er, that activist groups are starting to become no ticed and receive funding from their institutions because of their importance to the university en

See NYPIRG page 6

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

His Airness comes out for Bradley LOS ANGELES spark from the sports world to energize his candidacy, Bill Bradley announced mursday that basketbail superstar Michael Jordan will appear in a new television spot on his behalf. The campaign announced that it plans to begin running a 30 second television ad featuring Jordan in 25 featuring Jordan in big cities where big cities where Democratic primaties will be held on March 7 The ad was filmed just before Christmas in a Chicago suburb. It will be the first time Jordan, whose product endorse ments have brought him nearty as much airtime as his exploits on the hardwood, has endorsed a candidate for public office.

\section*{Herb can be harmful} with AlDS drugs
The popular herba! supplement St. John's wort interferes with essential medications prescribed for people with the AIDS virus and for organ transplant recipients, according to two reports released Thurscay.

Based on the finding, the Food and Drug Administration wamed against taking the herb and the AlDS drug indinavir together. The agency also urged doctors to leam if their patients are taking St. John's wort, because the herb may diminish several other anti-vira drugs that fight the human immunodeficiency virus that causes AIDS.
A co-author of the report was even more blunt. "Most people tak ing medications to treat HIV infection should avoid using St. John's wort," said Dr. Judith Falloon, an AIDS specialist at the National Institute of Allergy and

\section*{Workers walk} following dispute
About 17,000 Boeing Co. workers walked off the job Wednesday in one of the targest whitecollar it strikes in U.S. history. it strikes in U.S. history. was yet another sign was yet another sign that protessionals are increasingy willing to take up traditional blue collar labor tactics. hey have watched the they have watched the company turn record profits and sign a lucra tive contract Anternational Machinists, while asking Machinists, while askin them for concessions on wages and benefits.

\title{
Feds on alert for hackers
}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The computer vandals who blocked access to mearly a dozen high-profire Internet sites this week took a breather Thursday as the Pentagon, government agencies and universities scoured their systems to ensure they had not become unwitting accomplices in the attacks.

Justice Department offi cials said Thursday they were continuing their hunt for the culprits but had identified no suspects, Several computer security experts warned that the data trail was probably already cold.
"It's going to be very hard to track this down by technical mechanisms, said researcher Steve Bellovin of AT&T Labs.

Authorities believe the at tacks that temporarily shut down sites including Yahoo. Amazon and CNN were a ver sion of what is called a "distrib uted denial of service." In such hits, hackers drop malicious software into unsuspecting computer systems - often those with weaker security and then activate the software remotely to bombard the target sites with overwhelming strearns of data.

A spokesman for the Defense Department said while there is no evidence that Pentagon computers were used as intermediaries, officials would check the hard drives of the more than 1 million computers it has hooked up to the internet.

The FBI is "following all leads, conducting interviews and gathering information and data from the victim companies," spokeswoman Debbie Weierman said.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Court urged to condone schools}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Raising the stakes on a Montgomery County, Md., schools case now being reviewed by the Supreme Court, a group of educafional organizations has urged the justices to allow students across the nation to be assigned to schools based on their race as a way to promote cultural diversity. ay to promote cuitural diversityued, "presents, the critical legal isgued, presents a critical legal issue: can a local school board take intentional steps to create a di intentional steps to create a

The friend-of-the-court brief, by the National School Boards As sociation and 16 other groups, attempts to convince the court that much more is at otake than a race-based transfer policy in Montsomery County.

The brief seeks to persuade the court to hear the case and to move beyond the era when race was routinely forbidden as a basis for school assignment because the aim was to maintain segregration. The brief encourages the court to inaugurate a new standard by which educating children in a diverse setting provides a different justification for assignments based on race.

\section*{Hijack victims request asylum}

LONDON - There may be less dangerous ways to get from Afghanistan to Britain than to ride on a hijacked Afghan jet and days.

But now that they're here, 74 ex-hostages from the Afghan air week don't want to go home.

The hijack standoffat Stansted airport outside London ended peacefully with the release of all passengers early Thursday. Of the people who left the plane, 21 are under arrest and 74 want to stay here, turning the bijack drama into a refugee crisis.

\section*{Tax cut set for married couples}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The House voted Thursday to cut the House voted Thursday to cut the taxes of married couples by \($ 182\) taxes of married couples by \($ 182\) billion over the next 10 years, defying a veto threat from President fying a veto threat from President Bill Clinton, who views the potenBill Clinton, who views the potential election year windfall for fam ilies as excessive.

The bill, approved 268-158, would reduce the soccalled maxwould reduce the so-called marriage penalty for millions of couriage penaty for milhons of couples by increasing their deduction ify for the lowest tax rate.
"We are going to end one of the most illogical and unfair aspects of the tax code." said Rep pectid Dreier, R-Calif. "Married people should not pay more in taxes simply because they are married."

Clinton and the House Democratic leadership support the idea of reducing the marriage penalty but argue that the Repub-lican-drafted bill is too expensive and skewed to afluent taxpayers. Compared to Clinton's proposal to provide \($ 45\) billion over 10 years provide 4 maried couples, the GOP bill is a "two-fisted assault on the USS Treasury, said House Minority Whip David E. Bonior, D-Mich.

\section*{world news}

While police and politicians were searching for answers to what the British government should do with the asylum-seekers, the European representative of Afganistan's Tallban governBritish should opinion on what the British should do now: Send them

By taking a tough stand, the British government was moving into line with popular opinion people here are concerned that the country is an easy target fo

\section*{Views differ on} latest conflict

BEIRUT, Lebanon - A Hezbollah spokesman proclaimed victory Thursday in a deadly

\section*{Clinton calls for public access}

WASHINGTON, D.C. President Bill Clinton said Thursday that researchers and Thursday that researchers and the public not just a small group of drug and biotech com. group of drug and biotech companies - Ehould have ready access to the human genetic code as a source of new tre
"We've got to get the basic information out to everybody information out to everybody who might find some particular ase Oval Office interview with an oval Oince interview with me, it's pretty clear what the melicy ought to be".
Clinton's remarks, his first about how the soon-to-be-deciphered code should be used pame as industry is flooding the Patent and Trademark Office with thousands of applications to patent portions of the genetic code and policymakers wrestle with whether to limit the scope of what can be patented.

Critics, including some of the govermment's own top scientists, warn that without limits, public access could be sharply restricted - to the detriment of research, medical care and innovation.
round of clashes in southern Lebanon, arguing that attacks that killed six Israeli soldiers in two weeks have proved that Israel can no longer stand up to the Shiste Muslim guerrillas.

But a still-angry Israel dr a different conclusion from the engagements. The government said it has effectively changed the rules of its war against Hezbollah in southern Lebanon and that from now on it reserves the right to strike nonmilitary targets across Lebanon when an Israeli soldier is killed.

We had grown accustomed to a situation in which the army is allowed only to respond to Katyushas (rockets) againgt civilians," Deputy Defense Minister Ephraim Sneh said Thurs-

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

The Chabad House Jowisi Student Organization and broth. ers of the Pi Kappa Apha fraternity host the creation of the "Vall us Students are encouraged to antix Students are encouraged to antix paper celebrate friendship and kind ness.
"# The Sarah A. Coyne Gallery hosts "3 Presses," an art show displaying a group of recent monopri 酸 Newhouse I hosts a "Joh Hunt Marathon" from 2 to 5 p.m. in Room A2.

* Perc Place presents the Big Comedy Show at 8 pm. in Schine Dining. The show features SU by cornedian Dave Malkoff. Admission is free.

Whiversity Union Comedy Board presents a student comedy show at 8 p.m. in Schine Student Center. The show will features is free.

\section*{TODAY-SATURDAY}

U UU Cinemas presents a night of cult comedies, beginning with Upinsmoke at 7 pm in GurClub Auditorium. begins at \(8: 45\) p.m. Mystery Club" begins at 8:45 p.m. Mystery Science Theater 3000 : The Movie begns at lo:30pm. The night conSpace at midnight. Admission is \($ 3\) for all movies.
- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Nightat the Gym. Hours are extended until 2 a.m.

\section*{SATURDAY}
m University Union Speakers Board presents Elaine Brown, first chairwoman of the Black Panther rium Admission is free.

\section*{SUNDAY}
* Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity presents "Women's Appreciation Night at 6:06 p.m. in the Shaw Residence Hall Basement. Space is limited and those planning to at tend must register.

\section*{■ Election 2000}

Puerto Rican island becomes election issue

BY RYAN DONOHUE
Staff Writer
New York state voters in November will vote for U.S. Senate candidates Hillary Rodham Clinton and Rudolph Giuliani based on issues such as educaPuerto Rico will also have the tiny isPuerto Rico will also have the tiny island of Vieq

The U.S. Navy calls Vieques, just off the southeast coast of Puerto Rico, its best and biggest training ground for bombing runs and land attacks.

Clinton, courting the nearly 2 milion Ne Yorkes as Presidents who dennify theme Navi's nounced the Navis Pae of the island before she even officially declared her candidacy.

Mayrin Micheli vacations on the public beaches of Vieques. The Syracuse University senior pubic relations major goes there to escape the traffic and smog of San Juan, her hometown and Puerto Rico's capital, she said.
"Nature is so present there," she said. "It's so green.

In pictures of the tiny "Isla Nena," as locals call it, palm trees bend toward the ocean. Thick vegetation covers rocky and sandy land. The water off the coast floats Vieques'
*If something that you knew was so beautiful and so precious, you would want to protect it," she said.

The Navy maintains an eight to 10 mile buffer zone between its bombing ranges and the island sinhabitants. It laims there are no adverse health or environmental effects from its training there.

The Navy has seen the island as crucial to national defense because of its training facilities. Navy officials opposed giving up the island because its beaches are the last stop for Marines East or Eu rope.

Islanders see the situation differently. Their fishing industry has been disrupted and tourism has decreased because of the island's role as a prac tice bombing range, they said.

