More people, however, have discovered that these drugs can be used for other purposes

\section*{Test rum}

While tests are still being performed on brain boosters, most doctors hardly recommend this drug because little scien ic information is available.

According to the Fox News Web site, Dr. James McGaugh, M.D., said there is not enough evidence to prove brain boosters effective.

There's simply no good evidence that it works in boosting memory, he said.

While he acknowledged the drugs as safe, McGaugh said he would not recommend their use.

Most doctors know little about memory boosters, and they often refer to other professionals, such as nutritionists or pharmacists, for more information.
"The FDA doesn't regulate these memory boosters because they call them a dietary supplement, so they don't have to prove as safe," said Susan Srugs, in pharmacist at Eckerd Drugs in Shoppingtown Mall. Syracuse University nutripharmacies are often not pharmacies are often not health regulation by the fovernment.
"Supplements, in general, can be sold whether they are safe or not, or if they give an effect or not," she said. "The FDA doesn have enough people to inspect unless enough people complain about side effects.

This lack of inspection could present major problems in the long run, Short added.
"Basically, they fall between the cracks, they're not a food and they're not a drug," she said.

Because the drugs are herbal, manufacturers do not need FDA approval to distribphermacist at Fekerd Druge 603 Nottingham Road

But consumers should understand that brain boosters can stimulate allergic reactions in people who are sensitive to the plants, she added.

Some of the side effects that have been reported are headaches, diarrhea, irrisaid. It is not uncommon for people who are not peop to the herbs to have an adherbs to have an adbrain boosters, she added.
ye If you have any rye wheat allergies, its herbal pills," Sheils said.

Ma said he has experienced some of these adverse side effects, but believes it was an even tradeoff.
"I definitely had a major headache after the Erst few times I took the pill, but it gets better," he said. "Besides, it's totally worth it when youre stun't have to pull all and you don't have to pull all-nighters in But

But not all herbs produce instant results.
"All the pill brands differ, not every brain booster has the same amount in them," Sheils said. The concentrations of the root vary. So once you find a different from the rest on the different from the rest on the market.

\section*{Memory game}

Gingko, the most well known herb for boosting brainpower, has a cumulative effect.

Research done by the manufactures of Gingko laboratories indicates that no amount of ginkgo taken as an individual dose has any immediate effect on cognitive abilities. Therapeu tic doses, however, taken over time - a minimum of eight weeks - have proven to be highly effective, especially in the elderly.

Lauren Sarlo, a junior advertising major, said she would not mind trying out the herbal pills as long as she was certain there would be no permanent side effects and that the pills would work.

Who wants to be cramming and freaking out for an exam if you took something that can help you remember every last detail?" she said.

Votra said that the sale of brain booster drugs, especially Gingko, has increased signif1cantiy within the last few years. doses can protect a person's memory and stop the aping affects of memory loss, as well as increase brain cognition, she said. The herbs are sold over the tor's prescription, but consult ing with a physician before taking any kind of herbs or drugs is recommended.
Small bottles that hold 60 tablets usually run from \($ 8\) to \($ 10\) and a three month supply is about \($ 63\).

But for those looking for a miracle, Votra said there is only one sure-fire way to ace your exams.

Nothing beats the oldfashioned studying method which guarantees results," she said.

\section*{of ethical values can infect the views and standards of athers worldwide- \\ DeCode is promoting a} ty pe of complacency in regards to individual rights, relegat it to mere obstacle in the

Corey Hann is junior pre medicine and philosophy major. He is also an assistant lifestyle editor for The Daily Orange His column appears Thursclays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him cthann@syr.edu.
eruption according to a report published by the Washington

Though Iceland's case is unique and perhaps allows for an opportunity to further research, it should not achieve its goal at the cost of its citizens. The shady proceedings of DeCode has begun an opposition movement that has developed a viable platform for rejecting the companies offer but it may be too little too late.

It's too early to tell from this situation, but this serves the economically-weakened nation in hopes of uncovering some of the mysteries surthat cause a host of diseases.
"I am first and foremost a physician," Steffanson said. "I am secondly a scientist convinced that genetics provides the best tools to discover the nature of human diseases.

The original blend of 9 th century Norse stock and Celtic seamen has been largely unchanged, and this gene pool was further restricted by bouts of this information for its com company and excluding all entific investigators who might conceivably infringe on that company's pronts is a gross violation of the human rights of Icelanders," said Einar Arnason, professor of biology at the University of Iceland. Iceland's 1000 years of genetic purity and homogenous allele former Harvard Medical School former Harvard Medical Sch promessor, and recklessly utilizing nued from page 9 Althing, approved the plan last month allowing DeCode Genetics, to hold an unusual keting monopoly on data ma report released by the Iceland Parliament.

SLEUTH

This extensive tenure could possibly breed animosity among ennetie rosentehers and again vio
"The monopoly awarding

\section*{We're running out of Toms}

\section*{12 March 9, 2000}

\section*{MANHATTAN}
continued from page 16 enter the Big East Tourney at 24-4 (13-3 conference), ranked No, 12 in the nation ference brackets.
\({ }^{\text {TThe only goal }} 1\) set every year is to play as well as we can, Boeheim said. "If we can do that, I'll I'm not aure if we did, but we came fairly close to playthe regular season, and now we'd like to do the same thing in the postseason. The Orangemen's one \(n\) nt faze them.

Before Syracuse advances to "Bracketville," it will face a so-called "Brack. ettown," with the strong Big East sending as manyas seven teams to the Big seven

\section*{COACHES}

\section*{continued from page 16}
coach, five days later, the ormer Cornell head coach eturned to his former pasi-

Meanwhile, offensive cordinator George DeLeone relinquished the \(Q B\) job and added Stoutland's former post as the offensive line coach.

Hofher is well-qualified for the position. He has coached for 22 years, 14 as a QB coach. In his first stint at Syracuse, he tutored Don
McPherson during his senior campaign in 1987
After leaving SU in 1989 for Tennessee, Hofher spent one season with the Vols before he was hired as the head coach in Ithaca. He spent eight years with the Big Red, leaving for the University of coach quarterbacks.

His Ione season there,

The Daily Orange

Surging Miami pulled the two seed, while perennial powerhouses St. John's and fourth, respectively.
tourth, respectively. Seton Hall are No. 5, with could-be tourney teama VilDame seeded seventh.

The bottom line: The Big ast is loaded, and Boeheim East is loaded, and Boeheim knows it.
he said. "We've prepared, teams. W. Weve got good can play with anybody in the country. We've proven that already.
"It's going to be tough in the tournament for everybody. Other than the top seed in the first round, after that, everybody's going to be for a battle.
Said senior center Etan Thomas: We have to go out however, became a mess. Beleaguered UNC coach Carl Torbush, who many thought would be fired, cut Hofher and two other coaches loos after the Heelg' 3-8 season. work herits a team that, after 12 stable years behind center, used a two-quarterback system this past fall.
In addition to the QB tandem of sophnmore Troy dem of sophtmore Troy
Nunes and junior Madei Nunes and junior Madei
Williams is R.J. Anderson, the man that some orange and blue fans nabbed as the next Donovan McNabb. Signing day brought two more signal-callers, junior-college transfer Chad Elliott and freshman Jared Jones, t challenge the incumbents.

Hother said he looks for which kicks off April 1 and which kicks off April 1 and gives him a peek at

\section*{PULLED}
continued from page 16 note, as Georgetown posted a 16-12 victory over No. 16 Syracuse. The freshman netminder finished with six saves but gave up 10 foals to a veteran Gporgetown attack that carried the Hoyas (2-0) to the Gignon said she was ner. ous playing, as well as a little surprised at getting the call to enter the game.
me before the game and said if Clo was having trouble, then I what seed we are. The seeds really don't mean that much to us."

Syracuse hopea to avoid the fate it faced last goaround in the Garden. The 76-75 decision to St. John's on Feb. 19.

SU rebounded with three consecutive wins before the loss to UConn.

Their confidence level, though, has not dwindled. In fact, Hart said the Orangemen played a good game against Connecticut. Their one problem, the senior guard said, was the inability to bury shots. o bury shots.

Syracuse went 23-for-55 ( 41.8 percent) and an ice-cold 1 -for- 12 from 3-point range. Conversely, the Orangemen fared better against Georgetown in t

Shooting 46 percent and
"From a position standpoint, we will work on what the coaching staff) deterthe position \(n\) Hofher said. (Nunes and Williams) didn't have a lot of experience since Donny played so well for four years. They played well, all things considered.
Bush also joins Coach P's staff, replacing Kelly as secondary coach.

Pasqualoni and Bush go way back. When Bush played defensive back at Southern Connecticut State, his position coach was Pasqualoni. The head coach of that 1981 team: George DeLeone.

As if the web wasn't woven enough, Bush then joined Cant He a graduate assiscoach one of their linebackcoach one of familiar guy named Jeff Stoutland. Current wide receivers coach Dennis Goldman also held an assistant's dishing out 20 assists, SU outscored the Moyas 40-27 in the second half and won the Syracuse hopes to repeat hat performance en route to a semifinal tilt against the winner of the UConn-Seton Hall game.

We set our goals, and we accomplished a lot," Tony in the Big East, regardless of What anyone else says.

Even after his team ran over Syracuse, UConn coach Jim Calhoun praised the Orangemen.
"Syracuse is the best team in the conference," Calhoun said. "Soup to nuts, they're the best."

That, they still must prove -rs and the best way, the players say, is by a good showing

SU's main foil this after noon will come in a slender 6-

\section*{position on that team.}

Like Hofher, Bush coached at numerous schools before arriving at SU. His list includes Boston Univergity, the University of New gity, Have
lege.

He spent the last nine years at the high school level, the six most recent com ing as Manalapan (N.J.) High School's head coach. He also School's head coach. He also added his expertise as a pan.
"It's a great opportunity for me," Bush said. "I'm familiar with the terms and miliar with the terms and che scnemes. Coach Pasqualoni just g

Bush comes
Bush comes with the en dorsement of Pittsburgh tor Kevin Gilbride and Cleve tor Kevin Gilbride and Cleve land Browns head coach coached with him at the col-foot-11 frame. Lee Scruggs, an athletic 230-pound junior colin the Hoyas loss last month. Four inches taller than Four inches taller than yracuse power forward Ryan Blackwell, Scruggs owns a sizable matchup advantage. He is also quick enough to keep up with the versatile Blackwell

But the Hoyas will need more than a good performance from Scruggs to compete with Syracuse.

With Hart, Blackwell and Thomas competing in their final Garden games - and for a better seed in phase three the implications are high and the expectations even higher.
"We have to play well," Hart said. "And I think we can ghase two right now.?

\section*{lege level.}

Like a high school safety must make the adjustment to high-level college coaching after years in smaller colleges and high schools.

It's a different level because college teams throw the ball more," he said. "It's just the system I have to get use to."

Despite the loss of Ian McIntosh, Bush inherits a talented defensive backfield. He returns starting corner Will Allen and free safety Quentin Harris. Special teams specialist Willie Ford appears ready to step into second corner lineup as the second corner.

I want to get to know the players and what they can do," Bush said. in want to get myself acquainted with ward to a good spring."
finishing with five goals and one assist.
aid "She's amazing," Gignon said. "She can shoot right or left, and she has good placement of the ball. She's just an not scoring she's getting the not scor

The two squads matched each other score-for-score for the next seven minutes until Brady put SU ahead \(10-9\) with a shot from the right side with 18:48 remaining.

Hanover said the offense clicked early in the second half.
"I think that it was just our offense working well," she said. "We were making space for each other, we were getting each other open. It was just plays right."
The Syracuse lead didn't last long, as Georgetown rattled off four consecutive poals to push the lead to 13 -10. The Orangewomen couldn't gain draw control during that stretch, and Miller said that hurt the team.
A free position goal by Hanover and Brady's fourth score of the bame trimmed the Georgetown lead to 14-12, but Hoya goalie Bowen Holden stonewalled the Orangewomen

\section*{DIDA Direct Placement Deadline is Friday!!}

\section*{Australia-Oxford'Japan-Germany Ireland Lancaster (sciences)/Leeds (earth sciences) Ryssia-Easterñ Europe-Hong Kong-Israel Lotidon College of Fashion}
For further information, contact Barbara Prucha: 443-9417 or baprucha@summon3.syr.edu would come in, but I didn't know," said Gignon. "They say that, but whether or not you go in is like a whole other story. is like a whole other siller wasn't kidding.
Miller wasn't kidding. and received a quick welcome Hrom the Georgetown attackers. Hoya All-American Sheehan Stanwick broke an Orangewornen double team and dished to Jordan Keating for a goal with 1:50 left in the first half to give Georgetown a 7-4 lead. The young keeper rebounded, making back-to-back saves near the end of the half to keep the Orangewomen (0-2) within striking distance.

The saves proved important, as Syracuse battled back ond half. Lauren Brady spun ond half. Lauren Brady spun the ball in for one of her four goals in the game.

Then, Katrina Hable found an open Karen Healy on the right side, who fired a shot right side, Who fired a shot home. Kara Hanover added a wrap-around shot, tying the score at \(7-7\) with \(26: 16\) to play.

Georgetown answered right back, as Stanwick fired a shot to the bottom right corner of the net to break the tie.
ter of the Syracuse defense, the rest of the game. The sophomore keeper finished with 16 saves in the game, but Miller attributed part of that to SU's offense.
where think were telegraphed where we were going with the got off quick shots and just fot of quick her a ittle bit, we put the ball by her.
there's no question keeper, But just think that we were telling her where we were going to shoot it before we released

Althqugh Syracuse didn't emerge victorious, Miller said all perforpugince Thie Orangeprove their transition canthe and their defferisive sets.
of the game are a mpects Hanover said, if SU wants to knock off No. 1 Maryland on Sunday.
"It's the simple things that are going to win these games,

\section*{Hasa Basa}
Oh My Gawd
by Jacī Price
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline  &  &  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

So This Is Life ...

\section*{Yeah Whatever}

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

by Jen Szeto

by Jeff Feligno

by Neil Swaab

Get \({ }^{\text {Cuse To }}\) It
by Damone Jones

\section*{Halfpenny}
by Rachael Briggs

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline NOTICE \\
\hline \multirow[t]{22}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING \\
315-443-9793 \\
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 $\) each additional word \\
\(5 \notin\) extra each bold word \\
\(5 \phi\) extra each CAP word Charges are PEA ISSUE & are Propaid by.
Cash, Chock, Haster Card, Visa or Discover Deadtine: \(2 p m 2\) business days prior to fun ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE If \\ ads can be maled with check to: Tha Daiky Oramge; 744 Ostrom Avenue; Syatedse Nith Credit Card to: \(315.443-3689\) AAALAAMAAMABA \\
Whats up for Spring Break? \\
The Daily Orange will Not print from March thru March 20. \\
We will resume printing on March March 17 by 2 pm ne of Mave a SAFE and WONDEAFUL Spring Break!
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Notices
Curious about your credi repart? Everyone else seas it wity yot you Cracistimple.com
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Attention \\
Fraternities *Sororities * Clubs *Student Groups \\
 \\
 tendraising event. \\
Accept no Imitations. \\
Oates are tuing quicictil Coniac us for immediata results at (188G) \(698-1858\) or apply kine at turndracifigsolutions.nat
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}
 counseilors 1 . \(800-533\)-camp
Davincis Ampry Square looking tor prep cook, pizza spinner, cowns wromed, honest 47-0384 Want to become an entiepreneur? Hera's your opportunity to tearn and profit by working for SyracuseAuction com as a student marketing representative. SyracuseAuction som is a troe local auction web site, designed by students to sorvo the university community. SyracuseAuction.com is university community. SyracusoAuction.com is ready to employ active, outgoing Symeesse Universiny students to held their business grow. If interested. call 814 -237-5545 loday or email them al into evillageauction.com
Pant uime jobs delivery drivers, dishwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshas S.
In need ol EXPERIENCED people to do rosols in supermarkets. Please call 1-888-371-3778 if interested. if interested.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

BONUSES phas guarantaed houty rate for Syracusa shage "Anpal Appeal Campeign:" Nise \(5-9 \mathrm{PM} .1 / 17-3 / 19\). Aequithe Mor-Thur.
 Uniwersity Elartencing Classes Start Soon
Sludent Discounts
I-800-U-CAN-MalX www.universitybartending.com Spaca is Limited

Bdrm House \($ 300 \mathrm{sm}\) and 3 bdrm Rats 5250 dmm Avall Aug. Very Group \(637-5195\)
KensinglonPlace istifior large 3Bedroom Lmngroom DiningAoorn Modemnkitchen harthoodFloors porches nearlusline OLielNeighborrorioco availible Junelst 2000-2001
Cal7an-9pm 247-7851 or426-1884
O.P.R.

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/

\section*{Town Houses} Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems
remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

1-2.3 Bedroom Aparments, Beautiful, Spacious, Offstreat Parking. Fulty Fu Safe, Ouiet Close \(476-0295\)
Univorsity Avo, five bedroom House ons block Irom Marshall Slieet Jurnishod laundry parking
toasa \($ 1,300.00\) pus utikjes DN.Dnuckar 445-1229 Two Bedroom Apartmenfit on Euclld Furnished.

L(.)(.) K
Sate & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches,, Launncry
\(655-2175\)

\section*{For details}

Westcoxil Eudid renovated \(3+4\) bedroom avail 81 \(5650-5720\) PM parking DNW Pat 263-3415

Univartity and Cometock Very close os Campus
 Ackarman Avo, 4br 2/Bath apt Fumished. carpaied waik to tampur \(5100-5 / 01\) hease \(446-7202\)

\section*{Apartments}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1 Bodroom Furnished Unfurnished. Walking distance S.U. Laundry wavilable. Off Street Parking. Call 422.7305

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}
1.2.3.4 \(& 5\) 日drm Apartments, Housest Studios. recantly renevated. Walking distance, laundry. parking 474-6791
2 Eedrocon apt with 2 car parige 1 Bedroom apl wither of Lancentar 5550 472-2667.
Looking for a place to tive? www.housing101.net.. Your nove of campust tionsting University 283 Bodroom TownHouses & Flats. riexpolace rished basement, Call 449-0109.
Large clean 38edroom thats Westcott. Broad SI. aroa Harcwood floors, porcties, pitstreet parking 1yr iasasa security \(5660+446-8928\)
2 bedroon Apts 202, 204 Ostrom. 105 Euclid
Arrace Large foonts handmood Fibors Avail Jurn or Asig 446-5 tB6

Large 2 bedroom 2 full buth. Walking distance S.U. of street parking. Laundixy Cal 422 -7305. One and Two Bedroom Furrished Apartmertas. Conner of Wahrut and Hamison Avarnuas Leases Commence Juna 2000. Last Month and Socurity No Pors Niow
Graduates Praterred Cail 422.7755

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.

\section*{Modern 2 bedroom} apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utitities Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across trith traven. 479-5005

Two Bedroom Apartments
With utitition Induded, Frepiace:
 476-2982
8.102 Bedroom atsic apanmem on quiet street. Unturrished. Air conditioned wall to wall carpet new apptiances Suilable for single or coup 1 s \($ 50.00\) per morth plus utities. the \(15 t $ 350.00\) per morith plus Utiate

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave. 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
Utilitas included. Fully fumished. Rents foors. Wall to wall carpel Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. arking. 24 hour maintenance
 479-5005

One bedroom studio apantment. very large, one block Irran campus, lots of elosel space. 475/mo plus utils: 423-0830
Sumner Special. Newty remodeled 4 bedroom ha One bloce from campus. All ulilities included diyer. parking, porch.
Avadable \(5 / 21-8 / 17472-8613\)
2Bedroom Large Flat available June, July, Aurgus tr-stPayking dishwasher laundry NewCarpe 58iock-t-carmpus \($ 420\) Secura 445-9570

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Four Bedroorn on Ackernan, Furnished,
Oishwasher, Two Porches, Ofi slreef Parking,
Launcry Carpet Hartoci Foors Laundry. Carpet, Hardwood Ficors
Call Gordon \(476-2982\)

Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Wailing distanc
S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call \(422-7305\). ABedroons humished fitat with all utlilies inctuded
One block from campus noar Law School +ESF. 2 fill bathrooms, carpet, laundry. parking. Availablo Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person 477-1574

\footnotetext{
One Eedroom Apartments some with 9 month leases. laundry, quiet buibding, close to campus. 476-2982

\section*{}

Available mid August 3 bedroom that very neal ESF on Oaddand Sct fumished or urturnished option. Livingroon with freplace, dingroont kitcher, pord, coin-op washert diy \(425-8168\)
}

\title{
No. 1 Orangemen face Yale in Florida
}

\section*{BY DAVE CURTIS}

Sports Editor
The nurse plucked the final wire for Ryan Powell's cranium Wednesday morning, allowing the All-American to head home without worry.

Arter a weekend of headaches and reports of a possible concussion, Wednesday's CAT scan confirmed a healthy head for the Syracuse lacrosse captain.

Doctors on Tuesday proclaimed Powell free of serious injury, and the CAT scan results backed the'SU medical staffs diagnosis.

Back at practice for the first time since SU's 13-12 overtime victory at Virginia on Saturday, Powellappeared ready to lead the No. 1 Orangemen (1-0) against Yale at 7 : in the side of Powell said. "I got hit in the side of the head wit
But everything's fine now.n
fending national Defen
the Year Ryan Curtis. The SU attacker said he felt he got the best of the coring four poals the last of which came 1:53 into sudcen-death which time.

But a hard check in the first half with Pov:ell's forehead and left him He continued to blay and seemed unaffected during Saturday's game but complained of head pain after returning to the Salt City.
the Powell underwent tests each of health. He will ms to ensurc his good Raton and can make the trip to Boca against the Bulldogs ( \(1-0\) ).

Yale returns one of the best longpole defenseman in the country in senior captain Don Gerne. He led the nior captain Don Gerne. He led the nation in ground balls last season weekend.

Their long-pole plays both defense and midfield and he faces off as well," SU head coach John Desko said of Gerne. He could start for a lot of teams in the country."

The Bulldogs, who upended Drexel 7-5 on Saturday, start a netminder who played just Adminutes last season. Sophomore Adam Oppenheimer but never has faced an attack of SU's potency.

Oppenheimer should not expect much help at the other end. The Bull13 contests lagures in just four of goals or fewer three times.

Syracuse owns the all-time series, losing only four times in the 21-game history. The Orangemen won the previous eight meetings by an average of more than eight goals apiece, including a 17-3 drubbing two years ago. The rivalry took a twist four years ago when the annual game included a jaunt to South Florida. The two teams play each season at St. Andrew's gets at least a half week away from its \({ }^{\text {campus. }}\) In \({ }^{2}\) and gray, co-captain Sam Bassett said. "It gets kind of monotonous. It's together, especially at early in the together

Powell said the team's effort against Yale usually falls short of expectations. The lure of spending er the players concentration, he udded.

With this year's tilt sandwiched between the defending national champion Cavaliers and a date with No. \({ }^{7}\) the Orangemen spent the week refocusing on this weekend's foe.
"We get down there, and the guys see the palm trees and when the game starts they're still kicking the sand out of their shoes," Desko said. "If we take (Yale) lightly, we're going to come out on the short end."

\section*{BENB}
continued from page 16 out if things work out like they should. I don't think they will. Notre Dame has a Troy Murphy leading the way, I think they pull off the big upset.
Finally, we have the third-seeded Red Storm of St. John's and the sixth seed, viiianova. Although some people have the Wildcats as a sixth Big East team in the Dance, I don't buy it. They chances of moving to the NCAAs. St. John's 85 illanova 58.
So Syracuse and UConn are set for another showdown They've split two blowouts this year, so I think it's time for a squeaker. I think this will be a good game that will come down to the wire. I believe Jason Hart will step up his play in crunch time. er bold thisSyracuse 72 Uconn 71.

Although Notre Dame is the feel good team of the tourney, reality hits them hard here as they meet up hith one of the nation's, hotest teams. St. John's gets double figures in scoring from all five starters and holds 84 Notre Dame 53.

The finals will feature a Syracuse team that has just eeked out two games and a St. John's squad that has had two laughers. I think the Johnnies are on a mission and will continue right wher they left off last March. John's 78 Syracuse 68.

Here are the other newsworthy tidbits in the final Big East Notebook of the season.

\section*{Troy Nemithy Notre} Dame

This is a no-brainer. The only way Murphy wouldn't get the award would be if the voters really cared about team records. In that case, it would be a toss-up between Etan Thomas, Jason Hart Erick Barkley.

However, it's rare to see a guy lead the league in scoring and rebounding, and Murphy's 23.0 ppg and 10.5 rpg do exactly that. He is the only reason the Irish have a winning record and any shot at an NCAA berth.

\section*{Chuck's Roolcie of the}

Troy Bell, Boston College
This is probably the toughest race in a long time. the Benue in scoring gin feat for a freshman. However, feat for a freshman. However, worst team in the conference, and he didn't even finish in the league's top 25 in assists.

Even if he is the only Eagle who can score, he must do a better job of spreading the ball around. However, he gets the nod because he is one of the nation's best free-throw shooters at 89.4 percent.

Bell's biggest competition comes from Seton Hall sophomore Darius Lane. The sharpshooter, who singlehandedly ended the Orangemen's undefeated start, led the Pirates in scoring. Lane also buried the most threes in the conference.
Chuck's Defensive Player of the Year:

Etan Thomas, Syracuse
The Big East was well repregented in the defensive statistics nationally this season. St. John's point guard Erick Barkley finished fifth in the country with 3.3 steals per game. Down low, Thomas was a force, finishing fifth in game.

However, he barely won the league title, recording Seton Hall freshman Samuel Dalembert. Nonetheless, Dalembert. Nonetheless, blocies are a more glorious stat than steals, so the Big shot blocker wins the award

\section*{Chuck's Coach of the} ear:

Jim Boeheim, Syracuse The only remaining coach from the original round table of Big East skippers had a great year, He guided the in Big East history, and the team finished with the sixthbest record in the country. Candidate could be ready for nis thira career trip io ine Final Four.

The coach with the best chance of pulling an upset in this category is Seton Hall's Tommy Amaker. If you're just looking at what a coach did with the talent he had, this title goes to Amaker. However, his team didn't cut it down the stretch and dropped its last four conference games.

\section*{Chuck's Big East First Team:}

Etan Thomas, Syracuse Led league in blocks Troy Murphy, Notre Dame- L

Erick Barkley, St. John's - Arguably most talented player in the country Floor leader on the best East team
_ Third-leading scorer in conference, second-leading rebounder and top 15 in assists

\section*{Chuck's Second Team:}

Khalid El-Amin,
Connccticut - Great season, but more expected of him and Huskies
Marcus Goree, West

Virginia - Top five in rebounds and blocks, with 14.9 ppe, too Deotry Thernten, St. John's - Most explosive player on most explosive team Shaheen Holloway, Seton Hall-Great point guard but in shadow of Hart, El-Amin, Barkley

Mario Bland, Miami Quietly had a solid season; possibly best center in league

\section*{Chuck's Third Team:}

Johnny Helmsley, Miami - Only true offensive player on a great defensive team - Other great scorer on the Johnnies

Ryan Blackwell, Syracuse - Gets the nod because of his all-around game

Malik Allen, Villanova Senior leader who dropped in 24 against Pitt on Wednesday Georgetown - Solid rebound er and next in line of great GTown centers

\section*{[ClaSSifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave. 2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Lairge badroonst. aundry. Parking. Alarms. Louwniry Pents for modern, new construction. low utilities.
University Area Apts
wwwuniversityarea com

Houre For fint 2minctos trom Nein campus
Large Single Farmy furnistred house. Petiong.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
pleasevist our WEPSTEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDREOM APARTMENTS AND \(4,5,6,7\) BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM
Wuntodi (2) Non-smoking Prolfcirad tomales to share hurrithed thouse whownor kommiter

Charming English Tudor Houso on Comsiock 6
Eedroomst Finpleca, acrust from Womens Bidp mani 5R0 475-1012. ( \((403) 514-3881\)

Eig House for rent 813 Constadk Nowly removated. Porloct for an proup of mature students Call \(424-7867,682-3304\)

SERVICES
Travel

SPREMG EAEAK-GRAOWEEK

SPRING BREAK 2000 CANCUN*JAMAICA"NASSAU Space is timud CAL TODAY!!
800-293-1443
www.Studentity.com

\section*{MISC.}

\section*{NOTE FROM THE DAIGY ORANGE: as dwats plosso use cation when rophing or} seing repliod from shy stwertisoment in exch issue. tox The Onily Orange does not take rosponsibity for any misconduct resaling in corrtact between yourself sid adveriser.

\section*{orange \\ NOTES}

Spring Break Calendar
Thursday Saturday
Orangemen in Bij East Tournament
TBA at New York City
Friday-Saturday
Orange in NCA Championships TBA at Fayetteville. Ark.
Friday-Sunday
Sortball
Arangewomen in Alabama Crimson Classic TBA at Tuscaloosa, Ala.
Saturday
Saturday
Men's Lacrosse
Men's Lacrosse
Yale
7
Fla Funday
Sunday Women's Lacrosse
Orangewomen vs.
Maryland
I p.m. at Carrier Dome
Tuesday
Orangewomen at Alabama (2)
March 16-19
Sortball
Orangewomen in TBA at Torida Tournament
March 16
Women's Lacrosse
Orangemen vs.
Notre Dame
TBA at Florida
Crew Manligemeri à TBA at Coral Gables, Fla.
Tennis
Orangewomen vs
Southern illinois a . Ot Orlando, Fla.
March 17
Men's Lacrosse
Orangemen vs.
Jothns Hopkins
p.m. at Carrier Dome
Rowing
Orangewomen at Miami
TBA at Coral Gables, Fla.
Tennis
Orangewomen at Central Florida
1 p.m. at orlando, Fla.
Mareh 18
Outtoor Track
Orange at Hurricane Invitational
TBA at Miami, Fla.
Women's Lacrosse
No. 7 Georgetown 16
No. 16 Syracuse 12
Orangewomen (0-2)
Player
Brady
Hanover
Healy
Healy
Wayne
Hofmann
Hable \(\qquad\)
Hoyas (2-0)
Player k Ogelsby
Ahern
Baer
Elbe
Keating
Mclean
B. Stanwick
\[
0000000 \mathrm{NHO}
\]

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 9, 200016 Orange face phase two \section*{SU goes to New York} with title aspirations.

\section*{BY IEFF PASSAN
Asst. Sports Editor}

More and more as it endures, Syracuse's 1999-2000 season begins to resem ble head coach Jim Boeheim's career

After last week's loss 69-54 loss at Connecticut, Boeheim said the season is roken into three phases.

Phase one is the regular season, a time in which the team establishes itself. In Boeheim's case, the early years of his career served this purpose. Phase three is the NCAA To nt, in which SU has seen moderate success. Boeheim, in his 24 th season, still seeks his first national championship.

To buffer the primary and tertiary phases, the Orangemen must first succeed in the second - the Big East Tournament this weekend at Madison Square Garden in New York City. Syracuse faces Georgetown at noon today in a sec-ond-round matchup.
The Orangemen have won three conference tournaments ( 1981 , 1988 and 1992) but nary an NCAA title.

This year, though, is Syracuse's best chance since reaching the Final Four during the 1995-96 season. The Orangemen
See MANHATTAN page 15

See MANHATTAN page 15

Syracuse senfor Jason Hart tries to win his first EXg East Toumament this weakend in New York City.

\section*{Hoyas outlast Orangewomen \\ BY ALISON HISCHAK}

Staff Writer
With four minutes left in the first half, Syracuse head coach Lisa Miller yelled down the line to freshman goalkeeper Carla Gignon.

Syracuse senior keeper Clothilde Ewing started in net against the No. 7 Georgetown Hoyas on

But Ewing struggled for the second con
ame, allowing six goals and making zero saves and forcing Miller to call for the freshman.
\({ }^{\text {'She was like, 'Get your helmet on and get }}\) warmed up,' "Gignon said. "I was like, 'OK, here we go.'
Gignon replaced Ewing between the pipes and made her collegiate debut against one of the best teams in the country.

Her first garne, however, didn't end on a happy
See PULLED page 15
 upend Georgetown on Wednasday aftemoon.

\section*{Pasqualoni hires two assistants}

\section*{BY ERIC NATHAN}

Staff Writer
For football squads across the country, long months in che weight room precede dusting off the pads for a

As the Syracuse football team searches for the duster, another rite of spring is a continuous coaching carousel.

Last year saw a host of SU assistants bolt for new teans, most notably Kevin Rogers' acceptance of the offensive coordinator position at Notre Dame.

The Orangemen added Brian Schottenheimer, son of former Kansas City Chiefs head coach Marty, as its wide receivers coach. SU also hired defensive line coach Thurmond Moore and secondary head man Kevin Kelly.

Again, it's time to bust out your pencil - you'll need a fresh eraser, too the and scorecards, because the Spring way.
Sohottenheimer left for Southern Cal after spending just a single season working with the Orangemen's wideouts. Kelly jumped back to Marshall to serve as its offensive coordinator.

Just last week, offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator Jeff Stoutland left for greener Mand whiter - pastures at Michigan State. pasPasqualoni hired two familiar fasqualoni hired two familiar faces to replace his departed colleagues: Steve Bush to coach the secondary and Jim backer to guide the quarterbacks.
mployment, Ho for gainful employment, Hofher said. I'm familiar with the system and the members of the staff." Although Pasqualoni hired Hofher as the tight ends

See COACHES page 12

\section*{Conference season ends at Garden}

\author{
Chuck
}
here!
Petruccione here! truccione Championship Big East \(\begin{gathered}\text { week is upon } \\ \text { us, and that }\end{gathered}\) Notebook means teams from all around the country are making dreams come true. As for the Big East, we are already in the tournamen but the big games have yet to be played. So here are my bicks for how the rest of th bracket will play out, and for who will (or in some cases, ghould) be taking home postseason awards.

\section*{Chanck's Tournament Picks}

With the No. 1 seed, Syracuse will play Georgetown, who knocked off West Virginia on day one of play. The Orangemen handay the Hoyas on the las day of the regular season, and there's no reason it won' happen again. Syracuse 74 Georgetown 59.

The Orangemen's opponent will either be UConn or Seton Hall. Both have beaten would much rather face the Pirates, Unfortunately, things won't work out, a UConn's experience will help them pull through to the semifinals. Connecticut 68 Seton Hall 61.

In the lower half of the bracket, Miami should come See BENB page 12

Rockin' \(\mathcal{E}^{2}\) ROLLIN
Orangemen leave
Cleveland still alive in NCAAs.
See Sports.
Net Gain
SU student teaches area children about computers. See Lifestyle.

Fire works

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange
Dave Block, a senior sculpture major from Syracuse, forges a project in the ComArt Dave Erock, a senior scuipur building on South Campus.

\section*{( Police Reports:}

\section*{Student beaten during break-in}

Syracuse police continue assauit investigation.

\section*{TIFFANY LANKES \\ Asst. News Editor}

The Syracuse Police Department has yet to identify any suspects after a Syracuse University senior was assaulted last week in her apa

An unidentified man broke into the senior' first-floor apartment March 13 and beat her with a clothes iron, according to a police report.

It occurred at about 5 or \(5: 30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). ." said \(^{\text {s }}\) Aubree Murray, the victim's roommate. "The storm (door) was a little open and he had hidden in a front haliway.

The victim, who did not wish to comment, had just gotten out of the shower and walked into her bedroom when she noticed that some of er dresser drawers were open, the report said. around the door, the report added.

The senior was unable to force the door shut and the intruder pushed the door at her. He struck the student several times with what appeared to be an iron, the report said. The seThe attacker then fan from the bedroom, the reSee BREAK IN page 7

\section*{- Student Government}

\section*{Assembly prepares for NYPIRG referendum}

Students will decide next month whether oontinue funding the New York Public Interest Research Group.

The Student Government Association voted for a referendum in April that will determine the fate of the current \($ 6\) per person NYPIRG fee.

Currently, Syracuse University students pay a \($ 106\) Student Activity Fee to SGA dents pay a $106 Student Activity fee to SGA each year. Six dollars of that fee is director, Given to NYPIRG, said

By voting in the referendurn, students can choose to keep the allocation mandatory. If students vote in opposition, the Student Fee will remain \($ 106\) with SGA keeping all the funds and making all the money available to campus organizations.
SGA President Jamal James said \($ 60,000\) will be given to these organizations, he added.

But Kevin Cooney, a NYPIRG member, said the \($ 6\) fee is important to maintain his organization's accountability to the students College of Environmental Science and

See SGA page 8

\section*{- Public Safety Reports:}

Safety search leads to drug bust
BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
South Campus patrols in tending to scout for neighborhood safety threats during Spring stead.

Syracuse University Public Safety officers increase patrolling in the area during breaks when students leave campus, said
Robert Robinson, director of Robert Robinson, director o Public Safety.

But while conducting a property check Thursday, officers discovered an "unsecured" rear door of an apartment on the 100 block of Small Road, according to a Public Safety report. Officers entered the apartment to investigate the situation and found drug paraphernalia. They also confismarijuana, the report said.
Although the residents of the apartment could not be conthe apartment, other students said they were never notified of Public Safety's patrolling or the right of officers to enter apartments with out warning.
Catherine Johnston and Ericka Schillinger said they were not notified of possible apartment checks, something Schillinger said she feels is a right residents should have
"I put my candles away when I know I'm going to be inspected," Schillinger said.

Johnston agreed.
"Youjust keep that stuff away," she said. "It's kind of logical."

Students are required to in form South Campus housing au during breaks, Robinson said. during breaks, Robinson said. he said. "Every person that goes home fills out a form that they See SEARCH page 4

\section*{City Affairs}

Residents file lawsuit to delay sewage plant

Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Last March, Onondaga County first introduced its proposal to construct a sewage treatment plant on Syracuse's South Side.

One year later, the proposal is muddled with a feder

\section*{al lawsuit, community protest} and recent bickering between city and county legislators. Bypassing the rejection vote of the Syracuse Common Council, the county plans to begin the first construction stages of the plant within a month. A group of 23 commuSee SEWAGE page 9

\section*{- Public Safety Reports:}

\section*{Drunk student crashes car near Schine}

Staff Reports
An intoxicated student crashed his car early March 10 into the steps between the Newhouse School of Public Communications, according to a Syracuse University Public Safety report.

The student involved in the accident at the intersection of University and Waverly avenues refused medical treatment by the SU ambulance service, the report said. The university's Counseling Center was notified of the incident and the case was turned over to the SU Office of Judicial Affairs, the report said.

- An unidentified person stole computer parts March 10 from the Shaffer Art Building, according to a Public Safety report. ment was notified of the incident and Public Safety is investigating.

In November, an unidentified person broke into the building and stole more than \($ 5,000\) lice report.

An employee noticed that a screen from the window had been removed from the inside and contacted the police department, the report said.

See SAFETY page 3

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}
\({ }^{4}\) Material Gird' announces pregnancy LONDON
Madonna announced Monday that she is pregnant with her second child, this one fathered by her current boyfiend
Guy Ritchie, a British film Guy Ritch

A brief statement said the prospective parents are happy to confirm the rumors that they are expecting a child at the end of this year," Madonna, 41, and Fitchie, 31, met two years ago at a luncheon Eiven by Sting's wife Trudie Styler. Their romance was rekindle romance was rekindled when the singer ret year-old daughter, year-old daughter, Lourdes, from her rela Lourdes, from her re tionship iéuit.

\section*{Arrests made in}

Oscar statue case
LOS ANGELES Thieves who took 55 Oscar statuettes from a loading dock and dumped them in a Koreatown trash bin have been captured, police said.

No details were being released prior to a midday news conference. The stolen Oscars will also be on display. Salvage man Willie Fulgear found the missing Oscars late Sunday white urnmaging through a trash bin.

Fifty-five of the goldplated statuettes varr ished and were presurned stolen March 10 from a Roadway Express Inc. toading dock in Bell. the same Los Angelesarea community where 4,000 Oscar ballots were misplaced at a post office earlier this month.

Song draws attention to Discovery Channel While the Discovery Channel has been busy thawing out woolly mammoths from frozen tundra this winter, it's become what you might call hot the TV and radio dial. Recent network TV shows and a heavily played pop single by the Bloodhound Gang have celebrated the more prurient side of those Discovery nature shows: the mating sequences. For instance, in Sloodhound Gang's "The Bad Touch," radio lister ers and MTV viewers hear this refrain over and over: "You and me baby ain't nothin' but marrmals. So, let's do it like they do on the Discovery Channel:-

The Discovery Channel appears unfazed by the attention being paid to what some wags have temmed "kitty porn."

\section*{Clinton to meet with Syria \\ DHAKA, Bangladesh - \\ "I don't want to unduly \\ however, as the United States}

President Bill Clintoriannounced he will meet with Syrian President Hafez Assad on Sunday in Geneva in hopes of restarting Middle East peace talks involving Syria and Istalks

The planned meeting, to occur as Clinton heads home from a six-day tour of southern Asia, would give the president a rare chance to appeal directly to Syria's leader in hopes of reViving talks with israel that had taken place in West Vi raise expectations, but I think that this is an appropriate thing for me to do, to try to get this back on track, Clinton said during an appearance with Bangladeshi Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina. Clinton, the first U.S. president to visit this nounced about \($ 200\) million in nounced about \($ 200 \mathrm{~m}\)

Clinton and Assad met twice in 1994 and again briefly last year at the funeral of Jor dan's King Hussein. Their rela tionship has not been friendly, and others have accused Assad of aiding Hezbollah guerrillas in their raids on israel from south ern Lebanon.

Assad's government is credited with a recent reduction in such raids.

Clinton had planned to visit the Bangladeshi village of Joypura but an unspecified security threat prompted U.S. security agents to cancel the plan late Sunday night. Instead, authorities brought about 300 Joypura residents to the U.S. Embassy in Dhaka.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Hostage standoff continues}

BALTIMORE - Accused killer Joseph Palczynski continued his four-day standoff with police in an eastern Baltimore County house where he is holding three people hostage Police disclosed Monday for the first time that the house was under only periodic surveillance when Palezynski burst in Friday night because residents had declined other secu-

Despite sp
Despite sporadic gunfire from the house on Lange Street in the East Point neighborhood on Sunday, Bill Toohey, spokesman for the Baltimore County police, said that the three hostages - the mother of Palcynski's former girlfriend, the mother's boyfriend and his 12-year-old son - are believed safe and uninjured in the house.

Police said that beginning March 9, two days after Palczynski allegedly kidnapped Tracy Whitehead, his former girlifriend, and killed three people who tried to come to her aid, all residents of moved to an undisclosed secure lomoved to an undisclosed secure Whitehead was able to escape from Palczynski and has been at an undisclosed location.

\section*{Court keeps race ruling}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Supreme Court today let stand a lower court ruling that said public schools cannot make enrollment decisions based on race. By rejecting the Montgomery County appeal and requests from educators court has left administrators in a court has left administrators in a classroom diversity.

The Montgomery County policy used race as a criteria in transfers to a math and science magnet program at its Rosemary Hills Elernentary School. Jacob Eisenberg, a white first-grader, was denied a a white irst-grader, was denjed a Gransfer out of his neighborhood into the magnet program because his home school's white enrollment had been dropping and officials said the transfer would increase the racial isolation of blacks and Hispanics at Glen Haven. Eisenberg's parents sued, contending the policy violates the Constitution's guarantee of equal protection.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the 4th Circuit agreed Jacob was improperly denied an educational opportunity because of the color of his skin.

\section*{world news}

\section*{Pope calls for Mideast peace}

AMMAN, Jordan - Pope John Paul II stood a high plateau overlooking the disputed city of Jerusalem and called for a spirit of "true peace, justice, and fraternity" to replace the bitter religious and political conflict that has marked Middle East history.

Beginning the first papal vis it to the Holy Land in 36 years, the pope journeyed to the spot where legend states that Moses finally saw what God described as the "Promised I and." Although a light haze obscured a perfect View, the pope's criticism of the Midde Ea was clear.

While being careful not to cast aspersion on any particular group, John Paul's decision to raise delicate issues of peace and human rights on the first day of his weeklong visit confirms that he intends to use his public prestige to press vigorously for political changes and reconciliation.

\section*{Hundreds die in mass suicide}

KANUNGU, Uganda Before the bell rang summoning them to the long, low building where more than 300 of them would die, members of the Movement for the Restoration of the Ten Commandments of God gave no clue that the apocalypse they no clue that the apocalypse they

\section*{Citrus canker harms crops}

MIAMI - In back yards all over Miami, orange trees have had Florida City and and burned. In F.orida City and Homestead crop has been lost op has been lost.
And now, the heart of the state's \($ 8.5\) billion citrus industry, in central Florida, is beginning to eel the threat as a highiy contagious bacterial disease with no

The disease is called citrus The disease is called citrus canker. It is so dreaded that state anded \($ 175\) million to have just alosted S175 milion to battle it and assigned nearly a thousand work ers to the fight in D
Broward counties alone.

Citrus canker does not affect humans, but it can ruin an orange, humans, but it can ruin an orange, lime or grapefruit grove. Although often not visible for several years, it weakens the trees, eventually leaving them unproductive. In later stages, it is characterized by the unsightly brown splotches that cover the fruit and leaves.

Florida's multibillion-dollar citrus crop is the biggest component of the state's agricultural innent of the states agnicultural industry. About 140,000 workers are employed in the Florida citrus in dustry.
al countdown.
The truth exploded Friday norning, in a fireball that brought much of the nearby farming vil lage of Kanungu scrambling to the scene of what could be to largest mass suicide since 1978 , when 914 people died by drinting when 914 people died by drinking estown, Guyana. Members of the Ustown, Guyama. Members of the ricaded themselves in a former dormitory and, after singing and chanting, heard a final prayer and

The final death toll remai to be tallied. But a preliminary count was provided late today by government pathologist.
"Three hundred thirty," the doctor announced, when he put down his pen "Or more. Because some are ash. Burned completely to ash."
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}

Che Alibrandi Catholic Center presents the film "Tic Center presents the film "The Mission" with Jeremy Irons at 7 p.m.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}

E Newhouse I presents an interview etiquette workshop from 6 p.m. to \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Room A .

E Dr. Ruzena Bajcsy speaks at \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in the Hall of Lan Euages, Room 500, regarding "Information Technology: Three

\section*{THURSDAY}

E Martha Stewart, chairwoman and CEO of Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia LLC, speaks at \(3: 30\) p.m. in Schine's Goldstein Auditorium regarding "The Power of a Single Idea." E Sociology professor Marjorie De Vault speaks at 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500, regarding ramily Time in Fublic Spaces

E Career Exploration Services hosts a pre-law event for first-year students and sophomores from \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). to 8:30 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 215 , to receive guidance on 215 , to receive course planning.

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Syracuse Stage presents "A Raisin in the Sun" at 10:30 a.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), discounts for seniors and students. Call 443-3275 for more ticket in formation.
- Composer Robert Ashley presents the U.S. premiere of his new chamber opera, "Au Pair" at 8 p.m. in Setnor Auditorium. Tickets are available at the Schine Box Office for \($ 10\) general admission, \($ 7\) students and semior citizens, and for Arts Adventure passholders.

\section*{SATURDAY}
- The College of Nursing hosts an open house for students pursuing a baccalaureate degree in nursing at 10 a.m. A program follows at 11 a.m. for those with a four-year degree in a non-nursing field who are interested in a nursing degree. For more information call Joe Sex-

\title{
Bike stolen from student's apartment
}

A Syracuse University student found his green mountain bike, valuing \($ 500\) dollars, missing Saturday from his a partment, according to a police report.

A roommate was home alone When he heard the front door of the house on the 500 black of Euclid Avenue open, the report said. the front door was locked but was the front din not certain, the report added.

\section*{said.}

There have been eight other car break-ins this year in areas around the SU campus.

Eight door locks in Lawrinson Hall were damaged March 12 by an unidentified person, according to a Public Safety report.

The SU Depariment of Housing was notified of the situation, the report said.

The unidentified suspect put a glue-like substancein the

When the roommate searched the apartment, he did not notice anything missing, the report said.
reven other residents were out of town at the time of the incident, the report added.

The victim noticed that his bike was missing from the front hall when he returned home and later notified police, the report said.
acd arch of the area produced no results. There are no witnesses and no signs of damage or forced entry, the report actad.

Compiled by Asst. Neu's Edi tor Tiffany Lankes locks, damaging them, said Robert Robinson, director of Public Safety.
- ACD player, belonging to an SU student, was stolen Sunday from Slocum Hall, according to a Public Safety report.

The player was left in an unlocked desk drawer, the report said.

Compiled by Asst. New's Editor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{ATTENTION FEMALE STUDENTS:}

Has Spring Break I_eft You Short on Cash? Eamsin a study at SU and helpme finish my dissertation!!!!

If you are a 21-25 y.0. social drinker, call 443-9462. Everything is confidential.

\section*{SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS \\ INTERESTED IN ATTENDING GRADUATE SCHOOL}

\section*{The McNair Scholars Program Can Help You}

Please come to an information session at the Goldstein Alumni and Faculty Center (On University Place, Next to Bird Library) March 23, 2000 6:30-7:30 PM Refreshments will be served.

\section*{Program Eligibility Requirements}

Minimum GPA of 3.0
And
First Generation College Students and High Financial Need (any ethnicity)

Or
Students who are members of these underrepresented groups: African American, Native American/Alaskan Native, Asian American, Mexican American/Puerto Rican, Other Hispanic American

For More Information and to Reserve Your Place: call the McNair Scholars Office at 443-5936

\section*{凹NIMERS』4M BARMERNDNG.}
\(\checkmark\) Student Discounts
\(\checkmark\) Professionat Bartending Training - Tipz on Finding a Top Paying Job Become a Talented, Socially Conscious Bartemder
National Restaurant Association Alcohal Awareness frogram Gicont Part-time or Summer Job CLASSES BEGIN
FRI., APRIL TTH - G:00 PM
UNIVERSITY SHERATON
CAEL FOR INFORMATION

1-800-U-CAN-MIX www.universitybartending.com

\section*{SEARCH}
continued from page 4
won't be there.
This kind of drug bust happens year-round." Robinson said. You'll find a bong, a couple of roaches," he said. "Normally when the students leave you hind one of the two. As a result or

Schillinger a a bunior policy tudies major, said the incident was "unfortunate," but added that Public Safety had a right to confiscate the material
"Pot is illegal," she said. "People aren't supposed to have it. Idon't really care that they got busted.

The fact the students' door was left unlocked also gave the officers more reason to enter the apartment, said Johnston, a junior international relations and psychology major.
"It's totally their own fault if they leave the door uniocked," stee said. "It defnitely sucks for them,
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Digital Printing} \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{hi-res color/bew output} \\
\hline xEROX DocuColor 40 & CANON CLC 700 \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{2 Greas Choices for color Pining From Your wac or PC Files} \\
\hline  &  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\(\square\) ntroducing free online tax preparation Just grab your W-2's and head to hrblock.com/free. There, you can fill out and file your 1040 EZ form online. DIYOUR TAXES OMLINE FOR And get your money fast. Best of all, it costs nothing. Nada. Zero. Zip. FREEH8RPMCK but at the same time, it's university property."

North campus residence halls, however. do not conduet room checks during Spring Break, said Brian Chu, a res dent advisor on the ninth floor of Brewster Hall. But advisors do check rooms before leaving for Winter Break, he added.

The checks are to make sure all residents are out and that roorns are secure, said Reid Ockerman, the residence director for Lawrineon Hall.

We have to make sure everyone is out of the building before shutting it down," he said.

While checking rooms for resideats, advisors make sure that window blinds are closed, appliances are umplugged and cioors are locked.
"Other than that, the only reason is to check to make sure everyone is out," Ockerman said.

Students do not receive a letter of warming for the searches, but are told of the checks at foor meetings, he said.

There is no direct mention that contraband can possibly be confiscated by Public Safety, Ockerman said. But he added that advisors often infer this to the foor residents

I chink RAs have a common sense talk with the floor, he said. They say, 'Look, don't leave a keg sitting in the middle of the room.

Candles and incense, however, comprise most of what is confiscated duriag room checks, Ockerman said.

If we walk into a situation where paraphernalia or things are blatantly laying out, we have to confimeate it"" he said. "If we don't see anything, you know we aren't pawing around.'

You need o
roll-on with \(m\) asombin \(u n\) proterttion.

To protest agkinst hios and athere sins. tway use tatex condoms

For a free, full-color poster [18" \(\times 24^{\prime \prime}\) \}, write:
ADS Poster 2. Box 2000. Abany, N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Health Department

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run.
Call \(443-9793\) for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{SU must respond to habitual violence}

Dear Syracuse University Administrators:
Three students are robbed at gunpoint in the shadows of Ackerman Avenue. Just weeks later, an intruder sneaks into an offcampus apartment and bludgeons a woman with an iron in her own bedroom.

Their cries for help have fallen on deaf ears - yours.

You have formed a pricey alliance with the Syracuse Police Department to banish loud parties and keg-happy students from off-campus neighborhoods. But it seems you are blind to the peeping toms, car thieves and violent robbers who still prowl the streets of nearby residential areas to pounce on unsuspecting students.

After pocketing \($ 30,000\) from each student on campus, generous alumni donations, merchandise sales and athletic revenues, you boast a fat bankroll at the end of each year. How, then, does funding for student safety miss a coveted spot on the "to do" list? You allotted zero dollars to ensure the safety of off-campus students this year, but \($ 46,000\) went toward the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative, which serves only to placate angry city residents fed up with rowdy students.

While students must surely strive to practice the same safety precautions they learned in kindergarten - lock doors and windows and don't talk to strangers - it is you who are truly responsible for their well being during their tenure at this university.

The Syracuse University Compact, slapped across dozens of official university documents, maintains that the students, faculty, staff and administrators of SU will "maintain a safe and healthy environment for each member of our community.

But when a student steps out of the shower and is assaulted by a masked man in the confines of her own apartment, her "safe and healthy environment" is shattered forever.

The union between students and campus administrators is tenuous, at best. It demands - but often lacks - mutual respect and support. According to the Student Code of Conduct, SU holds students accountable for their off-campus actions. If so, then you must hold up your end of the bargain and look out for students' best interests even when they're not directly planted on university property.

Students should be embraced as valu able members of the community and citizens who deserve proper protection from society's villains. If this means siphoning more funds from your budget to beef up university-area security, the pennies are undeniably well-spent.

You hold precious cargo - more than 10,000 young adults - in your grasp. Hang on tight. The most costly price to pay will only come after failing to protect them.

[dä]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

NEVA aUSTREW/The Daily Orance

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Superficial Spring Break customs boast rich history}

Welcome back, kiddies.
I hope you had a wonderful Spring Break. 1 a lot of you look tan Mast have been a roas see a lot of you look tan. Must have been a rough week sitting on the sand, sipping one of those fruity-bitch drinks. I, too, find those vacation resorts culturally eye-opening. Cancun and Acapuico represent microcosms of Mexican culture, even amidist the hornoseneous crowds. Hey, they call beer neous crowds. Hey, they call beer harsh culture shock coming back. I pity you.

I drove up and down the East Coast over breals. It wasn't as exotic an establishment as "Señor Frogs." Señor Frogs is a chain of Utopita-like bars, located in all the epicenters of Spring Break fun. From TV accounts and word of mouth, Senor Frogs, and every one of those other "ho
ASHOK
SEIVAM spots," appear to be sweatier, seedier versions of 44 s . And you know how much we all love perspiration. At least Fours customers don't graze about the dance floor in a tequila-induced haze. just to be steered in by some goatee-sporting infidel, wearing a white cap. We all know that Labatt's is the beverage of choice in the Salt City-

I hate to exclude those of you who returned to base for the comforts of home-cooked meals and life on the couch. Im sure the family life brought back visions of high school and that ugly word, curfew. But it probably was worth seeing the dog mom and dad's nagging set in, in full stereophonic effect.

Spring Break is unlike any holiday. Students ave the opportunity to treat themselves, and damnit, we deserve it. We run up and down this campus in search of academic integrity. We're making a difference in the lives of others. We never spend the day wallowing in front of some cathode-ray-collecting machine, moving our schedule around dependent on whether some stranger has the chance to win one-million dollars.

So what happens when a bunch of kids find cheap airfare on the Internet, supplemented by daddy? Well, MTV decides to set up camp and enterprising, yet sleazy, businessmen bring their cameras to capture lovely, amateur, bare-chested co-eds. All this for a paltry \($ 19.95\). Que sanga! That's what they'd say in Spanish - what a bargain! But those of you who soaked up the culture in Cancun already knew that.

Oh, and the post-Spring Break grectings can I express how much this custom delights me? Here's sample:
(n approach that annoying, brown-haired girl in your lecture. She's wearing her customary penuine than her grin. Mer cigarette-stained voic cackies out a salutation.
"How are ya, sweetie? How was your break?"
You pause in defiance. You've already gone through this artificial merry-go-round three times. But instead of finding the nearest stone and hurling it at her face, you decide to humor her synthetic friendliness.
"It was good."
Smart move. A three-word answer will surely satisfy her and allow you to move along. "Good, that's all?" smiles the little wench. "I lew down to (BLAH), it was a blast.
"That's nice," you reply.
"I guess I'll see you later.
It's these priceless moments that make Spring Break the emotional roller coaster that we all love. But before I condemn the week, I'd like to give you some history.

Legend has it that Spring Break evolved from the ancient Romans and Greeks (read: people from Greece). These weekend-wariors spent most of their time trying to please the deities of Mount to appease gods like Zeus and Ares stressed them out a bit But Bacchus the Roman sod of wine out a bit. But bacchus, the Roman god of win female followers, the Bacchantes, would whip into a drunken frenzy in honor of their god. These wild women would get so rowdy that they would tear animals apart and devour their raw flesh.

Well, times have changed. Now Spring Break has found gender equality, as men get as fiercely obliterated as the women (the Equal Rights Amendment has finally paid off).

But can we come to terms with the fact that Carson Daly is to Bacchus as Olestra is to fat? At least my "tan" won't wear off in a few Ashok Selvam is a senior newspaper major His column appears Tuesdays in the D.O. E-mail him at aselvam@syriedu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Nike advertisements perpetuate unfair labor}

\section*{To the editor:}

I have known the evils of Nike for many years. I know that they use overseas labor. I know that this labor is very poorly paid and works in They are beaten and locked in a concrete factory encircled with razor wire. The factory is about 100 de grees and is guarded at all times by armed guards. The workers cannot go to the bathroom withoul asking permission.

The problem is that most people don't know this. Nike puts on a good face for the American public, playing the ambassador, bringing jobs ever where they go. In the meantime, they use up labor forces like commodities and kill those that try to interfere.

It may aeem odd that I'm telling you this. I assure you there is a reason. Recently, I saw a full-page advertisement for Nike products in The Daily Orange. I was very disappointed to see this. I know that tant is it is independent. There is something more important at stake here, however: the dignity, health abused everyday by Nike. There isn't much that separates them from us, and even less stands in the way of us helping them.

I urge you no isements from Nike. Please, stand up for what you know to be right, help stop this sharnefill practice. Nike cannot sell clothes and profit from the sweat and blood of these workers if they cannot advertise. I thank you very much for your time.

Your school made it. The others didn't.

Congratulations on making it to this year's NCAA- Championships. To celebrate, get money.toward your purchase or lease of a new Oldsmobile with special easy financing for college grads: Plus, no down payment when you purchase and no monthly payment for 90 days on eligible purchases.

Oldsmobile, Official Cars for NCAA Championships
- For complete details, 1.800.964.GRAD. You must be within 6 months of graduation or have graduated within the past two years from a 2 -year or 4 -year college. Certificate.program students are not eligible. You must take retait delivery from participating dealer stock on or before \(9 / 30 / 00\) and apply to GMAC financed purchase. GMAC must approve. Length of finance contract limited. Minimum amount finance required. May not be combined with other targeted offers. Monthly payment deferral not available with GMAC SmartLease \({ }^{\top}\) or SmartBuy \({ }^{\text {P }}\) Finance charges accrue from date of purchase. "GMAC" is a registered service mark of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. *Tax, title, license, registration and optional equipment extra. The NCAA and its member institutions promote sponsorship in all of its Championships.

\section*{BREAK IN}
continued from page 1 port added.

The senior got up and followed the man through the apartment and out the front door to see him run north on Aer front porch unctitned from her frone porch untinelghbors called the police, the report said.
"We have neighbors next door who had heard her scream," said Murray, a senior gitural anthropology major.

Neighbor Rob Lehmann ar
Neighbor to help. I to help.

1 got there after the fact.* Lehmann said. I woke up when heard her screaming."

Paramedics took the victim to Crouse Hospital, 736 Irving Ave., where she received 60 stitches and 10 staples for sevcral cats on her head.
"She was in perfect mental and physical health, aside from the stitches," Murray said.

When police searched the apartment, they round large amounts of blood on the porch. The iron used in the beating was broken into pieces and lay on the bedroom floor, the report said.

Nothing was missing or damaged in the apartment, the report said.
ooms went in all of our ourdrawers were gone through. I don't know what his inten * tions were."

The suspect was identified as a white man about \(5^{\prime \prime} 8^{\prime \prime}\). He was wearing a gray long sleeved shirt, mray gloves and a black stocking or his head, the report said.

The case is being investigated by the Syracuse Police Department, said Sgt. Drew Buske of SU Public Safety.

"There is a team of investigators working on it," Buske said. "It"s obviously a very serious incident. They have a general description on the guy."

\section*{Past prowlers}

There have been several reports of intruders in the Acker man area throughout the past year, Murray said.

Students said they have seen a man matching a similar description looking into apart ment windows, said Lehmann, a friend of the victim

Within this last school year, wetve seen him about "hrec times," Lehmann said, We're not 100 percent sure if it's the same person, but hes and blue hat. . and blue hat.

Lehmann, a senior adver tising major, said the first time any of his neighbors mentioned fore last winter Break. They then saw the man again looking into bedroom windows after break he said break, he said t's a college area," Lehmann said. "You don't expect anyone to be looking in windows unless it's someone youdknow,"

Last March. police investigated a local resident for stalking a former SU student who lived on Chinook Drive.

The former student report ed a "stocky, rugged man" about 6 feet tall and 30 years old looking into her sliding glass door.

SU Public Safety Director Robert Robinson said that the ineidents are similar

We had an incident where someone looked into the windows of houses." Robinson said. "Sometimes these things happen to unsuspecting folks.
"A Peeping Tom can turr into a burglar. That can turn into an assault and sometimes a murder - we need to close their window of opportunity before it's too late."

Robinson said many times students do not properly secure their houses and property. their houses and property.
"Most of these things are occurring where things aren't secure, Robinson said. "Where do you think a person is going to go to - the one with the most window of opportunity. We need so close that window.

Since last week's incident, the victim's landlord has im proved lighting in the apari. ment and changed all of the po Murray said.
Police patrols in the area incident occurred, Lehmann said.
"The cops' presence now is much more visible than ever before - after the fact," he said. Murray said students need to be careful whether they are living on of off campus.
If there are prowlers in the area, report it." Murray said. "Even if you think it's not a big deal.

\section*{unare tacaumutweso ACGIES \\ 720 University Ave. \\ Syrocusc, N.} PHAT TUESDAY

Top Shelf Shots Well mixers Import Drarts Domestic Drafts Red Stripe Tequiza BTL. Wine cemmers an fum
MODTIT PRRDZZES

\title{
TIAA-CREF provides financial solutions to last a lifetime.
}

Building your assets is one thing. Figuring out how those assets can provide you with a comfortable retirement is quite another.

At TIAA-CREF, we can help you with both.
You can count on us not only while you'te saving and planning for retirement, but in retirement, too.
Just call us. Well show you how our flexible range of payout options can meet your retirement goals.
With TAA-CREF, you benefit from something few other companies can offer: a total commitment to your financial well-being. today and tomorrow

Callus for a free ransultation

\section*{Change the Course of Your Summer With One of Ours.}

Villanova Summer Sessions Start Soon!
Invest in something that's sure to pay off. Earn undergraduate or graduate credits. Attend day or evening classes.

Business
Natural Sciences Humanities Counseling
Social Sciences Mathematics
Engimeering
Computer Science
Nursing Languages
Education
The Arts
Ovex 19
Distance Learning courses offered

Sign up soon for the session that's right for you:

Summer Sossion l: May 31 - June 28

Summer Session Il: July 6 - August 3

Evening Session:
May 31 - August 3
Call for more information, or visit our website to learn more. Registration closes for each session the day before the session begins.
610-519-4300

TAA
BREF

Ensuring the future
for those who shape it.

With TIAA-CREF"s
Retirement Income Options: you can receive:
- Cash withdrawals
- Systematic or fixed-period payments - Interest-only payments
- Lifetime income payments
- A combination of these

CREF GLDBAL EQUITIES ACCT.²

\(1800842-2776\)
www.tiaz-tref.arg

SGA
continued from page 1
Forestry.
This fee guarantecs that we answer directly to the student body," Cooney said. "It's a wonderful thing."

Cooney said if students vote to revoke the fee, they would be losing an outlet for activism.

SGA is not isolating NYPIRG from funding if students revoke the mandatory fee, however, Taylor said. NYPIRG will just ask for funding like any other organization, he added.

NYPIRG boasts a large number of activists, Cooney said. It is important to be able to guarantee funding to fight for different causes, he added.
"We can't wait for the SGA to decide how much money they are going to allocate to us when we have adult lobbyists ready to help us out," Cooney said

Students voted last year in overwhelming support of maintaining the fee, Taylor said. But he added that the ballots given to oters were worded in languag ancouraging NYPIRG support.

The ballot we are proposin to use will be neutral," he said.
Chris Greiner, SGA comproller, added NYPIRG members standing outside polling places atso influenced the outcoine of last year's referencum.

The reason NYPIRG got the vote was because they brought in a veritable militia to sway student pinions, Greiner said. \($ 70,000\) on terials alone for students when they went to vote."

\section*{SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY \\ MAKING A DIFFERENCE: OPPORTUNITIES IN PUBLIC SERVICE EVENT}

\section*{Syracuse University Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs Friday, March 24, 2000 - Eggers Hall}

There are many career opportunities in all levels of government, in nonprofit organizations, and in publicly oriented private companies. This event will introduce students to a wide variety of people and fields as well as informational resources related to internships, scholarships, fellowships, graduate programs, and more! Open to all students.

Key Note - Robert Egger, DC Central Kitchen/Lunch - Public Events Room - 12:00-1:15 feed the community while training individuals for the workforce. Inspiring to audiences eager to learn new ways of making a difference.

Videoconference Greenberg House, Washington, DC - CoIfaboratory arta Public Events Room - 1:30-2:45
A panel of Syracuse University graduates will speak about their experiences in public service via an interactive videoconference from the Greenberg House in Washington, DC.

Career Panels: Interactive sessions on the wide range of opportunities in public service, featuring representatives from agencies and organizations located in the surrounding Syracuse community.

3:00-3:50
Public Law & Criminal Justice
Environment International Political

112 Eggers 209 Eggers 225 Eggers 155 Eggers

4:00-4:50
Information Technology Public Finance/Consulting Education Health & Human Services

112 Eggers
209 Eggers
225 Eggers
155 Eggers

Reception - Esgers Commons - 5:00

Please register for the event at the Center for Career Services, 235 Schine Student Center Collaboratively Sponsored By: School of Architecture, The College of Arts and Sciences, Center for Career Services, School of Education, College of Engineering and Computer Science, College for Human Development, School of Information Studies, Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Office of International Services, College of Law, School of M1anagement, Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Newhouse School of Communications, College of Nursing, School of Social Work, SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry, Syracuse University Internship Program. University College, College of Visual and Performing Arts:
For more information contact the Center for Career Services-235 Schine Student Center -443-3616
http://web.syr-edu/nclreutli/career/

In other SGA news
SGA is continuing to wark with campus security to bette serve SU students, James said fe presented six areas of concern for student safety to the Assembly.

These areas included aligning the campus bus schedule with library elosing times, extending the times that buses operate and increasing safety at all bus stops.

The SGA shuttle bus service at Hancock Airport during Spring Break was a success, James said. More than 600 people used the service.

James added that he is hoping to expand to the Regional Transportation Center and also offer the service for all major

T The Assembly a $40,000 for Greek Freak 2000 \($ 40,000\) for Greek Freak 2000. The event is sponsored by the University Union Concert Board and will be presented in the first week of April.

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shavi and Mary Ann Shaw and
The Chancellor's Award for Public Service Committee cordially invite you to attend The Chancellor's Award for Public Service Awards Cefebration Dinner

Monday, March 27, 2000 5:15 pm - coors open 5:30pm-buffyr begins 6:00-7:00pm-program Coldstein Auditorium RSVP by \(3 / 24 / 00\) 443-3051 cposemsummon2.sycedu
Seating is Limited Seating is Limited

\section*{SEWAGE}
continued from page 1
nity members, however, filed suit last week against the federal government to halt the Midland Avenue Sewer Project.

The group comprised of owners, community croups and religious institutions - is asking the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to conduct an impact study of the project.

Construction will occur behind the Centro Bus Garage near Taliman and Blaine streets, one of the city's poorest neighborhoods.

In December, the EPA approved the county's proposal for the sewage treatment plant without conducting any environ mental impact studies.

Were preceding at this point. The lawsuit will not have ningham, director of the Onondaga Lake Improvement Project.

Although the Council voted against granting the county an easement to build the plant, Cunningham said the city's permission is not needed because the sewage system falls under the jurisdiction of the county. permit," he said. "And you don't get that from the Common Council."

Residents have opposed the proposal since last March, when the county formally introduced it to the Council.

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to \(4: 00 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). - To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run.
Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

At a Feb. 23 Council meeting, about 100 residents protested the county's request to the city for the easement of a pipeline behind the Centro Bus Garage.
"Everybody voiced their ob jections and low and behold, the county says it doesn't need an excecutive director of Syracuse United Neighbors. "This is an other game the county has been playing."

The pipeline would allow for the construction of the sewage treatment plant, which will be built between Midland and Cortland avenues, near Oxford and Blaine streets.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers plans to release its study on Onondaga Lake next month. But Cunningham saic the release of the study is not enough of a deterrent to halt the preliminary work on the pro ject.
will There is no guarantee they will find a different approach or technology," he said. "We are the overflows and we have to do the overflows and we have to do

Former Councilor Nancy McCarty became a plaintiff in the lawsuit when she was contacted by the Atlantic States Legal Foundation, who is leading the suit.
emptis is basically an attempt to get the EPA to pay attention to the implications of putting a treatment center in the middle of the neighborhood," McCarty said. "This is not the solution. We need to wait for Army Corps of Engineers." Mecarty received phone calls from local engineers who suggested other methods of treating the sewage overfiow that would not disrupt a resi-

By not heeding the concerns of South Side residents, the county is being ignorant to the basic rights of those living in the neighborhood, MeCarty said.
"Their attitude about human beings seems to be abominable," she said. "Their rush to judgement seems to me like it has more to do with lucrative interests."

Cunningham, however, denied that the sewage treatment plant will cause harm to the neighborhood.
"It will have no impact on the community or the people in it," he said. "Some people don't understand it, or they don't want to understand it.

But McCarty accused Cunningham and the county of being city misled residents by encouraging them to move to the South Side with various housing initiatives.
"The county decided it was the most vulnerable group of people who would just shut up while they were being screwed," she said. "Well guess what folks, those days are over."

\section*{}

\section*{game \\ notes}
revenge? what's that: The last time the Syracuse Orangemen tacee Kentuchy was in an 87 -. 53 shellacking at he Greal Alaska shoolout in 1996 . Jason Hart was a treshman.
Destraun wiflians was a soopho-

 IF Historr sars so .

 1996. The significance? Those were the lest tw times Syracuse made the Final four never doubting thomas tame saturay.
the received nice ovation fro the sparse orane crowd at the Cevetand and sat on the beven hop. ing for anomer chance in the NCAA Toumament.

 ball at Wyoming.
SHARK waters SHARK WATERS
Jim Boeneim earnee his NCAA Toumament win with Takkamian for eight all time on the list. With the Orangemen at \(26-5\) on the season Boencim owns 575 career victories (oppos losses and stands four lossess and stands tour win behind UConn's lim calloun. big east results First Round

Syracuse
79
Samford
65 Connecticut 75 Utah State 67 Seton Hall 72 Oregon \(71(010\) St. John's 61 No. Arizona56 Miami \(\quad 75\) Arkansas 71
Second Round
Syracuse 52 Miami \(\quad 75\) Kentucky 50 \(\begin{array}{lrl}\text { Miami } & 75 & \text { Ohio State } 62 \\ \text { Seton Hall } & 67 & \text { Temple } 650{ }^{2}\end{array}\) \(\begin{array}{lll}\text { Seton Hall } 67 & \text { Temples5(i) } \\ \text { Tennessee } & 65 & \text { Connecticut51 }\end{array}\) Gonzaga 82 St. Jonn's 76

\section*{UK}
continued from page 10
"Neither team could make anything today," SU head coach Jim Boeheim said "It was just a matter of will and determination and seeing who could bang in there and make some stops."

It was also a matter of rebounding. The Orangemen bested the Wildcats on the glass 40-33. Thomas paced SU with 10 boards.

Syracuse cleaned the glass best on the offensive end, coming up with 21 offensive rebounds, compared with just 12 for Kentucky

SU's mastery of the boards allowed it to score 22

\section*{The Daily Orange}
second-chance points and kept the Orancemen in the game despite just six assists. "If we didn't hit the glass hard, we lose by 10 points," Boeheim said. "That was a big factor in the game, no question about it."

SU's stifling defense played a major role in the victory as well. Syracuse started off in man-to-man but switched to a \(2-3\) zone to protect Thomas when he got in early foul trouble.

Although Thomas was disqualified later in the Eame, the strategy forced the Wildcats shooting just 42 percent for the season - to take a bevy of outside chances.

Tayshaun Prince - who had a career-high 28 points in Kentucky's first-round dou-ble-overtime victory over St. Bonaventure - was held to just 10 points on Saturday, after squeezing off just seven shots.
one of their key guys, and he's going to come out and try to shoot the ball, good job keeping it out of his hands and keeping him away from the basket."

To make up for Prince's dropoff in offensive production, the Wildcats employed a balanced attack. Bogans and center Jamaal Magloire both tallied 12 points, while Camara chipped in 10 . mara chipped in 10 .

The Wildcats were not able to fully take advantage of Thomas absence in the game's final moments, however, because of the defensive play of Blackwell.

The senior forward was forced to man the middle in the SU zone after Thomas picked up his fifth foul. Blackwell limited UK big men Magloire and Marvin Stone inside and forced the Wildcats to look to the outside for scoring.

Blackwell also came up big on the offensive end in crunch time. He hit two free throws to put SU up 48-45 with \(4: 10\) remaining and over Magloire to make the score 50-48 with 2:19 left. Boeheim was so im pressed by the senior's play on the offensive end that he designed SU's final offensive play with the purpose of getting the ball in Blackwell's hands.

It ended up in Shumpert's, however, and SU now finds itself in the Sweet 16 after its first-round demise in the Big East Tournament had naysayers predicting an early March exit for the Orangemen.
"We didn't play up to our ability at the end of the season, but that's over, Hart said. Were in phase three of our season. This is a new season, and we're 2-0."

Unlike your roommate's outfit.
There are aspects of college life you just can't control. But when it comes to your academic performance. you're in charge. Especially when you use WebcT.com. the e-learning hub. It's a complete online academic resource where you can get help studying. find research materials. take practice tests and quizzes. and exchange information with students and faculty around the globe. Change the way you learn. Visit www.webct.com/roommate.

Courtesy of WebCT.com, get free shipping off a purchase of \($ 90\) or more at VarsityBooks.com through \(4 / 15 / 00\). Simply enter promotion code webct \(472 n\) at checkout.

WVebCTMcom
- 2000 Webct. trc.

\section*{GET HIGHIIUEUROPE \\ Ho trains. Mo pain. sg9 finywhere}

16 firlines seruing 127 European cities in 27 countries. Is that a trip or what?
www.europebyair.com
VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR MORE INFORMATION ON PARTICIPATING AIRLINES, ROUTE MAPS AND FUGHY SCHEDULES

\section*{europebyair.com}
or call 1-888•387•2479

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{the \(\mathbf{E D E}\)}

You pig!
The announcement last week that scientists had created the wortd's first litter of cloned pigs marked a milestone in the century-long quest to use animals as a source of organs for transpianta tion into humans, But significant technical hurdles will have to be cleared if pigs are to solve the chronic organ shortage that allows tens of thousands of patients to die on waiting lists every year.
Scientists trying to overcome those difficulties are focusing on pigs because pig organs are about the right size to fit inside people, and because porcine physiology is reasonably similar to human physiology. That means a pig kitney for example, can probably do for a person everything a human kidney is designed to do.

\section*{Common sense}

Uncle Sam is facing up to one of the toughest marketing challenges of the millennium: persuad ing an increasingly priva cyconscious public to fil out 2000 census forms. The Founding Fathers mar, dated the census in the Constitution, but a growing number of Americans no longer view the national headcount as a patriotic obligation. As few as 55 percent might retum the 98 million forms landing in mailboxes nationwide this week, down from 65 percent in 1990 and 78 percent in 1970.

\section*{Staying clean}

Drive the freeways of Southem Califomia and it's clear that the air is cleaner, thanks in part to tougher air emissions standards, improved automotive technology and innovative fuel refor-mulations.Cleaner-buming gasolines and lowersulfur diesel fuel, in particular. have contributed laborative effort to help reduce air pollu tion. Demanded by environmentalists, leg and embraced by citizens statewide, this massive movement aimed at reducing mobilesource air pollution has produced real and measurable results

\section*{quote \\ of the day:}

Bigamy is having one husband too many. Monogamy is the Erica Jong

Sapna
Koliali, editor
443-2128 lifeodaily orange.com

\title{
Denis
}

\section*{SU senior teaches area children about the web.}

BY ANDREA ALLEN Contributing writer

Staring blankly at the computer keyboard, Patrick Sakpedeh tried to figure out how to make a bracket appear on ments of quiet deliberation the 10 -yearold gave up and abruptly raised his hand old gave for help.

Jean Denis, a senior information studies major was on the scene within seconds. He listened as Patrick, who lives on Syracuse's north side, explained his bracket question.

Denis then placed his hands on Patrick's shoulders and explained how to use the "Shift" key.
Patricksed with inis nex information, with his work
"He always helps me," Patrick said.
On a recent Saturday, Denis brought Patrick and about 15 other children, all participants in the International Children's Project, to Syracuse University's Link Hall to learn how to make their own Web pages.

A project of the SU volunteer organization, Students Offoring Service, ICP coordinates educational and cultural activities for refugee children of color on Saturday afternoons.

Originally developed for Haitian children, ICP branched out recently to include chidren rim outh countries such as Liberia and South Africa.

All recent refugees to the United States, many of the children have little or no prior computer experience, which child was that much more difficult.

Denis, who one day hopes to work as a computer consultant, soid that volwhich he has been doing since his sophomore year - has been a new and rewarding expericnce.

A Rochester native, Denis never did community service before college.
"I thought that since I was able to go to college, than I should give back to younger kids so they can go toc," he said. For Denis, the perfect opportunity to volunteer was with ICP.

See COMPUTER page 15

\section*{Movies rival basketball for audiences}

There's another March Madness for those who aren't die-hard college b-ball fans, and the outcome of the winners and losers is just as nail. bitingly tense. Sunday evening marks the \begin{tabular}{cl} Pete & \begin{tabular}{l}
marks the \\ Blist annual
\end{tabular} \\ presentation
\end{tabular} speak made even as we speak on who what lake in the business. in the business.
the 2000 version of the Oscars too. Fifty-three of the 55 statues that were stolen from a loading dock two weeks ago were found in a dumpster yesterday. Comedian Billy Grystal will be coming back to be the MC of this year's event. erasing the memory of Whoopi Goldberg and her insanely stupid dance numbers that just put most people to sleep.

Yet despite these improvements, the best candidates for film or the year are still ignored by a voting system film if it jumped up and bit them in the ass. Go see them in the ass. Gosee
"Being John Malkovich,'" "The

Matrix" and "Toy Story 2" (all absent by the way) or watch Matt Damon in "The Talented Mr. Ripley to see why so many people complain about the misguided nominations each and every year. Despite the fact that any film is eligible from the past year, only those in the final few months of eligibility are even considered. For the most part, the voters made poor choices.
ok percent of the time. bout things that should be about things that should be lout to address. Let's take look at the awards that't mat ter - there are only six biggies to stay awake for. Even though some of the nominees are different, the Golden Globes have pretty much already dictated who and what will win Sunday. So even if you didn't see any of the movies or actors nominat ed, youll find out which are the most anticipated match ups of the Oscars ceremony Here's the Media Freak guide on Who will walk away happy on Oscars night.

\section*{Best Actor}

Russell Crowe "The Insider" Richard Farnsworth "The

See MEDIA page 15

\title{
GREEK FREAK 2000 PRESENTS
}

\section*{NAS \\ FOXY BROWN HOSTED BY DJ KOOL LANDMARK THEATRE APRIL 6, 2000}

STUDENT TICKETS (2/SUID) ON SALE TOMORROW THRU THE SCHINE BOX OFFICE AT 10 AM!!!
Busses will be provided from College Place to and from Landmark Theatre on the evening of the concert.

\section*{COMPUTER}

\section*{continued from page 13}

Denis said he was first attracted to the program because of his own personal connection with Haitian refugees. Denis, who is of Haitian decent and speaks Creole, is the first generation of his family to be born in the United States.

Combined with his schoolwork and other extracurricular activities, volwith ICP has kept Denis busy.

He puts in 12 hours a week as program coordinator for the Student Marshall Program and is also a member of the Haitian Immigration StuBent Assoctatio Information Black and Latino Information Jorge Reyes.
Jorge Reyes, Denis' roommate, wonders how gets all his work done. the house but he still finds time to volunteer, Reyes said.

Despite his involvement in these activities, Denis has worked hard to cultivate meaningful relationships with the children of ICP. Denis said he has accompanied the ehildren on trips to the Open-Hand Puppet Theater, Comstock Kidsfest and Syracuse University's Martin ther King library.
He is already planning to accompantr the children to the Syracuse Stage production of "A Raisin in the Sun" ater this month.
Saturday, however, was the first time Denis led an activity by himself.
"I wasn't nervous," Denis said. \({ }^{\text {NI }}\) know the kids and it's my major. I do it (computer work) all the time."

Denis began his teaching by showing the children how to use a search engine. The children searched for Web pages on their favorite interests. Deris then showed the children how to download the images they liked from these pages onto a disk so they could incorporate them into their own Web pages.

Denis encouraged chil dren to download the flags of their home countries as well. II wanted the activity to be both academically and culturally based," Denis said.

While some children followed Denis' advice, most everyone downloaded Pokemon pictures.

For the final step, Denis asked the children to write several phrases about them selves.

Patrick, who didn't speak English until he came to the United States last year wrote: "My name is Patrick Sakpedeh. I am learning how to read but I already know how to read. Last year I did not know how to read."

\section*{Prime example}

Argela Hatcher, ICP Program Director and SOS grad date assistant in the Schoo of Social Work, said Denis is a great role model for the

\section*{MEDIA}
continued from page 13 Straight Story"
Sean Penn "Sweet and Lowdown"
Kevin Spacey "American Beauty"
Denzel Washington "The Hurricane"
My Pick: Denzel or Spacey. Both Kevin Spacey and Denzel Washington have won for best supporting actor in the past and both put in the role of their career - Spacey as a fed-up suburban father and Denzel as the wrongly convicted boxer Rubin "Hurricane" Garter. It's tough to say whom the academy went with, but I'd bet it's either one of these two.

\section*{Best Actress}

Annette Benning "American Beauty"
Janet McTeer "Tumbleweeds" Julianne Moore "The End of the Affair"
Meryl Streep "Music of the Heart"
Hillary Swank "Boys Don't Cry" My Pick: Annette Benning. Everyone thought that Swank pretty much had this one wrapped up since the Golden Globes a few months ago. But the academy is a little older and tends not to go with younger actors and actregses evea when they deserve to be recognized for the bigger awards.

Best Supporting Actress
Toni Collette The Sixth Sense"
Angelina Jolie "Girl, Interrupted"
Catherine Keener "Being John Malkovich"
Samantha Morton "Sweet and Lowdown" Chloe Sevigny "Boys Don't Cry"
My Pick: Angelina Jolie. It would be nice to see Catherine Keener, the only children. Hatcher said the fact that Denis is male is also a great asset because so many children need positive many chilaren need positive "His dedication.
His dedication is imporsant, she said. It brings substance to the progran and guarantees. success. in the children she added Denis' hard work has not one unnoticed by his volun teering peers.
"He really
He really knows how to communicate with kids," said Leke Osinubi, a junior information studies major. "He's like a big kid himself so when he talks to them, it's like he's talking to them like they are friends."

Selome Araya, a sophomore in the School of Management, agreed.
"He's patient and understanding, but he knows when to draw the line and say "No" she said.

Denis said, ideally, he hopes that any activity he does with the children will inspire them to learn more.
"I try to show them how to do new things, he said Hopefully something wil catch their interest.

Perhaps Denis has already succeeded with Patrick. that can fix thine a peiso that can fix things, Patrick saroken I want to be able to broken, f want to be able to put it back together."

\section*{WIN! FREE TICKETS to NCAA Final Four! \\ in Indianapolis, April 1st & 3rd, 2000}

Enter the Outpost.com COOL HOOPS Sweepstakes of www.outpost.com. Tell us who you think will win the NCAA Championship.
Register foday - and every day - now unfil Marth 26施, 2000.
Lasse Hallstrom "The Cider House Rules
Spike Jonze "Being John Malkovich"
Michael Mann "The Insider" Sam Mendes "American Beauty"
M. Night Shyamain "The Sixth Sense" My Pick: Sam Mendes.

\section*{Best Picture}
"American Beauty"
"The Cider House Rules" "The Green Mile"
"The Insider"
"The Sixth Senge" My pick: Despite word of a close battle between "Cider House" and "Beauty," look for "Beauty" to pull it out in the end. Rarely do films win when the lead actors are not nominated, and "Cider House" failed to grab any for its stars. "Beauty" is by far the most appreciated offbeat film of the year and a sure bet to be the 71st Best Picture.
acting nominee from "Malkovich," to upset this one.

Best Supporting Actor Michael Caine "The Cider House Rules"
Tom Cruise "Magnolia" Michael Clarke Duncan The Green Mile \({ }^{n}\)
Jude Law "The Talented Mr. Ripley"
Haley Joel Osment "The Sixth Sense"
My Pick: Jude Law. The best list of nominees this year and not an unworthy performance out of the bunch. Cruise may have had it if the academy understood films that were as offloeat as "Magnolia," but I'm betting that "The Talented Mr.
Ripley" star will win to make up for that films lack of nominations.

\section*{Best Director}

The Cider
Win $10,000 ior your sehool
The school with the most student and olumni entries will win a \($ 10,000\) donation to their Finconciol Aid Fund. Tell everyone you know to go to Outpost.com and register today. Your school could win hig!

\section*{More for your school}

Outpostcom will donote 1\% of the purchose pirice to your school's Finonciol Aid fund for every purctiose you make os o registered sweepstakes entrant in Mard 2000.

\section*{So what are you waiting for?}

Outpost.cam

Since 1995 your home for high tecthnology products.

\section*{PRESTON}
continued from page 10 18 lead.

Shumpert hit an easy layup after scooping an offensive rebound with \(1: 38\) remaining in the first halr to put Ho proted - this one fromother triple - this one from the right wing - to cap a 7-0 Syracuse run and give the Orangemen a 30-27 advantage early in the second half.

And 15:45 later, he hit his next shot. A bevy of bricks separated Shumpert's final two makes, but on the last shot, he forgot about the score and time left on the clock.

\section*{\($ 5\) 0FF}

Tees & Tanks
Mens & Womens
- (Regular Prices)
"The other shots, I got wide open and set my feet and starting thinking about caupht said. released without even thinking That's when you hit most of your shots i" you haid head coach Jim said head coach Jim shooter, and he's going to shooter, and hes going to shoot against a zone. Whenever you're playing in a lategarpe situation, you can't game situation, you cant shot. You've got to get whoever's open the shot. He knocked that shot down."

Down went the Wildcats (23-10), too, and by the same fate that kept them from a first-round defeat.

Against St. Bonaven ture, Kentucky ran a doublesercen on the baseline to free upits sharpshooter. Tayshaun Prince. With the Wildcats down three, Prince nailed a triple and sent the game into overtime.

The Orangemen rana double-screen, too, freeing up point guard Jason Hart. He ran the baseline and sent a perfect bounce pass into Prince in his face sh. Wher Prited in wion lote "He whers shot

Hes the best shooter in "Jay did a coureat job of find. ine hire cnd he shot ball with confidence like he's done all year" Said Syr.
he kicked it to pert: "When had a shot and I hoped and prayed that I'd kneck it down. I was worried about catching it and having good, clean release."

It's Shumpert's release that invokes jealousy among the shooting-impaired. His smooth wrist-flick allowed him to shoot a team-high 46.9 cent on triples this season. He said the long-distance

Do you want to eorn \($ 20\)

Hospitality and Foodservice Management
Interested in Hotels, Restaurants, Resorts and Casinos? Looking for a major?
Careers in Hospitality Management cover a variety of fields, and an assortment of companies and corporations around the world.

Our graduates have excellent positions in a variety of operations like the Ritz Carlton, Bally's Casino, The United Nations, Omni Hotels, Marriott, Aramark, Sky Chef's and more.

Talk to us about a career in Hospitality and Foodservice Management
We can look over your transcript and explain your options.
Call Professor Brad Beran,
Director of the Hospitality and Foodservice Management Program at 443-2386 or 443-4550 for an appointment.

syracuse center Etan Thomas showed Samford what he does best with four blocks in SU's 79-65 openinground victory.

Shots come naturally Shumpert's Fort Walton Beach (Fla.) High School team set a national record for 3 -pointers in one season. He's a product of the environment. In shooter's fashion . and with a true gunner's shies away from the opportunity to squeeze off a jumper. Especially when the clock is winding down.
"Im always looking for my next shot," Shumpert said. "Always Iooking."

Area 52

Never Odd or Even
by Tim Dose

Oh My Cawd Classic
by Jaci Price

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles
by Neil Swaab

CROSSWORD
By THOMAS JOSEPH
ACROSS 3 Choice
1 Peanut 3 Choice
7 Guitar \(\quad 4\) Dyeing connec- technique tions 5 Utopia
11 wear 6 Tony-
12 Actress \(\quad\) winning Theda 7 Early
13 Pay \(\quad\) calculator
attention
14 Molecule 8 of "South Part Park"
15 Unbroken 9 Paid player 21 Choir 35 Streetcar 17 In reverse 10 "Cheers" character
20 Zest \(\quad\) Singer \(\quad 36\) Crazy
\(20 Z e s t\) character 22 Playwright 37 Playfully

26 Craggy hill 18 Oitd 25 game messe
27 Attila. market 30Wifd 40 Tack
\(\begin{array}{lc}\text { Attia, } & \text { market } \\ \text { for one } & \text { 30 Wird } \\ \text { cards. } & 40 \text { Tack }\end{array}\)
28 Low bill with an at times 41 Actress \begin{tabular}{lccc}
29 Prop for & HBO & 33Macho \\ Neptune & Long \\ show & sort &
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c|}
\hline 31 Undoing word & \({ }^{1}\) & \({ }^{2}\) & \({ }^{3}\) & \({ }^{4}\) & & \({ }^{6}\) & & & \({ }^{9}\) & \({ }^{9}\) & 10 \\
\hline 32 Moves & 71 & & & & & & & 12 & & & \\
\hline carefully & & & & & & & & & & & \\
\hline 33 Towel word & 13 & & & & & & & 14 & & & \\
\hline steers & & & & 15 & & & 16 & & & & \\
\hline 37 Gator kin & 17 & \({ }^{18}\) & 19 & & & & 0 & & & 21 & 22 \\
\hline 39 New Testa- & & & & & & & & & & & \\
\hline ment book & \({ }^{23}\) & & & & & 25 & & & & & \\
\hline 43 Formerly & 26 & & & & & & & & 28 & & \\
\hline 44 Maine & 2 & & & & & & & & \({ }^{2}\) & & \\
\hline \({ }_{45}\) park Talks and & 29 & & & 30 & & & & & 31 & & \\
\hline 45 Talks and talks & 32 & & & & & & & 33 & & & \\
\hline 46 Workweek & & & & & & & & & & & \\
\hline start & & & 34 & & & & 136 & & & & \\
\hline & & 38 & & & & 39 & & & & \({ }^{4}\) & 42 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
DOWN \\
1 Guy's date
\end{tabular} & 43 & & & & & 4 & & & & & \\
\hline 1 Guy's date 2 Kimono & 4 & & & & & - & & & & & \\
\hline 2 Sash & 45 & 1 & & , & & \({ }^{4}\) & & & & & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
by Damone Jones

O-Tay

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{15}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \\
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10 c each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word 56 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & are Pre-paid by: Cash. Check. Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 20m 2 business days prior to run \\ ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE: \\
Ads can be mailad with check to: The aaly Orange:i4: Sitrom Avenue; \\ ABAAAAABAAAAL
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Notices}

Summers Conirg Lose that winter bulge. Doctor
Fecommended 30 metion have lost their weigh! Fecommended 30
1 -88a-765:2967

Curious aboul your clectit report? Everyone else sees sts why nel you? Orderth onsine.
Credisimpo.cron

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Beyondclass.com, a last growing websit/e/e-zine. needs taterted witites and web-iays. Fosithons are ungaid. tut youill goll experience with unpaid. tut youll gel experience whiting for a real company and a ehance to get some great publicity! Cormmunicationsifournaism or English majors creierred. Ema', JoAndica Coliege Girts Wanted tor Internel Business.
Call 455.67231 dave Painters Wanted for Summer. Woik in University and surreunding ateas. Stan Mid April or Early
May. Cil Gory \(46-9593\)
Davinc:s Amery Square tooking lor prep cook, pizza spinner, counter help, must be prolessional.
Well gicomed, honest \(275-0384\) well grcomad, horest 175-0364 DIStrisuton needed, part-lime. North Country. Utica. thacaiGertland and Onondaga county areas Must have sutase cor, clean drvers aneas inut haut suitase car, clean davers licence. neat oppearance and good penmanship Eslablished routes wiexpansion oppottunities to Esmpetent rep. This is a rack jobting position with fiexity haurs. If you have the night outlook and pep the theney is tere Good working teerentes. nand-witten tesume, tume and pay requirements to Marshail Pann-York, At!n: T.M.
Kanales, 348 w. Fayene St. Syracuse, NY 13202. Kanaley, 348 : N. Fayetie St. Syracuse, NY 13202
No tefephone irquities accepled. In need ol EXPERIENCED peopte to do resels in supermarkels. Please cail \(1-888-371.3778\) in supermarkels. Please cail 1-888-371-3778 il interested. Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in Focono Pthn. Over 40 activities - seeking sp
 www. pineloresicamp com

\section*{Job Opportunities}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Tired of the same boring summer job? \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{边} \\
\hline \\
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Call Brett or Bobbi \\
E-mail: ckweebec@aol.com
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{University Barlending Classes Stant Scon Student Discounts \(\quad 1-\mathrm{B00}\) U-GAN} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

BONUSES plus guaranteed hourly nie tor yrivse shat angei appear Campaign: Nise 5-9PM. 117.3119. Fequired pleasant speaking vice. goal oriented. Dostivo attituce. 443-1158

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Child Care}
 em, wedresciry mornings and every ainer Monday Horring \(6: 45\) to \(8: 15: 5\), Wanch inem in \(m y\)
\(\qquad\)
BABYSITTEA postion stating 6 /12 in Dewith 3

Help Wanted
Grocy Dude' Gel paid whita you surt the internet!
ti's that easy with no gimmicks: ti's that easy
S 5500 wethly potential mailing our circulars. No Experiente मo \(202-452.7679\).
Local company seeks telephone interviecers' incentives \(&\) bonuses. Some college and computer skills preterted. Fax resume to \(\mathbf{4 2 2 - 0 0 4 0}\) or send to Liberty Business Development Grou send to Liberty Business Develepment Group 208 N. Townsend SI, Syracuse. NY 13203 . Ath:-Tod Dewey.
SFUNDRAISERS Open to sludern groups 8

 websita. 1-800. 932 -0523ex165

\section*{Fraternities: Sororities* Clubs \({ }^{\text {Student }}\) Sroups} easy campustundraiser.com thtee hour fundraising

Roommates

\section*{Roommate needed fall 001201 Hamison furnisned.} s290 a monit call Steve 476 -0677 great for sludents going abroad 2 nod semester Hoommate wanted for fall semestor 200 onty in a 2 bedrocm apartiment on Reasonably priced. \(476-2952\)

\section*{FOR RENT}

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FUL FULi Bathooms. Off Street parking with garage. FREE parking with garage. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
\(4-5-6\) Bedroom \\ Homes \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
rdyer, \\ security ssistens \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations IPrices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

4Bedrooms. OaklandSt.. 1Block ESF, 3Blocks Lawr Hospials, lurnished, Darking, laundry, porches. Excelleni condifion, August. \(475-0690\) University and Comstock Very dose to Campus Eliciencies and Two Bedrooms Secure bidg. lumished haundry parking 5375.00 to \($ 700.00\) Westeon Euclid renovated \(3+4\) bedroom avail 611 S550-5720 P/M1 purking D WW Pat 263-34:5 University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk to Campus lyrnished iaundry patkin plus ulities D.N.Drucker 445 -1229 日13 Comstocx Across From Wamens Gym, At
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS. \\
Three Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious tinte Eedtrocr. comphatily furnished azarthent wath porth tivimg floom with \\ ondromis. and Eats Off strel. gamoge \\ poikng Loundy tosity in buverng. \\
Five bedroem House \\
Spacious fine Bedroom, concietay furnizhed House win ticent ind tear porches. tiving Foom with lueplace: Eat in Kachen wi DISHWZSHER sndine arga poctromin and Two FULL Eathicoris. OH1 sirees parking wath Canaga. FAEE LLunory beciny nbuldang. CALL 430-5188 atter 1:00 pm
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Apartments ciose to campus clean 2-3-5 bedrooms some with fireplace loundry parking semifurnished reasonablo price \(487-5 \pi 61\). Aexerman Ave. 4br 2/Bath apt Fumished. carpeted. walk to campus. Well maintained.
sroo-siot leaso \(446-7202\) 4 Edtm House \($ 300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 bdrm flats \($ 250 / \mathrm{cm}\). Avail Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Reatiy Group 637.5195 Stop cloan 3 bedroom apartmentz Fireplace.
parking, Inundry, semi-furnished, walk to SU, parking, laundry,

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

KensingtonPlace 1sifloor large 3Badroom hlivingroom Diningrioom Modernkitchen dishwasher microwave disposal lifeglace rardwoodFloors porches nearlustine rardwoodfic CuielNeightborohood availabie June 1st 2000-2001
Cal7 am-Spm 247-7851 ord26-1884
1.2.3 Bodroom Apartmants, Beaulifut, Spacious Sale. Quiet Close 476 -0295

\section*{L(.)(.)K Safe & Secure}

Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom 655-2175

\section*{For details}

2 Bedroom Apartment: : block west of Manley Field House. 550 a mon.
\(476-7572\) between \(12-3 \mathrm{pm}\).
Ywo Bedraom Apartments on Euclid Furnished.
Heat included, hardwood floors Heat included, hardwood lilors, prich, remocteled. taundry, parking. \(476-2962\)
University Ave live betroom House one block rom Marshall Steet furninhed landry parking
Apartments
UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 bedroomihouses.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry Low titities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. cactios form Haven. 479-5005

1,1/2 Bedroorn atic apartment on quiet street. Uniurnished. Air condificned wall to wall carpet new appliances. Suitable for single or couple. Available June 1 st 5350.00 per month plus ululies. One year lease. No Pets 243-075 Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance S.J. olf strees parking. Laundry. Cals 422 -r305.

502Clerenton large clean 2Pedroonn flat hardwood lloors porch ott-street part 640 indudes heat \(446-8928\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\(1.2 .3,485\) Bdrm Apartments. Houses + Studias. Ciean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some recently removated. Walking distance, laundry, recently renoval parking \(474-6791\)

\section*{One and Two Bedroom}

Harnishen Avenues. Leases Com Walnut and 20.00 Harison Avenuss. Leases Commence June Last Honth and Secuity No Pots Altowed.
Graduates Pretemed Call 422.7155 .

\section*{FOUUR BEDROOM}
 476-2982

\section*{Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities includad, Fireplace.
 476-2982}

Looking for a place to live? mwwhousing:0r net Your move oll campus!
Free roommate subicel listings
Large clean 3gedioem flats Westroll, Broad St arga. Hardwced fiocrs. porctes. olt-street parkint 1 yr lease securty \(5660+446\).8923
Furnishes 2.53edrcom Houses/ Apartments
Furnishes. S.Sedrcom Houses Apartments
204 Ostrem Etficiancy Ong and ZBedroem Secure Bldg Laundry Parkng Very Clean
Avallune abo-stas
Ore bedioem slustio apartment, very targe. ane brock from campus. lots of close1 space.
lurnishad, lull kitchen, lull bath, patking lurnished, lull kitchen, tull bath
S475imo pitus utils. 423.0830
PRIVATE FURNISMED STUDIO APTS.

\section*{1011 E.Adams}

Carpeted, Air Conditioned.
Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance.

University Area Apts. www.universityarea.com

Four Bedroom on Ackerman, Furnished.
Dishwasher. Two Porches. Oll sleet Parking. 1.aundiy, Caipel. Hazd
Call Gorcton 476.2982

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
Large 3 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Walking distance s.U. off stieet parking Laundiy Cal 422 -7305.
1,2,3 and 4 Bedroom Apartments 302 Marshal St 504 Walnut Ave 621 Euclid Ave 917 Ackerman Ave
145 Avencale Place

Available lor 2000-2001
Fully Furrished. Laundry
Fully Furrished Laundry Maintenance and Management, Refinished Hard Wood Floors Aemodeled Kitchens and Baths
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St. #30 wwouniversitya

Euclid and
Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished Parking Porch Beautiful Condition
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

3 Bedroom Modarn Apartment on Ackerman Avenue. \($ 220.00\) per person plus utilities. \({ }^{*}\) Free Laundry. Serious Stutents Prelerred. No Pats. 254-0025.

Despite three penalties on its close defense in the final six minutes, SU kept the threegoal lead into the final minutes. But after a sloppy Orangemen giveaway, Haugen beat Mulligan to make 3-1 1 with 45 seconds left.

Junior Eric Wedin, who combined with Joe Driscoll to win 20 of the game's 27 faceorrs, won his last of the evening, and Haus called timeout

Off a set play, Conor cleared and they were trying to match up, 1 got one on me."

Syracuse's offensive efficiency proved valuable late, when Hopkins' deferise deflated the Orangemen offense. SU went the final 13 minutes without a goal, as Hopkins whittled a five-goal deficit to one.

In a 12-10 win at Homewood Field in Baltimore last season, Haus employed a zone defense that confused the Orangemen and held it to a pair of second-half goals.

A year later under the bubble, Haus rotated a zone with man-to-man. While the zones success came as ittle surprise, history showed oth er top-ranked squads exploit hit Benson, who fired a shot home to bring JHU within one.

Although it fell short of victory, the Hopkins surge stunned the Orangemen, who aided the Blue Jays with sev eral turnovers down the tretch.

I thought we played a good lacrosse game until the Powell said "Then it was pa owell said. Then it was pa thetic."

After a shocking 15-11 home loss to No. 3 Princeton, Haus challenged his defense to improve its game. The Jays responded the next two weeks, holding Hofstra to six goals 10 days ago on Long Is and and giving its offense a shot to beat the No. 1 Orangemen at the Dome

The JHU attack helped its defense as well. It took 58 hots on Syracuse netminder Rob Mulligan, forcing him to make 17 saves and dominating in the time of possession epartment

They did a good job controlling the tempo,n SU coach John Desko said, "They valued their possession and took advantage of their man-up situations."

\section*{[classifieds]}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS \\
604 Walnut Ave. \\
2,3, AND 4, \\
Bedroom Apartments. \\
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Rents \\ start at \($ 275\). Refinished handwood \\ floors. Wall to wall carpet. Flats. \\ Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and \\ batis. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry. \\ Parking. 24 hour maintenance. \\
wwwuniversityarea.com \\
University Area Apts \\
479-5005
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, undiries induded, Oak noors, fire place, furnished, parking. very cean, laundry Call Gordonn 476.2992 .
2 Bedroom Apts 202.204 Ostrom. 105 Eucid Terrace Large Rooms harowood Floors Aweil June

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

229 Comstock Ave.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet. Large bedrooms. Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. low utilities.
University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\section*{Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flat. furnished,} Stove, reftig, laundryy fireplace, garage.
Avail June 1 st \(446-4229\)
Avail June 1st 446-4229
2 Bedroom fumished apartment with all utilities camped 5240.00 per parson. One mila trom \({ }_{4}\) campus, Laundry, Parking. May* August leases. 446-9598
4 Bedrooms furnished Hat with all utilities inctuded! One block from campus near Law Sctiool +ESF: 2 full bathmooms, campet, taundry, parking. Available Mayor August. \($ 305\) per person. 446-9598

\section*{ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug \\ 445-0540}

2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. I Bedroom apt 2 Bedroan apt with 2 car gatage.
with 2 car garage 125 Kensington Fd. comer of Lancaster \($ 550472.2667\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
1,2,3-4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
miraowaves, \\ disposal. \\
security ssems \\
All Locations / \\
Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University 283 Bedroom Townhouses 8 Flats. Inexpensivt and mint conctition. Washertoryer, Fireplace., Finishod basarnent, Call 449-0109. Ackaman furnished spacious two Bdifm off 9 parking laundry facilies utities inct. 446-8576

\section*{Houses}

\section*{UNIVERSITY}

HILL REALTY 422-0709
please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELLCTMOF BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM

Charming English fudor riouse on Sumisiuxi e Sedroons. Fireplace, ateross trom Anail 520 475-1012. (843)514-3881

\section*{LOOK AT THIS!}

Spacious six bedroom, Fumnishad House. Wpaishwasher and six large bedrooms and Two fun bathooms. Otf street pr fing with gatage. Washer and dryer in puilding. CALC \(430-5188\) after 1:00pm

Wanted! (2) Non-smoking Prol/Grad females to share furnished house wiowner foomunuter

Housa Far Rent 2 minutas from Main Campus Housa For Rent 2minutas from Main Cam
Seven Bds of srreet parking Fhone 45E-0433 Large 5 Bedroom House, Huge off Street Parking
Lot 1 block to campus 721 Ostrom Ave. \(445-3693\)

\section*{LOOK AT THIS!}

Spacious six bedroom, Fumished Heuse. whacishwasher and six large bedrooms and
TWO luth bathrooms. OH stree! panking with garage, Washar and siryer in buinding. garace, was \(430-5188\) after 1:00pm

Summer Rentals
Summer Bargain! \($ 200 /\) mo per person with all utifities inctudied \(23+4\) bedroon apartments uinises incuuce. \(23+4\) bedrom apartments avaiable. Rents whole aparment or by the rean via liock from Campus. \(445-9598\)

\section*{PERSONALS}

Sports Lines
Are you in charge of ondering T.Shirts or Patly Fawors for your organization? Visit our website www, prographicssportswear.com lor thousands olideas.

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

Eurorili peas Experia mwand

\section*{MISC.}

\section*{NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE:} As always, please use caution when maplying or being replied from any adventisement br each sponsibitity br amy misconduct resulting in contaci between yourseti and advertisat.

\section*{TAKE FLIGHT}
with Summer Sessions classes at Stony Brook

Wing your way to the University at Stony Brook
- 258 undergraduate courses in 38 subjects
- Day and evening classes
- Low New York State tuition
- Extended payment plan

- Easy telephone registration
- Live on campus or commute from home

Classes begin May 30 and July 10
Visit our Web site: www.sunysb.edu/summer
Or call 24 hours a day to request a summer course catalog 1-800-559-7213

ST@NY BRTMOK
STATE UNNERSTY OF NEW YORK

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com
> Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{NOTES}

\section*{Men's Lacrosse}

No. 1 Syracuse 13
12
\begin{tabular}{lcl}
Orangemen & (3-0) \\
Player & 5 & \(a\) \\
Banks & 3 & 2 \\
Springer & 3 & 1 \\
Powell & 3 & 1 \\
Caione & 2 & 2 \\
Smith & 1 & 0 \\
Ceglia & 1 & 0 \\
Coffman & 0 & 4
\end{tabular}
Blue Jays (1-2)
C. Denihan
Haugen
D. Denihan
Shaberly
Benson
Harned

Holloway still hurting
Shaheen Holloway's left ankle feit no better Monday, and the status of Seton Hall's senior point guard for the Pirates. matchup against Oklahoma State on Friday at the Carrier Dome remains in doubt.

He sprained the ankle Sunday early in SHU's upset of second-seeded Temple.
"It's a severe sprain of the outer ligaments," team orthopedist Greg Gallick told reporters in New Jersey. "We have a player (reserve Brian Campbe!! who sprained his ankle a few weeks ago, a similar injury, and he's still not ready to play. But you don't know. Everybody is different."

Ty Shine replaced Holloway and filled in admirably, burying seven 3-pointers and scoring a career-high 26 points.

Still, the Pirates would not be in the tournament if not for Holloway's end-to-end drive and layup with 1.9 seconds remaining giving Shu the

Milm's the word
Texas center Chris Mihm is mulling over whether to enter the NBA Draft or stay for his senior season

Before Mihm makes his decision, though, he his decision, though, plans on contacting a good source.
-I'd like to talk to Tlm Duncan." he said, "sit down and run some stuff by him.-

The San Antonio Spurs center went No. 1 overall after staying his senior season at Wake Forest

Mihm, a juntor at UT averaged 17.7 points and 10.5 rebounds per game his season for the Longhorns (24-9), who lost a second-round NCAA matchup to LSU 72-67 on Saturday.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Which head basketball coach owns the most victories in the NCAA Tournament?

12 days' agos trivia: Q. Who is the only player to win more than one Big East Tournament most valuable player award? A. Georgetown's Patrick Ewing.

Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 21, 200020

Josh Coffman utilized the use of a shortstick defenseman checking him by dishing out four assists in su's dramatic 13-12 victory.

\title{
Syracuse upends JHU
}

BY DAVE CURTIS
Sports Editor
For a millisecond, it looked as though the Carrier Dome would play host to one the Carrier Dome would play host to one of college

No. 7 Johns Hopkins trailed Syracuse 13-10 with less than a minute on the Dome timer. But the Biue ays scored on quick goals, and reshman Bobby Benbefore the final buzzer.

While two endline officials signaled a goal, the judges at midfield ruled the ball failed to cross the line before the final coach John Haus protested, the No. I Orangemen celebrated a \(13-12\) victory.

All I 11 say is that we fought until end," Haus said. "Unfortunately, we

\footnotetext{
Liam Eanks, better known for his precision passing than his scoring netted three goals while tallying two assists in } Syracuse's 13-12 victory against Johns Hopkins.
came up one goal short.
The furious final seconds failed to drown a Hopkins surge that saw them ral ly from down a nickel in the fourth quar ter.
After Benson scored off a Conor Denihan feed with 19 seconds remaining, Syracuse's Sam Bassett scooped up a faceoff and attempted to run out the clock. Bas ble browever, lost the ball, and a scram Hopkins ( \(1-2\) ) possession with seven sec onds left.

On the restart, senior co-captain A.J. Haugen heaved a shot toward the SU net. The ball hit an Orangeman in front and bounced straight up in the air, kicking over the shoulder of SU goaltender Rob Mulligan. Benson recovered the loose ball and snuck a shot inside the right post sending the Hopkins bench into a frenzy.

But the referee near the penalty box never hesitated, waving off the tying tally as soon as his comrades near the goal signaled it good.
"I came out of the net and kept running," said Mulligan, who finished with 17 saves, seven in the final quarter. "I saw the clock hit :01, then :00, and I turned and he still had the ball. Then he put it in the net. I didn't think it was a goal."

Syracuse (3-0) used a three-goal surge in the second quarter to take a lead it dominated the second stanza, tallying six goals to Hopkins' two and taking an \(8-5\) galftime advantage.

After an even third period, Ryan Powell scored a man-upgoal on a behind-the-back shot 49 seconds into the fourth.

BY DAVE CURTIS
Sports Editor
The most explosive part of the most explosive lacrosse team in America fizzled when it came to the final statistics sheet Friday night at the Carrier Dome.

Syracuse's attack unit, feared in Charlottesville and Chapel Hill, mustered only 26 shots against a stingy Johns Hopkins defense.

But exactly half of those shots slipped past Blue Jays goaltender Brian Carcaterra and, despite los ing by 32 in the shots column, the Orangemen pulled out a \(13-12\) vic tory.

Syracuse struggled to fire shots from the opening faceoff. Hopkins outshot \(S U 16-3\) in the first quaroutshot SU 16-3 in the first quar ter and kept the ball in SU's zone for a 5:03 stretch in the stanza.

The phenomenon repeated in the fourth quarter, when JHU held a \(21-2\) shots advantage over the Orangemen. In both periods, the Blue Jays mixed defenses to confuse the home team, and the usual Iy surehanded SU attackers and middies botched easy plays.
"The best thing was when the clock hit zero," attacker Liam Banks said. "But if we had capitalized better at the offensive end, we wouldn't have been in that situation."

After a two-goal first quarter, SU's conversion rate multiplied by three in the second stanza. The Or angemen recorded six goals, two

See COFFMAN page 19

Voment 100 x Humber 106 Syracuse, New Yonk 20000

[1 the \(7^{\text {inperetu }}\) stars really do have a life off the court. See Images, Page 10. Keeping HOUSE Domestic diva Martha Stewart to speak at SU on Thursday. See Lifestyle.

\section*{Binge drinking increases}

\section*{National study reflects SU drinking behaviors} BY JUSTIN SILVERMAN
News Editor
The number of students rushing the bar for last call continues to rise, even as more of their last call continues to rise, even as more of their peers are turning to abstinence. try increased by more than 14 percent since 1993, according to a study released last week by the Garvy also notes that although excessive drinting is study also notes that although exceasive drinking is on the upswing, non-drinkers are gawng popular This national trend mirrors student drinking habits at Syracuse University, said Dessa Bergenhealth enhancement at the SU Fealth Center. "What's missing is the middle-of-the-road student drinkers," Bergen-Cico said.

She credited the binge drinking to student affluence and insecurity in social settings.
"Part of it is the social mentality of excess," she said. "And then there are students who can't have a friendly or intimate relationship without a buzze-

The recent abstinence trend stems from more substance abuse prevention and an abundance of alcohol-related accidents, Bergen-Cico said.
"Within the last four years there has been a lot of dialogue and focus on this that has supported those who abstain," she said, adding that with binge drinking increasing, there are a lot of negatives that turn people off."

The study is the culmination of student surveying during 1993, 1997 and 1999 . In all throe years, students reported their binge drinking peers interfering with their sleep and atudies. Of

See Rlinte page 9

\section*{Hang time}

A-S.Smith, rofunion environnental science mafor from Abany, scales the wall outside Deflplain on Monday.

\section*{Elected board plans new agenda \\ BY TIFFANY LANKES \\ "Hopefully RHA will attack student apathy and get stu-}

Asst. News Editor
The Residence Hall Association has a new face and it vowed Tuesday to show it more often.

In an attempt to diminish student apathy on campus, the newly elected rila executive board plans to increase awareness of the group and its programs, said Angela Sutter, director of public relations-elect.

Sutter, a freshman in The Collegre of Arts and Sciences, was one of six students voted into the executive board office Mondsy night.
dents involved on campus," Sutter said. "My main concern is for getting students involved."

As public relations director, Sutter said she plans to establish an association newsietter to circulate among the student body. Actively publicizing events is a point on her agenda, she added.

Mnintaining strong ties with the Student Government Association is another goal of the new board, Sutter said.
"In essence, SGA and RHA are going to be doing a lot of the same things," she said.

See RHA page 7

\section*{Mystic moves}

RAcrunc J. colper/the Daily Orande

 HEDel.

\section*{Census needs campus response}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
Students will soon participate in a two-century-old tradition that determines political representation across the country and the home for billions of dollars in federal funding - the U.S. Census.

Both federal and state governments are asking SU students to complete census information to provide accurate population details of the area, said John Spring, a representative at the U.S. Census Bureau in Syracuse. U.S. Census Bureau in Syracuse.

Each SU student will receive or has already received a census form that officials are asking them to complete as soon as possible, Spring said. Students living on South Campus and students living off campus should have received a questionnaire over Spring Break, he added.

Census representatives will visit residence halls to encourage atudent participation, Spring said.
"Beginning the week of April 3, the people living in dormitories will be vis-

See CENSUS page 3

\section*{Students continue sweatshop fight}

\section*{BY JOHN ARWEILER \\ Staff Writer}

Sweatshop Awareness Week began Monday on the Syracuse University campus as protests continue across the nation.
"We're trying to raise awareness mbout working conditions around the world, said Keegan Cox, a Student Enand a graduate student at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

The Student Coalition of Organized Labor will give SU an ultimatum to sign on to the Workers' Rights Consortium at a 10 a.m. press conference today in the Schine Student Center, said Marika Wissink, a SCOOL member and senior music major.

The consortium would monitor the See SCOOL page 8

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

MTV's comedian announces itness LOS ANGEIES Green has dropped the jokes for a serious announcement - he has cancer.

Green, who is known for playing lewd practical jokes on his parents and friends, announced his battle with the disease during an interview with syndicated show "Entertainment Tonight." Green has testicular cancer, according to MTV.

His doctors said the disease is curable. They predicted he could return to work within a few months, "Entertainment Tonight" said Monday.

\section*{Study fincls crowded} cars are deadly
The more yeung people you pack into a car with a teenager behind the wheel, the more likely the driver will die in a crash. a study found.

The study, conducted by researchers at Johns Hopkins School of Public Health in Baltimore, confirms what many parents have long suspected.

The stucty, published in today's Joumal of the American Medical Association, was based 1992 throuth 1997 1992 through 1997 . Researchers found that 16-year-olds carrying one passenger were 39 per killed than those driving killed than those driving 86 percent with two pas 86 percent with two passengers and 182 percent wate for 17 - wear-olds was rate for 17 -year-olds was 158 percent and 207 158 percent and 207 Tent respectively. Ten states - most recently Washington age of passengers who can ride with new teenage drivers.

\section*{Pageant winners} gerting thinner ATLANTIC CITY, NJ. ting skinnier and skinnier. Using the heights and weights from most of the winners in the paggeant's 78year history, nutrition experts from Johns. Health concluded that many are in the undernourished range. The research was published in Wednesday's Joumal of the Arrerican Medical Association.

Dr. Eenjamin Caballero, director of the Center for Hurnan Nutrition at Johns Hopkins, said pageart officials should screen out contestants who are too skinny in order to promote a message of heathiness.-

\section*{Tobacco regulation rejected \\ have ordere}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The Supreme Court Tuesday called cigarettes America's to public health,' but nonetheless ruled that federal health authorities have no power to regulate their manufacture and sale.

Concluding that Congress never intended tobacco products to be treated as drugs under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the court ruled, 5-4, that the Clinton administration exceeded its authority untion exceeded its authority under this law when it announced new anti-smoking regulations youlh

The decision blocks those ules from taking effect. They would have restricted tobacco advertising, prohibited promotions such as "Joe Camel" Tshirts and made it harder for teen-agers to buy cigarettes in convenience stores and from vending machines.

But the stakes of the case went far beyond that. Had the Food and Drug Administration won power to regulate tobacco products, the agency in the fu-dustry to reduce the nicotine in its cigarettes. Or, it could have banned them from the market entirely as dangerous drugs.
of course, Congress can rewrite the law but that is seen as unlikely, at least during this election year.

In the wake of the court's ruling, leading Senate Democrats called for quick action.
"The responsibility is now squarely on Congress to grant the FDA the authority it needs, said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

\section*{national news}

\section*{FDA pulls diabetes drug}

WASHIINGTON, D.C. - The popular but controversial diabetes drug Rezulin was pulled off the market iuesday after federal regdangerous.

The Food and Drug Administration asked Parke Davis/Warner Lambert, which makes Rezulin, to withdraw it and the company agreed. The FDA's request came safety data on Rezulin and two more recently approved diabetes drugs and determined the newer drugs offered a safer alternative.

At least 500,000 Americans currently use the medication to treat type 2 diabetes. But pressure has been building to remove the drug because it was linked to 89 confirmed reports of liver failures, including 61 deaths.

The action came after the FDA had faced heavy criticism for approving the drug in the first place despite concerns about its aafety, and for allowing it to stay on the market after patients began to fall ill.

The contraversy over Rexulin also contributed to rising concern that the FDA was approving new drugs too quickly.

\section*{Hostages safe after standoff}

DUNDALK, Md. - The four-day standoff in Baltimore County between police more a man accused of four murders ended suddenly late last night as police entered a row house and fatally shot three of the hostages he had been holding were reported safe.

The swift conclusion to the excruciating siege began about 10:20 p.m. when one of the hostages, Lynn Whitehead, jumped from a window of the first-floor apartment in the East Point neighborhood where she lived and had been held for almost 100 hours, according to a Baltimore County police spokesman.

Andrew McCord, her boyfriend, who had also been held, next came from the building, and police then entered through living room windows. They shot Palczyngki and rescued the third hostage, Bradley McCord, the 8on of Whitehead and McCord, who had observed his 12 th birthday on Saturday, while being held. while being held.

\section*{Judge pushes \\ Elian's returin}

MLAMI - Dismissing a "well intended plea that Elian Gonzalez be granted an asylum hearing, a federal judge on Tuesday agreed with immigration officials who have ruled that the 6 -year-old boy should be returned to his father in In

In a 50 -page order, U.S. District Juitge K Michael Moore said that although he sympathized with the boys Miami relatives, wim here, he could find no legal basis to countermand a January docision by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

That decision, affirmed by Attorney General Janet Reno and supported by President Bill Clinton, found that only the boy's father in Cuba could speak for the child And Juan Miguel Gonzalez says \(h\) home.

In Washington, Reno lauded the ruling, saying, Tt is time for this little boy, who has been through so very much, to get on with his life at his father's side." Expressing disappointment, attorneys representing the Miami relatives of Elian said they would likely appeal the ruling.

\section*{world news}

\section*{India rejects nuclear curbs}

NEW DELHI - India rejected President Bill Clinton's calls for further curbs in its nuclear program Tuesday in the main round of high-level talks during Clinton's four-day visit here, and the president's hopes for a positive atmosphere were dashed by Monday's massacre puted Kashmill region. unidentified gunmen cast a pall over ceremonies marking the first U.S. presiciential visit to India in 22 years. Indian Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee suggested the atrocity and urged Clinton to press the Islamabad government about it when the president visits Pakistan on Saturdisy. India and Pakistan each control part of Kashmir and have fought two wars over the region and a 10 week border conflict last year.

Vajpayee made some conciliatory comments at a joint news conference, saying there is no threat of war" with Palistan and restating India's vow not to renew testing of nuclear bombs.
China's stance encourages U.S.

BEIJING-U.S. envoy Richard Holbrooke said Wednesday he was encouraged by China's cautious attitude toward Taiwan following the election of Chen Shui-bian as Taiwan's president, despite Beijing's vow not to negotiate with anyone who advocates the island's independence.

Shortly before his departure from Beijing following two met with Vice Foreign Minister Yang Jiechi at his hotel. The two had an animated, visibly friendly chat before Yang saw Holbrooke off.

During his talks, which included meetings with President Jiang Zemin and Vice Premier Qian Qichen, Holbrooke urged the two rival governments to negotiate and also repeated U.S. Aupport for Bei jing's position that Taiwan and the mainland are part of and

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

Newhouse I presents an interview etiquette workshop from 6 7 p.m. in Room A2.

E Dr. Ruzena Bajcsy speaks at \(7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in the Hall of Languages, Room 500 regarding Information Technology: Three Variations on a

\section*{THURSDAY}
- Martha Stewart, chairwoman and CEO of Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia Lic, speaks at \(3: 30\) p.m. in Schines Coldstein Auditorium regarding "The Power Auditorium regar of a Single Idea."

Sociology professor Marjorie De Vault speaks at 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500, reGarding Family time in Public ing."
- Career Exploration Services hosts a pre-law event for first-ycar \(8: 30 \mathrm{pm}\) in the Hall of Languages, Room 215, to receive guidance on course planning.

\section*{FRIDAY}

Syracuse Stage presents "A Raisin in the Sun" at 10:30 a.m. at to \($ 38\) discounts for seniors and to \($ 38\), discounts for seniors and ticket information.
- Composer Robert Ashley presents the UTS. premiere of his p.m. in Setnor Auditorium. Tickets are available at the Schine Box Of fice for \($ 10\) general admission, \($ 7\) students and senior citizens, and \($ 3\) for Arts Adventure passholders.

\section*{SATURDAY}
a Syracuse Stage presents "A Raisin in the \(\mathrm{Sun}^{n}\) at 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. at 820 E . Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), discounts for for more ticket information.
- The College of Nursing hosts an open house for students pursuing a baccalaureate degree in nurs ing at 10 a.m. A program follows at 11 a.m. for those with a four-year degree in a non-nursing field who are interested in a nursing degree
For more information, call Joe Sexton at 443-2027.

\section*{SUNDAY}

Byracuse Stage presents "A

CENSUS
continued from page 1
ited by enumerators, he said. A census enumerator wil probahly be apending a faix amount of time in the lobby.

With representatives in the lobby, the students may be remindea to return their iorms, Spring added.
"We are hoping not to have to go door to door in the dormitories, he said.

The census results will de termine the number of seats each state has in the U.S. House of Representatives and hach state receives said Blai Horner lepislative director for the New York Public intor Research Group Governipent agencies also use the results to determine representation in state senates, he added

It is suspected that upstate New York may lose one state senate seat and two assembly seats, he said.
"The hard thing is when looking at estimates, it is hard to say what the final census will say," Horner said

It is also difficult to say whether Syracuse should be concerned about the shift in population even though Onondaga County is one of the largest losers of population in the state, he added.

Downstate New York gained more than 245,000 people, while Upstate lost about 40,000 people since 1990 , ac ording NYPIRG reports.
"You don't know if it's gong to be cartoons this year or post-modernist impressionism draw for the districts," he said.

Each year that the census is taken, congressional districts are redrawn aecording to shifts in population. A recent trend in district redrawing is an expansion eastward and southward, Horner said.

This change in districta may make Syracuse much larger, he said. The expansion will make it much more difficuit for specific groups to be represented with everyone spread out, Horaer added.

The university has already completed a fair amount of advertising to encourage student participation in the census, Said Sylvia Martinez-Daloia, Sationector of Community Reations.

The city of Syracuse is working with the university to distribute the information, she added.
"The sooner the students return the form, the better. Maybe within that week, they should get it out," MartinezDaloia said. helped host tables in the Schine Student Center with staff from the Census Office available to answer questions about the process. Another table will be set up during the first week of April, she said.

It is very important for each student to fill out the forms, Martinez-Daloia stressed. Students will not be counted on their parents' census forms and need to be considered as part of Syracuse, she said.

There are two different types of forms a student may raceive, Spring said.
rhere is a short form that a Iong form that will be dis tributed to one in siz students. he asid.

The long form just asks more questions that are used to gather demographic data," Spring said.

The data is all confidential and will not be viewed by anyone other than Census staff for 72 years, he added. After 72 gears have passed, all of the data will be put into census archives and be available to the general public, he said. The government, particulariy the federal government, uses the census to fund programs in each state, said Art John DeFrincisco (R-Syracuse).

There has been a growth in the southern and south eastern states and a definite depletion in New York state's population, making it almost certain that New York state will loge at least one seat in Congress and possibly two depending on the outcome of the census, reports from DeFrancisco's office said. These facts make it critical for students to participate in the census, Martinez-Daloia said.
"The city has tried to in crease the awareness of the census," she said. "We're working alongside with them to get the word out."

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor}

\section*{SU officials ignore national trend to ban Napster}

Days afer the University of San Diego began banning student use of Napster, Syracuse University officials announced they would not follow suit.

University of San Diego administrators cited tramic probNapster, Web site used to download music files, and copyright issues regarding its services as reasons for the block this month. Several universities also reSeveral universities aiso reatly banned Napster when it bergan to constitute 5 percent of the school's Internet traffic, zaid David Butler, director of SU Network and Systems Servicea. "That seems kind of low," Butler added. I think in order to cause a problem it would have to be higher than that.

At most, SU officials may limit the site's access in the event of a networic backlog, he said.

But the university is wary of blocking any Internet access, preferring to keep the network relatively open, Butler baid.

Arestriction on Napster, however, may actually beaefit students. Heavy uae of Napster may start to clog the entire system, which would slow access to other sites and cause problems for students trying to log on to research sources and other Internet areas, Butler said.

Napster provides free downloads of a wide variety of music nles, called MP3s. Membership to the service is also free.

The Record Industry Association of America sued Napster in December on behalf of record labels and recording artists, alleging that the site is facilitating the trade of illegal capies of songs. They are seeking a settlement of up to \($ 100,000\) for each song available on the site, which hosts up to 714,000 songs.

An SU Napster ban as a result of copyright issues "depends entirely on the legal outcome," Butler said.
"It depends on the decision," he said. "Our lawyers may say

Gee, we are at a high risk if we don't shut these people down. SU students are also debating Napster copyright issues.

I guess they are doing somethimg wrong - no one"n buying CDs anymore." said Libby Ryan, a freshman retail major.

However, she said she is heaitant in condemang Napater since she uses its anvices. She said she has about 300 MP 3 files on her computer.
"But it's great, I haven't bought a CD in months," Ryan said. "If you can get the two songs you want, you don't have to buy the CD. It's great for us but it kind of stinks for the record companies."

The university does not take action against individuals using MP3s on campus unless they are contacted by record industry officials, Butler asad.

Usually we do this when we get written complaints from the (Record Industry Association of America) that they found ma* chines here with illegal MP3 Eles" he gaid.

There is a distinction made, however, between illegal files and the average student downloading tracks from their favorite band, he added.
-It's wsually when someone sets up a Web site encouraging people to download MP3s from their computer, he said. The mex fact that will \(n\) ave ne files on your PC will not cause us to shut down your computer."

\section*{Celebrate} Commencement Eve Candlelight Buffet Dinner Dance for degree candidates, parents, and guests Dancing to the music of The Mario DeSantis Orchestra
featuring woalist, Feith Conion, Maria DeSantis, harcal Hagan, ane Remnie Lriegh

Saturday, May 13, 2000 The Carrier Dome 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

6:30 p.m. Cash Bar 7 p.m. Buffet Dinner \($ 33\) per guest
\($ 23\) per degree candidate
Tickets are available at the Office of Special Events
210 Women 's Building
For information, call 443-5303

The Daily Orange
March 22, 2000

\section*{SU must discuss apparel contracts}

It's harrowing to imagine that someone thousands of miles away was paid only pennies per hour to sew Syracuse University logos onto the athletic apparel adorning screaming fans in the Carrier Dome.

But it might be the truth.
The Student Coalition on Organized Labor has designated this week as "Sweatshop Awareness Week." The group is planning rallies and events to raise awareness about the unfair labor practices employed by big-name corporations that contract with colleges nationwide, including SU, to manufacture athletic apparel.

SCOOL hopes to catch the reluctant listening ear of the university, which so far hasn't revealed information about their ties to Nike and other corporations employing sweatshop labor:

While a group of angry students can't cripple the multi-billion dollar collegiate licensing industry, a coalition of concerned colleges might. The University of California system and Boston University have both recently come out in support of stricter monitoring of corporate employment practices. Along with other big-name schools, SU could lean heavily to make sure that workers stitching Nike swooshes on SU jerseys in impoyorished countries are paid fair wages for their work.

SCOOL has taken the first important step toward heightening campus consciousness about this crucial issue, which has grabbed headlines at colleges nationwide. But the coalition presents only one side of the matter. A real dialogue can only begin once the university meets their call to step up and explain their contractual obligations.

Even SU's sibling school, the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, began investing in "socially responsible" companies this year after student complaints about the school's holdings in companies like Chevron and Home Depot.

SU should seize the opportunity to be a leader in advocating stricter controls for the companies that supply its endless stream of pricey athletic garb.
[dä]
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor Editorial Editor

Justin Sitverman Lifertyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director Presentation Directo
Photography Editor Photography Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Desiden Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Iustin Sitverman
Hotly Auer Sxpua Kollail Dave Curris Joy Dinvia Ball Ehninger Acleet Deschnoulch Nevi Austrew Lanct Probuckd Kate Stemenion Tiffany Limions Corey Hana Magh Mckionna Connor Ennis Jaff Passint Elative Slinner Tho Botitita
Tom Mansont Rochrot Coldien Lhw Cmwoul Ron Foolk: IIH Mercadiante Murtsal Cordon

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Art uses absurd stereotypes to break barriers}

Did you hear the one about the Rabbi and the Arab who met in a casino in Atlantic City? Or the one where a black guy, a Hispanic guy, and a white guy are all lined up at the gates of White guy are all lined up at the gates of the sorority girl waking up in the morning and finding herself in the conjugal visit trailer at the local prison?

\section*{MATT}

WALTON

If you haven't guessed yet, this column is about humor. Not just your run of the mill knockknock jokes, either. I'm talking about stereotypical humor jokes made about the perceptions of a certain person or group of people.

Humor like this is a touchy subject on a campus like Syracuse University.
Upperclassmen will remember the frenzy that was created two years ago by a Daily Orange comic some believed to be mocking a gay SU professor. Writers and artists for the paper this have also been criticized by various student have also been criticized by various student groups for their attempts at breaking down groups for their attempts at stereotypes through humor.

And more recently, the brothers of Beta Theta Pi received a scathing response to their D.O. rush advertisement that played with our preconceptions of the Greek system. (Incidentally, guys, I thought the ad was hilarious and I really wanted to rush, buti think fraternities are just excuses for guys to have a better chance of getting laid by a sorority chick after a night of partying.)

The most common charge brought against people like this is that they are perpetuating racial, sexual or cultural stereotypes. It's important at this point to clarify exactly what a stereo type is. In essence, a stereotype robs a person of his or her individuality. It grves them the per ceived characteristica of a group that they belong to, without bothering to gauge wheth

Even though a stereotype of angroup may not apply to every member, it probably does apply to apply to every member, it probably does apply most, or was true of most at some point in the out of thin air, like some kind of secret Pentagen slush fund. The same can be said for humor.

Everyone has heard the playground banter about jokes, that each one contains some element of truth. More important and relevant to this argument is the fact that the person making the joke is in some way mocking his or her subject. In the angos that are being discussed, that aubject is stereotypes, and what is being mocked is the ridiculous notion of categorization that goes along with them.

This means that people who make use of stereotypical humor are not helping to perpetuate stereotypes. They are, in fact, doing just the opposite. They are attacking prejudice and break ing down negative perceptions by exposing the absurdity inherent in stereotypes.

Humor often mocks its subject. The subject of stereotypical humor is stereotyping. This means that the whole idea of stereotyping is what is being ridiculed. I'm spelling my thesis out again for all of the blondes and cheerleaders who may have actually gotten this far in the column.

Stereotypes will always exist. I don't think that we are close enough to a universally tolerant utopia to believe that prejudice will disappear any time soon. What we need to realize is that most of the time, people who make use of stereotypical humor do not have malicious intent,

If you notice, whenever a cartoonist or writer for The D.O. is accused of being prejudiced or perpetuating stereotypes, they are immediately repentant and even shocked. They obviously did not mean to be offensive or to insult people, and are usually confused by the negative reaction.

This begs the question: Has our perception of humor been so warped by political correctness that we find prejudice and discrimination where in fact neither exist?

I can laugh at jokes like these because I don't base my thoughts on negative stereotypes and because I can find the humor in how conveniently If int into certain stereotypes. Is it possible that the people who are upset or offended by these jokes are the ones with which we can all be stereo ened by the ease with which we can all be stereo typed?
(For an answer to this final rhetorical ques tion, consult a bioengineering major. They all seem to be nerdy lab geeks who do nothing but study.)

Matt Walton is a senior music composition major His column appears Wednesdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at mjwalton@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SU must clean up Carrier Dome exterior}

\section*{To the editor:}

As a Syracuse University employee, I have the pleasure of walking past the Carrier Dome on my way to and from work each day. In my opinion, I've never seen such a shabby-look ing building. There is always has been graffiti on the walls for at least a year (if not longer). Is there really any excuse to leave Eraffiti on the walls for years? I certainly hope the university decides to clean off the grafthe East Regionals this weekend. Otherwise, it will be one more example to outsiders just how dirty and shabby the SU campus really is.

Beth Laurzon
Office of Sponsored Programs

As if the extra door didn't make it easy enough to get into. As improvements go, the Saturn engineers came up with a good one. A third door, right there on the driver's side, that makes it easy to get dogs, tubas, even people into the back seat of our coupe. And, continuing on the whole "easy to get into" theme, you can get the Saturn three-door coupe for a very impressive lease payment. So drop by your Saturn retailer. We'll show you how to get into a great car. Without cleaning out your bank account in the process.

Saturn of Syracuse In the Heart of Historic Automobile Row 716 West Genesee Street 315-472-0021

Saturn of Route 31
Just west of the
Great Northern Mall
3885 Route 31
315-622-0054

\section*{$228/month}

39-month lease/38 monthly payments 50 due at lease signing
No security deposit required
(tax, title, license and registration are extra)

Payments based on 2000 Saturn SC2 and an M.S.R.P. of $14.945. Thirty-eight monthly payments total $8,664. Option to purchase at lease end for an amount to be determined at lease signing. Primary lending source must approve lease. Dellvery must be taken from participating retailer by 3/31/00. Mileage charge of \($ .20\) per mile over 39,000 miles. Lessee pays for excess wear. Payments may be higher in some states. ©1999 Satum Corporation.

\footnotetext{
R.SATURN.

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car.
unewsathern.com
}

\section*{RHA}
continued from parge 1
Director of Programming elect Megan Auman agreed that strengthening relations with SCA is a top prionity.
ogether we can do really good things," said Auman, a freshman metaiman mething major and a contributing photographerfor The Daily Orange. "Our role is to provide for students what they need and to make residence halls and South Campus better places."
Nagesar
RHA hosts programs each year ork for this goal of improving to work for this goal of improving student life, Auman said. Many of student life, Auman said. Many of these programs, however, are "behind the scenes, \({ }^{\prime \prime}\) she said. For example, the association is responsible for organizing student storage space and on-campus marketing, she caed.

The organization works with an annual budget allocated by the Ofice of Residence Life, Auman said.
*We'd also lice to strengthen our voice in ORL decisions," she said.

Each residence hall council is given an amount from this budget based on the population of their re spective hall she added RHA has the ability to revoke funding from councils who do not have a strong councils who do not have a stron Four of the new board mem Four of the new board memacademic year on the Brewster/Boland Complex's hall council, Pride Rock

While thia may seem like a po textial conflict, their experiences together will make them stronger leaders, said John Eisenmann, cur rent RHA president.

II think it's mostly positive because they've had experience working together," said Eisenmann, a senior political science, policy studes and economics major. Most of hem will be familiar working with each other."

The familiarity between members will help ease the transition beween residence hall councils and Coordinator lect Rich Anderso said said

I like that I know the people T11 be working with,"said Anderson. a freshman in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Commanications. "It can anly help things."

Current Director of Public Relations Amanda Jordan agreed that the group's past relntionships will infuence their terms on the execttive board.

The new executive board is completely new. That might slow them down a little bit, not having any returning members," said Jorand publicrelatore policy studies ally energetic. going to keep it up. They go nuts over this."

President-elect Sara Naggar agreed that the new board is well qualified and highly energetic.
-They are a great group of people, \({ }^{n}\) said Naggar, a sophomore newspaper major. "All of the people whoran were incredible. Iknow the oness selected will do a great job."

Auman said she looks forward to working with Naggar.
"She seems like she's a really strong person and she"I do a really good job as president,"' Auman said.

Increasing community relations is anothergoal the hew baard of Financeele ary Petr, Director Petergon a freshman in the Newhouse School of Publir S.I. Newhouse School of Public will RHA work with SGA but also with other gtudent organizations.

They are just as important

2000-2001
Residence Hall Association Executive Board

\author{
Prosident \\ Sarah Naggar \\ sophomore \\ 5.1. Newhouse School of Public Communications
}

National Communications Coordinator Rich Anderson
freshman S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications

Director of Programming
Megan Aurnan
College of Visual and Performing Arts
Director of the Student Activity Team
Sean Beppler
freshman
College of Visual and Performing Arts
Director of Finance
Amy Peterson
\begin{tabular}{ll}
freshman & \begin{tabular}{l}
S.l. Newhouse Sehool of Public \\ Communications
\end{tabular}
\end{tabular}

Olrector of Publte Relations
Angela Sutiter
freshman
The College of Arts and Sciences
Complled by Asst. News Edltor Tiffany Lankes
Source: Aasiberice Mast Aanociasiont betiafment insumancelmutual fungstatist sefvices tultonfinanting it's a simple calculation: TIAA-CREF's low expenses mean more money working for you.

The equation is easy. Lower expenses in managing a fund can equal better performance.

How much? Just take a look at the chart. Then call us. We'll send you a free, easy-to-use expense calculator so you can see for yourself that no matter what your investment, you'll benefit from low expenses. And CREF expenses range from just \(0.29 \%\) to \(0.37 \%{ }^{1}\)

For more than 80 years, we've been committed to low expenses, superior customer service and strong performance.

Add it all up and you'll find that selecting your retirernent provider is an easy decision:TIAA-CREF.

ПAS
Ensuring the future
for thase who shape it.

THE IMPACT OF EXPENSES ON PERFORMANCE
5375,000
Low-Cost Actaunt
5313,000
High-Cost Axcount

EXPENSEG?

Total acomulations after 20 years based on initial investrnent of \($ 50,000\) and hypathetial annual returns of 11\%.3

\section*{YOU'RE THROWING IT ALL AWAY.}

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a tree brochure.

\section*{Baker leaves university after lucrative campaigns}

\section*{Staff Reports}

Lansing Baker, senior vice president of university relaions, will retire this December cuse University

As dircetor of university relationa since 1987 , Baker has been responsible for developing better public visibility for the university, fostering relationships with alumni and organizing fundraising efforts. Some of the fund-raising campaigns Baker organized during his tenure in university relationa include the Campaign for Syracuse that ran from 1987 to 1991 and the current Commitment to Learning Campaign that begenin 1995. The Campaikn for Syracuse raised about \($ 160\) million and Campaign has already raised more than \($ 308\) million, accarding to the university.

Before Baker began his position in university relations, \(S U\) brought in about \($ 8\) to \($ 10\) million per yeas through his ofice.
Since he took the posiSince he took the posigrown to about \($ 50\) million per year, according to the university.

\section*{As head of univer-} sity zelations, Baker also oversees the Office of Alumni Relations, University Communications and the Lubin House in New York City, according the the university. The Lubin House is an SUowned center offering alumni events, classes and in* terviews for prospective stum dents.

Baker was out of town and could not be reached for comm ment. A search for his replacement is set to begin immedi. ately, according to the university.

Complied by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone

\section*{SCOOL}
continued from page 1
production of SU apparel and ensure it is not made in sweatshops, Wissink said.

A teach-in from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. will follow the press conference. Studenta and proiessors will give presentations on the labor issues, with new topics discussed each hour.

The antinsweatshop movement is gathering momentum on college campuses across the aation. This campaign is designed to feed on that activism, Cox maid.

Boston University administration announced Wednesday that it will request their apparel companies to disclose the locations of their factories and the University of Califoraia also receatly took similar measures.

A mock sweatshop will be set up throughout Thursday on the Quad, where working conworld countries will be recreatworld countries will be recreatcompany the sweatshop to show how workers live off their low wages, Cox said.
The people that work in sweatshops making SU eloth. ing barely earn enough to get by," Wissink said.

A rally will begin on the Quad at 4 p.m. Friday. The rally will be kicked off by a tenta-ively-planned mude bike-ride cross the SU and ESF quads. Were trying to get things going," said David Radley, a member of SEAC. Weneed for two or three pecple to go riding naked acrosis the Quad." The bikers plan to circle

Unlike your roommate's ouffit.
There are aspects of college tife you just cant control. But when it comes to your academic performance. you're in charge. Especiatly when you use WebCT.com. the e-learning hub. It's a complete online academic resource where you can get help studying, find research materials. take practice tests and quizzes. and exchange information with students and faculty around the globe. Change the way you learn. Visit www webct com/roommate.

Courtesy of Webcticom, get fee shipping ofl a purchase of 590 or more at VarsityBooks.com through 4/15/00. Simpl; \(\cdots \cdots\) promotion code webet472n at checkout.
the quads wearing poster boards that protest the use of sweatshops to make universit icensed clothing, Cox baid.

Wea rathex wear nothing than wear SU apparel that was made in sweatshops," Radley

Ev
Events planned this week continue recent efforts by student groups to raise sweatshop wareness.

Earlier this month, 200 people attended a lecture about sweatshops by Charles Keranghan, executive director of he National Labor Committee.
the Feb. 27 SU/Georgetown basketball game, protesting Surs clothing manufacturing policies, said Radiey, a senior officials quickly removed the banner quickly removed the

Some students, however, question the importance of the question the importance of
*When I go to the mall to buy a sweatshirt, I don't care Stern, an undeclared sophomore in the School of Manage. ment. -I pay the price I pay, it's irrelevant to me."

\section*{BINGE}
continued from page 1
the more than 14,000 respondents in last year's survey, 77 percent aaid they had difficulty ving with the arinkers.

There are people vomiting n the bathrooms, roornmates get ing out of control, \({ }^{-1}\) Bergen-Cico aid. The risks seem bo great."
Despite the risks, however here remains a large amount of Os sudents disciplined for ac

During the 19981
During the 1998-1999 academic year, students received 917 alcohol-related citations - a Earlier this monthe yn intoxicated student crashed his car into the steps between the Schine Student Center and the S I Newhouse School of Public Com munications. In separate inci dents last spring two cars collided with the Mount Olympus tairs in crashes involving alco hol.

But last November, New York state Gov. George E. Pataki blamed happy hour specials and discounted beer, wine and iquor prices for binge drinking when he signed a bill aimed at liminatiog them.

The SU Health Center is also begianing new programs to help students who may be suffering from binge drinking problems, Bergen-Cico said. The center has a new alcohol education program and recently hired more professional and graduate stu dent staff members. There is also the new Options Program for students cited by the university for alcohol violations and those seeking consultation on their own.

Twenty-five students sought help through the center for alco hol abuse this year on their own accord, Bergen-Cico said. Only six had the previous year, she added.
Focusing on greeks
Although he admits binge drinking is a legitimate concern for all students, SUs Interfrater You Council President Brad tou too much em recent study.

Studies like this come out every other week. Every study says there is a problem," said the campus Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. "There aren't many students here that will argue that college kids drink more than anyone else."

The study included participation in the greek community as the only listed student activity. It cited a 15 percent rise in binge drinking since 1993 and a 53 percent change in greek abstainers.
*Fraternities and sororities are social organizations and have alcohol at functions. And there are also a lot that don't, said Young, regarding the rise in both greek driakers and nondrinkers alike. "It makes sense because kids drink to get messed up, not just have a drink with dinner."

Young, a junior political science and public relations major criticized the study for question ing greek drinking habits and giving unnecessary attention to \({ }^{-}\)It is and sororities.

It is easy to single-out the greeks because they wear letters on their chest, hesaid. We dont know about the other groups ane they are not as visible. Lesley Epsilon Phi sorority, cred Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority, cred ited the recent attention to

The national Alpha Omicron \(P_{i}\) office investigated its \(S U\) chapPi office investigated its SU chap ter early this month after an alalcohol and six new members two of whom were hospitalized The office found the chapter not responsible, but its new member program was suspended during the investigation.
"College students, in gener al, have always been drinking. said Weiner, a sophomore public relations major, "People are just now paying attention to it. It's always happened.*

\section*{Campus Drinking Habits}

The folfowing numbers represent college students responating to the survey in the respective years. The study defines binge drinking as consuming five or more drinks in a row for men and four or more for women.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[t]{2}{*}{ABSTAINERS}} & \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{FREQUENT BINGERS} \\
\hline & & 1993 & \\
\hline Total & 15.4\% & Total & 19.8\% \\
\hline Men & 14.9\% & Men & 22.8\% \\
\hline Women & 15.8\% & Women & 17.5\% \\
\hline Fraternity/Sorority & & Fratemity/Sorority & \\ \hline Member & 5.6\% & Mernber & 34.3\% \\
\hline 1997 & & 1997 & \\
\hline Total & 18.9\% & Total & 20.9\% \\
\hline Men & 18.4\% & Men & 23.8\% \\
\hline Women & 19.2\% & Women & 19\% \\
\hline Fraternity/Sorority & & Fraternity/Sorority & \\
\hline Member & 8.1\% & Member & 38.6\% \\
\hline 1999 & & 1999 & \\
\hline Total & 19.2\% & Total & 22.7\% \\
\hline Men & 20.1\% & Men & 26\% \\
\hline Women & 18.7\% & Women & 20.6\% \\
\hline Fraternity/Sorority & & Fraternity/Sorority & \\
\hline Member & 8.5\% & Member & 39.6\% \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Compiled by News Editor Justin Silverman

\section*{Orangewomen \\ finally earn first win}

BY CHRIS SNOW
Staff Writer
Scheduling the first-, thirdand sixth-ranked teams in the opening three games of its season, the Syracuse women's acrosse team knew its ment appearance would not be appy.

Three early losses presented more questions han answers. A solid 9-3 Win over Notre Dame on ing practice sessions have the Orangewomen poised for a deciding three-game week beginning Saturday at UMass.
"We had turned the ball over a lot and the other team capitalized on those mistakes," junior attacker Karen Healy said of the disappointing losses.
think after we beat Notre Dinme, we remembered we can win and we

A showdown with five-time efending champion Maryland on March 12 offered Syracuse an opportunity to gauge its calber against the nation's top measuring stick. Remaining within striking distance and down only 11-8 at the half, SU allowed five unanswered goals to open the second half en route to a 24-11 loss.

Shining in the loss, Healy and senior attacker Lauren Brady scored three goals apiece, with Healy adding two assists: were The first half, we were aggressive and played the way we should (Maryland) scored Maryland) scored a series of quick goals, series of quick goals, be unsure of our selves and were tenative. And when we do that, we get into trouble." That wait-and-see SU approach allowed Maryland a sig nificant advantage in possession time and forced the Orangewomen into poor decisionmaking on offense, Miller said. SU quickly got back to bagics during a matchu Notre Dame in Florida.

Applying strong defensive pressure to ball carriers, propressure to ball carriers, proEwing and tightening up the overall defensive scheme marked the key components of a promising victory over the previously undefeated Irish team, Miller said.

Brady said a stingy defensive showing and stellar goaltending coupled with offensive success boosted the team's confidence.

We're getting to where we want to be," Brady said. "We just have to balance ourselves out in the transition game and know when to settie.things to stand up the attacker sooner and meet her rather than let. her get the shot off.

In the Notre Dame game, SU showcased the building blocks needed for a successful tournament run, Miller said. She added that last year's team began \(0-3\) before peaking during a late-season surge.

That group, however, failed to make the NCAAs
"We need our keepers to make saves," she said, "and I still think our defense needs to communicate better. They were aggressive the way 1 would like them to be. Last year, the team improved throughout and we improved throughout and we end. We're hoping to build like that.
Despite pulling Ewing twice this season in losses to Georgetown and Maryland, Miller said the senior goaltender remains her top option in net.
"She made some nice saves versus Notre Dame, and she finished strong last year," Miller ished strong last year, Mnler Clo is our starting keeper."

Ewing acknowledged the losses to Virginia, Georgetown and Maryland as three of her poorest college performances, but her confidence remains intact.
"I'm pretty much trying to forget about the first three games," she said. "There's nothing I can do about that. Notre Dame was really important. Now, think it's mental rocus and its just hing do better dence to know I can do better

While the Orangewomen's attack currently averages over nine goals per game, the ofense has yet to demonstrate ts annual juggernaut status. er, midfielder Jenna Szyluk, remains indefinitely sidelined

\section*{with a back injury.}

Szyluk's 38 goals last spring are sorely misaed, Miller said. But the coach believes the senior standout's calming pres even larger gap for SU to fill "I think we're missing Jenmore on defe missing Jenna more on defense than atin the middle in transition and on the defensive side of the ball."

Miller said the early-season uccess experienced by Erady, Healy and senior Kara Hanover eased the absence of SU's top of fensive threat. On defense sophomore defender Carrie oults is increasing her two way play and stepping into a eadershyp role, Miller added.

With an opportunity to limb above the sea-level mark days, Ewing gaid now is the days, SU to sit its stride
"It's great for confidence, It's great for confidence, Ewing said. to need three first three. We're going to go into the rest of the season knowing we have to win every game and planning to do just that.'

\section*{S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications}

ERAMARAR, PUNCTUATION, AND SPEILING EXAM
Saturday, March 25
10:00A - 11:00A in A1 NCCI
This is the last GPS exam offered this semester. A passing grade is needed for admission into ADV 207, NEW 205, PRL 205, and TRF 155. Students should bring two #2 pencils and their SU ID cards.

\section*{Can Jason Hart stop Nateen Cleaves?}

\section*{What size shoe does Billy Celuck wear?}

OK, so the first two questions are the truly important ones that come this Thursday, when the Syracuse Orangemen face top-seeded Michigan State in the NCAA Tournament's Midwest Regional semifinals.

And knowing SU basketball fains have an opinion and usually a strong one - we at The Daily Orange want to hear it.

Write us at sports@dailyorange.com and tell us what you think SU's chances against the Spartans are.

We'll publish the best bites of letters in Thursday's issue of The D.O. The deadline for submissions is 8 p.m. today.

Letters may be edited for length.

\section*{Digital Printing} hi-res color/bsw output
XEROX DocuColor 40
CANON CLC 700
2 Great Choices for Color Printing From Your Mac or PC Files
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline &  & M-F: Tam - Midnite \\
\hline centimers &  & \begin{tabular}{l}
Saturdoy: 9amr 7pm \\
Sunday: 10arn-11pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc Marshall Square Mall}

Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors Best Prices Guarenteed Work

> Hours Mon. Thur Fri. 9:30-5:30. Sat. 10:30-2:30

Phone: 315-423-9284
Web Page: www.computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{bage}

\section*{Bad mateh}

Scientists have uncov ered what they belleve to be glaring errors in o patent issued last month to Human Genome Sciences tnc. for a human gene that plays a crucial role in plas. The potential setback comes after Setback comes af
Human Genome Human Genome
Science's stock price soared last month on news that it won a patent on the AIDS gene. But investors have cooled to the high-flying genomics industry in recent weeks in reaction to negative news. The company's description ompanys de of the gene's sequence, or chemical sequence, or chemica makeup, contains at makeup, contains at teast four significant teest four significant mistakes, according to research scientists. an allegation that legal experts say could allow the company's competitors to attack the patent's validity.

\section*{Race matters}

The Supreme Court on The Supreme Court on Monday cast doubt on Monday cast doubt on the future of voluntary the future of voluntary moves to integrate the nation's public schools, as it let stand a ruling that bars "racial balancing" by school officials. Under this decision, which arose in a Maryland case, officials may not consider a student's race as a factor in transfers factor in transfers between schools. between schools.
Since 1980, many large school districts have trled to bring about racial integration through magnet schools and other programs that encourage students to look outslide thelr neighborhoods for education. Typically, more stuCents apply to magnet schools then can be accommodated, and race usually figures into deciding who is admitted.

\section*{Speedy delfyery} Amazon.com wants to shorten its delivery time from days to hours. The internet commerce glant announced Monday announced Monday that it had invested \($ 60\) million in \($ 60\) million in Kozmo.com, a service that provides onethour that provides one-hour delivery of food, books and video rentals in certain metropolitan areas. Amazon, based in Seattle, now ships its books, CDs and other products via mail, United Parcel Service or Federal Express.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Fashion car be bought. Style one must possess." Edna Woolman Chase

Sapna
Kollaly, editor 443-2128 lifedally orange.com [lifestyle] solution for your sight problems. See Llfestyle Thursday.

The woman behind "Martha Stewart Living" arrives at SU on Thursday.

\section*{EY DANHELLE KOST Staff Writer}

She cooks, she cleans and the runs a multi-billion dollar corporation.

Martha Stewart brings her secrets of domestic paradise to the masses on television, in print and online. She will take her message, "The Power of a SinGle Idea," to Syracuge University's Goldstein Auditoriumin the Schine Student Center at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. Stewart will speak as a guest of the Genet Lecture Series sponsored by the College for Kuman Development. Ticirets are sold out.

Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia began as an in-home catering business - but now it soars on the stock market and floods K-Mart shelves.

By marketing an imare of house-
See MAFTTHA page 14

\section*{Trip teaches girls self-respect}

A week in Caxacun for Spring Break sounded so appealing to us - four friends since high school on a vacation in paradise for the craziest time of our inves.

Somehow, though, we didn't quite fit in.
Spring Break in Cancan is about more than just the place It's about the mind-set - sunshine and sand for miles. Your toughest choices here are what the drinks have done their job, discrimithe drinks amone done their job, discriminating amongst toe endie someone to hook-up with.

It's all about the random hook-up. And sitting on the patio of the Carisa Y Palma and listening to the soundtrack provided by Slices, the bar across the street, I couldn't help but wonder how a random hook-up differs depending an your gender.

It's different for chicks.
I refuse to make this an article bashing guys, nor is it my job to defend them. They are accountable interested in the hypocrisy of the female gender as a whole.

\section*{Duran Duran, '80s deserve appreciation}

It's the year 2000. The eight ies are long gone, and its music is pretty much something to talk phout in retrospect and make fun obout in retrospect and make fun on. Nowadays, ficiry Martin is The Biackstreet Boys are topping the charts and everyone loves Blink 182.

Eut most people have completely forgotten the essential foundation that pop bands of the

Adeet Deshmukh
rockin' on

See JANE page 14

\section*{14 \\ March 22, 2000}

\section*{ADEET}
continued from page 13 eighties have laid down for today's music, especially pop thinking. I'm not some mullet who wears stone washed jeans and a headband. I'm just a guy who has a deep-rooted love and respect for eighties pop bands. Take Duran Duran, for example. Now there's an eight ies band.

Their dynamic pop tunes epitomized what it meant to hip, cool and wanted. More importantly, these songs decade into a frame of \(g\) decade into a frame of guitars Duran Duran began band who's sole purpose was to become famous rock stars and play huge concerts that would draw thousands of fans from all over. Success is something that they achieved with relative ease, with tremendous hits like "Rio", Hungry Like the Wolf World". Duran Duran rapidly became one of the biggest pop bands in England, the United States and the world. From their first, self-titled album to their latest release, "Medazzaland," Duran Duran has taken pop music to the nex level.

The Daily Orange

From the point they began to where they are now, Dura Duran has been putting out remained true to how they look remained true to how they look want to be perceived by thei audiences. Vocalist Simon Le Bon is more arrogant and full of himself than the majority of rocks stars. But his fans absolutely love it - they always have and they always will.

I, for one, got the shivers and started screaming in bliss the last time I saw Duran Duran, with the band strutting on stage to the opening rifts of Bon starting the show with "you all love me because Im a fuckin rock star!". It was divinely full of conceit and everyone knew it and it absolutely set the mood for an amazing performance.

\section*{The next generation}

The majority of today's pop music has lost that arrogant edge and pays little or no respect to what a band like Duran Duran has done to shape the face of pop music. You either have your run-of-the-mill joe college rock, such as Dave Live or your boy and rirl pop muve, or your boy and girl pop Masiah Carey, Britney Spears and the like.

All these acts are immense y popular and can be heard on adio waves and MTV all over do little in the way of being true pop bands. I've listened to the majority of these bands either blaring out of the window of a rat house or on the radio. Sure it's well-produced and somewhat well-presented, but it's missing the soul and the arroing left of what pop music really

Go ahead and turn off the radio, take the Sublime CD out your Discman, dig through those old tapes and records that are probably collecting dust somewhere. Take out the first Duran Duran album that you find and put it in. Let the music low through you, listen to all of ts levels and really, truly listen to what it is. You wont hear just words and instruments you'll hear the essence of pop music, in the way that it should Go ahead, I dare you to lick off the "this is what's cool now and this what I should be into" voice and listen to the sound good music. If you don't like it, you can go back to what ever makes you feel good. But weren't for bandand that if it werent for bands like Duran Duran, the face of pop music tend to forget that, and it's high time that respect be paid. Rock on with your bad self There's no music like eighties music.

Adeet Deshmukh is a senior photojournalism and sociology major. He is also the photography editor at The Daily Orange. E-mail him at AdeetDesh@aol.com

\section*{JANE}
continued from page 13
Our gender is a walking contradiction. Women like myself exist within the same gender marker as the women who have no self-respect. I won't pretend to be some pure little nighteous girl preaching to everyone.

I have had my fair share of random hook-ups. I just want to understand this whole Spring Break mentality.

La Boom, one of MTV's preferred night clubs, has a wet Tthan a half-hour lasts for more than a half-hour. By the time the girls get to the sinnl roun shirt off - you have to get rea ly outrageous at this point and lick yourselfor make out with other contestants

Girls grind with each other on the stage at Señor Frogs. They strut out onto the top the audience. Am I the only on who is confused by this?

There is a distinction between coming to terms with your body to the extent that you are not ashamed of it and outright degrading yourself in public. That distinction is becoming quite blurred these days.

It has taken me a long time to be comfortable with my body, and I consider that an accomplishment. But it seems to me ant some of these \(5 \pm i 5\), whu are morethan wor the to take who asks, merely have issueg with their bodies and think approval from guys will give them the esteem they lack.

Or maybe they just don't thing comes down to selfrespect. I have enough selfrespect to keep my clothes on and - heaven forbid! - I expect a guy to actually ask my name before he ahoves his tongue down my throat.

Am I a party-pooper? Am I just uptight? Over Spring Break I was starting to feel that way What the hell has happened to our society when I feel guilty for expecting someone to take enough time to asks my name?
ins ne monder guys thinwomen are such a paradox. duced to sex symbois in the media, and shout about the injustice of being bombarded inustice of being bombarded Kate Moss and being expected to live up to them.

Later at the airport, I saw agirl walking around in a Hooters washcloth that some one mistook for a piece of cloth ing and sold it to her as a tank top. I could see her eyeliner from across the room.
This is my whole point: we can't blame guys for assuming that they don't have to ask our names before hooking up or going to places like Hooters and strip clubs

Hooters wouldn't exist if wark then and maserneses te work there, and guys would okay to trivialize our whole xistence by treating us like no more than a "piece of ass" if we didn't let them get away with it

So go ahead, get up on that ar and shake your bon-bon rod knows I did enough over re comfortable with your body.

But I ask you girls to think twice before you flash that crowd or start grinding with the girl next to you for a two-second spot on MTV. If you can't respect your own body, you can't blame guys for disrespect ing it.
rane Rushmore is a junior nagazine major. Her column for her hit company and for becoming its chief executive of mportance of examining how she attained her success.

She's making money off of women," Enes, a social work and women's studies major said. "It's oppressive in nature."

Stewart also reflects a trend that women are consid ered most valuable as con sumers, Enes said

The goal of Stewart's com pany is "to turn our consumer nto 'doers' by offering them the information and products they need for do-it-yourself ingenuity the 'Martha Stewart way, according to its Web
, www.marthastewart.com The two magazines, a six Way-a-week television show, We site, 27 books, a syndicat diowspaper column and a ra how to live like Martha. Her merchandise - ranging from bedding and baby clothes to garden tools and paint - are

\section*{NEWHOUSE PEER ADVISING}

Applications for the 2000-2001 Newhouse Peer Advising Program are available in the Dean's Office (100 NCCI) or the Associate Dean's Office (312 NCCI)

Any Newhouse student with an interest in working for the School on advising, orientation, or recruiting is encouraged to apply.

Questions? Contact Associate Dean Rosanna Grassi in 312 NCCI, ext. 1908, or e-mail rmgrassi@mailboxsyr.edu.

Deadline: Wednesday, April 5.

Stewart's brand name reaches millions of people. She also apeaks publicly and makes regular appearances on CBS "This Morning.

> Though people may con- ider Stewart a neo-betty Crocker, the "Martha Stewart" image may differ from the person it came from, Enes said.
"She's the domestic queen, but she's not married and she doesn't have a family, Enes said.
has one rrit is divorced and \section*{Differing opinions}

Not everyone considers tewart's message damaging.

Katie Rorick, a senior tele ision, radio and film major, used Living."
like to cook. She shows ikes Stewart's understated style. "I can pick and choose what I want to learn.

Stewart's success shows that women can enjoy both the domestic and corporate ealms, Rorick said.

Julie Perez, a junior politcal science major, also praised Stewart's ability to market an mage. Perez believes Stewart is simply doing what she loves. what she wants to and done her own, she said. "It's fine that it's based sand. It's fine cally a women's domainm typi

Stewart paid for college modeling in New York City. She earned a bachelor's degree from Barnard College bebroker on Wall Street Recession hit in the 1970s and Stewart moved to Westport, Conn., with her then husand and daughter. From there, she began her catering business out of the basement of her home

The first issue of Martha Stewart living hit the stands in 1991. Her Emmy-award winning television show first ired in 1993.
Last October, Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia tock Exchange, Afer its firk Gtock Exchange. After its first qy 11 percent with profits of \($ 1.9\) million for Stewart last quarter her earnings rose to \($ 2.4\) million. The success of her stock surprised investors

K-Mart has also benefited from the Stewart touch profits increased by 17 percent in the end of the last \(f_{1}\) ancial quarter.

Martha Stewart LIving Omnimedia will soon be available in Canadian department tores as well.

In Rorick's opinion, Stewart's super-sized conglomeration resembles smaller compaies with similar goals.
about being domes buiness about being domeat Rorich said. Nurseries do it. Bakeries do it."

\section*{Do you want to eorn \($ 20\)}

\section*{for participating in a 2 hour group discussion?}

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{RESERVES}
continued from page 20
Against the Wildcats, the duo combined for 18 points and four 3-pointers, along with seven rebounds and four steals.

Shumpert's two triples came at key points in the Kentucky triumph. His shot with disco seconds the Oranged like 70 s disco, as the Orangemen's tournament hopes were stayin' alive.

Williams added 26 min utes in only his second NCAA Tournament game and insisted that despite his youth, there were no pre-game butterflies in For Shur Formampert, his role is what remains important. Not \({ }^{4}\) Warting lineup status.
We ve had depth all year Shumpert said. "Any given night could be any given guy coming off the bench and scor ing We're looking for a mix to help us win. \({ }^{\text {an }}\) I don't don't really worry about it (starting) much. It doesn't matter if you come off or if you the game. Either way it goes I'm playing, so I'm happy." \({ }^{\text {toes, }}\)

Against Kentucky, startin center Etan Thomas found Wildcats zoul trouble and the ened up. Williams and Shumpert earned extra time and took advantage.

Both shooters, along with their teammates, need to better their 31.7 shooting percentage as a team against Kentucky to have a chance against Michigan State, Hart said

The zone SU faced against the Wildeats may not be an op-

Academic couple seeks EGG DONOR \(21-28\)
for East Coast clinic. Right candidate compensated apprx \($ 7500\) plus expenses. Outstanding SAT's and academics, analytical, even-tempered, dark hair and eyes; olive complexion, even-featured, \(5^{\prime \prime} 7^{\prime \prime}\) or taller, and lean/athletic build. Please describe motivation along w/ several [returnable] photos to: POB 22, West Kingston, RI 02892.
all serious replies answered.

\section*{Women \\ Helping \\ } Healthy, young women (21-32 yeurs of sge) are needed to donate oggs anonymously to hetp infertile couples achieve premancy hetp infertile couples achievo pregnancy.

This procedure does not involve surrogacy. no medical expense incurred.
in need of Japanese and chinese cpo donors
For more information call (315)492-5376

CNY FERTILITY CENTER
Robert J. Kiltx, MD
Community General Hospitas * Physicians Office Bldg. South 4850 Broad Rd. Suite 1 K . Syracuse, NY 13215
www.cnyfertility.com
tion against the Spartans, who play primarily man-to-man. In that situation, Shumpert and Williams will have less chance to be successul, Boeheim said. Thomas ends to find himselfin foul trouble against zones and the bench players squeeze more hots in those scenarios.

But to count out Syracuse sans Thomas has been a mistake too many have made.

When (Thomas has) been out and hasn't been able to play, somebody makes plays," Boe that we couldn't win any games without Etan Thomas. That's obviously been proven wrong all year long. If something happens year he gets in foul trouble well do our best to try and win the ball game" The game.

The numbers (Shumpert 10.4 ppg , Williams 6.3 ppg ) are pparent. The individual accoades, however, remain low priority to SU's top reserves.

Despite the SportsCenter highlights from his recent game-winner, Shumpert would rather see a win against Michigan State than another night as a hero.

For the freshman Williams, who has struggled at times to get off the bench this season, a egional Semifinal win would has launched from behind the arc.

The win is what excites me the most," Williams said. "I ould score no points and not ven go out there, as long as we vin. That's all that counts right now."
\(\qquad\)

\section*{Diffic}

Syracuse head softball coach Mary Jo Firnbach described her team's experience in Alabama and Florida last week as the "road trip from hell."

The Orangewomen lost 10 of 13 contests over a 11 -day span in Alabama and Florida, but the voyage home might have been the most strenuous aspect of the Spring Break trip.

The team was stranded in the Tampa, Fla, airport for six hours and in Atlanta's for 12, where they slept Sunday night. Aso, the team's luggage wa and, upon return, darnaged. and, upon return, damaged. back about it," freshman infielder Rackel Park said. "Everything that could have happened did, but we

\section*{BATTLE}
continued from page 20
Orangemen advance with clutch shooting in Cleveland. Syracuse cannot afford to have Etan Thomas in foul trouble, and Damone Brown and Ryan Blackwell must contribute points and rebounds.

Pick: Michigan State
UCLA ( +1.5 ) ve. Iowa State

Thursday, March 23 at 9:55 p.m. The Rrine had a relatively easy path to the third round by were able to laugh about it. \({ }^{\text {n }}\)

On the field, the Orangewomen (7-13) struggled offensive sh. Seven of their losses were port ruined several strong pitching outings by freshman Tara DiMaggio and juniar Missy Bieman.
DiMaggio struch out seven and allowed only two hits in a 4-2 loss to host South Florida on Sat urday in the Clearwater Parkss and Rec Tournament. Only one of the four USF runs was earned.

I don't know if we were trying too hard or what the answer is, Freat pitching performances, and great pitching performan

SU's offersive inefficiency was most obvious in a 1 -O loss to NorthErn Illinois on St. Patrick's Day. each went 2 -for-3, but no runs resulted. The Redbirds broke the scoreless tie in extra innings "We just got so nervous," Park said. We were putting so much pressure on ourgelves in the box to get runs across the board."

The next day after DiMaggio's strong showing in the USF loss, the Orange broke out the bats for 11 runs in the second inning in a \(13-3\) rout of Seton Hall, proving the SU bats were not completely dead.

Despite the subpar record, the Orangewomen held their own against tough competition, Park said. Four of SUPs six games in Alabama early in the road trip cam Syracuse fell to No. 15 Bam 1 Syracuse fell to No. 15 Bama 3-1 and 4-0 in the Crimson Tide Classic on March 11 and 12 . But off in a doubleheader on March 15 virtue of playing Maryland and Ball State in Minneapolis. However, their 105 points against Maryland was the best ofensive output of the tournamenent. Earl Watson's 17 points and school-record 16 assists were impressive, highlighted by the 14 3-pointers and six alley-oops. Iowa State's convincing wins in the tourney have proven the Cyclones Big 12 regular-season and tournament titles were no fluke. With eling early, Iowa State was down gling early, Iowa State was down their second round NCAA Tournament game. But Fizer and the Cyclones calmly bounced back in the second period, winning 79\({ }_{60}\).

Pick: Iowa State

\section*{West Region at Albu- \\ querque, N.M.}

Wisconsin (+1.5) ve L.SU Thursday, March 23 at 10:15 p.m. \({ }^{\text {Th }}\)

The Tigers have an intimidating frontcourt in Jabari Smith and Stromile Swift. Smith, a senior center, scores 12 points a rebounds. Swift, a sophomore forward, is LSU's leading scorer at 16 points a game and also hauls in cight boards an outinc. The Tigers are big and athletic up front, but they lack overall depth.

Dick Bennett's emphasis has worked for the Badgers, as they took out Fresno State and Arizona. Wisconsin is fourth in the nation in scoring defense Mark scoring defense Mark only Badger to average in double figures, but Wisconsin double fegures, but getting everymanages to win by getting everyone else to contribute. Eight three and nine points a game, three and nine points a game brother of SU swingman Kueth Pick: Wisconsin

Purdue (+1.5) vs Gonzaga Thursday, March 23 at 7:55 p.m.

Anyone who thought the Bulldogs' run to the Elite Eight last year was a Cinderella story better think again Gonzaga is back and playing solid all-around baskethall. The Bulldogs take care of the ball, make smart pass es and hit their free throws. For Matt Santangelo ( 13 ppg ) is showing he's as good as, if not better than, many guards from major conferences. Senior Richie Frahm ( 17 ppg) can light it up from the outside Purdue doesn't win with style, but a \(62-61\) win over Dayton and a 66 -62 victory against Oklahoma have shown that the Boilermakers can take care or Casiness. what forward Briane up for with hustle The makes up for with hustle. The Senior is typical of this Gene scoring with 14 points per game.

Pirle Granzaga

East Region at Syracuse Friday March 24 at \(7: 38\) p.m.

Both teams score a lot of points and like the 3-point shot. Duke leads the nation in scoring with 89 points per contest. The Blue Devils also led the ACC in 3 point shocting at 38 percent. However, Duke lost its stroke in an overtime win against Kansas. The Blue Devils connected on a paltry 2 -of 17 3-point attempts. The Gators are fourth in the nation in scoring at 85 points per game. UF shoots well from the SEC at 37 percent. Donnell in Tuscaloosa, the Orangewomen closed the gap.

In the opener of the twin bill, the Orange took the Tide to 10 innings before DiMaggio gave up her second home run of the game to Alabamas Kristi Frenier for a hearpleted the sweep with a \(3-0\) win in the nightcap.
"We found out we could hold our own," Park said. "We easily could have won that game
"We just have to come out of every game the same and play to our own ability."

Syracuse's other two victories were a 6-0 decision over Fordham on Thursday and a 1
"Some of the games we did lose, we played very well and just ended up on the short end at the end," Firnbach said. "We didn't come to play on some of the days, and our focus was not in the inght area."

However, Firnbach said she thinks her team is headed in the right direction going into this weckend's tournament at South ern Illinois.

SU will not be the only firstyear program at the tourney, as Western Kentucky joins the Or ange. extra sienificancenend should hold extra significance for Firnbach, a whe recurms to inducted into the Saluhis' Hall of Fame
"I think we're okay," Firmbach said. "This team is young, and we have to figure out some ways to develop some personality and leadership. I think that's what we're

Harvey is an exciting young player, but keep your eye on Mike Miller. He kept the Gators in the cournament with his game-winning shot against Butler:

Pick: Duke
Oklahoma State (-7.5) vs. Seton Hall

Friday, March 24 at 9:55 p.m.

Although point guard Shaheen Holloway has a sprained ankle and is still questionable for his weekend's action, Seton Hal has to be happy about the posiin the Carrier Dome, a building in which they have won their last who contests while shooting the ball extremely well in both. Forget stars, Ty Shine illuminated like a quasar against Temple scoring 26 points.
One can criticize Doug Gottlieb for his poor shooting (18 percent from the floor and 44 per cent from the free-throw line), but the Cowboys point guard does a good job getting the ball to the right people at the right time. Desmond Mason ( 18 ppg ) is one

Pick Olyahoma State

\section*{South Region}

Thisa ( \(\mathbf{3 . 5}\) ) ve Miami
Friday, March 24 at 7:55
p.m The Golden Hurricane was in the Top 25 much of the year, but their television exposure was Tulsa last week, I must admit was impressed with them at both ends of the floor. Miami will have to find a way to slow down Eric Corley, who put up 16 points and 16 rebounds in Tulsa's win against Cincinnati.

The Hurricanes should have moved on to the Sweet 16 by forfeit, considering Ohio State failed to show up Saturday: Miami com mitted 21 turnovers but stayed in the game with good shooting. The Hurricanes shot 51 percent from the field, 43 percent from beyond the arc and 90 percent from the harity stripe.

Tenmessee (-1.5) ve. North Caralins

Friday, March 24 at 10:15 p.m.

They may have sleepwalked through the regular season, but together at the ript put it all Carolina disposed of Missouri and then took out the region's top seed, Stanford. Joseph Forte hit two clutch 3-pointers and scored 17 points to lead the Tar Heels past the Cardinal.
The Volunteers bemefited from playing Connecticut when the Husloies starting point guard It's hard Eay if the pame would It's hard say if the game would have turned out much differentiy had En-Amin been on the floor: Vincent Yarbrough and Tony Harris pace Tennessee with 15 points a game each.

Pick: North Carolina

\section*{Eat the Lettuce}
by The Four Electrons

Sleep Deprivation

\section*{Out of Town}
by David Pollack

\section*{No Point}
by Ethan Schizaidt

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

\section*{Mr. Skizz}

by Thane Benson

CROSSWORD
BYTHOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS 39 fescued 1 Ninnies 40 Long 5 Very \(\quad 41\) times cham- DOWN pagne DOWN lunches 2 Reception 1 URL 2 piece \(\quad 3\) Attractive site \(\quad 5\) Purich separator 7 aimlessly tools words, 17 Admit 8 Choreog9 Sassiness 20 Harp's ancestors > frame 2 Perfect 22 Periect 26 Rouge's 29 Unt 30 piece

Talented Mr.
Ripley actor
32 Beatles hit 34 Compass
35 Actor
Sean
35 Della of Touched Aysing
38 Play place

Goatee Style

\section*{NOTICE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING} 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word
 Casht, Cheack Mastar Card, Visa or Divscover Deandine: Com 2 business days prior to run Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenuo Syracuse. NY 132i0; Art Classifieds; OR Faxd with Credi Card to:315-943-3699 A

\section*{Notices}

Summers Coming Lose that winter bulgo. Docto Heconmondad 30 milition have lost theil weight Curious about your credit raport? Everyone else sees it, why not youn
Greditsimple.cont

Bikes
Gary Fisher Joohua MTA, Full suspension, Fock
Shose jucty and coupe deluxa rear shock Only Shox Juty and crupe deluxe rear shock Only sel. Call 2532771 Ext201.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

\section*{Davincis Armocy Square boking for prep coot} Divincis Arnory Square boking lor prep cook, well groormed, henest \(4 / 5-0384\)
Camp Counsalors Top Ovarnight Camps in Pocono Mits Over 40 attrites -scoking sprcialist

Painters Wanted for Summen. Work in Univarsity and surrounding aress. Slart Mid Apriu or Earty Mayy Call Gary 446-9598 College Girts Warted Iox Intatreat Business.
7723 Leave Massaga.
SalosMarketing Rep: Earn \($ 150\) - 5300 wouk working pantumo working part-timo within your Colloggo community you have entropreneurial spint aro sulthy disophine and commitited to succeed. Join our winning teame Apply On-line a www wampusplobalnation. Click income opportunitios. Or forward resume to caspers \(\theta\) campuspitoal hel com

In noed of EXPERIENCED people to do reset in supermperkets Please call 1-888-371-3778 in interestod

Beyondelass.com. a lasl growing wobsite/o-zino. urpaid tant jod wilars and web-jays Positions ara corpany and a chanco to pot some preat putivity Commmicationajournaism or Endish maiors

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Unversity Bartencing Cisses Start Soon
Student Discouts \(\quad 1800-\mathrm{U}\)-CAN-MIX Call For Inlormation!!!!!!

SUMGUR COES N NEW YORK-hune 1st-August Wheb-For appleation end ittormetion.

Pre-medical surdant wanted ior fult-time poabion at busy medical clice, whiow waiting to thear from medical sctrooks 452-2600

\section*{WANTED} Child Care

\section*{BABYSITTEA posilion stating Efle in Dowitr:}

Babysittar Wartiod- Singla Dad neads help with 6 s o year oid boys Mondry altombors \(3: 30\) to \(5: 30\) moming 6:45 to 8:15am. Watch them it my tamesvide horne. Call Ritk 0 492-251 tor detaik.

Help Wanted

\section*{Fratemibes Sorcritios
Clubs
Student Graups}

Stubent erganizations earn \(51.000-52.000\) with the easy campustundraiser.com three日 hour fundraising

 www.campusturndraiser.corn
Groovy Dudel Get paid while you surf the interme!
It's that easy with frs that easy with no gimmicks

SFUNDRAISERS Open to student groups 8

 whwt.ocmiconcepts.com
\($ 1500\) weekly potential maling our circulars. No 202-452-7679.
Local compary soeks tolephone interviowors researchar: Professional environment Mako you incentives a boruses. Soma college and computer skills preterred. Fax resume to \(422-0043\) of send to Libery Rusiness send to Liberty Business Development Group 208 N . Townsnnd St Symen 208 N. Townensit
Aunf Tod Dewoy.

\section*{Roommates}

\section*{Roommate needed tasi 001201 Hamison fumished} \($ 290\) a monith cal Steve \(476-0677\) graat for stucanis going abroad and semester Roomanata wanted for fall sommaster 200 only in a 2 Dodroom apartunery on Euclid Averue. in a 2 bodroom aparmer on Reasonaby pricod \(475-2992\)

\section*{FOR RENT}

Univaratity Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Wall to Campus fumishod launcty parkin

Adkarman Avo. 4br 2/Bath apt. Furnishod. capoted, welik to carmpus.
\(500-501\) tease \(446-7202\)

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 200こ-2001
Rooms. Eff./APT's Homes & Town Housos There is something for everyourel buck
MOST INCLUDING
-Security Systern with 1" Dead Bolt Locks Prices R Heat & Sprinkler Systern
- Prices Ranging from \($ 225-5375 /\) momth Kitchens inctude: Gourmet Self-cleaning ovens. - Wall to wall Carpets & Padding (like herne) cilities on Premises - Off-street Parking
- Snow s Lown Maintenance
- Some Asulated (means kow utilities)
Such as * Comstock, Ostrom Flanison, Madison Westicoti, Clarendon, Ackerman. Livingston. Lancaster

CALL 478-6504

\section*{O.P.R. - \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices \\ 478-6504 \\

 \\ Five bedroom House
Spacious frive Bedroom completely Spousa wirn tront and romplorely furnish \\ garage
CALL \(430-5188\) after \(1: 00\) pm}

Westcotl Euchid renovated 3+4 bedroom avai 611 6650- 5720 PRM parking DN Pat 263-3415
1-2.3 Bedfoom Apartments, Beautilut Spacious, instreat Panking. Fully Furnished, Low Utiaties. Safo. Ouiet, Close 476-0296
Univaraty and Comatoot Very close to Campus
E:ficiencies and Two Bedrooms secure blog. rrished laundry parking 5375.00 to 5700.00
UnIversity Ave. live bedroom House one blatal
 Kansingtoniflace 1 stifleor larga 3sedroem Livingroom DiningRoorn Modemikitction histhoood fivors porches nearibusinima

UNIVERSITY
HILL REALTY
422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLLCOM

LUXURIOUS: 2story aptiot Gourmot kitldin.

 NO PEISI Leases, Fine Oa-znet.
Cal lor appl \(40907 B 0\)

\section*{Aparment cloce to campus ciacin 2.3 .5} 20 mifumiated ruceonabie price 407.5751

2 Eedroom Apartment. 1 block west of Manien \(476-7572\) between 12.3 pm
Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Fumistiod. Heal inctuded, harcwood ioars, porch, recently rarnodeled, taindry. parking. \(475-2902\)
13 Corrstock Across fiom Womerss Gym AR menities, rid May laaso \($ 2400+682-3304\)

\section*{Five bedroom House}

Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO Five large bedrooms, and TWO Fult gathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry tacility in building.
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
4 Bedrooms, OakiandSt., 18lock ESF, 3Blocks

 Avail Ave wir

\section*{Apartments \\ TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.

Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher.

Laundry. Low utilities. 302 Marshall St (across from Haven).
Univeritit Avacianio
479-5005

Euclid and
Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch Beautiful Condition June & August lease
Ben Tupper
637-0978
Adxarman fumished sparious two Edfen off stmet parking leurndry tucitios utuitios inct 446 -9578

\section*{SHERBROOKE}

APARTMENTS
con Walnut Ave 2,3, AND 4, Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included Fuly fumished. Rents start ar siv5. Reffistied hardwood filoors Wail to wail carpet. Fats.
 Parking. 24hour matntenance.

WWW.Unvarsityaraz.com
University Aroa Apts 479-5005

5 crecterandon lape clam 25edroom far hartwood roors porch of stroset parding iyt loaso socurity 40 Mcureb haur 418.492:

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases.
 476-2982

\section*{ONE TWO THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540}
 or Aug \(440-518 \mathrm{~B}\)
204 Ostron Efriciency One and 2Bedrocin Secure

Large ctoan 3Bedroon tata Whescort Brond St

 Univeraiy \(2: 33\) Becroom Townlouses & Flests. Foppercertind
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{\multirow[t]{3}{*}{}} \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

Furnished 2-5Bedioom Houses/ Apartrients Liningston. Surmers, Ackomman, Eucid 469-6665
3 Bedroorn Modern Apartrment on Ackerman Avernue \($ 220.00\) par person plus utitities.
 Fires Laundry'. Serious Students Prelerred. No
Fets. 2540025
FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Oit Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, 476-2982

2 Qedrace furmisher apotmant with all utirities campus, Laundry. Parking. May + August leasos. Four Bedrom on Ackerman, Fumished
Dishwasher, Two Porches. Fiff street ishwashor, Two Porches, OHf street Parking. Laindry, Carpat Hard

Largo 2 bedroom. 2 full balth Walking distance of stroet parking Laundry. Call 476-2382.

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms. Lowest rents for modern, new construction. low utilities.
University Area Apts 479-5005
www.universityarea.com

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{\(\qquad\)} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{continued from page 20}

He reinvigorated a sinking Spartan ship upon his return, proership.
leaves look back on the Mateen process than, it was a little longer lay at the level he wants to play for us to be sucrene wants to play

And I five him, cred said that he's battled through it and found ways to take games on his shoulder and win them.

Said Cleaves: "When you're a senior, it's just urgent. When you et down like that all you ing is that this can be your last time on the floor."

The Spartans are a seniordominated team. Joining Cleaves are fellow seniors All-American Granger. Peterson scored 16.7 points and scooped 6.3 rebounds per game Granger, a big man with touch - he shot 40-for-90 on 3winters - scored 9.1 points per contest.
12 Mix in juniors Charlie Bell 12.3 ppg ) and Andre Hutson (10 ppe) and you have a lethal offense. Forget about that, though. The real place the Spartins control the game is on the glass ts by an astroounds its oppoaents by an astronomical 12.8 per ton. The boand worle is balanced too Petarson's 6.3 a gato inad 's 6.3 a game lear?

Syrac
Syracuse, coming off a fantasic rebounding game itself - the Orangemen grabbed 21 offenaive and 19 defensive boards in their 52 O victory against Kentucky - still wormen about MSUs erunt work underneath.

But if \(S U\) can rebound well, orward Ryan Blackwell said, its quickness can contend with any team. This was evident in the Orangemen's poor shooting effort gainst the Wildcats
"When we're not shooting the ball well, the rebounds are going to e there," Blachwell said. "Myself and Etan (Thomas) and Damone Brown) used our quickness to get Good luck MSU roinomen is quick, too, Jason Richardson as good as and bench players in the nation. The Spartans also beckon huge freshmen Aloysius Anaronye and Adrm Ballinger:

The raw talent finally jelled upon Cleaves' return. While Michian State recorded victories against Nerth Carolina and

As Mateen Cleaves goes. so go the Spargen state

The 6-foot-2 point guard returned to the MSU ineup Jan. 5 and provicied an immediate spark for the struggling their last game to pitiful Wright State.

The spark, however, did not come in statistical form. In fact, some of the team's numbeŕs decreased when Cleaves returned.

But the most important number - the Spartans record seadily improved. enough to give ther the Big ren title and N. 1 seed in the

Here are MSU's statis tics in the 13 games Cleaves missed and the 22 matchups since he returned.

been by 15 points or more, the lase call allowed his tearn to experience an im ation.

The key to winning the whole thing is that you have to win games in different ways," Izzo said out last year, people said, 'If you can just keep them close, you may have a chance to win.' and of course that happened."

TOM MASON/The Daly Orange
Kansas without its point man, the Spartans lost games to Texas, Arizona and Kentucky.

MSU ran ofr three victories in a row with Cleaves back. \(A\) loss to Ohio State followed, but the team then won five consecutive, capping the streak with an 85-66 dismanling of Connecticut.

The Spartans last defeat was an 81-79 overtime lass to Indiana.
They're still alive in the NCAA

Tourney, though, the most impor ant task come March.

After seeing some of these teams get beat" Izzo said. "I have a greater appreciation of what weve

What they did is run through the regular season and the Big Ten Tournament - and, possibly, the rest of the nation
They first face Syracuse and its tough 2-3 zone defense, which worries Izzo
The zone gives you problems because you don't know how to attack it," he said. "You don't know how not to be impatient."

The Utah win, though, was an important step in the Spartans" uest to better its Final Four run f last season.

The victory served a distinct purpose, izzo said. While 20 of \section*{\([c] a s \mathrm{Lifieds}]\)}

\author{
Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793
}
> O.P.R. Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, security systems All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Apartment 4er. 2tult bath t.place h.wood floor une/2000 walk tos. U. hospitals pioase carl 460-1951

1.1/2 Bedroorn amic apartrnent on quiot stroot applinncess. Sutable for single or couplo. Arailable

\section*{Ackerman Ave. nice 3badroom that. furnished, ove, retrig, taundy, fireplace, garage.}
coliding for a place to five? wwwhousingion.net Your move of campus! Froe rocmmate sublat listings

One and Two Bedroom Hurnishisod Apartuments. Comar of Walnut and 2000. hast Month and Security No Pets ADowed.
Graduates Prelerred Cail 422.7755
1.2,3,4 &5 Bdrm Aparments, Houses* Sturios. Clasan. Spacious, Superior Condition, some recenty renowsed. Walking distance, laundry.
parking \(474-679\) :

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISTT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNJVERSTYHILLCOM

2 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage. 1 Bedroen apt win 2 car garage 125 Kensingon fid.
arge 3 badrom. 2 full bath Weathing distance Large 3 bedroon. 2 full bath. Walking dist
s. IN of street pariong. Laurdry Call \(478-2982\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Houses}

House For Aent 2 minutos from Main Campus
Seven Ests off steet parting Phomo 45 - 0483 Seven Bds off street parking Phone \(458-0483\) Lange 5 Bedroom House, Huga off Streat Panking
Low 1 block to campus 721 Ostrom Awe. \(445-3693\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
6 BEDROOH HOLSE \\
Spacious six bodroom Fumishod House. wadistiwasher and six targe bedroorrs and Two tul batrocoms. Ot street panking with garaco. Wastor and dyer in becioling. CALL 430-5188 atter 1:00pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular} Chaming Engish Tudor house on Connstoct 6 Bedroomsi Freplece, acroess from Whens Bidg. Avail \(5720475-1012\) ( 94775143881

Lovely, Spacious
Five Bedroom House canamic tilo, fureptice, , frintwoud foor
 446-7611

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM

\section*{Summer Rentals}

Surnmer Bargain! 5200 moo per person with all

MISC.
- NOTE FFIOM THE DMIT ORANGE:

 sach botwen yoursolt end sotediter

\section*{orange} NOTES

STXJUSILA Men's Lacrosse Top 20 1. Syracuse (10) Virginia
Loyola
Geyola
Princeton
North Carolina
Johns Hopkins Maryland
Duke
Duke
. Navy
12. Hofstra
13. Notre Dame
14. Brown 15. Yale
16. Massachusetts
17. Delaware
18. Harvard
19. Pennsylvania 20. Bucknell

Barkley bids bye-bye St. John's sophomore guard Erick Barkiey might declare for the NBA Draft, Newsday reported Monday.

Barkley averaged 16.1 points and 4.5 assists pe game for the Red Storm. this season for NCAA this season for rules violations.

St. John's season ended Saturday when Gonzaga ousted the Red Storm from the tourney with a \(82-76\) upset win.

\section*{MSG madness}

Madison Square Garden, the self-pro claimed "Worid's Most Famous Arena," might be torn down just nine years after a major renovation.

Decisions will be made within the next few months about what to do with the famous arena. If management opts for a new Garden, the New York Knicks and New York Rangers will temporarily relocate.

\section*{Boeheim Court?}

ESPN talking - and talking and talking and talking - head Dick Vitale has a suggestion for Syracuse University: Name the Carrier Dome's court after head Boeheim.

Vitale first suggested it during ESPN's broadcast of the Orangernen's 88-74 drubbing against He brought it up agai this week in his colurnn on ESPN.com.
-Come on, fans in 'Cuse land, let's name the court at the Carrier Dome after Jimmy Boeheim," Vitale wrote. "He deserves it more than anyone. They did it at the McKale Center for Lute Olson, and they should do it for Boeheim.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Syracuse has the most NCAA Toumament wins without a championship. How many Tourney victories do the Orangemen have?

\section*{yesterday's trivia:}
Q. Which head basketball coach owns the most victories in the NCAA Tournament?
A. The grandaddy of coaches, Dean Smith. won 65 Tourney contests.

[sports]

\title{
Bench provides spark \\ \section*{BY GREG BISHOP}
}

 more Preston Shumpert to form ond of the nation's most lothal bench cuoss.

Staff Writer
With the score deadlocked at 50 in its sec-ond-round NCAA Tournament contest, Syracuse looked past its starting five to an unlikely hero waiting in the right corner.

Despite a poor shooting performance, the Orangemen would prevail o thanks largely in part to its Grand Canyon deep bench and sixth man Preston Shumpert's game winning shot.

With its trio of starting seniors, Etan Thomas, Ryan Blackwell and Jason Hart, held to only 24 points against Kentucky, the Or angemen looked down the pine for production a theme that has traveled the season has progressed.
"We have great balance from our bench all year," starting guard Tony Bland said. "They've been giving us the types of things that we need from them all year. Coming off the bench, giving it." great scoring and contributing when we need
With a matchup against No. 1-seeded will once again need bench production if it hopes to advance to the Elite Eight.

The Spartans face the Orangemen in a Sweet 10 conicest flutit will feature two or the deepest benches remaining in the tournament. The Spartans' bench, led by freshman Jason Richardison and Duke transfer Mike Chappell, could play competitively with most starting fives in the country:
"Richardson's a tremendous freshman, one of the best freshman in the country" Syracuse head coach Jim Boeheim said. "He's a great tal ent. But they've got a lot of guys that can come in and hurt you and play well."

While basketball purus like Dick Vitale continue to rave about MSU's team depth, Syracuse guard Jason Hart is quick to remind reporters that Syracuse possesses quite a few porters that Syra
"I don't really feel we're underdogs," the captain said. "A lot of people say that because they're ranked higher than us. Earlier in the year, we were playing just as good as they are year that I don't feel that we're overly matched or that we're outnumbered. I think that pound-forpound were just as good as them.
fophomore sharpshooter Shumpert and freshman DeShaun Williams, two of the Orangemen's most dangerous offensive weapons, consistently terrorize opponents coming off the pine.

See RESERYES page 15

\section*{MSU dominating foes}

BY MEPF PASSAN
Asst. Sports Editor
Mateen Cleaves is not particularly big nor is he known for his strength.

But Michigan State's 6-foot-2 point guand carried the Spartans on his back Saturday, keying a \(27-7\) second-hal run to help dereat Utah 73 61 MSU, the Midwest Region's No. 1 seed, advanced to the regional semifinals and will face Syracuse on Thursday in Auburn Fills, Mich., 82 miles from the schools campus.
"If I could pick one team, I'd be the jockey for that horse," baid Utah coach Rick Majerus We've played the national champion four times in this tournament. These guys have got the look of a national champ.

They're awful damn good. There's a reason they are eeeded No. 1 I really like their team. It nust be fun to coach them.

MSU head coach Trm Izzo concurs. The fifth-year head man led the Spartans to a 26-7 regular-season record, recovering from an ugly 9-4 start, which included an unlikely loss to perennial superpower Wright State. Cleaver is to thank for the resurgence. A foot injury kept him out of MSUS finst 13 games.

See SPARTANS page 19
 Spartan's' 73-6I victory

\section*{NCAA Tourney pared to final 16 \\ Although first-round grames produced few surprises,} second-round NCAA Tournament action was both exciting and unpredictable. Two of the four top seeds are already

\section*{Ryan \\ Stalzer \\ battle for the bottles home, not to mention the three No. 2 seeds and two No. 3 seeds that saw an early exit. \\ It should be a great weekend of basketbair in Syracuse The Orangemen are still alive and the East Regional is coming to the Carrier Dome. Let's get right to it.}

\section*{Midwest Region at Aniburn Fills, Mich.}

Syracuse (+7.5) ve Michigan State
Thursday, March 23 at 7:38 p.m. (CBS)
Office pool contestants disagree on many pickes, but the Spartans seem to be the one team everyone has chosen in the Midwest. Michigan State is the Big Ten's tourmanent champion and regular-geason cochampion. Peterson and A. J Granger privide timaly shooting and the Spartans attack the elags life hungry aharics and the Spartans attack the glass like hungry aharics looking

Preston Shumpert and DeSham Williams helped the See BATTLE page 16

do.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

The Orangemen fight tonight to stay alive in the NCAA Tournament. See Sports.
Finding SOLUTIONS
Save your eyes from the perils of contact lenses. See Lifestyle.

\title{
Fans await tourney fate
}

\section*{BY EMILY KULKUS}

Managing Editor
AUBURN HILLS, Mich. Six days after St. Patrick's Day, The Palace at Auburn Hills is still painted green.
The Syracuse men's basketball team faces Michigan State University tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the NCAA Midwest Regional on a neutral court, just one hour away from the MSU campus from the MSU campus.

Fourth-seeded SU will face the top-seeded Spartans with few or ange faces in the crowd.

Mads a Paterson," said Mike Mamad, a Paterson, N.J., native and SU tan at the Orangemen practice Wednesday This is a Spartian be a home court advantage with all iheir sturdents enly on houry povay"

Hamad and Mike Saghir, also of Paterson, were among several SU fans at Wednesday's noon practice, shouting words of encouragement to the team and head coach Jim Boeheim.

Among that group sat Kim Hart, who took a long lunch break Wednesday to watch first cousin Jason Hart practice.

Admitting that MSU fans will likely outweigh SU fans tonight by many, Kim Hart said the cheering section squad. "It's probably like any other away gane, she said. Therell be players that I know don't concentrate on that."

Kim Hart's older brother played for MSU from 1992 to 1995 and she graduated from Michigan in 1998.

See GAME page 9

\section*{Vendors look to capitalize on successful Orangemen season}

\section*{BY.KATE STEYENSON}

Asst. News Editor
Local and national businesses are stocking their shelves, hoping that Syracuse University will survive anther week of March Madness.

Bill Nester, manager of Manny"s, bumping up clothing orders in case the SU Men's Basketball Team reaches the Final Four of the NCAA Tournoment "We're definitely going this year," Nester said. "That's what our eyes are on right now, not planning a What if we lose? type of thing. But Shirt World, 125 Marshall St., had no major SU clothing order in creases, manager Dave Jacobs said. Instead, the store is opting to take a more cautious approach to filling shelves.
"It's an "If we win" thing." Jacobs said. "We really play it by ear. You gotta kind of see how we go as a team." Business for Manny's has already doubled since last year, Nester said. He success of the basketball team, but also because the Carrier Dome hosts four teams for the East Regional NCAA Tourmament this weekend.
There are four regionals - East, West, South and Midwest. SU is one of four teams participating in the Midwest Regional of the NCAA Tournament. Those four teams and the four in each of the otherthree tournaments were pared from an initial group of 64 paredfrom an Dums.
Dome at \(7: 38\) plorida will battle in the See BUSINESS page 10

\section*{n Special Report}

\section*{Graduate students dismiss campus union}

EY JOY DAVIA Soecial Projects Edhor

Graduate students pitted themselves against eight University of California schools last week when they planned a strike ing practices.
During the same week at the Universi\(t y\) of Illinois, 77 percent of the student body said in a referendum that graduate assistants should have the right to unionize. But at Syracuse University, a union for those graduate students employed by the university is not a likely possibility, said Michael Johnson, secretary of the Graduate Student Organization and a psychology graduate student.

"Last year we did kick around the idea," Johnson said.

Although the concept of unionization is occasionally discussed by GSO senators, plans to actively assemble graduate students and push to fruition. An apathetic graduate population is one reason for See UNION page 6

\section*{Residents}

\section*{concerned after}

\section*{recent beating}

EY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Students and residents on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue demonstrated their disapproval of Syracuse University safety policies arly Wednesday morning

Following the March 13 beating of an SU senior in her apartment on Ackerman, residents decided to make a statement against the univer Iustermatio, a senior broadeast journalism ma you

A whole group of us got together and decided to chalk Aekerman in response to recent crimes here." Mustemhatio said. "We want to raise awareness and bring about some kind o change."
During the March 13 incident, an unidentified man broke into the senior's apartment and beat her with a clothing iron. The victim had just gotten out of the shower and walked into her bedroom when she noticed her dresser drawers open and belongings displaced. She then bserved a gloved had reaching through th and attempted to force his way into the
The intivarer pushed his why into he bed room and procceded to beat the student with Hospital 736 Irving Ave., where she received 60 stitches and 10 staples to close her wounds.

The case is currently being investicated by the Syracuse Police Department, Detective Carl Schmidt said.

Three other SU seniors were robbed at gunpoint March 7 on the same block of Acker man. The students were approached by a man who asked them for money. When they each retused, the man reached into his sweatshirt pocket and pulled ou matic handgun.

The chalk messages were a call to universi ty officials to improve student safety off the campus, Mustermatao said.

The community, the police and the univer-
See ACKERMAN page 14

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange Students chalked the 800 blocis Ackerman Avenue earfy Wodriestay moming in response to recent areas crime.

\title{
[briefs]
}

\title{ campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}
- Martha Stewart, chairwoman and CEO of Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia LLC, speaks at 3:30 p.m. in Schine's Goldstein Auditorium regarding "The Power of a Single Idea."

Wociology professor Marjorie De Vault speals at 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500, regarding "Family Time in Public Spaces: Exploring the Family Out ing."
- Career Exploration Services hosts a pre-law event for first-year students and sophomores from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Hall of guidance on course planning.

The Onondaga Citizens League presenta a panel discussion regarding "The Role of Non-Profit Housing Corporations" from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. at Drumlins, 800 Nothingham Road. For more infor mation call 443-4846.
- Heroy Auditonium hosts the Chauncey D. Holmes Award Lecture and Ceremony at 7 p.m. Dr Jonathan Overpeck from the University of Arizona will discuss "Global Warming: Perspectives from the Past and Lessons for the Future:"
- Wew York state Comptroller H. Carl McCall speaks at the Thursday Morning Roundtable from 8:15 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. a Drumlins, 800 Nottingnam Froidu.

The South East University Neighborhood Association hosts a litter pick-up campaign at 4 p.m on Ostrom and Euclid avenue

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Chancellor Kenneth A Shaw presents a "cake cutting" at 11:45 am. in calebration ornational Orange Day and SU's 130 th Schine Student Center.
\(\square\) Composer Robert Ashley presents the U.S. premiere of his new chamber opera, "Au Pair" at p.m. in Sermor Auditorium. Boxeth fice for \($ 10\) general admission, \($ 7\) for students and senior citizens and \($ 3\) for Arts Adventure passholders.

E Gifford Auditorium hosts the English Textual Studies Undergraduate Conference between 9 clude fiction, poetry, essays and pa pers.
- Baris D. Pankin, former for eign minister under Michail Gor bachev during the final days of the Soviet Union, speaks at 4 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium regardin \({ }^{4}\) Andecdoter and Perspectives From the Soviet Union to the Rol of Russia in the New Europe."
[dö]

\section*{World faces population drop}

UNITED NATIONS - If cur rent trends continue, Japan and most of Europe will undergo a dramatic decline in population over the next 50 years, increasing ing labor shortages that will threaten economic growth, ac cording to a UJN. study released today.

The report argegests that Europe and Japan will have to open their gates to immigration if they want to maintain economic growth. Otherwise, it says, they may be forced to make Dracoly.

Fertility rates in many devel student organizations that speak out on gay rights, the environment and other libera causes.
Lower federal courts had been split on the constitu tionality of student-fee pro severses cision that said students can not be forced to contribute to organizetions whose activities conflict with their personal views.

At the high court, the casess a broar spectrum ofed

\section*{national news}

\section*{Women win legal battle}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The federal grovernment agreed to pay \($ 508\) million - the largest award ever in an employment discrimination case - to end a lawsuit fled 23 years ago by hundreds of women who said they were denied jobs and promotions at the U.S. Information Agency and Voice of America.

The agreement ends a tortured legal battle that began after Caroles Brady applied for a job as a ULA magazine editor, only to be told that managers were seeking \(\frac{\operatorname{man}}{\mathrm{Br}_{1}}\)

Erady's complaint ballooned into a class-action lawsuit, with they, too, lost opportunities because of their gender Many baid they were bypassed in favor of men who scored poorly on hiring tests.

The settlement calls for the women to share in the award equally, with each getting about \($ 460,000\). Plaintiff's' attorneys, who already have received \($ 12\) million in taxpayer money for 65,000 hours of work, said the case could have been resolved years ago and traxpayer advocates said they were outraged.

\section*{world news}
oped countries are plummeting as women increasingly delay marriage and growing numbers of couples choose to have just one child.

\section*{Pope supports \\ Palestinians}

BETHLEHEM, West Bank - In a politically charged visit to Palestinian-run Bethlehem today, Pope John Paul II affirmed support for creation of a Palestinion port for creation of a Palestinian actions" by world leaders to imrove living conditions for 3.6 milion Palestinian refugees.
The pontiff said mass in Manger Square and prayed at a \section*{Hillary criticizes \\ Mĩayor Giuliani \\ NEW YORK CITY -} Hillary Rodham Clinton criticized Mayor Rudolph W. Giulani over his handling of a fatal police shooting, saying he had "hunkered down, taken sides and further divided this city." Clinton said she was still waiting for a" "ull and fair investigation" of the killing Thursday of Patrick Doris. drug sting outside a midtown Mrugsting outside a midtown who was black, was unarmed

At the mayor's direction police released the dead man's police record, showing a juve pile charge that was later dropped and two guilty pleas in the mid-1990s to disorderly con duct.

Giuliani today denied Clinton's charges and gave reporters new details about orismonds brushes with the dent including a March 7 inci legedly which Dorismond al o the head while she was hold le's I-year-old child. She had filed a report with police, but no charges were placed.
basilica marking the spot where tradition says Jesus was born spending a day almost entirely in Arafat's Palestinian Authority He laced the spiritual gesture with comments that were em braced by Palestinians as support for their national cause - lampont ing the "torment" of Palestinian refugees, and declared that "legit imate Palestinian aspirations should be urgently fulfilled through a negotiated Middle East peace.

Vatican policy has long supported Palestinian rights, but John Paul's decision to reaffirm this view so clearly during his week-long visit to the Holy Landand in an area under Palestinian political impact ucation, labor and political groups that were divided over how far campuses can go in verse debate outside the classroom.

In the opinion by Juatice nthony M. Kennedy, the court said the First Amend ment colleges to charge fees to and colleges to charge fees to be used for extracurricular student speech, as long as the money is given out under neuame points of view over oth ers.

\title{

}

One graduate student disputes his inability to receive benefits under SU's Adoption Assistance Reimbursement Plan.
by caroline chen Staff Writer

The homeless children roaming the streets of South shoes and begging for scraps of food at restaurants disrestaurants disUniversity graduate student Brian ductedresearch for his dissertation in Ecuador.

With many of these children leaving orphanages by the age of seven and turning to a life on the wife, Nori, decided to try to adopt an Ecuadorian baby opt an Ecuadorian baby.
Hoping to ease the financial strain of the estimated \($ 9,000\) to SU and looked into a benefit that reimburses parents \($ 5,000\) for an adoption.

But Selmeski said his request for financial help was not considered by the Office of Human Resources, Instead, he was informed that the Adoption Assistance Reimbursement Plan applies only to full-time and part-time employees not graduate assistants.
it seems that either the university administration has a false image of gradis simply too cheap to afford us the same degree of support they provide other employees," said Selmeski, a university fellow. "I ask the administration, why not begin treating graduate assistants like grown-ups and afford us the same respect, assistance and recompense you provide other university employees?
Acting like a foster parent, Selmeski has had custody of 3-month-old Joaquin David for two months. Joaquin at least a year qualify for the benefit.

\section*{ADOPTION}

\section*{continued from page 3}

By definition, graduate assistants are not considered fulltime or part-time employees, regardless of how many hours they work, Strodel said.
lly students first and are really students first and employers second," he said.
ual benefits \(S U\) should sit down and look at the whole picdown and took at the whole picStudent Organization presi dent.

Graduate assistants should not be eligible for every benefit full-time and part-time employees receive, said Hunn, a law and public administration graduate student. It would be inappropriate, for example, if grad uate assistants asked for re tirement benefits, he added. the main reason for denyin the main reason for denying graduate assistants the adopn benefit, Strodel said.
have a funding source" have to have a funding source," he said. "It all comes down to that." stants the adoption benefit is sistants the adoption benefit is Selmeski said, because graduate assistants are not entitied to the adoption benefit program even though their families receive medical coverage.

SU's medical coverage paid for the prenatal care, birth and temporary hospitalization of Selmeski's biological daughter. Amelia Selmeski, now years old, Selmeski said.
"Why doesn't the university understand that adoption is basically the same process?" sically the Selmeski said.