The Navy once accidentally fired 273 rounds of depleted uranium shells onto Vieques. This kind of ammunition gives off low-output radiation. And ia April, a U.S. bomber plane pilot mistook the watchtower where civilian guard David Sanes worked as a target. dropped two 500 -pound bombs, killing Sanes and injuring four others.

After Sanes' death, Clinton and Giuliani spoke out against using Vieques as a bombing range.

There should be an immediate and permanent end to the bombing," Clinton said in October. At the time, she was in open defiance of her husbands five year plan to phase out military actions in Vieques.

Around the same time, New York City Mayor Giuliani also said a five-year plan was too long.
After nine months of civilian protests on the Vieques beaches, the signed a deal allowing two bovernment Vieques deal allowing two years before reques is ding live ammunition but for conly half of its usual bombing schedule only harendum vote in one or two years A referendum vote in one or two years would give voty land.

Th vored by all Puerto Ricans.

During negotiations, widespread Navy sentiment temporarily unified Puerto Rican political opponents such as pro-American Gov. Pedro Rossello and pro-independence leader Fernando Martin. La Estrella, a Puerto Rican newspaper, said the negotiations with the Navy left the commontions with with only one option - to let wealth with conly one

Both Senate candidates have not spoken about the deal.

Clinton, who was in Syracuse on Wednesday, has not said whether she opposes the newly struck deal. She would not respond to a reporter's question about Vieques.

Micheli said she is tired of hearing politicians talk about Vieques. She and friend Ana Diaz, also an SU senior from San Juan, said the candidates are more interested in their votes than in their vacation spot.
"That's why Clinton is paying attention to the issue," Diaz said. She said she has heard nothing from Giuliani on she has heard nothing from the agreement over Vieques.

With eligibility from her New York residency, Micheli plans to vote in the residency, Micheli plans to vote in the upcoming U.S. Senate race in New York. Finding the most \(i e q u e s-i n i e n d y\) ian didate will be one of her top priorities, she said.

But she doubts that either one will follow up on their commitment to hasten the Navy's departure from Vieques. \(t\) So many things have been said and not done," she said. "think the United States is going to do whatever they want to do."

The issue is one that has frustrated Puerto Ricans because there has been little opportunity to voice their concerns, said Omar Rodrigucz, a senior civil engineering major. Puerto Ricans though they receive aid from the U.S. government rannot vote in elections.
Though Rodriguez said he will base
Though Rodriguez said he will base his vote on more than just Vieques, he has been following Clinton and Giul

Rodriguez, a native of Guaynabo, Puerto Rico, recounted a news story he followed while working in Nevada last summer. Citizens there were able to raise a political voice against a proposed nuclear waste disposal site.

Puerto Ricans do not have this opportunity, he said.
"When you live on the island, you can not make that pressure," he said.

HOT SPOTS/HOT DEALS South Padre Istand San Diego
\begin{tabular}{l}
VERY INTERNATIONAL! \\ \begin{tabular}{l}
London \\
Paris \\
\hline Rome \\
\hline
\end{tabular}\(\quad $ 313 \mathrm{RT}\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{ll}
\hline \multicolumn{1}{c}{ BEACH PARTY! } \\
\hline Cocoa Beach & \($ 199 \mathrm{RT}\) \\
\hline South Beach & \($ 199 \mathrm{RT}\) \\
\hline Daytona Beach & \($ 199 \mathrm{RT}\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

BIG DEALS TO BIG CITIES:

\section*{Los Angeles} $285 RT
San Francisco $285 RT
Las Vegas
\($ 333\) RT
Major Scheduled Airlines.
Overnight Ticket Delivery Available.
Choose Your Own Flights.

Book Your Discount Travel at:
cheaptickets.com or call 888-988-8408
Mon - Fri Bam Phone Reservations

\section*{you could}

BE GOING PLACES. Check out cheaptickets.com/springbreak (Hint: Alona)

America's Travel Store。
Travel Stores: New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seatte and Honolulu

\section*{돈 Multicultural Affairs}

\section*{Grant winners outline program plans}

\section*{BY JOHN ARWEILER}

Contributing Writer
Recipients of the Chancel lor's Feinstone Grant for Multicultural Issues began their projects this week.

The Feinstone Grant review committee informed the recipients of their acceptance over Winter Break. The committee allocated funds to cover expenses up to \($ 1,000\) for the seven projects given grants.

The grant's purpose is to help move Syracuse University toward racial tolerance.

The Student Action Tcam, a committee of the Residence Hall Association, is planning an orange ribbon campaign to promote awareness of campus diversity.
"The campaign will rouch all corners of SU , it will be a show of sehool spirit and every-

\section*{ROBBERIES}
continued from page 1
series of robbery incidents in Bird Library and the Schine Student Center, Public Safety Sgt. Drew Buske said.

Public Safety Officer Theresa MasRouri arrested Haynes at Bird Library after partment of a suspicious man one's desire to move forward as a community, said Andrea Hurwitz, director of the committee and a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences.

Hurwitz said she though of the project betore an oppor tunity for a grant had present ed itself. She submitted her proposal without any anticipation, she said.

I was surprised and honored to receive the grant," Hur witz said.

The campaign will culmi ante with a large mural or sig nature board in the Schine Student Center, she said.
"We want something big to show support for the campaign, something concrete," Hurwitz said.
Point Zero, a student group that deals with racial issues, is matehing a description providmatching a description provid ed by Public Safety, Drew Buske said.

Library staff reported a man fitting the description in the library who would leave whencver staff would approach Whencver staff would approach he added.
\({ }^{\text {a }}\) It's gratifying to be able to solve a case of this nature." Buske said.
putting their funds toward a night of sketch comedy, readings and poetry that will encourage communication between students. The show will target problems and try to alleviate misconceptions between people, said Michelle Lec, a member of Point Zero.
"We were very excited when we heard we got the grant, especially since we are such a young organization, \({ }^{\text {r }}\) said Lee, a sophomore political science and public relations major. "A lot of times campus groups are separated by race: we hope the skits will bring everyone together.

Point Zero applied for the grant to help develop a show, publicize it and host it in the Schine Underground after Spring Break, Lee said. The university is trying to accommodate them as best they can, she added.

The Caribbean Student Association will use its grant to show films every Thursday this month. The films depict the history of black oppression and triumph

Thursday's showing was entitled "Voices from Robben Island." The film told the story of a South African leper colony which turned into a politica prison for anti-Apartheid lead ers such as Nelson Mandela The movie was followed by a short discussion.

Susan Levy, a staff therapist at \(S U\), led the discussion Levy lived in South Africa after her parents fled the perse cution of Nazi Germany.

Anyone who watched the film would walk away with a better attitude toward race re lations on campus, she said
"I think that anyone who saw the movie would have to," saw the m.

Attendance at the event was limited - only 13 students watched the film in Maxwell Auditorium.
\({ }^{4}\) I am disappointed with the turnout," said Kallima Clarke, a junior accounting major and CSA comptroller. "It's a choice on whether or not people want to come out

The group is planning to distribute more flyers and generate more publicity before the next film, "Krik? Krak! Tales of a Nightmare," a history of blacks in Haiti. CSA will show the film at \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Feb. 17 in the Gifford Auditorium.

> Haynes will appear before the Onondaga City Court on Feb. 28.

> Dean Buske and his brother David Buske, a criminal investigator in the Syracuse Police Department, correlated piled a profile andes andion piled a profile and description > the suspect.
> together by random assignment from each department, Dean Byske said.

On the Charles Haynes case, it just happened that he was assigned to this case, \({ }^{\text {w }}\) said Drew Buske. "I work just as well os him as with other de well as him as with other de-

Haynes was accused of stealing unattended laptops, wallets, credit cards and cash from students at campus buildings over a period of time last semester, Drew Buske said.

His arrest came soon after the Nov. 3 capture of Robert Butler who was accused of a tring of burglaries in Huntington Hall.

The Huntington Hall robberies occurred at night after the building was closed, Buske said.

Following Butler's arrest, Buske noticed a series of larcenies occurring in the daytime and he began to work with his brother to compile a description.
"We had noticed a pattern of robberies," Drew Buske said. We increased the number of checks and noticed that several rooms had been unlawfully entered.

The number of laricenies in the library have significantly decreased since Haynes was arrested, House said.

Buske said students should still be careful with their personal belongings in the library and other campus buildings. Although it is not a common occurrence on campus, it is one that happens frequently enough to cause concern, he added.

Despite the presence of student monitors at night, belongings can still be stolen, House said.
*We do ask that students don't leave their important belongings," he said. "It doesn't take long to take a purse or wallet."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{Classified Advertising}

Fthedeadine for classified advertisements is" p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appeat pease pavin.ca Gectects only Call \(43-9793\) for more information

\section*{BOOTH}
continued from page 1
a personal identification code and Public Safety drives through the lots once an hour to check on any suspicious activity, he added.

SU Parking Services is working to install a proximity card system in the garages by next fall, Oda said. The system would allow students to use personal cards to open the doors instead of the current pin codes. The Shaw, Lyman and Science and Technology lots already have similar proximity card systems installed, he added.

Parking Services is meeting with the SU Physical Plant and Public Safety to discuss patrols and different security methods for the entrances to the garages, Oda said.

Parking Services is not in the position to automatically compensate students for stolen goods, Oda said. Students are encouraged to file a report with Public Safety and pursue any claims with the university Risk Management Department. Pappas, who had \($ 700\) to S1,000 worth of camage, said Parking Services does not provide a secure lot. He said his \($ 427\) academic-year parking permit should ensure the security of cars.

Officers have increased their patrol of the area, Robinson taid. He said he hopes the increases in patrols and having students remove their valuables from cars will make the garages safe.

8kex kimbeqrt of Massage
* EDCHEffin Nolan, LMT Gemaldine Crelot, LMT what all Square Mal. 2nd iloor 475-9164

\author{
Finutant of massage baweb.com
}

To protect against AIDS and other STDs, always use latex condoms.