Faculty in the anthropology department first mentioned the department first mentioned the and have been very supportive of his struggie to adopt, he said.
Sel I worked my butt off," Selmeski said. "How ridiculous that given all the hours I have dedicated to teaching and service, the university would not assist my family in fulfilling a jifelong dream.

As an SU employee and fellow, Selmeski worked as a teaching assistant in three sections of introductory anthropology courses from Fall 1997 to organg 109 . He also helped reorganize the Latin American Web pages for the anthropology department.
Selmeski is great with his students, said Doug Armstrong, chairman of the anthropology department. He is someone who we rely on for almost anything." Armstrong added.
"We stand behind him and his wife," Armstrong said. "It's very important to him and we're excited for them."

Eight SU employees have already taken advantage of the adoption benefit, said Sheri minsse, benerits systems Resources.

Carol Liebler, director of the graduate program in public communications, and Cheryl Ficarra, associate dean in the College of Law, both adopted daughters from China last year and will apply for the \($ 5,000\) reimbursement.

Because the university requires U.S. documents, however, they must wait until their re-adoptions through New York state are finalized.

The benefit is welcomed because the adoption process is so expensive, said Liebler, who estimated the total adoption cost at $20,000

Liebler's daughter, 18 -month-old Anyi Elena Lieblerin the Hunan province.

Too had it can't do the same for the way you live.

Some things about college life will never change. But the way you study can, thanks to WebCT.com. WebCT.com is an e-learning hub packed with academic resources. from study aids and research materials to forums for discussing and debating with students and faculty around the world. In fact. using Webct.com can have such a positive impact on your academic performance. you may even be inspired to do your laundry. Or not. Visit www.webct.com/revolution and see for yourself.

One of the reasons she decided to adopt a daughter from China was because there are "lots of little girls who need homes," Liebler said. said. The adoption benefit would not have changed her de-year-old Kimberly year-did Kimberly Anne Jia Walsh, Ficarca said. The \($ 5,000\) reimbursement will, however, help ease the financial burden of the adoption, she said. wonderful benefit," Ficarra added.

But Selmeski said financial struggles and the Ecuado rian government's regulations on domestic adoptions have hindered the adoption process.

Because of two-ycar residency requirement for foreigners living and adopting in Ecuador, Selmeski must stay in the country 18 more months before the government will allow him to finalize the adoption.

With financial assistance from SU, he would have been able to do a typical international adoption and avoid the residency requirement, Selmeski said.

Brian Selmeskj has had custody of 3-monthold Joaquin David for two months.

\section*{DENTAL}
continud fícon page 3
and administrative services.
But Strodel said SU is unable to raise the money needed to pay for graduate assistant dental benefits.
"It comes back to who's going to pay for it," he said. vides dental insurance for vides dental insurance for SU employees, New York City-based The Guardian Life insurance Company of Amerer graduate students, Strodel said.
"Grads tend to come and go," he added

SU lacks the funding to provide benefits for every group on campus, Strodel pressed by university groups are constantly reviewed, he added.

Although graduate assistants do not receive dental benefits, they are entitled to medical insurance - a benefit implemented more than four years ago when other colleges did not.

We feel that it's adequate for that group of people," Strodel said.

Although providing graduate assistants with dental insurance benefits may be too could search for alternative less expensive packages, current GSO President Eric Hunn said.
valuing our teachinetion ef valuing our teaching assis-

Although graduate assistants should be entitled to dental benefits, they are not just university employees added.
"We need to (be) reasonable," he said. "We're here for the specific mission of educating ourselves."

Chung-Chih Li, a com puter science doctoral student, said SU should ease the financial burden of dental fees.
for Li, who has studied at SU port eight years, said he sup worl his wife and two sons by working as a teaching assis ance for himself or his family. Three years ago, Li spent \($ 2,000\) for a root canal, but yearly dental fees average about \($ 1,000\) for his family, he said.
"The salary of a TA of course is not enough to cover everything, least of all dental," Li said.

While graduate assistants are not considered full time or part-time employees, they deserve some of the benefits because they provide lot of services, Hunn said.

IIf students are here for on PhDs, it just doesn't seem fair." he said.

\section*{\($ 50.00\)}

Frull Head of
Foil Highlights

\section*{\($ 25.00\)}

1/2 Fread of Foil Highlights

\author{
Symacares Solutione \\ tabefter Style
}

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{TAs are students}

\section*{before employees}

They grade papers, take exams and raise families. They sit in the center of the gulf between professors and students.

They are graduate student teaching assistants. Although they're here to study, just like the thousands of undergraduates on campus, they also trade their services as teaching assistants for a stipend and a generous medical benefits package.

Not a bad deal, especially when some graduate students attend school for free, on the dime of employers or fellowship grants.

TAs at colleges nationwide have recently attempted to unionize in order to solidify their rights as employees at their respective universities and receive benefits similar to full-time workers.

And an SU TA recently sought the university's help during an international adoption process. He was denied the right to the \($ 5,000\) adoption reimbursement offered to full-time university employees.

But SU's TAs comprise only a small percentage of the 3,200 full-time graduate students. And so far, very few students have come forward requesting larger benefit packages.

Graduate students don't warrant speciial treatment from the university. If TAs' deals were, in fact, sweetened with fringe benefit deals equal to those of other full-time employees, the costs would most likely be covered by tuition increases. And undoubtedly, undergrads would be hit square in their wallets - hardly a fair trade.

While graduate students do face unique challenges - many are older and have farnilies to provide for - the eventual rewards of higher education require some sacrifices in the meantime.

The fact remains that graduate school is a learning experience, a natural extension of undergraduate education.

It's not, however, an opportunity to snatch benefits that aren't even offered in many of the nation's workplaces.

Editor in Cnief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kurlkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor

Justin Stiverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director
Cory Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Covert intelligence operations undermine democracy}

During the iciest winters of the Cold War, the U.S. government developed the most adivanced and extensive system of communications in human history. With everything from simple phone taps to satellites that can reportedly read newspapers from space, U.S. intelligence spans the globe.

The National Security Agency and the Central

THOMAS

\section*{HOBAN} ntelligence Agency are tine Agencies of the Intelligence community that have the most direct access to this spy network. As many Americans know, these agencies operate in a clandestine minner, often cloaling their actions in the interests of "national secuxity". While these organizations do handle many sensiand judicial oversight of them is and judicial oversight.
In a book entitled "Secret Pow learly insufient. and a series of articles published on the internet in 1996, investigative reporter Nicky Hager revealed the secrets of the NSA's ECHELON computer network, which purportedly sifts through private electronic transmissions - ineluding all telephone calls, faxces and e-mail messages - to target potential terrorists or conspirators.

Hager draws from over 50 souroes from New Zealand Intelligence who worked closely with U.S., British, Canadian and Australian inteligence forces during the Cold War to detail how the ECHELON networl uses go

The system scans all of this information for key words and phrases, which could include words such as "bomb" or "terrorists" and phrases like "kill the president." The system then flags any message containing these sentinnents for further review. According to Hager it was "designed primarily for non-military targets: governments, businesses and individuals" worldwide.

Though it was initially developed to monitor Soviet activities during the Cold Wax, ECHDELON is now used for commercial espionage in favor or U.S. defense contrac tors and to monitor political dissidents, Hager claims. LON. But if these allegations prove to be true, US. Intelligence has perpetrated its most devious scheme since the days of J. Edgar Hoover.
In response to recent information about ECHELON, the American Civil Liberties Union established an "ECHELON watch" page on their Web site (wwwaclu.org). In an open letter to Congress dated last April, the ACLU said, "by its very nature, ECHELON may involve the interception of communications involving Americans in the United States, without a court order." The letter also points out the various federal regulations and portions of

The French fivermment is carrently suing the gov-
The French gavermment is carrently suing the governments of the U.S. and Great Britain amid allegat that ECHELON was used to help US. corporations member George Sarre said, "The participation of the United Kingdom in spying on its European partners for and with the U.S. raises serious and legitimate concerns."

In the wake of all this public attention, the U.S. House Select Committee on Intelligence requested the release of certain legal documents from the CIA and NSA. The Agencies responded with a denial on the grounds of attorney-client privilege. Prompted by this stonewall attempt, Congress amended its funding for the NSA to require the publication standaris used in surveillance.

Though in theory the report promises answers that the American people are entitled to, Im not holding my the American people are entitled to, Th not holding my blow over in three stages. First, the government denies the existence of the problem. This is easy because all the evidence above a circumstantial level is classified. Then, overwhelmed by mounting allegations, Congress calls the Select. Committee on Bureaucratic Nonsense to investigate. The Committee asks for a report from the Agency for Really Slow Publications. Months later, the report that concludes this process is so mired in government jargon that po one can tell its a lie office, more accurate information is leaked to the pres office, more accurate information is leaked to the press blamed on the previous administration's evil tactics. See the Vietnam War, or anything the CIA did under President Reagan for details.

I understand why it's unwise for the military to brosidcast their primary bombing targets on the evening news during war time, but the NSA's power to operate unsupervised is out of control. Intelligence information may be essential to foreign policy at times, but covert. domestic surveillance without judicial oversight is in violation of the U.S. Constitution, and unchecked mintary power und

Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and film and history major His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange E-mail him at tphoban@syredtu.

\section*{letters}

Editorial art objectified Ackerman crime victim

\section*{To the editor:}

I feel personally insulted by Monday's editorial cartoon portraying last weekend'a assault on Ackerman Avenue.

It isn't just because I'm a friend of the victim - that's completely beside the point. to choose that story, or at least depict it in that way, as comic relief. You're not just depicting her. I live on that street and feel alone. The visual image of it makes me even more afraid. I think the point was to make people afraid enough to do something, but did it have to use the victim in the process? able and cope. Then, sitting in able and cope. Then, sitting in class one day she leisurely lances through The Daily Orpublished and almost ridiculed. purprise!

I agree with the point of the comic as a whole. If Syracuse University is going to have the police be responsible for patrolling off-campus neighborhoods, then they should take it just as seriously as on-campus areas. It should either be all or nothing. The question I have is this: Being as creative as you supposediy are, was it necessary population on the shoulders of this one hurt female just to prove your political point?

\section*{UNION}
continued from page 1 the lack of interest, GSO President Eric Hunn said. Many tudents are not even aware

Doctoral students, for ex
moctoral students, for example, are often so immersed in their research that they he said. Graduate positions on university boards are difficult to fill because students find it hard to invest an hour a month to till a position on the Board of Graduate Studies - the governing branch for graduates, he added.

Graduate students simply aren't passionate about our issues and or don't want to in vest time," Hunn said. "Thus, SU will never unionize until a hot button issue comes up or a lot of graduate students get xcited enough to pull it to cther."

When graduates encounter problems, they often turn to iSO. The body often serves as and the university, he added.

GSO members often serve on a variety of boards campus wide to defend their interests he Board of Graduate Studies, aine members on the Universi y Senate and a representative on SU's Board of Trustees.

Johnson added that be cause GSO serves in this medi ation role, a union is not nec ssary. Only when studenk itions will a union be needed he said.

The benefits offered to raduate students compelled Johnson to enroll at SU - re. flecting another reason why a union is not foremost on their minds, he said.

For one thing, \(S U\) does offer a large maority of graduates good benefits, he said.

Most graduates are entitled to health bencfits, such as hospital visits or prenatal apply to their family Although frad

Alhough gradu many of the benefits allotted to employees. a union would still not be beneficial
-I fear throw a wrench into the rela tionship we have with the university," he said

Until students become more interested in their rights, a union is not fcasible, Hunn added.
"We are a long way from unionization," he said.

Although forming a union is not foremost on the minds of \({ }_{4} 1\) fear a union would throw a wrench into the relationship we have with the university.
MICHAEL JOHNSON
secretary of the Syracuse University Graduate Student Oraganization graduate students on campus, other national colleges are grappling with unionization is sues.
legitimize eight-year struggie to ployees' Organization as the of plogees Orbanization as collective bargaining unit of graduate studients at the University of lllinois over came another obstacle last week, said Charles Allen, copresident and GEOography graduate

WIth
an over whelming majority of stu agreeing that graduates should agreeing that graduates should address their concerns, Allen said the university still refused to recognize their organization.

The university, however, cited a legal glitch preventing GEO from becoming the official union for graduate students.
"It's a legal question," said Michael Loui, professor of electrical and computer engineer ing and associate dean of the graduate college at the University of Illinois. "Student are not allowed to form collec tive bargaining units."

An education labor law in Illinois prevents students from forming unions, he added.

University of Illinois does not automatically recogniz campus groups that wish to form unions, he added. Al though the university clerica staff is currently unionized, the university was hesitant to rec ognize them as a formal collec tive bargaining unit during that stams fir athempts the 1980 sor repreth the facul

Tamper racul ty-sturen of concern with the other area should act as mentors and not as member of management as a mem ouisnid

It should be a collegial relationship not an employee re lationship," he said

But Allen said a union i needed because graduates do act as employees. Graduates also should have more influ ence in issues that directly af fect them, he added.

On one hand we are students, but we are clearly em ployees," he said. "We want an actual say and the university closes its doors.

With graduate assistants taking on more responsibili ties, the role of a union be-

\section*{The College of Arts and Sciences}

\section*{Outstanding}

\section*{Faculty Advisor of the Year}

\section*{1999-2000}

The Acadernic Committee of the College of Arts & Sciences invites undergraduate students, faculty and staff to submit nominations for the Outstanding Faculty Advisor of the Year Award.

To secure more information about the award and the criteria for nomination, please stop by 329 Hall of Languages or call 443-3150. To nominate a faculty member, submit a letter of nomination to:

Professor Jerry Dusek
Academic Committee
c/o Office of the Dean
The College of Arts & Sciences
329 Hall of Languages
Deadine for receipt of nominations is April 14, 2000 comes more important to make ure teaching assistants in one department are not carrying more of a workioad then in another, said David Friedman, law student and president of the Graduate Assembly at the University of California at Berkeley:

Although the United Auto Norkers have been representing University of California graduate students for about were cond 10 years, elections Were conducted last semester asking graduate students if Gry Graduate Stucent Employees UAW - to act as their orlte tive bargaining unit With the gradit

With the graduates at the University of California schools voting in favor of this new agreement, the university was supposed to negotiate a new contract - a provision Fried-
"They were not negotiating in good faith," he said.

University of California officials could not be reached for comment.

The union filed 40 unfair labor charges against the university and members voted to authorize a teaching assistant strike this week during finals.

But the strike was cancelled March 15 after the university filed unfair labor practice charges against the union. The university, however, did agree to engage in a 3-weck meditation period with a third party.

\section*{The Daily Orange} Advertising Information

The Daily
Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m.
to 4:00 p.m.
. To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two busi-: ness days before you want it to run.
Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

> WRITE
> A LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

> 744 Ostrom Ave. 443-2128
> doeditor@mailbox.syr.edu

\section*{Probe into Bird Library sicknesses to continue}

BY EVANS BOSTON Staff Writer

Studies of the air quality in Bird Library will continue after employees protested Wednesday a University Senate vote to end the testing.

The Senate Agenda Committee asked USen's Committee on Administrative Operations to reexpressed by SU employees of the library last year, according to an AdOp report.
The 14 members of the committee voted unanimously to end the study of the air quality in Bird, the report said.
"We reported on our recommendation," said David Bennett, chairman of AdOp.

Employees have reported several incidents since 1984 of employees getting sick from poor air quality in the library, Bennett said.

After USen heard the report, members of the library raised questions about AdOp's decision. Bennett said.

The issues raised by the library employees, however, contained no new information, he said.
ist We recognize how deeply distressed victims have been," said Bennett, a history professor. We believe the university has done enough to cover this matter."

Upon hearing the public's pleas, Bruce Carter, chairman of the Agenda Committee, decided that the situation required further evaluation.

The committee will decide if appointing a new temporary committee to study the library air quality is necessary, said Carter, a psychology professor.
"It seemed to me that there were still issues that weren't resolved," he said. "These are very complex questions that staff members are raising."

Carter said he believes that this could be a situation where professionals need to be hired.
"There are specific issues that are difficult to demonstrate for people who aren't experts," he said.

AdOp was not in any position to diagnose sicknesses of library employees allegediy caused by the air quality, Carter added.

Barric Gewanter, who has worked in conjunction with Affected Librarians and Support Staff, said she believes \(S U\) has been neglecting various ventila tion problems for 15 years.
"There are blatant lies in the report issued by the Administrative Operations," Gewanter said. Gewanter has worked with library employees and is involved with a committee of library staff, she said.

AdOp stated that they have "adequately responded" and have done what is "required by law" in their report. But this is not enough, Gewanter said in a response to the report.

All the university wants to deal with is the fact that there is no problem," Gewanter said. The library's ventilation system is not running as well as described in the report, Gewanter said. The system sometimes causes negative pressure in the building, allowing carcinogenic fumes from cleaning and repair to circulate, she added.

Air testing was also intentionally skewed by hyperventilating the library in the days prior to quality tests, Gewanter said.
-You can't test air after hyperventilation," she said.

In the past, air vents in Bird have been closed over periods of time, intentionally or unintentionally, Gewanter said. Lack of circulation creates dend air and is not safe, she added.

At one time, the vents were closed during finals week," she added.

The Agenda Committee will reevaluate the study at the beginning of April and discuss its decision at the next USen meet ing April 19, Carter said.
"We are unsure what further actions will take place," Carter sad "Nothing definitive hapsaid. "Nothing definitive hap pened at the mecting." pened at the meeting."

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. - To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising business hours.

You need o roll-on with \(m\) grantimen \(m\) preattection.

ro proteit agjinst Alobs ardid ditur stos. slwais ure latex condarm For a free, full-coior poster (18" \(\times 24^{\prime \prime}\) ) write: Alds Poster 2. Box 2000. Albany, N, Y. 12230 N.Y.S. Mialth Department

\section*{COLLEGES.COMPRESENTS}

KİSILIANS. ACTIRS & ACTIVISTS SPEAKINB IUT ON HLDBAL AFFAIRS

\section*{DEAD KENNEDYS MUSICIAN}
 NON-VIOLENT EXTERMINATION OF THE RICH

IF FREEDOM RINGS, WILL YOU ANSWER IT?
 STAYING HUMAN

CREATED IN PART BY ZACK DE LA ROCHA OFRAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE, THE SPITFIRE TOUR \(1 S\) A FREE SPEEOH TOUR THAT AMS TO EDUCATE, ENLIGHTEN AND ENTERTAIN, WHILE INSTIGATING ACTION.

\title{
SUNDAY, MARCH 2 bit \(^{\text {rh }}\)
} SYRALUSE UNIVERSITY = SYRACUSE, NY GOLDSTEIN AUDITORIUM - DOURS 6:3Dpm - SHOW 7:ODpm \({ }^{5} 3\) STUDENTS - \({ }^{3} 4\) GENERAL - IPEN TD THE PUBLIC

\section*{Graduates question basketball ticket policies}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Stall writer

Alumni are debating on Internet message boards about the lack of special preference given to Syracuse University graduates in for NCAA Tournament sale of tickets

Some SU alumni are unt that they are not given prefer py that they are not given preferpublic in ticket sales, said 1991 graduate Rick Sauter, president of the Washington, D.C. SU Alumni Club and a participant in the message board discussion.

But Syracuse area residents have paid taxes and given donations that helped build the Carrier Dome, while many SU gradu ates were not even fans of the Orangemen until they first attended the university, he added

The local population also has a right, Sauter said. "There are a lot of local residents who odd years, so what about them?*

Jennifer Butler, who graduated last year, agreed that alumni have no more of a right to tickets than the general public.

Even if preference was to be given to alumni, there would be no way to determine who would be the first graduates to receive the tickets, she added.
"Well, who decides who does that?" she asked. "If we look at the class of g9 alone, there aren' enough tickets. So should we go by major or rank?

Although the alumni are upset about the methods used to dis tribute tickets, the Syracuse University Men's Basketball Media becole statistics showed tickets are becoming more available.

Average ticket sales at the Dome have steadily declined since an NCAA-record-high 29.919 in the 1989-1990 ments basketball season. The average number of seats sold for the \(1998-1999\) season was 20,800 , according to the guide. Some current SU students wanted tickets after they purwanted tickets afler they purtheir plans Zach Lo

Zach Lowe, a freshman broadcast journalism major, said he has his ticket to this weekend's Easi Regional games at the Dome which does not include the Orangemen.

Lowe said he purchased the \section*{icket Monday and shortly thereafter} found a better seat with a friend.

Ive had a couple people interested, but they can't get the money in time or already had ckets, Lowe said.

Alower pride of \($ 65\) for the three game series has not helped as a selling point for the ticket, he added

Since they are really bad seats, I thought that was only fair," some students he talked to about buying his tickets who expressed no interest in the fame.

A few people have said, 'Why would I want to go?

\section*{GAME}
continued from page 1
But on Thursday, she will root for her cousin, with whom she spoke earlier in the week.
"He wasn't tallking a lot about the game," Hart said. "Everyone has their own pre-game rituals, and our family doesn't ask questions .-We we understand.'

Each school participatimg in the Midwest Regionat is allocated 200 tickets for students. The Palace has sold out its more than 19,000 seats.

However, fans may search for tickets on the auction Web site eBay and among expected sealpers outside The Palace, who will try to sell the \($ 35\) to \($ 70\) seats for prices rumored at \($ 4.50\) to \($ 1,400\). Scalpers \($ 1,200 \mathrm{map}\) of the campus, which included a free ticket, several fans said. said.

But Jason Hart said the game will be decided not by who sits in the stands, but rather who dominates the court he "Once the ball is up in the air," "aid, "it is whoever's ball game." SU center Etan Thomas agreed.

They ll have a lot more fans but once you're on the court, you don't really pay attention to all that," Thomas said. "Whoever plays the hardest will win.

With MSU practicing after SU and UCLA on Wedncsday, the crowd progressively grew larger and greener. After a 10 -minute jam session, Michigan State lett the court wion a riong shanding ova tion fro
"It's a home away from home," MSU guard Charlie Bell said. Weregoing to have a lot of fan support just like when you're playing at home. "Sometimes when you cret on a run, the fans will keep you going, or sometimes when you get down you know, if Syracuse makes a ran
- I think the fans will get us back going. I think it's going to be a big sey for us."

The Berryhill family traveled more than an hour Wednesday to see MSU practice, with even the youngest member of two-and-a-hall months donming green for the event. The Berryhills were among the thousands of NCAA basketball fans that entered a lottery last year for tickets to the Midwest Regionals. The foresight paid off with third-tier, "no oxygen" Palace seats, Dennis Berryhill said.

The family will be among the majority of fans checring for the Spartans, and jonnufer Berry in heves it. will have an effect on the contest.
"I think there's a big home court advanitage," said Berryhill, whose son Wison was named afler met her husband
"I'm hoping for every advantage we can get.

MSU standout point guard

Mateen Cleaves said although the areen Cleaves sha although the will only benefit the Spartans.
"It's cool to be around and be close to home, but it's not the Bresin Center," Cleaves said of MSU's home court. "I hope everyone around the state comes together as ane big family. We beat up on Michigan earlier in the season but, hopefully, they can all come together."

After Michigan Siate lost to Duke in the Final Four last year, a would-be victory party turned into a not, generating several arrests and expulsions from the aniversity, sida bottle during the riots.
"I thought it was just going to Lepo said. "It was unreal."

Last year's riots prompted a mass small this seasm from MSII head coach Tom Izzo to all of Michigan State's 40,000 students. He arged them to act responsibly throughout the tournament.
"As fellow members of the Spartan team, join us as we strive to be champions on and off the court, \({ }^{\text {, }}\) lzzo wrote. "You are the best. want everyone to know what

Whether or not his SU team wins or loses tonight, Greg Steen will accept the tinal score with class because his wife, an MSU alumna, will be wearing green, he said.

Steen, a former defensive end for the SU football team and a 1974 graduate, lives in Michigan with All-American fooball player before his soncrican foctball player befor his son wore orange and blue.

Sts a win-win situation for me," Steen said. "If we win, which we might, or ir Michigan State wins, we might, orif Michigan state wins, which they might - especially py because my wife will be happy.
"My wife has green and white blood, but my blood only runs orange."

To lure you to the Clinique counter, we have a special gift. One for men. One for women.

All you have to do to claim your gift is stop by the Clinique counter.
While you're there, check out Clinique's 3 -steps to great skin-designed by dermatologists. Get the latest on makeup, colour, freedom from breakout. Then grab your gift, and you're off

One to a customer, while supplies last.
Study hard. Have fun. Look good.
wworclinique.com

\section*{Police Reports}

\section*{Student hospitalized after attack outside Fours}

Staff Reports
After being attacked early Wednesday morning by two men outside 44's Tavern, a Syracuse University student received treat ment for several minor injuries, ac cording to a police report.

The student was waiting for is friends outside the tavern at 113 Marshall St. When two and told him not to ethed on ern and told him not to stand on the hot leave the two men both wear ing 44's jackets, men, both wear ral times in his hend and body the report said.

The owner of the tavern could not be reached for comment.

Following the attack, the stu
pital, the report added
When questioned by police, the student initually satd he had not been drinking, but then admitted to doing so after being accused of smelling like atcohol, the report said.

The student, however, said that he did not tell police he was drinking.

The student suffered a swollen eye, scratches on his left forcarm and a bruised tef rib. He was listed in stable condition shortly after his arrit

The he report said
The attackers were described as whe men about 25 years of age. They 50 between 5 -footand The case is open pendior

The case is open pending fur-
- The Shaffer Art Building was burglarized for the sceond time this year, according to police reports.

Professor Melissa Friedling told police that between \(5: 30\) p.m. Friday and 3 p.m. Saturday someone entered three classrooms in the buildig and stole the than \($ 1,500\) in equipmen said.

A compact dise player, a VCR, DVD player and a country code converter were stolen, the report

Ei
Eileen Hespen, a senior film art major, said she noticed the 118 .
\(\qquad\) "I work in the lab that there was a DVD player stolen from," the said "I walked into work and noticed it was missing. Then I heard a whole bunch of other stuff had been taken."

Police found the doorknob on Room 118 broken, the treport said. Room the broken, the report said. norder to take the equipment, the report added.

Polica determined that the burglar entered Roorns 35 and 19 with a key. Several people in the department have access to the rooms, the report said.

The art department had to replace all the stolen equipment, Hespen said. Since the incident, he department has limited the number of hours students have access to the film labs, she added. person broke into the building and stole more than \($ 5,000\) in equipment, according to a police report.

An employee noticed that a screen from the window had been removed from the inside and con tacted the police department, the report said.

Hespen said that she was working both times the burglaries were discovered. She added that police suspect someone from with in the department is responsible for the thefts.

They think it's someone in the department who knows about the equipment," Hespen said. "I think it's the same person. No on really knows."

Compiled by Asst. News Edt tor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{BUSINESS}
continued from page 1
East Region,
This doesn't happen every year," Nester said. "We have all these teams coming here. It's just a great experience."

SU plays top-seeded Michigan Stateat the same time tonicht at The Palace at Auburn Hill in Michigan

Nester and Jacobs said both SU students and city residents have come into the shops looking for clothing to support the Orangemen.

"Everyone's been excited about potentially beating Michigan State and beating the next one," Jacobs said. "It's been a nice, steady flow. And the weather helps out,"

Jacobs said he also has received phone calls from out-oftown SU fans looking to buy items

Customers of tournament apparel, however, are not solely SUT fans. Visitors coming to Syracuse to watch one of the four teams play are likely customers, he said.
"A lot of people, even from Duke, like to pick up something from Syracuse," Nester said.

Out of the 16 teams now playing, a quartet will advance to the Final Four, with games April 3 in Indianapolis.

Total Sports, a company that maintains SU's athleties Web site (www.suathletics.com), also serves as an online retailer of sports merchandise.

The outlet orders tournament gear from licensed retailers, such as Nike, and then sells it on at www.finallourstore.com, the official apparel Web site of the NCAA Tournament.

This is a significant part of our revenue during the basketbal tournament, said Chris Cuomo director of e-commerce at Total Sports.

\section*{Do you want to eorn \($ 20\)}

\section*{for participating in a 2 hour group discussion?}

Companies print out two dif ferent designs for the two teams that will advance to the champi onship. About 2,000 copies of each shirt design are printed ou and sent to Total Sports. Cuom said.

Once the outcome of the fir nal game is known, the shirt from the losing team are de stroyed andino mass production machines intomass production for the winnif gear h said.

This way, merchandise for the winning team will soon be avallabia for hose who hav placed early orders, Cuorno said.

More Sy wins would in evitably lead to a surge in the uni versity's apparelsales sacob said.

Obviously if we win, we in crease more shirts, more sales, Jacobs said. "If the team does well, we do well. Everyone prospers."

Nester agreed.
Nester saidremendous for us, Nester said. "It's exciting for the ing. It's great for us too becaus our sales have increased.
"It's turning out pretty excel-

Spend a semester in Hong Rong,

\section*{A city where east meets west}

NEW G EXPANDED CURRICULUA (1) - ARts

\section*{-MANAGEMENT}
-Psychology
-Political Science
-Cinema
-language
Now you can live and
LEARN IN A CITN WHERE
Chinese tradition meets
Western sophistication

For information call or stop by DIPA 119 Euclid Ave ~443-3471 ~ suabroad@syr.edu

\section*{McCall,}

Three New Yorkstate sen ators last month accused Gov George E. Pataki of promising the state's high school seniors sholarshipmoney that only the legislatu give.

Comptroller H, Carl Me Call agreed with the Democratic senators Wednesday. He announced that he would not authorize any payments of the Sew Leaders of Tomorrow scholarship program in the governor's Executive Budget.

Pataki, a Republican, presented his budget earlier this month, but announced the scholarships in February. - The senators wrote to McCall, a Democrat, about their concerns after Pataki's an. nouncement of the new program and asked his office to investigate the legality of the scholarship fund.
"As well and good as this is, you can't just cut a check With out the proper appropriaDennis To Assermbly, said Dennis Tompkins, a McCall spokesman. "Comptroller McCaltise this program to ad ents and students when it might not happen."

McCall's legal counsel found that the state could pay cause the program is included in the new budget, which must first pass the state legislature before any of the spending in the budget can begin, Tomp

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{senators put Pataki on defensive} kins said. The governor has no power to create a new program and begin spending money on it without approval from the legislature, Tompkins said. There is no guarantee that the budget will pass by the April 1 deadline so the scholaravailable immediately, availableimn
"You shouldn't be out there soliciting applications and getting people's hopes up When you don't have said.

Pataki proposed To fund the Leaders of Tomorrow scholarship program with money State Lottery in his budget. Members of Pataki's budget staff began developing the program with lottery officials more than nine months ago and the proposal in the budget is the final re

The program would provide one scholarship for a graduating senior in every one of New York states 1,300 public The award would total \($ 4,000\). The award would total \($ 4,000\), undergraduate education.
- This is just outraging. This guy is just using these scholarships to improve his political image. The three of us really blew our stacks about this. These are just selfserving ads for the governor and the lottery.
about the program when the Lottery Department began promoting the scholarships and advertising for applicants beState Sen Erict passed, said D-New Yertic Sch Sw York City).

Schneiderman wrote the letter along with Senators William Ki (D-Erie County) and Richard Dollinger (D-Monroe County).

Pataki ing the lot-terymoney in an attempt to improve ERIC voter opinSCHNEIDERMAN higher edsenator New York state senator

Schneiderman, Stachowski, Dollinger and McCall all favor increased scholarship aid for students, but want an increase in merit-based scholarships and the Tuition Assis. tance Program, Schneiderman said.

These programs provide higher levels of aid to a much broader base of students, he added.

The lottery scholarships do not significantly improve the amount of funding the state niors, Schneiderman said. It is also too disorganized since it does not provide the educators making decisions on nominees with sufficiently specific requirements for the award, he added.
east a \(B\) avera trated average, have demon nvolvement in extracurricular activities to be considered eli activities to be considered elicording to the Lottery Depart. ment.
"This is a program where the guidelines are so general that principals can basically decide the winning candidate by flipping a coin, Schneiderlesson for kids."

Lottery Department officials are continuing to promote the program, however, and have set a March 31 deadline for nominations, said Rob Hayes, spokesman for the Lottery Ucpartment.
"Irregardless of Comptrol ler McCall's concerns about theprogram, wefeelit was well within our authority to execute the program," Hayes said. "We're moving forward with this."

Hayes stressed that the Lottery Department has al ways had complete control ovensent from the terislature is not necessary for payment of not necessary for payment of the scholarships. The program ficials will do whatever is necessary to ensure the the money will be available, he added.

The move by McCall was politically motivated and a deliberate attempt to slow down the budgeting process, hayes said.
politis nothing more than political football for him. It's nothing he ever paid attention to until three Democratic senators raised a ruckus about it," he said. "It's clearly an opportunistic move for him.

Tompkins disagreed and said that McCall responded to the requests from the senators becate's fiscal job to oversee the rrom obviously falls in his do gram obviously rall main, he added.

The real political move in this situation is Tomplins explained.
where's nothing more than political than promoting a program to thousands of stu. dents and parents without having the money for it," he said. "That's the heigiti of political football."
the letter to McCall, who is considering a bid for governor in 2002, became concerned is not really trying to tate reholarshing to augment derman added.

This is just outraging:" said Schneiderman, a Democguy is just using these scholarships to improve his political image. The three of us really blew our stacks about this. These are just self-serving ads tery."

\section*{This Friday and Saturday 3.24.00 and 3.25.00 Gifford Auditorium 7:00 and 9:30 PM \($ 3\) Admission}

FREE AT MIDNIGHT: SVART[REENK]

Your student fec...
how was your spring break?

Presentation

\section*{Teach-in feeds campus sweatshop dialogue}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

Students must use information as a weapon to fight against large, worker-exploiting corporations like Nik, said Kink Kelly, stitute of the National AFL-CIO"They sell an image," Kelly aid. "Pressure has to be put on that image."

The Wednesday morning speech in the Schine Student Center was a part of an all-day "teach-in" presented by the Student Coalition of Organized Labor. The event was part of Sweat-\section*{shop Awareness Week at Syra-} cuse University.

"We have to keep spreading the word," said Marika Wissink, a member of SCOOL. "We have to keep letting consumers know. We have to keep fighting.

The teach-in was intended for Sweatshop Awareness Week or Sweatshop Awareness Week, SCOOL and an English doctoral student.

There will be more visible campus campaigns when a the Quad is set up Thursday on sweatshop rally, also on the Quad, is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Friday, he added.

Corporations are sophisticated, Kelly said. Instead of thugs, they use consulting firms o get their way, he said.

But they cannot get to students like they can get to workrs, he added.

In any country where there are no environmental or labor aws, the price of organizing is hat you disappear," Kelly said. GM and Nike know that workrs have no voice."

The world is in a new age of globalization and people must start changing the laws that exploit people, he said. "The only way to change things is for all workers to stand up together," Kelly said. "The worker relationship is the brick that the big fortress of the labor movement will be built on."

During a press conference before the teach-in. SCOOL called for SU to join the Warker's Rights Consortium by April 1. That would allow the univerfounding conference in New York City on April 7.
"We want SU to take an acive and proactive role in the orefront of the labor movement, said Wissink, a senior music major.

The consortium is an organization that would oversee the working conditions in factories that make SU apparel, ensuring hat they are not sweatshops. "The force that is the boss is evil," Kelly said. "It represents the worst our system can become. Without obstacles, the boss controls the worker.
also included presentations from United Students Against Sweatshops, SU Associate geography professor Donald Mitchell, Coert Bonthius from the Ser Union Local 200A ternational Union Local 200A tor of Catholic Charities.
"I came here for general information on what I could do, said Shana Blair, a sophomore sociology major. "I thought it was really cool."

Kelly called for students like Blair to become more active.
"You saw what happened in China and Poland,* Kelly said referring to 1989's Tiennamen Square massacre and the Polish Revolution the same year. "Stu dents and workers worked to gether and brought down gov ernments.
ays don't do it, who's going to do it?"
dents safe."
We can't drinit if we're being nugged" was one message stu dents wrote on the block Wednesday. Others included "Students care about \({ }^{n}\)

Aubree Murray, a roommate of the victim in the March 13 beat ing, agreed that the university is not doing enough to combat violence.

One of the concerns we see is that we see people get busted up for parties, but then there's people getting held at gunpoint down the treet."

SU Spokesman Kevin Morrow and that the university is working ith a limited amount of funding o implement programs focused on student safety.
"First of all, the university is concerned about students' well-be ing both on and off campus," Morrow said. The university is limited in its ability to saferuard students who live off campus.

Legally, the Department of Public Safety can not patrol off campus neighborhoods, Morrow said. Those areas are under the jurisdiction of the Syracuse Police Department, he added.

Also, the primary purpose of the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative is not to break-up parties, as com monly believed, but to look out for students, Morrow said
"The university shares the students' concerns and we are working with the Syracuse Police said. "Students need to take a certain amount of responsibility on their own."

Some of the students are also working with SUS Community Re-Lations Committee to establish neighborhood programs promoting safety awareness, Mustermatao said.

Our main goal is to let students know how much they have to report everything, she said. "Im not sure what more we can do.

The students also plan to write letters to local media criticizing SU for their policies, Mustermatao said. A graduate wrote a message on an alurnai listsery call ing for former students to do the same.

While the intentions of the students were good, the messages were a disturbing remindier to tive victia and her roommates of last week incident, said Murray, a senior cul tural anthropology major.
"I think it's important that everyone's aware of it," Murray said. "At the same time it's a little hand for us to see this right outside our apartment.

The victim and her roommates were not aware in advance that their neighbors would be writing on the street.

Murray said she would like to see the university become more involved in off-campus neighborhoods and suggested having meetings as a good way of increasing awareness.

Though she would like to get involved in implementing programs, it may take some time before the issue of safety Mur uMy of sarety, Murray said.

My roornmate just wants to take some time to get over this, one is so aware of it and I hope they keep awareness up. I hope it's not just a week-long thing."

\footnotetext{
A little reassurance for life's ups and downs.
}

\section*{the \(E\) EE}

\section*{Hairy situation}

What could be more mortifying, at an age when one's looks can be an all-consuming preoccupation, than unwanted face and body hair? Excessive hairiness in women is just one sign of a poorly understood condition often referred to as Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome, or PCOS. Other signs of PCOS which may affect five percent of women, include thinning head hair, irregular periods, infertility, weight gain and acne. Women with PCOS often have trouble conceiving and are at high risk for developing type II diabetes and pos sibly heart disease and hypertension. The cause of the condition, which often runs in families, is unclear.

Break the silence
There are things we'd rather not talk about with others: embarrassing things. Breath that isn't as fresh as it might be. Hair that sprouts where hair a-s sprout on women. Rectal bleeding and hemorrhoids. Who, other than frat boys, giggling adolescents and possibly your ever-sharing Uncle Sid, relishes chatting about such things? We shouldn't be so bashful, medical experts urge. Such reticence prolongs needless discornfort or ourselves and sometimes those we live or work with. And sometimes it can delay identfying serious, even lifethreatening, maladies.

\section*{Water works}

It used to be simple: You're thirsty, you get a drink from the tap. But today, water - comes in other 3 forms, including 7 tap water that has been filtered in the home and a wide veriety of bottled waters. And health offrcials caution that consumers especially parents need to evaluate the qualities and benefits these products may be missing. Some bottled water comes naturally with fluoride, other brands add t , but most brands have very low fluoride levels. A major heath advance of the past half century was the addition of fluoride to public water supplies, which dramatically cut cavities among children.

\section*{quote}
of the day:
"Nothing in the uorld can take the place of persistence." Calvin Coolidge

\section*{Gene}

\section*{fixing falls short}

\section*{BY DOUG LEVY \\ Contributing Writer}

In a culture defined by Big Macs and french fries, it seems fitting that the con sumption of dietary supplements has wormed its way into the American palette. But some members of the medical community warn that vitamins may cause more harm than good.
"People in good health shouldn't bother making extra vitamins a part of their everyday diet as the body will simply excrete the vitaminsit doesn't need, said Dr. Mark Bright of Bridgewater-Goddard Park Medical Associates in Boston.

Potential risks associated with vitamin overdose can include liver damage, high blood pressure, short-term skin discoloration, hair loss and bone deformities, resulting in oniy the most extreme cases.
"There are some rigks of indigestion," gaid Bill Clark, gupervising pharmacist at Syracuse University Eealth Services. "But for college students, taking a multivitamin certainiy wouldn't hurt.

The human body cannot necessarily distinguish between vitamins obtained from food and those from pills, Bright baid. Using vitamins as a form of cietary supplementation does not offset poor eating, he added.
"Taken in high doses, vitamins \(A\), and \(D\) especially can become toxic," Bright said.

Vitamins such as \(A, D\), E and \(K\) are fatsoluble. UnIike water soluble vitamins like \(C\) and \(B\), the human body retains the excess in the liver and fatty tissue. This storage can prevent the absorption of other vitamins and minerals essential to a well-balanced diet.
"If one (vitamin) is good, two won't neces sarily be better," Clark added.

This past year, the possible anti-aging benefits of antioxidant vitamins \(A, C\) and \(E\) illicited attention from the national media.

When the body metabolizes oxygen, cells form by-products called free radicals. Free radicals can disrupt cell and molecular structure, resulting in damage.

Antioxidants help combat the creation of these free radicals within the body, which can sometimes delay the aging process. Various

See VITAMINS page 16

Like jesters in a king's court, scientists entertain the public with fapcies of a utopian society free of disease. As juggling human sleuth genes becomes a common practice among re searchers, ethical concerns hang in the balance.

\section*{Corey Hann}

\section*{health}

Part of being human is being fallible. We're not immune to all the dangers that surround us in the world and are prone to mis-

See SLEUTH page 16

16 March 23, 2000

\section*{VITAMINS}
continued from page 15
medical studies link antioxidant consumption to decreased risks of cancer and stroke
"you smoke," Bright said, "there may be an increased risk of cancer associated with the consumption of antioxi and \(E\) ).

As a result, people at higher risk for cardiovascumost to gain from antioxi-

\section*{CONTACTS}

Approximately 31 million people in the United States wear contact lenses, according to the Contact Lens non-profit organization cil, a non-profit organization inducating consumers about contacts.

Many people choose con over glasses for cosmettacts over glasses for cosmet ic reasons, though the increased peripheral vision is the reason many athletes choose them.

Contact lenses are not perfect, but they seem to be the ultimate eye correction Kitch, a spokeswoman for the council.

For all its benefits, contact lenses do carry risks
"A large proportion of people think of contacts as shirt, not as a medical de vice, said Dr. Richard Puente, DeWitt.
veiner aiso emphasized that contacts have been made

\section*{SLEUTH}
continued from page 15 takes and imperfection. By introducing gene engineering programs into the mainstream, an essential part of humanity cour individuality.

These programs would dissect our genome and insert more appropriate" genes hat may eliminate the chance for developing self-destructive traits, like alcohol and drug abuse or, more importantly, ce

Christopher Brower, a resident of Hartland, Vt., has Dowidence as to why senetic evidence as to why genetic ampering should be illegal even in tragic disorder.

\section*{The other side}

He stands a proud foureet, eleven inches tall. His tocky frame, tho the no of a rootball player.

A lazy, half-shaven beard hid 3 s his boy-like dimples, wh re his slightly eschew eyes An Amish-looking bowl cut An Amish-looking bowl cut

The Daily Orange
dants. Most of the research is nconclusive, however, the future for antioxidants appears bricht pears bright. \({ }^{\text {"Too much beta carotene }}\) (found in vitamin \(A\), a common antioxidantl can have pro-oxidizing effect and in pro-oxidizing effect and in extreme cases can lead to Raj, an adjunct instructor in the department of nutrition at SU.

Taking extra iron supplements can hasten damage to dence to that effect has been inconclusive, she said.
Raj also teaches a graduate course in vitamins and minerals

Both Bright and Raj agreed that different groups of people have different vitaupon their lifestyles. High risk disease candidates, like alcoholics and drug addicts, may find vitamin supplementation beneficial.
"Pregnant women need to consume higher levels of folic tube defects, such as spinabi-fida, in infants," Bright said, He referenced a 1995 Journal of the American Medical Association study that linked folic acid and lower levels of neural problems in newborns.

Folic acid is a \(B\) vitamin essential to cell division and people who may become pregnant need to be consuming 400 micrograms daily," Raj added.

Women may need more iron, for example, as they lose she said.

To reduce the risk of an overdoses, Bright suggested taking a comprehensive muleral imin, as opposed to son taining separate vitamins.

But Bright said a smart healthy diet is still the best bet.
be ben general, people would be better off if they just ate Food and Drug Administra tion recommends.
nto a consumer item, detracting from their original

\section*{Making contact}

There are two main types of contacts, soft and hard enses, both of which have disposable and extended wear varieties. Disposable lenses are thicker than extended wear and have a lower water content, which affect how cornea of the eye, said Dr. Re cornea of the eye, said Dr. Re tometrist in Syracuse.

Disposable contacts should not be worn overnight, but extended wear contacts can be. Sleeping with con be hazardous to one's eye sight.
"If your lenses are prescribed for daily use, you shouldn't even napon it, McPherson said.

As a person sleeps, their cornea - the part of the eye through which light enters oxygen. With a contact on the cornea sweils even more.

This can lead to excess blood vessel growth that blocks the light path. In themost severe cases, an ulcer can develop overnight, said McPhervelo.
and handling, the risk of getting infection or abrasion goes up and you do need to replace it," MePherson said.

Contacts aren't the only things that should be replaced.

Cases are a common place that doesn

McPherson recommends changing contact lens cases every six months. She also said that they should be washed thoroughiy after each use, particularly the inside of the lid, which is often overlooked. In very rare cases, a person can develop a fungal eye infection if the solution

The solution bottle can also be a breeding gro

It's bad to use bottle to rewet," he said. "It's more likely to carry infection."

Puente stressed that solution bottles should be reaced after an eye infection. Another common way for bacteria to make its way to the eye is through makeup.
Though it is not a direct cause of infection, makeup an carry bacteria, Puente said. He recommended using hairspray first, then putting contacts in and then applying mak.
"It all comes down to hytacts, the less risk of infection there is."

Puente agreed that contact wearers should not be alarmed, but rather more alert.

If your eye is healthy, it won't be contaminated, Puente said

Weiner stressed that contact wearers should get their eyes checked at least once a year.

It's important to see your optometrist on a regular basis," Weiner said. "If you ou can avoid any bad results."

Kitch agreed
"You're talking about your eyes," she said. should take.
ing looks. With the experience of a 36 -year-old and the mind of a child, my uncle Christopher stands alone in a crowd. He all of his life. Though genetic all of his life. Though genetic imperfections were not a concern during the time of Christopher's birth, questions about his condition arose soon after. The ticker tape parades and New Year's hangovers had ended in nearby New York City. The real celebration though - or so they thought - happened a week later for one family, across the Hudson in South Orange, the

My uncle was born to my grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brower

His genetic ailment, caused by the activation of an extra chromosome, was seen as a scarlet letter, which would bring shame and dis would bring shame an

The doctor blatantly asked if my grandparents would prefer to put Christo pher in an asyium, so that pherin an asyium, so that "adequate" care for him, and perhaps lift the burden of having a Downe's child in

\section*{INTERNSHIPS SUMMER 2000 \\ Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.}

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields.Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271

\section*{their home.}

\section*{Tough choice}

The first thing they asked me was if I wanted to put Chrisin a home,"my grandmother recalls. HI talked to my kids and they adored him, pleading to me, We love him, he's so cute."

His siblings embraced "Chris" with all their hearts and kept him close throughout their lives. To this day, he thrives in almost every respect an individ stature can claim.
"He's very independent, if it were not for condition, he might be able to live on his own," my grandmother says

He has held a job for many years, regularly goes out with a "Big Brother" to playsports and is an a > lector of Oldies tunes. The choice that

The choice that my Grandparents made when Chris was born was difficult Chris was born was difficult and important. They had in their hands, the power to throw their child into a strange institution and let fate or the hospitals control his destiny.
"Chris opened up an en-ely new world to us," my trandmother says. "We mere largely ignorant to disorders like Downe's." They molded this needy child into an individual who is more productive than some f the less challenged members of society. In fact, Chris presence not only stirred the community to appreciate peocommunity to apprec ple of Chris stature
sure how many people for sure how many people have been affected by Chris, my grandmother is fond of sayicated to him as well as kids cated to him aswell as kids cards wishing him well when he was ill

\section*{The big question}

Perhaps twenty to thirty years down the road as a society we will get to the point thet doctors question the an that doctors question the cathat today we would consider relatively normal, with a few minor genetic abnormalities. minor genetic abnormalities.
What about Attention Deficit Disorder? What about kids with freckles? Or, what about kids who are simply afraid of the dark?

These futurechildren could be genetically altered in a way that would eliminate all th
DNA.

No longer would they have to suffer common ailments such as asthma, weak hearts and early cancer.
These people would be immune to most diseases, fit, smart, similar to the characters portrayed in the film Witaca."
Will we ever reach a point where this altercation

If this occurrence becomes too common, have we gone too far in arriving at perfection? Disease and im perfection is part of the natcral order of life, and pro vides relief for an already overwhelming population.

Though Chris is distant from our image of perfection or normality today, his mer

\section*{Walk-ons relish experience as Orangemen \\ NCAAs is mind-boggling to be \\ tournament action in Cleve- \\ shine for the Orangemen}

Looking along the Syracuse men's basketball team bench, you spot all the familiar faces. There's head coach Jim Boeheim standing with his hands on his hips and assistant coaches Mike Hopkins, Louis Orr and Bernie Fine scribbling notes or shouting instructions.

Then come the marquee players, point guard Jason Hart, center Etan Thomas and forward Ryan Blackwell.

A little farther along are the young sharpshooters, Preston Shumpert, Tony Bland and DeShaun Williams.

Finally, all the way down at the end of the bench sit two players who couldn't be more proud or more honored to don the orange Syracuse uniforms. Meet juniors Rob McClanaghan and Chris Schau, the SU walkons.

They aren't the most recog nizable Orangemen and they hardly ever see playing time, but both players cherish their important role.

We have to keep these guys going if they're down," said McClanaghan, a guard from Cranston, R.I. "If they're not hitting their shots we have to encourage them a lot.
"In practice, guys get real tired. We have to help them out. If they're hurt or if they're tired, we're the ones that come in to practice and give them a rest."

We're inke the supporting Sat., said Schou, a Bronx High "We're of Science graduate. show, obviously, but we're like the co-stars on a lower level."

Instead of complaining about not playing, Mc Clanaghan and Schau sit back and relish every minute of Syracuse's run at the national cham pionship.

McClanaghan saidit's amazing to have reached his goal of making a Division I team. Ever since he can remember, McClanaghan watched Providence College basketball games from the front row and dreamed about one day playing on that level.
"All my life I wanted to play guard. "Just to be part of the honest. I'm not really over it yet."

Now, as he prepares for Syracuse's tussle with Michigan State tonight, McClanaghan looks back at the long road he traveled to earn a seat at the end of the SU bench.

As a scrawny, wide-eyed freshman, McClanaghan tried out for a spot on the team but was turned away. He wondered if maybe Syracuse had too much talent and not enough room for him.
Not wanting to let go of his dream, McClanaghan told himself he would give it one more try. So he spent the following summer adding muscle to his frame and working on his basketball skills.

When tryouts came around his sophomore year, Mc Clanaghan and his Archbold Gymnasium basketball buddy Schau found success - and homes - with the Orangemen. They come to practice everyday and do everything the whole lot of minutes to play in the game," said Fine, who coaches McClanaghan and Schau. "They're great kids, and they really get along well with everybody.

Although McClanaghan enjoyed his first season as a player, he said losing in the first round of the NCAA Tournament last year was disappointing. But this seasonhas cer tainly made up for it.
"Going 19-0 was pretty exciling, McClänabān anid of SU's hot start. "Another great experience was going to my hometown, Providence, and actually getting in the game. Going up there in a Syracuse uniform was a lot different, with form was a lot different, with my family just being across from the team bench was great."

Schau has his own memories from the season. He notched his first career points with a dunk against the New York AAU team in December. The slam even made the team's highlight tape, which was shown at the Big' East dinner.

Despite their personal accomplishments, the walk-ons complishments, the wam-ons the biggest impact.

During the opening round

> Are you thinking about majoring in Psychology?

The following programs are designed especially for students who are trying to make an informed decision about what to declare as their major.

Expect to leave this discussion knowing more about: what psychology majors study what psychology majors study where \(p\) degree
where psychology majors go to graduate school
Sophomores- Please join us on Monday, March 27 th at 7 pm in 530 Huntington Hall (the Allport Suite)
Freshmen- Please join us on Tuesday, March 2Bth at 7 pm in 530 Huntington Hall (the Allport Suite)

Presented by Mikki Jeschke,
Director of Student Development In Psychology

\footnotetext{
Food will be served Please reserve a seat by contacting Mikki Jeschke via email at mjeschke@psych.syr.edu, phone 443-1628, or stop by 512 Huntington Hall.
}
land, Schau said he couldn't help but be in awe of the surroundings.

The atmosphere there is just completely different from any home game or even the Big East Tournament," he said. East Tournament, he said in the building. It's amazing anything can happen. It's anything can ha

McClanaghan compared the NCAA Tournament to his high school playing days. compare it to is ming I could compare it to is my state cham pionship, but that was a whole different scene," McClanaghan different scene, McClanaghan said. "That wasjust high school said. That was just high school, one state. This is like there's only 16 teams left in the country, and we're one of them."

Although McClanaghan and Schau will be watching Syracuse's game against Michigan State from their seats at the end of the bench, they each day getting their chance to

We enjoy the show from the bench," Schau said. "At the same time, divine intervention could happen and one of us could get called in."

Come watch the SU Game at Lucy's tonight On our digital cable television,
In full sound over our sound system.
\($ 1\) Orangecrush shots at the end of each winning quarter.

\section*{Michigan State coach worries about zone}

BY DAVE CURTIS Sports Editor

AUBURN Hills, Mich. Every year, the 2-3 zone deense sceps into Syracuse's bas ketball game-plan.

Sometimes it ranks as a mere sidelight, another weapon in a normally loaded arsenal. SU's defensive scherne a strates gy opposing coaches dread.

Michigan State, one of the elite teams in America, matches its consistent offense against the Orangemen zone tonight when the two clubs hook up in a Sweet 16 battle at \(7: 38 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). at The Palace at Auburn Hills.

Despite its status as Big Ten champions and the top sced in the NCAA Tournament's Midwest Region, the Spartans said Wednesday that SU's defense worries them. No Big Ten team tried to slow MSU with a zone, and a lack of familiarity with the look could hurt head coach Tom Izzo's team.
ve seen that plays a solid traree seen that plays a solid, traa concern, since we haven't faced many. But we have a lot of weapons to attack. It's just a matter of whether the bullets are in the gun.

Izzo's ammunition revolves around accurate 3 -point shooting. Michigan State canned 38 son, and four Spartan regulars shoot better than 35 percent from behind the arc.

Starters A.J. Granger and Morris Peterson lead the Spartans at 44 and 43 percent, respectively. Senior Charlie Bell, bothered this week by tendonitis in his left knee, serves as a deep threat as well.

Perhaps the most intriguing Spartan shooter is point guard Mateen Cleaves.

Knocked for his jump shot throughout his college career, the senior hit 37 percent of his triples this season.

In Saturday's second-round matchup with Utah, Cleaves kickstarted MSU's second-half comeback with four 3-pointers. The Utes chose to leave him alone at the top of the key, eliminating his ability to penetrate and forcing him to shoot 20-footers.
"You can't back off any college player." SU guard Jason Hart said. "I don't think Utah's strategy worked. That was crucial for Michigan State, and we don't want them to bul" dence shooting threes."

Successful downtown shooting by foes sunk Syracuse in most of its losses this season. Opponents shot their threes at in four of the five setbacks, in four by an impressive 12 -for28 effort by Seton Hall on Feb 7 at the Carrier Dome.

While the zone yields its share of open looks in every game, it also propelled the Orangemen to 26 wins in 19992000. Overall, SU's opposition heaves more than 173 -point attempts at the basket each game but connects on just 32 percent of its efforts.

Izzo said the activity of SU's zone impresses him. The guards at the top hound opposing ballhandlers and attempt to make every pass a challenge.

If the perimeter players can penetrate the alignment with a er Etan Thomas lurks to swat away tosses at the hoop
You don't get as many open shots as people think, Cleaves said. They always get hand in your face. If have an have to take it."

The Spartan players also said they felt the zone appeared susceptible to strong of tate rebounding. Michigan much as any program in America, even spending a November workout in helmets and shoulder pads to improve toughness on the backboards.

The odd tactic worked, as the Spartans outrebound opponents by a nation's best 12.5 per game. Of MSU's 35 contests only Wisconsin - in a 59-54 loss in East Lansing, Mich., on Feb. 19 - grabbed more rebounds than the Spartans in a single game.

No slouch on the glass itself, SU beats opponents by four rebounds per game.

But Granger said the zone might help the Spartans continue their rebounding dominance.

I' think it will be easier to rebound because of the open said "There are just more to get to the basket I think that will work as an advantare that will
D.

Despite the knocks agains the zone, Boeneim sticks with posted a sol Armed with the vaunted 3 in 1996, Syracuse defeated Georgia, Kansas and Mississippi State on a run to the nation al championship game. The zone also became trademark of the 1998 squad, which ad vanced to the Sweet 16 before succumbing to Duke.

Again this season, the Or angemen's 2-3 pushed them through a tournament tussle. Kentucky tallied just 50 points in SU's second-round win over the Wildcats on Saturday.
"Our zone defense is good," Boeheim said. "It's been a huge part of our defensive philosophy over the past couple of years it is years we use it more, it is always a priority within ou defensive plan.

You need o roll-on with mpotemention anuinat Alos a mod ather Stos. a free, full-color poster ( \(18^{n} \times 24^{n}\) ), write: Alos Poster 2. Box 2000. Albany, N.Y. 12220

N.Y.S. Healh Department

EOME IN BEFORE 10TM & HAVE ANY OF DUR FAMOUS FROZEN COCKTAILS FOR ONLY $3

TRY ONE OF OUR NEW GRAPE_TISH EOWLSI

Love, Your Pledges

\section*{Tax Seminar} for International Students
FRIDÂY 3/24/00
2:00-5:00 PM Sil
GRANT AUDITORIUN S. U. LAW SCHOOL Non-Resident Tax Returns Step - By - Step Instructions Filing Deadline : April 17, 2000 Sponsored by The Office of International Services

\section*{Congratulations} to Jordan Platt ma
Jon Katz on becoming the
NEW TAG TEAM CHAMPIONS of Syracuse!

\section*{The Daily Orange}

NCAA
continued from page 24
Both Syracuse and Michigan State (28-7) own talented point guards who run their squads on physical and emotional levels. The teams play stingy half-court defense. And relies on an array of offensive options to score points.
"With Michigan State you have to worry about everybody," said Boeheim, SU's head coach. "They are all capable of having a big game, going for 20 points. Like us, they're a wel balanced offensive team."

Morris Peterson, a 6-foot-7 senior forward, ranks as the eads MSU with 16.5 points and 6.2 rebounds per contest. Peterson scores most of his points from the perimeter, canning 43 percent of his shots from behind the 3 -point arc. Un ike three years ago, however his game involves more than set, rotation and splash.

Arriving in East Lansing as a lanky standstill shooter four years ago, Peterson became a years ago, Peterson became a bounder and on-the-floor leader underthe tutelage of head coach Tom Izzo.
"He's developed as much as anyone I've ever been associated with," Izzo said. "He's one of our hardest workers, and he deserves all the credit for all the changes he has made"*

Bruising Andre Hutson and smooth-shooting A.J. Granger join Peterson along the front line. Hutson, at 6 -foot-8 and 240 pounds, paced the Spartans bounds in MSU's and enght bounds in MSUs second-round triumph over Utah

Against the Orangemen, Hutson will match up agains Thomas. The duel lacks the lus ter of the point guard tussle between Jason Hart and Mateen Cleaves, but could prove even more significant more significant Hutson struggled to mark Texas center Chris Mihm in the Puerto Rico Shootout in November, but hampered North Car Olina's Brendan Haywood Ohio State's Ken Johnson.

Granger leads the Sparta regulars at 49 percent from the field and knocks down 89 percent of his free throws. He also leads a group of returning let termen who romped through the South Region last season the South Region last se

Thomas said Wednesday the Spartans' experience cannot help them on this tour of March Madness. But Granger said he thinks the 1999 trip gives MSU a decided advantage the next two weeks.
"I think it helps agreat deal," he said. "It adds a comfort level, and you're not overwhelmed by a lot of the things that go on here."

Although the Orangemen possess similar balance to the Spartans, some of their starters puttered down the stretch Shooting guard Tony Bland Iost his touch during the Big East schedule and continues to struggle from the perimeter.

Small forward Damone Brown, a sleeper for the future amone NBA scouts at the Car among NBA scouts at the Car rier Dome in Decemer, fizaled at both ends in the season's flIf Bro
If Brown can regain his aggressiveness and athleticism around the rim, his play can help offset the Michigan State frontline talent.
"It would be very beneficial to us if he plays up to his ability." Hart said.
"We need him to just be an active player and get some rebounds for us."

\section*{GUARDS}
continued from page 24
tend SU. However, it was Hart, who the night he returned to L.A. from his official visit to SU, left a 3 a.m. voice mail message for Orangemen assistant coach Mike Hopkins saying he wanted to commit to Syracuse.

And so, with Hart in the Big East and Cleaves in the Big Ten, the mystery continued. Both point guards are definitively linked but have never come closer to playing, save an informal workout at a Las Vegas basketball camp this summer:
"We've never squared off with any referees," Hart sard. ive seen him in the gym playing ball behim in the gym playing ball before, but we never went head to head."

That all changes tonight when Syracuse (26-5) takes on Michigan State (28-7) in a Mid7:38 p.m. at The Palace at Auburn Hills.

The duo's accomplishments are already impressive enough that tonight's matchup will not define their careers.
'I think Jason's already shown what he can do," Hopkins said. "This game is not going to make or break him. The bige their thing is who's going to make their team win."

Hart averages 12 points and 6.4 assists a game, while Cleaves scores 12.1 and dishes out 7.8 . Both are four-year starters. Hart is SU's all-time steals leader, while Cleaves holds his school's record for assists. It is the Spartan point guard, however who has achieved the most national success.

Cleaves guided last season's Michigan State team to the Final Four, while with Hart at the point, SU has traveled no further than the Sweet 16. Cleaves has been named an All-American three times, while Hart's honors stop at all-conference.

For those on the SU team and coaching staff, however, tonight's game provides another chance for those around the country to see that Hart can do the things they see him do every day. "I just think they're two of the best point guards in the country," Hopkins said. "They're going to be showcased. I mean, Jason played against (Connecticut's) Khalid (El-Amin), Jason played against (St. John's) Erick Barkley.

It's just going to be another one of those games when you've got two great point guards going head to head against each other."

The point guards both downplay the showdown, instead focusing on what their respective leams must do to be successful.
"I'm not gning to come nut and just try to outplay him," Cleaves said. " 1 'm going to come out and I'm going to try to win the game. I don't get caught up in the one on one, that type of thing. We both have two good tearns that we play on, so it's going to be a team thing. I don't care if both of us come out and have great games. Whoev er loses, you're going home.

The fact remains, however, that both players are the keys to their teams.

They handle the ball on offense and they dictate the tempo of the game. As senior leaders, they also dictate the morale of their team.

If Syracuse exits its 2-3 zone, it will be Hart - possibly "the best on-ball defender at guard in the country," Hopkins said - who draws the assignment of slowing down his MSU counterpart.

Cleaves will harass Hart with an ageressive, physical defensive style when SU has the ball.

Har Hart said. Nothing dirty, just two Euys who are going to do every this victory

The competitive natures of both, combined with their athletic talent, are major reasons cach is considered the key cog of his team.

Hart's will and desire was a driving force behind the \(19-0\) start that propelled the Orangemen to national prominence and put them into a position to make a run in the NCAA Tournament.

The Spartanis, on the other hand, were just 9-4 when Cleaves missed the season's first 13 games with a stress fracture in his righ foot. MSU went 19.3 with him back in the lineup and, many people believe, are now the top team in the tournament.

I don't like to compare play ers, but Cleaves is as good a point guard as you're going to see, Boe heim said. "He puts the ball, in the basket, he makes plays and he's as competitive as anyone you'll ever see.

Jason's a competitor, too. He can put the ball in the basket and he can guard you. They're both great leaders, and that's why their teams are still playing."

\section*{Become Elected to the} \section*{For Leaders interested in} influencing policies that affect Graduate Life at S. \(U\).

\section*{Elections begin March 29 \({ }^{\text {th }}\). Come by 131 Schine, or see your department senator for more information.}

Syracuse If you thought that the crazy religious cults that precults that pr dicted the Earth opening up when Y2K hit had a depressing future, try listening to some people talk about the Syracuse men's basketball team's chances against Michigan State tonight.

Maybe next year
Not a prayer.
Snowball's chance in Hell.
And then the predictions get negative.

The Orangemen go up against an extremely talented MSU team tonight in a Midwest Regional semifinal game at The Palace at Auburn Hills.

Since Mateen Cleaves - 13 games with a stress fracture in his right foot-returned, the anyone in the country.
Following Cleaves comeFollowing Cleaves come-ack, MSU went \(19-3\), including back, MSU went 19-3, including wins over Indiana, Ohio State, Itinnois and an 85-66 dism tling of Connecticut. The Spartans finished the regular season as Big Ten co-champions and defeated Illinois for the conference tournament title to secure the No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament's Midwest Regional.

A host of terrific athletes make up the Michigan State roster, and it certainly comes as no surprise the Spartans advanced to the Sweet 16 .

But the Orangemen aren't exactly the Little Sisters of the Poor.

After all, this is the same SU team that began the season by rattling off 19 straight wins and moved as high as fourth in the national polls.

In fact, it wasn't too long ago that people around Central New York compared the current Orangemen to SU legends and former Final Four participants like Derrick Coleman, Sherman Douglas and John Wallace
But now the Syracuse
But now the Syracuse
andwagon has become amaz ingly light.
Not so fast.
The Orangemen still have the same tools they had during their shot-out-of-a-cannon start to the season, and those tools to the season, and though to construct a upset of Michigan State and, perhaps, a bridge to the Final Four. First in the toolbox is Herculean center Etan Thomas. The Spartans have no one player who can match up physidle.
Syracuse assistant coach Mike Hopkins calls Thomas the Orangemen's ace in the hole. Michigan State will try to put Andre Hutson on Thomas.

If Hutson should fall into foul trouble, however, the Spartans' only physical answer to the SU center would be freshman Aloysius Anagonye.

Even with those two MSU players in the game, Thomas remains the biggest physical presence on either team.

From the mismatch in the middle to a classic matchup on the perimeter:

Both squads boast point guards that deserve mention with the best at their position in the country. Cleaves gets more national accolades than

Hast however shut down Connecticut's Khalid El-Amin and has battled against stand outs Erick Barkley and Shaheen Holloway during the regular season.

It is not hard to imagine the two point men battling to a draw or even (gasp!) Hart getting the better of Cleaves.

If the latter happens, the Orangemen should be in good shape.

Yet another phase of the game that people seem more than ready to notch up as an advantage to Michigan State is outside shooting.

The Spartans shoot 38 percent from behind the 3-point are this season, and shooters like A.J. Granger and Morris Peterson have MSU fans licking their lips at the thought of facing SU's zone.

Kansas had the same cocky outlook in 1996. However, a hor rid shooting day by star players like Paul Pierce, Jacque Vaughn and shooting guard Jerrod Haase keyed the Orangemen's victory.

This year's team also has mething that SU team didn't - Preston Shumpert.

The sophomore could outshoot most teams by himself and could be enough to even out the outside attack by MSU. Michigan State hasn't faced a Michigan State hasn't faced a zone defense for about two months. Sure, the Spartans practice against it all the time, but Jimmy Walkon and Joey Eleventhman don't exactily simulate the defensive pressure Hart puts on an opponent.

That being said, the Spartans are excellent.

If you put a fiver down in the office pool and picked them as your champ, nobody would blame you for feeling confident. But they are by no means invincible.
from dead in the water far from dead in the water.

After all, the doornsdayers were wrong about Y2K.

Connor Ennis is an Asst Sports Editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. E-mail him at ceennis@syredu.

\section*{Tournament triumphs aplenty for Duanys \\ Both teams will need to ad-}

\section*{by Connor ennis

\section*{by Connor ennis AND DAVE CURTIS Staff Editors Staff Editors}

AUBURN HILLs, Mich. The Sweet 16 is a family affair for the Duanys

Wal and Julia Duany have four children who play Division I college basketball, including alive in the men's NCAA Tournament.

Kueth is a redshirt freshman forward for Syracuse, while older brother Duany is a sharpshooting senior forward for upstart Wisconsin. Both will Syracuse takes on Michigan Syracuse takes on Michigan State in Midwest Regional semifinal and Wisconsin battles Louisiana State in a West Regional semifinal.
"It's like a dream come true," Kueth said. "Growing up about the Final Four and whose team's going to get there, and this summer we talked about who's going to do what and whose team's going to do better."

The brothers - whose two sisters, Nok and Nyagon, play for Georgetown and Bradley, respectively - haven't spoken since the tournament started last weekend.

Kueth said they relay messages through their mother, who talks to both frequently.

The lack of direct communication hasn't prevented Kueth from being a vocal supporter of his Badger sibling and being glued to the television when Duany and his Badger teammates take the floor.
"I haven't missed one of his garnes," Kueth said. "I'm usually the loudest one in the hotel. You can usually hear me when Im on the floor like, Shoot the ball. Play defense. Do this or do this. Just coaching, you know. Wisconsin has been the key ed Wisconsin has been the key to its surprising March run, Kueth said. The Badgers play a slow-down style and were able 59 in the tournament's second round.

Vance to the Final Four for Kueth's mother to see her SUplaying son in person during the tournament. Until then, Julia will be in New Mexico watching Duany, who is in his last season of eligibility.

She's in Albuquerque watching him because it's his "ast go-round," Kueth said She's got to watch him for the cial for her."

\section*{Schedule smack}

The two coaches in tonight's SU-MSU tilt disagreed about the merits of playing a ough non-conference slate-

Syracuse battled Wisconsin, South Carolina, Lo and UCLA this season.

The Orangemen lost just once out of the Big East, and observers chalked up much of observers chalked up much of opening 19-garne win streak to its soft opponents.
"Your schedule doesn"t make you better or worse," SU head coach Jim Boeheirn said. If you play 10 terrible teams in a row, you can get better if you work hard. It's a myth that you get better just by playing good teams."

Michigan State, on the othr hand, played what most would consider one of America's hardest schedules: a non-league contest at North Carolina, neu-tral-site dates with Texas and Kansas and a home game against. Connecticut highlighted MSU's winter run.
"It was right for us because we needed to be challenged," Spartans coach Tom Izzo said. We didn't know how we'd deal With the success we had, so we played about every different kind of team we thought we would see in the tournament."

\section*{Answer the Bell}

Michigan State guard Charlie Bell practiced for the first time all week on Wednes-

Bell, the Spartans' shooting guard, suffers from a case of nagging injury left knee. The nagginginjury acted up in MSU's weekend victories over son." The Cyclones won't be a alparaiso and Utan.

Bell said he stayed off the knee all week and only touched a basketball to do some light shooting. On Wednesday, he wore a black knee brace with a pre-wrap beneath it.

The senior guard jumped without visible pain but walked gingerly between drills and struggled to put weight on his left leg and cut hard to the right.

He's feeling a lot better, and I think he's made great progress," Izzo said. "It's serious only if it flares up on him and bothers him at the time. We definitely need a healthy Charlie Bell, especially with all the athletes (Syracuse has).

\section*{Semifinal showdown}

Syracuse against Michigan State isn't the only show in Thirty minutes after the end of the game between the Orangemen and the Spartans, No. 2 seed lowa State and sixthseeded UCLA tip off in the Midwest Region's second semifinal.

The Bruins are playing perteam the best basketball of any Tourngment Buoyed by the late-season return of JaRon Rush - who was suspended by the NCAA earlier in the season - UCLA comes off a \(105-70\) destruction of third-seeded Maryland.

The Bruins visited the Carrier Dome on Feb. 13, where the Orangemen downed UCLA 7167. It's a different season now for the Bruins, however, who besides defeating the Terrapins in the second round, downed then-No. 1 Stanford in the regular season.
basketball team," UCLA coach basketball team," UCLA coach Steve Lavin said. "In particular because of the way we handled the adversity we faced this year in losing JaRon Rush and losing six of seven games at one point. rewarding team for me most rewarding team for me as a head coach, because of the developments throughout the sea-
- Day and evening classes
- Extended payment plan

The Cyclones won't be a cakewalk for the Bruins. Led by All-American Marcus Fizer. Iowa State raced through the regular season with a \(\mathbf{2 9 - 4}\) ord.
The inside presence of Fizer is the main thing that scares
"I think Marcus Fizer is as dominant as anyone in the country," Lavin said. "We faced a lot of big people this year but he's very versatile, like a Charles Barkley ... He's a nightmare matchup-wise."

\section*{TAKE FLIGHT}
with Summer Sessions classes at Stony Brook
Wing your way to the University at Stony Brook
- 258 undergraduate courses in 38 subjects
- Low New York State tuition
- Easy telephone registration
- Live on campus or commute from home

Classes begin May 30 and July 10
Visit our Web site: www.sunysb.edu/summer
Or call 24 hours a day to request a summer course catalog 1-800-559-7213

\section*{STDNY BR IMNK}

\section*{So This Is Life ...}
by Jen Szeto

\section*{Classic Meth}
\begin{tabular}{|l|}
\hline How to \\ walk \\ up the \\ Stairways \\ outside \\ Schine \\
a simple lesson \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

by Jeff Feligno but NEVER take normal Steps.

\section*{Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles}
by Neil Swaab

\section*{CROSSWORD}

ByTHOMAS JOSEPH
ACROSN 45 Dete 1 Finish last 46 Frosh 5 Flint creation 10 Lustrous DOWN 12 Gerns 1 Deducschool 2 Verdi 13 "Under- creation stand?" 3 The 14 Martini Evil 14 Garnish 15 Writer Levin 16 Incited 18 Its capital 20 Presidential Gloss Gloss target 23 Bill's movie buddy Mirth 26 Settles the bill 28 Luau dish 29 Clothes line 31 Actor Cariou 32 Secret meetings 36 Lot choice 39 Service 40 Pewarí islands 41 Last 43 Fencing swords Choinar choices

Get ‘Cuse To It
by Damone Jones

O-Tay
by Becky Johnson

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[b]{15}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Notices
Summers Corring Lose tha! winter bulge. Doct
Recommended 30 million have last their weight! 1.888-769-2967

\section*{Bikes}

Gary Fisher Joshua MTE. Full suspensicn, fock Shax Judy and ccupe deluxe rear shock. Only 2 years oid. si80.0.00 new

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Beyondclasscom. a last growing website/e-zine.
needs thented wstitets ond web-jays. Positions are company and a chance 10 gel some orear publicity! Communications journalism or English maiors preferted Email JoAnctea
Davncis Armory Square looking for prep cook weill qrommed, honest 475-0384 SalesMMarketing Rep: Earn \($ 150-5300 /\) week workng pantline within yout Colitge coramurnity for an iniernet based. student maketing fifm. you have entegreneurial spini are self-ciscipline Apply On-line a www wampusplobatnetcom. Clici income opportunities. Of towant sesume ncome oppartunities. Of to careerse campusgiobaninet.corm

College Girts Wanted tor Interne! Business. Cali 455 -8723 Leave Message.
Painters Wanted for Summer. Work in Universt and surrounding areas. Stat: Mid Aptil or Early May. Cal: Gary 446 - 9598 . In need of EXPERIENCED people to do reset if inserested.

DISIABBIOR needed, part-fime, North Country Utica. IthacalCortland and Cnondaga counly areas. Must have suitable car, clean drivers hicence. neat appearance and good penmanship.
Established roules wiexpansion opportunities for competent rep. This is a rack jobbing position with ilexitle hours. Il you have the night outlook and pe the money is there. Good working relerences. Mail hant-winten ressume, sifte and pay requirements to Marshall Penn-York, Attn: T.M No teiephone inquiries accepted.
Comp Counzelort Top Overnight Comps in \({ }_{\text {pocono Mins. }}^{\text {counselors }} \quad{ }_{1-800-533 \text {-camp }}\) activiens specialis www.pirelocesticamp.com

CAMP COUNSELORS - NEW YO Aise 8 play in the

 All Sports, Water sking, Canoeing, Fposes. Counselors, Kitcher, Ottice, & Niont Nutrition a Webumwcarnpshane.com
Job Opportunities
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{Tired of the same boring summer job? Joveriant camp as ninules tirm Phiadelothia, speciatists in sports, archery tennis, golf, painthald, photography, videa, woodshop.
oufdoor adventufelopes, lakeltont \(&\) pood ion Call Brett or Bobbi (800)543-9830 or \(\qquad\)} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Pre-medical student wanted lor lualtime position Pre-medcal student wanted lor luil-time position at busy medicai otsice, while waiting to hear tro medical schools. 452-2600 Unversity Eattenfing Classes Start Soon sludent Discounts 1-B00-IS-CAN-MIX ww.universityartenting com Space is Limiled Call For Information!!!!

\section*{WANTED Child Care}

BABYSITTER position starting \(6 / 12\) in Dewitt. 3 gits ages \(6.9+12\). Own car. Non smoker. Room available. \(C 3 i t 445-7033\) at night.

Eabysiter Wanted- Single Dad needs help with 58 B year old boys Monday alhernoons \(3: 30\) to \(5: 30\) pra, Wectnesday mornings and every other Monday morning \(6: 45\) to \(8: 15\) am. Watch them in my Jamesvile home. Call Fick \(e_{492-2110}\) Jamesvie for details.

\section*{Help Wanted}

Groony Dude! Gel paid while you surt the intemet! Ifs that easy with no gimmicks www groovrudecom \($ 1500\) weexly potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Fequired. Free information packet. Ca 202-452.7679

\section*{\begin{tabular}{l}
Fralernities- Sororities \\
Clubs \\
\\
\hline
\end{tabular}}

Clubs' Student Groups
Sudent organizaions earn \($ 1,000-$ 2,000\) with the easy campusfundraisercom tivee hour fundraising ump.campus/undraiser com.

Local company seeks telephone interviewers! researther. Prolessional environmen. Make yout own parit time schedule. Above average pay with incentives 8 bornuses. Some college and computer skilis prelerted Fax resume to \(422-0040\) or send to Liberry Business Develocment Group send to Liberry Business Development Grow 200 N. Tounsend

Roommates

\section*{Foommate wanted for fall semester 200 only} in a 2 bedroom apartment on Euclid Avense.
Reasotiably priced. \(476-2982\)

\section*{FOR RENT}

\section*{Two Bedroom Apartments on Eucid Fubnished} Heat induded. hardwood ilcors, porth, remodeled. laundry. parking. 476.2962 Luxurious: zstory apinot. Gourmet kivdin,

 Call lor appt 469-0780

\section*{

}

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom. completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ \\ Town Houses \\ Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 479-6504}

Apartments elose to campus clean 2-3-5 pedroors some with fifreplaze tanudry sernifurnished reasonabie price 487 -5761. semifurnished reasonable price 487-5761.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
University nicely turnished quiet \(1,2.3\) bedroons also 5 bedroom nicely furnished house relerences \(478-2642\)
13 Comstock Across From Womens Gym. All amerisies, nid May leaso \(52400+682-3394\) 4Badrooms. OaklandSt., 1Block ESF, 3Blocks Law+ hospitals, furnished, parking, Laundry, Univeraly Ave Thraa Bedroorn Flat Close Walk oo Camputs furnished laundry parting lease 5875.00
phas untities QN.Drucker 44s-1229
Westcont Euclid renovated \(3+4\) bedroonn amail 6/1
S650- 5780 PaM parking DiW Pat 263-3415
Univarsity Ave. five bedroom House one block

Edrm House \($ 30 \mathrm{Cm}\) and 3 botm fats \($ 250 \mathrm{~mm}\).
Avail Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Really Avail Aug. Very niee. Walk to SU. FM Really Group 637.5195
KensingtonPlace 1stFloor larpe 3Biedroom ishtwasher mierowave disposal frupplace

Gai7ent-9pm 247-7851 ca426-1804

\section*{Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc}

Marshall Square Mall
Custom New / Used / Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops / Printers / Monitors

Best Prices
Guarenteed Work
```

Hours
Mon. Thur Fs. 9:30-5:30

```

Phone: 315-423-9284 Web Page: www.computerdoctorsyr.com

L(.)(.)K
Safe a Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details
1-2.3 Bedroom Apartments, Beautilui, Spacious Ohstreet Patking, Fully Fumished, Low Utidities Safe, Cuiet. Close 476-0295
University and Comstock Very close to Campus
Efficiencies and Two Bedrownis Secure blos. lurnisthed la undry pasking sint secute blog.
Ackerman Ave. 4br 2Path apt. Furnished. carpeted, walk to campus. Well maintained. 5/00-5/01 lease 446-7202

\section*{Apartments}
\begin{tabular}{c}
\(* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *\) \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apts. close \\
to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
4400.6200 \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Ackerman Ave. nice 3 bedroom Ilal, Purnished tove, refrig. latndify fireplace. garage.

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEARROOMS BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
CAL JOHN or JUDY
478-7548

One Bedroorn Aparimnonts Close to Campus, utilities included, Ozk Hows, fire phace, furrished, parking, very dean. laundry Cait Gordon \(476 \cdot 2982\). urrished 2-58edroom Houses/ Apattments Wingston, Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6565 arge 2 bedroom. 2 tull bath. Walking tistanco

COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS
329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Large bedrooms.
Laundry. Parking. Alarms.
Lowest rents for modern new construction.
low utilities.
University Area Apts
www.universityarea.com
One bedroom stusto apartment, very lazge, one block from campus, bots ol doset space 5475 imo plus utils. 423-0830
Four Bedroom on Akkerman, Furnished, Dishwasher. Two Porches. Olf stree s. Oltrei Parking Laundry. Carpel. Hath
Call Gordon 476-2982

1,2,3 and 4 Bedroom Apartments
302 Marshall St
504 Walnut Ave
\(6 \% 1\) Euclid Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Futly Furnished, Laundry
Maintenance and Management, Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Fefinished Hard Wood Floors Fefinished Hard Wood Floors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St. \($ 30\) 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
3 Bedroom Modern Apartment on Ackerman Avenue. \($ 220.00\) per person plus utitites. Available June ist 2000. Some ofl Street Parking Pets. 254-0025 Large 3 bedroom, 2 futl bath. Walking distance
5. C . Off street parking, Laundry. Call \(476-2982\).

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

Ackemman turnished spacious two Bdifm of streen parking laundry thcilities utitibes ind, 446-8576

\section*{Euclid and}

Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished
DW, taundry
Parking, Porch Beautiful Condition
June August lease
Ben Tupper
637-0978

\section*{Jniversity 283 Bedrocm Townilouses a Flats.} minetace

2 Bedroon apt with 2 car garage. 1 Becroom apt mith 2 car grago 125 Kemanylonha.
corner of Lancaster \($ 550472-2667\).
arpe clean 32edroom lats Westeort, Broad 51 1 yr lease seaurity \(5860+446-8928\)
One and 7 wo Bedroom Forner of Waihut and Harrishoc Avarucisents Corner of Wablut and 2000 .
Lasi Month and Security No Fots All
Gractuatos Preferred Cill \(422-7755\)

\section*{Big East finds success in postseason action}

The Sweet 16 has arrived, and like many people expected, the Big East has three teams alive and well. But who had the right three?

Conference powerhouses St. John's and Connecticut already bowed out, but \section*{Chuck Miami and Chuck Seton Hall big east carry the.} notebook far, they've each had very nto the regiondifferent roads into the regional semifinals.

\section*{Orange brick road.}

Though Syracuse was supposed to make it this far according to the bracket-makers, many experts weren't sure Before the tournament, Samford was a popular pick as a first-round upset over SU. Experts spoke of the Bulldogs' ability to hit the 3 -pointer and how strong guard play usually aids first-round upsets. Well, Syracuse took care of business and came away with a 79-65 victory.

In the craziest secondround in recent memory, a No. 5 over No. 4 upset certainly wouldn't have been hard to pic ture. Especially considering the underdog was Kentucky, who knocked off the Orangemen in the nationaltitle game just four years ago. The game was much closer than SU's first-round match, but despite foul trouble and awful shooting, the Orange escaped with a \(52-50\) win.
Rock you like a hurricane Though Miami was one of the hottest teams coming into the tournament - and regular season conchamps of the Big East - its bracket placement was less than desirable. Despite beating St. John's in the last game of the season and finishing ahead of the Red Storm in the standings, the Hurricanes were seeded four spots lower at No. 6. And even worse, their second-round opponent figured to be the strongest No. 3 seed in the tournament, the Buckeyes from Ohio State.

First things first, though. Miami had to face one of the hottest teams in the tournament, Arkansas, in its firstround game. The Razorbacks looked primed for an NIT run before the NCAAs started, but by winning the SEC tournament, they snuck in the backdoor of the Big Dance. Though door of the Big Dance. Though Miami pulled ahead early, the Razorbacks made a late run and nearly stole a victory. However, Miami prevailed 7571.

That brought the huge sec ond-round meeting with Ohio State. The Buckeyes were one of two Big Ten teams to make last year's Final Four, and last year's Final Four, and there was no reason to think there was no reason to think they couldn't do it again. The they couldn't do it again. The game against Miami remained close throughout the first half, but something happened down the stretch. The Hurricanes felt the magic of upset weekend and pulled away with a 75-62 win.

\section*{Polly want an upset}

Probably the most unlikely team left in the tournament is Seton Hall. The Pirates must have a real lucky parrot on their shoulders, as they've won back-to-back overtime games to reach this weekend's East Reginnal held in the Carrier Dome.

Seton Hall did not fit the mold of a team that would make a run to the third round The Pirates had lost four of five games before the postseason, and it seemed they almost played their way out of the Dance.

However, the Pirates were seeded 10 th, making them one of the lowest seeded teams to receive an at-large bid. Making the most of their chances, they fropped Oregon \(72-71\) in their second heroics by Shaticen Holloway.

Then Scton Hall got some bad luck to go with the good. Holloway, the heart and soul of the team, got hurt. The ankle injury occurred early in the game against Temple, and it seemed as though the swollen ankle would be too big to slide Cinderella's slipper over.

However, the Pirates worked their overtime magic again and knocked off the perennial tournament-underachieving Owls 67-65.

\section*{The losers}

Just like Seton Hall, Connecticut suffered an injury to their point guard during the first round. However, they were unable to overcome it.

Though they did knock off Utah State 75-67, they couldn't survive against the speed of Tennessee without their pudgy point man. Khalid El-Amin's inability to play more than a few minutes in the second round was key to the Huskies" loss. Without his energy, they lost to the Vols 65-61.

On the other coast, St. John's was busy disappointing Big East fans as well. We should have seen it coming though. The Red Storm barely beat Northern Arizona in the first round. Some late free throws by Erick Barkley lifted the Red Storm to a 61-56 victory. but the stage was set. Last year's darling of the dance, Gonzaga, was ready for them in the second round. Behind the play of Matt Santangelo. the Bulldogs upended the sec ond-seeded Johnnies 82-76.

\section*{Predictions}

And then there were three. This time of year, it becomes mportant to root for your con ference. And, as always, it's great to cheer on the underdog Oh yeah, don't forget about revenge, too - that's always a revenge, too - that's alway

So what does that mean? It means any SU fans heading to the Carrier Dome for this to the Carrier Dos should be Seekend Halls corner. Forget about what Darius Lane and his 3-point shooting buddies did to SU earlier this season Instead, remember what Oklahoma State did to the Orange in's NCAA Tournament. Go Pirates, go Big East, boo Cowboys!

Se 77 in \({ }^{7} 79\), Oklahoma
In the South Regional, Miami is actually the favorite to win its game. By virtue of Tulsa's win over Cincinnati, Miami will be wearing the white uniforms in their Sweet 16 game. Johnny Helmsley has been shooting the lights out for the 'Canes, and I like the inside play of Mario Bland. The Big East sends another team into the Elite Eight with Miami's third win.
Miami 71, Tulsa 66.

So that brings us to the Orangemen. Even though I picked Michigan State to win it all in my brackets, there is nothing I would love to see more than a Final Four run by Jason Hart and Co. Syracuse athletics have been in a slump during my four years here. The football team is just 1-3 in bowl eames durine my tenure. and the basketball team seemed to underachieve every year until this one. I think they owe me one, and beating will do just fine.

Syracuse 82, Michigan State 78.

The other tournament
Well those weren't the season action. The conference sent four tearns into the NIT as well. In tact, the Georgetown Hoyas won what was possibly the greatest game all year in college hoops.
year in colsege hoops. in the Little Dance was Virginia. The Cavaliers were still angry they didn't get picked over North Carolina to muess the reays in charge got this one right.

Georgetown got 40 points from Kevin Eraswell and sent victory in triple overtime Meanwhile, the Tar Heels are still alive in the NCAAS.

Other first-round winners for the Big East were Villanova and Notre Dame. Both of these teams had thoughts about making an NCAA appearance, but winning the NIT would be good consolation prize. The only Bie East team that failed to win its first-round game in either tournament this season was Rutgers. The Scarlet Knights lost to Kent 73-62.
In the second round, Kent continued its Big East bashing by dropping Villanova 81-67. Georgetown also lost, bowing out to NIT powerhouse
Califormia 60-49
So that lef Notre Dame to keep the Big East alive, which they were able to do. The Irish bested Xavier 76-64 and marched into the third round. faced a BYU program that has turned things around after winning just one game thres years ago. In this religious bat te though, the Catholics prevailed, knocking Mormons 64-52.

That assures Notre Dame of at least two more games at Madison Square Garden, because even if they lose in the semifinals, they will play in the consolation game.

\section*{\([\mathrm{ClaSSifiedS}]\) Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

\section*{PLEASEVISTT OUR} WESSITE FORTHE LARGEST APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
2. 3 Barm Apts and 4 Bdrm Houst for rent on Trandand Ave. Pedarianos Properties 263-2724 Chices at 175.5 Mearchell SL.
204 Ostrom Efficiency One and 2Bedroorn Securs Axdil vanc \(446-5186\)
1.2.3.4. 85 Bdrm Apartments. Housast clean, Spacious, Supation Condion, some puruing \(474-6791\). Welking distance, laundry.

> One Bedroom Apartments, Frome with 9 month leases. traplace. harcheod floors, fumtshed, 476-2982

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Great University Area Beautifus Modern 122 Edim Apts, for 2000-2001 (AC, Dishivesher) HealM Mot Whter Ine. secure Buildings Wfintarroms, Door Releasers. Cuttom Blinds, Porch or Patio. \\
 Call \(176 .-1963\) or Stup ty Orice at 116 Newtry Hollow (oft Erighten) 115 Newtrury Hollow (oft E. Brighten) \end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 EAdams
Carpeted, Air Condiaioned. Furnished. Secure, Laundry, Parking. Maintemance.

University Area Apts. www.universityorea.com

\section*{TOAD HALL}
t/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. facros from Haveri).

479-5005
Apartment 4 At. 2tull batib liplace n.wood thoo 1.room droom porchit ree iavindy avaiable \(\underset{4}{4}\)

2 Bedroom furnished apartment mith att utilities 2 Bedroom turnished aparment min an campus. Laundry. Pathing. Mayy August leases 446-9598
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Eedroem Apt \\
Ackerminn Ave 5-1-6 \\
Futiy Furnisted Ponchew, Leurndry Parking. Dishwasher Owner Manager 682-2218
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Houses \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
6 BEDFOOM HOUSE \\
Specious six bedroom, Furnished Pouse. w/feshwasher and sulterge bedrooms and TWO hit bagheorms. Of street parking with parage. Washer and dryer in buildeng CALL 430-5188 after 1:DOpm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Charroing English Tutar House on Comslock 6 Avai \(520475 \cdot 1012,(843) 584-3881\)
UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEASITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

House For Rent 2 minutes from Main Carnpus or. 1 bioch to campus 721 Ostrom Ave \(4.56-3693\)

\section*{Surnmer Rentals}

\section*{} uluities inclutsec. \(2.3+4\) bedroom apartments vailable. Fent whole apartment or by the room One blook trom Campus. 44E-9598

SERVICES

Travel

Eurorail Paza Exparta www.raildeals.com Get

BE FLEXIBLE SAVE SAS EUKOPA SI5S
(O/W + 1 Iaxes) CHEAP FARES WORLDWIDE: Mexicucraribbean \($ 199\) (ift taxes)
Call: \(800-326-2009\) www. 4 ctieapair.com

MISC.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{Now frow THE Dili OANGE:} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Spartans end \(\mathbf{S U}\) season} BY CONNOR ENNIS
Asst. Sports Editor
AUBURN HILLS, Mich. - It resembled a demolition, when omething that previl simply blow strong and up.

For about 25 minutes Thursday, Syracuse remained ahead of the Midwest Region's No. 1 seed, san Spartan crowd at the Palace of Auburn Hills.
MSU fowever, the sharp shooting of Sorward Morris Peterson and a second-half scoring barrage by the entire Spartan team collapsed the Orangemen's foundation in a semifinal.

Michigan State vances to vances to the Elite Eight on Saturday against lowa State, which beat UCLA on Thursday. The

I have said that this is a spe cial team since the beginning, and they showed it in the second half ater being beaten is the first half, Izzo said. "The shots we got were encouraging and the second half was as good as we have played."

The Spartans shot 68 percent from the field in the second half, including 60 percent ( 9 -for-15) from behind the 3 -point arc. All of the shots came against SU's vaunted 2 3 zone, which bottled up the MSU offense in the first half.

However, a halftime tonguelashing by senior point guard Mateen Cleaves seemed to wake the Spartans from their slumber and saw them unleash ther dead-ey shooting.
"He chewed everybody out," Peterson said of Cleaves. "He said we weren't playing hard and we think that challenge opened some eyes." Peterson, MSU's supremely athletic senior, scored 16 of his team-leading 21 points in the second half and hit 4-of-6 from behind the arc. Spartan center A.J. game's final 20 minutes, scoring 17

See GAME page 6
 Redshirt freshman Kureth Duany (left) and junior Rob McClanaghan realize an Orangemen Ioss Thursday as Syracuse fell out of the NCA4 tournament with a 75-58 defoat bo Michigan State.

\section*{Loss sends seniors home, searching for triumphs}

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. - Jason Hart's Supreme to any highlight package or witty, alliterated newspaper lead, the Syracuse point guard's

Dave Curtis demeanor near the center the state of Orangemen bas ketball.

He performed a little jig in the waning seconds of win with his teammates win with his teammates ine afer a tough home loss, he'd pose over the larg orange " \(S^{\prime}\) " in the Carrier Dome's center jump circle hands on his hips, frown on his face, eyes toward the his face, Thursday night, with 1:04 left on the timer and a nine-point lead overwhelming his team, Hart's head dropped near midfoor, hands on knees, no expression on his face eyes toward the ground.
The 11-point, 10-assist performance came nowhere near easing the pain. The defense that kept Mateen Cleaves scoreless for 23 minutes hardly helped, either.

Hart, like classmates Etan Thomas and Ryan Blackwell, watched their careers close Thursday night in most painful fashion.

For 35 minutes, the Orangemen battled Michigan State to a draw on the scoreboard Little separated the two teams as winning time drew near at The Palace of Auburn time d \({ }^{115}\)
But reminiscent of SU's 22-2 spurt to bury Connecticut at the Carrier Dome in January, the Spartans went on a 17-0 charge Jonuary, the Spartans went on a

Every system that clicked for the game's first three-and-a-half quarters malfunctioned in the stretch run of the season's biggest game.

Orangemen shots, once fluid, now appeared forced and banged off the rim.

See FINISHED page 7

\section*{State Affairs}

\section*{Pataki awards funding for parks}

\author{
BY JOY DAVIA
}

LIVERPOOL - New York state Gov. George E. Pataki arrived in Liverpool Thursday to help Onondaga Lake Park complete a proposed 12 mile bike and walking loop around the lake.

The trail in its completion would touch the Carouse! Center and Armory Square in Syracuse. Pataki gave \($ 480,000\) to pave Onondaga Lake Park's two-mile West Shore Trail. The new project will extend the already paved

Standing against the backdrop of Onondaga Lake, Pataki gestured to the in-line skaters and Lake, Patakd gestured the paved path around him

See PATAKI page 3

\section*{E City Affairs}

McCall attacks governor's budget surplus management

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

The New York state government needs an overhaul, said State Comptrol. ler H. Carl MeCall Thursday at Drumlins Country Club

McCall chastised the poor management of the state government which he claims is guilty of secrecy and irrational spending.

Management of the state surplus is evidence of the administrative misbehavior, he said at Drumlins, 800 Not tingham Rd.

The surplus was caused by a lengthy period of prosperity in the area, McCall said. Legislators, however, have squandered it on "useless" programs that sent the state into debt, he said.
"We're not using it wisely," he said. "We have to set our priorities straight or were going to have to pay ror i. We cant expect this boom io continue. That's why we have to be prudent."
St

State voters never approved 85 percent of this year's surplus-funded pragrams, McCall said. Instead, a small group of officials privately decided where to allocate the money, he said

The problem was this backdoor

See MCCALL page 8

\section*{Stewart shares success recipe}

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
As Martha Stewart took the stage Thursday in Goldstein Auditorium, she could not resist the chance to poke fun at the source of her fame and fortune.
"Just need to do a little furni ture rearranging," Stewart said to the scld-out erowe of 1,500 with a laugh, as she nearly collided at the podium with Karen Bakke, the retailing department chairwoman in the Syracuse University College for Human Development.

Before shuffling off stage Bakke presented Stewart with au SU sweatshirt and welcomed her to campus.

Martha needs no introduc tion," Bakke sajd. "She has given respectability to something that has been seen as dull and unimportant.

The Coll know how she did it. opment invited Stewart to campus as part of its Sue Ann Genet Lecture series. Sponsored by SU benefactor Leon Genet, the series invites corporate officials to lecture retailing students.

Genet selects the speakers for the lecture series without the consultation of the retailing department and called Stewart a "hot personality."
"Slie can bring an excitement to students, and to what they think they can accomplish." Genet said. They can acheve it just as she ha achieved it."

The free tickets for the event sold out within 40 minutes when they first on sale March 1

\section*{The Stewart plan}

Dressed in a navy blue pantsuit, Stewart spoke to the auhow she has glamorized domestic tasks.
In almost 20 years, Stewart has become a well known name in the art of living. She markets See STEWART page 7

RACNAEL s. GOLDEN/The Dally Orange Martha Stewart offers living sold-out Goldstein Auditorium

\title{
[briefs]Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{New software aids} movie file pirating A new software hack known as "Wrapster" has added computer programs and digital movies to the repertoire of Napster, a controversial software that's drawn the ire of the recording industry by allowing Internet users to copy music files for free and then swap Wrapster released. Wrapster, released this week by an other wrammer who uses the name Octavian high. name Octavian, highghts the growin providers that they are losing control over thei material as toals for breaking and sharing copyrighted data proliferate.

\section*{Syphilis outhreak}

\section*{raises concerns}

LOS ANGELES - An outbreak of syphilis among gay men in Los Angeles is one more "safer sex" message fafer sex message through or is being shrugged off, state and nationwide experts said Thursday.

Syphilis, though easily treatable when caught in its early stages, is a good marker for the level of risk a population is willing to hazard in its sexua practices.

That 26 cases of syphilis have recently cropped up in Los Angeles, most within six weeks, has public AlDs prevention advo cates worried.

Study unveils fruit fly genetic map A tiny fly that has taught scientists volheredity and humanity's place in the natural world yields its biggest secret when 230 researchers from eight countries report that they have unraveled its entire genetic map.

In a special issue of he journal Science, the researchers unveil striking findings about the genome of the fruit fly, including the discovery of new genes that may make it an ideal organism for understanding cancer and other diseases in people.

Drosophila
melanogaster, the second animal to have its senome fully described, is by far the most complex, having system and speciallzed organs.

\section*{Presidential e-mail disputed}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The Justice Department has launched a criminal inquiry into the White House's misdence.
The e-mail may have been relevant to congressional and relevant to congressional and nas on matters ranging from campaign fund-raising to the Monica S. Lewinsky scandal, according to court papers.

At issue in the Justice probe is the White House's learned in 1998 that a computer system, apparently because of inadvertent programming errors, had failed to keep an archive of thousands of emails sent to some 500 of e-mails sent to some 500
White House employees from White House employees from outsiders.

Employees for the private contractor that ran the e-mail archive have alleged that administration officials threatened them to keep quiet about the missing records.

And lawmakers have compiained that even after senior of the problem, they never notified congressional committees about potential gaps in the records they turned over.
In a separate computer problem whose dimensions were revealed for the first time yesterday, the White House counsel disclosed that a vast quantity of e-mail from and to Vice President AI Gore and his staff was never properly recorded - and thereore was never reviewled to determine if it was relevant to fund-raising abuses in 1996.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Police detain sixth-grade boy \\ Bush criticizes Gore reform}

CHICAGO - A sixthgrade student who said he wanted to join his mother in jail held his classmates and teacher at bay with a pistol in an eastern Ohio elementary school Thursday until another teacher persuaded him to give uphis weapon, authorities said.

The 12 -year-old boy was taken into custody and no one was injured in the brief confrontation at the McKinley Elementary School in Lisbon, Ohio, the latest in a series of en public schools across the en public schools across the country and heightened decountry and heightened de

Police Chief John Higgins aid the youth, whose name said the youth, whose name juvenile, pulled a loaded 9 mm semi-automatic handgun from a trouser pocket when his class bell rang about 8:45 a.m. and ordered his 25 classmates and teacher Dan Kemats to lie on the flaor.

The weapon had 10 cartridges and the boy had another magazine with four rounds, Higgins said.

AUSTIN, Texas -- Texas Gov. George W. Bush launched a sharp attack against Vice President Al Gore, calling him "an obstacle to reform" who is too partigan and untrustworthy to fix Social Security or enact campaign finance reenac form.

Despite an earlier promise to run a wholly positive campaign, the presumptive Republican nominee began an interview in his headquarters here With unprompted criticism of front in their rapidly escalating conflict with his comments ing confict wocial Security reform

During the 45-minute interview, Bush said he hoped to "lift the spirit" of the country between now and November and touched on education and other issues he intends to run on this fall.

Passing up several opportunities to offer any kind words about his rival, Bush said he has met the vice president only once in passing and doesn't know Gore well enough to conclude whether he likes

\section*{world news}

\section*{Oil smugglers rob Hungary}

BUDAPEST, Hungary As big-time scams go, the great Hungarian oil swindle of the last decade was evify simplers extraordinarily profitable.

Buy up diesel fuel outside the country, dye it red so it ing oil, remove the dye and sell it as diesel fuel. Pockret the unpaid taxes. Millions of illegally sold gallons and hundreds of millions of illicit dollars later, Hungary is still counting up the cost. government and enriched Hungarian mobs to the tune of at least \($ 400\) million, according to official estimates. The cash gusher also allowed fledgling post-communist gangs to consolidate into sophisticated criminal enterprises that marry legiti-mate business activities to inmate business activities to international operations in drugs, ternational operations in drugs, prostitution, stolen cars and money laudering.

\section*{Ocean water \\ warms globe}

The temperature of the world's oceans has increased dramatically over the past four decades, according to a major study that adds new credibility to projections of increased global warming.
For years, many experts

\section*{Terrorist groups threaten Clinton}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Several terrorist groups have directed threats at President Clinton in connection with his week-long visit to South Asia, including an assassination including an assassination plot directly linked to accused terrorist leader Osama bin Laden, officials said Wednesday.

On Monday, the Secret Service abruptly canceled Clinton's scheduled trip to Joypura, a village in rural indicated that inteligence were plannin to fire zealots were planning to fire a shoulpresident's helicopter, officials presid.

Several hundred villagers instead were bused to the U.S. Embassy in Dhaka, the capital, to meet with Clinton.
Several letters harbor distinct grudges against the president, according to U.S. officiala, and one threatening email recently urged: "Send Clinton Back in a Coffin." "Clearly there are higher security concerns on this trip," knowledged.
have suspected that heat stored in the sea may have kept the planet's atmosphere from heatwarming scenarios predict.

But there has been no convincing evidence because detailed, long-term records of ocean temperatures - especialunavailable.

Now that evidence has arrived. In the first effort of its kind, scientists from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration spent years painstakingly piecing together ture records made by temperaof independs made by hundreds of independent observers worldnever compiled into a single

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw presents a "cake cutting" National Orange Day and SU', National Orange Day and SU's are in Schine Student Center.
- Composer Robert Ashley presents the U.S. premiere of his new chamber opera, "Au Pair" at 8 p.m. in Setnor Auditorium. Tickets are available at the al admission, \($ 7\) for students and senior citizens, and \($ 3\) for Arts Adventure passholders.

EGifford Auditorium hosts the English and Textual Studies Undergraduate Conference between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Readings will include fiction, poetry, essays and papers.
\(\square\) Boris D. Pankin, former foreign minister under Mikhail Gorbachev during the final days of the Soviet Union, speaks at 4 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium regarding "Andecdotes and Perspectives: From the Soviet Union to the Role of Russia in the New Europe."
- The Turkish Club hosts a Backgammon tournament at 1 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 211 . The entry fee is \($ 3\).

\section*{FRIDAY-SATURDAY}

E Comedians Al Kaz and Spike Tobin perform at 8 p.m. at the Viva Debris Comedy and cuse. Call 474-0969 for ticket information.
\(\square\) UUCinemas presents "Galaxy Quest" at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is \($ 3\). "Star Trek IV: midnight for no charge.

\section*{SATURDAY}
- The College of Nursing hosts an open house for students pursuing a baccalaureate degree in nursing at 10 a.m. A program follows at 11 a.m. for those with a four-year degree in a nonnursing field who are interested in a nursing degree. For more nformation call Joe Sexton at 443-2027.
\(\square\) Syracuse Stage presents A Raisin in the Sun" at 4 and 8:30 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 38\), discounts 443-3275 for more ticket infor-\(443-327\) mation.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news missions are also acceptod vict email at news@dailyorange.com.
[d०̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Ftiday during by The Daily Orange Corp. The DO

\section*{PATAKI}

\section*{continued from page 1}
and said he wanted the western end of the lake to become popular with local residents, who usually prefer the east trail.

Enhancements to Onondaga Lake also leads to tourism - anther way Central New York enn "We are just malking sure al New York is getting better and better," he said. About one m the park each year The Syracuse would surround the take by pxtend ing the existing trail through the state fairgrounds, Syracuse Mayor Roy A. Bermardi said.
"It ll combine the entire area to make it one - to make it a tourist attraction," he said

These efforts to enhance the lake's surroundings coincide with atternpts to elean it, which has included spending tens of thousands of dollars," said Nick Pirro, Onondaga County Executive.

The current unpaved portion of the loop, extending from the pedestrian bridge crassing over lu-terstate 690 to Alhan Parkway in the town of Geddes, is currently inadequate for bicycles, strollers and wheelchairs. But a new asphalt foundation will make traveling more smooth and handicap accessible, ac-

The late imp ofice.
The lake improvement project is one of 10 different revitalization projects in western New York state that Pataki announced Thursday. The projects total more than \($ 1.8\) Village of Mexico Business District Village of Mexico Business District Streetscape in Oswego Country and replacing deteriorated sidewalks Marcellus.

The first step in the proposed Syracuse Canalway Trail began in 1997 with the creation of the East Shore Recreation Trail, which spans from the Salt Museum and Visitor Center to the Bay in Liverpool.

But several years ago a separate shoreline walking trail was made to run parallel to the east shore path, which was blocked off to skaters and bikers.
"It was so popular you had to separate the shaters from the wallers," said Robert Ellis, county parks superintendent.

Onondaga County Commissioner of Transportation Bruce
Trexler said he does not know when Trexler said he does not know when the construction will start, but the path should be completed by summer. It took about six-and-a-half weeks to construct the east shore trail, he added.

Trexler said he hoped the entire loog would be completed in seven years, extending to outside trails About 15 years age the Was About 15 years ago the Wes Shore Trail was leveled and Miled with gravel, said Liverpool resident David Kline, who frequents both paths. But the path has since worn ", he added.
"Now it is hard di
some gravel," he snid.
John Dellas, co-ouner of Varsi y Pizza, 802 S . Crouse Ave. in Syracuse, said his frequent bike tended bike path. Dellas said he nor mally rides 15 to 20 miles during each visit and has to ride back and forth on the path.

Although Kline saves his inline skating for the east shore trail, he said he prefers mountain biking on the West Shore Trail because of its seclusion and natural termin.

\section*{Celebrities to tour campus}

\section*{BY ASHLEIGH GRAF}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Continuing the spirit of this week's anti-sweatshop protests, celebrity speakers will bring other controversial issues to the table Sunday as the Spitfire Tour 2000 travels to Syracuse University's Goldstein Auditorium.

I carne across it on the Internet and I thought it sounded like a Fatcher president of student AntiAnthrapocentric Reasoning OrgaAnthropocentric Reasoning Organization and one of the organizers of the event. Actor An "Actor Andy Dick, from the sitcom "NewsRadio," is expected to speak about drug abuse, Radio Kennedy will give a presentation titled If Freedom Rings, Will You Answer It?

Michael Franti, a member of the band Spearhead, will deliver an address called "Staying Human." Jello Biafra will tive a speech called Non-Violent Extermination Dead Kennedys band member and a current candidate for the Green Party's presidential nomination.
"It's basically to use celebrities to get our message out, said Elizabeth Cline, a mernber of SARO and a jumior policy studies major. SARO is a broup that advocates human rights, environmental issues and animal rights.

Katcher, however, said he felt slightly disappointed about the choice of speakers, with the exception of Biafra.

Initially, I intended Spitfire to focus on specific topics of human rights, environmental issues and animal rights," he said. "Cerrain speakers are not progressive, so that kind of contradicts the purpose." The students could not control the specific guests coming to SU, he said. SU, he sxid.
nniversity Union and SARO spoke with Spitfire organizers to try to request speakers pertaining to issues dea
"I told UU what we wanted and it really wasn't in either of our and it really wasn't in either of our control, he said. I am a it is coming at all. It is a grod event overall. It raises awareness about issues in general."

A number of activist student organizations will set up tables outside the auditorium before and after the presentation, he added.
"If people have questions, they can come up and talk to us one-onone," Cline said.

Other organizalions expected to be represented include the Student Caalition on Organized Labor, the Student Environmental Action Coalition and the Syracuse chapter of the New York Public Interest Research Group, Katcher said. Katcher and Cline said they do not expect a sold out auditoriurn, but hope the students that do attend will become more enlightened.
\({ }^{4}\) I am hoping people will come away educated, but basically it is just going to be entertainment," Cline said.

Tickets are \($ 3\) and can be purchased at the Schine Box Office, Katcher ecid.

The event, however, was not publicized effectively, Cline said. Ryan Grow, a freshman television, radio and film major, agreed.
"I haven't heard a thing about it," Grow said. "I might stop at a cable, not because I know about a table. I have better things to do with my time."

The event is the kick-off to Progressive Activism Awareness Week, Katcher added. Other events taking place next week will include a civil disobedience trainWednesday in front of Hendricks Chapel, Katcher said.

The Daily Orange
March 24, 2000

KAZUHIRO YOKOZEKI/The Daily Orange Local Republicans, including state Sen. John Defrancisco and state Sen. Nancy Larraine Hoffman, Hank Gov. George E. Pataki at awards or \($ 1.8\) million for beautification projects in area parks and city landscapes.
dent organizations will be there, talking over a microphone, spreading knowledge about progressive activism and why it is important," he said.
ight now with the sweatshop is sue."

Westcott Alterations 124 Dell Street
Syracuse, NY 13210
476-2884
Complete Alterations Dry Cleaning Service Available Minutes from S.U. * Fast Service

M-F 8:00-5:30 Sat 9-2

\section*{COELEGESBCOMPRESENTS}

Created In Part By Zack De La Rocha of Rage Against The Machine. The Spitire Tour Is A Free Speent Tour That Aims To Educnte. Enlighten and Entertain, While InstigatingAction.

\section*{Dead Kennedys Mhsician \\ Jello Biafra}

Von-Violent Extermination of the Rich
Ex-MITV VJ & Author
Kennedy
If Freedom Rings, Will You Answer It?

\section*{Conedian}

Andy Dick
Drug AbusedLife Experience
Sunday, March 26th
Coldstein Auditorium, 6:30 pm
\($ 3\) Students, \($ 4\) General

Moderated By Spearhed Muxician

\section*{Michael Franti}

Staying Iluman

Brought To You By: university union

\title{
How do you feel about the Orangemen's success?
}

Students share their thoughts on being an SU hoops fan.

4 feel good for them. You can tell they're really into it this season.g

CHRIS WHALEY Management Class of \({ }^{\circ} 00\)

41'm really excited for all my friends on the team. And I want to be supportive, because it'd be cool if ive, because it'd be cool we could win a national title that wasn't for lacrosse. \(\%\)

IM HENDRICKSON Arts and Sciences

Class of \({ }^{\circ} 00\)

4it's great to see the team continually winning this year. I thought it was all over after tast year, but the seniors are really car the seniors a rying them.

BEN SCHOENFELD
Newhouse
Class of \(\mathbf{O 1}\)

4i tove basketball. it total. ly puts our school on the map. It's a great season to be a fan - the best one there's been since I've been here."
M.1. CONRAD Arts and Sciences Class of \({ }^{\circ} \mathrm{OL}\)

\section*{Students must wear orange pride}

It is one of the most exciting times of the year in the world of athletics. The NCAA basketball tournament has infiltrated the campuses of 64 different colleges across the country. All the schools competing
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Jason & \begin{tabular}{l} will be able to \\ show off their \\ True colors and
\end{tabular} \\ Tanembaum \\
courove whether \\ they can meet
\end{tabular}
them.
During this time - March Madness - many diohard Sytacuse University fans, like me, begur to feel a bit more excited. Our hearts pound faster, our patience begins to get shorter and shorter, the air smells fresher and during each hour of the day we count down how many hours until tip off The adrenaline is flowing in all of us.

Over lunch today, my roommate gave me the lowdown about conight's basketball game in Auburn Oramgmen will face the Alichipan Orangemen will hace the Michigan State Spartians. As I listenta to As I listeried to Gabrielle
Goldstein on the bench her detail and dispute the actuthe Auburn Hills the Auburn Hills 50 miles from MSU, so the stands are sure to be packed with Spartan lans - I began pondering the implications of attending a com pletely sports-oriented and sportsdriven undiversity-

Athletios is the so-called joy of Syracuse. But the mind numbing, spirit crushing, overwhelming presence of our sports teams infects our every thought and action.

Is it really such a beautiful hing? To everyone? What about the kids who never really got into sports? The kids who were always picked liust in gym class, who ran off

However, there are many people with no interest in basketball that say, why?

Some people turn to sports as a distraction from their dealings with everyday life and some just like bemg around a loud crowd that gen erates excitement. I view these as erates exeitement. I view these as partial reasons for my enthusiasm woward SU in the NCAA tournawhy I emphatically cheer for SUI is why I emphancaly cheer for so that I feel an obligation to do so.

I am a believer that in sports, fans can have an enormous effect on the image of a team. The more exciting the fans are, the more exciting the team wil be, For example, the Duke Elue Devis are considered the most exciting team in the country to watch. Although they are definitely watch. Although they are definitely one of the most talented teams in added to them because their fans

\section*{Sports fail to show full college picture} are considered the loudest fans in college basketball. Since the entire country feels this extra excitement rom Dukes fans, they get more hational recognition. This helps heir school out tremendously by ferg able to get better secruits iof uture years and increasing revenue

If all SU students look at this
If an su students look at this example, it is clear boe the ben ats of baing a crazy Cuse ian. If each student does something special Oran the support for the Orange. we as a group of fans will This form of across the country. This form of attention would bring community.

Jasort Tanenbaum is a freshmann political science major.
os the bathroom instead of doing pull-ups? Is there any place for hem at this school?

In my bigh school, even though here were dozers of different types people, I was always able to find ormeone I could identify with. But here, I'm immediately made out to e the "weird" one becouse I'm not slapping orange and blue paint on my face and screaming at the top of y lunes on the 50 yard tine of the Carrier Dome.

People attend college, I hope, to eam. I doubt there's many people here who are really going to be an NBA star someday. It seems that people easily lose sight of the fact that it's the time in class, not the time on the field or in the stands, that probably matters most.

Whenever Imaway from school and the topic of my universiy comes up, l always get one of the same two responses. The person I am talking to either knows of SU because of its stellar, orange-coated ports progrart, or they've never heard of it before. This is incredibly

\section*{disturbing.}

Why isn't the nation more aware of the academic programs here? What about all of the intelligent people doing cutting-edge research here? Why is it that a with of meatheads running around applauded, while everyone el applauded, while everyone else's accomplishments are quickly glossed over?

While the clock is ticking in the Dome, there's dozens of other activities going on across campus. There's over 100 student groups, from the to the Feminist Collective that are constantly searching for bodias to help them achieve their bodies help them achieve their goals, Celebritues and industry leaders lecelse will students campus. When chance to be exposed to these things?

Sports obscures the real SU - don't be fooled.
Gabrielle Goldstein is a freshman bwology and philosophy major fld like to see them performing better in the NCAA tournament than they did at the end of the season. It's been really cool to watch them. since it's \(m y\) first year here.y.

JENNIFER ILES
Arts and Stiences Class of \({ }^{\circ} 2\)

Athletics is directly ied to our reputation and image, our reputation and image, so we all need to be watching the team and cheering tinent जा. \(\bar{y}\)

KYUNC CHUNG
Management Class of \({ }^{\circ}\) dWell, I'd love to go to mote of the road games. but I don't have the time or the money. But Ill be sneaking peeks at the TV tonight.?

VEREA NATHANIEL Arts and Science Class of 'O2

61'm a transfer, so it's really exciting to be here when they're doing so well.

AMY JUMP
Arts and Sciences Class of 'O1

\section*{Student fees ensure exchange of ideas}

It may be guaranteed by the First Amendment, but on college campuses, free speech doesn't come cheap.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that public colleges can require students to pay activity fees to fund political advocacy groups that don't align with their own beliefs

University of Wisconsin law student Scott Southworth brought the case before the court in protest of use of his fee dollars to fund campus groups such as Amnesty International, and the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Campus Center.

But Southworth doesn't want his money back. He just wants to see the groups he opposes banished from his campus.

He's fighting a losing battle, and he picked the wrong plan of attack.

If Southworth wants to put his dollars to work, he should join an organization that reflects his own interests or combats groups with which he disagrees.

Or better yet, he might think about creating his own student group. The beauty of student fee monies is that they allow for the development of a diverse mix of ideas. If Southworth wants to make his mark, he should organize, not pinch pennies that can't even be tracked to any particular group.

Student fees fund the ability to choose. They establish the framework for a variety of interests and afford students the ability to examine issues from every angle.

It's natural for fiery exchanges to flare up between various groups on campus. In fact, these scuffles should even be encouraged to contribute to the learning process.

The ability to trade ideas freely is a precious commodity. Interactions between diverse communities should flourish in the academic and social environments that mark college life, not be hindered by close-minded penny pinchers.

But it costs money to establish the initial lines of communication. Students shouldn't be trying to nickel and dime their way to mature conversation - it's priceless.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levinthal
Managing Editor Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor Editorial Editor

Jumin Silverman Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Nows Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Sapme Kollall
Sapna Kowlil Joy Davia Bin Ehninger
Adoet Deshmuth
Nova Austrew
Lurra Prabucled Nova Austrow Kate Stavenson Kevin Tampone Corey Harm Magin McKKermat
Connor Enaik Connor Ennik
Jotif Pasean Jeff Pasean
Erin Boylo Flaine Sidinner Thto Botttta
Tom Masson Tona Mason
Ruchat Foldon Lay Caswell
Ron Foolca Ron Foola Mariata Gordon

NEVA AUSTREW/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Martha Stewart subverts female aspirations}

Martha Stewart would have a heart attack if she saw my room.

The curtains don't match the wallpaper, the wallpaper doesn't match the lampshade, and the lampshade doesn't match the carpet.

To tell you the trath, I don't even have curtains or lampshades - only alabaster Venetian blinds and a fluorescent light. I papered my white walls not with reained wall paper, but with an edectic collection of posters. The room's single redeeming quality is rooms single redeeming quality is beige, but has been spiced up with a tasteful blue stain - thanks to a nailpolish mishap - that vaguely matches my jungle-print blanket.
Maybe I do have hope, after all.
Would Martha approve? Would Martha approve?

I was disappointed to find that staining the carpet with nail polish wasn't among the cooking, gardening and decorating tips offered tewart living magozine.
CAROLINE
CHEN
pasta from scratch, sew strawberry-shaped pincushions o put together the perfect Easter basket, Auspiciously, my decorating principles deviate from those of Martha.

I covered a good portion of my closet door with CDs, simply because it would be a pity to hide the beautiful, reflective surfaces. I entertained a group of elementary schoolchildren by folding notebook paper into roses. I made myself a glittery tank top from a length of confet dot fabric and safety pins. I wonder if Martha would accept my creations as contributions to her "Good Things" accept my cr idea section.

I confess that I am the product of suburban enclave where the landscaper and interior decorator's numbers are stored on speed dial. I tend to see myself as an individual, however, who prefers multifarious finds at garage sales to matching Ethan Allen pieces.

Martha advocates her partiality toward perfoctlycoordinated homes to anyone who is willing to listen.

Apparentily, a lot of misled people are willing to listen.
The Martha Stewart Everyday product line netted \($ 1\) billion in revenue in 1999, acoording to Forbes magazine Guided by her savvy business sense, Martha expanded heries and products ranging from teacups to bedshests.

Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia totaled a net profit of \($ 23.8\) million in 1998, according to a 1999 Associated Press report.

Martha found her niche and is reaping the economic rewards in a business world where only 45 women are on orbes Magazine's 1999 list of the 400 richest Americans

I do not resent Martha for being a successful entrepreneur. I do not resent her for her ability to make adorable little pom-porn critters and elegant cappuccino semifreddos. But I do resent her for thrusting suggestions how to be good homemakers to women.

Judging trom the array of cosmetics adis in Mifina Stewart Living, which has a circulation of 2.1 million, it is evident that her target audience consists primarily of women. The audience of her lecture at Syracuse University Wednesday was composed of mainly women, many of whom juggled babies on their laps as they rapurously absorbed her words.

Being a homemaker is a tremendous job, and I respect my mother and grandmother for choosing that occupation. But Martha projects this role as the ideal, further discouraping girls who want to "wear the pants in he household."
I want to see a woman included among the chancelon cover of the SU directory. I want to see a picture of two women shaking hands after signing a of The New York Times. I want to see a women addressing the nation from the Oval Office, glowing with pride in the nation's economic prosperity:

When I see women in these positions in the maledominated world outside the home, I might be able to stomach Martha's unabashed exaltation of domesticity. I might - MIGHT - even congratulate her on her ditional role of women with unnerving precision.

Martha says she took mundane, daily activities and ansformed them into a glamorous form of art Actually, Martha Stewart Living' does look like it could be fun. The pom-pom animals are cute and the cappuccino semireddo looks appetizing.

Eventually, I might put the landscaper and interior decarator's numbers on my speed dial. I will even consider installing coordinating curtains, wallpaper and lampshades. But when I do, I will be sure to embellish the carpeting with nail polish to match.

Staff Writer Caroline Chen is a sophomore magazine journalism major \(E\) mail her at cchen02@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{TAs perform services, warrant respect from SU}

\section*{To the editor:}

I am writing in response to your editorial "TAs are students before employees" in the March 23 issue of The Daily Orartge Your ase sessment of what a TAs duties are cuse University and most other American colleges is wray off base.

Your notion that we simply "grade papers, take evams and raise big picture. TAs do much more than grade papers. They also take up a tramendous amount of slack that is left behind by professors by teaching labs, discussion sections, review sessions, writing tests and at times writing recommendations for atudents. With this in mind, we perform many of the same teaching du ties that full professors, who are en titled to benefits, perform.

Our studies in graduate school for the majority of TAs is not a "nat ural extension of undergraduate edback to academia sfter being out of back to acaderaia after being out of time. Fealizing that our akills and expertise learned in and out of school would be of more of a benefit to educating students than to the marketplace, we return to academia.
With this in mind, the salaries and potential earning we turn down to attend school is astronomical.

Taking the fact that the average white male with a BA/BS makes somewhere around \($ 35,000\) a year and compounding that by five to seven years, the amount of money lost is staggering.

If money is your concern - and it seems to be - you must once again look at the big picture. If the 1000 or 80 TAs that are on this cam pus were not around to grade pato be hired at salary ranging between \($ 35,000\) and \($ 70,000\) year. If you are concerned that by giving TAs more benefits it would raise your tuition, think of the alterna tives and how much your tuition would be raised then.

Stephen BuckMman
MA Student, Geograptry

\section*{Study seeks to cut women HIV cases in Onondaga County \\ tracting HIV, Morrison-Becdy}

\section*{BY JOHN ARWEILER}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Many young women lack the motivation toend their promiscuity, said Dianne Mor-rison-Beedy, an associate professor in the Syracuse sity College of Nursing.
"We have to develop practical means of intervention to reduce their risky sexual behavior," Morrison-Beedy said.

Morrison-Beedy and a team of SU students and faculty are in the beginning stages of creating strategies to prevent the spread of HIV in young women.

The research project, "Motivational HIV Prevention for Young Women," is funded by a grant from the National Institute of Health for Nursing Re-

\section*{search.}
"Thestudy is a pivotal point for the college, since this is an opportunity to gain recognition and move forward with research," Morrison-Beedy said.

Single sexually active women in Onondaga County between the ages of 15 and 19 will be recruited for the study. The women will undergo clinical studies and attend an intervention study group once a week for four or five sessions.
"This population is overlooked in certainareas," said Jean Eboh, a graduate student in nurse practitioning. "We're trying to help women empower themselves.

Interventions will include game playing and values assessment, among other pro. grams, said Judith Dyne, an instructor at the college.

The group is currently planning a pilot focus group to develop an effective protocol of intervention. Eboh said.
"We'refinding a way to reach young women," Eboh said. We're trying to make sure we have questionnaires and intervention content that they can relate to.
"We hope this hands-on approach will be more effective than preaching to them.

The study combines education, motivation and behavioral assessment to help young women identify the risks of contracting HIV, MorrisonBeedy said.
"There is great need for good things to happen in this age group," Dyne said. "Many in our local area could really benefit from the teachings."

In addition to being at a high risk for contracting HIV, young women in Onondaga County have one of the highest gonorrhea rates in the country. Morrison-Beedy said.
"Were teaching young women how to talk to their partners and negotiate for the use of a condom," MorrisonBeedy said.

Many women in this age group practice "serial monogamy," said MorrisonBeedy. The women will be faithful to one partner, but when they break up in a just a few months, they are soon sexually active with another partner. After a couple of years, that adds up to many partners and increases the odds of con- said.
"I think it's a very important issue to address," sald Carrie O'Connor, a sophomore education major and a res dent of Onondaga County

But O'Connor said she questions the effectiveness of the study.
"I'm just not sure how effective a program like this will be in changing young girls habits," she said. "Prevention is the most important thing."

Research, however, shows that this kind of education reduces the spread of sexually transmitted diseases, Eboh said.
Daid "m very optimistic," Dyne said.
bad shots and converted back-break ing 3 -pointers on the other end.

The spurt provided a complete role reversal from the first half, when it was the Orangernen who looked in total control.

SU hit 54 percent of its shots from the floor in the first half and shot 3 -for- 7 from 3 -point range. The Orangernen also stifled the Spartans' offense with their \(2-3\) zone.

MSU hit just 33 percent of its shots and committed eight turnovers, leading to 12 SU fast break points.

Guard Allen Griffin provided a spark for SU off the bench with 10 points in the first half. The Spartans post defenders, however, contained the physical inside presence of Thomas, whe finiched with seyen points and six rebounds.
"They do such a good job in the post defensively," SU head coach Jim Boeheim said. "It was hard to get Etan the ball."

The Spartans' focus on Thomas, however, opened up the deGriffin's production came off slash es to the basket, while Hart did little bit of everything with seven points, eight assists and two steals before the break

But in the second half Griffin scored only four points. Hart tallied three points and two assists.
"I thought we played well in the first half," Hart said. "We got some easy buckets in transition. At half time they adjusted. That's the hard thing about the game, it doesn't stay the same throughout.

The loss ends a promising sea son that the Orangemen began 19-0. The loss also mariss the ends of the collegiate careers of Hart, Thomas and Ryan Blackwell.

After the game, Boeheim commended his departing seniors and said he wos proud of the accomplishments the Orangemen achieved.
"These kids had a great year and this team played well all season," Boeheim said. "We lost to a great team and lost in a very tough situation."

Free pick-up & delivery of your equip on Tuesdays and Thursdays when repaired or upgraded by MicroTECH. Call today: 446-5321

\section*{GAME}
continued from page 1
of his 19 points and drilling two treys.
"In the second half, they came out and just shot unbelievably," SU senior center Etan Thormas said. "I have to give them credit. We played our hearts out, but when another teant shoots the ball like that, it' really hard to come out on top."

Syracuse led 34-24 at the halftime break and maintained the lead for more than 13 minutes in the cond half.
With 6:13 left, however, Spartan guard Charlie Bell nailed a 3 pointer from the left wing to give MSU a 58-56 lead. It was Michigan State's tirst lead since 12-11. Atter SU point guard Jason Hart drove for a deuce the next trip down, the Spartans never looked back.

Michigan State closed out the gane with a \(17-0\) run that whipped the majority of the 21,214 fans in athendance into a frenzy and lef the Orugs routinely forced Syrucuse into

\section*{Become Elected to the}

For Leaders interested in influencing policies that affect Graduate Life at S. U.

> Elections begin March \(29^{\text {th }}\). Come by 131 Schine, or see your department senator for more information.

\section*{Are you thinking about majoring in Psychology?}

The following programs are designed especially for students who are trying to make an informed decision about what to declare as their major.

Expect to leave this discussion knowing more about:
* what psychology majors study where psychology majors find work with their bachelor's where degree
where psychology majors go to graduate school
Sophomores- Please join us on Monday, March 27th at 7 .pm in 530 Huntington Hall (the Allport Suite)
Freshmen- Please joln us on Tuesday, March 2sth at 7 pmin 530 Huntington Hall (the Allport Suite)

Presented by Mikki Jeschke,
Director of Student Development in Psychology

Food will be served Please reserve a seat by contacting Mikki Jeschke via email at mjeschke@psych.syr.edu, phone 443-1628, or stop by 512 Huntington Hall.

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443 2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com.

\section*{March 24, 2000}

\section*{STEWART}
continued from page 1 everything from cookie decorating kits, to her Martha Stewart Living magazine and house paint.
"She's a tremendously bright, accomplished woman who has done it all on her own," Bakke said.

To make her products more accessible, Stewart also launched an art.com. She recently joined force with K-Mart to market bed linen.
"Nobody had really taken the subject matter on before, said Stew art, who published her first book, "Martha Stewart Entertainment," in 1982. "I made it something of an art form."

Stewart started the lecture by playing two recent audio and visual tapes of a segment from her televi sion and radio shows. The topics in the segment, called"Ironing \(A\)

Shirt," are also featured in her mag azine.

On the recording, the voice of Stewart's sister rattled off a list of complex instructions on the most
"It's so confusine"" Stew, aid. "When we heard it we all said. When we heard it we all

But the example drives home the point on which Stewart said she has made billions of dollars.

This is what a single iden has to go through in a non-repetitive way," she said. "That's how you can take one idea and give it a multiple effect, and make a business out of it." Stewart credited her success to organization and her business model, which encompasses all the sections of her magazine. Each area is essential to human life, she said.
"Our subject matter is limitless," she added.

One of Stewart's favorite parts of her model is "keeping," ape said, because houschold organlzation is hat allows her to stay grounded. "I'm fascinated with the perfect laundry room," Stewart said. I'm not obsessed with it, but I like to help people with the ease of living." last year. Stewart, who authors one book a year, published an Entertainment."
"The information in that book is evergreen," Stewart said. "It never groes out of cate. That's what we're in it for - to teach and to inspire." Stewart is currently working on a "Your New Home" issue for Martha Stewart Living that will ad dress domestications for young adults and college students.

She said she soon hopes to expand her product lines on the Internet and overseas in Japan and Australia. Stewart's products can be bought in England and Canada, she

\section*{FINISHED}
continued from page 1
Rebounds fell to waiting Spartans, who pushed the ball ahead for transition lay-ups, igniting the partisan sellout crowd wo scream and yell for

In some eyes, the
In some eyes, the collapse will place an ebony stain on one of Syracuse's best season in recent recollection. The took a share of the Big East crown and played deeper into March than almost 300 of their Division I counterparts.

But this year never hap\(s\) without Hart, Blackwell pens without Hart, Blackwell and Thomas. In play and perthe other two in perfect fashion.
"They've been great leaders and done unbelievable things in the community," \(\mathbf{S U}\) coach Jim Boeheim said. "They've been to the Sweet 16 twice. This was about as tough as any (tournament) game where we've played somebody close to home. But it took close to home. But it took Michigan State to play great

Thomas rolled int
Thomas rolled into cam pus three years ago a lot of skill. He never complained when platooned with 6-foot-10 shooting guard Elvir Ovcina. and some observers proclaimed him a bust.

The 6-foot-9 Oklahoman never uttered a word in reply. He spent his summers stweating under a rim and developed into one of the nation's premier shot blockers. When his offense kicked in this winter, Thomas grew into a center feared across the country. Blackwell never received All-America consideration. Half the time, he failed to score more than a couple baskets. But Boeheim treasured man who could impersonate a man who eould impersonate point gua one play.
Outsiders called Blackwell soft, afraid to mix it up, and umn. But in a pair of last-second situations this year, Boeheim drew up plays designed to get his senior forward the ball.

Delivering the ball, as usual, would be Hart. The bombastic point guard took the starts Jim Boehein gave him in first game on campus and spun them into 92 wins. including four in the NCAA Tournament. He quarterbacked the team against an opposing defense but guided it

I COULDSAVE YOUR LIFE Pleasesave mine.

\section*{\(\square\) \\ Call 1-800-824-WILD}

The Houston toad produces akasloids - pharnaccutical Wonders inat may prevent iweart aliscks or act as ant ansalictic nore powerfit than mophine. Yet. duc to habitat loss. it is on the very brink of extinction. another memier of the Endangered Species tist.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE FEDERATION
1400 Sixtecath Strect, N.W.. Washington, D.C. 20月36-226t, \section*{added.}

People are too busy and they need help with their homes," Stew art said. 'They can't all do it themselves.'

She ended the lecture with a tip to students who hope to make name in the world of fashion.
said. "Stick to your own crentive po lices. You have to do your own thing."

\section*{Student thoughts}

Emily Smith, a senior interior design major, attended the lecture and described Stewart as one or her sources of inspiration for her studies.
"Martha fascinates me," Snith said. "It's so interesting that she has enhanced the quality of \(K-M a r t\).

She truly brings design to the mass es."

Although the lecture was required for her class, junior Joanna would have attended anyway fur personal reasons.
"We've been getting her magizine at my house for years," Cary of a sudden having millions of dollars.

But not all students were interested in hearing Stewart speals.

Mark Finder, a senior sociotoby major said he did not attend the lecture because he finds Stewart to be annoying.
every commercial. I don't like a person who is that visible

\section*{INTERNSHIPS SUMMER 2000}

Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields.Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271

\section*{an emotional level as well} He brought the Orangemen out of the tunnel every time out, right fist pumping to the crowd. He spoke up in the huddle and locker room, challenging his teammates to match his effort

Outside game competition he joined assistant coach Mike Hopkins as a gym rat, arcing umpers while most sought efuge from the game that dominated their lives.

The pundits will hammer the Orangemen for phoning it n Thursday, lacking needed hustle during Michigan State's punishing spurt. But slap the enior captains for leading the senior captains for leading the

But it hurts its. it hurts a ot. But it hurts no one more ficed a prime part of their lives to let you ride along for a few seasons.

If you forget that, just picure Jason, hunched over, knowing his Syracuse career is finished.

Dave Curtis is the sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear reg. uiarly. E-mail him at dgcuris@syr.edtu.
\($ 50.00\)
Full Head of CIAO BELLA Foil Highights ClaO Balcon
\($ 25.00\)
I/2 Head of
Foil Highlights
Symacuses Soluntion
tabettea Style

Zhairextentions *Manicures *Medienres
derylie Rlails
943 W. Gemesee St. 4781326
Minutes from the University

\section*{Professor forecasts fuiture with global warming}

\author{
BY TIFFANY LANKES
}

Global warming is rising and threatening to change society as it is now known, University of Arizona professor Jonathan Arizona professor Jon
Overpeck said Thursday.

Overpeck cited both natural and human causes for the increase in global temperature to a crowd of about 10
Heroy Auditorium. ing these issues a lot monsider ing these issues a lot more serisaid. "Global warming appears said. Global warming appears tingle continent."

The global temperature has been rapidly inereasing throughout the 1999 s , Overpeck sidi. recorded was in 1998, he added.

Six of the other warmest temperatures to bo recorded wer aiso during the 1990s, he said. anticipate what's going to happen in the future," he added.
Natural occurrences, such as the change in number of vol canic eruptions and changes in the sun's energy output, affec global temperatures, he said.

The rise in global warming became prevalent following the Industrial Revolution, Overpeck said. Our modern dependence on fossil fuels, which release harmfol gases into the environnent, nomenon, he added.

Pollution is another serious cause of global warming, Overpeck said.
"We've got to be careful because when you start to take this stuff too seriously, you need to start making some societal decisions," he said. "All of these deci-

At times the government is hesitant to study the issue of global warming because of the humerous expenses involved. Overpeck said. The costs of not examining the problem, howev er, could be more severe, he added.

Overpeck serves as the director of the Institute for the Study of the Planet Earth at the University of Arizona. The institute studies the origins of global ming, he said.
Modern studies of the phenomenon include using natural indicators to compare temperahame of the past with today Some indicators used in the studcorals and lake sediments.
"Each allow us to go further back in time and look at the common signal," he said. "Nowhere, locking back in time, do you get high as in 1998."

Along with drastically increasing the temperature, global ural disasters including drougtht and tropical storms, Overpeck said.
biggest wight turn out that ou changes," he said. "As we go into the future, the problem is we don't know how mother nature works well enough."

Overpeck's speech followed a presentation of five Holmes Awards to students who excelled in entry level courses, said Cathryn Newton, chairwoman of the Syracuse University geology the Syracus
The awards are named for a 1927 SU graduate, Chauncey D. Holmes, who made an endowment to the university to encourage the study of geology as one of the liberal arts.

While the lecture was well attended, many in the audience came in pursuit of extra credit points for their geology classes, more political science major.
"I had to come for my geology class," Anderson said. "I though."
an Ereshman Trina Noccrino, mitted that she was also motivated by the extra credit points. he lecture, however, was worth attending, she added.
"'m not really a science person but the information was presented in a way 1 could understand, Nocerino said. He made questions and opinions."

Several students in attendance were members of the New York Public Interest Research Group, who attended as a part of the group's current environmental campaign, said Ben Trucrelations major and NYPIRG member

NYPIRG is a student organization that adv of public issues
"It was easy to understand," said Trucheart of the lecture. aspects, like energy and environment, affect society so much.'

\section*{ \\ Court praised in student fee decision}

\section*{Supreme}

\section*{BY 10 E PIRANEO \\ Staff witer}

Students and educators are lauding a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on Wednesday to allow public colleges and univer sities to use activity fees in financing all student organizations.

Scott Southworth, a University of Wisconsin student, filed a suit in Wisconsin courts saying that he should not have to pay the mandatory fee required by the university because it infringed on First Amendment rights.
The Wisconsin court the ruled in favor of Southworth. flicted decision, however, sonstate court decision involving the New York Public Interest Research Group.

The New York state ruling allowed universities to require such funding as long as the activities funded were "germane to the educational mission of the university system," according to a court report.

The Supreme Court later took the casse as a result of the conflict between the two states decisions and voted unanimously Wednesday to allow any student organization to receive funding regardless of political affiliation race or creed.

Jocelyn McGuinness-Hickey regional coordinator for NYPIRG said that all student organizations are breathing a sigh of relief after the ruling.
"These organizations are an essential part of the college experience," MitGuinness-fickey said. "They are the best thing for building cultured and informed individuals."

SU would not have been arfected by the outcome of the case because the ruling does not in clude private schools. The First Amendment, which guarantees freedom of speech, will only protect people from government actions. A private university is not a government institution.

However, had the Supreme Court ruled against the University of Wisconsin, the NYPIRG fee of \($ 6\) per student was likely to be dropped due to the controversial rature of tite organization, MeGuinness-Hickey said.

The State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry's student organizations are protected under this precedent

SU Student Government Association President Jamal James said he thinks the Supreme Court made a wise decision.

All money collected from the Student Activity Fee should be put into a pot and should be available to all student organizations whether it be for education or entertainment purposes," James said.

Jimes added that siudentis are always welcome to find out where their Student Fee is being allocated by either approaching him or the governing body that funds the organization of interest.
ture approves the money, MeCall said.
"We're telling kids to sign up for this program when it may or may not be funded," he said. He also cited his disap. proval of the lottery as another reason for his opposition to Pataki's plan. The lottery has the potential to be financially draining on a community and it promotes the unhealthy habit of gambling. McCall said.

\section*{Finding local jobs}

Another problem with state management is the lack of attention on employment, McCall tention on employment, McCall said.

Although Syracuse's job growth rate during recent years has been better than Rochester and Buffalo, and slightly less than the state average, the av erage city-dweller does not feel ts effect, he said.

This is because the employment statistics do not give a clear impression of the work environment in the area, Mc Call said.

Last year in Syracuse and Central New York, 75 percent of the jobs created through state programs were low paying, McCall said. Only 17 percent were in the \($ 40,000\) to \($ 50,000\) per year range, he added.

That fact, however, does not mean that city residents are forever subject to lives of low paying jobs, he said.
"Syracuse has all the ingredients needed for growth," McCall said. "Upstate New York and Central New York have the potential where the right kind of investment can being about great change."

The present national economy is one based on technology, McCall said. The only way to the current growth is through ducation, he added

But education does not seem to be the state's top priorseem to be the

ไJラcent

\section*{}

Affordalle. Spacious and Just \(A\) Foul Shot \(A_{\text {way }}\) From Syracuse University!
& 2 Bedroon Apartiments...Wall to Whll Carpeting...

Vincent Apartments
"New York is the only state in the nation reducing their financial commitment to higher education," he said. "How do we keep up, how do we train people when we're cutting finance to education? New York has great resources, great potential. We've got to do everything we can to make New York competitive and provide an educated work force.

One way to strengthen the state is to make its needs known to the national government, McCall said. The best method to do this is through an accurate 2000 Census, he added.

The reported state population is at a point where, depending on the outcome of the ensus, the state could lose one Represeats in the U.S. House of not happen, McCall said.
"Those numbers determine what we get," McCall said. "We have to reach out and make sure everyone is counted in the census."

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

443-2128
editorial@mailbox.syr.edu

\section*{dive}

\section*{Jazz it up}

With spring just around the corner, it looks like we'll be field ing blue skies all the way to summer. Celebrate the change in precipitation tonight when the Central New York Jazz Arts Foundation presents "Blues in the Night," a concert with jazz vocal The evening will featur The evening scat blues soul jand, scaspel. Everything happens behind the Crouse-Hinds Concer Theater. While you're there, check out the final performance of the CRC Youth Jazz Fest. Concert starts at 8 p.m. Tickets are \($ 5\) to \($ 25\). Call 461-8343.

Run away
Get your motor rurning Saturday for a good cause when the American Heart Association holds its annual *American Heart Walk/Run" at Shoppingtown Mall in DeWitt. The 16th annual charity event hopes to raise \($ 40.000\) to support heart disease and stroke research. The American Heart Walk/Run includes a 5 K indoor and outdoor walk, \(5 K\) run, \(8 K\) walk and run and a 15 K run For more information call 446-8334.

Relax, baby
Just when you thought midterms were over, final projects are begly heads learn how ugy heads. Learn how to roll with the punche tonight when St. David's Episcopal Church-Parish, 14
Jamar Drive, DeWitt, hosts a meditative hosts a meditative healing workshop. Meditation expert Myoshin Kelley will explain how meditation can help you beat stress and cope with chronic illness. Pre-reg istration is required. The workshop runs from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Call 472-4201.
Spring forward Goodbye, gray sky, spring is in the air. Celebrate the sweet new season at the Community House. Highland Forest, Rou 80, tomorrow with horse-drawn sleigh rides and good eats Watch a syrup-makir demonstration and chow down on fresh pancakes. The even runs through sunday Tickets are \($ 2\) ans Call 683-5550.

Sweet stuff Sweet 16 is over but that doesn't me sugar elsewhere. Watch a Saturday af Watch a Saturday a noon production of homemade maple syrup at the Beaver Lake Nature Center, East Mud Lake Road it Baldwinsville. The demonstration includes six stations introducing visitors to the heritage of maple sugaring. Tickets are \($ 1\). Call 638-2519.

 .
 7

 or ?

\author{ n \\ \footnotetext{
m. \\
} \\
}

SU students can redeem basketball loss through video game tournament.

BY SAPNA KOLLALI Lifestyle Editor

Basketball fans afraid that Sunday's game will end the March Madness fun at Syracuse University can rest easy March Madness 2000 video Mame tournament hits SU Monday night.

Utilizing the Sony PlayStationgame of the same title, tinuation of the NCAA tournament and is open to all SU students, faculty and staff.
"We wanted it to happen within the regular tournament," saje Pañ Stalzer, a senior broadeast journalism major and a campus representative for EA Sports. "It's better for both things that way."
The tournament will be played on 22 other college camPuses nationwide, including Michigan, North Cirolina, Florida, Tennessec, Texas Nebraska, UCLA and Ohio State Stalzer, also a Daily Orange staff writer, and Mike Principato, a senior broadcast journalto, a senior broadcast journalism and policy studics major, are organizing the \(S U\) tournament.

Stalzer said EA looks primarily for big schools with wellknown sports reputations, but other factors play a large part in the selection process as well. - Iney look geographically, too," he said. "In the northeast, Syracuse is one of the only schools able to pull such a crowd for sports. There is a pretty good following; people are interested in sports."

EA Sports sponsored four successful video game tournaments last semester, three footbames like Madden Nef 2000 and NHL 2000.

Mostly underclassmen participated in the previous tournaments, Stalzer said. naments, Stalzer said.
"We all like to play video games, but you can only play See TOURNEY page 10

\section*{ar magin mckenna}
'Raisin' questions racial stereotypes

For Syracuse Stage's Artistic Director Robert Moss, there's much more to the American Dream than white picket fences, Onck the way un the social ladder are rungs climbed with fear, poverty and hatred of the un-

Saturday night, the Stage will showease the more foreboding side of the Ambrican Drean Wheny presents Lorraine hans: berrys

Mass calleyl the story "electrifying," It grabs you," he said. "I cried at the The show, running through \(A_{\text {I }}\) il 30 , begins at \(8: 30 \mathrm{pm}\). Side of finthe the Chicago South is the first play written by a black womant to beisin" chronicle's the way, Raisin chronide's the ily to move into a predominantly white neighborhood.
"It's always something if the theater can help people realize their prejudices," Moss said. "We can show people real people who they might not bring into their living rooms, but who they can mect and experience in the the-
"Raisin," written during the Harlem Renaissance, takes its name from the Langston Hughes

Because "Rasin" hargely portrays the turmein of a close-knit pamily. Moss said he expects the family and student audience throughout its run.

There isnt a family in Amer-

Moss said. "The issues raised are so completely universal."

\section*{Meet the cast}

Actor Christopher Grossett plays the role of George Murchison in the Stage's production. George is an upper-class suitor of Beneathat Younger, one of the play's female leads.

Hansberry's Beneatha is a strong-willed medical student who struggles to come to terms with her African-American identity

To Grossett, the wealthy George, symbolizes a prejudice that many blacks still face today
"If you're black and rich, some people automatically think youre a sell-out." said Grossett, a black man who was raised in a predominantly Ultra-Orthodox Jewish neighborhood in the Bronx Youre considered an Uncle Tom.
side to the character that holds great significance to the play, Grossett added. One of two of Beneatha's suitors, George does not support her quest for individuality.
"He feels the woman's place In in the home - barefoot and pregnant," Grossett said.

Skaneatcles resident Chuck Parsons is the only white actor in the cast. Parsons plays the role of Karl Lindner, a racist who reluchouse. sent the barrier this family has to face. Parsons said. He is the face, Parsons said "He is the Phice bastion that Walter (the Patriarch of the Younger family) aspires to get to."

When he was growing up in Liverpooi, the now 47-year-old Parsons said he had no idea that the kinds of racial struggl

\section*{Non-wrestling fans take to the} 1et's get ready to rumble! For our 25th column, we went and saw "Beyond the Mat," the film everyone saw the commercials for and said, "What the..""

For the record, neither of us are For the record, wresting fus.
"Mat" is a documentary, in the expositional mode, examining

\section*{the body: slammin',} Eric Rosenthal
Matt Rray

\section*{cinemaniacs} DDTing are who have invadspotight so much that they hosted the most recent episode of Saturday Night Live.
But on this night, we turned to the big screen to witness what we expected to be one of the most compolling and highly-grossing documentaries in years. Barry W. Blaustein, with the cin-ema-verite style on his side, trekked across the country, following wrestlers for three years from small-time operations all he way to the WWF. A lifelong wrestling fan hirnself, Blaustein's personal intentions regarding respect for the self-proclaimed sports-entertainment, yet also showed a very apparent of glorification. of glorification.

He adresses issues that have been brought up starrounding pro wrestling since long ago, includwrestling since long ago, includviolence and its effect on viewers.

\section*{Real people}

Starting with his tavonte wrestler Terry Funk, which sounds corny but it is very good starting point, Blaustein depicts the history of pro wrestling through its living legend. road, his career seemingly windroad, his career seemingly wridphysical ailments.
Funk though, is slow to allow his love, pain and addiction to the career that he has embraced for the last 30 years end.
With pressures from his farnily and friends, Funk's last efforts to get a small.time wrestling league the last battle they'll allow him to fight, and he loses.
On the other end of the spectrum, the hopes and dreams of many are crushed when trying to climb the ropes from the garage climb the ropes from the garage to the arena. to the arena.
Northern California's APW is a cut-throat operation, led by smal-time Blaustein shows how it's not an easy task to rise out of a wrestling school to the big-time, When we mert a cuigic of ninin-to-fivers with hopes in the ring. in front of the camera. Alexander their coach, owner and agent seems to care more about his growing relationship with the big

\section*{Business of sports}

One of the strongest points of "Mat" is the treatment of the Wrestling Federation. Blaustein captares marketing schemes, tal ent coordinators and the men in tights themselves.
Strangely compared to the Fenson-owned Muppet organization, the wrestiers are even referred to as puppets.
Vince MeMahon, the head honcho, scems to be very concerned with the attitude of the company and its relationship to marketing McMahon, who has stepped into the ring, seems to have at one Exploiting every aspect of each of is showmen, McMahon actually his showmen, McMahon actually on his desk on command. Snme the monst surprising cast, mernbers are the most popular of WWF stars, including Stone Cold Steve Austin and Duane "The Rock" Johnson, who reiers to character as "a piece of shit. gent and respectful to one of the featured stars of the film, due to his transgression of all the types of prowrestling, Mick Foley. Foley is shown to be a great individual, husband and father, whose concern for his children and lack of conoern for himself have led him to a crossroads in his career. ing close to dying. One of the \section*{TOURNEY}

continued
your roommate for so long berore you get sick of it," he said.
It's a way to compete, meet new people, talk sports. It's a lot of fun. Unlike an office pool, the 7:30 p.m. tournament at the Goldstein Student Center on Goush Gampus is free. Partici-

\section*{It's Sunday Morning}

\section*{Do you remember what happened last night?}
pants should show up at 6:45 p.m. to register, at which time they will also fill out a questionnaire for EA Sports.

There will be at least four television/PlayStation units set up, and registrants will be placed into brackets. Each placed into brackets. Each game should take 10 to 15 mingame should take

The tournament winner will receive three MayStation games, a PlayStation controller and a t-shirt. The package is worth about \($ 150\).
"PlayStation games are \($ 40\) a piece, Stalzer said. "We"re college students. We dont have a lot of money. Im not going to game, so this is a great prize."

Nick McMurdy, who is

\section*{GUIDE}

\section*{Renaissance Art}

The Harlerm Reraissance is by far one of the greatest move ments in American Literature Much of the canon consists of drama and poetry from an era that placed the work of taiented black writers into the mainstream. Colgote University's Mary Ann Calo and Syracuse University's Fanon Wikins, of University's Fanon Whkins, of SU's African American Studies department, will discuss the significance of the early 20 th-century cultural movernent 4 p.m. Saturday at the Community Folk Art Gallery. 2223 E. Genesee St.
planning to participate in the tournament, agreed.
McMurdynt free games, said McMurdy, a senior nursing maor. The

He participated in one of the fall footbail tournaments but lost in the first round

The March Madness winaer will also have his name in an EA Sports video game next year.

Although EA Sports makes little to no money off the event the there is no admission fee for the tournament and campus thing - it is a cood public any thing -it is a good public rela Stalzer said.
"They get their name on

\section*{Call \(424-8487\).}

\section*{Vroom Vroom}

Need a hot set of wheels? Well the New York State Fairgrounds, 581 State Fair alvd.. will have more than its fair share Saturday when it hosts the intemational Auto Showcase The show is the largest indoor custom and classic car show in the Empire State. The ISCA2A sanctioned show will feature more than 200 cars and vendors. Cars come from all over the country, even though local car clubs will participate. Show starts at 5 p.m. Tickets are \($ 2\) to \($ 7\). Call \(487+7711\).
"It was a pretty good representation of a white middle class," Parsons said. "There were no blacks, no Hispanies and nodews."
It was not until he enrolled It was not until he enrolled Syracuse University did Parin Syracuse University did Parsons, who graduated in 1985 with sons, who graduated in 1985 with a degree in economics, begin a a degree in econom cultural immersion.
"I remember sitting next to a black guy in class who was talking about slavery," Parsons said. "I felt so embarrassed because ; had never occurred to m.
never had any exposure."

Grossett attended SU in 1982, but left after his first year because he said the city did not of fer enough cultural diversity.

Even today, "Raisin" can speak volumes to the Syracuse community, he added.

The city is extremely compartmentalized, Grossett said. 2000 infortunate that in the year

\section*{'Mat'}
bloodiest individuals in the ring, he has wrestled the smaller cirewit with the likes of Terry Funk in the past and escalated himsel one of the most marketable co one for most marketable co porations in the country But now, aker seeing the haunting footage of his farmily watching him during a match, a la "Gimume Shelter" by the Maysles brothers, priorities.

\section*{The Verdict:}
"Beyond the" Eric Rosenthal: A tremendous diary of hard work, addiction, family life and dreams, "Beyond the Mat" is very much worth sceing for both the harsh and lovely realities of American life, with a backdrop of professional wrestling.
"Beyond the" Matt Bray: They wear tights and they make death-defying leaps. These socalled Supermen are people too, and this film shows an intelligent new perspective at entertainment and sport's bastard child. This is a must-see.
everything, their logo is all over," he said. "And it's at cam-

\title{
Duke
}

\section*{gY COREY HANN}

Like hippies to a Grateful Dead show or freshman to a cold keg, Duke University basketballfans are swarming Syracuse University in a wave of cuse Universit white and blue.

Commonly referred to as the "Cameron Crazies," Duke fans have lived up to their billing over the years as some billing over the years as some of college's outlandish.

They are fairly knowledgeable about the game and tend to appreciate the little things, said Jeffery Kessier, a law student at the University of Virginia at the University
"I don't think most other team's fans get as worked up about things like uncalled moving screens, he said in an eM
Most fans are well aware of the teams Duke usually plays and sometimes go beyond the and sometimes go beyond the call of duty when researching their opponents. It is almost a gate opposing players to see if gate opposing players to see if troubles or drug arrests, to make heckiing more worthwhile.

Last year, fans found mug shots of University of North Carolina point guard Ed Cota and pasted his mug on posters stating "wanted dead or alive," said Debbie Panek, a Duke

Kessler said he recalls other times when he participated other more benign, but amusing, activities.

Two years ago, about a week before we played UNC, Shammond Williams ran of the court three minutes into the game in tears," Kessler said. "I game in tears, with a fricnd of mine the went with a friond of mine the night before the game to buy a night before the game to buy a few bags of diagrers to give peofew bags of diagrers ple to twave at him.

\section*{Fan fare}

These actions capture the kenacity often seen in the stands of Cameron Indoor Area. In fact, in a lot of ways the arena itself stirs the action Duke students, Panck said.
"There's a lot of energy in that place," Panek said. "The low ceilings and closeness to the court get everyone in an up.

Kessler said that the small size and intimacy of the arena brings students closer to the game and adds to the intensity.

The 594 wins at Cameron is the most in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth-highest total in the country on a current home court is a reflection of just how dominant Duke has been and the efforts of their fans, according to the Duke athletic department.

Because Cameron is so small (and not air conditioned). we can generate tremendous amounts of noise, heat and intensity. If we're not making noise, we're doing something wrong," Kessler said in the email.

Also, because of their proximity to the court, fans can of ten alter the outcome of the games there. games there off us." Panerstend to feed we're almost like the sixth man on the court

Duke fans look for other ways to support their team beyond yelling and clapping. Bringing down the other with derogatory remarks or intimidating gestures is almost a sport in itself there.
action." Kessler said "op of the literally leasier said. I could in the ear of opponents who were trying to inbound the ball were trying the at halfcourt."

\section*{Ticket free}

Unlike SU, every student at Duke has the opportunity to go to the basketball games, regardless of whether they have tickets or not.
"Instead of having season

Duke University's "crazies" show their spinit and antics at every game. Dufle fans have antved at SU in anticipation of the Blue Oevils' match-up with the Forida Gators tonight in the Dorre.
tickets they swipe our student D's when we come in the gate," Panek said.

In order to have the opporunity to attend some games though, students will camp out for weeks prior to the big game. Usually they'll be up to 100 or 150 tents on the green in front of Cameron Coliseum - nicknamed Krzyzewskiville, after Digke's revered coach Mike Krzyzewski.
"Ten students set up a tent, and someone has to be there at all times of the day, Kessler said. "They have about three or four tent checks at random times of the day, and after your second miss, you get bumped back to the end of the line.

Sometimes the going can get rough when trying to edge out others for prized mid-court action.
"It was pouring, and the tent collapsed," Kessier said. " ended up sleeping outside the the overhang."

Sacrifice is an essential parto

\section*{Caring coach}

When unfortunate events happen, Coach Krzyzeurgti, het ter known as "Coanch K, ter known as "Coach K, lends cated individuals.
"I've been out there waiting on line, when out of the blue, coach will send out pizzas for all of us in the tents," Panek said. "He's very supportive of said. He s very supporive

Coach \(k\) also has routine question and answer sessions With the pulatic to keep them up bo date with he status of th matters. knows that's what makes Duke special is the unique relationship he and his unique relationship he and his student body," according to a report by the Total College Sports Network.

Kessler said he believes that part of being a Duke fan is self-sacrifice, and that some-self-sacrifice, and for the team can be scen beyond the student can be seen beyond the student body. lle had skipped class in order to attend the ACC tournament without telling his professor
"The next week, he asked Kessler said. "it seems he tiond it and saw me on TY Me fhen commended me on my wisw and judier
Duke.

\section*{Students kick back and enjoy game}

It's 6:00 p.m. in a dorm room somewhere within \section*{Andrew}

Parks

\section*{from the} sidelines Brewster
Boland's ghetto locale, and the tailgating has begun.
We toast
the night's Sweet 16 garne against Michigan State with stale, imitation Sbarro pizza in a styrofoam takeout box and a bubbling beer on the side.

An electric excitement captivates the room. Outside, freshmen are exiting the dorm in droves, IDs in tow with dreams of Bud Light dancing in their heads.

After over an hour of prepa
A.J. Green of the Michigan State Spartans and our own Etan Thomas are vying for opening possession at the tipoff. At this moment, thousands are scattered among the bars and dormitories, anticipation building, watching the drama unrod in all or its pixa lated glory.
would wayne and Garth would say, "Game on."
In this particular room, the spirit is high and the cheering is close to deafening.

Six guys are cramped on one side of a split double, riding high on the adrenaline of seeing their first Sweet 16 game as a member of the Orangemen student body

Freshman Andrew Briker has been waiting for this moment for years
"I have been a SU fan all my life," he said. "Now that am here, it is all the more exciting:

Syracuse starts the game off on a tear, with Jason Hart dominating his portion of the court.

After about 10 minutes expire on the blinking clock, I exit the room, leaving breath tors are gaining confidence and bellowing cheers at every swoosh of the net from our pinpoint shots.

Twisting through the hall 1 enter the opposite wing of the loor, where the open doubles are locatec. There are seven guys, with seven beers in and.

The volume within is tuned down a bit
Nevertheless, everyone is satisfied with Syracuse's growing ead and shouting out props to Jason Hart, among others.

Half-time arrives, with Syracuse in the lead. A trip down to the "party" in the lounge downstairs yields no pizza and little fanfare. People must have been making regular stops down here to stock up on some pie and run because in the 20 the ground with only abou

The majority room
The majority of the atten dees are women. Some look entranced by the game, while Even for the most fanatic person, today is especially a social event; an excuse to kick back some brew and chill with the boys, catch up on the latest gossip, etc.

\section*{Better things to do}

Out on South campus sophomore international relations major Lindsay Franger is not even aware that the game is going on.
sy far, but id we made it pretty far, but I didn't even know that the gane was tonight," she said. "I'll probably be doing homework during it, maybe turning the game on once or twice to check the score."

There are the casual fans like Franger, and then there are the hard-core ones. As I re enter the split double from earlier on in the night, I overhear a squabble between the sexes.
"You don't have confidence in your team," an impassioned fan says to the girl watching the game from the comfort of his bed. She shows littie emotion or reaction to his

\section*{taternent.}

Through the next hour Syracuse begins to crumble and so do the hearts of some onlookers. As Michigan State drains tray after tray, and the seconds wind down to the demise of SU's tournament hopes, all eyes turn to a glare full of emptiness and sadness.

One of the room residents asks us to leave with the excuse: "I don't want to be around people right now."

It is striking to see how one contest can bring so many students together, whether for the purpose of drinking, social jzing or being true to your school.

As the buzzer resonates in our heads and the truth of defeat lies embedded in the digitized scoreboard, the dreams of many dic - until next season.

Andrew Parks is a freshman magazine major. E-mai himatadparks@syr.edu.

\section*{REACTION}

\section*{continued from page 16}

Their thoughts, however, were correct. With MSU a strong favorite going in, SU's 10 -point lead at the half was a sharp contrast to the last six minutes of the game, during minutes of the game, during which MSU swept away the Orangemen with a 17-0 run.

I don't know what happened," said Andy Jenks, the drummer for SU's Sour Citrus pep band. We were all so psy*to think that we had a shot at winning, and then we just didn't. No one in this arena could predict what was going to happen, but we're just disappointed."

Also disappointed with

Cleaves and we'll come out on top of this thing:

Pani, clad in an Orang men T-shirt from 1975 given to his father by SU classmate ange to the bone."

But as the minutes on the shot clock ticked down to three and the MSU crowd rose to its feet, roaring louder by the \section*{Coaching nemesis presents challenge for \(\mathbf{S U}\)}

\section*{BY GREG RISmof
Staff Writer \\ Wrer}

While Johns Hopkins' furious St. Patrick's Day comeback against No. 1 Syracuse fell short by a second, the ghost of its former coach, Tony Seamon, could Dome rafters. Seamon ark on the Hopkins program, mark on the Hopkins program, eight seasons to place him third eight seasons to place him third on the Blue Jays' all-time win list. The Johns Hopkins-Syracuse matehup became legendary squaring off against Roy Simmons Jr.'s hax powerhouse. teams met 10 times each the ing five victories. When Simmons Jr. retired, Searnon moved on as well. He took his famous on as well. He took his famous zone defense and bag full of zone defense and bag tricks to nearby Towson. Now, Seamon and his Tigers (1-2) renew their yearly Tigers (1-2) renew their yearly batte with Syracuse at 1 p.m.
Sater Saturday at Minnegan Stadium in Tuwson. Md.
Despite SU's No. 1 status and Towson's lack of a Top 25 ranking, Syracuse (3-0) knows not to take any team coached by not to take any team coached by the legendary Seamon lightly.
"Coach Seamon always has something up his sleeve," SU goalie Rob Mulligan said. "He always has something just for Syracuse. He still men's thinks that Syracuse is lacrosse Tigers managed a 5 - 8 record, which included a \(12-9\) loss to the Orangemen. In that utilizing a zone defense aimed at stopping SU All-American Ryan Stowell.

The zone isn't the only trick Seamon has pulled out of his Magic hat against Syracuse. Seamon put a long shaft on a goalie stick.

Sticking in Powell's mind, however, is the zone. Syracuse players expect more of the same players expect more of \(t\)

The Tigers are going to be ready," defender Joe Ceglia said. "They're playing the No. 1 team in the country, and if I was them, rd be psyched right now. dd barely be getting sleep during

If we "We can't take them lightly. If we take them lightly, were not the smart team. I don't think we're a dumb team, so I think we're a dumb team, so think we'll be all right, and well come down there and play."

Seamon may need to throw out every trick in his arsenal to stop this year's version of the Big Orange Machine. Syracuse already Machine. Syracuse already owns victories over No. 2 owns victories over No. 2
Virginia, No. 7 Johns
Hopkins and Hopkins and No. 15 Powell has domiand nated, recording 10 goals and six assists He also netted his 100th goal on a behind-the-back shot against Hopkins.

His on-field presence draws defenders away from SU's other potent attackmen. As such,
Mike Springer, Liam Banks, Mike Springer, Liam Banks, Josh Coffman and Matt Caione Josh Coffman and Matt Caione points apiece.

The quintet has combined for 51 points, but Powell believes the offense can do better, as evidenced by the B shooting it \(51-26\).
it up," Powell said. "In all three games, we haven't played as good as we are capable of. We have a lot of offensive weapons, have a lot of offensive weapons, but we haven't been able to put but we haven't been able to put gether yet. Our defense has really bailed us out a couple times.

The Johns Hopkins comeback, from down \(13-8\) to scoring a goal right after the buzzer doesn't help Syracuse's case in its quest for dominance. Despite leading \(10-5\) midway through the third quarter, the Orangemen fell apart at the seams.

This type of comeback leaves Syracuse vulnerable to underdogs that now believe they have a chance to win, Mulligan said
Now Towson thinks that we're beatable, that we can give up five goals in two minutes or three minutes," the junior said. "It leaves that ray of hope for other teams, and that's something were going to have to disthing we're going to have to distinguish early. We have to get that out of there and go back to the drawing box and start putting up numbers.
Towson has been fairly contain-able. The Tigers have outscored the opposition 37-32, but they fell one goal short to both Lehigh and Maryland. Towson's lone win came a 9 triumph.

Towson lost many players to graduation last season, in

The strongest Tigers in clude junior Todd Paradise, who has switched from midfield to attack and netted eight goals and five Justin Berry remains one of the college lacrosse's best faceoff men with a 61.2 percentage, John Horriran who SU head coach John Desko said played well against the Orangemen last season.

Still, graduation of stars
Spencer Ford and Kevin like Spencer Ford and Kevin Sturm hurts Towson's chances of success against a squad like Syracuse.
stars," We don't have any allstars," Seamon said, "But we have a group of guys that can play, who are going to keep the going to turn around and play going to turn arou tenacious defense."

\section*{Orangewomen eye second straight win}

\section*{BY ALISO}

When Syracuse women's iacrosse inead coach Lisa initier looks down the sidelines during the Orangewomen's game against the University of Massachusetts on Satur day, shell spot the famil- women's angewoman Carrie Bolduc.

Bolduc guided the seasons before graduating seasons be fore graduating last spring. The first graduate of the young Orangewomen program, Bolduc sistant coach.

When coach and player come face to face, Miller won't see her Syracuse uniform, holding a lacrosse stick. Instead, Bolduc will pace the sidelines, shouting instruc

The reunion of Miller and Bolduc, however, remains a side story to the Syracuse-UMass matchup.
Syracuse (1-3) looks to continue its upswing by claiming its second consecutive victory. After starting 0-3 - all losses against top 10 teams - the Orangetop 10 teams- the Orange-women registered their first win

\section*{ALLEN}

\section*{continued from page 16}
felt it was our best chance to score."

7 ith the Orangemen down \(11-7\) five minutes into the game, court. He filled the lane to finish an SU fast break, picked off a Bell pass and started another break that ended with a Jason Hart layup and tie game. With Griffin and Hart in Blackwell running the wings SU exploited Michigan State's penchant for charging the backboards. In 35 games this season the: Spartans lost the reboundthe: Spartans lost the reboundinf pattle just once and

But Etan Thomas hauled in five rebounds and Blackwell an 18-12 halftime advantage Syracuse turned those into re bounds into 12 fast-break points, while MSU failed to score in transition in the opening 20 minutes.
last week, a 9-3 victory against Notre Dame

Although the team's record doesn't look too pretty right now Miiier said sine doesn't regret playing ra the scason. e season.
"It would have been nice if we could have knocked one of them off," Miller said. think it was good for us.
thought start-to-finish, this thought start-to-finish, this team has a lot of potential. We just have to get it women showed glimpses of that potenIrish. tial against the Fighting Senior goalkeeper Clothilde Ewing finished with her best outEwing will need another big Ewing will need another big glenty of experience on offense plenty of experience on ofrense. Pavlick, Noelle Gorski and Re becca Minaker combine with ju nior attacker Fay Naber to lead the Minutewomen offense. Each player has tallied three points in UMass's first two games. Pavlick scored three goals, while the others notched two goals and one as sist.

The veterans could give Ewing and the Syracuse defense
r is ready
"She's not thinking as much, and I think that's good," Miller said. "i think as long as Cio makes the save, versus thinking about the goal that just went in (she will succeed). Concentrating (she will succeed). Concentrating on the next thing versus the last thing."

Ewing, who was pulled in wo of SU's first three games, seems to be regaining her solid Sophomors.

Sophomore Carrie Soults also is making her presence felt, and she does so at both ends of the field. Soults scored two goals and Miller said she is capable of more production.
goals from behind \(n\) score a lot of goals from behind," Miller said. Our defensive unit is the They just need to talk it up a little bit more."

Like Syracuse, UMass head ach Phil Barnes said the defense is the heart of his team. Three seniors and a junior comprise the unit, which prefers to play a match-up defense.
"The defense typically is our strength," Barnes said, "but overall, we play as a team. For us, anyone cas step up on any given lacrosse these days."
The UMass defense will contend with a Syracuse offense that Inally has begun to break out oi an eariy-seasult siump.
Senior Lauren Brady and junior Karen Healy have spurred the scoring as of late. The only problem at attack is the Orangewomen trying to balance their contrasting offenses - the run 'n'gun and the slower set option ones and passing game off the ones and passing game ond. "It's settled attack," Brady said. "It's hard not to just work with our transition game because were so weekend, so that will slow us down a little.

Aware of their team's strengths and weaknesses, Miller and Barnes enter the game con centrat of onch their own squads practice has centered on improv ing the transition game and working out of sets.

Barnes, meanwhile, has his Minutewomen perfecting their play in hopes of downing the Orfirst victory
"Each team has its own style of play," Barnes said. "We have to be concerned with what we do as a team and how we play the game." game."
29. Griffin played 28 minutes in place of an ailing Hart and talplace of an ailing

The highlights of the season showed Grifin's perseverance and will to win.

After starting every Syracuse game last season, he lost his spot to Tony Bland in No vember. Griffin's lack of a con sistent perimeter game paved the way for sharpshooter DeShaun Williams to steal sorne the junior's minutes as well. The near future, however, pears bright for Griffin. He appears bright for Griffin. He seems a lock to start at point guard for the Orangemen next guard for the Orangemen next year, and he said his late-season performances in New York City and here only give more desire to advance farther than round three next March "Jason set the standard this year," Griffin said. "With him and Mateen Cleaves, I know I have to work three times as hard as I ever have this summer. That's all I have ahead of me. Work, work, work."
the half. After the next television timeout, he steamed past Bell for a layup with the shing toward zero.

On defense, Griffin also played an important role. He extended the usual 2-3 zone to with a sideline trap. The schematic witch proved most effective when a trap of junior forward David Thomas yielded a Hart steal and a Griffin dunk that put SU up \(32-19\) with \(3: 08\) left put SU up \(32-19\)
"He did play great, and a lot of their guys played great," Izzo said. "Even though he is really him quite thoroughly He pere trated well and made some big shots." \({ }^{\text {" }}\),

Thursday night's performance outshined Grifrin's previing in February at Madison Square Garden, Boeheim employed a similar two point guard lineup, and Griffin finished with nine points and seven assists.
"We didn't get back very coach Tom Izzo said. "With Etan Thomas getting rebounds, they Tid a great job releanding, their duards. Not just Hart, but all of them.:

Griffin excelled in the halfcourt as well. With Cleaves checking Hart, the Spartans matched a slower shooting guard against the speedy Grif-
. Charlie Bell attempted to slow the junior first, but his bimpy left knee prevented him from keeping Griffin out of the lane. Subs Mike Chappell and David Thomas checked him late in the first half, but SU's secand point guard exploited each "I just felt tike I was in the groove," Griffin said. "I don't know if they didn't watch the games we played or whatever.

When in Hell...
by Eric Jones

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Out of Town}

Since his rise in the polls Satan is a strong contender for the GOP. nomination and

Mr. S, wéve received 3 Million from the Tobacco lobly, \(A \rightarrow\) the NRA+

Wait, send back that last one,... l don't think we should be (5) getting 6 involved with (1) 50.0 those types of people

\section*{No Point}

\section*{Rasputin Presents}

Mr. Skizz

by Thane Benson

by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

In "Other" Words
by M.D.

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 c\) each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word

 Deadline: 2 pm 2 business days prior to ru
ADS ARENOTTAKEN BY PHONE !! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 132 10; Alt Classifieds; OA
Faxed with Credit Card to: 315.443 .3689

Notices FREE SLICE OF PIZZAI College Studenis- Come

Summers Coming Lose tha! winter bulge. Doctor Recommendied 1

\section*{Autos}

1995 Explerer Sport 2 Door, 4 WD. White, tow package, 70k nules, new Goodyear RTT/S tites 8 non-smoker Auto Armour Pain! & Aust Protestor non-Smoker Ayto Arm
\($ 10.500-60430-1102\)

\section*{Bikes}

Gary Fisher Joshua MTE. Full suspension, Fock har judy and coupe deluxe rear shock. Only 2 eli. Call 253-2771 Ext. 201

EMPLOYMENT
Painters Wanted for Surnmer. Work in Universty and sutrounding areas. Slart Mid Aprid or Eatly
May. Catt Gary 446.9593 in neeva ai ExFEHENCEE people oo oo tesels \({ }^{1} 1\) interested.
SatesiMarketing Aep: Esin \(5150-5300 /\) week

you have entegreneurial spirit are sell-disciptined and commited to succeed. Join our winning teame Apply On-line a www campusglobanel.com. Clice income oppordunities. Or lorward resume to neome opporluthities. Or College Gins Wanled lor Internet Business.

all 455-8723 Leave Message.
DISTRIGUTOR needed, part-time North Countr Utica, lithacalCorlland. and Onondaga county icence, neat appearance and good penmanship. Established routes wexpansion opportunities lor competent rep. This is a rack ioboing positon with titexible hours. it you have the right oullook and pep the money is there. Good working reterences. Ma hand-writhen resume, time and pay requirements to Marshall Penn-York, Altn: T.M Kanaley 348 W. Fayelte SL. Syracuse, NY 13202 Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in Pocono Mins. Over 40 activities seekng sp counselors \(\quad 1-800-533\)-camp counseliors Beyondclass.com. a last growing website/e-zine needs talented writers and web-iays. Fositions are unpaid, but youil get experience writng for a rea compary and a chance to get some greal publicity Commuricationsiof ournalism or English majors prelerted. Emal JoAndrea

CAMP COUNSELORS - NEWYORK

 120 posilions. Camp
Web:wwweampshane.com

\section*{Job Opportunities}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Tired of the same \\ boring summer job? overright camp 45 minutes trom Philadelotha. \\ Pa. Openings for genaral counselars 8 \\ speciaisists in spotts. atchery. tennis, goli, \\ paintball. photograpty, video, woodshop. outdoor ackentutefropes Iakelion: & pool, for \\ Call Brett or Bobbi (800)543-9830 or \\
E-mail: ckweebec@aol.com
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

AAA make \($\) on the intemet. Gel in on the ground t100. We have the device. connection and dessunation. Interested? Call \(315-474-2326\) or 201-970-3780
AMAZING SUMMER at plemier PA coed childtren's overnight camp. Energelic. enlhusiastic. men &
 Olitice 510.9

\section*{to schedile on campus intervew}

Pre-medicat stubent wanted tor full-lime position at busy medical oflinated tor luillime position at busy medical cilice. whit medical schoots. \(452-2600\)
SUMEER JOBS
SUMMEA CAMP
STh For at in NEW YORK-June ist- August wa- For application and inlosmation, Web- wrwectipininaw com oi e-mail intoe chipinaw com

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Child Care}

\section*{BABYSITTER position starting \(5 / 12\) in Dewitt.} guts ages \(6.9+12\). Own car. Non smoxer. Focm avaitable. Call \(445-7033\) at right prn, Wednesday mornings and every other Monday morning 5:45 to 8:15am Watch hem in my Jamesvite home. Call Aick G492-21 to Jamesvitie tor details.

\section*{Help Wanted}

\section*{}

Clubs Student Groups
Sludent organizations eatm \($ 1,000.52 .000\) with the easy campusfindaisetcom three hour fundraising easy campusfundraisetcom three hour ftundraising event. No sales required. Fundraising dales are illing quickly so calt today! Conlact tiling quickly so calt today, Coniact campustundraisercom. 8881923 -3238. or visit unw compusiundraisericom. uwn. campusiundraiser.corn.
Grocry Dude! Get paid white you surt the intemel! wwu that easy wilh no gimmicks: Local company seeks relephone interviewers! teseaxcher. Protessional envivonment. Make your own part-ime schedule. Above average pay with incentives \(&\) bonuses. Sonse college and computer skills preterred. Fax resume \(10422-5040\) or Send io Libery Businesy development Group. Aitn:flod Dewey.
St500 weekly potential mailing our circutars. No Experience 月e \(202-452-7679\).

Roommates

 FOR RENT

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms, Eff,APTA Homes & Town Houses
MOST INCLUDING
- Security System with 1" Dead Bolt Locks
- Smoke, Heat & Sprinkjer System
- Prices Ranging from \($ 225-5375 /\) month

Katchens include: Gourmet Self-cleaning ovens,
Katchens include: Gourmet Self-cleaning ovens,
Garbage Disposals. Microwaves, Distwashers
- Whall to Well Carpets & Padding (like home)
- Laundry Facilities on Premises
- Oin-street Panking
- Snow s Lawn Maintenance
- Some Apts. inciude All Utilities utilies)
- Safe Areas within Walking Distance to Campus Such as * Comstock, Ostrom, Harrison, Madison, Westeott, Clarendon, Ackerman, Livingston.
Laneaster

CALL 478-6504
to check out your home
OPR Developets AT YOUR SERVICE!

813 Constock Across From Wornens Gym. All Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Furnished Heal included. hatrwod floors porch, rexunty vemodeled, laundry. panking. 476-292 - -9 The "Pink Palace- s Bt house adjacent to Fose Garden 721 Ostrom Avc. Eargain Pate. \(446-3693\)
KensingtonPiace 1 stFloor targe 3Bedroort igLivng:oom DiningRoon Modernkitchen dishwasher mierowave disposal fiieplace handwoodFloors ponctes nearBustine hardwoodFloors pouches nearBushine OunerNeightorchood available June tst \(2000-2001\) Quentreightorchood avaliable
Cal7 ammprn 247.7651 ot426-1884
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { LOOKATTHIS! } \\
& \text { Three Bedroom Apartment } \\
& \text { Spaciows tire bedrom, comptetely }
\end{aligned} \] aparument mutispoished Living Foom with firepiace. Dining toon, Kition ans mree bearoons, and latge off street, garage parking Laundry tacility in buidang.

\section*{

}

Apartments cose to campus ciean 2-3-5 bedrooms sonse with fireplace laundry parking semifumished robsonable price 497.5761 . Stap clean 3 bedroam spattments Fireplace, parking, faundry, low price 436-4016.

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
University nicely furnished quiet 1.2 .3 bedtoons parking tillities incluted Close Walk SU nosolats parking tetilities included Close Walk SU nospilats also 5 bed \(476-2642\)

LUXURIOUS: 2siory apholt. Gourmet kitgin. CusIom loungeniv aya, Skylight 15h celling.

NO PEIS! Leases. Fine Qa-2ne 1-2-3 Bodroom Apartmen!s, Beautillt, Spacieus, OItstreat Parking, Fully Furnished, Low Utilities, Sate, Quiet, Ciose 476-0295
4Sedrooms. OaklandSt.. 1 Block ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals, turnished, parking, laundry, Westicot/ Euclid renovared \(3+4\) bedroom avail \(6 / 1\) Westeotu Euclid ranorated 3+4 bedroom
\($ 650-$ 720 \mathrm{P} / \mathrm{M}\) parking \(\mathrm{D} N\) Pat \(263-3415\)

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

University and Comstock very cose to Campus Eticiencies and Two Bediocons Secure bldg.
 University Ave, live bedroom House one block

UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709
pLEASE VISTT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTON OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Ackerman Ave. 4br 2/Bath apt. Furnished. Coakpeled walk to campus.
5.00-5/01 lease 445.7202

\section*{L(.)(.)K \\ Sale & Secure}

Fuminshed 3 Bedrooms Livingrom. Diningtoom Porches. Laundry 655-2175

\section*{For details}

University Ave. Three Bedioom Fiat Close Waik
Io Carspy furnished laundry parking lease 5875.00 plus utilities D.N.Drucker 445 -1229

\section*{Apartments}

Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Wakikng distance
S.U. off street parking. Launcry. Call \(476-2982\).
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline 5.U.off street paxing. Launtry. Call 47 -29892. & With ulitites indudet, firteraces, \\
\hline NE, TWO, THREE & cose to cimpusi Call Gortion 476-2982 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEDROOMS
beautifully
FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY
478-7548

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts \\ dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / \\ Prices \\ 478-6504}

2 Bedroom furnishad apartment with all utitities 5240.00 per person. One mile from \begin{tabular}{l} campus. \\
446 -5 \\
1.298 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
1,1/2 Bedroom aric apariment on quiet street. Unfurnished. Air condivioned wall to wall carpel new appliances. Suitable tor single or couple. Avaiable June 15 Is. \($ 350.00\) per month plus utilities.
One year lease. No Peis 243.0754

Large clean 38 edroom Ilats Westcott, Broad SI. area. Hardmood Boors, porthes, oit-5treet parking tyt lease security \(5660+446-8928\)

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS 604 Walnut Ave.
2,3. AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Rents start at \($ 275\). Fetinished hardwoed floors. Walt to wall carpet. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry wking. 24hour maintenance.
University Area Apls 479-5005

Universiny 283 Sedroom TowniHouses 8 Flats. nexpensive and mint cond.tion. Washes/0ry

Two Bedroom Apartments
WO Beditilites ineluded, Fireplace, Furnished. Hardwood Floors and Furnished. Hardwood Foors and Carpeting, Pentry. Porch. Luundry, Parkin
olose to Campus. Call Gordon 476-2982

\section*{AND FIVE BEDROOM} APTS.
Westcott Street area
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Euclid and
Ackerman Ave
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Beautiful Condition
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

2 Bedroom apt with 2 car gatage 1 Bedroom apt with 2 car garage 125 Kensington Rd comer of tancaster \($ 550472 \cdot 2667\).

com furnishad apariment wil
2. 3 Bdrm Apts and 4 Bdrm House tor rent on Maryland Ave. Polamianos olices at 175.5 Marshall S

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS, EUELID FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS. FREE HEAT, GREAT LOCAIION 476-9933

One tedroom studio apattment. very large. one look form campus, bols of closet space. lumished, full kilchen, full bath
\(5475 / \mathrm{mos}\) plus utils. 423 -0830

THREE BEDROOM
APARTMENT,
EUCLID AVE FREE HEAT
476-9933
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS. \\
1011 E.Adams \\
509 University \\
Carpeted, Air Conditioned. \\
Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking. \\
Maintenance. \\
University Area Apts. \\
479-5005 \\
www.universityaroa.com \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Dome's lore, history provide perfect setting}

Claptor and Santana, Prince and Dolly, the Boss and the Gambler, Blayed it.

So did Ewing and Mourning and Mutombo,

PASSAN Billy and DC and the Pearl.
Duke coach
Mike
Krayzewski, standing in the Cartier Dome, "it's nice to be in the house that Boeheim built."

The place hasn't changed. It's still an intimidating, cavernous air-pressurized bubble that just so happens to \(\mathrm{ft} 50,000\) people inside.

Lop off about 20,000 and you've got yourself a basketball crowd. Sometimes, a rabid one.

This weekend ane.
This weekend, an insane
The NCAA Tournament's East Regional kicks of tonight 7:38 p.m. in the vaunted Dome

It opened Sept. 20, 1980, the \section*{INTERIOR}

around him and he doesn't pass it out well yet. When he got double-teamed late in the game, that's not a good situa tion for him

As the ball continued to fall to find itg wey to him, Thomas frustration grew His second personal foul was picked up in the first half when he threw an elbow while jostling for position with A.J. Granger. Thomas simply dragersonal day betore I was born Admittedly, I've aged a bit better than the Dorne. After all. I don't have a roof that, like the Dome's, was replaced a year ago. While the graffiti on the Dome is, uh, mighty nice, I prefer not to spray paint a bunch of illegible letters on my ass.

\section*{[classifieds]}

Still, the lore and legend remains. And with good reason

Years of exposure and press left the Dome as one of the most revered sporting venues in the "it's it's a unique facility," said Pat Campbell, the Dome's gener this weekend's setup 'Thator of very few others like it in the very few others like it in the nation, let alone of college campuses."

Sure, you've got the 50,000 seats and the 24 sets of lights and the 16 jet-engine powerful fans and the eight blocks of speakers dangling from the roof

Section 113 is Tony Bland Land. Section 107, Row M, Seat 2 - where Campbell was sitting - would ve given you a perfect view of Pearl Washington's hal cour prayer answered against

You could see Donovan

McNabb's last-second touchdown heave to Steve Brominski against Virginia Tech in 1998 from about anywhere in the Dome.

The indelible moments, those pictures that freeze in your mind and never thaw, make the Dome what it is.

It can generate as much noise, excitement and intensity as any other stadtum in the nation," head football coach paul Pasqualoni said. "On those days when you've got the fans into the Eame, there's no place more excit

Insane, coach. It's insane It's always been that way harkening back to the sellout the mid-'80s.

Campb
"I remember a throwback ass to Donnic MePherson, Campbell said. He caught the ball for a touchdown and was near the railing. Everyone was slapping him five and pushing. and the railing gave way.
ly "Yeah," he said, sarcistically. "That was good

No worries. The railing has been reinforced. Along with the roof.
occurred could spawn anothe set. When Florida and Duke tiake the court this evening, they do so as hungry teams with th Oklahoma State and Sevon Hall do the same in the nighteay

The national television broadeast and legions of faithful fanatics should create the typical ly high-spirited Dome atmosphere

Some of Duke's Canmeron Crazies made the voyage north Seton Hall fins came the 23 Miles from Central Jersey. of tans to the Sait City

And maybe - just maybe Florida's contingency can prove the state is not all orange juice and old people.

How? lt's the Canrier Dome and it's March.

Combine the two and you've got one nice result.

Insanity.
Jeff Passan is an assistant sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columins appcar negularly. E-mail him at jspassan@syr.edia

After the game. Thomas gave credit to the Spartans mance and called Michigan State a great team.

Frustration could be seen on his face, however, as Thomas faced the questions about how MSU had attacked him. low, but they mainly got their points from 3-point shots, the SU center said, "and 3 point shots add up after while."

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTIONOF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND \(4,5,6,7\) BARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
3 Bectroon Modem Apartment on Ackerman Averue. \($ 220.00\) per parson plus utitites. Availabil Junte 1 1st 2000 . Some oft Stres Parung
-Free Laundry. Serious Studenis Pretered Free Laundry'. Serious Studenis Praferred. No Pets. 254-0025
sozClerendon large clean 2Bedtoon flat hartwood ticors porch off-street park
640 includes heat 44 G -e928
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Bedroom Apt Ackerman Avo 6-1-00 \\
Fully Furnished Porcties, Laundry Packing, Dishwasher \(\mathrm{Omner}_{682-22 t \mathrm{t}}^{\mathrm{Cl}}\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Furn and Two Eedroom
Flutrishod Apartments. Corner of Walnut and Harrison Avanues Leases CCommence June 2000
Last Month and Securiv. No Pers Atiowed. \begin{tabular}{l}
Graduanth and Security Na Pets Ablices Prefarred Cail \(422-7555\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
Ackeman funcistred spacious two BdRm otl s
One Bedroom Apartments, Some with 9 month leases. laundry, quiet buibiding. Elosese to campus, 476-2982

204 Ostrom Elficiency One and 2Bedroom Secure Bideg Laundry Parking Very Ctean
Avail June 446.5186

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

Looking for a piace to five? wwwhousingiol.nel.. Yout move oll campus!

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to walt carpet
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry Low utilities. Competitive rents.
 Gacoss ifiom haven) 479-5005

Thres Bedroom Apartmentay Two porches, storage area. \(475-2982\)
1,2,3,4 85 Bdrut Apartments. Housest Slutios. Clean, Spacacus, Supenor Coridition, sompe recentiy fenoval
parking 474 - 6791

Fuynished 2-5Bedroont Houses Apartments
Livingsion. Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6665
2 Bedroom Apls 202. 204 Ostrom. 105 Euctid Terrace Large Roorts Hardwood Fioors Avail Jung or Aug 446 - 5186
Four Bedroom on Acknoman, Furnished \({ }^{2}\) aundry, Carpet. Hardw
Gail Gorton 476-2982

Large 3 bedroom. 2 lull bath. Walking distance
S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call 476 -2962.
4Bedrooms turnished flat with all utilities induded!
One block from campus near Law Schod + ESF. 2 One block from campus near Law Schod +ESF. 2 full bathrooms, carpel, Laundyy. patking. Studio and Efficiency Apartments, furnished. utilitios inciused, parking, la:undry, nice sid hardmood tioors and carpet. 476 -2982.

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM} Furnighed, Disinwasher, iwo Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, 476-2982

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom llat, Iurnished. stove, retrig, laundry fireptace, garage

\section*{COMSTOCK HEIGHTS APARTMENTS}

329 Comstock Ave.
2 blocks from campus.
Modern 3 bedroom apartments. Wall to wall carpet.
aundry. Parking. Alarms.
Lowest rents for modern new construction. low utilities.

\section*{University Area Apts}
www.universityarea.com

Houses
RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO FIAEPLACES,
FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES 476-9933

LOOK AT THIS! Spacious six bedroom. Furnished House. widishwasther and six ange bedroms and wo full tathrooms. Off sireet parking will garage. Waster and dryer in buiting
CALL \(430-518:\) after 1:00pm

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

> RENT YOUR OWN HOME BEDROOM HOUSE BEDROQM \(\begin{aligned} & \text { TWR FIRELCES. } \\ & \text { URNISHED GREAT POREHE }\end{aligned}\).

Chatming English Tutar House on Comstock 6 Bedroams, Fireplace across trom Comstiocx Eedroams, freplace, across from Avail \(5 / 20475-1012\). \((343) 514-3881\)

\section*{Summer Rentals}

\section*{Summer Bargain! $200/mo per person wilh all} available. Rent whole apartment or by the 100 m available. Rent whole apartment
One block from Czmpus. \(446-9598\)

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

Eurorit pens Experte wev.riticeals com Get

\section*{MISC.}

A NOTF FROMTHEDAILORONGE:
 being replied from any actverusement in each issue. .or The Daly Orange doess not take re-Sponstarity for any misconcuct resulung in con-

\title{
[sports
} Dave Curtis, editor
March 24, 2000 \(\mathbf{}\)

\title{
Griffin's efforts wasted
}

While Mateen Cleaves whoops it up, Jason Hart (left) calls a timerout in efforts to stop a Michigan State run. The TO did littie good, as the Spartans defeated Syracuse \(75-58\).

Allen Griffin played brad horrigan/The Daily orange alen Gnitm played his best game of the season, leading Syracuse with 14 points in 32 minutes. BY DAVE CURTIS
Sports Editor
AUBURN HILLS, Mich. Allon Griffin tore his varmup from his body a little less than three minutes into the game, far and away his earliest reveille of the season.

He joined the Syracuse cause as an active participant as it faced an 11-5 deficit and a bloodthirsty assembly packed mostly with Michigan State rooters.

Griffin's presence seemed to spark the Orangemen to reverse the six-point margin and silence the crowd. Slashing to the basket and playing strong defense at the top of the \(2-3\) helped lead SU to a 34-24 advantage at intermission.
Despite Michigan State's explosive second half and eventual 17 -point win, the 6 -foot-1 guard from the Bronx showeased his burgeoning game in 32 minutes. He finished with 14 points on 5 -for- 10 shooting, handed out one assist and stole a Charlie Bell pass in the first sist and stole a Charlie Bell pass in the first half. half," SU head coach Jim Boeheim said. "We half," SU head coach Jim Boeheim said. "We went with Allen to take advantage of his speed, quickness and dribble penetration. We

See ALLEN page 12

\section*{Dissapointed SU fans reminisce about season}

BY EMILY KULKUS Managing Editor

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. - With 10 minutes left in the second half and more than 20,000 fans screaming, "Go green, go white!" 11-year-old Dan Fetter shouted, C'mon, 'Cuse!" at the top of his lungs.

Fetter, dressed in Syracuse University attire and with an orange pom-pom on the Orangemen as they battled Michion State University on Thursday nieht in gan NCAA's Midwest Regionals. night in And although SU iost to MS
And although S lost to MSU 75-58, Fetter said.

The Fetter family was among about 150 SU fans at Wednesday's game at The Palace of Auburn Hills, Mich.

With SU dominating in the first half, the small but loud SU section cheered on the squad after each basket scored. see his godson Jason Hart play Thursday see his godson Jason Hart play Thursday night, James Pilcher whistled and shook night, dames Pist at the senior point guard as Hart boxed out a Spartan after a foul.

Hart looked up and nodded at his godfather the same way he always did to godfather the same way he always did to his father Richard during high school games, Pilcher said.
me to that's what his father, Richard, told to to tell him," Pilcher said. "He told me teen) Cleaves, Pilcher and J ason's father played basketball together since the seventh grade, and Pilcher watched Jason play his last collegiate contest Thursd game to However However, even though the SU season ended on a loss, making the Sweet 16 sutBlackwell, fathers of Etan and Ryan, respectively.

It doesn't get any better than this," said Antone Thomas, waving an orange pom porn.
"This is special," Raymond Blackwell said.

Going into the game, Juli Boeheim said she did not want to think it could possibiy be the last game for the seniors. heim, grow closer to the team each year.
"They're great guys with great families," Juli said. "I'm trying not to look at it as their last game. It's just great to be here in the Sweet 16 ."

Attributing much of the team's success during the first half to Jason Hart. former SU and Detroit Pistons legend Dave Bing said the Orangemen played better than he had seen them all year.

Their strength in the first half sur prised many people, Bing said.
"I think Michigan State is under a lot of pressure because they're the No. I seed going in, he said at halftime. "Essentialexpecting them to beat up on Syracuse "Michigan State's got it in the back of their minds, "Maybe this is a better team than we thought.

Bing ate dinner with Boeheim and assistant coaches Mike Hopkins and Louis Orr on Wednesday night, where the three were "playing it cool," Bing said.
key," he said They were crying to be low key, he said. hey didnt want anyone to think they had a chance to win."

See REACTION page 11

\section*{Spartans defense controls Thomas}

\section*{BY CONNOR ENNIS \\ Asst. Sports Editor}

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. Th the days leading up to semifinal, Etan Thomas presented a physical obstacle for Michigan State.

The Spartans supposedly had no one to match up with the \(S U\) center on the inside no one who could check SU's big man and keep him off the boards.

How could they control him? What would their strategy oe?
head coach Tom Izzo chose to fight fire with fire.
Michigan State went right at Thomas all game, on both the offensive and defensive ends, and kept him - for the most part - under wraps.

Thomas finished with seven points and, perhaps more importantly, just six MSU's \(75-58\) victory against SU at The Palace of Aubura Hills.
Michigan State was also able to get the SU center into foul trouble, limiting his effectiveress in the second half and briding his defensive aggression during the Spartans' \(17-0\) game-ending Spartans' 17-0 game-ending run.
Andre Hutson was the primary MSU player as signed to guard Thomas, but every time the SU center acfensive end, Spartan-players fensive end, Spartan-players flocked to him like ants to a picnic basket.
"Thomas is the best big man we've played against," letic. We started doubling him because one man can' guard him. We were really swarming to him."

That beehive mentality led to Thomas, for all intents and purposes, being taken out as an option for SU on the offensive end.
on Hart, Allen Griffin or Jnother one of SU's perimete players would look inside to their teammate only to find the way blocked by bodies cloaked in white and green.

Rather than risk turnover on the pass or a Strip of Thomas inside, the SU players simply reversed ther weakness in the Spar other weakness in the Spar tan defense.

They're a very physical Jim Boeheim said. "We tried to get the ball to Etan but there were always guys

See INTERIOR page 15

The Daily Orange's NCAA Tournament East Regional preview was edited by Sports Editor Dave Curtis and Asst. Sports Editors Jeff Passan and Connor Ennis. Much thanks to Design Editor Tito Bottitta for his amazing concept and execution; to Presentation Director Bill Ehninger overseeing all operations; and to Photo Editor Adeet Deshmukh and Asst. Photo Editors Rachael J. Golden and Lisa Caswell.

Also, thank you to the great college papers that provided us with photographs: The Duke Chronicle and The Daily o'Collegian at Oklahoma State.
- \({ }^{-1}\) Bracket? Sack it
D) Did you trash your bracket of 64 like us? If so, start over with the Sweet 1.6 .
1) Expect offense aplenty from youthful Duke and Florida in the early game.

The Hall's Hope
A healthy Smaheen Holloway could boost the upset-minded Pirates.
-1) \(\begin{aligned} & \text { Ride 'Em, Gowloys } \\ & \text { What's sweeter than a Gottlieb-to- } \\ & \text { Mason alley-oop? A Final Four run. }\end{aligned}\)

\section*{Borders}

\section*{Celebrates} March Madness with Syracuse Basketball "A Century of Memories" 30\% off through March (bring this ad for redemption). Come in and peruse our sports section for additiona sports titles.

\section*{9777 Carousel Center Dr. Syracuse, NY 466-6100}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.
- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run.
Call 443-9793 during advertising business hours (8 a.m.4 p.m.) for current rates and applicable discounts.

You may have heard about Lazybones laundry & dry cleaning services (only .994 a pound for laundry. \($ 4.50\) per sweater/pants/blouses dry cleaning). Well, we also provide a summer storage servicel for one low per item charge. we pick up your things, store them all summer long, and deliver them back to you in the fall. We'tl take anything you've gotl Boxes of winter clothes, books, or miscellaneous stuff - computers. furniture, microwaves, TV's, Bicycles etc.

Mere are the good parts:
- Cheaper than storing yourseft \(-20^{\prime \prime} \times 20^{\prime \prime}\) boxes just $29.95
- DOOR to DOOR pick up and delivery - even upstairs!.

Here are the important parts:
- fully insured from pick up until delivery
- fully protessional since 1993.
climate controlled and supervised facilities all summer long.
- Incorporated with the State of New York and a member of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce.

The catch? You DO need to reserve space in advance - with a fully retundable \($ 50\) deposit - you DO NOT need to know exactly how much you are going to store. We're also an authorized UPS and FedEx shipping agent. Call us to reserve your space today (space is lintited).

\section*{we sell packing supplies (delivered to you) to anyone oa campus!}
\[
426-9523
\]

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{ 5PM - 9PM \\ BASITETBALL FAN WELCOME PADTY BUCKET OF 5 ROLLING ROCK SPLITS - $6}

\section*{HRULEDAY MAGFY}

\section*{OUR FAMOUS \\ CORONA NIGHT}

SZ EACH AIL NIGHT LONG
FREE BALLOONS WITH PRIZES IN THEM AT MD-

FREE ONCENTER "FAN-DEMONIUH" TICKET GIVEAWAYS
JOIN RUDWEIEER'B MHOOP CHALLENGEV POR FREE LUCYE EWEET Y T-EHIRTE & OTHER ANBOME PHEE

SABUIDAY
OPEN AT 12:00 HOOH
BRING YOUR GAME TICKET FOR A DISCOUNT AT.THE DOOR!

LADIES NIGHT
WILL BEFROM 8PM - XOPM
THIS WMENONLY
SUPTPAY
-har ressumbery \($ 2.25\) FOSTER'S BOTTLES SI JELLO SHOTS

\section*{GRILL MENU}
opew all weenend lone
HOFFMAN'S DOG \($ 2.50\) HOFFMAN'S CONEY $2.50 HAMBURGER \($ 3\) CHEESEBUGER $3.25 GIANELLI SAUSAGE (W/PEPPERS & ONIONS) \($ 3\) SODA $1

\section*{LUCY'S}

SWEET T-SEIRTS
WILL BE AVAILABLE
AT THE GRILL OR INSIDE

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts dúring advertising business thours.

dukebluedevils:ss flopidagatars ,iniwn \(\qquad\) erage more than 28 minutes per game, but io averate 14 .plus.
The result: A fresh bench, fresh legs

Well 5 略 the game's going to he clase down the \section*{뵤}

"It was like you were in ind SIEBis or something. Our kids have kind of created the impression that we silililsil, we didn't win."
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{ with the most history out of the four teams i} &  \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Two nationat anumionships and eight final} \\ \hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{Iong championship run for the Bure Devis akin to UCLA:s dominance in the 1970s. Duke's staying power at the top is nothing if not im \(\qquad\)} & \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l} rithe siue Devis of his season (29.4) erer-ainis do not dominate ilike his teams of the \\ tainty do not dominate ike nis teams of the past. but kryze iski, is stiul satistied by their profest as the season has
\end{tabular}} &  \\
\hline & avereses s8.9 points game The \\ \hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} & 䢒 \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{team, but we have accomplished things."
This year's squad combines all the norma} & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{ \\  Tootanal coumterapat, has scoract Boplus polnts.}
\(1 \%\)

\(\underbrace{}_{1}\)

\(\underset{\substack{\text { tow number that could } \\ \text { spelt trouble. }}}{ }\)

School: Duke University
Record: 29.4 this season (571-218 overall in 24 seasons)
NCAA Tournament: Krzyzewski reigns as the most successful of the four East Regional coaches, having won two NCAA Championships and making eight Final Fours during his illustrious career. In his 20 years at Duke, 17 of Krzyzewski's teams have made the tourney.

The Scoop: What can you say about Mike Krzyzewski? He's the best coach in college basketball today. No argument here. He's the best coach of his generation. That's a given. He's the best ever. That's still to be seen Coach K must win an awful lot of titles to catch up to John Wooden. Still, the legacy Krzyzewski has left in Durham, N.C.. is unparalleled. His 1998 ' 99 team overpowered and dominated opponents on its way to a 37-2 record. One of those losses was in the national title game to Connecticut. Promptly, four Dukies went in the first round of the NGA Draft. Krzyzewski not only churns out players, but his kids are good people. A military man, Krzyzewski knows the meaning of discipline: He was a graduate assistant under Bobby Knight in 1975 at Indiana.

Fun Fact: The Duke Web site has a 2,429-word biography on Coach K.

School: University of Florida
Record: 26-7 this season (110-68 overall in six seasons)
NCAA Tournament:Florida's head coach made the Sweet 16 in his first appearance last season, driving the youthfut Gators past Penn and Weber State before succumbing to Gonzaga, 73-72.

The Scoop: Donovan is another in the long line of Rick Pitino disciples. And where he's gone, success has followed. The scrappy Donovan took Providence to the final Four as a player in 1987. Six years later, as an assistant, he rode with Pitino's Kentucky Wildcats to another Final Four. He then jumped to Marshall and became its head coach in 1994. There, he compiled a \(35-20\) record, turning around a near-dead program. Donovan left for Florida, and he hasn't looked back, assembling one of the most talented teams in the nation. He faces Krzyzewski, a coaching legend, in the first round. A win over Duke could be Donovan's first step into the category of college's coaching elite.

Fun Fact: Donovan has recruited four McDonald's All-Americans (Mike Miller, Teddy Dupay, Brett Nelson, Donnell Harvey) in the past two seasons.

\title{
Darwins is 10 feet up
} on the competition
Taking you closer to the action with a 10 FOOT SCREENI and 8 surrounding televisions

\section*{It's March Madnesed}

March 23-26 get in on the action
\(a s\) Darwins presents the regional finals
Take advantage of our great drink specials from our 24 beers on tap and food specials from the best restaurant on the hill!
It's the ondy place to be

701 South Crouse Ave
Syracuse, NY
472-1901

Old School
School: Oklahoma State University
Record: 26-6 this season (658-258 overall in \(\mathbf{3 0}\) seasons)
NCAA Toumament: Sutton is the only coach ever to take four teams (Creighton, Arkansas, Kentucky and OSU) to NCAA Tournaments. He has also taken 21 of his 30 teams to the NCAAs.

The Scoop: When you follow in legendary coach Henry lba's footsteps, there's a lot of ground to cover. But Sutton seems to have done a good job, amassing 650-plus wins in his 30 seasons as a college basketball coach. An Oklahoma State graduate, Sutton worked as Iba's graduate assistant at OSU during the 1958-59 season. Sutton's teams have twice posted 32-4 records - the first time, with the 1977-78 Razorbacks, he went to the Final Four; the second, with the ' \(85-86\) Wildcats, he made it to the Elite Eight. Sutton finally arrived back at the Final Four in 1995, when his Bryant "Big Country" Reeves-led team powered its way past opponents. This game pits a Great Gatsby-like scenario, as Sutton - the old - faces Seton Hall's Tommy Amaker - the new up-and-comer.

Fun Fact: Sutton has coached more years (41) than Amaker (35) and Billy Donovan (34) have lived.

\section*{5 Tommy Amaker}

\section*{New School}

School: Seton Hall University
Record: 22-9 this season (52-39 overall in three seasons)
NCAA Toumament: After two 15-15 NIT seasons, Tommy Amaker has finally made it to the Big Dance. Question is, can his Pirates ride the emotion of first- and second-round overtime victories into an upset against Duke?

The Scoop: Tommy Amaker could very well face his mentor. Mike Krzyzewski, in the East Regional final should both teams win their semifinal matchups. It would be a classic student-teacher battle, two coaches with similar systems facing off. Thirteen years at Duke - four as a player, nine as an assistant coach - instilled Coach K's idiosyncrasies in Amaker. Using them Amaker has found great success with the Pirates this season. SHU upset Syracuse 69-67 in the Carrier Dome earlier this season, earning Amaker's biggest win to date. He should post many more, considering how respected he has become. Amaker garnered the same plaudits as a player, earning AllAmerica and National Defensive Player of the Year honors in 1987 for the Dukies.

Fun Fact: Amaker also helped lead the 1985 U.S. Jones Cup team to a gold medal.

173 Marshall Street Syracuse, NY 13210 (315)471-4237 fax (315)471-2610 jinichinile

\(\checkmark\) Student Dlscounts
\(\sim\) Professlonal Bartencing Trairuing - Tips on Finding a Top Paying Job - Become thalemted, Socially Eetome d Taiented,
- Matlonal Restzurant Association Alcohol Resameness Program - Great Part-inme or summer Job

1-800-U-CAM-MIX WWWV.universitybartending.com

\section*{THE}

SHOWPLACE OF CENTRAL NEW YORK

ORANGEII! David and Ilene Flaum & Family

> Computer Doctor Of Syracuse, Inc Marshall Square Mall

\section*{Custom New / Used Upgrades / Repairs PC's / Laptops Printers / Monitors}

Hours
Best Prices Guarenteed Work

Mon. Thur Fri.
9:30-5:30
Sat. 10:30-2:30

Phone: 315-423-9284 www.computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{Visit Armory Square @}
 the CR variety, \({ }^{\text {any way }}\) YOU sliceit 471.7177 (114

EXTRAORDINARY RUALITY

> EVERYDAY VARIEXY BBQ CHICKEN CHEESE CHICKEN BROCCOLI CHICFENWING GARLICTOMATO HAWAIIAN MARGHERITA PASTA PEPPERONI PESTO PMS SAUSAGE THREE PEPPER VEGETABLE > CALZONES SPINACHWHEELS PIZZAWALKAWAYS FRENCH FRIES

HERO SANDWXCHES
HOT MEATBALL CHICKEN PARM EGGPLANT PARM

MAMA MIA ENTREES BAKED ANGEL HAIR BAKED ZITI CHICKEN PARM EGGPLANT PARM

OPEN TLL 3:00 AM
ARMORY SQUARE 311 WEST FAYETTE ST 471-1717

EXPERIENEE THETOP SEEDED RESTAURANTS IN HISTORIE ARMORY SQUARE

LEMONGRASS
Flavors from the Pacific Rim & Thailand Center Armory 238 West Jefferson Street 475-1|||
\[
\Rightarrow 3
\]
\(1 & \quad\) i \(\quad 0\)
Serving Traditional American Cuisine Center Armory 238 West Jefferson Street 475-9463
CALL FOR BESERUATIONS TODAY!

OLD FASHIONED HOME COOKING
\(&\) COCKTATLS

INA HIP CITYPACKACE
CRAECAKES • STEAKS* FISH WREAPS - HEARTY SOUPS E SANDWICHES THE EEST MARGARITAS IN TOUN

AREMORY SQUARE - 309 WFAYETTE SE - 478-7878 LIVE ENTERTAINMENT THURSDAYS, FREIDAYS S SATLRDDAYS

How to get to Armory Square from the Carrier Dome ...

\section*{A Historic place for Dining, Shopping and Entertainment.}

The skid hit without warning in mid-February and nearly sent Seton Hall to a Spring Break in the NIT. The Pirates hovered near the top of the Big East standings into the conference schedule's finat quarter before dropping four of five contests heading to the tourna ment.

Nothing went well for the boys from South Orange N.J. Sharpshooter Darius Lane's bombs found rim instead of net, and Haitian center Samuel Dalembert found him self in foul trouble night after night.

After splitting a pair in the Big East Tournament, the Pirates survived two overtime thrillers in Buffalo to ad vance to Syracuse.

Lane and reserve guard Ty Shine canned big triples to hang with Temple, and Dalembert shut down Oregon's post threats with a fistful of blocked shots.

I can't tell you how thrilled and excited we are to be in this position." head coach Tommy Amaker said. "To beat an opponent (Temple) that probably had a chance to win it all. All we asked was an opportunity to be there at the end. It's a very tough task.

Amaker starts two freshman and a sophomore with seniors Holloway and Rimas Kaukenas, and the mix of youth and experience carried the Pirates to wins over Syra cuse and St. John's in the regular season. The Hall has won three straight under Carrier's bubble as well, capped by a \(69-67\) triumph to break Syracuse's 19 -game winning streak.

The Pirates get outrebounded by two boards per game and average more turnovers than they force. But the Pirates own a 7-1 mark in games decided by five points or less and four wins without a loss when contests spill into overtime.

With a healthy Holloway running the show. don't expect the No. 10 seed Pirates to heel over this weekend.

\section*{"He recognized that this is his last year and his commitment, preparation and investment has heen uff Tile Billifi."}

Seton Hall coach Tommy Amaker on injured guard Shaheen Holloway
- Dave Curtis

Vs. Quinnipiac 91-55
Vs. Drexel 69-65
Vs. St..Peter's
79-65
BB&T Classic at Washington, D.C.

\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline At Florida State & 79-56 \\
\hline Vs Columbia & 60-58 \\
\hline Vs. Army & 77-56 \\
\hline Vs. Stony Brook & 70-50 \\
\hline Vs. Wagner & 92-77 \\
\hline Vs. Villanova & 71-64 \\
\hline At Georgetown & 65-62 OT \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline - At Pittsburgh & 80-68 \\
\hline Vs. St. John's & 78.70 \\
\hline At Boston College & 74-65 \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline Vs. Providence & 82-67 \\
\hline Vs. West Virginia & 97-66 \\
\hline At Syracuse & 69-67 \\
\hline At Rutgers & 65-63 OT \\
\hline Vs. Boston College & 77-66 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Vs. Minnesota
64-61

Big East Tournament at New York
Vs. Providence
\(85-65\)
NCAA Toumament at Buffalo
Vs. Oregon
72-71 OT
Vs. Temple
67-65 OT

Probable Starters for the Seton Hall Pirates
\begin{tabular}{lllllll}
name & ht & wt & yr & ppg & rpg & apg \\
Greg Morton & \(6-7\) & 225 & Fr. & 3.9 & 4.6 & 0.9 \\
Rimas Kaukenas & \(6-4\) & 185 & Sr & 13.1 & 3.5 & 2.1 \\
Samuel Dalembert & \(6-11\) & 230 & Fr. & 6.0 & 5.8 & 0.3 \\
Shaheen Holioway & \(5-10\) & 175 & Sr. & 13.2 & 5.1 & 5.6 \\
Darius Lane & \(6-4\) & 215 & So. & 15.3 & 4.5 & 1.8 \\
& & & & & & \\
Key Reserves & & & & & & \\
Ty Shine & \(6-0\) & 170 & So. & 7.7 & 1.5 & 1.9 \\
Kevin Wilkins & \(6-7\) & 220 & Jr. & 3.1 & 2.8 & 0.4 \\
Charles Manga & \(6-10\) & 225 & So. & 1.5 & 2.5 & 0.3
\end{tabular}
average margin of victory In Seton Halls last four games at the Dome.

number of losses for Seton Hall in four overtime games this season.

All season, Seton Hall head coach Tommy Amaker fed the Big East media a cute but simple mantra.
"We're going to go as far as The Little Man can take us," he would say in almost every interview.
The Little Man, 5 -foot- 10 senior point guard Shaheen Holloway, lifted the Pirates throughout the year and kept his magic alive in March. Last Friday in Buffalo, his last-second layup gave SHU a 72-71 triumph overtime triumph over Oregon.
Highlights dominated Holloway's season, an exclamation point after three campaigns of injuries and disappointing records. Despite playing in a league full of standout paint guards, he posted 13.2 points and 5.7 assists per game, good enough to merit second-team Ail-Big East honors.
But in round two of the NCAA Tournament, fate pulted the emergency brake on Holloway's season. After scoring a layup against Temple, the senior landed awkwardly on his left ankle and severely sprained its outer ligaments.
Confined to a wheelchair, Holloway watched SHU upset the Owls 67-65 to advance to Syracuse. But the status of The Little Man who led the Pirates physically and emotionally remains in doubt as his team battles Oklahoma State tonight.

\section*{- Dave Curtis}

Oklahoma State head coach Eddie Sutton is in his 30th year of coaching. but he still hasn't iost his enthusiasm for the game.
His dynamic Cowboys enter the third round of the NCAA Toumament hot after dominating their first- and secondround games.

When you have a high-flyer like Desmond Mason, a floor general like Doug Gottlieb and a scorching player like Fredrik Jonzen, it's easy to be content.
"It is a special time of the year for college basketball and it has grown in leaps and bounds," Sutton said. "A first-round game today is like what a Sweet 16 game was like, and the Sweet 1.6 is as hyped as much as the Final Four was.

In said sweet 16 matchup, the Cowboys face an upstart Seton Hall team that upset second-seeded Temple in the second round.

And they do so with a strong and balanced offense.
Gottlieb dishes out 8.6 assists per game, second best in the nation. His recipients are Mason ( 18.1 ppg ), Brian Montonati ( 12.2 ppg ) and Glendon Alexan der ( 12.0 ppg )

But, said Sutton, the Cowboys have a tendency to fall into lapses.
-Our inconsistency has concemed us, but you have to remember who we have played," Sutton said. "I'm sure some of those teams were responsible for us having an off night."

He still has Mason, one of the most explosive players in the nation. The \(6-\) foot-5 swingman shoots 50.7 percent from the field and an unconscious 42.6 percent from 3 point range.

And his purpose for the Cowboys is evident: Provide the spark that will advance the boys from stillwater to the next round.
"When Desmond plays well," Sutton said, "we are a great basketball team."
- Jeff Passan

\section*{}

Probable Starters for the Oklahoma State Cowboys \begin{tabular}{lllllll}
name & ht & wt & yr & ppg & rpg & apg \\
Fredrik Jonzen & \(6-10\) & 230 & So. & 8.3 & 6.8 & 0.8 \\
Desmond Mason & \(6-5\) & 215 & Sr. & 18.1 & 6.8 & 1.6 \\
Brian Montonati & \(6-10\) & 220 & Sr. & 12.2 & 7.4 & 1.6 \\
Doug Gottlieb & \(6-1\) & 180 & Sr. & 6.3 & 2.3 & 9.2 \\
Joe Adkins & \(6-1\) & 190 & Sr. & 11.0 & 3.4 & 4.1 \\
Key Reserves & & & & & & \\
Glendon Alexander & \(6-3\) & 220 & Sr. & 12.0 & 2.6 & 0.9 \\
Alex Webber & \(6-10\) & 257 & Sr. & 4.6 & 3.3 & 0.5 \\
Andre Williams & \(6-7\) & 210 & Fr. & 3.9 & 4.2 & 0.6
\end{tabular}

\section*{PReOrd \(>26.0\)}
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Vs. Appalachian St. & 87-75 \\
\hline Vs. Idaho & 81-50 \\
\hline At. Arkansas-Little Rock & 93-64 \\
\hline Vs. North Texas & 10365 \\
\hline Vs. Wichita St. & 68-56 \\
\hline Vs. Texas-San Antonio & 87-66 \\
\hline Vs. San Diego St. (at Oklahoma City) & 97-63 \\
\hline Vs. Alcom St. & 79-53 \\
\hline At NevadaLas Vegas & 89.75 \\
\hline At Washington & 84-72 \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline Vs. Langston & 125-65 \\
\hline Vs Texas Tech & 55-47 \\
\hline At Baylor & 56-41 \\
\hline Vs. Texas & 7563 \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{} \\
\hline At Kansas St. & 71-56 \\
\hline Vs. Baylor & 67-51 \\
\hline At Texas Tech & 63-59 \\
\hline Vs Texas A8M & 87-55 \\
\hline Vs. Kansas & 86-53 \\
\hline At Oklahoma & 74-71 \\
\hline Vs. Nebraska & \\
\hline At Missouri & 84.72 \\
\hline Vs. Colorado & 96.60 \\
\hline Big 12 Toumament at Kansas City Vs. Kansas & 77-58 \\
\hline & \\
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{NCAA Toumament at Buffalo} \\
\hline Vs. Hofstra & 86-66 \\
\hline Vs. Pepperdine & 7567 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

87-75
81-50
\(93-64\)
10365 87-66 97-63 79.53

89-75 \(84-72\) At Washington
Vs. Langston 5547 56-41 \(75-63\)

\section*{71-56} 67-51 63-59 87-55 86-53 7471
At Oklahoma
94.55

8472
At Missouri
\(96-60\)
Big 12 Toumament at Kansas City
Vs. Kansas
77-58

Vs. Hofstra
856 \(\rightarrow\) ?

\footnotetext{
Sometimes, it runs uncontrollably wild.
}

Doug Gottlleb's mouth, something he can't seem to - or chooses not to - control, has earned similar press to his teammate, Desmond Mason, and notoriety rivaling his head coach, Eddie Sutton.

Don't forget: Oklahoma State's senior point guard has game. Give him a silver medal for his 8.7
assists per game. And Gottlieb earns an undisputed gold, along with a 10.0 for his mastery of the art few can' perfect: Running smack.

Gottlieb brings his pass ' \(n\) ' crass show to Syracuse this weekend, as his third-seeded Cowboys look to escape the NCAA Toumament's East Regional and move on to the Final Four.

Neither the hard-hitting one-liner nor the game-long verbal tirade is a problem for Gottlieb, who, when not taiking trash on the court, moonlights on Jim Rome's nationally syndicated radio program.

There, he engaged in a verbal war with Kansas' Eric Chenowith. After Chenowith berated Gottlieb about his 44 percent free-throw shooting, Gottlieb effortiessly shot back.
-At least I don't get booed at home," he said about the much-maligned Chenowith.
Gottlieb 1, Chenowith 0 .
And like most of the games the smack-talker plays, he ended up ahead.

\section*{- Jeff Passan}

\title{
Taming \\ \\ the TIGERS
} \\ \\ the TIGERS
}

Syracuse uses fourth quarter spurt to beat Towson 10 to 3.
See Sports.
Floating Classroom Semester At Sea gives studying abroad a new splash.
See Lifestyle.

\section*{© Police Reports:}

\section*{Football players arrested after fight}

Uniestity nnessigaces 30-person brawl in Schine BY TIFFANY LANKES Asst. News Editor

A dance party ended in mayhem Friday night when a 45 -minute brawl ensued between members of the Syracuse University football team and brothers in the Omega Psi Phi fraternity

The only arrests made after the fight in the Schine Student Center were of two SU football players, center Patrick Alexander and cornerback Witl Allen, said Sgt. Dave Sackett, a spokesman for the Syracuse Police Department. Both were charged with ding arrest, according to a police report. Offensive guard Vaughn Smi case, according the incident involved about 30 people out of the more than 600 whom attended the event, said Leslie Grinner, advisor of Alpha Kiappa Alpha sorority and an attendee of the party.

Alexander and Allen refused to comment on the incident and Smith was unable to be reached for comment. The report also narned starting running back Dee Brown, as one of the many players at the party. Brown, who injured his hand in the dispute, said he did not know the number of his teammates who had attended.
"My role in the whole melee was to get my team-
See FIGHT page 3

Members of the Student Coalition On Organized Labor protest Friday the allegred use of sueatshops to make SU clothing

\section*{Naked bike riders protest sweatshops}

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS Staff Writer

A dozen naked bike riders circled the Quad on Friday in protest of Syracuse University's dealings with Nike, a company reported to use sweatshops for apparel production. ear sweatshop lather go naked than Pat OLeary, a member of the Student Coalition On Organized Labor. "We want SU to stop its affiliation with sweatshop labor. We want them to take responsibility.

The Student Environmental Action Coalition sponsored the ride to culminate "Sweatshop Awareness Week."

The week aimed to inform the student body that SU has not joined the Workers' Rights Consortium, an organization that would randomly inspect eng conditions, said ensure good workmore international relations major more intern al relations major.

Taking advantage of signs to cover their derrieres and a New York state lows, the riders assembled on the Quad before a 4 p.m rally in front of Hen dricks Chapel.

After completing their first lap around the Quad, bikes began to tumble and the lead cyclist's sign came loose from his body, exposing him. The stu dent, who would not give his name, was taken away for indecent exposure by SL Public Safety Dircctor Robert Robinson and two Public Safety officers.

The student said he was not ar rested and was released within an hour after explaining that he did not expose himself purposely.

After the bike ride ended, SEAC and SCOOL began a rally featuring speakers from both groups, the New Speakers ficm both groups, the New the ALF-CIO labor union and the SU Student Government Association.
"We have to convince (Chancellor Kenneth A.) Shaw that it's worthless for a university like ours to be associated with sweatshops," SEAC President

See NAKED page 4

\section*{Spitfire speakers describe national woes}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Stalf Writer
Singer-turned-politician Jello Biafra visited Syracuse University Sunday night to sound off about the miseducation of Americans.

Biafra joined former MTV personality Kennedy and comedian Andy Dick in speakiog of issues including drug legalization, sodents attended the event hosted by University Union in Goldstein Auditorium

A candidate for the Green Party presiKennedys' lead singer, Biafra spoke of his concerns for the country and the influence of the media.
here has been a deliberate and steady dumbing down of news reporting." Biafra said. "And now with the presidential elections, it is difficult to tell it apart from professional wresting.

Instead of focusing on issues, the media has made the elections a beauty contest, Bi afra added.

The media should be more concerned with the issues and the way previous politicians voted on issues, rather than their sexu al encounters, he said.
ally are in trouble," Biafrang said, then we really are Programs such as the North American Free Trade Agreement, that lower tarifts on imports to the United States from Canada and Mexico, and the World Trade Organization should be abolished, Biafra said.

around laws that many of us have fought get long for," Biafra

November's WTO protests in Seattle were labeled as a riot by the media, Biafra said.
The only thing that resembled a riot was the police got crazier and crazier, , The sline. Law and order did not apply to the poPlice. Gee, doesn't that sound familiar?

Biafra urged the crowd to take action against large corporations by spreading word of their power.

\section*{Social Security}

Kennedy, currently a talk radio host in Seattle, spoke of the "evils" of the current U.S. Social Security system.
Securas shocked to read that the Social Security system as we know it is going to go bankrupt in 14 years," Kennedy said.

This will cause many problems in the future, she said. Parents will not be able to support their children as well as they hoped because of the declining distribution because of the declining distrib added.

Social Security is only beneficial to workers that make an above-average income and black men, Kennedy said The system should pending on the wishes of the individual paying the taxes, Kennedy said. Each workeshould be able to take the 12.4 percent of each paycheck and put it in government bonds or "I think that people neci some foty net " she said. safety net," she saic.

\section*{Battling drugs}

Comedian Andy Dick spoke about his or drug abuse.
minkind of like the poster child for what can happen if drugs take over you life," he said.
ife whek said his addiction began early in hife when his mother was a cancer patient.
was trying all her drugs, mether to try pot.
The start of the addiction began as a type of joke, Dick said.
luared doins a conmercial in the mir ror for the drug," he said. "I would say, tiny, purple, effective.

Dick said he is currently on probation for rashing his car into a light post, under the influence of alcohol ten months ago. He had in the car marijuana and some cocaine, he added

Is anybody high here tonight, because Tm gonna make a citizen's arrest," he said. "I also cannot be hanging out with people tha have drugs or are drinking, which probably means I shouldant be here

Dick said the car accident was his own
See SPITFIRE page 3

\section*{Police Reports:}

\section*{Scalpers arrested during weekend \\ tournament games}

Staff Reports
Syracuse police arrested six people Friday for scalping tickets prior to the week end's NCAA men's tournament basketbald games at the Carrier Dome, according to po Feports.

Four men broke a New York state law forbidding the resale of tickets within 1,000 feet of the event by scalping the tickets outside the Dome, the report said.

Police also caught two scalpers on the 100 block of Marshall Street, the report said.

Michael Spalinga, a Massachusetts resident, offered to resell three tickets for \($ 70\) each, the report said.

The state law limits the resale of tick ets to no more than \($ 5\) greater than the pur chase price or 10 percent, whichever is greater. The Dome sold the tickets for about \($ 23\) each.

Police found 10 tickets and \($ 584\) on Spalinga, the report said.

Howard Coleman tried to sell three tickets for \($ 50\) each, the report said.

See COPS page 4

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
. Al-Anon meets at noon in
- The College of Visual and Performing Arts presents "Near and Far: The Photography of artist Mitch Epstein, at 7 p.m in the Shaffer Art Building Room 121.
- The Onondaga Civic Symphony Orchestra performs at S p.m. at Roxboro Road Middle School in Mattydale. Admission School in Mattydale. Admission is a \($ 5\) donation.
- Career Exploration Services presents a workshop re garding "If I'm Graduating Next Year, What Do I Need to do Now?" from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 107. Hall of Languages, Room 107.
The workshop is to aid Arts and The workshop is to aid Arts and Sciences s next year.

\section*{TUESDAY}
- The Hall of Languages hostss a multimedia presentation "Shut bown the IMF and Wor

EThe Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority presents the 6th annual Vera against Domestic Violence with a table-sitting in the Schine Student Center.

\section*{TUESDAY. \\ THURSDAY}
- The SU Objectivist philosophy club hosts a table in Schine Student Center to dis tribute information regarding

WEDNESDAY
GThe Kappa Lambda chap ter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority hosts an information session regarding safe sex methods and 6 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500.

\section*{Correction}

The Salt Center City for the Performing Arts production of Jesus Christ Superstar was misidentified in Priday Weekend Guide anges Friday UJoseph and the Amazing Tech nicolor Dreamcoat." (Due to pro duction difficulties, "Jesus Christ Superstar" did not run this weekend.) The Daily Orange regrets the error.
[d.o.]
The Daily Orange is puhtished Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic year try The Daily Orange Carp. The D.O. is distributed un campus with the first five eopies complementary and each additional cupy costs $1.

Managernent 443-9798
Business 443-2314
News 443-2127
\(\begin{aligned} \text { Lifertyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Spurrs } & 443-2208\end{aligned}\)
\(\begin{array}{ll} \\ \text { Photography } & \text { 443-2208 } \\ \text { 443-9795 }\end{array}\)
Art 443-5938
Email editoriales dailyoname.emm
Online www-dailyorange-cimn

\section*{Clinton-Assad talks fail}

GENEVA - President Bill Clinton failed to break a negotiating deadiock between israel and Syria on Sunday despite a rare President Hafez Assad in Geneva that stretched over three hours.

The result was a clear setback for all parties. With Clinton leaving office in January and Assad in peace process could be delayed several months. And Israeli Prime to power last year in part on a promise to negotiate peace with Israel's foes, had hoped to conclude agreements with all parties over

\section*{Microsoft faces deadline date}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Time is running out for a deal between Microsoft Corp. and government attorneys, who are skeptical that the software company's proposal to settle an antitrust the market for personal computthe market for personal comput er operating systems, people fa

The settlement deadline is Tuesday, but efforts to reach a Tuesday, but efforts to reach a sion between the Justice Department and 19 state attorneys general. The Justice Department believes that a conduct-restraining settlement is possible, but some of the state attorneys general would prefer the clarity of a federal judge's verdict to the potential uncertainty of a mediated settlement, sources close to the talks said.

Though there isn't unanimity among the states either, some hard-liners among the states also fret that talks center on placing limits on certain Microsoft business practices rather than on US S Dis up the Thy, Which field Jackson has ruled is a mo field Jackson has ruled is a mo nopoly.

\section*{Gore pledges campaign reform}

WASHINGTON, D.C.- Vice President Al Gore, conceding he is an "imperfect messenger" for caman "imperfect messenger" for campaign finance reform, plans to unpaign finance reform, plans to un veil Monday an ambitious propos al for eliminating "soft money" and fnancing American elections with a new public-private endowment fund

With Sen. Russell Feingold D-Wis., at his side, Gore intends to promise that if he is elected president, the first bill he will send to Congress - on his first day in office - will be Feingold's proposed campaign finance over haul. Gore also will promote form ing a "Democracy Endowment" that would pay for presidential and congressional elections with tax-deductible contributions.

The speech, excerpts of which were provided by the Gore campaign Sunday, offers an unusually candid assessment by the vice president of his potential credibili ty problem on the issue.

Gore has bemoaned political money as a "cancer on our dempe racy" even as he collects it. At six events last week, he raised \($ 2 \mathrm{mil}\) Con for the Democratic National Committee, according to a par ty spokeswoman.

\section*{world news}

\footnotetext{
the next six months.
The key sticking point in the Israeli-Syrian diplomacy, which has been an ongoing source of contention, is the status of the Golan Heights, which Israel seized during the 1967 Middle East War and which Syria wants back in their entirety. Negotiations broke down in Janmary after Syria ac the issue. Israel has insisted on the issue. Israel has insisted on security guarantees that might nequire an Israeli presence in the Golan, along with secured water rights to the Sea of Galilee.

\section*{Putin squeaks in to presidency}

Putin, a former KGB spy who rose from obscurity to become Russia's acting head of state was elected president in his own right when he defeated 10 oth er candidates, according to preliminary returns early Monday

With 84 percent of the vote counted in Russia's second post-Soviet presidential elec tion, Putin received 51.9 per cent and avoided a runoff with the second-place finisher, Com Zyunist Party leader Gennady Zyuganov.
Monday morning, Putin early Monday morning, Putin attempted to strike a conciliatory note and held out the possibilinote and held out the possibilisome of his political rivals. At the same time, however, that people should not expect
}

\section*{FIGHT}
continued from page 1
mates," Brown said. "When you have 40 to 50 guys who are male and young and have alcohol in their system, it's bound to control them." "We weren't there to start a tight."
Omega Psi Phi hosted the dance party as part of a weekend anniversary celebration for their fratemity, said Grinner, who attended the event on behalf of the SU Office of Greek Life. The university has yet to issue a warming to the fraterin the fraternity and , a brother mradunte graduate

The party anded when the Syracuse Police Department showed with dogs, which were let loose on at least one student, Pascal said. "I saw crowds trying to break up the fight," Pascal said.
The fight began when a football player allegedly hit another student at the party, knocking him out, Grinner said.

A member of the fraternity was panicking trying to recall CPR," she said. "Public Safety was just watching,"
The incident escalated as more people became involved, either fighting or trying to break up the argument, she added.
event, such as a dance event, such as a dance, they are reofficers to monitor it she said Grinner added that when she quesner added that when she ques-

\section*{SPITFIRE}
continued from page 1
fault and addressed it in an acoustic performance with a member of his band.
"This is a story about taking away my freedom," he said. "But once again, 1 am responsible for that.
Kathryn Stevenson, a senior marketing major, said she was glad to have attended the event.
"What I got from it was basitioned why Public Safety was not attempting to stop the fighting, an fficer responded by saying the group was too large.
Public Safety officials were unable to be reached for comment. Officers then asked students to move out of Schine, said Ebony Pyfrom, a senior information studies and technology major. The officers, however, opened only one exit door and all the students rushed for it, Pyfrom said.

Outside Schine, the fight continued until police arrested the two players and students eventunlly left, paseal said.

One victim was knocked unconscious at the start of the fight and taken to Crouse Irvins Hospital, 736 Irving Ave, for treatment, according to the report. When the fight moved outside, many of the players len the scene, Grinner said.

The police case closed with the arrest of the two students, Sackett said.
"I don't know what precipitated the fight, I don't know what happened after it," Sackett said. "Two people were arrested. That's it. We're done. It's up to the university now to pursue this."
e reached for comperson could not be reached for comment.

Reggic rerry, director of SU football operations, confirmed that the investigation is on-going.
"There's a number of variand see. Theyre your peers. Theyre the kids you go to school with.

They're just like you."

Football Coach Paul Pasqualoni could not be reached for comment and SU Athletics Director Jake Crauthamel refused to comment.
Athough football players were he only people arrested for the incident, the entire team cannot be held responsible for the brawl, Brown said.

P apologize on behalf of my teammates and myself, he said. A. the same time we want to make tearn." resented as "thugs" or "goons, Brown said.
Brown said his teammates have yet to be notified of any punishment.

Arts Adventure presents:

Women during Women's History Month
\(\int_{6}^{6}+\)

Thursday; March 30 at \(7: 30\) pm in the Goldstein Amditorium

\section*{SENIORS}

FINAL TWO DAYS TO HAVE SENIOR PHOTOS TAKEN!

\title{
TUES. 3/28-WED. 3/29 11AM-3PM, 4PM-7PM UPPER LOBBY OF THE GOLDSTEIN AUDITORIUM, SCHINE STUDENT CENTER
}

\section*{NAKED}
continued from page 1
Nagy said.
Schools across the country, insluding the University of Michigan New York University, Brown Uni versity and Tulane University have the group's Web site at www.workersrights.org.

While the rally served to inform students about SU's reluctance to join, it also served as a warning to university administrators that more direct action would be taken if it does not join by April 1 - a deadline SCOOL and SEAC gave the university, said Sam AJcoff, an undeclared sophomore.

Beside nightly vigils this week, SEAC and SCOOL members were reluctant to say what those actions would be. Sit-ins, however, are a good possibility, said Keegan Cox, student at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.
"It's a tactic in the toolbox," Cox said. "If Shaw continues to stall, we'll have to use all the tools in the tool box.'

University resistance
SU is currently a member of the Fair Labor Association, which aims to monitor clothing manufacturers, said Brian McNamara, a senior political science and economics major. SEAC and SCOOL members added added. has basically developed into a corporate public relations campaign," he said. "There is no proor that they're doing anything.

The association allows corporations to manage their own monitoring, which taints the results, he said. troup, which is supported by labor human rights and religious proups MeNamara added.
But SU officials maintain their support of the association.

\section*{cops}
continued from page 1
Rochester resident Seth Horowitz offered two tickets for \($ 350\), the report said.

Horowitz was involved in a previous disturbance at the Dome, and the premises, the not to return to specifying the man's history

Police found Anton Porch, a Syracuse resident, selling one ticket for \($ 50\) on Marshall Street, the report said.

Porch handed other tickets to an associate prior to being placed in police custody, the report added.
cuse, tried to sell one ticket on Mar shall Street for \($ 60\), the report said. reached for comment.

Police arrested a Syracuse man for trespassing Saturday after he walked into a women's bathroom in Watson Hall, according to a police report.

Kareem McKinney, 23, entered the bathroom at about 5 p.m as a female student was taking a shower ed to open the student's shower cur tain, the report added.

The student put a towel on and sked Mckinney what he was doing, the report said.
elinquish its membership in the FLA, citing the FLA's strong leadership and organizational structure, its support from 134 member col leges and universities, its efreand its involvement in the living wage issucs," according to a university statement released Thursday. "In contrast, the WRC has no formal budget, no organizational structure and no established protocols at this time."

The statement, however, continued to say the university would perting its April 7 founding conference.
"He thinks it's essentially a joke," Cox said of Shaw. "He's not taking the issue seriously.
Kirk Kelly, a representative from AFL-CIO's Organizing Institute, spoke after Cooney during the rally and reminded students of the McKinney, who lives on the 100 block of East Corning Avenue, said he thoucht he was in the men's room, the report added.

The student later noticed McKinney on the fourth floor of the building and called security, the report said.

TE An udentified person broke into two cars Friday at the same house on the 800 block of Lancaster Avenue, according to police reports.
My roommate woke up Friday ad noticed that both of our cars had and noticed that both of our cars had Deacon, a senior English and Textual Studies major.

The suspect smashed the rear

\section*{STUDENT TRAVEL \\ Degrees of Freedom}

Student ID's Contiki Tours
Eurail Passes
Travel Insurance Beds on a Budget Adventure Holidays Great Travel Products Special Student Airfares

800-777-0112 STA TRAVEL MEVE BEEN THERTE.
long-ranging effects of sweatshops. "The message that I have to day is that this is a crisis. That's why union members are standing up everyone who he said. It affects everyone across the country.
SGA President Jamal James spoke as the rally ended and applauded the bike riders' effort.
here doing this today, but it heas to here doing this today, but it has to contwe wre his business." that we are his business.
ly not only to show support but ral to provide bail money for the naked bike riders if it was necessary

Although James said he supports the group's tenet, he chose to remain clothed at the event.
said. "I'm with them a fab idea,", James said. "I'm with them in spirit." windows in both cars, Deacon said.
The theft must have occurred late Thursday night or early Friday morning, she added.
"It had to have been between 3 and 9 a.m.," she said.

The suspect stole a stereo and a jacket from Deacon's 1991 Honda, the report said.

Deacon's roommate reported \($ 900\) in compact dises missing from her 1998 Ford, the report said
"My roommate had 70 CDs in her car, Deacon said.
glarized three months ago was bur
- An unidentified person stole a compact disc player Friday night from a car parked on the 800 block of Lancaster Avenue, according to a police report.
University car belonged to a Boston niversity student, the report said. The thei broke the ront passenger side window and rear winthe report said.
- An unidentified person stole $2,015 worth of property from a Day Hall resident early Friday morning, according to a police re\({ }^{\text {port. }} \mathrm{Br}\)

Bryan Mandelbaum, a freshman in The College of Arts Sciences, awoke Friday morning to find several of his belongings missing.

The items included a Sony stereo receiver, a subwoofer, two speakers, 35 DVD movies and \($ 40\) cash, the report said.
\({ }^{4}\) I grot back at about 12:30 on Friday," Mandelbaum said. "I locked the door and went to bed."

Mandelbaum said his roommate returned around 2 a.m.
"He didn't have a key," Mandelbaum said. "So he had to get the RA on duty to let him in."

Mandelbaum awoke when his rommate ann out of the ordinary he add noth ing out of the ordinary, he added. at \(2 \mathrm{am} . \mathrm{m}^{\prime}\) Mandelfaum said.
The roommate left the door unlocked, he added.

A friend returned the roommate's keys shortly after and did not notice anything suspicious, the eport said.
"I know her, and I know she wouldn't take anything," MandelThe \(n\).
morning, Mandel baum found the belongings missing, se said.
There are no case, the report said It was probab Mandelbaum said, "O a friend, who has been in my room and knew what I had in here.
Before leaving his room, the police informed Mandelbaum of the fines incurred by filing a false report.

EStormy King, a senior fashion design and textile design major, reported damage to her 1989 Isuzu Trooper Thursday night, according to a police report.
King The car wasn't broken into," King said. "It's a hassle nonetheless.

The suspect broke the car's ront windshield with a rock or a brick, the report said.
Tin The car was parked in front of King's house on the 800 block of "I was ave unt King said.
hat night and didn't see 4:30 a.m she added.
King does not have an estimate on the cost of damage, she said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Evans

\title{
[editorial]
}

The Daily Orange March 27, 2000

\section*{FDA tobacco rules merit court decision}

It's not lights out for the tobacco industry just yet.

In a narrow victory for Big Tobacco last Tuesday, the Supreme Court ruled to limit the Food and Drug Administration's power to regulate tobacco sales and distribution.

The court's majority opinion maintained that tobacco poses a serious risk to U.S. public health. But it signals an important message about the role of government-appointed agencies: They must be kept in close check.

The FDA abused its power by posing sweeping rules against the tobacco industry. It stepped out of its jurisdiction and chipped away at the government's intended function.

Last week's court decision nullified the FDA's 1996 shots at Big Tobacco. But many of these same rules would be valid, if they were enumerated through the proper channel - by Congress.

Congressional legislation to tighten controls on targeted tobacco advertising, and continued efforts to crack down on cigarette sales to minors are all crucial steps to curbing dangerous nicotine addiction, especially in children.

Allowing the FDA to formulate a plan to take down Big Tobacco on its own would set a dangerous precedent about government procedure. Its agenda might lead to an outright nicotine ban - something that the Republican-controlled, tobacco-supporting Congress would surely never have intended.

Though the FDA and other governmentappointed agencies' expertise allow Congress to occupy the back seat when dealing with issue minutia, they must still be subjected to regular Congressional scrutiny.

Like any other industry, from textiles to airlines, tobacco companies are out to make a buck.

But it's not the job of an agency several steps removed from elected officials that should be dictating how they run their business.

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Ass. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Sapna Kollal Dave Curtis Boy Davia Bill Enninger Adeet Deshmukh Nova Aurstrew
Katra Prabucid Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampone Corsy Hann Asst. Sports Editor Magin McKenna Asst. Sports Editor Connor Ennis Jefi Passan
Erin Boyle Elaine Skinner Tito Botitita Tom Mason Rachael Golden Lisa Caswell
Ron Fooks in Mercadante Marisa Gordon Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Edito ay merstanity Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{University programs work to decrease crime}

\section*{To the editor.}

All of us at Syracuse University are united in our concern and outrage when students are hurt and victimized by crime. We are pleased that The Daily Orange seeks to raise awareness of crime in the community, but it is important to clanify how the university's campus safety programs The universitys concern for stunit safety and well-being is manident safety and well-being is manifested in many ways. The university, for example, offers off-campus students crime prevention programs Safety and provides information and orientation sessions that help educate students on issues of personal Committee on Campus Security is available to respond to student safety concerns related to their university experience.

Another important program is the Neighborhood Patrol Initiative. This program was created as part of the larger University-Community Partnership to enhance the qua life for those living in the East Neighborhood. The program seeks to Neighborhood. The program se deter crime, to provide a rapid response to criminal incicents that do quality of life issues. It is not simply quality of life issues. It is not simply intended to break up otf-campus par Manch 21 implied

While, by law, the university is not empowered to send its Public Sarety oficers on patrol in the East Neighborhood, we continue to support increased neighborhood patrols by the Syracuse Police Department The university has provided an additional \($ 26,000\) in funding - to supplement the \($ 14,000\) in seed money Patrol Initiative through November - to continue the patrol through the end of the academic year. Next year, in partnership with the city of Syracuse, the university will continue to fund its share of the patrol costs. The patrol is a step in the right direction. According to Syracuse police records, incidents of crime have gone down in the East Neighborhood since the program began in

But more must be bing made.
But more must be done, and the university will not stop in its efforts university has worked diligently, and university has worked diligently, and environment in which to learm and to environment in which to learn, and to educate students on how they can take an active role in protecting and oft campus.

To achieve these goals, it is imperative that all of us -SU personnel, students and the community - continue to work together

Barry L Wells
Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Student Relations

Eleanor Ware Vice President for Human Services and

Ryan Powell's two-goal, six-assist performance leads No. 1 Syracuse past the Tigers.

\section*{}

With the junior in the crease.

Mulligan's 23 saves shut down Towson

\section*{}

\section*{THLE FIRSTC YEAR SICMI-FORMAI,}

\section*{Millennium MMasquerade}

> TIIIS FIRIDAY:!!
> S:OOPM TOA 1:OOAM
> DRUMINS COUNVRY OHUH3

TICIELETS \($ 10\)
N゙OCOSTUMD N1OCWSSNME

TRANSPORTVATLON PIROVIDHID.

\section*{Become Elected to the}

For Leaders interested in influencing policies that affeet Graduate Life at \(^{s}\). \(U\).

> Elections begin March \(29^{\text {th }}\). Come by 131 Schine, or see your department senator for more information.
drawn on the top of his huge shoes -the same dot on each of the Gators' shoes - reminding him about his 18 brothers and sisters back in his hometown of Miami. Each Gator has a story, and a good one.

Florida cuach Billy Donovan gathered his players early Sunday and isked each to name the person or people who man the most to him

The Gators complied and rattled off a couple of names, not knowing the coach's purpose.

When the team arrived at the Dome and entered the locker room, there laid 14 picces of tape - one for each player.
"When youre playing and doing something for someone you love, you have a tendency to try, and dig down a little bit decper," Donovn said. "And it was just a reminder on their ankle.

They reached down inside and found the way to win the game"

The Gators saw their 17 -point lead erode to three with eight minutes remaining. It was gut check time.
Matt Bonner thought about his dad, Dave, who is a mailman. "He's as big a fan of the NCAA Tournament as anytody, Bonnar said. up on his knee when 1 was 8 years old and watching games with him."
Major Parker thought about his grandmother, Beulah Washington, who raised him in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Also on Parker's ankle was "MY SISTER" 15-year-old Chara.

They're the two closest women to me," he said. "Theyre
the reason I'm here today."
Donovan, the coach who resurrected the Florica program atter on Krueger left for tlinois, stood the Cowboys'rin. His eyes peered around the Carricr Dome, 30,388 strone.

He wanted Florida to push

\section*{MULLIGAN}
continued from page 7
"We think (Paradise) is one of the better shooters in the country," SU head coach John Desko said, "so we wanted to know where he was at all times. John Glatzel did a nice job covering him and really knowing where he was off the SU also got strong play from Joe Ceglia and reserve Tom Nee. With the additional help, starters Marshall Glatzol had plenty of support and keeping Towson cutters from ceping Tod looks.

Much of the nn's and the creait for Mulgess roes to the Tiger's oun suc-rors.
They struggied to handle shot presented itself to them, Towson repeatedly botched the opportunity.

It grounded the ball into

\section*{INTERNSHIPS SUMMER 2000}

Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields. Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

\footnotetext{
Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271
}

\section*{When in Hell...}

Sleep Deprivation

EXCUSEME, HAVE AN
TTCH IN MY ASS, WOULD YOU SCVERTCH ITWITH YOUREENIS?

by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas
by Eric Jones (2)

by David Pollack

\section*{Rasputin Presents}
by J-Dog & Mariska

by Thane Benson
by The Four Electrons

\section*{Mr. Skizz}

Eat the Lettuce

\(\qquad\)

\section*{}

Notices
Summers Corngy Lose that winter bulge. Docto
Aecommenced 30 milion have lost thrir weignt

Autos
\(\xrightarrow{\text { 1995 Exilorer Spof } 12 \text { Door, } 4 \text { WO. Whine } 1 \text { Iow }}\)

Bikes

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

 comphy and athance to gel smene peat pub preferred Emal JuAndrea at noe gg a azet. net. Painters Wanted tor Surnmer. Wiork in Universary Rnd surfounding atens.
 Moikng, part-ving whin your contere conmumty

Job Opportunities Computer Programmer/ Analyst No experience needed!! IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS. C, +t, JAVA, ACCESS, SYBAS and many other languages. Knowledge of ane computer programming lan Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For toll-free (888) \(680-5057\).

AMazing SUMMER at premier PA cood cmidien's genera Good Solay Fonitasicicackith Great thice \(510.941-0128\) or www camproctamxencon oschesuie onchanpusinvew

Pre-medical student wanted lor luivirre posmon a) wusy mesitial othee. Wht medcal schoos. \(452 \cdot 2600\)

Biologists
No experience needed!! Earn up to 35 K after 1 yr 40 K after 2 years IMS a biomedical software tirm in Silver Spring. MD is oflering a free 44 of students who tate this course. Course starts \(6 / 121200\). Or detailis see imsweb.com
or call ( 888 ) \(680-5057\)

ARA make \(S\) on the anternet Get in on the ground Hoor. We have the device. connection and

WANTED Child Care
 pro. Wectrestay morings sand every other Hontay morning \(6: 15\) to 0,15 am. watch themin jornesmie lor serais.

Help Wanted

\section*{fraternilics' Sorotities}

 camu campustundraisercicom organizations. Eams S. pir MC a00. We 51500 weokily potential maling our ciratalas. No Experionose Required. free intormalion packel Cal \(202-4\) Local company seoks letephone interviewers cesearchat. Protessional envionmenl. Wake your own part impe schedule. Above average pay with incentives 8 bonuses. Some college and compuler skills preterred. Fax resume to \(422-0040\) or sind to Liberty Business Development Group. send to Libetty Business Development Group Atn-Tod Dewey.

HEFBALIFE! 1 yesi 31 pounts Cuck for products or extia Cash waw ilinslim.com
Roommates Mommat wanted for tain semester 2000 onit

\section*{FOR RENT}

\section*{Five bedroom House} Spacious tive Eedroom completely furnished it ivse with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and Five large bedrooms, and Two FULL Bathrooms. Off stree parking with garage.
Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
1.2 .3 Bedioom Aparmments, Beanitul, Spaciinus, Clistreet Parking. Fully Fu
Sale, Cuire, Close 476 -0295
 4Bedrooms, OaklandSt. 18lock ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitats. lurnished, parxing, laundry, Two Bedroom Falf Semester 2000 Furnished. University Ave. Theree Bedroom Flat Close Walk to Carmpus lurnished laundry parking lease \($ 875,00\) Yo Campus lumnished laundry parking plus uthines D.N.Ducker 445.1229

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices} 478-6504

CuxURIOUS: 2story asyloth Gourmet hivorn. Custom ioungefly yea. Skligh ish ceiling

The Pink Palace- 5 Br. nouse aliacent to Rose Carden 72 Ostrom Ave. Bargain Rale. 446 -3693 Carden 721 Ostrom Ave. Bargain Rate \(446 \cdot 3693\) Ackerman Ave. Abr reath apt. Funcisted. carpeted. walk to campis.
SiO. 501 lease \(466-7202\)
University and Comstock very close to Campus EHiciencies and Two Bearocms Sectre bldg inciudes AlUngitites \(445-1223\) D N. .Drucier tid. Stop ciean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplact pow price 435 -4016.
Universty nigety lurnished quiet 1.2 .3 bedrooms also 5 bed
478.2642

> UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709
> pleasevisit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTM AND \(4,5,6\), BEDROOM HOUSES.

> WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

Apartments ctose to campus elean 2-7-5 bedrooms some with fireplace faundry bedroms some with fiteplace laundry?
semilumished reasonabie price 487-576t.
University Ave live bedroom House one block

KensingtonPlace Isiffoer large 3Bedroom tge vingrom Dinting Foom Modernkitchen tglivingroom Dinting ioom Modernkitichen dishwasher mitiow yove dispossal fiseplace hardwood Flocrs porches neart Busfine
OuietNeightorronood available June ist 2000-2001
Cuiltermespor 247-7851 0r426-1684

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom. Diningroom 655-2175

For details
Two Bedroom Apartments on Euctid Furrished.
Twa Bedroom Aparuketloors.porch, Heat incluged, hatdwod to remodeled. taundy. parking. 476 -2982
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Three Bedroom Apartment Spacieus the Beetrocn. compielely furnished apariment with porch. Living Rcom with treplace. Dining roam, kitthen and itree large bedrooms, and Bath oll street, garage parking laundry tacility in ouliting:
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Five bedroom House \\
Spacieus five Eiedroom. completey lurnishec House with toont and rear porches. Living Focm whin lirenace Ear-m kecrooms and OISHWASHEA and ilve arge beed parking with garaga. FAEE Laundry lacilty in buldaing. CALL 430-5188 atter 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Apartments}
\[
\text { 1,2.3,4 } 85 \text { Edim Aparimentr, Houses, Studios. }
\]
\[
\begin{aligned}
& 1,2,3,485 \text { Bois. Sparimer Gondtition, some } \\ & \text { Clean.Spaceus } \end{aligned}
\]

\section*{Euclid and}

Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch Beautiful June & August lease Ben Tupper 637-0978

So2Clerendon large clean 2Bedroom that hardwood 40 indudes heat 446 -892日 48edionoms funished flat with all ulthites included!
One block trom campus near taw Schoot +ESF. 2 One block trom campus near taw School + ESF. 2 wit balltrooms. carpet. laundry, patking. Avalable tut baltrooms. carpet. faundry, patking.
Mayor August. 3305 per person. 446 -9598 Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS EUCLID AVE OR ONE OR TWO LOCATION 476-9933

Sumnerave and LancasterAve three bedrooms apatiment also two bedrooms semi furnished avai abie nowe call \(445-1027\)

\section*{The Daily Orange}

March 27， 2000

ROADTRIP
continued from page 12 as if we were dreaming with visions of the Final Four dancing nour heads．

But with about \(1-4\) minutes eft in the second half，as every－ one around the country with a lit rame turned azound and oir fate was decided for us．There would be no Final Four fantasy come true－our season was over．

After the game had ended，I

\section*{SEMESTER}
continued from page 12
Social events range from dances and talent shows to musi－ cal programs and fundraising pro－ jects．For＂housing，＂students stay in double and triple occupancy rooms．

\section*{All aboard} over 70 Students choose from over 70 lower and upper division courses，called Global Perspectives Everyone who takes part in the propram must be enrolled as a stu－ dent at the University of Pitts． burgh or have completed a full se－ mester（ 12 credits）in an under． graduate degree program at an accredited college or university On average，classes include 20 to 30 students．

All University of Pittsburgh courses are worth three credits，

Bedroom furnisthed apartmen！with all utilities campus．Laundry．Parking．May＋August le \begin{tabular}{l} campus． \\
446 ． 9598 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1，2，3 and 4 Bedroom Apartments
302 Marshall St 604 Walnut Ave 621 Euclid Ave 917 Ackerman Ave
Available for 2000－2001 ully Furnished，Laundry
Parking，Futilime Maintenance and Management，
Wall to Weal Wall to Wall Carpet andor Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts 1011 E．Adams St．\＃30 479－5005
www．universityarea．com
Four Bedroom on Ackemman，Furnished， aundry Carper Handwood Fiocors
Call Gerdon 476－29R2

Ackerman Ave．nice 3bedroom Hat，lurnished， Avail fune \(151446-4279\) fire，garage
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline TOAD HALL \\
\hline \multirow[t]{6}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
1／2 block from campus． \\
Modern 2 bedroom apartments． \\
Wall to wall carpet． \\
Air conditioned．Disfiwasher． \\
Laundry．Low utilities． \\
Competitive rents． \\
302 Marshall St． \\
（across from Hayen）． \\ Univerasty Ares Apts
wwwiuniversityores．com \\
479－5005
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

3 日edroom Modem Apariment on Ackerman
Averwe．\($ 2 z 0.00\) per person plus utitities Available lune 1 st 2000 ．Some oft Spret Parking
＇Free Laundry．Sarious Sudents Pretarred．No Fets．254－0025

Apartment 4Br．2lull bath I．place h．wood tloor nem 2000 wat porch free laundry ayailable june／2000
\(446-1951\)
Large clean 3Bodroorn tlats Westcolt．Broad SL． iyr lease secunly \($ 660+446-8929\) oth－street parking

One and Two Bedrbom Comer of Walmut and Harison Aparumes Leasens Cor Wmance dune 2000. Last Month and Security No Potis Allo
Gractuates Prelerrec Cail \(422-7755\)

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM}

Furnizhod，Oishwasher，Two Porches， 476－2982

204 Ostrom Elficiency One and 2Bentroon Secure Budg Luundry Parking Vory Claan called my girlfriend L nuryn to sce if she watched the game and if，by As hape，she saw us in the crowd． the conversation had a somber， tone as both of us struggled to tone as both of us struggled to stay upbeat after being dragged down from the pedestal we sat upon only 30 minutes earlier \(A s\) apon oniy 30 munutes earlier As I entrance，hoards of MSU fans strolled by，each asking for tickets for Saturday＇s game．I wanted to kick their cocky asses．

I heard the guy on the phone and are transferable to the stu－ dent＇s home college or university． Although classes meet daily when the ship is at sea，when in port，students are offered a wide range of structured travel oppor－ tunicies or they may travel inde－ pendently．

Activities in port range from home stays with families in the country visited to university vis－ its，from visits travel that allows students to see life in the cities and rurai ar－ eas．Port stays last from four to six days． for Dithough time doesn＇t allow for Darren Flusche，a junior histo－ ry major，to take part in Semester at Sea，he traveled to London last semester and highly recommends study abroad． ＂Being abroad offers more time to experience life，he said ＂People didn＇t really know each other so I made a lot of friends．＂

\section*{O．P．R． \\ Developers 1，2，3－4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers， microwaves， disposal， \\ security systems \\ All Locations／ Prices 478－6504}

Studio，One and Two Bedroom Apts．close to Campus．Laundry， Parking，Lease， Heated 440－6200 437－7577 Largo 3 bedroom． 2 tuin bath，Waiking distiance
SU．off street parking，Laundry．Call \(476 \cdot 298\) ．

\section*{ONE，TWO，THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS．}

Westcott Street area Laundry，Parking，Lease 445－0540
next to me tell his friend，＂They had us by the balls．They had us

And we did，but it was ovor and after letting it all sink in，we both felt lucky to have been ther in person．We had seen the last Game of three SU stars－Jason Hart，Etan Thomas and Ryan Hart，Etan Thomas and Ryan bered as one of the best senior bered as one of the best senior Dome． trip and our night wasn＇t over as Shipboard faculty includes visiting professors from the United States and abroad，and most are internationalists who have had resident experience abroad．Class－ es also include a field component requirement that students must complete during the voyage．This comp is specific to individual class and is specific to individual class－

Setting sai
There are two around the world voyages each year－spring and fall．Spring voyages depart turn in May to Seattle，with an turn in May to seattle，with an itinerary that generally includes Visits to Cuba，Brazi，Southafrica， China and Japan．Fall voyages de－ part from Vancouver in September and return in December to New Orleans，with stops in Japan，Chi－ na，Vietnam，Malaysia，India，
Three Bedroom Apartments．Two porches， dishwasher，tualy furnished，oft－street parking． laundr． \(\begin{aligned} & \text { arpel，tharthood tiocrs．extra room，targe } \\ & \text { slorage area．} 476-2982\end{aligned}\)

\section*{THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT， \\ EUCLO FULL BATHS，} 476－9933

Furnished 2．58edroonn Houses＇Aparments

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709}
pLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES．

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILL．COM Housa For Fent 2 minutes Irom Main Campus
Seven
\($ 50.00\)
Full Head of Foil Highlights
\($ 25.00\)
1／2 Hread of Foil Highlights

\section*{CIA calon} Syracures Solutione tabetterstyle
Outs＂Colowing＂Froll Whightigkting＂Thenoes Zanineactentions－Mtrmieumes－Deaticures derarylie Rtaite 943 W．Genesee St． 4781826 Minutes from the University we headed back over the border to a bar in Windsor and tried to forget about the pame．Of course， the bar was filled with MSU fans and ESPN was on every TV in sight．But we were able to snag， free T－shirts from the place，and heading back into Detroit to go to heading back into Detroit to go
The next morning，we ate lunch and left，back to Syracuse to tell our tale of excitement aund woe to all those who watched from home．The seven hours

Egypt，Croatia，Turkey，Italy and Morocco．

A new program was also an－ nounced for summer travel this year，and will comprise 65 days of Gravel that will begin and end in Greece．The summer 2000 pro－ gram runs from June 14 th to Au－ gust 18th，and includes travel to Portugal，Italy，Russia，Belgium Cost for standard Semester at Sea accornmodations，including tu－ ition，room，board and passage fare，is \($ 13,650\) ．The summer pro． gram cost is \($ 8,975\) ．Financial as－ sistance is available for all Semes－ ter at Sea voyages．Students who receive aid，from their home college or university can generally use that aid combined with additional grants from the program．Assis－ tance is also available to students who did not qualify for financial aid from their home institution．

Applications are still being ac－

\section*{LOORATTHIS \\ Spacious six bedfoom，Furnished House， w／dishwis widishwiesher and six large bedronns and Two whal bournooms．Oif sireet tarking with garal wish garage，washer and dryer in building．
CALL \(430-5188\) atter \(1: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)}

RENT YOUR OWN HOME． FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE． FURNISHED GREAT FORICHES， 476－9933

Charming English Tudor Housa on Comsiock 6 Bedroorns．Fircplace，across riom
Avail \(5 / 20\) 475－1012．（843）514－3881

> RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSETWO FIREPLACES，
FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES 476－9933
seemed like an eternity compared to the trip we had nade just 24 hoursi carlier．We were headed back to homework and happy hour，and so ended our college

And despite the loss，despite he drive，despite the cocky State fie drive，despite the cocky State we got \($ 500\) for our tickets to Saturday＇s game．

Josh＇Likine is a juntior in the Scfiool of Mandegtement and is a Staft Writer for The Daily Orange E－rnail him at jilukin＠syreedu cepted for the Fall 2000 voyage，as there is a rolling basis admissions that has no deadine．Student． who have previously participated in Semester at sea are not al lowed to re－enroll，and a cum tive GPA of 2.75 is expected

After spending a semester in London taking management class－ London Laking management Vishnevetsky a junior ac counting major，is ready to eo abroad yet again．

Vishnevetsky is now making plans to take summer classes so that he will be able to travel to Madrid，Spain during his last se－ mester senior year．Vishnevetsky would definitely consider sea trav－ el as well，he said，adding that everyone should study abroad sometime during their college ca－ reer．
＂I would be a fool not to rec－ ommend it，＂Vishnevetsky said． You can＇t be on this campus for four years and not go．＂

Summer Bargain！\＄200／mo per person with all criditess inglusect． \(2,3+4\) Dedroorm apastments availabie．Fent whote apartment or ty the room
One block from Campus． \(446-959\) a PERSONALS Sports Lines
Are you in charge ol ordering f －Shirts or Party Favors for your organization？Vist our webste www．otographicsspor tswearcom for thou of ideas．

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

\section*{目本謤を学ほら！}

LIVE AND LEARN Japanese！

The Waseda Oregon Transnational Program，Fall 2000 and Spring 2001，is a comparative US－Japanese Sociecies study program that mixes US－based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University，Tokyo．Japan．Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US－Japanese Societies courses in the humanities and social sciences．Scholarships of up to \($ 1000\) are available！For more information，contact：

Waseda Oregon Programs Office
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { 800）823－7938 } & \text {（503）223－7938 } \\ \text { infoeopie－org } & \text { www．opic－org }\end{array}\)

\section*{EGEE}

Intemet power There are some in poli tics who believe the Intemet will be to Campaign 2000 what television was to the presidential contest of 1960, when a telegenic John F. Kennedy exploited the new medium to devastating effect. Those who master the Web, will master the campaign. In a survey con-解 we project at George Washington University only 12 percent believe the internet has played a "very important" role in the campaign so far. Fiftytwo percent of those surveyed described the Internet's impact as "somewhat important." while 35 percent described the internet as "not too important."

\section*{Deadly research} Few regard death as a good thing, but is there such a thing as a "good death"? Duke University believes there is. The school has opened a \($ 13.5\) million research center devoted to the care of terminally ill patients and their families. The existence of the institute is an emphatic assertion that the end of life need not be a choice between a lingering. painful death and a kevorkian-style assisted suicide. There is a third option, a death carefuly controlted to minimize pain while allowing the patient opportunities to come to terms with the end of life.

\section*{Rezulin recall}

Yet another unsetting chapter in the rise and fall of the diabetes pill Rezulin is buried in govemment files: the unresolved question of whether the drug could contribute to heart failure. Three years
4. ago, the Food and Drug
Dute Administration approved Rezulin while ignoring warnings of danger to the liver. It was not until last week after thousands of liver injuries and deaths that the FDA announced withdrawal of the drug. The FDA's handling of this issue promises to focus a renewed debate over Congress's demand for ever-faster reviews of new drugs.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"It is not necessary to understand shings in order to argue about them."

Sapna
Kollali, editor
\(443-2128\) life Buaty lifeguaily See Lifestyle Tuesday.

\title{
Making \\ Semester at Sea offers students another alternative to a traditional academic semester. \\ Waves
}

Katie Lucarelle, Rasa Vella, Ashley Walter and Dory Clevefand are the four SU students currenty participating in the Semester at Sea program. Even semester, more than 600 students from arournd the world take classes aboard the S.S. Universe Explorer.

\section*{BY NICOLE ELIIOT Staff Writer}

An added twist to travel abroad is to study on a "floating university" at sea aboard the S.S. Universe Explorer through the Institute for Shipboard Education

Four Syracuse University students - Dory Cleveland, a junior in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, Katie Lucarelle, a junior dually enrolled in The College of Arts and SciRasa Vella, a sophomore in the School of Manarement and Ashley Walter a junior in Arts and Sciences - are currently Chennai Indin as one of the nine countries to be visited in Chennai, India as one of the \(n\)

Cleveland, Lucarelle, Vella and Walter departed Nassau, Bahamas on Jan. 22 along with about 600 other students, and will return to Seattle, Wash. on May 8 after visiting Cuba, Brazil, South Africa, Kenya, India, Malaysia, Vietnam, Hong Kong and Japan.

Since 1963, over 32,000 students have studied and traveled to 60 countries around the world through this program. The Institute for Shipboard Education is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization that works in conjunction

Paul Watson, director of enrollment management, explains the grow

Students interested in the ing popularity in study at sea.
Semester at Sea program can visit
unv semesteratsea.com For information, write to Semester At Sea, University of Pittsburgh, 811 William Pitt Union, Pittsburgh PA 15260 or call 1-800-854-0195. son said. dition to a new summer program recently anno mer 2000

Each year an increasing number of students are taking advantage of the opportunity to include a global educational experience as part of their undergraduate course of study:" Wat-

Academically sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh, the Semester at Sea program takes approximately 600 students, from colleges and universities in the United States and abroad, arowid the world each lall and spring semester, in ad
S.S. Universe Explorer, Semester at Sea's campus, is a 23,500 ton ship that includes classroorns equipped with closed circuit television capabilities, a library, computer lab, theater student union, two dining halls, a swimming pool, basketbal and volleyball courts and a fitness center Semester at Sea students take part in a wide variety of organizations including Students of Service, Ambassadors Club, Sea Watch News (a TV production), Drama Club and the yearbook staff Sports include aerobics, dance, weights, volleyball, swimming basketball and table tennis, and some times team competitions are held with universities in port cities.

See SEMFSTER page 11

\section*{MSU road trip proves fun despite loss}

In the end, it was all worth it.
Fourteen hours of driving, 14,000 Michigan State fans and 40 minutes of basketball that took us from the kings of Bracketville to just another Sweet 16 sideshow. The road trip really Josh began at noon on Monday Lukin when tickets for the Sweet 16 first went on sale at Manley Field House. Derek and I were the first to arrive, and we were rewarded with a TV appearance on the 6 o'clock news.
After three days of anticipation and hype, we left Dellplain Hall at \(11: 15\), Thursday morn ing, and our journey had begun. Derek was a ahead was moutine for him. But this time we were heading back to the Motor City with a purpose - to see our beloved Orangemen continue their run through the tournament.

About six hours later, we hit Windsor, Ontario, to where we would return later in the night. We decided to make a quick pit-stop before we headed back over the river, and we picked up a pair of Cuban cigars for what we hoped would be our victory celebration.

As we got closer to Detroit, we began to pick up the local sports-radio station. The talk was dominated by Michigan State fans who had already handed the victory to the Spartans. The DJs were even promoting a contest to win tickets to see Michigan State on Saturday.

Of course, with the garne being played in the backyard of East Lansing, the entire city As we neared the Palace of Auburn Hills, the State fans surrounded us as cars passed us by ith State stickers, flags and license plates. We got to our seats dressed in full orange paraphernalia, greeted the rest of the Sud in for what we hoped would be a memorable night.

Down 11-3 after the first few minutes, we still stood proud waiting for our team to get in sync. And by the time the first half had come to a close, the Orange faithful, including the two of us, were overflowing with excitement. The majority crowd was quiet and complaining

I had lost my voice five minutes into the game, and the 100 or so orange-clad fans around me were in the same situation. We chanted, "Let's Go Orange," and shouted back at all the Spartan fans who were in shock by the Orange output in the first half. For the moment, we felt

See ROADTRIP page 11

Members of the New York Public interest Research Group debate Monday a bill passed by the Student Govemment Associabon. The bill catts for a student referendum woto to determine the manner in which the group's funding will continue. Last year, stur dents voted for six dollars of their Student Activity Fee to go toward funding the orginization.

\section*{NYPIRG argues vote}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Tension filled a crowded Maxwell Auditorium on Monday evening as members of the New Yoris Public Interest Research Group pitted against the Student Government Association to secure about \($ 70,000\).

After more than an hour of debate, the Assembly voted to uphold its decision to conduct a second NYPRG referendum in two years. The result of the vote win determ e.lypirg's uture Student Activity Fee funding.

For more than 20 years, the group has received its funding directly from students ducted every four years.

The referendum last year allowed \($ 6\) from every Syracuse University student's activity fee - or about \($ 70,000\) total to go directly to NYPIRG. But SGA decided last week to conduct another referendum two years before the next scheduled vote.

Though only 4 percent of the student population voted in last year's referendum, 83 percent of those who participated voted to approve the funds, said Ben Tevelin, a geography major. geography major.

SGA Assistant Comptroller Mery Vieira said all money allotted to the group should be filtered through the association, hke other student organi all stadent proups have a fair

See SGA page 8

\section*{SGA merger looms with University Union}

\section*{BY STEPHANIE SILVER} Staff Writer

University Union and the Student Government Association are looking to merge, but said Monday they need student feedback before scheduling a vote

We are a student group," said AssemClyman Adam Duffy, a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts. "We need to know what the students think about this." SGA

SGA approached UU a month ago to discuss the benefits of a merger between the two student-run organizations, said

See UNION page 8

\section*{Class project aids charity walkathon}

\section*{BY BETH BRAVERMAN} Staff Writer

Ten teams of Syracuse University students and facuity participated in the American Heart Association's fund-raising walk Saturday, collecting more than \($ 2500\) for the associntion.

Members of the Community Outreach Group had hoped to raise at least \($ 1000\) through the program and are pleased to have surpassed that goal, said Matt Keras, an organizer of the event and a founder of the group.

The group, comprised of five public relations students, aimed to help a non-profit organization as a class project. They researched several organizations, but chose AHA because it is a worthwhile cause that Kevin Ruane, a founder and member of the group.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in the nation and the Syracuse area, and strokes are number three, said Christine Lorry, an Afla representative.

The group also represented SU at the walk "because it was not wellrepresented in the past, group member Chris Wallace said. Last year only one team from SU participated The grou

The group spent time recruiting teams from campis organizations and collected prizes and donations from local businesses as incentives for the teams.

First prize was a dinner gift certificate for Darwin's Restaurant and Bar, 701 S. Crouse Ave. Second was a dinner from Papa John's Pizza and third prize was breakfast from Bruegger's Bagels. The SU Office of Admissions raised the most money and won first place.

To establish teams, the group also sought people from various groups to serve as a team captain and then make their own team, Wal ace said.
-We recruited people to recruit
See AHA page 7

\section*{Robinson criticizes fraternity after brawl}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Public Safety Director Robert Robinson condemned both the football players and fraternity brothers invalved in Friday night's brawl in Schine Student Center, saying he is "appalled" at their behavior
"I was disappointed in the behavior of those two organizations," Robinson said. " 1 don't know who threw the first punch but we know they were involved. They let their emo tions and their feelings get in the way of their conduct."

Robinson said he reported to the incident just after the fights ended between team and Omega Psi Phi fraternity brothers

When he arrived, Robinson said he at tempted to evacuate people from the building. Many fraternity brothers, however, would not follow his instructions, he said.
asked them to leave, Robinson said. Those people who did not respond to my command were the fraternity brothers This lack player 1 asked to leave lert. people involved made evacuating the com plex extremely difficult, he added.
When we are trying to disperse, it takes the cooperation of everyone to bring som reasoning and calm, Robinson said. Th brothers felt that wasnt over, They thought they had something to prove.

About 600 people, including many football players, gathered Friday night at a dance party in Schine hosted by the fraternity as a part of their weekend-long anniversary cele bration.

See BRAWL page 4

Dancing queen
 the Nowthouse patio last wowkend

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{TODAY}
- Point Zero hosts a panel discussion regarding racial profiling at \(7: 30\) p.m. in the Schine Underground.

The Hall of Languages hosts a multimedia presentation. Shut Down the IMF and World Bank, at 7 p.m. in Room 500.
-The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority presents the Gth annual Vera House White Ribbon Campaign against sitting in the Schine Student Center

\section*{TUESDAYTHURSDAY}

The SU Objectivist philosophy club hosts a table in Schine Student Center to distribute information regarding their organization.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority hosts an information session regarding safe sex methods and Planned Parenthood's services at 6 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500.
- Novelist Joanna Scott speaks at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium.

\section*{THURSDAY}

The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority hosts a workshop on Depression and Rape Awareness, featuring the Syracuse University Rape Center, at 7 p.m. in Schine Stu dent Center, Room 302.

Eareer Exploration Services presents "Working for the Peace Corps: Letters to Home" from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500 . The career service wil also host a pre-law event for ju niors applying next year and for seniors who wil apply as alumni from 7 to \(8: 30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in the Hall of Languages, Room 207.

需 The Shoddy Puppet Com pany presents three plays, beginning at 7 p.m. at the Community see St. The company is a polition see St. The company is a political philadelphia. Admission to the event is free of Ahamission to the formation call Brian at \(423-4783\).

\section*{FRIDAY}
- Drumlins Country Cliub hosts a first-year semiformal entitrom Minennium Masquerade from 8 p.m. to 1 a. wh. Tickets can be bought for \($ 10\) at first-year dining Thursday and Friday in Schine.
[d.o.]
The Daily Orange is published Munday thruugh Fridsy durin! thy The Drity Onante Cume The Do is distribured on carous with the firs is distributed on carnpus with the ins oddizinal cory conts \($ 1\).

Managemens 443.9798
Busincss 443-7314
News 443.2127
Lifestyle 443-2128
Sports \(443-2208\)
Photongraphy 443-9795
E-mait editurialedailyorrange.cown
Ooline www.dailyorange.carn

\section*{Point Z Asst. News Editor}

To inform students about policies in racial profiling. Point Zero is hosting a panel discussion about the issue at 7:30 tonight in the Schine Stu dent Center Underground.

Originally it was just go* ing to be a straight discusSion," said Point Zero membar Michele Lee, a sophomore politmajor."But we decided that a panel discussion would be more paneldiscussion would be more don't understand the subject of racial profiling. \({ }^{\circ}\).

Racinl promling is the practice of focusing law enforce". ment on groups of individuals who are deemed more crimi.
nally active based on their race. Sophomore Mark Sarnuels, marketing and advertisement major, agreed that Syracuse University students need more information about the topic.
"Most parts of the day not filled with work are filled with leisure activities, not focusing on issues going on in the real world," Samuels said.

Few people read newspapers unless it is for a class, he added. This lack of attention to current issues can contribute to the igIt's not something said. to think about " Speople said."They want to dismiss it. Hopefully tonight's discusHopefully, tonight's discusSamuels said. Point Zero plans to host more discussions of \section*{profiling} stuff Lee said.

The event will feature African American Male Congress President Anthony Quinn, Nashonse Chang from the Caribbean Students Association and College Republicans representative Luke Gabello.

Qabello will offer a different, positive viewpoint regarding racial profiling, Lee said. people who support racial propeople who support racial profiling." she added.

Gabellos sid he supports racial profiling, but not to"assign automatically a sentence mon sense, he said.
"It's very prudent for police officers to usc their experiences to help enforce laws," he said."It really does help reduce crime." bos He referred to former amidential haperul Alan Keyes favorable scance on the issue as being a wise one. People should be aware of stereotypes and work to combat them, he said.

\section*{dialogue}
"When you go dut in publie you represent three things," said Gabello, a junior computer and political science major. Yourself, your family and your race. sudents who attend the"very students who attend the very opendialogue will eave with greater subject. subject.
-It will provide SU with a greater amount of opinion on people will consider she .Mare more personally.

\section*{SENIORS}

FINAL TWO DAYS TO HAVE SENIOR PHOTOS TAKEN!

\section*{TUES. 3/28-WED. 3/29 11AM-3PM, 4PM-7PM UPPER LOBBY OF THE GOLDSTEIN AUDITORIUM, SCHINE STUDENT CENTER}

\section*{CALL 1-800-969-1337 FOR AN APPT.}

\section*{A little} reassurance fon life's ups and downs.

To protect agwinst AlDS and other STOs. always use latex condoms.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@cailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{BRAWL}
continued from page 1
The fight, that resulted in the arrests of two football players, began when one player alegedly hit another party attendee and knocked him out. tolve volve more than 30 peopic.

The Syracuse Police Departhent arrived at the scene loose ons. oose on a least one siudent, and cornerback Will Allen were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest of fensive guard Vaughn Smith was a suspect in the case

Every on-duty Public Safety officer was ordered to report to the event, Robinson said.
"We took every available person that was working, "he said. "I would say that they'd still be fighting if we hadin' showed up."

Robinson added that many of the fraternity members seemed anery at Public Safoty officers and expressed these frustrations to him The incident long history of problems betwenn the two groups, he added. There has always been friction at those parties. But 1 dont think we ve ever had anything hkethis, Robinson said. Theres alwnys been some bad blood beRebins two organizations. that Public Safesy officers ne that Public Safe!y onfers ne glected their not interfere with the brawl.

With five to 600 people What are you going to prevent? Robinson asked. If people are going to fight, theyre going to they do what they can.
Because of the number of people involved in the brawl, students can be thankful there were not more serious injuries, Robinson said.

There were only two reported injuries, those of the attendee who was knocked out and of Who wasknocked out and of football starinng running back The university must now vestigate the brawl to determine its causes and who was involved, SU Spokesman Kevin Morrow said.
"Then a decision will be made about what action should be taken," Morrow said."We have to determine the causes that brought about the arrest. We need to determine what happened."

Morrow added that while he was not sure how the students would be reprimanded the charges for which they were arrested may also have viotated the SU Code of Student Con duct.
"This was an unfortunate incident," Morrow said."There were certainly a number of individuals acting irresponsibly.

SPEND A SEMESTER IN HONG KONG, A CITV WHERE EAST MEETS WEST

NEW G EXPANDED CORRICULUM 6)-ARTS
-MANAGEMENt
-PSYCHOLOGY
-Political Science
- Cinema
- Language

Now you can live and
LEARN IN A CITY WHERE
Chinese tradition meets VESTERN SOPHISTICATION

For information call or stop by DIPA
119 Euclid Ave~443-3471 ~ suabroad@syr.edu

\section*{SPRINGTIME,}

WHEN A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY TURNS TO 6'7" POWER FORWARDS IN LONG SHORTS.

\title{
editorial
}

The Daily Orange
March 28, 2000

\section*{SGA second guesses NYPIRG allocation}

\author{
More than 900 freshly-inked John } Hancocks wasn't enough to convince the Student Government Association that students don't want another trip to the voting booth.

Under a 27-year-old contract, SGA is required to call a referendum every four years to decide if the New York State Public Interest Research Group can continue receiving \($ 6\) from each Student Activity Fee. However, the contract also allows SGA to call referendums more often - as often as it deems necessary.

But a referendum this year, just one year after 83 percent of the \(S U\) voting population chose to maintain NYPIRG's funding, isn't necessary.

SGA claims a new referendum is needed to counter last year's "skewed" voting process, when NYPIRG members championed their cause near polling places, unfairly swaying voters.

But fierce conviction and convincing arguments are the hallmark of a good campaign, not a reason to cry foul at the ballot box.

NYPIRG, a known champion of liberal political causes, will find few friends in the 44 th Assembly. With known-conservative firebrands Jonathan M. Taylor, Joe Burns and Charles Skinner sitting in the gallery, it's no surprise that SGA is challenging NYPIRG's cause.

But referendums shouldn't happen at the hands of a few Assemblymembers with a transparent agenda. Organization of the voting process takes time and money that neither of the groups has to spare.

If SGA wants to hold NYPIRG as tightly as the dozens of other campus student groups and review their financial allotments each year, perhaps it's time to take a look at altering SGA's contract with NYPIRG.

But last year, students willingly opened their wallets for NYPIRG for the next four years. It's not SGA's job to tell them they don't know how to manage their own money.
Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Sllverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyte Editor Asst. Lifestyte Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor Holly Amer
Sapna Kotlall Sapna Kollall Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger Nova Austrew Nova Austrew Kinte Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Sevin Tampone Maghin McKerria Coninor Enill Jetf Pasemen
Efin Boyle Elatue Skinnor Thto Bottite Tom Mason lachael Colden Lha Caswral Ron Fooks Martan Cordion Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Edito Asst. Copy Editor
 Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Comic books provoke thoughts on reality, equality}

When 1 was a kid I wanted to be Superman
Or was it Spider-Man? I really can't remem ber my childhood thoughts as clearly as I once did. Too many brain cells have met their demise at the hands of frosty, cold beer.

But I digress.
I, like many kids, found enjoyment in comic books. Comics were filled with courageous, span dex-clad heroes trying to save the world. I wanted to join them. I wanted to feel the wind gush through my my hair, soaring high above the clouds. I wanted to thwart a nefarious villain's scheme by wrecking his elaborate doomsday device with my super strength.

But puberty never granted me super-speed or any other special skills. Maybe I'm a late bloomer. Maybe in June my
ASHOK
SELVAM reveal itself. I guess that's why I still collect those funny books - I'm still holding onto the dream.

Assuming that will never happen, I've decided that journalism is my field, but no matter how exciting it is to be a maverick armed with a pen and a notepad, nothing can beat the hero's life.

But superheros in comic books never could rely solely on action and guns. Each character is really Bruce Banner, a scientist. Peter Parker is really Bruce Banner, a scientist. Peter Parke photojournalism. Batman is billionaire Bruce Wayne. The good writers trump up the human side of the heroes, taking the reader under the mask. No matter how technology advances, no video ganne can do for a kid what a good comic book can - and the good writers had me hooked.

But even though 1 read a variety of titles, the one comic book I could never get into was The Mighty Thor.

Thor isn't just a comic book character, he's the ancient Norse god of Thunder. With his blond hair and blue eyes, Hitler used his image in his argument for a master race. Call me radical, but I just couldn't relate to that.

Thor opened my eyes. I realized that every other character this side of Wonder Woman shared a common guise - they all were card-carrying members of the most powerful special interest group in the world. They were all white men.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SU apparel-makers \\ released factory locations}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Your March 22 editorial, "SU must discuss apparel contracts, Syracuse University has been hes itant to reveal the factory locations of Nike and other corporations that produce SU apparel. To the contrary, SU has been very responsive to this issue.

In fract, one of the first licenses to diaclose its factories at our request was Nike. The university provided the Nike disclosure infor mation to Marika Wissink, the student representative on SU's Trademark Licensing Advisory Board, and requested Nike post this information on the company's Web site.

Other companies producing SU apparel, such as Champion, Eastpack, Gear, Jansport and Russell Athletics, have disclosed their factory information online.

As a continued, proactive effort, the university has notified all of our licensees to disclose factory information. The Collegiate Li censing Company is currently compingg licensing information sities represented by CLC. SU has issued a cirective to CLC to termainate all licensees who do not disclose.
the Unitnmend our students and Swe United Students Against Sweathops for their efforts in raising avorernesg of the labor issues here and at the global level. Pleage be gascured that SU will continue to play a leading role in ensuring figir and hurmane conditions by aull practical and efrective means.
lPeler Woblower
Director of Auxllary Sen wices and Chairman of the Trademark
Chairman of the Trademark
Ucensing Advisory Board

Now, that's not an inherently evil thing. If I saw any of the aforementioned heroes at a bar I'd be more than delighted to buy them a few rounds. Imagine trading shots with \(B\) atman and asking himabout the perils of being a billionaire. I could talk to Parker, jourzalist to journalist about his job at the Daily Elugle. I'd be weary about getting Banner drunk, though. The Hulk was never emotionally stable. The point is these characters are all close to zony heart, but after Thor, my world came crash ing down.

I whirled around my fantasy world. Heroes of color were an afterthought. The first black hero was Luke Cage in the 1970 S, who sported a large afro with a metal headband. He was nothing but a Shaft knockoff, capitalizing on the blaxploitation fad.

Women also were misrepresented Artists depicted girls with low necklines and short skirts and they were mostly damsels in distress. In the arly 1990s, the comic mar-ket was flooded with "bad girl" books, offering readers little in eharac ter development, but ample amounts of cleavage and leg shots. nd ieg shots.
bout face. Books featurin \({ }^{\text {B }}\) womacn lize "Black about face. Books featurine woman like Black Widow, written by the talented pevingrayson, have helped solidify the market and give readers have helped solidify the market and give readers hope that women can be properly treatd in the comic world. Sales of "bad sirl" books have plummeted.

As for persons of color, before artist Todd McFarlane was famous for overpaying for Mark made m multi-million dollax empire with "Spawn," a comic book that's hero, A 1 simpmons, is black.
In fact, the X-Men, Marvel Comics' flagship book, just introduced a new character, Thunderbird, this month.
X-Men scribe Chris Claremont, was blunt in his reasons for the new member.
The new X-Men character is a subcontinental Indian because we haven't had one, he said why not? \({ }^{n}\)

Though the comic book industry has made great strides, there's still z longe way to go. But I won't get too critical and cynieal at this point.

Clark Kent is a newspzoper reporter.
Ashok Selvam is a senior hewspopermajor. His column appear Tuesdoys in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at aseZvarn@syr.edu.

\section*{Sweatshop campaign continues with vigils}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

The Student Environmental Action Coalition is building on the awareness of globaliza: tion brought by last week's sweatshop protests, saí gan Cox. SEAC member.
SEAC set up information tables Monday in the Schine Student Center directed at educating students on environmental activism, and how to mobilize against the International Monetary Fund and World Bank, said Kelly Nagy. SEAC National Council coordinator.
"They're bogus corporations that were set up to diminish instead work in favor of large corporations, increasing poverty in the third world," Nagy said. A Wresentation regarding the World Trade Organization protests in Seatile earlier this year will be made at 7 p.m Tuesday in the Hall of Languages, Room 500, said Cox, a Graduate student in the State of Environmental Sciencolege Formironmental Science and

The
The purpose of the forum is to inform students on why thousands of people, from academics protest the policies of the wTO Cox added.

SEAC is also planning a demonstration Wednesday on directad to train students on direct action, Nagy said.

The demonstration will teach civil disobedience tactics to safely and effectively shutdown the mestings of organizations like the 1 AlF and World Bank. Cox said Bank. Cox said.

Another rally on the Quad is set for 2 p.m. Thursday.

It'll be fully clothed this time, but hopefully more people Wissint a senior music major Wissink, a senior music major, referring to last Friday's Sweat shoped a mareness rall that pured

US. The bike ride was in protest of clothing allegedly made in sweatshops

The event aims to raise support on campus for the New York SEAC Spring Conference

March 31 at New York University and the protests of the IMF and World Bank in Washington D.C. on April 1G, Nagy said.
"ll's an opportunity to learn more and to meet people with diferent ideas, said SEAC member Eric Montgomery, a senior geography and Spanish moner to provent the IME from exploiting the poorer third exploiting the poorer third orid.
Vigils will be held at 8:30 p.m. every day this week on the Quad, Nagy said. Students at ending the vigit will sing on behalf of exploited workers in the third world, she added.
"We got a lot of people to the rain, Wissink said after the first vigil Monday nicht About 15 people attended the vigit.

The work of SEAC during the past two weeks has been very successful, said Wissink, a member of the Student Coalition On Organized Labor.

Wissink added that student activism will lead SU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw to join the Worker's Rights Consortium, an organization that will monitor production of university apparel, ensuring it is not made in sweatshops.
"I believe Chancellor Shaw Will sign onto the WRC," Wissink said."I believe the coalitions on this campus are directly responsible for the inevitability."

\section*{wivahnomemomiree \\ introducing free online tax preparation ust grab your W-2's and head to hrblock.com/free. There, you can fill gi YOUR TAXES OMLINE FOR and file your 1040EZ form online. And get your money fast. Best of all, it costs nothing. Nada. Zero. Zip And it's only at hrblock.com/free. \\ What are you waiting for?}

\section*{AHA}
continued from page 1 other people," he said.

Because of the waik, AHA surpassed its goal of \($ 400,000\). As of Monday, the association raised \($ 440,000\), but is still waiting for a few more contributions, Lorry said.

Campus groups representd in the five kilometer walk included residence halls, the greek community and administrative offices. SU ROTC participated in the event but ran and added an additional three kilometers to its course.

For a free, full-color poster \(18^{\prime \prime} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\), write: AIDS Poster 2, Eox 2000 Albany. N.Y. 12220
N.Y.S. Heaith Department

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Advertising Information

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to \(4: 00 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). - To place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the advertising office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run. Call 443-9793 for current rates and applicable discounts during advertising busi: ness hours.
"Unfortunately, I was a little disappointed in the greek syaravil said Only two hous es, Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, attended the event, though many other houses had shown enthusiasm earlier in the project, he said.

One of the difficulties of the project was its timing in relation to Spring Break. It was difficult to get in touch with groups and remind them of their commitment and the date of the walk, Ruane said.
\({ }^{\prime \prime}\) I wish more people got involved" Caravella said "WW tried to get as much out to the Syracuse community as possible.

Some potential participants may have been discouraged by the prospect of rising early on a Saturday morning or doing volunteer work, he added.

The walk began at the Shoppingtown Mall in DeWitt Participants gathered in the Kauffman's parking lot of the mall and followed a large circular path that runs along the highway.
-l've never done that much olunteer work" Caravella said. "But as a group, we really had a lot fun."

The public relations group learned valuable lessons through the activity, wallace said.
"The best part about it, from a learning standpoint, was we did a lot of things right but we also did some things wrong," Wallace sald referring o the group's planning.

But Lorry commended the group's publicity work for the association.
"They werevery professional," Lorry said. "They knew did the job. They were really a great group of kids.

Student Discounts
\(\checkmark\) Professional Bartending Training - Tips on Finding a Top Paying Job Become a Talented, Socially Conscious Bartender
National Testaurant Association Alcohol Awareness Program
- Great Part-time or Summer Job

CLASSES BEGIN FRI., APRIL 7TH - 6:00 PM UNJVERSITY SHERATON CALL FOR INFORMATION Act Now
Space is Limited!
1-800-U-CAN-MIX
www.universitybartending.com

\section*{SU London Center Director}

\title{
Michael Woolf
}

Presents

\section*{\({ }^{66}\) Lost Souls: The Literature of New York Jews, 1880s - 1960s"}

\section*{Wednesday, March 29 4:00 pm at the Schine Atrium, Room 227}

\author{
Reception follows at 5:00 pm
}

\author{
* \(\%\) \\ Please join The Division of International Programs Abroad (DIPA) and Hillel, in welcoming Michael Woolf to Syracuse.
}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1
chance of receiving available funding, Vieira said.
"It's not fair that you're one organization that is being favored over other organizations," said Vieira, a freshman in the College for Human Development."If you are really for our students then you'd cooperate with us. We just want to level the playing fie one has a chance."
NYPIRG was

NYPIRG was not notified when the issue would be addressed, said Tyler Sparks, NYPIRG member. When the orNYPIRGmember. When the orreferendum, members circulated student petitions to stop the vote. he added.

Nobody in our group was aware NYPIRG was coming up in the Assembly, said Sparks, a senior broadeast journalism major." Working with SGA, we wanted a chance to answer any questions and discuss having this referendum again."

NYPIRG received 922 student signatures in support of stopping the vote, Sparks said.

Group representatives presented the signatures to the Assembly on Monday night, along with a 1970 s contract between the two organizations, and asked a reconsideration of last

\section*{week's decision.}

The contract states that a referendum vote will be conducted every four years to determine if NYPIRG should receive its funding directly from the student body. According to the contract, however, SGA can conduct additional votes if it deems that NYPIRG is ne glecting its responsibility to work for students' needs. "Students on this campus and students in the student association got degether and decided that ed an outlet for activism, said Kevin Cooney NYPIRGmember and senior television, radio and film major."They had an allocation to pay for a separate student fee to achieve goals that the students want" als that the students want."
Sparks said that if the or Sparks said that if the organization loses its funding, many programs that were planned after last year's vote would not be able to continue Would not be able to continue ing for the vote also takes away from the group's ability to focus on more important issues, he added.
dous time and energy con sumer," Tevelin said."NYPIRG has a responsibility to this campus to provide events.
"It takes a lot of time away from what we've been doing for the students."

NYPIRG members argued that the bill passed by the Assembly last week falsely identifies the organization as being a part of the clause in the bill reads that students can vote to"exernpt" NYPIRGfrom the budgetary process. The group, however, has always been independent of SGA for funding.

In next week's referendum, students can vote to have their \($ 6\) directly allocated to the Student Fee rather than NYPIRG.

Procedurally that can't really happen because the contract we have with you states rized to otherwise allocate this rized to otherwise allocate this money," Sparks said. money," Sparks said.
M. Taylor, a fifth-year architec.

\title{
TIAA-CREF's tax-deferred solutions can help you reach your retirement goals faster.
}

When you're investing for retirement. the adage never put off until tomorrow what yout can do today* doesn't apply to taxes.
That's because investments that aren't etoded by taxes can add up to significantly more money for you-money you can use to supplement your pension and Social Security.
Let our consultants show you all the advantages of tax delerral, or call us for a fiee tax-s.wings calculator.
Supplemental Retirement Annuaties (SRAS), tRAs and other tax-soving solutions-along with TAA-CREF's low expenses and solid investment performance-can help you invest tax smart today so that you can reach your retirement gasts faster in the years to come.
tax deferral makes a differente in chis hyporthetizal example, setriag aside sipo a anomth in for thase who shape it." \(1800842-2776\)

www.tiaa-rref.org

We just want to level the playing field so everyone has a chance.

MERY VIEIRA
SGA Assistant Comptroller
ture student, explained that the contract calls for a mandatory vote"at least every four years, allowing SGA to conduct additional referendums.

While NYPIRG claims to be reflecting studentinterest, many students on campus do not know of the organization or its various programs, Assemblyman Dwight whimms said endum is neces.

\section*{sary, he added.}

II do deem it necessary when a about NYPIRG, said Williams, a ju nior management major."I too ques tion the small turn-outat las year's vote. I think it's necessary to ake a re-count." Assemblyman Joe Sauer said he had been ap proached by a student who was which NYPIRG solicited signa which MYPR solition tures for their petition.

I bumped into a student who signed the petition," said Sauer, a freshman in The College of Arts and Sciences. It became evident to both of us that he did not reel he was fully edwas about when he signed it."

Following NYPIRG's presentation, Assemblyman Eric Seltzer motioned to reconsider the proposed referendum and vote to rescind.
"If thousands of students wanted to, they could get their money back from NYPIRG," said Seltzer, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences."It almost seems that SGA doesn' want have the money.

If students vote next week to withdraw their funding from unable to operate the will be way it he same

A referendum is a tremendous time and energy consumer.

BEN TEVELIN NYPIRG member past. does not necessarily mean an end to the group. Assemblyman Adam Duffy said.
means they have to apply for moneey like everyane elise," said Duffy. a freshman in the College of Viforming Arts.

Though NYPIRG members were disappointed with SGAs decision for an additional referstudent body to approve its funding, Sparks said.
"Because the students voted for us overwhelmingly last year, we feel confident that they will do so again," Sparks said."Basically what happened here tonight is Assemblymembers heard the voices of 922 students and ignored them.

\section*{UNION}
continued from page 1
Lisa Stone, UU president.
The two groups will host an open forum this week to discuss the possiblemerger, said Stone, a fanior television, radio and fllm major. The As proposal next Monday

Having Monday
Having the two organizations working as one will make it easier to pian events, SGA

We can be the one stop place where everyone needs to place where everyone needs to happen," said James, a junior musical theater major.

But UU fears that a conflict of interest would arise with a merger, Stone said. While the organization is committed to assisting in the planning of campus-wide programming, UU is not responsible for the funding decisions SGA makes, she added.
Board have and the Finance Board have more expertise Stone said. "We look at budset proposals and offer advice to all proposals and offer advice to all and \(S G A\) is probably looking for our programming knowl. edge."

A separate programming Organization is "preferable" for UU because the group is experienced in planning events and does not need the extra burden of making financial decisions, Stone said.

SGA Parliamentarian
Jonathan M. Taylor said that by having the two groups join, their role on campus would expand, but not extensively "They can provide more help to the 75 to 80 other organizations on campus," said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture student.

Taylor also proposed changing the name of SGA to the Student Association in order reflect its new programming function, if a merger is passed.

There was no communication between the organizations before this proposal, Stone said. UU was "surprised and confused" when they heard of added.
added. wondered if we'd been doing things wrong," she said. And I was disappointed that we were left out of previous discussions considering that we do play a part in this merger."

UU had a meeting Monday night to discuss how the merger would help the organization accomplish its goals, Stone said.
"We have common goals to provide the best programming, she said. To make it accessible and underst all student groups."
l that it is eaganizations feel that it is easier to host ed organization rather than two separate ones, then UU would be willing to change, Stone added.
students to respenot expecting

\section*{EDGE}

Gright future
A recent paper by two British epidemiologists suggests the skyrockettng numbers of seen by U.S. public school systems actually may fall within the range predicted by some European studies. They used 91 per 10,000 as the prevalence of children who meet, or just miss, the definition of an "autism spectrum" disorder. Though an extremely liberal estimate, the current enrollment of autistic children in California, the state with some of the bes and most alarming dhan the British study would predict.

\section*{In the stars}

Astronomers have spotted an unexpected and mysterious swarm of severa dozen gamma ray sources where they aren't supposed to be hovering over the Milk Way in 4 our nearby galac tic neigh tic neig sly.
Previously, astronomers had detected about 170 gamma ray sources, lodged in and near Frishee-like plane of our galaxy. They are presumed to be black holes. pulsars (spinholes. pulsars (spinshine like lighthouse shine ike gighntic stars 10 to 100 times the mass of the sun. or remnants of the deathexplosions of massive stars called supernovas.

\section*{Big dig}

When Maori settlers arrived in New Zealand from Polynesia in the 13th century, they were met by the sight of large, flightless birds known as moas. The settlers quickly devel oped a taste for the friendly creatures, and began killing and eating them in large numbers. Eventually, all 1.1 species of moa became extinct. It has long been assumed that it took about 1,000 years for the relatively small number of humans to wipe out every one of the estimated 160,000 moas. A new analysis of bones and other evidence, however. shows that it took less than 160 years, making the extinction the fastest such kill-off ever documented.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Everything bows to success, even grammar."
Victor Hugo

Sapna Kollali, editor 443-2128 lifedaily orange.com [lifestyle] Taxing t imes

BY MELISSA MORGAN Staff Writer

Now that spring has begun, most people are ready to enjoy a dose of warm weather and sunshine. Others, however, feel there is a much uglier side to this time of year - taxes.

With only a few weeks left until the April 15 deadline, there is still hope for students trying to avoid a run-in with the Internal Revenue Service. A group of student volunteers in the School of Managementare proving that filling out the \(h\) he to be such a taxing experience.

The Voluntary Income Tax Assistance (VITA) is a free tax service available to all students. The volunteers are junior and senior accounting majors and MBA masters students hoping to gain experience for their future careers or help others.

Students can bring their tax forms to the volunteers in Bird Library during schedubed hours 20 minutes, them about 15 to 20 minutes.

VITA is an IRS-sponsored organization with groups all over the country, including about six sites in Syracuse. In order to gain eligibility into the organization, students in the Syracuse University group must pass an exam issued by the IRS and given to al VITA members.

Frank Marra, a junior accounting major and VITA volunteer, said that the time student volunteers give to the VITA service is very helpful for inexperienced students trying to complete their taxes.
"We know what we are doing and in a couple minutes, we are done," he said. "That's better than struggling over a book for two hours."

Marra said that students can bring their

W-2 and \(10-99\) forms to the volunteers on W-2 and \(10-99\) forms to the volunteers on Tuesdays and Thursdays from noon to 5 p.m. and on Wednesdays from 11 a.m. to \(5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). About 30 to 40 volunteers take shifts during these time slots to complete federal and New Yose time slots to complete federal and New York State taxes. Volunteers can also complete out-of-state taxes copy of their state's form.

William Walsh, an accounting professor who helps with the program and administers the IRS exams, has been involved with the program for four years. Besides helping students complete their tax forms, Walsh said that the program is also very beneficial to the volunteers themselves.

The volunteers are getting the handson experience of applying tax principles," he said. "They are using the knowledge they have gained in the classroom to help others

See TAX page 10

\section*{Steely Dan appeals to oldies listeners}

Modern radio is orgarized so that people don't have to keep up with popular trends in music. If you don't like current \begin{tabular}{ll}
Chris & \begin{tabular}{l}
Top 40 fare, you can easi- \\ ly switch to an easy lis- \\ piazza station, which is
\end{tabular} \\ basically Top 40 music \\ from the previous decade \end{tabular} can tune into an oldies from a half-century ago

Most music strives to hit the modern Top 40 before going the less-hip route of easy listening. This is not the case with Steely Dan's new album, "Two Against Nature," which goes directly against typical Top 40 fare and aims for the easy listening portion of the dial
Steely Dan, composed of Donald Fagen and Walter Becker, haven't released an album together since 1979 's "Gaucho." producing light jazz-rock. was known for producing light jazz-rock.
wo decades hasn't changed the formua - wo Against Nature" is unflappably ight listening, but occasionally is so light that it becomes insubstantial.

At its best, "Two Against Nature" is the nodel of an old-fashioned jam session.
Fagen and Becker, noted perfectionists, surround themselves with talented studio musi cians skilled on all kinds of instruments.

\section*{On track}

The title track, "Two Against Nature," the album's best song, features more than a dozen supplementary musicians playing everything from the trombone to the wirleveryt
The album's eight-minute-plus coda, West of Hollywood," is engaging throughout, thanks to a quick tempo and a nawless together ensemble is given time to shine especially Chris Potter, who closes the disc with a wonderful three-minute saxophone solo.

These two excellent tracks, however, "Two Are the exception rather than the rule on energetic grooves are atypical of the rest of the music on the album, which favors slower, more deliberate rock-jazz. Unfortunately, if "Two Against Nature" and "West of

See RECORD page 10

\title{
Columnist goes one-on-one with Shaw
}

Since it was a slow week in the world of entertainmentbesides the Oscar presentations - I figured Id take this column Syracuse University's greatest Syracuse mysteries. Since just couldn't figure out why no one has ever heard \begin{tabular}{cl} Pete & \begin{tabular}{l} decent music \\ come from \\
Psi-U or why
\end{tabular} \\ Beisser & \begin{tabular}{l} black squir- \\ rels are the
\end{tabular} \\ \hline media & only animals \\ freak & ever seen
\end{tabular} media freak ever hear about the man is school-related or about his job school-related

Which raises the question Did Shaw have his heart set on Did Shaw have his heart set on being a chancellor since puberty? "Actually, when I was 18, I had my heart set on playing on the Washington Nationals, the team that used to play the Harlem Globetrotters,' Shaw said. "I wanted to be the guy that got the ball and made all the outside shots.

Who would have thought?

\section*{His favorite things}

Well, not only does Shaw keep cans of Coke - and not Pepsi - in his refrigerator, he also ciamed to enjoy diming hal food (arrigh!) when he gets the opportunity to eat it. His favorite movie of all time 1987's "Ishtar" with Warren Beatty and Dustin Hoffman deemed by many as the biggest bomb of all time.
"There's actually a movement by crities to proclaim 'Ishtar' a masterpiece," Shaw snid with a laugh.

A big fan of mystery novels, watching basketball and going to the movies, Shaw seems like a normal guy with personal con cerns other than simply watching over the shoulder of every student. You may even see him eating a slice at Varsity's Pizza or strolling around campus. uch as I'd like to," he said much as ld like to, he said. tions each year. It's just that tions each year. It's just that my schedule ge time goes on." "Mrs." travel to
He and the "Mren NYC often on school business and catch a play when they can. He'll try to catch "Law and Order," "NYFD Blue," "The West Wing" and "The Practice" on TV, if he can manage to keep himself awake. But Shaw's favorite activity when he's not away on business or stuck in his office is sleeping.

During the summer while most of us are home, Shav is here working away. He takes long weekends, which he spends on his pontoon boat with his grandkids, swimming and water skiing.

Chancellor Shaw comes off as a personable, interesting and humorous guy when you meet him, but at the same time he seems a tad out of touch with the non-honors program type students and their concerns about SU. As our conversation neared the end, I bravely brought up a few continuing concerns that students wanted me to address to the man in charge.
I wanted to keep our conversation light, but the voices of the concerned could not be silenced. Here are my ques tions, his answers and my thoughts on them.

\section*{On my mind}

1 raised a question about why the World Wrestling Federation, which has visited a number of college campuses in coming to \(S U\).

It brought almost no

\section*{response.}

Parking amongst other factors, like the day of the week, results in fewer concerts then But parking doesn't seer like a problem for big-time sporting events during the week, does it?

Why do SU students have to pay for basketball and football tickets, unlike many other Big East colleges? And why does it seem like our sports teams aren't focused toward the local community?
"We generate income for ther athletic teams through those two sports," Shaw said "We also have to cater to people who'll come back ycar after year."

But doesn't every other school do this as well without having students pay for tickets? If so, what about SU wrestling? And without student support, why even have the teams in the first place?

No one has a problem with employees. A group of volunteers from the VITA program volunteer on two Friday's during tax season to help these employees complete their Ta

Tapia said that volunteering at Consolidated Industries has been the best reason for being a part of VITA

Most students need help because their parents have done their taxes for solong, this is their first time doing it themselves," she said. "But it is most refreshing knowing that your helping someone who real-the campus or the academics, in the Syracuse area, especially if you're not greek. What are your thoughts?
"You have to figure out what you want to use your time for," he said. "It's what you make of it."

He went on to mention a number of art museums, public services, a symphony and the upcoming multi-million dollar ice rink as alternatives to sitting in your rooms on the week end.

Not the most exciting of alternatives. But you have to remember that hes not 20 -years-old, and his idea of things are different than yours and mine.

Shaw says he scans The Daily Orange from time to time. Hopefully, he'll see this as a realistic take on his thoughts on Syracuse entertainment and his job as chancellor. But if he doesn't and hates it, I know I'll prob ably wake up tomorrow with a bunch of black squirrels ready to bite my head off. But I guess that's the price you have to pay to uncover the mysteries of Syracuse.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major. His column appears Tuesdays. E-mail him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.
without it."
Though Tapiasaid that working with VITA has been a very positive experience, th are a few small drawbacks.
"The worst part is telling someone that they owe money to the government," she said.

VITA began helping students during the first week in March and will continue until a week before taxes are due. Last year, student volunteers filed that the program has been just as successful this year.

The volunteers are available in Bird Library to file

\begin{abstract}
forms as well as answer any tax-related question. If dents want to fie their taxes on help a Website that gives them help, a Web site that gives them step-by-step filing instruction sww.sorn.syr.edu/vita a

Walsh said that he feels very good about the future of VITA.
"It's almost a perfect example of a true student volunteer organization," he said. "Stu in their major to help others." in their major to help others."
\end{abstract}

\section*{RECORD}
continued from page 9 Hollywood" suggest a classy nightclub, many of the other tracks bring a dentist chair or an elevator to mind.

What About Me?" with its airy electric guitar, whispy vocals and spare piano back ground, made me feel like I was on hold with a telemarketer. Other tracks such as Speed" pull the same trick.
Speed pull the same trick. \(r\), however, is "Almost Gothic," which brought back a Gothic, which brought back a mod pediatrician's amazingly my pediatrici sterile office.

Steely Dan's notorious perfectionism and attention to detail often backnires on Against Nature. There is never a note out of place or an main reason that much of the music feels so sterile.

Not only is it extremely easy listening, it's been so smoothed over in post-produc

\section*{real.}

A prime comparison can be made between Steely Dan and The Dave Matthews Band Dave Matthews Band is instrument-driven, and solos can get out of hand, there solos can get out of hand, ther ness and joy behind the excess ness and joy behind the excess

Steely Dan doesn't have that mentality. They strive for perfection and lose much of the perfection and lose much of the joy. I doubt much of this will

I doubt much of this will matter to Steely Dan's estabfan base that, I suspect, gave up on popular music a long up on popular music a long Against Nature \({ }^{\text {m }}\) can ignore th Top 40 musical trends of the past two decades - namely energy and creativity - and stick to exactly what worked the last time around.

My Grade - C+
Chris Piazza is a freshman television, radio and film major. E-mail him at \section*{8. Tindion own \\ Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear Please pay in cash, checks or credit, cards. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{HABLE}
continus \(e^{\text {dir }} C_{m} \mathrm{p}^{\mathrm{a}} \mathrm{z}^{16} e^{16}\) "I men tally just had to bet bescki Hable said, in almose tholy back, and this oeine hessitan \(i\), passive ocine of sitan t, passive mimust letring everything e a nd PEayin zi possessed mon ball, finish
 Wayn con Finuce the trand of differ ent enonl sarexs stepping \(x p^{\text {ca }} \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{H}}\) con test, tallying one goalarad one assist.
\(B\) gides \(^{\text {gre ning out the }}\) corin gillergitus head coach offensive styles. WithSU's speed, the oran gewo men (2) 3) are \({ }_{a}\) the aito take the ball to the cage intransition, bu thines ha vent falleninto the opportunities for No. 15 Syracuse to play with its two (0) us uilize anutewomen the eame's pace and tow the garionen's fense.

SU, though, capitalized On on fast break against with Brady ayne connected women keeper ben Nardi for Syracuse's first goal of the same, transie ve struggled with better" Brady said. "It's knowing when to pall upand slow down. We're a running team, and we just need to utilize that more.

Hable agreed
We have our transition offense, which we're known For all across the country, Hable said. "We have our settled attack, which is what we've been focusing on most this entire year. It's not a good thing. We have to pick placement as teader of the offen Sive line, and that Jerry Azzinaro will continue Stoutland's success infinding talent.
(Azzinaro) is a well-known Fecruiter of college football," Pasqualoni said. "He's familiar With our geographical range. wir Caur radius of Syracuse and Floricia.

He's aware of the level of athletes and tie players we want to have. He's real detailed and

\section*{Golden battles}

Good news for the all the high sehool seniors sending intentions to matriculate at Syra cuse this fall.
2003), the Orangemen will wel come perennial powerhouse come perennial powerhouse Notre Dame to the Carrier Dome tentatively set for NOV. 22 , the 40 th anniversary of John \(F\) Kth anniversary of ohn F. Kennedy's assassination. No date has been set for 2004 , where the team will Square off under the watchful eye of Touchdown Jesus.
"Over the years, we've played high-profile programs," Coach \(P\) said. "We've played Florida, Florida State, Tennessee and Michigan. (Playing Notre Dame) is just a continuance of Syracuse playing compctitive non-conference opponents.

Pasqualoni said departed SU offensive coordinator Kevin Rogers - who now holds the same position in South Bend had no connections in the agree. ment between the schools.

The Irish hold a \(2-1\) advantage over the Orange, including winning the initial meeting more than 85 years ago. Back in 1914 the Golden Domers beat SU 20-0.

The Orangemen, however, will enter the upcoming contest on a series wiming streak. They won the last meeting, taking a 14 7 decision at Yankee Stadium in 1963.
up our transition game."
Defensively, the Orangewomen already are showing signs of improvement. The team generated a solid said but teeds to worker pajking needs to work on SU recovered 19 round balts. compared to 11 for compre close play alco limi the close play also limited the Minutewomen to 13 shots on goal, with Syracuse keeper Clothilde Ewing makingsix saves. After three shaky outirigs to open tite back, and her teammates notice the difference.
"She's really having some yood games," sophomore defender Carrie Soults said. "She's looking a lot better. She's slowly getting back to her peak."

Syracuse gets another chance to put all aspects of its game together when Colgate a 7 p.m. matchup Wednesday night
The Red Raiders (1-2) visit the Hill after a week and a half off. Last time out, Colgate took Brown University So overtime before tosing 8-7. Semor tri-captain kate Noals in the defeat The 1999 goals in the dereat. The 1999 player of the Year lenens Col Player of the yoals inds Colgate To try ro try and control Manzella, either Soults or Stacey Brown will draw the said. Althoughone player may match up against Manzella, Miller is preparing the entire defense to help with the task.

Manzella isn't the only Red Raider putting points on the scoreboard.

Midfielders Elizabeth Brown and Anne Currier have scored six and four two, along with Manzella, account for 20 of the Red Raiders' 21 goals this season Sophomore attacker Lauren Moil has the other score.
Although it sounds like Colgate can produce offen sively, the team has yet to rack the eight-Eonl any game this scason.
imits opponents arense limits opponents co an aver age of eight goals per game low-paced pame instead of an offensive Wetalk about
We talk about being patake, but we don't want to ness, Miller said Whe're ex tremists, but that's the per sonality types of the girls they're extremists. We'restill maturing, but when we put it all together and play well, we are devastating

Staff writer Eric Nathan contributed to this story

\section*{SIUDENT TRAVEL}

\section*{Cheaper than Tuition...} more fun than Body Piercing
Student ID's
Travel Insurance
Special Student Airfares
Round The World Journeys
Eurail Passes Beds on a Budget
Adventure Holidays
Great Travel Products

\section*{Book your tikeas \(\sim \sim \sim\) on. statravel com}

\section*{Become Elected to the}

> For Leaders interested in influencing policies that affect Graduate Life at s. \(U_{\text {. }}\)

\section*{Elections begin March \(29^{\text {th }}\) Come by 131 Schine, or see your department senator for more information.}

\section*{HOBART}
continued from page 16
seasons.
The Hobart head coach said he has known Desko since he was young and that he grew head coach Roy Simmons Jr.
"I have the utmost respect for the Syracuse program." that our kids are excited to play. They have the opportunity to beat the No. 1 team on its home field. You have to be ready for something like that."

Lastly, since Syracuse and Hobart share the same freeway, they also share the same recruiting hotbed in Central New York.

\section*{The Daily Orange}

The Statesmen's roster boasts 19 New York products, including three West Genesee alumni - Jared Bebee, Mike Borsz and Eric Burns. Orange men Dan Stessen, Bob Rust and Brian Herloski all attended the Central New York lacrosse factory.

While Syracuse's nationa prominence may overshadow much of Hobart's recruiting ef forts, both squads draw plenty of talent from the CNY area.
"We recruit a lot of players from that area," O'Hara said. "There is a lot of talent to be found in Central New York."

Hobart enters each season with lofty expectations, O'Hara said Thus far, those expectations have not been fulfilled.

The Statesmen tripped up in their first game against Army and also lost a one-goal game to Harvard. Hobart's wins came against Holy Cross and a 15-3 shellacking of Lafayette.

Hobart is led by junior midfielder Jamie Breslin. In the Lafayette blowout, Breslin registered six goals and an assist, earning him Rochester Area College Athletics Male Athlete of the Week Award.

Héplays big, O'Hara said of his star. "He looks more like the paperboy, but since the day he got here, he has been an inspirational leader to this program."

Breslin and Beebe lead the Statesman with 10 points each, while Kevin DeWall has tallied nine and Scott Harvey has garnered eight.

The key for Hobart, O'Hara said, will be to keep the ball out of Powell and company's hands.
"We need to make sure hey don't have too many opportunities," OHara said. Pos session is the key. They have more than their share of people who can score. When they go on a tear, we need to stop the bleeding and get control of possession.

For the Orangemen, the 4 0 start is encouraging, especial y with wins over lax power houses like Virginia and Johns Hopkins played games on Saturday, possibly leaving both teams a little tired. Come championship time, Syracuse hopes to be playing Saturday and Monday, SUgoalie Rob Mulligan said, so the schedule provides practice.

Both Hobart and Syracuse

For Syracuse, its good to be back in the Dome, fulfilling the legacy of a local rivalry. "The home field is definitely an advantage for us," Mulligan said. "But we feel this team could win anywhere.
"We have a good team, and there's good camaraderie, and we're playing well. Home or away, we should win the game regardless. But we definitely love playing in the Dome. The crowd is always great."

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash, checks or credit cards. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{Unfortunately, Connor is leaving the Daily Orange Sports Department to spend more time with his girlfriend.}

\section*{So come to the D.O. and fill his spot.}

We are now accepting applications for the position of Asst. Sports Editor.

Letters of intent are due to Editor In Chief Dave Levinthal by Wednesday at 5 p.m.

Drop letters off at 744 Ostrom Ave. Call for more information:
443-9798

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

by Neil Swaab

CROSSWORD
By THOMAS JOSEPH
ACROSS 41 Lauder of
1 Mischie- cosmetics 5 Vous ones fame tint \(\quad\) lines 10 Appropri- 43 Shopping 12 Muscat DOWN
13 "Saving 1 Bakery
Private workers

Ryan"
\(\qquad\) 15 Crimson 3 Light, dry
16 Tax org. 4 whow workout
17 Baseball's \(\begin{gathered}\text { site } \\ \text { Ripken } \\ \text { Blubbers }\end{gathered}\)
18 One of the 6
Dwarfs
20 Tennis star
Sampras 8 Essential
21 Refrain
9 Theater
Start keys
23 Physicist
Nikola
25 Sharpen
28 Tightly
31 " \({ }^{2}\)-gacked bragh!"
32 Periect
place
34 Lobster-
5 eating aid
35 Road
36 Burve
37 Burro
Mouse" 40 goet homa!" aunt

\section*{March 28, 2000}

Excuse Me, Mr.... Umm... Chancellor Shaw... SIR? that's a very nice tie.
AND OH YEAH...
May We Have Another SPRING BREAK?..

JOMES

\section*{O-Tay}
by Becky Johnson
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{15}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Notices}

Summers Coming Lose that wintet bulge. Doctor Recommended
\(1.880-789-2967\)

\section*{Autos}

1995 Exploret Spon 2 Doon, 4 wo Whie towi

\section*{EMPLOYMENT} have and amazing Sumamert Presignous coed camp in beaumul tass seeks caring motwated and centimited to sucterd Join out wining team caretsicumpusgocanel com Fun yeafl summer nannes needed. Wow witn

College Girls Wanled lor Adult Interne! Eusiness Call 455 - 8723 Leave stessalge Camp Counselors Top Orernight Camps in

\section*{Job Opportunities}

SUMMER JOBS
 Weo. wiw ctupinaw cont or e-mal into chupinaw cym

\section*{Do you choy a chatlenge? Did you score} exceptionally well on yaur SATS. GRE: MC

 Rizvarto al susam Grevice corn or send it to al busy medical oltace. Whit

AAA make \($\) on the inlerner. Get in on the ground flool. Whe nave the device. connection and destination Inverested? Call \(315-474.232\) destination inver
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Biologists \\
No experience needed!! Earnup to 35 K ather 1 yr 40K after 2 years \\ ims a bionedical sotwase tim in Siver Spring, MD is offering a free 4 week programming course. We hire \(90 \%\) of students who take this course. Course starts 6/1200. For details see imswebcom or call (888)680-5057
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Computer} Programmer/ Analyst
No experience needed!! IMS a biomedical sotware firm in Silver Spring. MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS, C, C+t, JAVA, ACCESS, SYBASE C+t, JAVA. ACCESS, SYBAS and many other tanguages. and many ather languages.
Knowtedge of one computer Knowtedge of one compute programming language programming language Paid OT ariádull benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For details see imswebcom or call toll-free (888)680-5057.

AMAAZING SUBMAER at premarer PA coed childien's on compris sterven

Wamersity Batunding Classes $ians Soon swatent Discounts t-600-U.CAN.mix Call For Intormation!!!

\section*{WANTED}

Child Care

\section*{Batys:ter Wanted Sngle Dar needs help wilh 58} morrung 6:45 \(108: 15\) sam Wath them no iny Jomesvile horne. Caft Rick a 492.2110

\section*{Help Wanted}
 \(202+452.7679\)
GARN HELP NEEDED: Responswie indrucual with hoise expenence to ca: tot simailititretie in days a week onse a day Please call 473 -7145
Mon-Fn HEREALIFE! t lost 31 pouncts click for products or

\section*{Roommates}

\section*{Roommate wanted for fall semester 2000}
 FOR RENT
Westicom/Euchad renowated 3.4 bedroom aval \(\overline{6} /\) \($ 650\) - \($ 720\) P/M parking DW Pal 263.3415 O13 Cornsiot Across From Womens Gym. An amenties. mid May lease \(\mathbf{S 2 4 0 0}+688-3304\)

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LOXV"AIT THIS! \\
Three Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious three Bectroom, completety furnished \\ apartment with porth. Living Room with fireplace, Dining room, Kithen and ithree \\ bedrocrss, and Eath on streat. garage \\ parking Launcry lucinty on betarng. \\
Five bedroom Hotise \\
Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with tont and rear porencs Limg Room with litepace Eatm kichen W: DSHFWASHER a and fve largy Dedroorts, and gargge. FREE Launcry tabitity in boulding. CALL 430-5188 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Five bedroom House \\
Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen WIDISHWASHER and live large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. \\
CALL 430-5188 \\
after \(1: 00 \mathrm{pm}\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

University and Comstock very coose lo Campus Elidences asc tiro Bedroms Secure bidg lutroned laundy pation 5375 co to 570000 inte shed laundry patich7 5375.00 to 570000 University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Closa Walk 10 Campus turnished landy patkin plus tilthes D.N.Drucker 445 -1229
The -pink Palace- 5 br, house adacent 10 Rose gain Fate 416.3693

Luxumious: 2 siory aptegt Goumen: kiten.

NO FETS'Leases Fing Ga.zne
Cail for aro 4690780
Apantuents ciose to campus ciean 2.3 .5 bedroms some with fiteplace laundry, parking ABedrocms. Oaktandst., BElock ESF, 3Etocks
 Two Bedraom Fall Semester 2000 Furnisned

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers BEDROOM HOUSES. \\ WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM}

4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/
Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems
remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices
478-6504

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM
L(.)(.)K
Sate & Secur
Furnished 3 Bedroorms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details

Kensingtonifitice istFioor large 3Bedioom gishiwashern miningRoont Modermkitchen dishwasher trictowave disposal fireplace hardwood Floors porches neareusine
OuielNtighborvhood avalable June ist 2000-2001 Gasl7am-gpm 247-7851 0:426-1884
University nicely funsished quiet \(1,2,3\) bedrocms parking intities inctuced. Close Wak SU hosprials also 5 becin \(478-2642\)
Ackermen Ave, 5tr 2Bam apt. Fumnisted. earpeted. waik to campus, Sino-501 lease \(446-7202\)
7 wo Bedroom Apartments on Euelid Furnished. Heal induded. hartwood lions, porch, recently remodefed, liunndy, parking. 476 -2982
1.2.3 Bedroom Apsriments, Beantitu, Spacious,

University Ave tive bedroom House one brock rom Marshall Sireet furnished laundry parking

Apartments
Euclid and Ackerman Ave
2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished
DW, laundry
Beautiful Condition
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY \\ 422-0709}
pleasevisit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
\hline Developers \\
1,2,3-4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
microwaves, \\
disposal. \\
security systems \\
All Locations / \\
Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Furnished 2.SSedroom Houses/Apartments Livngstion, Summer, Ackerman, Euctid 469-666s
1.2,3,4 85 Borm Aparmenst, Houses. Studids. clean, Spacious. Supenet Condion, sombe recenty renowated. Walking disfance. laundry rearnily rencua parking 474 -ifal
Studio and Etficiency Apmantments, furnished, utilities included, parking, thundry, nice sia hardwoce Itoors and capth \(476-2982\).

\section*{collegehome}

THREE GEDROOMS
SRACIOUS& DELUE beautifully
FURNISHED
CAL JOHN \(\propto\) JUDY

\section*{478-7548}

204 Onfrom Ehtenty Ong and 2Becroom Secure gildg Laundry Parking very Clean
Avad June 446-5186

\section*{ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcoth Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug \\ 445-0540}

One pedrom sivdio apaumen wer lase

\($ 4751 \mathrm{mo}\) plus uils. 423 -0830
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
apartments closeto campus \\
243 EEDROOMS AVAHAELE INCLUDNG: \\
3 BR ACKERKAN \\
- 2 BR SUMNER - 2ND SEMESTER \\
-2 BR EUCLID - 2 ND SEMESTER \\
-2 BR EUCLDO. 9 MOS. LEASE 8/1500 10 5/15/01 \\
FURNISHED, EXCELLENT CONDITION. \\
SOME NCLUDE UTILITIES. CALL 422.013B
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Apatment 49er. 2tull bath iplace h.wocd fleor
1. room droom porch tree laundry avathbe Aroom d rcom porch tree laundry avatuble 1 isfe 2000
\(446-195 t\)
 dishnustier. Auly furnished. of streep parking laundry. carpet, hatctwood storage area, \(476-2982\).

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.

> 1011 E.Adams 509 University

Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Par Mantenance.
University Area Apts.
www.universityarea.com
 fut bathrooms. carpet. laundry, patking Aveidatil Mu: bathroorns. carpet. laundry. parking
Mayor August. 5305 per person. \(446-9599\)
2. 3 Aerm Apts and \(s\) Edrm House tor tent on

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577
SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave. 2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Fents start at \($ 275\). Fefinished hardwood floors. Wali to wall carpel. Flats. Townhouses. Remodeled kiterens and baths. Dishwashers. Porches. Laundry:
Parking. 24 hour maintenance. www. unversityarea.com University Area Apts 479-5005

Two Bedroom Apartments
With utilitias included, Fireplece
 476-2982

\section*{One Bedroom Apartments; \\ some with 9 month leases.}

Fitiepiace, hardwood foors, fumished, laundry. quiet bullding, close to campus, 476-2982

3 Bearrom hoxtem Apartmert on Ackermen

Availablo June 1 ist 2000. Some of Street Farking "Free Luundry". Serious Sturtonts Prelerred. No Pees. 254 -0025".
-
Unversity 233 Bedrocm Tompiouses 1 Fists Finexpersisiv, and mint condition. WashedOyer, \(50 z c l e m e n d x\) larpo citan 2Bedroorn Hat hardwoor thoors poren oth-stsuet parking yyr lease secirity 640 irceudes heat 446 -8928

\section*{Canadian Bieman leads by example \\ BY JODI HEBERT}

Contributing Writer

Missy Bieman gave up the chance to finish college in warm, sunny Florida to come to cold, dreary Syracuse.

Missy Bieman left the friendships she spent two years developing to come here where she did not know anyone.

Why would she pass up all of that?

In a word, softball.
Bieman, a 21-year-old junior, came to Syracuse University this year to take on the role of team leader for SU's new softball program

Originally from Wingham, Ontario, Bieman knew the responsibility she would take on in joining the team.
"I knew it was a new program and that I would have the opportunity to help build it,"

Bieman said. "I think it is pretty awesome to step in and help build a good team for the future right off the bat. \({ }^{\text {r }}\)

She is one of only two juniors on the freshman-dominated squad, as well as one of only two pitchers in the rotation this year. But Bieman is confident she can pass her experiences on to the younger teammates to help them develop.

And Bieman has a lot of softball experience for the women to learn from. She has played softball since she was about 6 years old and spends nearly all of her free time watching games and helping out at clinics.

Bieman has dedicated her life to softball, and for that has received several honors

Bieman led the nation with a 0.026 earned run average in 1998 at Florida Community College and was named to the All-Tournament team at the state championship two times. She also earned all-star honors at the Canadian Junior Women's Championships in 1999.

And despite her continually strong pitching performances at SU, Bieman has been a victim of Syracuse's struggling bats.
"Missy has responded well to problems, and is not letting losses get to her too much, head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said. "It takes a strong person to want to come to a new program like this. She puts a lot of weight on her shoulders."

Bieman's mother, Nancy, explained her daughter's dedication and leadership have grown out of her love for the sport.
"We gave her the opportunity to play ball, but it was Missy that had the drive to work hard," she said. "It was Missy that was getting up in the morning to practice and was going to the gym three days a week."

In softbal!, the pitcher plays a key role in the outcome of the game, and Bieman thrives on that pressure of leadership and drive to succeed.

I like being a pitcher because I like having control and setting the tempo of the game," Bieman said.

Despite her experience, dedication and competitiveness, Bieman still does not believe it is her place to tell her teammates what to do. Instead, she leads by example.

Bieman believes if she works hard and her tearmmates see it paying off, they will follow suit.

So far, Firnbach has been pleased with Bieman's leadership, but the coach would like to see her take a more active role. "We are looking for Missy to develop her leadership," Firnbach said. "She is learning a lot about herself, how to handie her teammates and how to help them. But we need her to become a little more vocal."

As Bieman becomes more comfortable and adjusts to the change from her junior college to \(S U\), she is beginning to realize what she has to do both on and off the field.

The maturity and leadership skills she is learning now will help her reach her goal of becoming a coach in the future.
"While you are playing," Bieman said, "you pick up things that will help you in everyday life after college."

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\section*{[C1ASSif1ecs}

2 Bedroom furnished apartment with all utilitios induded! \($ 240.00\) per person. One mile from campus. Laundry, Parking. May+ August leases. 446-959

Large clean 3Bedroom flats Westcolt. Broad St. area. Hartwood floors, porthes, off-street parking ryr lease secunity \($ 660+446-8928\) 1.1/2 Bedroom atic apartment on quiet streal. Unlurnished. Air conditioned wall to wall carpet new appliances. Suitable for single or couple. Available appliances. Suitable for single or couple. Available June 1 st \($ 350.00\) per month pus utilities.
One year lease. No Pets 243-0754
Large 2 bedroom. 2 lull bath. Walking distance s. off streel parking. Laundry. Call 476-2982. 2 Bedroom Apts 202. 204 Ostrom. 105 Euctid Terrece Large Hooms Hartwood Floors Avail June TOAD HALL

1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet Air conditioned. Dishwasher Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven).
University Area Apts
www.universityares.com 479-5005

Looking bor a place to live? wwwhousinglol.net... Your nove oft campus!

\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus. utilnties included, Oak tloors, fire place, turnished parking. very dean, laundry Call Gorton 476-2982. & \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Bedroom Apt
Ackerman Ave E-1-00 \\
Fulty Furnished
\end{tabular} \\
\hline SumnerAve and LancasterAve intee bedrooms apartment also two bedrooms semi lumished available now eall 445-1027 & Parking, Dishwasher Owner Manager 682.2218 \\
\hline large : iedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance S.U. oft street parking Laundry Cal1 476-2982. & Houses \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE \\
SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE ORTWO PERSONS. FREE HEAT GREAT LOCATION 476-9933
\end{tabular} & RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSETWO FIREPLACES. FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES 476-9933 \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
FOUR BEDROOM \\
Furnished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, Of Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Hardwood Floors. 476-2982
\end{tabular}} & House For Rent 2 minules Irom Main Campus Seven Bds off street parking Phone 458 -2483 \\
\hline & \begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK ATTHIS! \\
6 BEDROOM HOUSE \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flal, lurnished. stove, retrig, laundry, fireplace, garage. Avall June 15t 446-4229 & \\
\hline One and Two Eedroom Harriscon Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000. Lasy Month and Securty. Noperts All Graduates Prelered Call 422 -7755 & RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. TWO FIREPLACES. \\
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
1,2,3 and 4 Bedroom Apartments \\
302 Marshall St 329 Comstock 604 Walnut Ave 621 Euclid Ave 917 Ackerman Ave 145 Avondale Place \\
Available for 2000-2001 \\
Fully Fumbished Laundy Parking, Fuli Time \\
Maintenance and Management. \\
Wall to Wall Carpet andor \\
Refinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitthens and Baths \\
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St. \(# 30\) 479-5005 \\
www.universityarea.com
\end{tabular}} & \\
\hline & UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709 \\
\hline & PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 \\
\hline & WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Charming English fudor House on Comstock 6 Bedrooms, Fireplace, actoss Irom Womens Bucg. Avail 5/20 475-1012. (843)514.3881
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Lovely, Spacious \\
Five Bedroom House \\
ceramic tibe, fire place, hardwood tloors fumished, garage, iree laundry good location ssisfedroom: also smaller Four Bedroom House \(5255 / 3\) edroom 446-7611
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Summer Rentals}

Surmmer Bargain! 5200/mo per person with all utitities included. \(2.3+4\) bedroom apartments available. Fent whote opariment or by the room. One block tiom Campus. 446-959B

PERSONALS

\section*{Sports Lines}

Are you in charge of ordering T.Shirts or Party Favors tor your organization? Visit our website Favors tor your organization? Visit our website www.prographicsxportswear.com for thousands ol ideas.

SERVICES

Travel

Eurorail Pass Experts www.raiceaiss, com Get and more 1-QBQ-fiAlLPASS nr raildeals.co.

\section*{Misc.}

F NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As always, please use caution when replying or being reptied trom ary advertisement in each issue. for The Daily Orange doess not take responsibility lor ary misconduct iesulting in conlact between yourself and adrecriser.

\section*{INTERNSHIPS} SUMMER 2000
Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Pleżse pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{NOTES}

\section*{IWLCA Top 20}

Women's Lacrosse . Maryland (8) Maryland
Preton
Duke
James Madison North Carolina Dartmouth
Georgetown 8. Virginia

Delaware
10. Loyola
11. Boston U. 12. George Mason 13. Vanderbilt 14. Yale 15. Syracuse 16. Penn St. 17. Cornell 18. Temple 19. Old Dominion 20. William & Mary

Feeling Tar Heel blue North Carolina's run from the bubble to a No. 8 seed to the Final Four is one of the season's more mprobable.
But there's a chance the Tar Heels, playing their best basketball of the season. could be with out star point guard Ed Terrence Newby should they make the NCAA hampionship game
The two are scheduled to appear in court Aprii 3 - the day of the national title game in Indianapolis - on charges of assault from an incident last Halloween.

The trial already has been postponed three times.

I hope they'll be able work it out, UNC athletic director Dick Badd that the system will allow for it to be continued.

Bye bye, Barmore
After 18 amazing years coaching women's basket ball at Louisiana Tech. Lady Techster head coach the squad lost the Midwest Regional final 86 65 to Penn State on Monday in Kansas City Barmore compiled a 520-77 record for an . 872 winning percentage, the best in major-college basketball history.

Barmore's run with the Lady Techsters includes \(1130-\) win seasons, nine Final Fours and a national championship in 1988.

\section*{No fight with Knight} lowa basketball coach Steve Alford denied a story saying Indiana head coach Bobby Knight punched Alford when he was a Hoosier Former Hoosier Ricky Calloway told the Houston Chronicle he saw Knight punch Alford and slap forward Daryl Thomas on difrerent occasions. -Nothing along those tines ever happened, Alford said in a statement Sunday.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who was the lowest seed ever to win the NCAA Tournament? yesterday's trivia: Q. How many Final Fours has North Carolina appeared in?
A. 15

\section*{Orangemen face Hobart}

BY GREG BISHOP
Staff Writer
For lacrosse programs across the land, a win agauld register as more than significant.

And from now until on the Orangemen's schedule will be gunning to displace SU from its lofty position.

But for Hobart - a col lege that is located in nearby Geneva, just a Centro bus ride away - an upset over Syracuse could salvage even the worst seaton, giving the Statesmen Christmas in March.

Today, Hobart (2-2, 2-1 Patronce to top the Orangemen as they take on Syracuemen o) at 7 am in the Carrier 0) at 7 P.m. in the Carrier Dome. The matchup pits teams that share recruiting territory, family legacy and on-field history.
"We think we match up well with Syracuse," Hobart "It's going to take a strong effort from our kids, but we've been playing good defense, and we need to keep the ball out of their offense's hands." Today's contest goes much deeper than the new millennium.

First, there's the game history between the two squads. Hobart and Syra-

1916, with the Orangemen posting a 60-232 advantage.

Reagant's last win over SU came during in 1986 Between 1972 , 1979 Hobart tallied eight straight victories over Syracuse

Three years ago, the Statesmen came close again, before losing \(\mathbf{1 6 - 1 5}\) in overtime. Last season, Syracuse led by only a goal with six minutes left, but pulled away to a 10-7

LISA CASWELL/The Daily Orange Sophomome attacker Liam Banks and the rest of the Orangemen will look to get their transition game going when they face off against intrastate hival Hobart tonight at 7 p.m. in the Carrier Dome.

\section*{Hable trying} to get off scoring snide

\section*{BY ALISON HISCHAK}

Staff Writer
Coming off a sophomore season in which she notched 37 goals and finished with 103 points for the Syracuse wom- women's en's lacrosse fomens Hable expected molf this her

The junior at tacker, however, did tacker, however, did not rack up high point not rack uphigh point totals in the Orangewomen's first five games.
She has tallied an occasional goal for SU, but Lauren Brady and Karen Healy are now the leaders in the scoring column.

Hable broke out of her mini-slump and onto the scoreboard, scoring two goals in Syracuse's 8-3 victory over Massachusetta on Saturday.

See HABLE page 11

\section*{SU football coaching staff set}

\section*{BY ERIC NATHAN}

Just a few days away from the opening kickoff of spring football, coach Paul Pasqualoni filled out his roster of coaches.

While much of the student body sat at some sunny resort With a tropical drink in hand, Coach P was hard at work in the He round Spring Break. hiring Chris White, an SU graduate assistant from 1990-92, to assist with the tight ends.

White assumes the position formerly held by Dennis Goldman, who slid over to work with the wide receivers.

He arrives from Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he was the special includes stints as the line sume inciudes stints as the lineArkensen State and quarter backs coach at Holy Cross.

He was also the head man at Bishop Manogue High School in Reno, Nev., where he was honored as Northern Nevada Coach of the Year.

When I got offered a job like

SU tailback Dee Brown will be maning behind 0.O. IIe photo by ToM NYCZ ing to replace soveral stalwarts, not the behind an offensive line fookStoutfand, who left for Michlgan Stato this, I had to take it," White said. year man, Mike Bennett. They "It's great for your career. I'm ex- combined for 24 catches and 300 cited to be back here."

What awaits White is not a thrilling situation.

Gone is fifth-year senior Stephen Brominski. Following Bromo out the Carrier Dome's re volving doors is another fifth yards and four touchdowns in 1999.

The only returnee with a reception is sophomore Graham While Manley appears to be

See FOOTBALL page 11

WEDNESDAY
Mareh 29, 2000
41/31
Cloudy with \(80 \%\)

Roaling
Powell's second straight big game leads Orangemen over Hobart. See Sports.
Female Faith
JSU has its first woman
president.
See Lifestyle.

\author{
Volume Xxix Nurriber 112 Syracuse. New York 20000
}

\section*{Greek Affairs}

TriDelts receive sanctions

BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
An Office of Greek Life investigation into the Syracuse University chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority concluded Tuesday with social and disciplinary probations events for the remainder of the semester.

They were found responsible for Student Code of Conduct violations - specifigards to supplying alcohol to minors, creating a threatening environment, that type of thing," OGL Assistant Director Lisa Walsh said.

The investigations by OGL and the national TriDelt office were in response to a Feb. 23 alcohol violation.

TriDelt will remain on social probation until the end of the semester, meaning that the sorority may not sponsor or host any social function with or without aleohol, she said.
"The social violation is something to See GREEK page 3

Mernbers of the Student Environmental Action Coalition and the Student Coalition On Organized Labor sing during a candlolight vigh Tuesclay night on the Syracuse University Quad. The vigis are aimed at promoting awareness of poor working conditions and sweatshops in Thind World nations. The groups are conducting various events this week to raise awareness of these issues. As a part of this effort, SEAC sponsored a lacture Tuesday night on intemational money fending organizations. See story, PAGE 6.

\section*{More students study abroad}

BY JoY DAVIA Special Projects Editor

More Syracuse University students are studying abroad this year, said officials from the Division of International Programs Abroad Tuesday.

SU student enrollment in DIPA rose 37 percant since the 1995-1996 academic year, includyear. This reflects national trends ear. This relects Rational trends, rector.

The number of students na country also increased 15 percent during the 1997-1998 academic year and doubled during the past

See ABROAD page 5

\section*{Panel exposes profiling fears}

\section*{BY EMILY KULKUS \\ Managing Editor}

Students gathered Monday night in the Schine Student Center Underground not to dance or play pool, but to discuss what they fear is a growing trend racial profilis a ing.
ing. As part of an event hosted by As part of an event hosted by Point Zero, more than 40 students Point Zero, more than 40 students discussed the practice of focusing discussed the practice of focusing viduals who are deemed more criminally active based on their race. This practice led to the killing of West African immicrant Amadou Diallo on Feb. 4, 1999, by four white New York City police officers. Police shot Diallo 19 times after mistaling him for a suspect. He was unarmed.

It scares me that someone that care about is going to go outside and get shot or pulled over and beaten," said panelist Nashon-

Dwight Whliarns, a junior managemant major, speaks about racial profit ingat a panel discussion on the topic Monday night in the Schine Student Center Underground. The discussion was hosted by Point Zoro, a student gloup ained at ending racism and improving race ralations. Racial proffl ing is the practice of focusing law enforcement on Eroups of individuals who are deemed more criminally active based on their race. who are deemed more criminally active based on thair race. See PROFILING page 3

\section*{State official describes refugee atrocities, U.S. policies}

When most diplomats trável to foreign countries, they stay in hotels and work in the eapital city of the mation they are visiting, said Alan Krecziko, a U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state.

The staff of the Bureat of Refugees, Population and Migration, howeyer, usually lives in refugee camps in the most desolate and embattled regions of the countries in which they work, Kreczko said.

As senior deputy assistant secretary or state for population, refugees and migration, Kreczico is responsible for helping to organize the United States' role in aiding refugees hroughout the world.

Kreczko visited Syracuse University Tuesday afternoon to explain aspects of U.S. refugee policy. He spoke to nbout 50 students and faculty in the Global Collaboratory cIasiroom in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Pub lic Affairs.
-Warfare has become increasingly inhumane," he said. It has come to include the deliberate targeting of civilians in terror campaigns.

As of Jan. 1, 1999, there were 11.5 milion refugees scattered around the globe, according to the United Nations High Compaission for Refugees.

The U.N. commission de-ines a refugee as someone who cannot or does not want to recarn to their own country "because of a well-founded fear of heir race, relicion, nationality, political opinion or membership in a particular social group." The United States is the largest contributor to the U.N.

See KRECIKO page 4

\section*{[briefs]}

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Court curts poice} power to search
WASHINGTON, D.C.
- The Supreme Court sharply curtailed polioe power to rely on anonymous tips to stop and search people. The unanwas a victory for civit rights organizations but a police troup said the nation's streets may hecome more danger beco ous.

The court said Miams police acted untawfuly searched and arrested a uvenile for carying a gum after an anonymous telehone caller said someone matching his description had a concealed weapon.

Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg said such bare-bone tips" general do not give police the reasonable suspicion of criminal conduct needed to Justify the type of stop andfrisk search the nation's highest court has allowed for the last 32 years.

\section*{Number, rate of U.S. birtise rise} The United States headed into the 21 st century behind an ammy of baby strollers, with a 2 percent increase in total births, a rise in fertility rates for most ethnic groups, and upward blips of second and third chit dren, federal researchers reported yesterday.

Both the total number of births and the birthrate were up for the first time since 1990. This was true for all women between ages 15 and at, but the overall trend appeared to be driven by increase in births among women in thei menties.
The report appears to be the first clear signal that the daughters of having children at younger ages than thei mothers did, retuming to a pattern more akin to that of women of earlie. generations.

Tickets-comn may Fik to rivels sita
in a potentially prece-dom-setting decision over the controversial practice a federal judge has ruled that it is not llezal for onilina ticket selier Tickets.com to direct cus tomers brito the Web perzes of inval Tloketmaster Orline.
The rulle made as pert of a lemsuit filod by Tickotmaster, gives armumation to other comperies on the Wor Whide Web that, like Tickets.com, wre facing complaints of violating copsifyt laws by typer moline

\section*{OPEC to increase output \\ VIENNA, Austria - After \\ pressure tactics and refused to go \\ OPEC, have indicated they will} two days of fierce debate, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries agreed Tuesday to raise oil production over the next three months in response to enreaties from the United States to releve a supply shortfall that has Saudi Arabian officials said Saud Arabian oficials said nine of the cartel's 11 members approved a plan to boost oil output by up to 1.7 million barrels a day. Iran, which is OPEC's secArabia, expressed outrage over what it described as American along with the deal. Iraq does not participate in OPEC production quotas because it is subject to U.N. sanctions that regulate its sales.

Negotiations continued through the night over how to divide up the extra production. But since Saudi Arabia has plenty of spare pumping capacity, specialists said, the disagreement among OPEC partners ghould not hammarket and bring down prices. market and bring down prices.
Mexico, Norway and Oma although they do not belong to produce an extra 400,000 barrels a day. If OPEC lives up to the commitment reached here onight, that will more than achieve the extra 2 million barrels a day sought by the cinton admasoline prices.

Clinton administration officials said last night that the OPEC agreement was "good news for American consumers news for American consumers futures markets as evidence that prices at the pump will continue to decrease in the coming months.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Two kids die as train hits bus}

TENNGA, Ga. - A freight train hauling automobiles tore a school bus off its wheels in a colliing early Tuesday, killing two children and critically injurion five

The train dragged the bus battered yellow body about 100 yards. Some of the children were thrown to the gravel beside the tracks. Others were found bloodied inside.
It sounded like ... thumder or a bomb blown up," said Joe Brown, who lives about 300 feet from the crossing. He said he found bis best friend's daughter among the dead.

John Watson, whose two sons had migsed the bus that morning, arrived with the first emergency workers and helped pull one badly injured girl from the wreckage. "I was shocked that she was still alive," he said

The crash is raising questions once again about the eafety of rural, grade-level crossings.

The one-lane crossing, just across the state line in Tennessee, had no warning lights or crossing arms, and the tracks curve making it difficult to spot trains from the road.

\section*{UC boat sinks, killing three}

SAN DIEGO - A boat carrying at least nine college researchers studying spiders and scorpions annk off the coast of Baja California, killing as many as three peonational search for the missing.

Four people awam to safety on a nearby island and were rescued early Tuesday, said Lisa Lapin, a spokeswoman for the University of California, Davis. A search was on for the others.

The school said graduate student Mike Rose and a visiting Japanese scholar were killed. The Coast Guard also gaid two people died, although the U.s. Embassy in Mexico City confirmed three deaths.

The boat was one of two, 22-foot inflatable crafts carrying a total of about 20 people on the trip Monday to research spiders and scorpions Los An island near Bahia de miles south of the U.S.-Mexico border.

\section*{Senate looks at finance, U.S. flag}

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Senate today rejected a proposed constitutional amendment giving Congress control over political contributions. Still pending was another amendment that could make dese.

Senators voted 67-33 to defeat a measure offered by Sen. Ennest Hollings, D-S.C., that would give Congress power to set reasonable linits on the amount of contribudate for federal office. A twothirds majority is needed for constitutionall amendments.

Hollings wanted his provision added to a proposed amendment on flag degecration introduced by Sen. Orrin Hatch, RUtah. The flag vote could come later today or Wednescay.

The Hatch proposal is likely to mirror the last flag-desecration vote in the Senate, in 1995 , when supporters fell three short of the wo-thirds majority needed to mend the Constitution.

Debate has been passionate on both sides of both issues, as opponents argued they seriously unlermine the first Amendment's free speech rights.

\section*{world news}

\section*{North Korea warns U.S.}

BEIJING-A high-level North Korean leader's proposed visit to the United States may not be possible an long as Washnist nation a terroriet comete, nist nation a terroriat atate, a senior North Kor Chu Chang Jun, the North urged the United Stated to "cre ate favorable conditions for ate favorabia conditions for said Washington should stick to a 1994 agreement to give North Korea oil and nuclear reactors and hinted that acrapwould also help.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Linda Williams of Welfare Watchdogs spealcs from noon to 1 p.m. in Maxwell, Room 402, regarding "Community Soups - The Global Milestones presents "Bearing Witness, Spring 2000," presentations of the top 10 under199 et 2 pm in the Hell of 1999, at 2 p.m. in the Hall of Lansuages, Room 500.

■ Michael Woolf, Division of Intermational Programa Abroad London director, speales at 4 p.m. in Schine, Room 227, regarding Jews 1880 s to 1960 s . \({ }^{*}\)
- Novelist Joanna Scott speaks at \(5: 45\) p.m. in Giffiond Auditorium as part of the Raymond ver Reading Series.
- The School of Architecture presents "Time. Space and Color," a program by University of Pen p.m. in the Sue Ann Genet Auditorium, Room 108 in Slocum.
- Alibrandi Catholic Center presents the fum Dead Man Walking" at 7 p.m.

The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority hosts an information gession regarding safe sex methods and Planned Parenthood's services at 6 p.mp. in the Hall of Langurges, Room 500 .
- The Sisterhood of Temple Adath Yeshurun hoosts the Syracuse Stage Presentation and Dessert at 7: \(30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\) in the TAY ballroom. Acts frum several upcoming plays frill be performed. Admismon is \($ 3\) wr members, quired. Call 44

\section*{TODAY-} THURSDAY

The SU Objectivist philosophy club hosts a table in Schine Student Center to distribute informa tion regarding their organization

\section*{THURSDAY}

The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta scrority hosts a workshop on Depression and Rape Awareness, featuring the Gt 7 pm in Schine Student Center, Room 302.
- Career Exploration Services presents "Working for the Peace main the Hall of Lenguages. p.m. in the Hall of Languages; also host a pre-law event for juniors applying next year and for Beniors who will apoly as slumni from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 207.
[d.o.]

\section*{The Daily Orame is published} by The Dully Orange Corp. The D.O diserthuted an carmpus with the fire five copics couplemeniory and each addicional copy contr $1.

\section*{Manarement 443-9798}

Businem: 443-2314 News 443-2127
Sporte 443-2128
Phocography 443-9795
Email edtrontaledailyorange.com
Ocline wow-dailyormgencom

\section*{GREEK} continued from page 1 ensure that it doesn't happen again," Walsh said. That is a ecision we reached with thei national."

The national office could not be reached for comment.

After the social probation ends, the house will remain on disciplinary probation until May 2001 and are not allowed during that time, Walsh said.

Sorority representatives were unable to be reached for comment.

TriDelt did not receive ex tra sanctions from the SU Pan hellenic Council, Walsh said.

Panhel and the SUInterfraternity Council monitor houses separately from OGL. The councils prosecute chapters for violations such as host-Rush-related infractions Rush-related infractions, lates university rules, such as those in the SU Student Code of Conduct, OGL becomes involved, she said

Walsh added that she does not expect any problems with TriDelt during its probation. The sorority has not had any major violations in the past, she said.
Walsh said. "great women," Walsh said. "Knowing them, they'li take it and do something really positive. I think thing really positive. I think theyve learned from this and will learn to have a social life withourn alcohol."

The punishments for the sorority will not affect its participation in the impending Greek Week, which begins April 9, Walsh said. The week s an annual event during which houses participate in money for a charity This year me philanthropy will benefit victims of Huntington's Dis victim.
ease.

In other greek news:
Investigations into Zeta Investigations into Zeta Beta Tau fraternity in regards to an alleged March 1 Student Code of Conduct violation are concluding, andiraternity members are awd of informing them of the a come Alpha.

Alpha Omicron Pi sorority is still under investigation by OGL for an alleged hazing incident Feb. 27. That investigation may not be completed unWalsh added.

\section*{PROLIFING}
continued from page 1
ie Chang, a junior mechanical engineering major and president of the Caribbean Student Association.

Police officers are more likely to pull over or draw a gun on a minority based on skewed ethnic groups, panelist Dwight Williams said. The statistics that police officers use to mate that police officers use to make udgements of people are unfair Williams, a jundior management major and a Student Government Association Assemblyman.

To categorize every black in categorize every black because someone else did something is totally wrong," he said. Cops don't know us. They go to work and then they go home."

But statistics perpetuating the use of racial profiling are not as serious an issue as current methods of law enforcement, said Vince Cobb, a Syracuse University media consultant.
"The system does not go afer the corporate criminals the people smoking dope in their basements," Cobb said. "The problem is the system is not enforced equally across the board If it was, then racial profiling would not be an issue.

Racial profiling first surfaced in the 1970s when airline and bus terminal security officials monitored the behavior of passengers to detect drug tral sophomore in The Collere of Arts and Sciences and Coltege or Arts woman of Point Zero. The trend however, has morphed into a dis criminatory method of stereotyp ing minorities for crimes she said.

This method has turned deadjy, panelist and African ny Quinn said.
- "Not only are people being shot by racial profiling, they are dying from racial profiling," he said.

Police officers, however, are trained to act on their past ex periences, said Michele Lee, Point Zero internal chairwoman. If those past experiences involved crime-committing minorities, they have the right to be more skeptical of people who fit the same description, she said.
"When a police officer is trained, they are trained to go by experience," said Lee, a sophomore public relations and politi cal science major. "Whether or not these people are intrinsically racist, they are going to go on theix

Police officers have the right to fire at suspicious individuals and when they do so, they will fare at the chest because it is the easiest area to aim and shoot at, University of New Yerk Colle Uf Environmental Scik College Foresty environmental forestry and biolory major and biology major

The officers must use professional tactics to keep their suspicion at accurate levels, Mckean said, giving more justification for shooting the suspect if he or she is armed or running toward the officer-

Michael Roman, a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, said he was race during Winter Break. Roman said he was driving his car 40 mph in a \(55-\mathrm{mph}\) zone in New Jersey near Princeton University when he was pulled over. He said the police officer's unsupported suspicions were diminished, however, after he pointed to the donut replacing his left tire.

Roman reflected on his positive experience with police officers while in elementary school, but questioned the non-existent presence of the same police officers later in life.
"How come that's the last time we ever see that guy? He comes in, does his thing and then bounces," he said of the poFriendly" \({ }^{}\) he deemed "Office Friendly.
"He doesn't know the area," Roman added. "How is he supposed to know the area if he is posed to kn there?

Several panelists discussed a possible reduction in crime and racial profiling if the officers spent more time in the commu nities where they work.

In Cleveland, police officers are required to live in the same city where they work - a policy hat has helped reduce crime in several neighborhoods, said

Quinn, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences.

Quinn used the example of repeatedly mistaking a customer for a sales associate in a store to racial profiling. The mistake does not justify constantly makng the mistake, he said.

The bottom line is that we are just trying to get rid of get rid of forever," Williams said. And the stereotype is not seve said Lee closing the dis lective, said Lee closing the disussion.

This isn't a black issue, a Latino issue, an Asian issue -"When one person is wronged, it hurts everyone in the human race."

\section*{University Union's Comedy Board.....}

\author{
Tickets On Sale © Schine Box Office Now!
}

Join Jay Moh-foin "Jergilacure", "Go", and "Action!" on FOXfar a night full of loughe Also scheduted to perfarmare SU's very own talents, Bryan Bitigs Dane Maikoff, and Dane Pollack.

\section*{KRECZKO}
continued from page 1
refugee commission and so the role of Kreczko's bureau is critical to the U.S. government, he said. The federal government gives about \($ 600\) million each year to the U.N. commission, which accounts for 25 to 35 percent of the commission's budget, he added.

Even though the refugee bureau receives a large amount of federal spending each year, its mission is rarely questioned by Congress, Kreczko said.
"We're one of the only organizations that when we go up to testify before Congress, we get asked, 'Have you asked for enough? he said. "It comes from Democrats and Republicans. It's not a political issue." The attention on refugees from highly publicized conflicts, however, may actually hurt other refugees, said Gabriela Cohen, a public administration graduate student.

"Those refugees where the conflict is going on for a long time, it seems like they might need more support than the ones in those countries where a conflict just explodes," she said.

The high degree of publicity surrounding conficts, such as Kosovo, have the potential to drain resources from other refugees, she

Kreczka agreed and said that situations like Kosovo often arise and drain funds from long-term problem areas, such as som African nations.
"We were fortunate. We did not have to divert one dollar from Africa for Kosovo," he for Kosovo," he said. We got extra money from our money from our Congress. That Congress. That wasn't true of some other countries."

Whatever the amount of money marmarked for humanitarian aid, workers in efugee camps use that aid to give refugees the basic ne ties of life, Kreczko said.

The people living in the camps are skilled in stretching all the money and materials received as far as possible, he added.

Frequently shelter means no more than sticks to hold mud in place and maybe someimes some plastic sheets," Kreczko said. "But you'd be surprised how far these people an stretch what they have. They're really very resourceul."

In one camp Kreczko visited in Sudan, he said the refugees used tin cans that had contained vegetable oil to make roofs for their makeshift homes.

Besides helping refugees in oreign countries, Kreczko said his bureau is responsible for re locating some refugees to the United States.
"For some refugees, there is not a reasonable chance of going home in the near future and a problem exists in the place they have asylum, he said.

It is these people that the government usually considers \section*{Frequently shelter} means no more than sticks to hold mud in place and maybe sometimes some plastic sheets. But you'd be surprised how far these people can stretch what they have. They're really very resourceful. 2 U.S. deputy assistant sec-into the United States,

Kreczko said. The

\section*{ALAN KRECZKO} retary of state

\section*{cuse, he added.}

Kreczko's 05 in public servicyear career model for service provides a federal all employees of the federal government, said Melvyn Levitsky, an SU international relations professor.
"He could be a very rich man right now, but he chose to be a public servant," Levitsky said. "He is a great example of what a public servant should be."

At one point during his speech, Krecako was describing a refugee camp he visited in Africa and became disturbed to the point where he had to stop and compose himself before continuing.
"There were people who had had their limbs chopped off," he said. "Some of them were just young children. But our assistance does a tremendous amount of good. You just have to deal with it." refugees that will gain entrance is set each year by the president and Congress, he added. Last year that number was about 85,000 total, with about 500 of those refugees living in Syra-
  ,

  -路

\section*{It's not just a job.}

If you want more out of your work than simply punching a clock, consider a career helping children and families at Hillside Children's Center As a Youth and Family Development Specialist, you will work with emotionally disturbed children in our residential, foster care or in-home programs. You will be a critical member of a team that designs and provides services customized to each child's needs. It's a first step in a career that can touch thousands of lives.

\section*{The Hillside Mission}

Hillside Children's Center is one of the largest not-for-profit child service agencies in the country. We provide a range of child welfare, education, juvenile justice and mental health services to children and farilics throughout Central and Western New York. We are committed to treating children with dignity, in the full context of their families, their cultures and their communities.

\section*{What we need from you}

You must enioy and be able to engage with children and families. Good communications skills are essential. A Bachelor's Degree in psychology, sociology, human services or a related field is preferred. Scheduled work hours include days, evenings and weekends. Full-time, part-time and relief positions are available. Benefits package includes health insurance and generous time-off allotment.

\section*{Explore your future with Hillside}

\section*{To find out more about a career at Hillside Children's Center,} apply in person or send your resume to:
For Residential Service positions Staffing Managers
Hillside Children's Center
1183 Monroe Avenue
Rochester, NY 14620
Tel (716) 256-7586
Fax: (716) 256-7555
For \(\mathrm{I}_{\mathrm{n}}\)-Home Service positions
Human Resources
Hillside Children's Center
Tel (716) 654-4535
Fax (Z16) 654-4550
TTY (716) 654-4510
Job Hotine (716) 654-4573

March 29, 2000
Rychwalski said this interest surprised her because when she was an incoming freshman, she never considered studying abroad. During her freshman year, howev er, Ry hed up traveling to and ended up traveling to London to study last semester

Prospective students are defi nitely more interested in studying abroad then a few years ago," she said.
"When you think of SU, you think of good, quality acadernics. You think of the foothall, basketbal and lacrosse teams and you think of an outstanding legacy of study d," Booth said
Heather Thompson, study abroad office manager at the University of cexas at Austin, agreed hat more high school studenis ar study abroad program "Freshman applicants are getting information earlier then they used to," she said.

Last year junior Erica Rychwalski, a public relations and mar keting major, worked in the SU School of Management to answer questions from prospective stwtion concemed the study abroad tion concerned the study abroad When Rychwalsiki he une campus tours last year, many parents inquired about DIPA.

McPherson made international education one of the focal points of the university's undergraduate education, Chalou said. McPherson, a former Peace Corps volunteer, set a goal to send 40 percent of the abroad by 2006 , she said

About 23 percent of under. craduates at MSU studied abroad this year, she "So "So we"re about halfway Nore, she said study abroad prostudy abroad pram, however erperienced an increase in enrollment. OIn At St. Olar nesota, 65 percen or each class stud. ies abroad, said Barbara Walters project assistant and budget coordinator of the study abroad office. Although St. Olaf experienced a 11 percent increase over the past three years since the 1996 1997 school year, enrollment dropped 9 percen last year, she said.
"It went up really high last year," she said
"Students are secing going abroad as useful to their future plans.
Despite the increase, less than 10 percent of undergraduates at four-year universities study abroad, according to institute statistics.

But for those participating students, studying abroad is a way o enhance ones life skills - especially when more employers are ional experience Booth said.

A student's ability to study
A studentined by a strondy abroad is enh added
"When parents are doing wel financially, they are more likely to send their son and daughter abroad for a more expensive seme ter," he said.

The increase can also be at tributed to word of mouth and encouragernent from administrators and faculty, he said. Parents who have studied abroad themselves are also more willing to send their on or daughter abroad, Booth added.

The number of non-SU students participating in DIPA also in creased this year by 12 percent, cultivating in a 58 percent increase from the 1995-1996 academic year. Booth added.

More colleges without study abroad programs are understanding the important role it plays in an undergraduate's education, prompting administrators to make it easier for their own students to go abroad through a different coleges program, he said. These colleges are now researching and sug gesting prograns to their and suts that offer easily transferable cours es.

Some colleges, like the Univer sity of Colorado at Boulder, allow their students complete financial id package to participat added

Michigan State University, which has its own study abroad office, experienced a 100 percent increase during the past four years said Cindy Chalou, the office's assistant director.

MSU President M. Peter

Percent total of all students abroad during the 1997-1998 acadermic year
3.8 s down. We are, But this year its down. We are, over the past several years."

\section*{Female factor}

About two-thinds of enroll ment in study ahroad programs are comprised of women - a trend for years, according to the Institute of International Education.

At DIPA, 70 percent of students enrolled this semester are women, Booth said.

Women are more likely to take risks then men and possess better people skills - valuable assets for students studying abroad, he added. Women are more likely to break from their comfort zone and venture abroad, he added.
"It's a combination of history, courses offered and women being the ones who are more risk-takers, he said.

Courses offered by SU also releet this trend, with the majority of DIPA courses geared toward vomen. Womens studies classes he added.

IN DIPA's Zimbabwe program, for example, 80 percent of students enrolled are women and the SU Women's Studies depart ment has a large program at that ment has a large p .

Sixty-four percent of students enrolled in Michigan State Univer sity's abroad program are also women, Chalou said.

Males tend to be more goal ariented," she said. "They see studying abroad as a distraction from their goal of graduation."

Although more women travel abroad from the United States, about 60 percent of international tudents enrolled in U.S. universi ties are male, according to institute tatistics. The leading fields of study for international students are business administration and computer science.
Planning early
As studying in a foreign coun try becomes more popular, more prospective students are inquiring ahout SU's study abroad options, Booth said.

Percent change in number of students abroad between the 1996-1997 and 1997-1998 12.5 12.5
-.7 30.1 14.5
9.5 16.9 8.7 5.7 11.8 13.2 \(-5.0\) 17.6 13.7

\section*{GET THEJUMP On The New Economy \\ The Lally School at Rensselaer. \\ and innovation.} Business savvy for a world gone digital.

\title{

}

Management and technology.
Application

\section*{Cox decries global trade, plans April protest}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

The International Monetary Fund is a loan shark, seting a debt trap where third world countries have no choice but to abide by its programs said Kecran Cox, a member of the Student Environmental Action Coalition.

SEAC sponsored a lecture Tuesday regarding international money lending institutions and last November's protests in Seatile.

Protesters successfully shut down World Trade Organization mectings in a peaceful, civil disobedient manner, said Cox, a graduate student in the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

The battle's not over," said Cox, an environmental studies major. "The WTO still exists, we gotta keep fighting.

The event aimed to educate students on the practices of the IMF, World Bank and WTO and to gain support for planned protests April 16 in Washington D.C., said Kelly Nagy, SEAC National Council coordinator and ESF student.
"They're going to be just as fun as Seattle, but I hope with a larger turn out," said Nagy, a senior environmental science senior environmenta salot of people were upset they couldn't get to Seattie. I think more people will be able to get to peop.'

In November, more than 70,000 people convened in Seattle to oppose capitalist exploitation and the WTO meetings. Protesters bound themselves together, blocking en trances to the convention center to prevent WTO officials from attending the scheduled meetings.

Police officers attempted to halt the protesters by spiasing them with tear gas, and in some cases, beating them and threat ening them with guns.

The corporate-controlled media emphasized the violent protests of only a few individuals in Seattle, he added.
"Ninety percent of the protests, a weeklong festival of resistance, barely received me. dia coverage," Cox said. "It was a lot of fun. There was a carni val-like atmosphere."

The IMF and World Bank are a threat to democracy and the environment, Cox said.

The institutions force countries to submit to their structural adjustment programs in order to receive economic aid, he said. These countries must promote sweatshops and the ex ploitation of natural resources he added.

The success of the IMF is debatable," said Steve Penn, research associate in the Syra cuse University physics depart ment. "The IMF forces the cut ting of social institutions, and

There are those who shy away from challenges. And then there are those who travel 9,000 miles looking for them.

Stop by a Peace Corps Information Table and find out about the hundreds of overseas jobs awaiting you!

www.peacecorps.gov 800-424-8580, option 1 :

Information Table
Thursday, March 30, 2000
\(10 \mathrm{AM}-1 \mathrm{PM}\)
Schine Student Center
Information Session
Thursday, March 30, 2000
3 PM
Hall of Languages, Room 500

\section*{Syracuse University}

Keegan Cox, a graduate student in the State University of New York College of Envionmental Science and forestry, speaks at a lecture sponsored by the Student Environmental Action Coalition on Tuesday nigft the economy is said to improve." The IMF is an organization of 182 member countries that promotes international monetary cooperation and economic growth. The organization also helos provide financial assistance to under-developed countries. The World Bank also helps the countries improve their economic status through loans and investments.

But poverty increases while multionational corporations are the real beneficiaries of the institutions, Penn said.

The WTO eliminates nontariff barriers to trade, Cox said. That allows corporations to ignore environmental and labar laws, he added.

The U.S. ignores its own said.

\section*{Spring protest}

SEAC will be carpooling to April's event, named A16, and encourages other students to go, Cox said. They will join other upstate New York colleges on the trip

A16 is a continuation of the movement for human rights and free trade, according to the event's Web site at www.a16.org. Because the main offices of the U.S. Treasury, the IMF and the World Bank are all located in Washington D.C. the capital is the most effective place to stimulate change, the site said.

Each of these groups plays a key role in controlling the global economy, the site added.

Fifteen organizations are co-sponsoring the protests that more than 400 groups nationwide have endorsed, the site said.

The protests will begin April 9 with a call for cancellation of debts for countries in Africa, Latin America, Asia and the Caribbean. Activists will host lectures and forums throughout the week. Protesters plan to construct large puppets, signs, banners and props to use in their marches.

The protests will conclude April 17 following a large-scale protest at the IMF and World Bank, the site said.

\section*{THE LAST WEEK OF MARCPH.}

WHEN EVEN DICK VITALE IS SICK OF HIMSELF.

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Flag amendment mars speech rights}

The American flag flies for individuality, personal freedorn and choice. The stars and stripes don't represent homogeneity or a singleminded society.

But some citizens of the United States seem to think they do. And they're trying to make it illegal to set those stars and stripes aflame.

For the third time in a decade, the U.S. Senate plans to vote this week on a proposed amendment to the Constitution that would make flag desecration a crime.

Perhaps the most telling hallmark of the United States are its First Amendment rights. They're a precious package of freedoms that few nations can claim as law.

An amendment banning flag desecration would be the first dangerous step toward tarnishing these rights.

Flag burning is not a violent act. It's a form of symbolic speech - the same speech that must be respected and tolerated like any that can be read on newspaper pages, heard from church pulpits or spoken in casual conversation.

By nature, humans build strong opinions and react viscerally to events in the world around them. A small handful of people may choose to show those feelings by putting a match to their country's flag.

It might pierce the nationalist pride of some U.S. citizens to watch it burn. But no law will ever prevent thai. Hiding the matches won't prohibit the free exchange of ideas that the U.S. Constitution guarantees. In fact, it would probably only serve to fan the flames that conservative Congressmembers hope to snuff out

Stringent local laws make it difficult even to burn leaves in a backyard barrel. Amendment or not, anyone caught burning a flag would likely be fined for burning without a permit - the same hollow punishment for which a flag statute would provide-

The U.S. government is elected to serve the people, not to waste time concocting its own concept of moral integrity and force feeding it to its constituency.

\section*{News Editor}
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photograpiy Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asse. News Editor
Asst. News Editer
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lffestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Edhor
Asst. Sports Editor
Desiegn Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photoquaphy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Iustint Silverman
Holly Auser Smprie Koliall Dave Curis Ein Elonkuger
Asst. Copy Editor Erim Ehaninger

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Homosexuality quickly becomes last national taboo}
"Dude, I wasn't sure before, but now I know you're a fucking faggot."
"Fuck you, I am not!" This is an excerpt from a conversation I heard among a group of guys while walking across campus the other day. They were obviously kidding around with each other, and the question of whether the person being teased is actually gay is irrelevant. The exchange bothered me, but for reasons other than the ones that probably made you cringe while The bl
The it.

\section*{MATT}

\section*{WALTON}
by this blatant hostility ghown by this guy's friends is a serious were joking, their reactions were definitely negawere joking, their reactions were definitely negative and their distaste was clearly expressed by tive and their distaste was clearly expressed b behavior like this has become the norm, especialIy on college campuses.
I like to think of my generation as increasingly liberal and accepting. We have so far been able to truly learn from the successes and mistakes of our parents and grand parents, and make informed decisions rather than reactionary ones. Even if we are not in complete agreement with the lifestyle choices of others, younger people seem to be more tolerant of differences among the people around them.

However, this may not actually be the case. Homosexuality is still perceived by many as the absolute antithesis of masculinity, and as such can be threatening to the tegtosterone-based, mersity And tolerance is not just decreasing loca versity. And tolerance is not just decreasing locs 85 percent of respondents said that they believe anti-gay comments or actions are tolerated on their military bases.

I hesitate to use the word "tolerance" in this situation. A friend of mine once told me that he dislikes the concept of "tolerance" of homoseruality because that implies that there is something inherently wrong with it. We tolerate mosquitoes at a picnic in the summer, or commercials with at a picnic in the summer, or commercials with that annoying Pepsi girl; we shouldn't just tolerate gay people.
gay people.
For a time \(I\) agreed with him, but now I'm beginning to ask myself if even just tolerance is too much to ask. Why, in this era of acceptance and celebration of our differences, is this still such an issue?
I believe that our views are still warped by misconceptions of homosexuality that exist from past generations, misconceptions that are unfortunately perpetuated by and part of our religious and political beliefs. How common is the image of the father that pushes his son into playing sports in order to assure the development of his masculinity?

And during the primary race, I found myself shaking my head almost daily at the inflammato ry anti-gay comments made by candidates like Alan Keyes and his counterparts in the religious right who ba

Comments and actions like these are based on the faulty presumption that homosexuality is somehow the polar opposite of masculinity. This is aimply not true. I have gay iriends who would the game than prance around to the Village People wearing mesh shirts and tight, rolled-up jean shorts.

There is one aspect of this subject that I find even more repulsive than outright hostility directed towards gays. I think that there is a large percentage of people who are completely accepting of homosexuality, but act as if they're not in order to fit in with certain groups of people.
but fre're reaching af the pressure to conform, but we're reaching a point in our lives where the peer pressure excuse just doesn't work anymore. selves these days, unless of course, that self is selves these days, unless of courge, that self is gay (two inds) Homeing mality is quickly becoming the last great taboo ing the last great taboo. 1 won't end with a call for universal acceptance or a plea for tolerance of others. As a socieance or a plea for tolerance of others. As a socit think we're even close to being ready for steps like that. I'll just suggest that the next time you find yourself about to make a derogatory or hostile comment, think twice. It's just not cool anymore.

Matt Waltor is senior musie composition major. His column appears Wednesdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at mjwalton@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SU administration fails to address WRC request}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Last Friday, for Syracuse University's birthday, a Student Coalition on Organized Labor member presented Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw with an SU shirt made in a mock sweatshop on the Quad the day before. The On the Quad the day before. The let SU join the Worker's Rights Consortium to end the licensing of the university logo to companies using sweatshop labor. Shaw flatly refused.
More than 1,000 students at SU now support the WRC. Over the protests of these students, he university administration remains committed to a strucurally weak code of conduct that allows corporations to carry a No Sweat label while failing o address the sweatshop problem and largely exclu versity participation

The WRC is the only currently available means through which a large number of univergities can exert pressure on the garment industry to change its profit-driven blood thirst.

It is not surprising that when Shaw cut the SU birthday cake he used Marie Antoinette's words, "Let them eat cake," since, once again, the SU admin istration is failing to recognize students and workers as part of the SU community. The adminis tration would do well to look around at the growing student WRC.

Otherwise, Shaw's historical reference to a guillotimed reference to a guillotined monarch may well presage for the SU administration the public embarrassment that other university administrators have suffered when students have had to demand that their voices and the rights of the workers that make their clothes be recognized.
J.J. Butts

Graduate student and sCOOL member

\section*{Officers concerned \\ Staff Reports \\ A suspicious man wns seen early Sunday morning in Boland Hall, according to a Public Safety report. \\ One resident saw the man at about 1 a.m., but did not report the incident until five hours later, Public Safety Director Robert Robinson said.}

after student's delayed report

The Syracuse University student said she did not contact Public Safety earlier because she did not Safety earher because she know how, Robinson said.

The only thing about this incident that disturbs me is the student didn't know how to call Public Safedidnt know how to call pubic ty

In response to this concern, Public Safety officers will be going to the Brewster/Boland Complex to to the Brewster/Boland speak with resident advisors about informing students of safety procedures, Robinson said.
"All of us have to take some responsibility for ourselves," Robinson said. "If I don't know how to call the police. I need to learn.-
* Protesting sweatshop activities Friday, unidentified people placed posters and a T-shirt on the statues between the Shaffer Art Building and Bowne Hall.

If was not reported what was on the posters.

The posters and T-shirt may have been in relation to a naked bike ride hested Friday by members of the Student Coalition On Organized Iabor to protest sweatshops, Robinson said.

Robinson said the students had done nothing wrong or disruptive in their protests.
"We knew it was coming and I had no problem with it because that's what university life is all about," Robinson said. They were peaceful. I think we allowed them to express themselves. I applaud thern for their efforts."
- Alleging that a male student had violated SU's Nonconsensual Sexual Activity Policy, an SU stuwith the Office of Judicial Affairs ay with the Otfice of Judicial Affairs, acrding to a Public Safety report.
the Counseling Center said the incident occurred at an off-campus locntion, the report said.
The case is under investigation, the report added.
- While playing basketball Thursday in Archbold Gymnasium, an SU student was assaulted by arother student, according to a Public Safety reporth

The student's nose was broken when he or she was intentionally head-butted by an unidentified person, the report said.

SU Ambulance took the student to a local hospital for treat ment, the report added.

The case is being investigated by Public Safety oftials, the report said.

Recreation services could not be reached for comment.
- An unidentified person sent a number of suspicious emails to the SU Women's Athetic Department, according to a Public Safety report.

The e-mails all requested photos of an SU women's athletic team, the report said.

Fob Edson, associate director of the university's Department of Athletic Services, said he was not aware of the incident.

The case is being investigated, the report said.
- Two vehicles were damaged Monday in campus parking lots, acoording to a Public Safety report.

One student reported white scrapes on his or her car parked in the Manley Field House North Lat, the report said

Another student found a win dow broken on his or her car parked in the VAH parking lot near the Brewster/Botand Complex Nothing appeared to be missing from the car, the report said.

No further information is available at this time, the report said. SU Parking Services was not able to be reached for comment. Two other cars wene damaged Thursday in campus areas, accord ing to a Public Safety report. Pa rols discovered a car with a broke Hindow parked at Manley Field nissing from the vehicle, the repor said.
The second car, parked on the 100 block of Winding Ridge Road appeared to be damaged from a colision with another car, the repor said.
- An SU student reported a uspicious woman driving Sunday on Exclid Avenue in a dark blue Fonda Accord, according to a Pubbe Safety report.

The woman stopped to ask the student for money for her baby, how ever, the student said he did not see a baby, the report said.

The stadent advised the Syraouse Police Department of the incident, the report said.
- An intoxicated person passed out while riding the Centro bus from North to South Campus on Friday, according to a Public Safety report. SU Ambulance re sponded and took the intoxicated student to the SUY Health Center for treatment, the report said.

The student's case is being referred to Judicial Affairs, the report added.
winter being fired from his job n Bowne Hall, an employee deleted computer files in his department, according to a Public Safety report.

All of the files were restored Tharsday and Public Safety contin ues to investigate the incident, the report added.

Compiled by Asst. Netus Editor Tiffony Lanhes

\section*{Hip Hop Showcase}

\section*{EDGE}

Last show
With Lincoln Center about to undertake a massive, decade-long renovation, longtime renovation, longtime president Nathan Levenunced his announced his resigna tion, effective at Leventhal, 57, who Leventhal, 57 , who wil Center board memb Center board member said he had always full-time before he full-time before he turned 60 . Leventhal, Who was former New Lindsay's chief of staf and deputy mayor in and deputy mayor in tration before taking tration before taking 1984, said the time to turn over the helm was now, before the renove tion. During Leventhal's tenure, Lincoln Center remade itself from a relatively hide bound presenter of classical music in traditional for mats to a center of artistic innovation.

\section*{No thanks}

Voters should jusi say no to ballot initia tives that legalize smoking marijuana for medical reasons: They're bad medicine as well as bad legislation, argues James McDonough in the h \(\rightarrow \rightarrow\) upcoming issue of Policy Review, published by the Heritage Foundation.
McDonough, director of the Florida Office of notes that a number of the active ingredients in marijuana have demonstrated real potential for relieving such symptoms as pain, nausea and lack of appetite.

Now and Zen The golden B in the foyer of California's Hsi Lai indication of what makes this school different from others in the state. And if the statue doesn thow it the students' faces will. They come (20) from Korea, Thailand, Myanmar and China, as well as the United States. Just when Westerners are catching on to Buddhism's complex history - the Tibetan practice of the Dalai Lama isn't the same as the Zen of '60s songwriter Leonard Cohen - Hsi Lai expands the horizon.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"The memories of men are too frail a thread "o hang history from."
John Still

Sapna Kollati, editor 443-2128 life@daily orange.com

\section*{Labor laws prompt SU to question} sweatshops

I can see the American Eagle tag sticking out of his gray long-sleeve shirt as he shifts in his seat. I wonder Hinute and after up to the ceiling for says: "I don't think people should feel

His name is J.J. Butts, and he's a member of the Student Coalition on Organized Labor, one

Jane

\section*{Rushmore} carefree philosopher of the groups urging A. Shaw to join the Workers Rights Consortium.
"The apparel industry is dominated by sweatshops," he added. "Instead we have to change the companies, and we can only do that working as groups."

Syracuse University is currently a member of the Fair Labor Association t's inadequate in the fight against sweatshops because there are loopholes allowing companies to attach a "Sweat Free" label to their clothes when only a few of their factories have been inspected by supposedly independent accountine firms Contlict of interest? accounting firms. Conflict of interest?

Ya think?
Code of Conduct so when stronger Code of Conduct, so when it siys a company doesn't use sweatshops, you find unfair labor conditions, the government has the power to do something.

Among the universities that have signed on already are Michigan State York University, to name a few.

The problem of sweatshops is so widespread that people often feel that short of going naked, there really isn't anything they can do about it.

Butts is quick to note that SCOOL is not promoting a "boycott campaign.

Understandably so - if it were, we would probably have to boycott practically every store in the Carousel Center. The solution doesn't have to be that extreme. Our options are not that black and white, as Butts points out
"If you seek information, you're going to find out a lot more about yourelf and about the world you live in, he said. Look at the tag on your shirt oes it say union-made?

That's one simple step. I happen to think that even if your shirt isn't union-made, that doesn't mean you have to run out and return it. Just be aware of it, make informed decisions and realize what impact your extremes, just use the information to nake some practical changes you can live with.

Butts is a graduate student who ceaches Writing 105 and 205.

It upsets me most when students come into class with the idea that they are consumers," he said. "I'm not upset with the students, I'm upset with the people who told them that's what they should be.

He's got a point
I kept turning this matter over in my head. What can I do about sweatshops? I'm just one person, I can't It's too easy to sit back and think: er?"

\section*{JANE}
continued from page 9 That's complacency. Indifference is part of the problem. Be stubborn instead. Refuse to make the mistalse of believing that little differences make no difference.

That's a fallacy. Look at your credit card bill - proof that little things add up quickly.

If you want to start changing the way companies do things, another simple step is to stop by the table that SCOOL has set up in the Schine Student Center. Put your John Hancock on the petition - quick, easy, painless and productive.

Today there will be a mock sweatshop set up on the quad. Ask SCOOL members a few questions, engage them in conversation - they don't bite, and you will be surprised at what you can learn in just a minute or two.

There are vigils on campus every night at 8:30 p.m. on the steps of Hendricks Chapel. A half-hour of your time can make a big difference. This is a fight that the gtudents can actually win. Another universi ty is added to the WRC every day because of student activism; yesterday Cornell joined.

At the very least, have an opinion. Be informed. Realize that your decisions not only define you but give you power so put some thought into them.

Jane Rushmore is a junior magazine major. Her column appears Wednesdays. E-mail her at jrrushmo@syr.edu.

The Daily Orange

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{SUCondon Center Director Michael Woolf Presents "Lost Souls: The Literaturesof New York Jews, 1880 s -1960s? \\ \(\%\) \\ Wednesday, March 29 4:00 pm at the Schine Atrium, Room 227}

\section*{Reception follows at 5:00 pm}

Please join The Division of International Programs Abroad (DIPA) and Hillel, in welcoming Michael Woolf to Syracuse.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your tettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{ISU}
continued from page 9
A Cleveland native, Gottlieb says she has always been an active member in her Jewish community, even before she came to SU.

In high school, Gottlieb founded the school's first Is raeli Culture Club. She was also m member of B'nai Birith Youth Organization for four years and eventually became president of her local chapter.

Being president of B'na B'rith really made Judaism part of my identity, she said. "Judaism was no longer just a thing, it became a part of me."
to attend Gottlieb said lege to attend, Gottlieb said a deciding factor in choosing what school was best was the population of Jewish students on campus. SU fit the bill, as it is approximately 20 percent Jew ish, she said. She joined Hillel and ISU right away. She was elected to Cohen's board last January and decided to run for president to succeed him.

Her goals for the rest of her term include carrying out the traditions of bringing well known personalities, We actor and director Henry Winkler and cornedian Louis Black, to campus.

\section*{Girl power}

Four females, in addition to Peysakhovitch, comprise Gottlieb's executive board - Financial Vice Prestient Becky Klein, Communications Vice President Lisa Cohen, Administrative Vice President Elisa Margolius and Social Action Vice President Mara SilverSmith.

The board members have some ideas of their own to foster greater interest in JSU. As programming vice president, Peysakhovitch will likely oversee most of the new initiatives.

She has planned movie nights on the last Thursday of every month in the Hillel lounge in Hendricks Chapel and is currently organizing a Rock 'n' Bowl, Israeli dancing and a Holocaust week at the end of April.
"I believe that JSU is a service organization," said Sit-ver-Smith, a sophomore marketing major. "We have a responsibility to the SU community to hold programming that briags students together with service opportunities."

Silver-Smith, who served as financial vice president last year. promotes carnpus awareness of social causes from a Jewish perspective. She is currently working on a hunger banquet and is recruiting volunteers for the Comstock Kidfest.

Cohen, a sophomore architecture major, promotes the organization's activities on campus. She, too, said she was active in Jewish activities before arriving at SU, particularly Young Judea, a national Jewish youth Eroup, she said.

These past two years have been great for JSU, and I think that is due to a great bunch of dedicated students, both male and female," she said.

A general camaraderie among group members makes it easy to overlook gender and year labels, she said.

The Daily Orange
" think it's great that our board gets along so well and that we have so much in common," she said. "I didn't even realize it was all girls until someone brought it to my attention."

Margolius, a sophomore dietetics major, is in charge of organizing Kol Simcha, a choir, and Hakol, JSU's newspaper. She said that even though Hocks of new members join each semester, they feel at home right away.
"It's great to see so many new faces," she said. "JSU is like Cheers - it is a fun, friendly atmosphere where everyone knows your name."

\section*{INTERNSHIPS SUMMER 2000}

Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271

Rochester Area Students:

\section*{Move Closer to Your Degree...}

While You're Closer to Home.

Summer Classes Available In:
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Art & Music \\
Business Adminisfration/ & Philosophy \\
Management & Physics \\
Chemistry & Political Science \\
Education & Psychology \\
English & Religious Studies \\
History & Science \\
Health Science & Social Work \\
Italian & Sociology \\
Literature & Spanish \\
Math & Theatre Arts
\end{tabular}

Call our Office of Part-Time Enrollment Services for registration information: 1-800-441-0288/(716) 389-2050.

For direct access, visit our website and view a full listing and descriptions of Summer Session courses:
WWW.naz.edu/summer

\section*{Nazareth College}

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{STATESMEN} continued from page 16 SU goalie Robby Mulligan had a successful night, making 10 saves. His Hobart counterpart, James Murtha, made 11.

However, if it weren't for the strong play of Tim Byrnes and Chris Cercy in the faceoff circle, Syracuse would not have held possession as often as it did.

The Orange won 19 of 26 face-offs, losing only one of 10 in the second half.
"You really can't minimize the impact that a team with so many weapons like Syracuse has when they have the ability to continually ge the ball back." Hobart head coach B.J. O'Hara said. "It's almost like playing 'make it and take it.' in half-court bas ketball. They score, and they get the ball back."

The Syracuse defensive unit usedits size to wear down Hobart's smallerattackers, putting the 6 -foot, 200-pound Marshall Abrams on 5-foot-5, 140-pound Jared Bebee.

Bebee, a West Genesee High School alum and one of Hobart's leading scorers, was held pointless in his return to the Syracuse area. Penalties plagued the Statesmen (2-3), who racked up 30 minutes to Syracuse's seven. The Orangemen responded by scoring on four of its eight man-up opportunities.

Josh Coffman found Springer in front of the net for his second goal in the final two minutes of the first period, and O'Hara said the momentum permanently shifted to Syracuse.
poof right could hear a big 'poof right at the end of the period," the elder Statesman aid

Even Syracuse's defenders played a role on offense during the scoring spree. Junior defensive midfielder Joe Ceglia picked up a face-off and sprinted in from midfield to launcha Iongstick shot past Murtha.
"Ijust think we have better stick handlers on the defensive end this year," Ceglia said. "We all feel comfortable with the ball and we don't mind running up the field with it.

After taking a \(12-3\) halftime lead, Syracuse took it easy on Hobart, scoring only once in a thirdquarter that was even siower than the was

The highlight of the quarter was a nice display of ball movement from junior Pat Kennedy to Coffman to Powell, who netted his Eifth goal of the game for a 14-4 advantage.

The Orangemen look to remain undefeated Saturday at Brown, as Desko said he does not let perfection or the No. , ranking affect his team's \({ }^{\text {oOn goal }}\)
"Our goal is to go out and play like we're No. 20 and not No. 1 every game," Desko said. comfortable sitting on top.* Classified Advertising

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{C ome \\ 0 n, \\ N othing \\ \(\mathbf{N}\) ears \\ 0 ur \\ R'aging \\ S tyle}

L eave
E veryone
A nd
\(\mathbf{V}\) isit
I ncredible
\(\mathbf{N}\) ewspaper
G reatness
The Daily
Orange is now accepting applications for the position of Asst. Sports Editor.

Please submit a letter of intent to Editor In Chief Dave Levinthal by 5 p.m. today. 744 Ostrom Ave.

The Daily Orange
March 29, 2000
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

\section*{Out of Town}
by David Pollack

Rasputin Presents

Mr. Skizz

Eat the Lettuce

by Thane Benson

by J-Dog & Mariska
by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
14[classifieds]
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges afe PER ISSUE & are Pro-paid by:
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadine: 2pm 2 business days prior to run ADSARE HOTTAKEN BYY PHONE: Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daity Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenue;
Syracuse, NY 13210 Att Classifieds: Syracuse NY 13210: Att: Classilieds: OR Faxed witt Credit Card to:315-443-3689

\section*{Notices}

Summers Coming Lose that winter bulge. Doctor Recommanded 30 million have lost their weight! 1-888-789-2967

\section*{Autos}

1995 Explorer Sport 2 Door, 4 WD. White, tow package, 70k mites, new Goodyear AT/S tifes & brakes, Er, Very Clean, onginal onner. non-smoker Auto Armour Paint & R S10.500-BO 430-1 102

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Painters Wanted lor Summer. Work in University and surrounding areas. Start Mid April or Early Collegs Girss Wanted Ior Adult Internet Eusiness. Call 455-8723 Leave Message. have an amazing summert Prestigious coed amp in beauliful Mass. seeks caning. motivaled college students 8 grads who love kids! GENERAL dedicated. lun team. Competilive salaries + travel + room \(1-800-752-2820\) -800-762-2820.
ales/Markeling Rep: Enrn S150-S300/week
Working parr-time wihin your College communi you nave entrepreneutial spint ata seling tisciplined and commitled to succeed. Join our winning team! careers Ocampusgolobalnel.com
Camp Cournelors Top Overright Camps in ocono Mins. Over 40 activities-seeking specialist \(1-800.533\)-camp www .pineforestcamp com ull yeail summer nannies needed. Work with Frominant tamilies in New York and CI. Excelien oppotianities. Average salaries \($ 350-$ 500\) whk. ncludes room and board. Medical berrelits. Travel

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Pte-medical student wanted tor tuat-lime position a! busy medical odfice, while wailing to hear Itom al busy medical office, while waiting to hear Irom

University Banending Classes Stan Scon 1-800-U-CAN-MIX Gall For Iflormationl!!! AAA make \(S\) on the internet. Get in on the ground loor. We have the device. connection and 201-970-3780 5ted? Call 315-474-2326 201-970.3780 AMAZNG SUMMER at premier PA coed children's overnight camp. Energetic, enthusiastic. men o women wanted for all sports, activites, swim, and general Good Solary Fantastic Facility. Great experience. Inernships Available. Contact camp to senedule

No Biologists
No experience needed!! Earn up to 35 K after 1 yr 40K after 2 years IMS a biomedical sotware firm in week programming course. We hire \(90 \%\) of students who take this course.
Course starts \(6 / 1200\).

Course starts \(6 / 1200\). or detais sea irnsweb.com
or call ( 888 ) \(680-5057\)

Do you enjoy a challenge? Did you score exceptionally well on your SATs. GREs. MCATs GMATs. of LSATs? The Pricel ooking lor highly motivated individuals to teach tes preparation courses. Enrail your resuma 10 Suie Navarro at susannoreview.com or send it to The Princeton Review. 4498 Main St ., Suite Smyder, NY 14226 .

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst \\ No experience needed!!}

MS a biomedica! software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS, C, ++, JAVA, ACCESS, SYBASE and many other languages.
Knowledge of one computer programming language Paid OT required.
Paid OT and iull benes. Nice working conditions. \(3 S\) degree and 3.0+ GPA required. For details see imsweb.com or call toll-free (B88)680-5057.

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Child Care}

Babysinter Wanted. Singte Dad needs help with 68
B year ofd boys Monday atzernoons \(3: 30\) to \(5: 30\) pm, Wednestay mornings and every other Monday morning 6:45 to 8:15am, Watch them in my Jamesville home. Call Rick e.492-2110 for details.

\section*{Help Wanted}

\section*{S1500 weekly polential mailing our circulars. No} Experience Req.
BARN HELP NEEDED: Responsible individual with horse experience to care for smansibtarmette in Larayette. Feeding. stall care and turnout seven days a waek once a day. Pleaso call \(473-7146\) SFUNDRAISERS Open to student groups & rganizations. Eam \($ 5\) per MC appo. We supply all materiats at no tost. Call for into or visit our wwt.acmeoncepts.com HERBALIFE 1 l lost 31 pounds Click for products of extra Cash www.fitnslim.com

\section*{Roommates} Roommate wanted for fall semeater 2000 only in a 2 bedroom apartmention
Reasonably priced. \(476-2982\)

\section*{FOR RENT}

Univaraity Ave. Thtee Bedroom Ftal Close Watk to Campus turnished taundry parking laase \($ 875.00\) plus utilities D. . N.Drucker 445 -1229
4 Bdem House \($ 300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 bdrm liats \($ 250 \mathrm{~mm}\) Avail Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Really Group 637.5195

Univerrity and Comstock Very doso to Campus fumished laundry parking 5375.00 to 5700.00 Incudes All Ubitijes 445-1229 D.N. Drucker LId. 813 Coristod Across From Womens Gym. Al amenities. mid May lease \(52400+682 \cdot 3304\)

\section*{Five bedroom House}

Spacious five Bedroom completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE
CALL 430-5188
CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
The "Pink Palice" 5 Br, house adjacent to Ros Garden 721 Ostrom Ave. Bargain Rate. 446 -3693 Apartmenta coso to campus ciean 2-3-5 bedrooms some with ifrepince Lundry semitumished raasonable price 487-576

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers}

\section*{4-5-6 Bedroom} Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems
remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Two Bedroom Fall Semester 2000 Furnished. utitnies incluced, reaspnaky priced, \(476-2982\)
Univer
Universty nicely furnishad quiet \(1,2,3\) badroorns also 5 bedroom niccty lurnished house relarences
\(479-2642\) 478-2642
1-2.3 Bedroom Apartments, Beauiflul, Spacious, Oltsureat Paking. Fully Furnishad, Low Utilities. Sale, Ouiet, Close 476-0295
Adkerman Ave, 4 br 2Balh apt Fumished, 5/00-501 lease 446-7202
Westeott Euctid renovaled 3+4 bedroom avail 6/1 Westeoty Euctid renovaied 3+4 bedroom avail 6/1
\($ 650-$ 720\) FM parking \(\mathrm{D}, \mathrm{W}\) Pal \(263-3415\) 4Bedrooms, OaklandS1., 1Block ESF. 3Blocks Law+ Hospitask, tumished, parking, laundry,
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& \hline \text { UNIVERSITY } \\
& \text { HILL REALTY } \\
& 422-0709
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline  \\
\hline 成 \\
\hline \[
\underset{\text { sale secure }}{(.)(.) K}
\] \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Univeryity Ave. five bedroam House one bloct from Marshall Street lurished laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) p pus utitios QN.Oruckor \(445 \cdot 1229\)

KensingtonPlace istFloor large 3Bedroom Ig Livingroom Diningfloorm Modernkitchen hartwocdFlicors porcines nearBusline QuietNeighborohood avaiable June1st 2000-2c01 Call7am-90m 247-7851 or426-1884
Stop ciaan 3 bedroom apartimants Fizeplace, perking, loundry, sami-furnizhed, walk to SU, parking, leundry,
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
LOOK AT THIS! \\
Three Bedroom Apartment \\
Spacious thee Becroom, complitely turnished \\ apatmen! with porch. Living foorn with lireplace, Dining room. Kitetien and thees large \\ bedroms, and Eath Off street. garago parking Laundry tacility in buildang- \\
Fiva bedrom House \\
Spacious live Bedroom, completely furnished \\
House with trocnt and raar porches. Living \\
Hoom with firepalace. Eat-tin Kitchen WI
Hiom DISHWASHER and tive larpe bedrocms, and garage FREE Laundry lacitry in building. CALL 430-5189 after 1:00 pm
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Apartments
ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE
SPACIOUS, IDEAL, FOR ONE ORTWO
ERSONS. FREE HEAT, GR
LOCATION 476-9933
University 283 Bedroom JownHouses & Flats. Inexpenswe and mint condition. Washer/oryer.
Fireplace, inished basement. Call 449 - 101 .
*************************
Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577

FOUR BEDROOM
Fumished, Dishwasher, Two Porches, 476 2902

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Four Bedroom on Ackerman, Funished,
Oishwashar, Two Porches. Oif streel Parking. Laundry. Carpet Hardwood Fioors
Call Gordon 476-2982
2 Badroom furnished aparment with all utilities induded! \($ 240.00\) per person. Cne mile from \({ }_{4}^{\text {campus. }} 4\)
Large clean 3Bedroom llats Westion, Broad St aroa. Hardwod flioors, porchess, off-street parking 1yt lease secunty \(5660+446-8928\)

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Disfiwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across from Haven). (across from Haven.
Univerily Areasts 479-5005

One Betroom hoprtrpints Ciose to Carripus,

1,1/2 Bedroom attic apartment on quiet streat Unfurrished. Air condiboned wall to wall carpot new tune 1st 5350.00 per monih plus utilities. One yearlease. No Pels 243-0754
1,2,3,4 s Edrm Aparments, Houses+ Studios clean, Spacious, Supenior Concition, sone parking 474-6791

\section*{Two Bedroom Apartments \\ Fumished, Hardwood Floors inc. \\  476-2982}

Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking disit
S.U. off street parking. Laundry. Call \(476-2982\). 502 Clerendon large clean 2Bedroom fizat handwood 640 incluces heat 446-8928

THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT,
EUCLID AVE. FREE HEAT
GREAT LOCATION 476-9933

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

1,2,3 and 4 Bedroom Apartments

302 Marshall S
604 Walnut Ave
621 Euclid Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Fumished, Laundry Maintenance and Managemen Wail to Wall Catpet and/or Refinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Eaths
University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Studio and Etficiency Apartments, furnished utilities induded, parking, laundry, nice size.
hardwood noors and carpet, \(476-2982\)

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEDROOMS
BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
CALI JOHN or JUDY
478-7548
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Euclid and \\ Ackerman Ave \\
2and 3 BR \\
Fully Furnished \\
DW, laundry \\
Parking, Pory \\
Beatuifil \\
Bontition \\
June & August lease \\
BenTupper \\
637-0978 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Looking lor a place to five? wrwhousing101 תel.
Frie rocmenave subblet istings with impressive skills and statistics. The 6-foot-3 junior scored 75 goals and posted 47 assists as a senior at Cincinnati Moeller High School.

Joining most other lacrosse programs in the nation would likely place Kennedy in the starting lineup.

But the SU veteran, whose father played at SU for Roy Simmons Sr. in the late 1960s, said fighting for preious minutes behind Ryan Powell, Mike Springer and Liam Banks rarely frustrates him.
"I've always wanted to come here," Kennedy said. "I always keep working hard. Then, when I get in a game, here's no frustration.

While lacrosse dominated Kennedy's pedigree, Kelley ook up the game as a sophomore in high school. He played lacrosse and football t Canton Community Colmidfielder.

Although he would need to accept a limited role as an Orangeman, Kelley became enchanted with SU's national prominence and tradition of 17 consecutive Final Fours.

When I was in junior college, we would go watch Syracuse play (Johns) Hopkins," he said. "Now I'm playng in those games. It's kind of a cool feeling.
kelley appeared in 12 of SU's 17 games last year yet drew only a few drops from he statistician's pen. No goals, no assists, lots of grunt work as a defensive midfield-\(\qquad\) But he said he enjoys the experience, trading the inner pain on the pine for the outward glory of SU's winning ways.
There's alot of cama raderie on this team," Kelley dedicated his year to earning spot on the Canadian National Team.

In addition to Woodley, the Orangemen were led by a bevy of weight throwers. Junior Alex Brown finished third in the shot put with a toss of \(52^{\prime} 3.75^{\prime \prime}\). Following suit, freshmen Tim Adrian and Steve Bedard placed 12 th and 18 th , respectively.

The first-year throwers also placed well in other events. Adrian took home a fifth-place finish in the discus with a mark of \(162^{\prime} 1^{\prime \prime}\) and was 18 th in the hammer Whrow with a mark of \(1322^{\prime}\). With bedard placing 13 th in freshmen look to make an said. "As a competitor, you want more minutes. But being able to play on this team is an honor."

The similar-sounding stories stretch past Kennedy and Kelley. Jason Januszkiewicz, a high school All-Americanthree years ago, scored just his second career goal at Towson last weekend.

And Wright, a sophomore from San Diego, Calif., scored his second career goal Tuesday after taking just two collegiate shots before the Yale game three weeks back.

Even Bob Rust, the SU sophomore stuck behind the nation's hottest goaltender, replaced Rob Mulligan for seven minutes and recorded three saves.

Both Kennedy and Kelley said they look ahead to these games as chances to log significant minutes on the field. But Desko said he en-impact in their first collegiate spring season.
This is a very strong group of throwers," assistant coach Candace Roberts said. We have a lot of freshmen that could be highly competitive. They needed some time to develop, and right now they are on the right track."

On the track is where the women achieved the most success, with senior Deniece Bell finishing second in the 400-meter hurdles behind the host school's Petagay Gayle.
58.81 time was one of the fastest of her career in the event, in which she qualified for the NCAA Champi onships last year.
oys seeing his reserves suc ceed outside practice as well "It's nice to get those gus experience in a game situation," he said. "I though play, and everybody played well.,

The duo, and likely host of others, could probably start for the bulk of the nation's Division I teams

Instead, they head back o practice this week to pre pare for No. 14 Brown this Saturday at Stevenson Field The reserves might relish their playing time for an in tant, but once the chatter ceturns, any ego trip will screech to a halt.
"It depends on the tem po of practice," Kelley said If the defense is playing well, someone will start talk ing, and then it will go back and forth. But it's not trash it's fun. It means everyone's playing well.

Distance runners Jennifer Moreau, Laura Murphy and Lindsay Willardalso fared well down south, as Willard paced the Orange women with a seventh-place finish in the 5,000-meter run.

After a week off, both teams will return to action on April 7 at the Duke Invitational.
"As a team, we have some really strong individuals," Schmidt said. "We don't have the numbers that we want bry we know where war trying to get to, and whin do weally well m . do really well."

\section*{[ClaSSifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

SumnerAve and LancastarAve three bedrooms partment also two bedroons semi turnished avail ble now call 445.1027

One bedroom studio apartment, very large, one lock from carpus, lots of coset space, urristhed, fall kicchen, full bath, parking
\($ 475 / \mathrm{mo}\) plus uils. \(423-0830\)

2 Bedrsom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Rooms Harthood Floors Avail June or Aug 446-5186

One Bedroom Apartments, $ome with 9 month leases. laundry quitat buiding, colose to campus. \(476-2982\)

3 Bedroom Modern Apartrment on Adkerman Averue. \($ 220.00\) per parson pliss utilites. FFree Laundry". Serious Sivdents Prelerted. No Pels. 254-4025
Three Eedroom Apartments, Two porches, dishwasther, fully furnished, of street parking

Furnished 2.5Bedrrom Houses' Apartments

204 Ostrom Efficiency One and 2sedroom Secume 8udg Laundry Parking Very Clean
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEbSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Apartment 4Br. 2full bath I.plate h.wood tloor Lroom diform powht tree laundry avaifable june/2000 walk toS. U. hospilals please call 446-1951
Ackerman Ave, nice 3bedroom Hat, furnished slove, relfig, laundry, fireplace, garage. Arail Junt 1st 448-4229 Large 3 bedroom. 2 Iull bath. Walking distance S.U. off street paríng. Laundry. Call 476 -2982.

2.3 Edrm Apter and 4 Bdrm House lor rent on aticess an 175.5 Murhal 5 St

Harrison Averules. Leases Com Walnul and 2000 Harrison Averules. Leases Commence tast Month and Security No Pets Alowed.
Graduates Prelerred Call 422.7755

\section*{Houses}

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES 476-9933

House For Rent 2 minutes from Main Campus
Sever Beds of street paring

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME} FEOURORFVEE BEDROOM HOUSE. FURHASHED GREAT PORCHES,

Charming English Tudor House on Comstock 6 Bedrooms. Fircplace, across from Womens Bldg
Avail \(5720475 \cdot 1012\), ( \(\mathbf{4 3}\) ) \(514-381\)

\section*{Summer Rentals}

\section*{Sumper Bargain! $200/mo per person with all utitives induded \(2,3+4\) bedroom aparments} utifites induded \(\mathbf{2 , 3 + 4}\) bedroom aparments avalable. Fent whole apatiment or by the room.

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

\section*{}

Misc
F NOTE FRIOM THE DAILY ORANGE: As ahways, please use caution whent replying or being replied frem any adverisemont in gach issue, fop The Daily Orange doess not take responsibility tor any misconduca resesting in con-

\section*{NOTES}

\section*{STX/USILA Top 20} Men's Lacrosse Poll Virginia
Loyola
Princeton
Duke
Maryland
Georgetown North Carolina Navy
10. Johns Hopkins
11. Cornell
12. Hofstra
13. Harvard
14. Brown
- Massachurne
17. Dessachusetts
18. Bucknell
19. UMBC
20. Yale

SU basketball coach Jim Boeheim was awarded of the Year Award on Tuesday

Boeheim led SU to 19 onsecutive victories to begin the season. The Orangemen finished with a 26-6 record after bowing out to Michigan State in he regional semifinals the regursday.

Other finalists were Howie Dickenman of Central Connecticut State, Duke's Mike Krzyzewsk Mike Montgomery of Stanford and Arizona's Lute Olson.

Previous winners include Clem Haskins of Minnesota, Jirn Phelan of Mount St. Mary's and Ohio State's Jim O'Brien.

\section*{John Wooden All-}

\section*{Americans}

Mateen Cleaves PG Michigan Srate
Morris Petersion SF
Michigan State
A.J. Guyton P

Indiana
Mark Madsen \(P\)
Stanford
Chris Carrawell SF
Duke
Kenyon Martin
Cincinnati
Marcus Fize lowa State
Chris Mih
Texas
Shane Battier
Shane Battie
Troy M
Troy Murphy
Notre Dame
Verdict: Trial delayed
The criminal trial of two The criminal trial of two North Carolina basketball players has been post poned. nixing a conflict it al ohampionship same. Ed Cota and Terrence Newby were set to face Neial Monday - the day the championship - for charges stemming from Halloween-night brawl. But the Tar Heels, who face Florida in the Final Four, will have the two point guards, whose trial was postponed for the fourth time.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who holds the college lacrosse record for assists over a career? yesterday'这 trivia: Q. Who was the lowest seed ever to win the NCAA Toumament? A. Villanova won the Big Dance as a No. 8 seed in 1985. \\ \section*{[sports]} \\ \section*{[sports]}

Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 29, 200016

\section*{SU pounds Statesmen}

\section*{BY JASON REMILLARD} Staff Writer

A group of face-painted, sign-carrying Hobart lacrosse fans entered the Carrier Dome with about four minutes to go inthe first quarter Tuesday night.
They arrived just in time to see the Syracuse Orangemen begin a scoring barrage that probably made them wish they hadn't made the trip from Geneva.

The nation's No. 1 team racked up 10 unanswered goals in the first half, including eight in the second quarter, to take a 0-1 lead on 18 -6 victory over the visiting Statesmen.
"I think we got some confidence from hat, SU head coach John Desko said. not to make that mistake to give the other ot the lead. We were able to break open for two or three goals that kind of fueled the fire."

Senior attackman Ryan Powell showed why he is one of the nation's premiere offensive players, tying career highs withsix goals and 10 points.

The All-American scored Syracuse 9 ats two goals after Hobart jumped out to \(1-0\) lead. Powell said the pair of goals gave him the confidence to take over the game.
because our offense is so good this year, it opens a lot of things upfor me, Powell said. "I had a couple nice ceeds and I got off to a good start.
"Two quick goals, good off the bat. When I do that, I usually have a good game."

But Powell was not the only Orangeman marching in the goal parade. Sophomore Michael Springer scored three of his angemen in all found the back of the net.
Syracuse took advantage of its quickess and got to the net often, firing 53 nhots to Hobart's 29.

Despite his lack of work in the cage,

usa tasw
 SU balclups shined in the second half of a 18-6 win over Hobart.

\section*{Syracuse reserves star in blowout win}

BY DAVE CURTIS
Sports Editor
Not long into the intrasquad scrimmages at Syracuse lacrosse practice, the yapping commences.
dhe boysin the orange and blue jerseys spew vermenting on and forth, commeck and fumbled pans

The chatter pass.
on, \(S U\) defensive midfielder nign, SU defensive midfielder serves to fire up the reserves battling the more talented starting unit.

Most weekends, the subs stand on the sidelines as ex tras in another winning SU plot. But in victories such as the 18-6 triumph over Hobart on Tuesday night at the Carrier Dome, a handful of littleused Orangemen get to steal the accolades.
This is a game you can build off of," said Kelley, a se nior reserve "You getmore

See BENCH page 15

\section*{Schmidt, Hicks take first place at Alabama Relays}

Whether indoor or outdoor, Syracuse University's track standouts continue to win.

In the Orange's first outdoor meet of the season last weekend, seniors Cheree Hicks and Sarah Schmidt claimed ictory at the Alabama Relays in Tuscaloosa.

Hicks finished first in the discus with a toss of \(183^{\prime} 1^{\prime \prime}\). which provisionally qualified her for the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the event.

Earlier this month, Hicks garnered All-America honora in the shot putat the NCAA Faydoor Championships in ished second in the event hehind UCLA's Seilala Sus with hing tose of \(55^{\prime} 7^{\circ}\)

The meet marked Hicks highegt finish at an NCAA championship event and solidified her fifth career All-America spot.

But Hicks continues to preach that the discus is her best event, and she intends on proving that this spring.

The shot isn't my concentration, discus is definitely my want to win a national championship, and with it being my ast year, I just want to go all Schmidt's success came in the 10,000 -meter run, as she inished with a time of 37:30.78 to beat out the rest of the field. The San Diego native also was the top performer for the Orange during this year's cross country campaign.

See RIEET page 15

\section*{Assembly divided on merger}

Alliance sparks \(S G A\) debate, UU members remain hesitant BY John arweiler
Staff Writer
A proposed merger of the Student Government Association with University Union has members of both organizations taking sides.

SGA Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor proposed the merger to the Assembly on Monday night in hopes of securing a majority vote. Assembly members, however, decided to postpone the vote until they could solicit more tudent response.
The merger would result in the Student Association, a student government with programming powers, said Lisa Stone, UU president.

It would devolve the UU in name, and make it a part of SGA, said Stone, a junior television, radio and film major. It would continue programming and act as advisors to the finance board.-

The experience of UU in bringing programs to Syracuse University would be valuable to other student organizations, said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture major. Its advice could bring efficient budgets and event planning. he added.

Sixty-five percent of the SGA budget goes to the UU, Taylor said.

Currentiy, organizations that want to bring programming to the university have to go through U Gor president.

This would create a one-stop center for students." said James, a junior musical theater major.

The merger, however, would create a structure of inherent confict of interest, Stone said.

Taylor refutes this by saying the current proposal would keep the SGA Finance Board and the UU programming board autonomous. The programming board See MERGER page 8

\section*{Special Reports}

\section*{Church groups help needy}

\section*{Welfare provisions directly fund faith-based charities}

BY HOLLY AUER Éditorial Editor

As the nation's welfare rolls plummet Republican presidential candidate George W. Bush is banking on faith-based organizations to heal those who remain in poverty.

The Texas governor put welfare reform high on his campaign agenda, calling for states to mobilize charities, churches, synagogues and community mentors to "save and change lives," said Scott McClellan, a Bush spokesrnan.

See Special Report on Page 3

The "Charitable Choice provision, a key feature of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, guaranteed faith-based organzations the right to compete with secular groups for block grants provided by state and local social service agencies.
"We encourage all local social services to use the resources of any local organization if it can help our state's people leave welfare behind," said Jack Madden, a spokesman for the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance. "And it doesn't matter would ber Bush's welfare plan, federal resources what religion runs the program, as long as they all groups, instead of state bureaucracies, he said.

Bus, instead of state bureaucracies, he said.
See FAITH page 6

Mombers of the Graduato Student Organization vote

■ Graduate Affairs
Unopposed Carter wins presidency

\section*{by nick serrano} Staff Writer

The Gradunte Student Organization Senate chose a new executive board Wednesday night, electing Francine Carter president of the body for next year.

Carter, who is in her second year as GSO comptroller, ran unopposed for the presidency and received a majority of the present senators' votes, winning 17-4
"My determination I think is the most important thing," said Carter, n chemistry student. "If the Senate wants something, I will work hard and keep working to make sure it gets done. I com mit 110 percent to the job."

Carter joined GSO as a senator four years ago. During her first two years, she

See ELECTIONS page 10

\section*{- Police Reports:}

Car vandalized on Livingston

Staff Reports
A Syracuse University senior reported Friday several items missing from his car, according to police reparts.

An unidentified person stole a Toshida laptop computer, retractable car hatchback cover, Panasonic camcorder and 50 compact discs from the 1994 Mitsubishi, the report said.

The passenger side window was smashed on the car that was parked on the 700 block of Livingston Av enue, the report added.

There are no suspects, the report said.

Though the victim called the police at \(11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\)., they did not ar rive untilmidnight, said

See COPS page 7

\section*{University offices honor women}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff writer
Women played a role in the most important events in the na tion's history, said Francis Parks, Keynote speaker at the Syracuse Awards Reception on Wednesday Award night.
This tradition survives in the re cipients of these awards. Parks said.
the Office of Greek Life presented the awards for the recipients contri butions of energy, individuality and leadership to their organizations and the university as a whole.

The nomination forms were com pleted by all kinds of people at SU said Kara Perkins, a graduate stu dent in cultural foundations of edu committ a The forms asked

See WOMEN page 6

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
\(\square\) The SU Objectivist philosophyclub hosts a table in Schine Student Center to distribute information regarding their organization.

The Kappa Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority hosts a workshop on Depression and Rape Awareness, featuring the Syracuse University Rape Center, at 7 p.m. in Schine Student Center, Room 302.

Career Exploration Services presents "Working for the Peace Corps: Letters to Home from \(3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). to 4 p. in Home from 3 p.m. to 4 P.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room also host a pre-law event for jualso host a pre-law event for juniors applying next year and niors applying next year and for seniors who will apply as alumni from 7 p.m. to 8:30 pomm 207.
- The Shoddy Puppet Company presents three plays, megininingatk Fome Gallery at \({ }_{2223}\) E. Genesee St. The company is a political puppet theater group from Philadelphia. Admission to the event is free of charge. For more information call Brain at 423-4783.

\title{
Court stops student prayer \\ At issue is a Texas school would protect an alaming number of exotic animals being kept as pets, many of them sold out of marty of them sold out of car turks as cubs and ments arot back yards when they grow too big.
}

\section*{'N Sync's new} album tops charts

If the Backstreet Boys proved that a boy band's mega as the first, ' \(N\) Sync advances the Sync advances the Strings Altached" (Jive/Zomba Records).

It has been two years since 'N Sync's debut alburn hit the charts - a time when it jurmped tabels, severing ties from the boy-band factory that the boyband factory that spawned it

That kind of selfermpowement is reflected in the anti-puppet angle of the title and cover art. the giddy greed of the Johnny Kemp of the Johnny Kernp cover.

\section*{Scientists find new planets \\ WASHINGTON D.C. - \\ Census invades personal privacy} Astronomers have found the smallest planets yet beyond our solar system, a step that bolsolar system, a step that bolsters the view that even smaller, sters the view that even smaller, Earth-sized planets also will be detected around distant stars.

The newly found planets are about the size of Saturn While still large by Earth standards, they are substantially less massive than the 30 or so planets already found orbiting sun-like stars elsewhere in our galaxy.
R. Paul Butler, a scientist at the Carnegie Institution of the planet-hunting team, said previously found planets beyond our solar system have been about the size of Jupiter, roughly 300 Earth masses, or larger. The newly found "extrasolar planets are 70 to 80 Earth masses, he said

Butler and his colleagues, reported their latest results at a NASA briefing Wednesday. They have been using the Keck Telescope in Hawaii to look for stars caused by the gravitational tug of unseen planets.

\section*{Haitian drugs flood U.S.}

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti Increasingly lawless, corrupt and poor, Haiti has become pivotal to a multibillion-dollar business in cocaine, according to sources here and law enforcement officials in and law enforcem

They say a Haitian pipeline is flooding the United States with the drug, even as the narcotic further corrodes this island nation's society, its economy and its few society, its economy and government institutions.

Through sophisticated and wealthy local smuggling organizations that are quickly becoming a government estimates, more than

WASHINGTON, D.C.The movement for student-led prayers in public schools appeared to run into a solid wall of on Wednesday.

Nearly 40 years ago, the court said that the principle of requires a ban on organized prayers in public schools. During oral arguments Wednesday, most of the justices indicated that they are wary of retreating from that rule and allowing a student body to vote on whether to have a prayer at school events.
board's policy that permits students to elect one person to deanother solemn message at another solemn message at football games.

Christian conservatives matter of free speech. The idea has spread throughout the South and won the approval of some federal judges.
filed a brief wov. George W. Bush Court endorsing student-led prayer and John Cornyn, the states attorney general, de Joined by Justice John Paul Stevens, a clear majority suggested that the student-lede prayer policy crossed the Over the last decade, the Supreme Court and the Clinton administration have stressed that prayer and religious expression are not banned entirely from sion are not banned entirely from schools. Students can pray on their own or with friends at lunch time or in ciub meetings. Religion can be studied as a subject.

\section*{national news}

WASHINGTON, D.C.Some conservative Republicans in Congress, including Senate GOP leader Trent Lott, are telling people not to answer any questions on their census forms that they believe invade their privacy.

Conservative members of Congress say they have received hundreds of angry calls from oters who recer ed the 5 question long forms this month. the long form. Majority Leader Lott (Miss.) strongly urges peoLott (Miss.) strongly urges people to fill out the basic census nzormation, spokesman John if people feel their privacy is being invaded by those [additionall questions, they can choose not to answer those questions."

The Census Bureau has received complaints for decades about questions such as those asking people what time they leave for work or how many bathrooms they have. But this is the first recent count that political leaders have attacked while the tally is in progress

\section*{world news}

\section*{Attorney generals net debated funds}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Republican state attorneys general are soliciting large contributions from corporations that to avert - lawsuits by states.