\section*{WRITE \\ A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

This is the true story Of 29 strangers Picked to work in a house...
To find out what happens When people stop being polite
And start getting real.
So what happens? 1 don't know about everybody else, but 1 refuse to have a bad time. What seems like the worst transition ever can only get better. Much love to sports, the true heart of the paper. Thanks to Tom Nycz for not murdering me.
Best wishes to Rachael J. Golden and all future D.O. photogs. (It's all about the Dome passes.) Love to design, our next door neighbors who always kept it totally loose.
I'm keeping this short because photo girl not good with words:
"To the Daily Orange Your the Boom."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

6 February 11, 2000

\section*{NYPIRG}
continued from page 1 vironment, Meyer said at the NYPIRG general interest meeting Thursday in the Hall of Mnguages.

Meyer
Meyer said the differences between the years 1914 and 2000 is the existence of more 2000 is the existence of more diverse universities with more student ideas. Activist groups student ideas. Activist groups are also now funded by a dent activity fee, he added.

But that activity fee is in danger of vanishing, Meyer said.

An upcoming decision from the U.S. Supreme Court may take away all the progress made by groups like NYPIRG, Meyer said.

The case claims that universities cannot use the student activity fee to fund activist groups that reflect a certain viewpoint, according to a court case fact sheet.
Scott Southworth, a University of Wisconsin student, filed the suit in Wisconsin courts and said he should not have to pay the mandatory fee required by the university. The fee infrineed on his First Arnendment rights, the sheet sajd. The Wisconsin court decid ed in favor of Southworth. The with a court decision in New York state involving NYPIRG in 1992.

The New York state case allowed universities to require such funding as long as the ac tivities funded were "germane to the educational mission of the university system, the sheet said. Because of this con flict, the Supreme Court has taken the case and will an. nounce a decision in Novernber.

Meyer said the student activity fee is essential in maintaining activist groups like tal to any compus, he added tal to any campus, he added. oncludes a strong extracurricuincludes a strong extracurricuof a university allows for a broad range of organizations that not everyone is going to agree with. It has been this way for generations."

The research group is attempting to gather activist groups to lobby against a decision removing the fee. Tyler Sparks, a member of the group, said the organization has plans for a wide-ranging coalition of student groups.
"We want to inform groups about this and let them know," Sparks said.

This decision can have profound effects on all student organizations at Syracuse Unirersity and the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, Sparks said.
"Every single student roup in these universities and thers across the country is potentially threatened because this bill can eliminate the student fee," he said.

Meyer agreed and said that the system works and it would be detrimental to change it.

We are doing this to make sure that a system that isn't broke, isn't fixed," he said.

Meyer began his talk by praising the SU and ESF chapter of the group.
*My grandparents went to Syracuse University, "Meyer said. "I love this chapter because Syracuse University is influential and prestigious."

Meyer's broad plan for the future is to make NYPIRG an active voice on the Internet, he said. He is also interested in exploring current Web issues, including consumer issues and privacy laws, he added.
"I want NYPIRG to use the Internet to work for democracy."

His biggest goals for the group include continuing to educate students about the importance of actively voicing their opinions, Meyer said.
"The firststep in doing this is to vote for your leaders," he said.

Kevin Cooney, a senior television radio and film major and group member, said Meyer is a great leader.
him it is always good to hear him speak, Cooney said. "He captures the core of NYPIRG's mission and really portrays the heart of activism.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

If you would've told me when I was in high school that l'd leave SU's student paper would've laughed in your face. But thankfully, being a B student in a high school without a student paper doesn't mean you can't go on to discover how great and magical a college newspaper can be, inside and out. It doesn't mean you can't meet some of the most interesting, intelligent, impressive and thoughtful people you've ever met. And it doesn't mean you can't have the time of your life, and have the privilege of being a leader of an amazing institution. This has been the most challenging but rewarding experi-

Pete, Kirk, Notte: You got the column. What else can 1 say? Ross, Meredith: Thanks for giving me something to shoot for, and showing me how to be a boss and a friend.
Michele, Nancy, David: You are the foundation the paper rests on. Without you, we'd be just another student group. Erendan, Rob: I'll gladly be called a nepotist for hising you guys. Thanks for being my friends first and great editors second.
Bill, Evan, Palge: Thanks for keeping me in check.
Jiloty: Fellow pizan. A voice of reason. There were things you didn't like here, but you stuck it out. You're the reason I felt confident leaving sports. Connor: Where were you all these years? You're like a carwatch every everyone must your honesty. day. Thanks for DC: lt'd be wrong to just call call walking, talking encyclopedia. You're too much of a people person for that. Keep the tradition going. It is your destiny.
Overseas crew: Glad to have you back, mates.
Design: Thank God you're all nocturnal and insane.
News freshies: The future is in your hands. Handle with care. Hail BB.
Justin: You care so much about everything, and that's great. Just stop and smell the ink.
Ryan: Sometimes, I want to kill you. Eut most of the time. Im glad you're my favorite rishman.
Danlella: Ovenvorked, underappreciated. You made bricks draw. It's too bad no digh peopie told you that. you. Your passion makes you real.
ship waters. 5 rough waters. Smile for the camera. A-Shok: The tall, lefthanded Indian. Quite different than me. But different is good. The Windy City beckons us. Emily: Wise beyond your years, and you're just getting going. Dave: It's all in your hands now. I have all You confidence in you. Irving Templeton: I hope in your lifetime, you got to realize what a wonderful, inspiring thing you created, that many rience they ever had

Arrivaderci,
Rón Depasquârele
Editor in Chief

\section*{CAMPAIGN}
continued from page 1
"I'm hopeful," Jensen said. There's a small chance that all our programs will be funded, and a pood chance some will be funded."

The School of Education would also like to add money to a flexible fund giving students and faculty an opportunity to integrate teaching with research projects, Bossert said.

Bossert said there has not always been enaugh funding to provide for every program.
"I'm disappointed, but I think the overall help has been outstanding." Bossert saici.

Both the School of Education and the L. C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science seek funding for technology improvernents.
Tecknology will be a major priority in the next campaign for the school, Bossert said

Edward Bogucz, the engineering and computer science college's dean, added that he would kike to see new equipment in the labs and renovations in the remainder of Link Hall.

Contractors recently finished renovating the fourth floor of Link, adding more laboratory space for student rasearclx

Briant Luong, a freshman computer engineering major, said he supports the prerogative to update equipment.
"Yt's an engineering buiding, and you can barely find an open computer because it's always busy," he said.

The college created a supplemental program geared in math. The program started four years ago with funds from the campaign, Boguez baid.

Groups of six to eight students meet with a facilitator weekly in Academic Excellence Workshops to tackle problems that go beyond regular coursework, Boguez said.

About 100 freshmen and sophomores are involved with the program, Bogucz said.
"It's like the best thing ever," Luong baid. "It's easier to understand because you're learning from another person at the same level as you."

The School of Edvestion dramatically increased its fundraising push in the past years. In 1991 , gifts to the school, what 50 annual gifts to the school, while there were said.
"Ultimately, we want to make alumni and friends aware of the callber of students who want to attend," Bassert maid. "In the long run, this loyalty and commitment will pay off."
collaboration between SU and individual schools, Bossert said.

The idea is to make more money," Lantzy said. "It's a never ending battle. We keep chugging away at it."

\section*{Cluturs andes xoss}

Located In the Basement of the Schine Student Center

\section*{Here's the story, of a man named Justin...}

...who was bringing up four very lovely newsies.

Come join the Daily Orange family! News Meeting, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. 744 Ostrom Ave.

\[
144
\]

\title{
Does it bother you that the first lady isn't from NY?
}

Students respond to the first lady's senatorial campaign stop on the Hill.

©No, it really doesn't matter where you were born. it's what you stand for it's what you stand for and what you've done., MATT ROMANO Engineering Class of 2003

d didn't think she belonged when I first saw her, but after the speech her, but atter the speech
I said 'why not?' Anything I said 'why not?' Anything she says will be listened she
to.

JEAN CARROLL
Arts and Sciences Class of 2000

61'm a registered
Republican, and I like Giuliani. He's already proven himself for the state. 9

JEFF BLAKMAN
Class of ' 97

Git doesn't matter. She has a genuine concern for the issues.?

MARC GOODMAN
Arts and Sciences and Newhouse Class of 2000

\section*{First lady makes sense for the Empire State}

For months, the idea of Hillary Rodham Clinton as a candidate for New York's open U.S. Senate seat was mere speculation. When she wasn't officially a candidate, it was easy to dismiss her as a potential senator. After all, I then concluded, she was not from New York. She was trying to ride her hus band's coattails into office. She was not up to the task.

But now she is a candidate, and I find that it's not so easy to cast the idea of a Senator Clinton aside. After all, she's not the first person to use New York's lack of a residency requirement to run for the Senate. Bobby Kennedy did the same thing and, as far as I know, he served the state well

Hillary Clinton, through her years in D.C., Arksansas and llinois, has learned a lot about politics. Although the failed health care reform effort in 1992 left her a bit bruised, she has tackled other issues, including child welfare, and has found ways to make the "inside the Beltway" culture work for her. She has worked national leaders Maybe could use a little of that in our next senator As for Bill Clinton's coattails, are they really all that long? While his Elizabeth approval ratings may Skewes be strong, that's likely a realthy economy pro not an indication th not an indication that any candidate can sail into office in his wake into office in his wal
Just asis Vice President Al Gore.

But mostly I am rethinking my ideas about her because I have started thinking about her strength of char acter. In her fishbowl life, she has maintained some measure of privacy for her daughter. And through some very difincult times over the past several years, she has shown a remarkable public grace.

So will I vote for Hillary Clinton to be New York's next senator? I honestly don't know. Besides, we've still got a that ID listen to her idenow that I'll Isten to her ideas and that ill give her serious con deserves that much fre

Elizabeth Skewes is a moss communications doctoral student and research assistant at Syracuse University.