The Republican Attorneys General Association expects to collect \($ 550,000\) - in chunks of \($ 5,000\) and up - from various companies gathered in Austin for a two-day session beginning today. The meeting features a "political briefing" Friday morning by Karl Rove, Texas Gov George W. Bush's chief political strategist.

Mernbership in RAGA costs anywhere from \($ 5,000\) to \($ 25,000\), with increasing levels of access to the attorneys general depending on the donation Microsoft Corp., which is being sued by 19 states that have sued by 19 states that have joined a Justice Department antitrust lawsuit, contributed \($ 10,000\) last year, according to company spokesman Rick Miller. Telecommunications riant SBC Communications Inc whose acquisition of Ameritech Corp. was facing review by state officials, says it contributed \($ 35,000\).

135 tons of Colombian cocaine have transited Haiti en route to the United States in the last two years.

At the same time, tens of millions of dollars in cash profits from U.S. sales are flowing back to and through Haiti's unregulated economy, some are headed to drug barons in Central America and Colombia but the rest now enriching an entire class of nou-Females seek end to mutilation
Women from one Senegalese village visit neighboring communities, urging them to abandon female genital cutting. In the mountains of Guinea, village excisors lay down their knives in public renunciation of their traditiona who And in Egypt, individuals practice, quietly defying tradi tion, learn that they are not alone.

The World Health Organization estimates that more than 130 million women and girls have been subjected to female genital cutting. Female genital cutting - also called female circumcision or excision - refers to a range of procedures in which the female genitalia is cut or altered. Although talia is cut or altered. Although practiced primarily in Africa, female genital cutting also exfemale genital cutting also exists in parts of Asia and the Near East.

T The SU Soling Program, a project-orientated, academic program, hosts an open house from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. The program is a three-credit elective in Arts and Sciences open to all undergraduates of all majors and years. For more information call 443-3133. mation call 443-3133.
- The Career Development Center presents "Interview Etiquette," a workshop, from 6 p.m. to 7
> - Al-Anon meets at noon in Schine, Room 233 .
> \(\square\) Nancy Kolb of the Vera House Foundation speaks at 7 p.m. in the Maxwell Auditorimestic violence.

\section*{TODAY-FRIDAY}

Comedians Jim Carroll and Dave Cooperman perform dy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse. There will be an additional show at \(10: 30\) p.m. For admission information call 474-0969.

To make a contribution to campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyorange. com.
[d.a]
The Daily Orante is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's acadernte year by The Daily Oranse Corp. The DO is distributed on eampus with the first is distributed on campus with the firs five coples complemenca additional arpy custs \($ 1\).

Management 443 -9798
\(\begin{array}{ll} \\ \text { Buspernenct } & 443-9798 \\ 443-2314\end{array}\)
\(\begin{array}{lll}\text { News } & 443-2314 \\ 443-2127\end{array}\)
Lifestyle \(443-2128\)
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Sproes } & 443-2208\end{array}\)
\(\begin{aligned} & \\ & \text { Phocography } 443-9795 \\ & \text { Arx } 443-5938\end{aligned}\)
E-mail editorialodailyorange.cum
E-mail ediorial Olatine wwordailyorange.com

By HOLIY AUER Editorial Ectitor

Sean Gaw reaches out to the commuity through a pane of bulletproof glass

As a full-time FrancisCorps vol unteer at Syracuses Downtown Emergency Assisty graduate doles out food, clothing and adice to city residents in financial crisis.

Gaw and four ot her volunteers who logether in a house on the city's North Side are the helping hands behind FrartisCorps' maiden voyage. Sponsored by the Franciscan order of the Roman Catholic church, the program is tailored for recent college graduates, who give a year of service to area Catholic Charities programs in exchange for housing and food.

Catholic Charities, a faith-based, not-or-profit organization, utilizes state funds from the federal 1996 Welfare Act's Charitable Choice provision to augment local social services.

FrancisCorps is one of hundreds of small, faith-backed programs ministering to the poor across the nation. The program is he brainchild of Franciscan Brother Jim Moore, who splits his time between coordirating Francis Corps and serving as assisant director of SU's Alibrandi Catholic

Moore, who came to SU after a stint at Catholic University of America in WashCatholic University of America in Washington, D.C., structured the program to weave together two goals; performing "good Catholic social work and building a strong

Gaw and hi
Gaw and his four counterparts atie Heather, Ann Searle, Mel Maykuth Mike Huynh - donate their volunteer eforts to the Northside Catholic Youth Organization, the Salina Civic Center and the Dorothy Day House for battered women.

In return for each volunteer's 40-hour work week at one of the charities, they each receive \($ 70\) a month for food and \($ 85\) month for personal items, as well as a stipend of about \($ 3,000\) at the end of the year. During their time in the program, Syracuse Catholic Charities also pays for rent, utilities, local phone bill and basic health insurance.

On an unusually warm February afternoon, business is slow at the Downtown FrancisCorps member Mike Huynh (far fight) devises a game plan with his Northside cYo fast Saturday afternoon. Along with four other young volunteers, Huynh has dedicated a year of service to the Catholic church-sponsored FrancisCorps.

Emergency Assistance Center. Only a few people straggle through the doors to fill plastic shopping bags with bread before continuing down the street.

But on any given day, as many as 100 such needy families visit Gaw at the cen ter, 264 E. Onondaga St., looking for additional food to tide them over until the next batch of stamps arrive.

A woman steps through the center's front door and wipes the mud from her tattered Nike shoes on a rubber mat. surveybaked goods in front of her she shakes off her purple suede jacket and moves toward her purple suede jacket and moves toward She fishes a packet of
She fishes a packet of Social Security through a hole near the botiom of the bul letproof glass window.

Gaw flips quickly through the cards and punches a series of numbers into a computer. Sidestepping to a row of file cabinets, he retrieves a worn folder and nods his head.
"What can we help you with today?" Gaw asks.
"Well, I really need some food for my kids," she says. "They've been home from school for vacation all week, and it has just Geally hard, you know?"
Gaw nods again, clicking his pen a few times.

He shuffles the stack of papers on the desk and rattles through a list of questions. Address? Does she have a phone at her 32 -year-ald Source of income? Elizabeth, a test like she has done many times before

This is her 20th visit to the center in six years.
Elizabeth has no job. But she receives \($ 421\) in food stamps each month, and state vouchers cover her \($ 700\) monthly rent and utilities.

In Onondaga County, 8,948 households received food stamps in 1999, said Robert Wadsworth, the county's assistant director of income maintenance. Roughly half of those households also collected cash we?fare benefits.

But Elizabeth visits the center almost as often as the rules allow - once every three months - to take home a few sacks of food to her family

Gaw ushers Elizabeth back to the waiting room, where clients must wait while their packages are prepared. He retreats to the food pantry in the rear of the shelter and

See FRANCIS page 4

\section*{SOS mentors reach out to community children \\ By holly au} ditorial Editor
Every Saturday afternoon, 8-year-old Samora Retela has a little fun - college style.
e Pbrcy Hughes Magnet school hird-grader visits the Syracuse UniversiHin to participate in the international Children's Project, where he studies math, surfs the Web and climbs on the jungle gym.
The ICP is part of Students Offering Service, an organization run out of the interdenominational Hendricks Chapel. It was founded by students hoping to provide more community service after the

Although the SOS runs about Athough the erval Children's Project that really helpe the proup make their mark in the commuity, said Angela Hatcher, SOS's assistant director.
"I love going there," Samora Retela said. "It's not at all like at school, where I sometirnes get bored. There's always something fun on Saturdays.

He said he is especially fond of visiting the computer clusters on campus where he has his own system password sites.

The ICP unites student volunteers with international children through a Saturday morning mentoring program in the Alibrandi Catholic Center. Although the children in the group vary in nationality from Haitian to Libyan to South African, the ICP volunteers celebrate this diversity through holiday observances, food tastings and language education programs.

Community volunteers in groups like the ICP are vital to creating strong bonds with needy children when traditional schools, teachers and social service agents are not available, said Deanna Carlson, author of The Welfare of My Neighbor: Living Out Christ's Love for ingly seek the aid of proups like the ICP to supplement traditional social service to supplement trad

Samora Retel
Samora Retela's mother, Dithole, a the ICP volunteers for providing her son

See MENTOR page 4

\section*{Onondaga County Public Assistance Statistics}
\begin{tabular}{ll|l|l|l}
& \begin{tabular}{l} Aid to \\ Dependent \\ Children
\end{tabular} & Total Medicaid & \begin{tabular}{l} Food Stamps \\
Program
\end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l}
Home Energy \\ Assist \\ Program
\end{tabular} \\
Jan. 1995 & 8,876 & 19,806 & 8,750 & 7,953 \\
Jan. 1996 & 8,274 & 21,549 & 9,344 & 7,208 \\
Jan. 1997 & 7,655 & 22,603 & 10,107 & 5,482 \\
Jan. 1998 & 6,749 & 22,606 & 9,290 & 5,337 \\
Jan. 1999 & 5,314 & 23,174 & 8,713 & 7,255 \\
Jan. 2000 & 4,350 & 23,638 & 8,542 & 5,639
\end{tabular}

Compiled by Special Projects Editor Joy Davia
Sourct: Ononepa County Depertment ol Social Services Cormivion Peport for Jeruery 2000

4 March 30, 2000

FRANCIS
continued from page 3
tosses soup, peanut butter, pie crusts and pasta into paper bags. He adds a bottle of laundry detergent, a tube of Crest toothpaste presents Elizabeth with four heaping sacks of food and toiletries.

She winces.
"I don't have a car," she says. "I can't carry it all. But I have squeeze most of it in."

After a brief consultation with another center employee, Elizabeth finds that the food can be put aside for her until tomorrow. She mumbles "thank you" and lumbers out the door, the three bulky packs strapped across three bulk

Gaw takes a seat and nips open Elizabeth's file. He sighs and stifles a laugh, noting a previous comment on the chart that refers to a lecture another center employee gave Elizabeth about ise spending of her food stamps.

Rocking backwards in his chair, Gaw reflects on his six month tenure at the center. He ad mits the time has been a crashcourse introduction to the social welfare system - a world very dif ferent from the one he grew up in.

My mom and dad went to work every day," he says. "That was how you got by. I never knew anything about public assistance programs. I thought you just had to work to earn your keep."

The Syracuse area - which is also the site where the first U.S. Franciscan settlement cropped up after immigration from Europe several hundred years ago - provided the perfect opportunity to begin the Francisopportunity to beg
"There's a need right here," Moore said. "We decided to use history to light the way for the program."
Catholic Charities whited with Catholic Charities - which he said "drooled" over his initial pro-posal- during the summer of 1998, the program began to take shape. Syracuse Catholic Chariprograms, relies heavily on volunprograms, relies heavily on volunyear's \($ 14\) million budget.

Moore attended recruiting fairs at colleges nationwide to soicit prospective FracisCorps vol unteers. Eventually, he whittled the applicant pool down to Gaw and four other graduates from the University of Notre Dame, St Marys College, the State UniverFairfield University.

The North Side of Syracuse, home of the FrancisCorps voluneer house, is plagued by a diverse, new poor, Moore said. Poverty stricken Vietnamese, Hmong whites live near the house, Moore Inspired by the work of St.

Inspired by the work of St of animals and ecology, and St. Clare, a crusader tor the poor Moare said he hoped FrancisCorps Moore said he hoped FrancisCorps would benefit both poor city residents and the volunteers.
"Francis and Clare changed the world of their day by setting an example of service and living out replicate that experience here in Moore said he is proud of the steps the first crew of FrancisCorps volunteers has taken to build a faith community within their home, a two-family house tucked into the poor neighborhoods of the North Side. The volunteers pray together once.each day, either through song, readings or other worship techniques. They try to share at least one meal together daily.

Wednesday nights serve as a designated "community night," with Moore to have dinner, hold a discussion, go on a social outing or watch a movie. Moore said the evenings allow volunteers to work through any personal or professional issues with the help of "a little Franciscan twist."

The faith community within the FrancisCorps house, Moore said, allows the volun teers to address some of the sad ness and frustration they some times feel in working with the poor. For instance, several of the volunteers report struggling to accept the harsh family and economic circumstances the chil dren they work with face.
"Sometimes, there's nothing you can do but pray about a situation," he said. "Use your spiritual energy. Vent it, get it out there - the community support ensures that will happen, since it allows them to share their experiences in an unconditionally accepting enviromment.

The integration of FrancisCorps' spiritual and practical components sets it apart from other volunteer programs like the Peace Corps or Americorps. The group's faith community, Moore said, is the key to its uniqueness. The faith community takes on a number of forms, including daily prayer, song, Sunday mass attendance or service projects within the community.

Over the year, they somehow become changed people, and their whole value system is never the same again," he said. "The poor are the ones that teach them. much richer."

Ann Searle prances around her living room wearing a pair of fringed, knee-high, purple suede boots - her gag birthday gift from her roommates. Mel Maykuth

Mel Maykuth has baked a chocolate cake to celebrate the occasion. All five roommates are home this evening -a rarity, says few friends from St. Francis Farm few friends from St. Francis Farm, a Catholic work farm in near

A phone rings, and Gaw ru A phone rings, and Gaw runs their stipends cover the phone expenses, most modern conve penses, most modern convehouse, located amidst the North Side. But the FrancisCorps volun-

But the Francis Corps volun all part of the plan.
all part of the pian. "We wanted as much solidarity with the neighbornood as possible, Whaykuth says. no one can afford a computer, let alone an Internet compection."

A tiny bankroll, however, has not kept the group from finding

Total cases of Temporary Aid for Needy Families (TANF) in New York State fun in everyday activities. They check out free wine tastings at a local liquor store on weekends, paw through the racks in the St Vincent DePaul thrift store on \($ 1\) ice cream deals on the she out \($ 1\) ice cream deals on the shelves In the Northway Surplus market. stacks of stacks Crayolas, lef overs from a recent candleject.

to have our own definition of simplicity," says Anne with a laugh, grabbing a pair of knitting needles
ting needles
and a navy blue slipper
from the floor.
\(\mathbf{f}_{\text {My mom }}\) and dad went to work every day. That was how you got by. I never knew anything about public assistance programs. I thought you just had to work to earn your keep. service.

\section*{SEAN GAW}

1999 SU graduate and FrancisCorps volunteer that prayer and worship is only a small component of their year of

None of the volunteers work as a religious educator, but they say their faith constantly plays into the daily work. The group says they seek to embody the FrancisCorps motto -- "Preach the Gospel. If necessary, use words." they do. striving for is that striving for is that spirituality is so spirituality is so much a part of us much a part of us that we dont need other parts of our other parts of our lives, "It's a given and a "It's a given and a talk about it as talk about it as much as you'd think, but it's certainly at the foretainly at the forefront of our lives. We really wanted We really wanted to put our faith been here, ed knitting, crocheting and baking. \({ }^{\text {ed }}\)

And their simple living arrangement allows for greater Commonality with their North Side neighbors, Gaw said.
"I see people walking down Lodi Street with their bags of groceries, and really makes me feel he says. "It makes me glad I'm he says. "It makes me glad I'm walking too, and not driving,"

The birthday celebrat windles and the FrancisCorps dwindles and the FrancisCorps volunteers offer their friends a tour of their spartan household.

In the center of the second floor lies the community worship space, where the group performs the daily prayer and any other religious rites in the house. A ring of ceramic people clasped hands around a candle on the floor. Sev. eral pillows are strewn about on the Oriental rug.

While the entiregroup shares tholicism as their common bond, they are quick to caution to put our nto action."
The volunteers admit they sometimes struggle to define their roles as young al and secular society Each of al and secular society. Each of them has their own misgivings or questions about various strict tive use abortion the ordainin of women and capital punishment But being able to discuss the is. sues within their own special community helps enlightem ers reparding tourb topics ers regarding tough topics, Maykuth says.
hared values because more shared values because of our strong community in the house, to the Bible and say We well go says this, so that's how we'll solve says the'

Searle pushes through a curship space and steps into her bedroom. She gestures at a wall filled with stickers, handmade posters and other mementos from her charges at the North Side Catholic Youth Organization's after-school program.
says.
She ta She takes a moment to look back-it has been a long road from her first day at the CYO to here, she says.

At first, I was intimidated, thinking they were these tough Searle says. "But then I started kids like all the rest, and they kids like all the rest, and they need kid - they just haven't potten enough of it so far" enough of it so far.

Later, sitting cross-legged in a circle on the parquet kitchen Aloor, the others become silent af ter pondering their thme as cisCorps members thus far.

The group says that their work - from Maykuth's househunting ventures with battered women in inhabitable apartments to Huynh's work coaching a soccer team of Bosnian and Vict namese children - has left an in elible impnint on their hearts
With the exception of Gaw, who plans a career in architecture, every current FrancisCorps volunteer hopes to pursue vocations related to social services, from med icine to

But regardless of where their career paths may lead them, the five young Franciscan volunteers ay they are certain of one thing their time on the streets of Syrause has helped them lik togeth er the pieces of their spiritual puzzles;

You have your faith, which you're really sure about in church, and then you have your work and your relationships," Searle said. That's really hard What better That s really hard the betce thay to show your laikh, like we do in than to love

Everything makes so much sense when your whole world has to do with faith \({ }^{\text {n }}\) willingness to work one-on-one with her son sets the volunteers apart from traditional educators, she added.

The volunteers are so magnificent, so grod," Dithole Retela said. They really have the kids at heart, and they really go out of \(r\) way for them.
The volunteers also help children complete homework assignments, and take them on trips to ocal museums Landmark Theater plays at the Landmark Theater
"We really strive to validate. each of thear unque cultures, fand Angela Hatcher, a child and

These kids are very bright. They amaze me. Some of them even speak several languages, and we really want to show them that each of them bring special talents

Working with the ICP chil dren has given Jamila Duniap, a senior social work major, a sense foprint on the life of local chil dren.
"It gives me an open mind," Dunlap said. "If these kids can

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{SGA crosses line with UU merger}

For years, the Student Government Association has struggled to define itself in the sea of other student groups dotting the campus. It hasn't had much success.

But it seems that now, SGA has a solid plan to make a name for itself In a quest for credibility, it plans to steal the identity of the most productive and well-known student group on campus: University Union.

Only two brave underclassmen Assemblymembers, David Gaulin and Adam Duffy, were willing to vocally oppose an impending vote to absorb UU. It meant standing up to five-year SGA member Jonathan M. Taylor at Monday's SGA meeting and convincing the Assernbly to postpone a merger vote.

Unfortunately, their voices may not be strong enough to halt SGA's runaway power trip.

UU is a well-organized group that brings exciting concerts, speakers and comedians to campus. It directs a television and radio station. It deserves its independence, free of the inept management that characterizes each SGA Assembly.

SGA, in contrast, is a laughable, poorly-run organization. It is unable to even attract enough students to fill its Assembly seats.

But SGA holds a powerful trump card the \($ 1.3\) million Student Activity Fee. And now, it wants to make a last-ditch effort to attach its name to something students care about. The unfortunate victim of its crusade is UU.

UU receives more money from the Student Fee budget than any other group on campus. And if SGA absorbed UU, the association could then allocate nearly a quarter of the Student Fee to itself - a clear conflict of interest.

Paired with its current toying with the powerful New York State Public Interest Research Group, SGA's efforts to eat up UU's independence doesn't say much for the sincerity of its "defender of the students" claim.

To truly defend students, SGA must put their interests before that of itself.

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levinthal Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lfestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Phatogrephy Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Ecitor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Spitfire tour fails to live up to advertising, hype}

All I heard was that Jello Biafra was speaking at the Schine Student Center on Sunday night. I was excited, but unprepared for what was in store.

The University Union Speaker's Board managed to make Syracuse University a stop on the "Spitfire Tour," a group of entertainers organized by Rage Against The Machine frontman Zack De La Rocha to tour college campuses and city venues on a speaking tour. Advertised as "the first ever package tour of musicians, actors and activists speaking out on global affairs, \({ }^{"}\) the Spitfire Tour was a little less than what it claimed.

Some legs of the tour have featured Zack De La Rocha, Ice-T, Woody Harrelson and Perry Farrell. Present at the Syry stop were ex-MTV video jockey Kennedy, comedian Andy Dick and former Dead Kennedy's frontman and Green Party presidential can-
THOMAS
HOBAN

\section*{didate Jello Biafra.}
to begin with because of the East Regional basketball tournament in town this weekend. I arrived at Schine amid herds of basketball fans who traversed from as far as Oklahoma and Florida. Entering the Goldstein Auditorium, I saw a huge banner above the stage announcing the presence of the Spitfire Tour, sponsored by colleges.com. Immediately I'm weary of any supposed "activism" that has a corporate sponsor. But, willing to let that slide, I took my seat as Kennedy began.
Known for being a young, female Republican in the entertainment industry, Kennedy explained how she came to her political views. The story basically amounted to the fact that she had liberal, ex-hippie parents, so in order for her to rebel she had to go con servative rather than liberal. Needless to say, the highlight of her speech was when ahe made a joke about snorting cocaine off of Kurt Loder's penis.
Kennedy continued to explain that one of her

Kennedy continued to explain that one of biggest political gripes was the decrepit Social Security syatem. Mincing many words and talking in Security sybtem. Mincing many words and talking in circles, it was painfully obvious that ahe just didn't circles, it was painfully obvioua that ahe just didn't know eractly what she was talking about. The obviousness became even more painful when, during the question and answer period, a steel worker's union organizer stepped up to the microphone and told her that she was trying to suggest that we privatize the Social Security system.
"No," she blurted, "I'm just saying we should let people invest that money however they want." First, that is privatization. Second, whos going to go teach working class people how to invest? rking class people how to invest?
Anyway, then Andy Dick took the stage. Slated to speak about his drug problem, Andy's statements pretty much ended with him advocating recreational drug use. It was a little confusing, but then he sang a funny song called Love Ninja," I decided it didn really \({ }^{\text {mairs. }}{ }^{n}\)

Finally, Jello Biafra gave a disjointed but commendable political speech. He began by discussing protest in Washington and ended with points from protest in Wreen Party presidential platform. Among his plans are a \($ 100,000\) wage cap, and a ballot reform that lets voters elect "none of the above."

The most annoying thing about the whole evening was that in between each speaker they played videos about activism. The clips were a random assortment of catchy-looking protest images set to rock music that served no point except to unnecessarily prolong the event.

Another big weals point was the question and answer period. Since moderator Micheall Franti was ill, Kennedy took up his position, but also participated in debate. Since almost all of the legitimate questions were directed at Jello Biafra, this just made the discussion frustrating and embarrassing for Kennedy, who kept chiming in when it was obvious no one had asked her anything.

The biggest thumbs down of the night goes to the kid who, just when the question and answer period was getting interesting, asked Jello Biarra if hed ever get back to kid look bad it visibly frustrated Biafra.

But despite these drawbacks, the evening was still worth it. If for nothing else it was inspiring when Jello Biafra said, "Dare to keep kids off drugs? When Jello Biafra said, buy your kid a new SUV for his sixteenth birthday?" The crowd erupted in cheers. Here, in what seems like the overgrown SUV capital of New York, it was at least a pleasant consolation to Spitfire's troubles.

Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and film and political science major. His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at

\section*{letters}

\section*{NYPIRG vote necessary to fairly spend student fee}

To the editor:
Frankly, my political views had no bearing in forwarding the NYPIRG referendum to the student body for vote.

Due to the 30 members of NYPIRG who attended Monday night, and the 900 or so students Who signed a petition, the referenyielded a majority of my time in debate to their representatives.

Since all students (and organizations) have the right to have their concerns heard at a meeting of the SGA Assembly, they were not only given that opportunity, but the issue was then redebated and revoted. Two weeks ago, the Assembly's decision was unanimous; Monday the vote was 13-1-1

We would not be having this discussion had 83 percent of the student body supported NYPIRG in the last election. Only 4 percent of the student body voted in last year's campus wide referendum. is not 83 percent.

The holding of a referendum and its current wording is legitimate under the contract authored last spring.

It is not NYPIRG's money, nor is it SGAs; it is the Student Activi atea. Let more than four percent of the student populous in referendum decide where \($ 70,000\) of it goes and how it gets there.

NYPIRG has successfully presented this as an end-all to their funding. This is inaccurate in that NYPIRG can request funds like ganizations funded through the gan

A fair budget process is an appropriate goal. The Assembly should not blamed if NYPIRG rules as everyone else.

\section*{The Dily Orange} \section*{FAITH}

continued from page 1
self-sufficient lives.
Few faith-basedgroups, however, are aware of the Chari table Choice provision, said Dean na Carlson, author of The Welfare of My Neighbor: Living Ou ist's Love for the Poor.
"The funding is there for so many wonderful programs," said Carlson, an adjunct scholar for We Family Rescarch Council, a Washington, D.C.-based advocacy group, "There's no need for more funding, but the word needs to get out so that it can be taken advantage of."

New York state reported that welfare rolls dropped 37 percent - a reduction of 605,730 cases - since 1995

With savings from the reduction in welfare cases, more grants are now offered to faith and com-munity-based organizations throvish the Charitable Choice provision, said Martha Lide, executive deputy commissioner of the Department of Social Services in Onondaga County.
Most local social service grants are tagged for use in specific areas, such as child care for families receiving Temporary Aid to Necdy Families, substance abuse counseling or transportation. But it is up to the counties and local state agencies to deverop a specific plan and parcel the funds out as they see fit, Lide said.

In Onondaga County, portions of these grants have been channeled toward various private, community-based organizations, ty Resource The county solicits ty Resources. The county solicits program ideas and community organizations may then submit their own plans for use of the money, Lide said

Syracuse Catholic Charities uses the Charitable Choice provision to obtain money for their Jobs Connections program, a spin-off of Congress welrare-to work legislation, said Joe OFara the organization s director of com munication and development

But with extra state fund-

\section*{WOMEN}

\section*{continued from page 1}
questions about the influence the respective nominee had on the nominator's life and the \(S U\) community, she added.

All of the winners, something about their nominations struck us," she said.

Parks, director of AfricanAmerican Programs and Students Offering Service, spoke seen roles of women in history during her address.
"In every historical period. women and girls haveparticipated with vigor and discipline in world history," Parks said. Women played significant sald. Women played significant sisters, as friends, as mothers."

Women have had a great effect on U.S. military history, although it is often only heard through journals or letters kept hidden in the closets and kept hidden in the closets and drawers of the women involved, Parks explained.
"I would suggest to you that women influenced the outcome of World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict, she said. "Men at war in different theaters of war, perhaps had their lives saved.

During World War II, women trained at the Tuskegee Institute in Alabanta to become part of the air corps, Parks said. The women there learned the same tasks as the men including how to fly airplanes and military tactics, she explained.

Parks encouraged members of the audience to find out more about women's history.
"If you as women, if you as men, if you as gentle people are just curious about women's lives at a different time, do please visit Seneca Falls," she said.

Sencen Falls was the site of the first women's rights convention, established in 1884 The convention was organized by Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott in response to ing, O'Hara said Catholic Charities could expand their Eastern European and Asian immigrant resettlement program, which currently provides job searches and .S. cultural education programs English-language tutoring programs and mentorine programs for immigrant children in ocal schools are other possible additions, he said

Faith-based organizations are best equipped to develop mentoring prozrams for children and mpoverished mothers, Carison aid. While governmental agen cies deal where prestares for taining welfare assistance. f.uith based groups can play an impor tant role in providing quality childcare and ceaching women with their fanily responsibilitio. with their family responsibilities. Social workers aren't paid to be around for these families 24 hours a dayt seven days a teek. she said -Thats where the riaith based groups can help they have an amazing ability to bulld strong relationships with the needy."
unequal treatment of women at an anti-slavery convention eight years earlier.

Parks urged the audience to celebrate the history of women, especially in March. which is Women's History Month.
"We need to remember the have precy of the women that \section*{The winners}

ORL and OGL honored each award winner witha print commemorating women's issues and historical achieve ments.

Tanya Ortiz, a freshman management major, won the undergraduate award.
"One of my first recallec. tions was on move-in day," said tions was on move-in day, said
Mary Triano, a Residence DiMector at Ortiz's residence hall. \({ }^{\text {rector }}\) What I remembered most of all What I remembered most of all was that this student was comforting her mother. forting her mother.
ecutive board of Boland the

Some critics, however, de nounce faith-based aid in fear that the organizations will prey on the poor and target them for onversion. But O"Hara said he is confident that reputable religious rganizations are only concerned with improving the quality of life in the community.
when the
Catholic Charities in invented Catholic Charities in 1923, the only criteria for people to corne to said We're providing human services. ervices.

What religion you are doesn't even enter into the equation." The relationship between church and state, however. may tand in the way of maximizing partnerships between faith-based community groups and governpommunity groups and govern mid Nola aid Nehole kennamer, a junio penion. Fend and pols sterin zen miner and Students Onerir servise tavisor Board member obviously there isn't enough money to give out to every group that wants some, that implies a choice, and and also volunteers at a day care center in Syracuse, Triano said.

Vince Kuss, the OGL pro gram coordinator, presented the graduate award to Elizabeth Skewes, a doctoral student in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications.

Skewes is a member of the Graduate Student Organization and a student representative on the SU Board of Trustees.

The faculty member honored for her outstanding work was Sally Wagner.

Wagner, a professor in the women's studies department, "educates her students on the triumphs of women everyday," said Gillian Budman, an assis. tant residence director.
A housekeep in Watson Hall, Toni Doupe was the winner of the staff award.
"This woman has had a profound effect on many women in Watson," said Rachel Alldis, a residence director.

Doupe tries to get to know the staff in Watson, as well as the possibility of favoring one group or religion over another. I wonder if they might favor or seek out one particular religious affiliation."

But the 1996 Welfare Act protects the interests of faithbased groups while maintaining the First Amendment's religious freedom clause. The law does not. forbid these organizations from participating in governmentparticipating in gublic service programs, and government-funded organizations cannot be forced to abdicate their religious affliations.

Bush vows that participation in faith-backed welfare suptirely voluntary, McClellan said.
"The governor is dedicated to funding programs that work, not funding any particular religion," funding any particular religion," ed in religious pluralism, not just ed in religious pluralism.

Christian tradition.
tion against Jews Muslims, Bud dhists againen people of no faith dhists, even people of no faith."
the residents, Alldis said. She shares stories, memories and uplifting thoughts with them, she added.

Suzie Lee was nominated for the undergraduate award, but did not win. The loss did not come as disappointing, she said.

Lee, a sophomore inclusive elementary education major, was nominated by her residence director.
"He said that my positive attitude and personality helped build a community on our floor," Lee said. "I was so surprised, I didn't even know that there was this program."

AndreaHurwitz, also a nominee for the undergraduate award, agreed with Lee.
"As they say in the Academy Awards, it is an honor just to be nominated," said Hurto be nominated, said furwitz, a sophomore public rela tions and sociology major. "It is just good to know that a lot of is just good to know this. It's just students are doing this.
good to be recognized."

\section*{A FAN'S HEART}

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{SU, high schools join in racism fight}

Syracuse University students are teaming up with area high schools to get the university more involved in fighting racism in the community.

School of Education professor Mara Sapon-Shevin and School of Social Work Assistant professor Carrie Smith designed Eracism, a six-week discussion group to break down the barriers of racial break down the barriers of ran.
"We talked about issues around racism," said Aaron Harrell, a junior in the School of Social Work. "And how to act as an ally for someone who is being oppressed.

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1
"They never sent anyone," said Stern, a senior advertising major in the College of Visual and Performing Arts.

The victim flagged down an officer writing tickets, Stern said. The officer told the victim he should read The Daily Orange because the newspaper said the police never help anyone, he added.
"I think it's B.S. that the cop thinks he's doing him a favor by writing a police report," Stern said.

Their house was broken into two months ago, Stern said. When police arrived, they were more concerned about a street sign in the house than street sign in the hous
the break-in, he added.
here because of the ever live here because of the way the just ridiculous."
- Two car license plates were stolen Friday from the car student, according to police reports.

Hall said she parked her car at her boyfriend's house in Clarendon Heights on Ivy Ridge Road and went to the basketball game. She noticed that her license plates were missing Saturday morning, she added.

Hall, a native of California, said she had to ask her mother to mail her new plates. It kind of sucks because if u lose your license plates. you lose your license plates, you can thet replacement plates," Hali said. "You have to plates," Hali said. "You have to get them from your state."
"We need to have people realize that weare not just an ivory tower on "The Hill.' The group joined SU students with students from Thomas H. Corcoran and William J. Nottingham high schools to discuss racial oppression and ethnic heritage during the six-week program, Harrell said.
anti-racism curriculu develop an anti-racism curriculum in high schools," Sapon-Shevin said. "We are actively involved to take a chunk out of racism. There are chunk out of racism. There are race issues everywhere. Thes sues need to be addressed."

The high school stude who are from different ethnic backgrounds, mentioned racial problems in their schools involving minorities such as Arabs and Native Americans, Harrell said. "The problems are not just black and white' related," he said. The high school students are reacting very well.They are highly engaged in discussions. It's a resh perspective."

Including high schoolers in Eracism is an important step toward ending discrimination in schools, Sapon-Shevin said.
"At the high school level, there is still a tremendous denount of different between stushe said.

The high schoolers brought real-life situations from their

Some of the current issues high school, he adoed
-Racism is a touchy topic that is generally avoided," Harrell said. "I think there are a lot of people who want to discuss race issues. It's hard to find the right setting for discussion.

Eracism established a comfortable setting for confronting such delicate topics, he added.
"The emotional fervor one usually sees around the topic of racism is not present or is propand discussion,- Harrell said.

The discussions prompted questions that are important in ending discrimination, Harrell said. Harrell said his experiences in Eracism have been positive. "I have increased awareness of myself as well as the needs and ideas of others," Harrell said. "It's a cool experience, because We talked about things we don't normally talk about."

The group is planning to have another program similar to Eracism this fall, Sapon-Shevin said.
Harrell said he plans to facilitate in the fall. cilitate in the fall.
"This method of approach is the right one," Harrell said. There are no hurt feelings and people."

Hall said the theft was an inconvenience because she needs the car to drive to school.
There were no witnesses or suspects, the report said.

SU A wallet, belonging to an su sophomore public relations Awful Al's, 321 S . Clinton St., according to police reports.

The wallet was stolen from the vietim's purse between 1:30 and 2 a.m., the report said.
bar All of the patrons at the bar emptied their pockets, but the wallet was not found, the report added.

The wallet contained the vietim's credit cards, library card, insurance card, social sesaid. \({ }^{\text {It }}\) wasn't that bir a dealn the victimsaid. "Plenty of people victim said. Plenty of peostolen. It could have been worse."

A jeep, belonging to an SU senior, was stolen and recovered Tuesday, according to police reports.
The 1994 Jeep Grand Cherokee, which was parked on the corner of Walnut Avenue and Harrison Street, was later recovered on the corner of Midland Street and Castle Street, the report said.

The front end and ignition compartment of the jeep were damaged, the report said.

There are no suspects, the port added
The senior declined to com-
* A car was towed Wednesday because it was illegally

\section*{New Formals 8 Jewelry}

Biqgest Selection in Syracuse $50-$150 ZBDOM BABIES on Westcott loff Euclld -minures from \(M_{o n}^{472-1949} \mathrm{Sot}_{\mathrm{ol}}\)
Mon-Sot \(11-7 \mathrm{~mm}\)
Sun \(12-5 \mathrm{~m}\) report. was Valentine's Day and I parked where I do every day in Alibrandi," the victim said. The car was found abandonedin the South Side of Syracuse later that day with minor damage, but theitems are still missing, she added. "They didn't even The stolen items include a

Minolta 35 mm camera, a camera bag, a portrait zoom lens 50 mm lens and a wide angle lens, reports said. presents, the victim added.

Compiled by Staff Writer Caroline Chen car stolen Feb. 14 along with hundreds of dollars of camera equipment, according to police

\section*{Unlike your roommate's outfit.}

There are aspects of college life you just can't control. But when it comes to your academic performance, you're in charge. Especially when you use WebCT.com, the e-learning hub. It's a complete online academic resource where you can get help studying. find research materials. take practice tests and quizzes, and exchange information with students and faculty around the globe. Change the way you learn. visit www.webct.com/roommate.

Courtesy of WebCT.com. get free shipping off a purchase of \($ 90\) or more at VarsityBooks.com through 4/15/00. Simply enter promotion code webct472n at checkout.

\section*{UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY \\ STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK}

\section*{Summer Sessions 2000}

Plan now to earn more credit this summer
\(\checkmark\) Move ahead in your academic program
\(\checkmark\) Prepare for graduate school
\(\checkmark\) Explore a new subject area
The University at Albany offers more than 500 undergraduate and graduate courses in the summer making it the most comprehensive summer program in the Capital Region. Flexible scheduling in six independent four- and six-week sessions makes it possible for you to take classes and still have time for work, vacation, and summer fun.

\section*{begin May 30}

Call for Summer Sessions information
1-800-SUNYSUM
or, visit our website
www.albany.edu/ summer

Office of Summer Sessions University at Albany L.1.85

Albany. NY 12222

\section*{MERGER}
continued from page 1 would not vote on whether the event would occur, eliminating a conilict of interest, he added.
"The UU program boards program their own events," Taylor said. -They are not a campus wide programming board."

UU's programming board would advise student organizations on planning, budget and other event logistics. This information would then be brought before the Finance Board.
"We don't sce a problem in the way UU runs now. We plan successful programs that are representative of student interest," Stone said. "The UU believes an autonomous organization would be more effective than a conglomerate."

UU and SGA share a common goal, Stone said, adding that her group wants to provide the best programming on campus and make it
-We already work to help other organizations," Stone said. "We're willing to be in more direct communication with student associations to help them make their budgets.

UU helped the Jewish Student Union bring comedian Lou Black to campus earlier this semester, Stone said. Recently the Residence Hall Association came to UU with interest in getting a speaker.

The merger would also give UU more responsibility, which they do not want, James said.

The last major reforms made in the structure of SGA were in 1998 when the Constitution was revised and a branch model of government was replaced with a "Deliberative Assembly."

The Cabinet was given a central role in providing leadership and direction. Standing committees were eliminated and the Assembly was given the power to create special committees for specific issues.

\section*{Spend a semester in Hong Rong,}

A CITY WHERE EAST MEETS WEST
NEW G EXPANDED CURRICULUAM 0 -
c

\section*{-MANAGEMENT \\ -PSYCHOLOGY}
- Political SCience
-Cinema
-language
Now you can live and
LEARN IN A CITY WHERE
Chinese tradition meets
Western sophistication

For information call or stop by DIPA
119 Euclid Ave~443-3471~suabroad@syr.edu

The SGA Reform Task Force was mandated by a bill passed in 1997. The task force defined the organization's weaknesses and offer practical solutions for them, which allowed for the Constitution revision.

The task force had difficulty reaching a consensus on what SGA's goal should be. Some members of the group said SGA should exert less control over student groups to best represent the SU student body. Others wished to streamline the structure of SGA to increase its efficiency.

The debate yielded a constitution, but many argue that it is ambiguous and filled with loopholes. The debate over the goal of SGA continues with this new merger.

The new proposal was tabled Monday by Assemblyman David Gaulin.
"I, and, as it turns out, others didn't know enough about it to pass it that night, said Gaulin, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences. "It's a significant thing."

Assemblyman Adam Duffy agreed that to accept the proposal, SGA must first be receptive to student opinions.
"I do think we have to bring this up to the student body," said Duffy, a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts. The basic concern is for getting the input of the students. I wouldn't feel right passing it without knowing what the students think.

Gaulin added that some SGA members, particularly Tay. lor, were anxious to pass the bill Monday night.

An advocate forum is set for 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Conference Room 304C of the Schine Student Center. Representatives from SGA and UU will attend.

Members of student organizations are urged to also attend, because this proposal directly affects them, Stone said.
\({ }^{4}\) Right now I'm not sure if I'm for or against it," said Jonathan Engel of the University Senate. "I think SGA and UU could work together. But when it comes to budget favoritism, I could see where other groups could see conflict."

Flyers were distributed on campus earlier this week protesting the merger. One flyer deems the merger a "take over"

Other groups might fear being taken aver by the SGA in the future, Engel added.

Another Assembly meeting is scheduled for Monday, Stone said. SGA can either vote on it or table it again

An Assembly vote and a UU Board of Directors vote are needed to pass the proposal. Stone said.
"We don't assume our position is the same as the students", that's why we're heavity advertising for the open forum \({ }^{n}\) Stone said.

If the students felt that a merger was the best idea, UU would reconsider their resis. tance to the proposal, she said.
uThere has to be a less dra matic way" Stone said.

UU has continued to suggest alternate proposals, said David Vagnoni, head of UUTV branch of University Union.
"It's been a long process with long meetings," said Vagnoni, a junior broadcast journalism and political science major. "There have been moments, I wouldn't say heated, but and we are firmly opposed to some of SGA's ideas. It's been difficult to mesh."

The Syracuse University Drama Department Presents

\section*{BLOOD WEDDING}

\section*{by}

\section*{Federico Garcia Lorca}

Directed by Elizabeth Ingram
Mar. 31, Apr. 1, 5*, 6, 7 & 8 at 8 p.m.
Apr. 2 & 9 at 2 p.m.
*Apr. 5 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517

AraMa
Storch Theatre 820 E. Genesee St.

Congratulations to each of our 2Tewly Initiated Sisters!

\(x_{i}\)-Love and LAB@S,
The Sisters of Mipfa Xi Detta

\section*{■ Greek Affairs}

\title{
Panhel to participate in women's safety march
}

\section*{Staff Reports}

A march advocating safety for women on college campuses Onped the agenda at Syracuse il meeting Wednesday night.

The march, called Take Back the Night, will take place during Greek Week, which begins April 9.
"It's an annual event that works to raise awareness of sexual violence and also safe strects in general - safe neigh borhoods, the ability to walk lone and feel safe," said Beth Wodnick, a coo vent.

Walking safely at night is something that is not always he case," Wodnick added.

Take Back the Night will include a rally, a speakerand a march. The march will begin at Hendricks Chapel and circle the campus before ending back at the chapel.

Delta Delta Delta sister and musician Anadara Farmer will sing and play guitar at the event.

It's a very important event, especially for women," Panhel President Sarah Korf said.

If enough money is collect ed, T-shirts will be available for marchers, Wodnick said. Event coordinators will either give the shirts out to the marchers or charge participants for the shirts. If the latter is the case, all proceeds will go to the SU Rape: Advocacy, Prevention and Education Cen ter, she added

Organizers also sent invitations to several public officials, including Syracuse police officers, SU Public Safety offineth A. Shaw, Wodnick said.
"The more people we have marching, the more effective you are," said Leslie Grinner advisor of the Take Back the Night planning group and Night planning group and teaching assistant in the \(S U\) Women's Studies Department.
- Panhel representatives also discussed twoscholar. ships available to rnembers of the greek community.

The Al Paige Scholarship is for students with a GPA of 3.0 or higher, who digplay leadership within their chapter or or ganization and are actively in volved in community service Applicants may be nominated by themselves or by chapter members, with letters sent to the Office of Greek Life by April 11.

The Dwyer Scholarship, a \($ 500\) award, is based on leader ship, academic achievement and dedication to greck life.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kate Stevenson

\section*{CLOVER PATCH CAME \\ .. a stommer camp for adults and children with disabilities}

Clover Patch Camp is tucked away in the middle of upstate New York. it has wooded glades, a winding stream, nature trails, rustic cabins, and a swimming pool. It is protected from the busy byways by a beautiful forest. Imagine this setting filled with a specially adapted pool, wheelchair accessible trails, and a trained, caring energetic staff of counselors.

Need extra money during your school vacation? Consider lending a helping hand at the Clover Patch Camp Staff are fun! Campers are great!

Positions available for Summer 2000:

> Counselors Activity Leaders Lifeguards Cooks

All we require to work at Clover Pateh Camp is a willingness to work hard, the ability and desire to work outdoors for extended periods of time, as well as, the ability to work as a team with a diverse group of individuals, and be at least 18 years old.

If interested, please apply/fax/send/c-mail cover letter and resume to:
AD: camp/EQ/MF
Center for the Disabled
314 South Manning Blvd, Albany, NY 12208
Fax: 518-437-5667: E-Mait: IOBSACFTD.ORG
Or call 518-437-JOBS to have an application mailed to you

eoe/aa/m/f/d/v

\section*{The Dally Orange \\ Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{ELECTION}

\section*{continued from page 1}
was a GSO representative in the Syracuse University Senate where she sat on the Agenda Committee and also served as a senator-at-large and Student Legal Services representative, she said.

Carter said some of her ideas for her administration include creating a dental plan for graduate students, working with Public Safety to arrange escorts from on-campus buildings to off-campus residences and reviewing Office of Judicial Affairs' policies and procedures for graduate students.

But her presidency will not focus on accomplishing her own goals, Carter said.

My main role is to listen to what the constituents and the senators want, she said. Im not going to sit there and pursue my own agenda.'

Carter's successor as comptroller is Chris McGee, a first-year senaCornmittee.

McGee helped the Finance

Thz Daily Orange

Committee establish a travel fund for graduate students and is a member of the Inn Complete Board. He ran unopposed and was elected 20 to 1 .
GSO should work to increase awareness of the organization's procedures for allocating money to student groups so the same handrul questing funds, said McGee, a chemistry gradunte student in All senators shout of what money is in what account," he said. "I'm not sure that everytody is completely aware before they vote."
Carter said she was pleased GSO voted McGee into her former position.
"I asked Chris to run," Carter said. "I'm excited he's willing to take on the job. It's not an easy job and you have to be patient and explain work hard and be organized. I told him ho'd be excellent for the job." The Senate also unanimously elected Enver Rahmanov vice president and Ananya Bhattacharya secretary: Both Rahmanov and Bhattacharya were nominated at the meeting and ran unopposed for their positions.
board is typical that executive board positions go unopposed because the main goal of the elections is to get the new officers ready to begin work during the summer, Eric Hunn, outgoing president.

Carter's unopposed electio however, was unusual, he said.

I was a little surprised because historically someone always emerges out of nowhere to contest the presidency" said Hunn, a law and public administration graduate student.

Senator T.J. Lakin, however, moved to postpone the elections until the next GSO meeting April 17 so more students would have a chance to consider running. Lakin withdrew his motion before it was voted on because the Senate would have denied it, he said.

The elections were announced and then they happened with no time to sec if you wanted to run," said graduate student. "There were 11 positions open and only four people on the bailot. So to me it seemed that

Wagr
"Damon's Crefrs"
HFDTMITAS 8/7cow
Nㅣㅇ
T H E
S K U L L S

there needed to be more publicity" The outgoing executive board met its goals by making the GSO meetings more efficient, straightening out its financial matters and in creasing representation, furu said. ontinue to achicve its goals, Hunn said.
"They have substantial experience with GSO and Francine knows as much as anyone," he said. "They're a bright crowd so they should be a good team next year.

The Senate also appointed Mehmet Sayin to one of five open USen representative positions, Eliz abeth Skewes as a representative to the Board of Trustees and outgoing Vice President Joe Roser to one of it six open senator-at-large positions. stand why people hated the meeting because I loved all of them," Roser said. "I have tons of ideas, and as senator I will be at all the meetings."

There were no nominations for ive representatives to the Roard of Graduate Studies positions, alterrate representative to the Board of Trustees, representative to the Law School and representative to Student Legal Services.

In other GSO news:
The Senate approved the Finance Commitlees recommendation Organization \($ 580\) to help fund an annual dinner. Last year 66 people attended the dinner, but they need more money this year because they are expecting about twice as many people to attend.
- The Student Concerns Committee will recommend whether GSO should assist the Student Coalition On Organized Labor in persuading SU to switch its allegianos from the Federal Labor Association to the next Senate meting next Senate meeting.

E The Inn Complete will host the Graduate Trivia Challenge on April 15 .Teams of four to 10 graduate will compete diferent deparnonents Teams must enter by April 7 and pay a \($ 10\) entrance fee.

The Concert Series Continues... stinucis MDH 1
After the Game, peoplet with opening act...
> mation thation
4. \({ }^{\text {f the }}\)

The fage Against The Machine Show

\section*{18 & Over Welcome}

602 Old Liverpool Rd. 451-4841

Dovis 7 Pm SHOTITE PT

Online approval A seal of approval on a prescription Web site may provide assurance that you're dealing with certified pharmacists The Verified Internet Pharmacy Practice Sites Pharmacy Practice Sit seal, issued by the seal, issued by the National Association of Pharmacy Boards, was launched a year ago in response to growing concerns about the quality of online pharmacies and the products they provide. To date, just five sites have eamed the seal www.cvs.com www.drugstore.com, www.farnilymeds.com, www.merck-medeo.com and www .planetRx.com.

\section*{Drug debate}

Companies that market "fat busting" drugs Chitin and Chitosan have made "unsubstantiated ad claims" about their products "that are false and misleading."
says California's Napa County

\section*{Dr. Love}

Alex Comfort, the British physician, poet, novelist, gerontologist and philosopher who wrote more than 50 books but will be forever but will be forever known as the author of known as the author one landmark 1972 one landmark 1972 best-seller "The Joy o best-seller "The Joy of Sex," has died. He was Sex," has died. He 80. Comfort died Sunday in an Oxfordshire, England, nursing home where he had been under care after suffering a series of strokes over the last nine years. A singular personality who was once jailed with Bertrand Russell for organizing an antiorganizing an an nuclear sit-in at London's Trafalgar Sondon's Trafalgar Square, Comfort ca to regard "Joy" as to regard "Joy" as something of an alba something of an a tross that he said he felt improp- Pcp. erly overshadowed the rest of his work.

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
editor 443-2128 orance.com \(\square\) lifestyle] SINGIN'
 The First Year Players ensemble presents "A Chorus Line See Lifestyle Friday.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"To do great things is difficult, but to command great things is mand great thin
Friedrich Nietzsche

Studies show that 2 drinks can help prevent heart disease.

BY CHARLIE RUSSO
Staff writer
"Eat your vegetables and drink your milk - it's good for you," is a common refrain most people remember hearing from their parents as children. Now, according to the 2000 edition of the American Dietary Guideline, the parental dinnertime advice might be, "drink a beer or two - it's good for you."

As if college students needed another reason.

The American Dietary Guideline report which can be found on www. usda.gov/cnpp-is Apdated every five years by the Department of motion, said John Webster, director of public information for the CNPP. In both its 1995 and 2000 Dietary Guideline reports, the CNPP acknowledges a link between the moderate daily consumption of alcohol and a reduced risk of coronary heart disease, he said.
According to an October 1999 Alcohol Alert press release from the National Institute

\section*{Viagra venture proves successful}

Corey Hann health sleuth

Viagra anyone?
Looking for a little online adventure, I decided to see how easy it is for a healthy 20 -year-old guy to purSo I ran se bob Viagra into one of the many search engines. -

A host of sites came up ranging from soft-core porn to safe-sex initiatives. One druggist caught my eye, claiming their prices were "better than the rest" safewebmedical.com
I thought it would be too good to hink that 1 could actually order but I went ahead with my curious query and clicked the brightly lit Viagra link.

An order form was the next page to pop up.
pon review of the situation thought John Q. Curious would be A Credit card number was then asked. Surprisingly my application was approved even when I ran a string of nine zero's for my credit card number. In a survey of other would be impossible with such an outlandish card number.

A medical questionnaire, which is supposed to replace the advice of a physician, unfolded onto my monitor It asked the basics: age, sex, height and weight.

John, I decided, would be a smaller man, around 4 feet tall with a slight weight problem, weighing in around 300 pounds. A host of questions were then asked regarding medical history, drug allergies or any surgical procedures that had been performed in recent weeks.

Luckily, John was in good health recardless of his physical condition. affirmed that this information was

See SLEUTH page 13

\section*{University Union's Comedy Board.....}

Join Jay Mohr from "Jerry McGuire", "Go" and "Action" on FOX for a night full of laughs. Also scheduled to perform are SU's very own talents, Bryan Billig, Dave Malkoff, and Dave Pollack.

\section*{Come See Mohr.}

\section*{Tickets On Sale} At The Schine Box Offfice Now!

\section*{April 1st, 2000} 8:00pm, Goldstein Auditorium \($ 5\) w/suid \($ 10\) w/out

Your Student Fee. Is Bringing You Mohr.

\section*{The Daily Orange} or centributor to cardiovascular asease, the number one cause of death in the United States ease Control. About 500,000 victims annually make up 25 percent of all deaths nationally. CHD can result from the build up of cholesterol and oth er fatty substances in a person's arteries or from a constriction of the arteries. Either of these events can block the flow of blood and cut off the heart's supply of oxygen, causing a heart attack.

But although studies have shown that daily moderate alcohol consumption is linked to a decreased chance of death due to CHD, it has not been clearly proven that the alcohol is a di cause of decreased risk.
Researchers believe there are several ways in which alcohol can reduce the risk of CHD increase levels of HDL alcoho increase levels of HDL choles"good cholesterol." HDL cholesgood cholesterol. HDL cholesterol" - cholesterol that clors arteries - out of the that clog

A drink or two per day will showed children swinging on swing sets during warm summer days and others rolling in fields of wild flowers promoting new allergy drugs.

The pharmaceutical indus try has grown exponentially since that time and has begun to promote and sell their products on the Web more so than online world, however, has left online world, however, has left consumers with more questions of who to trust and wher to go to get online prescripto go t tions.

There are advantages to purchasing drugs on the Web. According to the Food and Drug Administration, online drug stores can give people Who are unable to leave their their drugs. Also, there may be their drugs. Aso, there may be easier access to written prod. uct information and references to other sources than in traditional storefront pharmacies.

The biggest draw seems to be anonymity.
decrease the chances of a blood clot forming and blacking blood vessels, which can cause strokes. Aspirin has blood-thinning effect

Alcohol also decreases insulin levels and insulin resistance.

\section*{Setting examples}

The health benefits of alcohol first gained attention in ed on France's extremely low heart attack rate, despite a tendency in the country to eat foods high in saturated fat. But along with these high fat foods. the French tend to drink red wine with their meals.
Since then, the "French Paradox," as the piece was called, has been the cause of many studies in alcohol and prompted alterations in the American Dietary Guidelines.

Red wine may also possess health benefits beyond those of other forms of alcohol. Antioxidants found in grape skins and seeds may also fight against cancer, arthritis, Alzheimer's the skins and seeds are used

Like a teenager buying his first box of condoms, men who buy "lifestyle" drugs, such as Viagra for sexual virility and Propecia for male-pattern bald ness, are often embarrassed.

Prescription errors, due to poor handwriting by doctors, may be reduced with the transmission of drug orders over the Web. Though it may seem like a viable alternative, the buyer should venturing into this new when

According to the American Iedical Association, there are at least 400 Web sites that both dispense and offer a pre both dispense and offer a prescribing service - half of these scribing service - half of thes are located in foreign sites are located in foreign countries. Of these 400 , onl fountries. Ore approved by the National Association of Pharmacy Boards.

Michael Press, a freshman n the College for Human Development, agrees that online pharmacies that do not online pharmacies that do no solely in the production of red wine - and not white wine - so only the red variety possesses those antioxidants.

But having a glass of wine with dinner should not replace the other factors that reduce the risk of heart disease-a healthy diet, exercise, not smoking and maintaining a healthy body weight.

\section*{Some good advice}

The CNPP does not encourage non-drinkers to start drinking alcohol in order to reduce their risk of heart disease, especially since CHD is a problem mostly for people aged 45 and older - moderate daily alcohol consumption has less benefit and more health risks for younger people.

About 10 percent of the nation's population already suffers from drinking problems, according to the NIAAA, and heavy drinking does not provide the same benefits as moderate drinking. Drinking fourteen shots of vodka on a Friday night, for example, does not have the same effect as two bottles of beer at dinner every \section*{sketchy, at best} he said think it would be risky," he said. "The reason that they are prescription drugs and not over the counter has to do witl strength of the drugs and possible side effects."

To date there are few incidents of adiverse effects to buying prescription drugs online. But the ones that have been reported are dramatic.
According to the \(F\)
52-year-old man with a family 52-year-old man with a family history of heart disease died of history of heart disease died a heart attack last March, a heart attack last March, shortly after buying Viagra from an online source that onl from an online source that onl required a questionn
In another case, a 16 old in Kansas was able to order Viagra and diet drugs Meridia and Phentermine, online.

Michael Button, a freshman political science major, said he belreves the sound advice of a doctor should bo taken into account when \section*{Risky business A few years back, television commercials were the on} sion commercials were the only realm for drug companies to spin their drugs. Some ads

\section*{ALCOHOL}

\section*{continued from page 11}
of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism vealed an association between moderate alcohol consumption and lower risk for coronary heart disease." This document continues to state that, "with fow exceptions, epidemiologic data from at least 20 countries in North America, Europe, Asia and Australia demonstrate a 20 dence among drinkers compared Ben-drinkers.

Because alcohol's effect varies from person to person, moderate consumption" is difrate consumptionghly, mod per day for men and one drink per day for women and the elderly.

One drink is defined as 12 ounces of regular beer, five ounces of wine or 1.5 ounces of glass and a shot, respectively.

\section*{Heart breaking} form is a heart most common

\section*{SLEUTH}
continued from page 11 true and now was only a step away from new found fertility

Success!
John would now be in possession of 500 milligrams of Viagra, broken up into 10 Viagra, broken up into 10 doses. The price was a whop ping \($ 203\), with the largest expense being a \($ 75\) consulta tion fee from their so-called tion fee from their so-c trained professionals.

Though this order will never reach a doorstep, it is a reminder of just how easy it obtain prescription drugs of this nature. National Association of Boards of Pharmcay approved distribu toredco com have fir medco.com, have firewalls and require passwords.

\section*{March 30, 2000}

Hening. can triple the risk of heart disease, as well as a host of other problems. Besides heart disease, alcohol abuse can increase a person's risks for certain forms of cancer, cirrhosis of the liver, brain and heart damage, acci dents and violence. In general, the CNPP advises that, "if you drink alcoholic beverages, do so in moderation, with meals, and when consumption does not put you or others at risk."
But the intelligent, judicious use of alcohol can have positive effects, especially for those over the age of 45 . And as the 1995 Dietary Guideline report stated, "alcoholic beverages have been used to enhance the enjoyment of meals by many societies throughout human history."
Having a drink over nutritious dinner can increase tious dinner can increase the health benefits and the pleasure of the alcohol and reduce some of the alcohol and reduce some of the risks. So the next time Nom tells you to, "drink your milk you should be drinking beer instead.
obtaining prescription drugs
"I want my own physician to check me out and tell me what I need, not someone I've what I need, not someone I've President Bill Clinton has recently taken initiatives to help prevent unapproved sites from peddling harmful precription drugs.

The White House said it would ask Congress to regulate online sales, requiring cyberspace drugstores to gain approval from the FDA to operate and establishing a \($ 500,000\) fine to sites that sell drugs without a prescription, according

But until then, buyers beware. The world of online drugs cannot be trusted.

Corey Hann is a junior phitosophy and pre-medicine mojor. He is also an assistant mojor. He is also an assistant lifestyle editor. Mis colunv appears Thursdays. E.muail him at cthrnn@sjr.edtu.

\section*{attend this seminar or ask youlf mom to up your Howance by \($ 40,000\).}
 thetr- paycoll Ah this-seminar you'll get 1 nsider-tips-on-how Io-make the - oost of your-online - ob besearch: Nil thanks to the Joh-Searahring onfine-for Dummies: Those in attendance will hear pam-speak-anchave \(a\) achience to win a free resume makeover. Ketend the semfinar. Earn yout own money. It's a no-brat ner.

To protect against AIDS and other STDS. always use latex condoms.

\title{
For a free, full-color poster \{18" x 24"\}, write: AIDS Poster 2, Box 2000, Albany, N.Y. 12220
}

\footnotetext{

}

\title{
Battlers make stretch run in hopes of booze
}

\begin{abstract}
nly a horrendous choke could keep Ali Hischak from becoming the first female winner in the storied history of the Battle for the Bottles. Maybe this year, the staff can stiff her like she did us last year.
\end{abstract}

\section*{ERUPTION}
continued from page 20
her last year, but she doesn't seem to be hurting because of it When you're that athletic, a year off isn't going to hurt you

Writer
All
Writer
Nathan Whirlwind
Connor
JHoty
Passan
\begin{tabular}{ll}
\(\mathbf{W}\) & \(\mathbf{L}\) \\
21 & 23 \\
21 & 23 \\
19 & 25 \\
18 & 26 \\
17 & 27
\end{tabular}

Writer
Mai
Lukin
Wolo
Bish
Stalz
Chuck
Leitzell

27 7
\begin{tabular}{l}
21 \\
22 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

W
17
\(L\)
27
28
-
too much. It may even be a good thing sometimes,"

After Wayne's goal, Kelly Darrow beat SU's defense and brought Colgate to within one at 3-2.
for Syracuse (3-3) then erupted for four unanswered goals, highlighted by free-position goals by Katrina Hable and Carrie Soults, pushing the lead to 7-2 with 14:51 remaining in the first half.

While the offense peppered shots at Colgate keeper Jane Murray, the Orangewomen defense worried about protecting their netminder. Syracuse preaking several clears and disrupting any Red Raider attempt at transition. SU forced 14 Colgate turnovers while limiting the Red Raiders to 15 shots on goal.
"We have great individuals in this unit," Miller said. "If they play as a unit, that's when they're at their best. When we play as a team, they're devasÁ.
Although the defense played well, Miller said she wants more effort, especially picking up cutters and moving around picks.

Colgate sparingly broke through SU's defense, register ing back-to-back goals. Anne Currier scored a transition goal

\section*{INTERNSHIPS} SUMMER 2000
Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an interns:3ip for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start on your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271 and Kate Manzella capitalized on a free-position opportunity, closing the gap to 7-4. Manzella led the Red kaiders with four goals and Currier notched two scores.

But SU answered with five consecutive goals to close out the half.

Wayne sparked the run with two assists, dishing once to Lauren Brady for a transition goal and then connecting with Hable in the offensive set, sending Syracuse to the locker room with a 12-4 advantage.

After working on the transition game in practice all week, Miller said she was happy to see it blend together with the Orangewomen's usual settled attack.
"We"ve been leaning too much toward the settled attack," Miller said. "That doesn't really fit our personality. We need to be able to do it, we need to be able to do it well, but the bottorn line is we like to run ' \(n\) ' gun. If we can get them moving, they'll score a lot of goals." The only problem with the transition game is turnovers.

SU gave the ball away 13 times in the game, but Miller said she can rorgive some or the comfortable with both styles. Healy showcased the com-

Tion offense at the start of bination offense at the start of from freshman Sami Stock and drove around defenders for her hird coal Four minutes later Healy struck again giving SU a \(14-4\) lead with 25 minutes a 14-4 lea Afte

After a nine-minute score less stretch for Syracuse, Healy notched her final goal, sprintin up the field in transition and taking it to the cage.

Although Syracuse dominated and built a big lead Miller said her team never showed a letdown.

We want to stay focused and work on the little things, Miller said. "Sometimes it's difficult to play when you're ahead, but sometimes you just want to work on little parts of your game that you're going to need for the next one, and that's what we tried to do.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

744 Ostrom Ave. 443-2128 doeditor@mailbox.syr.edu

There are those who shy away from challenges. And then there are those who travel 9,000 miles looking for them.

Stop by a Peace Corps
Information Table and find out about the hundreds of overseas jobs awaiting you!

www.peacecorps.gov
800-424-8580, option 1 :

\section*{Syracuse University}

Information Table
Thursday, March 30, 2000 10 AM - 1 PM
Schine Student Center
Information Session
Thursday, March 30, 2000 3 PM
Hall of Languages, Room 500

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{If the bar scene doesn't seem to be panning out the way you planned. \\ Come work at the Daily Orange! 100\% guarenteed you won't go home alone*}

\section*{The Lifestyle Department wants you!}

Interested in writing? Come to the writers meeting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at The Daily Orange.
We're located at 744 Ostrom Ave., the red and white building four houses down from Shaw.
See you there!

\section*{If NCBA had its way, would band march on?}

Just beyond the curtain, perched in four rows behind the basket, the State University band pumps out the school fight song. Steven Oboe sits on the dark sid of the blue abric, a tear strolling down his right cheek and a look of contempt on his cleanly shaven face Fifteen years of lessons, summer afternoons trapped at camps, long bus rides to 8-0 soccer games, Oboe said through clenched teeth. "All to play here. And those bastards took my glory away from me.

On the bright side of the blue curtain, CBS' cameras and 40,000 tans joined State's band in anticipation of Saturday night at the Final Four, a five hour evening that decides the combatants in the national title game.

But on Wednesday, the National Collegiate Band Association ruled Oboe took \($ 430.79\) from an agent to help pay for a year spent at the Caribou Prep School in Northern Maine
Oboe, an All-American tuba player and emotional leader of State's 57-piece ensemble, must sit the weekend and will never again delight thousands with "Proud Mary" at the under-12 television timeout.

It seems fair enough. Do the crime, do the time, the organization says. But the NCBA's ruling rnake its executives appear more cruel than Hammurabi.

For one, the "agent" was Old Lady Mendillo, who paid Oboe for shoveling snow in their Johnston, R.I., neighborhood with heaping plates of ravioli.

On her deathbed, she bequeathed her lifetime high stakes Bingo winnings to the 18-year-old Oboe, who played the blues on weekends at a Caribou watering hole just to make ends meet.

Oboe said he never wanted the money, but watching his fellow band members receive new music stands, boxes of clean reeds and those ridiculous marching-band hats with orange feathers enticed him to grab the cash

A hot prospect out of Caribou Prep, Oboe chose State for the chance to start as a freshman. Dubbed the Brass Bandit by a major national band recruiting publication, Oboe helped State to strong showings in the Big Dance each of his first three years

But the goal of a Final Four eluded him the way any hint of style escaped most of his comrades.

Oboe said Mendillo's gift never strayed far from his mind, but he never lifted an eyebrow when the NCBA started its witch hunt early this season.
"I was a good kid," Oboe said as State fell behind in the national semifinal and its band started "Crazy Train" a second too late. "I passed all my tests never did anything wrong.
"I just wanted to live my dream with our band. But now listen to them. We have a good team, but they need me out there. It's kilfing me.

The annual allegations flew at usual suspects. Eastern University's low graduation rate and instrument-related, on-cam pus felonies always cast the BA's shadow on its carnpus.

But clean-cut University of the Atlantic drummer Bob Snare missed nine games for trading his 1987 Yugo for a decrepit Dodge Shadow.

Then Ryan Bassoon, Oboe's boyhood chum and star trumpeter at Rhode Island State, lost his senior year after joining a professional band for a few hours before electing to return to school for one more season.

Back in December, when the rumors surfaced at State, Oboe consulted band director Janice Cymball and other administrators. The officials pled Oboe's case, but the NCBA refused to budge.

Before a throng of reporters at last weekend's regionals, Cymball lashed out at the NCBA.
"I hope and pray I see the day when there is no NCBA, and when we are guided by the values system with which we are brought up on, that we fight for every day in this country, for every day in this country," he said.
"Steven Oboe has done absolutely, positively nothing wrong. I hope that none of you feel the way I have the last two days, as if someone had come into my house and stolen my accordion."

Despite Cymball's measures, the NCBA stood firm and disallowed Oboe's participation in college music's biggest weekend.

So now, while State battles for the chance to play on Monday night, the tuba sits unplayed.

Oboe sits alone, sobbing.
And on both sides of the curtain, the NCBA still sits above all, overseeing the bureaucratic mosh pit that is college pep bands.
'There's no harmony between the NCBA and the bands," Oboe said. "We're trying to make music for the fans and the games, and they want to silence us. I don't know why, but I know we must somehow silence them."
grade. His columns appear regit larly on these pages. E-mail him at dgcurlis@syr.edu.
tor of The Daily Orange, quit playing the recorder in third

Ralph C. Martell
Proficsssiopal Art Photographer Female Nude Models Needed \($ 25.00\) 'Hour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time
(315)893-7779

No cover 9 pm-11pm Well Mixers/Wine Import Dom Drafts

Pounders
(Corona, Foster, molson, Red Dog) siots
(Bartenter's cholce) molkinntans
Ladies Night Thurs. & Sat. (cover buys you 3 Frife drlaks) Nadies

\section*{And now, a message from the Headless Horseman:} "Hiya folks! If you're like me, you enjoy human decapitation.
Am I speaking your language? "Hiya folks! If you're like me,
you enjoy human decapitation.
Am I speaking your language? "Hiya folks! If you're like me,
You enjoy human decapitation.
Am I speaking your language?
Then come on down to UUCinemas' presentation of SLEEPY HOLLOW March 31st and April 1st for \($ 3\). The show's in Gifford Auditorium. Showtime's 7 and 9:30. GO is free at midnight. See you there!"

\section*{Orangewomen reach another milestone with sweep}

BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

The Syracuse softball eam reached another milestone in its inaugural season by winning the Saluki Invita tional at Southern Illinois last weekend.

After a mentally and physically taxing trip down South over Spring Break, the Orangewomen bounced back and strung together four consecutive victories co capture coach Mary Jo Firnbach's coach Mar
Syracuse bested Western Kentucky, Southern Illinois

Southeast Missouri State and Northern Iowa on its way to the title. The Salukis got one back on the Orange on Sunday, beating non-tourney game.
non-tourney game.
"I think after the spring wip we had, coming back and winning four games was a huge confidence builder for us," Firnbach said. "In all the games, we came back from behind and did what we needed to do and didn't let teams come back into the game once we got ahead."
4) The Orangewomen (1114) rallied for eight runs in the final three innings to take a \(12-3\) win over Western Ken-

> The Vera House Foundation of Syracuse would like to thank the following sororities and fraternities for supporting The White Ribbon Campaign to end relationship violence:

Gamma Phi Beta Pi Kappa Alpha Sigma Alpha Epsilon Kappa Kappa Gamma Alpha Epsilon Phi Delta Delta Delta Alpha Omicron Pi Psi Upsilon Zeta Psi Kappa Delta Rho

Delta Tau Delta Alpha Gamma Delta Pi Beta Phi Alpha Phi Sigma Delta Tau Alpha Chi Rho Beta Theta Pi Sigma Nu Delta Kappa Epsilon Alpha Chi Omega Alpha Zi Delta
tucky in the opener Friday. After a few weeks of of fensive inefficiency, SU broke open for a season-high 16 hits, with three apiece coming from infielders Rachel Park, Jackie Herrman and Leah Hansen.

Freshman Tara DiMaggio closed out the Hilltoppers from the mound with a threehit, seven-strikeout showing. adjust," Hansen said. "Now that we've done that, we're just stringing hits together.";

Dimageio's pitching prowess backed up the offense in the second game fense in the second game against Southern Illinois. against Southern Fonbehitter and fanned 12 a one-hitter andranned The lone SU run came when sophomore Becky Snyder sophomore Becky scored on an error.

The Orangewomen closed out the tournament with a pair of 4-1 wins over SouthNorthern Iowa on Saturday. Northern lowa on Saturday. played were very good,n DiMaggio said. "Either way, we needed to win those games. They were just asim-portant, but (those teams) were not quite as good as were not quite as good as some of the other teams we've some of Southern Illinois finally got a win over Syracusc on Sunday, taking the third meeting 6-0. Prior to Saturday's win, the Orange had also defeated the Salukis on Feb. 20 in Louisiana. SIU pitchers Tracy Remspecher and Carisa Winters combined on a one-hit, Junior M .

Junior Missy Bieman got the only SU hit at the plate, Firgave up hid on the mound. Firnbach said her two pitchers are beginning to tire, hurlers to carry SU's load.
"They're pitching a lot of ballgames," Firnbach said, but they're getting the job done. Do they throw perfect games all the time? No. Are time? No. But they seem to time? No. But they seem to some good spins and hitting their locations."

While the number of games has taken its toll on he Orange's thin pitching staff, Hansen said the rest of much of the effects of the hectic road schedule.
"We're all used to it," said Hansen, a freshman from Kansas. "In the summer, we play games every day, so this is not much different." not much difyerent.
This weekend, the Orangewomen won't fly to their this season. They'll hop on the bus up Interstate 90 for a pair of doubleheaders in the Bay State, facing future Big East rival Boston College on Saturday and perennial At-tantic-10 powerhouse Massachusetts on Sunday.

The Orangewomen and Eagles battled twice in October at Syracuse's tourna ment, with BC coming out on ment, with BC corning out on top both times. After starting \(0-7\) on the spring, the Eagles won three of their last four Invitational last weekend.

UMass has struggled ear ly in the season. After being ranked No. 16 in preseason polls, the Minutewomen have pols, the Minutewomen have However, they should be fresh after not having played fresh after not having played since defeating Georgial

One player the Orange are lucky not to contend with is pitcher Danielle Hender son, who graduated last year Olympic squad.

Despite the loss and UMass' slow start, Firnbach vaid she expects the Minute aid she expects the play.
"They always have a very strong program," Firnbach strongprogram, pirnbach Saidid Sheyve beer to thes and they do a lot of good recruiting."

\section*{FROSH}
continued from page 20
Attacker Sami Stock and midfielder Kim Wayne combined for three assists in the victory, which raised SU's record to \(3-3\), while Trombley demonstrated veteran poise with consistent two-way play. Jess Trombley and (defender) Ellen (Rust), we're just really happy with our freshman class in general, head coach in they're smart, they're good in, they're smart, theyre good athletes, they have good sticks they played." hey played.

On this night, Wayne, Who tallied goals in four of SU's six games, illustrated patience and a knack for making effective passes in trafic.
The sleek speedster dished out assists on back-todished out assists on back-to-back goals to pull help SU pull back goals to pull help Colgate (1-3) late in the first half.
Junior attacker Karen Healy said Wayne's ability to run full speed without losing any accuracy on her pass or fenders and create opportunities for her teammates.

Wayne did just that on SU's 10 th goal, hitting Lauren Brady in stride for a closerange shot and 10-4 lead.

She exhibited even better patience on SU's 12 th goal, laking a pass from midfielder dling around the perimeter of the Colgate defense before finding an open Hable for the finish.

With SU leading 14-4 early in the second half, Gigon Following thothilde Eoling. trikes the freshman goalie settled into a rhythm.

She first denied a free-position shot from point-blank range before making another Wuick save seconds later. Gigon turned away a bid from Colgate's top threat, Kate Manzella, covering the rebound and keeping the visitors at bay.
keeper," Miller said. "She's a great athlete, she's got quick hands and we expect her to keep plugging along and get her footwork and angles down. \({ }^{\text {W }}\)

While Miller is working With Gigon on fundamentals, including the importance of stepping to the ball in good position to make a save, the tutelage she receives from Ewing as much as any.

Ewing as much as any. portive of me, which is nice," Gigon said. "I ve watched how she carries herself in the defense sow the little things like that."

Stock, who at 5 -foot-2 brings the speed and elusive ness of a waterbug, said the college game provides a huge leap for freshmen to make. The attacker said the speed of the game is significantly higher, as is the overall talent level, requiring better passing and catching skills and more frequent communication.

Healy, whose five goals paced SU, said the freshmen are dealing with the adjustment well and add enthusi asm and a spark to a well-bal anced Orangewomen team.

With Wayne and Tromb ley showcasing steady mid up play and Stock exceling depth all, the newesm of the team to take risks, Healy said. coing not worried abou someonerd because I me if get tired \(n\) subly said. "The freshmen know how to fill the rolas. They're very excited and very aggressive when they play. The turnovers (they may make) don't matter if they're going hard."
A significant part of the freshmen's on-field success can be tied to their strong friendships off it, said Tromb ey, who believes the first year players are developing noticeable chemistry.
Were real close, Tromb ley said. "That helps when were out there because since we're such good friends, we're getting to know when each other is going to cut. We just have to step up as freshmen and try to pressure (the oppo sition) as much as possible. "We're all really, really close, and it was fun toward the end of the game when we were all out there together because we can be the future of this team."

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever
by Jeff Feligno

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones

O-Tay
by Becky Johnson

\title{
18 [classifieds]
}

\section*{NOTICE \\ CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \\ \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10¢ each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word 56 extra each CAP word Charges are PERISSUE \(\boldsymbol{A}\) are Pre-paid by:
Cash. Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Cash Chek , Master Card, visa or Discover
Deadine: 2 mon 2 business days rior to run ADS ARE NOT TAKEN BY PHONE Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 744 Ostrom Avenu Syracuse, NY 132:io: An: Classilieds: OR}

Notices
Summer's Coming Lose thal winter buige. Doctor Reconmended 30 million have lost lher weigh!
\(t \rightarrow 88 B-789.2967\)

\section*{Autos}

 brakss. EC. very Clean, ouginal owner

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Full yearf summer nannies needad. Work with prominent tamikes in New York and CI. Ext opportunhies. Average ssianes \($ 350-5500 / \mathrm{wk}\). opportunities. Average solaries \(5350.5500 / \mathrm{wk}\)
Includes room and board. Medical benetis. Traw opportuntes. Agency 1-800-332-2736
 Cosmo Pizan 143 Marshan S
Camp Counselors Jop Overnight Camps in Pocono Mtns. Over 40 activites -seeking specialist counselors.
\(t-800.533 . c a r t p\)
 Panters Wanted for Summer. Work in Universily May Call Gary 446 .9598
CAMP COUNSEL ORS - NEW YORK
CAMP COUNSELORS - NEW YORK
Coed Tom downf.itness Camp. Hike 8 ptay in the Catskil Nouniains, yel onty 2hrs Hrom NY Cily
 All Sports. Water sking, Canoeing. Fopes.

Sates:Markeling Rep: Earn $150-5300/week working pan-time within your Coliepe communit tor an Inlernet based. student maiketing firm. \(y\) you have entrepteneurial spitit are seli-cuscipline Apply Onilied a wwweed. Jein our winning, Casich incom opporiunilies. Of torward.com, resume to incoma opporiunilies. Of to careeso campusgiobatnet.com
MEDICAL OFFICE POSITIONS: MED-SCRIEE, servica prompiding oflicefenciministrative personnel to Fochaster NY's heatiti-care communiry exclusively it you possess medical terminotogy andor exp, and seek heatti-relatied suunmir employment in the Hochester area. please call Med. Scribe io set up (716)262.3694.
megobs 9 medscibe or (agency, no lees).
have an amazing sumamer! Prestigicus coed camp in buauiful Mass. seeks caring. motivaled coltege students \(&\) grads who love kids! GENERAL caldegs Students 8 grads who love kids! GENERAL & SPECIAITY COUNSELORS needed. Join a dedicated, lun team. Competitive salatiestravel+room+boarc. Call Camp Tatonic: 1-800-762-2a20.

Job Opportunities
ANA make \($\) on the inlemat. Get in on the ground tibot We have the device, connection and or \(201-970.3730\)
```

Biologists No experience needed!! Earn up to 35 K after 1 y
40 K after 2 years 40K after 2 years
IMS a biomedical soltware firm in seek programming course. We hire $90 \%$ ol students who take this course.
Course starts $6 / 12100$. or details see inswab.com
or call ( 888 ) 680.5057

```

Do you enjoy a challenge? Did you store exceplionaly well on your SATs, GFEs, MCATS.
GMATs. or LSATs? The Pnnceion Row is soking tor highly motivated individuals to preparaton courses. Emait your resume to Sue tavarro at susarne review.com or send it to The Pstncelon Review, 4498 Main St., Suite 2
Snyder. NY 14226. AMAZING SUMMER a: premier PA coed enildrents aveinight camp. Ene rgetic. enthusiastic. Mer o women wanled tor all sports, activities. smim, and general. Good Safary, Fantastic Facility Great Experience. Infernships Avaitiable. Contact camp ofthce \(610 .{ }^{4} 4 t-0 t 28\) or www.campockamixon.com to schedulte niterviow

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst}

No experience needed!!
1MS a biomectical soltware firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and sorwate. SAS, C, and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language required Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree details see imsweb.com or call toll-free (888)680-5057.

Pre-medical student wanted tor tull -ime position at busy medical olfice, white waiting to hear from medical schools. \(452 \cdot 2600\)

University Batending Classes Start Soon
Sludent Discounts
1-800-U-CAN-MIX Sludent Discounts 1-800-U-CAN-MIX www.universitybartending.com Space is Limited Www. Universitybartendin Cala For toformation!!!!

\section*{WANTED}

Help Wanted

\section*{EARN HELP NEEDED: Responsible indfivid} horse experience to care tor small tarmette in LaFayelte. Feeding. stall care and turnout seven days a week once a day. Please call 473.7146

HEREALIFE! I lost 31 pounds Click lor products or extra Cash www fitishlim.corn \($ 1500\) weexhy potential mailing out citculars. No Experience Required Fres intormation packet Call \(202-452.7679\).

\section*{Roommates}

\section*{Roommato wanted for fall remester 2000 on in a 2 bedroom a} in a 2 bedroom aparment on Euclic Averub
Heasonably priced. \(476-2982\)

FOR RENT B13 Constod Across From Womens Gym. Alt amenities, mid May tease \(52400+682-3304\)

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms, En.AAPTs Homes & Town Houses Evary thing yor want and rare for your buck
MOST INCLUDING
- Security Syatem with 1 " Dead Elt Locks
- Prices Ranging from \(5225-5375 / \mathrm{mc}\)
- Remodeled Full Custom Kitchon/Baths Kitchens include: Gourtmet Self-cleaning ovens, - Waill to Whall Carpets 8 Padding (ilke home) - Laundry Facillties on Premises - Off-street Parking
- Sucar Insubn Mainterrance - Super Insulated (means kew utilises) - Sale Areas within Winlidititios 8 Fistance to Cind Such as " Comstock. Ostrom, Hatrison, Midison. Wentropt Clarandon, Ackerman, Livingston. Lancaster

\section*{CALL 478-6504}
to check out your home
OPR Developers at Your trom home!

Five bedroom House Spacious five Bedroom, completely furnished House with front and rear porches. Living Room with fireplace. Eat-in Kitchen W/DISHWASHER and five large bedrooms, and TWO FULL Bathrooms. Off street parking with garage. FREE Laundry facility in building. CALL 430-5188
after 1:00 pm
Two Andraom Fall Semester 2000 Furnished. 4 Bcrm House \($ 300 \mathrm{~mm}\) and 3 borm llats \($ 250\) trm. Avan Aug. Vary nice. Walk to SU. FM Realiy
 University and Comstock Very close to Canpus

Westcotu Euctid renovated \(3+4\) bedroen avail \(6 / 1\) $550- \($ 720\) PIM
Three Bedroom Apsitme
Spacsus tree Beadroom Aporitment
Five bedrocon House

University Ave. Jive bedroom House one block rom Marshald Street furnished laundry parixing lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utilitios D.N. H rucker \(445 \cdot 1229\)

\section*{L(.)(.)K Safe & Secure}

Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175 For details

Apartmentr ciose to compus dean 2-3-5 bedroms some with fireplace laundry, parking

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST APARTMEMTS AND \(45,6,7\) BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
Two Bedroom Apartments on Euclid Fumished Heat induded, trardwood iloors, porth, recently remodeled, laundry, parking. \(476-2982\) University Ave. Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk o Carmpus lurnished laundy parking lease sa75.06
1-2-3 Bedroom Apartments. Beautilul, Spacious, Ottstreet Patking. Fully Furnished. Low Utililiss, Sato. Cuiet Close \(476-0295\) sio. Guel Closa 4760zs

The "Pink Pataco" 5 Br, house adjacent to Fio

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, \\ security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

\section*{Ackerman Ave, 4br 2iBath apt. Furristhed, carpeled, walk :o campus. We:l traintained} carpeled, walk to campus.
\(5 / 00-5 / 01\) lease 446.7202

4Eedrooms, OaklandSt.. TBiock ESF, 3Blocks Lawt Hospitals, lurnished, parking, taundry. KensingtonPlace 1 sifloar large 3eedroorn Igtivingrom Dinirghoom ModernKitchen dishwasher microwave disposal fixeplace dishwasther microwave disposal fixeplac hardwoodF/cors porches nearBusline
 Call7am-9pm 247.7851 or \(4260-1884\)
Unversity nicery fumistied quiet 1.2 .3 tediooms patking uilities inclused. Crose Walk SU hospitals 478 -2642

\section*{Apartments}

\section*{**********************}

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
2 Bedroom furnished apartment with al utilities incteded' \($ 240.00\) per person. One mila from campus. La undry, Parking. May + Augusi leases.
446 -9598
t.1/2 Bedroom attic apartment on quiet street Unfurnished. Air condilicned wall to watt carpet new appliances. Sutiable tor single or coupte. Avaidable appliances. Sutitable tor single or couple. Availablis June 15 t \($ 35000\) per month plus utitities. June 15 st 5350.00 per menth plus utidities.
One yearieaso. No Pets \(243-0754\)

502Clesendon large ciean 2Bedroom tlat harowood floors porch olf-strees parking 1yr lease security
640 includes heat \(446-6928\)

SumnerAve and LancesterAve three bedroorns apaniment also two bedroonss semi furnishod avail able now call 445-1027
PRIVATE FURNISKED STUDIO APTS.
\(10 t 1\) E.Adams
Carpeted, Air Conditianed. Furnlshed, Secure, Lauthdry, Parking, Mairtenance.

University Area Apts.
\(479-5005\)
www.universityarea.com
204 Ostrom Efficienty One and 2Bedroon Secure Avait Jurne 446-5186

\section*{TOAD HALL}
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air Conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Compenitive rents. 302 Marshali St Univerrity Aravivie. 479-5005
 Laundy Catper Harat

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM PARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE} AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area
Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Three Bedroom Apartrments, Two porches. laundry catpe! harnwhood lisocrs. Extra, roorn, targ

\section*{collegehome}

THREE BEDROOMS
BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
CALL JOHN or JUDY
478-7548

Large clean 3Bedroom itats Westcott. Broad \(S\) area. Hardwood floors, porches, tyr iease security \($ 660 \% 446-9928\)
1.2,3,4 85 Bdrm Apartments. Housest Studios Clean, Spacious, Superior Condition, some recently renova
parking 474 - 6791

Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance s.U. off street parking, Laundry. Call 47\%-2982

Great University Area Beaunitul
Modern 182 Edrm Apts for 2000 .
 (AC, Dishwasher) Heat/hot Watas inc.
Socure Buildings Whntercoms, Door Socure Buildings Whntercoms, Door
Roteases. Custom Blinds, Porch or Patio

One bedroom studio apartment, very large, on blook from eampus, lots of dosej space. Surnishoc, wis kitchen, hull bath, parking $475/mo plus utiks. 423 -083

Two Bedroom Apartments
With utilities included, Fireplact,
Furnished, Hantwood Floors and Furnished, Handwood Floors and Carpaing, Pantry, Porch, Landry, Parking,
Elose to Campuz. Call Gordon. 476-2982
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT, TWO FULL BATHS EUCLD AVE. FREE HEAT great location 476-9933 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Bedroom Apt \\
Ackorman Ave 6-1-00 \\
Fully Furnisthed Porches, Limidry Parking, Dishwatatior Owritr manger 682.2718
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{BATTLE}
ontinued from page 20 versity. Once again, those reams won't materialize in Syractuse

It's been a great two years ring Race for the Cases and Battle for the Bottles. Thanks all of my loyal readers and ll the greatyuys at the D.O past and present) for the pportunity and the fun. Remember - you can't always pay back, but you can always pay forward.

I'll leave you all with a quick coach's analysis of the

I want the ball in his hands with the game on the line - Mateen Cleaves (Michigan State)

I want him to guard other eam's best scorer - Mike Kelley (Wisconsin)

I'll turn him loose if he gets hot

I would love to have this freshman on my team Joseph Forte (North Carolina)

I want him to take the game-winning shot - Morr Peterson (Michigan State)

I think his contributions A.J. Granger (Michigan State) I hope he takes better care f the ball in crunch time Ed Cota (North Carolina)

\section*{Men's Final Four}

\section*{Michigan State ( -8.5 ) vs.} Wisconsim

Sat., April 1 at 5:40 p.m There slittie need for Spartans coach Tom Izzo or Badger's boss Dick Bennett to watch film of their opponent his week. The teams hav already played each ot Michigan State swept the series.

Wisconsin's blue-collar basketball might not be the nost exciting brand to watch, throughout the tournament. The Badgers have a defensive stopper in Kelley, who held Purdue's Jaraan Cornell to ust three points on 1-for-9 shooting in the West Regional final. Wisconsin also has a guy to knock down the clutch jumper, Jon Bryant. He hit six 3 -pointers in the win over the Boilermakers. Up front Andy Kowske and Mark Vershaw are physical and The The Badgers will try to slow the game down, but look Spartans Spartans to push to push up the up the floor when the opporthe opportunity ar Michigan State. veteran point guard Cleaves. The Spartans' biggest strength is rebounding.

Tar Heels survived the South Region by winning four game in a row for the first time this Final Four for the third in four years. He's the first in four years. He's the first and hardwood - Jutius Peppers. As a defensive end, the G-foot-6 270 -pounder led the UNC football team in sacks pals are thinkine about ball pals are thinking about spring practice, Peppers pre pares for the Final Four. reboun point the eight rebounds for the Tar Heels in their Tulsa quar If not for a Mike Miller buzzer-beating shot against Butler, the Gators been bounced in the first round and watched the rest of the tournament from Gainesville. Thanks to Miller's heroes, Florida lived to play another day, and anoth another. Surprisingly, Billy Donovan's exciting squad had more rouble with the No. 12 seed Bulldogs seed Duke, No. 3 seed Oklahoma State and No. 5 seed Illinois. I guess that's the glory of March Madness. Baby pools have a problem with Donovan's Gators do not. Florida

NCAA player ever to have 1,000

Andre
Hutson Heterson and Granger form a sold front line that also has scoring ability. Peterson's 21 points against Syracuse and 18 points against lowa State were both team highs. Granger scored 37 combined points in those two games while Hutson dded 28.

Of the four teams left Michigan State has the best overall talent. The Spartans have also proved they can come from behind in the second half. If the Badgers play their rame and hit some shot their game and hit some shots, they have a chance.

Florida (-4.5) vs. North Caroma
Led April 1 at 8:10 p.m.
Cota and freshman Forte, the

\section*{SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS}

604 Walnut Ave.
2,3, AND 4,
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furnished. Rents floors. Wall to wall carpet Flats. Townhousas. Remodeled kitchens and attrs. Distweashers. Porches. Laundry. Parking. 24 hour maintenance. Wum_universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005
\[
2 \text { Bedroom A0s } 202,204 \text { Ostrom, } 105 \text { Euclid } \] Aup Large Rooms Hardrood Fboors Avail June A.

Aparment 4Br. 2lual bath t.place hewod floor andicomporch tree laundry availabio \begin{tabular}{l}
Junergor \\
\(445-1951\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
Looking for a place to tive? wwwhousing101.net. Free roommatia sublet listings

\section*{One Bedroom Apartments,} some with 9 month leases. launcry. quiet building, close to cempus 476-2982

One Bedrocom Aparturents Clowe to Campurs parking, very daan, laundry Cail Gortoni \(476-2982\).

Available for 2000-2001 ully Fumished, Laund ainternance and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet andlor
Refinished Hard Wood Floors Relinished Hard Wood Floors

\section*{University Area Apts 011 E. Adams St. #30 479-5005} www.universityarea.com

Iniversity 283 Bedroom Townthouses 8 Flats. nexpersivive and mint condition. WasherDorye Freplace,finished besement, Call 449-0109 3 Bedroon Modern Apartment on Adcermal Avenue. 5220.00 per person plus utbities.
Availabie June 1 st 2000 . Some oft Street Parking Frae Laundry'. Serious Students Prelerrad. No Pre 254-0035

Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT

PERSONS. FREE HEAT GREA
LOCATION \(476-9933\)

Ournished Apartments. Corner of Walnut and Hamison Averues. Leaces Commence Jure 2000 Last Month and Security No Pets AN Graduates Preterred Call 42 -7755

\section*{FOUR BEDROOM Furnished, Dishwasher, iwo Porches, Off Street Parking, Laundry, Carpet, Handwod fions 476-2982}

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts
dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Large 3 bedroom. 2 fust bath, Wajking distance
Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom flat. furnished, stove, relng, laundry, fireplacti, garage.
Avail June 1 1st 446-4229

\section*{Euclid and}

Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch Beautiful Condition June & August lease Ben Tupper 637-0978

4Bedroorms tumisherd flat with all utilities induded!
One block from campus near Law School +ESF 2 One block from campus near Law School +ESF 2 full bathrooms, carpet, latndry, parking.
Mayer Auguser \($ 305\) per person, 446-9598

\section*{Houses}

Charming English Tudor Housa on Comstock 6 Bedrooms, Fireplace, across irom Womens Bidg.

\section*{RENTYOUR OWN HOME} FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM FUOUSETWO FIREPLACES, 476-9933 snubbed about getting left out of the NCAA Tournament. The way they're playing, they may have a point. Notre Dame blew IT ennis Tro Murphy led NIT semis. Troy Murphy eight rebounds.

Wake Forest had a much tougher go in the semis, edgng out North Carolina State 2-59 in overtime. Darius Songaila paced the Demon Deacons with 18 points. Wisconsin and North Carolina made it into the NCAA made it into the NCAA Tournament, Notre Dame got Tournament, Notre Dame got well the Fighting Irish have been playing lately, who knows - maybe if they had made the Big Dance, they'd be in Indianapolis right now nstead of Manhattan.
Pick: Wake Forest

\section*{Women's Final Four}

Tennessee ( -9.5 ) vs. Rutgers
Fri., March 31 at 7 p.m. Final Foury Vols head to the six years. Despite playing with sprained ankle, Tennessee's Tamika Catchings still finished with seven points and 16 rebounds in the Lady Vols last win over Texas Tech.

Rutgers makes its first trip to the Final Four, but it's not the first for coach \(C\). Vivian Stringer. She's been there before with Cheyney State and Iowa. Shawnetta Stewart's 22 points helped the Scarlet Knights take out Georgia in the West Region Pick: Tennessee

Penn State vs.
Connecticut (-11)
Fri., March 31 at 9:30 p.m. The Lady Huskies make their fourth Final Four appearance. Svetlana Abrosimova led the Huskies with 25 points in their East Regional Final win over LSU Penn State's makes its first trip to the national semi finals. Lisa Sheperd paced the Nittany Lions with 25 points in their last win Louisiana Tech.

Pick: Connecticut
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

LOOKATTHIS! Spadious six bedroomm Furnisthed House, Wldishwasher and six lime bedroons and wowshwasher and six lang tbedroons and WOO tuat baltrooms Ot street parking with garcat. Washer and dryar in buidang.

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTINN OF 3 日EDRGOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

\section*{NOTES}

No. 15 Syracuse 16 Colgate
Orangewomen (3-3) player
Healy
Hable
Hable
Hanover
Hanover
Soults
Wayne
S. Brow
M. Brown
M. Brown
DeRosa

DeRosa
Stock
\(\begin{array}{lrl}\text { Red Raiders (1-3) } & \\ \text { player } & \text { p } & \text { a } \\ \text { Manzella } & 4 & 0 \\ \text { Currier } & 2 & 0 \\ \text { Darrow } & 1 & 0 \\ \text { Esposito } & 1 & 0 \\ \text { Moll } & 0 & 1\end{array}\)

\section*{Orangemen Statistics} player
Powell
Springer
Banks
Coffman
Caione
Hardy
Kennedy
Wright
Ceglia
Byrnes
Januszkiewicz
Januszkiewicz
Darcangelo
Russell Perritt

\section*{Johnson jumping}

Cincinnati freshman DerMarr Johnson will forgo his final three seasons to enter June's NBA
Johnson, the Conference USA Freshman Conference USA Freshman of the Year, averaged 12.6 points this season for the ward sat out a game earlier this season a game earlier ound he received benefits found he received benefits Other players to declare for the NBA Dratt include: for the NBA Drath includ St. John's sophomor Muard Erick Barkley. ter Joel Przybilia and indian Hills (lowa) Community College sophomores Ernest Brown and Cory Hightower.

> DePaul's Paul

McPherson also is expected to declare, according to ESPN.com.

\section*{Self-serving}

Tulsa coach Bill Self will interview for the vacancy at Nebraska days after report\($ 800,000\) per year contract extension from the Golden Hurricane. Since the the team lost an Elite Eight game to North Carolina on Thursday. Self has attended the funeral of a family member and coped with the loss of three seniors.
"My situation here is that l'm emotional righ now." Self said. haven't slept in three weeks.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. What is Syracuse's single-game goal record for women's lacrosse? yesterday's trivia: Q. Who holds the college lacrosse record for assists over a career? A. Tirn Nelson, who played for Syracuse for three seasons, had 225.

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange March 30, 2060 20

\section*{SU trounces Colgate}

Syracuse's Stacey Brown certainly was a marked worran, as three Colgate playerss chase her. Arrf that's what the Red Raiders were doing all Wednes day night - chasing the Orangewomen. SU dominated Colgate on the offensive end in a \(16-8\) win at the Carrier Dome.

BY ALISON HISCHAK
Staff Writer
If anyone wondered how quickly Syracuse midfielder Karen Healy would return to form after missing last season for personal reasons, they need only look at the Orangewomen's statistics.

Healy sat at the top of the scoring charts with 11 goals and five assists entering SU's game with Colgate on Wednesday night.

The junior midfielder only increased her lead in the offensive department, erupting for five goals and one assist and spurring Syra cuse's 16-8 victory at the Carrier Dome. said. "But having that year off made, Healy said. But having that year off made mevery what I didn't have while I wasn't playing" What I didn't have while I wasn't playing. made an immediate impact against the Red Raiders (1-3) Healy took a feed from er Kara Hanover breaking through the mid

\section*{Orange frosh contribute \\ BY CHRIS SNOW}

Sami Stock is one of many freshmen contributing to SU's three-game winning streak.

Staff Writer
The Orangewomen's quietest player made the most noise on Wednesday night at the Carrier Dome

With just over 10 minutes re maining in the \(16-8\) women's lacrosse win over Colgate, soft-spoken 5 -foot-6 freshman Jessica Trombley bodied a Colgate player defensively, drawing a penalty for dropping the Red Raider attacker to the Dome turf.
"It was great," said backup goalie Carla Gigon, who saw her first action since No. 15 SU's loss to Georgetown on March 8. -I was so pumped because she's the quietest girl in the world, nd she decked her (opponent)."

That type of aggressive play, while it may not directly benefit the Orproach the core of SU's freshmen have prought to the team.

See FROSH page 16
dle of the defense and scoring to give Syracuse a 2-1 lead with 25:28 left in the first half. 1 lead with 25.28 lent

Two minutes later, Healy blew past Colgate defenders in transition and passed on from five yards out.
(Healy) should be one of the best attackers in the country," SU head coach Lisa Miller said. "Unfortunately, we didn't have

See ERUPTION page 14

\section*{Final weekend gives Battlers one last hope \\ \\ Other than Nike's clever and enter} \\ \\ Other than Nike's clever and enter} taining Bracketvile advertising campaign, this has been a relatively uneventful

> NCAA Tournament. Sure, it's a little surStalzer \(\quad \begin{aligned} & \text { prising seeing Wisconsin }\end{aligned}\) and North Carolina in battle for the Final Four, but I'm the bottles not as shocked as some people. Before the tour-

See BATTLE page 19

Singular SENSATION
First-year players puts on "A Chorus Line" next week. See Lifestyle.

Iron Mike
Sophomore Mike Springer helps lead the Orangemen lacrosse attack.
See Sports.

\section*{Acting for women}

Performers with the Paul Robeson Performing Ars Company act in a production of "All Life... One Lffe...One Circle" at 7:30 Thursday night in Gofdstein Auditorium. The event inciuded poetry, music, dance and storytalling to celebrate black women as part of Women's History Month.

\section*{Students press Shaw}

GYou don't just barge into someone's office unexpected and expect to have an audience. That's just not the American way. \({ }^{5}\)

ROBERT ROBINSON
su Public Saftey director

BY HOLLY AUER AND MAGIN MCKENNA Staff Editors

Braving a torrent of sleet and wind, members of the Student Coalition On Org: mized Labor marched Thursday across the Syracuse University Quad in protest of their latest loss in a string of anti-sweatshop battles.

SCOOL organized the protest in response to the outcome of a Wednesday meeting with SU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw, said Marik: Wissink, a serior music major and the sole student member of the university's Trademark Licensing Advisory Board.

During the meeting, Shaw balked at SCOOL's call for SU to join the Worker Rights Consortium, Wissink said. The consortium is an independent organization that aims to verify and inspect conditions in factories that manufacture parel for colleges and universities, she added. Sweatshop Free, Sign On To The WRC," and chanting for fair labor, the group gathered at the

See RALLY page 3

\section*{Vera uses ribbons to prevent abuse}

\section*{BY IOHN ARWEILER}

Staff Writer
On the eve of White Ribbon Week Nancy Kolb, an educator for the Vera House service for battered women, said Thursday that domestic violence is more prevalent than commonly believed.

You don't hear about the issue a lot , "said Kolb, a graduate student in the public administrations program. "You don't talk about the issue a lot. It happens to people I know. It happens to people you know."

Three senior public relations students, Carolina Chavez, Tracie English and Monica Geula, invited the speaker as a project for their PRL 325 campaigns

See VIOLENCE page 8

Nancy Kofb an educator at the Vera House service for battered women. House service for battered women, speaks about domestic violence Thursday night in the Maxwell Auditorium

\section*{City Affairs}

\section*{Nuclear buyouts find opposition}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Staff Writer

The nuclear power industry is placing Central New York residents in danger, said Tim Judson of the region's Citizen's Awareness Network.

Judson spoke Thursday in front of Syracuse City Hall during a press conference used to begin the network's new campaign. A sign reading "Who ya gonna call? Nuke Busters!" hung from his podium.

The campaign aims to prevent multinational corporations from buying New York state nuclear reactors and to warn residents of the buyouts, he said.
"We are concerned about the threat of nuclear power in our neighborhood," Judson said.

With about a dozen supporters - including a man dressed as a cat - cheering him on, Judpoul Revered the campaign to Paul Rever

Ther.
The nuclear power market is undergoing deregulation, which longer have control of the price onger have control of the price thaid Deb Katz of CAN In the past, all price changes were montored and needed approval by the Private companies will now have control of the prices, she added.

AmerGen and Entergy are negotiating with the state's Nuclear Regulatory Commission to buy several upstate plants.

AmerGen is in the process of buying two Nine Mile Point plants, both in Oswego. Entergy already controls the Fitzpatrick plant in Oswego and the Indian Point plant in Buchanon, Katz said.

The reactors are being sold for far less than they are worth she said. Pilgrim, a reactor in Massachusetts, valued at more than \($ 400\) million, was sold to Entergy for \($ 23\) million, she added.
"These reactors are going dirt-cheap," she said.

The companies do not have the interests of the community in mind, she said. They only care fror the profits they can mak from their acquisitions, she

The deregulation is an effort to improve the energy industry and give customers a choice in their power company Katz said The sale of New York' state's nu clear reactors is result of this See NUKES page 4
 Susan Griffin, of the Chenango North Energl Awareness Group, protests the deregulation of the nuclear power industry Thursday morning at City Hall.

\section*{n Student Government}

\section*{Centro agrees to extend Bird Library runs}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Centro buses will no longer leave stu dents stranded after late nights in Bird Li brary, said Jamal James, Student Government Association president.

Students will now be able to catch a later bus home from the library after the study area closes, he snid.

James, a junior musical theater major, met with the University Senate Public Safety and Transportation Board on Thursday to discuss problems with the campus Centro Bus
\({ }^{\text {"I }}\) Igot to present to them SGA's concerns with the transportation systern," he said. "They loved every one of my ideas."

The last Centro bus to South Campus from Bird Library previously left at 2:30 a.m See CENTRO page 3

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Comedians Jim Carroll and Dave Cooperman perform at 8 p.rm at Viva Debris Comedy and Magic Club at the Hotel Syracuse. There will be an addiadmission information call 474 0969.
- Drumlins Country Club hosts a first-year semiformal entitled "Millennium Masquerade" be bought for $10 at first-year dining halls and from 11 a-m. to 3 p.m. Thursday and Friday in \({ }^{3}\) p.mine.
\(\square\) The School of Social Work aponsors a workshop regarding AAdvanced Skills of Group Pracfrom 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. a the Goldstein Student Center Call 443-9723 for registration information.
- Ann Johnson from the Environmental Systems Research Institute, Inc., speaks from noon to 2 p.m. in Bird Li brary, Room 1916, regarding the use of Geographic Information Systems in academic settings.
- The Music Industry Students Association sponsors a concert with live student performances at 8 p.m. in Crouse College's Setnor Auditorium.
\(\square\) James Neal of Johns Hopkins University speaks of "The Copyright Wars and the American University: Defining the Mission, the Tactics and the Enemy" at 10 a.m. in Bird Library, Room 1916.
- Schine Student Center hosts La Lucha Cultural Night with speakers, performances and Latino food at 7 p.m. in Goldstein Auditorium. Admission is \($ 10\).

\section*{TODAY-SATURDAY}
- UU Cinemas presents "Sleepy Hollow" at 7 and \(9: 30\) p.m. in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is \($ 3\). The film, "Go," follows at midnight at no charge.

EArchbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. and feathe Gym until 2 a.m. and feature open recreation, free aeroture open recreation, f bics, games and more.

\section*{TODAY-SUNDAY}
- Syracuse Stage presents "A Raisin in the Sun" at 8 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St, and 4 and \(8: 30\) p.m. Friday. The Sunday show time is 2 p.m. Tickets are $15-$38, discounts for students, seniors and groupa. Call 4433275 for more information.
[dö]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Symacuse University's academic year yy The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distributed on campus with the firs five copies complementary and each ditional copy costr \($ 1\). Management 443-9798 \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Business } & 443-2314 \\ \text { Newr } & 443-2127\end{array}\) Newz 443-2127
Lifestyle 43-2128 \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Lifestyle } & 43-2128 \\ \text { Sports } & 443-2208\end{array}\)
Photography 443-9795

Online wwwdailyorangercom

\section*{More Ugandan dead uncovered}

RUSHOWJA, Uganda Ugandan police pulled another 80 bodies from yet another mass grave today, bringing to at least 724 the members of a dooms cult found dead this month.

Three quarters of the corpses recovered today from a tightly packed pit were female, including 27 girls. Neighbors said the house at the grave site served as a transient housing base for itinerant members of base for itinerant members of the Movernet for the Restoration of the Ten Commandments tion of the Ten Commandments failed politician, Beveral

At least 330 members of the \section*{Bus didn't stop before crash}

TENNGA, Ga. - A locomotive engineer sounded the horn reinto a school bus at Tennea, Ga. on Tuesday, but evidence is mounting that the bus did not stop at the rural crossing as required by state law, sourses close to the investigation said Thursday. A 6-year-old girl and a the collision, and a 9 -year-old girl died later at a hospital. Three other students were injured, including the bus driver's daughter, the Associated Press reported.

The crossing near the Ten-nessee-Georgia border had no lights or automatic gates, but a bus driver who arrived a few minutes after the accident told the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Free Press that there was sufficient visibility to see trains approaching. He noted, though, that the approach to the railroad crossing was down a steep hill.

The National Transportation Safety Board and state officials are investigating the crash, aided by both an "event recorder" on the lo comptive and a video camera that bus.

\section*{world news}
cult perished in a March 17 fire at the church's main compound in southwestern Uganda. That incident was thought to be a mass suicide- leaders had repeatedly predicted the end of peatediy predicted the end of 31, 1999- until dead bodies began turning up on other church
Japan's volcano begins to rumble

TOKYO - A nervemracking volcano watch went into its fifth day Friday on Japan's northern island of Hokknido, as cracks opened in Mount Usu and more than 100 quakes or tremors every hour shook the aren. About 11,000 people have been evacuated from homes at base of the mountain.

The size and frequency of tremors have grown daily since magnitude of four or hir of a recorded Thursday. The buildup is already longer than before Mount Usu's last eruptions, in 1977-78, leading officials to expect an eruption of greater force. Mudslides killed three people the last time.

Hiromu Okada of the Usu Volcano Observatory surveyed Thursday and reported 100 yard long cracks appearing on its Officials expes.
ger zone Thursday as the SelfDefense Forcea helped truck people out of the area. people out of the area.

\section*{McCain forfeits delegates to Bush}

LANSING, Mich. - John Mc-ain is giv delegates he won in Michigan allowing Gov. John Engler to attend the National Republican Convention as a Bush delegate.
The agreement, announced Thurs agreement, announced ward GOP reconciliation after the rough primary struggle. six delegates to add to the six the Texas governor won in the Feb. 22 Michigan primary, leav ing the Arizona senator with 46 of the state's 58 . McCain has of the state's 58. McCain has suspended his campaign, and Bush has won enough delegates to clinch the nomination. to clinch the nomination.

The move will allow Enler, a top Bush supporter, to attend the convention as a Bush delegate

McCain won Michigan 51 percent to 43 over Bush, largely on the strength of independent and Democratic voters who supported him in the open primary. But he couldn't sustain his moMentum two weeks later in the March 7 Super Tuesday primaries and suspended his cammaries paign.

CENTRO
continued from page 1
- the same time the library closed, James said. Many students were not able to catch the bus when they stayed at the library until closing time, he added.

After a 90 -minute discussion, James said he convinced members of additional minutes after the library's closing time. SGA Assemblyman Adam Duffy said the association will endeavor to improve other Centro bus services to South Campus and the Carousel Center, as well.

Many students complained that after going to late movies on the weekend, they have to take a cab back to campus, Duffy said. "We have a lot of issues to deal with with bus services," said Duffy.
a freshman in the College of Visual and Performing Arts. "It's one of the main concerns on campus. As long as we keep working on it we can do something."

Another student concern the Assembly plans to address is limited busing to South Campus on weekends and late on weoknights.

The last bus to South Campu on weekdays leaves at 3:30 a.m from College Place. This does not accommodate many students, Assemblyman David Gaulin said.

That's something that's been brought up a number of times by people who live on South Campus," people who live on South Campus, College of Arts and Sciences. "For safety and convenience, this is something that SGA has been focusing on."

Gaulin added that SGA also is hopeful to extend the hours of the Goldstein Student Center's comput er lab so that students do not have to commute to North Campus to wor n one of the 24-hour computer labs.

SGA is also working to add services at times during the day when buses are extremely crowded he added.

The officials that we work with are cooperating, Gaulin said. They werent aware at how severe the problem was."

\section*{RALLY}
continued from page 1
Tolley Administration Building and shouted their complaints toward the windows of Shaw's office.
"We're paying him a shitlond of money," Wissink shouted to the group of about zo students. "I don't want my money going to suppor children being exploited.
"This is supposed to be a stu-dent-centered university. But right now, it's a Shaw-centered universinow."

Around 2:30 p.m., the protesters entered Tolley, said Ben Tevelin, a member of the Syracuse chapter of Research Group.

Pairs of students carrying two petitions each - totaling 1,200 signatures - entered Shaw's office and presented their requests to his secphy major-

A public safety official halted the protest after 20 minutes by barring the students from continuing to enter the office, Tevelin said.

Two more Public Safety officers arrived on the scene, including Robert Robinson, SUS Public Safety director, who then locked the door to the chancellor's office. The doors were locked to protect the Tolley staff, Robinson said.
'You don't just barge into someone's office unexpected and expect to have an audience," Robinson said.

Protesters criticized the way.
Protesters criticized the decision to lack the toors and accused the university of symbolically "shutting out" students' concerns. lous," Tevelin said. "There was threat to any people or property It threat to any people or property. It was a peacerul, non-viole that to his But Robinson said that to his knowledge the stud the to bring the protest from the Quad into the administration building.
"Marching inside Tolley is out.
realm of their authority," he said. "We certainly dicin't want to prohibit these young people from expressing their ideas and concerns."

SCOOL continued its antiday night outside Hendricks Chapel.

\section*{Administration responds}

Shaw issued a statement Thursday afternoon detailing the university's membership in the Fair Labor Association
"At this time, SU will remain a member of the FLA, along with 133 other colleges and universities," according to the statement. "At the same time, we will give due consid sortium once that ortanization has sortium, once that organization has ecome a functioning entity

Shaw lef the city of Syracuse shortly after issuing the statement and could not be reached for comment.

The FLA is a non-profit organization established to protect the rights of apparel and footwear workers in the United States and abroad, SU Spokesman Kevin Morrow said,

Among the companies included in the FLA are Nike, L.L. Bean, Lee Gifford, Levi Strauss and Co. and Reebok.

The university believes the FLA has strong leadership in place," Morrow said. "It is committed to working with manufacturers to introduce change in the workplace."

The protesters urged the university to break from the FLA because it is funded by the corporations, said Kevin Cooney, a NYPIRG coordinator and senior television, radio and film major.

Twenty-nine colleges and universities across the country have signed on to the WRC, including Cor nell University, Brown University, ndiana Universicy, University of Michigan and Ohio.

The university hasn't said 'No' to the WRC," Morrow said. "We're seeking more information as to make an informed decision."

Because the WR
Because the WRC is a fairly new organization and lacks an organizational structure, Morrow said SU is reluctant to join.

The Trademark Licensing Adisory Board recently invited a WRC representative to campus to discuss potential involvement with the organization, Morrow said. The WRC rejected the invitation because SU would not agree to sign onto the organization prior to the visit, Morrow said.

\section*{New Formals 8 Jewelry}

Biggest Selection in Syracuse $50-$150 \(\approx B O D\) BABIES on Westcott
(off Euclid - minates form campus) 472-1949 \(M_{o n}-S_{\text {ot }} 11-7 \mathrm{pm}\)
\(S_{u n} 12-5 \mathrm{~mm}\)

But WRC Coordina tor Maria Roeper denied the university's claims. That's not true at New York City office ' \(W\) New York ity ouce. We would never not send a representarsity is not signed on."

\section*{Lock down}

Following protest, Tolley was closed protest, Tolley was closed to non-staff members uled appointments.

Shaw met with Student Government Association President Jamal James later in the day for a pre-scheduled meeti
 Marika Wissink and other members of the Student Coalition On Organized Labor protest st's alleged involverment with sweathop tabor Thursday afternoon near the Tolley Administration Building

Shaw discussed the students' con"To ask a major university to be a part of something that is not structured is a bit excessive. James said. "The chancellor un derstands hatr is bers. has to do what is for the un But

But Wissink said she doubts the chancellor's sincerity in hearing arguments in favor of the WRC. As the adivisory board's stu dent representative, Wissink saic she thinks the administrative board members perceive her as "token."

You can make as much noise as you want," Wissink said. "But they're telling us outright tha they won't listen. Chancellor Shaw said yesterday that he makes the final decision.
the is he answering to. if not the students."

\section*{Please send me a Pace summer class schedule}
Name:
SS# (optional)

College currently attending
Address:
City/state/xip :
\(\qquad\)
\(\qquad\)

City/state/xip : \(\qquad\) E-mail address

\section*{Area of interest}

Locanion: aNew York City Downtoun Campus
DPleasanwille Campus
0 White Plains Graduate Center
\(\square\) Graduate programs \(\square\) Undergradate programs
['m interested in living on campus
Niail coupon to: Pace University Admission Information Center
1 Pace Plaza, New York, NY 10038
Or facsimite to: 212-346-1821

\title{
Syracuse auditor encourages community revival
}

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPONE}

Asst. News Editor
The days of families and friends taking long walks through downtown Syracuse are gone, said City Auditor Minch Lewis, a 34-year resident of Syracuse.

There's a new environment for things now. Absolutely everything is different, Lewis said at a Thursday Morning Round table discussion. We dont stroll down Salina Strect anymore. We stroll through cyberspace."

Lewis spoke to an audience of about 120 community leaders and citizens on current problems in local governments at the discussion in Drumlins Country Club 800 Nottingham Rd.

The new societal environment has greatly reduced the amount of personal contact people have with each other, Lewi said. These days it is possible to do almos anything on the Internet and as a result personal relationships suffer, he added.

And when personalirelationships surfer, the workings and efficien ment rapidly follow, he said.

Lewis added that dwelling on the Lewis added that dwelling on the ay things were in Syracuse more than way things were in Syracuse more than 30 years ago will achieve little progress. 30 years ago will achieve little progress.
The focus of government must now be on The focus of government must now be on quality of life, he explained.

We must bring those technological advinces together in a context for human development," he said. "When we look around our city, we cansee, it seems to me, many cases where we havent done that. where the changes have overwhelmed us."

By examining the city's past, officials can measure where Syracuse has gone and ensure the community is strengthening, Lewis said.

Comparing the present to the past also allows officials to learn where mistakes are made and to learn from them he added.

We can paint the picture of the future with some of the best pieces from the past," Lewis said. "We need the benchmarks so we have a reference point so we can judge how far we've come or how far the quality of life."

Syracuse can then solve its upcoming debate on how to distribute Onondaga County's 3 percent sales tax among the county, the city, the towns and villages and the school districts, he said.

Every 10 years, the Onondaga County Legislature convenes a sales tax commission to help the body decide how to carve up the sales tax revenue.

Under the current formula, the county receives about 38 percent of the revenue, the city gets about 26 percent, the and the county's school districts receive and the county
To fairly distribute the more than \($ 175\) million the county collects in sales tax each year, legislators and members of tax each year, legislators and members of takes and progress that the 1990 commission made.
"It's an opportunity for statesmanship, but it's also an opportunity for the narrowest brand of politics," Lewis said. "The community is being put to the test with this."

Dennis Connors, a Syracuse resident, agreed with Lewis' opinions about the sales tax debate, but said the county legislature's current.structure is illequipped to deal with an sue 24 -mem. the sales tax distribution. The 24 -member legislature is too large and too diverse to arrive at a meaningrul consensus, he said.

It's tough to get 24 people to agree on anything," Connors said. "Everybody's kind of figh sales tax pie.

Connors suggested that a smaller nine-person legislature would deal with broad issues, such as the sales tax, more effectively.

Under the current system, if the constituents in a legislator's district tell them through letters and phone calls that they do not care about the city's portion of the sales tax, the legislator must reflect that sentiment if they want to win re-election, he said.

A smaller legislature with wider representation might eliminate some of the political games, he explained.
"It would allow for a much broader perspective," he said. "I run into people out in the villages and the suburbs who don't care about the city."

Lewis said the current structure of the legislature can work well, as long as officials pay more attention to developing stituents and each other.
I'm not sure that having a full-time legislature would increase the opportuni-

Minch Leuis, Syracuse city auditor, asks, area nesidents at a Thursday Moming Roundtable discussion to leam from the city's past to solve its current problems. Lewis spoke about issues such as the distribution of the Onondaga county sales tax at the discussion to an audience of about 120 at Drumins Country Club.
ty for these face-to-face interactions," he said. "But I think we all need to set a higher standard of what we expect from our elected officials.

The current debate on how to consolidate departments and operations among the city, county and school districts to improve efficiency and cut costs also provides a chance for citizens to live up to their constituents' expectations, said Sarah McIlvain of Syracuse.

McIlvain said some officials have hesitated in consolidating departments because they do not want to give up power reasons the officials give for not consoli dating however do not mirror their in tentions, she added.
"Some of the elected officials in the city of Syracuse claim they don't want any consolidation because they've worked so hard to represent minorities," McIlvain said. "They seem to think that consolidation would hurt that."

Lewis urged audience members to be cautious of issues such as consolidation.
Politicians often advocate these trends bePoliticians often advocate these trends because everyone else is talking about them, he added.
"Consolidation is a buzz word. We need to analyze the specific things werce talking about," he said. "I wouldn't put it in terms of a racial, minority or ethnic dynamic. We just need to create a governent that is close to the people.

Only a consistent philosophy or working for the needs of constituents and not for political gain will allow Syracuse and the rardless of any future problem, Lewis said.

The leaders, public and private, must help create a new social, economic and political environment that places above all else the promotion of human potential," he said. "We need a new approach, aimed at improving the quality of proach, aimed at

\section*{NUKES}
continued from page 1
cally for our safety to be endangered."
All of the reactors in New York state are in shambles, Katz poor economic and safety conditions make the reactors unsuitable for purchase, she added.

The reactors should not b sold, but shut down, Katz said. "These sites are basically pigstys at this point," she added. New Salem, Mass., attended the event under the pseudonym "No regard Wastemore" and was dressed in a cat tail and ears The character of Wastemore was supplied for comic relief, Jay said. \({ }^{4}\) I am a rich fat-cat and I have a vision. The vision is

\section*{just dive!}

Register for Fall 2000 Courses It's Safe - FUN - Affordable

PED 214
Snorkeling
PED 221
All Courses are One
The Natton's Leader in On Campus Un-
Beginner Scuba
PED 223
Underwater Photography

PED 225

nationalaguatic.com
1-80O-SEA-DIVE

The Syracuse University Drama Department Presents

\section*{BLOOD WEDDING}

\section*{by}

\section*{Federico Garcia Lorca}

\author{
Directed by Elizabeth Ingram
}

Mar. 31, Apr. 1, 5*, 6, \(7 & 8\) at 8 p.m.
Apr. 2 & 9 at 2 p.m.
*Apr. S pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517
Drama
Storch Theatre 820 E. Genesee St.
green," Jay said while flashing a role of imitation money. I want you to trust us. We are the rich people who have brought America gy consumption."

Susan Griffin, coordinator of Chenango North Energy Awareness Group, said she was concerned about the pollutants infecting the neighborhoods surrounding the reactors. Her organization has monitored New York state nuclear plants for 12 years.
"The best kept secret in nuclear power is that nuclear power releases radioactive waves into the community," Katz said.

New York state has one of the highest infant mortality rates in the country, Griffin said. This problem presents itself under the same premise that pregnant women should not

Simona Rock, a junior environmental science management and policy major in the State Uniand policy major in the State UniVersity of New York College of Forestry, said she wished for Syracuse University and ESF students to become more educated about the plant buyouts.
"I don't want the corporate power to take over," she said. \({ }^{\text {PPeople need to be aware of the }}\) fact that these places are running unsafely.'

Kelly Nagy, president of Student Environmental Action Committee and a senior environmental science major at ESF, also encouraged students to learn more and show their support. ways on SEAC-ers' minds," she said.

Easier to get than that first job.

Get into a new Oldsmobile with our Easy Financing for Graduates: That means no down payments when you purchase and no monthly payments for 90 days on eligible purchases. It's that easy. Head to your local dealer or check out GMGrad.com for all the details.

Oldsmobile, Official Cars for NCAA Championships GMAC must approve. Length of finance contract limited. Minimum amount financed required. May not be comb a registered service mark of the General Motors Acceptance not available with GMac martease or

\title{
How safe do you feel as a student at Syracuse?
}

Students respond to recent burglaries, thefts and assaults.

4 Public Safety does as much as they can without being overprotective. think students need to take more responsibility for worrying about getting themselves from Point \(A\) to Point B.

JUSTIN NUCCI Arts and Sciences Class of \({ }^{\circ} \mathrm{OO}\)

41'm getting so many parking tickets because 1 'm afraid to walk the two blocks home alone at night. 7

RACHEL MINES
Arts and Sciences Class of ' 00

G've been everywhere at all hours, and lve never really felt in danger. If you stay in groups, you'll be fine.?

CHRIS GOODING Engineering Class of 03

al don't feel safe at night. I have all of my guy friends walk me places.?
SHUMI MALHOTRA

\section*{Safety responsibility must be shared}

Q: Do you think students should fear for their safety on campus and around the uniA: I

A: I hate the cliche about having a false sense of security, but it's true. People don't realize the possibility of crimes until Sara ty of crimes until Naggar to people they know. My apartment was burglarized in November, and it really made me watch out for myself after that. I automatically lock my door behind me as soon as I get inside now, and I'm just much more aware of my suroundings.

You need to make those habits part of your mannerisms, and when you do, you won't even think twice about do that, but I think we can't risk it. but innk we can't risk it.

I want to tell people what happened to me because they'Il happened to me because theyll be more aware that it can hapbe more aware

Q: How much of a responsibility does \(S U\) have to protect its students?

A: While they're right about needing to lock up your doors and check your peephole, it shouldn't be purely the students' responsibilities to look out for themselves. We're paying money to go here and live here, and there's sort of a double standard. They can come in to your apartment on South Campus, or your room, South Campus, or your room, and check through your stuff, but then they expect you to protect yourself from intruders protect yourself from intruders that want to break in.

Q: Does the university do cnough to secure residence croug

A: People think it's a hassle to have to swipe their cards and check in with an RSA when they're coming in late at night, but that might be the only thing that keeps people safe. One of my favorite programs is when resident advisors go around to the rooms in the middle of the night and check locks. For every open door they find, they leave a note that says, "You've been robbed." I think that really helps teach people that they're always an easy target.

But really, you shouldn't have to feel in danger all the time when you're in a residence hall environment.

Sara Naggar is a sophomore newspaper major. She is Association President Hall Association president.

\section*{Syracuse police utilize sparse resources}

\begin{abstract}
Q: Is the Syracuse Univer sity area safe for students? A: Well, whenever there's a very large population of kids going to school alongside yearround residents, there's going to be more incidents of crime. I went through the univerSgt. by street and David checked the crime Sackett reports. People Sackett say there's a crime spree going on, but there's not. There was one robbery on Ackerman Avenue, and one beating of a student in her house early in the morning. But those were the only two major incidents, and they re definitely unrelated and theres no correlation be twaries and things that are go glaries and things that are go An

And students know that \end{abstract}
it's risky to leave their apartments unlocked, especially could very easily break in during breaks and vacations.

Q: How much patrol priority is the university area given throughout the week?
A. Everything is based on the workload. The officers have to respond to every call they get, and they can't leave one call to go investigate another one, so we have to call in someone else off another beat, which leaves a hole somewhere.
call the officers go from one call to another all over the place from the minute they get leave. The only thing else we could do - and it's else we ble - is to put a car on every corner.

We try to do the best we can with the resources we have.

Q: What is the purpose of the Neighborhood Patrol Ini the Neighorhood patrol In A: Initially, the patrol was established in response to complaints - quality of life calls who don't want noisy parties who don't want noisy parties going on all the time, and both sides of theirstreet things like that. But we hope that just the presence of the police being in the area, even if they're just breaking up parties, is a deterrent to any violent crime that's going on.

Sergeant David Sackett is the public information officer for the Syracuse Police Depart

4) feel safe here. I've never felt worried walking down the street or any thing, but maybe that's just because l'm a guy.'

DEREK FISCHBACH
Engineering Class of 'O2

61 don't think campus is too safe. I see blue lights going on form fromb Saty no one from Public Safety comes to

RACHEL PERZEN
Arts and Sciences Class of '03

It's scary to imagine who an get into the building at night when all that's stopping them is a halfasleep 18 -year-old girl sit ting at the desk.F

HEATHER IOSET
Newhouse
Class of ' 02

«People are just vulnerable. They don't think much before going out alone.
They just shouldn't do that. \({ }^{\prime}\)
JUSTIN SMALIY
Class of '01

\section*{Delegate reshuffle won't quiet McCain}
U.S. Sen. John McCain may be out of contention at the U.S.-presidential ballot box, but he won't let his influence fade into primary election antiquity.

The Republican presidential contender extended his first tenuous olive branch to Texas Gov. George W. Bush on Thursday, giving him six of the delegates he won in his Michigan primary victory in February.

The reshuffle leaves McCain holding 46 of the state's 58 delegates. It also guaranteed Michigan Gov. John Engler - who has been noted on the growing list of potential Bush running mates - a vote for Bush at the Republic National Convention.

McCain's initial campaign surge was obliterated by droves of voters in key states who supported Bush, the GOP's favorite son. But he'll still captivate an audience at this summer's Republican nominating convention.

Though delegate concessions are an inevitable part of the post-primary letdown, McCain refuses to concede all of his to the Republican Party's chosen candidate. In doing so, he retains a symbolic wisp of the fierce independence that carried his Straight Talk Express through the tough primaries.

McCain boasts a commanding presence and an irrepressible desire to serve the American people. He needs to use them in order to keep the party spirit alive and buck the status quo that Bush generally advocates.

Although he was forced to halt his bid for the White House, it is vital that McCain keep his hands in the Republican party ring. It's doubtful that he'll ever actively campaign for Bush, but McCain's strong support lobby is the perfect bargaining chip to use when trying to assimilate some of his agenda items into Bush's platform.

The Republican establishment may have tried to sideline McCain's insurgent cam paign, but the strength of his message endures even after the ballots have been cast.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthas Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Hopray Kollali
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director Photography Exitor Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor
Ast. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger Adeet Deshminukh
Nova Austraw Neva Austrow
Laura Prabucko Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Kevin Tampore Corey Harn Magin McKenna Connor Enmis Joft Panion Erin Boyle Elahre Skinner Tito Botitita Tom Mazon
Rachael Golden Lisa Caswell Ron Fooks

Asst. Copy Editor mavian forcion

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Hero worship of black athletes leads to alienation}

Several years ago, as an undergraduate at the University of Southern California, my sorority co-sponsored a dance party with a fraternity. I saw several memtoward our party, and upon reaching the entrance, one team member uttered, "How much for team

When we responded, the team member chuckled to himself and started toward the door, players in tow "The Low Down Posse doesn't pay for parties," he said. Within seconds, I was pushed down and trampled by team members; shortly thereafter, a brawl started. It wasn't the first members of the football team that had bullied their way into parties and starled fights. But as usual, campus security did little to stifle the LESLIE A. campus security did hittle to sainst team members were

\section*{GRINNER}

Black athletes are often treated as commodities perhaps to the point of veritable enslavement - by the capitalist university systems which offer them an education in exchange for athletic "services." But immunity from prosecution of inappropriate and unlawful behavior should not be part of this package.

When it is, in scuffles between black student athletes and black men who aren't athletes, the non-athletes are often most criticized. This was the case during last weekend's melee between members of SU's football team and a black fraternity.

Not all law enforcement officers feel compelled to comply with the "hands of" approach to atnletes that has been upheld by SU Public Safety. One member of the Syracuse Police Department told me that when members of the football team have been arrested, the university most often retains an attorney to rescue them before the ink has dried on a complaint.

I have pondered why black athletes target black fraternities nationwide. I believe that one answer can be found in looking at history. There was a time when black students rallied around black athletes as a form of support and celebration of the contributions they have made upheld as the "good blacks" of the campus community upheld as the good blacks of the campus community regardless of their actions, the sense of entitlement that often served to alienate them from the black community often ser

The accolades and "hero worship" awarded to black athletes by the larger university community isn't often athetes by the larger university community isn't of seen within the smaller black student community. also resent the fact that black fraternity members are sometimes more revered without ever having stepped on a playing field or court. As a result of this resentrnent, the athletes sometimes take their frustrations out on the black fraternities they must compete with.

Regardless of their motive, it is clear that these athletes should be held responsible for their behavior just as any other student would be. Fraternities and other community members should not be used as scapegoats to protect SU's athletic image. Call university leaders to task for creating and perpetuating an inherently racist and elitist hierarchy among the student body. This blatant inequality must end.

Leslie A Grinner is a doctoral student in cultural foundations of education and womern's studies. E-mail her Lagrinne@syredu. lagrinne@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SU officials fail to budge on sweatshop issue}

\section*{To the Editor:}

On Wednesday, three members of the Student Coalition on Cellor Kenneth A. Shaw to discuss cellor Kenneth A. Shaw to discuss the movement to end sweatshop labor conditions in the production of university apparel. We informed the chancellor that over 1,100 students had signed a petition demanding that SU sign onto the Worker Rights Consortium, all of which were collected in under one week. To this, as well as the many recent displays of student concern, Shaw responded by basically not responding.
Shaw's arguments for SU's continued support of the ineffectual and corporate-run Fair Labor Association were not only weak, but also surprisingly misinformed and poorly reasoned. While we were able to reply to every one of his concerns about the growing willing to reply to any of our concerns about the administration's cerns about the administration's the concerns of its students or the virtues of the WRC.

Upon our arrival, it became immediately clear that to Shaw, this meeting was nothing but a formality - a gesture to ensure that we could not accuse him of ignoring us as well as the thousands of other students who have expressed their concerns on this issue.
Students have turned out in large numbers for lectures, teachins, rallies and candlelit vigils expressing their concern that the thing that it can to improve everylives of the starving men women and children who make apparel bearing the SU logo.

Shaw has refused to listen to these students. He has failed in these students. He has failed in dents of the SU community. The students of the university must show Shaw that we will not be ignored.

Brian McNamara
Marika Wissink
Andy Prediletto
Student Coalition On

\section*{Assembly}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

In the wake of several robberies and violent Syracuse Uni versity-area neighborhood Association is beginning a NeighAssociation is beginning borhood Watch program.

SGA President Jamal James said the details, however, are still tvery much in the planning stages."

A meeting regarding the proposed watch program is scheduled for 2 p.m. today in the Pub lic Safety Building. Syracuse po lice, SU Public Safety officers and students are invited to dis cuss the proposal.

\section*{ \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarries, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's apartment on the 8oo block of Ackerman Ave. The man forced her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March 13, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) pim. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety," said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her witha clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) pim. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety," said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her witha clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) pim. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\  \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety," said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's apartment on the 8oo block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about io:30 p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ "Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be held accountable for safety, said
Jaries, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
andio staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
6, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March 13, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) pim. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety," said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her witha clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) pim. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that stunts have. Everyone has to be daccountable for safety, said jor, a junior musical theater ryone togetherter way to get ighborhood Watch programe"
On March 13, an unidentidman broke into a student's artment on the 800 block of berman Ave. The man forced witham doorr open and beat nsported to Crouse Hospital ere she received 60 stitches dio staples to mend her inds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb. \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarnes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March I3, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
At about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
G, three unidentified men robbed
an SU senior at gunpoint in \\ Safety is a concern that students have. Everyone has to be
heldaccountable for safety, said
Jarmes, a junior musical theater
major. "What better way to get
everyone together than to have a
Neighborhood Watch program?"
On March 13, an unidenti-
fiedman broke into a student's
apartment on the 800 block of
Ackerman Ave. The man forced
her bedroom door open and beat
her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital
where she received 60 stitches
and Io staples to mend her
wounds.
f, the about \(10: 30\) p.m. on Feb.
an SU senidertified men robbed

\begin{abstract}
wounds.
\end{abstract}}
decicated to promoting awareness of domestic violence issues and raising funds for a batterers intervention fund.

This is the first time the event has been brought to Syracuse University, Chavez said. It is the sixth yearVera house has sponsored the campaign.
"We have to iet women know that they don't deserve to be abused," Kolb said. "There is a lot

\section*{of self-guilt involved with victims.} Women who are victims of domestic violence often suffer not only physical, but emotional damages, Kolb said to a crowd of about 100 students in Maxwell Auditorium. A video and a question and answer session accompanied the speech.
"We knew getting people there was going to be tough, but we were pleasantly surprised," Chavez said.

\section*{VIOLENCE} class.
speakeir project was to bring a zation from a non-profit organd to help them in a campaign, Chavez said.
White Ribbon Wouse sponsors White Ribbon Week, a campaign

\section*{Now open}

\section*{serving}

Pan-American cuisine:
lunch, dinner and after theater

304 East Onondaga Street, Columbus Circle Syracuse NY 13202 - 315.475.7344

\section*{Thornden Park.}

And in November, three armed men entered a South Campus apartment and bound and gagged its occupants. They then took a car belonging to one of the away but were apprehended by police before escaping.

James said he made his rounds to both students and administrators to discuss the option of a watch program.
"I've done some pushing with Michael Elmore and (Director of Judicial Affairs ) Anastasia Urtz and they seemed in support of it," James said.
Elmore, the director of Student Activities, applauded James* \section*{as crime remedy} effort to establish a watch program. "Ja "Jamal has made it a priority of his administration to organize this the best he can," Elmore said is worth listening to."

Student involvern
Student involvement in such a program is essential, he added. A lot of students have his attontiongorhood said. "I know there are some stu dents interested in seeing what they can do about it. To get stu dent involvement in this kind of project is exactly what the university would hope would happen."

Several students, besides the ones who are actively lobbying for the program, are in favor of the proposal, James said.

James said many of the stu dents he spoke with on campus paign, an effort to improve stu paign, an effort to improve stufavor of the idea and some wer favor of the idea and some were

The watch program may begin late this semester, during the summer or early next semester, James said.
"We have to look at the cost and maybe decide based on the cost," he said. "It may not cost much at all."

\section*{The congregation comprised \\ said.} mostly of greeks, who were target ed by the event planners.

Greeks are a fittle more organized," Geula said. "Greeks also like to get involved in helping the community."

Domestic violence is an issue that affects everyone and is sometimes taken for granted, English said.

Not all behavior classified as domestic violence, however, is a crime, Kolb said.
"Being made to feel like nothing, like the scum of the earth, stupid, worthless, that's a lot harder to fix, healing that takes a lot more time," Kolb said.

Domestic violence is not just a woman's issue, she added. The number of men who went to the specch was encouraging, Kolb

The students also sold white ribbons to raise money for the Vera House, Chavez said. Twentyone sororities and fraternities participated in the ribbon drive, donating about \($ 75\). The ribbons were distributed Sunday at chapter meetings, she added.

Vera House provides emergency shelter services and domestic violence education for the Syra cuse area. The ribbon campaign will be accompanied by Centro bus will be accompanied by Centro busments on radio and other means of raising awareness of the issue. "I think it was very worth while," said Fred Schweighardt, a senior policy studies major. "It shows that beating women is not accepted and that there's some place safe to be.

\section*{Casinony \\ ON-LINECASINO NET+PHONE SPORTSBOOK MAGCHMADNESS}

New Players Deposit \($ 200\) Receive $50 FREE Members Deposit \($ 200\) Receive \($ 50\) matitulur

\section*{wwutasinoiY 888-333-PLAY}

\section*{Spiffy Tiffy says the newsroom needs some writers.}

For all those interested in writing for The Daily Orange News Team, stop by 744 Ostrom this Sunday afternoon for our 3 o'clock news meeting. No experience necessary, just a tolerance to overly-caffeinated editors such as Spiffy.
Come join us... No excuses... "No ifs, ands or BUTTS about it!

\section*{the}

Y'All come back Y'All and old-time country music for the 21st century returns to Central New York. Y'Ali combines the rural nostalgic Americana of their upbringing with an urban forward-thinking frankness to create songs that strike a chord with music lovers of all stripes. The spare, simple sound of Y'All - built around acoustic guitar, baritone ukulete and the duo's sweet, clear harmonies - recatls the American music styles the band mernbers grew up with, including folk, gospe! and country. The band is performing at 8:30 p.m. tonight at Happy Endings, 317 S . Clinton St. Tickets are \($ 8\) and can be purchased at the door Call 475-1853 for more information.

\section*{Enjoy jazz}

The Corinthian Foundation presents an evening of traditional and New Orleans jazz to benefit the Wagon Wheel Senior Center. The mellow night of soothing sounds and reverent music appeal will be highlighted by cocktails at 6 p.m., fol cocktails at 6 p.m., followed by the main jazz ensemble and a dinner buffet from 7 to 9 p.m. buffet from 7 to 9 p.m.
Special guests include the versatile jazz vocalist Nancy Kelly and New Orleans' trombonist/jazz vocalist Steve Yocum. The performance is at 7 p.m. tonight at the Hotel Syracuse Persian Terrace, 500 S . Warren St. Tickets are \($ 35\) for dinner and jazz, \($ 20\) for jazz only. For more information, contact Barbara Barnell at 4796681.

\section*{Toy swap}

The international Toy Collectors Association Toy Road Show is on national tour offering the unique opportunity for local residents to bring in their ofd toys from their attics. Associates will be on hand to purchase toys such as robots, space toys, dolls and other memorabilia. They advise patrons not to attempt to clean toys that have been stored for long periods of time because it may destroy the originality of the finish and decrease the toys value. The ITCA is also interested in any broker toys that may be used for parts. The exposition will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday to Thursday at the Best Western Airport Inn at Hancock Airport Inn at Aancock International Airport.

\section*{IV \\ Your weckend guide to events on and around campus}

\section*{Freshmen actors vie for a spot on stage in "A Chorus Line."}

\section*{by caroline chen} Staff Writer

A performer's life is one defined by the emotions of anxiety, hopefulness and excitement. Next Thes will saturate the , Apris , these the Goldstein Auditorium stage, as the performers in "A Chorus Line" act out the itters that invariably accompany theatrical auditions.

In the musical, a production by the First-Year Players, 32 performers vie under intense pressure for eight spots as dancers in a fictitious play, making for a comedy infused with angst and sexwal innuendo, said Ali Snabon, a freshman music education major.
"It's a lot of drama, it's a lot of laughter, it's a lot of everything," she said.
gining performers intensify their the 18 remaining periormers intensify their fight the first cut. Moreau, a freshman management and television, film and radio major. "It's a really competitive business and that's what it's all about."

Moreau plays Sheila, a sultry sexpot consumed with worries about turning 30 and insecurities about her future. "She pours on the sex appeal," Moreau said of her character.

Whether this ribaldry will win Sheila a spot is at the discretion of the musical director, Zach, played by John Murray, a freshman television, film and radio and English and Textual Studies major

As the man who holds the mandate over the performers the most talen respect ed for recognizing the cold and callous Murray said.

Actors \(t\)
Actors try to shape themselves into what they think he wants, but Zach asks the audition.
"He isn't interested in how they dance and how they look," Murray said. "Zach is really looking for what's underneath.

By telling their personal stories through song and dance, the 18 performers add another dimension to their characters as real people under the stage facade.
een newlyweds Al and Christine both tween newlyweds Al and Christine, both itions.

Christine, played by freshman Leanne Ginstory, looks to her husband for support. Al responds by controlling her life, even to the point of answering the director's ques tions for her.

Al "wears the pants" in the relationship, said Ryan Grow, a freshman

See CHORUSLINE page 10
"It's a lot of drama, it's a lot of laughter, it's a lot of \(\square\) ev

\title{
'Romeo'rap-Kung-fu mix misses mark
}
"Romeo Must Die," but he doesn't.
Hey, we're not giving it away - of course Jet Li will live throughout the whole movie.

Obviously from the title, this marriage of the rap and Kung-Fu worlds is oddly enough a playoff of the Shakespearean classic.

We haven't seen the likes of this since we unfortunately reviewed "Ten Things I Hate About You," which was based on "The Taming of the Shrew.

Although rap is no stranger to the Asian influence, from Fu-Schnickens to Wu-Tang Clan, Kung-Fu has been cutting up the charts for years.

Set in Oakland, this bay area tale of two houses, both distinguished and undistinguished in their own way, is the story of the race for real estate and the greed that corrupts both families to the point of death and dishonor.

On the exterior, both families seem to be in control of their members' lives, to be in control of their member

Enter Aaliyah and Jet Li , who basically have character names that don't represent their screen perfordon't represent their screen performances as well as their real names.

\section*{Eric}

Rosenthal

\section*{Matt Bray}

This sad excuse for Romeo and Juliet is brought together by the death of their siblings in order to solve their family squabbles and "save the bay. Sounds like Hardy Boys or Nancy Drew, with a dash of Shaolin.

\section*{cinemaniacs}

We're still unsure of whether or not a relationship was to develop between the two because, on screen, they look like they are merely friends. Even in a provocative Aaliyah dance scene, Jet Li looked like a statue on the dance floor.

\section*{The male stars}

Anthony Anderson plays the babysitting thug in Aaliyah's family. He provides the goofy gags like getting car after car stolen from under his nose and cushioning Jet Li's fall out a window.

How 'bout no?
The two families are run like dysfunctional versions of earlier crime families in better movies, always amenting their mistakes and vowing

Rapper DMX plays his Rapper DMX plays his own game as the underground casino owner who is unwilling to sell his "beach-front" property to the two feuding families.
Richard Dawson, go back to your podium!

Do we see "the best performance comes from a 'non-actor' "- DMX!

But seriously, although he sounds like an NRA commercial, claiming that guns don't kill people, he does. Dark Man X puts in a surprisingly promising performance, which now has producer Joel Silver assuring him more screen work in the future.

The parade of a seemingly endicss budget includes such rap song staples as hot cars, hot women and hot clothes, giving the film an extragloss. Like this movie needed it with this kind of namedropping in the trailers.
Are they kidding us? Jet Li is no Jackie Chan.

And no one is Bruce Lee!
Yes, we do have to compare them all, when their names sell tickets like they do. Hey, if they built with film stories around our reputation, we'd throw "Cinemaniacs" into the mix, too.

Even with the gratuitous, digital altering of the fight scenes, Li holds no torch to these two masters, of the ballet of orchestrating a proper confrontation. Let's face it - this is not "The Matrix."

If we wanted to see video gamestyle fighting, we'd go and play Tekken Jackie Chan has proven that even in his old age, his style and grace far surpass those of his younger counterpart.

Anchored by one of its very few redeeming qualities, "Romeo" boasts a soundtrack with DMX and Aaliyah, of course, and Timbaland, producing parts of it, it continues with the quality work that each of these three artists have exhibited previously.

Plus the songs are good.

\section*{The Verdict}

Eric "You'll be hungry later, order dessert now" Rosenthal: You know, this film is fike the New York Rangers - large budget, underachieving cast and I wouldn't pay to see it. (I do love the Rangers though, just damn boring the Rangers though this year.) In bed.

Matt "That wasn't ehicken" Bray: I'm not saying it's not fun. What I am saying is, why settle for just fun? Don't go see "Romeo Must Die." In bed.

\section*{GUIDE}
continued from page 9
Admission is free. For more information, call 217-636-8012.

\section*{Film forum}

A new group has formed for those interested in pursuing the craft of screenwriting. The Aspiring Screenwriters Group will meet twice monthly to share ideas and assist one another in the development and completion of scripts as well as discuss marketing strategies from com pleted work and favorite films. The group will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday at Borders Books in the Carousel Mall. Those interested in this informal support group should call 463-2669.

\section*{Super play}

Bring the whole crew to experience the pageantry and spectacle of Central New York's most revered theatrical production. -Jesus Christ Superstar." See the moving and passionate retelling of the last days of Jesus Christ through music and song, performed by more than 100 area performers. Shows will be performed at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday and at 2 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Salt Ci+

Center for the Performing Arts, 601 S. Crouse Ave. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 18\), with discounts for seniors, students and groups. For further information. call the box office 474-1122.

\section*{Lesbian humor}

Her humor is gutsy and honest. and comedian Suzanne Westenhoefer has a totally likable personality, mixing with the audience after her performance She's a wonderful spokeswoman for the gay and lesbian lifestyle, according to the Village Press of New York City. Westenhoefer, who has been featured on HBO's Comedy Central in a one-woman show, is disarmingly funny - in all the politically incorrect ways. She's perhaps one of the most confident comedians, male or female, to step on the improv stage. She'lt be performing at 8 p.m. tonight at the May Memorial Unitarian Universalist Society, 3800 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 18\) in advance, \($ 20\) the day of the show. For more information, call 382 2222.

\section*{CHORUSLINE}

\section*{continued from page 9}
television, film and radio major who plays the role of this domineering man.

Grow said he found parallels between Al's audition and his own aucition for the role of Al.
"We can go right back to own experiences," he said. Snabon, who plays a dancer named Maggie, agreed.

It's really nerve-wracking," she said. "It's exactly how you feel when you're auMaggie
Maggie was born as part of a failed attempt to salvage her parents marriage. After her father left when she was a young girl, she would waltz around with the empty air, pretending that she was dancing with her father.

Maggie left home to pursue a career in dancing, knowing she could not give up her love for it. Without anyone to rely on, however, she struggles to fulfill her dream.

Each of the 18 performers auditioning present compelling stories from their past, but Zach must choose only eight - and cut the rest.

The performers declined to divulge whether their characters make the final cut.
"You have to come to see the show if you want to know who makes the final cut,* Moreau said.

\section*{Energy infused}

To produce a credible per formance as dancers, the cast had to memorize elaborate choreography for numbers such as "I Hope I Get It," "What I Did for Love" and "One" in addition to committing themselves to a strenuous workout schedule, Moreau said.
"The show is all about energy," she added.
The musical is physically intense for the performers because it involves lots of dancing, Moreau said.

Everyone is a talented musician, everyone is a talented actor, but not everyone is a dancer,"' she added.

After three months of situps, stretching and Tae-Bo at rehearsals, the cast's progress has been phenomenal, Grow said.

Rehearsals - held seven days a week - are "long, tiring and intense" because performers are expected to step up to the prescribed level of performance, he added.

The musical affects Grow's thoughts and actions 24 hours a day, he said, and he occasionally catches himself humming the tunes even when he is not in rehearsal.

Complete immersion in "A Chorus Line \({ }^{n}\) is part of the fun, he added.

Grow said he expects great performances coming from the hard work of the entire cast and crew.
"As long as we keep up our energy and everyone stays healthy, we're going to perform like we never performed before," Grow said.

Director April Naumann said she has been feeling exhausted but happy from running rehearsals.

Since the show was picked in Oct. 1999, the First-Year Players production has essenPlayers production has essen* tially absorbed all of her time, tially absor she added.
"Of course, there's been a Iot of frustration, a lot of stress - it's a lot of work, Naumann said. "The hardest thing is to realize that once it's over, it'll all be so amazing.

Naumann, a junior Spanish, history and social studies education major, has been involved with three previous First-Year Players productions.
\({ }^{4}\) I definitely think from my past experiences, they're the most talented Eroup I've worked with," she said.

\section*{It's Sunday Morning.}

> Do you remember what happened last night?

\section*{Sunday Herald American}
(for all the news you need to know)
Coupon expires April 16, 2000

\section*{GREAT FOR HOLIDAYS, BIRTHDAYS, PROMO'S}

Bring in your Favorite Photo or Drawing & We Will Customize Your Choice of CALENDARS

 bookmarks

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on email to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

Fast Service!
Great Quality:

the Right Choice Marshall Square Mall 472-0546

\title{
Undefeated Huskies battle Syracuse at Dome
}

Staff Writer
Although Saturday's women's lacrosse game at the Carrier Dome is an away game for the University of Connecticut, the matince meeting marks a

Eight Syracuse-area nativ return to Central New York for the \(2: 30\) p.m. showdown, providHug added enthusiasm on the better the results from last seabotter the results rish, an \(11-80\) angewomen triumph

Four of the Husk ackers live within a short drive of the Dome.

Freshmen Heather Bliss of Manlius and Bonnie Wehinger of Cicero should see their first collegiate action on the Carrier carpet as will sophomores Jody NickerLow of Skaneateles and Pamela Freshman goaltender April Pollock of Cicero, defenders Claire Sedgwick of Syracuse and Susan Payne of Penn Yan and sophomore defender Lindsay Clarkson of Baldwinsvile round out the to-cal UConn players leading the cal UConn players l

Despite a \(5-0\) record, UCon-位 Heart, Wagner, Colgate and Holy the Huskies national respect in the Husk.
the polls.
polls. the victories give the team added confidence as it enters the meat of its schedule, beginning with No. 15 SU (3-3) and ulminating with home games ty and UMass
"They're solid and definitely much improved," SU coach Lisa Miller said. "They gave us all kinds of fits last year down there. We should match up well, but we have to respect them. Right now, they have lots of confidence.

Miller said she believes her team is hitting its midseason stride, learning the components of a balanced attack while ridding itself of a tentative defensive approach that plagued the squad in its first three losses.
"It's hard to blend aggressiveness and patience, Miller day), night. You can get so patient that you begin playing ball-control lacrosse and don't take chances. I can live with 10 turnovers if we play up-tempo."

Defenders Erica Hofmann and Carrie Soults elevated their play, limiting Colgate to 15 shots night.
night. Once gaining possession, SU midfielders Katrina Hable, Devon Baer and Kim Wayne controlled the flow of the garne, Miller said. Attacker Karen Healy said balance and team-wide confidence in the defense allows her and fellow goal-scorers Lauren chances and attack the cage aggressively.

Hable, a pre-season thirdteam All-American, is far from the scoring pace she maintained said she sees a commitment by the sapposition to shutting down opposi
Hable.

The result is a balanced of fense, one that allowed Healy to score five goals against Colgate. Hable netted three goals, and Miller said she believes she's finding her niche in the attack.
"I think she is chipping away," Miller said. "But we're so much more balanced around her. She will always draw the best defender, and she ll have to work for her goals. Right now, she's creatand her teammates are benefitine I'm not unhappy with her point production."

The play of the midfielders, who accounted for five goals against Colgate, is key to jumpMtarting th
"They have snapped out of that tentative mode, and they will score more goals if they run the field and continue to make good decisions," she said. "When nothing's there, they've been pulling up and getting into the settled attack, and from that they've soored some spectacular goals."

Offensive explosiveness combined with stronger defensive pressure - especially in getting and making the slide on player and making the slide on piayer switches - allowed SU to limit

Katrina Hable, SU's top offensive weapon, hestm spent this season attracting attention, leaving her mates open to light the scoreboard. its last three opponents to 14 combined goals, Miller said. Getting to cutters defensively is the onc aspect the Orangewomen still need work on before Saturday's game, she added

\section*{BROWN}
continued from page 11
lost its senior leader, Josh Ruhle, to graduation.

The emergence of Glatzel - he usually checks the opposition's best attackman combined with St. George's continuing maturity and Abrams all-around excelfense into a machine.

Still, the players' goals are simple, St. George said. The unit tries to limit the opposition to iess than eight goals a game and lock down for 80 percent on the penalty kill. On Saturday it will contend with a Brown (3-2) offense focused on running -a lot.
defense. kind of Enown wants to run, I kind of encuurage it, Mulligan said. "We play the upslow game... If they want to slow game ... If they want to thoroughbreds on this team."

Junior Jimmy Mormile has scored 12 goals for the Metz also provides a scoring punch, netting 10 , including a five-goal game against Drexel. B

Brown's most impressive win to date, though, came against No. 5 Duke. Freshman Michael Hughes scored his third goal of the game, breaking a tie game and propelling the upstart Bears to a pelling the up 10-9 victory.
\({ }^{\text {"It was }}\) one of those games where everything kind of clicked." Lasagna said. "We fhowed a lot of poise on of fense and finished our goals against a good team."
Finishing against \(S U\) is where Lasagna's boys could find trouble.

Mulligan's .670 save percentage ranks sixth in the na tion and his 7.68 goals against average is 12 th .

Numbersaside, the defense in front of the junior goalie rides a tsunami of confidence and knows a mistake will not necessarily result in a goal. "Playing and knowing your team is good enough where it can back you up helps us play more aggreshelps us play more ageressive, Glatzel said. "With the defensemen we have, any of them can cover the best guy them can Incvitably, one of the three will lose his man during a game. Almost as inevitable, his backlin the defensivehe.

Glatzel checked Virginia sparkplug Conor Gill in the season's first game, a 13-12 Syracuse victory in overtime. He held the pre-season AllAmerican to just one goal.

Similarly, Abrams
clamped down on UVa's Drew MeKnight. Despite scoring two goals and dishing out two assists, McKnight, the fense, never got into a groove. Suceessful team derense, Abrams said, is reliant upon a knowing among the and open hole always will be filled.

And if the Orange want to continue the success same maxim must apply. Abrams rast is real big, dorams said. know everyfore. You'r than i have besomoone is behind you to back you up in case you do make a mistake."

\section*{SPRINGER}

\section*{continued from page 20}
people will suck it up, but if we're in practice no one wants to get beaned."

But when talking to the modest Springer about his game, not ing special pops into his mind.
On his game this year: a ways to go. I feel a little more comfortable. I think it's coming together slowly."

On the expectations for playing at Syracuse:

It's a lot. It hasn't really hit yet, it hasn't really hit at all. I'm ure once May comy hat and the nd of April, it's going to be a lot mone."

On his shot:
t's just a normal think it's that hard. just a normal shot I guess."
Opposing defenses would disree In SU's five games, Springer has posted 16 goals and three assists to place him second on the team in scoring with 19 points.
His shot was last clocked in high school - when it registered at 96 mph - and hasn't been checked since because no one wants to stand behind the cage when it's happening.

The hardest thing for Springer wras sitting out his freshman year because of his involvement in a Manley Field House break-in about which he refused to comment.

A highly touted prospect out of Ridgewood High School in New Jersey, Springer expected to come to Syracuse and contribute immediately.

Instead, he found himself watching his teammates advance to the national championship game, where they lost to Virginia

While he doesn't want to delve into the Manley incident, Springer notes that it is far from his mind this season.
"It's behind me," he said.
On Tuesday against Hobart, Springer proved his focus lies with lacrosse. He recorded SU's third and fourth goals to change the momentum in the 18-6 win, four goals.
Saturday at Towson, Springer poured in another tharee scores, matching the Tigers' after-

In a 13 -1
In a 13 -12 victory over Johns Hopkins, Springer netted three goals and an assist.

Springer has been instrumental in helping his team to victory. In those last three garnes, and one assist "It's going all right" Springer said. "I'm still adjusting a lot I still have to work on a lot of things. I have a ton of stuff to do still. But so far, it's not so bad.'

For now, Springer is working on dodging, feeding and hustling more. Despite adding 30 pounds to his frame in his year off, Springer insists that he's still not in good enough shape.

Living with Ceglia helps. The senior defensive midfielder makes sure Springer does his homework and helps him adjust to lacrosse at he college level

He's just as fun on the field as off the field," Ceglia said. "We complement each other well. Besophomnore, it's good to be with a sophomore, it's good to be with a younger guy. It keeps you young younger guy. It keeps you young the apartment, and it's been a great experience so far this year."

Springer said he retains an extra year of eligibility, leaving himin an Orange uniform for three mare seasons.

While he admits that his performance might have surprised a few people and that the season is still in its early stages, Springer only sees good this this year's squad. "We're doing pretty well" Sprineer said "Our defense is doing really well We gtill have to ing really well. We still have to plays aren't that amooth yet, but we're getting there. play well."

\section*{No. 12 Orangemen crew opens spring season}

\section*{BY JODI HEBERT}

The members of the Syracuse crew team might give you the shirts on their backs if they had to.
But they would much ather take the shirt off of yours.
This weekend, the Orangemen hope to add two more shirts to their wardrobe When they meet Boston UniVersity and Brown on
It has been ormany years in the Eastern formany years in the Eastern Association of Rowing Coleges for the losing squads to to the winning squad.

And to have the shirt of ather team to wear around another team to wear around your home campus is a great motivating factor, said cocaptain Josh Stratton. ulf you are wearing another team's shirt, it means other team's shirt, it means that you beat them," he said. that you beat them," he said. "You don't want to give up your shirts either, so you give everything you have to
Each team in the EARC, including SU, is extremely competitive, and this weekto see how they can hold up against the other teams in the league.

In a presseason poll, Syracuse was ranked 12th, while Brown was No. 2 and BU No. 13.

Every EARC squad is fast, though, and by the end of the season, every squad usually lies within a few seconds of each other in races.

If SU wants to win this weekend, they are going to have to row at the top of their game, assistant coach Chris game, assista
Ludden said.

The three SU squads competing this weekend, the varsity eight, junior varsity eight and the freshman eight, have been training since the second week in September.
The team spends a few hours every afternoon rowing hours every afternoon rowing on Onondaga Lake in September, October and part of November. Outdoor water Worko

During the winter, however, the Orangemen practice ndoors, using the rowing ing machines - at Archbold Gymnasium.

They even run the steps of the third level in the Carrier Dome as well as the steps up to Mount Olympus.
"A couple times a year, we do a triathlon of sorts, too," Ludden said. "We will do the ergs, run and swim which is fun to watch bewhich is fun to watch because a lot of these guys can swim to save their lives."

But to be a good rowin squad, mental and physical preparedness is required, Stratton said.

Each boat member must be in sync, rowing at the same time to achieve the perfeet stroke, he said. This aspect seems especially important to coach Bill Sanford's squad, since the \(S U\) squads spend less time on the water than other teams because of the cold weather

Brown, which SU will race on Sunday, has been on February since the end of men's Saturday opponent, has practiced outdoors since the beginning of March.
Syracuse, meanwhile, started practicing on Onondaga Lake about a week ago.

Moreover, the SU squad s younger the five-wallsen n the past. nowers. owers.
have a lot of guys Who have never rowed in a vaid, "but being in the top races is motivation for them to work hard."

Stratton said the team's sophomores appearhungry for competition and push the seniors. Sometimes, he said, seniors become "complacent. and just want to get jobs or go to graduate school." o graduate school.

Of course, Stratton said, room always exists for improvement. A squad can nevhard fast enough or work hard enough, hesaid, because and lose to it the next.
"When you beat a crew, it is because you have given all you have," Stratton said. "There is no other feeling like it."

This weekend, the team gets its first look at how it will measure up to the other teams in the league.

Each race will span 2000 meters of straightaway covering parts of Onondaga Lake take each crew about six minutes to complete the race.

That is sixminutes of hardcore rowing, which is like "running and weight lifting all at the same time, Stratton said.
"l am really excited for the weekend," he said. "I have been watching us grow all year, and I can't wait to see what we are capable of."

\section*{Orangewomen enter poll with weekend sweep}

BY JASON SACKS
Staft Writer
As the hype for March Madness and the Sweet 16 hit Syraness and the Sweet 16 hit cuse University's campus, the SU tennis team traveled to West Point and tennis played its way into the national rankings.
The 70 orangewomen, ranked 70 th in the nation, won thrce matches at the Army Invifeated Temple 6-3 on Saturday, and then collected victories against Fordham, 6-0, and Army 7-1, on Sunday.

With the weekend sweep, the Orangewomen have won four of their last five matches and wn a \(12-5\) record overall "It is very good for a team in the northeast to be ranked in the nation," head coach Mac Gifford said. Most of the top teams in the nation come from the just taking it in stride right now." Last weekend not only tested the team's skill on the court, but also its endurance. SU played three matches within 36 hours of one another, Gifford said.
the Orancewomen's the Orangewomen's adjustment to their new lineup. Freshmen Shervin Saedinia and sticia Sargent replaced sophomore Katie Thompson and junior Zuzanna Borucka in nior Zuzanna Borucka in the starting lineup at the starting lineup at the fifth and sixths singles spots, respectively.
The move appeared to pay off for Gifford and the Orangewomen.

Saedinia posted an undefeated record for the weekend, beating Temple's Nadia Ramdass 6-2, 6-3, Emily Najour from Fordham 6-0, 6-1 and Army's Melissa Sentelle 6-0, 6-2.

Sargent lost her first match of the weekend to Temple's Nina Kumar 6-2, 6-3, but rebounded Sunday with two victories.

Shervin and Tricia really stepped up and piayed admirably," Gifford said. "Shervin mirably, Gifford said. "Shervin stepped on the court this week-

You know that little voice inside that says "I can't"? this summer, [crush it].

Bring your "can-do" attitude to Camp Challenge. Where you'll get paid to learn how to become a leader and acquire skitls that'll help you in your career. Apply today at the Army ROTC department, with no obligation. Before that voice tells you to lake a vacation.
Unlike any other college course you can take.
Contact Captain Dotson for more information on ROTC summer 3-1 752.
end. She is one of the toughest girls to beat on the team now." Gifford also praised the play of Sargent, who moved rom her regular No. 8 spot to fit of nervousness, Sargent got comfortable and played very well, Gifford said

At the top of the Orangewomen lineup, senior Shareen Lai, now the 78 th-ranked singles player in the NCAA, rebounded from her Saturday loss by winning two matches Sunday. Lai, who owns a 40-19 record this season, lost 1-6, 7-6, 7-5 to Tamara Truta from Temple.

The rest of the Orangevomen, Anna Khvalina, Michelle Neveklovska and Masha Kabanova, all went 3-0

SU will tak.
SU will take this weekend off to recover from the threewatch marathon followed by a week or practice. Syracuse then will prepa

The Pirates, (8-5, 3-0 Big , will come to Syracuse on April 9 for an important confer ence matchup.
Seton Hall has won four consecutive matches and hosts Providence College this weekend before squaring off with the Orangewomen.

The match with Seton Hall is important because it has implications for the seeding in the Big East Tournament," said Gifford. We need to give them a playing Miami or Notre Dame in the first round."

After the match with Seton Hall, the Orangewomen will be tested one more time April 16 when they host Brown, their final match before the Big East Tournament.

Gifford believes the team must play better than it is now if it wants to beat Brown and advance in the tournament.
"This is a hard-working bunch of girls," Gifford said. "The seniors have been knocked out parly in the tournament the pase focused, and want to win in Miami.

\section*{INTERNSHIPS SUMMER 2000}

Make this summer a winner - arrange to take an internship for credit.

SUIP offers local (Syracuse) and national Summer Internships in all career fields Visit SUIP, arrange to take a summer internship, and get a head-start ory your career.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, Syracuse. Ph. 443-4271

"Classic"Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Area 52
by Sam Baker

by Ethan Schmidt
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { ISN'T I NTERNET PORN } \\ & \text { GREAT? }
\end{aligned}
\] & YEAH... IT MAKES ME WISH MY DISK DRIVE WAS BIGGER. \\
\hline  &  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Rasputin Presents

by The Four Electrons

Eat the Lettuce
by Thane Benson

Give tr RFRED!

CLAf
CHP?

CROSSWORD
BY THOMAS JOSEPH

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 104 each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word Chates afe PERISSUEX are Proprat by.
 Ads can oe mailed with check to: The Daily Orange; 744 Ostiom Avenue: Syracuse, NY 13210 : Att: Classifieds; OR Faxed with Credit Card to: \(315-443-3689\)

Notices
 iecommended 30 milion have los! their weight -889-789-2967

\section*{Autos}

 non-smoker Aulo Ampur Pain! & Rust Pettector
\($ 10.500-80430-1102\)

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Full yeat summer nannies needed. Work with prom:nent tamaties in New York and Cl. Excelient opportunities. Average salaries \($ 350-\mathrm{s} 500 \mathrm{wt}\). Includes room and board. Medical benefits. Travel Inder
have an amazing summert Prestigious coed camp in beautitul Mass. seeks cating. motivated college sludents \(&\) grads who love kids! GENERAL & SPECLALTY COUNSEEORS needed. Join a dedicated. tun team. Competitive salariestravel+ticom+board. Call Camp Taconic:
\(1-800-762-8820\).

CAMP COUNSELORS. NEWYOAK
Cord Trim down-Fithess Campo. Hike 8 play in the Calskill Mountains, yet only 2 his from NY City.
 All Spors. Water skiing, Ca noeing. Fopes.

Sales Matketing Rep: Eatn S150-S300/week working pantitime within your College community lor an Internet based. student markelling tirm.
yon you have entrepreneurial spinit are self-chisciplined Apply On-line a www.campusglopaineleom. Clitk income opporiunities. Of forward resume to careets campusptcbalnel.com
TOP BOYS SPORTS CAMP IN MAINE! PLAY
SPORTS-HAVE FUN-MAKE SS CAMP COBBOSSEE PRonounced: KAH'-BUH-SEE
Positions available ini ALL TEAM & NDDVIDUPositions available in: ALL TEAM & INDIVIDU ALSPOATS, ALWAER WPORTS.PLU:
Camping s Hiking. Ropes & Aock Climbing. Ice Hockyy SCUBA, Archery Arts & crabts, Natial
Arts. Top Salaries. Excellent Fecilities, FREE ROOM, BOARD. LAUNDHY Trave! Allowance. APPLCATION OR CALL FREE: (BOO)A73-6104.
Painters Wanted for Summer. Work in University and surrounding areas. Start Mid April or Earty Ond surrounding areas.
May. Call Gary 446 -9599
Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in
Pocono Mirs. Over 40 activites -seeking specialist counselars \(\quad 1.800-533\)-camp

Part time iobs delivery dnvers, dishwashers apply
Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshall St.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst}

No experience needed!!
IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS, C, and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language required. Faid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For details see imsweb.com or call toll-free (888)680-5057.

\section*{AAA make \(S\) on the intemel. Get in on the ground} AAA make S on the internel. Get in on iloor. We have the device. connection and and destination. Interes
or \(201-970-3780\)

\section*{SUMMER JOES}

SUMMER CAMP IN NEW YORK-JURE 15\%- August 7Th -For application and intormation, Web- www.chipinaw.com or Do you enioy a challenge? Did you score exceptionally well on your SATs. GREs. MCATs. exceptionally well on your SATS. GREs. MCATs.
GMATs. or LSATs? The Princeton Review is ooking for highly motivated individuals to teach tes preparation courses. Email yous resume to Sue Navacro at susann ereview.com or send it to The Princelon Review. 4498 Main St.. Suite 2.
Snyder. NY t4226.

\section*{Biôlogists}

No experience needed!!
Earn up to 35 K after 1 yr
IMS a biorne dical software tirm in Sitver Spring, MD is offering a free 4 eek programming course. We hire \(90 \%\) Course starts \(6 / 12 / 00\). For details see imsweb.com
or call ( 888 ) 680.5057

Pre-medical student wanted for Iull-time position It busy medical ollice, while waiting to hear from

AMAZZNG SUMMER at premier PA coed criidren's overnight camp. Energetic, enthusiastic. men & wornight camp. Energetic, enthusiassic, men ad otice \(610-941-0128\) or wwwcampnockamixon oftice 610.
to sehedule
on-campus

\section*{WANTED}

Help Wanted
HERBALIFE: 1 lost 31 pounds Click lor produets or axtra Cash www.litnslim. com BARN HELP NEEDED: Fesponsible individual with horse experience 10 care tor small tarmette in \($ 1500\) waekly potential mailing our circulars. No Experience Pequi \(202-452-7679\).

Roommates

\section*{Roommate wantod for fall zemerter 2000 only in a 2 bedrocon apartmenton Euctid Avenue.} in a 2 bedroon apartment on
FOR RENT

\section*{LOOK AT THISt
Threo Bedroom Apartmen Spacious three Bedroom, complerety fumished apartment with porct Living foom with fireplace. Oining room, Kithen and three large bedroonns. and Bath. OH street, gatage parking. Laundry taeitity in Builfing. \\ Five bedroom House Spacious live Bedroom, completeh
 Foom with fireplace Ear -in kichen WI
OISHWASER and five lagge tedrooms, and
 \\ CALL}

Stop elean 3 bedroom apartments Fireplace, parking, laundry sumi-tumished, walk to \(5 U\), low price \(435-40\) fis.

A Edrm House \($ 300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 berm flats \($ 250 / \mathrm{mm}\).
Avait Aug. Very nice. Watk to SU . FM Fealty Avail Aug. Very
Group 637-5195
University and Comsiock Very close to Campus Efficiencies and Two Eedrooms Seare blog. inficencies and wo Eedrooms seare b by untished laundry parking 535.00 to \($ 700.00\)

1-2-3 Eedroom Aparmenis, Beautilut, Spacious, Ilstree! Parking. Fuliy Furnished, Low Ulillities, are, Cuiel, Two Bedroom Apartments on Euelid Furnished. Heat included, hatcwood lioors, porch, remodeled, laundry. parking. 476 -2982
The -Pini Palace- 5 Br, house adjacent to Rose Garden 721 Ostrom Ave. Bargain Pale. 446-3693 University Ave. Three Eetroom Flat Close Walk to Campus turnished launcry parking lease \($ 97500\) to Campus turnished launclry parking plus uthities D. N Drucker \(445-1229\) University Ave. five bedroom House one block Hom Marshall Strael lurnished laundry oaiking cease \($ 1,300.00\) plus ubhties D.N.Drucker 445 -1229 University nicely furnished quiet \(1,2.3\) bedroms parking utitities inctuded Close Walk Su hospitals also 5 bedroom nicely furnished house referentes 478-2642 KensingtonPlace istfloof large 3Bedroorn IgLivingroom Dining Room Modernkichen distwwasher microwave disposal fireptace hartwoockioors porches nearfusting hardwoocifoors porcthes near(Austing Ouie:Neigtborohood available June1st 2000-2001
2all

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM ARTMENTS AND 4,5,6, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
O.P.R.

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Bedrooms. OaklandSt., 1Block ESF. 38locks Law+ Hospitals, furnished, parking, laundry. Westronv Euclid renovated \(3+4\) bedroom avail 611 S650- 5720 PM parking DW Pat 263-3.15
Ackerman Ave. 4br 2/Bath apL Furnished. 500-501 lease 446-7202 913 Comsiock Across From Wornens Gym. A ampnitites, mid May lease \($ 2400+682-3304\)
Apartments clove to campus clean 2.3-5
 Two Bodroom Foll Semester 2000 Furnished utities incuded, reasonably priced \(476-2982\)

Apartments
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline THREE BEDROOM \\ APARTMENT, \\
TWO FULL BATHS, \\
EUCLIDAVE. FREE HEAT \\
GREAT LOCATION \\
476-9933
\end{tabular}

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. UGriversiry Areay Apts 479-5005

Furnished 2-5Bedrocm Houses Apartments ivingston. Sumner, Ackerman, Euclid 469-6 umner, Ackerman, Euclud 469 -6665

1,2, and 3 Bedroom Apartments
302 Marshall St 621 Euclid Ave
917 Ackerman Ave
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnished Laundry uly Furnishea, Laundry
Farking, Fuil Time Maintenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet andfor Fefinished Hard Wood Fioors
Remodeled Kitchens and Baths

University Area Apts
011 E. Adams St. #30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

Large 3 bectoom. 2 tuil balh. Walking distanee , panki, Launory. Cal \(476 \cdot 2962\) 2 Bedroom furnishad apartment wilh all utilities campus. Laundry. Parking. May * August lea campess.
One bedroom studio apartment, very large. ane hock irom campus, bit ol closen space. \(5475 / \mathrm{mop}\) pus utils. \(423-0830\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& 5 \text { Badroom Apt } \\
& \text { Ackeeman Avo } \\
& \text { E.t.00 } \\
& \text { Fully Furnished } \\
& \text { Porches, Luindry } \\
& \text { Parking, Dishwaraher } \\ & \text { Owner Minager } \\
& 682.2218
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Studio snd Efficioncy Apartmenta, furnished utikites incuded, parking, taundy, nice siz hartmod flocors and carpet. \(476-2982\). Four Bedrown on Ackerman, Furnisted. - Oishwasher. Two Portcies. Olt
Laundry Carpet Harting Caundry, Carpet Hard

Looking, hor a place to live? wwwhousmg10t, net. Your move off camprst Freat roominate sublet listings
Ore Bedroom Apartments Close to Campusz utitues included. Dak flooss. fire place, furnisher ulidiles included. Nak flooss tive place, furnished.
parking. very dean, launcry Cail Gorcon 475-2982.
2.3 Bdem Apts and 4 Edrm House for rent on Marytand Ave. Potamianos P offices at 175.5 Marshat St.
Three Bedroom Apartenents. Two porctres. dishwaster, fully lurniched. off-street parking.
laundry, carpel, hatritrood floors, extra room, lange storage area, \(476-2982\).
Aekerman Ave. nice 3bedreom llat, turnished, stove, retrig, laundry, fireplace, garage. Avail June 15t 446-4229
One and Two Bedroom
Furrished Apartments Corner of Walnut and Harison Ansten Harison Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000 Last Month and Security No Pets AI
Graduates Preferred Call \(422-7755\)
4Bedrooms lumished flat with all utitities induded: One block trom campus near Law Schoo tesk. Mayoi August. \($ 305\) pet person. \(446 \cdot 9598\)
1.1/2 Bedroom attic apartment on quiet sitreet. applances. Sutable for single or couplc. Available June 1 st 5350.00 per monith plus utilities.
One year dease. No Pets 2430754

SumnetAve and LancasterAve three bedrooms apartment atso two bedrooms semi furnished avail abie now call 445 -1027

\section*{ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540}

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 E.Adams
509 University
Carpeted, Air Conditioned. Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Parking Maintenance.

> University Area Apts. 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Large clean 3Bedtoom flats Westcott. Broad St area. Hardmood Itoors. porchess, 1yr lease security \(5660+446\)-8928

SHERBROOKE

\section*{APARTMENTS}

604 Walnut Ave. 2, AND 3
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities included. Fully furniched. Rents start an \($ 300\). Refinished hardwood tharr ats. Wall to wall carpet. Flass.
fin
Townhouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths. Dishwashers. Forches. Laundry. arking. 24tiour maintenance.
ww. universityarea.com
whw Universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

204 Ostrom Eticiensy One and zedroom Secure Avgii Laundry Parking Very Clean

University 283 Becroom TownHouses & Flals. Inexpensive and mint condition. Washerforyen

2 Bedroom Apts 202,204 Ostrom, 105 Euelid Terrace Large Rooms Harowrod Floors Avaii

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR AV SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE OR TWO

LOCATION 47E-9933

One Bedroom Apartments, some with 9 month leases. Fireplace, hardwood floors, furnished, laundry, quier buibling. dose to campus. 476-2982

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

\section*{FAREWELL}
continued from page 16 nate enough to be a part of a group that is consistentiy one of the best in the nation thas passed through that has passed through this coom pand littered with newspaper clippings is over whelming.

There's been a pretty decent amount of idiocy through here, too, but I think I'll try to remember the talent.

When I first decided to be a sports writer, I did it ike most people - because d get to watch games and write about them for a living. 't get much better than it doesn't get much better than

My seat for every big ame wantage point or close to the action as you could get - and I didn't have to pay.

That strategy paid off or me. I've been able to see some great basketball games and been able to attend a ew relatively exciting football games.

I've been up close with some of the best players and some of the best coaches in ollege sports today

And I was almost trampledy ay the Syracuse student bill team's Carrier Domet atory over Connecticut necticut this

In
In other words, it's safe o say that I'm in an envious osition for a 22-year-old. 0 an end.

Ir I continue on as portswriter in the outside world, I'll be a surer bet to cover over-40 sottball league games than an NCAA Final our. But I guess that's not he point
The reason that became a sportswriter stil and writing about sports, iving doesn't seem lik wor to me.

So whether I'm talking to Ken Griffey Jr. about how it feels to break Hank Aaron's home run record or to Mel the local bartender about what happened to Stinky's pitching arm in the fifth game of the Beer League softball tourney, Ill be happy.

I'II be in my element and talking to people that are a ot like me nell, hopeful y, Stinky's not a lot like me ou bet the idea. of the peo ple that Ive worked next to over my time at the paper an take a lot of pride in the writing that you turn out whether it's about Division I athletics or tee-ball rve seen these guys sacifice a lot of things the normal college student takes for granted - like sleep, study time and a social life during he week - in order to put out the best possible sports section.

But in the end, we're ust like most of the people that read our stuff - just plain sports fans.

We don't paint our faces or tailgate before games (at east games we cover) We don't even root for one spe cific team.

But we're there becaus we love sports, and were ind the best seats for the cheapest price.

Connor Ennis was an assistant sports editor at The Daily Orange. Be sure to find him at your local watering hole, or e-mail him at ceen nis@syr.edu.

my kids after Ty, too. couple years buddy.
Bill - Likes bad country music even worse country musio and hearing himself toik. I like you bia thed to get me fired.
Alaska Shootout becal been a pain in your ass since l've gotten here but, believe it or not, i like you. if DC can't go to the Sapna - EOOZEIII!
Boyle - Too bad you're not plastic or else we could run off together.
Fooks - You're like a cartoon character you're so upbeat. See you at the zoo.
So that's it, it's been a good ride and hopefulty I'Il be missed. I know l'Il miss it. . .a little bit.

\section*{From one big head to} another...

\section*{Good luck} Connor in all you do!

\section*{[classifieds] Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

\section*{Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577}

Pparimont 4Br. 2tull bath I.place h.wood lloor 1.rom di.fom porctiltree laurudry available 4
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
2 APATTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS ROOHS AVALLABEE 1 \\ -2 RRSUMNER-2ND SEMESTER \\
-2 RA EUCLID-2ND SEMESTEA \\
时 50070 515501 \\
FURNSHED, EXCELIENT CONDITON, \\
SOME WCLUDE UTLITES. CALL 4220138
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

502 Cirarmondon targe clean 2 Begroom hat hantwood

Bedrom Modem Aparment on Ackerna
Avanue. \($ 220.00\) per person pluss utilities. Freo Laundry'. Serious Studants Prelerred. No Pets. 254-0025
1,2,3,4 85 Bdrm Apartments, Housest Suctios. racently renovated. Walking distianco, Isundry raceaty raneval
> O.P.R.

> Developers 1,2,3-4 Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, > security systems
> All Locations /
> Prices 478-6504

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTONOF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Summer Rentals

\section*{Surmer Eargain! seourmo per person mith at}
 One tiock trom C Caneus \(446-9598\)

Summer
Surmer Sustits Available. A variety of sizes and tocations. University Area Apts \(479-5005\)
SERVICES

\section*{Clothing}

If FORMALS & JEWELAY I Gormats Gowns for Formais A Graduation Evening Wear in Syracuse # BOOM BABIES ze on Weatcont (oft Eucidd) Mtinctes from Campus Open M-Sat 11-7pm Sun 12-5pm MCNisa Accepted. \(472-1949\)

\section*{Trave!}

Eurorail Pase Exparts www riideans.eom Get

\section*{MISC.}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular} being replied from any zoverisememt in each ponsibility to any misconctuct resurting in en tact borween yoursell and adveniser.

\title{
[sports
}

\title{
Syracuse visits Bears
}

Cruising toward Alfarnerica honors, Syracuse's Rob Mulfigen racked up 23 saves in last Saturday's win at Towson. The goalkeeper and his defense face No. 14 Brown, a team that likes to nur and gun, at 2 p.rn. Saturday at Brown Stadium.

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN \\ Asst. Sports Editor}

Brown attackmen, meet the Syracuse defense.

Here's John Glatzel, a potential All-American who swings a mean long pole and isn't afraid to crack you hard Next to him is Billy St. George, a dangerous aggression showed by his linemate.

All-American Marshall Abrams, Syracuse's senior captann whose stick checks wreak havoc for any ballhandler, anchors the defensive corps. And when the Bears face No. 1 dium, suffice to say at at Brown Stagrecting will come in a rather unfriendly form
"They don't know what to expect," St. George said. "They don't know who's going to be coming at them, if t's going to be Marshall or Glatzel Even up and nail somebody.
happen. If they think they do, we'll puppen. If they Sounds easy enough, but the Orangemen's defense has proven it pos sesses the clout to back it up. SU (5-0) allowed just three goals in a victory against Towson a week ago Saturday, and romped over Hobart in an 18-6 victory Tuesday

Mulligan can take a good share of the credit. While the three big bodies in front of him do the grunt work, Mulligan scrambles while his mouth rambles - to make fantastic saves.
"They've got a goalkeeper who's maybe as hot as anyone in the country, Brown coach Peter Lasagna terrorize you when they have the ball on your stick.

The trio has done more than terrorize. It's dominated.

Glatzel, who returned to SU this season after being suspended for breaking into Manley Field House last season, stabilized a close defense that

See BROWN page 11

\section*{Lovable Connor signs off with smile}

The first time I walked into the sardine-can sports office at 744 Ostrom Ave, was during spring semester of my during spring semester of my sophomore year.

CONNOR ENNIS CNNIS

I was a

\section*{wasteland \\ asteland.} late bloomer sports writing-

Most of the other people who write and work here have been doing it since the first couple or days that they this snow-ridden campus
y of my first two into the caterory, though, I fell get my butt down to The Daily Orange.

I was more concerned with drinking incredibly cheap and bad beer, skipping class and sleeping in late (not that those things aren't still major components of my life)

Besides, I figured there's no way that an amazing talent such as myself would go untapped.

They would eventually come to me.

When the realization that \(I\) was a dime a dozen in writing ter try and do something about ter try and do something about Plus, I figured if John nights a week and still manage to spend half of his conscious hours in a haze created by happy hours and fishbowls, then writing once or twice a week would be easier than getting into Maggie's with a fake ID. In the two years since my department. lve been fartu

See FAREWELL page 15

\section*{Hot-shot Springer bolsters attack \\ weight room, to bulk up what has been de}

\section*{GY GREG BISHOP}

Admittedy, Mike Springers style is a little unorthodox.

Sure, he sports cargo shorts to practice instead of the mesh numbers his teammates wear.

At 6-foot-4 with only 195 pounds on his thin frame, Springer is a beanpole compared to his Division counterparts. from his teammates on the proctice field And althoush it's impossible to pick Anger out when he's strolling the quad with 11,000 other undergraduates com game time it's rather easy to find No. 10 on a scoring spree.

In fact, Springer's soft-spoken nature only contributes to his effectiveness on the Geld, teammate and roommate Joe Ceglia said.
He's a goofball. You can ask anyone on the team," Ceglia said. "He's walking around campus, he doesn't hook like he can walk two feet without falling, but then you put him on the lacrosse field and he shoots the ball 100 miles an hour and he's an athlete

He's just different. He's Mike Springer. That's a class unto itself."

Springer's class is a tough one to get
First, it requires the ability to get open on the offensive end.

Second, it requires a lot of time in the scribed as a wiry frame.

Lastly, it requires a self-proclaimed 96 mile-per-hour shot -a a shot, like a Tiger Woods drive, that seems impossible for someone lacking the musculature to make such an imposition.
"He's got a cannon," defender John Glatzel said. "He always hits our goalies out there. I don't think our goalies like it too much when they get pummeled by his on his leg Mike always hits him pad and Robbie gets a little pissed off sometimes. When he shoots, basically everybody See SPRINGER page 11

Sophomone Michael Sprineer scored 10 Etoals In the Orangemen's last three victories.

\section*{}

The Daily Orange editors had a few favorites of their own...

\section*{Dome arrests}

The Orangemen weren't the only ones fighting hard at the Carrier Dome this year. The Syracuse Police Department had their share of wins arresting fons for crimes rang ing from scalping to disorder

During the NCAA tourna ment alone. six people were arrested for scalping tickets to the event.
Many a drunk are arrested for disorderly conduct as they stumble their way past secur ty and into the Dome after their "pre-game" in parking tots across campus.
There is the woman who refused to leave the Dome until her stolen beer was finished. That's right, the woman stole two beers from a vendor and then told security officers to "fuck off" when they asked her to leave. In November, police arrested a Dome employee for stealing \($ 86\) from his coworkers before the Syracuse/Boston College football game. The part-time concession worker admitted to police that he hid the money in his left sock. Then in January. concessions were hit again when man used a counterfeit \($ 100\) bill to buy beer. Some people will do anything to get their share before the last quarter.
And then there's always that incident from September when students damaged a fan's SUV by throwing an empty beer keg out of the window of a house on Cornstock before the Syracuse/Michigan football game
The keg landed in the driveway of the house and bounced off the curb, denting the man's car.
Apparently, they were a little upset it was empty.
- Tiffany Lankes

\section*{Bagels}

I've grown up with real New York bagels, so coming to CNY three years ago practically meant the end of a good breakfast. Then 1 discovered early classes at the Huntington Beard Crouse Building. Blinker Deli is, by for, the best place to get bagels on the Hill. Blinker opens at 8 a.m., just in time for those hideously early 8:30 a.m. classes. The bagels are usually fresh, unlike in the dining halls and Schine, and are always toasted upon request, unlike nearby People's Place in Hendricks Chapel. Contrary to Kimme bagels. there is an abundance of cream cheese, but er, peanut butter and jelly or sandwich items to put these bageis in the "substantial lunch" category. And Blinker bagels come in more varieties than any other snack bar or food court on campus among them blueberry, cinna mon raisin, salt. onion. poppy. sesame, strawberry every thing, vegetable and, my per sonal favorite, italian. True Brwegger's has more of a

\section*{}

It's a cold January Fri day and at 4 oclock on the dot, you're at the door of the Regatta, hoping the low traffic will make the bouncer let you in with no hassle. The Happy Hour specials and the "regular crowd" await you.

Come on, you know you've done it - joined the end of a line that spilled out the front doors of the hotel itself so you could join the festivities.

Sometimes our customers say something, but it'skind of nice to see so many people on our property, said David Heymann,品eneral manager of the and Conference Center.

You've probably also told people that you've been to he Sheraton, 801 University Ave. But the ground level the carpeted-and-couched lobby and lounge that you see from the Regatta barstools with your beer goggles on are just the tip of the iceberg.

The 231 rooms - each with a color television, inroom movies and large desks floore spread out over eight foors, each with two wings, Sheraton a spacious, airy hotel. It's fully-carpeted, too.

Staffed by about 150 em ployees, there is 24 -hour security at the hotel. Other facilities - common to most of the Sheraton hotels worldwide - include an indoor pool, an exercise room, an attached garage, free campus parking, internet access and a guide to area attractions.

\section*{Food and brew}

The Regatta and The Pavillion, the Sheraton's fine dining establishment which runs room service, are also available for clients
"It's the only adult bar in the area," said Stan Backman, an SU employee who lives in Cato. "I can come here and relax and it's quiet

While th
While the Regatta is pretty popular, especially on pavillion is Pav by the general commented.
"We're right next to Marshall Street and with so many great restaurants downtown, people just don't come here, even though it's a good restaurant, he said GBut peopie who travei alone, especially women, will eat there or use room service. \({ }^{n}\)

Catering to a "mainly corporate" clientele, the ho-

The Sheraton University Hotel and Conference Center, 801 University Ave., attracts visitors to Syracuse University mainly because of its proximity to the campus.
col has conference rooms complete with tilt/swivel projection and a retractable projection screen and writing surfaces - and banquet hans for the frequent busiUniversity and the general University the general "Becaus wo try to use were so close we try to maintain a good rety", said Heymann who has been working at the hotel for two years. - But we deal with a lots of corporates and that kind of thing.'

\section*{Famous faces}

Often times, celebrities

\section*{解気置}

\section*{roses}

> Hamiliton＇s
> Floral Garden makes gift shopping an adventure．
 BTMH WRITR

Tucked between Marshall Street＇s Sharma Emporium and Cosmo＇s is a place where many baffled guys and curious customers stumble into a Day．

Behold Hamilton＇s Floral Garden－Syracuse＇s answer to＂What should I get so－and－ so for（fill in the blank here）？＂ open between 10 a．m．and 8 p．m．everyday，except Sunday．
＂We specialize in flowers， plants，balloons－basically， gifts，＂said owner Joni Hamil－ ton．

Hamilton＇s shop is a color－ fully－decorated extravaganza of gift－giving－fresh flowers and greenery bombard the walls and floor among stuffed animals，balloons and glass vases．A few stray bouquet－tot－ ing customers view the inven－ tory while Hamilton prepares an order big enough to land－ scape a third－world country．
＂Sometimes，people don＇t know they are in a flower shop，＂Hamilton added with a laugh．＂I had a woman come in that was looking for motor oil． People don＇t realize where they are．They just kind of walk in．＂

Even with its ambiguous storefront－besides the large green sign on the front of the white building－Hamilton reports business is going well． More than a thousand people visit her store every week since its opening two years ago，she said．

Hamilton attributes her success to her floral founda－ tions and prime location．
＂I＇ve been in the business for a while．I worked at a flower shop in the Marshall Square Mall before this，＂she said． This is a good area．Theres a lot of traffic here．

Hamilton added that the friendly storeowners also make her shop a main attraction

All the merchants on \(M\)－ Street are really nice－espe－ cially the people from Cosmos． It＇s like a family．

Barb Beardsworth，a jun－ ior retailing major and em－ ployee of Hamilton＇s，agreed． ＂This is such a happy，up－ lifting place to work，＂she said．

Customers can vouch for that，commenting the helpful service and Hamilton＇s knowl－ edge of flowers and＂general edge ornowers and general ing back
＂I come in once a week，＂ said Reena Amin，a graduate said Reena Amin，a graduate textile design major：＂It＇s very good

\section*{Canine appeal}

Amin has been making

Photos by ADEET DESHMUKH／The Daily Orange The colorfully－docorated Hamitton＇s foral Gartien， 145 Marshall st，offors hopoless momantics many options and Etood advice for their specia！someone． her weekly visits since she came to Syracuse last year be－ cause of Hamilton＇s selection of lora and her desire to have lowers around the house－ not to mention Casey，Hamil－ ton＇s 7－year－old，pure－bred Keeshond．

The first thing I saw when I walked in here was Casey，＂she added．

Casey is a favorite on Marshall Street，spending his days lounging about while en－ joying the petting and baby oying thepetis＇s and baby customers
＂Casey started coming to work with me when he was a puppy＂Hamilton said．＂People oved him．Students would ac－ selection but 731 S ．Crouse Ave，is quite the detour from your first class．It＇s true that Blinker cioses at 3 p．m．，but， for the most part，you＇re not really looking to eat bagels after that anyhow．And no． there really isn＇t anywhere in HBC to sit and enjoy your bagel，which is unfortunate But the best part of the Blinker deal is that these great bagels are already paid for． －Sapna Kollali

Barber shop
There are hair designers． and then there are barbers． Joe Lobello and Duke Drumm are the only surviving barbers on the SU Hill．Best known as half of the old Orange Tonsorial Barbershop． the＂guys＂are now working a Tony Christopher Hair Design on Marshall Street．But ton＇t let the name fool you，they are barbers，nevertheless．I is in their blood，in the man nerism crafted during 30 years of cutting hair．They con＇t style it，they cut it－ and talk about the game last weekend and the beautiful gir walking by like only guys do． Never mind their adversary on the other side of the shop． this duo is a dying breed． They are the hometown bar ber that gave you your first haircut at age three．You grew up with these shit－shooting gossips who know everything about anyone and can smell an out－of－towner quicker then you＇ll pull out the \($ 2\) tip．They forgo the electric to shave you with a straight－edge and then send you on your way smelling of stale aftershave． It＇s an experience simitar to slouching in a leather arm－ chair，puffing a dark cigar and drinking a thiek beer．Going to a barber is like joining a club． exclusive to only those enjoy ing a dirty joke and a good laugh．Next time you are in the chair，if your hair designer begins a trendy J－Crew cut proceed to Tony Christopher＇s．Ask for Joe or Duke．Grab a beat－up Maxim and read it，knowing that your hair is the least importan part of getting a haircut．
－Justin Silverman
Place to bitch
Arrrgh！The lovely Syracuse weather，the friendly folks who work around campus，the fact that I＇ve got enough luggage under my eyes for a ten－year stint in Cancun－it＇s enough to turn any girl into Fran

\section*{Drescher．}

Get the point？I love to bitch．
Yep，I expect everything to be the way I want it，when I want it，how I want it and can 1 get fries with that please？ Up here on the Hill，there＇s plenty of room to make demands．
Check aut a couple of my favorite places to let loose some militant feminist， 1980s－style punk－rocker rage
1）Public Transportation l＇ve been known to go off on everything from my menstrual woes to the lack of apprecia－ tion for Pop Rocks while riding the wild Centro Buses and

Molvilivillabycretm

\section*{}
local trains. It's the best therapy in the world and it only costs a little over a buck. 2) Any Crowded Lecture: No one knows what the hell is going on in there anyway, so why not share some angst why not share some angst with the rest of the class? It. with the rest of the class? It's the perfect time to talk about granny's nymphomania and why Barbie is actually Satan in disguise.
3) M-Street: Everyone else is doing it. so pop a squat on the sticky pavement and let it the sticky pavement and all out. Dress grungy and all out. Dress grungy and some old sap might throw in some old sap a little Cash.
4) The Schine "Quiet" Area:
What is this place. a goddam

Daddy a ring. Don': forget :0 call collect.

Place to go on a date After much consideration. I believe I have come up with the best places in Syracuse to share wonderful fun-filled getting-to-know-you moments. Obviously, it's a given that the best dates include a guy/girl that you at least find interest ing. So, hypothetically, the person you're out with is more fun than "a bag full of not nickels."

By far, my favorite date place is the Science Museum and the IMAX theater. I enjoy seeing how my date interacts with children, as I love them, and if the guy can't handle even being around kids. then it's over for me. There's also plenty to do, so you're never stuck in embarrassing conversation lags. Then there is the IMAX theater, it's a lot more interesting then just going to a movie, mostly due to the HUGE screen. If that all goes well, Happy Endings and oodles of bars are within walking distance, so you can retreat for some one-on-one getting to know each other time.
The museum/iMAX date beats dinner and a movie, hands-down. In that scenario. you spend two hours getting to know famous people you'll never meet and an hour talking about them after the movie during a dinner at the mall. BLAH! That's fine further down the road, but for a first date, no way. The museum gives you the potential to get to know the person rather well and have a great time goofing around. The movies are always awesome or they wouldn't have bothered spending the time and money making them into IMAX films. And finally, you can make a date without much planning - it's all right there.
- Erin Boyle

\section*{Diner}
ingly in viotation of several ingly in viotation of several county health codes and so very aptly named. One of Syracuse's only culi-

Finish Line allows customers to choose from hundreds of athletic shoes.

It's like walking into a masterfully choreographed musical, with colorful sets and lighting, catchy music and an energetic tango of employees But this sid
But this sideshow of lights and colors is far from BroadCommons Level of the Commons Level of the arousel Center in Syracuse. The store prides itself on being a "fun" atmosphere in which to work and shop, Sales of the Carousel Center store. the Carousel Center store. park in here," said John Murray, an SU freshman television radio and film and English and textual studies major. "It's a really fun store. There's a lot going on."

Sales associates dressed in bright blue shirts and khaki pants litter the blond hardwood floors by throwing shoes and orders to one another while customers recline in front of the 150-foot curved shoe wall. Each store offers 600 to 1,300 different kinds of athletic footwear in various categories such as running, basketball, walking, aerobics and cross training, according to Www.finishline.com, the store's Web site.

Other stores do not have the same selection as Finish Line, said Murray, who purchased his last pair of Adidas at the store. Including the store's own brand of non-label clothing, the chain offers the major shoe companies including Nike, Adidas and Reebok, Dufresne said.

And the store is constantly trying to expand its line and the athlete, said Matt Georgi, Finish Line's marketing manager.

We want to take care of our customers," Georgi said in Indianapolis. "We will do anything in our power to make the customer the number one priority."

That commitment and priority is evident in the staff, said Andy Seestedt, an SU junior TRF major.

The staff will offer to help you with a selection or help try on shoes, Seestedt said. And with the help of small plastic buckets at the end of each bench, Seestedt pointed out, the associates will test cleaning and water repellent solution on your shoes. The associates not only try to sell you the product, they make conversaproduct, they make conversation and attempt to meet your tion and attem
"The sales people know their product," Murray said. They also seem like they like their job. It would probably be a fun place to work."

\section*{Label lineup}

In addition to several of the larger brands, Finish Line offers clothing, shoes and accessories from Nautica, North Face, And 1, Lugz, Converse and Fila according to the Web site. With each of the brands designated to its own kiosk in the store, the products are neatly displayed with footballs and basketballs strewn among he merchandise.

Not a surface goes uncovered either, with ceramic jars and wooden logs sporadically placed within the upper section of the store, designated for the outdoox apparel and footwear. Even during a blustery March in Syracuse, sales in the outdoor section have been on the rise in recent weeks, said Tanika Fields, a Finish Line sales associate.
"We have something for everyone," said Fields amid bookbags, cleaners, shoelaces, hiking boots and a rack of sale sandals. "We get all kinds of people - a lot of coaches, a lot people - a lot of coaches, a lot of golfers for gold balls, socce balls and a lot of Nike bags."

\section*{A target audience}

Those who walk through he glass Finish Line doors are of a selected age group for a reason, Georgi said. They are seeking out the Santana rock rhythms and Whitney Houston techno beat to stay young, he said. The atmosphere is a youthful, athletic playground, Georgi said, that the mid-teen to 30 crowd finds appealing.
"People are trying to stay youthful," he said. Whey don't want to get old and read the New Yorker. They want to read Vibe and Source and ESPN the Magazine to stay up with things. We're trying to appeal things. V

And they are succeeding.
Just five years ago, the 25-year-old company laid claim to just more than 60 stores nationwide. The company, however, is now grossing more than \($ 100\) million from more than 400 stores in the United States, Georgi said. He attributes the store's recen success to staying current and meeting the needs of all athletes.

And Dufresne sees all kinds of athletes, he said. From those who wear the orwho stick to Archbold to thos said.
"We really get a mixture of people in here," Dufresne said. Some people come in to buy laces or a shirt and shorts to wear to the gym. But the majority of our business is shoes."

Finish Line's competitive prices are also a big customer draw, Murray and Seestedt said. The store's wide selection allows for all types of budgets because the store offers racks of sale shoes and clothing marked with bright red tags, in addition to their new arrivals.

The franchise also offers a Tie Breaker" guarantee that they will match any competitors price in the mall on an identical product, Dufresne said.
said.
"We like to have products that no one else in the mall has," Dufresne said. "We can

4 It's like an amusement park in here. it's a really fun store. \({ }^{7}\)

\section*{IOHN MURRAY}
reshman televi sion, radio and film and English and textual stud ies major

\section*{}

According to Happy Gilmore，stress can be cured by traveling to＂a happy place．＂While Gilmore＇s ＂happy place＂consisted of a fantasy realm of nubile women and cold beer，Syra－ cuse University students need not travel to such an abstract prace．Instead， Happy Endings cafe，at the edge of Armory Square，of－ the stresses of school．
317 G Happy Endings cafe， 317 S．Clinton St．，has been serving its house blend of caffeine and life since 1993 ， when Shelby Crowley and her son opened its doors．In－ spiration for Happy Endings came in 1980，when Crowley walked into a small coffee and dessert shop in Toron－ to．She found the store so charming that she decided to open a similar shop in Syracuse．

At a youthful 63 years of age，it is obvious that open－ ing and running Happy Endings has been a labor of love for Crowley．Happy
Endings though，offers more than just coffee，and has had a strong relationship with a strong relationship with \(\mathbf{S U}\) students since its open－ ing． and the students come in， and they keep coming back until they graduate，＂Crow－ ley said．

SUstudents arefre－ quent customers，and Crow－ ley generally employs sev－ eral students each year．
＂I love having the kids here．It＇s really fun，＂Crow－ ley said．

Meghann Peterson，a senior magazine and Eng－ lish and textual studies ma－ jor，has been going to Hap－ py Ending
＂It＇s a great place to go and just hang out，＂she said． ＂You don＇t feel any pressure to hurry up and leave．＂

Peterson also enjoys Happy Endings＇ambience， mentioning the music and artwork as well as the cof－ fee．
＂It＇s away from campus， so you get a mix of people there，from high schoolers to people our parents age，＂she said．

Happy Endings＇entry－ way gives a bright greeting， surrounded by warm white lights purposefully left over from the holiday season． Once inside the restaurant， the lights are toned down， and the earthy tones of brick and muted red－paint－ ed walls sooth patrons．

An assortment of com－ fortable worn couches and chairs are scattered throughout the shop，remi－ throughout the shop，remi－ ment furniture．Wooden booths line the back wall．

RACHAEL I GOLDEN／The Daily Orange

Happy Endingt cafo， 317 S．CHintorn St，sorves，up coffoo，dosserts and a rolaming amblance for both SU students and dommtown frequentors．

\section*{}
nary alternatives to Denny＇s circa 3 a．m．，Doc＇s Little Gem Diner is a diamond in its own self－made rough．And it would－ n＇t be quite the same any way else．

The sheet metal and cinder block edifice evokes visions of Hooverville structures or Cold War－era homemade fall－ out shelters．But the coffee served is some of the best in the city and a plate of saucer sized pancakes won＇t cost you more than can be made for 20 minutes of work－siudy labor．Best of all，you＇ll see more mesh CAT caps and \(T\) shirts hailing the New York Giant＇s Super Bowl XX victory than at a national Agway cor－ vention－a livin it＇s almost as if＂Doc＂want－ ed to make this place impos－ sible to find．On the fringes of Dil City－that vast waste land of a tract buffering the Carousel Center from down town－locating it on a road map is only slightly less diffi cult than finding two（living） people who have ricden the Quad Shuttle．
From the university，take University Avenue to Harrison Avenue where you make a lett and go half a mile to and then hang a right at the \(81 / 1.690\) interchange and fo low straight for a mile until you get off at 690 West．Get off at the North Geddes Street exit，and make a right at the bottom of the ramp at the Harley－Davidson dealer－ ship，only to follow that road one short block before mak－ ing another left at the light． Look for the big blinking sign on the right a block or two down．
Don＇t be surprised if you end up halfway to Turning Stone Casino，in which case． just keep going．But if not，a cubic zirconia finer than any on QVC awaits you with a smoky，empty table，the ulti－ mate altar for fascinating con versation，somewhere in the inky Salt City night．

\section*{－Dave Levinthal}

Seat in the Dome intimidating． intimidating
After all， 54 steep steps aren＇t exactly the things to calm your nerves．
But they＇re worth it－well worth it－if you want to get to the best seat in the Carrier Dome．

Walk up the 54 steps of Section 336 and take a right． Row YY greets you，its friendly bench awaiting your but Take a seat，please．If you＇re wearing shorts，be careful－the cold metal might give you a litule shiver．

Shimmy your butt down．And down and down and down until you reach the end of the bench．Seat 1.
There you are：Section 336， Row YY，Seat 1．Right under－ neath one of the Dome＇s 16 bubble－inflating fans．

Don＇t worry．The chances of it going are one in 16．And， anyway，if the roof starts to leak，you＇re one of about 50 people in the place with some protection．

Oh yeah，the view．For foot－

\section*{ \\ ball, impeccable. You're right on the 40 -yard line with a per fect view of the entire field. With basketball, your view blocked a bit. But that's all right. \\ By the time you've knocked back a bunch of Budweisers - the official beer of the Dome, of course - your sight won't be straight, anyway.} - Jeff Passan

Driving range on campus desire to dust off your. the clubs becomes feverish. For those of you wondering where you can stretch out and practice your game a little before heading out to the links, look no further than Flint Hali.
Yes that reverent place of Prada bags and SUVS is also one of the better places to get together with a few buddies and smack some golf balls around. To do so you'd want to get to a more elevated spot, so I recommend, if you can. make your way to the platform above the awning just outside the 2C lounge. You can either go out the window in the lounge, carefully watching your step. or take route through a nearby room. From there you have a clear line of sight to the Dome (approximately 350 yards) and Archbold (250 yards). For those who are only duffers. the end of the mount stairs is a paisley 110 yards. For those who enjoy the southern view qowards the graveyard. the edge of the grounds is around 200 yards, while the Tiger Woods prodigies can shoot for former Chancellor Roscoe Day's grave - around 400 yards.
With this in mind, you can get a good idea of just how you may perform off the tees this coming spring and summer. If the idea of shooting golf balls off a roof isn't enough to drive you there, the gorgeous sunsets and incredible views should be incentive enough. I recommend doing this later in the evening. preferably with a case of Sam Adams. The lighting isn't as good, but it's better than raining a shower of golf balls on those who think classes are actually worth going to - or a well-wisher in the cemetery. - Corey Hann

\section*{Way to get home for}

\section*{break}
i began my quest at \(5: 35\) a.m., perched on a wall outside the Brewster/Boland complex, waiting for the SU Taxi to wisk me away to the bus station. The taxi driver was - surprise! - late and when he finatly dig arrive, kept insisting that my name was Jennifer and I was going to the airport. A fellow B/B inmate hitched a ride with me since his taxi -surprise! decided not to pick him up. We were both charged separately for the full fare for having the nerve to be deprived of our own cars.
Once at the station I barely made my charter to Albany. where I would enjoy a cold, state bagel and the ass-end of a pot of coffee while feeding quarters into the benct-Hairdressers at Hair Trends, 727 S . Crouse Ave., cater to SU students' hurried schedules and tight budgets while providing a variety of hair stying services and hair care products.

\section*{}

Janice Desir sat patiently in a high swivel chair waiting to unveil her new look. A hairdresser scurried around her, painting strands of hair onto small sheets of into an elaborate, silvery crown atop her head.

Ten minutes later, her Lady Liberty-esque crown disappeared. But in it's place remained a random smattering of bright blond streaks in Desir's dark cap of hair her first foray into the world of highlighting.
Hair Trends had done it again.

The seven-year-old hair salon, 727 S. Crouse Ave., makes its mark each day in the form of sun-kissed and finely-manicured fingernails - as the salon of choice for Syracuse University students.

In addition to affordable services ranging from cuts to colors to manicures to eyebrow waxings, Hair Trends also boasts one of the largest retail salon selections in the city - they carry 15 full product lines, including Matrix, Nexus, Vavoom, Paul trix, Nexus, Vavoom, Paul Mitchell and Tigi.

The products, many of which are marked with colorful "clearance" stickers. line rows of clear glass cubed shelving. Hair Trends offers a host of popular products, including Bed Head styling gel, Paul Mitchell Tea Tree shampoo and Nexus Aloe

Rid conditioner, for reduced rates.

Hair Trends owner Antonio Pinti said he always gets a kick out of the young clientele that breezes in and out of his salon each day, and he strives to give them the great service they deserve and need.

College kids are so spontaneous about their looks, and they want to change all the "We," he said. make them to happy with those new looks as possible.

Since most college students run their lives on a shoe string time burdget, Pint Hair heknow Hair Trends, must cater to their cramped schedulesby offering "kird and quick" service.
"We know students don't have much time, between classes and work and parties or whatever," he said. "It's partly our convenience that makes kids come back."

The quick pace, he said, is also one of his favorite aspects of his work.

The energy level with high in here," Pinti said "It really keeps you young and active."

\section*{On the go}

Though some students have regular stylists who they've worked with for several years, the majority of Hair Trends' clientele is comprised of walk-ins. And Pinti assures customers that they'll never have to wait more than a few minutes for an open appointment.

Last Thursday, first year architecture student Joseph Nisa stopped in to get his head of tousled blond hair College kids are so spontaneous about their looks, and they want to change all the time. We want to make them as happy with those new looks as possible.?

\section*{ANTONIO PINTI} owner of Hair Trends attributes the quick changes in popular styles and services to the fact that most college students closely follow the trends of Hollywood stars and famous recording artists.

Even men, Pinti said, are warming up to more drastic coloring treatments in response to entertainment newsmakers
"All the guys nowadays want to have the same streaks in their hair as the Backstreet Boys or Ricky Martin," he said. "Those kind of highlights are bigger kind of highlights are bigger now than Pinti remarked that students at SU come from all over the nation. Some of them have been to the best salons on the eastern seaboard, and the comparison to the most elite practitioners in the industry keeps the Hair Trends staff on their toes.

He regularly sends his staff to local and national training seminars, most often in New York City: Additionally, Hair Trends employs a "no questions asked," free-of-charge policy of redoing any haircuts or color jobs that clients aren't happy with after they leave the saIon.
"I want everyone to feel totally comfortable when they leave, even if we have to do it a couple times," he said. it a couple times, he

Pinti's excited about the prospect of drawing more customers after the expan sion of the plaza into a two-

 Glite Vegetarians \(\boldsymbol{&}\) meat-eaters alike can enjoy Aladdin's Natural Eatery.

\section*{}

From pitas and hummus and falafel to baba Eatery, 163 Marshall St. has been an oasis for lovers of authentic Middle East ern food for five years.

We have lots of remulars, probably because the food is great, inexpensive and we give really large portions, said waitress Jennifer Gosling. "All of us that work here eat here all the time. My, favorite is he tuna pita.

Originally based in Rochester, patronscan now enjoy Aladdin's tongue-twisting fare in here on Marshall Street. "Ireally enjoy it as a change of pace from all of the regular stuff we have around here," said Vince Panzanella, a junior advers really rood, and you just feel healthy eating there.

Aladdin's preponder ance of vegetarian plates has made it a haven for health-conscious eaters.
"Lots of vegetarian "It's a lot better than the stuff on campus.

But the cuisine is not imited to vegetarian en rees. Aladdin's has a wide ange of appetizing food for any meat-lover

Plates range from dishas simpleas chicken caesar salad to ones as ayers of moussaka round beef blended with wine and spices, which is then layered with sliced eggplant and topped with the light, and creamy Bechamel" sauce

The expansiye menu boasts 12 types of pitas, 14 types of pastas and 12 different salads. The price range is also agreeable to many students on a tight budget. The average pasta plate is between \($ 6\) and plate is between \($ 4\) and "I really enjoy the varicty, and the prices are very lustration major Emily Dunn.
lights and cool colors Ait adits and cool colors, Alits attractive decor. If you'tractiveu ean get a window seat and watch the bustle of Marshall Street. "I like to eat there because it doesn't look like everything else," Dunn said. It's not just a pub. It has a nice, sit-down restaumophomore education major Katy Biagini agreed. and your cheap eateries and what not, so Aladdin's is really nice to sit down and have a nicer meal," she said.

Aladin's is popular throughout the day, but lunchtime is when rush hour starts.
people arent as many geople in the evening," when thesaid. Lunch is nuts it is kind of nets nuts. It is kind of nice, though, for a quiet date.

\section*{Herestare \\ Cosmos appeals to all types.}

ETVNeNESMEFFENS
Social stratification at Syracuse University is more than a trend, its a social norm. There are places where certain cliques have an established domain. Cosmo's Pizza, 143 Marshall St., is a rare exception to this rule.

From drunk greeks to sleepless art students to addicted smokers, nobody isan outcast within the friendly doors of Cosmos which may just be the cul tural Mecca of the area surrounding the university.

And there's good rea son why students Hock to Cosmo's - the pizza's good

Co-owner Demo Stathis is very conindent in the pizza Cosmo's serves.
"We have the best pizza," he said. "We make a true New York-style pizza." Stathis believes people enjoy his pizza because of the pizza-making method that Cosma's employs. Some local pizzerias cook their pizza in a pan or on a screen, but Cosmo's cooks their pies directly on the oven surface, the way it's supposed to be done.

The end result is a much crispier pizza. Stathis prides himself on the cheese, sauce and toppings resting on a crisp base.

Besides the dough being crisp, Cosmo's makes its own dough, unusual in today's world of pre-made dough, Stathis said. While other locations use bread dough instead of pizza dough, Cosmo's believes bread dough is for bread, and chooses pizza dough for their pizza.

Beyond pizza, many people flock to Cosmo's for their sandwiches, subs, pastas and other chow. items like their pizza, these items do not suffer from poor quality ingredients, UWis said.
"We try to serve the topquality product all the best he said. We use the chef to oversee things and we make our own sauce, gravies and our soup from scratch."

\section*{Local hangout}

Anyone who regularly visits Cosmo's knows that The good good business. not explain why customers

The secret to good pizza is in the dough, acconding to Demo Stathis, co-owner of Cosmo's Pizza, 143 Marshall St Cosmo's offers a hip hangout for an ectectic social crowd. it it.

コ Bll 2
mounted TV that only picks up a fuzzy rendition of NBC Back on the bus to Providence．

1 managed to avoid a seat－ mate for most of the trip by stretching across the seat and feigning sleep every time we stopped to pick up anoth－ er lot of passengers．After a transfer at South Station．I lucked out by getting a front seat．allowing me to stretch my legs out and watch the winding road ahead of me． That joy was short－lived．as the driver started reaching around the back of his seat for his cooler full of bologna sandwiches，taking both hands off the steering wheel to put on Walkman head－ phones and standing up to fiddle with the rear－view mir－ ror．Then my legs were no longer stretched out，they were curled up along with the rest of my body in a fetal position as I prayed to God I would make it home alive． And it only took 11 hours． －Kate Stevenson

Place to get a Guinness
For those of you who think you＇re getting a taste of Ireland every time you order up a pint of the black stutf at Faegan＇s，think again． The Guinness they pour down at Faegan＇s may techni－ cally be the same as the Guinness they pour at Coleman＇s Authentic Irish Pub，but the Tippery Hill bar gets the overwhelming edge because of the quality of the pour．
The bartenders at
Coleman＇s know that a good Guinness is worth waiting for． That＇s why they pour half，let it settle and then finish the job．That＇s the same method that＇s used when you order a pint in the Emerald Isle．
The main difference in the two pouring methods comes when your patience is reward－ ed with more actual Guinness．The one－pour and out method ends up with an amount of foam that would make any imbiber unhappy． There＇s plenty of reasons to hit up Coleman＇s：the lively crowd，the good music and the change of pace in getting away from campus immediate－ ty jump to mind．The main pull，however，is the pour of the black．It＇s authentic，pre－ cise and well worth the wait． －Connor Ennis

Place to sleep on campus
It＇s arguable：Some believe It＇s arguable：Some believe it to be the grassy quad on a warm day，others opt for the upstairs lounge in Schine． Wherever you go，it＇s inevitable，someone will be steeping．

So，where，you ask，is the best on－campus place to take a nap？
As the semester evolves， the nights get longer（to pro－ vide ample time for social activities）and the mornings begin earlier as we tear our－ selves out of bed to begin the previous day＇s assignments． it＇s now just past mid－semes－ ter and it＇s starting to sink in． Summer is around the corner and the seniors are scram－ bling to fit it all in，soak it all

After noticing that someone＇s dog was taking out counter，I knew why
The Sound cere． Eqizerer 124 Waltor media going to be freak like all those mall attempt to sell music． This Armory Square gem is an incredible spot if you＇re either obsessed with buying music or with buying music or merely a casual CD pur－ chaser．The Sound Garden may have been chosen by Syracuse University students as best record store，but when it comes down to it it＇s the only real＂record store＂for most of the Syracuse community． orythat see from crack heads to lawyers and doctors， Sound Garden employee Geoff Smith said．

Unlike wannabes like Oliver＇s or heartless cor－ porate conglomerates such as Guy or Media Play，Sound Garden is well－stocked with not only a great with not only a great variety of selection，but variety of selection，but also a knowledgeable and friendly staff filled with character．It＇s a great combination for success that you can also find in the other two Sound Garden stores，in Baltimore and Genesse．
For those of you who have never been to Sound Garden，it＇s similar to the music store in the movie ＂Empire Records，＂but unfortunately，I didn＇t see Liv Tyler running around．The music is just as cheap－or in some cases cheaper－than what you＇d find anywhere else．But along with the music，you＇re walking away with the experience of being around people who honestly love music ＂Our staff really knows what they＇re talk－ ing about，that how were different form
stre IJIJKItoripand
 Sound Garden， 124 Walton St，provides patrons the chance to Ifsten to the music they Matre before buy ing The Amory Squane musie store offors a wide selection of new an to the music they waint before buy－

\section*{緮忽}

Shaw Dining Hall out hines other dining halls on campus with its Kosher and vegetarian selections and friendly service.

Food selection at Shaw appeals to students with a variety of tastes.

\section*{}

Maybe it's the case of Chablis sitting on the floor of Shaw Dining Hall Manager Steve Brandt's office that makes it the center culinary venue choice for Syracuse University students.

But although he's amused by the prospect, Brandt attributes Shaw popularity to something a little bit different.

It's just the employees and the atmosphere of the place, Brandt said. "People walk in all the time when we're closed.

The wine, he added with a augh, is just used for cooking.

Employing a staff of about 40 tudents and 19 unionized laborers Shaw's dining hall is packed from the salad bar to the cash register on a recent weeknight.

Students mill around the room carrying plastic trays piled high with everything from tofu and soy milk, to hamburgers and pasta.

To prepare for the dinner crowd, Brandt's staff meets every day for an hour after lunch to discuss the anhorm and delegate work re night menu and dele

About 2,400 students eat breakfast lunch and dinner in Shaw fast, lunch and is the only dining every day. Shaw is the oniy dining mall ish dietary guidelines and must be ordered in advance
To keep up with the heavy flow of students and their numerous dietary needs, Brandt and his staff often discuss menu choices and recipe ideas with students, he said He credits this communication between staff and students to Shaw's success
"A lot of people have the notion that we go to Wegman's every night," Brandt said. "But we order food weeks in advance."

Students are invited to share their dining hall requests with the staff through comment cards provided by SU Food Services.

Based on student requests, the dining hall hopes to introduce a vegan night sometime soon, Brand added. Vegans abstain from all foods that contain animal products, which includes egg and dairy.

Shaw resident Carole Evans, a freshman illustration major, is not a vegetarian, but she praised Shaw for its vegetarian selections.
"It's excellent for vegetarian meals," Evans said, adding, howev er, that Brockway may have a better salad bar.

\section*{Going for seconds}

Since it's no big secret that on college campuses, the dining hal food often leaves much to be de sired, Brandt said Shaw strives to serve food that students won't gripe about.
"I see what other schools do" Brandt said. "We are so far ahead of that. I don't understand when people come in and complain about the ood or say there's nothing to eat."

Brandt himself has been eating three meals a day in the SU dining halls for the past 19 years, he added. For menu variety, Brandt travels to local food shows and has his staff consult cookbooks.

Head Cook Elaine Williams said she doesn't take students' distaste for dining hall food personally.

She added that in most cases, it is obvious that students prefer the food served in Shaw.
uI try to make meals how I would like to see them presented," Williams said. They should be appealing and tasteful."

William's work day begins early in the morning, when she arrives to supervise breakfast. After breakfast, Williams and her staff prepare for and serve lunch, and then it's on to dinner.

After dinner, Williams, who works every other weekend, sper is her time planning the next ds.'s meal.
\({ }^{4}\) The day before, you always have to check the menus to make sure all your stock is in," Williams said. "Then you prep what needs to be prepped.
On Friday's, Williams also supervises the kosher kitchen's prepaup and live large until the reality check on May 14 Nights go on as if they would never end, until they do and we find ourselves faced with several hours of class and study time. It hits, on your way to class, in the middle of lecture, while you're eating lunch in Schine, You're exhausted. You try desperately to hold up your pen and cover your face with your hair or hat brim so your professor thinks you are diligently taking notes.

You're not. You're dead asleep.
My father and I agree. Thirty years ago, he found himself nestled into the back row of Gifford Auditorium sound asleep. Imagine his surprise when I told him I had the same problem. Although it is now past peak down jacket season, I highly suggest taking one in with you for this event. just to cushion your elbows from the hard wood armests. When it's cold outside, the warmth of Gifford wraps around you like a blanket, and the lighting is just right for either note or nap taking. If the professor's voice is as soothing as mine is, you'll be asteep in no time and awaken feeling refreshed rejuvenated and ready for the night.

\section*{- Marisa Gordon}

Place to people watch lide.
The characters emere from different classrooms. oftioes and desks.
They are engineering stu dents with thick, canvas back packs.
They are artsy students with colorful, personalized shoulder bags.
And they all want macaroni and cheese - in a hurry. It's the Studio Break snack bar, joining Slocum and Link halls, where you will see students and facutty alike waiting in line for their shot at the Syracuse University variety of Lipton and bagels.
They glance at one another as though from different planets. Their clothing is diverse and eclectic, leaving each party wondering what the other was thinking when they got dressed that morning.
Their expressions are different. One is worried about when the computer lab closes because their Web site project is due tomorrow. And the other is worried about when the paint is going to dry on their canvas.
They are creative minds that just want some gooey macaroni.

They are SU students, but you won't find them cheering together at an SU football game downing Dome foam
Regardiess, 1 love to watch them carry their books, while they seem to think about the rest of their day and size up each other. But at the same time, I get nervous that maybe they are examining me. So 1 grab my bag, oraer my mac and cheese, grab a booth and eye my classmates closely.

\section*{12 theDaily Orange}
- Emily Kulkus

\section*{Sandwich}

Artemis was the Greek god dess of the hunt and the moon.

Ancient myths tell of bizarre cults that sprouted in worship of this deity. Apparently. insanely devoted bands of fanatical female followers would dance naked in the light of the full moon through out the forests of ancien Greece to express their devo tion to her.
Any man unfortunate enough to stumble on these midnight gatherings met a quick death from the arrows rained down upon them from Artemis' followers who. like the goddess herself, were skilled warriors and hunters. The danger surrounding the cult of Artemis may not be so quick and immediate today. but her personality survives in Syracuse in the form of a sandwich. That sandwich is the Artemis from Dorian's Pizza on Westcolt Street.
A steady diet of Artemis sandwiches will lead the vic im to a quick, but ecstasyfilled death.
The first bite finds one's aste buds confronted with a solid base of fried, breaded chicken, lavishly surrounded and caressed by several rich slices of ham. A further explo ation into this masterwork of culinary genius will lead to the discovery of an overflow ing layer of onions, lettuce and tomatoes.
At this point, the Artemis is quite tasty, but it is the choice of sauce that truly vaults this meal into great ness.
Slathered all over the grinder roll that encases the Artemis is Thousand Island dressing. That famous, zesty topping with a pinkish hue ruly confirms Artemis' place at the top of Dorian's sand wich pantheon
And of course, no sandwich worthy of the title "Bes Sandwich in Syracuse \({ }^{-}\)would be complete without the kiss of death. Whether Dorian's actually pours grease on the sandwich before they deliver or whether it is a naturally occurring liquid from within he depths of the sandwich the gelatinous fluid soaks the bread and literally cascades off the chicken.
So perhaps the Artemis is not for the weak of heart or for a steady diet, but as an appetizer for an SU football or basketball game or a late night craving, nothing in the Salt City tops its savory and artery-clogging blend of ingredients.

\section*{Kevin Tampone}

\section*{Place to regain self-} \section*{with} close inspection and maybe a little imagination, it still shines from the dark Knowles Drive pavement

A few inches of red Krylon sprayed right where the medi an should be, a whisker less than 15 feet from the curb outside my boyhood res. dence. A red rim with a dirty white net sits on the fiber-tually get mad when I wouldn take him to clas with them."

Cascy has become such an attraction. people have begun to think that Hamilton has brought him as a clever plov to ocms to be worling
"One customer called and asked. Are you the flower shop asked, Are you the flower shop with the dog?" Hamilton said. With the dog? Hamilton said People think I bring Casey in o bring in business. But that really wasn't the plan. Some imes he comes back with people, sometimes he comes back with some strange ones though.

Holiday craze
Customers that find them selves drawn into the store by the fluffy gray and white ca nine transient will find that Hamilton really does know her business, providing the Syracuse area with a wide as sortment of flowers and a keen knowledge of floral history Even during the crunch times Hamilton and her staff keeps the city well stocked.

It's really busy Valentine's Day, graduation and Mother's Day," Hamilton said. "Valen tine's Day, it's mainly people vho just walk in. A lot are stu ents coming back from class way out for the vening. Students go all out with flowers and dinner.

All of these holiday customers add up to over 5,000 customers a week, Hamilton said, with the most common or der being roses.

On Valentine's Day, one person bought nine dozen red person bought nine dozen red $900," she said.

Beardsworth, who has been working at the store for he last two months, said that Valentine's Day is one of the best times of the year for business and the customers are \section*{AKd} story cineplex. The building will be under construction until September, but he doesn't anticipate the process - or the resulting nterrupt Hair Trends steady stream of business.

Everyone up here should be happy about the \section*{USIC} everyone else," store manager Ron Brush said. "And just coming down here is a change for a lot of college students.

\section*{Just for love}

Personality goes far and youre bound to find lots of it when stopping by for a visit. The Sound Garden employees seem to really love what they do, and it shows from their vast knowledge of music which is often expressed in convers ticias between employees and customers that you're bound to overhear while browsing.

Yeah, sure they get the new releases that everyone else does, but vast selection of used CDs, its unusual back cat alog, DVDs and the vinyl also entertaining
We laughed at all the clueless guys that came in," she said. "They mostly ordered red roses

Hamilton agreed.
ts runny to watch guys come in, especially when they are not with their peers, Hamilton added. "They really ike some of the flowers. It's great to see them get so into it.

\section*{Floral messages}

Hamilton's expertise with the "Victorian Language of Flowers" adds to the helpful ervice as well as amusem of the Floral Garden staff.

In the Victorian time, they actually sent flowers as messages," she explained

Every flower, from azalea o zinnia means something, she said. Plastered on the side of the flower cooler displays a of the flower cooler displays a list of each flower and its list of each flower and its meaning for customers to read. Hamilton said that customers have created poems from this list and have also come shocking revelations

Hamilton recalled one of her favorite stories of a guy who had come in looking for Stephanotis, a really tiny flower usually used for bridal bouquets.

One of the people that came in to sell an ad from me. I thought it was really pretty and wanted to buy some for Valentine's Day," she said. "I asked him if he knew what it meant and I had him look at the list.

When he read that it meant 'Happiness in Marriage,' he was like, 'No, no!' I don't like that flower anymore! I don't want it!"

Whether you're looking to profess your love to your sweetheart with a bouquet of Stephanotis or want to play with a fluffy dog and talk with nice people, visit Joni and Casey for a bit - just be careful not to step on the dog toys on your way in.
 (ANTINUED FRON1. P. 7 generally choose Cosmo's over tion. tion

What may separate Cosmo's from the rest o the pack of Marshall Street pizza vendors is its atmosphere, Stathis said.

I think people are drawn to the place partly because of the quality food," he said. "Beyond the food, there's a certain atmosphere here th places don't have.
Between the jukeboxes, friendly waiters and waitresses and the bizarre color scheme, Cosmo's can lay claim to being a truly unique locale.
for 40 years, Stathis sand "When you have this said. of longev have that type lish people like., of atmosphere popink.
ade Congevity has spote Cosmo's a popular Cos on Marshall Street. Cosmo's does not have the problem of relying on busy Stathis said. "When it's busy on the street, everyone does people come to Marshall Street just to go to Cosmo's."

theater," Pinti said. "It's good for me, it's good for the rest of the merchants and it's good for the students."

In fact, the cineplex construction will refinish the facade of the salon and precede the salon's takeover of the attached 500 square feet of plaza space, where he plans to eventually set up state-of-the art tanning facilities. The new tanning selection that makes them that much cooler than the competition.

They've really got more of everything," said Syracuse resident Monica Osterman, a regular Sound Garden shopper, as she clutched a shopping bag with her new vinyl record.

You want jam bands, techno or punk? They've got stuff you can't find anywhere else. Local The section of vinyl too. n't look like someone's old n't look like someone's old it's filled with the newest selections of indie newd selections of indie and hip-hop titles that DJs often use.
"We try to be different," Brush said. "You can pretty much listen to any pretty much listen to any CD you want to at our his tening booths before you In the di it or not

In the digital age where we really don't have to get off our asses services will most likely feature tanning booths, Pinti said, since their bed counter parts tend to be less sanitary and require longer sessions to achieve that bronze glow.

Hair Trends advertises aggressively in order to attract the constantly changng sea of faces on the SU Hill, he said. And since their business, like many other local merchants, takes nearly a 50 percent drop during the summer without the pulsing student populous around, Pinti recently bearound, Pinti recenty begour face" advertising techyour face advertising techniques as soon as sch starts again in the fall.
"In every way that we try to sell ourselves, we're always trying to keep the focus ways trying to keep the fo to get music, The Sound Garden stands as a reaon to not those legal issues.
"People are inherently lazy," Smith said. "But they still like to hold music in their hands, so and personalities will stay at the Sheraton when they speak at SU. It is also a popular choice among athletes and coaches. Billy Joel, Jim Brown, Larry Czonka and the New York Knicks have all spent time at university hotel.

\section*{}

This can sometimes lead to groups of fans mobbing the celebrity and the hote but, Heymann said it is al part of the package of catering to famous people and being close to a university.

A lot of sports people, a lot of bands tend to stay here," he said. "We have to think of their safety and, of course, people can'tjust freely roam the hallway. But if people have been waiting for some time and they see him in the lobby, we let them get close and do autographs get close and do autogr

Sporting events are usually very busy for the Sheraton because players, coaches and media take up the bulk of the rooms. Last weekend, for the NCAA East Regionals, Heymann said the hotel was completely booked. Any open room, which would normally cost \($ 99\) to \($ 170\), could have run \($ 215\) or more.

If it is a low-traffic weekend though, Heymann said the hotel offers special discounts on rooms. There is a special SU rate for people associated with the university, and the hotel works in conjunction with the hospitals on the Hill to give a low rate to the families of those in the hospital.

Heymann said sometimes Joyal Sheraton frequenters will receive a dis. count or a fruit basket from the hotel management as a show of appreciation.
"I've always had a good experience with this hotel," said Ed Johnstone, an insurance salesman in Ithaca who stays at the Sheraton whenever he comes to Syracuse.

Many SU parents opt to stay at the Sheraton during during graduation festivities as well.

It's close, it's right there," said Wayne Carter, a senior broadcast journalism major, whose family will be staying at the Sheraton during commencement. "After ing commencement. 'After the cercmony, we dont want to Carrier Circle or someto Carrier Circle or some, There is more to the Sheraton than just the Regatta, like the friendly, helpful staff that patrons say is better than other area hotels. And although Carrier Circle is the hotel haven of Syracuse, Heymann isn't worried about losing business.
'There are always going to be other hotels around, and it's good for people to know they are there," he said. "But we're close to campus, we have a good reputation and people seem to like coming back.

\section*{SHAN \\ Continuel from rc. 11} ration of Shabbat meals, she added. Although the work can sometimes seem tireless, Williams said that it is well worth it.
"My favorite part of the job," she said, "is looking at the student's faces to see their reactions to the food and if they're enjoying

If student's aren't enjoying what they're eating, Williams said she'll try to get to the bottom of things.
"I'll approach them and ask what it is they don't like," she said. "We are here to serve.'

Student Manager Travis Cundy Jr. has become a familiar face around Shaw, since he started working there his freshman year.

Cundy attributed much of Shaw's popularity to it's location near the quad.

Shaw resident Ryan Harrington, a freshman information studies major, agreed.

> agreed. "It"s the best place to eat if you're in class." he said. "I can't comolain about the class," he said. "I can't complain about the food."

\({ }^{\boldsymbol{E}}\) I don't understand when people come in and complain about the food or say there's nothing to eat.

\section*{STEVE BRANDT} manager of Shaw
Dining Hall
Dining Hall

\section*{N|ATEAKIA}

CONTINUET FRCM PKi. 16 and rapids and peer right to the edge of the Falls. It's one of the most beautiful places in the world."

The attractions, both natural and confected, United States and Canada, continue to attract millions of visitors each year.

Some of the more exciting attractions include a Ni agara River jet boat excursion, the Maid of the Mist boat ride that takes brave souls to the brink of the Falls and the Cave of the Winds, which offers those even more brave a unique glimpse of the Falls - from behind. The acres of manibehind. The acres of manicured parks and quiet green space, both on the U.S. and contract and balance.

And thanks to its dis-
And thanks to its distance from Syracuse, Niagara Falls is naturally primed as a weekend getaway destination for Central New Yorkers, Rydeleic said.
"It's far enough away where you feel like you're getting away, but not•far enough to be a tedious drive," he said. "It's perfect."

glass backboard, which is cracked in the top left corne after a dozen Rhode island winters.

Shooting the rock seemed difficult at first, but got easier and easier as elementary turned to middle turned to high school.
I can't go there anymore
The basketball court at Flanagan Gymnasium, the one to your portside when you enter, somehow returns me to the spot. The line is black and the glass is plexi, not fiber, but form and distance remain the same. Dribble. spin the ball on your right palm. Take a deep knee bend and a deeper breath. Two more bounces, then a fluid release off your fingertips and a swish, a process more tran. quil than a dandelion's parts scattering in a summer scatter breeze.
Repeat it forever at the place where life gets reduced to you, the ball. the line and the hoop.

It's calming. It's uplifting
It's home.
- Dave Curtis

Place to trip and fall should have known better than to come to Stairacuse. can hardly walk in a straight line on freshly cut grass, let alone up and down the hundreds of stairs peppering the SU Hill. I can't go five min utes without tripping over one of my seven feet and landing. in a tangled puddle on the ground, bleeding and whining. My most painful fall was, hands down, a tumble down those marble stairs near the "Wall of Fame" in Newhouse 1 lost one of my giant-heeled shoes and promptly followed it down the stairs on my ass. After landing in a heap at the foot of the stairs. a cute guy walked by and retrieved my shoe, not even asking if I was okay. I think I broke my tailbone, but 1 never got it checked. Hence, six months later, I still can't sit down without shrieking in pain.
So I figure it's only a matter of time until I lose a limb, or kill myself. I think some protective garb might be in order - perhaps a crash helmet and some kneepads?

My crowning glory as an accomplished klutz came on the corner of Waverly and Comstock avenues, on the way out of Kimmel. I was eating an ice cream conechocolate peanut butter cup, my favorite! - and I caught the toe of my shoe on the curb as I stepped up onto the sidewalk. So down I went, knees-first. Then, my hands, which should have been enough to halt my descent. But, no, my body kept pummeling downward, and it smacked my head on the ground, too.

As if ripping my jeans and grinding my kneecap into a bloody pulp wasn't bad enough, I smeared rmy ice crearm cone all over the sidewalk. Days really don't get much worse than that.
- Holly Auer

Way to sleep in class

You are either exhausted from a late night of barthop ping，beat after studying all night for a forgotten physics exam or put to sleep by the lecture hall＇s stale air．
Whatever the reasons falling asleep outright in class may have its perks，but leaves you open to ridicule from a professor who holds your academic well－being at his or her fingertips
So to avoid the stinging wrath of a feared professor， take note of the following tips or the perfect in－class sleep： 1．Arm propped up on your desk，make sure to cover your hand over your brow－not eyelids
2．With your idle hand，grab a pen and pretend to be tak－ ing careful notes．in actuality． you will be doodling repeti tiously in your notebook， equaling the artistic creativity of a two－year－old child． 3．With the correct setup in place，being to snooze．But balance is everything．An untrained arm will collapse at the slightest indication that you really are entering never－ never iand．Your head will either snap to the side，or crash down on your desk－ two embar rassing results you want to avoid．
4．Keep practicing．One day you will be able to take a co ple of cat naps in a dreaded class with the professor and fellow peers not even know－ ing－

\section*{Joy Davia}

Place to relax
the chaos of place where ceas of everyday life cases to exist，where the lates int the busy day tran flowing over rocks where cell phones are banned and reminders of things that need to be done are erased． It＇s the waterfall across from the rose garden． the is the place where can go and feel，at least for some time，that I have left campus and gone on a little vacation from the stresses that brew there．Even though my place rests right outside campus grounds，its look is so different from anything else I have seen in Syracuse． There is actually a little bit of nature present！The metropoli－ tan look that surrounds cam－ pus seems to disappear as lie on the top rock of the waterfall and stare up at the sky． came across my spot on the last day of my freshman year，when I went on a walk to ary and clear my head so could finish all my work． When I laid down on the rock， a complete feeling of ease came over me，because there were no reminders around of work or stress．Mark Twain＇s quote＂Why do today what you can put off until tomorrow？ comes to mind．．

\section*{－Elaine Skinner}

\section*{Place to hang out} the blue light ingt away by When it son the window ple hanging out．Walk into

\section*{ENDINES \\ CNTINUEI）FROM ICS． 5}

Caffeine fix
But Happy Endings is more than a pretty place－ its drink and dessert menu can accommodate any caf－ feine or chocolate junkie． Patrons can choose their food from the colorful，giant－ food from the colorful，giant－ sized chalkboard menu， which SU art students Which SU art students helpe

The Mad Hatter from ＂Alice in pies one corner of the board， Ellustrating one of Happy Endings＇distinctive traits－ coffee cup．

Several flavors of coffee join a variety of espresso drinks and iced coffees．Thir－ y－eight flavors of tea are the standard chamomile and chai to the more exotic kiwi strawberry and Russian caravan．Prices range from just over \($ 1\) for coffee or a single espresso shot to mare than \($ 4\) for a Mad Hatter－ sized mocha blanca．

Happy Endings also of－ fers an excellent dessert menur Sye Syacuse New Times has fonored Happy Endings with its＂Best Desserts＂award for three years running，from 1997 to 1999．Cakes are their spe－ cialty－mostly chocolate and cheesecakes－brownies and cookies are brownies and cookies are also offered．All desserts are homemade on the store premises．

A slice of cake will cost around \($ 3\) ，with brownies and cookies closer to \($ 1\) ． working on \(y\) Crowley is working on adding a juice bar to the list of beverage op－ tions．Music plays a promi－ nent part of Happy End－

\section*{DONTBTEYCS} open steak sandwich is \($ 7.75\)

\section*{The regulars}

Unlike bars who cater to a specific group of people veryone s trisuiloite that lends to their success Hickeysaid． dressed in come down dressed to the a T－shirt or

During P．J．Dorsey＇s

\section*{TAIETANK}

You can＇t start off as a doorman，Peters saide to do the job，and all bounc ask for backup photo ID when a questionable license is shown．

Mike McDonough，a jun－ or broadcast journalism ma－ jor，said he＇s looking for－ ward to many nights at the ＂classy＂bar once he turns 21.
＂From what I＇ve seen，it looks like the best bar on the Hill．＂he said．＂I look for－ ward to going there often．＂

In addition to in－house training，all bouncers are certified by＂I＇m Smart＂－a private businessorganiza－ tion that helps deter drunk－ recognize any

The lange chalkoard menu，which was designed by SU students，is a Happy Endings trademark ngs．Background music or theatrical performances．perform． played by employees is en－ rgetic，but not overpower ng．Jazz，folk music or light techno are among the possi

Quite a few drama students have booked Happy End－ ings as the place to give their final performances． ble sounds
Side treats
A theater adjoining the coffee shop hosts musical performances and Saturday and Saturday night for nomi Crow cover fees crowley re－ tapes from bands across the country She books the bands sh ikes to play when they tour hrough Central New York Occasionally，comedy or the atrical performances are Stu Endings＇theater for musical

Gt＇s a great place to go and just hang out． You don＇t feel any pressure to hurry up and leave．\({ }^{7}\)

\section*{MEGHANN PETERSON} senior magazine and
English and textual studies major

The theater can accom－ modate roughly 100 audience members． Live pe
formances formances aren＇t limited to the week－ ends．Every Tuesday is open mic night，and day is poetry night．On a typlated beforehand for local performers to sign up for the different time slots．As a crowd forms around the sheet，the night＇s schedule quickiy fills．Musicians qume from as far away as Watertown and Oneonta to Sunday nights are qui－ eter，Crowley said． and study＂Petersong to sit and study，＂Peterson said．

When she becomes too distracted to study in her apartment，she explains， Happy Endings is a nice place to do work．Another distinctive trait is the paint ings on Happy Endings walls．The paintings are changed every month Artists submit samples and are booked．Right now artists are booked through the remainder of the year dents to＂et off the Hill and find their happy place at Happy Endings． from 9 ppy Endings is open day to a．m．to 11 p．m．Mon til 1：30 a．m．Friday and Sat－ urday and from 1 p．m．to 11 p．m．on Sundays． first years，the bar was packed with people in their mid－thirties，but now the clientele is more mixed， Baraczek said． Baraczeek said．
tudents here than in more students here than in some bars on campus，＂he said．

Kim Kohatsu，a junior advertising，political sci ence and French major heads downtown when she wants to get away from school for a night．Though She considers the drinks a little pricey，she enjoys the space allows，as well as the varied crowd．
＂It＇s an odd mix of town－ ies and students，＂she said．

Though she dreads the line to get inside on the likes that the bar said she likes that the barkas danc－ ing，as well as places to sit and relax． and relax． and can dance．You can sit and talk．You can eat．It Hostetler，a senior political Hostetier，a se

She said she likes to get away from the college cliques on Marshall Street by partying downtown．

The central location of P．J．Dorsey＇s also makes it attractive to Hostetler Marshall Stree thange from Marshall Street，＂she said． Hickey does not doubt that the bar＇s location in Armory Squaremayin－ crease its clientele．But he crease its clientele．But he said he hopes that the bar＇s success has less to do with success has ＂Maybe it＇s luck．Maybe it＇s location，he said＂rd like to think it＇s our hard like to think it＇s our hard work．＇ work． ＂We do get a large lunch crowd from the neighboring hospitals thour \({ }^{\text {＂}}\)＂

As the summer sun sets and the fall arrives，things get back to normal．
Students pack the bar and leave at the end of the night to sweet sounds of Frank Sinatra singing \({ }^{\text {My }}\) Way＂followed by \({ }^{\text {Mac }}\) the Knife＂by Bobby Darin．After the crowds recede at 2 a．m．， the brass is shined and kegs are covered in plastic wrap to preserve their freshness， and the bar is restored to it＇s original splendor－ready for another night．

As one of the more en－ lightening posters on the wooden－trimed walls states ＂There is a complex world out there．When asking where and when to eat and drink there are only a few traditional choices－the an－ swer is Faegan＇s．＂
people that are too drunk to drive，we＇ll
＂I＇m Smart＂is a safe driver service that operates 24 hours a day， 365 days a year．They send out a team of two drivers to take people home or to a hotel in the per of \($ 36\) per transport．
To avoid this hefty charge，sometimes bouncers will purchase cabs for their patrons．Loyal customers of Faegan＇s appreciate this helping hand immensely． friends for the night， Marcinkus said．WThere is， great aura from everyone

APRIL

\section*{- Student Government}

Sophomore Sofya Peysakhovich, a political science major from Erie, Penn, speaks to SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner during an open fortm Sunday evening discussing a proposed SGA and UU merger. The SGA Assembly voted last Monday to pos tpone a final dec;-

\section*{sion on the merger unbi it received more student feedback \\ Students speak out against SGA merger}

\section*{BY STEPHANIE SILVER \\ Staff Writer}

Students angrily protested the proposed merger between the Student Government Association and University Sunday night.

The merger is a "blatantly obvious public relations stunt," said UU member Eric Lindberg, a senior television, radio and film major
"It's a punch in the face to all the efforts ever put forth at UU and it kills its pride as an individual organization," he added.

More than 50 students attended the forum - about 12 of whom were not affil lated with either SGA or UU

The merger became the center of debate last Monday when an SGA vote on the proposal was postponed after the Assembly asked for more student feedback last week when not notified of the planned vote and consequentially not present at the meeting.

The proposed merger would hold the programming members of UU account able to the Syracuse University student body, SGA President Jamal James said during the farcura.

Student groups could approach SGA - re-named to the Student Association under the proposal - for both assistance and money when planning an event, James said.
frectively" student fee will be utilized more effectively," James said. "UU claims to be a campus-wide programming organization, but that's impossible because they are only accountable to themselves." suailable to the smer, UU would be more he added.
"They should be more willing and able to help," James said.

See MERGER page 5

\section*{E Election 2000}

Local state labor union endorses Clinton
by kate stevenson Asst. News Editor

First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton \(v i s i t e d\) the Hotel Syracuse on Saturday after an endorsement from the Civil Services Employees Association for her Democratic U.S. Senate bid for New York state.

But supporters of her opponent. Republican New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani, dismiss the endorsement, deeming it mi-mor.
tainly, CSEA cerhas been her campaign has been making a big deal about this, said of Syracuse University s College Republi cans. "But CSEA's bark is worse than its bite. They don't really Clinton have much power:a labor union for state employees that focuses on negotiating contracts for its more than 265,000 members.

Chinton Spokesman Howard Wolfson, however, said support from the union is not as frivolous as Burns claimed.
"It's certainly an expression of support from, in this case, a statewide organization fighting for better health people," Wolfson said. Clinton's campaign thrives on labor union endorsements, Wolfson said, amount of support from such groups across the state, he said.

This labor union support can be
See CLINTON page 3

\section*{Police Reports:}

\section*{Men smash student's window, campus car break-ins continue}

\author{
Staff Reports
}

Three Syracuse University students were stopped at an intersection early Friday morning when three men threw a bottle a them, shattering one of their car's windows, according to a police report.

The students were stopped at the intersection of Irving Avenue and Van Buren Street when a dark colored Jeep Grand Cherokee with three them and threw a bottle at the dri them and thxew a bindow the report ver's sid said. dents as they continued to their home on the 100 block of Oakland Avenue, the report added.

The seniar who owned the car, \(a\) 1990 Pontiac Grand Am, said he pulled in the driveway and the Jeep then pulied up in front of the residence, the report said. The man sitting in the front seat of the Jeep then got out or senior, the report added.

The man then threw another bottle at the vehicle, breaking the rear wack in, the report said. Kie then got Oakland, the report added. "It was a real fast incident," said one of the students. "You're caught off See COPS page 3

Smooth stroke

Mombers of the SU mon's enew team practioe on Lake Onondagh on Fiday during a recent burst of wamm weather. Friday's temperratures reached into the mid-60s.

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

Al-Anon meets at noon in
Schine Student Center.
Newhouse II hosts the CNY Communications Consor tium Information Fair from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Studios \(A\) and B. Companies including CNN ESPN and Syracuse Newspaper: will be available. Those attend ng are asked to dress in semi formal attire

E Newhouse I hosts Katz Radio Group at 6 p.m. in Studio A2 for an information session re garding the company.

\section*{TOMORROW}
- Phillipe Guyot-Sionnest from the University of Chicago speaks at \(4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in the Science and Technology building, Roon 1-019, regarding Pho istry of Quantum Dots.'
- Ken Olum of Tufts University speaks at 4 p.m. in the garding "Superluminal Trave garding Superiumina

Newhouse II hosts McCann Erickson at 7 p.m. in the session regarding the company.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
- Hendricks Chapel hosts a Graduate Christian Fellowship Biblestudyat 8 p.m. in the chapel's Strates Lounge.
\(\square\) SU Drama presents Blood Wedding" at 8 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are dents and seniors. Call 443-3275 for more information.
-UUCinemas presents The World is Not Enough" at p.m. in Watson Theater. Tickets are \($ 3\).
- Onondaga County Parks presents naturalist Greg Smith at 7 p.m. at the Beaver Lake Naences in the Alaskan Wilderness The center is four miles west of Baldwinsville off Route 370 . Call 638-2519 for more information.
- Author and teacher Jim Maher speaks at 7:30 p.m. at Le Moyne College's Grewen Auditorium regarding Ireland and the country's conflicts. Admission is \($ 7\). Call 682-7686 for more information.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submis ions are also accepted via e-mail at JSilverOne@aol.com
[d.o.]
The Daily Orange is published Monday thruugh Friday during Syracuse University's academic year by The Daily Crange Corp. The D.O. is distritured on campus with the first five copies complementay

Management 443-9798
Business 443-2314 \(\begin{aligned} \text { News } & 443-2127 \\ \text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128\end{aligned}\) Lifestyle 443-2128 \(\begin{aligned} & \text { Spurts } 443-2208 \\ & 443-9795\end{aligned}\)
\(\begin{aligned} \text { Fhustembraphy } & \text { 443-9795 } \\ \text { Art } & 443-5938\end{aligned}\)
E-mail editorialedailyoranyecom
Ontine www.dailyomanbe-com

\section*{Multicultural Affairs}

\section*{Caribbean students elect new board}

Staff Reports
The Caribbean Student Association met Sunday, welcoming next year's recently-elected executive board and new president, Portia Yohannes.

For the remainder of the semester, however, the old administration will continue working in their positions alongside the new board members and train them, current CSA President Nashonie Chang said.

Four new board members were elected and six veteran executive board members shifted to
"We're beginning a transition
"We're beginning a transition starting now," Chang said. "The new executive board."

Yohannes, a junior psychology major, said Sunday she is optimistic about the upcoming year.
"I've worked with most of the people already," Yohannes said. "I think it will be a good year."
Marlon Samuels, a sophomore marketing and advertising major, will be Yohannes' vicepresident. Samuels said he is excited to begin his duties, giving wider influence on the campus.
"We are trying to promote campus unity, Samuels said. "The Caribbean Student Association wants to educate students in the Caribbean culture.

For the past two weeks, CSA members were able to nominate candidates for each position via e-mail, said Danayi Munyati, elected public relations chairwoman.

At the group's weekly meeting last Friday, each candidate ing last Friday, each candidate gave a presentation, reading their tion, Munyati said.

Among those elected, Chang will begin a new position next

\section*{CLINTON}
continued from page 1
attributed to her campaign's focus on middie-classissues, WoIfson said.
"So far, the characteristics have been very clear," he said. "One candidate really has been a champion of working families - you have that in Hillary Clinton, And you have another candidate, Rudy Giuliani, who really has shown no interest in these issues."

Burns denied Wolfson's claims that Ginliani does not pay attention to working fami-
"Here"s up crime in New Yho cleaned cleaned up pornographyin

Cariblean Student Association exentive board members for the 2000-2001 academic year Name Portia Yohanes Marton Samuels EStacyAnn Collins Nashonie Charg Dand Munyath: Terrecita Neal Zaticuy Hery

Position
President vice president secretay
putie relatons chairperson, stifer. fashion show coordinator community senice coodintor Fer Kalibash dance troupe coordinator

Year
junior sophomore junior :
junior sophomore junior sophomore sophomore

Major psychotogy marketirg and actuertising
bioengineering
mechanical engineering bio engineering
computer science
sociology and women's studies
IST and African American Studies

\section*{Compiled by Asst News Editor Kate Sxevenson} year as events chairperson.
With a new executive board comprised of six previous members, group events should run well, she said.
"I am pretty confident that they will all do a good job," she said.

Chang also said she was content to step down as president

Times Square," said Burns, a junior political science and history major. "Here's a guy who got the economy rolling again He's the one who s been a fight er for working families."

Clinton followed her Syracuse visit with a stop at the an Edual conference of the National Saratoga Springs. The NEA and take the new position since and take already had experience in the area.
\({ }^{\text {uLast year I kind of served }}\) as the events chairperson as wel as president," she said.

The association will add new programs to next year's agenda in addition to its current events schedule, Yohannes said. Includ ed in these new events is International Night, she added, which will include cultural foods and a fashion show.

I hope to make other cultures be introduced to the Caribbean culture," she said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Ashleigh Graf has not yet endorsed Clinton, Wolfson said. There is, however, a good chance that the association will do so, he added.
"They know which candidate in this race is a friend of working families* Wolfson said. And she's going to continue to be." inue to be.
Clinton, however, is a result of the groups* largely leftist per spective, Burns said.

Most Central New Yorkers are smart enough to know that CSEA is a very, very liberal la think anyone expected the en dorsement to be comp the en It's a very liberal union."

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1
guard. You don't know what happened. You don't know what the hell they're thinking."

Following the incident, police found glass both inside and out side of the vehicle, the report said. There were pieces of a brosen beer bottle inside and a liquid that smelled like alcohol, the report added.

The students could not give any more information regarding the incident, the report said. They so declined to further comment. Ace or witnesses produced no dence or witnesses prod

The case is open pending further information, the report said.

E Sahar Alnouri, a staff writer for The Daily Orange, found her vehicle broken into and her stereo broken March 24, according to a police report.

Alnouri, a junior newspaper major, parked her car at 9:45 p.m. in the lot at the Syracuse Bowl ing Center, 1055 W. Genesee St., the report said. She came out of noticed the interior light was not working, the report added.

She found her car stereo broken along with a friend's backken along stolen, the report said. The backpack contained a pair of eyeglasses, two texthooks and a pack of cigarettes.

Nothing else appeared to be missing from the vehicle, the report added.
"I was pretty pissed and it's going to cost me \($ 500\) to get it She \({ }^{-}\)Alnouri said.

She added that she had to switch cars with a family member because she did not want to leave her
"I don't feel safe leaving it up here where all the break-ins take place," she said.

Twelve other cars have been broken into in areas around the university this semester, according to police reports.
- An unidentified person stole a desktop computer and a car stereo valuing about \($ 1,500\) from the car of an \(S U\) student, according to a police report.

Gregory Pelaum, a junior electrical engineering major, parked his 1994 Honda Accord at about 10 p.m. in a lot on the 400 block of Comstock Avenue, the in his aaid. He put the computer was taking it home the following was taking it home the following morning, Pelaum said.

I was in a huge rush so I packed my car Thursday night," computer in there. I didn't realcomputer in there. I didn't realhour later."

The rear passenger-side window was also broken, the report said. The stereo was taken from the dash board of the car and the computer was stolen from the trunk, the report added

Pelaum added that the incident is discouraging in lieu or the other recent car break-ins around campus.
"It's frustrating," he said. "You're always hearing about these break-ins."

An unidentified suspect broke into an SU student's 1991 Jeep Cherokee on Saturday night according to a police report.

The thief stole a Jansport backpack containing a cellular phone, computer disks and textbooks from the Jeep that was parked on the 200 block of Walton Street, the report said.

The student found his window entirely smashed, the report added.

There are no suspects or witnesses in the case, the report said. The student was unable to be reached for comment.

E Syracuse police arrested freshman Benjamin Rayland on Saturday night for stealing a pair of pants valued at \($ 58\) from The Bon-Ton in the Carousel CenThe Bon-Ton according to a police report. Rayland said he was charged with larceny and assigned an arraignment date for Thursday.

"I still have to meet with a lawyer regarding the incident,"

Rayland said.
Rayland refused to comment further on the situation.
- Three SU seniors were cited with noise violations Saturday night, according to a police report. Stephen KIoeppal and Anna

Plocha had a party with about 30 people at their the Ackerman
Ave. apartment, the report said. The seniors refused to comment on the violations.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Tiffany Lankes

\section*{BY SAHAR ALNOURI Staff Writer}

Drivers expect summer of high gas prices

Despite recent vows by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to help reduce petroleum prices, students and tinue to spend more at the gas pumps for the next several momps

OPEC, which exports about 60 percent of the oil traded internationally, cut the supply of oil available to the world in 1999 and prices have since been rising.

But strong international pressure prompted OPEC last week to increase production by 1.7 million barrels a day to compensate for the short supply. It is uncertain when U.S. citizens will see the price drop since the effects

Gas might be cheaper than a gallon of orange juice, but I use a lot more gas than orange juice.

\section*{danielle linville} sophomore biology major

United States immediately. Regular unleaded gasoline costs the average U.S. city 97.2 in January 2000 , the same gasoin Janst 130.1 cents per gallon, a 32.9 cent increase per gallon. The average price paid for gasoline in the country on March 27, 2000 was \($ 1.549\), a 24 cent increase per gallon since January, according to a report from the U.S. Energy Information Administration. Syracuse University political science professor Mehrzad Boroujerdi, however, said OPEC is be ing blamed unfairly for practic ing good business.
OPEC is being portrayed in an unfair fashion, Boroujerd said. "It's their right to decide on whatever prices People forget that most OPEC countries take 80 percent of their revenue from oil. \({ }^{\text {n }}\)

Kuwait is still rebuilding from the Persian Gulf War, Saudi Arabia is facing a deficit and Iran is dealing with a population explosion - all smart reasons to raise oil prices, Boroujerdi said.
"If you adjust for inflation, oit is cheaper today than it was 30 youre for a gallon of orange juice,

If you adjust for inflation, oil is cheaper today than it was 30 years ago. You pay more for a gallon of orange juice, apple juice, or beer than for a gallon of oil. \({ }^{7}\)

\section*{MEHRZAD BOROUJERD} palle juice, Sophomare Danielle Linville SU biology major, said that the prices are still too high.
"Gas might be cheaper than a gallon of orange juice, but I use a lot more gas than orange juice," she said.
But Boroujerdialso said OPEC countries use the money from the oil industry to purchase Western goods.
"All this whining about oil prices should be put into perspective. They take the money and ine it to buy U.S. air planes and said "It's ridiculous to demand oil - the most important resource - the most important resource er products."
Economics professor Donald utkowsky agreed.
"The reason OPEC is doing this is to increase their profits. That's good business," Dutkowsky said. "If the price goes up it's because Americans have shown they won't cut back on consump. tion.
"OPEC probably spotted us as being vulnerable. The 1980 s and 1990 s were good to us. We've gotten away from jdeas of conser-

But SU stud
Crist sudents like Joe DeCristoforo said they think the price hike is unreasonable

You have to spend \($ 25\) just sary in a mobile society, and essary in a modile society, and esis no subway," said DeCristoforo a freshman human resources major. "They take advantage of us because they know we'll pay."

Andrew Pappas, a sopho more anthropology major, said this could cause the beginning of new technology.
"This is going to be what pushes us toward electronic cars and using different kinds of fuels, Pappas said. 'We need to ed a resource as oil and that \({ }^{d}\) a resource as oil and that w Sophomore Jared Rus

Sophomore Jared Russo said the oil prices are directly affecting his daily activities.
"I'm walking a lot more," said Russo, a psychology, art history and public policy major. "I'm cut Average cost of all grades of gasoline in the United States during selected weeks this year (in dollars per gallon).

Feb.
1.364

Feb. 14 1.394
Feb. 21 . 1.443
Feb. 28 1.458 March 6 ........ 1.539 March \(13 \quad 1.566\) March 20 . \(\therefore .1 .569\) March 271.549

Average cost of all grades of gasoline for the energy administration district this year. The district includes Delaware, Washington, D.C., Maryland, New Jersey, New York state and Pennsylvania.
\begin{tabular}{lr}
Feb. 7 \\
Feb. 14 & \\
Feb. 21 & 1.392 \\
Feb. 28 & 1.403 \\
March 6 & 1.433 \\
March 13 & 1.444 \\
March 20 & 1.582 \\
March 27 & 1.585
\end{tabular}

Average price of all grades of gasoline in the United States for each month of 1999 and January 2000 (in dollars per gallon).

Compiled by Asst. News Editor
Kevin Tampone
Sourte: Energy Information Adrministration, U.s.
Deporment of Eneray
ting back on social activities outside the university - I can't afford to get off campus as much as I used to."

Russo, who drives a jeep, said next time he will buy a more fuel efficient car "But right now I can't even afford gas, much less a new car to put it in."

\section*{MERGER}
continued from page 1
UU members admitted that not all student groups know of its availability for assisting with events. The group, however, proposed increasing communication with SGA and other campus groups rather than becoming part of the as
"The
nance board nance board budget proposals and we'll advise them," James UU President Lisa Stone
 The maker will sistance a as ulation in stead of an op tion." \({ }^{\text {of an }}\) op ner is the proved by the Assembly dur ing tonight's 730 SGA meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditori um, the programmers of UU wil events SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner said.

A non-voting position on the Finance Board will be reserved for a UU programmer. The group will still plan its own events and it will still have to give a budget proposal to fund them, he added. "UU will be financially neutral, but they can help us be more efficient with spending, would not inhibit their individual programming activities."

But UU Comedy Board Director Bryan Billig said SGA is structurally unsound" and called the merger unnecessary.
"A conflict of interests exists

\section*{Watch aims to improve student safety}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Syracuse University Public Safety offi cials and city police met with Student Gov ernment Association President Jamal James on Friday to discuss the proposed Neighborhood Watch Program

We discussed the important need for a service like this, said James, a junior mu sical theater major. "S

The program will be introduced in three phases, said James, the only SGA member at Friday's meeting.

The first phase will entail a joint in vestigation conducted by SGA and city police to determine the number of and nature of crimes being cornmitted in the universi-ty-area.
"Before we can run the program, we The second phase, entitled 'Don't Ig-

The second phase, entitled "Don't Ig nore it, Report it, is designed to educate ent types of crimes and the steps to take if they witness one.

Right now, thers is a lower amount of cases being reported to the police," James said. However, crimes are still occurring.

The lower number of crimes reported is being attributed to studenta keeping quiet about crimes they have seen, he added

The second phase wil hopernily make people awarel up if they see something James said.

He said that he plans to implement dusion of the semester. Phase Two will be repeated for incoming freshmen next year James plans to complete the last stage of the program early in the fall semester.
\({ }^{\text {HI I I }}\) envision people being aware of thei surroundings and keeping an eye out fo each other," James said. "The program should be a great success."

The third and final phase will be the establishment of the Neiphborhood we the Program, he said

The Syracuse Police Department along with SU Public Safety will try to along with SU Public Safety will try to community in keeping watch for misdemeanors, he added.

We hope to get the community and the professionals all into one unified thing. James said. "Hopefully, together we can curtail a good portion of the crime that is oc curring.
alert, it is n alert, it is not wise to try and stop the crimes that are occurring, he said.

A special phone line to the police de A special phone line to the police de artment may be set up exclusively for Neighborhood Watch Area residents, he added.

The purpose of the prograrn is to be at tentive and inform the police quickly, James said. "Not to try and stop the crime yourself."

The Neighborhood Watch Program was proposed as a result of several robberie and violent crimes in the lost few month James added.

On March 13, an unidentified man broke into a student's apartment on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue. The man forced her bedroom door open and beat her with a clothes iron. She was transported to Crouse Hospital where she received 60 stitches and 10 staples to mend her wound At about 10:30 p.m. on Feb. 6, thre unidentified men robbed an SU senior at gunpoint in Thornden Park.

And in November, three armed men entered a South Campus apartment and bound and gagged its residents. They then took a car belonging to on or the student in an attempt to get away but we Arsemblyman Drvid Coution

Assemblyman David Gaulin, a sopho more history and political acience major said he is satisfied with the first steps the program is making toward a safer environment.
averyde crime is becoming more apparent everyday," Gaulin said. "We don't want it to get worse and this program is a step in the right direction.

Pu Public Safety, the SU police and the people of the community have to work to fight crime," he said
Many Assemblymembers are attempt ing to set up a dialogue between the South east University Neighborhood Association and the university, Gaulin added. This as sociation consists of people, other than stu dents, who live around the uaversity

The Neighborhood Association is an important link between SU students and the non-university residents, he said. It can be an influential part
UWe sh
"We should strive to create a strong relationship with the association," Gaulin said. "They need to understand what th university is striving for and know that we support them.
if we are going to continue rum- the Student Activity Fee is given ning our own programming,* said to UU and 9 percent is allocated ning our own programming," said cations major. "SGA will be giving a large percent of the Student Fee to themselves by giving us funds." Currently 60 to 65 percent of to SGA, Greiner said

Allyson Murphy, a junior graphics major, questioned the success of the merger if not sup-
"SGA will be able to vote 75 percent of the budget to itself and who's going to stop them 10 100 percem now when they wan Students, Murphy said have al-he Student Fee to SGA Greiner responded.
just think that our people need to it better," he said. "You perspective."

\section*{0 GET HIGHIITEUROPE}
llo trains. \(\boldsymbol{H o}\) pain. s99 finywhere

16 firlines serving 127 European cities in 27 countries. Is that a trip or what?
www-europebyair.com
VISIT OUR WEESITE FOR MORE INFORMATION ON PARTICIPATING AIRLINES. ROUTE MAPS AND FLGHT SCHEDULES europebyair.am
or call 1.888-387.2479

\section*{just dive!}

Register for Fall 2000 Courses It's Safe - FUN - Affordable PED 214

Snorkeling
Credit
PED 221
The Nouon's Leader in On Campus UnPED 223

Underwater
Photography
PED 225
Advanced Scuba
nationalaquatic.com
1-800-SEA-DIVE

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail your lettes to editorial@dailyorange.com.

\section*{Panelists ask U.S. government to loosen narcotic regulations}

BY BETH BRAVERMAN Staff Writer

The U.S. war on drugs is costly, unjust and inefficient, said panelists Sunday calling for an end to the country's drug policies in Latin America. The discussion, hosted by the Socialist Forum, focused on the fallures of the U.S. domesproblems of trying to and the problens in the Latin ermericat drugs in the Latin American duced.
duced.
forcien were looking at U.S oreign policy and imperialism comes together around this issue that we spend a vast amount of money and get no results," said Ron Ehrenreich, chairman of the meeting at the Westcott Community Center and one of about 15 whom attended.

The United States wants to eliminate drugs at their source, and in the case of cocaine, the source is Latin America, said panelist Judith-Maria Buechler, a professor of anthropology at Hobart and William Smith colleges. Such efforts, however, ar States to justify a coloniza ediontates to justify a colonizaAmerican countries, she added

The U.S. Defense Department is not interested in the drug war, but it uses the war as an excuse to place military outposts in Latin America. Buechler said.

The Drug En forcement Administration either bombs fields and factories where cocaine is produced voluntarily destroy coca plants in Latin America. Un Latin America. Un* fortunately, few farmers want to farmers want to harvest crops other than coca because the profit margin for the plants is much larger than that of other crops, she added.

För example, a coca teaf can be harvested for about 30 cents and can then be sold for a \($ 150-\mathrm{gram}\) of cocaine in the United States, Buechler said.

Unlike other kinds of by small seale producersm wid

Panelists at a Socialist Fonum-sponsored discussion about U.S. drug policy Sunday afternoon at the Wescott Community Center encourage the partial legalization of drugs.

Hans Buechler, a Syracuse University professor of anthropology.

The producers of coca are, for the most part, indigenous people who suffer from the U.S. Government, he added. Coca is an important part

\section*{American Red Cross}

Give blood again. It will be felt for a lifetime.

\section*{Ad}

\section*{Ehe}

Drug debate
The drug Mifepristone. widely known as RU486. the abortion pill, has been found to be effective in treating certain types of cancer, but its approval for use in this country has been stalled by highly charged abortion politics. Seven years ago. Bill issued an executive orde instructing the Food and Orug Administration to move forward on the drug. Four years ago, the FDA ruled the drug safe and effective but asked for more information on its manufacture and labeling. In February of this year, the FDA delayed approval again saying it had more ques tions.

\section*{Safe haven} Authorities in San Francisco have launched an effort to better salve the psychological wounds inflicted on small children by th epidemic of violence at home and in the streets. The city is one of a recently received grants received grants Safe Start Initiative to help young chil o help young chilnessing family and nessing farmily and One idea being weighed One idea being weighed by Safe Start organizers is establishing a family violence court, where a single judge would mete out punishment but also would oversee an entire family's recovery from the trauma of spousal abuse.

\section*{Talks dissolve}

Talks to settle the Microsoft Corp. antitrust case collapsed Saturday, dashing hopes for a speedy resolution to the case and setting the stage for years of appeals. In a statement saturated with frustration over four months of arduous negotiations, mediator Richard Posner said \(x=20\)
Saturday Saturday night that the differences between federal antitrust officials and Microsoft were "too deep-seated to be bridged." Posner's de sion to declare an impasse sets the stage impasse sets the stage for U.S. District Judge for U.S. District Juas Penfield Jackson to issue a verdict in the case as early as this week.

\section*{quote} of the day:
"Give me where to stand, and I will move the earth."
Archimedes

Sapna
Kollati,
Editor
\(4+3\)-2128
liferodaily
orange.com
[lifestyle]
FULL SPEED

SU students search for high-speed computer connections off-campus
See Lifestyle Tuesday.

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Rasputin Presents
by J-Dog & Mariska

Mr. Skizz
by Thane Benson

Eat the Lettuce

Classic Area 52
by Sam Baker

Never Odd or Even
by Tim Dose

Oh My Gawd
by Jaci Price

So This Is Life ...
by Jen Szeto

Yeah Whatever

by den Szeto

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles
by Neil Swaab

No Point
Ethan Schmidt

Get Cuse To It
by Damone Sones

O-Tay
by Becky Johnson

\title{
All the news. All the time.
}

\section*{WWW.}

\section*{dailyorange.}

COM

\section*{News, sports and} lifestyle coverage, and links to hundreds of great websites

\section*{Oil prices lie in hands of OPEC}

In last summer's sweltering heat, Citgo and Sunoco signs were an oasis. They offered thirsty cars - and penny-pinching drivers - gasoline for less than \($ 1\) per gallon.

But as quickly as the rock-bottom fill 'er up costs appeared, they shot up, as the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries pared down production and hiked prices last year.

For the nations leading OPEC's charge on the pumps, Iike tiny, war-torn Kuwait and eco-nomically-imbalanced Saudi Arabia, oil is their sole commodity, their ultimate livelihood.

They know, too, that they can continue to squeeze change out of travel-hungry U.S. drivers indefinitely. Energy-efficient oil alternatives probably won't be considered until OPEC reserves run dry. And since the environmental protection costs would be a steep price to pay, the U.S. government vows that most domestic oil resources will only be used as an absolute last resort.

Just as the United States controls price levels on their agricultural exports, OPEC nations, too, must make decisions about how much to charge for their oil exports.

Like any other industry, oil moguls wheel, deal and steal their way to profit - even if it comes by tugging tightly on the United State's purse strings. Oil remains in high demand worldwide, regardless of the cost.

Savvy OPEC members are taking full advantage of their commodity's worth. On principle alone, few U.S. businessmen would be able to find fault with their actions.

In the United States, anti-trust legislation regulates run-away pricing on goods. But for better or for worse, there exists no international body to enact similar laws abridging trade freedoms worldwide.

Oil prices run in cycles. Though drivers may have to bleed massive dollars at the pumps for the next few months, history shows us that the crunch won't last forever. Eventually, OPEC will be forced to raise production and slash prices again.

\section*{\(\left[\begin{array}{l}\mathrm{d}+\sqrt{2} \\ \hline\end{array}\right.\)}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

\section*{News Editor}

Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor Holly Auer
Lifestyle Editor Sapra Kollali
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Desien Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Dave Curtis
Joy Davia
Bill Ehninger Bill Ehninger Adeet Deshmukh
Neva Austrew Neva Austrew
Laura Prabucki Laura Prabucki Kate Stevenson
Tfffary Lankes Tiffarty Lankes Kevin Tampone
Corey Hann Magin McKenna Jeff Passan
Erin Boyte Elaine Skinuer Tito Bottitta Rachael Goldon Lisa Caswell Ron Fooks jas Mercadante Marisa Cordon

\section*{opinions}

\section*{'High Fidelity' dredges up memories of pop youth}

I'm not in the habit of writing film reviews, since such a task is usually reserved for The Daily Orange's beloved Lifestyle staff But after watching the film "High Fidelity" on Friday, I am compelled to share my shallow insights on this well-crafted piece. Unfortunately, this quirky film is destined to box-affice mediacrity.

But this movie takes me back to pop, the music that first caught my ear and helped me express my deepest sentiments.

HENRY Y. CHUNG
Nick Hornby's 1995 novel, is directed by Stephen Frears, a British director whose films credits include "The Commitments" and "The Grifters." This is a film that reminds us why we listen to pop music and how it affects our lonely lives. As protagonist John Cusack asks himself, "Did I listen to pop music because I was I listen to pop music because I was miserable? Or was I miserable because I listened to pop music? We because I listened to pop mus all have our own answers."
Cusack is believable in his role as Rob, a used record store owner and part-time DJ at a neighborhood nightclub. His trouble begins as the audience learns (played by the talented Danish actress, Iben Hjejle) of course, Rob then brags about how Laura doesn't make his top five breakup list and later amends that she barely makes No. 5 .

The movie's comic relief is provided by Rob's employees at the record store, Dick (Todd Louiso) and Barry (Jack Black). They are music encyclopedias who engage in ridiculous debates about pop music. Be funeral song and exclaims that people who don't own Bob Dylan's original "Blonde on Blonde" vinyl are pathetic.

Dick insists that Green Day commits major plagiarism from Stiff Little Fingers. Evidently, the movie's biggest celebration occurs when Rob and his employees fantasize about beating up Laura's new boyfriend - the long-haired, Zen-like, cell-phone hippie Ian, played masfully by Tim Robbins.
Without giving too much plot away, I shall explain what impact the film has on me. First, I know the several radio shows in high school. I feel that music and several radio shows in high school. Ifeel that musi stages of a relationship. That's why I understand perfectly when Rob says to Laura, "Of course Marvin Gaye is responsible for our relationship."
Also, when Rob is down, he starts arranging his records alphabetically, chronologically or "autobiographically." 1 have over 500 CDs and I still remember wher I got them. Each disc I own reveals a unique history and background about me, as i am not generous in One of my CDiends says "You have more CDs than God." My music is a summation of my suffering, happiness and pride.
Later Rob discovers that Laura is his true love. Overlooking the Chicago River, he makes a list of the top five reasons that he misses her. One of them states, "I miss her smell. I miss the way she tastes."

When asked about the couple's chance of getting back together, Laura quotes an arbitrary nine percent. "I guess the dialogue in this film is so real that at some point in our lives we have already had it. And yet, the complexity of the human race allows us to reprise these priceless

So "High Fidelity" left me with two main thoughts. First, as Rob wanders around Chicago and searches in the phone book for his past love, I must admit I have had the same urge on several occasions. However, under embarrassment, I cowardly gave up those reunion embarrassment, I cowardly gave up those reunion plans.

For consolation purposes, I hercby deliver my ode to all the girls whom I have loved or secretly loved before. Thanks for making me who I am. Sometimes I wonder how I even made it this far. The simple answer is that I wouldn't be here today without going through all our good and bad times. I dedicate Al Green's "Tired of Being Alone" to every one of you for old-time reminiscences.

Second, "High Fidelity" is a more realized version of John Cusack's 1989 "Say Anything." We loved him then; we still love him now. I dedicate "High Fidelity" to a special friend of mine whose favorite film is "Say Anything."

I hope that next time when I watch either of these movies, Ill be watching it with her.

Late that night, after returning home from the theater, I put on Marvin Gaye's "Let's Get it On" album and went to sleep sourdiy.

Henry Y. Chung is a first-year student in the College of Law and the Maxwell Sctuol of Citizenship and Daily Orange. E-mail him at hechung@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SGA defends accusations of mismanagement}

To the Editor:
It was disheartening to open The Daily Orange last Thursday and see the editorial "SGA crosses stated that "SGA is a laughable, poorly-run organization." As president of the Student Government Association, I take pride in an organization that has turned itself around and is now very effective on campus.

For example, in just a few weeks, we have made the administration look at the Centro bus schedule and alter it to meet the Bail Bonds program and got Computing and Media Services to begin ixing computers in the Goldstein Student Center cluster.

We have defined ourselves - a small but hardworking group, dedicated in defending the students and doing what is right for them. Our hugely successful Spring 2000 Tour visited dining halls and met with students to find out their concerns. One of the major concerns was that dent Activity Fee was theing Student Activity Fee was going.
In an effort to address this issue, the University Union Board of Directors deemed it necessary to merge with SGA. The Board felt to reap the benefits with top-of-theto reap the benefits with top-ol-the tions with the assistance the merg er can offer.

There is not enough room to begin to go into what the merger entails. Why doesn't the student body do something they have never done before? Start caring, come to Assembly meetings and stop by the office. Be proactive for once. office. Be proactive for once.

Jamal James
sGA Presiaent
University Senator

\section*{NAPSTER}
continued from page 7
Ware, vice president for the research and computing department at SU

While downloading pirated movies is also illegal, only recording industry representatives have filed complaints, he added.

The RLAA, a trade organizaUion representing more than 500 cialists who search Napster for users who share large amounts of music files, Ware said.

When suspects are found at SU, the RIAA contacts Computing and Media Services, Ware said. Past complaints, filed at a rate of about six per year, have always shown sufficient evidence to establish the suspect's guilt, he added.
"It's fairly routine," Ware In cases of alleged copyright infringement, the suspect's ResNet account is immediately suspended and the case is brought before the Judicial Board for further action, he said.

There has only been one case at Scording to Judicial Board reports.

In the fall of 1999, a sophomore was sentenced to disciplinary probation, 30 hours of community service and a research paper for downloading MP3 files, according to the report.

Copyright infringement -a violation of SUrs Computing Poli-

\section*{PIAZZA}
continued from page 7 orchestra is fully utilized to add an epic sweep to the group's already brilliant material. On "Both Sides Now," the orchestra usually takes a back seat to Mitchell's voice - it is intimate rather than epic.

Despite the absence of origi nal material on the CD, the alburn jacket suggests that "Both Sides Now" is a concept album Sides Now" is a concept album.

The first track in the narrae, You're My Thrill," describes the feelings of hopeless infatua-

\section*{The Daily Orange}
cy - can result in criminal prosecution and monetary damages, according to the CMS Web site.

Because the area of digital copyrights is relatively new and unprecedented, application of the law and prosecution are still unyear, student in the College of year student in the College of Law. Authorities might try to nake an example with felony charges and fines, he said.
"It's something that could be debilitating to the rest of your career," Basham said.

\section*{On the track}

In order to track down suspects, copyright owners can obtain a subpoena from a federal court ordering the disclosure of names of alleged violators, according to the DMCA.

Sunas not received any subpoenas to release student names because the find, Ware said.

When SU students are found guilty, however, the university decreases its liability by having a digital copyright agent registered with the U.S. Copyright Office complying with the DMCA, according to the act.

The DMCA holds the instituion responsible for policing its user base, said Ware, who has been SU's digital copyright agent since February 1999.

Registering an agent gives the copyright owner the opportunity to contact the university, \section*{tion -- When I look at you/I} can't sit still/Because you're my thrill." Next, the classic "At Last," celebrates capturing the object of affection. These are the only two pbeat songs on the album.

Problems begin to creep into he relationship during the course of the next few songs. In "Comes Love," Mitchell sings, depression ... nothing can be depression ... nothing can be "Answer Me Love, \({ }^{\text {d }}\) Mitchell laments the gradual degradation of the relationship, asking her lover what went wrong.
thus reducing the university's liability, Ware said.
\(f\) someone is doing something illegal," Ware said, "anyone who wants to find out knows who to talk to."

Other universities across the nation Mincluding Cornell University, Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology - also have digital brary of Congress records.

To reduce its fiability, the institution must designate and regster the agent, inform the users of the policy and identify the agent, according to an intellectual property Web site maintained by the University of Missouri.

Ware said his name is listed somewhere on the CMS Web page, but is hard to locate.
right now, I probably wouldn't right now, 1 pr find it." he said.

\section*{The Napster factor}

Aside from investigating cases of alleged copyright violasuit against Napster - a popular MP3 sharing service - for allegedly enabling and encouraging music piracy.

Joel Kaplan, newspaper department chairman in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, called the practice stealing." Students shouid not be able to download MP3s withqut paying royalties to the copyright holders and recording artists, he said.
"Both Sides Now" builds in intensity and emotion throughout the first five songs, and in many ways climaxes on the middle rack with "A Case of You." The ong signals the official end of the relationship. After an opening lourish, the orchestra recedes into the background, offering subMitchell's bruised, vulnerab Mitchell's bruised, vulnerable

Unfortunately, once the rela tionship is over, "Both Sides Now" becomes far less interesting. The second half of the disc is much more monotonous and less
"When people create a thing," he said, "they have a right to it."

Napster responds quickly to claims of copyright violation committed through its service reporied to its agent, said Napster offiWeb page. \({ }^{4}\) Napst law and expect the same," Napster officials said in the statement. "As a condition to your account with Napster, you agree that you will not use the Napster service to infringe the intellectual property rights of others in any way.

This trust system is difficult to uphold, however, because the Napster network functions by making any computer that uses its software both a client and a

Ver.
When searching for MP3s on Napster, the user's computer rectory on a server at Napster's headquarters in San Mateo, Calif. The computer acts as a client that searches other computers on the network

The computers then form a direct link to allow music to be sent and downloaded from one to the other.

The computer also becomes a server that shares its resources with others on the Napster network.

Although more than a hundred universities nationwide probably not follow suit, David innovative than the first.
Whereas the orchestra was relegated to the background in the disc's opening songs, it completey overwhelms Mitchell at points in the second half, especially in Don't Worry 'Bout Me."

The reason much of "Both Sides Now" works is because the orchestra doesn't take precedence ver the lyrical material. It sounds like a richer backup band rom a local nightclub, and and pain belong in such a place Once the orchestra gets too heavy, the music loses its intima-

Butler, director of SU Network Daily Orange in a tarah 22 artiDaily Orange in a cle.

\section*{Forbidden fruit}
"MP3s are not going to go away, said dim Wuest, a freshSciences. "Obviously some changes are going to be made or the record companies are going to go out of business.

Because it only costs about \($ 2\) to make a CD, the \($ 15\) sticker price is ridiculous, Wuest added. \({ }^{\prime \prime}\) "I feel like I'm getting ripped off," he said.

Wuest said he still buys jazz and "funk" CDs, but can easily download popularmusic from Napster.

Matt Sanders, a freshman computer science major, said the music he tiscens to mosty comes from his archive of \(500 \mathrm{MP3s}\).

Although his interest in computers predates his college days, been expanding rapidly since he arrived on campus.
"You get insane download speeds (with a ResNet connection), which means you can grab a lot of them at a time," Sanders said.

Although "it's kind of a shame \({ }^{\text {t music is pirated, Sanders }}\) said he downloads MP3s because CDs are so unreasonably priced.
"Granted, it's illegal"," he added, "but no one's going to know."

\section*{cy and, by extension, its relevance and emotion.}

Joni Mitchell's music has always examined heartache from a very close, personal point of view. Even though many of these songs are not onginal, they hav the same sort of identifiable pathos embedded within the Metallica, the epic orchestra Metallica, the epic orchestra her style. Even though half the albuma is terrific, by the end, Mitchell sounds like a lounge singer lost at the symphony.

\section*{}

sescion \(1-\) may 23 -imy 1
Sesciten 2F July 5-Angust 12
Tivive-Weotr Sesslon: May 23HArgust 12
An rqual epporsinite offinatior action insitimion

\section*{FACEOFF}
continued from page 16
man Chris Cercy to step from the lush grass of the stadium into the center wh
"That face-off circle," he said, "is \(t\) played on."

The way Cercy played, in its carpet and to cut a hole it with dirt.

Cercy went 21-for-25 on face-offs, with huge help from his wingmen, Sam Bassett and Joe Ceglia, in the Orangem

Winning at a 57 percent clip before the Brown game, Cercy ranked in the nation's top 20 face-off men.
He and the wingmen comfort that stifled the Brown (33) attack from getting into any kind of semblance.
there, Lasagna said. "Cercy does a great job, and Bassett is the best wing, guy in the country." short pole qud Bassett's athshort pole and Bassetts athsmart and outmuscle their way to a groundball.
And when neither can find it, Ceglia - a 5 -foot-9, 185 pound defensive midfielder scoots through and sna the ball with his cross.
"You're not going to be hearing about Sam Bassett or myself or Chris Cercy," Ceglia said, "but during the face-off you're going to know about one of us, because we're running around like banshees and trying to scoop up everything in "We know what it takes to get the ball. We're a chippy bunch, and we like to get things done.' \({ }^{-\quad}\) The group capitalized early, winning the first eight cuse (6-0) to an 8-1 lead.

But Cercy's peak achievement cam

On the face-off after a Mike Springer goal, Cercy popped the ball straight ahead and out of the dirt pile.

He scooped the groundball and tossed it about 25 yards to Liam Banks, who stood on the Jeft wing. As Banks took a step toward the goal, Brown's defense committed.

A wide-open Springer cut toward the cage, received a posited his second goal within seven seconds, giving the Orangemen a \(12-3\) advantage.

Cercy's offensive prowess causes trouble for opposing face-off units, \(S U\) coach John face-off units, SU coach John Desko said.
"It may force teams to go to a more defensive mode on the face-off instead of being aggressive," he said. "Chris is getting better and better offensively, and he got the ball out in front today. It's going to help us in the future and make us a little more dangerous.

While Cercy earns the statistics and national recognition, the versatility of his wingmen give SU more options than othr teams.
The unit calls set plays - a rarity among college teams-most with the intent of Bassett most with the intent of scooping a groundball.

Usually, the plan is for Cercy to roll the ball near Bas sett and let him beat his man from the left wing puts the ball," said Bassett puts the ball," said Bassett "It takes a little work to get them, but you've got to give him them, but you've got to give him credit f

Said Cercy: "Sam Bassett did a ridiculous job. He comes up with everything I put out up with everything i put out, and they can't stop it."

Bassett's stick control came in handy late in the contest, when he scored his second goal in two games.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pounder picked a groundball and ran up the unmanned right sideline. On the run, he ripped a 20 yard shot that went over Beret Dickson's left shoulder and put the Orangemen ahead 16-3.

Everything revolves around the face-off, however of the ball, SU's myriad oppor tunities would never present themselves.

And keying it all, Desko said, is his invaluable junior face-
"Chris does a great job adjusting," Desko said. "He controlling the ball, putting it out to a spot where he can pick it pick or une of our wingmen can

Playing on a face-off circle that resembled a sand dune, Chris Cercy and company gamered all but four face-offs on the afternoon.

\section*{BEARS}
continued from page 16
ate. Powell spent the game staying out or the play in the settled attack, leaving room for his teammates to dissect the Bears' changing defense.
When Powell touched the ball, Brown would fall into a zone, ball, Brown would fall into a zone, head coach John Desko said. Banks' passing and Springer finishing ability near the cage helped the Orangemen scored often and the Orangemen scored often and with ease.
"They locked down on Ryan "They locked down on Ryan all day, and that gave us a lot more space out there," Banks said. ecution was great."

In most of its outings this season, Brown (3-3) tried to outgan the opposition. But a scoreless opening six minutes indicated the Bears might slow the tempo, a common practice of \(S U\) s foes.

\section*{HABLE}
continued from page 16 hopper under the helpless keeper.
"Katrina's a leader on our team," Hanover said. "We need her to play well to win, and she did that. She made great cuts, got herself open and then it w easier to get her the ball."
Strong ball movement set up Hable's third goal. Freshman Hable's third goal. Freshman rebound off a well-schemed scorrebound off a well-schemed scoring opportunity and dropped off a pass for Hable, who scored high a powerful left-handed shot.
Hable added her fourth goal in a row just over 30 seconds later.

She then assisted on Carrie Soults' third score of the game befift capping the 6-0 run with her shot goal of the half, a low, hard shith 10:52 remaining. Despite posting six first-half goals, the Orangemen needed an ncrease in intensity, Miller said. pace, SU moved the ball crisply, it showed early in the gane and it showed early in the game and UConn defense.

Showcasing an impressive offensive display, \(S U\) rapid-fired a season-best 40 shots at the Husky cage while limiting the Syracuse shook the slow beginning and ripped off three straight goals to close the first period. Meanwhile, its close defense kept. Brown scoreless and forced double-digit turnovers in the quarter.

After a Jimmy Mormile goal brought the Bears within a deuce, 8-1 halftime lead a row to take an 8-1 halftime lead.

Down 5-1, the Bears killed off consecutive one-minute penalties and gained their only hint of momentum. But Josh Coffman scored seconds after the second penalty ended to deflate charging penalty

Banks finished a crisp fastbreak by beating Dickson with 45 seconds remaining in the half, and Springer fed Stuart Smith for a score just six ticks before halftime.
"We talked about that before the game," Lasagna said. "We knew they would do that. We were feeling pretty good about a 5-1 game. But they get boom, boom, boom to get to 8-1."

The Bears and Orangemen traded goals to start the third before the six-goal rally drowned any hopes of a miracle comeback.

The Orangemen dominated every facet of the game and overwhelmed the undermanned Bears. Paced by junior Chris Cercy, SU won all but four face-offs. Those results came in stark contrast to a battie with Johns Hopkins two weekends ago, when Syracuse won only 7 -of- 27 faceofls Syracuse's deep midfield capitalized on the newfound chances. italized on the newfound chanoes. Coffman scored twice and assisenior co-captain Tim Bymes racked up a goal and an assist.
a goal and an assist. the net. Seniors Devin Darcangelo and Matt Caione scored first-quarter goals, and Spencer Wright and Sam Bassett added tallies with the game long decided in the ourth period.

Mormile led Brown with a pair of goals, and Michael Monfett assisted on a pair of scores. Untested most of the afternoon, Rob Mulligan made a mere six saves and left the game after Bassett's goal midway through the fourth.

At the other end, SU placed Beret Dickson under siege, forcng the Bears junior to make 12 saves. Brown's defense left Dickson helpless on several goals, evidence of Syracuse solving Lasagdence of Syracuse solving Lasagna's proposed shortstick solution. ferent things defensively, \({ }^{\text {N }}\) SU head coach John Desko said. head coach John Desko said.
"They were switching (from zone to man-to-man), and as they switched, they left a player open on the backside, and we took advantage of that."
one that saw her tally eight goals and three assists in her rst six games.

While attractive numbers for some attackers, Hable felt disappointed in her early-season output.

It's frustrating because I haven't been fully back to the level I was at last year," she said. "In practice I have been, so my goal today was to get back to where I used to be. But I try to play off everyone else and let my game come, and the second half, it definitely did.
visitors to 21. Miller said her defensive unit's clamping down on Connecticut ranked just as important in terms of team progress as did the free-nowing offensive showing.
"This defensive unit is very athletic, very fast and they close ground very quickly," Miller said. "It's hard to take them one-on-
The win kept intact SU's dominance over UConn, which included last season's \(11-8\) win and a 20-0 drubbing of the puskies in the schools ago. The loss marked the first of the season for UConn (5-1), while SU climbed to 4-3 and over the first time this season.

Soults, a sophomore face-off specialist, guided SU to a 16-7 scored one of the game's early goals off the opening whistle.

Winning the face-off, Soults accelerate all the way to the UConn net, beating Pollock only 11 seconds in Pollock, a freshman from North Syracuse, showcased flashes of brilliance in her return horne, making 26 saves - many of the spectacular variety - on point-blank opportunities and free-position shots.

Soults, however, posted four goals in one of her best outings of the season, while Karen Healy and Kara Hanover tacked on wo apiece. Lauren Brady ac "With a lot of people scoring we know that if one person has rough night, there'll be someone there to pick it up," said Hanover who added two assists. We make pace for each other. We get each all work. It's a team each other up, and when we're running the offense right, things just seem to work."

Hable took extra delight in breaking out of her mini-slump,

Two Summer Sessions
French Immersion Progran Web Design Prógrams
- Cultural Excursions

The American University of Paris
6 rue du Colonel Combes
75007 Paris, France
Tel. (33/1) 40620720
Fax \((33 / 1) 47053432\)
Work office:
(212) 983-1414

14 ［classifieds］

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315－443－9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 $\) each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PEA ISSUE 8 are Pre－paid by： Cash，Check，Master Card，Visa or Discover Deadine：2pm 2 business days prior to rum Ads can be mailed with check to： Ads can be mailed with crieck to：

Notices
Summers Coming Lose inat winter bulge．Docco
Recommended 30 milion have lost their weigh！ Recommended
\(1.88 B-789-2967\)

\section*{Autos}

1995 Explorer Sport 2 Ooor， 2 WD．White．tow package． 70 k miles．new Gocidear RT／S tires \(& 8\) non．smoker Auto Arm
Si0．500．BO \(430-1102\)

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Path time iobs delivery diviers．dishwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshall St
Comp Counselors Top Oreminht Campsi

TOP BOYS SPORTS CAMP IN MAINEI PLAY

 ROOM BaAAD．ALAUNDRY TVavel Allowance．

Nutses： 3 Camp nurses needed tor Juna 21 －

 criurren＇s camp on Seneca Lake Your childiten are intiomaiorvapplication．
Full yeart／summer nannies neeted．Work with praminuines Average salarios 5350 and 5500 ．Excellic incurdes room and bourd．Medical benefisis．Trave opporturilicics．Agency 1－800－932－2736
Painiers Wanted tor Summer．Work in University and surrounding areas．Start Mid April or Eatty May Call Gary 486 －9599 income opportunities． Or fo careers

campuspolioalint．com in the Finger Lakes．These seriiar postions are to plus soom and boant from June 17 lo August 20. Contact fienee at 716 －4
Camp Counselons：Jewish Community Center of Greater Rochester－Camp Seneca Lake is seeking mids．Mus：be at least a college freshman and be availsble June 21 －August 20．Lileguard certilication a pluss Salary plus room and board．
Contare Rene infornationtapplication．

HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMEA！Prestigious cood camp in beautiful Mass．seeks caring．motivared college stroaentis \＆gacas seens cating，motrvated Colege stidents agack whios kest Genion a \begin{tabular}{c} salaties + Irave \\
\(1-800-762 \cdot 2820\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Pro－medcal stucten！wanted for full time possition at busy medical oticic，Mrile wating to hear trom
AMAZNGG SUMMEF at premier PA cese chuderen＇s ernight camp Energetic，enihusiasic，men Experienct．Iniertships Available．Contact camp 10 schedule
ontampus interview

Do you erioy a chailengen Diar you scorby
 Moking for highty molizaled ind ividuals to properataion nocurses．Emat rour resurnee to Sue Navara a st susanno review．com or senditio The Priction Revew． 4498 Main SI．，Suite 2.
Snyderi，NY 142226 ．

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Help Wanted}

\section*{} \(\underset{800-297.5670}{575.007 \%}\)
BARN HELP NEEDED：Responsible insuitual mith

Sison weakly potential maiting our circuises．No Expenenence Fequired．Free intormation packel．Cail
202－452－7679．

\section*{Roommates} Roommate wanted for tall semestiter 2000 only

\section*{FOR RENT}

Westicont Eucta rencrales \(3+4\) beerrom

powhin，teundry＇

\section*{O．P．R．}

Developers
4－5－6 Bedroom Homes／
Town Houses Microwaves， dishwasher，washer， dryer， security systems remodeled Apt＇s All Locations／Prices 478－6504

Universiy nicelty furished quiee \(1,2,3\) bedroom parking urditios induded．Close Waik 50 hospinats aiso S bedroom nicely lurnished house melerences \begin{tabular}{l}
also 5 bed \\
478.2652 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{OPR Developars}

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000－2001 Rooms．EnJAPTs Homes \＆Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your Duckl MOST INCLUDING －Security System with \(1 *\) Oeac Bont Locks －Smoke．Hoatz \＆Sprinker System －Remodeled Full Custom Kitchenimaths Kttchens inctude：Goummet Self－cleaning ovans． Wairsage Disposais，Microwavas．Dishma －On－stryet Parking
－Snow E Lawn Maintenanco
Super tnsulated（meanans les vuthiles） Some Apts．include All Utiatises \(&\) Furnishod Sate Areas within Walldng Distance to Campuis
Such as－Crnssiock，Ostrom，Hantison，Medson． Yesticot Clarencoon，Ackemranan，Uvingiston， Lancabter

\section*{CALL 478－6504}
to check out your home
mway tom hounel

Univernity Ave five pedroom House one nood trom Sarshall Straet turnished laundry patking
 The＂Pink Palace＂ 5 Br．House adacent to fos號

Univenity and Comatock Very cosose to campus bumished Aulicry patking 5375.001 io 5700.00

Apurimentas dose to campus demn 2－3－5

\section*{LOOK ATTHIS1}

Throe Berdroon Apartment
 bedroons．and batye

\section*{}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422－0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4，5，6，7 BEDROOM HOUSES．

WWW．UNIVERSITYHILL．COM
813 Comslock 5／6 Bedroons Across Frorm Womens Gym AA
\($ 2400+682-3304\)
Two Bedroon Apartimente on Euelid Fumished
Two Bedroon Apartments on Euelid Fumis
Weat included，hartword lioors，porch，recunty remodeled，datudy parking， \(476-2982\) rembedeled，laundry，parking， \(776-2982\) University Ave Three Bedroom Flat Close Walk to Camus tumished laundry parking lease \(\mathrm{SB75.00}\) to Campus furnished laundry parking fease \($ 875.00\)
plus utitities DNN．Orucker \(445-1229\)

\section*{Luxurious：2slory apthoh Gourmet kivdin．
 1.2 .3 berms ofdistucy：iacurzibath，porthes．
OSIROMMADISON：All apts lutn S heated． \\ NO PETS！Leases．Fine Pa－znet．corn
Cal：for appl 469－0780}

1．2－3 Bedroom Aparmens，Beautitu，Spacious， Olistueet Parking．Fully Fu
Sale，Ouiet．Close 476 －c295
Kensington Ptace 1 sifioor large 3Bedroom ygLingrioom Dining Foom ModernKitchen dishwasher microwava disposal fireplace harturoodifioors porches nearlusline

4 Bdrm House \($ 300 / \mathrm{rm}\) and 3 borm fats \($ 250 / \mathrm{mm}\) ． Avail Aug．Very nice．Walk to SU．FM Realty Group 637．5195

\section*{Apartments}

SumnerAve and LancasterAve three bedrooms apatinenl also two bedrooms semi furnished avail able now call 445－1027
1．1．2 Bedroom attic apartsent on quiet street． Unlumished．Air conditioned wal to wall carpet new appliances．Sexitabla tor single or coxple．Avalable
 One year lease．No Pets \(243-0754\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O．P．R． \\
\hline Developers \\
1，2，3－4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers， \\
mirowoves， \\
decisposal， \\
All Lurity sysems \\
Pritions／ \\
Prices \\
478－6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

GatMontit and Securiy No Fots \(A\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS． \\
1011 E．Adams \\
509 University \\
Carpoted，Alr Conditioned． \\
Fumished，Secure，Laundry，Parking， \\
Maintenance． \\
University Aroa Apts． \\
479－5005 \\
www．universityarea．com
\end{tabular}

2 Bedroom Apts 202，204 Ostrom．105 Euctid Terrace Large
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline One Bedroom Apartments， some with 9 month leases． Fireplace，hardwood ithors，fumished． laundry，quiet buiding，close to campus． utilities inclucted．
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments Writh utitities included，Freeplace， Furnished，Hardwood Floors and close to Campus．Call Gortion
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Studio and Efficiency Apartments，Iurnished stitities included．Pakning．Aapundry，inces si narturood floers and carpet，476－2982．
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
APARTMENTS CLOSETO CAMPUS 2\％ 3 BEDFOOMS AVAILABLEINCLUDING： 3 BR ACKERMAN \\
－2 ER SUMNER－ 2 ND SEMESTER \\
2 日a EUCLID－2ND SEMESTEA \\
－2 2 R EUCLID－9 MOS．LEASE \\
315／00 TO 51501 \\
FURNISHED，EXCELLENT CONDITION， \\
SOME INCLUDE UTILTIES．CALL．422－013a
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

2 Bedroom furnished apariment with all uthities included！\($ 240.00\) per person．One mile from \({ }_{4}^{\text {campus．}} 4\)
Large 2 bedroom． 2 full bath．Walking distance 204 Ostrom Ethiciency One and 2Bedroom Secur Bidg Laundry Parking Very Clean Avail June 445.5186

\section*{SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS}

\section*{604 Wainut Ave．}

2，AND 3
Bedroom Apartments．
Utilities includod．Fuly furnished．Rents start at \($ 300\) R Rfinished harteod floors．Wall to wall carpat Flats． Townhouses．Femodeled kitchens and baths．Dishwashers．Forches．Laundry． Parking． 24 hour maintenance www．universityarea．com Wiversity Area Apts 479－5005

3 Bedroom Modarn Apartment on Ackerman
Averue． 5220.00 por person plus utilities． Available June ist 2000 ．Some of Street Parking
\({ }^{-}\)Free Laundry－．Serious Students Prelerred．No Frree Laundry
Pets．254－0025
Large clean 3Eedroom flais Westcotheterbad SL area．Hartwood floors．porches，offstreet parking 1 yr lease security \(5660+446-9923\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT， TWO FULI BATHS， euclid ave．free héat great location 476－9933 \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

2．3 Bdrm Apts and 4 Bdrm House for rent on Marytand Ave．Potarianos
Ackerman Ave．nice 3bedroom Hat，furnished． Stove，retrig，laundry，fireplace，gardge．
Avail fune 1 ist 446 －4229
Throe Bedroom Aparemente，Two pornies，

Groat University Area Beautiful Modern 182 日drm Apts．for 2000 － 2001
Come now 8 get your choich．All Now App
 Scura Buildings Whntercormser Door
Relecasen Custon Bindi，Porch or Patio

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE SPACIOUS，IDEAL FOR ONE ORTWO ERSONS，FREE HEAT，GR
LOCATION 476－9933

502 Clerendon targe ciean 2Bedroom flat hardwood flocors porch oft－－street park
640 incurdes heat 446 －8928

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1／2 block from campus． Modern 2 bedroom apartments．
Wall to wall carpet．
Air conditioned．Dishwasher． Competitive rents． Competitive rents． 302 Marshall St． 479－5005

Large 3 betroom． 2 tuil bath．Walking dis
S．L．off street parking Laundry．Call 476.2982 ． Apartment 4Br．2tull bath 1 place h．wood Hoor 446 －1951
looking lor a place to live？www．housing101．nat your move oft campus！ Free roommate subbel listings lit

1，2，and 3 Bedroom Apartrrents
302 Marshall St 621 Euclid Ave
917 Ackernan Ave
145 Avondale Place
Available for 2000－2001
Fully Fumished，Laundry Parking．Fuli Time Maintenance and Management， Wall to Wall Carpet andor
Refinished Hard Wood Floors Remodeled Kitchens and Eaths
University Area Apts 1011 E．Adams St．\＃30 479－5005
www．universityarea．com
One Bedroom Apartments Close so Campurs utitities inctuded．Cak floors．fire place，furnishes utibities included．Oak floors．lire place，furnished patking．very clean，laundry Call Gordon \(476-2982\) ．

ONE，TWO，THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS．
Westcott Sireet area Laundry，Parking，Leas Avail June，July＋Aug
445－0540
Fumished 2－5Bedrcom Houses／Apartments
Livingston，Sumner，Ackeman，Euclid 469－6665
Studio，One and Two Bedroom Apts．close to Campus．Laundry，

Parking，Lease， Heated
440－6200
437－7577
University 263 Bedrocom Townthouses \＆Flass： Fireplace，inished basement．Call 449－0109．

BY ALISON HISCHAK Staff Writer

Carla Gigon has started every Syracuse women's lacrosse game on the bench this season.

But as the season has progressed, she has spent more time off the pine and between the pipes.

For the second time this eason, senior goalkeeper Clothilde Ewing struggled in goal and Gigon, a freshman, received the call to suit up and step in.

The rookie held Connecti cut scoreless for the majority of the second half in Syracuse's 14-7 victory at the Carrier re on Saturday.
The freshman finished with four saves on six shots in her 30 minutes of action, compared shots in the first stanza.

Gigon started the second half with SU clinging to a \(6-5\) lead, and while many players would feel pressured in that situation, she thrived on it.
"I was pumped," she said. "I like going in and trying to help the team out. It's an adrenaline rush."

Carla likes to be relied on in that way," assistant coach Kerri Whitaker said. "She likes to be put into a situation where the outcome hangs in the balance or she can impress.

The Huskies wasted no time testing the freshman.

With SU still holding the 6-5 advantage five minutes into the second half, Jody Nickerson fired a shot low and Gigon counered with a quick stick save.

After the Huskies snagged the rebound, Pamela Lowie took a another shot at the cage, but cross and cleared the zone.

After Gigon's back-to-bac aves, SU attacker Katrina Hable tallied four consecutive goals to bust open the game, pushing the SU lead to \(10-5\) and giving the defense a comfortable cushion.

We got momentum back, and we started getting pumped and getting into the game," Gigon said. "Then we just startand it was just flowing \({ }^{n}\) gether it was just flowing." for the freshman however sailing

UConn's Abby Morga broke through the defense and squeezed a shot in between Gigon and the right post for the Huskies' sixth goal.

The only other score Gigon allowed was a desperation goal by Lowie with 30 seconds left in the game.

Even though Gigon gave up two scores, she forced the Huskies to alter their offensive game, Whitaker said.
"She's very athletic and very aggressive," Whitaker said. "I think they hit a lot of pipes because of that. They more the more precise because she covers the cage well with her quickness."
net, Ewing encountered success in net, Ewing encountered trouble. Early in the first half, Ewing hit a stretch where she surrendered three consecutive Connecticut goals.
"I definitely could have played better," Ewing said. "There were some shots that I should have had, but luckily, we had Carla who could come in and play like she did in the second half."

Saturday's game was the second time Gigon replaced a struggling Ewing. The freshmanalso stepped in against Georgetown, when the Hoyas scored six goals in the first 26 minutes.

Switching keepers isn't a situation Whitaker wants to be in for the rest of the season.

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daity Orange Junior Katrina Hable has had trouble putting polnts on the board for the Orangewomen this seasar. Har breakthrough performance came on Saturday, as Hable led SU with five gioals in a win over Connecticut
"Clo has been inconsistent, and she's been struggling," Whitaker said. "I don't want to put her in a situation where and she goes in and she comes out. It's not good for her, and its not good for our team."

With past performances in mind. Whitaker said a decision about the goalkeeper situation is likely to be made this week.
"I would like to get some stability in the crease, definiteknow what we're going to do yet, we'll have to wait and see."

The coaches will choose between Ewing, a senior tri-captain who started nine games her sophomore year and all 16 games last season, and Gigon, a freshman who has played in parts of three games.

Whether Gigon remains the backup or earns herself a starting role this season, head coach Lisa Milher knows Gigon will impact the future.

Clo is a senior and Carla is a freshman," Miller said. "We need to transjition Carla in and get her a littie game experience. Carias the future. That's what we're looking to

\section*{[classifieds \\ UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
, 2,3,4 85 Edrm Apartments, Houses+ Studios Cheart, Spacious, Superior Corndition, some recently ranova Four Beorroom on Ackerman, Fumnished, Parking. Lavndy Carpet, Hartwocd Fiors
Call Gionton \(466-2982\)

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Lovely, Spacious \\
Five Bedroom House \\
 fumilenod, gerpos, troe laundry \\
 Four Bedroom House \($ 255 / 8\) edrawn 446-7611
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME.} FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE.
FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES,
\[
476-9933
\]

Large \(3 / 4\) beditoons house on Eudid, Maryland. Fireplace off-straet parking, washer-dryer. wall to campus, reasonable rate, available 8/1/00
Call \(449-4954,637-5195\)

Summer Rentals

\section*{Surmene Baryanin szoum Reor person with al} Llinities inctuded. \(2,3+4\) bedroom apartments availabie. Rent whole aparment or by the room.
Ore bicck from Campus. \(445-9538\) Five Bedroom House fumishod tipherict, hartwood fic fumithed, grape, tron tundry 446-7611

\section*{PERSONALS}

Sports Lines
Are you in charge of ordering FShirts or Party
Favors lor your organizalion? Vsit our wehist avors io your organization? Visit our wetsito ownwipe SERVICES Travel Eurorail Pazs Experta www.raildeals.com Gel tons of FREE stuti-2 500 discout oflers. rail
 BE FLEXIBLE.SAVE SSS EUVODe S169 (ow taxes) CHEAP FARES WOALDWIDEI! Mesioco caribbean \($ 199\) (ff + taxes) Call \(800-326-2009\) \begin{tabular}{l} caribbean \($ 199\) ( \((\mathrm{fh}\) \\ mw. + thaxes ) Call \(800-326-2009\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{MISC.}

As Alwate Frian THE DAILY ORANGE: As alwars, please use caution when repiying or being replied from ary acverisement in each beng repived from ary adverisement in ead issue. tor The Daily Orange does not take responsibility tor any misconduct ressulting in contact belween yoursetl and advertiser.
\(=\)

The Daily Orange Classified Advertising
The deadine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checksonly Call 443-9793 for more information.
checksoly, Call \(443-9793\) for more in

\section*{NOTES}

Men's Lacrosse
Orangemen (6-0) player
Springer
Springer
Coffman
Cowfill
Byrnes
Byrnes
Caione
Darcangelo
Smith
Wright
Bears (3-3)
player
Mormile
Metz
Metz
Hughes
Hughes
Monfett
Women's Lacrosse
No. 15 Syracuse 14 Connecticut

Orangewomen (4-3)
player
Hable
Souits
Hanover
Healy
Brady
Brown
Wayne
Shifren
Shifren
Huskies (5-1)
player
Lowie
Levins
Eliss
Wehinger
Fizer to declare
Big 12 Player of the Year Marcus Fizer will declare for the NBA Draft today, a source close to the lowa State junior said. Cyclones head coach Larry Eustachy encouraged Fizer - who is married and has charen - to enter the draft and tak care of

Fizer led lowa State to Big 12 regular-season and tournament tities before it fell to Michigan State in the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight.
The junior forward averaged 23.2 points per game this season.

\section*{Self stays at Tulsa}

After carrying the Golden Hurricane to a 32 win season and a spot in The final eight, coach University of Nebrask Friday to coach at Tulsa
The Cornhuskers fired Danny Nee after their season and courted Self with a package worth at least \($ 750,000\) per year. But the Tulsa community rarlied to support its school. bolstering Tulsa's offer to Self through a private fundraising effort.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. When was the last time the NCAA men's basketball national championship game went overtime?
thuraday's trivia:
Q. What is Syracuse's single-garne goal record for women's lacrosse? A. Katrina Hable twice scored seven goals in a game.

Dave Curtis, editor
Syracuse 16 - Brown 5

Midfiefder Tim Bymes helped Syracuse defeat Brown 16-5 on Saturday, adding a groal and an assist to the Orangemen's victory fund.

\title{
The win extends SU's winning streak to six garmes, and the Orangemen kept their No. 1 ranking intact \\ SU beats up on Bears
}

BY DAVE Curtis Sports Editor

PROVIDENCE, R.I. - In the aftermath of Syracuse's \(16-5\) victory Saturday afternoon at Brown Stadium, nabbergasted Bears coach Brown Stadium, flabbergasted Bears coach and resident lacrosse detective Peter Lasagna pleaded insanity.

Brown's head man, sporting Columbo's zeal and Encyclopedia Brown's boyish looks, exhausted himself last week, searching game tapes, coaches manuals and his o
ence The veteran coach said he thought he dis
The veteran coach said he thought he disstick midfielder to chase Ryan Powell.
Yet even with their superstar teammate silenced for most of the afternoon, nine other Orangem out of the gameplan was to take Ryan Powell did a good job of that. But they found other people."

Powell managed two goals and a pair of assists, but SU sophomore Liam Banks pounded Brown with three goals and a career-high five assists.

Three of Banks' assists came in the third quarter, each finished by Michael Springer. The last of the trio started a six-goal spurt that gave Syracuse a \(16-3\) lead with 7:02 remaining Le game.
offensive end for Banks and Springer to oper-
See BEARS page 13

Cercy dominates face-offs in victory BY JEFF PASSAN Asst. Sports Editor

PROVIDENCE; R.I. - The clods of dirt looked like alugs.

They filled the mucked-up face-off circle in Brown Stadium along with bits of gravel and hazy clouds of dust that would make Charlie n's Pigpen jealous.
Four paces was all it took for SU face-off See FACEOFF page 13

\section*{Hable, Orangewomen down Connecticut}

BY CHRIS SNOW Staff Writer

Katrina Hable knew the day would come. The day she would validate her third-team All-America status. The day she would prove to naysayers hat she does have the women's ability to take over a would reward her teammates for picking up the ofnsive slack.

Unfortumately for the University of Connecticut women's lacrosse team, that day was Sat urday. With SU leading \(6-5\) entering the second half, Hable torched the Huskies for four consecutive day en route to a \(14-7\) Orangewomen victory at the Carrier women Dome.
"She did step up and take control the way that she can, SU head coach Lisa Miller said. "She went to the cage and she went hard. think she's been letting people individually turn her out, and she saw the spaces and went into them today and re leased the ball sooner rather than later. She was the difference in the game."

Watching UConn clang two shots off posts in the first three shots on posts in the first three responded and ended the threat of any Connecticut comeback.
"I think I was frustrated with the way we stood around in the Iirst half," she said. "I came out and told everyone we had to step it up a notch and put this game away, and we came out and showed we can play the way we practice."

With 24:27 remaining, the senior midfielder began the rally, emphatically finishing a strong Eransition play set up by Stacey Gigon, who entered for Clothilde Ewing after halftime.

Getting creative three minutes later, Hable took a pass from Kara Hanover, cradling the ball and forcing UConn netminder April Pollock to commit to a topshelf shot before snealing a one-

See HABLE page 13

dö.
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper pus have more choices for internet connection. See Lifestyle.

\section*{Spring Fling} Four SU quarterbacks compete for starting job. See Sports.

\section*{Student Government}

\section*{Proposal raises concern}

By tiffany lankes Asst. News Editor

In the final minutes of a threehour Student Government Association mecting Monday night, the Assembly approved a bill that changed the organization's constitutio.

The vote, however, was rushed and inaccurate, several SGA Assemblymembers said
"Very sneaky." Assemblyman Adam Duffy said. "They knew people were, going to have opposition to it. That's why they went right to the role call. As soon as you're in role call, that's it.

I still don't think the students In a move that shock
In a move that shocked both SGA President Jamal James, Par Liamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor and Comptroller Chris Greiner introduced a new substitute bill that proposed revisions to the association. It also eliminated the merger between University Union and SGA proposed at last week's Assembly meeting.

The bill proposed that SGA change its name to the Student Association, omithing the word bovthe new programming duties of the the new prog.
"We felt we needed to explore other options," said James, a junior musical theater major. "It has to do caus this association of students be day - because what I care about to The Assembly voted on the bill in what James said was a two-thirds majority. The vote, however, was skewed of those Japroving the the number of those approving the prodoing a standard count of hands, As semblyman Joe Sauer said

Out of the 15 Assemblymembers present at themeeting, at least four voted against the bill. making the two-thirds majority not as evident as James deemed, said Sauer, a freshman biology major-

Just before James called the As sembly to vote on the issue, he summoned Recorder Melissa Huber to

See MERGER page 4
 Justin Godell, a supportor of the SGA and UU merger, praises the proposal to unity the two orghnizations Monday. The Assembly voted, with much controversy, to revise the SGA Constitution.

\section*{Despite criticisms, James remains confident}

\section*{BY STEPHANIE SILVER}

As protesters continue to debate what they feel is an ill-fated change in the Student Government Association, President Jamal James lauds the proposed bill as much needed improvemenk.

Under the bill, now policies were approved Monday night that give SGA power to fund student organizations and act as its own programming entity. The new policies Were appraved by the Assembly after the SGA and University Union Enterprises.

The new association will be of greater service to the student boay, said James, a junior musical theater major.
"We needed to listen to students,
See JAMES page 6

\section*{- Greek Affairs}

\section*{ZBT socials} banned until next spring
Staff Reports
The Office of Greek Life concluded their investigation of Zeta Beta Tau las week, placing the fraternity under socia spring.
allowed to have a social event in the house where alcohol is pre sent until May of 2001," ZBT Presiden Jason Serapiglia said. "We also can't mess up again in anything - not just in alcohol-related incidents.

Serapiglia said he expected the probations to last anly one semester. But the punishments are fair, he said point was made" said Serapint, the sophomore biaengineering major. "We're going to be on our best behavior."

The probations stem from an incident last month when ZBT was caugh serving alcohol to minors at a party, he said.

The fraternity was also under inves tigation for an alleged hazing incident around the same time, Syracuse Univer sity Spokesman Kevin Morrow said.
of hazing, Serapiglia said.
f hazing. Serapiglia said.
\(r\) program," he said.
The fraternity will participate in an alcohol awareness program in addition to the sanctions. ZBT also pians to hire professional speaker to address the greek community about the dangers of alcohol, he added.
'I don't know how we were caught security never showed up," he said. "We IDed at the door. If people had fake IDs there's nothing we can do about that. the the cules of the greek system.
pledges of ZBT, Serapiglia added.
ZBT, as advised by OGL, will not peal the university's decision, he said. The fraternity will be more careful with
"We want to be seen in a good light in the greek system," Serapiglia said

Compiled by Staff Writer John Arweiler

\section*{SU alumnus shares reporting experience}

BY EMILY KULKUS
Managing Editor
When The Boston Globe found that the man overseeing President Bill Clinton's impeachment trial had himself engaged in an extramarital his editors held the story.

But as he told a group of 17 stu dents Monday, he does not regret doing so- The Globe's Washington, D.C., bureau was supplied information regarding the extramarital activities of Henry Hyde, chairman of the judicial committee that impeached Clinton last January after an affair with Monica Lewinsky the informetion because, unlike Clinton's actions, Hyde's actions did not influence or affect his job.

The Globe did run the story, however, several days after an online publication broke the story. The paper reacted to Hyde's own statemeuthful indiscretion \(\sim\) Kranish said.

\section*{said.}
pened, fact is when that happened, we at the Globe, and at so about it because everyone was talking about it," said Kranish, a 1979 Syracuse University graduate. We didn't want to be the paper to break that, we were glad to follow. We're all in journalism, but somehow, (online publications) can publish."

See KRANISH page 4 \(6_{\text {We're all in }}\) journalism, but somehow, there's other standards about what (online publications) cañ publish.

\section*{MICHAEL KRANISH,}

SU alumnus and a reporter for The Boston Globe

\section*{Author humanizes inmates}

BY HOLLY AUER
Editorial Editor
DEWITT - Capital punishment is a political symbol, not a crime deterrent, said Sister Helen Prejean, author of "Dead Helen Prejean, author of "Dead Man Walking-"People on death row are called scum, vermin, disposable Muman waste, Prejean said Henninger Athletic Complex. "But when you look in their eyes, you see. You see them as people.
"They have an unbelievable humanness on their face."
With a Southern accent. Prejean called for an end to the "biblical quarterbacking" that dominates pro-death penalty discussions. Death penalty advocates subvert the message of the Holy Gospel in an punishment practices, she "Everyone always chants, 'An eye for an eye, but do you know how many times that phrase appears in the Bible? Three times, she said. But spoken of more than 2,000 times."
The speech was sponsored by Le Moyne's women's studies program, the campus ministry and the Romnn Catholic Diocese of Syracuse as part of Le Moyne's Women's History Month celebration. It attracted See DEAD MAN page 3

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from tos Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

Animal shelters
exhaust truy supply Animal shelters across the country are running out of the tethal runining out of the lethal drugs needed to clestroy an estimated six million mick and unvarted ani mals each year, the Mumane Society of Monday.

The drug shortage arose because Ganes Pennsfietd, N.J., has cur tailed production of sodiumn pentobarbitol while it changes its manufacturing techniques.
Ganes Vive President Michaet Padak said the firm was the only one in the United States that made sodium pentobart tol for animal use. He contifmed the company, cal, but expected to resume shipmerts by the end of April

\section*{Random housse}
stricess a deal
At first glance, a publishing deal announced Monday boked like the case of a prestiefous symphory doing business with a gerage band. However, it's the latest example of the established media proceeding to coexist and parther with the brave new purveyo gy.

Random House tnc., the word's largest publisher has bought what it characterized as -a sifnificant minority position \({ }^{-}\)in Xlibris, a ser vice that gives writers the difital tools to publish books on their WW . bypassing the whims of editors and marketplace trends that usually bear on what manuscripts cheoses to buy.

Legral buttle demands chanreed slodens A bitter legal battle being waged in a New force some of the nation's bestario penies to tone down same of the cialins made in popular eckertising jingles and slogzens. The food fogt focuses on Ptea Hut's claim that the "Better ineredients. Better ptera. - The slogan of the ival Papa John's chain crosses over into false eodvertisinge The case has put mary odvertisine modustry mexry advertising inct execurtives on eqge shmitar challenges samiar chailengest such welltorown slogens as Burger King's "it iust tastes better." Snapple's "Made from the best stuff on Earth," and, tronically, Pizera Hut's own slogen "Best piera under one noof."

\title{
NASDAQ suffers huge loss
}

Microsoft's antitrust case threw technology stocks into turmoil today, triggering a taunami of selling that left the Nasdaq Stock Market with day point loss ever.
day point loss ever. Nasdaq skidding. The software maker was Nasdaq's mort heavily traded stock and one ofita worst losers, but it had little impact on of which Micusoft is also a member.

Microsoft was the only stock in the Dow Jones that had a real-

Morgan and Walmart alone were and the to offset Microsoths losses strong gains.

Microsoft shares crashed like a piece of buggy software as soon as Nasdaq's trading computers booted up and repeatedly refused to recover. Internet chat the end angered print media warned ominously about what the court decision might mean.

Typically, traders didn't decigion before dumping the stock.

Analyst Melissa Eisenstat of CIBC World Markets downgraded the stock to hold, predicting "a protracted period of uncertainty about the outiook ... We regard MSF'r's loss to be a forgone conclusion, which subjects it to damages that will likely be undeter[and] opens MSFT to a flood of civil lawsuits."

Even after the recent reversal of fortune, however, the Nasdaq index is still up about four percent ao far this year and the since January.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Clinton favors normal trade}

SAN JOSE, Calif. - President Bill Clinton on Monday took his campaign for normal trade with China to the heart of the new economy, telling a Silicon Valley andience that in the entire history of trade agreements, I don't believe there's ments, I don't believe there's ever been one this weighted in ever been our favor."

Under a pact between Washington and Beijing, China would open a wide range of its markets them agriculture, automobiles them agriculture, automabiles and telecommunications. In exChinge, Congreas would grant status.

Both steps would help pave the way for China to join the World Trade Organization, which enforces global trading rules and mediates disputes between nations. China is expected to join the WTO as early as this year.

Officials in Beijing have said States the nweeping trade coned States the aweeping trade conleas Washingtan follows through with its pledge to give China permanent, normal trade status.

\section*{Japan replaces prime minister}

TOKYO - Political kingmakers today were preparing to choose a succesior to Japanese Prime Minister Keizo Obuchi, who ia in a coma and on a respirator arly ter he was hospitaized

With unusual gwiftness, members of Otuchi's political party have concluded that the prime minister is unikely to resume his work and his cabinet secretary, Mikio Aoki, should not remain as acting premier, according to reports and political observera here. And they apparently have

\section*{Court convicts Microsoft}

WASHINGTON, D.C.Saying that Microsoft put "an oppressive thumb on the scale of competitive fortune, \({ }^{\text {o }}\) U.S. District Judge Thomas Penfield Jackson ruled today that Microsoft Corp- broke federal antitrust law when it acted to protect its monopoly in the Windows operating system.

The ruling opens up the possibility that the U.S. Department of Justice and 19 dies, from breaking up the dies, from breaking up the vere sanctions on the company's business practices.
And in a ruling that seems to challenge the appeals court, Jackson ruled that Microsof also broke antitrust law when it "unlawfully tied" the Internet browser to its monopoly Windows operating system.

The verdict comes as the two sides in the case were pointing fingers over who of the settlement talks, which they agreed had made some notable progress.

\section*{world news}
rejected the option of calling elections now, preferring to appoint a new prime minister Who will serve until the Oct. 19 deadline for the vote.

\section*{NATO arrests}

\section*{Bosnian leader}

PARIS - Frenchled NATO troops arrested Momeilo Krajisnik, a key former member of the Boanian Serb leadership, and fiew him to the Netheirlanda to stand trial for genocide at the stand trial for genocide at the U.N. war crimes tribunal.

Frajisnitc becomes the most senior Bosnian Serb official in custody at the tribunal, and a major prize for the prosecution.

The charees agrinst him of \section*{Cuban family visas approved}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The State Department approved visas Monday for the immediate family of Elian Gonzalez along with a cousin, his pediatricia

The 22 other visas requested by Cubans are being reviewed, the department said in a statement. The visas for the aix could be issued as ear-

The announcement clears the for Juan Miguel Gonzalex, the father of Elian, to visit the United States for the rescued off the coast of south reacued off the coast of Florida four montha ago.

The genior Gomzalez will be joined by his wife - Elian's atepmother and their infant aon, along with the cousin, pediatrician and teacher.

The announcement cast doubt on whether the remaining 22 will be allowed to viait They included Elian's classmates as well as National As con, a top aide to President Fi del Castro on U.S. issues.
fer direct links to Radovan Karadzic, the former Bosnian Serb political chief who is still wanted by the UIN.'s whar crime court for ordering the deportation and execution of thousands of Bosnian Muslims during the 1992-95 Balkans war.
"Next to Karadsic himself he's the most aignificant person Ge could hope to arrest, said Graham Blewitt, the deputy prosecutor, in a telephone inter Accordin news aervice reports from and sceme, early this morning French and other Bosnia-based NATO troops in the international Stabilization Force aurrounded Krajianin's house in Pale, southweat of Sarajevo, and blasted open the

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Phillipe Guyot-Sionnest from the University of Chicago speaks at 4 p.m. in the Science 1-019, regarding "Photochemistry of Quantum Dots. \({ }^{-1}\)
- Ken Olum of Tufte University speaks at 4 p.m. in the Physics Building, Room 202, re garding "Superluminal Trave and Negative Energies."

E Newhouse II hosts McCann Erickson at 7 p.m. in the session regarding the company.
- Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a Bible study from 7 to 9 p.m.
- The Cassatt String Quar tet performs at \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in Crouse College's Setnor Auditorium.
- The SU Outing Club meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 214.
- Maxwell hosts a symposium entitled "Contemporary Issues in Public Administration from 8:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Eg gers Hall, Room 060. For more information call 443-9743.

The Zen Center of Syracuse begins a six-week course in basic meditation techniques at 6 p.m. at the center, 266 W. Seneca six sessions, \($ 65\) for students and seniors. Call 492-9773 for more information.
- Borders Books and Music features Cindy Griffith during an open forum discussing meta physics at 7 p.m. at 9777 0314 for more information.

\section*{TOMORROW}
- Hendricks Chapel hosts a Graduate Christian Fellowship Bible study at 8 p.m. chapel's Strates Lounge.
- SU Drama preaents Blood Wedding" at 8 p.m. a 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are \($ 14\) for adults and \($ 12\) for students and seniors. Call \(443-3275\) dents and seniors. Cal
- Onondaga County Parks presents naturalist Greg Smith at 7 p.m. at the Beaver Lake Natarces in the Alaskan Wilderness The center is four miles west of Baldwingville off Route 370 . Call 638-2519 for more informa tion.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submis sions are also accepted via e-mail at JSilverOne@aL.am.

\section*{[dä]}

The Daily Orange is pubtitined Monday through Friday during Sy The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is dienributed on campus with the first five copice complementary and each additional copy cones $1.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Management & 443-9798 \\
\hline Bustigem & 443-2314 \\
\hline Newt & 443-2127 \\
\hline Lifercyle & 443-2128 \\
\hline Sports & 443 \\
\hline Phocography & 443-9795 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Phowerpaphy 443-9795

DEAD MAN
continued from page 1
a crowd of about 500 to the Jesuit school's complex.
Prejean, a Baton Rouge native, is best known for her New York Times bestseller, "Dead Man Walking," an account of the two years she spent ministering to Patrick Sonnier, who wouisiana's electric chair for the first-degree murder of a the first-degree
In 1995, Prejean's book was made into a movie of the same title. directed by Tim Robbins and starring Susan Sarandon and Sean Penn. The film received four Academy Award nominations, including Best Actress and Best Musical Score.
But Prejean, a Nobel Peace Prize nominee in both 1998 and 1999, said she is still amazed by the impact of her message. This wasn't a "Hollywood storl, she said. and compassion. It had an incredible power that went way beyond me. It just went 'whoosh' and took off on its own."

Inmate sympathy
Prejean said she followed the Gospel of Jesus Christ by ministering to the most marginalized members of society - first the poor and, eventually, death row inmates.
"Jesus touched lepers and allowed a prostitute to wash his feet with her tears," Prossing that line and being crossing that line and being Whith people that others said he shouldn't be with. I just translated that to today." When Prejean began her pen pal correspondence with Sonnier while he was incarcerated in the Angola State Prison in Kansas, she said she wondered how she could cope face-to-face with a man who had been convicted of a cold-blooded killing. But when he appeared before her for the first time, through a heavy, bound by leg irons the clarity of her purpose as his spiritual advisor emerged, she said. advisor emerged, she said. he was worth more than the worst thing he ever did in his iife," Prejean said. "I wanted to give him back his dignity, to show him the compassion of Christ."
The U.S. judicial system has failed death row inmates by providing them with underpaid, overworked public attorneys, she said.
II knew none of these people had the Johnny Cochran dream team of defense, she said. "But adequate. I was wrong, however."
More than 2 million people are Prejean said. But as new evidence emerges - uncovered primarily by the advent of DNA testing - states are being forced to release death row inmates following years of row inmates following years of costly appeal processes, Prejean said. To date, 87 inmates nationwide have been released, she added.
State legislators attempt to validate capital punishment by touting it as a crime deterrent, Prejean said. But in the 36 Prejean said. But in the states who practice capital punishment, homicide rates punishment, homicide rates are more than double that of those who do not, she said. Prejean also challenges the argument that executions serve to bring peace and a sense of justice to the grieving families of crime victims. Of the 17,000 homicides that occurred since the United States allowed for the reinstatement of capital punishment in 1976, only about 2 percent of the perpetrators were executed - haran an equiPrejean said.
"reje this the only road we can go down?" she said. "Don't we have the choice between the death road and the life road?" People do not need to support the death penalty because they fear that murderers will be freed from jail to walk the streets and kill again, Prejean said. In New York state and said. In New York state and most other states that enforce capital punishment, legislatencing for first-degree and felony murders and ensured that life sentences will be upheld, she said \({ }^{\text {umpran }}\) Moderiety has the ability to incapacitate those who are dangerous," she said. "It shouldn't be through killing them."
Audience praise
Syracuse University history professor Margaret Susan Thompson said Prejean's perseverance, sharp wit and compassion make her an admirable role model for all nuns.
"She has this wonderful human and spiritual element, but it's Thompson said. "She speaks as a person who has literally a person who has literally some abstract theologian."
Laura Perry, a sophomore psychology major at Le Moyne and member of the college's

Amnesty International chapter, praised Prejean's ability to put a human face on an issue that often seems distant and black and white.
Since Prejean has spent time examining the harsh death row conditions from a close vantage weight than those of most politicians, Perry said.
Other audience members said Prejean's words - through her speech as well as her book-turned-movie - helped them solidify their beliefs about the death penalty.
Joe Reimer, a junior SU law and public policy and public relations major, said watching Dead Mra Walking and being ences had a profound impact on his impression of US death row inmates -People are they commit horrific crimes, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) he said. "Everyone is entitled to forgiveness."

\section*{At Manhattanville College, teachers are not mass produced.}

\section*{They're made one at a time.}

As one of the leading schools of education, treating students as individuals is one of our primary responsibilities. We provide one-on-one personal attention - nights, weekends, whatever it takes. It's no wonder 99\% of our grads pass the state exams. And when you consider our comparatively affordable tuition. we're the best value among the top-quality schools of education. Whether you're graduating this spring from an education program and need to complete a master's degree or you're thinking about teaching for the first time, we're flexible enough to accommodate you. Come on in!

For infordation, contact the School of Education at Manhattanville College, 2900 Purchase St., Purchase, Ny 10577
914-323-5214•www.mville.edu•edschool@mville.edu

\section*{MANHATTANVILLE COLLEGE \\ School of Education
 SO years of shapingy the teachers utho shape the icorld:}

\section*{KRANISH}
continued from page 1
Society of Professional Journalists Vice President Christina DeNardo, however, said she was disto hold the Hyde story.
"I do think it's an casy way out for a big paper like the Boston or a Star-type paper on magazine story," said DeNardo, a junior news paper major and former lifestyle editor for The Daily Orange.

Jessica Cauffman, SPJ secretary, agreed, noting her own surprise at Kranish's explanation of the prise at Kranish's explanation of the Hyde story. Hyde story.
"Essentially what that means is that the Boston Globe is setting its standards by the lowest common denominator, Caluman said guess that's the way it goes.
Kranish's three-day Syracuse visit is sponsored by SPJ and the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications. While on campus, he will speak to several journalism classes.

He has worked for The Globe for more than 15 years and is currently covering the 2000 presidential campaign. Kranish graduated with a degree in newspaper and political science from SU. Heentered the field at a paper in Central Florida field at a paper in Central Florida Herald before joining The Globe.
itical journalism, Kranish encountered countless ethical dilemmas in volving the role of journalists and editorial issues, he said with the erraup example he shared With the group involved rumors regarding Texas Gov. George W. garding Texas Gov. George Bushis alleged drug use prior to the Republican presidential nominee's political career.
"I said to him, when you apply for a job they ask you if you have ever broken any laws, and this is the most important job in the country, Kranish said of an interview with Bush last fall. "But he said he would not answer the question.

Kranish asked the students what they would write, should they encounter the same situation. Several students said Bush 5 refusal to comment would be the focus of the would not influence his job if elected president.

\section*{Tools of the trade}

Kranish discussed several methods he used during his 26-year tenure as a political reporter. Developing and retaining sources is vital, he said, describing a database of thousands of sources he has career.

He urged the audience to use their sources carefully, avoiding anonymous sources because they detract credibility from the story and reporter, Kranish said.
like the bullet in the police officer's gun," he said. "If you use it, you've got to really, really need it.

Journalists must also remember to maintain healthy relationships with other press representatives in order to get the best story, he said. The press secretaries and spokespeople for candidates are who determine press access, Kranish said.
"Ive certainly had my run-ins with press secretaries but you want to have a good relationship with them," he said. "It's a good vehicle for them also."

\section*{Down to earth}

Kranish said the only reason he had the opportunity to speak to SPJ on Monday night is because his father Art, also an sumalism.

Art Kranish, a columnist for The Daily Orange in 1949, wrote a glowing review of the theatrical performance of a woman who would Michael's mother.

Michael Kranish also wrote for the D.O. during his time at SU, but not as much as his father, author of the column Gadny, which appeared in the paper several times each week.
"He's so knowledgeable and yet so personable," said Cauffiman, who met Franish while covering the New Hampshire primaries in early February. "He really wants to talk co and help students. But he doesn' talk down to people. He's ready to give advice."

Boston Globe roporter Michael Kranish speaks to a crowd of about 17 students Monday might regarding his experiences in the field of joumallsm.

\section*{MERGER}
continued from page 1 prepare for the final role call alter the vote was taken, the in gan, ending the meeting.

Assemblymembers were that point.

Duffy and Sawer said they plan to meet with SGA's Judicial Review Board on Tuesday to discover if the Assembly ote was valid.

Sauer added that while UU is not included in the new proposed association, the new bill gives SGA programming powinterest and stretch SGA's responsibilities too far.
"The Student Association does not exist," Sauer said. "I can see how this organization is way we treated NYPIRG. I way we treated NYPiRG. I think it's wrong the way we just passed that bill.
SGA voted March 27 to up hold its decision to conduct the second New York Public Inter est Research Group referendum in two years. The vote, to be held next week, will determine NYPIRG's future Student Ac tivity Fee funding. More than 30 NYPIRG supporters showed up to the SGA meeting to voic their opposition to the referen dum.

Monday night's proposal must alsobe approved by a sudent referendum, which with the NYPIRG vote ith the NYPIRG vote.

The SGA and UU merger was originally proposed to the Assembly on March 27 . The postponemaking a final decision until they could get more student feedback on the issue.
A forum was hosted Sunday night by SGA and UU to elicit student concerns.
The officers then proposed Monday to postpone the vote on the merger indefinitely. This means that the Assembly wit approve the merger and the is sue would remain untouched said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture student

The new Student Association would aerve as "the prima ry governing, advocacy and programming unit" of student or ganizations, James said. Student groups would be able to consult with the Student Assomatters. The association would then eventually begin its own programming, he added.
"Organizations that need help with programming can now come to the programming board for assistance, James said. We are no longer in the business of just governing. We are in the business of advocacy and programming. But UU member John Vacanti, a junior television, radio and film major, said students could also come to his group for advice.

SGA, however, is already indirectly responsible for programming on campus, said Greiner, a juntior finance major.
"We're the producers of just about everything because Were the m

The allocation of funding would be a conflict of interest in the new Student Association if the group were to do its own programming, said Bryan Biland a junior speech communications major.

The bill was revised after an SGA Cabinet meeting that followed the open forum with UU on Sunday night, James said. The Cabinet decided that SGA needed to be revised to

\section*{ulifh qualty and low prices are guaranteed at Veinge:" \\ - EXHAUST SYSTEMS - BRAKE SYSTEMS - SUSPENSION SYSTEMS - c.v. Joints - state inspection - tire balancing - All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY You won't pay a lot, but you'll get a lot. \\ FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate BPERO 8313 S. Main St. 699-9654 \\  \\ 90 days same}

OPEN MON -SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM
等点
(8)

give all student organizations the opportunity to provide proGramming for SU and the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry students, \(h\) added.
Associae Student Government Association is here for the students," James said. "We are not here to grandstand just to get our names in the \(D . O\).

Freshman Justin Gadel addressed the Assembly in support of an SGA and UU benefit the student body.
"Today I come before you because \(I^{\prime} m\) very interested in because Im very interested in this new Student Association, gaid Godelf, an English and textual studies and television rextio and film major. "Having a chance to look over and read over the bill, I realize it is a good thing. Given the chance to talk over the bill, I think you will see it is only trying to make the association more ef fective."
UU

UU President Lisa Stone questioned who would be responsible for the Student Asso

James programming.
dames said the programming advisors for the associa tion would be, in most cases, separate from UU advisors. would prevent UU programming directors from participat ming in the new association added.

Stone also questioned the wording of the proposal that identified the association as the "primary" programming organization on campus. Since UU has traditionally been responsible for the majority of programming, the new bill could gramming,

Thange that. sembly was more of a joke than a governmental procedure Godell said
"Tonight there was a very interesting move made by the heads of SGA," Godell said. what you're doing for the atuwhat you're doing for the atugame going on right now."

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Devious SGA ruling} ignores democracy

The Syracuse University Student Government Association has an interesting way to "defend the students." It slaps a blindfold over their eyes.

SGA controls the \($ 1.5\) million Student Activity Fee. But its latest backhanded legislative maneuver proves that any 3 -year-old would be better equipped to manage the fee.

In five minutes at the end of their weekly meeting on Monday, SGA's sneaky leadership cadre introduced a new bill that changes the entire face of the organization. It strikes "government' from SGA's name and establishes it as the SU's "primary governing, advocacy and programming organization."

The move ran roughshod over the dernocratic process, sidestepping SGA's original poorly-planned and greedy proposal to absorb University Union. Instead of owning UU, SGA's new legislation establishes itself as UU's direct competitor by creating a programming arm as part of its own organization.

SGA has orchestrated a cruel joke of a plan, and the students will be the butt. In three years, SGA has directly coordinated only one major "event"-Homecoming 1997, which was overseen by a long-gone SGA president. It can't even run a meeting without tripping over policy and procedure. Constant mishaps have proven that no one currently involved in the group has the organizational and entertainment wherewithal or knowledge to coordinate campus programming events.

The bill allows SGA to dig as deep as it wants into the Student Fee piggy bank, allocating a massive chunk of the Student Fee the same money that UU uses each year - to itself. Jonathan M. Taylor and Chris Greiner couldn't get the support they needed to engulf UU, so they came up with a better, and even more devious scheme.

By setting up a board of its own clueless programming coordinators, SGA plans to bury UU faster than it can say "quorum."

Hang on to your wallets - there are thieves among us.

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levinthal
Managing Editor Managing Editor
Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Iustin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Art Director
Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Liresty Eports Editor
Desigen Editor
Design Editor
Destivn Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photogr
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Holly Aupr
Sapna Kollall
Dave Curtis
Joy Davia Bat Emintger Adeet Deahmarich Neva Austrow Kate Stevencion Tiftany Linkes Titany Lanikes owin Mekeras Moxin McKCona Joff Patalan
Erin Eoyle Elaine Sldnner Tho Botidth Rachwel Colden Lian Caswent Ron Fooks Marien Eprition

neva austrew/The Daily Orange

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Name pronunciation trouble unveils larger problems}
"You don't know my name. No man, you don't know my name," - Tim "Lint" Armstrong, Rancid

Here's a bit of a wager for you, my beloved readers: How many of you, and try to be honest, have any idea ow to pronounce my name?

That many, huh? Pm not surprised. Americans have long been as receptive to progress as the Syracuse Police Department is to student safety concerns. We're content to cling to English, comfortable in our ethnocentric spheres. My parents, natives of India, don't understand this ignorance. My dad knows four languages and my mom knows six. I think I know two. English

\section*{ASHOK}

\section*{SELVAM}

\section*{rectly fine name, but you get my po} shuke" which promptempts like "A-shock" and "Ahthink it was around aecond mankfulness for niclonames. I miscreant first chanted "Shook." It's easy enough for the masses to say with minimal effort.

But Ive still come to terms that III always be the subject to constant parme debauchery Take my Communications Law class, which S. I Newhouse School of Public Communications Dean David Rubin teaches. III guess one's resume has to be pretty padded to gain such a posh Translation Dean Rubins no dumb cooke. But every day in class, Rubin scans the last row and with smiper-like efficiency picks me off of clasg: of clasg:
"Ah-shock, do you think the picture ahould be print-\({ }^{4}\) "Its Ah-ehoke"
"Ah-shock?"
This went on for a while. After class, I gave the dean one of those handy inder cards with my name, raajor, etc.
I threw in phonetic pronunciation. It's tough to remember all those names, but I figured I could help. I even added
"Big, Indian kid," for further clarification.
Unfortunately, the dean hasn't been so receptive, and instead of wasting class time correcting him, Tve humored him. It gets cumbersome after weeks and months of trying to get people to pronounce your name right. At least Rubin doesn't confuse me with any of the slew of other big, Indian kids in the classroom.

This brings me to another peeve about names - don't call me by the name of your other "token" Indian friend. Don't get me with that "Well, the names sound alike," pho netic garbage-I never get called "Alex." Here's a prime example. Last year in a writing class, another student, Ashutosh, and me confused our teacher, Jane Oberg.

Our brown skin coupled with our ability to write coherently baffled her. During attendance she'd read everyone's name, and wait for the obligatory "here" Everyones names were called, except the two of ours. Oberg looked in our general vicinity and checked ou names of without any attempt at pronouncing our names. When handing out papers id mivtalcoly get Ashutosh's work and hed get mine. I even took out a piece of notebook paper during class and fashionsd a nameta caught on.

Incidents like this have prompted stern looks and even a compare and contrast chart, complete with photographs, to reduce mistakes. I believe in treating the problem, rather than punishing it. But, alas, my efforts are to no avail.

There's a certain passage by the Bard, which strikes me every time I hear itt It's by Juliet, who's jonesing for some of Romeo's sweet loving.
"What's in a name? that which we call a rose
By any other name would smell as sweet;
("Romeo and Juliet," Act. II, Scene 2)
Juliet claimed names are petty dividers, but I say how can we pretend to understand each other when we don't even have the common courtesy to handle someone's name correctly?

It's time for a non-violent revolution. The first theatre of this war might be a trip to a restaurant where they serve ethmic" food. Instead of just pointing at the selection the item. Thks the first step and listen.

Save our ears from this callous vocal chord carnage.
Ashok Selvam is a senior newspaper major. His column appears Thesdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at aseluam@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Students must take responsibility for housing}

To the editor:
As the phrase goes, if you're not As the phrase goes, if youre not part of the solution, you're part of the part of

The recent Syracuse city ordinance prohibiting the use of indoor, nanoe prohibiting the use of indorr, on (uninclosed) porches has caused a stir among Syracuse University stadents. Phrases such as "eradicate loud, rowdy students" "spitefil," "unfair' and "ridiculouss" have been huried as if to defend worseming the neighbortrood. I would likes to address some of these remarks, starting with an excerpt from the editorial in the March 9 issue of The Daily Orange. The editorial decries the state of rentals near the university, and then switches gears by saying "its all part of the charm. It is shamefil that unscrupulous landlords who neglect properties are the ones allegedly offering the students the "rock-bottom prices.
This is a misconception, as stardents are gouyed by rents on apartments rife with housing code violations, The point is that decrying the poor condition of the property and then winking at contributing to its shabbiness is hypocritical We who maise oure homes hare aticmpt to talke care of them, and don't feel that we should be tarred with the same brush the students use on their landIord's appalling apartment. If this issue goes beyond wanting free furniture, then sturdents need to gain the knowledge to take the landlord to task- or to court.

The assertion in the D.O. editorial that anyome is trying to eradicate students from the community is too absurd even for the D.O.'s journalism. It's the lack of civility - same root word as civilization - that wants eradicating. If students want better places to live, they need to become active in the fight agrainst the slumlords. Learn what the law demands af your lanclord, and be sure youre getting a proper dy ing an apartment.

A lawn chair costs about as much as a case of cheap beer. One much as a case of cheap beer. One less sweatshirt with some stranger's tawn chairs. Budgeting is a akill useful in life after college, too.

Fhce it, you can be on the side of the slumilord who's cheating you, or you can try to help change the sitr

Robert \(F\) Vole
Secretary, Southeast University Neghbortood Association

\section*{Shootings level Giuliani-Clinton race}

BY IUSTIN SILVERMAN
News Edito
Controversy regarding the New York City Police Department New York City Police Department sent Mayor Rudy Gjuliani tum bling in a recent senatorial poll. ling in a recent senatorial poll. paign said Monday, the mayor hardly feels threatened. "We view that single poll as an anomaly, said Juleanna Glover-W spokeswoman spokeswoman. released March 29 by 29 by the or Public Opinion, shows the mayor's waning support a result of the recent shooting by city police of Patrick Dorismond an unarme black man

The Republican Giuliani is in a statistical tie with his DemocraRodham Clinton first Iady Hillary poll. The mayor's following to the 46 percent of potential New York state voters as Clinton's support climbed to 43 percent.
The numbers reflect a survey of 561 registered voters in the tate and have a margin of erro of plus or minus 4 percent.

Over the last year Hillary has been talking about running for Senate, there have been 35 polls Glover-Weiss said.

Since September, Giuliani boasted leads of 9 percent over Clinton in the Marist poll, but acvorders to the institute, he lost and his actions following the shooting.

On March 16, Dorismond was shot to death outside a Manhattan bar. New York City Police approached Dorismond as part of a small drug sting and asked him where they could buy marijuana. Dorismond refused and the offiand perse detective shot Dorismond in the chest, killing him He was unarmed.

> rmica. After

After the shooting Giuliani nile criminal record's sealed juvenile criminal record, a move heavily criticized by New York City residents and political opponents alike.

In a March 22 statement, Clinton denounced Giuliani for releasing Dorismond's criminal record. record.
t. was wrong for the mayor to rush to judgment, it was wrong for him to release Patrick Dorismordis records, and it is wrong worse by lashing out and losing control," Clinton said. "His actions have aggravated tensions in the city and have helped drive a wedge between police and the communities they serve.

A Clinton spokesperson could not be reached for comment.

The Dorismond shooting came when tensions between city police and residents were stillsimAmadou Diallo on Feb. 4, 1999. Four white police officers shot and killed Diallo, a West African immigrant, as he stood on the porch of his Bronx apartment.

The officers opened fire on Diallo, shooting him 19 times after he failed to identify himself. Diallo was also unarmed.

The officers stood trial last February for second-degree murder and were acquitted. The acquitack commarked outrage within the rekindled with Dorismond's death. Out of those surveyed for the Marist poll, 50 percent disap proved of Giuliani's handling of Dorismond's shooting - including 72 percent of voters in New York those in Sysacuse 41 percent dis approved with 34 percent giving no opinion.
"We don't believe the shooting has any impact," said Glover Weiss, who noted that the campaign will not change as a result of the poll.
"One year ago, Clinton was leading the polls and that lead completely disappeared," she added.

Clinton held her largest lead in February 1999, garnering 49 percent of the voters compared to cording to the poll

To many Syracuse Universiy students and faculty, however the issue of concern is not the poll but the deaths of two unarmed black men and the process of racial profiling.

Racial profiling is a way for law authorities to focus their at tention on groups deemed most the case when the officers singledout Diallo and his predominately black neighborhood when searching for a suspect.
"All of a sudden there has been such a huge media spotlight on racial profiling," said Michele

\section*{Giuliant's senatorial bid}

Support for current New York state candidates for U.S. Senate as of March 2000:

\section*{Hillary Clinton (Democrat): \\ 43 \% \\ Rudy Giuliani (Republican): \\ 46 \% \\ Undecided: \\ \(11 \%\)}

Percentage of voters approving/disapproving of Giuliani's handling of the shooting of Patrick Dorismond by New York City police officers:
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Approve: & \(26 \%\) \\
Disapprove: & \(50 \%\) \\
Unsure/never heard: & \(24 \%\)
\end{tabular}

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone Source: Marist institute for Public Opinion, poll taken of 561 registered voters in New York state

Lee, internal chairwoman of Point Zero, a race relations advocacy student group. Giuliani may haved to suppress this issue."

Irma Almirall-Padamsee, a sociate dean of student relations and multicultural affairs, called for a re-evaluation of racial profil ing and the procedures used by the New York City Police Depart ment.
"Racial profiling succumbs to the whole notion of stereotypes, Almirall-Padamsee said. "Last looked, it was a common practice. campus." campus."

She said the notion of racial profiling reinforces a negative im age of blacks. It is seen when a student of color passes a white stu dent and that white student eithe changes sidewalks or tightens the grip on her purse, she said. Almirall-Padamsee called for more dialogue between "all pock profiling and the recent shootings. "Being upset is an under tatement," she said.

Lee agreed, saying that the issue of racial profiling has now become a political issue - and as the poll reflects, a racial issue. Of those surveyed, 87 percent of blacks said they would vate for Clinton compared to onl 10 percent for Giuliani. Whites, however, favor the mayor by more poll. 20 percent, according to the "It is just insane how an unsaid Lee, a sophomore public rela tions and political science major "It is inconceivable."

\section*{JAMES}
continued from page 1
which is not to say that the merger is never going to happen, James said.

The bill makes SGA an "outlet" for student groups to get assistance for their event planning, something the merger between SGA and UU would have accomplished had it been approved.

James said the merger proposal was postponed indefinitely by the SGA Cabinet on Sunday night because it was not supported "whole-heartedly" by the stuents.

UU members were generally less opposed to this new bill than the one for the merger, UU President Lisa Stone said.

The wording of the bill, however, was "too broad" for simply specifying an advisory role for SGA's new programming, she added.

At the meeting, she suggested that the association emphasiz their role in assisting student pro gramming.

"SGA is usually very con cerned with how they word their policies," said Stone, a junior tele vision, radio and film major "When they glossed right over my suggestion, it was odd.
"And the fact that the bill was not available to anyone until 10 minutes before the vote wa taken, tionally.

Edwin Escobar, SGA directo of public relations, will preside over the new association promotions board. Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor said.

The public relations director position will assume any responsibilities the new Student Association comptroller and president find necessary, he added. Under the current system, the director an swers to the president-

According to SGA Comptroller Chris Greiner, the bill "levels out the playing field" for all stu merger proposal.
"Now a completely individual and neutral organization will be giving advice," he said. "This bill changes internal things and we have taken out UU's part."

Under the revised SGA Constitution, Assembly consent will be required for how the groups' it votes on the allocation of funds to student groups.
tudent groups.
UU Comedy Board Director Bryan Billig, a junior speech communication major, sought assurance that the proposed Student As sociation would strictly serve as a programming advisor and not take on

\section*{events.}

But James said that they have the authority now to produce to the new association's finance to the

Hopefully, UU will take part in training the Student Association's promotions board, Greiner added.
ty well advisors need to be pretpy well versed in what it takes to put on an event at this achool"

\section*{the}

In hot water
The Dixie Chicks, the hottest group in country music, have some people thot - as in steamed - over their new singie. "Goodbye Earl." The bouncy tune about two women uto kill an abu sive husband is stiring a big debate in Nashville. Radio programmers are leading a resistance movement. Most country stations are playing the record, but \(\rightarrow-2\) many of them are airing it less requently than might be expected of a new single from an act as popular as the Dixie Chicks. "Eart" is currently No. 8 on the pop sales chart and No. 2 on the country sales chart, according to Billboard magazine.

Learning ABCs There is a notion out there that television will be the death of reading. if it hasn't already done the deed. But it's also been clear that television can help kids leam to read, too. So PBS sta So PBS sta tions natiorwide Monday will launch a series that may be the medium's most tious effort ever to help children learn to read. Four years in the making and at a cost of \($ 30\) mit lion, "Between the Lions," will pick up where the 32 year-old "Sesame Street" leaves off: targeting 4 to 7 -year-olds and taking them the crucial steps beyond the alphabet skills taught by Cookie Monster and Big Bird.
Earty to bed Many baby boomers have vivid memories of being packed off to bed at pre cisely the same hour every sight. Not today's kids. Working parents, after-school activities that spill into the evening, norstop internet and cable elevision, sirgle parents who must do the nighttime routine by thernselves these and other reasons explain why more children are getting to bed later. Doctors say most grade-schoolers require about 10 hours a night. Too many chitcken fall short of the mark, they say, leading to sleep problems and parents requesting steepinducing drugs for children.

\section*{quote}

\section*{of the day:}
"In memory, everything seems to happen to music."
Tennessee Williams

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443-2128
life 9 daily orange.com
[ lifestyle

Greek Freak 2000 hits Lamúmark Theatre on Thursday. See Llfestyle Wednesday.

Road Runner provides an Internet option for students living off campus.

\section*{BY DOMINIC FRANCESE} Staff Writer

As many students move off-campus next year, they will lose some of the comforts they now take for granted. Dining halls will not be a stone's throw the hall and gone will be high-speed Internet access through Syracuse University's ResNET.

Some students may opt for dialup access through telephone lines that seem to move at a snail's pace compared to SU's network. There are many choices with this option.

Then there are the high-speed al The trad
The traditional nationwide ser vice providers - America Online, CompuServe and Prodigy - and local service providers - GiSCO and Dreamscape - are all dial-up options. They cost between \($ 15\) and \($ 20\) per month and the fastest access speed is around 56 K

But Time Warner cable has offered its Road Runner service to cable customers in Central New York since Augur 1998, and pop "Syracuse is a very healthy market," said John Keib, marketing manager of Road Runner.

Road Runner is a service provider that uses 'Time Warrier's cable lines to access the Internet. Time Warner's hybrid fiber/coaxial cable network allows transfer speeds to be faster than usual reaching eight megabits per second, Keib said.

The connection speed of Road Runner depends on the number of users in a certain area. The more users in a tion speed. Road Runner monitors the tion speed. Road Rumer monitors the speed is very little, Keib said.
SU students use the Internet more extensively than other students and demand higher speeds, increasing the number of subscribers, he added. "This year, the number of SU subscribers doubled from the first year, and it'll probably double again (in 2000)," Keib said.

Michael Wildman, a fifth-year architecture student, signed up for Road Runner service at the beginning of the ResNET and dialup and said he is satisfied with Road Runner.

The only problem Wildman has had is with downtime earlier in the school year, but said it isn't much of a problem anymore.

There was a point there was a lot of downtime," he said. "It's better now, it's tapered off."

\section*{New competition}

Bell Atlantic has also started providing Infospeed Digital Subscriber Line service - broadband Internet access through existing phone lines. DSL uses part of the phone line that is not used for voice, so no extra
See ROADRUNNER page 8

\section*{Columnist challenges SU status quo}

Why would you want to read another D.O. story with the Student Government \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Peter } & \begin{array}{l}\text { Jamal James in it? He's } \\ \text { probably already been }\end{array} \\ \text { Beisser mentioned three or four }\end{array} \quad \begin{aligned} & \text { mimes in today's issue. }\end{aligned}\) media freak Hes in today's issue. Here's reason enough - this one matters to your meing to address a biger going bo address a ourger problem at SU than sweatshops- our minds, and get an answer with the peace of minds, an

I went to Jamal because he seems to honestly listen to concerns. Unlike my question and answer session with Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw last week, he was able to supply real concrete answers to how we can bring more activities to campus.
Here's what I wanted to know: What's wrong around here?
"It's all about the clientele of the school." Jamal gaid. "Syracuse student's are exclusive and into themselves."
are spoiled brats who have of students at SU atanding the humor behind the jokes about black pants and sport utility vehicles. They can't see the joke because they are the jokes themselves. Sorry Cher.

There's a larger majority of us regular kids here than you think. The trouble is no one speaks for these people, we are the silent majority.
I've been complaining for weeks about how SU officials don't care about bringing more concerts here. Rochester has far more shows than we ever have. University of - why can't we match them for quality con-

\section*{ROADRUNNER}

\section*{continued from page 7}
phone lines are needed. DSL is a dedicated line from the phone company to a residence, so other people's use does not affect con nection speed.

Bell Atlantic's DSL service comes in three different speeds. Personal Infospeed, which con nects at speeds up to 640 kilobits per second, Professional infos meegabits per second and Power Infospeed, which connects at 7.1 megabits per second

But those who live in the SU area cannot get Infospeed DSL service yet. A Bell Atlantic representative, however, said the service is coming to the area in six months.

Comparing the speed of the services shows that they are all very similar. Road Runner is 100 times faster than a 28.8 modem

The Daily Orange and is comparable to SU's ResNET. Infospeed DSL is 12 to 126 times faster than a 56 K moparable with Road Runner.

The convenience of off-campus high-speed Internet access does cost more than the university's ResNEI, which costs \($ 175\) for the academic year, averaging out to about \($ 25\) per month. ResNET also has no installation fee and only requires an Ethernet card and cable.

Roadrunner, on the other hand, costs \($ 39.95\) per month if you already subscribe to standard cable. If you have basic cable, or no Installation is also extra, ranging from \($ 19\) self-installation to \($ 69\) full installation.

Equipment costs also increase the overall cost of Road Ethernet card and a cable modem, which is covered by the monthly charge.

\section*{'Net costs}

SU ResNET connection
175/year (about \($ 25\) per month) \($ 39.95 /\) month \($ 44.95 /\) month $49.95/month $99.95/month \($ 189.95 /\) month \($ 21.95 /\) month \($ 19.95 /\) month \($ 16.95 /\) month \($ 18.95 /\) month \($ 19.95 /\) month free
Ryan Fisher, a junior broad cast journalism and political science major, is moving off campus next semester and weighing his options for Internet access. He has used ResNET for two years, and is considering Road Runner for its speed.
(Lawrinson Hall) didn't have

Road Pumer (for eable subucribers) Road Runner (without cable) Boll Atiartic Personal irfospeed All Alamic Professional Infospeed on Atlaritic Power infospeed

Procidey
Droanticeape
AT&T WorldNet, Bellatiantic.net Freel, NetZero, ExcitepHorm

The cost of Bell Atlantic Infospeed DSL also has a monthly cost in addition to an Ethernet card. Personal Infospeed costs \($ 49.95\) per month, Professional infospeed costs \($ 99.95\) per month, \($ 189.95\) per month. There is also a one-time charge of \($ 99\) for the DSL modem.

ResNET, and it was a (problem) having to dial using a modem," he said. "Not only did it tie up the phone, but the lines were busy most of the time anyway. It was definite fuel for tension between But Fis

But Fisher said he's not quite ready to sheil out about \($ 400\) for a year's worth of hoad Runner. He said the possibint with his roommate migh work, but admaitted the lack of ResNET was averlooked in his de cision to move off campus.
med with just getting out con cerned with just geting out of the signing a lease how fast your Internet connection will be," Fisher said.

But, for the most part, students are impressed with Road Runner's performance.
"I've had ResNET," he said, "and (Road Runner) is faster.

\section*{team wins and when I walk} into Varsity.

James gets by just like most of us do. He says that there are 'treasures' in Syracuse, the MAA and the Dinosaur Bar-B-Q, 246-248 Willow St, to name a few, but he agrees wh the big name type talent that we should.

Bigbusiness
"The school is a business," Jamal said. "They don't like me to say that though."

Hey SU administration, because of the lack of effort on your part to make our experience here a complete one with actual activities and events for students, you have a number of students who wish they never

\section*{MEDIA}
continued from page 7 certs? Aren't we supposed to be a big time university?
"No one is united," Jamal said. He said he wishes more people would be open to being a part of an SU community. it's called school spirit, everyone. Has anyone seen it? I havent of when the basketball came here once they got through the facade that you put up on the tours and videos.
too rate now.
Don't keep telling us to look for our own fun because you have the responsibility to side of class There ars thin like more concerts, are thing Homecoming for non Homecond stud and formals for non Greels weekly evente like big battle week bands or open house weekend at the frats and sororities that could prevent some of us from drinking our bank accounts away. Honestly, what else do you expect anyone to do here who doesn't drink, play checkers?

Don't give me that rhetoric about education coming first at SU, you hypocrites. If SU is so concerned with being a stu-dent-centered research univer sity, why then are we out of the top 50 universities in the U.S., why is tuition going up 5 percent each year and why hasn't anyone addressed how we are going to prevent this in a reasonable manner? All you want to hear is the "ChaChing" noise anyhow! That's what you're all about in the end.

I'm surprised Otto the Orange hasn't been squeezed and sold to the students yet.

Jamal said that Shaw mentioned to him that the administration doesn't make decisions based on student opinion. Well, what if student opinion is right? Guess we my school, my home and my is my school, my home and my trash it but I want to look back when I'm want to look back when IM old and say that my life I don't think ice-sle of ing will do it for me

Anyone else feel like they got themselves a lemon of a school with SU? If so, write to me at the e-mail address below and have your voice heard for once around this place.
"I'll be damned if they don't listen to me, because we're your outlet," Jamal said, "We know who to talk to."

Give me some ideas on how we can realistically make this place a great school to be a part of. Jamal is going to have me come address all the concerns I receive at an upeoming SGA meeting.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and political science major. His column appears E-masall him at Daily Orange. pibeisseesyr.edu

Oh My Gawd
by Jaci Price

Never Odd or Even by Tim Dose alright. no mofe

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggies
by Neil Swaab

by Erin Karneliusen
"Classic" The Beer is Half Empty

Insane Carrot
by Doug Jaeger

Yeab Whatever

by Jeff Feligno

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones
It SEEMS THE COUNTRY IS IN FOR A BEAUTIFUL WEEK... TEMPS IN THE 90s EVERYWHERE... EXCEPT SYRACUSE. WIFERE IT WIUR RAIN THEN. MIX TO SNOW. \(\sqrt{88}\)

91

O-Tay
by Becky Johnson

FOOTBALL
continued from page 12
for the most part. They're in great condition, and they worked real hard at the first part of this semester."

\section*{Quarterback controversy \\ Yes, already)}

Whether the always-topical quarterback controversy is a media creation or not, it

"Obviously, we're very excited about it,"Pasqualoni said. "Troy (Nunes) and Madei (Williams) are going to be a little further ahead, day. As the practice went on, both Robin (Anderson) and Chad (Elliott) really had some good plays."
ated Donovan MicNabigradated bonovan McNabbits most heralded signal caller. Last year's spring practice between Williams and Nunes

But by opening night gainst Toledo, neither QB had a decisive edge over the QB system. It worked for a while. Then the Orangemen whie. eventual national run-ner-up Virginia Tech and got thrashed 62-0.

The two incumbents must triving to be under center.

The QB situation has been - and will continue to be well-documented until is named.

Unlike last year, Pasqualoni said he wants to name a single starter if pos sible. sible. Coach P introduce candidates

Nunes - Hewas at the helm for most of the 1999 season, including the entire Mu. sic City Bowl victory over Kentucky. He completed a workmanlike 11 -for- 15 passes for 128 yards without an interception, but more importantly, Nunes didn't make toomany mistakes, which enabled SU's running game to take over. Like Doug Flutie, he is also a threat to run and create a play with his quickness.

Nunes has added 19 pounds to bulk up to 182 since the fall's final snap, and much of the weight has been put on his formerly skinny upper body.
wonders," Nunes, it will do ing experience is definitely ing experience is definitely s'm just going in, trying to im just going in, trying to body around me. The thing that is going to help us is that everybody is hungry after last year."

Williams - After spend ing a year as McNabb's understudy, he appeared ready to lead the Orangemen a year ago. Instead, Williams found stiff competition from Nunes

Williams still put up sol id numbers, completing half of his passes ( 55 -for-110) for 742 yards and two touch downs. He also hurt the opposition with his legs, rush g for 129 yards.

Wiliams stock, though dropped by December, and he did not see the turf in Nashville, Tenn. He has since bulked up and at spring prac perfect stride.

I'm strong," Williams said. the offense. Performance aing curacy and production with the offense (will win the job)."

> Anderson- Helll still enter the 2000 season with the same "all-potential" labe he had last fall. Having sat through a redshirt year, he should be in prime position to challenge the incumbents The resemblance to his prede cessors is 5 anny Nopher and (6-fonerson) and has good size (6-foot-1, 215 ).

Like McNabb, Anderson used his redshirt season to tensive work inse and get ex tensive work in practice. His edge of the offense make him a viable candidate.

Knowing the basic of fense right now is a good thing," Anderson said. "I had some good throws, bad throws and some really bad throws Overall, it was a pretty good day."

Elliott - A wild card. He originally enrolled at Arizona State but then transferred to American River (Calif.) College. At ASU, he got big-time competition against Stanford 157 hewent 16 -ror-32 for low yards and one touchdown.

Healso put upimpressive numbers in his senior year of TDa school (3. 175 yards, 47 and his last yearat junior colt lege ( 2,843 and 19 TDs). His Pac-10'experience makes him a possibility Adjusting to George DeLeane's complex offense will pose the biggest obstacle for Elliott. Struggling early, he began to gain understanding in the first spring practice.

"When you bring aguyin, you hope to see certain things, Pasqualoni said. "He's a long way from being ready to play, but he is showing promise.
Chad because it washest on Chad because it was his first day with the numbering sysChad as the dioy went on, being in the hurdde."

The quartet will be joined in August by freshman Jared Jones, The Somerville, N.J., natives career passing numaren't that gaudy. However he ran a similar offensive attack in high school as SU runs. Jones ran for 1,792 yards and scored 22 times in his high school career.
Here's a thought to ponder: If you thought the twoquarterback system didn't work and ruined the rhythm of the game, imagine one with four quarterbacks.

\section*{Other stories to follow}

The offensive line went 10 deep and split into two teams. P.j. Alexancer, who spot, seems to be the leader of spot, seems to be the leader of protecting the eventual quar terback's blindside. ... One of the biggest surprises was tight end Jeremie Frazier, a 6-foot-6, 250-pound transfer from Garden City (Kan.) Community College. He showed tremendous flexibility and quickness, Pasqualoni said. ... Maurice Jackson was a nice welcome back, as his speed enabled the offense to stretch the field. Jackson spent his first two seasons a SU but left the school afte. academic robles. He spen some hime at Monroe Commu fore College in Rochester be son was a little rusty in his son was a little rusty in his slowly start to shine as the team goes through 14 more practices.

\section*{Quote of the day}

Troy Numes, when asked about his weaknesses: "Obviously, size and strength is always going to be evil. I could probably leave here at 270 , and they'll still think \(I^{\circ}\) m too small. That's always going to be a knock on me.

\section*{STESSEN}

\section*{continued from page 12}
already recovered eight groundballs and taken one hot on goal in the team's irst six games.

Stessen's high school days were also consumed with sports, culminating when he was named West Genesee Athlete of the Year Genesee Athlete of the Year in 1997 after captaining varsity football, wrestling and sity football, wrestling an rosse in his senior year.
Stessen, however, was unable to take advantage of his love for theater at West Genesee then that the same problem said. He credits his busy days at West Genesee for helping him learn efficient time management at a young age.

Nevertheless, once he accepted the Petruchio role, Stessen quickly learned it would be difficult to come from a practice or return from a game and almost instantaneously switch identity into character before rehearsal began.
theyin the locker room they'll razzmea little bit here and there," Stessen said one of them has commitments for an entrepreneurship class in the School of Management.
"Sometimes, 'll walk into rehearsal a little late with ice on my leg. Im just thank ful that everyone under stands all around.

Baum said she never had directed an athlete of Stessen's level, but she complimented the junior on his natural talent, strong instincts and lack of fear

Baum, who serves as the play's author as well as it Sirector, first discovered Stessen in the fall of 1998 When he was asu tion to Acting for Non-Majors) to Acting for Non-Ma \(\stackrel{r}{\text { Sh }}\)
She persuaded him to audition for the role of Petruchio and said athleticism facthe role because the approach to it is very physical
I cast actors with potential to create the character," Baum said, adding both Stessen and Petruchio possess "intelligence, a sense of humor, and wit."

One thing still remains missing from Stessen's ré. sume, something he hopes to attain this spring.
edals that don't silver medals that I don't want", he said, referring to a pair of second-place finishes in the state championships while with West Genesee, a loss as captain in the Empire State Gamesfinalin 1996 and the in last year's national championship game. "You feel like it's all on you.
The run toward Stessen' first gold continues to coin cide with his theatrical debut. The Orangemen did not re turn from last Saturday's vic tory at Brown until after mid night. By Sunday afternoon Stessen was back at theater rehearsal.

I came to the realization that I am the one who made "I'm doing two things I love doing."

\section*{\([\) ClasSifieds \(]\) Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

\section*{Sumnerive and LancisterAve three bodrooms} able now call 445-102y

\footnotetext{
Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distan
S.U. oft streel parting Leundiyy Call \(476-23 a 2\)
}

TOAD HALL
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low uilitites. 302 Marshall St. (Caross trom Hemen). unumion Ampose 479-5005

\section*{Houses}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

\section*{PLEASE VISTI OUR} WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTIONOF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILLCOM

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR ORFIVE BEDROOMHOUSE TWORTREPACES FURMSHEDGMEATPOESCHES, 47-2993 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Surnmer Bargain! \(5200 \%\) mo per person with at Utilities included. \(2.3+4\) bedrcorn apartments avaitable. Rent whole apaniment or
One block from Campus. 446 -9598

\section*{Summer}

\section*{Surmmer Sublets Available. A variely of sizes and locations. University Area Apts \(479-5005\)}

PERSONALS
Sports Lines

\section*{}

\section*{NOTES}

Spartans NCAA champs Michigan State defeated Florida 89-76 to win the NCAA Championsh Indianapolis.

The Spartans were the lone No. 1 seed remaining in the tournament. They in the Midwest Regional semifinals

Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points and returned in the second half after suffering a high right ankle sprain. Morris Peterson added 21 points and A.J Granger chipped in with 19.

Udonis Haslem led the

\section*{Men's Lacrosse}

Orangemen statistics
player
Springer
Banks
Coffman
Caione
Hardy
Smith
Wright
Bymes
Kennedy
Gassett
Ceglia
Darcangelo Januszkiewicz Russell Perritt

\section*{Luclicy Lenny}

The University of Miami rewarded head men's basketball coach Leonatd Hamilton with a seven year contract extension after leading the Hurricanes to the Sweet 16 this season. ESPN.com reported. After losing forward Tim James to the NBA, the Hurricanes were not a consensus pick to contend in the Big East this season. But they tied Syracuse for the regular season championship and earned a No. 6 seed in the South Regional of the NCAA Toumament.

More money for Manvin Former Syracuse wide recenver Marvin Harrison close to signing a fouryear extension with the could pay him more than \($ 24\) million. ESPN.com reported.

Harrison Owns SU ecoros for receiving yarcs in a single season (1,131) and in a career ( 2,728 ) The 6-foot, 181 pounder caught 115 balls for the Colts last season for 1,663 ya

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. What is the Syracuse record for most recep tions in one football game?
yesterday" trivia: Q. When was the last time the NCAA men's basketball national championship game went overtime?
4. Michigan upended Seton Hall 80-79 in 1989.

\title{
[sports] \\ \\ Dave Curtis, editor _The Daily Orahge April 4, 200012 \\ \\ Dave Curtis, editor _The Daily Orahge April 4, 200012 \\ QBs vie for playing time
}

Troy Nunes is one of four quarterthacks In spring practice fighting for playing time next season. The inconsis tent Nunos played a solid game in the Music City Eow last December, teading the Orangemen to a \(20-13\) victory against Kentucky with 128 yards passing

BY ERIC NATHAN Staff Writer

What most students consider the wee hours of the weekend turned out to b kickoff time for spring football.

The Syracuse Orange men took the Coyne Field turfat 9:45 a.m. Saturday reporting to their first prac tice on an unusua geous Salt City day.

It was a beautiful star to spring practice. SU head coach Paul Pasqualoni said it was the first time he could recall that they started prac

First-year coaches got their first look at new pro their first look at new pro coaches gaw who had worked coaches saw who had
New quarterbacks coach Jim Hofher worked with his quartet. When not yelling instructions to the entire of fensive unit, George DeLeone, them, man witha drill sergeant persona, trained the offensive linemen. Deiensive coordinator Chris Rippon began shaping his defense.

All the while, Coach P silently paced back and forth from the north end of the defenders to the south end with the green jersey-wearing offense.
he head coach was proud of his troops.
f thought it went very, The kids, for this time of year, are in excellent shape,

See FOOTBALL page 11

\section*{Stessen role plays on SU defense, Syracuse stage \\ BY PETE SCHREIBER \\ required amount of time to}

Contributing Wiriter

On the sidelines at acrosse practice, Dan Stessen thinks about stage directions, voice inclection and remembering pockeis of Shake spearean verse.

These sorts of braintorms do not usually come rom a delensive topidicier on he nation's top-ranked Then again in, Dan Stessen is not a typical lacrosse play-

Besides juggling a \(15-\) credit courseload during the day with the rigorous afternoon requirements of playing lacrosse, Stessen a junior, supplements his day by appeasing his appetite for theater in the evening

Stessen currently plays the role of Petruchio, a Shakespearean character in director Kathy Baym's "All The World is a Stage." He will perform on a Syracuse stage for the first time April 28 with additional shows on April 29 and 30.

I've always wanted to do (theater), Stessen said. "I wasn't going to let anyone tell me that \(I\) couldn't do it.

However, Stessen discovered he could not devote the both the Orangemen and a major in theater.

Rather than leave the game, Stessen opted to declare theater his minor. He majors in speech communica tions in the College of Visual and Performing Arts.

We practice communications skills verbally, and study interpersonal nonverbal ills," Stessen said.
But he was almostleft speechless when invited to join the Orangemen.
"It was almost unconscious when 1 was asked to play here," Stessen said.
chool alum grew up only School alum grew up only Dome's illuatrious lacrosse shadow, and Stessen aaid he felt it was alweys in the back of his mind to add his name to the list of local products who brought their talents to the Orangemen.

Comming here, I was no different than anyone else, Stesmen said. We were all captains somewhere.

Stensen collected 15 groundballs in 26 games during his first two years at Syracuse, including all 17 games last season. This year, he has
See STESSEN page 11

\section*{P 85}

为
\(\frac{2}{2}\)

\title{
 You earit the efinericice．
}

\section*{Syracuse Uhiversity Intathship Program}

The Solingrogram，等

\section*{Open House： 113 Euclid five．}

Thurs．Ifarch 30 3：00－6：00 Ued．April 5 3：00－6：00 Tues．April 18 3：00－6：00

\section*{The time is here to think about next semester}

\title{
If you want the experience employers want then consider these academic options:
}

\section*{Syracuse University Internship Program}

An Internship can introduce you to the world of work, give you the experience that helps you decide on a career area, and can open the door to future employment. Ir also adds value to your resume.

SUIP can help you arrange an internship that can be taken over the summer, or in fall and spring semesters. We can also help you with your resume and cover letrers. Drop in at our office any day between 8:30 and 5:00, and see what we have for you.

\section*{The Soling Program}

The Soling Program is a crearive, project oriented, dynamic problem solving academic program. We recruit projects from the Syracuse and University communities and students then work in teams to creatively solve the problem (project) they choose. We accept undergraduates of all majors and years. Projects range from technical to artistic, practical to theoretical. Whatever your major or interests you are bound to find a unique experience at the Soling Program.

\section*{Victim decries punishment}

Stackhouse pleads guilty, will serve seven years in prison

\section*{by emily kulkus \\ Managing Editor}

Myles Thomas, one of the men stabbed during a Halloween weekend incident in which three Syracuse University football players were severely injured, said Tuesday that his attacker's punishment does not fit the crime.
Thomas said he attends daily rehabilitation sessions, after spending seven weeks at University Hosing seven weeks at University Hospital for severe stab wounds he suf\({ }_{S}\) outside Sadie's Place, 104 Seymour \(\stackrel{\mathrm{S}}{\mathrm{S} .} \mathrm{H}\).

Stackhouse, of 218 McLennan Ave., pleaded guilty Tuesday to firstdegree assault for his involvement in the brawl, landing the 22 -year-old in a New York state prison for seven years, as reported Tuesday night. The stabbings occurred Oct. 31 as a crowd of more than 75 people gathered around a fight in which cornerback, sustained severe neck and shoulder stab wounds. Giovanni DeLoatch, a reserve offensive tackle, suffered cuts to his arm, head and back. Maynard "Duke" Pettijohn, a starting defensive end, sustained cuts to his head and ear.

But Thomas, a high school friend of Pettijohn and University of Maryland student at the time, suffered wounds in his chest and to several vitad organs.

A fourth man involved, Daniel Moore, was treated and released from St. Joseph's Hospital following DeLoatch remained at University Hospital for several days, Byrd stayed one week and Pettijohn was released immediately following treatment.

On Nov. 5, prosecutors indicted Cheiron Thomas, 22, of 4432 S . Salina St., for stabbing Pettijohn. Cheiron Thomas' arraignment is expected later this week.
with his grandmother, Thomas has with his grandmother, Thomas has See STABBING page 8

A public affair

A sigen hanging from, the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs on Tuesctay encourages the university to join the Worker Right Consortium. university to join the Worker Rights Consortium.

\section*{Student Government}

\section*{Bill supporter admits flaws}

A recent bill revising the Student Government Association's constitution may have several long-term flaws, including a conflict of interest within the association, Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor said Tuesday.

The bill, proposed Monday by President Jamal James, Taylor and Comptroler Chris Greiner, changes increases its role in event programming.

Any programs that the association will implement must receive finding from SGA's Finance Board, Taylor said.
in most cases, students who are members of a group other than SGA and serve on the board are not allowed to vote on allocations to that group. Funding to SGA itself, however, must be authorized at the discretion of the board, whose members are in the association, he added. The Finance Board in the end is still going to be making the decision," said Taylor, who is serving his sixth SGA session. "In effect, all events are sponsored by SGA. You know you have a conflict of interest if you're funding have a co yourself."

Taylor

There is also a possibility that future officers may use the new constitution to expand cers may use the new constitutor said. Many past programs attempted by SGA including the past Homecoming celebration, have failed, he acded.

See SGA page 3

\section*{■ Greek Affairs}

Houses look to re-establish Greek Week

Heather Carman and the Greek Programming board are trying to revive Greek Week as a Syracuse University tradition.
"Hopefully it will become an annual event," said Carman, who is in charge of pubic relatous or the events taking place during the Gro weeks.

Greek Week was a popular event during the 1970 s, but particman, a sophomore public relations major. Randonly paired fraternities and sororities will compete as teams in a variety of events for the Greek Week Trophy, as well as pride in their brothers and sisters, said Alisann Blood, Programming Board coordinator.

The trophy will be awarded at the Greek Awards Ceremony on April 18.

It's an opportunity for greeks to come together and represent the community as a whole," Blood said. fee for each of their members participating in the activities, she said. A carnival will occur from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday at Hendricks Field by Sadler Residence Hall. Activities will include gladiator jousting, sumo wrestling and a dunk tank, sumo wrestling and a dunk tank, among other interactive carnival games.

Greeks will also compete in Olympic-style games Tuesday and next Friday in Flanagan Gymnasium. Activities include a pie-eating tug-o-war, among others.

See GREEK WEEK page 5

City Affairs

Common Cauncilors Whichael J. GOLDEN/The Daily Orange Driscoll explore combining services between the eity and \section*{its school district at a meeting Tuesday moming \\ Council committee seeks consolidation}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF
Staff Writer
Last year, the city of Syracuse spent 58 percent of its budget on education.

The money must be used more efficiently and effecively, recommended the Syracuse Common Council Con Tion Cornmittee on Tuesday.

The Consolidation Committee proposed combining several departments between both itself and the city will not downsize the schoo district's staff, said Patricia Hall, assistant superinten deat.

Committee members also found that any efforts at they recommended not affect the district's students. But See CONSOLIDATION page 5

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Study finds earty} human evidence

Archaeologists said Tuesday that they have strong new evidence from campfire remains at a southern Virginia sand dune that humans inhabited the Westem Hemisphere as earty as 17.000 years ago. adding further fuel to the bitter debate over who the first Americans wer from.

Team leader Joseph M. McAvoy said new lab tests of material from miles south of Richmond, confirmed human habitation at two levels. The most recent is 10,920 years old, while the oldest may be as old as 17,000 years.

\section*{Bleeding gumes affect more than the mouth} Gum cisease, that tacky punch line for aging babyboomer jokes, already robs millions of Americans of their teeth. But researchers are investigating a possible added reason to brush and floss.
Are ble

Are bleeding gurns a red flag for ilinesses beyond the mouth, such as heart disease and stroke, as a growing proclaim?

We have fairty corrvincing epidemiologic data showing an association between gum disease and heart dis. ease,- sald Robert Genco, chairman of oral biology at the state University of New York Buffalo's School of Dental Medicine. Over the past decade, he said, six studies in lange said, six studies in lange groups ranging from Pimard physicans to Pima Indians have suz and heart disease go together.

Screening Day offers alcoholisim testing About one in every 13 American adults has a drinking problern. Heavy risk of high blood pres sure, stroke, heart disease, some cancers, accidents, violence and suicide. Indicators of a drinking problem include feeling intitable when not drinking, bing about drinking habits and feet ing compelled to drink.

April 6 is National Alcohol Screening Day. Free anorymous scre ings will be heid at
The National Mentral IItiness Screening Project, will provide educational will provide educational presentations, writen the opportunity to speak with a health professional.

\section*{U.S. colonel to plead guilty \\ \($ 45,000\) given to him by his wife. \\ Both Hietts have insisted}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The former commander of the U.S. Army's anti-drug operation in colombia Jonary to smug gling drugs into the United States while he was stationed at the U.S. Embassy in Bogota - has agreed to plead guilty to failing to turn her in for money laundering, according to court documents filed Sosterday.

Sources close to the case said Col. James C. Hiett has dropped his earlier denials and admitted bassy office safe as much as

After her arrest last gummer and his return to the United States, he deposited the money in small amounts in U.S. banks and purchased money orders with it, apcurrency reporting requirements According to requirements. documents filed in federal court for the Eastern District of New York in Brooklyn, Hiett will plead guilty on April 17 to a crime called misprision of a felony what he knew of his wife's illegal activities.
that he told his wife he did not want to know where the money came from, and James Hiett who earlier had been cleared by Army investigators of any in volvement in his wife's crimes is not charged with drug smuggling. But his admission of wrongdoing in the case adds an the Clinton administration, and the Clinton administration, and particularly the Pentagon, at a grese when they are asking Con package to fight drug trafficking in Colombia.

\section*{campus} calendar

\section*{TODAY}

The Global Milestone Project presents "Bearing Withess to Victims of War and Chronic Crises" from 2 to \(3: 45\) p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500 . stories of violence against civilians - particularly women the crisis in Colombia and a the crisis in Coiombia and
- The Soling Program hosts an open house from 3 to 6 p.m. at 113 Euclid Ave.

The Alibrandi Catholic Center hosts a community prayer at 7 p.m. in the center's Eucharistic Chapel. Eucharistic Chapel
- The Central New York Chapter of the New York Civil Liberties Union hosts an Annual Award Dinner beginning at \(5: 30\) p.m. With a reception. It continaes at 7:45 p.m. With a dinner and speech. Ira Glasser, execuCivil Liberties Union will be the keynote speaker. The dinner is at Le Moyne Manor, 629 Old Liverpool Road, Liverpool. For more information call 471-2821.

E Hendricks Chapel hoats a Graduate Christian Fellowship Bible study at 8 p.m. in the chapel'a Strates Lounge.

SU Drama presents

\section*{Md. votes for hand gun locks \\ ANNAPOLIS, Md. - The} House of Delegates voted Iast night to make Maryland the first in locks for all new hand guns in locks for all new handguns, ing a major political victory and, advocates said, giving national gun control efforts a significant boost.

The 83 to 57 vote at 9:46 p.m. came after nearly three hours of debate, with gun enthu siasts packing the gallery to cheer and applaud legisla

The Senate passed the legislation Friday, and Glendening (D) said he will aign it soon. Beginning Oct. 1, all new handguns sold in the state would have to and after Jan. 1, 2003 all new, handguns would have to have a built-in lock.

New consumer safety rules that took effect in Massachusetts ban cheap handguns, mandate that serial numbers be made more difficult to alter, require safety warnings on handguns, and require that those guns be equipped unauthorized use.

\section*{Mori to succeed Obuchi as PM}

TOKYO - With their leader in a coma, the cabinet of Thesday to make way for Yoahiro Mori to succeed the stricken prime minister.
and Mori, 62, a party loyalist pected to be chosen by the rul ing Liberal Democratic Party Wednesday morning, and elected by the two houses of the Japan \(\qquad\) We need to do this as soon as possible to avoid a political drawn acting premier, Mikio

\section*{national news}

\section*{Mass. enforces gun safety laws \\ BOSTON - The Massachu- \\ Elian's father may delay trip \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S.} setts attorney general today announced that his ofice will begin thority to enforce the most comprehensive handgun safety regulations in the nation, banning the sale of cheap handguns and requiring all handguas sold in the state to have aafety devices that keep children from firing them.

The long-delayed regulations, which go into effect immediately, essentially govern grearms the same as any consumer product, from hair dryers They ban the sale of "Sobiles. Night Specials" and require all hand Suns sold in Massachusetts to include built-in child-proofing to include buit-in child-proofing devices, tamper-resistant serial similar to those found on cigarette packs.

The new rules also prohibit the sale of handguns without state-approved trigger locks and, for semiautomatic handguns, de vices that indicate whether a gun is loaded. Suppliers are further required to explain to customers handguns and use safety devices. diplomats in Havana issued visas Tuesday to Elian Gonzalez's father and five others, but it remained unclear whether the group would travel any time soon to the United States to try to reclain the 6-yearold boy from relatives in Florida. Miguel Gonzalez would not leave until he is assured that his son will be turned over to him. And Tues day night, an official statement read on state television in Cub said that the elder Gonzalez "re mains firm" in insisting he eithe go alone to pick up Elian and that he head a 28 -member dely, o that he head a 28-member delega ington while the case is adjudicat ingt

After the meeting, Fermando Ramirez, head of the Cuban Inter ests Section in Washington, told reporters that Juan Miguel Gonzalez's trip depended on "the as surance of temporary custody" of his son. If that transfer of custod can be worked out, Ramirez said, Juan Miguel Gonzalez and the five Whers granted visas will travel to home in suburban Mat Ramire home in suburban Maryland

\section*{world news}

\section*{Aoki.}

Mori was expected to quick ly reappoint the members of the Obuchi cabinet, and continue current domestic and foreign policies. Since the political dieccion in Japan usually is Bet by consensus and the Liberal De mocrats remain in power, anaysts anticipate little immediate Krajisnik held in war crimes case

PARIS - French-led NATO troops burst into the Boanian home of Momcilo Krajisnik, a former key Bosnian Serb leader, and arrested him early Tuesday on charges of genocide, making him the high. est-ranking Bosnian Serb taken into custody in connection th Bosnian war atrocities. The seizure of Krajisnik could for the first time give war could for the first time give war crimes investigators a window into the highest reaches of the whartime Bosnian Serb leadership, which has been accused of displacing and executing thou"ethnic cleansing"campain an ethnic cleansing"campaign that became a notorious hall mark of the \(1992-95\) conflict. Krajisnik was flown to The Hague to stand trial before the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia. He was apeaker of the Bosnian Serb parliament durthe Serbian member of Bosnia's tripartite presidency. "Blood Wedding" at 8 p.m. at 820 E. Genesee St. Tickets are $14 for adults and \($ 12\) for students and seniors. Call 443-3275 for more information

E Onondaga County Parks presents naturalist Greg Smith at 7 p.m. at the Beaver Lake periences in the Alaskan Wilderperiences in the center is four miles mess. The center is four miles 370. Call 638-2519 for more information.
Author and teacher Jim Maher spealss at 7:30 p.m. at Le Moyne College's Grewen Auditorium regarding Ireland and the country's conflicts. Admis sion is $7. Call 682-7686 for more information.

The Syracuse Chapter of the Association of Women's Health Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses hosts its annual Martha Smith Memorial Spring Teach sity and Conference Center. Reg istration is \($ 50\) for member istration is \($ 50\) for mon-members, Cal 458-7975 for more information.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the new department at 443 -2127. Submis sions are also accepted via e-mai at ISilverOne@aol.com.
[dä]

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1
"It's true SGA has proven it can't do programming," said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture student. "But if everyone jumps ship, fine, we'll just train new people."

Taylor said the current SGA officers do not plan to do any proramming other than the airport day breaks. day breaks.

James, however, disputes any laws in the new constitution touting to SGA

I think everyone kind of misunderstood the essence of it," said James, a junior musical theater major. It was a name change to clarify some things.

James said SGA is looking to implement prograns such as an escort service for intoxicated students no the weekend and increased oncampus busing.

Were exploring the option of offering more services," he said. "It's just the groundwork for the organization."

In response to conflict of interest criticisms, he claims that a conllict will not exist.

When you're giving out money, you have to separate yourself from it," James said. The ultimate goal is to do service for the whole student body. We're all here for the students."

The bill will enable SGA to tell student organizations where to spend their approved funding, Tayor said.
"You can specify a little more what you're requiring," Taylor said. here's the conditions.' It's dealing with how we allocate the fee. There's not as much wiggle room. Standing in the rain for three hours Tuestiay aftermoon outside of the Schine Student Center, Assemblyman Adam Duffy solicited student signatures on a petition opposing the constitutional changes.

Duffy, a political science major, and fellow Assemblyman Joe Sauer, 300 student signatures against the proposal proposal

Alot of them didn't agree with the way it went down," Duffy said.

Student organizations including the New York Public Interest Research Group, University Union Enterprises and La Lucha supported the petition, Duffy said.

The vote taken was not appropriate," Sauer said. "We feel it has become our responsibility to take a new vote of the students. I don't have anything to gain by fighting this."

The two freshmen were among several Assemblymembers who vot dufy and Sauer protested the bote arguing that James did not accu, rately count the number of \(y\) tes
The vote, taken during the final utes of Monday's meeting was minutes of Mondays meeting, was roll call, which ended the meeting.

This action made it impossible for Assemblymembers to call for a recount, Sauer said.

James argued that he ordered the final roll call immediately following the vote because the meeting had already lapsed three hours and he did not want to prolong it.

The bill was saved until the end of the meeting because every meeting is run difierently, James \({ }^{-1}\) bout it \({ }^{7}\) he see anything sneaky ut it," he said.
Duffy and S
Duffy and Sauer plan to meet with SGA's Judicial Review Board today to discuss the validity of the vote.

SGA will convene Wednesday at a meeting closed to the public to "clear the air' on issues surrounding the bill, James said.
"We are moving in a wonderful, wonderful direction," he added. "I think these people just wanted to put on a show.

Students will have the opportunity to vote for or against the bill, along with the aldocation of funding April 11 to April 13 at campus dining halls and Schine Student Center.

Though SGA plans to advertise the event in campus dining halls, dames said he does not expect many people to turn out for the vote.
"I don't think the students will care," he said. "That's just the nature of the university."

The students, however, should not have to care about disagreement in student government, Sauer said.

They elected officials out of job done," he said.

Assemblyman David Gaulin said that while there may be strong disagreement surrounding the proposal, SGA needs to look past this issue and focus on working together as an organization.
\({ }^{\text {It }}\) was sprung upon us, now it's up to the students to decide, naid Gaulin, a sophomore history and political science major. "This bill is going to be in the past at some point. We need to look forward into the future. There's a lot of
"If we're going to keep givin low blows, we can kiss this Assemlow blows, we

Sames

savern

When you're giving out money, you have to separate yourself from it. The ultimate goal is to do service for the whole student body. We're all here for the students.?

JAMAL JAMES
SGA President

The vote taken was not appropriate. We feel it has become our responsibility to take a new vote of the students. 7

JOE SAUER
Assemblyman

A lot of (students) didn't agree with the way it went down. \({ }^{7}\)

ADAM DUFFY
Assemblyman

\section*{200w \\ bones}

HisasEasyas...
CALCIUM: Three glasses of milk daily
D VITAMIN: 200-400 io daily

\section*{Exercise, weight-bearing:}

30 minutes, most days of the week (walking, jogging, aerobics, weight trining, etc.)
For morn hurmmotion onsteoporosis prevelntion, col Hombicomections, 464-8668 or 1-800-464-8668

Pucker up

\section*{- Multicultural Affairs}

\section*{Forum to \\ BY BETH BRAVERMAN}

Staff Writer

Students do not realize the words they use each day mean verse backgrounds, said Shay Taylor, acting president of Pride Union.

Taylor cited such phrases as "that's so gay" and "I really Jewed him down" as examples of such careless uses of words.

Pride Union, an undergraduate gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender advocacy group, will host a forum discussing such Hall of Languages, Room 500 .

Representatives from Point Zero, Asian Students In America, Zero, Asian Students In America, tion and the Jewish Student Union will be present. Taylor said. All interested students are invited to attend, she added.

Taylor said she came up with the idea of the forum two years ago when she was a resident advisor. She said she heard several visor. She said she heard several of her freshman residents using discriminatory words in everyday conversation with their peers. that slang can be hurtful to individuals identifying with the nega-

\section*{explore hurtful slang} tive con
cific wor
words, she said. rheard one girl describing something she considered stupid as being "so gay.
"To a person who might be struggling with issues of coming out, hearing something like that might make someone feel like they weren't even wanted on campus," she said.

Taylar said she decided the forum would be a way for students to openly discuss an issue This matter does not concern just thay and minorities, she soid gays and minories, she said.

College students are always interested in expanding their good opportunity for people to good opportunity for people to learn ways in which they can show more respect toward others, said Paul Dien, public relations director of A.S.I.A.
"On our campus we definitely have issues," he added. "Sometimes we don't realize how our actions affect others.

Students at the forum will also discuss the way certain groups targeted by discriminatory words transform the same words into acceptable terms within their own community. Some blacks will refer to others of the same race as "niggers," and gays and lesbians will call each other queer, Taylor said.

Homosexuals knew the word queer" was not going to be eliminated from society's vernacular so they took the term into their culture as one that can be used to empower, added Michele Lee, a member of A.S.I.A. and Point Zero and a speaker at the forum. ving is something ive been working in for wo years now and to see \({ }^{\prime}\). Taylor said make forum. orum

She added that she hopes the forum will get a large turnout. People just say things without speaking," said Sarah Landa, major who said she is considering attending the event. "I hear a lot of words like 'fag' and people never even think of the effects of those words and how some people may feel about them.

I think it would be interesting to see everyone else's opinions and see how they compare with my own," she added. "I want to see if what I think matches up with the actual scenario on campus."

> Learn about SU in Asia Opportunities!

\section*{CONSOLIDATION}
continued from page 1
senting them for a vote from the full Common Council, according to its report.

The consolidation would include merging the physical services, property control, print serployee benefits operations, em plon departments of the city and school district.
"I have been around for 25 years and this is not the first time this has been talked about," Hall said. "This is not a new idea."

While the proposal now enjoys little opposition, union representatives originally expressed result in a loss of jobs or benotits Hall said.

Staff
Staff members heading the are also concerned about a potential shift in leadership, she added.
"I think this business of being so controlling is not productive," Hall said. "People just don't want to give up their turf."

She added that she does not foresee any job loss from the consolidation.

The people in the jobs have to be considered, Hall said. "The goal is not to lay people off" The city and district's physical services would be shared if the consolidation is approved by the full Council at a later meeting, Hall said.
These services include the snow and ice removal division, waste removal and recycling division, custodial services and grounds maintenance, she ded.
Under the proposed consolidation, the City Department of Public Works would handle the snow and waste removal services for both the city and the district, Hall said.

The district would handle custodial services for both bodies and the organizations would share responsibility for ground The committee also
The committee also recommended combining print serployees currently complete most of the printing for the district. The city, however, has printing contracts with many different companies for the same services, said Ann Sanzone, a district employee.

A merger in this area would take advantage of the city's graphic arts ability and the district's print technology, as well as ent and departments, Sanzone said. Once approved, combining the two departments would only take a few months, she added.

Combining property control, such as the use of the school district's warehouse space and the purchasing of certain supplies, can benefit both the city and the district by lowering costs in this area, Sanzone said.
looked at warehousing ons we looked at warehousing was bethat in place, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) said Nick DiBello, a district employee.

The example of purchasing paper perfectly illustrates this point, Sanzone explained. wThe price we pay is a lot cheaper than what the city pays," she said. "We can award the low price to the vendor with the lowest price. We found there was a difference of 10 to 15 thousand dollars."

In the area of finances, however, the committee had difficul ty finding an easy and cost-effec-

Wood weaver
 in the Contirt buifding to form a wall piece in the shape of a gtapevine.

\section*{GREEK WEEK}
continued from page 1
The week will also feature a banner and skit contest designed to promote the event's inaugural theme, "Y2B Greek."'

The events planned will provide good community fun, Carman said. Its purpose is to distance greeks from stereotypes of alcohol abuse and sexual promiscuity, she added.
ark think the games will spark some friendiy competimore entrepreneurship major and Delta Kappa Epsilon brother. "It should be a lot of fun."

The week will culminate a "Hoop-A-Thon" to raise money for the Huntington's Disease Society of America, the recipient of proceeds from all the events. Points will be awarded to teams based on their performance in the basketball tournament, three-point shootout, as well as how much money they raise.
Huntington's Disease is hereditary disease that progres sively damages the nervous system.

A silent auction will accom pany the event. Prizes for the auction were donated by local businesses and will also benefit the charity.
"We expect a large turnout," said Vince Kuss, program coor dinator for the Office of Greek Life. The majority of the chap ers on campus are participat ing. The board worked very

The event will allow all the chapters on campus to get involved with one philanthropy said Blood, a sophomore politica science and television, radio and film major.
"Greek Freak 2000" will kick off the events, with four days of entertainment - also open to non-greeks - that are Council and the multicultural fraternity system, Blood said.

Area:
Snow and ice removal
Waste removal/recycling
Custodial
Grounds maintenance
Printing services
Property control
Transfer all responsibility to City Department of Public Works City Department of Public Works School District Shared
School District
School District
(warehouse space and supply purchasing)
Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone source: Symeuse common council consolidation committee tive method of merging the two departments because the software used in the computer sys en Ros not compatible, said Br an Roulin, a city employee.

In order to consolidate the software and systems, there \($ 100,000\), he explained.
"We have a very sophisticated, integrated system," Hall said.

There would be an even greater problem for the school district, because student information is kept on a separate system, said Les McCormick, a district employee.

Employee benefits will not easily consolidate either, with the exception of a worker's compensation management plan, said Bob Allen, a district employee. Bob Alien, a cistrict employee.
"It was decided that work er's compensation is the area where most savings could be made, "he said.
These savings could be made mostly in the reconsideration of the choice of physicians for health insurance coverage, Allen said. The reason for this is be cause in worker's compensation cases, the biggest expense to the distred. added.

Transportation would also cause difficulty when consolidating, said Jim Cannon, a district employe. primary duty of the transportation is to transport children," Cannon said.
In this case, the departments need to be clearly separate, he said. This separation must be clean-cut because transportation is aided by the state and a merger would affect funding levels, he added.

Hall said Syracuse's consolidation efforts could lead other cities in the region to do the same. Hopefully we're setting a good role model for what towns around us should be doing," she said. "It's a lot of work though."

\section*{SIUDENI TRAVEL}

Cheaper than Tuition... more fun than Body Piercing
Student ID's
Travel Insurance
Special Student Airfares

STA TRAVEL
WEVEBEEN THERE.

\section*{Book your tickers onvivis. statravel.com}

\section*{Wanna take over the WORLD...}

Your'e gonna have to start with an internship!

\section*{Great Summer And Fall \\ Internships Still Available At \\ S.U.I.P.}

\title{
- Public Safety Reports: \\ \\ Harassment calls plague \\ \\ Harassment calls plague students during weekend } students during weekend
}

\begin{abstract}
\section*{Staff Report}

A student in Booth Residence Hall reported a harassing phone call Friday evening from a man named Steve, according to a Public Safety report. the The man allegedly asked the student for information about her roommate, the report said.

Anotherstudent, a resident on the 130 block of Lambreth Lane, also reported harassing phone calls that night, accordphone calls that night, according to a Public Safety report.
The student successfully ran a phene trace on the caller. The phone trace on the caller. The tigators, the report said.

A third renort of harassing
\end{abstract}

\begin{abstract}
phone calls was ricd friday morning by a Brewster Hali resident, according to a Public Safety report.

The caller described the student in detail over the phone, the report said. The case was turned over to investiga tors, the report added.
"One of the ones on North was taken care of very well by the RA, said Sarah Naggar, president of South Campus Or lence. She added that she was not familiar with the other reports.

A Public Safety officer visted Haven Hall to discuss what to do in response to harassing phone calls, Nagar said
\end{abstract}

\section*{SPEND A SEMYESTER IN HONG RONG,}

\section*{A CITY WHERE EAST MEETS WEST}

\section*{NEM G EXPANDED CURRICULUA (G) \(-47 T S\)}

\section*{-MANAGEAENT}
-PSVCHOLOGY
-POLITICAL SCIENCE
- Cinenaa
-LANGUAGE
Now Yov can live and LEARN IN A CITV WHERE CHINESE TRADITION MEETS

\section*{WESTERN SOPHISTICATION}

I don't know what could be done about it," Residence Hall Association President Jonathan Eisenmann said. "It's kind of part of what happens."
- An unidentified person entered the unlocked, second floor room of a Day Hall resi dent Wednesday evening, ae cording to a Public Safety re port.

The suspect removed "vari ous valuable items" from the room, the report said. scene, the report added

The case was turned over to investigators, the repor said.

E An employee at the Women's Building reported Thursday morning he or she reccived a "suspicious" e-mail, according to a Public Safety re port. The case has since been turned ofer the report said.

Last week, the SU Wom en's Athletic Department re e-mails sent by an unidentified person according to a Publi person, according to a Public

The e-mails sent last wee all requested photos of an \(S U\) women's athletic team, the re port said.

The case is being investigated, the report said.
- An unidentified person threw an orange at a faculty member's vehicle Thursday night in the Bowne Hall park ing lot, according to a Public Safety report.

The side mirror of the ve hicle was damaged, the report said. There areno suspects

EThe hatch back window to an Isuzu Rodeo was shattered Wednesday afternoon in the Nursing School parking lo by an unknown cause, accor ing to a Public Safety report. the vehicle, the report said.
- There was a car accident Wednesday evening outside the main entrance to Archbold Gym, according to a Public Safety report.

There were no injuries and one student was issued a ticket for a suspended license, the report said.
- The front glass pane of a vending machine at Huntington Beard Crouse was broken Sun day afternoon, according to Public Sarety report.
not known if any products were taken and the money box was intact, the re port said.

An employee of WJPZ FM 89.1, reported missing CDs Sunday evening, according to a Public Safety report.

The person who reported the alleged theft was not awar that the CDs were actually loaned to an individual, the report said.

Attempts by Public Safety officers and Syracuse police to locate the person to whom the CDs were loaned was unsuc cessful, the report added.

The case was turned over to investigators, the report added.

Compiled by Asst. News
Editor Kate Stevenson

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Residents benefit from joint venture \\ A joint proposal by the City of Syracuse and} the Syracuse School District could potentially put thousands of doilars back into taxpayer pockets.

The city's director of operations and the school district's assistant superintendent presented a smart plan at Tuesday's Syracuse Common Council meeting. If approved by voter referendum, the city and school district would consolidate several facets of operations in the hopes of increasing efficiency.

The plan seeks to cut expenses by merging city and school-district branches of physical services such as snow and waste removal, as well as employee benefit offices and volume-discount purchasing orders.

Education uses more than half of the city's annual budget. Since the city and school district duplicate many essential services, it's wise to join forces when possible.

While financial results may not appear immediately, a few years of shared tasks could add up to a substantial nest egg in city and school coffers. And the products could be reverted to local residents - they already pay some of the highest taxes in the state - or poured back into schools to cover the costs of new computers or athletic equipment for local students.

City residents would perhaps be best served by using the consolidation savings to augment local civic ventures. In a city full of boarded-up houses and drug-infested neighborhoods, the dollars saved could surely be used to make civic improvements and clean up downtrodden areas.

But the Common Council shouldn't launch headlong into the consolidation without carefully pinpointing their goals. Although the school district is an arm of the city government, the goals of the two bodies remain markedly different, and their autonomy must be maintained.

School administrators and city lawmakers should collaborate to increase profit and maximize resources for both parties. If properly orchestrated, a consolidation of various parts of the city and school district could have far-reaching benefits.

\section*{[dä]}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971 News Editor

Justin Silverman Editorial Edito Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Coily Auer Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Dave Curtis foy Davia Bill Ehninger Adeet Deshmukh Neva Austrev Laura Prabuciki Kate Stevenson Tiffany Lankes Kovin Tampone Magin McKerna Design Editor Joft Passan Design Editor fae Skinner Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Tito Eotitita Tom Mason Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Sweatshop activism group deserves commendation}

People at Syracuse University are always complaining about the general sense of apathy that afflicts students on this campus. Nothing gets done and nothing ever changes because people simply don't care. I'd like to take this opportunity to give a shout out to a group of students who have been working tirelessly on behalf of a very worthwhile cause.

I'm sure you've seen the recent

\section*{MATT}

WALTON articles in The Daily Orange or The Post-Standard describing the exploits Or \(\operatorname{OCOOL}\), the Student Coalition On Organized Labor. SCOOL is current ly lobbying for Syracuse University to end its membership in the Fair Worker Rights Consortium. Both of these organizations are concerned with the rights of workers and fair employment practices. Both organizations are not the same, however, and I'll supply some background When the order to provide a better understanding. many American corporations. It soon became apparent that the organization was not effective in monitoring employment situations, chiefly because of the influence of companies that had joined only for show and obviously didn't want their profits reduced by a change in labor aws in foreign countries.

Faced with a mass exodus, the FLA began an aggressive recruiting campaign aimed particularly at universities. SU, along with many other big-name universities, signed on. Unfortunately, the addition of learn ing institutions to the membership of the FLA did little to change its policies. The universities have no say in the general operations of the organization, and are only athletic apparel.

Recently, another organization has gained recognition, mostly because of the areas where it differs from labor practices, but its membership consists primarily of labor, human rights and religious groups, as well as a recent surge in university membership. This means that the WRC is not subject to the same corporate tainting that is currently the bane of the FLA
Incidentally, most of the universities that have signed on to the WRC were originally members of the

\section*{letters}

\section*{Editorial misses purpose of new SGA legislation}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Aside from an unwarranted barrage of attacks on the character of Student Government Association, Chris Greinerand myself, I need to ask a simple question about the activities of The Daily Orange. Were any The Daily Orange. Were any members of the staff actually present at the last Assembly meeting?

Realize that this is a rhetorical question, since i saw several of you there. However, from reading Tuesday's editorial, it would appear that SGA just created a programming wing.
inaccurate and rightfully would be a "cruel joke of a plan"if what you critiqued had actually occurred. Thestudentbody should be alerted that what you said didn't oceur. A correction is necessary in your next issue.

Now, 1 presided over the debate on the proposal to which you are referring and you could not be more inaccurate. The most programming SGA is interested in coordinating is running a shuttle bus.

True, SGA's coordination of Homecoming in 1997 was a failure. I would strongly suggest gain. I was dead-set against it again. I was dead-set against it this issue. Being the cose the size of the SGA budget would not change either.

The discussions addressing a possible merger between SGA that student organizations need additional advice in the preparation of their budget requests to SGA. Advising organizations on the budget process and running events themselves are entirely different. I would think you wauld be able to tell the difference.

Furthermore, you critique the efficiency of Assembly meetinge. Where was the D.O. last year when such a remark would have been accurate? Jamal James is a very effective presiding officer, by far the best the As I don't know about thieves but I'm tired of responding to daily liars.

Jonathan M. Taylor
SGA Parliamentarian
University Senator

\section*{STABBING}
continued from page 1
several more surgeries scheduled and must undergo treatment for severe damage to the radial nerve of his right arm, he said.

Stackhouse could not be reached for comment.

Thomas said although there is no end to his rehab in sight, he hopes to return to school either this summer or fall DeLoat

DeLoatch said he has tried to move beyond the incident but added whith Tuesdays outcome is justified. II don't blame him. He should be upset," DeLoatch said. "It's sad that we go out into the community and we get stabbed, and now we canl goanywhere.

Although DeLoatch's physical wounds have healed, the stabbings chanced his dife, he said.

II had to take things more seriously," he said. "Now \(\Gamma \mathrm{m}\) just keeping a low profile and I don't go far off campus now. I don't take that cern of mine It's terrible that it has to be that way."

Deloatch expressed his concern for Thomas and said he hoped to see him at games next season supwhat Deloatch called an "unfortunate incident.
"I guess (Stackhouse and Cheiron Thomas) have to pay for what they did - they have to pay their dues," DeLoatch said. "I guess that's the way it goes."

> SRCUSE
SYRACRSITE
Equestrian Team Congratulates: Deanne Thompson Doanne Freyhot Dan GolDbach Gina Pesko

For Qualifying for the 2000 Regionals

Mariah, Deame & Gina, thanks for enerything. The Team will miss you!

\section*{Ebge}

\section*{Second round}

The last time opponents of global capitalism confronted the ranks of domestic law enforcement - in Seattic. Nov. 30 to Dec. 3 -the results were clouds of ear gas, vo eys of ruboer bullets and the makings of a mass protest movement whose energy and appeal have surprised even some of ts organizers. Round 2 is scheduled for April 16 and 17 in Wastington. but protesters will begin arriving from across the country Saturday. The protesters' target in Seattle was a summit of the Wortd Trade Organization, which was disrupled by more than 30,000 demonstrators. The World Bank and the International Monetary Fund are being cast as the villains. Their meetings April 16 and 17 are routine, but protest organizers decided to use them to sustain the Seatle momentum.

\section*{Smokes out}

Colorectal cancer may be strongly influenced by smoking, a new study suggests. People who want to reduce their risk of turnor devel opment can do so by giving up eigarettes and cigars, scientists report ed Tuesday. Smoking doesn't cause only fung cancer. scientists told the 91 st annual meet22 ing of the \(\rightarrow\) American Association for Cancer Research. but also may be at the root of the secondleading cause of cancer deaths colorectal cancer.

\section*{Big screen}

Microsoft Corp. on Tuesday will unveil its largestever marketing campaign for its MSN online network, hoping to nartow the wide gulf between it and online leaders America Online and Yahool. In the next three montis, Microsoft will spend \($ 40\) million on TV, print and directmail actvertising to elevate MSN's image and offer discounts that include six months of free Intemet access for consurners who sign up for MSN. Microsoft is borrowing a chapter from AOL, mailing more than 13 million MSN CDs to targeted cor sumers.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"We are all worms, but I do believe that am a glow-worm. Winston Churchill

Sapna
Koliali, editor 443.2123 iffedaily orange.com [lifestyle] COMPROMISING

'IF I RULED THE WORLD' ARTIST Nas headlines Thursday's Greek Freak 2000 concert at the Landmark Theatre.

\(n\) a crowded market of emcees serving verbose rhymes over chunky beats to hip-hop heads, Nasir Jones aka Nas - is a philosopher as well as a hard-core lyricist.
"I'm like every man's dream, a thug poet," Nas proclaims on his platinum-navored siogle, "Nas is Like

It was a weighty but warranted boast, as critics and fans alike have given Nas the titles of "savior of rap" and "hip-hop's Aristotle" since the inception of his acclaimed debut album, 1994's "1lmatic."

The hiphop stararrives Thursday night at the Landmark Theatre, 362 S . Salina St, as the featured act in Greek Freak 2000 to support his new release Nastradamus.

Nas's former partner in rhyme, Brooklynnative Foxy Brown - who gained fame while has released two albums to \({ }^{\text {a }}\) and and DJ wet Me Clear My Throat" Kool will open the show. This year's Greek reak year's Greek reak- Which begins time the concert will be held off campus, and be held first University Union-sponsored concert at a venue as iarge as the Landmark. *This concert exciting because it is the exigest one we have ever produced," said C.J. Strock pecutive director of Uy Concerts.

The move was necessi tated by Nas's large draw the audience is expected to be See GREEKFREAK page 10

\section*{Campus artwork gives history lesson}

\author{
Jane Rushmore carefree philosopher
}

She tosses The Daily Orange aside and tilts her head, letting her gaze fall on the mural in Shaw Dining Hall. She makes up little stories about the painting, because she's eating alone and it amuses her imagination. She's all of us.

That mural has been the topic of quite a few dinner conversations - no one seems to be able to decipher it. What does it all mean?

I've got some answers. The mural is the Village Fiesta by Jean Charlot, a painter during the Mexican renaissance of the 1920 s and 1930s.

There are over 30 sculptures and murals on this campus. Most of the time, I don't even notice them, but i have always wondered about that mural.

Charlot painted the mural on a visit to Syracuse University in 1960. It tells the atory of the indigenous people struggling to preserve their culture within the Spanish political system.

The story begins at the left, before dawn, and a child is taking its first steps. As the eye moves gcross the mural, the scenes reveal the customs of everyday life. A nother cooks tortinas, women braid with a rattle. On the far right, a mother urges her daughter to celebrate in the Dance or the Malinches at a fes tival. Malinches. The dance represents the conflict between the Spanish and Indian cultures.

Culture? In Syracuse? In my dining hall? In the midst of alt the stale lettuce and cold pasta? Who would have thought it?
The real arts adventure Usually l pass by the sculpture in the quad, oblivious and lost in

\section*{GREEKFREAK}
continued from page 9
too large for Goldstejn Auditorium in the Schine Student Center, but too small for the Carrier Dome.

Tickets for the show are \($ 20\) for Syracuse University students, $30 for the general public and are still on sale UU will provide transportation to and from the event, leaving from College Place.

\section*{The main attraction}

The memorable cover of the "classic" LP - as stated by trusted hip-hop magazine, five Source, which gave It five out of five mics, a distinction only five out of five mics, a distinction only nine albums have received in it eleven-year pulp history - placed the face of a youthful Nas superimposed on the place of his upbringing, the Queensbridge projects of New York. It was on those rough streets that the roots of Nas affinity for music were planted by his father, trumpeter Olu Dara, who had played with Taj Mahal, Art Blakely and His Jazz Meshis career, would often bring a young Nas to the recording studio with him.

"He never tried to push me into the music field, but he instilled me with the "This is your world, do what you want with it vibe," Nas said in a Source interview.

During Nasir's youth, he traded his coveted science fiction and comic boaks for \(45 s\) and found his calling in and the Juice Crew, LL, Cool J and

\section*{Run DMC.}

He eventually dropped out of high school to focus on the streets and his hip-h
Nas first appeared on the scene as a head-spinning Wave before landin a guest appearance in 1990 on the Main Source single "Live at the BBQ.

MC Serch, formerly of \(\mathbf{\text { wrdens so }}\) impressed was so impressed the budding rapper that he gave him a spot on the track "Back to the Grill" and executive produced Halfime, Nas' first solo single sor the Ze

After word of Nas spread, a deal was inked with Columbia Records, and "lllmatic was released. Commercially, it was a disappointment, debuting at No. 11 on the Billboard charts before quickly disappearing; Critics, however, applauded Nas production from DJ Premier of Grangstar, Large Professor and Q-Tip of A Tribe Called Quest.
"Nas imbues his chronicle with humanity and humor, not just hardness," The New York Times said. "He

Greek Freak 2000 is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Landmark Theatre, 362 s. Salina St. The show features Nas, with Foxy Brown and Di Kaol with foxiding the supporting kool providing the supporting Tickets are \($ 20\) at 7 p.m. dents \($ 30\) for the su students, \($ 30\) for the general public and are or sale athe schine the Landmark Theate sox Office Transporation Box from the event is fre to and from the event is free and leaves from College Place.
reports violence without celebrating it, dwelling on the way life triumphs over crim circumstances rather than the other way around.

Nas' realistic, poetical street tales are evidence that he is a thinker, not thug.
talented artist finally received mainstream accep in 1996 throurh his follow-up, uIt was Written." The Trackmasters gave a controversial pop touch on most of the tracks which raised ques tions of "selling out" among critics - and his remake of Kurtis Bow's "If 1 Ruled the Hill and Wyclef Jean became an MTV Jams approved hit

The album went double platjinum again featuring terrif ic production work by alents like the Godrather of G-Funk Dr. Dre and Havoc from Mobb Deep. Dr. Dre and Nas took their work on the album to another level in his Dre's Aftermath label.

The project introduced a new pseudonym to Nasir- Nas Escobar, partner in Mafia-tinged verses with the sultry Foxy, \(A Z\) and Nature. The the sultry Foxy, AZ and Nature. The 10 and went platinum

Nas remained in the game for his third album and first No. 1 debut, 1999's "I Ami...The Autobiography. Despite being well-done, it was over shadowed by Nas' clash with Bad Boy CEO Puff Daddy over the video "Hate Me Now."

The clip, which depicted the two rappers as Christ-like figures being crucified, was supposed have a few objective scenes removed at Puifys re played on MTV's Total Request Live Puffy became enraged and assaulted Nas manager and interscope employ ee, Steve Stoute. Consequently, the video was pulled from rotation, and the two eventually worked out their differences

Just seven months after "I Am," Nas released "Nastradamus," origi nally intended to be a second disc packaged with "I Am. It is another al underground hip-hop purists and pop music connoisseurs.

Freshman information studies major Marcus Nathaniel is looking forward to seeing Nas in concert. To him, as to many others, Nas is more than an artist - he is an inspiration and a role model Nathe is the illest lyricist out there," Nathaniel said, a poster of his hip hop hero hanging on his wall. "No one elelligent, positive and a poet who tells it how it is.

\section*{Move Closer to Your Degree... While You're Closer to Home.}

Summer Classes Available In:
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Art & Music \\
Business Administration/ & Philosophy \\
\multicolumn{1}{c}{ Management } & Physics \\
Chemistry & Political Science \\
Education & Psychology \\
English & Religious Studies \\
History & Science \\
Health Science & Social Work \\
Italian & Sociology \\
Literature & Spanish \\
Math & Theatre Arts
\end{tabular}

Call our Office of Part-Time Enrollment Services for registration information: 1-800-441-0288/(716) 389-2050.

For direct access, visit our website and view a full listing and descriptions of Summer Session courses:
www.naz.edu/summer

\section*{Nazareth College}

\section*{JANE}
continued from page 9 thought.

Yesterday was different, maybe because it actually stopped raining long enough for me raise my head and look around

Right between
Huntington Beard Crouse and Hinds Halls, there's a very provocative scuipture. I couldn't help thinking, what is that and why is it on the quad at my school?