\section*{New York will suffer with Clinton}

Hillary Clinton came to town with some very kind words for our politically active campus. She praised us for being so interested in the democratic process. So how can she expect such an aware group of people to jump on her bandwagon just because she supports smaller class sizes and more qualified teachers?

Naturally, we would all like to sce this happen, just as we want to see fewer crimes and less pollution. Her statements

> Aaron HochmanZimmerman not bold or new. not bold or new How could we How could we inprove education? Maybe we should teach children to use the World Wide Web. Computer literacy is important, and Mrs. Clinton did suggest that all classrooms should be connected to the Internet.
Conveniently, there happens to be a controversy in the Liverpool school district over this very subject.

The superintendent proposed that all students be required to own laptops. Most parents were unimpressed - they felt the school's esti mated cost was overly optimistic Still, some felt the computers weren't necessary, no matter the cost. Books can be very informative, after all. So is Mrs. Clinton's blanket proposal to better equip schools the panacea she touts it to be?

The question on my mind when I left her speech Wednesday was: "Who will pay for all this? That doesn't mean I'd rather save a few cations at the expense of a good education. Education is a huge priority, and sacrifices should be made so that in the world they find themsuccessfu

But what should be sacrificed? Social Security, defense, or should we Social Security, defense, or should wack to deficit spending? Maybe. go back to deficit spending? Maybe the money will come from new taxes. the money will come from new taxes.
But we can't be sure - Clinton hasn't But we can't be sure - Clinton has told us about her tax policy yet. It could very well be the secret ingredicould very well be the sec

Another matter that is closely related is Clinton's failed attempt at like a wonderful idea to some, but in practice, not even the Democrats in backed her plan with much enth asm.

Whats different about education? Mrs. Clinton, your first experiment with a public office should not be as a Senator or at the expense of us New Yorkers. It's obvious by the way you shamelessly drop names of cities and towns running from Buffalo to Long Island that you'd be just as likely to run for a Senate seat in any big state.
from New we refer to the "Senators "from New York" it should truly mean Arkan New York" - not Illinois,

Thank you for the interest in tha. position, Mrs. Clinton. Well let in the know in November. Well let you

Aaron Hochman-Zimmerman is a sophomore history and public relations major. \(E\)-mail him at tions major. E-mail him at nrvous2@hotmail.com.

COnly living in a state for six months you can't get a feel for the state. Illinois and Arkansas are two dif ferent states from New York, and I know, I'm from Itlinois.

RENEE HANHART Management Class of 2000

4 was very happy on her emphasis on education the issues are the same al over America.'

STEPHANIE APPEL
Arts and Sciences Class of 2000

© \($\) don't think so. She cares a lot about the issues, especially education. She's also proven herself to be a hard worker. \({ }^{\prime}\)

CARYN YOUNG
Arts and Sciences Class of 2001

6 Not at all. Its not where your from. It doesn't mat ter, she's ambitious and still capable to run for office.

CHRISTY KERSHAW
Newhouse
Class of 2002

The Daily Orange
February 11, 2000

\section*{Partial apology stratifies police}

It took two months for Syracuse Police to apologize for the Dec. 2 beating of 12-year-oid Danielle Currier.

Shamefully, the apology only represents part of the department.

On Wednesday night, the Central New York Association of Minority Police 415 decided to extend their condolences to Currier's family. This was the first official comment from anybody in the department. Currier was allegedly struck several times with a nightstick on Dec. 2 by Syracuse Police Officer John Mullen.

The apology comes after Mullen's Feb. 4, arraignment downtown Syracuse. More than 100 officers gathered in front of the Public Safety Building in support of Mullen. Not one of those officers was black.

Though Mullen has not been convicted, common sense says 12-year-olds can hardly pose a dangerous threat. Whoever was involved showed a tremendous lack of judgement in striking a such a young girl.

Even more tragic is that the Syracuse Police Department has yet to issue an apology. It shouldn't be the Central New York Association of Minority Police 415 or any other group within the force's responsibility to apologize.

Syracuse police's lack of action places minority officers in a precarious position in their communities.

Minority communities need to know that their police force cares about them. The Central New York Association of Minority Police 415 had to reassure the communities they represent that they cared, even at the expense of further police department stratification.

Syracuse University students need only to remember the Sadie's Place stabbings and community reaction to understand how certain areas are typecasted by both the community and police.

But buyer beware: Even though one apology has been issued, it accomplishes little. The perpetrator is no closer to justice and both Currier and her family receive little in return.

Editor in Chief Ron DePasquale Managing Editor Dave Levirthal

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Ecitor Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Lifestyle Edito
Sports Editor Sports Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Copy Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Edior Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Edito Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor
ustin Silverman Ashok Selvamt Holly Aner Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger Tom Nycz Nova Auctraw Emial Prabuck Emily Kuikus Kate Stovenson Tifiany Lankes
Joy Davia Joy Davia
Sapna Kollali Connor Ennis Jeff Pastan
Erin Boyle Tonmary Fiorito Elaine Stcinuer Tito Bottitta Iossica Cutior Renchael Goldien Brendan Dabkowelk Annemarie Bello Ron Fooks

neva austrew/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Concert-goers must respect music performers}

I went on a hyperspace adventure Saturday night. Cruising down the New York Thruway with bright beams highlighting the whipping snow, I sat in the passenger seat of a rented Cavalier gazing at

\section*{RENNY}

\section*{MCCAULEY} the surreal terror surrounding me inad never been told of the amaz ing capabilities of snow while criving. 1 had no clue that it doesn' just hit the windshield - it passes Iike a laser.
I was midw
1 was midway through an international weekend journey that landed me in Utica on and Toronto on Surnday to see I'il just skim over Ben Harper concert very recently the show was amazing.

Unfortunately for me, I got the sudden urge to use the men's room after only several songs. I cursed my tendency to piss during the most inopportune moments, and then hurried off. A group of inebriated college students gathered around the urinals talking in incoherent fragments. When I approached, one student asked me for a pencil. I tried to ignore the individual and took a urinal next to another freaked out person. The pencil guy followed me, begging for his desired writing utensil. "Look, buddy, I don't have a frickin' pencil," I finally hollered.

Sunday, we stopped at Niagara Falls. It seemed like the right thing for my tourist self to do.

We parked on the American side and walked to the Canadian side. Along the way, I had to be checked by customs, which was basically a shack held up by graffitied wooden beams. Someone had scrawled, "Canadian Customs," on the door in sloppy handwriting. Entering the shack, we were interrogated by a suspicious Canadian guy. Just as I was about to slip up and tell him I was running an illegal Cuban cigar ring, he let me go through.

My expectations for the Falls had been quite low, but I thought they were very beautiful. The river was frozen in most parts, with huge chunks of ice directly under the Falls. The only problem was it was really cold. I figured it was time to go when I lost all feeling in my feet.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Comics perpetuate greek stereotypes}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Okay, I know that these letters to the editor defending greek life are becoming tiresome for the entire student population here at Syracuse University:

However, the cartoons that are continuously published, depicting us "ignorant fools" who are part of the greek system are even more tiresome. I actually feel sorry for obviously thought his cartoon, featured on Tuesday, Feb. 8, was witty and mocking. The majority of the readers, however, looked at it and laughed.

Not at the stupidity of the greek system, but at the creator of the cartoon and his lack of creativity. It was this lack of creative ability that forced him to fall back on ity that forced him to fall back on sorority girls. Maybe he forgot. about his deadine and had to create a cartoon in about five minutes. Maybe he honestly thought he was being amusing.

Either way, I am not going to defend greek life in this letter. Plen ty of letters before mine have at tempted to do that. I am not going to preach about all the philan-

On the way back to the States, I was greeted rudely by a sign which read, " 50 cents to enter U.S. rudely by a sign which read, " 50 cents to enter U.S." There was a turnstile with a coin drop that was only a few feet off the ground. It could be jumped over by the most unathletic o absolutely nobody watching.

It seemed weird that I had to pay to get back into my own country. My friends all jumped over the turnstile but I was sure it was some conspiracy to deport all Americans too cheap to pay fifty cents, so and walked throuced my 50 cents in the turnstile and walked through. I prayed that everybody else would get arrested once we got to the U.S. customs just so i would feel my money was wisely spent. It didn't happen, though.

Sunday night came and it was time for Beck. The concert was a let down. First of all, the concer took place in a huge hockey stadium. My seat was ence, people don't let their seats work against them Americans get up and groove no matter where they are, but the Canadians need some lessons in con-cert-going. Everyone just sat there throughout the entire concert. The concert planners also undersold the general admission area - only about half the floor was actually being used. The other half was empty, creating a huge hole between the general admission people and the seated people.

Beck shouldn't be blamed for the lack of energy. He danced like a madman. So did the rest of his band. The music was excellent and Beck kept beg ging the audience to get into the show. But the crowd remained planted in their seats.

The concert was capped off by a strange reenactment of a dream sequence that left the crowd in confusion. The concert left mixed feelings among my companions. The others seemed to give up on Beck and blame him for the failure. I, for one, felt sorry for Beck pouring his heart out with no response.

If you pay the money, you might as well open your ears and give the performer the respect they deserve. It's only fair.

Renny McCauley is a junior television, radio and film major His column appears Fridays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at remccau@syredu.
thropic and community service events that both sororities and fraevents that both sororities and traternities participate in. Those of you who have made up your minds about us will simply close your about us will simply ciose your ears. But am going to say one last thing... the joke is oid but the Greek system is still here. So, say Oh, and one last piece of advice for the creator of "Get 'Cuse to It' ... me creator of Get Cuse to it -... may mock the intellects of either athletes or blondes. I hear there is a lot of fresh material there.

Alison Brady Member, Kappa Alpha Theta sorority Class of 2001

\section*{RUSH}
continued from page 1 for membership in a certain greek house, begins next week.

Getz said the Rush events changed her views about house stereotypes.
*You go in hearing all the different stereotypes of the houses and they are not like that at all,"
she said.
Freshman Mary Beth Burke, an English and textual studies major, said she had a similar experience.
*Going into the houses has really broken down stereotypes of specific houses," she said. "I went into the houses with these stereo types in my head. After visiting, it gave me a better view of sororities

\section*{Faegan's Food For Thought}

\section*{Cate Pub}

1
There are two times you can be under 21 and get into Faegans

\section*{Lunch and Dinner}

Feagan's open Monday-Saturday11am-9pm Wednesday until 8:30pm Sunday noon-4pm , Mastercard, and American Express accepted in general."
Getz said the atmosphere during house visits is generally friendly and accommodating
"It's not competitive at all. Everyone is looking for something totally different," she said.

Students planning to pledge were not necessarily interested in a house because it is a popular sorority or because all their friends are members, she added. Burke said she was openminded to the entire experience of Rush and did not pressure herself to make a commitment to pledge. "I don't know if I am going to pledge," she said. "I'm not going in it saying I have to be in a house."

Compiled by Staff Writer Shelby Healy

You need a roll-on with piotwettiton

\(\qquad\) ways une lalex condons

For a free, full-color poster (188" \(\times 24^{\text {" }}\) ), write:
AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany, N.Y. \(12220^{\circ}\)
N.Y.S. Health Departrrent

\section*{The Daily Orange} Advertising Information the Daily Orange advertis Tasthours are from 9:00 Toghours are from Propplace an advertise inerdth the DO, the ad mustibe at the advertisin 0 of cepefore 2 p.m.two business days before you wantit to run.
Callu439793 for curre ratestand applicable disFcounts during advertising qusiness hours.

As the walls of anonymity crumble down around me I would like to say:
Yes, the Daily Orange actually has a Web site, and I suppose that I am the one that is responsible for it.
However, the truth is that I really don't know anything about computers, or HTML or anything else like that. I faked my way through it like my ex-girlfriend used to do in the sack. So it goes.

I am supposed to write a little thing about everyone that I worked with here, and now at gunpoint I will.
Management: The DO is like a tree of monkeys. You look down from the top and see smiling faces, the rest of us look up and only see assholes.
Ron: The jackass who hired me. Good luck, Godspeed. and don't work so damn hard. I hope your ear will finally heal from all the bitchin' that it was forced to endure.
Dave: Don't ever use the word "dude" around me again. In my memory, make everyone clean this place up.
Kulkus: After Dave fails to make everyone clean the place up. step in and make them do it.
News: Like that seene in Clerks, sometimes you just got to let that last potato chip go (or in your case a news story at 4:30 a.m.). Evan, Justin, Ryan: Thank you. You guys are the only people who ever did the on-line bus near time, and filled out correctly. Unfortunately, that skill is useless.
Sports: The reason that people read the paper (Other than the crossword of course).
DC, Connor, Jiloty, Jeffit If you all didn't shower together at the end of DC, Connor, Jiloty, Jeff: If you all didn't shower together at the end of each night. I would say that you where the only sane people here. In fact, I will still say it.
Lifestyle: Danieile, Holly, Brad
Lifestyle: Danielle, Holly, Brad: See, I didn't add the 's' at the end this time. Frankly, I have had gs for class and he's great. By far, you where nicest to me out of everyone.
Photo: Approximately 11 percent of the poputation can't read. On behalf of them I would like to thank you for making the paper accessible.
fom: I'm not a Native American so don't call me "chief." Secondly, you are one of the few people I didn't ever want to kill. That's the best kind of compliment that a man get.
Copy: The unsung heros of the DO, the very bottom of Copy: The the tree.
Brendan: Calm the heek down. Believe it or not ry facade, not an impending reality. If you are stlll trying to meet a girl over the internet try \(U\)-date.com remember this is my field, I am an expert at this. Laura: Take the crew and go on strike. You aren't paid enough for the stuff you put up with here. Design: You are the Emmanuel Lewis, that makes Webster. (I.E. This is a metaphor meaning you are the centerpiece of the DO.)
Bill: Just look above. 1 know
Bilt: Just look above. I know the show centers around you, but frankly it wouldn't work without Alex Karras as George Papaldopolis. However. thanks for all the help and stuff. Pastels suck.
Tito, Tommy, Elaine, Boyle: You people do good work down there: thats all that needs to be said. Business Staff: Thank you for being the backbone of everything. doing the work us to have our crazy fun.
Ashok: Remember that time we almost got killed? Ah, memories. By the way, our softball team kicked your softhall team's ass. Twice. Woody: Why is it that we are the only two really sane people here? Thanks for fixing everything that needed fixing. Help Justin out when you got an extra second. Start stealing office supplies now.
Everyone else: I'm sure that I'tI see you Saturday night ... how much I't see of you, now that's an interesting question, eh?
Now it is over, and I actually have free time again for a social life. I extend an open irvitation to all moaners, wailers and screamers out there.

Rob Kreuzer
Daily Orange Web Editor

classified Advertising The deadline for classit fiefudidvertisementsi 205natwo business (a) Spicor to tile的 whichtadadista

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 3 p.m. Sunday to meet the News editors and reporters. Free food and coffee for all. Call 443-2127 or email news@dailyorange.com.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.
The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{diulde}

They're alive Dinomania is the newest addition to the Museum of Science S. Franklin St. The new exhibit will feature new exhibit will feature and focuses on several dramatio vienettes that portray the life of dinosaurs in a variety of settings. The exhibit will also include a special "dig box" for bud. ding paleontologists. runs from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sundays to

Thursdays and 9:30 a.m to 5 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays. Admission is \($ 4.75\) for adults.

Americana revisited
Art spanning 200 years of American history is on display at the Everson Museum of Art, 401. Harrison St. The multifaceted exhib it will display portraits of prominent American cons, landscapes and the culture of industry and entertainment. The works of Beatrice Wose-Smith, a favorite ocal artist of the Depression era, will also be shown, featuring landscapes of the Central New York scenes and faces. It will be open noon to 5 p.m. Sunday through Friday and \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). to 5 p.m. Saturday. Admission is free, but donations are welcome.

\section*{Second coming}

The last weekend to see "Jesus Christ Superstar" is approaching at cataclysmic rate. The musical production is celebrating its 23rd season at The Salt City Center for Performing Arts, 601 S. Crouse Avenue. Performances will be shown at 8:30 p.m. Sunday through Vednesday. Prices ange from \($ 12\) for an for a view seat to \($ 18\) or a vie mezzanine.

\section*{Disco chicks}

Disco returns to downtown Syracuse Magnets grace the stage Saturday at tage Saturday at Palace, 314 S. Franklin St. Admission is \($ 5\) and the music starts at 10 p.m.

\section*{Getting fit}

Richard Simmons will be the premier uest in a conference Casino. The even spanning Saturday and Sunday will include exercise demonstra tions and the zany personality of the health furs For tickets and nformation, call 361SHOW.

\section*{Try tubing}
instead using the lopes for skiing. The Four Seasons Golf and Ski Center, 8012 E. Genesee St.
Fayetteville, will be featuring a night of tubing. A small hill located near the store will provide the slopes for the event on Saturday.

See aUIDE on page 14

\section*{TVT and around campus e \\ Wee \\ }

Lifestyle Editor
Carla Hall plans to be reborn on stage at Syracuse University.

The Miami-based singer-songWriter, a participant in SU's ninth-annual Matrilineage Symposium, will give her first large performance in nearly a year on Feb. 19 at Perc Place in the Schine Student Ceater.

Hall, who mixes soul, jazz and folk to form her unique sound, dedicate her SU performance to the memory of her mother, who died last February After a year of quiet reflection and small performances, Hall said she's excited to get back to business on the road. The show, she said, is the perfect way to break back onto the scene and homor her mother's memory.
"I give an honest performance, I think, she said. "A. lot of times in the music industry, you see people who See MATRILINEAGE page 12

\section*{The Daily Orange} budgeted about \($ 23,000\) for ernment Association, the speaker tees, travel and food expenses, said Cindy painting student and painting student and co-cha

A committee made up of students from nomerous academic disciplines began disciplines began plans for the 2000 plans for the 2000 symposium last September. The program is facilitated primarily by the Committee on by the Committee on Women and Art, with helping hands from the Student Gov-

Hall

Graduate Sturdent Organization, the women's studies department, Collective and the studio arts department.

This year's pro gram, which runs from gram, which runs from Feb. 4 to Feb. 26 , showcrases a diverse show ases a diverse palate of talents. Prepalate of talents. Pregraphic designer graphic designer Paula Scher, whose prize-winning work has appeared in the halls of the Metropolitan Museum of prize-winning work
continued from pare 11 sing by numbers. This won't be like that. I may not be Mariah Carey, \({ }^{\text {fel me." }}\)

The Matrilineage Symposium, an effort of the Commitin 1992 as a senior honors project in SU's art media studies program. The program, which brines female professional visual and performing artists to the university each year, is funded entirely by the Student Fee. This year's program \(\square\) ———

New Store
Hours
- 6 pm

YOuR @uALuTY Saua clotMona Stofe SU BAASEETBEALE
. T-shirts . HATS . SWEATSHIRTS
\($ 1.00\) off with this coupon on any item in store half price drafts, drinks, bottles, wine, even food!!

Our DJ rocks the house from 3:30 on.

Ist 50 get a chance to win a \($ 100\) gift certificate!!

All faegan's fans must attend the greatest haffy hour on earth!!

Art, to Aviva Jane Carlin, who stars in the one-woman play "Jodie's Body," to a panel of artists discussing the relationship between art and feminism since the 1970 s .

Organizers chose the words of American author Susan Sontag as their guiding light throughout the planning phases of the symposium.
"I do this, I endure this, I want this ... because I am woman. I do that, I endure that, I want that ... even though I am woman," Sontag wrote in Women magazine.