Well, it's the "Dancing Mother," by Chaim Gross, and it's on the quad because Mr. and Mrs. Saul Rosen The sculpture is a coleThe sculpture is a celemather and child Gross rep mother and child. Gross rep remotional bond in physical terms: the sculpture morphs the two figures into one form never to be separated All right, so it's not soft porn after all.

That lifts the mystery behind that sculpture, But that huge mosaic on the side of HBC is still a bit puzzling.

It's the "Passion" of Sacco and Vanzetti, two Italian mmigrants who were arrested as suspects in a 1920 murder case in Boston. Although the men pleaded innocent and the case lacked substantive evidence, they were executed despite cries of protest in London and Paris.

Their trial called into question the fundamental political and social aspects of American life - were they tried for the crime or for their anarchist, anti-war beliefs?

Sacco and Vanzetti are the two men in handcuffs in the center of the mosaic. A cluster of key political and legal figures in the case protest on the left. Framing the mosaic are fragments of one of Vanzetti's letters to is son.
Bits

Bits of glass and marble were pieced together in France by the artist, Ben Syracuse in sections where the mosaic was assembled.

Forgotten Goddess
Now you finally know what all those cour guides walk by a throng of stary you walk bre freshmen starry eyed pre-fresh

But I wonder if the tour guides know about this: On guides know about this: On Library there is a statue of the Roman goddess of the

\section*{\(\ddots\)} C口 RELGPGE PPRTK
 ERIDRYPRRLD

\section*{The Lifestyle Department wants you!}

Interested in writing? Come to the writers meeting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Daily Orange.
We're located at 744 Ostrum Ave., the red and white building four houses down from Shaw. See you there!
hunt, Diana
In the sculpture, Diana stands on a sphere, firing an arrow with dogs jumping at her feet. There's a big metal lic spot on the dog's paw. Legend has it that when the sculpture was in Carnegie Library, students would rub the dog's paw during exams hoping for some good luck. There are a lot of little things, like the good luck story behind Diana, that I take for granted. And there's a lot of history on this campus that I am completely unaware of.

I'm always looking for new things to check out, play around with and discover. This campus can be so dreary, and, sometimes, the littlest things, like that Shaffer Art Building, can make the biggest differences.

Jane Rushmore is a junior magazine major. Her columir appears Wednesdays. E-mail her at jrrushmo@syr.edu.

The Lally School at Rensselaer.
Business savvy for a world gone digital.

The MBA@Rensselaer

\section*{MORANT}
continued from page 16
Longo said.
\({ }^{\text {He never gets tackled }}\) one-on-one," said Longo, now the offensive coordinator at Whe offensive coordinatorsity (N.J.). "His best asset is his ability to run after the catch."

In addition to his post-
In addition to Morant is most notable for his extraordinary size.
(I have) an advantage because I'm fast for my size," Morant said. I can catch the ball over shorter corners. I can jump and get it. It makes it easier for the quarterback."

His unique combination of size and speed is rare, but Morant knows what lies ahead in his quest to play for the Orangemen during his freshman year.

A battle should ensue to replace the departed Quinton Spotwood. Leading receiver Pat Woodcock is back and speedster Maurice Jackson returns after a year at college.
But

But with hard off-season work, Morant said he should be able to compete for a starting job.

We'll give Johnnie Morant a chance to play as a ordinator, SU offensive coordinator George DeLeone

The Syracuse University Drama Department Presents

\section*{BLOOD WEDDING}

\section*{by}

Federico Garcia Lorca

\author{
Directed by Elizabeth Ingram
}

Mar. 31, Apr. 1, 5*, 6, 7 & 8 at 8 p.m.
Apr. 2 & 9 at 2 p.m.
*Apr. 5 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517

\section*{Drama}

\section*{Storch Theatre}

820 E. Genesee St.
said. "We made no promises to him. It all depends on if he can learn the offense in time. We have good wide receivers now. We'll see if he can compete with the guys we have here now."

SU receivers coach Dennis Goldman agrees with Deleone and said Morant play but must first prove play, but must first prove "(For
(Former SU wide receiver) Marvin Harrison didn't really see the field until his third season," Goldman said. "It all depends on how much Johnnie Morant can learn. He has all the physical tools."

Besides his intimidating physique and matching bluestudded piercings in his ears and below his lip, Morant's humility endears him to people, Longo said

While Morant earned the right to bask in his glory, he remains humble, the coach said.

Longo describes his former wideout as a one of the best kids to be around "Johnnie's always smiling and always happy," he said. "He's very personable. There is no ego involved and no cockiness about his personality.
\({ }^{4}\) Hekicks your tail on the field and smiles on the way home."

Despite receiving 42 inquiries from college coaches, he declined options to play at State, South Carolina or Clemson - uI didn't like the South too much," he said and chose to leave New Jersey to become an Orangeman.

Morant said he likes SU's tradition of successfully sending wideouts to the NFi, and great academics. He also said he might want to pursue a degree in criminal justice.

Much of the credit for Morant's decision, however.
Girl Talk
How do you feel today?
I think I had adjective
last night.
! First I saw a number plural noun
you
. Um..beergoggles. Then, you were
with
. So, miss social, what hap-verb ending -ing boy's name pened? He wanted to go to the so we did. I place
think he tried to take my off. I tried to say no.
noun
Rape. It's not fun and games. It does happen.
Top 3 Feasons why college women did not report their sexual assault...
1. I felt partly responsible for what happened. (63\%)
2. I did not think it was that important. \((60 \%)\)
3. I was emabarrassed about what happened. (48\%)
Sexual contact with someone who has not consented or who is unable to consent is sexual assault. Sexual assault that involves penetration is known as Rape. If you have been or know someone that has been sexually assaulted and/or raped, there is help!
And it's completely confidential.
We're here to help.
University R.A.P.E. Center
111 Waverly Avenue
(315) 443-RAPE
design by, Cara Gardner 'oo
http://students.syr.edu/depts/rape

\section*{Thr Daily Orange}

Classified Advertising
 Thn deathno C

goes to DeLeone.
All parties agree that SU's offense was the determining factor in Morant's decision. Longo and DeLeone said the hook is DeLeone's no-nonsense philosophy of recruiting.

While 41 coaches made promise after promise, and honest with his recruits, Longo said. Somekids buy the lies of other coaches, but the truth impressed Morant the truth impr
\({ }^{4}\) The exposure and reputation of Syracuse football helps," he said. "Johnnie, his migh school coach and his mether place. (It's because of) the great football staff that is committed to getting him an education and making him the best football player we can."

\section*{When in Hell...}
by Eric Jones

\section*{}

\section*{Sleep Deprivation}

\section*{Out of Town}

Graduation's soon, got a job ready?

No Point

Classic Rasputin Presents

\section*{by J-Dog & Mariska}

by Thane Benson

Mr. Skizz
by David Pollack

You could be an lceCream

y'Know, don't drive so Fast, stop hiting the kids, don't sell drugs out of the truck
by Ethan Schmidt

Eat the Lettuce

SOWE'RE GONG TO

by The Four Electrons

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Classic Goatee Style by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Part time jobs delinery drivers, dishwashers appy
Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshall St. MEDICAL OFFICE POSITIONS: MED.SCRIGE, INC. iS an service provicing oifice/administrative persornel to Hochester NY's healith-care community exctusively.
you posssess medical termunolocyy andror exp. and seek reatit-reated summer efmployment in the Assemb Service Tech. Good Pay/ signing Bonus No expen nence required.

Advancement Cpporiunities. Calt: \(1-800\)-852-2453 HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMERI Prestigious coed comp in beautily Mass. seeks caring. motivated SPECIALTY COUNSELORS needed. Join a editaled, lun team. Competitive dalaries + travel \(+100 \mathrm{~m}+\) board. Call Camp Taconic: 1-800-762-2820.
Camp Counselors: Jewish Community Center of Grester roch dester Cansp eceneca Lake is seeking mids. Must be at lasst a eollege hashman and be availabio Jung 21 -August 20. Liteguard Contact Renee at 716-461-20003253 for intormation/application.
It was the craziest and mrost valuable thing live counselor. You too can make a difference this summer in Viginia. Camp Easter Seal is looking lor men and worien to work as camp counselors or men and worten to work as camp counselors and activity leaders at a residentizi eamp childen and addults. with disabilities. Hard work Graal rewards. Visit our wabw.campeastersealva. org or cal (B04) 633 -gass. Painters Wanted tor Summer. Work in University and slurrounding areas. Start Mid April or Early TOP BOYS SPORTS CAMP IN MAINEI PLAY COBEOSSEE-Fronounced: KAAH'-8UH-SEE

Camp Positions: Hitiong. ropes coursa, rature, pool, in the Finger Lakes. These senior posisitions are for in the Finger Lakes. These sentor possitions are for experienced applicants \(21+\). Salaries \($ 1800-2800\) olus roam ane board trom June 17 to August 20 . imformatorvapplication.
Fult yeart summer nannies needed. Work with prominent tamilies in New York and Ct. Exceltent inducles noom and board. Mecicai beneilis. Trivel opportunilies. Agency 1-800-932-2736 Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed for June 21Juty 26 and July 26 . August 20 . RN or LPN. 5300 D positions at Jewish Community Center's verernight children's camp on Seneca Lake, Yur chiveren are melcome! Cortact Renee at \(776-461-2000 \times 263\) tor lormation'application.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

University Bartending Classes Stant Soon Discounts \({ }^{1}\)-800-U-CAN-MIX Call For Intormation!!?!
Pre-medicat stuctent wamed tor full-ime position net husy medical office, whic schoots. 452-2600
AMAZNG SUMMER at premier PA cood crividen's omen wanled tor all sports, activities. Swim, and on-cherpula

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Help Wanted}

\section*{ARN HELP NEEDED: Responsibie indfidual with} BARN HELP NEEDED: Fesponsibie indfridual with Lafayette. Feeding. stall care and turnout seven days a week once a day. Please call 473-7146 on-F: SFUNDRAAISERES Open to studen! groups \({ }^{3}\) argarizalions. Earn \($ 5\) per MC app. We suppty all

-
WOAK FROM HOME UP IO $25.00/ht P/ 575.00 Mr F 7 C C
\(800-297-5670\)

1500 weekly potential mailing our circulars. Na xperience Required. Frca intornation patcel Ca 202-452-7679.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline FOR RENT \\
\hline O.P.R. \\
\hline Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes / \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apt's \\
All Locations / Prices \\
\(478-6504\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Kensington Prate 1 sificor large 38edroom istiningroom Dining Room Mocelnkitctien handwoodFloors porches nearEbusline Ouie1Ne ighborohood avaidable June ist 2000-2001
Ca07am-9pm 247-7851 or \(426-1884\) Univenity Ave. five betroom House one block
 LUXUPIOUS: 2story apshot, Goumet kitdin, Custorn loung iviv araa Skytight 15h ceiling
 NO PETS! Leases. Fineo atznet.com
Call br apel \(469-0730\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
813 Corsstock 5/6 Bedroorns Across From W2400
\($ 822-3304\)
Stop clean 3 bedroom apartmenta Frreplace, parking. laundry, Ackerman Ave. 4br 2/Bath apt. Furnished.
carpeled, walk to campus. Well maintained 500-5.101 lease 446-7202 University and Comstock Very close to Carmpus Elficiences and Two Bedroorns Secura bldo.
lurnished laundry parking \($ 375.00\) to \($ 700.00\) lurnished taundry parking 5375.00 io 5700.00
induces All Utibes \(445-1229\) D.N.Ducker LIG

4 Eorm House \($ 300\) min and 3 berm thats \(5250 / \mathrm{mm}\) Avaii Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Heally
Group 637-5195

Apartments close to campus cioan 2-3.5

The Pink Palace" 5 Br, housa adjacent to Ross University Ave. Three Bedroon Fiat Close Walk to Campus turnished launcry parking
Dius utifies O.N.Dnucker 445-12za
University nicety furnished quiet \(1,2,3\) bedrooms also 5 bedroont nicely turnished house rejerence 478-26

\section*{Apartments \\ ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS, EUCLID AVE \\ PER \\ LOCATION 476-9933}

Looking hor a place to line? www,housing103.nat.
Ybur move oll campus! Free roominrate subbiet listings University 283 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flats Inexpensive and mint comodion. Washerforyer.
Fireplace.inished basement. Call \(449-109\).

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilities.
Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St.
 479-5005

2 Bedroom Apt5 202. 204 Ostrom. 105 Euctid Terace Large A or Aug 446 -518s
4Berroons tumished liat with ald wfilities included ne block from campus near Law Sctrool + ESF:

Studio ind Etficiency Apartments, Lurnished.

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom fiat, lurnished cove, reling, laundry, fireplace, garrage.
ummeiAve and LancasterAve three bedroom partment also iwo bedroorns semi fumished avall ble now call 445-1027
3 Bedroom Modem Apartment on Ackerman
 \(-F r e s\) Laundry-. Serious Students Prelerred. No
Pets. 254.0025 arge 3 bedroom. 2 Iull bath. Walking distanc U. off street parking. Laundry. Cal 476-2982.

Apartment 48r, 2tull bath f.place h.wood thoor jurner2000
\(446-1951\)
urnished 2-5Bedroon Houses' Apartments
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With utiblies inciuded, Firsplacet, Furnished, Herdwood Floors and Carpeting, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking, close to Campus. Call Gordon
\[
476-2982
\] \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
1.1/2 Bedrcom attic apartment on quiet street. Unuurnished. Ar conditioned wall to wall carpet new June 1st \($ 350.00\) per month plus utilities. One year foase. No Pots 243 -0754
2 Eedroom furnished apantment with all uilities incuuded \($ 240.00\) per person. One mile from 4469595日

502Clerention large clean 2Bedroom Ilat hartwood Hfoors porch off-street parking lyr lease security 640 inclutles heat 445-892
2.3 Bdrm Apts and 4 Bdinn fouse lor rent on Mayland Ave. Potarrienos Properies 263-2724 otficess at 175.5 Marshanl SL

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 E.Adams
509 University
Curnishosted, Air Conditioned. Mactire, Lnundry, Parking, Mantenanca.
University Area Apts.
www.universityarea.com
.2.3.4 85 Berm Apatuments. Clean, Spacious, Superior Condition, somse roconlly renova
parking \(474-6791\)

SHERBROOKE APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave
2, AND 3
Bedroom Apartments.
Utifitias included. Fully furnished. Rents floors. Wall to wall carpet Flat Townhouses. Remodeled kithenens and batts Dishwashers Porches Laundry.
Parking 24 hour maintenance arking. 24 hosur mainten Lance. University Area Apts 479-5005

Ore Bodroom Apsrments Closa to Cemposaz utilities indurded. Oak noors. Fire place. foumished parking. very dean, laundry Cail Gordon 476-2982
Genesea Manor Apts 2113 East Genesse spacious intormation Elaine 463-1143

Studio, One and Two
Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease,

Heated
440-6200
437-7577

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504} Large 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distanc
s. U. off street parking. Laundry. Call 476 -2982. 2044 Ostrom Efficiency One and 2 Bedroom Secure Bidg Launcry Parking Very Clean
Avail June \(446-5186\)

Euclid and Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch
Beautiful Condition June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
445-0540

\section*{The Daily Orange}
to putting heaters in the dugouts Dimageio said.

This time, the threat of rain hangs over the games. The Or angewomen took shelter from Tuesday's downpour by taking cuts in the batting cages the team has set up on the second level of the Carrier Dome con course.

I hope we can get them in," head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said of the games. "We're facing some interesting weather this

A four-game trip against Boston College and Massachu setts last weekend helped give ing into a boost of confide

The Orange swept der from the swept a double header from the Eagles on Saturdayand played the well-estab two losses on Sunday. A big fifth inning
the 2-1 nod in the opener

BC. The Orangewomen scored both of their runs in the inning three of their four total hits. A Chrissy Inman RBI single and a Cheryl Julicher sacrifice fly accounted for the scoring. Freshman Jackie Herrman had the other two hits and scored on In mans base knock.
BC's lone run came via a Chris Vicari home run in the seventh inning. DiMaggio com posed herself after the gopher ball and struck out Julie Ulbrich to close the game.

Although the real Boston Marathon is not for another two weeks, the Orangewomen and Eagles engaged in a softball ver sion in the second game.
first by scoring three funs in line first by scoring three runs in the top of the 11 th inning t earn a 4-2 triumph.

Julicher scored the first SU run on a first-inning error, and the Eagles evened the score in he sixth. The game remained deadlocked until the 11th, when home the decisive runs Sweeping BCgave SU a major lift after losing a pair of games to the Eagles in Syracuse ast October.

To come back and sweep hem, that means a lot, assis tant coach Charmele Creen said "BC is a strong program. 'They've always been very competitive in the Big East. That says a lot for our program to go out and sweep a team that has a lot of respect rom all over

The next day in Amherst, he Orangewomen played to the evel of a UMass team that has made the College World Series n recent years.
women scored in each of the first two innings of game one, and freshman pitcher reer shutout for a \(2-0\) victory

\section*{April 5, 2000}
"They're a good ballclub." Firnbach said. I think we were game. They ended up getting a few huge hits in the beginning of the game. We lost \(2-0\), so it wasn't a huge deal. We just needed to score some runs to get back in that ballgame and we didn't do \(\qquad\) The Orangewomen fought back from a 4-1 deficit to tie the second game before UMass plated three sixth-inning runs to complete the sweep with a \(7-4\) win.

Bieman said she thought the Minutewomen, who had struggled entering the games, were beatable despite their reputation
"I thought we were right up there with them," the junior say. We did all right but we def initely could have done better."

\section*{GLATZEL}
continued from page 16 his punishing hits and nifty stickwork, Glatzel added another scary defender to the al-ready-potent back line of MarGhall A

The Orangeman limited opponents to a combined 14 goals the past three games. Of goaltending plays a large part goaltending plays a large part members of the defense credit Glatzel with filling the large hole that Josh Ruhle's graduation left.

Ruhle, an intimidating 6-foot-5, 230-pound monster, provided a physical presence and momentum-turning big hits. Gatzel is somewhat of an pounds, he manages to check opponents with Ruhle's viciousness
"John's a helluva player," American close defenseman. "He filled in the shoes where Josh left off. We were not worried about losing Josh, and we adjusted well.
Glatzel slid back into the close defense spot he occupied during his freshman season. The expectations followed him.

Face-Off Magazine named him a pre-season second-team All-American. Glatzel said the reason for his inclusion was because of his play in the United States Club Lacrosse Association, a league he participated in during his semester away from SU

Playing for the Baltimore Green Turtle, Glatzel faced scads of professional players in the weekly games.

He guarded Syracuse greats Casey Powell, Tom Marechek and Gary and Paul

Gait, among others. The chalenge of covering high-caliber players, Glatzel said, improved his concentration and confidence.

With time on and off the field, Glatzel edged closer to completing his mission.

I had to prove myself to my teammates and my coaches, he said. "I needed to mature through this whole process the last year. I needed fo be ready to come back.
"I couldn't run away from it. If I did, I always would have asked myself if there was a hole in my life having run away from something."

He still dislikes talking about the incident. The past is the past, he said. Glatzel is proud of what he does now.

He smiles when talking about the 3.1 grade-point aver age he pulled last semester.

He also smiles when talking about the possibility of bringing SU's seventh national championship home this season.

Talking about his shadowing of Virginia's Conor Gill earlier in the season, however, evokes a Grinch-sized grin.

The two are friends and grew up playing against each other in Maryland G Glatzel for Boys Latin and Gill lead-

St. Paul's.
Glatzel saw UVa's young gun smoke a goal into the SU net and assist on three other in UVa's \(12-10\) victory in las season's national championship.
thanted to be out there He knew he could make a dif ference.

This season, Glatzel did. The opportunity came revenge. The opportunity came in the With Glatzel ch and limiting him to a going Gil and limiting him to a goal and no assists, the Orangemen left 12 overtime victory. Syracuse has held the No. 1 ranking since. \({ }^{\text {I }}\) was looking forward to playing Conor ever summer," Glatzel said. "We summed, about it in Baltimore. It had a lot of importance to me.

It's evident Glatzel loves playing the game. He tore a thumb ligament during a victory against Yale and played the next three games with a cast.

Improvement each day, too, is a priority. While not the fastest player, Glatzel's work on positioning has allowed him to closely defend quicker attackmen

By the time Glatzel leaves SU, he said he wants to be among the nation's best. By the way his teammates and oppos ing coaches talk, he might already be there.
"He was the missing link last year," Mulligan said. "He's always that first guy to slide He's all over the groundballs And he's a great team player He's accepted his role and hrived in it.
"He's there to shut people down - and he's been awesome. \({ }^{-1}\)

Glatzel credits his backline mates for his success. St. George suffocates attackmen and Abrams continually stick zone. We want to function as a unit more than as an individual," head coach John Desko said. "And we're seeing that

The results are in the numbers: namely, six and zero, which are SU's wins and losses entering its game against No. 3 Loyola on Friday night at the Dome.

Glatzel thrives on highprofile games. He loves presone in the final seconds.

And the acceptance of his teammates has eased the transition back. Glatzel knows he is part of a cohesive defensive unit

That knowledge feeds his desire to perform - for h teammates and for himself. that doing what I did, all I wanted was to be back, wanted was to be back, many games as I could and wish I was on the field.
"It's good to be back."

classifieds]
Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

Onn and Uurnished Apartments. Cornar of Wathul and Harrison Avenues. Leases Commence June Last Month andes. Leases Commence June 2000 .
Graduates Prelorred Can No Pes Antlowed.
1,2, and 3 Bedroom

302 Marshal St \({ }_{626}^{604}\) Wainut Ave 917 Acuerman Ave \({ }^{145}\) Acormarman Ala Place
Available for 2000-2001
Fully Furnisted Laundry Farking. Fuli Time Maintenance and Management Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Fiefinisthed Hard Wood Floors Inited Kithens and bat
University Area Apts
1011 E. Adams St *30 479-5005 www.universityarea.com

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME} FOUR OR FVE BEDROOM FURNISHEEGGEATPOREHES 476-9933

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WERSLEEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTIONOF BEEDROOM BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM
Summer Rentals

\author{
Summer Bargsini 12000 mo per person with all
}
uthtios inchubed. 23+4 badroom spatments One block trom Campus. 446

\section*{Summer}

Summer Sublets Avilable. A variety of sites and locations. University Area Apts 479.5005 locations. University Area Apts 479-5005 Summer Sublet Three Bedroom Apartment Two Begroons leth 5300 month 853 Ackerman Call 442-6495 (Carol)

\section*{SERVICES}

Travel

\section*{EMPLOYMENT} Fant time jobs defrery divers, dishwashers apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshat St. MEDICAL OFFICE POSITIONS: MED-SCRIBE, INC. is an employment agency a a termporary semice providing officeradministrative personnel to semice providing oticetadministrative personnel to Rochester \(N T\) s hatht-care cormununity exclusively Rochesler NYs heaith-care cornmunity exclusively
"1 you possess medical terminology andor expand seek health-relater summen employment in the meqjobsemenseribe com (agency, no tees).

Assembly Service Tech. Grod Pay/Denelits \($ 300\) sigring Bonus. No experience required

HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMER! Prestigious coed camp in beauliful mass. seeks caring. motrated cotege students 8 grass who iova kids! GENEAAL Specialty counselons needed. Join a 1-800.762-2820.
Carnp Counselors: Jewish Community Center of Grealer Hochester- Camp Seneca Lake is seeking kids. Must be al least a coliege freshman and be availablis June 21 August 20 . Lifeguard cortitication a plus! Salary plus room and board. information/application.
Tt was the craziest and most valuable thing l've counselor, You too can make a dilference this summer in Virginia. Camp Easter Seal is tooking for men and women to work as camp counselors for men and women to work as camp counselors and activity leaders al a residenial camp lor and activity leaders al a residenial camp for childen and adults with disabilities. Hard work.
Great rewards. Great rewards. Visit our website al wwencampeasterseahwa.org or call (804) 633 -9855. Painters Wanted tor Summor. Work in University May. Call Gary 446-959日
TOP BOYS SPORTS CAMP IN MAINEI PLAY
SPORTS. HAVE FUN- MAKE SS CAMP SOBBOSSEE FPN-MAKE SS CAMP Posilions available in: AL TEAM A INDNSDU
AL SPORTS, ALL WATEA SPOPTS PLUS:
 Ars. Top Salaries. Excelient Facilities. FREE
ROOM, BOARD. LAUNDAY Traval Allowance. APPLCAIOON OR CALL FREE: (EO0)473-6104.

Carnp Possibons: Hiking, ropes course, nature, pool, and watersxi specialists sought bor overnight camp in the Finger Lakes. These serior positions arg for experienced applicants \(21+\). Salaries \($ 1800-2800\) plus room and board Irorn June 17 to August 20.
Contiact Aenee at \(716-461\).2000x263 for information/application.
Full yeart summer nannies needed. Work with promnent tamiaes in New tork and Ci. Excellent Incluces room and board. Medical benetiss. Travel apportunities. Agency 1-800-932-2736 Cemp Counselors Ton Oweringht Cames in countselors \(\quad 1-8\)
www.pinelorestcamp coon Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed for June 21July 26 and July 25 . August 20. AN or LPN. \($ 300\) positions at Jewish Connmuntit Center's overnight children's camp on Seneca Lake. Your chidren ate velcome! Contat Rern

\section*{Job Opportunities}

University Elartenctng Classes Stan Soon Siudent Discounts
popo-l.CAN.MIX www.universitybartending.com Space is Limited Cail For Intormation Pre-medical student wanted for fult-time position at busy medical otice, while wating to hear from peneral. Good Salary Fantastic Facility. Gereal Experienco. Internships Available. Contact Experience. Internships Available. Contact camp othice \(610-941-0128\) or wwwicampockamixoncom to schedule.

\section*{WANTED}

Help Wanted
BARN HELP NEEDED: Responsible individual with horse experience to cate bor small lampelte in days a
Mon-Fí
SFUNDRAISERS Open to student groups & organizations. Eara 55 per MC app. We supply al website. 1-800-932-0528ex:55
WORK FROM HOME UP 10 $25.00MI PTT

1500 weekly potemial mailing our circuiars. N Experience Required. Free intormation packet. Ca \(202-452-7679\).

FOR RENT

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

 ishwasher Diertinative dispossal fireplacte hardwoodFloors porches nearkushine QuietNeighborohood available June 1st 2000-2001 , Uhlom Marshall Street furnished lause five block from Marshall Street furnished laundry parking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utities D.N.D \(\quad\) uucker \(445-1229\)

Luxurious: zatory aphoh, Gourmel kit/dn. ELEGAOM loungent arga, Skyigh Shi ceeling
 NO FETS! Leases. Fine \({ }^{2}+\) annet.com
Call hor appt 469080

\section*{} apattment with porkh. Ming Room with bedroons. and Bath. OHf street garage parking. Laundry tacily in builaing-

Five bedroom House
 Rouse with front and rear porches. Living garaent
CALL \(430-5188\) after y:00 pm

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
813 Consiock \(5 / 6\) Eections Across From Worners Gym.
\($ 2400+682.330\)
Stap clean 3 bedroam apartments Fireplace.
 low price 436-4016.
Ackerman Ave, 4br 2/Eaih apt Fumished.
carpeted, walk to campus. Wett maintained 5/00-5/01 lease 446-7202
Univeruity and Constock Very close to Campus
Effciencies and Two Bedrooms Searre bldg furmished laundry parking 5375 S.00 105700.00

4 Bdrm House \($ 300 / \mathrm{mm}\) and 3 bdrm llats \($ 250 / \mathrm{rm}\) Avail Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Realty Group 637.5195
Apartmenta cione to campurs clazn 23-3.5 bedrooms torne with firtethace levurtry perking cemifurnished reationstop price 467-5/51. The "Prik Palace" 5 Br houso acjacent to Rose Garden 721 Ostrom Ave. Bargain Rate 446-3693 Univarsity Ave. Threa Bedroom Flat Close Walk to Campus furnished taundry parking leaso 5875.00 1o Campus Aumished taundry parking plus utidies 0 O. Drucker \(445-1229\)

University nicely furnished quiet 1.2 .3 bedrooms parking unilities incuuded Close Walk SU hospitas also 5 bedroom nicely turnished housa reterences 478.2642

\section*{Apartments}

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS EUCLID AVE

ERSONS. FREEHEAT GREAT OCATION 476-9933
Looking lor a place to live? wwwhousinglot net. Your move oft campus!
Free roommate subiet listings

University 283 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flats Inexpersive and mint conditien. WasherDrye
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{8}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
TOAD HALL \\
1/2 block from campus. \\
Modern 2 bedroom apartments. \\
Wall to wall carpet. \\
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. \\
Laundry. Low utilities. \\
Competitive rents. 302 Marshall SL. (across from Havert). Univeraity Area Apta 479-5005
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{c}
THREE BEDROOM \\
APARTMENT, \\
TWO FLLL BATHS, \\
EUCLID AVE. FREE HEAT \\
GPEATLOCANON \\
476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Large clean 3Bedroom Hats Westcolt. Broad SI. area. Hartwood Hoors, porches. off-street parking lys lease secunty \($ 660+446\) - \(\mathrm{B9} 2 \mathrm{~g}\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LANCASTER AVENUE \\
183 Bedroom Apartments Outranding Condtion Fully Furnished Call Anne Cervini 9 424-0220 X428
\end{tabular} \\
\hline 5 Eedroom Apt
Ackerman Ave
Fu-t.00
Fulty Fumished
Porches, Lsundry
Parijing. Dishwasher
Ownor Mandger
682.221B \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

2 Eedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euchid Tenace Large Aooms Hardwood Floors Aval Jane Tenace Large Roomis Hartwood Fioors Avail June
or Aug 446.5185
4Bedroorns humished flat with all utilites inclupled!
One bloct Irmm campus near Law Sctool +ESF. 2 One block intm campus near Law Setrool +ESE 2 Mull balhrooms, carpat, laundry, parking.
Studio and Effieiency Apartments, furnished. uibities included, parking, taundry, nice siz
Ackerman Ave, nice 3 bedroom flar, furnished love. retrig, laundry, tireplace, garage

SumnerAve and LancasterAve three badrooms partment also two bedtooms semi furnished ava ble now call \(445-1027\)

3 Bedroom Moxlern Apartment on Ackerman Avenue. \($ 220.00\) per person plus utitities Availabla June ist 2000 . Some off Street Parking Free Laundry'. Serious Students Preterred. No Pets. 254-002s arge 3 bedroom. 2 lull bath. Walking distance Apartment 48r. 2lull bath f.place h.wood llo room droom porch lree laundry avalable 446 -1951
Furnished 2.5Bedroom Houses/ Apartiments
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Two Bedroom Apartments \\
 Carpeting, Pentry, Porch, Leundry, Parking, ctose to Cmpus, Cell Gorson
476-2982
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
1.1/2 Bedroorn attic apartment on quiet street.

Unfurrished. Air concritioned waill io wall carpet new

2 Bedroom turnished aparment with alt utithies campus, Laundry Parking. May + August teases. campus.
502Clerendon latge chean 2Bedrocm lat havdwood loors porch oil-street parking tyr lease security floors porch oir-street park
640 includes heat \(44 \mathrm{E}-\mathrm{B992}\)
2. 3 Edrm Apts and 4 Bdma House for rent on offices a! 175.5 Marshall SL
PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 E.Adams
Carpoted, Air Conditioned.
urnished, Secure, Lsundry, Parking.
University Area Apts.
wwwuniversityarea.com
1.2,3,4 25 Bdran Apartments, Housest Stugios Clean. Spacious, Superior Condicon, some Walking distance, laundry parking 474-679

SHERBROOKE
APARTMENTS
604 Walnut Ave
2, AND 3
Bedroom Apartments.
Utilities inctuded. Fully fumished Rents start at \($ 300\). Feinished hardwood Townouses. Remodeled kitchens and baths Distiwashers. Porches. Laundry.
Parking. 24hour maintenance. www. universityarea.com
University Area Apts 479-5005

One Bedroom Apartments Close to Campus, uditites inculdod, Cak floors tire place, furished, parking, very dean, taundry Call Gorton \(476-2382\). Gonesee Manor Apts 2113 East Geneses spacious wo bedroom 1.5 balths abestdant closet space to intormation Elaine 463-1143

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200 437-7577
O.P.R.

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Large a bedioom. 2 full bain. Walking distance Large it bedioom. 2 full bath. Walking distan 204 Ostrom Efficiency One and 2Sedroom Secute Bisg Laundry Panking
Avail June 446.5 B6
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \[
\begin{gathered} \text { Euclid and } \\ \text { Ackerman Ave } \\ \text { 2and } 3 \mathrm{BR} \end{gathered}
\] \\
\hline  \\
\hline Ben Tupper 637-0978 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline  \\
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { HILL REALTY } \\
& \text { 422-0709 }
\end{aligned}
\] \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{ONE,TWO, THREE} AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail Jme, Juhy + Aug
445-0540

\section*{SOFTBALL}
continued from page 16
DiMaggio and pitching partner Missy Bieman will contend with hard-hitting Colgate first basernan Nelissa Rawson, who batted 478 in four games at the Red Raider Invitational last weekend The reshman has anready tied a single-season ecord tor doubles With 12 .
However, the Orangewomen are a different team than they vere in the fall. With 29 games to improve, Syracuse may look unmecognizable to the Red Raiders.

Now that we have a lot more experience under our belt, we know what were capable of doing. Bieman said. the take care of business and do what we need to do, we'll be fine."

Syracuse and Colgate endured bitter cold temperatures in their October meetings, resorting to putting heaters in the dugouts, This time, hangs over the games. The rain hangs over the games. The OrTuesday's downpour by from cuts in the batting by taking team has set upong cages the level of the Carrier Domecond course. l hope we can get them in," said of the games. "We're facing some interesting weather this week."

A four-game trip against Boston College and MassachuSetts last weekend helped give Syracuse a boost of confidence going into this week's play.

The Orange swept a doubleheader from the Eagles on Saturday and played the well-estabished Minutewomen tough in two losses on Sunday.
A A big fifth inning gave SU

BC. The Orangewomen scored both of their runs in the inning off three of their four total hits. A Chrissy Inman RBI single and a Cheryl Julicher sacrifice fly accounted for the scoring. Freshman Jackie Herrman had the other two hits and scored on Inman's base knock.

BCs lone run came via a Chris Vicari home run in the seventh inning. DiMaggio composed herself after the gopher to close struck out Julie Ulbrich o close the game.

Although the real Boston Marathon is not for another two weeks, the Orangewomen and sion in the second game.

Syracuse crossed the finish line first by scoring three runs in the top of the 11 th inning to earn a 4-2 triumph.

Julicher scored the first SU the Eagles evened the score in the sixth. The game remained deadlocked until the I1th, when home the decisive runs.

Sweeping BC gave SU a major lift after losing a pair of games to the Eagles in Syracuse last October.
"To come back and sweep them, that means a lot," assistant coach Charmelle Green said. "BC is a strong program. They've always been very competitive in the Big East. That says a lot for our program to go out and sweep a team that has a lot of respect mall over.
The next day in Amherst the Orangewomen played to the evel of a Mass team that has made the College World Series n recent years

The Minutewomen scored in each of the first two innings of Game one, and freshman pitcher reer shutout for a 2-0 victory.
"They're a good ballelub, Firnbach said. "I think we were a little intimidated in the first game.
few They ended up geting the huge hits in the beginning of n't game. We lost 2-0, so it was score some runs just needed to score some runs to get back in that ballgame and we didn't do it."

The Orangewomen fought back from a 4-1 deficit to tie the second game before UMass plated three sixth-inning runs to complete the sweep with a \(7-4\) win.

Bieman said she though the Minutewomen, who had struggled entering the games were beatable despite their rep utation utation.

I thought we were right up there with them," the junior hurler said. "I don't know what to initely could have done better.?

\section*{GLATZEL}
continued from page 16 his punishing hits and nifty stickwork, Glatzel added another scary defender to the alshall Abrams and Billy St George.

The Orangemen limited opponents to a combined 14 goals the past three games. Of course, Rob Mulligan's hot goaltending plays a large part in the small number, but all members of the defense credit hole that Josh Ruhle's graduation left.

Ruhle, an intimidating 6-foot-5, 230-pound monster, pro vided a physical presence and momentum-turning big hits. Glatzel is somewhat of an anamoly - at 6-foot, 185 pounds, he manages to check opponents with Ruhle's viciousness

John's a helluva player," said Marshall Abrams, an AllAmerican close defenseman. "He filled in the shoes where Josh left off. We were not wor ried about losing Josh, and we adjusted well."

It didn't take much. Glatzel slid back into the close defense spot he occupied dur ing his freshman season. The expectations followed him.

Face-Off Magazine named him a pre-season second-team All-American. Glatzel said the reason for his inclugion was because of his play in the United States Club Lacrosse Asso ciation, a league he participated in during his semester away

Playing for the Baltimore Green Turtle, Glatzel faced scads of professional players in weekly games.
He Guarded Syracuse greats Casey Powell, Tom Marechek and Gary and Paul

Gait, among others. The challenge of covering high-caliber players, Glatzel said, improved his concentration and confidence. With time on and off the field, Glatzel edged closer to completing his mission.
"I had to prove myself to my teammates and my coaches," he said. "I needed to maes, he said. I needed to mature through this whole process the last year. I needed to be ready to come back, to face up to what happened.
it. If couldn't run away from it. If I did, I always would have asked myself if there was a hole in my life having run aw ay from something."
He still dislikes talking about the incident. The past is the past, he said. Glatzel is proud of what he does now.

Hesmiles when talking about the \(\mathbf{3 . 1}\) grade-point average he pulled last semester.

He also smiles when talking about the possibility of bringing SU's seventh national championship home this season.

Talking about his shadowing of Virginia's Conor Gill earlier in the season, however, evokes a Grinch-sized grin.

The two are friends and grew up playing against each other in Maryland -Giatzel for Boys' Latin and Gill leading St. Paul's
Glatzel saw UVa's young gun smoke a goal into the SU in UVa's \(12-10\) victory in last in UVa's \(12-10\) victory in last season onship.

He wanted to be out there. He knew he could make a difHe kne

This season, Glatzel did.
SU yearned for revenge. The opportunity came in the Orange's first game.

With Glatzel checking Gill and limiting him to a goal and no assists, the Orangemen left Klockner Stadium with a 13 12 overtime victory. Syracuse has held the No. I ranking since.
lay was looking forward to uming Conor ever since the armmer, Glatzel said. We had a lot of importance to me. It's evident Glatzel loves playing the game. He tore a humb ligament during a vicory against Yale and played the next three games with a the \(n\) cast.

Improvement each day, too, is a priority. While not the astest player, Glatzel's work on positioning has allowed him to closely defend quicker at-

By the time Glatzel leaves SU, he said ine wants to be among the nation's best. By the way his teammates and oppos way his coaches talk, he might already be there
"He was the missing link ast year," Mulligan said. "He's always that first guy to slide. He's all over the groundballs. And he's a great team player. He's accepted his role and thrived in it.
"He's there to shut people down - and he's been aweGlatzel credits his backline ates for his success. St. George suffocates attackmen and Abrams continually stick checks them in the defensive zone.
"We want to function as a unit more than as an individual," head coach John Desko said. "And we're seeing that

The results are in the numbers: namely, six and zero which are SU's wins and losses entering its game against No 3 Loyola on Friday night at the Dome.

Glatzel thrives on highprofile games. He loves pressure. He wants to be onc-on one in the final seconds.

And the acceptance of his teammates has eased the transition back. Glatzel knows he is part

That knowledge feeds his desire to perform - for his teammates and for himself. "My teammates realized that doing what I did, all i wanted was to be back," Glatzel said. "I'd watch as many games as I could and wish I was on the field.
"It's good to be back."

[classifieds]
Nancy Pcek, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Houses & Lovely, Spacious Five Bedroom House \\
\hline Large \(3: 4\) bedreoms nouse on Euclid. Maryland. Fireplace off-streel parking, washer-dryer, waik to campus, reasonable rate, avadable a/1/00 Call 449-4554. 637-5 195 & ceramic tite, fireplace, hardwood ficors fumished, garage, tree laundry good loention \($ 325\) Thadroom: aliso smaller Four Bedroom House 3255 Bedroom 446-7611 \\
\hline RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR O.7 FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. TWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933 & \\
\hline RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO FIREPLACES. FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES 476-9933 & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709 \\ PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES. \\ WWW.UNIVEASTTYHILL.COM \\ Summer Rentals}

\section*{Summer Eargain! \(5200 /\) mo per person with all wiities inctuded. \(23+4\) bedroom apartments whities included. \(2,3,4\) bedroom apartoments available. Fient whote apartment or by the room Ore block from Campus. 446-9598}

\section*{Summer}

Summer Subiets Available. A variety of sizes and locations. University Area Apts \(479-5005\) Summer Sublat Ihree Bedroom Apartment Iwo Calroms 442-6495 (Carol) Call 442-6495 (Carol)

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

Eurorail Pasis Experta mww.raindeals
 QE FLEXIBLE,SAVE SSS Europi S160 (ów taxes) CHEAP FARES WOALOWIDE! Mexied caribbean S199 (rth + taxes) Call \(800-326-2009\) www 4 cheapair.con

\section*{NOTES}

STXIUSILA
Coaches Poll
(Men's Lacrosse) 1. Syracuse (10) 6 2. Virginia
4. Princeton

Duke
6. Georgetown
7. Maryland 8. Johns Hopkins Cornell 10. North Carolina 11. Navy
12. Hofstr 12. Hofstra 14. Notre Dame 15. Brown
16. UMBC
18. Hobar
19. Penn St

\section*{IWLCA Poll}
(Women's Lacrosse)
1. Maryland (9)
3. Dunce
4. James Madison
5. North Carolina
6. Georgetown
7. Delaware
8. Virginia
9. Dartmouth
10. Loyola
12. Vanderbilt
12. Vanderbilt
14. Yale
15. Syracus
16. Penn St.
17. Cornell
18. Temple
19. Old Dominion 20. William & Mary 1 -

\section*{So long, Siena}

Stena head basketball coach Paul Hewitt will soon leave New York and travel down south to replace leg. endary Bobby Cremins at Georgia Tech, ESPN com's Andy Katz reported. Yellow Jackets athletic director Dave Braine met with Hewitt on Tuesday and could announce the hiring as soon as Thursday.

Braine was "blown away" and compared Hewitt to Seton Hall's young Duke disciple young Duke disciple mer Southern Cal head mer Southern Cal head under whom Hewitt worked.

\section*{Tuned out}

While Florida lost 89-76 to Michigan State in Monday night's NCA Championship game, CBS took a loss of its own. The pinnacle of March Madness drew a mere 14.1 for its national television rating, marking the lowest-rated championship 18 percent from last year's previous low of 172 . previous low of 17.2. The poor rating comes ing to a \($ 6\) billion, 11 -year ing to a \($ 6\) billion, 11-year NCAA Toumament.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who is Syracuse football's all-time leading rusher?
yesterday's trivia: Q. What is the Syracuse record for most receptions in one football game?
A. Former Washington Redskin Art Monk caught 14 passes against Navy in 1977.

[sports]
Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange April 5, \(20001 \mathbf{1 0}\) Glatzel solidifies defense

Close defender John Glatzel checks Towson's top player, Todd Paradise, who remained scoreless on the after noon. Glatzel's retum has added to the strength of SU's defensive unit this season. He teams with Billy St George and Marshall Abrahms to provide an imposing cose unit

\section*{BY JEFF PASSAN}

\section*{Asst. Sports Editor}

John Glatzel admits last spring was not the most ad venturous or exciting.

After all, he ditched his customary Syracuse lacrosse shorts and jersey for a threepiece suit. While his defensemen buddies spent their afternoons swinging their long poles and beating up opposing attackmen, he pounded a cal culator and knocked around integers in his head.

Glatzel, suspended from the Orangemen last year after breaking into Manley Field House, spent the spring semester back at home in Ellimester back a cott City, Md.

He took a business intern Ship at Progressive Mortgage Services and said he focused sonally and on the lacrosse field.
Glatzel prioritized. He worked out. He cut back on his drinking. He lost weight and gained muscle definition. John Glatzel had a mis sion: He wanted to convince his naysayers - and himsel black that he could rectify the black mark on his ledger.
"I needed to be ready to come back," Glatzel said. "I had something to prove. An still have that mentality."
Looks like the work is pay ing off. Helping spur SU to a 6-0 start and No. 1 ranking with See GLATZEL page 15

\section*{SU takes on in-state rival Colgate}

BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

The traveling road show known as Syracuse softball stays close to home tonight, as the Or30 th and 31st consecutive games away from home

In its final road contests be fore opening up the Softball Stadium at Skytop on Thursday against Binghamton, Syracuse (13-16) has the luxury of ventur ing about 40 miles to Hamilton This is a welcome change from trips to Louisiana, Florida, Alabama and Illinois.

The two squads are not new to each other, though. The Or angew memen and ked Raider played Colgate (12-14
Colgate (12-14) won the first meeting at its tournament on doubleheader in Syracuse on Oct. 6.

We're ready to go out there and play them again," freshman pitcher Tara DiMaggio said. "And hopefully we'll take two from them instead of just one." The Red Raiders - like SU propram has faced this season - have some lofty credentials. Last season, Colgate made the NCAA Tournament after winning the Patriot League Championship.

See SOFTBALL page 15

Hurfer Missy Exeman is one of two Syracuste starting plachers Despite the small rotation, both pitchers have been effoctive this soason, holping the firstyear Orangowomon to a 13-16 start SU faces Colgnto at 4 p.m. today.

\section*{Morant}

\section*{highlights new class}

BY ERIC NATHAN
Staff Writer
Mix one part tight end and two parts wide receiver and get Syracuse parts Wide receiver and get Syr

\(\rightarrow\)The 6-foot-5, 227-pound hy rid has the framework of a tight end. But his 4.4 speed in the 40 -yard dash and abil prototypical wideout in prototypical wideout the Randy Moss mold. While playing at Par foothall sippany Hills (N.J.) High mone littlechild, he was a man among little children. Morant was a Pated him the best receiver in the East rated him the best receiver in the East hird in the nation His senior year statistics of 28 catches for 784 yards with 10 touchdowns seem to indicate that he is a deep threat, but the numbers deceive, go.
o. Many the Many of his TDs didn't come via lo-yand pass play into a Go-yard seore

See MORANT page 12

]
\(55 / 41\) Cloudy and windy with 60\% chance of showers Friday Cloudy 56/39 Rain 54/33 briefs............. \(27 \quad\) classifieds 18

11 editorial.
sports....

The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

[

\section*{\({ }^{A l / s} \mathrm{vip}\) \\ Lack of precaution} can lead to sex-related injuries. See Lifestyle. First Pitch SU softball team plays first official home game this afternoon. See Sports.

\section*{S Student Government}

\section*{SGA meeting ends in tension}

\section*{Members criticize petitions against bill}

We didn't take an oath to Jamal, or Chris Greiner or Jonathan Taylor. Progress is a popular word but progress at the expense of the students is completely wrong. \({ }^{2}\)

\section*{JOE SAUER}

SGA Assemblyman

By tuffany lankes
Asst. News Editor
A closed Student Government Association meeting Wednesday aimed to ease division within the organization. But three Assemblymembers exited the SGA office that afternoon saying the meeting only brought more attacks.

President Jamal James said he hosted the meeting to discuss the lack of communication in he Assembly. James asked the press to leave the meeting after delivering a few opening re"Let Let me start off by saying that this meeting isn't going to be a bitch sessión," said James, a junior musical theater major. "The meeting is to and get us at a place we can really accomplish a lot." Conflict arose in the Assembly with the pro-

\section*{- Special Report}

Lobbyists fight for university interests

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
In the dead of winter, the opening day for Congress on Capitol Hill seems a world away from the snowy Syracuse Uniersity Hill.

But these two worlds do occasionally collide - resulting in a partnership between the federal government and instituhose in the busiearning, accordiag versity interests.

As universities expand out of the classroom, they are faced with the challenge of vying for a spot on legislators' priority lists.
"In the last 10 years there has been an increase in a more professionalized support in ing," said former SU lobbyist Thomas Walsh, from his ofing. "For a long time, support was given to higher education who call that into question.
Universities and colleges are becoming more research oriented, prompting their lobbyists to move in stride with political activism, Walsh added.
"Education has had to step up its public role and provide information as to why the long and productive partnership continue, \({ }^{\circ}\) said Walsh, who has since left continue, said Walsh, who has since left vice president of development and public affairs for SU .

Each year, the university submits dozens of grant proposals to federal agencies, asking for an increase in funding for campus research facilities, Walsh said. Only a fraction of research funding bying, he added. Among the great-

See LOBBYING page 5

\section*{ACLU director argues profiling}

\section*{BY JUSTIN SILVERMAN News Editor}

LIVERPOOL - By mocking frivolous civil liberty disputes, Laurel Saiz of New York's American Civil Liberties Union emphasized a re-- racial profiling.

Before intro union's national executive director, Ira Glasser, at an awards assembly Wednesday night, Saiz read two scenarios of state residents claiming civil rights violations:

A man is reported barking like a dog in public and later claims a violation of Constitutional rights when he is denied the purchase of a handgun. A woman later said handgun. A woman later said her rights were violated when an employer prevented her from lactating during a routine strip club performance. "I had no idea of the diversity in this job," joked Saiz, the union's New York executive director. "It's true." But more importantly, Saiz said, are the recent cases involving a black Syracuse University student who was, for little reason who was, for liting ticket by police and had difficulty graduating because of it. She noted another black Syracuse man who was questioned for 30 min utes by an officer after being stopped for having an air freshner hanging from and obscuring his rear-view mir ror.

But the culprit is not the police officer, it is racial profiling, Glasser explained later. there is a profile, a belief that blacks are carrying drugs." he said, "There isn't any support to them carrying drugs, but it their skin."

Ira Glasser, exacurtive director of the AmeET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange oxplones the Lssue of ractal profiling and prejudging people based on spoke at the Contral Mew York Chupter of the New York Cifil Glasties Union Annual Dinner.

Glasser, national executive director since 1978. lashed out at racial profiling duringhis speech to about 200 union members in curs whe Manor. Pinple-out a certain race as being more criminally active - a proce-

See ACLU page 6

\section*{E Police Reports:}

Crime hits student twice overnight

\section*{Staff Reports}

Residents of a house on the 200 block of Walnut Place reported two incidents to police within a 12 hour period, according to police re ports.

On Tuesday an unidentified suspect broke into the Wainut Place house and a day later a trash can was thrown thro

One of the residents, a Syracuse University sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences, said he returned from class Tuesday at about 4 p.m. to find a stranger standing in his kitchen.
"There was a homeless man going through cans we were collecting to recycle," said the sophomore. "The back door was locked when I had left around \(2: 30\) p.m. front door and that was locked front door, and that was locked too."

The suspect informed the sophomore that a fellow resident said he could clean up the house in

II talked to him for a minute e him some cans and got him to leave," he added

The sophomore said he went upstairs to his room after the suspect left, but came down later to find items missing from the house.

Two large speakers and one microwave were missing, the sophomore said. The microwave had a broken handle and a cracked window, the report said.

The doors showed no forced entry, the report added.
ple going through our trash, people foing chrough our trash, the lucky and got in the house somehow."

An unidentified suspect smashed a window on the same
See COPS page 9

\section*{1 Multicultural Affairs}

\section*{Forum explores stereotypes \\ BY KATE STEVENSON \\ tossing out words and defining}

Asst. News Editor

A Wednesday night forum meant to explore racist, sexist and homophobic slang began with a vocabulary lesson.
"Let's start off with "nigger," said Shay Taylor, leader of the forum.

The room of more than 50 people, sitting in a semi-circle them for those who did not know the meanings.
\({ }^{4}\) The whole point of this is to get people familiar with the words," Taylor said. After the au dience was educated, the open discussion of the causes and efShay was flanked by.
Shay was flanked by two tables where members of several

\title{
[briefs]
}

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

\section*{Population surge \\ for centenarians} Call them the elderboomers. Centenarians and older -are the and oider - are the fastest growing sement of the U.S. population. of the U.S. population.
Right on their heels are the 85 plusers.

Now living for a century or longer isn't sciThe ranks of 100 -som things has aimost tripled over the past 25 years. in 1985 , there were about 25,000 centenarians in the United States. New Census Bureau figures show that there are now 72,000 individuals 100 or older. By the year 2050, some demographers project there will be more than 4 million.
With those numbers, it's With those numbers, it' no surprise that Hallmark Cards last year added a selection of centenarian birthday cards.

\section*{NYC pharmacies run} low on painkillers

About 75 percent of pharmacies in New York City's minority neighborhoods do not stock adehoods do not stock adequate amounts of pre Scription pain medicaMount Sinai Schs at Mount Sinai School or Medicine, near Hariem, have found.
Consequently, seri-

Consequently, seriously ill people in minority neighborhoods ofter encounter dificulty in have been prescribed by their doctors, the researchers said. The study. published in the current issue of the New England Joumal of Medicine, found that many black and Hispanic patients throughout the city experienced the problem.

\section*{Scientists discover} tumors in sharks SAN FRANGISCO Despite the popular notion that sharks don't get cancer. a team of scientists has found that the oceans' predators do indeed develop tumors, a fact that may bode poorly for patients taking shark-based drugs.

The shark debate is one of the most highly contested in medicine, Wednesday told the American Association American Association for Cancer Research that patients should think patients should shark derivatives to treat their disease. On the other hand, practitioners of alternative medicine say shark cartilage stops the process of angiogenesis, the ability of tumors to establish a blood supply.

\title{
Gonzalez to arrive in U.S.
}

WASHINGTON, D.C. Elian Gonzalez's father is due to arrive in Washington Thursday with his wife and infant son, launching the bitter interthe 6-year-old Cuban shipwrect the 6-year-old Cuban shipwreck tion.

Th.
The father's decision to travel, announced last night by Miguel Gonzalez agreed to come to the United States unaccompanied by the large entourage of Cuban children, professionals and government officials he and

Cuban President Fidel Castro had originally insisted upon. The Immigration and Naturalization Service has said would imme thather arrives, it process of transferring gustody of the boy to him from his Mia mirelotives, who have defied INS orders to relinquish him Talks between U.S. officials and the rela tives broke off late Tuesday and are due to resume this morning

Lawyer Gregory B. Craig night that Juan Miguel Gonzalez, his wife and their infant son would arrive at Duiles International Airport at 7 a.m., accompanied by Fernando Remirez, ests Section in Washington.
The three are initially to stay at Remirez's Bethesda stay

Craig had traveled to Havana Tuesday in hopes of conVincing his client and the ther should come to Washington sooner, rather than later, to claim custody of his son.
campus calendar

\section*{TODAY}

UU Cinemas presents "The Straight Story" at 8 p.m. in Watson Theater. Admission is \($ 3\).

The CNY chapter of the Fulbright Association invites Fulbrighters to attend a performance at 6:30 p.m. in the Westcott Community Can culture. For more information, call 696-2443.
- Contributing authors Hart Seely and Frank Camusso discuss their new book "Mirth of a Nation" Music, 9777 Carousel Center Drive.

ZSU's Women in the Music Industry presents music industry expert Bree Freeman from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Newhouse, Room Al.

E University Union sponsors Greek Freak 2000 at 8 p.m. at the Landmark Theater, 326 S . Salina St. Featured artists include Nas, Foxy Brown and DJ Kool. Doors open at 7 p.m. Admission is \($ 20\) for public and are on sale at the Schine publicand are on sale at the Schine tudent Center box OMce and the Landmark Theater Box Office Transportation to and from the lege Place.
- Harvey Pinyoun, of Catholic Charities' Refugee Resettlement Program facilitates a discussion on Room of Hendricks Chapel.
- SU women's softball team faces Binghamton at 3 p.m.at the Skytop Softhall Stadium.
al-Anon meets at noon in room 233 of the Schine Student Center.

\section*{Corrections:}

Two photographs accompanying the Student Govemment Association article in Wednesday's edition of The Daily Orange were in correctly identified. SGA Assembly man Joe Sauer appears in the bottom photograph while Assemblyman Adam Duffy is pictured in the middle photograph.

Also in Wednesday's D.O., it was incorrectly stated that Greek SU's Panhellenic Council The SU's Panhellenic Council. The event is being co-sponsored by the the National Panhellenic Council.

The D.O. regrets the errors.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news de sions are also accepted via e-mail ai ISilverOne@aol.com.
[d.̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's academic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. hy The Daity Orange Corp. The D.O. is distrituted un campus with the firs five cipies complementa additional cupy custs \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798 Business 443-2314 \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { News } & 443-2127 \\ \text { ifestyle } & 443-2128\end{array}\) Spirts 443-2208
Phorography \(443-9795\)
Art \(443-5938\)
E-mail edirurialedailyorange.coun

\title{
POWERS that be
}

Syracuse University lobbyists appeal to federal and local interests.

\section*{BY MAGIN MCKENNA \\ Asst. Lifestyle Editor}

It is a move that keeps Jim Boeheim on his toes.
An athlete agent solicits a player behind closed doors to market his athletic ability. The player, although not yet eligible to enter the professional a small fortune, a potential NBA contract and prestige.

But the athlete risks losing scholarships, awards and even his team's ability to compete in the NCAA tournament, to an agent who may not have his best interests at heart.
"So many bad things can happen," said Boeheim, coach of the Syracuse player gets a ride or accepts a meal player gets a ride or accepts a meal gibility." When an athlete violates NCAA When an athlete violates NCAA the only penalties suffered fall on the athlete and the university, leaving the agent unscathed.

In a defensive move against illegal ent activities, \(S U\) is asking the New agent activities, SU is asking the Now York state legislature to regulate the practice through a bill that would make it a misdemeanor for an agent to solicit an athlete prior to the end of

No laws regulating athlete.
ivities are currently on the books in activities are currently on the books in New York state. The bill would also New York state. The bill would also make it mandatory for all sports make it mandatory for ailsports the state.
head a very anxious that they go ahead and pass the bill in New York state, said Ronald Cavanagh, vice president of undergraduate studies and chairman of the SU NCAA Committee Career Counseling Panel. "Around the country, agents have been circumventing NCAA regulations."

New York state Sen. John DeFrancisco (R-Syracuse) and Assemblymember Michael Bragman (D-Syracuse) are introducing the bill. The bill was introduced in the ate last session but was not passed because legislators deemed it too harsh.
It originally classified the offense not

Syracuse University is not just a center for higher education. University iobbyists frequently visit Washington, D.c. and the state house in Abany to influence Jegislators and push for interesta important to SU.
as a misdemeanor, but as a felony. Cavanagh said he is "confident" that the legislature will pass the bill this time around.
"We would be naive to say that agents have not contacted students prior to their eligibility," SU Athletic Compliance Director Robert Mathner said. "When agents fail to register wions whe state, they face no repercussions when something goes wrong." letics Department organizes informaletics Department organizes informato discuss athletic compliance rules, Mathner said.

In 1992, the SU basketball wrestling and lacrosse teams faced NCAA penalties when it was discovered that the teams had violated regulations in regards to financial aid limitations and gifts.

As a result of the NCAA investigation, the basketball team was placed on a two-year probation and was prohibited from participating in that year's NCAA tournament.

According to NCAA standards, a student-athlete can lose eligibility to participate in an intercollegiate sport agreement with an agent for the pur poses of marketing their athletic abili ty. "The NCAA is very supportive of uniform state laws referring to agents NCAA Spokeswoman Jane Jankowski said. "We encourage agent activities to have a uniform standard.

NCAA rules, however, do permit student athletes to be represented by a financial adviser who only acts as a money manager, Jankowski said. Students who violate NCAA agent rules automatically lose all financial aid granted by the university, according to the NCAA rules.
tract before aligibility is to sign a contract before eligibility is up, the school can be fined," said Elizabeth Rougeux, championshof title reuld be the championship title could be taken away. It's consumer protection for the Altho
Although there have been no reported incidents of agent violations at motivated to ask DeFrancisco and Bragman to initiate the bill last session

See AGENTpage 4

\section*{Students, SU lobbyists vie for more financial aid}

By CAROLINE CHEN Stafl Writer

Sophomore Amber Monin checked off the sources of her college tuition funds with a sigh: a Tuition Assistance Program grant, Syracuse University merit loans, a Pell grant and work study.

Exhausted by the 18 -credit semester, money was the last thing she said she wanted to worry about.

Monin, a bioengineering major, works at the campus Institute for Sensory Research to pull in an additional $1,200 each year.
"Sometimes it's hard because after a day of classes, I just want to go home," she said. "But I can't just call in because I need the money."

Students, along with independent organizations and university officials, are actively involved in pressuring govhigher education

Working to ease the financial burden of a cotlege education, six SU students traveled March 6 with hundreds of others from 20 New York state campuses to the doorsteps of Albany legislators to lob y for financial aid increases.

During the Albany visit, Cindy Davis, a senior geography and policy as a student to three legislators
"A lot of kids who really care about their education are the ones who are struggling the most," she said.
The visits, organized by the Syracuse New York Public Interest Research Group, gave Assemblymembers a human perspective, Davis added. Palmer hichers are human, said Dave Palmer, higher education campaign coordinator for NYPry single issue.*

NYPIRG advocates increasing the maximum award of the Tuition Assis tance Program - a need-based grant for in-state students - from \($ 4,125\) to $5,000.
Students attending state or city university campuses can receive financial aid covering up to 90 percent of tuition from TAP grants. NYPIRG supports eliminating this cap and increasing Bundy Aid ferred.SU's allotment has declined from \($ 6.5\) million five years ago to \($ 2.3 \mathrm{mil}\) \($ 6.5\) million five years ago to \($ 2.3\) mil lion this year, said John Hogan, director of budget and planning.

I think we ve been very successful, Palmer said of NYPIRG's lobbying ef forts. Whe climate for higher education is very bad, so I think what we've ended up with is pretty good."

In 1995, 8,000 students gathered in Albany to protest New York state Gov George E. Pataki's proposal to impleand CUNY schools, Palmer said.

When the bill was passed, the tuition hike had been reduced to \($ 750\), he added.

Politicians continue to dismiss higher education issues, however, because most students do not vote, Palmer said. Only 31 percent of 18 to 24 -year-old, eligible New York state voters participated in the 1996 presidential election, he said.

As a result, "higher education is not really on (Pataki's) radar screen," Palmer said.

Spending on higher education has increased about 5.8 percent across the inflation States, with a 2.3 percent rate of inflation, Palmer said. But there has spending in New Yorkigher education spending in New York state, he added.
Every year, Pataki proposes cuts to the budget from higher education funding, said iyler Sparks, a senior broadcast journalism, political science and history major, who in previous years lobbied leg"We make legis this is a main conceriators aware that See FINANCIAL page 4

\section*{AGENT}

\section*{continued from page 3}
because of a national trend to pass similar legislation.

About 30 states across the gent legislation, including Florida, Georgia, Pennsylvahia, California and Arizona.

We have attended various national meetings where representatives have spoken to us and urged us to move on this matter," Cavanagh said.

Cavanagh's committee, comprised of six SU faculty, staff and administrators pro ides advisory counsel to ath letes who are eligible to be conracted.

About five years ago, Cavanagh's committee conducted a random background check on an agent who had contacted a player eligible for solicithe agent a lawyer, had that die agent, a lawyer, had been disbarred from practicing in misepresenting a previous athlete client.

Cavanagh's staff immediately contacted the player with the information, but to little avail, he said.

He said Thank you very much' and signed with the agentanyway," Cavanagh said. "If this were a criminal action, the person wouldn't be able to function this way

But SU Athletics Director Jake Crouthamel doubts the bill, if signed into law, will seriously deter disreputable because he said it is too "weak."
\({ }^{\text {"I'm }}\)
'm a little disappointed in the bill," Crouthamel said. I don't think it has as much teeth as it should. There should be a hefty financial felony involved."

Although an agent's talk of fame and fortune may seem alluring to a college athlete, Crouthamel said the promises are often empty.
"A disreputable agent can skin clean a student-athlete when the student-athlete negotiates without any kind of representation," he said. "Why do you need an agent to take some of what you're entitled to?"

It is not unusual for agents and student-athletes to discuss career options after the student's eligibility to play on th collegiate level is completed.

The SU Athletics Depart ment recommends that sth dents only negotiate with agents who have secured suc cessful positions for alamn, and encosags tions with alumni.

But according to Boeheim, the agents are not often willing to wait until players are at the end of their collegiate careers phone calls. tacting players early, during their sophomore and junior years," Boeheim said.
NCAntilaplayer has met NCAA eligibility guidelines, an stantial, Boeheim added.

Despite all the advice a coach can offer his players on he collegiate level, Boeheim said there is always the chance for something to go awry.

Your players are like your children," he said. "You have faith in them - but they also make mistakes."

Former and current New York state Senate and Assembly bills prioritized by SU STATUS: SENATE COMMITTEE ON HIGHER EDLCATION Bill Number S360/A1479

Facilitates reporting of bias-related incidents on state university campuses

S1971/A3335

S1513 tions, theses and term papers whether written or provided through electronic media Provides a tuition benefit for volunteer ambulance workers and volunteer firefighters
Status: vetoed by gov. george e. pataki Bill Number Summary S5049/A471 Establishes a high technology commercialization loan program

\section*{STATUS: SIGNED BY PATAKI}

\section*{Bill Number Summary}

S4055/A921
Requires continuing health insurance coverage for full-time students on a medica! leave of absence for up to one year
Requires every public university and state chartered college to implement a plan for the investigation of violent felonies on campus and missing students

Compiled by Special Projects Editor Joy Davia

\section*{FINANCIAL}
continued from page 3
Pataki's proposed cuts were rejected by the legislature in previous years, Sparks said, year's lobbying will be equally successful.
"I think it'll have a profound ffect, \({ }^{\text {T}}\) he added.
But Pataki Spokesman Charles Deister denied the claim that the governor hurts college students struggling to finance their education "That can only be said by someone who is ignoring the governor's record," Deister said. "The governor has always supported the TAP program.

From 2000 to 2001 , New York state will spend \($ 575 \mathrm{mil}\) lion on need-based grants more than double California's spending, he said.

Two years ago, New York state enacted a plan to give SUNY and CUNY schools \($ 3\) billion to upgrade buildings, Deister said.

New York state has already invested \($ 24,397,800\) in improvements at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and from Pataki's office.

The projects included improving the fire protection system, upgrading Baker lab and installing a new roof and greenhouse in lilick Building, accordprised by Deister's statements. "I'm not sure exactly what record he's talking about," Palmer said. But cuts in financialaid don't amount to what record."

\section*{Under TAP}

The Commission on Independent Colleges and Universization representing more than 100 New York state colleges including SU, has also been lobbying to increase TAP grants to S5,000, said Terri StandishKuon, director of communica tions.
assroots efforts to pressure legislators, including an online letter-writing campaign, Stan-dish-Kuon said.

About 1,800 e-mails advocating an increase in the maximum TAP grant and \(1,300 \mathrm{e}\) mails supporting tuition tax deductibles have been sent, Stan-dish-Kuon said.
"It is so important for the students that support this make their voices heard," she added.

In January, the commission sent 290,000 sets of postcards to 78 colleges and universities statewide - including 11,000 sent to the SU Office of Government and Community dents to then mail, StandishKuon said.

Each set contained a postcard addressed to the governor, the state Senate majority lead The postcards were distrib ted across campus, said Elizabeth Rougeux, director of state relations at SU. About 200 have been collected and mailed, she added.

Rougeux, who regularly travels to Albany to lobby legislators, said SU strongly supports raising the TAP award to \($ 5,000\).

One program designed to make college more affordable for New York state college students is College Bound - proposed by Senate Republicans Majority Leader Joseph Bruno, Ronald Stafford and Kenneth LaValle in February.

This program would make tuition tax deductible, increase the maximum TAPgrant to S5,000 and minimum to \($ 500\) and raise net income limits to 580,000.
The plan also proposes to allow juniors and seniors in

SUNY and CUNY schools to earn an additional 10 percent a 35 GPA and enpage in comst munity service.

Although legislators missed the April 1 deadline to pass the state budget, Bruno is optimistic that the proposal will be passed Within a few weeks, said Mark

\section*{University initiative}

Aside from lobbying state legislators alumi solicitation to in crease the pool of money used for student support.
"One of the key things we do as a university is to make sure we stay affordable," said Lou Marcoccia, senior vice president for business, finance and administrative services.

The university's goal is to raise \($ 45\) million to \($ 50\) million a year in scholarship money, he said.
"It's gotten to that level, and hopefully that sets the new and hopefully that sets the new or," he added.
Marcoccia, however, said he doubts the university will be able to raise enough money to

SU's fund-raising strategy
"tspend more to make more," is to "spend more to make more," with the university spending aine to 10 cents to raise each dollar, Marcoccia said.

The Division of University Relations helps garner financial resources for SU-including money for scholarshipsthrough mailings, phone calls and personal visits by universi ty staff to alumni and other potential contributors. The university can reach 110,000 alumni by telephone and 150,000 by di rect mail, said Bill O'Brien, exing programs.

During the course of a sev-en-year campaign, the universifor has raised over \($ 65\) million added.

John Demetra, whose son Andy is a freshman broadcast journalism major at SU, donat ed \($ 3,000\) to SU's general academic fund in the fall

The reputation of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications motivated his contribution, Demetra said. He added that he also wanted to give back to the school for accepting his son and giving him a merit scholarship.

Private citizens should fill in for the decline in government funding for scholarships, Deme-

\section*{tra said}
"If you can contribute, you should," he added.

\section*{Keeping up} dispensed by for growout 20 years to match the Chowing cost of tuition, said Christopher Walsh, director of financial aid.

SU allocated less than \($ 20\) million in scholarships in 1980 , but will give out more than \($ 200\) million this year, he said. These figures were not adjusted for inflation.

More than 80 percent of SU students receive some type of fi nancial assistance, Walsh said.

The university forms a partnership with students to help them pay for tuition, but studenta and their familes mush also value education, Walsh
P

Paying for tuition is a combination of family resources and what the family is willing to sacrifice for an SU education he added.
We do whatever we can to make sure students get resources for school," Walsh said. available, but there's more and more need too."

SGA
continued from page 1
posal of a bill to change the name of the organization to the Studeat Association andincrease its role in campus event programming. Students will vote to implement the bill during a referendum April il ing a referendum April 11 through April 13. through April 13.

It was passed by the Assembly during the final minutes of Monday night's meeting.

Some Assemblymen argued that the vote was inaccurate because James estimated the number of supporters and did not acknowledge Assemblyment
Adam Duffy's motion for a re-\(\qquad\) Duffy, a freshman political science major, said SGA members criticized him, along with fellow Assemblymembers Joe Sauer and Joni weber for circulating petitions on campus oplating petitions posed to the bill.
*They didn't like the fact that we didn't say we were going to make petitions," Duffy said. "They"re blaming us for dealing with the issues.

The Assemblymembers have collected about 500 signathres from students opposed to the bill. Duffy said.
cal science major adided political science major, added that the point of the meeting seemed to be to criticize the threc Assemblymembers for their ac"They made it to bicker at us," Weber said. "I see poor quality in the organization and in people's attitudes."

James declined to comment about the issues discussed at meeting.
Snuer
Sauer, a freshman biology major, said it was wrong for the him for trying to reach out to the students.
"Their argument was that we were being poor Assemblymen in relating everything to the students. Sauer said. We felt so moved by something, we went to our constituents to oppose it."

SGA officers argued that problems with the bill should have been addressed within the organization before publicizing it to the students, said Weber.

Keeping controversial issues contained, however, will not be serving to the student body, she added.
\({ }^{\prime}\) 'When a problem like this arises, sometimes I feel like SGA sre the only people who know what's going on," Weber said. "That's why the students said. "Tha

Weber said that at the meeting she questioned James about a comment he made that about the issues, including the bill passed Monday.

Students, however, do care about issues that they formed about, Duffy said.
The only good thing that came out of this was that the emphasis on the students wa heightened," Duffy said. "Stu dents do care.

Sauer said that he and his fellow Assemblymen, however would not have been criticized for their advocacy if they were supporting the bill.
Jamal. or Chris Greinar or Jamal, or Chris Greiner or Jonathan Taylor Sauer said. Progress is a popular word but progress at the expense of the students is completely Ang.
Another reoccurring problem in the Assembly is that members who have served mul mentarion mentarian Jonathan M. Taylor tend to faid.
er said.
ion to formed, the Assembly mus consider how the decisions it makes today will affect students \(n\) the future.
"You need to look at the past, but not so much you for get about the future, Duffy said. "Issues like this are so big they're going to affect people for years to come."

James alsocriticized the Assemblymembers for dis cussing with the press issues that should have remained con tained in the Assembly, Weber said.

Jamal said the more you alk to the D.O. the more and more SGA will diminish," Weber said. "We can say whatever we want. I wish that students would pay more attention that here are a lot of people in pow er who may be abusing thei power.

They want to leave their mark, but I don't know why mark, but to leave it like this."

\section*{LOBBYING}

\section*{continued from page 1}
est financial contributors to SU research is the National Health Science Fourdation and the U.S. Department of Health and Hu\(\operatorname{man}\) Services, according the the SU Office of Sponsored ProSU Of

During the 1999 fiscal year, SU garnered \($ 6.74\) million from the National Health Science Foundation and \($ 7.47\) million Heam the U.S. Department "Only a small percentage of proposals receive funding," said Karin Carey, director of Sponsored Programs. "It's a com pletely competitive process.

From 1995 unti! last year, Walsh spent half of each year shuming between The Salt City shuming between The Salt City to the anation's capital to lobby federal interests on behalf of the federal interests on behalf of the university while Congress was in session.

The rest of his time was spent raising funds for university research, scholarships and other priorities, he said.

Walsh described the role of a university lobbyist as a watchdog for threats and opportunities for the campus. Threats, he said, have the potential to damage SU , while opportunities will lend a hand to higher learning

Walsh recalled two particular bills passed recently in Congress that he said presentedmajor threats to university interests. One bin dealt with immigration laws and contained provisions that could have impacted dents to attend a university in the United States

The other bill, which proposed legislation on welfarereform, could have "hurt" federal Both bills eventually passed. Provisions, however, were changed through the efforts of university lobbyists.

"There is often legislation proposed which could seriously impaet the way the university operates," Walsh said.

\section*{State of affairs}

But in the fervor to craft and propose legislation, lawmakers are often unaware of the implications their bills may have on higher learning if chartered into law, Walsh said.

It is in this capacity where the role of the aniversity lobbyist comes into play in New York state.

As SU Director of State Relations. Elizabeth Rougeux spends much of her time tracking the hundreds of bills moving through the state legislature during any given session.

Like Walsh did in his former job, Rougeux said she looks for any bills that may affect \(S U\) on some level, both positive or negative."

When the New York state legislature passed its budget bill last year, it contained provisions that directly impact higher learning in the state, outside of the normal concept of budget allocations, she said

One provision, known as Jobs 2000, established a \($ 522\) million economic development program that aims to increase state support for high technology academic research, she added. Included in Jobs 2000 is a provision that establishes the New York Office of Science, search ogy and Acad NYSTAR. The office administrates a research development program that studies policies for research and economic development for universities.

The NYSTAR office oversees \($ 7.5\) million in faculty development programming, \($ 9.5\) million in a research capital inoratory space, \($ 5\) million in a technology incentive program and \($ 10\) milition in a Center for Advanced Technology.

SU hopes to eventually re* ceive a share of the \($ 7.5\) million set aside for the faculty develop. set aside for the faculty development prograrn to benefit its own ment prograrn to benefl
"It's definitely a pool of money to go after, she added.

In its lobbying capacity, the university has hired three independent firms to serve as its cyes and ears" in Albany and Washington, D.C., said Rougeux, who spends a great deal of her time in the state capital during legislative session

Whiteman, Osterman and Hanna, an Albany law firm, serviced \(S U\) in areas regarding student financial aid, research and development, campus life and conomic development during the 1999 fiscal year, Rougeux said.

The other two firms, Ameri-can-Continental Group and Lewis Burke Associates, both based in Washington, D.C., assisted SU on various issues in the federal government, she added.

The university paid the firms about \($ 127,123\) for their services during the 1999 fiscal year, according to internal Revenue Service documents,

Representatives
Whiteman, Osterman and Manan and Lewis Burke Associares declined comment, citing elicnt confidentiality issues.

\section*{Below the Hill}

Moving a bit closer to SU, there are other university interessarily correlate with state rela tions. That is where Sylvia Mar inez-Daloia, director of comme nity relations, said she fits in.

Martinez-Daloia works with Rougeux in the Office of Government and Community Relations, but spends much of her day addressing concerns of city residents. The SU Omice of Government Relations and the Office of Community Relations merged three years ago to establish a collaboration between community interests and government affairs, Martinez-Daloia said.
"If there is a healthy city, it's good for the university, Martinez-Daloia said.

The office organized a local sovernment relations day last month and invited local and public officials to campus.
roups that affect local legisla groupa that affect locallegisla ture at some level," Martinez

Daloia said. "That has changed n recent years.

Other community outreach projects include the University Neighborhood Partncrship, im and ments to Marshall Siree U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development grant that would establish service learning pportunities for SU students and residents on the city's South Side.

A lot of colleges and uni versities are looking for grants like this to make an impact," students the chance to learn out side of the institution.

\section*{ACLU}
continued from page 1
dure abandoning the Fourth Amendment, he said.
"British soldiers would ransack the houses of their political enemies during the late 18th century," Glasser said. This compelled American revolutionists to establish the Fourth Amendment in their future constitution, preventing unwarranted search and seizure.
"This is the first and last time that the majority of Americans supported the Fourth Amendment," he said.
taking advantage of that lous drug searches of mostly blacks and latinos, Glasser said.

A black family is traveling home from a funeral one rainy night, Glasser said, sharing a true story. They are stopped by police and made to stand out in the rain as the officers dismanthe their car in search for drugs.

Wanna take over the WORLD...
Your'e gonna have to start with an internship!

One hour later the officers end the search having not found anything, leaving the family to piece their car back together.

The police only stopped the family after it was noticed that they were riding in a BMW, he said. The story is still circulating in Maryland courts and has become a leading case against racial profil. ing.
"The logic of this is interesting," Glasser said.
"Most drug dealers are black and latino, so most blacks and latinos are drug dealers, he said, referring to the mentality of law authorities. "So, most basketball players are black, but most blacks are not basketball players.

This logic is not a good way to find a basketball team and it is not a good way to find drug offenders.

Such is thought to be the case on March I6 when Patrick Dorismond was shot to death outside a Manhattan bar. New York City police approached Dorismond as part of a small drug sting and asked him where they could buy marijuana.

Dorismond refused and the officers persisted. A struggle ensued, and one detective shot Dorismond in the chest, killing him. He was unarmed.

The New York City black community later lashed out at the police and Mayor Rudy Giuliani for allowing such a procedure to be used.

There continues to be a rise in the number of blacks in prison, Glasser said. This is attributed to ineffective drug policies, he added.

If you asked Mayor Giuliani, he will say there are more blacks in jail, but they did the crime, now they win do the ime," Glasser said. "But it is not true that an unproportionate number of blacks are doing rimes.
Law authorities should focus more on criminal behavior that affects the community, he said. The rise in black incar ceration is fueled by the drug war and fear of hard drugs But more than half of the ar rests are made for marijuana and most of those are for pos session, Glasser said.
"The distinction between drug use and abuse is obliviat ed every day," Glasser said You would not arrest me fo drinking aglass of wine just be cause someone drinks a quar of vodka in the morning.
"Everyone is willing to arrest someone for having a joint of marijuana, even though there has not been one single case of someone overdosing from it.'

Abby Horrigan, a second yearlaw student at SU, at tended the speech with several ther law students.

She credited Glasser for making analogies that everyone, regardless of race, would understand.
"He told stories that made it obvious how ludicrous these polices were," said Horrigan vice president of the SU Law School's ACLU. "The people who this affects aren't white and this won't change until we start fighting to change it.

If this was happening to white kids, it would stop real fast. \({ }^{\text { }}\)

The problems of law en forcement in regards to race and profiling are glaring, said Sterling Sandow, a secondyear law student and president of the school's ACLU.
"He brought up a lot of points which 1 think a lot of people in the audience didn't think of," she said. "He really tried to press the point home.*

Asst. News Editor Kevin Tam pone contributed to this article.

Lecture notes . exam preparation . novel notes (Among other crowd pleasing academic rools) -alwars (1440.365) open-

\title{
[editoria blame to agents
}

\author{
Nike contracts and college athletes don't } mix.

A new state bill sponsored by local representatives could halt greedy agents in their tracks as they seek agreements with collegiate athletes headed to professional leagues.

And since the line between professional and amateur athletics becomes increasingly muddied by sponsorship deals and corporate gift-giving, it's about time.

Currently, if scholarship athletes contract with agents - even by sharing a meal or taking a ride - before they've relinquished their collegiate eligibility, they, as well as their university, must pay the consequences.

But while teammates and administrators may pay the price for failure to keep heatseeking agents away, the agents themselves get off without penalty - hardly a fair deal. The new bill would make contracting with amateur athletes a misdemeanor, punishable by a hefty fine.

The bill may be largely symbolic, and it certainly won't cut dishonest wheeling and dealing out of the college athletic scene. But as devious agent schemes begin trickling even to the high school level, it's a step in the right direction.

Athletes net big bucks for their schools. So the NCAA wants to keep the players' loyalties in check and avoid potential collusion with agents, who might be out to swindle them in exchange for notoriety or a sweet cut of an NBA or NFL contract.

The bill hits close to home, too. The NCAA stripped the 1990 SU men's lacrosse team of its national chanpionship title after a player was proven to have co-signed a car loan with the wife of former head coach Roy Simmons Jr.

The decision-making power of the athletes shouldn't be left out of the rule book, however.

Coaches and administrators must strive to educate their players about their rights as collegiate athietes so they can make informed and wise decisions about their futures.

\title{
[d.ö] \\ Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus
}

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Silverman Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor Sports Editor Holly Acwer Special Projects Editor Presentation Director Photography Editor Dave Curtis Joy Davia Art Director Copy Editor Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor oet Deshlumukh Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asse. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor Neva Aurstrev
Laura Prabiciki Laura Prabucki
Kate Stovencen Thflany lanken Kevin Tampone
Corey Hann Magin McKemna Jeff Prassan
Erin Boyla Elaine Skinuer Tito Bottitton
Tom Mason

\footnotetext{

}

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Warring over Cuban boy shadows other issues}

Why are we still hearing about Elian Gonzalez? For that matter, why did the little tyke become such a big issue in the first place? Little kid comes over from Cuba with his mother. The mother dies, his father wants him to come back to Cub

Let's pretend for a moment that a small boy Let's pretend for a moment that a small boy young Timothy is nine, his mother teaves his father and moves to Paramus. New

\section*{THOMAS}

\section*{HOBAN}
and moves to Paramus, New dersey, taking the little runt with is killed in a car accident. Her supposed dying wish, unconfirmed by any real facts, is that Timothy live out his days in the fruitful bounty of Paramus.

After her death, the father wants Timothy to return to his birthplace of Hackensack, to live and friendsh among his fani Timothy's uncle and second cousin have sworn that they will fight a legal and emotional battle in the public eye to keep the child from returning to Hackensack.

The proud people of Paramus don't think very highly of Hackensack. They obviously don't want the boy sent back there. It's Hackensack for crying out loud. So the mayor of Paramus gives Timothy a puppy. The Hackensack newspapers feature daily coverage of the legal battle. Timothy's father and the mayor of Hackensack demand that the boy be returned. A scandal arises and no one is sure how to handle it.

Isn't this the most pathetic excuse for news you've ever heard?

First of all, Elian should be returned to his father, no questions asked. Despite what may very well have been her dying wish, Elian's mother cannot lawfully make child-rearing decisions from beyond he can be proved an unfit the legal guardian unless he can be proved an unfit parent, which is a matte zen.
zen. Secondly, who cares? Why are we hearing so much about this kid? Thousands of custody battles and adults alike are constantly deported in simila situations. What makes this kid such a big deal? Even if his mother were still alive and there was some legitimate claim to keeping Elian here, I still CNN and CNN Headline News both ran Elian cover age every half hour, all day yesterday. The "scandal" age every half hour, all day y is nothing less than absurd-

In Cuba, I can see how they should get a bit more upset about it. Who the hell do these Americans think they are? If the roles were reversed in this sitthink they are? If the roles were reversed in this sit keep a child in Cuba when his father lives here and wants him back? That's ridiculous. But as usual, Americans aren't thinking in terms of the Golden Rule. Our country was founded on values of selfish ness and tunnel vision that we continue to uphold.

But regardless of the fact that the Elian debacle is no debacle at all, I still can't come up with a reason that it's such big news. It's a mystery of Jon Benet Ramsey proportions. To some extent, I can understand why people watch it. Television news is all about "reporting" personality stories - blowing up commonplace vignettes into epic sagas for ratings These stories are especially popular when they involve children with puppies. But that still doesn't explain why it's a top story", or why this kid over hundreds of others.

It's gotten to the point where herds of "Elian supporters" tried to storm his house the other day because they thought the government was coming to take him back to Cuba. In the richest nation on earth, Americans have the nerve to pretend they know what is in this boy's best interest, while at the same time, millions of Americans are without food, shelter, adequate health care, jobs or decent educa tion. We hive in the midst of uimate irony, ignoring real problems and pointing our attention at whatever "news" makes us feel better about ourselves.

If you ask me, we should compromise. Dump Elian, his uncle and his father in the water halfwa to Cuba

Thomas Hoban is a junior television, radio and film and history major His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at tphoban@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{SGA proceedings neglect real student concerns}

\section*{To the Editor.}

I am very aggravated by the proceedings at last Monday's Stuing. I feel that the students have a right to know that their governmental body is deceiving them.

SGA knew well in advance that support for their merger with the University Union was slim and that they had little chance of passing their bill. So, what did they do? They unconstitutionally passed a new bili which created a new programming board within the SGA.

Then, Jamal James instructed the recorder to immediately call roll call after the vote was approved without a hand count. But he didn't do this because, as he claimed, the meeting was running long - instead, he knew that if a hand count was taken, he would not have gotten his two-thirds majority. He also knew that no further business could be discussed after roll call was taken.

So, what was the end result of this bill? SGA got exactly what they would have gotten in the merger with UU, just in a different format. fundine they will not give them any money, because the new "SA" promoney, because the new the proy. SGA controle our \($ 15\) million Student Activity Fee. Do you reall want this much money to be controlled by a single organization?

Now that I think about it, those listening sessions they set up a few publicity stunt to make us think that they were listening to us, when in fact they didn't really care what we said. They only wanted more power for themselves. If they were so confident that the bill was legitimately passed, then why didn't they want to count hands or better yet, go out and ask the students how they elt about this programming board? So, for Jamal James, Jonathan M. Taylor, Chris Greiner and the rest of the SGA representatives who supported this bill, stop hiding beto what the students want I also want to urge all students to voice whir opinion to SGA by simince their opinion to SGA, by signing the petitions that are circulating aroun week's meeting at 7:30 pm. week's meeting, at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Maxwell Auditorium.

Scott Faller

\section*{Election 2000}

\section*{McCain throws support behind Giuliani, Bush}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

After withdrawing his bid almost one month ago for the 2000 Republican presidential nomination, Arizona Sen. John MrCain is back on the campaign trail.

Only this time he is campaigning for New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani.
"Part of it could be habit," Syracuse University College Republicans Chairman Joe Burns said. "He spent so long campaigning ar whill spend a little he might as well more time on it."

Giuliani, also a Republican, is running against first the U.S. Senate seat for New \section*{York state.}

"McCain did very very well in the Republican primaries," said Burns, a junior political science and history major. "He was a very popular individual among Democrats, Republicans and Independents on Long Island."

That popularity among Long Islanders is a great benefit to Giuliani's campaign, since the island is a must-winarea for Rudy Giuliani, he said.

College Republicans Secre tary Gina DeRossi said Me Cain's popularity will help Giu. liani win votes from non-Re A siza
A sizable number of Mc Cain supporters are also Gie lianisupporters, she sdded.
II was a McCain support er," DeRossi said. "There's no way l'd ever vote for Hillary, White McCain was still in he primaries, however, Giu liani supported the senator's opponent Texas Gov. George W.
ush.
But that endorsement was one of coercion by New York state Gov. George E. Pataki DeRossi said.

I really kind of think it was the governor who pressured Giulaninto supporing Bush. said Dehossi, a senior public lations major.

Burns, however, said Pata\(k i\) was not a factor in Giuliani's support for Bush.
"I don't think anyone pressures Rudy Giuliani," he said I don't think there's a human being in this world that tells Rudy Giuliani what to do."

MeCain has also said that he will support Bush

He suffered a crushing loss to the governor in the March 7 primaries, announcing afterward his withdrawal from the rush for the nomination.

Despite back-and-forth bickering, especially during McCain's Feb. 19 South Carolina Primary loss, DeRossi said she was not surprised by the sudden change of heart.
-I don't find it hypocritical or anything." she said. "He's always been a staunch supporter of the Republican Party. If he claims to be so dedicated to the party, he would have no choice but to support Bush.'

A McCain endorsement of Bush, as opposed to one for Bush's Democratic rival Vice President Al Gore, was inevitable because it was the lesser of two evils," Defossi said.

-I think he's just supporting the candidate that reflects more of his viewn, not all of his views," DeRossi said.

Like his influence in the Giuliani-Clinton contest, the fact that McCain's popularity crosses all party lines will also help Bush, Burns said.

There are a good number of Americans who are very fond of John McCain and he certainly has the ability to attract Democrats and Independents to the Republican Party," Burns said. "That will definitely help George Bush on election day."

As far the rest af you, you're still on your own
For your recommended daily allowance of study resources, look no further than WebCTcom. It's an e-learning hub. where you can get help studying, find research materials, and take practice tests and quizzes. Or join online acadernic forums and communicate with students and faculty around the world. Visit www.webct.com/nourish. and satisfy that hungry brain of yours. On the other hand. if it's your body that needs feeding better call for takeout. Again.
cops
continued from page 1
house at about 2:15 a.m. Wednesday, according to the report.
"I was sitting in my room," the sophomore said. "I heard a giant crash in the living room downstairs."

The suspect damaged a 2-by-6oot window, the report said. It appeared that the suspect broke the the report added. he report added

I saw four people clear the front of the house," the sophomore added. 'One turned around, flipped me off and yelled something."
The four walked into a frat
nity across the street. he said. broken window at the house this year, he added.
"We presume they have broken the windows in the past," the sophomore said of the fraternity.

Police said other nearby houses have had problems with the fraternity in the past, he added.

The two incidents are not related, he said.
- An SU student alleged that her husband stole her 1989 Plymouth Horizon Sunday night and sold it for drags, according to the report.
The 47-year-old child and family studies major said she allowed her husband to use her car so he could visit their 10 -year-old daughter in an unnamed location, the report said.

The student fater went to pick her daughter up and found that the daughter had been alone for a long period of time, the report said. The student believes the husdaughter alone, the report said. He daughter alone, the report said. He aever returned

He called Tuesday and said he left the keys in the car and it was later stolen, the report said.

The student, however, alleged that he instead sold the car for "crack," the report added.

I haven't gotten the car back," the student said, declining to comment further.

E An SU security officer found a person trespassing at 10:15 a.m.

Monday in the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, according to a report.

The officer said he saw the suspect earlier pushing a cart on university property, the report said. When the officer asked for identification, the suspect handed over an ATM card and a New York state employee benefit card - both with different names on them. The the garbage, the report added.

The suspect said in the report that she lives on the 300 block of Shonnard Street.

The officer said the suspect appeared to be homeless and suffering from mental problems, the report added.
cer told the suspect to leave the university and to never return, the report said.

Compiled th staff uriter Eurans. Boston.

Building your assets is one thing. Figuring out how those assets can provide you with a comfortable retirement is quite another
At TIAA-CREF, we can help you with both.
You can count on us not only white you're saving and planning for retirement, but in retirement, too.

Just call us. We'll show you how our flexible range of payout options can meet your retirement goals.

With TIAA-CREF, you benefit from something few other companies can offer: a total commitment to your financial well-being, today and tomorrow.

With TIAA-CREF's Retirement Income Options, you can receive:
- Cash withdrawals
- Systematic or fixed-period payments - Interest-only payments - Lifetime income payments
- A combiration of these

CREF gldobal equities acct.?
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline \(36.05 *\) & 22.02 & \(18.75 \%\) \\
\hline аго \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{IIAA \\ GREF}

Ensuring the future
for those who shape it.'

\title{
TIAA-CREF provides financial solutions to last a lifetime.
}

Register for Fall 2000 Courses It's Safe - FUN - Affordable

PED 214
Snorkeling
PED 221
Beginner Scuba
PED 223

PED 225
Advanced Scuba
nationalaquatic.com
1-80O-SEA-DIVE

All Coursos are One
The Nation's Leader in On Campus Underwater Education

\section*{Underwater Photography}

1-80O-SEA-DIVE

\section*{The Daily Orange}

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{WORDS}
continued from page 1
campus multicultural groups sat tole:ad the forum. entitled "Words That luart.

Tavlor called on each of the forum leaders to share stories of theirfirst encounters with some of the words mentioned minutes carlier.

Khristian Kemp-Delisser of Pride Union said when he was about 11 years old, he was waiting for a ride home from a Boy Scout meeting - of a troop in which he was the only black boy - when an older, white boy came outside with him.
'What's came out and was like, 'What's up, yo.'- Kemp-Delisser said. "And I was like 'Hello, how why won't you talk like me. Ain't wou mont nigger? tal

Kemp-Delisser, a former copy editor at The Daily Orange. said although his older brother used the word "nigger" frequently, he himself was not familiar with it.

Other discussion leaders had similar stories to tell. class was in writing Studio class and we were talking about welfare reform, said Valerie wellare reform, said Valerie "Some girl was like. 'You should know about it, Youre trom the Brons, youre llispanic.".
Audience members and foAudience members and forum leaders discussed ways to combat such stereotypingwhether unintentionill, used with malice, with ignorance of its meaning or used in a joke.

Ignorance of what some words mean can lead to "ingrained" patterns of behavior, said Michele Lee, Point Zero in ternal chairwoman.

A lot of times people say things and they don't even know where it came from," Taylor added.

When people use a word they know to be derogatory, but still insert it into a joke, they should be confronted, several audience members said.
"I don't sit there," said Jullinnar Cooper, a member of Pride Union and a fifth-year aniUniversity of major in the State Environmental Science and Forestry. "I won't listen to it, even if I'm not a part of that culture that lifestyle."
endinithout education, the ofending person will never shake his or her habits, Lee said.

If you don't stand up and say that's wrong, they'll just go their whole lives thinking the same way," she said.

The way in which a person says "that's wrong." however. must be taken into consideration so at not to strain relationships, said Kemp-Delisser, a junior newspaper and English and Textual Studies major.
-1 think you have to be very careful telling people they can't say something," he said Allison Brown, a graduate student in television, radio and film, agreed.
"A lot of people forget you have to be diplomatic about it," Brown said. "If you stoop to their level, it's not going to help the situation."

Several audience members attributed ignorance or offensiveness to a person's upbringing.

But Leslie Grinner, a graduate student of cultural foundations of education, said she does not accept upbringing as an e cuse for using offensive words.

They want to be entitled to of derogatory thing \({ }^{n}\) said Grinner, a columnist for The Daily ner, a columnist for to hey it and Orange. "They want to say ill not get called on it. They want to fall back on their background and upbringing to defend it."

\section*{Interpretation} shady, The line is vaid "It's hard very termine what is derogatory and what is not."
The relationship with the person using the derogatury word can determine its meaning, and therefore whether it should be taken with offense, said Nick Jean-Francois, a junior informattion studies major.
-If a skinhead called mea nigger, I'd be pretty sure he's not using that word to say something positive," he said.

Lee agreed with Jean-Francois, citing a friend's comfortable among his friends.
"Words don't really have meaning in and of themselves," she said. "It's who uses the words."

It is offensive, however when a white person says "rigger," since they do not have the history associated with the word, Grinner said.

Ill see one or two whiteguys calling each other nigger. I mean, what do they know about it? Grinner asked.

Jean-Francois said the race of the person using the words does not matter if they are using it as a term of endearment witha close friend. He said that if a close, white friend affectionately called him "nigger," he would feel comfortable with it.

The situation, therefore, dictates how people act and in what way actions are interpreted, he sifid. In at home with friends, 1 curse," Jean-Francois said. "But if I was in a different arean, su at a job interview, I wouldn't be like 'Well, well shit, you know? You know not to behave in certain ways.
"You tend to be a little more relaxed and tend to do things you wouldn't normally do in certain arenas."

Several audience members who were not as vocal in the disussion said they learned iro others who had participated.
"It was really good because a lot of the people said what I feel inside," said Patrick Giallella, president of Phi Sigma Beta honors fraternity, a co-sponsor of the event. "It's a really good program and I'd like to see it happen again."

Sophomore Karen Boltz greed, but added that she wished the event had attracted more people.

This was a good event, 1 just wish it could've been bigger," said Boltz, a policy studies major. 'I'd really like to see how it would be, like a 'Words That Hurt' week, like an awareness thing.
"But for the first night of it, it went really well."

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com

Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{The Daily Orange Advertising Information}

The Daily Orange advertising hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m Fot place an advertisement in the DO, the ad must be at the aduersiside office before 2 p.m. two business days before you want it to run Call 443-9793 fo business hours.

\section*{the}

Risky business Genetically engineered crops appear to be safe but the government should better coordinate how it regulates them to make sure they don't pose a danger to the environment or human heath a National Academy \(\square\) of Sciences repor \(f\) wednest Envirosmay. The Protection Protection Agency \(1 x^{\text {the Food }}\) Addinistration and the Agriculture should work Agriculture should work sure engineered crops are adequately tested and monitored, a pane appointed by the academy's National Research Council concluded. Scientists have begun splicing a variety of genes into crops, including genes that enable crops to produce their own pesticides.

\section*{Mixed results}

Over the last two decades, epi-
th iemiolog CORMONEES Studies T Til mone use and breast cancer have produced a mixed bag of results. Some studies have found no increased risk, while others have found a small increased risk. from the rece studies from the National Cancer Institute and increased risk but increased risk, but one time The USC tuve found that women on both estrat women on osterone called and prog nation therapy - had a higher increesed risk a breast cancer than breast cancer than vomen who took estro gen alone.

\section*{Molt squad}
it began with the image of preschooters fleeing a gunman at the Jewish Community Center in Los Angeles' San Fernando Valley last summer. And it has Mom March, a campaign by mothers from New Jersey to Hawaii to stage the largest rally in U.S. history in support of stronger gun laws. The name of the narch - set for May 14, Mother's Day - is bit of a misnomer. Organizers hope to draw at least 50,000 women to Washington. Other marches are planned in more than a dozen eities across the country.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"You shall judge a man by his foes as well as by his friends." Joseph Conrad

Sapna Kollali, editor 443-2128 life@daily orange.com [lifestyle]

\title{
NAILED
}

\section*{BY COREY HANN}

Asst. Lifestyle Editor

A bruisebruised egoisn't the only result of a night of sexual frustration.

Sex-related injuries, though rare, can put both partners in needless danger and blinding Roser
Roger McDaven, a Syracuse University sophomore in The College of Arts and Scigirlfriend incurred some bumps in the bumps in the night.
Under the sheets, a playful and provocative charade began and ended suddenly.

Throwing his back out in a violent fashion, his confused girifriend tried to help, but fell off the bed frame trying to physically support Roger. A night of pleasure in the painful remorse, he recalls.
"I threw my back out pretty bad that night, probably due to faulty positioning," he said. I got a pretty bad dose of rug burn as well.

According to Thrive, an online sex and health magazine, expanding the boundaries of a relationship through different styles of Iovemaking may be an active way of igniting an otherwise diminishing sex life.
"Include quickies, middle-of-the-road times, where both of you reach orgasm and leisurely sessions, a simple variation can make all the difference, Dr. Bernie Zilbergeld wrote in a Thrive article. An a fantasy role play won't work"

Partners should be cautious on how far their experitious on how far their experimentation goes. Sometimes headaches, nausea and even fainting spells can result from experimentation.

See INJURIES page 13

Most injuries occur as a result of bending the MMW BM,
Some men will actually hear a hlut, followed by intense pain.
GEORGE WASHIGGTON LAMERSITY LROLOGIST DK. HEN GOLDBERG

\section*{1.9\% APR financing on Saturn L-Series.}

People like having choices. That's why this offer is designed to be flexible. Whatever you choose, there's very little hassle. And that's something everyone wants to avoid.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \(1.9 \% \mathrm{APR}_{\text {up to }} 36\) months \\
\hline \(2.9 \% \mathrm{APR}_{\text {up to }} 48\) months \\
\hline \(4.9 \% \mathrm{APR}_{\text {up to }} 60\) months \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

The L-Series performance sedan. In every way, a different kind of Saturn.

Includes air conditioning, eight-speaker stereo, theft-deterrent system and dent-resistant panels.

Saturn of Syracuse
In the Heart of Historic Automobile Row 716 West Genesee Street 315-472-0021

Saturn of Route 31
Just west of the
Great Northern Mall
3885 Route 31
315-622-0054

A Different Kind of Company. A Different Kind of Car.

\section*{'Earworms' cause songs to stick in listeners' minds}

As I slowly rise and toss the vers of my bed. the slow hymns of pop music enter my ars and are instilled in my

Corey mind. While I've Hanm maybea more health
sleuth may be a more enjoyable way to wake up, the repercussions throughout the day are not wort the price of having Jennifer Lopez "If you had my love," ringing incessantly in my head.

The Germans call them ohvuurms, or earworms - an interesting rellection of their insidious nature. Scientists say that understanding how the brain stores and replays music is essental to getting the cunes to stop, whatever your own personal demon song may be.

In order to solve this probem, researchers are now using high-tech brain-imaging systems to map out which parts of the brain are active when people have songs turning like a necord in their heads.

Although earworms may not be a full-fledged disorder, they certainly can cause pain and dis dain for everyone who experiences them.

Dr. William Hoyer of Syracuse University's Psychology Department said he belleves that there should be an emphasis on classifying this as a phenomenon rather than a disorder
"There's no pathology to this," he said. "We all experienc it, but there's no reason to believe that it's a disorder.

Dr. Robert Zatorre of McGill University in Montreal is one of the leading researchers in the field of "sticky songs". He said that beyond being a phenome non, earworms could be classified as an obsessional disorder "People with serious obsessions report boing unable to get a crtain idea, or visual image, out or their head," he said.

He also related the "disor der to schizophrenies who often experience auditory hallucinations without being able to distin guish between imagined and real sounds.

To answar the question why songs have this special character istic of attaching to our mental ives, it is important to recogrize he special properties that music has.
"Music is unusually rich compared to other sensory information because it has so many dimensions," Zatorre said. "The sounds of the words, the mean ings of the words, the melody, the rhythm - there are so many little pieces stored all over the brain."

Ogechi Opara, a freshman computer science major, said that getting a song stuck in her head doesn't always involve one reason.

Usually It hear a familia one playing on the radio, sce an object that reminds me of a song," she said. "The worst is when I7l think of a catchy song I can't stand and it'll be there forever."

\section*{Misery loves compariy}

Opara's case is true of many ufferers. The different elements that create melodies are the culprits for embedding their sweet and sometmes sour, sounds in our heads.

Mike McDonough, a junior broadeast journalism major and DJ at WJPZ-EM 89.1, said that although hes around music all the time, he doesn't find many songs sticking around in his head.
if a song is stuck in my ead, its usually when there's no hose around, the said. If itss in so it's it means I probably like s not that bad.
He also added that when he's on the air, the distractions from the songs he's prepraring to play next interfere with possible "earworms."

To remedy this problem, zatorre recommends staying as ar away as possible from "bad music,"

If something seoms to be annoying you, listen to other unes," he said. 'You can't imagne and hear music simultaneously.

Opara agrees that good nusic is the way to go.

I normally just play the ong like two times in a row to ease my mind," she said. "Then a wait some thme, and maybe play it again.'

Coney Hann is a juntor pre medicine cha philosophy major He is also a Daily Orange assis ant lifestyle editor. His columin appears Thursdays. E-mail him at cthann@syr.edu.

\section*{INJURIES}

\section*{continued from page 11}
\({ }^{\text {"Headaches and fainting are }}\) ssues involving sex that students have discussed with me," said Dr. Joseph Fanelli, a professor in the College for Human Developnent. Most students were curous why such things happen.

Headaches are the result of a combination of factors including dizziness and hyperventilation, according to the Journal of Sex Research.

Uncomortable or unfamilias positions are usually the culprits for such dizzy spells, though even staying in the same position for an extended period can cause similar results, the journal reported.

Andrew Decoursy, a junior civil engineering major, finds that sometimes staying in the same pot can cause other irritations as well.
"I usually find discomfort on he count of cramps and muscle strain," he said.

Muscle strain and cramping can result from any strenuous activity, said Richard Mangi in Guide to Sports Iniuries.
"Lactic acid can collect in muscle cells and can cause simiar results found in activities ranging from weight lifting to sex," Mangi reported.

To remedy this, Mangi recommends stretching extensively for physically drairing activities with attention to the larger muscle groups such as the legs, chest and back.
"It's just like preparing for any eporting event," he said. "In arder to periorm on a high level and have excellent results, you

\section*{Passionate moments}

Fainting during the heat of the moment, though it may seem like a trophy of uitimately pleasuring gomeone, is usually the result of staying in the same position too long or lack of breathing appropriately.
"It is the natural reaction to hyperventilation," according to Powerotics Magazine's "Guide to Safer Sex."

The guide recommends not to be worried if such things happen.

Stop the game, free your partner (if constrained) and have him or her lie down," the guide reported. "This may be frightening, but there usually is really nothing to worry about.

Physical safety for bath partners is essential to having a healthy sexual relationship. Beyond the risk of pregnancy and disease, other physical dangers such as chafing, fainting and bruising can leave couples scorned.

Having sex without lubrication jelly can lead to discomfort for both partners, according to the Journal of Sex Research. While males often report penite chafing as a common complaint, the most pairnful injury results from penile ramming, the journal reported.

Dr. Ken Goldberg, M.D., a board-certified urologist at George Washington University, said that the penis is very resilient.
"The penis is an impressively durable organ," he said. "With reasonable care, it can be expected to work dependably throughout life.

Goldberg said that the penis is not immune to danger though. "Most injuries occur as a re sult of bending the ercet penis. he said. "Some men will actually hear a crack, followed by intense pain.

Goldberg recommends using common sense, utilizing iubri cants and being cautious about using acrobatic positions. He added that toughing it. "like a man," is an irresponsible way of treating it and one should see a doctor immediately.

\section*{Female endurance}

On the female side of the issue, the effects of vaginal dryness can have some uncomfort able and potentially scary results changes in vaginal pH and diet can cause drymess. More importantly though, dryness can lead to frequent condom breakage and unwanted pregnancy, according to the Reproductive Health Outlook Organization.

Fanelli said that because of privacy concerns, studerats do not always discuss issues like sex-related injuries in his w
"I think it depends upon how chronic the issue is," he said. "Sometimes students are more comfortable with going directly to their physician than a profes. sor-the relationship is quite difsor ment: \({ }^{\text {fan }}\)

Though students may be bashful about the issue, sexual injuries and sometimes violent behavior is deeply routed in society.

According to the Journal of Legal Medicine, 6 percent of wormen and 10.2 percent of men aged 18 to 30 experienced some type of sex-related injury during their lifetimes.

Women reported such injuries included swelling, cuts, scratches and bruises as their most common complaints," according to the study. "Men reported their most common injury as bruising and bending.'

When it comes to physical trauma, females are able to endure more pain than men, said Karen Berkley in a report filed by Florida State University's psychology department.
-Femnles have lower thresholds and greater ability to discriminate higher pain ratings of noxious stimuli than males," she said.

She does remark that these differences, however, are small and exist in only certain forms of stimulation, such as sexual intercourse.

Lower thresholds for pain can also be attributed to drunken sexual episodes, according to the Journal of Sex Research

Amy McGee, a juniar child and family studies major, attest ed to this claim.

My boyfriend and 1 came home really late, drunk from the bars and started going at it real y rough," she said. "His peni ust popped out and he rammed it in the wrong area. I was bleed ing for a little while, hut luckily I was drunk."

Come See Everyone's Favorite Trio..
 BEN FOLDS FIVE

Sunday, April 16, 2000
Ithaca College

Ben Light Gymnasium
Tickets on Sale Now at Rebop Records, Soundsfine and Ticketmaster (607)-722-7272
 $12 without IC ID

\section*{For More lnformistion, call: ( 407 ) 274.162} Brought to you by the lhaca College Bureau of Cancerts

\section*{LIBERTY AND/OR PSYCHIATRY? \\ 40 YEARS AFTER}

THE MYTHof MENTAL ILLNESS

\section*{A SPECIAL Symposium in Honor of \\ THOMAS S. SZASZ'S 80 \({ }^{\text {TH }}\) BIRTHDAY}

April 15, 2000 • 9:00 AM to 4:30 PM
Weiskotten Auditorium - SUNY Health Science Center/Syracuse
Information & registration (limited) at http://www.szasz.com or jschale@american.edu

\section*{The Daily Orange}

We go deep."
To stop SU's offense, some tried tomatch Syracuse with similar talent.

Down south in its first contest, SU's attack proved the defending national champs.

While Virginia boasted a strong defense, Powell a strong defense, Powell punched in four scores, Coffman three, Springer and Tom Hardy adding one. In Charlottesvilie, SU showed the exemplary balance it has displayed through its first six games.
Hopkins teams, like Johns from-one-scorer-to-stop-Powell approach.
But in SU's 13-12 squeaker, Powell still scored threegoals, while the man most Springer also netted most, Spri three.

Towson head coach Tony Seamon employed a different strategy. By keeping the ball off SU's attack sticks, the Tigers hoped to prevent an up-and-down tempo tha

A strong effort from the yracuse defense and Pow ell's eight-point performance coupled with another hat trick from Springer, proved too tough for the Tigers.

Peter Lasagna, head coach of Brown, focused on

\section*{continued from page 20}

With All-American Ryan Powell at the helm and young scorers Banks and Mike Springer waiting for an opdefenses to stop the SU attack.

Throw midfielders Matt Caione and Josh Coffman mo the mix, and you get plare than 10 points this season. \({ }^{\text {"Our execution is getting }}\) haven't done a lot of the haven thangs that should be doing. But as a whole, I don't really see any weaknesses.
stopping Powell, who ranks second in the nation in points pergame. He said he figured cupporting cest would follow supporting cast would follow \(\qquad\) Banks proved him wrong, tallying three goals and five assists to lead Syracuse to its sixth consecutive victory.

All the while, opposing efenses remain busy trying to salve a puzzle with an awful lot of pieces
"I don't think there's really a one-two punch that weve seen in the past," Powell said. "But there's three very solid attackmen that step up at any given time, and I think that's the difference."

Ch sophomores Banks Springerman, along with chreeger - who stillhas three more years of eligibility be yracuses attack might provenng, but "They"re coming," Powell said of the underclassmen. They're young, but we expect great things out of them in the future. They still have a little ways to go. You don't want to give them too much hype right now. They'regreat players, and we're working really well together right now."
in fact, numbers-wise, the Syracuse attack ranks among the best in the country.

Any comparison for top attack honors starts with trginanst the Orangemen goaliergis year. Orangemen rlier this year.

The Cavaliers, paced by attackmen Drew McKnight and Connor Gill and middie ay Jalbert, boast six playrs that havescored more 10 points.
The Orangemen's top five have all outscored their Cavalier counterparts, though, nd Powell is probably the best attackmen in the nasaid.

Loyola owns another strong attack unit and will showcase it when it comes to the Hill on Friday.

The No. 3 Greyhounds lost two key midfielders and two key attackmen last May in Mark Frye, Todd Vizcarondo Gewas Schindler and Tim O'Shea, who accounted for over 150 points

But the Maryland-based acrosse factory keeps attack ing, led by the brother com bination of Tim and Gunnar Goettelmann, transfer Gavin Prout, midfielder Mike Battista and Bobby Horsey, who each own more than 15 points.

No. 6 Georgetown also holds a strong attack, al though its defense has struggled so far this season

Andy Flick, Peter Velepec and Scott Urick have combined for an eye-popping 99 points, including 61 goals. Johns Hopkins and Princeton both fall statisti cally behind SU in most scor ing categories. The annual powerhouses also play two of the nation's toughest sched ules, imiting their output.

Midfielder Josh Sims leads No. 4 Princeton, but only four Tigers score with any regularity

The struggling Blue Jays, ranked eighth in the country, posted 12 goals against \(S U\), including four in the last nine minutes in a Carrier Dome comeback loss

They also own ane of the nation's most prolific scorers, Dan Denihan, who teams with brother and midfielder Connor, Bobby Benson and midfielder A.J. Haugen. Surprisingly, opponents have outscored JHU and All-Amer can goaltender Brian Ca caterra 58-53 this season.

Rounding out the offen sive outburst is No. 5 Duke Led by Jared Frood, the current Inside Lacrosse player of the week, and T.d. Durnan tion. tion.

Right now, Syracuse is content with any attack rat ing, as long as the unitimproves as the season pro gresses.

We need to peak in May," Banks said. "We need to peak in the tournament We need to peak down in Col lege Park. That's when w need to be playing our best. "If we do the things that we have been doing, 1 don shouldn't be down there."

\title{
FagGaNS SAMUEL ADAMS SENIOR SLAM
}

SUNDAY APRIL 9, 2000

\section*{THE FUN STARTS AT 9000 \\ FREE T-SHIRTS FOR THE FIRST 50 CUESTS \\  \\ 初完 \\  \\  \\ 36 DAYS 'TIL GRADUATION!!!!!!}
ference used to be very spread out as far as facilities and budgets go," Firnbach said. "But now people are starting to get closer together with budgets, and what the facilities are supposed to be like, having certain qualifications to meet before you can compete on a field \({ }^{n}\).

The university brol
the sta dium proiect ground months after Firnhach took the coaching job in July 1998 . The coach said she was approached for sugestions, which she readi ly gave.

As part of building the pro-

FIEED
continued from page 20
skinned, which means that there is no infield grass.

Because the SU groundskeepfeld before, they attended several seminars to learn proper care procedures, Firnbach said.

The quality of facilities in the Big East has improved in recent years, as teams havere from their institutions.
"I think the Big East Con-

\section*{LAI}
continued from page 20
compete with last year
The senior from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, has come full circle at Syracuse.

When she was a freshman, she walked on. Now, Lai is the team's top singles player and boasts a 40-19 record this year.

Her tennis career started at the age of 11 , when she began playing in Thailand. The game started out as just a hobby, but by the time she was 15 years old, Lai played in the most competitive tournaments she could find.

When in high school, Lai posted a four-year record of team MVP. Besides succeeding on the tennis court, she ing on the tennis court, she leyball MVP honors.

When I hit my senior year, I decided to concentrate on tennis," Lai said. "It was the one sport that knew next level."

She earned a spot on Malaysia's team for the Southeast Asian Games last summer and left with a bronze medal.

Without her precious time at SU, though, Lai's game might not have improved enough to allow her to represent her country.

Since arriving at Syracuse, Lai's ability has improved greatly, said coach Mac Gifford. This can be attributed to her great work ethic which makes her one of the most athletic and quickest players on the team.

Lai said that her strong training comes from her interest in the top performers of other sports. She admires and mimics the workouts of track stars Michael Johnson and Marion Jones. Their intensity is theirbest attribute, Lai said.
"I wovidn't really call them role models," she said. They are more like inspirational models. They are the best at what they do, and that is whyl try to model my habits after them.

Lai's hard work has elevated her to the level of team captain this year.

Herrole as captain allows her to lead by example, Lai said, in hopes the younger players will follow her lead.

If the rest of the Orangewomen continue to do so, it could pay off in this year's Big East Tournament, which begins April 20. In the mean time, Syracuse (12-5) will time, Syracuse \((12-5)\) will host Seton Hall and Brown on each of the next two week ends.
gram from nothing, Firnbach even had to go about attaining the little things that many people often take for granted.
"I had to go all the way down from the lineup cards and the scorebook to getting stuff at the scorebook to getting stufr at the scarves, home plate" she said "I really bad to po throuph a huge checklist just to make sure I did checkit forget ant mome mure I did forget anything.

The Orangewomen hope to not forget their game faces in today's twinbill with Binghamton (8-4).

SU won six of its last nine

The remainder of her matches remain very important for Lai in her hopes of qualifying for the NCAA Tournament. Lai said she would probably have to win the rest of her matches in order to have a chance to qualify for the NCAAs.

Syracuse, who has fin-contests after a dismal Spring Break excursion, a streak freshman infielder Jackie Herrman said started in practice.
"I think we've picked up the intensity in practice and our attitudes in terms of what we had to do," Herrman said. "I think we were sick of losing"

Syracuse would like to weep the Bearcats, knowing that for the first time in months, partisan crowd wearing blue and orange will be in the stands.

We've been waiting to play in front of our friends and family and have people come see us ished third in the Big East the past two seasons, has high hopes about the conference tournament in Miami.

Shareen and the seniors are very focused to win in the tournament," Gifford said. "They don't want to finish third again. They want to win."

The Universtry or Arizona.
GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL in mexico since 1952

\section*{2000}

6-week sessions Intensive Spanish

July 3 - August 10 or July 10 - August 17, 2000 (1st thru fith semesters) - Eam: \(6-8\) units of credit

July 3 - July 21 or July 10 - July 28, 2000 (15t thru 4th semesters) • Earm: 4 units of credit
Intensive Spanish
5-week session
July 10 - August 9,2000
Upper-division Spanish, Literature & Cinema as well as Mexico-related courses in Anthropology. Political Science, Sociology, and Eilingual Education
For information or application, contact:
Guadalajara Summer School • The University of Arizona P.O. Box 40966 • Tucson, Arizona 85717 • Phone: (520) \(621-5137\) E-Mail: gssolu.arizona.edu Home Page: www.coh.arizona.edu/gss

\section*{Whter The Daiy Orange \\ Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 4439793 for more information.
play," Herrman said.
After nearly two months of traveling to places fike traveling to places ifke Tuscaloosn, Ala., and ClearwaTuscajoosa, Ala., and Clearwater, Fla., the Orangewomen nally get to spend their firs weekend on the Hill since Febru ary.
staying here and not have to wor staying here and not have to worry about getting on the bus," Hansen said. "We don't have to stay in hotels and can get a good night's sleep." night's sleep."

\section*{Dee Brown?} Denise Richards? Billy Dee Williams? De La Soul? DESIGN?

Apply to become a Daily Orange design editor and join the hottest team around. Applicants should have some knowledge of computerdesign programs like Quark XPress or Adobe PageMaker and a fing for all thatis visual. For more information, please call Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal at 443-9798 or drop off a letter of H Wh Hodhe Baily Orange ooffice at 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{WATCH}
continued from page 20
But to let dreams of Syracuse athletic greatness end with Michigan State's runaway tourney victory against \(S U\) would insult the sport that has experienced unparalleled success.

After all. the Eyracuse lacrosse program is the only sports team in efer ミats City that can lay \(6: 3:=: 0\) =on-championship every season. Players from West Genesee to the West coast flock to SU in search of the game's Holy Grail, knowing that the Orangemen will always be in the hunt for it.

Syracuse has made 17 consecutive trips to the Final Four and won five more national championships than basketball (zero) and football cone) have combined.

Some sacrifice piaying time to be part of it all.

Syracuse's midfield runs three solid lines deep. Players on the third line could start for other squads but instead come to the Hil to be part of something that runs deeper.

Legendary head coach Roy Simmons Jr. retired before the beginning of last season, and the team barely skipped a beat. New head coach John Desko guided the Orangemen to a season and the national champi-

\section*{STUDENI LRAVEL}

\section*{CTOVER PATCFEAMMP}
.. a summer camp for adults and chitdren with disabilities
Clover Patch Camp is tucked away in the middle of upstate New York. It has wooded glades, a winding stream, nature trails, rustic cabins, and a swimming pool. It is protected from the busy byways by a beautiful forest. Imagine this setting filled with a specially adapted pool, wheelchair accessible trails, and a trained, caring energetic staff of counselors.

Need extra money during your school vacation? Consider lending a helping hand at the Clover Patch Camp Staff are fun! Campers are great!

Positions available for Summer 2000:
Counselors
Activity Leaders
Lifeguards
Cooks
All we require to work at Clover Patch Camp is a willingness to work hard, the ability and desire to work outdoors for extended periods of time, as well as, the ability to work as a team with a diverse group of individuals. and be at least 18 years old.

If interested, please apply/fax/send/e-mail cover letter and resume to:
AD: camp/EQ/MF
Center for the Disabled
314 South Manning Blvd, Albany, NY 12208
Fax: 518-437-5667: E-Mail: IOBS@CFTD.ORG
Or call 518-437-JOBS to have an application mailed to you

onship game, where they lost to Virginia 12-10.

SU lacrosse players are big, athletic and funny to boot. Each game they deliver show-stopping hits. The game is played at a ra pace. Wt's fun to watch. With its storied program and rational prominence, it would be tough for the fairweather fans to lose interest with the lacrosse team lik they do when \(S\) football andual tailspin.

When Syracuse hoops was 19-0, everybody wore their "Real Men Wear Orange" T-shirt. In the 7-6 season-ending stretch, the season-ending stretch, the back of their closets.
First, people complained SU couldn't get the ball to center Etan Thomas. Then the Orangemen weren't trying hard enough. When worse came to worse, everybody's favorite scapegoat was Ryan Blackwell.

The tootball season went the same route, as a 5 - 1 start turned into a less-thanstellar campaign. The stu dents lost interest in football games faster than they dozed off in biology lecture. But what if the Syracuse basketball team made it to five straight Final Fours, let alone 17 ?

There wouldn't be an empty seat in the Dorne. They would set up a waiting list to get season tickets. Basketball fans would suddenly pop out of the woodwork.

With McNabb at the helm of its 1998 run to the Orange Bowl, Syracuse football gained more popularity But a \(7-5\) record in the first year of post-McNabb era was enough to leave fans grumbling.

Perhaps people forget SU has three major sports. What makes the phenomethe fact that the forgotten team lacrosse is the most team, lacr lominant.

The squad plays for the national championship every single season. When \(S U\) advances to the Final Four, the players don't cut apart the nets or even crack a smile.

It's expected.
So next time you're crying in your cookies because Syracuse didn't make a New Year's Day bowl game, or you're losing sleep because Jason Hart's career is over, remember: There is another alternative.

Lacrosse provides security in a Syracuse sports Iandscape that shows flashes of brilliance but otherwise disappoints with regularity.

No. 3 Loyola comes to town Friday night and will face \(S U\) in a battle that features two undefeated teams.

Come and discover the extra three months of Syracuse athletics.

It's not winter anymore. The grass on the quad is green.

Despite its Sweet 16 performance, Syracuse basketball is done, and if you're looking for football on the Carrier Dome carpet, you'll have to wait until September.

But for now, SU lax is on top of the mountain.

And don't worry, the game will be over by 11 p.m on Friday. \(44^{\prime}\) 's will still be open.

Greg Bishop is an assistant sports edilor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. Yout can e-mail hime at gwbishop@syr.edu.

\section*{Are you a social drinker?}

Come Earn Money and Participate in a Study on Alcohol Perception and Information Processing at SU. To participate you must be between the ages of 21 and 40, and you must be a social drinker. You will be paid \($ 5\) per hour plus \($ 10\) for transportation. You may also be eligible for a cash prize drawing. For more information please call: 443-3284.

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggies
by Neil Swaab

by Sam Baker
Area 52

Classic Meth

Yeah Whatever

by Dan Meth
[Yeah...I'll take Yeah..I'tl take a minor in... un Histocy

by Jeff Feligno

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10c each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word \(5 ¢\) extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE 8 are Pro-paid by:
Cash. Check. Master Card Viss or Discover Deadine: 2pm 2 business day ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Daily Orange: 7440 strom Avenue: Fyracuse NY 13210; Att Classilieds: OR AAAAAAAAAAMAA

Notices
Surmmer's Goming lose that winter bulae Doctor Secomrmended
1 -888-789-2967
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Autos \\
\hline \multirow[t]{4}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
-Student Friendly Auto Shopplngr \\
96 Ford Contoyt. 56995 \\
95 Chevy Cavalier RAG TOP, 57795 \\
\({ }_{95} 95\) Chevy Lumina. Sti335 \\
\({ }_{93} 94\) Ran \(4 \times 4\) Pr \\
93 font Bonnexlle -Supercharged, S6995 \\
GB Font G. Prix Coupe. 51599 \\
ER Ford Taunus LX 52499 \\
Bank Financing and Wamanies avalable on mest vetudes \\
Oriando Molors \\
2417 Mation Are Solvay NY
469.1694 468.1894 hurv. myautos. com'orlando
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1995 Explorer Sport 2 Door, 4WD. White. Tow package. 70 k miles. new Goodycar Hi/S lires & brakes. Et'C. Very Ciean, orignoly owner. non-smoker Aulo Aumour Paint \(&\) Rusi Protector \(10.500-\mathrm{EO} 430-1102\)

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Patt time jobs delivery drivers, disthwashers apply Cosme Pizza 143 Marsthall St.
Assembly Service Tech. Good PayiBenaliss 5300 sigring Bonus. No expenences required.

Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed for June 21-Juy 26 and July 26 - Aucust 20. RN or LPN, \($ 3001\) Juy 26 and July 26 - August 20. RN or LPN, 5300 / positions al Jewish Conmunity Cevirts ctildren's camp on Seneca Lake. Your children are welconee Conlad Renee at 716-461-2000×263 for inlormationdapplication.

Fult yeart summer nannies needed. Work with prominent lamulies in New York and Cl. Exteilent prominent lamilies in New Yotk and Cl. Exceilent opportunities. Average salaries \(5350-\) s500wk.
Induders nom and board. Mectical benelits. Traval opporturities. Ag9ncy 1-800-932-2736 and surrounding areas. Start Mid April or Early May. Call Gary 446 -9599 Camp Counsclors: Jewish Communtity Center of Greater Pocchester- Camp Seneca Laka is seeking maic and temale counselors who love working with ds. Must be at least a college Ireshman and be vailable June 21 -August 20. Lieccuard certitication a plus! Salary plus room and board. ontad Heneo at 716-461-2000x253 10e information/application.

Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in www pineloresteamp.com have an amazing summer! Prestigious coedt comp in beautitul Mass. seeks caring, motivalad collone students \(&\) gracs who love kids! GENERAL college students & grads who lowe hids! GENERAL SPECIALTY COUNSELOAS nedded. Join a edicated, lun team- Competitive salaries travalt 1 1-800-762-2820.
Camp Fositions: Hiking, ropes eourse, narure, pool, and walerski spocialists sought for overnight camp experienced applicants 21+. Salaries \($ 1800-2800\) plus room and board from June 17 to August 20. Conmat Rences at \(715-461-2080 \times 263\) ior
Job Opportunities
Jriversity Bartending Classes Start Soon Tudent Discounts t-800-U-CAN-MIX Calt For intormation!!!!!
Pre-mecteal student wanted for tulltime position at busy medical olfice, while wating to hear from AMAZING SUMMER at premiet PA coed chitden's women wanted for all sports, activities. swim. Experience. Internhhips Availabie. Contact carmp oftice \(610-941-0128\) of www campnockamixon.com a serecule a schedule

\section*{WANTED \\ Help Wanted}

\section*{WOAK FAOM HOME Up to 525.00 mr PT
$75.00ht FTT CALL FOR FREE BOOKLET} 575.00. \(\mathrm{MH} \mathrm{F} / \mathrm{C}\)
\(800-297-5670\)

BARN HELP NEEDED: Pesponsible individual with horse expetienco to caro fer small tarmencto in tarayetie. Feeding, stati care and turnoul seven dans a week onct a day. Please call 473-7146
Mon- Fri Expen weekly potentia! maiting our circulars. No S1500 weekly
Expenence Re
202-452-7679.

FOR RENT

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISTT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTIONOF B BEDROON BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
KensingronPlace 1stFloor large 3Bedroam gLivingroon Dining Room Modemkitchen hartwoodfloors porcties nearBusline

\section*{LUXURUOUS: Eslory apithot, Gourmet kitdoin,} Custom loungeliv area. Skyight 15H ceiling,
 NO PETSIL Leases Fineaarznet.com Call tor appl \(469-0780\)

University Ave, five bedroom House one block Trom Marsthall Street furnished laundry pafking lease \($ 1,300.00\) plus utities D.N. Duckar \(445-1229\) Univergity Ave. Three Eedroom Flat Close Walk Campus turnished laundry parking lease \($ 875.00\) us uifities D N D Ducker 445-1223
Apartments close to campus citan 2-3-5 bedrooms some with fireplace laundry, parking The "Pink Patace" 5 Er. house adjacent 10 Rose he Pink Palace 5 Be, house adjacent 10 Rose Garden 721 Ostromn Ave. Bargain Rate. 446 -3653 4 Bdrm House S300irm and 3 bdrm llats \($ 250 / \mathrm{mm}\).
Avail Aug. Yery nice. Walk to SU. FM Realiy Avail Aug. Very nice. Walk to SU. FM Really

13 Comstock 5/6 Bedroorts Across From Wormens Gym. Al amenities, mid May lease
\(52400+6 a 2.3304\) \(52400+682 \cdot 3304\)
University and Comstock Very close to Campus Etriciencies and Two Sedroons Secure Didg. Iurrished 1aundry parking \(5375.0010 $ 700.00\)
Indudes Al Utilites \(445-1229\) D.N.Drucker Lid.

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Stop ciean 3 bedroom aparimenta Fireplace, ow price taundrify.
Ackarman Ave. 4br 2Bath apt. Fumished. carpeted, walk to campus
\(5.00-5 / 01\) lease \(446-7202\)

02Cierendon large clean 2Sedroom lat harchood illors porch olt-streel parking lyr lease security

2 Bedroom furnished aparment with all utilities included! \($ 240.00\) per person. One mile from canpus. Laundry. Parking. May + August leases. 2 Bedroom Apts 202. 204 Ostrom, 105 Euchid Terrace Large Ro
or Aug \(446-5186\)
4 Sedroons furnished llat with at ubitios included! One block from carmpus near Law School +ESF. 2 Huth bathrooms, carpel, laundry, parking. Available hayor Augus ...... pen Studio and Etfleiency Apartments, lurnished.
thitites inctuded, parking, latndry nica siza, utibites inctuded, parking, laundry, nice size.
hartwood Iloors and cappet, 476 -2982.
204 Ostrom Eticiency One and zBedroom Secure Avall hund \(446-5186\)

L(.)(.)K
Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms ivingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175 For details
\begin{tabular}{c}
Apartments \\
\hline THREE BEDROOM \\ APARTMENT, \\
TWO FULL BATHS, \\
EUCLIOAVE. FREE HEAT \\
GREATLOCATON \\
476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
ooking ior a place
Frea roommate sublet Estings

\section*{1,2, and 3 Bedroom Apartments \\ 302 Marshall St 621 Euclid Ave 145 Avondale Place}

Available for 2000-2001 ully Furnished, Laundry Maintenance and Management. Wall to Wall Carpet and/or Fefinished Rard wood Floors

University Area Apts 1011 E. Adams St. #30 479-5005
www.universityarea.com
Euclid and
Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR

Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parkin, Condition June & August lease

Ben Tupper 637-0978

Raiphl Ci. Martell

Female Nude Models Needed \($ 25.00\) "Hour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time
(315)893-7779

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROON APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES

WWW.UNIVEASITYHILL.COM

One and Two Bedroon
Harnishord Apartments Corner of Walnut and Hartison Avenes. Leases Commence Jume 2000.
ast Month and Security. No Pets Alowad. Last Month and Security No Pels Allowad

\section*{ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcolt Street area Avail June, July + Aug 445-0540}

University 283 Bedroom TownH Wuses & Flals. hexpensive and mist condition. Washer/Dryet.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LANCASTER AVENUE \\
1& 3 Bedroom Apartrients Outstanding Condition Fully Furnished Call Anne Cervini 424-0220 \(\times 428\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
5 Bedroom Apt Ackemman Ave 6-1-00 \\
Fulty Furnithed Porchess, Laundry Parking, Dishwasher Owner Kanager
682-2218 682-2218
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
1.2.3.4 85 Bdrmi Apartments, Housos + Stedios. Clean. Spacious. Supenor Condition, some ecenlly renerated. Waking distance. laundry parking 474-6791

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry,

Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577
Apartment 4Br. Flult bath t.place h.wood floor .room d.room porch tree laundry available \(446-1951\)
SumnerAve and LancasterAve three bedrooms apartment also two bedrooms semi tumished avaih able now cal 445-1027
Large claan 38edroom flats Westcoth, Broad St afea. Hardwood floors, porches, ol 1yt tease security \(5560+446-9928\)

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1019 E.Adams
509 University
Carpeted, Air Conditioned Furnished, Securs, Laundry, Parking, Malntenance.
University Aran Apts.
479-5005
uww.univertity

\section*{Healy's return bolsters Syracuse attack \\ BY KEVIN LEITZELL \\ your kids, even if you're giving a lit- \\ also a solid defender with the speed \\ the scoreboard for nine goals and one}

Staff Writer

Katrina Hable compared her to a reight train.

Busting through opposing defenses, junior attacker Karen Healy has muscled her way to the top of the Syracuse women's lacrosse scoring chart this season.
"She's ve's very big," Hable said. "She's very scary. With her on the field, it just adds one more threat to our team and balances our attack. She intimidates defenders so much that she almost plows right through."

Being compared to a locomotive is not a bad compliment, especially coming from Hable, a 1999 third-team All-American.

The offensive production Healy brings to the team was missing from last year's squad, as the Freeport na tive sat out the 1999 season to handle personal issues. Although Healy's hiatus took a bit away from the team, the off-field matters were a bigger concern for the coach and the squad.
"I wasn't happy that we didn't have her, but at the same time, she was doing what was best for her, said head coach Lisa MIller. "You have mixed feelings as a coach. You always want to do what's best for tle up on the field. Back for her junior year, Healy has jumped into the starting lineup and leads the Orangewomen (4-3) in two different offensive categories this season.

She tops the team with 16 goals and six assists. Healy has scored in six of Syracuse's seven games, including a five-goal performance in last week's 16-8 home victory over Colgate, m really excited to come back and play, Healy said. "I missed it a lot. I'm just going all out."
bache Orangewomen welcomed her back with open arms at the beginning of the year. Syracuse needed another scorer to complement Hable on the offensive side of the ball.

Senior Jenna Szyluk has missed the entire season due to a bulging disk in her back. Szyluk and Hable combined for 75 goals in 1999.

Miller said Healy's return to the lineup eases the loss of Szyluk. said. "She's taken some pressure off of Katrinas taken some pressure off off of Lauren Brady. She's opened up our settled attack.

With her 5-foot-10 frame, Healy is an intimidating presence against her defensive counterparts. She is o make an easy transition to the of fensive side of the ball.

She showed her size and speed 7 victory against Connecticut.

During one Husky rush in the third quarter, 5-foot-3 attacker Heather Levins charged towards Su more looked to go toward the goal crease but lost the ball to a Healy check.

Healy scooped the loose ball and sprinted the length of the field for a shot on goal.

I was waiting for her to hang her umped Healy said. "I saw it was looking randss off, but my teammates cleared a space for me and I fired it."

Although the shot went wide right, the steal sent a message to the opposing team.
"She has no mercy," goalkeeper Clothilde Ewing said. "If you're in her way, that's your bad and not hers She goes out there with all the confidence in the world."

During the team's inaugural season in 1998, Healy anchored the Orangewomen defense with fellow ju hior Erin Boyle. Healy was a secondteam Regional All-American and lit assist

Healy spent most of her playing time in 1998 as a defender with an overlap on offense, Miller said. This overiap on offense, miner shid home wing position on attack and overlaps on the defensive side of the ball.

Healy excels at the one-on-one defense position. But she said setting her teammates up and going to the net are her top priorities. Her size and strength advantage over her opponents makes for an easier transition to the attack position.
\(t\) I'm big," Healy said. "It's hard to getard. Once I get going, it's hard to stop me.

Healy came to Syracuse with an impressive high school record. She was a two-time All-American at Freeport High School, scoring 54 goals and 12 assists while leading Freeport to a 10-1-1 record in 1997.

While she played defense during her freshman seasonat SU, her numbers this year are starting to resemble the high school statistics.

Healy credits her scoring touch this season to that aggressive, loco-motive-like approach to lacrosse.
"That's my style of play," Healy said. "I just go and if you're in my way, that's it."

\section*{[C1ASSifieds] Nancy Peek, Advertising Design Director 443-9793}

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities.
Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across trom Haven). Univerivit Arsaz Apts 479-5005 arge 2 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance S.U. Off slieet parking. Laundry. Call 476-23B2.

3 Bedroorn Modern Aparment on Ackerman Avaitable June ist 2000 Soms ulities. \({ }^{\circ}\) Free Laundry*. Serious Students Prolerred. No Pels. 254-0025
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
1,2,3-4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
mirrowaves, \\
disposal, \\
securityssems \\
All Locations / \\
Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE
SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE ORTWO PACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE ORTW
PERSONS. FREE HEAT. GREAT LOCAION 476-9933

One Bedroom Apariments Close to Campus. utidies induded. Gak iosors, fire place, Jumished patking. very clean, taundry Cail Gordon 476-2982. Furnished 2.5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments Furnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments
Livingsion, Sumner, Ackeman, Eucid 469-6665

Genesee Manor Apts 2113 Exst Genesoe spacious two bedroom 4.5 baths abundant closel space for inlormation Elaine 463-1143

\(1,1 / 2\) Bedroon atic apartment on quiet street. Unturnished. Air conditioned wal to walt carpet new appliances. Suitable for single or couple. Available appliances. Suitable for single or couple.
Jung \(15!$ 350.00\) per monit plus utitities. One year leass. No Fels 2430754
Ackerman Ave. nico 3badroom llat, Iurnished. stove. relrig. laundry, fireplace, garage.
Avail June 1st 446-4229
Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance Large 3 bedroon. 2 full bath. Walking dis.
S .U. off street parking. Laundy. Call 476 -2982.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Two Bedroom Apartments With utilities included, Fireplaces Fumished, Hartwood Hoors and Cappeting, Pantry, Porch, Laundry, Parking, close to Campus. Call Gordon 476-2982 \\
\hline
\end{tabular} Houses

RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOMHOUSE. FUANISHEDGAEATACES PORCHES,

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES 476-9933

Large \(3 / 4\) bedrooms house on Eudid, Marjland. Fireplace offstreet parking, washer-dryer, waik to campus, reasonabie rate, avaitable e8/1/00
Call \(449.4954,637.5195\)

\section*{Summer Rentals}

\section*{Summer Bargain! \(5200 /\) mo pes person with all utitites included \(23+4\) bedroon apartments} utilities incuoded. \(23+4\) bedroom apartments One block trom Campus. 446-9598

\section*{Summer}

Sur. ner Subiets Avaitable. A variaty of sizes and locations. University Area Apts 479.5005
Rekerman available Junc1-August15, Huge fumished 1.2.3.4 bedroom flat. Great poreh. parking 446-3420
Summer Sublet Three Bedroom Apartment Two Bedrooms leth \($ 200\) month u 53 Ackerman Call 442-6495 (Carol)

\section*{SERVICES}

\section*{Travel}

Eurorail Pass Experts www.raiddeals.com Get Eurorail Pass Experis www.randeals.com Get tons ol FREE stut- 2.500 discound oflers. rail map o timetable. Fige night o The Pink Palace map & timetathe, frea nigh a The Pink and more 1-688-RALLPASS or raildeals. co.
BE FLEXIBLE...SAVE SSS Europe S169 (oiw - taxes) CHEAP FARES WOALDWIDE!! Mexico taxesl CHEAP FARES WOALDWIDE! Mexico catibeean \($ 199(n)+\) taxes \()\) Call \(800 \cdot 326-2009\) mwn.4cteapair.com

\section*{MISC.}
 As always, please use caytion when replying or being teplies lrom any actuertisement in each issug, for the Daity Orange does not take to-ist sponsibility tor arry miscondect resulting in contact beiween yourself and acuentiser. tact between yoursell and adverliser.

\section*{All the news. All the time.}

\section*{NOTES}

Bulluck projections Syracuse linebacker Keith Bulluck's stock has risen since his better-than expected workout at SU .

He is almost a lock for the first round of the NFL Draft. But the question remains - where will Bulluck go?

CBS SportsLine's Frank Coyle rates Bulluck the highest, going No. 18 to the New York Jets.
FoxSports.com puts Bulluck at No. 22 to the Seahawks, Pro Football Weekly has the Panthers selecting him 23rd overall and CNNSI.com sends Bulluck south to Tampa Bay with the 27th pick.

For what it's worth. draft guru Mel Kiper ranks Bulluck the eighth best prospect in the entire draft.

\section*{Will he stay or go?}

Florida swingman Mike Miller said he will talk with coach Billy Donovan before making a choice about whether to enter the NBA Draft.

The sophomore stood out in the NCAA Tournament, hitting an vertime buzzer-beater against Butler to advance the Gators to the second round. From there, Florida ode its deep bench to the championship game, which it lost to Michigan State 89-76.

In the game. Miller scored just 10 points Inconsistencies like that give Miller a reason to come back, Donovan said.
"Mike's best decision or himself or his career would be to come back. Donovan said. "I know a ot of college coaches say that because they want to keep the team intact. And sometimes, NBA scouts think differently.

Hit the road, Tee
Tee Martin quarterbacked Tennessee to the 1998 national football championship.

Now, Knoxville is rewarding him with a street in his name.

South Stadium Drive, near the Volunteers Neyland Stadium, will become -Tee Martin Drive" if Mayor Victor Ashe's proposal passes.

I've never had a street named after me before.Martin said, "and this will probably be the last street named for me."

Pro Football Weekly ranks Martin the third best \(Q B\) in th., \(s\) season's NFL Draft on April 15. The 6-foot-1, 227-pounder threw for 2,317 yards tast season and passed for 12 touchdowns.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who is the only major league pitcher to throw a no-hitter on Opening Day?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. Who is Syracuse football's all-time leading rusher?
A. Joe Morris, whose 4,299 yards outdistance his nearest competition by more than 1.300 yards.

\section*{[sports]}

\section*{Dave Curtis, editor \(\quad\) The Daily Orange April 6, 200020}

\section*{Attack buries opposition}

\section*{BY GREG BISHOP \\ Asst. Sports Editor}

Trying to stop the Syracuse attack unit is like playing roulette-place a bet on one lucky number, and pray it works out.
Las Vegas are so grand? Las Vegas are so grand?

The wheel doesn't stop on the lucky number too of ten. lose their money, as young lose their money, as a young Syracuse squad that lacks an esyears continues to put the ball in years con the net.
"It's shot selection," sophomore Liam Banks said. "I don't think anybody's being greedy. Werre playing as a team. When somebody scores, it's not really a matter of who scores. It's our whole that team scores.
"We have our goals set for the end of the year, and I think everybody knows that individual stuff really doesn't matter."

Opposing defenders know those goals and have trouble with the vaunted Orangemen attack.

See ATTACK page 14

Liam Banks and his mates on the Syracuse offense average more than 14 gonls per game this season. On Fiday nigitt, No. 1 SU hosts No. 3 Loyola in a game featuring the nation's two mamaining undefeated taarms.

\section*{Orangewomen open new stadium today}

\section*{BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer}

There have been no games at the Softball Stadium at Skytop since the Syracuse Orangewomen wrapped up their fall exhibition schedule in October,

Since then, the team has practiced on it in preparation for this afternoon, when the Orangewomen (13-16) finally step onto the field for official competition in a 3 p.m. doubleheader against Bingamton.

The team got a reprieve from playing its 30th and 31st consecutive games away from The Hill on Wednesday, as a scheduled do "We wanted to play," freshman first baseman Leah Hansen said. "It's always better than practicing. We played ways better than practicing. We played them in the fall and had some good games against them."

The weather looks promising for the home opener today, as temperatures should be in the mid-50s with a chance of a few showers, according to the News Channel 9 Web site.

If Mother Nature cooperates, the Orangewomen can finally step onto a Gield that head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said might be a jewel of the Big East when SU begins conference play in 2001.
"I think our field will be one of the better ones, if not close to the best, in the Big East once we keep working with it and adding a few things on it, Firnthe field surface hos been phenomenal the feld surface has been phenomenal, ing with me to find out what the best ing with me

The Skytop field is unique in that, like most college softball fields, it is

See FIELD page 15

\section*{Lai rises in national polls}

BY JASON SACKS
Staff Writer
Shareen Lai became more than a name at the 1999 Big East Tournaa name

She entered the conference tennis championship unranked and unheralded and left with everyone knowing who she was.

Lai defeated the No. 88 singles player in the country, Boston College's Cynthia Tow, giving Syracuse a 4-3 dual match victory.

Lai then went 5 -0 at the tournament ( \(3-0\) singles, 2-0 doubles) and was named its Most Outstanding Performer.

Since then, the Syracuse senior slowly has worked her way into the national rankings. Last week's Innational rankings. Last week's Intional poll ranked Lai the 78 th best singles player in the country
The previous week's poll had her slotted in the No. 81 position, her first ever national ranking.
"Being nationally ranked was one of the goals I set for myself," Lai said. "Each year I try to progress. and this year I have had the confidence that I need to play well."

Lai said playing nationally ranked opponents last year helped her progress physically as well as meating the opponents she could only

See LAl page 15

\section*{Fans forget about SU's dominance on lacrosse field}

GREG BISHOP

Maybe it has something to do with the weather

Or maybe it's easier to get to the Marshall Street bars in the springtime.

Or just maybe players like Donovan McNabb and people like Dick Vitale and television promuch attention for enother sport much attention grab the national spotlight. For whatever reason, many Syracuse sports faithful view the athletic year as a seven-month September and ends when the Orangemen get knocked out of the NCAA Tournament.

See WATCH page 16
 Three years latar, she rante No. 78 in the country.

FRIDAY
April 7, 2000
\(57 / 45\)
Early sun with \(30 \%\) chance of late day rain briefs classifieds -18
editorial
lifestyle
volume xaxix Number 128 Syrocuse, New York 20000

do
The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper

Best of the Last two Division I unbeatens battle at Carrier Dome.
See Sports.
Break It Down
A new club opens tonight in Armory Square.
See Lifestyle.

Cheiron Thomas shiefds his face with his jacket as he exits the courtroom Thurs day after learning he could stand trial next month

\section*{in connection with the October stabbings of three Syracuse University football players and their friends. \\ Suspect awaits trial}

\section*{By EMILY KULKUS}

Managing Editor
Cheiron Thomas is out a pair of boots - but his Timberlands may be the least of his problems if the 22-year-old faces a jury next month in a criminal trial for his involvement in the Halloween weekend stabbings outside Sadie's Place.

Thomas' boots were confiscated after his arrest Oct. 31 when Syracuse Police Officer Lisa Negrisor spotted "what appeared to be blood" on them.

Just hours earlier, Thomas had been arrested for his involvement in a fight at Sadie's, 104 Seymour St., during which David Byrd, Maynard "Duke" Pettijohn and Giovanni DeLoatch - all members of the Syracuse University football tearn wounds and other injuries during the fight. Thomas, of 4432 S. Salina St., is being charged with first-degree assault for stabbing Pettijohn in the head and neck. A court hearing Thursday afternoon before Judge John J. Brunetti was one more step by Assistant District Attorney Jim Cecil in attempting to bring the case before a jury.

Cecil is prosecuting the case on behalf of the people of Onondaga County. Thomas has been out on \($ 5,000\) bail since the incident, said James Medcraf, his private defense attorney.
evidence could be wased held to see if any evidence could be used at trial," Medcraf said. \({ }^{\text {Th }}\)
Thomas' boots were discussed during the 30 -minute procedure with the assistance of Negrisor's testimony that she saw what she believed to be blood on his boots.

The boots were confiscated the night of the incident to be submitted to the Onondaga County Crime Lab for testing. The results, however, have not been released, Medcraf said. He added that he did not know where the boots were or when the results would be released.

If convicted of the charge, Thomas could face up to 25 years in prison. Thomas has no prior convictions, according to his lawyer.

On Thursday, Trequaill Stackhouse,
See HEARING page 3

\section*{E Student Government} JRB delays decision on contested bill BY TIFFANY LANKES Asst. News Editor

Two groups of students faced off against the Student Government Association on Thursday night in a second round protest of bills approved by the Assembly during the past two proved weeks.

During a two-hour meeting of SGA's neutral Judicial Review Board, the New York State Public Interest Research Group and three SGA meetings this month. After discussing the cases, the board decided to hold its final decisions until later notice.
Freshmen Assermblymembers Adam Dufy Joe Sauer and Joni Weber protested a bill that changes the name of their organization to the Student Association and increases its role in See SGA page 5

\section*{Eity Affairs}

\section*{Syracuse lacks Census returns}

\section*{City missing target, bureau optimistic by ashleigh graf}

Staff Write
The city of Syracuse is far below the target rate of return for Census 2000.

Although the return rate as of Thursday Was 52 percent, members of the local census Syracuse area Census Bureau spokesman. Onondaga County as a whole has a 62 percent return rate, according to census reports.
return rate, according to census reports. hind, but I'm not concerned in either case," Billings said.

See CENSUS page 4

\section*{VPA design professor dies at 65}

Staff Reports
John Sellers, professor of advertising design and visual communication in the College of Visual and Performing Arts, died Tuesday at the age of 65 .

Sellers came to Syracuse University in 1969 and was an integral part of the staff at VPA for his entire 30 -year career at the university, said Toni Tbland, direcTor in the school of art and design. during her freshman yesr in VPA during her freshman year in VPA im only here becatise John gave me what I need to be a creative problem solver," she said. "When I had him he was a new teacher and I remember being so excited to have him."
Sellers was instrumental in improving the design program at VPA and making it a larger part of the school's curriculum, Toland added.
"He created the program pretty much from nothing," she said. "He took it from 30 kids to over 300 at one point."

Robert Dacey, chairman of the department of visual communication in said that Sellers' personality and said that Seliers personaity made him an invaluable addition to VPA. Sellers was chairman of the department of visual commuuniversity 17 years aga.
"He was always a very giving, very caring person," Dacey said. "He basically took me under his wing and mentored me. He showed me how to be a great teacher and a great person, which he led by great example."

Sellers was diagnosed with iver cancer shortly before Christmas and underwent chemotherapy in an attempt to correct it.

PA will not forget his warmes at VPA will not forget his warmth and dedication.
college and teaching, he loved he college and he was loved back said.

Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone

\section*{- City Affairs \\ Residents continue protests, seek sewage plant alternatives}

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON}

Asst. News Editor
South Side residents called attention Thursday night to a re-cently-built baseball stadium on the North Side. They noted a skating rink that will soon be constructed in the Syracuse University area.
"They get down to us and what Elsa Phillips a resident of said Elsa Philips, a resident of Syr Philips eathered city residents at the about

\section*{Presbyterian Church to contest a} proposed sewage treatment site that would, as she said, invade the heart of her neighborhood.

But the plant is necessary to clean the heavily-polluted Onondaga Lake and Onondaga Creek, said Paul Weichselbaum, a representative from the church "We have to restore the lak. ith the have to restore the lake, with the help of people in the county, he said. We have to come of getting the lake back to beip See WASTE page 12

\title{
[briefs]
}

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

Link found between vaccines, autism WASHINGTON, D.C - Dutism has reach autism has reached epidemic proportions, the head of san Research Institute testified Thursday at a hearing on Capitol Hill that the disease may be linked to routine vaccines that millions of children are required to receive -a theory that is disputed by other medical experts.

Benard Rimland, a research psychologist who has studied the who has studied the symptoms and possible symptoms and possible causes of autism for 35 years, joined other scientists, public health scientists, public health officials and parents of autistic children to discuss the increasing rates of autism throughout the country.
Technology enlarges Internet capacity

An opticat-technology breakthrough announced yesterday could dramatically enlarge the capacity for data networks to provide high-speed Intemet access to a nearly endaccess to a nearly end tomers.

This new "electrooptic modulator can pump data in the form of light signals through fiber-optic networks -fiber-optic networks the backbone of the internet as well as telephone and cable TV systems - at 10 or more times the rate possible today but using only a tiny fraction of the power now required.

\section*{Ford announces electric car release} Stealing a march on its domestic compett tors, Ford Motor Co. yesterday became the first U.S. car maker to announce plans to sell a hybrid passenger vehicle using both gasoline and electric motors.

Ford officials said the company is committed to marketing the hybrid electric version of its new small sport of its new smail sp utility vehicle, the utility vehicle, the Escape, In 2003. Escape, In 2003 Escape HEV will Escape HEV will achieve fuel economy achieve fuel economy of about 40 miles per gallon.
-We are developing what we believe will be whe most fuel efficient and clean-operating sport utility vehicie available anywhere," said Neil Ressler, Ford's vice president for research and vehicle technology.

The new hybrid would help Ford meet federal guidelines for reducing average vehicle fuel consumption.

\section*{Elian's father, family arrive \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. - \\ they would inform Elian's \\ chological pressures" on his} Talks between the government and Miami relatives of 6-year old Etian Gonzalez broke down yesterday, hours after Elian and declared his "impatience \({ }^{\text {n }}\) to be reunited with his son.

As rumors spread through a tense Miami that the government might forcibly take the dreds of protesters gathered in the streets outside the Little Havana home where Elian is staying.

Government officials said great-uncle, Lazaro Gonzalez, today of a date on which his custody of the boy will end. They said the day is likely to be Wednesday.

Two or three days before that, a letter will be sentinstructing him wh

The breakdown in efforts to negotiate a voluntary transof a day that began when a grim-faced Juan Miguel Gonzalez accused his Miami relatives of inflicting "cruel psyson. \({ }^{1}\) have arrived in Wash ington, where 1 hope I'll soon be able to embrace my son, Elian Gonzalez Brotons, for the first time in more than four time in more than four months, Gonzalez told reporters in Spanish at

He landed from Havana at 6:45 a.m. with his second wife, Nercy Carmenate, and infant son, Hianny.
ly," he said, "and we love him very much."

\section*{national news}

\section*{Firm decodes human genome}

WASHINGTON, D.C. A biotech company announced yesterday that it has decifered the genome of a human volunthat was greeted by both praise and skepticism from academic scientists who point out that the job remains unfinished. With a publera Genomics, in a race with a public effort to map the human genetic code, said that it has decoded millions of DNA fragments extracted from an anonymous person - the first anonymous person - the first phase of its effort to put together a so-called "working draft" of the genome.

Celera president J. Craig Venter said that it will take another three to six weeks for his team to assemble the pieces for a complete genetic blueprint.

If so, the company is slightly ahead of its competition, the publicly funded Human

The compa
The company's achievement is akin to taking millions of random satellite photographs ica.

The next step is assembling them into a complete map.

\section*{Gov't charges Lockheed Martin}

WASHINGTON, D.O.The State Department's decigion to charge Lockheed Martin
Corp. with 30 export violations Corp. With 30 export violations nology to China won rave renology to China won rave retive defense analysts and leading Republicans on Capitol ing Hill.

But satellite industry executives and congreasional freetraders expressed concern that the latest cage of a U.S. Batellite maker sharing sensitive data with China would harden positions and make it more difficult to reach agreement on reforming U.S. export controls.

The split foreshadows a coming floor fight in the Senate over reauthorizing the Exporit Administration Act, which governs the Commerce Departments licensing of exports that can be used for itary purposes.
itary purposes. official in the Reagan administration, said the State Department's decision to charge LockArms Export Control Act was "a superb action."

\section*{world news}

\section*{Former premier sentenced to life}

KARACHI, Palcistan - Former Pakistani prime minister Nawaz Sharif was spared the death penalty and sentenced to ing found guilty of hijacking and ing found guilty of hijacking and his futile attempt to prevent a mil his futile attempt to prevent a mil itary coup that ousted him from power last October.

An anti-terrorism court cleared Sharif of attempted murder and kidnapping charges in connection with his efforts to prevent a commercial aircraft carrying Gen. Pervez Musharraf from ing Gen. Pervez Musharraf from Ianding in Pakistan on Oct. 12. Ianding in Pakistan on Oct. 12.
Six co-defendants, including Sharifs brother, were acquitted on all The

The sentence was seen by some as a setback for Musharraf, who toppled Sharifs government hours after the plane landed and remains at the head of a military regime

\section*{Russia incurs \\ council sanctions}

MOSCOW - The Council of Europe, a 41-nation human rights assemblage, became the first foreign organization to threaten RusChechnya yesterdsy what in Chechnya yesterday when it Mosoos from its ranks to suspend Moscow from its ranks.
The council, whic
trasbourg, France, demanded

\section*{State opposes \\ gas tax repeal}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The Senate on Thursday made clear its firm opposition to eliminating the extra 4.3 -cent-a-galion gasoline tax that Congress ly defeat of a pending Republi-can-sponsored repeal bill scheduled to come up next week.

The 66-34 vote against re-peal-a far larger margin than expected - came on a largely symbolic proposal designed to show Senate sentiment on the issue. Repeal oppoaents fear that the move would reduce federal highway money that states use for transportation projects.
The vote came as the Energy Department forecast that gasoline prices would average $1.46 a gallon during the busy April-September driving season well below the \($ 1.80-\mathrm{a}\)-gallon forecast it issued only a month ago.

Energy Department officials said that the changed outlook reflects an increase in global oil supplies and a vote by giobal oil supplies and a vote by week to boost their output of crude oil slightly.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

TSU's men's lacrosse faces Loyola at 8 p.m. in the Carrier Dome. Admission is \($ 6\) for adults and \($ 3\) for SU students and youth.
\(\square\) Nurudafina Pili Abena presents Afro Cuban and Carib-bean rhythms during a drumming workshop from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Westoott Community Center, 826 Eucli Ave. Tickets are \($ 25\).

\section*{TODAY-TOMORROW}
- UU Cinemas presents "Toy Story 2" at 7 and 9:30 p.m in Gifford Auditorium. Admission is \($ 3\). "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" follows at midnight for no charge.
- Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums host Late Night at the Gym until 2 a.m. with open recremore.

\section*{TODAY-SUNDAY}
- SU Drama presents "Blood Wedding" at 8 p.m. at Arthur Storch Theater, 820 E . Genesse St. Adrnission is students and seniors. Call 443-3275 for more information.
\(\square\) The Salt City Center for the Performing Arts presents "Jesus p.m. today and tomorrow, and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at 601 S. Crouse Ave. Tickets are \($ 15\) to \($ 18\), discounts for students, seniors and groups. Call

\section*{SATURDAY}
- Kappa Delta Rho sponsors a Twister tournament at noon in the Schine Undereround. Tickets to the Schine Undereround. Tickets to participate are $5 a person. Protrophy Association.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at JSilverOneeaok com

\section*{CORRECTIONS:}

A graphic accompanying a news story in Thursdays edition of The Daily Orange was incorrectly titled 'Average undergraduate git aid per student at SU' aid per student at SU. Aid.' The title should be Financial

Also in Thursday'e D.O., a graphic title incorrectly said, "bills prioritized by SU.'
prioritized by SU.' say some bills
The D.O. regrets the errors.
[d.a]
The Daily Orange is published Syracuse Universiry's academic ye by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is dismibuted on carnpus wich the first five coples complementary and each addicional copy coase \($ 1\).

Manngerment 443-9798
Buainess 443-2314
News 443-2127
Liffste
Lifestyle 443-2128
Sports 443-2208
\(\begin{aligned} \text { Phooography } & 443 \text { 43-9795 }\end{aligned}\)
Email editorialquailyorange.com
Online wwwdailyorangercom

\section*{- Computers & Technology}

\section*{Record label owner discusses use of MP3s}

By CARO
MP3s will give well-known musicians leverage with recording labels by giving independent labels opportunities to showcase musicians, said Bree Freeman, a Syracuse University doctoral student in public communications.

Freeman is a former production director at the local radio station Hot FM-107.9. His label, Blue Duck Records, was the first record label for the folk rock band Rusted Root.

During a lecture Thursday night, he played two versions one an MP3 and one a CD copy For Jonimht" and asked the 24 students in the audience which one they preferred.

Most consumers, he said, annot tell the difference between sound on a \(C D\) and an MP3.

MP3 is a file format that allows music to be encoded, compressed and transmitted through the Internet. These music files can be freely downloaded off the Internet because they are not eninternet because they are not enable digital codes called waterable digit

The Internet will have an increasingly bigger piece of music distribution, creating a shift in the balance of power from the recording label to the artist, Freeman said.

Musicians can get more exposure when they post their work on the Internet in MP3 format for cownloading and independent labels can reach larger markets, he said.

Recording artists will use the Internet to increase their leverage, Freeman said. Well-known artists such as David Bowie have been able to exploit this new medium successfully, he added.

There are an estimated 1 million to 3 million songs downloaded daily from the Internet worldwide, Freeman said. The Recording Industry Association percent of music in the United States is pirated, he added.

\section*{HEARING}
continued from page 1
22 , of 218 McLennan Ave., pleaded guilty to first-degree assault for his involvement in the brawl. He was sentenced to seven years n a state prison for severely stabbing Myles Thomas, a high school friend of Pettijohn who was also at Sadie's that night. Myles

Thomas spent seven weeks in the hospital for his injuries.

Pettijohn was not as severely injured as Myles Thomas, but was treated and released by University Hospital for his wounds. Byrd, SU's starting cornerback, also sustained severe neck and shoulder wounds that forced him to spend one week at University Hospital.

But within three to four years, the music industry will years, the music industry wili tion, Freeman said.

The recording companies can put a watermark on CDs to prevent. unauthorized distribution, he said. While other people in the industry have suggested installing viruses in songs to prevent the songs from being copied -or "ripped" - Freeman dismissed that option as too harsh.

Although technologically-apt individuals will always be able to break security codes, the point is to build a "fence" high enough so the average person will not climb it, he said.

But record labels can profit by putting promotional MP3s on the Internet, Freeman said.

He said he will try to launch Blue Duck Records on the lnternet this summer. By provoking interest in the artist, the record label can later profit from name recognition, he added.

In the long run, labels can tion and keep the consumer sat-

DeLoatch spent several days in the hospital before being released. The fourth man, Daniel Moore, was treated and released immediately following treatment for his injuries.

Cheiron Thomas is expected to appear in court April 26 with a trial date tentatively set for May 22.
isfied, Freeman said said "It's a win-win situation," he said.

Covering tracks
Freeman, who said he has 200 to 300 MP3s, said he rationalized the ethics of downloading MP3s by saying he could get them free anyway from his work at a radio station.

Freeman searched for and downloaded a song by R&B artist Macy Gray as an example during his presentation.
"It's that simple," Freeman said. "If everyone had this capacity, the music industry would be dead tomorrow.

MP3 users should set up a proxy or use an anonymizer site before downloading music files to prevent the industry scouts from said. He recommended two sites - www.earthproxy com sites wwwanonymizercom - to help users take advantage of these users take

To avoid the risk associated with the high profile MP3-sharing service Napster, Freeman said he take only a few files from various independent web sites to avoid leaving a trail

While he does not condone illegal "ripping," Freeman said he offered the information to tallor his presentation to the audience's interests.
"For the time being, have fun and experiment:-" Freeman said. Adam Davidowitz, a sophomore music industry major. said he attended the presentation to find ont about the industry from the perspective of someone who is in it.

II went to keep up to date with the things thit were happening, he said

As a consumer, Davidowitz said he enjoys the availability of MP3s.
*For the artists, it's horrible because they're losing a lot of money," he added. "But when CDs are like \($ 16\), it just pays to download it for free."

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash, checks or crediti cards Call 443-9793 for more information

> Order forms are now available at the Carrier Dome Box Office for 2000 Football Student Season AND 2000-2001 Basketball Student Season Tickets. Stop by today and get one!

Nordstrom CEO outlines

BY MAGIN MCKENNA
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
As the final speaker in the College for Human Developmens Sue Ann Genct Lecture Series, he had a few tough acts to follow.

When I found out that Martha Stewart was here last time, I almost wet my pants," said Whitacre, the Chief Executive Officer of Nordstrom, Inc., to about 150 students seated in Slocum Hall's Genet Auditorium.
"I thought How am. I going to compete with that?"' Whitacre snid.

Whitacre was invited to campus to explain how Nordstrom oined the ranks of the most quickly growing specialty retailers in competition in a market dominated by major department stores, said Karen Bakke, retailing department chairwoman and a native of Seattle.
"We want to become a worldclass organization," Whitacre said. II am a very competitive person. I like to win."

Sponsored by Syracuse University benefactor Leon Genet, the lecture series invites prominent retailing CEOs to campus to lecture retailing students.

Other speakers - aside from Stewart - have included CEOs of Bed, Bath and Beyond, Best Buy, Fitch and Bloomingdale's.

Whitacre was joined on campus by his top staff members, Executive Vice President Len Kuntz, Northwest Regional Manager Stephany Pierce and Capital Region Manager Katy Banks was pretty shocked to find such a high-quality people," said Whitacre, who last visited SU two years ago. "You have such an interest in retail here."

\section*{Changing face}

Nordstrom opened first as a Seattle shoe store in 1901.

In 1999 , the company amassed \($ 5.1\) billion and is now one of the nation's leading spe23 states, Whitacre said.

In the past decade, it has launched an extensive national expansion and advertising campaign to reinvent its more formal image - characterized by the store's Steinway pianists and their black tie attire in the 1980s, he added.

In the 1980s, we were the darlings of Wall Street." Kuntz said, taking the podium after Whitacre. "But the 1990s came and we didn't change

By the beginning of the 1990s, Nordstrom faced challenges from major department dale's both of whom had mang dale s, both transition into the next successfi.

The company commissioned a Minnesota-based advertising firm to give it a medical "physical," of sorts, Kuntz said.

What the firm found, howev. er. was nothing Nordstro "They told us we were dated," Kuntz said. "We looked like we were still stuck in the 1980s."

Kuntz credited the company's new makeover to a series of television and print advertising campaigns that all convey the same sage: Reinvent yourself.
The campugn cost the company about \($ 40\) million, he said. mitment to service in Nordstrom," Bakke said "We're not used to hat kind of service and it's their corporate philosophy

There's a high level and interest in fashion," she added "It's the opposite of stodgy and boring." One of Nordstrom's greatest appeals is its "no questions asked" appeals is its no questions asked return policy that allows customers to return any purchase with no restrictions, said Stephanie Jones, a freshman fashion design major.

People always joke about returning things to the store that it doesn't even sell," she said.

Nordstrom currently has the largest shoe selection of any specialty store in the world, Whitacre said.

Last summer, the company launched its Web site www.Nordstrom.com, where merchandise may be bought online, he added.
there is a division now between the oid economy and the new economy, " the new trend of online commerce in retail. "You're going to see a slow death of many retailers."

Nordstrom has just expanded two of its name brands to the Japanese market, he said.

\section*{Finding heart}

Although Whitacre graduated from the University of Washington with degrees in English literature and history, he said he was more attracted at that time to a career in retail. Whitacre joined Nordstrom in 1976 as a shoe salesman.

With both his father and grandfather working as a doctor Whitacre felt an unspoken pressure to pursue a "professional".ca reer, he said.
"When I told people I was a shoe salesman," Whitacre said, they looked at me like thas the biger met. My parents still don't completely understand it today"

Whitacre eventually worked his way up the corporate ladder and became CEO of Nordstrom in 1996.

Throughout the lecture he repeatedy encouraged students to find their passion and commit growth strategy

John Whitacre, CEO of Nordstrom, details his store's success in the field of retail marketing Whitacre was the last speakor in the Genes Lecture Series.
their lives to it.
"There are so many people who abandon their dreams," he said. "They are out for the materialism and they go for a job that is not aligned with the goals in their hearts.
the montir you do what you love, the money will follow."

\section*{Students plan circus protest \\ BY TIFFANY LANKES \\ "It's just rebellion against}

Asst. News Editor

The Shrine Circus is coming to town and so are protesters from the Student Animal Rights Organization.
the group met Thursday night to plan their weekendlong protests of the circus at the New York State Fairgrounds.

About 20 people plan to paricipate by picketing and chanting under the big top. SARO will be joined by members of the Student Environmental Action CoaliOrganized Labor Organized Labor
"Basically, why we're doing this is because there's a lot of circuses that continue to use ani mals that wouldn't normally be entertainment for people," said freshman film major Katcher, a exotic animals that belong in their normal environment."

SARO's protesters oppose the methods used to train animals in the circus industry, Katcher said.

Many circuses train their entertainers" using electric shocks, meat hooks and food deprivation, he added.

These animals are brought o such levels of stress that they end up snapping." he said.
have been several reprat there dents of circus animats la inciout as a result of mistreatmeng. In 1997, a circus bear reportedly bit a toddler's finger off he said That same year, a circus ele. phant trampled its trainer, he added.
the way they are treated, Katch er said.

Many circuses, including the Cirque du Soleil, operate successfully without the use of animals for entertainment, he added.

Elizabeth Cline, a junior policy studies major, agreed that people have no right to take animais out of their natural envi form "Animals aren't ours," Cline said. "It's not appropriate for us to use them for entertainment.

Many people are not aware of the way circus animals are treated, said Kat Schaffer, a sophomore photography majorThere are common misconcep tions about circus activities, she added.
"They don't realize all the stuff the animals have to go through," Schaffer said.

Katcher agreed that many of the stunts animals are forced to do are extreme. He added that those attending a circus need to question whether the pain inwicted on the animals lead The protestera aaid they plan to receive some opposition from those attending the circus this weekend. Since the circus is tra ditionally "a family event," many children will witness the protests, Katcher said.
"Parents get defensive," he said. They think because we're protesting it gives them an excuse to act out at lis. Our message the way these animals are treatthe way these animals are treat-

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1 event programming

Students must approve the bill during a referendum from Tuesday to Thursday before it can take effect.

What we have here are a few items we think are in question," said Sauer, a biology major. The vote that was conducted ai the previous meeting was incon sistent for many reasons.

After asking the Judicial Feview Board to consider the highly premeditated natare of the last meeting, Sauer waited with his fellow Assemblymembers for a verdict on their request to mul the vote.

About a half-hour later, they were informed the verdict of their case would be resolved at Monday night's Assembly meet ing.
*I derinitely feel that all the hard work that has been going on in regards to fighting this was listened to but cheapened to tech nicalities," Duffy said. "It"s al most as if everything's being brought down to technicalities rather than the issues."

Duffy argued that the vote approving the bill was inaccurate because President Jamal James estimated, rather than counted, the votes.

Also, because the vote was immediately followed by the final roll call, which ends the meeting Assemblymembers were not able to call for a recount, Sauer said.
"The presiding officer inter rupted the vote's outcome," Sauer said. "We did not feel we had adequate time to call a division."

Duffy, a political science ma jor and member of SGA's Administrative Operations committee said the bill was never approved by the AdOp committee for presentation to the Assembly Though the first version of this bill, which included a merger with University Union Enterprises, did pass the committee's approval, Monday's substitute did not, Duffy said.

The fact that there is a difference between the two makes it really not approved," Duffy said. If something isn't approved by AdOp, it cant really be brought before Assembly.

Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor countered the Assemblymembers' claims by saying that the vote was fair and consistent with the SGA Constitution.
-If this is a violation to the constitution. I question which specific line of the constitution you are referring to," said Taylor, a fifth-year architecture student who played a key role in the 1998 revision of the constitution.

In terms of a counted vote, the constitation does not prescribe a counted vote is ever necessary" he added.

Taylor said that during the presentation of the bill he asked the Assembly to offer pro and con statements for the document. The Assembly, however, offered none, he added.

Assemblyrnembers who were unhappy with the method of voting should have brought it up before James announced the bill's approval.

He added that the method by which the Assembly votes is at the discretion of the presiding of ficer
"At the chair's discretion it was done by a voice-vote," Taylor said. "As a voting member of the Assembly, I don't see problem with that.
"You're either lying about this or trying to pull something over me. I don't buy that. You're trying to find a way through the back door and that's inappropri ate."

Faylor referenced Robert's Rules of Order, the laws by which SGA operates, in defense of the bill.

The rules, however, have of ten been manipulated in the pas to conform to the Assembly's rul ing. Sauer said.

The freshman argued that the rules were being used as technicality to cover the prob lems they addressed.
"We are freshman, we don't know everything," said Weber, a freshman political science major "We don't know every single rule All we know is we wanted to cal a division, and we didn't get it."

Taylor admitted that even though he had read through Robert's Rules three times, he still is not familiar with thern in their entirety.

NYPIRG member Kevin Cooney agreed that the debate turned to one over technicalities rather than real issues.
"I find it funny that this is a debate over Robert's Rules," said Cooney, a senior television, radio and film major. "I've never seen the person running an SGA meet ing ever have a solid understand ing of Robert's Rules.

This isn't a professional as. sociation. These are students try ing to work out what students want."

\section*{Voting battle}

Cooney attended the meeting along with about 15 other NYPIRG members to support the group's case before the Judicial Review Board.

NYPIRG members protested the student referendum rote that will determine the group's fund ing. The referendurn will be conducted during the same day as the latter controversial bill.

GGA passed the NYPIRG bill March 20 to conduct the vote without informing the group that the issue would be addressed by the Assembly.

About 30 members later attended the March 27 Assembly meeting to request that SGA rescind the bill authorizing the vote.

The Assembly, however, voted to uphold the referendum.
"Basically, NYPIRG is here to request the bill be rescinded," said Jocylyn McGuiness-Hickey on Thursday night. "The bill violates SGA's own rules and it threatens to undermine the student govmment."

For more than 20 years, the group has received its funding directly through a reierendum vote conducted every four years. This agreement was slated in the 1970s in a contract between SGA and NYPIRG.

McGuiness-Hickey,
NYPIRG worker, argued that SGA was manipulating the vote by eliminating voting places in College of Environity of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry and the Schine Student Center.

This whole process has a winging feeling to it," McGui-ness-Hickey said "This referendum is being run hastily by SGA. \(G A\) All of this mindicates that SGA is not prepared to hold a referendum."

National Alcohol Screening Day brought to you by the Substance Abuse Prevention & Health Enhancement Office a unit of Heath Services and the Division of Student Affairs
The alcohol use assessment tool. located to the left is designed to help you cvaluate your atcohol use. The scoring instructions are tocated to the right

THE ALCOHOL ESE DISORDER DENTIFICATION TEST CACDIT)
L. How often do you have a drink containiag altohols
2. How many driake coataiaink akcohol do you have on etypicmidey when

3. How offen do you bive four ar mare driakt aw one oceation: () Drily \(\qquad\)
How altep during the hat year bave you foond that you wett aot sble to stop frinking? d () Less then monthly () Mornhly () Woekly () Dailyor () Never () Almest den:

How often during the lest year Anve vou fatied ro do what wwa aqmaty

 () Never () Less thun momahly () Moxinhy (i) Weekly () Daily or

How oftee duriex the leat year have you had if ferling of guitt or remorse

How oftep durinz the list year bave you betw wonble to remember what Dely or denty

\section*{Cise this ay hadd box.}

\section*{Scorlme your difinl/me AUDDIT AUPI SCORAGESIENCTOXS}

Secriag the Jee Quantiont ACbMT

The possible iocil score for ell 10 questions ragees fiom \(0-40\)

1. Record the score for eman question in theoces provided on the ngett side of the sconng shoer

3. If uters 4.5 .or 6 ere soored 1 or more. circle that them
4. Ther wre tree ponsible untoprewions and refertil re

\section*{SCOREG DIERPRETATIONS}

3. Total Score 7 ar above - Scroenvig fesuts may be consistert with heardows or hernful diriante hikehimod of nlochol dippendenice.

For more information, or to schedule an appointment with a counselor
Students should cell the Options Program at 443-4234 Options is located in the Health Center at 111 Waverly Avenue

\section*{Mock trial team advances in national meet}

EY ADAM GIAGNI
Stat! Writer
Opening arguments began Friday in a murder case involving two best friends and eight Syracuse University student lawyers.
The trial spanned two days of

The trial spanned two days of witness examinations and legal maneuvering, ending in a verdict that caused no tears or violent outbursts, but simply confirmed the ability of the legal team - the SU Mock Trial Team.
their first year of competition, the tam placed 14 th in their division at the national tournament that hosted this faise trial last weekend at Ham ty in St. Paul, Minn.
in St. Paul, Minn.
"It's very rare for a first-year om to even go to the national team to even go to the national tournarnent," said Adam Detsky, a first-year law student and assistant coach. "We were able to sistant coach. We w

This year's tournament consisted of 48 teams of six to eight advacates and witnesses. Each team competed in four, three-hour rounds of litigation during the

The tenms, con
ree lawyers. conducted direst three lawyers, conducted direct

\section*{WASTE} continued from page 1 a central part of the community," Until the 19th century, the lake was a "pristine" resort, where some of the fish caught from it some of the fish caught from it were considered of such high quality, they were shipped to New York City's finest restauNew York City's finest re rants. Weichselbaum said.

That all changed in the 1890s, when raw sewage and industrial waste began filtering into the clean waters, he said. This practice continued through most the following century, he added.

There's no way in God's green earth that God's creation should be treated that way," said should be treated that way," said panelist Louches Powell, from tie Onondaga Creck Partnership. "It's not just a South Side issue, it's a county issue, and issue of it's a county \({ }^{\prime \prime}\)

The structure of the present dent witnesses. Traditional court. room procedures and dialogue were used and local judges presided over the cases. presided over the cases.

Our goal was simply to com pete to the best of our ability. etsky said

The team qualified for the national tournament. Feb. I9, after competing in a regional com petition in Utica. All the group's 19 members split into three sepa rate teams for the regional tour nament, he said. Only one SU team qualified to move on to Minnesota.

The SU meck trial program was originally a student club with few members and little organization, team co-president Erin Jolley said.

I was on what was trying to become a team," she said.

The goal of club members was to establish a mock trial team to represent \(S U\) in regional and national tommaments, said Jolley, a junior in The College of Arts and Sciences.

Jolley worked with Richard Pilgrim, assistant dean of The College of Arts and Sciences, to build a mock trial program for undergraduates.

In order to increase interest sewage system is the cause of the pith of the lake and creek, said panelist dohn Ferante, a repreLegal Foundation, a Syracusebased non-profit environmental group.
"Early on when we designed the sewage treatment, it was common to have a single pipe that carried storm water run-on along If the system is not built large enough, there are release points where the waste runs into tributaries."

There are 66 release points in Syracuse's sewage system, he said. The end of the line for these release points is Onondaga Lake and Creek, which are now discolBenzene, mercury, chlorobenzenes and raw sewage, Ferante added. "Onondaga Creek is now just said.
and recruit enough students to establish a team, a three-credit mack trial class open to all undergraduates w year, Jolley said.

The prograrn was funded by and incorporated into the Center for Undergraduate Research and Innovative Learning

As part of the CURIL program, the Mock Trial Team competensored by the Mational Mock sponsored by the National Mock CURial Association, according to TRIL.

The yearlong course allows team members to practice during the fall semester and compete in the spring, according to CURIL.

Kevin Kuehner, a recent SU law school graduate, was recruited by PiIgrim as both team coach and course instructor. Third-year law student David Harrigan and second-year law stardent Jean Marie Westlake joined Detsky as保

I really couldit have been happier, as we were finally able to go to competitions and put all of our hard work to use,"Jolley of oud.

While competition was the team's underlying goal, Kuehner came to the program to educate students
"My goal was to familiarize them with the art of trial advoca cy." Kuehner said. "I wanted them to be able to walk in com and try a case."
The team's performance in both tournaments has convinced Kuehner of his student's trial ability and basic unders
"Some of them could try a case right now," Kuehner said. All of them have learned the valuable legal skill of persuasion."

Kuehner said he did nat begin the year expecting to lead his Instead his plan was to prepare them for competition and eventually enter the regional tournament, he said.
"Considering'that this was their first year, I didn't have high expectations, students dedication and hard work." \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Mo

Most team members disagree With Kuehner on the source of cheir success, pointing to their knowledge as reasons for their strong performances.

All of our coaches are really knowledgeable about the law, said Meghan Bashaar, a freshmen English and Textual Studies maor. "The praise for our success should go to the them,"

Bashaar, who has served on mock trial teams for the past five years including her time in high school, wants to build on this year's success and participate in the annual tournament in Des Moines, Iowa, she baid.
"I think everyone's goal is to go to Des Moines," Bashaar said. and have a good shot at winning it all."

Team captain David Burmaster shares Bashaar's goal and said he hopes to bring two teams of students to the lows tourna ment next year.

Burmaster, a sophomore palitical science and policy studies major, joined the team in order to gain an understanding of trial procedure.
"The program definitely gave me a glimpse into the legal world," Burmaster said. "We didn't know what to expect when we went to Minnesota. It was a high goal and we were able to reach it.

Lassic, a representative from Citizens for Fair Treatment.
"We felt like we were hoodwinked from the very start," Lassic said. "This type of business practice is shady and unfair. I find that the government is more concerned about wasting our tax money and less concerned about the people who pay those taxes and the ecological environment on the South Side."

The Atlantic States Legal Foundation is preparing a lawsuit against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency because the agency did not require an indepth analysis of other solutiona to the problem, said panelist Sean Loynch, another representative of Lynch, another representative of dation.

Officials looked at the documents regarding the lake cleanup and waste management projects and waste management projects build this project, there will be no significant impact to those inived,m Lynch said.

But he said that was a mistake.

The officials assessed the project and since it was only the size of a football field - relatively small in comparison to other projects - they felt it was not big projects to they felt it w

They did not take into account, however, the countless count, however, the countiess homes that have their foundahomes that have the in the ground of that football field-sized area, Lynch said. Those homes will be destroyed and their residents evicted, he added.

\section*{Resident concerns}

Philips of those homeowners is Philips, a resident of Midland Avenue - the center of the land eararked for the proposal.
I cande home from work yesterday and there was a rat, right there in front of my house, she said. I don't know where this sucker came from, but boy."

A surge of rats into the homes of local residents is one of many problems they will encounter audience plant is built, severalaudience members said. With disruption to the creek, a prime home for rats, the rodents will idential areas, they said.
-What's going to happen when this thing's built?" Philips asked. "That thing was the biggest sucker l've ever seen."

The city has been doing nothing so far with the already prevalent rat problem, Lassic said. Only \($ 1,000\) is pat aside for rat catching, and that money is used to catch rats around the creek, not neighborhoods, she said.

That is because the city does not want to sead workers to homes hugging dangerous, busy roadways, she said. They also feel that home infestations are not their responsibilities, she added.
ir responsibilities, she added.
WWe have residents who ar eing rats and they are told, seeing rats and they are told, said. Hiding behind colorful ren. rings of tree-lined streets surderings of tree-ined streets surrounding the treatment plant, ofrounding the treatment plant, ofpast the Syracuse Common Counpast the Syra

Community members need to make it clear that this area is their neighborhood, Powell said. They neighbornood, Powen said They meed to pressure government officials to work around ment officials to work around Weighborhoods and playgrounds When engineers and sclenvist get going on a profect, "they ran with it, and often forget a he people involved, he said.
"Not to mark off territory peeing in the corners if you willbut we say you have to work with the community when it's in volved," Powell gaid.

Efforts by those citizens have helped curb the corruption, Powell said. Residents "educated" Councilors about the effects of the construction, he said
"This thing would have flew by them if residents hadn't educated the Common Council." he said. This would've been a done deal. Construction would have started last year."

Government official have been surprised at the intensity And endurance of citizen protests, Powell said. He commended the residents who pressured the Council. uncil.
\({ }^{\prime \prime}\) A bridge has been formed and we need to nurture that relationship," he said. "So if the people involved in that, if they want to throw their shoulder out patting themselvies on the back, they can feel free to do ao."

There were about 900 cases of murder and manslaughter in New York state during 1998, according to the Frirs Uniform \(\underset{\text { ports. }}{\text { Crim }}\) Although only 12 of those cases came from Charles Sen. Charles Schumer (DN.Y.) armed local law enforcernent officials in the cials in the Monday with a new \($ 500,000\) weapon to help lower those numbers and instances of all gun-related crimes.

Schumer announced that the two-year grant will allow the U.S. attorneys office in Syracuse and the Onondaga County District Attorneys ofrice to continue plied Fircarms Enforcement project to ensure that violators of gun laws receive the strictest sentences possible.
"It's basically another hammer over the defendant's head," the district attorney's office. "This community has a reputation of being really hard on those committing violent acts. This is going to help that reputation further."

Project S.A.F.E. aims to prosecute criminals in the court punishment whether that court is state or federal, Weiss explained. The project involves employing two or three attorneys in both the U.S. attorncy's office and the district attorney's office, he said.

Those attorneys meet weekly and study all gun-related violations in Onondaga County for that week, Weiss said. They then determine which office should prosecute the case, based on the violator's prior record and where they find best chance of conviction and punishment, he added. Richard Southwick, assistant U.S. attorney and one of the lawyers involved in Project S.A.F.E., said the cooperation will lead to more effective handing of gun-related crimes throughout the county. All those involved with the project are hopeful that the increased efficiency will cause a significant drop in all gun-related crimes not just murder - in the county and throughout the state, he added.

New York state had more than 20,000 cases of Eun-related crimes in 1998 including aggravated assault, forcible rape and robbery, according to the U.S. Bureau of Justice Statistics Sourcebook of Criminal Justice Statistics. The main thrust of the program is to see if we can beef up enforcement," Southwick said. "There's a feeling from people both inside and outside government that gum crimes need to be dealt with very seriously."

While gun laws between state and federal courts are similar, there are often instances when a violation will be on the books on the federal level, but not in state courts, Southwick said. said.
S.A.F.E. allows attorneys to identify those cases and ensure that offenders will be charged whate and faderal levels, even state and federathorities may though local authorities may have arrested that person, he explained.

One example of such a situation is when local police find amno guns, Southwick said. The state only has laws that allow gun-crime prosecution only if police find agun in the area, he added.
"We're told all the time by law enforcement officers that that they often find narcotics and that they often ind narcotics and theres a but it just might not in the vicinity and they can't find it" \({ }^{\prime}\) Southwick said no provision to prosecute that offense
"But we do."
Moving a case to federal court from the state's jurisdiction is not always the best option, is not always the "Often times you can move a case through quicker on the state case through quicker on the state we're going to work very closely we re going to work very closely

Project S.A.F.E's first case came Tuesday with the transfer of a Syracuse man from state court to federal court on charges weapon, Weiss said. He will now face stiffer penalties if convicted he added.

The two offices working on the project are examining several more cases and are planning more transfers in the coming weeks and months, Weiss said.

The offices began implementing the project about two word that Syracuse would be one of 15 cities to receive funding for the project, which is based on a national program called Project Exile.

The National Rifle Association endorses Exile, which is running successfully in several cities across the country including Philadelphia, Pa., and Rochester, according to Schumer's office.

The criminal element does have a community and they do have a network," Weiss said. "The word's going to get out that you don't want to come to Onondaga County to do these things."

\section*{Attacking gun crimes \\ Although the incidence of murder and non-negligent manslaughter was down 7.1 percent in 1998 from 1997, firearms remained the leading weapon used in these offenses.}

\author{
Total offenses: \\ 16,914 \\ New York state: \\ 924 \\ Onondaga, Cayuga, Madison, Onondaga \\ and Oswego counties: 21 \\ City of Syracuse: \\ 12
}

Types of Weapons Used (Northeastern states, including New York):
Firearms: 58.5 percent
Knives or cutting instruments: 16.7 percent
Unknown or other dangerous weapons: 14.4 percent Personal weaporis (hands, fist, feet, etc.): 10.4 percent

\section*{Compiled by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone}

Source: FBrs 1998 Uniform Cnme Reports

\section*{1998 Crime Totals}
(Middle Atlantic states, includins New York):
Murder and non-negligent manslaughter: Forcible rape:

1,879 Robbery:

8,689
Aggravated assault:
Burglary:
Larceny-theft:
513

Motor vehicle theft:
223, 057
770, 334
sourciled by Asst. News Editor Kevin Tampone

\section*{Shop}

Syracuse University's corporate licensing regulations undergo frequent amendments.

\section*{fall}

SU establishes the Office of Trademark Licensing to ensure that university emblems are registered and reproduced appropriately.

\section*{march}

SU appoints the Collegiate Licensing Company composed of 180 member schools nationwide - to handle administrative func tions of the licensing program.

\section*{spring}

SU adds a student representative to the Tradernark Licensing Advisory Board to assist in evaluating sweatshop conditions in factories of licensees.

\section*{may}

SU joins the Fair Labor Association and approves the Collegiate Licensing Company Code of Conduct.

\section*{oct.}

The CLC notifies Nike that they must disclose locations of factories that proapparel.

\section*{nov.}

University representatives attend the Living Wage Symposium at the University of WisconsinMadison to study the living wage and assess sweatshop labor practices used in the production of univer-sity-licensed apparel.

\section*{jan.}

The university instructs the CLC to inform licensees that they must disclose all factory locations, and those that do not apply will have their Jicense terminated.
SU adopts rider to the Code of Conduct ensuring hat licensees safeguard the rights of women factory workers.

\section*{march}

The Student Coalition On Organized Labor conducts protests and events promoting awareness of sweatshop conditions in Third World Nations and calling for SU to sever its ties to the FLA and join the Worker Rights Consortium, a non-profit organization that verifies factory licensing compliance.
Members of the Trademark Licensing Advisory Board suggest the university should review the possibility of joining the WRC after its founding meeting in April Source: SU
icensme

\section*{Clothes contracts stir fight}

\section*{Sweatshops provide necessary option to poverty-stricken lifestyle}

To the Editor:
The self-righteous people on this campus and elsewhere who denounce the so-called sweatshops as immoral simply don't know what they are talking about, and it is the very workers they claim to sup port who stand to pay the price for their follies.

They do not like the factories in poor countries which employ cheap local labor. Yes, these people are paid workers sire not slaves. They choose to work in these workers are not slaves. They choose to work in working conditions are poor. Why? Because it is bet ter than the alternatives.

Close the factories and the people will have no choice but to return to the harsh, back-breaking subsistence farming or else take up beggary or pros ty, and the sweatshops are part of the solution to poverty.
What is needed to solve this problem is more U.S. capital investment. We need more sweatshops This means better technology for the third-world workers to use, making their labor more productive and driving up wages. Give U,S. corporations the freedom to invest without restriction, give third world workers the freedom to work without restric wh you will can workers.

It doesn't seem to bother the activists that their position makes no sense, nor that it would reduce many people to the brink of starvation. But does long as it makes a bunch of college students feel good about themselves? Of course, these people are probably just the dupes of the labor unions who don't want to face the competition that cheap foreign labor provicles.

But this is college, and these students should be able to think for themselves. If they do, they will re alize the benefits provided by the factorics in ques tion to those they employ

ION EDINGTON
Class of 2000

Senior Jon Edington

\section*{SU's position on athletic apparel contracts:}

As a responsible member of the academic community, Syracuse University shares a concern with our fellow instiuntions of higher education across the country about the conditions faced by -and wages paid to - employees of non-U.S. manufacturing facilities that produce collegiate licensed apparel and footwear

That concern is exemplified by Syracuse University's membership in the Fair Laorganization established to protect the rights of apparel and footwear workers. The FLA involves major apparel manufacturers, non-governmental organizations, and 134 colleges and universities.

In rccent months, another organization, the Worker Rights Consortium, has come to our attention. WRC repreto our attention. WRC repreSentatives have approached Syracuse University and our fellow colleges:and universities about resigning from the FLies about resigning jom joining the WRC.

The University has declined to relinquish its membership in the FLA, citing the FLA's strong leadership and organizational structure, its support from 134 member colleges and universities, its efforts involving factory site disclosure and its involvement in the living wage is-
ue. In contrast, the WRC has no formal budget, no organizational structure and no estime.

Syracuse University is keepingan open mind and will further assess the WRC following its April 7 founding conference. SU's Trademark Licensing Advisory Board has requested that a representa tive of the WRC-as well as a representative of the FLAWret with the board. The WRC visit has yet to be scheduled; an FLA represen 26. We recognize that students have played a construc dents have played a constructive role in focusing the University's attention to the conditions under which licensed merchandise is produced. The University has included a Trademark Licensing adviso ry Board, and the board will continue to listen to students in formulating its recommendations.

The University is committed to achieving, by practica and effective means, fair and humane working conditions for all workers involved in apparel pparel.

Seurco: Syrocuse University Mot News - nttp:/ /zunews.syr.edu/ Iwatshop_himl

\section*{University stalls progress to drop affiliation with corporate-funded regulatory agency}

To the Editor:
Last Friday's spam e-mail from the Syracuse University administration moved the debate over sweatshop monitoring more clearly into the public eye. The Student Coalition On Organized Labor encourages students to visit the university's Web ite on "the sweatshop issue" and find SCOOL's extensive analysis of the structural problems with the Fair Labor Association. SCOOL applauds the openness that the ad considering the Worker Rights Con consider Unfortunately, the administration's primary reason for not joining the WRC plays with semanties. To say that the WRC has not had its founding conference is true; to say that the WRC is unformed is strictly false. The organization has an advisory board and has established guidelines and procedures for development.

Furthermore, what the university does not say is that most of the only been developed within the have only been developed within the past year. Thirty-one universities (most the University of North Carolina) are now committed to the WRC, provid ing it with ample funding, a governance structure and input to establish protocols for monitoring labor practices.

In essence, the administration's support of the FLA boils down to this: They believe that reform of the apparel industry will be more easily ment. This position is dangerously naive since apparel manufacturers have increased their profits by utilizing sweatshop manufacture. They do not want reform.

The FLA's guvernance structure stalls reform through the "supermajority vote," whereby most significant decisions must be made by a twothirds vote or the corporatthen bersand a two-thirds gove this is the 4 s senatetits monitoring protocols exclude many factoity ry sites.

With the recent exposure of corruption in several FLA-affiliated non-governmental organizations, whether this cated to reform ut all or whether it is designated to fail.

SCOOL maintains that an organization unfettered by corporations and committed to the eradication of sweatshops will do a far better job of investigating and eradicating sweatshop manufacture than an organization crippled by its own strucabusers and riddled with cor SUusers and riddled with corruption SU should join the WRL

ANDRES BURBANO
1.J. BUTTS

Student Coalition On Organized Labor

[editorial]

\section*{Activists' efforts spread the word}

The Syracuse University T-shirt on your back may have been manufactured in a Third World nation by a poverty-stricken worker. Or it may have rolled off a high-tech U.S. assembly line.

You can't be sure
The Student Coalition On Organized Labor says they'd rather play it safe, and assume the worst. They stripped down to their skivvies and pedaled bikes across the Quad, wrapped symbolic "red tape" around each other and protested outside the Tolley Administration building. They've made their message clear to the entire campus: Affiliation with any corporation who manufactures SU apparel in potentially unfair labor conditions is unacceptable.

While the university remains loath to contracts with the factory regulatory agency of SCOOL's choice, the Worker Rights Consortium, people are listening. Some students report thinking twice before buying foreign-made clothes as a result of the group's signs, shouts and petitions.

In just a few weeks, SCOOL has succeeded where other activist groups have fallen short. A thoughtful dialogue has surfaced on the oft-complacent SU Hill.

SCOOL has pried open the eyes and ears of a student body often tagged as apathetic slackers. It has set a precedent for other burgeoning student groups who fear they lack the strength to rally around a cause

History books illustrate fiery social movements led and galvanized by students. The civil rights movement and the feminist movement were both carried by youthful crusaders.

Perhaps SCOOL's work - and that of their counterparts nationwide - is much the same. Athletic apparel production isn't the only industry tainted by harsh working conditions, and no activist can force employers to pay all workers a living wage overnight.

But at least someone decided to try:

News Listor
Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Spons Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor
Art Director Art Director
Asst. News Editor
Ksst. News Edior
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Editor Holly Auer Sapna Kollali

Dave Curtis Bill Ehninger Bill Ehninger Adoet Deshmukh Neva Austrew Laura Prabucki Tate Stovension Tiffany Lankes Corey Hann Magin McKenna Jeff Pasken
Erin Boyio Elaine Skinner Tito Bottitta Tom Masson Lisa Coswerlif Fon Fooks min mercadante

\section*{opinions}

\section*{SGA member defends new bill, criticizes media}

Accountability is important. Student Government Association officers should be accountable to the student body for their actions. The media should also be accountable for the truth.

Due to incorrect and biased reporting on the behalf of The Daily Orange as well as political maneuvering by several Assembly representatives, the truth and the real issues regarding the merger between SGA and University Union have become clouded.

FAITH
TARTAGLIA

The D.O The D.O., the biases beoome increasingly apparent. If you present incomplete information, you will of course have a great headline and story, but a very misleading one.

The personal attacks and the misrepresentation of facts in recent articles and editorials can ondy be described as irresponsible, not to mention the great deal of attention that has been given to relatively inexperienced Assemblymembers looking for name recognition and hero status.
Since 1957, SGA's role has been to serve the student body. President Jamal James and officers of SGA, like many others before them, have a vision - to improve stuSGA had initial governance, advacy and programming SGA had initialy proposed a plan that woud merge the create one ormaization to serve the needs of all Student Activity Fee-funded organizations.

University Union leaders met on numerous occasions with SGA officers to discuss a merger. It was well thought out and brimming with compromises, very different from a "poorly-planned and ereedy" proposal referrod to in last Tuesday's editorial. Talks of a merger date back to 1996. Under Jamal James leadership, it was decided that talk should become action. A proposal authored by the SGA and UU leaders was presented to the Assembly, but was postponed in order to seek further student input.
it was then that waves of anti-SGA and anti-merger propaganda began whirling around campus, promoting the spin that SGA was attempting to infringe upon the autonomy of student organizations.

At an open formm heavily atterided by UU members, it was made to appear that the battle lines were drawn, that SGA was in attack mode and UU was fighting to save itself. This was not at all the case. But how can a true campus dialogue take place when students ane presented with all the wrong facts?

Following the open forum, the SGA Cabinet met to discuss student reaction. After an in-depth assessment we decided to halt the merger and explore other options. Conversation is continuing in that direction

Fresident James, Comptroller Christopher Greiner and Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor, the sponsors of the four original bills, withdrew all material regarding the in the fourth bill. These changes are solely internal, such as the change of the organization's name to "Student Association."

The one change in the bill that was completely misconstrued by the media was the fact that the word "programming" was inserted into the description of the Association.

This bill did not increase the programming activities of SGA, but merely describes what the organization already does. Tuesday's editorial stated that SGA can now "dig as deep as it wants into the Student Fee piggy bank, allocating a massive chunk to itself" In fact, SGA has held that power since 1965. It is disrespectful to the members of SGA's Finance Board to insinuate they would allocate it to SGA becsuse of their SGA membership.

Each student pays a \($ 106\) Student Activity Fee each year that is given to SGA, which then allocates the fee to the more than 8 "mostudent groups on campus. U presen ly receiv

To state that SGA "established itself as UUS direct competitor by creating a 'programming arm"' is wholly inaccurate. While the Assembly did address the creation of a neutral programming advisory board to help student groups plan large-scale events, SGA itself does not scek to proposal has yet to be written, let alone debated and voted on.

The changes discussed Monday night are in response ter faulty thinking it is irresponsible for the D.O. Winsshould address facts instead of skewed information. Rather than waste time drawing an ass cartoon, The D.O. should spend that time becoming better informed. The student body deserves accountability from SGA. Part of that accountability should stem from accurate media coverage, something that is currently lacking.

As for the Assembly members searching for personal recognition, The D.O. has recognized you, but remember that you are naively damaging the name of your own organization, and for no reason. How many times must you make the same mistake before learning your lesson?

Faith Tartaglia is SGA's assistant parliamentarian and a university senator. She is a junior chemical engiand a university senator. She is a junior neering major. E-mail ficrtag@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Black History Month serves to educate, validate}

To the Editor
Matt WaIton's column, "Black History Month further stratifies society' was recently brought to my atety was recently brought to my alterested in blacic education, I am appalled at his statements and filied with offense.

In response to Walton blaming today's "quick-fix society" for the presence of Black History Month, I am compelled to share a little "Black Hi tory" In 1926, Carter Woodson founded Black History Week, which later became Black History Month. I hard ly think that in the 1920 s there was any implication of a "quick-fix." Fur thermore, people need to realize the purpose of Black History Month.

As a Black historian, Woodson put forward the idea of African history as a form of black cultural empowerment and emancipation. In his view, the knowledge and publicity of frican history would, "besides build ing self-esteem among blacks, help. He aimed prejudice among whics. ion aimed to brin about an appreciaion and sense of pride of African ac complish in larser part of the pie share in a larger part of the privieges of democracy brought about by It is a tragedy that many African-American children grow up today convinced of their own inferiority. Not only does the educational system almost completely ignore the contributions of blacks to the world, it is full of negative images of blacks and their culture And school systems have unceasingly perpetuated the myths and stereotypes about the African past

The chains on one's mind are more than enough. Over time, many African-Americans have built inferiority complexes, humiliation and cul tul lack of knowledge about themselves Their past.

To me, there can be no freedom until there is freedom of the mind. Thus the importance of Black History Month shines through a dismal society.

\title{
What impact have the sweatshop protests had on you?
}

\section*{SCOOL activists and SU officials battle over corporate affiliations}

6 There's so many pressing issues in the world, and this really brought the sweatshop problem out as something I should pay attention to.

I probably buy sweatshopproduced clothes all the time without realizing it. I have to be more conscious of that. I used to work at the Gap, and knowing where their clothes might be made makes me feel bad. 9

\section*{DANIKA WOOD}

Class of 'O3

& \(\mid\) think Chancellor Shaw is more concerned with making a profit than with what the students are saying.

It doesn't make sense that the FLA is run by the factories it checks. That's a conflict of interest. They're supposed to be objective.'
AVEDIS KOUTOUIIAN
Class of OI

41 don't think the university should buy apparel from overseas, and they should monitor where the clothes are produced more closely.
Groups opposing the sweatshops have really set a precedent for other student groups to step up and follow their tead.
it's great that they took the initiative.

JORDAN GOLDBERG Class of ' O 2

\section*{Corporate} factories oppress workers

You are a young woman, around the age of I9. While around the age of 19 . While many girls that age in the United States are in their first United States are in their first years of college, you are not so years of college, you are not so fortunate. You have a farnily to support and have only been abl to finish sixth grade. You are, job in a local factory, sewing Marika in a local factory, sewing clothes that are exported to the
Nissink \begin{tabular}{l} U.S. In order to \\ con \\
\begin{tabular}{l} get the job, you \\ were required to \\ take a pregnanc
\end{tabular}
\end{tabular} wore than a full day's wat cost You arrive at work at 7:30 a.m. and are forced to work until 8 p.m. You work seven days per week. During the busy season, you are required to work overtime - sometimes straight through the night for a 24 -hour shifl. During your regular 12 -and-one-half hour shift, you are allowed an hour for lunch break and two trips to the bathroom.

In order to enter the factory. you must pass guards with sawed-off shotguns patrolling the high cement walls that surround it. When you arrive at your work station, the floor manager is yelling at you to speed up, demanding unrealistic daily work quotas. You think about your salary. It barely keeps you and your family alive. You must often go to bed hungry.

Thinking about the injustices committed against you, and even the local labor laws that are broken by your employer, you envision yourself fighting time your manager threatens or time your manager threatens or beats you, you'll fight back. Maybe you can even organize a union to protect your rights as a worker, to receive a day off during the week and to earn wages that might actually feed you mily.
But

But then you ahiver when you recall what happened to the others that stood up for theraselves. They were threatened by the employer with physical abuse and then fired. You recall what happened to those that tried to organize a union: They weuld no longer get a job anywhere in the area And you whemember the local union orga nizer - he had been beaten and nizer he had been beaten and can be killed for the equivalent of \($ 11\).

But an incredible thing is happening. People are hearing your stories. And as the word spreads, people start to pay

\section*{Varying living standards allow for wage disparity}

Last week, I had a meeting would that help the workers with my advisor to discuss my class schedule for next semes. ter.

The meeting began with a police officer escorting me up in the Tolley Administration

\section*{building.} While waiting for him, I listened to prolawn outside chant "Swea labor has got to go ... hey, hey, ho, ho..." over and over.

I felt like kicking the protesters in the face. It seems that some of my classmates namely, the Student Coalition On Organized Labor - are try ing to convince Syracuse University to drop its deal with Nike Athletic Apparel. I'm not impressed with their fight.

First of all, SU makes a lot of money through Nike apparel. It isn't a mystery why Brackettville shirts are sold out across the campus - they're cool. Recently, SU students have ridden bicycles naked across campus, stood in the rain asking students to sign petitions, been on the cover of the D.O. and shouted ridiculous protest statements outside the administration building. Let me tell you something - this protest is completely unreason ble.

From what I understand, they completely want to end sweatshop labor. Exactly how would that help the workers overseas? Outlawing sweatoverseas? Outiawing sweatshops would kill their economy Unlike the United States, Unlike the United States, which has 100 percent more which has 100 percent more opportunities than those countries, there isn't a McDonalds incredible jobs cooking potatoes incredible jobs cooking potatoes ing the disgusting McRib Jr

And I'm sure that if I took my minimum wage earnings from last summer to those countries, the money would go a lot further than it does here.

And really, what would And really, what would happen to Nike if \(S U\) broke happen to Nike if sulutely nothing. I can name about 50 unihats and other apparel than SU hats and other apparel than SU sells. SUs fan support consist of only alumni, students, the people who live around UNC, Michigan Penn State Duke and even, Gonzaga, SU's Duke and even Gonzaga, SU's revenue is pathetic. Say SU did Nike CEO Phil Knight would be really upset. No wait, I doubt he even gives a shit. Nike has such a strong world base that leaving Syracuse wouldn't hardly make a ripple in its annual profits.

Don't these people have something else to complain about? Instead of helping those in other countries, why don't we just fly to South California and try to clean up sweatshops and fruit farms there first. Doesn't America have enough See PRO page 12

4 I'm involved with SCOOL. and it's been a great chance for me to make a difference on my own.

But it's really frustrating when people say 'no' to signing a petition when they don't even take the time to find out what they're saying 'no' to. Even an uniformed no is better than an apathetic ' 1 don't care. \(\%\)

CARORYN GODDU
Arts and Sciences
Class of ' 00

When you think about it, you should stop buying clothes made in those kind of places, but you still go the mall and buy all the Gap clothes or whatever.

If people stopped buying Nike stuff, prices would go down right away - sneakers would be 10 cents a pair. But no one's willing to do that.

This issue really needs a bigger spokesperson to get it going. Like, if Michael Jordan gave up his endorsements and said 'Don't buy Nike anymore, you can bet people would start to listen.y

NICOLE GORDON
School of Education Class of '02

St seems silly to be protesting about stuff like this when there's so many bigger issues out there.

Everything I have is made in Malaysia and China. What they're making in these places is probably equivalent to what people in the U.S. make at \($ 7\) per hour jobs. Their cost of living is so much less. anyway.

I have a friend whose mother is a cardiologist in Moscow. She makes \($ 40\) per month. is that any better?'

IOSEPH KUHRMER

Photos and quotes compiled by Holly Auer

\section*{CENSUS}
continued from page 1
The target rate of return for the city of Syracuse is 70 percent, ne explained. This rate only inciudes the census forms office by mail, he added.
"My mandate is to get 100 percent," Billings said. 1 am in the process of hiring in the vicinity of 1,200 people that will be ensus takers."

Other cities in New York state are showingsimilar rates of return as Syracusc, with Rochester at 53 percent, Buifalo percent according to census re percent, at ports.

It's pretty much in line with the big cities in the state, said Grom Syracuse, Mayor Roy A. Bernardi's office. "We are doing everything we can to reach the 70 percent goal."

The census takers that

Billings plans to hire will visit the binings plans to not wend in thei forms by April 18, he said.
\({ }^{\text {"It's critical that we count }}\) everybody," Billings said. "We don't want to miss anybody."

Census officials hope to con clude their collection of forms within the next few months. The information in the forms will dic tate the allocation of about \($ 162\) billion in aid for U.S. state and local governments, according to the census bureau.

There is no way city officials can currentiy tell if there will be changes in federal funding levels, said John Spring, the Census Bu reaus Special Places

Spring handles the census efforts for areas such as Syracuse University and group homes.
\({ }^{1}\) think it is a little early to be making judgements," Spring said.

In the 1990 Census, Syracuse had a population of 163,860 which was a 3.7 percent drop from the census taken ten years earli er, according to census reports "In a forward sense, (the city) just stands to lose all that much more in the next ten years." Billings said.

But Billings urged that people not jump to any conclusions about the way Syracuse's state representation in the Assembly will be affected by the change in population.
"There has been a rumor of losing three seats, but it's all pret ty much speculation right now," he said.

The only thing that could drastically change from this census is the classification of the city by the government, Billings said. 150,000 , it is a different kind of city." he said.

At the university level, the census is moving along as expected, said Matt Krupa, census crew leader for freshman residence halls.
"It has been a pretty positive response so far," Krupa said. "A lot of students were very anxious to get their forms."

He stressed that it is important for SU students to return their forms, so that the college population is accurately reflected. The Census Bureau will continue toset up tables in resi dence halls and in the Schine Student Center for the next week and beginaing April 18. Students that have not returned their forms wil reccive phone calls from census takers, he said.

\section*{Connting on the nation}

The Census Road Tour 2000 is visiting SU's Science and Technology center from 9 a.m. to noon today to provide information and free census materials.

In order to educate the United States about the importance of the censers, the national Census Bureau has implemented a \($ 160\) million marketing strategy, Billings said.
-We're still in our awareness campaign," he said. "You'll soon see a shift in national ads from awareness.*

The first part of the advertisements was an effort to inform the public of reasons each individual should fill out their census forms, Billings said.

The second phase will aim to encourage people to fill out the forms they have already received and return them to fice, he added.

The final part of the campaign, beginning after May 1, returned their forms that census returnew theill visit their homes to ret theirs information, he said. what motivation people have to not do it," Billings said.

Billings explained that the census is a method used to take" a snapshot of America,"
"People move, people are born, people die," Billings said.

\section*{CON}
continued from page 10 attention. People start to realize that sweatshops are not a thing of the past, that they are still thriving. And people start to question the companies that own the factories.