\section*{Real world}

The Matrilineage Symposium aims to provide positive role models for \(S U\) women involved in the arts, said an planning of the symposium. The speakers, exhibits and performers help expand traditional classroom learning by portraying the successes of women in the arts nationwide, she added.

It's grood to listen to the artists speak and see their work," said Marquis, a senior ceramics major. "Usually we have to learn from textbooks and other, more abstract things. This is much more direct.

And indeed, the performers carry a message for the symposium participants. Hall said she hopes to reach out to

The Ninth Annual Matrilineage Symposium, sponsored by the Committee for Women and Art, begins Monday and runs through February 26. The program, which includes more than 15 speakers, presenters and exhibiters features female artists of all disciplines, from music to sculpture to drama. All events are free and open to the public. For more information, call 472-0110.
women who are unsure of their skills or goals, perhaps fear ing competition in feel comfortable performing and creating art for oneself and creating art fordience. In he said, not an audience. In he 14 years since hall began has become progressively more willing to experiment with her willing to experiment with he wn potential rejection.

I feel i have something to say," she said. "I just realized hat I have to say what I have o say, and if pcople don't. like Joy don't like it."

Joy Deangdeelert, a junior communications design major and a co-chairwoman of the event, said she's confident the accomplished female the accomplished female women that they can make their mark in any field they choose. She cited Scher as a pioneer for women in the pre dominantly male field of graphic design.
"I know that sceing people like her will help women artists to see that they, too, can be successful in traditionally male-dominated fields, she said. "If you want to do it and you say you can do it then you can do it."

Hall, too, encourages young women to run after their dreams, no matter how far-fetched they may seem.
"Don't second guess your self," she said. "If you feel that strongly about something, you have to go forward with it. Otherwise, you'll never be happy again, and you'll always regret it."

Hall moved from Miami to New York City four years ago to gain exposure at larger venues and escape the struggling club scene in Florida Though she admitted the jump. to the Big Apple was a risk, she's happy with the results of her northward trek. Mixing and mingling with big-city names and musical acts has helped sharpen her skills as a performer, she said.

When you see talented people, it really kicks you in the ass," she said. "It totally makes you step up to the top of your game and ask yourself what you can do better."

Youneed o voll-on with

\section*{‘Scream 3 \\ viewers}

Amaaaaaaaaaamaah!
That was our response to Scream 3."
Scream 3."
As we sat down to watch the last installment of the Scream trilogy - hopefully

Matt Bray comed by a 8 Eric hernan and Rosenthal seated across cinemaniacs the aisle from confuse anyone else?
First of all, we know
"Screarn 3" isn't scary, but it is in the neo-horror genre. Second of all, who brings their baby to the movies? baby to the movies?

Getting past that thought, we were presented with an onslaught of previews geared toward our 14-year-old peers and forced to hear yet another girl chime in with her version " "I love Ben Affleck! He's so dreamy." Not that he isn't, but it's not vital information that we needed out of her.

Oh yeah, the movie.
Wes Craven, what are you thinking? We know you can do good work, so why do you choose not to? choose not to?

Oh yeah, the box office totals!
"Scream 3 " boasts a parade of stars so gluttonous that they may have well been on floats, making their way down Hollywood Boulevard away from the masked killer My God, they even dragged Princess Leia out of the woodwork.
"Stab 3," the on-screen version of the trilogy, is in pro duction on Sunrise Studios, when one by one, the stars are killed off in some attempt to reel the real Sidney out of seclusion from the killer. Along the way, we run into, sadly again, the ever-so-annoying, doofy cop, Dewey.

Wait, though, there's a catch: he's now employed as a consultant to the thrasher film based on the story of the murderer of his own sister, but goes back into doofy cop mode to take on the killer.

Enter stage left, literally, Gale Weathers (Courtney CoxArquette), now working as the movie's equivalent to Entertainment Tonight anchor. She feels her expertise on the subject will come in handy as she goes into doofy reporter mode to seek out the killer!

\section*{Hollywood appeal}

If you haven't noticed already, Craven makes a number of very obvious jabs at real life Hollywood, with comments on age, sex and filmmaking. It is kind of interesting though, that Jay and Silent Bob of the Jersey trilogy fame, make a very Hollywood-esque cameo on their tour through Sunrise Studios.

Now time for a visit from

\section*{WRITE \\ A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{"Scream 3"}

Starring: Neve Campbell Courtney Cox-Arquette, David Arquette, Patrick Dempsey, Jenny McCarthy
Directed by: Wes Craven
Studio: Sunrise Studios

\section*{The Verdict:}

Eric "HoHer" Rosenthal: Listen, both you and I know that this is going to make a ton of money at the theatres. so whatever opinion I convey won't do much. 1 understand that, but when it's out on home video, don't rent it! That'll send them the message.

Matt "Shout" Bray: 1 felt the rumble of the seats, but it was mostly due to laughter. And although Craven still keeps the main ideas of the script clever, "Scream \(3^{3}\) " is not a work of his to be admired. As trilogies go, it was "Jedi." was "Jedi."
the annoying film guy, who died in the last film. He is back on video, delivered at the hands of the girl from Welcome to the Dollhouse." He again educates us on the ways of the horror genre, especially the aspects concerning trilogies and sequels.
Whatever he leaves out, unfortunately, the writers add in through a detective character, with an abundance of videostore addict knowledge.

Just because Tarrentino did it, doesn't mean that's all it takes. Believe us, or else we wouldn't be taking History of Theatre for the fourth time!

Another annoying factor was the outrageous amount of the neon green hue that dominates visual spaces everywhere. Thanks a lot, Hype Williams!

Okay, we'll hand it to them - the telephone and voice idea was clever in the first film, solving the problem of how horror films can surviv in the world of cell phones. But the magical device in this film allows the killer, whoever that may be, ha, ha, ha, to duplicate any voice he or she wishes. Ha ha ha.

This film does not border on the shameless, it smuggles it over the border. They go so far that they try to sell us a Creed album with not only a ong, but a poster too. Don't get us wrong, that whole Creed and Robbie Creeger thing at Woodstock ruled. But did they have to swipe the cool Nick Cave and the Bad Seeds song from "Dumb and Dumber"?

Aaaaaaamaaaaaaaamaaah!
The acting was that bad.

\section*{AIDVANCE NOMPCLS \\ 1/2 OFF:}

3 Days Only!
Fri., Sat., sun.
Feb. \(11-13\) * 11 am Start
- Huge Clearance

Brand New & Vintage
- Winter & Spring Clearout!

BDDM IBABIIES
on Westeou (of Euctid) 472-1949 Minutes from cempus

Cox-Arquette was worse than she is on Friends.

Patrick Dempsey plays the detective at hand who may very well be Sidney's killer. And he may very well be pay ing Sidney to hang out with him; see "Can't Buy Me Love." Jenny, we wish we got your number. You know
McCarthy's not all bad at acting. Her character was actually the most interesting and played with the most depth out of all the cast.

But Neve Campbell plays the same, sadly depressed character she plays in everything she does. Seek help. Can we say type-cast?

And finally, David Arquette. Boy oh boy. Those I-800-CALL-ATT commercials aren't getting any better and neither are his film choices. You used to do good movies! Get a new agent!
;

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Melissa McAteer: I know you're not here to read this, but I wanted to thank you from afar. You were my first friend at the DO, and from you I leamed how to handle this ylace... you even introduced me to place... you even introduced me to my favorite drink (eo raspberry iced tea). We laughed, we carved pump kins, we drove Bill crazy. It was a grear time. Thanks for everything

Bill: When 1 had that legendary Bill: When 1 had that legendary interview 2 years ago (where my first memory of Bill hninger is eat ing a big slice of Sbarro pizza, a trend that would continue ...) and I made that crucial claim (or mistake ..) that I loved Franklin Gothic, knew that we d fit in together as only geeky designers can. 1 give you so much credit for making my learned so much from you. I'l never forget the late nights, the many-missing ads. the SND convention, watching you and Melissa hearing your mix of country and God music, scarfing down bag after bag of tortilla chips \(&\) salsa. sneak ing hidden objects into the paper, and the many many unswectened. no temon iced teas. Thanks for 2 great years. Take that great confidence and run with it.

Elaine: The only other non Allentowner in design, and that and greatful for. Thanks for being such a sweet girl.

Tito: Our token freshman in design and fellow lover of Dave Matthews and the great raspberry iced tea. You'll go far at this place with your talent. just don't forget about the outside world.

Tom: One of my namesakes at this place ... you're a great guy to know, work with and let select the night's music. Have fun in my old position, but don't fret: you're going to do a great job at this and whatever else you do.

Eris: What can I say? From child motester vans. Tigger ears, to trip to Wegman's and Denny's Diner. thanks for helping me not take this place too seriously.

Ashok: I've watched you navigate from our last, great Night Editor to Editorial editor with great success. You've helped me survive the crazy long nights by always making me augh with your sometimes off-kit er, out always hilarious, humor with everyhing Hoily & Lifestyle departments, past \(\mathbb{E}\) present: Thanks for giving me countless sections to design. Not to pick favorites - okay, I will I loved to work with you guys and design your pages.

Dave & Emily: Sadly. I won't have the pleasure of working under your leadership. But I know thatue to be great in your ver hands. tinue to be great in your very capable hands.
Good luck next year.
are). I can only wish each and every one of you success and happiness.

Sherri Taylor: The great design gury who has given me an outstanding out-of-the-DO perspective.

Faye: So much has happened between us from the time I was hired at this place, to now. You've heard me rant and rave about this place for 2 years and still stuck by me. There is not enough space in feel but with my new found free feel, but with my new fout for dom, they ll be Werve had so many me to tell you. We ve had so many good times, and that will only increase. I love you.

Thanks to everyone. I'll really miss this place.

\section*{GUIDE}
continued from page 11
Price is \($ 10\) for four hours. For more information, call 6379023.

\section*{Lovers delight}

For \($ 99.95\) you can treat your valentine to a night of romance and a gourmet dinner. Broadway singer Karen Oberlin and the CNY Jazz Orchestra will entrance couples over dinner at 4 p.m. Sunday on the Carousel 4 p.m. Sunday on the Carous Center Skydeck. If you're of age, specialty wines by Pascale will accent your evening perfec ly. Reservations are required, Iy. Reservations are required, so hurry while there's still time.

\section*{Perfusion persuasion}

If you're interested in the health-related professions learn about being a perfusionist. Though it sounds more musical than physical, it is related to human physiology. Bruce Serles, chair of the Cardiovascular Perfusion Department at the College for Health Professions at SUNY Upstate Medical Center will be the featured speaker. The lecture begins at 3 p.m. Friday in 320 Hall of Languages and is sponsored by the Health Professions Advisory Program.

\section*{Cupid Concert}

All you need is love at the College of Visual and Performing Arts Valentine Concert. The Syracuse Vocal Ensemble, in coordination with Ensemble, in coordination with the First Unitarian Universalist Society, will sponsor the event You can catch this loving display at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at 250 Waring Road in Syracuse. Tickets for adults are \($ 12\) and for students and seniors are \($ 10\). Call 446-6506 for details

\section*{Cinemania}

UU Cinemas will sponsor four movies this Friday and Saturday nights. Scheduled to show are "Up in Smoke" at 7 p.m., the eighties cult hit "The Breakfast Club* at 8:45 p.m., Mystery Science Theater 3000 at 10:30 p.m. and "Plan 9 from Outer Space" at mid night. Admission for all four movies is only \($ 4\).

> The Daily Orange Advertising finformation

Wint inaily Orange Kakertising hoưrs: ( POD 400 pm . Thoplace an adve thsement in the Dod Cheza must beat 5adg dyertising offore
 Gusiness days betore 8otwant it to rung Callin43-9793 for cutent rates and apoilicable discoints druchadvertisity business hours fut
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
You need a roll-on with mbingikrum \\
 \\
To grotact agiting Aips and of her StDi \\
For a frec, full-color poster (18" \(\times 24^{\prime \prime}\) ). write: AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000 Albany, N.Y. 12220 \\
N.Y.S. Hoalth Department
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{www.dailyorange.com} stories, comics, crosswords. updated daily.

\section*{Orangewomen pummel rival Cornel \\ SY CHRI \\ breezing through the first set 6-0 \\ The Scarlet Knights featur}

Double trouble spelled disaster for the Cornell women's tennis team Wednesday evening:

Syracuse, taking all three of the doubles matches and winning the top three singles matches, as well as the sixth, won the in trastate battle 6-2 at Drumlins Tennis Center:
"We started very strong on doubles, and that set the tone for the match." SU coach Mac Gifford said. "We have been very solid in that respect in recent matches Neveklovika and freshman Marsha tennis Kabanova teamed up for the first of the Orangewomen's doubles victories, winning \(8-2\) and catapulting \(S U(4-\)
\(2,2-1\) in the spring) past 2, 2-1 in

Gifford is pleased with Neveklovska's and Kabanova's development, he said.

He said he believes this is the soundest doubles play he has seen from Neveklovska, who appears to feel comfortable in a doubles slot.
"There is beginning to be a chemistry there," Gifford added Most tennis players are not used o teamwork, and these girls are starting to see how making partic ular shots and placing them helps each other.
"For Michelle, this is really her first partner who she has her first partner who she has worked really well with. And NevekIovska also chipped in a solid performance at No. 3 singles,

\section*{CONSECUTIVE}

\section*{continued from page 20}

9 -of-13 shooting and eight rebounds.

Tobiah Hopper followed Williams' layup with ajumper and then fed Williams for another turnaround jump shot. This capped an 8-2 Louisville run in which Syracuse appeared to be one step behind its Cardinal counterparts.
"They shot well," forward Preton Shumpert said. Youve got to took total advantage of it and knocked down some big shots.

In the game's early stages, Syracuse appeared energetic. Tony Bland stapted a 7.4 opening with a layup, Preston Shumpert hit a long three from the left side and then found Thomas inside for a rim-crushing dunk.

After evening the game out at 7-7, Louisville took control Spearheaded by Marques Maybin and his 16 points, along with Williams and Gaines in double figures, the Cardinals found open shot after open shot on the way to their eye-opening shooting performance.
Louisville went on a 17-6 run to push the score to \(24-13\), earning a lead it would to 24 -13, earning While Syracuse didn't shoot poorly (44 percent), Louisville shot the lights out, hitting at a 46 percent clip from beyond the are.

The Cardinal also garnered 22 assists and held strong in the rebound battle, losing \(36-35\) to a taller SU team.

Syracuse also found trouble getting the ball into Thomas, who finished with 12 points on 5-for-6 shooting along with nine rebounds. With Thomas unable to dominate in the paint, SU instead chose to gamble -a decision that chose to gambl didn't pay off
"If they're going to be out there double-teaming and gambling, you've got to attack them, Crum said. "Ive never questioned my teams effort. Ive maybe ques tioned their judgement, but always put forth the full effort." loss, Syracuse must look at its season on the whole and not said.
before Cornell's Suzanne Wright took her the distance in the second set. The SU junior held on for a \(7-5\) second-set decision

First singles standout Shareen Lai, still nursing a nagging shoulder injury, made short work of Jodie Furley 6-1, 6-3.

Gifford said Lai's shoulder occasionally acts up when the senior co-captain overexerts herself However, he said she should remain a mannstay in the lineup.

Lai will need to continue to play to have a shot at qualifying for the NCAA Championships.

Senior Anna Khvalina, at No. 2 singles, exploded out of the gate, taking the first set \(6-0\) before her opponent withdrew due to injury during the second frame, which Khvalina led 1-0.

And at No. 6 singles, Katie Thompson earned a satisfying victory, edging Becky Sendrow in a 6-3,2-6, 11-9 marathon.
"Katie played extremely well and was very solid in the tiebreak\(r\) in the third set," Gifford said.

Lai and Khvalina paced the Orange at first doubles, winning 8 2, while Zuzanna Borucka, a junior, and Thompson, a sophomore batthed to an 8-6 third-doubles victory

Gifford attributed the one sided outing to a heated rivalry between the sichools and a great week of practice. week of practice. nell," Gifford sa nell," Gifford said. "We're not on friendly terms, so there is no love lost.
*We played really grod tennis at practice and weve been stress ing a lot of strategy and shot making. Everyone played with those "We won 19 games, and you have to take a look back and understand the whole picture," SU's head man said. "We are a grod basketball tearn. We just aren't putting the ball in the basket enough to be effective.

While Jason Hart, Thomas and Blackwell all finished in double figures with 16, 12, and 10 points, respectively, the Orangemen must regain their scoring balance with UCLA coming to the Carrier Dome on Sunday atternoon

Just five days removed from a perfect 19-0 record, the team hopes to straighten things out for the matchup, especially with contests at St. John's, Notre Dame and Connecticut in the next three weeks.
"It's just mental," Hart said. "We've got to pick it up. We're still in a good position. Weve lost two straight, and we've got to get our groove back."
weekend, resting his top guns and getting underclassmen, including freshman Shervin Saedinia, into the lineup.

Gifford said Saedinia is playing well enough to start, but has been unable to bump any player from the currentrotation.

Saturday's showdown marks the return of Syracuse native Sarah Wilcox, now a junior No. 2 singles player at St. Bonaventure. Wilcox starred at Corcoran High School in the mid-1990s.

Rutgers, unable to break into he win column against the Or angewomen in recent seasons, vis its SU on Sunday hungry for a vic tory.
makes me queezy.
Ron: Remember when I came into your room for the first time freshman year after tormenting May? We've come a long way, buddy. And we'll go a lot further. If you hadn't suck ered me into it, ! wouldn't be writing this. Bitch.

Shok: Edit board to follow never again! We'll see a Sabes game soon. I'm glad I got to place to thank for that. Fuck car place to strong-serving first-singles star Donna Krouzman. She played out an epic battle last sea son, and their rematch, along wh b just as intense, Gifford said

That is always a closely-contested match," Gifford said, espe cially because they are so well coached."

While Gifford set his long term focus on the Big East Tour nament, he said the key right now is playing fundamentally sound in the must-win matches and remaining healthy. That begins with Lai, at number-ones sin gles, and follows throughout the lineup.

Rob: Someday, when we're old men and done with our lives. we 'I take a train from southern France to Italy. And we'll both be able to gamble in Monte Cario this time. When you're famous (or at least rich) lit probably be living in your basement

Everyone I forgot: don't take it personal. Come find me and l'll give you a big hug. I've en joyed myself here and everyon has been Laura- where would this place Yorkians? Fooksie - l'll miss ya. We'll always have 305 . And the monkeys. Annemarie-STOP YELiNG AT ME!

Lifestyle: Danielle, Holly, Brad - y'all were for publishing my sorry-ass shite every blue moon.

Sports: D.C., Jiloty, Connor - you guys have a tremendous department. Though there' sports story, I forgive ya Good luck.

News: Justin - you're pretty intense, and intensely ries always made me laugh, which is a pretty strange ac complishment coming from news. Good luck. Errily - Ever the headstrong newsie; you'll be a great M.E. Dave - another WNY boy, hope this rag fares (well) in your hands.

Photo/Design: You guys rock. Bill, the paper would falt Erin, Tom - your lightheartedness

SU can find reinforement in that theme beginning this weekend. Facing a tough schedule, the ponent \(S t\). Bonaventure on Saturday at 1 p.m. and entertain Rutgers on Sunday at 11 a.m.
solid test of SU's stamina and focus, Gifford said.
diff Playing back-to-back is very dincult, Gifford said. "Imagine a baseball pitcher, who uses the same overnand motion as a ternis player, throwing seven innings again the next day It's an extremely demanding task."