As students at Syracuse University, we have a tremendous opportunity to make a difference. We have the chance to improve the conditions that

\section*{PRO}
continued from page 10 of a problem on the home front? What the hell am I pending \($ 28,000\) a year on? i urge everyone not to sign Don't give them a bullshit answer like "I have class" or "I've already signed it." They should know that I don't agree with them. Are they really taking your views into consideration when they are standing on sorne workers in the apparel industry face. We can demand that anything with the SU logo and humane working conditions. As a student you can do the very simple act of asking the very simple act of asking to sign onto the Worker Right Consortium. Tell him that you do not want the name and reputation of SU to be linked to sweatshops. Sweatshops are not a necessary evil of the world. They can be stopped and they will be. All you need to do is act.

Marika Wissink is a senior music major and a Student Coalition On Organized Labo mernber. She is also the sole student representative on SU's Trademark Licensing Advisory Board. E-mail her at mewissin@syr.edu.
the Quad trying to make you feel guilty about not signing their paper? Is that really car ig about someone's rights? I applaud the group because they have received a university will realize that there are probably about 200 students who really care about the issue. Even if 50 percent of the stuclent body signs the petitions, it won't change the fact that there are only 200 students who actually care.

I am going to continue to wear my Nike apparel. Ive asked to sign another petition asked to sign another petition really feel. It's your rieht. Jus as they have the right to petition, you have the right to throw it back in their face.

Tom Dull is a freshman undeclared major in The College of Arts and Sciences. Email him at tadull@syr.edu.

\section*{WFIROTECH}
*.

Computer Center 2518 Erie Blvd. E Syracuse, NY 13224 375-446-5321

Apple, IBM, HP, Okidata, IBM and most Clones repaired and upgraded.

\section*{10\% OFFLABOR} with student ID and this Ad

Order your NEXTEL phone today! Leam how you can communicate with your friends with the "free two-way radio feature" on this digital phone.

Free pick-up & delivery of your equip on Tuesdays and Thursdays when repaired or upgraded by MicroTECH. Call today: 446-5321

\section*{the}

Career opportunity Syracuse University's School of Visual and Performing Arts communication. design program, "You a career' information exhibit today. The exhibit will serve as reference for perspective incoming freshmen as well as current freshmen approaching the end of the foundation pro. gram.
it will also help them make a clear decision in finding a course for their career at SU and after graduation. The display is ongoing throughout the rest of the year and can be seen in the Rotunda of the Shaffer Art Building. For more information contact Carla Siegel at 425 7411.

\section*{Holy matrimony When some-} thing's deep down in your soul, there's nothing on earth that can tear it out! These fiery words are embedded in the heart of Federico Garcia Lorca's tale of forbidden love. translated by Langston Hughes and presented by the SU Drama Department.
odting " blood Wedding," this story of pride and passion unfolds as a small Spanish vilage prepares for the wedding pares for the wedding each with a past that refuses to die.
refuses to die. 8 p.m today and Saturday, and 2 p Saturday, and 2 p.m
Sunday at Arthur Storch Theatre, 820 E . Genesee St
Admission is \($ 12\) for students and seniors and \($ 14\) for adults. Tickets are available at the theater box office. For more infor mation contact Heidi Holtz at 443-2636.

\section*{Fat jazz}

Five SU Drama Department students hit the stage, for an "After Ours" performance, with an array of song and dance numbers form the ground-breaking musical "Ain't Misbehavin." This musical revue details the life of one of jaz\(z\) 's greatest pianist of the swing era - Fats Waller. For the "After Ours" production, the lively ensemble cast will ingeniously bring to tife Waller's most famous classic tunes like -Honeysuckle Rose" and "Two Sleepy People." Sleepy People."

Performances are 11 p.m. today,
11:30 p.m. Sat 11:30 p.m. Saturday and 7 p.m. Sunday at Syracuse Stage. 820 Syracuse Stage
E. Genesee St. Admission is \($ 8\) for the general public the general public and seniors. Tickets are senilars. hickets pavilion box office For more information contact the box office at 443-3275. Office

\section*{UV \\ Your weeked guide to evenes on and around campus e \\ We 1 Whestrie
}

\section*{BY CATHERINE WILCOCK
Contrbuting Witer}

When one door closes, another one often opens. Styleen's Rhythm Palace in Armory Square clased Apr. 2, and it reopens tonight as the Red

Owners of the Red Door, a new club at 314 S. Franklin St., hope to bring a new type of nightlife to downtown.
\({ }^{4}\) We want to make the Red Door the place for regional and national bands," said Beth Mulligan, 00 -owner and former SU geology graduate stuAlbany and Rochester to come to the Red Door. My sworn duty is to make Syracuse the cool place for bands to come"

The idea for the Red Door has been in the works for quite some time. Mulligan and co-owner Matthew Burt, a former SU philosophy graduate student, officially bought Styleen's last month.

Burt and Mulligan said they had wanted to buy a club since their graduation in 1997, but the right opporturnity had never happened. One night in late 1998, styleens owner, Michael Heagerty, stopped Mulligan at a party and said he heard they wanted to ty and said he heard they wanted to buy a club.
business owners business owners his club, Mulligan said.

With some helpers, Mulligan and Burt repainted the place in five days. - me didn't want to close down "But we felt with new owners and new name, we needed a new look," They're changing the interior colors to give the clubanges will take place this week, within six months they plan to install new lighting, create a better traffic flow and open a new game area.

Muli time for a second generation." Mulligan said. "People coming on Friday will see a distinctly different look"

Senior drama major Kim Gatewood, a member of the band Short Round, said she is glad to see the club fixed up.
"I always thought if thiey fixed it up, just a little bit, it would be great, said Gatewood, who played frequently at Styleen's with her band.

\section*{Second coming}

Mulligan said she and Burt went through a "grueling process" to pick the club's new name. But the name Red Door popped into Mulligan's head whe siewas Franklin St.
"It was
It was a reasonably cool, but meaningless name," she said.

She and Burt said they felt they could put their stamp on it.

Part of the new look is the type of music offered at the Red Door. Mulligan and Burt said they see the music going in a Jam-Band, reggae there is an untapped market for this type of music in the area, they said.
"There is a large following in Syracuse," she said

Mad Professor, a Jamaican reg gae artist, is booked for May 6, and has collaborated with Lee "Scratch" Perry, who has worked on Beastie Boys albums.
"Anybody who digs that kind of music will love this gry," she said. "He gives off the vibe of what the Red Door is trying to do differently for Syracuse's music scene."

Mulligan said the club will have theme nights. Tuesday nights will feature a yet-to-be-named DJ and a the name DJ MC Fonque will per form on Wednesday nights, will per ing in Junes Brown-style old-school funk an! ! soul. Thursday nights will be mode \(\boldsymbol{r}\) rock with a different band each werzk. Friday and Saturday nights will be live regional bands, like Electric Chick Magnets and Atlas.

Eventually, the roster will extend See RED DOOR page 14

\section*{‘Skulls'}

And we quote: Anything secret and clite cant
Damn straight.

That was actua ines from "The Skulls," starring Joshua Jackson and Craig' T . Nelson. in the lat-

Eric Rosenthal and Matt Bray cinemaniacs est incarnaing off of John Hughes' success, we go to the big leagues the Ivy leagues
Our trip to Yale starts off with a crew race down "Dawson's Creek."

Their spirited captain,
Luke, played by everyone's favorite "Dawson" star Jackson, spurns them on to victory with the help of coxen Will Beckford, Luke's buddy.

This is not the first time the wo have had the taste of victory Logether, as we later find out

\section*{depicts Ivy League secret societies} rough, has taken Yale on by storm, succeeding academically, athletically and socially.

He's the cat's meow down at the dining service area.

Because of his local and eco nomic background, Luke is struggling his way through the rigors of Ivy League academia, hoping that one day, his prayers will be answered.

That day is today.
Or actually, it was Saturday, when we saw the movie, but you get the gist.

Luke gets the all-important invite to the big dance. The campus' most famous and infamous secret society," WThe Skulls," (hence the name) beckons for his membership.

This is no ordinary secret society. The "CLA was founded within its walls" - the same ones that are encrusted with the

Also, the benefits to the members include such delectable delights as dream cars that cause harmful atmospheric emissions and drearn girls that cause harmful nocturnal emissions.

Sadly, this film set the world back 50 years

But this boys' clubhouse is not all fun and games. Apparently, their rules supercede those of the outside world. (Read with voice of Foghorn Leghorn. Really.)

Everyone's favorite Coach, Craig T. Nelson, is the keeper of the conch. His soulmate - the homosexual undertones of this film are baffling - is a senator from the South and seems to speak with the debonair attitude of Foghorn Leghorn.
Tunes!
Eather and son
Well, "The Firm" for college kids takes an interesting twis when we find out that Luke's soulmate turns out to be Coach's son! We were waiting for and supercede all rules, and we waited and waited to no avail. Coach doesn't treat his son too kindly, dictating what he does and covering up his mistakes. One mistake in particular changes the course of their lives and relationships forever. Duh, and relationships forever. Duh, duh, duh.
Yet another Tom Cruise film, with Craig T. Nelson, comes to mind. You guessed it: "All the Right Moves."

Coach, the ruthless bastard that he is in this film, takes to blaming the mistake of his son on our hero, Luke. Not Skywalker.

Along the way, there were a couple of chase scenes, some bathroom sex and maybe a jeep hit a clown or something. It got pretty stupid, pretty fast. Lets not porget about the homage to the wicked-funny Aaron Burr milk commercial, not to beod not to be confused with the great great "Duel" scene in the best spaghetti Western ever, The Good, The Bad and The Ugly." Okay, okay. Do secret societies really exist on college campuses, maybe even the beloved Syracuse University?

We are here to inform you that yes, they do in fact thrive here on the Hill.

In the film, there is a cool sccret room where they store secret video tapes in the library hidden door and everything. We have inside information that a room such as this is hidden deep in our very own Carnegie Library.

We've already discussed the time machine in the basement of Hinds Hall many a time.

And everyone knows how secretive Hendricks Chapel Choir

But most striking of all, is the relationship of fraternities and athletic programs and their secret operations that lead us to Just kidding and that's all folks!

\section*{Poor sound, quiet crowd hurts Greek Freak 2000}

Jump, God damn it!" a frus rated DJ Kool pleaded Thursday night to a sea of hungry hip-hop fans in a packed Landmark Theater for "Greek Freak" 2000. No matter how much he tried from covering DMX to offering some "hot, soon to be released"
\begin{tabular}{ll}
Andrew & \begin{tabular}{l} material \\
DJ Kool \\ induced only
\end{tabular} \\ Parks & \begin{tabular}{l} a few "hos" \\
and "heys" in
\end{tabular} \\ \hline at the & \begin{tabular}{l}
the crowd,
\end{tabular} \\ scene & \begin{tabular}{l} from the sta- \\ tic call and
\end{tabular} \\
&
\end{tabular} response flows of his opening set. When he finally gave his dying party anthem "Let Me Clear My Throat" one more spin to close his performance, the cstatic. Unable to get anyone to stop on a dime" or "make some noise," Kool looked dumfounded as he left the stage.

Until headliner Nas came on at 11 p.m., all in attendance seemed to share Kool's feelings of confusion.

The discontent started when those expecting to see Foxy Brown after DU Kool were punished aurally by a large group of men seemingly pretending to be rappers, called PPN. The motley crew was composed of rappers who could have been in Chris Rock's gangsta rap spoof "CB4" was laughable - and a bad it was laughable - and a duo of fly-girl rejects from 1991's "In No one w
No one was fooled into enjoy-

\section*{STORE} AMERICA
STATE OF THE ART SELF-STORAGE
* Storage * Boxes
* U-Haul Truck Rentals

One stop - we have it all!
S. U. Students #1

Choice For Storage
Highest security in CNY
* Closed circuit TV cameras
* Individual door alarms
* Computerized access

314 Ainsley Drive * Syracuse
479-SAFE

\section*{Less than 1 mile south} of the SU Campus ing this sad display, even when crinkled, green dollar bills and Tshirts were thrown into welcoming, money-grubby hands. Thankfully, a bombardment of jeers and middle fingers chased them off the stage quickly and welcomed Foxy Brown.
After a lengthy wait, the self-proclaimed "Queen Bitch" stepped onto the stage and experienced problems of her own. She rienced problems of her ow stumbled and stammered stumbled and starnmered through most of her songs, through mast of her songs, many of which had to be done several times, repeatedly admitting " \(Y\) " Im fucked up," as she forgot many of her own verses.

The sensuous rapper still managed to turn a few heads hough, with her rapid-fire delivery and feminist lyrics, which pleased all the women in the house. For an hour, she squeezed single "Thong the number one her own hits, culminating in the her own hits, culminating in the

Unfortunately
Unfortunately, most of her performance suffered from a tin can sound systern which left her rhyming acapella - without any beat accompaniment - and a few fans feeling cheated.

\section*{Themain attraction}

Nevertheless, the bad after taste left in the ears of many from weak subwoofers and stale rhymes was removed quickly when Nas came out with "Nas Is Like." The gifted rapper was the highlight of the evening, touching upon his entire back catalogue, from his critically acclaimed debut, "Himatic," to his current LP, "Nastradamus."

The Queensbridge native sporting much "bling bling" around his neck - rolled "ghetto poetry flawlessly off his tongue during tracks like "New York State of Mind" and "Represent." Thankfully, he gave more live treatments to his classic, respected "Illmatic" than the recent commercial hits, such as a rollicking "Hate Me Now" - the best Nas had to offer for the night - and "Nastradamus."
His performance slowed only toward the end, when 20 minutes were spent on a thong revue. At least 20 "lucky" females were brought on stage to back their things up in a rump-shaking competition that had little pur pose and only a select few could see.

But, the closer, "You Owe \(\mathrm{Me}^{-1}\) ended another' "Greek Freak" concert offon a good beat.

While hip-hop in the new millennium is ruled by Hot Boyz and a sudden ass obsession, it is commendable to see that Nas is sticking to his roots. After all the platinum records and showers of praise, he is, for lack of a better term, still keeping it real Unfortunately, the current obses sion with money, fast women and fast cars in the hip-hop genre ha made heart-felt rap like this a rare occurrence.

Andrew Parks is a freshman magazine major. E-maul him at adparks@oyr.edu.

RED DOOR to national bands
Music is important to SU students but senior magazine ma jor Stephanie Schanz says the club might have problems drawin them cowntown.
"It's hard to gear a club for undergraduates in Armory Square because of the transporta tion problems," she said.

She added that students can't easily walk downtown, the buses aren't convenient to take and the university does not support party buses. If you do have a car, then you have to deal with having a designated driver, Schanz said. Caleb Lubarsky, a sophomore Arts and Scied in The College of Arts and Science and the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communi cations, does have a car and goes to Armory Square. He aaid he's heen to Styleen's, but if the Red

Door offered a national band that he wanted to listen to, he'd go downtown despite parking despite problems.

Mulligan understands the students' problem and does want to include them.
sider we would consider working with issue," she said.

She suggested a discount on Centro buses, but is aware that public transportation doesn't run at am. "There has to ative solution than shate cresaid, "but I don't know what it is yet."

The Red Door will eventually

\section*{co}

The Red Door, 314 S . Franklin St., opens tonight. The Latin-fla vored Syracuse blues band Los Blancos will be the featured band, following opener New Deal. Doors open at 8 p.m., and the show begins at 10 p.m. Cover charge is \($ 4\) for under 18, \($ 5\) for others. \(\qquad\) attachme add a kitchen. In the future, Mulligan and Burt plan to offer biweereads done by a local chef.

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

by David Pollack

\section*{No Point}
by Ethan Schmidt

\section*{"Classic" Insane Carrot}

by Elijah Leonard
 by Thane Benson

by Doug Jaeger

Kenan

Mr. Skizz

CROSSWORD By THOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS 40 Dressed 1 Peruvian 40 Dressed 5 coins 41 Organ 5 Florida parts
10 Uses a holders mouthed 1 Produce 2 Take on
2 Trial
\begin{tabular}{ll}
13 Take on & 2 Trial \\
14 Enter a & 3 Ray
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{ll} password, of \\ pertaps & "Good- \\ Sopping & fellas"
\end{tabular}

15 Sopping fellas"
16 Dressing 4 Aug. 8 ingredient follower
19 Map 5 Ran
\(\begin{array}{cl}\text { area } & \text { the } \\ 21 \text { Hill } & \text { past } \\ \text { buitders } & 7 \text { Pemnant } \\ 22 \text { Over- } & 8 \text { Narcotic }\end{array}\) wheirning 9 Doesn't victory
24 Relerred
25 to Cocktall
29 settings
29 Works
30 Became depleted 32 Skill
33 Chess
4 pieces
3 Russian orbiter
5 Creased
5 Ceased moving 37 Make address
39 Wreck thoroughly

Brighter Side of Sunshine by Nils Hanczar

Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\title{
Orangewomen try for weekend sweep
}

BY ALISON HISCHAK
Staft Writer
Lisa Miller wants to replay her team's first three games. The SU head coach and her young squad opened their lacrosse season with three na-tionaly-ranked opponents and loss.

Miller and the Orangewomen get another crack at a team above them in the polls when they take on No. 13 George Mason on Monday afternoon at Rutgers University. The Patriots sit two spots highorthan No. 1 .

Two days before the contest against George Mason, SU faces Rutgers in a 12 p.m matchup at Yurcak Field.

Even though the Orangewomen have not played a ranked opponent since March 12, when Maryland posted a 24-11 victory at the Carrier Dome, Miller said standings don't mean everything.
"I honestly think on any given day in women's lacrosse right now anybody can beat anyone," Miller said. "If we play well, 'm not really worplay well, I'm not really worried about them being ranked."
The way the Orangewomen have been playing lately, especially in their last two games, should have lessened Miller's should have lessened Miller's SU's offense is capable of scoring with and on anyone, posting 16 goals against Colposting 16 goals against Colgate and Junior Katrina Hable, who struggled in early games zecording to her standards, cording to her standards, played well in the last two conagainst the Huskies.

Ithink we're playing better," Miller said, as long as we sort of continue to blend the running game with the settled game If if we get into one or the other, then wetre in trouble.

The SU defense has showcased its potential too, only allowing 13 goals in its last two games. Along with the close defenders, midfielders Karen Healy and Kim Wayne are making their presence felt.

Miller attributes the improvements to hard work in practice and communication on the field.

They're doing a good job in practice of covering the cutters and getting around the picks, Miller said. The defense is talking more. I think they are just quiet personality types.
"I can't complain about my defensive unit. They're trying. George Mason (5-3) will test the Syracuse defense, as country in scoring with an ave erage of in 12.25 goals per game. erage of 12.25 goals per game. leads the Patriots' offensive charge. The senior midfielder charge. The senior midnelder sists this season.

With George Mason's highpowered offense, it's not the best time for Syracuse to struggle with its goalkeeper situa-
But with senior Clothilde Ewing having allowed five firsthalf goals against Connecticut and Creshman Carla Gigon replacing her in the second half, the situation remains cloudy.

Miller wouldn't clarify who would start this weekend. "We're going to go day-byday," she said.

Overall, SU and George Mason are similar teams. Eoth squads have good speed and score well, and they both like to run a transition game.

Unlike George Mason, Syracuse's other weekend opponent, Rutgers, does not equally compare to the Orangewomen.

The Scarlet Knights (3-5), tarters from last season's NCAA Tournament team, are in the midst of a rebuilding season.

Because of her players' inexperience, Rutgers head coach Anna Marie Vesco said staying key to success.
"Since we are a very young squad, we are trying to stay relaxed," Vesco said. "We don't want to get frazzied, especially when teams pressure us.'

The lone veteran on the squad is senior defensive midyear starter has tallied 20 woals in Rutgers' first eight games, including a five-goal performance in an 8-7 victory over Hofstra.

Along with her skill on offense, Chambers is one of Rutgers' top defenders, making her a valuable asset, Vesco said.
"She's a great all-around player and that makes things interesting," Vesco said. "Even when she is double- and triple(teamed), she finds a way to score."

Junior Jill Penrose and sophomore Susan Duccilli join Chambers at midifield. Penrose ranks right behind Chambers in the scoring department with 12 goals and five assists, and Duccilli has tallied seven goals and three assists.

Rutgers prefers to work out of the settled attack, Vesco said, but may turn to the tranpition game if the SU

The Scarlet Kinights hough, do not have to primarily rely on their offense.

Rutgers' talented keeper. funior Lauren Gulotta, is ranked 12th in the nation with a 602 save percentage. Gulotta replaces graduated Nicol Parceluzzi, who finished second in the country last season in save percentage and goals against average.

With the inexperience of Rutgers and the way Syracuse has played of late, Miller hopes SU can post its first ever victory against the Scarlet Knights. Rutgers won both previous con. tests, a \(15-9\) game in 1998 and a-8 squeeker last year.

Although the teams have played only twice, Vesco said this weekend's matchup will pit two squads that have begun to get familiar with each other.

Rutgers and Syracuse al ways has a nice rivalry going, Vesco said. "Some of our kids played in tournaments together, so they know each other. It's a really good rivalry and it should be a hard-fought game.*

\section*{Rowing team hosts Ivy Leaguers on Onondaga}

\section*{Staff Reports}

The Syracuse rowing team returns home to Onondaga Lake on Saturday to compete Inits second consecutive trimeet, this time against Cornell

Last Friday, Syracuse took on Boston University and Miami in Beantown, winning the varsity fou sity eight.

The varsity eight led for more than half of the race, freshman Nicole Garofalo said, only to falter in the second half. A strong sprint at the end fell short, as BU beat the Orangewomen by seven seconds.
"We performed well," senior Jenna Riegelman said. "But it was disappointing we didn't beat BU (in the varsity eight). I thought we were at the same level as them, but in the end it turned out to be a disappointment.

The varsity four pirked up SU's only win on the afternoon with a time of \(8: 28\), 11 seconds better than its counterparts.

Now Syracuse returns home to the most polluted lake in the nation to face lvy League squads in Cornell and Yale. The Eig Red and Elis can match the Orangewomen in terms of ability, Garofalo said.
"I think our chances are pretty good," Riegeliman said. I'm excited because we have a good chance of winning.

The cold weather and rain don't affect the Orangewomen in the water, rowers said. But the winds - like the ones that tnssed small children Thurs. day - can slow the race down, Garofalo said. Garofalo said.

Thursday's doubleheader sweep of Bingharnton started a busy weekend for the Syracuse softball team.

The Providence Friars come to the Hill to face their future Big East rivals in a Saturday afternoon twinbill at the Softball Stadium at Skytop.

Syracuse (15-16) will join the Big East next season, but head coach Mary Jo Firrmbach did not want to wait until 2001 to start playing conference competition.

The Friars hope to rebound from a sweep by Notre Dame on Sunday, when PC gave up 25 runs in two games against the No. 21 Irish.

Firnbach said she and her team are looking forward to playing Providence, especially fter swept a doubleheader against Boston College last

\section*{just dive!}

Register for Fall 2000 Courses It's Safe - FUN - Affordable

PED 214

\section*{Snorkeling}

PED 221
Beginner Scuba
PED 223
Underwater Photography

PED 225
Advartced Scuba

\section*{An Courrem arn One crodin}

The Nation's Leader The Nation's Leader derwater Education

nationalaquatic.com

weekend.
"Any time we play a Big East school, I'm fired up to play them," Firnbach said. "We ust want to come out there and take care of ourselves. If we take care of ourselves and hit the ball well and pitch well, we're going to win a lot or ball games."

Tobacco Track, err, Road
The Syracuse track and field teams, will face some of the nation's top squads, and several world-class professionals, at the Duke Invitational today.

Several former Olympians race the field in a number of events, including 1996 gold medalist Derrick Adkins, whe won the 400 -meter hurdles.

The Orange have been bolstered all season by strong performances from Cheree Hicks one of the nation's best throw ers, and sprinter Adrian Woodley:

Compiled by Asst. Sports Editor Greg Bishop and Staff Writer Jason Remillard.

The Daily Orange Classified Advertising
The deadline for classified advertisements is \(2 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

Last Saturday, Brown bullt its defonsive scheme around stopping Ryan Powell. The All Amerfcan attacker may draw similar attention from Loyola when the Groyhournds battio American attacker may draw sir

A Ryan Powell ( 20 g, 18 a). A NTKe A Ryan Powell ( 20 g. 18 a). A Nike ( 19 gb ). G Rob Mulligan ( 7.02 gaa)

The SU juggernaut is set on win-
The su juggernaut is set on wingame will show whether the game will show whether the Orangemen are for real or are real pretenters. Powell, Springer anct Liam Banks form one of the nation's best attack. Middies Josh Coffman and Matt Caione provide a great scoring punch, and the close defense of Glatzel, Marshall Abrams and Billy St. George is punishing. Comparisons to SU's 1990 National Championship team largely considered the greatest ever - have surfaced. Tonight's results will show their validity.

Dave Cottle (18th year, 167-63)
A Tim Goettelmann ( \(19 \mathrm{~g}, 13 \mathrm{a}\) ), Gavin Prout ( 22 g. 7 a). M Bobby Horsey ( \(10 \mathrm{~g}, 9 \mathrm{a}\) ), G Jason Born ( 7.44 gaa )

Cottle is a veteran and gets his Greyhounds up for each game. Goettelmann and Prout compose a scary one-two punch, and Peter Haa and Mike Battista can step up from he midline. Their scheme. Cottle said. is quite reminiscent to the Orangemen's. While Loyola coes no un as frequently - or effectively as SU, the tearn's penchant for spurts can scare even the best defense. Born's 7.44 goals against average is impressive. but he is vulnerable. The showdown marks the unior's first foray into big-time col ege lacrosse, as this is his first sea. son as a starter

\section*{LOYOLA}
continued from page 20
severed. The Greyhounds join SU as one of the two remaining undefeated teams in the nation. Senior Tim Goettelmann paces the Greyhounds with 32 oints. His brother Gunnar has sists.

But the play of Gavin Prout, a transfer from Gannon College in Erie, Pa., surprised everyone from Cottle to SU head coach John Desko.

Cottle brought Prout to Loyola this season after Gannon dropped its program. The coach said he expected the 5 -foot- 9 , 170-pound Prout to take some face-offs and provide a good shot on man-up possessions.

He's done that and more. His 22 goals are good for sixth in the country, and he is a nuisance to defensemen, running circles around the crease.
"Someone like that can be the easiest guy in the worid to cover or the hardest to cover," SU defensive midfielder Sam Bassett said. "If the people feeding him aren't good dodgers, always use latex condoms

For a free, full-color poster \(\left\{18^{\prime \prime} \times 24^{\prime \prime}\right\}\), write: AIDS Postor 2, Box 2000 , Albany. N.Y. 12220 N.Y.S. Health Department

\section*{WRITE}

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number:
Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{War of Words}

Tonight's Syracuso-Loyola matchup is among the most anticipated this lacrosse season. Participants have different opinions on the No. 1 vs. No. 3 showdown at 8 p.m. in the Carrier Dorne.
"If they have to key on one guy, it's not hard against another team. But if you have a bunch of guys like we do, there are going to be a lot of holes.
- SU midflelder Matt Calone
"We realize what's at stake and how quickly it can go. You always strive for a perfect season, and as we keep winning we keep gaining momentum." - SU defensive midflelder Sam Bassett

I love how Syracuse plays right now. Defensively, they play together. Offensively. they have some Key performers. If I was voting for Player of the Year right now, l'd vote for Rob Mulligan."
- Loyola coach Dave Cottle you can stay on them. With someone like Prout, who concentrates on quick-sticking, you him.
"It becomes a problem when they have more talent and they can dodge. You re forced to come off them. If you don't, they'll dish it and (Prout) will score."

Loyola received a boost the past couple of weeks when close defenseman Joe Rodrigues and midfielder Peter Haas returned from injuries. With a solidified lineup, the Greyhounds aver aged more than 15 goals per game over their last three outings.

Invading the Carrier Dorne - which Desko said could draw up to as many as 12,000 fans is not too imposing either, Cottle said. Loyola played five of its seven games on the road this season, booking quality victories at Hofstra and Towson, two tearns that have also lost to the Orangemen.

The challenge now is to do the same at Syracuse.

Cottle joked with Desko on Thursday at practice that, Syracuse lets us win every the and then so

About his height-impair=d team, Cottle said: "When th: \(y\) see our guys, Syracuse is going to think they're at a jockey convention.
All jokes aside, Cottle believes the key to extending the winning streak to 31 games lies in the play of SU goalie Rob in the play Mulligan.

While the Orangemen's of fense receives much of the credit for SU's 6-0 start, Mulligan's stellar play between the pipes allows the offense the fast breaks on which it thrives.
"All year, people haven't stopped them," Cottle said. "And that's the real pressure we've got. That's the first question we'll find out
"We also know we're going to get our shots. The question is, can we shoot it by Robby? We're shooting 41 percent as a team. That's an incredible percentage.
we've still got to be shooting 41 percent."

\section*{Summer Sessions 2000}
welcomes visiting students
More than \(\mathbf{8 0 0}\) students from other colleges and universities attend Montclair State University each summer.
Undergraditate Glasses
Craduate Classes
Classes in most programs and majors
Daytime - Evening Saturdays only
Three weeks May 22 - June 8
Four weeks May 22 - June 15
Twelve weeks May 22 -August 15
Saturdays June 3 - August 5
Four weeks June 12 - July 6
Eight weeks June 12 - August 3
Six week June 26 - August 3 four weeks July 10 - August 3
Plus additional sessions
Telephone registration begins April 14
MONTCLAIR
STATE
IUNIVERSITY
For summer catalog including schedule. course descriptions, and visiting student permission form, write, fax, or phone us today. e-mail: summersessionsemontclair.edu telephone: 973-655-4352
fax: 973-655-7851
Montclair State University, Summer Sessions
Upper Montclair, Nf 07043
Please send me - a summer catalog including schedule. course descriptions, and visiting student permission form.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

 Camp Counseliors: Jewish Community Center or Greater Rockester - Camp Seneca Lave is seekna male and lemale counselors who love workny with intormationappplication.

\(\frac{1}{\text { Fult yeart summer namnies needgad. Wortx with }}\) prominent tanities in New York and Cl. Excetont unctuces room and board. Medical benelis. Trivel opporturities. Agency 1 1-600-932-2736
Camp Posilions: Hiking. ropes courss. nature. pod.
 in the Finger Lakes. Thess senior positicns are 1or experienced applicants \(21+\). Sataries \($ 1800-2800\) plus rom and board form june 17 to August 20 .
Contact Renee at \(716-461\)-2000 Contact Renee at 716 Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed tor kne \(21-\) week plus room and boagrast These are ive in informaiov rappoicalion.

HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMER: Prestigious coed
eamp in peautitul Mass. seeks cafing. motivadid camp in beautitul Mass. seaks cating. motivalad dedicated. fun team needed. Join a \(\underset{\substack{\text { solaries }+ \text { rivel } \\ 1-600-762-2820 .}}{ }\)
Part time yeat round position at storage tacility.
Must work well with people and be combortable with computers Less itan a mile from the Universi) compuiers Less itan a mile from the Universily.
Ftease repty by tax main of in perssm. Aax-479-4156
314 Ainsley Dr. Syracuse. NY 13210 .
Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in Pocono Mns. Vver 40
activies -seeking speciaifist counselors. counselors.
wwwinelorestcamp.com Painters Wanted Ior Summer. Work in Universiry Painters Wanted lor Summer. Work in University and surrounding areas. Stan Mia April or Early May. Call Gary 446 -959日. Assembly Servico Tech, Good Pay/Benelits 5300 signing Borwus. No experience required. Signing Borws. No experience required.
Advancement Opportunities. Call: 1 1000-852-2453
Job Opportunities

 to schedule
on-campus interview

Pre-medical student wanked lor full-time position at busy medical office. while waring to hear from medical schoots. 452.2600
aring 10 hear from VANTED Help Wanted BARN HELP NEEDED: Responsible individual with Mon-Fin
WORK FROM HOME UP 10 S25.00mt PTT
$75.00H7 FTC CALL FOR FREE BOOKLET
 $1500 weekly polential mailng our circulars. No Experience Required. Free information packet. Call \(202-452.7679\).

FOR RENT
4 Edrm House 53004 m and 3 berm Mats \(\mathrm{Sz50/m}\)
Avail Aug. Very nicm. Watk to SU. FM Realty Avail Aug. Very nice. Watk to SU. FM Realty Group 637.5195 813 Comstock \(5 / 6\) Eedrooms Across From Wornens Gym. All amenities, mid May lease Wormens Gym. At \(52400+682-3304\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTON OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 EEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
LUXURIOUS: 2story apulot: Goumnet kitchn,

 NO PETS! Leases. Fine Ea-znet.com

\section*{L(.)(.) K \\ Safe & Secure}

Furnished 3 Bedrooms Porches, Laundry 655-2175 For details

\section*{Kensington Place 1 1stifloor large 3Bedroom
IgLivingroom Ditinyfioom ModernKititen IgLivingrom Diningroom ModernKichlen} hardwodifloors parches nearsusline

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms. ERt.jAPTs Homes 8 Town Houses
Everything you want and more for your buckl MOST INCLUDING Security Systann with 1" Dead Bolt Locks Prices Ramato sh Sorinker System Remodeled Full Custom Kitchon/Baths Kitciens hrctude: Goumpot Self-cteaning ovens,

 - Laundry Facilities on Premkeng (ilike home) - Oll-street Parding
- Snow & Lawn Maintenanco
- Super Insulatad (means k- willites)
- Some Apts. inclucle All Utillitiess a Furnished Such as - Comitrioct, Ostrom, Harrison. Macison, Vhestcoll, Clarencon, Ackerrian. Livingston. Lancaster
CALL 478-6504
OPR Developers AT YOUR SERVIC

\section*{O.P.R. Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ \\ UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709} Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems remodeled Apt's All Locations / Prices 478-6504

 Stap inten 3 bod Paw price esbefiris.

 calpeted. rakk to canpus.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{3}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

SumnerAve and LancastorAve three bedrooms apartunent also two bedroorms semi turnished avait abthe now call \(445-1027\)
2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid
Terrace Lange floonts Hardwood Floors Avail June or Aucg \(446-598 B\)

PLEASEVISTT OUR WESSITEFORTHELAGGEST Stutinoriention APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WwW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
1, 1/2 bectroom aticic apartment on quiet streat. Unitrrished. Ais conditioned wall to well carpel new June 1515350.00 per moxth plus ultitit
One year lease. No Pets 243.0754

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS EUCLID AVE PERSONS. FREE HEAT GREAT LOCATION 476-9933

Euclid and
Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished Parking, Porch Beautiful Condition
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

Large 3 bedroom. 2 lull bath. Watking distanc Looking tor a parace to tive? www.housing 101 .neL.. Free roommate sublet listings
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Great University Area Beautiful Modem 1 L 2 Bdrm Apts, for 2000-2001 Comse now a get your choics. All Now Appl. \\
(AC, Dishwasher) thenthot Water Inc. \\
Secure Buildings Whitereoms, Door Ralazeres. Custiom Blinds, Porch or Patio. OH-Str. Prkng, Lndry, Storpge, Contro Bus Line. 24hr Maintontince. Starting at \($ 550\) Call \(476-9643\) or Stop by Office at 116 Newbury Hollow (oft E. Arighten)
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline #tat************* \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apts. close \\
to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
\(440-6200\) \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Apariment 4Br. atuil bath I.place n.wood floor june/2000 wakk los. 1. 446-1951
University 283 Bedroom TownHouses 8 Flas. Inexpensive and mint condition Wassherforyer.
Fireprace.tinished basement, Call \(449-0109\). TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet. Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low vilities. 30 Competative renis 302 Marshall St:
(actoss trom Hiwon). Cactoss trom hawni. 479-5005
\(1,2,3,485\) Bdim Aparunents, Mouses+ Stuchos. Ciean Spacious, Suparior Condition, some tecently renovatad. Walking distanca, laundry. pecentily renovated. Waking distance. laundry.
parking \(474-6791\) Furnisted 2-58edroom Houses'Apariments Livingstion, Surminer, Ackerman, Euctic 469-6665 One nod Two Aedroom Furnished Apartments Corner of Wamul and Furmihed Apartments Corner od Wabut and Hatrison Avences Leases Conmence june 2000 .

3 Becroom Modern Apartment on Adkerman
Avenue. 5220.00 per person plus utilties.
Avenue. 5220.00 per person plus utilites
Avaiable June 1 Si 2000 . Some oll Staet Parkin
 Fels. 254-0025
Genesee Manor Apts 2113 East Genespe spacious IWo bedroon 15 baths abund inlormation Elaine \(463-1 / 43\)
Ackerman Ave. nice 3terroom hat, lurnished stove, refrig. lacinfry, lireplace, garage.
Avail Junc \(151466-4229\)
204 Ostrom Elisiency One and 2Bedrom Secure \begin{tabular}{l} Avail Junce 446.5186 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540

Houses
Large 3/4 bedrooms house on Eucid, Maryland.
Firgelace off-street parking, washer-dryet, walk 10 campus. reasonatio rate, avaiable 81100 Cail 449-4954, 637-5195

> RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSETWO FIREPLACES FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES \(476-9933\)

> RENTYOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES,

> Summer Rentals

\section*{Summer Bargain! szouimo per person with alt} available. Flent mhole apartment
One Dlock Irom Campus. \(446-9598\)

SUBLET
Summer

\section*{Summer Sublet Three Bedroom Apartment Two} Bedroorms let \($ 300\) mit Call \(442-6495\) (Carot
Sumner - Sublets Available. A variety of sizes and Locations. University Area Apls 479.5005 Ackerman available hine1- Acgust15. Hur Ackerman available Junte1- Actgust 15s. Huge furnished 1,23.4 bedrocm liat. Great porch. parking 446-3420

SERVICES Travel

LOST
Animal
LOST
4-1-00
Black and white
Small Cat
Vicinity of Ackerman/ Berkley.
Recently
Spayed.
REWARD 472-0069

\section*{The Daily Ornnge}
wasn't getting my spins as well as I could have. It didn't turn out too bad. I expected more from myself", The Orangewomen (15-16) made up for their third-inning deensive woes by exploding for eight runs in the bottom half of the frame.

Syracuse sent 13 batters to the plate, bashed six hits and took advantage of three of Binghamton's five errors. All eight runs came with no outs.

The barrage began when freshman second baseman Julie Dunn tripled over the head of Bearcat right fielder Amy George hat scored Christina Holowich scored on a Lindsay Richards sinscore gle.
Before shining on the mound in the second game, Bieman had a strong first game at the plate.

Like Dun, Binan used the strong wind blowing to right and ofted a double over George that hit the wall on the fly, scoring Richards and Jackie Herrman.

Those hard hits, combined with a few timely Bearcat errors, opened the floodgates. Only two of SU's ten runs in the game were carned.

We just had a couple of errors that got us in a hole," Binghamton head coach Holly Brown said. "They probably wouldn't have scored eight runs in that inning if anything.
inning might have gotten out of that inning (leading) 2-0."

Bieman carried her hitting performance over to the mound in garne two.

She gave up the sole Binghamton (8-6) run in the final inning on a Jessica Ross double. The Ontario native also struck out seven Bearcat.

Ross cooled the Syracuse bats down, something Margaret Ye don could not do in game one.

SU both SU runs, hitting a ground ball that turned into a run-scoring thowing error. She then drove n a run with a fifth-inning bloop single.

Both teans conmitted fewer errors in the sccond game, which helped keep scoring down.

SU booled only one play compared to four in the opener, while ts five aror first germe with only ts five-error first game with only two miscues in game two.

Not havine to worry about their defenses failing them, Bieman and Ross engaged in a pitcher's duel

Bieman walked only one bat er, and Ross was only called for an illegal pitch - a balk-like maneuver that awards the batter first base.

Because the pitchers were on their garnes, it was harder for the hitters to find a groove, Firnbach said.
"We came out and the bats vere a litlle tight for some reald son," she said. "I think we could have hit a little bit betier in that game, but we did what we needed to do to get the runs across."

\section*{THOUGHTS}

\section*{continued from page 20}
son.
She composed the 2000 roster with 17 players from 10 "It's all happened so quick

Firnbach said. "Last year was boring We didn't have an players and weren't running them through drills. But this is the fun part, definitely the best part."

They might not dunk like Damone or sprint like Spotwood, but these young ladies can certainly electrify.

Take freshman Tara DiMaggio, who shook off any home-opener jitters to fan a 10-3 first-game binters in the DiMaggio whiffed on 13 pitches in the first inning. She struck out the first inning. She struck out the first of whom made contact with her dancing fastball.

After DiMaggio's complete game, junior Missy Bieman held the Bearcats to five hits over seven frames in
to

Without potent arms, fastpitch softball teams own a smaller chance at success than a bass in Onondaga Lake. But Dimaggio and Bieman carried arms suad Thursday with their arms and energetic approach

After each Binghamton out, the SU infield gathered at the mound for a congratulatory pow.wow.

In the Orangewomen dugout, few reserves and coaches sat on the bench. Most littered the air with classic "Humond chatter such as "Hum, babe" and "Whaddya say, here, two-one.

The talk refused to die, stretching over 14 innings on a cold Syracuse afternoon. Even a chilling gale force wind, one projet mare opening a car door a project for a powerlifter, failed
"Everyone on this team has a passion for the game," reserve outfielder Sarah Polger said. "This is a special team. We're all brand new here. Whether it's on the field or in the dugout, we need to support each other.

After almost three decades of absence, the game and its precious sounds made a triumphant return to the Syracuse campus. The revival comes years too late, but play ers and fans must celebrate its arrival.

Together with the women's soccer and lacrosse programs, softball's start marks a new era in Syracuse sports. Although SU's wrestlers and gymnasts surely feel cheated, their angst should not subtract from the growth of Firnbach's program.
ome will peek at the softball's squads progress and merely lament about the struggling wrestling and terminated men's gymnastics programs.

But Thursday's home opener did not represent a funeral for those two teams. Rather, it marked a baptism for another Syracuse sports program destined for athletic achievement.

Viewing the doubleheader as anything different cheats the softball players and coach es. It unjustly makes them scapegoats for the effects of overcompensating federal legislation.

The more we remind the players (of how important this is), the better," Firnbach said. "Every game is a new thing for them. They're just living in the moment right now.

On a perfect planet, every university's athletic program would support archery, water polo and every sport in between.

But dollars and sense dictate that this will never be the case, and said reality leaves caports fans with two choices.
They can cry over the loss of opportunity, or they can cel-
, she said.

\section*{Game Two} \begin{tabular}{lcc}
Binghamton (8-5) & AB & R \\
George & 3 & 0 \\
Lehrnan & 4 & 1 \\
Bocek & 3 & 0 \\
Pier & 4 & 0 \\
Lavin & 4 & 0 \\
Richardson & 1 & 0 \\
Gruber & 2 & 0 \\
Malarkey & 3 & 1 \\
Yerdon & 3 & 0 \\
Mui & -2 & 1 \\
\hline Totals & 29 & 3 \\
& & \\
Syracuse (14-16) & AB & R \\
Holowich & 4 & 1 \\
Dunn & 4 & 1 \\
Richards & 4 & 1 \\
Hermann & 3 & 1 \\
Snyder & 0 & 1 \\
Bieman & 3 & 2 \\
Hansen & 4 & 1 \\
lnman & 3 & 1 \\
Julicher & 2 & 1 \\
Collins & 2 & 0 \\
DiMaggio & 0 & 0 \\
\hline Totals & 29 & 10
\end{tabular}
ebrate the expansion of a longforlorn branch of collegiate athletics.

At Syracuse University, sad to say, men's gymnastics is a memory and wrestling could shortly meet a similar, and permanent, fate.

But led by a pair of outstanding right-handed pitchers and a doubleheader full of wind-piercing chatter, softball just started to live.
"We have a great team and a great facility," Firnbach said. These girls have a lot of input as to where the program is going to go. The coaching staff is energetic. It makes it all very exciting."

Dave Curtis is the sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. You can e-mail him at dgcurtis@syr.edu.

Binghamton (8-6)
George
Richardso
Lehman
Bocek
Pier
Lavin
Dalrymple
Malarkey Ross. Henningsen Spano

Syracuse (15-16)
Dunn
Richards
Hermann
Bieman
Hansen
inman Julicher
Collins:
Totals

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
\begin{tabular}{lllll}
Totals & 24 & 1 & 5 & 1
\end{tabular}

\begin{tabular}{lllllll}
H & RBI & & & & \\
0 & 0 & Syracuse (15-16) & AB & R & H & RE! \\
1 & 2 & Holowich & 2 & 1 & 0 & 0 \\
1 & 1 & Durn & 2 & 0 & 1 & 0 \\
0 & 0 & Richards & 3 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\
0 & 0 & Hermann & 3 & 0 & 1 & 1 \\
2 & 3 & Bieman & 3 & 0 & 2 & 0 \\
1 & 1 & Hansen & 3 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\
1 & 1 & Inman & 3 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\
1 & 1 & Julicher & Newell & 3 & 0 & 0 \\
1 & 1 & Collins & 1 & 1 & 1 & 0 \\
0 & 0 & & & 0 & 0 & 0 \\
\hline 8 & 10 & Totals & & 21 & 2 & 5 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

The Syracuse University Drama Department Presents

\section*{BLOOD WEDDING}
by

\section*{Federico Garcia Lorca}

\author{
Directed by Elizabeth Ingram
}

Mar. 31, Apr. 1, 5*, 6, \(7 & 8\) at 8 p.m.
Apr. 2 & 9 at 2 p.m.
*Apr. 5 pay-what-you-can night with SU student ID
Drama Box Office: 443-3275
Arts Adventure/Schine Box Office: 443-4517

Storch Theatre 820 E. Genesee St.

\title{
[sports
}

\title{
NO \\ PL
}

\section*{volume Xxx Numbec 119 Srrocuse, New York 20000}

\section*{m Student Government}

\title{
SGA board postpones bill vote
}

The vote should never have been brought to question because I was acting as presiding officer. I was doing my job that the students elected me to do. \({ }^{2}\)
JAMAL JAMES SGA President

BY TIFFANY LANKES Asst. News Editor

Students will wait an additional two weeks to vote on a bill that will change the Student Government Association's role on campus.

Following two weeks of heated debate in the Assembly, the organizations Judicial Review Board ciecided Thursday night to next week, citing a lack of volunnext week, citing a lack of volun teers to manage voting tables.

The JRB hears all cases concerning violations of SGA and Assembly laws and the ethics and conduct of its officers, according to the SGA Constitution.

See SGA page 9

STEVE RUARK/The Daily Orange Syracuse attackman Ryan Powell continued his hot play friday, scoringf four goals and dishingt out four assists in the Orangemen's \(16-9\) comeback victory aghinst No. 3 Loyola. Top-ranked SU moved its record to 7.0 and remains the only undcfeated Division I team in the nation after coming back from a G-3 deficit at halftime. See Sports, page 10 .

\section*{Police Repor's:}

\section*{Banks cited after outburst}

Staff Reports
Believed to be under the influence of a narcotic, former Syracuse University football player Vernon Banks was transported Vernon Banks was transported Crouse Hospital, 736 Irving Ave., according to a police report.

Shortly after midnight, Syracuse police found Banks, a former SU linebacker, standing on the sidewalk in front of the CVS store on South Crouse Avenue and adjacent to his black lnfmiti, Bystanders told police that Banks had "become violent" and kicked out the sunroof of his car, the report said. Banks began to nact violent, damaging his own car," after he left Harry's Bar, 700 S. Crouse Ave., earlier Friday Sight, the report added.

Syracuse University Ambuance transported Banks to Crouse Hospital's emergency room for medical evaluation, the report said.

The call for police was issued in response to a fight on East Adams Street and South

Friends of Banks were cited in the report as saying he had not had "much" to drink that night.

Banks could not be reached for comment.

Witnesses reported seeing Banks with other players including former SU quarterback Donovan McNabb.
McNabb, a quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles, was visiting campus over the weekend Smith a freshage, said Clifton SU.

Police did not arrest Banks because they did not find substantial evidence that he was under the influence of a narcotic, Syracuse Police Department said.

Banks may have been transported to the hospital as a safety precaution for his own well-being, Sackett added

After being admitted to the hospital, Banks acted violently to-

See COPS page 8

\section*{- Election 2000}

Nader to visit SU, address activism

Nader

\section*{by caroline chen}

\section*{Staff Writer}

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader arrived at Syracuse University in 1972 hoping to convey his political vision through a lecture.

He left after giving students inspiration to create their own vision and establish the first local chapter of the New York Public Interest Research Group, said Kevin Cooney, a NYPIRG member.

His influence has carried through," said Cooney, a senior television, radio and film and English and Textual Studies major.

The man Cooney and his fellow group members fondly call "Uncle Ralph" will again speak at SU at

See NADER page 6

\section*{Greek Affairs}

\section*{Panhel debates inviting new sororities to campus}

The Panhellenic Council is debating whether to include new sororities in the Whether to include new sororities in th Syracuse University greek community. re poing to expand, Panhel Vice President Maria Rioux said. We're taking it step-by-step."

Panhel will vote April 26 to determine a possible expansion, said Lisa Walsh, assistant director of the Office of Greek Life.

In order to have expansion, all sororities have to come to a majority vote, \({ }^{-1} \mathrm{Ri}\) oux said.

Large turnouts at recent Rush sessions are part of the reasion for an expansion, she eaid. Rush is a bi-gnnual event in which SU students are invited to meet sorority and fraternity members and join a greek house.
"Rush trends seem to be high every See PANHEL page 6

\section*{SARO protests Shrine circus}

\section*{BY KEVIN TAMPORE}

Asst. News Editor
Syracuse University students protesting cruelty to circus animals found themselves caged in at the New York State Fairgrounds on Friday night, said Josh Katcher, co-president of the Student Animal Rights Organization.

Organizers of the visiting Shrine Circus set up a special area for protesters outside the circus tents, said Katcher, a freshman film major. The students' activities were limited to the areas within barri cades that resembled barred cages, he added.
Katcher actually worked out well for us," Katcher said. II think a lot more people came up to us because they thought we were working there."
Circus officials could not be reached for comment.

About 12 students showed up to the Friday night protest, but rain, sleet and snow caused only one or two activists to arrive at the circus Saturday night. Protesters carried signs and picketed near the tents, but their main goal was educate as much as possible those attending the circus about animal abuses, Katcher said.
"We had information for people going into the circus about what goes on behind the scenes," he said.
some of the alleged abuses include tric shock, he added.

See CIFCUS page 3

\title{
[briefs]
}

\title{ campus calendar
}

\section*{TODAY}

E Al-Anon meets at noon in Schine Student Center, Room 233.

EThe Student Government Association hosts Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund at 7:30 p.m in Maxwell Auditorium. She will address academic matters and answer questions

EGoldstein Student Center hosts a Driver Safety Awarness Training for drivers of vehicles either owned, rented or leased by 11:30 a.m.

\section*{TUESDAY}
- Rich Forsgen, photo director with the Times Publishing Company in Erie, Pa., speaks from 1 p.m. to \(2: 20\) p.m. in Newhouse "Choom A2. He will
* Bennett Freeman, deputy assistant secretary of state for democracy, human rights and labor, speaks from 4:30 p.m. to

\section*{national news}

\section*{CIA fires officer, reprimands six \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. - The} CIA has fired one intelligence offi cer and reprimanded six man agers, including a senicr official for errors that led to the U.S. in Belgrade during NATO's air in Belgrade Yuring NATO s air war geainst Yugoslavia

CIA Director George J. Tenet took the disciplinary action late taok the disciplinary action late last week after may 7 bombing which killed maree Chinese citiwhich killed three Chinese citizens, wounded more than 20 others and deeply strained U.S.Chinese relations.

The United States has apolo gized to beifing and agreed to pay \($ 28\) million in compensation to the Chinese government and \($ 4.5\) million to the families of those killed and injured. But Beijing has rejected American explanations of the bombing and demanded that the United States conduct "a thorough investigation" and "se verely punish the perpetrators.

CIA spokesman Bill Harlow said yesterday that the internal reviews concluded that inteli Gence officers meant to target a the wrong building on a map.
ABC show addresses mental inness in response to requests by mental illness advocacy groups, ABC added a public ser vice announcer Thursday's episode of "Wondertand," about the suicide of a psychiatric patient.

The message was Burke, who plays a doc tor on the new drama series about a New York City psychiatric hospital.

Effective treatment is available for menta! illness," the PSA began "The vast majority of mentally ill people are not violent and pose no threat to the community or to themselves. They deserve our compassion and our understanding. There is help and there is hope."

\section*{Fujimori trails in Peru election}

LIMA, Peru - Presiden Alberto Fujimori, whose domineering style crushed two guerrilla movements and made him a symbol of authoritarian lead. ership in Latin America for the past 10 years, appeared locked in a fight for his political life Sunday night with Alejandro Toledo, a former shoeshine boy voters by celebrating his Indian voters

Exit polls released after a tense day of voting showed Toledo solidiy anead of Fujimori in short of the 50 percent needed

\section*{Court urged to repeal 'Miranda' \\ Officials push Elian's return}

WASHINGTON, D.C. -
Law enforcement groups across the nation are urging the Supreme Court to abandon its landmark Miranda ruling, part of a concerted effort by opponents of the 1966 decision to end the requirement that police read suspects their rights.

The unprecedented legal assault on Miranda by police is one component of a calculated strategy by the rulings opponents to appeal to the pragmatic, swing-vote justices who are dra Day O'Connor and Anthony M. Kennedy - by highlighting Miranda's costs to society. VicMirs' rights groups have joined police by filing their own brief in the case, to be argued before the court April 19.

The filings put police and local prosecutors in an unusual conflict with the Justice Department, which believes Miranda offers workable guidelines that should be upheld. The department also emphasizes that the warnings, popularized in television police dramas, are integral to public confidence in the justice system.

\section*{world news}
to unseat Fujimori outright and avoid a runoff vote. Toledo was leading Fujimori with 48.5 percent of the vote to 42.7 percent, according to one exit poll; a second showed him with 45.2 percent to Fujimori's 43.6 percent. The first official returns were expected late Sunday night.

\section*{China verbally} attacks Taiwan

SHANGHAI, China. Beijing lashed out at Taiwanese Vice President-elect Annette Lu this weekend, calling her scum after she said on television that the island should be only a rebor" of mainland China.

Beijing's broadside came in WASHINGTON, D.C. The Miami relatives of \(6-y e a r\)-old Elian Gonzalez sought Sunday to delay a meeting scheduled Monday with mental health experts the government has asked to adise it how best to return the boy to his Cuban father. But government officials said they would reject any delay and would tell the relatives "we nee this process forward."

In a lengthy letter sent to Attorney General Janet Reno, the relatives said that Marisleysis Gonzalez, whom they have described as a mother figure'n to Elian since his rescue four to Elian since his rescue four months ago, was hospitalized for months ago, was hospitalized for be unlikely to attend the meeting. The government responded that while they hoped she could be there, "We will still hold this meeting." Officials said the experts would offer to visit her in the hospital, if necessary.

The day's back and forth came as the Miami relatives sought to delay what Reno, and other senior government officials, have said is the inevitable return of Elian this week to his father.
the form of an editorial by the oficial New China News Agency that appeared on the front pages of all newspapers Saturday morsing and was read on all television stations Friday night.

Chinese observers said the attack on Lu, who was elected March 18 when Chen Shui-bian captured the presidency, indicated that Beijing is feeling in creasingly exasperated with Chen and Lu, his forceful run ning mate who has been a diehard advocate of Taiwanese independence for more than 20 depend

Chen has also supported Taiwan's independence but in recent years has moderated his stance. China has vowed to at dependence.

Eonsumer advocate Ralph Nader speaks at 4 p.m. in Hen dricks Chapel. He will discuss thes.

EThe Career Development Center presents "How to Find an Internship" from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in Newhouse I, Room 20.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}

E Poet Mary Karr speaks at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium

E John Winslow of the Syra cuse FBI chapter speaks at 5 p.m. in the Hall of Languages Room 500. He will discuss how to work at the FBI, qualifications for candidacy with the bureau and his personal experiences.

E Lizza Bogado, an actress and recording artist from Paraguay, performs traditional Paraguayan folk songs and discusses recent political and socia changes in her country from p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in Maxwell Audiin Spanish pell Cather win in Spanish. Call Catherine No

E SU hosts a Spring Community Forum from 7 p.m. to \(8: 30\) p.m. in the Women's Building, 820 students can meet with university officials and discuss such pro grams as the University Commu nity Partnership and the Neigh borhood Patrol Initiative.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127 Submissions are also accepted via e-mail
JSilverOne@aol.com

\section*{[d.ä]}

The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse University's acadernic year is distrihuted on campus with the first five copies complemencary and each additional cupy custs $1.

Management 443-9798 \(\begin{aligned} \text { Business } & 443-2314 \\ \text { News } & 443-2127\end{aligned}\)
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Lifestyle } & 443-2128 \\ \text { Spurts } & 443-2208\end{array}\)
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Phuregraphy } & 443-2208 \\ 443-9795\end{array}\)
E-mail editurialpdailyorange-com
Online www-dailyorange.enm

\section*{CIRCUS}
continued from page 1
The protest was controlled and non-violent, but Katcher aid there was about one police Frider for every protester present Friday. The police repeatedly told protesters that they had to ollow police orders or they would e arrested.
"I think they were a little out of hand," Katcher said. "They were just being very rude. They even pulled one kid over to a car because he wouldn't give them them Her our names. We weren't do ng anything wrong.

Al made, Katcher said the protesters ere repeatedly threatened with fenced-off areas. Katcher sa Katcher said students beieved the fairgrounds are public for protests. The police were open old the students that the fitr grounds were private property and therefore students had to do as they were told, he added.

Elizabeth Cline, a SARO member, agreed that the police were too aggressive for the type of protest that the students were running. The protest was non-violent and education-oriented, she added.

Basically they were ready for us before we got there," said

Cline, a junior policy studies maor. There was a lot of resistance. Id say there was an excess of resistance.

The barricaded areas the students were restricted to slashed their contact with the people they were trying to educate and diminished the protest's effectiveness somewhat, Cline said.
"It was pretty degrading and ronic at the same time that they "Bud us in these cages," she said. But 1 consider it a success anyime we reach someone and plant a seed in someone. I think we at least reached a few of the people fre thats what counts.

Kated the aroted and said he believed the protest prompted at about animal acts in circuses Some of the people the students. handed information to were visibly surprised by what they read he added.

The ultimate goal of SARO and similarly motivated groups is to end the presence of animal acts at all circuses, he explained

We all have the common belicf that having exotic animals in the circus is unnecessary," Katcher said. "There are lots of circuses, like Cirque du Soleil, that are 10 times more successful that those with animal acts. Hopefully we'll see an end to this everywhere."

Lecture notes . review & exam preparation . study groups (Among other academic trears) -alwars (1440.365) open-

4 think it's a really important thing that people from all over the country come down for it, to show strength in numbers. 9

RACHEL

\section*{DISTELBURGER}

SEAC member several protests and candlelight vigils at \(S U\). The groups were protesting SU's continuing support of the Fair Labor Association, which group members claim tion, which group members claim is biased in their investigations is biased in their investigations of companies allegedly using of compani

The students are urging \(\operatorname{SU}\) officials to join the recentlyformed Worker Rights Consorfium, an association they say will be more fair in corporation labor assessments. University officials have responded by saying that they will give consideration to the WRC ance the organization is a functioning entity."

Sophonare Kim O'Connell aid she is a newly-joined SEAC member and was inspired to become active after Spitfire Tour 2000 on March 27

The Spitfire Tour featured ex-Dead Kennedys singer Jello Biafra, radio personality Kennedy and actor Andy Dick.

Biafra specifically spoke about his concerns regarding pro-Grams such as the North American Free Trade Agreement which lowers tariffs on imports to the United States from Canada and Mexico - and the World Trade Organization.

Biafra said he felt that prorams such as those should be abolished.
it just opened my eyes to a lot of things going on that need changing at this point," said \(\mathrm{O}^{\prime}\) Connell, a communication design major.

Even though it means missing several days of classes, \(\mathrm{O}^{\circ}\) Connell said the reasons for the protests justified her taking time off of school.
"I really think it's for a good cause," she said. "I know it's going to be a long road and this is just one step, but it's striving for something good.
"It's worth it."

The Student Environmental Action Coalition and the Syracuse University Career Services Network Present the First Annual

\section*{ALTERNATIVE CAREER FAIR}

\author{
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12, 2000 \\ 10:00-3:30 \\ 304 ABC SCHINE STUDENT CENTER
}

Explore opportunities in: engineering, law, socially responsible investing, media, public health, social and environmental organization, public service, and industry. The Alternative Career Fair is your opportunity to find jobs, internships, and graduate programs in progressive fields that are socially and environmentally responsible.

Companies and organizations will be taking resumes, offering advice, and providing information you need to enter the world of industry. The Alternative Career Fair will raise awareness and offer career opportunities that can protect the environment and serve the common good.

Companies and organizations attending include.........

AFL-CIO
Atlantic States Legal Foundation
Center for Health, Environment and Justice
Cornell Cooperative Extension
Defenders for Wildlife
NYPIRG
Ozone Action Group
Peace Corps
Public Citizen
Rain Forest Action Group

Shaklee
Sierra Club
Student Conservation Association
SUNY ESF Graduate School
The Nature Conservancy
University of DC
Clarke School of Law
US Fish and Wildlife

For more information contact the Center for Career Services, 303
University Place, Suite 235, 443-9086 or web.syr.edu/~clreutli/career/

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number.
Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{Sixth-graders learn lesson in college life \\ BY ASHLEIGH GRAF \\ The sixth-graders were cho- \\ and their parents at the home of \\ pated in the program and said she \\ shouldn't underestimate their}

Staff Writer

A sixth-grade student at tended a 500 -level college math class Friday and took more than three pages of notes.

The student, and 11 of his classmates at Seymour Magnet School, visited Syracuse Universiy for a men 200 p program called hadow Day 2000.

When he returned to his sixth-grade classroom, his eacher asked why he had taken all the notes. He replied that hey would help him when he latar takes the class at SU, said ennal relation, a senior internaional relations and information

Shadow Day
mour Magnet School on the Seymour Magnet School because it has a large population of Hisas having one of the largest subsidized lunch programs in Syracuse, said Lori Peck, the program's organizer.
"If were going to implement this program, what a perfect place to do it," she said.

\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{8}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
CICERO 13 \\
S985 E: cIRct E DR. \(699-0299\) /699-4291 \\
RUMu2t E12:00 13:45.7:00.9 35 \\
NCAEEMENT 11:80. 3 : \(10.6:\) :20.9:15 \\
 \\
SKULTS12:20.4:00.7:10, 0,45
ELDORADOD2:10. \(2: 20,4: 45.6 ; 45.9 .00\) \\
AHERECAN BEAUTY12:35, 1 S0,6:30.9-05 \\
MIOER HOUSE12:15,7:20,6:4 \\
PYARDST:25.10:05 \\
ERIN DROCHONICH13:50,3:15:6:50.5:40 FINAL DESTINATICN12:40,4 \\
GREAT NORTHERN 10 \\
AB1 & 31 RIGHT REAR OF MALL \(552-2134\) \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
CAMILLUS 10 \\
RT, S CABILLUS MALL \(488 \cdot 1122\) \\
RLMALETPG13) &; 10,7:05,10:00 \\
 \\
 \\
 Exime Brochovich(rin:30, e:SQ,4:30 \\
 \\
SHOPPINGTOWN 10 \\
ERIE BLVD E S.19.2210 \\
 \\
 \\
 \\
 mintivirracim12:so ERy \\

\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
sen for the program by their principal, based on their interest in learning, Peck said.
"(They) weren't necessarily the best students," she said, but added that "for the past three years I have been involved, this is definitely the best group of kids."

An SU student established Shadow Day three years ago for a social work class, said Flory, one of the organizers this year and one of last year's mentors

The middle-schoolers were paired with SU students to tour campus and attend a class, Peck tion for both the middle-schoolers

SU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw. After spending the morning and lunchtime on campus, the students attended a workshop that included several speakers Who went to Seymour Magnet School and are now involved with SU, she added.

The middle-schoolers received several gifts from the SU Bookstore, as well as from the "We got so muid.

We got so much donated to them," she said.

Peck said the SU students involved were selected by Flory and herself.

Le'esha Smith, a sophomore social work major, particiwas very grateful for the opportunity to influence the girl she mentored.
"It felt like I was reaching back to the community." Smith said. "I just wanted to show her a day a college kid's life was like."

Smith said she and the student she worked with will continue to speak. They have already agreed to read the same book to provide a topic of conversation

Adam do.
Adam Jackson, a senior information science and technology major, said he learned a grea eal from his Shadowee.
ts at youncer
wills and desires," Jackson said. Jackson said the boy he mentored was very interested in the sociology class he attended.

When I asked him what he thought of the class he said, 'Well, I liked the fact that people got to alk more,"" Jackson said

The shadowing program though just beginning, will probably not include any schools other anail numbr or SU student asmall number ory student pot mate more middle shoot not manage \(n\) wIt has

It has definitely been growing - more offices and depart ments have been involved."

O2000HER RICch Vix Serices hcopporad

\section*{THE DAIIF ORANGE Classified Advertising}

The deadine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call \(443-9793\) for more informetion.

\section*{NADER}
continued from page 1
4 p.m. Tuesday in Hendricks Chapel.

Nader, a Green Party candidate for the U.S. presidency, has challenged the role of corporate powers in politics and encouraged civic participation since the late 1950 s . He argues that corporate influence on the government corrupts true democracy.
"When citizen participation fourishes, human values can tame runaway commercial imperatives," he said in a Feb. 21 speech during which he an nounced his candidacy for president.

Nader will discuss the future of public activism during his speech at SU. He will also speak from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday night at the South Presbyterian Church, on the corner of South Salina and West Colvin streets.
"It's always good to hear from an alternative point of view." SU's Graduate Student Organization President Eric Hunn said.

GSO is paying Nader's \($ 10,000\) speaking fee, he said. Nader, however, will donate the money to various causes, added Hunn, a law and public administration graduate student.

The Syracuse community will receive Nader's message positively, said Howie Hawking, co-chairman of the Green Party of Onondaga County.

"Nader offers people the real alternative," he said. "He speaks for the common people." Even though Naderannounced his presidential campaign two months ago, he has been ignored by the national media, Hawkins said.

The lecture Tuesday will help his candidacy gain attention, Hawkins added.
"It'll let people know they have more than 'Gush' and 'Bore,"' Hawkins said, referring to Nader's fellow presidential Candidates Texas Gov. George W. Bush and Vice President Al Gore.

Tuesday's speech, however, wit not be a political campaign pitch, said Kayla Drogosz, a public administration graduate student who helped bring Nader to SU. Green Party activi ties are only one part of what Nader has accomplished, she added.

Nader established ways for individuals to participate in the democratic process, Drogasz said.
"Ralph Nader has been a visionary that I've supported for while" she said "He's or a wred his own course and hartered he is to have people to his message is to have people to o the same.

Nader was instrumental in forcing the auto industry to intall seatbelts. He also helped form the Occupational Safety orm Health Administration the and frealth Administration, the Abency and the Freedom of In formation Act.
All these things are taken for granted now," Drogosz said. "There's no historical memory within our generation."

Drogosz said her classmates continue to think that change only occurs when made change only occurs when made had no political affiliations when he began his advacacy work.
"Most of the students were born when Reagan was presiborn when Reagan was president so that's their ideal of said. "That's pretty unfortu. nate.
"Hopefully, it will be empowering for students that someone built a life and career around being an advocate for public interest."

\section*{PANHEL}
continued from page 1
year," Rioux said. "But we do have some sororities who come and ask to expand on campus."

Representatives from sororities often approach Panhel to ask about establishing themselves on campus, Rioux said. It was not until this year, however, that Panhel began to discuss expanding, she added.

The last time the number of SU sororities increased was "a while ago," she said.

Expansion is also being considered simply to greaten campus sorority presence in relation to the presence of SU fraternities she added.

If Panhel representatives decide to go ahead with the expansion process, several representatives from sororities not on campus will visit SU, said Rioux, a juaior English and Textual Studies major.
"We hold one week in the fal! where there are presentations by sororities who want to come to campus," Rioux said.

Just because a sorority starts up on campus, however, it would not begin with the same environment as older houses, Rioux said.
"They wouldn't autornatically get a chapter house, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Rioux said. "There has to be one available for them to buy."

If Panhel decides to include another sorority, the respective chapter's situation would be simlar to that of Zeta Psi when the raternity moved onto campu hree years ago, Rioux said.
ld not be representatives could not be reached for com ment.

Zeta Pai started as a relatively small group of men, but Rush periods They are dow jusi as large as other are now just ished fraternities on campus
"It only took about thr years to get that big," she added.

Compiled By Asst. News Editor Kate Stevenson

"To go through Iife as a non-citizen would be to feel that there's nothing you can do, that nobody's listening, that you don't matter. But to be a citizen is to enjoy the deep satisfaction of secing pain prevented, misery avoided and injustice decline." - Nader

Brought to you by Students for Democracy, GSO, Law Senate, Hendricks Chapel, The Dept. Of Religion, Dept. of Public Administration, The College of Law, The College of Arts & Sciences (speakers costs given to charity)

\section*{"The Future of Independent Politics & Public Interest Activism" APRLL \(11^{\text {th }}\), Hendricks Chapel Lecture, Q&A & Reception at 4pm}

\title{
Ralph Nader
}

The man who brought GM to their knees 'cuz they didn't want to put seat belts in your cars so you would be safe...

Public Interest Advocate & Presidential Candidate for the Green Party 2000...
America's #1 Citizen...

Carly Abel Kimi Bellinger essica Denholtz Teanna DiMicco Shira Etzion Ashley Feingold Farrah Ferenzo Erica First Casey Freedman Staci Friedman Shari Geisinger

Jilian Glenn Mollie Hanna katie Harms Hilary Kaufman Jayme Lederman Ivy Mackin Merritt Meyer Jeanette Negri Jen Newman Jessica Palladino

Lauren Roseman Holly Rich
Shawn Sadofsky Lisa Scheinerman Allison Schwars
Pia Solomon Abby Urofsky Pricilla Vigoreaux Justine Waldman Jessica Weinstein Lindsay Whiting

\section*{S.U. Welcomes:}

Five Time Host of Saturday Night Live...

Lecture, QeA \(&\) Reception at 4 pm

\title{
[editorial \\ \\ Suspects must be \\ \\ Suspects must be guaranteed rights guaranteed rights \\ \\ Everyone who has ever watched more than } \\ \\ Everyone who has ever watched more than five minutes of any TV police drama can recite the Miranda rights word for word.
}

The 1966 Miranda v. Arizona decision nullifies any confession given prior to appraisal of one's right to silence and legal counsel. But if the U.S. Supreme Court buys into a push to overturn the ruling, television might be the only place where we hear the phrase from now on.

The United States boasts an internationally enviable - albeit far from perfect - justice system. And the hallmarks of the system are the rights guaranteed by the Miranda ruling.

Without a minimal standard of rights guaranteed to every suspect, the entire judicial process would be dangerously hastened. Premature confessions, regardless of their validity, would pave the way to a jail cell.

When cops slap cuffs on the wrists of a suspect - guilty or innocent - the fear induced by the sight of flashing lights and the sound of screarning sirens often moves them to offer information they might not ordinarily give. The influence of drugs, alcohol or violent circumstances might also cloud judgement during those precarious moments.

Giving citizens protection in those precarious moments is vital to maintaining the integrity of our justice system.

Striking down Miranda would alter the face of the U.S. judicial process forever. If preMiranda confessions became admissible in court, defense teams would be forced to cut through even more legal red tape, and the inevitable appeals would surely lead to rising debts for both the defendant and the government.

Overturning Miranda would require U.S. citizens to renew their already weakened faith in law enforcement agencies after a slew of recent police-brutality headlines. And since the wounds from the Amadou Diallo case are still fresh, it's a bad time to ask that favor.

If U.S. lawmakers truly believe in the integrity of our legal system, they must ensure that all citizens are made aware of their rights when they are arrested.

\title{
[d.०.]
}

Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Silverman
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports
Design Editor
Design Editor Holly Aver Sapna Kollali
Dave Curtis Dave Curtis
Joy Davia Joy Davia Bill Ehninger
Adeet Deshmukth Neva Austrow Laura Prabucki Laura Prabucky
Kate Stany Lansken Tiffany Lankes Corey Harn Magin McKGenna Jeff Passan Ereg Bishop laine Skinner Design Editor Design Editor
Design Editor Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Tito Bottitta Tom Nason Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor Rachael Golden
Lisa Caswell Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Edito Ron Fooks Asst. Copy Editor Jill Mercadante

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Succinct, precise contruction makes best English}

The English language is a mysterious phenomenon On one hand, timeless masterpieces written by Mark Twain and William Faulkner shaped English literature in an unprecedented way. Even foreign authors like Joseph Conrad and Vladimir Nabokov used English to convey profound insights in their novels, though English is their non-native language.

On the other hand, one can also disgrace the English language by writing horrific sentences like, "I am writing

HENRY Y.
CHUNG to you on behalf of some sentiments that have been crawling under my skin and festering the past few weeks we have been back at school." This sentence is excerpted from an article in Syracuse University College of Law's Res Ipsa Loquitur journal.

So what's wrong with the sentence? First, it is unbelievably verbose. Second, one could say, "I write on behalf of \(m y\) teammates" but it would behalf of my teammates," but it would be techunically difficult to write on behalf of one's sentiments. Finally, while it may be a colorful description, it is nonetheless stylistically erroneous to have "sentiments crawling over (one's) skin." Sentiments do not crawl.

The correct form should read: "I write to express what has been troubling me for the past few weeks." That is a more succinct, grammatically correct and effective entence.

I am appalled that such embarrassing sentences are published in a law school journal. Besides giving the impression that lawyers do not know how to write, it also discredits those few who are exceptionally good writers. Perhaps that accounts for publications like "Plain English For Lawyers," by Richard Wydick, a book lawyers to do just what the title suggests.

My legal writing professor even spent the first two weeks of classes teaching us the difference between active week of classes teaching us the diference between ac and passive voices and how to write in complete sentences. At first, I thought our "grammar sessions" were redundant. Then, I read some of my classmates' writing samples.

Several weeks later, I received my copy of Res Ipsa Loquitur and found another particularly disturbing senthat really made me reassess whether or not I really wanted to be an attorney
I laughed out loud.
It doesn't take a rocket scientist to realize that this author failed to construct a complete sentence. Moreover, the "couple of" appearances of the word "really" makes me wonder "whether or not" the author is "really" a bad writer. Anyway, that is an example of a "really" bad sentence. Now I understand why we often returm to grammar lessons in our legal writing classes.

Like lawyers, the public also commits the error of using arcane phrases to express commonplace notions For example, Syracuse University voluntarily uses the term "computer clusters" to describe what is ordinarily known as "computer labs" or "computer rooms." While Jonathan Harr discusses Woburn, Mass., "leukemia clusters" in his national bestseller " \(A\). Civil Action," the term "computer cluster" is just a pompous way to communicate a simple idea.

Such a practice must be discouraged.
Consider this sentence: "Part of the reason I chose this law school is because it is not "cutthroat (sic)." This author makes the classic mistake of using "part of the rea son" to convey absolutely nothing. "Cutthroat" is a colloquial term that should not be used loosely. As a hater of verbosity, I would rewrite this sentence so it reads: 'I chose this law school because there is little competition."

The key to writing plain English is to omit surplus words, use shorter sentences and know your vocabulary. For instance, use "because" instead of "for the reason that" Use "although" to replace "despite the fact that". Use "if" rather than "in the event that." Avoid phrases like This is clearly beyond dispute that the fact is" and "In this regard it is totally imperative that. Unnecessary throat-clearing destroys an otherwise meaningfil mesthroa sage.

The beauty of the English language is an essential legacy of American culture, An anonymous scholar once said, "Languages and words maintain their vitality as they change in time, like water flowing in a pond." But if this pond is filled with polluted water, Then tisappear. As an English as a Third Language tics will disappear. As an English as a Third Language student in America, itd be foolish if I did not share this observation with the water again.

Henry Y. Chung is the first-jear student at the College of Lau His columns appear Mondays in The Daily Orange Email him ot hechurg@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Sweatshop labor often provides sole alternative}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Friday's pro-sweatshop letter to the editor from Jon Edingtonbothered me very much. Evident he is unsympathetic to the poor a limited understanding of human rights.

First of all, the Student Coalition On Organized Labor is fight ing for workers' rights and to eradicate sweatshops. In the meantime, they are righting for better working conditions in clothing factories. Who can argue with trying to make things better for people? SCOOL is starting small and working hard, and they should be commended for that Secondly, not everyone in sweatshop-ridden countries works in a sweatshop. Sweatshop labor ers are often young women in their teens and early twenties. These women are not forced to go into sweatshop labor, but many do as a way to support their families. make up for long hours of excruciating labor; sexual and mental abuse, no benefits and mandatory pregnancy tests.

Often, young women in these countries turn to prostitution as a way to earn more money than they make in a sweatshop. Although this practice is frowned upon by most societies, and although prostitution is a serious problem, je does make a person more money for less anguish. Sweatshop labor is the only alternative for many people wh oo not Wish to return to the farming or else take up beggary or farming or else take up beggary or within each "third-wor!d" government and U.S. corporations are profiting at exponential rates from the blood of millions of people who are already at "the brink of starvation," even if some of us choose to believe that sweatshop workers are happy to make the choice to work in a sweatshop.
Mr I was especially shocked at Mr. Edington's statement that SCOOL or anyone else would protest sweatshop labor simply because they are having some sort of conscience crisis. \({ }^{\text {D }}\) Does anyone really care what happens to poor people as long as it makes a bunch of college students feel good about themselves?" Yes. People who are not blind, selfish and uninformed peopie like Mr. Edington along the peop

Jen Newton
Class of 2002

\section*{COMPLIMENTARY PASSES}

EXCLUSIVELY FOR AMERICAN EXPRESS CARDMEMBERS.

WHEN AND WHERE Westcott Cinema April 12
what.
Cardmembers get a complimentary pass for two tor a preview screening of Dreamworks new film May 19 th.

HOW.
Just bring your American Express Card and your tisted below to pick up your passes.

\section*{SPECIAL OFFER}

JUST FOR APPLYING. Receive a complimentary pass for two when you apply or the American Express Credit Card for Students (stop by the location listed below).

MORE TO COME. Road Trip is one in a series of three major motion picyour campus this year, comyour campus this year Express.

PICK UP YOUR TICKETS HERE
Marshall Square Mall April 10-12

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com.

\section*{COPS}
continued from page 1 ward hospital staff and had to be restrained by Crouse Security, according to the report.

Crouse Nurse Supervisor Marsha Brewer declined to comment on the incident, but said Banks was released Saturday.
-A stereo was stolen from a pickup truck Thursday morning. according to a police report.

A 1993 Dodge Dakota, parked on the 1300 block of Madison Street, was broken into and ts Kenwood stereo was taken the report said.

The plastic woodgrain dashboard was broken and the driver's side window was damaged, the report added.

A neighbor heard noises and saw a man wearing a dark jacket, blue ball cap and light blue pants breaking into the truck, the report said.

The man ran away when the neighbor yelled, the report added. The truck belonged to a juforestry service management in the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, who said he was "pissed off' about the breakin.

The victim said he will wait until he goes home to get an estimate on the damage and get the truck fixed.

There are no suspects in the case, the report said.

A car parked in Thornden Park was broken into April 3 ac cording to a police report.

Someone broke into the passenger side of a 1997 Nissan Pathfinder belonging to sophomore psychology major Reb
"All they got was change," Bilderback said. "I'd rather just throw it outside for them."

Because she had no insur ance on the window, repairing the car would have cost \($ 294\), she said. But a friend helped her get it fixed for \($ 180\), she added.

The car was parked in Thornden Park near the rose garden, but Bilderback said she more. Her roommate's car which more. Her roommates car, which broken into twice already, whe broken into twice already, sh added.

\section*{}

Ho trains. Ho pain. s99 Anywhere

\author{
16 fiirlines serving 127 European cities in 27 countries. Is that a trip or what?
}
www.europebyair.com
vISIT DUR WEBSITE FOR MORE INFORMATION ON PARTICIPATING AIRLINES, ROUTE MAPS AND FLIGHT SCHEDULES

\section*{europebyair.є.}
or call 1.888-387.2479

\footnotetext{
WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.
}

\section*{SGA}
continued from page 1
SGA scheduled dual-referenda for students to vote on funding for the New York State Public Interest Research Group and apSGA's of a bil that would change Siatis name to the Student Association and change its role in programming.
rs of NYPIRG and several SGA Assemblymembers met with the board Thursday to present their opposition to the referenda.

NYPIRG representatives argued that because neutral representatives had not yet been approved by the Assembly to operate each polling station, the group could not conduct the vote.
"It's kind of hard to find people to sit at a table and collect votes," said Jamal James, SGA president.

Assemblymembers Adam Duffy, Joe Sauer and Joni Weber asserted at the same meeting that the vote taken April 3 in the Assembly to approve a bill that would change SGAs constitution was maccurate because James estimated, rather than counted the votes.

After considering both cases, the board decided to postpone the referenda until April 25 to April 27, said a board member, who wished to remain anonymous because of a decision not to talk to the press made by the board after Thursday night's meeting.

The board also decided that James, a junior musical theater major, had not violated any constitutional procedure when counting the bill vote, the board member said.
"They started looking at the codes and they deemed that I did nothing wrong," James said. "The vote should never have been brought to question because I was acting as presiding officer. I was doing my job that the students elected me to do."

The decisions will be presented to the Assembly at tonight's meeting.

Our interpretation was that SGA had never appointed people to run the election tables," the board member said. "We postponed the election until they could find people to run the tables and get them approved. You can't really hold a referendum unless you have people holding the tables."

The board's decision remains final, because there are no laws that give an SGA body the power to override a board decision, the member said.
"I expect SGA to honor our decision," the board member said. There's nothing written in any SGA constitution or law that overrides us. Our decision is \(\sqrt{2}\) nal."

SGA faculty advisor Michael Elmore said members in the organization have not been consulting with him about the issue. He added that because he was out of town for much of last week, he has not been following the issue carefully.
"Ours is a system that the students run from top to bottom," said Elmore, director of SU Student Programs. "From what I've heard about the controversy, it has more to do with ideas than issues. It's up to the elected officials to determine what works and what doesn't."

James said he had made a compromise with Duffy and Sauer to recount the vote at tonight's Assembly meeting. Because the Assemblymembers met with the board, however, the issue will not be readdressed, he said.
"I was unaware that the charges were going to be brought against me," James said. "I felt like I was slapped in the face. But I'm confident in my ruling. I don't have time to worry about this anymore. The bill passed. It's over."

Register for Fall 2000 Courses It's Safe - FUN - Affordable

PED 214
Snorkeling
PED 221
Beginner Scuba

\section*{Al: Coursers are One} Credit

The Nation's Laader in On Campus Un-- dernater Education

PED 223
Underwater Photography

PED 225
Advanced Scuba

nationalaquatic.com
1-80O-SEA-DIVE
fetirement insurante mutual funas trust sebvies tuition financing

\section*{It's a simple calculation:} TIAA-CREF's Iow expenses mean more money working for you.

The equation is easy. Lower expenses in managing a fund can equal better performance.

How much? Just take a look at the chart. Then call us. We'll send you a free, easy-to-use expense calculator so you can see for yourself that no matter what your investment, you'll benefit from low expenses. And CREF expenses range from just \(0.29 \%\) to \(0.37 \% .^{1}\)

For more than 80 years, we've been committed to low expenses, superior customer service and strong performance.

Add it all up and you'll find that selecting your retirement provider is an easy decision: TIAA-CREF.

THE IMPACT OF EXPENSES ON PERFDRMANLE $375,000 Low-LostAcrount
$313,000 High-Cost Acraunt

EXPENSES \({ }^{2}\)
Total actumulations after 20 gears based on initial irvestment of 550,000 and hypothetical annual returrs of \(11 \%\). \({ }^{3}\)

\section*{CRAA Ensuring the future \\ for those who shape it.}

\section*{1800842-2776 \\ wwwotiactref.org}

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com Sports: sports@dailyorange.com Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\section*{SPURT}
continued from page 11
He dodged right and shot over three defenders and past Greyhound goalie Jason Born to put his team ahead \(10-9\) with 6:28 remaining.

Just 24 seconds later, Powell took a feed from Mike Springer, who started the fast break with a midfield steal, and whizzed a 20 -yard shot past

\section*{an out-of-position Born}

Down a pair, the Greyhounds extended their defense to force turnovers. But SU exploited the tactic and scored five more goals, most off unsettled or transition situations.
"It was old-fashioned, run-and-gun Syracuse lacrosse, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) Caione said. "We were able to get a lot of fast breaks. It's been an emphasis all year,

Although Loyola's defense kept the Syracuse offense quiet for a large chunk of the game, the Orangemen defense matched the Greyhounds' tough play. Loyola endured a 26 minute scoreless stretch from the game's second through fourth quarters.

Senior All-American Marshall Abrams kept Loyola attackman Gavin Prout to two goals and an assist, but he went scoreless in the second

\title{
Are you interested in tutoring & EARNING 3 CREDITS AT THE SAME TIME?
}

EDU 300 Literacy Tutoring: Principles and Practices* T 4:00-6:45 p.m., #17118

Tutor training for emergent readers and adult learners. Get LVA certification!

If you have any questions or require additional information, please stop by the Center for Public and Community Service at 237 Schine Student Center or call 443-3051.
*Formerly EDU 315 Adult Literacy Education: Principles and Practicum

INTERNET AUCTION Sifessing

Spending hours putting up posters and fiters on campus just wasn't makling it. Sturdents Ben Mandell, Nieole Wripht, and Jlm Szowe created a better way to buy and soll - SyracuseAuction.com, a froe. lacal internat auction site. In fact, ate huncreds of these sites in universifytowns.
VilageAuction_com.
Here's how it works. Log on to SyracuseAuction.com and reglster by typing in your name, a nickname, home address, and email address. You'll see the agroement and be provided with a password. After that, you can buy and soll as often as you like, absolutely FREE.

\section*{Items are arranged in simple cat-} usenies for buyers and sellers to goods, the site can be used for rentals, professional services. roommates, Jobs, swaps, and other categories. Sellers can set a starting sale price and a doadtine for blds. The highest bid at the end of the auction perior gots tho goods.

One of the nice things about a local auction is that you can piek up or dellver your auctloned Items locally No shipping or wall ing. You can soe the buyor or soller face to face, paying locally and trading locally The possibillties are greater, too. Try arranging a sublet or selling a used sofa on a national auctlon site

There are opportunities for everyono at SyracuseAuction.com Local businesses are encouraged to list items and become advertisers; and oven charites can beneflt. For each now registared user you sign-up for SyracuseAuction.com your charity can recolve \($ 1\). Charitable auctons can also be arrangod. Just emall jsxewcelevilagoauction.eom

The site will be monltored for legality and henesty in trading and advertising. Students and townspeople are encouraged to log on and try out this frae auction Wab site at tr's flice we say "If you don't want it, samabody olso doas"

\section*{Versatile defender lifts Orangewomen}

Carrie Soults is the kind of athlete who defines strong and vibrant.

Test her on the field and she 11 show you her fearless ability to stop opponents.

It all comes naturally for the 5 -foot- 10 speedster, who commands the defense for the Syracuse women's lacrosse team.

She makes the game look easy, as if she's played lacrosse her entire life.

Well, not exactly.
Soults' career actually began six years ago, as a freshman at the Georgetown Day School in Washington, D.C. Previously, she never had touched a lacrosse stick.

Soults said soccer and basketball were her passion growing up. It wasn't until Bea Fuller, the high school's soccer and lacrosse coach, took notice of her talents that lacrosse entered the picture.

Fulier approached Soults one day andinsisted, "You have to play lacrosse."

Soults didn't need much convincing - especially coming from a coach whom she trusted and admired.

And it didn't take her long for to get accustomed to the game, either.
Soults made such an easy transition that she earned a spot on the varsity roster her freshman season.
"It was fun concentrating on all three sports," Soults said. "It allowed me to overlap a whole bunch of skills - especially from basketball, because it helped out with my defensive footwork."

The crossing over helped Soults improve her overall lacrosse game, SU head coach Lisa Miller, and the results have been exceptional.
"She's got great speed and stick skills," she said. "She's tall, so she can shoot down on the keeper. That's always an advantage. And let's face it, the kid's a good athlete."

Soults started all 16 games and recorded 12 goals last year. Now a sophomore, Soults is at ease with her primary mission -helping the Orangewomen win. "Everything is clicking for our team right now, so it's a really fun time," she said. "We're helping each other out and get ting excited for each game." ling excited for each game. reer-high four goals two weeks ago in a 14-7 victory against the University of Connecticut.

Sophomore attacker Meghan Brown appreciates her teammate's presence on the field. Admiring Soults' confidence and determination, Brown looks to Soults as a defensive leader.

High school coach Fuller is just as effusive when praising her former pupil.
"She's just naturally talented," Fuller said. "As a coach the hardest part was deciding where to puther. So we put her in a position where she could catch up skill-wise. She developed real quickly because of her incredible vision and field sense."

In addition to earning high school All-America honors, Soults was a second-team AllMetropolitan Area selection, a three-time All-League selection and a three-time team MVP.

Soults totaled 89 career goals by the end of her senior season.

With her ability to play all aspects of the game, Soults potential got her calls from various collegiate programs, such as Columbia and Johns Hopkins.

Soults, though, opted to go to Syracuse. Since joining the Orangewomen, she's found a happy medium between playing lacrosse and staying with her academics.

Yet her legacy still lives on at the Georgetown Day School, Fuller said.

The other players here remember Carrie's ability and try to emulate her," she said. "They ways wabout her and are always wanting to know

Aside from her athletic success on the field, one quality she doesn't lack is her sense of humor.

Soults has always been known to play great April Fools jokes, Fuller said.
\({ }^{\text {I }}\) I remember walking into my office and finding a bunch of goldfish the players had bought at a pet store, Fuller said. 4 Each of the goldfish were said. Each of the goldinsh were placed in cups and designed as a lacrosse game with all of the Soults' friendly.
Soults friendly and easygoing nature has rubbed off on
"She makes us laugh," Brown said. "She knows when we have to be serious, but at the same time she gets us pumped she's the first to get everyone on defense to start talking when deferse to start talking when everything is quiet."
orest changes she of the biggest changes she has noticed in this year's team is its upbeat attitude and strong spirit.

For all her enthusiasm tothere still are areas in which she can improve.
"I've gotten better with the little things," she said. "Now I'd like to concentrate more on the bigger -like my game sense.", Miller emphasized Soults' growth from last season is evident in her play.
"We're trying to incorporate her game more and more," Miller said. "This year we're asking her to assume a leadership role on the defensive side of the ball. And she's dealing with that well right now."

> The holidays can be draining for us, too.

American Red Cross Give blood again. It will be fett for a lifetime.

\section*{First Orangewomen homer spurs SU to shutout win}

BY JASON REMILLARD Staff Writer

The timing could not have been any better for the Syracuse softball team on Saturday

A storm was moving its way through New York state with its sights set on threatening SU's dou header against Providence
No raindrops fell on the ribboncutting ceremony to offtially open did it rain as the Orangewomen built a 2-0 lead.

Instead, the storm held off until softball history

In the bottom of the sixth in ning, with Jackie Herrman at firs and one out, the junior took a Melis sa Peterson offering deep over the center-ficid fence for the first home run in Orangewomon history.

Bieman circled the bases and was met at home plate by her jubilant teammates. The two-run tall jack finished the scoring in SU's 4-0 win.

As soon as the euphoria of the moment died down, the skies opened up.

After the Friars got out of the inning, SU freshman Tara DiMaggio pitched a \(1-2-3\) seventh in a torren tial downpour to push the Orange wornen to the 500 mark ( \(16-16\) ). However, Mother Nature was not as forgiving the rest of the weekend. Game two against. Providence was rained out, whle snowled the cancellation of Sunday

If the snow melts sufficiently. the Orangewomen will host Albany today at 4 p.m. at the Softball Stadium. "I think sorneone was watching over us because I didn't think we'd even get one game in," head coach Mary Jo Firnbach said. "I was very happy to at least get the opening ceremonies done and that one game in."

Bieman had built toward her historical moment since the Orangewomen opened their homestand on Thursday against Binghamton. Bicman both games of the twinbil ing for a toped into Bearcat pitch a doubletal of four hits, including a double and a triple. Both extra would have been homers had they been a little higher.

After flying out in her two previous at-bats, Bieman connected for her memorable drive.
"She's been due, and she always hits well at home," Firnbach said. "I don't know what it is. I have to start getting her to hit well on the road."
The extra cushion was appreciated but not needed, given DiMaggio's dominance on the mound.

DiMaggio, who struck out 14 against Binghamton, tossed a twohitter against Providence seven. Opposing hitte Opposing hitters have had difficulty solving DiMaggio recently. She holds hitters to a . 189 batting average, in part because of her 131 strikeouts in 125.1 innings of work.

DiMaggio's pitching is part of he reason the Orangewomen have won nine of their last 12 contests. "Our team kind of expects it from Tara now," Firnbach said after Thursday's games. "She's really come on strong as of late.
"We have a lot of confidence going with her. She's got a lot of control over a lot of her pitches.

Syracuse is now 4-0 against Big East squads, a record that also includes a doubleheader sweep of Boston College and a win over Seton Hall. The Orangewomen will join the conference next season.
"I think we come out and play strong against Big East teams," Firnbach said. "I think we're showing the teams that we're playing that we're going to be something to contend with next year."
 Freshman Tama DiMagglo blanked Providence on two hits
Saturday afternoon as \(S U\) won lts third stralght home game,

\section*{Desko}

At best, it was a tough situation.
At worst, impossible. After 290 wins, 16 consecutive GREG EISHOP Final Fours and six national championships, Roy Simmons Jr. captain of the Syracuse lacrosse ship for 28 seasons, retired in 1998 as the winningest coach in NCAA history. New head coach and 19 year Simmons Jr. assistant John Desko knew the shoes were so large, his team could probably scrimmage in them. Twenty-four games after Desko took control of the Orangemen, his record stands at a more than respectable 19-5.

\section*{p}

Simply put, there couldn't have been a better choice to succeed Simmons Jr.

In 1998, Desko took over a team led by Matt Cutia, the Cordisco twins, Ryan Powell and Rob Mulligan.

But gone from the 1998 squad were Honorable Mention All-American Kevin Sheedy and Syracuse career oints leader Casey Powell. loor simmons لr.s sh ow loomed large near the sideline.
"It was originally a bit tersweet time," Desko said after he took over as head coach. "To have him say he was going to retire, there was a little bit of a hole there."

In his first year at the helm, Desko guided his squad to three wins to open the season, which helped erase some concern. His first loss came against Johns Hopkins, but the Orangemen would rebound to push their record to 7-2.

Two losses in its last four games left SU with a quartet, the most in a regular season since 1979.

Entering the NCAA Tournament as a No. 8 seed with some doubting Syracuse Desko and his troops didn't Slinch seed to ever advane the low the title game, which it lost to Virginia 12-10.

Considering SU's regular season, the tournament run may have surprised some, but to those who know Desko, it wasn't really surprising at all.
For starters, Desko knows how to win.
From 1976-79, he helped start the Syractuse lacrosse legend. Desko earned AllAmerica honors his junior season, helping take the NCAA playoff run.

Second, he learned from his predecessor. As an assis his predecessor. As an assis remained a part of Central remain York's partose tradi tion. York's lacrosse tradi-

He won a ring for each linger on his right hand and his left while helping recruit the players that built Syracuse lacrosse into a national powerhouse.
"I'm just looking at it as continuing the tradition," Desko said after Simmons Jr.'s retirement. "Since I've been at Syracuse with Coach Simmons, the record is 22943. There isn't a program in the country with a record like that. To try and mess with that and make changes, I'm not so sure I could improve on that."

Desko has proven he is capable and then some, all the while in a situation that was tougher than a check from Syracuse defender John Glatzel.

Not to mention since the Desko era began, his Orangemen have beaten every team people thought

Last year, when proms.
Last year, when Loyola was undefeated entering the Desko-led squad that sent a Desko-led squad that sent he Greyhounds home for the Syra
Syracuse also lost a regu ar-season game to Princeton in four overtimes, but Desk guided the Orangemen to another revenge victory thear's postseason. he's beaten the Princetonas he's beaten the Prince he's beaten the Johns Hopkinses. Even though he had some doubters, he's secured himself as the next Syracuse lacrosse coaching legend.

The modest Desko pushes the credit to the players, sounding like a father when he talks about this year's squad. "It's all the players," Desko said. "We have great seniors, and we have a great group of guys who just go out every day and love to play lacrosse. It doesn't matter if it's practice, a game or who we're playing. They just love get after it.
This seas

This season, Desko has guided those Orangemen to the No. 1 ranking and a \(7-0\) start.

In SU's first game, Desko and company beat the defending national champion Cavaliers in over

Friday night at the Friday night at the Carrier Dome, Loyola led Carrier Dome, Loyola led Syracuse \(6-3\) at halftime. I Syracuse 6-3 at halftime. It was Desko's presence that kept the team from losing control of its emotions, mid fielder Josh Coffman said after win.
\({ }^{\text {in. }}\) It could have been out of control," the sophomore said.
"It was Coach's calmness that brought us out in the second hall."

These days, Desko can be seen roaming the sideline, squad to what could be its first undefeated season since 1990.

The Simmons Jr. shadow isn't engulfing him anymore. Maybe it never did.

But one thing remains certain: Desko has taken a tough situation and made the most of \(1 t\).

He is as much a part of the tradition as the Gait or Powell brothers, as much a part of SU lacrosse as the very sticks in the Orangemen's hands.
One day; his mark may be as large as Simmons Jr. For now, he's on the right track.

Greg Bishop is an assistant sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly. Egwbishop@syr.edu.

\section*{bbge}

Fast cars
Those bigwheeled, bright-colored Hondas, Toyotas, Mitsubishis and Mustangs that seem to be everywhere these days represent explorend in the automotive world - sportcompact tuning - that is fast approaching the $1-billion-a-year mark, a new study shows. From 1997 to 1999 , retail sales in the once-small segment soared from \($ 295\) million to \($ 756\) million, according to the Specialty Equipmen: Market Association, an automotive trade group. Spending on performance and appearance accessories, boosted by an expanding economy and booming job market that have increased disposable income, makes it the hottest segment of the $21-billion-a-year industry.

\section*{Tougher} competition
Raising high school graduation require ments may result in a better education and higher-paying jobs for those who can meet the new standards, but it also means higher school dropout rates according to a Comel University study. The study found that the typcal increase in graduation requirements - an extra 2.5 courses spread over the four years of high school results in a 3 to 7 percent increase in the dropout rate. When raising the bar for graduation, researchers said states also should look for ways to better identify at-risk students and provide them with more support.

\section*{Teacher moms}

Military bases are teerning with homeschooled children. Home schooling has found a ready and will ing population among military families. Concerns about the quality of local schools coupled with transient military life have fueled a steady rise in the practice. At instaltations such as Bolling Andrews Air Force Base. Fort Meade and Fort Belvoir, home-schoolers find like-minded families to form play groups and make field trips to area museums.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"I drink to make other people interesting." George Jean Narhan

Sapra Kollali, editor 443-2128 life(3daily orange.com
[lifestyle]

HEATHER HRYCIW/The Daily Orange Theo Steweart Jr., Chris Deyo and Nathan Kuder discussed new concepts of entrepreneurship at the second annual tForum on Fiday in the School of Managoment

\section*{BY ANDREW PARKS Staff Writer}

If they looked closely, our par ents might not recognize the business markets today. Entrepreneurs are getting younger and new "dot com" companies hit the Internet every day.

Step into the offices of Chris Deyo's Pets.com in San Francisco, and you are likely to see cats and dogs wandering about and comfy bean bag chairs awaiting clients.

\begin{abstract}
It's not something you would expect from a serious business, ut the pronarement are chang in the face of the business world The second annual "I-Forum" ented by the School of Manate ment on Friday afternoon addressed these new business approaches brought on by the Web and the unpredictable landscape of the business world.

The hour-long program was hosted by a panel of some of the \end{abstract}

Web's rising stars and put forth questions for open discussion beween industry Audience

Audience participation was enouraged so students and other poential entrepreneurs could learn nore about what the Internet has ooffer and to hear of some of the uccess stories the 'Net has pro duces stories duced.
Chris year's trio of experts was Chris Deyo of Pets.com, virtualinSee FORUM page :o

\section*{DreamWorks team fails 'El Dorado'}

Last time EIton John, Tim Rice and Hans Zimmer teamed up for a film, the result was "The Lion King" soundtrack. Lightning must have struck
\begin{tabular}{cc}
Chris & \begin{tabular}{c} when John, \\ master pop- \\
smith, Rice,
\end{tabular} \\
Piazza \\
\hline off the & \begin{tabular}{c} lyricist extra- \\ ordinare and
\end{tabular} \\ record & \begin{tabular}{l}
Zimmer, \\
Oscar-nomi- \\ nated compos-
\end{tabular} \\ were brought together
\end{tabular}
r, were brought tozether their respective talents all contributing equally to creat brilisat soundtrack

WIth DreamWorks bringing these three unique, talented men together again for "The Road to El Dorado," could lightning strike twice? To be honest, no. "The Road to El Dorado" soundtrack fails in almost every way that "The Lion King" succeeded. Whereas the Disney musical a large variety of musical types - everything authentic African cop to the DreamWorks film relies far too heavily on mid tempo ballads. May Maybe this could be due to a massive ego attack by

Lion King" soundtrack, you wouldn't know Eiton John was behind the music (except for the ones he sang, of course) On this CD, he sings every single non-instrumental song. The album is even technically billed, "Elton John's 'The oad to El Dorado.'.

The album begins with the bouncy, blandly appealing "historado. It introduces the with lyrics like "Our calority city/was built by divinities, by gods." It is a passable anthem, but it doesn't have

See PIAZZA page 16

\section*{The Dajly Orange}

\section*{FORUM}
continued from page 15
tern.com co-founder Nathan Kuder and Theo Stewart, Ir. staffing specialist and emcloyment recruiter for the Carrier Corp. Former 5 Former Syracuse University student Nathan Kuder received a \($ 1.5\) milion grant and his older brother Jason, aiso a former SU student, devised rapidly grew into an ecorporation."

Virtualintern.com was reated to help companies and students match up with each other for summer or semester internships.

The baby-faced, 20-yearold brought youth to the I. Forum panel, but still seemed verwhelmed by his success. "Five years ago, I would havenever expected to be here," Kuder admitted to an audience of about 50 attenande students and faculty members.

Later, he offered advice o anyone who wanted to start their own e-company.

With the Internet today. you just have to be afgresgive to get ahead, Kuder said. "People look at a young guy like me and say 'I could do that, but if you are not aggressive you won't get anywhere.

\section*{Sharing ideas}

Kuder gaid he liked the format of I-Forum and being able to learn from other mem. bers of the business and Internet world.
1 liked being able to see what other people are think. ing, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) he said.

Deyo, a wiser and more seasoned veteran of the business world, also enjoyed the I-Forum.
"I thought it was well presented and a good way to share ideas," he said.

Deyo's Pets.com is a selfproclaimed "superstore, a grocery store, a specialty store...delivered to your door."

Deyo took an often neglected demographic - our furry, scaly and fishy friends - and offered them premium food, the latest clothing and other products to beg their owners for. Most people recognize Petscom from their recent ad campaign, hosted by a now-fomous sock puppet dog. now-rimoush Deyo said things ve been coing smoothly for have been going smoothly for the future.

As Deyo continues to fill the orders of his ever-growing legion of customers, he said his mind is ready for any change the market may bring, such as the recent declines in stock prices.

In the business world today, with the Internet, you have to be better, faster and cheaper," Stewart said.

Carrier has found another use for the web besides shipping"Fido" a atate-of-the-art bone in two to three business days - prospective workers can now place their resumes in Carrier's database at their Web gite, without leaving their easy chairts.
"Numerous people have been hired by us throu

All three members of IForum's panel said they have found ways to utilize the Internet to better their compamies, tailoring the Web to give themselves the best edge on the market.

And Kuder, who has not yet finished his degree, added that age will not be an obstacle if you have a fresh concept.

Stewart agreed.
"For the young workers of today, there has never been a Fainy day," he said. "They have never seen a day where the stock market has crashed or seen a depression."

\section*{pIAZZA}
continued from page 15 the epic sweep that a showstarting number should have. In other words, it ain't no "Circle of Life.

And it is pretty much all downhill from here. John seems to be reaching for a hit single to advance "his" hit single to advance his record, and as a result, every song is a radio friendly balsong is a radio fricndiy baiBlue," the album's lead single, is easy-listening friendly

Many of the songs function as narrative devices, and all the bases are cov* Trail We Blaze"), the "rocky friendship" song ("Friends

Never Say Goodbye") and the "love" song ("Without Question"). All are woefully unoriginal and completely mterchangeable. Even the tune I thought would be the tune I thought would be the highlight of the album, a duet with Randy Newman titled "It's Tough to be a titled "It's Tough to be a God," is nothing memorable. Instead of filling the soundtrack with material appropriate to the film itself, appropriate to the film itselt John seems obsessed with manufacturing singles. Fir of an, most of the disc is composed of filler songs, sup posedy "inspirea by the film. Secondly, none of the fim. Secondly, none of the vocal songs have any hint of ethnicity. For a movieset in least a little Latin flavor.

\section*{Less is more}

Ironically, the only time that "The Road to El Dorado soundtrack works is when Sir Elton is absent. Hans Zimmer provides three razorsharp, Mexican favored instrumental tracks that bighlight exactly what the rest of the album was miss ing - namely energy and originality.
"Cheldorado" is the kind of lazy, moody piece you'd expect to hear wandering the gold-paved streets of E1 Dorado. The string heavy The Brig," which coincides with a zany escape attempt with whimsical danger and frenzy And last but certain ly not least is "Wonders of the New World," which is a montage of what everything the film and soundtrack should have contained beauty, danger, majesty and ultimate happiness. In the end how In the end, however, the work of Zimmer is not nearly enough to redeern the unde whelming performances of Elton John and Tim Rice. For all he's accomplished, about Rice's lyrics. They are either plot driven or 100 percent generic and a far ery cent generic and a far cry able lyrics from The Lion King \({ }^{n}\) and Rice's other lyrical hits "Jesus Christ Superstar" and "Little Shop of Horrors." judge guess really shouldn't Dorado" against "The Lion King" even though it is com posed by the same creative team. "The Lion King" was a one of the best, most memoone of the best, most memo rable, bef all time No one track of all time. No "The Rond to EI Dorado" to even Road to come close.

But it
if it would have been nice if an attempt were even made, rather than trying to tering career as a balladeer

My Grade: C
Chris Piazza is a freshman television, radio and film major. His column appears Mondays. E-mail him at kelzeek_7@yahoo.com.

\section*{WRITE A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name. class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please. E-mail at editorial@dailyorange.com.

\begin{abstract}
\section*{Get a life!}

Join the Lifestyle Department and write about health and science, business and living, arts and entertainment or whatever strikes your fancy. Stop by The Daily Orange Sunday through Thursday after 5 p.m. and pick up a story.
We're located at 744 Ostrom Ave., the red and white building, four houses down from Shaw Hall.
\end{abstract}

TANDEM
FINGER LAKES SKYDIVERS
INFORMATION & RESERVATIONS 1-800-SKYDIVE

\title{
Use your creative talents for all the campus to seel \\ Become a designer for
}

The Daity Orange design department. Wate, 眰

For more information: 443-9798

Submit a letter of intent to Editor in Chief bave Levinthal by today at 5 p.m. Applicants with experience in Quarkexidress or Adobe Pagemaker areespecially encouraged to apply

When in Hell.-.

Classic Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

by Eric Jones

PAINFLL SO LET'S BEGINL MMMM GET BEANA MMMM GET CCMFCRIMEE MMMM. NOW HCW MANY FINGERS
AM AMBINS Hop oing
 C
by David Pollack
Actually she was dancing at the Titty Tavern, I was totally plastered, you get

\section*{Out of Town}

No Point

So you abducted my mom 20 years ayo, and spliced yours and her DNA in your Alien Laboratory

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word \(5 ¢\) extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PERISSUE & art Pre-paid by:
Cash. Check. Master Card, Visa or Discower Deadine: 2. 2m: 2 Dusiness days prior to run
ADS ARE NOT JAREN BY PHONE!! Ads can be mailed with check to: The Datily Crange 744 Ostrom Avenue:
Syracuse, NY 32 io: Att: Classifieds: 0 : Faxed with Credit Card to: 1 15-443-3689 ABAAAAAAMAAAA

Notices
\(\overline{\text { Summer's Coming Lose tral winter bulge Doctor }}\)
 1-688-799-2967

\section*{Autos}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
-Student Fitiendiy Auto Shopping \\
96 Ford Contour, \($ 5995\) \\
95 Cherv Cavalier PAG TOP , $7795 \\
95 Crevy Lumina, \($ 6395\) \\
93 Dodge tritrepid, \($ 5495\) \\
93 Pont Donneville -Supprcharged. S8995 \\
28 Pont. G.Prix Coupe, 51599
88 Ford Tauns LX \($ 2499\)
\end{tabular} \\
\hline Bank Financing and Waranties avalabla on most velicles \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Assembly Service Tech. Good Pay'Benefils 5300 Signing Bonus. No experience required.
Advancement Opportunities. Calli: 1 -600-:85-2453 Fuill yeart summer nannios needed. Work with prominent smiles in New York and \(\mathrm{C}_{1}\). Excelent prominent tamides in New York and \(\mathcal{C}\). Exceltent Opponunites. Average salaries \($ 350.5500\) /wk. lacludes rioem and board. Nedical beneritis. Travel cpporrurites. Agency \(1-800-932-2736\) oppo Part time year round posilion at storage hacility.
Must work well with people and ba comloritabie with Prease reply by tax mail or in person. lax-479-4156 314 Ainsley Dr. Syracuse. NY 13210.
HAVE AN AMAZING SUMNER! Prestigious coed camp in peautilun Mass. serk sarin salaries traveltroome board Call Camp Tacenic: \(762-2820\).

Painters Warted lor Summar. Work in University and surroumding areas. Slan Mid April or Earty and surrounding arteas. Start Mid Apriil or Eatty Max Call Gary 46 6-9598
TOP BOYS SPORTS CAMP IN MAINE: PLAY
SPORTS. HAVE FUN. MAKE SS CAMP

 fREE CASH Makg Up To 5120 Per Hour Surting the Web wrw cashpaid net Camp Counselors Top Onemigh Canps in \({ }_{\text {wine pinelorestcanp.com }}^{\text {coun }}\) meek plus toon and board. These are tive in positions al Jemish Community Center's oveminght childen's camp on Seneca Lake. Your ctidren ar welconme Contact Aenee at 776-461-2000 \(\times 283\) bor intormationtapplication.
Camp Counselors: Jewish Community Center ol Camp Counselors: Jewish Community Center of Greater Pooctosisor Camp
Ceneca LLake is seking kises. Must be at least a coluege freshrman and be availabe june 21 -Auqust 20 Lilequarm centificilion a plust Salary plus room and board.
Contact Renee at \(716-461-2000 \times 253\) lor intormaiornapplicalion.
Camp Positions: Hiking, ropes course, natuere, pool. in the Finger Lakes. These senior positions are tor experienced applicants \(21+\). Salaries \($ 1800,2800\) Allst somo and bograt lom June 17 to August 20. Contaar Renec at 716-461-2000×263 lor

\section*{Job Opportunities}

> Biologists

No experience needed!! Earn up to 35 K after 1 yr 40 K after 2 years
Siks a biomedical software lirm in week progranting course. We hire \(90 \%\) of students who take this cour Course starts \(\sigma / 12000\). For dotais see insweb.con
or call 888\() 680-5057\)

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst}

No experience needed!!
IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS, C,
C++. JAVA, ACCESS, SYEASE and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language required. Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For toll-free (888)680-5057.

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Help Wanted}

S1500 weekky potential mailing our circulars No Experience 2024527679 SFUMDRaASERSOPen 10 stuctent groups 8 organtirations. Eam s. Sper inc app. We

BARN HELP NEEDDD: Aesponsibite individual with

WORK FROM HOME UP 10525.00 MP PT
S75.00nt FTTCALL FOR FREE BOOKLET 800-297-5670

FOR RENT

\section*{L(.)(.)K}

Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrocms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
4 Bdrm House 5300 dm and 3 bdtm lats \(5250 / \mathrm{m}\) ) Avail Aug. Very nice. Waik to SU. FM Realty University Ave. Threo Eedroom Flat Close Waik plus utilites ON.Drucker 445 -1229
813 C-onstock \(5 / 6\) Bedroonts Across Fiom Wonens Gymi.A
\($ 2400+682-3004\)
LUXURIOUS: 2story aphoth, Goumpet kitidn, Cusitra lownpeliv area. Shyight isht coiling ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKING PARKG Irvin,

NO PETS! Leases. Fine O a-zr
Call tor appt \(459-7730\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEASITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTON OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes
Town Houses
Microwaves,
dīshwasher, washer, dryer,
security systems
remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices 478-6504

Step ciean 33 bedroom apartmenta Fireplace park price, laundry, Univaraly Ave. Live bedroom House one block Irom Marshall Street lurnished taundry parking Irom Mashall Street lurnished taundry parking lease \($ 7,300.00\) phus utitites DN.Drucker \(445-1229\)
KensingronPlace istFloor large 3Bedroom igLivingroom DiningReom Modem/Kuctien hardwootfloors porches neartusifine OuiaiNeighthorohood avaRable hine ist 2000-2001
Cal7am-Tpon 247.785 \(1 \times 476-1884\) callan

One and Two Bedroom
Furruished Apartments. Corner of Watuit and Harrisen Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000. Lass Month ard Security No Pets Allowed.
Gratuates Prolered Call 42.7555

\section*{Euclid and}

Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry

Beautiful Condition
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
University 283 Bedreom TownHousess 8 Flas, Inexpensive and mint condition. WasherDryer Fireplace, finished tasement, C&Il 4490109 .

THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT,
EUCLID AVE. FREE HEAT 476-9933
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline\(* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *\) \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apps. close \\ to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
\(440-6200\) \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1,2,3.4 85 Bdrm Apartments, Houses + Studios. recently renovaled. Walking distance, taundry, parking 474-6791

Genesee Manor Apts 2113 East Genesee spacious two bedroom 1.5 baths abu inlormation Elaine a \(463-1143\)

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilities. competitive rents. 302 Marshall St: across from taven. 479-5005

3 Bedroom Moden Apartment on Ackuerman Averue \($ 220.00\) per person plus utitities. Available June 1 ist 2000 . Some oft Street Parking

FFree Laundry". Serious
Siuderits Preterrad. No Pels. 254-0025

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS, IDELID AVE SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE ORTWO ERSONS, FREE HEAT, GRE
LOCATION 476 -9933 4Bedroons furnished that with al utililies hinchuded
One block from campus near Lew School +ESF: 2 full bathrooms, carpet, laundry, parking Avnilable Maypr Auqust \($ 305\) per person 446 -95s8

1,122 Bedroom anc apartment on quiat street.
 June ist \($ 350.00\) per mentith phes utilitios Ore year lasse. No Pest \(243-0754\)

Great University Arta Beastiful
Modem 1 Ez 2 Bdm Aptsifor 2000-2 Come now 8 get your chofoe. All New Appi. (AC, Dishwasher) Hesuthot Water Inc.
Socure Buidings Whintercons, Door
 ina. 24 hr Maintenunse. Sturting at \($ 555\) call 476 -9643 or Stop try Otice at arge 2 bedroam. 2 full bath. Walking distanc

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}
please visit our WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM PARTMENTS, AND 4,5,5
BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM
sozclerenden targe clean 2Bedroom flat hardwood hoors porch olf-street parking yyr lease security 640 inculudes heal 446 - 8928
Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom llat, furnished stove, retrig, laundry, firteplace, garage.
Avail June ist \(446-4229\)

2 Bedroom fumished aparment with all utikities included! $240.00 per person. One mile from campus. Laundry, Parking. May+ Augusi leases. 204 Ostrom Elficiency One and 2Bedroom Secure Bidg Laundry Parking Very Clean
Avail June 446-5186

LANCASTER AVENUE
183 Bearcon Apartnents
Fury Fumished
Call Anne Centini
\(424-0220 \times 428\)
warge 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distanc s.U. of sireer parking. Laundry. Call 476-2982

2 Bedroom Apts 202.204 Ostitrm, 105 Eucitit Tomate Lame fooms hartwoos flocts Avail Ju ar Aug 446-5ta6

PRIVATE FURNISHED STUDIO APTS.
1011 EAdans
509 University
Carpeted, Ats Conditioned Furnlshed, Seeure, Laundry, Parking, Haintenance.

University Area Apts.
www.universityaree.com
Fumished 2-5Bedroorn Houses' Aparments Euclid \(469-6665\) Large clean 3Bedroom hats Westcolt, Broad St. area. Hardwood hoors. porchos, off-straet parkin yr lease secunity \(3650+446\)-6928
Excolismt Apartment, 4br 28 Bath apt Fumished. carpeled walk to campus Whell maintained
\(5000-500\) leasa \(465-7202\)

\section*{Houses}

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE \\ BEDROOM HOUSE. \\ FURNISHED GREAT FORCHES,}

Large 3/4 bedrooms house on Eucio, Maryland Fireplace off-stroet parking, washerdiver, walk to Canpus, reasonable rate

\section*{ADRIAN}
continued from page 20 his career hasn't been easy.

\section*{Tough times}

Woodley had surgery for an intestinal infection the summer of 1997 at \(S U\), forcng him to spend the rest of his junior year out of compe tition. Duthe tated reading said that he hated reading the newspaper and learning about the successes of his was always thinking that I could be the one breakng all of their this was, \(h\) said. of the best points in my one of the beaized thet i have career. 1 realized that inave the same abinites as anyone else. The key is, wanting it as bad aster Wo.

After Woodley returned to the track, he said that his biggest challenge was getting his confidence level back. He returned to have his best season ever his senior year ranking seventh in the nation in the gest event.
"I was surprised by my performance" he said "Bu at the same time, I knew there was more in me-"

Woodley wasn't the only one who be we had mor in him. He attributes much of his success to the support of his family.
"My mom is the loudest cheerleader in the stands," he said. She is the one yellin

When Woodley was a freshman in high achool, he thought about quitting track He told his mom that he would even pay her back the registration money to join didn't have to run long as he She wouldn't take "No" for an answer.
"If he wasn't going to do sports, I didn't know what he Was going to do," said Woodley's mother, Raye

Woodley said his parents didn't push track on him, but he was glad his mother took control in this situation.
, she said to me, be your Year, she said to me," he said. "If she didn"t, I probably ne

Woodley's father a ner body-builder has forbeen a big motivating also been a big motivating factor in his career. He said he rewith his fatherg to the gym with his father as a child and doing and his devotion to his body. d.

Woodley said that because of this inspiration, he found his own devotion to track. Throughout the beginning of his college-career, he kept a picture of his father to the inside of his locter in Mantey Field of his locker in Manley Fieldhouse.

I would look at the picture everyday before practice," he said. "I knew that if Wanted to get that attention, I needed to have a good ractice.

Woodley also said that the way he was raised conributed to his devotion to track. His parents were strict has helped him evaluate things and choose his actions wisely \({ }_{\text {uly }}\) Iy that I am they to remember that I am the oldest," he said.
"I have an example to set."

Woodley's brothers Kevin, 14, and Curtis, 17 both said that they admire Woodley as a role model and ook forward to his visits home to Canada.
"He's always nice to me," said Kevin. "I love when he comes home to play football, watch movies or just to hang out.

\section*{On the homefront}

Finding time for family isits is not always easy for Woodley because track and sehoolwork take up almost all of his time.
"It's hard to divide your time between running as well as you can and doing your homework as well as you can, \({ }^{n}\) he said.

Woodley also tries to find time for being a typical college student.

Besides playing video games, he likes to listen to hip-hop and reggae music and hang out with friends to relax.

One of his best friends is Veronica Dyer, a senior health and exercise science major at SU and a runner on the women's track team. Dyer and Woodley come from the same hometown and used to run together for club teams in nada.
Dyer describes Woodley as a big brother and someone Who is very open and honest. When she was deciding what college to go to, Woodley con vinced her to come to SU.
"Once he told me that SU had a great track program, I was convinced," she said. "I knew I could trust any advice knew I could trust any advic

Dyer said that Woodley

\section*{The Daily Orange}
works hard as a team captain to keep the team together and helpeverybody relax and perform at their best.

Woodley did not always have the skills or knowledge to perform well amongst his teammates or in competition.
"Track is a very individual sport," he said. "Whether you win or lose, you can't bo, even when I dourself. So, even when i do well, i have to challenge myself to do

Another.
Another thing that he learned was that there is a big difference between high school and college track. In high school, he didn't realize the inportance of competition. won the One ciompeted and second ary school Athtion Secondary School Athliting what OFSSA even realizing what OFSSA stood for or chat it was equivalent to a Now, state championship. Now, he is definitely more focused on his sport.
"Coming to SU was a lot more challenging," he said. Everywhere you go, someone is on full scholarship. You're pretty much competing struggle at first \({ }^{n}\), and it's a struggle at first."

\section*{Finish line}

Woodley has developed his competitive edge over the years, but he has never held a grudge against any one opponent. He still keeps in contact with his high school rival and looks forward to seeing him at the Olympic trials.

His mother described Woodiey as a very loving child.
help people," she said. "I

After Woodley finishes college this year, he would like to eventually move back to Canada and possibly find a sports-related jobin retail for a company like Nike or be come the manager of a sport ing goods store

In the near future, he is focusing on making it on the 2000 Canadian Olympic team this summer

Currently, Woodley is out of competition because of a hamstring injury he ac quired during a meet about a month ago. While this may make him unable to qualify for this year's national com petition, he said that he has the hametrine heal so he can the hamstring heal so he can be ready for in mid-July
"I have always wanted to go to the Olympics, Woodley said as his face brightened You've gotta have that as the final goal."

Buteven if he doesn't earn a spot on the team, he too dedicated to stop there.

If I don make the cu this year, I will be greatly discouraged, he said. But, for the next time around \(n\) or the next time around.

As long as he keeps trying, Woodley has a philosophy that will keep him satis outcoge of his running reer.
\({ }^{\text {u }}\) It's not always whether you win or lose," he said, "but whether or not you had a great race."

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443-9793
[classifieds]

\author{
RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM FURNSHENO GREATPARECHES
} 476-9933

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WERSITE FORTHE LARGEST APARTHENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSTTYHILL.COM

\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline SERVICES & \multirow[t]{9}{*}{\begin{tabular}{c} LOST \\
4-1-00 \\
Black and white \\
Small Cat \\
Vicinity of \\ Ackerman/ \\
Berkley. \\
Recently \\
Spayed. \\
REWARD \\
472-0069 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline Travel & \\
\hline EEfent & \\
\hline LOST & \\
\hline Animal & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

تr NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As always, please use cataion when repaying or being replied insm ary advernsement in each issue, for the Daily Orange does not lake responsibiny for any misconduct resulting in contact berween yoursell and acvertiser.

\title{
All the news, around the clock.
} wwwo datlyorgme Get entangled in the Web version

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

TUESDAY
April 11,2000

\section*{- Greek Affairs \\ Greeks argue new policy}

BY KATE STEVENSON Asst. News Editor

The National Panhellenic Conference advised sororities in 1998 to ban all alcohol-related events with fraternities in the brothers' homes.

On Monday, Syracuse University's Panhellenic Association said all campus sororities should take the advice.

The conference - an umbrella organization managing 26 national and international sororities - made the recommendation two years ago in support of dry fraternities.

It reasoned that if sororities banned events with alcohol, then dry fraternities would have an easier time remaining dry and less tempted to
"We have to abide by what NPC We have to abide by what NPC asks but also do what is best for the campus, said

Panhel will vote Monday to establish the policy.

Several SU sororities, however, have already adopted a version of the recommended policy and will not be affected Monday's vote.

But several sorority and See PANHEL page-7

aDEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange Members of the execurtive board of the Panhellenic Association and the Irterfraternity Council explain to a noom of fraternity and sorority presidents Monday the details of a new initlative that would ban co-sponsorship of alcoholrelated functions in fraternity facilities. The initiative would be purt imbo effect this fall, a plan that had several presidents upset.

\section*{- Student Government}

\section*{Freund discusses campus worries}

\section*{BY STEPHANIE SILVER}

Staff Writer
Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund spent Monday night fending off concerns of campus safety and diversity.

The Neighborhood Patrol Initiative - a program established in August to increase police patrolling in university-area neighborhoods - continues to be the most debated issue at Syracuse University, said Tyler Sparks, a senior broadcast journalism major. He is also co-founder of Students Opposed to Urtz' Regime, a group protesting the initiative and Judicial Affairs Director Anastasia Urtz.

The initiative needs to respond to the crimes being committed on and around campus instead of just breaking up parties, said Sparks, one of about 30 students to join Assemblymembers at the Student Government Association meeting.

Crime levels seem to be rising around campus," he said to Freund, citing the number of re-

See FREUND page 4

\section*{SGA approves programming board}

BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
Continuing its recent push for more involvement with student or ganizations, the Student Government Association established a new committee Monday to explore its role in student programming.

The committee was proposed in a bill presented to the Asserably by a bill presented to the Asserably by Parliamentarian Jonathan M. Tay. Parinamentarian Jonathan M. Taylor. Committee members will invesming advisory.board. ming adisisory. wourd create a temporary conmittee for the rest-of the school year, said Taylar, a fifthyear architecture otudent. "The Assembly would elect members to act as a chair."
The Assembly voted unanimously in favor of the bill and elected 10 representatives to serve on the commite

But Jen Newman, a member of University Union Entexprises, questioned why SGA might change its role in programming.
"I was wondering why you feel the constitution needed to be changed in the first place, said art history major. President
President Jamal James refused to address her question arguing posal.

Newman later nccepted a nomiSee BILLS page 6

\section*{Professor explains black class separation}

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON}

Asst. News Editor
There is little division between the black middle class and the black poor in urban areas, assistant professor Mary Patillo-McCoy said.
"If you look at some historical studies of black communities, you see that they all at. tempt to be holistic accounts of the black experience," PatilloMcCoy said. They gave significant attention to the black elite, even at a time when that population was snisll.

Through time, however, that research perspective changed, she said. After World War II, the focus shifted toward the poverty-stricken black population, she explained.

"It's ironic that in the postWorld War II era, just as the black middle-class began to grow exponentially, attention began to focus on the black urban poor," Patillo-McCoy added. Patillo-McCoy hails from Northwestern University, where she teaches sociology and African American studies. Her lecture was drawn partly from her new book, "Black Picket Fences: Privilege and Peril Among the Black Middle-Class." About 50 people attend-

See MIDDLE page 3

\section*{All that jazz}

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange Monday with follow band mombers bassist WMlarn Mocurn, a sophomone art oducation major and, planist Tricia Ones, director of the Windiammer vocs/ javz ensemble.

\section*{Seizure suspected in Banks incident}

Staff Reports
Despite reports that former Syracuse University football player Vernon Banks used a narcotic drug late Friday night, the owner of Harry's Bar said the exinebacker may have been experiencing a "seizure" - which an to act violently.
I didn't see him ingest anything smoke any John Shahin owner of Harry's, 700 S . Crouse Ave. "I have never known him to do anything like that." Banks frequented
Harry's about as an SU student, Shahin added.

Ed Nieptopski, Banks' former basketball coach at Bishop Kearney High School in Rochester, said he was told by high school administrators that Banks had a medical history of seizures.

I can't believe that he would take a narcotic," Nieptopski said. "He's as straight as a kid that I've ever coached. I don't associate alcohol or drugs with him."

But police said based on their knowledge of narcotic use Banks appeared to be under the

See BANKS page 4

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

Pancl endorses new impotence drug WASHINGTON, D.C. - In what could open the door to a market rival to the impotence advisory panel Monday recommended goversment approval of a new libidomenhancing drug for men that works on the brain rather than the sex organs.

Uprima, like Viagra, produces potentially serious side effects among them falnting. vomiting, nausea, dizzi ness and low blood pressure- and likely will come with heavy duty warnings it and when it reach

The compound whose chemical name lates the nerves in the brain that lead to improved erections unlike Viagra, which acts by increasing blood flow to the penis.

London pubs to stay open 24 hours

LONDON - In a fand where subways night and all-night shopping is rare, a new late night public service could soon be on tap:

The 24 hour pub
Round-the-clock sales of alconol in pubs and shops in England and Wales were among proposats unvelled Monday by British government determined to rewrite licensing laws, many of which have been on the books since World War 1.

Some pubs, primarily in bustling center cinies, will be able to keep helr doors open

\section*{Pump prices ease} as oil costs dirop he fos Angciss - in the first sign of rellef formors surte in theso yeartong surge in gaso pump price dioped pump price cipped gallon in the past two geeks. an industry analyst said

The average price for all grades of gasowas including taxes, Ion on Friday, down 2.49 cents, according to the Lundbers Survey of 10.000 stations nationwide.

It was the biggest drop since the winter 1998 oil glut and was mainly due to falling crude oil prices, as producing countries decided to increase production, analyst Triby Lundiberg said Sunday.

\title{
Clinton case stays open \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. - \\ and has an FBI agent detailed to \\ Ray said in an interview yester
}

Independent counsel Robert W. Rresident Bill Clinton's relation President Bil Chntons relation ship with Monica S. ewnanky an considering aeeking an indict ment against the preaident after he leaves office next January.

Rather than winding down the independent counsel's office after the departure of Kenneth W. Starr and Clinton's impeachment trial, Ray recentily hired aix new lawyers with gigrifican prosecutorial and other experi ence, as well as one investigator his staff.

In addition, Ray has project ed spending \($ 3.5\) million over the next sir months, an increase cure the \($ 3.1\) million spent during the past half-year.

Among the criminal charges being weighed against Clinton in the Lewinsky matter are perjury, obstruction of justice, making false statements and conspiracy to commit those crimes when he was questioned under oath about his relationshy with the forma White House intern.
"It is an open investigation," day. "There is a principle to be vindicated, and that principle is that no person is above the law Sta the president of the Unive States. That is what been charged with doing.

Ray previously has said he would defer any decision about whether to indict Clinton until af ter the November elections.

But the new revelations about the aggressiveness of the probe indiente that this is not an academic exercise and that an indictment of the president is under serious consideration.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Arrests begin in IMF protests \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. -} Arrests and street closimgs yesterday launched a week in which thousands of demonstrators are expected in town to protest glob1 capitalism.

The culmination will be an announced attempt to blockade he Sunday and Monday meet ags of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, but neither the protesters nor hem wasted any time getting tharted.

Police and Secret Service gents arrested seven people outside the World Bank build ing, George Washington Univer sity banned guests in dormitoand offeials closed tureets. the World Bank, activists were arrested after some blocked two lanes of Pennsylvania Avenue NW for nearly an hour at rush hour, while others were pre vented from hanging a banner from the bank building. The episode served as a sort of rehearsal for what proteaters and police can expect from each othChief Terrance W. Gainer.

\section*{Team evaluates Elian's relatives}

MIAMI - More than three hours after it was originally scheduled, a meeting between a government-appointed team of mental health specialista and the Miami relatives of Elian Gonzalez finally got underway yesterday to figure out how bes child and his father waiting in Washington, D.C.

For most of the afternoon, it looked as if the meeting an important step in the federal Government's achedule to re home - wras not to be. Initially Lome - Was not to be. Initially, uncle, with whom the boy has stayed the part four months failed to keep the appointment with the two psychiatrists and one psychologist named last week by Attorney General Janet Reno to assist the transition.

After a lengthy delay, how ever, officials and the mental Gealth team agreed to meet Gonzalez at the hospital where leysis, the cousin who Flian's Mi pmin relatives gay hos become a substitute mother to the boy was admitted Saturday

\section*{world news}

\section*{Korean leaders plan summit}

TOKYO - The North and South Korean governments each announced Monday that South Korean President Kim Dae Jung Wili travel to Pyongyang, the North Korean capiza, for a first Korean leader Kim Jong II from June 12-14.

If it comes to pass the summit would be the first meeting between top South and North Korean leaders since the peninsula was divided in 1945.

The symbolism of the sum mit date - almost exactly 50 years since the Korean War be gan on June 25, 1950 -- raised hopes that direct negotiations between the two Koreas might at ast begin to melt the hostile atandoff that has continued unabated since the end of the Cold War.

\section*{Rebels discuss \\ Colombia peace}

VILLA NUEVA, Colombia - For nearly 40 years, Colombians raurely saw the faces of the bians raurely saw the faces of the men who run the Revolutionary Armed korces of Colombia, the countrys most powerinl guerrila group.

Manuel Marulanda, the rumpled, 69-year old founder of initials in Spanish, appears reg-

\section*{Aircraft crash undergoes tests \\ MARANA, Ariz. - Plans} to deploy a controversial military aircraft now in the final stages of testing were cast into doubt Sunday after 19 Marines were killed in a weekend crash that ranks among the mos deadly peacetime accidents in yeara.

The tilt-rotor MV-22 Os prey, built to take off like a helicopter but then rotate it propellers 90 degrees to fly like a fixed-wing eraft, crashed nose down Saturday night near a municipal airportin Marana, Ariz., 25 miles from Tueson.

Of the 19 dead, 14 were combat troops from Camp Pendeton, north of San Diego Marine Corps Air Station in San Die Corps Air Station in prey crew members from a he licopter squadron in Quantico Va.

They will attempt to determine if the crash was the re sult of mechanical malfunc tion, pilot error or problems as gociated with night-vision goglooking infrared radar.
alarly in the Colombian media meeting with government officials and business leaders here in the Switzerland-size demilitarized zone the government has urned over to the rebels as a venue for peace talks.

Raul Reyes, ancther member of the seven-man FARC leadership, began a recent interview by inviting e-mail messages to his Joaquin Gomez promismander Joaquin Gomez promised to inpeasants prowinp coca to local material of cocaine. Reyer Gomez and other rehel leader calmly discusted the finer point of peace and their objections to a proposed \($ 1.6\) billion emerpency U.S. aid package that could bring Washingtan deeper into Colombia's civil war.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- Rich Forsgen, photo director with the Times Publishing Company in Erie, Pa., Bpeaks from 1 to \(2: 20\) p.m. in Newhouse from 1 to 2:20 p.m. in Newhouse
I, Room A2. He will discuss "Capturing Local News."
- Bennett Freeman, deputy assistant secretary of state for democracy, human rights and in Eggers Hall, Room 060.
m Consumer advocate Ralph Nader speaks at 4 p.m. in Hendricks Chapel. He witure of independent politics.
- The Career Development Center presents "How to Find an Internahip from 6 to 7 p.r. in Newhouse I, Room 20.
man Vaughan, manager of business analysis for Carlisle Companies, speaks from 7 to 8:15 p.m. in the Babikan Suites, seventh floor of the School of Management. He will speak about valuing business for acquisition.

\section*{WEDNESDAY}
ne John Winslow of the Syracuse FBI chapter apeaks at 5 p.mp. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500. He will discuss how to work at the FBI, qualifications and his peraonal experiences.

1 Lizza Bogado, an actress and recording artist from Paraguay, performs traditional eusses recent political and social changes in her country from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium. The performance will be in \(445+9661\) for more information.
n SU hosts a Spring Community Forum from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the Women's Building, 820 Comstock Ave. During the forum, students can meet with university officials and discuss such programa as the University Community Partnership and the W Seneca Lake Wine Trail hosts a "Wine and Cheese Weekend preview at 7:30 p.m. at Borders Books and Music, 9777 Carousel Center Drive. It is a Sample of the Spring Wine and Cheese Weekend at the Seneca April 30.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the news department at 443-2127. Submissions are also accepted via e-mail at news@dailyor

\section*{Bragman,}

BY ASHLEIGH GRAF Staff Writer

The latest round of conflicts between New York State Assembly Majority Leader Michael Bragman and the Centro Board of Directors continues as the two project.
For more than a year, Centro board members and Bragman have disputed the construction of a bridge between the Carousel Cion Center and P&C Stadium tion Center and P&C Stadrum.
the issue last vived the issue last week, trying to push the project forward. The ensure the safety of the bridge before construction begins. Bragman could not be reached for comment.
The project was tabled a little more than a year ago because \section*{Centro directors continue to disagree \\ of construction problems, said \\ In an effort to keep Centro \\ January and February to Centro}

Robert Strague, Centro's chief administrative officer,
"The difficulty is that the proximity of where the new proximity of where the new ly next to an old bridge used by Amtrak for their services," he said.

The construction stopped because the work was causing a tilt in the old bridge, Strague said. In order to uphold safety, the Amtrak bridge would need to halt service temporarily, he added.

It can ill-afford to be shut down any per the bride's heavy use use.

The Central New York Regional Transportation Authority, and its board, does not wish to be held responsible for any damages that further construction may accrue, Strague explained.
from being blamed for damages, from heing blamed for damages, the authority is attempting to sell the project to an independent contractor with more experience, such as OnTrack, he added.
"The authority does not believe they are the best organization to build that bridge under the circumstances," Strague said.

The project has not changed managers yet - if in fact a change will occur - but it is definite that the bridge will exceed the original budget, Strague said.

No one has found a solution that everyone agrees can go forhopeful that OnTrack will be able to come and construct the bridge."

Conflicts between Bragman and Centro arose more recently when Bragman criticized the board of director's membership. Bragman sent several letters in outlining concerns regarding the lack of diversity among the boards members, vacancies in the board and t

Bragrnan and Centro officials exchanged several letters. but Strague said the board has no real power to address those concerns.

As the law stands, Centro board members are appointed by officials from the city of Syracuse and the counties of Onondaga, said.

The Centro board is comprised of unpaid volunteers from the surrounding communities, Strague said. The only retribution a member may receive is a health and dental insurance plan, he added.
volunteers time is do-

Strague said.
Diversity and the amount of ime spent on the board is not controlled by the board, but by the city and the counties, he said. The resolve of the problem diversity rests within those does not replace the board."

There is also a statement in the bylaws of the board allowing members to stay active until their position is replaced, Strague said.

An example of the board's dedication is its consistency in - the necessary number of mem bers needed at meeting to conduct business. "A better look at the board is it's never missed a meeting for lack of a quorum," he said.

\section*{MIDDLE}
continued from page 1
ed the lecture Monday afternoon in Eggers Hall

She defined middle-class as being a white-coliar worker, professional job or just clerical profess

Even now, when the black poverty rate is 27 percent down from 55 percent during the on the black poor, Patillo-McCoy said.

This causes the study of blacks in the United States to be incomplete, she added.

One area of research that is not only incomplete, but misleading, is on the subject of outmigration - the movement of blacke from siums to the nicer neighborhoods that were formerly exclusively white. One researcher attributed this to the 1960s and the morncis or the brought about brought about.

But Patillo-McCoy argued that this shift in demographics is a simple result of middle-class blacks moving out of bad neighborhoods. The economic situation for many is improving, giving them the chance to get out of a bad environment, she said.

This rising affluence is not a new trend. As early as the 1920s, middle-class blacics were segremating themselves from the lower class and outmigrating to nicer sections of traditionally black neighborhoods, especially those in Chicago's "black belt," PatilloMcCoy said.
"Some observers say this is a new outmigration," she said that is new, it's only that they've that is new, to been able to expand their en-
\[
\mathbf{P a}
\]

Patillo-McCoy conducted a three-year research project in the black belt" area of Chicago, where she said she learned that class ife chances" of black middesharingilies were influenced by poorer a neighbor

Through interviews with a girl named Neisha, Patillo-Mc-

Coy discovered that middle-class children especially are influenced by growing up with poorer children, who are often exposed to drugs, unemployment and gang Neis.

Neisha came from a middleclass family but as she aged, she began to date gang members and ended up pregnan

The girl's father moved out of the house eventually, and Neisha's drug-dealing, gang leader boyfriend moved in, a move that made the family happy because it meant another source of income, " Patillo-McCoy said.
"Here's where it's important to understand the fragility of the black middle class," she said.

Freshman Cherieann Burnham, a biology major, said many of the points Patillo-McCoy made seemed valid."
"There's almost a denial that t \(\qquad\) Burnham added since there is little study of middle-class blacks, societal misperceptions of urban blacks arise since research is "what people base their knowl. is what p .

This is especially true at colleges and universities like Syracuse University, when outsiders automatically assume that citydwelling blacks are poor.
"People need to realize that that's not the case," Burnham said.

\section*{FREUND}
continued from page 1
borhoods. "Safety around 10 p.m. to \(3 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). on Fridays and Saturdays is at a below accept able level."

There have been five reported car break-ins during the last week in or near areas sur oundig the university. Withnave also been two reported have also been two reported students and an assault send tudents severely-beeten woman to the hospital.
"Statistics show that crime sn't worse," Freund respond. ed. If students have any creative potential solutions, Iet us know."

SGA Executive Director Nicholas Maccarone suggested to Freund that faculty mem bers be more "approachable" and "responsive" to student needs.

Faculty members should be less defensive and more

\section*{open tostudents concerns, Maccarone said.}

Teaching assistants were also criticized for not speaking English well. Many assistants have accents that make understanding them dificult, said Assembiyman Adam Dufry, a freshman political science major.

They go through a rigorous screening process, Freund anscreenin.
swered.
"But it's a problem at most universities and there's no perfect solution," she added.

Students should consider whether it is the accent they do not understand or their teaching methods, Freund said, adding that "students must invest some energy to understand them, the responsibility is on both sides."
Campus ethnicity
SGA President
Jamal James then questioned what is being done regarding the lack of diversity in the drama department.
There is only one black faculty member in the department and not enough students of color to be in an "ethnic pro duction," James said

That's the department's black play," he added. black play," he added.

James said an argument Within the department about occurred during his first year in the musical theater proin them. They responded by producing "Once on This Island," a play that deals with race issues, he added.
"I saw the show and it didn't make sense to me because most of the cast was white, James said. "And the department's argument for not casting more blacks is because there are none.

James suggested that the school should actively recruit more students and facuity of color.

This issue is a high priority, Freund said. She added

\section*{BANKS}
continued from page 1
influence.
"Based on our observations, this was not the normal behavior of a person having a seizure," said Anthony Colavita, the officer responding to the scene early Sat urday morning.

The officer added that Banks did not appear to be intoxicated. At about midnight, Banks "fell" to the ground inside Harry's and was assisted back to his feet by former SU quarterback Donovan MeNabb, Shahin said.

Neither Banks nor McNabb could be reached for comment

McNabb is now a quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles After regaining his balance Banks started to convulse and fell to the floor once more, Shahin said.
"Donovan got him up off the ground and he was dancing again," Shahin said. "After he fell again, I said 'Fuck it, I'm going to call an ambulance.'"

ADEET DESHMUKH/The Daily Orange Vice Chancellor Deborah Freund Monday nieht as SGA President Jamal James stands by.
that Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw's cabinet will soon re-spond-"
"It's my own number one issue," she said.
SU's latest ranking in U.S. News and World Report was also a concern.

In August, the magazine ranked the university below numb believe is a *second-tier status."

Freund said that magazine rankings are given too much Weight. The criteria involved in the univerine's evaluation determined, she said.

It's like a black boxyou don't know all the dimenranked and they change every year." Freund said.

Students have to consider the "rich factor." Other schools have more endowment and the ability to spend more money on their students, Freund said.
"Our atmosphere is completely differentin that it places more emphasis on facul-ty-student relations."

McNabb and other former SU football players carried Banks outside and into the linebacker's black Infiniti - where the line backer became violent and kicked ut his sunroof.

Banks' companions restrained him before police arrived outs of East Adams Street and South Crouse Avenue.

"He was decent to us," Colavita said. "When we got there, they were in the process of lifting him up off the ground."

Compiled by Asst. Lifestyle Editor Magin McKenna

\section*{WRITE} A LETTER TO THE EDITOR!
Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{America's #1 Citizen & Presidential Candidate wants you to wake up to: \\ *Corruptions of Democracy \\ *Corporate Welfare \\ *Unsafe Cars and Unsafe politicians \\ *YOUR OWN VISION OF POLITICS! \\ Nader Brought you: \\ *Recycling Laws in NX \\ *Public Disclosure of Gov, Documents \\ *Product Liability Laws \\ *PIRGs - the lobbyists FOR the public}
". . . if we think we can affect the course of events, we've got the duty and the moral imperative to do so." -Nader

Brought to you by Students for Democracy, GSO. Law Senate, Hendrieks Chapel. The Dept. Of Religion, Dept. of rublic Administration, The College of Law, The College of Arts & Sciences (speakers casts given to charity)

\section*{Hear Ralph Nader...}

\section*{APRIL \(11^{\text {th }}\), Hendricks Chapel Lecture, Q&A & Reception at 4pm}

\section*{"The Future of Independent Politics & Public Interest Activism"}

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 3 p.m. Sunday to meet the News editors and reporters. Free food and coffee for all. Call 443-2127 or e-mail news@dailyorange.com.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight.

The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

News: news@dailyorange.com
Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\title{
\(\underset{\substack{\text { Ceditoriacereck nute }}}{ }\) snatch autonomy \\ Forcing greeks out of their houses and into
} the streets won't dry up the rivers of beer that flow through the entire university.

But a new ruling by the National Panhellenic Conference seeks to do just that. In order to support the movement toward dry fraternity houses, the conference hopes to nudge sororities in the same direction - by bogging the entire greek system down with more overzealous rules and regulations.

If some of the 26 national sorority chapters - run by people worlds away from Syracuse University - have their way, sisters won't even be allowed to pour themselves a glass of wine at a harmless fraternity-sorority mixer.

Instead of tapping kegs in the confines of a frat house living room, many greeks will be forced to move their events to bars, which begs questions about the sensibility of the ruling.

When events involving alcohol are conducted outside houses, would-be drinkers jump behind the wheel to get to and from their party destination - surely an accident waiting to happen. If greek events are confined to private houses, most worries of drunkdriving accidents are averted. It's senseless for national chapters to create rules that put their members in harm's way unnecessarily.

And if SU prides itself on the quality of its classroom offerings, the new rules should raise a red flag for administrators, too.

When greeks sponsor events in bars or other off-campus social enclaves, they must generally take place on off-peak nights namely, week nights that are invariably followed by early-morning classes. And after a Sunday night at the bars, which could easily have been traded for a Saturday in a greek house, it's doubtful that many greeks will be showing up for that 8:30 a.m. class.

Binge drinking is unfortunate, and it often leads to disastrous consequences. But cloaking the greek system in even more red tape regulations isn't the answer to ensuring member safety or cleaning up its tarnished image.
? the
Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
News Editor
Justin Silvorman
Editorial Editor Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor Special Projects Edito
Presentation Director Presentation Direct Photography Editor Art Director Art Director
Systerns Administrator
Systems Admi
Online Editor
Online Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Ed
Design Editor
Design Editor *
Design Editor
Design Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asst. Photography Editor
Asss. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Ediror
Asst. Copy Editor

\section*{VPA professor touched many through art, passion}

To the Editor:
I was waiting for a train to New York City when I found out John Sellers had cancer. A man in the waiting room was giving, another woman an update on his medical condition. I was shocked and saddened by the news. And when I flipped The Daily Orange over last Thursday, I was floored.

I met John Sellers briefly last semester while doing an article for Syracuse University Magacle for Syracuse University Maga-

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Home friends provide comfort zone after four years}

The engine ignited and carbon dioxide poured out of the exhaust pipe. On Friday morning, I braved hangof the exhaust and raced to Buffalo to catch up with a few overdorn an old friends.

Thoughts of mischief and reminiscing danced in

\section*{ASHOK}

\section*{SELVAM} my head. At 12:36 p.m. four friends from home would step off an airliner from Chicago to spend their weekend in Syracuse just to sample my semi-charmed life.

This marked a special occasion. No friend from home had ever visited me during my years at SU. The drive takes a painfui 12 hours and flying costs a blistering \($ 225\) round trip. The four cashed in on a discount fare to Buffalo, enabling the count fare to Buffalo, e reunion to take place.

Waiting for them to walk out of the gate, my mind wandered westward from the polluted depression of Central New York toward the eternal bliss that is Chicago. I've traveled to California, London, Texas and Florida. Even though I've enjoyed many of those places, my heart constantly yearns for late-night hot spots, staggering skyscrapers and the abrosia that is deep-dish Chicago-style pizza.
freshman for but I think I took it particularly difficult for everyone, but I think I took it particularly hard. Id writhe in jealousy as my friends would disappear on weekends, only to come back on Sunday with renewed vigor and a slew of food from home. Being 715 miles away from home denied me this chance. I almost miles away from home denied me this chance. I almost Ill., a 40-minute drive from Chicago, after my freshman year. My homegrown crew has been together from the Wy homegrown crew has been together from the days of the present. Though I don't see them as often as I used to, we always seem to have a good time in typical Midwest fashion.

There was Barone - a lifelong Chicago Cubs fan, naturally my foil. The two of us have a pact that if either Chicago baseball team makes it into the World Series in our lifetimes, we will drop everything short of childbirth and head home to see a game. Chicago fans have starved for a World Series since 1959. Hopefully, the next one will be on Chicago's South Side.

Then there's Axel. He and I have traded CDs and sarcasm for almost 10 years. No joke - he introduced me to Guns 'N Roses. I don't think I have to go any further.

Of the four of them, Vig's probably got it the most together. That's not exactly something to be proud of, but bear with me. He's got a fancee and a love for God that rivals that of his favorite football player, St. Louis Rams quarterback Kurt Warner.

Then there's Amar I met Amar while he shivered under a desk in the fetal position a couple years ago. can't remember much of the night. Something to do with whiskey sours and Old Style, a beer close to the heart of Chicagoans, including the late, great baseball announcer Harty Caray.

I've always felt that I've cracked a split personality since leaving for school. I've got different friends, differ ent lifestyle and a different time zone. Part of this is spending so little meaningful time at home. Whenever I'm at horne, it's the same formulaic and melancholy routine. I wave "hello," to the family, play with the dog for a bit, call a few friends to see if theyre still in town and then either go out, or pass out in front or the idiot box, getting reacquainted with my favorite local TV personalities.

After my home friends arrived last weekend and we caught up with graduation plans and girl problems, they wanted to meet my school friends - and what better place than a bar?

We trudged across the Quad, while I pointed out that the building that looks like the Addams Family mansion was the Hall of Languages. I felt like I should blue and orange striped shirts. blue and orange striped shirts thirsts, we sounded like a troop of veterans, recalling thirsts, we sounded like a troop of veterans, recalling ed well, thanks mostly to the adhesive that is alcohol.

For four years Barone had told me he was going to make it to the 'Cuse. I smiled and nodded each time, the same way I react to everything I dub malarkey. But there they were, and here was I, staring at the reflection in the bottom of my almost-empty pint glass. I do believe I was smiling.

So next time you're at a bar, in a dorm room, or at a house party, do me a favor: Raise your arms and toas to friendship. As I reach the twilight of my SU career, it's never too late to pick up where you've left off.

Thanks, guys.
Ashok Selvam is a senior newspaper major. His column appears Tuesdays in The Daily Orange. E-mail himat aselvam@syr.edu.

\section*{letters}
zine on the independent study design program that he started 34 years ago in the College of Visual and Performing Arts.
I remember going to his office for the interview and being inspired by the love and emotion he had for the program. The cigarettes he smoked burned forgotten in his hand as he leaned back in his chair and spoke passionatley about the program. His office was the size a closet and he was sitting far from the only window.

I left there with the stench of smoke clinging to my clothes and what I have ever done in my tape view I have ever done in my tape recorder.
still have that tape and the notes are still in my notepad. Though it makes me sad to see them, I can't bring myself to throw them away. The magazine had already gone to press when news reached the office, so an obituary will replace the art that was supposed to accompany my article.
I'm thankful it wasn't cut. Now everyo-se can read about John Sellers' contribution to Syracuse University and the many lives that he touched, including mine. cluding mine.

Danielle Johnson
Class of 2000
continued from page 1
nation to the committes
I'd like to join the committee becausei feel there needs to be students who participate in student programming involved," she said.

Freshman Justin Godell also accepted aseat on the committee saying that he wanted to incrense student awareness on issues such as the proposed SGA and UU merger.

The merger, proposed at a March 27 SGA meeting would have united the two organizations, giving them a mutual tions, giving them a mut.
role in event programming.

The merger proposal was replaced April 3 by a new bill process and changing \(S G A\) 's process and changin role in programming.

After the 10 representatives were elected, however, padell said that the number of would inhibit its ability.
"There's too many people," Godell said. "That's going to slow it down. They just killed it right there."

Assemblyman Adam Duffy, a freshman political science major and an outspoken critic self for a seat on the committee because he said he wants to continue working as a liaison between SGA and the student body. a good way it's presented, it's good idea, said Duffy, after being elected to the committee. -It's going to assess what the students think about the Student Association and we're going to say exactly what we find. "You have people from SGA on it, people from UU on it and students on it."

If the bill is passed in a referendum later this month, SGA will drop the word "goverbment" from its name to reflect its new focus.

He added, however, that he suspects that certain committeemembers will use the committee as a way of re-addressing the merger with UU.

Duffy was one of several Assemblymernbers who protested the April 3 bill, arguing that the vote was inaccurate because James estimated rather than unted the votes.
The case was
The case was brought before SGA's Judicial Review Board last Thursday night and the board deemed that James had not violated any constit tional procedure in his vote.

On Monday night, however, Assemblyman Joe Sauer, a freshman biology major, commended James on taking all of hands or roll call.

James said that he does not intend to continue this procedure of voting. said.

\section*{In other SGA news:}

The Assembly voted against further postponing two referenda once scheduled for later this week. Students were to vote concerning funding for the New York State Public Interest Research Group and the bill that would revise SGA's constitution.

Some Assemblymembers argued that since the referenda will be conducted the last week of school, many students wilt not have the time to adequately look into the issues.

The Judicial Review Board mandated that the referenda be postponed until April 25 to April 27 because workers had not been approved by the As. sembly to operate the polling stations.

Sauer said be supports moving the referenda to the Fall 2000 Semester, allowing time to clear the air of controversial issues such as the proposed SGA and UU merger.
"Instead of shoving the whole thing on the student body

\section*{Student Government Association Committee to Investigate Programming}

\section*{SGA Representation}

\section*{Amber Dowtin}

Financlyman, junior political science and history

Adam Dufly, Melissa Huber Public Communications
Assemblyman, freshman political science Recorder, freshman The College of Arts and Sciences
Chris, Ryan, Board of Elections and Membership, sophomore political science an biogy
Joe Sauer, Assemblyman, freshman blology
Faith Tartaglia, Assistant Parliamentarian, junior chemical engineering
University Union Enterprises Representation
Jen Nowman, UU member, freshman graphics and art history Student Representation
Justin Godell, sophomore English and textual studies and television, radio and film major

Complied ty Asst. News Editor Tmuny Lankes
and having them vote on some issues, let's give them time," Sauer said.

NYPIRG representatives attended the meeting to support postponing the vote until fall. Many of the group's activities, including programs for Earth Day and Lobby Day, have been suspended because of the vote.

SGA Board of Elections
d Membership Chairman and Membership Chairman Matt Oates proposed a bill that eliminates the constitutional code regarding voting procedure in response to the decision to postpone the referenda. The constitution requires that all people chosen to operate polling locations be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly.

Oates argued that this is not possible because it is too difficult to find people in advance to manage the stations. He said that as chairman of

BEM, the Assembly should trust his judgement in selecting people to operate the polls,
"I'm assuming that by electing me, you guys trust me," said Oates, a senior engineering major. "It makes my life a little easier. No one ever wants to come forward saying wants to come rin a polling station.? "Basically, it allows me to convince my friends to sit at the tables an hour before the vote."

Assemblyman
Eric Seltzer, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences, said that rather than eliminate the rule, the Assembly should focus on better enforcing it.
been doing sembly," Seltzer said.

Only one Assemblymember volunteered to operate a polling station, Oates said.

Assistant Parliamentarian Faith Tartaglia argued in favor of the elimination saying that the code has not always been followed before.

I'm almost willing to bet that just because it was put in as a code it hasn't been followed," said Tartaglia, a junior chemical engineering major. "The Assembly would be screwing itself to vate against it."

The Assembly approved the bill with a majority vote.

Thanks to WahET. cam, collage WILL NEVER
be the same mgain.

\section*{Unlike your roommate's outfit.}

There are aspects of college life you just can't control. But when it comes to your academic performance, you're in charge. Especially when you use WebCT.com, the e-learning hub. It's a complete online academic resource where you can get help studying. find research materials. take practice tests and quizzes. and exchange information with students and faculty around the globe. Change the way you learn. Visit wnw webct you learn. Visit wwwwebct.com/rcommate.

Courtesy of WebCT.com. get free shipping off a purchase of \($ 90\) or more at VarsityBooks.com through 4/15/00. Simply enter promotion code webct472n at checkout.

mot inchuste clast on feturme.
dVebCTcom
02000 webct ine.
continued from page 1
nation to the committes
I'd like to join the committee becausei feel there needs to be students who participate in student programming involved," she said.

Freshman Justin Godell also accepted aseat on the committee saying that he wanted to incrense student awareness on issues such as the proposed SGA and UU merger.

The merger, proposed at a March 27 SGA meeting would have united the two organizations, giving them a mutual tions, giving them a mut.
role in event programming.

The merger proposal was replaced April 3 by a new bill process and changing \(S G A\) 's process and changin role in programming.

After the 10 representatives were elected, however, padell said that the number of would inhibit its ability.
"There's too many people," Godell said. "That's going to slow it down. They just killed it right there."

Assemblyman Adam Duffy, a freshman political science major and an outspoken critic self for a seat on the committee because he said he wants to continue working as a liaison between SGA and the student body. a good way it's presented, it's good idea, said Duffy, after being elected to the committee. -It's going to assess what the students think about the Student Association and we're going to say exactly what we find. "You have people from SGA on it, people from UU on it and students on it."

If the bill is passed in a referendum later this month, SGA will drop the word "goverbment" from its name to reflect its new focus.

He added, however, that he suspects that certain committeemembers will use the committee as a way of re-addressing the merger with UU.

Duffy was one of several Assemblymernbers who protested the April 3 bill, arguing that the vote was inaccurate because James estimated rather than unted the votes.
The case was
The case was brought before SGA's Judicial Review Board last Thursday night and the board deemed that James had not violated any constit tional procedure in his vote.

On Monday night, however, Assemblyman Joe Sauer, a freshman biology major, commended James on taking all of hands or roll call.

James said that he does not intend to continue this procedure of voting. said.

\section*{In other SGA news:}

The Assembly voted against further postponing two referenda once scheduled for later this week. Students were to vote concerning funding for the New York State Public Interest Research Group and the bill that would revise SGA's constitution.

Some Assemblymembers argued that since the referenda will be conducted the last week of school, many students wilt not have the time to adequately look into the issues.

The Judicial Review Board mandated that the referenda be postponed until April 25 to April 27 because workers had not been approved by the As. sembly to operate the polling stations.

Sauer said be supports moving the referenda to the Fall 2000 Semester, allowing time to clear the air of controversial issues such as the proposed SGA and UU merger.
"Instead of shoving the whole thing on the student body

\section*{Student Government Association Committee to Investigate Programming}

\section*{SGA Representation}

\section*{Amber Dowtin}

Financlyman, junior political science and history

Adam Dufly, Melissa Huber Public Communications
Assemblyman, freshman political science Recorder, freshman The College of Arts and Sciences
Chris, Ryan, Board of Elections and Membership, sophomore political science an biogy
Joe Sauer, Assemblyman, freshman blology
Faith Tartaglia, Assistant Parliamentarian, junior chemical engineering
University Union Enterprises Representation
Jen Nowman, UU member, freshman graphics and art history Student Representation
Justin Godell, sophomore English and textual studies and television, radio and film major

Complied ty Asst. News Editor Tmuny Lankes
and having them vote on some issues, let's give them time," Sauer said.

NYPIRG representatives attended the meeting to support postponing the vote until fall. Many of the group's activities, including programs for Earth Day and Lobby Day, have been suspended because of the vote.

SGA Board of Elections
d Membership Chairman and Membership Chairman Matt Oates proposed a bill that eliminates the constitutional code regarding voting procedure in response to the decision to postpone the referenda. The constitution requires that all people chosen to operate polling locations be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly.

Oates argued that this is not possible because it is too difficult to find people in advance to manage the stations. He said that as chairman of

BEM, the Assembly should trust his judgement in selecting people to operate the polls,
"I'm assuming that by electing me, you guys trust me," said Oates, a senior engineering major. "It makes my life a little easier. No one ever wants to come forward saying wants to come rin a polling station.? "Basically, it allows me to convince my friends to sit at the tables an hour before the vote."

Assemblyman
Eric Seltzer, a sophomore in The College of Arts and Sciences, said that rather than eliminate the rule, the Assembly should focus on better enforcing it.
been doing sembly," Seltzer said.

Only one Assemblymember volunteered to operate a polling station, Oates said.

Assistant Parliamentarian Faith Tartaglia argued in favor of the elimination saying that the code has not always been followed before.

I'm almost willing to bet that just because it was put in as a code it hasn't been followed," said Tartaglia, a junior chemical engineering major. "The Assembly would be screwing itself to vate against it."

The Assembly approved the bill with a majority vote.

Thanks to WahET. cam, collage WILL NEVER
be the same mgain.

\section*{Unlike your roommate's outfit.}

There are aspects of college life you just can't control. But when it comes to your academic performance, you're in charge. Especially when you use WebCT.com, the e-learning hub. It's a complete online academic resource where you can get help studying. find research materials. take practice tests and quizzes. and exchange information with students and faculty around the globe. Change the way you learn. Visit wnw webct you learn. Visit wwwwebct.com/rcommate.

Courtesy of WebCT.com. get free shipping off a purchase of \($ 90\) or more at VarsityBooks.com through 4/15/00. Simply enter promotion code webct472n at checkout.

mot inchuste clast on feturme.
dVebCTcom
02000 webct ine.

\section*{EDGE}

New brew
Preempting the scheduled
 Srotest of Starbucks nationwide.
in in STAREvist
\(1000 \%\) 5060 advance of the of the Sunday meetings of the and International Monetary Fund, the coffee giant announced Monday it will begin selling "tair trade" coffee. Fair-trade trade coftified coffee. certified coffee stamped with a special seal by the non-profit organization Transfair USA, signifies that the cotiee is Erown under safe workulg conditions and sotd directly to retaliers, not throug middiemen, thereby guaranteeing a fair price fcr the farmer. Starbucks plans to start offering the coffee alongside other brands in virtually all of its retai! outlets and online in the fall.

\section*{Domain game}

The mental gymnastics needed to reach a desired Web site also are complicated by entrepreneurs who hope that addine an ' \(e\) ' or ' \(i\) ' to their Web site's name will make it sound high-tech. Network Solutions has already registered more than 9 million names ending in such "generic top-level domains" as com. The name Eame could explode if a proposal to add domains as .firm. store, law and .arts are added to the dot com mix. Idealab last week upped the ante by agreeing to pay the South Pacific island nation of Tuvalu \($ 50\) million in royalties over the next decade for rights to email and Web addresses ending in .- v, , the country code assigned totuvalu.

\section*{Thawing out}

Scientists have long assumed that the 20 foot rise in ocean depth after the lce Age came from the thinning of the West Antarctic Ice Sheet. But two researchers made a strong case in the April 6 issue of Nature that two-thirds of the ocean rise was produced by a drastic thaw in the Greenland Ice Sheet. As much feet of the world's sea-hevel rise resulted from the melting of Greenland ice over a few thousand years.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"l've never been drunk, but I've often been overserved. been overserved

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443-2128
lifeGdaily
orange.com

\section*{[lifestyle]} TRUTH OR Student editors actoss the nation assess college newspapers' credibility. See Lifestyle Wednesday.

\section*{Harrison Ford deserves accolade}

\section*{True story. A month} before I first came to Syracuse University, I asked my girlfriend at the time if he wanted to go to the she wanted to go to the movies with me to see "Six movies with me to see "Six Days, Seven Nights." She wasn't familiar with it, so wasn't familiar with it, so I told her I heard that it was a new romantic comedy-adven new romantic comedy-adven-

Pete Beisser media freak
" Who's in it," she asked me further to see if she real \(y\) wanted to see it.
i continued Harrison Ford was in it, and so was Anne Heche

Well, what she said to me next boggled my delicate mind so much so that I could n't have another meaningfu conversation with this girl again.
"Who's Harrison Ford?" she questioned me with a stone straight face
A week later we broke up or obvious reasons.

Sure, you may question if my actions were a little harsh or ridiculous under the circumstances, but if I ever tell this story, everyone agrees that I made the right decision. Everyone, 1 mean everyone, has had to have heard of Harrison Ford. It's like not knowing who Mickey Mouse is.

Ford recently received the American Film Institute's 28th Lifetime Achievement Award. Because the ceremony will be broadcast this Wednesday at 8 p.m. on CBS, I'm going to have to quit my griping about the stupidities of SU - for a week, at least - and get back to a real entertainment issue.
Past recipients of the award have included leg endary names inke Airr Hitchcock, Bette Davis immy Stewart, Qrson Welles, Clint Eastwood and Jack Nicholson, just to menfion a few- The event, held on Feb. 17 at the Beveriy Hins Hilcon Hotel, was atcended y almont with the actor durin worked with the actor s extensive career.

Its bound to be an inter esting show for you if you're nterested in the career of Harrison Ford like 1 am. Having been raised the bastard child of the first genera tion of VCRs, I pretty much learned how to be a guy from epeated viewing of Ford's characterizations of the ul mate male role models I bet I'm not alone out there What 20 -something guy can honestly say that he doesn't try to soften up and win over those bitchy, spoiled "Princess Leias" just as Han did in the "holy trilogy?"

It is fitting that AFI
See MEDIA page 10

\section*{MEDIA}

\section*{continued from page 9} begin the new millennium by honoring Harrison Ford "the most popularly acclaimed actor of our day," said AFI Board Chairman Tom Pollock in the press release for the event. "To movie audiences around the world, Harrison represents the quintessential American film hero, and when the history of the 20th Century art form is written, Harrison will play a leading role.

Ford is our Gary Cooper,

The Daily Orange

Humphrey Bogart and Clark Gable all rolled up into one blockbuster package. He's a hero everyone can relate to, made of the same skin that we all are. He's a real guy and the legendary scar on his chin says it all - the guy's tough, but not in a huge luggish way. It's the quiet confidence that holds the actor's real assets on the screen in all his incarnations.

My favorite Harrison Ford story:

Ford worked as a carpenter to pay the bills during the lapses in acting offers during the mid-1970s
The story goes that he was coing a job at director Francis Ford Coppola's offices the day that Coppola's friend, George Lucas, was auditionng actors for the leads in the original Star Wars. Lucas had broken the hopefuls into groups of three - Lukes, Hans and Leias - and in the end they came up one Han short.

Coppola grabbed trusty Ford from his woodwork to fill the last trio that day.

The rest is history.
Come on, he's 57 and was voted People's Sexiest Man of the Year back in 1998. Ford's the guy that every man wants to be and the one that every, woman wants, young and old alike. Although he's known for the big action roles from the Trilogies ("Star Wars and "Indiana"), the Tom Clancy movies, "The Fugitive" and "Air Force One," I've come to admire him most when he played against type n "Working Girl" and "The Mosquito Const."

So check out the show honoring Harrison Ford and his work this Wednesday night. God knows that ex-girl friend of mine needs to. Oh by the way, a few months after we broke up that sum mer, I found out she had hooked up with nine other guys while she was in Canc for Senior Week vacation. See, I wasn't crazy after all.

Pete Beisser is a sophomore magazine and politica science major- His column him at pjbeisse@syr.edu.

\section*{BRIDES}

\section*{continued from page 9}
said he feels that by choosing a mail-order bride, he will get what he wants.
"I am looking for a Latina mait-order bride," he said. "When living in Tucson, I made the observation that, in my opinion, Latinas are the most physically attractive. Also, I am Catholic and at least try to take it seriously. I like the Catholic culture. Hispanics seem to take it more seriously.

When one hears the term mail-order brides, thoughts of men flipping through a catalog and receiving a woman in the mailbox may spring to mind. nomer. One does not actually purchase another person

There are two ways of obtaining a mail-order bride, White said. One involves using a loreign-based agency and eraveling to that country in order to choose a woman after a series of interviews. The other way, through a U.S.-based agency, is for the less adventurous and inVolves staying at home to write letters and correspond through the phone.
पCorrespondence and tele-one approach is the more phone approach is the more conventional way and the one conventional way and the one said. No one returned my letsaid. No one returned my letsome remote way, interested in some remote way, interested in it clear that I'm more than welcome to visit them."

\section*{Costly venture}

Mail-order brides are only a mouse click away. A quick search on the Internet for mailorder brides offers hundreds of sites offering the names and addresses of foreign women. A Foreign (www.wwdatalink.com/foreignaffair/), located in Phoenix is one such service for single men looking for Russian, Asian or Latin women.
"We're very selective in the women we present on the Internet site," said Ron Redburn, 47, burn said. Once a man has selected which women he is interested in, he writes to as many women as he wants.
"Hopefully, he'll get a response from someone," Redburn said.

A Foreign Affair holds socials in different cities around the world in order for their clients to meet the women with whom they have been corresponding. Thirty to 40 clients travel on each of the 12 tours e service holds a year
A tour includes a two-week trip at a four-star hotel and nu-cials."
Marrying a woman in this way is not always a quick process. Photo evidence must be taken to prove to Immigra tion and Naturalization Ser vices that the couple has, in fact met and the man petitions for a fiancee visa. If the woman is approved, she has three months in the United States in which to marry the man. If she doesn't, she is deported.

This is not a quick fix to anyone's marital desires or re lationship wishes," Redburn said.
"There's quite a few people who met their wives at a social and would say it was on a business trip."

Kon Redburn, eo-rtisner of \(A\) Foreign \(A\) ffair co-owner of A Foreign Affair "We don't accept women under 18 and the peak age is \(50{ }^{\text {n }}\)

In order to view the profiles of over 10,000 women, a man must pay \($ 95\) to A Foreign Affair. Six hundred new profiles are added each month and a in order to access them Red merous parties that costs \($ 3,250\). There are approximately six or seven women for every man at these functions, Red burn said.
proce try to expedite the process somewhat," Redburn said. "Fifty to 75 percent of our clients marry within the year af ter meeting women at the so-

\section*{Wanna take over the WORLD...} Your'e gonna have to start with an internship!

\section*{Great \\ Summer \\ And \\ Fall \\ Internships Still \\ Available At S.U.I.P.}

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Ave.
Ph. \($ 443-4271\) Hours: 8:30-5:00

There is no set price for a mail-order bride: The cost entails the names and addresses of women, postal rates, phone women, postal
For White, who is searching for a Latina woman, the cost infor a Latina woman, th volves something else. Spanish is also essential," he said. "I've is also essential, he sard.
spent \($ 200\) in books and tapes spent \($ 200\) in books and tapes and another \($ 250\) in classes. Knowing that 1 mimproving my chances of finding a Latina is my real motiva
Many of the
Many of the men who choose to look for a wife in this manner are middle-aged. The women who they chose tend to be at least 10 years younger, "Men look tiful women" he said. .Women look for older, stable males that can provide secure homes and a secure family situation to pro mote healthy, strong families."

Redburn himself is married to a Russian wornan 20 years younger than himself whom he found through his own service. different times in and age at different times in life, he said "At around 42, I came into more personal success and decided to leave my boyish ways. My choic es were not as optimal as in my younger days. A Foreign Affair exposes male clients to a much wider selection of marital partners in categories they are look ing for."

\section*{Maligned matrimony}

But critics of the mail-or der bride industry view it as a sexist explaitation of women.
"You bought it, you own it like a puppy," said Mary Hud-son-Navarre, a continuing edu cation student in the women's studies program. "You're taking women based on physical quali ties and supposed personality traits. There's no other option for these women. It's the one opportunity presented to them and so they take it."

White disagreed that this process degrades women.
"If they're being exploited they're lining up for it, \({ }^{\text {n }}\) White said.

While Redburn defended his service as a way to meet women outside of one's geographical boundaries, he agreed that mail-order brides are a different way of finding a soul mate.
"This process carries a stigma to it," he said."There's quite a few people whomet their wives at a social and would say was on a business trip.
Mark Matloff, a Syracuse psychologist, said that men who look for a wife in this way are more willing to take risks than others.
"It's a fairly unconventional way of finding a wife," Matloff said. "It takes a lot of courage to do this. Frequently, shy people are attracted to this idea chance. You are ending to take a chance. You are ending up mar rying a person here."

\section*{TRACK}
continued from page 16
into each competition mentally ear and conscious of what need to do to win."

Hicks' mark this weekend was good for best in the Big East this season and far enough qualify her for the NCAA Championships in June

However, the senior AllAmerican has plans of extendng her season beyond the NCAA meet. Her collegiate success culminated this year with victories in discus and shot put in meets across the country. It also has Ianded Hicks in prime position to represent the United States in the Olympics, which take place in Sydney, Australia, from Sept. 15 through Oct. 1.

The U.S. trials for the ames will take place in July. and her training this year has been geared toward peaking for the qualifying events.

Adrian Woodley has the \section*{TENNIS}

continued from page 16
winning four singles matches in straight sets and sweeping the doubles ledger.
"It's not just luck," Gifford said. "Everything builds up. All the girls on the team are motivated.*

They want Malubu.
And to do so, the Orangewornen must dereat a foe that has plagued them for years.

In last year's Big East Championships, SU played an always strong Notre Dame team almost ven

The Irish won the aggregate doubles point by taking two matches. The semifinal matchup came down to the six singles spots.

Syracuse led in three match es, but each was stopped afte Notre Dame won three others and eliminated the Orangevomen.

SU went on to take third place in the tournament and left with vengeance in mind.

A long year of work and strong freshman class bolstered the team and helped it leap to a \(13-5\) start, including an \(8-1\) inconference record.

The Orangewomen do not want to look past their match against Brown on Sunday, but the Big East Tournament lingers in their minds. It begins April 20 ame mentality as Hicks, and he has translated it into strong howings this spring season.

The reigning Big East champion in the 110 -meter hurdles, Woodley provisionally qualified for they provisionall pionships with a fourth-place inish at the Invitational. The Onish at the Invitational. The Ontario, Canada native's sea son-best time of 13.82 seconds cept him on track, as he is fo the Olympic trials

In addition to Woodley's leet feet, freshman Sean Bur nett showed promising speed as he qualified for the iC4A Championship meet to be held ater this spring with a held alace finish in the 200 -methplace inish in the 200 -meter dash. His 22 second time was and the first top in fine even collegiate career.

Back on the women's side of the track, senior Deniece Bell crossed the finish line in 59.45 seconds to place fourth in the and should culminate with a semifinal matchup against - guess who? - Notre Dame.

We've been focusing the whole season on going into the Big East with the attitude that we belong," senior captain Anna Khvalina said. "Now, it's just breaking the barrier past Notre Dame. There's really a big difference between second and third in the Big East.

ND, SU and Miami are the class of the conference, Gifford said. Miami, though, graduated two standouts and is vulnerable, he said.

Syracuse, meanwhile, has seen vast improvements, "Espe cially for a school with snow in the middle of April," Gifford said.

None of its regular starters own a record below .500. SUs top three players - Shareen Lai Khvalina and Michelle Neveklovs ca - are a combined 68-31 in sin gles. Freshman Shervin Saedinia wins at a 75 percent rate in singles and doubles.

Fellow frosin Masha Kgbano va recovered from a slow start to emerge as a solid No. 4 singles player, Gifford said.

She crushed Seton Hall's Jasimine Wolcott on Sunday, 6-3 6-2, using a variety of backspin and finesse shots.

The extra weapons in her game, Gifford said, allowed her to

20/20: MUSIC FROM THE LAST MILLENNIUM

\section*{fcaturing}

REQUIEM by Maurice Duruflé
Martha Sutter, mezzo-soprano
Gregory Sheppard, bass
Christopher Marks, organ

\section*{Hendricks Chapel Syracuse University}

Sunday, April 16, 2000
4:00 pm
free admisgion wwwsurnwebsyr.edw/hendrickny

000-meter hurdles
Sophomore Alison Culley also starred for the Orange in North Carolina. The sprinter won her heat in the 200 -meter dash at the invite, which included teams from the ACC find Bigh East. She crossed the ley also finished shird in Culheat in finished third in her a time of 12.35 seconds.

Junior teammate Latoya Redden won her heat in the Ne-meter with a time of 12.54 . Neither event was completed ever, the marks posted in the prelims by both Orangewomen were season bests.

To go along with success in the sprints, senior Michelle LaPointe and junior Alicia Crowd fared well in the 800 -meter race, as the SU harriers qualirace, as the SU harriers qualified for the ECAC Championships in the event. Lapointe another season best, and Crowd

\section*{mature and progress.}
"Masha came on as a No. 4, which is tough for a freshman," he said. "She struggled. She was trying to kill the ball.

The rest of the Orangewomen are equally hot. Neveklovska won her seventh consecutive singles match, and Lai - the 71st-ranked player in the nation - pushed her record to 22-10 at singles and 20-9 at doubles.

The individuals play with an intent to better the team, Khvalina said. While self-motivation is natural, encouragement from teammates urges better play, she said.
'You're there, and if you're starting to lose, you realize it's going to take a hell of a fight to come back," she said. "You do it for yourself and for your teammates crossed the finish line in 2:15.30 seconds.

Along with Woodley and the surprising Burnett, the men's squad was led once again by its hefty crop of first-year an qualified for the IC4A Chom an qualified for the ICAA Cham pionships in the shot put with a throw of \(50^{\prime} 2^{*}\), which was good enough for ninth place.

Fellow frosh Steve Bedard finished 17 th with a distance of \(46^{\circ} 11.5^{\prime \prime}\), while Tim Biever was 29 th. Biever also placed 19 th in the discus with a throw of \(140^{\circ}\)

T
The Orangemen had yet another post-season qualifier at the meet in freshman Richard Polidore, who won his heat of the 200 -meter dash. His time of 22.02 seconds was fast enough to qualify the versatile Polidore for the IC4A Championships.

Both squads return to action this weekend with multiple meets. The majority of Orange competitors will head south to the University of Virginia for the Lou Onesty/M.G Hson Invitational However, Hicks will fly back to her native California and compete in the Mt. Sac Reays at Mt. San Antonio College.
"It will be good for my mom and my family to see me perform." Hicks said. "I know my momited to have them come out excited to have them come out

The meet will consist primarily of professional athletes rather than the amateurs Hicks usually competes against on a weekly basis.
weeky basis.
stand aprin want to see where stand against the field." Hicks competition that I will face at competyon (Olympic) trials and I'm hoping to do really well."
because you don't want to let them down."

Any loss at this point would be a letdown for the Orangewomen. While the conference championships in Miami are circled on their calendar, they have a long-term date surrounded by red ink - May 18, the day the NCAA Tournament begins in Malibu.

The team's chance of making it is realistic, but the road to the West Coast could prove difficult, Gifford said. Schools from the South and West play better competition and earn more respect from pollsters.

If SU upends Notre Dame, however, the momentum shifts the Orangewomen's way. Their destiny, in that case, is in their hands.
"Malibu is out there," KZwali-
Buanos Aires Lima Sankiago London Dublin Panis Nice Copenhagen Stockholm Oslo Amsterdam Berlín Munich Zürich istanbul
Rome Venice Florence Vienna Budapest Prague Warsaw Moscow Lisbon Madrid Barcolona Tel Aviv Johannesburg Delhi Hong Kong na said. "It sounds very attractive. If beating Notre Dame is realistic, then going to Malibu is realistic.

It would be a highlight, especially for the upperclassmen. Getting out of here - that would be the ultimate."

\section*{FOOTBALL}

\section*{continued from page 16}

On being carried off the field in his last frame at Beaver Stadium: "It was a very emotional moment. The players felt it was good to have the opportunity. I didn't platn at mriund exit, but under the circumstances, it was great. The whole season was a great experience.

On Pasqualoni: "He was as a player what he is as a coach. He worked hard and loved football. He was a student of the game."

On Joe Pat "It's amazing that he still enjoys what he's done for so long. Amazing person. Footbal just energizes him. It wouldn't surprise me to see him coach until his 80 years old."

Coach Sandusky balked at the question on everyone's mind: Who should the Browns take with the No. 1 pick in the draft? Although he didn't get into specific draft strategies, he did say that former Penn St. defenders LaVar Arrington and Courtney Brown are tremendous athletes and should find great success in the NFL.

\section*{Defensive Backs}

With new secondary coach Steve Bush at the helm, the defensive backfield is beginning to take shape.

The return of two-year starter Quentin Harris at safety and senior comerback Will Allen anchor the DBs.

Harris will start as the free safety, and Willie Ford will join him as the strong safety. Ford has plenty of experience in nickel situations.
"Willie Ford is going to do well this year," Allen said. "You can look for a lot of pood thines It's his third year playing so he's lut a rookie He t plaws what's not a rook"

The remaining corner spot is wide open at this point, but Will Hunter may have the inside edge.

The interesting part of the defensive backfick has an offensive flavor.

Jeremy Cooper and Maurice Minter were rnoved from wide receiver to defensive back over ed Feeon Walker from tailback to the secondary.

Walker was a top-notch safety in high school so the transition shouldn't be too tough for him.

Keeon Walker at Hoboken (N.J.) High School was a terrific safety as well as a tailback," Pasqualoni said. "We felt recruiting Keeon, we would always be able to move him to safety, so we want to take a look at that."

Both are showing promise, but are still adjusting to covering routes instead of running them.
lecture notes. study groups. research center
Thanks for helping us make Versity.com the premier online academic resource.

Offensive Line
The offensive line needs rebuilding after graduating six seniors from last fall.

This line is unique because players will not come out of spring practice with a single position. Oifensive line coach George Deleone wants all the players to be able to play at least two positions.

Then, Syracuse can put the five best lineman in front of whoever the quarterback will be.

Back at the line position, though, is Sean OConnor. He is lining up at tackle and guard, but will probably be found lining up next to the center come September.

He should join Joseph Burton and P.J. Alexander on the front line. All three linemen saw considerable playing time over the last two seasons.

On the depth chart,
Alexander is listed as the starting center, but he could line up at left tackle to protect the QB's blindside. If he does, then redhandle the snapping responsibili ties.

The depth chart also has Erik Kaloyanides and LaVigne as the bookends. The battle for the five slots will continue between 10 relatively even matched competitors.
"Were very excited about this group of offensive lineman, Coach P said. There was some quickness and explosiveness there.
"We just want to make sure that when we get to the end (or spring practice, when we get to the irst game, weve got a pool of eight, nime, 10 offensive inemen or whatever it is, so we can maximize that pool."

\section*{Special Teams}

For the past four years, Coach \(P\) relied on Nate Trout to tack on a point after every touchdown. The kicker struggled last year and will graduate in May.

The door is left open for last year's punter, Mike Shafer. The ophomore - who looks as old as most likely inherit Trout's old job Recruited as a kicker from Recruited as a kicker from Riverview (Fla.) High School, Shafer may both punt and placeick. Much depends on the show ngs of Colin Barber, an SU ignee from Catholic (Ky.) High

T
The coaching staff is also taking time to look at walk-on Ben Kozik and junior Peter Ferris, who has been booming kickoffs into the end zone.

Another problem that plagued the special teams last year was long snapping.
Departed tight end Mike Bennet handled those duties, but he not only launched snaps over Shafer's outstretched hands, but also through the uprights.

Junior Mark Holtzman is in position to claim that job. He has been consistent in practice.

Although Malik Campbel and Dee Brown fielded punts though the first six practices, Pasqualoni said that Pat Woodcock would return to his position as kick returner.

\section*{Other stories}

The depth chart lists Troy Nunes as the top QB with Madei Williams in the No. 2 hole. It makes no reference to either R.J. Anderson or Chad Elliott. Although just a sophomore, Clifton Smith is filling the possible first-round pick Keith Bulluck's old middle linebacker slot as the leader of the defensive unit. ... Malik Campbell may be the Orangeman's version of the versatile Pittsburgh Steelers QB Kordell "Slash" Stewart. In addicion to being one of SU's top returning receivers, he also has been fielding punts and holding for placekicks.
Quote of the week
DeLeone on Elliott: "The poor kid has been here six practices. Weve installed 90 percent of our offense, so right now his head is spinning."

Oh My Gawd
by Jaci Price

Never Odd or Even 6

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Area 52

\section*{Insane Carrot}

\section*{by Doug Jaeger}

\section*{Yeah Whatever} by Laura ' n Lisa

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones
ANO NOW... WITh the firST PICK OF TTE NFL DRAFT... CLEVELAND
SELECT INMATE
NUMBER 682 LME OUT OF PENITENTIARY
STATE

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10c each additional word \(5 c\) extra each bold word \(5 c\) extra each CAP word Charses are PREISSUC A are Prepzidty, Deadiline: 2pm 2 businass days prior totu Ads Ads can be mated with check io:
 Faxed with Credii Card to: \(315-443-3689\) A AAAAMAAAAAAA

Notices

\section*{FREE}

\section*{SLICE OF PIZZA}

AND MEDIUM SODA! College Students-Come in and fill our Pizza, 143 Marstraf St Syracsee NY On Ampi sof throwh Aprit izt hiom t1:30 am to \(6: 00\)
*This offer is only valid for college students with student ID.

\section*{WHAT'S UP FOR EASTER?}

The Daily Orange will Not print April 21 or April 24 The Business Office will be CLOSED
We will resume pubilication on April 25. the Deadime being April 20 at 2pm!

HAVE A SAFE & ENJOYABLE EASTER!
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Autos \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
-Student Friendly Auto Shopping- \\
96 Fara Coniour, S6995 \\
95 Crevy Cavier factop. 57795 \\
 \\
93 Dodgu intiepid. S5s95 \\
 \\

\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Bank Finmincing and \\ Warrantes available on mand velticles
\end{tabular} \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

EMPLOYMENT

ASSISTANT DIAECYTOR Soutenty kider programs. chivicts, and cullural events, Muss be 3049E. Genasee St.

Camp Counselors Jewish Community Conter or Gre sier Rochaster- Camp Seneac Lake so seeking mias. Muss be at least a colege lieshmat ato De avalabse Une 21 Aubusis 20. Ldeguard cerficiation a plust Saiay plus room and boara Contact Renere al \(716-4\) have an amazing summeri Prestiguus toed camp in beautidul Mass. seeks caning. molvated college stuxcons of gracs who lowa kids! GENERAL college sudiants 8 gracs who low kids! GENERAL \(&\) SPECIALTY COUNSELOFS
nizded. Join a dedicated. Lun team Competitive salaties +1 trjeentroom+board Call Camp Tatenic 1.-200782.2320.

FREE CASM Maks Up To Stzo fer How Surang The Web wom. cashopeid.nes Pamats Warred tor Summat. Work in Univerin and surtundint areas
Part time year round pociion at storage labitry Must work well with pecple and bo comiortabio with computers loss than a mita from the Umporisit Please reply by lax max or in parson
314 artey

Camp Cournations 100 Ovemigha Carpes in Focono Mriss counselors
Camp Foxicons: Rivim, ropes course, nazuen, posi in the Finger Lakes. These seriior pocitions ame br experiencerd applicanis \(21+\). 5 alaries \($ 1800-2000\) plus room and board irom june 177 it August 20 481.20000263 h informationizpolucation.
 Huty 28 and hity 26 A Algus 20 RN OI LPN. 5300 week pius roen and board. Thess arre the in oositions at Jevish Conntunaty Center's overright culcemel Convact ferree at 716-461-2000 inlormationiappicazion

\section*{Job Opportunities}

Biologists
No experience needed! Earn up to 35 K after 1 yr 40K after 2 years ims a bionedical soturate limm in Siker Spring, MD is othering afree 4 week programming course. We hire 90\% of students who take enis course. Course starts 6/12/00. For details see inswebco
or call ( 888 ) \(680-5057\)

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst \\ No experience needed!!}

IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring. MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and soltware. SAS, and many other tanguages. Knowledge of one computer programming language required.

Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For details see imsweb.com or call toll-fee (888)680-5057.

Kensingion Patice istFloor Large 3Badroons glivingraom Diningfloom Modernkitchen dishwasher mierowave disoosal firepiace Califamrypn 247-785; 04426-1884 Apertrintits dose to campues cean 2-3-5 bedroontur sonse with fixuptace liundry pertiong Undwerity end comsiocin vary dicse to Campus Ethicienows and Two Bedroons Saturg bidg humished laurndy parking \($ 375.00\) to \($ 700.00\)
 University Ave. Ther Bedroom flat Closs Waik plus utitities C . . . Dnucker 445 -1229

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISTT OUR WEBSTEEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4.5.6, BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
L(.)(.)K
Safe & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooths Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laumdry 655-2175 For details
 Avail Aug. Ver
 Legantry Overlocking pank: ling

 Stop clesn 3 bedroom asarments Fireplace. patigig. inundry
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Apartments \\
\hline THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT, TWO FULL BATHS EUCLIO AVE, FREE HEAT great location 476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Genctee Manot Afts 2113 East Genessee spacaus no bearrom is balth abundant closel spact tor nibmation Elane 463.1143

2 Bedroom Aots 202. 204 Csisom. 105 Euchid Terrate Large Rooms hardwoxd Fioors Anal une ands 4it5186
 S.u. of streel parking Laundry. Can 476 -29B2.

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE SPACHOUS, DEEAL FOH ONE ORTWO ERSONS FREE HEATGRE
LOCAION 476-9933
\(1.1 / 2\) Bodrom athic apatument on quel stryel Untwrisited. Ait condibioned wait to wall carpet new appliancas. Suilable ior single or posple.
June \(15: 5350.00\) per menth plus uilities. One year lease. No Pets 243-0754
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline LANCASTER AVENUE \\
\hline is 3 Bedrooms Apartmants Ourstanding Condion Futly Furnished Call Anme Cervin \({ }^{-1}\) \(424-0220 \times 428\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Large claan 3Bedroom filats Westeolt, Broad 5 Large clean 3 Bedroom fiass Wosteoll, Broad atea Hartwoca lioors, porctes, oft-streat parking 1 ar lease secunty \(5660+446-892 \mathrm{~s}\).

University 283 Bedroom Townthouses 8 Flats Inexpensive and wint condition. Washed/Dryer.
Fireglace. Iinished basement, Call 4490109. \(502 C\) ieranson barge dean 2Bedrom hat harownod lloors porth oflstreet garking tyt lease security G40 incurdes hem \(448-8928\)
1.2 .34 s5 Qdrm Apartments. Housest Studios. recently ranovated. Walking eistance. laundry. partinty 474-6791
Furnished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments
\[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { AFARTMENTS CLOSETOCAHPUS } \\
& \text { 2. } 3 \text { BEDROOUS AVALABLE MMCLUVNG }
\end{aligned}
\]
\[
2 \text { A } 38 E D R O \text { OUS AVAGETOGEANELUSNG: }
\]
\[
\begin{aligned}
& -2 \text { BR SUGNER-2ND SEMESTER } \\
& -2 \text { EREUCLD-2ND SEMESTER }
\end{aligned}
\]

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry, Parking, Lease, Heated 440-6200
437-7577
Liget 2 bectroom. 2 tull bath Wakeng astince S.U. of street pationg La lindz\% Culi 476.2982
 Harricon Averues Leases Commence Lass Month and Seainit No Pels Al)
Gradules Prelered Cull \(422-7755\)
3 Becroom Moxam Apzariment on Acheman

-Free Laundry. Secious Studenis pref Pass 2540.028

TOAD HALL
1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher
Laundry Low utilijes. competitive rents. 302 Marshall St.
 479-5005

Euclid and Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished
DW, laundry
Parking, Porch
Beautitul
une & August lease
Ben Tupper
637-0978

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}
 Carpored watk to campus
ocking ber a piace to fre? wwohousingtot.tat.
froe move off campure suble listings
Ackerman Ava. nlce 3 bedroom !lat, furnished.
tove, raling, tmindry, liresticea, garage
Avali जure 15 446-4209
ONE, TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.

\section*{Westotit Street area}

Laundry, Parking, Lease
Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540

\section*{CORNELL}
continued from page 16
Orangemen in 1987 with a 19-6 win at the Carricr Dome. In the playoffs that season, the Big Red smacked SU again, this time 18-15, for its 13 th consecutive The

The drought started the next seaon and continues at least until this afternoon, when the No. 1 Orangemen invade Ithaca

Cornell (6-1), however, appears prepared to slow down Syracuse. The Big Red owns the second best scoring defense in America, allowing just 6.9 goals per game, and its lone loss came by one goal to No. 7 Maryland.

Head coach Dave Pietramala, a former NCAA defenserman of the year at Johns Hopkins, molded two juniors and a freshman to play his unique defensive style.

In a \(12-7\) win at Harvard on Saturday, Cornell packed in its defense and forced several outside shots. The Big Red pounced on rebounds off goalie Justin Cynar's pads and cleared the ball 24 out of 28 times.
"Coach Pietramala has done a great job at Cornell, and they definitely are a solid team," SU midfielder Josh Coffman said. "They have a great defensive scheme. Once again, we'll get to see something new defensively. We'll have to see how we respond to it.

Pietramala's defense should get a boost from the crazy Central New York weather. Local meteorologists predict temperatures in the mid-30s, with high winds and snow flurries for Ithaca this afternoon.

Poor weather conditions would hamper both team's attack, a definite advantage for the blue-collar Big Red. But this past summer, Cornell inserted a state-of-the-art turf surface at Schoellkopf that should reduce the effect of the wind and the wet.
With so many weapons, a poor effort from SU's attack appears unlikely no matter the weather Senior All-American Ryan Powell leads the country in scoring with 24 goals and 22 assists.

No. 3 Loyola shut down the SU attack for three quarters last Friday, but the Orangeman midfield jump-started the squad with eight goals.

The top line of seniors Matt Caione and Tim Byrnes and sophomore Josh Coffman collected 22 goals and 26 assists in Syracuse's season-opening, sevengame winning streak.
"You're going to try to shut down (attackers Liam) Banks, (Mike) Springer and Powell," Caione said. "If that's not hard enough to do, the midfield's there. The key to a successful team is to have everybody involved and everyone scoring.

At the other end of the pitch, SU's defense should receive a test from Corneli's slow-down attack.

The Big Red - who use a hard hat as their team symbol - enjoy lulling teams to sleep with eternal possessions and then capitalizing in one-on-one situations.

Senior Sean Steinwald leads Cornell with 23 goals and nine assists. Juniors Andrew Schardt and freshman Michael Egan join the offense's leader up front.

The Orangemen (7-0) yield fewer than eight goals per game and have kept their last four opponents out of double digits. Junior Rob Mulligan ranked fourth in the country in goals against average and save percentage heading

\section*{classifieds]} Nancy Peek, Advertising Design Director 443-9793

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
2.5 Bedroom Apartments Available; Fireplace ivingston Parking Unfurishec Call 637 -950

2 Bedroom turnished aparment with all utilities included! \($ 240.00\) per person. One mile from included! \($ 240.00\) per person. One mile from campus.
446.9559
\begin{tabular}{c}
Houses \\
\hline \hline UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY \\
422-0709
\end{tabular}
pLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME.} FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. TURO TIREPLACES, 476 -5933

Univ 5 BORM Home Spacious Of S: Parking 3
Porches \($ 900+\) Utils \(+5 e c\) Dep 830 Westcoti St

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME \\ FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSETWO FIREPLACES, FURNISHED, GREAT PORCHES} 476-9933

Large \(3 / 4\) bedroons heusse on Euclid, Maryland. Firpplace off-streel parking, washer-dryer campes, reasonable rale

\section*{Summer Rentals}

\section*{Summer Bargain! S200/mo per person with all utiltics included. \(2.3+4\) bedroom apartments} utilites incluced. \(2.3+4\) bedtoom apartments available. Rent whole apartment or ty the room.
One block from Campus. 446.9599

SUBLET
Summer
Summer Sublets Avilabie A variety ol sizes and locations. University Alea ApIs 479.5005 Ackerman available June 1 - August15. Huge furnished \(1,2,3\).4 bectoom lla!. Great porch parking 446-3420
PERSONALS
Sports Lines

Are you in charge of ordering T-Shirts or Party Favers lor your organization Visit our website of ideas.

\section*{MISC.}

A- NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As always. please use caution when replyng of being replied from any adventsement in each issue, tor the Daity Orange does not toke te sponsibility bor any misconduct resulting in contact between yoursetf and adveriser.Cornell Big Red Syracuse plays Cornell at 4:30 p.m today at Schoellkopf Field

Conference
This Season
Head Coach
Key Players
Desko (2nd year. 19-5)
A Ryan Powell ( 24 g .22 a ), M Josh Coffman ( \(8 \mathrm{~g}, 15 \mathrm{a}\) ), G Rob Mulligen ( 652 save pct., \(7.3 \pm\) GAA)

More than halfway to a pertect reg lar season, the Orangemen open four-game road swing in ithaca. ast year at the Dome, SU jurmped Cornell charge for a 15-10 victory. Defense should prove key for Syracuse, as Steinwald possesses he ability to beat a team by himself. Coming off the emotional comeback against Loyola, SU needs to keep its guard and not underestimate the scrappy Big Red.
into Friday night's \(16-9\) victory against Loyola.

The key to success for both clubs lies at the face-off "X." With Chris Cercy tak sett dominating the wings, SU wins 63 percent of the face-offs this season and more possessions per game than their opponents.

Red sophomore Addison Sollo percent of his face-offs, includin ive 15-for-19 performance March 25 at No. 15 Yale.
lvy League
6-1, tied for first in the lvy and No. 9 in the nation

Dave Pietramala (3rd year, 19-14)
A Sean Steinwald ( \(23 \mathrm{~g}, 9\) a), A Andrew Schardt ( 14 g .6 a). G Justin Cynar (. 616 save pct., 6.87 GAA)

Ater two lackluster seasons at Cornell, Pietramala has the Big Red dreaming of games in mid-May. But he lacks the win over a major nation al power, and this afternoon provide his best opportunity. His young but calented defense can squash SU's uns toward the net, but a few early goals could bury the bunch. While Cornell will struggle to score against SU's underappreciated backfield. it could dictate tempo if Addison Sollog can outduel Chris Cercy in the circle.

Pietramala praised Sollos through out the season, calling him a major key to Cornell's winning ways.

But the third-year coach knows it will take more than a sophomore standut in the center circle to beat big torother Syracuse.
"We feel good about our team," senior co-captain Chris Packard told re porters earlier this season. "We feel we are capable of beating anybody if we play our game."

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM

\section*{Write for the D.O...}

\section*{and discover the horrible truth that belles our staff members}

In public, wearing our cleverly crafted human masks, we appear somewhat normal.

Yet when the masks come off, we are reveafed for the race of mutant weasles that we truly are.

\title{
14[classifieds]
}

\section*{NOTICE}

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
315-443-9793
\($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words 10 c each additional word 54 extra each bold word 54 extra each CAP word Charges are PER ISSUE & afe Pro-paid by: Deadine 2prm 2 business days prior to fun ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHONE. Ads can be malied with check to:
 AAAMAAAABAAAA

Notices
Summerts Coning Loos that winter bitige Doxto \(1-888-789-2367\)

\section*{FREE}

SLICE OF PIZZA AND MEDIUM SODA! Colege students-Come in and fif out an apolication tor Chitank Platinum Solect Card and receive a FREE Slice of Pizan. 143 Marshali SL. Syrause. NY. On Aofil

*This offer is only valid for college students with student ID.

\section*{WHAT'S UP FOR EASTER?}

The Daily Orange will Not print April 21 or April 24
The Business Office will be CLOSED! April 21
We will resume publication on April 25, the Deadline being April 20 at 2pm!
HAVE A SAFE & ENJOYABLE EASTER!
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Autos \\
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
-Student Friendly Auto Shopping- \\
96 Ford Contour, 56995 \\
\({ }^{5} 5 \mathrm{Ch}\) Chy Covalier Ract \\
\({ }_{99} 9\) Chery Lumina 56395 \\
\(94 \mathrm{Arm} 4 \times \mathrm{Prnt} .59995\) \\
93 Pomiteonnemine Superenargod, ss999 \\
 \\
\({ }^{59}\) Fors fauris Lx 52499
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline Sank Fnancing end Warrandes avarable on most veticces \\
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

ASSISTANT DIAECTOR Sourthasst Asian
Center Commanity center ofiering ctassets. programs, savicos, and cultural events., Must be college degtee: good communication skils: inus
 Send cover lener 3nd resume wo: Personnel

Camp Counsofors: Jiwish Community Canter of Greater Rochesser- Camp Seneca Lake is seeking mate and femaia counselors who love working with kids. Mist be at least a college trestman and be available June 21 -Augus! 20 Lileguard certification a plus! Salary plus room and boand centification a plus' Salary plus room and boond Contiat मanee at \(716-461-2000 \times 253\) ior

HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMER! Prestigores coed camp in beautiul Mass. seeks caring. motrated college studens a grads who Rove kids! GENERAL s SPECIALTY COUASELOAS needed. Join a sedicalod, fun team, Compthive salariestraveltroom+boart. Call Camp Tatonic? 1-800-762.2820.
FREE CASH Make Up To Strog Per Hour Suffing The Web www ciashpreic.net

Painters Wanted for Summes, Work in University and sympunding argas. Stanl Mirt Apit of Eisi May Call Gary 446 -959a

Part lime year round position at storage lacity
Must work well winh peota and to combrtatio min Must wofk well with peopte and be comfortation with computars. Less than a mide from the University Pieasa repky by kax mail or in person. lax-479-4156
314 Anssoy Dr. Syracuse. NY 13210 .

Camp Coumatore Top Overnight Camps in Pcono Mmets Over 40 activities - seoking
 www pinelonestcannucorn
Camp Positions: Hiking, ropes coxuse, nature poot and wairski speciatis sough for overnight exmip in the Finger Lakes. These serior positions are let maperienced applicants 21+. Salaries \(51800-2800\) plus rexh and boand from kere 177 to kigyst 20 Coniza Aenoe at 716-461-2006k253 iox inhormaionvapplication.
Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed lor dune 21July 26 and July 26 . August 20 . RN \(\propto \times\) YN. SNOW week plus roon and board. These aro live in posidons at Jewish Comannity Ceniers ovemign weicome: Cortact finnes at 716-461-2000×263 to intormation/application.

\section*{Job Opportunities}

\section*{Biologists \\ No experience needed!} arn up to 35 K after 1 yr 40K after 2 years Siver Spring. MD is othoring a free 4 of students whio take this course. Course starts \(6 / 1200\). For cetalis see insweb.con
or call \((889) 680-5057\)

\section*{Copropyelogers}

RENTING FOR SCHOOL YEAR 2000-2001 Rooms, Etf/APTs Homes & Town Houses Everything you want and more for your b MOST INCLUDING Secunty Systern with \(1^{10}\) Dead Bolt Lockas - Smoke, Heat 8 Sprinkder System - Prices Ranging fom \($ 225-5375\) honth KItethens inculuce: Gourmatt Selt-deaning ovens, Garbage Disposals. Mionowavas, Distwashers - Wall to hall Carpets 8 Padding (like home) - Lamndry Facilitises on Premisas - Oft-street Parking
- Sncw E Lawn Maintenance
- Super instiated (means tesu utultes)
- Sate Areas within Mallinog Distanca to Ciamp Such as * Comstock, Ostrom, Himison, Madison, Westroth, Ctarencion, Ackerman, Livergsition.
Lancaster

CALL 478-6504

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst \\ No experience needed!!}

IMS a biomedical sotware firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing Systems and software. SAS, C, C+t, JAVA, ACCESS, SYBASE and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language Paid OT required.
Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For cetaits see imsweb.com or cal toll-free (888)680-5057.

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Help Wanted}

WOAK FROM HOME Up to S25.00hr PIT \($ 75.00 \mathrm{Mr}\) FIT CALL FOH FREE BCOKIET 800-297.5670
\($ 1500\) weekty potantial maiinng our orculars No Expenience
\(202-452.7679\)

\section*{FORRENT}

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers
4-5-6 Bedroom Homes/ Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's
All Locations / Prices
478-6504
KensingtonPlace 1 stfloor large 38edroom Sinmyrom Dining foom Modernkithen nartwoodfloors porthes nearbushine Ouie iNaighborohood Evailable Lune 1st 2000-2001 Calf7arn9pm 247-78S1 or426-1884 Apartmente close to campus clean \(2 \cdot 3.5\). samiturniahed remeonable price 4ar-s761. parking
 Elicicencoss and Two Bodrocms Socurt botg. turnished laundry parking 5375.00 10 \($ 700.00\)

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISTT OUA WEBSTE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTON OF 3 BEDROOM

APARTMENTS AND 4.5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILLCOM
L(.)(.)K
Sate & Secure
Furnished 3 Bedrooms
Livingroom, Diningroom
Porches, Laundry
655-2175 For details
 Avail aug. Very niew. walk to Su. FM Reath
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LUXURIOUS: 2story aptioh, Gourmet kitidin, Custom Iounge iry area. Slyblght 15it ceiling. ELEGANTLY OVERLOOKNGG PAFK: Liv/GI, 1-2-3 bdrms, of eisturty, jacuzzitbath, parchews. \\
 \\
NOPETS! Leases. Fine Oa-zret.com Catll for appt 46s-0780
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Univerniry Ave, five bedroom House one block Stop clatn 3 bedroom aptriments Fireplace, parking, aundry, semi-furnilhed, walk to Su, pow price \(406-40\),
Apartments
\begin{tabular}{c}
THREE BEDROOR \\
APARTMENT, \\
TWOFULI RATHS, \\
EUCLIDAVE FREE HEAT \\
GREAFLOCAHON \\
476-9933 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Genesee Manor Apts 2113 East Genesee spacious two bedroom 1.5 baths abundant dosot space for information Elaine 463 F 1143
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

2 Bedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostom, 105 Eucild Tertace Large Roors Hartwood Fioors Aval June orAug 46 G-5 Bs or Aug 446-5185
Large 3 betroom. 2 full bati. Wixing distance S.U. of streef parking. Launery. Cal 476-2982.

PRNATE FURNSHED STUDHO APTS.

\section*{1011 EAdarrs
509 Univertity}

Cerpoted, Air Conditioned. Furnished, Secure, Laundry, Pariking, Maintenance.
Univertity Arsa Apts
www.universityarea.com
ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE SPACIOUS, IDEAL FOR ONE OR TWO

RONS.FREE HEAT GR
LOCATION 476-9933
3,3R Bedrom athc aparimem on quiti sheat Unlurrishod. Aur conditosned wail \(\frac{10}{}\) wail carpet new June \(1 s 15350.00\) por month plus utilibes. One year leaso. No Pets 243-0754

LANCASTER AVENUE
14. 3 Bedroom Apartmants

Outsanding Condotion Cail Anne Cervini
\(424-0220 \times 428\)
lange clean 3Bedroom lats Westcott, Broad SL areat Harchood thoors, parches, off-street parking Great University Area Beautiful Greant University Area Beautitul Comern 182 gdrm Apta for \(2000-2000\)

Uriversity 283 Bedrum Tomentiouses 8 Flats inempensmy whd wint conditon, WasteenPryo 502Clerencom large clean 2Bedriom flat hartrrood tioors porch off-street parking lyt lease security
540 indudes heas \(446-8928\) 640 includes heat 446-8928
\(1,2,3,485\) Bdrm foatments, Howses + Sudios. Clean, Spaciovs, Supetion Condition, some recenty renovated. Walking distance. laundry.
parking 474 - 67 gl . parking 474-6/91
Furnished 2 -5Bedrogn Housest Aparments
Uivigston, Surner, Acherman, Eucfo \(459-6665\)

Studio, One and Two Bedroom Apts. close to Campus. Laundry,

Parking, Lease, Heated
440-6200
437-7577

Latge 2 bsdrom. 2 full bath, Waiking distanct Latge 2 bedrom. 2 wal bain, waking dist Onu sid Twa Botroom Fumished Apartinenis Comer of Walinut and 200 Last Nonth and Secunty No Pots Alice Graduates Prelered Can 422.7755

3 Berroom Modem Apartinent on Ackermas Averue. 5220.00 per person plus uuilities. Avalable Junt 1 si zoop. Some of Street Parking Prets 254 Laundry Pets.

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.

Wall to wall carpet
Air conditioned. Dishwasher.
Laundry. Low utilies.
Competitive rents.
302 Marshall St.
(accross from Haven). 479-5005

Euclid and
Ackerman Ave
2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry arking, Porch Beautiful
June & August lease
Ben Tupper 637-0978

\section*{O.P.R. \\ Developers 1,2,3-4 \\ Bedroom Apts \\ dishwashers, microwaves, disposal, \\ security systems \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

Excillemt Apertiment sbr zereth wit furished.

Looking for a place to tive? wwwhousing10t.net. four move of campurate sublet lis Fee nocmuntale sublet listings
Ackermen Are. nico zhedroom Hat, Hurnished.

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westeott Street area
Laundry Parking, Lease
Avail 45 une, Jus + Aug
445-0540 OPR Developera AT YOUR SERVICE

\section*{CORNELL}

\section*{continued from page 16}

Orangemen in 1987 with a 19-6 win at the Carrier Dome. In the playoffs that season, the Big Red smacked SU again, this time 18-15, for its 13th consecutive victory.
The drought started the next season and continues at least until this afternoon, when the No. 1 Orangemen invade Ithaca.

Cornell ( \(6-1\) ), however, appears prepared to slow down Syracuse. The Big Red owns the second best scoring defense in America, allowing just 6.9 goals per game, and its lone loss came by one goal to No. 7 Maryland

Head coach Dave Pietramala, a former NCAA defenseman of the year at Johns Hopkins, molded two juniors and a freshman to play his unique defensive style.

In a \(12-7\) win at Harvard on Saturday, Cornell packed in its defense and forced several outside s off ghe Big Red pounced on ebin of 28 times.
"Coach Pietramala has done a great job at Cornell, and they definitely are a solid team," SU midfielder Josh Coff man said. They have a great defensive scheme. Once again, we get to see something new defensively:

Pietramala's defense should get a boost from the crazy Central New York weather. Local meteorologists predict temperatures in the mid-30s, with high winds and snow flurries for Ithaca this afternoon.

Poor weather conditions would hamper both team's attack, a definite advantage for the blue-collar Big Red. But this past summer, Cornell inserted a state-of-the-art turf surface at Schoellkopf that should reduce the effect of the ind and the wet.

With so many weapons, a poor ef fort from SU's attack appears unlikely no matter the weather. Senior All-American Ryan Powell ieads the country in scoring with 24 goals and 22 assists.

No. 3 Loyola shut down the SU at tack for three quarters last Friday, but the Orangeman midfield jump-started the squad with eight goals.

The top line of seniors Matt Caione and Tim Byrnes and sophomore Josh Coffman collected 22 goals and 26 assists in Syracuse's season-opening, sevengame winning streak.
"You're going to try to shut down (attackers Liam) Banks, (Mike) Springer and Powell," Caione said. "If that's not The kno to a doce, the midielis there everybody involved and everyone scoring."

At the other end of the pitch, SU's defense should receive a test from Cornell's slow-down attack

The Big Red - who use a hard hat as their team symbol - enjoy Iulling teams to sleep with eternal possessions and then capitalizing in one-on-one situations.

Senior Sean Steinwald leads Cornell with 23 goals and nine assists. Juniors Andrew Schardt and freshman Michael Egan join the offense's leader up front.

The Orangemen ( \(7-0\) ) yield fewer than eight goals per game and have kept their last four opponents out of double digits. Junior Rob Mulligan ranked fourth in the country in goals against average and save percentage heading

\section*{[classifieds]}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELEGTIONOF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHHLLCOM
2.5 Bedroom Apartmenis Available; Fireplace: Wood Floors; Ouiet Neighbortood-Ostrom
Livingston Parking Untumbished Call \(637-9505\)

2 Bedroom fumished apartment with att utilities included! \(\mathbf{~ c a m p u s . ~ L a u n d r y . ~ P a r k i n g . ~ M a y + ~ A u g u s i ~ l e a s e s ~}\) campus.
446.9598

Houses

\section*{UNIVERSITY} HILL REALTY 422-0709

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7
www.universityill.com

> RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. TWO FIMEPLACESE FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES, 476-9933

Univ 5 BCRM Home Spacious Off St Parking Porches \($ 900+\) Uisls +5 sec Dep 830 Westect Avail 1Jun 488.5066

RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE TWO FIREPLACES,
FURNISHED, GREAT PORGHES 476-9933

Large \(3 / 4\) bedrooms house on Euctic. Maryland Fireplace olf-streat parking, washer-dryer, walk to Cail \(449-4954,637-5195\)

\section*{Summer Rentals}

\section*{Summer Bargain! $200/mo per person with all} utilities included. \(2,3+4\) bedroom apartments avaitable. Rent whole apartment or by the room
One bloox trom Campus. \(446-959 a\) SUBLET
Summer
Summet Sublets Available. A varety o! sizes and locations. University Asea Apis 479.5005 Ackerman availabie Junel- Augus! 15 . Huge parking 446.3420

PERSONALS
Sparts Lines

Are you in charge of orstering FShirts or Party Favors lor your organization 7 Vissit our websile Favors lor your organization? Visit our website www.prographicssportswoarcoom for thousands ol ideas.

\section*{MISC.}

NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE: As ailways. please use caution when replying of being repliced trom ary advetisement in each issue. lor the Daly Orange does not take responsibility tor any misconduct resulting in contact between yoursell and advertiser

\section*{Write for the D.O...}
and discover the horrible truth that belies our staff members

In public, wearing our cleverly crafted human masks, we' appear somewhat normal.

Yet when the masks come off, we are revealed for the race of mutant weasles that we truly are.

\section*{NOTES}

Women's Lacrosse No. 15 Syracuse 8 No. 13 George Mason 7

Orangewomen (6-3)
Player
Brady
Brady
Hable
Soults
Stock
Baer
Brown
Hanover

\section*{Patriots (6-5)}

Player
O'Garrow
Keegan
Paoll
Thornberg
MeFadden
\[
000 m \mathrm{NHo}
\]

IWLCA Top 20 (women's lacrosse) 1. Maryland (8)
2. Princeton
3. James Madison
4. Duke
5. Georgetown
6. North Carolina
7. Virginia
8. Delaware
9. Dartmouth
10. Boston University
11. Loyola
12. Vanderbil
13. George Mason
14. Yale
15. Syracuse
16. Penn St.
17. Cornelf
18. Temple
19. William & Mary
20. Johns Hopkins

\section*{WNBA calls for Eento}

Syracuse assistant women's basketball coach Michelle Bento was invited to the WNBA's Pre-Draft camp this weekend in Chicago.

She will join 74 other veterans, international players and college seniors at the camp. The 16 WINBA teams will select a total of 54 players at the April 25 craft. Bento has spent two years at SU. working with the Orangewomen's perimeter players. A 1992 graduate of Fresno State, Bento helped take the Bulldogs to the NIT in 1990.

In Bento's two years at Syracuse, the Orangewomen are 20-35.

More prizes for Powell Ryan Powell earned his second inside Lacrosse Player of the Week award after a four-goal, fourassist performance led Syracuse to a \(16-9\) comeback victory aganst Loyola on Friday.

Powell nopped past Hartiord's Tracey Kelusky into the lead for points per game in Division I lacrosse with 6.57 per contest.

The senior leads the Orangemen in goals (24) and assists (22). Powell is also eighth in all-time points for the Orangemen with 237.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Which mulfeted Italian soccer hero missed a penalty kick that lost the 1994 World Cup?
yesterday"s trivia:
Q. When was the tast time the SU men's lacrosse team began the season 7-0?
A. The undefeated 1990 team tacked on six wins to its 7-O stert.
[sports] Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange April 11, 200016 Syracuse battles Big Red

Stuart Smith helps a Syracuse midfleld that gones thinee lines deep. Ho has contributed three epoals this season and should see somo playing time today as SL travels to lthaca to face No. 9 Comell at \(4: 30\) p.m.

\section*{BY DAVE CURTIS} Sports Editor

Anyone with an older, stronger brother can relate to the Cornell lacrosse program.

Each spring, any Big Red success gets lost in ano Four.

Even run to the Final Foors to the top of the Ivy league standings and contends for an NCAA Tournament berth, its accomplishments pale next to those of its neighbor 55 miles to the north.

But once each year, the feud between the major members of Central New York's lacrosse brethren boils over, as SU and Cornell tussle in a battle over bragging rights.

The Orangemen won the last 12 backyard brawls but face the No. 9 Big Red, Cornel's best squad in half a decade, at 4:30 p.m. today at Schoellkopf Field in Ithaca.
"They're gunning for you," goalie Rob Mulligan said. "It would be great for their program if they could knock off someone in the upper echelon. They can jump from ninth to No. 3 or 4 if they knock us off."

Cornell last upended the
See CORNELL page 15

\section*{Ex-Penn St. coach visits SU workouts}

Head football coach Paul Pasqualoni welpomed high school ooaches from all over New York state to visit the Syracuse practioes over the weekend.

The crowd of 725 coaches appeared to outnumber Carrier Dome's attendance durEric ing the thind quarter o Nathan spring football Beyond the ubiquinotebook tous Beyond the ubiquiFriday marked the ferm's first day in cean for pads. As has been tradition brish broke out durint fulils.
This spring's edition of fisticuffs goes to defensive tackle Rickie Simpkins and offensive linerman Shane LaVigne.

The two linemen were participating in a simple beat-your-man-to-the-blocking-durnmy-quarterback drill, where Simpkins ended on the ground. He pounced to his feet and charged the sophomore guard.

The other linemen quickly jumped in to stop the raging bulls, and drills continued without merdent.

Ricicie is a very big part of our defense, as he has been for four years" defensive coordinator Chris Rippon said. "Fe brings an intensity to the defense and is a very gmart player."

\section*{Coach pgets a visit}

Recently retired Penn State defensive coordinator Jerry Sandusky made an appearance at Coyne Field on Friday afternoon.

During his time away from foothall, the egendary conch plans to run football camps for young kids. He's also writing books far kids, but said that wherever retirement from Joe Patermo's program takes him, he will work with children.

Sandusky was at SU to speak to the high school cosaches but found time to make some

SU defensthe back Div. Fila Photo by TOM NYCZ SU defonshe back wille Fond ahned in niciv, if and dime pacicages in 1999 . Esity depth charts show Ford as the potential starting tromg safiety-comments to reporters.
On the old SU-PSU battles: "Tt's sad that the rivalry had to end. It was a great tradition. Since then, timess have changed with Penn St, joining the Bif Ten and Syracuse the Big East. They're moving in different direetions.

\section*{Orangewomen blow past Hall \\ BY'JEFF PASSAN}

\section*{Asst. Sports Editor}

A buzz word floats off the lipe of the Syracuse tennis players, one that sigmities a season of sur prising success and beaming optimism.

Malibu, they say. Malibu.
"That's the word," head coach Mac Gifford said. "That's the war temis \({ }^{c}\) Malibu, the California city go which the NCAA Tournament takes place this year.

After Sunday's 8-1 demolition of Seton Hall, the trip becomes more and more possible.
SU systematically picked apart the Pirates,
See TENNIS page 11

\section*{Hicks dominates in North Carolina}

\section*{EY JOSH LUKIN}

Staff Writer
Once again, Cheree Hicks proved that on the track she is in a field of her own.

At last weekend's Duke Invitational, the Syracuse star finished first in the shot put to claim her second title in as many meets this spring. Her dis tance of \(53^{\prime} 2.75^{\prime \prime}\) was almost five feet further than her closest competitor's, as she out-shot somate of the top throwers in the country.

"I still did not feel that I per

The Daily Orange SU's student newspaper
\(\qquad\)

\title{
Big RedMACHINE
}

Cornell drops No. 1 Orangemen 13-12 in Ithaca.
See Sports.
Fit to Print
Student journalists grapple with credibility issues.
\begin{tabular}{ll} briefs ............ 2 & classifieds.. 18 \\
comics ....... 15 & editorial ....... 9
\end{tabular}

See Lifestyle.

\author{
volume xxix Number 121 Syracuse. New Yonk 20000
}

\section*{Election 2000}

\title{
Nader urges civility
}

Green Party presidential candidate and consumer advocate Groen Party presidential candidate and consumer a avocate
Ralph Nader speaks Tues day aftemoon in Hendricks Chapel.

Consumer advocate criticizes corporate, party politics

\section*{BY CAROLINE CHEN}

Staff Writer
Games at the Carrier Dome and outlawed Cola-Cola products are part of student life at Syracuse University.

But these are signs of corporate influence infiltrating universities, consumer advocate and Green Party presidential candidate Ralph Nader said.

Nader lashed out at corporate power and encouraged citizen activism during his speech to more than 600 people Tuesday afternoon in Hendricks Chapel.

Universities should be independent centers of learning, but instead have become subsidiaries of corporations. Nader said.
"All the barriers betwe are breaking down," he said
Universities are also failing to teach students citizen skills, ways to gain political leverage using public policy, Nader said. They are wary of doing this because it would lead inquisitive students to challenge authority and the status quo, he said.

Nader said he never studied "corporate crime" in school not even during law school at Harvard University - and only remembered learning about the three branches of government. The rest of it was so dull it was like eating a ton of saw dust without butter," he added.

Students expect to go to college to receive job training but do not have the opportunity to develop citizen skills, Nader said.

Citizen skills are necessary to make democracy work and unteract the booming corporate commercial culture, he said. The New York State Public Interest Research Group teaches citizen skills, like how to file a Freedom of Information Act, Nader said.

See NADER page 4

\section*{- Greek Affairs}

A O Pi chapter closes after hazing charges
BY KATE STEVENSON
Asst. News Editor
Alpha Omicron \(P\) i sorority closed its campus doors last week after its national office found evidence of hazing within the house.

The national decision took effect Friday, said Chuck Merrihew, associate vice president for Syracuse University Student Affairs.

The organization is no longer a recognized sorority on campus, Merrihew said, and if member have any future violations, those invoived will b punished as individuals instead of as a chapter.

They also can't convey the impression that they are still a group." Merrihew added. "Theyre not supposed to wear letters or sign up for intra mural basketball."

The national's decision comes in response to a Feb. 27 report of hazing and alcohol violations.

Six new members, or pledges, of A O Pi were found intoxicated at Flint Residence Hall on that date. Two of the girls were intoxicated to the point tal, 736 Irving Ave. They spent the night there tal, 736 Irving Av

Sorority representatives could not be reached for comment and the SU Office of Greek Life refused to comment.

National representatives conducted a "mermber
See AOPI page 7
ospecial Report
Orangemen continue fight to stay on campus

Staff Writer
The commencement of the 2000 2001 winter sports season will mark the end of a storied piece of Syracuse University sports history.

The wrestling team will be on the mat for its 79th and final year when the season begins early next November.

On Jan. 21, 1997, Crouthamel dropped Orance men wrestling and gymnastics citing budgetary constraints. He added that the decision was made about a year prior to the announcement.

But former wrestling coach Ed

Carlin and other sources close to the team said the announcement came a few months after Crouthamel and SU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw said that no men's sports would be dropped in the wake of Title droppe D.

Crouthamel and Shaw denied these allegations.

Title IX is a piece of federal legislation, passed in 1972, mandating that university funding for men's and women's sports must reflect e gender ratio of a school's student body.
ed the wresting pragram a four-yea
See WRESTLING page 3

Due to 7ito IX regulations and budgetary constraints, SU Due to 7to IX regulations and budgetary cons wresting will begn its final year in November.

\section*{U.S. official encourages corporate responsibility policy}

College students - including those at Syracuse University - protesting alleged sweatshop conditions in factories where university clothing is made deserve high praise, said Bennett Freeman, a U.S. deputy assistant secretary of ate.

Freeman, deputy assistant secretary of statefor democracy, human rights and labor, said students as well as activist non-governmental organizations throughout the world are helping to hold \section*{corporat} havior.

Demonstrations, such as the upcoming protests against the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank in Washington, D.C., are becoming critical to raising public consciousness about issues surrounding corporations as they expand around the globe, he added.

Globalization is on all our minds," he said. "Globalization and the backlash against it that we're going to see acted out in the streets over the next four or five days, are here to stay, Ive days, are here to stay."

About 60 people attended Freeman's lecture on globalization and corporate responsibility Tuesday afternoon in Eggers Hall. gers Hall.

Non-governmental organizations, including both activist groups and corporations, must work together with government officials to ensure that globalization is a process filed with benerits and not problems such as human rights Thens, Freeman said.
The road to those benefits, however, is long and all the parties involved will probably make many mistakes along the \section*{Banks denies allegations of narcotic use}

\section*{Staff Reports}

Former Syracuse University football player Vernon Banks denied allegations Tuesday that he used a narcotic drug last week when he became violent at Harry's Bar, 700 S . Crouse Ave.
"I did not take a narcotic," Banks said from his Rochester home. "Ive had emozional outbursts in the past and doctors bursts in the past and doctors

Banks have thought them to be the result of seizures or nerseizures or ner: vous break. vous break downs."
Banks said Banks said doctors have never formally never formally diagnosed him diagnosed him
as having a medical condition that would cause seizures.
He said he arrived at Harry's at around 6 p.m. Friday with a group of former \(S U\) football players, including ex-quarterback Donovan McNabb.

MeNabb is now a quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Around 9 p.m., Banks, a former SU linebacker, began drink-

See BANKS page 12

\title{
[briefs] \\ Compiled from Los Angeles Imes, Washington Post news service
}

\section*{tidbits}

Anti-semitic violence down, report shows Anti-Semitic violence. while at its lowest teve nationally since 1989, increased last year in Califomia and New York according to an ann report by the AntiDefamation League. While overall num bers were down in 1999 ADL Nationa! Director Abraham Foxman said Tuescay that those fig ures were mitigated by several horific incidents: the firebombing of three Sacramento, Calif., synagogues, a shooting spree at a Jewish community center in suburban Los Angeles and the Chicago stooting of Orthodox Jews walking vices.
According to the report, there were 1,547 reports of anti-Semitic and hatred in 1999 down from 1,611 acts a year eartier, a 4 percent decline.
U.S. Customs neports on effective policies The U.S. Customs ressional stung by a cor ing African-american women returning from overseas trips were disproportionately singled out for strip searches at airports. said yesterday that policy changes purt in place last year are tak ing hold.
Customs
Commissioner Raymond W. Kelly released new statistical data showing improved their targeting of intemational travelers suspected of smugtying cocaine and heroin in their clothes and in thei bodies.

Customs officials said the number of intrut sive searches has sharply declined but that drug seizure rates are more or less similar among African Americans, Hispanics and whites and whites.
Researchers support vitarnins from food Many people take idant vitamins \(C\) and \(E\) seek ling to improve their health, but governmen researchers say there isn't enough proot to support using such large amounts, and that they may even be hamfiul. Too few studies have tested the effects of dietary antioxidants in people, and some of the testing that has been done has produced unclear results, Institute of Medicine researchers Maid in a report release Monday.

\title{
Maryland signs new gun law \\ will lead America in ending the
}

ANNAPOLIS, Md. - With President Bill Clinton at his side, Gov. Parris N. Glendening today aigned a law making Maryland the first state in the nation to require that new handguns be sold with built-in handguns be sold with built-in locks.
it was the first time the president has attended a bill signing in a state capital and he used the occasion to urge Congress to pass pending federal gun control legislation. Maryland's lead," Clinton said during the hour-Iong ceremony in Annapolis. "Every single day Congress waits, we lose 12 children."

The Maryland law mandates that, beginning in 2003, all new handguns be sold with built-in locks. Until then, it requires new handguns be also includes new mandatory senincludes new mandatory senballistic "finger-printing" of shell casings from new guns and requires those wishing to purchase a handgun to undergo two hours of anfety training.
"Starting today, Maryland
ragedy of handgun violence," aid Glendening (D). He said Maryland s experience showed that could be defeated and pretion could be defeated and prethis will take place in state houses throughout the country."

The federal legislation would require guns be sold with child-proof locks, ban the importation of large capacity ammunition magazines and close the loophole that now allows unregulated sale of handguns at gun shows.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Protest fears cancel forum}
(U-WIRE) WASHINGTON, D.C.- American University administrators canceled Wednesday night's planned media forum on the World dia forum on the World Bank/International Monetary Fund out of concerns for safety, Fund out of concerns for safety, cost and bias after IMF representation on the panel withdrew.

The panel was expected to draw a crowd of at least 3,000 to Bender Arena only days before the April 16-17 meetings of the World Bank/IMF expected to draw up to 20,000 protestors to the Washington, D.C. area. David Taylor, chief of stain jamin Ladiner, said several factors entered into the decision to cancel the event.

We had information from both on and off campus that a staging ground for some kind a staging ground for some

The Metropolitan Police Department, already concerned with being stretched during the protests to come, was un able to provide the assistance usually necessary for a large scale event like the panel, Tay lor said.

\section*{China, U.S. to resume talks}

BEIJING - China said today it was ready to resume talks with the United States on nu clear nonproliferation, ending a reeze imposed after the U.S planes bombed the Chinese

The announcement that talks can resume came despite Beijing's expression of strong dissatisfaction with CLA disciplinary actions against seven employees involved in targeting the embassy and the U.S. conclusion that the attack was an accident caused by outdated data and staff rror. China suspended talks over nonproliferation and human

\section*{National Zoo to get new pandas \\ WASHINGTON, D.C. -} Wednesday morning announced Wednesday morning announced details of their agreement with the Chinese government for a 10 -year loan of a male and female giant panda, a deal that will cost \($ 10\) million and was nailed down with the help of several influential political figures.

Smithsonian Secretary
awrence M. Small told a news Lawrence M. Small told a news conference that zoo and Chinese officials will hold their next meeting this summer to negotiate inal arrangements for getting the pandas. He would not but others have gaid it could be, a year or more before US and a year or more before U.S. and and the zoo panda quarters is renovated.

The pandas will be of "prereproductive age, meaning unwould belong to China, and the zoo would be required to pay an additional fee - yet to be determined - to exhibit them.

Zoo administrators signed a letter of intent with Chinese officials last Friday after nine months of serious negotiations.

\section*{world news}
rights after the May 7 bombing which killed three Chinese citizons, injured more than 20 others and sharply undermined SinoU.S. relations. The willingness to restart arms control talks is seen as a sign that Beijing wants to restore bilateral relations despite its continuing demand for further investigation and explantion of the bombing.

\section*{Holocaust denier loses libel case}

LONDON \(\longrightarrow\) Britain's High Court called Hitler biographer David Irving "anti-Semitic and racist" in a scathing ruling Tuesday that rejected the libel charges he had brought over claims he is a Holocaust de-

\section*{School security given priority}

WASHINGTON, D.C. The Montgomery County School Board voted this morning to take a step that may result in putting armed police officers in each of the 23 high schools and more and more boards across more and more boards across ast year's spate of school shoot-
The board voted to create a task force to study whether Montgomery Gounty Public Schools could use school cops, or Student Resource Officers and if so, how. Although the vote to create a task force was unanimous, the board, like the community is clearly divided, concerned that having police of in more ine school could result in more students with arrest that the schools are in declina

Appearing before the board, Montgomery County Police Chief Charles A. Moose, who requested the SRO program and pushed County Executive Doug Duncan to put \($ 2\) million into the county budget for it, said having police officers in schools is an extension of community policing.

\section*{er.}

Irving had sued U.S. proessor Deborah Lipstadt and her British publisher, Penguin (omeore portraying him as to suit his widely dismistory views on Adolf Hitler and the Holocaust - including the as sertion that there were no gas chambers at Auschwitz.

The British historian claimed that Lipstadt's book Denying the Holocaust: The Growing Assault on Truth and Memory" distorted the truth and damaged his reputation.

High Court Judge Charles Gray said Irving not only has denied the Holocaust but is "a right-wing, pro-Nazi polemi cist" who mixes with neo-fas cists.

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}

W Poet Mary Karr speaks at 5:45 p.m. in Gifford Auditorium.
- John Winslow of the Syracuse FBI chapter speaks at 5 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500. He will discuss how to work at the FBI, qualifications for candidacy with the bureau and his personal experiences.
- Lizza Bogado, an actress and recording artist from Paraguayan folk songs and discusses recent political and social changes in her country from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in Maxwell Auditorium. The performance will be in Spanish. Call Catherine Nock 445-9661 for more information.

ESU hosts a Spring Community Forum from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Women's Building, 820 Comstock Ave. During the forum, students can meet with university officials and discuss such programs as the University Community Partnership and the Neighborhood Patrol initiative.
hosta Seneca Lake Wine Trail hosts a wine and Cheese WeekBorders Books and Music, 9777 Carousel Center Drive. It is a sample of the Spring Wine and Cheese Weekend at the Seneca Lake Wine Trail on April 29 and April 30.

WThe Global Milestone Project presents "Bearing Witness to Health Issues and Lives Inter. rupted by Crises" from 2 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 500. Those attending will be able to listen to stories of the AIDS epideraic, especially in Africa, and international perspectives on globalization.
- The greek community hosts a Skit and Banner Competition at 7 p.m. in Grant Auditorium.

\section*{THURSDAY}

The R.A.P.E. Center hosts a relationship abuse awareness concert at 8:30 p.m. in Perc Place.

\section*{Correction}

The April 11 issue of The Daily Orange identified Jen Newman as a newly elected

\section*{WRESTLING}

\section*{continued from page 1}
reprieve to raise \($ 2\) million needed to
But as the deadline approaches, members of Keep Syracuse Wrestling - a group of wrestling tumn trying to raise money for they have raised less than 10 percent.
\({ }^{-T}\) Title DX played a role in this sense: we added women's sports. but there was no added revenue," sports, football and men's basketspall, bringing in money."

Since 1996, three new women's ports burst onto SUS sports scene. 1999 with a \(12.5-2\) record, including Top 25 ranking. The women's lacrosse team boasts one of the top young programs in the country and have alsoproved to be an elite team. The women's sorball team hrew out its first pitch Feb. 18.

To accommodate these new pord in are following a de veloping national trend.

Since 1972, when SU's base ball team was eliminated to accommodate Tive D, 280 sehools nation wad have dropped their wresthing ng, according to USA Wrestling's Web site www thernat.com.

You have to go back to the elimination of wrestling three years ago." Shaw said. "It was for finan cial reasons. They (alumni) wanted as to keep it at a less expensive lev el for three years

The decision was not an casy one. Asscciate Director of Athletics Dr. Janet kittell said. She said the decision was a product of a thorough analysis of budgetary constraints. No committees

Kitcell defends this practice be cause of her prior experience at Caiifornia State University at Chico wresting. Commitiees werc not used in that decision making process.

We got input from around the world," she sa aren't efficient."

As SU dropped the axe on the wrestling program. it ended a tradition that stretches more than three quarters of a century, Started in All-Americans, seven Olympians. All-Americans, seven Olympians. 18 record ( \(58 \%\) ) and an active alum ni association.

\section*{The team}

Lone senior Shawn Thomas has the distinction of being SU's been through three head coaches and watched the wrestling propram die before his eycs.

Thomas was the one bright spot on a \(2-10\) team. He had a 25-11 record with 22 wins via pin.
"We have no chance as a team," Thomas said toward the end of the fis sport - ir there was no individual aspect of it, I couldn't continue. It'd just kill me.

Scott Miller, SU wrestling head coach, said it is diticult to sell the program to recruits. Without scholwrestling talent to schools that, can afford to pay the athlete's way through school.

He found other ways to lure recruits, such as selling SU for its education. Miller said he looks for academic scholarship candidates. Although wrestlers coming to SU understand the program's predicament, some are also attracted by ment, some are also attracted by the prospect of wrestling in Division

I for even one year.
Without scholarships, there is no chance for us landing a blue find a diamand in the someone who comes with some baggage."

Sophomore C.J. MacNaught Sop.
I wanted to go to a Division program and a place where I could get a lot of experience. At Syracuse omes to warst, fid be (an academic enior, and finish out here, and hen go somewhere else to finish wrestiling."

Upon Crouthamel's announce ment, many of the top wrestlers ransferred. Bobby Cook and Bobby lansen bolted for University of Ten nessee at Chattanooga. West Vir inia University was the recipien ISU 141-pounder Bob Patnesky.

Yanni Diamond enrolled a Edinboro Unversity in Pennsylva dia to join his brother, Dean. Yann Diarnond has a 46-36 career record including \(34-20\) since his freshman campaign at SU.
"I was disappointed," Yanni Diamond said. *Syracuse is a great school. the actidemies and athletics are rreat. It's a great place to com pete and reach goals.

Injuries and a lack of depth have left the team with 10 spots to fill and rarely that many able bodies. Two of their top wrestlers from a ear ago were injured, with Mac-
Naught suffering a shoulder injury Naught suffering a shoulder injury ind Grinatin

As others battle to save this program, Miller tries to focus on winning dual matches instead of aising money

Before Miller's era, former Cor nell University wrestling assistant Brian Smith spent one year at the helm.

Both coaches said they reveled n the chance to run a Division program and land a head coaching

Smith thought SU wrestling had a chance to be saved. If the ad ministration temporarily brough there would be a fightine chance to there would be a fighting chance to His successor as head coach agreed.

wanted to be part of the so lution," Aliller said. "I believe it is Worth saving. It's easy to say,

1 felt it was about time that give something back to wrestling. I wave the program.

Some peaple, however, believe hat Srith made the four-year com mitment and then bailed on the program.

Smith disagreed, noting that he rejected a position at Cleveland State before heading to the Univer sity of Missouri.
tate tarned down the Cleveland vould 0 hoping that Missour n't. I figure I'd stay at Syracuse
"I never applied for the job; hey came to me

During his first year at Mis souri, the athletic department in creased the wrestling budge \($ 60,000\) and Smith said it will raise again this year.

It is a great school with a good team in the best conference and the NCAA Tournament (was) here," he added. It's a great job.

Although Smith spent only one year on the Hill, he said he did his part to save wrestling.

During his tenure as coach Smith found a box of about 1,000 pledge sheets under his desk on day. He said he made them int later organized fund-raisers in New

\section*{Special Report}

Wrestling alumni group fails to meet fund-raising goal

\section*{BY ERIC NATHAN}

In April of 1997 - about three months after Syracuse Di rector of Athletics Jake Crouthamel's announcement to irop the wrestling program - Give irop the wrestling program - Ave lished Keep Syracuse Wrestling nc to continue the tradition.

Led by Preaident Sonny Greenhalgh, Keep Syracuse Wresting pleaded for time to raise nough money so the program enough money so the program would not fold under Title DX rewould not

Nobody doubts the new opportunities for women, many of as have young daughters, is a good hing, but at the expense of ment sports? asked Pat Greene, one of the eight Keep Syracuse Wrestling ward members. Everyone wants but at what cost?

The athletic department ranted the team a four-year aise \($ 2\) million.

The fateful date is June 30 ,
New York City's branch for Keep Syracuse Wrestling has so far rais \($ 60,000\).

Syracuse's branch, run by the Development Department, SU's fund-raising department, raised an 1999, Erecutive Dirsctor of Devel prsent for Athletics Paul Norcross aid.

Since Crouthamel Iaid down the \($ 2\) million ultimatum, Greenhalgh gaid he haa done what he and to raise money.

He suid he has contacted all SU wrestling letterwinners - ac live or former participants in a var sity sport - by sending out more than 200 letters. But Greenhalyh, who also spensored unsuccessfu. benefits in New York City, estimated that only 40 percent re sponded.

Greenhalgh said he also strugeled to contact non-wrestling lumni, an overlooked mazke when soliciting money.

Marilyn Tennity, a 1942 SU raduate, and her husband donat \($ 4\) milion toward the unversiy's new ice skating rink, scheduled open

Were spending $4 million on a ruew ice skating rink" head Wrestling coach Scott Miller said the bame thing for wrestling, and hat is what's sad \({ }^{*}\)

While most wrestling alumni support Greenhalgh, there are

Msio Mercado, a 1999 gradate, said Greenhalgh is a grea anything for the sport.

York City.
Smith said he did this while coaching and handling the \($ 100,000\) budget without the help of assis tants.

\section*{The next step}

Kittell offers a zeason for SUS
Title IX problems.
If the administrators who preceded Jake (Crouthamel) and myself would have expanded the prograrns according to Title LX, she said, we we're in now.

Congress looked at Tithe IX back asswaris. They should inave

But Mercado added that once Keep Syracuse Wrestling fails to meet its \($ 2\) minion goal, the members will start pointing fingers at each other. He said he questions Greenhalgh's direction and Ieader ship of Keep Syracuse Wrestling.

They are trying to raise where there is no money," Mercado said. They try to centralize it in Syracuse but more people live in the Tri-State area.

They are selfish and wanted to rupport for the program."

In his defense, Greenhalgh said that his family responsitilities and full-time job occupy most of his time.

With three months left, the program has about \($ 100,000\) in the bank - \($ 1.9\) million is still

\section*{The battle}

Greane, a 1977 SU graduate, blames the university for not be ing able to contact non-wrestling dozors. Upan Crouthamel's decla ration to drop the program, the ptic department's help im mone department's help in raising said.

Keep Syracuse Wresting asked the department for a list of people who had with the the wresting program within the las Varsity Club, which is an organi vation of SU, whiman who are let terwinners, and a list of large donors to the athletic program, he addied.
-They said, 'Whatever you need, but it was never backed up," Greene said. They saidit would be pirating from other sports that are able.

Greenhalgh cites a mutual ment gane awry.
He baid that he and wie uni versity agreed to send a joint letter to alumni informing them of Wrestling's predicament. But he dot dhat the university would in the lefter.

Crouthamel, however, said that Greenhalgh was making the university look bad in the letter in stead of requesting money.

A letter was never sent
I don't even have a list of those names," Greenhalgh said The Development Departmen won't work with me. The Develop ment Department could have contacted alumni as easily

While Crouthamel has stuck to the original \($ 2\) million deal Greenhalgh has attacked the proposal

He said the university forced Keep Sy
"If we didn't take this lopsided with the elementary schools, so i could be socially built to the collegiate level.

Next year, Miller will have a group of sophomores and jumiors buz wid momas graduating, nom a wrestling scholarship
The likely return of Mac Naught and possible return of Man ley could help the cause, but a lack of depth will continue to plague thi The fate of all the key player mains uncertain. Thanks to football, Mandey - if we returns -or will be the only on next year's squad.

Some remaining players will agreement, then wresting would have been diropped on the spot," Greenhalgh said. They backed us into a corm Crouthamel responded with criticisms of his own.

I dont care what he claims," he said. "We weat through this with many people and reached this decision. I don't expect Sonny (Greenhalgh) - as biased ob server - to understand where am coming from."

Greenhalgin said he has spent much of the past three years look ing for alternative solutions to pre serve the program.

Of the program's curren \($ 100,000\) budget, Keep Syracuse Wresting has offered to pay hal of that figure, meaning the athlet ic department would spend \($ 50,000\) to keep the program alive without scholarships, Greenhalgh witho said.

Crouthamel said he has no knowledge of Greenhalgh's proposal

The option is to fund it, and that's the only option," Crouthamel

\section*{NADER}
continued from page 1
Individuals can invoke the act, which Nader helped pass in the 1970s, to access information from government files.

The local NYPIRG was formed by students motivated by Nader' specch at SU in 1972. strongest citizen one of the tate," Nader said. "They really have a good record."

Its piece of the SU Sudent Activity Fee - 56 per student-is well

Nader's visit will hopefully
Nalize student activism and affect all campus movements, said Kevir all campus movernents, said Kevir Cooney, a NYPIRG member and senior television, radio and film and English and textual studies major.
"Everywhere he goes, he in spires people to change things," he The New York Times has not had a feature story about NYPIRG ince the organization was forme in a lot of attention to SUS basketball tearn, Nader said.

The university is not prinari ly the sports machine." Nader said followed by a ripple or applause "It's where students and faculty do a lot of interesting things.
"The grotesque inversion of pri orities is a constant theme in our society," Nader said.

Aside from NYPIRG, Nader also commended historical citizen initiatives, such as the abolition of slavery an
"It's the citizens who have it," Nader snid. "Whenever you see anyone behave in an apathetic way, it's usually because they feel poweriess. ence to proactively form citizenbased media.

The airways belong to the pub lic, but the media pays nothing for broadcasting lieense fees, he said.

As landlords, the people should develop their own channels. Nader said. "You can start by contacting Ted Tumer," Nader said, who added Ted umer, Nader said, who added for new ways of efficient communication.

The media and other corporate powers have taken over political functions, he said. The government subsidizes the "greasy coffers" of corenougt money to curb does not have enough money to curb pollution, create modern public transport systems or make higher education more affordable to :ill students, Nadmore affo

The government should reallocate money by stopping corporate subsidies and decreasing military spending. Nader said

The U.S. governmunt spent $33 billion building Osprey helicopters at a cost of \($ 80\) million each, he said. But this \($ 33\) billion would have been enough to give free college tuEspecially with the curr oming economy, the government bouming econony, the government has no excuses to not nake college free for students, Nader said.

Nader challenged the audi to take up his call for activism. 65?" Nader asked the audience \({ }^{\text {Gin }}\) You have to ask yourself what you want to contribute as a citizen."

Members of the Student Coalition On Organized Labor hang a banner encouraging \(S U\) to change the monitoring organization it uses for its apparel factories during Ralph Nader's speech Tuesday aftemoon.

Party politics
Nader declared his candidacy for U.S. presiderit on Feb. 21 because Democrats and Republicans - or "Tweedle-dee" and "Tweedle-dum"-are nearly identical parties, he said.

Historically, third parties have had an important impact on politics, Nader said. But Democrats and Republicans are desperately trying to exclude Reform and Green Party candidates from the debates, he added.

Republican strategist Mary Matalin and Democratic strategist James Carville avoided the issue of corporate subsidies during their recent joint-appearance at the Carrier Dome, Nader said. Dome, Nader said.
"It's going to be a really dull Tweedle-dee and Tweedte-dum debate unless third way parties are Because presidentina candi-

Because presidential candidates vice President A Gore and Texas Gov. George W. Bush enjoy the advantage of being able to predict each other's positions, they do not want to permit Reform and Green party candida debates, Nader said.
Nader also denounced the role of corporations in the political electoral process.
We rely on a beer company to fund a presidential debate," Nader

\section*{INTERNSHIPS for CREDIT}

\section*{FALL SEMESTER, 2000}

Early applications for local Fall Internships will be sent to organizations NEXT WEEK.

\section*{Visit SUIP now and apply for the Internship of your choice!}

Further information from:
Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Avenue, ph. 443-4271 said. The only thing left is for Gore and Bush to wear Anheuser-Busch hats."

Nader's got it pretty much down," said Marika Wissink, a sehior music major and a Student Coalition On Organized Labor member. "He does good work"

During the question and answer session, Wissink invited Nader to stop by the group's camp-out on the Quad.

SCOOL members are camping out until Friday on the Quad to bring attention to sweatshops and to show their solidarity with students at other univarsities who are fighting for the same

Upon exiting Hendricks Chapel, Nader stopped by the SCOOL camp-out and spoke to students, said Pat OLeary, a sophomore incernational relations major
"He just said do
" O'Leary said. "He just rein forced my beliefs.". He just reinBut even though she knew about the event, freshman chemshe decided to spend the time doing her homework instead.

Williams was in Hendricks before the speech began.
"I think a lot of us are more concerned about our work," into really active SU students." Study on Alcohol Perception and be paid \($ 5\) per hour plus \($ 10\) for please call: 443-3284.

\section*{Are you a social drinker?}

Come Earn Money and Participate in a Information Processing at SU. To participate you must be between the ages of 21 and 40, and you must be a social drinker. You will transportation. You may also be eligible for a cash prize drawing. For more information

\section*{Nader outlines civic education, stresses need for student activism}

BY NICHOLAS STEFFENS Staff Witer

While Ralph Nader is most known for his spirited attacks against corporations and the U.S. wo-party political system, civic Tuesday afternoon speech.

A priority of universities should be to help foster civic skills, so students in the social sciences and humanities can use them during their time at college and after they graduate, said Nader, a consumer advocate and Green Party nominee for the 2000 presidential election.
\({ }^{\text {"Do you look at yourself as }}\) having a significant impact on so--iety while you are a student and after you graciuste? Nader asked yourself how you ane gring to conyourself how you are Unfortanately, most univerity curricula does not include courses that teach siolls hat can Nader said.

On the Syracuse University campus, joining the New York Publicinterest Researci Group tive student-citizen group in the state - can fill this void, he said.

Nader inspired students to begin NYPIRG at the university after a 1972 speech on the SU campus.

They really have a very good cecord here," he said of the university chapter. The students at Syracuse ought to be proud.

While NYPIRG does teach sudents fundamental civic action slrills, this does not excuse universities from teaching students bout how to further causes they believe in, he said.

Sturdents at colleges now ex pect vocational training and no much else out of the collespiate aca demic experience, Nader said.

The university, which should be the independent center for critical thinking, has increas ingly become a subsidiary or big usiness," he gaid.

Studenits who study chem istry and biology have the oppor tumity to test'and use the slcills that they hive learned in the classrocom, but students stadying cial sciences do not, Nader said.

Social science stindents hould learn; for example, host to ise the Freedom of Information Act toretrieve useful dataifor causes in which they believe, Nad ersaint
"Trformation is the currency f democracy," he sid. "Why don't educators teach these citien sialls?

Faculty and students who at rended the speech shared Nader's ient toward the nole of education and evic action.

One way that univeraities can help the growth of student ac tivism would be to allocate more money toward progressive stu dent groups, said Kelly Nagy, president of the Student
"I just feel that ther
f civic-mindel that there's a lack campus," shis said "I Weople on this tirely blame this univergity for though?

If those groups received morg funding, they would get theirmie sage to more people and would in: crease their awarenesc about im portant ismues, she said.

Cutting off NYPIRG funding would be a bad ormen for campus activism, said NYPIRG member College of Arts and Sciences.

Students will vote in a refer endum beginning April 25 regarding the continuation of garding the continuation of NYPIRC funding fr

Nader said he believes the attempt to prevent NYPIRG fund ing will be stopped in the impend ing referendum.
The students will support NYPIRG overwhelmingly again," he said.

Groups like NYPIRG have led to an increase in on-campus nctivism, said Graduate Student Organization President Eric Hunn, a third-year law and pub lic administration stadent.

GSO was the chief sponsor of the event.
"It seems like the campus has a noticeable change in that it's becoms more activist and in

Profesar William Coplin Proressor Willam Coplin right path with regard to teach ing and integrating real-bife skills into the curriculum. With this process eatablished, student could further causes they believe in while at school and after grad uation, he said.

There is a large movemen toward involving community ser vice in classes," said Coplin chairman of the policy sturdies program. "It's still ipadequate though catio sutuation regarding civic education has dramatically im proved from 10 years ago when he was the only professor in The College of Arta and Sciences pushing for the teaching of civic skills in the clasaroom, he said.

The College of Arts and Sci ences is currently investigating ways to get etudents involved in the comamunity, Coplin said. One possibility would be mandatory community service, an idea he supports.
ata ates from this uiniverasity ghould have to workt to improve the commainity or the unipersity in some way, \({ }^{*}\) he said.

A problematill exists because most professors are reluctant to integrate servico learning into their courses, he sxid. This is no the tuiversity's or the professors fault because tizis is what they have always been told, Coplin said.

Cusrent social movements at the univergity which have lately, centered arownd the uni vensity's position on rweatshop le bor, Would be improved if the stu dent"s wark was eupervised by a profeseor, Coplin said.

Frankly, because the stu cents who are actavists do it out side the classroom, it is not as professional; he said. "The should be learning these things in the classroom"

One of the soals of the current university leadership is to create a geamaless web of laarning ctuded in this, Coplin said. ctuded in trig, Coplin saich, this ther'xe dend caticonal podeforitometre the

\section*{Staff Reports}

A local professor will stand trial May 24 for having allegedly tried to steal 22 spruce trees from a private property, according to Town of Manlius Police Department officials.

Christopher A. Nowak, an associate professor at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry, was charged April 2 with attempted larceny of the trees from the driveway of East Syracuse resident Pat Schaefer, Manlius officer Joe Treglia said.

After being confronted, Nowak explained that he was just going to use the trees, Treglia said.
"It was the stupidest thing," Schaefer said. "You'd think they'd take a gold statue or some- a right to do this," Schaefer said. thing."

Schaefer said he spruce trees valued at \($ 10\) each hind here located behind her mailbox among white pine rees. They were ntentionally planted in a zigzag pattern so the branches would interlock when the trees matured, she added.

She added hat her neighbors witnessed Nowak digging up the trees. When approached, Nowak became "bel- said she stayed up late Saturday ligerent" and acted "like he had night after supervising a birth-

This is like something out of the Twilight Zone that someone's taking trees on a Sunday morning.

\section*{PAT SCHAEFER}

\section*{East Syracuse resident} after finding 22 of her spruce trees uprooted day party with 18 children for her 5 -year-old daughter. She awoke the next morning to the her door at g.30 a.me alicer on her door at g.30 a.m. alerting her to the incident, she said Police seemed to be in disbes were uprooted, but Nowak only tried to leave or four Schaefer said. The roots of the trees were weak. were weakthey wereause they were only planted last fall, in late , she said. know if the know if the trees are going to make it," Sefor said. lief at the nature of the crime, Schaefer said.

"This is like something out of the Twilight Zone that someone's taking trees on a Sunday morning," she said.

Schaefer said she and her neighbors organized and worked to clean up the neighborhood, They were annoyed when they found the trees uprooted, she added.
"It just made us so angry," Schaefer said. "I think he should be stopped from taking things that don't belong to him. If he took mine, who else's has he gotten?

Nowak could not be reached for comment.

The university will let the courts handle the case, said Claire Dunn, assistant director of community relations at ESF.

Dunn had no further com. ment.

Nowak is a fine person and professor, said William Bentley, chairman of the forestry department at ESF. He called the case a misunderstanding.
"These things happen," Bentley said. "I think you're chasing a tempest in a teapot."

Compiled by Staff Writers Caroline Chen and Magin McKenna

C2mog ush Bloct Lax Services hcoroorted

\section*{- State Affairs}

Walsh battles county as cleanup deadline nears

BY MAGIN MCKENNA Asst. Lifestyle Editor

Bickering among New York state legislators may force the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to abandon its \($ 1\) million study to clean Onondaga Lake-one of the most poluted lakes in nation
State lawmakers lawmakers May 1 to pass legislation that will enable the Army Corps to con-Walsh ing a project for cleaning the lake before it must relinguish the study to Onondaga county, said U.S. Rep. Jim Walsh, (RSyracuse), who contracted the Army Corps for the cleanup study in December.

Under the direction of the county legislature, Walsh contacted the Army Corps four months ago to find less expensive alternatives to the lake cleanup that differed from the county's plan county's plan. to stop political bickering in to stop political bickering," Walsh said Tuesday from his Washington, D.C. office. "The idea was to avoid all this. It's pretty frustrating.
York State Assembly centers York State Assembly centers on a state law that protects organized labor interests. Legislators fear that the Army Corps' study of cleanup alterCorps study of cleanup aiternatives could present threats fringing on unionized labor rights.

Army Corps officials are also asking the legislature to grant exemptions to the state's bidding laws, said Walsh who oversees an appropriations sub-committee in the U.S. House of Representatives.
House of Representatives.
The exemptions would althe design and construction work for facilities instead of multiple companies, Walsh added.
Walsh called the Assermbly's labor concerns "unfounded" because the Army Corps already upholds a labor agreement. may understand why they Walsh said. "But if the result Walsh said. But if the result gets you a clean lake and hundreds of jobs, isn't it worth it?"

The Onondaga County Legislature and New York State Senate have shown accleanup plan that differs from the county's proposal, which includes the renovation of the current sewage system, Walsh said.
"We are working hand in hand with the county to try to get a response, said Art Levy, spokesman for New York (R-Syracuse). "We have tried o make possible what the county is trying to do.

New York State Assembly Majority Leader Michael Bragman (D-Syracuse) could not be reached for comment at his Albany office.

About \($ 50\) million in fedral funds appropriated by Walsh for the lake cleanup are

\section*{ullgh quality and low prices are guaranted at \\ Meinekses . \\ - EXHAUST SYSTEM - SUSPENSION SYSTEMS \\ - C.V. Joints \\ - state inspection \\ - tire balancing \\ - All covered by a NATIONWIDE WARRANTY \\  \\ You won't pay a lot, but you'll get a lot}

FREE Undercar Inspection & Estimate CICERO 8313 S. Main St. 699-9654 LS Rt \(* 11\), Just Sou of NY Foute a31)

OPEN MON -SAT 8 AM TO 6 PM
3 上

TOIL CHANGE & TIRE ROTATIONT ONIY $19.95
wcuoss yuro
 RADIATOR FEUSHE FILL $10 0FF
wnitaliz

\section*{INYPIRG WTORLES for You}

\section*{Getting Things Done}
- Registering over 1,000 students to vote &f getting them to the polls
- Organizing "Hoops for the Hungry" \({ }^{\circ} \mathrm{F}\) "Trick or Eat" to raise money 8 collect tons of food for local homeless shelter's &f pantries
- Organizing Earth Day 2000 &f Earth Day Lobby Days to commemorate Earth Day &f advocate for the environment

\section*{Providing Unique Services}
- Operating a free &f confidential on-campus small claims court consumer hotline for students facing unreturned security deposits कٔ other consumer problems
- Offering accredited on-campus internships as well as legislative internships in Albany
- Producing money-saving guides to banking fees \(\mathfrak{E}\) ATM surcharges

\section*{Building on 27 Years of Victories}
- Securing Syracuse students the right to vote on campus
- Winning passage of over 100 bills into law, including the Botile Bill, Freedom of Information Law, Lemon Law of Truth in Testing Law
- Organizing massive Higher Education Rally &o Lobby Days in Albany, attracting nearly 10,000 students from across New York State currently sitting into a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency bank account in New York City. Until the county reaches a final resolution on the lake cleanup, the funds remain unavailable.

Because the money has not yet been spent, it will be difficult for Walsh to secure an additional \($ 15\) million in federal money needed for the project, he said.
"It's going to be real challenge, now," Walsh said. "People are going to say You already have \($ 50\) million dollars in the bank that you haven't spent, and you want more?

Onondaga Lake is contaminated with high levels of mercury from years of dumping by local industry and untreated sewage that flows into the lake sewage that hows into the lake sewage system.

Critics of the county's plan say the Army Corps' intervention is the only method that tion is the only method that will foster an environmentally will foster an environmentally sleanup.

The cleanup effort will suffer a major setback if the Army Corps is forced to abandon the project, said Dr. Steven Effler, research director for the Upstate Freshwater Institute, an organization that researches water pollution and potential way nondaga Lake.
"It will be a shame," Effler said. "We will be stuck with the county's existing plan, which doesn't work."

But Michael Cunningham, director of the county's Onondaga Lake Improvement Project, said progress continProject, said progress continues on the lake cleanup, and ues on the lake cleanup, and may not need intervention may not needinter from the Army Corps.
"Our intent is to do the project as cost effectively with as little environmental impact as possible," Cunningham said. We have already saved \($ 69\) million from our \($ \mathbf{3 6 0}\) million budget."

The county expects most of the major projects for the lake cleanup will be completed by 2007, Cunningham added. "We are moving progressively ahead of schedule," he said.

Onondaga County has promised the EPA and the Council of Atlantic States in a court order that it will complete a bulk of the lake cleanup in seven years, Cunningham said.

With the deadline nearing for state lawmakers to approve the legislation, Walsh said he is confident that a resolution will be reached.
"I want a clean lake," he said. "The Assembly needs to realize the political points are inified and if it doesn't want :o do what we're asking it to lo, it needs to tell us what we hhould do."

\title{
Day Hall resident reports harassing phone call
}

Staff Reports
A resident of Day Hall received an "annoying" phone call Thursday, according to a Public Safety report.

The resident did not trace the call and the Office of Residence Life was notified of the incident, the report added.

Public Safety Chief Robert Robinson said harassing phone calls are among the top three crimes committed on college campuses.

It's not unusual," Robinson said. "That's a problem that's going to be here as long as we're going to be here.

He added that in many cass, students receive menacing calls from people they know.

They should be conscious when they suspect it's someone they know," he said. "You control who you talk to. If you don't give callers the opportunity, you won't be bothered."
E A student reported a lost wallet and money on Friday according to a Public Safety re port.

The belongings of the wallet were returned to the student in an envelope, the report said.

Included in the envelope was a note from the thief in. forming the student that he or she was keeping the money and the wallet, the report added.
- A hazardous material was found leaking from a plugged drain Thursday in Bowne Hall, according to a Public Safety report.

The material, later identified as a diluted acid, was leaking onto the floor below, the report said.

SU Environmental Health

Services responded to the scene and university employees were notified not to touch or go near the substance, the report added.
- An unidentified person damaged a glass door Saturday in Day Hall, according to a in Day Hall, accor Public Safety report.

Housing officials were notified to repair the door and clean the scattered glass from the floor, the reports said.

Meghann Devine, a resident of the 7 th floor where the event occurred, said she was angry about the damage.
\({ }^{4}\) Im a little concerned that someone is destructing our floor, said Devine, a freshman jor.

Devine said she was asleep when the glass was broken. had happened until I saw the damage," she said.
The resident advisor on the floor refused to comment.

The case is closed pending further information, the report added.

E There was a motor vehicle accident Sunday involving a car and a Centro bus on South Campus, according to a Public Safety report.

Public Safety and the Syracuse Police Department were called to Goldstein Student Center, the report said.

E A student reported vandalism Monday afternoon to a mural painted on the window of Boland Hall, according to a Public Safety report.

The case is closed pending said.

M student is suspected of firing an "airgun" Sunday out of a Skyhall apartment winof a Skyball apartment window, according to a Public Safedow, according to a Public Safe-

The
during a health and safety in during a health and safety inspection of the room following "drug related paraphernalia" were confiscated, the report said. The case has been turned or to the Office of Judicial Affairs, the report added.
- An accident between a privately-owned vehicle and a Physical Plant vehicle occurred at the loading dock of the Schine Student Center, according to Public Safety reports. There were no injuries, the report said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Ashleigh Graf

\section*{AOPI}
continued from page 1
review," Merrihew said. During this process, they interviewed each person in the sorority to determine whether that person was involved in or had knowledge of the the hazing incident and alcohol violations. he said.

There was evidence supporting the claims of hazing and alcohol violations, so members were placed on either suspended status or alumni status, Merrihew said.

Suspended status means that the woman is no longer a member of that sorority and retains none of the rights or privileges of the organization, he said.

Alumni status means that the woman is still a sorority member but can only participate in AOPi alumni functions - not undergraduate functions, he said.

Some sisters, however. were studying overseas through the Division of Interthrough the Division of International Programs Abroad and were not in Syracuse during the time the hazing and alcohol violations occurred, Merrihew said. These members will be placed on alumni status as the option to petition the na-

\section*{Earn
$15 an Hour}

\section*{Part-time \\ cutting-edge \\ Opportunity for Full-Tïme after Graduation \\ Hiring Mow for \\ Summer forfall}

Apply On-line: whurwizeup.com/rep tional to regain undergraduate membership, he added.

But if they choose to petition, those women must again undergo the six-week new member process, he added. The new member process, formerly called pledging, is the time when new members of a sorority or fraternity are introduced to and educated about greek life. At the end of the period, most are initiated into the chapter.

Currently. A O Pi has the option to "reestablish"themselves on campus. SU officials and the national are working out the details of what exactly the sorority will have to do to regain recognition from th university, Merrihew said.
"That's what we're negotiating right now," he said. "We have a tentative agreement we're working on.

The reestablishment process is somewhat easier than "recolonization," he added. Sororities who leave campus and then decide to come back can petition the SU Panhellenic Association to \({ }^{*}\) re colonize," Merrihew said.

In some cases, houses are not allowed to recolonize until all members who were part of the chapter at the time of the violation graduate, he said.
"Veryoften when this kind of response occurs, it is a movo on the part of national and the university to change the culture of the organization," Mer rihew said.

The closed status does not, however, mean that all the women will be evicted from their thouse, he said. The members who are still in good standing with the national will still be allowed to live in the house, he sald.
"It's not a situation where everyone had to move out this weekend," Merrihew sitid.

Residents of the AOPi house will be on a "tenantlandlord" relationship with the university, Merrihew said. lifed security will also be on the premises at all hours each daytoact as a monitor, he added.

In past cases with some other houses, there were potentialhazards regarding the house, Merrihew said. Residents would throw parties and damage property in and around fell house since they no longer national, he said
But a closed stitus for A O Pi may not last long, both Merrihew and \(S U\) Spokesman Kevin Morrow said.
it will leave room open for dialogue between the university and national so that it might be possible for this chapter to come back and petition as early as the fall," Morrow said.

SU officials have been negotiating the situation with the national for the past threc days, Morrihew said. They hopetoreach a conclusion soon, but there are terminoloEy issues that still need to be worked out in the agreement. he added.
"Were down to dotting the \(i\) 's and erossing the t's semantically."

GW Summer Sessions offers programs from 70 different areas of study with over 500 courses from May to August
- Cotumbian School of Arts and Sciences
- School of Business and Public Management
- School of Engineering and Applied Science
- Elliott School ol International Affairs
- Schoal af Medicine and Health Sciences
- School of Pubilic Health and Health Services
- Law School
- Center for Professianal Develapment
- Off-campus Graduate Programs

\section*{The} reorge nsivigion
website: www.summer, own, ed.
emall: sumprogsegwu.edu (202) \(994-6360\)

\section*{FREEMAN}
continued from page 1
way, he added.
Globalization is a phenomenon that can cause a lot of problems," Freeman said. ment want the State Departenon not only as a set of problems, but also a set of opportunities. Globalization has an immense opportunity to improve human rights.

The process of corporate expansion can lead to improved human rights if companies are willing to act as responsible glabal citizens, Freeman said.

Freeman said his bureau of the State Department actively encourages responsible corporate citizenship and works with companies, activist groups and other branches of governand other branches of government to attain the greatest fits for all parties.
Staff at the bureau recognize, however, that corporations are motivated by profit, to said. Sometimes is not easy Lo encourage them to take an they have plants, he added. they have plants, he added.

Companies see that it's increasingly in their selfinterest not to walk away from their not to walk away from their critics, butengage with them actively," Freman said. "We actively, Freeman said. "We look to our companies to do look to our companies to do what they can where they can to promote good governments and fair societies.

Corporations should have an interest in acting responsi bly to lend stability to the where they operate. Freeman explained. By working for the public interest and not allowing any human rights violations in their facilities, companies will become valued as pects of the countries where they exist, he added.

Freeman said U.S. companies abroad are subject to frequent protests by citizens and sometimes terrorist attacks.

The U.S. government should remain involved in the process to ensure that the cor porations accurately represent the nation's policies on democ racy and human rights, Free man said.

Government must also remain committed to determining the truth of accusations of human rights violations, he added.
"It's not in the interest of the United States to be associated with any complicity to human rights violations, Free man said. "We're not asking rights crusaders, but we do think there's some common ground."

Some activists, however, maintain that corporations can never act responsibly, said Goodwin Cooke, an international relations professor.

The demonstrators at bennett freeman, deputy assistant secretary of state for democracy, human rights and labor, speaks Tuesday aftemoon to an audience of about 60 students and faculty. Freemmen discussed U.S. policy on comporate responsibility.

Seattle, including our friend Ralph Nader across the way, were skeptical about corporate responsibility," said Cooke, referring to consumer advocate Ralph Nader's speech Tuesday afternoon in Hendricks Chapel and November's World Trade Organization riots. "President Clinton seemed at least in some way to agree with that.

Freeman said the problem with corporate responsibility is that it is often left up to the discretion of the company with no oversight. If the process was more open, people would have more faith in corporations' abilities and intentions, he added.

I think many of them would view corporate responsibility differently if it were carried out transparently and with accountability as at least part of the solution," Freeman said.
"It is one of the solutions, not the whole thing."

Unions have a similar problem with the notion of corporate responsibility, Freeman added.

Relationships between management and labor are becoming increasingly tense and important as global expansion quickens, said Aaron Sukert, a graduate student in international relations and law.
"One of the trends associated with globalization has been the erosion of lhe standard employeeremployer relationship," Sukert said. "It's been a transition from full-time to temporary and part-time labor."
skepticelan said umions are skeplical for the same reason as human rights activists are.
"I think unions have been skeptical of corporate responsibility because the initiatives haven't been clear," he said. "The less vague the initiatives have been, the more receptive the unions have been.

Creating clear policy objectives in corporate responsibility is critical for the interest of corporations, their host nations and activist groups, Freeman said.
"These are not just bread and butter issues, but sometimes life and death issues for these people," he said. "Our companies make a huge impact on these developing countries."

\section*{Tht Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\title{
 \\ [editorial] \\ \\ Silent heroes make \\ \\ Silent heroes make important mark important mark \\ Our parents burned draft cards to protest
}

The Daily Orange
April 12, 2000
the Vietnam War. They marched on the Mall demanding equal rights for women and minorities.

Our generation donates Saturday mornings to helping inner-city children unravel the mysteries of the ABCs. We carve turkeys in soup kitchens at Thanksgiving.

We wage a silent crusade, which yields an immeasurable good. But without a fiery, nation wide cause to rally around, our efforts often get lost in a flurry of buzzwords like "apathy" and "activism."

Liberal champion Ralph Nader, a Green Party presidential candidate, spoke Tuesday on the Syracuse University Hill. From the altar of Hendricks Chapel, he commended the recent student activism efforts to raise consciousness about the plight of workers in third-world sweatshops.

But they're not the only ones making a difference in the world around us.

Classes in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs and SU's writing program require students to complete commu nity service hours for course credit. Students who never thought of lending a helping hand are signing up to make a difference. And long after the semester ends, the spirit of volunteerism calls them to continue.

But passion for service can't truly be taught in the classroom. The desire to serve comes from within, inspired by the smile of a self-confident third grader or a grateful handshake of a bedraggled single mother.

Traditional activist groups, boosting signs and chanting in unison, are the best way to keep eyes on a cause. But it's the behind the scenes work, the quiet, intangible efforts to chip away at community problems, that really pack a punch.

It may not be glamourous and it may not win accolades or bold newspaper headlines, but those efforts must not go unnoticed.

Sometimes it's impossible to attack an issue head-on. But starting small usually ensures the biggest victory.

\title{
[d.ö] \\ Editor in Chief Dave Levinthal Managing Editor Emily Kulkus \\ Established in 1903, Independent since 1971
}

\section*{News Editor}

Editorial Editor
Justin Silverman Holly Auer ifestyle Editor Sports Editor Special Projects Editor Presentation Disector Photography Editor Art Director Copy Editor Systems Admistrator Online Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editor Sapna Kollali Dave Curtis Joy Davia Bill Ehninger Adeet Deshmukh Neva Austrew Laura Prahucki Jerome Woody Jimmy Tanner Kate Stevenson Tiffany lankes Kevin Tampone Corey Hann Magin McKenna Jeft Passan Greg Bishop Erin Bloylo Elaine Skirnter Tito Bottitta Rechari Mason Golden Lisa Caswell Ron Faoks fin Morcadante

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Sleep-sharing plan could net billions for scientists}

All right, science, I've got a bone to pick with you. Some pretty hefty promises and predictions have been made in the last 50 years, and I feel as if I've been disappointed enough. Where are the lying cars? Why am I still eating full meals instead of popping convenient food capsules? I figured by now we'd all have personal anti-gravity devices, or at the very least, jet packs.
hose hat's been going on in all of hose top-secret laboratories that are hidden around the country? technology from the flying sauce that crashed at Roswell? I saw "Independence Day" and I don't understand why that force field around the alien ship can't be applied to our own current, primitive modes of transportation. Bingo! No more car accidents, no

\section*{NALTON} ompanies, no more high premi-more insurance companies, no more high premiums just because other

I saw Bill Gates on TV the other day; telling me how much Microsoft has improved my life in the past decade. Instant messaging, quicker Internet hook-ups, visual links, whatever. You want to help me out, Billy Boy? Set your scientists to work on builing me a teleporialion device. Then it ouldn t matter how much damn snow we get, id til be able to get that dosnt tectually moan the 11 be att 1914 re anytime in the noar future

It's been more than thirty years since we first got to the moon and you mean to tell me that we still don't have a colony up there? At the very leas still don't have a colony up there? At the very where I went on vacation last summer? Ocean City Maryland The moon has to be cooler than that place. at the very least it would have less that place; at the very least it would have less nnoying high school students.

And then theres the medical advances. It seems to me that Ive been hearing quite a lot of boasting lately about things like cloning and mapping human DNA. So where are the benefits for me? I dont need an extra lung or liver grown for me (although my sophomore year roommates proof that God wants us to drink more) livers as could use a clone for housework and things like that, but after seeing "Multiplicity" Im wary of scientific duplication.

And 1 m sick and tired of scientists talking above me. This goes for doctors and engineers and mathematicians, too. Even mechanics have gotten a bit too verbose for my liking. l'm already paying you \($ 180\) to replace a two-fout piece of glass, don \({ }^{t}\) make me listen to you explain all about the inner workings of my car, trying to justify why the markup is 450 percent.

You're all thinking, wow, Matt's in a bitchy mood this weck, and you'd be right. But I wouldn't be bitching this much if I didn't have a solution, or n this case maybe a suggestion to all those white. coat-tatiled geeks in oversized glasses. I think all scientists should drop what theyre doing and begin work on a new project. A project that will change our world forever.

Someone needs to discover a waty that people can sleep for other people. Someone could sleep for twelve hours and through a kind of transplant method, I could receive the benefits from six of those hours. This way I wouldn't ever have to slecp, but it wouldn't affect mephysicaily: At this point some of you are saying. "luut 1 love sleen, that's the best part of my day." Well, you are lazy And that's okay. Those of us who are active and contributing members of society will need you to sleep for us.

This is a win-win situation. Lazy people get to sleep as much as they wnat and that can be their job. Those of us that try to do cue yhing at once won have to be bothered by the nced lor sleep here's the best part. Once the scientists figure this heres the best part. Once the scientists figure this with people bop for them hey'll be makin Wuch more proseep If them, they be making meep 1 bet we'll find the cure for cancer within year. And jet packs'? Forget about it year. And jet packs. Forct who are in srientific majors carefully consider my proposal it works. Chame carefully conswer mow freen wave all the way to the bank in just a few years. If you discover how to make peonle sleep for years. If you discover how to make people sleep fo others, yound not only be lamous, youll be rich device.

Matt Walton is a senior mitsic composition major. His coltmin appears wednestays in The Daily Orange. E-mail him at mjualton@syredu

\section*{letters}

\section*{Neighborhood Patrol flunks resident's test}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Concerning the so-called "Neighborhood Patrol Initiative" that Syracuse University has with that Syracuse Police Department, I have only one thing to say. It sucks, have only one simple. For those stuplain and simple. For those stulet me explain. It is another way for the university to suck our hardearned money out of our pockets and put it into a program that provides the students with nothing more than a false sense of hope and security.

They are being paid to "patrol," which I haven't scen yet. Last night, I saw a suspicious man looking through the parking lot where my car is. I told the man that I was going to call the police. I did, and gave a near-perfect description to the dispatcher. I also gave them ex act directions of where the man was walking. After being told they would send a patrol up to check it out, I decided to get courageous. I closely followed the man in my car at a safe distance. He walked from the corner of East Adams Street and Ostrom Avenue to the Orange Market. During this walk, which was considerably long, I did not see a police car. The man walked comfortably because he knew as well as I did that the po lice were not going to come that night.

Students, it is time to stand up to the university. We are truly paying for something that is overrated and non-productive for us. Chancel lor Shaw, I demand that when you spend our money at will, make sure you're getting our money's worth, not just a bunch of lazy cops that sit around Thornden Park that sit around Thornden Park.

Philip Cala

\section*{BANKS}
continued from page 1 ing beer and hard liquor，but iald he had not had much to dance floor shortly before mid night．

Banks snid he was helped to his feet by McNabb，but fell to the ground and began to vio－ lently fiail his legs and arms af－ ter regaining his balance．
＂Ig got violent，＂hesaid． ＂But \(I\) wasn＇t lashing out against anyone． 1 was trying to pull myself back to conscious－ ness－＂

Banks said he was then es－ corted out of the bar by his riends，who tried to res

Once inside the vehicle Banks added that he became vi－ olent once again，kicking out the car＇s sunroof and damaging a for light．

Syracuse police were sum－ moned to the scene of the inci－ dent shortiy after midnight and Banks．Was transported Room， 736 Irving Ave．，via Syracuse University Ambu lance for medical evaluation． Banks said he was released from the hospital early Satur－ day morning． ＂I＇m glad it＇s my car that 1 damaged and not someone else＇s，＂he added．＂I guess my subconscious knew what it was doing．I＇m glad I didn＇t hurt anyone else．＂

Compiled by Asst．Lifestyle Editor Magin McKenna

\section*{固本語を学ほほら！}

\title{
Live and Learn JAPANESE！
}

The Waseda Oregon Transnarional Program，Fall 2000 and Spring 2001，is a comparative US－Japanese Societies study program that mixes US－based and international students with undergraduates from the prestigious Waseda University，Tokyo，Japan．Three levels of Japanese language instruction are offered in addition to US－Japanese Societies courses in the humanities and social sciences．Scholarships of \(u p\) to \($ 1000\) are available！For more information，contact：

Waseda Oregon Programs Office （800）823－7938（503）223－7938 infoeopie．org www．opie．org

\section*{STOPPED}
continued from page 11
"That was a big moment," SU middie Josh Coffman said. We had a golden opportunity to stick a nail in the coffin. But they got a good bounce and went down and scored."

The last Orangemen goal, a Springer tally with \(8: 22\) remaining, put them ahead 12-11. Cornell rallied a shade more than two minutes later, when Key escaped a double team and hit freshman Michael Egan for the equalizer.

After Cynar saved a Matt Caione shot, Egan struck again with the game-winner. Mulligan stopped a Steinwald shot from point-blank range, but the rebound squirted to the freshman who deposited the ball in the SU net.

Cornell's Addison Sollog won the ensuing face-off, but a flurty of turnovers gave the ball Springer popped apen Springer popped open on the lef wing, but his rocket found Cynar's lef rebound Cornell gath ered the rebound

The Orangemen owned one last chance after a Mulligan steal with 27 ticks remaining. But ell in front of the net and freshell in Ront of che net, and Ceglia to end the threat.

The final horn sparked a red celebration, as a handful of students stormed the field and Cornell's shivering Il-piece marching band burst into "Cor nell Victorious," the school fight song.

A dejected Syracuse, conversely, lamented what it saw as a subpar effort.
"I still can't believe it," Powell said. "It was total letdown of 48 guys. Their attitudes are too jacked up, too cocky. We had too many turnovers and bad defense. We have a long way to go, and that showed today.

In the game's carly stages, SU appeared frastrated by Cornell's slow, blue-collar play. A Powell illegal check penalty led to a Steinwald man-up goal and a 2-1 first-quarter Big Red lead.

Exploiting an apparent quickness advantage in the midfield, Cornell inverted its middies, placing one behind the cage. Key and J.P. Schalk each scored midway through the Tirst hall. and the strategy helped Cornell to a 5-2 lead.
"We know it was coming," Coffman said. "I think we under estimated the way their middies carried the ball. They executed very well."

Led by two goals apiece from Powell and Springer, Syracuse ran off five in a row to take a two goal lead. From there, the lead grew no bigger than a deuce, as the Orangernen failed to salt the game away.

Cornell evened the count at seven, eight and then nine in the third quarter on a Craig Kauf man goal with \(2: 25\) to play.

The Orangemen hopped thead 11-9 when Ceglia grabbed and hit a wide-open Springer for an easy goal But Cynarger for stope quieted the Orantemen the stops quicu the Deske way

Desko credited Cornell for its hard-working style and relentless play, but SU's leaders placed the blarne on its squad.
"We played like shit today," Ceglia said. "We didn't lose, they took it from us. We laid on our backs a bit. I hope people look at themselves in the mirror tomor row and aren't happy with the way we played."

\section*{What will yours do?}

Soon.

\section*{Upper Class Bash}

Featuring:

Spinning House/Dance/Trance
April 14, 2000

Tix @ Schine Box Office or at door w/ SU ID

\section*{Orangewomen win sixth consecutive game}

BY Chris snow Staff Writer

One month ago, the Syracuse women's lacrosse team went from the excitement of reat expectations to the Four wins in a row jump. arted the team's charge for its first tournament appear its firs w

Wins over Rutgers and George Mason in New Jersey on Saturday and Monday, reangewomen one step closer with their sixth consecutive vietory.

SU (6-3) combined senior poise with reshman punch Saturday, riding five year standout Lauren Brady and a two-real four-assist outing by ourcomer Kim Wayne a 13-6 victory over Rut to "Lauren has probabiy "Lauren has probabiy one of the best shots in the country," SU head coach Lisa Miller said. "She has a quick release and snaps her wrist spaces. She's turned herself

Women's lacrosse
into a tremendous attacker. "And Kim saw everything and was hitting her teammates (with passes) early and on the move."

Yand on the move." time lead after trailing 2-0, the Orangewomen regrouped and outscored the Scarlet second stanza.

Brady said avenging the Orangewomen's onegoal loss to the Scarlet Knights last season motivated the team. Also, Brady said the up-tempo style Rutgers presents forced SU to elevate its intensity level.
"We were really pumped up for that game because it's been pretty close with them the past two years," Brady said. "We wanted to play our game, and they're a real strong team and really loud which can throw you off. But we were focused.

Backstopping the defensive effort, freshman netminder Garla Gigon earned her first career start, turning asicle 10 shots in place of senior Clothilde Ewing. "I thought Carla would be nervous with this big a weekend," Brady said. "But she held her ground with some big saves and had some key clears to (defender) Erica Hofmann. Everyone welcomed her, even though we didra't know who was starting as of that day.

Miller and her staff decided Friday to go with Gigon basedon the freshman's solid showings in relief of Ewing coupled with Ewing's inconsistent play. well," Mhey both handler it well," Miller said. "We made the decision at practice the day before and talked to Clo about it. She wants what's best for the team and she is struggling a little bit right now. Carla stepped right in and had a great start. But we'll continue evaluating the situation in practice."

Stretching its.
Stretching its winning streak to six games, Syracuse shut down George Mason's Camiting the team's leading limiting the teams leading scorer to one point and holding GMU (6-5) to three goals in an 8-7 SU win.

With the game knotted at \(3-3\), the Orangewomen untied the game with 3:04 remaining and never looked back.

Syracuse unleashed 32 shots in the game - its sec-ond-highest total of the season - but failed to get quality shots for good scoring opportunities, Miller said.

These were two evenly matched teams speed-wise with similar running styles, Miller said. "The defensive unit did a nice job and Carla made some great saves.

Keying the six-game unbeaten streak are better team defense and the best offensive balances S has ever pos. sessed, Miller said. Karen Healy and Wayne picked up the offensive production the injured Jenna Szyluk produced last season, she said.

The coach believes her team's win over GMU legitimized the Orangewomen as a possible NCAA Tournament team from the North.
"We could have packed it in and given up afterour first three losses," Miller said, "but we said, 'We're go ing to leara from this and move on.' We're putting the ball in the air with more trust in each other. And we have more people than ever who can step it up on any given day. We just have more veapons."

Miller believes increased communication among the defensive players is the key to the team's bolstered winning percentage. Now, SU is moving as a unit, decreasing the number of breakdowns and finding it easier toget to double teams and clog pass ing lanes, she added.

The Orangewomen did not practice Tuesday, resting before returning to practice Cor a road meeting with Boston College on Saturday gight and an afternoon showdown with Fairfield Univer sity on Sunday at the Carrier Dome.

The two weekend games begin a four-game make-orbreak week for the Orangewornen.

Miller said a four-game sweep, which would conclude at Cornell and home against Boston University, should poise SU for its first NCAA Tournament bid.

Despite the Orangewom en's current stretch of steady performances, Miller under stands one bump in the road could derail the team from a postseason berth.
"This win streak puts us in a better position, but we never want to put our fate in anyone else's hands," Miller said. "We want to control our destiny and we need to win one at a time. When the sea son comes to an end, we don't want a committee to have to pick us. We want them to have no choice but to do so."

\section*{The Daily Orange \\ Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{The 1st Year, SummerStarters, FAMM, and Afilifites}

\title{
DJ. KOMAR
} Spinning Raggae/Hip Hop/Old Skool

When in Hell...
by Eric Jones

Sleep Deprivation
by Ben Gabriel & Chris Tempas

Out of Town
So why do yeu guys obduct and experiment on people?

And what about the crop circles?

No Point
by Ethan Schmidt

Eat the Lettuce

Mr. Skizz

CROSSWORD
By THOMAS JOSEPH ACROSS 42 tritable 1-Diamond 43 Velocity Corners Construc- DOWN 1 Gion aid 1 Tub 11 Grownup 2 settings 12 Dwellings 2 Type of Series set committee On a liner 3 Soft carrier 4 Building 16 London's \(\quad 5\) wing 7 Pitching 8 Stat backdrops
21 Nest
22 acct. 9 Closest gurnshoe
23 Metal Tasteners
27 Connoisseur's

28 Kenan's pal from Saloon
29 Saloon features
34 Skating surface
5 Slippery one 36 Belfry resident
Welyn Waug
40 Composer Bruckner
41 Crest
by Thane Benson
Goatee Style
by Ryan Wickstrand

\section*{SU b}

While snowflakes swirled autside the Carrier Dome Tuesday afternoon, the Syracuse softball preparing for its upcoming games.

Most college teams in the Northeast would be at a major disadvantage on days like this, perhaps not even practicing because of the conditions.

However, the Orangewomen - who have had five games can Saturday - continued to hone their skills on the green carpet.
"It's something you expect in this type of weather and at a coldclimate school," head coach Mary climate school, head coach Mary that is a part of our sport, whether it be rain or snow. Even if it rains in California, you don't get to play."

Try All The Winning Varieties!
) нот роскетs
10 lean pockets-
«CROLSSANT Pockets :C toaster breaks-ICHOTPOCKETS• nand PIZZA MINIS•

The team hopes it can finally take the field again against Buffalo today at 4 p.m at the Softball Stadium at Skytop for a scheduled doubleheader.

If the weather does not cooperate, Firnbach said she would like to reschedule the games for Thursday if UB can fit them in its schedule. Monday's home twinbill with Harvard was also wiped out, though no makeup date has been determined.

Firmbach gave her squad the day off on Monday, which, along with the postponements, has given SU hurlers, Missy Bieman and Tara DiMaggio, time to rest their arms.

The Orangewormen won their ninth game in 12 tries on Saturday against Providence to improve to \(16-16\) in their inaugural campaign.

Despite not having played since Saturday, third baseman Jackie Herrman said she does not think the layoff will hurt much.
"I don't think this will ruin our momentum,"Herrman said. "I think it's good for our pitchers because they kind of need the rest. Hopefully, we'll come out stronger

Much of the Orange.
Much of the Ongewornen's

\section*{EMERCENCE}

\section*{continued from page 10}

He would not accept mediocrity. Three wins? To Pietramala, that was a joke.

Inheriting a team with a weak defense and weaker outlook, Pietramala instilled a plan that would allow the Big Red to capitalize on what he knew best.

At Johns Hopkins, Pietramala was a three-time first-team All-American close defender. The guy knows how to mark people up, and he taught his Cornellians

\section*{the same}

In Pietramala's first season at the helm, Cornell's goals against average fell by three. Last year, it dropped another goal to 8.92 per contest.

This season, the Big Red are the second-stingiest unit in the country Orangemen were the first to newfound confidence at the plate After struggling to score runs early in the season, Syracuse has found an offensive groove.

The real effects of this resurgence are seen on the scoreboard, not the stat sheet. Not one Syracuse regular is batting higher than .295 (Leah Hansen), but the Orangewomen are getting on base and crossing the plate more often. "I think they're getting a little more confident" " Firnbach said. Theyre just hitting better pitch es. Their pitch selection is much better right now, and were sure we can capitalize against the pitchers we're going to face.

Most of the Orangewomen had not faced collegiate pitching prior to this year, so the seasoning provided by the 32 games has helped.
"The more experience you get at bat, the better you're going to get, the more you know what pitch to swing at and what not to swing at, said Bieman, a junior college transfer who is one of the few Or ange women with college experi inc now what pitches we should be ing now wat pitahes we should winging at and staying focused.

SSU poise at plat urday against Providence. She hit tally in double digits against Cornell this year
"I couldn't care less,"
Pietramala said. "We said coming into this game that it didn't matter what the score was. If we could win this game, it would be the only hing that mattered."

They won, and in dramatic fashion.

Freshman attacker Michael Egan, playing in the biggest game of his young career, scored an unassisted goal from 10 yards out on the right wing.

Egan whipped his stick with Syracuse delensemen the ball or his cross or his the ball or his cross or his leg. They missed, but the frosh didn't.

This was a huge step for Cornell, a huge step in the right direction, said a long time coming.:

All the down days for Cornell were packed away with the triumph against Syracuse, and the memories of greatness past reemerged.

The thoughts of years past remain. A banner hangs on the wall next to the locker room at Schoellkopf. It is a reminder - and celebration - of sorts:
National Champions \(1971,1976,1977\)

Hey, another this year is not out of the question. After all, Cornell beat a Syracuse team that had drawn comparisons to the 1990 Orangemen, widely regarded as the best college lacrosse squad in history.

Cornell outplayed Syracuse, plain and simple, and it has the ability to do the same to any other team in the nation.

The comeback is complete.

The Big Red are 7-1
the first home run in team history after severad shots that came close in previous games.

I had a lot of conficience in that drive," Bieman said. "I had a good swing, and as soon as I made contact, I had a feeling it was going over the fence. It was a great feeling,"

Syracuse faces another fledgling program when Buffalo comes to town this afternoon. UB revived its squad this season after more than a decade away from the field.

Like their Upstate counterparts, the Bulls have had difficulties with the weather. Their first home game in 14 years was wiped put last Wednesday, giving the Bulls a full week to prepare for te Orangewomen.

At 4-22, the Bulls have not had the same success in their first year back as the Orangewomen. UB, however, has a higher tearn batting average (.271) than SU (.233).

It's going to be a battle. very team we play, we don't really know a tot about them, Firnbach said. They have struggled up to this point, so 1 just want our eam to come out and play our evel of ball.

They've won as many games as last season and should move up from their No. 9 national ranking. They also have five seniors out of 38 players.

Young, quick and awfully good. Especially in the uture
"I'm not worried about next year," Pietramala said sternly.

OK, OK, maybe we're getting ahead of ourselves Now is what counts, etramala said.

He has preached the "one game at a time" theme ohis trops, emphasizif they focus on the present. hey focus on the present. roud. You could tell by his uprigit posture and his halfgrin his cocked neck and his grin, his coice

Pietramala
Pietramalas deep bass echoed around the meeting the Big Red's locker room.

A few minutes after he egan speaking, Bruce Springsteen's "Glory Days" poured out of a stereo from next door.

A return to Cornell is near - a return to 1971 , 1976 and 1977 .

Hopefully," said attack man Andrew Schardt, "this commands a little respect for our program.
There's an easy way to tell. Stick your ear up to the ocker room door in Mays lemme know what you hear

Jeff Passan is an assis. tant sports editor at The Daily Orange, where his Daily Orange, where his columns appear regularly You can e-mail him at jspas san@syr.edu.

\section*{Painting Contest}

Bring colored skētched drawing to: MariAnne McDonald or Irma Amirall-Padansee Office of Multicultural Affairs by April 14 at 3pm

Final painting due May 2PaintingBring colored skētched drawing to:Padansee

105 Schine
los schine3pm

QUESTIONS or detalls por theve ?
 imalmira@summon2.syredu OR 443-9676Final painting due May 2

Term I May 30 - June 30 Term II July 10 - August 11 Term III Variable visit us at http://summer.binghamton.edu
or call
1.800.523.2105

Classes BEGIN MAY 30 REGISTER Now! offering over 200 day and evening courses in over 30 areas of study

\section*{'Next-to-nothing' words drown ideas}

I am tired of bullshit. And too. too. I refuse to write long-winded papers that use next-tonothing words to regurgitate the same things my professors have uttered relentlessly in class. The scary thing is, a lot of students write that Jane way because Rushmore they are carefrec acceptable. philosopher The content ing echoes their professors opinions, and the style mimics the wordy texts they read in class.

I am tired of next-to-nothing words. They are far more dangerous than meaningless words. I am seriously considering flinging the next book with a phrase like, "assembling this conglomeration of accumulated conglomeration" out the window Just say "based on the evidence \({ }^{n}\) if that's what you mean! Why is that so hard?

I am not calling for a neutering of the language or a tering of the lawn of concepts. No, what I am saying is that the ability to put complex ideas into simple terms is the best proof you need to understand a proof you need to understand a

My favorite person in the world is my seven-year old niece, Kayla. Her questions challenge me to take a very tough concept and explain it in a way she can understand. ideas in complex terms is the best indication of complete confusion.

So when I read a book full of next-to-nothing phrases, what did I do back in high school? I would write my response paper in the exact same style of course!

Have you ever noticed that when writing a tough paper, throwing a bunch of big words. gether is the easiest solution: ord has the byliter - the way it takes up more - that Plus, the odds are that another big word is needed to clarify the first one. Hopefully, the more next-to-nothings that are put together the greater the put together, the greater th substantial - anything

The beauty of it all is ta ing all that confusion and trying to make it meaning aul by ing to make it meaningful by The result is a paper full of everything except meaning. In tell you what it is full of, though, and you need a big shovel to dig through it all. It's shovel to dig through it like a big game of The with writing style.

Who can use the biggest words to mask the fact that nothing is being suid?

New beginning?
I can't help wondering, shouldn't I be taught to question next-to-nothing words and phrases? This is the first phrases? This is the first have urged me to think critical ly about such things.

Why has it taken so long? Critical thinking is of more value in the long run than regurgitating. I don't want to be spoon-fed ideas. Instead of telming us what femingway thought. why don't professor about Hemingway? 1 find th method or teaching so amo method coung so amusing could be sitting in front of the next Ereat thinker - : Kint, Melville or Clemen but I might never know, because they are never given the opportunity to voice their own opinion I to no a the of teaching that encourages me to teaching that encourges me to say, hay, douff and I think it's fluf because

1 realize that there are some important thinkers out there, and I want to learn about them. I also understand that professors need some basis to grade students on their understanding of the subject. However, I want to be able to distinguish my own thoughts on the matter before immersHow will I lnow if I ay else How will I know if I agree or disagree if I haven't been given the opportunity to decide here I stand on the matter?

Why doesn't our education

\section*{Wanna take over the WORLD...}

Your'e gonna have to start with an internship!
Great
Summer
And Fall
Internships
Still Available At
S.U.I.P.

Syracuse University Internship Program 113 Euclid Ave.
Ph.#443-4271 Hours: 8:30-5:00
system promote critical thinking from Day One?

Every time Kayla asks a question, \(I\) ask her what she thinks before I offer an answer. And she has some cooles of us would iou if riven the of us wo

Why don't professors offer us the same opportunity before us the same opportunity befor lelling us we should think a figure from history says so?

It's time to take matters into our own hands. Once in awhile, it's okay to murmur inder your breath is you re:id long. "Iley, that's a next-tohe ang word." Go ahead, the emperor hes not wearin any clothess.

Same Rushmore is a jumior magazine major. Her colthm appeers Widmesdays. Évmat her at jrrtashmowsuredu.

\section*{$THIS WEEK AT UUCINEMAS:} Wednesday and Thursday, April 12 th and 13 th

Friday and Saturday,
April 14th and 15 th
Gifford
Auditorium
7:00 &
9:30pm
Tickets are \($ 3\) for all shows

FREE © Midnight:
Horth by Morthwest
Your student fee... I've always relied upon the kindness of strangers.

\section*{The Daily Orange Classified Advertising}

The deadline for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Call 443-9793 for more information.

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

Camp Counselors. Jewish Communiy Center ot Greater ficchester Cama Seneca Lake is seekimg intomanaronappiczaion.

Nutsses: 3 Camp rurses ne eded for June 21 Juty 26 and Juve \(26+\) Augut 20 Fin or positions at Jewssh Communty Center's overnight chidteris camp on Seneca Lake Your chatren are Chndrens camp on Seneca Lake Your chidren ate welcome' Contact Hence at \(716-461 \cdot 2000 \times 263\) tor

TOP BOYS SPORIS CAMP IN MAINE! PLAY
SPORT. HAE FUN. MAKE SS CAMP

\section*{Faegans.}

Secure a job for fall...
Apply Now and train for Apoly Now and tran tor
a tat position. Doornan. Wall Stath.
hiosi ano Bar Stall.
Aust tme yeat round position at storage laciling Must wort well mith peopite and be corniontable with compulers. Less than a mile from the University compulers. Less than a mile from the University Please repty by tax mati on in person. fax \(-479-4156\) 314 Ainslay Dr. Syracuse. NY 13210.
FREE CASH Make UJ To \($ 120\) Per Hour Surting
The Web whw h- Webwnceshpad.net
Camp Counselors Top Overnight Camps in counselors 1.801 .533 -camp speciatist or www plnetorestcamp.com
HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMER! Prestigious coed college students a grads. seeks caring, mativated & SPECIALTY COUNS krds' GENERAi & SPECIALTY COUNSELORS needed. Joun a dedraled. fun team. Competitive sataries traveltroom board calt Camp Sadatiest travel+10 1-802-762-2820.
Camp Positions: Hiking, toDes course, nature, pood, in the Finger Lakes. These senior overnight cam experienced applicanis \(21 *\). Salanies \($ 1800\)-28D0 plus rocm and board from June 17 to August 20.
Contact Rerree at \(716-461 \cdot 2000 \times 263\) tor Contact Perree at \(716-461 \cdot 2000 \times 263\) io

ASSISTANT OIRECTOR Southeast Asian Genter Cormmunity conter ottitring classes. Must be flugnt in a Southeast Asian Language and Engtras college degree: good communication skills; mus

 3049 EGGeneste St, Syracuse. NY 13224
Deadhise May 10 2000.

If you are lookng to make a dfliarence in the lives of sorne very special chitdren and tammites this surumer then Camp Good Days needs you!
Postrions art eumentiy avaitabia for Surumar Postions arte eumentiy avaitabia for Summer Staif and volurtiers. For move information or applications, Please call Carmp Good Days 800-785-2135.

Pant time jobs. delivery drivers, dishwashers 8 waitstill apoly Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshall St.
Job Opportunities
Computer
Programmer/ Analyst
No experience needed!!
IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software SAS, C , \(\mathrm{C}++\), JAVA, ACCESS, SYBAS and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For details see imsweb.com or call toll-free (888)680-5057.
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{\begin{tabular}{l}
Biologists \\
No experience needed!? Earn up to 35K after 1 yr 40K after 2 years \\
IMS a biomedical sortware firm in Silver Spring. MD is offering a free 4 week programming course. We hire \(90^{\circ}\) o of stugents who take this course. Course sterts 6/12/00. For details see imswed.com or call \(18881680-5057\)
\end{tabular}} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Pte-medical siudent wanted to fiti lume position a: Dusy thectcal artice, while wating to hear from andical schovis \(452-2600\)

WANTED
Help Wanted

\section*{Sx500 weekly potential mading our circulars. No
Expenence Afequred Free information packet. Call} Expenence Required Free information packet. Cal \(202-452-7679\).
SFUNDRAISERS Open lo student groups \(&\) organizaticns. Eamn \($ 5\) pe: MC aprowe organizaticns. Earn \($ 5\) per MC apo. We supgly at matierials at no cost. Cati for info or vist: our mestite 1.800 .932 .0528 ex 165 winwormconcepts com wiwwocriconcepts com
WORK FROM: HOME UP tO S25.00/HP PT 575.00 'h FTT CALL FOR FREE BOCKLET
\(300-297.5670\)

\section*{FORRENT O.PR. \\ Developers \\ 4-5-6 Bedroom Homes / Town Houses Microwaves, dishwasher, washer, dryer, security systems remodeled Apt's \\ All Locations / Prices 478-6504}

913 Comstock 56 Bedroons Across Fiom
Womens Gym. All amenities, mid May tease Womens Gym. All amenities, mid May lease
S2400 S2400+
University Auve. Thee Bedroom Flat Close Waik to Campus furnished taundry parking lease \($ 875.00\) to Campus turnished laundry parking Apartments close to campus clean 2-3-5 bedroomi somes with fireplace laundry parking semifurnished reasonablo prico \(487-5761\).
UNIVERSITY
HILL REALTY 422-0709
pleasevisit our WERSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \multirow[t]{2}{*}{LUXURIOUS: 2story apthoft. Gourmet kitdin. Cusiom kungelva area. Skyight 15 h ceting ELEGANTLY OVERLOOXING PARK: Iivícin, \(1 \cdot 2.3\) Ddrms. off'stuoty, iacuzzibath porches. OSTROMMADISON: All apts furn 8 heated.} \\
\hline \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Aiz Conditoned 2 bedroom iurnishec aparment Laundry, parking. all utitities included. Available Maytor August One mite from campus \($ 240\) per Maytor Alugist one frite from campus \($ 240\) pet perscn. 425.1833 University Ave free bedroom House one block rom Marshall Street bumished laundry parking lease \($ 1,30000\) plus ultitues DN. Drucker \(445-1229\) Stop clean 3 bedroom apartments Fireptace, barking, IDundry, semi-furnished, walk to SU,
low price 43 -

\section*{L(.)(.) K \\ Safe & Secure}

Furnished 3 Bedrooms Porches, Laundry 655-2175

For details
University and Comstock Very close to Campu

\section*{Apartments}

Genesee ktanor Apts 2113 East Genesee spacious two bedroom 1.5 baths abundernt closet space to information Elaine 463-1 143

Furn:shed 2-5Bedroon Houses/ Apatments
Envingston. Sumner, Abxerman. Euciid 469-6655

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM BEDROOM' HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Large ciean 3Eedrocm thars Westorn, Groad St. rea. Hatdwood tioors. poiches, ott-street parkeng TOAD HALL
\(1 / 2\) block from campus.
Modern 2 bedroom apartments.

Wall to wall carpet
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. 302 Marshall St (across trom Haven). Univestity Area Apta 479-5005

One and Two Bedroon
Furnished Apartrments. Corner ol Walnur and Hanison Aventes. Leases Commence June hast Month Avendes. Leases Connmence June 2000.
Gecunly No Pets Allowed. Graduates Prelereed Cay 422.7755 Exeettent Apartment, 48r 2/Bath apt Fumished. 5 carpeted. walk to campus. Well maintamed. Lage 2 bedroom, 2 tull bath. Walking distance S. U. oft streel patking. Laundry Call 476.2982. 1. 122 Bedroom aitic aparment on quiel srreel. Unfurnished. Air concitioned wail to wall carpet new appliances. Suitable lor single or couple. Avatiable appliances. Suitable lor single or copiple. Avaitible une tsit 5350.00 per month plus utibije THREE BEDROOM APARTMENT TWO FULL BATHS, EUCLIO AVE, FREE HEAT GREAT LOCAT1
\(476-9933\)
\begin{tabular}{l}
******************* \\
Studio, One and Two \\ Bedroom Apts. close \\
to Campus. Laundry, \\
Parking, Lease, \\
Heated \\
\(440-6200\) \\
\(437-7577\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
1.2.3.4 85 Edrm Apartments. Mouses* Studios. Clean, Spacious. Superior Condition. some recently renovated. Walking distance. laundry.
patking \(474-6791\) PRIVATE FURNISHEO STUDIO APTS. 1011 E.Adams
509 University
Carpeted, Air Conditioned Secure, Laundry, Parking, Maintenance.

University Area Apts. www.universityarea.com

ONE, TWO, THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS.
Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease Avail June, July + Aug
445-0540
Unwersity 283 Bedroom Tomitouses & Flats. Inexpensve and mant condillon, Washer, Cryer
Freplace.linisheo basement, Call \(\alpha 49.0109\).

Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Waking distance
S . 4 off streat parkng. Laurdry Call 476.2382 .
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
LANCASTER AVENUE \\
2:3 Bedroom Apartments Oulstanding Condison Fuly Furrished Call Arne Cervini 424-0220 X428
\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Euclid and Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR \\
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch Beautiful Condition June & August lease \\
Ben Tupper 637-0978
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline Ackerman Ave. nice 3 bedroom Hat. turnished slove, refing, laundry, fireplace. garage. Avait June 15 t 446-4229 \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
2.5 Bedroom Apartments Avatabale: Firepiace \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
Great Univorsity Area Beautiful
Moder 182 drmm Come now 4 get your choico Alin Now Appl. Socure Buidiongy finter moms. Door Roleases: Custom Binds. Poret or Patio. Cill ate \\

\end{tabular} \\
\hline toouing tor a place to live? umwhousinglot. net. Four move of campus!
Free roommate sublet listings \\
\hline 2 Bedroom Apts 202, 205 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Fooms Hantwood Floors Avail June or Aug \(446-5186\) \\
\hline  \\
\hline ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT EUCLID AVE SPACIOUS, IIEAL FOR ONE ORTWO ERSONS FREEMEATGGEAT LOCATON \(476-993\) \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

502Cierencion large clean 2Bedroom flat hardwood Woors poich atf-stree! parking lyr iease secunty
6.40 inctuces heal 446.8928

3 Bedroam Modern Aparlment on Aderria:
Avenue. \($ 220.00\) per person plus ullities.
-Free Laundry'. Setious Situdents Preterred. No Peis 254-0025 204 Ostrom Efliciency One and 2Bedroom Secture Birg Laundry Parkng Very Clean

\section*{O.P.R.}

Developers 1,2,3-4
Bedroom Apts
dishwashers, microwaves, disposal,
security systems
All Locations Prices
478-6504

\section*{Houses}
 Avail 1 Jun \(488-5066\)

RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM HOUSE.
TWO FIREPLACES
FURNISHED GREAT PORGHES,

\section*{UNIVERSITY \\ HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM PARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM FURNISHEDGREATEPLACES, 476-9933} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

 Ca114999959, 637.5195

\section*{SUBLET}

\section*{Summer}

Avatable Mia May. Mit August. Close 10 Campus.
\(3+4\) bedroom Lurbished apartmens. Al uhibies naluded. S185.00 per petrson. 677.3050 . Acherman avaiable Junel-Augustr5. Huge Achninhan avaikabe \(1,2,3,4\) bedroom lial, Great porch, panking 446 -3420 Summer Staa! \($ 195.00\) mo with all utidities block from campus Avrithbe modem apaitment one August Off street parting, taundry \(577-3050\) Summer Sublets Available. A variety of sizes and locations. University Anea Apts 479 -5005

SERVICES
Travel
率

\section*{Small town simplicity shines over big city}

Irm a city kid - always have been and probably always will be.
love the diversity of city life: the cosmopolitanism, the energy, people, sounds, smelis and overall essence that makes up big city life. citying in Adeet and around Deshmukh city to many slicker things before I came here: live music, all kinds of muse ums, art galleries, gay co ples making out on the street corners of the gay district, a.k.a. Boystown.

Growing up and being exposed to al these experi gave me an entirely unique and different perspective, and it made me who I am It's a drastically different experience compared to someone who grew up in a small town in Nowhere, Pennsylvania

I remember always cringing and shivering at the stories my friends would tell stories my friends would tell me about their small town and how it only had one stop light and a \(7-11\). I remember shaking my head in exasper ation at the thought of a place where the population was homogenous, a place where people entertained themselves at the local bar, hiking, sitting in front of the television set or getting high in the woods behind old man I always house. I always looked down at small town life and stuck my nose \(u p\) in the air at the that didn't qualify as a large city. This past weekend I went to a place I would call nowhere, a small town in Bucks County, Pennsylvania called Sellersville. It is a town with 2,500 or so mostly white, church-going people. And I ended up having one of the best weekends of my semester.

Talk about homogeneous.
During the time I was in Sellersville, I experienced many things I normally would never do, such as climbing up a tree (or attempting to), and hiking through a field of large rocks and boulders. I did all this with great fascination and clumsiness - wearing clothes and shoes meant for looking hot in a dance club, not up in a tree.

More importantly, I spent time with the Eberts family, and it was that experience that made me change the way I feel and look at small towns and small-town life.
said Ben Katz, editor in chief of The Williams Record at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.

Professional newspapers with higher circulation, such as The Globe and The New York Times, enjoy an inherent credibility, and as a result, don't have to rely as heavily on expert opinion as college publications, Appelbaum said.

Wagmansaid he "would love" for The Maneater to publish more "concept" stories - stories concerning trends and common culture hat onen lack hard news or statistics.

Although student papers are a work in progress, nary a fact in our paper goes unattributed," Wagman said. "The newspaper is not the gospel, it is a particular description of a particinformative, but the information is not from Mount Sinai."
A 1998 Nando Media poll reported 27 percent of Americans trust the newspaper they read, trust the newspaper they read, compared to the read their local newspapers regularly.

Many professional papers have established loyal readership bases after becoming corship bases anter becoming ities.
"We believe our readers have a basic trust in our accuracy and independence," Storin said. "Letters that are received when we

Just like home
The Eberts family was incredibly warm and inviting and made my overall experience in their home and in their town absolutely wonderful. It played a crucial role in making me realize that even though the town night be small and unsoohisticated in my eyes, the people really make the dif-

Whil
While I was there I felt a sense of coziness and closeknit community friendship manating from each house ricay evening's local high example Dican as a prime sion I saw that most of the ion, 1 saw that most of the people and Mrs Eberts seemed to know almost veryone and their mother

At the dinner table, conversation revolved around what was going on around town, who's son andlor daughter was going to college where, and old memories of high school plays and tennis matches.

All of these are things that I never got to experiaround a large city, and for the first time I felt like missed out on something. realize that this feeling has a lot more to do with family than the city/small town paradox, but there is something about small-town life that you just can't find in a thriving metropolis - not like I found in Sellersville, Pa .

Everything seemed to be so pure, simple and innocent, people just living out their lives and doing their thing, making their own pace and creating their own fort It is something that I found to be appealing on a fund amental level it is something that I prew to respect and admire in the short time that I was there.

Don't get me wrong, it was a great place to visit, there, not under any circumstance. I cherish my city upbringing, all that it has given to me and all that I learned from it. And when 1 grow up, l'm going to get a swanky high-rise apartment with a doorman and a skyline for a view

This past weekend, though. I came to realize and to admire the simplicity and oziness that 1 found in a small town like Sellersville.

Adeet Deshmukh is a senior photojournalism and sociology major. He is also Orange photo editor at The Daily Orange. E-mail him at AdeetDesh@aol com

Please write the Environmental Defense Fund at:
257 Park Ave. South, NY, NY 10010 for a free brochure.

\title{
LOW STUDENT
AIRFARES \\ Europe • Africa • Asia • South America \\ More Than 100 Departure Cities! Eurailpasses • Bus Passes • Study Abroad
}

College publications that have been publishing for a substantial amount of time establish credibility similar to that of more mainstream newspapers.
"We have been around since 1895, but more than the longevity, our tradition of excellence weighs heavily in our favor \({ }^{\prime \prime}\) Appelbaum said. The Daily Pennylvanian has a high degree of credibility with students, faculty and staff, and because we treat it seriously, we are taken seriously." y."

Perhaps the traditional pursuit of the truth is no longer the bsolute goal of newspapers.

Readers shouldn't believe everything they read,' Wagman aid. And because the truth can it is better to aim for the truth, and in the process tell some good stories." \\ \\ } \\ \section*{GTUDENI TRAVEL \\ \section*{GTUDENI TRAVEL \\ \\ Cheaper than Tuition... \\ \\ Cheaper than Tuition... more fun than Body Piercing more fun than Body Piercing \\ \\ Student ID's \\ \\ Student ID's \\ \\ Travel Insurance \\ \\ Travel Insurance \\ \\ Special Student Airfares \\ \\ Special Student Airfares Raund The World Journeys Raund The World Journeys \\ \\ Eurail Passes \\ \\ Eurail Passes \\ \\ Beds on a Budget \\ \\ Beds on a Budget \\ \\ Adventure Halidays \\ \\ Adventure Halidays Great Travel Products Great Travel Products \\ \\ 800-777-0112 \\ \\ 800-777-0112 \\ \\ STA TRAVEL \\ \\ STA TRAVEL \\ \\ WEVE BEEN THERE} \\ \\ WEVE BEEN THERE}

Poison control
A New Jersey pharma. ceutical company will make an emergency supply of sodium pentobarbitol to alleviate a shortage of the lethal drug needed to destroy an estimatsick or unwanted animals each month. The Washington-based Humane Society of the United States said Ganes Chemical Works, of Pennsfield, N.J.. will resume limited production of the drug while the company makes changes in its manufacturing systems to comply with warnings by the Food and Drug Administration. Ganes is the country's only supplier of sodium pentobarbitol, used both as a humane killer for animals and an anesthetic for humans and animals.

\section*{Sprouting up}

Citing funding prob lems. Herbalife International Inc. Chairman Mark Hughes scrapped plans to buy the Los Angeles-based company and take it private, adding yet another chapter to the controversial history of the marketer of nutritional and weight-loss products. Monday's announcement sen Herbalife's two publicly traded stocks plunging. even though Hughes had earlier warned that he was struggling to obtain the necessary cash to complete the \($ 223\) million deal. The buyout's collapse becomes the latest adverse development in the history of Herbalife. which Hughes founded in 1980.
Eat your words Swearing is an art. Sadly, however, the medium has been. taken over by a paint-by-numbers crowd that is totally lacking in creativi ty, nuance and. most annoy ingly, discretion. Jirn OConnor is out to change that. The Illinois public-relations executive wants to curb the pervasive cursing that he says has entered every corner of our culture. He has written a book called -Cuss Control: The Complete Book on How To Curb Your Cursing which he said he was inspired to write after actively curbing his own cursing.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"Is it progress if a cannibal uses a knife and fork?
Stanislaw Lec

Sapna
Kollali, editor 443 -2128 life(abdaily orangecom

College journalists struggle to maintain credibility in a field stained by professional scandal.

\section*{BY DOUG LEVY}

Contributing Writer
Boston Globe columnist Patricia Smith was riding high in the summer of 1998 when her journalistic abilities were lauded by the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Months later, the Pulitzer prize finalist fell from grace when one of her editors discovered that Smith fabricated sources.

But Smith was not the only Globe staff member who violated journalistic ethics that suminer. Columnist Mike Barnacle resigned from The Globe amid accusations that he plagiarized comedian George Carlin.
The Barnacle and Smith episodes seerned to be well-received by the public, even as journalists beat their breasts in embarrassMent Editor Mathew Globe Editor Matthew Sh.
Should an similar incident have occurred at a college newspaper, editors would have had a much more difficult time restoring credibility with its readers.
"College newspapers probably have tough stan dards because they cover such a relatively narrow swath of news - the world of the cam knows or thinks he or she knows the facts," Storin said.

Storin eredits The Globe's credibility to its 128 years of experience in the busiyess and to stories that elicit community reforms.
"Many of our investigative stories bring immediate results," Storin said. "Which only enhances our credibility.*

Each day, Syracuse Universi ty sophomore Jade Hall reads The New York Post and The Daily Orange.
ange for news on the last 24 ange for news on the last 24 From the D.O. I look more for news about student events and campus life, not national and world news.

College newspapers face significantly different problems than those that professional newspapers do. An
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \begin{tabular}{l}
THURSD \\
April 13, 2000
\end{tabular} & \[
\mathbf{A Y}
\] \\
\hline  & \begin{tabular}{l}
46/34 \\
Sunshine with aftemoon clouds and light wind Friday: Showers 60/47 Saturday: Showers 66/50
\end{tabular} \\
\hline briefs comics ifestyle \(+. .-\quad . \quad 17\) \(\qquad\) & \begin{tabular}{l} classifieds...t8 \\
editorial .......-5 \\
sports.......... 20
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\title{
[briefs]
}

Compiled from Los Angeles Times, Washington Post news service

\section*{tidbits}

Firm clears Fox of negigence charges HOLLYWOOD - FOX has completed an -internal review \({ }^{-}\)into events that led to its national embarrassment following the broadcast of -Who Wants to Marry of MulthMillionaire? \({ }^{-}\) with an outslde law fim with an outslde law fir finding there was no finding there was no negligence by the netnegligence by the network or production comwork or production company, Next Entertainment.
The highrated February sweeps special became fodder for jokes nationwide when it was revealed that a former girtriend of the groom - a stand comic named Rick Rockwell - obtained e estraining order against him in 1991. Questions related to Rockwell's financtal status and surfaced.

\section*{Celebrity marnager} jailed for looting
NEW YORK - Dana Giacchetto. the high-t ang money manager lions of dotlars from his celebrity clients, was jailed Wednesday after prosecutors said he was caught with a doctored passport, a bag of cash and scores of airline tickets for foreign destinations.

His arrest on charges of violating the terms of his \($ 1\) million bail bond was the latest twist in the saga of a money manager who befriended and allegedly bilked such young stars as Leonardo DiCeprio Ben Affleck. Matt Damon and members of the music group Phish. Giacchetto's lawye said his client wasn't tying to flee prosecution. He just wanted to go to Rome as a romanmarriage to his girtfriend, the tawyer said.

\section*{High-dose chemo} deemed unnecessary In what may well be the detinitve word on high-dose chemotherepy plents for intractable breast cancer, the longest-nuning national study has concluded the procedure is no more effective than standard-dose chemotherapy

The firding, which confirms earty research on metastatic breast cancer, makes it highly unlikely that future stud les will reverse the conclusion.

Aetna/US Healthcare recently announced it would no longer underwrite the procedure for women who sought it

\title{
Student found dead at frat
}
(U-WIRE) KENT, Ohio -utopsy results Monday on a John Carroll University freahman shed no light on what cauged the 19-year-old to collapse and die at a Kent State Delta Upailon rave party over the weekend.

Jared R. Chrzanowski, of Willoughby, was pronounced deadat Robingon Memorial Mospital at 4:28 a.m. Sunday, Kent police said. Paramedics were called at 3:43 a.m. and reaponded to the fraternity house bers found Chrzonowsidi unconscious and unrespon
Police said there were no igns that Chrzanowski had been in a fight, and there was no evidence of drug ure in the fratermity house.

The party was by invitation only, and Chrzanowski was invited by a fraternity brother, Pfahl gaid. The fraternity posts people at the door to check identification. They use a system called the "A-Team" during parties, where brothers wear radios to comy lems to each other. These membera btay sober.

Two disc jockeys, one at the ground level and one in the basement, played techno mu aic. A erowd bumped on the dance floor downstairs, and some people surrounded the som.
"I didn't see anybody doing any drugs," a second source said. But you could tell by the environment that there were probably arugs there. It was an cidered 'rave like' in appear andered 'rave-like' in appear ance."

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
- The R.A.P.E. Center hosts a relationship abuse awareness concert at \(8: 30\) p.m. in Perc Place.

ESU Chancellor EEenmeth A. Shaw speaks at \(5: 30 \mathrm{p}\).m. at the Carrier Dome regriling his review of the Ar Force ROTC program.

ESollecito Landscaping presents "Northern Erposure, An Alaskan Perspective" at \({ }^{7}\) Pim. at Borders Books and Music, 9777 Carousel Center Drive. The program presents ob servations and ideas gathered during a recent two-week ex ploration of Alamka's interior and South Central region.
- The Syracuse Macintosh Users Group meets from 5 to 9 P.m. at the Sky Deckr of Carousel Center. The topic of the meeting is "Editing Video on the Macintosh With iNavie is free.

\section*{FRIDAY}

Author Rebecea Ezadcliffepreseate "The Silent Scream: The Inner Violence o Eating Disorders" workshop from 8:30 a.m. to p.ma. at Druminag, 800 Notting ham 5606 to register.
- Naturalist Michael Houck speaks at 7:30 p. wn. in um, 1130 Salt Springw Rd cear Le Moyne College. He will speak of The Evolution of a Regional Greenspaces Master Plan."

The Career Develop ment Center hosts a "Job Hunt Marathon Session" from 2 p.m to 5 p.m. in Newhouse I, Room A2.
n California-based acoustic duo, The Red, performas at 7:30 p.m. at Borders Book and Muasc, 9777 Carowser Cen er Drive. Borders also onosts a forum for a forum for gay, lesbiaz and the same time.

To make a contribietion to the comput calendar, calif the news department at 443-2127. Scebmis at newsedailyorange.com

\section*{[dä]}

The Daily Orenge is published Moenday through Friday darime Syracuse University's acadecric year is distributed on campus witiz the first ive copits complementary and each additional copy coste \($ 1\).

\section*{Anti-drug agents slain in Mexico}

MEXICO CITY - The bodies of three Mexican anti-drug investigators working in TVuana have been found with apparent torture wounds in what officials Blayings of federal manti-narcotics slayings of feder agents in years.

The deaths come amid a wave of bloodshed in Mijuana, home drug organization. President drug organization. President step up efforts to curb drag violence there and in other border cities.

Federal authorities sent the three agents to Baja California on \section*{Reno advises Elian's family}

MIAMI - Attorney General Janet Reno flew to Miami to make one last, personal effort to convince Elian Gonzalez's Miami relvince Elian Gonzalez's Miami relatives to cooperate in returning the boy to his Cuban father.
Government officials said she hoped to persuade Lazaro Gonzalez, the great-uncle who has rerused to relinquish the boy, to fly Thursday to Washingon whin her and Elian. Then, a meeting could take place between point - before or after that meet ing, dependirg on what apreement was reached - the 6-year-old would be formally handed over.

But even if she can persuade Lazaro Gonzalez, the boy's father, Juan Miguel Gonzalez, again retives before "physical and legal custody" of Elian is transferred. Officials anid that Reno acted out of "instinct." A Mianni native who has repeatedily praised the CubanAmerican community and expressed her love of southern Florida, she believed it was worth one more personal effort to resolve the more personal effort to resolve the controver*y in a "cooperative" way that would not inflict further trauma or Elian.

\section*{national news}

\section*{Stock markets take huge hits \\ Court rejects Sheppard plea}

NEW YORK CITY - After a third consecutive loaing session, the NASDAQ was 25 percent off a record high it hit March 10 . Markets are considered to be in a "bear" condition when they plunge 20 percent or more.

The technology-laden NASDAQ dropped 286.26, or 7.1 perits secon, 9.64 . The decine was its second-bigyest ever in terms of points, and the sixth-largest in gercentage terms. The blue-chip which had been up for average, Which had been up for mulach of the day, finally succumbed to the downdraft, falling 161.95 , or 1.4 percent, to 11, 125.13 . The loss ended a two-day winning streak. The broader Standard & Poor's 500 also fell, sheddin 33.40 points, or 2.2 percent, to \(1,467.19\).

The NASDAQ, which had been up as much as 24 percent for the year, is now in negative territory for 2000 , dowa 7.4 per3. The technology sellofi began early Wednesday when Richard Sherlund, an analyst for Goldman Sachs, cut his third-quarter revenue outlook for Microsoft Corp. to \($ 5.75\) billion, from \($ 5.95\) billion. billion.
land jury added the final cherland jury added the final chapter to one of the nation's longest-running murder mysteries running murder mysteries Wednesday when it ruled againgt the family of Sam Sheppard in a the family of Sam Sheppard in a civil lawsuit that sought to prove civil lawsuit that sought to prove the wealthy osteopath was innothe wealtiy osteopath was innocent in the 1954 beating death of cent in the 1954 be his pregnant wife.

After a 10 -week civil trial, a Cuyahoga County jury unanimously rejected the claim of Sam Reese Sheppard that his father was innocent in the sensa vision series and big-screen vision aeries and big-screen

The younger She
7 years old and asleep in his room on the night of July 4 , 1954 room on the night of Muly 4, 1954 , killed in the couple's bedroom in suburban Cleveland. The older Sheppard was convicted of the crime and served 10 yeara in prison before the verdict was erturned.
The younger Sheppard aued the atate of Ohio for a declaration of innocence for his father. But the Court of Common Pleas jury dore rejecting that claim fore rejecting that claim.

\section*{world news}

March 1 in their effort to beef up investigations into the groups that control much of the cocaine, heroin and other drugs amuggied into the United States. The officials were reparted missing Monday, prompting a search by authorities on both sides of the bor\(\frac{\text { thar }}{\text { der. }}\)

\section*{Famine begins}

\section*{in Ethiopia}

GODE, Ethiopia - A famine is in the maling in the arid reach en of Afrieas flom Children by the humdreds already have perished in southeastern Ethiopia, and aid agencies are mounting a massive effort to prevent the country from once again becoming a synonym tarvation.
the United Nations warns are at mian in as 16 million people East and in 10 countries across rundi to Eritral Africa, from Bu But the crisis is unfoldiog most dramatically here in Ethiopia's perennially thirsty \(\mathrm{O}_{\mathrm{gad}}\) en region. where three yeara of drought turned wells steadily saltier, then Cattle up.
Cattle and sheep died first, impoverishing the nomadic herding population. The final harbingrams since 1972, according to the USA Wrestling Web site at www.thermat.com.

\section*{NATIONAL}

\section*{continued from page 1}

In June 1998, Boston College phased out men's lacrosse, water polo and wrestling. The teams will complete their final un at BC at the end of the BC lso added.

BC also added women's rowing at the varsity level and pumped 47 additional scholarships into it and its other 15 rector of Athletics Eugene DeFilippo said.
Within the next three years, the total number of scholarships awarded, plus the number of opportunities for participation, will be about equal between men and women, DeFilippo said.
\({ }^{\text {"We must, and we should, }}\) offer the same opportunities for legiate athletics that we offer to egiate athletics that we offer to men, he said. Obviously, we had some very tough decisions to providing fair and equitable opportunities for young men and women to pursue an excellent education while participating in intercollegiate sports.

Last year, five more schools canned wrestling, including Brigham Young University, the University of New Mexico and SU varsity wrestling officially ends at the end of the 2000-2001 season, only 90 Division I wrestling programs will remain, according to the USA Wrestling Web site.
"Wrestling can get picked because of Title IX," Kroll aid. "It is one of the lowest represented sports by scholarship opportunities. In women's rowing, there are more scholarships than women in high schools who participate."

Title IX advocates such as Dor of the Women's Sports Foun-

Between 1992 and 1997 , more than 200 male teams and 20,000 male athletes vanished from the college sports scene. from the college sports scene.
Only 5,800 women, however, Only 5,800 women, new opportunities on the athletic fields, courts and rinks athletic fields, courts and r

For every new woman in college sports, four men lost the chance to play.

The expenses of other sports plays a revenue aports such as wrestling.

Cornell boasts 34 varsity sports, 17 each for men and women. But its football and men's basketball programs spend much less money than SU, Kroll said. SU's teams fly to almost every road game and can use a combined 98 full-tuition Athletic Compliance Deo its ment.
year budget," Kroll added "That's one road trip for the football team, more or less. The (wrestling) alumni said it will sponsor the team on a year-toyear basis. But not having them just makes life easier for the administrators."

Left with little recourse once universities rule, some wrestlers have challenged a school's ability to slash a program

Three years ago, the University of California at Bakersfield attempted to cap the number of male wrestiers in its program as National Organization for Women, according to a press release from the Center For Individual Rights based in Washington, D.C.
In a consent decree between NOW and Cal-State, the university pledged to bring its athletic budget within 10 percent of the percentage of women enrolled at he university But Stephe

But Stephen Neal, a national champion heavyweight grapnia State University Board of

\section*{WOMEN}
continued from page 1
wrestling programs.
Head lacrosse coach Lisa Miller, howev. er, tells a different story.
Yes, Do I feel sorry about wrestling being cut? Yes, she said. "Do I think it is my'direct responsibility? No. Administrators make deci-bions.-:

Lacrosie has a two year record of \(21-11\) and currently stands at 5 -2 for the 2000 season. Soccer went 12-6-2 in 1999. In its first year, SU softof its last 12, has fics last 12

Although Miller is not happy that wresting and gymnasher program, men's sports for receiving punishment are yearis of discrimination againet yoars of discrimination ags
"Instead, you look at the women and say, 'Well, we just added you," Miller said. Equality is viewed as inequity ini men's eyes because they have had everything. resent the comparison.

She cites other inequities in men's sporte, especially the high price of football and basLetball. Shepoints a finger at excessive spending for pre-game stays in hotels.

Not everybody, however, shares Miller's ws on Title IX
Head softball coach Mary Jo Firnbach instead looks at the intentions of Titie DX and its successes:

Firnbach eaid the team is operating without a set budget. To begin ita program the team needis to buy an excesgive amount of oquipment, ranging from bats and balls to batStadium at Skytop.
men and women in the student body.

This aspect of Title IX might be itg biggest flaw, Kroll said. unting heads now," he said. "I have 36 guys on my wresthing team. If I wanted to have a 37 th , a walk-on that would be ab solutely free to the university, I as of January 2000

Glt's not just dollars, they're counting heads now. I have 36 guys on my wrestling team. If I wanted to have a 37th, a walk-on that would be absolutely free to the university, I couldn't have him on the team. I hope people will realize this has gone too far. ROB KROLL
Cornell University wrestiing coach
dation, argue that the legisla. tion equalizes opportunities for men and women.

But USA Wrestling statistics tell a different story.

Eight years ago, in an inYestigation of the effects of Title IX and the growth of women's sports, the NCAA conducted its The first follow-up to the main study, conducted in 1997 , showed that men's sports suffered more than women's sports gained from Title IX.

Trustees in an effort to keep the tact, the release sijp

In February 1999 , a U.S. District Court in Washington, junction which prohibited CalState from capping the number of wrestlers that participated on the team, according to the release.

The year before, the university dismissed seven wrestlers to equalize the ratio of men and women participating in intercollegiate sports with the ratio of couldn't have him on the team. "I hope people will realize that this has gone too far."

As the struggle in Califor nia continues, Keep Syracuse Wrestling President Sonny Greenhalgh said his group will discuss filing a suit against SL Director of Athletics Jake Crouthamel and the school.
"We don't necessarily have to win the lawsuit," he said, "bui enough so that they'll reconsidf'm happy to be here. I'm happy to have my job. And I'm happy for athletes to have the chance to tcompete.

\section*{MARY 10}

FIRNBACH
softball coach

Hut once the program is established, the team will be on a set budget, Firnbach said.

Regardless of monetary concerns, Firnbach said she is excited for the future of her program and supports Title IX.
-The overall purpose and point is good with the opportunities created for women," she said. "Unfortunately, men's sports pay the price for us getting in.
"I'm happy to be here. I'm happy to have my job. And I'm happy for athletes to have the chance to compete."

Jenna Szyluk, a rare twosport athlete, has competed in all four soccer and all three lacrosse seasons.

Not including this lacrosse season, Szyluk has started all 29 lacrosse games and all 77 soccer games. In soccer, she has metted 74 paints and scored 9 points on the lacrosse field. the opportunities Title vides and is quick to point out that it is not vides and is quick to point out th
"I think it has progressed women's sports, but there is still a ways to go, she said. Weregetting there because of Titie IX Were just trying to equalize sports, and a 10 with Title IX.
"People use Title IX in the wrong way."
Promoters of Title IX say the U.S. Women's National Soccer team would never have captivated the country if it were not for the 1972 legislation.
"If you talk to any female athlete or coach across the board, they feel badly, Miller said. They been discriminated against for years, and now (men are) catching that end, and that's not what sports is about.

\section*{Battle of the Sexes}

The number of schools that sponsor NCAA Division 1 sports

\section*{The Daily Orange}

The deadine for classified advertisements is 2 pm two business cays prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only Call 4439793 for mare irformetion.

\section*{Residents}

BY JOE PIRANEO Staff Writer

Syracuse University is planning a more than \($ 2\) million renovation for the Marshall Street and South Crouse Avenue area, said Elizabeth Rougeux, director of state relations and government communications.

Rougeux discussed the plan and other concerns for university-area neighbors at a forum Wednesday night between SU officials and the South Eastern University Neighborhood Association.
"We have talked about the plan for a number of years," Rougeux said to about 40 people in attendance. "We have finally gotten the funding to start the project."

The plan will be carried out in two phases, she said.

The first phase includes tearing down all utility poles and wires and then burying the wires underground, Rougeux said. The estimated cost for the plan is \($ 2\) million and will start as soon as students leave in May and continue until students return in September, she said.

The second phase, which is scheduled to take place next summer, is called Streetscape. In this phase of the prolaid in the area and new light posts will be laid in the installed.
talled.
"This
"This phase of the program is basically a beautification of the area," said Rougeux. "We will put in benches and owers to make the area look nice.

A movie theater is also in the works for the Marshall Street area, but formal plans have not been made. said Rougeux.
trafic problems also topped resia and traffic problems also topped residents \({ }^{\circ}\) ist of concerns.

NPI is a joint-progran between Syracuse police and St Public Safety to increase weekend patrolling of universityarea neighborhocdis in search of general Both Both the number of case investigations and the number of students referred to the

Syracuse residents and university officials explore various concerns of universityarea neighbors at a forum Wedresday might SU Office of Judicial Affairs each weekend has been significantly reduced, Syracuse Police Sgt. Joe Cecile said.

In comparison to the 1999 Fall Semester, complaints for liquor law violations and violations of the noise ordinance have fallen from 47 complaints to 9 this semester, he said.
"The calls for the NPI have been significantly reduced and the program has been extremely effective," Cecile said.

Anastasia Urtz, director of Judicial Affairs, said the overall number of students charged by the office have also gone donts wigne charged by Judicial Afrairs and dents were charged by the spring, 48 students were charged.

We are very pleased and have high hopes to have a positive ending to the chool year."
Sylvia

Sylvia Martinez-Daloia, director of community relations and government communication relations, addressed questions regarding traffic problems in the campus area.

Among the residents' and officials" greatest concerns were speeding cars on Comstock Avenue.

Martinez-Daloia said the speed limit may be reduced on Cornstock Avenue as a solution to the problem. The university may install a delayed trafic signal at the intersection of Comstock and Euciid Avenue to increase the safety of pedestrians in the neighborhood, she added

The university is also putting in a request for a stoplight at Comstock and East Adams streets, Martinez-Daloia said.
"We realize that traffic problems in the university area are extremely important," Martinez-Daloia said. We want to work these concerns diligently,"
Among the additional concerns of SE UNA was the selling of alcohol at the Carrier Dome.
"Syracuse University is supposedly a student centered research university," said Harry Lewis, president of the association "Why is the university selling alcohol at "Why is the Dome?"

Lou Marcoccia, senior vice president of SU business, finance and administration services, said the university has taken steps to encourage responsible drinking such as not allowing alcohol to be served after the second half at all student athletic contests.
whe Carrier Dome is an educational facility," said Andrea Brand, a university area resident. "What are you teaching the students if you are selling alcohol? \({ }^{\text {n }}\)

Brand said she was also concerned about the general respect university stu dents have for the neighborhoods sur rounding SU . She said she wakes up every Saturday morning with beer cans all over her front lawn and her flowers stolen.
"The flowers being gone isn't some thine that you call the police for" Bran said. "But it is something that really pisses me off the rest of the day."

Overall, both the neighbors and officials said the meeting went well and the communication should continue between the neighbors and the university.
"The university wants to be a good neichbor to the commanity" Martinez Daloia said whese ratherings keep up the Daloia said. These gatherings keep up th communication and plish its goal."
Lewis said that great steps have been taken and must continue in improving the relationship between the university and the city.
"The meeting itself went well," Lewis said. "The university is the largest mem ber on campus and we as the resident want to let it know how we feel. We appre ciate the university's help thus far and hope it continues.?

\section*{Spice up your night with our South~Western Grill menu.}

Come join us at the Goldstein Alumni and Faculty Center for dinner on Tuesday, April 25th from 5-8 pm

Reservations are required, please call \(x \sim 3102\)

Supercard, Visa/MC, cash, or Interdepartmental Order are accepted.

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Implementation of Title IX falls short}

They run the court with authority, sail over hurdles with ease and shoot off of starting blocks at lightening speed.

They play hard. They play to win. They are women.

But without 1972's landmark Title IX ruling, which required all universities to provide equal athletic opportunities for both men and women, these talented athletes might never have the chance to chase their dreams of glory.

More than two decades later, universities nationwide are still scrambling to comply with the ruling.

And at Syracuse University, compliance comes at an unacceptable price: elimination of the 78-year-old men's wrestling dynasty.

SU added three new women's varsity sports over the past five years - a great victory for up-and-coming women's athletes.

But with SU's staggering athletic budget - fueled mainly by the massive take from football and basketball fans - there's no excuse to deprive the university's grapplers of their time on the mat.

True athletic equity can't be based on how loudly season ticketholders scream in the stands.

Under NCAA standards, the SU football team receives 85 scholarships to dole out each year, compared to paltry award offerings on most non-revenue teams. Coaches may argue that the Orangemen need the massive number of yearly awards in order to ensure depth - and dollars - for future seasons.

But when a full scholarship goes to a man who rides the pine for the whole sea son, waiting for his chance on the field, other talented athletes who help SU earn NCAA titles go unnoticed, shouldering the full tuition burden despite their athletic prowess.

The sleight is a travesty.
Paring down team budgets would go a long way, too. Men in the basketball jerseys are no more worthy of a chartered flight to a tournament than men in wrestling singlets.

Other universities have successfully harnessed the support of alumni athletes to build beefy endowments to keep non-revenue teams afloat. SU would do well to follow their lead.

But creating a framework for tomorrow's alumni requires keeping their programs in existence today. An athlete who loses two years of varsity eligibility after his sport is cut isn't likely to donate dollars to rebuilding a team after graduation. But one who celebrated four successful seasons might be.

Athleticism is a gift. Those who possess it deserve every opportunity to hone their talent at the collegiate level. SU is nickel and diming its way to athletic equality. It's not a winning game plan.

[dö]
Editor is Chief Dave Levinthal Dave Levintulal
Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

\footnotetext{
 Dusneres \(443-2314.4 A\)

}

\section*{opinions}

\section*{U.S media fails to address NATO cover-up properly}

In early May of 1999 , NATO bombed a Chinese Embassy in Belgrade. NATO officials called the incident accidental and blamed out-of-date maps supplied to the U.S. CLA by the National Imagery and Mapping Agency: The U.S. media told the story of a military error in which the Chinese Embassy was mistaken for a Yugoslav weapons depot.

\section*{THOMAS HOBAN}

At the time, the story was full of holes. It is still leaking today

In July, CLA director George Tenet testified before Congress that in over 5,000 NATO bombing misin over 5,000 NATO bombing missions during the three-month Kosovo campaign, the accidental bombing of a chanese by the CIA.

When I first heard that the U.S. had "accidentally" bombed a Chinese Embassy I thought, "sure." When I first heard that "accident" was blamed on out-dated Intelligence Maps I thought, "Yeah, right And finally, hearing this, I nearly burst out laughing. Let's open our eyes here, people. With satelites that maps are outdated we're all in a lot of trouble.

On October 17, 1999, The London Observer printed a story that suggested the Embassy bombing might have been deliberate. The article quoted European NATO officials who said that the attack was deliberate and outside of normal NATO channels - an "American-only" attack

The story was also picked up by French and German papers as well as all the major wire services. The U.S. media remained silent on the issue with the exception of the Associated Press, who, rather than stressing the suspi cion the bombing was deliberate, stressed US. denial of the charges.

Fairness and Accuracy In Reporting (www.fair.org) printed three articles about the charges in the next four months, directly accusing The New York Times and USA Today of ignoring a relevant story. There remained no mention of the charges in any major American media outlets.

This week, The New York Times ran an article about how the CIA fired and reprimanded some of its officers for the incident. On Tuesday, it printed a story that stressed China's rejection of the U.S. explanation, but failed to mention anything about the European papers that have agreed since the fall

This is far worse than a case of too little, too late. This is a journalistic travesty. The U.S. media is still taking the government word as Gospel, voicing little or no skepticism of their sketchy explanation for the bornbing. The Times proclainned that when the target was selected no CIA officials questioned it. Then, when the Pentagon reviewed it, no one questioned it. Finally, when NATO officrals saw the target, they gave it a rubber stamp and sen bornbs flying.
Well, if this was the case, then our bureaucratic military is in even worse shape than we thought. Especially since the people of Belgrade claimed almost universally that everyone knew the location of the Chinese Embassy The mistake isn't even "too convenient' lik

Let's hypothesize for a moment about who would stand to gain if this was indeed deliberate. Let's say that stand to gain if this was indeed deliberate. Lets say that America has someone to bomb. Let's say they like it best when America or NATO bomb someone because then the missiles are mostly manufactured in the United States.

Let's say that China has a seat on the UN Security Council and does not support the Kosovo bombing. Since their seat on the Council gives them veto power, the Security Council is powerless without China's approva As long as China is opposed to the bombing, then no Chinese-manufactured bombs will be dropped on Kosovo This is merely a hypothesis. But in light of the real facts it makes a hell of a lot more sense than the excuses that the Pentagon is spoon-feeding to the American press. Regardless of why the bombing happened, this incident was a failure of values the American people claim to cherish. The press failed to report the facts, Congress was powerless to control the military and the American people powerless to control the military and the American people are once again responsible for a travesty they don't even know about. know about.

Thomas Hoban is a juntior television, radio and fitm and history major: His column appears Thursdays in The Daily Orange E-mail him at tphoban@syredu.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Chancellor addresses activists, FLA contract}

\section*{To the Editor:}

Before offering the community an update on Syracuse University's continued exploration of membership in the Worker Rights Consortium, Id like to take a moment to acknowledge our students, many of whom have shown a passionate resolve in pursuing safe working conditions for pursuing safe working conditions for SU and our fellow universities and Colleges.
These students have held public rallies and organized petition drives, and they and I and Peter Webber, chair of SU's Trademark Licensing Advisory Board, have engaged in several good dialogues.
mared by Syracuse University We is shared by Syracuse University. We agree on the desired outcome, and I best way to achieve that outcome. A year ago, the university beA year ago, the university be-ame deeply involved in the sweatshop issue when we became one of the first of 134 institutions of higher education to join the Fair Labor Association and we approved codes of conduct for the production onizensed ap parel for both that organization and Scon after, we particing Company scon after, we participated in the insity Advisory Council

In the fall, we and the CLC successully encouraged Nike to disclose duce SU app of its factories that prosent a represent, and the university Living Wage Symposium at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

More recently, we informed our licensees, through the CLC, that they must disclose their factory locations or risk termination of their license. The university also adopted a rider to CIC's Code of Conduct requiring our licensees' adherence to safeguards for female workers, and we added a second student member to the Trademark Licensing Advisory Board, Stu dent Government Association President Jamal James.

Last Friday, the WRC held its founding conference in New York

City. While the University was not allowed to participate in the conference, we will continue to monitor the WRC's development. And we have in vited a representative to come to campus to meet with the Trademark Licensing Advisory Board; the Con sortuum has agreed, and we a

The Trademark Licensing Advi sory Boand will also meet with an FLA representative at the end of the month. For reasons that I have articulated previously, I see no reason at this time for the University to lessen its support of the FLA. But I am also aware of students' belief in the WRC How the university is to proceed is being carefully considered by the Trademark Licensing Advisory Board. I await the Board's recommendation in the very near future.

In the meantime, I encourage all members of the University community to further explore the sweatshop issue, the structure and goals of the WRC and the FLA and the University's involvement.

Kennath A. Shaw
Syracuse University Chancellor

\section*{GUESS}

\section*{s29}

Logo T-shirt.
Relaxed shorts, \($ 39\).
USA/import. Men's

\section*{FRAUD}
continued from page 1
added.
"He was responsible for organizing and maintaining this list of information," Morrow said. "He's accused of abusing this information and using it for his own purposes."

Police are still investigating the exact amount of money involved in the fraud, Swceny said.
"The Internet provider is the one that is out the money," he said. They have to go through all their records and find out exactly how much money we're talking about." SU received word or the possibility of the fraud March 30 when the company that runs the pornography site contacted the university about outstanding bills, Morrow said.
"The company had traced the user of those accounts to Syracuse University," he explained. "They had no progress in collecting from this individual, so they contacted the university directly."

At that time, the company indicated the individual might have used credit cards other than his own to pay for the service. Morrow said. SU Public Safety began an investigation that eventually led to Welch's firing and his arrest, he added.

Welch had access to a list of about 20 credit card numbers of local media representatives from Central New York cities such as Syracuse, Utica and Oswego, Morrow said

It is possible Welch also had access to a list of about 200 credit. card numbers of journalists from for last he country who came to SU als, he added. als, he added.

SU officials are still investigating whether Welch had access to

That list Morrow said.
This incident may be the first of its kind, he added.
"In the conversations that the university had with the NCAA. they did not recollect an event like this occurring with the men's basketball tournament ever before," Morrow said

As a result of Welch's actions, all credit card numbers given to Sports Information by local journal ists will now be received through a secure fax line and "kept under lock and key," Morrow said.

Mike Waters, SU men's bas ketball reporter for Syracuse Newspapers, said he learned about the possible fraud from a letter sent April 7 from SU to all the journalists whose numbers may have been used in the incident.

He said he immediately cancelled the card and requested a new number.

Waters, a 12 -year veteran of covering SU men's basketball, said he was never concerned about the possibility of fraud before because he always trusted the people who had his card number.

You do it every year at NCAA ournament time," he said. "I've been here for the last 12 years and now all of the sudden it seems real ly stupid.
"I've got to think twice about giving my eard number next year now. This situation is not a regular problem because of the speed and ease with which police can catch those who commit these crimes Waters added.

To me it's just kind of sad," he said. "We're obviously not dealing with a criminal here We're dealing with someone who has a problem.
\({ }^{\text {"I }}\) just hope he gets helped as much as he gets hurt by this."

\section*{LIBERTY AND/OR PSYCHIATRY? \\ 40 YEARS AFTER the Mythof mental ILliness}

A SPECIAL SYMPOSIUMIN HONOROF THOMAS S. Szasz's 80 \({ }^{\text {Th }}\) Birthday

April 15, 2000 • 9:00 AM to 4:30 PM
Weiskotten Auditorium - SUNY Health Science Center/Syracuse
Information & registration (limited) at http://www.szasz.com or jschale@american.edu

 WHANTEVERPCLS 13131:SO

\section*{You need o} voll-on with yn and and 0 y
 \(+\square\) xind \(\rightarrow\)

\section*{- Student Government}

\section*{James readies vote, doubts high turn-out}

BY TIFFANY LANKES Asst. News Editor

While Syracuse University students are preparing for the final days of classes, members of the Student Government Association are actively readying enda slated for April 25 to 27.

During the referenda, students will have the opportunity to Vote for funding to the New York Public Interest Research the constitution that will eliminate "government" from the organization's name and change its role in programming - a move deemed by some as a conflict of interest
To prepare for the referenda, SGA is working to stimulate student interest in the issues and encourage them to vote, SGA President Jamal James said.
"By the end of the week, you'll seefiyers hanging in Schine and dining halls,"

Student ID's Contiki Tours Eurail Passes

\section*{Travel Insurance}

Beds on a Budget Adventure Holidays Great Travel Products Special Student Airfares

Book your tickets on-line e
Mwv.statravel. com

\section*{CLOVER PATCEF CAMEP}

Need extra money durirs your scricol vacation? Consider lending a helping hand at the Clover Patch Camp Staff are fun! Campers cre great

Positions available for Summer 2000:

\section*{Counselors \\ Activity Leaders \\ Lifeguards \\ Cooks}

All we require to work at Clover Patch Camp is a willingness to work hard, the ability and desire to work outdoors for extended periods of time, as well as, the ability to work as a team with a diverse group of individuals, and be at least 18 years old.

If interested, piease apply/fax/send/e-mail cover letter and resume to:
AD: camp/EQ/MF
Center for the Disabled
314 South Manning Blvd, Albany, NY 12208
Fax: 518-437-5667: E-Mail: JOBS@CFTD.ORG
Or call 518-437-JOBS to have an application mailed to you

James said. "The referenda is a small part of a lot of things that we're working on."

The organization also plans to publish a newsletter, the Student Advocate, to educate students of the issues, he said.

James added that while he hopes there will be a large student turn-out at the referenda, he doubts that students will participate in the vote.
"I don't foresee people liningupat the polls, James said. "People just don't turn out. It makes me enormously sad. If it doesn't affect them they don't care.
wrong hope people proveme wrong and turn up at the polls."

After SGA's Judicial Review Board voted to postpone the referenda because the or ganiza ion neglect the Assempeople approved by the Assem the Bopard of Elections and Membership has been seoking Membershipfill these positions people to faid.
"We're looking within o organizations first," he said.

Several Assemblymen, including Joe Sauer, have been working with NYPIRG representatives to diminish student apathy toward the vote, Sauer said.
\({ }^{\text {* We feel like there are a }}\) certain number of facts that need to get out," said Sauer, a freshman biology major. "We want people to know some of the things that NYPIRG does."

Though Sauer has been working directly with NYPIRG to prepare for the vote, he said he is remaining indifferent regarding the issue.

NYPIRG developed a statement of how the vote will affectits organization that it plans to distribute on campus prior to the vote, Saver said. The graup rears that without the direct student fonding, it will no lo oper ate at SU, he added

Currently, students pay a Student Activity Fee of \($ 106\) Six dollars from this amoun goes directly to NYPIRG, as agreed in a contract signed in the 1970 s between SGA and PIRG
The contract states that a student referendum will be conducted every four years to con But this method of funding conduct its second student ref condurt in two years on the ssue. ssue

Without the \($ 70,000\) from SU students' fees, the group would have to look to grants to would have to look to granks "SGA's having the referen um because they wanted to dum because they wanted evel the playing ineld

NYPIRG member Kevin Cooney said the referendum Will help the organization get ts name out to the student body. hat we do" said Cooney, a senior television, radio and film major. "For us, the majority will always show their suppor for NYPIRG."

While the referendum has slowed NYPIRG's regular proceedings, it looks forward to the end of the voting when it can eturn it its normal activities Cooney said.

We need to continue to do for the students what we have always done.

The daiti orange

\section*{Classified Advertising}

The deadifine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the ad is to appear. Please pay in cash or checks only. Cail. 4439793 for more infomation.

\section*{SU professor founds public service society}

\section*{BY BETH BRAVERMAN Staff Writer}

DEWITT - Michelle Walker has dedicated many hours to helping youths recognize their potential and become involved in the Syrause community.

Walker, global programs coordinator in the Maxwell School of Cit zenship and Public Affairs, was honored Wednesday night along with 14 other individuals for her ontribution to society.

The honorees were inducted nto the newly established Do Good Society, founded by William D. University public affairs program as a way of "celebratine doing cood,"

The ceremony took place at arnes and Noble book store, 3454 Erie Blvd in DeWitt

4 really believe our society to be proud important cooder," said Coplin, whose license gooder, said Coplin, whose license pate reads Do Coplin recently authored the book "How You Can Help: An Easy Guide to Doing Good Deeds in Your yday Life.

Barnes and Noble took an interest in the book and wanted to do of doing good, said Maryam Was. of doing good, said Maryam Wastor for the bookstore.

Wasmund is an SU alumni and former student of Coplin.

We saw the book and we really wanted to do something with the book," she said.

She added that both the bookstore and Coplin wanted something more interactive than just a book signing.

Coplin said he wrote the book to spread his message that doing good should be a daily part of everyones life throughout the country. alone wouldn't do it," he added. "So we developed this idea, Maryam Wasmund and I, and then I talked to people at work and it sort of grew.

It really makes the basic point I want to make, which is that do-gooders are very important and there is no reason for them to be ashamed even though our society dumps on them."

Coplin nominated Walker for the honor, and most of the other inductees were nominated by friends, co-workers or family members who delivered short speeches about why their nominee deserved membership in the Do Good Society.

I think the best part of the meeting was the diversity of what people thought the good deeds were," Wasmund said.

The good deeds honored at the event ranged from being a good parent or teacher to being a kidney donor.

The society's charter states that it "is a mutual adrmiration society for those who work to increase life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all members of society."

Coplin said he hopes the society will spread throughout the country. He added that he plans to approach Barnes and Noble about making the society national. Individuals can start their own chapters of the society based either regionally or within an institution such as a college, Coplin said.

Jessica White, a senior policy studies and public relations major, nominated both of her parents, Thomas and Sheila White, for embership.
"Good deeds are part of my dad's everyday life," White said during her nomination speech. "It is my pleasure to nominate him to the founding chapter of the Do Good Society."

White added that her father tries to do good in everything he does, and her mother does good every day through her job as a third grade teacher.
"Isn't that enough to bring a tear to a parent's eye?" Thomas White asked the audience as he accepted his plaque.
"I am very proud that I was nominated," Sheila White said. "The things that we have given others and sacrificed to give our children and sacrificed to give our children to be publicalice, it just warms inour of an audience, it just warms your heart. We don't expect thank you's."

\section*{cops}
continued from page 1
said
The adviser initiated several prior complaints against this stu dent, the report said.

SU Security also previously e student from the building for other violations, the report said.
There

There w
the report said.
The suspected student could ot be found for questioning, the report said.

An unidentified person broke into a 1989 Honda Civic on

\section*{SCOOL}
continued from page 1
toral English student.
The camp-out is latest in a tring of protests by the group rainst prontshop labor Mom ers criticize the university's con inued support of the Fair Labor Association, a corporate labo monitor that SCOOL accuses of being biased in favor of corporations. They also claim that the unversity supports sweatshop la bor since much SU apparel is made by Nike, e company accused of using sweatshops.

SCOOL members are calling for SU officials to join the Worker Rights Consortium, which labur activists say is more neutral than the FLA
"We will be active as long as necessary to get the university to gn the Worker Rights Consormeans being here, holding a rally doing other public events, through ialogue with the university whatever it takes."

In a recent statement, SU oficials explained that they contin ue to support the FLA, citing the organization's "strong leadership and organizational structure, its upport from 135 member coleges and universities, its efforts and ats iovelvery in the livir are issue" wage issue.
But SU

SU's position is not deterring the group from its cause, Butts said.

The protesl with sweat hops is that 14 -year old giris who hey don't get time off, they don't get vacations, they don't get a breather," said SCOOL member Sam Alcoff, an undeclared sophoore.

SU administrators will have the same schedules if their -They're not continues, Alcoff added. reather either They're not going breather either. They're not going maday ofi, he said Members milling about the March 31 as it was pariked on the 900 block of Lancaster Avenue according to a police report.

"My roommate noticed it at 8:15 Friday moraing," said Matt Roberts, a senior magazine jourStusios, English and Textual sance studies major "He was go ing out to work and sawe the go Roberts said he parked the car in front of his house on Lancaster Avenue.

The suspect smashed the small rear passenger side win dow, said Roberts, a former staf writer for The Daily Orange \({ }^{\text {W}}\) They unlocked the door and went through the trunk," he said three anti-sweatshop, bannerdecorated tents Wednesday said that despite the cold, they wil continue their protest.

Yeah it's cold out here, SCOOL member Brian McCord said. "But we have sleeping bags and food."

Compared to the conditions sweatshop laborers must endure the camp environment SCOOL members live with is not harsh, said McCord, a third-year doctoral student in English. Members participating in the protest can still walk around and have fun with their friends, he said

Ooh, big sacrifice," Alcoff chimed in.

Tuesday night, the first night of the camp-out, attracted about 12 members, Butts said. A Quad protesting because it is a "permanent presence," he added.
"We're out here now all the time - students can't miss us, \({ }^{n}\) he said.

SCOOL members stay on the Quad in shifts so there is a presence there at all times, Butts ence said.

The group has not yet received any harassment from other students passing by the site, he added.
"We want to show that we are so committed to this cause that we will sit out in the elements." McCord said. "We are willing to take this campaign to the end.

Future protest plans are not finalized yet, McCord said. SCOOL members will see what happens after the camp-out and this weekend's International Monetary Fund and World Bank protests in Washington, D.C., to determine what will happen next, he said.

The group's actions will also "depend on the actions in Tolley," Mce the Sthe Quad near the Quad.
mpaisn is not a diminishing or we step it up."

The Sisters of Pi Beta Phi would like to congratulate their newest sisters

Lesha Blair
Courtncy Blum
Emilic Cole Maggic Dukes Jessica Dworsky Sarah Friguletto Missy Galenski Chrissy Harris Jennifer Iles Jacquefine Keyes

Marla Komock Michelfe Lee Ashley Mafr Jessica Merrow Lindsay Miffer Sam Neely Lindsey Novakovic Jamic Rose Maryn Schwebel Anita Tsang

They were looking for a portable CD player that wasn't in there." Roberts brought the compact disc player inside, he added. Cost of the damaged window was valued at about \($ 120\), the report said.
thing, Roberts said.
It wests said. "It was just a pain to get the wasn't anything to take. It's not even a nice car.
- An unidentified person caused damage to an SU studen\(t\) 's car on the 800 block of Ackerman Avenue, according to a police report.
The student got into her and found footprints on the hood and found footprints on the report said.

Looking further, she noticed that the suspect dented the hood and chipped and scratched the paint, the report said.

Repair costs are valued at about \($ 3 \mathbf{8 0}\), the report said.
- An SU student reported a license plate stolen from his car Tuesday on the breth La report.

The student noticed the front New Jersey license plate missing from his 1999 Jeep, the repart said.

There are no suspects in the case, the report said.

Compiled by Staff Writer Euans Boston

30 Days Left
$2.25
HOUSE WINES

ENIOR
UNDAYS ECOND
$1.00 MIDNIGHT SHOT EMESTER

\($ 2.50\) BUD LIGHT BOTTLES PINTS Is Kicking into Gear and Winding Down with 30 Days to Graduation with MIDNIGHT CHAMPAGNE TOAST & MUSIC FROM YOUR PAST 4 YEARS.

\section*{Coming Soon SENIOR SUNDAY -BLOWOUTMay 7th @ 7:00 pm}

\author{
SENIOR SUNDAY \\ SEND OFF \\ May 14th @ 9:00 pm
}

\section*{EDGE}

Strapped for cash in a consumer alert issued last week, AT&T exposed the naked truth about how customers vis iting some adult enter tainment Web sites are triggering unexpected international long-distance charges on their telephone bills. In January, the telephone company begtan hearing from consumers bewit dered by charges -- \(\begin{aligned} & \text { sometimes } \\ & \text { hundreds }\end{aligned}\) hundreds of dollars - bir bersonal computer telephone lines. The callers said they were unaware that while surfing X-rated Web sites for a "free" preview or by clicking hot links in stearny ermai spams, they had stepped into a new and apparently legal billing ploy some adult sites are using instead of charging credit cards.

\section*{Food fight}

Recent world conferences on agricultural biotectnology have made it unmistakably clear that if governments foil the growth of this technology, mankind will be denied solutions to a host of problems that plague many nations. particularly in the developing world. The biotechnology debate in Europe is dominated by cultural and ethical issues, potential food and environmental safety questions, and an underlying skepticism with regard to the role of multinational corporations and "industrialized" agriculture. The case for biotechnology in developing countries can be made much more easily: it is needs-based.

\section*{Sign of the fimes}

It isn't all sewing, building campfires, toasting marshmallows and peot dling cookies coor-to-up-tothe-minute topics ranging from exploring the intermet to stress management. Stress management? Well, what better way to prepare givis for their futures as wormen juggling jobs and farmilies, say several Scout leaders, who hap pen to be busy themselves. Girt Scours celebrated the organization's 88th anniversary last morth.

\section*{quote of the day:}
"A true gencleman is one who is never unintentionally rude." Oscar Wilde

Sapna
Kollali,
editor
443.2128
life@daily orange.com

\title{
[lifestyle]
} BRICK IN
SU junior writes rock opera to Pink Floyd music. See Lifestyle Friday.

\section*{a new drug may nelif cure une craving for a drink.}

BY MELISSA MORGAN Staff Writer

Flowing kegs and mind-bending martinis tend to be the staple of many col lege students' weekend plans. It may help them relax or create an escape from a this drug fails to provide a good time. An alcoholic knows that drinking causes problems and not solutions. problems and not solutions.

Getting over an addiction to alcohol is million Americans struggle This about 14 many victirns of the disease in and out of rehab programs, but new anti-craving drugs may enable alcoholics cut down their 12 -step recovery by popping one pill.

Pharmacotherapy gives patients the opportunity to use medicine as a treatment method. Two drugs, called naltrexone and acamprosate, are currently being prescribed to patients to help prevent the desire to drink

Acamprosate, which doctors prescribe widely in Europe, is currently in phase three of Food and Drug Administration trials. It could be available in the United States as early as next year.

Doctors in both the United States and Canada are already prescribing naltrexone.

Studies in Europe show that 67 percent of patients who used the drug ab stained from drinking after two months, holics would reeress This was compared to only 50 percent of thase who used placebo or a sugar pill

According to the New England Journal of Medicine, naltrexone works by helping patients cut back on drinking and increases abstinence by reducing cravings

See ROOZEDRUG page 13

\section*{Chronic cancer may have simple cure \\ week into the treatment, her count had dropped}

Much like throwing a grenade into a battiefield - hoping to kill more foes than friends - radiation and chemotherapy are beconing an archaic method of dealing with chronic can-
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Corey Hann & \begin{tabular}{l} cers. \\
There is a new hope. \\
An experimental new drug \\ called STI 5 '71, developed by
\end{tabular} \\
\hline health & Dr. Brian Drulger at the Oregon Health Sciences \\
\hline slezeth & University, has cleared a path \\
\hline
\end{tabular} cer research More the often-foggy world of cana single molecular aberration - preventing the a aingle molecular aberration - preventing ine chronic mylogenous leukemia.

CML strikes about 4,300 Americans every year. Druker's leukemia pill kills the CML cells while leaving normal cells alone. In recent triala, a patient started with a 125,000 white blood cell count (normal is 10,000 or below). A to 60,000 , and within three weeks it was nor-mal- an amazing progression by any stan-

\section*{dard}

One of the more common complaints about cancer therapies is the side effects. Loss of hair, fatigue and opportunistic diseases often plague individuals subjected to these therapies
STI 571 has no alarming consequences
1571 has no alarming consequences.
The side effects have been quite minimal," Druker said. "In fact, most patients are telling many years."

Some of the minor effects include stomach cramps, joint aches and puffiness around the eyelids in rare cases, though these are all easily fixed, he said.

Interferon, an antiviral protein produced by the immune system, is the standand treatment for CML. It plays an important role in the body's most important defenses against viruses, bacteria and other disease-causing agents, though it is still not totally understood acoording to the National Cancer Institute.

CML's slow progression makes it extremely dangerpus. During the first stages of CML, most people don't have any symptoms of cancer according to the NCr. While it usually occurs is midde abed or older individuals, it also can encouraping but more testine needs to been Clinical tests have shown that adult patients that have been continuously tatine STI 571 for 15 months are conkinuously taking STI 571 fo with many others approaching one year

\section*{Fard to swallow}

STI 571 does have some drawbacks. According to the Oregon Health Sciences

\section*{SLEUTH}
continued from page 11
University, patients who take the drug must do so regularly, and there is no indication that they will be able to be free from taking the drug every day for the nest of their lives.

Druker said he believes that hough this new drug is a sign of hope for many cancer sufferers, it should not be mistaken as a cure all for all cancers.
"CML is a special case," he said. There is a specific target

\section*{BOOZEDRUG}
continued from page 11
and the pleasurable effects of alcohol for both social and dependent drinkers.

Acamprosate works by nor* malizing the excitation that occurs in alcohol withdrawal and early abstinence, which may also reduce cravings.

Dr. Lance Longo, a psychic* atrist conducting one of the 21 I.S. trials on acamprosate, ex planned the how the drug works for patients in an article on the MSNBC Web site.
"When a person stops drinking, they're often times left in a hyper-excitable state," he said. "They don't sleep well. they're irritable, they're keyed up, on edge, and acamprosate tends to kind of temper some of those feelings so that an alcorholic doesn't feel that they need to drink.

\section*{Second opinion}

While pharmacotherapy methods may seem like a drearn come true for addicts, critics of the new anti-craving drugs say patients shouldnte rely heavily on the benefits of these pills.
that we can attack."
He said he does believe however, that this breakthrough is a step in the right direction, confirming the efforts of cancer researchers for the past 30 years The approach that we 've used is to understand what dives a specific cancer," he said. "We then can attack that specific abnormality - it confirms years of progress in this field."

SI 571 will hopefully serve as a model for other cancer-related drugs, he added. Additional pills, designed to treat advanced ting, colon and prostate cancers. are starting early trials according to the NCI. Second phase trims are currently underway 50 that this drug can be quickly reviewed by the Food and Drug Administration
Normally a drug can take up o five years to be approved, but due to the remarkable results of Druker's drug, there's hope it may be approved by January of 2002.

A quiet and rather modest individual, Draker's dealings with this disease began early in for public Hon, the director for pubircinformation for the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence, said that even with good pharmacological methods, addicts need other support systems.

Without people helping them, who is going to tell addiets to take their medicine? Hon said. "More importantly, alcoholics also have to address underlying problems of addiesion."

Hon emphasized that addiets have a strong need for con sinuous participation and sup port. He said that they can get this support by relying on both anti-craving drugs and a 12 step program like Alcoholics Anonymous.

A spokesperson for the AA general office said that the organization doesn't have an opinion on outside treatment methods for alcohol addiction.

If that's how the patient wants to solve the problem, we dent discourage them from that," she said. "Whatever works for a certain person is what is best."

Hon stresses the imper dance of treating all aspects of the disease. He said that medicine is biological - not psychological or social.

"Without the moral support. from something like a 12 -step program, a person might be more likely to walk into a bar or pick up a drink," he said.

Despite his precautions about the drug, if the FDA proves it has little side effects, acamprosate could be very beneficial, Hor said

The U.S. Agency for Health Care Policy and Research sponsons basic medical research in conjunction with universities. Erin Henderson, the project director for the agency, said that the organization's reports provide a service to doctors.

When our reports come out, doctors can read them and decide for themselves whether or not they want to prescribe a University of California -San Diego. He said he was amazed by he progress made in treating leukemia over the years in an elective "history of chemotheraDy' course.

Druker eventually learned that during the 1950 s , lympho cytic leukemia was uniformly fatal within six weeks of diagnosis. By the 1980 s it was curable in up to 70 percent of patients.
"I remember thinking how dramatic the turnaround of events that had been," he said. "I

April 13,2000
as fascinated about whit wen into those discoveries.

This is the first step in a long line of great discotimes that will occur during the next decade. Druker said.
"We have the tools to under stand cancers in a way we ve never before," he said.

Coney Man is a junior pemedicine and philosophy major. He is an assistant lifestyle editor ap he Daily Orange. Hus column appears Thursdays. E-mail him at cthann@syr.edu.
certain drug," Henderson said.

\section*{Just the facts}

If January of 1999, the agency came out with two avi-dence-based reports on the deffectiveness of alcohol addiction rugs, available at www ahcpr.gov/clinicfalcosumm.htm.

Five questions were addressed in the study relevant to the pharmacotherapy for treating the core symptoms of alcohol dependence, such as craveing, loss of control (relapse), abstinence and total drinking.

The study concluded that there is strong evidence that both acamprosate and naltrexone reduce relapse and the number of drinking days in alcoholudependent subjects. There is further evidence that naltrexone also reduces craving
a
and enhances abstinence.
Despite the conclusions of the agency, Hon said that many 12-step programs would probebly argue that it is bad to treat the use of one drug with another drug. If prescribed properly though, Hon said that doctors will emphasize that patients take the drug and be part of a support group.

Hon also emphasized that alcoholics not only affect themselves but the people around them as well. He said that it is better to take a pill than not to be participating in any form of treatment at all.

It's better to rely on a proscription than to be under the influence and get into a car or commit a crime," Hon said. Basically, what is more imporant is looking at the benefits to society as a whole."
\[
+\operatorname{lol}
\]

Too bad it cant do tire same for the way you live.
Some things about college life will never change. But the way you study can, thanks to WebCT.com. WebCT.com is an e-learning hub packed with academic resources. from study aids and research materials to forums for discussing and debating with students and faculty around the world. In fact. using WebCT.com can have such a positive impact on your academic performance, you may even be inspired to do your laundry. Or not. Visit www.webct.com/revolution and see for yourself.

\section*{NOTEBOOK}
continued from page 20
product J.P. Schalk (two goals, one assist), and the frosh are anything but fresh. "We've been pushing those guys pretty hard,' head coach Dave Pietramala said. Gire." McClay have started every game for the Big Red this sea-

The only freshman to see action for the Orangemen was Michael Thomas, who took one face-off in the third quar ter. SU midfielder Bill Perritt has seen the most playine season, and his work is timit ed.

\section*{Fire away}

After first-quarter goals by Liam Banks and Devin
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|l|}{Ralph C: Mairtel! Professisional Art Photoserapher} \\
\hline  & Female Nude Models Needed \($ 25.00\) "Hour Call For Details 18 Years & Over Will Pay Traveling Time (315)893-7779 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Darcangelo, Syracuse went \(12: 54\) without a tally, its longest scoring drought of the afternoon.

The Big Red's patient attack drained several minutes off the clock and contributed off the clock and contributed to keeping SU off the scoreto keeping surd. But when it possessed the ball, Syracuse failed to find the back of the net.

In an extra-man situation late in the first period, \(S U\) mustered only a Tom Hardy shot that sailed wide of the net. Then early in the second quarter, Cornell goalkeeper Justin Cynar snuffed out a handful of SU chances.

Less than three minutes into the stanza, Powell found Mike Springer wide open five yards from the goal. But Cynar slid left and made a dazzling stick save.

Later in the quarter, sophomore midfielder Spencer Wright clanged a shot off the left post, and Cyshot off the left post, and Cynar robbed Hardy again after a great pick from Josh Coffman.
l think we hit quite a few pipes," Coffman said, "It's unfortunate because Ryan Wewell had some nice passes. we wanted. We just didn't put them away."

\section*{Polled over}

The new STX/USILA Top 20 poll, released before Cor nell's 13-12 upset of Syracuse on Tuesday, should receive a little shakeup come next week.

Barring a loss this weekend against Duke, the No. 2 Virginia Cavaliers - who SU beat in its season-opener \(13-\) 12 in overtime - should slide into the No. 1 position the Orangemen now hold.

Cornell, meanwhile, could end up in a number of places, depending on the repults of other teams.

If No. 5 Duke (8-2) suffers its third loss, it could drop below the Big Red. No. 7 Maryland and No. 8 Johns Hopkins also face off Saturday, and the loser likely will slip below Cornell. Cornell's lone loss this season came at the hands of the Terrapins.

The Big Red's movement, of course, depends on how they fare on Saturday against Dartmouth.

\section*{Time machine}

Cornell's victory over the No. 1 Orangemen ended severallong skids in Big Red men's lacrosse history.

Dave Pietramala's club stopped a 13 -game losing streak to SU. Itslast win against its CNY rival came in the 1987 national semifinals at Rutgers.

The Big Red last beat SU at historic Schoellkopf Field in 1982 , and its last triumph over a No.l team carne over Maryland in overtime in the 1976 NCAA Championship game at Brown University.

238 Contemporary American Cuisine
B|STRD
Enjou a Manhattan Dining Experience at the 238 Bistro located in the Breezeway at Center Armory
- "Great food characterizes 238 Bistro" Yolanda Wright Syr. Newspapers

LEMONGRASS

Creative Cuisine from Thailand E the Pacific Rim wol Daily Seafood E Market Specials

Corme and Enjoy the Experience

\section*{* Inersererst to die forg}

\section*{We have some of the finest wines available.}

\section*{"Best of Award of Excellence since P975"}

We are still taking reservations for commencement weekend.
238 w. Jefferson St., Armory Square * 475-1 111

\section*{WRITE A LETTER T0 THE EDITOR!}

Let off a little steam. Drop off your letter at 744 Ostrom Ave., and make sure to mention your name, class and telephone number. Maximum 250 words per letter, please.

\section*{PERITT}
continued from page 20
*Bill played most of his semior year hurt with a shoulder injury, but he never let it affect him," he said.

During his career at Sachem, Perritt also showed his leaderahip qualities.

Players respected him," Mercurio anid. "They knew hey could always look to him fr a smile, but he also knew when he had to be serious."

After attending Sachern, Perritt spent a year at Brighton Academy, a promi* nent Maine prep school known, in part, for its 3 cessful lacrosse program.

Syracuse head coach John Desko had watched Perritt since high school, and SU took notice of him when he played in the Empire State en in 1998.
"We've always liked Billy since he was at Sachem," Desko said. "We've always lired his speed and his game sense.

Since coming to Syracuse, the 6-foot-2, 160-pound Perritt has played in five games, taking two ghots, scooping one ground ball and recording his first point. It came on an assist to Spencer Wright against Yale on March I1.
"It was a good feeling," Perritt said, "getting it out of the way."

When Perritt arrived at Syracuse, he said he was unsure of how he would fit in on a team with so much depth in the midfield.
"When I first came here, I didn't know if I really be. longed here," Perritt said. But then I started stepping it up and playing with the better players. It makes your game so much better.
"You can't come in here and have a big head, because you come in as a freshman, and you're gonna have to step up your game.

With the Orangemen's depth, Perritt has fought for minutes with older and more experienced competition.

He's held his own

\section*{Computer Doctor} of Syracuse, Inc.
720 University Ave Marshall Square Mall

Custom: New / Used Upgrades/Repairs Best Prices
Guaranteed Quality Work Data Recovery

PC's • Mac's • Laptops • Printers • Monitors Phone: 423-9284 website: www.computerdoctorsyr.com

\section*{THE CARIBOU CLUB \\ 410 PEARL STREET 479.9526}

\section*{A WHOLE NEW KIND OF ANIMAL}

\section*{WED... ANIMAL MAGNETISM}

4-9, it's growwwl hour with a live d.j., so lose the ties: later, there's no admission for ladies in animal print gentlemen, it's \(\mathbf{S} 5\) to participate in the hunt!

\section*{THURS... EUROTRASH THRASH IT'S THE RARIBOU NICHTIII}

4-9 c'est l'heure de jolie, at 9:00, wear your dark glasses, vinyl, velvet and almost nothing else! Students bring your school i.d. for a free Caribou t-shirt

\section*{FRI... DANCEFLOOR MADNESS} blissful hour from 4-9 with a live d.j-at 9:00-descend into dementia as the lights go down and the music goes up

\section*{SAT... RAPTURE AND RAVE}

Have you ever seen a romantic martini? well, we serve our cocktaik with passion!

\section*{SUN... DANCTNG AND DEBAUCHERY}

Doors open at 8:00 for the exclusive purpose of mad, mad cocktails and stomping your feet!

ERLECTIC, SELECTNE, AND UNEXPECTED

\section*{Write for the DO!}

Stop by at 2:30 p.m. Sunday to meet the Lifestyle editors and reporters. Fun times and fluff for all. Call 443-2128 or e-mail life@dailyorange.com.
We're in the office Sunday to Thursday after 2 p.m. until midnight. The DO is the white and red house four houses from Shaw Hall, 744 Ostrom Ave.

though, garnering the most playing time for a freahman this season.

Hes come in and run some third and fourth midfield for us," Desko said. "For a freshman on this team, that's saying something."

Teammate Mike Springer agreed.

Bill's really improved since the fall, said Springer, one of Perritt's better friends. He's gotten a lot better. He's one of our best midfielders now.' \({ }^{\prime}\).

For now, Perritt strives to find a way to contribute to the Orangemern tradition that brought him here. He said he hopes to inspire younger athletes, like his younger brother, a seventh grader at Sachem Middle School, to play as the Gaits motivated him.

Even when his time at SU wraps up, Perritt said he would love to move back to Long Island and atay involved in lacrosse.
"I'd like to be a gym teacher and coach a team, maybe a high school team," Perritt said "I definitely want to coach and stay involved in the game."

\section*{INTERNSHIPS for CREDIT}

\section*{FALL SEMESTER, 2000}

Early -applications for local Fall Internships will be sent to organizations NEXT WEEK.

Visit SUIP now and apply for the Internship of your choice!

Further information from: Syracuse University Internship Prograrm 113 Euclid Avenue, ph. 443-4271

B THIS WEEK AT UTCINEMAS: Wednesday and Thursclay, April 12th and 13th

\section*{Friday and Saturday,}

April 1'ílh and 15 h
Gifford
Auclitorium
7:()0 &
9:30pm
Tickets are \($ 3\)
for all shows

FREE © Midnight:
North by Narthwest
 inc kindines of otapges.

\section*{PLAYOFFS}
continued from page 20

\section*{The Daily Orange}
adds'games to an already grueling schedule and puts nore academic pressure on students come December. Hogwash.
The great majority of these young men serve as time-management models for

\title{
F&EGANS
}

\section*{NEEDS END OF THE YEAR HELP... APPLY NOW!}

Secure A Job For Next Year Waitstaff, Bar Backs, Dishwashers Kitchen Staff, Door Staff & D.J.'s their peers during the sea. son. The big, bad, bureaucratic NCAA already treats them the way Nike uses Far Eastern labor. It should at least strive to give more deserving student-athietes a shot to play for a titie. Division \(1-A\) college football screams for a 16 -team national tournament. Each year, champions from the Big 10, Big East, ACC, Pac 10, Sive andomatic bids The 10 at-large teams get chosen by a committee of athletic directors and conference administrators, and ence administrators, and committee unveils the said said committee unveis pairings in a half-hour nationally televised show the first Sunday of December

All first-round matchups get played at the home field get played at the home field of the higher seed the After those tilts, al After those tilts, all to the top seven bowl sites,

Free online application www. law.widener.edu

Application deadline May 15
- Full and part-time programs

Two suburban locations:
Wilmingion, DE
Harrisburg, PA
Register now to take the June 12 LSAT each of which will host the national championship game once every seven years Quarterfinals kick off with an early-evening Christmas Eve clash owed ripleheader. The Final Four kicks off New Year's afternoon, and the NCAA crowns ts national champion after NFL conference title games Few arguments arise Few arguments arise proposals. Networks would sprint to the bargaining table to purchase broadcast rights.

Players, instead of spreadsheet-toting computer geeks, would decide the geeks, would decide the Placing the games on the holidays looks out for the best interest of the studentathlete and helps draw massive audiences.

The remaining cash-cow owl games can win by selecting the other collegiate squads to compete in single game postseasons that would carry the excitement of basketball's NIT. Not the most alluring option, but still a alluring option, but stin a extra practice and seniors to don the pads one final time. Oh, and those brackets.

Imagine empty pews at Midnight Mass because Virginia Tech took Arizona to overtime. Or picture arguments in the toy section at the mall, not about lastminute Pokemon markdowns, but over Bobby Bowden's chances to become Mayor of Bracketville.

All the bustle would revolve around those lined pieces of paper on which the postman and the milkman would chart their choices for the 15-game playoff. Chances are you'll cast them aside in frustration before the eggnog settles in your stomach.

But watch out for your secretary. She might just skip the Christmas bonus and win your office pool.

\section*{NYPIRG WOrks for You}

\section*{Getting Things Done}
- Registering over 1,000 students to vote \(8 f\) getting them to the polls
- Organizing "Hoops for the Hungry" &f "Trick or Eat" to raise money of collect tons of food for local homeless shelters of pantries
- Organizing Earth Day 2000 af Earth Day Lobby Days to commemorate Earth Day gi advocate for the environment

\section*{Providing Unique Services}
- Operating a free \({ }^{\circ}\) confidential on-campus small claims court consumer hotline for studinnts facing unreturned security deposits \({ }^{\circ}\) other consumer problems
- Offering accredited on-campus internships as well as legislative internships in Albany
- Producing money-saving guides to banking fees 85 ATM surcharges

Building on 277 Years of Victories
- Securing Syracuse students the right to vote on campus
- Winning passage of over 100 bills into law, including the Bottle Bill, Freedom of Information Law,

Lemon Law &f Truth in Testing Law
- Organizing massive Higher Education Fally & Lobby Days in Albany, attracting nearly 10,000 students from across New York State

Hasa Basa
by Devin Clark

Oh My Gawd
by Jaci Price

\section*{Never Odd or Even}

Rehabilitating Mr. Wiggles

Area 52

by Neil Swaab

Insane Carrot

by Sam Baker
by Doug Jaeger

by Jen Szeto

Get 'Cuse To It
by Damone Jones

O-Tay
by Becky" Johnson

\section*{NOTICE \\ CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 315-443-9793 \\ \($ 3.50\) for the first 15 words \(10 ¢\) each additional word \(5 \%\) extra each bold word 56 extra each CAP word Charges are PERISSUE & are Prop piad by.
Cash, Check, Master Card, Visa or Discover Deadiline: 2pm 2 2 usiness days prior to fun
ADS ARE NOTTAKEN BY PHON: Ads can be mailed with cheok to: The Daily Orange; 7440 Ostrom Averi
 AAMAAMAAAAAAA \\ Notices}

\section*{WHAT'S UP FOR EASTER?}

The Daily Orange will Not print April 21 or April 24 The Business Office will be April 21
We will resume publication on April 25, the Deadline being April 20 at 2pm!
HAVE A SAFE & ENJOYABLE EASTER!

Summers Conning Lose that winter bitge. Doctor 1.888-789-2967

\section*{Autos}

1991 Ford Tempo. Runs good. \($ 1400.00\) or best

\section*{EMPLOYMENT}

FFEE CASH Make Up To \(\mathbf{S 1 2 0}\) Per Hour Surfing The Web www.cashpait net

HAVE AN AMAZING SUMMER! Prestigious coed camp in beautilui Mass. serks caring, motivaled college students 8 grads who love kids! GENEMAL collepe students 8 grads who tove kids! GENERAL dedicated, fun team. Compelitive 1-600.762-2820.
Nurses: 3 Camp nurses needed lor thine 21week plus room and board. These are INe in positions at Jewish Cormmunity Center's ovemight ctuidren's camp on Seneca Lake. Ytur chidran are intormationdapplication.
"y you are looking to make a difterence in the lives of sorne very special children and tamilies this surnmer then Campo Good Days needs you! and volumieers. For more intormation or applicalions. Please call Camp Good Days, 00-785-2135.
Camp Positions: Hiking, ropes course, nalurs, pool, and waterski specialisis sought for overnight camp in the Finger Lakes. These senior positions are for experienced applicants \(21+\). Sataries \($ 1800-2800\) hus room and board from June 17 to Augusi 20. intormationtapplication.
ASSISTANT DLRECTOR Soumhenst Asian Luent in a Southaast Asian Language and English; be a team payyer and sell-slarter knowledga of banking and real estate a plus. \($ 22.000\). EOE/AA.

 Part lime jobs. deivery divers, dishwashers & waitstalt apply Cosmo Pizza 143 Marshalt S.

\section*{Faegans. \\ Secure a job for fall.... apply Now and train tor a tall position. Doonmann, Wait Slat.
Host and Bar Staff.}

Camp Counselors: Jewish Community Center of Greater Roctrester-Camp Seneca Lake is seeking Greater Roctrester-Camp Seneca Lake is seeking maile and hamale rounselors who love working mith kids. Must be at least a college freshmant and be Contac: Renee at 716-461-2000x253 tor informationdapplication.
Camp Counselors Top Ovemight Camps in Pocona Mins Over 40 activitiss -seaking specialis

Pan time year round position at storage tacility Must work weil will people and be contortable wit Please repty by fax mail or in persorn fax-479-4156 314 Ainsley Or. Syracuse. NY 13210.
CAMP COUNSELORS. NEW YORK
Corod Trim downtitness Camp Hikg 8 play in the Catskill Moumtions, yat ority 2 nirs from Ny Cin

MEOICAL OFFICE POSITIONS: MED-SCRIEE,
 II you possess medical tarminotogy andice exp. an COUNSELORSSUMMER EXcenent training worving with developmentaly disablad addits and children. Salary room a boand at a coed summer August 19 Y You may eam credis towants your dagree neds: MALEFEMALE COUNSELORS

ACTIVIT COUNSEOPS ICERAMIS

Job Opportunities

 Pro-medical student wanted for fult-ime position at busy modical office, while waiting to hear from medical schools. \(452-2600\)

\section*{Computer Programmer/ Analyst \\ No experience needed!}

IMS a biomedical software firm in Silver Spring, MD, employs 120 programmers developing systems and software. SAS, C, C++, JAVA, ACCESS, SYBASE and many other languages. Knowledge of one computer programming language required Paid OT and full benes. Nice working conditions. BS degree and \(3.0+\) GPA required. For details see imsweb.com or call toll-free (888)680-5057

\section*{WANTED}

\section*{Help Wanted}

\section*{\($ 1500\) weekly potential mailing our circulars. No} Expenencer Required. Fros intormation packet. Call 20-4S2-7679
WORK FROM HOME Up to \($ 25.00 \mathrm{mr}\) P/T 575.00/ 7 FTT CALL FOR FREE BOOKLET

FOR RENT

\section*{University and Comstock Very close to Campus} himished laundry parking \($ 375.0010 $ 700.00\) Intudes AII U'ítues \(4455 \% 229 \mathrm{DN}\).Drucker LId.

\section*{L(.)(.)K \\ Safe & Secure}

Furnished 3 Bedrooms Livingroom, Diningroom Porches, Laundry
655-2175
For details
Univerrity Ave. There Bedroom Flat Close Wab 10 Campus furnishod laundry parking lease 5875.00
Apartiontz clowe to campux ciann 2.3-5 bedrooms conse with fireplecie becrufry perking Stop chan 3 bedroom apertmenta Firaplece parking, laundey,
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
4-5-6 Bedroom \\
Homes/ \\
Town Houses \\
Microwaves, \\
dishwasher, washer, \\
dryer, \\
security systems \\
remodeled Apts \\
All Locations / Prices \\
\(478-6504\)
\end{tabular}

Universty Ave. Jive bedroom House one block Hom Marshall Sthest furnished taundry parking Air Conditioned 2 bedroom turnished apartment Laundry, parking. all utilities inctuded. Avaitable person. 425-1883

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR THE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APAFIMENTS AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNJVERSITYHILL.COM
183 Comsiock \(5 / 6\) Bedrooms Across From Wormens Gym-All arneniies, mid May lease \(52400+692-3304\)

LUXURIOUS: 2story apyloft. Goummet kiy/din,

 NO PEIS! Leases. Fine Oa-znetcom
Can tor appl \(490-0780\)

\section*{Apartments}

Genesee Manor Apts 2113 East Genesee spacious iniomation Elaine 463-1143
1,2,3,4 85 Edrm Apartmants. Housas + Studios. acently renovated. Walking dist some parking 474.6791
204 Dstrom Elficiency One and 2Bedrom Secura adg Laundry Parking Very Clean
Avail tunce \(446.5+86\)

\section*{ONE,TWO,THREE AND FIVE BEDROOM APTS. \\ Westcott Street area Laundry, Parking, Lease 445-0540}

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASEVISIT OUR WEBSITE FORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL.COM
Excedent Apartment, 4br 2reath apl. Fumithec. carpotod walk to crmpus. Well maintaned.
\(5 / 00-501\) lease \(446-7202\)

\section*{TOAD HALL}

1/2 block from campus. Modern 2 bedroom apartments.
Wall to wall carpet.
Air conditioned. Dishwasher. Laundry. Low utilities. Competitive rents. 302 Marshall St. (across stom Haven). Univartity Arta Aptes. 479-5005
 S.U. eff stroet parking, Laundry. Cal \(476-2982\). Looking for a place to live 7 wwwhousing101.net. Your move off campus!
Free nommale subtet Isting

PRIVATE FUGNISHED STUDIO APTS. 1011 EAdams

Carpeted, Air Conditioned. Curnished, Sed, Are, Lsuntioned. Parking.
Maintenance.

University Area Apts.
\(479-5005\)
www.universityarea.com
*************************
Studio, One and Two
Bedroom Apts. close
to Campus. Laundry,
Parking, Lease,
Heated
440-6200
437-7577
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline  \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
THREE BEDROOM
APARTMENT,
TWO FULL BATHS
EUCLDAVE FREEHEAT
GREATLOCTION
\(476-9933\)

ONE BEDROOM APARTMENT SPACIOUS, EUCELID AVE PERSONS RAEEHEAT GREAT LOCATION 476-9933

Univ 3Bdrocorn flta whireplact ott-SiPting washe dyyer nowroodifs Avili Augtst Call 446 -7433
Fumished 2-5Bedroom Houses/ Apartments
Livingsion, Sumner, Ackarman, Eucific 469.6665

Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom liat, Iurnished. Ackerman Ave. nice 3bedroom ilat, stove, retnig, laundry, fireplace, garage.
Avail June ist 446 . Avail Jurge ist \(446-4229\)
502Clerendon large claan 2sedroom flat hardwood 60010 porth off-streol parking tyr lease security 640 inculdes heal 448 -8928
3 Bedroon Modem Apartment on Ackerman Avaiuse \($ 220.00\) pet person plus usifitioss. AFrea Laundry'. Serious Students Preferred. No
Fets. \(254-0025\)
\begin{tabular}{|c|}
\hline O.P.R. \\
Developers \\
1,2,3-4 \\
Bedroom Apts \\
dishwashers, \\
microwaves, \\
decisposal, \\
All Locastems \\
Pricios \(/\) \\
Prices \\
478-6504 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

T,1/2 Bedroom antuic apartment on quiet stroet. Untumished Air conditioned wall to wall carpel new appliances. Suizable for single or couple. Available ane 151 sis0.00 per momth plus witities.
\(2-5\) Bedroom Apartments Available; Fiveplace Wood Fioors; Cuial Noighborhood-Ostrom
Livingston Parking Unlurnished Gall 137.9505 Livingston Parking Unhurnished Call E37-9505 University 283 Bedroom Towntowses 8 Flats. Fireplace.fnished basomenh, Call 49-0109.

\section*{The Daily Orange} takes place during the season's third weekend, it could be significant in cerms of playoff positioning.

Pennsylvania currently occupies the No. 20 position. By defeating both Syracuse and Northeastern, it could move up in the polls like the Orangewomen did earlier. Quakers while North off the Quakers, while Northeastern will be trying to keep Syracuse an oar's length away. could fall behind the Orange women if Syracuse emerges in first place this weekend in first place this weekend. tremely close," Sanford said tremely close, Sanford sazd. confident.
against both Penn and Northeastern, senior co-captain Krista Karns said. "It's gonna be a real close race between all three boats. We'vebeen working real hard on our technique all week, so we hope it all comes together on Saturday."

Nasty weather this week has forced the team to persevere through its daily pracice on the water.

Sanford expects 60-degree weather for the race. "It's been a hard week," Sanford said. "It has li terally snowed every morning. We hope that the weather is nice (Saturday)."

In the boat, rowers are aligned so that theiroars alternate between the boat's starboard and port sides. Garofalo began the sea-in the boat's second spot, but a shake-up now nuts her in first, the bow position.

Bow position crosses the finish line first, while the coxswain Karns is the final team member to cross the line. Both rowers graduated from Liverpool High School, but Karns moved from rower to her current position as a high school sophomore.

Everyone else was a lot bigger than me," Karns said. "It was either quit rowing or become a coxswain.

As coxswain, Karns serves as the boat's leader in the water. The rowers backs face the fravel but the coxswain faces

\section*{April 13, 2000}

\section*{LAKE}
continued from page 20
once. We went in my first year, but have not been back since," Sanford said, "We're really gunning for it this year to make it two-and-two, (seasons)."

The Orangewomen own an opportunity to improve their national but must be wary of two opponents with similar intentions.

Pennsylvania and Northeastern will travel to Onondaga Lake for an 8 a.m. race aturday.

Although this battle her teammates and surveys the course ahead, telling her teammates where to steer
"I make sure they are doing everything together, Karns said. "I'm almost a go between coach and rower. I'm the one they have to endi up istening to."

The rowers said they do not mind listening to support from the brave souls who cheer them on from the Onondaga Lake shore.

Most of the crowd is comprised of relatives, but some times the rowers" friends come for support.
"I talk about rowing all the time in my classes, Karns said, "I'll try to get them out a few times."

\section*{[classifieds]}

Nancy Peck, Advertising Design Director 443.9793

Euclid and
Ackerman Ave 2and 3 BR
Fully Furnished DW, laundry Parking, Porch Beautifitul Condition June & August lease Ben Tupper 637-0978

2 Sedroom Apts 202, 204 Ostrom, 105 Euclid Terrace Large Roorns Hardwood Fkors Avail June or Aug 446.5185

Large 3 bedroom. 2 full bath. Walking distance SU. of street parking. Leundry. Call 476-2982.
Large clean 38edroom thats Westion, Broad St. area. Hardwood floors. porches, ot-street parking

LANCASTER AVENUE
\(2 & 3\) Bedroom Apartments Outstanding Condition
Funty Fumished Calt Anne Cenvini a 424-0220 X428

One sind Two 8edroom
Furnished Apartrnents. Corner of Walnul and Harmison Avenues. Leases Commence June 2000.
Last Month and Security. No Pets Allowed. Last whonth and Securty. No Pelts Alico
Graduates Prelerred Call \(422-755\)

Houses

\section*{UNIVERSITY HILL REALTY 422-0709}

PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITEFORTHE LARGEST SELECTION OF 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS, AND 4,5,6,7 BEDROOM HOUSES.

WWW.UNIVERSITYHILL COM

\section*{RENT YOUR OWN HOME. FOUR ORFIVE BEDROOM HOUSE. FURNISHED GREAT PORCHES. 476-9933}

Large \(3 / 4\) bedtooms house on Eudid, Maryland.
Fireplace olistreel panking Fireplace oil-streel parking, washer-diyer, walk to
 4. 637.5195

Univ 5 BDAM Home Spacious OH Si Patking 3 Porches \(5900+\) Utils +SeC Dep 830 Westront \(S\) Avail 1Jun 438 - 5066

> RENT YOUR OWN HOME FOUR OR FIVE BEDROOM FURNISHED, GREATP POREKES 476-9933

\section*{SUBLET}

\section*{Summer}

\section*{Summer Stea! \(\mathbf{S 1 9 5 . 0 0 / \text { mo with all utirities }}\)} included. Share furnished modem apartment one Augusi. OH street parking. laundry 677 -3050
2-Bedroom apartment available \(5 / 15\) through mich 2.Bedrom apartment available \(5 / 15\) throug Augusi. Includes private porch, nice kichen, Augusi. theludes private porch. nice kicher, taundy tacilites, oll \(\cdot\) Sireet parking, storage space. $200/month. Close to campus.

Avaitable Mid May. Nid Augusl. Close to Campus
3+ 4 bedroom furnished apantionts. All utiluies incuuded. \($ 185.00\) per person. 677 . 3050 Sumner Sublats Available. A variety of sizes anc Summer Sublets Avalabe. A varien or Ackarman availabia Junel- August 15. Huge turnished \(1,2,3,4\) bedroom flat, Great porc parking 446-3420

\section*{SERVICES} Travel

\section*{日E FLEXIBLE. SAVE \($ $ 5\) Europ \($ 169\) ( \(\alpha / w\)} (axes) CHEAP FARES WORLOWIDE! Mexico' Canbbean 5199 ( \(\mathrm{f} / \mathrm{h}\) + taxes) Call \(80 \mathrm{~L}-326\)-2009 MISC.

\section*{NOTE FROM THE DAILY ORANGE:} As always. please use caution when replying or being replied from ary advertisement in each issue, for The Daily Orange does not take responsiblity ho: any misconduct resulling in contact between yoursell and adveritser.

\section*{Wanna take over the WORLD...}

Your'e gonna have to start with an internship!
Great
Summer
And Fall
Internships Still Available At

\author{
S.U.I.P.
}

\section*{The Daily Orange}

Classified Advertising

The deadine for classified advertisements is 2 p.m. two business days prior to the issue in which the 路

\section*{orange} NOTES

Men's Lacrosse STX/USILA Division 1 PoI (released Apr. 10)
1. Syracuse (10) 7-1
2. Virginia 7-1
3. Loyola

7-1
4. Princeton
5. Duke
6. Geargetown
7. Maryland

6-1
8-2
7-2
9. Cornell

IO.North Carolina 6.4
11. Hofstra 5-3
12.Navy 6-3
13. Notre Dame \(\quad 5.3\)
14.Brown 4-4
15.Harvard 5.2
16.Hobart 5-3
17.Army

18t. Bucknell \(5-4\) ell \(\quad 5 \cdot 3\) 18t.UMBC 4-5
20.Penn St. 4.5

\section*{Karcher declares}

Temple forward Mark Karcher announced Wednesday that he will forgo his senior season and enter the upcoming NBA draft.

The junior, who played only two seasons with the Owls, averaged 15.8 points and 4.6 rebounds last season, as Temple adivenced to the NCAA tournament. The secondseeded Owls lost their second-round game to Seton Hall.
The 6 -foot 5 Karcher is the ninth underclassman thus far to declare for the draft. He supports two young children, which he names as one of his reasons for declaring.
Third time's a charm lowa's new point guard, Luke Recker, can officially begin his Hawkeye career in October.

The former Indiana and Arizona guard and three others, including his girlfriend and her brother, suffered injuries in a car accident last summer.

Last fall, Recker elected to transfer from Arizona to lowa to be closer to his recovering girifriend.

Under normal circumstances, Recker would need to sit until the end of next year's first semester.

But the junior appealed to the NCAA which granted him the dispensation Wednesday.

Recker, who averaged 16.1 points and four rebounds for the Hoosiers, retains two years of eligibility at lowa.

\section*{sports trivia}
Q. Who were the original six members of the National Hockey League?
yesterday's trivia:
Q. When was the last time an SU linebacker was taken in the first round of the NFL draft? A. Tim Green was taken by the Atlanta Falcons in the 1986 first round.

[sports]Dave Curtis, editor The Daily Orange April 13, 200020 Big Red frosh topple SU BY DAVE CURTIS AND JEFF PASSAN Staff Editors

A solid Cornell freshmen class played like veterans in the Big Red's victory against SU on Tuesday.

Attackman Michael Egan, who just earned a starting spot, punched in

Mon's hax
Results
\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { No. } 9 \text { Cornell } & 13 \\ \text { No. } 1 \text { Syracuse } & 12\end{array}\)
No. 1 Syracuse 12 the finaltwo goals after goals after proving a non-factor for the first ters. his final goal, Egan said: About bound was there. I saw an open goal, and in in the right place groundball and shot it."

Close defenseman Ryan McClay had the unenviable task of covering SU All-American Ryan Powell. While Powell scored three times and dishedout three assists, McClay covered him for most of the game.

Toss in Faycttevile-Manlius
See NOTEBOOK page 14

Syracuse attackrran Ryan powell tallied six points Tuesday against Correll. But steflar play by freshman Fyan Meclary and his classmates pushed the Big Red to a stunning \(\mathbf{1 3 - 1 2}\) victory in Hthaca.

\section*{Perritt savors tradition}

BY MICHAEL ROTHSTEIN Contributing Writer

Tradition is a big part of Syracuse lacrosse

This tradition steers athletes to SU when they decide where to play college ball.

Freshman midfielder Bill Perritt saw the tradition, and it answered any questions about his eventual collegiate home.
"Growing up watching the Gait brothers, I always knew that I wanted to come here and play lacrosse," Perritt said.

But it Wasn't Gary and Paul Gait that got him into playing the game that now As a youngster

As a youngster, Perritt played all the sports his older brother Chris played, inPerritt's Perritt's older brother, who plays lacrosse at Southhampton College on Long Island, influenced him to pick up a stick.

The pretty much inspired me, he said. at Sachem High School, tallying 15 goals at Sachem High School, tallying and 19 assists his senior season.
During his Sachem career, Perritt showed the toughness and dedication he has towards the game, Sachem coach Rick Mercurio said.

See PERITT page 15
 as an Orangomen when ho assiated on a \section*{Rowers entertain Northeastern, Penn}

\section*{BY PETE SCHREIBER}

Contributing Writer
When asked to name the most prominent athletic squads at Syracuse University, rowing rarely comes to mind as an adequate answer.

Don't tell that to this year's Orangewomen.

Syracuse's women rowers opened this season ranked No. 20, occupying the final spot in the national coaches' poll. Despite finishing second out of three teams in each of its frrst two meets, Syracuse continues to rise.

The team is tied with the University of Iowa for No. 17 in the nation, according to a poll released Wednesday. ing to a poll released day one has been to make it to the NCAAs," said freshman Nicole Garofalo.

Only 15 of the nation's 130 rowing squads reach the tournament, head coach Kris Sanford said. Syracuse must continue its winning ways ifit hopes to qualify.

In four years as head coaching of the rowing team, Sanford has only reached the Memorial Day weekend tournament

See LAKE page 19

\section*{Tourney would bolster football}

Three weeks ago, everyone possessed one.

The barber, the postman, the cobbler and the milkman each filled out an NCAA Tournament bracket the morning after Selection Sunday.

The 64-team, single-elimination playoff ended April 3 when Michigan State defeated Florida \(89-76\) in the national championship game. But in its 22-day run, the tourney dominated more television screens and watercooler chat than "Who shot J.R.?"

Of course, halfway through the tournament, expert bracketeers crumpled their precious picks and dismissed them to the bottom of a trash can.

Everyone surrendered, save your secretary, who only cheered because she loves Tar Heel blue and considered the Badger th cutest of the 64 mascots.

Still, people watched, pulling for underdogs like Wisconsin and appreciating favorites like Michigan State.

March Madness now hibernates for 11 and a half months, giving way to an onslaught of lackluster professional ports.

But the fervor created when basketball teams lock horns in March could sneak into sports mainstream another time each year. The consistent excitemah college football to invent should push college footbal to invent a similar tournament to decide its national cham pion.

As it stands now, college football's grand prize winner must qualify for a one-game championship conducted early bask Jamull While all a 18 Division basketball programs boast a chance of third best team in college football plays

See PLAYOFFS page 16

Liquid light

\section*{Violations increase}

Urtz points to greek Rush, alcohol and drug citations bY SARAH OVASKA
Staff Writer
The greek community's Spring Rush is responsible for a slight increase in student citations, according to the Syracuse University Office of Judicial Affairs.

The office's quarterly report, released this week, cited 308 judicial cases from Dec. 28 to March 21, up from 273 cases last quarter from mid-October to December.

The first quarter, beginning in September, had the highest number of violations, 541.

Anastasia Urtz, director of Judicial Affairs, said the report indicates that there are increasing problems added the greek system and drugs on campus, but in alcohol violations.
"My overall impression is that we, the campus community, are demonstrating exceptionally good

See JUDICIAL page 9

\section*{Students prepare for protests}

\section*{National activists travel to U.S. capital against IMF. World Bank}

\section*{BY KATE STEVENSON}

Asst. News Editor
Local students say they are doing the best they can to prepare for the uncertain conditions during this weekend's Washington, D.C. protests against the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.
"We really don't know what will happen in D.C." said Student Coalition On Organized Labor member Bri an McCord, a third-year English doc toral student at Syracuse University. people have said the police will be some people have said the police will be more apt to crack down on protesters to make sure the order is maintained in the city.
"Some people think the police will be more relaxed because they don't want to repeat the controversy in Seattle."

Last November, more than 70,000 people converged in Seattle's streets to oppose worker exploitation and the city's World Trade Organization meetings. Protesters bound themselves together to block convention center entrances to prevent WTO officials from attending their meetings.

Police officers tried to stop the protests with tear gas and, in some cases, beat and threatened demonstrators with guns.

Gas masks were outlawed during the Seattie protests, McCord added.
"There's actually footage, if you ever watch the films about it, where police are actually taking gas masks from students and from activists, \({ }^{n}\) he said That action was very controversial, McCord said.
gency and said it was a state of emergency and that the cops had a right to tear gas people and they didn"t have a right to wear gas masks against it which seems like a real infringement of civil liberties," he said.

Because of the uncertainty about the nature of the situation in Wash ington, D.C., McCord said there was little the local groups could do to pre pare for potential problems.

In preparation for the trip, stu-
See PROTEST page 8

\section*{Multicultural Affairs}

Forum discusses black community, athlete relationships BY TIFFANY LANKES
Asst. News Editor
The black community at Syracuse University must stand together despite stereotypes against black athletes, said Fanon Wilkins on Thursday night at a forum hosted by the Student African American Society.

About 50 people attended the forum that planned to address the various sources of division within the black community.
"It's important we have these kinds of dialogues, not just at points of crisis, but regularly, \({ }^{\prime}\) said Wilkins, an instructor in the African-American Studies depart ment. "Because athletes play such a key role at SU , we

See ATHLETE page 10

Going the distance

New Jersey native Marnf Foldman, a sonior in the Colloge of Human Development jogs Wedresday moming near the Schine Student \section*{Republicans anticipate Quayle visit}

BY JOHN ARWEILER Staff Writer

Former Vice President Dan Quayle, the man who began the nationwide family values debate, will speak Monday at Syracuse University.
"He's a popular figure among conservatives," College Republicans Chairman Joe Burns said. "He represents our views and he can present them in a unique way."
The speech, entitled "The Changes We Must Make," is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the Goldstein Auditorium. A question and an swer session will follow swer session will follow.
 today's social problems, saday Burns, a junior paliti cal science and history cal science and history Qur.
Quayle caused controversy during his term as vice president when he questioned the morality of Murphy Brown, the title character of the CBS sitcom. On the show, Brown Quayfe had d
baby without a father
A former senator, Quayle is expected to touch on several other issues in his speech. including the 2000 presidential campaign, conservative policy and his experiences as vice president and Indiana legislator, Burns said.

Quayle served as representative and senator from Indiana before becorning the 44th vice president of the United States under George Bush in 1989

He ran for the Republican presidential nomination earlier this year, but dropped out of the race because of a lack of support See QUAYLE page 10

\title{
[briefs]
}

\section*{campus calendar}

\section*{TODAY}
-The Mental Health Association of Onondaga County hosts "The Silent Scream: The Inner Violence of Eating Disorders, \({ }^{n}\) an anorexia/bulimia workshop, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Drumlins Country Club. The event featurea author Rebecca Ruggles Radcliffe. Tickets are \($ 50\) for the general public and \($ 20\) for students with identification.
# SU alumnus and Jenna Foundation board member Don McPherson hosta "Motivating Male Leadership to Prevent Vioat 1 p.m. at the Stevenson Educational Center in Manley.
- P.G. Simpking, from Bell Laboratories, discusses "Air Entrainment in Coatings," a Mechanical, Aerospace and Manufacturing Engineering seminar, ■ SU professor emeritus Myron Litchblau discusses "Argentine Fiction: One Hundred Years of Trial and Success, part of the Languages, Literatures and \(\mathbf{2 : 3 0} \mathrm{p}\). muistics in the Hall of Languages, Room 500.

- Gerard Toal, from Virginia Tech, discusses "A Less Balkans," part of the geography colloquium, at 3 p.m. in Eggers Hall, Room 18.

Latin American philosopher Enrique Dussel discusses Ethics of Liberation in the Globalization Process" at 4 p.m. in the Hall of Languages, Room 320.

Columbia University's Shaw-Hwa Lo discusses "A Statistical Framework for Familybased Studies in Human Genetics" at 4:15 p.m. in Carnegie, Room 313.

Aimee Cherry presents a student voice recital at 8 p.m. in Setnor Auditorium.

Eggers Hall hosts a panel discussion on the politics of glob alization from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Room 32.

\section*{FRIDAY-SATURDAY}

Archbold and Flanagan gymnasiums hosts Leate Night at the Gym until 2 a.m., featuring open recreation, free aerobics games and more.

To make a contribution to the campus calendar, call the new department at 443-2127. Submisat newseddailyorange.com.
[dँ̈]
The Daily Orange is published Monday through Friday during Syracuse Univernity's academic year by The Daily Orange Corp. The D.O. is distribured on campus with the first five copies complemenmary and each additionsal copy costa \($ 1\).

Management 443-9798 Businems 443-2314 Newn 443-2127 Liferryle 443-2128 \(\begin{array}{ll}\text { Sports } & 443-2208 \\ 443-9795\end{array}\)
\(\begin{aligned} & \text { Photography } 443-9795 \\ & \text { Art } 443-5938\end{aligned}\)
Email editorialodailyorange.com
Online www-dailyorangesem

As part of an initiative to streamline computer resources for Syracuse University, Computing and Media Services representatives announced Thursday they are exploring Webbased e-mail options.

New Web-based accounts may eventually replace Pine. SU's current locally-based system, said Sean Doherty, a Technology Implementation Team.

It will include e-mail options similar to the features in other Web-based e-mail systems like Hotmail and Yahool Mail, Doherty added.

Students are lauding the new decision to change the \section*{structure of the university's e- herty said.} mail.

"I don't use Pine," said Jennifer Damis, a sophomore Information Management and Technology major.

Damis added that she uses Web-based e-mail accounts like Hotmail because it prepares her to use e-mail systems that are used in the corporate world.

The system is expected to be fully implemented in the Fall 2001 Semester. Doherty said. It will provide students tronic address book and list online from any Web brows r, he added

With this Web-mail system, students will not only be able to send and receive eable to sendand recerve an SU online bulletin board Do

Paul Sturtevant, a freshmen musical theatre major, said the Web is much more user-friendly than SU's current system. The additional eatures of the software sound interesting, he added.

It is a good thing because Pine is an outdated system and is in bad need for an update," curtevant said.

Future versions of the sysem, called Webaccess, will have features that allow users and with other users of the sytem woherty said. oherty said.

It should be very easy for one person to give another the right to look at their schedules pointments or coordinate a project," he added.
The WebAccess e-mail systemis just one portion of a CMS plan that will let students, faculty and staff to access programs and resources ross campus, Doherty said.
"Once we get students' accounts into a Novell Directory Service. students should be able to use class-centric proin the clusters on their per sonal computers. \({ }^{n}\). ty.

A Novell Directory Service is a database of user accounts that is generally distributed throughout an organization like a college campus network Doherty said.

Students with accounts in the service can have a custom desktop that accesses program and files needed for their class es, he added.

The desktop can also travel with the student to any computer on the campus network that has the Novell software in stalled, Doherty said

Both WebAccess and Nov ll implementation are current\(y\) in evaluation and planning tages, he said

When the WebAccess sys em is offered it will not imme diately replace Pine - both ym inderinte period or time Doherty added.

A transfer to a Web-based system is a natural choice," he said. "Students seem comfortable with the Web, and we see hat they are using it more and more to do work.

\section*{How're we doin'?}

Drop us a note on e-mail to let us know what you think of our coverage. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, and compliments are always welcome. Please direct your message to the appropriate department.

> News: news@dailyorange.com
> Sports: sports@dailyorange.com
> Lifestyle: life@dailyorange.com
> Editorial: editorial@dailyorange.com

\title{
Is SU justified in cutting the wrestling program?
}

Students debate the merits of Title IX's call for gender equality in athletics

©Maybe Title IX itself is wrong. Maybe not all giris are interested in sports. Maybe they're interested in other activities.

Niria Arvizu College of Law Class of '02

CIf kids came here just to wrestle, and now they can't, that's not very fair. I'm sure they could cut back the frills on other back the frills on other teams instead of screwing the little guy. TONY BRUSGUL Class of ' O 1 sThe whole point of the law was to make it so everyone could participate. But now, theyre making it so nobody can participate. That seems pretty stupid. JEN COSTELLO Nursing Class of \({ }^{\circ} 03\)

CClearly, it's not in the best interest of the students on the wrestling tearn. The university puts on this facade of being student-oriented, but actions like these lead you to believe otherwise. \(\%\)

\section*{ZACH THOMAS}

Engineering
Class of '03

\title{
Speaker of the House condemns sports cut
}

\section*{A message from t. Dennis Hastert, aker of the United Scates House of Speaker of the United States House of Representatives:}

Syracuse University has long had a proud wrestling tradition. So it was with great sadness that I recently learned intercollegiate wrestling prognim effective June 30th. Many universities around the nation have eliminated wresting programs, blaming Titte \(I\). But Title IX was designed to expand athletic opportunities for women, not I understand the many difficulties hat universities have faced in complying with Title IX. This is primarily due to the complicated and confiusing regulations and guidance papers that have come from the Office of Civil Rights of the Department of Education (OCR). However, the Titie 1 statute itself is very simple Schools can not discriminate in athletics, or for that matter, any other aspect of the university.

In 1996, the OCR clarified the Title LX issue. Its clanification stated clearly that schools need to be in compliance with one of three options for providing equal opportunities to men and women.
The three options follow:

The proportionality rule. The participation opportunities of male and female students must be in numbers substantially proportionate to their respective enrollment rates at a given hool; or
- History and continuing practice of program expansion for the underrepre sented sex. Schools must show they hav and must have plans to continue adding or \(\square\) Accommodation of the athletic interests and abilities of the underrepre. sented sex. If there are enough women must add it unless there is no one must add it unes to

If a university meets any one of these requirements, then it does not have to meet a proportionality standard Thus, a university would have other athletic opportunity

Title IX was not intended to eliminate opporturity for anyone. It was clearly designed to bring about the equality and growth of athletic opportunity for women and girls. Title IX has been effective in this regard, and will conould never be used as a tool to eliminate opportunity for any athlete This is not the intent of Congress and it should not be sanctioned by any institution. A close examination of the requirements of Title IX reveals that achieving proportionality is not the only way to atisfy the opportunities test. It is a hame that Syracuse students will now them.

House Speaker Hastert (R-IIL), a former wnestling coach, has spent his 14 year Congressional tenure championing healthoore and social security reform and envirammental clean-up issues

\section*{SU fails to properly comply with Title IX}

The following is an excerpt from an interview between Karen DeCrow, a former presiOrnt of the National The Daily Orange:
-Title IX is a wonderful program. It's a reason for all the Olympic gold medals years, and it's the reason wh little, girls grow up being educated to be good athletes, to play as hard as they want to out there on the field.
"I strongly believe in the intent of the law. While working within the National Organization for women, I was hard for Title IX initially, saw to it that it was enforced. Women pay \($ 31,000\) a year to attend college just like men do, and they deserve equal opportunities to play their sports. it's any accident at all that they're eliminating men's sports like wrestling and gymnastics in order to stay in compliance with the law. I'm a big Orangemen fan, and of course, I know that all the big money is generated by basketball and that they cut tiny little men's programs, which is just a convenient way to practice the law. It seems to me that this is going to create a big backlash against Title IX and women's ceneral. They say that cuttics in ceams will make thinat cutting equal, but that's not the way the law is supposed to work. Those men aren't discriminating against the women athletes, so why should they have to suffer so more women can play? doing this to blame they're doing this to blame men's not right. The university certainly could have found a way to make peace and equality etween men and women athletes without doing this. Part of the Title IX settlement states cut in favor of increased oppor tunities for women. So what happened here?
列 SU's budget and the athletic budget that they could easily keep men's wrestling and still sure that if sports, too. I'm that budget for three hours could find a way to keep the wrestling team and give more opportunities to women, too."

Karen DeCrow, president of NOW from 1974 to 1977, has cases as an attorney speciatiz ing in zender discrimination law. She is a 1972 graduate of of Law. of Law.

The amount it takes to run the wrestling program is only equal to three stuHow can you cut the men's teams just to gi the girls a fair shot?!

HECTOR PADILLA Arts and Sciences Class of 'OI

4 wonder if women sometimes go too far in pushing eminism. We re fighting for equal rights and equal sports, but yet we still want men to open doors for us.?

MARIE LAYANIER College of Law Class of ' 02

flt's not fair at all. I'm pretty sure they could find the money for these sports. The university doesn't spend its money the right way.

KEVIN ST-FORT
Arts and Sciences Class of \({ }^{\circ} 00\)

41s it right? No. is it fair? No. But they have to cornply with the federal law. it would have been most equitable to split the wrestling budget between the university and wrestling alumni and team members. 9

SEAN K. PALMER
College of Law
Class of '01

\title{
[editorial]
}

\section*{Minorities must cherish differences}

When a black, male Division I athlete comes to the Syracuse University Hill, he carries a lot of baggage.

He totes stellar athletic ability - the ability to swish a sweet jump shot, to lick a game-winning goal - along with his dreams of championship glory.

But he also packs the knowledge that his college existence will contain only a small speck of the life he once led. Cloistered away from the general campus population from day one in a South Campus apartment, coddled by university administrators and elevated to near celebrity status, these athletes live inside a unique bubble.

Athletic fame often drives a wedge between black athletes and the larger minority community Groups like the Student African-American Society criticize players for spending their downtime at typically-white Marshall Street watering holes rather than joining minority-sponsored campus events.

Unnecessary rivalries grow and multiply. Both camps fail to recognize the richness the other offers the entire community. Black athletes help elevate minority status with each point they score and they serve as role models for kids hoping to bring their passion for the game up the Hill.

Meanwhile, black students who chair academic and social organizations help augment SUTs reputation as a hub for valuable higher learning and lay the groundwork for other minority students to reap SU's academic benefits.

There is no magic formula for common ground. No common color; IQ bracket or economic status ensures charting a map to the same destination.

Here at SU, everyone should find their own way Self-segregation is destructive and antiquated, and it serves no one.

We live in a cliquish, compartmentalized campus. That's the reality. But each person, each faction of students, brings a different gift to the table. Be confident in your own ability to inspire change and open minds - you don't need help from someone else.

\section*{the}

Editor in Chlef Dave Levinttral Managing Editor Emily Kulkus

Established in 1903, Independent since 1971

News Editor
Editorial Editor
Lifestyle Editor
Sports Editor
Special Projects Editor
Presentation Director Presentation Director
Photography Editor Art Director Art Director Systems Adm Systems Adminjstrator Online Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor Asst. News Editor
Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Editor Asst. Lifestyle Edrtor Asst. Sports Editor Asst. Sports Ed
Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Design Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Photography Editor Asst. Copy Editor Asst. Copy Editor
Asst. Copy Ecitor Asst. Copy

\section*{opinions}

\section*{Twin discovers identity in midst of separation}

I thought I found my soulmate.
She's about five foot seven, weighs 130 pounds and lives in Boston's theater district. If there was one person on this planet who actually understood everything about me it was her - my identical twin sister, Leia.

For eighteen years we shared everything from clothes to best friends to cars to fivorite mavies. Growing up in a quiet suburb outside of Baltimore, we even invented a special Morse code system so that we could communicate with each other through our shared bedroom wall.

That was when we were eight.
When we were 16, we bought battery operated walkie-talkies. By then, though, we had resortod to barging into each others rooms at 3 am. hated, had dates and the futsre. She \section*{MAGIN \\ MCKENNA} hated, had dates and the futare. She become a famous actress have stopped speaking to each other for days on end about things I can't even remember. Leia's opinion is the standard by which I measure everything. Maybe it ahouldn't be that way, but identical twins share a bond is borderline dysfunctional.

Although we may be two people, we come from the ame womb and entered the world with our hands clasped. We know nothing about a life not categorized as a pair. She is my other half

I don't get to see her much anymore
Almost a year ago from today, we made the decision to forge lives apart. Our dreams no longer coincided. We tonew the time had come to separate.

She shipped out to Emerson College to study theater and I came here to Syracuse University:

After almost a year apart, I was thrilled to be spending my Spring Break with Leia at Emerson. I thought it would be just like old times. But the moment my Greyhound pulled into downtown Boston, I wanted to My "vacation" days began at the crack of dawn, when Leia yanked me out of bed by may pajama collar and dragged me kicking and screaning to the gym. There, we'd work out for at least two hours - one morning, I slipped off the Nordic Track out of sheer exhaustion.

For the rest of the day, we fought about everything under the sun.

One night, we took a nighttime walk down Boston's then-deserted Newbury Street

Despite the frigid air and long trek, my sister wore nothing but a thin leather jaciket, TShirt, tight black pants and a pair of high-heeled leather boots.

I was bundled from head to toe in a down jacket, Wool sweater, tattered jeans and my bent-up sneakers. The wind had blown my hair in front of my face.

In mid-conversation, my sister reached out, tucked my hair behind my ears and said bluntly: "We have nothing in common."

To add insult to injury, she continued: "You are a mess."

She began to criticize everything from my chippod nail polish to my career choice to my taste in music. And she told me that life was passing me by.

A week later, she left a "prophetic" message about my destined failure on my answering machine.
l just didn't understand.
How could two people from the same womb, with the same DNA, have grown so different? On the outside we looked exactly alike, but somehow in a year we had become two completely different people.

In the end, I guess we've found what we wanted all alang: identity.

Asst Lifestyle Editor Magin McRenna is a freshman newspaper major. E-mail her at munckenna@syredtt.

\section*{letters}

\section*{Former Vice President}

Date: April 17, 2000
Time: 7:00pm
Where: Goldstein Auditorium

Tickets: $2 for SU students and $5 for non-SU students; tickets can be purchased at the Schine Box Office

Seating is limited so please purchase your tickets early.

Vice President Quayle will hold a booksigning in the Schine Bookstore at 4:50pm on April 17.

\title{
U.S. Senator - Vice President - Author Presidential Candidate
}

\author{
Your Student Fee... moving SU to the Right
}