As a result, Gifford said he
My reign of terror is over. The English major with a bleak future's bowing out. Thanks to those of you that got me on my way to painting the town red. Oh wait, meant prevented me from doing so for so many nights by having to edit your lame-ass Stories. Ha! Advice for the fusume the house is haunted Oh, and keep laughing at the immortal part.

Copypals: Lene - you taught me everything 1 know. Sort of. Miss ya. Brian - thanks for the recommendation for the New be without we Western New

What Kind of "Impressiont" Are You Gonna Make at Spring Break?

\section*{ASK ABOUT OUR STUDENT SPECIAL}

UNIVERSITY
CNY Medical Ctr. Suite 340 739 Irving Avenue Syracuse 470-5854
DOWNTOWN 205 S. Salina SU 426-8917

FAT ANALYSIS.
WITH THE
PURCHASE OF
to SESSIONS OR MORE

Although my time here may have been short, that doesn't mean I didn't like it. I may have whined and complained, but working at this dilapidated building was t.
lege.
Steve - So you left me here by myself. It would have been one sweet semester with you at the helm. All joking aside, thanks for all your help Steve. You're cue bail, t'm eight ball. Steve, You're cue ball, l'm eight ball your twelve ball ... You're an idiot! Rach What can I say, little one? Although we kept you up past your bedtime, you made this job ten times better when you first walked through that door You're a zem! Thanks for everything!
Jess-Okay, we had our days at each other's throats but damn we had fun. And hell, I think we did a darnn good job considening where we started. And it is a shame we didn't keep the list gaing. It would have been quite a legacy to leave behind. legacy to leave beh You're the boom!
 thanks. I without you.

ple that I respect the most. You always made the job fun. And hell, what is better than a road trip with sports. The Pittsburgh Post Gazette loves mel Thanks guys. And of course I couldn't escepe without saying sorry, tt was not the way I wanted to go out saying sorry, tt was not the way I wanted to go out and i hope you guys understand. San Dimas out and I hope you guys und High School Football Rules!

Shok - There isn't enough space to write to you. When I didn't know where to go, I could always go to you for a laugh; you were there to feel the pain Deck the Hollsl So Shok Deck the Hollsl So Shok, thanks. I wouldn't have made Holls - Basically recall the e-mail you sent me and imagine it on this page. All kidding aside, you were tons of fun. No pun intended. (Sports that's for you) You also kepr me here for you) You also kept me here. ! nearly had a breakdown and it was you that kept me sane. And was you that kept me sane.
maybe you'll make. maybe you'll make enough money to afford surgery to separate those elbows from your body. Thanks Holls. Erin - Thanks for seeing through the bul, I Erin. You and i had our troubles, but hey, if it doesn't kill you it only makes you stronger, You are a great friend. However, Skeletor will not only beat you in ario Cart, he is also going to beat you sense less. And besides, you're totally loose!

Elissa - I'm sorry. I know my disappearing act was rotten. But it was never done

Photographers -
To all those who helped me out at the last second, I would like to give you my deepest thanks. The job ran me wild and it was never personal, I did my best.

Ron D. No matter what people say Ron, I think you did one hell of a job. I think you. above everyone. knew how tough it was for me and it meant a lot that you understood. It is good to know that in this shitty society, there are still good people like you.

Conner and DC - You guys are probably the two peo

BDTDD
continued from page 20
St. Johns."
To battle the Hoyas, Syracuse (9-11, 2-7 Big East) needs repeat perleaders. Beth Record, Jaime James leaders. Beth Record, Jaime James, fensive games against the Red Storm on Wednesday night, leading SU to an 84-77 overtime win.

James poured in 21 points on 7 form. The sophomore guard went 4 for-9 from behind the arc.

During Syracuse's recent fourgame losing streak, James fell into a mild shooting funk. Prior to last Sunday's loss to Ruterers, James had failed to score in double digits in four of Syracuse's previous five garnes.

Her numbers dipped below the 12.7 points-per-game average she posted during SU's first seven games this season.

But 21 points on Wednesday and 15 points against Rutgers seem to have brought her back from her slump.

Record also suffered some shooting woes during SU's recent fourgame slide. Two week ago, Record ranked as the Big East's leading scorer with 18.2 points per game.
But failure to score in double digits in three of SU's four games dropped her to second place in the conference scoring race.

Standing in first place is the player that she'll be defending Saturday - Georgetown's Katie SmarckaEast at 18.2 points per game, while East at 18.2 points per game, while Record has dropped to 17.0 per game.

For SU, Aziz had another solid showing against the Red Storm on pasted the Red Storm with center pasted the Red Storm with 15 re Bezerkerli!!!!

So my time is over and I would like to leave you all with some passing words: Evil will always triumph over good, because good is dumb.

Kiss my curby ass goodbyel Duecelll Tom Nycz

Photography Editor

\section*{those Detroit girts to the diner.}

Connor- My telekinetic twin. Our similarities are uncanny. I wish I knew the kid from Dallas, Penn. earlier. It was a pleasure keeping this crew in line with you.
tradition.
D.C.- You can't teach height. Or kindness. Or charm. Or the ability to make sports writing into an art. You do all this with class. Your dry humor will be much missed.

Danialle- The calming presence in the office. Though I don't remember You've made Ryan a very lucky guy

DePasqualo-My boss. Wait, that's wrong. My friend. Much better. Nothing's perfect, but as the skipper on the ship that is The Daity Orange respect. Maybe next time we'll bring Bill- I'll make this short and sweet, ju'st like the blossom as Michael Knight Editor. From country music, to Buffy. I can't acknowlege how much your friendship has enriched my life.

Kulkus-Wow. You've come a long time since last spring when we worked through the protest. You use the one thing that's bigger than your head (by a vast difference) to your advantage - your heart.

Boylo- Never, Erin. You and Bill made Allentown nauseating, but in a fun way. Olive me, why goof which lill never forget. What's that thing about Ohio?

Tommy-Central Time Zone for Adeot- Illinois represent!

Nycz- My fellow BLF member (Eackside Liberation Front). You are a consumate professional As one of the most geniune people 1 know, rm honored to know you tographer either.

Ryan- You played Loki to my Krishna. Misehief makers, rushing through halls, trying to change halls, trying to change NEVER die. You've made Danielle a very lucky girl.

Brendan-Greg Graffin would be proud. You prove

Holly- It's finatly your time. Just remember, you were more than a target, you were a target with a phenomenal sense of hurror. Just hazardous to your health.

Brad W.- You're in NYC. but your presence is still feit. Keep a light on for me because I'll be making the pilmigrage soon. More partying will be done. Count on it.

Levinthal I have supreme configence, but if you need me, you know where I am.

REPlayers- I've been away for a while. but I'm back now. Time to prove who's welcome in tie Plaza. Hope Itm still The noxt seneration of D.O'ers heed this - trust your instincts and don't be with a smile.

Ill miss making fun of all of you. And for all those who I foret to list. I'm dumb...X___ sign who 1 fo there.

\section*{BRAGGADOCIO}

\section*{continued from page 20}
fense the Orangemen used -man-to-man or a \(2-3\) zone - they were no match for the agile Louisville squad.
b have done a better job guarding them," guard Allen Griffin said, "But we were kind of sluggish and slow out there Even sluggish and slow out there. Even myself, I felt kind of sluggish and slow. We have to pick up our energy. We didn't have a lot of energy."

SU varied its defense, hoping to contain the Cardinals (13-9, 4-5 Conference USA), who play without a true big man but with enough pure shooters to frustrate the solid Orange defense.

Lately, however, SU has faltered on the defensive end, and the reliability has become a liability.

Syracuse alternated between its stalwart 2-3 zone and its less used man-to-man. The Orangemen even implemented a modified press midway through the second alf.

Each time, Louisville answered with its myriad of offensive skills.

The driving of guard Marques Maybin drew the zone inside, and he kicked the ball outside for an open jumper. The Cards knocked down 5 -of- 8 threes in the first half and shot a blistering 46.2 percent from downtown for the game

When the Orangemen shifted to the man defense, Maybin found alleys and glided for easy buckets, finishing with 16 points.

If SU chose to focus on Maybin - who scored Louisville's first sevWilliams, a rangy found Tony maker.

Williams shot 9 -for-13, punctu ating a Cardinals offense that knocked down an unbelievable 57.6 percent (34-for-59) of their shots. Williams versatility displayed by Williams confused the Orangemen all night. Following up missed shots or knocking down threes, he harassed SU and torched the Or ange for 20 points.
His 22-foot triple from the right side gave the Cards a 15-8 lead early in the first half and exposed the Syracuse defense's lack first half
The Orangewomen will need all three starters as they face a streaky Georgetown squad. The Hoyas are coming off wins over Villa a ova on Feb. 5 and at Seton Hall on Wednes day night. Georgetown sits at 13-8 verall but only \(6-4\) in the Big East. Three of their conference losses came in a four-game losing streak in early January.

The Hoyas average just 65 points per contest but keep opponents down as well. Georgetown's foes shoot 25 percent from downtown.
"They've got a really nice inside game," Freeman said. "They're a very balanced team. We've got to play better on Saturday than we did (against SJU)."

Smrcka-Duffy, the first female basketball player in NCAA history to declare early for the WNBA Draft quarterbacks the Hoya attack.

She scored 25 points in Wednesday's win over Seton Hall, including a perfect 16 -for- 16 from the charity stripe.

A familiar face will be roaming the Marley hardwood this weekend. Nok Duany, sister of Orangemen reserve forward Kueth Duany, posted 1 I points and six rebounds against Seton Flall at one of the starting forward positions for the Hoyas.

The Orangewomen struggled on defense against the St. John's guards on Wednesday night. Latasha Thompson burned SUG for 22 points while Giani Bowles chipped in 18 points off the bench.

Freeman said her squad must do a better job Saturday to shut down the Big East's top scorer.
